DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Cancer can be induced in dogs by training them to smoke cigarettes, and the rate of growth parallels that of cancer in humans who smoke, a researcher says.

Dr. Oscar Auerbach called the results of his research "pathological evidence" that cigarette smoking causes cancer.

The tobacco industry maintains that only statistical, rather than pathological, proof has been offered linking cigarettes to cancer.

Auerbach, senior medical investigator at the Veterans Administration hospital at East Orange, N.J., told of his findings yesterday at the American Cancer Society's 1967 scientific meeting.

"It shows without question that cigarette smoking in dogs produces exactly the same changes as in humans," Auerbach said.

In his 14-month study, he used 10 beagles as a control group for a second group of 10 beagles which he taught to smoke up to 12 cigarettes a day.

He performed a tracheotomy and attached to each dog's trachea a tube connected to a smoking machine outside his pen. After the first day, the dogs smoked on their own, Auerbach said.

Autopsies showed the nonsmokers had no physical disabilities. The smoking dogs began to die of varying ailments after the first two weeks until five of the 10 smokers had died after 412 days, Auerbach said.

LANSING (AP) — Republicans planned to put their state income tax bill to a vote in the House today despite an apparent lack of needed Democratic support.

"I think it's time we put it upon the board and see where everybody is," said Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe.

"I just can't see what they hope to accomplish," said House Democratic leader William Ryan of Detroit.

The crucial question, apparently, was how many Democratic votes the Republican leaders have gained by making concessions in their original package of fiscal bills.

Democratic votes. "I don't see how some of these suburban people could vote against it," he said.

HAD PROMISED 10

"They'll be lucky to get three or four," said Ryan, who had promised the Republicans 10 votes for a package which met Democrats' objections to the original GOP plan.

The parties have 54 seats each in the House. It takes 55 votes to pass a bill. Because a number of Republicans—perhaps as many as 10 or 12—are not expected to vote for the tax bill, substantial Democratic help would be needed to pass it.

The package contained these major features:

A 2½ per cent personal income tax with a $1,000 exemption.

Income taxes of 6 per cent on corporations and 7 per cent on financial institutions, coupled with repeal of the business activities tax.

STATE REBATE

Repeal of cities' power to levy a ½ per cent tax on nonresidents, replacing the lost revenue with a state rebate of money collected under the personal income tax.

A cut in the intangibles tax and a three-cent increase in the per-pack cigarette tax.

Property tax relief worth $90 million under a formula still to be designed.

Protestant Unity Try Gets OK

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — After wavering momentarily, the signals today gave a clear "go-ahead" for designing a plan to unite 10 major Protestant denominations.

The decision last night swept away uncertainties voiced during the previous three days over whether to proceed at once to work on an organizational blueprint.

The 10 denominations involved have about 55.5 million members, more than one-third of all American Protestants.

They include: Episcopalians, Methodists, Evangelical United Brethren, Disciples, Southern Presbyterians, United Presbyterians, and members of the United Church of Christ, and three predominantly Negro bodies of Methodists.

"This really puts us down the road," said the Rev. David G. Colwell of Washington, D.C., chairman of the Consultation on Church Union.

TIME UNCERTAIN

"It means let's get this plan of union drafted as fast as we can do it."

Just how long it will take was uncertain, however.

Drafting committees were authorized by unanimous vote to begin work immediately and to report results a year hence. But expectations were that it would take longer to finish the job.

The denominational representatives also registered a "sense of urgency" in the resolution setting up the machinery for structure mapping as recommended by a committee headed by the Rev. Elmer Arndt of Webster Groves, Mo.

AGREEMENTS REACHED

The consultation, in the past five years, reached agreements on worship, doctrine, ministry and sacraments in a united church. Only the organizational pattern still is to be worked out.

Differences over jurisdictional forms, the function of bishops, the extent of congregational autonomy and related issues have made the operating system a major hurdle.

In directing the preparation of an organizational plan, the consultation specified that it should include provisions for mutual acceptance of memberships and ordained clergy among the uniting churches.

Episcopal Bishop Stephen F. Bayne of New York said the council would be the "chrysalis and prototype" through which the details of a united structure would take shape as conditions warranted.

When the plan is ready, it becomes subject to denominational ratification.

Cooler and Cloudy Is Tonight's Outlook

The weatherman is having a hard time raising temperatures in the Pontiac area.

Cloudy and cool with scattered showers, forecast for today, will bring temperatures down to 32-38 tonight. Skies will continue overcast.

Partly cloudy with no important temperature change is the prediction for tomorrow, and partly cloudy and a little warmer is the outlook for Saturday.

Variable winds at 7 to 14 miles per hour will become light and variable tonight.

Thirty-six was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the mercury was at 44.

Westmoreland Likely to Get at Least 1 More Division

WASHINGTON (AP) — General William C. Westmoreland stands a good chance of getting at least one more Army division to strengthen his forces in Vietnam, government sources said today.

And he could gain two more divisions, depending on the course of the war in the weeks ahead.

Each additional division and its supporting elements would swell Westmoreland's force by 25,000 to 30,000 men.

Present plans calling for a buildup to about 470,000 U.S. servicemen in Vietnam by year's end were completed last fall. The U.S. force in Vietnam was last reported officially at 440,000.

Since last fall, the Communists have intensified their operations threatening the northernmost provinces of South Vietnam, and have built North Vietnamese regular army elements in the buffer zone area to about four divisions.

VIEWS CONTRAST

There is a marked contrast between the way the Communist buildup is viewed by State Department officials on the one hand and by those at the Defense Department on the other.

State Department officials warned late last week that a major North Vietnamese assault across the border may be imminent.

The Defense Department officials, while concerned about the Red buildup, say they anticipate no such invasion.

Acceleration of the threat would accelerate Pentagon consideration of any further reinforcements for Westmoreland.

City Churchmen Support Move

The apparent green light from a national conference to eventually unite 10 major Protestant denominations received support today from two local churchmen — a Methodist and an Episcopalian.

The Rev. C. George Widdifield, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, said: "The Consultation on Church Union has obviously been working hard to bring about unification of Christendom — at least Protestantism."

"We can only hope and pray that their labor will be productive. In the last half of the 20th century the world cannot afford either morally, socially or economically the luxury of a divided church."

"All of us must strive for honest and realistic solutions to our differences, so that the church can speak with a strong, prophetic voice in these troubled days."

Dr. Milton H. Bank, minister of Central Methodist Church, said "I firmly believe denominationalism has about had its day."

"This proposed merger is an honest attempt to answer the question people are continually asking today — 'Why don't the churches get together?'"

UNDER ARREST — Former city used car dealer Oscar M. Stabley (right) is escorted into the city police station by Detective William Davis for booking on an auto theft charge. Police accuse Stabley, arrested this morning, of heading a car theft ring involving up to $50,000 worth of automobiles.

Arrested Man Tied to Auto Theft Ring

By MEL NEWMAN

Pontiac police said today they have arrested a former city used-car dealer they believe to be the head of a car theft ring involving up to $50,000 worth of stolen automobiles.

Taken into custody at his home this morning was Oscar M. Stabley, 50, of 34 Collingwood. He was charged on the arrest warrant with the theft of a car from Matthews - Hargreaves Chevrolet, 631 Oakland, in November of last year.

Stabley, who most recently rented lots for his Oscar's Motor Sales company at 128 Oakland and 448 S. Saginaw, is accused of leading an operation which allegedly entailed stealing vehicles in the Pontiac area and selling them at auctions in Detroit, Flint and several Indiana cities, including Indianapolis.

The procedure, according to Pontiac Detective William Davis, involved buying a wrecked car at a very low price, stealing a matching make and model, switching the cars' serial numbers, then selling the stolen car.

Police said they presume the stolen vehicles were first stored in a lot while the matching junk cars' titles were applied to them and put in another person's name.

TITLES REASSIGNED

The titles were then reassigned from that name to Oscar's Motor Sales and subsequently sold, police said.

Davis said nine late model automobiles valued at roughly $14,000 have thus far been traced to the alleged ring. He estimated as many as 20 to 25 more cars may be linked to the operation.

Police said they first suspected an organized theft ring last fall when an unusually high number of cars were reported stolen from Pontiac dealerships and not found.

LBJ Proposes Board to Settle Rail Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson proposed to Congress today machinery to avert the threatened railroad strike by voluntary means within 90 days, or a binding agreement after that if necessary.

Johnson said the proposal "represents the slightest possible intrusion upon the process of collective bargaining."

His proposal provides for a special five-man board to engage in intensive mediation for the first 30 days between the railroads and six shop craft unions.

If no agreement is reached by then, the White House board would hold hearings to determine whether the recommendations of an earlier White House panel are fair, in the public interest and would protect collective bargaining.

The new presidential panel would file its findings with Congress and the White House along with any modifications, if there is still no agreement by the 60th day.

FOR TWO YEARS

If this does not bring a settlement by the 91st day, the proposals for settling the wage dispute would go into effect for up to two years, retroactive to last January 1.

"I urge these railroads and unions to finish this job themselves," Johnson said.

"All Americans recognize that there is a management interest and a labor interest. But there comes a time when the interest of management and the interest of labor must be the public interest — a time when people must be fed, when soldiers must be supplied, when water must be kept potable, and when factories must not be allowed to close down for lack of materials," Johnson said.

Johnson's proposals would provide as a basis for settlement the recommendations of a special three-man mediation panel he named earlier. The recommendations include a 6 per cent general wage increase for the 137,000 workers involved over 18 months, plus three 5-cent wage hikes for skilled workers at 6-month intervals.

The new five-man presidential board in today's legislation could modify this. Johnson said all five members will be public members.

U.S. Hopes for Soviet Pullback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States hopes its announced troop withdrawal from Europe will encourage the Soviets to follow suit — but has no plans to make such a suggestion, officials said today.

The United States, Britain and West Germany announced Tuesday their agreement to withdraw 35,000 American and about 6,500 British servicemen, both ground troops and air personnel, from West Germany beginning next January. The fighter-bombers of four American and one British air squadrons also are to be withdrawn.

U.S. sources maintain the pullback will not affect the combat potential of the 7th Army in Germany. American troops assigned to the North Atlantic treaty Organization but stationed in the United States can return to West Germany within days if needed.

Although the Soviets are believed to lag in the use of giant troop-carrying airplanes, they could reciprocate the U.S. move by pulling back their troops a few miles across the border compared with the thousands of miles which will separate the American troops from Germany. This geographic advantage means, U.S. experts say, the Soviets could follow the Anglo-American example without upsetting the power balance in Europe.

President Johnson in an Oct. 7 New York speech invited the Soviets to consider the "gradual and balanced" withdrawal of U.S. and Soviet forces from central Europe. Such a move, the President said, would "help gradually to shape a new political environment" in Europe.

Korea Reelects President Park

Opponent Charges Ballot-Box Stuffing

SEOUL (AP) — President Chung Hee Park was reelected by a landslide today in the most orderly election since South Korea got its independence from Japan in 1945. His chief opponent quickly raised a cry of ballot-box stuffing on a huge scale.

With 80 per cent of the unofficial returns in the government broadcasting network said the 49-year-old candidate of the ruling Democratic Republican party had won with 5,003,520 votes. Park's chief opponent, former President Yun Bo-seun of the New Democratic party, had 789,463 votes, and four splinter-group entries totaled about 300,000.

The size of his victory margin was a triumph for Park, who had defeated Yun in 1963 by only 150,000 votes.

In a victory statement, Park called on South Koreans regardless of party to get behind his government's program to "modernize the fatherland."

POST-ELECTION DISPUTES

In an attempt to head off the usual post-election disputes, Shin Dong-joon, spokesman for the government party, praised Yun for a magnificent campaign.

"Now that the election is over," Shin said, "we should bury past grudges and cooperate with each other in the future."

The overtone was met with a blast from Yun's camp. A spokesman accused Park's party of election irregularities and said the opposition would "fight to the last" to expose them.

Yun's spokesman charged that about 15 per cent of the ballots had been rigged in favor of the ruling party.

Park's pro-American administration campaign on its progress toward political and economic stability. Yun concentrated on charges of government corruption and called for the early withdrawal of South Korea's 45,000 troops from South Vietnam.

He is held without bond at the Oakland County Jail.

McDonald was arrested shortly after Mrs. Arthur Falls, 49, was fatally shot about 9 p.m. in the basement of her home at 1315 Gettysburg in the presence of her husband, son and several of her grandchildren.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said they took McDonald into custody at the scene where he had been subdued by Falls and his son, Gary, about 21.

McDonald had been released on bond about noon Tuesday from the county jail, where he had been in custody since his arrest March 25 on the statutory rape charge.

Arthur and Gary Falls identified him as the man who herded them and several Falls grandchildren into the basement at gunpoint, then shot Mrs. Falls according to deputies.

Clues found in the vehicle "shed light on what was apparently a stolen car operation in the city," according to Davis.

He said the investigation led from one car to another until the alleged ring was uncovered. Agents from the Detroit and Flint police departments and the National Auto Theft Bureau are also working on the case, Davis said.

OTHERS INVOLVED

Conspiracy warrants may be issued for several more suspects, according to police. "It's apparent that more than one person is involved in this thing," Davis said.

Conviction on a charge of possessing a stolen car carries a penalty of up to 10 years in prison, according to police.

Charges of transporting stolen vehicles across state boundaries in violation of federal law also may be sought, Davis said.

Soviets' ABM Shield a Spur--McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says more American missiles would hit the Soviet Union in time of nuclear war than if the Soviets had not deployed antismissiles.

Explaining this seeming paradox, McNamara used what he acknowledged was an extreme argument to show that the Soviets would face fewer U.S. missiles if they had never tried to defend against them.

As a result, in a nuclear exchange more American warheads would be hurled at the Soviet Union with special decoys, penetration aids and electronic guidance to elude Soviet interceptor missiles, he said.

"GREATER RISK"

"I submit to you that the Soviet Union is in worse shape facing greater risks and potentially greater damage to its people and its cities as a result of deploying an ABM than had they not done so," he declared.

McNamara's remarks were made in March before a closed-door session of a House Appropriations subcommittee as he presented the administration case against an immediate deployment of the multibillion-dollar Nike-X antismissile defense.

The censored testimony was released Wednesday night.

Relatives of a Pontiac Township man accused of the rifle murder of his mother-in-law in Avon Township Tuesday said he had threatened to seek revenge because she turned him in to police on a charge of the statutory rape of his 8-year-old stepdaughter.

Paul M. McDonald, 40, of 3399 Shimmer was arraigned yesterday in Avon Township Justice Court and faces examination May 11 on a first-degree murder charge.

He is held without bond at the Oakland County Jail.

Morton Mum on '68 Choice

Says Romney Liked by Many in Kentucky

LANSING (AP) — U.S. Sen. Thurston Morton says a lot of his Kentucky constituents want to vote for Michigan Gov. George Romney for president.

But Morton, in Lansing Wednesday to address a $100-a-plate Republican fund raising dinner, declined to take a personal position on a 1968 GOP presidential nominee.

He told some 900 Michigan Republicans at the Lansing Civic Center that he has received a lot of mail since Romney's Feb. 11 Lincoln Day dinner speech in Louisville.

"A lot of them want to vote for him," he said.

GETS GO-AHEAD SIGNAL — Gertrude, a robin who chose a Milwaukee north side traffic signal for a nest site, will be allowed to remain until her eggs hatch. New Appeals Heard for 35-District Plan

New appeals for the maximum 35-district county reapportionment plan were made last night at a public hearing in Southfield but the Oakland County Reapportionment Committee indicated it would stand pat with a 27-unit plan.

The hearing, attended by some 40 persons, was the second staged by the committee to seek public reaction on redistricting the county into from 25 to 35 districts by the May 15 deadline.

With a single member of the County Board of Supervisors to be elected from each district, the present 37-member board will be cut substantially.

Persons at last night's hearing who spoke in favor of the 35-district reapportionment held the general opinion that the largest legislative body permitted by law would be the most practical.

The Royal Oak City Commission had already passed a formal resolution endorsing the maximum redistricting.

Last night it was announced that the Huntington Woods governing body had taken similar action.

Earle Grisdale, supervisor from Clawson, and Wallace B. Hudson, supervisor from Troy, announced during the hearing that their communities also favored the maximum plan.

Committee members explained that they have given full consideration to the 35-district plan as well as the favored 27-district proposal and that the smaller number of districts was favored because it demanded less precinct cutting.

Committee Chairman John D. Murphy said that the committee had prepared two 35-district plans for study and suggested that if anyone in the audience wished to submit another one it would be examined by the committee.

Members of the committee had hoped to combine the best features of two 27-district plans under study and present a recommended 27-district plan at the hearing but they were unable to reach such an agreement by last night.

Another committee meeting is scheduled Monday afternoon and a final plan is expected at this session.

A Polite Refusal Isn't Rude; No Need to Feel Disturbed

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a woman executive. After having worked all day and talked with many people in conferences and meetings, I like to have dinner in a nice place — alone. Well-meaning strangers ask me to join them; lonely people want to join me! How can I let them know, without being rude, that I want to eat alone?

ABBY

NOT LONELY
DEAR NOT: If you were to smile pleasantly and say, "I am not lonely. I am dining alone out of preference, but I thank you for your kindness," you would offend no one and you'd keep your valued privacy. It's not what you say, it's the way you say it.

TEEN-AGER
DEAR ABBY: Should a teenage girl accept a blind date with a fellow who calls her up and says he has "seen her somewhere," but she doesn't know anything about him? How about when someone she knows calls and asks her to accept a date with a third party? He could be real neat, but he could also be real icky. Is there some rule a girl could go by?

DEAR TEEN-AGER: If a boy calls and says he has "seen" you, unless you can check him out with a mutual friend, skip him. If someone you know calls, wanting to arrange a blind date, consider the go-between. If he's a solid citizen, say yes. (It's only a date, not a year's contract.) Don't put him through the third degree asking, "How tall is he, and what color eyes does he have?" Chances are the guy is standing right by the phone listening to every word you say, and you'll make points for being a good sport.

DEAR ABBY: Jim and I have been married less than a year. Another young couple moved in near us and we liked them at first, but once I got to know the fellow (I'll call him John), my feelings changed. He's the type who never stays at home.

Of course it was none of my business, except when he started coming over here and getting Jim to go with him. I finally found out where they went when the two of them took off. They would steal, just for the fun of it. Or rather John would do the actual stealing and my husband would "help" him. Jim never stole a thing before he met John.

I told my husband if he got caught he would be as guilty as John, but he doesn't believe me. I also told him I hated John, but he said John is his friend, not mine. I worry all the time, Abby, but there is nothing I can do. Can you advise me?

WORRIED SICK
DEAR WORRIED: Tell your husband to choose between his friendship with John or his marriage to you. And if he chooses John, consider yourself lucky to be rid of a bad deal before there were children to consider.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TROUBLED" in ANAHEIM: Any man who would "slug" a parking attendant for putting a dent in his fender is in deep trouble.

It will take a lot more to straighten HIM out than the fender. Suggest a "mind" mechanic. If he refuses, forget him, before he puts a dent in YOUR jaw.

Rep. Griffiths Testifies:

Sex Segregation in Job Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Martha Griffiths, a champion of equal rights for women, criticized the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Wednesday for what she said was its failure to set strong guidelines to end sex discrimination by employers.

"I hope you will begin to enforce the law as it was written," said Mrs. Griffiths. "The commission meant for women to come out of this equal."

FAILURES

The Michigan Democrat said the commission's failure to issue opinions in three areas has perpetuated discrimination against women.

She said the areas are: State laws regulating women's employment, sex-segregated job advertising and sex differences in employee pension and retirement plans.

Mrs. Griffiths was one of the last of a long line of witnesses to testify during the final day of a two-day public hearing on regulations concerning the three areas.

The commission took the testimony under advisement.

She said the so-called state protective laws limiting the hours or regulating the conditions of employment of women "frequently serve, not to protect women, but to limit their opportunities for holding or being in this respect failed to perform its statutory duty," said Mrs. Griffiths, a leader in the battle to include sex discrimination in the civil rights measure three years ago.

SEX DISCRIMINATION

Mrs. Griffiths said the commission has acknowledged that many of the state laws discriminate against women's job opportunities but "has refused to express a judgment as to whether, in view of such discrimination, the state law must give way to the requirement of equality" contained in the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

"I believe the commission has

REP. GRIFFITHS

'HELP WANTED'

"The sex segregation of employment advertisements cannot be justified by the suggestion that they merely promote the convenience of the job seeker," she said. "Such sex segregation promotes only the tradition that jobs listed for men are not intended for women, and vice versa."

"The job seeker's interest and convenience will be promoted much greater by grouping the ads according to job category so that he or she can try to find the kind of job he or she wants, rather than according to a sex label which automatically discourages persons of the other sex from reading the job ads under the label."

An open house Sunday in the Commerce Methodist Church from 2 to 5 p.m. will honor Mr. and Mrs. James L. Gardner of Sleath Road, Commerce Township, on their 50th wedding anniversary. Hosting the event for their parents, wed in New Jersey on May 8, 1917, are Mrs. Andrew Knudsen of Orinda, Calif., and Mrs. William A. Woods of Armonk, N.Y. The Gardners have six grandchildren. He is former supervisor of Commerce Township and chairman of the County Board of Supervisors and past president of State Association of Supervisors.

Soap Is on Par With Medicine for Vietnamese

"I had no hesitation in listing soaps as being as important as vitamins or medications... when asked to draw up a list of the dozen and a half most basic drug items... to distribute to isolated towns and villages in Vietnam." Palmer, a noted dermatologist who serves as Medical Consultant of the Far Eastern Division, Agency for International Development.

Added Risk for Women in Political Acts

LONDON (AP) — Five women arrested for storming the Greek Embassy complained Wednesday that police confiscated their contraceptive pills.

"The pills were taken away while we were held for two days behind bars," said Heather Russell, 27. "This could ruin our lives."

The women said the pills had to be taken every day for 28 days. Missing two days could bring the risk of pregnancy, they said.

"We kept telling the police about the risk but they wouldn't listen," said Jenny James, a 25-year-old student.

IT'S SOP!

The complaint was directed to Home Secretary Roy Jenkins. A spokesman for his office said: "It is standard procedure to take pills of any kind from prisoners." The women are to appear in court Saturday with 37 others accused of invading the Greek Embassy last Friday in a demonstration against the military coup in Greece.

Nurses Are Learning to Help Aged Rehabilitate Themselves

By JUNE ELERT
Mrs. Helen Beske is a public health nurse, employed by Oakland County.

It is her job to inspect the facilities and keep tabs on the operating procedures of 46 licensed nursing homes in the county, plus 5 licensed homes for the aged.

About six months ago, Mrs. Beske had an idea. She thought employees of nursing homes should learn to help patients to help themselves.

It seemed apparent that the old and the ill, when left to their own devices, often lack the necessary drive to maintain their range of physical capability.

A recently completed six-session course in restorative nursing techniques blossomed from Mrs. Beske's idea. Its purpose was to provide training to a nucleus of nursing and old-age home employees.

They learned efficient methods of patient care designed to obtain maximum response from the patient in re-learning and using whatever physical capability he might have.

The premise is that it increases the patient's self-respect and feeling of worth as an individual if he can do some things for himself.

When an elderly ill person enters a nursing home, he may find it easier to accept a bedpan than to continue the effort to maintain this level of physical independence.

Over-solicitous relatives contribute to this retrogression by well-meaning, but mistaken insistence that "Grandpa" or "grandma" must have everything done for them.

AT LOURDES

The course, held at Lourdes Convalescent Home on Watkins Lake Road, was conducted by Betty Evans, Assistant Director of Nursing, Rehabilitation Institute, Inc., Detroit.

Prior to the opening of the sessions, two one-day seminars were held for employees and operators of nursing homes to acquaint them with the proposed course and interest them in its objectives.

Students were drawn from 17 institutions in the County. About 50 per cent of the enrollees were nurses' aides. The rest were LPN's and RN's.

Diplomas were issued to 37 of the original 43 registrants. No diploma was given if more than one session was missed.

It is hoped that these women will return to their places of employment and teach the learned techniques to other staff members.

With the assistance of Helen Millen of the Kenny-Michigan Rehabilitation Foundation, Miss Evans took the students through a rigorous regimen.

This included instruction in the use of wheelchairs, bowel and bladder retraining, bed positioning, transferring techniques, use of walkers, canes and crutches and prevention of bedsores.

The final session concentrated on the approach to family contacts to obtain maximum cooperation of patients' relatives.

Some of the students paid the $70 fee themselves; others were subsidized by their employers.

A handbook on rehabilitative nursing techniques was issued to each of the institutions which had an employee registered.

Mrs. Beske, Mrs. Doris Schuchter and Mrs. Theima Hunter, a Bureau of Social Services patient care evaluator took an active part in the sessions, demonstrating techniques and supervising group practice sessions.

Space necessitated a limitation on the number of students. It is planned to repeat the course in the fall.

Bride Wins Case of Lost Boyfriend

YORK, England (UPI)—An attractive 30-year-old brunette returned from her honeymoon and went to court Tuesday to sue a former boyfriend for allegedly jilting her.

Judge Dermot McKee, calling the case "a unique piece of litigation," ruled in favor of Mrs. Nelson Smith. He awarded her $126.

Mrs. Smith said the old boyfriend, Christopher Burns, 30, left her in 1964 just four days before they were to be married.

The judge told Mrs. Smith, who appeared in court with her husband, that she was lucky to be rid of Burns.

No Bake Cookies Contain All Sorts of Goodies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor
Got any teen-agers around your house who just love cookies? Mrs. Ronald H. Smith of Metamora thinks she has the perfect recipe for them. You don't even have to bake these cookies.

NO BAKE COOKIES
By Mrs. Ronald H. Smith
2 cups white sugar
4 tablespoons cocoa
1/2 cup whole milk (condensed milk may be used for a richer flavor)
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 teaspoon salt

1 teaspoon vanilla
Mix sugar and cocoa in a sauce pan until thoroughly blended. Add milk, butter or margarine and salt. Bring to a rolling boil. Add the following ingredients:
1 cup flake coconut
3 cups quick oatmeal

MRS. O. L. HOPPER II

A simple but faithfully followed facial ritual will help to keep dry skin softer and more youthful looking.

Double Ring Ceremony for the Ottis Hoppers

Sharon Ann Toussaint became the bride recently of Ottis Leonard Hopper II.

The couple exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester.

Lynda Toussaint was maid of honor at the rite in which her sister wore an ivory peau de soie gown by Blanchi.

A detachable court train flowed from the bride's A-line skirt.

Seed pearls, crystal leaves and Alencon lace appliques adorned the Empire bodice and train.

CIRCLET
A bouffant veil of imported French silk illusion was secured by a double circlet of matching lace and self-made roses.

She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and Stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Roxanne Toussaint, cousin of the bride, Mrs. Richard Perkins of Warren and Patricia Daniels.

Richard Perkins was best man. Ushers were Bruce Sargent of Ann Arbor, Paul Jones and Lynn Hopper, brother of the bridegroom.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Allison H. Toussaint of Bloomer Road, Avon Township, and Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hopper of Tippeco Trail, Rose Township.

A reception in the church parlors followed the evening rite.

The couple will reside in Plymouth following a wedding trip to Montreal.

The yoke curves up gently above the bosom and then makes dip in back. The shaping is gained by placing one dart in the middle of the front. Square armholes show off a feminine curve of arm and shoulder. The back is fastened with two buttons, perhaps jeweled ones, and a zipper lower down.

One Record Falls as Rochester Wins

Rochester set one record and tied another yesterday in posting a 7 1/2 to 4 1/2 track victory over Avondale.

The winners' Laurey Kesel sped over the low hurdles in 20.5 seconds to erase the old mark of 20.63, and speedster
Bob Woodruff tied the school record in the 100-yard dash with a 10.2 clocking.

The win raised Rochester's record for the season to 4-1.

At left and top center is Mel Queen, a pitcher with the New York Yankees in the early and mid-40s and with Pittsburgh from 1947-1952.
He had a career record of 27 wins and 40 losses. At right and bottom center is his son, Mel Jr., a current-day outfielder-turned-pitcher with the Cincinnati Reds. The younger Queen has a 3-0 record to date with the

Junior Baseball Meeting Topics Monday Night

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's initial managers' meeting for junior baseball will be 7 and p.m. Monday in the Health Department conference room at City Hall.

The Widgets and Class F team representatives will meet at 7 o'clock and the Class D and E officials at 8 p.m. The department requests all teams desiring to play junior baseball to have a representative at the meeting.

The Saturday baseball clinic series for prospective players will commence May 27 at Kelly Field (Bagley and Brush), and the Jaycee Park diamonds (Joslyn and Walton).

The clinics will run 9-11:30 a.m. under supervisors Ron Bey-er and Louis Seay. All boys 7-18 years old are eligible.

By the Associated Press
Billy Hitchcock's Atlanta baseball team is putting up a brave front at home. If the Braves can do as well on the road, it could take them all the way to the World Series.

Atlanta blanked the Chicago
Cubs 4-0 behind Dick Kelley's three-hitter Wednesday night for its 10th victory against only two setbacks in Atlanta Stadium. The Braves' record in opponents' ball parks is only 1-5.

The triumph moved Atlanta to within one game of the Cincinnati, the National League leader. The Braves and St.
Louis are tied for second.

FOUR SHUTOUTS
Kelley's shutout was one of four pitched in the NL. Ray Washington had a two-hitter at St. Louis downed Cincinnati 2-0.
Juan Marchal of San Francisco scattered four hits in an 8-0 triumph over the New York Mets and Chris Short yielded five hits as Philadelphia edged Houston, 1-0.

There would have been five whitewashings, too, except that the Los Angeles Dodgers blew a 5-0 ninth inning lead achieved behind Don Sutton, and finally were beaten by Pittsburgh 6-5 in 15 innings.

A two-run single by Mike Shannon backed Washburn's excellent performance. Shannon padded a drive to right after a single by Roger Maris, a double by Orlando Cepeda and a walk to Tim McCarver had filled the bases in the fourth.

TWO SINGLES

The only hits Washburn gave up were a two-out single by Felix Rose in the fourth inning and a two-out single by Chico
Ruiz in the next frame.

Jim Ray Hart, Willie Mays and Hal Lohmeyer were San Francisco's batting stars. Hart hammered a three-run homer while Mays contributed a two-run triple and Lohmeyer a two-run double. It was Marchal's 18th career victory over the Mets without a loss.

Johnny Callison homered in the fourth inning for the only run in the Phils-Astros game.

The shot was the difference in the duel between Short and Larry Dierker. Short fanned six and walked four in lifting his record to 2-2.

Relief pitcher Juan Pizarro won his own game for the Pirates. He singled with the bases filled and none out in the 15th.
Los Angeles was leading 5-0 in the ninth when the Pirates exploded for five runs.

After singles by Matty Alou and Maury Wills, Sutton walked Willie Stargell. Phil Regan, the Dodgers' ace reliever, came in and gave up a run-scoring single to Bill Mazeroski, a three-run double to Don Clendenen and a single to Gene Alley that drove in the tying run.

Gainers Outnumber Decliners

Stock Mart Resumes Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its advance in active trading today.

Advances outnumbered declines by about 2 to 1. Brokers said they believed factors in the advance were President Johnson's statement that escalation of the Vietnam war was not likely in the near future and a sharp reduction in new car inventories.

They also said they felt the advance could be extended by indications that a railroad strike could be averted, that a new federal debt limit will be sought and that important opposition to a tax increase exists.

Marines, Reds Lock in Battle

U.S. Camp Attacked; MIG Bases Bombed

SAIGON (AP)—North Vietnamese regulars who streamed across the demilitarized zone recently locked with U.S. Marines in continued fighting near the Laotian border today. Other Communist troops inflicted heavy casualties in an attack on a U.S. Special Forces camp six miles away.

As the ground war intensified in the northwest corner of South Vietnam, U.S. Air Force pilots trying to wipe out North Viet MIG base 20 miles west of Hanoi Wednesday for the fourth time in 10 days. Pilots said four to six MIGs were destroyed or heavily damaged on the ground and their bombers blanketed the border area.

The concern comes with the speed with which this debt is being added to. It has accumulated largely since World War II, but the rate of additions to it have accelerated in the past few years. It is now nearly $400 billion.

This means, in effect, that the old Puritan ethic that equated debt with sin is about dead. It should fall instead of rise.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported four other ground attacks in the northern part of South Vietnam. No fighting of significance was reported elsewhere today by the U.S. Command.

The first days of the heavy U.S. Marine fighting for the three strategic hills along the Laotian border and just south of the demilitarized zone was reflected in the weekly casualty report issued today by the U.S. Command.

UP 25 PCT. U.S. headquarters said 181 Americans were killed in combat in South Vietnam last week, 22 per cent more than the week before. Nearly half were Marines killed in the fighting for the hills that began April 24. The number of Americans wounded was slightly less than the week before, 97 as compared with 100 the week before.

In the attack on the Lang Vei Special Forces camp, about 420 miles north of Saigon, two of the 12 American Green Berets in the camp were killed and the three companies of South Vietnamese army soldiers and military police said the camp was parked at Campbell's home.

Burglars broke into Elizabeth Lake Park, Waterford Township, yesterday and made off with $25,000 in cash, jewelry, and other valuables, according to township police.

Spiraling Figure Stirs Fears

Household Debt Rises

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The mounting debt of America's households, which shows no sign of leveling off, is bringing with it growing concern that a lot of people might be getting in over their heads.

Footloose criterion for estimating when a family is over-committed has never been devised. It is only when repayment is delinquent that proof is provided. And most people still are repaying their debts on schedule.

The concern comes with the speed with which this debt is being added to. It has accumulated largely since World War II, but the rate of additions to it have accelerated in the past few years. It is now nearly $400 billion.

This means, in effect, that the old Puritan ethic that equated debt with sin is about dead. It should fall instead of rise.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported four other ground attacks in the northern part of South Vietnam. No fighting of significance was reported elsewhere today by the U.S. Command.

The first days of the heavy U.S. Marine fighting for the three strategic hills along the Laotian border and just south of the demilitarized zone was reflected in the weekly casualty report issued today by the U.S. Command.

UP 25 PCT. U.S. headquarters said 181 Americans were killed in combat in South Vietnam last week, 22 per cent more than the week before. Nearly half were Marines killed in the fighting for the hills that began April 24. The number of Americans wounded was slightly less than the week before, 97 as compared with 100 the week before.

In the attack on the Lang Vei Special Forces camp, about 420 miles north of Saigon, two of the 12 American Green Berets in the camp were killed and the three companies of South Vietnamese army soldiers and military police said the camp was parked at Campbell's home.

means also that Americans have learned to live with the haunting memory of the Great Depression. And it means that many Americans have adjusted to a life they cannot afford on their present incomes.

DEBT MANAGED

A good argument can be made for saying this debt isn't nearly as bad as it sounds. In an expanding economy, with incomes rising and new and better jobs opening up, households may be able to pay more debt. In addition, the sharp rise in holdings of life insurance, Social Security, unemployment compensation, health insurance and pensions has relieved many families of obligations they once had to meet with savings.

All this debt has not been frivolously assumed, either. Most of it has gone for homes, automobiles, television sets and heavy appliances such as washing machines and refrigerators. Nevertheless, a study by the National Industrial Conference Board, a nonprofit educational and research organization, calls attention to the potential danger that could result if incomes should fall instead of rise.

But, to pay off all household debt, about 80 per cent of all household savings would have to be used. Little would be left. Fortunately, all debt never falls due at once but, instead, spread over a period of time.

STUDY FIGURES. These are some of the figures in the NIBC study: Residential mortgage debt has risen from $214 billion in 1946 to more than $715 billion in 1966. This figure has the rate of inflation or population growth.

Consumer credit has risen from $8.5 billion in 1946 to $85 billion in 1966. This includes retail credit such as revolving credit plans. It includes personal loans, many of them for travel and higher education.

Pratt Charges 3 Men Again

Allegedly Failed to Answer Subpoenas

Three south Oakland County men have again been charged with contempt of court by Oakland County one-man grand juror, Circuit Judge Philip Pratt — this time for allegedly failing to answer subpoenas.

The new charges were leveled against two former Madison Heights councilmen, Roman Nowicki and Ross Skinner, and a Madison Heights druggist, Emil Pavlovics.

The three had been charged with contempt earlier for refusing to answer questions when they appeared before Pratt, but the charges were dismissed by the Michigan Court of Appeals on the grounds that the order which broadened the scope of the investigation was not specific.

A contempt charge also was dismissed at that time against Democratic State Rep. Bill S. Huffman.

Hearings have been scheduled for next week for the three to show cause why they did not respond to the order from Pratt to testify on Tuesday.

COURT APPEARANCES

Nowicki is to appear Monday at 1:30 p.m. before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams; Skinner at 1:30 p.m. Monday before Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem; and Pavlovics at 9 a.m. Tuesday before Circuit Judge Robert L. Templin.

Last week, as a result of the Michigan Court of Appeals decision, Pratt amended his petition to outline the various crimes he was investigating.

Pavlovics this week filed a suit in federal district court challenging the constitutionality of the Michigan one-man grand jury law, and asking $50,000 in damages from Pratt, State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, and two special prosecutors, Jerome K. Barry and Charles J. Porter.

The grand jury was originally indicted in August by Kelley to investigate alleged wrong doings at the Hazel Park Race Track.

OCC and OU Summer Sessions Begin

More than 2,500 students are attending Oakland Community College and Oakland University summer sessions which got underway this week.

OCC started classes yesterday at the Highland Lakes and Auburn Hills campuses with a total enrollment of 1,528. It is an increase of 340 over last May's total with late registrations still coming in.

At Oakland University, 1,068 students were registered for the first day of the spring semester on Monday. The total is 60 more than last spring's figure.

OCC's Highland Lakes campus in Waterford Township has 890 students registered and Auburn Hills campus in Pontiac Township, 638, both increases over last May. Over 4,000 students attended OCC last fall.

Approximately half of OCC's fall and spring load of courses is being offered during two seven-week summer sessions. By enrolling in both fall sessions, a student may complete credits equal to a complete semester.

SESSION DATES

The first session runs from June 23. June 1 is the last day to apply for the second session. Classes begin June 27 and end Aug. 18.

Oakland University's spring semester closes Aug. 9. About one-third of the normal number of classes are being offered.

Oakland is on the three-semester (trimester) plan in which students may attend classes for three-15-week semesters a year. More than 3,100 attended classes last September.

In Waterford Talk

Educators face three major pressures today in their efforts to provide children with the best education, Dr. Irving Sigel told 850 teachers and administrators last night at a conference at Waterford Township's Mason Junior High School.

Director of research at the Merrill Palmer Institute in Detroit, Sigel was the main speaker at the eighth annual conference of the Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, Reticon A.

One of the pressures listed by Sigel comes from big business. He posed the question, how do you select the right materials for the curriculum and students when there are so many producers of educational materials?

State Capitol Happenings

Another pressure, according to Sigel, is how does an educator develop curriculum that really prepares children for today's world, in view of the ever-increasing amount of human knowledge?

The third pressure cited was how do schools help children prepare for social changes and problems.

OUT OF FOCUS

Sigel's address was on the conference theme, "The Child In and Out of Focus."

The teachers and administrators from Oakland and Wayne counties were led in 25 small group discussions by about 70 resource persons from throughout southeastern Michigan yesterday afternoon.
