Reds Declare Berlin Occupation Void

State Income Tax Plan Being Drafted

DETROIT (AP)—An advisory committee today was reported to be studying a graduated state income tax plan featuring a rebate rather than elimination of the state sales tax to boost Michigan revenue.

The tax plan would refund $9 to the taxpayer and each of his dependents to compensate for money paid in state sales taxes for food.

State Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), chairman of a legislative committee directing the tax study, confirmed that the plan was "on the agenda" at one time. But, he added:

"No one can say at this time whether there will be a flat rate or a graduated income tax—or what the credits or exemptions would be if we recommend one."

The refund idea is the most radical suggestion in the tax program which could give the state an extra 124 million dollars or more a year.

The Detroit Free Press story said the tax study group has mimeographed the suggestions for study by various consulting groups in Michigan.

The formula, the article said, is supposed to be kept secret until the big committee meets next week in East Lansing.

Proposals in the plan still are being changed. The final format of a suggested tax program for Michigan may depart from the plan which thus far has been unchanged by criticism, the article said.

The proposed income tax plan would exempt the first $1,000. The rate would then be 3 per cent for the next $2,000; 4 per cent for the next $2,000; 5 per cent for the next $2,000 and would continue upwards to a maximum 8 per cent on income above $15,000.

In addition local communities could add .5 per cent and school districts could add another .5 per cent to the state tax under the plan, the story said.

After a worker's actual tax bill is figured, the taxpayer would be allowed to deduct $40 for each dependent and the $9 refund for each member of the family.

If the deductions exceed the tax owed, the taxpayer would get a cash rebate of the $9. Otherwise the rebate would be applied to the worker's tax bill.

An example of the plan, figured on a worker with three dependents, who earns $5,000 a year:

A $60 tax on the first $2,000 of taxable income and $80 on the

Eisenhowers All Together for Holiday

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—A joyous reunion of grandchildren and grandparents—that's the familiar American family setting this Thanksgiving day at the vacation retreat of President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The four young Eisenhower's flew in from Washington Wednesday night with their parents, Army Maj. John Eisenhower and his wife Barbara. They probably will remain for the weekend.

The children are David, 10, Barbara Anne, 9, Susan, 6, and Mary Jean.

This evening, with the President at the head of the table, the entire family will have turkey dinner at the temporary White House—the white frame cottage known as "Mamie's Cabin" at the Augusta National Golf Club. The 40-pound bird was supplied by the Turkey Growers of America.

In advance of dinner, weather permitting, the President and his son hoped to get in a round of golf.

Eisenhower played 18 holes Wednesday for the seventh day in a row. But for the first time since he arrived last week he toured the course in overcast, chilly weather.

Friday Eisenhower will confer here with Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Budget Director Maurice H. Stans; and other government officials on military spending.

And on Sunday the President will meet at the club with Secretary of State Dulles to discuss the Berlin crisis and other foreign policy problems.

2 State Deaths Mar Holiday; None in County

Bad Weather Causes First Fatal Accidents, Many Minor Collisions

Michigan headed into the long Thanksgiving Day holiday weekend today with two traffic deaths — but Oakland County law enforcing officers reported a fatal-free count so far.

Sheriff deputies, township and city police throughout the county said most roads were crowded with vacation-bound motorists, but the fact that a threatened snowstorm bypassed the county probably helped keep serious accidents down.

Last night's brief snow caused a rash of bumped fenders in spots and a few accidents which sent some to hospitals.

The first traffic death in Michigan and the nation was timed by Michigan State Police at 6:04 p.m. Wednesday when Lloy F. Blonshine, 64, of Lowell, lost control of his car as it skidded on M21 east of Grand Rapids and collided with a truck.

Across the nation the traffic death toll appeared running near normal levels for a weekday. At least a dozen states reported fatalities on the highways since the start of the holiday period at 6 p.m. The count will continue until midnight Sunday.

The other Michigan fatality also occurred on M21 about four miles west of Fort Huron when John Rocicna, 22, of Port Huron was killed this morning as his car skidded and hit a tree.

Snow was blamed in at least two other Wednesday deaths, both in the pre-holiday period.

Marilyn Atwood, 9, of East Lansing was killed while she was at play on a hillside. A car skidded on a viaduct off U.S. 16 in Meridian Township of Ingham County, smashed through a guard rail, and struck the girl.

Harry J. Niemeyer, 58, of Grand Rapids was killed when his car skidded on a rural Kent County road near Grand Rapids and collided with a truck.

Offer Proposal for 'Free City' of West Berlin

Allowing Six Months to Work Out Status of Demilitarized City

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today declared void the four-power occupation agreement for West Berlin and offered in its place the creation of a demilitarized "free city" of West Berlin.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andre Gromyko handed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. a 24-page note proposing a six-month period for negotiations to arrange the new status for West Berlin.

The Russians suggested that the United Nations act as watchdog of West Berlin's freedom, saying, "The Soviet government does not object to the United Nations participating in observing the status of the free city of West Berlin."

The note said during the six-month period of negotiations there would be no change in control of existing transport links over which the Allied garrisons in West Berlin are supplied.

But if no agreement is reached between the Soviet Union and the West during that period, the Kremlin said it would go ahead with liquidation of the occupation controls. In other words, it will transfer control of the Allied traffic to the East Germans.

A Soviet announcement by Tass said the Kremlin had notified the U.S. government it "regards as invalid the Allied (occupation) agreements on Germany."

A companion note delivered to the East German government in Berlin said the Soviet government is determined to end its occupation of Berlin and "considers it unfeasible to take any further part in the upholding of the occupation regime in Berlin."

The proposal for creation of a free city applies only to West Berlin. The East German government already has sovereignty over East Berlin, its capital, and Soviet troops are there by a 1957 agreement between the East German regime and Moscow.

The Russians made clear that even if West Berlin becomes a free city, they intend for East Germany — which surrounds it completely — to control traffic to and from.

"It is envisaged that the (East) German Democratic Republic must fully control questions affecting its space, i.e. exercise her sovereignty on land, on water and in the air.

"At the same time there will be an end to all contacts still main-

Watchman Foils Burglary Try

Pontiac Man Wounded by Shotgun in Alleged Ortonville Break-In

A night watchman proved a good shot last night as he stopped an alleged burglary attempt by a Pontiac man as he attempted to break into an Ortonville gas station, Oakland County sheriff deputies said.

Halted by one shot from a 20-gauge single barrel shotgun was Herbert Lester Bailey, 38, of 58 Omar St. Bailey is reported in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital with wounds in a leg and face.

Bailey, an ex-convict, was shot by Annibale Beltrachini, about 60, who makes his home at the Owens gas station at the northwest corner of M15 and Grange Hall road.

Deputies Donald W. Fauser and Robert Bloom said Bailey told them his car had broken down shortly after midnight and went to the station to look for a telephone.

Beltrachini, who was sleeping in a car parked in the station, was awakened by the sound of breaking glass. As he moved to the front of the station to investigate, he noticed Bailey standing in front of the front door which had the glass panel smashed out of it.

The two officers said Beltrachini told them he then grabbed his shotgun, standing in the corner of the station, and pursued Bailey who had started to run when he spotted the watchman. The single blast struck him as he was about 60 feet down M15 from the building. Beltrachini then forced him at gun point back to the station from where he called the sheriff's office.

Deputies said the station is a popular visiting spot for burglars, and that two men are awaiting trial for reportedly breaking into it last month.

Berkley Student Held on Charge of Murder

HILLSDALE (AP) — Moody, good-looking Patrick John Flannery, 18, was held on a first degree murder charge today in the slaying of his closest college chum.

City police brought the formal charge against the Hillsdale College freshman in the death of Thomas Neitling, 21, of Tecumseh, upperclassman beaten to death with a shotgun at their rooming house.

Police said the slaying followed a prank played on Flannery.

Distraught and with blood on his shirt, young Flannery appeared at police headquarters in Detroit yesterday and asked to be arrested.

"I did something bad. I killed my roommate," police said he told them.

About the same time the body of Neitling, his head crushed by blows from the stock and barrel of a shotgun, was found in the youths' room above a restaurant in Hillsdale.

Flannery, a star high school athlete in Berkley, who attends Hillsdale College on an athletic scholarship, said he went the 100 miles to Detroit by driving, hitchhiking and bus.

"I don't know why I did it," Sgt. John Ware said the youth told him.

Flannery told of finding his clothes strewn about a hallway but that Neitling denied having had anything to do with this.

Within hours after his appearance in Detroit, Flannery was returned to Hillsdale though his technical custody rests at least in part in Detroit.

There is to be hearing for him in Detroit Friday on a writ of habeas corpus.

The first degree murder complaint here was brought by Hillsdale Chief of Police Harold Caulkins. Arraignment may be Friday in justice court. If convicted of the charge Flannery would get life imprisonment.

Neitling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Neitling, saw his body at a funeral home.

"This is a terrible thing," said Mrs. Neitling, mother of two sons. "But think of how awful it must be for the Flannerys."

Flannery is one of four children of the family of C. Patrick Flannery and his wife Juanita.

The college, a school of about 750 enrollment, was shocked at the incident. Wayne Gray, assistant to the president, termed it "tragic." "We just can't understand it," he said.

Snow Flurries Forecast With Low of 16 Degrees

Partly cloudy, cold and a few snow flurries with the temperature sliding down to a frosty 16 degrees is the forecast for tonight by the U.S. Weather Bureau. Friday's high will be near 26.

Chilly winds from the north blew snow flurries over most of the state today while the Upper Peninsula reported snowfall of more than seven inches.

Snowdrifts along some Upper Peninsula Highways unofficially were reported at three feet deep.

State Police throughout the Lower Peninsula warned that snow flurries might freeze and cause roads to become exceedingly slippery, while Thanksgiving motorists in the Upper Peninsula gazed at countryside which looked like Christmas.

Weather forecasters said little respite from chilly temperatures would be available for the shivering state.

High in the lower portion of Michigan was not expected to exceed 28 degrees, while the low in the Thumb was to hit 15 and dip below that figure above the Straits.

The mercury dropped to a freezing 17 degrees in downtown Pontiac at 8 a.m., the lowest recording of the season. At 1 p.m. the reading was 23.

Airline Strikes Add to Travel Confusion

By The Associated Press

Thanksgiving holiday travel emphasized the effects of a continuing strike against two of the nation's biggest airlines which grounded nearly 400 commercial aircraft and threatened to snarl other forms of transportation.

A walkout by members of the Flight Engineers International Assn. has halted Eastern Air Lines flights since last Monday.

The International Assn. of Machinists struck Trans World Airlines last Friday, with TWA flight operations halted Monday.

Much to Be Thankful for Today

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—You can find plenty to be thankful for on Thanksgiving if you try.

Look over the business scene and just for one day at least put aside worries about the queasy stock market, the disturbing world trouble spots in Berlin or Quemoy or the Mideast, the high cost of living (and the fears it may go higher later on), burdensome taxes (and the threat that they may go higher still), and the hard core of unemployment.

Just remember how much better a lot of things look today than a few months back.

The turkey on your Thanksgiving table costs a little less this year than last. And the government says food prices may ease enough for awhile to keep its cost of living index on the same even keel it has held since July.

Fears of further inflation, especially of the runaway kind, are easing a bit now too.

They are based largely on expectations of continuing federal deficits and of still more twists in the wage-pricing spiral. But Washington now tells us that rising tax collections next year and the government's new determination to hold down spending should keep the coming year's deficit lower than first feared.

Business earnings are picking up. They're not back to where they were last Thanksgiving, but they're healthier than they were last Easter.

If profits continue to improve, it will make the stocks you hold look safer and the returns on them as good or better.

Corporations have learned cost-paring tricks that partly offset rising wage scales. This can hold down prices or steady profits or both.

Industrial output has been rising, bringing some of the jobless back to work and lengthening the work week for others. The government says manufacturers' new orders are gaining, promising still greater industrial activity next year, which in time will whittle at the total of the jobless.

Most individual incomes have held high. Strikes have pulled the total down a bit, but as they are settled incomes are expected to climb again.

Merchants talk confidently of record Christmas sales this year. They say that general business recovery has perked up consumer confidence.

The auto industry, plagued by strikes, has got off to a slow start with its new models. But Detroit, too, talks hopefully of better sales ahead.

The government estimates that total construction dollar volume will rise 7 per cent next year to a record total of 52 billion dollars. Highway outlays will give it a big boost and if money doesn't get too tight the home-building revival should continue.

Probing Cause of Bomber Blast

Pilot Killed, Navigator Hurt as B47 Explodes at Takeoff

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — An Air Force investigating board studied a charred B47 medium jet bomber in a search for clues of what caused a takeoff aid to explode and set the plane afire.

The commander of the plane, which was carrying a nuclear weapon, was killed and his navigator critically injured.

The Strategic Air Command in Washington said the nuclear weapon was not involved in the explosion-fire Wednesday and there was no danger of a nuclear explosion.

The bomber was parked on the flight line at Chennault Air Force Base when a JATO bottle, a rocket-like device in a rack on the fuselage, exploded, base commander Col. T. S. Walters said.

First Lt. Robert M. Simpson, the navigator, staggered out of the craft with his clothes afire. The ground crew extinguished the blaze.

The pilot, Capt. Joseph T. Lyles of Bossier City, La., died in the explosion-fire. The copilot was not hurt.

The men were attached to the 68th Bomb Squadron.

Some personnel were evacuated from the field until the fire was brought under control minutes after it broke out.

The alert and evacuation were described as part of routine procedure in such cases.

This was the fourth time the Air Force had reported crashes or incidents involving bombers carrying nuclear weapons.

The last was on Nov. 4 at Dyess AFB, Tex., when a B47 carrying a nuclear weapon crashed shortly after takeoff.

The Air Force gave a similar explanation of the cause — the explosion of a rocket assist takeoff bottle.

Cut Gas Prices 3.2 Cents Gallon in Pontiac Area

A gasoline price cut of 3.2 cents a gallon for Detroit area dealers, announced today by Sinclair Refinery Co., will affect all major companies in the Pontiac area, according to Eugene McEnery, president of the North Oakland County Chapter of the Retail Gas Dealers Association of Michigan.

Sinclair said its price cut was made to meet competition and that the dealers would pass the cut on to the public. The companies wholesale price of regular grade gasoline fell to 23.9 cents a gallon and its premium grade to 27.9 cents.

McEnery predicts that all major companies in the area would "follow suit" and cut their prices in the next few days to meet the competition of the smaller companies.

Menu for Holiday Offers Season's Coldest Weather

By The Associated Press

The Thanksgiving weather menu featured the season's coldest weather, garnished with brisk winds and topped with white snow flakes.

The traditional holiday turkey dinner was much more appetizing than the offerings off the climatic tray.

Only the ocean-warmed coastal sections escaped the late November cold snap as the mountain of arctic air spread across the country. The stiff winds added to the discomfort of the frosty air.

Most of the northern two thirds of the nation was below freezing. It was colder in Montana, parts of Colorado, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin where temperatures dropped to below zero in many areas.

Lowest readings of the season were reported in much of the Midwest. They were near zero in Illinois and a hard freeze was reported south of the Ohio Valley into Missouri and Kentucky. Low marks included —13 at Grand Forks, N. D., and —12 at International Falls, Minn.

The cold air continued to advance south and eastward and during the night the leading edge pushed across the Atlantic Seaboard into extreme northern Florida and into the northern Gulf.

State Income Tax Plan Being Drafted

second taxable income bracket for a total of $140.

Against the $140, the worker would be credited with four $40 deductions and $36 in sales tax rebate for a credit of $196.

He would pay no state income tax and could apply to the state general fund for a rebate on the $36 sales tax refund.

Originally a flat state income tax of 3¼ per cent was proposed to yield about 200 million dollars a year. The article said this was dropped in favor of the graduated tax plan.

Other recommendations by the committee, the story said, include doing away with personal property tax and reimbursing local governments from the state general fund.

Cities also would be able to add the .5 per cent tax as an occupational tax.

Thus upper bracket wage earners could be taxed as much as 9 per cent plus a one-mill occupational tax.

The state business property tax would remain and the present deductions for rent, interest and depreciation would be canceled.

tained between representatives of the armed forces and other officials of the Soviet Union in Germany and corresponding representatives of the armed forces and other officials of the United States, Great Britain and France on questions pertaining to Berlin."

Berlin was swept by a wave of alarm and despondency by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' statement that the West might treat the East German Communists as Soviet agents. The American command was moving to end the alarm but already it was widespread.

The first reaction in Bonn was that the Russians and their East German satellites were merely trying to set the stage for takeover of West Berlin's 2,200,000 free citizens.

The first step for such a move would obviously be removal of the 7,000-man western garrison which now defends the city.

Girl, 17, Upsets Navy Routine at Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A 17-year-old high school girl upset Navy discipline by pulling on a uniform and spending several hours inside the Naval Academy.

Navy brass—when they recovered—pulled the stripes from the sleeves of three middies and ordered two others to face disciplinary action.

"The unauthorized presence of a young lady in Bancroft Hall at an unauthorized time" was, said the academy, "an immature prank."

The academy, in a statement, said the incident occurred "about two weeks ago."

The girl, Susan Johnson, a senior at Annapolis High School and daughter of a well-known Baltimore surgeon, Dr. Marius P. Johnson, stood evening meal formation in a middies uniform, then marched into the dining room and ate with the 3,500-man brigade.

Her mother termed the incident "just a prank."

The Navy took a sterner view. Cmdr. Marcy Dupre, academy public information officer, said the three demoted midshipmen officers were not directly involved but "had positive knowledge of the incident and failed to take proper corrective action."

Involved in the incident, he said, were William R. Evans of Trenton, N. J., and Michael J. Brown of Guymon, Okla., both seniors. They face disciplinary action.

Demoted were James P. Wilson of Philadelphia, the brigade commander; Robert L. Vogt of Norfolk, Va., a battalion commander; and Douglas Volgenau of Clarence, N. Y., a company commander.

New Pastor Announced at Congregational Church

BIRMINGHAM—Members of the Congregational Church of Birmingham today announced that the Rev. Raymond A. Fenner has accepted the pastorate to begin his duties at the local church Feb. 15, 1959.

Rev. Fenner, a native of Ohio, is now minister of the Fremont Congregational Church in Fremont, Calif. Prior to graduation from Yale Divinity School he served in Europe in World War II. He has also been minister of youth at the Congregational Church at Manhasset, N. Y.

At their regular noon meeting at the Community House tomorrow the Birmingham Senior Men's club will hear a talk by Stoddard White, marine editor of a Detroit paper.

T. A. Henshaw, club secretary, said plans are under way for the celebration of the group's second anniversary Jan. 9.

Col. James H. McPartlin, 40, of 3930 Orchard Dr., has been appointed first full-time commander of Michigan's Selfridge-based 403rd Reserve Troop Carrier Wing.

The World War II bomber pilot has been part-time commander for the past two of his four years with the wing as reservist.

Col. MacPartlin resigned as Michigan's manufacturer's representative for a shirt company in order to take the new post.

Mrs. John S. Judd of 32075 Bingham Rd., has been named area chairman for the development program of Smith College of which she is a graduate. She will represent the Northampton, Mass. college in Michigan in its present program to increase endowment.

At present, Mrs. Judd is president of the Birmingham Smith College Club and chairman of the Higher Education Committee on the Board of the Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Merrit D. Hill of 965 E. Gengary Circle, Bloomfield Township, the general manager of the Tractor and Implement Division of Ford Motor Co., has been named permanent chairman of the newly organized executive committee of the Michigan Corps of Industrial Ambassadors.

President's Proclamation

'Time of Harvest . . .'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Text of President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving Proclamation:

At this season of the year we are reminded that the course of nature has brought us once again from the time of planting to the time of harvest, and we turn to Almighty God with heartfelt thanksgiving for his enduring providence.

We are grateful for the plentiful yield of our soil and for the blessings of food and clothing and shelter that have succored us throughout the year. We rejoice in the beauty of our land; in every brave and generous act of our fellow man; and in the counsel and comfort of our friends. We deeply appreciate the preservation of those ideals of liberty and justice which form the basis of our national life and the hope of international peace. For these and all the many spiritual and temporal benefactions betokening God's goodness, we offer up our prayers and gratitude.

Let us be especially grateful for the religious heritage bequeathed us by our forebears as exemplified by the Pilgrims, who, after the gathering of their first harvest, set apart a special day for rendering thanks to God for the bounties vouchsafed to them.

Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, in consonance with the joint resolution of Congress approved December 26, 1951, designating the fourth Thursday of each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, November 27, 1958, as a day of national Thanksgiving. On that day let us, in our homes and in our accustomed places of worship, give due expression of our thanks for the blessings which have signalized our lot as a nation, and let us ask for guidance in our striving for a better world for all men.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this Thirty-First Day of October in the Year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-Eight, and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Eighty-Third.

Indians, Turkey, and Trimmings

Michigan Celebrated First in 1824

LANSING (UPI) — More than 200 years after the Pilgrims celebrated the first Thanksgiving in 1621, early settlers in an equally wild new land re-enacted the scene in Michigan.

An account of a Thanksgiving in what was then a wilderness in Barry County is startlingly similar in spirit and detail.

As at the first Thanksgiving, Indians came out of the forest, bringing gifts of wild turkeys and venison. There was feasting and prayers of thanks. There were tears as some of the settlers thought back to the homes they had left forever.

Michigan residents started officially observing Thanksgiving 41 years before it became a national holiday. Settlers from the East, pushing into a new frontier, carried it along as one of their customs.

On Nov. 25, 1824, Gov. Lewis Cass, a transplanted Vermonter, proclaimed the first Thanksgiving in Michigan.

The account of a Thanksgiving observance in the Michigan wilderness in 1838 was written by Mrs. Mary Hoyt of Kalamazoo when a great-grandmother, and is preserved in state library files here.

She was a six-year-old girl at the time, a daughter of William "Yankee Bill" Lewis, who traveled from New York State to Michigan with his family in a covered wagon.

"Yankee Bill" founded the Yankee Springs Tavern near the Thornapple River. The tavern prospered as a stopping point on the journey from Detroit to Battle Creek and Grand Rapids.

In 1838, William and his wife, Mary, decided they had much to be thankful for and invited all their neighbors in for a Thanksgiving feast.

Recalling the event many years later, their daughter related:

Men with teams went for miles and invited all to come. The Indians came from the forest with wild turkeys and cranberries and hams of venison. Great slabs of spare ribs were brought in.

Mother Lewis was busy for days in her big kitchen, baking mince and pumpkin pies and puddings in the oven beside the fireplace. Long tables were spread and set with the simple service of the settlers. With autumn greens they trimmed the room.

On Thanksgiving morning, men and teams were sent again to bring the guests.

There was excitement in the kitchen, for the turkey and venison suspended before the fireplace smitted fragrant odors. The fire blazed and crackled against the fire log.

The fowl must be kept turning that all sides would be just the right shade of brown and constantly basted in the rich juices that dripped in the pans below. Simmering in the big iron kettle were the spare ribs. The feast was one long remembered by the countryside.

In the afternoon it began to snow, the first snow of the season. The harder it snowed, the gayer the party grew. Someone had brought a fiddle and soon familiar tunes brought dancers to their feet.

Sometimes a familiar tune that reminded them of the old homes so far away in the East brought tears to the eyes of the older folks, but they brushed them away and danced on, all through the night and until the sun rose the next morning.

Work in Potato Plant Halted by Saboteur

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Employes of a potato processing firm were unable to operate potato peelers and other equipment when they arrived at work because every wire in the plant had been cut during the night.

Police said the owner of the firm, the Jiffy Fry Co., Inc., said he believed an ex-employe who had been fired broke into the plant and cut the wires because he had a grudge against him.

Police said every wire, including telephone and time clock outlets, were severed. In addition, the firm's office was ransacked and a number of checks that were to be deposited in the bank today were torn up. The firm processes potatoes for restaurants.

The United States has enough automobiles to carry every person in the country without using the rear seats.

Lansing Annexation Proposal Ruled Out

LANSING (UPI) — Annexation of about eight square miles to Lansing, approved by voters in the Nov. 4 election, has been ruled out by Deputy Secretary of State Billie Farnum.

Farnum said the attorney general has ruled residents in each of the areas to be annexed must approve the move.

"It is my understanding that inasmuch as a favorable vote was not obtained in the area proposed to be annexed in Delta Township," Farnum said, "the entire annexation failed to carry."

Farnum said the annexation proposal, which included four areas, some in both Ingham and Eaton Counties, was interrelated and therefore "no part of the annexation can be accomplished."

Dakota means an "alliance of friends" and is a word of the Sioux Indians.

Use More in Hair Care

BABBIT, Minn. (UPI) — Residents of this northeastern Minnesota community won't have to pay property taxes next year.

The revenue will come instead from the Reserve Mining Co. in the form of taconite and railroad taxes — about $80,000 worth, enough to take care of the village's needs in 1959.

Lead, zinc and silver comprise the chief products of northern Idaho mines.

Urge Waterford Vote on Library

Would Make Proposal to Build on Donated Site an April Election Issue

Waterford Township registered voters may be asked to approve the construction of a $200,000 library in the April 6 election.

Placing of the proposal on the ballot was recommended to the Township Board in an extensive report by the Waterford Library Committee at a special meeting last night.

Last year, Frank Steere of Watkis Lake donated 17 acres of his estate on Pontiac Lake road at M59 to the township, providing plans for a cultural center there would be put into operation within five years.

An 11-member library committee was appointed by Supervisor Elmer Johnson to make an investigation of building and finance, legal technicalities, and to check the attitudes of area residents regarding such a project.

The committee recommended construction of an 8,000-square-foot building at an estimated cost of $20 per square foot, with provision for expansion as the need arises. This would include architect's fees and equipment.

It also suggested 20,000 books costing $60,000 be provided, as this is the minimum requirement needed in order for the township to receive state library aid.

Method of financing the project hasn't been determined yet. It must be decided whether to ask approval of a bond issue or to acquire funds on a pay-as-you-go plan through personal contributions, according to the committee report.

Which Is It We Feel– Pride or Gratitude?

(Editor's Note: In keeping with The Press policy of having guest editorial writers from time to time, the following Thanksgiving editorial was written by the Rector of All Saints' Episcopal Church).

REV. C. GEORGE WIDDIFIELD

We are a proud people and a proud nation. It takes little imagination to find justifiable reasons for our pride.

We have come so far in such a short time. There is no nation on the face of the earth that can surpass our prosperity. No nation grants a greater degree of freedom. No nation exhibits a more honorable industry. And so one might continue indefinitely.

But Thanksgiving Day should give us pause — should help us ask this question: Is our pride really justified or should it be tempered by a profound sense of gratefulness?

We live in one of the most richly-blessed lands on the face of the earth. If we have greater wealth than other nations it is largely because the Lord has given us a greater abundance of raw materials. If we have more food and fewer starving people than some of the other nations of the world, it is largely because we have more land than most other people have, and the land we have is more fertile.

If we are able to maintain a higher standard of living than many of the other nations, it is largely because we have greater resources. To be sure, we have developed these raw materials. We have made the most of our brains and our ingenuity, but using all these at their maximum, we could not have produced what we now have if we had been given a dry and barren land to begin with.

Also, we are young and strong; unscarred and unscathed by war. We have never been bombed, we have never been starved. These are things to be grateful for, not proud of. What better thought could we have on Thanksgiving Day than the line from the Psalm, "The lot is fallen unto me in a fair ground; yea, I have a goodly heritage."

Railroads Must Have Federal Aid to Exist

As this newspaper has pointed out several times over the past months, the passenger business on the railroads is continuing to dwindle.

Current figures bring out the facts in a graphic manner. Passenger operations in 1957, resulted in losses totaling $723 million dollars. This is a staggering total and it deserves study and Federal relief, or at least Federal recognition of the situation.

But nothing is done.

According to present estimates, the same loss for 1958 will run some two per cent greater than it was in 1957. The passenger train deficit is edging towards a billion dollars a year and it comes right out of the railroad tills. They're approaching the breaking point and many have arrived at that unhappy status already.

Commuter service is one of the chief offenders. Over half a million people depend on this to get them into big cities and back home. They ride in part at railroad expense for their total payments are far below costs.

The Grand Trunk Railroad right here in Pontiac suffers acutely from this ailment. Last year the commuter deficit approximated $100,000.

Some suggest that if commuter service continues, it will have to be as a "ward of the government." If this idea is repugnant to the nation, the rails can wash their hands of the whole thing and let the commuters ride busses and their own cars.

The latter would further jam streets that are already baffling the city officials of all the great centers in America. The passenger problem on long hauls is slowly being settled by the railroads as they discontinue more trains. But to date, they have struggled through with the bulk of the commuter services.

The Man About Town

Over Twelve Miles

Of Holiday Decorations Going Up on Our Streets

Holiday: A date on which too many of us forget its real meaning.

For the tenth year the Christmas decorations over Pontiac's downtown streets are locally made, and furnished by the family enterprise of

The House of Evergreens,

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Hughes of 444 Marian St., who have built a hobby into a good sized business.

The decorations now going up here include 1,200 pieces of evergreen festooning, each 50 feet long; 90 pieces, 30 feet long, and 40 pieces, 12 feet long, or a total of over 12 miles of festooning.

Also included are 35 evergreen wreaths, each 24 inches in diameter, and nine wreaths, each 36 inches in diameter, besides some other work with an evergreen accent. All of the material for this work is from trees grown in Oakland County.

For making the festooning the Hughes have invented a roping machine which greatly facilitates the work. They hold the patents on it, and have sold a number in other cities.

Although a resident of Pontiac for 40 years, of 100 Henry Clay Ave., well remembers when he was coach of the baseball team at North Bridgton, Maine, just after the turn of the century. He also saw the canals, the railroads with several widths of track, some only two feet wide, and other things preserved from pioneer days.

Another grower of flowers that do double duty in 1958,

Mrs. LeRoy Davis

of 1330 Union Lake Road, has an orange oriental poppy in bloom.

As a sequel to his training during the pheasant season, the dog of

Harrison Gormand

of Drayton Plains insists on taking points on chickens.

A doe deer that for several months has been coming to the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Holtsander

in Orion Township for daily handouts of food, has been sticking there all of the time since Nov. 15.

Rushing the season, some Detroit hunters in the car of almost got their first deer, and right within the Pontiac city limits, early Friday morning. The car struck it near the overhead bridge on Oakland Ave., but it galloped away — with a bad limp. The men reported it to a nearby gas station.

Dulles Reports Pressure Counter Moves

Says West Agrees on Berlin Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the Western Allies have reached basic agreement on how to deal with Soviet pressures over Berlin.

Dulles said he would not rule out the use of force in defense of Western rights of access to the city but that he thought the question was academic because the Communists have not threatened to cut the land, water or air routes.

Dulles said there are at least two possible explanations of why the Soviet Union has not yet made its proposals to end occupation rights in Berlin although Premier Khrushchev forecast action 16 days ago.

One is that Khrushchev found himself out on a legal limb through failure to consult his lawyers and therefore has had to review his whole policy.

Another possible reason is that Soviet repudiation of the whole Potsdam agreement of 1945 might destroy the basis of Poland's rights in former German-held territory.

Dulles said the Polish government may have become alarmed over this.

Dulles refused to spell out precisely what steps the Western powers might take in dealing with any challenge by the Communists over Berlin.

At times his carefully-phrased answers skirted around areas in which—in line with persistent reports—there may be disagreement among the Allied powers which include West Germany.

Dulles did say the Western powers might deal with East German officials as agents of the Soviet Union. The Allies are agreed on this as a possible line of action, he said, depending on the circumstances if and when the Soviet Union turns over to the East Germans the control of check points on the routes between West Germany and West Berlin.

Dulles made these other points at his news conference:

1. The U.S. government has some slight evidence that the Soviet Union may have exploded more nuclear test weapons.

2. If there is a breakdown in negotiations at Geneva on an inspected ban on weapons testing, the United States may announce that it will not test any more weapons under conditions to cause air pollution. Dulles said he is not discouraged by the slow and difficult progress of the Geneva talks.

3. A new committee named by President Eisenhower to appraise foreign aid may produce some fresh decisions on the balance between U.S. military and economic assistance over the world.

4. In response to questions about a recommendation from the National Council of Churches last week that the United States move toward recognizing Red China, Dulles said he attaches great weight to action by church people on moral principles but not the same weight when they get into practical details.

5. Policies of the United Arab Republic under President Gamal Abdel Nasser may or may not fit in with Communist policies from time to time but Dulles doubts that U.A.R. activities are Communist inspired. The motivation, he said, is to expand Arab unity.

Thanksgiving in America . . . Is when we give our thanks . . . For all God's blessings, great or small . . . Bestowed upon our ranks . . . The banker and the farmer and . . . The merchant in his store . . . The laborer and office clerk . . . And those who guard each shore . . . At every family table, from . . . The highest to the least . . . Our grace and gratitude are said . . . Before the turkey feast . . . No, this is not the only time . . . We give our thanks to God . . . For all His generosity . . . To us upon this sod . . . But our Thanksgiving is the time . . . When we unite in prayer . . . To honor God and Thank Him for . . . His kind and loving care.

The Country Parson

"What's so great about peace of mind?—we can achieve it by simply falling asleep."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Profitable Vitamin Shots Pay Doctor's Overhead

A quondam colleague had a remunerative sideline — administering "shots," or rather prescribing them and leaving his smart office girls to administer them to the gullible customers. The take from this not only paid the salaries of the near-nurses but more than covered the overhead of the "clinic" he ran.

DR. BRADY

If you're a "clinic" customer you know how impressive uniformed near-nurses are, hustling to and fro, and what a tremendous practice you think the doctor has when you see a dozen other customers waiting for their "shots" at 10 a.m. or 3 p.m. — whatever time the girl at the desk tells you all to report Monday.

Knowing the man well enough to talk turkey to him I asked him if he didn't feel ashamed to take the money for such downright exploitation of popular credulity. This strictly in private, of course.

"I have no compunction about giving my patients vitamin shots," my businesslike colleague averred. "In many cases injections of thiamin (B-1) two or three times a week give a boost or a lift you just don't get from vitamins by mouth. These patients keep coming for their shots because they are satisfied it helps their morale."

There's no question in my mind that an optimal or an adequate ration of vitamin B-1 (thiamin) daily or just two or three days in each week, will give the average American a boost or lift or better morale, because the namby-pamby, ultra-refined, narrow, poorly balanced diet of the average American is deficient in vitamin B. This is plain common sense.

At the same time I say it is childish on the part of the patient or customer and larcenous on the part of the doctor or salesman to attribute to vitamin B or any other vitamin or combination of vitamins, with or without minerals, however administered, the magic which my colleague's customers think "shots" work.

The child-minded person who willingly pays $3 to $7.50 per "shot" for vitamin B generally follows a diet in which refined, bleached and doctored white flour replaces the staff of life, plain wheat, the richest food source of vitamin B.

If you are not quite sure your everyday diet is as good as it should be, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my FREE pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Use HELP Conversation Method

Norma will soon find that ability to carry on gay conversation counts more than a new dress or rouge and lipstick in winning a boy's admiration. For a person's charm is largely his deftness in conversation. Send for the 'H-E-L-P" formula outlined below and practice it at home before your crucial date.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-382: Norma J., aged 16, is just starting to date.

"Dr. Crane, Norma is a shy, quiet type," her mother informed me, "so I know she'll have trouble carrying on conversation.

DR. CRANE

"I suggested she memorize your H-E-L-P formula. I recall that the letter 'H' stands for 'Hobbies.'

"But what do the other letters indicate? Norma will need this information for her Friday night date."

H-E-L-P CONVERSATION

Everybody needs conversation starters. For after we have used the weather, we generally bog down.

Then panic ensues, and for the life of us, we can't think of anything brilliant with which to break the awful pause that soon has gotten out of hand.

So don't disregard the "H-E-L-P" formula just because you are far past the age of 16. Older folks often need it, too.

"Help, help!" you may think in desperation.

Well, use that very word H-E-L-P" to bail you out of the jam.

"H" stands for "Hobbies."

Probe tactfully and see if the friend ever collected stamps or autographs, bottle caps or pads of safety matches.

See if he had a home chemistry set or made model airplanes. You can generally get a boy launched upon conversation by such probing.

But if you fail to do so, then try "E" which means "Entertainment." And by all means offer your companion two choices, for that makes it much easier for him to pick up his cue and re-enter the dialogue.

Don't ask a general question, such as: "How do you like baseball?"

Instead, inquire, "Do you think baseball is more popular than football?"

And make it a habit to fade out of your part of the dialogue with a question mark instead of a period.

For the question mark is shaped like a fish hook, so it will hook him gracefully and pull him back into the dialogue.

"Entertainment" also includes movies vs. the legitimate theater. Inquire if he prefers musical comedies or westerns.

Ask him if he thinks ice hockey is more exciting than basketball. And probe to find whether he is a player or just a spectator.

After this field of talk has been exhausted, then shift to "L" which stands for "Literature."

That topic includes comic books and cartoon strips in this newspaper, as well as highbrow stuff.

See if he ever read any of the Classics, illustrated, which are the comic book format for the great novels in English, French and German literature.

Find out his favorite magazine, too, and see if he liked English literature courses or has ever tried to write contest entries or short stories, poems or has kept a diary.

"P" covers "Politics" but you should avoid heated debate over the merits of Republicans vs. Democrats.

Instead, inquire if he thinks 18-year-olds should be allowed to vote, especially since they are drafted for cannon fodder at that age.

See if he thinks women should run for office, especially the Presidency.

Keep up a bantering tone if you get upon personal subjects, as I outlined in Monday's Case Record.

And always be liberal with honest compliments about your companion, for they are surefire ways to break embarrassing pauses.

Send for my "Formula for Interesting Conversation," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

It explains in more detail this short formula but also gives you the longer recipe from my college textbook.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Looks Like Pontiac People Have Milk Prices in Check'

It sure looks like people of Pontiac have the high price of milk on the downgrade. Concerning the blockade of the store that had a good sale price on milk, it surely brings out who's to blame for high milk prices.

People from now on who want to keep milk low should patronize stores that have sale prices. It looks like competition for your milk dollar is getting into high gear. I would suggest these stores' management keep a reserve of store carts in stock rooms and bring them out when Caesar's Legion has passed.

The City Commission let Pontiac people down by refusing to have competitive dairies in the city. The amount of taxes the city would get from local dairies is nothing compared to lower milk prices that would result. Competition shouldn't be stifled to the extent of taking milk away from kids.

One for Lower Milk Prices

'German's Mistaken About Americans'

The German woman may know German men, but not much about Americans. Fickleness of American men is well-known to every working girl who turns down two flirtatious married men for every single one.

Statistics say 125,000 American desert their families every year. As for vanity, look at the letter from the man who believes men "gave" us the right to vote. According to experts, the main cause of divorce the first year of marriage is the husband's mother. Where else can you find so many mama's boys?

When German is here longer, she'll know that undermining of our men is nothing compared to men's undermining of women. And if American women run to clubs, I don't know them. Most married women (18 million at last count) are too busy holding down two jobs, one at home and one outside.

'Why Can't Students Have a Smoker?"

I'm a boy 17, going to junior high school.

Teachers are doing their best to stop students from smoking, but they go behind the boiler room and anywhere else they can smoke. Teachers go to their lounge and smoke and then go out and trap the students and take them to the office for punishment.

Why can't we students have a place to smoke, too? If you want teenagers to act as adults, you have to treat them as such.

'It's Unfair to Use My Money for That'

Labor spent five million dollars on the election. My part of that was probably very small but it went for the Democratic Party and I'm a Republican and, so how do I go about getting my money back?

What right has the union to use my money for supporting the candidates that the officers want? The officials have no authority to use general funds for partisan purposes. It would be just as fair for me to order Reuther to get out and work for Bagwell.

What a yell would go up if the union demanded him to do that. It's just as fair as him spending my money for the wrong man.

Inaccuracy Hit in Liquor Issue

Author of Plan to Delay Payments for 90 Days Lashes Out at Critic

LANSING (UPI) — The author of a plan to delay the state's liquor payments for 90 days claimed a critic of the plan has created an "added hazard of misrepresentation."

Rep. Rollo Conlin (R-Tipton), quoted Joseph H. Creighton, Lobbyist for the Michigan Manufacturer's Association, as saying the delayed payment plan was not approved by the Federal government and "the state consequently continued paying for liquor every 30 days as before."

Conlin, chairman of the house general taxation committee, said the plan provided "additional operating funds of somewhere between 18 and 20 million dollars."

He said the financial crisis was complex and "confusing enough to the public without the added hazard of misrepresentation."

"Before making irresponsible inaccurate statements . . . it would seem imperative that some effort be put forth by the lobbyist of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association to insure accuracy in order to present dependable information to the members of his association," Conlin said.

The plan has been endorsed by the Liquor Commission, Conlin said, and reports showed liquidation of the state's equity in liquor inventory was about 18 million dollars.

Governor Hints Veto

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams hinted yesterday he would veto an income tax on low income groups, but he left the door open to a personal tax on high brackets.

Allied Airlift Saw Berliners Eager to Aid Landing Planes

BERLIN (UPI) — The Anglo-American airlift that vaulted the first Soviet blockade of Berlin 10 years ago lasted 462 days, during which it moved more than one ton of food and fuel for every one of the 2,200,000 persons living in the city.

The American Air Force has said that the airlift moved "well over 2,343,301 tons of food and supplies in 277,264 flights."

When it all began on April Fool's Day, 1948, only 10 tons or so of food and fuel were flown into the city each day. By July 2, about 250 tons a day were being landed.

Six, seven or eight hundred flights a day were normal by winter, and there was that absolutely fantastic "Easter Parade" of April 16, 1949, when 1,398 flights landed 12,940 tons of supplies in the city within 24 hours. .....

Templehof Airfield, located on an old army parade ground smack in the middle of the residential part of West Berlin, was the city's main airlift terminal at the beginning. Later, Gatow Airfield, further out in the suburbs, came into great use, and a third field, at Tegel, was built.

The Berliners built Tegel themselves. Hundreds of young women who in other circumstances would have been getting a manicure and hair do or, at the most, tapping a typewriter, volunteered to help do the job. Dressed in old clothes, they carried stones in their bare hands, and with those same hands wielded sledge hammers to crush the stones to make a base for the new runways.

Templehof was surrounded by tall apartment buildings. But when the conveys of fat Globemaster aircraft started coming in there, it was decided to knock down a few of those buildings to make a narrow path leading to the main runways.

Even today, when one lands at Templehof, you can look right into a number of fourth and fifth floor living rooms, and see how the wind your plane's passing makes will flutter the curtains.

Once properly organized, the planes coming in used two of the corridors across the Soviet zone, while all the outbound planes used the third corridor. This one-way traffic system speeded the operation immensely, and certainly increased safety.

Planes moved in blocks of ten, taking off seconds behind one another and stacked in the air, each 1,000 feet above the plane in front of it. Intervals between blocks were usually five minutes, never more than 10 minutes, except when Berlin was fogbound and even canvasback ducks were grounded.

The system functioned so smoothly, around the clock, that babies woke up when, for some reason, the constant buzz of landing and departing planes stopped, and adults got very nervous indeed, wondering if the Russians finally had moved against the airlift, too.

The airlift had its moments of tragedy.

Thirty-one American and 39 British airmen died in crashes or airport accidents during the airlift. Seven Germans were killed in January, 1949, when a British plane in which they were passengers crashed.

And it had its moments of comedy, too.

One of the funniest was the night a British journalist who had been a wartime bomber pilot hitched a ride from a West German fielld to Berlin. Short-handed the local British commander said the journalist could go only if he would fly as co-pilot.

Excited at being able to participate actively in this historical operation of supply a city under seige, the journalist agreed.

The plane was halfway across the Soviet zone when the journalist inquired as to its cargo.

"Ten tons of gin," the pilot replied, "for the officers' club."

Big Bridge to Glow With Colored Lights

ST. IGNACE (UP)—The gigantic Mackinac Bridge is going to be lighted up like a huge Christmas tree.

It may come up with the world's most extensive display of Christmas lights—red, green and amber.

Workmen now are installing them along either side of the bridge in sockets that outline the swaying, symmetrical cables which reach 8,600 feet each.

The cables arch from anchors across both 47-story towers and normally are outlined with amber lights.

Church Groups Pass Christ Child Doll Set

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Christ Child doll has gone on sale for the Christmas season, with the approval of both Roman Catholic and Protestant groups.

The unbreakable, washable model of the infant Jesus comes packaged in a simulated book, which opens into a three-dimensional Nativity scene.

The doll lies on a bed of straw. On each side of it is the text of the Gospel of St. Luke—the Douay version for Catholics and the St. James for Protestants. Behind the doll is a reproduction of a painting of the manger scene.

Title of the set is "The Most Wonderful Story."

Japanese Critic Softens Attitude

Expresses Sympathy in Integration Problem After Visit to U.S.

TOKYO (AP)—A caustic Japanese critic of the United States has expressed sympathy for America's efforts to solve its Negro problem.

Ashihei Hino, Japanese novelist just returned from a two-month trip to the United States, said he saw improvement in the status of Negroes in many places, including Little Rock.

In an article in the newspaper Tokyo Shimbun, Hino said the Negro "if he demands outright equality, without improving his own record for crime, ignorance and uncleanliness, is bound to fail."

Hino has charged in previous writings that the United States mistreated "our brothers and sisters in Okinawa." He also ridicules punishment of low-ranking Japanese soldiers for war crimes.

He has made previous trips to the Soviet union, Communist China and North Korea. His books and articles on Communist nations are more critical of them than his Tokyo Shimbun article is of the United States.

"I visited Little Rock, Ark., with a preconception mixed with dread," he writes. "I had thought it was a fearsome place of bigotry where poor Negroes were ruthlessly persecuted by whites.

"I found out quickly my preconception was completely wrong. It was a quiet, beautiful city . . . Whites and colored people were living together in harmony.

"Facilities for the Negroes were as good as those in New York, Boston and Chicago I had seen arlier.

"Now I know it is wrong to consider the Little Rock school incident as a peak of the Negro problem. It is indeed far mor complex and deep rooted."

On his way to Little Rock, Hino used a "colored rest room" for the first time in Memphis, Tenn.

"It was narrow but clean, and its equipment was the same as in white rest rooms," he reported. "That was a typical example of the spirit of the separate but equal policy in the South."

3 U. of M. Students Open Antarctic Camp

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Three University of Michigan graduate students have arrived at the bottom of the world to reopen Camp Michigan on Antarctica.

Geology Prof. James H. Zumberge said he received information from a Red Cross radio station that the three students had reached the camp.

Zumberge founded Camp Michigan last year, 50 miles from little America IV, as part of the university's cotribution to the International Geophysical year (IGY).

He said the three students will continue the IGY study of the deformation of the Ross ice shelf over the Antarctic summer until February or March.

The camp has been vacant over the Antarctic winter, which corresponds to summer in the United States.

The three student geologist explorers are John Reid of Melrose, Mass., Ralph Kehle of San Diego, Calif., and Nolan Aughenbaugh of Chillicothe, Ohio.

Man Who Never Eats Pie Delays Bakers' Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—A federal mediator who never eats pie delayed a strike of 450 pie bakers Tuesday.

So, nearly a million pies, mostly pumpkin and mince, will be available for Thanksgiving dinners in the Chicago area.

Peter Carbonara, Bakers Union president, said after 15 consecutive hours of negotiations in the wage dispute with five major companies he decided to go along with the membership vote and call a strike.

But, he said, William G. Murray, a commissioner with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, interceded.

Carbonara said Murray convinced union officials that "Thanksgiving would be just another day without pumpkin and mince pie on the table," and the walkout was delayed.

"I'm surprised to hear that Murray doesn't eat pie," Carbonara said. "From the way he drooled when he argued against a strike at such a crucial time, I thought he must love pie."

He said the union and company officials would resume negotiations Friday — the day after Thanksgiving. The pie bakers, Carbonara said, want their wages increased from the present scale of $1.85 to $2 an hour to $2.10 to $2.27 an hour.

Signs $1 Million Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has signed a one million dollar a year contract with Burroughs Corp. for the lease of a new electronic system to process service orders. The system will begin operating Jan. 1, 1960, at Michigan Bell's new accounting center in suburban Southfield. Any employes displaced by the system will be diverted to other company operations.

Mental Decline Not Inevitable

U. of M. Specialist Says Belief That Age Lowers Powers Not True

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan specialist on aging has put a damper on the popular belief that mental powers decrease in later life.

Dr. Wilma Donahue said new evidence does not concur with early tests that show a mental decline is inevitable after a person reaches 40 or 50.

The tests, started 30 years ago, indicated younger persons were more intelligent than their elders.

But a recheck of the youngsters 30 years later now shows many of them have gained in average intelligence, Dr. Donahue said.

She said the original tests were misleading because the rise in national educational levels was not taken into account.

"The youngsters had more formal education than the older age groups with which they were compared," she said.

Another reason was that younger groups are more often exposed to testing and therefore, are more accustomed to them and willing to take them, said Dr. Donahue.

Now Was That Nice?

LONDON (UPI) — Frederick Wilson, 40, was fined $28 yesterday for stealing a policeman's bicycle so he could ride home after calling at the stationhouse to report the theft of his own bike.

Declares 50c Dividend

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Bank and Trust Co. has declared a dividend of 50 cents payable Dec. 31 to shareholders of record Dec. 9.

DETROIT (AP) — An Upper Peninsula priest, a financier and a promoter visited Detroit Tuesday seeking support for a proposed copper mining venture in the Porcupine Mountains State Park.

Various conservation groups have voiced strong opposition to a proposal by Bear Creek Mining Co. to mine copper along the Upper Peninsula Park's Lake Superior shoreline.

But the Rev. Louis Cappo, pastor of Christ the King Church in Ramsay; William L. Burns, an Ironwood financier; and Gerald L. Johnson of Marquette, manager of Upper Peninsula Development Bureau Corp., argued for the chance to create new copper mining industry.

The three said issues in the controversial debate boil down to one basic argument — shall the natural wilderness of the park remain intact or shall the mining venture be approved to provide jobs for people in the area.

Father Cappo said the problem is even more simple — the people of the Upper Peninsula are fighting for the right to continue to there.

I had huge crowds at three masses when I first came to Ramsay and built a new church seven years ago," he said, "When the crowds began dwindling, I investigated to find out why.

"I discovered that more than 1,000 of our young people ahad moved away during that period. Men were being laid off from the iron mines. Many were on welfare. These men love the area . . . But when things get desperate enough they move away to seek work."

Johnson said arguments against the mining operation tended to ignore that the 933 acres of the park which Bear Creek seeks to lease is on the Lake Superior shore, six miles from the park's famed Lake of The Clouds and nine miles from the ski slides, the two most visited parts of the state park.

To "downstaters," the Great Porcupine Mountains Park seems a unspoiled wilderness, Johnson said.

"But," he added "There are som 10,585,000 acres of and in the Upper Peninsula and 86.8 per cent is covered with forest. Of this total, the state owns 2,314,000 acres and the federal forests cover another 1,588,000 — 47 per cent of the Upper Peninsula land area.

Johnson, Burns and Father Cappo said the proposed mine, if placed in full operation, would employ some 2,000 persons and would bring royalties of a million dollars a year to the state.

Johnson said most of the mining would be done on offshore land with only shaft and administration buildings being built at the mine site.

"I want to make it clear we do not contend this will bring immediate relief to our unemployment," Johnson said. "This is a long range program — but it is a help."

To Black Out Streets

DETROIT (AP)—The council of suburban St. Clair Shores has authorized blacking out 1,000 street lights to help make up for the loss of revenue resulting from recent state cuts in local property assessments.

1st Sales Dip in Canada

OTTAWA — Canadian retail sales, showing the first decline of the year, dropped four tenths of one per cent in June compared with the year before. Sales in the first six months of the year, however, totaled $7,120,290,000, a gain of 2.3 per cent over the like period in 1957.

Dulles Hints Russia Violated Test Ban

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said yesterday there has been slight evidence that Russia may have conducted more nuclear tests since Nov. 3.

Dulles told his weekly news conference that there was a hint of such tests but he did not elaborate.

The United States reported earlier this month that Russia exploded two nuclear devices after Oct. 31, the date the United States suggested as a cut-off for such testing pending efforts to negotiate a permanent, policed test ban.

Say Sudan Coup Was Arranged

Former Prime Minister Declares Move Saved Nation From Nasser

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Sudan's former Prime Minister says the military coup which ousted him saved his country from a foreign-sponsored move to end Sudanese independence.

The former government chief, Abdullah Khalil, made clear he was accusing President Nasser of trying to annex Sudan to the United Arab Republic.

Khalil was interviewed in Khartoum, the Sudanese capital, by a correspondent of the Beirut newspaper L'Orient. It was his first statement for publication since Gen. Ibrahim Abboud, commander of the Sudanese army, peacefully ousted the government Nov. 17 and made himself premier.

Khalil said he knew beforehand of Abboud's coup and approved it.

Khalil called the coup "a great step forward and a clean movement which has no relations with any outside power. It's true I was in office when the coup occurred but I felt the country needd drastic changes in government."

He charged that one Middle Eastern power had been working with som Sudanese army officers for the last three months to engineer a coup to "prejudice Sudan's independence."

This power also had "bought over the Sudanese press and thrown the country into chaos through the classical means by which it has applied pressure on other Arab countries," he said.

Asked if he meant the U.A.R. and Nasser, Khalil said, "You mention the aggressor in the Mideast and everybody's fingers will point to him."

Khalil said he expected Abboud to accept American economic aid which the former Premier's government had approved.

When the army chief took over, Khalil's governing coalition was showing signs of falling apart and opposition politicians were in Cairo dickering with Nasser. This stirred speculation abroad that Khalil had cooperated with his old friend Abboud or possibly even arranged the coup himself.

Warns Hunters: Go Easy

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. F. D. Dodrill, president of the Michigan Heart Assn., has advised hunters to take it easy if they have not been exercising regularly. He said, "Don't run or exercise vigorously in the cold . . . particularly after a hearty meal. Many heart attacks occur on hunting trips because the hunters have not prepared themselves for such physical activity."

Fair Weather a Friend Who Stays Loyal

By JAMES CALOGERO

ORANGE, Miss. (AP)—This is the story of the rather stormy life of Fair Weather, an English bulldog.

Like New England weather, he is inclined to be unpredictable.

He ran away from his owner, Ernest Johnson of Springfield.

He wandered to a restaurant near the Massachusetts Turnpike and for three days lived off handouts.

On the fourth day, the Rev. Decatur Butler stopped to eat and fell in love with the dog.

The feeling apparently was mutual, because Fair Weather consented to go home with the Rev. Mr. Butler. Soon the pooch was a real buddy to the three Butler children.

Not long afterward the dog wandered awy and did not return. The Butlers put an ad in the paper.

As it turned out, Fair Weather wandered into the yard of Mrs. Robert Brown, in another part of Orange.

Mrs. Brown took one look and called a relative — Ernest Johnson of Springfield, the original owner.

Johnson went over to Mrs. Brown's and brought Fair Weather back home with him.

But the dog apparently was not too happy. He wouldn't eat and appeared to be pining.

Johnson confided in Mrs. Brown and the latter recalled that she had read in the paper the Butlers had reported the dog missing.

So, to make the dog happy—not to mention the Butler children—Johnson returned the dog to the Rev. Mr. Butler and his family.

Monotony of Driving Expressway Hazard

NEW YORK — News of highway accidents has emphasized, since the advent of the modern express highway, the paralyzing effect of monotony on motorists.

The decrease in the attention needed for driving along a highway designed for high speeds is often accompanied by an unending sameness of right-of-way, both of which result in a gradual dulling of the reflexes needed for safe driving.

The desire to combat the effects of highway monotony by introducing as much variety as possible in roadside development plantings, adds an important functional purpose to the ever-present urge of the planner to produce visually satisfying results.

There are about 30,000 cleaning and tailoring shops in the U.S. In 1957, they did an estimated one and a half billion dollars worth of business.

Hal Boyle Tells:

Modern Fable of Perfect Thanksgiving

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A Thanksgiving fable:

Everything went right from the start. It was almost too perfect.

When Marybelle suggested, "I'd like to have my brothers and their families over for Thanksgiving," Jim, her husband, didn't argue at all. He said right away, "Why, honey, what a splendid idea."

And when Jim brought home the turkey it turned out to be, for the first time in their wedded life, just the right size for the oven.

And when her folks arrived, Roscoe, the older stingy brother, brought a big bouquet. Russell, the younger brother who had learned from Roscoe how to be a tightwad and then gone on to improve the art himself, showed up with two bottles of fine wine.

And while the dinner was cooking, Roscoe and Russell asked Jim his political views instead of giving theirs, and Roscoe remarked, "I'll say one thing, Jim. When our sister finally landed you, she certainly brought some real class into the family."

And Marybelle's nine nephews and nieces all played contentedly together in the den, and none cried, and none broke anything.

And when everybody sat down at the table and the wives of Roscoe and Russell saw the new silverware Jim had bought Marybelle as an anniversary present, they admired the pattern and weren't the least bit jealous. Not in the least.

And when Marybelle brought in the turkey it was done to a perfect golden brown—not a burned spot anywhere.

Driver's Concert Ends on Discordant Note

NEW YORK (AP) — Murray Schneider's defense to a charge that he was speeding on the Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive at 55 miles an hour was a novel one, Magistrate Hyman Bushel admitted, but not good enough.

"How could I be speeding?" Schneider asked the magistrate. "I was holding on to the wheel with only one hand and I was playing the harmonica with the other."

"It's a darn lucky thing you weren't playing the drum," Magistrate Bushel retorted. "Guilty! Fine is $5."

And Jim didn't grumble or feel the least bit nervous about carving. The knife was sharp as a razor. The turkey didn't crumble like a tired cookie, but peeled off in one magnificent slice after another.

And everybody got just the kind of meat he wanted. The stuffing was a mottled delight, the gravy a brown ecstasy, the cranberry sauce a crimson thrill, and the pumpkin pie a tawny delight.

And, oh, the wine shed a rosy glow over all, and it was wonderful, wonderful all the way.

And Roscoe and Russell, protesting it had been a perfect day, waddled home early with their bulging wives and well-stuffed offspring.

Jim took off his shoes, and sank down happily in the sofa.

Marybelle brought him his slippers, lit his cigar for him and murmured happily, "It sure was a lucky day for me when I first saw you."

And Jim murmured, "I must be dreaming all this."

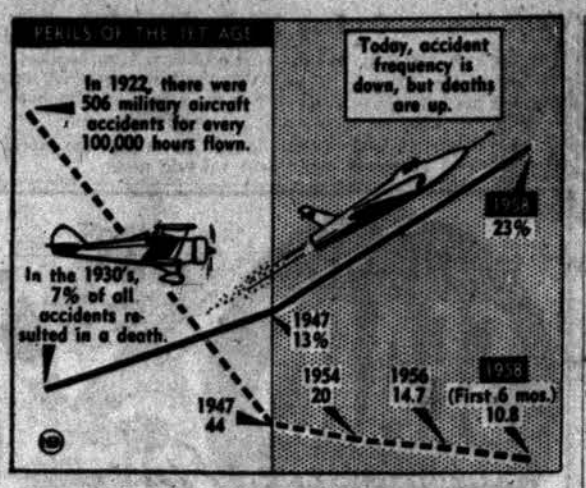
When Marybelle mentioned it was time for her to go out and do the dishes and Jim insisted he wanted to get right up and help her, she said, "I must be dreaming all this too. Thanksgiving was never like this before."

And Jim said playfully, "Maybe we'd better pinch each other."

And they did pinch each other—and sure enough, they were dreaming.

It was 6 a.m., on Thanksgiving morning, and the day hadn't even begun.

Modern planes carry 70 pounds per square foot of wing space.



PRICE OF PROGRESS — The terrific speeds and complexities of modern military aircraft are increasingly taxing the ability of man to fly them. Yet frequency of accidents has steadily declined, as Newschart above shows, even during the jet age which began in earnest about 1947. On the other hand, fatalities have increased. Today 23 per cent of all accidents result in a death. The story is the same on the material side. In 1947 less than a third of aircraft involved in major accidents were destroyed. Today it is 55 per cent.

2 Officers Retiring From National Guard

LANSING (AP)— Two Michigan National Guard officers will retire Sunday and close military careers covering a total of 70 years.

They are Lt. Col. Harry E. Northrup, U.S. property and fiscal officer for Michigan since 1951, and Col. Walter E. Nicol, assistant to Northrup and chief of staff for air matters.

Northrup launched his career with enlistment in the Michigan Guard in 1916. He saw service on the Mexican border against the forces of Pancho Villa and in both World Wars I and II.

Nicol joined the Marine Corps in World War I and the predecessor of the Michigan Air National Guard in 1926. In World War II he serviced at various air bases in the United States.

Both men are 60 and live in Lansing.

All of the states have had summer temperatures of 100 or more.

MSU Will Invite Reds to Return

Readies Staff Offers for 2 of 9 Russians on East Lansing Visit

EAST LANSING (AP) — An invitation was in the making today to two of nine touring Russian educators to return to Michigan State University and teach a while.

Suggested by Glen L. Taggart, dean of MSU's big international programs setup, the proposal was called a "splendid idea" by Dr. Martin Mayes of the U.S. Office of Education, accompanying the nine Soviets.

Taggart said the invitation would be tendered before the group resumes its cross-country trek Friday. The Russians arrived via Detroit after stopovers on Eastern campuses.

"They came here, they liked what they saw and would like to come back for more," said Mayes.

He and Taggart agreed that the existing program of international exchange visits, while wholesome and beneficial, amounts to "too much of a rushing through, a spotty affair."

The Russians arrived on the campus of this pioneer land grant institution early yesterday fairly bursting with curiosity.

Their torrent of questions to Dr. John A. Hannah, veteran MSU president and official welcomer for the institution, forced him to call on staff aides for helping in answering.

Inflation Enters Slowly

For Auto Injury Policies

Insurance Rates Cut

Pontiac independent insurance agents Wednesday reduced premium rates on bodily injury liability automotive insurance for the first time in several years.

The 10 per cent reductions may be followed in the near future by reductions in rates on collision policies, said Noyce W. Strait, president of the Pontiac Association of Insurance Agents.

The changes were filed in Lansing by the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, whose rate schedules are followed by member companies and their independent agents, who write an estimated two-thirds of the nation's auto insurance policies.

Under the new rates, the reductions in the Pontiac area will amount to $2 on family cars owned by persons 25 years of age or older.

The decrease for single males under 25 will be $6, and $4 for married males under 25.

These reductions are based on $5,000-$10,000 policies and should amount to slightly more in Michigan, where $10,000-$20,000 policies are required, Strait said.

Strait believed the reductions meant that insurance companies' experience in the Pontiac area has improved.

"It means we've had fewer accidents and fewer expense accidents," he said.

The bureau's filings, which went into effect today, will bring about changes throughout the state, but these are expected to vary in amount from area to area.

The Pontiac area is an urban classification and includes the city of Pontiac, Troy, and seven nearby townships, Avon, Bloomfield, Commerce, Pontiac, Waterford, West Bloomfield and White Lake.

ELECTRONIC FLOWERS—Resembling some strange plant, or a modernistic desk lamp, 70 of these specially designed light poles have been put into operation along Chicago's famed State Street. Each standard supports four 6-foot luminaires, each containing six fluorescent tubes. Built into the base of every pole is a radio receiver for electronic light control. The poles are made by Union Metal Mfg. Co. of Canton, Ohio.

Anchorage Life Is Going Modern

Alaska's Largest City Transportation Center for Vast Hinterland

WASHINGTON — In the saga of Anchorage, Alaska's largest city, the key word is transportation.

The settlement was born in 1915 as a construction camp for the Alaska Railroad to inland Fairbanks. It grew up as a center of air traffic — the breath of life in this rugged, sparsely populated part of the world. From mainland United States comes the famous Alaska Highway.

The city is as far west as Tahiti, and closer to Tokyo — by more than 1,300 miles — than is Seattle. It is farther north than Helsinki, Finland. Yet its climate is not of the perpetual icebox variety mistakenly attributed to all Alaska. January temperatures average 12 degrees above zero, higher than those at Bismarck, North Dakota.

Anchorage's July average is 57 degrees; its highest of record, 92. Wildflowers abound. Amateur botanists say that one trip along nearby highways offers enough color slides and memories to last all winter.

From the beginning, Anchorage has bubbled with the hopeful spirit of a vigorous frontier town. Refusing to give up after the expansive days of rail building were over, it had a second boom in the '30s. The Federal Government then transplanted a colony of depression-hit Midwest families in neghborng Matanuska Valley.

WAR BOOM

World War II, with the establishment of big military bases at Anchorage as defense headquarters for Alaska, brought a third boom, and a spectacular increase in population.

Today, some 29,000 people live in the city proper, plus 30,000 or more settled in Greater Anchorage. In addition, military personnel is reported to number up to 100,000.

But the city is rapidly being modernized, with paved streets, dial telephones, television and radio stations. It has new schools, housing developments, theaters, banks, hotels, offices, and 14-story apartments. There is even the prospect of building a nuclear power reactor there.

Anchorage's economy is bolstered by the needs and payrolls of the Federal Government's military and civilian agencies; by railroad workshops, salmon canneries, and the many financial and commercial concerns with headquarters in this traffic and trade distribution point.

Christmas Trees Enrich the Soil After Season

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP)—Christmastrees live a double life in this erosion-plagued region.

Having served to brighten homes during the Yuletide season, they are trucked out into the country, dumped into arroyos, and packed down to provide traps for soil being washed away by rain.

The idea is spreading and members of the Izaac Walton League, who sponsor it, hope it will gain national acceptance.

It started five years ago, and as a result, one big arroyo five or six feet deep and a mile long has grown up in grass, and others are showing improvement.

Mexico's population increased 75 per cent from 1920-50.

Elderly Parents Need Thoughtful Token of Love

If you cannot visit your elderly parents this Christmas, try to remember them in some other way than with a gift alone.

One idea is to write them a letter recalling your Christmas holidays at home as a child. Tell them how you enjoyed the merrymaking then and the good things your mother fixed for you to eat. Recall any toy you received that pleased you especially.

Another thought is to make a tape recording of a greeting in your own words and mail that along. You may be surprised how often they will play it over.

Chances are your parents will appreciate these things far more than your actual gift. It will help them relive those good old days and make them realize that the things they did for you were not in vain.

Must Have His Sleep

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP) — Cletus Stuckey doesn't take his slumber lightly. He woke up when a cigaret set his mattress on fire, carried the mattress out into the yard and was snoozing peacefully on his bedsprings when police arrived to investigate.

Visit Banks, Super Banks, Clearing Houses

30 Million Checks Circulate Daily

(This is the fourth of six dispatches explaining the vastly complicated subject of money in simple terms.)

By CLYDE H. FARNSWORTH

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than 30 million checks worth about $6,500,000,000 flit around the U.S. each day.

If you owe the butcher, the baker or the tax collector, chances are you'll pay by check. Economists figure you write a check for $9 out of every $10 you owe.

Ever wonder what those various ink stamps mean on the back of your returned checks or what sort of route they follow after the leave our hands?

Well, the odds are your checks do more traveling than you do. They visit banks, super banks and clearing houses in major cities.

And they travel in style, too—fast air travel in special "crash bags" designed to take great shock and heat. But no matter how far they get from home, checks always are anxious to return.

Say you live in albany, N. Y., and mail a $20 check to Jones Furniture Co. of Chicago for a chair you ordered. Jones deposits the check on his account at the Seventh National Bank, perhaps with several other checks received that day.

The check's job at Seventh National is to swell Jones' account by $20. Then it's got another stop in the Windy City—the Chicago super bank.

This is one of the 12 regional banks making up the Federal Reserve System. By law, Seventh National, like other commercial banks must maintain a certain amount of cash in reserve with the super bank.

The check's job at the super bank is to set wheels in motion to repay Seventh National the $20 credited to Jones account.

One of the rules at this stage, however, is that Seventh National won't get the $20 until a pre-drawn schedule says it should. This schedule determines how long it should take the $20 check to return home—in the case of Chicago to Albany, it's two days.

If it weren't for this schedule, Seventh National would be credited before the $20 was deducted from your account at the albany bank. In other words the super bank would be counting this $20 twice.

But no matter what the schedule, there always are a certain number of checks delayed, and hence twice-counted. These checks are known as the "float" and the money managers watch them carefully in the control of credit.

The next stop is the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, where the $20 check is sorted from thousands of others and sent to Albany.

The Albany bank reduces your account by $20 and tells the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to deduct $20 from its reserve balance, thus paying the check.

The New York super bank pays the Chicago super bank by telegraphing Washington that the Chicago's bank's account in a special Interdistrict Settlement Fund should be credited $20 and that the New York banks account in this fund should be reduced $20.

If you pay a bill to a local business with an account at another Albany bank, your check would have gone through a clearing house—simply a local group of banks organized mainly to swap checks.

If there's not enough money in your account, the check bounces. Your bank will notify you immediately and probably you'll deposit some more money and write another check.

A very small proportion of all checks written — less than one-tenth of one per cent—bounce.

What's a certified check? It's simply a check with a bank's seal on it. After stamping the check, the bank sets aside the amount of money called for on the check. This in effect guarantees the check, backing it with the bank's name.

What about that cryptic fraction in the upper right hand corner of the check? These various digits are designed to speed the check through its various collection phases.

The top number identifies the bank on which the check is drawn. The bottom number is the routing symbol. The first digit on the left of this number identifies the Federal Reserve district. The next indicates to which reserve office in that district the check should be sent. The third shows when the Federal Reserve will give your bank credit for the check. A zero means immediate credit. One or any number higher means deferred credit.

13 of Catholic Diocese Have 10,000 Negroes

ATLANTA — Of the 127 Roman Catholic archdioceses and dioceses in the United States, 12 have Negro Catholic populations above 10,000, according to the Commission for Catholic Missions Among Colored People and Indians.

They are: Lafayette, La., 75,000; New Orleans, 70,000; Washington, 53,385; New York, 47,800; Chicago, 42,000; Galveston, 35,925; Philadelphia, 35,000; Los Angeles, 23,165; Baltimore, 19,379; Brooklyn, 19,000; St. Louis, 16,500; Mobile-Birmingham, 14,923; and Detroit, 10,478.

Muktuk (whale skin and blubber) is a favorite dish of Eskimos in Alaska. It tastes like pickled pig's feet.

Castor Oil in New Job

WASHINGTON — Federal researchers report that they're finding new nonmedical uses for the hard-to-take oil of the castor bean. Tests indicate it may be the basis for a foam plastic that could be used in crash pads and like products and that it may prove very useful in making paints, varnishes, fungicides and cosmetics.

A female house fly can lay from 600 to 1,000 eggs during her lifetime.

People Too Friendly

CHESHIRE, Conn. (UPI) — Farmer Joseph Zentek complained his garden suffers from humans as well as birds and animals. He said at least 20 motorists a day wave at him, forcing him to stop and wave back. "I'll never get my work done on time at this rate," he said.

Residents of the U.S. had 26 per cent of the world income in 1938 and had increased it to 40.7 per cent 10 years later in 1948 estimates.

One for the Books

HARTFORD, Vt. (UPI) — Police found 10-year-old Charles Leonard trying to get back into his old grammar school several hours after his parents had reported him missing.

If the Recipient Is an Avid Hobbyist, Selecting His Gift Will Be Simple

Christmas shopping for a hobbyist or sportsman can be a cinch if you go about it right.

Before getting specific, let's list some general principles on hobby and sports equipment buying.

1. Find out what the giftee is really interested in. It is important to know if he specializes in a particular branch of his hobby. A subscription to a magazine dealing with the field he is interested in may be a good bit.

2. Try to determine what his collection or his gear box is lacking and what addition to it would be appreciated most.

3. Always keep age in mind. A boy may be old enough to build model planes but not yet ready for using flying models with motors. Some states prohibit minors to own guns even for hunting.

4. In situations where you don't know what to give, a gift certificate at a hobby shop or department store may be the best idea.

Now for some details.

FOR FISHERMEN

There is a wide array of rods, reels, flies, tackle boxes and fresh and salt water accessories.

A space saving telescopic spinning rod would make an ideal gift for a traveling man. A six-foot rod made of beryllium copper collapses into a 15-inch cork handle.

A canvas rod roll may be the right thing to solve the equipment-carrying problem.

FOR HUNTERS

The latest style rifle would be a major gift. More modest: a cartridge belt designed to hold a large supply of ammunition.

A hunter's clothing is as important as his gun and an alpaca-lined safari jacket with extra large pockets for gear may be just the thing.

FOR CAMPERS AND HIKERS

It is essential for a camper or hiker to have a good carrying sack.

There are many types, each designed for a special purpose. One of the most useful is the Indian pack board. It is excellent for carrying bulky objects.

Pocket warmers, lanterns and pocket compasses are handy items.

FOR STAMP COLLECTORS

For beginners — All the major stamp companies put out stamp kits for youngsters.

Most kits contain an album, tongs, magnifying glass, hinges and packets of stamps.

For established collectors—Most hobbyists specialize in one part of this enormous hobby. For them there are specialty albums and catalogues.

FOR BIRD WATCHERS

A pair of binoculars is a fine gift for the bird watcher; the 7x35 or 7x50 size is suitable.

Also, field guides, birdcalls, birdhouses and feeding stations are appropriate.

Peterson's illustrated eastern and western bird guides are often recommended.

FOR GOLFERS

What golfer doesn't want a club that will chop a few strokes from his score?

For a man who would keep his golfing eye all year around, an electric putt return may be just right.

FOR MODEL BUILDERS

An excellent gift for a builder of wooden models is a knife chest. Such chests come in many sizes and the larger ones include more than 20 different cutting blades and tools.

There are numerous accessories for HO scale railroad enthusiasts such as bridges, tunnels, and special type cars.

Popular with the boys are boat and plane kits with motors and propellers. For the girls there are doll and carriage assembling outfits.

FOR OUTDOOR CHEFS

Many a man considers himself a master chef at his outdoor barbecue, and a new grill may be the right gift for him.

A set of barbecue tools consisting of a turner, fork, knife, charcoal rake, rod scraper, and baster makes an excellent gift too.

FOR GARDENERS

An excellent gift for a friend or relative with a green thumb is a set of short handled garden tools.

A complete outfit includes a cultivator, rake, trowel, weeding fork, hand weeder, and shears.

FOR DO-IT-YOUR-SELFERS

A power drill with different bits and blades is a must if the hobbyist doesn't have one.

A paint sprayer, a portable electric saw or any needed tool will do well also.

FOR PHOTOGRAPHERS

There is no end to what a camera bug needs. New equipment is always appearing on the market.

For the novice a better camera, gadget bag, 35mm viewers, extra film and reel chests make fine gifts.

For the experienced photographer there are printing and developing outfits. More expensive photography gifts include projectors, screens, tripods, and special lenses.

FOR THE BOATSMAN

A set of signal flags makes a colorful gift. For larger boats with cabins try a set of dishes or glasses with nautical designs.

Fog horns, life preservers, and an extra boat light are all useful.

FOR THE GAMESTER

Many enthusiasts collect chess sets made of various materials. A distinctive wooden, ivory or plastic set for their collections would make a fine holiday gift.

Tom Pittman Eulogized by Director Sam Fuller

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The untimely death of actor Tom Pittman was described at his funeral Tuesday as "a tragic loss to all of us."

The 25-year-old actor was eulogized by producer-director Sam Fuller at the last rites in Westwood Memorial Park Cemetery.

Pittman died Nov. 1 when his sports car plunged off a Hollywood Hills road. The body was found last Wednesday.

"Death to Tom was a disaster in the spring of his life," Fuller said.

collect monthly payments of up to $254.

There are only two basic requirements for your family to be eligible for the payments:

1. You must have worked in jobs covered by the Social Security system for a certain required length of time, and

2. You were living with your wife and family at the time of your death or were making regular contributions to their support.

To meet the requirement of rule number one above, you must be what the Social Security Administration called "fully" or "currently" insured.

You're considered fully insured when you die if you've worked under the Social Security system for an amount of time equal to at least half of the elapsed time between Jan. 1, 1951, and the year of your death. You can count any time worked since Jan. 1, 1937, toward the required amount of time.

You're considered currently insured if you worked under Social Security at least 1½ of the last 3 years before your death.

Remember: You don't have to be both fully and currently insured at the time of your death for your family to get survivors payments. You only have to be either fully OR currently insured.

As with all Social Security payments, the size of the payments to your family will depend on your average monthly earnings covered by the Social Security system.

The minimum payments a wife and three children can receive is now $50.20 a month, the maximum $200 a month. After Jan. 1, the minimum will be $53 a month, the maximum $254 a month.

Your children will continue to receive monthly payments until they reach 18 or marry, whichever comes first.

Your wife will continue to receive payments until:

1. Your children become no longer entitled to payments, or

2. Your wife becomes eligible, through her own earnings, to an amount equal to what she's being paid as your widow, or

3. Your wife remarries.

4. Your wife goes to work and earns beyond the allowable limits set for eligibility to Social Security payments. (Although your wife's earnings may affect her eligibility to payments, your minor children will continue to get payments regardless of her earnings.)

In addition to being eligible for monthly payments, your wife will also be entitled to a lump sum death payment to help her defray the cost of your burial.

Let us give thanks

We have so much to thank Thee for,
dear Lord—
Thy love that gathers us in sweet accord
To pray and praise. For tables richly spread
And blessed peace that sweetens daily bread.
For joys of life that gild the passing days—
Home, work, love, friends. For freedom's shining rays
That spotlight cherished rights to think,
to speak,
To worship as we please. Lord, help us seek
For ways to share these gifts with all mankind!
And hasten on the golden years that find
From sea to sea the battle flags all furled—
Thanksgiving Day observed throughout the world!

Oil Firms Won't Take Over Job

Road Map Issue Still Cloudy

LANSING (AP)—The oil industry today declared neutrality in the dispute over the publication of official Michigan road maps. It said it would not move into the void left by a legislative ban on them.

William Palmer, an industry spokesman, said 11 companies that issued 2,200,000 free maps through filling stations in 1958 would continue to distribute them as usual again next year.

"There have been suggestions in several quarters that the oil companies attempt to take over publication of the official road maps issued by the State," he said.

"For various reasons, the companies feel this is not fesasible."

Palmer, executive secretary of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Michigan, said the question of an official state highway map is for the legislatuve and the state administration to decide.

Twenty-seven years ago, the state highway department started putting out an official road map annually.

Over the years it gradually evolved into a piece of promotional literature, advertising the state's parks, natural wonders, ferry schedules, camp grounds, recreation areas and other tourist lures.

Last April, the Republican-controlled legislature, which had been feuding with Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, a Democrat, ordered a halt to future map printings on economy grounds.

Mackie promptly asked for an attorney general's opinion on whether the lawmakers acted within their authority, but as yet has received no answer.

The last delivery of 600,000 maps came from the printer last June, costing about $35,000 or five and one half cents each. Fewer than 500 of them remain on hand.

Tourist and recreation interests who play a leading role in the distribution process, have protested the legislative prohibition.

Only New York among the states did not this year issue an official road map, free on request. New York's commerce department published a vacationland map and its public works department issues a road condition map.

As for the decision of the oil companies against moving into the field heretofore occupied by the highway department, Palmer said some of them publish maps of many states and seek uniformity of style and layout that would have to be disrupted.

"Others tie their maps to special sales features or local promotions, he said.

Do-It-Yourself Urged for Cities

C. of C. President Says It's Way to Cope With Population Boom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce urges the do-it-yourself technique for American cities trying to cope with problems of mushrooming populations.

William A. McDonnel said the problems "are basically a local responsibility, not a responsibility of the central government in Washington."

McDonnell's speech was prepared for the National Conference on Metropolitan Growth, sponsored by the chamber.

McDonnell, whose speech was read by another officer of the national chamber, said community planning should be geared to the year 2000 — "and even then, if we aren't careful with our blueprints, our plans may prove to be short of needs before the 21st Century.

The business men were told their job is to generate widespread enthusiasm "for tackling the algebra and geometry of metropolitan growth. Without community enthusiasm, our beautiful blueprints will wind up gathering dust."

He said he realized that many persons believe the solution to the problems of community development lies in financial help from the national treasury.

But, he added: "The American business community as represented by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States believes that it is more prudent for a community to operate on a do-it-yourself basis; that it is cheaper and more practical and more in keeping with the traditional American way."

Window Is Too Clean

MARION, Ill. (UPI) — A store manager found it doesn't pay to put too much elbow grease into his work. Don Souther put a little extra effort into polishing a door window and a customer suffered cuts and bruises when he walked right through it.

Composer Johann Sebastian Bach made a 200-mile journey by foot just to hear a concert by Swedish organist Dietrich Buxtehude.

French Freight by Rail

LE HAVRE — Seventy per cent of the total freight carried in France is handled by the 26,000-mile railway system operated by the French National Railroads. Last year 42 per cent of the system's traffic was moved by electric engines; by 1961 this percentage is to rise to 70.

Episcopal Bishop Prays:

Who Hast Provided . .

BY THE RIGHT REV. JAMES A. PIKE
Episcopal Bishop of California

Almighty God, source of all good things and author of liberty, who hast given us this good land for our heritage, who hast provided us with our very being, our talents, our opportunities and all our material resources:

We yield Thee high praise and hearty thanks for Thine inestimable benefits, and we beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will.

Inspire through Thy Holy Spirit each and every one of us to fulfill his vocation and ministry, and seek to extend increasingly the joy and fruitfulness of Thy benefits to men everywhere.

And, remembering that it is through Thy mighty power that our fathers of old won their liberties, grant that we may, through Thy grace, ever maintain these liberties in righteousness and peace. All of which, we ask through Jesus Christ Our Lord, Amen.

Caution Avoids Yule Decoration Blackout

Rise and shine, amateur electricians. The Christmas lighting season is at hand.

But, first, check that outlet. Inspect that socket and test all wires.

A careful examination of holiday lights and equipment, as you take them out of storage boxes, can prevent a black-out of yule lights and avoid fire-dangerous electrical shorts.

Some home decorators will try a job no more complicated than stringing a few bulbs around a small tree. Others will undertake the ambitious job of achieving sparkling Christmas brilliance for home and yard.

A CHECK LIST

For the latter, electrical experts offer these suggestions:

Check your home's electrical capacity. Some home systems can be easily overloaded because the average American family today is using more appliances than even a few years ago.

If your electric capacity is limited, keep your outdoor lighting simple. A lighted doorway, picture window or rows of illuminated window boxes may be as eye catching as more ornate and complicated arrangements.

The best source of power for all outdoor lighting decrations is a grounded, weatherproof outlet. Such an outlet should have a cover and an additional opening for grounding.

For extensive outdoor wiring, there should be at least one weather-proofed grounded outlet for each 15 feet of exterior lighting. A garage light socket or porch light may also be used, but do not overload these sources.

Indoor receptacles may be used for outdoor lighting by raising a window slightly, and inserting a snug-fitting board with a drilled hoe to bring the wire outside.

USE PROPER EQUIPMENT

Never use indoor lighting equipment for outdoors. If you use string, flood or spotlights make sure they are designed for exterior use. Special bulbs, wire, sockets and fixtures made for outdoor use bear the seal of approval of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

If you must use extensions, always use two-conductor outdoor rubber cord with weatherproof plugs. Make sure all connections are covered, or have a weatherproof wrapping.

Never place cords where they can be walked on, and never stretch them across your driveway.

When wiring for flood or spotlights, use one of many adjustable weather-proof lampholders available on the market.

Tape wires wherever they may rub against metal hooks or abrasive areas.

EQUIPMENT LIST

There are four kinds of outdoor stores for the holidays:

1. Ready-made lighting devices, featuring snow men, Santa Claus, stars, candles, wreaths, trees. These illuminated pieces are made of plastic, metal or glass. They range from ornaments a few inches high to figures several feet in height.

2. String lights—these are not the same type as you use on a tree indoors. They are strings of heavy wire with water-proof light sockets and special exterior bulbs. The bulbs should be either C-7½ or C-9½ in size. Buy these string lights with safety fuses attached.

3. Spot lamps and flood lamps—these should be used with outdoor-type extension wire and weather-proof lamp holders. For this form of outdoor lighting, ask for 150-watt projector flood and spot bulbs. Color cap lenses are available to fit these bulbs. Make sure the lamp is not touching any wires, wood or other inflammable material when you set it in place.

A final word of advice: Don't burn holiday lights 24 hours a day. When you are away from home, or retire for the night, turn off the lighted decorations.

Well-Heeled Vagrant Found Scavenging

CINCINNATI (AP)—The officer said, "I'm going to lock you up on a vagrancy charge so you can have something decent to eat Thanksgiving."

And he took the man he said was scavenging in a garbage can to the police station.

But booking officers got a surprise from the man, James Romanell, 55 and homeless, who was wearing ragged clothes.

A routine search of his pockets turned up a big wad of money—$230. Then a bank book turned up with deposits of $7,900.

Police decided to charge the man with "removing waste from a container." They told him he had enough money to post bond.

But police said he told them, "Why should I pay to get out. This is as good as any place I sleep."

Hula Hoop Smuggling Big Business in Europe

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The latest addition to Belgium's list of contraband is the hula hoop.

Two Dutchmen, Cornelis Coster and Martinus Langerhort, were caught trying to smuggle 1,000 of the hoops over the border in a private car. The hoops were impounded.

Hoop smuggling has become a lucrative business. They sell for about 15 cents each in Holland and 60 to 70 cents in Belgium.

Swimming Pool Break Suggested for Industry

Some of the bosses may think he's all wet, but the general chairman of the National Swimming Pool Institute convention says what American workers need is an afternoon dip in the company pool.

"The swimming pool break," says Everett Landon with a perfectly straight face, "will one day take its place alongside the coffee break in modern industry. We already have installed polls in several factories."

Teeth Affected by Life on Sub

Navy Researcher Finds Underwater Duty Has Relation to Decay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Life aboard atomic submarines, which stay submerged for long periods, may increase the possibility of tooth decay.

That's the conclusion of Capt. William Stanmeyer, a dental researcher at the Navy's New London, Conn., submarine base.

He said today a study of crews who spent most of an 18-month period in the equivalent of a submarine showed a 100 per cent increase in decay rates over men living either on surface or ashore.

In a report prepared for a convention of the Assn. of Military Surgeons, Stanmeyer listed the probable causes as: a combinaton of somewhat greater exposure to carbon dioxide, increased noise levels, and loss of periods of daylight.

Lt. Cmdr. John H. Ebersole, medical officer of the nuclear submarine Seawolf, told reporters there was no problem of increased tooth decay during the 60-day submerged trip by that sub. He said that the decay hazard exists and suggested another possible contributing factor on a long submerged trip — "the diet tends to get rich, starchy—and there's a lack of fresh vegetables."

Squanto's Thanksgiving

Story Tells of Gift from God

Legend of Christmas Tree

There is a legend not often told that the Christmas tree is a gift from God.

It was the eve of Christmas, perhaps 700 years after the birth of Christ, in England. Wilfrid, a monk carrying the word of God among the pagan Druids, was surrounded by a group of converts in a woodland glen.

Seizing an axe, the monk cut down a huge oak tree, an object of worship in the religion of the Druids.

The oak fell and split into four pieces. From its center there instantly grew a young fir, pointing a green spire toward the sky. The Druids watched in wonder.

Wilfrid turned and spoke: "This little tree shall be your holy tree tonight. It is the wood of peace, for your houses are built of fir. It is the sign of an endless life, for its leaves are evergreen. See how it points toward the heavens.

"Let this be called the tree of the Christ Child. Gather about it, not in the widerness, but in your homes. There it will be surrounded with loving gifts and rites of kindness."

Truth or fantasy? Who can say?

But the monk became a saint. And the tree became an indispensable symbol of Christmas.

To Fire Missile at Base Opening

Snyder Won't Confirm Satellite Launching Set for Late December

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The nation's newest and biggest missile range opens for business the first week in December.

The first ballistic missile to be fired will be a 1,500-mile Thor. It will be the first operational test of the launching and tracking facilities at this 64,000-acre base.

Murray Snyder, assistant secretary of defense, told a news conference Tuesday that the rules for coverage of firings on this range would be patterned after those in effect at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., base.

Some shots will be open to newsmen. Others will have tight security restrictions.

Snyder would not pinpoint the date of the first firing closer than "early next month." Best guesses placed the date in the first week of December. Some of the necessary instrumentation will not be delivered until after Dec. 1.

Snyder refused to confirm or deny that a Project Sentry satellite launching is scheduled for later in December. Project Sentry is aimed at placing a TV sky-spy in a north-south orbit, scanning every square mile of the globe.

Vandenberg's missiles, satellites and space probes will be fired into the Pacific missile range which stretches 500 miles along the coast of California.

South of Vandenberg, the Navy is constructing a 19,000-acre missile base at Point Arguello.

The Pacific range is the nation's third. The others are at Cape Canaveral, and the White Sands range in New Mexico.

Cotton to Be Treated for Wash-and-Wear

SILVER SPRING, Md. — A new process that is said to transform ordinary cotton garments into wash-and-wear clothes is being perfected and tested by researchers of the National Institute of Dry Cleaning at its laboratory here.

The process, developed by United States Agriculture Department scientists, involves application of a synthetic-resin finish by a dry cleaner to enable cotton attire to resist wrinkles and hold creases in the same manner as do costlier synthetic fabrics.

The antiwrinkle treatment, although it can be washed out by many laundryings, can be renewed by sending the garment to the cleaner again.

To Be World's Most Powerful

Illinois Radio-Telescope Will Probe Space Secrets

CHICAGO (UPI) — The world's most powerful radio-telescope, capable of extending scientific research far beyond man's present knowledge of space, will be built by the University of Illinois.

The university's board of directors has announced plans to construct a device which may shift the world's center of radio astronomy from Jodrell Bank, England, to an isolated corner of Illinois.

Cost of the instrument was not estimated, but trustees said it will be borne by the federal government. The Office of Naval Research already has promised $233,000.

The British government built the largest existing radio-telescope, at Jodrell Bank, at a cost of about $2,240,000.

The Jodrell Bank instrument, used as the most authoritative device for tracking American and Russian satellites, can reach into space about 1,000 times further than the largest visual telescope.

University and government officials have selected a ravine about five miles from Danville, Ill., as the site of the new instrument. Trustees approved buying a 220-acre tract for $15,880.

Prof. George C. McVittie, head of the University's Astronomy Department, said a giant reflector, consisting of metal plates embedded in the ground and forming a trough, will be built in the ravine.

In this isolated area, chosen because of lack of nearby electrical interference, the telescope will be tuned to pick up cosmic noises, or radio waves, emitted from objects outside the earth's galaxy.

McVittie, a world-famed English scientist, said the reflector will be 600 feet long from north to south, 400 feet wide and 65 feet deep. Radio waves will be concentrated on a line of receiving elements over the trough.

Speedway Vote Asked

DETROIT (AP) — A group of residents in Shelby Township, Macomb County, have circulated petitions calling for a referendum election on plans to convert the former Packard Motor Car Co. test track in the township into a speedway. The township board of supervisors has approved use of the 2½ mile track by developers who hope to change it into another Indianapolis Speedway type of track.

Griffin Claims Union Reaction

GOP Legislator Says State Voting Showed Some Independence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) said yesterday he believes many Michigan union members are reacting against what he called "union political propaganda."

"I believe this was a factor in the relatively good showing Michigan Republicans made in the recent election," Griffin said.

The Traverse City Republican said the Michigan GOP had done well, in the face of the nationwide Democratic sweep, to lose only one house member, Rep. Robert J. McIntosh, to Democratic challengers.

"A good many union members," Griffin said, "have come to the point where they recognize union political propaganda for what it is.

"Of course they still believe in their unions and are good union members, but it seems evident many are asserting some political independence."

Griffin said that by "political propaganda" he referred to the United Auto Workers campaign activity against Republican candidates.

"I do not believe it is proper or right to use union dues for political purposes," Griffin said. "It's really a violation of a worker's civil rights to use union dues to dominate his political thinking."

He said Republican Paul Bagwell's showing against Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams "means our prospects are much brighter for 1960, particularly if Bagwell continues to provide leadership.

"Bagwell has brought factions of the party into harmony again. I'm very optimistic about our future in the state."

Trout Planted in Pits

ESTEVAN, Sask. (AP)—Four thousand young rainbow trout have been planted in two "spoil pits" in the coalfields east of here. It is hoped the pits, created by coal-stripping machines, will make favorable breeding grounds.

UPI Photo

FIRST LOVE — Fulfilling her ambition to be a teacher, at least partially, Carol Morris, Miss Universe of 1957, instructs two youngsters on the set in Hollywood. The Iowa beauty will play the role of a teacher in an episode on "The Ed Wynn Show," a television series. Miss Morris studied to be a teacher before fame and a new acting career took her in other directions.

At Threshold of Success

Nuclear-Powered Plane Being Developed in U. S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—After an investment of 850 million dollars over 13 years the United States now is on the "threshold of success" in designing a nuclear-powered combat plane.

But Maj. Gen. Donald J. Keirn, chief of America's nuclear-powered aircraft project, warns there is an even chance Russia might get the first A-plane in the air.

He said this country was about ready to design a prototype atomic airplane and "we will soon be ready to embark on an experimental flight development phase."

In a speech to the American Ordnance Association he said he would push for a gradual increase in funds for the nuclear plane project.

Keirn said U.S. scientists had "a reasonably good handle" on one of the chief problems in design of a nuclear aircraft—that of shielding crewmembers against radiation from nuclear power plants.

He said shielding tests in which a B-36-bomber carried a one-million-watt reactor on 47 flights had been discontinued. The reactor was not used for propulsion.

Keirn said in answer to a reporter's question that the Russians might be able to fly a nuclear-powered plane by the end of this year or early in 1959. But he indicated he did not necessarily expect them to do so.

Inflation Deplored by Argentine Paper

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Argentine money is worth less than the paper it is written on, the opposition radical weekly Voz de Mayo said.

It said the paper on which one peso notes are printed now costs one peso and twenty centavos.

The central bank reported yesterday that government presses printed $12,670,000 in paper money last week. Financial experts said this meant Argentina's runaway inflation was increasing the supply of money in circulation at the rate of $2,235,400 per working day.

Santa Restores Tot's Memory

Wise Policeman Uses Ruse to Return Lost Child to Parents

NUERNBERG, Germany (UPI) — Santa Claus is better than a policeman any time, especially when you're five years old and lost. Police know this for they have children of their own.

A friendly policeman found five-year-old Manuela roaming through the busy center of Nuernberg and took her to the station house. But Manuela couldn't remember her last name or her address.

She looked around the station then and saw a telephone and asked if she could call Santa Claus whom she had just seen standing in front of a department store.

Sure, said the cop, and he called another policeman in the next room. What would you like for Christmas? he asked, and Manuela told him . . . a doll, a tea set, doll clothes . . .

And which chimney should the presents be brought down? the Santa Claus cop asked. Manuela's memory returned. She gave her parents names, the street address and a description of the house.

The police called her parents and gave them Manuela and the Christmas list.

Hatcher Receives Honor

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher has been named to represent U.S. colleges and universities at the inauguration of Mexico's new President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. Dr. and Mrs. Hatcher will leave for Mexico City Friday and will remain throughout the inauguration ceremonies which end Dec. 4.

Stassen to Fight Nixon to Finish

Determined to Prevent Vice President From Getting Nomination

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harold E. Stassen made it clear in an interview here recently that he will go all out to keep Vice President Nixon from getting the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

He told a Cleveland Plain Dealer reporter he might even try to become a candidate himself if circumstances were such that he could deliver any votes to a Nixon rival. Thus, he explained, he would not "in a real sense" be seeking the nomination for himself.

It was this strategy Stassen used in 1952 when he released delegates nominally pledged to him so they could swing behind President Eisenhower. Stassen credited himself with helping the President win the nomination from the late Sen. Robert A. Taft by this move.

Stassen repeated in the interview his comments at the White House Nov. 12, when he came from a session with the President and proposed four possible GOP presidential candidates for 1960. The four he suggests are Gov.-elect Nelson Rockefeller of New York, UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson and Interior Secretary Fred Seaton.

Stassen last spring was thumped in his effort to win the Republican nomination for Governor of Pennsylvania. The former Minnesota governor now practices law in Pennsylvania and until recently was presidential advisor on disarmament matters.

Early Hinting Makes Gift Buying Easy

Smart girls are doing their Christmas hinting early this year, since there are so many things in the shops that might escape the eye of a forgetful Santa, unless he gets a little reminder now and then.

If his budget runs to furs, you might hint for one of the new long fox boas that are so new and so smart this year—some of them are four yards long, and can be draped in any way you please, to add a luxury touch to a straight-line suit or dress.

An evening jacket of cut velvet trimmed in mink is something any girl would covet, or an imported French evening bag, in gold and silver cloth. Teenagers will go for the new long, bulky sweaters with open rolled neckline, to be worn over another thinner sweater.

Any woman, young or old, would love the luxury of one of the new fake fur robes, available at budget prices.

And you can now buy gloves, in leather or fabric, that stretch to fit any size—a boon for the forgetful shopper.

The entertaining lady will appreciate a gift for her home—perhaps one of the handsome new table lighters that hardly ever need refilling and use butane gas for fuel.

'Yellow River' Cantata Top Disc in Red China

TOKYO (UPI) — Red China has begun mass-producing its first long-playing phonograph records, the New China News Agency said.

One of the first discs to be turned out was the "Yellow River Cantata."

New China said the records, now being produced in Shanghai, operate at 33 revolutions per minute and have a playing time of 15 minutes per side.

First all-iron American railroad bridge was constructed in 1845.

In Bethlehem

Little Is Changed

BETHLEHEM (AP)—The little town where Christ was born is little changed.

Bethlehem stands on a hill, 2,500 feet above the sea. The military frontier between Israel and Jordan is close by its gates.

The town's stone, age-mellowed homes with their round balconies and flat-topped roofs line narrow, winding streets which bear the dust of centuries.

Bedouins from the east and south stride through the streets and market place wearing the typical Arab headdress falling over their neck and shoulders and the wide-shouldered cloaks.

Most of the 10,000 townspeople are Christian, descendants of the Crusaders or of the Crusaders' converts.

Near the center of the town is the Church of the Nativity, built above the grotto where Christ was born.

There are no factories, no large stores, few hotels. The people of Bethlehem work in the fields and vineyards or as tinsmiths, stone masons, carpenters or shoemakers. Whole families make their living carving beads and other religious articles from mother-of-pearl and olive wood for sale to tourists, the town's number one business.

Beneath the Church of the Nativity, a policeman stands guards over the star marking the spot where Christ was born. The silver star set in the stone of the rock-hewn grotto has been guarded night and day since 1873. Each regime to rule Bethlehem has continued the practice.

Because of calendar differences, Christmas is celebrated in Bethlehem three times—one for Roman Catholics and other Western churches, one for Orthodox churches, and one for the Armenians. These three groups share, but jealously so, the Grotto of the Nativity.

On Christmas Eve, as the West knows it, the Latin Patriarch of Jerusalem comes the short distance from the Israeli city to Bethlehem. There he conducts a ritual that has been observed without interruption for 612 years. It dates back to the Fourth Century.

At 10:30 on Christmas eve, he takes his place at the altar of the Church of St. Catherine, adjoining the Orthodox Church of the Nativity.

The Patriarch celebrates the pontifical high mass at midnight. At the moment of consecration a huge star blazes over the altar, a children's choir breaks into "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," and bells ring throughout the town.

In the early hours of Christmas, the Patriarch leads a procession into the Grotto of the Nativity, carrying a statue of the Infant Jesus. He places the Babe first on the silver star and then in the manger.

Says Cars Not at Fault for Highway Deaths

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Detroit automobile engineer said good vehicle design won't save many lives unless it is teamed with safe driving and good roads.

Charles A. Chayne, General Motors vice president in charge of engineering staff, said "The simple truth is that the modern automobile, with negligibly few exceptions, doesn't cause accidents."

He said it was "Grossly inaccurate to charge the vehicle with major responsibility for today's accident toll."

Writing in the annals of the American Academy in Political and Social Sciences, Chayne said the driver was the most critical element of the car-road-driver combination because "we cannot make cars driver-proof."

Publisher Cites Labor's Influence in Politics

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Unions never have had the stature they have today in politics, Stanley H. Brams, publisher of Labor Trends, Detroit, states.

"Unions have a full measure of influence not only in the national political arena but also at the state and local levels," Brams told the Michigan Industrial Editors Conference.

Congresswoman Knows Teaching Job Not Easy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teachers who insist they have a tough job will get no arguments from Rep. Martha Griffiths (D-Mich).

The petite congresswoman puts in a teaching stint every year in Detroit schools in her district and knows that teaching is hard work.

"It's tougher than campaigning," she said. "All that talk, talk, talk, is extremely wearing. But I love teaching anyway."

Mrs. Griffiths has taught civics to senior classes for a two-week period every fall since her election in 1954.

"In spite of the hours (7:45 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.) and the fact that you must be on your feet all day, I find it very rewarding," she said, "and the kids seem to enjoy it, too."

Business Abroad Topic

DETROIT (AP)—Investment opportunities abroad will be the subject of an address by Philip Cortney, international industrialist, before the Economic Club of Detroit Monday noon. Cortney isc hairman of the United States Council of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Detroit May Expand Up St. Clair River

PORT HURON (AP) — Detroit's industrial and residential expansion will logically move up the St. Clair River, a St. Clair county planning group was told here last night.

Frank W. Suggitt, Michigan State University regional planning specialist, told the group that the projected expressway program for Michigan will improve the county's competitive position.

Suggitt said Port Huron and St. Clair County as a whole have been by passed by the rapid industrial growth of southeastern Michigan because of their remote location and failure to take advantage of trans-Ontario travel.

Expressway development, he said, will reduce the 37 miles between Detroit and Port Huron to less than an hour's drive. This will put the county within commuting range of Detroit and tie factories in the area directly in with Detroit are a factories, he predicted.

2 of 3 Cars Unchecked

NEW YORK — The National Safety Check program reveals that nearly 4,800,000 motor vehicles, or two out of three in the nation, operate with no official check of their safe-driving condition.

To Be Tried for Swindle

DETROIT (AP)—A jury of six men and six women was selected in Federal District Court Tuesday for the trial of Harold J. Belch, former president of the Lincoln Savings and Loan Assn., and Robert Duncan Hole, Ann Arbor real estate broker and builder. Belch is accused of misapplying more than two million dollars of association funds. Hole is accused of aiding and abetting in the transactions.

Sixteen of the American states produce coking coal.

Many Customs of Yuletide Derived From Pagans

On Christmas Day we honor the birth of Christ with hymns and prayers. But many of the traditional customs of this holiday — the greenery, gaiety, fine foods and gifts — derive from our pagan ancestors.

Behind all of our customs lie legends, some predating the Nativity. In the clatter that frequently accompanies Christmas today, these stories which come from many lands are all but forgotten. Here are some of them:

CHRISTMAS DAY: The exact day of Christ's birth is not known, perhaps because no one thought of celebrating it until 400 years after He died. The Christians decided on Dec. 25 to counteract the revelries of the Roman celebration of Saturnalia, which extended from Dec. 17 to 24. The Saturnalia, which originated before the birth of Christ, honored the god Saturn, the sower. It was a time of uproarious feasting, dancing and games, which the Christians detested because they considered Christmas a time for religion.

SANTA CLAUS evolves from the legendary St. Nicholas, a 4th Century bishop of Asia Minor who went from door to door on a white horse, leaving gifts for the good children and switches for the bad. Changed by continents and generations, St. Nicholas has assumed many names and shapes, such as Father Christmas in Finland, Pere Noel in France, a witch named Befana in Italy and Kriss Kringle in Germany. America's Santa Claus was first pictured as a jolly, rosy-faced old fellow by the cartoonist Thomas Nast in the late 10th Century. Clement Clark Moore's famous poem, "The Night Before Christmas," helped perpetuate this picture.

THE CRECHE: St. Francis of Assisi is believed to have arranged the first Nativity scene, setting it up in a church in Greccio, Italy, in 1223. He used live cattle and donkeys and life-size images of the Christ Child, Joseph and Mary.

MISTLETOE: in ancient Gaul and Britain, misteltoe was worshipped by the Druids, a religious society that existed 200 years before Christ. During winter celebrations, a Druid priest would climb a tree where mistletoe grew and cut it with a golden sickle, allowing it to fall into a white cloth so it would not touch the ground. Two white oxen then were sacrificed and the mistletoe was distributed to the people to be hung in their homes. Mistletoe was considered a symbol of peace and good fortune and whenever enemies met beneath it they dropped their weapons and embraced.

AP Wirephoto

IKE'S TREE — President Eisenhower's Christmas tree is on the way to the White House after loggers complete loading in Kootenai National Forest near Libby, Montana. The Engleman spruce is 99 feet long, and is the first western tree to decorate the White House lawn. It will travel 2,490 miles on two specially equipped flat cars. Ike will light the tree Dec. 24.

GIFT-GIVING was a popular custom of the Romans during Saturnalia. The most common gifts of this time were statuettes made in the likeness of a god.

BELLS: The Romans also used bells to discourage evil spirits. In early Britain—and in some parts of Europe today—bells were rung for an hour on Christmas Eve to announce the death of the devil. Then at midnight, great joyous peals signaled the birth of Christ.

CAROLS: We also trace the original Christmas carols to St. Francis of Assisi. Hymns were a part of the early Christian ceremonies, but St. Francis believed in moderate Christmas gaiety and introduced sprightly carols which were modeled on the chorale, a French form of song and dance.

CANDLES derive from an old Irish custom of putting a lighted candle in the window on Christmas Eve to light the Holy Family's way. The candles denote a house where the Holy Family would have been welcomed, not turned away as at the inns in Bethlehem.

HOLLY AND EVERGREEN also come from the Roman Saturnalia. By trimming their homes with this greenery, the Romans believed they could keep out evil spirits. The Christians at first rejected the custom, but later adopted it reluctantly because an untrimmed house marked them as Christians and next in line for the gladiators.

CHRISTMAS TREE: There are many stories about the origin of the Christmas tree. The one most frequently heard is that Martin Luther lighted the first Christmas tree in Germany about 1530 to memorialize the beauty of winter starlight.

CHRISTMAS STOCKING: The origin of this tradition is not known, but there is a story that St. Nicholas once accidentally dropped some gold coins down a chimney and they fell in a stocking hung up to dry.

Mail Overseas by Dec. 10

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Post Office urges persons sending Christmas packages by air to military post offices overseas to get the mail under way no later than December 10.

The Air Force has let a contract for development of an engine of one million pounds thrust in what is regarded as a first step toward putting a man into space.

Monsignor Sheen Speaks:

'Tragedy of Atheism'

BY THE MOST REV. FULTON J. SHEEN, D.D.
National Director of the Society For the Propagation of the Faith

The tragedy of athism is there is no one to thank. But the glory living in a country which has a Declaration of Independence, we can make a declaration of dependence on God from whom descends all blessings and favors.

"What powers hast thou that did not come to thee by gift? And if they came to thee by gift, why dost thou boast of them as if there were no gift in question?"

Does a beautiful woman or a gifted singer or a skilled scientist ever thank God for such mercies? Do sinners thank God for time to do penance? Do those who have crosses ever thank God for a more intense oneness with Christ who loved us unto giving his life for our redemption? Music is sweetest when heard over waters and thanks amidst tears make sweet music to the ears of heaven.

What sweet changes a spirit of thanksgiving produces in our soul: it makes us less hard hearted, for if we have freely received then we must freely give; it deflates our egotism and pride by making us see that our worth depends not on what we have, but on what we are; it produces an ineffable inner joy for thanksgiving is the beautiful balance between a deep sense of obligation and the glorious happiness of perfect freedom.

A child wishing to thank her mother for favors and prove her love, gathers for her a bouquet of dandelions. The mother does not need the dandelions, but she takes them not because of her insufficiency, but to develop her daughter in gratitude, affection and loving dependence.

God does not need our thanks any more than the mother needs dandelions; he accepts them not for his sake but for ours. Otherwise we would grow up into selfishness, and inconsiderateness which harden into mental unbalance. Therefore,

"Give thanks continually to God, who is our Father, in the name of Our Lord, Jesus Christ."

Says Sputnik III Rocket to Burn After Dec. 4

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — An Australian scientist estimated today that Sputnik III's rocket would hit the earth's atmosphere and burn up any time after Dec. 4.

W. E. Gibberd, on the staff of the weapon research center here, said the rocket is rapidly losing altitude and may fall anywhere between 65 degrees north and south latituds.

The rocket went into orbit with its 1½ ton satellite after launching by the Soviet Union last May 15.

Consumption of water in the U. S. averages about 100 gallons per day for every man, woman and child.

Skilled Craftsman Has Most Traffic Accidents

MADISON, Wis. (UPI)—Skilled craftsmen were listed as the No. 1 occupational group involved in traffic accidents, a study by the Wisconsin Motor Vehicle Department reports. They accounted for 13,721 of the state's 99,218 accidents during 1957.

* * *

Clerical workers and laborers ranked second and third, with laborers showing the highest number of fatal accidents. Housewives ranked sixth behind students while farmers ranked tenth.

Donor Gives 69 Pints of Blood Over 13 Years

OSWEGO, N. Y. (UPI) — David E. Allen, 29, a junior at Oswego State Teachers College, started giving blood at the age of 16 and hasn't stopped since. The native of Watertown, N. Y., donated his 69th pint of blood recently when the bloodmobile visited the college.

Allen contributed his first pint 13 years ago in his home town and continued to heed the call while serving with the Navy during the Korean conflict.

'Hears' Phone — Hooked to Fan

Man Blind, Deaf Conquers Handicaps With Ingenuity

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Richard Kinney is a bachelor who lives alone in an apartment in Winnetka, Ill., where, not surprisingly, the doorbell and the telephone often ring.

Kinney answers them, which wouldn't be surprising either, except that he is deaf and blind.

A teacher at the Hadley School for the Blind in Winnetka, Kinney has overcome his handicaps with ingenuity. He knows when the doorbell or the telephone is ringing because it is hooked up to set-off oscillating fans.

When Kinney feels the draft from one fan, he knows it's the door he must answer. When the breeze is from the second fan, it must be the telephone ringing.

And he answers it, using a device he developed called the "tactaphone" to hold his conversation.

It's almost identical to a regular receiver except that there is an exposed diaphragm about the size of a penny, over which Kinney places his index finger to "hear."

USE MORSE CODE

The caller communicates with him by Morse code, dialing the digit one for "dot," and four for "dash." The dialing doesn't break the circuit on Kinney's phone, and the sound of the dial comes through as a vibration which he feels with his finger. Then he answers in normal voice.

"We even have shortcuts," he explained. "If my friends dial 'O' once, that means yes, and twice means no."

Kinney demonstrated his "tactaphone" during a convention here of the American Association of Workers for the Blind, Inc., an organization devoted to providing the nation's sightless with fuller lives.

Their numbers are swelling constantly — because medical advances are enabling all people to live longer.

More than half of the nation's 350,000 blind persons are over 65. Only 14,000 are of school age.

Joseph F. Clunk, a past president of the Association, said the growing number of sightless Americans makes necessary "increased efforts both in visual aids and in rehabilitation."

More than 60 per cent of all blind persons can be helped with special "low-vision" lenses, he said, since many of them are not completely sightless.

The legal definition of blindness, in fact, is merely a person with 20-200 vision, which means he sees at 20 feet what a person with normal vision sees at 200.

But Clunk stressed that every blind person can be helped if those of us with normal eyesight will accept them with the proper attitude.

Heads or Tails?

GRANITE, Okla. (AP) — E. C. Van Winkle broke even. While telling friends of his luck in finding a quarter, he lost another one.

FOR HER MAD MONEY: Any woman would prize an elegant evening bag such as this, in the gold and silver thread of church vestments.

Harvard Offers Girls Extra Fringe Benefits

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — The Harvard Medical Alumni Bulletin recently carried a note announcing that, "The Medical School and its hospitals can offer a variety of opportunities to the college girl with a chemistry major or a liberal arts major plus secretarial skills."

The note promised "high salaries, attractive fringe benefits," and then, in italics: "exciting extracurricular activities!"

Drive-In Fire Service

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — John Gallegos didn't wait to turn in a fire alarm. He took his fire with him to the station. He drove right into the open main door with part of his car's front seat afire. The blaze was doused promptly and Gallegos told firemen he found his seat smouldering when he returned to his downtown parking place.

Wilson's Experiences Prove Historical Adage

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Some great thinker dropper the pearl, "History is made at night," and as I look back over some of the big glamor news stories which indeed happened after dark, I wonder what, if anything, goes on with these people in the daytime.

WILSON

Probably nothing — because they're not up yet.

Late last August when, so far as the world knew, all was serene between Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds, I received a call around 2 a.m. from a friend who had been at a night club.

"Eddie's here dancing it up with Liz Taylor and it looks like something's going on," my friend said.

"Tut, tut," I tut-tutted, "Eddie was Mike Todd's closest friend, don't you remember?"—and I wrote something in my column about Eddie showing Liz around, serving as sort of an escort service for his late friend's widow.

Rather a nice little story grew out of that.

Several years ago when Rita Hayworth and Dick Haymes were leading a tempestuous marital life, I was informed one 3 a.m. that Rita had bolted out of the Los Angeles hotel where they were living and gone out to her home at Malibu Beach, in a final goodby.

We got that into the first edition with a very pretty headline—and then the reporters in Los Angeles managed to get Dick Haymes on the phone at the hotel.

"It's a lie," Dick said. "Rita's right here in bed beside me."

"Can we talk to her?' a reporter asked, and Dick said, "She's too sleepy."

Dick later admitted that Rita wasn't there—that she had indeed left him—and that was the birth of another good story.

And I'll cite just one more . . . going back to a New Year's night party where the Wet Set was observing "the night after the morning before" by gulping down hundreds of milk punches.

A big tall Swedish blonde model named Siri whispered something to me that, at the time, was quite electrifying. Grace Kelly, so she told me, had taken Prince Rainier to Philadelphia to meet her folks!

It must be serious between them!

I'll always remember it was at night, because, when we tried to get Grace Kelly's parents in Philadelphia for a comment, it was considered so late that we shouldn't disturb them at that hour.

THE BEST LAUGH: "You shouldn't be discouraged, you've got everything to live for," a wife told her very disconsolate husband. "The house, the car, the color TV—they're still not paid for." . . . That's earl, brother.

NOT-SO-DEAD-PLANET — Soviet astronomer Prof. A. Kozyrev works with his telescopic instruments in Moscow. He was reported to have witnessed a volcanic eruption on the moon earlier this month. The Soviet Academy of Sciences said there was no doubt he saw the activity on the planet long thought dead.

Christmas Cove Post Office Open Only in Summer

CHRISTMAS COVE, Maine (AP) — Christmas Cove has commercial interests and postmark fanciers drooling.

The post office here operates only in the summer time — despite petitions by local citizens for winter service. During the winter, the 15 resident families get their mail on a South Bristol star route.

The summer population generally occupies about 80 camps and two small hotels, one aptly named Holly Inn.

There is a gift shop in Christmas Cove which specializes in Yuletide cards and decorations in the summer and mails them in the winter, but from South Bristol.

Few letters to Santa Claus find their way to this place, which was visited in 1614 by Capt. John Smith who dropped anchor at the green island while sailing along Maine's coast on Christmas Day — thus the name.

Coal is the largest single source of energy and heat.

How's Your Card Score?

If you don't get 131½ greeting cards at Christmas time, you are batting below par. At least that is the estimate of one greeting card manufacturer.

You Can Make Christmas Gay for Children

One legacy that any of us can leave our sons and daughters is the memory of happy Christmas days at home as children.

Even if we lack money, Christmas can still be a day of joy.

Teach your youngsters to do things for others and to prepare gifts, however inexpensive.

Do everything you can so they will have a happy day. Teach them as early as possible the significance of the occasion, and take them to a religious service.

There are many small inexpensive gifts that delight children. It does not take as much to please them as we might think.

Your home should be attractively decorated — with the children's help.

Cook lots of good things to eat and, again, let the children do what they can.

You can go a long ways towards achieving this by planning in advance so that chores do not pile up on you, and by being relaxed and cheerful yourself.

A gram of pure silver can be drawn into a wire more than a mile long.

Think First of Others at Christmas

Here Are 10 Suggestions

1. Think first of others.
2. Shop early so you won't be too tired when the day arrives.
3. Mail packages early for the benefit of all concerned.
4. Have the oldest and the youngest of the family help you decorate the home.
5. Emphasize the religious significance of the season.
6. Attend religious services together.

7. Help your children guard against greed.
8. Do something especially nice for someone who cannot return it.
9. Spend wisely so as not to be burdened with foolish debts.
10. Make your biggest gift to Him whose birthday we will celebrate.

Ike Goes South to His Favorite Vacation Retreat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower travels south today to the vacation retreat he likes best of all — the Augusta National Golf Club in Georgia.

Planning about a 10-day stay through the Thanksgiving weekend, the President scheduled a midday departure aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

The famed course, site of the annual Masters Tournament, is fenced in. Only fellow members and the President's guests have easy access.

The White House said some members of the President's Cabinet and other key government officials probably will fly from Washington for discussion of the federal budget and the legislative program Eisenhower will send to Congress in January.

Mrs. Eisenhower is delaying her departure until this evening because she is giving a luncheon at the White House for United Nations women.

The first lady, who doesn't care much for plane travel, will go to Augusta by train, arriving Friday morning.

New Forging Process Cuts Quartz Wastage

NEW YORK — Fused quartz now can be forged in a variety of special shapes, including cubes, rods, briquets, prisms, and even hemispherical domes for guided missiles.

The new process is expected to eliminate 95 per cent of the wastage of the strategic material, which formerly came only in various standard cylindrical shapes and had to be ground to a rough shape before finishing.

Device Checks Oil Fast

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — An instrument which speeds up interpretation of information about possible underground oil-bearing formations has been developed by Sinclair Research Laboratories, Inc. It's called a dip plotter and is used to plot information from a seismic recording on a geological cross-section. It works 10 times faster than hand-plotting.

January Conference Peeks Into Future

Great Lakes States to Study Economy

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's much discussed economic future, along with that of neighboring states, will come under critical examination at a three-day meeting of authoritative analysts in January.

The occasion will be the seventh annual conference of the Great Lakes Industrial Development Council Jan. 14-16 in Ann Arbor.

The dates were announced by James O. Coates of Jackson, council president and industrial development engineer for Consumers Power Co.

The outlook for the Great Lakes states as compared with other regions of the nation will be discussed early Thursday by Richard J. Lund of the Battelle Memorial Institute, an Ohio State University adjunct in Columbus.

Lund will be followed by a panel of experts specifically assaying prospects for the auto, chemical and electronic industries.

Prof. William Carey of the University of Michigan, who is arranging the program, said the auto phase will be outlined by Harry Williams of Detroit, managing director of the Automobile Manufacturers Assn.

Bert Cremers, vice president and general manager of Wyandotte Chemical Co., will speak for the chemical industry and a high ranking executive in the field for electronics.

About 250 leaders in industry, public utilities, railroads, foundations, municipal development and related fields are expected to attend.

On Thursday afternoon, the group will tour the Ford River Rouge plant as guests of Ernest Breech, and hear a talk by George Hitchings, chief Ford economist, on "The Economic Outlook."

Friday, the council will hear addresses on the need for regional planning and community zoning to accommodate expanding industry, the St. Lawrence Seaway impact, financing plant location, highway development and favorable industrial climate.

The conference will close with a talk by W. Richard Jeeves, vice president of Parke, Davis Co., on the "Probable Impact of the European Common Market on Great Lakes Area Industry" at a luncheon Friday noon.

The five states comprising the council are Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Feed 6 Billion? 'It Can Be Done'

Agriculture Expert Says Town Populations Will Determine Possibility

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading British agriculture expert states that the world will produce enough food to support a population of six billion in the next century if enough people live in towns.

G. V. Jacks, director of the Commonwealth Bureau of Soils at Rothamsted experimental station, expressed this seemingly paradoxical view in an article published by the Smithsonian Institution.

Whether the world will be able to support almost twice its present population, Jacks said, depends on maintaining a high degree of soil fertility rather than bringing new land into cultivation.

He added that there is a curious relationship between distribution of population and agricultural productivity. By and large, he said, land fertility increases with the size of towns, not with the number of people in farming.

Jacks explained that this is because money from industrially-supported towns flows back to farmers in the surrounding areas, thus enabling them to buy fertilizers and take other measures to prevent soil depletion.

The British agriculturist said this process is continuous as long as industrial centers continue to grow and pour more money back into the land.

OK School Bond Issue

DETROIT (AP)—Voters in the South Redford School District have approved a $3,250,000 bond issue for a new junior high school and additions to schools.

STATE SECRET — The U. S. Post Office Department plays it cagey in releasing this design for the Alaskan statehood commemorative air mail stamp. Since Alaska won't become a state till President Eisenhower issues a proclamation, either this year or next, master dies and enrgaving plates with both "1958" and "1959" are being made. That's the Big Dipper and the North Star on a map of Alaska.

France Triples Oil Use

PARIS — France's consumption of petroleum and petroleum products has tripled since World War II, the processing capacity of her oil refineries has nearly quadrupled, and the deadweight tonnage of her oil-tanker fleet has more than doubled.

Old Lady Tips Helpful Cabbie $4,000 Worth

OSLO, Norway (AP) — The cab driver didn't believe the old lady when she told him he was getting a $4,000 tip for being "extremely helpful, polite and cheerful."

But Ellert Rognerud, 46, now has the legal documents making him owner of an acre of mountain resort property, a good cottage on it and outbuildings.

Rognerud made four trips with his 70-year-old fare from the center of Lillestroem, near Oslo, to the outskirts of the town.

On the last trip she paid him in advance for a trip to a mountain regionthe next day. When they got there, she showed him the property and said it was his.

It took the local sheriff to convince Rognerud the property really was his.

THERE SHOULD BE MORE — The bicycle is a wonderful Christmas gift for a youngster, but another gift should accompany it. Give him also a copy of rules for cyclists.

And Youngster to Cycling

Fit Bicycle to Youngster

Planning to give some youngster a bicycle for Christmas? Then you will want to read these suggestions on fitting the bike to him, and fitting him for cycling.

The best way to get a good fit is to have the child try out several bicycles and choose the one that seems most comfortable. Since this may not be practical, you can use the wheel sizes as a rule of thumb:

Children 4 to 6 years old should have a bicycle with a 16-inch wheel; the 20-inch wheel is for the 6 to 8 year group; 24 inches is for the 8 to 11 year olds; and the 26-inch size is for youngsters 11 years old and over.

The rider's leg should form a straight line when he is seated with the pedal fully depressed. You can help on this by adjusting the height of the seat.

When the child receives his bike, he should receive also a copy of any local laws or rules for cyclists.

To Restore Animals Native to Area

Buffalo May Roam Again in Fabled Badlands Park

INTERIOR, S.D. (UPI) — Buffalo may soon be roaming again through the fabled "Badlands" of South Dakota.

They would be restored to what was once their natural habitat as part of a National Park Service program for renovating the 170-square-mile Badlands National Monument.

Work on the program is scheduled to begin within two years with the construction of 70 miles of new fence around the park, bringing its boundary fencing to a total of 125 miles.

The Badlands project is part of the Park Service's "Mission 66" program to rehabilitate America's national parks and monuments.

Ranger James Godbolt explained that the government wants to restore native animal life to its original state at Badlands.

By 1960, when the program is scheduled to start, virtually all private activities within the 19-year-old monument will be terminated. Permits now held by 32 ranchers for the grass season grazing of cattle will be cancelled and homesteads of the few remaining settlers will be returned to the government through negotiated purchase or land exchange.

RESTORE BUFFALO

Godbolt said that buffalo to populate the Badlands would be brought there from herds in other parks, where there are too many of them in some cases.

"They flourished here once," he explained, "so they should thrive again."

Mountain sheep will be transplanted to "Sheep Mountain" at the western corner of the monument. Muletail and whitetail deer and antelope, already well represented, will be encouraged to increase through improvement of their grazing conditions.

Godbolt said that kit fox, a slight, nocturnal prowler, as well as black footed ferret, would be brought back to control the rodents, such as prairie dogs, from getting out of hand.

Other small animals already living in the Badlands include badger, skunk, racoon, wildcat, coyote, bobcat, chipmunks and various varieties of mice.

Godbolt said the Park Service hopes to build a wildlife road so tourists can get a first-hand look at the animals.

The Badlands Monument, created on Jan. 25, 1939, embraces a 40-mile long strip along the White River and ranges from two to 10 miles in width.

French Coal Output Up

PARIS — France was the only country in the European Coal and Steel Community to increase its output of coal in 1957. Total French production for the year amounted to a record-breaking 60,000,000 tons — about 3.5 per cent higher than in 1956.

Mice in Cage Ignored by Napping Mouser

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI) — Contrary to popular belief, cats don't become bloodthirsty mousers upon sighting their prey.

In fact, during tests by the West Michigan Cat Society at Grand Rapids, one complacent cat took a nap beside the mouse cage.

Market Peak Passed

Call Stock Drop Healthy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The shakeout in the stock market the first of the week has frightened few Wall Streeters. Even those who hastened to sell before prices slipped too far from their peak acted today as if they had been waiting for it rather than showing any surprise.

None pretends to know how far the deflation will carry or when a fresh vigorous upturn will come. But many call the shakeout at this time healthy.

Rapidly rising stock prices had —by most standards—discounted the general business recovery for some time to come. That is, record high stock prices could be justified, in conservative minds, only by a boom in production, sales, in profits and in dividends that most people considered many months away.

The big upswing in prices also had discounted the inflation fears that many held. These had grown after the size of the federal deficit became known, and later when many felt the election of a liberal spending Congress would aggravate it.

But inflation would have to carry much farther and in a much shorter period of time than now seems likely to catch up with the fast rise in stock prices soon.

These two big supports of the rampant bull market—confidence in a strong business recovery and fear of big inflation — have carried prices pretty high.

They had risen so high, in fact, that many traders doubtless were ready to sell at the first sign of a tumble. This could account for the big volume of selling Monday after last Friday's price weakness.

There were worrisome conditions too. Labor strife seemed to be growing. While this could lead to more inflation, through the wage-price spiral—it also meant that many companies were losing chances for a quick return to better profits.

Earnings, although improving, were still disquietingly below their peak. And profit margins were still squeezed by rising costs — threatening to hold down dividends for some time to come.

Foreign news in recent days had been upsetting. Stock traders dislike uncertainties.

Confidence which bloomed so brightly in the early days of the recovery tended to shrivel a bit when the fast rate turned to a slower pace—although this is common to most business recoveries.

All of this had been building up at a time when what professional traders call technical factors were against further steady rises in stock prices.

The market was at a point where many speculators were ready to take their profits and cut their risks.

The short interest had dropped. That is, the number of those who had sold borrowed stocks and must support the market later by buying them for replacement was less than in the booming bullish days, thus shrinking one cushion under the fall.

Also, this is the period when traders readjust their portfolios for tax purposes.

The market was thin. That is, the vast majority of outstanding stocks were in the hands of investors, institutional or individual, who had bought them at much lower prices than today's but weren't putting them on the market, either because they thought them good long-term investments or because they didn't want to pay capital gains taxes.

With few stocks available for trading, big swings up or down in prices are common.

And for some time now, top-grade bonds have produced a better yield at their deflated prices than have blue chip common stocks at their record prices. Thus there was an incentive to sell stocks and buy bonds.

All of this may be why the market tumbled badly the first of the week.

None of it necessarily proves that the market will be greatly depressed, nor that it won't go to still greater heights in the future.

Steel Users Begin to Build Inventory

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel users have begun to rebuild inventories after months of living off stocks on hand when the recession hit, Iron Age magazine said.

The national metalworking weekly said, "It's beginning to look more and more as though business is finally snapping out of its negative frame of mind. There's nothing like a few orders on the books to restore confidence in the outlook."

Although most out manufacturers are resorting to overtime to maintain high output, Iron Age said, "they are playing their steel inventories close to the vest. They are using more steel and taking in more steel than they had been.

"But they're holding the leash on advance ordering and pressuring the mills for quick delivery when they need it. They usually get it."

Iron Age says the current recovery in steel is without too much help from oil and gas, construction and the railroads. It added, "But these industries should be coming back into the market after the turn of the year."

New churches constructed in the U.S. amount to $500 million per year.

While we are giving Thanks this Thanksgiving, let us not lose sight of the fact that we should not be so selfish, but should help others.

Giving comes back ten-fold, you know. For instance, I heard that property owners near the Fisher Body Plant would not let Fisher Body expand when they wanted to. Fisher Body then built elsewhere. Now, when Pontiac Motor needs the bodies, some other city's employees are making our station wagon and convertible bodies for us.

For every 100 employed, you know, there are about 75 more jobs that are produced on the side, such as construction workers, grocery clerks, clothing clerks, real estate people, and part of doctors, lawyers, dentists, etc. Also, 1 square block of manufacturing pays as much taxes as 7 square blocks of residences, and they don't have any school children, either. Without factories, your taxes would be double what they are now. Let's not be short-sighted next time.

Also, do you want to know why the far east side doesn't build up?

It is because of sewers, less than 500 people in the last election temporarily halted Pontiac's Growth. It only costs about ½ a cent a day, a family, to pay for the expansion. More Homes and Factories out there would increase Pontiac's valuation, and cut down on your tax load. I heard that two factories wanted to build out there, but went to another city because of the sewer problem. More factories mean more income for all of us, next time do right for Pontiac and you will help make Pontiac a better place in which to live.

2 Who Lived Almost Fully Recovered

Bradley Survivors Leave Hospital

CHARLEVOIX (UPI) — The two survivors of the sinking of the freighter Carl D. Bradley were released from Charlevoix Hospital yesterday.

Dr. Clarence E. Grate, their doctor, said both men—First Mate Elmer Fleming, 43, and Wheelsman Frank Mayes, 26—have just about fully recovered from their harrowing experience in the icy waters of Lake Michigan and are ready to return to their homes in Rogers City.

Grate said both men still have ear and skin infections caused by abrasions they received climbing back onto their raft after being tossed into the water three times during the night but the infections are not serious and should clear up within a month.

The two men clung to the 8 by 12-foot raft for 14½ hours after the Bradley broke up off Gull Island during a gale a week ago today. They were rescued by the Coast Guard tender Sundew the next morning.

Meanwhile, Grate said he plans to check Michigan law on procedure to be followed in filing death certificates for the 15 men still missing.

Grate, who is Charlevoix county coroner, signed death certificates for the 17 men whose bodies were recovered and brought here the day after the tragedy. The body of an 18th member of the crew was picked up by a freighter and taken to Milwaukee. Grate said he presumes the death certificate for this man was signed there.

Cause of death of each of the 17 men whose bodies were brought here was listed as "accidental drowning."

Grate said he believes there is a new Michigan law that will allow him to issue death certificates for the 15 missing men if their bodies are not found within 90 days. But, he said, he will ask the Charlevoix County Prosecutor's office for a ruling on this before he issues death certificates for them.

Grate said death certificates for the 15 missing men will be vital for members of their families because they cannot collect insurance and other benefits without a death certificate.

The Coast Guard air station at Traverse City reported it is continuing the search for bodies of the missing men. It sent a helicopter into the area where the ship sank again today. Helicopter crews have spotted lifejackets, oars and other debris flooating near High Island during the last three days and the Coast Guard plans to send search parties to the area later this week to pick it up and take it to Charlevoix where it is being kept.

The Coast Guard tender Hollyhock of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., which joined in the search within several hours after the Bradley went down returned to its base yesterday leaving the Sundew as the only Coast Guard vessel searching the area.

Wood Furniture Industry Reports Bright October

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — The nation's wood household furniture industry had its brightest month in 15 months during October, the industry's statisticians reported.

"For the first time in 15 months the wood household furniture industry has come up with plus signs in comparing the month's operations with those of the same month in the prior year," the report said.

Seidmann & Seidman, certified public accountants, said "none of the gains were spectacular . . . but it appears that the corner has been turned."

New and unfilled orders were up 4 and 3 per cent, respectively, over October 1957, while shipments ran 1 per cent ahead of a year ago and payrolls were up 4 per cent. However, number of employes was 3 per cent lower than the same month last year.

For the first 10 months of 1958 ending Oct. 31, the industry had fallen behind 1957 in shipments 12 per cent, orders 9 per cent, payrolls 8 per cent and number of employes 6 per cent, the report said.

The September-October 1958 comparison showed October ran 2 per cent ahead in new orders compared to a 5-year average decline of 5 per cent in this category. Shipments were up 3 per cent compared with a 1.2 per cent 5-year average increase, and dollar payrolls were up 10 per cent vs. 5-year average of 3.6 per cent.

Unfilled orders were down 6 per cent but the September-October drop in the five preceding years was 8 per cent.

Plant time climbed to an average of 42 hours in October, a gain of 2 hours per week over August and September and the first 42-hour month since October 1957, the report said.

Electric Stinger in Heart Keeps Grandfather Alive

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A man who lived for 96 days with his heart plugged into an electrical socket is home today for Thanksgiving.

A tiny electrical stinger inside his heart kept him alive, pulling him back from the brink of death time after time.

Pincus Shapiro, a 76-year-old Brooklyn grandfather, was nearly dead when he was taken to Montefiore Hospital last June 27.

He was pale and gasping for breath. Doctors described him as depressed and unresponsive, not knowing where he was and at times not knowing who he was. They diagnosed a total heart block, rheumatic heart disease and atherosclerosis, a disease where the arteries are narrowed by blood fat deposits.

Drugs and other treatment did not improve Shapiro's condition more than slightly.

On Aug. 18 a tiny wire with a small electric shocking tip was fed into a blood vessel in Shapiro's left arm.

Carefully doctors worked it through the blood vessel to the heart and finally into the right ventricle, a pumping chamber of the heart which pushes the blood into the arteries to nourish the body.

The wire was then hooked up to a machine called a pacemaker, named after the area of the heart that regulates the heart beat.

Another machine acted as a sort of heart sentry, keeping a constant electrical watch on Shapiro's heart beat.

The instant his heart stopped beating for as long as five seconds an electric-quick chain reaction began.

An electrical beam — much like the beam of an electric eye—was broken in the sentry machine. Orders sped to the peacemaker—and a short 1½ volt shock zipped into Shapiro's heart, jolting it back into life again.

At first Shapiro needed almost constant help from the machine. Then as days passed he could go for a few hours without his electrical first aid.

A few weeks ago he had improved so much that he could go for a considerable length of time without help. Doctors hooked up a 50-foot extension to his heart sentry and he was able to leave his room for short walks.

Finally, still plugged into the pacemaker, he could spend his days reading, watching television and meeting friends.

Last Friday doctors took the little pacemaker stinger from Shapiro's heart — and Wednesday he went home for a Thanksgiving with his wife, 4 children and 11 grandchildren.

His family bought a portable version of the pacemaker and Shapiro will have it on hand in his Brooklyn home.

Unlike the hospital machine which is plugged into an ordinary wall socket, Shapiro's portable will have batteries and won't have to be inserted into his heart. Two electrical bars will fit on his chest over his heart.

The machine will be a sort of "doctor in the house" until doctors can bring more permanent help.

Detroit to Be Center for Small Car Output

DETROIT (AP) — Ward's automotive reports says in its current issue that General Motors and Chrysler will locate their small car output mainly in the Detroit area. It adds:

"Because the move will offset the heavy concentration of the auto industry's medium price field car assembly in and around Detroit, observers see the small car as a stabilizing factor in employment and for the economy in general."

The agency said plans for the small cars are advanced to the point where many suppliers are ready to start component output on short notice.

The small cars, Ward's said, will have new power train concepts, compact six-passenger, flat floor design and high operating economy. "They are regarded," it added, "as the auto industry's answer to the buyers' strike against high new car prices and the serious long-range tendencies towards inflation."

Tokens of Appreciation

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — George Scott, San Diego department store owner, rushed into a nearby house during ground-breaking for a shopping center and asked to use the telephone. A few days later the housewife received 10,000 trading stamps in a thank-you letter from Scott.

Ike to Take Part in 1st Graduation at Air Academy

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower will participate in the first graduation ceremonies at the U. S. Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs next June, it was announced by Thayer Tutt, chairman of Colorado's Centennial Commission.

The disclosure came at a meeting of editors and radio and television executives called to discuss the centennial celebration, set for 1959.

Tutt said he had received a letter from the President saying he plans to make the trip. The academy will dedicate its golf course, named for the President, at the time of the graduation ceremonies.

Tutt said he does not know how long the Chief Executive will remain in Colorado.

HAVE TAILS, WILL TRAVEL — With dignified disapproval, three penguins at McMurdo Sound, Antarctica, studiously ignore some less-formally dressed intruders at the U. S. base. The birds are in for a rude surprise — the men from the helicopter are readying snare rods to capture a few penguins for the Portland, Oregon zoo.

Farmers Show Appreciation

Monument to Beetle

EUREKA, Calif. (UPI) — The grateful citizens of Humboldt County have dedicated a bronze and granite monument to an immigrant beetle.

It was a tribute to an insect imported from Australia in 1944 whose choosy chewing helped boost land values from two and three dollars had been spent on unsuccessful attempts to control the Klamath weed.

Cattle ranchers and sheepmen first noticed in 1912 that a new weed had begun to take over their rangelands. As time went on, thousands of acres were knocked out of production in California and the Willamette Valley in Oregon.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture set out to eliminate the Klamath weed, but with little success. Expensive chemicals proved useless and in 20 years property values dropped to virtually nothing.

In 1931, A. M. Sampson, University of California scientist, learned that a certain type of beetle had been exported from Australia to Europe where it had effectively choked the same weed.

At the urging of the Humboldt County Wool Growers Assn. Sampson went to Australia for a first-hand look at the beetle. He decided the insect might be just the thing the area needed.

For almost 13 years, the Agriculture Department balked at the notion of importing a beetle "of unknown feeding habits."

Finally, it agreed to a "passport" for the beetles if feeding trials were first conducted to see that the insects would destroy no California crops. The experiment showed the beetle wanted nothing but Klamath weed.

Encouraged, the department released thousands of beetles in the area. Within a short time the costly weed was gone.

Out-of-Season Frogs Force Rule Relaxation

CORTLAND, N.Y. (UPI) — Sponsors of a frog race relaxed the rules a little when they realized a state law might cut down on the number of entrants.

A conservation statute says frogs can be taken into captivit yonly between June and September. So the Cortland Youth Bureau decided that any youngster who hadn't bagged a frog during the season could enter his pet turtle in the competition instead.

Separate prizes were offered in each category.

Total population of the western hemisphere is estimated at 330 million.

State Tax Increases Set 'Off-Year' Mark

CHICAGO — State legislatures meeting this year approved a record number of tax increases for a postwar even-numbered year.

The Federation of Tax Administrators reports that only 18 State legislatures met to approve budgets during 1958, but two thirds of them raised taxes or changed collection procedures to bring in more money.

About three-fourths of the U.S. forest land is privately owner.

Nobel Prize Holder, Crew Cut Novice to Attend

Capital to Host 'Science World Series'

WASHINGTON—For the seventh time in its history, Washington will be host in December to the nation's biggest general scientific meeting.

Coming from laboratories and campuses all over the country, specialists will report their latest findings in science, research and education to each other and the American people.

The yearly gathering of the Advancement of Science has been variously called the parliament of science, the greatest brain show on earth, and the world series of science.

Papers to be presented at its 125th annual meeting here will run the gamut of all branches and subbranches of science—from astronomy to zoology. In this year, particularly, emphasis will be placed on such contemporary problems as space medicine.

MEMBERSHIP OF 60,000

The "Triple A-S," as it is informally called, is the largest organization of its kind in the world. It has 279 affiliate organizations and a membership of about 60,000 men and women of science.

Originally it was divided into two sections—"Natural History, Geology, etc." and "General Physics, etc." Now there are 18 sections.

Dr. Leonard Carmichael, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and general chairman of the 1958 meeting, has announced that the sessions here December 26-31 will bring together some 5,000 leaders representing 91 national scientific organizations.

In age and experience the delegates range from Nobel Prize winners to budding young scientists in crew cuts.

The AAAS was founded 110 years ago. A primary purpose was "by periodical and migratory meetings to promote intercourse between those who are cultivating science in different parts of the United States."

In 1854 the infant organization held its first meeting in the nation's capital, which itself was a young, growing city. The white shaft of the Washington Monument was rising on the Mall. Two wings were being added to the Capitol to accommodate the sharply increasing membership of both the Senate and House.

MET AT SMITHSONIAN

AAAS sessions were held in the Smithsonian Institution's first structure, the familiar red-turreted building on the Mall. Delegates stayed at the National Hotel and the old Willard, a favorite gathering spot for politicians, lobbyists and journalists.

The dark shadows of the Civil War had come and gone when the AAAS next met in Washington in 1891.

War had disrupted activities of the association, but its membership stood at 2,054. Significantly about 500 members lived in the Washington area, an indication that government agencies were beginning to employ many scientists.

AAAS President Albert B. Prescott, a distinguished chemist of the University of Michigan, made this statement: "Let this be understood by all, if America is not to fall short in the nurture of manhood, in the reach of mind and in the arts of peace, if she is not to fall short altogether, she must advance in science and must cherish her writers in scientific research."

Among the 227 scientific papers presented at the meeting were titles on color photography, artificial rain and atomic theory. The AAAS Council, in a formal action, urged Congress to establish a national arboretum.

SET HOLIDAY DATE

The AAAS' third Washington meeting in December, 1902, set a precedent. At that time an increase in academic summer schools made it difficult for many members to make the meetings. The scientists agreed to surrender their Christmas Week holidays for the AAAS gathering and have done so ever since.

Honorary general chairman of the 1902 meeting was a great naturalist, United States President Theodore Roosevelt, who entertained some 500 delegates at the White House.

A product of science was becoming increasingly obvious in Washington of 1902. Carriage days were numbered. Automobiles were appearing on the streets and were available for hire.

The pattern of the fourth Washington meeting in 1911 was similar to that of previous years, but science was becoming more specialized and scientists were more numerous. All told, 1,306 delegates registered for the meeting and 1,500 others attended various sessions.. The AAAS' membership was 8,041.

RADIO ENTERS

The fifth Washington meeting in 1924 drew 4,206 registrants to one of the largest gatherings in the AAAS' history. The press room had facilities for radio, which was used for the first time as an integral part of the meeting.

The AAAS' Annual Exposition of Science and Industry was organized on a professional basis. It has served ever since as a huge showcase for the display of new scientific tools, equipment, materials and books.

Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes gave an address on "Some Aspects of International Cooperation." President Calvin Coolidge received the scientists and their guests at the White House.

Nearly 1,800 scientific papers were presented, a few by authors who will attend the 1958 meeting in Washington. The first of a series of awards for scientific effort administered by the AAAS had been established just the year before.

The sixth Washington meeting was held September 13-17, 1948, to commemorate AAAS' founding in Philadelphia in September, 1848. It was a special meeting, without sectional programs or participating societies. The scientists met as a body to survey the status of science and its impact on man's future.

The ratio of cars to people in Hawaii is one of the highest anywhere — one car for every 2½ persons.

SMOG BRINGS TEARS — Debbie Beltran, 2, is too small to know about smog, but she wept with the rest of the Los Angeles residents as one of the year's worst smog attacks stung the eyes of the inhabitants. Wiping away the tears is Debbie's mother, Mrs. Josephine Beltran.

Britishers Impressed With Nixon's Charm

LONDON (AP) — Britons have had their first good look at Vice President Nixon and found he measures up 100 per cent to their idea of the all-American boy.

They're just as delighted with "Nattie Patty," as the London press has dubbed Mrs. Nixon.

In the first 12 hours of their visit, the vice presidential couple impressed everyone by being smiling, courteous, deferential and so eager to please.

The Nixons' four-day stay in Britain began Tuesday in chaos. Because of fog, their plans had to land at the wrong airport and the red carpet welcome went haywire.

The Nixons smiled through it all. Being from Los Angeles, he said, the fog made them feel at home. Before he was through, everyone felt he would have been disappointed had it been a bright, clear day.

At a 500-place luncheon at London's swank Savoy Hotel, Nixon took traditional British pomp and ceremony in his American stride. The minute he finished his peaches, he popped a mint into his mouth, laughed easily and joked with his companions as the party broke up.

Lunch for Mrs. Nixon was just as informal, although most of the 25 guests at the American ambassador's residence were from Debrett's peerage. "Jus all the girls together," Pat reported, "We didn't toast aybody. Not even the queen."

Wearing a sleek coat of black Persian lamb and a hat of flaming pink ostrich feathers, she dashed away to dingy Paddington suburb to see a charity organization at work.

Down dark Back of the Buildings Alley she called on 75-year-old Tom Fallon, sitting beside his iron bedstead, under the gas jet, in the one room that is his world.

"Why, you've got a lovely, homey little place here," she said, stooping at his feet. She whipped a cover off a dish she carried and beamed, "Here's your tea — lovely meat pie."

After she had gone, leaving a breath of perfume behind, Tom said:

"A very nice lady. . . . I hope she has a good holiday. That's what she's come for, isn't it?"

The Nixon smile captured the admiration of the British press. From the time the vice president and his wife left their plane until they headed for bed late Tuesday night after a reception, they were ready with what one newspaper called "the all-American smile."

Previously, most Britons had been unimpressed by Nixon, considering him a shrewd, even ruthless, political go-getter.

But the feeling of many after first-hand acquaintance probably was summed up by the Daily Sketch columnist who wrote: "They seem so much like two friendly small town people who got there — but stayed soft inside.

"It's what you'd like to think. "Because that would be the perfect all-American success story.'

Modern Greek Drama Slated for Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — Modern Greek dramas are to be shown on Broadway for the first time by James S. Elliott.

Elliott last year took the first American acting company to Athens for performance of Greek classics, and while there became intrigued by the dramatic possibilities for U.S. audiences of works by contemporary Greek authors.

He plans to present three short plays in a triple bill: "Requiem" by Nikos Kazantsakis; "A Face in the Daylight," by M. S. Crispis; and "Mister Cuckoo," by Jacob Cambanelli.

Thor Blast-Off Successful, but 5 Hours Late

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — No. 20 was a big success.

The 65-foot, 55-ton Thor intermediate range ballistic missile blasted off its pad at 4:09 a.m. today, five hours behind schedule and 3½ months after its last successful firing.

The last Thor blew up Nov. 25 just 25 seconds after liftoff when the range safety officer at the Cape's control center pressed a remote control button.

The shot this morning was the 20th Thor fired from the Florida missile center.

It has been reported that Secretary of Defense McElroy's decision as to which IRBM — the Air Force Thor or the Army's Jupiter — is to become the nation's top IRBM would become known soon after Dec. 1.

Today's Thor looked good from the start. It rose assuredly in a cloud-dotted sky.

Avoid Same Old Thing in Buying Gift for Dad

The old joke about dad receiving nothing but shirts and ties for Christmas is not just a story. It happens in many homes every Christmas. It can be avoided in your home if the family gets together and carefully plans the gift list for the head of the household.

Peek at His Closet

There are many other gifts besides the conventional shirt and tie. There are clothing accessories, jewelry and men's toiletries to choose from. They are all practical gifts that dad will really appreciate.

For the man who has a closet full of suits, jackets, slacks and shoes there are several types of clothing racks that will help relieve the closet clutter.

The largest racks are the ones for pants and jackets. Constructed with wooden frames and aluminum crossbars they range up to 60 inches high. Most come with special suit hangers.

For the Traveler

Folding slipper and bathrobe sets are ideal for the traveling man. The slippers fit into a leather pouch so that when put in a suitcase the other clothes don't become soiled. The cotton bathrobe folds easily into a matching zippered pouch.

Men's leather traveling kits are popular gifts for dads.

Another worthwhile gift for dad is a toilet set containing after shave lotion, cologne, and powder. Also there are many types of brush and comb sets.

For the well-dressed dad a matching set of ties and handkerchiefs makes an attractive gift.

Strikes at Lawless Deeds, Not Tenets

South Korea Acts Against Pseudo-Religion in Pusan

PUSAN, Korea (UPI) — South Korean police are cracking down on a pseudo-religion which claims its believers can survive atomic wars.

Police action against the Taegukto (Infinity) religion, one of more than a score of newly risen, officially unrecognized faiths in South Korea, however, is directed not at the fantastic tenet, but at its unlawful acts.

These allegedly include lynching, violence against women, assault, draft evasion and other crimes.

Its most "appealing" slogan is that "one who has mastered the Taegukto teachings will live for 50,000 years through atomic warfares or deadly epidemics."

A government survey shows that some 15,000 persons believe in the religion. Of these, 12,000 live in an exclusive colony on the outskirts of this sprawling port city under the iron-fisted rule of their spiritual leader, 64-year-old Cho Chul Je.

Taegukto was little known outside Pusan until it suddenly made headlines in Korean newspapers when 50 of its followers raided a Catholic feeding station located near their colony, called Kamchon-Dong, in July.

The raiders, who inflicted injuries on several workers of the relief station, were apparently motivated by fear that the Catholic institution might have an "unfavorable influence" on Taegukto followers who had been receiving food from it.

Shortly after this incident, 33 persons who said they "escaped from the devil's hands of Taegukto leaders" petitioned local government authorities here asking for help in "saving the poor people in Kamchon-Dong from terror, lynch and exploitation by Taegukto leaders."

They accused the cultists of "outrageous crimes committed in the name of religion."

At least 700 draft dodgers live in the colony with the help of the Taegukto leaders, who also discourage their followers from paying taxes to the government.

When the story broke, there was a barrage of editorial attacks on the religion.

The Catholic Daily Kyunghyang Shinmun said the Taegukto is "a group of swindlers and outlaws who are taking advantage of the ignorance of the poor people."

New York Has Total of 278 Landing Fields

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — A pilot flying his airplane over New York State has a choice of 278 landing facilities — depending on where he is and what kind of a plane he has.

Christmas Is Different in Alaska

Northern Lights, 3-Hour Day Mark Yule

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — The temperature has tumbled to 40 degrees below zero.

It has been dark since shortly before 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The sun, after skimming the horizon for three hours and 44 minutes, is gone until tomorrow.

Snow coats the frozen gound.

The sky is pierced with shafts and waves of shifting brilliance —the spectacular display known as the Northern Lights.

Multi-colored lights decorate windows and trim the eaves of neat frame houses. Street intersections are aglow with traditional ornaments of the season. Church bells ring.

This is Christmas Eve in Fairbanks—Alaska's second largest city and the most northern metropolis of the United States.

A SHORT DAY

On Christmas morning there still will be darkness outside.

But in the churches of this city of 35,000, the faithful will proclaim the birth of Christ.

The Christmas day will be shorter than in any other city in the United States. The weather will be colder here, just 120 miles south of the Arctic Circle, than in most places.

But the spirit of Christmas—and the observance of the feast —will be no different than in any other town.

There are some problems to an Alaskan Christmas, however.

Take mail, for example.

Because of mailing requirements, the Christmas season up here starts early. Christmas gifts to the folks back home generally are in the mail a month before Christmas. That way, Alaskans take advantage of lower boat mail rates rather than pay higher air mail postage.

The post office at the nearby community of North Pole processes thousands of Christmas cards and letters by mid-December. Workers don Santa Claus outfits as they put a coveted North Pole postmark on mail from all over the world.

The Navy base at Kodiak completes an annual air drop of Christmas toys, food, parkas and mukluks to Eskimo children on islands east of the Alaska Peninsula early in December.

Despite the abundance of spruce and jack pine in Alaska, most Christmas trees are imported from Nevada. Most native trees cut from the frozen ground quickly shed their needles when brought into the warmth of homes.

CAROLING, TOO

Street caroling and house-to-house visits of neighbors are common Christmas practices in many cities of Alaska.

Throughout the 49th state, entertainment in the home—always an Alaska custom—increases for the holidays.

But the fun of Christmas in Alaska does not overshadow the true meaning of the feast—whether in the larger cities or in the remote villages where missionaries have carried the story of the Christ child to the Eskimos.

Guy Okakok, Eskimo correspondent at Point Barrow for the Fairbanks Daily News-Miner, sent this report last Christmas Eve from that most northern tip of the United States:

"Christmas is here now . . . Let's all give thanks, and offering to our Lord, so that we might come close to Him. Let's all close our eyes for a moment and say a prayer.

"Joy to the world. If we only stick to our Christianity, even to the end, we shall be saved. Friends let's all be merry and have a good time. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

"Temperature this morning in Barrow is 30 below zero."

Put First Things First for Happy Holiday Cooking

When measuring molasses, honey or syrup, first use the cup to measure shortening. The syrup will not stick to a slightly greased cup.

If boiled frosting begins to harden before you have frosted a cake completely, soften it by beating in just a spoonful or two of hot water.

Roll dates in flour before you cut them and they will not cling to the knife or scissors.

Easy to Be Impartial

DRYDEN, N. Y. (UPI) — John Zigmund finds it easy to be impartial when he umpires a baseball game between Ithaca College and Wilkes College. Zigmund, currently baseball coach at Dryden Central School, was a student at both Wilkes and Ithaca Colleges.

Told by Matthew, Luke

The Christmas Story

In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled . . . And all went to be enrolled, each to his own city. And Joseph went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David, to be enrolled with Mary his betrothed, who was with child. And while they were there, the time came for her to be delivered. And she gave birth to her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling cloths, and laid him in a manager, because there was no place for them in the inn . . .

And lo, the star which (the wise men) had seen in the East went before them, till it came to rest over the place where the Child was. When they saw the star they rejoiced . . . and going into the house they saw the Child with Mary His mother, and they fell down and worshiped Him. Then, opening their treasures, they offered Him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh . . .

And in that region there were shepherds out in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And an angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were filled with fear. And the angel said to them, "Be not afraid; for behold I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people; for to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. And this will be a sign for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger." And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying:

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men with whom he is pleased!"

(From Matthew and Luke, The Revised Standard Version of The New Testament)

Monitor Could Get Message

Impulses From Brain May Aid Space Travel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new technique of picking up electrical impulses from the brain by radio may enable science to monitor the reactions of the first occupant of a manned satellite.

An Air Force scientist said that experiments with animals indicated the new technique could alert ground monitors to dangerous conditions of which the satellite occupant might be unaware or unable to communicate.

"We are sure you can pick up frustrations — pain — emotions —by electrical impulses from the head," said Dr. Albert W. Hetherington, technical director of the Air Force Directorate of Life Sciences.

Hetherington told a meeting of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences that the new technique makes it possible to monitor the performance of persons far away through the use of sensing devices outside the skin.

With animal subjects, he said, it has been found feasible to drill small holes into the skull, inserting electrodes directly into the substance of the brain without appreciable damage to the brain tissues.

By comparing different wave forms transmitted back from the animals' brains, Hetherington said observers can "determine when an animal is carrying out skilled behavior."

Hetherington said mice, rats, small monkeys and chimpanzees are the best subjects for experiments leading toward manned space flight. He said that is because their biological functions and systems resemble those of man.

U. of M. to Get More Cobalt

in Theratron to Treat Cancer Patients Medical Center

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A charge of radioactive cobalt, the size of nine stacked pennies and as powerful as 75 million dollars worth of radium, will be loaded into the University of Michigan's theratron next month.

The tiny chunk of cobalt will contain 2,000 curies of radioactivity. It is so potent it must be cased in two tons of lead in its trip to the University Medical Center from Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The theratron is a device used by doctors in the treatment of cancer. It is a rotating, horseshoe-shaped machine that beams 1,300,000 electron volts on a cancer tumor without damaging healthy tissue near the body's surface.

The new cobalt charge will replace another piece rapidly diminishing in power. The original charge was placed in the theratron Jan. 4, 1955. More than 500 cancer patients a month have been treated at the center since February 1955.

The delicate cobalt transfer will take about six hours, medical center specialists said.

Dr. Charles S. Simons said treatment time gradually has increased while the radioactive cobalt decreased in power. He said the cobalt-60 has a radioactive half-life of 5⅓ years. The original cobal now requires about 80 per cent more time to produce the same amount of radiation it did when fresh, said Dr. Simons.

The cobalt theratron along with one that contains radioactive cesium for medical purposes were provided the university by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Safety Box Stronger

PASADENA, Cal. — A super-strong safety box developed for a Pasadena concern is said to assure absolute protection of records. From the inside out, the box has a ductile-iron compartment covered by foamed silicone resin, a stainless-steel shell, and fire-resistant paint which foams at 300 degrees to form a thick protective coating.

STRETCH GLOVES: If you don't know her size, here's the answer. Handsome capeskin gloves with fourchettes of stretch fabric, to fit all sizes. Washable, too.

Make Your Own Candy Canes for Christmas

You can make your own peppermint candy canes for Christmas—but not on a damp day.

Take 2 cups of sugar, ½ cup of light syrup, ½ cup of water, ¼ teaspoonful of cream of tarter, ¾ teaspoonful of peppermint flavoring and ¾ teaspoonful of red food coloring.

Combine sugar, syrup, water and cream of tarter. Blend thoroughly. Place over medium heat. Stir until sugar dissolves and mixture is boiling moderately. (Remove any crystals that may form on side of pan with a damp cloth wrapped around tines of fork.) Cook without stirring, to a hard boil stage (260 F.) Remove from heat. Add flavoring. Blend thoroughly.

Pour half of mixture on well oiled platter. Add coloring to remaining half. Pour on second well oiled platter.

Begin to pull as soon as mixtures are cool enough to handle. (It takes two people to do this properly.) Form in ropes, twisting the red candy around the white portion. Cut in 8 inch lengths. Form in canes and place on waxed paper.

Gets 2 Rats in 1 Trap

EDGEWOOD, Ill. (UPI)—Vernon Ervin checked a rat trap he had set and found it had trapped two rats at a single stroke.

Select Bright Green Tree

Buying a tree? Select a bright green one. That way you will get a better looking tree and also avoid one with pale or brown needles.

When you get it home, take a diagonal slice off the butt, an inch or two from the end. This will expose green wood that will absorb water when placed in a pan.

Be sure the stand permits you to set the butt in a water container.

Avoid placing the tree near stoves, fireplaces, hot air ducts, radiators, television sets and other heat sources.

Pontiac City Affairs

Traffic Light System Financing Given OK

Financing of traffic light modernizations for the Saginaw street progressive light system has been approved by the City Commission.

Under the arrangement, proposed by the State Highway Department, the city will pay about $2,500 out of gas and weight tax revenues for four installations.

It will pay one-third of the $350 cost to remove the light at Warren street and half the cost to install new lights at Huron, Lawrence and Pike streets. Cost of the Huron installation was estimated at $1,700 and the Lawrence and Pike fixtures at $1,550 apiece.

The city approval will be sent to the highway department, which is expected to give the go-ahead signal for city crews to do the work. The progressive light system from Oakland on the north to South boulevard on the south is expected to be in effect by the end of the year.

Commissioners, in other business, set Dec. 9 for a public hearing on assessment rolls for sidewalks on both sides of Orchard Lake, Telegraph to the city limits, and the north side of Madison avenue from Perry to Ariene.

No objections were raised at a hearing on assessment rolls for a sidewalk on the south side of Linda Vista drive, Joslyn to Vernon.

The Orchard Lake walk would serve Daniel Whitfield School; the Madison walk, Pontiac Northern High School; and the Linda Vista walk, Mark Twain School.

ZONING HEARINGS SET

December 16 was set as the date for two zoning hearings. One would rezone Fox Cleaners, 719 W. Huron, from residential 1 to commercial 1 to correct a non-conforming usage. The other would rezone two lots on the south side of University avenue, west of Baldwin avenue, from residential 1 to personal service, for construction of a headquarters building for the Metropolitan Club.

Tabled for two weeks was adoption of an ordinance to change the zoning of five lots on the northwest corner of Walton boulevard and University from residential 1 to commercial 1. The delay was for more time to study the possibility of purchasing right-of-way for the future widening of Walton.

A $1-a-year lease was renewed with GMC Truck & Coach Division for property at Howland and Nebraska avenues where Southwest Civic Park is located.

Two new commission rules were adopted to speed business. One requires motions to be seconded before they are entered in the minutes. The other requires a second before motions are debated.

Americans Honored in English Cathedral

WASHINGTON—There is a special shrine for Americans in the gray-golden vastness of St. Paul's Cathedral, the largest and most beloved church in London.

A symbol of British fortitude, St. Paul's weathered the rain of fire bombs on London in World War II. The east end suffered severe damage, however, and the new American Memorial Chapel is an integral part of the restoration. Thanksgiving Eve, 1958, marks its dedication.

Inlaid on the chapel floor is a simple inscription, "To the American Dead of the Second World War from the People of Britain." A roll of honor bears the names of 28,000 Britain-based Americans who were killed in action. Heraldic emblems of the United States, the territories, and services embellish the windows, the National Geographic Society notes.

Cards Known as 'Squeezers' Back in 1870

Playing cards were called "squeezers" when they werefirst given index corner markings back around 1870. Before that time, a card player had to look at the full face of the card and quickly count its pip or suit symbols to know that number card he was holding.

This often permitted the other players to see his cards. And if it was a face or court card, he often had to hold it "right side up" as today's "double-headed" face cards were not yet in general use.

The only change in modern playing cards has been the introduction of the bridge deck, which measures 2¼ inches wide instead of the 2½ inch poker or regular deck, and the creation of better finishes which make cards more durable. The narrower card appeared in the early 1900's with the popularity of Bridge and other games requiring a player to hold and fan out thirteen cards at once.

Bus Now Ski Lodge

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A Hartford banker, John D. Stout Jr., likes to ski. But it cost a lot to carry his family of four to and from the mountains. So he bought a retired city bus and turned it into a traveling ski lodge. The bus' name? "Desire."

South Africans Boycott Theme

TB Stamp Causes Furor

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—With Christmas coming as usual in the middle of South Africa's summer, the National Tuberculosis Assn. decided to abandon the usual scenes of reindeer and snowmen on its "fight T.B." stamps.

It produced a stamp with a religious theme and expected it to sell out as usual, raising money for undernourished white children who show signs of T.B.

The powerful, sternly Calvinist Dutch Reformed Church took one look at the stamp and decreed: "Protestants must not buy this stamp — it is disguised Roman Catholic propaganda."

The stamp pictures the Virgin Mary with a halo and the infant Jesus in her arms.

For 25 years post offices have sold the stamps and South Africans have stuck them on packages. But the post office banned the Madonna and Child stamp. A number of mayors who had promised to sell them backed out. Some Afrikaans schools decided to boycott them.

A bit bewildered, the Tuberculosis Assn. appealed for help. "The stamps are our only source of income," it said. "Children will suffer if critics influence their sale." The association pointed out that the committee which selected the stamp design had had a Protestant majority and lacked any ulterior motive.

A Dutch Reformed Church minister then said Protestants should buy the stamps to help the association but should not use them.

Post offices still won't sell the stamps, but sales by private dealers now are booming. One Johannesburg businessman's syndicate has offered to buy complete stocks of the stamps and resell them "to create a healthy rivalry with the official stamps" issued by the government.

The official stamps carry the traditional Father Christmas, the South African Santa Claus.

14th Century Game Led to Modern Cards

The forerunner of our modern desk of playing cards is the Tarot desk which dates back to the 14th century and is still used in the Mediterranean region primarily for fortune-telling.

The Tarot deck used 78 cards instead of the 52-card deck in use today. The 26 additional cards in the Tarot deck consisted of an extra jack or knave in each usit and 22 special cards, called "atouts," representing forces affecting man: sun, temperance, lighting, religion, justice, ect.

Highest card in the Tarot deck was "le mat" or the fool—and he may be the great-great-grandfather of our present day joker.

Trinidad, in the West Indies, is 1,864 square miles in area and has been British since 1797. It was formerly occupied by the Spaniards.

Fantastic Water Projects To Be Reality Tomorrow

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Undersecretary of Interior Elmer F. Bennett states the pressure of an "exploding population" and high standards of living will provide justification for future water projects which today would be considered fantastic.

Bennett, in a recent speech before the 27th annual convention of the National Reclamation Association, pointed out that present estimates call for U.S. population to more than double in the next 50 years.

In addition, he said the gross national product is expected to increase from its present $425 billion annually to $2,300 billion in 50 years.

"Along with these increases in production and gross national product, we are faced with an increase of water consumption which is almost fantastic," he said. "To bring it down to an understandable term, our per capita daily use of water has increased from 520 to 1,600 gallons in the last 60 years. By 1965, it will be 2,200 gallons.

"Multiply these individual figures by the rate of population growth and you will understand what I mean when I say fantasy today may well be reality tomorrow in considering our water needs and measures necessary to meet them," Bennett told the opening general session of the NRA.

However, he pointed out that there are those today "who argue just as vigorously against a continuing reclamation and water development program" as did their predecessors in the days of President Theodore Roosevelt when the Reclamation Act of 1902 was up for debate before Congress.

Bennett, giving a brief summary of the economic vitality of reclamation, pointed out four projects which he said emphasizes the value of the program.

One of these was the Colorado-Big Thompson project near the Colorado - Wyoming border. The others included the Salt River project in Utah, the Columbia Basin project in Washington State and the Central Valley Basin in California.

In an earlier talk, Texas Gov. Price Daniel called for a national policy recognizing ultimate state control of water and its uses.

New York Honors Grace and Prince

NEW YORK (AP) — Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace of Monaco are now honorary citizens of New York City with the privileges of the exclusive Lotos Club thrown in for extra measure.

The royal couple were honored Tuesday night at a state dinner at the club, membership of which includes President Eisenhower. Mayor Robert F. Wagner welcomed them to the city and declared them honorary citizens.

Rainier and his wife, former film star Grace Kelly, plan to spend Thanksgiving in Philadelphia with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly. They will visit in this country about a month before returning to Monaco.

The trading floor of the New York Stock Exchange is about two-thirds as large as a football field.

Norway Banks Introducing 'Cash Checks'

OSLO — Commerical banks in Norway have introduced a new means of payment, called "cash checks." Valid for six months, they are a cross between a bank draft and a traveler's check. They are legal tender for payment of goods and services and it is estimated that they will be honored at 100,000 places. Ordinary checks can be cashed at only about 1,000 banks.

Any savings-bank depositor can get these cash checks, which are debited to his account when negotiated. Until then the amounts bear interest, but to guard against overdrafts the account is at once blocked for the total of the cash checks.

Each year about 65,000 Americans become diabetic. They are part of the 4,750,000 Americans who are potential diabetics—those who will develop diabetes during their lifetime.

Sponsors Safety Check

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—The Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. is the first industrial firm to sponsor a nationwide program of safety-checks for the autos of its employes.

A spokesman reported that 10,000 vehicles were inspected in special safety-check lanes sponsored by the firm at its plants in nine states which do not have compulsory motor vehicle inspection laws.

Outlook Bright for Graduates

Job Openings Expected to Equal or Exceed Demand in 1958

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The job outlook for next June's college graduates is brightening, says the University of Michigan's director of occupational information.

H. Glenn Ludlow said the total number of firms seeking 1959 graduates will equal, and perhaps exceed, 1958's demand.

Last spring, many companies canceled or curtailed recruiting of graduates because of the business recession.

Ludlow said the number of firms desiring campus interviews is 10 per cent less than last year at this time. However, he said no cutbacks are anticipated this year.

Graduates from the 1959 class can expect their starting pay to be one or two per cent higher than their immediate predecessors.

Last June's graduates averaged $400 monthly for nontechnical jobs and $475 in technical fields.

Ludlow said demand is greatest for engineering, electronics, physics, mathematics and accounting students.

Sees Doctor 5 Times

NEW YORK — The average American visits his doctor about five times a year, according to a report of the National Health Survey. The survey also found that most patients visit the doctor's office; home calls account for less than 10 per cent of the visits.

PAPRIKA MEAT BALLS — Hot buttered canned green beans and whole kernel corn with generous servings of Paprika Meat Balls and tangy sour cream make a meal both hearty and delicious. The browned meat balls and vegetables are heated in the oven at one time. A fruit compote of canned pear halves, purple plums and pineapple chunks adds a nice finishing touch to the meal.

Bake Vegetable With Beef Balls

For just plain good eating anytime, a tasty meal is Paprika Meat Balls with buttered canned whole green beans and whole kernel corn. The meat balls are topped with a tangy sauce of sour cream, arranged with the vegetables on an oven platter. Heat and serve on the same platter.

Cole slaw is an excellent salad choice, and a light dessert to round out the meal is a colorful fruit compote of canned pear halves, purple plums and pineapple chunks.

Paprika Meat Balls and Vegetables

1 egg
1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons shortening
1 medium size onion
¼ cup finely diced celery
½ teaspoon seasoned salt
1½ teaspoons paprika
1 cup commercial sour cream
1 can (12 or 16 oz.) whole kernel corn
1 can (16 oz.) whole green beans
2 tablespoons butter, or margarine

Combine beaten egg, ground beef, salt and pepper. Shape into balls and brown in shortening. Pile in center of heat proof platter. Add chopped onion and celery to fat in skillet; cook until tender but not brown.

Remove from heat; stir in seasoned salt, paprika and sour cream. Pour over meat balls. Put drained vegetables at each end of platter and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees) about 15 minutes. Five to six servings.

Oranges Help Hold Body Together!

You not only supply appetite appeal when you serve oranges, but a nutrition nugget as well. Eating fresh oranges is the best way to insure the vitamin C that is needed for maintaining and forming the cementing substances for bones, teeth and blood vessels. Keeping all tissues in good condition is another job for this active vitamin. It also aids the body in using other important nutrients such as calcium and iron.

Bio-flavonoids, which are valuable curative agents, are found in the orange pulp and the delicate membranes surrounding the individual cells. They help to strengthen the tiny blood vessels of the body . . . and thus give resistance to colds and other infections.

New research wit hthe bio-flavonoids indicates that it also may enhance the effect of vitamin A in the diet of rats. Since vitamin A is important in keeping the mucous membranes lining the body in healthy condition, if it is proven that bio-flavonoids help utilize the vitamin A, it will be another important reason for having "an orange a day."

An important aid in digestive processes is found in the walls of the juice sacs and segments and is called protopectin. Since they are not broken down to sugars, these protopectins have no caloric value. Instead, they are converted in the stomach to pectin which in turn passes into the intestinal tract with the partially digested food.

Protopectins supply bulk and lubrication for the intestinal content and tend to suppress the development of harmful bacteria and putrefaction.

Clown Luncheon Plate Tempts Young Appetite

The clown's face is made from scrambled eggs — preferably two eggs, though if you spread the face thin, you can get away with one. (If you're feeding two youngsters, you might use three eggs for two clown faces.) One slice of crisply fried or broiled bacon will make the eyes, nose and mouth.

A slice of toast spread with peanut butter and cut into one large and two small triangles will make the clown's hat and bow tie. Two carrot curls are perfect ears and big enough to hear anything that's going on.

Canned Food Library Is Way to Be Efficient

Do you feel as though you're opening Pandora's Box when you open the refrigerator door? Crammed, jammed and packed, the family refrigerator in many homes has become a headache.

The Can Manufacturers Institute proposes a creative plan for modern homemakers which it calls the Canned Food Library. A streamlined version of grandmother's canned vegetable and preserves cellar, the Canned Food Library not only eliminates the problem of the overcrowded refrigerator but provides a stable basis for countless balanced menus and a safeguard against such emergencies as unexpected guests.

BASIC LIST

The basic Canned Food Library, of course, consists of fish, fruits, juices, meats, poultry, soups, spreads and vegetables. These eight major departments form the basis of a master food list which, for convenience, can be arranged in alphabetical order.

In creating a Canned Food Library, storage plans can be worked out to accommodate available space within the individual home. Those who have basement or closet storage space are fortunate indeed but the small apartment dweller can "make space" with hanging wall cabinets or steel shelf arrangements. Both types are available in all department stores at small cost.

Creating the library may be a surprising experience as few people realize the variety of foods available in cans.

Mrs. Albina Rowland of CMI points out that there are 139 items available for the meat and poultry department and 138 different tinned vegetable.

"Gourmets and food fadists who wish to stock foods which are unusual conversation pieces can have a field day," advises Mrs. Rowland, "with such delicacies as larks with truffled goose livers, stuffed vine leaves, hearts of palm salad or Kangaroo's tail."

For families with a hearty meat-and-potatoes appetite, the large tinned hams, full-sized roast chickens and beef stews will undoubtedly occupy an important place in the library.

The Can Manufacturing Institute offers the following suggestions on founding the Canned Food Library which will satisfy your families' needs:

A. Make a master list of the family's favorite foods.
B. Organize them into the eight or more major food departments in alphabetical order.
C. Estimate the space for such a library and determine storage methods. These can often be attractive and a decorative addition to the home.
D. When library is complete, attach shopping list to wall near by so that as a particular canned food is used, it is put on the shopping list for replacement.
E. Finally . . . enjoy an endless variety of healthful menus and the assurance that you'll never again exclaim, "Company! But I haven't a thing in the house!"

Friday Filling for Peppers

Two cups cooked rice—life-over rice is fine! — a cup of canned tomatoes, 2 cans of Maine sardines, all combine to make a tasty filling for 6 green peppers. Salt and pepper to taste, of course, and a topping of crumbs or grated cheese. Half an hour in a moderate oven and the dish is ready to be served with your favorite tomato sauce.

Don't let those good juices escape from that broiled steak! Use tongs to turn it.

Spuds Are New as Dippers

Ever tried crispy hot frozen French fries as dip dunkers? They're the best . . . for good eating and easy fixing.

Your favorite homemade or packaged dips turned into attractive shallow bowls and arranged around a warmer filled with crispy browned frozen French fries make tempting and delicious appetizers.

Use a new miniature habachi . . . it acts as a warmer and is certain to be a conversation piece . . . an essential for giving a get-together the right start. If no habachi is available, an electric frying pan or corn popper will do a fine job.

We think the best way to brown frozen French fries for appetizers is in a small amount of hot shortening or vegetable oil at moderate heat in an electric or regular fry pan. Do a package of frozen French fries at a time. When browned in an electric fry pan, they are ready in a jiffy with a minimum of work.

Of course, if no electric frying pan is available, frozen French fries may be quickly browned in a regular fry pan over moderate heat and kept hot for serving in a small fry pan over a candle warmer.

EASY ENTERTAINING — For tempting, delicious, easy-to-fix appetizers, put a few of your favorite homemade or packaged dips into attractive shallow bowls and arrange around a warmer filled with crispy browned frozen French fries.

Pot Roast Veal and Vegetables

A leg of veal is a meaty cut with a small amount of bone. It is delectable when oven roasted with a covering of bacon or salt pork if its natural fat trimming is lacking.

It is also delicious when cooked by braising as in this Swedish version, which suggests cooking the delicately flavored meat with bouillon and vegetables and serving it with a cream gravy.

Swedish Veal Pot Roast

5 pound leg of veal
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 cup bouillon
4 carrots, sliced
4 medium onions, sliced
1 cup light cream

Roll veal in flour and brown in hot fat. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, and add bouillon and vegetables. Cover pan and cook at 325 degrees or over low heat on top of the range 2½ hours or until meat is tender.

Remove meat from pan and strain drippings. Thicken with a flour and water paste and cook, stirring, until thickened. Gradually add cream, while stirring, and continue cooking gravy until blended. Eight to 10 servings.

Oyster Fries for a Bite

We don't have to say it again but for the sake of repeating a good thing, a perfect appetizer to start the gay meal ahead. . . Oyster Fries. The smallest oysters you can find are dipped in fresh lemon juice, drained, dipped in fritter batter and deep fat fried. Sprinkle with lemon juice and spear on toothpicks for easy eating.

Candy Sweet Potatoes in New Orleans Molasses

Southern Candied Sweet Potatoes made with real New Orleans molasses are simple to make—and simply luscious! Scrub 4-6 medium sweet potatoes. Cover with boiling, salted water. Cover pan and boil 20-25 minutes, or until tender. Drain and peel.

Brush each with melted butter or margarine and place in skillet. Add real New Orleans molasses to depth of 1 inch. Cook over low heat, turning frequently until potatoes are candied. For additional flavor, add 2 tablespoons butter and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Serves four.

Chopped Apples Go Into Waffles for Main Course

History records many interesting stories about the apple. Of course, you're familiar with the one about William Tell. But did you know that a gift of six barrels of apples to an English Queen was reponsible for the lifting of an import tax on American apples, and building good will between England and America.

Queen Victoria received these apples from Arthur Stevenson, the American Ambassador to England during the first year of her reign.

Apples are in the news again now because there are so many of them. This year's apple crop is expected to be the largest since 1949, we're advised by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Apples can form the main course for luncheon or supper if used in waffles. Waffles made by the following recipe are especially good if served with a sprinkling of powdered sugar and a suitable sauce.

Sift together 1½ cups of pastry flour, 3 teaspoons of baking powder, 1 teaspoon of sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ½ teaspoon salt. Add yolks of 2 eggs to 1 cup of milk beat together until smooth. Then add 1¾ cups of finely chopped apples and 4 tablespoons of melted fat and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake on a hot waffle iron from 3 to 4 minutes.

Try Chicken and Rice for Pepper Stuffing

Mix together 2 cups cooked white rice, 1 cup diced cooked chicken, 1 chopped pimiento, ½ cup cooked yellow corn, ½ teaspoon black pepper, 2 tablespoons soy sauce and 2 tablespoons real mayonnaise. Cut the tops from 6 medium-sized green peppers. Scoop out seeds and membranes. Stuff with the rice-chicken mixture.

Place peppers in a large, deep skillet. Add water to come halfway up the sides. Salt the water. Cover skillet with a lid. Cook about 12 minutes or until the peppers are tender. Water should not boil too vigorously.

APPETIZING PLATE — Contrast, color and freshness make a vegetable plate an appealing dish. Lemon-cheese sauce provides a finishing touch.

Bake Tomatoes in Cream

Ripe tomatoes baked in cream is a very special dish, according to food-loving California cooks.

Tomatoes in Cream

3 or 4 large, fresh tomatoes
Salt
Pepper
Nutmeg
½ cup heavy cream
¼ cup sherry wine (or water with a few drops lemon juice)
1 tablespoon butter

Wash and cut tomatoes into medium-thick slices. Arrange in a buttered shallow baking dish. Sprinkle generously with salt and pepper and lightly with nutmeg. Pour over the cream and wine (or water and lemon) and dot with butter. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for about 20 minutes, or just until tomatoes are tender. Serves 5-6.

Here's a party mushroom ring to serve with cold meat:

Mushroom Beet Ring

4 4-ounce cans sliced mushrooms, drained and blotted with paper towel
3 tablespoons olive oil
Dash salt
Dash paprika
4 tablespoons (heaping) flour
2 cups thin cream (or evaporated milk)
6 egg yolks (beaten lightly)
6 egg whites (beaten until stiff)
2 cans tiny beets
Lime juice
Pure olive oil
Fresh mint (chopped)

Saute mushrooms in olive oil with salt and paprika for 5 minutes. Add flour and stir well. Add cream. Stir and cook on low heat until smooth. Add beaten yolks of eggs. Remove from heat and stir until mixture begins to thicken (about 2 minutes). Add the stiffly beaten egg whites.

Turn into a well-oiled ring mold and bake in a very slow oven (325-350 degrees F.) until firm, about 35 to 40 minutes. Unmold and fill center of ring with tiny beets tossed with lime juice and olive oil and chopped fresh mint. Arrange large crisped potato chips around base of ring and serve together.

Cook Crayons Pattern for Lattice Pie Crust

One deft cook has a neat way of preparing a lattice-top pie crust. She draws a pattern of the lattice on a square of waxed paper using one of her small fry's crayons. Then she turns the crayoned side face down and arranges the pastry strips in place.

The latticed pastry and the waxed paper are flipped over the top of her filled bottom crust, then the paper is removed and the edge of the pie is finished by crimping.

Caraway Spaghetti Bake

If you're one who enjoys the interesting flavor of caraway seeds, you'll serve this easy dish frequently. Empty two cans of spaghetti with meat balls into a casserole, and sprinkle ½ teaspoon caraway seeds on top. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F) about 25 minutes, until spaghetti is hot. Serve with grated Parmesan cheese, if you like.

Pork Chops Take to Fruit

If you want something unusual in a pork chop casserole, try this. Place pork chops in bottom of casserole, put a tablespoon of ready-to-use mince meat on each, add sliced apples to a depth of an inch and a half, cover and bake for an hour — or until chops are tender. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and bake uncovered twenty minutes longer.

Tangy Lemon Flavors Pie

It'll be love at first bite when your guests sample your Lemoned-Apple pie! They'll taste the difference, and know it's not just an ordinary apple pie, but your new taste-thrill discovery! Serve it for dessert, or at coffee time, and it will be a real conversation as well as appetite sparker!

Lemoned-Apple Pie

1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
3 cups apples cut in small pieces
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon bottled lemon juice
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter
½ cup chopped pecans

Mix all ingredients together and pour into pie shell. Bake in oven 425 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake 25 minutes. Top with meringue, and brown in oven.

Meringue: Beat 2 egg whites until frothy. Gradually beat in 3 tablespoons sugar, until meringue stands in peaks.

Leftover coconut that has become dry may be softened by soaking it in a little milk and a suspicion of sugar. Drain before adding it to your recipe ingredients.

Well-Selected Vegetable Plate Is Appetizing Dish

A fresh vegetable plate, carefully prepared, is always popular, hotel and restaurant chefs report. Not only weight-conscious women, but many business men order and enjoy them frequently.

Contrast is a key word: color, flavor, shape and texture of the vegetable is important. The plate should include some protein food, such as eggs or cheese.

For a green vegetable, select broccoli; for contrasting color and texture, herbed zucchini squash. For still more color contrast, plus some protein, bacon stuffed potatoes. Additional protein is supplied by a lemon-cheese sauce for the broccoli. All the vegetables together supply an excellent nutritional package of vitamins, minerals, protein and bulk.

Select broccoli with tender young stalks, dark green or purplish color and compact, unopened bud clusters. The stalks, buds and the few leaves found on the bunch may all be used.

Cook the broccoli in very little water (amount depends on size of pan and amount of vegetable to be cooked). Split stalks lengthwise, if they are large, to speed cooking. Leave the lid off the pan during the first part of the cooking. Cook to crisp-tender.

Fresh Broccoli With Mousseline Sauce

Wash a 1-pound bunch fresh broccoli and trim off the tough portion of each stalk. Place in saucepan with 1 teaspoon salt and 1-inch boiling water. Bring to boiling point, uncovered, and boil 5 minutes. Cover and continue cooking 15 minutes or until crisp-tender. Drain. Place on serving dish. Serve with Mousseline Sauce. Serves 4.

Mousseline Sauce (Lemon-Cheese Sauce)

Place 3 egg yolks, ¼ cup milk, ¼ cup butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice and 1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper in the top part of double boiler. Mix well and cook over hot water (not boiling) until sauce has thickened, stirring constantly. Stir in 1/3 cup grated sharp American cheese. Fold in 1 stiffly beaten egg white. Add salt to taste. Serve over cooked broccoli. Garnish with parsley if desired. Makes 1 cup sauce.

If you are investing in cookie pans for your kitchen, buy standard ones: either 14 by 10 inches or 15½ by 12 inches. These have no sides but one end may be turned up.

Fill Meringues With Tart Mix

With the advent of cooler weather the card-party season gets into full swing. Whether the parties are big scale, such as money-raising socials, or just home-size get-togethers for the neighbors, they all call for something simple but special in the way of refreshments.

"Simple but special" are just the words to describe Lemon Meringues, the perfect party dessert. These are crisp sweet meringues filled with a tangy lemon filling. They're just about no work at all because the meringues can come from the bakery (you may have to order them ahead) or from a mix; and the fluffy lemon filling is made with Lemon Pie Filling mix that takes less than 10 minutes of cooking time.

Lemon Meringues

1 package Lemon Pie Filling
¼ cup sugar
2½ cups cold water
2 slightly beaten egg yolks
2 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
8 meringue shells

Turn lemon pie filling into saucepan; mix in ¼ cup sugar. Gradually stir in water and egg yolks. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils up once. Break flavor capsule if it has not dissolved; stir into filling. Remove from heat and let stand while making meringue.

For meringue, beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar and continue beating until mixture forms stiff peaks. Fold in slightly cooled lemon mixture and cool. Turn into meringue shells and chill.

At serving time, garnish with a sprinkling of grated lemon rind. Makes 8 servings.

State Trunkline Shifts Approved

Highway Department's Planning Division OKs Loop Road Changes

State trunkline redesignations to fit Pontiac's downtown loop highway plan have been given approval by the planning division of the State Highway Department.

J. D. Cruise, chief planning engineer, said that if the City Commission gives final approval to its perimeter road plan, the state highway commissioner will be asked to give it the final okay.

The notice was sent to the city's planning consultants for final study. The planners, Geer Associates, of Birmingham, are at work on Pontiac's projected urban renewal program, which could in part be financed through state road and federal funds.

Redesignation of U.S. 10 to conform with the loop plan means that state-controlled road funds probably will be available for its construction, City Manager Walter K. Willman told city commissioners.

Final approval by the state is contingent on completion of engineering feasibility studies and availability of highway funds, Cruise said. Therefore, formal final approval may not be forthcoming for some time, he indicated.

Willman said, however, that approval of the plan by the state's planning division meant that the perimeter road plan was a "cinch" to become a reality.

Running east and west of Saginaw street (present U.S. 10) from School street on the north to Osmun street on the south, the loop road would skirt the downtown area. It would cost an estimated $2,500,000.

Its location recommended by the Barton Highway Transportation Study, the loop plan is designed to relieve downtown traffic congestion and encourage future planning for improvement of the downtown area.

Following Parke street on the east and Cass avenue on the west, the loop's route would go through the area for which urban renewal plans are being developed.

Paris Snack Bar Keeps an Expert on U.S. Food

PARIS—One prosperous snack bar in Paris employs an expert to keep up-to-date on American sandwiches and soft drinks. He makes periodic visits to the United States to sample the latest offerings on the hot dog circuit.

The introduction of Hush Puppies and Dagwood sandwiches is a direct result of his research.

Items like the "nutburger" and the "bourbon-burger," so dear to Madison avenue and Sunset boulevard, have not as yet made their Paris debut. The cheeseburger, launched a few years ago, is holding its own.

Prices for snacks are generally reasonable according to the French scale. Hot dogs are a quarter, and "super-hamburgers," served with French fries, run up to 55 cents. Ice cream sodas and milkshakes are about 35 cents. Waffles are just over 50 cents, and a banana split, a real work of art, is about 60 cents.

HOT WELL — Tenant farmer Chalmer Lovdahl of Monmouth, Ill. used a thermometer to measure temperature of water from mysterious well which started producing hotter and hotter water last August, and is now giving water at 110 degrees. It was speculated that the birth of a volcano may be imminent, but state experts doubt this. Russell Lane, chemist of the Illionis Water Survey, said that it's the hottest water being produced by any well or stream in Illinois.

Mexico Appropriates America-Owned Ranch

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—A huge cattle ranch owned by two United States companies in Chihuahua State and bordering on the United States will be expropriated by the Mexican government, official sources announced.

A Mexican Supreme Court ruling recognized the rights of the Mexican government in the nearly two-million-acre Palomas Ranch.

It will be the second large piece of real estate taken over by Mexico from its American owners recently. Last August, the government expropriated the more than 500,000-acre Cananea Ranch in Sonora State, also bordering on the United States, and owned formerly by the heirs of Col. William C. Greene, a Texan.

The Supreme Court ruling gave the Mexican government definite possession of the Palomas Ranch. It absolved the U. S. owners from any responsibility "for damages suffered by the (Mexican) nation during the many years they occupied the lands."

A provision in the Mexican constitution bars foreigners from owning land in Mexico within 62 miles of the Mexico-United States border.

Mexican agrarian reform legislation also provides for expropriation of big land holdings for distribution among landless Mexican peasants.

Mexican officials hailed the Supreme Court decision for "permitting the reincorporation of the Palomas Ranch into the national patrimony."

The ranch was owned formerly by the Palomas Land and Cattle Company and the Compania Palomas de Terrenos Y Ganados.

No announcement has been made as to what compensation the companies will receive for the expropriated lands.

In the case of the Cananea Ranch, William Cornell Greene, Col. Greene's heir, was reported to have received $2,000,000 for the land.

Science Firms Issue Mail Catalogues

DETROIT — Makers of scientific apparatus compile some of the nation's most comprehensive mail-order catalogues. One such contains the complete Greek alphabet, periodic charts of the elements, and a set of conversion factors for volume, mass, power, and energy.

In fact, America's first mail-order catalogue was not developed by any famous department store or chain. Five scientific-apparatus makers were printing such catalogues long before the first mail-order-house catalogue appeared in 1894.

Cleveland Rabbi Prays:

In Humble Gratitude..

By RABBI ABBA HILLEL SILVER
The Temple, Cleveland, Ohio

Our Heavenly Father:

Our hearts turn to Thee in humble gratitude for Thy manifold favors unto us during the past year.

Thou hast prospered the work of our hands on field and farm, in mill and mine, and in all the useful undertakings of the heart and mind. Our harvest has been abundant. We have eaten our bread without scarceness and we have been able to share Thy gifts with the hungry of other lands.

Not unto us, O Lord, but unto Thee, must all glory be given!

How shall we repay Thee for Thy boundless goodness unto us? Thou who renewest the face of the earth, help us to make secure our heritage of freedom for ourslves and for all Thy children and to establish peace in all our habitations. Help us to banish from our midst all wrong and injustice, and all hate and unbrotherliness from our hearts. Our world abounds, O Lord, in tragic chasms which separate men, in deep rivers and their swift, dark currents. Help us to build bridges of justice and compassion across them.

Father of nations! In our blindness we are often moved to put our sole trust and security in strong walls, in formidable armament, and in military alliances. But the very military strength of a nation often brings about its downfall; and its confidence destroys it.

We have been admonished by Thy seers to put our trust in the strength of our moral and intellectual life, the justice and fairness of our laws and institutions, the well-being and contentment of our citizens, the moral training of our youth and the stability of our homes.

Give us the vision and courage to build Thy kingdom on earth in friendship, forbearance and trust and so evidence our gratitude to Thee for Thy boundless mercies unto us.

As Mrs. Robert Loos of Chippewa road popped the turkey in the oven this morning, her three youngsters decided they'd like one last look at Tom before he appeared in full dress at the dinner table. Taking a final peek are (left to right) Mike, Barbara and Mark Loos.

Thanksgiving Is Day That Unites Families

Of the several national holidays observed throughout the year, Thanksgiving always seems to be the one day that unites families in a true sense of the word.

Christmas, New Year's Day and Easter Sunday, of course, call for family gatherings; but somehow the spirit never quite matches the mood which prevails on the traditional turkey and pumpkin pie day. The theme of the occasion engenders a certain security and contentment, as we spend a full day with our loved ones.

FORGET PRESSURES

Generally, Thanksgiving is our most leisurely holiday. Mother, who has spent the day broiling, baking and roasting — and who later must face the inescapable aftermath of dishwashing — certainly is in a position to disagree with that statement.

But the zest with which she tackles her chores and the genuine warmth with which she greets her kith and kin today tells us she, too, finds this a time to forget life's pressures and appreciate her family.

When Chief Massasoit and his 90 braves came as guests to the Pilgrim's original Thanksgiving feast, the affair lasted three days.

Wouldn't it be a treat if we could keep our holiday guests for three restful days? That indestructible bird always manages to appear in turkey pies and sandwiches for several days after the big dinner.

And with the mounds of left-over pies, relishes, and vegetables that always abound, there'd certainly be no lack of fare for the household.

Mrs. Fred H. Millis of State street had a cheery little companion on hand as she prepared today's Thanksgiving dinner. Her small son, John, pulled up a chair and joined her for a long chat as she worked amid the sweets, tarts and spices so fragrant in American kitchens on this special day.

Carving the bird is always a job for the man of the house and Michael Paul Capsalis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Capsalis of Ottawa drive, took over his job with the finesse of an experienced chef today. It looks like someone's about to get a luscious serving of white meat.

Honored at Bridal Events

Ann Oliver, bride-elect of Gary Spees, was honored at a luncheon Tuesday at the Bloomfield Hills Home of Mrs. E. G. Winn. Cohostess was Mrs. E. M. Orr.

Another party honoring Ann was given by Mrs. Alfred Hubbard at her home on South Woodward avenue. Following luncheon a miscellaneous shower was held for Ann.

The couple will speak their vows Dec. 27. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Oliver of West Iroquois road and Mr. and Mrs. Lynneer Spees of Watkins Lake.

BPW Club Hears Talk on Defense

Mrs. Virginia Warren of West Bloomfield, cordinator of Emergency Welfare Service for Oakland County and regional deputy chairman for Southeast Michigan, was guest speaker at the Business and Professional Women's Club meeting held Tuesday evening at Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. Warren, whose job is to teach people what to do and how to survive in case of attack or threatened attack by aerial bombers, defined Civil Defense as a government operating in an emergency for the survival of people and the continuity of government.

She presented a film showing how Portland, Ore., one of the best organized cities for Civilian Defense in the country, evacuated in a mock enemy bomber attack.

A class was formed to meet during January to study survival methods and what to do if Pontiac is attacked or threatened.

Lundbecks Together

Mr. and Mrs. Deane N. Lundbeck and their children, Kristine and Kirk of Muskegon, are spending the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. Lundbeck's mother, Mrs. O. H. Lundbeck of Chippewa road.

Surprise Reunion First in 20 Years

A real family style Thanksgiving is being celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. L.F. Preston of South Edith street. For the first time in 20 years they have all 10 of their sons and daughters at home.

Their children had planned the event — a complete surprise for the Prestons — for the past year. Three daughters and one son have come all the way from California for the occasion.

They are Mrs. Everett Smith of Santa Monica, Mrs. Melvin Schram of Long Beach and Mrs. Robert Hughes with her three children, Barbara, Robert and Richard.

From Reseda, Calif., their son Max has come with his wife and daughters, Jeanette and Linda.

FROM THIS AREA

Also on hand for the family Thanksgiving are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Preston and their five children of Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Preston and their four children of Williams Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hale of Pontiac are here with their three sons and daughters.

From Livonia is Morris Preston with his wife and four children, and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Preston are here from Williams Lake with their seven children.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holman of Pontiac, the Preston's son-in-law and daughter, are joining the family with their three sons.

The Prestons are also expecting a number of other close relatives — they don't know how many — to join them for Thanksgiving dinner.

On Friday evening the Prestons will be honored on their 50th wedding anniversary at a reception at Mountain View Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Oliver are having Thanksgiving dinner at home today with Mr. and Mrs. Lynneer Spees and family of Watkins Lake as guests. The Spees' son, Gary, is home from St. Louis for the weekend.

Mr. Oliver and Mrs. Spees attended the Lions football game.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nash of Belding are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gould and son Richard of Lake Angelus for Thanksgiving. Also home from the University of Michigan for the holidays is the Goulds' daughter, Darlyne.

Among out of town guests for Thanksgiving dinner at the Michigan avenue home of Mrs. Joel Santstrom are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ingersoll and children Karolyn, David, Jeffery and Michael of Clarkston; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wojtacha and daughters Diane, Kathleen, Barbara and Kim of Oak Park; Duncan McIntyre of Royal Oak and Mrs. Sandstrom's mother, Mrs. Mary Jackson.

Pass the napkins please, mother. Such a little boy is going to have quite a problem maneuvering such a big drumstick with ease—but David Donaldson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Donaldson of Ottawa drive, seems to have the situation (namely, the drumstick) well in hand as he joins his family at the traditional dinner of thanks.

Families Get Together for Holiday

By MARGARET BROWN

In the true tradition of Thanksgiving, Pontiac area residents are spending the day with members of their families.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Beaudette of West Huron street will have their Thanksgiving dinner with Dr. and Mrs. Rockwood W. Bullard Jr. and their family in Clarkston.

Joining them will be the Beaudettes' son-in-law and daughter with their family the Thomas H. Wilsons of Clarkston.

A family dinner is planned by Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Kyes of Bloomfield Hills. Home for the holiday are two of their daughters, Carolyn who works in Cincinnati and Kathy who is attending Smith College. Daughters Ann and Franny will also be on hand for the turkey along with Mrs. Kyes' family, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Jacoby of Marion, Ohio.

At the Cherokee road home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Eames, Thanksgiving dinner guests besides their children Bill and Judy are Mrs. W. R. Eames of Ottawa drive, Mrs. J. L. Brown, the W. R. Thompsons of Bloomfield Hills, and the C. N. Winstons of Sandusky, Ohio, Mrs. Eames parents.

Before a family dinner at the Birmingham home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Goad of Bloomfield Hills attended the Lions-Packers game.

The City Club is the scene of the family dinner of Mr. and Mrs. Harcourt S. Patterson of North Hammond Lake. Family members at the dinner are the Pattersons' three children, Lee, Barbara and Harcourt Jr., and Mrs. Patterson's mother, Mrs. E. L. Page of Illinois avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kinsler are hosts for a family dinner at their Preston avenue home. On hand to share the turkey are their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Rosco W. Lund and their children Cathy, Nancy and John, and Mr. Lund's mother Mrs. Oscar Lund of Ludington.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dobski of Tilden street are enjoying Thanksgiving with their two children, Geraldine and Teddy.

Hosts for a family dinner are the William Rogers of Washington street with their children David and Deborah. Their guests are family members Mr. and Mrs. Edmund S. Rogers of Linden road and their children, Bruce, Gary and Richard and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Rogers of Miami road with children Mike, Susan and Tom. Ruth Ann Gilloe also is a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Jenkins of Wenonah drive are visiting Mrs. Jenkins' mother, ing Mrs. Jenkins mother, dle Straits Lake for Thanksgiving. The Jenkins' four boys Michael, Tom, Ricky and Bill and other family members from Detroit also are present.

Mr. and Mrs. John Livingstone with their three children, Erma Jean, Ann and John Jr., are having a family Thanksgiving at their home on Berkshire road.

Entertaining their two sons and their families for the day are Mr. and Mrs. Orris K. Ingham of Bloomfield Terrace. Family members are Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Ingham of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ingham and their three children David, Reed and Kim of Royal Oak.

Part of Woman's Life Remains Unchanged

By RUTH MILLETT

Maybe you aren't as different from your own grandmother as you think you are.

What does your club do when you need to raise money? Do you decide on how much you need and then hold each member responsible for his share? Probably not.

More than likely you decide to have a bake sale and buy cakes from each other just like Grandma used to do. Or give a carnival and "spend" your donation, instead of just giving it outright.

You think saving stamps to trade for goods is something new Well, Grandma used to save for premiums, too.

You keep up with fashions in clothes, decorating, and entertaining by reading the women's magazines? Well, Godey's Ladies' Book kept the ladies of an earlier day informed on the same subjects.

You belong to a sewing club where a group of congenial women get together to gossip as they sew on buttons and turn hems? There's very little difference between your sewing club and the quilting bees of long ago.

Are you proud of the money you earn at a part time job? Grandmother had her egg money, too — and she earned it because she liked to have a little money of her own just as you do.

You've got your living room and family room — which probably opens onto the kitchen. But Grandma had her parlor and her big warm comfortable kitchen—which was a family room, too.

You're proud of all the food you have stashed away in the freezer? Grandma was just as proud of the jars of fruit and vegetables and meat that lined her cellar cupboards.

You sometimes think nobody appreciates how hard you work? It was Grandma who used to talk about "working her fingers to the bone" and "standing over a hot stove all day."

For a woman, some things never change much.

Working During Christmas Rush Profits Wives

Last year thousands of homemakers earned money by working in department stores at Christmas time. They were employed as sales clerks, package wrappers and office workers.

Stores want intelligent, pleasant women and will often adjust hours to suit those that measure up to their needs.

Many of the working homemakers discovered that their automatic appliances carried on the housework without them. The laundry was ready to iron, and dinner practically ready to eat when they returned after a few hours of work.

Book Exhibit Held at Nursery School

Mrs. Lee Coyle had a book exhibit featuring books suitable for 3 to 6 year old children at the All Saints Cooperative Nursery School Open House held Monday evening.

Children showed their families the facilities and play equipment. Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. V. Madigan, Mrs. George Newton, Mrs. Charles Miller and Mrs. D. S. McGeen.

Since children's feet grow so rapidly, they should be checked for size every two to four months.

Look Around You

Always Reason for Thankfulness

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Someone wrote, "I cried because I had no shoes until I saw a man who had no feet."

In early youth we reach for the moon and seldom count our blessings. We are glutenous with our dreams of material possessions and success and bliss. Through the rest of their lives many people strive for the ultimate and are frustrated because they do not achieve it.

Those who are magnificently blessed by life may take it for granted, while others who are tested by trouble may become bitter and feel abused and without blessings.

It takes a lot of living and loving to become mature enough to understand that there is always something to be thankful for, that happiness and thankfulness are comparative.

No matter how many blows fate may deal us there is always somebody who is worse off. We fret and are dissatisfied, disappointed and unhappy over things which seem important at the time. Then when some real knock comes along we look back and wonder how we could have felt as we did. It is a matter of comparison.

If we could keep this thought always in the foreground of our consciousness, we would live much more vibrantly. We would always remember that it is sheer bonus just to be alive! We would remember that we are fortunate to be alive and without pain, to have enough to eat, to have a roof over our heads, to have again the opportunity for service, laughter and love, to again enjoy the gorgeous scenery of Nature's changing seasons.

It takes a lot of living and loving to become mature enough to understand that there is always something to be thankful for, that happiness and thankfulness are comparative.

Many folks fret constantly about money when they have the unequalled gift of an unbroken family.

I wish that all of my readers could have all of the blessings today; good health and their loved ones with them around a loaded table. But this cannot be in every instance. In such cases it may help to remember the man who had no feet.

I am sure that the habit of counting our blessings every day, not on just this one day, would lead to an emotional and physical vitality which is impossible otherwise.

Tomorrow: "Vitamin B Complex May Help Dry Hair."

Wash Hair Before It Is Dulled

Radiant, shining hair is a beauty fundamental. No matter how much time is spent cultivating makeup perfection or acquiring a faultless wardrobe, a woman's crowning glory remains her hair, regardless of time or style.

And what's the key to radiant hair? It's luckily within the reach of every woman — cleanliness! The sad truth is, however, that too many women, even the most beauty conscious, put off shampooing their hair until it has already been dulled by oil and grime.

The trick is to remember to wash your hair before it needs it. If your type of hair looks its best with once-a-week shampooing, so much the better. But if it needs more frequent attention, don't hesitate to wash your hair every few days.

Regular brushing is also a hair beauty essential. Grandmother's formula of 100 daily strokes still holds true.

It's important to remember to use a clean brush. In fact, the ideal is to keep a supply of brushes on hand so that you can use a fresh one every day to keep your hair shining bright. Brushes should be washed when you lather your hair.

Points to remember for a correct shampoo are: Brush your hair well before shampooing. Lather hair and scalp twice thoroughly. It's a good idea to use a soft, sudsy brush around the hairline where makeup collects. Rinse at least twice. Unless your hair squeaks when you run your hands over it, more rinsing is needed.

Price to Pay

'Successful Man' Ideal Pondered by Educator

EAST LANSING—What is the price tag on "success?" Are you getting your "money's worth"—is it true success you are achieving?

In contemporary Western society the so-called "successful man" in business or industry is often a pitiful failure in human terms, thinks an extension specialist in parent education and child development.

Being chiefly concerned with selling things—and making a profit—the businessman may even become a "thing" himself. When his only aim in life is to become a "success," he develops the kind of personality which is in demand on the personality market.

He has to develop a "pleasant personality." His feelings and ideas must not be contrary to anyone. His opinions are always up-to-date but he has no convictions and no doubts.

"Is it any wonder that this 'pleasant personality' tends to make man insecure and haunted by feelings of inferiority? His success is his salability—too often his self-respect and values depend on it. He is dependent on approval by others and must keep up with changes in 'personality fashions,'" he states.

How often is the so-called "successful" man driving others and driven himself, worried and irritable, lacking in leisure time, feared by employes and hated with the hate that comes from this fear? This material "success" is habit forming and it can destroy body and spriit, the specialist says.

TRY HUMANITY

"Would he be more truly successful if he aimed at being a human being? In doing so he would develop reason, love and his creative abilities," he points out.

Real success includes something of helpfulness to others, being tolerant, kindly and calm.

Household Hint

Carpeting crushed down because of heavy furniture can be raised by placing a damp cloth over the crushed spot and running a hot iron back and forth for about two minutes, a carpet sweeper manufacturing company advises. Then rub the spot or area with a hard brush until the pile is erect, and go over it with a carpet sweeper.

But Operating on Turkey Not So Difficult

Carver Is Sure to Get the Bird

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dining-chair historians may argue the merits of turkey or venison as first Thanksgiving hand-me-downs, but one tradition is certain—the carver always gets the bird.

Guests watch nervously as the turkey slips and slides and the host goes through the ha-ha-this-knife-is-a-bit-dull routine.

But you needn't switch to ham, or round up a famous surgeon. Chances are, the surgeon is no better than you at operating on a bird, says C. Fred Smith, who has been carving turkeys for 13 years.

"Carving seems burdened with mystery. It's the most formidable household tradition, and even skilled surgeons don't dare touch it, even though they know the names of every joint," said Smith.

He broke into carving while visiting an obstetrician in New York.

"I was invited for Thanksgiving dinner," Smith recalled. "Being a country boy, I thought that meant 12 o'clock, but they meant 6 o'clock. Well, to kill the time, the surgeon took me to the hospital with him.

FOR THE BIRDS

"He told me he had to have my help operating. I was petrified. I scrubbed, and put on a gown and mask. He led me to a room, swung open the doors—and there were 50 turkeys, waiting to be carved for the patients' dinner. I got into turkey carving in a wholesale way."

Smith kept on carving—for television, lectures, and even a department store as a "doctor of carvology"—while employed at the Poultry and Egg National Board. Now a partner in his own firm, bachelor Smith still carves for friends.

One Thanksgiving, before retiring as a semi-pro, he had to round up—and carve—17 roasted turkeys for a TV show. "Never thought I'd do it, but I scoured every restaurant in the neighborhood," he said.

Largest bird he has tackled was a 41-pounder at home in Trenton, Tenn. "That was so big it wouldn't fit in the oven, so we had to cut it in two," he said. Smallest was a 3-pound turkey—"to small to do a proper job."

How does Smith carve gracefully?

"Simple," he said. "Always stand up—it adds drama. Your very presence commands attention. Besides, it's easier. You can't carve a turkey by the touch system.

TAKE STANCE

"Get a good stance—like putting on a golf range. Hold the knife like you would a hairbrush when it's 2 a.m. and you're waiting for your daughter to come home. Be sure the knife is honed sharp as a razor, and hold it away from you.

"Now," Smith continued, "put the bird parallel to you, with the legs pointing to the left. Take the end of the drumstick with your hand, cut the thigh at the joint, and put the thigh and drumstick, still attached, on an extra plate. Can't cut this on the platter because of all the shrubbery.

"Slice through the kunckle and separate the drumstick from the thigh—best meat on the bird.

"Cut the wing at the second joint, leaving the first joint attached to the bird. Then slice the top of the breast on the hump—long stroke skimming the first joint. Don't dig. Slices should be about a quarter inch thick—unless a rich uncle comes for dinner. Give him a hunk," said Smith.

Then Writes Guide Book

Sees New York From Wheelchair

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 23-year-old woman spent a year doing the big town — in a wheelchair.

Sandra Schnur visited local points of interest, from Broadway theaters and night clubs to the marriage bureau and Coney Island. Then she wrote a guide book for handicapped persons.

The book, "A guide to enjoyment for the handicapped," is available for $1 and lists hundreds of places which are accessible to persons in wheelchairs or on crutches.

When Miss Schnur was 15, polio struck, leaving her paralyzed in both arms and legs. Since then, she has lived in a wheelchair.

CREATES A STIR

"When you have to go places in a chair, there's usually such a hullabaloo that you wish you'd stayed home. Many people won't go out because they're so embarrassed, especially the newly handicapped. It's hard to face the world at first, but I hope this book will make it easier."

Biggest problems are steps, narrow doorways, and theaters which do not allow persons to remain in wheelchairs.

"You may go to a theater or restaurant, only to find a flight of stairs, narrow aisles or other obstacles. In some places, the management is accommodating, but in others, people get befuddled when they see you coming. They're all thumbs.

Theater managers don't know where to put your chair. Or they refuse to let you sit in the aisle, even though you pay for the empty seat. They really need some removable seats," she said.

FRIENDS HELPED

Miss Schnur, who lives with her family in the Bronx, did much of her research in art galleries, restaurants, auditoriums, parks, temples, churches and department stores. Friends also pitched in, and her family helped her type the information. Throughout the project, she received help and encouragement from Dr. Howard Rusk, director of the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at New York University Medical Center.

The young woman devoted "26 hours a day" to the book. "I'm not the organized type, so it took all my time," she said.

Now she would like to write similar guides for handicapped persons in other cities. "And I'd love to do some for Europe—if I only had the money," she added.

"Lots of people think you're a brave, courageous person because you're handicapped," she continued. "But I'm the opposite of a pollyana.

"You either sink or swim when something like this happens. At the beginning, I was bewildered. I didn't analyze my thoughts because everything was so new and confusing. I made a slow adjustment, but I discovered that obstacles aren't so overpowering. I'm still me—but slightly older."

Subjects Had Good Example in Queen Bess

Queen Elizabeth I of England was reported to have "built herself a bath, where she does bathe herself once a month, whether she requires it or not."

Following her good example, history relates that members of the court took baths much more frequently — at least once a year.

Elizabeth is claimed to be the first women to have a cake of soap made especially for her — but no details are known.

Household Hint

Flawless Skins Abound Today With Fine Soap

As far back as 1530, a masculine appraiser of feminine beauty described a perfect complexion as "snow and roses."

Since there were no fine soaps for face-washing then, snowy skins were probably the exception rather than the rule they are today.

Good health and cleanliness are the modern prescriptions for a clear skin with rosy undertones.

Household Hint

When cleaning your porcelain sink, avoid strong, gritty powders that may mar the finish. Scouring powders that have a sudsing action are kinder to the sink as well as your hands.

No One Should Criticize

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Do you think it proper for an employer to expect his secretary to deliver mail to his apartment and stay to take dictation when illness makes it necessary for him to be absent from the office? His wife was away at the time and there was no one in the apartment. This has caused quite a discussion in our office and we would like to know what you think of this situation?"

Answer: This situation of a secretary and her temporarily invalided employer has occurred countless times and has never been disapproved of by anyone.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a receptionist and at Christmas time some of the representatives from various companies who call on us throughout the year are nice enough to give me presents. I would like to know if I should open them immediately in their presence or would it be proper to leave them as they are until Christmas, which I would rather do?"

Answer: If you say when you receive a present, "Thank you very much, but I am going to wait until Christmas to open it," that will be proper but you will have to write a letter of thanks after Christmas. If, on the other hand, you unwrap the present when you receive it, your appreciative verbal thanks are all that can be expected of you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: It seems that just as we sit down to dinner at night it is a signal for the telephone to ring, and I get up to answer it. My husband gets very annoyed at having his dinner delayed and thinks that I should explain to whoever it is that we are eating dinner. Don't you think this is rude?"

Answer: Not rude at all. If the conversation threatens to run to any length, you can, and should, say that you are at dinner and offer to call the person back later.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am planning to be married shortly. My parents are divorced and my father has remarried. I am going to ask my father to give me away. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite his wife to the wedding. I would rather not as I know her presence at the wedding will cause my mother distress."

Answer: Your father's present wife should be invited to the church and given a seat in the third or fourth pew on your side. A place beside her is reserved for your father, to which he goes after giving you away. He and his wife leave the church with the guests and neither of them go to the reception.

Vegetable Soup Makes a Moist Meat Loaf

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You'll want something easy to make and not too hard on the budget for meals this week, other than those on Thursday. Why not have a juicy meat loaf, made in the way Mrs. Rembert Orlowski makes hers? The family will enjoy the bits of vegetables they find in each slice.

Mrs. Orlowski has two small children. She and her husband like to hunt and brought home some pheasant this year. Mrs. Orlowski also likes to give parties.

VEGETABLE SOUP MEAT LOAF
By Mrs. Rembert Orlowski

2 pounds ground beef
1 can condensed vegetable soup
1 beaten egg
½ cup breadcrumbs
1 chopped onion
1 teaspoon worchestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Mix together lightly and shape into a loaf. Bake one hour at 350 degrees. Makes 6-8 servings.

'Slipcover' Made for Steam Iron

One of the newest save-your-clothes gadgets is a "slipcover" for your steam iron. This allows you to press even dark fabrics without leaving a shine.

The cover itself should be washed often in hot soap or detergent suds to remove dark dye and heat marks.

Days Past Had Charm, but——

Some folks still hanker after "the good old days." Well dubtless they were wonderful fun. Only a diehard conservative could seriously wish for their return.

Few housewives would want to go back to making their own soap out of cooking fats and drippings, mixed with lye and boiled for hours. Not many families would advocate a return of the Chic Sale.

And certainly very few of us would want to go back to sleeping on a mattress that consisted of a muslin bag filled with duck feathers in the winter and hay or cornshucks during the summer months.

There may be nostalgic carm to the old ways. But store-bought detergents are more efficient for house cleaning, modern plumbing keeps the feet dry, and a firm, level mattress and spring combination that serves comfort for years without much care certainly has the olc sagging sack beat a mile.

Empty Orange Bag Holds Bath Fleet

Families with small children often wonder what to do with the bathtub fleet when older persons want a bath.

An inexpensive hammock for wet tub toys can be made of an empty orange bag. Hang it between the faucets and it will hold the toys and also let them dry out.

Marriage a Blessing — Abby

Couple Grateful for Each Other

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have been married 24 years and loved every minute of it. We have had bad times, strikes, layoffs and illness but we have come through all right. If one has a complaint, we air it out and talk it over. We never go to bed mad at each other.

ABBY

"We have one son who recently married. His wife is a doll. A little older than him — but so what? They are happy. I had been married before but that is never brought up. My husband lived with another woman before he married me but that is never brought up, either.

"We get along with our in-laws like eggs and bacon. We trust each other. I just thought you might like to get a letter like this for a change. Isn't it a relief from the crazy mixed-up world?"

MRS. J. MAC N.

DEAR MRS. MAC N: You bet! And what an appropriate letter to print on Thanksgiving!

"DEAR ABBY: I am a sophomore in college. Last night I went out with a girl and she tried to get fresh with me. I am not square, Abby, but I believe that some things are sacred. I don't object to a good-night kiss or a few affectionate hugs along with handholding at the proper time, but I don't think advances on the part of the girl are right. Is there something the matter with the way I was raised, or is this the accepted mode of courtship these days?"

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Nothing has changed. There will always be girls who think "a gentleman is a patient wolf." Stick to your principles!

"DEAR ABBY: We are two working girls who share a one-bedroom apartment. We have to get up at 6:30 every morning to go to work and we need our sleep. An old bachelor, who has a very active social life, moved into the apartment next to ours and he keeps very irregular hours, but our biggest problem is this: We can hear him gargling at all hours of the morning and night. Two nights last week he gargled between three and four in the morning. This morning he was gargling at 5:30. You can't call a man up and tell him to stop gargling, but it is very annoying just the same. Any suggestions?"

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Ask your landlord to either silence the gargler, move him — or "cough up" a more quiet apartment for you. (P.S. Last resort — ear plugs.)

"DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle this argument between me and my husband? My husband refuses to wear a wedding ring. He says wedding rings are for women not men. I told him that if he doesn't have to wear one, neither do I. What do you think?"

LITTLE GOLD BAND

DEAR LITTLE: Silence IS golden, but the little gold band is far from silent. It speaks volumes. If your husband refuses to advertise his marital status he is wrong. Two wrongs don't make a right. Wear yours.

New Wide Belts Transform Old Style Dresses

Transform last year's dress into this year's fashion with a belt, says an accessories firm advisor. Belts must be "very, very wide," she emphasized. "A six-inch belt is not a rarity now."

For softly-draped belts, use fabrics such as suedes, velvets, and satins. Black is still the top shade, but brown, navy, grey, and soft rainbow colors are suitable. Self bows, pockets and fringes are used on belts for daytime.

For evening, trim belts with rhinestones or jewels, she recommended.

George Courtney, Bride Visit Niagara Falls

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. George William Courtney will reside on North Ardmore avenue upon returning from their wedding trip to Niagara Falls. The couple was married Saturday evening at Grace Lutheran Church by the Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer. Some 150 guests witnessed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride, the former Karen Elizabeth Gorsline, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gorsline of Pioneer drive. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Courtney of Draper avenue.

A basque waist and semi-scoop neckline, appliqued with Alencon lace and embroidered with seed pearls, highlighted the bride's taffeta gown. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train, and a bandeau headpiece of Venice lace embroidered with pearls secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion.

White roses and feathered carnations in a colonial spray comprised the bridal bouquet.

MRS. GEORGE COURTNEY

Mrs. Jack Alexander of Flint was matron of honor, and the bridesmaid was Charolette Sloan of Port Huron. Both were gowned identically in mint green satin waltz-length dresses with accents of forest green. Their flowers were bronze pompons in a colonial arrangement.

Clyde Benjamin Courtney, the bridegroom's brother was best man. Ushers included Roger Maison, Lawrence Maison and Jack Nicholas.

Mrs. Gorsline wore a dress of blue lace with navy accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Courtney selected a beige paisley print jersey dress and wore a spray corsage of bronze cymbidium orchids.

Following a reception held at the church, the new Mrs. Courtney changed to a navy blue wool dress featuring a scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves for the couple's trip to the Falls.

The bride is a graduate of Hurley Hospital School of Nursing, Flint.

Don't Put Burden of Obligation on Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Last year the city public school attended by the B. children became overcrowded, and Mrs. B. feared her children would receive an inferior education.

She succeeded in having a private school take her younger son on scholarship. However, the school denied one to his older brother, Russell.

After talking it over with her husband, Mrs. B. took a job in a department store to pay for Russell's tuition.

One evening, Russell wouldn't get down to his English homework. Instead of writing a composition on what he'd have felt about Thanksgiving if he'd been a Pilgrim child, he insisted on looking at magazine pictures of a missile launching.

Pressed by his mother to get going, he protested that his teacher was a sourpuss whom nobody could please, and that he was tired of figuring out what Pilgrim boys felt anyway.

Mrs. B. snatched Russell's magazine away from him. She said, "I should think you'd be ashamed of yourself! I stand on my feet all afternoon working to get you a decent education—and you can't even do your homework.

"I don't like my supervisor any more than you like Miss Baldwin. But I do what I'm told for your sake."

This speech so subdued Russell that he wrote his composition.

The trouble is, he continued being subdued. He's stopped protesting Miss Baldwin's behavior.

He's stopped complaining about the kids down the block who harass his comings and goings. He no longer reminds his mother when his allowance is due—and becomes very agitated before school tests.

Mrs. B. thinks, "What a lovely change. Now at last Russ has got down to brass tacks."

Russ hasn't got down to brass tacks at all. He's just terrified of disappointing the noble parent who stands on her feet all afternoon for him.

Working mothers often experience resentment at the two demands of home and job. We should try to accept it as natural. If we don't, we'll start glorifying it as Mrs. B. did—and force children to try and appear as noble and long-suffering as we are.

* * *

If we can't accept it, we'd do well to quit working. Nothing we can buy children is worth the burden of obligation our martyrdom puts on them.

Beige an Ideal Hue for Woman Wedding Again

The woman who is marrying a second time can be a beautiful bride. But white is not her color and neither is black.

She should choose a neutral (Beige or gray) or, if she likes, a softened color.

Brilliant colors are not for her. The beige lace suit with collar in mink or ginger chinchilla is ideal.

Avoid Sniffles in Cold Season, Outdoor Fans

True sportsmen ignore the weather. And then someone has to chase away their colds and aches and pains.

For ice fishing enthusiasts, a good water-resistant, insulating seat helps ward off chills.

Carry a sheet of plastic foam for sitting, and also for keeping feet off cold, moist ground.

Somehow there's nothing quite so good looking as a slim and trim ski suit and this one of turquoise Swiss cotton corduroy is no exception. Despite its fashionableness it's workman like too with a zippered jacket that has a drawstring bottom and cozy hood.

Protect Teeth, They Add Much to Good Looks

Take care of your teeth and they will take care of much of your beauty, says a world-famous Hollywood beauty authority.

If you are a career girl, carry a portable tooth brush and a tube of tooth paste in your handbag and use them immediately after a mid-morning snack, after lunch, and after dining out. Keep them in your bag and make use of them after a theatre supper.

A perfect rule is to brush your teeth before repairing lipstick after every meal or snack.

Then, not only your smile will be sparkling and attractive, but your teeth will be safe from harmful decaying food deposits and your breath will be sweet all of the time.

Foot Defects Prevalent

Results of a study reported by a foot health council shows that 85 per cent of all girls in the country and 65 per cent of all boys develop foot defects by the time they graduate from high school.

According to the report the most frequent cause of children's foot defects is the wearing of outgrown and improper socks.

Bulky socks and stretch socks should be replaced by medium weight mercerized cotton socks which provide best moisture absorption and evaporation capacity without crimping the toes or irritating the feet. These socks should be worn one-half inch longer than the longest toe.

Next most frequent cause of foot defects in children is the wearing of outgrown and poorly fitting shoes. In a child's shoe, there should be the width of the adult thumb between the end of the foot and the end of the shoe. The heel should fit snugly but not tightly, and the arch should provide adequate support. The counter should be firm and wide.

Proper care of children's feet is essential to good health, schoolwork, and physical activity. Foot defects can lead to serious problems in adulthood, ranging from unexplained headaches to symptoms of arthritis.

Look for Hood in Winter Wear

The hood will top off the fashion scene this winter. In pliable jersey that caps the head sleekly, the hood wraps about the throat and buttons snugly at the back, while its deep cuff can be worn inside or outside a coat for added warmth.

* * *

Texture knits that simulate stripes appear in wool and angora hoods with adjustable drawstring closings. Helmet hoods that take their inspiration from the crusaders have wind resistance.

What Young People Think

7 in 10 Teenagers Have Plans for College

By ENGENE GILBERT

Despite (or is it because of?) talk that it's increasingly hard to get into college, most teeners have their hearts set on attending. And they've started worrying about it early.

In a recent countrywide survey, more than 70 per cent of those questioned said they planned to go to college. An even greater number — 85 per cent — said their parents wanted them to attend college.

Little more than half the youngsters had a definite college in mind, but three-quarters of them were worried about getting into the college of their choice once they picked it.

"Every year more and more students are going to college, making it harder to get in," worried 16-year-old John Birken of Valley Stream, N.Y.

Norman Goldberg, 17, of Brighton, Mass., echoed him:

TOUGH COMPETITION

"Competition is very steep and two of my friends were refused from the college I plan to go to."

Parents have more faith in their sons and daughters than the youngsters have in themselves. More than half the teeners reported that their parents were not worried.

Both teenagers and parents felt that grades are most important in college acceptance. Eighty-eight per cent of the teeners listed academic average as the single most important factor. And many who said their parents were worried, echoed Frank Raube III of Elkins Park, Pa.:

"My parents feel I should have studied harder."

A surprising number — more than one-third — of the teeners said they would not go to a "second choice" college should they be refused by the school of their choice.

"Either the best or none at all for me," was the stubborn reply from 16-year-old Ramsey Troller of San Francisco.

But 70 per cent were sure they could get into another college even if they were refused by their first choice.

There were no complaints of favoritism in college acceptances. The poll showed 95 per cent of the teeners felt college acceptance standards are fair — and only three per cent listed "pull" as an important factor in admission.

Those who aren't worried about acceptance also count heavily on grades.

"My scholastic record in high school would get me into any college," says a Georgia boy with placid confidence.

Either the youngsters are following their parents' advice or the parents are trailing along with their children's wishes. Eighty per cent of the teeners said their parents preferred the teener's choice of a college.

There were a variety of suggestions for improving the college picture — building more schools, enlarging existing ones and limiting admission to those with ability to do college work.

"The world can be run intelligently only if there are enough intelligent people to run it," wrote Earl Smythe of Denver.

Like many of his contemporaries, he felt any student should be permitted to go to college — but should be dropped speedily if he can't do the work.

Asked why they wanted a college education, teenagers replied with the standard reasons of preparing for better jobs or general self improvement.

You have to listen to informal, private conversation to hear another big, basic reason.

A tremendous proportion of teenagers want to go to college because they are looking forward to an active social life — proms, football weekends and campus fun.

Box of Cards Will Give Joy to State Patient

For those wishing to add a little Christmas joy to the lives of Pontiac State Hospital patients—boxes of new or unused Christmas cards with envelopes and stamps are a welcome gift.

Patients will then be able to mail out their own cards to send their personal Christmas messages to relatives and friends.

Without these generous donations, patients have no way to send their own Holiday greetings.

80 Attend Meeting

Eighty members attended the meeting of Daughters of Isabella held Monday evening at Knights of Columbus Hall.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Pfeffer and Estelle Stevens.

How Treat Teenager?

As in the story of the substitute teacher who barely kept one page ahead of her students in the algebra book, many mothers find themselves struggling to keep up with their teen-age daughters. Treat 'em like children? Or adults? The teenage daughters. Tream 'em bination of both. Surely, somewhere, there must be a middle ground!

And a problem that many girls and their parents seem to share is the lack of a middle ground of understanding. Girls say . . . "I can't discuss my problems with my mother," or "I'm fourteen years old, and mother treats me like a baby!" Parents, too, ask for guidance in dealing with their adolescent offspring.

Well, how do I establish a closer relationship with my daughter, you ask? A successful "meeting of the minds," like a successful cake, requires basic ingredients. Your ingredients are these: Humor, patience, and understanding. Have the humor to laugh with your daughter—never at her!

Have the patience to overlook her lapses and encourage her efforts, and the understanding to project yourself into her problems. We all go through the painful process of growing-up, yet it's amazing how many of us forget when we become parents.

2 Dead, One Missing as Plane Hits Bay

NEW YORK (AP)—An Air National Guard plane crashed into Jamaica Bay Wednesday while heading in to Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn. Two men died, one is missing, and a fourth was rescued.

The twin-engine C119, called a "Flying Boxcar," was attempting a radar-directed landing in rain and fog.

Recovered from the bay shortly after the crash were the bodies of Capt. Ramon Duke, 28, of Brooklyn, and 2nd Lt. David B. Hall, 29, of the Bronx.

The missing man was identified as Sgt. Ferdinand Roessner, 29, of Elmhurst, Queens.

Rescued by a police helicopter was Lt. Richard H. Westerberg, 22, of Brooklyn. Westerberg was picked up by a police helicopter rushed to the crash area. He was taken to St. Albans Naval Hospital Queens, where his condition was described as good.

The cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

Bob Hope on TV to Help Launch Explorers

NEW YORK — Bob Hope will emcee a special television show Saturday, at 4:30 p.m., to help the Boy Scouts of America launch the Explorers a new program for youths of high school age.

The hour-long feature, titled "Exploring with Hope," will be shown on the NBC television network.

Explorer posts are being formed throughout the country by boys with a common interest such as sports, science or nature. Teenagers tuning in to the telecast will find out how they may join.

"Exploring with Hope" will be produced live in NBC's Burbank Studio. An indoor swimming pool will be set up on stage for an explorer "splash party" race and demonstration of skin-diving with underwater equipment.

Members of a Los Angeles science post will launch a rocket they designed and built. Dr. Earl Herald, of the California Academy of Sciences, will explain and demonstrate how a rocket satellite orbits.

Ben Alexander, the Sergeant Smith of NBC-TV's "Dragnet," will talk with Hope about being an Explorer.

Police Group Delivers Baskets to 2 Families

The Fraternal Order of Police (Pontiac chapter) today delivered Thanksgiving baskets to two needy Pontiac families.

One basket went to a widow with seven children, the other to an unemployed couple with 11 children.

The 42-member chapter, organized this fall, plans to make gift baskets a regular feature during the holiday season, said James Lafnear, chapter president.

Girl, 18, Marries Liz Taylor's Ex, Nicky Hilton

NEW YORK (AP) — Hotel heir Conrad (Nicky) Hilton Jr., former husband of actress Elizabeth Taylor, was married Wednesday night to Patricia Blake McClintock.

The ceremony took place at the Plaza Hotel, operated by the groom's father. Only immediate members of the families were present.

Mrs. Hilton is the daughter of Mrs. Horace Schmidlapp of New York and Palm Beach, and Frank Grant McClintock of Tulsa, Okla.

Hilton, 32, was divorced from Miss Taylor in 1952. His bride, who has been studying at Finch College here, is 18 years old.

The first midget submarine for the Swedish Navy has been purchased from England. Sweden's archipelagoes are particularly suited to enemy operations with this type of craft, and Sweden is trying out various countermeasures.

Licenses Revoked or Suspended

15 Lose Driving Privileges

Fifteen Pontiac area residents lost their right to drive recently when their licenses were revoked or suspended, according to the Michigan Secretary of State's Office.

Those found guilty of having unsatisfactory driving records were: Curtis Kibby, Birmingham; Lester W. Kurkowski, Birmingham; Donald L. Laughrey, Waterford Township; George M. Lawrence, Birmingham; Jack McGrath, Waterford Township; Demstras J. Mouyianis, Southfield; and Amos P. Van Wagoner, Lake Orion.

Other residents who had their licenses taken away include John K. Albertson of Pontiac Township and Millard Miller of Birmingham, both for an unsatisfactory driving record and failure to appear for reexamination.

Completing the list are Robert S. Chrisman of Rochester and Eugene Younge of 811 Tyrone St., both for driving under the influence of liquor; Robert Hudack of Pontiac Township and Elbert C. Whitaker of Waterford Township, both for violating a license restriction; and David E. Monteville of Milford, unlawfully driving away an auto.

2 Pontiac Youths Await Hearing on Break-In

Two Pontiac youths have been bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court on a burglary charge after waiving examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

David E. Schoeneman, 18, of 71 Delaware Dr. and Maxin Schlanek, 17, of 9 Ruth St. will be arraigned Dec. 8. They are accused of breaking into Earl's Market, 701 Orchard Lake Ave. Nov. 15.

Given OK to Raise Rates for Teletype

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two big communications companies have government permission to raise their rates for private line teletypewriter service starting next Tuesday.

But all, or part, of the increase could be ordered returned if the Federal Communications Commission should decide later the boost was too big. The FCC now is studying the question.

Despite protests from major users, the FCC gave the go-ahead for rate boosts by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Union.

AT&T's higher rates are estimated to yield about $8,400,000 a year more. Western Union expects to take in an additional five million dollars on an annual basis.

Objections had been made by news organizations, major stock exchanges, at least one government agency and other users of teletypewriter service.

SINUS SUFFERERS

YAKITY YAK — Not hen pecked, but parrot pecked, is the long-suffering boxer with the mournful look. His spirit depressed, his jowls sagging, Cuddles, of Pueblo, Colo. can't get away from the constant, shrill nagging of Polliana, who is perched confidently astride his collar.

Egyptian Family Revered Dogs

Went Into Mourning Whenever Household Pet Died

WASHINGTON — Egyptian tablets and inscriptions carved 5,000 to 6,000 years ago show that dogs served as pets, hunters, and objects of reverence. When a dog died in ancient Egypt, the entire family went into mourning.

Every breed has a fascinating history. Aztecs sacrificed Chihuahuas in the hope that noblemen's sins would be transferred to the dogs. The Beagle, America's most popular dog, hunted hares in pre-Elizabethan England. The Irish Wolfhound, king of canines by virtue of his size fought in Rome's imperial circus in A.D. 291. The St. Bernard has saved some 2,500 lives in Alpine rescues.

As a family of mammals, dogs are still developing. Just since the 1890's, conformation, trim of coat, and ears of many familiar breeds have changed.

The dog's life has not always been easy. Currently, he is enjoying the golden age of dogdom. In the United States alone, 14 million families welcome him to their homes.

Board Warns Voodoo Dolls Peril to Health

LANSING (UPI) — Novelty voodoo dolls that can cause serious illness and death have been found in Michigan, the State Health Department states.

The department said the dolls, carved from cashew shells and used to top swizzle sticks, are believed responsible for an outbreak of skin ailments in Atlanta, Ga., and elsewhere in the nation.

The dolls are made and sold in Haiti as souvenirs. State health officials were checking on the possibility that they might be sold in Detroit.

French Veterans Lose in Election

Old-Time Politicians Dropping From Sight Before Sunday Runoff

PARIS (AP)—A number of faded faces dropped from the French political scene today as parties prepared for runoff parliamentary elections Sunday.

Former Premier Edouard Daladier, who represented France at the Munich conference, and former Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, who headed the government at the age of 42, withdrew their candidacies. Both had run far behind in the first round of voting last Sunday and seemed to have no chance of catching up.

Andrew le Troquer, a former president of the National Assembly, also withdrew. Pierre Poujade, who led tax-hating protest movement that captured 51 Assembly seats in the 1956 elections, stepped aside after being badly outdistanced.

Among a long list of former Cabinet members to give up efforts for re-election were Edward Teitgen, Edouard Bonnefous and Jean Masson.

Former Interior Minister Francois Mitterrand and former Foreign Minister Christian Pineau announced that they were staying in the race, although both ran far back in the first round. Mitterrand and Pineau were among the small group of non-Communists opposing Premier de Gaulle's new constitution.

The Communists announced that they were withdrawing 16 candidates to help Socialists or Radical Socialists against right-wing aspirants. All other Communists will stay in their races, although most estimates give the Reds a chance to elect only between 10 and 20 deputies. They had 145 in the last Assembly.

Boasts Biggest Crane

SAN FRANCISCO — The United Francisco boasts the largest and most powerful bridge crane in the world. It can lift 450 tons 18 stories.

Bob Considine Says:

Here Are Some Things to Be Thankful For

NEW YORK — Here are some things to be thankful for, in case you can't lay your hands or thoughts on any:

The sun continues to rise each morning. Just think of that! Never misses. It heats the earth, enables the plants and you and all you love to survive, makes jobs for a lot of Florida and California publicity men.

The moon is around, too, inspiring lovers, still unpunctured despite the efforts of the finest missile experts on both sides of the Iron Curtain to do it in.

The tides rise and fall, cleansing the shore lines and keeping the Bay of Fundy in the crossword puzzles.

Strange little packages of electronic gear, flying through space, are telling us more about our universe than we knew in the first million years of man's existence. You know more than Galileo.

Conrad Hilton is opening a new hotel in the middle of Berlin, and suddenly it is a monument to the West's determination to stay in business there.

Khrushchev is beginning to get a little nervous about China.

The TV westerns have run their cycle and will soon give way to the Civil War. Maybe one day we'll get around to Mr. Peppers again, and Herb Shriner, Sid Caesar and Wide Wide World and Peter Donald's "Can You Top This?"—which will be okay with me.

The paper you are reading is a bona fide miracle, purchased for a few pennies. To gather its news, men and women roamed the earth, composed the prose, got it to you—and damn the torpedoes.

We enjoy the fruit of the genius of Charles Kettering, who passed away the other day in Dayton, Ohio. Ket made it possible for women (and many men) to operate automobiles, by his invention of the self-starter. He devised the first electric home refrigerator that worked well. He gave most of his great fortune to the research department of the Sloan-Kettering Cancer Laboratories in New York—out of which could one day come his ultimate gift to mankind.

We are not ruled by Mao Tse Tung who in the past eight months, according to Time magazine, "has herded more than 90 per cent of mainland China's 500 million peasants into vast human poultry yards, called 'peoples's communes.' If Mao's historic gamble succeeds, the ordinary Chinese of day after tomorrow will have no fixed job, no home and no real family."

We can go to the church of our choice today and thank the Dear Lord that there's no one around to bar the path, or direct us where we don't want to go.

We can sleep tonight with no fear that there will be a pistol butt slammed against the door. It will just be the riveter, building the new office next door.

We can write a letter to the editor and state exactly what you like or dislike about the President, the Vice President, the Supreme Court, Congress, the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, motherhood and Westbrook Pegler.

The bomb hasn't dropped. Know how big the bomb is? Well, just one of them—the large economy sized megaton type—packs more devastation in its trim hide than all the aerial bombs dropped by all the combatants throughout World War II. And then some. Just one. Suddenly it's too big to throw.

There's one more thing to be thankful for this Thanksgiving. You can be thankful there's no law requiring you to be thankful if you'd prefer to be unthankful this Thanksgiving, anno domine 1958.

Detroit Shares Tenth Place

Anchorage Has Dirtiest Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tentative studies indicate that Anchorage, Alaska, has the nation's dirtiest air.

A nationwide air sampling conducted by the U. S. Public Health Service lists Anchorage as the city with the highest amount of air pollution.

Charleston, W. Va., and East Chicago, Ind., ranked closely behind. Detroit shared 10th place in the study with St. Louis, Mo., and El Paso, Tex.

Health service experts reported on some aspects of the survey at the national conference on air pollution.

The survey is the first comprehensive study of air pollution ever undertaken on a nationwide basis.

In compiling the following list of cities highest in air pollution, the concentration of atmospheric pollutants is expressed in micrograms per cubic meter of air. The data measures all pollutants expect radiation.

The list (with the number of years for which data is available for each city):

Anchorage (5), 269; Charleston (5), 261; East Chicago (3), 252; Phoenix, Ariz. (1), 246; Los Angeles (4), 238; San Bernardino, Calif. (1), 235; Chicago (4), 234; Philadelphia (5), 227; Buffalo, N. Y. (1), 220; Detroit (5), St. Louis (3) and El Paso (1)—all three with 215.

The health service is using the data to define the general dimensions of the air contamination problem. But it does not contend that the various ratings of the cities are 100 per cent accurate.

Caesar Stabbed by Shakespeare in Wrong Spot

ROME (AP) — Here's a reminder that Shakespeare and Gibbon stabbed Julius Caesar in the wrong place.

The Rome Department of Antiquities has announced it has discovered additional ruins of the 2,000-year-old theater of Pompey. The announcement duly noted that Caesar was stabbed to death at the theater March 15, 44 B.C.

William Shakespeare located Caesar's murder on Capitol Hill, on the edge of the forum. Edward Gibbon in his "Decline and Fall of The Roman Empire" said the death occurred in the forum.

The theater of Pompey is a good half mile from the forum.

How did Gibbon and Shakespeare err?

Caesar was murdered at the senate, and the senate—the two literary greats knew — was at the forum.

But they overlooked an important fact. In 44 B.C., the senate house was under construction. The senate was meeting in the theater of Pompey.

Hot Dogs by the Billion

Historic Nose Cone Given to Smithsonian

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has given to the Smithsonian Institution the first man-made object ever to soar into the fringes of space and be recovered undamaged.

It is the Jupiter-C Missile nose cone salvaged from the sea after a 1,321-mile flight that carried it 270 miles high.

Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker described the 2½-foot high cone, in a formal, floodlighted presentation ceremony, as "one of the outstanding firsts in the history of American scientific progress."

Leonard Carmichael, Smithsonian secretary, responded that the museum would "preserve it, protect it — and show it to generations yet unborn."

The cone is the one that President Eisenhower showed to a nationwide television audience shortly after its recovery in August 1957.

To Improve His Time?

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — Logan county commissioners got the information they requested when they took applications for a courthouse janitor's job. One applicant gave his address as the city jail.

Lindbergh Kidnaping Police Officer Dies

WEST ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Maj. Gen. H. Norman Schwarzkopf (Ret.), who headed the New Jersey State Police at the time of the Lindbergh kidnaping case, died Tuesday night at his home. He was 63.

The onetime military adviser to the Persian government has been in retirement for several years. The cause of death was not disclosed.

Despite his accomplishments as a soldier, businessman and organizer, it was as a policeman that he won national attention.

Schwarzkopf in 1932 led the state police hunt for the kidnaper of the Charles A. Lindbergh son. Schwarzkopf drew criticism from Gov. Harold G. Hoffman that he had "bungled" the case.

Hoffman refused to reappoint the tall, crisp military man to a fourth term as state police superintendent in 1936.

Hair Raising Tale

PHOENIX (AP) — The sheriff's office had a hair raising case. Someone broke into a television company's sound stage and stole $225 worth of props. The missing property: three Indian wigs.

Britain Honors U.S. War Dead

Nixon, Queen Attend Dedication of Memorial Chapel in London

LONDON (AP)—Vice President Nixon and 12 other Americans stood with Queen Elizabeth II in crowded St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday as Britain dedicated a memorial chapel to American war dead.

The pomp and pageantry of British royalty and the Church of England marked the solemn occasion in the hallowed cathedral.

Nixon flew to London Tuesday to represent President Eisenhower at the ceremony. The 12 other Americans who had places of honor were next-of-kin of some of the 28,000 U.S. servicemen the chapel commemorates, men who died during World War II in Britain or in operations from British bases.

Eleven of the 12 had come from America by plane for the dedication. The 12th lives in London.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, dedicated the chapel to mark "the common sacrifice made by British and American peoples during the second world war."

He said it honored "our brethren of the United States of America who, living and serving among us, gave their lives in the cause of freedom, justice and truth."

Nixon, in formal morning dress, arrived with his wife at St. Paul's a few minutes before the ceremony. Then came the Queen with Prince Philip, Queen Mother Elizabeth and Princess Margaret.

Nixon chatted briefly with the Queen, then escorted her in the solemn processional.

Prince Philip walked with Mrs. Nixon.

Nixon shook hands with the relatives of the American war dead and the Queen spoke to them, then walked to her place beside Nixon.

A color guard of enlisted men from the three American services carried the Stars and Stripes to the altar.

After the dedication and consecration, the Queen stepped forward and unveiled a marble pedstal on which the memorial roll of honor rests.

A lone American bugler in the gallery high above sounded the mournful Taps of the U.S. services. A British trumpeter silhouetted in a window answered with Reveille. Then from the choir and congregation packing the cathedral came the stirring "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The memorial chapel stands in the east end of the cathedral, which is Christopher Wren's most renowned 17th century contribution to English architecture.

The two-foot-high memorial book rests in a gilt and glass case atop the marble pedestal. Its 474 vellum pages are bound in gold-blocked crimson leather. Each morning one will be turned to display a different group of the hand-lettered names.

Tax Program Terms Outlined by Williams

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams as laid down terms for acceptability of Conlin Tax Study Committee recommendations expected next week.

He said yesterday he will not accept any tax revision program that fails ot conform with "fundamental conceptions of tax equity," and set up five concepts as his measuring stick.

In the main, Williams argued, as he often has before, that low income families bear a disproportionately large share of the state tax burden, and that this share ought to be cut rather than raised.

Removal Sale!

Our old store that was burned out by fire is nearly completed and rather than move all of our stock from our temporary location, we are going to discount our prices so that you will buy it right down to the walls!

In these days of bargains, bargains, bargains, it is well to consider just what comprises values and the reputation of the store advertising them. We believe a bargain to be an unusual offering on name brand mechandise not offered during normal selling periods. Because we are moving into a completely renovated building, we do not wish to move any of the old merchandise in, so on such an occasion one can buy quality at sacrifice prices.

No cheap, inferior merchandise bought especially for sale purposes, but our regular fine carpeting, tile and linoleum will all be on sale. A sale with a reason—not an excuse — we're vacating our present location to return to our old address, 11 North Perry. Hurry for these wonderful bargains!

Washington State Barred From Bowl

Block Formed by Southern Cal, UCLA Officials

Offers Had Included $160,000 Sugar Bowl and Gator Game

SPOKANE (AP)—The "$160,000 Sugar Bowl veto" by UCLA and Southern California rankled Washington State football fans today in perhaps a final ironic chapter of the bitter north-south feud that killed the Pacific Coast Conference.

The two Los Angeles schools invoked a seldom used article in the PCC constitution yesterday to block a vote on WSC's request for a waiver of a conference rule against any post season game but the Rose Bowl.

The Cougars, with a 7-3 record, were nosed out for the roses by California but were being considered by both the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans and the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

Dr. C. Clement French, the WSC president who said he was "shocked" at the USC and UCLA action, said seven of the nine conference schools were in favor of giving the Cougars permission for a post season game.

It took only a simple majority. Thus, if USC and UCLA had merely voted against the proposal, it would have passed 7-2. Instead, they blocked the vote altogether and the WSC petition failed.

The two Southern California schools, often at odds in the PCC with WSC, brought up article 4-G of the constitution which holds that petitions such as Washington State presented can be voted upon only at a regular meeting unless all agree otherwise. WSC asked for a telegraphic vote. The next conference meeting is scheduled for Dec. 7.

Athletic Director Stan Bates of WSC said there are no provisions for a special meeting and that the Dec. 7 agenda has already been made up. He said the USC and UCLA action shocked him, too, "But the real losers are our players who deserved a bowl game."

The Sugar Bowl, already a sellout, could have brought the Cougars $160,000. Bates said WSC offered to split up any bowl money among PCC member schools if the Cougars went to a bowl.

The news today stunned the campus at Pullman and brought bitter comments from alumni, fans and northwest sports writers.

"How could they be so petty," said Cap. Don Ellingsen, the Cougar end.

Local reporters, looking for partisan man in the street comment, found Jerry Perkins, a milk man, who said: "I wouldn't root for USC and UCLA now if they were playing Russia."

Robert Neilson, national president of the WSC Alumni Assn., announced plans to send chiding "thank you" cards to USC and UCLA. He said his group will also start a campaign to raise funds to send the WSC players to the Rose Bowl as spectators.

Wolverine Skaters in Opener Tonight

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's hockey team opens its season and four-game road trip tonight against St. Lawrence in Canton, N.Y.

Coach Al Renfrew's skaters begin the season hard hit by injuries and academic losses.

The Wolverines will play Clarkson at Potsdam, N.Y., Friday, St. Lawrence again Saturday and the University of Toronto Monday before returning home.

The first home game is against McGill Dec. 12.

Michigan will be operating as an independent team this season. The Western Intercollegiate Hockey League in which the Wolverines played for several seasons has disbanded.

Goalie Ross Childs, defensemen Barrie Hayton and Capt. Bob Watt, and forwards John Huttons, Gary Mattson and Bob White are some of the veterans returning for Renfrew's second season as coach.

Pro Cage Officials Angry Over Southern Treatment

NBA Protests Segregation

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — A dispute over treatment of Negro professional basketball players in this Southern city has, for the moment, clouded the future of pro basketball games at the Charlotte Coliseum.

National Basketball Assn. teams normally play one game here each season, but the contracts are on a year to year basis. Contracts for next year's games have not been signed, according to Paul Buck, Coliseum manager.

Executives of two NBA clubs, the Boston Celtics and the Minneapolis Lakers, said they were angry over the treatment Negro players received here for a game Monday night.

"I don't care if we ever go back," said Celtics owner Walter Brown. "I know one thing—I'll never do anything to embarrass my players."

Laker president Richard Short also indicated displeasure because Negro players were not permitted to eat with white teammates at local restaurants and were housed in a separate hotel.

The Negro players involved included former college All-Americans Elgin Baylor and Bill Russell.

Baylor, rookie scoring ace for the Lakers, said the hotel he and two other Negro players were assigned "was a hole. It was really decrepit."

Russell, center for the Celtics, said he was "shocked and hurt" by the segregation laws which forced him and teammates K. C. Jones and Ben Swain to find rooms for Negroes. A fourth Celtic player, Sam Jones, stayed with relatives here.

Buck said "it was unfortunate that this had to happen.

"Mr. Brown and I are old and dear friends. He helped get the ball game here and he even helped get the building (the Coliseum) off the ground in 1954."

Injury Is Fatal to Hockey Star

Denver's Barry Sharp Hit on Head by Puck During Practice

DENVER (AP)—An ice hockey star at the University of Denver died early today after being hit on the head by a puck during a practice session.

Barry Sharp of Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, was seized by convulsions while being X-rayed at a hospital following the accident yesterday. Doctors promptly went to surgery to remove a blood clot on his brain.

Sharp, 24, was a center on Denver's NCAA champion team last spring.

The injury came while Sharp, a senior in engineering, was practicing for a charity game Saturday night between the Denver varsity and an alumni team. Sharp was to have played with the alumni since his elgibility has expired.

Half the proceeds from Saturday night's game will go to Sharp's former Denver teammate George Congrave of Edmonton, Alberta.

Congrave suffered brain damage last winter when he fell and a teammate's skate pierced his skull. Congrave since has been undergoing special therapy.

Sign for Rematch

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ralph "Tiger" Jones and Rory Calhoun have been signed for a rematch here and will top the card for the 33rd annual Toyshop Fund program Dec. 15.

THANKFUL — The family of Roy Campanella have something to be thankful for this holiday weekend. The former Dodger catcher who was paralyzed following an auto accident nearly 10 months ago, is home after a long hospital stay. His wife Ruthe, and children Princess 5, Tony 8 and Ray Jr. 10 are happy to have him home.

Helping Bump Elliott Carve Turkey

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Helping to carve Bump Elliott's turkey for him, here's a Thanksgiving Day peek at the three men most prominently mentioned as newcomers to his Michigan football staff.

They are Archie Kodros, Jerry Burns and Hank Fonde, all ex-Wolverine gridders.

Kodros—A strong possibility to become line coach if Jack Blott steps down. He is 40, a member of Forest Evashevski's Iowa staff on which Elliott also was trained. Kodros was center and captain of the 1939 Wolverines.

Kodros has been a head coach at Hawaii and Whitman College in Iowa. He is Evy's chief scout and heir apparent, so he possibly wouldn't be agreeable to returning to his alma mater.

Burns—A candidate for the backfield coaching job vacated when Elliott was promoted. He was a Wolverine back in 1949 and became Iowa's backfield coach when Elliott returned to Michigan in 1957. Burns is an energetic recruiter, the man responsible for luring many of Michigan's outstanding high school stars to Iowa.

Burns would be an asset to Elliott's staff because he'd fit in with its youthful makeup. He coached in Detroit high school circles and would be invaluable in Michigan's stepped-up recruiting program.

Fonde—Another backfield coaching candidate. Fonde, a teammate and close personal friend of Elliott, has been coaching the highly successful Ann Arbor High team for several years.

He recently gave up his post as assistant principal at the school, a tip that he may be moving. However, Fonde has turned down previous offers to become backfield coach at Michigan. The promotion of Elliott to the top post could make Fonde receptive to a new offer.

Assistant line coach Bob Holloway and freshman coach Don Dufek are sure to be retained from the Bennie Oosterbaan era. Both are young. Holloway, it would seem, would be the logical choice as line coach should Blott leave.

But he was an end as a Michigan player. He could become end coach in place of Matt Patanelli with Kodros becoming line coach.

Of course, neither of the Iowa men could be brought here until the Hawkeyes fulfill their New Year's Day commitment in the Rose Bowl.

Elliott's staff probably won't be completed until February, the traditional time for coaches to accept new jobs.

Richard Gets 600th, but Bow to Rangers

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens, overwhelming choices to win the National Hockey League title, are not having the easy time they expected despite the usual excellence of Maurice "The Rocket" Richard.

Richard scored his 600th big league goal last night. But the Canucks blew 2-0 and 3-2 leads and dropped a 5-3 decision to the New York Rangers in Madison Square Garden.

The Montreal setback coupled with Detroit's 5-2 victory over Toronto enabled the Red Wings to move into a first place deadlock with the Canadiens. The leaders have 23 points, one more than the Rangers and Boston Bruins.

Grape Vine

BILL CORNWELL
President, Swami Association

Well, as ex-president of the Swami Association, Bruno L. Kearns, said in his column recently: "It isn't healthy for one team to dominate a league." Thus saying, he fell with his own words.

After two years as champion of the Grapevine conducted by the Loyal Order of Swamis, Kearns had to pass the crystal ball on to Swami Bill Cornwell.

With the rest of the Swami Association eliminated from the race, Swami Cornwell this week has the honor of picking the final selections himself.

"I promise to uphold the rules of the Swami Association and pick only the ripest grapes from the grapevine," said the new Swami president.

These were the final Grapevine totals:

Bill Cornwell	.....157 Right,	52 Wrong	.....751
H. Guy Moats	.....136 Right,	73 Wrong	.....650
Chuck Abair	.....135 Right,	74 Wrong	.....645
Bruno Kearns	....131 Right,	78 Wrong	.....625

Swami Cornwell's winners for this week:

Army vs. Navy at Philadelphia—ARMY.
Texas A&M at Texas—TEXAS.
Cornell at Pennsylvania—PENN.
Notre Dame at Southern California—NOTRE DAME.
Oklahoma at Oklahoma State—OKLAHOMA.
Mississippi State at Mississippi—MISSISSIPPI.
Tennessee at Vanderbilt—VANDERBILT.
Penn State at Pittsburgh—PITT.
Texas Christian at Southern Methodist—TCU.
Lions vs. Packers at Detroit—LIONS.
Steelers vs. Bears at Pittsburgh—BEARS.
Colts vs. 49ers at Baltimore—COLTS.

Drop in License Sales Hits Conservation Work

LANSING — Michigan's Conservation Department continues to operate on an "austerity" basis caused by recession-hit hunting and fishing license sales.

The department's game and fish protection fund, which pays lion's shares of law enforcement, fish, game, education and other programs, is up from last year about 30 per cent as a result of increased license prices in effect this year.

But this is not enough to offset earlier deficits and to meet rising operational costs. The result has been restricted programs throughout the state's conservation scene.

Many equipment purchases have been deferred, and vacant positions are being unfilled. Various other belt-tightening measures also have been placed in effect in recent months.

Department officials expect the coming year to see some leveling off if the general economic scene continues to better.

Soviet Invited to Prep Tourney

HEALDSBURG, Calif. (AP) — The director of the Healdsburg Redwood Empire Basketball Tournament Wednesday invited Soviet premier Nikita Khrushchev to send the Soviet high school champions to compete.

Art McCaffrey cabled the premier direct and hoped for an answer within 48 hours.

"I believe the teenage exchange would be a wonderful thing and would foster better relationships," McCaffrey said. "Healdsburg would like to be the first U.S. city to be visited by a Soviet high school team."

The annual high school tournament will be held Dec. 12, 13 and 15. It has been a fixture for 10 years and a sellout.

Redshirts Trounce Leafs, 5-2

Wings in 1st Place Tie

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings meet the Toronto Maple Leafs in a Thanksgiving night game deadlocked for first place in the tight National Hockey League race.

The Wings powered their way into a first-place tie with the Montreal Canadiens with a 5-2 victory over the Maple Leafs last night in Toronto.

In a wild game marked by two outbursts of fighting, the Wings scored five times in the first two periods.

Gordie Howe, Jack McIntyre, Len Lunde, Tom McCarthy and Nick Mickowski accounted for the Detroit goals.

Dave Creighton and Ron Stewart scored for the last place Leafs who have not won a game since they stopped Detroit 2-0 Nov. 9.

Toronto was never a threat and found penalties costly.

The first fight broke out as the second period ended. Detroit's Forbes Kennedy and Toronto's Barry Cullen exchanged blows behind the Leafs' net and drew five minute major penalties.

Pete Goegan and Leaf center Billy Harris collided near the Wing goal late in the final period. Several other players got into the scramble. Goegan drew a minor penalty for spearing and one for roughing. Harris was given two minutes for roughing and a minor for high sticking.

Jordon Sparks Piston Victory

Phil Nets 24 Points as Detroiters Thump Royals, 112-95

CINCINNATI (AP) — Phil Jordon's sharpshooting accounted for 24 points and the Detroit Pistons scored an easy 112-95 victory over the last place Cincinnati Royals in a National Basketball Assn. game last night.

Cincinnati never got closer to the Pistons than seven points in the last half and Jordon connected on two fast field shots to start the Detroit romp with 8:37 to go.

Detroit's Walter Dukes and the Royals' Jim Palmer enlivened the third period with a brief flurry of fighting.

The Pistons hit on 56 per cent of their field shots in the first half and held a 61-41 lead at the intermission.

Jordon was high scorer for Detroit. Jack Twyman was big for Cincinnati with 19. The Pistons compiled a 48 per cent field shot record for the entire game. The Royals had a 37 per cent mark.

In other games, Boston whipped New York 121-109 to move within two games of the Eastern leaders and St. Louis walloped Syracuse 112-95. Bill Sharman paced Boston with 22, Bob Pettit topped St. Louis with 31.

OUTDOORSMAN OF YEAR — Named by the country's outdoors writers as "Outdoorsman of the Year," Gen. Curtis E. LeMay has received a scroll and a gold and silver inlaid and engraved shotgun as a trophy. John Olin of Olin Mathieson Corp. presented the gun, the 16,000,000th Winchester.

From The PRESS BOX

Billy Austin has been selected Back of the Week by the Associated Press for his 34-point performance against Columbia last week. His comment: "It wasn't my best game." Buddy Dial of Rice, who worries about music as much as he does about pro grid scouts, won the top lineman award. Quarterback Jackie Parker of Edmonton was named the outstanding player in Canada for the 2nd straight year.

Missouri's star fullback Hank Kuhlman and Holy Cross pitching star Hal Dietz have been signed by the St. Louis Cardinals. Kuhlman, a catcher, reportedly received a bonus of about $30,000. Dietz got over $10,000.

Center Gene Cherney of Illinois, Ron Toth, Notre Dame fullback, and Missouri tackle Owen Worstell are the latest additions to the Yankee squad for the Blue-Gray grid battle.

Assuming new Minor League managerial posts next spring will be former Giant great Travis Jackson and Joe Schultz, a veteran manager and ex-Major League catcher. Jackson will manage the Eau Claire, Wis., farm of the Braves while Schultz takes over Omaha.

Pontiac area prep swimmers are just about ready for a really interesting campaign, what with two new coaches and one brand new squad entering the picture.

At Pontiac Central, where Robert (Des) Boyce, veteran mentor left the job, Gene Norris has taken over. The new Northern squad is working under direction of former U. of M. tanker, Edwin Dauw, and both are giving the Central pool a busy time.

Northern's fine new "tank" may not be ready for use until late in January, or February, says Dauw. In the meantime both squads train, and will swim home meets, at PCH.

Central and Northern both open their schedules Dec. 5, the Chiefs at Ypsilanti and Northern entertaining University High of Ann Arbor. The city's newest rivals meet twice this winter, Dec. 16 and Feb. 17.

Probably the most outstanding squad of the area will again be Jay Myers' Birmingham Eastern Michigan League champions for the 10th year. Maples boast a brilliant dual meet record that now stands at 22 straight wins. They were EML champions, and 3rd in the state meet last spring. Maples face a tough opener in Grosse Pte. Dec. 2, at home. Pointe was 5th in the state in 1957-1958.

Milt Hurd at Southfield will field an improved squad this winter, and has arranged an ambitious 14-meet schedule.

Northern's new squad is small, numbering 12, with three of last year's PCH lettermen its backbone. They are Bill Ratliff diver and breast stroke, and Gary Rose (team's only senior) in butterfly and medley. Other promising boys are Wally Johnson (state YMCA champion last spring) in the backstroke, Tom Ely (also former YMCA swimmer) in freestyle. Jim Tuttle, backstroke, is also a former PCH crawl swimmer.

Little Dick Gould (14 years old) a sophomore, is another promising boy, Dauw says.

"Traveling back and forth four miles for each workout, is rather rough on the kids," says Dauw, who had hoped to get into his own pool some time in December. "Now it looks like we'll have to wait until early in February," he added.

Chiefs are banking on eight returning lettermen for the nucleus of an improved Valley squad. Several have two years experience and should offer improved performances during a tough season, that includes top-rated Arthur Hill, a stronger Flint Central crew and better-rated Bay City.

Returnees include Dennis Roberts, leading dash man; Ron Hoekman, freestyler; Barry Horst, freestyle; Jerry Powers, butterfly and medley; Johnny Blamy, backstroke and medley; Jim Gibbs, veteran backstroke and medley swimmer; Jim Ruth, freestyle, relay; Jerry Gavette, orthodox breaststroke, butterfly.

Others figured to lend important help include Doug Roeser (freestyle), Bruce Lewis (diving), Greg Uligian (freestyle), Ted Gaensbauer (freestyle), and Bruce Norvell, breaststroke and medley. Norvell is one of the most promising newcomers to the varsity squad.

Maples have a balanced squad, that has few stars, but packs lots of power in co-captains Dave Smith and Bill Buick, plus 11 other lettermen. Dave is an all-around performer. Diver John Hyde has been lost for the season because of an ear infection, but Myers still has EML champion Fred Wickham to work the springboard.

Area prep schedules:

Pontiac Central—Dec. 5 at Ypsilanti; Dec. 12 Arthur Hill; Dec. 16, Pontiac Northern; Dec. 19, at Flint Central; Jan. 9, Bay City; Jan. 16, at Flint Northern; Jan. 23, at Saginaw High; Jan. 30, at Arthur Hill; Feb. 6, Flint Central; Feb. 13, at Bay City; Feb. 17, Pontiac Northern; Feb. 20, Flint Northern; Feb. 27, Saginaw.

Thumb League Favorite? Naturally, It's Almont

The monotonous manner in which Almont wins Southern Thumb sports championships is expected to continue during the coming basketball season.

Five of the six rival coaches in the league have already picked the Raiders to repeat with the other vote going to Armada which ranked 3rd last winter.

The chief reason for the heavy vote for Almont again is that coach Arvid Watt has seven of 10 varsity members returning. Three-year player Jim Ostrander, Bob Eschenburg and rugged Frank Hartway are key men of the group. Ostrander tallied 218 points, Eschenburg 217 and Hartway 154 in a 15-4 season—11-1 in the STL.

If Terry Wills can match or better his 245-point total of a year ago, Armada could turn the trick. His chief aid may come from John Mitchell and Ken Montgomery, two of other four lettermen.

Also very much in the running should be Memphis following a 10-2 runnerup finish. Marlin Carey has a pair of good shooters in 6-4 Pete Likens, who averaged 15 a game, and Jim Dunn. The latter had a 12 average.

New Haven may have trouble bettering its 4th place ranking of 1957-58 unless it comes up with a scoring leader. Brown City should bounce back from being tied with Capac for the cellar with six veterans topped by Bob Fisher.

Five returning letter-winners and John Englert, a transfer from Lapeer, could make Dryden tough to beat after a 3-8 season. Capac is anxious to settle some old scores with a host of experienced boys.

How they're expected to finish:
1. Almont
2. Armada
3. Memphis
4. Brown City
5. Dryden
6. New Haven
7. Anchor Bay

Druze Gives Up 3-Year Effort for Winning 11

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Coach Johnny Druze called it quits yesterday after three years of trying to return Marquette University to the status of a major independent football power.

During his three years, Marquette has won two games, lost 25 and tied one.

The Warriors finish their current season Saturday night against Arizona State at Tempe. Ironically a victory this weekend would give them a 3-6-1 record, their best since 1953 when Lisle Blackbourn coached Marquette to a 6-3-1 slate.

Hectic SVC Cage Race Seen

Pontiac Press Photo

SET FOR SEASON—Pontiac Central basketball coach Art Van Ryzin (left) and his four returning lettermen are set to kick off the 1958-59 season. The opener next Tuesday night is at Edsel Ford in Dearborn and Friday, Dec. 5, Detroit Catholic Central visits PCH. Players, left to right, are Charley Barge (14), John Bandy (10), Bill Hayward (40) and Harrison Munson (50).

Bay City Motto Is 'R.O.V.R.' in Loop Action

Pontiac Central Has Four Lettermen Back for 1958-59

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Bay City Central, long time a power in football and a stepchild in basketball, has made known its intentions for the 1958-59 Saginaw Valley Conference cage race.

"R.O.V.R. is our motto this year," said Bay City coach Bill Ullenbruch, who left Walled Lake a year ago to take his present post.

An interpretation means, "Reverse Our Valley Record — 0-10 to 10-0."

As it appears, the Wolves might just be aiming to go through with their ROVR aim. It's very seldom that a Saginaw Valley school can go through the season unbeaten.

Pontiac Central accomplished the feat two years ago with a 10-0 mark in one of the best seasons in history of the school.

Bay City will have the tallest team in the league and most number of returning lettermen, led by 6-4 senior Bob Bishop, 6-5 Jim Kanicki and 6-5 Larry Piotrowski.

Veteran guards Butch Kokaly, 5-10 senior, and Jerry Gross, 5-9, along with J. C. Dunn, 6-2, provide good depth at this position.

Mitch Simmons a 6-6 sophomore along with John Young, Ken Warren and Fred Finn, all 6-2, make up the rest of the Bay City hopefuls.

Pontiac Central, which was favored last year but settled for a third place tie with Saginaw behind Flint Central and Flint Northern, has four lettermen as a nucleous.

Flint Central has products from a good reserve team to supplement the losses of Felix Miller, John Kirk and Don Bradley plus 6-2 Keith Richardson, 6-1 Mel Thomas and 5-10 Dale Lucas as returnees.

And as defending champions, the Indians appear to have enough to repeat with a total of seven lettermen. Nine seniors are on the team including 6-3 Duane Bates, 6-3 Ken Neeley and 6-2 Joe Harrelson.

Flint Northern has lost seven players and has lettermen Bob Hamilton, 6-4, Pat Manley, 6-2, and Harvey Sanders, 6-1, returning. Saginaw has three regulars back and Arthur Hill has six seniors on its squad.

The Chiefs will not have the bench strength on the basis of experience as in past couple seasons. Charley Barge, 5-8 All-Valley guard, will graduate at mid-term.

Senior John Bandy and junior Bill Hayward, both 6-2, will hold the forward posts with Harrison Munson, 6-2 senior, the probable center.

Four inexperienced players vie for the other guard spot, including 5-9 Fred Staley, 5-8 Dick McCauley, 5-6 Phil Rabaja and 5-11 Henry Robertson.

Amos Bailey, 6-1, George Fed, 6-2, and Jim Patterson, 5-10, are the forward candidates.

PCH is missing some of the height of recent years as are some of the other teams. This could make the SVC a hectic one with the prospective champion losing as many as four games.

This is how the coaches pick the Valley in a close race:

1. Flint Central
2. Bay City Central
3. Pontiac Central
4. Flint Northern
5. Arthur Hill
6. Saginaw

Better Hunter Than Dad

WILBURTON, Okla. (AP) — One of the hunters in the field as Oklahoma's deer hunting season opened Wednesday was 10-year-old David Clawson. His father F. M. Clawson said the first time his son ever fired at a deer he made a kill. It was a whitetail buck that weighed 100 pounds dressed.

New Soil Bank Provisions Will Aid Wildlife

LANSING—Conservation - minded farmers and land owners must sign up within the next few weeks to take advantage of soil bank provisions for next year.

For the first time this year, several revised practices of value to wildlife are available statewide.

Farmers may obtain state and federal help in planting eligible soil bank lands to trees, grasses and shrubs of value to wildlife. Also, help is available for land owners who wish to construct farm ponds and impoundments for waterfowl, fur-bearers and fish.

Persons interested in the program are urged to call local representatives of the Conservation Department's game division, the local Soil Conservation Service, or the county ASC office.

Stitch Beats Bahama

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Louisville welterweight Rudell Stitch decisioned Yama Bahama in a 10-round bout last night.

It was the 16th victory for Stitch who has lost four.

It was the ninth loss for the West Indies fighter, who has 51 wins and two draws.

U.S. Netter Bows Out

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Karol Fageros, fifth ranked among U.S. women players, was eliminated in the semifinals of the Argentine Tennis Championships Wednesday by Shirley Bloomer of England 6-3, 6-2.

U.S. Netter in Finals

SYDNEY (AP)—America's latest hope to regain the Davis Cup, 18-year-old Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, battled his way into the finals of the New South Wales Tennis Championships today.

Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford equalled an American League record when he struck out six straight batters in a 1956 game against Kansas City. He repeated the performance June 2, 1958, against the White Sox.

No Runaway for Troy Cagers This Season

Better Balance Seen in Oakland B

Seldom does a basketball team run away with a championship like Troy did last season in the Oakland B League, but there is little reason to believe that the lopsided race will be repeated.

The 1957-58 campaign was a banner one for the Colts of Peyton Goodwin. They went through the regular schedule undefeated, winning 10 league games and 16 altogether, and reached the quarter-finals of the state tournament before bowing out with a 20-1 overall record.

Last season's Oakland B title chase was so one-sided that Lake Orion and Fitzgerald, co-holders of 2nd place, trailed the champion Colts by four full games with identical 6-4 marks.

Troy should be a good club again this season and rates consideration as a title contender, but Fitzgerald looks ready to offer stiff opposition with Avondale, Madison, Clawson and Lake Orion fielding better-balanced quintets. In short, balance should prevail and produce a wide-open race.

Troy's chances for another crown hinge on Goodwin's ability to locate some capable shooters. Of six lettermen returning, only co-captains Don Harned and Rod Harris are regulars.

Harned is a fine ball-handler and dribbler at guard and Harris at 6-foot-4 takes care of the center position, but neither boy is a steady point-maker. Dick Booth and Wayne Figley, last season's leading scorers, have departed.

Fitzgerald coach Dick Snyder has talent at center and forward spots and if he can find some guard strength, the Spartans will be dangerous. Forwards John Massengale and George Ceglarek are both 6-foot-3 letter winners while center Harry Marchlones also stands 6-3. Ron Lickman is a returning letterman at guard.

Dick Bye expects his Avondale cagers to start slowly and round into good shape by mid-season. The Yellow Jackets shared the title with Troy two seasons ago, then broke even for a 3rd place finish last time.

This year's Jacket edition will be built around guards Gary Acker and Dick Smith, forward Daryl Thorpe and 6-foot-3 center Walt Arnold, all letter winners. Bye lost two excellent candidates when Mike Walker and Guy Aldrick both moved away. Dick Hutchinson is ineligible until the 2nd semester.

Lake Orion's famous 1-2 scoring punch of Nick Neira and Jim Drake is gone via graduation, but coach Hal Carlin has three varsity lettermen returning in guard Dean Callison, forward Jim Recknagel and 6-3 center Bob Shuler and the Dragons should have better balance this time around.

Ron Morse has five experienced hands coming back at Clawson, headed by Lowell (Newt) Acton, the leading point-getter for the Trojans last season and holder of two basketball numerals. Clawson could be troublesome for every league rival if the Trojans "jell."

Madison won only once last season and was shut out in the league, but the Eagles of Joe Hovanec figure to do better during the 1958-59 campaign. Hovanec will build his attack around Rick Moos, who scored more than 300 points last season, and Madison will rely on great speed to overcome its lack of height.

Here is how the Oakland B League basketball teams are expected to finish this season.
1. Troy
2. Fitzgerald
3. Clawson
4. Avondale
5. Madison
6. Lake Orion

Vandalism Hits Rochester-Utica Recreation Area

LANSING—Vandalism is exerting an additional burden upon the fall maintenance operations of the Rochester - Utica recreation area staff.

Perfect Rack Is Trophy

"A perfect rack" is what Kenneth Stoltenberg, Rte. 2, Milford, reports he collected during his recent deer hunting trip to the Upper Peninsula.

The Milford man bagged his beautifully proportioned 8-pointer near Iron Mountain, hunting with Joe Geyer of Detroit. He downed the 185-pounder with a standing shot. The trip was Stoltenberg's first in the Upper Peninsula, and the deer was his biggest.

Inter-Lakes Loop Hard to Forecast

By CHUCK ABAIR

Probably the most difficult area basketball league to forecast in a pre-season outlook is the Inter-Lakes.

Berkley romped to the crown last year winning all 10 loop games and 14 of 17 overall but the Bears lost four starters through graduation including scoring ace Lance Gentile and playmaker Pat McCary. Strong rebounder Dave Burris is the only regular back.

Many observers close to the I-L are predicting Southfield will take the top honors because of its hard-to-beat combination of experience and good height with Farmington, Walled Lake and Berkley in close pursuit.

Waterford is not being counted out despite the loss of its 1-2 punch of John Herrington and Jim Devine. Van Dyke could be the darkhorse.

Southfield has seven lettermen, including five who go 6-1 or better. Heading the list are Tom Ridley, who scored 202 points to lead the team last season, 6-4 Bob Filar and Cliff Solberg. The trio played key roles in the Bluejays' runner-up finish.

Farmington could reverse its 3-7 slate of 1957-58 with a host of capable boys on hand headed by Al LeSage and Harvey Chapman. Others are Bill Wright, little Tom Grimshaw and Frank Clappison.

It would be no big surprise if John Shadford came up with a title in his 2nd year at Walled Lake. He has a good nucleus featuring starters Kirk Evans, Frank Fink and Bob Smith but the lack of a steady scorer and height could keep the Vikings from making a bid. Five other lettermen are battling for berths.

Walled Lake and Waterford wound up tied for 3rd place last term when four of the six I-L entries played below .500 ball.

Waterford's finish may depend largely on how successful veterans Barry Campbell and Wendy Meyer are after performing well in supporting roles. Larry Bowen and John Studt saw service as reserves and could land starting jobs.

Like Shadford at Walled Lake, Jerry Wallace must find a consistent point-getter and overcome a size problem in order to make the Skippers a contender.

How they're expected to finish:
1. Southfield
2. Berkley
3. Farmington
4. Walled Lake
5. Waterford
6. Van Dyke

They are: Herb Adderley, Philadelphia, Pa.; Fred Arbanas, Detroit; Don Arend, Baroda; Paric Baker, Seanor, Pa.; Richard Barker, Lansing; Robert Bercich, Summitt, Ill.

Oscar Hahn, Midland; Robert Handloser, Detroit; Jason Harness, St. Joseph; Art Johnson, Flint; Ellison Kelly, Sandusky, Ohio; Cliff Larose, Grosse Pointe; Dean Look, Lansing.

Alvin Luplow, Saginaw; Arch Matsos, Detroit; Jerry McFarland, Birmingham, Ala.; John Middleton, Duluth, Minn.; Greg Montgomery, East Lansing; David Northcross, Highland Park.

Brighton Favored, W. Bloomfield Darkhorse

New Powers in W-O Cage Race

Clarkston and Northville have dominated the Wayne - Oakland League in basketball in recent years but that could all come to a sudden halt this winter.

Brighton finished an otherwise up-and-down season strong and played good ball in the tournaments going to the regional finals. Some of the loop coaches are predicting the Bulldogs will pick right up where they left off and go all the way this time.

Despite the loss of scoring specialist Brian Watson, Brighton has six lettermen back from the team that shared 5th with Clarenceville. They include Russ Hudson and Jim Paddock plus 6-5 lads Don Appleton and Jim Lauridsen.

Clarkston will have to come up with a real herculean effort to be in the running. Fellows like All-County guard Leroy Parks, Bill Noles and Dick Lippert are not replaced easily. Little speedsters Bob Porritt and John Parks and big Jayvee graduates Bill Powell and Larry Hall head the Wolves' hopefuls.

Clarkston edged Northville last season by one game with a 12-2 record to 11-3 for the Mustangs. Northville has also lost its scoring punch but has seven lettermen. Bob Starnes, 6-9 Jeff Goodrich and Nelson Schrader, who is 6-5, are among them.

Holly finished 3rd a year ago and could do as well or better if 6-6 center George McDaniels can have another big season. He tallied 250 points as a junior. New head man Leroy Decker has three other lettermen with experience as reserves.

West Bloomfield could be the W-O darkhorse. The Lakers should give everyone trouble with jump shot artist John Lucadam back for a final fling. He was 8th in Oakland County last year with 277 points for a 17.3 average. More such success plus help from Jim Hollister, Barry Johnson, Dennis Alix and Steve Rogers could make the men of Art Paddy mighty rough to handle. The Keego team was 4th with a 7-7 slate during 1957-58.

Milford and Bloomfield Hills deadlocked for the cellar a year ago with 4-10 records but both should be improved. The Redskins have southpaw sharpshooter Terry Anderson and chunky Terry Hoy back plus a new coach in Denny Boyle.. Bloomfield, like Brighton, finished well and could keep right on going with five lettermen headed by Bob Thompson and Bob Barrett.

Clarenceville has some veterans but will sorely miss scoring pacesetter Larry Andrews.

How they're expected to finish:
1. Brighton
2. Northville
3. Holly
4. W. Bloomfield
5. Bloomfield Hills
6. Clarkston
7. Milford
8. Clarenceville

Outstanding Weightlifters Appear at 'Y' Saturday

A star-studded list of 25 weightlifters and 10 physique contestants are entered in the annual Southeastern Michigan AAU championships to be held Saturday night at the Pontiac YMCA.

Heading the card of outstanding weight lifters is Norbert Schemansky, 1952 Olympic middleweight champion and former world heavyweight champion, who is on the comeback trail after a serious back operation.

Schemansky has lifted overhead 424 pounds by the clean and jerk method and he is expected to go well over 500 pounds in the event.

Don Van Fleteren of Detroit Northeastern YMCA who took third place in Mr. America competition a few years ago, will also be in lifting competition.

He has lifted 350 pounds and is expected to give Schemansky close competition.

Former Junior National Champion who was second in collegiate competition last year is Nick Gavrila of Dearborn who will lift in the 165 pound class.

Gary O'Neil of the Pontiac Y will have opposition by four lifters in the 148 pound class, most outstanding of whom is Bob Balderama of Detroit.

O'Neil was second in the national teenage meet last season.

Among the physique entries, Luke Adams of Dearborn and Bill Posep of Pontiac are leading competitors.

Owen Olsen of Rochester, member of the state AAU committee will act as master of ceremonies.

Tickets are available for the championships from Y weightlifters and at the YMCA desk. Starting time is 7:00 p.m.

Title Bout Permit Hangs in Balance

MONTREAL (AP)—The Montreal Athletic Commission was to decide today whether it will grant a permit for the world light-heavyweight title bout scheduled here Dec. 10 between champion Archie Moore and Canadian Yvon Durelle.

The commission is at loggerheads with fight promoter Eddie Quinn on a claim that it is entitled to five per cent of television receipts from the bout to be carried on a national network in the United States.

Half Dozen Area Families Join in Successful Hunt

One of the largest single parties of Oakland County hunters to make a trip into the Upper Peninsula, this fall, has just returned. The band of 11 brought back four nice deer and a 150-pound black bear.

All but one carload of hunters had started home from Garden Peninsula, when the bear was added to the bag. The bruin timed his appearance on a woods path a bit too soon, for he was downed by 17-year-old Harold Lumm Jr. Harold's brother, Jimmy, 14, Clarkston High pupil, shot the party's biggest buck. The prize was a 204-pound 8-pointer.

Other members of the this half-dozen family group that gets together each fall for these trips, included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lumm Sr. and another son, Gary, of Clarkston; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Granzel, sons Bob and Bert of Clarkston; Forest Baker of Rochester; Walter Furman of Lake Orion and Don Lumm of Drayton Plains.

Prep Matmen Set to Open

With three area schools experienced hands in the sport now and a new one starting out, the 1958-59 prep wrestling season promises to be the most interesting yet around Oakland County.

Pontiac Central is heading into its 3rd year while Waterford and Walled Lake started last winter.

Joining them next month will be Pontiac Northern which begins its 1st varsity fling in any sport with wrestling and basketball starting next week.

Southfield, Farmington, Royal Oak Kimball, and Fitzgerald are some other area schools beginning 2nd seasons in the mat sport while Berkley, Hazel Park and Cranbrook were earlier starters.

Steve Szabo, who moved up to head coach at Central when Bill Willson was shifted to Northern, has been working with 50 boys in an effort to build another winning combination.

The Chiefs are now 14-14 in dual competition after reversing a 5-9 opening year slate last term by winning their last six starts.

Duke Relyea, Erasmo Trevino, Willie Duncan and Sam Wescombe are some of the vets back. Pontiac opens at Waterford Dec. 9.

Wilson has a tough row to hoe at Northern starting from scratch. He did an outstanding job starting the sport at PCH and is expected to have a formidable array by mid-season. The Huskies debut Dec. 4 at home against Walled Lake.

Interest is high at Waterford despite an 0-7-1 record in 1957-58 Dave Sherman, Mike Hubbell and some other squad members are returnees who have impressed coach Don Beedle. Veterans Harry Nicholle and Mike Ewer are still nursing football injuries.

It is a similar case as far as interest goes at Walled Lake now that some of the Vikings have some know-how. Jim Teddy, Bob Christian, Bill Berger and Marty Richardson give Dave Smith a good nucleus.

Cranbrook has four lettermen headed by Capt. Lee MacBride, a 165-pounder, and some good-looking newcomers. Heavyweight transfer Steve Reynolds could become the Crane sparkplug.

Kimball Saturday.

Marion Aims to Put Houston in Majors

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marty Marion and his business partner hope to bring major league baseball to Houston as an outgrowth of their deal to buy the Houston Texas League franchise from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The deal, completed yesterday, will be carried out only if Houston is elevated to triple-A baseball under a proposed realignment of the American Assn. and the Texas League, which could materialize next week at the major-minor league meeting in Washington. If Houston isn't elevated to triple-A, the cards retain ownership.

Marion, a former major league manager and known as "Mr. Shortstop" in his playing days with the Cardinals, expressed hope the transition from triple-A to the majors could be made "within the next couple of years."

But he added "I have no idea how long it would take."

Houston, Fort Worth and Dallas, all Texas League cities, are rumored ready to enter the now seven-team American Assn. to form a 10-team league.

The price paid by Marion and Milton Fischmann, partners in a St. Louis printing business, for the Houston franchise and 18 players wasn't disclosed, but the Red Bird front office said it would accept $100,000.

The deal doesn't include the Buffs' 10,000-seat stadium, but it will be leased to Marion and Fischmann for three years.

Marion and Fischmann may have competition from a Houston group in trying to bring major league baseball to the city. The Houston Sports Assn., which backed a successful campaign for a 20-million-dollar bond issue for construction of a huge county sports center, decided against buying the franchise.

But the group's executive secretary, George Kirksey, said if the group is able to acquire a major league franchise, it still would be able under baseball law to draft the territory from whatever league Houston might be in at the time.

TKO Victory for Bobo

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Former middleweight champion Bobo Olson, taking every round, scored a sixth round technical knockout Tuesday night over Paddy Young. Referee Jack Downey took a look at Young's bloody face at the end of the sixth and stopped the scheduled 10-rounder. Olson weighed 174, Young 170.

Tides Used to Catch Fish in Nova Scotia

MINUDIE, Nova Scotia—Fishermen near Minudie use the tremendous tides of the Bay of Fundy to good advantage.

They string their nets on tall stakes at low tide and wait for the high tide to bring the shad surging in to be trapped in the nets.

At low tide the fishermen drive their horse-drawn carts over the flats and use ladders to climb to the netted fish, which sometimes are suspended 15 feet above the ground.

All Depends on How You Look at Things

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — The workman calmly went on with his grass cutting as a plane loaded with a nuclear weapon burned at Chennault Air Force Base and fire sirens screamed across the field Wednesday.

"You don't seem worried a bit," said a newsman.

"No sir," the yardman retorted, "I figure it's way too late in the year for any ole snake to be hidin' in this here grass."

Three boys from Indiana are on North Carolina State's basketball team. They are George Stepanovich, team captain Whitey Bell and Dan Englehardt.

The Pontiac entry in the big Bowling Proprietors' Association Match Game tourney which ended Tuesday made a game try but were below form in competing against the best in the nation at Southfield.

Four 600 series and ten 200 games were the best the Huron boys could muster in a "cold" performance as only Dick Carmichael could hit consistently. But the locals deserve a great deal of credit for at least making an attempt at upsetting such powers as St. Louis Budweiser and Pfeiffer of Detroit.

The only way bowlers from this sector will ever get any kind of notices not only nationally but even in Detroit will be to battle against the "name" teams and individuals.

Joe Bonfiglio, Les Rothbarth and some of the others make the rounds of some of the biggest events in the country annually shooting against terrific odds. More power to them.

Detroit is considered by many to be the bowling capital of America. Pontiac certainly can hold its own when compared to cities of similar size. The sport keeps growing each year here.

A big tournament coming up next week at Chicago Coliseum is the $30,200 world's invitational match game event which lasts nine days. Some 128 men and 64 women keglers are entered. Don Carter and Marion Ladewig are defending champions.

Entries close Monday for the Pontiac Elks' Ladies National tourney.

Pilette 243 (KC League at Maple Lanes); Eva Miller 257 and 576 (Ladies All Star); W. Hamilton 272 (Walnut Lake Bowlerettes at Sylvan Lanes); Larry Gorman 268 and 669 (Farmington Shop League); and R. Kitcher 261 (Goodfellows).

Les Rothbarth's 137 in the BPAA event was an oddity. His scores of 247 and 641 lead the West Side Classic . . . Another was a 224 rolled by M. Foster in the Fourth Nighter Ladies loop at Sylvan. She averages only 119 . . . Clarkston High students bowl Thursday after school.

V. Owens rolled 220 and G. Miner 616 in Ladies Huron House League . . . Ladies All Star topper of Eve Miller was Mildred Anderson with a sparkling 278 featuring nine straight strikes . . . M. Gabriel, fired a 230 in the Lady Eagle loop and L. Jewell claims a 601 series in the Wampus Ladies games at Pontiac Recreation.

The Cooley Lanes Majorettes have posted some impressive scores. They include a 244 game by E. Vitasinsky, P. Schneider's 578 series, team scores of 927 (Strohs) and 2657 (Helen Van Camp). M. Young has the top average of 177.3.

Bags Husky Buck Without Bullet

There's quite a story back of the 10-point buck Mrs. Charles Brown of 11801 Scott Rd., Davisburg, brought back from the Manistique district this week.

The deer was Mrs. Brown's 9th in 14 years. She is ahead of Charley, who got his eighth in 15 years. "She's a great shot," Brown said.

Shooting a German 8mm. sporter, Mrs. Brown slowed the buck with a leg shot, then fired again to down the buck. She dressed it out immediately and took it to a freezer plant where it was discovered that there were no bullets, except the one that hit the leg.

However, one point of the rack, four inches above the head had been shot off. Brown believes the shock of the blow on the horn merely stunned the buck.

"Right away we realized the potential danger she had been subjected to, not knowing there was no fatal shot," Brown declared. "That buck could have revived and would have been a dangerous foe."

A year ago, in the same area, Mrs. Brown was the victim of buck-snatchers. Three men saw her with a deer, jumped from their car, grabbed the buck and made off, she reported. This week, while sitting by her trophy a car stopped. Several persons got out, admired the deer. "And you bet I'm going to keep this one," she told them.

Strikes and Spares

By JOE WILMAN

Too many bowlers are too quick to make adjustments in their game. If their first ball of the night crosses over on the "Brooklyn" side of the headpin, they immediately move a board or two to the left.

I don't believe any adjustment at all should be made until the bowler has rolled at least four or five normal balls. The first few balls you roll are not a true test because your muscles might be stiff or your timing might be faulty Perhaps your wrist turn or finger lift wasn't quite normal either.

If you can, I suggest you get to the alleys early so you can warm up a bit. Perhaps you can roll a practice game. Or perhaps you can at least roll a few balls. If you begin your league game completely warmed up, your form should be smooth. Then, if your ball doesn't react properly, you can start making adjustments with confidence.

Work on fundamentals if your average shows real signs of nose-diving. I think your score will soon start to pick up, maybe without your ever finding what caused the dip.

Huron and West Side Classic Leagues Keep Rolling

Just like "Old Man River," the bowlers in the Huron Bowl and West Side Classic Leagues.

Humphries Real Estate maintains the lead at Huron but its a mighty slim one over West Side Mobil. A 648 by Don Martell paced Humphries last time out.

A 701 by George Chicovsky, which included a 288 game, enabled Montcalm Centre to total 3128.

The boys at West Side bounced back after a below-average week to topple a whopping total of 44,523 pins. A 3198 by Oakland Coin led the way with 11th Frame Bar hitting 2958.

Paul George had 693, Joe Foster 682, Sam Perna 664 and Moe Moore 661 for top individual series. In singles, Al LaTendresse rolled 268, Pat Sweeney 260 and Wally Johnson 258 to head the pack.

Mining Lease Foes to 'Jam' Dec. 4 Meet

LANSING — Those who oppose grant of a lease in the Upper Peninsula's Porcupine Mountains state park for exploration for copper are expected to outnumber proponents when the Conservation Commission holds an informal meeting here December 4.

It was the other way round when the commission met at White Pine in Ontonagon County in October.

The commission will decide in January whether to approve a lease to the Bear Creek Mining Company of Salt Lake City of 933 acres of upland on the west side of the 58,000-acre park.

The meeting will be called to order at 1:30 p.m. in Lansing's civic auditorium.

Anderson Set to Run Saturday

Army Halfback Ready to Play Against Navy

Cadet Ace Pronounced OK for Service Battle With Middies

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Red Blaik termed halfback Bob Anderson "100 per cent effective" Wednesday after Army went through its final contact work for Saturday's classic football meeting with Navy.

Anderson, bothered by rib injuries this year, had been listed as a probable starter. But Wednesday's appraisal put him in the lineup for sure at Philadelphia.

The 6-2, 198-pound swifty from Cocoa, Fla., was injured in the Rice game and was reinjured in the Villanova game two weeks ago. Army hasn't played a game since, giving Anderson the time needed for repairs.

Blaik also said he will attempt to substitute in units, a plan that hasn't worked particularly well for the Cadets. The Middies use the unit pattern for substitutions, but Army hasn't had the depth to employ it effectively.

"We'll use units as much as we can, primarily on defense," said Blaik. "But we may have to resort to piecemeal substitution."

Center Bob Oswandel and guards Jack Morrison and Al Vanderbush, key linemen in the second unit, would be the busiest under the piecemeal alternative since Blaik believes "they can hold their own against the men in front of them."

Blaik made a point to pat his defensive unit on the back.

"They've been vital in getting the ball for us," he said. "Our Lonely End has received most of the publicity, but he can't do anything unless we have the ball.

"The defensive unit is the heart of our ball club."

Blaik, naturally, was quiet about any new plays or formations the Cadets or Middies might spring. "It's been pretty much the history of this series, though," he said, "that something new comes up.

"Navy has some fine players, and in particular has some fine defensive coaches. I'm interested in seeing what they'll have against our Lonely End."

Dawkins Has Last Chance to Win in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia—scene of the traditional Army-Navy football game Saturday — means nothing but trouble for polite Pete Dawkins. He's the square shouldered behemoth who has been called the best Army back since Glenn Davis of 13 years ago.

Dawkins will make his fourth appearance in gigantic Municipal Stadium. He still will be looking for his first winning day in that spacious South Philadelphia arena.

Pete was on the losing side twice last year. Army dropped one to Notre Dame 23-21. And Navy defeated its service colleagues in the mud 14-0.

The year before, Dawkins sat on the bench and gazed hungrily at the field while his teammates fumbled eight times and settled for a 7-7 tie against the Midshipmen.

He hardly can be blamed for any of the Army disasters since 1956 on the municipal field.

He wasn't starting in 1956. He didn't even get into the Army-Navy game that year. But Coach Earl Blaik had used him as a Navy back during practice that week.

Last year, Pete scored one of the three Army touchdowns against Notre Dame. Against Navy, he was the game's best runner, picking up 63 yards in 18 carries.

If Army finally makes the grade for Dawkins, he'll doubtlessly be among the men most responsible for the victory.

Here's a very tricky spare to convert, unless you really work on it. The simple fact that there are four pins to be knocked down makes this one a bit tougher than usual. We call it the "dinner bucket" spare—the 2-4-5-8.

Shoot this spare from the right, because the pins are on the left. I recommend you face a bit more to the left than you do for a strike ball, because to convert the 2-4-5-8 your ball has to angle more to the left. Aim for the 2-5 pocket, but be sure to hit the 2-pin solidly.

The ball, if correctly rolled, will knock over the 2-5-8 pins, and should knock the 2-pin back into the 4. If the 2-pin is not hit solidly enough, the ball will deflect to the right—and you may miss the 8-pin entirely.

Also, if the ball crosses over and hits the 2-4 pocket as shown in the drawing today, you must depend upon pin action to take care of the 5 and 8. Always strike as many pins as possible with the ball.

So hit the 2-5 pocket solidly to be sure on this one.

'More to Life Than Football'

Dawkins' Letter Cheers Ailing Prep Gridder

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Army's ace halfback, Pete Dawkins, has told an injured high school football player that "there's a whole lot more to life than playing football."

Dawkins, of Royal Oak, Mich., wrote David Steinberg, 16, of suburban Clayton, after Steinberg's brother, Buddy, an Army cadet, told Dawkins that David had his spleen removed.

Last week Dawkins wrote a get-well letter to Steinberg and the entire Cadet team signed it.

Dawkins, Army's captain and a marked man in the Navy game Saturday, wrote:

"Being an athlete myself I can fully understand your feeling and attitude. I understand that you have become somewhat despondent over your situation, and I can imagine that if I were in your situation, I, too, would feel the same.

"The only point I would like to emphasize is that there is a lot more to life than playing football. I know that when you are so involved with anything like football, it acquires an importance which is actually out of perspective to its true importance."

The injured lad recently returned to his classes.

Dec. 10 Probable Date of Army's First Attempt to Reach Moon

(Next month the Army will make its first attempt to fire a missile to the moon, ending two years of astronomical calculations. Will it succeed, after the Air Force has failed three times? Here are the monumental problems involved in man's bold challenge of space.)

By BEN PRICE
AP Feature Writer

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — On Dec. 7, the moon will swing across the heavens like a bullseye wheeling across a celestial shooting gallery.

Sometime between Dec. 7 and Dec. 14 the U. S. Army is planning to take a crack at it with a satellite-carrying, multi-stage missile, launched from the rocket testing center at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The Army shoot probably will take place Dec. 10, the date the new moon sets itself up best as a clay pigeon.

The Air Force already has made three tries and failed.

Nothing man has achieved in recorded history has been more daring or more involved. Nearly everything he has learned about the mechanics of the universe and mathematics from the time of the ancient Egyptians to date has been brought to bear on this problem: How to chart a course to the moon?

For Dr. Rudolf R. Hoelker German-born deputy chief of the aeroballistic laboratory at the Army Ballistic Missile Agency here, the moment of firing will mark the end of two years of astronomical calculations.

Hoelker, who worked on Germany's V2 rockets during World War II and who is now a naturalized U. S. citizen, has charted a flight path to the moon. The question is whether the United States has the rockets to follow it.

For the rocket expert, the mere mechanics of firing are tough.

The missile must be fired within five minutes, plus or minus, of the designated X-hour.

The missile must not exceed escape speed if it is to go into orbit. If it goes much faster than 24,660 miles per hour it will breach the gravitational barriers and zip past the moon toward infinity.

The missile must be turned on course at a low altitude and at a relatively low speed or else the structural stress of turning at high speed will break it in two.

While it would be nice if the satellite actually went into orbit around the earth and moon, the Army's scientists won't be upset if it doesn't.

If the satellite can be placed within two or three diameters of the moon (4,320 to 6,480 miles), the scientists will be satisfied. Even if it goes past the scientists will be happy.

As planned, the satellite will assume a fan-shaped, or hyperbolic orbit, reaching out from the earth to near the moon—and perhaps on into space.

The trajectory was selected for these reasons:

The probe will be near the moon at a time when it may be observed from the United States.

The planned velocity of the rocket exceeds the minimum speed required to reach the moon. The Army would prefer to overshoot than undershoot.

Since the hoped-for orbit involves three bodies—the earth, the moon and the missile—all moving on a curving path through space, the final pattern should resemble—for very complicated reasons—a figure-eight as it swings around the moon and earth.

If the missile swings short of the moon, it will simply perform a long loop into space and return to earth. Upon re-entering the earth's atmosphere it will be destroyed by the heat generated by air friction.

The attraction of the earth is about six times that of the moon which is, on the average, 240,000 miles away. The moon's path around the earth is egg-shaped, or elliptical.

The closer an object, such as a missile, comes to an outer space body, the greater the gravitational attraction. It is not impossible that a missile shot past the moon might ultimately come to rest on some planet or star about which we know nothing.

Should the missile enter the moon's gravitational field at a speed less than that necessary to escape the moon's pull or to enter an earth-moon orbit, it is likely that it will simply plop on the moon itself. Maybe it will just orbit around the moon.

The whole problem is something like shooting an arrow into the air. The arrow starts upward at high speed. As it nears the peak, the row slows, stops and then tumbles arrow slows, stops and then tumbles back to earth. It returns at the same speed at which it was launched. So will a missile.

Trying to translate the problems—or some few of them—confronting Dr. Hoelker and his five assistants into layman's language is something akin to an effort to reduce Einstein's theory of relativity to first grade arithmetic. But here's one way to visualize the moonshot:

Imagine you are riding on an earth-size ferris wheel which is spinning along at about 1,000 miles per hour.

Your mission is to shoot a rifle bullet toward a target which is spinning around your ferris wheel. The target passes over and under the wheel traveling in the same direction.

Now the speed of the target is known. So is that of the bullet and the ferris wheel. The spin of the wheel will add to the momentum of the bullet, a factor which has to be taken into account.

Your problem now is to figure out the precise moment at which to fire the bullet so it and the target will be on converging paths.

This is, of course, an extremely simplified version of what Hoelker is up against. There are additional factors.

The launching site is 28 degrees north of the Equator while the moon is 18½ degrees below it on Dec. 7—the first day in December the moon is in position for a shoot from Cape Canaveral.

By Dec. 10, the moon has shifted southward until it is roughly in line with the sun. This is the ideal day for a shoot. The missile can be launched due east. Since the center of gravity is the theoretical center of the earth, the gravitational influence will drag the missile slightly southward after launching.

As the missile soars into space it will be traveling on an earth measured course of east south east. This southward deflection caused by gravity has to be figured in aiming at the moon.

Added to all the other problems is the possibility that conditions at the launching site may not be favorable for a shoot at the time planned.

Suppose the shoot is delayed. In half an hour a given point on the Equator has moved 500 miles eastward and the angle and direction of the shoot have to be changed.

Every time the missile is raised nearer to the vertical, it takes more thrust to get it off the ground. Finally, you reach the point where the missile engine doesn't have the capacity to lift the missile and reach the moon too.

At this point the whole business has to be called off until the moon comes around again. The missile cannot be fired westward since that would carry it over parts of the United States—and the citizens might take a dim view of unsuccessful launchings.

This is not the end of Hoelker's story. There is the sun whose gravitational pull distorts the shape of the moon's orbit and gives it an irregular elliptical shape.

In addition, the north-south axis of the earth does not hold its direction in space but wobbles like a toy top. The earth itself is not a perfect sphere, a fact which affects the center of gravity.

Then there are the winds in the upper atmosphere—the so-called jet stream—which affect the flight of a missile.

What you wind up with is a delicate problem in shooting for a target you can't see and which is traveling an irregular path. You are trying to do this while your rifle is resting on a wobbling, spinning platform.

Navy Bubble Burst When Balloon Leaks

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — A Navy balloon, posed in a deep canyon for a high-altitude study of Mars, sprang a leak Wednesday afternoon and settled back to earth.

"I couldn't believe it," said a dejected Cmdr. Malcolm Ross, veteran Navy balloonist who was to have piloted the shimmering plastic bag to 80,000 feet.

The Navy said it will try again today, weather permitting.

Ross and Dr. John Strong, Johns Hopkins University astrophysicist, had climbed into their round aluminum gondola only 15 minutes earlier to await a takeoff that had been delayed more than two weeks by bad weather.

"We were just packing our Thanksgiving dinner into a compartment when it happened," Ross said.

A Navy spokesman said the plastic ruptured near a valve on top of the balloon. The balloon collapsed into a pile of plastic. The gondola had not been attached when the rupture occurred.

Dog No Object; She Got Divorce for Gross Neglect

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Mary Shuck, 62, got a divorce even though her husband Charles, 52, said he was crowded out of their bed by their dog.

Shuck testified his wife permitted the dog to sleep in bed between them "right at her back."

"I had to go to the couch," he said, and added that because the couch was small "I had to get my vertebrae straightened out."

Judge Carl W. Rich granted the divorce to Mrs. Shuck, however. She had sued on grounds of gross neglect and said she never saw any of her husband's money.

She denied their domestic troubles involved the dog.

1-Cent Money Order Traps Two Convicts

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Officers got a tip Wednesday night that two escaped Georgia convicts were in Houston and were expecting a money order by Western Union.

The officers sent Carlton Wells, 26, of Atlanta, a money order for 1 cent. Wells called the telegraph office again, asking if his money order had arrived. He was told there was one there for him.

Wells and Jarmon Beavers, 26, also of Atlanta, came to pick up the money and officers nabbed them. Wells, who was armed, and Beavers were subdued and jailed after a short tussle.

Wells was allowed to cash his money order. He gave the penny back to Lt. W. C. Doss, who led the officers.

"I guess I won't need it where I'm going," he said.

Grateful Wife Sends Thank You Note to Judge

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — City Judge Michael E. Zimmer read a fan letter in Traffic Court as a sort of sermon to more than 100 defendants in the room.

He said it came from a Buffalo woman and went, in part:

". . . Thank you for fining my husband $15 in Traffic Court. I'm glad someone showed him who the law was, as he was taking the law into his own hands. . . I was in three accidents with him. . . This is the first time he is driving slow since I married him 11 years ago . . . You probably saved our lives. . . God bless you and the police officer that handed him the ticket."

TAWAS CITY (AP) — Allan C. Miller of Tawas City has announced his candidacy for circuit judge of the 23rd Judicial Circuit in the spring elections. He is seeking to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Judge Herman Dehnke.

NEW TOBOGGAN SLIDE — The city's first public toboggan slide in 30 years is ready for winter sports enthusiasts at Murphy Park. Ewalt, H. Malcolm Kahn and Paul L. Vaughan. Looking it over are Carl F. Kreps, David R. Kreps and Vaughan are co-chairmen of the boys' committee of the Breakfast Optimist Club. Kahn, club president, is shown handing a $1,000 check to Ewalt, director of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept., to cover the cost of the 350-foot slide. City workers also have installed a starting ramp and a nearby handrail to make the long climb uphill easier. The slide, open for daytime tobogganing, is on the east side of the park, near the public parking lot.

Scientist, Philosopher and Kind Friend Lost With Death of of 'Boss' Kettering

From Our News Wires

A scientist, philosopher and kind friend — that was "Boss" Kettering.

"You would do well to give a lot of thought to the future; you are going to have to spend the rest of your life there," he said.

It was one of the favorite quips of Charles F. Kettering, famed engineer-scientist, who died Tuesday of a stroke at his home in Dayton, Ohio. His death deprived society in general and science and industry in particular of one of the greatest intellects of his time.

The 82-year-old inventor amassed a fortune through his genius in the automotive and other fields.

He was most widely acclaimed for his perfection of the self-starter in automobiles. The 140 patents he held, on his own inventions and improvements on the inventions of others, helped revolutionize a dozen industries.

Kettering worked for several firms during his early years and with each left the mark of his creative ability. He set up Ohio's first central battery telephone exchange while working for the Star Telephone Co., Ashland, Ohio.

CASH REGISTER SIMILAR

After graduation from college he joined National Cash Register Co. here and invented, among other things, an electric drive for the cash register, which is basically unchanged more than 50 years later.

Later, he formed the Dayton Engineering Laboratories Co., with Edward Deeds. This firm became known as Delco, a division of General Motors.

His famed self-starter was offered in 1912 and was an aid in doubling automobile production that year over that of 1910.

In the early years of World War I, Kettering invented a small torpedo and directed research into the use of high-octane gasolines containing tetraethyl lead.

Later years saw him instrumental in developing two-cycle diesel engines, quick-drying automobile finishes, four-wheel brakes, chromium plating and safety glass and variable speed transmissions.

For the average housewife Kettering contributed a refinement of the electric refrigerator coolant—a non-corrosive, non-inflammable and non-toxic refrigerant.

The average citizen owes him much in the perfection of the Kettering hyperthern, used in fever therapy work, and in other devices to facilitate medical and surgical efforts.

Kettering's thirst for knowledge almost led to his blindness. For 10 years he studied and rested his eyes intermittently in order to complete his schooling.

He was 28 when he finally received his Bachelor of Engineering degree from Ohio State University, which according to legend, he threw away because he felt his education incomplete.

Kettering, who started life as an Ohio farm boy, became a school teacher at 19, and worked as a telephone lineman to get through college, possessed a tremendous knowledge of science and engineering.

Yet he was one of the world's friendliest individuals. He had a faculty of simplifying some of the most difficult chemical and mathematical equations.

"Science isn't difficult," he said. "It's just the problem of finding out how nature does things."

At the outbreak of World War II, Kettering was made chairman of a newly-established national inventors council. During the first six months of operation the council received 16,000 communications containing inventions or inventive ideas.

Many of them were accepted for use by the Army and Navy and other government agencies.

Kettering firmly maintained that real scientific research had just begun. "We are at the beginning of our progress," he said. "It is man's destiny to ponder on the riddle of existence and, as a by-product of his wonderment, to create a new life on this earth."

A towering monument to Kettering's efforts is the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, founded with the aid of former General Motors head Alfred P. Sloan Jr. in 1945.

The skyscraper stands in New York's Memorial Center, a reminder to all of Kettering's conviction that no problem can resist the patient and continued application of man's ingenuity and shirt-sleeve tinkering.

Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill, in Columbus, called him "one of the greatest men in the world" when told of Kettering's death.

'LIFE BECOMES LEGEND'

At Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, where Kettering was chairman of the Board of Trustees, President Samuel B. Gould said:

"The passing of Charles F. Kettering is more than the passing of a man. It is the changing of a life into a legend, a life which brought untold material goods to America and the world."

New Outfits Will Be Dark Blue

Pontiac Police Uniforms to Be Ready About Feb. 1

Long-overdue new uniforms for Pontiac police officers will be issued around Feb. 1, Public Safety Director George D. Eastman said today.

Specifications for the uniforms were drawn up by the department's Planning, Research and Training Unit, under the direction of Lt. William K. Hanger. Eastman ordered that the uniforms be "acceptable to police personnel, utilitarian and impressive in appearance."

The new outfits will be dark blue in color, with a soft-top, Army-style visored cap, and a light blue poplin shirt adaptable to summer wear with open collar.

Reefer-type overcoats and dress blouse coats will be double-breasted, four-button, sack style, with leather equipment worn underneath.

Fund to Aid Families of Lake Disaster

A group of former residents of Rogers City, now living in the Pontiac area, has formed a committee to collect funds for the 33 families of crew members who died on the freighter Bradley which sank in Lake Michigan Nov. 18.

Heading the "Bradley Disaster Fund" committee is Mrs. Norman Pankner of 3181 Whitfield St., Waterford Township. Others making up the group are the Rev. Ralph Claus, pastor of St. Trinity Lutheran Church; Neldren Paull of Drayton Plains, Melvin Vogler of Lake Angelus and John Bills of Waterford Township.

The committee said all those interested in helping the families of the victims may send cash or checks to Bradley Disaster Fund, Post Office Box 333, Pontiac, Mich. All checks should be made out to "Bradley Disaster Fund."

Contributions will be sent by the group to Rogers City and divided among the families, Mrs. Pankner said.

Tree Surgeon's Operation Costs About $5,000

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Three tree surgeons operated on the big fir. The 130-foot tree toppled onto a house, smashed its roof and buckled two walls.

Mrs. S. H. Brown, owner of the house, estimated damage at $5,000.

Her next door neighbor Mrs. Gladys McMichael said she hired the three door-to-door tree surgeons.

"I told them I wanted it taken out," she said. "They looked very professional. They had climbing hooks, chain saws, falling saws and the works."

After the tree fell, the tree surgeons drove away. That was Tuesday, Mrs. McMichael said she hadn't seen them since. The police, though, are looking.

Red China Leaders, North Koreans Talk

HONG KONG (AP)—Mao Tze-tung, Chou En-lai and other top leaders of Red China have met in central China with a North Korean political-military delegation headed by Premier Kim Il Sung.

The meeting was held this week in Wuhan, the official Chinese Communist news agency said today. The North Koreans then went to the south Chinese port of Canton with Red China's Premier Chou.

The news agency gave no details of the meeting. Speculation in Hong Kong was that it might lead to a new Communist move in the Asian war of nerves, possibly by North Korea. The Formosan situation probably was discussed also.

Pilgrim Fathers Brought Cards Along on Trip

Thanksgiving Day serves as a reminder to card fans that the Pilgrims introduced the first card game to this country, a game that we are still playing, incidentally. A Plymouth Colony record of 1633 talks about the Pilgrims playing the game of All Fours, a polite family game they brought along with them from England. All Fours was subsequently carried westward by the early settlers and blossomed out into such colorful variations as Old Sledge, High-Low-Jack Shasta Sam and California Jack. Today, however, the most popular variation of all Fours is the widely played game of Pitch.

Tallulah's New Play Risks Link With Today's Bird

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is not a very chivalrous day to consider Tallulah Bankhead's new play, but it seems inescapable.

No play with the fascinating Tallulah could be an absolute turkey. But "Crazy October," which opened at the Huntington Hartford, risks comparison with today's honored bird.

The show encountered trouble on the road and canceled plans for an immediate invasion of Broadway. Judging from the efforts displayed here, that was a wise decision. The show is a formless exercise for a trio of talented actresses, who do what they can to save it. Their efforts are not enough.

Miss Bankhead, eschewing glamor to wear smocks, plays the hardbitten operator of a West Virginia roadhouse. She's a charmer with a heart of lead and tries to impose her will on everyone about her. She succeeds only with her loutish son. Playing with not quite her usual gusto, she nevertheless calls on her radio-TV tricks—the outrageous laughter, the punctuated insult — to milk laughs from straight lines.

Joan Blondell, playing one of her familiar tarts, has better luck with her role. She rolls her eyes, flounces, bounces and bluffs her way through scenes that might otherwise have been deadly. Estelle Winwood has less to do, but manages to score with her offbeat style.

The backers apparently intend to keep the show on the road until it is in shape for the big town. It may be a long tour. . . .

At last somebody else besides Walt Disney has come up with entertainment for the whole family. George Pal's "Tom Thumb" is a solid hit for the holiday season and should be revived again and again in future years.

Pal, who made science fiction too early (and too factually) for the movie market, went to England to make "Tom Thumb" with trick photography and the puppetoon technique he used years ago. With a light-hearted script and a troupe of zestful players, he produced a minor classic of fantasy.

The big news of the film is Russ Tamblyn, who displays an athletic versatility that is truly impressive. He's also a sincere performer as the 5½-inch Tom. No doubt about it, Russ will have a solid career waiting for him when he returns from the Army.

Lawyers Delay Gambling Case

Attorneys for 5 Accused of Operating Syndicate Fight Move for Trial

Three attorneys for the five persons accused of operating a horse bet gambling syndicate in Pontiac will fight a move to have their clients bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for trial on conspiracy to violate state gambling laws.

Bernard Girard, Howard I. Bond and Philip Pratt yesterday were granted an adjournment until Tuesday to prepare their final arguments after Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor Thursday rested his case against the five.

Accused are Basil W. Burke, 59, of 29 Salmer Ave., LaRue E. Gullett, 41, of 301 Dick Ave., former Pontiac deputy city treasurer, his wife, Gladys J., 35, James "Chinaboy" Pruzor, 54, of 4 S. Saginaw St., and Charles D. Apley, 44, also of 29 Salmer Ave.

In what at first loomed as the final day of the pre-trial examination before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, Girard asked for the extension to 9:30 Dec. 2 in order that he, Bond and Pratt could study "the voluminous notes" taken during the four days of examination thus far.

Girard told the judge that the defense will argue the legality of the search and seizure law under which the five were arrested Aug. 29 in a series of raids by State Police Rackets Squad members and two Pontiac City Police officers.

Taylor, after parading four members of the squad to the stand to testify as to what they found in the raid, Tuesday afternoon asked Judge McCallum to bind the five over to Circuit Court on all six conspiracy counts they are charged with. This was when Girard moved for the postponement.

All five defendants are free on $5,000 bonds.

Iraqis Struggle to Improve Lot

Oil Profits Buy Roads, Irrigation, Industries, Schools, Hospitals

WASHINGTON — Iraq, a land that has seen 5,000 years of recorded history, is struggling to modernize itself in a time of violent political upheaval.

The new rulers of the California-size nation have indicated they will continue the program of using oil profits for flood control, irrigation projects, roads, schools, hospitals and industries.

One feature of the development program is an effort by archeologists to discover irrigation techniques used when Iraq was ancient Mesopotamia.

These long lost methods once made Mesopotamia the granary of the world, the National Geographic Magazine says in a report on the physical, historical and cultural aspects of Iraq. The authors, Jean and Franc Shor, toured the Near Eastern nation on the eve of the revolution that swept young Faisal II from the throne.

GARDEN OF EDEN

According to tradition, the Garden of Eden lay near the confluence of the Tigris and Euphrates Rivers, which flow through Iraq. Moder Iraqis believe the rivers are their country's greatest natural resource. "Oil is a fine thing," an Iraqui told the Shors, "but you can't plant it. Water is far more important. Most natural resources are replaceable. Grain, timber, fruit, cottop—all yield seeds, nad all reproduce year after year. But once you take the oil out of the ground, it is gone forever."

The past, however, is only a prelude, Iraqis hope. Dissatisfied with their economic lot, self-conscious about the country's backward aspects, Iraq's 6,500,000 people have been working hard to build a modern nation on the ancient ruins. Growth is phenomenal. The national income shot up from $442,400,000 in 1950 to a thumping $849,400,000 in 1956.

MORE CARS THAN CAMELS

Baghdad, a city of 900,000, has more cars than camels, and stores retailing imported electrical appliances are outselling suqs or markets displaying homemade copperware. The city is studded with new buildings.

Occasionally a herd of sheep may jostle buses in Baghdad, and horse-drawn carriages—banned in the neon-lighted business district—still ply the west bank of the Tigris. Throughout Iraq draft animals outnumber tractors by the thousands to one.

But the sons of primitive farmers are studying chemistry and physics in first-rate laboratories, and the signs of a new nation in the making are apparent. The Land of the Two Rivers has moved into the modern world.

Provides Irrigation, Schools, Hospitals

Oil Gives Iraq Food, Roads

WASHINGTON—Whatever its alliance and changes in government, Iraq depends for life and well-being on three geographically rooted factors—oil, land and water.

The revolt that toppled King Faisal's throne has interrupted a long-term, nation-wide development program involving all three factors.

The program was launched in 1950. Its objectives are land reclamation by irrigation and drainage, flood control, and creation of hydroelectric power for industrial and other uses. It is financed by income allocated by law from the nation's oil production.

Life-giving water is provided by the great Tigris and Euphrates river systems that have long made Iraq one of the most fertile areas of the desert-plagued Near East, says the National Geographic Society.

HEART OF EXPLOSIVE REGION

Iraq's ancient name was Mesopotamia, from the Greek meaning "Land Between the Rivers."

As its boundaries are now drawn, Iraq lies in the heart of the explosive Near East regions. On the west, southwest and south, its uneasy borders meet those of Syria, Jordan and Saudi Arabia. North, east, and southeast stand Turkey, Iran and the small Kuwait sheikdom.

Across Syria and Jordan from Iraq are the Mediterranean-fronting states of Lebanon (where the United States Marines were sent) and Arab-threatened Israel. Beyond looms Egypt, center of the Arab nationalist movement.

Iraq's six and a half million people are a relatively small population for a country that is larger than California. Most of them live in the green central valleys of the big rivers, where the capital and chief metropolis, Baghdad, is situated.

An element of unrest that aroused concern before the present Baghdad-focused revolt was the presence in the northern borderlands of some 700,000 Kurds. These wandering tribesmen had a long history of rebellion against the former central government.

OIL-BUILT DAMS, CITIES

Wherever water is available, soil in Iraq is extremely rich. It yields grain for domestic consumption and export, and four-fifths of the world's dates.

Key to Iraq's economic future lies, however, in its huge oil wealth. Oil royalties have financed a dozen dams, canals, artificial lakes, irrigation and drainage installations. Some are completed; others are under construction.

Oil money has built new bridges, roads, airports, schools, hospitals, public housing and factories. It has backed city planning and expansion, especially in the old Arabian Nights capital at Baghdad. To carry out Baghdad's ambitious building program, including a new civic center, parliament house, and royal palace, development-board officials engaged some of the world's most famous architects.

Although problems of poverty and illiteracy linger on, and Iraq's bright promise is now dulled by the Near East turbulence, progress to date recalls the fact that this region once supported many times its present population.

The Garden of Eden was traditionally placed in Mesopotamia, and there the early civilizations of Sumer, Babylonia and Assyria brought forth brilliant concepts of art, mathematics, philosophy, literature, law and democracy. From the Sumerians, who designed the true arch, the first sunbaked bricks, and a good straight-edged razor, came that priceless tool of knowledge—the art of writing.

Great Britain Begins Fifteen New Towns

LONDON — The construction of 15 new towns is well under way in Britain under the New Towns Act of 1946, with the oldest of them now nearly half completed. Already more than 70,000 dwellings, 300 factories, 1,000 shops, and 100 new schools have been built.

Twelve of the towns are in England an dWales and three in Scotland. They are Britain's answer to the creeping outward growth of London and other large metropolitan areas.

November Top Month for Cars

Automotive Output at Highest Point of Year, 95 Pct. Above October

DETROIT (AP)—U.S. car production in November will total 510,647 units, highest monthly output of the year, Automotive News states.

The trade paper said production this week—a five-day week with Saturday work making up for the Thanksgiving holiday—would total 130,768 cars, a decline of 17,959 units from last week's 138,727 units which was a high for 1958.

Production in the corresponding week last year was 114,795 units.

The November total represents an increase of 95.4 per cent over the 261,696 cars turned out in October. Production in November of last year totaled 578,600 cars.

Only Studebaker-Packard was shut down by labor difficulties.

Truck output in the United States this week was estimated at 19,541 units, compared with 24,824 last week and 17,225 in the corresponding week last year, Automotive News said.

The trade paper said Canadian manufacturers were scheduled to turn out 7,590 cars and 1,420 trucks this week, compared with 7,037 cars and 1,365 trucks last week. In the corresponding week last year, the Canadian auto industry produced 10,134 cars and trucks.

Ford Hiking Output 5 Pct. in December

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co., reporting a backlog of orders for new Ford cars double that of last year, is increasing its Ford production by 5 per cent in December.

The Ford division said the increase will mean the output of an additional 15 million dollars worth of new cars, at retail. Production workers will earn about 7 million dollars in overtime pay between now and Christmas Eve, the division said.

The company did not give specific unit figures on the new production schedule.

Ford said its delivery of new Ford cars since their introduction Oct. 17 has exceeded 112,000, or 40 per cent above the monthly average of the first nine months of the year.

Electric Auto-Lite Strike Deadline Set

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers union has set a Monday noon strike deadline at 11 Electric Auto-Lite plants across the country.

UAW Vice President Richard T. Gosser, union Auto-Lite department director, yesterday said no progress was made in negotiations that opened here Monday on a new national contract covering the firm's 12,000 workers.

Some 2,200 UAW members at the Toledo, Ohio Auto-Lite plant already are on strike. They walked out Nov. 18 after failure to reach an agreement on a local contract.

The Monday strike deadline was set for plants in Fostoria, Ohio, Bay City and Owosso, Mich.; Syracuse and Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Vincennes, Ind.; La Crosse, Wis.; Atlanta, Ga.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Oakland, Calif.; and Hazelton, Pa.

Central Greyhound Hikes Fares Monday

DETROIT (AP) — Central Greyhound Lines will raise its fares 6 per cent, effective Monday.

Greyhound spokesmen said the increase in Michigan was approved by the State Public Service Commission.

Similar increases for travel to other points east of the Mississippi River will go into effect Dec. 15. The Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington approved the interstate increase.

Also affected by the ICC ruling are Trailways and other interstate bus lines operating east of the Mississippi.

Glue Links Molecules to Bond Two Surfaces

NEW YORK — A large variety of glues are being used more and more in construction, home building, and industrial work.

Essentially of plastic, when spread between two surfaces they undergo a plastic reaction that changes their make-up and links the molecules of the adhesive and those of the surfaces being bonded.

Goodman Heads GMI Regents

Vice President of GM Succeeds John Gordon in Tech Board Post

James E. Goodman, vice president and group executive of General Motors, has been elected chairman of the Board of Regents of General Motors Institute at Flint.

He succeeds John F. Gordon, GM president, who resigned as chairman and as a member of the Board of Regents and chairman and member of the GMI Executive Committee. Gordon resigned the positions to devote his time completely to his responsibilities as president and chief operating officer of General Motors.

Goodman, a member of the executive committee of GM, also was elected chairman of that committee, succeeding Gordon.

General Motors Institute, a degree-granting engineering school and principal education center for General Motors, has been in operation nearly 40 years.

Goodman lives at 451 Goodhue Rd., Bloomfield Hills, and Gordon lives at 1860 Rathmor, Bloomfield Hills.

Exchanges Closed Today

NEW YORK (AP)—All U.S. stock and commodity exchanges are closed today, Thanksgiving Day. Major European and Canadian markets remain open as usual. Normal operations are scheduled by U.S. as well as foreign markets for tomorrow.

Missing Pastor Found Gaily in Casino

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A missing Baptist minister from Kansas, found working as a shill in a gambling casino, says: "I've never been happier. For the first time in my life I have peace of mind."

The Rev. Maurice D. Tulloch, 50, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sabetha, Kan., vanished there two months ago. Located Wednesday at a downtown rooming house by a reporter, he said he abandoned his church and home to get away from his wife.

The minister said he came here to get a divorce because "I'm tired of my wife after 25 years," he added; "I left because I felt the walls closing in." He said he referred to his wife and the church.

For 18 years he had been a church troubleshooter, a pastor assigned to churches in financial or morale trouble in communities of 1,500 to 2,000.

Last Sept. 29, he said, he walked out in the middle of a church seminar and went to a bus station. He stood in line behind a woman he heard order a ticket to Las Vegas and, on the spur of the moment, ordered the same.

Arriving in this desert gambling resort, he had only $20 in his pocket. He asked a waitress if she knew of any work. She advised him to seek work as a shill—a casino employe who poses as a customer to drum up trade.

"I walked into the first casino I passed, told the boss I had never seen gambling and would like to learn, so he put me to work as a shill," he said.

"I'm going to write a book about gambling. It's fascinating, the characters you meet here."

He said he's also writing a book on "Practical Thinking for Christian People," which he described as a common-sense approach to world problems.

Spectacled, with graying, crewcut hair, the pastor looks closer to 40 than 50. He talked rationally and appeared healthy and in good spirits.

Tulloch said his wife Nellie, had been nervous and under a doctor's care. He has a son, 25, and a daughter, 19.

He said he had talked with his wife by telephone and she had asked him to return and start a new life. He said he told her that was impossible and he's happy now.

Tulloch earns $1 an hour, six or seven days a week. He said he still attends church—the Church of Christ—every Sunday.

He said he doesn't plan to continue working in the casino and has applied for a job with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation at nearby Hoover Dam.

Goebel Reports Profit

DETROIT (AP) — Goebel Brewing Co. Tuesday reported a net income for the three months period ended Sept. 30 of $160,268 compared to a deficit of $31,749 after tax credit in the corresponding period of 1957. Goebel said its gross sales for the three month period totaled $5,185,043 compared to $6,809,890 in the like 1957 season.

Man Thankful Despite Losing Arm and Foot

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Richard Wulfert is minus an arm and a foot, but when he gives thanks today, he means it.

Wulfert, a 27-year-old truck driver, cut off his arm with a pocket knife to free himself from the wreckage of his truck in Ohio last month. He arrived home by chartered plane Wednesday with his wife Jeanette, 24.

"This will not bother me," he said. "It'll slow me down a little, but I'll get by."

He smiled as he said a turkey dinner awaited him at home along with daughters Joyce, 4, and Barbara, 1½.

Wulfert's right foot was amputated at a hospital, but he said, "I'm glad I'm alive. I have a job waiting for me. I don't have to worry."

Wulfert was driving a load of television sets to New York Oct. 23 when his truck hit a bridge abutment near Celina, Ohio.

Board Reports on Diphtheria

Germs Found in Swabs Taken From Throats of 17 in St. Clair County

LANSING (AP)—Diphtheria germs have been found in swabs taken of the throats of 17 persons in St. Clair County, the State Health Department said today.

There have been no cases reported so far of an actual illness, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, reported, and there is no immediate danger of an epidemic.

"The reason the disease hasn't had a chance to get started there is that most of the persons involved have been school children who have been immunized," Heustis said. "This is an excellent example of protective immunity in action."

The department took swabs from the throats of 1,750 persons in the county and the 17 positive cultures were discovered.

Dr. Heustis said that routine swabs are sent in to the department for testing throughout the year and that no other outbreaks of the disease have been discovered in the state.

There have been only six clinical cases of diphtheria in Michigan so far this year, he said.

This compared with 126 cases during the same period in 1956, when a major outbreak of the disease centered in Detroit.

Diphtheria can be a killer, Dr. Heustis said. Most children, however, he said, get routine shots for the disease before starting school.

Train Crash Derails 11 Cars in Colorado

WALSENBURG, Colo. (AP) — Eleven cars were derailed or demolished Wednesday night when a passenger train slowing at 20 m.p.h. for a stop smashed into the rear of a standing freight train. Three persons suffered bruises.

The Colorado & Southern Railroad's Texas Zephyr, laden with holiday travelers, was two hours behind schedule on its southbound run from Denver to Dallas and Fort Worth, Tex. Engine trouble caused the delay, a spokesman said.

Its streamliner diesel unit and a baggage car were derailed when it rammed the rear of an empty Denver & Rio Grande Western Freight.

Nixon Lauds Reds' Better Living Plan

LONDON (AP)—Vice President Nixon Wednesday night welcomed Soviet Premier Khrushchev's threat to outstrip the West in the battle for better standards of living.

"If Mr. Khrushchev wishes to consider these steps as a form of competition or contest," Nixon said in a banquet speech, "I am sure all of us would be delighted to accept the challenge. In such a contest, no one could really lose.

"The world would be infinitely better off if man's energies were used for the welfare of families rather than the building of armies."

The banquet was given for Nixon by the English-Speaking Union in London's ancient Guildhall. It wound up the second day of his four-stay in Britain.

The vice president urged the West to make its chief goal "the victory of plenty over want, of health over disease, of freedom over tyranny."

"Let us speak less of the threat of communism and more of the promise of freedom," he said.

Impractical and Dangerous

U. of M. Professors Flay American Policy in China

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Five University of Michigan professors agree American policy toward Nationalist China's offshore islands is impractical and dangerous.

The professors — representing history, geography, economics, political science and journalism — say surrendering Quemoy and Matsu to the Communists would pose no serious invasion threat to Formosa.

They add that Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-Shek's policy regarding his offshore bastions is unrealistic.

"A permanent ceasefire negotiated by the United Nations would be a good solution because it would free us from being the only ones involved," said History Prof. Preston W. Slosson. "The islands should be left to the native inhabitants."

Slosson said the Communists probably are shelling Quemoy to pressure the United States into recognizing their regime with the hope it would lead to membership in the UN.

"The U.S. let itself get backed into a corner over the islands," said Economic Lecturer Hugh T. Patrick. "We should have decided earlier if they were necessary for the defense of Formosa or if there was a possibility of Chiang using them for his return to China."

Political Science Prof. Robert E. Ward said the U.S. would have no legal argument to back up its position should the Seventh Fleet take action if the islands are invaded.

"In the case of a local war with Communist China, the only help the U.S. could expect would be from Korea and Nationalist China," said Ward.

Geography Instructor L. A. Peter Gosling said the Communists have a valid claim that the islands block their ports of Amoy and Foochow to sea commerce.

Journalism Prof. Leland Stowe asserted that American policy is impractical because of heavy expenditures and the possible cost in human lives plus loss of diplomatic prestige and confidence among the U.S.' allies.

"We must get away from being at the mercy of Peiping to involve us in a major war over the islands anytime they want," said Stowe, a Pulitzer Prize winning journalist.

"The U.S. can't hold China out of the United Nations for any great length of time. The country probably will become a member within three years even over our objections."

The professorial opinions were carried in the Michigan Journalist, a university publication.

Lodge Calendar

Special communication, Pontiac Lodge No. 21, F&AM, Friday, November 28th, 7 p.m. Work in M.M. Degree. Gerald L. Moors, W.M. —adv.

News in Brief

Charles Rhimes, 33, of 1676 Taylor Rd. Pontiac Township, was bound over to circuit court yesterday on a charge of arson after examination before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Pontiac firemen estimated $150 loss to the house of Joe Franklin of 264 Rockwell St. following a fire at 8:50 last night. It was caused by an overheated furnace.

An overheated stove was the cause of a $100 fire at the home of Dan Holman, 100 Jackson St., yesterday, according to Pontiac firemen.

X-Ray Device Detects Frost Damage in Fruit

LOS ANGELES — California engineers have devised a mechanical frost-damage detector for discovering damage to citrus fruit.

X-rays beamed through fruit rotating on the machine's platform meet resistance in frost-damaged areas and the resistance is measured on a voltage gauge. As the frost damage worsens, the resistance increases, indentifying bad fruit.

State Employes to Get Bonus

2½ Million Going Into Longevity Plan for 13,600 Workers

LANSING (AP)—A Christmas bonus of two and one half million dollars will be divided among some 13,600 state employes in their next pay check.

The bonus, payable after Dec. 1, actually comes in the form of longevity pay. The longevity pay plan, now in its third year, was instituted at the urging of Civil Service to help cut down the turnover of state workers.

"The plan has paid for itself," said Arthur G. Rasch, state Civil Service director. "It would cost us more money to hire and train workers. When a worker has reached the top pay level in his particular bracket this gives him an incentive to stay on and continue to do a good job."

The state worker is eligible for the bonus payment after six years of continuous service.

The bonus payment after six years ranges from $120 for a clerk in the lowest Civil Service bracket to $196 for a top executive.

After 20 years, it ranges from $225 for a clerk in the lowest bracket to $360 for a top executive.

Sudan's New Ruler Will Accept U.S. Aid

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP)—Sudan's new military ruler, Prime Minister Ibrahim Abboud, said today he approves the 31-million-dollar American economic aid program to Sudan "in general."

Abboud said in an interview that he and his associates had discussed the program in detail, and "so far as we can see, there is no objection to the program.

"Possibly some difficulties may develop later," he added, "but you say that in general and so far as we know now, we approve the American aid program."

The U. S. aid program has been under heavy fire from President Nasser's press and radio in Egypt which blasted it as an American attempt to dominate Sudan. Previously Abboud and his ministers had only said they would study the program to see if it infringed on Sudanese independence.

Abboud took over the country in a military coup last week.

Increase Seen for Foreign Aid

1 Billion Dollars Tacked on to Budget Proposal Despite Economy Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has tentatively added about a billion dollars to its new foreign aid budget despite a White House drive to cut federal spending.

Government agencies have put together a package calling for about $4,200,000,000 to $4,300,000,000 in economic, technical and military aid to more than 40 friendly governments in the year starting next July 1.

Congress this year voted about $3,300,000,000 in foreign aid funds after cutting 600 millions from the amount requested.

The higher figure proposed for next year is still subject to change.

Responsible informants who reported the higher figure said President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles consider a vigorous foreign aid program particularly important at this time to offset Soviet moves in this field.

The proposed spending would cut down military aid and give added emphasis to economic and technical aid.

Eisenhower outlined a five-point aid program to the Colombo Plan countries in Seattle Nov. 10. This called for added emphasis on the administration's development loan fund, which extends low-interest credits with easy repayment terms.

Dulles told the United Nations General Assembly Sept. 18 the United States wants to make 1959 a year of long-term economic programs despite a current budget deficit.

The program drafted thus far undoubtedly will be reviewed by a top-level committee of outside experts led by William H. Draper Jr., businessman and former undersecretary of the Army.

Auto 'Supermarket' Slated at Northland

DETROIT (AP)—A car sales "supermarket" promising to deliver cars 20 minutes after their purchase is on the way for Detroit.

The car sales center, offering models of all new cars, is to be built at a cost of 8 million dollars in the Northland shopping center.

Orlick Development Corp. announced the plans today. The car supermarket is expected to be the first of its kind in offering choices of all makes of cars. The center will be a sales agency.

Robert W. Orlick, general manager, said 600 new car models will be placed in a multi-story display room.

The idea of a single agency handling sales of all makes has been endorsed by regional offices of the National Automobile Dealers Assn., Orlick said.

Independent franchised dealers will control the merchandising. Each will lease space in the center, Orlick said.

Jobless Workers Told Not to Picket Chrysler

DETROIT (AP) — Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms has issued a temporary restraining order halting unemployed workers from picketing Chrysler Corp. plants.

Picketing by jobless workers the last two Saturdays stopped production at Chrysler's Dodge main and East Jefferson assembly plant.

The pickets said Chrysler should not schedule overtime while they are out of work.

Judge Toms yesterday ordered a hearing Dec. 5 at which time the pickets must show cause why the restraining order should not be made permanent.

Slayer Escapes in Police Car

Wounds Kidnap Victim, Leaves Men Tied Up in Tennessee

LEBANON, Tenn. (AP)—An escaped Georgia murderer commandeered a highway patrol car and left the patrolman and a wounded kidnap victim bound to a tree Wednesday night, setting off a manhunt throughout middle Tennessee.

Roadblocks were set up today in the search for Spence Edwards, 35, who broke away from a prison work detail near Dalton, Ga., Tuesday.

Authorities had said he might try to free his brother from a Tennessee jail where he, too, is held on a murder charge.

Hubert Turner, 47, Dalton, Ga., Edwards' kidnap victim, was shot in the arm. He was hospitalized at Lebanon. Attendants said his condition was good.

Turner told newsmen and Wilson County Sheriff Albert Taylor that Edwards kidnaped him near Dalton and forced him to drive into Tennessee. He gave this version of what followed:

As they were driving near Chattanooga Wednesday, Edwards was holding a .410 shotgun on him. He asked him to move it, and as Edwards did, it discharged, shooting Turner in the arm.

Edwards was driving near Smithville when State Trooper Tom Moore stopped them for speeding. Edwards showed him Turner's driver's license. When Turner was unable to show any identification, Moore ordered them to accompany him to Lebanon. Edwards pulled his gun on the trooper, and forced him to drive the three of them eastward.

They turned off the highway about three miles west of Watertown. Edwards handcuffed Moore to a tree, bound Turner's hands to the trooper's with adhesive tape and fled in the patrol car.

Moore managed to get a pocket knife from Turner's pockets and freed him. The wounded Turner went to a nearby farmhouse, obtained an ax and cut the tree, freeing Moore.

Edwards was serving a life sentence for murdering a Georgia Bureau of Investigation agent.

Internal Revenue Gives In Exactly Eighth of Inch

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's only by an eighth of an inch, but the usually firm Internal Revenue Service has given way in the face of a campaign by public accountants.

Rep. Craig Hosmer (R-Calif) told about it today.

Hosmer had lent a hand to a campaign by Elmer L. Hall, an accountant in Long Beach, Calif., to increase by an eighth of an inch the width of paper on which certain tax information is prepared for attachment to some income tax returns.

Heretofore the revenue service has insisted on a maximum width of 8⅜ inches. Many accountants photocopy the information on standard 8½-inch paper. This means they must snip off the extra one-eighth inch.

Hosmer made public a letter by Deputy Internal Revenue Commissioner O. Gordon Delk spelling out the government's retreat: "We have carefully considered the problem of tax practitioners and have arrived at the conclusion that the 8⅜-inch maximum width of schedules to be attached to forms 1040 . . . may be increased to 8½ without creating any processing or filing problems in our district offices."

Two Die in Crash in Alleghany Tunnel

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—An elderly couple en route to Maryland to spend Thanksgiving with a son were killed Wednesday in a flaming traffic crash inside the Alleghany Tunnel of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Killed were George W. Petrie Jr., 70 and his wife Mabel, 67, Oakmont, Pa.

Two other collisions occurred in the tunnel after the fatal crash, but no one was seriously injured.

State Police Cpl. Howard Reppert described the crash this way:

The pickup truck was traveling west in the tunnel. The eastbound tractor-trailer veered into the path of the truck, sideswiped it, then continued on.

The eastbound traffic foresaw the sideswipe and began slowing up.

However, the wrecker couldn't stop in time and crashed into the rear of Petrie's car. Petrie's auto crashed into another car, which in turn smashed into a vehicle in front of it.

Traffic in the tunnel was tied up for more than two hours.

Debbie, Children to Spend Holiday With Her Mother

The actress told a reporter that she and Carrie Frances, 2, and Todd, 9 months, are having Thanksgiving dinner today at her mother's house. Her estranged husband won't be there, she added.

"Eddie can come to the house to visit the children any time he wants to, and he does come often," she said.

Miss Reynolds, blaming Fisher's attentions to actress Elizabeth Taylor for their separation, has said she will seek a divorce.

Recess Trial of Dave Beck Sr.

Deals With Shefferman Bring in Names of Big Labor Leaders

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—The income tax evasion trial of Dave Beck Sr. was recessed for the Thanksgiving Day holiday after testimony which brought up the names of some of the nation's top labor leaders.

Miss Florence Ouska, bookkeeper for Chicago labor relations consultant Nathan Shefferman, told the federal court jury hearing Beck's case that six other high ranking union officials other than Beck made wholesale purchases through her employer.

Beck, former Teamsters Union International president, is accused of evading $240,000 in income taxes for 1950-53. The government told the jury Wednesday that Beck spent more than $101,000 of union funds in transactions with Shefferman.

Miss Ouska said that other customers of Shefferman's "I'll-buy-it-for-you-wholesale business included George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO; Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers; Tom Flynn, a vice president of the Teamsters; John English, Teamsters treasurer; William Mullenholz, Teamsters comptroller; and the late William Green, former president of the AFL.

Items purchased by the union officials were not made a matter of record.

It was a different story with Beck's dealings with Shefferman, however.

Asst. U. S. Atty. John S. Obenour methodically listed payment after payment made by Beck to Shefferman. Checks, ledgers and other documents were presented showing that funds totaling $101,446.01 came from Teamster treasuries.

Defense attorneys agreed that none of the money came from Beck's own pocket, presumably laying the groundwork for a defense contention the money was not taxable because Beck's own funds were not involved.

The trial is scheduled to resume Monday.

Menominee Planning to Buy Bottomland

LANSING (AP) — Sale of a parcel of Lake Michigan bottomland to the city of Menominee for $100 will be recommended to the State Conservation Commission at its Dec. 4-5 meeting here.

The city wants the submerged land to enlarge its boat docking facilities. The entire dock project will furnish a big dredged area for mooring boats, a ramp for launching boats, a boardwalk and a parking area.

Department officials also suggested the commission authorize a $3,000 bid on a 60-acre section of abandoned farmland for addition to Waterloo State Game Area between Jackson and Ann Arbor. It was owned by the late Sam Smith. Sale was ordered by probate court.

Another proposed purchase would add 6.66 acres to Shiawassee River State Game Area for $170.

Group Named to Study Supply of Physicians

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service has set up a study group to recommend how the nation can be assured of having enough qualified physicians over the next 20 years.

In addition to Bane the members of the group includes:

Democrats Take Over in Alaska

Win 2 Senate Seats, Lone House Seat, Elect New Governor

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The new state of Alaska had its tent pitched solidly in the Democratic camp today as the ballot counting from Tuesday's general election took a Thanksgiving Day recess.

The Democrats, turning the election into a landslide with the exception of the race for one major office, picked up both of Alaska's U.S. Senate seats, the state's lone seat in the U.S. House of Representatives and the governor's mansion. They won absolute control of Alaska's first State Legislature.

Leading the Democratic parade was Alaska's long-time, nonvoting delegate to Congress, E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, 54, who was a runaway winner over Republican R. E. Robertson and independent Keith Capper.

Bartlett, who has represented Alaska in Congress for the past 14 years, was figured to be a shoo-in. Neither Robertson nor Capper waged anything more than a token campaign. Bartlett won U.S. Senate Term A.

Ernest Gruening, a Democrat, was locked in a tight vote battle with Republican Mike Stepovich for Senate Term B. Both men are former appointed governors of the territory.

Morocco Government Resignation Reported

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The moderate government of Premier Ahmed Balafrej is reported to have offered its resignation.

The move was said to have been the result of pressure from the left wing of the ruling Istiqlal party, which has demanded the government take over control of the army and the police, now in the hands of King Mohammed V.

Hunter Gets Jail, Fine

ALPENA (AP) — James A. Mousseau, 19, of Alpena has been sentenced to 30 days in jail on a charge of trying to run down a conservation officer with his car. Conservation officer Robert Clayton of Alpena said the incident occurred as he tried to question Mousseau about hunting deer with an artificial light. Mousseau and his brother, Donald, 22, were fined $50 each for shining deer.

TRILLING TRIO — Art Carney and two feathered friends break into song in "Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf," an ABC-TV special spotlighting the noted comedian and the Baird Marionettes to the music of Serge Prokofiev this Sunday on channel 7.

Puppets to Play Child's Classic

Fanciful Show Inspired, Based on Musical Score by Serge Prokofiev

NEW YORK — "Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf," a special one-hour program featuring the imaginative comedian whose television and stage performances have won him national acclaim, the charm of the renowned Baird Marionettes and the music of Serge Prokofiev will be presented on ABC television this Sunday from 5 to 6 p.m.

The first major television musical ever to be staged for puppets, "Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf" will present Carney as a dedicated nature-lover who uses his fishing line to feed fish rather than to catch them. He is trying to get the animals of the forest to re-admit the wolf to their fellowship.

A whole new world of appealing characters have been developed by Bil and Cora Baird for the ABC-TV special. Specially-conceived underwater and space ballets will permit the Bairds' creative ability to explore excitingly - different realms.

For the Bairds, old hands at the TV game, are coming up with perhaps their most ambitious effort in the medium this Sunday, when they and about 50 puppets join Carney in a one-hour live special for ABC.

This will be a fanciful creation inspired by and based on the wonderful musical composition by the late Prokofiev, "Peter and The Wolf."

The action will show the various phases of the wolf that are well known in legend and fairy tales through the centuries and to many nationalities. The story embraces the wolf's encounter with Little Red Riding Hood — and possibly the puppet version of Little Red Riding Hood will startle people a bit; the wolf and the three little pigs, and boy who cried 'wolf' and so on.

There will be six wolves of various sizes used on the show. The other characters will range from insects through fish to raccoons, cats, beavers, rabbits and many more woodland friends.

About nine human operators will be needed to manipulate the puppets on the program.

"And it will be a madhouse of activity backstage," Mrs. Baird said. "We'll be racing from stage to stage for the various scenes. The audience, of course, will see nothing but a smooth, disciplined performance. I often wish that an audience could get a look at us breaking our necks backstage."

In the Prokofiev composition, each of the characters — Peter, grandfather, the duck, the bird, the cat, the hunters and the wolf — are represented by different instruments. Together, they tell musically the story that has made Peter and the Wolf a classic for all ages.

But We Can Still Be Thankful

Reds Menace to Thanksgiving

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today is Thanksgiving Day. And what do we have to be thankful for?

For two things, mainly:

1. That we're still alive at a time when the United States and the Soviet Union have enough atomic and hydrogen bombs to make the human race look like a piece of wrapping paper that was burned in an open field years ago.

2. That so long as there is no war we can go on hoping that war between the East and West, between the Communist and non-Communist world, can be postponed until in the end there will be no war.

But every year ahead — from one Thanksgiving Day till the next — will be an uneasy one.

Communism is a crusading belief, bent on capturing the world. The Western democracies have the task of building dikes against the tide, with aid and arms, hoping in the end their way of life will look more attractive.

It won't be easy. In the struggle between the two beliefs, the democracies may have to move further and further towards socialism, and communism further and further towards individual freedom.

In the end — if peace can be preserved — communism and capitalistic democracy may have lost so much of their original identity that they will have become something different from what either side imagines now, and almost identical.

The best reason for thinking so is that life itself — and life means both ideas and men's desire — is steadily undergoing change.

At this moment when the West is giving aid to more backward peoples — and still trying to balance its budget — it feels that it is doing the best it can. Years from now, if communism wins, the West may feel it did far less than enough.

Communism, both in China and in the Soviet Union, is straining its utmost to come abreast of and surpass the West in a matter of a few years. As an example: the recently announced Soviet economic plan.

The West has no reason to be self-satisfied. It's in a life and death struggle. Because it has led the world for centuries — in production and living standards — is no guarantee it can continue to do so.

What is unknown now, and seldom talked about, is the potential of the backward people, in Asia and Africa. That potential will become clearer when they get started on the road to the 20th century and begin to perform with the energy all men are capable of.

It is these people with the black and yellow skins who, when they begin to assert their potential, may change the course of history and the direction of both communism and capitalistic democracy.

One thing is sure: On this Thanksgiving the West, proud and self-assured for so long, cannot look into the future and be positive that on some future Thanksgiving Day it will be the winner.

UAW Urges Hiring Laid-Off Workers

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers, pushing a share-the-work program, have instructed local unions to press auto companies for re-employment of laid-off workers.

UAW President Walter Reuther and co-officials issued a statement Tuesday saying it is "morally wrong and socially indefensible" to schedule overtime work "beyond that absolutely required" as long as there are many idle employes.

The international union's action followed picketing last week of auto plants and UAW headquarters. The picketing was in support of work demands of laid-off persons.

Animal Trainer Refuses to Take No for Answer

ROME (AP) — The hyena and the tiger had other ideas, but animal trainer Orlando Orfei said the show must go on.

The hyena bit Orlando in the thigh during an afternoon performance Tuesday. Doctors wanted to keep him in the hospital, but the trainer went back to his circus for the evening performance.

That time the tiger sank his teeth into his arm. Orlando got free, insisted on finishing the act, then went back to the hospital.

Theodore Roosevelt made his first trip to Europe at the age of 11. He spent his time visiting museums of natural history.

Named to National Board

DETROIT (AP)—Elmer W. Cress of Buchanan, president of Buchanan Steel Products Corp., has been named a member of the national board of field advisers for the local region of the small business administration. The appointment was announced by F. W. Pritchard, regional director in Detroit.

Vet Money Tap Fought by Rahoi

Senator Favors Call of Special Session to Get Extra Funds

LANSING (UPI) — Sen. Philip Rahoi (D-Iron Mountain) said today he is "bitterly opposed" to tapping the Veterans' Trust Fund to keep the state from going bankrupt.

Use of the 50-million-dollar fund to bolster the State General Fund had been proposd by J. H. Creighton, lobbyist for the Michigan Manufacturers Assn.

"A lot of legislators are in my corner on this one," Rahoi said. "There's not enough money in the fund to take care of our problems."

Rahoi said he favored calling a special session of the Legislature to appropriate additional funds for education, unemployment and welfare.

He was not expected to get much support on the special session proposal. Leaders of both parties have indicated they favored tackling these problems when the Legislature meets for its regular session in January.

Rahoi said a 100-million-dollar Corporation Profits Tax would solve immediate education, unemployment and welfare problems.

Help 155 Disabled Vets

DETROIT (AP)—Lloyd H. Jameson, regional office manager of the Veterans Administration, reported Tuesday that more than 155 seriously disabled veterans in Michigan have received federal grants totaling more than $1,519,000 to build homes. Special grants are available to veterans who because of service connected disabilities cannot get about without the aid of wheelchairs, crutches or braces.

Detroit Steel Output Up

DETROIT (AP)—The Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said Detroit steel mills reported a record output of 141,650 tons last week as the production rate reached 96.4 per cent of capacity. The publication said production this week is expected to ease off slightly.

ADVERTISED IN LIFE

INCLUDED!

300-foot reel can. Keep a complete movie show safe and clean for years.

INCLUDED!

Radiant screen

Genuine glass-beaded movie screen that reflects all the brilliance of your movies. Easy to set up and store.

INCLUDED!

Handsome genuine leather camera carrying case for camera protection.

★ KEYSTONE K-20 MOVIE CAMERA with fast f2.3 lens. Think of It! A color movie camera so simple to operate that anyone — even a child — can take beautiful sharp, clear color movies the first time. No learning how — it's all fun, no fuss. Your family and friends will say you're an expert. But you'll say movies with the Keystone K-20 are as easy as snapshots.

★ KEYSTONE K-80 MOVIE PROJECTOR with f1.6 Magna-Scope lens and Super-Optic beam. Think of It! A small, compact, movie projector that's easy to carry and simple as ABC to run. Throws a big, bright, 500-watt picture, filling your screen with color, motion and life.

INCLUDED!

Extra 300-foot reel. Keeps movie ready to show.

INCLUDED!

Projector carrying case for protection from dust and weather. Made of handsome brown leatherette.

INCLUDED!

Quik Splice Kit for speedy splicing and easy editing. Cut and rearrange scenes like a Hollywood film editor — as easy as putting on adhesive tape.

INCLUDED!

Movie Scene Record Book — the Hollywood-like shooting script for your home movies. Be a pro by following the "book."

INCLUDED!

New, handsome Light Bar with four big, bright General Electric 350-watt lamps. Mount the camera on top and get those once-in-a-lifetime indoor shots.
