SLUGGING RIVALS — Two of the major league's top sluggers, Hank Aaron of Milwaukee and Mickey Mantle of the Yankees are expected to wield the big bats as the World Series gets started today in Yankee Stadium. Aaron batted .332 behind Stan Musial and Willie Mays; he was first in runs scored with 118, first in runs batted in with 132, second in hits with 198 and led the National League in homers with 44. Mantle's record in the American League showed a .365 batting average, second to Ted Williams, first in runs scored with 120, fourth in hits with 173 and third in home runs with 34. Games today and tomorrow are at Yankee Stadium.

Start Soliciting Building Trades

Seek $16,592 Toward UF Goal of $162,000 for Pontiac Area

Soliciting of the construction trades by Pontiac Area United Fund workers began today after a kickoff meeting for volunteer workers last night at the Waldron Hotel.

Fund workers will call on nearly 300 area building trades firms and their employes to raise $16,592 of the total UF goal of $612,000 from the Pontiac area.

The general 1957 UF drive does not start until Nov. 4, but it is traditional for all Michigan United Funds to start their building trades solicitation before the general drive.

Volunteers this year are spurred by a trophy, offered by the Michigan United Fund to the community, which posts the highest per capita donation record during the building trades campaign.

Last year, Lansing won the trophy with an 86 per cent average. Pontiac had 38 per cent last year, according to Ray Garrett, of the Michigan United Fund's labor participation staff.

Speakers at last night's briefing were: Richard Fell, PAUF campaign training chairman; Dr. Dana Whitmer, campaign chairman; Norman O'Brien, construction group chairman; and Karl Bradley and Robert Langer, of the local UF staff.

Burglar Turns Chicken as He Faces Rolling Pin

DETROIT (INS) — An old-fashioned rolling pin was brought into play last night to capture a burglar in the home of a young Detroit couple.

Richard Godlewski, 22, told police he surprised a burglar in his kitchen when he returned home late from work.

"I saw the outline of a man in the kitchen," he said, "I grabbed the rolling pin and yelled 'Don't move or I'll blast you.'"

Yanks Down Braves in Series Opener, 3-1

NEW YORK (AP)—Lefty Whitey Ford limited the Milwaukee Braves to five hits in their first World Series appearance today and the New York Yankees pounded Warren Spahn to cover in the sixth and took the series opener, 3-1.

A crowd of 69,476 packed Yankee Stadium and saw the Yanks hammer Spahn for two clinching runs in the sixth inning.

FIRST INNING

Braves — Schoendienst grounded out to Coleman, Logan popped out to Coleman. Mathews popped out to Carey. No runs, no hits.

Yankees — Bauer flied out to Pafko. McDougald singled to right. Mantle singled to deep short. Skowron forced Mantle at second, Schoendienst to Logan. Berra popped out to Schoendienst. No runs, two hits.

SECOND INNING

Braves — Coleman threw out Aaron. Adcock flied out to Bauer. Pafko flied out to Kubek. No runs, no hits.

Yankees — Carey flied out to Aaron. Coleman doubled to right. Kubek flied out to Covington. Ford flied out to Covington. No runs, one hit.

THIRD INNING

Braves — Covington struck out. Crandall singled to center. Spahn forced Crandall at second, Coleman to McDougald. Schoendienst lined out to Mantle. No runs, one hit.

Yankees — Logan threw out Bauer. McDougald flied out to Covington. Mantle flied out to Covington. No runs, no hits.

FOURTH INNING

Braves — Howard now playing first base for Yanks. McDougald threw out Logan. Mathews walked. Aaron singled to right, sending Mathews to third. Adcock bounced into double play, McDougald to Coleman to Howard. No runs, no hits.

Yankees — Howard grounded out to Adcock. Berra and Carey flied out to Pafko. No runs, no hits.

FIFTH INNING

Braves — McDougald threw out Pafko. Covington singled to right. Crandall forced Covington at second, McDougald to Coleman. Crandall safe at first when Howard dropped Coleman's relay throw for an error. Spahn walked. Schoendienst forced Crandall at third, Carey unassisted. No runs, one hit.

Yankees — Coleman singled to left. Spahn threw out Kubek, Coleman taking second. Logan threw out Ford, Coleman moving to third. Bauer doubled to right, scoring Coleman. Logan threw out McDougald. One run, two hits.

SIXTH INNING

Braves—Logan walked. Mathews walked. Aaron struck out. Howard threw out Adcock at first with Ford covering. Pafko struck out. No runs, no hits.

Yankees — Mantle flied out to Aaron. Howard singled to right. Berra walked. Carey singled to center, scoring Howard and sending Berra to third. Ernie Johnson relieved Spahn on the mound for Milwaukee. Berra scored on squeeze bunt as Johnson threw out Coleman, Kubek struck out. Two runs, two hits.

SEVENTH INNING

Braves — Covington doubled to left. McDougald threw out Crandall, Jones batted for Johnson and bounced out to Ford. Covington moving to third. Schoendienst singled to center, scoring Covington. Logan struck out. One run, two hits.

Yankees — Don McMahon came in to pitch for Milwaukee. Schoendienst threw out Ford. Bauer struck out. McDougald struck out. No runs, no hits.

EIGHTH INNING

Braves — Carey threw out Mathews. Aaron popped out to McDougald. McDougald threw out Adcock. No runs, no hits.

Election Nears as Teamsters Move Ahead

Supreme Court Ruling Clears Path for Voting; 3 Still Oppose Hoffa

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

MIAMI BEACH — With a U. S. Supreme Court hurdle removed, the International Teamsters convention moved slowly ahead today towards its climaxing election tomorrow.

Jimmy Hoffa's bandwagon continued to gain momentum, it began to look as if opposition would not consolidate.

Yesterday, U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren refused to halt the Teamster election, as asked by attorneys for 13 rank-and-file teamster members from New York.

Asked to set aside an Appeals Court ruling which voided an injunction holding up the election, Warren ruled:

"In the light of all the circumstances, there seems to be no sufficient reason for me to interfere with the conclusions of the Court of Appeals.

OPPONENTS MAY UNITE

Hoffa's opponents appear no closer to joining forces for an all-out attempt to stop his drive for the Teamster presidency.

Three other candidates, Thomas J. Haggerty and William A. Lee, both of Chicago, and Thomas L. Hickey, a Teamster vice president from New York, are still very much in the race.

They claim their combined strength can defeat Hoffa, but the expected coalition which would see two withdrawals to throw all support behind the third has not yet materialized.

It is possible that all three will remain in the race until allotting starts, each hoping to siphon away some of the strength Hoffa has been claiming.

★ ★ ★

If no candidate receives a majority on the first ballot the low man drops from the race. Hoffa claims he can win on the first ballot. His opponents disagree and believe if they can hold him away from a majority on the first ballot, his strength will decrease on lot, his strength will decrease on successive tests.

★ ★ ★

Joint council 25, of Chicago, with 144 votes in a caucus late Tuesday declined to back Hoffa as a council and advised each of its unions to make their own decisions.

Bomb Reported in Area School

Township Junior High Evacuated While Police Search Building

Approximately 400 seventh and eighth grade students went through an ordinary fire drill at Isaac E. Crary Jr. High School, in Waterford Township, this morning, while faculty members and state troopers searched the school for a bomb, according to State Police.

The students knew nothing of the call to Mrs. Olive Gustafsen, office manager, moments before, warning that a bomb was in the school, said police at the Pontiac post.

The school's principal, Paul O'Neill, calmly called for a fire drill to evacuate the school just long enough to make a thorough search and in the meantime called troopers to the scene. The call came in at about 9:15 a.m.

Searchers found no bomb on the premises and the all clear signal was sounded, bringing the students back to their classrooms. This was the second bomb scare in Waterford schools in the past two days.

Ike Spurns Faubus' Assurances

Talks on Little Rock Crisis Fail to Bring About Truce

WASHINGTON (INS) — Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee said today that "negotiations are still in progress" to break the deadlock between President Eisenhower and Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus over the Little Rock integration crisis.

White House sources said today the President will not again agree to pull the Army out of Little Rock until Faubus demonstrates his sincerity beyond the faintest trace of doubt.

Faubus declared today he is "standing pat" on his statement of last night promising cooperation with the federal government in handling the Little Rock school integration case despite President Eisenhower's rejection of it.

The President's surprise rejection of the all-but-signed Little Rock truce last night left the next move in the historic drama squarely up to the Arkansas governor.

The pledge made earlier in the evening by Faubus did not, Eisenhower decided, constitute sufficient assurance that the governor would use his "full powers" to prevent obstruction of court-ordered school integration.

Faubus had agreed to assume "full responsibility" for law and order in Little Rock once federal troops are withdrawn. He also promised that the orders of the federal courts "will not be obstructed by me."

To the President, who feels Faubus went back on his word once before, after their meeting in Newport, this was not enough. He decided, according to aides, that the governor was deliberately employing fancy language that could leave a loop hole in the agreement reached earlier yesterday.

The dramatic announcement from the White House at 10:44 p.m. (EDT) dashed earlier indications that a settlement had been reached in the now historic clash of federal and state powers.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D., Ore) praised Eisenhower today for not withdrawing troops from Little Rock and said Faubus is a "trickster" and "guilty of bad faith."

After a meeting with a delegation of four southern governors,

Workmen Find Live Grenade on School Lawn

Two workmen found a live hand grenade yesterday noon on the lawn of the Henry R. Schoolcraft Elementary School at 6400 Maceday Dr., Waterford Township.

Township Patrolman William Stokes was summoned. He took the grenade and buried in in a pit near the police station. A demolition crew from Selfridge Air Force Base was called. The men took the grenade and discharged it at the base.

Township police said they have no idea where the object came from. At the same time, they discounted that it might be connected with Tuesday's bomb threat which sent 1,100 Waterford Township High School students and teachers home early.

The workmen, Charles Martin and Art Wilson, were raking in seed for the new front lawn when they came across the weapon.

Officials theorized that, since it was extremely rusty and dirty, it might have been buried and recently uncovered during work on the lawn.

Some 100 fifth and sixth graders were being discharged for lunch at the grenade's discovery, while many of the rest of the 449 students were enjoying a recess on a playground a short distance from the lawn. There were no children playing where the grenade was found.

Doctors Renew Hospital Suit

6 Back in Court Asking Halt to Restrictions at Pontiac General

Back in court again today was a suit of six Pontiac General Hospital doctors seeking unrestricted surgical privileges at the city hospital.

It is the third legal attempt of the six, who have lost two previous bids to put a stop to certain rules and regulations which they charge "impedes, interferes, hinders, prevents and prohibits" them from practicing their profession freely.

In the latest action, a suit was filed in Oakland County Circuit Court Tuesday seeking an injunction to stop hospital officials from enforcing the rules. The seven defendants in the suit must show cause Oct. 28 why the injunction shouldn't be granted.

The doctors are Roy V. Cooley, Robert W. Albrecht, Douglass A. Haddock, Maolin Han, Rodman C. Jacobi, and Leonard Blackwell, all general practitioners. Dr. Cooley is also a Pontiac city commissioner.

Early last month the State Supreme Court turned down a request from the six for a writ of prohibition. The move to the high court followed a rejection for an injunction from Circuit Court in April.

★ ★ ★

The doctors claim that only the Michigan State Board of Registration in Medicine, under which they were granted their licenses, can govern their practices.

Hospital officials have continued to emphasize that the rules are necessary for the protection of the public.

Weatherman Says Clear, Cool Tonight

Clear and cool tonight, says the weatherman, with the low temperature near 45 degrees.

Thursday will be fair and warmer with a high around 74. Tomorrow night will be partly cloudy and warmer with the low near 54 degrees. Friday will continue to be warm and partly cloudy.

Precipitation will total around .6 to .7 of an inch, occurring as showers Saturday and Sunday. The mild temperatures of the week will become cooler about Sunday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 45 degrees. The thermometer registered 69 at 2 p.m.

Wounded Robert Brown, Home Intruder Engaged in Duel

Pistol Champ Sergeant Wounded in Gun Battle at VanAlstyne Home

SGT. ROBERT BROWN

The top pistol shot on the Birmingham Police Department shot it out with a bandit in a Birmingham residence this morning, and killed the intruder with five shots.

Sgt. Robert Brown was wounded himself in the furious point-blank exchange of shots when he opened the front door of the J. S. VanAlstyne Jr. residence at 515 Kennesaw and confronted the burglar.

Dead is Frank R. Frahm, 58, of no known address.

Birmingham Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said Frahm had a number of receipts from hotels in his pockets, including one from a Detroit hotel.

Arriving at the house, Brown found the front door partly ajar, and kicked it open, drawing his pistol at the same time.

He said the bandit whirled on the stairs and shot him in the chest. Brown said he fired five shots, hitting Frahm, and then returned to his car to call for aid.

★ ★ ★

While radioing for help, he heard some commotion in the house, and said, "I didn't get that guy, I'm going back to get him."

He found the bandit writhing at the foot of the stairs, and kicked the gun out of his hand.

AN EXPERT SHOT

Brown, who led the Birmingham Police Department team in a Michigan Police Chiefs' Assn. pistol meet at Jackson last week, is considered an expert pistol shot.

Frahm's gun, a foreign-manufactured automatic, jammed after he fired two shots. One hit Brown in the chest, the other lodged in the door.

Frahm apparently had hidden in the garage attached to the Van Alstyne home, intending to surprise Van Alstyne as he left for work.

As Van Alstyne left his home about 9:30 a.m., he found the bandit waiting in the garage. Van Alstyne was herded inside the kitchen.

Upstairs, Mrs. Van Alstyne heard the commotion in the kitchen, and called out, "What the matter down there?"

When she received no answer, she asked the telephone operator to send police.

★ ★ ★

Unaware that Mrs. Van Alstyne had turned in an alarm, the bandit forced Van Alstyne upstairs, and then tied them both up. Then he ransacked the room.

Holdup Days End for Thief

Officer Kills Burglar Whose Record Dates Back to 1919

The end of a long reign of burglaries, daiting as far back as 1919, came today for 58-year-old Frank R. Frahm when he was shot to death by a Birmingham patrolman while attempting a holdup in that city.

Back in March of 1941, Frahm was sentenced by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty to 10 to 15 years for the theft of $12 from the George Mellen home at 612 S. Shirley Ave., Pontiac.

At the time of his sentencing, he had already spent 17 years of his life in prisons, records show.

Dropping an appointment slip for a job with his name on it at the scene of the robbery proved top evidence against him in the jury trial.

His record goes back to 1919 when he was placed on two years probation for breaking and entering. He served six months in jail in 1920 for a misdemeanor, was sentenced to 5 to 20 years for burglary in 1924 and to 15 to 30 years in 1929 for breaking and entering.

He was on parole from Jackson Prison at the time of his 1941 sentencing.

Frahm this morning was shot five times by Patrolman Robert Brown when he attempted to rob Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Van Alstyne, Jr. in their home at 515 Kennesaw St., Birmingham.

Mrs. Van Alstyne, in a bedroom when her husband was confronted by Frahm in the garage, gave this partial account of the robbery:

"I heard this commotion downstairs and yelled to Jack (Mr. Van Alstyne) to find out what was the matter. When I didn't receive an answer and heard the noise continue, I called the police."

"I had just put down the receiver when into the bedroom walked my husband with this man following."

"He asked me if I had called the police and I said no. He told me it was a good thing I hadn't or he would have shot me. He asked me then who I had called and I told him a neighbor."

Economy Goal for '58-59: U. S. Budget of $70 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's record peacetime budget has grown a bit bigger—to 72 billion dollars—but the administration hopes to reduce spending to 70 billions in the year ending June 30, 1959.

Budget director Percival F. Brundage announced the economy target for next year after issuing his midyear review yesterday. It showed estimated spending for this year up by 200 million dollars from Eisenhower's January estimate, and the prospective surplus down by 300 million dollars, to 1½ billions.

Those figures, covering the 1957 fiscal year that started July 1, would not justify tax reduction, Brundage told reporters, but added the following year may be better, fiscally speaking.

If enough savings are achieved and the personal income of Americans continues to rise as expected, Brundage said, Congress could consider tax relief next spring — although not to take effect until midyear or thereafter.

"I am hoping we can hold the 1959 budget to 70 billion dollars," he told a news conference.

"I don't exactly expect that, but I think every member of the administration is doing his level best.

". . . If Congress sticks to its economy drive, it would be very helpful."

The budget review provided this picture of federal income and outgo in the government year which is now three months old:

Spending, 72 billion dollars, as compared with the $71,800,000,000 figure which stirred a storm of Congressional criticism when Eisenhower announced it in his budget message.

Receipts, 73½ billion dollars, down 100 million from the January estimate, partly because of anticipated lower taxable earnings by corporations. Individual income tax receipts are expected to rise.

Surplus, 1½ billion dollars, all of it destined to go into reducing the federal debt.

The comparative figures for last year—the one that ended June 30—were: expenditures $69,400,000,000; receipts 71 billion dollars; surplus $1,600,000,000.

Pontiac Motor Production Up

262,692 Units Roll Off Assembly Lines in 1957 9-Month Period

Pontiac Motor Division production through the first nine months of 1957 was announced as 262,692 units today, in a report on all GM production through September.

During the same period last year, some 238,372 units moved off the lines.

General Motors Truck & Coach Division produced 52,972 units in the first nine months of 1957, compared to 71,955 for the same period of 1956. In September, 4,389 units came off the truck lines, compared to 4,992 in September 1956.

General Motors produced 107,367 passenger cars and trucks during September, compared to 132,844 during the same month of 1956.

For the nine-month period, GM reached 2,552,106. During a like period of 1956, some 2,608,928 units were produced.

Pontiac produced 8,802 units in September, compared to 19,471 in September 1956. Other division figures, and the corresponding 1956 figure for nine months, are: Chevrolet, 1,124,515 in '57; 1, 192, 929 in '56; Oldsmobile, 296,868 in '57; 344,046 in '56; Buick 298,474 in '57; 427,313 in '56; Cadillac, 120,913 in '57; 114,993 in '56.

Japan Dumps Precious Pearls Into Tokyo Bay

TOKYO (AP)—While a Buddhist priest chanted prayers and burned incense at an improvised altar, $47,000 in pearls deemed unfit for export were poured into the waters of Misaki Harbor, north of Tokyo Bay today.

The Japan Pearl Export Assn. said it wanted to rid the market of imperfect pearls to maintain Japan's reputation. It denied the pearls were dumped to keep prices up.

Know the Weather

What is the difference between a waterspout and a whirlpool?

A waterspout is nothing less than a tornado over water. It is a fearsome sight but one which, fortunately, is rarely encountered. Contrary to the common belief, the waterspout does not suck water up great distances from the ocean, or lake.

Rather, the spout is composed of moist whirling air, which gives off a dark appearance, but which is not really water being sucked upward into the air.

A whirlpool is a circular movement of water caused by currents, sometimes by wind. They are almost always harmless. Exceptions are whirlpools caused by a very strong natural or artificial currents, which can quickly endanger a swimmer, and which should be carefully avoided.

As Ike Meets Governors

Reporters in White House Anxiously Wait for News

By ED CREAGH
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is no stranger to excitement, but it hasn't seen lately an episode like yesterday's.

★ ★ ★

The lobby was jammed with newsmen. They overflowed into the driveway in front of the executive offices. A sort of rear guard was posted at the side door, just in case the four Southern governors meeting with President Eisenhower on the Little Rock situation should come out that way.

Minutes, then hours dragged past. The noise level rose to a pitch just short of a shriek.

Then a door opened and the reporters and cameramen who brought you the story surged into the office of press secretary James C. Hagerty. Surged? They all but tumbled in. Once in, they stood, sat and perched on bookcases.

Hagerty stood behind his desk, arms folded, smiling the faint smile that signals to White House veterans: this is a big story, men. It was, too.

The Southern governors telegraphed it also. White-carnationed Luther Hodges of North Carolina fingered a copy of the joint statement by the White House and the governors. The mobile features of Maryland's Theodore R. McKeldin were in constant motion. Florida's prematurely gray Leroy Collins and Tennessee's equally handsome Frank Clement showed similar eagerness.

Hagerty had the privilege of announcing the news, as spokesman for President Eisenhower. It meant: if Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus would pledge to maintain law and order and not to interfere with federal court orders, Eisenhower would pull U.S. troops out of Little Rock. The governors said Faubus was ready to make such a pledge.

It looked as if the gravest integration crisis to date might be peacefully resolved.

And then the bottom began to fall out.

First, Faubus' "assurance" came through from Little Rock. He said he never intended to obstruct the orders of the federal courts—although a U.S. court has accused him of doing just that. He said he was prepared "as I have always been" to maintain law and order—for all that Eisenhower has indirectly blamed him for stirring up mob violence.

"I now declare," said the governor, "that upon withdrawal of federal troops, I will again assume full responsibility . . . for the maintenance of law and order, and that the orders of the federal courts will not be obstructed by me."

There were more hours of waiting. Finally, as midnight approached, Eisenhower issued a statement which for all praetical purposes told the governor of Arkansas: You didn't go far enough.

Eisenhower said Faubus' statement doesn't guarantee he will use his full powers to prevent obstruction of court orders. And so, said the President, there is nothing to do but keep the federal troops on duty and hope both sides will keep trying to work out a solution.

The throng of newsmen had dwindled by the time the President's final statement was issued. The pro-and-con pickets who had marched for a time outside the White House gates had long since gone away.

One thing seemed certain: nine Negro children would go to school in Little Rock today still under the protection of the U.S. Army. Beyond that, it wasn't safe to predict.

President Spurns Faubus' Assurances

Eisenhower agreed to withdraw Army troops and turn control of the Arkansas National Guard back to Faubus when he received certain guarantees from the governor.

MAINTAIN ORDER

These were to be a declaration by Faubus that "he will not obstruct the orders of the federal courts and will in connection therewith maintain law and order in Little Rock."

The Arkansas governor agreed to this precise language during a telephone consultation with the other southern leaders at the White House.

But when he issued his formal pronouncement from Little Rock at 7:24 p.m. (EDT), he changed some of the key phrases, putting it this way:

"I now declare that upon withdrawal of federal troops, I will again assume full responsibility, in cooperation with local authorities, for the maintenance of law and order, and that the orders of the federal courts will not be obstructed by me."

Rejecting this three hours later, Eisenhower said he found the wording objectionable.

In Little Rock this morning, nine Negro students, who complained of "rough treatment" from their white classmates Tuesday, entered Little Rock's Central High School today amid spontaneous jeers from a crowd of teenagers gathered on the front steps.

The colored children entered the school by a side door as a group of some 150 white students appeared to be blocking their way to the main entrance of the troop-guarded school building.

An Army spokesman said later that "nothing happened" and the situation was being closely watched by kakhi-clad troops carrying billy clubs inside the building.

Some 200 federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen took up posts around Central High at 6 a.m. CST today, relieving a dozen chilly 101st Division paratroopers who patrolled the school area through the night.

MSU Reports Outbreak of Flu

100 Students Believed to Be Suffering From Asian Virus

EAST LANSING (AP) — An outbreak of Asian flu was reported today among students at Michigan State University.

Dr. Clifford G. Menzies, director of health services, reported that about 100 students were hospitalized.

"That isn't impressive statistically with an enrollment of 20,000," he said, "but it already is taxing our hospital facilities."

Dr. Menzies said laboratory specimens are being taken to confirm that the ailment is the Asian flu. He said all the symptoms indicate the disease, however, with symptoms of high fever and extreme fatigue the next few days noticed among the student patients.

Vaccine had been promised to inoculate the students but has not yet arrived, he said. The college still plans to offer the serum when it arrives, he added.

"Those who get the thing don't get seriously ill and there is no danger but it could disrupt the college schedule if it spreads," Dr. Menzies said.

The football team, leaving to play California Thursday, has received shots to guard against the flu.

The State Health Department, meanwhile, said it had no reports of other major outbreaks in the state.

Mistrial Ruled on Confidential

After 2 Weeks, Jury Is 7 to 5 for Conviction; No Hope of Agreement

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Deadlocked after two weeks of unproductive wrangling, the jury in the Confidential magazine criminal libel conspiracy trial was discharged last night.

A juror disclosed that the jury stood 7-5 for conviction.

And the same juror said the jury heard a rumor Sunday that one of its members had been bribed. The report stemmed from a remark overheard by a juror as she walked through the lobby of the hotel where the jury was quartered.

Said Presiding Judge Herbert V. Walker: "A five to seven jury doesn't look like anyone was bought."

Declaration of a mistrial dropped the curtain on an inconclusive climax to a two-month legal battle over whether Confidential, its sister scandal magazine Whisper and other defendants conspired to libel celebrities and to publish lewd and obscene stories.

But this, said Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzi, was only the first act.

"The case will be retried," he said. Earlier he had promised that other defendants would be brought to trial on the same charges.

Foreman Fred L. McCulley told Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker that the jury was divided 7-5 and there was no hope of reaching a verdict.

Absentee Ballots for Hospital Vote Now Available

Absentee ballots for the Oct. 28 special hospital bond election are now available at the city clerk's office in the City Hall.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans once again reminded voters that the election will be restricted to property owners in the city, as state law stipulates that only these persons can say whether a municipality may issue general obligation bonds.

The ballots will be available through Oct. 26 and are for voters who will be unable to go to the polls Oct. 28 due to illness or absence from the city.

The vote then will be on a $950,000 general obligation bond issue aimed at financing the furnishing and equipping of the Pontiac General Hospital $4,000,000 wing.

Teamster Election Delay on Credentials

of individual locals formerly pledged to Hoffa changing their stand. It is such instances that continue to bolster hope of those out to defeat the Detroit labor leader.

Teamsters plodded through a colorless session for the second day of their convention Tuesday, devoting the entire day to reading of the revised constitution which is up for adoption.

Many sections of the document are unchanged but President Dave Beck, presiding, insists that every line of the 70 page document be read, section by section. The day ended with about two thirds of the task finished.

DELAY VOTE

Portions on which there is no disagreement were adopted by voice vote. All sections on which there arose the slightest controversy were referred back to committee for further study.

In this way action on all controversial points in the new constitution is delayed until the convention has attained its full delegate strength.

Hearings before the credentials committee continued Tuesday and Tuesday night, and until this committee reports, from 440 to 500 delegates remain uncertified for any recorded convention action.

CHALLENGE PONTIAC LOCAL

Pontiac Local 614 is among the delegations still awaiting acceptance. Leaun Harrelson, chairman of the Pontiac 4-man delegation, said Tuesday afternoon that the chief complaint against his group appeared to be that their credentials were signed by Jimmy Hoffa, Trustee, rather than by the local's officers, as required. Harrelson said the proper signatures have been placed on the credentials and he anticipates the 614 delegation will be seated.

There is still much work to be done on the new constitution, and in an effort to clear the way for elections Thursday, a night session is almost certain for tonight.

First break in the routine of Tuesday's sessions came at 4 o'clock in the afternoon when news wires flashed the information that Chief Justice Earl Warren had declined to stop the Teamsters from holding their election.

The announcement set off a noisy demonstration in the convention hall which lasted several minutes.

As presiding officer Beck waved to the demonstrating delegates, Hoffa stepped forward on the stage from the group of vice presidents and took his place beside Beck to receive the acclamation of the crowd.

Justice Warren's decision was hailed as another victory for Hoffa, as it marked collapse of another facet of the "Stop Hoffa" strategy.

Hoffa told this newsman last night that the current convention is costing about $2 million. The prospect of holding another convention at a later date in event the election could not be held this week was a matter of concern even to a union with plenty of resources.

Gunman Faces Murder Charge

Claims Dead Partner Slew Two Policemen in Bloody Chase

SCOTTSBURG, Ind. (AP)—A gunman who insisted his dead companion fired the shots that killed two policemen in two states faced a preliminary charge of murder today.

Victor Wayne Whitley, 26, Granger, Tex., was bound over to the Scott Circuit Court by Justice of Peace O. E. Hedrick late yesterday and was taken to the Clark County Jail at Jeffersonville for safekeeping. He was ordered held without bail.

State Police said Whitley told them that Ralph Walker Taylor, 36, Kenova, W. Va., fired the shots that killed State Troopers Dugald A. Pellot, 23, Clinton, Mich., and William Kellems, 27, Scottsburg.

Taylor died Monday night in an exchange of gunfire with Lester Kenen, 38, North Vernon patrolman, as Taylor and Whitley fled from a police roadblock set up at Vernon after Kellems was slain.

★ ★ ★

The killing of Taylor and cornering of Whitley ended a four-month robbery spree by the two gunmen. Taylor was a convicted rapist and parole violator from West Virginia, but police said Whitley had no previous record of a major crime.

21 ROBBERIES

Whitley told of a series of 21 armed robberies from Delaware to Texas but said he and Taylor never were forced to fire their guns until Monday, when Trooper Douglas A. Vogel stopped them in a routine traffic check near Clinton.

Stealing automobiles and license plates, the pair fled southward the length of Indiana. Kellems recognized their car in Scottsburg, and he too died before their blazing guns.

Turning back north, they ran into a roadblock at Vernon, wounded Trooper Robert Pond and kidnaped Deputy Sheriff Clyde Perkins, 46. Kenen drove up, took three bullets in the stomach and killed Taylor.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham Officer Kills Bandit in Duel

the Birmingham force, got the call as he patrolled alone in a scout car. Other policemen found Frahm at the foot of the stairs, and rushed both him and Brown to William Beaumont Hospital.

OPERATION SET

Brown is listed as in satisfactory condition, with an operation set for this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Frahm fits the description of the lone bandit who attempted to hold up the Manufacturers National Bank branch at 4077 W. Maple Rd., Bloomfield Township, in April. The attempt was frustrated by a fast-talking assistant manager, who said the amount of cash demanded was not available.

Brown, 35, has been a sergeant for 2½ years. He is married and lives at 794 Bates St. with his wife and four children.

Van Alstyne is the owner of the Van Alstyne Photo-Engraving Co., 457 W. Fort St., Detroit.

Frahm lost his life for $14.

He got $10 from Van Alstyne's wallet, and took $4 from Mrs. Van Alstyne's purse, which he found on the bed.

TIED THEIR HANDS

When he brought Van Alstyne upstairs to the bedroom, he tied both the husband and wife's hands behind their backs. He was gentle, Mrs. Van Alstyne said, and did not hurt either one of them.

When she heard a car drive up, she noticed the bandit had also heard the noise.

"So you did call the police," he said. He left them standing in the bedroom and started down the stairs. Mrs. Van Alstyne said she and her husband closed the door, and then held it shut.

The Day in Birmingham

Mrs. Roosevelt to Speak in New Town Hall Series

BIRMINGHAM — The wife of a former President of the United States and an internationally known figure, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt will open the new Town Hall series here tomorrow and Friday.

Returning by jet plane from Russia, Mrs. Roosevelt, author and lecturer, will speak both days at the Birmingham theater.

Speaking for the Town Hall sponsors, Mrs. Charles B. Kass said, "I feel we have been most fortunate in bringing Mrs. Roosevelt to Birmingham to open our 1957-58 series. She is an excellent speaker, is known to everyone and will certainly tell our patrons many things they are anxious to learn about world affairs."

Second attraction for the current series will be Bennett Cerf, popular humorist, publisher and speaker. He will appear here Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Katherine Marshall, wife of the late Dr. Peter Marshall, will come to Birmingham Nov. 21-22. Widely known for her book, "A Man Called Peter," Mrs. Marshall will speak on "Human Relationships."

Fourth on the list, and opening the new year with his Jan. 9-10 lectures, will be Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, for 22 years president and chancellor at the University of Chicago. He will speak on all subjects.

John Canaday, director of the Philadelphia Museum of Art has been scheduled for Feb. 6-7. He will illustrate his talk on "What Is Art?" with slides.

The well known satirist, Richard Armour, will close the current series with his March 20-21 appearance.

With his popularity as a satirist far outclassing his work as a university professor, the doctor of philosophy from Harvard University will speak on "Laughing at Ourselves."

Again all programs will be followed by luncheons at the Birmingham Country Club. Listeners will, at this time, have an opportunity to informally question and talk with the guest speakers. Patrons are asked to make reservations through the BCC office a few days in advance of the luncheon.

Officers and committees serving the Birmingham Women's Club for the coming year include Mrs. Ralph Main, president; Mrs. William Grabendike, first vice president; Mrs. Irving Brown, second vice president; Mrs. George Steelman, recording secretary; Mrs. Norman Porter, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Percy Burnett, treasurer.

Directors are Mrs. Lawrence Heintz and Mrs. Warren Pratt. Mrs. Hans Schjelin heads the fine arts committee; Mrs. C. F. Butters, literature; Mrs. Thomas Hunts, American home; Mrs. Melbourne Appel, modern living.

Mrs. Wilbur Johnstone, program chairman, is to be assisted by Mrs. Edward Clarke, Mrs. Bennett Root and Mrs. William Scherer.

Other committee heads are Mrs. Matthew Cammareri, publicity; Mrs. Melvin Deer, printing; Mrs. Glenn Waggoner, tea hostess; Mrs. Floyd Franklin, courtesy; Mrs. John Rosso, parliamentarian; Mrs. Rosso, Mrs. Nelson Miles and Mrs. Eugene Kempf, revisions; Mrs. Deer, Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Cammareri and Mrs. Lester Holt, ways and means.

Others are Mrs. William Rosso, junior representative; Mrs. Main and Mrs. Gravendike, convention representatives; Mrs. Glen Coley, historian; Mrs. C. W. Hester, membership; Mrs. Burnett, Mrs. Gravendike and Mrs. Earl Cunningham, budget; Mrs. E. D. Sheley, auditor, and Mrs. Charles J. Shain, international relations.

Mrs. Mary C. Arnold

Service for Mrs. Mary C. Arnold, 98, of 19300 Appoline St., Detroit, will be from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. at 11 a.m. Thursday. The Rev. Robert Graham of the First Presbyterian Church will officiate.

Mrs. Arnold, a member of one of Oakland County's pioneer families, died suddenly yesterday at the Arnold home in Detroit.

She was the widow of John C. Arnold, to whom she was married in 1875 at Bay City. After many years in Seattle, Wash., Mrs. Arnold returned to this area in 1942.

She is survived by three grandchildren, Mrs. Donald D. Davis of Detroit, Arnold W. Smith of Birmingham, and Mrs. George P. Forbes Jr. of Larchmont, N.Y. Five great-grandchildren also survive.

Victor E. Nelson Dies at Watkins Lake Home

Victor E. Nelson, founder of Nelson Mfg. Co. and former president of Pontiac Manufacturers Association, died at 10:30 this morning in his home, 4378 South Shore Rd., Watkins Lake.

He had been in ill health several years.

Integration at a Glance--Opposition Holding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, reversing himself on troop withdrawal demands stronger stand by Arkansas' Gov. Orval Faubus that he will not obstruct federal court orders to integrate Little Rock schools. Hopes for settling the month-long controversy hinge on wording of agreement.

LITTLE ROCK—While federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen patrol Central High area in relief of U. S. troops today, there were signs that some anti-integration white students at Central High might be taking matters into their own hands by threatening the nine Negroes attending the school.

★ ★ ★

GREENSBORO, N. C. — Dynamite blast near home of Elijah Herring Sr., whose two children are among six Negroes admitted to white schools here, does little damage.

★ ★ ★

MATOAKA, W. Va.—White students demonstrate and rough up two of six Negro pupils at Matoaka High School. Officials blame teen-agers outside of school and others for instigating the trouble.

OKLAHOMA CITY—Oklahoma's integrated schools now number 431 with more than 6,600 Negro students, school officials report. Some 298 Negro teachers have lost jobs as 138 Negro schools closed.

★ ★ ★

CAMDEN, N. J.—A 15-year-old white boy, who went to aid of another white boy being abused by group of Negro youths, suffers stabs and slashes. Philadelphia police commissioner says searchers for weapons on young persons to be standard procedure in future.

★ ★ ★

EL DORADO, Ark.—Arkansas Attorney General Bruce Bennett says voters would have to amend state constitution before any valid anti-integration laws could be passed.

Announce Head of State Bar

Detroit Trial Lawyer With 30 Years Practice Chosen as President

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit trial lawyer with more than 30 years practice is the new president of the State Bar of Michigan.

Commissioners of the State Bar yesterday announced the election of James E. Haggerty to the top post. Haggerty succeeds John W. Cummiskey of Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

A native of Rochester, N.Y., Haggerty was educated in Detroit schools and the University of Michigan. He obtained his law degree from the Detroit College of Law in 1923.

Haggerty takes office as president of the State Bar on Friday. He is a member of the Detroit law firm of Vandeveer, Haggerty, Garzia & Haggerty.

The bar commissioners, in their 22nd annual session here, deferred action on the awarding of a contract for a new state headquarters in Lansing. The commission also may act on a proposal to increase member dues from $15 to $25 a year.

★ ★ ★

A suggestion that the state bar set up a house of delegates to advise the commission was discussed. This group would be similar in function to the house of delegates of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Discussions leaders were Albert E. Blashfield of Ann Arbor and Henry L. Woolfenden of Detroit. The discussion took the form of a debate. Blashfield supported the suggestion and Woolfenden opposed it.

★ ★ ★

Chief Justice John R. Dethmers of the State Supreme Court addressed a dinner meeting last night. Other members of the court were guests.

The commission also announced results of other elections.

★ ★ ★

Raymond H. Dresser of Sturgis was elected first vice president and Milton W. Bush of Port Huron second vice president.

W. Coit Allee of Detroit was named secretary and Probate Judge Carroll C. Rushton of Marquette treasurer.

Mother of 12 Gets $32,500 Settlement

DETROIT (AP)—A widowed mother of 12 children has received a settlement of $32,500 from the truck-car collision in which her husband was killed last year.

★ ★ ★

The settlement was approved in U. S. District Court yesterday for Mrs. Helen Dyl, 37, of Flat Rock. Mrs. Dyl, who had sued for $350,000, said she will use the settlement to buy a larger home for her family. Her children range in age from 2 to 19 years.

Mrs. Dyl's husband, John, was fatally injured March 10, 1956, when his car and a haulaway truck collided on U.S. 25 near Flat Rock.

Suit was brought against Lemke Cartage Co. of Toledo and Mercury Motorways, Inc., of South Bend, Ind. Judge Frank A. Picard approved the $32,500 settlement between the companies and Mrs. Dyl.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dyl alleged that the truck driver, Charles Stowe of Toledo, employe of the Lemke firm, disregarded a traffic signal. Stowe was hauling property of the South Bend company.

Dem Leaders Slated

Dinner to Honor Leon V. Belknap

Manager Leaving Post With County Road Unit After 41 Years' Service

More than 250 guests are expected at Elks Temple tonight, as the Oakland County Road Commission says farewell to Leon V. Belknap, its engineer-manager for 41 years.

The 6:30 p.m. dinner in honor of the county's oldest public administrator in terms of service will have as main speaker Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Belknap, 69, officially retired last spring, but stayed on the job as a consultant until yesterday.

As he severs his last official connection with the highway department with which he served so long, Belknap will be surrounded by many friends and professional acquaintances.

Oakland Road Commissioner Robert O. Felts will make introductions and a Detroit engineer, Terrance E. Monaghan, will act as toastmaster.

There will be representatives from two neighboring road commissions, J. T. Sharpensteen of Genesee County and Howard G. Minier of Washtenaw County.

★ ★ ★

Belknap will be presented with a number of gifts and a certificate in recognition of his long service.

He was honored at a luncheon yesterday at the road commission's new Pontiac road headquarters, which he was instrumental in planning.

Honor U. of M. Prof

ANN ARBOR (AP)—John E. Tracy, University of Michigan professor emeritus of law, will be honored Thursday at the 22nd annual meeting of the State Bar in Detroit as a 50-year member. Four U-M law professors will deliver speeches at the meeting.

THE BERRYS By Carl Gruber

Pontiac City Affairs

Mrs. Killian, Page Confirmed

Two new appointments to the Pontiac Public Housing Commission were confirmed last night by city commissioners.

The appointments of Mrs. Harry F. Killian, of 119 Lincoln Ave., and Vernon M. Page, of 199 Rockwell Ave., were made by City Manager Walter K. Willman. There was no discussion at the meeting on the appointments by the commission.

Mrs. Killian was appointed to fill a vacancy created when Harlan S. Smith declined to serve another term on the five-place board. Mrs. Killian's five - year term will expire June 25, 1962.

★ ★ ★

The new appointee has been in the Pontiac public school system since 1927. She is presently elementary principal of Bethune School. She is a former vice president of the League of Women Voters, the organization she represents on the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council.

Page, 45, will fill the unexpired term of Sidney N. Geal who resigned recently to accept a position outside the city. This term expires June 25, 1959.

Page owns the Vern Hauling Service dump truck firm. He is president of the Men's Club of Trinity Baptist Church and a volunteer for the American Red Cross and the Ground Observer Corps.

The other three members of the commission are Karl A. Walter, Otis Lawrence and Theodore E. Wiersema.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

All other matters appearing on a 20-point slate last evening concerned the city's public improvement program.

Referred to Willman was a proposed right-of-way agreement between Grand Trunk Western Railroad and the city for a portion of land needed for the Perry Park Subdivision storm drain project.

Commissioners approved an agreement with Oakland County for that portion of a $146,447 Ward Orchards storm drain, to be constructed in Bloomfield Township, which will fall in the city.

★ ★ ★

They learned this would be approximately 9.46 acres of the total 90-plus acreage to be affected.

Offered by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles as a public necessity was construction of a sanitary sewer in Blaine avenue from Kinney to Livingstone.

★ ★ ★

Several residents were heard during nine public hearings on miscellaneous city projects. No strenuous objections were voiced during these hearings.

Police Expert Starts Survey

The first of a two-man team called here to perform a thorough study of the police department arrived yesterday and went into an immediate huddle with City Manager Walter K. Willman to outline the scope of the survey.

★ ★ ★

The first representative of the Public Administration Service of Chicago to arrive was Samuel G. Chapman, 29. He arrived from Waco, Tex., where he worked as a police specialist in an administrative study of Waco's city government.

The City Commission last month ordered the study made by the internationally known governmental study firm as dissension continued to mount in the police department.

Willman, who recommended the PAS firm be engaged as it had performed a financial study for Pontiac several years ago, said today the study would probably take six months. It is expected to cost from $5,000 to $9,000.

Chapman has performed police studies for Wichita Falls, Tex.; Vancouver, B.C., and the latest one for Waco. Last year he also assisted in recommended departmental improvements for the Portland, Me., police department.

The second member of the team, Charles S. James, has not arrived in Pontiac as yet.

Chapman is a graduate in criminology from the University of California, where he also did graduate work in the same field. He has been associated with PAS since January of last year.

Chapman is married and has two children.

Prince Charles Has Flu

LONDON (INS) — Eight-year-old Prince Charles has caught flu and is confined to the infirmary at Cheam Grammar School.

Toastmasters Club Holds Installation

The Pontiac Toastmasters Club held its fall installation of officers at a dinner and meeting last night at the local YMCA. The affair was attended by approximately 35 members and their wives, and the dinner was served by the Pontiac Blue Star Mothers.

★ ★ ★

The newly installed officers are Donald Rote of 64 Mathews St., president; Eddie O'Brien of 47 Waldo Ave., first vice president; John Rallis of 226 E. Pike St., second vice president; Don Frayer of 1285 N. Cass Lake Rd., Waterford Township, secretary; George Freeman of Royal Oak, treasurer; and Henry Powers of 1067 LaSalle Ave., sergeant-at-arms.

★ ★ ★

The installation was conducted by area governor, Otto Millidebrandt of 3070 Grant St. Toastmaster for the evening was Floyd Levely and speakers were George Crabtree and Don Frayer, with Lee Booth, president of the Northern YMCA Toastmasters Club in Ferndale, as guest speaker.

Flu Hits Papal Staff

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (INS) — Thirty Swiss guards and 24 members of the papal staff were confined to bed with Asian Flu today. But Pope Pius XII was well and refused to cancel the general audience today at his summer villa.

3 Arab Heads Speak for Syria

Pro-Western Leaders Discount Danger; Seek to Abate U.S. Hostility

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Three pro-Western Arab governments were expected to tell the U.N. today that leftist Syria is no threat to her Middle East neighbors.

Saudi Arabia was slated to lead the Arab trio in the general debate before the 82-nation Assembly. Jordan and Iraq were to follow.

★ ★ ★

In an Assembly speech last week, U.S. Secretary of State Dulles declared the flow of Soviet arms into Syria might unwittingly lead the Arab recipient into acts of direct aggression.

Neither Syria nor Egypt, the Arab nations friendliest to the Soviet bloc, have spoken in the general debate.

★ ★ ★

Syria canceled two appearances scheduled last week. Observers believe Syria's delay is a result of Saudi Arabian King Saud's visit last week to Damascus, where he reportedly tried to find a basis for friendlier relations between Syria and the United States, Jordan and Iraq.

There have been indications that Saud appealed to President Eisenhower to modify the U.S. government's hostility to the Syrian regime.

Observers at the Damascus parley reported a subtle change appeared to be taking place in Syria's viewpoint towards the West, with indications she was opening the door for new negotiations.

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Mezzo-soprano Rise Stevens of New York's Metropolitan Opera Co. will sing Thursday at the first concert of the 1957-58 Choral Union series at the University of Michigan. Miss Stevens replaces Lily Pons, who canceled her engagement due to illness.

Increase Pickets at Mueller Plant

PORT HURON (AP) — Approximately 40 pickets appeared at the strike-bound Mueller Brass Co. plant yesterday, several times the former number.

Members of the striking machinists union said the picket number had been increased because of a report that writs of replevin would be sought by Mueller patrons to get products out of the factory.

About 1,800 employes are idle in the mechanists strike in a wage dispute. The United Auto Workers Union has been honoring picket lines. The plant has been closed since Aug. 16.

Sides Line Up in San Marino

Armed Reds, Anti-Reds Show No Inclination to Start Fighting

SAN MARINO (AP) — Communist and anti-Communist militiamen opposed each other today in this tiny republic, but neither showed any inclination to start fighting while a steady, heavy rain continued.

About 50 civilian volunteers armed with submachineguns, rifles and pistols guarded a factory at the eastern tip of San Marino where a new provisional anti-Communist government set up headquarters yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Some 100 young Communist volunteers armed with pre-World War I rifles and 20 rounds of ammunition each patrolled the rest of San Marino, including the government palace. The palace still was held by the Red government the anti-Communists are trying to oust.

Standing by in the rain were the 200 police of the 38-square mile republic. They also carried antiquated arms but no ammunition.

★ ★ ★

Since World War II the police have taken the orders from the elected Communist government, but yesterday their Italian chief sided with the anti-Communist government after it was recognized by Italy. There was no indication, however, whether the rest of the police would follow him.

Italian police blocked all roads into San Marino to keep Italian Communists from swarming in to help their comrades. Hilltop San Marino is completely surrounded by Italy.

Most of the 14,000 citizens were still unaware of what was going on.

Turmoil began two weeks ago when defections from the ruling Communist-Socialist bloc gave anti-Communists a majority in the 60-member Grand Council, the nation's elected Parliament. The council names the top executives, two "captains regent."

★ ★ ★

The Communists ordered the council dissolved to keep non-Communists from appointing new executives and called for elections Nov. 3. The non-Communists declared this action was illegal, that another election wasn't due until 1959.

After the six-month terms of the old captains regent expired Monday night, the anti-Communists proclaimed a provisional government.

Toothless Victory

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — The pet boxer dog of Mrs. Victor Case of Sodus Township successfully protected his mistress from a prowler but lost two front teeth in the process. Police were not certain whether the dog lost the teeth when he jumped through a screen door to drive off the prowler or whether he left them somewhere in the prowler's anatomy.

Students Out for Money

BERRIE SPRINGS (AP) — There wasn't a student in the classrooms at Emmanuel Missionary College Monday, but it was okay with college officials. The 600 students at the Seventh Day Adventist school were making their annual solicitation of townspeople for funds for church work.

Clara M. Groehn Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Clara M. Groehn, 66, mother of Thomas E. Groehn of the General Motors public relations staff, died at her Detroit home Tuesday.

He broke his leg . . .

but he didn't have to "foot" the bill!

He had Hartford Personal Accident Insurance to cover his hospital, doctors', nurses', and other medical expenses — as it turned out, he didn't have to pay a cent out of his own pocket.

If an accident puts you on your back, it may be mighty hard to "foot" the bills all by yourself — and it's so unnecessary — when you can be fully protected for a small fixed yearly cost.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Newspaper Reports the News of the Day to You

This is National Newspaper Week.

Today's paper laid down in your living room the facts of the day's happenings in this community, plus news from across the nation and around the world.

You may disagree violently with the newpaper's editorial policy on some political candidate, but you read avidly its news accounts of your neighbor. And you believe those accounts simply because down through the history of the free American press, those newspapers which have been false to the pricinpal of truth have perished.

Your newspaper duly recorded your birth; it was backstage as you graduated from high school; it ushered you down to the altar of matrimony and it will serve as as the ex-officio pallbearer at your funeral. And in between, it will write the history of your triumphs and tragedies if they affect your neighbors in any way.

★ ★ ★

In short, your newspaper is the faithful member of your family. Other members, including your in-laws, may come and go, but your newspaper is a guest in your home every day of the year. It is with you at breakfast, lunch and dinner.

★ ★ ★

When it comes to community projects, you ask and depend on the help of the paper in getting new roads, bridges and public buildings in your community. Any worthwhile project is supported by your paper.

You may swear by the man in the White House, but your newspaper's accounts of corruption in Federal Government can cause you to send him into private life to write his memoirs.

★ ★ ★

In your every day business operations you gauge what you do by the information of other big business leaders. You may not like the way your daughter's bridal gown was snipped off on the society page, but that doesn't stop you from trying the new recipe in the adjoining cooking column.

★ ★ ★

In brief, your newspaper is an integral part of your community, and it shares all your fortunes, all your sadnesses and your joys, all your adventures, big and little; it shares them as a part of the family with great human understanding.

Most important of all, it serves you and your community in all matters from the daily weather reports to the protection of your freedom.

Effective Border Patrol Slows Illegal Entries

Chief of the U. S. Border Patrol, JAMES F. GREENE, says that despite the desire of millions to come to this country, attempts by aliens to enter illegally are at a ten year low.

For the year ending June 30, only 405 smugglers of aliens were caught by the Patrol and 48,000 aliens were deported. By contrast, in 1954 a total of 1,800 smugglers of aliens were arrested by the law enforcement agency and there were 1.028 million deportable aliens in the United States. Of these 1.022 million had come in from Mexico, mostly "wetbacks" who came by way of the Rio Grande.

The alien flow from Mexico was cut by a 1954 treaty and this year some 500,000 came in legally. The Border Patrol has been increased and of the 1,500 men in the service, over half are on the Mexican Border.

Mexico is the principal source of alien smuggling. Europeans can get tourist visas into Mexico easier than they can into Canada, and they then attempt to enter the United States. Most are taken into custody before they reach the border. Immigration authorities report considerable pressure at the present time from Cubans wanting to get into the U. S. to escape a possible revolution.

★ ★ ★

It isn't easy to smuggle aliens into this country. All planes crossing the borders are required to file flight plans. If an unidentified plane is spotted, the Border Patrol working with the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Bureau of Customs immediately goes into action to find out where it lands and what cargo it carries.

Few aliens get into this country illegally it is now believed, and for this achievement the U. S. Border Patrol is to be congratulated.

Elimination of Howell From Road Cuts Time, Mileage

Indian summer: Always acceptable, even if we cannot agree on its time.

The new Howell cutoff on Pontiac's M59 highway, our main east-west road artery, means a lot to the people of this area. No longer will be obliged to wiggle through Howell on a narrow residential street, and then fight through most of its business section, wrestling with traffic lights and winding streets.

The new cutoff is 2.67 miles is a straight shot from the present M59, goes through a rural section, without curves or speed restrictions, reaching the Grand River super highway (U.S.16) two miles northwest of Howell. It cuts at least one-quarter hour and nearly two miles off the old route. It cost $368,000.

David Lawrence Says:

Integration Issue Can Be Solved

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — There's an American way, a constitutional way, a simple way to solve the "segregation - integration" controversy in the public schools.

It's an honest way, not a hypocritical way that holds out the olive branch of "gradualism" or sanctions a lot of obvious subterfuges like some of the pupil - assignment plans. It's a method that will be accepted by the South as well as by the North.

CITIZENS CONFUSED

But, first, the story of the bewildered American. Judging by the mail this correspondent has been receiving from all parts of the country—the largest number of letters on a single subject he has ever received—here are some basic truths which describe the state of a considerable section of American public opinion today:

1. The average American respects "the law of the land," whatever it may be. He cannot understand why anybody would knowingly or willfully violate it.

2. Confusion exists as to what "the law of the land" really is. For 58 years—up to 1954—the Supreme Court of the United States said that "the law of the land" permitted schools that were "separate but equal" in educational facilities. This "law of the land" was upheld no less than 35 times in decisions of the Supreme Court. Chief Justice Taft—a Republican, a former President of the United States, a man who took the oath of office twice to "defend and support" the Constitution—upheld the "separate but equal" doctrine in a famous decision in 1928.

WHAT TO THINK

3. What is a citizen to think who is told year in and year out for 58 years that the Constitution says a certain thing and then discovers all of a sudden that the Constitution has been changed and that he, the voter, has had nothing to say about it? What is he to think as he observes that no member of Congress has had the opportunity to vote on the change?

4. "Can the Constitution be changed overnight without any action by the people?" asks the bewildered citizen.

When the citizen is told that the Supreme Court of the United States has the right to "interpret" the Constitution, the question is asked: "Does this mean that there is no limit to what the court can do in changing the Constitution and, if so, what did the Founding Fathers mean when they spelled out so exactly in the Constitution itself how the 'supreme law of the land' was to be changed only by a vote of two-thirds of both Houses of Congress and a vote of three-fourths of the states, either through their legislatures or by means of conventions?"

5. Can nine men—appointed for life—dictate changes in the Constitution that the people must accept? The average man is being told that this is the present system. Even as he hears it, he begins to ask where is the "check" in the famous system of "checks and balances" that can be applied some day against an unscrupulous or reckless Supreme Court.

6. But the citizen is told there is already in the Constitution—in the Fourteenth Amendment—a clause that now allegedly forbids segregation in the public schools, though for 58 years the Supreme Court didn't see it that way.

He reads, moreover, in the history books that the Fourteenth Amendment was never legally "ratified" and that only 21 out of the necessary 28 states did ratify it legally, because puppet legislatures of the southern states—with most white citizens forbidden to vote—were forced to ratify it at the point of a bayonet.

An amendment can be proposed to declare the control of the whole educational system—with power to prohibit any discrimination — shall be vested concurrently in the Federal government and the states and that, in case of conflict, Federal law will be considered to supersede any law of the states.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Have Doctor Drain Fluid to Relieve Pain of Bursitis

DR. BRADY

From reports in the medical journals and letters from readers in the last five years, I believe that if I had acute subacromial or subdeltoid (shoulder) bursitis now I'd want the doctor to insert his aspirating syringe needle into the bursa immediately, to draw off any serum or other fluid that might be in the sac.

If no fluid, then the doctor should leave the needle in place while he inserts a second needle, then irrigate the bursa by injecting normal salt solution through the first needle and letting it drip through the second.

Or, if this were not practicable or successful, then I'd want an injection of cortisone into the bursa.

If this brought anything less than the extraordinary relief doctors and patients say it does in most instances, I'd want a second injection of cortisone in 24 to 36 hours. If the second injection gave no relief, I'd have no more of it.

Twenty minutes of diathermy (deep heat) to the shoulder daily gave me blessed relief from pain during my bursitis attack.

HAD CALCIUM DEPOSIT

For at least a year after my bursitis had cleared up, without functional impairment of the shoulder, (thanks to gradually increasing passive movements, then gradually increasing active movements or exercises of the shoulder), a calcium deposit remained in or around the bursa.

★ ★ ★

Yet this calcium deposit did not interfere at all in full and prompt recovery from bursitis. So don't let anybody tell you that calcium "deposits" cause bursitis or whatever pain, lameness or joint disability you have.

If I had bursitis today, I'd make sure of my daily ration of calcium and vitamin D no matter what treatment I might have.

Aside from the daily ration of calcium and D and the use of aspirin as the least objectionable pain-killer and perhaps the one or two cortisone injections, I'd have little interest in other medicines. But I'd go for diathermy daily or every alternate day, followed by a seance of passive movements and presently active movements.

Reports of the effects of X-ray treatment of bursitis are confusing: some physicians say X-ray treatment is most efficacious; others say it has proved useless.

May I add to what I have already said about making sure to get an adequate daily ration of Ca & D — that calcium injected into a vein is a recognized emergency relief for the excruciating pain of kidney or gallstone colic and, given internally, it is analgesic (pain-relieving) in inoperable cancer.

I mention these facts to impress upon you the importance of a high calcium diet and an adequate daily ration of Ca & D to supplement the diet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Idea Keeps Pedestrians From Feeling Neglected

What did they ever decide about the drag strip?

It seems that a fast start is the thing nowadays. You see someone at a stop light playing patty-cake with the brakes and gas pedal, rocking to and fro. Then, Zoom! They aren't there any more and you wonder if it weren't a mirage.

Why not give pole vaulting lessons to pedestrians so they also might cross the street in a sporty way?

Don Reasons

'Don't Get Careless Burning Leaves'

Now that fall is here and it's rubbish and leaf-burning time, may I warn all residents to be especially careful. It's so easy to get careless and cause damage to property and sometimes even endanger lives. I know, because we just had a near escape the other day. I hope everyone will benefit from our experience and be more watchful than we were.

'Who Gets Costs, Who Gets Fine?'

I was given a ticket by a State policeman for disregarding a stop sign. He told me where to go to pay it. The sign on the justice's door informed me he's an attorney at law, and his secretary fined me $5. My Oakland County official court receipt, which she made out, is itemized for 70 cents fine and $4.30 costs. I didn't think the fine was so bad, but the costs are rather high. Who gets the 70 cents fine and who gets the $4.30 costs?

Wants No Advice From Detroiters

Isn't it about time the Detroit papers stopped poking their noses into our business out here in Oakland County? They keep bringing up things that don't amount to anything and building them into major crimes, where no wrongdoing exists. We can do our own housecleaning and we don't need advice from Detroiters who have plenty of their own dirty corners if they'd just spend as much time looking for them as they do for ours.

'Union Agreement Favors Women'

I fail to see why women think they're so important in factories when so many men with families are out of work and would do anything to buy the food and pay the bills.

As for the union, in recent layoffs women have been given preference over men. Both union and management had a verbal agreement to the effect that men would be transferred out of their respective departments so women could have the easier jobs.

Three More Write About Integration

That Crescendo TV program couldn't have come at a better time. The fact it was planned weeks ahead and couldn't have been intentional made its impact even stronger.

Despite the situation in Little Rock, the program showed the world this country recognizes the part Negroes have played in our development. It also gave evidence that race is no barrier to talent and accomplishment, despite efforts by a small minority that prefers to think otherwise.

Maybe, with enough examples like that show, we can still hope the world will see the Arkansas situation for what it is—a disgraceful display by a very small group of people, composed of rabble rousers, uneducated bigots and the fringe population that has no claim to recognition except in convincing themselves that by subjugating the Negro race they prove themselves superior. It's deplorable that such a small mob has given the rest of us such a very bad name.

Ex-Southerner

In view of recent developments in the Razorback State, we feel the following thoughts of the late Henry L. Mencken deserve republication: "Arkansas—the apex of moronia, a land so intellectually underprivileged that not even the Red Cross with all its munificence could prevent the inhabitants from starving to death through congenital stupidity."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Abnormal Guilt Causes Breakdown

Bill's case should be virtually interesting to all readers, for there is hardly a human being who has not suffered from an abnormal guilt reaction at some time in his life. Scrapbook this case, for it is a classic in the realm of psychosomatic medicine.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-309: Bill Q., aged 35, is the father of two sons.

"Dr. Crane, our second child is mentally defective." Bill's wife told me.

"He is a Mongolian and is now four years old, but cannot talk or walk or even feed himself.

"I have adjusted to the situation fairly well but my husband hasn't. In fact, he has become so depressed and afflicted with brooding spells that he was finally sent to a mental sanitarium.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, is there anything to do for my husband? He is being returned home in a few days, and I hope he can get readjusted to things so he can go back to work."

DISPLACED GUILT

At my interview with Bill a month later, I found that he had a guilt complex.

★ ★ ★

What his wife did not know, was the fact that Bill had been untrue to her during her second pregnancy.

His business had taken him to another city about once every six weeks, and he had become infatuated with a divorcee.

Being essentially a very moral person, he had been tortured in his conscience by this illicit romance.

He had debated whether or not to confess to his wife, but he never did. And when their second baby was born as a mental defective, Bill was now convinced in his own mind that God had thus punished him.

Every time he saw his feebleminded son, he was in torment. For he was positive that he himself had been the sole reason for that defective youngster.

★ ★ ★

In his anguish, he had collapsed and even been sent to the sanitarium for special treatment.

BIBLE TABOOS

The Old Testament of the Bible has helped "condition" people to a feeling that if they violate God's commands, then they may be punished by a sudden divine edict.

And the three usual forms of God's wrath are popularly regarded as lightning, insanity (or feebleimindedness) and a stroke of apoplexy.

You will see in Bill's case that he did not worry about tuberculosis or diabetes or cancer.

No, he did what millions of men and women had done in past centuries. He, decided that God had struck him, by way of his child, by damaging the human brain.

★ ★ ★

Actually, Mongoloid children occasionally appear in the best regulated families. And we medics do not regard them as an evidence of God's ill will.

They are simply artefacts in the process of manufacturing human babies, much as an occasional automobile engine may be defective among the millions that roll off the assembly lines in Detroit.

Furthermore, God is a God of love, and the New Testament does not depict God as a cruel tyrant who afflicts innocent babies for moral lapses of their parents.

God is accused unduly for ordinary medical accidents. Thus, some babies are blinded at birth because of gonorrhea. Others are infected with syphilis if their mothers have that disease.

★ ★ ★

But it is unfair to depict God as a vengeful Deity. In Bill's case, his Mongoloid son was not a result of any germ infection or other scientific deficiency caused by the father's illicit affair.

See tomorrow's Case Record for the follow-up of this widespread problem of abnormal guilt reactions.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Soviets Capture Air From Sky

Reds Send Up Rockets With Containers to Get Pure Samples

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russian scientists are using rockets as a stepladder into the sky.

It lets them capture pure samples of thin air at "rungs" of the ladder 50, 80 or even 125 miles overhead.

★ ★ ★

When the rockets reach predetermine altitudes, they shoot out containers which then open up and sniff in some of the mysterious high air. The containers then seal themselves and parachute back to death for analysis of their prize.

This ingenious technique was described to an International Geophysical Year conference by Dr. Sergie M. Poloskov of Russia.

★ ★ ★

Other scientists have sampled the air by sucking some into rockets. But this air can become contaminated by rocket gases, Dr. Poloskov said. The Russian containers get pure samples by sniffing some distance away from the rockets.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Poloskov said the stepladder samplings show that the relative percentage of oxygen to nitrogen in the air doesn't change, volumewise, up to about 60-mile heights.

The percentage of argon, an inert gas, begins to decline after 50 to 60 miles.

The findings, he added, indicate that air pressure above 50 to 60 miles is lower than that found by Western scientists.

Seek New Corn Types

AMES, Iowa—Iowa State College has set up a farm-research center with one of its goals that of developing new corn to fit specific markets, such as corn oil. Current run-of-the-field corn produces only about 3½ per cent oil; some new varieties give 8 per cent.

BRANCH OPENS — The downtown Pontiac Lion Department Store has opened a new branch at the Miracle Mile Town & Country Shoppers City. Here is a view of it from the outside, showing the large windows that give potential customers a big view of the store's merchandise inside. Pontiac Press Photo

Lions Branch, Other Stores Now Open at Miracle Mile

Pontiac's own Lion's department store has opened a new Miracle Mile branch — the largest independent store in the Telegraph road shopping center.

Irving Steinman, vice president and general manager of Lion Store, Inc., emphasized that the company has no plans to give up its downtown Pontiac location.

"We have faith in the future of the downtown shopping district, and look upon our new Miracle Mile branch as part of the normal expansion of the Pontiac area," Steinman said.

Lion's has been in Pontiac 37 years, for the last 26 years at 51 S. Saginaw St.

A number of other stores have opened at the shopping center in advance of the grand opening later this month. Stores opening most recently are:

Dr. Shaffer Miracle Mile Optometry Studio, Wiegand Music Center, Newman Record Shop, West Brothers Beauty Shop, Youngland Children's Shop and Craigs Card and Gift Shop.

The Miracle Mile Lion's branch is the sixth largest store in the shopping center, with 12,000 square feet of attractively designed selling space.

MARVIN TALAN

Wearing apparel for all the family in medium and higher price ranges is featured. Lion's carries more than 100 nationally advertised brands.

Some of the top brands are Ship 'n' Shore and Seamproof for ladies; Youngland and Tom Sawyer for children; Michaels Stern and Van Heusen for men and American Girl, Poll Parrot and Porto Peds in shoes.

The company was founded by Irving Steinman, who continues to guide it as president with the help of his son, Irving Steinman.

Manager of the new branch is Marvin Talan, who has been with Lion's since 1950 and has managed the downtown store's men's and boys' departments.

Steinman announced that William Wiss, manager of the shoe department at the downtown store has taken over the same job at the new branch, too. The women's department manager will be Mrs. Bea Wheatley, Steinman said.

Schoolboy Says Negroes Knifed Him

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A 15-year-old schoolboy who told police he was stabbed and slashed by a group of Negro youths was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Michael Pitrilli was admitted to Our Lady of Lourdes Hospital yesterday for treatment of a six-inch slash on the left side of his chest, a stab wound on the right side, and lesser cuts of the scalp and neck.

★ ★ ★

He told investigators he was watching a junior high school football game when he noticed a white boy being abused by about half a dozen Negro youths. He said he suffered the knife wounds in a brief encounter with the group after going to the assistance of the unidentified youth. The assailants fled, he said, and a passing motorist brought him to the hospital.

★ ★ ★

Later in the day, four boys were picked up and slated on a charge of atrocious assault and battery. Two were 15 and two were 16. All were residents of Camden.

State Schools Ask Bar to Reconsider TV Policy

DETROIT (AP) — Two state universities are asking the State Bar of Michigan to take another look at its policy on television—though not in relation to two recently banned TV shows.

The University of Michigan and Wayne State University proposed to the Bar commissioners yesterday that the Bar consider approval for a weekly labor mediation program on television.

Recently, holding the programs to be in violation of the Bar's code of ethics, the state Bar ordered that two Detroit judges desist from conducting TV juvenile and traffic court programs.

Syrian Capital Recovering From Recent Suez Crisis, but Anxiety Remains

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

DAMASCUS (AP) — The eternal, heavily burdened donkey plods patiently through ancient Damascus, threading its way stolidly beside huge American cars.

Under the hot sun, peddlers call upon Allah to witness that their grapes or apples are truly a gift of God himself.

★ ★ ★

The Syrian capital has an air of bustle and prosperity. Whatever the economic effects of last year's Suez crisis, Damascus is fairly well recovered. Yet there is also an air of anxiety, underscored by the sight of drilling soldiers and military vehicles.

Every so often a Soviet MIG fighter roars overhead. Few look upward; people are accustomed to them and almost everyone is intent on his own affairs.

There is something strange in the atmosphere. Few Damascenes say anything openly about it. It is as if they feel something they do not want is happening and they are being fatalistic about it.

★ ★ ★

In new sections of the city, buzzing with business activity, worry shows through. A businessman from some other part of the Arab world who has established himself in Damascus may whisper that he is thinking of leaving. Ask him why and he will shrug.

Only a few think communism is on the way. Some see a future of heavy taxation and other annoyances from a regime they believe is intent on rushing headlong into an overambitious development program.

★ ★ ★

Foreigners from the West here for an international fair reported they were besieged with offers to stay on at high pay to help Syria develop her industries. The West is much in evidence here. Swank Arabs finger their beads but otherwise look as Western as Chicago. In the better hotels, restaurants, and cabarets they mingle with darkskinned, bearded sheikhs in robes and headdress from the provinces.

★ ★ ★

American movies outnumber other foreign films 4 to 1. Wealthy Syrians — and there are many — have a passion for American cars. American goods predominate in the shops. American cigarettes are on sale at every tobacconist.

Through Damascus' 23 newspapers and on the radio the regime airs complaints about the United States, sounding almost like a child denied sweets and badgering threatening parents. But in almost every cafe an American jukebox blares American tunes.

★ ★ ★

This land has a logic peculiarly Arab. Frequently it expresses what has come to be known as Arab negativism — that quirk of character which seems to impel the Arab to injure himself if only to hurt those against whom he has grievances.

The Arab seems to yearn to be understood by the rest of the world yet puts obstacles in the way of understanding.

★ ★ ★

Politically the Arabs' wounds are deep and ancient. Once Syria was a proud nation dominating a vast area. There is a universal memory of past glory. Hatred rages in the Arab breast for Israel. Arabs are convinced they are deeply wronged and are deeply suspicious of every Western approach.

No approach to the Syrian situation can have the slightest hope of success unless it weighs some of these factors.

The original site of Charleston, capital of West Virginia, was purchased in 1887 by George Clendenin, a member of the Virginia Assembly, for five shillings.

65 Age Group Sees Changes

More Will Work and Have Higher Education in 1975

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A University of Chicago Sociologist says the year 1975 will produce a new type of person in the 65 and over age group.

Individuals in that group will be better educated, will contribute to an increased labor force, but will bring a need for expanded health facilities designed to treat old age infirmities, according to Dr. Philip M. Hauser.

He spoke today at the 59th annual convention of the Michigan Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Dr. Hauser said the 65 and over age group will note a 138 per cent increase by 1975 among their number with some college education and a 133 per cent increase of those with some high school education.

"The number of persons 65 and over in the labor force will increase although the proportion of these individuals actually working will decrease, because of the expected great increase in the size of the age group," he said.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Hauser said "Health facilities will have to be expanded to meet the needs of the greatly increased population of older persons." He suggested more physicians trained in the health problems of old age and more hospitals identified with the treatment of old age disabilities and infirmities.

'Tiny' Cloete Reveals Tactics in New Book

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Rehna ("Tiny") Cloete, who's about five feet tall and barely weighty enough to support a mink cape without becoming stoop-shouldered, went over to Europe some time ago to get herself a husband.

She was 29 "and not getting any younger, prettier, smarter, wealthier or anything else promising."

★ ★ ★

The search through Europe was frustrating, and as she reluctantly caught a ship back to the States, she was 29 and ¾ths and not getting anywhere.

Then, suddenly, she located and snagged, from among the passengers, a quite presentable husband. Twice her size, cultured, amusing, moderately rich, named Stuart Cloete. Listed in "Who's Who" as writer, British.

Stuart Cloete now describes the experience — of being located and snagged—as "an enormous series of deceptions, gross deceptions." He continues, "If this woman had been beautiful and intelligent and capable of taking care of herself, I'd never have married her. Wouldn't have needed to. But you get a small creature like this one, and she acts helpless, it's insidious . . ."

★ ★ ★

"Tiny" is sitting across the cocktail table from him as he talks. She nods affirmation.

"Disgusting," she says, "what a woman will do. Sorry, Stuart."

"She's not just silly, like ordinary women," Stuart continues. "She is idiotic."

His wife smiles philosophically. "I have discovered," she observes, "that if a woman is merely silly, nobody thinks anything about it. But if you are idiotic, you get a lot of attention."

"We lived for a time in Africa," says Stuart, "in the mountains 160 miles from Capetown — marvelous peaceful place to write. But we came home because she was dying to eat clams. Not even pregnant, just whimsical; dying for clams."

Tiny bristled slightly. "Eight years," she snapped, "is a long time without steamers. Or even chowder."

★ ★ ★

"She is so small that in England during the blitz I actually had her on a leash — a ridiculous position for a man to be in."

"Quite sensible though." She smiled at him respectfully. "Stuart is quite brilliant."

Tiny is the author, and Stuart the subject, of a new book called "To Catch a Man."

It describes, in minute detail, the intricate series of devices a small and helpless woman can employ to get herself a good catch. It is based on what appears to be a sound theory — that if a woman is not beautiful and not brilliant, she had best be helpless.

"In weakness," as the author says, "there is strength."

★ ★ ★

She sums it up this way: "If a man wants to order dinner for you, let him. There may be some nights when you get chicken a la king, which is far from your preference. But over the long haul, I have found that this system supplies you with more sirloin steak than perhaps you deserve . . ."

Job of Postmaster Vacant at Adrian

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service commission said it has received no applications for the job of postmaster at Adrian, Mich. The position pays $6,380 a year.

The commission announced on Aug. 30 that it would receive applications for the post up to Sept. 24.

The commission said that because no one has applied it will issue another call later.

A spokesman for the commission said it is unusual not to receive any applications for a postmastership but that it happens from time to time.

World's Costliest Cargo Moves on Toy Train

NEW YORK (INS)—The world's most expensive trainload of cargo was moved Tuesday on a toy electric railway system.

Five miniature locomotives, pulling 45 flatcars across the luncheon table at the Diamonds' international awards ceremony in New York carried about half a million dollars worth of precious jewels on its 45-minute run.

Puts the Bite on In-Law

SAFETY HARBOR, Fla. (AP) — John Gilmore was fined $20 by Peace Justice Julius L. Adams on a charge of biting his mother-in-law.

Williams Appoints Judge in Detroit

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams yesterday appointed John H. Schneider, 53, Democratic Detroit attorney, to the Common Pleas Court of the city of Detroit.

The appointment fills a vacancy left by the advancement of Judge Elvin Davenport to the Detroit Recorder's Court.

Schneider is Wayne County public administrator, a member of the executive board of the 15th District Democratic organization and a former Wayne County Circuit Court commissioner.

He has practiced law since graduation from the University of Michigan Law School in 1927. His new post pays $18,000 a year.

The governor said Schneider probably would be seated on the bench next week.

★ ★ ★

Schneider will have to wage successful election campaigns next spring and in the fall of 1958 to retain his place through 1961, when Davenport's term expires.

See Meddling Parents as Integration Dynamite

Students Want to Solve Own Problem

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — White students of Little Rock's Central High School indicate they could solve the explosive issue of racial integration—if the old folks would stop meddling.

These kids won't be quoted by name. But any parent can attest to the gutty independence a youngster picks up by the time he reaches teenage. Often it falls just short of outright rebellion. At Central High they form a majority.

★ ★ ★

After Monday's appearance of nine Negroes at Central High School, one white classmate—a comely blonde with sea-green eyes—said:

"Incidents? No. Two of the colored kids were in one of my classes. We got along fine. Nobody said anything about it. It was just like a regular day of school."

"Yeah," added one of her buddies sauntering out of school with an armload of homework, "just like a regular day of school."

★ ★ ★

Attendance figures tell the tale. The Negro students yesterday wound up four full days of classes at Central High where the enrollment runs 2,000 students.

ABSENTEEISM SHRINKS

Last Wednesday, when the nine came for their first full day, 750 white students went AWOL. Thursdays the absentee total shrank to 650, and Friday to 585.

Yesterday—with Gene Autrey starring in a rodeo feature at Little Rock's annual livestock show—only 470 students failed to turn up at school.

Behind these cold statistics are the random remarks by students at an age when they waver between speaking their minds and what they feel they are expected to say:

A hard-muscled boy with blond hair, wearing slacks and a sport shirt, made a point of declaring he's against integration. But after setting that statement on record he went on to say the Negro students "didn't bother me any." He said:

"One boy is in my history class. Last week he didn't say anything. He was too scared. But today he answered the teacher's questions without any hesitation. And he answered them right."

At noon, however, scores of youngsters dashed to the campus shake-and-burger shop—and two Negro girls followed. Students later related that the two met catcalls and several jibes of "Hey, nigger." It went no further than that. It was the first time any colored person sat in the student hangout and ate a lunch. The two girls did.

And later most Central High students agreed that during the day in general "things were fine—just like a regular school day."

One 17-year-old brunette, gripping her books with a clipboard, said:

"Students were very friendly toward the colored kids today. Things have definitely improved over last week. A lot of the tension has cleared. More work is being accomplished in classes."

Asked if she believed the absentee rate would diminish during the next few days, she rolled her eyes and said:

"Well, you got to figure on the World Series, I reckon. I imagine a lot of folks might stay home to see that. We're rooting for Milwaukee."

Trailer Not in the Deal

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Clifton Thompson filed a $17,000 damage suit against two finance company employes. The suit claimed they forgot to unhook Thompson's trailer when they repossessed his automobile.

Sales Tax Collection Rises in September

LANSING (AP) — Buoyed by fairly good motor vehicle sales, state sales tax collections in September showed an increase of about five per cent over the same month of 1956.

The State Revenue Department reported that sales and use tax collections combined totaled $28,019,912, or an increase of $1,409,000 over a year ago.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy commissioner, said motor vehicles accounted for about half the increase.

First quarter receipts from the business activities tax, covering July, August and September, also showed a rise.

For this year, the first quarter produced $15,661,763 in tax revenue, an increase of about $400,000, or two and one half per cent.

Future Holds Wood Shot From Hose

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Lumber and forestry men have been told that in the future lumber will be squirted from a hose, and will be better than that from a log.

The forecast was made by C. D. Dosker of Louisville, Ky., who also warned that the forecast will only become reality if the lumber industry "engages in a crash research program." The president of Gamble Brothers, Dosker spoke at the opening session Monday of the 82nd annual conference of the American Forestry Assn.

In calling for a speedup in lumber research, Dosker said engineers are constantly finding new uses for plastics, but added that wood can be engineered to outperform light metals and can be combined with fiber glass and resin to furnish a new lightweight material.

ATTENTION ALL MEN WITH ARTHRITIS
During the 42 years that O-JIB-WA BITTERS has been available, thousands of other remedies have come and gone. The very best medicine you can use for arthritis in your back, legs, shoulders and arms is still the one and only, Genuine O-JIB-WA BITTERS. READ WHAT OTHER MEN SAY ABOUT THIS WONDERFUL MEDICINE.
"I tried many other medicines and treatments before O-JIB-WA, and am sorry that I wasted both time and money. I was barely able to dress myself or even walk before using your medicine."
"I spent over $300 for arthritis treatments in my hips and legs without results, but then tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and results were quick in coming."
"For over 25 years I suffered from rheumatism and arthritis in my back, shoulders and legs, and never found a thing that would help me, until I tried O-JIB-WA."
"Arthritis in my back and legs crippled me for five years. After using O-JIB-WA for a month, I threw my cane aside, sleep like a log and get up feeling fine."
"I knew that I would have to quit work if my arthritis got one worse, so I was willing to try anything. My druggist told me that O-JIB-WA BITTERS was the leading seller and that he had many good reports on it. Well, I bought a bottle and in three weeks the pains began to leave and a short time later, I was all better. It is one medicine that lives up to its claims."

Retired Teachers Find Jobs in Hobbies

By BEULAH STOWE

"What can a schoolteacher do after she retires?" asks Miss P. M.

"My pension will keep me adequately, but not elegantly, and I am afraid of having time on my hands."

★ ★ ★

Here's what one teacher did: She opened a dog-training and boarding business in a rented house and yard at the outskirts of the city. Next, she began to breed hunting dogs and soon found that the best customers for hunting dogs, naturally, are men.

LED TO MARRIAGE

Her interest in dogs, begun through having pets of her own, led her to develop a new business. It also led her to marriage.

★ ★ ★

One of her customers, also a dog enthusiast, asked her to marry him.

Another retired teacher placed a classified ad in the newspaper offering her services as a consultant on house plants and gardens—$1 for a half-hour consultation.

Her service was successful. She made many new friends, for her clients were people who were truly interested in the same things she was—gardening.

★ ★ ★

The same woman also began to experiment with two Japanese gardening ideas: Planting, landscaping and developing dwarf trees for indoor plants, and potting seeds so as to have a flowering plant in bloom indoors the year around.

She reports that she has not yet mastered all the secrets of maintaining a never-ending succession of blooms, but hopes to perfect her schedule within the year.

SCHOOL PROSPECTS

If Miss P. M. would like to find further work to augment her income, she might take a tour of the U.S. and find areas where the school children have outnumbered the capacity of the public schools.

★ ★ ★

These areas provide good prospects for a private school, which she could organize and teach, with the help of other teachers whom she could hire. (Maybe some of her retired friends.)

Private schools, especially at primary level, have been successful in towns where overcrowding in the public schools has led to a split-shift day for the pupils.

Q—"What can you tell me about retiring to Washington, D.C.? My wife and I feel that we would enjoy living in the nation's capital, and we have no close ties in our home state."—E.N.U.

A—It's rather expensive living. Why don't you buy a few acres of land in Virginia, where you get more for your money, about 60 or 70 miles from Washington?

You'll be within visiting range of the city. There is some beautiful country in Virginia, beyond the range of the daily commuter to Washington, but quite convenient enough for you to visit the city on weekends.

Shower Given for Bride-Elect

Nancy Brown, whose marriage to Harold N. Hackett Jr. will be an event of Oct. 12, was honored Monday evening with a personal shower. Marilyn J. Rowe hostessed the event in her Baldwin road home.

Refreshments were served from a table centered with a miniature bride and bridegroom mounted in a crystal bowl surrounded by pin roses and tapers.

Among the guests were Carolyn White, Nancy Dusenbury, Carol Kinchala, Darlene Voegler, Mrs. Harold N. Hackett, Pat June, Connie Pack, Wilma Mattingly, Shirley Buchanan, Donna Coddling, Gay Baumgaurdner, Joyce Watson, Jo-Anne Wortman, Pat Brannan and Shirley Monosso.

Pianist to Give Concert in Waterford Thursday

Freeman Adds Pop, Bop, Comedy to His Classical Repertoire

STAN FREEMAN

Stan Freeman, nationally known classical pianist famed for adding pop, bop and comedy to his repertoire, will appear before the Waterford Township Civic Music Association at Isaac E. Crary Junior High School tomorrow at 8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Freeman, born in Westbury, Conn., was a scholarship student at the Julius Hartt School of Music, Hartford. At 17 he was featured as a soloist with the New York Philharmonic and the Hartford and Buffalo Symphony Orchestras.

Following his schooling, a stint with the Army Air Force and ensuing experience in the jazz stylings of the Glenn Miller Band fostered his role as a pop piano ddetist upon return to civilian life.

★ ★ ★

In addition to radio and recording work, he plays concert and club dates, and writes song satires, drawing on his classical background for material.

His first big recognition came with a harpsichord recording of "Delicado", followed by the hit "Come-on-a-My-House" with Rosemary Clooney.

City PTA Has Fall Workshop

Some 200 people gathered for a fall workshop when Pontiac Council of PTA met Tuesday evening at Eastern Junior High School.

★ ★ ★

It was announced that the annual Parent Education Institute, sponsored by U. of M. Extension Service and Michigan Congress of PTA, will be held in Ann Arbor on Nov. 6.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Conference on Education will be held Nov. 12 in Washington Junior High School. Mrs. Cebert Jeffries was chairman for refreshments.

Opti-Mrs. Planning November Project

Mrs. Harold Davis was named chairman of a November money-making project when Opti-Mrs. Club met Tuesday evening.

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. Charles Manz of Square Lake road. She was assisted by Mrs. Tom Hruska and Mrs. Buhl Burt. Mrs. Carrie Manz of Lansing was a guest of the group.

Card Party Slated

Mrs. Toni Chavis has been named chairman of the Oct. 10 card party to be held by Blessed Martin de Porres Guild of St. Vincent de Paul Church in the Franklin boulevard home of Mrs. Leonard Hubbard.

Personal News of Interest

There's Music in the Air

Music lovers in the Pontiac area will be delighted to know that voices are being tuned for the coming music season. The Tuesday Musicale Chorus met this morning at the home of Mrs. Basil Kimball on Lahser road for the first rehearsal. Mrs. Kimball served breakfast to the 30 attending.

MacDowell Male Chorus members will gather for their first rehearsal Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Pontiac High School. Anyone interested in the all-male chorus is invited to the session.

Many Pontiac residents will be interested to know that Mr. and Mrs. Lionel H. Camfield of Mineral, Va., former Pontiac residents, are visiting Mrs. Camfield's mother and sister, Mrs. Farin N. Hilton and Agnes Hilton of Maycrest street.

★ ★ ★

Another Pontiac visitor is Mrs. Louis Meyers of Peoria, Ill. She will be in the city for several weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. Norman Buckner of Pine Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Christoff and son, John, who spent five months traveling around Europe, mainly in France, Italy and Mr. Christoff's native Yugoslavia, have returned to their home on East Iroquois road.

★ ★ ★

Three local members of the 125-piece Michigan State University marching band are Roland Williams of Norton avenue, Gerald M. Christopherson of Vinewood avenue and James P. Clancy Jr. of Ruth avenue.

★ ★ ★

Attending St. John Academy in Winfield, Kan., is Lambert J. Suor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Winges of Voorheis road.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Reh (Ponnie Davis) of Mohawk road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Karen Ruth, Sept. 29 at Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reh of East Beverly avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Davis of Mohawk road.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Hamilton (nee Carolyn Marshall) of Liberty street are parents of a son, Joseph Martin, born Sept. 19.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Thelma Turnbull of Pontiac Lake and Fred Marshall of Drayton Plains. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hamilton of Scottwood avenue.

Marine Pfc. and Mrs. Gerald Eugene Mazza Jr. (nee Janice Slater) announce the birth of a daughter, Michele Annette, Sept. 24.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mazza of Lounsbury avenue and Frank Slater of East boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Dean of Whittemore street announce the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Lee, to Robert C. Phillips Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Phillips of Grosse Pointe Woods. The bride-elect attended Marygrove College and her fiance was graduated from University of Detroit. A Feb. 1 wedding is planned.

Hope Hopefully Planning Soviet Premier of Film

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Bob Hope, the traveling vocal cord, said today he plans to invade Russia and take actress Anita Ekberg with him.

★ ★ ★

"I don't really think the Russians are ready for this kind of rations," Hope guessed, "but it would be worth the risk."

Bob, who just returned to the United States after six months in Europe, said he would like to world-premiere his new film, "Paris Holiday," behind the Iron Curtain.

DISCOVERED CIRCUS

The comedian last year ran into what he called a "sensational" Russian circus in Prague and tried to persuade the Russian government to let him bring the group to America, but he received a curt "no."

★ ★ ★

During a recent visit to Vienna, he managed to corral three other acts that struck his fancy—a shadow dancer, a fiddle player and a-zither strummer.

"They're great," Hope said enthusiastically, "and I'm using them on an upcoming television show."

The ski-nosed comedian also visited Casablanca where he outdid the natives by dressing up as a shiek (El-Abob Hope) and performing before 5,000 Air Force men who thought he was better than Rudolph Valentino.

★ ★ ★

American audiences can get a gander at this Casbah-type comedy if they tune into the NBC-TV "Bob Hope Show" Sunday night.

FILMED IN MOROCCO

The entire show was filmed at Nouasseur Air Depot in Morocco, located a few miles from Casablanca.

★ ★ ★

Bob, always on the lookout for native atmosphere, tried to lure a camel into a featured spot on the show.

"But the darned thing spit at me," he said, "so I fired him!"

Hope, who was serving us lunch in his spacious home in Burbank, the back of which overlooks his own private golf course, has originated many of his TV shows outside the United States—Iceland, Greenland, London and Paris.

But he's never yet made it to the Kremlin.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to premiere 'Paris Holiday' over there," ski-nose declared, "I think it would help international relations."

The closest the comedian got to Russia was the Hungarian Border where he got a close-up view of miles-long double barbwire fences, watch towers and Communist guards.

BEATS SING SING

"Gee," he said, "It looked a lot worse than Sing Sing."

Hope, a great talker, would have made further comparisons, but he was late for a golf date.

★ ★ ★

"I'm playing with Jackie Gleason and Jack Oakie," he explained. "I'm calling it the 'Blubber Open'."

A pullover sweater tucked into a straight skirt looks both easy and on-the-go. Here a wool sweater with short sleeves and trimmed collar finds its way to casual country living.

Active Play Would Release Stored-Up Emotional Tensions

All Rest, No Exercise Makes Billy Always Tired

(This is the third of a series of five articles based on the book "Is Your Child Really Fit?" by Bonnie Prudden, published by Harper & Bros.)

A rabbit flees. A lion or a mother bird defending her nestlings, or a soldier turns to make a stand of it and fight.

In either case, the cycle that began when an outside stimulus set off certain bodily changes is completed in motion.

But modern, civilized man does not often have that release. The circumstances giving rise to the "fight or flight" impulses today can seldom be met by physical action.

We cannot run away from the jangling telephone or attack the people who irritate us. We have to stay put and take it — and all the useful preparatory processes, instead of finding an outlet, backfire and become harmful.

EXPLAINS EXHAUSTION

The frustration of the "fight or flight" response, with its variations, explains why a great many children — and adults — are the way they are. It explains why Billy is always so exhausted that he has to be excused from sports.

★ ★ ★

Billy, you see, hasn't moved a muscle all day. Nor will he tomorrow. Or the next day. He hasn't exerted himself to the point of perspiration since he boarded the school bus the morning of registration.

He is a bundle of fatigue toxins and poisonous tensions that are never released through motion.

So he sits and "rests" himself — in front of the TV. Now a child sitting in front of a television set, mentally assuming all the positions and perils of the circus acrobat, the frontiersman, the adventurer, has no need to move a muscle.

Stimulated by thrills of all sorts but required to take no action either by way of escape or participation, all he does is to tense a few muscles ever tighter and tighter. The muscles become bowstrings, never relaxed, and the emotional tensions pile up.

Naturally he is tired.

WOULD NOT TIRE

But if he were active at play, the activity would be giving release to those emotional tensions, unkinking and strengthening his muscles and building up his body generally. And he would not tire.

★ ★ ★

But the underexercised, overprotected youngster is so exhausted by his own inactivity by midafternoon that his "rest" in reality weakens him further. He rests in reverse order. He rests until he can do practically nothing.

The exercised child, or adult, on the other hand, uses his self-generated adrenaline to advantage. He gets a second lift out of it.

★ ★ ★

Children are perfectly able to take normal exercise. Overfeeding, overprotecting, overclothing them will only prevent them from growing into people who want to do the things they will have to do.

DOOMED TO LAZINESS

Do not persuade yourself that your child will grow out of it. If he is conditioned to laziness at 5 or 6, he still will be lazy at 15. And at 50. If the child is on an emotional tightwire or under terrific stress at 5 or 6, the cards are stacked against any change later.

★ ★ ★

Ever watch two captains choosing sides for a game? That can be one of civilization's more refined tortures. Watch the expressions on the faces of the children whose names are not called. First, eagerness. Then uncertainty. Then resignation.

It would be the same bitter story he had lived through over and over again, even in those few short years.

It takes time for habits to distort the body — a distortion that no vitamins or regimen of nine hours sleep a night can circumvent.

★ ★ ★

Not that the sleep, the vitamins, the dental care, the inoculations against disease are not good for children. But they are, quite unwittingly, applied to their lives a spirit of instead, rather than along with.

In that lies the trouble.

MOTION IS THE ANSWER

The remedy is motion. Muscular activity. Not necessarily inside a formalized gymnasium. But constructive childhood activity of some sort, as opposed to coddling.

★ ★ ★

The exercise may be systematic or spontaneous, as circumstances dictate. But — and this is the important point — there must be enough of it to assure the building of an adequate body.

In all life there must be the element of danger. Even in the cradle of nursery rhyme fame — "on the treetop" — there was always the possibility that the bough might break.

I am convinced that one of the things children desperately need and seldom get nowadays is the experience of fear — and the thrill of overcoming it. Fear — not anxiety.

★ ★ ★

Anxiety grows from the unknown. Fear is caused by circumstances arising from something tangible that calls for action and that can be met. Overcoming fear builds courage.

DEVELOPS COWARDS

The first grains of self-assurance begin to sprout when a baby is given room and freedom to move about and explore his surroundings. If we protect our children all the time from everything, never give them the taste of fear, the weaker ones will become cowards.

★ ★ ★

The strong ones eventually will rebel against this ill-conceived protection and will go out to find for themselves what they need. That search can lead too easily to the jungles of what we call juvenile delinquency.

★ ★ ★

But intelligently encouraged and directed toward a normal outlet, it can lead to much that is supremely worthwhile.

(In the fourth article of this series, appearing tomorrow, Miss Prudden suggests steps to build the strength of your children.)

PLAY-POISE

Let's ALL talk about Children's Shoes

It's an important subject . . . vital to your youngster's future well being . . . as important as teeth and even eyesight.

What we want to suggest is that you get into the habit of visiting your Play-Poise Children's Shoe dealer regularly . . . just as you do your child's dentist or doctor.

Little feet grow awfully fast . . . sizes change in a matter of months. But with regular check-up visits, you know your youngster is wearing shoes that haven't been outgrown. (There's never any charge, of course, for checking shoe sizes.)

And, by bringing your child to our store, right from that first pair of shoes, you'll be acquiring the services of a qualified shoe specialist, who will safely guide your youngsters through all the years of foot growth . . . with Play-Poise Shoes — the complete line.

Knowing your child has proper foot care gives you a peace of mind that's hard to beat. So, why not start tomorrow? Bring your youngster in and let's get acquainted.

Should Girl Repay Man for Lunch?

He Took the Check After Sharing Her Restaurant Table

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I went to lunch alone the other day and shortly after a young man from my office came into the restaurant and sat at the table with me. As he was in a hurry, he finished his lunch quickly and left before I did.

"When I looked for my check I couldn't find it and was told that the young man had paid it. I was rather upset over this as I know he doesn't make too much money. Would it have been improper to offer him the money for my lunch when I got back to the office?"

Answer: I think you could have said to him, "Thank you very much, John, but I wish you would let me repay you for my lunch," and then have offered him the money.

If he said, "No, please let me do it," or "It was a pleasure to do it," then you would say, "Thank you very much. I do appreciate your kindness, but please don't do it again."

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I invited a couple to dinner. They brought me a box of candy. I thanked them for it but did not open it while they were there because I had other candy in a candy dish which I passed around.

"My husband thinks I was very rude to lay it aside and not open it, even though I had other candy. Will you please tell me if I was wrong not to have opened the box of candy they brought and passed it around?"

Answer: It would have been more polite and shown your appreciation of their gift had you opened the box after dinner and passed it around.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was the only one in the office to receive an invitation to the wedding of a fellow office worker. I have contributed to the office collection for a wedding gift for her and I am wondering if it is necessary to send her a separate gift since I have been invited to the reception."

Answer: Having contributed to the office collection, this is sufficient. Of course if the amount you contributed was trifling and you are very fond of the bride, you might give her a second, not necessarily expensive, but attractive present.

Two New Citizens Given U. S. Flags

Two new U. S. citizens were presented American Flags by the Women's Auxiliary of VFW Post 1370 at a New Citizens' League picnic Sunday at Lake Oakland.

★ ★ ★

Thomas Vavgas and Roman Gravilla, both formerly of Ecuador, received the Flags from Mrs. Mildred Kirkham and Mrs. W. J. Wassell, representatives of the auxiliary.

At the picnic were citizenship trainees from Latvia, Germany, Canada, Spain, Italy and Armenia.

Protect Shoe Racks With Plastic Sheeting

It's a good idea to cover open shoe racks with lengths of clear plastic sheeting to protect shoes from closet dust.

★ ★ ★

Cape-like covers can be made by cutting plastic yard goods to fit. Bind the edges for greater durability and beauty, and fasten each cover to a rack with tapes. Keep them clean by wiping weekly with a suds-dampened cloth.

Electronic Range Prepares Entire Thanksgiving Dinner in 66 Minutes

Food Editors See New Cooking, Serving Tricks in Chicago

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

CHICAGO — To start the 14th annual Food Editors' Conference, food editors from all over the United States, some from Canada and one from Hawaii met Sunday night at the "Top of the Rock."

Forty stories above Chicago's lakefront park an observation promenade and lounge have been built on the Prudential Building. Colored clusters of glass grapes decorated tree stumps as the California wine industry opened the week of meetings.

The folks who grow and process tabasco peppers — the McIlhennys of Louisiana — followed with a supper party back at conference headquarters, the Drake Hotel. Hostesses were clusters of the colorful miniature peppers.

Chief diversion of the evening was watching a professional chef make some 150 omelets. He kept pans going on half a dozen little gasoline stoves at once.

Before adding the eggs he browned a mixture of chives, parsley, other herbs and crumbled bacon in butter. You should have se him roll out those little omelets when they were done!

NEW PRODUCTS

Both Monday and Tuesday mornings we were entertained at breakfast by nationally known meat companies. In both instances new products were the highlight of the meal. One was ready-cooked Canadian bacon; the other canned ham strips, also precooked.

★ ★ ★

There's a wealth of new convenience meats coming to your meat counters in the near future. Watch for canned hams in nearly a dozen sizes. Meat sandwich spreads now come in reusable glasses.

Dried beef with a jar of concentrated white sauce is the beginning of a quick breakfast. Frozen, boneless veal roast means you serve more people per pound of meat.

Monday morening we had a fascinating demonstration of electronic cooking. An entire Thanksgiving dinner was cooked in 66 minutes. Your food editor was a volunteer to help make an ice cream sauce in the new oven.

Best news of all during this meeting was that the cost of these spectacular cooking units is sure to come down in the not-so-distant future.

There was talk of small electronic units you will be able to set right on top of your kitchen work counters. But, gals, don't throw out the old stove, not even if you get one of the new ones. You'll still need it for certain foods.

ROCKET FASHIONS

Fashions in both dress and food for the rocket ship era were previewed at the luncheon hosted by Quaker Oats Monday noon.

More stress is being placed on ease of food preparation for homemakers in the future. The fashions will have to stand on their own merit when the time comes.

One of the afternoon's biggest laughs came when a national canner announced the gift of a set of scales for each food editor. Incidentally, this canner puts out a large variety of diet foods.

A beautiful appetizer table was previewed, then demolished, at the dinner given by Borden's Monday evening. I'm bringing back a good recipe for a delicious cheese mold to serve with crackers.

The dinner included huge shish kebobs containing beef, green pepper, summer squash, tomatoes, pineapple, crabapples, artichoke hearts and onions.

Dessert was pretty — a pink peppermint bombe, served with a creamy pecan sauce. It was the second bombe we had had that day. At noon we had one with pineapple sherbet and apricot sauce — also delicious.

Tuesday we heard all about the controversial subject of fats in the diet. Since few of the experts agree, the recommendation is that people should eat a normal diet including fats, unless their doctors advise differently.

Peppermint striped tablecloths and waiters' shirts set the scene for an old - fashioned milk parlor in the afternoon. Four different nonfat dry milk drinks were served, showing the versatility of the product.

For dinner, buses took us 25 miles out in the country to Bensenville and Plentywood Farm. A family-owned restaurant, this one serves only four meats — chicken, steak, ham and lamb — and just one kind of potatoes — parsley buttered.

We were special guests so we had a delicious lime gelatin salad, tomatoes stuffed with beans and a delicate sauce on our chicken. Prior to the dinner, we had beef borsch with sour cream topping.

Those who wanted to had their pictures taken with two champion cows that had been brought to Plentywood by our hosts, the American Dairy Association.

Special human guests were the Dairy Queen of Great Britain, Mona Griffiths, and her chaperone. They had just arrived from overseas before the dinner.

Short-in-front, long-in-back satin ball gown is designed with the newly revived "debutante" look of the small, close-fitting waistline above a new slim-front, back-interest skirt. Here, the great bow is placed to emphasize the Paris vogue for back interest.

Connie Lee Hallead and William Marceau were married Saturday evening in Silvercrest Baptist Church. The Clyde A. Halleads are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marceau.

MR. AND MRS. W. MARCEAU

Connie Lee Hallead Wed in Silvercrest Service

Wed Saturday evening in Silvercrest Baptist Church were Connie Lee Hallead and William Marceau. One-hundred and fifty guests witnessed the ceremony.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Hallead of East Strathmore avenue are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marceau of East Kennett road.

For her wedding the bride chose a Chantilly lace and tulle gown. She wore a headpiece of seed pearls and tulle and carried an arrangement of white carnations and orchids on a white Bible.

Delores Powell as maid of honor wore an orchid satin and tulle gown and carried an arrangement of orchid carnations.

★ ★ ★

A brother of the bridegroom, Bruce Marceau, was the best man while a cousin of the bride, Larry Purvis, and another brother of the bridegroom, Robert Marceau, seated the guests.

★ ★ ★

For a reception at Fisher Local Hall the bride's mother chose a shell pink gown with black accessories and a pink and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Marceau wore a royal blue knit suit with black accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

Before leaving on a northern Michigan trip the new Mrs. Marceau changed to a powder blue suit with black accessories. The couple will live on Pingree avenue.

LOOK YOUR BEST

There is much truth in the expression "Look your best to feel your best." We all have times when we are restless, want a change and soon we are feeling dowdy! This can be good only if it spurs us to do better things for ourselves. You can snap out of it fast . . . for your mood will react quickly to a leisurely bath, manicure, pedicure and general pampering. Next, do something about a hair-do, a new hat and if the budget allows . . . your change of season wardrobe.

But remember, first things first . . . the hat is somewhat of a final step, for the hat itself may be a knockout but unless you start at the beginning it will not become a part of the new you. It is so much nicer to hear, "how pretty you look" than have it said, "what a pretty hat."

We will be happy to discuss your problem.

Sweater Is Versatile Garment

NEW YORK (NEA) — As the millionaire said when he found his son had a cold, "Hm, there's a chill in the heir." Speaking meteorologically, this could mean only that fall approaches. And with it, sweaters.

The very name "sweater" was derived from the fact that the original woolknit garment, a 19th Century innovation, was designed to induce sweating in athletes. Obviously, then, this is something to keep you warm.

★ ★ ★

The sweater, to continue with its history, began to be popular for other, less perspiratory pursuits shortly before World War I. Two factors contributed to its growth then. First, the automobile came along, taking people outdoors — and there were no heaters in those early cars.

Second, machinery was developed which turned out novelty knits, and the sweater began to achieve a personality of its own.

Over the years woolknit sweaters have evolved in many directions. Just this past summer, extremely lighweight sweaters became popular as summer wear. Some of these were fashioned into sweater-shirts, a new garment that could easily catch on.

In the more standard heavier weights, sweaters have been used in high fashion — this year there's a low-V tuxedo sweater, a sleeveless pullover — and in low fashion and everything in-between. The sleeveless pullover and the sleeveless cardigan are acceptable in place of vests.

This year for sports wear, the big, bulky sweater is the thing. This is a direct linear descendant of the Sloppy Joe of the '40s, except that now it's more tailored, more relaxed than just sloppy. Call it a Relaxed Joe.

With fall coming check your sweater wardrobe. A more versatile garment there ain't.

New this year from British Walkers, the moccasin for street wear. This is, of course, a far cry from the moccasin of The Deer-slayer. It's now a hand-sewn, glove-stitch affair of grained calf with a smooth calfskin vamp. But for the British to dress up the homely old moccasin and turn it into a high fashion shoe is a fine tribute. There's hope for the sneaker yet.

★ ★ ★

Men's Wear, the magazine of the men's clothing retailers, says the American man should spend at least $500 a year to be "an up-to-date, well-dressed man." It says the basic items to be purchased annually are one year-round suit, two summer suits, two sport coats, four pair of slacks, one topcoat or all-weather coat, twelved regular shirts, six sport shirts, three pair of shoes, twelve neckties, two hats, underwear, socks and accessories.

Anybody here qualify?

More and more, pajama designers are going all-out to make their product look like sportswear. The advertising director of one company went walking in Greenwich Village in a pair of pajamas and nobody stared — they looked like slacks and sport shirt.

It hasn't reached the point yet where pajamas will be sold as double-header garments (sleepwear AND sportswear) but it looks like that's the way we're headed.

Margaret Pavlinac and Frank M. Bryant were united in marriage Saturday morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church. The Nick Pavlinacs are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Bryant.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK M. BRYANT

Margaret Pavlinac Weds

St. Vincent de Paul Church was the setting for the Saturday morning wedding of Margaret Pavlinac and Frank M. Bryant. The Rev. Fabian Weber performed the double-ring ceremony before 150 guests.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Nick Pavlinac of Valencia drive, and the H. T. Bryants of Valencia drive are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride chose a white taffeta and lace gown in ballerina length featuring full-length lace sleeves. She carried white roses and green fern on a lace-covered prayerbook.

Margaret Ann Reilly as maid of honor wore a pink nylon gown with pink satin cummerbund and pink hat, and carried a pink bouquet. Bridesmaid Breda Reilly was gowned in a blue nylon dress with blue satin cummerbund and blue hat. She carried a yellow bouquet.

Nicholas Pavlinac, a brother of the bride, acted as best man. George McGinnis of Orchard Lake and Harris Bryant seated the guests.

For a reception in Gingellville Hall the bride's mother chose a blue sheath with beige accessories and Mrs. Bryant wore a blue dress.

If You're Unhappy, You Know It

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Happiness defies definition.

If we spend time wondering, "Am I or am I not happy?" we're wasting time. Happiness is a byproduct of a busy and satisfying life. If we chase it for itself, it turns into a shadow.

★ ★ ★

As a rule, if you have to keep wondering, "Am I happy," you probably aren't too unhappy. When you're really unhappy, you know it!

I think of that when people ask me, "Should I change jobs?"

NO NEED TO ASK

If you have to ask, chances are you shouldn't. Because when you have a deep-seated discontent with your work, you're apt to know it all too vividly and not need to ask.

★ ★ ★

However, here are a few pointers to watch:

1. Are you too tired when you get home from the job to do anything much to speak of? Night after night, are you exhausted?

2. Do you regularly, day after day, oversleep and have trouble getting to work on time?

★ ★ ★

3. When a friend gets a good break—a new beau, an inheritance, a dream job—do you get a sinking sensation and have difficulty mustering up any real pleasure at your friend's happiness?

Do you secretly mutter, "Some people have all the luck," and envy her almost to the point of dislike?

ALWAYS WORKING?

4. Do you think about your work after hours, bring a briefcase home over the weekends, hesitate to take vacations or think about your job when you do take a vacation?

★ ★ ★

If you've answered yes to those four big questions, the chances are you should change jobs.

When you're in the right work, you have a lot of energy and enthusiasm and are as fresh as a daisy even after a full day.

You close your mind when you close the door. You know you've discharged your work, so you don't worry or fret about it after hours. You get to work, usually, on time.

Also, because your work and life are satisfying to you, you take real pleasure in other people's lucky breaks.

KID OURSELVES

We try to kid ourselves a good deal. We think work is work and who says we should love it?

But in our heart of hearts, in our saner moments, we know very well that it's abnormal to be miserably dragging through a dull day. We know that there ought to be fun and enthusiasm in our work.

★ ★ ★

If you're having trouble finding the job you can be enthusiastic about, send me a stamped envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a copy of "Pointers to Your Basic Interest."

Old World Delicacy Is Easily Made

Mrs. Burnley Likes to Take Blitz Torte to Potluck Dinners

By JANET ODELL

When you are elected to take dessert to a potluck, you might try Mrs. Sam Burnley's favorite Blitz Torte. Long a delicacy with people who know and like Austrian or German cooking, this cake is not well known. It's luscious.

Mrs. Burnley, the mother of four daughters, moved to Oakland county's lake area (Long Lake, near Union Lake Village) a few years ago. She is the mother vice-president of Union Lake School PTA. Incidentally, the family owns a parakeet named Liberace.

BLITZ TORTE
By Mrs. Sam Burnley

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
4 egg yolks, beaten
1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/3 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix in order given and put in two 8-inch layer pans, greased. Set aside. Beat 4 egg whites stiff and add ¾ cup sugar. Spread meringue over cake batter and sprinkle top with ¾ cup chopped nuts.

★ ★ ★

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. When you put the cake in, lower the heat to 350 degrees and bake 15 minutes. Turn down to 325 and bake another 20 minutes. Cool and fill before serving.

Filling

½ cup sugar
1 heaping tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup milk
1 egg, beaten
flavoring

Mix sugar and cornstarch with cold milk. Add egg and cook in double boiler until of custard consistency. Flavor with vanilla or almond. Spread between the layers of cake. Cake will serve eight.

CAROL ANN COLLINS

The demonstration will take place Saturday afternoon at Madison Junior High School.

Envy's new Twin-Panel Back, a marvel of scientific design, now at Federal Department Stores

Designers Acclaim New Sensational Twin-Panel Achievement for Fashion! Envy's Patented Back Gives Women Amazing Comfort and Freedom

Fashion experts are talking about shapes this year as never before, and the biggest girdle news is the amazing Envy by Venus. Envy is the fashion answer for smartness and versatility. "It's the ideal garment for the modern active woman who wants comfort and freedom without sacrificing sleek, stylish underlines," says a New York fashion executive.

"Envy is the only girdle that really qualifies for the rapid pace of today's living."

Leading Paris designers know that the most breath-taking gown will look flat and dumpy if the contours beneath it are faulty. The right foundation garment is extremely important to fashion success. Today's active woman must have freedom of movement at all times with the necessary control of the figure. The new Envy 400 girdle by Venus gives this happy combination with its exclusive Twin-Panel Free-Action Back. Fashion experts everywhere realize the importance of control and free action to the grace and poise of the model. The Twin-Panel Free-Action Back is the outstanding reason for the tremendous designer interest in the Envy girdle. Through this cleverly-designed construction, Envy gives you proper control . . . without ever riding up! See what it does for you!

A New-Found Freedom! Unparalleled Control! Unrestricted Comfort!

"Envy" Twin-Panel Back action gives you a garment 'perfect' not only for tailored and dressy wear, but ideal for sports attire. Try it on! Just see what it does for you.

A foundation garment for active wear often sacrifices control and styling for free movement. Not with the new "Envy" girdle by Venus!

This beautifully-designed, lightweight girdle offers unparalleled control and unrestricted comfort to the style-wise, "on-the-go" woman. Active women find this revolutionary garment the answer to their wardrobe problems. "Envy" permits stooping, sitting, leaping, swinging, bending, and walking . . . won't creep, twist or ride up because of the Twin-Panel Free-Action Back! And there are no bones to dig skin.

"Envy" complements sleek formals and underlines golf tweeds as perfectly as it goes under casuals and afternoon ensembles. It has the molding quality of a custom-made garment, but the availability of every budget. It gives you the freedom of movement you want—as well as the trim, outward appearance — whether shopping, golfing, driving, dancing . . . or picking up this and that on a cleaning tour around the house.

Older Child Resents Tot's Helplessness

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One rainy morning Larry was working on a portrait of a jet plane. He'd just picked up a red crayon to color its fiery tail when his little brother began to howl.

★ ★ ★

He looked up just long enough to note that Buddy's new yellow ball had got wedged under the piano bench. It was the kind of thing that was always happening to Buddy.

He dropped spoons at meals—and yelled for help. He failed to open the screen door or disentangle a toy's string from a bush—and yelled for help.

What's more, he always got it. His disgusting helplessness didn't revolt Mommy at all. Instead, she'd pick up his spoon, open the door, disentangle the toy—or say crossly to Larry, "Why couldn't you unlatch the door for him? Can't you see he's not tall enough to reach it himself?"

★ ★ ★

But strangely enough, this morning she neither retrieved Buddy's ball for him herself nor did she ask Larry to do it.

Instead, after surveying the situation, she said, "Buddy can get that ball for himself. Will you help me show him how? He's got to start doing things for himself sometime. You and I can't go on waiting on him forever."

★ ★ ★

Larry dropped his red crayon at once. Running over to the piano bench, he lifted it. Then, squatting down beside Buddy's freed ball, he said encouragingly to his little brother, "Come on—get this ball for yourself. You can do it. We can't go on waiting on you forever. Come on. . ."

The result was such a triumphant and grateful Buddy that his flattered brother said, "Want me to play ball with him a little while before lunch, Mom?"

An older child wants to help us teach independence to a younger one.

To Larry, Buddy's most irritating trait has been his helplessness—that dependence on Mommy which has left her so little time for his brother. Larry wants Buddy to start decreasing his demands on it so that there'll be more for him.

When we ask him to help us show Buddy how to solve his own problems, we use his natural interest in Buddy's independence to profit both the children.

The mistake is asking the older child to indulge the younger one's helplessness.

This wool jersey blouse lends just the right atmosphere to formal living for fall. Done by Bill Atkinson, in red only, it is sophisticated glamour at its utmost.

High Couture at Low Prices

Experts Style Ready-to-Wear

LONDON (INS)—Today it's high couture at low prices.

The reasons are the decline of the millionaire class and fewer occasions for the well - dressed woman to wear really expensive clothes. And in addition too much luxury in present day conditions can be an embarrassment.

Top British couturiers still charge the same high prices for made-to-measure clothes but many of the designers, finding that few women can afford to be completely "dressed" by them, are turning their talents to the ready-to-wear trade.

The whole fashion picture has become what the experts call "circular."

Why should a woman, however elegant and wealthy, spend hours in fitting rooms at her dressmaker when she can go to the model department of her favorite shop and literally step into an outfit superbly cut of first class material and at a fraction of the cost of the made-to-measure garment?

The lessening ranks of couturiers today are either allying themselves with already established wholesale houses or in some cases are venturing into the wholesale field on their own.

Hardy Amies has a successful tie-up with Brenner which is now in its third year. Amies bases his ready-to-wear collection on the lines he has established in his previous season's couture collection. These are, of course, adapted to suit the coming season's most popular materials.

John Cavanagh has begun a similar association this season with the old - established business of Berg of Mayfair, noted especially for their superb fur-trimmed model coats. Cavanagh has his own workrooms and staff while the collection is being assembled.

His new "couture-to-wear" collection is based mainly on suits, but also includes very elegant dresses with jackets or with a matching long coat. He designs his collections with reproduction in mind. Everything is made to facilitate the small alterations that are often necessary for the individual customer. Seams are

Adoptions Gain More Popularity

Demand for Tots Exceeds Supply in This Country

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—More Americans want families today than ever before. The couples who can't have children want to adopt them. The sad thing is there are just not enough boys and girls to go around for all these would be parents.

★ ★ ★

Adoptions are becoming increasingly popular and they are socially approved today. This is in sharp contrast to 25 years ago when adoptions were a hush-hush matter.

93,000 CHILDREN

The Children's Bureau estimates there were about 93,000 named in petitions for adoptions filed in courts in 1955. These included children adopted by relatives, or step-parents, though the majority were children adopted by nonrelatives.

★ ★ ★

The Children's Bureau figures there are 10 to 15 times as many families that want to adopt children than there are children legally relinquished by their parents for adoption.

Some 80,000 families each year file petitions to adopt a child.

MANY IN INSTITUTIONS

There have been statements that there are plenty of children to go around. Recent census figures show there are some 87,000 children in institutions for dependent and neglected children.

★ ★ ★

The Children's Bureau says there is no basis for belief that the great majority of these children could be adopted.

Most have parents who have not relinquished them for adoption; some have mental or physical handicaps; many are older children.

★ ★ ★

Most are there because death or illness of one parent, or a divorce, has caused temporary removal from their own homes until new plans can be made.

LEGAL SURRENDER

Unless a legal surrender is made by the parents, or ordered by a court, in case the parents are dead, these children cannot be adopted by anyone.

★ ★ ★

The largest percentage of these institution children also is around 7 years of age or over. Some people want the 7, 10 or 12-year olds.

A few can be persuaded to take 2, 3 or 4-year-olds. But most couples ask for babies.

Fall Routine Starts With Beauty Care

Thorough Checkup of Summer Damage Is First Requisite

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Facing up to fall means, among other things, a thorough checkup on beauty. Summer is the laziest time of the year for most of us and we tend to let things go.

It's simpler and more pleasant to lie on the beach or in a hammock than it is to do our beauty homework. The results? Often, they're sun-bleached, dry hair, bulges in the wrong places and a drawerful of makeup that's fine with a tan but all wrong when the tan starts to fade.

★ ★ ★

While summer has its beauty bonuses, it has its drawbacks, too. Hot oil treatments and lots of brushing plus a cream hair dressing will generally solve the dry hair problem. Exercise, aimed directly at the bulges, will correct figure problems.

If summer has added five pounds, now's the time to take it off. That first five pounds can turn disastrously into 10.

As your tan starts to fade, check on your makeup from powder to lipstick and be sure that your new makeup is truly matched to your whiter skin tones.

When autumn comes, many women find that they have to do a fast switch in their skin care habits.

★ ★ ★

During the summer, many women find that it's not necessary (or it's just too hot) to use a skin cream at night. There's enough moisture present in the skin to make it possible to do without cream.

But with the first cool days, it's important to get right back into the habit of using skin cream faithfully. There's no other known way to ward off wrinkles.

Diet, exercise and eight or 10 glasses of water a day are important, too.

When you cream your face, don't forget to reach for the hand lotion and take care of hands and elbows at the same time.

STYLE ESSENTIAL

The teen-ager who learns that style is essential to beauty is getting off to a good start.

Style does not mean fashion here though fashion sense is a help. In creating beauty, style is that indefinable something that can turn a downright homely girl into one who's alluring if not beautiful. It has to do with shining cleanliness, care about hemlines and gloves and shoes, attention to skin and hair.

★ ★ ★

But it's more than that. It's an interest in other people, warmth and graciousness. It's unfailing courtesy. It's a voice that's soft and low. It's a flair for wearing whatever clothes one possesses as if they mattered.

Style is neither easy to define nor to attain. But the possession of it gives the owner a claim to true beauty, not plastic prettiness.

2nd Bathroom Good Investment

Do you know that one of the projects for which it's easiest to get a bank loan is a second bathroom in your house? In fact, shrewd and calculating bankers actually advertise that they encourage this type of home improvement as a sound investment.

★ ★ ★

With the trend toward larger families, and the increased appreciation of the value of a daily bath for each member, a second bathroom is more necessity than luxury. Clever builders can convert an understair area, a hall, or closet space into a shower-stall type bathroom, even if the larger tub-type layout is not feasible.

Protects Furniture

Some housewives scamper for their good outdoor furniture at the first drop of rain. Keep plastic covers handy and toss them over the pieces you want to protect most. This saves much unnecessary lifting. The covers also protect outdoor furniture from dew and dirt.

Get in Shape for the New Fashions

Exercises Slim Waistline and Hips

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Yesterday I warned you not to be smug because some of the current fashions avoid the waistline.

★ ★ ★

You must have a good figure if you are going to wear these little sacks of dresses — unless you wish to look like a lady about to be pushed off the end of the pier with bricks tied to her feet. You must have a waistline and hips must slim.

I promised you some first aid exercises today. Here they are:

1. Lie on your back, arms out at your sides. Lift both legs to a position halfway between the floor and a position at right angles to the body. Swing the legs apart. Swing them toward each other, crossing them, without bending the knees. Swing them apart. Continue.

The first time you cross your legs swing the right leg above the left. The next time you cross them the right leg is swung underneath the left. Do not do this too strenuously at first. Exercise smoothly and rhythmically, not jerkily.

For the waist and thighs: From this position bend the left knee up close to your abdomen. Cross the left knee over your body and touch it to the floor on the right side of your body. Straighten leg and return to place. Continue, alternating left and right.

2. A similar one for the derriere: Sit on the floor, bend both knees with feet flat on the floor. Flop both legs on the floor on your left side, toes pointing to the right side. Lift both legs from the floor and flop them on the right side, the toes pointing toward your left side. Continue lifting and then flopping the bent legs from side to side.

★ ★ ★

Before beginning this exercise lift both arms forward, shoulder height, and grasp the left forearm with the right hand (loosely) and the right forearm with the left hand. This will help you keep your balance.

Here is one for the waist and thighs: Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor away from your sides. Fingertips cling to the floor. Bend the left knee up close to your abdomen. Cross the left knee over your body and touch it to the floor on the right side of your body.

Straighten leg and return to place. Bend the right knee and cross it over the body, trying to touch the knee to the floor on the left side of the body. Straighten and return to place. Continue, alternating left and right.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my tested hip-slimming exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Children Aren't Welcome in Manicured Backyards

Lovely Lawns and Patios Crowd Out Baseball Diamonds, Play Gear

By RUTH MILLETT

"How Does Your Backyard Rate?" asks a magazine dedicated to the beautification of the American home. The pictures with which the reader is asked to compare his own back yard show lovely patios, formal plantings, every inch as neat as a pin.

In all the pictures there isn't a tire swing, a sand pile, or the worn spots that mean a yard has been used in summer for a baseball diamond and in fall for a football field.

Sometimes I wonder how kids are supposed to fit in with America's ranch-style homes and manicured backyards.

Sure, there's a TV room. But is Junior just supposed to sit before the TV all the time?

★ ★ ★

Why do his parents move to the suburbs to give him space to play in and then turn the backyard into a patio for adult entertaining and the front lawn into a precious carpet?

LET CHILDREN DECIDE

Is having our front lawn and our backyard rate really that important?

★ ★ ★

How about having our yards rate with our kids and their friends?

If they were allowed to rate them it would be a different story. For the nicest yard in the neighborhood—if the kids could vote—would always be the one where you could play ball, build a tree house or a clubhouse, put up a swing, climb trees, and all without scoldings.

Most yards were like that when I was a kid. But you'll find few yards in the suburbs today that don't look like outdoor extensions of the living room.

There are too many people wondering how their yards rate with the neighbor's yards, instead of how they rate with the kids.

Ski jackets bloom in prints worn with knickers. This suits the thin figure who should avoid sleek fit of stretch pants and striped shirt.

Bulkiness at the tops, often with drawstring hems, appears everywhere as ski jackets and in Balenciaga giant box coats which some say look "five sizes too large." Bad fashion for the short and squat but wonderful for the tall and lean.

For a "different" sauce or gravy in a hurry, try using a canned cream soup, such as cream of mushroom, tomato, celery or chicken soups. Just dilute it enough to give it the right consistency.

Air Force Tells of New Invention

Mechanical Navigator Computes Speed, Drift of Plane by Radar

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Air Force today took the wraps off a mechanical navigator which can plot a course anywhere on the globe, compute the speed and drift of the airplane and signal when the destination is reached.

The Air Research and Development Command actually disclosed the details of six Doppler Radar self-contained aircraft navigation systems. At the same time, it told about an airborne north-seeking gyro compass which is the principal component of the systems.

★ ★ ★

"So accurate is the Doppler navigation system that after a 1,000-mile flight, an aircraft will arrive within a circle 12 miles in diameter around the destination," the ARDC said.

The systems have been and are being built now, ARDC added, and are the result of a project started in 1945 at its Wright Air Development Command in Dayton, Ohio.

The six systems described range from a compact unit weighing only 110 pounds to a giant of 725 pounds which takes up 27.5 cubic feet of space. They have been designed for use in virtually any Air Force plane, from helicopters to the biggest bombers.

The Doppler Radar systems use a principle discovered in 1842 by the Austrian physicist Christian Doppler.

Signals are beamed to the ground, where they bounce or echo back to the airplane and are picked up by a receiver. The difference in frequencies between the original signal and its received echo is measured by precise computation within the radar set, the ground speed is determined and presented on a dial.

★ ★ ★

When two beams are used, angled forward to the right and left of the plane, the readings are compared automatically and give not only the plane's true speed over the ground but show wind drift — the sideward slippage of the plane from action of the wind.

In some systems, four beams are used, angled in the form of an "X" forward and backward. Added to this basic Doppler Radar are two other pieces of equipment —a heading reference or compass and a computer.

A navigator has only to put into the computer the latitude and longitude of the plane at the start of the flight and the same information for the destination.

Once the plane is airborne, the computer takes the information supplied by the Doppler Radar and the compass, computes its present position and the course it must fly to reach the destination. It also computes the distance to be traveled. This information is presented on dials for the pilot's guidance or can be fed into an automatic pilot which flies the airplane to its destination.

The pilot need keep only one indicator arrow pointed straight up to stay on his computed course. When he reaches his destination, a light glows to signal the trip's end.

PRODUCES CASTOR OIL — Mrs. Earl Goddard, of 116 W. Colgate St., proudly stands next to an 11 foot castor bean plant she grew from a bean since late May. The annual plant, natural to the tropics, is used both for ornamental and medicinal purposes since it yields castor oil from the three large seeds in the capsule of the fruit. This variety is Africanus which has large green leaves (some up to 36 inches wide). In the tropics, the plants grow to 40 feet tall but in the north 11 or 12 feet is extraordinary. It is believed the castor bean plant is useful in getting rid of moles because of poisonous roots.

September's Weather Had Plenty of Variety

Variety best describes September's weather. Both unseasonably warm and cold temperatures prevailed and there were as many clear days as there were cloudy or rainy days.

The first week of September was characterized by rain and cloudy weather. The highest temperature of the month however, was recorded on the second day, when the mercury soared to an unseasonable 86 degrees.

Unseasonably cool was the prediction for Sept 6. A low of 49 was record for this day while 47 was the reading for Monday, the ninth day.

Rain pelted down on the 12th, and returned for two more days on the 14th and 15th with more rain on the 19th and 20th.

Typical autumn weather began to be in evidence towards the end of the month. The forecasts were mostly fair, and cool with temperatures ranging between 79 and 36.

The coldest temperature of the month was 36 recorded on the 27th.

The first frost came on the 23rd and returned on the 26th and 27th.

Statistically the weather for September was: average high 74.8; average low 64; mean temperature 69.4; precipitation, 1.33 inches.

Basic theme of the conference is to present a condensed version of the ten-month course given at the Industrial College in Washington, D. C. Smith, a major in the Air Force Reserve, is superintendent of the main window service at Pontiac's main post office.

Error in Recording Drunk-Driving Plea

Peter Donaldson, 25, of 50 Ellwood St., was erroneously shown to have pleaded guilty to drunk driving, Monday, on Oakland County Sheriff's Department records.

Instead, he pleaded guilty to the charge of reckless driving, before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib and paid a fine of $85.10 plus $4.90 costs.

Births in U.S. Increase

WASHINGTON—The number of babies born in the United States since 1946 has averaged more than 3,750,000 a year, and the last three years the average has exceeded 4,000,000—a baby every 8 seconds.

Mrs. C. E. Wilson to Question Mr. Before Cameras

By ROSE McKEE

WASHINGTON (INS) — Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, wife of the retiring defense secretary, is searching for a "horrible question" to liven up her husband's last Pentagon news conference tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The headline-making Mrs. Wilson plans to fulfill a long hankering by attending the cabinet member's farewell meeting with the press and posing her own question—subject as yet unidentified.

Her husband received this news at a private dining table with somewhat less than joy and cheers—not a strange reaction for a man whose impromptu answers have sometimes gotten him into hot water.

★ ★ ★

When he appeared to squirm somewhat at the prospect of facing his wife at the news conference, Mrs. Wilson warmed to the subject and quipped, "Oh, I think I will ask a real horrible question."

Turning to a reporter who was her guest, she asked merrily, "You'll give me a horrible question to ask, won't you?"

There was enough of an edge of determination in her voice to suggest she just might participate in the questioning. Mrs. Wilson proved earlier this year that she is a woman with an independent mind when she spoke up to this reporter against criticism of her husband by President Eisenhower.

★ ★ ★

When the president rebuked Wilson for a remark involving the National Guard, the spunky Mrs. Wilson said the President's criticism was "uncalled for" and she was "indignant" about it.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time anyone ever heard of a cabinet member's wife assailing a president and it made headlines far and wide. Mr. Eisenhower showed he had no hard feelings by giving the Wilsons a lift south in his plane a few days later.

Mrs. Wilson said she has wanted for a long time to slip into one of her husband's news conferences "to see what they are like."

But, she said, "they" didn't seem to want her. The "they," she indicated, boils down to "he."

She was all set to go to one news conference some time ago "when 'they' changed the time on me—purposely, I think—they knew I had to go off and pour some tea someplace."

Virus Keeps Judy Off the Stage Again

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Physicians said today that they hope singing star Judy Garland will be able to perform in the final Philadelphia date of her stage revue tonight despite a virus infection which kept her off the stage last night.

★ ★ ★

Management of the Mastbaum Theater announced that last night's admissions would be refunded after a spokesman for Miss Garland said she had a 102-degree temperature and was "too sick a girl" to go on.

★ ★ ★

The virus infection was described as apparently the same type which felled the singer last week in Washington.

Toll Both Physical and Emotional

Algeria a Key French Stumbling Block

ALGIERS, (AP)—For almost three years — since November 1954 — France has been struggling to stamp out a nationalist rebellion in Algeria apparently led and directed by Arabs who owe most of their military training and education to France.

An accurate death toll after 35 months of sudden terrorist raids, pitched battles and countless lesser engagements is hard to come by. Casualty reports are frequently inaccurate or do not get to the newspapers.

★ ★ ★

The emotional toll of the long-bloody fight in this torn North African country between Tunisia on the east and Morocco on the west was pointed up this week when the French National Assembly in Paris withheld its support from a premier committed to do something to end it.

Premier Maurice Bourges-Maunoury proposed a home rule bill for Algeria which looked forward to an eventual grant of partial self-rule.

The proposal aroused Frenchmen more than any other in years. Protests rained in on the National Assembly. A well-organized lobby representing the million and a half Frenchmen who live in Algeria also made itself felt.

The rebels also rejected the plan, because it did not give full independence immediately.

Underlining the French protests was the passionate belief that Algeria is French—and must remain French. The Europeans in Algeria and their partisans in France feared they would be submerged by the territory's nine million Arabs.

The Assembly voted against Bourges-Maunoury's proposal which he made an issue of confidence, and thus turned out France's 23rd postwar government.

★ ★ ★

In Algeria itself, where some Arabs reportedly are despairing of eventual success against the French, the rebellion has enveloped the entire country. Opinions vary as to how many of the Arabs really support it or how successful it has been.

It has been successful enough, however, to tie down almost a weakening France's position in the NATO defense line and bringing the French treasury to the brink of bankruptcy.

★ ★ ★

Essentially, France's problem in Algeria is to raise the living standards and political status of the Arab majority and retain or regain their loyalty—and at the same time satisfy the European minority which has lived in Algeria for generations and dominates the country's political life and economy which it chiefly built.

★ ★ ★

Behind this is a determination to safeguard such vital French interests as the huge, recently discovered Sahara oil reserve in southern Algeria.

One factor which had much to do with the outbreak of the rebellion was the so-called "Law of 1947." It provided for eventual complete integration of Algeria into France, with full and equal rights for Algerians who helped liberate the homeland in World War II.

★ ★ ★

As a stopgap it set up an Algerian Assembly, a semilegislature of two houses, one for the European or Europeanized population and the other for the Arabs. But the European house held the major powers that the French government itself did not retain and the Arabs finally walked out.

The crawling months of terror and sudden death have hardened emotions on both sides. Neighboring Tunisia and Morocco are independent of France now, and siding with the nationalist rebels. The French are determined not to lose Algeria. Months more of fighting appear in prospect.

Truman Believes Dems Will Profit

DENVER (INS)—Former President Harry S. Truman is convinced the Little Rock situation will gain votes for the Democrats in 1958 and 1960.

★ ★ ★

Truman made the comment yesterday in Denver as he prepared to fly back to Independence, Mo., after a trip to the Mile-High City Monday when his brother-in-law, Fred Wallace, died.

Truman said bluntly, "The Democrats will take over the whole country in 1958 and 1960, and we'll make good citizens out of everybody. The people are tired of the damned Republicans."

★ ★ ★

The former President's wife, Bess, remained in Denver and planned to attend services at St. John Catholic Church before flying to Independence for Wallace's burial.

Students Invest in U.S.

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan school students purchased $1,464,381 in U.S. savings stamps in the 1956-57 school year, the U.S. Treasury Dept. said Tuesday. The Michigan total was up four per cent over last year and ranked second among all states.

Wife of Girard May Be Called

Japanese Lawyer Told 'Candy' to Stay Away; Marriage Disapproved

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP) — Japanese government prosecutors said today they might ask William S. Girard's Japanese wife to testify in the GI's manslaughter trial if the defense doesn't.

★ ★ ★

Girard's Japanese lawyer has ordered Mrs. Haru "Candy" Girard to stay out of court. He said the Japanese public disapproved of their marrying while the Ottawa, Ill., soldier was under indictment for the fatal shooting of a Japanese woman collecting scrap brass on a firing range.

Japanese law, however, obligates the prosecution to present all pertinent facts even if they do not support the government's case. Associate Prosecutor Kakuichi Sugimoto said there is a possibility Candy will be called to the stand or asked to give a deposition.

★ ★ ★

Presumably she would be called as a character witness. Under Japanese law a wife can refuse to answer any questions that might incriminate her husband. Candy has offered to testify that Girard "is not the kind of man who could deliberately kill anyone."

The trial, which began Aug. 25, resumes tomorrow after a week's recess.

The chief defense lawyer, Itsuro Hayashi, expressed surprise at the possibility the prosecution might call Mrs. Girard and reaffirmed his decision not to summon her.

Boy Who Fell Off Horse in Satisfactory Shape

A Rochester boy is in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with head lacerations and a concussion suffered when he fell from a horse, Tuesday afternoon, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Deputies said that Kenneth Kehoe, 13, stepson of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon White, 245 W. Auburn Rd., was riding the horse, along Shadywood St. just north of Norton Lawn Rd., Avon Township, when he fell, striking his head.

GOP Parley Set

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Approximately 300 delegates are expected at the fall conference of the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan, Oct. 7 and 8. Plans for th 1958 election campaign will be discussed with the theme, "Open the Gates for '58."

Corporate Tax Cuts Proposed

Rep. Celler Calls for Graduated Reductions to Aid Small Firms

NEW YORK (INS) — The chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee called today for immediate enactment of a graduated corporate income tax to strengthen small business.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.), said a sharp tax reduction in the lower brackets is essential to reverse a "trend toward concentration" and "preserve the free enterphise economy."

Celler backed a proposal for replacing the 52 per cent tax on incomes above $25,000 with a levy progressing from five per cent on the first $5,000 to 52 per cent above $100,000.

The Brooklyn congressman, in a statement prepared for a New York hearing of the select Senate Committee on Small Business, said the present revenue code "tends to impede the expansion of growing enterprises as compared with that of large, established companies."

He maintained that loss of revenue due to the proposed changes would be offset by a "stimulation of business activity."

★ ★ ★

Celler also recommended payment of estate taxes over a 10 rather than one year period to ease the pressure on small business inheritors to sell out or merge.

★ ★ ★

Another proposal would enable small business proprietors to list themselves as "employes" and thus qualify for the pensions, profit-sharing and stock bonus plans now available to executives in big business.

See Need to Improve Airports

Private aircraft owners in Michigan believe better facilities could be offered them throughout the state, according to a recent survey conducted by the Aero Club of Michigan and Michigan Aviation Foundation.

Commenting on the report, Homer D. Hoskins, Pontiac Municipal Airport manager, said the local field provides "first class service to aircraft owners."

The survey represented replies from 19.8 per cent of Michigan's 2,500 owners of private and industrial aircraft.

In the 481 answers, owners declared there was room for improvement for providing adequate hangar facilities, service to aircraft instruments and radios, weather reporting, restaurants, waiting rooms and toilet facilities.

Hoskins emphasized that what facilities the Pontiac field offered "would be rated good all the way through."

"We have good hangars, but not enough, good gas facilities, good maintenance, and one of the two air instrument repair shops in the state in the Superior Instrument Service," he said.

The study did show owners believed most ports offered favorable "line" service, service to aircraft airframes, engines, and maintained fields well and provided sufficient telephone service.

Owners said they would give a slight edge to bases they visited over their home base. This, survey personnel pointed out showed attention being given more to transient aircraft.

The greatest weakness shown was in radio and instrument service. There were 67 per cent unfavorable reports for radio service, and 56 per cent unfavorable for instrument service.

Tot Drowns in Bathtub, Death Ruled Accidental

MUSKEGON (AP) — Coroner Basil J. Young ruled accidental drowning yesterday in the bathtub death of Pamela Sue Welch, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Welch of Muskegon Heights.

Young said the child drowned in the partly filled tub, apparently while left for a brief time by a babysitter during the absence of her parents.

Offices of the new firm are located at 1100 N. Woodward Ave., Birmingham.

Anti-Integration Laws Not Valid

Arkansas Must Amend State Constitution First; Can Withhold Aid

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas voters would have to amend the state constitution before any valid anti-integration laws could be passed, Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Bennett told a Civic Club meeting that the State Legislature could enact measures to withhold state aid from racially integrated schools and to discourage solicitation of lawsuits.

But he emphasized that amendment of Arkansas' constitution at the polls would be necessary first.

No direct reference to Gov. Orval Faubus or the Little Rock school crisis was made by Bennett, a former prosecuting attorney who has been mentioned as a likely gubernatorial candidate in 1958. However, Bennett declared that the present integration crisis was sparked by "lawsuits brought into the state."

The possibility of a special legislative session has been raised by Faubus and some state lawmakers have advocated closing of public schools and withholding of financial aid to integrated schools.

Bennett said, "Every thinking citizen deplores mob violence and the terror that comes with it."

He said, "We also deplore the use of federal troops in our state."

This city maintains about 200 public parks covering more than 33,000 acres.

Hal Boyle Says:

Stamp Collecting Becoming Big Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Anyone who thinks stamp collecting today is a kid's game is only kidding himself. It's a tremendous business, and a growing field of investment.

"Stamps have become a form of international currency," said Jack Taub, who at 26 is a dealer who does a half-million-dollar volume yearly here and in London.

"There are now 50 million collectors around the world, including 15 million in the United States.

"Stamps have become a tremendous hedge against inflation. That is why many Europeans, who are afraid of their own currency, are investing in stamps. If wisely chosen, they are an even better hedge than diamonds.

"Even during the depression the value of stamps dropped only 15 to 20 per cent."

★ ★ ★

But as in every other form of investment, those who seek to build a fortune in postage stamps must know what kind to buy—and when to buy them. Right now—surprisingly—United Nations issues are pacing the field in the worldwide stamp collecting boom.

A number of canny investors have already made sizable fortunes from stamps put out by the big glass house on the East River.

"I know of one man, for example," said Taub, "who invested $200 in U. N. stamps and two years later sold them for $55,000."

The reason for the explosive rise in value of the early issues of U. N. stamps lies in their rarity—and a deepening interest in the United Nations itself.

"The U. N. printed six million of its first stamp in 1951," recalled Taub, "and there was so little interest in them that U. N. officials burned them by the hundreds of thousands.

★ ★ ★

"In subsequent printings of further U. N. stamps the number was lowered and lowered. Then, sometime after the Korean truce, collectors awoke to the fact that perhaps the U. N. was here to stay. Then the big scramble began.

"Now four to five million people are collecting U. N. stamps and many of the scarcer issues have skyrocketed. A souvenir 15-cent sheet of stamps issued Oct. 24, 1955, today is worth $20—and they'll be worth more."

So much interest was stirred in the U. N. stamps that dealers set up the U. N. Philatelic Information Committee, with Taub as chairman, to serve as a worldwide clearing house for these issues.

★ ★ ★

But Taub warned that after Oct. 24, 1956, the U.N. began printing its stamps by the millions again, and the later issues are in plentiful supply and unlikely to increase greatly in value.

"The value of stamps is governed strictly by the law of supply and demand," he pointed out. "And not all are good investments, by any means.

"The United States prints 140 million of its commemorative issues. Many people buy 10 sheets of every U.S. stamp and put them away. So many do this that even 10 years later they aren't worth even their face value to collectors.

"The Post Office won't take them back, so all you can do with them is to put them on letters. And who writes that many letters?"

McLeod Waits New Bridge Job—at Soo

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Strapping, 212-pound, 6-foot-1 Donald McLeod of Sault Ste. Marie, was one of the relatively few among more than 2,500 workmen who saw the Mackinac Bridge all the way through from underwater explorations to finish.

Now McLeod is going home to fish, as he has each winter since 1954, and wait for another job—on a bridge.

He's pretty sure that next job will be in Sault Ste. Marie.

A railroad span is going in for sure across the St. Marys River, he says. And, like many workmen around him, he thinks the baby he helped grow into a giant across the Staits of Mackinac will attract so much traffic a bridge will have to be built to replace the little ferries that now chug between the U. S. and Canadian Saults Ste. Marie.

★ ★ ★

McLeod is a foreman for Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corp., which built the Mackinac Bridge's mighty foundations and piers and anchors. Some days his 12-man crew poured as much as 816 cubic yards of concrete — enough for the basement floors and walls of almost 25 average homes.

A carpenter by trade, McLeod is one of many from Michigan who found steady, good-paying jobs between winters over the last four years on "what we're all proud to have had a hand in."

The 51-year-old McLeod said that he started work in the Straits April 28, 1954, "when there wasn't anything but water out here." He was assigned to the floating derrick, Cherokee, from which underwater explorations were made.

Because he qualifies as a piledriver, as well as carpenter, McLeod was derrick foreman of a crew which probed far down for the bed rock. Then he helped drive the piles on which engineers built their survey tower to find and mark the spots for piers.

He spent the next two years driving piles for foundations, then last year he switched to the dredge Algonquin to pour concrete, and ended up this year topping off the giant anchor piers which hold the bridge's suspension cables.

A man with sun-reddened face and gray hair, McLeod was born in the Canadian Soo, but his parents moved with him to the American Soo when he was a year and a half old.

★ ★ ★

He lived in Toledo 14 years and drove a Kroger Grocery Co. truck. Then he learned to be a carpenter and piledriver and returned to the Soo in 1942 to work on the MacArthur lock.

He's proud of his big bridge, but prouder still of "two boys bigger than I am," and locks his fingers in his overall galluses to brag: "I'm a brand new grandpa."

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: How much does a baby bird eat?

ANSWER: Baby birds eat more than you would think possible—often more each day than their bodies weigh. They have to be fed constantly while they're in the nest. It keeps the mamma and papa birds very busy hunting for food. What the babies eat depends on what kind of birds they are. Some birds eat only plants—fruit, seeds, grain, buds and leaves. Others eat only fish or worms and insects. Still others eat both plant and animal life. At the touch of food in its mother's bill, a baby bird opens its mouth wide. Of course, it may already be open. Often a first glance at a nest of baby birds shows only their large open mouths—which almost hide their small bodies—as they eagerly await the food they hope is coming. The mother's head seems almost swallowed as she pushed the food far down into the babies' open mouths.

FOR YOU TO DO: Paste this picture on cardboard, color it and add it to your bird collection.

(A $10 award goes to Tommy Patterson, Greenville, S.C. for this question. Send yours to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this paper. TOMORROW: In what year was the ice cream cone born?)

Request $9½ Million for Detroit Port

DETROIT (AP) — The riverfront development division of the Detroit Tomorrow Committee wants voters to approve a 9½-million-dollar bond issue for a marine terminal on the Detroit River.

The proposed marine terminal is part of a plan to have Detroit ready to receive ocean-going vessels when the St. Lawrence Seaway is opened. The seaway, a channel linking the Great Lakes with the Atlantic Ocean, is scheduled to open in 1959.

The Riverfront Development Commission, meeting here yesterday, passed a resolution supporting the Port of Detroit Commission's plans to build a terminal on the river.

The group called for voter support of the port development bond issue in the Nov. 5 election. Passage of the proposed bond issue would increase taxes 16 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Port Director Carlis J. Stettin said Detroit is the last of the Great Lakes cities to prepare for the seaway.

One Man's Drive for College Funds Nets Good Total

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Northwestern Michigan College is $2,500 richer because Orville Walker dug out his 1956 Christmas card list and wrote letters to 1,000 friends.

Walker is special township agent of the State Agricultural Department in the Kalkaska County area.

Like many other private citizens, he became interested in the college fund-raising campaign. He drew up a letter, outlining the college's purposes and needs and sent it to the 1,000 people on his Christmas card list. He asked each to send along $1 or $2 to the school fund.

More than 600 complied, sending along a total of $1,260.60.

College officials pointed out that since the state has agreed to match dollar for dollar the funds raised locally, the total result of Walker's efforts will be double—or over $2,500.

Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph, was a painter of distinction and was first president of the National Academy of Design.

Skylights Ready-Made

NEW YORK—Ready-made skylights, complete with frame, flashing, and fasteners, are now available for residential construction. They are lower in cost and easier to install than earlier types and are made of plastic, glass fiber, and insulating glass. One type permits desirable winter sun to enter, but keeps out the heat and glare of summer sun.

The collapsible opera hat was invented by Gibus, a Parisian hatter.

More Baths Per Home

CHICAGO—The Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau says new homes being built in the nation average at least 1½ bathrooms and in many areas as high as 2.1 bathrooms. In 1950, new houses averaged slightly more than one bathroom.

Earth Pigments Best

ST. LOUIS — Paint experts say that when choosing exterior paints it is wise to remember that earth pigments are generally more permanent when exposed to weather and sunlight than chemical colors and that tinted paint is more durable than white. The principal earth pigments are ochre, the siennas, umbers, red iron oxides, and "earth" brown and black.

Tip for Painters

ST. LOUIS—Most paints and namels can be applied over other paints and enamels and also over shellac and lacquer. But, paint manufacturers warn, beware of using lacquer over paint, enamel, or varnish—the lacquer will act as a paint remover and lift the first coat.

Israeli Pupils Increase

TEL AVIV, Israel—More than 400 classrooms have been constructed since 1951 for the school children of Tel Aviv. There are now more than 50,000 children attending school in the city, an increase of 17,000 in the past six years.

Venice, Italy is farther north than New York City.

Shefferman Is Next for Senate Probers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Rackets Committee's next hearing, involving the activities of Nathan Shefferman, a Chicago labor relations consultant, is now scheduled to start Oct. 21.

Robert Kennedy, committee counsel, said today the hearings beginning then may continue for four or five weeks. He said they will deal not only with Shefferman's affairs, but other matters he is not now in position to disclose.

The pirate Blackbeard was no Bluebeard. He is reported to have had 14 wives. Most of them are believed to have been alive to mourn him when he was killed.

Crown Prince in Auto Which Hurts Pedestrian

TOKYO (AP) — An automobile in which Crown Prince Akihito was riding struck and injured a former surgeon of the imperial Japanese army today.

Kaihei Ando, 72, was hospitalized with face injuries and a mild concussion. He is expected to be released in a week.

★ ★ ★

Police said Akihito was en route to a preview of an Italian film. Ando, apparently not seeing the car, attempted to cross the street immediately after the prince's motorcycle escort passed.

Akihito sent a basket of fruit to the old man.

Austria's fruit imports now range from berries to dried figs, a Vienna survey showed.

Detective Robbed

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Private Detective George DeHart called police to report with some embarrassment that a crook had stolen the paychecks of his company, the Continental Secret Service Bureau. DeHart said he set a briefcase containing 40 paychecks beside his car to unlock the door and then drove off without them. When he returned, the briefcase was gone.

Musical Comedy, Movies, TV Fill 2 Decades for Bert Lahr

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Writer

Comedian Bert Lahr's real "break" in show business came when he moved into musical comedy after years in vaudeville and burlesque.

Looking back now, Lahr regards his last three decades in show business as the most satisfying and certainly the most remunerative.

Since that turning point in his career, Lahr has been in 16 legitimate productions. He's played in nearly 30 motion pictures, taken a brief whirl in radio, and has made a number of television appearances.

Today, although he's 62, he is not resting on his laurels. On Oct. 13 Lahr will be one of the stars on a special NBC-TV variety show marking the 75th anniversary of the Standard Oil Company. Lahr has other television appearances set, which will keep him busy into next January.

Lahr is one comedian who hasn't been "over-exposed" on TV. He recognizes the danger of over-exposure. Sometimes he's inclined to think his future still lies in Broadway musical comedies. But he knows TV is a great and modern medium of entertainment, and he's not one to duck a challenge to his ability.

★ ★ ★

Fate was working in Lahr's behalf. Harry Delmar, an ex-vaudevillian with whom Lahr had worked, was producing a revue on Broadway called "Delmar's Revels," and asked Bert to bring his cop act into the show.

BROADWAY NOTICE

Before the show folded, Broadway producers Alex Aarons and Vinton Freedley told Lahr they were staging a musical called "Hold Everything," and wanted Lahr to play the role of a punch-drunk fighter named Gink Schiner.

★ ★ ★

Lahr accepted. He told the writer: "It was then that I created the style of comedy that has been with me for years." (The bumbling, braggadoccio type with a sympathetic quality underneath.)

Opening night the audience was filled with celebrities. The show was a smash hit. Lahr got rave notices, one of which proclaimed: "A new comedy king is born."

Lahr was "made." After that, one hit after another followed—"Hot-Cha!," "Life Begins at 8:40," "The Show Is On," "Flying High," and "George White's Scandals."

Bert went into the movies when Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer bought the rights to "Flying High" and signed him to do the picture.

Later, Florenz Ziegfield lured him back from Hollywood to play in "Hot-Cha!" which ran for 30 weeks at the Ziegfield Theater in New York.

As time went on, Lahr got a chance to prove he is a fine dramatic actor, as well as a top-notch clown. This opportunity came only last year—in the spring of 1956—when he played the vagrant Estragon in the controversial play, "Waiting for Godot."

Lahr says he didn't fully understand the part in this unusual drama. But he played it with rapfish precision and finesse. His subtle characterization drew the unanimous applause of the critics.

Since then Lahr has done one show, the farce "Hotel Paradiso" which had a successful run early this year.

FEAST OR FAMINE

Lahr says things are now "bright and happy" with him. He remarked that in every actor's life there is a lot of uncertainty—"it's been a feast or a famine as far as my career has been concerned."

★ ★ ★

Bert was divorced from his first wife. He married attractive, ash-blonde Mildred Schroeder in Elkton, Md., in 1940. Mrs. Lahr was "Miss Cincinnati" of 1930 in the Atlantic City beauty contest. Years ago she worked with Bert in acts and pictures.

The Lahrs live well in a handsome Fifth Avenue apartment. They have two children, John, 16, who is going to school in Riverdale, N.Y., and Jane, 13, who attends Spence School in Manhattan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lahr are sometimes seen in fashionable restaurants, but they do not go in for night life. Bert drinks very little and takes good care of his health.

By his first wife, Lahr has a son, Herbert, 28, who has a radio show in Tucson, Ariz.

★ ★ ★

Lahr's chief hobby is fishing. "I'm most relaxed when I'm fishing," he says. On weekends he often goes to Seabright, N.J., and heads to sea in a fast power skiff to troll for bluefish and stripers.

"Show business has been good to me," the famous comedian said. Lahr can say that again.

Get Into Drive-In Shows by Hiding in Car Trunks

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Sneaking into drive-in motion picture theaters in the trunks of cars has become so prevalent that some theater operators have hired extra help to check cars as they park.

Magistrate Robert D. Skaggs reported he had heard of 40 such cases in recent months.

It's Easier to Pay Fines

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Parking law violators will find it's going to be much easier to pay up. Allan G. Wallsworth, city architect, announced that a drive-in window for paying parking fines will be a feature of a new district police headquarters now under construction.

Spy of Russia Asks for Mercy

Jack Soble Pleads With Judge for Leniency in Sentencing

NEW YORK (AP)—Tears filling his eyes and his hands trembling, confessed spy Jack Soble said yesterday he deeply regrets the crimes he committed against his country. He asked for mercy from the country he schemed to betray.

★ ★ ★

The 55-year-old former head of a Soviet intelligence ring in the United States told Federal Judge Richard H. Levet:

"I cannot forgive myself. I had plenty of opportunity to straighten out my life since I came to this country and I didn't do it."

Soble appeared before Levet for sentencing. He had pleaded guilty to conspiring to obtain national defense secrets, knowing the information would be transmitted to the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Levet said he would impose sentence next Tuesday. He also will rule on motions to reduce the 5½-year sentences he imposed Aug. 9 on Soble's wife Myra, 53, and Jacob Albam, 64.

Mrs. Soble and Albam pleaded guilty to the same charge as did Soble.

The Lithuanian-born spy raised his hands to his face, straightened to his six-foot height and continued: "I hope for my full cooperation I will partially do good to this country that I was doing in the past such things that I cannot forgive myself.

"I had plenty of opportunity to straighten myself out when I came to this country, but I did not do that.

The Sobles were naturalized in 1947.

Soble could get a maximum sentence of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Movie Agent Negotiating for King Haakon's Story

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I hear through the grapevine that a prominent Hollywood agent is negotiating for the life story of King Haakon, of Norway, who recently died. It is a truly great story.

King Haakon was so loved in his native Norway that at the end of the war the people bought him a yacht. The donations didn't come solely from the rich but the poor people contributed their part, too. So they called the yacht, "Their Ship."

I was fortunate enough to be a guest aboard the yacht when I visited Oslo in 1948. I met the king while he was walking, straight as an arrow, along the street, speaking to everyone in the most democratic fashion. The way in which little Norway held out against the Nazis through his influence, is a great story of monumental courage.

Columbia borrowed Tab Hunter from Warners for "Gun Man's Walk," and now Jack Warner, in return, borrows Felicia Farr from Harry Cohn for "Onionhead." Felicia is the beauty most likely to become Mrs. Jack Lemmon. She'll play opposite Andy Griffith and Erin O'Brien, and has the sexy role, while Erin plays the good girl.

Director Norman Taurog saw Felicia in "3:10 to Yuma," and quickly signed her with the agreement, of course, of producer Jules Schermer.

My old friend Roscoe Karns (Griffith's screen father) says it's the first time he's ever played the role of "father" in his 35 years in pictures.

★ ★ ★

Leona Gage, the girl who was disqualified as Miss Universe, but whose beauty won her a job at the Tropicana as a showgirl, arrived in town today from Las Vegas. She told me that 20th Century-Fox had taken an option on a test, and that she will make it October 22.

"What are you going to do in the meantime?" I asked her.

"I am going to study, so that I will be good," she said. Her husband, Gene Ennis and her two children will be here with her. I had heard she was separating from her husband, but this she denies.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Don Rickles at the Slate Brothers Cafe must be Frank Sinatra's favorite comic. After having dinner with Lauren Bacall at Romanoff's they went to hear him Friday night. Then Frankie was there again with Lauren and Liz Taylor and Mike Todd Saturday night.

Jane Powell's father, Paul Barce, is honeymooning at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas with his bride, the former Frank Hamilton.

Many of Jane Russell's buddies are going to Las Vegas tomorrow night for her opening at the Sands.

★ ★ ★

Nat Cole did his TV show from there and rehearsed with Eartha Kitt and Rube Dee for "St. Louis Blues," The Life of W. C. Handy, which is the next motion picture on his agenda.

Dick Shawn, at the Tropicana with Vivian Blaine, is our next star sensation. He has comedy that's brilliant. Vivian has had her contract renewed for another four weeks in an original musical.

Jack Benny is interested in an offer to star in the stage play "Father of the Bride." But when will he get time?

★ ★ ★

The most constant twosome in town is Brynie Foy and Italian actress Lia de Leo.

John Campbell, Harry Brand's good man Friday, has gone to Kyoto, Japan, to work with John Huston on "The Townsend Harris Story."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Tom Haggerty Battles Hoffa

Placed in Union Spotlight

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS

When Thomas J. Haggerty was 14, he began working in a dairy in Chicago's tough "back of the yards" neighborhood.

Today, the balding 52-year-old Haggerty is a prominent labor and civic leader in Chicago and has stepped into the national picture as one of three men fighting James R. Hoffa for the presidency of the Giant Teamsters Union.

★ ★ ★

The gruelling, coast-to-coast election campaign was taken in stride by the secretary-treasurer of a Chicago milk wagon drivers local who claimed at the pre-convention meetings in Miami Beach:

"I have 900 of the 1,929 delegates to the convention. I feel confident that I am going to beat Hoffa."

The dawn-to-late-night campaign schedule, say Haggerty's aides, was nothing unusual for a man who got up at 3 a.m. to deliver milk while studying for a law degree at Loyola University.

The pressures of the meetings in Miami Beach also were met calmly by the husky Chicagoan who did not escape experiencing his share of intrigue and violence as he moved up in the Teamsters organization.

★ ★ ★

In 1951, during an organizational drive by his local, Haggerty was accused by a milk store owner of being in a car with five other men which drove by and fired shots at him.

However, the judge hearing the case said the accusation against Haggerty was "preposterous" and dismissed the charge.

In 1951, a bomb blast shattered Haggerty's six-room home in what Teamsters said was an attempt by gangsters to "muscle in."

Luckily, Haggerty, his wife, Stacie, and their two sons, Tom Jr., now 20, and James, now 16, escaped injury.

★ ★ ★

Along with his labor movement work, Haggerty has taken on civic responsibilities and is now a member of the Chicago Board of Education.

Haggerty was 24 in 1930 when he was elected secretary-treasurer of Local 743, beating out a man who had been a union official for 37 years.

He has campaigned on a platform of restoring honesty and democracy in the Teamsters Union, and Haggerty knows he is fighting the toughest battle of his career in bucking Hoffa.

Mantle, Skowron May Be Key to Yanks' Hopes

NEW YORK (AP)—The uncertain condition of Mickey Mantle's tender left leg and Bill Skowron's aching back belied the 8-5 odds on the New York Yankees today as the Milwaukee Braves clashed with the American League champions in the opener of what promises to be the richest of all 54 World Series.

★ ★ ★

The crowd of some 70,000 which came out to Yankee Stadium to view the southpaw duel between New York's Whitey Ford and Milwaukee's Warren Spahn, was not expected to see either Mantle or Skowron at their best, although both were listed late last night as almost certain starters.

Unless the two sluggers, who between them hammered 51 home runs and drove in 181 runs during the regular season, get healthy quickly—and this would be a real upset—the pick here is a seven-game series triumph for the fit and ready Braves. The picture of a hobbling Mantle on a painful leg in the 1955 series against Brooklyn, the only series lost by the Yankees in nine since 1942, is still clear in the writer's mind.

Mantle cannot run without pain. He even winces whe he misses one of his powerhouse swings, from either side of the plate. Skowron says it doesn't hurt him to swing but it does hurt when he runs. It would come as no surprise if either or both were unable to do full time duty in the series.

There is still even some doubt about Ford. Although the ace lefthander appears to be back in true stride following a sore shoulder siege, there is some doubt whether he can undergo th strain of pitching twice or three times in one week, as the opning day pitcher usually is called upon to do in a long series. And because the teams appear so evenly matched, the outlook is for a long series.

★ ★ ★

The Braves, on the other hand, are in excellent physical shape, with the possible exception of Joe Adcock. The big first baseman's left leg, broken last July, still isn't 100 per cent.

Adcock, a long-ball hitting right-handed batter, was slated to start against Ford today. However, manager Fred Haney indicated he may shift to the left-handed hitting Frank Torre, who filled in so capably for Big Joe during the summer, when the Yankees use a righthander.

Stengel, who had expected to come back with another lefthander, Bobby Shantz, in the second game, appeared uncertain after yesterday's workout at Yankee Stadium.

"I'm not so sure lefthanders are a better bet than righthanders against Milwaukee," Casey said. "My Thursday pitcher depends upon what happens to my Wednesday pitcher. If the Braves should treat Ford a little too roughly, I'll probably give them Bob Turley (a righthander). If Whitey does a commendable job, it will be Shantz."

Haney has no doubt regarding his starters, although he insisted after the Braves' workout yesterday he was prepared to use everybody in every game.

It will be Lew Burdette tomorrow and Bob Buhl Saturday in Milwaukee.

Then the merry-go-round starts again with Spahn, Burdette and Buhl in that order. If the series goes into the seventh and final game, you can look for Spahn to make his third starting appearance next Thursday, in Yankee Stadium, unless he has to be used in relief before that.

Haney said he would continue the Andy Pafko-Bob Hazle platoon in right field, with Pafko playing against lefthanders and Hazle righthanders. There was no question about Mathews playing against all types of pitching.

Spahn, only Brave pitcher with World Series experience, had a 1-1 record against Cleveland in 1948. Ford, who hurled two previous openers, opened with a 4-2 series record. He won the opener at Yankee Stadium in 1955 and lost the opener at Ebbets Field in 1956.

New York City Can Bring Back NL Team If—

Comiskey Says AL Will Okay Return for Right to Invade Coast

NEW YORK (AP) —Vice-president Chuck Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox today said the American League would grant the National League's return to New York in a swap for the right to enter Los Angeles and San Francisco when and if it chooses to do so.

★ ★ ★

"We're not going to let the National League take over in the two most lucrative West Coast cities and then return to New York, too," said Comiskey, also an alternate on Major League baseball's Executive Council.

★ ★ ★

"Let's face it," he added. "In 15 years there will be only three two-team towns — New York, Chicago and Los Angeles."

Comiskey said he had proposed the swap plan to the American League and that it had been supported.

★ ★ ★

Going into yesterday's separate league meetings, the AL already had proposed an amendment to the major league's constitution which would divide New York into two baseball territories following the transfer of the National League's New York and Brooklyn franchises to San Francisco and Los Angeles.

St. Fred Ace Has 42 Points

Lyon Retains County Scoring Lead

By CHUCK ABAIR

A two-touchdown performance in a losing cause Sunday enabled St. Frederick fullback Jack Lyon to retain his individual lead in Oakland County scoring as St. Benedict ace Larry Gacki took over as the area and overall point leader.

Lyon added 12 points to his opening game total of 30 at Ferndale St. James to offset a 31-point game by Ortonville's Chuck Graves. Lyon now has 7 TD's for 42 points and Graves six plus two extra points for 38.

Another fellow who made a big jump in the county race was Oak Park star Ray Kovachevich. He hung up 25 digits Friday night to move into a 3rd place tie with Jim Drake of Lake Orion and John Volk of Clawson at 31.

Bill Tunnicliff ranks 4th with 24 and Don Stokes of Troy has 22 to top the list. Stokes is one of seven Troy gridders who have scored points in two games as the Bulldogs have piled up 79. Lake Orion has had six different scorers.

Lyon leads the county in touchdowns as well as points. Some 29 players have scored at least two six-pointers already.

The county area individual race was juggled around over the weekend as Gacki and East Detroit great Gary Ballman turned in stellar showings.

Gacki accounted for 37 of his team's 38 points in a surprising rout of favored Orchard Lake St. Mary. This gives him 49 in two starts. He has eight TD's.

Ballman, who led the area by a wide margin last fall with 144 points, missed the Shamrock opener with an injury but got into action Friday and made up for lost time with three touchdowns and a pair of extra points. His total of 20 places him 3rd on the area list behind Armada's Ed Thompson, w ho has 31.

Thompson's teammate, Jesse Placencia, is 4th with 19, seven on points after touchdowns. Fourteen others have scored at least two six-pointers.

The scoring:

Pistons in Night Drills

DETROIT (AP) — Daily three-hour drills begin tonight for the Detroit Pistons, who are starting their pre-season drills a week behind the other clubs in the National Basketball Assn.

"I'm not worried about starting late," said coach Charley Eckman. "Some of these other clubs better do the worrying."

The Pistons will work out three hours each night at the University of Detroit Memorial Building on the Titan campus. Eckman says his club is in good shape and great spirit and "will be plenty ready" when the NBA season opens Oct. 23. Pistons meet the world champion Boston Celtics Oct. 23 in the second half of a doubleheader that has St. Louis' Hawks and the New York Knicks battling it out in the opener.

★ ★ ★

Eckman still does not know whether guard Bill Kenville, a four-year NBA regular, will report to the camp. Kenville is at his Syracuse, N.Y. home. The Pistons may trade Kenville if he does not retire from the game.

Basilio 'Boxer of Month'

NBA Vacates Welter Crown

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. today vacated the welterweight title of Carmen Basilio, the new middleweight ruler, and then pronounced him "Boxer of the Month."

★ ★ ★

Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the NBA's ratings committee, said it was customary for a champion moving up to a higher division, as Basilio has done, to surrender his old title.

But, in Basilio's case, "out of consideration for his past reputation as a boxer of integrity and courage," Saddy said the NBA gave him 10 days to make up his mind. The 10-day period expired today with no word from Basilio, Saddy said.

★ ★ ★

Basilio, 30-year-old former onion farmer from Onondaga, N. Y., won "Boxer of the Month" designation in the NBA's October ratings for his split decision victory over Sugar Ray Robinson in their middleweight title bout at New at New York Sept. 23. The defeat dropped the 37-year-old Robinson to the No. 1 contender's slot.

★ ★ ★

In order to stir up interest in the welterweight division, Saddy said, the NBA would like Tony DeMarco, Isaac Logart, Vince Martinez and Gil Turner, the four leading contenders, to compete in a tournament leading to a new champion. If Virgil Akins, recently defeated by Turner, can prove his claim that his hand was broken during the fight, he also would qualify for the round robin.

The ratings:

HEAVYWEIGHT — Champion, Floyd Patterson, New York; 1, Eddie Machen, California; 2, Zora Folley, Arizona; 3, Roy Harris, Texas; 4, Willie Pastrano, Louisiana; 5, Tommy Jackson, New York; 6, Nino Valdez, Cuba; 7, Alex Miteff, Argentina; 8, Pat McMurty, Washington; 9, Ingemar Johansson, Sweden; 10, Bob Satterfield, Illinois.

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT—Champion, Archie Moore, California; 1, Harold Johnson, Pennsylvania; 2, Yvon Durelle, Canada; 3, Tony Anthony, New York; 4, Chuck Spieser, Michigan; 5, Willie Hoepner, Germany; 6, Yolande Pompey, British West Indies; 7, Artemio Calzavara, Italy; 8, Gerhard Hechi, Germany; 9, Clarence Hinnant, Washington, D. C.; 10, Wim Snoek, Holland.

MIDDLEWEIGHT—Champion, Carmen Basilio, New York; 1, Ray Robinson, New York; 2, Gene Fullmer, Utah; 3, Joey Giardello, Pennsylvania; 4, Charles Humez, France; 5, Rory Calhoun, New York; 6, Spider Webb, Illinois; 7, Joey Giambra, New York; 8, Gus Scholz, Germany; 9, Bobby Boyd, Illinois; 10, Del Flanagan, Minnesota.

WELTERWEIGHT—Champion, vacant. 1, Tony De Marco, Massachusetts; 2, Isaac Logart, Cuba; 3, Vince Martinez, New Jersey; 4, Gil Turner, Pennsylvania; 5, Virgil Akins, Missouri; 6, Kid Gavilan, Cuba; 7, Gaspar Ortega, Mexico; 8, Larry Baker, New York; 9, Walt Byars, Massachusetts; 10, Sugar Hart, Pennsylvania.

LIGHTWEIGHT — Champion, Joe Brown, Louisiana, 1, Kenny Lane, Michigan; 2, Duille Loi, Italy; 3, Ralph Dupas, Louisiana; 4, Cisco Andrade, California; 5, Paolo Rosi, Italy; 6, Willie Toweel, South Africa; 7, Joe Lopes, California; 8, Orlando Zulueta, Cuba; 9, Johnny Busso, New York; 10, Al Neveres, Mexico.

FEATHERWEIGHT — Champion, Hogan Kid Bassey, Nigeria, 1, Cherif Hamia, France; 2, Ike Chestnut, New York; 3, Miguel Berrios, Puerto Rico; 4, Davey Moore, Ohio; 5, Jean Sneyers, France; 6, Isidro Martinez, Panama; 7, Jose Cotero, California; 8, Richardo Moreno, Mexico; 9, Ricardo Gonzales, Argentina; 10, Shigeji Kaneko, Japan.

BANTAMWEIGHT — Champion, Raul Macias, Mexico, 1, Alphonse Halimi, France; 2, Mario D'Agata, Italy; 3, Leo Espinosa, Philippines; 4, Al Asuncion, Philippines; 5, Dommy Ursua, Philippines 6, Jose Lopez, Mexico; 7, Jose Beccera, Mexico; 8, Peter Keenan, England; 9, Billy Peacock, California; 10, Koji Ishibash, Japan.

Flanagan Meets Bahama Tonight

Middleweights to Scrap in Nationally Televised 10-Rounder

CHICAGO (AP) — Del Flanagan of St. Paul, who says he has added a new punch to his ring tactics, is a 6-5 favorite to defeat sturdy Yama Bahama of the West Indies tonight.

★ ★ ★

The 10 round middleweight scrap will be televised and broadcast nationally (ABC, 9 p.m. EST) from Chicago Stadium.

Flanagan, who has beaten some of the best in the welterweight and middleweight divisions in his 101 fights, outpunched Tiger Jones in a TV thriller at St. Paul in August and has won five of his last six outings. Kid Gavilan and Ramon Fuentes have been among his victims. He dropped a split decision to Gil Turner.

Grambling 11 NAIA Leader

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A smashing ground attack in its opener gave Grambling, La., College the offensive leadership among football teams in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, NAIA statistics showed today.

★ ★ ★

Grambling rolled up 465 yards on the ground and 128 in the air for a total of 593.

Hanover, Ind., College dropped to second in total offense with an average of 446.2 in three games.

Southwestern Oklahoma boasts the best defensive mark, holding three foes to 253 yards, an average of 84.3 per game. Grambling is runner-up with 91 yards.

Grambling also is the NAIA's top rushing team, followed by Hanover with 1,119 net yards for an average of 373.

Conley Could Be Star of Series, Claims Hubbell

NEW YORK (AP) — Carl Hubbell, the old New York Giants' southpaw, picks Gene Conley as the potential star of the World Series which opened in the Yankee Stadium today between the New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Braves.

Said Hubbell of the stringbean Braves' hurler: "He is particularly effective against a club the first time they see him. With those long arms and legs you don't know where the pitch is coming from."

Sugar Ray Gets Mildly Rebuked

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson's testimony that he never had received a direct offer of a bribe to throw a fight got him off with a mild rebuke by the New York State Athletic Commission.

The hearing was called yesterday to inquire into published reports quoting Robinson that he had been approached. He said that his remarks probably were misunderstood, that many "cracks" were made to him during his career.

Also testifying before the commission, headed by Chairman Julius Helfand, were two sports writers—Murray Rose of the Associated Press and Harold Weissman of the New York Daily Mirror. Both testified that they were at a press conference on Sept. 20 in which Robinson said he had received bribe offers but did not report them.

Win 16th Straight Meet

Kermit Ambrose's Birmingham High School harriers are racking up an impressive record. Yesterday, the hill - and - dale runners swamped Ferndale 15-47. Victory was the 16th straight for the Maples, and their 5th of the 1957 season. Three of the wins were Eastern Michigan League tests. Birmingham having previously defeated Port Huron 15-47 and Hazel Park 18-37. They are currently leading the circuit.

Maple reserves also turned in a win over Ferndale reserves with a perfect 15-50 count. Victory was the reserves' 3rd in a row.

First runner home, over the Maples' course, was Birmingham's Jim Reilly with a good time of 11:11 for the two miles.

Maples took the first five places. Following Reilly were Dave Pew (11:12), Fraser Cocks (11:22), Fred Hibberlin (11:24) and Dan Reid (11:43).

Ferndale's Lenny Howarth was 6th with 11:51. Next four runners were from Birmingham, Tom Brown (11:54), Paul Byrd (12:02), Bill Stark (12:09). Tenth place went to Ferndale's Eugene Quinn (12:12).

Dave Hunter of the Maples' reserves led that field with 11:55. Birmingham took nine of the first 10 places.

Varsity harriers tangle with Mt. Clemens on Friday over the Bathers' course, and a close race is expected, as the host club has lost only one meet this fall.

Georgia Better Than Record

By MERCER BAILEY

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—For whatever it's worth to unhappy Georgia fans and the Michigan coaches and players, coach Wally Butts' Bulldogs are a better team than their record of two losses, no victories indicates.

"We're improving," Butts said today after reviewing Saturday's loss to Vanderbilt, a team Georgia beat in everything but scoring. "If we can can get rid of our mistakes we'll be all right."

Butts can't get optimistic about Saturday's date with Michigan in Ann Arbor, though. Michigan is one of the Big Ten's powers and Butts says he's afraid "they've got just too much for us."

Penalties for holding and illegal blocking—usually charged to inexperienced sophomore linemen—along with fumbles and pass interceptions have handicapped the Bulldogs severely in their first two games, which they lost 25-7 to Texas and 9-6 to Vandy.

Butts said a sophomore lineman who failed to carry out his blocking assignment let Vandy and Bob Taylor through to block Jimmy Orr's punt. That one play gave Vandy a safety and indirectly set up Vandy's touchdown. A short kickoff after the safety gave the ball to Vandy on Georgia 43 and the Commodores, helped along by a 15-yard personal foul penalty, soon had a TD.

Orr, a senior halfback, and Theron Sapp, junior fullback, are Georgia's two top backs off performances to date. Orr, a 6-footer, is a sure-fingered receiver and in two games has pulled in seven passes for 99 yards.

Sapp, 6-2 and 200, has good speed and plenty of power, in addition to being a fine linebacker on defense. His two-game totals are 24 runs for 140 yards—almost six yards a crack.

Butts rates soph Charley Britt a fine offensive quarterback and he is ably supported by another soph, Tommy Lewis—but both are subject to soph - like lapses at times. Other Bulldog backs Michigan will have to stop include halfbacks Carl Manning and Gene Littleton and fullback Wilbur Lofton.

Milford Seeks to Hold W-O Lead Against Hills

By CHUCK ABAIR

Fresh from a narrow escape at Clarkston, the Milford Redskins take to the road again Friday putting their 1st place standing on the line against Bloomfield Hills in one of the two feature games on this week's Wayne - Oakland League calendar.

The other important game on the docket will have a twice-beaten but improved West Bloomfield contingent playing at Holly.

Meanwhile, Clarkston is heavily favored to get back on the winning side as host to Clarenceville and defending champion Northville is expected to get by Brighton in its 1st loop start of the season after dividing two warmups.

Milford came through the Clarkston debacle in good shape physically and has been drilling hard on blocking this week in preparation for the big Bloomfield Hills' line.

The Redskins can become the first school anywhere in the area to post three victories by taking the afternoon contest. But Baron skipper Don Hoff saw them in action Friday and hopes to have some surprises ready.

Hoff, who has been ailing with a touch of the flu this week, has been making some defensive changes but plans to use the same offensive unit led by Jim Kearney.

Holly gained a lot of praise in whipping Bloomfield Hills last Friday and will be favored to make its W-O mark 2-0 at the expense of West Bloomfield. However, coach Al Gratsch is expecting a very busy evening since the Keego gang has impressed in both losses

His Bronco aggregation was hit hard by the flu bug this week and will get in very little practice before game time. West Bloomfield had similar troubles last week and some of its boys are still on the doubtful list for Friday.

Johnny Lucadam, who does everything well, returned to the quarterback post against Walled Lake and will be playing there again Friday. Holly will go with its talented quartet of Phil Taylor, Ames Bradsher, George Coggins and bruising Bob Letson.

Clarkston just missed upsetting the Milford applecart and will be gunning for winless Clarenceville. The return of Kent See to the starting backfield is one change being contemplated by coach Ed Hintz.

Northville lost to Pymouth and blanked Thurston in non - league tilts led by speedy Dick Biery. Brighton has a hard runner in Ron Visel. The Bulldogs tripped Clarenceville last time out.

Knox Takes Verbal Shots at Bears' George Halas

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Harvey Knox, stepfather of football's wandering minstrel, Ronnie Knox, had many a verbal scrimmage with UCLA Coach Red Sanders while Ronnie was wearing a Bruin uniform.

★ ★ ★

Well, Knox the Elder now has crossed swords with the Papa Bear himself—George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears.

In a telephone call to the Associated Press, Harvey accused Halas of "unjust dealings" with Ronnie, who joined the Bears five weeks ago.

Harvey, who handles publicity for his stepson, said Ronnie was paid a mere $75 by the Bears for suiting up for four exhibition games.

As a result, Harvey said, Ronnie is joining the Professional Football Players Assn., which is seeking to have players paid $50 for each exhibition game.

In Chicago, Halas shot back: "Harvey has simply jumped the gun. The $75 Ronnie received was meal money. Our players will each receive $500 for participating in exhibition games at the end of the season."

★ ★ ★

Halas added—perhaps pointedly — that players released or cut by the team are paid immediately for being with the team during exhibition games.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

The second step in the four-step approach is shown in today's illustration. As you can see, it is taken with the left foot; and, like the first step, it is somewhat shorter than a normal stride. It should be a bit longer than the first step, however, since your body is gaining momentum at this point.

On this second step, the ball has reached the half-way point in the backswing, alongside the right leg on its way back. Note how the bowler is taking it easy and not rushing this step. Rushing is a common mistake which only results in poor timing at the foul line. If either the feet or the arm swing get ahead of each other, your timing is ruined.

Our bowler is also keeping his right arm in, fairly close to his body at this point to help him take the ball back in a straight line. If he allowed his elbow to swing out from his body, the ball would go back in a side-arm swing.

Note, too, how the feet, hips, shoulders and eyes are facing squarely toward his target.

Oakland B Forecast Looks OK - So Far

By BILL CORNWELL

Football forecasters have their ups and downs every season when it comes to picking winners and top challengers, but so far the Oakland B League is making the area high school prognosticators look mighty good.

The crystal ball gazers scanned the misty glass before the start of the 1957 campaign and arrived at the conclusion that Clawson was a good bet to repeat as Oakland B king with Lake Orion and Troy providing the most strenuous opposition.

The battle for the Oakland B crown has barely begun, but nevertheless the picture is shaping up exactly as anticipated.

Clawson, with a veteran backfield running behind a solid line, is definitely the team to beat again and it appears that only Lake Orion and Troy are capable of turning the trick.

The Trojans opened defense of their title last week with a convincing 38-6 thumping of Fitzgerald after blanking Center Line, 28-0, in the season opener. They are currently ranked 8th in the state Class B poll.

Orion has been very impressive while defeating Roseville, 41-13, and Madison, 27-6, the latter a league game.

The Dragons have shown a well-balanced attack. Quarterback Nick Niera is the aerial gunner with ends Jim Drake and Jack Schaeffer his favorite targets. John Schoff and Doug Storey are the ground threats.

Troy has not yet played a conference game, but the Colts have indicated that they must be reckoned with by mopping up Detroit Lutheran and L'Anse Creuse. Ricky McKinnon, an unheralded sophomore quarterback, and halfback Wayne Figley have been making the Colts run hard.

The first big showdown arrives Oct. 18 when Clawson invades Lake Orion. The Dragons will encounter Troy at home on Nov. 1 and the Colts must visit the Clawson premises on Oct. 25. Those three games should settle the argument once and for all.

Orion resumes its title drive Friday at Fitzgerald and Avondale plays host to Madison in the only league games scheduled. Troy meets Roseville Friday at home while Oak Park comes to Clawson for a Thursday night tussle.

Boston Bruins Pick All-Stars

NHL Players to Meet Montreal Saturday in 11th Annual Game

BOSTON (AP) — Boston coach Milt Schmidt has named two high scoring forwards and a pair of veteran defensemen to represent the Bruins in the 11th National Hockey League All Star game Saturday at Montreal.

Schmidt, who will coach the All Stars against the Montreal Canadiens, yesterday selected winger Real Chevrefils and center Don McKenney and defensemen Allan Stanley and Fernie Flaman.

Chevrefils scored 31 goals last season, while linemate McKenney tallied 21 times and collected 39 assists. Flaman is the Boston team captain, while Stanley is a veteran of NHL play who starred with the Bruins last year after being obtained from Chicago.

MSU Has Grid Army, Only 38 to Travel

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football boss Duffy Daugherty is in the position of a general who has an army ready to take the field of battle, but can only send a small expeditionary force.

Western conference rules limit Daugherty to a 38-man traveling squad for the game with California Saturday.

Picking the players to make the trip is a tougher than usual decision this time after the wealth of manpower coaches had at their disposal in the home opener against Indiana.

A total of 67 Spartans tropped in to help out in the 54-0 rout. Even the youngsters down on the fifth and sixth teams were looking good.

The first two elevens—the number one squad quarterbacked by Jim Ninowski and the second outfit headed by Mike Panitch—will go automatically.

Picking the players to run third at each position is a lot harder.

"But the real rough thing is naming the last five," said one of the coaches. "You've got to take a few all-around men who can play at several positions and figure just where the extra strength is needed.

"A lot of times, a boy who has been putting out and really deserves the trip has to be left behind for the sake of a balance squad."

The traveling squad and coaches will board a chartered plane at the Lansing airport at 9 a.m. Thursday. After a stop for refueling and to take aboard a hearty noon dinner, the flight will continue non-stop to Berkeley.

The time difference will allow the team a late afternoon workout in California's Memorial Stadium.

The squad came through the Indiana opener intact except for minor bumps and bruises. A decision will be made today on whether Bob Jewett, senior end from Mason, will be able to play with a hand cast for a broken bone.

One thing the team doesn't have to worry about is Asian flu, which now has hospitalized about 100 students at MSU. The entire football squad was given shots to guard against the ailment early in the season.

Yesterday's workout was a long dummy drill against the new California attack installed by coach Pete Elliott, the former University of Michigan quarterback.

Elliott has patterned his system on the Oklahoma split T and also uses some Michigan single wing and short punt plays.

Although the practice was a lengthy one, Daugherty kept to his no hitting rule.

"I think the players are in better shape if we save it for the actual game," he observed. "It worked fine against Indiana."

East Lansing No. 1

By DAVE DILES
AP Sports Editor

Vince Carillot's East Lansing Trojans have won 10 straight football games and until someone stops the steamroller those Trojans probably will go right on being the No. 1 Class B high school team in the state.

They made it to the top again this week in the second weekly state high school ratings, getting the nod from 10 of the 11-member sports writers' panel that selects the top 10 teams for the Associated Press.

Trojans, who face a rugged test this Friday against undefeated Marshall, polled nearly twice as many votes as runnerup Albion, another undefeated eleven.

All 10 teams who made the select list a week ago stayed in the "top 10," including St. Joseph High. St. Joe suffered a 9-7 setback at the hands of an inspired Dowagiac team last Friday night and dropped from second place to a 10th place tie with Lansing Resurrection.

Inkster Roosevelt shut out Grosse Ile 25-0 and moved up from fourth to third place. Manistee, edging Mt. Pleasant 20-18 for its second straight triumph, took over fourth place all alone.

Alma, picking up support after convincing wins over St. Johns and St. Louis, climbed to fifth place just a shade ahead of Charlotte. The Charlotte team has a 10-game winning streak going, beating Lansing Everett and Hastings after running over eight foes a year ago.

Cadillac stayed in the seventh spot by routing Traverse City St. Francis 24-6 and Clawson stepped up a notch to eighth place after dumping Fitzgerald 38-6.

Allegan's eleven became the only new team in the ratings, barging into ninth place with a 20-12 victory over Portage. It was the opening game for Allegan which expects its finest team in years.

Here's the way the AP sports editors rated the top Class B teams:

1. East Lansing
2. Albion
3. Inkster Roosevelt
4. Manistee
5. Alma
6. Charlotte
7. Cadillac
8. Clawson
9. Allegan
10. Lansing Resurrection
10. St. Joseph

Others given considerable support: Marshall, Dowagiac, Fremont, Flint Tech, Romeo and Monroe Catholic.

Howe Leads Red Wings to Exhibition Victory

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP) — Gordie Howe contributed a goal and an assist as the Detroit Red Wings defeated the Hershey Bears 4-2 last night in an exhibition hockey game.

The American Hockey League Bears, showing vastly-improved form over their two previous games with Chicago Black Hawks, battled the National Hockey League Wings almost even through the first 40 minutes of play, in which a total of 50 shots were blasted at goalies Terry Sawchuk of Detroit and Gil Mayer of Hershey.

Norm Ullman scored for Wings before the midway mark of the 1st period with a 20-foot screen shot on a pass from Bill Dineen. Mayer was called upon to handle 16 shots in the opening period, including one off the stick of Howe who was in all alone.

Hershey had an edge in the 2nd period but managed only a tying single goal. Arnie Killman scored unassisted from close in. Alex Delvecchio put Detroit back in the lead on a three-way passing play with Al Arbour and Lorne Ferguson.

Howe was the big gun in the final period as he engineered a goal by linemate Johnny Wilson and then scored on a sizzling 50-footer.

U. S. Pros Arrive

Ryder Cup Team Ready

LINDRICK, England (AP) — The top players of American professional golf arrived here for the Ryder Cup — and that means as much excitement in this North of England village as the World Series does in Milwaukee.

★ ★ ★

It is the first time the match has gone on at this little known course bordering Yorkshire, Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire. So golfers around here and the thousands from neighboring towns and villages mean to see the Yanks in action.

★ ★ ★

Officials forecast that crowds will average 10,000 a day for the two-day match starting Friday. Hotel keepers in a 100-square mile area of Lindrick forecast the crowds may be even bigger.

"There is not a room to be had for miles — all because of the Ryder Cup," one hotelier said.

American captain Jack Burke of Bellaire, Texas, praised the texture of the grass on the Lindrick fairways of the par 34-36—70 Lindrick course.

Ed Furgol of Miami Shores, champion said: "Some say its short — but it is a very exacting test of golf that calls for a lot of tinesse. It compares very much with the Open in 1950."

"Its short, but it does not play that way," reigning American Open champion Dick Mayer said. "The greens are very tricky to read, and every hole is an interesting one."

The rival captains — Burke and Britain's Dai Rees — planned final tryouts in Scotch foursomes today before announcing their pairings for Friday's four matches.

GOOD HUNTING — Five Pontiac hunters, taking to the fields and marshes of the Holly game area on opening day of the waterfowl season, found the sport very satisfactory, as the above picture proves. The party, a group that hunts together regularly, bagged nine big Canadas, averaging 12-15 pounds. It also downed a few mallard and teal ducks, but duck hunting was forgotten when the big honkers were discovered. From left the hunters are Mike Strong, Ed Strine, Ed Kirchner (with gun), Ron Strine and Erwin Kirchner.

Writer Confirms Reports That Sharptails Are 'Up'

By JACK PATTERSON

BLANEY PARK — Like we always say, getting there is half the fun, and this time was no exception. Thanks to Bob Swanson we stopped over at Black River Ranch and unofficially opened the hunting season by talking at some length about birds and dogs long dead.

PATTERSON

Other guests were Ed Laird, Birmingham, and Adrian "Gus" Langieus, Michigan's building department director, who had a good many useful suggestions to offer albeit a little difficulty getting the floor with the writer as moderator.

Before breakfast Monday Bob wanted to show us around the property a bit and we ran smack into one of the rare sights in Upper Michigan.

It isn't any particular novelty for western big game enthusiasts to see a pair of bull elk locked in combat, perhaps. But right around home it's the type of thing one can spend a good many years not seeing. Although we were only an easy 270 shot away the animals paid an unflattering lack of attention to us.

After several minutes the smaller of the bulls, though he carried a rack that would do credit to any hunter, tossed in the sponge and trotted off. It was the kind of thing that makes getting up for breakfast worthwhile.

Bob, Ed and Gus had a deal cooking in Watersmeet and we wanted to check some of our private test areas in the middle of the Upper so we temporarily parted company at Blaney. Haven't been able to raise them on the phone yet so can't report their opening day efforts. Expect to join them today though, so we should be able to either scoff or doff, depending.

We spent the opening day with George Hodges, Bloomfield Hills, on a combined goose and sharptail safari, for some reason known only to good gray honkers the geese failed to appear in the usual numbers and we got down to the serious business of bird shooting a bit earlier than normal.

We'd like to say right here that early predictions from the game division to the effect that sharptails are up a bit this year seem well founded. Only trouble we found was that the birds didn't want to behave like sharptails at all, but preferred to perch in trees and gobble like turkeys and generally make life difficult for serious grouse predators.

We did manage to grass a few just to prove that the old eye has still some measure of accuracy and generally we put in a splendid day. Beneath the sky that just doesn't get bluer anywhere than in Michigan in October and in too warm to walk fast, but too cool to lie down long temperatures and batting away occasional swarms of black flies that haven't got the word, we walked some 19 million miles and enjoyed every foot of it.

If we can find some hydraulic knee lifters we'll do it again today.

Maybe George had a point when he claimed after very long hours afield that one of the nicest things about hunting is that you don't have to do it every day.

Commission Studies Methods

Stresses Water Safety

The newly formed state water safety study commission heard Gov. G. Mennen Williams urge them, "To find the best methods for improving safety in boating operations and water activities."

During their recent second meeting at the Kellogg Center, East Lansing, two Waterford township residents represented Oakland County on the governor's commission. They were Marshall L. Johnson, editor of the Sportsmen's (OCSC) magazine, and Donald Adams, Waterford attorney.

Johnson is recording secretary of the legislative sub-committee. In the governor's message to commission members, he also asked them to recommend ways of improving death and accident reports so that water accidents and drowning could be combated in the future.

★ ★ ★

The commission will also review water safety statutes and recommend any necessary changes. The water safety study commission urges the public to contact the commission or any of its members on any problems dealing with water safety.

Next meeting of the commission will be Oct. 24 in the Kellogg Center.

Beam Is Victor in Trojan Shoot

Wins Three Events in OCSC Rifle Test for Top Honors

Bert Beam's three victories, including the aggregate, won for him the recent Trojan Trophy Match at the Waterford club grounds of Oakland County Sportsmen's club. Beam captured the 50-yard with a score of 200-14x, took the 100-yard event with 195-7x and the aggregate with 792-41x.

The match called for 20 shots slow fire, prone, at 50 yards, 50 meters, 100 yards and 200 yards. Rim-fire .22 caliber was used with any sights.

Runnerup was John Treeful with a possible 11x on the 50-yard stage. He tied for first at 50 meters with Cash Bond and Howard Collins with 199-13x. His 193-7x on the 200-yard course gave him 2nd place in aggregate with 789-41x.

★ ★ ★

George Forstrom was 3rd in aggregate with 788-41x. He won the 100-yard with 198-11x. Bob Waggoner was 4th in aggregate with 785-40x.

Eddie Arcaro, first active rider to be elected to the Jockeys' Hall of Fame at Pimlico, is the only jockey ever to pilot two Triple Crown winners.

Solunar Tables

Schedule of solunar periods, below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's solunar tables. Sportsmen should plan their days so that they will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, for the best sport that each day has to offer. Major periods begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours. Minor periods are of somewhat shorter duration.

Good Hunting in Michigan Draws Record Gun 'Army'

ALL OUTDOORS (INS)—One of the best duck hunting openers in recent history attracted a record number of gunners to Michigan's favorite shooting spots.

★ ★ ★

As a result, five hunters were wounded slightly in accidents yesterday.

Latest casualty reported was Forest Sly, 27, of Traverse City who suffered pellet wounds in the back. Also shot was Wallace Eckler of Buckley, hunting in Wexford County Injured an hour and a half after the season began were Detroit-area brothers, John, 18, and Charles Sheppard, 26, of Center Line.

They were slightly wounded by pellets while hunting on Harsen's Island.

★ ★ ★

A fresh swarm of duck and upland bird hunters is expected this weekend—first of the season which opened yesterday a half hour before sunrise.

To the north, grouse or pat hunters were finding conditions — and birds—to their liking. Bags are being filled quicker than in recent years.

★ ★ ★

Bow and arrow deer hunters in the statewide open season are troubled a little by heavy foliage. Otherwise, brisk cool winds and early September frosts have the woods in much better condition than at this time last season.

Ducks Fitted With 'Specs' in Homing Test

Colored Discs Put on Birds' Beaks as Markers

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Minnesota Game and Fish Department biologists attempting to learn the homing instinct of wild ducks have fitted out 600 birds with what appears to be spectacles.

Colored discs about the size of a dime were attached to the ducks' beaks as markers. The discs, one on each side of the beak at the nostrils, are held together by a small silver shaft which is forced through the beak.

Game men say there is no pain to the birds and that the discs apparently do not interfere with feeding.

The varied color markers will permit quick observation from the field when the ducks return in the spring.

Hunters who bag the birds are asked to weigh them and mail the head—and leg band to the Minnesota Game & Fish Division.

City Athletes Feted at Banquet Tonight

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's annual summer sports banquet will be held tonight at 6:30 at St. Benedict's church hall, W. Huron and Lynn St.

"Most Valuable Player" awards in Class A baseball, men's softball and women's softball will be presented by The Pontiac Press.

Players and managers of all teams taking part in the 1957 city baseball and softball programs will be represented at the banquet, along with other sports officials, the Parks and Recreation Department and the Press.

Last year's recipients of MVP awards were Jack Ganzel and Claudia Wasik in softball and Judge Booker in baseball.

What's a Little Shot in Face to Duck Hunter?

BAY CITY (INS)—Duck hunting was very good in Michigan's Thumb area yesterday.

In fact, 30-year-old Richard Hadd of Alpena who was shot in the leg and face while hunting asked that doctors at Bay City hospital hurry their "repair job."

Hadd rushed back to the waterfowl area to continue hunting.

New Hunting Campaign Needed

State Hopes to Save Hearts, Hides Too

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

Every year, hundreds of Americans go hunting who haven't the heart for it. Literally.

And scores of them die. Just how many, nationwide, is one of the appalling mysteries that the statisticians have yet to figure. But although the extent of the over-all toll is unknown, there is some evidence that the mortality caused afield by overburdened hearts approaches that of negligent gunfire.

For instance, last fall three hunters died of gunshot during Wisconsin's nine-day deer season, but nine—three times as many—died of heart attacks while hunting deer during the same period. The year before, eight were shot to death, 13 were heart victims.

With heavy campaigns for gun safety education under way for some years the hunting safety rate —from firearms—has shown a marked percentage decrease. Among big game states, for instance, New Hampshire went two years without a fatality, Utah lost only one life by gunshot and Wyoming hunting was pronounced as "safe as checkers" with one casualty for 140,000 man-seasons. Nebraska racked up six straight years without a gunshot death from hunting.

Lack of statistics, and consequent lack of alarming over-all totals, may explain why no heart safety campaign anywhere near comparable to the gun safety drives have been inspired.

Michigan, which has become aware of its considerable toll, now is trying to stir up some interest in saving the hearts as well as the hides of its hunters.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, the state health commissioner, has written a hunters' guide for the Michigan Conservation Department.

Most important, Dr. Heustis notes, is the information a hunter's doctor can give him, preferably just before a trip is planned, and with the trip in mind.

Overeating, excessive smoking and drinking, emotional excitement, lack of rest and sleep and of course the unaccustomed exercise all constitute factors that should be considered by the individual in light of his own case.

The casualty rate from heart failure should, after all, be easier to whip than the problem of the stray bullet.

After all, you can't blame an unknown hunter half a mile away for your heart attack.

Two Major Changes Made in State Hunting Laws

LANSING — Two major changes in Michigan hunting laws deserve special attention by sportsmen this fall.

One regulation changes the opening date of small game seasons in the southern lower peninsula and the other provides new rules for transporting weapons in motor vehicles.

All regular small game hunting seasons in Zone 3—the lower peninsula south of highway M-20—will open October 21 this year, instead of the normal Oct. 20 opening.

This applies to all hunting seasons in the southern lower peninsula on pheasants, rabbits, snowshoe hares, ruffed grouse, squirrels, woodchucks and raccoons.

★ ★ ★

The law, passed by the 1957 legislature, provides for an Oct. 21 opening whenever Oct. 20 falls on Sunday. In all other years, the Oct. 20 opening will be in effect.

Hunters' Dress Turning Yellow

Tests Indicate That This Color Is Most Visible

As a new hunting season approaches, the controversy over safe colors for hunters' clothing rises again, and the yellows are gaining over the reds.

★ ★ ★

Tests made by the California Optometric Association and the National Rifle Association leave little doubt that yellow is most visible to both normal and color-blind hunters. Red ranked fifth among six common colors used in tests.

"Color-blindness is almost twice as common among hunters causing accidents as among a cross-section of male Americans," Dr. Wayne H. Chapman, president, Michigan Optometric Association, said in discussing the importance of vision in hunting safety. He based his figures on a Minnesota study of causes of 132 hunting accidents.

★ ★ ★

"Most color-blind hunters are unaware of their shortcomings," he said.

★ ★ ★

The advantage of yellow is that it contrasts with the surroundings, according to the vision specialists. Red blends with the colors of nature, and looks gray to both color-blind and normal hunters.

Golden Rule for Hunters

Reed, Brake Make Some Suggestions

By JERRY CHIAPPETTA

ALL OUTDOORS (INS) — "I know farmers who actually gun down hen pheasants and do other things to rid their land of game," an angry Detroit hunter bellowed.

This charge was put to the Farm Bureau and the Michigan State Grange by INS.

Dan Reed, spokesman for the Bureau, and William Brake, master of the Grange, admitted the number of farmers who do this is comparable to the number of hoodlum hunters from the city who shoot chickens, cows and other livestock, tear down fences, trample crops and shoot at farm houses and signs.

Would offering the farmer money —say $5 per hunter—open posted land and keep other property open to hunting?

"In some cases, yes," answered Reed, "in other cases it would be an insult to the farmer. I would suggest plain honesty and courtesy on the part of the city hunter as the best way to get permission to hunt."

Brake answered that paying the hard-working farmer would probably help the situation a great deal.

"Game could be a paying crop," he said, "just as corn or anything else. If the farmer can make money from it he will cultivate it by leaving more crops standing and improve his fence rows so game will stay on his property."

How will game preserves affect farmers' attitudes?

The two answered that they thought preserves would bring some relief to the harrassed farmer near cities and troubled with too many hunters. Brake said signs reading "hunting with permission only" will do a lot more good than plain "no hunting" signs.

The Horton trespass act is the farmers' greatest weapon against hoodlums.

The farm spokesmen gave these suggestions for improving relations: — Travel in parties of twos and threes. Don't walk up to a busy farmer with a gun in your hand and a dog at your side and demand permission. Leave the gun in the car. Give identification or show a patch from your sportsmen's club. Apply the Golden Rule and above all be a sportsman.

Progressive Dog Club Plans Show on Sunday

Arrangements were announced today by the Progressive Dog club of Wayne County for an all-breed dog show and obedience trails, Sunday Oct. 6. The show has an entry of 716 dogs, with a number of breeds seldom seen in dog show competition.

Show takes place in the dairy cattle building at the state fair grounds, Eight Mile and Woodward avenue. Show hours are 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. according to Ford A. Lardie, club secretary.

Among the entries, unusual for this type of show, are four coonhounds, three Siberian huskies, an Irish wolfhound. Biggest list of breeds include the cocker spaniels with 64, poodles with 44, boxers with 39, German shepherds with 35, bull dogs with 31. There are also 20 Weimaraners, 20 chows and 34 Doberman pinschers.

BIG FAMILY — Candy, year old collie owned by 12-year-old Don Stover, 2868 Grant road, Avon Township, is a proud but jealous mother of an unusually large litter of 14 pups, born during the weekend. The family, Don says, originally totaled 16, but two of the youngsters failed to survive. The 14 are enjoying their dinner (above). Don doesn't know what he's going to do with them. The litter is Candy's first.

State's Lake Fishermen Total Under '56 Figure

Michigan's army of lake fishermen this summer was smaller than last year's turnout, according to latest fishing license sales reports.

★ ★ ★

Through Aug. 31, some 677,000 resident license sales were reported — a three per cent decrease from the 697,000 sold during the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

Nonresident anglers showed an even greater decline, with sales of annual nonresident permits totaling 100,000 — down more than eight per cent from last year. The sale of 15-day nonresident angling licenses dipped four per cent to 57,000.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, trout fishing maintained its popularity with sales of some 165,000 trout stamps — just about the same number reported sold through August, 1956.

Waterford Horseshoe Title Won by Powell

Jake Powell clinched the 1957 Waterford Township horseshoe singles championship and the team of Harold and John Stenquist took doubles honors in league finals Monday night.

Powell defeated Harold Stenquist in a playoff for the singles crown, while Tom Piersall finished 3rd by whipping Pontiac champion Jim Clarkson.

Piersall and Rex Oakley wound up as the runnerup duo in the doubles standings for season play.

Meadowbrook Horse Belgian Show Honor

An Oakland county owned stallion won top honors in Monday's final judging at the Waterloo, Ia., National Belgian Horse Show, held in connection with the National Dairy Cattle Congress.

★ ★ ★

Meadow Brook Farms' Conquest, of Rochester, was honored as grand champion stallion. Victory Farceur, owned by Harkness Farms, Sandusky, Ohio, was the grand champion mare.

Ex-Michigan Baseball Player Gets Promoted

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ken Tippery, former University of Michigan baseball star, has been promoted by the Baltimore Orioles.

The Orioles announced yesterday that Tippery is to be moved up from Knoxville to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League. Tippery, an infielder, batted .290 for Knoxville last season.

Baltimore also turned over former Detroit Tiger Jim Brideweser to Vancouver. Brideweser, a shortstop, formerly also played with the New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox.

'Old Man' Fights for 'M' Job

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's "old man" is battling for his life as a starter.

The "old man" is right halfback Mike Shatusky, who at 27 has finally won a spot on the first team.

Shatusky has been around long enough to pick up a few gray hairs and plenty of logic.

Now as a starter, he has outlasted Terry Barr and Ed Shannon and was in the Wolverines' opening lineup for the first time against Southern California.

"The old man played pretty good too," said one of his teammates after Saturday's game in Los Angeles.

Lugging the ball six times, Shatusky gained 38 yards for a good average of 6.3 an effort. He caught a pass for 18 yards and returned a punt 10 yards and a kickoff 21 yards. Twice, more speed would have broken him away for touchdown runs.

But now venerable Mike's job is threatened by a couple of youngsters. Brad Myers played more against the Trojans than he did and Myers scored a touchdown in his debut. Fred Julian is considered very promising by the Wolverine coaching staff.

"That Myers, what a game he played," Shatusky beamed. "He's my protege. He's going to be a real help to this team."

If Myers keeps up his tremendous progress, it seems likely the pupil will take the job away from the teacher. The young sophomore was a forgotten man after a dismal spring practice showing. He was invited back this fall after much thought.

"This same kid didn't know what he was doing last spring," coach Bennie Oosterbaan said. "He's improved by leaps and bounds in a few months."

HOLDING COURT — This is Casey Stengel's 11th World Series, three as an outfielder and eight as a manager, so the millionaire boss of the Yankees is very casual in the dugout, discussing his club's chances against the Braves. Ol' Case answers all questions in double-talk.

Pitt Player Top Lineman

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With only 22 seconds left, end Art Gob caught a touchdown pass Saturday night at Portland, Ore. that resulted in a 6-3 victory for Pitt over Oregon.

★ ★ ★

That achievement brought the 20-year-old Pitt wingman the Lineman of the Week award today in the first Associated Press poll of the season.

★ ★ ★

The 6-4 junior, who weighs 225 pounds and lives in Baldwin Boro, a Pittsburgh suburb, had raced into the end zone before catching a 22-yard aerial from Ivan Toncic for the TD that turned apparent defeat into victory for the Panthers.

Unranked Fighter Beats Satterfield

TOLEDO (AP) — Bert Whitehurst, unranked heavyweight from Baltimore, won a unanimous 10-round decision over 10th-ranked Bob Satterfield of Chicago last night at the Sports Arena.

★ ★ ★

Whitehurst won by 49-46 on the card of judge Jack Meyers, 48-46 on judge Pep Justo's card, and 47-47 according to referee John Ousky's figures.

'OLD MAN' — University of Michigan's "old man," Mike Shatusky, who has won a first team spot, now is battling to nail down a starting job with the Wolverines. Mike is 27.

On Uram's Punt Return

Gophers 1936 Champions

By BOB HOOBING
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Minnesota's great teams of the thirties were monuments to the maxim that mastery of fundamentals plus alertness spells success in football.

The combination produced a national championship for coach Bernie Bierman's Golden Gophers in 1936 on one of the most celebrated punt returns in the history of the game.

Troublesome Nebraska had completely frustrated Gopher offensives and both clubs were locked in a scoreless standoff as time ran out in Minneapolis, Oct. 10.

With one minute and eight seconds left to play, sophomore reserve fullback Ron Douglas punted for Nebraska from the Cornhusker's 43.

Bud Wilkinson, Minnesota quarterback who now rules a new football dynasty as head coach at Oklahoma, camped under the high kick on his 28 as Nebraska tacklers bore down on him.

Wilkinson grabbed the ball near the sideline and took several steps toward the center of the field which sucked the defenders his way.

Just as he was being dropped by a leg tackle, Wilkinson flipped a lateral to halfback Andy Uram who had moved over to back him up.

Uram grabbed the ball on his 23 and set sail for the Nebraska goal.

It was an excursion which the fans who saw it never will forget.

Picking his blockers with the deft skill of shoppers moving through a bargain basement, Uram raced the distance for a touchdown which produced a 7-0 Minnesota victory.

Movies later showed that at one stage of the romp every Nebraska player was off his feet as a result of devastating Gopher blocks.

Linebacker Bob Long of the Detroit Lions plans a career in educational administration after completing his professional football career.

While most of the attention around the country centers on today's program of mid-week features and the announcing of the top-weighted favorites for Saturday's events the U. S. is vitally engaged in spreading its racing prestige abroad.

C. V. Whitney's Career Boy is shaping up as the lone U. S. entrant in the gala $155,000 Prix de L'Arc de Triomphe Handicap at fabled Longchamp Park, near Paris. The race is slated for Sunday—a day when domestic equine endeavor undergoes its weekly respite.

Dupas Has Suit in Court

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A Plaquemines Parish automobile dealer testified yesterday he knew the parents and grandparents of boxer Ralph Dupas and considered them Negroes.

★ ★ ★

John Ansardi, who operates an automobile agency at nearby Buras, testified he knew the boxer's father as Peter Duplessis and not Peter Dupas and the "Duplessis family has associated with colored people. I consider them colored."

Young Dupas, third-ranked lightweight boxer, filed suit in Civil District Court seeking to issue him a birth certificate listing him as white.

★ ★ ★

Another witness, Sidney Duplessis of Davant, identified himself as a Negro and said he knew the father of the boxer as Peter Duplessis.

★ ★ ★

The boxer's father said neither he nor his wife were related to any Duplessis family and that he was born in New Orleans, although he had no birth certificate. The city contends his wife's maiden name also was Duplessis.

Coach Is Named at Walled Lake

Ingersoll Quits Because of Health; Shadford Is Named Successor

Walled Lake has its second basketball coach within the last six months.

Bob Ingersoll, who was named to succeed Bill Ullenbruch last spring when Ullenbruch accepted a similar position at Bay City Central, resigned today without ever coaching his first Viking team.

Ingersoll said he resigned because of poor health, and was immediately replaced by John Shadford.

Shadford, a former Eastern Michigan College athlete, will assist in track along with his cage duties and teach history.

He coached basketball two years at Milan and nine more at Carleton Airport Community School near Monroe.

The new Viking coach is the son of Edwin Shadford, athletic director at Ypsilanti Central.

Senior Amateurs in Match Play of USGA Meet

PARAMUS, N. J. (AP)—The form charts get another going over today in the United States Golf Assn.'s third Senior Amateur championship at the Ridgewood Country Club.

Defending champion Fred E. Wright of Watertown, Mass., and medalist Thomas M. Green Jr. of Seattle both scored 6 and 5 victories yesterday in the first match play round.

Wright knocked off Roy L. Corey, Syracuse, N. Y., with even par golf for 13 holes. Green was eight over par in turning back James A. Swink, Alexandria, Va.

J. Wood Platt, Philadelphia, who won the first championship two years ago, was defeated 8 and 7 by Chris Carr, Hamburg, N. Y. after complaining of Asian Flu.

LEAVES POST — Bob Ingersoll resigned today as basketball coach at Walled Lake because of health. Ingersoll succeeded Bill Ullenbruch just a few months ago.

Herman Bell of the St. Louis Browns was the last major leaguer to pitch and win two complete games in one day. He did it in 1924.

In two years as coach at St. John's University, Jack Kaiser has seen his baseball teams win 37 games and lose only 9 for an .804 average.

Group Meets in Pontiac to Eye Closely Activities of School Organizations

Presidents and representatives from Parent Teacher Assns. all over the county were present at a one-day workshop sponsored by the Oakland County Council of PTA yesterday.

★ ★ ★

More than one hundred people registered at the Bethany Baptist church on Huron St., in Pontiac, to learn more about parliamentary procedure, secretaries, presidents' duties and of the importance of good publicity for the organizations.

The group began the workshop at 9:30 with time out for lunch at 12:30 p.m.

Dr. John D. Monroe, director of Oakland County's department of public health, was main speaker of the day, and talked on "Asian Flu."

The afternoon was devoted to group discussions, with individuals moving to various classes, gathering information for the coming year.

The next meeting will be held at the Hayno Adams school in Waterford Township, Nov. 19.

BEGIN CHURCH ADDITION — Workmen get ready to pour footings for a new 38x90 foot addition to St. John Lutheran Church, Romeo. The new L-shaped wing, designed to meet the growing needs of the church, is being attached to the rear of the present building. It is due for completion by Christmas.

Friday Deadline for Signing Up

Winter Wheat Acreage Reserve Program Has 136 Agreements Now

Farmers who intend to participate in the 1958 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program were reminded today that Oct. 4 is the last day they may sign a program agreement.

According to William F. Porritt, Chairman of the Oakland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, agreements under the 1958 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program may be signed, modified, or canceled up until the deadline.

After that time, failure on the part of the farmer to carry out terms of the agreement could possibly subject him to loss of part or all of the payment he might have earned under the program or even to a civil penalty of 50 per cent of such a payment.

Chairman Porritt pointed out that the signup in Oakland County under the 1958 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program shows a total of 136 agreements signed as of Sept. 30, covering about 2,100 acres of wheat allotment land. If farmers comply fully with their 1958 winter wheat agreements, they will be eligible for Acreage Reserve payments totaling $70,459.17.

The Oct. 4 deadline marks the end of the sign-up period for only one part of the 1958 Soil Bank program, Porritt emphasized. While no agreements for the 1958 crop of winter wheat may be signed after that date, the signup for Acreage Reserve agreements for 1958 spring-seeded crops will be opened for applications early next year.

Under the Acreage Reserve program for the 1957 crop of winter wheat, 194 agreements were signed in Oakland County covering 2,741 acres; program payments totaled about $83,596.99.

Students to Get Fire Quiz

IMLAY CITY—The Imlay City Fire Department will conduct an educational program for Fire Prevention Week, starting Monday. A program and motion pictures will be presented for the children of the fourth and fifth grades of the Community Schools and the Christian School.

Each child in these grades will receive the quarterly magazine, "The Junior Fire Marshal" throughout the year.

The first issue, distributed next week, has a junior fire marshal's home report which the children will fill out on conditions and fire hazards in and around the child's home. The object of this is to correct existing hazards.

On returning the completed report to the teacher, each child will have his name placed on the honor roll and will receive a junior fire marshal's ring.

★ ★ ★

The grade which completes all its questionnaires first will be awarded a silk banner for its room.

This is the second year the fire department has had the program. It reports response was enthusiastic last year.

Former Leaders in Birthday Fete for Avon Players

ROCHESTER — Avon Players here have celebrated their 10th birthday.

One-hundred-fifty members and guests Saturday shared a huge birthday cake prepared by ladies of the club, and joined in saluting six former presidents who were present for the occasion.

★ ★ ★

The program was in charge of Avril Clute who was one of the original fifteen founders of the club in 1957. Cy Williams, the first president, Morrel Clute, Dan McGoon, Plummer Whipple, Gordon Miller and Tom Everhard, succeeding presidents, each gave amusing accounts of their terms of office and the plays presented.

★ ★ ★

Only Henry Purdy and Randolph Strickland, of the past presidents, were unable to attend. Miller and Everhard had both served two terms.

Membership in the club now stands at 200 active members.

Benson Backs Farmers' Right to Control Goods

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson says he believes farmers have just as much right as manufacturers to control the flow of their products to markets.

But they should do the controlling on their own and not look to the government to do it.

The secretary gave these views at a news conference yesterday. He had been asked if it were possible for farmers to produce and sell in a "free market" in competition with manufacturers who "limit their sales to hold up their prices."

Benson said that any controlling of farm marketings should be carried out through farm cooperatives and marketing agreements.

Benson told about the work of the 18-member National Agricultural Advisory Commission which ended a two-day closed meeting yesterday. He said it reviewed various farm legislative proposals being advanced by various segments of agriculture.

Sanford Brown Guest Speaker

Will Replace Governor at Wixom Civic Assn. Meeting Thursday

WIXOM — Gov. G. Mennan Williams has named as his personal representative, State Treasurer Sanford Brown, to be a guest speaker at the Wixom Civic Assn. meeting slated for 8 p.m. Thursday.

The meeting will take place at Wixom Elementary School.

Originally scheduled to appear on Thursday's program, Gov. Williams revealed that he would be unable to fulfill the speaking engagement and named Brown to represent him.

Tentative plans have been made to have the governor address the group on Thursday, Dec. 5.

This week's meeting will include an open discussion of a proposal that Wixom become a fifth class city. Legal petitions, with the required number of signatures, have been filed with village officials requesting that an election be held.

★ ★ ★

The petitions were declared valid by the village council about two weeks ago. Council members cannot take final action on the issue until 30 days after the petitions are validated, making it probable that they will set an election date sometime in the third or fourth weeks of October.

★ ★ ★

Backers of the fifth class city proposal list the main advantage as protection against losing any portion of Wixom through annexation.

To Provide Classrooms, Kitchen

St. John's Starts Big Addition

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

ROMEO — St. John Lutheran Church is taking steps to meet its ever-increasing membership by expanding its educational facilities this fall.

Last Thursday workmen began excavating for a two-story addition, 38x90 feet, at the rear of the church. They were to begin pouring the footings Tuesday.

The upper level will contain three large classrooms — one a street-level nursery—which will house two or three classes each through use of folding doors. A new church office, supply room and corridor will also be included on this floor.

There will be two more classrooms in the basement addition as well as a new kitchen, store room and new lavatory facilities.

The present kitchen wall will be removed, and that space will be added to the auditorium providing seating space for 60 more persons.

The entire L-shaped wing — including the basementless nursery at the east end — will be constructed of cement block covered with face brick. The corridors will be tile.

A year ago, five committees began working on a program of expansion to meet the mounting needs of the church. A goal of $60,000 was set for the canvassers who contacted church members during a week-long campaign last July. The campaign netted $67,000.

The Rev. E. G. Appel, in his 26th year as minister at St. John's, said, "If the work goes according to schedule, the new wing should be open by Christmas." The local contracting firm of Ebeling and Hicks is in charge of construction.

★ ★ ★

Makeshift classrooms have been set up in the downstairs auditorium of the church to take care of a Sunday School enrollment which is nearing 300. There are 500 confirmed church members with baptized members bringing the total to over 700.

The white frame church is in its 85th year of operation, the Rev. Mr. Appel said.

Present plans call for bricking in the entire church facade by its 100th anniversary. At that time the old tower will be removed, a 15-foot extension and new tower added to the front of the building. This move will provide space for 100 more parishioners in the church proper and balcony, he said.

Higgins Named to Road Board

Turnpike Chairman and Five Others to Advise Highway Department

George N. Higgins of Ferndale and five other recognized Michigan highway authorities have been appointed to a new State Highway Department advisory board, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie announced.

★ ★ ★

The board should "play a key role in the accomplishment of an arterial highway system in Michigan," Mackie said.

"The board members will be utilized and consulted on many of the major decisions which face the highway department in speeding up construction of a modern highway system."

They also will be consulted in policy matters affecting all phases of highway planning, Mackie added.

★ ★ ★

Higgins is a Ferndale automobile dealer, a former Oakland County state senator and present chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority. The five others are:

Stacey Decamp, a Flint attorney; E. J. Eagen, a Menominee newspaper editor; J. Carl McMonagle of East Lansing, a highway department consultant and national president of the Institute of Traffic Engineers, and J. Paul Smith, a Detroit attorney.

"These six men represent a combination of highway knowledge, business and professional training and have established reputations for civic responsibility," Mackie said.

The board is provided by recent state law. The positions are non-salaried.

Union Banquet Will Honor 800

Retired GM Workers to Be Feted Thursday at CAI Building

The seventh annual banquet honoring retired employes of the three General Motors Corp. plants in Pontiac will be held Thursday evening at 5 at the Community Activities Inc. Building in Waterford Township.

Some 800 former employes of Pontiac Motor, General Motors Truck and Coach and Fisher Body Divisions will be honored, according to Napoleon J. Raymond, secretary of the banquet committee.

Featured speaker at the dinner will be Leonard Woodcock, International UAW vice president in charge in General Motors' union affairs.

The dinner is sponsored by Pontiac Motor Local 653, GMC Truck and Coach Local 594, and Fisher Body Local 596, all UAW.

The affair commemorates the establishment of the pension plan for GM employes, started in October 1950.

Dorothy Jones Marries Robert Torney at Allenton

ALMONT — A recent 2 p.m. ceremony in the West Berlin Church, Allenton, united in marriage Dorothy Jones and Robert Torney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Torney here.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meldon Jones of Romeo. Given in marriage by her father, she wore a white, floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and net. Her headpiece was a crown trimmed with seed pearls, which held a fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid in a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Donald McCready of Detroit, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Nancy Scott of Allenton was bridesmaid. Their gowns and matching hats of aqua and mulberry crystalette were identical in style. They carried bouquets of pink roses.

★ ★ ★

Donald McCready, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. James Kriesch of Almont, was usher.

A reception for 130 relatives and friends was held in the church dining room immediately following the ceremony. Guests were present from Almont, Allenton, Imlay City, Roseville, Mt. Clemens, Detroit, Royal Oak, Kewadin, East Jordon, and Pittsburgh, Pa.

1 OUT OF 3 DOES!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge, small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults. Perfected by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for 100 years.

AEC Presents Nuclear Reactor

Aimed at Speeding Up Development of Atomic Power for Research

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission presented its newest nuclear reactor —one aimed at speeding up the development of atomic power — to some 300 leaders of government and industry today.

A scientist who directs part of the test reactor program said the ETR is "the world's most powerful known test reactor for assisting in the development of nuclear power." The comment was by J. R. Huffman, technical manager of Phillips Petroleum Co.'s Atomic Division at the National Reactor Testing Station.

★ ★ ★

The AEC said the Engineering Test Reactor (ETR) costs about 14 million dollars.

Papers dealing with the ETR's construction and use were presented to the 300 guests — mostly from private industry — today. Principal speakers were Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash), a member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, and AEC Commissioner Harold S. Vance.

It took about 23 months to build the ETR, which went into operation Sept. 19.

★ ★ ★

The main part is the reactor vessel. This contains the core in which takes place a controlled fission process.

Circulating water carries off heat produced by the fission. This heat is estimated to be enough in one hour to heat three average-sized homes for a year.

The fission process produces atomic particles called neutrons. Some of these maintain the chain reaction. Many are left over and are channeled and used — the ETR — to bombard whatever is being tested.

★ ★ ★

The ETR produces a great mass of neutrons for this purpose. It has what the AEC calls the "highest neutron flux" of any test reactor.

By this testing process, says the commission, "results otherwise obtainable only in months or years of actual operation can be achieved in days or weeks."

The AEC says the ETR "will be used principally to determine the effects of . . . 'radiation damage,' on engineered components and materials under conditions to be met in nuclear power plants of the future."

BERN, Switzerland — The railway bridge across the Stiffenbach Ravine in Switzerland is rebuilt every year.

The bridge has been destroyed so many times by snowslides that is is now dismantled dvery fall and rebuilt every spring, but this doesn't disrupt the railroad's schedules, since it operates only in summer.

Sophia's Marriage Rapped as 'Illicit'

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Vatican attorney warned today that actress Sophia Loren and the divorced Italian director she married by proxy in Mexico are liable to excommunication if they set up housekeeping.

★ ★ ★

L'Osservatore Della Domenica published the opinion by Pio Ciprotti, a lay member of the Vatican's Rota, the high tribunal that rules on the validity of marriages. He said such marriages as that of the glamorous film star to Carlo Ponti under church law were "gravely illicit."

★ ★ ★

The opinion mentioned neither Miss Loren nor Ponti by name. But it answered a query about the validity of their marriage.

Schools Mixed in Oklahoma

6,600 Negroes Attend 431 Integrated Public Institutions

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — More than 6,600 Negro pupils now are attending classes in 431 integrated public schools in Oklahoma.

Dr. Oliver Hodge, state superintendent of public instruction, reported the new figures yesterday and said integration has progressed faster than he expected.

Dr. Hodge estimated the 6,600 represent about 20 per cent of the school-age Negroes in Oklahoma. The state no longer tabulates school-age children by race.

Commenting on the absence of any disturbances of consequence, Dr. Hodge said: "The state Board of Education has treated integration as a local problem. The people have accepted integration in some areas and in some other areas they apparently are not yet ready for it."

The state policy has been to discontinue financial aid to school districts maintaining separate schools but must foot the bills themselves.

Hodge noted 138 Negro schools have been closed since integration started, 26 of them this year. Some 298 Negro teachers have lost their jobs.

There still are 184 all-Negro schools, but many of them are in all-Negro communities or in parts of larger towns where some pupils attend integrated schools and others attend Negro schools.

Integration Issue Greatest Domestic Problem Facing United States

LITTLE ROCK (INS) — It is apparent from the crisis at Little Rock that integration is the greatest domestic problem facing the United States today, and will be for years to come.

That the basic clash between enforcement of federal law and the deeply ingrained southern way of life should have occurred at Little Rock is of itself a measure of the vast scope and depth of the problem.

NOT TYPICAL

The fact is that Little Rock is not typical of the Deep South. On the contrary, it more nearly resembles many communities in the border states where the local attitude toward the Negro is moderate, and to a degree, understanding.

The State of Arkansas is so moderate and progressive that it is one of the very few southern states that have taken any concrete steps toward integration of their public school systems. Little Rock itself had a moderate element sufficiently strong to permit approval of the gradual integration of its school system, now being carried out by force of federal troops.

Some southern newsmen on the scene are surprised, not by the violence that occurred a week ago, but by the city's outward tolerance and calm in the wake of the appearance of federal troops. It is their belief that a parallel occurrence in some state as Mississippi, Alabama or Georgia would have intensified resistance the point of insurrection.

UNDERLINE OPPOSITION

The activities of Gov. Orval Faubus and the attitude of Little Rock and state police at Central High School serve to underline the latent public opposition to integration in Arkansas.

The mixing of the races in the state's public schools was something that many Arkansans may have been willing to tolerate, or get used to.

But there can be no argument against the general belief that the aroused emotions in this state have uncovered a deep and persistent opposition even to this gradual program.

GAINS STRENGTH

Gov. Faubus has gained political strength in his moves to block integration. This is conceded even by his political opponents, and by non-politically minded persons who had hoped to see integration peacefully and gradually accomplished in the state.

Today Faubus is a hero with segregationists in the Deep South. With them, he is Horatio at the bridge. Little Rock has done more to solidify the South against school integration than any event since the Supreme Court's decision that the doctrine of separate but equal school facilities is unconstitutional.

In this state capital, as in Washington, the number one topic of discussion is how can Little Rock be extricated from its present impasse. There is much talk of a gradual phasing out of the instruments of force surrounding Central High.

★ ★ ★

First to reduce the size and appearance of military readiness of the federal troops; then to replace the 101st with the federalized Arkansas National Guard; then to diminish this force and ultimately replace it with state police, local police, and finally no police at all.

When that day finally arrives the question of the success of the plan will be answered.

The hope is that tempers will be cooled and the threat of federal prosecution will be sufficient to permit the nine Negro students to resume a normal life at school and at home without molestation. There are many neutral observers in Little Rock who believe this plan will work, but many more do not.

Meanwhile, Faubus is searching for a short-cut to end the federal "occupation" in his state. His likely proposal, abolishment of the public school system by an act of the legislature in special session would be quick and drastic, and would end for the foreseeable future any integration in Arkansas.

But regardless of the outcome in Little Rock, the course of southern compliance with the Supreme Court's edict is more obscure than ever. Long before the events of the past month, the Deep South's reply to the federal order for integration was "Never."

"Never" is a long, long time, but in the minds of many observers it is the only word that answers the question of when integration will be an accomplished fact.

Shocking Experience Ahead for Thieves

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Any thief who tries to take the hubcaps from a car belonging to Eldo McLaughlin of Albuquerque is in for a surprise.

McLaughlin has not only wired his hubcaps with a stiff electrical jolt but has rigged a device to shock anyone who tries to open the doors, the hood or the trunk.

And if the circuit is interfered with at all, the horn begins to blow.

Mom Learns a Bit on Baking—From Son

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Ten-year-old Gaylord Nordstrom taught his mother, Mrs. Bernice Nordstrom, a thing or two about cookind during the Colorado state fair.

Gaylord won blue ribbons on both his white and chocolate cakes and a second place ribbon with a nut loaf cake. Mrs. Nordstrom won third place in the nut loaf cake ivision.

One of the few asphalt deposits in the United States is located near Santa Rosa in New Mexico.

Tavern Owner Thinks He Got Smelly Deal

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — They are still talking about the big one that got away at Vail's Tavern and wondering how it happened.

A 50-pound, four-foot dolphin disappeared from its display spot on the tavern wall.

In its place someone put a small, sad-looking salt mackerel. The mackerel wasn't treated for display purposes and the management soon got wind of the switch.

Bob Considine Says:

Writer's Last Piece Struck Religious Note

NEW YORK (INS) — Ruth Donnelly (Mrs. Basil de Guichard), the actress, read a piece here recently about the passing of E. V. Durling, Damon Runyon, Ring Lardner, Arthur Brisbane and O. O. McIntyre.

She kindly sends me the latter's last column, curiously, it described a church visit: Here are some excerpts from that work of two decades ago, as published in a newspaper I'll always consider the best I've known, the N.Y. American.

AIMLESS STROLL

"We set off on one of those aimless Sunday evening strolls without objective. The city generally was hurrying to the movies and cafes. And that is why a shadowy brick church on the fringe of things, its bell tolling so sadly, appeared a sudden symbol of neglect.

"Only an occasional straggler mounted the steps and vanished into the dim-lit quiet. Soft notes from the organ came trembling down the nave in a sort of gentle ballyhoo. And on the impulse of the moment, we, too, climbed the steps, the first church-going in months.

"Like many reluctants I am continually assailed, once inside a religious edifice, for my neglect in attendance. It requires only an hour out of the week and there is no other place where one may so satisfyingly relax into surprising and almost unbelievable calm.

"Frequently many pay $6.60 per seat to be bored at plays that offend taste and yet waver between a 50-cent piece and a dollar bill at the church offertory. I had a far more comforting seat than at most theaters and was not annoyed by attitude-striking pests.

"There was a serene earnestness about the pastor, a Bert Lytell-looking gentleman slightly gray and in his 40s, I should say, that was convincing. He believed what he preached.

"His text was, as I remember, from Isaiah: 'Thou wilt keep in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on thee, etc.' An old and familiar theme, of course. Stripped of verbiage, just another version of the aged simplicity: Trust in the Lord. Yet it had a consoling warmth that sparked an inner glow.

"The sermon over, the preacher was at the door to meet members of his slim congregation. He saw my wife and I were strangers, inquired if we lived in the city, and introduced us to a couple near by. We were invited to come often, also to attend a little social event in the basement an evening hence. It was quite folksy and alien to the usual New York manner. Most of his congregation, he said, were regulars.

"Meandering northward into the buzz-fuzz of the evening roar, we could not help but reflect on thousands of churches similarly struggling—veritable vortexes in the gathering storms. Each trying valiantly and often pathetically to establish a meed of hope, peace and comfort in a hungering world of vanishing faith.

"And how little most of us aid in such worthy endeavor, morally, financially or otherwise. There is no place in a vast city where the lonely are so pleasantly and sincerely welcomed as the average church. For this reason alone one would think they would be filled.

★ ★ ★

"This, too, I had had a troubling world, was tenderly wrong in his last estimate. For he was back in church, amid his mourners, a few days later.

Although refined and greatly improved, the principle of the modern cotton gin is basically the same as that developed by Eli Whitney.

Waterford Parents Report Peril Areas

PTA representatives from 20 schools in Waterford Township met at the Board of Education office Tuesday to report on dangerous walking areas in the school district.

The meeting was organized because the parents claim children are endangered while walking to and from school on heavily traveled township roads. The parents met Friday to form a study committee.

The group told that several schools in the township were in danger areas, and a delegation of parents is scheduled to make a survey of these conditions at 8 this morning.

Parents Tom Peterson, 6140 Andersonville Rd., and C. C. Lampson, of 490 Scott Lake Rd., were elected co-chairmen of the study group. Ilene Rector will be secretary. The next meeting will be 8 p.m. Monday at the Waterford Township High School to hear reports, recommendations, and possible solutions arising from tomorrow's survey, Peterson said.

Pole's Goal Reached After Years of Hardship

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — When he was a 7-year-old in Glubokie, Poland, David Swindler watched hid dad make the rounds as village policeman. He dreamed of one day becoming an officer, too.

Now that dream has come true—but in Oklahoma City, when he becomes a rookie scout car officer.

A lot happened in the intervening years. There was World War II, occupation by the Russians, forced labor in a camp in Siberia, then release to relatives in Germany and emigration to the United States.

Most of the young officer's family died in the Siberian camp.

The Supreme Court may interpret, but not modify, the Constitution of the United States.

Shovel Practice Really Pays Off

Battle Creek Youth Gets $37,500 in 5 Minutes at Canada Dry Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas Watson, a 19-year-old Battle Creek draftsman, shoveled himself into $37,500 in five minutes yesterday.

The opportunity came because his name had been picked in the advertised Canada Dry sweepstakes contest.

Watson was permitted to wield his shovel on a pile of 250,000 silver dollars in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf - Astoria Hotel. Three Brink's trucks had transported the 7½ tons of silver.

Watson, who had been practicing for the feat at home with metal washers, went to work on the pile with four Pinkerton guards standing watch.

★ ★ ★

The Canada Dry firm had guaranteed Watson $15,000. It said tests had shown that this was as much as a strong man could shovel in five minutes. So apparently Watson's practice was the thing that paid dividends.

The shoveling took place at a luncheon meting of the Sales Executives Club of New York.

The Bottomless Lakes in southeast New Mexico were named by 19th century cowboys who were unable to touch bottom with weighted lariats. Scientific soundings located the lakebeds at from 40 to 600 feet below the surface.

Tells Little of Past Life

Whitley, in Jail, Deplores Shooting of Trooper Pellot

DETROIT (AP) — A newspaper's jail cell interview with Victor W. Whitley today quoted the 26-year-old Texan as deploring a Michigan State Policeman's gunfire death because of the policeman's baby son.

"From the little boy's standpoint, a man like that doesn't have any business living."

★ ★ ★

The Detroit newspaper said the reference was to the gunman who fired the fatal shots at Michigan State Trooper Dugald A. Pellot in Monday's shooting spree in two states.

Whitley is held in a county jail in Scottsburg, Ind., where he surrendered yesterday after his pal in two policemen killings, Ralph Taylor, 36, was shot to death by pursuing officers.

In Michigan Trooper Pellot, 23, a rookie officer and father of a year-old son, was shot to death. In Indiana, a trooper of that state, William R. Kellems, 28, also was shot to death.

Both were killed in the bloody chase over highways of two states for Whitley and Taylor Monday night and Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Reporter Carter Van Lopik interviewed Whitley in the Indiana jail.

Van Lopik wrote of Whitley as "tall, blonde and well built, handsome in a way which would make many consider him a typical American boy—in looks, at least."

The reporter wrote that he asked Whitley's feelings with regard to Trooper Pellot.

Whitley denied he was the one who took Pellot's life, and then spoke of "the little boy's standpoint," afterwards adding:

"If somebody killed my wife, I'd do my best to get 'em capital punishment."

★ ★ ★

In the interview Whitley was described as loathe to talk much of his past except to say he was married to an Austin, Tex., girl for about three years until a divorce. He refused to give his former wife's name.

Whitley said he worked in the Louisiana oil fields before enlisting in the Army and soon being discharged "for bed-wetting."

As a hitch-hiker, he met Taylor in Maine when the latter picked him up.

Dates of these incidents were not stated, nor was it clear how long a time Whitley and Taylor were together. Police have said it was a period of months.

★ ★ ★

The interview quoted Whitley as saying Taylor had told him he—Taylor—shot both troopers Pellot and Donald A. Vogel in Michigan. Vogel was seriously wounded.

The story said Whitley described his ultimate capture in an Indiana field "in a low-layin' ground fog."

"I thought 'what the hell. Where would I go if I had anywhere to go?'

"Then I pust my hands on the top of my head and whistled. I'd heard men talkin' nearby, so I knew they were around. I wasn't frightened, just lost. I had the same feelin' when I left the oil fields. I got myself into this mess . . ."

Money Grows for Right Entry to Pot-O-Gold

Pot-O-Gold riches are now at $400 for the lucky contestant who comes up with a perfect solution to puzzle No. 70, providing no one wins last week's puzzle. But even in that case, the right answers are worth $125 if he's a Press subsriber.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his numbers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 70 must bear a Tuesday, Oct. 8 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press Judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Grains, Beans Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains and soybeans sold steady to firm on the board of trade today.

Wheat advanced fractionally in early dealing on buying by flour interests and reports of a slight improvement in export demand.

Corn steadied on buying for industrial accounts and by a large export house. The demand for corn in early dealing came despite large overnight export sales of corn by the government from Commodity Credit Corp. stocks.

Soybeans advanced nearly two cents on increased demand despite continued excellent harvesting weather. The upturn in beans was influenced partly by higher soybean oil prices and the purchase of two cargoes of beans overnight by Poland.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was unchanged to ⅝ higher, Dec. $2.15½; corn was ¼ to ½ higher, Dec. $1.18¾; oats were unchanged to ½ higher, Dec. 66¼; rye was 1⅛ to 1½ higher, Dec. $1.26¾; soybeans were 1 to 1⅜ higher, Nov. $2.27; and lard was 10 to 32 cents a hundred pounds higher, Oct. $11.22.

Driver Training Money Needed

Says Subsidy Payments in High Schools to Fall Unless Legislature Acts

LANSING (AP) — Unless the legislature steps in, state subsidy payments for driver training classes in high schools may drop next year from $25 to as low as $18 a pupil, a state education official said today.

★ ★ ★

The estimate was made by Norman Borgerson of the state Department of Public Instruction.

Borgerson said it was based on prospects that 90,000 students will be enrolled in the driver training classes. Last year, he said, there were 70,000. The year before the figure was 40,000.

★ ★ ★

In the school year ended last June, about $1,750,000 in state subsidies were disbursed to local school districts for support of the program, but some of the money represented a carryover from the preceding year.

★ ★ ★

Between $1,500,000 and $1,600,000 is expected to be available this year, Borgerson said.

Airliner Flies 5,357 Miles Nonstop to U.S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A commercial air liner flew into San Francisco today non-stop from London. The Trans World Airlines Constellation carried 46 passengers and a crew of 11.

★ ★ ★

The TWA flight 871 left London at 9 a.m. PST Monday. The plane touched down at San Francisco International Airport at 8:25 a.m. PST.

The flight was 5,357 miles.

★ ★ ★

Weather and wind conditions were good throughout the flight and the captain decided it was unnecessary to make the customary refueling stop at Frobisher Bay, northeast of Hudson Bay, about half-way between London and San Francisco.

British Gold Reserve Below Safe Estimate

LONDON (AP)—The Treasury announced today that Britain's gold and dollar reserves fell by 292 million dollars during September.

The reserves stood at $1,850,000,000 on Sept. 30.

It has been accepted by some economists that two billion dollars is the minimum figure to which the reserves could fall without endangering the value of the pound.

Believe Owner Burned to Death

Fire Destroys Elevator in Bay City; None Saw Vogtmann Leave

BAY CITY (AP) — A man was believed to have perished in a $100,000 fire which destroyed a grain elevator and three-story building at the Wenonah Flour Milling Co. last night.

★ ★ ★

Owner John M. Vogtmann entered the burning building, apparently headed for his office, and no one saw him emerge.

Police Sgt. Alvin T. Bridges said he saw the owner enter the building, but didn't see him come out. Fire Chief Joseph M. Trudell said it was presumed Vogtmann died in the fire.

Still smouldering timbers had prevented a search of the ruins at 10:30 a.m.

Vogtmann, his wife and a son, John H., were working in the building last night, receiving beans now being harvested in the Michigan Thumb district. The son said the fire started on the third floor, and he assumed it was from friction in machinery.

★ ★ ★

Father, mother and son escaped, but the elder Vogtmann reentered later, following a fire captain to the third floor and then turning toward his office on the first.

Destroyed along with the elevator and 50-year-old building was an estimated 25,000,000 pounds of beans and 10,000 bushels of wheat.

The flames, discovered about 10 p.m., could be seen 15 to 20 miles away.

★ ★ ★

Homes in the vicinity on Bay City's northwest side were evacuated. The fire burned through a Consumers Power Co. supply line darkening several hundred homes.

Firemen reported a number of small explosions, apparently in the grain and bean bins.

Property Violations Bring 3 Arrests

Three property owners were arrested yesterday afternoon on complaints signed by Charles Cohen, city sanitarian. They are charged with various violations of city ordinances and state laws involving slum housing and public nuisances.

★ ★ ★

Arraigned this morning in Municipal Court, all pleaded not guilty. The four are:

Pearl B. Silkowsky and Peter Cascavelli of 490 Auburn Ave., charged with maintaining a substandard dwelling at 710 Stirling Ave., where Mrs. Silkowsky lives.

Active Trading Extends Grains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market extended its initial gains in fairly active early trading today.

Pivotal issues were up from fractions to around a point. There was an occasional loser.

★ ★ ★

Prices were higher at the opening which was brisk. Turnover maintained a moderate pace in later dealings as prices improved.

Ability of the market to pull away from a low point in the average fed confidence and Wall Street regarded the action as a follow-through from yesterday's rally.

★ ★ ★

Lukens Steel added a point following news of its record sales and earnings. Kennecott Copper advanced well over a point.

Gains of around a point or so were made by U.S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Douglas Aircraft, International Paper, Gulf Oil, Johns-Manville and U.S. Gypsum.

Opening blocks included Bethlehem Steel unchanged at 42¼ on 2,400 shares; Chrysler up ⅜ at 74¼ on 2,500; and Celanese off ⅛ at 13⅛ on 2,000.

HENRY HALPERN

Firm Announces New Vice President

It has been announced by Ernest A. Jones, president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills that Henry Halpern has been appointed as a vice president of the firm.

Halpern, who joined the firm in 1953, will be in charge of media and research on accounts handled in the agency's New York office and will continue to head television-radio research on all agency accounts.

★ ★ ★

For eight years Halpern was a research analyst and project director with the Gallup Poll and a copy research supervisor with another ad firm.

In addition to his media and research work with MJA, he has been account executive on the Dow Chemical International account. He is married and resides in Princeton, N. J.

Air Suspension Pushed in 1958

Car Industry to Hawk New System, but at an Optional Cost

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT—Air suspension systems will appear on more cars next year but for the most part they will be an extra-cost option. Just what the cost will be is yet to be disclosed.

Air suspension, replacing the conventional type of coil or leaf springs, undoubtedly will be promoted by the trade as the industry's major engineering advancement for 1958. Last year, fuel injection to replace the normal carburetion system was widely proclaimed as the big engineering advance.

Fuel injection, however, carried a price tag much higher than generally had been expected. A result was that it was not as popular as the car makers hoped it might be. Featured initially by Chevrolet, it carried a price tag of around $485. For the most part it appeared largely in Chevrolet's Corvette, a sports car model.

For the year ahead, fuel injection undoubtedly will be more widely used. Chrysler has announced it as an optional, extra-cost item on some 1958 cars. Some industry experts have said that with increased output volume the system will find quicker acceptance among car buyers in the lower as well as the medium-price field. Although there has been no announcement to that effect, Pontiac is expected to offer it as optional equipment on its 1958 models.

The air suspension system involves a substantial amount of equipment under the hood as well as the four wheels. An air compressor and reservoir are only basic parts of the system. They will compete for space under the hood with components of air conditioning systems and other extras being developed for the convenience and comfort of the motorist.

There is more to the air suspension and torsion bar systems than mere replacements for the conventional coils or leaf type of springing. A leveling device that automatically maintains a fixed height for the vehicle regardless of the load it carries is part of the systems.

Except in the higher price bracket these units are extra-cost options—and even in the higher price cars their cost is figured in the delivered price of the car. Except for the switch from leaf springs to independent coil springs and the development of shock absorbers, air suspension and torsion bars represent the first major advance in several decades.

Advocates of air suspension systems have predicted they will wholly replace the conventional springing methods within the next decade. But there is considerable disagreement with that view. It is based mainly on the extra cost.

Dead Brother Found Hanging From Tree

DURAND (AP) — Police today probed the death of a 13-year-old schoolboy found hanging from a tree last night less than 50 feet from his home.

★ ★ ★

The body of Charles L. Olin was found by two brothers, Roger, 9, and William, 10, who had been playing hide-and-seek with him.

Allan Olin, the boy's father and an employe of the Chevrolet plant at Flint, told police the boy was in good spirits at supper and was looking forward eagerly to a Boy Scout meeting tonight.

The body of the boy, a seventh grade student at North Side School, was found suspended from a piece of binder twine around his neck.

Coroner William Jennings said death occurred between 6:45 and 7 p.m., less than an hour after the boy's supper. The cause of death was listed as undetermined pending further investigation.

Higbie Co. Board Gains Alfred Fisher

It has been announced that Alfred J. Fisher, of 44 Renaud Rd., Grosse Pointe, has been elected to the board of directors of the Higbie Manufacturing Co., of Rochester.

★ ★ ★

Fisher is president of Fisher Industries, Inc., located at 1625 W. Maple Rd., Troy Township.

The board of directors also announced its regular quarterly dividend applicable to stock of record, Oct. 15. The board declared the dividend at 15 cents a share on the $1 par value of common stock. It will be payable Nov. 1.

Heustis Questions Nursing Home Job

EAST LANSING (AP) — Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, has questioned the soundness of legislation which increased the responsibility of his department without increasing the money needed to carry out the new duties.

★ ★ ★

Heustis spoke before the annual conference of the Michigan Nursing Home Association, continuing today at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

He said the Legislature now expects his department to offer consultant service and to license nursing homes but provided money for only two nurses and a clerk to work with more than 550 homes caring for some 13,000 oldsters.

The homes formerly were under the jurisdiction of the State Welfare Department.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Heustis added that although some of the responsibilities in licensing nursing homes have been delegated to county health authorities, the local departments also are understaffed and have to neglect regular duties to do the job properly.

Wholesale Price of Coffee Cut Again

NEW YORK (INS) — A new reduction of two to three cents in the wholesale price of coffee was announced today.

★ ★ ★

The latest reduction, the fourth this year, was made by the Maxwell House Division of General Foods which said the cut brought prices to the lowest level in two years.

Other wholesale firms are expected to follow suit.

Appoint Manager of Mackinac Bridge

ST. IGNACE (AP)—A man from the staff of a builder of the Straits of Mackinac Bridge has been named general manager of the $100,000,000 span.

Charles E. (Ed) Haltenhoff, a native of Brooklyn and former employe of Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corp., was named to the post yesterday. Haltenhoff will be second in command to Lawrence (Larry) Rubin, executive secretary of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Haltenhoff, a resident of St. Ignace since 1954, was with Merritt-Chapman & Scott until last December. The company held the substructure contract for the bridge.

Operating Costs Cutting Earnings

1st Corporation Reports for 3rd Quarter Show Nearly Half Lower

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The first corporations to report on third quarter earnings show almost half of them making less this year than last.

Stock market traders note in particular that in many cases where earnings are below former levels total sales have increased, sometimes to record highs. But operating costs have risen faster and higher toward the break even point.

★ ★ ★

The flood of third quarter earnings reports will come after the books close Monday, but a number of corporations have fiscal years that don't fit the calendar year and their third quarter figures are available. Later and fuller reports may well overturn what is indicated by them.

The first 34 of these early bird reports show 18 companies doing better than a year ago and 16 doing worse. Each year one company operated at a net loss, but it was a different firm in 1956 than in 1957.

Combined, the 34 have net income after taxes of $42,462,683 for their summer operations. In their 1956 third quarter the same 34 had profits of $44,162,323.

In the first three months of this year corporate earnings topped the year ago figure by about 8 per cent—but they were just even with the before tax earnings racked up in the final three months of 1956.

By the April, May and June quarter business profits were riding only 3 per cent above the second quarter of 1956.

★ ★ ★

A Federal Reserve Board study of 200 large corporations showed that their sales in the 1957 second quarter rose 913 million dollars above the year before figure. Their profits before taxes were up 64 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

The Department of Commerce, reporting on all corporate earnings before taxes in the first three months of this year, figured it at an annual rate of just under 44 billion dollars. This was down about 1½ billion from the annual rate pace set in the last three months of 1956.

★ ★ ★

Many businesses look for their most profitable operations to come in the last three months of the year.

2 Fisher Body Men Sent to Grand Blanc

Two members of the Fisher Body Pontiac management organization have been transferred to the Fisher Body Grand Blanc Plant.

The men, who will fill positions in the plant's management group, are John S. Kerrigan, former shift plant superintendent and George M. Comas, former chief inspector in the fabricating unit.

★ ★ ★

Kerrigan, who lives with his family at 60 S. Avery St., Waterford Township, has been named Plant Superintendent. He has been with the firm since June, 1942. He graduated from the GM Institute's Cooperative Engineering Program in 1949 with a degree in Industrial Engineering.

★ ★ ★

Comas, also a Waterford Township resident, lives with his family at 5940 Joliet Dr. He began with Fisher Body as a body layout apprentice at the Pontiac Plant in May, 1937. He has been promoted to chief inspector in charge of the quality standards department at the Grand Blanc Plant.

Stock Exchange Head Proposes:

Slash Required Margins

WASHINGTON (INS) — The president of the New York Stock Exchange suggested today that margin requirements on stocks be reduced.

Keith Funston told the Women's National Press Club that "we must look to the time in the near future when margin requirements can be reduced to a normal 40 to 50 per cent."

(Federal margin requirements presently provide that a buyer of stock must put up cash equivalent to 70 per cent of the purchase price.)

Funston said high interest rates—not high margins—have proved to be the decisive factor in limiting use of credit in the stock market.

He added that the Federal Reserve Board has applied general credit controls so effectively as "to make high margins largely superfluous as a credit weapon."

But, the exchange executive emphasized, one unplanned result of the present 70 per cent margin requirement has been to cut down sharply on stock market volume.

He said this seriously threatens the liquidity of the market.

Funston said a study by the exchange of six margin increases since early 1945 had little effect on market credit or prices, but did cause volume to shrink as much as 25 per cent in some cases.

In August, he said, total volume represented an annual turnover of only 11 per cent of the shares listed, a drop of about a third below the rate immediately following World War II.

Car Firms Release Monthly Statistics

DETROIT (INS) — Ford, General Motors and Chrysler — the big three of the auto industry—released September production figures today showing Ford and Chrysler output higher and GM lower than last year.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler reported 1,023,028 units for the first nine months of this year compared with 671,113 for the same period in 1956. Chrysler's September output of 32,844 was nearly four times greater than last year's.

Ford produced 167,971 passenger cars and trucks last month for a nine-month total of 1,746,059 units. In the comparable period last year, Ford put out 1,378,732 vehicles.

General motors' nine-month production figures dropped more than 200,000 from the 1956 total. GM reported combined U.S. car-truck production so far this year was 2,221,435 compared with 2,442,437 for 1956.

Russian Subs Threat to U.S.

Navy Admiral Warns Long-Range Soviet Goal Is Full Control of Sea

YOKOSUKA, Japan (INS) — Vice Adm. Roscoe F. Good, Commander of Naval forces in Japan, said that Russia now has more submarines in the Far East alone than the U. S. has in its entire Navy.

Good declared in an interview:

"The Soviets now understand the importance of sea power. Ever since World War II they have allocated a big share of their available resources to a long - range naval program designed to wrest control of the sea approaches to Asia and Europe from the free world.

"Not even their emphasis on the developing and testing of nuclear munitions and long - range missiles has diverted them from this purpose."

He pointed out that Russia has risen from the seventh ranking naval power at the end of the war — and much of that with U. S. lend-lease vessels — to possession of the world's second biggest navy today.

The admiral said Russia now has more than 450 submarines, in contrast to 110 subs on the U. S. Navy active list, and that the Soviet Union is producing undersea craft at a rate of about 100 a year.

He added this sub-building program was "accelerating — exceeding the production of any other nation."

100 FACING JAPAN

Good said he believed more than 100 of the Russian submarine fleet were based at Vladivostok fronting on the Sea of Japan.

"I shudder to think what 100 subs out of Vladivostok can mean to us in the event of hostilities," he said.

Explaining the significance of the large Russian submarine force, the former submarine and battleship commander stated:

"In 1943 the Germans with less than 100 submarines raised Holy Moses in the Atlantic."

"What makes the Russian navy potent today," he stated, "is that they are concentrating on what they are convinced to be their immediate task — to deny the U. S. access to her own allies, and then, to deny access to the Eurasia land mass."

Detroit to Buy Water System?

Officials Hope to Get Supply Being Handled by Wayne County

DETROIT (AP)—An offer from the City of Detroit to buy Wayne County's water system was in the record today with county officials offering to consider.

Detroit's Board of Water Commissioners made the offer yesterday at a meeting with the County Road Commission. The road commission is responsible for the county's water supply.

★ ★ ★

The water board's offer came as another step in the effort to alleviate the mutual water supply problem of the motor city and its suburbs.

At present Detroit sells water to the county and the county in turn retails it to local subdivisions. The City's proposal would eliminate the county as "middleman."

The city board advanced its proposal as in accordance with what it called "modern thinking that the public is best and most economically served by one consolidated water system."

★ ★ ★

A purchase price was not proposed. The city suggested that a representative city-county group undertake to arrive at a figure.

The city's water officials said their proposal, if accepted, would permit earlier expanded service to suburban areas.

Area Man Will Teach Wayne Retailing Course

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR Friends, Neighbors & Relatives for their expressions of sympathy & floral offering during our recent bereavement in the loss of Samuel Rogers. Special thanks to the Rev. Quentin Williams, the Huntoon Funeral Home, the American Legion and the Rebecca lodge — The Family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY mother, Mrs. Florence L. Pollen who passed away Oct. 2, 1949 and my father, Jacob T. Pollen, who passed away Oct. 2, 1948. Dear Parents, so gentle, good and kind
Look down from Heaven above, and know that the care you tenderly gave,
Is returned in our endless love.
Your loving daughter, Mrs. Clarence E. Liebetrau.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MARgaret C. Bing who passed away 4 yrs. ago Oct. 2, 1953
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad and weary the way;
Life has not been the same,
since you were called away
Sadly missed by brothers, sisters-in-law, father and family.

Device to Hook Onto Video Set

Telemeter Announces Shows and Their Cost, Accepts Payment

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — If the living room looks crowded already, mom, brace yourself. Another gadget is on the way.

Right now it is a sleekly gray, foot-square box that looks like a cross between an undersized air-conditioner and a stunted slot machine.

Within five years, fond backers envision, the device will key a revolution in television viewing, movie going and cultural pattern of the populace at large.

The machine, accompanied by a corps of articulate technicians and stalwart showmen, was recently unveiled here, to give New Yorkers their first peep at pay-as-you-see television.

★ ★ ★

The sample showcase comprises Don Larsen's epic World Series no-hitter, some snatches of a brand-new Hollywood Western, and, for living contrast, as they call it, an engineer scratching his ear forlornly in pose before a robot-controlled studio camera.

HOME BOX OFFICE

"Think of it!" exclaims Barney Balaban, surveying Larsen's wind-up. "Box-office in millions of homes."

★ ★ ★

Balan is president of Paramount Pictures which holds a 90 per cent interest in the pay-see television process that is the brainchild of International Telemeter Corp.

In addition to Telemeter, other systems for toll video under development include Phonovision and Subscribervision. Both of these propose some sort of billing system.

Telemeter, which will rely on cash-in-advance for each show, believes it is well in the van as an accomplished reality.

★ ★ ★

Contracts have already been drawn for a regular telemeter circuit in Los Angeles, and company officials say a dozen other installations are in negotiation for cities big and small.

TWO METHODS

Operations may be conducted on wire circuits or over the air, if the FCC decides the latter is feasible.

★ ★ ★

The heart of the Telemeter process is the living room gadget, which hooks onto a regular TV set and doesn't interfere with pickup of regular video programs.

★ ★ ★

A complex contraption, the gadget will announce a choice of three programs, the price of each (anything from a nickel to two bucks), automatically ring up coins, and electronically clear the signal of the selected show.

The wild cattle of Paraguay are said to be almost immune to disease.

Calvet Is Announcing She'll Be Great Star

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Corinne Calvet—the witness that "Confidential" wouldn't call— calmly announced she's sure to be the biggest foreign star in America.

"You know why?" she asked—and I didn't.

"I've so many talents in my safe that every time I drop in the box office, I am going to pull one out. When I'm old I'll be a politician or home counselor—that's a psychiatrist that doesn't have a license."

WILSON

Corinne was laughing but she meant it. "Now I'm singing," she said.

"How old are you?" I asked her.

"How many girl friends do you have?" she shot back.

"None," I confessed.

★ ★ ★

"Then I'm 18!" she flipped. She said she gets 2,500 fan letters a week, mostly from women, who think of her as a woman's woman . . . "who has lived, and loved, and played ze most tremendous Academy Award role—the role of a mother!"

"What about Zsa Zsa Gabor as a competitor?" I asked.

"Zsa Zsa is like Hungarian goulash. The older she gets the better she gets."

"So you're fighting again?"

"I ADORE Zsa Zsa. We have an understanding now. We don't sue each other any more."

CORINNE

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Mike Todd says his guests at the Madison Square Garden do will have to be "screened," fingerprinted and maybe even vaccinated . . . Eddie Condon and his wife ain't splittin'; that's a socialite of the same name. Eddie wants it understood he didn't and wouldn't marry anybody social if he were sober at the time.

George Raft got $25,000 for his magazine series . . . Ernest Hemingway's looking the healthiest in a couple of years; drinks only beer or wine nowadays.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: When a Hollywood medic charged Swifty Morgan $400 for an operation, Swifty snapped, "I knew guys in the Capone mob in Chicago who put 300 guys to sleep for less than that." . . . That's earl, brother.

Find Two Innocent of Attacking Officer

DETROIT (INS) — Two men accused of brutally beating an off-duty police officer were free today after Recorder's Court jury found them innocent of aggravated assault charges.

Defendants Charles V. Collins, 33, of Wyandotte, and Charles L. Collins, 26, of Trenton (no relation) were accused of attacking Detroit patrolman Bernard Beeman, 32, of Lincoln Park.

★ ★ ★

Beeman testified yesterday he and his wife, Mary, followed a car that repeatedly forced an elderly couple in another auto to the curb.

The officer said he followed the car containing the two Collins men.

The men allegedly assaulted him before he could show his officer's credentials. His wife attempted to hand him his night stick, but it was wrenched from her hands.

★ ★ ★

Beeman had to be hospitalized for six weeks for a head operation following the fight.

Business Not So Good for Nixon's Brother

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The corporation that owns the five restaurant-gift shops operated by F. Donald Nixon, brother of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, will sell the stores for the benefit of creditors.

★ ★ ★

Lee J. Fortner, executive president of the Credit Managers' Assn. of Southern California, said yesterday that the assets of the stores will be turned over to satisfy creditors' claims.

★ ★ ★

Nixon is president of the corporation but Vice President Nixon has no interest in the chain, Fortner said.

Scrap Prices Falling as Steel Demand Low

NEW YORK (INS)—The magazine Iron Age said today slumping iron and steel scrap prices reflect the unexpectedly slow fall pickup in steel demand.

The national metalworking weekly noted its composite scrap price is about 40 per cent below the all-time high of more than $65 a ton posted last December. It said the decline is expected to continue.

Trooper's Widow to Receive Funds

EAST LANSING (AP) — Benefit plans and insurance policies will protect the future of the widow of State Police Trooper Dugald Pellot, blasted down by a gunman yesterday.

Mrs. Kay Ellen Pellot has one son, Gregory, a year old.

State Police pay $5 each to a voluntary death fund whenever a member of the department dies. This lump sum will be around $6,600.

The widow will receive $5,000 under a separate group insurance policy.

The police pension plan provides for payment of a pension of between $1,500 and $1,600 a year plus $10 a month for the child until the age of 16. A $500 payment is made for burial expenses.

In addition she will be given any sick leave and longevity pay due the officer.

Full medical expenses will be paid for the wounded officer.

'Dry' Dock Suddenly Disgraces Its Name

DAVISVILLE, R. I. (AP) — ARD-16 might be termed "all wet" by the Navy, after it's latest demonstration at Davisville.

Intending to halt at a 26-foot depth while awaiting rendezvous with a Navy Destroyer, ARD-16 found itself sinking due to a faulty manhole cover in the hull. It ended up on the bottom of 33 feet of water.

ARD-16 is a 491-foot dry dock.

Had to Be 'Speedie' to Keep Ahead of Law

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A man accused of passing $500,000 in worthless checks across the nation in 14 years has pleaded guilty to fie counts of forgery.

★ ★ ★

Municipal Judge C. Newell Carns yesterday ordered Charles R. Speedie — known to police as "The Traveler" — to appear in Superior Court Oct. 8 for sentencing.

★ ★ ★

Police say Speedie, arrested last month in a Cleveland suburb, is wanted in seven states and 150 California municipalities in connection with bogus checks.

U.S. May Tune In Reds' Baby Moons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russian scientists today held out hope they would let at least some of their baby moons broadcast with the same radio voice planned for U.S. earth satellites.

They had said Monday they planned to use far lower radio frequencies, of 20 and 40 megacycles.

U. S. moons will broadcast on 108 megacycles, and it had been understood the Soviets would do the same. That way, both countries could easily track and listen in on the moons in their adventures in space.

One U. S. International Geophysical Year Committee member reported today the Russian delegates said that after their first moon was launched, they would reconsider using the higher 108 megacycle frequency in later satellites.

Blame Teenagers for Demonstrations

MATOAKA, W. Va. (AP)—School officials today blamed teenagers outside of school and other persons for instigating anti-integration demonstrations in this southern West Virginia mining community.

Six Negro students were sent home from Matoaka High School yesterday after a group of white students roughed up two of them, both boys, as they entered school.

State police quickly intervened and the Negro boys went inside the school, where four Negro girls already had entered. All six were later sent home in a taxicab by the principal while about 200 white students demonstrated outside the school and refused to enter. The school has an enrollment of 670.

"As far as I know, the colored students will be in class" today, Principal Ralph Bird said.

Mercer County School Supt. W. R. Cooke said school officials are not blaming the demonstrations Monday and yesterday on the students themselves. He said teenagers outside the school and other persons in the community have been largely responsible.

Jack Palance and Wife Trying Reconciliation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Jack Palance is back home with his family. His wife Virginia says they are trying to reconcile.

Mrs. Palance filed suit for separate maintenance, alleging cruelty. The actor then filed a cross complaint for divorce, also charging cruelty.

Vietnamese Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — Secret organizations are springing up in North Viet Nam and sabotaging enterprises of the Communist government, the South Viet Nam government news agency said today. The agency reported that resistance is growing in all provinces.
