Jail 'Brains' in Riesel Case

4 Racketeers Held by FBI in Acid Blinding

Johnny Dio, Brother and Underworld Pals Accused of Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP) — FBI agents have seized notorious racketeer Johnny Dio and three other men as the underworld masterminds behind the acid blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel.

The four were charged with conspiracy in allegedly setting up a sneak attack on Riesel shortly after he strolled out of a Broadway restaurant in the dark early morning hours April 5.

The FBI said a young hoodlum, Abraham Telvi, was hired for $1,000 to fling the acid. Telvi was later found shot to death.

DIO

After the arrests yesterday, U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said:

"Johnny Dio, among others, was the man who directed, instigated and arranged the payoff to Telvi in the acid attack on Victor Riesel. This is in direct relation to Riesel's planned testimony about labor racketeering before the federal grand jury."

DIOGUARDI

Riesel, 41, long a syndicated newspaper crusader against criminal elements in labor unions, has also said the acid attack was planned to scare him out of testifying.

ARRESTED AT HOME

The dapper, 42-year-old Dio — whose actual name is John Dioguardi—was nabbed at his home on Point Lookout, Long Island, N. Y.

Picked up elsewhere were Thomas Dioguardi, 46, his brother and an executive in a cotton goods firm; Domenico Bando, 47,

Another Briton Jailed in Egypt; Relations Tense

2 at British Embassy Told to Leave Country for 'Spying'

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt put another British subject behind bars today. Relations between the two countries became further strained in the wake of Egyptian charges that two British Embassy secretaries are involved in a spy ring.

The British Embassy said James Zarb, a British resident of Egypt, was placed under arrest.

The embassy said it did not know if his case was connected with an espionage investigation Egyptians say is implicating a growing number of foreigners.

An embassy spokesman said Zarb might be involved only in passport difficulties. The Egyptians are already holding James Swinburn, business manager for the British-owned Arab News Agency, and Charles Pittuck, an official of the Marconi Radio-Telegraph Co., as spy suspects.

Four Egyptians have been officially named as their accomplices, and Cairo newspapers reported today that four more Egyptians—one a naval officer—have been seized as a result of an alleged confession by Swinburn.

The Egyptians have given the two embassy secretaries, J. B. Flux and J. G. Gove, 72 hours to leave the country.

The British embassy said it tried without success to talk to Swinburn and Pittuck.

An official Egyptian spokesman said the investigations are continuing.

The Egyptians appear to be setting the stage for a sensational international spy trial.

In Washington, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles met with President Eisenhower today to report that chances are good for a peaceful solution of the Suez Canal crisis.

And in London, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser sent a message asking the five-nation Suez committee to come to Cairo "soon" to discuss the West's plan for international control of the canal.

Sparrow Sounds Alert

RIGHT UP THERE—Leader of the anti-tie faction Paul Sparrow points to the thermometer which signals the freedom from the heat-containing tie and buttoned shirt-collar.

Off With Those Ties, Men

Soaring of Mercury Issues 'Cool' Signal

Tuesday the mercury hit 90.

It was two o'clock.

Uncle Sam's experts said it would pass 90 today and again tomorrow. That means sport shirts with no collars for the men in this area are official.

★ ★ ★

"My boys will appear today and Thursday with no ties and with shirts open at the throat," said President Paul Sparrow of the Male Emancipation League.

★ ★ ★

"The bulk of the masculine population has joined my organization with enthusiasm. We're free and comfortable. My boys greet me on the street with a big smile and yell: 'Hi Pres.' That's the official greeting. I always respond, 'Hi, pal.' That's protocol."

Everyone with an open shirt is legally entitled to address President Sparrow at any time. Others must meet him socially or through an introduction in business or professional circles.

★ ★ ★

"Today and tomorrow," says President Paul, "are 'Sparrow Days.' Leave off your tie, unbutton your shirt and join the Pontiac area's swelling legions of happy men."

"Oh, a few of the sticky, puffy faced diehards still plod dismally ahead in the light of antiquity. They're locked in the deadly clutches of tradition, the stuffed shirt and possible apoplexy. We feel sorry for them in a magnanimous sort of way, but they're a hopeless and helpless minority."

Ziegler Gives County Officials Protest Answer

Blueprints Not Even On Drawing Boards, but Hearing Is Promised

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

LANSING—Plans for a north-south highway which may bisect Oakland County are still incomplete on the drawing boards and far from reality, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said yesterday.

Ziegler met with a group of Oakland County officials to answer a flood of protest letters arising from a newly-formed Southfield-Bloomfield Assn. opposing a proposed Detroit-Bay City freeway.

He stressed that plans were far from definite and that as yet two alternate routes hadn't even reached the drawing boards due to a shortage of highway engineers. He added that hearings will be held when the time comes to decide which route should be built.

"We're not going to bust through property just because we have the authority to do so," the commissioner said. "We are just trying to serve the needs of the people without trying to crucify them."

He said the primary purpose of the meeting was to explain what progress had been made on one route and secure ideas from county officials.

Robert Swanson, chairman of the Oakland County Planning Commission, advanced the suggestion that the new route should use the existing right-of-ways by extending Northwestern Highway to the northwest and swinging north on a widened Telegraph road west of Pontiac.

Pontiac City Engineer Lewis Wrenn offered an opposite suggestion. "Why not do something on the east side of Pontiac," he questioned.

Other persons present at the session were Mayor William Donaldson, City Manager W. K. Willman, City Commissioner Philip E. Rowston, members of the county planning and highway commissions, representatives of the Tri-County Highway Commission and Bloomfield and Southfield Townships. State Senator William Broomfield also attended.

County officials were told that the extension of Northwestern Highway to M59 and then to M22 north to Saginaw was progressing rapidly. State highway officials emphasized this project was divorced from the new route under question.

Ziegler said two additional expressway routes should be on maps within three months. "The final answer on this is whether the federal government will okay it because they are paying 90 per cent of the cost," he said.

The incompleted first route, outlined at the meeting, begins at the Southfield - Northwestern interchange in southern Oakland County and runs in a general northwesterly direction just west of Birmingham and Pontiac to a point near the Telegraph and West Long Lake intersection.

Sift 350 Infants' Deaths to Check on Burly Nurse

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Police moved today to obtain death certificates of 350 New Haven babies to determine the possibility of further infant killings by a burly nurse who admits killing three babies.

New Haven County Coroner James J. Corrigan said he has asked the State Health Department to release all information surrounding the deaths of babies in the New Haven area since 1953. He estimates there have been 350 infant deaths in that period.

The action followed refusal by six-foot, 220-pound Virginia B. Jaspers, 33, to answer questions at a coroner's inquest yesterday.

Previously, police said she admitted in a signed statement to shaking three babies to death and injuring two others.

Yesterday, five parents reported to police their children had been injured while being cared for by Miss Jaspers, daughter of a former state senator who is now New Haven county treasurer and assistant personnel manager of the New Haven Railroad.

Corrigan said Miss Jaspers' refusal to testify yesterday will cause at least a two-week delay in resumption of his inquest.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys for the distraught and remorseful woman said they are advising her to refrain from further statements until she undergoes psychiatric examination.

They called for a reduction in the $50,000 bond to enable her to submit to mental examination outside the surroundings of the jail which they called "unfavorable."

Miss Jaspers was arrested Monday after 11-day-old Abbe Kapsinow was discovered to have died from head and body injuries under "suspicious circumstances."

"It was all uncontrollable," police reported Miss Jaspers as saying. "I don't know why I did it. Children sometimes get on my nerves. I ought to be put in an electric chair."

The towering woman has served for 12 years as a pediatric nurse, mainly in private homes. But the State Board of Examiners insists she was neither licensed nor registered.

County GOP for Van Dusen

Push Birmingham Man for Attorney General on State Ticket

Oakland County Republican delegates—124 of them are going to the state convention in Grand Rapids Saturday as strong supporters of State Rep. Richard Van Dusen of Birmingham for the party's nomination as attorney general.

The convention begins with an informal session Friday.

Plans for an all-out fight in November are expected to be overshadowed by the selection of nominees for attorney general and three other unselected posts on the ticket.

Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit, nominated for governor in the August primary along with Clarence A. Reid for lieutenant governor, has said he will keep hands off in the competition, except possibly to reject candidates he feels would be out of step with his aims.

OTHER POSSIBILITIES

Van Dusen's possible competition includes State Rep. George Van Peursem of Zeeland; Arthur T. Iverson of Detroit, former deputy attorney general; State Rep. John J. McCune of Lansing; State Sen. Creighton R. Coleman of Battle Creek, and Kenneth D. Plaxton of Alma, Gratiot County prosecuting attorney.

The convention also will nominate candidates for auditor general and state treasurer. Two choices will be made for the nonpartisan judicial ballot to oppose incumbent Supreme Court justices. Electors for President of the United States also will be selected.

Among those who may figure in competition for the auditor general nomination are Francis D. Criqui of St. Ignace, John Bellamy of Petoskey, William Forsythe of Otsego County, and William L. Burns of Ironwood.

Schools to Open Next Thursday— Motorists Beware

Motorists have their lesson to learn as children return to school next week, according to Clyle R. Haskill, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee.

Haskill sums up the lesson in this nut-shell: "Drive slow, let 'em grow."

That's the motto of a campaign the safety committee is waging next month to protect school children on city streets, Haskill said.

Children swarming to and from school demand extra care from the driver, he said. "Children are careless—it's up to the driver to expect the unexpected from them and to act quickly to save a heedless youngster from harm."

Haskill gave these rules to protect youngsters in traffic:

Keep a sharp lookout for children at all times, especially in school zones, near playgrounds and at other places where they gather.

When driving in school zones, be alert for traffic signs, signals, police and school patrols, as well as for the children.

Give bicycle riders a break. "Don't be a juvenile yourself by trying to compete with them for the road," Haskill urged.

Romance for Adlai? He Denies Rumors

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—Adlai Stevenson was questioned yesterday about rumors naming him in a romance with a wealthy Alabama widow.

He took time out while inspecting Bonneville Dam to comment, "You may say that I was never more flattered, but I am afraid there is no truth to the reports."

His name had been linked with Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburgh, who was secretary of the Democratic National Convention. When questioned at Birmingham, Mrs. Vredenburgh had told reporters coyly: "I think you'd better ask Adlai Stevenson about it."

Mrs. Vredenburgh is the widow of Peter Vredenburgh III, Alabama lumberman, who died earlier this year.

Boy Describes Beatings, Shuns Return to Parents

Thirteen-year-old Aaron Wilkinson, the oldest of 10 children found abandoned in a Keego Harbor home last week, expressed no desire to go back home and described several alleged beatings he and a sister had received as Oakland County Prosecutor Fred Ziem began taking statements from the five oldest children of Mr. and Mrs. William Wyatt today.

The Wyatts are being charged with cruelty and can be sentenced to four years in prison or fined $2,500 if convicted. They will be examined by W. Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle, Sept. 5.

Two other members of the family had run away from their Pridham street home several days before the others were found.

All have been living at the Oakland County Children's Home with the exception of Sherry, 7, who is being treated for a severely burned hand and cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital.

"I just don't want to go back home," Aaron told the prosecutor during this morning's questioning. When asked if it was because he was afraid of his stepfather, he replied: "When he whips me I just don't like him."

Aaron told Ziem the last time he was beaten by the 29-year-old Wyatt was while the mother was in the hospital. He said his stepfather beat him "five or six times with a belt."

Aaron said that a dispute over some potatoes he cooked resulted in the last beating. He said his father was visiting a neighbor when he (Aaron) cooked the potatoes and the children ate them.

A neighbor child, who was eating with the Wyatt children, told Wyatt the potatoes had not been cooked enough, according to Aaron.

The boy said he tried to tell his father the potatoes had been "all right" but that he refused to listen

But Press Worries About Them

Train Fun Has Serious Aspects

All over but the fun . . . well, nearly.

With just under two weeks remaining before The Pontiac Press Theater Special points its prow toward New York City, planners and travelers this week turned their attentions to the "serious" aspects of their Sept. 10-15 trip.

The travelers, 100 strong, could almost hear the engine's departing whistle as they looked over the task of selecting clothes and looking up addresses.

But no one had to give a thought to the other details of reaching the Eastern city and returning. Those were taken care of today when envelopes containing train tickets, itinerary folders, seating arrangements and baggage checks were mailed from the Press.

The schedule of events lists each phase of the trip from departure time at 6:45 a.m. Sept. 10 to arrival back in Detroit at 9:35 p.m. the following Saturday.

Illustrated by a picture of the Special's first registrant, Miss Joan Lewis, the folder includes the names and addresses of each traveler and the train car to which he or she has been assigned.

Each step is then outlined in a series of paragraphs about the train trip, the hotel stay and the itinerary.

First of the events, according to the folder, will be an arrival party at Greenwich Village. The next day, travelers will view Manhattan Island from a boat and see "No Time for Sergeants."

Successive events through the five days will include "The Most Happy Fella" and "New Faces of 1956" on Wednesday; United Nations tour and luncheon, and "Damn Yankees" on Thursday; and "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter" and an after theater party on Friday.

In addition to the main features of the trip, the itinerary lists several periods of free time.

And that's just the "fun" portion. Also included in the packet are tickets, baggage checks and a detailed account of where each traveler will sit.

It's serious business, but it's all a part of making sure that Theater Special guests spend their time in enjoying the spirit of our "special adventure"—having fun.

Eisenhower had spent four days golfing and relaxing at the Cypress Point Club on California's Monterey Peninsula after two days at the Republican National Convention which unanimously nominated him for a second term.

Bank Begins Construction of Office in Northwest Area

Plans to establish a $100,000 branch office in Pontiac's northwest section were announced yesterday by officials of the Pontiac State Bank.

The new banking center will be located on Baldwin Avenue between Yale and Ypsilanti streets in the general area bounded by Columbia and Walton blvds., according to President Milo Cross.

Scheduled for completion about Jan. 1, the 90 by 40-foot building will be of brick construction and will be adjoined by a blacktopped parking space for 75 cars. Work was begun yesterday by the contractor, Ward Ross.

The branch will offer complete banking services, according to Cross, and will be equipped with two drive-in windows, safe deposit vault and night depository.

The one-story structure has been designed to make possible addition of a second story for future expansion, Cross said.

The new office will bring to three the number of branches maintained by the bank in addition to its main office. Others are located in Auburn Heights and Drayton Plains.

AFL-CIO Council Backs Stevenson-Kefauver Team

FOREST PARK, Pa. (AP)—AFL-CIO leaders, having decided to cast their lot with the Democrats in the coming election, turned today to planning how they can help defeat President Eisenhower.

The powerful AFL-CIO Executive Council wound up a long, closed door argument by voting to recommend formal support for the Democratic ticket of Adlai Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee against Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon.

* * *

The decision was reached late yesterday with some misgivings. Some council members felt their 15 million member labor organization would be sticking its neck out and cutting itself off from any chance for favors from the Republican party.

But the council, reportedly against the advice of AFL-CIO President George Meany, voted 14-8 to make an endorsement and then cast that endorsement by a 17-5 count to the Democrats.

The decision was steered by a solid bloc of leaders of former CIO unions sparked by former CIO Chief Walter Reuther. He had been instrumental at the Democratic convention in getting Stevenson nominated. Reuther's clique persuaded a sprinkling of former AFL union locals to go along, while eight leaders of former AFL unions opposed any endorsement.

The AFL-CIO leaders today called a meeting of their political operating arm, the Commitete on Political Education to discuss plans for marshaling votes for the combination and for labor-endorsed candidates for Congress and key state offices.

No formal endorsements for the congressional and state races were to be announced, but the union leaders planned to go over the records of rival candidates and lay the basis for picking and choosing among contenders in major contests.

The 28-man AFL-CIO Council actually voted only to recommend a Stevenson-Kefauver endorsement to a meeting of heads of all 140 AFL-CIO unions in Chicago Sept. 12. But Meany conceded this will only be a formality and said he hadn't "the slightest doubt" the larger group will concur.

* * *

In Vancouver, Wash., where Stevenson and Kefauver met with political leaders yesterday, Stevenson was described by his press secretary as "delighted" at the news.

Meany said: "The time has come for a more determined and concerted effort to organize the employes of the federal government.

Mrs. Lessiter leaves a son, John and two grandchildren, Frank and Janet Lee, all of Lake Orion.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Friday from Allen's Funeral Home, Lake Orion. Dr. Mont C. Oliver will officiate with burial in the Oxford Cemetery.

The Day in Birmingham

CD Program Sept. 9-15 Slates Dedication, Parade

BIRMINGHAM — Civil Defense Week in Birmingham from Sept. 9 to 15 will include dedication of the Ground Observer Post, a parade and showing of five movies to interested groups.

The tentative program for the week was presented to city commissioners by Dana Whitman Jr., civil defense director Monday night.

Mrs. Melvina Eberle, county coordinator of the Ground Observer Corps, says she has the assurance that a representative of Governor Williams will attend the ceremony at 4 p.m. Sept. 14 dedicating the GOC post on East Maple road.

She expects, also, that Roger Kyes of Bloomfield Hills, who is active in national defense work, will arrive in town from a Chicago appointment in time for the parade.

The parade, set for 7 p.m., will include bands, fire equipment, emergency communications truck, and numerous floats, Whitman says.

A "Miss Civil Defense" will be named, churches will observe the week, and other publicity aides will be utilized to tell citizens of need for protecting people in time of war-caused or natural disaster.

Junior Chamber of Commerce members are working with the civil defense director in planning.

The movies or a talk by the civil defense director or an office representative will be available to groups during the week, Whitman advised. He tendered his resignation as CD director Monday, but a successor is expected to be named by early next week.

'Most of the arrangements have been completed so that my resignation will in no way affect this program," he said.

A helicopter-arrival of an air force official is hoped for by Mrs. Eberle, but someone from the Air Force will attend, she says.

The post is in operation, with partial hours taken by available volunteers. Mrs. Donald St. John, director, is seeking additional volunteers to complete the 24-hour daily watch.

City Manager Harold Schone advises that a replacement for Dana Whitman, who leaves Friday for Newton, N. J. to take a city managership there, will not be revealed until early next week.

He indicated that he would not make his appointment definite until the return from vacation of L. R. Gare, public works director who acted as city manager in the two-week interim before Schone took his post from D. C. Egbert.

City commission will meet on Tuesday instead of Monday next week because of Labor Day, and the successor's approval will be asked at the time, Schone says.

Arrest Masterminds in Riesel Blinding

a Brooklyn baker; and Charles Tuso 44, a garment worker. All have long criminal records.

A fifth man, Charles Carlino, also was charged yesterday with conspiracy. He was arrested Aug. 18 and held in $100,000 bond as a material witness.

BANDO

Two other alleged conspirators in the attack were arrested Aug. 17. They are Joseph P. Carlino, 43, who is not related to Charles, and Gondolfo Miranti, 37.

The FBI gave this account of how the gang allegedly mapped out and executed the attack:

* * *

Johnny Dio and Tuso met with Miranti at his candy store a few days before the attack. Miranti then got in touch with Bando, who, through Joseph Carlino, procured the services of Telvi.

After the attack, Miranti hurried to a meeting with the two Dios and Tuso. He reported to them that the job had been done.

But he had some bad news. Some of the sulphuric acid aimed at Riesel's eyes had splashed on Telvi's face.

* * *

Miranti was therefore ordered to make certain Telvi did not run to a doctor for treatment.

The FBI has said Telvi was later wiped out because his acid-marked face made him a living, tell-tale link to the crime.

AFL-CIO leaders, gathered at Forest Park, Pa., said that if Dio is guilty of complicity in the Riesel case he should get "what is coming to him."

Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters Union with which Dio has had connections, said "He's no labor leader to the best of my knowledge. He doesn't belong to our organization."

Dio obtained Teamsters Union charters for a number of nonexistent locals earlier this year to help try to seize control of the New York area teamsters organization. AFL-CIO leaders are expected today or tomorrow to change AFL-CIO policy so as to prevent such future chartering of "paper locals."

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy announced today the body of a second U.S. airman has been recovered off the China coast where an American patrol plane was shot down last week.

They were seized in a raid on a nudist camp near Battle Creek.

Big Milk Strike Still Expected

7 Accept MMPA Price Hike but Major Detroit Dairies Reject Offer

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Milk Producers Assn. (MMPA) says seven Detroit area dairies have agreed to its demands for a 35-cent increase in the price paid to dairy farmers for 100 pounds of drinking milk.

Combined, however, the seven firms supply less than one fourth of Detroit's daily milk supply and MMPA officials said last night they were proceeding with plans for a strike by farmers Saturday.

Farmers now receive $5 per hundredweight of top grade milk. MMPA wants it raised to $5.35.

The association said three of Detroit's four major dairies have rejected the proposal and the fourth has made no reply one way of another.

GET REJECTIONS

MMPA said rejections have been received from the Detroit Creamery Co., Borden Co., and the Detroit Pure Milk Co. No reply has been received from Twin Pines Farms Dairy.

Charles C. Lockwood, president of the Greater Detroit Consumers Council, said yesterday that the proposed increases probably would result in less milk consumption. This, he said, would lead to lower profits for farmers.

Not Lack of Witnesses

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Truck driver Charles Weaver, 22, backed from a restaurant parking lot after lunch Tuesday and knocked over a street light pole into busy Division avenue. "Looks like I hit the jackpot," he commented, noting that the crowd of witnesses included Detective Dick Horden, City Attorney George R. Cook and City Service Director George G. Schmid.

Court Fight Seen in 12-Town Drain Costs

Prospects of a lengthy court battle increased yesterday for the Twelve-Town Drain Board, which voted to start action Tuesday billing 14 communities for a $38,581,000 storm-drain project in South Oakland County, although three communities have objected to their share of the cost.

If the dissenting communities still won't accept their allocated shares, the only alternative to court action, according to Anton J. Berst, project coordinator, is upping the price for the other members of the project.

It was decided to give tentative approval to the apportionments Tuesday and call a hearing about 30 days later to make the apportionments final.

Southfield Township, Royal Oak Township and Troy officials have claimed their shares are too high.

PLANS LEGAL ACTION

Eugene Swem, Southfield supervisor, said at the board meeting yesterday that the township will resort to "all available legal remedies" to prevent inequities.

* * *

Royal Oak Township and Troy representatives did not elaborate on their positions. Madison Heights has given "tentative" approval to its apportionment, but has asked assurances that the Red Run ditch, into which the drain project would empty, will be enclosed within the city limits.

At Berst's suggestion, the board hopes to meet Sept. 11 with commission and council officials of the 14 communities to air the possibilities of legal action.

Any litigation, Berst commented, would have a bad financial effect on a bond issue to finance the drain.

* * *

The drain has been in the planning two years to relieve the thickly settled communities of their perennial flooding problem.

HAS WIDE POWER

The Board was set up under the State Drain Act which gives sweeping powers to force the construction of inter-community projects.

* * *

No objections to the cost have been raised by Birmingham, Royal Oak, Berkley, Clawson, Ferndale, Oak Park, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Pleasant Ridge or Troy Township.

Swem explained yesterday that he opposes including certain uninhabited land in Southfield into the drainage district. He referred to land north and south of Nine Mile road along Greenfield road, the eastern boundary of the township.

He said to tax home owners in the rest of the township to build drains in the disputed land would be "unconstitutional."

COST 'INEQUITABLE'

Only about 330 township acres should be included in the drainage district, he said, while the proposed township cost, $1,268,719, is based on 440 acres, including the disputed territory.

He claimed that the land is almost 95 per cent in the hands of builders, subdividers and speculators, who would gain by the drain at the expense of the 30,000 other residents of the township who would pay for it. There are only 26 homes in the area, he said, or about one home to each 13 acres.

The cost per community for the drain is based on the total acreage to be served in each community. About 3.29 per cent of the total acreage in the drainage district is in Southfield, and this is the basis for the township's apportionment.

* * *

The apportionment for Troy is $2,121,763 and for Royal Oak Township is $352,266. Royal Oak would have the lion's share of the cost, $12,504,050.

Reds Nab, Free Swedes in Baltic

Russian Torpedo Boat Holds 36 Aboard Ship for 'Few Hours'

STOCKHOLM (AP) — A Swedish merchant training ship was seized by the Russians in the Baltic today but radioed a few hours later she was proceeding to a Swedish port.

* * *

The Foreign Office said a cryptic message from the sailing ship indicated she had been released. The announcement said 36 men were aboard the vessel.

The announcement said a Russian torpedo boat nabbed the ship Flying Clipper just west of the Swedish island of Gotska Sandoen. The island is 100 miles off the coast of Soviet Latvia.

The Foreign Office said the ship had just rounded the island when Capt. T. Hagstroem radioed, "We are being captured."

The Flying Clipper was en route from the Swedish port of Nynaeshamn to the big island of Gotland.

Sweden claims only a 4-mile limit in the Baltic and the Russians a 12-mile offshore limit, but disputes over territoriality have been frequent.

* * *

Soviet planes in 1950 shot down an American Navy Privateer in that area. Later two Swedish planes were shot down over those waters, and in recent years Russian patrols have seized dozens of Scandinavian fishing vessels.

Italian cinemas now must show Italian features at least 100 days a year.

STUDY WALL DECORATION—Maps of continents, oceans and countries make the world a more familiar place and add interest to the room. The whole family will refer to them. Blackboard is convenient.

Add Gay Colors to Room by Using Decorative Maps

Maps are decorative and fun in the home as well as important for school studies.

* * *

Besides the familiar large-scale world maps, there are many others: U.S., foreign and specialized examples such as historical, musical, astronomical, stamp, soil, folklore and other types of maps.

* * *

Maps can be used almost anywhere. Beside the basic mounting of a world or United States map on the wall with a desk or blackboard below for a handy work space, there are many other opportunities for displaying maps.

* * *

A map of one's home state may be pasted over a plain lampshade for a useful student lamp, or on folding screens with different maps appearing on each panel.

Maps can be used for decorating almost any flat surface.

EVEN ON CEILINGS

Even the ceiling of an alcove or small room can be useful—especially for an astronomical map showing the position of the stars. Some of these are approximately 30 inches by 40 inches and are easy to read.

According to the Hammond Map Company, maps are quite easy to apply to any flat surface.

Ordinary wallpaper paste or liquid library paste work equally well.

* * *

The most important trick is to spread the map evenly with paste and to cover it completely, including corners and edges, with enough paste to wet it thoroughly.

Let it soak up the paste for a minute to get the stretch out of the paper and then smooth it slowly and carefully on the desired surface, being sure to smooth out all wrinkles and air pockets.

MORE PERMANENT

For a more permanent bond, both the map and the mounting surface can be coated with paste.

However, the map cannot be moved once it adheres to the surface and care must be exercised to place it correctly the first time.

If the mounting surface is varnished or painted with a glossy finish remove the gloss with sandpaper.

When the mounted map is thoroughly dry (wait 24 hours) apply a coat of water-white lacquer or one of the new spray lacquers to protect it from dust and wear.

* * *

If the map has been folded, smooth out the creases after mounting and before it dries, with your thumbnail, being careful not to tear the map.

Indian Villages Raided —by Hordes of Rats

BOMBAY — Nearly 120 villages have been invaded by rats, in the Tamenglong district of Southern Assam, India. In 74 villages the entire rice paddy crop has been destroyed.

The rat menace has been increasing for the last three years and some 5,000 Kuki, Kabui and Naga tribesmen are facing starvation and in need of immediate relief. As a by-product of the rat invasion, undernourishment and starvation have led to malnutritional diseases and epidemics in that area.

Rishang Keishing, chairman of the relief committee in the Manipur district, has asked for gifts of rice to meet the critical situation.

Japanese Open Homes

KYOTO, Japan — Visitors to Japan now have a chance to visit Japanese homes and get acquainted with Japanese family life. A home-visit system in Kyoto is proving popular. Tourists may spend a few hours or a few days in a Japanese home under a plan worked out by the municipality.

Hal Boyle Says:

Young Housewife's Novel Stirs Up Storm

NEW YORK (AP) — A young schoolteacher's wife who never took a writing lesson in her life may become a literary sensation of the year when her first novel appears next month.

* * *

"I feel pretty sure of one thing—it'll probably cost my husband his job," said Mrs. Grace Metalious cheerfully.

The novel, "Peyton Place," already causing an advance stir in publishing circles, brings "Tobacco Road" up North and gives it a Yankee accent.

* * *

Mrs. Metalious, called by her publishers a "Pandora in blue jeans" (she likes to do her housework clad in jeans and a hunting shirt), set out to lift the lid off a small New England town — and wound up by pulling it off its hinges.

With a Freudian frankness she unveils the high-level brutality and low-level squalor, the hidden vices and illicit romances, the petty meannesses and quiet heroism which she says underlie the surface of any placid New England town. She includes a few love scenes that might raise Ernest Hemingway's eyebrows or cause Kathleen Winsor to blush.

* * *

It's an odd book to come from the typewriter of a plump, 32-year-old mother of three children. But Mrs. Metalious is no ordinary housewife.

She and her husband George were only 17 when they married after graduating from high school. She wanted to become a writer and turned out dozens of short stories while he served as an artilleryman overseas in World War II.

* * *

She wrote dozens more in the years she and her husband and three children subsisted on $120 a month while he studied at the University of New Hampshire to become a teacher.

"But I didn't try to sell them," she said. "I just wrote them and tossed them into a trunk."

* * *

Two years ago George got a $3,000-a-year post as principal of the grammar school in Gilmanton N.H., a town of 488 registered voters. Grace decided to write a realistic novel about a small town—not a portrayal of Gilmanton, but a composite of all the small New England towns she had ever known.

"To a tourist these towns look as peaceful as a postcard picture," she said, "but if you go beneath that picture, it's like turning over a rock with your foot—all kinds of strange things crawl out.

"Everybody who lives in town knows what's going on—there are no secrets—but they don't want outsiders to know."

* * *

After completing her novel, Mrs. Metalious did what many beginners do. She went to the public library, looked over a list of literary agents and wrote one.

Most professional literary agents give unknown writers a polite brushoff. Luckily, Mrs. Metalious picked Jacques Chambrun, an agent who has writers like Somerset Maugham in his stable but likes also to discover new talent. He told her to send along her manuscript and a few days later she was surprised to receive his reply:

"I'll sell it."

* * *

After a staid Philadelphia publisher—and an equally staid one in Boston — returned the novel at tong's length, it was quickly accepted by a Manhattan firm. Columbia Pictures is considering making it into a film, and has already taken an option, sight unseen, on Mrs. Metalious' next novel.

She has already received $5,100 in royalties, and the first thing she did was to buy a 1951 used Cadillac and four bathing suits for her neighbors' daughters.

* * *

Summoned to New York, she didn't have anything suitable to wear, so she sent her 12-year-old daughter to the store with $14 to buy her a new dress. She arrived here, her brown hair in a pony tail held together by a blue rubber band, a bit defiant about the impact of her novel back home.

"Three people already have cut me dead on the street, and the book isn't even out yet," she said. "And I'm afraid the school board won't want to keep as principal a man married to a woman who wrote about the things I did.

* * *

"It's all right to gossip about what goes on in a small town, but you're not supposed to bring it out into the open. They don't like to see the truth in print. But George tells me not to worry—he can always get another job."

The couple have no intention of leaving Gilmanton. They are moving out of their $35-a-month rented house into a new home of their own.

* * *

"Why, I wouldn't want to live anywhere else," Mrs. Metalious said. "In New York or Boston there is so much pressure—even the people who have nothing to do are in a big hurry. But in a small town there is time for everything.

"The ax-mouths may talk about you, but if you want to be let alone, they'll let you alone—utterly and finally alone. No matter what crime you commit you can always go on living in a small town, that is, unless you are caught stealing.

* * *

"A parent in a small New England town would rather it be known his teen-age daughter was having an illicit romance than that she had been caught taking a nickel candy bar from a store."

Nixon May Be Target of Democratic Offense

We believe in RICHARD M. NIXON.

Off-stage rumors suggest that he may become the whipping boy for the Democratic attack on the administration. The theory behind this reasoning recognizes that the President is a very popular individual with the voters in all camps and that NIXON is a much safer and easier target.

★ ★ ★

He became a somewhat controversial figure in his own bailiwick through the STASSEN maneuver. That fizzled out completely and STASSEN leaped finally aboard the band wagon ere he was left alone and unattended at the roadside. However, the criticism of the Vice President still lingers sufficiently to form a basis of attack. (Conversely, ADLAI STEVENSON would be even more vulnerable because of the attack on him by a Democrat and former President of the United States.)

NIXON

★ ★ ★

However, we believe Nixon will comport himself admirably under fire and prove to be a tower of strength. They're shooting at a live and active target: one that can roll with the punch when necessary or retaliate with a series of rights and lefts in reply.

★ ★ ★

NIXON is young and vigorous. Some ardent Republicans think he is one of the outstanding campaigners in the nation, irrespective of party or affiliation. Certainly in the weeks ahead he is destined to be tested as never before.

It presents an interesting situation. Strategy is currently occupying the thinking and planning of the best political minds on both sides. If the Dems center their fire on NIXON, they are fooling with a buzz saw that is capable of taking care of himself and his party.

★ ★ ★

Still, we grant they must shoot at something. DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER is an uninviting target. The Republican and Democratic Party platforms aren't sufficiently monumental to constitute the setting for a battle royal, so NIXON may be "it" by the ancient process of elimination.

Cameras Now Used by State Police

Something new in the way police work is being tried by the Michigan State Police. A camera which will take a photograph and show a driver that has crossed the yellow line is an experiment now in progress.

★ ★ ★

The State Police have equipped two unmarked cars with cameras, one a movie camera and the other a still camera.

State Trooper Harold E. Rowe, using the still camera had his film developed by the time he got his first line crossing victim to the side of the road. The movie camera operated by Chief State Police Photographer Arthur Mauk operates much the same way. In a matter of minutes the film can be shown to the violator.

Right now, according to Commissioner JOSEPH A. CHILDS the department considers the experiment to be in the novelty stage. But, he points out, that's the stage the two way radio was in a quarter of a century ago.

★ ★ ★

Any new device which will hold down or help solve our present traffic fatalities is well worth the time and energy to experiment. Keeping up with the changing times is an everlasting chore but the State Police along with industry have this obligation to the people.

We commend Commissioner CHILDS for being alert and anxious to help solve our traffic problems.

ONE wonders if those who signed the cease-fire agreement in the Middle East didn't do so under the impression they were agreeing merely to cease firing while reloading.

David Lawrence Says:

Independents Not in the Minority

WASHINGTON —Some strange things are being written, or said over the radio, these days about national politics. They seem strange to anyone who has followed politics at the grass roots in contrast to those theorists—most of them college professors—who sit in cloistered places and rationalize modern political behavior to suit their own preconceived ideas of what the pattern has been or should be.

There is, for instance, the constant use of the word "independents." The picture usually given is of a voter who reads all that is written on politics, listens to all the campaign speeches, keeps up with national and international affairs every day and finally renders a profound judgment at the polls as if he were some sort of judge handing down a decision from the bench.

There are tens of millions of independents and they are not a minority of the electorate by any means. There are probably in the northern states more independents than there are "non-independents" if by the latter term is meant those who vote regularly for all the candidates of one political party or the other.

LAWRENCE INDEPENDENT

The fact, however, that a voter finds in one party for a considerable period of time an expression of his basic convictions on public affairs doesn't make him less of an "independent" than one who shifts from time to time. Very often there is a switch at the state or local level, and not at the national level, or vice versa.

This writer, for example, considers himself an independent because he has voted for the Democratic candidates for governor and for Congress in Virginia in the last 10 years, but out of the last 11 nominees for the presidency, has preferred Democrats in five elections and Republicans in the other six.

The "switch" in voting in America—the rise in the use of the term "independent"—really dates from the time that several states began to use the split ballot. Up to that time a voter had to vote the straight ticket for all candidates in one party or the other—he had little chance to choose. The introduction of voting machines in many cities has helped materially to encourage split-balloting or switch-voting. In the rural districts the use of the separate ballot for state and national offices and, indeed, for the presidency and vice presidency as differentiated from candidates for Congress, has done more than anything else to foster the "switch" idea.

VOTING POPULATION UP

What probably accounts for the greater preponderance of "independents" or "switch" voters today over those who vote straight tickets all along the line is the numerical increase in the voting population itself. Perhaps the biggest single factor in this was woman suffrage, which was introduced in a national election for the first time in the Harding-Cox campaign of 1920. In that year, despite the huge increase in the number of potential voters, only 44 per cent of those eligible to vote participated at the polls in contrast to 62.7 per cent in the 1952 presidential election. Yet Harding won by the biggest landslide of electoral votes ever recorded up to that time.

It is also to be noted that, with the growth in the electorate, political organizations as such have lost much of their influence and power. This is because the total number of voters, except in the smaller cities, has become too unwieldy to reach by the usual methods of organization. Some intensive and extensive efforts through precinct workers still are made, but the total number of voters really convinced by personal canvass of some kind—including the telephone—is, on the whole, small.

Cox was much the better man in 1920. He made a coast-to-coast campaign while Harding spoke from his front porch in Ohio and made less than a half dozen speeches away from his home. John W. Davis was a better man than Coolidge in 1924. Again and again the more capable man or the more colorful personality—as, for example, William Jennings Bryan versus William Howard Taft in 1908—made a better campaign, but lost.

Political trends are best gathered in the factory, on the farm, in the homes in town and country, and anyone who has himself made a personal canvass of individual sentiment in different sections of the country, in campaign after campaign, will find that basic issues — affirmative or negative — rather than personalities constitute the major influence in swinging elections.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Chronic Joint Disabilities Due to Nutritional Shortage

According to a thousand-word "release" distributed by a "public relations" man (latter-day euphemism for press agent), a "mild-mannered arthritis specialist" from Yankeeland told the British Medical Congress in Brighton, England, that "Osteoarthritis is a joint symptom manifested as part of a general degeneration of body tissue and not wear and tear."

The specialist, whose home town and street number are casually mentioned by the press agent, further explained to the visiting firemen that "This was found to be especially evident in the most common form of osteoarthritis, which strikes the first fingers and causes . . . Heberden's nodes" — little hard knobs that develop gradually at the sides of the end bones of the fingers.

Now I am confused. All along I have been led (by the recognized medical authorities) to believe that Heberden's nodes characterize so-called "rheumatoid arthritis" or — well, I had rather not mention in a health column the other name for it. In fact that was the main difference, so far as I could follow the devious descriptions of various forms or types of "arthritis" by the experts, between "rheumatoid" and other types. So I'm worse confounded.

Anyway this "arthritis specialist"—an obvious bid for credulous customers — ascribed one or another kind of chronic joint disability to degeneration.

How anyone but an arrant quack can make "arthritis" (joint inflammation) out of general degeneration of body tissue or degeneration of joint tissues is beyond my dull comprehension.

The best definition of degeneration, in my judgment, is that given in Stedman's Medical Dictionary:

"A retrogressive pathological change in cells or tissues in consequence of which the functioning power is lost and the living substance becomes converted into an enert mass."

Or leave out the big words and say change in cells or tissues in consequence of which function is impaired.

If there is any scientific evidence to support the practice of calling insidiously developing joint disability "arthritis," it is the duty of whoever knows of such evidence to inform me and/or my readers about it.

The statement made by the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation May 11, '54, is as true today as it was then:

"The principal shortcoming of modern drug therapy" (you know, the succession of outrageously expensive wonder drugs) "is that while the results are more dramatic and immediate, they disappear when medication is discontinued. Besides, the various drugs in use today have not shown conclusively that they can alter the natural course of the disease or prevent crippling."

I am convinced that most chronic joint disability is physical degeneration of joint tissues, due to malnutrition — nutritional deficiencies through the years from early childhood, chiefly insufficient daily intake of calcium, iodin, vitamin D and vitamin B complex.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Suggests Naming Schools After Pontiac Teachers

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The Board of Education has announced plans for several new schools in the city, and I think it would be a tribute to two of the finest men who have ever been connected with the Pontiac School System, James H. Readers Discuss Weather Statistics

I was very much interested in W. W. Oak's discussion of the 1956 summer weather. I had a very different impression, but you can't dodge figures and statistics. If he says the temperature is absolutely normal, you have to believe it whether you want to or not.

There's no sense in letting your personal impressions and even prejudices stand up against solid facts. Thousands of people will try to laugh off Mr. Oak's assertions, but here is an authority speaking. He has the figures and the tables in his files.

Believe when you have to, even if it hurts.

Student

I read your interview with the weather man. How can he say the summer is normal when everyone knows it isn't? We haven't had very many real hot days and Michigan always has a long list of summer afternoons well into the 90's. We even hit 100 a few times.

This year we've only brushed 90 about twice and it never even approached the century mark.

You just simply can't ignore hard facts like these.

Egypt Urgently Requires More Suez Canal Pilots

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Egypt has sent out an "emergency call" for men to serve as Suez Canal pilots.

★ ★ ★

Nabih Yunis, undersecretary of finance whose job it is to keep the employes of the nationalized Universal Suez Canal Company working, says, "I'd take 100, even 200 qualified pilots from anywhere."

The canal authority said that 59 of 205 pilots are absent at present. This has caused reduction from four to two of the number of ships convoys transiting the canal.

For years the company and the Egyptian government argued over the question of hiring more Egyptian pilots for the canal. Most of the pilots are foreigners, about half of them British and French.

★ ★ ★

Finding pilots with the qualifications of 10 years' experience on the high seas, as demanded by the company, in a country such as Egypt whose mercantile marine was insignificant, was the big difficulty behind the dispute.

RAPID SUBSTITUTION

Whatever the outcome of the Western proposals for international control of the canal, there is reason to believe that Egypt has decided to go ahead as rapidly as possible with the substitution of Egyptians for foreign administrative and clerical staffs of the canal company.

★ ★ ★

The company that Egypt seized has a total of about 5,000 employes, with approximately 1,380 being non-Egyptian. But the latter include key workers such as pilots and engineers.

These jobs are well-paid and coveted by Egyptians since some pilots earn as high as $1,500 a month.

Normally, 40 pilots work daily out of Suez, at the southern end of the canal, to Ismailia, about the halfway point. Forty more work from Port Said at the northern end to Ismailia, and 80 from Ismailia in either direction. With another 40 in the Port Said roads, a total of 200 should be working at any one time.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser holds many high cards in his struggle for sole control of the canal. But the "old" canal company, which has headquarters in Paris, also has a rather significant ace up its sleeve in the question of foreign workers.

REWARD FOR QUITTING

If the "old" company officials asked the non-Egyptian personnel to quit their jobs—and made it financially rewarding to do so—some experts do not believe the Egyptians could run the canal for more than a week.

★ ★ ★

Jacques Georges-Picot, director general of the canal firm, actually boasted in Paris recently that the ousted managers are in a position to paralyze the canal "overnight" if they wished.

★ ★ ★

Yet keeping the traffic going in the canal is the real aim of the British and French governments.

Don't Become Slave to Indecision

When men and women pass the age of 30 without getting married, they grow more cautious. And the habit of indecision may then make them its slave. Even when they have an ideal sweetheart they still defer the wedding. Marriage is more educational than a college education so don't delay it unduly if you are past 21.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-351: Chauncey D., aged 37, is a very eligible bachelor.

"Dr. Crane, we have been dating for three years," a school teacher, aged 32, forlornly confessed.

★ ★ ★

"Chauncey tells me he loves me. And he gave me a beautiful engagement ring over a year ago.

"He said we'd get married the following spring. But he put it off.

"Then he suggested another later date, but when the time came, he also backed out.

"Yet the insists he loves me and I really believe he does. So why should he be so hesitant about our wedding day?"

SLAVE TO INDECISION

Chauncey is like millions of bachelors and spinsters. He is now a confirmed slave to the habit of indecision.

Some people develop the opposite habit in early life and learn to make up their minds rapidly.

Later, when two choices are offered, they quickly decide and lay their money on the counter.

But timid souls, plus those who have had dominant parents to "front" for them and make the decisions, often develop the habit of running away from the responsibility of actually committing themselves.

Many old bachelors thus can't even pick out their ties or shirts or socks at a haberdashery shop for they vacillate endlessly.

"To be or not to be," was a similar classical case of Hamlet, and that's what confronts Chauncey.

★ ★ ★

He is like a boy at a YMCA swimming pool who diffidently tests the water with his toe and then shivers for an hour as the others plunge in and enjoy their swim.

MAMMA'S BOY

As you might have guessed, Chauncey is a typical "Mamma's boy." His widowed mother looks after him as a mother hen with just one chick.

She has done his shopping and deciding all his life. So he feels as helpless as a toddler when it comes to assuming grave responsibilities.

And marriage looks like a life or death affair. It scares him.

"I love her but I am afraid to take the plunge," he later confessed to me.

"Sometimes I am on the verge of saying yes. That's when I kiss her goodnight and have her in my arms.

★ ★ ★

"But the next day, I feel as if I better be careful and wait a little while longer."

So I let Chauncey rate his sweetheart on the "Test for Girl Friends." She obtained a "Very Superior" classification.

He also admitted his friends all liked her. They were of the same religion and had mutual hobbies.

And his mother didn't oppose the match, either, so I high pressured Chauncey into getting the license.

A few days later, I told him Mrs. Crane and I would witness the event, so why not get married right then and there?

This caught him off guard. And I meanwhile took him by the arm and steered him to a church.

The wedding took place. And he has been happy ever since.

"I don't see why I waited so long," he adds; but you readers can see why, for Chauncey was as much a slave to the habit of putting crucial decisions off, as the confirmed alcoholic is a slave to the liquor habit.

Encourage your children to make decisions. Let them pick their own menu and clothes. For it is a handicap in later life for them to be slaves to indecision

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Magical Blood for A-Age Here

Potent Element Stops Bleeding Caused by Leukemia, Atomic Rays

BOSTON (AP)—Potent new life-saving blood banks for the atomic age were announced today.

These banks stockpile a magical lement in human blood that works almost instantly to stop bleeding caused by exposure to atomic rays, by leukemia, and in other diseases and conditions.

This natural blood element is platelets, one of the three types of cells in human blood. Red cells carry oxygen; white cells fight infection. The platelets help control bleeding or hemorrhage. Each pletelet is only a millionth of an inch wide, and it takes 30 billions of them to weigh one ounce.

Two methods of preserving precious platelets perhaps indefinitely were reported to the sixth Congress of the Internationa l Hematology Society.

The rub has been that platelets die too fast. The platelets in a pint of blood die within a day after blood is donated to a bank.

But the platelets now can be fished out of whole blood and preserved separately.

One method is to quick-freeze and dry them into a white powder, kept in a sealed glass tube and then mixed with salt solution when a life-saving injection is needed

This method was reported by Mrs. Edmund Klein, Sidney Farber, I. Djerassi and P. Arnold of the Children's Hospital, Boston.

This freeze method destroys the whole platelets. But the powder soil contains the active ingredient that can stop bleeding, Dr. Klein said.

Seize Two Youths Hoarding Dynamite

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police said yesterday they had taken into custody two boys with enough dynamite to blow up their own homes and a quarter-block area.

* * *

Officers were led to the pair in their investigation of a burned-out dynamite cap in a garbage can behind a home on the East Side of the city.

The boys admitted setting off the cap, police said, and told that they had purchased the explosive during a recent vacation in Colorado.

Officers said they found six quarter-pound sticks of dynamite in one boy's room, along with about 50 dynamite caps. Four quarter-pound sticks of dynamite were found in the other boy's room.

The youths, each 16, were turned over to juvenile authorities. They were not identified.

Mrs. Luce in Huff Over U.S. Entry in Film Festival

VENICE (INS)—Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce left Venice, reportedly angry, a few hours before the annual International Film Festival opened last night.

* * *

Mrs. Luce, who went to Trieste, had nothing to say publicly about the film festival. But there were reports she had protested strongly to festival organizers about an American film chosen for a showing.

Asked about her apparently hasty departure, Mrs. Luce's husband, magazine publisher Henry Luce, said she "doesn't want to comment . . . There will be no American delegate in Venice during the rest of the festival."

The film that supposedly provoked Mrs. Luce, "Attack," deals unflatteringly with a group of American soldiers during World War II.

Last year, Mrs. Luce successfully objected to the showing of "Blackboard Jungle" at the festival on grounds it gave an incorrect picture of America.

Mrs. Luce was scheduled to visit Verona, where American units of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization South European Command are stationed.

There were some 1,532,000 marriages in the United States during 1955; a 3 per cent increase is expected this year.

Identity of a former Ecorse City official who testified yesterday also was withheld.

CROSSING THE COUNTRY — 3
The Iron Horse

In 1825 in England George Stephenson built the first practical steam engine, the "Rocket." It could travel at the unheard-of speed of 30 miles an hour, and at first a man on horseback rode in front of the engine to warn other people of danger.

Americans became interested and locomotives built in England were brought here. The first successful steam locomotive to run here was the Stourbridge Lion, in August, 1829.

In the early days of railroads a trip from New York to Boston was considered such a dangerous journey people often made their wills before setting out.

Color it with your crayons and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut it out along the outline. Fold the front part forward at the dotted line. Cut out along the heavy lines around the bushes and fold them up on the dotted line.

Active Club Promotes Finances, Organizes

LETTERSBURG, Md. (AP) — In March, 1955 the Ruritan Club was organized in this little, unincorporated town. It has 43 members. It has sponsored a Little League baseball team. Got a playing field in shape. Financed nine additional street lights. Organized a Boy Scout troop. Given the town its first community Christmas tree. Started on plans to organize a fire department.

Next on the list: a community park, a war memorial.

A Lot of Railroad

ZURICH, Switzerland — The Swiss Federal Railways has a total line length of nearly 1,900 miles. That's about the distance from Narvik in northern Norway to Naples in southern Italy. If the network of Switzerland's private railroads were added to this, a second set of tracks could be drawn along this route.

Some descendants of the Mayas still are living in certain sections of Central America, the territory they occupied during their period of greatness.

Predict Jetliner Service by 1958

Commercial Production Will Not Be Slowed by Military Orders

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Air Force promised today that the first American jet airliners will go into service on schedule in 1958 despite a newly-ordered speedup in production of the same plane for military purposes.

* * *

Air headquarters has received assurances from the producers that the new orders for KC-135 "Stratotankers" can be filled without delaying deliveries of more than 100 commercial versions beginning two years from now.

Air Force Secretary Donald A. Quarles has announced that "Stratotanker" production will be "substantially" speeded to a peak rate of 20 per month.

Quarles, who was criticized in congressional hearings for not providing more jet tankers to fuel B52 intercontental bombers, said the "accelerated program" will give America's atomic striking force "longer range and more flexibility in employment."

ORDERED SEVERAL HUNDRED

The Boeing Company of Seattle, Wash., meanwhile, has taken orders for more than 100 commercial versions—which will carry 65 to 134 passengers each, at speeds of about 600 miles an hour. The first of these will be delivered to Pan American Airways.

The Air Force said its orders for the planes now total "several hundred." Only $700,000,000 of the money to finance the purchases has been earmarked so far.

The planes cost from four million dollars to five million, 500 thousand dollars each—with the luxury commercial versions as the most expensive.

The main purpose of the tankers is to refuel the big bombers at high speeds and great altitudes—above 40,000 feet.

* * *

Operating from the same base, the Air Force said, the tankers can more than double the 6,000-mile range of the B52. Operating from a network of bases, the tankers can provide a bomber with unlimited range.

Motels Are Favored

MIAMI — Motels are the favored housing accommodations of visitors to Miami, a recent survey indicates. Of 100,000 visitors interviewed during the year, some 34.6 per cent stayed in motels, 33.1 per cent in hotels, 19.7 per cent with friends or relatives, 9.2 per cent in apartments, 2.2 per cent in houses, and 1.2 per cent in other accommodations.

Bermuda has been a self-governing British colony since 1687 and has not changed its number of assemblymen—36—since that time.

A Matter of Values

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—When George Shabatura, 11, stopped for an innocent look at a swimming muskrat, he became bogged in soft mud. Within minutes there arrived a rescue squad, a fire department ladder company and park board rescue squads. George was pulled out with the complaint that the whole commotion made him miss his favorite TV show.

Widows head almost 65 per cent of the households managed by women, according to figures of the Institute of Life Insurance.

Dakota Power Source

BISMARCK, N. D. — Deposits of lignite — brown coal — in North Dakota are the largest in the world, amounting to some 350 billion tons. Some 99 per cent of the state's electric power is produced from lignite.

Piano Playing Gaining in U.S.

Business Is Booming Because of New Method of Teaching

NEW YORK — Your child can play the piano in just five minutes. At least, that's what the ads all say.

In this town, for example, if he is able to walk through the front doors of New York's Wurlitzer shop, he can walk out knowing some basic piano melodies.

By the five-miute mark he will have mastered Brahm's "Lullaby." Not only with two hands, but with a flatted B—every time around.

This is the new method of teaching piano. It has caused a revolution in piano teaching.

Once ranked by children alongside castor oil and the dentist, piano lessons have attained a new status. They are considerably closer to ice cream sodas and baseball.

The statistics story reveals that the school-age piano business is booming.

1. Nearly eight million children are receiving instrumental education in public schools.

2. Since 1939 the nation's piano-playing population has increased over 30 per cent.

3. Over 40 per cent of all families in the United States owns one or more musical instruments. And 74 per cent of those people favor pianos.

4. There are a half million music teachers in the country. Three hundred thousand of these teach piano.

Soup Nog Jogs Up School Lunch

Here's a good way to fill in that hungry lapse between the end of the school day and dinnertime. Let your child make a "Soup Nog" snack.

* * *

These new "souper" drinks are delicious, easy to make and have an extra bonus of food value.

Simply keep a can of tomato, cream of chicken, cream of celery or cream of mushroom soup in the refrigerator. When your child comes home from school, he simply mixes the soup, a can of milk or water and two unbeaten eggs in a shaker, mixer or blender.

There's enough nog for two tall glasses—and enough nourishment to see him through lots more playtime until the evening meal.

Soup nogs are delicious just the way they are, but if the young fry has a particular yen for the flavor of cinnamon, cloves or nutmeg, a sprinkling of any one of these added before mixing makes them even better.

Mothers who send their children off to school with lunch boxes can look forward to packing around 175 take-along lunches during the next 10 months.

VARIETY HELPS

Small wonder it's all too often an unimaginative meal.

But here's a suggestion you'll like because it's easy to prepare and good for children.

Hot soup in the thermos—a different one each day—makes the whole lunch taste better. Tomato, bouillon, hearty chowders and delicious cream soups are all wonderful, drinkable soups with flavor and food value. They provide that "something hot" that's so important for digestion, and blend well with all lunch box foods.

And try this extra treat, a new soup from two soups. Mix tomato and green pea, or cream of chicken and cream of mushroom for a surprise flavor. Keep the rest for your own lunch.

* * *

Along with hot, steaming soup, this sandwich featuring "make-ahead sandwich mix" is hearty and satisfying for ravenous appetites. Mix it up and store it in the refrigerator, to save extra minutes of preparation in the morning.

SOUP NOG: After-school snacks: a soup nog. Early reports say it's easy-to-make, tasty and nourishing.

MAKE-AHEAD SANDWICH

(Makes 8 to 10 sandwiches)

One No. 2 can tomatoes; 1 tablespoon chopped onion; ¼ pound shredded American cheddar cheese; ¼ pound crisp cooked bacon; ¼ cup butter; salt and pepper to taste.

Simmer tomatoes and onion in double boiler top over direct heat until mixture cooks down to ¼ cup. Add cheese and bacon. Place over hot water and blend. Stir in butter, salt, and pepper. Cook, stirring one minute. Pour into jar, cook and chill.

Keeps Antiquity

SCHAFFHAUSEN, Switzerland—This city near the famed Rhine Falls, hailed as one of the most interesting and best-preserved historic cities in Switzerland, is determined to keep its medieval look. To this end it recently banned neon signs, which, authorities said, would destroy the town's quaintess.

Sen. Case Says GOP for Labor

Tells Detroit Meeting South Runs Dem Show; Raps Reuther

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) told an organization meeting of the Eisenhower Labor Committee last night that the Republican Party is no "Johnny-come-lately" friend of labor.

"The Republican party, scorning ineffective gestures and concentrating on accomplishment, has done more for labor and minority groups in its 3½ years than the Democrats have done in twice that period," he declared.

About 300 persons attended the meeting. It could not be learned how many were union members.

Case depicted the Democratic party as controlled by Southern conservatives "who see to it that platform words never approach action."

"Democrat liberals make the most noise but it is the Southern conservatives who run the show," he asserted.

RAPS REUTHER

Case scored the acceptance by Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, of what Case called a "watered-down" Democratic civil rights plank in the party platform.

He said that by supporting the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket, Reuther associates himself with Sen. Eastland (D-Miss), a leader in the fight against desegregation in the public schools, and Rep. Barden (D-NC), chairman of the House Labor and Education Committee. Barden, Case said, "blocked action month after month" to revise the Taft-Hartley Act.

In contrast, Case asserted, the Republican stand on desegregation is "forthright"; the nation under the Eisenhower Administration is enjoying peak prosperity, and labor-management relations are at an all-time high.

Case was introduced by Sen. Potter (R-Mich).

Taylor in County Jail, Faces Robbery Count

James E. Taylor, 36, of 20790 Mitcheldale, Royal Oak Township, was transferred to the Oakland County Jail yesterday to await a Circuit Court examination on an armed robbery charge following three-months hospital treatment for wounds suffered when he was shot attempting to make a getaway.

* * *

Taylor hade been under hospital treatment since May 25 when the shooting occurred. He was transferred here from the Oakland County Contagious Hospital after previously being confined to Beaumont Hospital.

* * *

The county resident will be examined here Sept. 6. He asked for an examination at an arraignment before Ferndale Justice Earl N. Nash last June 9.

* * *

The armed robbery attempt took place at a gas station located at Eight Mile Rd. and Edgewood in Ferndale May 25, according to Ferndale police. They said Taylor held up the station with a knife but was shot by the station attendant as he ran away. Ferndale police made the arrest shortly after.

TINY SIRE — "Bobolink," nine-year-old stallion is only 28 inches high. Imported from England, he's owned by Mr. and Mrs. N. Clarkson Earl, of suburban Ridgefield, Conn. The Earl farm also boasts of miniature mare and it is hoped that the tiny animals will breed true, to establish a line of tiny horses in this country.

Calls for Lawyers of Higher Character

DALLAS (AP) — Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd of Texas, president of the National Assn. of Attorneys General, yesterday called for stronger efforts to insure new lawyers are of high moral character.

* * *

He said a Chicago University poll showed the public ranks lawyers "at the bottom of the list" in contributions to society.

Shepperd addressed the annual conference of Bar Examiners, meeting in conjunction with the American Bar Assn. convention.

"How far have we gone toward eliminating from our ranks the moral misfit, the conscientious non-objector, the lawyer who will point, and discredit reason to get a rationalized decision?" he asked.

"This country is badly in need of idealistic lawyers. We will need them as long as there are closed doors in public office, public meetings held in secret and public files marked confidential.

* * *

"We need idealistic, courageous lawyers as long as we have judges who cannot or will not lay aside their politics when they don their judicial robes."

Sikkim's Government, India, is reviving folk dances and songs of the country, Gangtok reports.

Fingerprinting of Workers on Mackinac Island Blasted

LANSING (AP)—An ordinance requiring most of Mackinac Island's jobholders to undergo police registration and fingerprinting was denounced by the state's top legal officer today as unconstitutional class legislation.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh said the law, in effect since 1951, "savors of a police system all to prevalent in certain foreign countries."

But Mackinac Island city officials said they will ignore the opinion.

"This is a good ordinance. It helps keep some of the riff-raff and floaters off of the island," said Sam McIntire, city of Mackinac Island mayor.

McIntire said island officials will continue to enforce the measure uptil "it is thrown out by the courts."

The ordinance requires almost every class of occupation on the island, from newspaper boys to tree trimmers and waitresses, to buy police registration cards and submit to police fingerprinting.

The cards cost $1 and must be renewed every year.

Failure to comply with the ordinance is punishable by a fine of $100, 90 days in jail or both.

McIntire said the ordinance has been enforced only sporadically in the last five years. The city council agreed to enforce it again this year.

He said about 90 per cent of the island's work force are required to buy the cards and undergo fingerprinting. At the Grand Hotel, the island's largest, 500 employes have bought the cards.

McIntire, an ex-state policeman and former body guard of Gov. Williams, said the fingerprints are sent to State Police headquarters in East Lansing.

Recipients will be selected in Army-wide open competition, and the grants may go for study at educational institutions in the United States or abroad, he added.

If the plan is successful it will be continued in subsequent years.

Output Per Man-Hour Rises Nearly a Third

WASHINGTON — Figures compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicate that production per man-hour in all manufacturing in the nation climbed about 30 per cent from 1947 to 1956, representing an average rise of about 3½ per cent a year for the entire period.

The bureau estimates, however, that manufacturing productivity rose close to 10 per cent in 1945 and 1955, with more than half this gain being scored in 1955.

Hungry Dogs Big Threat to Mail Service

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP)—Barking dogs bite postmen and Postmaster John J. McCarthy aims to put a stop to it.

Two mail carriers were bitten by dogs and required medical treatment. This not only causes a loss of work days but it is tough on uniforms.

Consulting with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, McCarthy concluded that, despite field tests for preventing dog bites with chemical repellents, protective clothing, dog candy, water guns and hot sticks, the postman needs help.

He advised that persons should take steps to confine hungry dogs until mail is delivered.

Infant Anemia Cure Reported

California Medic Says Babies Deficient in Iron Respond to New Drug

BOSTON (INS) — A California physician has reported a safe quick new way to cure iron deficiency anemia and build iron stores in infants.

Dr. Ralph O. Wallerstein reported the results of a study with iron-dextran solution injected into the muscle, at the Sixth congress of the International Society of Hematology yesterday.

He said the new drug, called imferon, is simple to administer and that full treatment may be given with a few injections, usually two to four were enough not only to repair the iron deficiency but to supply a reserve of iron to the tissues for the needs of growth as well.

Twenty-one infants, five to 36 months of age were included in his study at Children's Hospital, San Francisco. Some had nutritional anemia and other were prematures.

DEFICIENCY COMMON

Lack of iron is widespread among infants, especially prematures. It is also believed to be the most common dietary deficiency and has been a difficult medical problem because treatments have been largely inadequate.

Dr. Wallerstein said imferon has important advantages over iron taken by mouth, which many anemic infants will not swallow or hold down and which may not be utilized with food in the stomach.

Moreover oral iron must be taken for long periods in order to build an adequate body tissue reserve. This necessitates repeated visits to the physician and prolonged faithful drug-taking.

Dr. Wallerstein said that no pain or unpleasant reactions were noted with injections of imferon.

Practical Project: Build a Study Desk

Any time of the year is a good time to consider a good study desk for a child. But back-to-school time is the best.

Whether you want to build your own or design it yourself and have it built, a built-in study area away from the center of the house makes for easy concentration and better grades. Aside from its utility, a unit making use of unused wall area and incorporating other storage facilities eliminates the usual clutter of youngsters' rooms.

Pine is a universal favorite for jobs such as this, and with the 10 different species produced in the western pine region you can accomplish any effect.

The unit can be in warm knotty pine, finished naturally or stained. Or it can be painted to match the decor of the room.

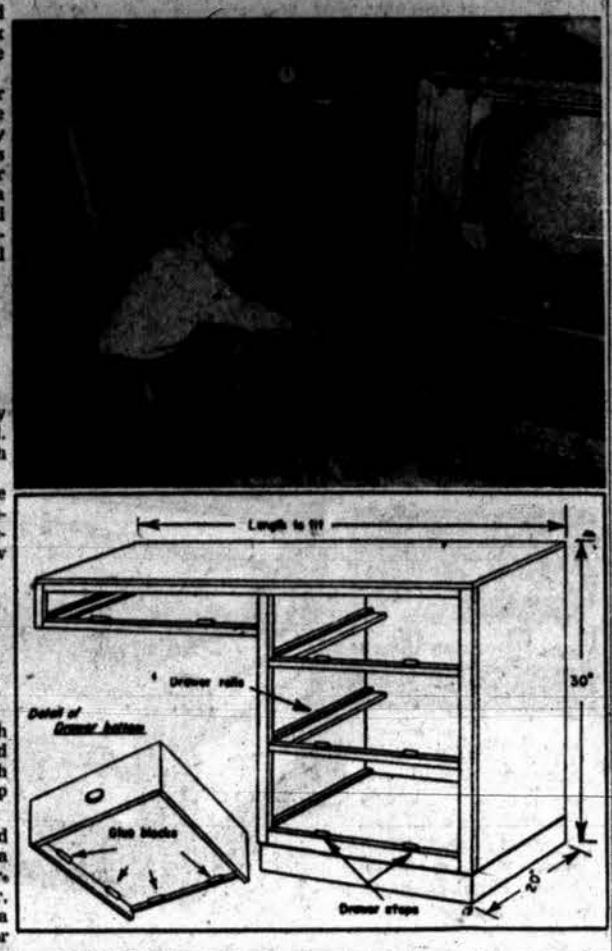
For a slight trace of color, the tinted finishes are popular because they still allow the distinctive grain and knot pattern to show through.

The best feature of a built-in unit is that you can make it suit your own particular needs. Western pine lumber normally comes in six, eight, 10 and 12-inch widths.

Boards ripped to a two-inch width serve as the framework and drawer rails, the 10 or 12-inch boards glued together form the top and sides.

Twelve-inch boards spaced about 12 inches apart can form a handy bookshelf on the other corner wall adjoining the desk. Or, if additional storage is needed, a matching unit with drawers or doors can be attached.

Whether it's do it yourself or have it done, a built-in study unit is a space-saving addition which will resist the ever-present wear and tear in the child's room.



EASY TO MAKE: There's always space for a study corner for the student. Look for unused wall space or area around corners (above) to provide desk and shelf room. It can be a simple pine job (bottom) for you or carpenters. Make sure there's adequate drawer space to avoid general clutter.

SEBREE, Ky. (AP) — The Rev. ELMIRA, N. Y. Need Teachers, Educator Says

Annual Institute Told Nation Will Be Short of Classrooms Also

BOSTON (INS) — The nation needs 150,000 school teachers a year, is training only 75,000 and this fall will find 90,000 sub-standard emergency instructors in the classrooms.

* * *

These statistics were presented yesterday by Dr. Benjamin Fine, New York Educator, at the opening session of the four-day 47th Annual Teachers' Institute, sponsored by the education department of the Catholic Archdiocese of Boston.

Dr. Fine pleaded for more teachers, more money for them, more schools and more attention to gifted children in order to "maintain quality in the face of unprecedented enrollments."

He deplored the fact that too many teachers have to work evenings, weekends or in summer months at jobs like truck driving or bartending to increase their annual incomes.

Discussing quality in education, Dr. Fine said:

"Reading, writing, and arithmetic are not enough in our atomic age. We must help students become better adjusted mentally, emotionally and physically."

THE PONTIAC PRESS

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1956 PONTIAC, MICHIGAN THIRTEEN

Christian Dior, whose whims have caused revolutions in women's fashions, launched a minor bombshell when he introduced this ankle-length daytime costume in his fall and winter collection. The skirt, which follows his "Dutch Boy" silhouette, falls in unpressed pleats from waistline to ankle.

Romantic Styles Unveiled

Paris Drops Hems

PARIS — Paris has gone romantic. Whether hemlines will stay as they are or slip down to ankle length, the one sure thing of the Paris huate couture collections this autumn is that the romantic lady—the lady who half a century ago was shoved into the background—has made a comeback.

* * *

Paris . . . a climate in which fashion flourishes . . . has brought back the truly feminine woman with a luxury and completeness hard to comprehend in a ready-to-wear world.

Fabrics are most often soft . . . woolens, chiffons, patterned satins, jerseys, softly textured combinations of natural and man-made fibers which have inspired couturiers to a clinging vine look.

The overall look is one of great elegance, straight but supple. Within this general pattern, the lines of the individual Paris houses are sharply differentiated.

* * *

Women will be garbed in the manner of Dior, Fath, Lanvin-Castillo or Patou rather than just "The Paris Line."

CAPES AND DRAPES

Collections are chock full of capes and drapes and literally smothered in furs. Color catches the eye, making fashion news when it is a shade of amethyst or green.

Daytime shapes are bulky—hats are high—the influence of the Russian ballet indisputable.

Evening clothes are the most undressed in years—there is hardly an evening strap left in Paris. Wonderful after-dark chiffons range from low to lower necklines.

The cape is everywhere—for daytime, for evening—in every fabric and every color. Dior's cape curves from a drawstring collar. Fath's is wide and swinging.

* * *

Balmain shows capes in velvet, satin and fur for evening. Coats have cape-collars, suits have cape-backs, dresses have sleeves which give cape effects.

LONGER SKIRT

The high rising waistline literally demands a longer skirt to complete the silhouette, and Christian Dior points a firmly warning finger to fashion's future with a group of two daytime and six evening dresses whose skirts are a bare 10 inches from the floor.

Jacques Heim also prophetically drops the hemline of several dresses in his collection to 8½ inches.

Many late-day Paris clothes are much embroidered. Fabrics for evening are lush velvets, plain and warp-printed satins, failles, reps, chiffons and lace.

Christian Dior has, this season, created a beautiful collection of young looking and completely feminine clothes. He calls his new silhouette the "magnet."

Visualize three horseshoe-shaped magnets, graduated in size, placed one above the other with the smallest on top, and you'll have an idea of his shape.

The smallest top magnet is for the high, deep-fitting hats, the middle one for rounded shoulders and high bustline, and the large one symbolizes skirts that are ever-so-slightly barrel shaped.

NOT STRAIGHT SHEATHS

Dior's daytime dresses are slim looking but they no longer are straight sheaths. They zip up the back and are skillfully draped to a high waistline in front.

"Little dresses" mark the Patou collection. Slim day dresses usually have matching jackets, often bulky looking and fur lined. Great wide stoles often give added top-width to these ensembles.

"V" stands for everything in Castillo's collection for Lanvin—for V-shaped stoles in bulky tweeds for daytime and embroidered or printed satin for evening—for V-shaped belts and for capes.

Pierre Balmain's collection is more lavish than ever with floor-sweeping evening capes, fur hats and stoles, great tulle scarves and some of the most magnificent ball gowns in Paris.

Jacques Heim has labeled his new collection "The Sinuous Line," and so it is. His line is slim and supple, giving the figure an elegant slouch. Hemlines measure a bare 8½ inches from the floor.

Heralding the return of the furred afternoon suit, Pierre Balmain restores long-absent lynx to its proper, glamorous place on the fashion scene. The designer uses the fluffy fur for a large, flattering collar and muff on a gray-green cheviot suit with fitted jacket and slim skirt.

Lavished with rich beaver from collar to hem, this striking greatcoat by Genevieve Fath hides half the fur inside under its nubby orange wool exterior. The collar, deep cuffs and full skirt are done in beaver, and the top half of the coat is fully lined with the same fur.

The "conversation piece" is at the back of Ronald Paterson's gray wool greatcoat in the shape of a black Persian lamb garland that streams over the shoulders and reaches down to a casual bow knot of self fabric. A deep inverted pleat gives the coat back fullness.

The cape, in every conceivable shape and fabric, steals the Paris spotlight this season. In keeping with the trend, Jean Desses tops a soft gray wool daytime dress with a brief cape jacket of matching fabric. The elongated armholes and collar are framed in luscious gray mink.

Newest Hat Towers at Tipsy Angle

NEW YORK (INS) — The newest hat slant is like the Leaning Tower of Pisa: it goes up high but tilts sideways.

Parisian hats for fall are now arriving in New York to be copied for American women. Most of the French hats feature the "up and over" look, something like a stomped-on version of those fur shakos worn by Buckingham Palace guards.

They are actually high piled turbans with crushed or draped sides, very much like the Cossack fur hats that were a fad some years ago.

The '56 hats, however, are furry but not fur. They're made of fluffy, bushy or plushy felts and velours, or of crushable fabrics like velvet.

The American adaptations of these turbans will be flattering in color and tilt. U. S. milliners are making our versions somewhat smaller and closer to the head, so that they enhance the profile, and in two or three-color combinations.

Favorite color teams are white with brown or mocha and white with two blues; pale green and white; and white with a touch of dark green and rich red.

Slender Furs on Fall Scene

NEW YORK (NEA)—The line of the fur coat for this years is a slender one, a graceful line broken only by deep pleats at either side. These allow for ease over a full skirt.

Some of these slender fur coats have a very slight flare at the hemline, another way of creating walking comfort. Sleeves are straight, for the most part, and yet sufficiently ample.

Both the cape and the cape collar make news in fur collections this year. There are both full-length and three-quarter length capes for daytime and evening wear, shown in both mink and Alaska sealskin.

Many of these have bloused fronts for snugness and fit and some have half belts front or back. Huge cape collars appear on many coats, most of them folded or manipulated for flattery.

The colored fur coat is no longer confined to budget furs. This year, it takes to beaver in bright gold, blue, golden apricot and pure white. It's used both for street and sport styles.

The barrel silhouette, new this year, reaches almost to the knees and thus offers an alternate to the jacket and the full-length coat.

Because of its clever cut, it looks equally well over the narrow skirt or the bouffant skirt.

Jacques Heim, who is said to have the most "wearable" collection in Paris this fall, does a two-piece ensemble in royal blue wool, topping a simple, full-skirted dress with a brief, fitted jacket. The trim little topper, which just reaches the waist, is finished with a broad black Persian lamb collar.

Fold Nylon Hosiery to Prevent Snagging

Don't just throw your nylons in the drawer. This encourages last minute pawing and results in stocking snags.

After your hose are washed in lukewarm soap or detergent suds, rinsed, and thoroughly dried, fold each pair over several times and lay it flat in a neat pile.

Tip for Petite Girl

The petite girl should wear small dainty designs and light-weight fabrics to avoid appearing weighted down by her clothes.

New Containers for Perfumes

Every time a woman turns her back, another manufacturer captures his fragrance and packs it in an aerosol container.

* * *

The advantages of the aerosol, press-squirt packaging for perfumes are evident to those who have used one. Evaporation is cut down, the package is generally unbreakable and always has a safety cap that makes it spill-proof for packaging and traveling.

* * *

The newest maker to utilize the aerosol container has put up five popular fragrances in what he calls his mist essence.

* * *

This bottle, which has a feminine shape, has an extra-fine spray which the maker promises will help the fragnance last longer.

Overprotection Masks Hate, Fear

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

When the therapist in the child guidance clinic met Gretel's parents, he thought her mother a pleasant woman who seemed very fond of the child. But her father was frankly angry at the child's ingratitude for all the things her mother did for her.

Talking with Gretel, the therapist learned that her mother was always asking questions like "Have you brushed your teeth? Let's see behind your ears. Are all your books in your briefase? What marks did you get today? What's your lesson for tomorrow? Let's see if you know it . . ."

Talking with the mother, he learned that actually she was Gretel's stepmother. In tears, the woman told him that she and Gretel's father had decided against any children of their own to spare the child family jealousy.

But she did not say, "I hate Gretel for blocking my own maternity—and my oversolicitude for her is my defense against knowledge of this hate."

But this was the truth.

Gretel's case is discussed in a new book, "Treatment of the Child in Emotional Conflict," by Dr. Hyman S. Lippman. I have reported it for two reasons.

* * *

First, it clearly exposes the hate that often motivates the oversolicitous parent's show of love. Second, in the questions with which Gretel's mother pursued her, we can detect the aim of the hate.

Re-read them. Then in those innocent-sounding queries, note the hidden, unrelenting insistene on Gretel's helplessness.

The child's helplessnes is always the aim of the overprotective parent.

* * *

Gretel's mother asked typically overprotective questions. Always such questions appear to want to shield the child against hurt by germs, school failure, summer camping, the socially unacceptable friend.

But what they actually do is to insist that any independent adventure can have only one end—disaster.

Whether the adventure is climbing a tree or marrying the girl he wants, the child must be separated from it lest it reveal to him his own powers. Just as the spider's poison paralyzes the fly it intends to eat, so the hate behind overprotection stings the child into physical and moral paralysis.

* * *

The overjrotective parent's problem is his own sense of helplessness. Gretel's mother pursued her with suggestions of helplessness because disaster was her own expectation. Otherwise, it could never have occurred to her to fear her own babies as disasters to another child.

Make Room in Busy Life for Kindness to Outsiders

Woman With No Time for Gracious Act Cheats Both Herself and Her Family

By RUTH MILLETT

Why can't business firms be as businesslike with housewives as they are in their other dealings?

You call a big company with a full-scale service department because the oven on your electric stove has quit cold. But can you find out when to expect a repairman to arrive?

Nope, you can't pin 'em down. Maybe he'll be out tomorrow morning and maybe it will be the day after, they say. So you stay home for a day-and-a-half—afraid to leave long enough to go to the market—just watching for the repair truck.

If you could make a businesslike appointment, for a certain hour on a certain day, how much easier it would be.

You buy a fancy labor-saving device that looks about as complicated as a B-29. Does the man who installs it check it thoroughly to make sure everything is working and take time out to teach you how to run it?

Not unless you are lucky. Chances are, you'll spend a week or two on repeated calls and in waiting for several service calls before everything on it works the way it is supposed to.

You have trouble with another appliance and the serviceman who comes out to repair the damage asks if you have changed a filter, oiled the machine in numerous hard-to-find places, or have done this or done that—none of which you were ever told you were supposed to do.

Why isn't upkeep explained to you when your complicated piece of machinery is delivered?

You engage a carpenter to do an odd job that should be done in half a day—but it is done in installments and you're downright lucky if the job is completed ten days later.

In the minds of business firms and repairmen nothing is so valueless, apparently, as a housewife's time.

Bring Along Belated Gift

No Need to Wait for Special Invitation From Newlyweds

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "Several months ago my husband and I were invited to the wedding of mutual friends. Because of illness we were unable to go. The gift that we had bought for the couple arrived too late to be sent before the wedding and se we kept it here thinking that we would go to see them when they returned from their honeymoon and bring them the present.

"One evening while visiting friends, we met this couple, who had just returned from their wedding trip, and we explained about the gift. Whereupon they invited us to come to see their new house, saying that they would call us just as soon as several pieces of furniture had arrived.

"However, we still have not heard from them and we still have the present. We are at a loss as to the best way of delivering our lovely gift.

"To just leave it at the house and "run" would seem odd, but to call and say we are coming over would seem as though we were pushing, would it not? What do you suggest we do?"

Answer: All you have to do is go and pay them a visit in the evening or whatever time they pay visits in your community. If they are in hand them the present and if they aren't, leave it.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I would like to know how to word the invitations to a party in honor of my new daughter-in-law. My son and she were married on the Coast and they are coming East to live very shortly. This party is to introduce her to our friends and relatives."

Answer: Word your invitation: "Will you come in on such and such a day at such and such a time to meet John's wife.

Dear Mrs. Post: "What are the proper greetings to the bride and bridegroom at their wedding reception? And what is one supposed to say to the parents?

Answer: Congratulate the bridegroom and wish the bride happiness. Tell her parents how lovely the bride is, and his, what an attractive couple they make.

Open Mind Key to Many Fine Jobs

By ANNE HEYWOOD

We take it for granted that it is older people who have closed minds, that the young are always full of adventure and in the market for anything new.

Yet it seems to me that far too many young people enter the career-choosing age with minds very much closed.

THINK IN 'TYPE'

As I have pointed out before, they think of all librarians as being a certain type, all sales people as being a certain type.

They don't realize that any field is wide open for people of all types—if the people are open-minded.

This was particularly brought home to me recently when I met Alice Baldwin Beer, whose title is Keeper of Textiles of the Cooper Union Museum for the Arts of Decoration.

* * *

Even though I try to keep an open mind, I'll admit that that title made her job sound like a rather musty one in a rather static atmosphere where nothing ever happens. But when I met Mrs. Beer, plenty was happening!

PARTY WAS ON

The American Institute of Decorators was giving a large cocktail party for the opening of a new exhibit of decorative textiles and the equipment with which they were made.

Mrs. Beer had to draw me aside into her own bailiwick if we were to hear each other speak. And her bailiwick was a far cry from the musty, dimly-lit museum room I had anticipated.

Mrs. Beer is fascinated with all kinds of textiles and is in charge of a collection that is fabulous—from glowing, vivid pieces of Chinese silk, dating back to the Fifth Century A.D. to the most modern synthetic textiles.

INTERESTING CONTACTS

Each day she meets decorators, students, collectors and others interested in tracing particular designs or particular fabrics.

She has learned the history of each era and each country through textiles. Without ever leaving Cooper Union physically, her mind travels all over the world through every century.

For example, in an article she wrote for the museum Chronicle she says:

"Into the East India trade the little sailing ships from Massachusetts poked their prows in the late 18th Century, fared out over the Atlantic with mixed cargoes on some triangular voyage which might take them to Riga to turn over a cargo, to buy Russian linen, then out east to Bombay or Calcutta."

You would never think that a museum job could be so dramatically exciting and full of interesting people—that is, unless you had cultivated an open mind.

If you would like a copy of my pamphlet, "Pointers on Achieving Open-Mindedness," send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will be glad to send it to you.

Roxanne M. Dill Speaks Vows in Candlelight Rite

In a candlelight service at St. Matthews Lutheran Church of Walled Lake, Roxanne Marie Dill became the bride of Joseph Michael Burke. The ceremony was performed Saturday evening before an altar banked with white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

* * *

Roxanne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Dill of Pontiac trail, chose a gown of white nylon sheer over taffeta, fashioned with Alencon lace at the neckline and in inverted V's on either side of the skirt.

A chapel train extended from her floor-length skirt, and her seed pearl crown held a fingertip veil of illusion. A sterling silver cross with a diamond center, a gift of the bridegroom, accented her bridal costume. She carried a white Bible with gladiolias.

Bridal attendants Barbara Jean Dill, Nancy Body of Cedar Island, Patricia Robinson and Suzanne LeMay of Walled Lake wore ballerina-length chiffon gowns in shades of cotillion blue and ballet blue.

* * *

Their headpieces were chiffon picture hats, and they carried cascade bouquets of Fugi chrysanthemums.

GOWNED IN PINK

Linda Miles of Walled Lake wore a pale pink frock with a pink rosebud headpiece for her duties as flower girl.

Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cahill Burke of Walled Lake, asked Charles H. Dill, brother of the bride, to serve as his best man.

Ushers for the service were John Reid of Walled Lake, Robert Burmeister of Cedar Island and David Dill.

Albert Brainerd and Ray Robinson were ringbearers.

For the reception held in the Northville Veterans' Memorial Building, Mrs. Dill wore a gray Chantilly laced ress over champagne taffeta with black accessories. Her flowers were pink Rubrum lilies.

* * *

A dress of aqua lace with pink accessories was worn by Mrs. Burke.

For traveling to Indiana, the bride changed to a pink suit with matching accessories. The newlyweds will reside in Walled Lake.

Fit Is Important

When you buy a new dress, suit or blouse, be sure about the fit. If it needs slight alterations (shoulders, waistline, hem or sleeves), have them done at once. Well-fitted clothes are an absolute must for a woman who wants to look her best.

Fresh Fruit Adds Tang to Dessert

Mrs. Madden Likes to Prepare Food Ahead of Time

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Even though fresh strawberry time is over, we always have the frozen berries to fall back on. Mrs. Alton Madden's recipe for a strawberry dessert calls for the fresh berries, but drained frozen ones may be used. You may also use other fresh fruit, such as raspberries or peaches.

A teacher, Mrs. Madden is a member of Alpha Delta Kappa and ACE, both teaching organizations. She and her husband enjoy bird watching at their new country home. They like also to read and to travel.

STRAWBERRY DESSERT
By Mrs. Alton Madden

1 pound Nabisco wafers
1 cup confectioners' sugar
2 egg yolks
½ cup butter or margarine
2 egg whites
1 scant quart strawberries or other fresh fruit, OR 2 boxes frozen strawberries, drained
½ pint whipping cream

Crush nabiscos and pat 2-3 of them into a buttered pan, 10x13. Cream butter or margarine, add sugar and egg yolks and beat well. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into creamed mixture.

Pour over nabisco layer in pan. Top with fruit. Whip cream and cover fruit. Add rest of crushed nabiscos. Chill 4 hours. Serves 12.

Lipstick Tips to Make You Lovelier

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most women take only a few minutes to apply their lipstick. Yet the way it is put on can make a great difference in appearance.

It can make you look happy or sad, older or younger, or prettier or homelier.

It would be a help to many of you if you would learn the art of using a lipstick brush. It requires very little practice to become adept at this form of application.

This is the way you do it. In the first place be certain that your lips are entirely free from make-up. Then outline the outer edges of your lips with the brush and fill in.

Blot the lips with tissue and be sure that there is no lip rouge on your teeth. After a few minutes moisten your lips with your tongue.

FOLLOW NATURAL LINE

The mouth is one of your most expressive and individualistic features and for this reason it is best to follow the natural line when applying your lipstick. However, if your mouth falls far short of perfection you can compensate some with the use of your lipstick.

If the mouth is too long do not take the color all the way to the the corners of your mouth. If it is too short take the color all the way to the corners. If your lips are too full, pull the color line in a bit. If they are too thin extend the color slightly past the natural line.

These are very slight changes but they can make a big difference. Great care should be taken to avoid an artificial look.

I am sure that you have seen women with everything from an extreme cupid's bow to a perpetual sneer painted on their lips. Some of these mouths actually are grotesque in their unnaturalness.

Little lines on the lips are one of the tell-tale signs of aging which betray you. Many women fail to lubricate their lips as thoroughly and regularly as they do their faces and necks. The habit of pursing the lips may also lead to these lines.

Edmond O'Brien Thrives on Varied Screen Roles

By JOAN HANAUER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Edmond O'Brien is one of Hollywood's most versatile actors, shuttling from Shakespeare to Westerns without a twinge of terror over the change.

* * *

"Versatility's important to me and I try to mix up parts so I don't get typed in any one thing too much," O'Brien said. "You are either a personality success or a good actor out here; although some people combine both. You take Gary Cooper or Alan Ladd or Humphrey Bogart.

"Those people are personality, successes and enormous box office. I've never made that kind of success. Nobody ever says 'That's an Eddie O'Brien part.' But my way you can last longer." He added:

"A lot of those fellows like Ladd, Bogie or Jimmy Cagney could play parts that don't resemble their personalities, but the producers won't let them. Their personality is what the public has bought."

* * *

O'Brien cited Marlon Brando as an exception, classifying him as "a character leading man." Brando, O'Brien pointed out, played the tough, inarticulate type in "On the Waterfront" and "Streetcar Named Desire," but he has also played Mark Antony and Napoleon.

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK

"You can't tell what would happen if one of these 'personality boys' decided to do something diffrent, like Bogie in 'African Queen' Alan Ladd, say, might decide to do something off the beaten track and make an enormous success out of it."

* * *

O'Brien is particularly interested in the Alan Ladd case because he, Ladd and Virginia Mayo are currently making a Western called "Buffalo Grass."

"My part is kind of a character study about an alcoholic," O'Brien said, sipping a straight cola drink. "First alcoholic I can remember in a Western since 'Stage Coach.'

"He and Alan Ladd build a town. It's sort of unusual for a Western—although I shouldn't say that. Everybody's looking for offbeat Westerns these days.

* * *

"The latest joke around town is about the writer who calls up a producer and says he's got a brand new movie idea—an onbeat Western.

"It's like a guy with the new Civil War story—says he has a wonderful twist. The South wins."

SEEKS COMEDY

O'Brien currently wants to do a comedy, a form of show he thinks is going to make a big comback. "I can remember the time," he said, "when you couldn't make a melodrama."

* * *

He's also toying with the idea of doing some more Shakespeare.

"I wouldn't want to do it unless it was with a good company. I did so much Shakespeare when I was a kid.

"Michael Redgrave wants to do a full-length, five-hour production of 'Hamlet' with Mike as Hamlet and me as the king. It's a different play in full-length, not just a series of soliloquies by Hamlet."

Tips on Washing Wool Sweaters

Any well-rounded sweater wardrobe is likely to include a couple of wools along with the quick-drying, no-blocking synthetics.

But wool is no problem to wash. Just remember to use lukewarm water and more soap or detergent suds than you would for a non-wool garment. Wool fibers soak up a lot of suds!

Make a cardboard blocking frame while your new sweater is still new, and you'll have no trouble drying it back to perfect shape each time you wash it.

Job Training for Women Offered Free

Washington School Gratis to Students Aged 20 to 55

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Opportunities for free vocational training are going begging here at the Hannah Harrison Resident Vocational School, which offers free courses in institutional housekeeping, institutional cooking, office work or dressmaking to women between the ages of 20 and 55.

The handsome, modern structure, costing some $750,000 to build and equip, opened its doors in 1950. It was endowed by the late bachelor merchant, Julius Garfinckel, of Washington, and named after his mother.

It is administered by the YWCA of the District of Columbia. Room and board are provided for students during the five-month period of their training.

To date, approximately 300 women have graduated from the school's September and February classes.

Right now there are about 10 vacancies in the foods and office training courses, for which the only requirement other than the age stipulation is that applicants must have the need to earn and the ability to learn.

SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE

"We believe the reason women don't respond to the opportunities offered by the school is because frequently they just don't believe it is possible," Miss Genevieve Poole, director of the school since 1953, told me.

"They feel that they will get to the school and find that they have to pay something, or that it is not all that the literature said, or that the training is not up to standard.

"Some of uor best graduates have told us later that they would not hav come if a friend had not seen the school and told them it was true."

The record of the women who have graduated, according to Miss Poole, is proof that the training is adequate.

"In fact, satisfied customers are calling in for more Hannah Harrison graduates," she says.

JOBS WAITING

"There are many jobs opening in the housekeeping fields, particularly with the expansion of schools and colleges.

"We are continually being contacted by college presidents to help train women to take over operation of their student housing," Miss Poole says.

Men's Attire Spotlighted

NEW YORK (AP)—The semiannual drive to get men to dress better — ro, rather, to spend more on clothes — got under way yesterday on several fronts. Some in the apparel industries are taking tips from fashions of 30 years ago. Some are looking to the latest in blends of man-made and nature-made fibers.

Retailers are set to promote their fall lines come Labor Day with its return to school, college and office. And the fall lines in most cases carry higher price tags than last year, with rising labor costs blamed by the manufacturers.

What the price tags will be a year from now may be indicated shortly in Australia where the wool auctions open today.

Clothing manufacturers, meanwhile, have turned their backs on the new fall lines the stores are showing. They will start displaying their next spring lines this coming week and announce the new prices. Chances are suits will go higher. Already there's a prediction that men's shirts will go up five per cent by spring.

The drive to coax more money out of the males will bring out a number of special weeks in the next month or so. With National Denim Week just behind, the industry turns to flossier items.

Coming up are Felt Hat Day, Sweater Week, National Tie Week and National Hat Week. There won't be another such concentrated effort until next June when Father's Day will kick off National Bow Tie Week.

Natural fibers have been staging a comeback and man-made fibers have been in a slump.

Men whose memories go back before the days of the so-called miracle fibers will get a nostalgic twinge out of drives to revive such fashions of the '20s as knickers and white flannel trousers worn with double breasted blue blazers and to turn the recent fad for caps into a full-fledged revival.

* * *

The newly formed Cap and Cloth Hat Institute looks to the suburbanite, the open sportscar driver and the college boy to help cap sales push to a new sales record. The old one of 55 million caps was set in 1927. Ten year's later only gangsters in the movies seemed to be wearing caps and sales slumped disastrously. They were back to 45 million in 1954 and 1955, with the big revival coming this year.

Shower Given for Bride-Elect in Miller Home

The Wenonah drive home of Mrs. H. A. Miller was the setting for a linen shower Monday evening honoring bride-elect Sue Williams of Bay City.

Sue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden R. Williams of Bay City, will become the bride of Thomas Gunther Saturday in Holy Cross Lutheran Church, Detroit. Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Gunther of Lincoln avenue.

The buffet table for the affair was centered with an arrangement of white gladioli in a silver bowl with pink tapers in silver candelabra on either side.

Keep Arm Covers for Emergency Use

Remove the sleeves from a discarded jacket, attach elastic at top and bottom, and keep it in the glove compartment of your car.

When you have to check the motor or change a tire, you can slip on the sleeve and save a cleaning bill.

Blend Mayonnaise

Mayonnaise that has separated can be blended into a smooth mixture once again by beating up a whole egg or egg yolk and very gradually adding the separated mayonnaise to it.

This beautiful ball dress of glistening white satin is from Irene Dana's new Paris collection. It is embroidered with red stones and gold thread. The new redingote look is achieved by a skillful cut that adds both grace and volume to the skirt.

Ralph Keeling Presents Talk for GOP Women

Mrs. Leo Bex of Moreland avenue was hostess to the Pontiac Republican Women's Club Monday afternoon when Ralph Keeling spoke on "The Republican Crusade Toward Victory in 1956."

* * *

Thirty-five members attended the meeting and Mrs. Harry Sibley, Mrs. John Carhart, Janette Castell and Daisy Benedict were received as new members.

Mrs. Frank Hardenburg presided at the meeting as plans were made for "Cobo Day in Oakland County" Sept. 17. Mrs. Harry Henderson, chairman, announced that the affair, a cooperative picnic, will be held at Avon Park, Rochester, and will be open to the public.

Mrs. William A. Kennedy was appointed delegate to the National Republican Women's Federation meeting in Chicago Sept. 5 to 7. Tea was served by Mrs. Robert Trout.

Party Being Given by Lois Petrusha

Lois Petrusha will be hostess to a group of friends today at her home on Oliver street in celebration of her seventh birthday. A birthday cake with lighted candles will center the luncheon table. Games will be enjoyed by the guests during the afternoon.

Invited are Janice and Trudy Shotwell, Barbara and Sandy Stevens, Cathy and Danny Krimin, Fred Kucera, Diane Backes, Karen Plourde, Pamela Clancy, Kathy Elbergin, Janie Allen and Mary and David Petrusha.

Flattery for the pre-teen figure is in this one-piece sheath dress with a bias band that simulates the fashion-right short jacket effect.

Front fulness stands gracefully away from the body to hide that tummy bulge. A tight front-fit will highlight the bulge.

Bulges and bumps are more readily revealed by supple fabrics than by crisp materials that stand away from the figure and a tight fit with buttons marching over the bulge, tells all. Moderate front fulness camouflages tummy bulge.

Use Cold Towel as 'Refresher'

The soothing hot towel, long a standby of beauty and barber shop has a refreshing summertime counterpart—the cold towel.

Keep a small stack of folded face towels in a corner of the refrigerator.

When you come in from the steaming street, unfold a towel, sprinkle it with chilled, good quality witch hazel, and apply it blotter style to the forehead, face and neck.

He Designs for Modern Way of Life

Young America lives in sports clothes, says John Weitz, a new variety of designer who spends his spare time racing sports cars, skiing, yachting and occasionally playing rugby.

* * *

This breezy, good-looking young man has definite ideas about how women like to look—young women, that is, who have to look smart on a budget—and his sports wear collections are designed accordingly.

"I design for the gal whose husband buys an imported sports car on time," says John.

"They belong to the country club, but can't afford it. They have no servants and they are paying off the mortgage on their house, which is likely to look always as if they had just moved in. And they have a whale of a good time.

* * *

"Sports wear is the standby of this typically American young woman, who knows her way around and always looks exactly right for whatever she is doing."

IVY LEAGUE LOOK

The Weitz clothes lean toward the Ivy League look, but are more sophisticated than the usual gear of college girls.

They consist of good-looking separates that can be switched around but always look well-hung-together.

There are skirts, shirts, skinny pants, walking shorts, jackets and pullovers, all in distinctive fabrics, cut with clean precision.

"I cut pants ruthlessly," says John. "If you can't fit into them you have no business wearing pants anyway."

In his current collection he has plus-fours of wide wale corduroy, a matching man-tailored jacket and a turtle-neck sweater for one outfit.

GAMBLER PANTS

Another consists of gambler pants in black and gray striped corduroy, which he recommends be worn with a loose, bulky, V-necked pullover of fireman-red fleece.

There are plenty of skirts, too, and various blouses that can be worn with pants or shorts, too, and combined with jackets or sweaters in the knowingly casual way he likes.

Joanne Deaver Heads YTC Unit

Joanne Deaver was elected state director of the Active Service Department of the Youth Temperance Council at the annual encampment at Shelby Aug. 18-25.

Attending from this area, in addition to Miss Deaver, were Hazel Green and Helen Arbiter of Royal Oak. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deaver also attended the first weekend. Classes were held in "YTC Methods and Techniques" and "Tobacco, Alcohol and Narcotics."

Women of Moose Initiate 6 Members

Several applications for membership were received at the Monday meeting of Women of the Moose in the Moose Hall.

* * *

Mrs. Floyd Yeaman, senior regent, reported on the highlights of the convention held in Mooseheart Aug. 18-23 and Mrs. Howard McCandless was elected by the group to the College of Regents.

* * *

Initiated into the chapter were Mrs. Dan Cook, Mrs. George Kimmel, Mrs. William Aspenwell, Mrs. Paul Burke, Mrs. Charles Cissell and Rose Garrard.

Do Arm Exercises

There's only one answer to an unsightly, flabby upper arm and that's exercise. Even slender women tend to develop this figure problem. Until your upper arm is pretty again, it's best to stay away from sleeveless dresses.

MAXINE THOMASON

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dean of Oakland avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Maxine Thomason, to Jack McCaslin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward McCaslin of Rochester.

St. Frederick Class Will Hold Reunion

A reunion of the 1950 class of St. Frederick High School is scheduled for Sept. 9 at Cass-Dodge Park No. 4. The cooperative picnic will begin at 10 a.m.

Alumni contacting class members are Don Racine, Christine Zaffina, Richard Pfeffer, Mrs. Paul Bochnig, Joan Mazza and Mrs. Finley Crowe.

The scamp of daytime becomes a Victorian charmer at nighttime in a dainty waltz-length gown with Val lace edging the cuffs and the yoke. The gown is available locally.

A good seam is stitched straight, smooth, and is trimmed so that it doesn't pucker or draw, is pressed is not bulky.

Some Beauty Tips:

Shiny noses keep powdered longer this way; after you've powdered, pat just a tiny bit of water over your nose and other areas that take a shine quickly. Let it dry, then re-powder, now pat away excess powder carefully with a cotton pad.

That oriental curve of the eyes is done with eyepencil applied in a tiny upward line at the outside corners of your eyes. Skillfully place shadow on the outer edge of eyelid, then blend a little will help too. But practice at home first in a good light. Pink lipstick is pretty but sometimes it needs a touch-up. If one of the new pink shades looks best on you, try outlining your lips with a darker pink, this defines your lips and gives you a chance to change their shape ever so slightly.

'Stretch' Clothes on Sewer

Sometimes a busy mother feels that her children outgrow clothes faster than she can make them.

* * *

But until someone invents a growing-proof fabric, a little ingenuity is required to keep the kids dressed for longer than a few weeks.

Singer Sewing Center experts suggest you make allowance for growth, and offer several helpful tips.

For little girls who shoot up too fast, the button-front jumper is a sensible style.

Here's how to make it stretch:

* * *

Allow extra fabric in the straps for a tuck, and let the tuck down to allow extra length from shoulder to waist. For extra length from waist to hem, put in a double hem.

This will make the lengthening job quicker, since you have already finished the bottom edge of the dress.

Finally, for width adjustment, leave room to set over the buttons an inch or so.

CLOTHES TO GROW—With the girl. The dress was made with a double hem. Then, a few scissor-snips of thread and the dress is long enough for another season. Footnote: the work-table is hard-wearing laminated plastic.

Sales Taxes Adopted by Illinois Towns

CHICAGO — A sales tax of one half of one per cent, as authorized by the Illinois Legislature, was adopted by 594 municipalities in the state in 1955.

Of these, 576 had populations of less than 25,000 and 480 had populations of less than 5,000. Chicago, with 3,500,000 persons, was the largest city to adopt the tax; Ruma, population 107, was the smallest.

Squirrel Costs Rising

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The squirrel population of Charlotte's City Hall Square is going up. Firemen had to install four new squirrel houses in trees in the square. The city treasury allows $10 a year for peanuts which the city hall janitor feeds the little animals.

Plane Pops Out of Blue to Gas Up at Station

SPENCER, W. Va. (AP)—M. E. Walker and his wife, who operate a service station at Speed, Roane County, looked up to see a helicopter plunk down in a field across U.S. 119 from their station.

While motorists stopped to gape, the pilot hopped out and said, "Fill 'er up."

Mrs. Walker said the aircraft came from Camp Hill, Pa. and is used by a pipeline company to patrol its lines in this area.

Aged Are Neglected

NEW YORK — Research indicates that 75 per cent of the chronic diseases of the aged are partially or completely controllable, but rehabilitation is seldom attempted, a new Twentieth Century Fund study indicates.

CHICAGO—Dr. D. Homer Buck of the Illinois Natural History Survey has found that bass in clear ponds grow three times as fast as bass in muddy ponds.

Adlai, Estes Shake Fingers at GOP 'Giveaway' Policies

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—Sharper, more direct thrusts at President Eisenhower marked the political swing of Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver as they went vote-hunting in the Midwest farm belt today.

* * *

The Democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates were to fly in here early today for a closed conference with party leaders from Iowa, North and South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

In the coming election, the Democrats hope to capitalize on a sharp fall in farm income since 1951 and their program of high government price supports to turn the present Republican administration out of office.

The Agriculture Department reported last week, however, that the downward trend has been checked and that net farm income in 1956 will show an increase for the first time in four years.

* * *

Eisenhower vetoed a bill passed by the Democratic-controlled Congress last spring to junk the administration's flexible price support system and return to rigid, high-level props.

Then he won passage of a bill more to his liking, including provision for a soil bank plan that already is pouring millions of dollars into the pockets of farmers who take surplus crop lands out of production.

Stevenson and Kefauver made a night flight from the Pacific Northwest where they accused the Eisenhower administration of compiling a record on natural resources that "could scarcely be worse."

* * *

But Stevenson also went after Eisenhower directly on another score.

He said that in the coming campaign he expected to discuss "the great issues of our time — war and peace and a better, safer, new America," and then he added:

"I only hope my opponent has time to face some of the realities of our declining influence abroad and our lost opportunities at home — and I don't mean on the putting green."

* * *

Kefauver, in accusing the Republicans of treating the nation's natural resources as "objects for plunder," also took a direct thrust at Eisenhower.

He blasted the administration's "partnership" principle for the development of electric power and said this was "President Eisenhower's personal policy."

"It may have been dreamed up in some New York banking house, as Dixon-Yates was, but he made it his very own," Kefauver said.

* * *

The Democratic standard bearers held a closed conference in Vancouver, Wash., late yesterday with about 225 party leaders from Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Utah.

It was the second of their regional strategy huddles in a fast-moving tour to key areas. The first conference was held in Santa Fe, N.M., Monday.

Stevenson and Kefauver flew into Portland, Ore., to launch their foray into the Pacific Northest and immediately charged the Eisenhower administration with giving away precious natural resources to the favored few instead of developing them for all the people.

* * *

This was the recurring theme of talks they gave first at the airport in Portland, and later on the steps of the County Courthouse in Vancouver.

They also heaped praise on Sens. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Warren Magnuson of Washington, up for re-election in two of the toughest senatorial scraps of the year.

Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson's press secretary quoted Morse as saying the Democrats must not handle the Eisenhower record "with kid gloves."

SMILING CAMPAIGNERS—Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver (center and right) flew into Portland, Oregon, and a meeting with Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) brought smiles to their faces. Morse, who switched from Republican to Democratic party, is campaigning for the first time as a Democrat. Stevenson and Kefauver met with Democratic leaders to plan campaign for President and Vice President.

U. of M. Scientist Sounds Warning on Population

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—The world must take some action to adjust its densely populated areas, a University of Michigan scientist warned today, or the dangers of overpopulation are not too far away.

* * *

Dr. Lee R. Dice, director of the institute of human biology at the university told fellow scientists that what man has done will "have little effect unless the population density of a country is brought into adjustment with available resources."

* * *

"It is a common fallacy," Dr. Dice said, "that increased wealth reduces the birth rate. It is the other way around. It has been proposed that by increasing standard of living birth rates will go down. The place for concern is in the fact that birth rates are continuously going up with standards of living and death rates are going down."

* * *

This means, he said, that population rates are increasing doubly.

Overpopulation, he added, comes when the number of people overbalances the resources available to support them. Starvation and war generally follow, he said.

Dr. Dice spoke before the annual conference of the American Institute of Biological Sciences at the University of Connecticut.

Miami Call Girls Tried for Theft

Accused of Helping Rob Flint Couple of $4,000 During Tourist Time

MIAMI BEACH (INS) — Testimony continues today in the trial of two young women, described by police as $100-a-night call girls, accused of belonging to a gang which stole $250,000 in loot during the Miami Beach winter season.

* * *

Defendants Brandi O'Farrell, blond former nightclub dancer, and Raven-haired Joan C. Stroh, both 24, are being tried for the Jan. 26 robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hirsch of Flint, Mich.

The Hirsch robbery netted about $4,000 in jewelry, cash and furs. It was only one of about 100 police estimate the gang committed.

Police labeled the thieves as the "Sex-Steal" Gang. The girls allegedly invaded parties, made mental notes of the layout and valuables, then reported to male gang members who would do the stealing.

OTHERS IN GANG

The other accused members are Raymond Johnson, 26, who changed his plea to guilty yesterday, Richard R. Reuther, Daniel Lemelle, 23, and Leonard Feldman, 25.

Feldman, who is serving time at Ralford State Prison for breaking and entering, is the state's star witness. He described in detail how he, Johnson and Reuther robbed the Hirsches in their hotel rooms. He said Reuther later gave Miss O'Farrell one of the stolen fur pieces.

The women admit they were with the three men but deny knowledge of the robbery.

Tree Topples on Car, Injures Mother, Son

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit mother and her son were injured on Belle Isle yesterday when a storm blew a tree on their car.

Taken to Deaconess Hospital for first aid were Mrs. Hazel Freer, 45, and her son, Richard, 11.

Selling Off Breeding Cattle

Drought-Struck Farmers Scraping Bottom of Barrel

DALLAS (AP) — Even when you don't notice the burned-yellow grass, the mud-bottomed ponds and the dusty river beds, you still can tell when drought has hit the Southwest.

* * *

Just loaf around the community sales barn on auction day and watch the cattle come in.

When a drought begins to hurt, more cattle move in for sale. A few weeks later the cattle that arrive are shrunken and bony. They're hungry.

Then a little later, surprisingly, the sales cattle are fatter.

* * *

You know, when the sales cattle are fat again, that creeping disaster has hit the rancher.

For these fatter cattle are the breeding herds. The rancher turns loose of them only when he's desperate. He must surrender these cattle or watch them die of hunger.

An Associated Press man who travels across Texas constantly was telling about an auction he saw last week.

* * *

"There was this man sitting there crying. He was selling some breeding cattle. He'd sold his own herd weeks before. He had a boy in the Army and that day he was selling off his son's breeding herd."

A surge of such cattle are going on the market these days.

The drought has hurt the farmer equally. And city officials say that if heavy rains don't come soon, city folk will be hurting, too.

* * *

The drought appears worse in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Montana and Colorado, with scores of counties declared disaster areas, eligible for federal aid to farmers and ranchers. Other states, such as Wyoming, Kansas and Missouri are suffering, but not to such a degree.

Some people, such as Oklahoma's Gov. Raymond Gary, are calling it the worst drought in history. Texas expects the shortest corn crop since 1873, and the smallest commercial peanut crop since 1934. The Agriculture Department calls Texas range conditions the worst ever recorded.

Already, it's too late for rains to revive crops in the Southern part of the region, and even in areas farther north a full crop couldn't be made even if rains came immediately.

* * *

With the drought this summer came severe heat, ranging to 110 degrees and even higher, and that has drained whatever moisture was left in the soil.

Winds, Hail, Rain Rack Entire New York State

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Storms lashed New York State with wind, hail and rain and cost at least one life yesterday.

Floods, power failures and lightning-set fires were reported from Long Island to Lake Erie.

Charles Dennison, 32, of Buffalo, was lost in Cauyga Lake when he dove from a boat during the storm to retrieve an oar. His outboard motor had failed.

Pontiac City Affairs

Willman to Meet Engineer Consultants on South Park Subdivision Developing

City Manager W. K. Willman will meet with representatives of the city's engineer consultant firm as to the feasibility of further development of the South Park Subdivision in Pontiac's southeast corner.

Officials of the Scholnick Dunitz Co. conferred with the City Commission last night as to how many new homes might be connected to the city's sewer system in the area.

City Engineer Lewis Wrenn said the connection to the system would "simply accentuate a bad situation which is already there."

EXPRESSES DOUBT

Willman expressed doubt that 350 proposed new homes could be attached to the sewers without overloading them. "We might be able to handle 50," he told the developers.

In other business before the City Commission, the commissioners tentatively approved the transfer of a liquor license for Alfred H. Coles, Sr. from 841 Baldwin Ave. to 806 Baldwin.

They also tentatively approved, over the objections of Commissioners Floyd Miles and Gilbert Long, the addition of a beer and wine license for Coles at the new address.

A request from attorney Verne C. Hampton for his client to purchase a lot at the rear of 57 Lull St. for $350 was referred to the city's Property Committee.

ESTIMATES AIRED

Engineer estimates were aired and public hearings set for Sept. 4 for the following proposed public improvement projects:

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work on Gillespie and Diston streets extended, from Bagley to the east line of lot 4 of the Lakeside Homes Subdivision, and on Astor street from Auburn to Pike and from Maines to Michigan.

City Manger Willman was authorized to proceed with the concrete pavement, curb and gutter, and related work on Wessen street relocated from Walnut east approximately 200 feet and on Walnut from Wessen to approximately 130 feet north of Beaudette street.

No assessment for the $27,296 project is necessary as the city owns the majority of the property involved.

Another public hearing will be held next week on a special assessment roll to finance curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Clinton river drive from the Easterly line of Robert Herndon's Pontiac Apartment Subdivision to the westerly line of lot 65 of the subdivision.

No objections were heard at last evening's session when public hearings were held on public improvement work on Herndon and Salmer avenues from Orchard Lake avenue to Clinton River drive.

Press Gold Pot Grows Heavier; Winner Sought

The summer wanes, but not the excitement in the Press word game POT-O-GOLD. The clues are just as demanding and the words as hard to track down—and with fall fast approaching, the dollar bills (at least 100 of them everytime we have a winner) are getting even crisper. Readers can share in them all by reading the rules carefully, analyzing the clues below and sending in their solutions before the Tuesday deadline next week. Good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end, Labor Day. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Colleges to Send Representatives

Athens Convention to Draw Archeologists and World Classicists

ATHENS (INS) — The biggest gathering of American classicists and archeologists ever to be seen in Greece is expected for the 75th anniversary celebrations this week of the American School of Classical Studies.

Thirty-nine colleges and universities, ranging from Yale and Harvard in the East to Stanford in the West, are sending one representative each to Athens.

These are all colleges and universities that have supported the American School with grants and other contributions throughout its existence.

Altogether there will be 200 guests from abroad, mostly people who are personally interested in the school and its work. There will be many classicists and archeologists from Europe on hand for the ceremonies beginning Sept. 1.

APPOINTED BY IKE

President Eisenhower has appointed as his personal representative, Ohio industrialist Ward M. Canaday.

* * *

Canaday is also president of the board of trustees of the ASCS and his genius for fund-raising has made possible the highlight of the anniversary celebrations.

This is the newly-completed Stoa of Attalos—a perfect reconstruction of a magnificent, colonnaded two-story building in the ancient market-place of Athens.

The reconstruction cost over two million dollars. One million was raised by Canaday and that figure was matched by the Rockefeller Foundation.

* * *

Its galleries will house treasures of priceless archeological and artistic value found during the school's 25 years of excavation on the site of the market-place, the center of Athenian life and activity at the peak of Greece's ancient glory.

The dedication of the stoa on Sept. 3 will climax the three-day celebration. The ceremony will be attended by King Paul and Queen Frederica of Greece.

Installment Buying Up

PARIS — Installment buying in France increased by 40 per cent last year, with credit backed by financial institutions rising from 100 billion francs ($286,000,000) in 1954 to 140 billion francs ($400,000,000) in 1955. Even with the increase, total credit extended amounted to well under 2 per cent of French national revenue compared with about 10 per cent in the United States and 4 per cent in the United Kingdom.

Dan Cupid, John Law Win Points in This Case

ATLANTA (AP) — Cupid and the law both won out in the case.

Policeman T. R. Reid wanted John Henry Freeman, 34-year-old Atlanta Negro, for failure to appear in court on traffic charges. Freeman wanted to get married.

They met at the wedding license office.

The officer escorted the couple to a nearby justice of the peace office and when the vows were taken put Freeman in a paddy wagon and sent him off to jail.

Then the bride got busy and Freeman was released in $200 bond pending a hearing.

Wheel Adorns Oak

SOUTH KINGSTON, R.I. (AP) — About 65 years ago a farmer's ox cart broke down on Ministerial road. One of its wheels came off and was left there. An acorn under the wheel grew in the last 65 years to a 50-foot oak. The tree still wears the rim of the ox cart wheel around its trunk.

Auto Rams House, Kills Detroit Woman

HUNTINGTON, Pa. (AP) — A 60-year-old Detroit woman was killed and her husband injured last night as their car went out of control and crashed into a house in Alexandria, 10 miles west of this central Pennsylvania community.

* * *

State Police identified the victim as Annie H. Byerly of Detroit. She suffered a fractured skull. Her husband, Harry L. Byerly, 63, was admitted to a hospital with head injuries and possible rib fractures.

* * *

Police said Byerly apparently blacked out while he was driving along Alexandria's main street. The auto jumped a curb and rammed the house. They said the house was not badly damaged and no one else was injured.

Policeman Held as Hit-Runner

Charge Detroiter Fled After Hitting Teenager Crossing Street

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit policeman was suspended yesterday and accused of hit-run driving. Both he and a friend riding with him were held for investigation of leaving the scene of an accident in which a 5-year-old boy was injured.

* * *

Suspended is Patrolman Joseph W. LaMarre, 36. The other man is Frank Roels. Both live in Detroit.

The victim, John Meranatti, was seriously injured when struck while crossing an intersection Monday.

Motorcycle Patrolman James Townsend, who was writing a ticket nearby, said he overtook the off-duty LaMarre six blocks away. Patrolman George Daschke said he saw the accident from a parked police car.

ADMIT DRINKING

Inspector Thomas Arrington suspended LaMarre when the latter declined to make a statement to the prosecutor's office. Townsend said LaMarre told him he and Roels had been watching the Harmsworth Trophy race on the Detroit River and admitted having two shots of liquor and two beers.

They were towing a boat behind LaMarre's car and said they didn't know there had been an accident because of the noise and jarking of the boat trailer.

Williams Still Seeks Bank Commissioner

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams said yesterday he is having difficulty filling the post of state banking commissioner.

* * *

The position was vacated nine weeks ago by the death of Maurice C. Eveland.

Williams said he has interviewed a number of possibilities for the post and is continuing his search.

He said the position carries "tremendous responsibilities."

WARY OF MONOPOLIES

The governor said he wants to be sure to get a man who will preserve the balance between large and small banks, and prevent establishment of a banking monopoly controlled by a few giants.

Some older man with good qualifications would be willing to fill in on an interim basis, he indicated, but would not accept the responsibilities over a long haul. The position pays $10,500 a year.

The acting commissioner, Deputy Herman G. Taylor, reportedly is not interested on a permanent basis.

You Can't Do That —He Certainly Did

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — City Patrolman Dallas Montgomery tagged the brand new Cadillac for overtime parking and started to walk away when an excited man ran after him.

"Officer, you can't do that," the man complained. "I haven't any money to pay parking tickets."

"Well, if you're that hard up, here's a dollar," said Montgomery. "I'll pay it for you."

The motorist grabbed the dollar bill and walked quickly away while the officer stood speechless.

Rugged Youth Rejected by Marine Recruiters

MEADVILLE, Mo. (AP) — Recruiters for the U.S. Marines know of one willing volunteer — but his age isn't quite up to snuff.

Jack Stratton of Meadville wrote this to the St. Joseph, Mo., recruiting office:

"I sent a letter to you but I never got a letter back. I hear the Marines are pretty rugged. I'm pretty rugged myself. I'm four feet tall, 22 inches around the waist. I'm 8 years old. I'll soon be 9."

Patience, boy, you are eight years under the limit set by regulations.

A Wholesale Solution to Classroom Troubles

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Mass production of classrooms at a low cost and rapid pace is the only way to meet the demand posed by a constantly soaring birth rate, says Charles J. Leonard. He has organized a firm and thinks he can build mass produced classrooms at $11.87 a square foot compared to from $14.95 to $20.90 for conventional building costs.

* * *

His firm builds school rooms from masonry-surfaced panels. Most of the rooms are 30 feet by 32 feet but can be made larger because of standardized components. Almost any number can be hooked together in a variety of plans.

BURIED NEAR SON

Kinsey, who died Saturday of a heart ailment, pneumonia and a kidney complication, was buried Monday in Rosehill Cemetery at Bloomington, Ind., in a plot with a son who died at the age of four.

In a letter written four weeks before he became ill, Kinsey said it was "part of our established policy" to shift responsibilities among all six associates in the sex institute.

There are five Kinsey associates, four men and a woman, to carry on his work. All are trustees in the institute. They are Clyde E. Martin, economist and statistician; Alice W. Field and J. Douglas Short, comparatively recent additions to the staff, and Pomeroy and Gebhard.

* * *

Pomeroy, a clinical psychologist, and Martin were listed with Kinsey as co-authors of "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male," the book which startled the nation in 1948. These three and Gebhard were co-authors of the second volume, "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female."

Only Pomeroy, Martin and Gebhard know the secret code in which the sex histories of some 19,000 persons have been written and filed in locked, fireproof rooms at Indiana University.

Kinsey said shortly before his death the code never has been broken although some persons tried to make sense out of the "international gibberish" which was produced as a sample history in one of the volumes.

SWORN TO SECRECY

It was largely through the promise of utmost secrecy that Kinsey and his workers were able to get the thousands of men and women from all walks of life to reveal the most intimate experiences of their lives and thoughts.

The financial structure of the institute also seems secure. It was set up with the hope of continuation after its chief architect's death.

Kinsey said a few months ago one-third of the money financing the institute's work comes from the National Research Council, one-third from Indiana University and the other third from book royalties.

Wants Limpy Back — but, Please, Alive

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Mark Smythe placed an ad in the lost and found department of the newspaper asking that his pet be returned to him — but alive.

He had good reason for adding the "alive" stipulation.

The pet is a red fox Smythe has had penned in his home for some time.

He said the animal won't be hard to identify. It has a broken leg which isn't in a cast. As a result, Smythe said the animal is sure to be limping.

"Older persons can't afford to be indifferent to this immunizing vaccine," Chase said.

Tablet Does the Job— but a Little Too Well

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Bob Chang, a special Chinese representative for an airline, ran into a new problem in trying to put Orient-bound passengers at ease.

Chang produced drowsiness-inducing tablets for some of them who were worried about a rough flight. But they were skeptical and wouldn't take them until Chang took one first. He did. They did. The tablet was too effective for Chang. He had a tough time fighting off his drowsiness on his long drive home from the airport.

African Woman Credits MR-A

Says Movement Saved Black, White Bloodshed in Crucial Moment

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — The head of a large African women's group says leaders of the Moral Re-Armament movement brought about "a turning point in South Africa's tense racial situation" four years ago.

Miss Gertrude Mdledle, president of the National Council of African Women, said in a talk yesterday at MR-A's island headquarters that "MR-A came in time to save both black and white from bloodshed at a crucial moment in 1952." Currently, she said, the organization is "thrashing out the bitterness between the five races of South Africa.

Miss Mdledle is one of 25 Africans among the more than 900 delegates to Moral R-Armament's ninth world assembly. Nine African nations are represented at the conference.

* * *

Bradfield Nyanda, former member of the African National Congress in South Africa, said that before the coming of MR-A "we Africans felt we had no future; we felt we had only one thing to do—fight against white domination."

"We who have wanted to change our nation by bloody revolution have learned from MR-A that we must be willing to start with ourselves," he continued. "I send my apologies to Europeans, not for my convictions, but for my hatred."

MR-A teaches that world problems can best be solved through applicafion of the absolute moral standards of honesty, purity, unselfishness and love.

UP IN ARMS—Looking as if she's lifting the Luxor Obelisk right out of the fountain at Paris' Place de la Concorde, the statuesque lady is actually empty-handed. The optical illusion was snapped by United Press photographer Robert Delvac who angled his camera at just the right point to misrepresent the granite mermaid in the fountain with the towering landmark in the background.

Tackled Into Prison

DETROIT (AP) — Jertha Love, 33, who police said was tackled by a 16-year-old boy as he left the scene of a holdup July 13, was sentenced to 10 to 20 years in prison Tuesday by Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca.

Jury Probes Bad Checks in Fast-Profit Cattle Deals

JACKSON (AP)—At least two dozen witnesses are expected to appear before a one-man grand jury investigating an alleged check-kiting scheme in which banks and farmers in central Michigan may have lost well over half a million dollars.

* * *

State Police reportedly have subpoenaed 22 persons to testify before Circuit Judge Harry Boardman, the grand juror. Boardman is said to have issued two more summons yesterday.

The scheme allegedly involves cattle buyers who paid with rubber checks.

Kenneth B. Johnson, Jackson County prosecutor, who petitioned for the grand jury, said the buyers operated in hopes the cattle could be sold quickly for a profit and the money banked before farmers cashed their checks.

PRICES DROP

Observors said the plan might have worked if a sagging market had not sent the cattle prices down. Buyers reportedly were unable to produce the necessary money and the farmers and banks were left with worthless checks.

Four witnesses, all cattle buyers appeared before Boardman at the opening session yesterday. They were Mrs. Evelyn Clement, an Ann Arbor stock dealer; Roy Donald of Mason, Roscoe Rodgers of Columbia, Tenn., and Hugh Keegan of Sherwood, Ohio.

Johnson, who with State Police has been investigating charges brought by the farmers for the past three months, estimated 150 farmers lost money in the deals. He said a number of worthless checks given to them in payment for cattle still are circulating.

* * *

Six banks in Jackson, Addison, East Lansing and Leslie are said to have lost money in the deals.

A federal grand jury in Detroit also has been investigating the case because government insurance covers bank funds. For the same reason the FBI was called into the case.

Subpoenas showed the grand jury will investigate charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, obtaining loans from banks by showing false financial statements and of issuing checks without sufficient funds or credit with a bank to guarante payment. The probe also will include charges involving conspiracy to commit these acts.

Labor Day SOS: Need First Aid, Radio Volunteers

The American Red Cross Holiday Highway Patrol of Oakland County is seeking amateur radio operators and persons trained in first aid to work as members of the patrol over the Labor Day danger period.

The patrol is active each holiday in aiding the Sheriff's Department and local police forces in their fight to keep the accident toll as low as possible.

Red Cross participants in the program operate in marked, radio-equipped cars manned by trained personnel. They aid in clearing traffic congestions, administering first aid when needed, and in reminding motorists to be careful.

Present plans call for the patrol to operate Friday and Monday 4 to 10 p.m., according to Labor Day chairman Mrs. Orin Brown. She said the heaviest traffic is expected on those days.

The appeal for additional help this holiday is made by the Red Cross because of the extra work taken on by the First Aid Instructor's Club at Pontiac General Hospital this summer.

G. H. Tinkham Is Dead at 86

Genial Bostonian Noted for Chest-Length Beard Served House 28 Years

CRAMERTON, N.C. (AP)—George Holden Tinkham, a colorful Boston blueblood who mixed travels to faraway places with 28 years in the U.S. House of Representatives, is dead at 86.

* * *

Tinkham, whose chest-length beard, his jaunts to places not listed in the tourist guides and his violent opposition to prohibition made him a figure in Congress, died yesterday in his sleep at the home of a sister here. He had not been ill.

A Mayflower descendant, Tinkham, a Republican, served the 10th Massachusetts Congressional District from 1915 to 1943 when he retired at 72.

* * *

He started his political career in 1897, three years after his graduation from Harvard, when he was elected to the old Boston Common Council. A term on the board of aldermen, successor to the council, was followed in 1910 by his election to a two-year term in the Massachusetts Senate. In 1915 he began the first of 14 consecutive terms in the U.S. House.

One of his trips abroad found him in Europe in 1917 when the United States declared war on Germany and Austria. He fired the first American salvo at the Austrians in northern Italy.

Many of Tinkham's 30 trips to all parts of the world took him to Africa where he went off the beaten paths to study tribal life, one of his many hobbies.

* * *

Tinkham fought as hard for strict enforcement of the constitutional amendment granting Negro suffrage and rights as he did against prohibition, which he considered a restriction on personal liberty.

In 1929 the House adopted, then defeated, his amendment to a reapportionment census bill which would have denied congressional representation to southern states to the extent the state denied Negro voting.

* * *

Tinkham's body was to be shipped to Boston for funeral service Friday at Emmanuel Episcopal Church there. Burial will be at Forest Hills Cemetery in Boston.

Illinois Democrats May Oust Candidate

CHICAGO (AP) — There were increasing signs today that some Democratic party chieftains have concluded they must force Herbert C. Paschen off the state ticket or possibly endanger Adlai E. Stevenson's chances in the Illinois presidential election. Paschen is Democratic nominee for governor.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, nominal head of the powerful Cook County Democratic organization, conceded that Paschen's name on the ballot could hurt "the entire ticket."

Paschen, the Cook County treasurer, has been under varying degrees of pressure to get off the party ticket since publication of stories dealing with a controversial fund in his office to which bankers contributed. He has defended the fund as proper, and said it was designed to help office employes.

Chou to Visit Burma

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — Burmese officials say Chou En-Lai Communist Chinese premier-foreign minister, is coming to Rangoon in December to discuss the dispute over the poorly defined Burma-China border. The officials said Chou's acceptance of the Burmese government's invitation for negotiations had increased prospects of a peaceful settlement.

Fragrant Advertising

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — A helicopter pilot gave a local barbecue stand some good advertising. On a flight over the city, the 'copter suddenly faltered, then sat down on a vacant lot near the cafe. "I smelled that hickory smoke up there and just couldn't resist it," the pilot said as he climbed up on a stool.

More Stainless Steel

GARY, Ind. —The nation's automotive industry used more stainless steel than ever before in 1955, some 140,000 tons, accounting for more than 20 per cent of the nation's total stainless - steel shipments. About 98 per cent of the total automotive consumption was in sheet and strip, used extensively for sheet and trim on passenger automobiles.

Keep 'Em in Bowl

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—In Connecticut you can be fined up to $100 and jailed for as much as 30 days for liberating goldfish in inland waters without written permission from the state board of fisheries and game. The highly reproductive goldfish has a habit of stirring up the bottoms of ponds and creating conditions under which more desirable fish species cannot survive, the board says.

Really Souped Up Rod

PURCELL, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma state police captured a 17-year-old runaway Kansas youth, but they had to admit he drove a fast auto. State agent Golden Kennedy said he chased the boy's car at 110 miles an hour and it "continued to pull away."

Awake Switchboard —Company Gets Paid

ROSEVILLE, Calif. (AP)—The man deposited $1.10 for a call to Oakland, Calif., but talked on and on. The telephone operator worried about a fast get-a-way, asked a policeman to keep an eye on the phone booth.

"Say buddy, you've been gabbing over an hour," the bored cop finally said.

"I only talked three minutes," the man replied. "My girl talked the rest of the time."

The cop had the last word. The toll, all $14.20, was rung up on the spot.

Cuba's sugar exports are running 20 per cent ahead of a year ago, Havana reports.

U.S. Pays One-Third Cost of Running United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS)—The cost of running the U. N. for the fiscal year of 1957 is estimated by Dag Hammarskjold at $48,250,700.

The secretary general points out that this figure is $315,650 below the budget for the fiscal year of 1956 despite the fact that 16 new members have been admitted.

The requested operational fund must be approved by the 76-nation General Assembly, which meets at U. N. headquarters in New York starting Nov. 12.

It usually pares down the secretary general's request by cuts in appropriations to the various departments.

The U. S. paid approximately $13,500,000 as its 33 1-3 per cent share of the budget last year, with Russia paying 14.15 per cent, or approximately $5,900,000.

It is pointed out also that the Soviet Union's payments do not include assessments against the Ukraine and Bello-Russia. These two Soviet satellites must pay about $776,000 and $206,500, respectively, each year.

EARNS SOME MONEY

Hammarskjold pointed out in his budget report that U. N. operations such as the tourist guide department, postage stamp sales and the like earned an income this fiscal year of $2,146,060.

This sum, when applied to the budget, will reduce the 1957 net requirement for payment by the member governments to $46,104,640. Last year the U. N. earned for application to the 1956 budget $3,050,000.

Hammarskjold served notice that the international situation in months ahead "with certainty" will call for additional outlays by the U. N.

Looking ahead to coming events, Hammarskjold anticipated extensive activity by the U. N. in keeping the peace. Without specifically mentioning the recurrent Palestine crisis and that of the Suez Canal, he stated:

* * *

"There would be something amiss if new demands did not develop, leading to wider tasks or to new tasks—demands which cannot be fully met without the contribution of the U. N."

Retrieve Garbage Can Tops, More Still Missing

WAYNESBORO, Va. (AP) — Mystified Waynesboro city workers retrieved 16 garbage can lids from the bottom of South river. More were at the bottom, too deep to be reached.

How'd they know about it? The cans themselves were still in the backyards of irate householders who flooded city hall with complaints.

Honeysuckle Saves Man Thrown From Train

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Thomas Elswick will always love the smell of honeysuckle.

Elswick, a railway engineer was was bringing a freight to Roanoke. About 10 miles out he made some adjustments to braking equipment, then leaned out the door. Wind took his cap off. He grabbed for it. Just then the locomotive started around a curve and tossed him into a big clump of honeysuckle which broke his fall.

His assistant and the fireman didn't notice he was missing until the train started into the Roanoke freight yards. Just as they slowed it down Elswick arrived hitchhiking in an automobile, suffering only from a few scratches.

And It's All Pretty Confusing

Writer and Namesake Come Face to Face

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — When you've got a name like "Mary Smith" or "Joseph Brown," you run into yourself—rather, a namesake mirror of yourself—in almost every sizeable city.

* * *

When you've got a name like "Phyllis Battelle," however, you figure you're sort of off-beat.

"Phyllis" hasn't been a popular name since the days of shepherdesses in Greek mythology, and "Battelle" is practically unheard of. It's sort of a French extension of an English noun. Or a contraction of the old expression "bat out of Hell."

People misprounce you, misspell you, forget what to call you, and almost inevitably address you as "Miss Battle." But you like it because you're unusual, distinctive, improbable.

And you never get other people's bills from Bergdorf's.

So the phone rang in San Francisco and the lady's voice said:

"Is this Phyllis Battelle? Well, Phyllis, this is Phyllis Battelle."

BECOMES WARY

Suddenly you are wary. Either you are being kidded, or this is a remote relative seeking funds.

"I thought maybe, since we have the same name, it would be fun to meet," she says. Now you are pretty sure there is money and kidding involved; but civility and curiosity are a powerful team, and a meeting is arranged.

* * *

She turns out is a blue woolen suit, swathed in marten furs, looking slick like a San Franciscan, prettier than most "Battelles," and infinitely smoother and more chic than the "Phyllis" of the species. She does not appear to need a loan in the slightest.

It turns out that the suspicion you at first sensed turns to mixed emotions of envy, humility and sorrow. Face to face with such a cool, fragrant counterpart, one tends to feel somewhat like a bum.

* * *

"You know, I was always happy that my name was different," she remarks, "I never had any troubles with people getting me mixed up.

"I led a quiet life—I'm a secretary for the San Francisco Grain Exchange—and nobody ever kidded me too much about anything. Now, my goodness—"

She said that since her name (rather mine) began to appear on newspaper stories, Phyllis Battelle (meaning she) has borne the brunt of some quite severe attacks of reproof and ribbing.

Seems her relatives, good Baptists all, do not approve of this cafe society about which this other Battelle writes, and she hears about it.

Also, there's a misconception among some of the fellows at the Grain Exchange who think she is making money on the side for writing, and hint that she might go places Dutch treat. Then there's the mail that occasionally winds up at her apartment, commenting on a column.

It is not always complimentary, and the San Francisco Battelle is easily shocked.

"I want to say that it's been a real pleasure meeting you," she says, "but I do believe it's fortunate that we live on opposite coasts. You know—any more would be too much."

* * *

We agree, poignantly, never to see one another again, and to try to forget there are two of us.

To her, I represent trouble. To me, she represents an inferiority complex and the alarming possibility that there may one day be a listing of grain futures in my mailbox.

Predates 1st Maryland Settlers

Famed 'Wye Oak' Must Go

WYE MILLS, Md. (INS) — Death, as it must to all trees, has come to America's oldest and most famous oak.

The end for the 450-year-old "Wye Oak" was signaled just before dawn yesterday when residents of Wye Mills, a Maryland Eastern Shore village, were awakened by what they described as "a terrible, crackling sound."

• • •

The sound was made as a limb, three feet in diameter, ripped away from the mighty oak and crashed upon picnic tables in the grove which surrounds the towering tree.

Tree surgeons, summoned by state officials, said nothing could be done to save the landmark which already was an object of admiration among the Indians when Lord Baltimore's brother, Cecilius Calvert, led the first white settlers to Maryland in 1634.

The experts said death was caused by old age and that the end probably was hastened by last year's hurricanes and this year's summer storms.

• • •

The Wye Oak furnished inspiration to poets like Maryland's Edgar Allan Poe and has been described in travel literature in many languages.

10 Cub Scouts Receive Awards at Field Day

Crofoot School Cub Pack No. 8 held a field day Monday at Dodge State Park on Cass Lake and awards for the summer months were presented to 10 boys.

Kenneth Goff Jr., and Douglas Sheffield won Webelos badges. Cubmaster Kenneth H. Goff also presented awards to John Gary, John Stepelton, Gilbert Stephison, Frank Van Husen, Jack Bennett Jr., Michael Measel, Philip Shapiro and Robert Dawson.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Deadline Approaches for Korean Bonuses

About 35,000 veterans in Michigan have failed to apply for the state Korean bonus, according to Floyd E. Cremer, deputy director of veterans affairs in Oakland County.

Many are from Oakland County, Cremer says, and he stressed only five months are left to apply.

The deadline is March 7, 1957, Cremer said. This applies to all Korean veterans even those still on active duty.

Veterans from Delaware, he added, who are eligible for a bonus from that state have until Jan. 1 to apply at the Veterans Military Pay Commission in Wilmington. The Delaware deadline for a World War II bonus is Dec. 30, Cremer said.

German Thanks State With Gift of Oil Painting

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has accepted for the state an oil painting of the four chaplains who lost their lives during a troopship sinking in World War II.

The painting was the gift of Heinrich Funke of Detroit, who came to this country from Germany about four years ago.

Funke, who said he has prospered here as a tool and die maker, said he presented the painting to the State of Michigan "in gratitude for the kindness shown to us in this country."

Williams said the painting will hang in the office of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund.

MODEL MISSILE—Inter Continental Ballistic Missiles (ICBM) are still in the future, but a toy version is a thing of the present. C. Calan Hoover, 9, of Albuquerque, is fascinated by a model of the Atlas ICBM on display at the hobby trade show and convention in New York. Eighteen and a half inches high, the model is made from a kit containing 50 parts. Each section separates and is complete even to the exhaust vents. The top tier on an actual ICBM will carry a warhead or artificial satellite for launching in space.

Virginia Rests Integration Fight

Recess Maneuver Seen as Move to Up Support for Governor's Plan

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Both houses of the Virginia General Assembly met briefly today and recessed until Tuesday—apparently in line with the administration's timing to garner support for the governor's school program.

• • •

Many of the lawmakers opposed to Gov. Thomas B. Stanley's proposal to withhold state funds from integrated schools saw the long recess as a move "to gain more time."

Generally, they admit the governor's program seems headed for passage in the House of Delegates but see its chances as "about an even run in the Senate."

• • •

Administration leaders in the upper house say they "are encouraged" over the outlook, though, and add the recess extending over the Labor Day weekend simply is to allow for the printing of the various school bills.

This, they contend, will give the people opportunity to digest all the proposals in time to give their views at public hearings set for Tuesday.

Delegate Fred G. Pollard of Richmond introduced a bill to allow parents or guardians to indicate whether they wished their children to attend segregated schools or schools designed as integrated schools.

• • •

"Presumably all the white children would choose the segregated schools, but no one choosing the integrated school could complain because it would be open to both races," Pollard said of his proposal.

His bill brought to 34 the number of school measures offered since the Assembly convened at noon Monday. Thirteen bills to carry out the governor's program were introduced in each house yesterday.

Almost Fatal Rope Trick

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A game with a rope ended in near-tragedy for one of two six-year-old boys. They tied the ends of a rope around their waists and stood on opposite sides of a road. When a bus came along, they pulled the rope taut. They were snapped to the ground, both suffering injury.

Alloy Cuts Ship Weight

NEW YORK — The largest marine aluminum structure is in the upper decks of the liner United States. The weight of the aluminum alloys involved is 2,000 tons; this produces a direct weight saving of 2,500 tons and a fuel saving estimated at 8 or 9 per cent.

Alabama OKs Anti-Negro Bill

Votes to Change Public School System to Keep Segregation

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)— Alabama voters have approved a constitutional amendment to keep Negroes and whites in separate schools even at the cost of abolishing the public educational system.

The measure allows the State Legislature to end public educational facilities and give public funds to private schools.

• • •

It, and a similar amendment covering public park facilities which also apparently passed, are designed to provide a bypass of the Supreme Court's decisions outlawing segregation in schools and recreational facilities.

Counties with heavy Negro populations went overwhelmingly for the two racial measures. Those with few Negroes generally opposed them.

Returns from 1,875 of the state's 2,700 boxes gave the school amendment a margin of 97,720 to 63,302.

The same returns, on the parks proposal, gave 86,629 for and 63,439 against.

• • •

Another amendment of statewide application, proposing to increase the income tax ceiling on corporations from 3 to 5 per cent was defeated. The count of 1,960 boxes showed 101,999 for and 50,414 against.

4 Murder Cases Top List of Fall Term Court Trials

Four murder cases top the list of 155 felony cases on the Oakland County Circuit Court calendar for the September term, it was announced today by prosecutor Fred C. Ziem.

The first degree murder charge against Howard W. Moore, 26, accused in the slaying of his three-year-old Lake Orion neighbor, Martha Little, July 28, is expected to be among the more important cases if he is found sane in a sanity test scheduled for Sept. 11 in Circuit Court.

Also facing charges of first degree murder are Cecil Edgil, accused of bludgeoning another man to death with a baseball bat in Royal Oak Township, and R. D. Davis. The latter is charged with a Pontiac murder of two months ago.

Milton P. Evans, 38, of 8620 W. Eight Mile Rd., Ferndale, will appear on a second degree murder charge. He was arrested June 14 by Royal Oak Township Police after the shooting of another man there allegedly following an argument over a woman.

A pre-trial conference on all the cases is scheduled for Sept. 12 before Judge H. Russel Holland. The conference is held to schedule the case for trial.

Boy Splashed by Acid in Critical Condition

ST. LOUIS (AP) — James Badger, 13, sprayed by sulphuric acid which had leaked from a truck, was burned critically as he rode a bicycle in suburban Lemay. A passing car splashed the acid on him. He lost control of the bicycle and fell to the street. His shirt and trousers fell away. A quick thinking witness sprayed him with a hose he was using to water his lawn. Badger was burned on his chest, arms, face and legs.

The truck driver said a valve apparently jarred open as he crossed some railroad tracks. About 4,000 gallons of acid escaped.

IF YOU SUFFER FROM ARTHRITIS I KNOW WHAT'S BEST FOR IT!

"I believe that people are put on earth to help others, and that is the reason I offer this true testimonial" says Mrs. Anna Knack, 1518 Avenue B, Flint, Michigan.

"I am glad to tell others of my experience with O-JIB-WA BITTERS, as I have suffered so much for over 30 years, and have found the medicine that brings the relief that you want. I had rheumatism and arthritis in both knees, but especially the right one, and was often forced to sit down because of the severe pain; but I just wouldn't stay in bed. I also had it in the back of my neck, and the pain was so fierce that I couldn't sleep nights. I discovered years ago that O-JIB-WA BITTERS brought results where other medicines failed, and besides, it seems to build me up and gives me lots of pep too. I sew for others, baby sit and keep up my house, and I am strong and healthy for a lady of 76. I also find that by using your tea with the medicine, that its good for indigestion, as before, I couldn't eat cabbage, beans, onions, etc., as these foods would upset me, but now I can eat anything and enjoy it. I have read in the Bible how God created herbs for the service of man, and after trying other medicines, know that nothing compares with O-JIB-WA BITTERS. That is why I offer this true testimonial, so that others who have rheumatism or arthritis may know of the wonderful results obtainable from this herb medicine."

Mrs. Anna Knack

Parachuted Supplies Padded With Paper

WASHINGTON — Twelve-inch-thick paper "honeycomb" shock absorbers are being used by the Army in the aerial delivery of supplies by parachute. The honeycomb's crushing action absorbs the shock of the falling load in an air drop.

The Army says its use not only conserves valued aircraft weight and space and affords greater accuracy in dropping supplies, but saves money, too.

To drop, by conventional means, a cargo of 48 cases of C rations weighing 2,200 pounds requires a 64-foot parachute and 345 pounds of drop equipment, all costing $726. Using a 24-foot ribbon parachute and the paper honeycomb, drop-equipment weight is cut to 143 pounds and the cost to $164.

Leave It to the Kids

CHULA VISTA, Calif. (AP)—Of all 90 get-well greetings Police Sgt. Leo J. Kelly has receved since he went off duty because of illness, he likes the biggest one best. Thirty second grade students remembered Kelly had taken them on a tour of the police station and decided they wanted to send a greeting. The students put together their 30 separate greetings into one card. It measures 36 by 96 inches.

Bob Considine Says:

1956 Brings Vast Changes in Both Parties

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Just think of the changes the two great U.S. political parties have undergone in four short years!

* * *

Four years ago on the day before the opening of the Republican convention in Chicago, Sen. Robert A. Taft called a press conference in the exhibition hall of the Conrad Hilton Hotel and with a fierce pride unusual in that quiet man brandished two fists stuffed with telegrams.

He had in his possession, he said, 600 pledges of delegate support. "And more are on the way," he said. He believed he was in, though opposed by one of the most popular Americans of all time, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Taft's name was barely heard at San Francisco last week. There was nobody to speak for the "Taft Wing" of the party. Sen. Everett Dirksen was here, but had little to do but polish up the doubletalk of the civil rights plank.

* * *

It hardly seemed possible that four years ago Dirksen was enough of a force in the party to make a mane - shaking vein - protruding Eisenhower Tom Dewey in the speech in which he singled out pro-New York delegation and cried: "Twice you led us down the road to defeat; you shall not do it again." Delegates shook their fists at Dewey and booed him.

UNTHINKABLE IN 1956

Nobody would have thought of doing a thing like that at the 1956 rally. It was as unthinkable as, let us say, a denunciation of Eisenhower. Or motherhood.

Sen. Bill Knowland, many thought, would be the new Taft of the Congress. But he was in quiet accord with everything the party hierarchy wanted here last week.

* * *

As for Joe McCarthy, the only Joe McCarthy invited to the convention was a steelworker of that name who rose—in the course of some testimony-giving by working stiffs—to say that he had it better under the elephant than under the donkey.

This was not a convention, Dorothy Thompson said. It was a coronation. Whatever it was, it had no relationship to 1952. The "old guard" has faded out of sight.

* * *

Four years ago the obvious choice for keynoter was Gen. Douglas MacArthur. One wonders if he was even invited to attend the '56 convention as a spectator.

DEMS CHANGE TOO

An equally enormous change has taken place in the Democratic Party. In effect, Truman is the final heir of a system of control operated for a generation and more by a group of men who died within hours of one another—as time in politics is measured.

Hague, Kelly, Flynn, Pendergast, Hannegan and the others passed on to their reward like 10 pins being bowled over.

Truman, last of his era, felt he had in Adlai Stevenson a man who could preserve the moods and manners near and dear to him. Stevenson wanted none of it, once he gained control of the party machinery.

Truman actually had trouble getting the handful of convention hall tickets he needed at Chicago. "They treated me like a pariah," he told a friend.

* * *

It is now reported that he will make a tour of New Zealand and Australia during the weeks leading up to the election, to avoid campaigning for Stevenson and Sen. Estes Kefauver, whom he privately calls Cow Fever.

* * *

Stevenson and Kefauver could not be more pleased. They are afraid that if he stays in the U.S. and loyally espouses them, because they are Democrats, he will cost them votes by inadvertantly reminding independents and "discerning Democrats" that he fought against and berated both of them.

POWER VANISHES

Four years ago, Harry S. Truman was powerful enough to name the nominee and he did. This time he tried to and got nowhere.

* * *

Four years ago, Gen. Eisenhower's masterminds felt it necessary to grub for the seating of a pro-Eisenhower Louisiana delegation, so close was it going to be. Last week he went "over the top" by the time the roll call got to Nevada.

The more the parties change the more they grow alike. The great burden the Democrats have is to explain what it is they would do differently if put in power.

But a burden of the Republicans is to prove they did not plagiarize the precepts of Presidents Truman and Roosevelt.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

Vast Siberian Grain Crop May Go to Waste

NEW YORK (AP) — Prospects of harvesting a vast grain crop in Soviet Siberia are threatened by rains and inability of Soviet farm officials to speed operations, the New York Times said in a dispatch from Novosibirsk.

* * *

Welles Hangen, the Times correspondent, said the situation threatens to turn into a nightmare the dream of Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party boss, to make Siberia into a vast granary.

(Three Western reporters, including Stanley Johnson of the Associated Press, have been touring Siberia but have encountered various troubles, including censorship.)

Hangen said that what appears to be a record grain crop of more than 124 million tons is standing or lying on the ground. Hangen added that unless grain can be put under cover quickly it may rot or freeze in the fields.

* * *

The correspondent pictured harvesting and grain threshing machinery standing idle at machine tractor stations because of sodden grain in the fields.

Pressure is on the peasants to speed up their harvesting operations before freezing weather which normally comes early next month.

* * *

Ivan V. Khromov, local state farm official in the key Novosibirsk agricultural area, was quoted as saying only 18 per cent of the crop had been harvested. He said there was a severe labor shortage despite heavy drafts of manpower from the cities.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, declared that rains were not solely responsible for the delay in the harvest.

The newspaper has charged local officials and collective and state farm leaders with mismanaging harvest labor, using machinery at one-third or one-half of its efficiency and delaying construction of storage facilities.

A Real Mean Trick

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An Oklahoma City bootlegger blames his hard times on the work of a sneaky competitor. Letters advertising the bootlegger's business were sent to the police chief and other officials and to newspapers. Police Chief Roy Bergman promptly raided the bootlegger, confiscated his merchandise and hailed him into court.

Recorded Lincoln Talk Delivered in Michigan

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A man named Ben Pittman came to Kalamazoo one day in 1856 to hear a speech delivered by a lanky politician from Illinois, one Abraham Lincoln.

* * *

Pittman took down the speech word by word, partly to practice a system of shorthand he had devised and partly to aid his brother Isaac, a reporter who was covering the story for the old Detroit Advertiser.

So it was that the speech, published in its entirety in the Advertiser was the only one of the 30-odd that Lincoln made in the 1856 political campaign that was preserved for future reading.

Lincoln later became famous as the United States' Civil War President. Pittman's shorthand system was widely adopted in this country and abroad.

The story of the speech and its "rediscovery" was told by Rep. George Dondero (R-Mich) yesterday to a crowd gathered in Kalamazoo's Bronson Park to celebrate the 100th anniversary of Lincoln's address. Delivered in behalf of John C. Fremont, it was the only one Lincoln ever made in Michigan.

The speech was "lost" for 80 years, but came to light 20 years ago when a copy of the Detroit Advertiser in which it ran was found in the files of the Burton Memorial Library in Detroit.

Emerson V. Smith, a tall and lanky Kalamazoo man who bears a resemblance to the great emancipator, delivered the speech at the celebration.

* * *

He was garbed in attire similar to that favored by Lincoln.

Thieves Cut Away Boat From Loon Lake Dock

Donald A. Fellows' 12-foot boat has been missing from a Loon Lake dock since Aug. 12, he told Oakland County deputies yesterday.

Fellow said the boat was cut away from the dock.

He said it was not the first time the boat was taken but he always found it in the past.

Doolittle Sees Transcontinental 3-Hour Flights

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—In the not too distant future, you can take off in New York and land in San Francisco before you took off.

This is the opinion of the man who won the first Bendix Trophy Race in 1931 and went on to set a transcontinental record of 12 hours.

* * *

"We now have fighter planes in the 1,000 mile-per-hour class," Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle said in an interivew. "It is only a matter of time until commercial aircraft will be flying across the continent in less than three hours."

With the aid of the three-hour time differential from coast-to-coast, this would mean arriving before you left, by the clock.

This week marks the 25th anniversary of the Bendix Trophy Race — aviation's equivalent of the Kentucky Derby or the Indianapolis Speedway Classic.

* * *

Doolittle won that first race in 1931 from Los Angeles to Cleveland, refueled, took off for New York and became the first man to cross the continent in 12 hours.

The present record for the Bendix Race was set in 1954 by Edward Kenny in an F86 Thunderstreak which averaged over 616 m.p.h.

The station is at Haggerty Rd. and Pontiac Trail. Two desk drawers were ransacked but nothing else was known to be missing.

In U. S. Government Budget:

$707 Million Surplus Seen for Current Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Eisenhower administration reports that it anticipates a 707 million dollar surplus for the current fiscal year, but indicated it has no present intention of asking Congress to cut taxes when it convenes in January.

On the contrary, a midyear review of the federal budget issued bu the administration revealed that current plans are to apply the surplus to reducing the 272 billion dollar public debt.

However, at the recent conventions, both the Republicans and Democrats promised a tax cut to help people in the lower income brackets. It was therefore expected that efforts would be made in Congress to carry out the pledges made by the two parties.

Tax experts on Capitol Hill were quick to point to the possibility, some said probability, that the surplus for the fiscal year which ends June 30, 1957, will greatly exceed the administration's estimate.

They noted that the new estimate of tax receipts for the current fiscal year is now four billion, 300 million dollars more than it was last January, when President Eisenhower submitted his budget to Congress.

NO TAX CUT POSSIBLE

However, Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, which handles tax legislation, flatly stated: "This is not a situation which would safely warrant a tax reduction."

Byrd noted in an interview that there have been demands in Congress for a $100 increase in individual exemptions or an equal, flat $20 individual tax cut. He said either one would cost about two and a half billion dollars.

He declared: "Obviously, a 707 million dollar surplus would not be sufficient to defray the cost of such a tax cut unless the administration wants to go to deficit financing again."

But treasury secretary George Humphrey and budget director Percival Brundage, speaking for the administration, made it clear that was not their intention.

They hailed the new estimates as indicating that under Eisenhower, the government will have a balanced budget for the second successive year. They added, in a joint statement, that "we believe our government is firmly on a pay-as-you-go basis, provided our policies receive real congressional and public support."

If the new estimate is borne out, this would be the fifth surplus in 25 years, the previous three coming during President Truman's administration.

The bureau showed the same large discrepancy in its expenditure figures. It estimated that the government would spend 69 billion, 93 million dollars during the current fiscal year, or four billion, 28 million dollars more than it forecast last January.

Byrd accused the administration last week of having embarked on a "spending spree" that made a sound tax cut impossible. The influential senator asserted that Eisenhower proposed the spending spree in his budget last January and the Democratic-controlled 84th Congress accelerated it at the last session.

The United States exported a record 71,316 short tons of fish oil in 1955, an increase of about one per cent from the previous high, reached in 1954.

Taboos 'Deadly' Serious

HONOLULU — Hawaii in its early days had many taboos that were punishable with death. Women caught eating a banana or a certain kind of fish were killed at once. The same fate awaited commoners who let their shadow fall on a chief or who failed to prostrate themselves when the king's bath water was carried by. Persons of opposite sexes, even husband and wife, could not eat together.

Hollywood Headlines

Audrey Hepburn Prefers Straight, Unfitted Styles

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—My home, my garden, my family, my friends and my little dog all looked mighty good to me after my six weeks' absence in Europe, but I came home feeling so well and so rested.

In Paris I spent a memorable afternoon with Audrey Hepburn, who had just had her hair cut and was worrying whether Mel Ferrer would like it. She was getting ready for her picture, "Love in the Afternoon," with Gary Cooper.

She had bought a whole wardrobe of Givenchy clothes and she put on a one-woman fashion show for me. The clothes have no waistlines, no belts, and hang straight from the shoulder—some of them empire style. That's all right for a girl as slim as Audrey.

She brought her hairdresser and her makeup man from "War and Peace," and I must say they did well by her in this fine picture, which is a Russian "Gone With the Wind."

I saw a great deal of Kitty and Mervyn Le Roy in Paris. They were staying at the George V and we attended several parties together. One of them was given by George Littman, Parisian industrialist, at Maxim's and the over, sa we went on to dinner June Allyson and Dick Powell.

DINNER WITH ANN

Ann Sheridan, really thin after her trip to Africa, dropped in at the cocktail party John Haskell gave at the Waldorf Astoria. She worked so late that by the time she arrived the party was almost over, so we went on to dinner together at Danny's Hideway.

The previous day, Ann had spent four hours with Sherman Billingsley at the Stork Club. It was at the Stork that Ann and the late Steve Hannagan had many a romantic rendezvous.

Since Steve and Sherman were close friends I thought, of course, that Ann and Billingsley would discuss Steve, but strangely enough neither of them mentioned him.

I am grateful to Dorothy Manners for doing such a good job on the column while I was away and for lending me her husband, John Haskell, who is a delightful traveling companion.

Both going and coming from Europe our plane crossings could not have been better.

NO COSMETICS

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Silvana Mangano wore no makeup at the Barney Balaban party following the premiere of "War and Peace," but she is startlingly beautiful. Her husband, Dino de Laurentiis, was being congratulated on all sides for "War and Peace."

I'm not surprised that Natalie Wood is being considered for the lead in "Marjorie Morningstar." She made a great hit in New York and is becoming increasingly popular.

Dined at Sir Charles Mendl's apartment in Paris, and at the age of 85 he is very sexy. His wife, who is in very bad health, was unable to join us.

Eddie Robinson came to the cocktail party John Haskell gave at the Waldorf Towers. I was sorry I couldn't stay over for his play, "The Middle of the Night," which reopened Monday.

Patti Page, who was there, told me that she won't be coming to the coast for a few weeks.

Arlene Dahl, on her way to London to make a film, and Fernando Lamas, who remains in New York to start rehearsals for Ethel Merman's musical "Happy Hunting," were followed by photographers.

Vivian Blaine's estranged mate, Manny Franks, is auditioning a new canary nightly. Her name is Bernice Parks, and her family owns the Ruby Foo Restaurant.

County Area Residents Announce August Nuptial Events

Kidnaper Faces Murder Count

Police Press Search for Teenage Girl Sitter Who Kept Baby

MINEOLA, N. Y. (INS)—A first-degree murder indictment in the kidnap-death of baby Peter Weinberger will be brought against Angelo LaMarca today before a Nassau County grand jury.

* * *

Meanwhile, it was learned the mysterious "friend in Brooklyn" who kept the baby the night of the kidnaping may be a teenage Brooklyn girl who occasionally worked as a baby sitter.

The girl reportedly has been the object of a widespread search for questioning as a possible accomplice.

Having established an acquaintanceship between LaMarca and the girl, police say she may have been directly involved.

SAW THEM TOGETHER

Their suspicion stems from the report of a neighbor who said he saw a man and woman seated in a car parked next to the Weinberger house in Westbury, at about the time of the kidnaping.

LaMarca has refused to name her, but admits she sheltered him and the baby the night of the kidnaping.

Today's indictment may bring another ordeal for the distraught, tragedy-stricken mother of the dead child, Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger. District Attorney Frank Gulotta said she "will probably" be one of eight witnesses called.

* * *

Yesterday she suffered the harrowing experience of identifying a baby's blanket, yellow flannel cap and yellow and white kimono as the clothing little Peter wore when he was stolen from his carriage.

LaMarca's defense will be based upon temporary insanity "caused by his desperation over debts."

Labor Weekend Events Slated

State Tourists Choices: Fair, Festivals, Races, Tournament or Rodeo

LANSING (AP) — The State Tourist Council today issued a schedule of top Labor Day weekend events from Detroit to the Upper Peninsula.

It gave top billing to the Michigan State Fair, opening Friday at Detroit and continuing through Sept. 9.

On Saturday, boating fans can see the annual Gold Cup Race on the Detroit River.

Romeo will stage its annual Peach Festival Saturday through Monday. It will include a "queen's ball," parades, displays and concerts.

The 10th annual Michigan Canoe Marathon will be held Saturday and Sunday on the Au Sable River. The race begins at Grayling and ends at Oscoda.

Menominee will hold its annual Zinnia Festival Monday.

Baseball fans in the southwest part of the state can see the playoffs of the Michigan Amateur Baseball Tournament Friday through Monday at Battle Creek's Post and Bailey Parks.

The 10th annual Michigan Championship Rodeo will be held Saturday through Monday at Sparta, 15 miles north of Grand Rapids.

Oxbow Vets to Serve Ox on Three Days

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—An ox roast at Oxbow Lake is announced.

Dads of Foreign Vets of the Oxbow Lake VFW Post No. 4156 have slated a three-day serving of oxen, barbecued outdoors at the Post headquarters, 321 Union Lake Rd.

Serving will begin at 2 p. m. and last through the daytime on Saturday, Sunday and Monday to mark the Labor Day weekend.

A repeat of last year's ox barbecue, committees expect families to exhaust the ox supply, but say there'll be a large supplement of beef barbecued. Corn will also be roasted.

A dance is planned by post members for Saturday night at the hall. Beginning at 9 p. m., the dance will feature music of Paul Wittes band.

Area Man Mute on Fraud Counts

Earl R. Hoppenrath of Bloomfield Township Faces Indictment

A Pontiac area man stood mute yesterday to charges of fraud brought on indictment by a Federal Grand Jury in Detroit.

Earl R. Hoppenrath, 45, of 394 Eileen Dr. in Bloomfield Township was charged on a six-count indictment as secretary-treasurer of the defunct Consolidated Oil Co. of Detroit, which went bankrupt two years ago.

Hoppenrath, and the former president of the firm who was similarly charged, both were freed under $15,000 personal bonds at arraignment before Federal Judge Arthur A. Koseinki.

Innocent pleas were entered for both men. No trial date was set.

Hoppenrath and the other officer, Harry F. Preston who is now a Florida businessman, were charged with concealment of assets of a bankrupt company, using the mails to defraud and making false entries in company books.

They are charged with concealing $129,341 in a hidden account in a Hamtramck bank and with concealing another $38,720 in company funds.

They are accused of making false entries totaling $166,725 in company books two weeks before the firm went into bankruptcy in November, 1954, and with mail fraud in statements sent to stockholders and creditors.

Each count carries a maximum penalty, on conviction, of five years imprisonment and a $5,000 fine.

Mrs. Keith Takes Figure Trophy at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Mrs. Alfred Keith has won the week's trophy over 20 other members of the Fashion Your Figure Club, for losing the most weight.

Because of the slacking interest in the club's activities, the members are considering making public the names of those members who gain weight and go home with the "pig" trophy.

The next meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Zane Pryomski, 7680 Tull Ct.

U.S., India Sign Pact for Surplus

$360 Million Transfer of American Produce Approved Today

NEW DELHI (AP)— The United States and India signed a $360,100,000 agreement here today for the transfer of American surplus farm products—the biggest ever concluded under the U. S. surplus disposal program. It brought total U. S. aid to India above the billion-dollar mark.

Under the agreement, the United States will send India $305,900,000 worth of wheat, cotton, rice, tobacco and dairy products and will put up $54,200,000 to pay half the shipping costs.

* * *

India will pay the United States the whole $360,100,000 in rupees. Of these rupees, the United States then will grant India 54 million dollars' worth and lend her another 234 million dollars' worth for use in her five-year industrial development plan.

* * *

The United States will spend the rest of the rupees in India paying rent on its New Delhi offices or buying Indian goods.

The agreement authorizes India to get 3,500,000 tons of wheat, 240 million pounds of cotton, 200,000 tons of rice, six million pounds of tobacco and 3½ million dollars worth of dairy products.

* * *

The United States made India a 190-million-dollar wheat loan in 1951 and also has given almost 400 millions in economic and technical aid.

* * *

U. S. government flood relief and aid to India from the Rockefeller and Ford foundations and church organizations boost the figure above a billion dollars.

Total Communist aid to India—it barter-like trade accords are included—is estimated at 200 million dollars.

Planning Luncheon

FOUR TOWNS—The Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Lawson on Sept. 5 for a potluck luncheon.

MRS. JAMES ALVIN WINGERDEN

MRS. W. EDWIN DREIMAN

Nancy O'Neil Weds in Wilmette Rites

Nancy Petrene O'Neil, daughter of the Daniel O'Neils of Wilmette, Ill., became the bride of James Alvin Wingerden, son of the Arthur Wingerdens of Hastings, in a Saturday ceremony in Wilmette.

Attendants included Mary Ann Hampton of Pontiac as junior bridesmaid. The bride and her parents are former Pontiac residents and Pontiac and Birmingham residents attended the ceremony.

The bridegroom will receive his BA in hotel administration at Michigan State University, where the bride graduated in June.

To Display Grant Home

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit home of President Ulysses S. Grant will be on display at the Michigan State Fair, which opens Aug. 31. Grant was stationed in Detroit in 1848 while he was serving as an officer with the Detroit barracks of the Fourth Infantry Regiment.

Dreiman-Tamblyn Rite

Read in Strathmoor

Martha Ann Tamblyn of Detroit and W. Edwin Dreiman of Commerce were united in marriage at Strathmoor Methodist Church Aug. 18. The double-ring, candlelight ceremony was read by the Rev. Phillip Gentile before 200 relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tamblyn of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wein of Commerce are parents of the newlyweds.

The bridal gown was fashioned of Italian silk in princess style, with sabrina neckline and trimmed with alencon lace. It featured short sleeves and a chapel train. A tiara of pearls and sequins held the illusion veil in place, and the bride carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds and ivy.

Preceding the bride and her father down the aisle were maid of honor Helen Lymperis, bridesmaids Gwen Johnson, Mary Ann Moynes, and Nanci Christin, and junior bridesmaid Harriett Wein, sister of the groom. Alvin McKibben was best man, with William King Jr., John Rahn, Ted Andrews, Kenneth Pennebaker and Dennis McKinney as ushers. Nancy McRae was the soloist.

The bridesmaids' gowns were of white nylon dotted swiss, with short sleeves, full skirts and sabrina necklines. Helen's dress was sashed with ribbon of orchid color, matching the taffeta underskirt and shoes. Periwinkle blue was the color worn by the other bridesmaids. Matching hats and mitts completed their costumes, and they carried cascade bouquets of roses, mums, and ivy.

A reception for 300 persons was held at Dearborn Inn following the eight o'clock ceremony.

After their honeymoon trip to Western Michigan the couple will reside in Ypsilanti where the groom is a senior at Eastern Michigan College. Mrs. Dreiman will teach school at Wayne, Mich.

Women Painters to Stage Show

The Birmingham Society of Women Painters has completed plans for a very original outdoor show on Sept. 8 and is keeping fingers crossed for nice weather.

The facilities offered by Shain Park will be added to by easels and drawing boards loaned by other societies, and music will be furnished at the all-day affair by sons of two members, Hank Smith and Cy Osborn Jr.

Mrs. Randolph Heizer is general chairman assisted by Hank's mother, Mrs. F. Chambers Smith, Mrs. E. V. Snyder and Mrs. E. C. Vincent.

Trial Board Amendment to Go on November Ballot

Pontiac city commissioners last night approved the form of a charter amendment to be voted on Nov. 6 which will increase the membership of the Police and Fire Trial Board from five to seven members.

* * *

The proposed amendment will also delete any provisions of the 36-year-old original charter pertaining to jurisdiction of the board over Pontiac firemen. If approved, the board will be called the Police Trial Board.

City Attorney William A. Ewart told the City Commission that firemen now come under a new Firemen's Civil Service Law.

The proposed amendment, drawn up at the request of the commissioners last week, will be forwarded to the governor and attorney general's offices for possible approval.

2 CHARTER PROPOSALS

With the addition of the new amendment, Pontiac voters will be faced with two city charter proposals—both dealing with the Pontiac police and fire departments—at the November balloting.

In May, commissioners placed on the November ballot the question whether police and fire personnel should be required to live within a 10-mile radius of the Huron and Saginaw intersection.

The Pontiac Police Assn. raised the question when they objected to a 1932 City Charter ruling that they live within the city limits.

If the trial board question receives favorable approval, two new members will be elected at the first December commission meeting.

MR. AND MRS. CARL VAN TAYLOR

In Sacred Heart Church

Mary Jane Parton Weds

ROCHESTER—Mary Jane Parton, daughter of the Paul Sebern Partons of 2863 Corinthia, became the bride of Carl Van Taylor, son of the Forrest Chester Taylors of 3347 Bathurst, Auburn Heights.

The ceremony in Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Auburn Heights, was watched by 175 guests, who attended a reception later in Avon Community Center, Avon Township.

Chantilly lace formed the bride's gown, which had scalloped neckline and short fitted sleeves. A lace headpiece held her fingertip veil and her mother-of pearl prayer book held a white orchid.

Attending her were her sister, Helen Ruth Parton as maid of honor, Paula June Parton, Patricia Gleyre, and Carolyn Hand, as bridesmaids, and Jeannie Lynn Gisse as flower girl.

Best man was Forrest Taylor, of Pontiac, brother of the bridegroom, and groomsmen were Donald Trulu and Lynn Stitz both of Pontiac, and Steven Wise of Lake Orion.

After a trip around the Great Lakes to Wisconsin and Illinois, the couple will reside in Ypsilanti, where the groom is attending Eastern Michigan College.

Club Plans Dances; Fall Rummage Sale

AUBURN HEIGHTS—The Community Club, planning a rummage sale here Oct. 13, will welcome any contributions of used clothing or household articles. Interested persons are asked to call Mrs. Alburn Davis, FE 2-5724 for pick up.

The club is also planning monthly dances, which will be open to the public. The first event is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 8.

Beer Theft Suspects Arraigned in Pontiac

Three suspects in the theft of 17 cases of beer from a distributor's truck last Wednesday were arraigned yesterday in Pontiac Municipal Court.

Henry Hogan, 52, of 139 W. South Blvd., and Benny Mason, 54, of 391 Franklin Rd., both waived examination.

They were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Monday and freed under $500 bonds.

Charged with receiving the stolen beer, Robie L. Mitchell, 40, of 102½ Branch St., pleaded not guilty and was freed under $500 bound pending trial next Thursday.

City OKs Ruling on 'Near Beer'

Limits Sale to Licensed Dealers; Labels Must Show Alcoholic Content

The City Commission last night adopted a new city ordinance regulating the sale of "near beer" in Pontiac.

A legal entanglement, which threatened to delay passage of the new law for another week when Police Chief Herbert W. Straley showed a bottle of "brew" the label of which did not contain the alcoholic content, was ironed out.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles questioned whether the proposed ordinance did not contain a loophole unless it specified that the bottle be labeled with the alcoholic volume.

Ewart and Chief Straley huddled and came up with an amendment to the law, making it illegal to sell the beverage unless "said near bear container is labeled specifying that it contains less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol volume."

* * *

The ordinance limits the sale of the beverage to a licensed dealer authorized by the Michigan State Liquor Control Commission to sell beer, wine or spirits.

Sale of the "near beer" to any minor is unlawful.

Violation of the law, which becomes effective Sept. 7, is punishable by $100 fine, 90 days, or both.

Wrecks School, Youth, 17, Held

Phones Police During Destruction Spree—'Felt Like Doing It'

SAGINAW (INS)—A 17-year-old youth was held for investigation of malicious destruction of property today for wrecking the interior of a one-room schoolhuse with a baseball bat "because I felt like doing it."

Clyde Warren Jr., telephoned State Police yesterday and said he was at the Orville School, five miles southwest of Bridgeport.

The youth was still wielding the bat when Trooper Joseph W. Colnar of the Bridgeport post arrived at the school.

Thomas E. White, Bridgeport school superintendent, estimated damage at $1,000 and said he doubted if repairs could be finished in time for the school to open next Tuesday.

Desks, a piano, chests of drawers, chairs and a radio were overturned and smashed. Most of the 10 sets of windows were shattered.

The washbowls in the girls' and boys' washrooms had been stoppered and the water turned on, flooding into the classroom.

Warren, who had never been in trouble before, told police he dug a ditch at his home yesterday morning, watched television for a while and then set out for the school.

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

The United States Trotting Association, more popularly known as the USTA, is fearful that it may soon be pronounced "Used-To."

It is fighting to save special tax rights in New York State. It has hired a publicity man to flood sports departments with press releases reeking of red herring.

These are designed to discredit George Monaghan as harness racing commissioner, and thereby prevent passing of legislation, which he supports, to have the USTA written out of New York State law.

The USTA is operating as a super-government here. It imposes dues close to $200,000 per annum on New York night harness tracks. In the final analysis that money grab is what the battle is all about.

Lawrence B. Sheppard, president of the USTA and chief defender of its surplus, has been leading the fight on a purely personal basis.

Monaghan is one of the strongest commissioners in the history of sport, on a level with the best since Judge Landis. Under his supervision, night trotting has reached a new peak of public acceptance.

Monaghan is invariably right on the big things but, being human, he sometimes makes minor mistakes his detractors pounce upon.

The attack on this state became as silly as a powder-room hen fight when the Hambletonian was taken from Goshen to Duquoin, Ill., on the pretext that administration of the sport in this state is unsatisfactory.

Anyone can be excused for concluding the Ohio corporation's brain trust has been misusing a fine gentleman, Roland Harriman, the Governor's brother, and will continue trying to misuse him.

Some of the more whimsical track operators, banded together in the Harness Tracks of America, joined the fun through a demand that all horses dubbed Hanover undergo a renaming.

Their literary members had been reading the Wall Street Journal and learned that Sheppard's Hanover Shoe Co. pays a $60,000-a-year advertising fee to Sheppard's Hanover Shoe Farms for pinning the Hanover name on horses it breeds, and they found a USTA rule which this violates.

To an intelligent businessman, Sheppard's procedure of taking money out of one pocket and putting it into another has its merits. But Sheppard has chosen to set aside an intelligent business approach to Monaghan's problem of getting rid of stockholders, and the track operator's attitude is that Sheppard picked the weapons—so they are shooting back.

Harmsworth Trophy Remains in U.S.

DETROIT (AP)—The Harmsworth International Speedboat Trophy will remain in the United States for at least another year.

A Seattle Yacht Club boat, Shanty I, driven by Lt. Col. Russell Schleech, Air Force jet plane pilot, made sure of that Tuesday by soundly trouncing the Canadian challenger, Miss Supertest, of London, Ont.

The final 35-mile heat for the trophy was a rough one. It did not develop the record-smashing speed predicted largely because of the rough water kicked up by a mid - afternoon storm. The roughness of the water was responsible, too, for a bad shaking up received by Bill Braden, Hamilton, Ont., traction company executive, the challenger's driver.

Braden got his boat safely back into her well after the race but was immediately removed to a hospital where it was said he suffered from extreme fatigue.

* * *

His boat took a severe pounding in the rough water and his engines coughed and sputtered often.

Yesterday's race was pretty much of repetition of the first heat on Saturday. In this initial event, the Canadian boat beat Shanty I over the starting line only to lose the lead before the first lap was well under way. For part of the first five mile lap the two speeding craft were so close together that only a single "rooster tail" of spray was visible for a time.

But Schleech was well ahead at the start of the second lap and stayed there for the duration of the race. He had covered the first lap at his top speed of the day, 97.869 miles an hour. The challenger did that lap at 96.980.

Shanty's speed for the 35 mile heat was 89.750 miles an hour, far behind the record of 100.111 miles an hour set by another Seattle boat, Slo-Mo-Shun IV, in 1950. Miss Supertest's average for the heat was 83.756 miles an hour.

* * *

Following his victory yesterday Schleech said he hoped there would be another challenge for the Harmsworth plaque and that he would be permitted to defend it in Seattle next year.

IBC, 'Sugar' Still at Odds

Robinson Reported Cool Toward Bout in Chicago With Gene Fullmer

CHICAGO (AP)—The International Boxing Club and middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson were still apart today on agreement of a title match with Gene Fullmer under sponsorship of the IBC.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, said early today "we got nowhere but that doesn't mean it's out."

Gibson said the IBC had offered Robinson a fight in Chicago with home television but that Joe Glaser, Robinson's business manager, last night reported that the champ is cool towards a fight in Chicago.

* * *

Gibson said Jim Norris, president of the IBC, left for New York last night and was expected to resume negotiations for a title match there today.

Robinson, after claiming he was through with Norris and the IBC because he couldn't get the money he wanted, changed his tune earlier this week saying he was ready, willing and able to defend his title.

Robinson had demanded 47½ per cent of the net gate and a guarantee of $60,000 in television money.

After learning that Robinson had changed his mind and would fight for the IBC, Norris yesterday sent Glaser his offer of a Chicago fight but apparently got nowhere.

Tigers Trim Bosox, 6-3

Wilson Tip-Toes Way Home

BOSTON (AP)—In years to come, Red Wilson, the Detroit Tigers' husky catcher, might well be remembered best in Boston for the way he sneaked all the way home from first base while everybody else on the field was concentrating on an argument at home plate.

The stunt overshadowed Frank Lary's brilliant pitching and some equally impressive batting by Al Kaline in the Tigers' 6-3 victory over the Red Sox yesterday.

Larry gave up only five hits in chalking up his 10th victory in his last 13 starts. Kaline blasted a homer and a triple, driving in three runs to raise his RBI total for the year to 102. The total ties his output for the entire 1955 season.

But it was Wilson who stole the show with his base-running performance that produced the Tigers' 5th run and made Red Sox catcher Sammy White claimant to one of the biggest boners of the year.

Mike Higgins, Boston manager, announced angrily that he was playing the game under protest after the incident, but it appeared unlikely it would be upheld.

Here's what happened:

Kaline had opened the inning with his 24th home run with the bases empty, boosting the Tigers into a 3-0 lead. Bill Tuttle followed with a double and Wilson rapped a high hopper, deflected by Ted Lepcio behind second for a single.

Milt Bolling picked up the ball and tossed it to White at the plate, but umpire Frank Umont ruled Tuttle safe.

Infuriated, White heaved the ball to centerfield in disgust, bringing out Higgins from the Boston dugout to join in the argument.

* * *

Centerfield Ted Williams loped over to the ball, retrieved it and threw it back to the infield. Everybody else stopped to watch the battle of words.

Taking advantage of the confusion, Wilson, a former football center at the University of Wisconsin, went into a tip-toeing run that carried him all the way to home plate. He scored as Umont had his back to the infield dusting off the plate.

This renewed the hassle. White was thrown out of the game and Higgins announced his protest. But the run counted.

In the windup of the Bengals' two-game set with Boston today, Billy Hoeft (15-11) was going against the Sox's leading pitcher, Tom Brewer, who has won 16 while losing seven.

MVC Accepts New Members

Cincinnati and North Texas State Admitted to Missouri Valley

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Missouri Valley Conference voted unanimously yesterday to admit Cincinnati and North Texas State as new members.

* * *

Basketball coaches of the two schools joined the league's other coaches here today and began drafting the 1957 - 58 basketball schedules.

Art Eilers, conference commissioner, said Cincinnati and North Texas will begin Missouri Valley competition in the 1957 spring sports.

The two schools will strengthen the league's football situation, but they are not expected to find places on the schedule until 1958 or 1959. By that time there should be eight football members in the conference—Houston, Tulsa, Oklahoma A & M, Wichita, Drake, Bradley, Cincinnati and North Texas.

St. Louis University doesn't play football and the University of Detroit is leaving the conference after this season.

DETROIT (AP)—Dominion Boy, a longshot driven by owner Michael Eniss, paced home in 2:04 2-5 to take the feature race at Hazel Park Harness Raceway last night. He paid $21.60. Scotcota finished second and Royal I. Frisco third. The crowd for the night was 4,884 and the handle $270,374.

200 Amateurs Qualify

Sectional Berths Secure

Results of the sectional qualifying rounds for the National Amateur golf championship again showed that America has no take-charge player like Bob Jones and Lawson Little were in their heyday. But it does have a lot of good amateur golfers.

Billy Joe Patton and little Joe Campbell made bids for a place at the top when they set the pace for the 36-hole sectional tests with 137 scores. But they have fallen a bit short in the past and still have to earn the top spot.

The task of reducing the record entry of 1,612 players to a manageable field of 200 for the all-match-play tournament at Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 10-15 was completed yesterday. Sectional rounds at 27 locations filled 159 places. Earlier 32 others had qualified at three places and nine were exempt from the sectional tests.

* * *

When the firing ended, the colorful but often erratic Patton had a 70-67 score and Joe Campbell, the little Indiana towhead who battled to the quarter-finals last year had a 72-65. A stroke behind them came Bill Campbell, the Walker Cup team captain with 71-67—138 and 20-year-old Bob Shave Jr. of Cleveland, 68-70—138.

Also safely past the first severe test are such players as Doug Sanders, who won the Canadian Open title this year; Ken Venturi, sensation of this year's Masters, Ward Wettlaufer, Tam O'Shanter World amateur champ; Mason Rudolph, Western amateur titleholder and a couple of teen-agers who have qualified before, 16-year-old Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, and 18-yearold Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md.

Scouts Watch Colt Leaguer

CHICAGO (AP) — Major league scouts are keeping a sharp eye on Jim Woods, a 16-year-old right-hander who pitched and batted Evanston, Ill., to the National Colt League World Series championship yesterday at Comiskey Park.

Woods limited Austin, Tex., to three hits in a 5-1 victory. He also drove in a run on a sacrifice fly and hit a 370-foot homer into the left-field stands.

Woods went through 57 innings in regional and World Series play without allowing an earned run.

Flint now has a 2-1 record.

Syron Makes Grade

Kocsis, Ellstrom Pace Amateur Field

By H. GUY MOATS

Michigan's best amateur shotmakers found combined par for Tam O'Shanter and Knollwood layouts a bit tough, yesterday, during the Michigan sectional qualifying trials for the National Amateur tourney.

Only a few managed to break the enen figures with state amateur titlist Glenn Johnson and Tom McMahon the low 18-hole round scorers, at Tam.

Charles (Chuck) Kocsis of Red Run was one over on each course as was Ralph Ellstrom of Dearborn. Both had identical 73-72 cards to share medalist honors at 145.

Eight other qualifiers were named, three after a sudden death playoff at Knollwood. Lloyd Syron of Pontiac, Bill Walsh of Kalamazoo and Gene Woodard of Grosse Pte. tied at 149 with Tom Draper and Dick Whiting of Red Run. Draper and Whiting became first alternates. The three winners carded fours to five for the losers, on the extra hole.

Ellstrom came within a whisker of gaining the top spot all by himself. Kocsis had finished long before and coming into the final hole (Knollwood's fine 18th) Ellstrom laid a beautiful approach four feet from the pin, on the uphill side. His putt which would have given him a 144, veered off the edge of the cup when it appeared sure of dropping.

Pontiac's Lloyd Syron was the trials' "hard-luck guy." On the 14th at Tam O'Shanter in his morning round Lloyd accidentally broke his putter. He played out the round using his driver on the greens and finished a very good 76. He coupled a two-over 73 at Knollwood for his 149.

Syron is rated the 1st Pontiac player in many years to make the grade for the National Amateur.

Tourney officials said that all qualifiers had given definite assurance they would make the trip to the Chicaago suburb, Lake Forest for competition in the National Amateur championships, Sept. 10-15.

500 Watch Game

Baptists Defeat All-Stars

First Baptists and Church Softball League All-Stars had a big audience for the loop's windup last night at North Side park. The crowd was estimated by league officials as around 500.

Baptists equaled a 2-run deficit in the 2nd frame, added two more in the 3rd and then saw that edge disappear as Stars evened the count at four in the same inning. However, Baptists staged a 4-run uprising in the 7th to ice the 8-5 victory.

Stars had moved in front for the 2nd time during the game, in the 6th with a single tally that left Baptists a run behind. Stars were unable to get runners around in the finale.

The big 7th was based on a combination of a single, hit batsman and some costly infield errors.

Perry Vaughn limited the Stars to five hits, pitched himself out of trouble in the 4th with two strikeout and an infield popup after the first three Stars got on the bags. Stars used three hurlers with Atkinson (loser) allowing only one hit in the three frames he worked.

Burke, Littler Withdraw From Motor Tourney

DETROIT (AP) — Jackie Burke and Gene Littler have dropped out of the motor city open golf tournament.

But Ed Furgol, one-time Detroiter and 1954 champion, has notified officials he will enter.

Burke telephoned from Houston, Tex., yesterday that he couldn't make it. Littler decided to pass up the tournament and headed back home to California.

Cooper Ties WGC Mark in Tuneup

Nation's best touring golf professionals have been "feeling out" Western Golf Club's tricky layout in advance of the 5th Motor City Open tournament, and yesterday at least three found it not too difficult.

Knollwood's Pete Cooper, starting with a front nine 33, went on to equal the course record of 67, best of the tuneup rounds for which any cards were taken.

The $20,000 event, making the tourney the country's top money test of the moment, gets under way Thursday and runs through Sunday. It's a straight medal-play feature with the champion getting $4,000 of the big pot. A pro-member feature was under way today.

Other sub-par rounds were fired by Jay Hebert with a 69, Dow Finsterwald with 68 and former National Open champion Jack Fleck and Indianwood's Mike Dietz with 70s. Western plays par 72, over a 6,770 yard distance and the club pro Bill Brown estimated today that it would take at least a 276 to win. That's 12-under par for the 72-hole grind.

More than a dozen of the nation's "big names" of golf are already at the course, Brown reported today. The yincluded Julius Boros, former National Open and "World" champion, who played 14 holes yesterday for a one-under total. Freddie Haas, long-hitting George Bayer, ex-National Open champ Ed Furgol and the always dangerous Tommy Bolt were also among the entries.

Lopes Beats Centella

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Joey Lopes of Sacramento scored a technical knockout over Kid Centella of Nicaragua last night in the seventh of a scheduled 10-round fight. Both weighed 134 pounds.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Scooping sand

DIAGNOSIS: Weak left arm

TREATMENT: The most hopeless way to try to get out of sand is to raise the body and lift the arms as the ball is struck. A sort of scooping effort that nine times in 10 pops the ball feebly upward and leaves it in the sand for further tries.

Body balance throughout the swing is the top factor. That's why it pays, first of all, to dig in. Get sound footing. Swing the club back with the left arm in absolute control. Grip firmly with the left hand and don't let go, because if the grip weakens in the backswing, the right hand will take over, and you'll lose the all-important downward pull of the left arm that is so clearly shown in the sketch.

• • •

With the downward pull of the left arm, as you see, the weight shifts easily to the left leg. The only movement in the upper half of the body, you'll notice is the pull of the left arm. Nothing else. The left hip is out of the way when the stance—the open stance—is taken, with the right foot closest to the ball.

• • •

From the position shown, the sand is struck about one to three inches behind the ball, so that the ball, in this explosion action, rides out on the sand. Important: The left arm pulls down into the sand and on out after the ball. No pull-up of the body. No sudden lifting of the arms to scoop the ball out. The loft of the clubhead, with the face slightly open (turned to the right) will do the job.

Mantle Hits 45th Homer

Brooks Gain as Bucs Clip Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Are Dale Long and the rest of Pittsburgh's short-lived heroes to become Milwaukee's pennant-block, just as the Pirates were to Brooklyn in 1954?

Brooklyn had edged to within a half game of first place in '54 and looked good and healthy with 10 games remaining against Pittsburgh in the last month and a half of the season. But the last-place Pirates, who had lost 10 of their first 12 games with the Brooks, won five of those last 10, standing the Dodgers on end while the New York Giants copped the flag and the world championship.

The Pirates, who lost 12 of their first 18 games with Milwaukee this season, looked like the spoilers of old last night, coming from behind as Long hit a three-run homer to beat the Braves 5-4 and trim their National League lead to 1½ games over the Dodgers.

And except for the fact Brooklyn was playing a doubleheader in the only major league park wthout lights, the Dodgers might have been only a half game shy of the Braves today. The Brooks split the twinbill with Chicago's Cubs, winning the opener 6-4 on three ninth-inning runs, but losing the nightcap 4-3 when play was halted after 7½ innings by darkness.

Third-place Cincinnati rose to just three games off the pace with an 11-1 barrage against the Giants. Philadelphia clipped St. Louis 6-4.

In the American League, Mickey Mantle belted his 45th home run in New York's 4-0 victory over Kansas City in a game held to six innings by rain. The Yankees regained an eight game first-place bulge as Cleveland lost at Baltimore 1-0. Chicago's White Sox split a pair with Washington, winning 5-3 after a 6-2 defeat. Detroit defeated Boston 6-3.

Calhoun, Webb in TV Battle

CHICAGO (AP) — Unbeaten Rory Calhoun of New York and Spider Webb of Chicago clash in a 10-round middleweight bout at Chicago Stadium tonight.

The fight will be nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m, EST).

Calhoun, 22-year-old former dishwasher who will be seeking his 24th straight victory, was an early 9-5 favorite.

Rory has scored 12 knockouts and recently defeated Charlie Cotton in 10 rounds at New York. Before meeting Cotton, Calhoun stopped Willie Vaughn in eight rounds at New York.

Frank Gilmer, chairman of the Illinois Athletic Commission, said the five-point scoring system will be introduced in tonight's fight. Heretofore, the 10-point system had been used. The winner now gets five points and the loser four or less.

Arroyo Wins on TKO

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Lightweight Chico Arroyo of Oakland scored a come-from-behind, third-round technical knockout tonight over Kid Castro of Stockton and Manila. Castro weighed 141, Arroyo 140.

16 Teen-Age Players Still in Net Tourney

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sixteen teen-aged players, most of them the top-seeded entrants, face stiffened competition today in the fourth round of the 39th annual U.S. Girls Lawn Tennis Championship at the Philadelphia Cricket Club.

• • •

One of the favorites, 12th-seeded Barbara Waid of Lawton, Okla., was upset 6-2, 6-1, by Jaynie Haynie of Bolton, S.C., and several others had rough going through the third round yesterday.

Savitt's Return Big Question for U.S. Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The big question of American tennis—can Dick Savitt make good his comeback and help recover the Davis Cup?—is headed for a quick and positive answer.

The tall power-hitter from Orange, N.J., making his first appearance in the National championships in four years, faces a fifth round meeting with Australia's Ken Rosewall in the tournament, opening Friday.

If Savitt, who has been in semi-retirement while selling oil in Texas, can make a reasonably good showing, he will be a good bet to represent Uncle Sam in the Davis Cup matches in Australia.

Hometown Fighters Battle in Chicago

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A long standing hometown feud comes to the exploding point tonight when Art (Golden Boy) Aragon and Cisco Andrade meet in a 10-round outdoor fight at Wrigley Field.

Some 15,000 highly partisan patrons of each gladiator are expected to pay $100,000 or more to see the action, pitting Aragon, a ranking welterweight, against the nation's No. 1 lightweight title contender, the Cisco Kid.

Aragon, at 28 is still the box office king of the fight game in this town. He is the self-appointed villain in the act, the young man who relishes a boo as long as the owner paid for the privilege of booing him.

Stubborn Snake Gets His Fish the Hard Way

A three-foot long water snake, apparently with the idea of getting a fish dinner the easy way put on a startling performance for Mr. and Mrs. Julius Foster, 3061 Hiller road, Orchard Lake. The reptile got his fish, but the hard way, says Mrs. Foster.

"He came right toward our boat, like he was going to get in with us. I chased him with my fishing rod. But I soon found he wasn't scared a bit, for he came right back. My husband caught a small fish just about that time and held it over the snake. He grabbed it, and got hooked.

"Mr. Foster brought him in, took him off the hook, tossed him back in the water.

"You know, that snake never let loose of the fish and swam away with it, head, proud as Punch."

Seeks National Tests for State

In an effort to line up sites for at least four national shooting events during the next two years, one of the nation's top pistol experts will visit this area within a few days.

George Easter, for 26 years a national-level shooter and last weekend's winner of the national smallbore (.22 caliber) pistol title at Toledo with 934x950, said today he hoped to interest Oakland County Sportsmen's club in an American Rifleman's trapshoooting event. He hope to get organizations set up for this and two smallbore rifle events plus a target match for 1957.

Easter reported that Ron Steele of Pontiac was runnerup in the Toledo smallbore rifle championships. Steele fired 983x1000, four back of the titlist, George Barstow of Los Angeles Calif.

Bonds on the Line

5 Days Left to Enter 'Fish Derby'

With only five days remaining of the summer-long Pontiac Press "big fish derby" prospective entrants will have to hurry to beat the present leaders. And there is profit, too (bonds on the line) for successfull ones.

When Clarkston's Jack Wilds brought in his 15-pound-14½-ounce great northern pike he made it tough for prospects in that division of the big, three-way contest. Black bass division is also headed by a real lunker, a 5-pound-15½-ounce largemouth taken by Keith Parker on Aug. 13.

Many one-pound bluegills have been reported but none has, so far, been able to top the one-pound-one-ounce specimen entered by Harvey Boatwright of Rochester away back, on June23. That one is still vunerable.

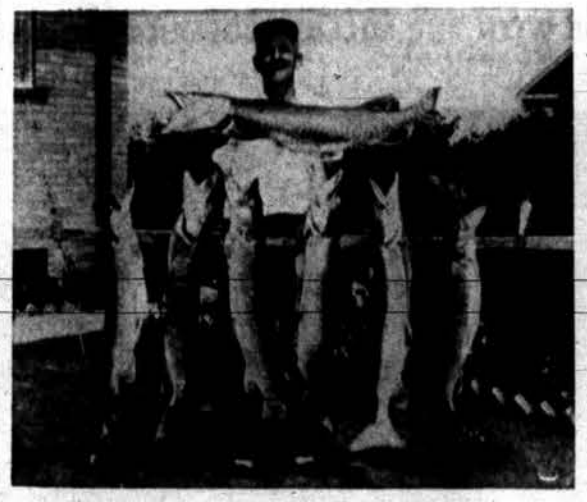
* * *

Tourney ends Labor Day, but anglers have until noon, Tuesday to tile their entries.

* * *

Winner in each division will be awarded a $50 United States Savings Bond. Announcement of the 1956 champions will be made soon after final entries are checked.

Rules governing the "derby" are, briefly; only full-time Oakland county residents are eligible. All fish must be taken on hook and line from an Oakland County lake (or stream). Weight only is considered in judging the winners.



DAY'S CATCH — Many fine fishermen have spent years stalking the fabled muskie only to be eluded by the giant fish. Not so Otto Lebendig. Otto regularly fishes Lake St. Clair, near his home outside of Detroit, and regularly comes in with one to seven (above) of the king-sized denizens of the deep. In catching the dozens of muskies he has boated over the years, Otto says, "Most have been caught on Creek Chub Pikies."

Steeler Offense Lagging

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers, losers in both National Football League exhibitions this year, are aiming to sharpen up their offense.

And the key to the problem, according to Coach Walt Kiesling, is finding a replacement for quarterback Jimmy Finks, who quit the pro league for an assistant coaching job at Notre Dame.

The Steelers resumed practice today and Kiesling shook up his offensive team in an effort to decide who will be his No. 1 quarterback.

The Steelers don't play again until Sept. 8 when they meet the Chicago Bears at Pittsburgh. By that time, Kiesling hopes to have made his choice among Ted Marchibroda, Jack Scarbath and Maurice Duncan.

Marchibroda was with the Steelers last season but sat it out while Finks held the spotlight. Scarbath, former star at Maryland University, was with Ottawa in the Canadian League last season. Prior to that he played with the Washington Redskins.

Kiesling told sporters writers in Pittsburgh yesterday he's trying to sharpen up his offense. It has been woefully weak as the Steelers lost 37-16 to the Baltimore Colts and 20-15 to the Detroit Lions.

Junior Golf Pairs Mary Mills, Creed

TOLEDO (AP)—Two closerunning rivals from the recent Western Tournament in Chicago meet today in the second round of the eighth annual U.S. Golf Assn. girls junior championship.

* * *

One is 17-year-old Clifford Ann Creed, of Opelousas, La., winner of the Western crown. The other is Mary Mills, 16, of Gulfport, Miss., who won medal honors by four strokes in the qualifiers for this tournament Monday.

In the Chicago meet, Miss Creed beat Miss Mills in a semi-final match.

Dorow Given Release From Coast Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Al Dorow, Washington Redskins quarterback injured in an auto accident Aug. 18, was back in the nation's capital today awaiting the arrival of his teammates.

Dorow, who played college ball at Michigan State, was released yesterday from Presbyterian Hospital in Hollywood, Calif., and left immediately by plane for Washington.

Redskin halfback Vic Janowicz, who suffered head injuries in an auto crash Aug. 17, is making what his physician calls "satisfactory progress."

State to Release More Wild Turkeys

LANSING (AP) — Another batch of wild turkeys will be released by the state conservation department next month in its campaign to re-establish the bird, once abundant in Michigan.

Some 200 turkeys, about 14 weeks old, will be released in the Lake-Newaygo County area, northwest of West Branch and in the Houghton Lake State Forest in northwestern Clare County.

The birds were hatched from eggs obtained from Pennsylvania.

State Pays $8,655 for July Bounties

LANSING (AP) — Hunters and trappers received $8,655 in bounty payments during July, $1,560 more than was paid out in the same month last year, the state conservation department reported.

The department said the increase was mostly due to the 1,299 fox bountied during the month. This compared with 876 in July 1955.

The 1st two wolves, taken in Iron and Luce Counties, were presented for bounty in July. Payments also were made for 109 coyotes and 44 bobcats.

Maine Offers Fine Upland Bird Shooting

Possibly the best woodcock and ruffed grouse shooting in the nation is currently to be found within Maine's 33,000 square-mile-area. Ruffed grouse, or partridge, as they are known locally, are native game birds that find close to ideal nesting sites.

Report Progress in Fight Against Marine 'Yootism'

48—REPJORT PROGRESS
By JACK PATTERSON

In the continuing battle against marine "yootism" it is satisfying to note signs of progress. One successful skirmish, recently concluded, resulted in the imposition of a $25 fine and $10 costs on a Detroit motorboat operator by Commerce Township Justice Howard Bloem. The operator, Thomas McGowan, 8336 Chalfonte, Detroit, was thrown out of the boat while sashaying around Union Lake and was promptly arrested by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Claude Harcourt for reckless operation of a motorboat.

PATTERSON

In addition to imposing the fine, Justice Bloem ordered McGowan off Union Lake for the remainder of the summer. Since this occurrence, three more tickets have been issued to boat drivers on Union Lake. It begins to look as though existing laws, when enforced, might have some usable teeth in them.

* * *

One reason for the increasing use of out-of-county motorboats on local lakes is the easy access to those lakes provided by public fishing sites owned by the state of Michigan and administered by the Conservation Department.

Some fishermen have suggested that since fishing sites were purchased for fishing, their use should be restricted to that purpose. This immediately raises the legal question of whether or not the Conservation Department has the authority to so restrict the use of state property. One of our local loophole lights thinks not, at least in the absence of an attorney general's opinion to that effect which has been brought before and upheld by the Supreme Court.

* * *

We checked to see if there is an attorney general's ruling on what constitutes proper use of public fishing sites. Such an opinion does not seem to exist. We called Fred Westerman, chief of the fish division to see if the Conservation Department had adopted a policy on the use of fishing sites.

It appears that the policy in effect is to permit reasonable use of fishing sites for purposes other than fishing. Mr. Westerman pointed out that some sites are in fact more suitable for swimming, camping and other common lakeside uses than for fishing. Others, of course, are useless for such purposes.

Boiled down to its simplest form, department philosophy embraces the properly democratic principle that public sites should be used in a manner that benefits best the general public. Thus, where other than fishing uses do not interfere with the primary purpose of fishing, and in and of themselves are not undesirable, then they can be considered reasonable uses of fishing sites.

The department is fully aware of the friction caused by increasing use of fishing sites as launching points for motorboats for other than fishing purposes. But the department lacks authority to regulate the use of motorboats.

That is a problem which lies solely within the jurisdiction of the Legislature. The department would like to see a uniform licensing and registration for all motorboats. As a matter of fact, a study committee was appointed by the last session to report back to the new Legislature on the motorboat problem. Previous efforts along this line have died in committee. It is hoped, but without much real optimism, that the next bill will have a better fate.

Bear and Man Both Surprised

Baraga Man Discovers Swimming 'Neighbor' Was Big Bruin

BARAGA — An after-dark swim on a hot night can be refreshing—and surprising—according to William Seppala of Covington.

Seppala, who owns a summer home at Thre Lakes, recently decided to take a cooling dip in the lake about a half hour after dark. While in the water, he heard splashing in front of an adjoining cottage. Thinking it was his neighbor, Seppala shouted a friendly greeting and then gasped in surprise as a large bear charged out of the water, across the beach and into the woods.

The idea of a leisurely swim apparently had appealed to the bear also. Seppala reported the incident to conservation officer C. E. Delene.

'Mouse' Gets Bass

Using a "killer" lure, one of those fuzzy little mice, Robert Currie, 2460 Walnut Lake road, hooked and landed a fine smallmouth bass first of the week. Currie was fishing alone, from a boat on Walnut lake. The fish weighed five pounds, was 22 inches long and gave the proud angler a real battle, going under a dock several times before being tired out. It was Currie's only fish of the evening.

Get 'Biggest' Bass

A smallmouth bass with a liking for crab meat provided Albert J. Dudas, 8115 Locklin Dr., Union Lake with his season's biggest bronzeback catch. Dudas was fishing from a dock at the Union Lake home, using a small crab for bait. His bass weighed two pounds, was 17 inches long. And it was the only fish Dudas caught, last night.

State Hunting, Fishing Fees Are Unchanged

LANSING—All license fees for Michigan's 1956 hunting season remain unchanged from last year. Proposed increases in fees would not affect licenses for the upcoming hunting seasons or the 1957 fishing seasons.

The state conservation commission voted at its June meeting to ask the legislature to boost license fees to meet rising costs of operation. If the legislature approves the proposed increases early in 1957, the new fees would be in effect on hunting licenses in fall, 1957 and on fishing licenses December 1, 1957 when the 1958 fishing permits go on sale.

Resident license fees for the upcoming hunting seasons are: small game, $2; deer and bear, $3.50; and camp permit for deer, $3.50. These fees apply to firearm or archery licenses.

Nonresident hunting fees are: small game, $15; deer and bear (firearm), $35; and deer and bear (archery), $10.

Canoe Marathon Gets Under Way Saturday

GRAYLING (AP)—Some 25, two-man canoe teams will embark Saturday on the 10th annual, 240-mile Michigan canoe marathon down the Au Sable river from Grayling to Oscoda.

A total of some $2,000 in cash prizes is being offered.

The record holders, Donald Fieldhauser and Bernie Fowler, both of Grayling, will not compete as a team this year. They negotiated the course in 17 hours, 33 minutes, in 1953.

Fowler will team with John Stephan of Grayling, in this year's race.

Detroit's Voters Rush to Register

DETROIT (AP) — A wave of registrations has caused concern for Louis A. Urban, Detroit director of elections. He says registration facilities are liable to be swamped before the Oct. 8 deadline.

Urban was called from his house last night to help register voters at a precinct police station. He said 60 persons still were in line at 8 p.m.

Police stations have been taking registrations from noon to 8 p.m. each Monday. Voters may register any day at City Hall from 8 to 4:30.

"We'll be making a big drive for registrations in the last week, Oct. 1 to 8," Urban said. "That week we'll have every police and fire station in town taking them.

Urban said 159,000 more registrations will beat the 1952 record of 988,307.

Corn, Soybeans Most in Demand

CHICAGO (AP)—Demand for grains centered largely in corn and soybeans on the Board of Trade today, two cereals which have been having rather rough going lately.

* * *

Wheat and rye, which have been stronger than other grains in recent markets, encountered some difficulty in extending their advance. This was particularly true of nearby futures, which at times sank under the previous close.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ½ higher, September $2.19; corn ⅝ to 1¼ higher, September $1.45¼; oats ⅜ to ¾ higher, September 72; rye 1 to 1½ higher, September $1.43½; soybeans 1⅝ to 1¾ higher, September $2.36-36¼; and lard 8 to 13 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $10.80.

One reason for buying in corn and soybeans was a belief that, at current price levels, producers will be inclined to impound these commodities under the government loan rather than offer them freely in the market.

Stock Market Drifts Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market drifted lower in light trading in the early afternoon today.

* * *

A few issues declined a point or more, but most changes were narrow.

The market pretty much followed the pattern of the past two sessions, with prices backing down gradually after holding about even in early dealings.

Volume was estimated at around 1,400,000 shares for the day, the same as yesterday's turnover, which was the smallest in more than a year. There was no special news to stir the market out of the doldrums.

Among divisions, motors were fractionally higher, steels and oils mixed, metals and chemicals lower.

* * *

Curtiss-Wright rose between 1 and 2 after directors declared a dividend of 65 cents on the common, 10 cents more than in previous quarters.

Fractional gainers included General Motors, Studebaker-Packard, Ford, Douglas, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, Illinois Central, Royal Dutch and Texas Co.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 20 cents at $183.10. The industrial component was down 40 cents, rails were unchanged and utilities down 20 cents. Yesterday the average lost $1.20 in the second straight decline.

Avondale Lists Registration Days for Kindergarten

AVON TOWNSHIP—Supt. Raymond Baker has released the following announcement concerning kindergarten students of Avondale Schools:

* * *

Children entering kindergarten here this fall who did not register in the spring are asked to report for registration at their nearest elementary school at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Sept. 4.

Those who registered last spring are asked to report Wednesday at the same hour.

Children entering the first grade and living in the Auburn Heights area who attended Stone last year are to register at the Auburn Heights School, he said.

Buses will be running on the two dates.

Blames Coffee Hike on Dock Strike Fear

WASHINGTON (AP)— A key factor behind this week's three to four cent a pound rise in wholesale coffee prices may be the fear of a dock strike on the U.S. East Coast Sept. 30.

* * *

The increase has been attributed to a continuing tightness in the supplies of green coffee, but informed sources here say the dock strike also is a big contributor.

The new wholesale price boosts mean that retail prices for vacuum-packed blends will go close to $1.25 a pound.

Fear of the dock strike was reported causing U. S. importers to buy green coffee abroad in heavier than normal amounts, against the possibility of a stoppage of deliveries.

HEDGE BUYING

This "hedge buying," when coupled with the reported scarcity of the mild coffees, may have forced the advance in green coffee prices, which in turn caused the roasted coffee price boost.

* * *

Importers and roasters normally would seek to hold the line, but can see little chance of improvement in prices until the dock situation is clarified, the sources said.

They note that the contract of East Coast longshoremen with shipping associations expires on Sept. 30, and that discussion aimed at its renewal have been lagging.

Packards for '57 Production Set

Work Will Be Shifted to South Bend From Detroit, Say Officials

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker-Packard Corp. says it will bring out a new line of Packards in January, thus quashing rumors that there would be no 1957 Packards.

The company also announced yesterday that Packard production would start in its South Bend plant in December. This confirmed reports that Packard manufacturing would be shifted here from the Detroit plant.

A statement by Harold E. Churchill, new president of Studebaker-Packard, said the company will start turning out new Studebaker cars and trucks in mid-September, with introduction of the line set for "late fall."

The transfer of Packard production will put the company's entire auto manufacturing operations at the South Bend Studebaker plant. Churchill said the company would take "immediate steps to prepare" for Packard production here.

He gave no details on styling or engineering changes planned for 1957 models.

Reports Theft of Purse With $34, Diamond Ring

A purse containing $34 and a $100 diamond ring were reported stolen Monday night from a home at 124 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac Police said.

The towner, Edith Brinkley told police that someone entered through her unlocked front door and took the purse and ring from a living room table.

American tourists spend about ten times as much on "seeing America First" than they do on foreign travel.

Even Plant Expert Scratching

Poison Ivy: It's Everyplace

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

STORRS, Conn. (AP)—Some new tips on poison ivy hazards were given today by a woman plant scientist.

Dr. Harriet Creighton, professor of botany at Wellesley College, and president of the American Botanical Society, showed up at a scientific meeting here, with ivy poisoning of both arms.

* * *

She said she was poisoned while playing golf — by rubbing her arms against a golf bag she had placed on the ground where, she found out later, there were "dried-up, chopped-up ivy leaves that had been mowed from the 'rough' and kicked out into the fairway by a rotary lawnmower."

* * *

The chopped-up leaves weren't immediately recognizable, but when she developed her poisoning, she went back and found the leaves.

* * *

She told about these other possibilities of ivy poisoning in strange ways:

1. From smoke given off by backyard burning of brush and leaves that might contain poison ivy.

2. From prematurely handling poison ivy vines that have been killed with new chemical weed-killers, especially designed for attacking poison ivy.

* * *

3. Walking through a plowed-up field that may have contained poison ivy.

Bombings Renew Violence on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The first bombings in this British colony in 12 days today emphasized a new vow of violence from EOKA extremists.

Two bombs exploded harmlessly last night and early this morning outside the homes of a British army sergeant and a British major in Larnaca and Nicosia.

The explosions shattered the island's uneasy calm which had prevailed during a "suspension of operations" proclaimed by EOKA, the underground fighting arm of the Greek Cypriot movement demanding union with Greece.

The bombings followed an EOKA announcement, in leaflets strewn across Cyprus, that the truce was ended because the British government had failed to bring the Greek Cypriot leader, Archbishop Makarios, from exile to resume negotiations for the island's freedom from British rule.

Hit Paraders Return Sept. 8

Joe Louis Is Favored to Win Big Money on 'High Finance'

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—MGM will make movies for TV spectaculars . . . One sponsor offered $1,000,000 to have MGM make a film for a spectacular one-shot, then show it in theaters and the foreign markets to recoup some of the cost.

"Gone With the Wind" is outside the negotiations to sell MGM movies to TV and will stay outside.—Others besides MGM own pieces of GWTW—including Norma Shearer (via the Irving Thalberg estate . . . It pulls in about $5,000,000 on every reissue . . .

"Your Hit Parade" marches back Sept. 8 with the same cast . . . Ex Max Liebman director bill Hoban is Snooky's, Gisele's, Dorothy's and Russell's new TV director . . .

CBS retitled its "Cole Porter Festival" Oct. 6 "You're the Top," after Cole's brightest tune title . . .

Broadway bookies will bet you Joe Louis wins the cash on "High Finance" . . . on the reasonable psychology that Joe's misfortunes would turn his losing into resentment against the TV tossaway . . .

He can win up to $35,000, but that won't settle his tax travail.

POLITICAL OMEN?

A political portent—more viewers watched the GOP convention than watched the Dems.

Dick Stabile, urged by Jerry Lewis to stay with the comic when he and Dean Martin split up, lost out to bandleader Buddy Bregman in the very first Lewis job alone.

Kaye Ballard's long misuse under the NBC banner may have a happy ending. She flew to Hollywood to test for the co-star comedy spot with Jane Powel in RKO's "The Girl Most Likely."

John Wayne's son Mike is directing one of the "Crusader" TV episodes. . . .

Woodrow Wilson refused to be the first President to speak on radio. "Beneath the dignity of a President," was his official snub . . . Cal Coolidge was first. . .

TELEVISION SALES

TV genius Dr. Allen B. DuMont says TV sales will settle down to 9,000,000 a year. Normal newset buyers will account for 4,000,000; the rest, replacements.

Cliff Robertson of Joan Crawford's chest-heaver, "Autumn Leaves," will be remembered by smallfry as "Rod Brown, Rocket Ranger," a few blast-offs ago.

A woman in Houston, Tex., Mrs. Penny Petkas, bought one hour of time on a local station there for $89, went on the air and spun 60 minutes of Perry Como recordings to make her eligible to go to a Houston club luncheon for Perry when he visited there. . .

The Wild Bill Hickok" TV film series is off, like Giant hopes, till next year. . .

The Mills brothers have been around a long time but are still the least frantic and best quartet.

Chicago Bookkeeper Ordered to Face Jury

CHICAGO (AP)—A kindly 49-year-old woman bookkeeping supervisor has been ordered held for grand jury action on a charge of misapplying funds of the bank where she worked.

Miss Bessie E. Roth is accused of letting customers of the Lawndale National Bank get away with $467,288 by postdating checks and accepting "holdout" checks which exceeded the money in customers' accounts.

Frank McGarr, assistant U. S. attorney, said Miss Roth apparently "didn't get a cent of the money—she just did favors for others."

U. S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley Pike yesterday ordered her held to the grand jury on a specific charge of misappropriating $3,756 of bank funds, she waived hearing and was released on $1,000 bond.

Dems Name F. J. Flaugh

BENTON HARBOR (AP)— Former Benton Harbor Mayor F. Joseph Flaugh has been appointed to continue as chairman of the Fourth District Democratic Congressional Committee. His appointment was announced by Dr. Sam Clark, Democratic congressional candidate from the district.

Miss Lucy Seeking Admittance to 'Bama

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — A federal judge today will hear agruments on a Negro woman's motion seeking readmittance to the University of Alabama.

The woman, Mrs. Autherine Lucy Foster, is the only Negro ever to attend the all-white school at Tuscaloosa. She was expelled after rioting drove her from the campus last February.

University authorities expelled her from unproved charges that school officials conspired in the rioting.

A legal source said the issue before Federal Judge H. Hobart Grooms today is whether a judge has the power to amend his own ruling if other circumstances have intervened, such as the expulsion.

Grooms yesterday was asked to disregard the university's order expelling the woman. Arthur D. Shores, her attorney, argued in a memorandum that the board's expulsion of Mrs. Foster was an "unlawful interference" with the court order requiring the trustees to admit her.

Nixon to Relax, Write Speeches in New Jersey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon flies today to New Jersey to rest and write some of the speeches he will make during "an extensive and vigorous" campaign tour next month.

* * *

L. Richard Guylay, public relations director for the Republican National Committee, said tentative plans call for a "backbreaking schedule" of aerial visits, with speeches averaging more than one a day.

* * *

Although details were not announced immediately, Guylay said the first campaign swing will last 10 days or two weeks, starting about mid-September.

* * *

Nixon and his family meantime arranged to spend a long Labor Day weekend at the Mantoloking, N.J., home of Amos Peasley, top assistant to Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser. It was Stassen who tried for a month to block Nixon's renomination but ended by seconding the nomination at the GOP National Convention in San Francisco last month.

Dulles Remark Hit by Some Japanese

TOKYO (AP)—Some Japanese officials and newspapers today accused Secretary of State Dulles of threatening to take over Okinawa if Japan gives Russia the southern Kurile Islands of Kunashiri and Etorofu. Others said he was trying to help the Japanese in their peace treaty negotiations with the Russians.

Dulles told his press conference in Washington yesterday he had "reminded" the Japanese government and Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu that nations which have signed the San Francisco Peace Treaty could make new claims on Japan should Russia gain more than the San Francisco signers did.

Sheppard Appeals Murder Conviction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath, has appealed to the Supreme Court to review his conviction for the bludgeon-slaying of his wife. He contends adverse publicity denied him a fair trial.

Sheppard, 32, was convicted of second degree murder and is serving a life sentence in the Ohio State penitentiary.

* * *

His wife, Marilyn, was slain July 4, 1954. His counsel contends "this was a trial by newspapers."

Sheppard claims he was denied due process of law guaranteed by the Constitution, in various ways in which the case was conducted.

The appeal said the trial court was wrong in rejecting repeated requests for a change of venue or for a continuance "until the passion and prejudice of the community could subside."

The Supreme Court probably will announce in the fall whether it will review the case.

Sheppard would be eligible for parole in nine more years under his life sentence.
