

Fallout From Chinese A-Blast Is Reported Heavy

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese scientists reported today that radioactive fallout from Red China's latest atomic blast was as much as 33 times stronger than that from Peking's previous two tests.

The findings bore out reports from Washington that preliminary data indicated China's third nuclear blast was its largest so far.

China's first two tests in October 1964 and May 1965 were equivalent to about 28,000 tons of TNT—the size of the first U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima, Japan, in 1945.

The highest readings from the third test came from Niigata University—on the Japanese coast opposite the Chinese mainland.

Prof. Takao Kosaka estimated the radioactivity in particles of dust was a little more than 33 times as intense as that in China's second nuclear test.

He reported dust particles contained a maximum of 1.5 million units of radioactivity, compared with a maximum of 45,000 in China's second test.

Kosaka said such amount of radioactivity might be harmful to people and might seriously contaminate vegetables.

Takao said an electric dust collector and other instruments had been installed on the roof of a university building to catch debris from the bomb. Niigata University scientists exposed nine rabbits and 60 mice to the radioactive dust to determine its effect on their blood and bone chemistry.

As the world's only victims of nuclear attack, the Japanese are extremely concerned by nuclear tests, especially those of their Asian neighbor. Peking has refused to sign the international treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

U.S. officials in Washington based their assessment of the latest test on semiautomatic measurement of the shock effects and changes in air pressure.

Earlier, the State Department had said the third Chinese test was "in the same general range" as the previous explosion.

EXPLOSION SCENE—A fireman stands amid debris of a soap plant that was rocked by an explosion yesterday in downtown Detroit. The blast sprayed glass fragments through a nearby elementary school.

Detroit Blast Kills 1, Hurts More Than 100

DETROIT (AP)—A soap plant blast that sounded like "an atomic bomb blew off" left one man dead and 15 others hospitalized today.

The blast at Wayne Soap Co., caused when a naphtha derivative leaked from a ruptured valve component and ignited, injured some 80 children and 27 adults yesterday.

The blast shattered windows at three blocks away from Detroit's south side, hurling glass splinters into classrooms filled with children.

Eight children were treated at hospitals and 75 others received first aid at the school.

Joseph Sajewicz, 48, of Southgate, who had been working inside the plant, died today of burns suffered in the explosion.

Six Detroit hospitals treated blast victims.

"I thought an atomic bomb blew off. I thought war was declared," said Melvin Sanford whose home is near the plant.

"We were having English when all of a sudden the window crashed in on top of me," said 12-year-old Pearl-o Hill, a pupil at Morley school.

"The whole house was shaking," said Mrs. Caffie Figura, an area resident.

LBJ Speaks at Princeton, Strikes Back at Viet Critics

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—President Johnson came to an old college campus today to strike back at critics of his Vietnamese policy and declare that in this century the exercise of power has meant "not arrogance but agony" for the United States.

Sniper Insane, Sent to Ionia

Ruling Today Follows
April 29 Acquittal

Gary Addison Taylor, Oakland County's phantom sniper of nine years ago, was ruled insane today and committed to Ionia State Hospital.

On April 29, Taylor, 30, was acquitted of a charge of assault with intent to murder for reasons of insanity for the shooting of a Bloomfield Hills woman in 1957.

At that time Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore scheduled today's sanity hearing to determine Taylor's present mental condition.

Three psychiatrists appointed by the court testified this morning that Taylor, in their opinion, would be a danger to the public welfare if released.

The examining psychiatrists, Clinton Mumby, William E. Gordon and George Eysseff, said they received little or no cooperation from Taylor recently but that their deductions were based mainly on previous records and past interviews.

Professors and former professors have been among the critics.

President Johnson was answering both—Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., among them—in an address at Princeton University.

Fulbright has accused the administration of exercising an arrogance of power.

The President told an academic audience that the scholars now "have learned that criticism is one thing, diplomacy another."

And he said that in Southeast Asia, as elsewhere, "our great power is tempered by great restraint."

AUDIENCE LISTENED

For the most part, his audience listened with only an occasional chuckle or applause.

The setting was a broad plaza, with several thousand people ringing a pool in front of the Woodrow Wilson Hall of the University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

Johnson dedicated the hall, received an honorary doctor of law degree, and then spoke from the steps of the building beneath a green canvas canopy. It was a bright but cool spring day, with some of the listeners spread out under partly leafed out elm trees.

"We have used our power not willingly and recklessly, but reluctantly and with restraint," the President said.

Robert P. Griffin

Both Williams, Cavanagh Hit Romney Pick

Congressman Will Fill Out All but 5 Weeks of McNamara's Term

LANSING (AP)—Five-term Republican Rep. Robert P. Griffin was named to the U.S. Senate today by Gov. George Romney.

Griffin will succeed the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, a Democrat.

Top Democratic candidates are former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Detroit Mayor Jesse W. Cavanagh.

The 71-year-old McNamara, who died April 30 of a stroke, already had announced he would not seek reelection.

UNTIL DEC. 1
Griffin, a coauthor of the Landrum-Griffin, Labor Act, will serve until Dec. 1.

The remaining five weeks of McNamara's term and a new six-year term will be filled in separate but simultaneous general elections in November.

The appointment drew quick fire from Williams, who said "neither a liberal nor a moderate Republican" had been appointed and added: "Gov. Romney has appointed a negative Republican."

Williams said Griffin "will enter the Senate with a firmly set" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Chrysler Planning Cutback

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry took another bump yesterday but still rolled along at a pace second only to record-setting 1965.

The latest move was a Chrysler Corp. decision to cut back its June car production.

Ford and General Motors previously reduced their May output.

The cutbacks came in the wake of April sales reports which showed the four U.S. auto firms sold 61,606 cars, about 38,000 below the April 1965 total.

That report shook up auto executives who had seen first-quarter sales zoom to a record high of 2.3 million units, about 11,000 ahead of last year.

PART OF PICTURE

Two auto company presidents, Arjay Miller of Ford and Roy Abernathy of American Motors, said auto safety hearings were a part of the slowed sales picture.

General Motors confirmed yesterday that it had stopped production of the Chevrolet Corvair at its Los Angeles assembly plant.

On the cheery side, auto makers reported that production of 1966 model cars through April 30 totaled 6.5 million units, nearly 700,000 ahead of output in the same period of the 1965 model run.

Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry publication, predicted today the 1966 model run would wind up around 8.7 million units, which would make it second only to the 1965 model production of 8.8 million.

Foreign Dignitaries Touring State

Twenty-two foreign dignitaries left from Pontiac Municipal Airport this morning to begin a week-long flying tour of Michigan that is designed to promote the state's economy.

The trip is a pre-Michigan Week event which in some respects returns favors extended to Michigan businessmen and government officials who toured Europe a year ago.

The visitors are guests of Michigan companies, universities and other organizations.

Yesterday afternoon the visitors were entertained at a reception in the Bloomfield Hills home of Gov. George Romney, and later dined at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

In welcoming the international group, Romney said, "Michigan is most known for the automobile industry, but as you travel you will notice its diversity."

"Michigan is in the center of the most productive industrial-agricultural area in the world and has an even more promising future."

By the time the tour is concluded, the visitors will have talked with university professors, descended into an iron mine and fished for trout.

Their first stop today was Battle Creek, followed by a side trip to Holland for the annual tulip festival.

Many of the visitors are businessmen, but the delegation includes such diverse figures as Manual Tavares, former member of the three-man junta which ruled the Dominican Republic in 1963-64, and Mrs. Chandrakala Pandit Mehta of New Delhi, India, daughter of Madam Pandit and a writer with wide international background.

Other guests include J. F.

Helder of the Netherlands, secretary of the World Poultry Association; Sir Mobolaji Bank Anthony, Nigerian industrialist; Tom Normanton, an industrialist from Manchester, England; and Hermann Doerner, professor of law at the University of Heidelberg, Germany.

GREET VISITORS—Gov. and Mrs. George Romney greet Dr. Jose Meiches, secretary of public works in Sao Paulo, Brazil, who was one of 21 foreign guests at their Bloomfield Hills home yesterday. The visitors began touring the state today for a preview of Michigan Week, which begins Sunday.

Rain Due in Area Tonight, Thursday

Mother Nature will serve rain to Pontiac area residents tonight and tomorrow with temperatures back to normal.

Lows will be about 42 to 45 tonight. Highs are expected to bounce up to 54 to 56 tomorrow. Partly cloudy, windy and colder is the forecast for Friday.

Today's east to southeasterly winds will continue at 10 to 20 miles per hour.

A mild 40 was the low thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. today. At 1:41 p.m. the mercury registered 45.

Troy Youth, 17, Fatally Injured in Car-Truck Crash

A 17-year-old Troy youth was killed yesterday afternoon when his car collided with a tractor on a highway.

Police said Frederick Ford, 1944 Model, Troy was killed when his car, which was traveling west on Big Beaver, ran into the back of the truck about 2:30 p.m.

Police are still investigating the accident.

Seek Injunction in School Strike

Board Not Bargaining in Good Faith—Union

The Romeo Board of Education today is seeking an injunction to order striking bus drivers, custodians and cooks back to work.

Schools Supt. T. C. Filippa said the injunction was to be filed in Macomb County Circuit Court in attempt to prevent continuation of the strike which began Monday.

The employees, represented by Local 1664, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, claim the board is not negotiating "in good faith" on salaries and other matters.

A team of three board members has been negotiating with the union.

Filippa said no further meetings will be held until the injunction becomes effective.

Filippa said the union has made large salary demands and that the board has made counterproposals in spite of the union's claims to the contrary.

AT AID MEETING — Conferring with some 50 elementary school principals and Parent-Teacher Association presidents yesterday were Pontiac Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer (left) and Bert C. Van Koughnett, administrator of the district's elementary and secondary school aid program. The group learned of a possible 15 per cent cutback in federal spending for education here.

U.S. Aid to Schools May Be Cut in City

Pontiac's elementary schools may be in for a 15 per cent cutback in monies available under the federal aid to education act, school officials learned yesterday.

Bert C. Van Koughnett, administrator of the district's elementary and secondary school aid program, told of the possible meeting yesterday of some 50 elementary school principals, Parent-Teacher Association presidents, and parents.

School officials have been notified that they may submit proposed programs for the 1966-67 school year for only up to 85 per cent of the cost of the current programs.

Van Koughnett said "almost official" word had been received on the 85 per cent limit.

School officials are notified of the funds available and then submit proposed programs.

45 PROGRAM — The district's "1965" program, which is in operation for the balance of the current school year, came to $395,790.

Tentative word from the State Board of Education of Lansing is that this year's funds will amount to $328,421.

These programs would run during the 1966-67 school year.

In light of the prospective tighter budget, Van Koughnett told the parents and principals that their ideas on administration of the program were "vital."

PHASES — "We're not committed to any one of the seven different phases of our elementary program," he said.

"Depending on the reactions and thoughts we get from the people in our district, we may be forced to sharply limit or even eliminate part of the program."

Van Koughnett did point out, however, that the possibility still existed that Pontiac would eventually receive funds equal to those it got last year.

"The government has determined that 15 per cent of the economically disadvantaged families in the state are Indians or migrant workers," he said.

PORTION WITHHELD — "This portion has been withheld from our funds."

"In the event districts with Indians or migrant workers fail to apply for funds, we could then conceivably apply for and receive the money we need."

Ideas and suggestions from the participants at the conference in the board meeting room were submitted to Van Koughnett.

Principals and PTA presidents will take synopses of the proposals for discussion at each school's May PTA meeting.

School Official to Run Again

3rd Candidate to File for Waterford Post

Veteran incumbent Eldon C. Rosegart today filed nominating petitions for the Waterford Township School District's June 13 board of education election.

Rosegart, 47, of 2983 Shawnee, Waterford Township, has been a member of the Waterford Township Board of Education since 1959 and served as president from 1960 to 1962.

He is the third candidate to file nominating petitions for the election.

The others are incumbent Norman L. Cheal, 46, of 2751 North Lake and newcomer Lewis S. Long, 39, of 5657 Brunswick, both of Waterford Township.

Two-year positions will be decided in the election.

NEW POSITION — An administrative assistant at Pontiac's Kennedy Junior High School, Rosegart recently accepted a position — effective July 1 — with Oakland Schools as assistant superintendent for state and federal affairs.

Sixteen of his 26 years as an educator have been spent in the Pontiac school system.

He has served as band director at Lincoln Junior High School and Pontiac Northern High School.

He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Michigan State University and currently is working toward an educational specialist degree at Wayne State University.

Rosegart is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Mu Alpha, American School Band Directors Association, Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, Michigan Association of School Boards and Oakland County Association of School Boards.

White Lake Official Gets Exam Delay

A two-week postponement was granted this morning for the preliminary court examination of White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Chey, charged by the Oakland County Grand Jury with conspiracy, bribery and extortion.

Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hemstead approved the delay after learning that Chey's attorney, Joseph Louisell of Detroit, was unavailable for the hearing. It was rescheduled for 9 a.m. May 23.

Louisell is presently in federal court in Detroit on another case.

Chey, 39, of 2900 Ridge, is accused of accepting $1,500 of $3,000 allegedly extorted from Mrs. Willard Dawson, 3560 Ormond, White Lake Township, in a property rezoning case.

COUNTY LEADERS MEET — Rolf Breusing (left), administrator for an association of 17 counties in Germany, renews his acquaintance with Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, who met Breusing while in Europe in 1962. While touring county offices yesterday, Breusing's attention was focused on the current budget, which he termed similar to those in Germany. Breusing is in Wayne County today.

New Leader for Teacher Association

Robert Hutchinson, a sixth-grade teacher at Covert Elementary School, yesterday took over as president of the Waterford Education Association (WEA).

He was president-elect last year. Other officers were chosen at an election yesterday.

Hutchinson, of 9991 Dixie, Springfield Township, succeeds Robert Crumpton, who was elected vice president in yesterday's voting.

Also elected yesterday were Ladeen Floyd, secretary, and Jim Dieck, treasurer.

Newly named committee chairmen are Art Lake, representative assembly delegate; Jack McCaffrey, legislative chairman; Larry Timm, salary chairman; and Marge Schmidt, public relations chairman.

Others elected were John Sommers, professional problems chairman; Janet Vacker, publications; and Dan Davidson, teachers' ethical and professional standards.

All terms are for one year, effective June 1.

In assuming his new post, Hutchinson said, "Recent state legislation has given teachers an opportunity never before presented to them. We now have the potential to become both professional and organizational in practice as well as in theory."

"The next few years will serve to demonstrate whether teachers can exercise their prerogatives in these areas."

"It is inherent in a professional organization to be able to exercise some judgment in determining who is admitted to the profession."

"It is also the responsibility of a profession to offer strong leadership in shaping and instituting policies and programs within the realm of their particular profession."

"If we are to become professional in the true sense of the word we must address ourselves to these and other areas relative to education."

JUDY GIVEN OK TO START School in Fall

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Judy Lynn Funch returns following heart operation and doctors say the little Genesee Township girl can start kindergarten this fall.

"They definitely feel they have done her some good. It will take time to tell just how much good," her mother, Mrs. Clarence Funch, said Tuesday after the one day hospital visit.

"I think she's much better now than she was before the operation. She has a sparkle about her now that she never had before," she added.

Judy underwent surgery two months ago Tuesday to remove an obstruction from a pulmonary vein taking oxygenated blood from a lung to her heart.

The risky operation was needed, doctors said, to give the girl a chance to grow up. Without the operation, the blonde child was given only a few years to live.

ONLY A PART — "Brick and mortar for new construction are only a part of our basic concern," he said. "A strong educational program for both our technical and two-year liberal arts curriculum are the most important aspects of the community college philosophy."

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Fresh Buddhist agitation was reported today in units of the Vietnamese army as Premier Nguyen Cao Ky repeated his prediction that he and his military government will remain in power at last another year.

Informed sources said Buddhist chaplains were stirring up troops against the government in the 1st and 2nd Corps areas. Both are north of Saigon.

Informants said that, for the second time this spring, more American servicemen than Vietnamese were killed and injured in action last week.

The first such switch in the casualty ratio came during a week of political crisis in April that diverted battalions of Vietnamese troops from field duty.

The 1st Corps, commanded by Gen. Ton That Dinh, has been in a state of virtual disaffection. Dinh, appointed by Saigon to bring it into the fold, has proceeded cautiously.

BUDDHIST INFLUENCE — The strong Buddhist influence in the northernmost areas has spread south to the 2nd Corps, the sources said. According to these reports, chaplains were urging soldiers to press for return to civilian life demanded by Buddhist leadership.

Most of Viet Nam's 15 million people are Buddhists, but only a small part of them are politically organized.

Ky reiterated in Saigon his plan to remain in power for another year while a lengthy process involving two elections and drafting of a constitution is completed.

Ky spoke to newsmen shortly before a cabinet meeting described by informants last as stormy. Apparently there were divergencies between Ky and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, who has the title of the chief of state. Personal clashes were reported between other junta members.

There also were reports of planned reshuffle of the ruling 10-man directorate.

The shopping center owners have been given 30 days to finish and repair the wall.

Dismissal of General

LANSING (AP) — The State court of Appeals was considering today whether Gov. George Romney, who fired Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald as state adjutant general last May, had the legal power to remove a military man.

Opposing attorneys asked the court Monday to decide whether McDonald was a state officer, coming under Romney's dismissal powers, or strictly a military officer, to be tried only in military court.

A court aide said a decision would take one to three months. Romney fired McDonald last May 20 after a 93-hour hearing into alleged irregularities in the Michigan military establishment, involving land deals at Camp Grayling and army funds.

McDonald started two appeal proceedings. Monday's case, McDonald vs. Maj. Gen. Clarence Schnipke, disputes Romney's power to remove McDonald and appoint Schnipke to act in his place.

On the other appeal, McDonald vs. Romney, goes into the question of whether Romney committed any errors in his hearing.

A citizens committee, headed by Zemon Hansen, president of Mack Trucks, and James Andert, a Lansing businessman, reported it has spent $28,412 to date and probably will need $16,000 more for McDonald's defense.

House OKs Rent Plan Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's controversial rent subsidy program has survived another harrowing test in Congress.

With some personal pressure from several top administration aides, the House voted 192 to 188 Tuesday to include $22 million to finance the program next year in an otherwise noncontroversial $14 billion omnibus appropriation bill.

The measure goes to the Senate, where an earlier emergency measure allocating $12.1 million for the program for the rest of this fiscal year was approved 66 to 48. The House had passed the emergency measure earlier, 196 to 180.

The rent program was created by Johnson's best friend during its projected 40-year life, $6 billion would be paid to nonprofit or cooperative groups which build housing for low-income families. The payments normally would represent the difference between 25 per cent of the tenant's income and the rental cost.

REPUBLICANS
Six Republicans joined 186 House Democrats in support of the amendment to finance the program next year despite the House Appropriations Committee's refusal to do so. Voting to chop off the program were 60 Democrats and 119 Republicans.

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien and Secretary of Robert C. Weaver of the Department of Housing and Urban Development spent several hours at the Capitol and on congressional telephones lining up reluctant supporters.

Rep. Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., offered the amendment both as a boon to the poor and to restore the money. He said private builders needed encouragement to get into the field of housing for low-income families, Albert.

Rail Union 'Whisky Rebellion' Ends After Judge Issues Order

NEW YORK (AP) — The "whisky rebellion" strike that knocked out part of the Long Island Rail Road's service last week ended Tuesday.

"Everything's going beautifully," a railroad spokesman said today. He said all train crews had reported on time and trains were moving normally.

The railroad said supervisory personnel had worked through the night getting things ready.

A Long Island Rail Road executive luncheon Tuesday, at which liquor was served, triggered the strike during last evening's rush hour by diesel trainmen protesting earlier punishment of crewmen for drinking beer with their lunch.

15,000 COMMUTERS HIT
The strike hit about 15,000 commuters trying to proceed from a Queens terminal to their homes on Long Island.

A federal judge issued a back-to-work order, and a union spokesman said Tuesday night, "We will obey the court order. We are calling all our men and telling them to report for work."

The line's electric service continued out of Pennsylvania Station, but some 80,000 commuters, trying to beat the strike, jammed the trains. One woman fainted and a youth had a fingernail torn off in the crush.

Muttered one commuter, "It's illegal, what we've had to put up with for years."

The railroad provided special buses to take hundreds of commuters home. Taxicabs and private limousines did brisk business. So did city subways and buses.

Attending the executive luncheon Tuesday at the International Hotel, Kennedy Airport, was Harold J. Pryor, head of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen's LIRR Lodge.

Two weeks ago, three diesel crewmen were suspended for drinking beer during a turn-around stop at a Long Island station. The union said they were dining on pizza pies and washing them down with beer.

The company said customary procedure for employees charged with violating the rules is to appear before an investigatory body. The company said the men never appeared.

RULE NOT APPLICABLE

At the luncheon, Pryor referred to the suspension of the workers and said: "If they (management) have the right to take my men out of service for alleged drinking, those men at the cocktail party should have taken themselves out of service."

A railroad spokesman said persons drinking at the luncheon do not operate trains and the company rule does not apply to them.

Pryor replied that Rule G of the LIRR rule book "applies to all employees of the company."

Light Industry OK'd for Site Near School

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—The Township Board last night approved a request to rezone 53 acres of land near Brooks School from farm to light manufacturing.

In a roll call vote, board members voted 4-1 in favor of the request. Trustee Walter H.

Budget Hikes Oxford Pay; Tax Rate Cut

OXFORD—The Village Council last night adopted a $179,100 budget for 1966-67 which includes raises for all employees.

The budget, which is about $18,000 more than the present budget, covers a 20-cent per hour wage increase bringing salaries for hourly-rated personnel to $2.55 per hour.

At the same time, the council reduced the workweek for the police department from 48 hours to 44 hours and the hours for the department of public works from 45 to 40 a week.

The council set the operating tax rate at $11.50 per $1,000 assessed valuation, a decrease from the present $20 per $1,000.

Village Manager Robert Smalley explained that by assessing at 50 per cent of valuation, the 11.5 mills will produce $61,000 in taxes as compared to the present $49,300 on 20 mills.

2 MAJOR INCREASES

He said the new assessing procedure produces two major increases in taxes.

Assessed valuation on the vacant Bopp-Decker building, west from $2,400 to $146,900. The Detroit Edison personal property tax assessment increased from $66,000 to $259,000.

Budget allotments for the various departments include mayor and council, $2,700; missions, $1,645; engineering and municipal building, $3,400; commission, $3,800; civil defense, $800; manager, $8,900; clerk, treasurer and assessor, $7,370.

Others are attorney, $1,000; justice court, $3,000; independent audit, $750; DPW, $39,185; water department, $19,727; police department, $46,165; fire department, $17,195; health and welfare, $7,990; miscellaneous, $9,200; and contingent fund, $5,000.

By Romeo Council

School Aid Committee Formed

ROMEO—A four-member Romeo Area Community Action Committee has been set up to formulate plans to obtain federal funds for various school programs.

Appointed to the committee by the Village Council were Clyde Spencer, Rev. J. Charles Dibley, Melvin Kerr and Louis Verrellen.

Programs to be studied in-

Weisman cast the dissenting vote.

Cheers and applause from some 100 residents attending the meeting greeted the board's decision.

The action ended some six months of searching by a five-man industrial committee for an "ideal" industrial park site that would increase the township's tax base.

The rezoned property is located on three sides of the Brooks School site on Hill Road just north of M59. It is owned by Warren developers, Al Rossi, Raymond Sequin and John Bologna.

INITIAL COST
The developers expect the project will cost them close to $100,000 "before it even gets off the ground."

Opposing the rezoning request was a group of citizens who expressed the feeling that an industrial site should not be adjacent to a school building. Opposition was led by Donald von Rase, who led the Brooks Elementary School PTA against the proposal.

Township Supervisor Edward Chezy read letters containing direct quotes from area school superintendents favoring light industrial manufacturing.

Superintendent of Wall Lake Consolidated Schools George Garver was quoted as stating, "One of the strengths of a township is industrial growth. Most citizens approve its presence because it reduces their taxes."

IN FAVOR

Remarks favoring light industry were also read from superintendents of Romeo, Livonia and Plymouth districts.

Robert J. Hartzell, Detroit industrial realtor, explained the need for light industry and industrial parks.

Said Hartzell, "It's up industry, or up taxes. This so-called school board is opposed to industrial parks in school areas and is opposed to the proposition as they see it at the present time."

Representing the Huron Valley School Board was Horace Lodge, chairman, James Smith and Harry Porter.

SCHOOL BOARD OPPOSED
Lodge said the Huron Valley School Board is opposed to industrial parks in school areas and is opposed to the proposition as they see it at the present time.

include a Head Start Program for educationally deprived preschool children.
In other action, the council voted to pay $750 as its share of a traffic signal at the corner of North Main and Hollister.
Village Clerk Norman Engle said the council objected to paying because it felt it was a state project.

Lodge also indicated the school board is considering enlarging Brooks School and may possibly consider purchasing additional property in the future.

Von Rase stated that "Once the rezoning is agreed to, they (the township board) can do as they please."

He was countered by Township Clerk Ferdinand C. Vetter, who said, "If this statement is true, we may as well throw out the ordinance."

IN EFFECT AT ONCE
Vetter went on to say, "The moment the rezoning is put into effect, regulations and restrictions go into effect immediately."

Von Rase, in a statement this morning, said "Because of the strong opposition shown last night, we are proceeding with the immediate formation of the Save the Brooks School Committee."

The purpose of the committee, said von Rase, is "to overturn through legal action the rezoning of the land around the Brooks School."

New Appointments for Utica Schools

UTICA—Three new staff appointments have been made by the board of education.

David Brown, a teacher at Burr Elementary School, was named new assistant principal as well as project coordinator for the Title I program for educationally deprived children.

Donald Elliott, a teacher at Sterling Junior High School, was named new assistant principal at Shelby Junior High.

Donald Bemis, administrative assistant, was named to head the Title III program in which Warren, Romeo, Chippewa Valley and Utica school districts are participating.

M-Week Kickoff Dance Slated by Goodfellows

An anticipated 230 persons are expected to attend the affair. Proceeds of the dance will be used for filling Goodfellow Christmas baskets this year.

Race Strip to Become Home Site

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—The Pontiac-M59 Dragway, 9516 Highland, is being replaced by a mobile home park expected to house some 250 modern trailer homes.

Owners and developers are Charles Miller, formerly with the R&M Department Store in Union Lake, and Clare Snell, a builder for the past 40 years.

Snell's most recent project is the Independence Square, an apartment complex on Dixie Highway at the base of Waterford Hill, where Miller now makes his home.

The proposed Cranberry Lake Mobile Home Village will feature extra large lots, according to Snell.

AREA FACILITIES
Located on the shores of Cranberry Lake, the park is expected to provide a community hall, automatic laundry, recreational facilities and an 800-foot span of beach.

Underground electric, telephone and central fuel lines will eliminate utility poles and overhead wiring, Miller said.

Also included in the park plans will be a community water system and a central sewage disposal system.
The old speedway track is scheduled to be torn out today. Among the favorites to race on the oval asphalt speedway was Joy Fair.

Fair was the Flat Rock Champ of 1965 and won the championship at the M59 speedway for the years 1957, '58, and '59. The father of three children, Fair is still racing.

School District Switch Nixed

BRANDON TOWNSHIP—The Brandon Board of Education Monday night denied a request to transfer three parcels of land in Springfield Township to the Clarkston School District.

Schools Supt. Burl A. Glendenning said the request was from three property owners who felt the transfer would "enhance the value" of their land.

He said the board denied the request because it felt it "might open the door to too many other transfers."

PTA Installation

CLARKSTON—The Clarkston Elementary School PTA will install its new officers at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow. The officers will serve one-year terms in the 1966-67 school year.

$3.1-Million Proposals Are on School Ballot

CLARKSTON—Voters of the Clarkston School District will consider four propositions at the June 13 election, in addition to filling a four-year board of education seat now held by Secretary Walter Wilberg.

The propositions, endorsed by the board of education, consist of two bonding issues totaling $3.1 million, a proposed tax increase and transfer of funds.

Voters will consider:

- A $2.5-million bonding proposition to finance new buildings and sites, improvements and additions to existing schools and furnishings and equipment to buildings.

- A $600,000 bonding issue for construction of a swimming pool.

- A 5-mill increase in operating revenue spread over a period of 10 years.

- Transfer of $37,224 from the remaining balance of the 1964 debt retirement fund to the building and sites fund for a track at the high school and for blacktopping parking lots at Sashabaw and Bailey Lake elementary schools.

School officials decided to present the package to voters when they were petitioned by the Clarkston Junior Chamber of Commerce to place the swimming pool question on the ballot.

PROPOSED INCREASE

It was emphasized that the proposed millage increase would result in a property tax hike of only $1 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation since the 5-mill increase would be mostly offset by reducing the debt retirement levy by 4 mills from 11 to 7.

"The increased demands of employees for higher wages is making it mandatory that schools spend a larger portion of their total revenue for operation," said Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent of schools.

Greene stressed that the district's tax rate would not exceed 28.38 mills ($28.38 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) at any time within the 10-year period.

The current tax rate is $27.38 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

8 MILLS VOTED
The district presently levies 16.38 mills for operation. Eight mills have been voted, while the remaining 8.38 are appropriated by the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board.

The additional 5 mills—to be spread over a 10-year period—would increase the operating millage to 21.38.

Included in the $2.5-million bonding proposal is an estimated $1.75 million for a new junior high school.

School officials contend that a new junior high school will be needed in 1968.

SWIMMING POOL

The swimming pool facility would be attached to the high school, according to school officials.

In other recent action, the board of education ordered purchase of $29,900 worth of industrial arts equipment for the high school.

Three-year contracts have been approved with the cafeteria workers and secretarial associations in which about 43 employees were granted pay increases.

The board also has approved sale of $1.5 million in bonds to continue the district's present building program.

Rocky, Sorensen Kin Win Primary Races

By the Associated Press
Nebraska Lt. Gov. Philip C. Sorensen and West Virginian John D. Rockefeller IV moved to their family names back into the political spotlight today after strong victories in Tuesday's primary elections.

Sorensen, 32, brother of former presidential aide Theodore C. Sorensen, won the Democratic nomination for governor in Nebraska by a wide margin. His Republican opponent in November will be political newcomer Norbert T. Tiemann, a small-town banker. Three other candidates finished far behind.

Tiemann, little known outside banking circles until six months ago, defeated former three-term Republican Gov. Val Peterson in a surprising show of strength.

Rockefeller, nephew of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and son of John D. Rockefeller III, chairman of the Rockefeller Foundation, led a 56-man Kanawha County (Charleston) ticket in winning a Democratic nomination for the West Virginia House of Delegates.

The 28-year-old bachelor, who has been an antipoverty program social worker for the past 19 months near Charleston, changed his party registration to Democrat earlier this year.

The Rockefeller-Sorensen elections topped primaries that also included a spate of congressional races and two battles for senatorial nominations.

In one of these battles, outgoing Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison of Nebraska won an easy primary victory over Raymond Arndt of Columbus and will challenge GOP Sen. Carl T. Curtis in the fall. Curtis was unopposed in the primary.

In West Virginia, former Republican Francis J. Love, who served one House term in the 1940s, defeated retired executive Harold G. Cutright for the chance to run in November against Sen. Jennings Randolph, who was unopposed in the Democratic primary.

NEW TECHNIQUE — Using a special electric pen, a man writes on a tablet during a demonstration of "blackboard-by-wire." The technique utilizes ordinary telephone lines for transmission to television receivers. A voice is carried by a separate telephone line.

Blackboard-by-Wire May Alter Teaching

NEW YORK (AP)—A professor draws a circle on a tablet in his New York office. The circle appears simultaneously on television screens in classrooms around the country.

"The circumference equals the diameter times pi," drones the professor's television voice.

And on the screen appears the formula: "D times 3.1416 equals C."

The technique, dubbed "blackboard-by-wire," is one of many that is revolutionizing modern teaching. It can connect the poorest schoolhouse with brilliant scholars many miles distant.

The process was demonstrated Tuesday for technicians and educators by its developer, the General Telephone and Electronics Corp.

A company official seated on a hotel stage wrote an equation on his tablet. It was transmitted by telephone line to Erie, Pa., and then back again. In an instant the equation appeared on several 23-inch television monitors.

A separate telephone line carried the official's commentary.

The company plans to install transmitting equipment in test classrooms later this year. The equipment will sell for about $5,000. It connects, with a small adjustment, to standard television sets.

Unlike educational television, "blackboard-by-wire" utilizes neither costly coaxial cables nor limited-range airborne transmitters. Images are formed by electronic impulses, similar to those that produce photographic pictures on telephone lines for the Associated Press.

Besides its classroom uses, the system may become valuable to industry and military sources who want to confer graphically over long distances. In each case, the "blackboard" conversation can be kept as confidential as a telephone call.

Educators seemed impressed by the demonstration.

Repugnance to A-Bomb Use Grows

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Ever since man first unlocked the secret of the atom, he has questioned the wisdom of his own accomplishment.

Among the creators of that first bomb which the United States dropped on Hiroshima have been the strongest voices against its use.

And as the international membership in the "Atomic Club" has increased from one to five, there has been a growing repugnance to it.

The fear is not only the weapon itself and instant death to millions, but of its very development and of the radioactive fallout which, although not directed at any single individual, city or nation, still can distort nature for generations yet unborn.

Such was the case of the "Fortunate Dragon."

NEAR BIKINI ATOLL
It was 3 a.m. on March 1, 1954, that the Fortunate Dragon, a Japanese vessel with a crew of 23, was fishing some 80 miles east of Bikini Atoll in the Pacific.

A brilliant flash hit the sky, and a mushroom-shaped cloud arose.

Within minutes, white ash began falling on the decks of the Fortunate Dragon.

By March 3 most of the crew was incapacitated by nausea, burns, and swollen and irritated skin which in some cases turned black.

OUTSIDE ZONE

The Fortunate Dragon was 20 miles outside the restricted zone established by the United States for its 1954 hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower told his March 24 news conference that the explosion surpassed expectations and that scientists in charge must have been surprised and astonished at the result.

In Japan, the news that some taminated tuna had reached the east home market touched off panic.

In September 1954, one of the Fortunate Dragon crew members died of a liver disorder complicated by Jaundice and pneumonia.

UNIQUE CASE

The case of the Fortunate Dragon is, so far as is known, unique in the annals of atomic testing.

But fears have not abated.

Watch the 'Spring' in Your Step

Within two days recently four Pontiac children were struck by motor vehicles. One of the youngsters was hospitalized.

In none of the accidents were the drivers ticketed, since they were not held accountable.

How then is responsibility to be assessed?

The words of the police department's safety director undoubtedly give as good, if indefinite, answer as any: "In nice weather cars drive faster and kids are running all over the place."

And that is exactly what happens this time of year. Kids — yes, adults — feel the bounce of spring, move with more celerity and less heed. Operators of autos or motorcycles likewise respond to the exhilaration of the season and bear down a bit harder on the accelerator.

So, drivers and pedestrians, let's take to heart the words of the safety expert and pace ourselves accordingly. Parents and teachers might well sound a frequent warning to children to stop and look before venturing into streets.

Many injuries or, worse, deaths, may be prevented by such concerted action.

Nation Salutes Its A-Go-Go Transportation

Sunday ushered in National Transportation Week. The colossus being observed holds great significance for the vitality and future of a sprawling America.

Even if you've never tried to sell ice cubes to an Eskimo in the middle of the Arctic night, the role of transport in modern economic life touches us all.

Things are not very valuable until you take them someplace where they are wanted, nor life little more than endurable if people cannot be transported from where they are to where they want to go.

Under the impetus of need and the opportunity of free enterprise, America can boast the largest, most versatile and efficient transport systems in the world.

During Transportation Week, it will be emphasized that as a Nation our future will to large extent depend on wise, comprehensive, development of all modes of transport — rail, highway, air and water.

Common carriers have long been subject to government regulation. Such control holds great influence. The public interest requires that it be impartially administered to insure competitive freedom for all with legislative favoritism for none.

Will the Real Discoverer of America Stand Up?

FANS OF CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS will be glad to learn that LEIF ERICSON is getting his comeuppance. Not that it will do CHRIS' image much good, though.

It seems that the doughty Viking himself was a tardy visitor to America. According to an article in the current "American Heritage," one Hwuai Shan, a fifth-century Buddhist priest, journeyed to the "Land of Fusang" in 458 A.D.

Studying the evidence in Hwuai Shan's account of his voyage, which was entered in the Chinese imperial archives, the article's author concludes that Fusang — meaning "fabulous," "super" or "colossal" — was none other than the New World. If so, it gives Hwuai Shan a 500-year edge over Ericson and puts him 1,000 years ahead of Columbus.

This COLUMBUS in reverse, says the authority, sailed across the North Pacific, past the Aleutian Islands to Alaska and down the west coast to America as far as Mexico, where he apparently remained for 40 years.

The most remarkable aspect of Hwuai Shan's account was his accurate description of the flora and fauna of Mexico and the customs of the people as they were known to have been at that time.

As has happened before in other divisions of knowledge, what was once considered a closed book is now broken wide open.

Where once it was dogma among historians that there were absolutely no contacts between the Old World and the New before Columbus, now evidence to the contrary is accumulating.

War, Inflation Hand-in-Hand

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — So far in 1966 the two biggest arguments are over the war in Viet Nam and the danger of inflation. They are not related.

The more the government spends on war, the more profits, prices and wages are affected. With out war, inflation might seem more remote.

President Johnson, trying to play cautious on how far to go with the war and how far to go to prevent inflation, is making people see in both cases. Instead of asking for a tax boost as a major anti-inflation move, he has asked labor and business to take it easy.

Easy means keeping down prices and big wage demands. These are his guidelines, voluntary action, requested of both sides.

But there are arguments on all sides: There should be direct government controls on prices and wages; there should be a tax increase without other controls; neither controls nor taxes are needed.

A few things that happened last week show the divided thinking, if not confusion. Gardner Ackley, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, asked whether it wasn't time for business to part a little less about profits.

He asked: "Does anyone imagine that labor will continue to show moderation in its wage demands when prices and profit margins are continually rising?"

But—many recent wage settlements have substantially exceeded the guideline suggested for labor, that wage increases should be limited to 3.2 per cent a year. Labor spokesmen are not satisfied with the guideline.

One complaint they make: The guideline puts a suggested lid on workers while leaving the gate open for business profits, stock dividends and corporation executives' salaries.

BUSINESS COMPLAINS
Businessmen complain Johnson's guideline for them is federal interference in free enterprise. Some have expressed fear the temporary restraint might become permanent.

William McCleskey Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board didn't plead for restraint. He said a tax increase on corporations and individuals is needed now as an anti-inflationary weapon.

Since this is a congressional election year Johnson doesn't have to have a political psychologist tell him that a tax increase is not likely to make voters happy.

But Johnson has a seldom-used 21-man Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy. He told it "disquieting signs are beginning to appear."

He called on it for advice, saying: "I want you to ask yourselves: If you were president, what would you do?"

'You Too?'

David Lawrence Says:

Racial Data Card Astounding

WASHINGTON — Racial consciousness, which has long been deplored, is likely to be encouraged unwittingly by a new move just taken by the federal government.

A card has been issued to all government employees to set up a racial classification, LAWRENCE thought for some unexplained reason it lists only certain races and nationalities. The card reads as follows:

"To employ:
"1. Please read the statement on the other side of this card if you have not already done so.
"2. Check the one block below which best describes your race or national origin:

- [] American Indian
- [] Negro
- [] Oriental
- [] Spanish-American
- [] None of these (Check this block if you are other than listed above.)

"3. After you checked your answer, return this card according to the instructions given by your supervisor."

On the reserve side of the questionnaire is the following message:

"To employ:
"The federal government and your employer want to be sure that every individual, whatever his race or national origin, gets fair and equal treatment. To do this, we need to know how many minority group employees there are, what kinds of jobs they hold, what grade level their jobs are, and other things that will show whether or not there is discrimination. Minority group records are being set up for this purpose.
"You are asked to help by checking the block on the other side of this card which describes your race or national origin. Your answer will be kept confidential and will not be used against you in any way."

Many government employees are astounded by the nature of the questionnaire, and some of them are asking why there is no reference to other racial groups, such as Polish-American, Greek-American, Italian-American, or to any religion. Since the questionnaire is concerned nevertheless that they may be removed to permit more Negroes to get jobs.

Concern is expressed that thus far no action has been taken, either through the courts or through legislation, to block the use of the questionnaire which now has been distributed to hundreds of thousands of government employees, together with instructions to their supervisors to obtain the answers.

Capitol Letter:

Computer System Puts Job Hunting in the Past

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — Instant matchmaking will soon be able to eliminate job hunting as well as courtships.

This was discovered after reading, in the news columns of Baylor University's alumni publication, the following announcement: "Baylor graduates will be able to take advantage of a revolutionary new cost — to cost computer placement system that electronically matches prospective employees and employers."

Arch Hunt, director of Baylor's Placement and Student Aid Center explained: "Qualified graduates seeking employment will be able to send the data on their background, training and experience to the College Placement Council in Bethlehem, Pa., where, for a $16 service fee, this information will be stored in the computer system's electronic files."

"Then, for a nominal fee, employers will be able to communicate by teletype with the computer systems, which are similar in type to those used by airline ticket offices to determine availability of flight reservations."
The employers will be assessed a one-time $10 connection charge for a teletype, $2 for each data sheet ordered, and 50 cents per minute during the time the computer is being searched for the desired information.

NATURALLY SMARTER
Since computers are naturally smarter than people, the estimated search-time is estimated at three minutes.

Arch Hunt says the new system offers "remendous advantages to both job seekers and employers."

Hunt's office already has the names of more than 50 qualified Baylor graduates ready to send to the council's electronic files.

Since thousands of graduates from other universities will presumably also take advantage of the $10 bonanza, employment offices should soon resemble brokerage firms, as personnel men wade knee-deep in ticker tape from the teletypes, watch the flashing lights on the big board, and shout "Hire," or "Fire."

To those squares who would like to pick their own jobs, sweethearts, or wives, we can only say: "Are you some kind of a nut, or something?"

Voice of the People:

Urges Legislative Action on Auto Industry Setback

I agree completely with The Press editorial Monday night on the national setback caused by young Nader's unwarranted attack on the automobile industry. It's high time our legislators in Washington quit sitting on their hands, twiddling their thumbs as they look out the window.

These are automotive people that are losing work. How much longer will it be before our Washington representatives catch on? I'm talking particularly to Senator Philip Hart and Congressman Billie Farnum who are Oakland County men.

MAX ADAMS
SECRETARY, CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Mr. Nader and Mr. Johnson have caused a small setback in the automotive industry and caused a lot of men to lose a lot of work. But if they just kick by their guns and scream a lot more, maybe they can take employment away from thousands and thousands more.

Why isn't more publicity given to something that affects everyone, such as mass spraying? All of Southern Michigan is to be sprayed with Malathion, a more deadly poison than DDT, supposedly to kill the cereal beetle. How many farmers are told how to protect their livestock, and how many fishermen realize what this will do to our lakes and fishing spots? I'm afraid our lives are controlled as much as the beetles.

Civic Role Widened in Business Circles

Executive Director, National Urban Leagues

The old stereotype of the businessman as a strait-laced, tight-fisted individualist interested solely in profits is giving way to the "new look" which is taking hold among enlightened corporations.

Many of the new giants of industry are men who realize that business must look beyond its ledgers and assume some of the responsibility for tackling and solving the social problems facing the nation.

They know, too, that such concern is good business and enlightened self-interest.

Sol Linowitz, chairman of Xerox, says that although firms are still in business to make money, they are "not starting from the assumption of what's in it for me, they start from what's right for the nation."

This makes sense because a business can only mirror the economic and social health of the country, and helping to solve some of these problems helps create the kind of climate in which business thrives.

To this end, some corporations have become involved in operating Job Corps camps for the government. An increasing number of them are participating in government-funded on-the-job training programs.

Surveys of the economic potential of underdeveloped localities are being made for the government by private firms.

A recent study of 1,033 corporations, made by the National Industrial Conference Board, indicates that 815 of them have some kind of public affairs function. These include contributions to community organizations.

Nine of ten of these firms made such donations, 8 of 10 lent personnel and space, and two-thirds encouraged employee participation in community affairs.

GROWING TREND

That this trend is growing has been recognized by the universities. Some major business schools have instituted courses in public affairs and these graduates and the younger middle-management executive who will take the helm in the future will be still more perceptive to these new ideas.

They will take as their models men like Thomas J. Watson Jr. of IBM and Edwin H. Land of Polaroid who served with me on the President's Commission on Technology, Automation and Economic Progress.

They and other business leaders on this commission joined in making a report which dealt with the impact of the new technology and supported consideration of the negative income tax which would set an income floor below which no family could sink.

Unfortunately, this concern for the problems of poverty on the part of many top business leaders has not completely filtered down to middle management and less progressive corporations.

'Won't Alter School Aid Bill'

Pressure Likely in Wake of Detroit Vote

LANSING (AP)—Some senators expect new pressures from Detroit educators seeking increased state aid to schools in the wake of that city's defeat of a $12 million school tax proposal.

But Sen. Garland Lane, D-Fint, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, says the Detroit tax vote will have no effect on the school aid proposal.

The House already has passed a $605 million primary and secondary school plan which includes an increase of approximately $58 million in general fund spending over the current fiscal year.

Even the most education-minded senators estimate the package will be cut by $15 million or more in the Senate.

'LOOKS TO STATE'

"Why should we vote more money just because Detroit turns down more millage?" asked Lane. "If we did that, everybody would vote down taxes and look to the state."

Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Deaorn, another appropriations committee member, said the $12 million could not be made up in the state program but added: "There will be a lot of pressure from the school people now."

Sen. Roger Craig, D-Deaorn, also a committee member, said it would "be undesirable to reward Detroit for refusing to finance education, but the tax vote may encourage the Senate to move closer to the House bill."

"Some of us take a position for a high bill anyhow. This just shows the need for tax reform. You might as well vote millage (taxes) to build missile sites as for education."

The school aid bill is currently in the Senate Education Committee but will get to appropriations for fitting into the over-all state budget.

Morton: U.S. to Blockade Oil to N. Viet

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., predicted Tuesday the Johnson administration soon will order a naval quarantine to halt the flow of oil to North Viet Nam.

Morton told a news conference he advocated a "Kennedy-type quarantine" to prevent shipment of oil to North Viet Nam.

He said most Republicans in Congress favor such a blockade and realize the danger of escalation it carries.

But they favor "getting this thing over as soon as possible," he said.

WERE ALLOWED

President Kennedy used the Navy to keep Russia from sending missiles into Cuba during the crisis in 1962. But ships carrying medical supplies and foodstuffs were allowed to pass through the 1962 blockade.

Morton was in Detroit to address 250 potential GOP financial contributors from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Canada Gets Seaway Boost

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada has won an increased share of St. Lawrence Seaway tolls after "very long and difficult" negotiations with the United States, the House of Commons Public Accounts Committee was told Tuesday.

Since the seaway opened in 1959, said Dr. Pierre Camu, chairman of Canada's Seaway Authority, Canada has received 71 per cent of tolls, the United States 29 per cent. He said beginning next year, this split will be 72-28. The same ratio is applied to operating costs.

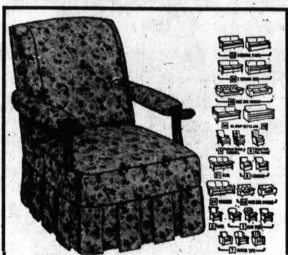

Dr. Pierre Camu, who heads the authority operating the Canadian side of the waterway, said talks on a more equitable division of revenues began in 1962 and concluded recently.

"They were very long and difficult negotiations," he said, without elaborating.

David Bushnell built a crude one-man submarine in 1776 called the "Turtle."

Storms, Cold
Spread in U.S.Crop Damage Grows; Twisters, Snow Hit

By United Press International
Crop-killing frost spread from the Carolinas to Connecticut today. A new spring storm rolled down from the Rockies and pushed across the central Plains with high winds, rain and snow. The bitter, record-breaking cold wave which covered the Northeast for the third straight day threatened to push still higher an already multimillion dollar loss suffered by fruit and vegetable growers.

Crop losses were placed at more than $10 million in Michigan. Indiana growers reeled from at least a $4-million loss, and Ohio experts said northern Ohio's commercial fruit crop, valued at $8 million, may be a complete loss.

The Great Plains storm, which spawned tornadoes in Texas, Kansas and Nebraska yesterday, churned toward the Great Lakes region early today.

Rain and sleet covered much of northern Illinois, and the Weather Bureau posted livestock warnings for southwestern Minnesota and eastern South Dakota. Thunderstorms hit the Plains hard during the night.

LITTLE DAMAGE

Tornadoes spun off from the southern edge of the Great Plains storm Tuesday night but did little damage.

Several farm buildings were smashed by a twister at Hale Corner, Tex., and a radio transmission tower was toppled at Plainview, Tex.

State Reels
From Frost
Fruit Losses

ST. JOSEPH (UPI) — Southwestern Michigan fruit farmers, already reeling from a $10 million blow, lit smudge pots early today and braced for another crop-killing freeze.

Temperatures were expected to rise above freezing today but not before another night and morning of readings in the 20s.

Agriculture marketing experts said the freeze killed about 25 per cent of the area's rich fruit crop yesterday.

Clifford Conrad, Berrien County extension agent for horticulture, estimated damage at $5 to $10 million in his county alone and said total crop damage in Allegan, Cass, Van Buren and Kalamazoo counties would match the Berrien loss.

The loss also appeared likely to hit consumers in the pocketbook. Donald Juchartz, head of Michigan State University's Wayne Cooperative Service in Detroit, said the Southwest Michigan freeze would cause short supplies of peaches, grapes and apples throughout Michigan and probably would hike prices 2 to 5 per cent.

CAN'T FORECAST

G.E. Gardner, marketing supervisor for the Michigan Department of Agriculture in Lansing, said supplies and price trends for most fruits could not be forecast until crops from other areas were evaluated.

Trenton Mayor Loses Election

Negro Vote Pivotal in Two Jersey Races

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The mayor of Trenton was defeated in a reelection bid and the mayor of Newark was forced into a runoff Tuesday as the Negro vote proved pivotal in both races.

Mayor Arthur J. Holland of Trenton, the state capital, was defeated by 2,300 votes in his first election since he moved into a racially mixed neighborhood two years ago. He lost the two predominantly Negro wards by a total of about 3,000 votes.

In Newark, the state's largest city, Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio was forced into a runoff election June 14 against former Mayor Leo P. Carlin.

The runoff grew out of a surprisingly heavy vote for one of two Negro challengers in a field of six candidates.

FIVE RIVALS
Addonizio, 52, a former congressman seeking his second term as mayor, outdistanced his five rivals by wide margins. However, his total vote of 45,883 was slightly less than the majority of all votes cast, which was necessary for election. Newark has 153,573 registered voters, of whom 93,070 cast ballots. About half of the city's population is Negro.

Carlin registered 18,540 votes and Kenneth A. Gibson, a 33-year-old Negro civil engineer, polled 15,883, much of them in the predominantly Negro central and south wards.

Another Negro, Otis W. King, a 46-year-old accountant, received only 1,151 votes. Gibson and King were the first Negroes to run for mayor in Newark.

Sailors' Contract Contains Oddities

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — West Coast sailors may be guaranteed shipboard 21-inch television sets, steam irons and automatic ice cube machines in their new labor contract.

Those items were included in a tentative agreement made public by the AFL-CIO Seafarers Union and the Pacific Maritime Association, an employer group.

The latest fringe benefits made public also include $20,000 war risk insurance.

Banquet Will Honor Seniors in Waterford

Ninety-four outstanding senior students, 47 each from Waterford Kettering and Waterford Township High Schools, will be honored Monday night at the "Michigan Week" honors banquet to be held at Mason Junior High School.

Sponsored by the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club, the banquet will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, head football coach at the University of Michigan, will be guest speaker. Master of ceremonies will be Howard Heldenbrand, Pontiac Press editorial writer.

Organist William Terry will play music during the dinner hour. The "Gleemen" from Kettering also will entertain.

The public is invited. Tickets at $5 each can be purchased from any club member.

Honored will be seniors who have excelled in academic or extracurricular programs.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Henry A. Barnes, New York City traffic commissioner who is leaving a hospital today after treatment for a heart attack, says: "I'm back to my normal ill humor, and I'll be kicking around for a while."

Barnes, 59, talked with newsmen at St. Vincent's Hospital yesterday.

"I've learned something from my stay here," he said. "Fifteen-hour workdays are out for a while." He said he planned to resume work on a part-time basis the middle of next month. Barnes suffered a heart attack—his second—on April 15.

Barnes said that he had felt "pretty good" when he entered the hospital until he read the headlines about his ailment.

Admiral Says U. S., Australia Linked Again

U.S. Vice Adm. Paul H. Ramsay said today that Americans and Australians are fighting side by side in Viet Nam in the same spirit of cooperation and dedication that they showed in the Coral Sea battle 24 years ago.

Ramsay spoke as he laid a wreath at a Coral Sea Week ceremony, in Adelaide, Australia.

Ramsay, deputy chief of naval operations (air) in Washington, said:

"Since our two nations were linked almost within earshot of these shores we are bound in a timeless pledge that those who paid the supreme sacrifice have not died in vain."

Vaccine Cuts Respiratory Ills

By Science Service

MUNICH, West Germany — A new vaccine incorporating seven viral strains has reduced severe respiratory illnesses among school children in a Philadelphia suburb.

There is no plan to market such a vaccine in the near future, its developer, Dr. Maurice R. Hilleman of the Merck Institute for Therapeutic Research, West Point, Pa., reported here at the Fourth International Congress for Infectious Diseases.

However, it is hoped that the experimental vaccine will serve as a model for the further development of multi-valent immunizing agents.

The vaccine was used against the most common virus strains likely to cause severe illness in children of school age.

Dr. Hilleman emphasized that it would be highly impractical to develop vaccines against all of the hundreds of strains responsible for respiratory infection in man, as well as the countless others associated with the common cold.

Present Status of Major Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Status of major legislation:

LABOR

WAGE-HOUR — Administration and labor now supporting legislation to raise the $1.25 hourly minimum wage to $1.40 on Feb. 1, 1967 and to $1.60 on Feb. 1, 1968.

Also would give new minimum wage coverage to about 7 million workers, for the first time including farm hands and service industry workers. House: Education and labor committee approved, floor action expected soon. Senate: No action yet.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION — Johnson asked Congress to liberalize and make uniform unemployment compensation payments in the states. House: Ways and means committee has held hearings, is considering bill. Senate: Awaiting House action.

CIVIL RIGHTS — HOUSING — JURIES: President's omnibus civil rights request would outlaw racial discrimination in the sale or rental of housing; seek fair selection of state and federal court juries; provide new legal protection against violence directed at Negroes and rights workers; give the Justice Department new power to seek school and public facilities desegregation. House: Judiciary committee hearings under way. Senate: Hearings expected to start in about two weeks.

JOB DISCRIMINATION — The new equal employment opportunities commission has endorsed legislation that would authorize it to enforce its own findings of illegal discrimination against employers or labor unions instead of going through the federal courts. House: Passed. Senate: No action.

REDISTRICTING — House approved a bill to limit gerrymandering by requiring that congressional districts be compact and with a population within 15 per cent of the "ideal" average for each state. Senate: Judiciary committee approved a revised bill, prospects clouded.

HOME RULE — Administration has requested legislation to permit Washington, D. C., to elect its own local government. Senate: approved. House: approved driving version, requiring vote of citizens on home rule question. Efforts under way to reconcile the two bills.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS — CONSULATES — President has asked the Senate to ratify an agreement with the Soviet Union on reciprocal creation of consulates in cities outside the capitals of the two countries. Foreign relations committee has approved, but opposition has developed.

FARM — President asked for a five-year, $3.3-billion annual "food for freedom" program to sell and give food to hungry nations.

House: Agriculture committee approved a $3.3 billion annual program for only two years. Senate: Hearings completed.

COTTON-INDUSTRY — spokesmen want administration-backed bill to let cotton growers tax themselves to pay for a cotton profit motion program. House: Passed. Senate: Hearings completed.

Federal communications commission (FCC) has proposed to regulate Community Antenna Television operations. House: Commerce committee hearings completed. Senate: No action.

FOREIGN HEALTH — Johnson asked for a $45-million program to train 1,500 international health workers for assignment abroad. House: Commerce committee approved the bill but the rules committee buried it. Efforts under way to revive it. Senate: Nothing scheduled.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

REAPPORTIONMENT — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen seeks an amendment to permit states to apportion one house of a legislature on a nonpopulation basis if the voters agree in an election. Senate: Has rejected three proposals to bypass Supreme Court's "One man, one vote" rule. House: No action.

ELECTORAL COLLEGE — President has asked that Electoral College be eliminated while retaining electoral system. Presidential candidate would be guaranteed all of a state's electoral votes if he won popular vote. Senate: Hearings started. House: Awaiting Senate action.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Vitamin B6 Deficiency Is Rare in Adults

Q — If pyridoxine (vitamin B6) is given only to infants, as you said in a recent column, would its inclusion in multiple vitamin tablets be harmful to adults?

A — This vitamin is found abundantly in most diets. Vitamin B6 deficiency is occasionally seen in children and causes irritability and convulsions.

It is very rare in adults but has been reported as being associated with some forms of anemia.

NO HARM

Since larger amounts are not stored in the body but are promptly eliminated, no harm would result from taking it in excess of your requirement.

Q — What is rutin? What is its value to the body?

A — Rutin or vitamin P is useful in some persons who have a tendency to bruise easily because of increased fragility of their capillaries.

One patient who had repeated hemorrhages in the whites of her eyes was greatly benefited by taking this vitamin.

Q — My father, 84, was told by his doctor that he had presenile atherosclerosis. Will this affect his mind?

A — Atherosclerosis and arteriosclerosis are fancy names for hardening of the arteries.

If at 84 your father has presenile hardening rather than true senile hardening he is indeed fortunate.

While arteriosclerosis is a generalized process that occurs throughout the body, it tends to damage some organs more than others in different victims.

When, as often happens, the arteries of the brain are affected, the victim becomes forgetful and may suffer a change of personality, especially if the arteriosclerosis has led to small strokes.

Many drugs have been recommended in the treatment of arteriosclerosis in general.

Acetazolamide and injections of procaine have been recommended for arteriosclerosis of the brain but the results cannot be guaranteed.

They may delay the progress of the disease but they cannot restore tissues that are already damaged.

Q — I am very nervous. My doctor is giving me Serax. Is it habit-forming? Are there any bad side effects?

A — Oxazepam (Serax) is a new sedative. Although it is said to be especially useful for sobering up after an alcoholic binge, it has many other uses.

There have been no reports of habituation.

It should not be taken by persons with high blood pressure.

Too large a dose may cause panting, jaundice and dizziness.

Kidnapers Release Spain Priest-Envoy

ROME (AP) — Kidnapers today released a Spanish priest-diplomat they had held for 13 days, police reported. First reports indicated he was unharmed.

In letters earlier, the kidnapers said they abducted Msgr. Marco Ussia, ecclesiastical counselor of the Spanish Embassy to the Vatican, in an attempt to get Pope Paul VI to intervene for the release of political prisoners in Spain.

There was no indication that the Pope had bowed to the demand. A Vatican source had commented: "Blackmail is a bad way to make requests of the Vatican."

Mrs. F. L. Haushalter is the organization's treasurer, with Mrs. E. A. Gordon as assistant. Mrs. D. E. Moothart is historian.

PROGRAM

Mrs. Schmitz, chairman of the day, introduced the afternoon's program: Eastern Junior High School's Beltingers, directed by William Coffing.

Members of the group heard one of their own choral members Nancy Puskas, soprano, perform, accompanied by Mrs. Schmitz.

Miss Puskas currently is soloist at Central Methodist Church. She attended Kansas State College and was recipient of the Young Artists Scholarship.

She was a member of the Tulsa Opera Workshop, Tulsa Little Theatre and performed in several leading roles. She now studies with Alice Engram at Oakland University.

Mrs. G. E. Straman was luncheon general chairman. Assisting her were Mrs. A. D. Esler, Mrs. W. Henry Sink, Mrs. H. G. Woodcock and Mrs. George H. Putnam.

Indeed, No, Never Ask for Money

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My best girlfriend is going to be married this summer. I would like to give a shower for her but she has practically everything she needs. I was wondering if it would be proper, under the circumstances, to have a "Greenback Shower" for her.

I do happen to know she needs a television set and I thought she could put the money she receives at the shower toward buying one. — Beverly K.

Dear Beverly: Definitely no! It is never right to ask people to give money. However, if you want to do something for the bride, why not entertain her at some other kind of party — a cocktail party, luncheon, or any other type you choose, but please, not a money shower.

The booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance" describes how to set a table as well as other difficult foods.

If you would like a copy of this booklet, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Married Man 'Sends' Her

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I'm 22 years old, which is over 21, right? So why don't people leave me alone? I get so much advice I could write your DEAR ABBY column for you. I happen to be very much in love with a married man.

Also they have no children, his wife ABBY refuses to give him a divorce because she's too lazy to work and he's a good meal ticket. Everyone tells me I'm wasting the best years of my life on him, but it's my life, and I'm satisfied with things as they are.

He tells me that marriage is for the birds, that it takes all the romance out of a relationship, and from most of the marriages I've seen, I believe him. Why don't people just leave me alone? This man really sends me.

"SENT" IN SILVER SPRINGS
DEAR SENT: This man should send you all right — to a head shrinker. I don't know what your friends mean for a thing, but if he isn't telling, he should be.

Eventually you'll get your wish and everyone will leave you alone. Including your married friend.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is in Viet Nam and I write him nearly every day. I recently took a job as a cocktail waitress. We have to wear costumes that show quite a bit.

They are not topless, but there's not much to the top, and there is very little to the bottom, too. I guess it's about the size of a bikini bathing suit. Well, Johnny wrote from Viet Nam and said he wanted to know all about my new job and what my uniform looks like. How about it, ABBY?

DEAR JUDY: Tell him — he looks like JUDY.

Mrs. William Milliken (left), wife of the lieutenant governor, was a special guest at a membership tea yesterday sponsored by the Rochester Republican Women's Club. Talking with Mrs. Milliken are Mrs. Edward Ramsey (center), president of the club, and Mrs. Norman May, West Tienken Road, Avon Township.

Connie Crozier Weds John Chester Jr.

On Long Boat Key for their Florida honeymoon are John Sherman Chester Jr. of Royal Oak and his bride, the former Connie Rae Crozier, who was wed recently in the Eastern Lake Community Church Presbyterian.

Her parents, the Harolds B. Croziers of South Tilden Avenue, hosted a home reception following the candlelight rite performed by Rev. Edward D. Auchard.

Imported embroidered medallions accented the bride's Empire gown of white silk organza styled with chapel train. White orchids centered her bouquet of carnations.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister Mrs. Norman Dierkes of Clawson. Shelley Ann Crozier was flower girl.

The bridegroom, son of the John S. Chesters of Salem, Ohio, had Thomas Cosmos for his best man. Larry Wilkenson and Robert Richards were ushers.

Women's Art Committee Slates Autumn Reception

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
On Monday the recently formed Women's Committee for the Cranbrook Academy of Art held its first meeting. Chairman, Mrs. George Russell presided. Plans were discussed for a reception in September honoring the new director of the Cranbrook Academy of Art, Glen Paulsen, Mrs. J. Robert F. Swanson is chairman.

Among the 70 people who attended the meeting were Mesdames: James Roche, Frank Sandoe, Warren Booth, Frank Egan, Kenneth Manuel, Jack Sander, Robert VanderKloot, William Mitchell, Anthony De Lorenzo, Denton Anderson and Hilbert H. DeLawter.

The Junior Group of Goodwill Industries had its annual meeting last week at Dearborn Inn. Mrs. Paul D. Richmond of Grosse Pointe was elected president and from this area Mrs. George H. Gotschall, Mrs. George T. Wilde, Mrs. Harry J. Allick and Mrs. Ewald Hans Schiwe were elected board members.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Andrea have returned from a visit with their daughter Adriane who attends school in Florence, Italy. With enthusiasm Mrs. Andrea tells about the school, Villa Mercede, which is an old castle on top of a hill overlooking the most gorgeous scenery.

School will be out on May 25. Before returning to the USA Adriane, together with other students in Italy, will go on a students tour to Russia. She will also travel with friends to other spots in Europe returning home late in July.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald Young had a surprise visit by their son, Captain Donald Young, last week who has been attached to the U.S. Air Force Hospital in Madrid. Captain Young is now reassigned to another unknown destination.

Sue Young who is a student at Syracuse University also spent the Mother's Day weekend with her parents.

Anniversary Celebration Scheduled

Sunday marks the 62nd anniversary of the founding of Cranbrook by the late Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth. Traditional ceremonies and festivities will be in order to commemorate the dedication of Cranbrook as an educational institution.

The rededication ceremonies will begin at Christ Church Cranbrook at 10:45 a.m., where the heads, trustees, directors and vestry of the six institutions — Brookside School Cranbrook, Christ Church Cranbrook, Cranbrook Academy of Art, Cranbrook Institute of Science, Cranbrook School and Kingswood School Cranbrook, will march behind the flags representing the various institutions.

A carillon concert will be presented by Frederick Marriott at 4 p.m. in Christ Church Cranbrook, and an organ recital to be presented at 5 p.m. by Robert Thompson. Following the annual luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth will host the traditional Founders Day tea from 4 to 6 p.m. in Cranbrook House.

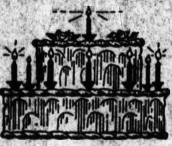

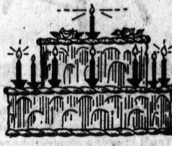

Hostesses for the tea table will be Mrs. W. Calvin Patterson, Mrs. David G. Booth, Mrs. Ben D. Mills, and Mrs. Kenneth A. Meade.

Others are Mrs. Glen Paulsen, Mrs. Warren S. Booth, Mrs. Zolton Sepehy, and Mrs. Donald B. Whitfield.

This Condition Isn't Just Fear Alone

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
 DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I am 36, a teacher and live with my mother who had a mild heart attack after my father's death two years ago. Within the past year I have developed a deep relationship with a man of different religious faith.

I want to marry him, but I never come from seeing him without my mother saying: "If you marry that man, you will kill me." With my brain I know she is using her heart condition to frighten me away from marriage. But I am afraid anyway. She belongs to a very rigid Christian sect.

ANSWER: You're too quick to name your feeling "fear." Of course, there's fear in it — that ignoble thing. But I'm sure that there are noble elements, too, in your hesitation. In addition to fear that your mother might make good on her threat to die, you also feel compassion for her as the aging, lonely fellow human she is, a loyalty and concern for her health.

And I think your worried hesitation is due to your failure to credit yourself with the noble elements in it.

Seeing yourself as a coward manipulated by your mother's threat is to render yourself helpless, but to see yourself as a compassionate, loyal and concerned woman is to recover power over this situation. Knowing that you want to preserve your mother's life, you can begin to set about to do it.

You can consider arrangements for giving her as satisfying a life as possible after your marriage.

Popular psychology is a very dangerous thing. When it insists that we allow parents to steal our lives from us out of fear of opposing them, it makes us so ashamed of ourselves that we can't carry through on the opposition.

If we see that "fear" as intermingled with fine, good feelings like compassion, loyalty and concern for another human life, then self-respect floods back to us. Instead of shivering and shaking when mother says, "If you marry, you'll kill me," we say, "No, I won't, darling."

will not kill you but keep you safe."

I do wish you could talk to a professional person about this. Nobody wants happiness at the cost of another person's life. That doesn't mean we are scared weaklings. It means we are strong and good. But if we don't know that, the "strength and the goodness can't be used to try to arrange happiness for two lives.

A June 25 wedding in the Lake Orion Methodist Church is planned by Moya Jillian Magennis of Denver, Colo., daughter of A. W. Magennis of Dublin, Ireland, and Thomas M. Thomas, son of Mrs. Arthur G. Barr of North Lapeer Road, Oxford Township. Her fiancé is working on his doctorate in psychology at Colorado State University, Fort Collins.

MOMS Plan for Holiday

Mrs. Frank Emery of Elizabeth Lake Road, was hostess for the Tuesday luncheon and business affair for Unit 2 MOMS of America, Inc.

Mrs. C. A. Bondurant and Mrs. S. Edgar Thomas will present the wreath during Decoration Day services at the Soldiers' Plot in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Past national president, Mrs. Duncan McVean Jr., will represent the unit at the Silver Anniversary Convention to be held at the Dearborn Inn, Dearborn, Michigan, May 18-20.

Embroidered cloths should always be ironed on the wrong side. A well padded ironing board is also a necessity for perfectly finished embroidered linens.

The engagement is announced of Cherry Kay Miner, daughter of Mrs. Geraldine Miner of Highland Road and Donald Miner of Muskingum Road, to Harold James Light of Marlington Drive, son of Mrs. Lester Yuchasz and Fred Light, both of Alpena.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A letter from a reader asks, "How do models who stand so long and dancers keep from getting varicose veins? I have never seen any star, no matter how old, with varicose veins. These are so unsightly! How can a woman avoid them? I don't want to get them."

Varicose veins are caused by a weakening or breakdown of the little valves in the veins. These valves should maintain a continuous flow of blood back to the heart. This tendency toward weakness of the valves is often inherited. It seems to run in families. However, this is not always true. Other factors may play a part.

REASONS

Overweight, pregnancy, tight clothing, such as too tight belts and round garters, and standing for long periods of time, put an extra strain on these important valves. Therefore, a loss of overweight helps avoid this. Also, the pregnant woman or one who is on her feet much of the time, or the one who has a history of varicosity in her family, should at every opportunity put her feet up. When you are reading or visiting or sewing, or resting, put your feet up on a chair or stool. When you are resting, lying down, put your feet up higher than your hips.

So many very young women have this trouble. I don't know why. Perhaps because there is a vogue for larger families. I know one young woman who has a mild varicosity in one leg and her doctor said, "Walk, walk, walk! Keep the blood circulating."

So, in order to bypass varicose veins, lose overweight, do not wear clothing which is too tight, rest with your feet elevated, and exercise. Varicose veins are not only unsightly. They can be very uncomfortable, and if neglected, can lead to serious problems, especially in older years.

Self Concept Is Subject

"Development of a Self Concept" was the discussion topic when Waterford Township Child Study Club No. 1 met recently. Mrs. Robert Lewis was the group's hostess, assisted by Mrs. Thomas Hunt. Mrs. Donald Tatroe and Mrs. William Freyerth presented the program. Installation of officers was conducted by Mrs. Edmund Windeler.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

I am brokenhearted. I bought 17 yards of drapery fabric for some new short drapes, measured them carefully, tore the fabric and much to my surprise, discovered the print was uneven. They look terrible, the store won't take the material back, and I'm without drapes. Can I do anything to remedy this mistake, and was it really my fault?

Mrs. A. D. M.
Dear Mrs. A. D. M.:

The drapery fabric was printed off-grain. By tearing it, the woven grain was even, but the design was not. If there is a choice, in this case the design should have been even, the fabric should have been cut instead of torn.

To avoid a costly mistake like this again, be sure to have the salesgirl tear the fabric while you wait. You will be able to check the pattern at a glance.

As for a solution: I don't know the style of your windows, but perhaps you could cut them even with the pattern and add a separate valance to make up the length. Or, you might use them for the lower part of the window and the valance with part of the window showing. Look through your decorating books and I'm sure you will come up with a clever idea.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. W. W. O'Brien, Royal Oak, Mich., wins a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for the following suggestion. "For those of us who do a great deal of sewing and accumulate pieces of various kinds of interfacing, here's my way of saving them to use later for smaller parts of a garment such as the neck or collar facing."

"Sort out the interfacings according to weight and put each group of them in a separate plastic bag labeled on the outside so that one can easily see at a glance just what is inside. Keep all these bags in an empty box and you will save time searching through leftover bundles of material because you will be able to pick out just what you need quickly."

Dear Eunice:

I would like to know how to make the large flowers with wool yarn found on sweaters in the custom shops. I can't find anyone who knows how to do this, and yet the trimming is made.

Mrs. M. W.

I am glad you asked this question because I have been trying to find out the same thing. I know that some women do this on sweaters and dresses for that handmade touch. I'm sure it can't be impossible for us amateurs to do, so gals, if you know how, please let us in on the secret. Write to me in care of The Pontiac Press, and I will print the instructions in this column.

Dear Eunice:

I have two girls in high school and they are both going to dances at the end of the school year. Some of the ready-made dresses have narrow shoulder straps and they are called string straps. Is this the same as your spaghetti straps?

Mrs. V. J.

Dear Mrs. V. J.:

My leaflet Number 4 tells you how to make spaghetti straps. They vary in size according to the size of string or cord used which is perhaps why they are sometimes called string straps. With today's bare-shouldered look in casual summer dresses as well as evening clothes, you'll love my easy-to-follow instructions. This leaflet also tells how to make rope belts, Chinese ball buttons, etc.

Be creative and use this type of trim for your summer clothes. Send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope today to Sew Simple in care of The Pontiac Press for your copy of "Spaghetti Straps and Rope Belts."

An Aug. 20 wedding date has been set by Joe Ann Hodge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hodge Jr. of Cedarvale Street, and Milton Roger Evans, son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert L. Harris of Detroit. The bride-elect attends Pontiac Business Institute.

Powell Raps Draft and CIA

Says Deferment Test
New Form of Bias

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell made news on two fronts Tuesday, claiming he has information linking more universities with the Central Intelligence Agency and charging that draft deferment tests are reminiscent of Nazi Germany.

The New York Democrat told newsmen he has received unverified information that CIA personnel have been associated with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of Pennsylvania. He reported this in announcing that his House Education and Labor Committee will investigate recently alleged CIA links with Michigan State University.

Spokesman at Penn denied knowledge of any CIA contact on its campus. Officials at the MIT Center of International Studies had announced April 26 they would drop a series of research contracts with the CIA. "There was never a secret about the contracts," a spokesman said.

In his attack on the deferment tests, Powell said they "bring the history of racial discrimination full circle."

TO BE KILLED

"First we provide an inferior education for black students," he said. "Next we give them a series of tests which many will flunk because of an inferior education. Then we pack these academic failures off to Viet Nam to be killed."

Powell said the tests "are reminiscent of Hitler's twin-system of eugenics and education—weed out the intellectually deprived or socially undesirable by conscripting them for combat today." He called for a return to the old "fish bowl method" of random selection for draftees.

Court Is Asked to Forbid Book by Joe Valachi

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has asked a federal court to forbid the editor of convicted murderer Joseph Valachi's Cosa Nostra memoirs to disseminate or publish the manuscript in any form.

In its suit filed yesterday, the department said Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach decided in March not to allow the manuscript to be published. Earlier officials had indicated they might allow publication, which it said could be an asset to law enforcement.

The editor, Peter Maas, has indicated he intends to make an arrangement for the manuscript's publication without the Justice Department's approval.

State GI Killed in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Spec. 4 George L. Stoll, brother of Werner Stoll of Grand Rapids, Mich., was identified by the Defense Department Tuesday as killed in the Viet Nam war.

Kosygin, Nasser Discuss Soviet, Arab Troubles

CAIRO (UPI) — Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and President Gamal Abdel Nasser today opened formal talks covering such wide-ranging subjects as the Sino-Soviet split and Nasser's political quarrels in the Middle East.

Nasser was expected to seek Soviet backing for his return to a policy of militancy with his Israeli and Arab neighbors and to urge measures to repair the ideological split between Russia and Communist China.

He is convinced that this split between the two Communist giants has weakened the leader to a steel plant built with Russian aid money and a Polish-against so-called Western imperialism and hampered the fight against the United States in Viet Nam.

The talks, being held in Cairo's Kabbala Palace, resumed yesterday for an eight-day visit and were guests of honor at a state banquet last night.

supplied coke plant in suburban Helwan.

Kosygin, accompanied by his wife and a party of 30 officials, arrived here yesterday for an eight-day visit and were guests of honor at a state banquet last night.

denmed the U.S. role in Viet Nam during the banquet, but Nasser took the much harder line.

Surplus food was distributed to 6,137,000 needy persons in 1,607 counties last year, according to the Department of Agriculture.

spiritual discovery

It may well be man's most important challenge to search and probe his intuitions about religion until he discovers that point in his consciousness where spiritual reality breaks through, the divine touches the human, and God transforms the world with His image. You are invited to hear this public lecture titled "The Demand of Spiritual Discovery" by OTTO BERTSCH, C.S.B., a member of The Christian Science Board of Lecturers.

Practitioner of Christian Science Due

Otto Bertsch C.S.B., a Christian Science practitioner and teacher from Zurich, Switzerland, will give a public lecture on "The Demand of Spiritual Discovery" at the First Church of Christ Scientist, at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

A graduate of Winterthur Institute of Technology in Zurich, Bertsch worked for four years in the United States as an electrical engineer before taking a position with the Society of Swiss Machine Manufacturers.

Later he left his business career to devote full time to the Christian Science ministry. In 1952 he became an authorized teacher of the religion in Switzerland.

British Educator to Speak at OU on University's Role

"The Case for the Ivory Tower" will be presented by a British educator in a speech at Oakland University Monday afternoon.

Sir Eric Ashby, master of Clare College of Cambridge, will discuss the role of the university in contemporary society at 1:30 p.m. in the Gold Room of Oakland Center.

His public speech will be followed by a discussion period.

Ashby, vice chancellor-elect of Cambridge, taught sciences at Imperial College and the Universities of Bristol, Sydney and Manchester.

He was vice chancellor of Queens University in Belfast before assuming his present post in 1963.

Ashby was charge d'affaires of the Australian legation in Moscow in 1945. He is the author of a number of books on education, including "Challenge to Education," "Technology and the Academies" and "Community of Universities."

A BARGAIN...
A REAL VALUE IS NOT A MATTER OF PRICE ALONE!

It's what you get for what you pay.

The house dress or shift at $1.98 is no bargain if—the seams pop the first time you wear it or it shrinks inches the first time you wash it.

A cheap product just for the sake of low price is no bargain.

A quality product at a low price, that's a bargain...
that's our A&P Brands.

More than a century ago we decided our own brands would be our finest values.
They are...and we're proud of it.
So proud...so sure,
we unconditionally guarantee your full satisfaction.

Are A&P Brands a good reason for shopping A&P?
They're one of many.

Medicare Data Offered This Week at 3 City Hospitals

The who, what, where, when and how of Medicare is being explained this week — National Hospital Week — at Pontiac area hospitals.

Three city hospitals are co-operating in a program to spread Medicare information.

Assistant district manager of the Pontiac Social Security Administration office, Gilbert Gallivan, spoke Monday at Pontiac General, and today at Pontiac Osteopathic.

He will speak at 1 and 5 p.m. Friday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Approved by Congress last year, Medicare nationally is expected to help pay for the health care of nearly 19 million people.

COUNTY FIGURE

According to the Pontiac Social Security office, 46,500 Oakland County residents — 65 years or older — have signed up for the health care program beginning July 1.

There are a total of 58,000 older citizens eligible for the program. Gallivan said 23,000 signed up through the local office, another 23,500 through the national office.

He said 2,000 eligible residents did not reply to the inquiry from the Social Security Administration and 1,500 said they did not wish to participate.

The basic Medicare plan provides: hospital care, nursing home care (after Jan. 1, 1967), home health services and outpatient diagnostic services.

TOURS, EXHIBITS

In addition to the Medicare presentation, Pontiac hospitals this week feature equipment demonstrations, tours, employee dinners, exhibits and displays.

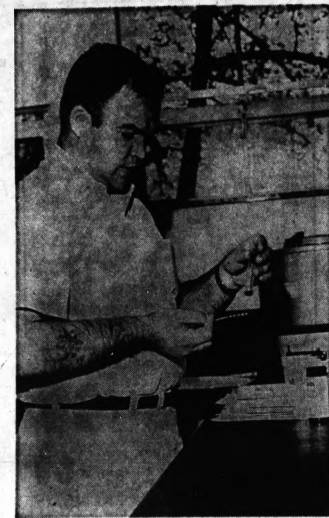

An American Red Cross mobile unit will be parked at Pontiac General Hospital for those interested in a tour.

"Medical information tag" application forms will be available in the lobby of all three local hospitals.

Offered by the Pontiac Life Underwriters Association, the tags show any existing medical condition, such as diabetes, epilepsy, or cardiac ailment, that should be known in the event of an accident.

The Pontiac General Hospital laboratory will offer free a basic sugar and protein urinalysis to all visitors and employees from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. through Friday.

GIVE TEST — Laboratory worker Donald Whitmyer, 6743 Highland, Waterford Township, runs one of the basic sugar and protein urinalyses being offered free this week — National Hospital Week — at Pontiac General Hospital. The lab tests will be given through Friday between 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. to all visitors and hospital employees.

HOSPITAL DOLLS — Kathy May, 5, daughter of Paul May, 27 Dennison, Oxford, admires the dolls dressed in identifying hospital garb on display in the lobby of Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. Mrs. William Hall, head cashier, points out the significance of the different uniforms.

HEARTBEAT — As part of local observance of National Hospital Week, Dr. L. E. Bilodeau, hospital director of special procedures, and Mrs. Ronald Hogerty, cashier, demonstrate Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital's cardioscope, a heart-measuring device on display in the hospital lobby.

24 Members

Rights Commission OK'd

Creation of a 24-member city human relations commission was approved unanimously last night by the City Commission.

An ordinance establishing the commission was finalized last night after a public hearing in which only two questions were raised.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. was asked why the 24 membership was cut to 24 from the 25 members recommended by the existing Human Relations Advisory Committee and what powers the new group had that the old committee didn't have.

Taylor said the duties and responsibilities of the commission were now spelled out in the ordinance.

In addition, the mayor said the scope of the human relations commission was broadened.

The present nine-member committee would be replaced by the new commission.

Object of creating the commission by city ordinance was to spell out the group's duties and responsibilities. The commission is to represent a cross-section of the community and its groups.

Appointments would be by the mayor with the approval of the City Commission. Members would be nominated by the respective community groups.

The proposed human relations commission is to work to correct discrimination practices through "negotiation and education."

Members of the commission are to serve staggered three-year terms.

In other business last night, the commission directed that the city's weed ordinance be updated to allow two cuttings per year, instead of the present one.

Also last night, the commission approved a one-year renewal of the U.S. Navy's lease on the Naval Reserve Army in Murphy Park.

The commission approved the transfer of five city-owned parcels of land in the urban renewal R20 area to the project. The

One-Family House Rule Confirmed

City Commissioners last night confirmed its previous stand that future single family homes in Pontiac have a minimum of 1,000 square feet.

However, the commission did refer to the zoning board of appeals a request by Belaire Home Builders for an exception to the rule.

Spokesmen for Belaire asked for the exception for 31 homes planned for scattered lots in the city. Mortgage and sale commitments had been made on the houses with only 872 square feet too late to be changed to meet the building size requirements.

The commission confirmed the recommendation of the planning commission that the minimum size remain at 1,000 square feet.

The city planning staff did recommend that the concrete slab footage requirements in the ordinance should be increased.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other planning business, the commission set public hearing dates for May 31 on requests for:

- Rezoning former city-owned property east of Orchard Lake Avenue and south of the Michigan Air Line Rail Road to commercial and residential-3 (R-3) zoning to accommodate a small shopping center and 360 apartment units.
- Rezoning for parking for land at the northeast corner of Auburn and Tasmania.
- R-3 rezoning for 30 apartments on property west of the Metropolitan Club, 37 W. Yale.

Action was withheld last night on requested residential-2 rezoning for 97 and 121 Prall until problems relative to construction of an entry are resolved.

In other business last night, the commission upheld a planning commission recommendation and denied R-3 rezoning for 624 Orchard Lake Avenue to permit an apartment building there.

Move to Avert Crisis Over Library System

The City Commission moved last night to avert a possible crisis in the 8-year-old system whereby 17 area communities cooperate to provide library service for their respective residents.

Upon the recommendation of City Manager Joseph A. Warren, the commission approved the appointment of a new advisory committee for the North Oakland Library Contract System (NOLCS).

The NOLCS committee is to be composed of a representative from each of the neighboring townships or libraries involved in the program.

Object of the committee is to give the other communities, besides Pontiac, a voice in the operation of the library system.

MAIN OBJECTION

Warren reported last night that the lack of a formalized procedure for a voice in the NOLCS operation seemed to be the main objection raised in recent criticism of the NOLCS.

The city manager said he recently attended a meeting with some 65 area library representatives at which many of them spoke critically of the library contract and organization of the NOLCS.

Warren indicated some discontent within the ranks of the member libraries could result in their withdrawing from NOLCS.

Warren said it was difficult to pinpoint specific complaints and none of the criticism indicated any lack of fulfillment of the contract obligations.

NEW BODY

Warren said the new advisory body would replace the present five-member advisory council which he said had not been very active.

City Library Director Miss Phyllis Pope has been the director of the NOLCS since it was established in 1958.

The system consists of a cooperative effort by Pontiac and 16 area communities in the purchase and circulation of library books.

Area libraries through the library system are able to obtain extra state aid. This amounted to $3,361 last year and is expected to climb to $5,400 this year, according to Warren.

SOME WITHDRAWALS

Warren said some individual townships might consider withdrawing from the system, but he was hopeful that creation of the special advisory committee would forestall any such action.

Miss Pope and City Commissioner James H. Marshall were named to represent Pontiac.

land, comprised of six subdivided lots valued at $50,285, are donated as noncash credit toward the city's one-third share of R20 costs.

Four of the lots are on West Wide Track, between Water and Auburn, while two other lots are immediately south of City Hall and have been sold to the Pontiac Board of Education.

In other urban renewal business, the commission ordered two new land appraisals at $650 a piece for certain R20 urban renewal properties.

A special assessment roll was received totaling $2,957 for delinquent water and sewer bills. The public hearing was set for May 24.

Two petitions were referred to the city engineer for processing.

One asked for a sanitary sewer on Lehigh, Jaycee Park to Highway, while the second sought pavement for Peacock, Fuller to Joslyn.

4 Supervisors Are Selected

Three reappointments and one new appointment were made last night by the City Commission in selecting the city's four members of the County Board of Supervisors.

Howard O. Powers, 286 Cherokee; Mrs. Marguerite Simon, 140 W. Brookline; and Victor Woods, 279 S. Anderson, were the reappointments.

Elbert Willmont, 74 E. Iroquois, was the new appointee.

The supervisors serve a one-year term.

The city's finance director, assessor and attorney also represent the city on the county board.

OTHER POSTS

In other appointments, Leslie H. Hudson, District 4 commissioner, was selected to be the commission's representative on the City Planning Commission. He replaces District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin.

District 7 Commissioner James H. Marshall was picked to replace District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood on the General Employees Retirement System Board.

NEW CRIB — Visitors to Pontiac General Hospital this week will see 30 new cribs in the hospital's pediatrics section. The cribs are topped with a 20-inch-high vinyl plastic wall so young patients, like two-year-old Melvin Scruggs Jr. of 376 Central, can stand without any danger of falling.

2 Unions Vying Over Salaried Workers

A jurisdictional dispute has developed between two groups contending the right to represent city employees, according to a report last night to the City Commission.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported that rival organizations have filed to represent the city's white-collar workers.

Warren reported the results of a meeting held last Friday before the State Labor Mediation Board in Detroit.

Two groups, the Pontiac Municipal Employees Association (PMEA) and Local 100, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, have filed petitions asking to represent city employees, excluding police and firemen.

According to Warren's report, collective bargaining representation for white collar or salaried employees is the issue in dispute.

ALT CITY EMPLOYEES

The PMEIA has filed to represent salaried employees. Meanwhile, Local 100 has filed to represent all city employees, excluding police and firemen, but including white collar workers.

Warren said Local 100 refused to waive its bid to represent the salaried employees so the mediation board examiner said a formal hearing would be necessary.

Because of a crowded docket, this is to take about 90 days, said Warren.

The city manager said that

At Virginia Confab Hospital Exec Will Speak

Ted A. Panaretos, community relations director for Pontiac State Hospital, will be keynote speaker and a consultant at a three-day conference next week at Western State Hospital in Staunton, Va.

The conference of the hospital's volunteer service council is slated Monday through Wednesday.

While in Virginia, Panaretos also will participate in a conference at the Harrisonburg-Rockingham chapter of the Virginia Association for Mental Health.

Panaretos is a national board member of the American Association of Volunteer Services Coordinators, and as Region V representative, he is responsible for Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio and Indiana.

Red Arms Ship Hit Off Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. ships and planes, aided by the South Vietnamese air force and navy, drove a gun-running coastal freighter ashore at the southern tip of South Viet Nam Tuesday night and broke it in two.

American and Vietnamese frogmen seized large quantities of weapons and ammunition, some with Soviet markings, after the 100-ton freighter broke up on the Chi Mau Peninsula 200 miles southwest of Saigon.

The freighter's port of origin was not immediately determined.

Military officials said it was the most important interception of seaborne arms since a mysterious 18-foot vessel was sunk near the coast Feb. 14.

1965. A huge cache of arms was recovered then.

GROUND WAR

In the ground war, American paratroopers of the 101st Airborne, clashed with a battalion of North Vietnamese regular army troops 95 miles northeast of Saigon, the U.S. Command said today.

An official spokesman said the paratroopers killed 22 of the estimated 300 Communists and captured four. Light U.S. casualties were reported.

Increased air activity Tuesday was reported both north and south of the 17th Parallel dividing Viet Nam, and two U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderbolts were shot down over North Viet Nam.

One pilot was rescued by a helicopter 105 miles northwest of Hanoi. The other pilot was shot down while attacking a bridge 17 miles south of Dong Hoi, apparently was unable to eject and was listed as missing in action.

TOTAL COST

This brought the total American planes reported lost over North Viet Nam to 235.

To Honor Prof Emeritus

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Prof. Emeritus Charles C. Fries, who first directed the University of Michigan English Language Institute, will be awarded a regents' honor citation when the institute celebrates its 25th anniversary Friday and Saturday.

American jets attacking North Viet Nam spotted five MIGs northwest of Hanoi but did not engage them. However, the spokesman said two MIGs flew within two miles of two American rescue helicopters and fired two missiles of a head-seeking type similar to the American Sidewinders. The missiles missed the choppers.

Air Force and Navy planes flew 63 missions over North Viet Nam. Targets near the Mu Gia Pass supply route to the south also were hit.

Air force planes dropped 10 million leaflets over the southern part of North Viet Nam and another 700,000 leaflets to Vietnamese in the northern approaches to the Mu Gia Pass.

Helicopter Flies North of Hanoi to Rescue Pilot

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. helicopter flew deeper than ever before into North Viet Nam to rescue an American Air Force pilot Tuesday and escaped two plane-borne missiles fired at it.

Communist MIGs fired two heat-seeking missiles at the helicopter as it ranged 105 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The helicopter escaped into a cloud bank. The American pilot nearby said they spotted five MIGs but made no contact with them.

Draft Test Order Is Revoked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, yesterday countermanded the order directing Michigan college students to take draft deferment tests in Mississippi and Massachusetts.

going to Mississippi, or to Massachusetts, either."

Ford called Hershey when he heard of the situation.

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said Hershey notified him he will "straighten out the mix-up" under which hundreds of college students in Michigan were told they must take the tests far from their campuses or home towns.

"They may not get the exact date they want, but they'll be able to take the tests in their own areas," Ford quoted Hershey. "Nobody in Michigan is

May Back Senate Hopeful

County Dems Meet May 31

The Oakland County Democratic Committee will meet May 31 to consider endorsing a candidate for the U.S. Senate primary race.

The date was decided on at a meeting of the Democratic executive committee in Royal Oak last night.

The three Democratic candidates will be invited to appear at the meeting.

They are former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Detroit Mayor J. Jerome P. Cavanagh and Birmingham attorney James E. Elmsman.

The meeting is tentatively scheduled to be held at the auditorium at the Oakland County Courthouse at 8 p.m.

County Democratic Chairman George Googasian said that in the past the committee traditionally has avoided making an endorsement in the primary.

Say Gerda Sought to Wed Official

OTTAWA (UPI)—Gerda Munsinger, the blonde playgirl accused of being a prostitute and former Soviet spy, hoped to marry Canada's defense minister, police disclosed yesterday.

Police said the one-time beauty queen once told investigators she hoped to marry former Associate Defense Minister Pierre Sevigny "if it were possible for him to obtain a divorce."

The disclosure was made at a judicial inquiry into charges that former Prime Minister John Diefenbaker jeopardized security by failing to fully investigate what was termed "an illicit sexual relationship" between Sevigny and the woman.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the Canadian security agency, also disclosed that Mrs. Munsinger once told of meeting Diefenbaker.

"She recounted that, at a social function in Ottawa, the prime minister of Canada had told her that she was doing a great thing for Canada, and that Mr. Sevigny had great things to offer Canada," the report said.

Diefenbaker, whose Conservative party has fallen from power, declined comment. But a spokesman said he would "treat the disclosure with the silent contempt an unverified smear deserved."

"If enough information is stored—and if the computer yields sufficient criteria to be subsequently reprogrammed, it should be possible to ask computers, on behalf of the population they represent, to make decisions between alternate futures and thus enhance the predictability of human behavior."

He added: "While it is true that a computer can not do what a man with a paper and pencil could do eventually, and that it spews out only what has originally been put into it, in other forms, it is also true that its possibilities are limited mainly by imagination and intelligence."

These limits "are a matter, not only of concentration of brainpower, but also of money," the researcher said.

"A crash program would advance psychiatry by some 50 years, rid it of many of its old and some of its new bogeys, and bring it closer to some of the 'harder' more precise sciences," he concluded.

Building Unit OKs Lease Agreement

The Oakland County Building Authority yesterday approved a lease agreement with the county for the land on which the proposed east wing of the court house will be built.

For a token $1 the county will lease the land to the building authority.

A future agreement will be required for county lease of the building from the building authority.

Make Cash, Spare-Time

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A prisoner who worked at the printing shop at the South Carolina State Penitentiary has been charged with counterfeiting $5 bills.

Warden William D. Leek said Tuesday that James Trembley, 21, formerly of San Diego, Calif., used a photogravure process to manufacture seven bogus bills.

None left the prison, the warden said. He said the shop is a utility worker, officers said.

Farmington Twp. Woman Seeks Exam in Killing

CARO (AP) — Mrs. Richard Kelgen of Farmington Township demanded examination and was released on $5,000 bond Tuesday after her arraignment here on charges of murdering her 8-year-old paralyzed son.

Examination was set for May 20.

Terry Kelgen, suffering from an incurable disease that left him blind, deaf and paralyzed, was found dead in his room at Caro State Hospital after his mother visited him Saturday.

The boy had two plastic bags over his head and authorities said he suffocated.

Man Is Electrocuted

on Top of Utility Pole

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) — Donny Ray Ellis, 21, was found dead yesterday atop an electric utility pole in the middle of a pasture and two miles from the nearest road.

Authorities said he was electrocuted, but they could find no explanation of why he had climbed the pole. He was not a utility worker, officers said.

Holland Tulip Festival Open

HOLLAND UP — The frug gives way to the klompen clog today for a corps of some 400 high school girls whose Dutch-accustomed street dancing opens the 1966 Holland Tulip Festival.

The corps and its wooden shoe dance set the beat for this Lake Michigan community's annual entertainment package against a backdrop of tulips in bloom.

William Vandewater, festival manager, said the blooms had been slowed by the recent cold snap, but early varieties were reported faring well against the chill. Besides the plants at nearby commercial bulb farms, some eight miles of Holland streets are lined with tulips.

Gov. George Romney and a group of foreign dignitaries are special guests at a luncheon preceding the festival's opening parade.

Costumed townsfolk scrub Holland's main street to start the festival.

The schedule then opens into numerous avenues of entertainment, including band concerts, museum visits, movies, dancing, baton twirling contests, parades and sight-seeing.

Towering over all is Holland's authentic 200-year-old windmill, imported from The Netherlands and reassembled as the centerpiece of a park designed to show the community's ties to its old world beginnings.

Two Israelis Killed
JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Two Israelis were killed yesterday in a gun battle between Israeli and Jordanian troops on the eastern Negev border.

Israel blamed Jordan for starting the shooting, and Jordan blamed Israel. There were no reports of Jordanian casualties.

House to Get Wage Pay Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Rules Committee today cleared for House consideration, probably next week, a bill to increase minimum wages and extend coverage to 7.2 million more workers.

The vote was 9 to 6, with 4 Republicans and 2 Democrats reportedly against it.

The bill would hike minimum wages from the present $1.25 an hour to $1.60 by 1968 for most covered workers.

The increase would be 15 cents next year and another 20 cents starting Feb. 1, 1968.

Newly-covered workers would be those in restaurants, hotels, motels, hospitals, laundries and dry cleaning establishments. For them the minimum would be $1 starting next year, and four additional increases of 15 cents per hour until a top of $1.60 is reached in 1971.

An estimated 465,000 farmers would be added to coverage for the first time at a starting rate of $1 next year, followed by two 15-cent increases to a top of $1.30 by Feb. 1, 1969.

Computer May Predict Human Behavior

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. —Development appears feasible for electronic computers that would predict human behavior—including how people would vote in an election—a psychiatrist said today.

The trick could be done if enough brainpower—and money—were put in to a "crash program" designed to perfect data-feeding and other techniques needed to activate such robots, declared Dr. Daniel Cappon of the University of Toronto.

Such an achievement could advance psychiatry by half a century, he said, in a report to the 122nd annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Association.

Cappon said he is convinced the goal is feasible on the basis of his own use of a computer for the past five years as an aid in psychiatric research.

He said he has used it for such things as rapid calculation of experimental results and as a means of information storage and retrieval. And, most recently, in promising experiments aimed at translating entire psychiatric histories into a relatively simple "computer language."

LIFE EXPERIENCE
"There is no reason why," he said, "once data incorporating the life experience and mental state of persons—such as patients and controls—is put into computers, this could not be subsequently tapped to answer questions about how people might behave under certain circumstances, for example, under conditions of stress, treatment, or in casting a vote.

"If enough information is stored—and if the computer yields sufficient criteria to be subsequently reprogrammed, it should be possible to ask computers, on behalf of the population they represent, to make decisions between alternate futures and thus enhance the predictability of human behavior."

He added: "While it is true that a computer can not do what a man with a paper and pencil could do eventually, and that it spews out only what has originally been put into it, in other forms, it is also true that its possibilities are limited mainly by imagination and intelligence."

These limits "are a matter, not only of concentration of brainpower, but also of money," the researcher said.

One-Fourth of Mankind

1911—Off With the Pigtail,
Gumol of Subjection to the Manchus

We no longer look to the West. Our faces are turned toward Russia.—Sun Yat-sen.

In 1905, a momentous thing happened in China: the ancient Confucianist civil service examinations were abolished.

Finally convinced of China's weakness, the Dowager Empress, Tzu Hsi, associated with the old order, was forced to accept a promised constitution and parliament. It was too late, it not too little.

That same year also saw the founding of a revolutionary party by a patriot and expatriate named Sun Yat-sen, who envisioned a thoroughgoing social and economic revolution.

On a fund-raising tour among overseas Chinese when erupted in the city of Wuchang on Oct. 10, 1911 (the famous "Double Ten"), Sun hurried home to accept the provisional presidency of the Republic of China.

By the end of 1911, most of southern China had thrown off the rule of the Manchus.

In Peking, the last Manchu emperor (the dowager died in 1908) was forced to abdicate and the government was turned over to the powerful Gen. Yuan Shi-k'ai.

Sun, to his later regret, stepped down in favor of Yuan.

Within three years the new president had become dictator, ousting Sun's Kuomintang, or Nationalist Party. This was not enough for Yuan. He announced a new dynasty with himself as emperor, but popular opposition plus pressure from Japan, which did not want a united China, forced him to back down. After Yuan's death in 1916, a long period of anarchy ensued.

While Western money supported conservatives in Peking and warlords disputed for spoils throughout China, Sun continued to work for the revolution.

Rejecting both capitalism and Marxism, he sought something between the two.

As later outlined in his "Three Principles of the People," first must come national greatness during a period of tutelage by the Kuomintang.

SWITCH LOYALTY

The Chinese must substitute national loyalty for family and clan loyalty, he said.

A new China was indeed appearing, at least among the urbanized and educated.

The everyday language began to be used in literature and the authoritarian family structure to break down.

One rebel against parental authority was an assistant librarian at the University of Peking — Mao Tse-tung.

REVOLUTION

Another epic revolution—the Russian — took place in this decade.

When the Bolsheviks offered to give up the special privileges (but not the territories) wrung from China by the West, believed China had finally, Sun, abandoned by the ally found a friend.

Sauna Bath in Treatment

By Science Service

NEW YORK — Daily treatment in the 167-degree F. dry heat of the sauna bath is helping chronic kidney disease patients in Boston's Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Dr. Donald Snyder and John P. Merrill have been conducting a pilot study with eight patients also on hemodialysis.

With the aid of two sauna baths daily, except for the day on which artificial kidney dialysis takes place, patients have been able to sweat off much of the fluid and some of the metabolic wastes that pile up because of kidney malfunctioning.

Up to Freshman to Adapt

By Leslie J. Nason, Ed. D.

Very often a student with superior grades in high school gets lower ones in college. Does this mean high school standards are too low — or college standards are too high?

Unfortunately, there is no simple explanation for this distressing occurrence. A perplexed parent states the concern of thousands of others who have children entering college:

"In our son's freshman class in college, 70 per cent graduated from their high school in the upper 25ths of their senior class. Most of the remaining percentage was in the upper 5ths of their class. In this same freshman class, 75 per cent are 2 points or below (On a 4 point system). This is a fine university, and I approve of its high standards."

"Can we say though, in all fairness, that this 75 per cent of the students is to be blamed altogether for not meeting the standards? Should not the colleges begin to shift some of the responsibility to the high schools?"

It is important for colleges to set high standards — and to make the freshman immediately aware that he must meet them. This sometimes comes as a shock.

For example, when a freshman presents his first theme to a college English instructor, he is often dismayed by the grade it receives. In high school it would have brought an "A"; in college it brings a "D."

It may be an excellent theme for an entering freshman, but the college instructor wishes to let the student know immediately where his production stands when compared with the quality of composition he must learn to produce in this class.

In this way, he hopes to impress upon the incoming freshman that he must now set higher standards for himself than those demanded in high school. Students must learn to deal with the lecture system which requires more individual responsibility for learning.

The first semester of college thus is a period of adjustment. A student who works diligently to meet college standards of study and learning usually succeeds.

Since the competition in college is stiffer than in high school, he is competing against a more select group of students and so may not reach the same level that he maintained in high school.

The student who persists in following the same study techniques that were successful in high school, even though they prove unsuccessful in college, finds himself sinking further and further into trouble.

The high school may be at fault in this case in that it failed to point out the inappropriateness of his study procedures.

CORNEB BEEF BURGERS — Canned corned beef is a familiar sandwich and hash ingredient. It can also be used in burgers.

Corned Beef Patties Top Corn

When it's moving day for your neighbors, or there's a new family on the block, it's a thoughtful custom to take over a simple lunch or supper as a welcome.

Here's a hospitality gesture from the friendly Midwest — a hearty casserole dish called "Corned Beef Burgers with Corn."

It's easy to make these tasty burgers with canned corned beef, which flakes with a fork for mixing with soft bread crumbs and egg. This makes a burger mixture designed to provide new flavor treats for family dining.

The corned beef burger casserole is a wonderfully good meal, for it combines the high protein of canned corned beef with the vitamins, minerals, and flavor of vegetables — kernel corn, onion, green pepper, and a tomato soup sauce. Canned corned beef, you'll find, is an inspired item for the pantry shelf, because it combines with so many foods so well.

Corned Beef Burgers with Corn
1 can (12 ounces) corned beef, unchilled
1 slice whole wheat bread
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 medium onion, sliced
½ green pepper, cut in rings
1 can (12 ounces) vacuum pack whole kernel corn, undrained
1 can tomato soup

Flake corned beef with a fork. Separate bread into soft crumbs; add to corned beef with egg; mix well. Shape into four patties. Cook onion and green pepper a minute or two in a little fat.

Season corn with a little salt and pepper, if necessary, and place in a buttered casserole. Top with corned beef burgers.

Cover with onion and green pepper rings and pour tomato soup over burgers. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

It's a Cool Tip

Fill the bottom part of your chafing dish with ice cubes or crushed ice. Arrange a molded salad in the top part and it will stay firm during your buffet party.

Use Shrimp Soup to Prepare Peas

Shrimp and Green Peas

1 package (10 ounces) frozen green peas
1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup
1 can (4½ ounces) shrimp, drained and rinsed

Cook the peas according to package directions but omit salt. Drain peas; add ¼ cup of the cooking liquid to a saucepan with the frozen soup. Stir often over low heat until soup defrosts; bring just to a boil, beating with a whisk or fork to make smooth. Add drained peas and shrimp; reheat but do not boil. Makes 4 servings.

CHERRY ORANGE CHEESE MOLD — It's a two-layer salad that tastes as good as it looks. There are mandarin oranges in the orange layer and Bing cherries in the cherry layer. Good all around for compliments.

Adding a bay leaf to canned tomato sauce that is being heated often improves flavor. Cooking asparagus slowly helps to prevent it from breaking apart.

Two Fruits---Two Layers of Gelatin for Salad Mold

CHERRY ORANGE CHEESE MOLD

Orange Layer:

1 11-ounce can mandarin orange sections
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin (1 envelope)
1 cup creamed cottage cheese (½ pint)
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
¼ cup whipping cream, whipped

For orange layer, drain orange sections; save ¼ cup syrup. Soften unflavored gelatin in mandarin orange syrup; dissolve over low heat. Add cottage cheese, orange sections, and orange rind; stir. For cherry layer, drain cherries; save ¼ cup syrup. Heat syrup to boiling. Add hot syrup to cherry-flavored gelatin; stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to set, stir in cherries. Pour over orange layer. Chill until firm. Unmold. If desired, fill center of ring with additional drained mandarin orange sections and pitted Bing cherries. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Fold in whipped cream. Pour into a 2-quart ring mold. Chill.

Cherry Layer:

1 11-ounce can pitted Bing cherries
1 3-ounce package cherry-flavored gelatin
1 cup creamed cottage cheese (½ pint)

For cherry layer, drain cherries; save ¼ cup syrup. Heat syrup to boiling. Add hot syrup to cherry-flavored gelatin; stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to set, stir in cherries. Pour over orange layer. Chill until firm. Unmold. If desired, fill center of ring with additional drained mandarin orange sections and pitted Bing cherries. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

End-of-the-Year Teen Parties Call for Special Snacks

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

From now until the end of the school year the teen-age set goes to proms, receptions, graduation parties and just plain get-togethers. At all of these affairs they want to eat.

When it's a special party like a pre-prom event, you'll want the food to be a little more elaborate than for a run-of-the-mill occasion.

Serve the usual soft drinks if you like, but add a bowl of punch too. This one is creamy, has a really different taste.

MOLASSES ICE CREAM PUNCH
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses

2 quarts milk
1 quart vanilla or coffee ice cream nutmeg

Four molasses into punch bowl. Gradually stir in milk. Add half the ice cream and stir until partially melted. Top with spoonfuls of remaining ice cream. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Makes 25 servings, one-half cup each.

Peanut butter is a favorite with so many young people that you can safely use it for snacks. You may not want to serve all the items mentioned, but any two of the three are not too many.

PEANUT BUTTER STUFFED CELERY
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, at room temperature
1/2 cup crunchy peanut butter
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
10 to 12 pieces celery stalk, about 3-inches long

Blend together cheese, peanut butter, chili sauce and curry powder. Stuff celery with mixture. Chill until serving time. Garnish with parsley, as desired. Makes 10-12 snacks.

PETER PANCY DIP
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 cup smooth peanut butter
6 slices bacon, crisp cooked and minced
1 teaspoon instant minced onion flakes
1/4 teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients together; blend well. Garnish with additional crumbled bacon, if desired. Serve with assorted crackers. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

FANCY PETER PANIES
1/2 cup crunchy peanut butter
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 package (10 ounces) pie crust mix

Blend together peanut butter, olives and chili sauce. Prepare pie crust mix according to package directions; roll out to square about 14x14-inches. Using a 2 1/4 inch cutter, cut into rounds. Place 1/2 teaspoonful of peanut butter mixture in center of each round. Fold over and seal with fork. Bake in 425 degree (hot) oven 10 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve hot. Makes about 3 dozen.

Note: If any pie crust trimmings are left over, brush with melted butter and sprinkle with garlic or onion salt; cut as desired. Bake in 425 degree (hot) oven 8 minutes or until lightly browned.

Instead of serving potato chips, prepare a double batch of munching food.

Melt one stick of butter or margarine in big, shallow baking pan. Add two cups each of corn, wheat and oats cereal of the small circles, squares and other bite-sized pieces. Stir carefully through the melted butter and add one pound salted peanuts and one 8-ounce package pretzel slim sticks, one cup extruded pretzels, and a few other small varieties. Toss lightly to coat with butter.

Smooth out evenly on pan and bake in 300-degree oven for 10 minutes. Stir lightly once and add your favorite seasoning or divide into 4 portions in small deep bowls.

• Bowl No. 1 — add 1 tablespoon Worcestershire Sauce.

• Bowl No. 2 — add 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt.

• Bowl No. 3 — add 1/2 teaspoon celery salt.

• Bowl No. 4 — add 1/2 teaspoon chili powder.

Mix thoroughly. Serve cold.

SAUTEED CHICKEN LEGS

Buy small chicken legs, roll lightly in very finely powdered pretzel crumbs and brown lightly in heavy skillet, using half butter and half shortening. When half done cover skillet with tight lid and cook till meat is juicy and tender and outside crisp. Salt on the pretzels makes the seasoning.

FINGER FOOD

Place sharp cheddar cheese squares topped with a pungent pickled onion on bamboo sticks. Place long, crisp slices of dill pickles — which all teen-agers adore — around edge of plate.

Refrigerator Can Defeat You in Battle to Lose Ugly Fat

NEW YORK (UPI) — A lock on the refrigerator or mouth wins hands down in the fat of the land's battle with blubber.

But starvation diets bound to accompany such drastic procedures only result in short-term weight loss and endanger the health.

Sylvia Schur, a petite woman who talks weight control to club women nationwide, said in an interview that putting a lock on the refrigerator isn't uncommon.

"The refrigerator," she said, "rates as one of the biggest obstacles to a lean figure among many overweight women."

In addition to a lock, some plump females put a mirror, a wedding picture, a sign saying "don't," or hubby's picture on their refrigerators.

Mrs. Schur has heard some strange stories about efforts to lose weight.

A woman who decided to lose the exercise way took to beating rugs every day. Three weeks later she had lost one and one-quarter pounds and gained a coronary.

Some have tried to hold off the hunger pangs by filling the stomach with dry soda crackers or paper tissue such as the type used when blowing a nose.

In addition to counting calories, the best help on a diet," Mrs. Schur said, "is a full length mirror and a bathing suit."

You just take a good look. If you don't like what you see, you put more effort into the calorie counting.

The best exercise, according to the food consultant to Duffy-

Mott Co., Inc., is pushing yourself away from the table and learning how to turn your head from right to left when offered second portions.

Mrs. Schur, of New Rochelle, N.Y., is five feet, one inch tall and weighs 108 pounds—up four pounds from ten years ago.

"I watch my calories," she said. "And you can bet that the same is true of most persons who seem to have perfect figures."

Spiced Fruit Good to Eat

Almost too-easy is this recipe for Spiced Purple Plums, a garnish which seems to go with everything, and which, if hidden, keeps quite a spell in the refrigerator.

Easy-to-Do Spiced Purple Plums
Pour into a saucepan the syrup from a No. 2 1/2 container (1 pound, 15 ounces) canned or glass pack, of purple plums. Add 6 whole cloves, a 3-inch stick of cinnamon broken in pieces, a bit of whole mace or 1/4 teaspoon ground mace.

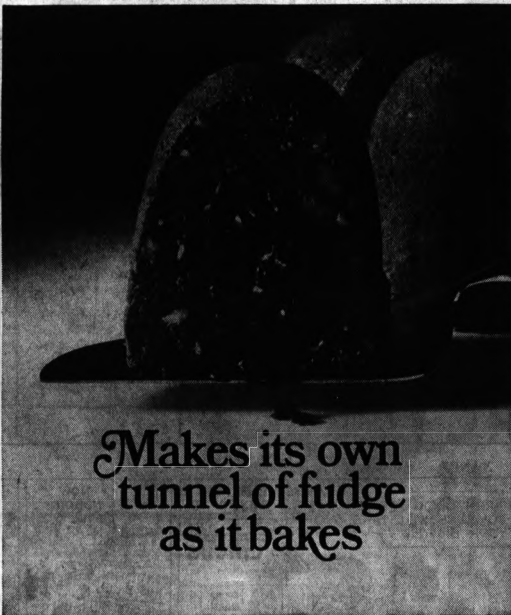

Bring to boiling point. Add 1 tablespoon shredded orange rind and 1/2 teaspoon aromatic biters. Simmer for 5 minutes.

Pour over purple plums. Cover. Let stand until cool, then place in refrigerator overnight. Serve cold, on thin orange slices if desired.

The spicy leftover syrup may be used for basting and glazing baked ham and corned beef and for gelatin molds to serve with these meats.

Second Annual Outdoor Cooking Contest for Men Announced by Detroit Edison

The Detroit Edison Company has launched the search for the "King of the Patio" in the second annual contest for men who enjoy the art of outdoor cooking.

The first prize for the "King of the Patio" is an Electric Char-Grill Porto-Karl, which can be used outdoors or indoors and includes all fuel line extensions and attachments.

The contest is open to males 18 years of age and over who reside in Southeastern Michigan.

All a contestant needs to do is send his favorite patio recipe to the Electric Living Division, 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226. Entries must include a name, address and telephone number.

The deadline for entries is midnight June 5.

Professional chefs, cooks, Edison employees and members of their immediate families are not eligible.

Judges will select 10 finalists from the most interesting and promising recipes. The talented 10 will then compete in the cook-off for "King of the Patio" houses and other awards on Wednesday, June 15. All finalists must be available to compete in the cook-off.

Marion Ryan, electric living director, feels it's best not to depend on Mr. Weatherman for ideal conditions for an outdoor cook-off, so she and her staff will convert the Edison Sales Auditorium into an outdoor patio setting.

Miss Ryan and her staff will provide the groceries and cooking equipment for each finalist.

There will be an assortment of electric broilers, ovens, rotisseries, and grills for the finalists to use.

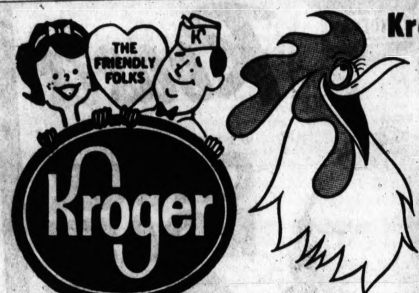

Second prize will be a Patio Table complete with table service for eight and an Electric Rotisserie-Broiler.

Third prize will be an Open-Hearth Broiler-Rotisserie complete with a shish kebab attachment.

George Pierrot of WWJ-TV, Mark Beltaire of the Detroit Free Press, Len Barnes, Motor News outdoor editor, and Mort Melrose of WXYZ-TV.

Neff of WXYZ-TV will serve as judges.

And in the event the judges need any assistance, three other experts will be present as honorary judges. They are Kay Savage of the Detroit Free Press, Cyrilla Riley of the Detroit News, and Edythe Ferry of WXYZ-TV.

Steak Sauce Adds Zesty Flavor to Trio of Salads

With the advent of warmer weather, salads take the spotlight as the main bill of fare, for luncheons in particular. These suggestions from home economists are nourishing, tasty, and easy to prepare.

PEAR SALAD SUPREME
3 ripe pears (or 6 canned pear halves)
lemon juice
2 pkgs. (3 oz.) cream cheese
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
2 cups diced celery
6 lettuce leaves
½ cup chopped walnuts

2 tablespoons steak sauce
Peel, halve and core ripe pears. If used. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Blend mayonnaise into cheese until smooth. Fold into whipped cream. Add celery.
Place individual pear half on lettuce leaf, top with cheese-cream mixture. Top mixture with 1 teaspoon steak sauce (looks like chocolate sundae) and garnish with chopped nuts. Serves 6.

TURKEY-CORN SALAD
6 large tomatoes

1 cup diced cooked turkey
1 cup sliced ripe olives
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon steak sauce
1 cup canned corn
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Cut off tomato tops, scoop out centers to make cups. Mix remaining ingredients lightly, fill tomato centers. Dot with butter. Place in pan under broiler 10-12 minutes, or until lightly browned. Serves 6.

AVOCADO ASPIC
1 envelope unflavored gelatin

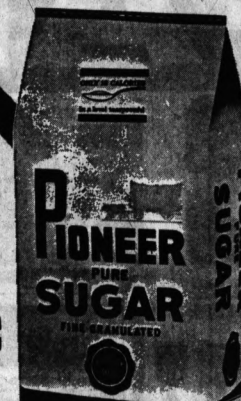

1½ cup cold water
1½ cups tomato juice
1 tablespoon steak sauce
¼ teaspoon salt
dash pepper
2 avocados, peeled, diced
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup chopped black olives

Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat tomato juice to boiling, add to gelatin. Stir until gelatin dissolves, add remaining ingredients. Mix together, pour into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on bed of lettuce, serve with mayonnaise. Serves 6.

Path of the Eel Still Unknown

Danes' Expedition Fails to Trace Route

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — A Danish expedition around this week from a trip to the Sargasso Sea and conceded defeat to the common eel. After a three-month voyage for the Danish Institute of Marine Research, Dr. E. Berthelsen, the expedition leader, said the eel once again eluded all attempts to catch it en route to its presumed breeding grounds in the seaweed forests of the North Atlantic.

Berthelsen had hoped to come home with final proof of the theories of the late Danish marine biologist, Dr. Ohannes Schmidt, who 47 years ago mapped the wandering of the European and North American fresh water eel.

The map is still one way. The travels of the young eels all the way from the Sargasso Sea to European streams and lakes are fully mapped, but nobody really knows how the grown eel gets back.

NONE CAUGHT
No sexually mature eel has been caught west of the English Channel, and though the Sargasso Sea is alive with millions of newborn eels, nobody has yet found the eggs of an eel.

"We failed to spot a single full-grown eel down there, though we tried hard and returned to the Sargasso Sea twice during the breeding season," Dr. Berthelsen said.

He hopes, however, that the eggs of a freshwater eel may be found among the innumerable microscopic fish eggs hauled in and stored in glass jars for laboratory study.

"We did find out that the breeding ground of the eel is far wider than presumed earlier. It covers an area twice as wide as the whole North Sea," Berthelsen said.

He said the expedition also found the waters off Bermuda to be where the young eels separate, some heading for North America, and others slowly drifting to Europe on a trip lasting three years.

Cong Deaths, Arms Capture Differ—Why?

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Why is there often a wide disparity between the number of Viet Cong killed and weapons captured?

Quiered about a 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division action last week in which the Americans claimed killing 322 North Vietnamese but captured only 53 weapons, a U.S. spokesman gave this reply:

"The Viet Cong tactical doctrine lays down stringent rules for the recovery of weapons from the battlefield. Instructions are issued requiring each member of basic three-man cells to recover weapons, and, if possible, the bodies of the other members of the cell who are killed on the battlefield."

"In many instances, there is not enough time to recover the bodies, but usually time does permit recovery of the weapons. The Viet Cong make even more determined efforts to recover crew-served weapons when the crew members become casualties."

ONLY GRENADES

"The Viet Cong also employ some troops armed only with grenades. Casualties among these persons also contributed to the disparity between enemy body count and weapons captured."

The spokesman also pointed out that some battles end at nightfall and it is difficult to search for weapons in the darkness. Many of them also are lost in the waters of rice paddies, he added.

Cuban Teachers Have Extracurricular Duty

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Under Fidel Castro's revolution, the job of helping to keep the streets of a Communist city and beautiful also falls on women teachers.

A Havana radio newscast heard in Miami says the teachers report to the central park of the city at night after they are through with school chores for the day.

Lack of Listeners Makes Talking to One's Self Respectable

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbsome comments by a Pavement Plato:

There was a time when only the very young and the very old talked to themselves. The practice was regarded as a sign of either childishness or senility. That is no longer true. Talking to one's self is so universal now that it can hardly be classified as an indication of mental disturbance—that is, unless you subscribe to the view that our crowded world has turned everyone into a blubbering idiot.

The habit simply is a matter of social necessity. The reason that more people are talking to themselves is that nobody else will listen to them.

HALF THE ART
Listening is at least half the art of conversation; conversation has died out as a modern simply because there are no good listeners left.

If you try to give a waiter a menu order in a restaurant, he is off to tell it to the chef before you can finish uttering it. He won't wait to hear you through. That is why he returns from the kitchen with a boiled egg instead of the broiled veal you wanted.

Wives complain that husbands never listen, but how many wives listen to husbands any more? You come home from work and surprise your wife standing in the middle of the living room with the tubing from the vacuum cleaner wrapped around her like a giant anaconda.

"That's a cute house dress you got on, baby," you mumble. NOTHING BUT TROUBLE "Don't whine to me about your office problems," she barks. "I've had nothing but trouble all day myself."

See what I mean? It is like everyone on earth had gone deaf.

The only way a man can get a message across to his wife any more is to pretend to talk in his sleep.

But talk is the escape valve of the human mind. Man, if his own kind won't listen to him, will talk to trees, dogs, stones, cats, his tools, the wind, the waves upon the sea. He talks because he simply must.

CERTAIN ADVANTAGES
There are, of course, certain advantages in talking to yourself. You are able to pontificate on any subject you choose as long as you want and without interruption. And you are sure of a keenly intelligent audience that applauds every opinion you express.

There's only one drawback. What happens if you talk to yourself for several hours, then suddenly realize you haven't really heard a thing you said?

Where does a fellow turn then?

Coup Kept N-Source for France

BANGUI, Central African Republic (AP) — The discovery of enormous uranium deposits in the Central African Republic casts a new light on the four-month-old military regime of Col. Jean Bedel Bokassa.

Diplomatic sources in the republic's jungle-fringed capital believe Bokassa's New Year's Eve coup kept one of France's most important future sources of uranium from falling into hostile hands.

The extent of the uranium deposits in the Bakouma area, 400 miles northwest of Bangui, is still a French defense secret.

The French Atomic Energy Commission, which has a uranium concession in the Central African Republic, recently concluded a series of preliminary surveys and is building highways and airstrips and bringing in heavy equipment for the next stage of the exploitation. A big ore concentration plant is to be built at Bakouma.

FRENCH STAKE SECURE
Bokassa's pro-French posture leaves no doubt that the French stake in the Bakouma deposits is secure, at least as long as he remains in power.

There is no evidence, however, that the uranium find had anything to do with Bokassa's decision to oust left-leaning President David Dacko.

Bokassa claims the Chinese Communists, who had a large diplomatic mission in Bangui, were behind a conspiracy to have him arrested and probably killed during a New Year's Eve party at the residence of Col. Isamu, commander of Dacko's gendarmerie.

Bokassa acted swiftly. The leading leftists, including Isamu, were rounded up as they prepared to celebrate the new year. Dacko was placed under house arrest in his hilltop residence and has been there ever since.

Dacko said publicly he thought Bokassa's coup saved his life, too, as the Communists would eventually have turned on him.

'Hitting Beach' Gets New Lift
By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Hitting the beach in Viet Nam or anywhere else could be made a lot easier by a troop-and-cargo landing craft riding on a cushion of air that would carry it over reefs, rice paddies, and even 3-foot boulders.

A flexible rubber "skirt" around the edge of an air-cushion vehicle (ACV) traps air pulled down between the water's surface and the bottom of the ACV by two huge fans.

Several ACV's called Hydroskimmers, have already been built for the U.S. Navy by Bell Aerosystems Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

It now takes about five hours and 20 minutes for one of the LARC-5 unloading boats now in use to move cargo from the coast of Viet Nam to the base at Nha Trang.

An ACV with a five-ton payload could get there in 58 minutes, or in only 42 minutes by cutting overland across 50 m sand dunes, said John B. Chaplin, a Bell engineer, speaking to the American Society of Naval Engineers here.

FAST MOVEMENT
Carrying troops, jeeps or other cargo, the ACV could skim along at more than 80 miles per hour, driven by two small propellers at the rear.

ACV's can even cross mine fields with little danger. Chaplin said, since they do not touch the ground and their fans only exert a downward force of 35 pounds per square foot, a 200-man would exert about 400 pounds per square foot.

Fifty-caliber machine guns have been test-fired from Hydroskimmers traveling at up to 54 miles per hour, with "good" accuracy.

While ACV's do tend to side-slip during fast cornering or high (over 25 mph) crosswinds, they have crossed through 3-foot surf and have operated in rough seas with wave peaks 18 feet high.

Commercial passenger-carrying ACV's are already in experimental use, and Chaplin estimated that versions could be made capable of carrying up to 500,000 pounds.

Pro-China Latin Reds Blast Fidel Castro

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Pro-Chinese Communists in Latin America evidently have declared open ideological war on Fidel Castro of Cuba.

He is being blasted as a traitor to the cause of violent revolution, a creator of "Fidelism," who considers himself "the only revolutionary on earth."

A broadside was fired by way of Communist Albania's radio, which published what was described as an open letter from the Communist party of Brazil. As a result of Soviet-Chinese quarrels, Brazil — like many Latin-American nations — has two Communist parties.

The "open letter," carried by the Tirana paper Zeri i Popullit, said: "Unfortunately, comrade Fidel, you have gradually abandoned revolutionary positions and have turned further and further toward the revisionists."

That means the Soviet Communists.

The letter expressed astonishment at Castro's attacks earlier this year on Red China after the Chinese cut off rice exports to Cuba. Those attacks brought an angry exchange between Peking and Havana.

The letter accused Castro of having been influenced by Nikita S. Khrushchev, the fallen Soviet premier, during the Cuban leader's visits to the Soviet Union, and of having accepted Khrushchev's "absurd theory of peaceful transition."

The theory means that revolution does not necessarily have to be produced by armed conflict.

The document indicated a suspicion that the Soviet Union had twisted the Castro arm and forced him into line with the Soviet Communist party, since Castro's economy and military rely on Moscow.

Castro's attitude in preparing the January tricontinental anti-imperialist conference in Havana was, the letter said, "truly disgusting," since he did not invite organizations favoring violent revolution but did summon "all the revisionist parties and movements."

At the conference, the letter said, Castro was insincere in calling for armed struggle against "North American imperialism."

FOLLOW ADVICE
"You seem to consider yourself the only revolutionary on earth and you believe that one can achieve victory only by listening to you and by following your advice," the letter continued.

The letter accused Castro of reaching the "peak of ignominy" in his attitude to Peking, of delivering an "unspeakable influence, the letter said, Castro was insincere in calling for armed struggle against "North American imperialism."

In other words, Castro might not have wanted to act as he did, but the Russians forced it upon him.

result and perfidious blow to the Communist movement and the national liberation cause of the oppressed peoples."

"Comrade Fidel, by persisting in your anti-Chinese attitude you are, whether you want to or not, siding with the world counter-revolution of the U.S. monopolists and the traitors to Marxism-Leninism," the letter said.

In other words, Castro might not have wanted to act as he did, but the Russians forced it upon him.

Cubans Burn: Czech Cigarette Paper Won't!

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuban smokers had better stick to cigars.

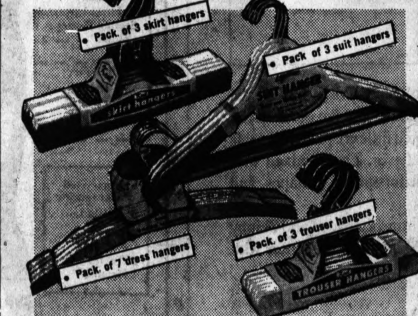

A Havana radio broadcast monitored here said many smokers had complained that their cigarettes wouldn't burn.

The broadcast said cigarette paper imported from Czechoslovakia "lacked sufficient quantities of potassium and sodium for easy combustion."

This spread is brand new.
It tastes exactly like peanut butter and bacon...
but there's no bacon in it.

Until now, when you wanted a peanut butter and bacon sandwich you had to fry the bacon until it crisped, drain off the fat, blot up excess drippings with paper towels, crumble the bacon in a mixing bowl, and add a generous amount of Skippy® Peanut Butter. Then you got a large spoon and stirred until it was well mixed and reasonably easy to spread.

Skippy has changed all that. New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has taken the work and the mess and the cleaning-up out of making a peanut butter and bacon sandwich.

New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has all the crunch, crackle and old-fashioned smokehouse flavor of bacon. But instead of bacon, Skippy has created little crisps of vegetable protein with remarkably true bacon flavor. These, mixed with Skippy, make a tasty spread—perfect for snacks, canapes, and sandwiches, even on meatless days.

So, for all you people who like the taste of a bacon and Skippy sandwich, try them together in new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps.

Try some and Skippy will send you 25 cents in cash!

We're so sure you'll like the exciting taste of new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps that we'll send you 25 cents in cash for just buying a jar—any size!

A Junior Editors Quiz About BALL GAMES

QUESTION: Who first used balls to play games?

ANSWER: Some kind of ball probably figured in the games played by prehistoric children.

These balls may have been smooth, round pebbles, probably used something as we use marbles today, or they might have been hollow gourds or coconuts, which would be fine for tossing back and forth.

In some of the oldest pictures we have on record, balls are shown being used as playthings.

We know from the stories of the great Greek writer Homer that the Greeks were very fond of tossing balls back and forth to each other.

He speaks of maidens doing this to increase the grace and suppleness of their figures.

Our artist has illustrated this in his main picture. Such ancient balls were made of leather straps sewed together and filled with feathers, or in some cases with air.

The Romans were exceedingly fond of ball playing. During their days, team play had been introduced, with middle and rear lines marked out.

During the 1400's and 1500's in Europe, games were played which gradually turned into football, tennis and golf. Baseball developed from earlier English games, becoming by 1839 the game we know today.

THE LONG WAVY LINE—Getting off on the right foot is only half the battle as proved by the usually well-aligned brigade of foot guards in London yesterday. The brigade was marching in the guard mounting ceremony in the Horse Guards Parade.

After Long Crisis

Euromart Finds Farm Accord

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Ministers of the European Common Market (Euromart) cleared a major hurdle today by agreeing on financing of agricultural subsidies and reforms.

They also agreed to do away with the internal trade barriers on agricultural and industrial goods by July 1, 1968 — 18 months ahead of schedule.

The farm financing issue has been one of the most controversial in the Common Market's eight-year history and was a major factor in the long crisis which threatened to disrupt the West European trade bloc last summer.

The ministers agreed on the joint community financing of the cost of farm supports by July 1, 1967.

ALL MAJOR PRODUCTS

This will apply to all major farm products for which common rules and prices have been set. It is expected to cover all Common Market farm produce by July 1, 1968.

To raise the level of farm efficiency throughout the community, particularly in the most backward areas like southern Italy, the cost of farm improvement will be borne partly from community funds.

The means by which the six countries individually use to protect their farmers will then be replaced by a joint system and they will jointly finance subsidies to dispose of surpluses on the world market.

The Common Market's members are France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Some 107,000 U.S. residents traveled to South America last year, while a total of 184,000 South Americans visited this country.

3rd Body Found Knifed in Florida; Youth Is Held

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Sheriff Tom Walker says he is holding a 16-year-old boy in connection with the deaths of two Pompano Beach boys and a third youth, whose body while re-enacting his account of the death of the other two, found last week.

Walker said the 16-year-old, whose name he declined to reveal, led detectives to the third body while re-enacting his account of the death of the other two, found last week.

The latest victim, believed to be about 12 years old but not immediately identified, was stabbed to death at what was the year's legislative session already other youths, Mack Foxworth, 11, and William White, 13.

Ruling Stirs California Politics

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California's campaign for governor got a bristling new issue today, provided by the State Supreme Court's decision to overrule a state constitutional amendment that allowed racial discrimination in housing.

The high court, by a 5 to 2 ruling, threw out the amendment giving landlords and home owners the right to refuse to rent or sell to anyone—even those on grounds of race or religion.

The court held that the amendment violated the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Two lawmakers demanded that Gov. Edmund G. Brown immediately identify the issue to an election-year legislative session already packed with controversy.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, Brown's main foe in the June 7 Democratic primary, said the court "bashed" his decision to the governor several weeks ago.

DECISIVE ROLE

"The philosophy and political persuasion of the justices is playing an increasingly decisive role in their decision," he said.

Ronald Reagan, campaigning for the Republican nomination for governor, said Brown to start enforcing the Rumford Act, the antidiscrimination housing law that had been nullified by the amendment.

Brown, however, said "I don't think this will be a political issue." And George Christopher, another Republican candidate for governor and Reagan's main opponent, said "further quarreling would not seem to be in California's best interests."

All the candidates were aware of the 1964 election in which the voters approved the amendment by more than a 2-1 margin. The vote, crossing party lines, amounted to a massive rebellion against the 1963 legislature's bitterly contested housing law.

Los Angeles County, which supported President Johnson, also backed the amendments—Proposition 14 on the ballot—by just short of a million votes.

Southern California counties of Orange and San Diego and even carried the Democratic stronghold of San Francisco, despite the opposition of the Democratic party.

Pierre Salinger, former White House press secretary, said his opposition to Proposition 14 helped Republican George Murphy defeat him in the 1964 U.S. Senate election.

Detroit Social Workers Vote 15-2 for Union

DETROIT (AP)—Social workers employed by Detroit's Neighborhood Services Organization voted 15-2 Tuesday to be represented by the Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. The election was conducted by the Michigan Labor Mediation Board. The union, which is campaigning to represent some 275 other social workers, said it plans to negotiate a contract soon with the service organization.

Artist Opposes Factory Close to Historic Park

CHADDS FORD, Pa. (AP)—"I'm ready for a fight," said artist Andrew Wyeth, announcing plans to lead opposition to relocation of a small factory on a meadow near historic Brandywine Battlefield Park.

To me, Chadds Ford is very important historically," said Wyeth, whose paintings have won him worldwide acclaim.

Township supervisors are to decide next Wednesday whether to grant a zoning change that would permit the Fibre-Metal Products Co. to relocate near the park.

Robert Bowers, secretary of Fibre-Metal, could not be reached for comment.

Kettering, Milford Retain League Leads

Bloomfield Is 3-2 Victim to W-O Redskins

Captains Go 8 Innings to Win in Tri-County at L'Anse

Waterford Kettering and Milford retained their lofty spots in their respective league baseball races with important wins yesterday.

Milford played off its 4-4 tie of Monday with Bloomfield Hills and emerged a 3-2 victor, practically eliminating the Barons (6-4) from the Wayne-Oakland race.

Kettering, meanwhile, went eight innings to spoil L'Anse Creuse's bid for a Tri-County upset at Mount Clemens, 6-2.

Big innings aided both winners. Milford erupted for two markers in the first inning to post its ninth straight in the W-O circuit.

Jack Ward led off with a single. An error put a second runner on base and catcher Mike Yeager doubled home one. Mike Painchaud, the winning hurler, then singled home the final two.

WEAKENS: He tossed one-hit ball for six innings, but Hills made a gallant final try in the seventh. A single by John Baumann and Dave Beebe's double set up a two-run, two-out two-bagger by Ketzlarian.

A walk followed, but shortstop Bob McFarland then bared a sharp line drive hit by Brian Parrott for the final out.

Kettering overcame an early 2-0 lead by L'Anse Creuse with two unearned markers in the fifth inning, then tallied four times in the eighth.

Dick Miceli's rbi single followed a walk, wild pitch and bunt single by Dan Runyan for the lead run, an error, John Kampson's squeeze bunt and a triple by Craig Collins finished the damage.

Pitcher Jack McCool whiffed 16 of the Lancers, including nine straight at one stretch, and allowed only one runner in the first seven innings as Kettering won its fourth straight in the Tri-County loop (5-3 over-all).

Singles Crown at Stake in Net Tournament

ROME (AP) — Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy and Australian Tony Roche, who both reached the final round in the upset route, battled it out today for the singles title of the Italian International Tennis Tournament.

Pietrangeli pulled the tourney's biggest reversal Tuesday by defeating top-ranked Roy Emerson of Australia 6-3, 3-6, 6-1.

At Mets-Astros Game

Ex-Yankee Skipper Relaxes

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was the only wheel in town, so Johnny Keane did the most natural thing in the world. He went out to see a ball game.

The deposed Yankee manager came out to see the Mets play the Astros Tuesday night and he sat virtually unnoticed with his wife, Lela, in a second tier box to the right of home plate.

"We didn't get out here until the fifth inning," explained the

St. Mike 9 Keeps Pace in League

St. Michael stayed in the Macomb Catholic League baseball race Tuesday with a key win, but St. Frederick suffered a damaging defeat.

Strong relief hurling by Jerry Stanton and a four-run rally in the fifth inning carried the Mike-men past Ulica St. Lawrence, 4-3, and boosted their record to 4-2.

St. Fred was a 10-8 upset victim at New Baltimore St. Mary, losing a 7-1 lead and dropping its fourth game in seven starts.

Stanton relieved Pat Thornberry in the second inning and allowed only three base runners for the rest of the game in gaining his first mound conquest for St. Mike.

A walk, Mike Oliver's single two errors and Mike Thornberry's two-run safety tied the game for the Shamrocks and Steve Kraft followed with a sacrifice fly to plate the deciding marker.

The winners' only two hits were both in the rally.

St. Fred only garnered one hit in the final four innings after scoring all of its eight runs in the first three sessions.

gray-haired Keane, who was relieved of his duties with the Yankees in Anaheim, Calif., last Saturday.

"It was mostly my wife's idea to come out to the game. We were sitting having dinner and she happened to mention she had never been to Shea Stadium. So I suggested we go. We grabbed a cab and here we are," he said.

JUST RELAXING

"I kind of enjoyed seeing the game," he smiled. "It was very relaxing just sitting back in the stands."

Naturally, Keane's eyes drifted toward the mammoth center-field scoreboard at Shea Stadium which lists all the games being played in both the National and American Leagues.

He couldn't help but notice that the Yankees' scheduled game in Minnesota has been postponed.

"What do you think of them winning three in a row since their last game?"

"I only got to see the last few innings," he said, "but it was worthwhile coming out to me. The Mets looked pretty good to me, a lot better than they did the last time I saw them in this league."

He meant in 1964 when he managed the St. Louis Cardinals to a world championship.

"Them made some fine plays

you left?" someone asked him rather bluntly.

Keane smiled and merely shrugged.

"I'm not too surprised," he said, "they're a good ball club. They're going to win their share of games."

Despite a decided nip in the chilly night air and 40-degree temperature which caused many in the sparse crowd of 8,296 to pull up the collars of their overcoats, Keane was hushed and didn't seem to mind the cold at all.

out there and they certainly looked like an improved ball club."

The Mets won the game, 7-4, and among the players Keane was especially interested in was Ken Boyer, his old third baseman with the Cards. Boyer cracked his third homer of the season over the left field wall in the first inning and although Keane wasn't there early enough to see it, he heard about it.

Houston's Domed Park May Have Home Rival

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County's famed domed stadium may have a home town rival by 1967.

Rice University disclosed Tuesday it has received a $25,000 grant to finance a feasibility study of a roof for the 7,000-seat Rice Stadium.

"Them made some fine plays

Keane smiled and merely shrugged.

"I'm not too surprised," he said, "they're a good ball club. They're going to win their share of games."

Despite a decided nip in the chilly night air and 40-degree temperature which caused many in the sparse crowd of 8,296 to pull up the collars of their overcoats, Keane was hushed and didn't seem to mind the cold at all.

"I only got to see the last few innings," he said, "but it was worthwhile coming out to me. The Mets looked pretty good to me, a lot better than they did the last time I saw them in this league."

out there and they certainly looked like an improved ball club."

The Mets won the game, 7-4, and among the players Keane was especially interested in was Ken Boyer, his old third baseman with the Cards. Boyer cracked his third homer of the season over the left field wall in the first inning and although Keane wasn't there early enough to see it, he heard about it.

Houston's Domed Park May Have Home Rival

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County's famed domed stadium may have a home town rival by 1967.

Rice University disclosed Tuesday it has received a $25,000 grant to finance a feasibility study of a roof for the 7,000-seat Rice Stadium.

"Them made some fine plays

you left?" someone asked him rather bluntly.

Keane smiled and merely shrugged.

"I'm not too surprised," he said, "they're a good ball club. They're going to win their share of games."

WMU Defeats 'M' 9 Again

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Western Michigan knocked off Michigan for the second time this baseball season, defeating the Wolverines 6-3 Tuesday.

Left fielder Dan Kudasiak doubled twice and accounted for seven of the eight runs in Ol. St. Mary's third victory which ties it with Farmington OLS.

Buda fanned nine hitters and issued only two free passes.

Carl Gromek posted his third straight win in relief for Brother Rice (in successive contests) as the Warriors ousted their records to 6-3 over-all.

BREAK TIE

A scoreless deadlock was broken in the fifth inning when Salesian (14) took a 2-1 lead. But Gromek moved in from shortstop to the mound, whiffed one hitter and began an inning-ending double play to end the threat.

Skippers Loss Tightens Race

Waterford

Walled Lake sidelined Waterford's drive toward a possible Inter-Lakes League baseball crown with a 6-4 triumph Monday that dropped the Skippers into a first-place tie with Pontiac Northern.

The PNH nine matched Waterford's 3-1 mark with a 1-0 routing of winless Livonia Stevenson. The Huskies smashed 19 hits.

Walled Lake's win tied it with Livonia Farmington at 3-2, one game behind the co-leaders.

Home runs featured both winning attacks. The Vikings tallied four times in the opening inning against Waterford as Fred Fergusson's three-run circuit clouted capped the up-rising.

Steve Fogle augmented the winners' attack with three hits, including two doubles, and drove in two runs. Stan Tuckwell labored to the mound victory, with only Kirk Hamilton's two doubles and two rbi's really marring the effort.

For U.S. Cities

Soccer League Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — A major professional soccer league is being set up to encompass 11 U.S. cities. Play is expected to start in the fall of 1967.

Plans for the coast-to-coast circuit, called the North American Professional Soccer League, were announced Tuesday by its president, Robert R. Hermann of St. Louis.

Hermann said that 11 cities had committed themselves to the league and five others are under consideration. The 11 cities are Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Hartford, Conn., Los Angeles, New Orleans, La., New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, San Diego, Calif., and San Francisco.

Those under consideration are Detroit, Pittsburgh, Miami, Fla., and Vancouver and Toronto, Canada.

The management of the Braves' baseball team has been awarded Atlanta's soccer franchise.

"The league will have to import about 200 players from Europe and Latin America," said William D. Cox, veteran soccer executive and a director of New York entry in the new league.

"We'll have a college draft at the end of the first year like in college football," Cox added, "and the league will be Americanized in five or six years."

Clarkston Netters Win

Clarkston made Waterford Kettering its 10th tennis victim in 12 matches with a 3-2 verdict Tuesday. A three-set No. 1 doubles contest decided the outcome.

Orioles' Pitching Staff OK; Club Cutting Catcher?

BALTIMORE (AP) — No one has pitched himself out of the Baltimore Orioles' pitching staff, so a catcher probably will be dropped from the roster tonight to meet the 25-man limit.

Veteran pitcher Steve Barber will have his ailing left shoulder examined again today. If it is determined that he will miss more than one start, Barber likely will be placed on the disabled list for 15 days.

If Barber remains on the active roster, Manager Hank Bauer is expected to cut a catcher while allowing the 11-man pitching staff to solve its own problems.

Vic Roznovsky is the only catcher with minor league options remaining. He appears ticketed for Rochester of the International League. The other Orioles catchers are rookie Andy Etchebarren and veteran Camilo Carroon, who hasn't caught an inning to date.

Cassius Clay Now Singing 'New Tune'

LONDON (AP) — Cassius Clay is singing a new song. It goes like this: London Bridge is falling down, falling down, falling down.

Henry Cooper's falling down, poor old Henry. It would be world heavyweight champion Clay's signature tune for his May 21 title fight with Cooper at London's Arsenal Soccer Stadium.

Cooper, naturally, has his own musical arrangement. Singing apart, Clay got down to some serious training Tuesday in the gymnasium of the 10th Parachute Regiment at London's White City Stadium.

Clay thumped the 83-pound heavy bag he brought with him. Then he told newsmen: "I didn't hit a heavy bag before the (George) Chuvalo or (Floyd) Patterson fights. "The hardest thing I hit in those fights was my opponents."

"In Toronto my hands were bad. The bag didn't make the journey and Chuvalo stayed the long trip. I made a mess of him, but he stayed."

"Last time I used the bag was in Lewiston, and Linton went in a minute."

Asked if this was likely to happen to Cooper, Clay replied in his new-found modest style: "I'm not a booster and a prophet any more."

Clay said he had injections in Miami, Fla., and his hands are as good as new.

"I'll hit Cooper real good from the start. I ain't going to mess around."

Clay boxed three rounds Tuesday with his chief sparring partner, Jimmy Ellis.

Instead of wrestling at close quarters and building up resistance to body punches, he concentrated on moving smartly and throwing barrages of left jabs.

Meanwhile, British champion Cooper steps up his training today with the aid of American vision coverage of the fight and pre-fight interviews went on. Britain's two TV networks were banned from a press conference given by Clay Tuesday.

The banning was done by a firm called Viewpoint Limited, which has paid 100,000 pounds ($200,000 dollars) for exclusive TV rights.

Viewpoint Chief Jarvis Astaire claimed that press conferences were "entertainment" and the networks weren't getting any of it.

Dennis Howell, Britain's newly appointed minister of sport, stepped into the row Tuesday night. He will have talks today about the ban with Postmaster General Anthony Wedgwood Benn.

The TV networks also are pressing for the right to give live coverage of the big fight, which Viewpoint is pumping closed circuit to theaters and pay TV.

Season on Pike, Press Fish Contest Open Sunday

Department Stripped of Young Trees

Stepped-up demands for planting stock by landowners have exhausted the Conservation Department's spring supply of young trees and shrubs for reforestation projects and game habitat improvements.

Since the department opened its sale of young pine and spruce trees last winter, orders have exceeded the four million transplants and seedlings ready for lifting at its nurseries.

"As a matter of fact, the demand has been so great, we've had to cut back our spring planting schedule for state forests by several hundred thousand trees to try to meet requests," reports F. J. Hodges, in charge of the nurseries.

Besides having its conifer stock sold out, the department finds that public demands have also surpassed its supply of packets for game habitat plantings.

These packets, made up of such species as multiflora rose and autumn olive, were offered to private property holders for the first time in many years to upgrade living conditions for wildlife on their idle acres.

This year's new "Golden Passport" to 7,000 federal recreation areas throughout the country, go on sale this week at a number of Conservation Department offices in Michigan. It costs $7.

Weighty Fish to Earn Bonds in 31st Derby

Entries Must Be Taken in County; Walleyes Also Eligible

Sunday will have a double importance for Oakland County fishermen.

1. The season on northern pike and muskellunge on inland lakes opens that day.

2. The 31st annual Pontiac Press Fish Derby gets under way.

The Derby will feature divisions for pike and black bass. A $50 savings bond will be awarded to the Oakland County angler who enters the heaviest pike before the Sept. 6 deadline.

Another $50 bond will be awarded for the heaviest large or small mouth bass. In addition, there will be a $50 bonus bond for the heaviest bass taken on the June 1 opener.

Only residents of Oakland County are eligible and the fish must be caught in county waters. Muskellunge and walleyes are eligible for the pike division prize.

Only one in the past 30 years has a northern pike failed to win. That was in 1957 when a walleye took top honors. Several county lakes contain walleyes, but the only known muskie population is in Wildwood.

All entries must be brought to The Press sports department for weighing. Entries will be accepted between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The building will not be open on Sunday.

The legal size limit on northern pike is 20 inches with the limit of five singly or in combination with walleyes and muskies, and later with black bass.

Pike and walleyes can be taken any time on Lake St. Clair, but muskies do not become legal there until June 4.

OCSC Schedules

Public Shooting

on Wednesdays

A good response by shooters has resulted in the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club planning to continue opening its indoor pistol range to the public on Wednesday evenings.

The facility will be open from 7:30 to 10 and a certified National Rifle Association instructor will be available to answer questions and teach safe pistol handling.

A nominal range fee is charged. No magazine calibers or jacketed bullets are permitted.

Members of the OCSC pistol team receiving awards at the recent Southeastern Michigan Pistol League banquet were Charles Schmidt, high team average and Ted Villella and Dr. M. C. Worcester, most improved shooters, in the 22-caliber division.

BROWN BEAUTY — John Robertson, 24, of 110 Harvard, Auburn Heights, holds the four-pound brown trout he caught at 11 a.m.

Sunday while fishing Paint Creek above Goodison. The 20-inch fish was taken on a nightcrawler.

Early Teal Hunting Planned

Plans for repeating last September's early teal hunting season in Michigan are scheduled for action tomorrow and Friday when the Conservation Commission meets at the Jack Tar hotel in Lansing.

Game officials are recommending that next fall's hunt be dropped, its tentative replacement is Hamlin Lake in Mason County. Two new shooting areas are listed in the Upper Peninsula: the Au Train River Basin in Alger County and Indian Lake in Schoolcraft County.

SAME NUMBER
The department is proposing that teal hunting permits be offered to 15,000 sportsmen, same as last fall.

Also coming before the commission are two sets of proposed rules and regulations which would update procedures for administering the Great Lakes Submerged Lands Act and spell out mechanics for controlling shoreline developments under the new Inland Lakes and Streams Act.

The proposed rules and regulations will have any effect on the priority of local zoning ordinances.

In another matter, the commission will consider suggested hopes of timing action better with southern flights of these early migrating birds.

Another recommended change calls for expanding the number of teal hunting areas to 12.

For lack of water to attract birds, the Manistee River area in Manistee County would be dropped. Its tentative replacement is Hamlin Lake in Mason County. Two new shooting areas are listed in the Upper Peninsula: the Au Train River Basin in Alger County and Indian Lake in Schoolcraft County.

Anglers Shift to Bluegills

Trout Draw Interest on Area Streams

Trout fishing continues fair to good on area lakes and streams, but an old standby is sneaking in to steal the thunder.

Bluegills, ignoring the cold, are moving into the shallows preparatory to spawning and excellent catches have been made on some area lakes.

The fishing, however, has been spotty. A warm rain followed by a more seasonal rise in temperatures will make bluegill fishing more uniform.

Lakeville, Louise, Pine, Silver and Loon lakes have been yielding good catches on worms. It's still too cold for dry flies and poppers.

Trout fishermen continue to exert heavy pressure on Paint Creek and the four special trout ponds. The bigger trout, planted early this spring in the ponds, have started to wise up and catches have gone down accordingly.

Kearsley and Duck creeks and Teepie Lake were productive for trout during the weekend, but the size of the fish was small.

Except at Harbor Beach where a few big perch were caught, fishing around the Lake Huron Thumb area was stopped by cold weather. High water and wind hampered activity at Port Austin and Caseville.

Good catches of trout were made during the weekend at Hasler Lake north of Goodrich and in the Lapeer state game area's Twin Lakes Impoundment.

Final approval will be sought to give northern pike and the newly introduced coho salmon complete protection from commercial fishing in the Great Lakes.

Bowmen to Shoot on Lighted Range

Night archery leagues are being formed at the Multi-Lakes Observation Association.

Bowmen will compete Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday each week on the lighted six-acre layout on the club grounds off Newton Road. The range contains 16 targets.

Shooting will start at 8 p.m. Interested persons can contact Charles Bays, 6640 Buckland Orchard Lake, chairman of the MLCA archery committee.

Ceremony Announced
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dedication ceremonies for the New Bureau of Commercial Fisheries' research laboratory at Ann Arbor, will be May 12, Interior Secretary Stewart L. Udall said yesterday.

Lake Trout Released
Plantings of 275,000 yearling lake trout were made last week by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service under this year's program to liberate some 1.7 million of the fish in Lake Michigan.

TIRE TALK

Though it seems warm weather will never come — the blistering hot days of summer are surely on the way — and so is tire trouble!

Tires have few more serious enemies than heat — the heat of hot roads, or the heat of under inflation. Heat fatigues fabric, weakens tires — leaves you wide open for tire trouble.

You can't do much about the heat of sustained high speed, or the summer heat of the road — but one thing you can do something about is underinflation. Soft tires over-flex and mean blowout trouble — so don't get caught with your air down!

A second thing you can do is avoid those bargain basement tires when you go tire shopping. They're built cheap — lighter, faster wearing, underinflated treads and bodies. A tire like that can't cope with the heat problems we're talking about.

We don't handle bargain basement tires — we don't drive them ourselves and won't recommend them for you. We lose a few customers this way — but the ones we sell, we keep safe, happy and alive!

Mysteries of Nature Migrating to Michigan

MIO (AP) — One of nature's mysteries of migration is taking place in Michigan this month. The Kirtland's Warbler — one of the rarest birds in the United States — will be returning to Michigan after spending the winter in the Bahamas.

It is estimated there are only about 1,000 of the birds left.

The little birds nest and rear their young only in a restricted section of the jack pine country in the northeastern Lower Peninsula.

The birds are fussy home-bodies.

Like all song birds, the warblers are protected. The Federal Government has set aside a reserve near Mio to protect them.

The birds also can be found in sections of Wexford, Oscoda, Iosco, Montmorency, Presque Isle, Kalkaska, Roscommon, Alcona and a few adjoining counties.

As colorful as the country, this multihue carpet of nylon pile is preferred by many young homemakers for its durability. Firebird red, Seascape, Burnished gold, Spruce green, Fern green, Mocha. This rugged all-nylon pile outwears any other carpet fiber known. Rich multihue tweed tones in outdoor colors hide footprints and soil. Spots and spills wipe up in a jiffy. 12 and 15-ft. widths... cut to fit any room.

Griffin Named to McNamara Post

LANSING (AP) — Five-term Republican Rep. Robert P. Griffin was named to the U.S. Senate today by Gov. George Romney.

Griffin will succeed the late Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, a Democrat.

Top Democratic candidates are former Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

The 71-year-old McNamara, who died April 30 of a stroke, already had announced he would not seek reelection.

Griffin, a cosponsor of the Landrum-Griffin Labor Act, will serve until Dec. 1.

The remaining five weeks of McNamara's term and a new six-year term will be filled in separate but simultaneous general elections in November.

Republican Romney's appointment of Griffin had been anticipated. The governor, often mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate in 1968, is expected to seek a third term.

SPOKE TO ROMNEY

Griffin, in South Viet Nam on a congressional inspection, spoke to Romney by telephone at an announcement news conference and said he was "honored and humbled" by the appointment.

Griffin agreed to leave the congressional tour, get to Lansing by Saturday to receive certificate of appointment and talk privately with the governor.

Griffin had been considered an underdog against either likely Democratic opponent, but advantage of incumbency is expected to improve his chances. Romney said he named Griffin particularly because of his congressional record, commenting:

"Bob Griffin has compiled a career since his initial election in 1956 which has clearly marked him as one of the outstanding members of the House and as a person fully qualified for greater duties."

BIG INFLUENCE

Romney said Griffin's membership on the House Education and Labor Committee "has particularly registered far-reaching influences on nearly every family in this nation, an accomplishment especially noteworthy because he has been in the minority party in Congress during his entire career to date."

Romney observed that Griffin was the only contender in either party for the Senate seat with congressional experience.

EXPLOSION SCENE—A fireman stands amid debris of a soap plant that was rocked by an explosion yesterday in downriver Detroit. The blast sprayed glass fragments through a nearby elementary school.

AP Photo

DETROIT (AP) — A soap plant blast that sounded like "an atomic bomb blew off" left one man dead and 15 others hospitalized today.

The blast at Wayne Soap Co., caused when a naphtha derivative leaked from a ruptured valve component and ignited, injured some 80 children and 27 adults yesterday.

The blast shattered windows at Morley Elementary School three blocks away on Detroit's south side, hurling glass splinters into classrooms filled with children.

Eight children were treated at hospitals and 75 others received first aid at the school.

Joseph Sajewicz, 48, of Southgate, who had been working inside the plant, died today of burns suffered in the explosion.

SOUNDED LIKE BOMB

"I thought an atomic bomb blew off. I thought war was declared," said Melvin Sanford whose home is near the plant.

"We were having English when all of a sudden the window crashed in on top of me," said 12-year-old Penelope Hill, a pupil at Morley school.

"The whole house was shaking," said Mrs. Caffie Figura, an area resident.

A window cracked and two chandeliers smashed to the floor

Home Rule Plan Goes to Caucuses

LANSING (AP) — A proposal for county home rule, inching its way through the Legislature, headed into party caucuses in the House today for discussion of amendments to give counties broader reorganization powers.

Rep. Francis Beeton, D-Muskegon, chairman of the House Towns and Counties Committee, presented the committee's version of the proposal to House members yesterday.

He called it potentially "the first step to a really successful venture into county home rule."

Object of the bill, he told a newsman, is to allow counties to streamline their government operations, but restrictions in the present version allow little leeway for reorganization.

Proposed amendments, he said, would allow more flexibility.

Beeton's committee has been at work 18 months on county home rule, he said.

White Lake Official Gets Exam Delay

A two-week postponement was granted this morning for the preliminary court examination of White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz, charged by the Oakland County Grand Jury with conspiracy, bribery and extortion.

Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead approved the delay after learning that Cheyz' attorney, Joseph Louisell of Detroit, was unavailable for the hearing. It was rescheduled for 9 a.m. May 23.

Louisell is presently in federal court in Detroit on another case.

Cheyz, 39, of 2900 Ridge, is accused of accepting $1,500 of $3,000 allegedly extorted from Mrs. Willard Dawson, 3550 Ormond, White Lake Township, in a property rezoning case.

GREET VISITORS—Gov. and Mrs. George Romney greet Dr. Jose Meiches, secretary of state today for a preview of Michigan Week, which begins Sunday.

of 21 foreign guests at their Bloomfield Hills state today for a preview of Michigan Week, which begins Sunday.

Foreign Dignitaries Touring State

Twenty-two foreign dignitaries left from Pontiac Municipal Airport this morning to begin a week-long flying tour of Michigan that is designed to promote the state's economy.

The trip is a pre-Michigan Week event which in some respects returns favors extended to Michigan businessmen and government officials who toured Europe a year ago.

The visitors are guests of Michigan companies, universities and other organizations.

Yesterday afternoon the visitors were entertained at a reception in the Bloomfield Hills home of Gov. George Romney, and later dined at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

In welcoming the international group, Romney said, "Michigan is most known for the automobile industry, but as you travel you will notice its diversity."

"Michigan is in the center of the most productive industrial-agricultural area in the world and has an even more promising future."

By the time the tour is concluded, the visitors will have talked with university professors, descended into an iron mine and fished for trout.

Their first stop today was Battle Creek, followed by a side trip to Holland for the annual tulip festival.

Many of the visitors are businessmen, but the delegation includes such diverse figures as Manuel Tavares, former member of the three-man junta which ruled the Dominican Republic in 1963-64, and Mrs. Chandrasekhara Pandit Mehta of New Delhi, India, daughter of Madam Pandit and a writer with wide international background.

OTHER GUESTS

Other guests include J. F. Heider of the Netherlands, secretary of the World Poultry Association; Sir Mobolaji Bank-Antony, Nigerian industrialist; Tom Norman, an industrialist from Manchester, England; and, Hermann Doerner, professor of law at the University of Heidelberg, Germany.

Says Parties in D.C. Poor Taste in War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. H. R. Gross says the Johnson administration's "mink coat set" should cut out its 3 a.m. White House parties and swinging waltzes in the Smithsonian.

"If they want to do this, I suggest they renovate one of the burlesque halls for which Washington is fairly notorious," the Iowa Republican said.

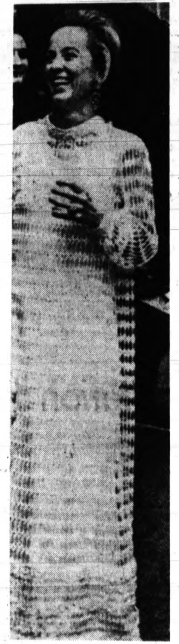

"I don't think with a war going on, and the problems this government has to face, that the President of the United States — his family or the vice president — ought to spend time dancing until 3 in the morning."

Gross first made observations on the House floor yesterday, then elaborated in an interview.

Referring to the opera ball, a midnight dinner-dance for 1,000 held last Friday in the Smithsonian Institution's Museum of History and Technology, he said:

"I was amazed and shocked that they had a $75 to $100 per ticket dance at the Smithsonian with the Rev. Bill D. Moyers during the waltz and frug and one woman sent home to get dressed because she was half naked."

Moyers, white House press secretary, who is an ordained Baptist minister, was indeed doing the waltz, as were a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Fallout Heavy From Peking Atomic Blast

Japanese Data Backs Reports Explosion Was China's Largest

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese scientists reported today that radioactive fallout from Red China's latest atomic blast was as much as 33 times stronger than that from Peking's previous two tests.

The findings bore out reports from Washington that preliminary data indicated China's third nuclear blast was its largest so far.

China's first two tests in October 1964 and May 1965 were equivalent to about 20,000 tons of TNT—the size of the first U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima, Japan, in 1945.

The highest readings from the third test came from Niigata University on the Japanese coast opposite the Chinese mainland.

Prof. Takao Kosaka estimated the radioactivity in particles of dust was a little more than 33 times as intense as that in China's second nuclear test.

DUST PARTICLES

He reported dust particles contained a maximum of 1.5 million units of radioactivity, compared with a maximum of 45,000 in China's second test.

Kosaka said such amount of radioactivity might be harmful to people and might seriously contaminate vegetables.

Takao said an electric dust collector and other instruments had been installed on the roof of a university building to catch debris from the bomb. Niigata University scientists exposed nine rabbits and 60 mice to the radioactive dust to determine its effect on their blood and bone chemistry.

Mother Nature will serve rain to Pontiac area residents tonight and tomorrow with temperatures back to normal.

Lows will be about 42 to 45 tonight. Highs are expected to bounce up to 54 to 60 tomorrow.

30-Day State of Siege

GUATEMALA CITY (UPI)—The military junta government proclaimed a 30-day national "state of siege" last night, giving itself emergency powers to deal with an outbreak of Communist activity.

With a vote of 1,221 to 741, the property owners approved the library board's request for permission to borrow $1,160,000 for construction of and equipping the proposed facility.

Estimates are that the bond issue will cost taxpayers approximately 47 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

Although the money won't become available until next April, library board President John D. Rumsey said today the board will proceed immediately to acquire a site for the new facility.

Plans are to build the library somewhere in the area bounded by Woodward, Telegraph, Maple and Long Lake roads.

It will contain at least 100,000 volumes, Rumsey said, and will replace the present facilities on the lower level of the Devon Chateau Building at Long Lake and Telegraph.

Partly cloudy, windy and colder is the forecast for Friday.

Today's east to southeasterly winds will continue at 10 to 20 miles per hour.

A mild 40 was the low thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. today. At 1 p.m. the mercury registered 51.

Chrysler Plans June Cutback

Despite Bumps, April Car Sales Near Mark

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry took another bump yesterday but still rolled along at a pace second only to record-setting 1965.

The latest move was a Chrysler Corp. decision to cut back its June car production.

Ford and General Motors previously reduced their May output.

The cutbacks came in the wake of April sales reports which showed the four U.S. auto firms sold 61,606 cars, about 38,000 below the April 1965 total.

That report shook up auto executives who had seen first-quarter sales zoom to a record high of 2.2 million units, about 11,000 ahead of last year.

PART OF PICTURE

Two auto company presidents, Arjay Miller of Ford and Roy Abernathy of American Motors, said auto safety hearings were a part of the slowed sales picture.

General Motors confirmed yesterday that it had stopped production of the Chevrolet Corvair at its Los Angeles assembly plant.

On the cheery side, auto makers reported that production of 1966 model cars through April 30 totaled 6.5 million units, nearly 700,000 ahead of output in the same period of the 1965 model run.

Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry publication, predicted today the 1966 model run would wind up around 8.7 million units, which would make it second only to the 1955 model production of 8.8 million.

AT AID MEETING—Conferring with some 50 elementary school principals and Parent-Teacher Association presidents yesterday were Pontiac Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer (left) and Bert C. Van Koughnet, administrator of the district's elementary and secondary school program. The group learned of a possible 15 per cent cutback in federal spending for education here.

U.S. Aid to Schools May Be Cut in City

Pontiac's elementary schools may be in for a 15 per cent cutback in monies available under the federal aid to education act, school officials learned yesterday.

Bert C. Van Koughnet, administrator of the district's elementary and secondary school program, told of the possible meeting yesterday of some 50 elementary school principals, Parent-Teacher Association presidents, and parents.

School officials have been notified that they may submit proposed programs for the 1966-67 school year for only up to 85 per cent of the cost of the current programs.

Van Koughnet said "almost official" word had been received on the 85 per cent limit.

School officials are notified of the funds available and then submit proposed programs.

45 PROGRAM
The district's "1965" program, which is in operation for the balance of the current school year, came to $395,790.

Tentative word from the State Board of Education of this year's funds will amount to $336,421.

These programs would run during the 1966-67 school year.

In light of the prospective tighter budget, Van Koughnet told the parents and principals that their ideas on administration of the program were "vital."

PHASES
"We're not committed to any one of the seven different phases of our elementary program," he said.

"Depending on the reactions and thoughts we get from the people in our district, we may be forced to sharply limit or even eliminate part of the program."

Van Koughnet did point out, however, that the possibility still existed that Pontiac would eventually receive funds equal to those it got last year.

"The government has determined that 15 per cent of the economically disadvantaged families in the state are Indians or migrant workers," he said.

PORTION WITHHELD
"This portion has been withheld from our funds."

"In the event districts wish to apply for funds, we could then conceivably apply for and receive the money we need."

Ideas and suggestions from the participants at the conference in the board meeting room were submitted to Van Koughnet.

Principals and PTA presidents will then take synopsis of the proposals for discussion at each school's May PTA meeting.

Hard-Bitten Dealers
LONDON (UPI)—The Army sold 60,000 pairs of unused false teeth for $1,288 at auction yesterday. They were snapped up by a Toronto firm of general dealers.

The Romeo Board of Education today is seeking an injunction to order striking bus drivers, custodians and cooks back to work.

Schools Supt. T. C. Filippa said the injunction was to be filed in Macomb County Circuit Court in attempt to prevent continuation of the strike which began Monday.

The employees, represented by Local 1664, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, claim the board is not negotiating "in good faith" on salaries and other matters.

A team of three board members has been negotiating with the union.

Filippa said no further meetings will be held until the injunction becomes effective.

Filippa said the union has made large salary demands and that the board has made counterproposals in spite of the union's claims to the contrary.

New Leader for Teacher Association

Robert Hutchinson, a sixth-grade teacher at Covert Elementary School, yesterday took over as president of the Waterford Education Association (WEA). He was president-elect last year.

Other officers were chosen at an election yesterday.

Hutchinson, of 9991 Dixie, Springfield Township, succeeded Robert Crumpton, who was elected vice president in yesterday's voting.

Also elected yesterday were Ladeen Floyd, secretary, and Jim Dieck, treasurer. Newly named committee chairman are Art Lake, representative assembly delegate; Jack McCaffrey, legislative chairman; Larry Timm, salary chairman; and Marge Schmidt, public relations chairman.

Others elected were John Sommers, professional problems chairman; Janet Voelker, publications; and D. A. Davidson, teachers' ethical and professional standards.

All terms are for one year, effective June 1.

In assuming his new post, Hutchinson said, "Recent state legislation has given teachers an opportunity never before presented to them. We now have the potential to become better professionals and organizational practice as well as in theory."

"The next few years will serve to demonstrate whether teachers can exercise their prerogatives in these areas."

"It is inherent in a professional organization to be able to exercise some judgment in determining who is admitted to the profession, and I am sure it is also the responsibility of a profession to offer strong leadership in shaping and instituting policies and programs within the realm of their particular profession."

"If we are to become professional in the true sense of the word we must address ourselves to these and other areas relative to education."

Death Corner Crash Hurts 1

The accident-plagued intersection of Wise Road and Carroll Lake Road in Commerce Township was the scene of another automobile mishap yesterday afternoon.

Several accidents have occurred at the corner in recent months, including Jan. 4 when two schoolchildren were killed by a car while waiting for a bus.

Injured in a two-car crash at the corner yesterday was Mrs. Beatrice Fillema, 57, of 272 Havana, Commerce Township. She is listed in satisfactory condition in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

The other driver was Frank J. Rogers, 55, of Detroit, according to sheriff's deputies.

COUNTY LEADERS MEET—Rolf Breusing (left), administrator for an association of 17 counties in Germany, renews his acquaintance with Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, who met Breusing while in Europe in 1962.

While touring county offices yesterday, Breusing's attention was focused on the current budget, which he termed similar to those in Germany. Breusing is in Wayne County today.

School Official to Run Again

3rd Candidate to File for Waterford Post

Veteran incumbent Eldon C. Rosegart today filed nominating petitions for the Waterford Township School District's June 13 board of education election.

Rosegart, 47, of 2983 Shawnee, Waterford Township, has been a member of the Waterford Township School Board of Education since 1959 and served as president from 1960 to 1962.

He is the third candidate to file nominating petitions for the election.

The others are incumbent Norman L. Cheal, 46, of 2751 North Lake and newcomer Lewis S. Long, 39, of 5657 Brunswick, both of Waterford Township.

Two 4-year positions will be decided in the election.

NEW POSITION
An administrative assistant at Pontiac's Kennedy Junior High School, Rosegart recently accepted a position—effective July 1—with Oakland Schools as assistant superintendent for state and federal affairs.

Sixteen of his 20 years as an educator have been spent in the Pontiac school system.

He has served as band director at Lincoln Junior High School and Pontiac Northern High School.

He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Michigan State University and currently is working toward an educational specialist degree at Wayne State University.

Rosegart is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Mu Alpha, American School Band Directors Association, Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association, Michigan Association of School Boards and Oakland County Association of School Boards.

The first such switch in the casualty rate came during a week of political crisis in April that diverted battalions of Vietnamese troops from field duty.

The 1st Corps, commanded by Gen. Ton That Dinh, has been in a state of virtual disorganization since April, appointed by Saigon to bring it into the fold, has proceeded cautiously.

Buddhist INFLUENCE
The strong Buddhist influence in the northernmost areas has spread south to the 2nd Corps, the sources said. According to these reports, chaplains were urging soldiers to press for a return to civilian life.

Most of Viet Nam's 15 million people are Buddhists, but only a small part of them are politically organized.

Ky reiterated in Saigon his plan to remain in power for another year while a lengthy process involving two elections and drafting of a constitution is completed.

Ky spoke to newsmen shortly before a cabinet meeting described by informants later as stormy. Apparently there were divergencies between Ky and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, who has the title of the chief of state. Personal clashes were reported between other junta members.

There also were reports of planned reshuffle of the ruling 10-man directorate.

ESTIMATED DAMAGE
The explosion wrecked 50 to 75 per cent of the soap company's three buildings. Damage was estimated at $250,000 to $300,000 by Glenn Thon, Detroit fire chief.

The company employs 85 in the manufacturing of animal feed and processing of tallow.

Some of those injured were employed by a contracting firm, Joseph Putz Co., which was working inside the plant.

Samuel Maddox, 59, a plant employee, said a diaphragm ruptured in cleaning fat from animal bones.

LIQUID NAPHTHA
"All this liquid (naphtha) was running around the plant," Maddox said. He ran toward a safety valve on a pipeline controlling the flow of the naphtha.

"When I ran out and shut it off—boom. I'm a lucky guy," he said. Maddox suffered a slight head cut.

Fire officials said the naphtha could have been ignited by a cooking operation in the plant, a welder's torch or electrical apparatus making repairs in the factory.

Steel beams were twisted in the firm's three plants, located 100-150 feet from each other. Walls and roof sections were blown out in the main building where the explosion occurred. A wall of one building was twisted on its foundation.

Seeks 2nd Term on OCC Board
Oakland Community College Board Chairman George R. Mosher announced today that he will be a candidate for a six-year term on the OCC Board of Trustees in the June 13 election.

Mosher, 45, was elected to the first college board when it was established by the voters in June 1964 and was elected chairman by the other five trustees.

An attorney with General Motors Corp. since 1954, Mosher lives at 551 McHagan, Birmingham. He is married and has two sons.

In commenting on his bid for reelection, Mosher cited the extensive progress of OCC to date but noted that there are still many challenges in the immediate future.

He said that construction programs the college must undertake in the next few years will require many management decisions by the board of trustees.

"ONLY A PART"
"Brick and mortar for new construction are only a part of our basic concern," he said. "A strong educational program for both our technical and two-year liberal arts curriculum are the most important aspects of the community college philosophy."

Mosher is a Columbia Law School graduate.

He was engaged in private law practice in New York and an instructor in law at New York University prior to joining General Motors.

Lawyer Given Free Hand in Drive-In Traffic Snarl

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Township Attorney Thomas Dillon has been authorized to take whatever steps are necessary to eliminate the traffic problem on Telegraph created by the Miracle Mile Drive-in.

The Township Board's action was prompted by a stream of letters complaining about the dangerous line of cars waiting to get into the theater during the evening hours.

Cars entering the theater line up in front of the Miracle Mile Shopping Center all the way back to Square Lake Road, according to Township Clerk Deloris V. Little.

A third ticket booth at the theater, which now has two, was suggested by the board.

In other action Monday night the board authorized Dillon to take action to force the Bloomfield Commons Shopping Center, Maple and Lahser, to complete and repair a concrete wall separating the center from residential areas.

HOMEOWNERS COMPLAIN
Adjacent homeowners have complained to the board because the wall was never completed and the section that was built is now in need of repair.

The shopping center owners have been given 30 days to finish and repair the wall.

A request for permission to raise its rates, submitted by the Bloomfield Cab Co., was approved by the board.

The new rates, effective as soon as new meters can be installed, are 50 cents for meter throw, 40 cents per mile and $4 per hour waiting time.

OLD RATE
The old rate was 50 cents, 25 cents and $2.

BIRMINGHAM—Paul N. Lehto, director of the statistical services division of the State Department of Education, has been appointed to the newly created position of assistant to the superintendent of schools.

Lehto, who will receive his doctorate in June, will be responsible for the evaluation of programs, research and development, federal and state legislation affecting education.

BABCOCK resigned Feb. 15 after 14 years on the hospital board.

Munro, former Auburn Heights school board member, has lived 22 years in the city. He has worked 25 years at Pontiac Motor Division.

dozen ambassadors, half the Cabinet, a number of congressional leaders and their wives.

Mrs. Rudolph E. Carter, wife of a State Department official, showed up wearing a transparent white lace dress with only a flesh-colored body stocking underneath. Some of her fellow members of the ball's executive committee sent her home to put on a slip. She did.

"I guess Washington isn't ready for fashion yet," she said afterward. "This dress was created by a New York designer especially for this party."

HUSBAND AGREES
Her husband said, "At first, I was shocked by it. But I figured, 'Oh, well, it's fashion. Let her wear it.' It's much sexier without the slip."

MAKE OVER
'Won't After School Aid Bill'

Pressure Likely in Wake of Detroit Vote

LANSING (AP)—Some senators expect new pressures from Detroit educators seeking increased state aid to schools in the wake of that city's defeat of a $12 million school tax proposal.

But Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, says the Detroit tax vote will have no effect on the school aid proposal. The House already has passed a $605 million primary and secondary school plan which includes an increase of approximately $38 million in general fund spending over the current fiscal year.

Even the most education-minded senators estimate the package will be cut by $15 million or more in the Senate.

'LOOKS TO STATE'

"Why should we vote more money just because Detroit turns down more millage?" asked Lane. "If we did that, everybody would vote down taxes and look to the state."

Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Dearborn, another appropriations committee member, said the $12 million could not be made up in the state program but added: "There will be a lot of pressure from the school people now."

Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn, also a committee member, said it would "be undesirable to renege Detroit for refusing to finance education, but the tax vote may encourage the Senate to move closer to the House bill."

"Some of us take a position for a high bill anyhow. This just shows the need for tax reform. You might as well vote millage (taxes) to build missile sites as for education."

The school aid bill is currently in the Senate Education Committee but will get to appropriations for fitting into the over-all state budget.

Morton: U.S. to Blockade Oil to N. Viet

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., predicted Tuesday the Johnson administration soon will order a naval quarantine to halt the flow of oil to North Viet Nam.

Morton told a news conference he advocated a "Kennedy-type quarantine" to prevent the United States oil to North Viet Nam.

He said most Republicans in Congress favor such a blockade and realize the danger of escalation it carries.

But they favor "getting this thing over as soon as possible," he said.

WERE ALLOWED

President Kennedy used the Navy to keep Russia from sending missiles into Cuba during the crisis in 1962. But ships carrying medical supplies and foodstuffs were allowed to pass through the 1962 blockade.

Morton was in Detroit to address 250 potential GOP financial contributors from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Canada Gets Seaway Boost

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada has won an increased share of St. Lawrence Seaway tolls after "very long and difficult" negotiations with the United States, the House of Commons Public Accounts Committee was told Tuesday.

Since the seaway opened in 1959, said Dr. Pierre Camu, chairman of Canada's Seaway Authority, Canada has received 71 per cent of tolls, the United States 29 per cent. He said beginning next year, this split will be 72-28. The same ratio is applied to operating costs.

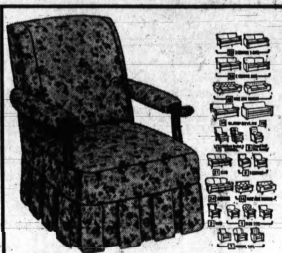

Dr. Pierre Camu, who heads the authority operating the Canadian side of the waterway, said talks on a more equitable division of revenues began in 1962 and concluded recently.

"They were very long and difficult negotiations," he said, without elaborating.

DOWNTOWN AND DRAYTON PLAINS

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Vitamin B6 Deficiency Is Rare in Adults

Q — If pyridoxine (vitamin B6) is given only to infants, as you said in a recent column, would its inclusion in multiple vitamin tablets be harmful to adults?

A — This vitamin is found abundantly in most diets. Vitamin B6 deficiency is occasionally seen in children and causes irritability and convulsions.

It is very rare in adults but has been reported as being associated with some forms of anemia.

The average adult requires about 1.5 milligrams of this vitamin daily.

NO HARM
Since larger amounts are not stored in the body but are promptly eliminated, no harm would result from taking it in excess of your requirement.

Q — What is rutin? What is its value to the body?

A — Rutin or vitamin P is useful in some persons who have a tendency to bruise easily because of increased fragility of their capillaries.

One patient who had repeated hemorrhages in the whites of her eyes was greatly benefited by taking this vitamin.

Q — My father, 84, was told by his doctor that he had senile atherosclerosis. Will this affect his mind?

Kidnapers Release Spain Priest-Envoy

ROME (AP) — Kidnapers today released a Spanish priest-diplomat they had held for 13 days, police reported. First reports indicated he was unharmed.

In letters earlier, the kidnapers said they abducted Msgr. Marco Usia, ecclesiastical counselor of the Spanish Embas-

A — Atherosclerosis and arteriosclerosis are fancy names for hardening of the arteries.

If at 84 your father has senile hardening rather than true senile hardening he is indeed fortunate.

While arteriosclerosis is a generalized process that occurs throughout the body, it tends to damage some organs more than others in different victims.

When, as often happens, the arteries of the brain are affected, the victim becomes forgetful and may suffer a change of personality, especially if the arteriosclerosis has led to small strokes.

Many drugs have been recommended in the treatment of arteriosclerosis in general.

Acetazolamide and injections of procaine have been recommended for arteriosclerosis of the brain but the results cannot be guaranteed.

They may delay the progress of the disease but they cannot restore tissues that are already damaged.

Q — I am very nervous. My doctor is giving me Serax. Is it habit-forming? Are there any bad side effects?

A — Oxazepam (Serax) is a new sedative. Although it is said to be especially useful for sobering up after an alcoholic binge, it has many other uses.

There have been no reports of habituation.

It should not be taken by persons with high blood pressure. Too large a dose may cause panting, jaundice and dizziness.

Building Unit OKs Lease Agreement

The Oakland County Building Authority yesterday approved a lease agreement with the county for the land on which the proposed east wing of the county house will be built.

For a token $1 the county will lease the land to the building authority.

A future agreement will be required for county lease of the building from the building authority.

Make Cash, Spare-Time

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A prisoner who worked at the printing shop at the South Carolina State Penitentiary has been charged with counterfeiting $5 bills.

Warden William D. Leake said Tuesday that James Trembley, 21, formerly of San Diego, Calif., used a photogravure process to manufacture seven bogus bills.

None left the prison, the warden said. He said the shop is "temporarily closed."

Farmington Twp. Woman Seeks Exam in Killing

CARO (AP) — Mrs. Richard Keigen of Farmington Township demanded examination and was released on $5,000 bond Tuesday after her arraignment here on charges of murdering her 8-year-old paralyzed son.

Examination was set for May 20.

Terry Keigen, suffering from an incurable disease that left him blind, deaf and paralyzed, was found dead in his room at Caro State Hospital after his mother visited him Saturday. The boy had two plastic bags over his head and authorities said he suffocated.

Man Is Electrocuted

on Top of Utility Pole

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) — Donny Ray Ellis, 21, was found dead yesterday atop an electric utility pole in the middle of a pasture and two miles from the nearest road.

Authorities said he was electrocuted, but they could find no explanation of why he had climbed the pole. He was not a utility worker, officers said.

Holland Tulip Festival Opens

HOLLAND (AP) — The frug gives way to the jig today for a corps of some 600 high school girls in Dutch-costumed street dancing opens the 1966 Holland Tulip Festival.

The corps and its wooden shoe dance set the b this Lake Michigan community's annual entertainment package against a backdrop of tulips in bloom.

William VandeWater, festival manager, said blooms had been slowed by the recent cold snap, early varieties were reported faring well against chill. Besides the plants at nearby commercial farms, some eight miles of Holland streets are lit with tulips.

Gov. George Romney and a group of foreign dignitaries are special guests at a luncheon preceding the festival opening parade.

Customed townsfolk scrub Holland's main street start the festival. The scheduled then opens into numerous avenues of entertainment, including band concerts, museum visits, movies, dancing, baton twirling contest, parades and sight-seeing.

Towering over all is Holland's authentic 200-year-old windmill, imported from The Netherlands and assembled as the centerpiece of a park designed to show the community's ties to its old world beginnings.

Bobby Urges Doubling of Aid to Have-Nots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy has called for doubling of U.S. aid to developing nations in the next few years, saying it would be "a sound and necessary investment in the future."

The New York Democrat told the Senate Tuesday he believes the Stradivari, Guarneri and Amati families of Cremona, Italy, began making some of the world's finest violins in the 16th century.

May Back Senate Hopeful

County Dems Meet May 31

The Oakland County Democratic Committee will meet May 31 to consider endorsing a candidate for the U.S. Senate primary race.

The date was decided on at a meeting of the Democratic executive committee in Royal Oak last night.

The three Democratic candidates will be invited to appear at the meeting. They are former Gov. G. Men-en Williams, Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh and Birmingham attorney James Elsmann.

The meeting is tentatively scheduled to be held at an auditorium at the Oakland County Courthouse at 3 p.m.

County Democratic Chairman George Gogasian said that in the past the committee traditionally has avoided making an endorsement in the primary.
