Frigid Air, Snow Deal Death to Eastern U.S.

A Winter Many Will Remember

MAN, IT'S COLD — It got so cold in Pontiac last night that the Dawson mill pond dam froze solid, the first time in recent memory. The dam, located in Beaudette Park, has a large volume of water flowing over it normally, but the freezing temperatures congealed the moving water.

DOWNTOWN DESERTED — This was the aftermath of a four-foot snowfall in Michigan City, Ind. Snowed-in cars on this downtown street stand as mute testimony to the city's paralysis. The heavy snowfall caused Mayor Francis Fedder to declare a state of emergency as transportation slid to a halt. With sub-zero winds piling up drifts six and seven feet deep, officials appealed for help from nearby cities.

SNOW STEAM—A New Haven Railroad train offers a misty view as it plows into a snow drift on its way into the station at Hartford, Conn. Although snow was heavy in most Eastern areas, trains on some routes were able to maintain schedules. In Pittsfield, Mass., however, four hundred passengers on three trains were marooned all night in the Berkshire hills by huge snow drifts.

GOING NOWHERE FAST — In fact many of the vehicles in these two long lines of traffic near Washington aren't going at all. Stalled cars and trucks snarled traffic so badly that only one of the four lanes on the highway at right was open. Traffic on the merging road at left was blocked by abandoned automobiles. The Eastern storm dumped 17 inches of snow on this area.

Pontiac and the rest of the state shuddered in numbing cold today, hit by one of the deepest of deep-freezes ever to blow into this area.

Pontiac area residents will have to go back to 1940 to find it much colder. On Jan. 19 of that year the mercury plummeted to 12 below.

Helping to push the mercury below the zero mark were cloudless skies and northerly winds that caused many snow drifts.

The Oakland County Road Commission reported all major roads passable, but some five-foot drifts on back roads.

The weather forced schools to shut in Almont, North Branch, and Utica. All Oakland County schools were reported open. Schools in Sanilac and St. Clair Counties were shut due to impassable roads and buses that wouldn't start.

Thousands of cars also failed this morning. The major Automobile Club of Michigan emergency stations in Pontiac said they were some five hours behind in answering calls.

There were nearly 2,000 calls of frozen batteries, radiators, gas lines and other mechanical troubles.

Because many oil heat users with outdoor tanks have found their oil lines frozen during this cold spell, fuel oil companies are suggesting

Haases Report 'Sunny South' Icier Than City

Pontiac Press columnist Joe Haas and Mrs. Haas are driving to Florida for a vacation trip. They wired this morning:

"During the last three days in Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee, we have encountered deeper snow, more sub-zero weather, and more icy roads than we have had all of the winter in the Pontiac area.

"Bottles of Coke in the trunk of our car froze and burst. It is near zero in northern Alabama today, with deeper snow than we've had at any time in the Pontiac area this winter."

Explain 1958 Contract Demands

Four-Day Work Week Exchange Flatly Denied by Union Director

By HAROLD S. COHEN

A flat denial that the UAW would exchange its profit sharing plan for a four-day work week was made by Leonard Woodcock, UAW's General Motors Department director.

Woodcock spoke at a meeting of all Pontiac area GM workers, held Saturday afternoon at the Pontiac Local 653 Hall. Some 400 persons attended.

Woodcock said he was misquoted by Detroit reporters last week.

"I only said in answer to their questions, that if GM proposed a four-day week, we would give it serious consideration."

Woodcock told the workers that the UAW is deadly serious about the profit sharing plan, because it benefits labor without adding to inflationary pressures.

He scored reported comments by GM and Ford officials calling the plan "novel and dangerous."

"It is the same plan that Ford and General Motors have used for years among their top executives," he said. "How can Harlow Curtice attack this plan as 'novel' when he has received $3.5 million in the past 10 years from profit sharing."

★ ★ ★

Woodcock attacked "price rigging" by auto manufacturers saying, "We have today an oversupply of cars and a shortage of purchasing power and yet prices go up. This is not free enterprise."

He charged the auto firms with planning to force workers to

No Whistling in Space, Complains 'Moon Man'

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Airman Donald G. Farrell completed seven days in a make-believe space ship yesterday and came out saying "I believe anyone could have done the same thing."

Scientists at the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Air Force Base jubilantly agreed that the 23-year-old native of the Bronx, N.Y., had just proved that man is ready for space flight.

"There was one strange sensation," Farrell said after a solid week in a hermatically sealed tank that represented the cabin of a space ship.

"I couldn't whistle."

Other than that the calm volunteer reported few physical or mental discomforts on being locked in the tanklike experimental space cabin. He could not see or hear what was going on outside.

★ ★ ★

He did not think the clustered researchers could hear him. However, it was revealed during the tests that he could be heard by special microphone that was recording his report on paper.

Storm Sweeps From Southland to New England

127 Perish as Mercury Falls Below Zero and Drifts Pile Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A death-dealing storm swept across the Northeast yesterday, leaving snowfalls of up to 58 inches. The storm had hit an area from Mississippi to New England.

The storm was centered over Portland, Maine, today and heading for the Atlantic.

Meanwhile, a polar air mass over the Midwest dropped temperatures to the lowest level of the year.

Winter's double-barreled blast left in its wake at least 127 deaths.

While Weather Bureau officials in New York City hesitated to call the Northeast storm a blizzard, they conceded that one of a blizzard's three key features—frigid temperatures — had made use of the term possible.

The two other attributes of a blizzard, swirling snow and high winds, had already taken hold of much of the Atlantic Coast.

STILL SNOWING

Even after the center of the storm had passed most of the Northeastern section of the nation, snow continued to fall from the eastern Great Lakes and the upper Ohio Valley to New England. Gusty winds reached 50 miles an hours.

★ ★ ★

Lebanon, N. H. recorded 58 inches of snow on the ground while Boston and Caribou, Maine, reported depths of 19 and 32 inches, respectively.

In Boston, a 37-year-old record was swept from the books last night when 17 inches were measured. The City Weather Bureau spoke of "the wildest coastal storm of the winter." The old mark for a 24-hour snowfall in the city was 16½ inches, set in 1921.

At least 11 Connecticut communities declared states of emergency and similar steps were ordered in CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Mary Hart had cold feet so she heated a towel and went to bed. The idea worked and she soon was asleep. But her comfort was short lived. She awoke to find the bed afire. Mrs. Hart and 10 other residents of the building fled into the early morning cold. Fire Marshall Howard Fox said damage was about $500.

BOWIE, Md. (AP) — A young couple spent their wedding night with 20 relatives and friends in the Ascension Catholic Church. Five-foot drifts of snow blocked the church doors during the ceremony and reception Saturday for Joan Patten, 20, of Bowie and William A. Fletcher, 22, of Covington, Md. A bulldozer blazed a rescue trail yesterday.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Among the hundreds of Boy Scouts marooned by snow on weekend trips to mountain areas were 40 boys stranded on top of Kittatinny Mountain in New Jersey. A snowplow couldn't reach them, but one boy managed to wade through the drifts to a telephone and call to reassure their families. His report: "Having a wonderful time."

★ ★ ★

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—When the annual Jersey Coast Boat Show closed its doors Saturday night, the exhibitors found piles of snow outside. A dozen of them curled up in the sleeping facilities provided in the boats they were exhibiting.

★ ★ ★

NEW YORK (AP) — A policeman's widow got snowbound in her Brooklyn cottage. Two police radio cars, two sanitation bulldozers and a police emergency squad failed to reach her. Finally a brace of cops set out on foot to walk a mile and a quarter through the drifts. They took sticks from 66-year-old Mrs. Eleanor McGill's woodshed, made a stretcher, wrapped her in blankets and carried her out.

★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON, N.J. (AP) — When Mrs. Oscar Dancy went into labor at her home on top of Montana Mountain during the height of the snowstorm, state police sent a snowplow to clear the road to her house. The snowplow got stuck. So police called in the National Guard which sent a 45-ton tank to plow through the road. Mrs. Dancy was rushed to a hospital.

2 Tragedies Hit Alma Refinery

Plant Fire Kills One; 2 Executives, Pilot Die in Plane Crash

ALMA (UP)—A Leonard Refinery Co. worker died Sunday of burns, bringing the company's fatality list to four after two separate disasters.

Fire and 15 explosions that ripped through the maze of pipes and tanks at the east edge of Alma claimed the life of Gordon Anderson, 34, of St. Louis, Mich., a vacuum unit operator.

A plane crash in a blinding snowstorm near New Buffalo, in Southwestern Michigan, killed three others a few hours later.

They were Delbert Young Hewitt, 48, president of the Leonard Crude Oil Co., a subsidiary of the refinery; William Elliott, 38, manager of Leonard Crude, and Stanley King, 34, company pilot.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration was investigating the crash Sunday.

Anderson was one of six refinery workers burned by the flaming gasoline, oil and asphalt. He died at 6:20 a.m. Sunday in Gratiot Community Hospital of burns on 90 per cent of his body.

Robert Balcer, 31, of St. Louis, was listed in "serious condition" at the hospital. Reported "quite satisfactory" were Harmon Drapper, 45, of St. Louis; Lester Hamp, 46, of Alma, and Ramon Wolfgang, of Elwell.

A company spokesman said the damage will run between $250,000 and $500,000. The refinery will be out of operation until Wednesday.

The trouble began at 1:20 p.m. when a valve apparently failed on a tank of 20,000 gallons of butane gas and the tank ruptured.

Why is the weather of the Hawaiian Islands practically ideal?

The much-famed climate of the Pacific vacation islands is caused by their location (latitude) and the huge mass of water surrounding them, and the topography of the land itself.

The ocean area provides a constant temperature, since it does not give up its heat as readily as a land mass. The latitude (about that of Cuba) promises warmth. The breezes from the sea in daytime and down the mountain slopes at night insure comfortable temperatures, rather than excessive heat.

Thus the combination of low mountains (these conditions pertain to Oahu particularly and to most of the other islands generally), ocean mass, latitude, prevailing winds and other factors contribute to the amazing constancy of Hawaii's good weather.

Sad Poet's Pleas Seek Surcease of Tax Increase

Jones, a professional entertainer and magician, fired off 30 lines of verse to the Bangor Township Board of Tax Review in Van Buren County.

Jones lamented in winding up his poem:

★ ☆ ★

Due, no doubt, to malignant inflation
We've suffered your constant re-valuation.
Our assessments have increased nearly 200 per cent
Which, frankly finds us pretty well bent.
We humbly petition that you re-appraise,
Just devalue to balance the raise.
Oh, to be as carefree as a grouse—
Let's sell our home, move to the poorhouse.
Hoping for a favorable consequence
To you, my salutations and compliments.

Jones hasn't received a reply from the board yet.

No Space Whistling, Says 'Moon Man' marking a calendar was he able to tell if it was day or night.

"I didn't feel in the true sense that I was on a space ship," he said.

"I realized that I was on the ground at all times.

"There was no fear such as there might be in a real space ship. Other than that it simulated a real space ship flight."

Space test experts explained that Farrell's nonwhistling ability stemmed from the fact that a simulated 18,000-foot altitude was maintained in the space chamber.

Farrell's other comments on the test included: "I lost four pounds—but I could afford to lose four pounds. I only weigh 181 now.

"At no time did I get bored.

"I was kept busy enough that there was no thought of personal discomfort.

RECORDED EVERYTHING

"I kept a diary and put in everything that transpired.

"I got a little bit tired.

"Really and truly, I could like to make a trip to the moon.

"It would be easier if there were someone with you but that is just my personal opinion."

Back home in the Bronx, his parents were pleased that he came out grinning. "Wonderful news," said Mr. and Mrs. James A. Farrell.

And in Niagara Falls, N.Y., Farrell's girl friend Jo Ann Burden smiled and said, "I'm glad it's over." When the young secretary heard that Farrell had said he "really didn't have time to think about her," she said: "Oh, that's all right. I don't care."

Farrell crawled into the 3-by-5-foot cabin with no more fuss than a Sunday motorist getting into the family car. He emerged in almost the same fashion. His eyes looked red as if strained by two glaring bright lights that burned night and day for the benefit of a battery of cameras designed to record his movements.

He ducked out of the cabin and stretched to his full six-foot height for the first time in a week. Only by shifting scientific equipment that almost filled the cabin was Farrell able to partially lie down for his 4½-hour sleeping periods.

With more shifting, he gained a scant square foot in which to stand stooped and take a few exercises.

"I believe I was afforded ample space for the duties performed," he said.

He said he had plenty to eat and ate everything put inside the cabin "from Vienna sausage to quails eggs."

"The eggs were boiled and canned," he said. "I think maybe someone intended them for a surprise but they were quite good."

"This airman not only knows how to ride a space ship but he knows how to hold a press conference," said Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, who made a special trip here just to greet Farrell.

Life Sentence Given Drew for Murder

A sentence of life in prison was handed down this morning by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty for Edward L. Drew, convicted earlier this month of murdering an elderly Commerce Township grocery last October.

A jury found 26-year-old Drew guilty of first-degree murder Feb. 5, climaxing a 1½-day trial before Judge Doty. A life sentence is mandatory for this crime.

Drew, 2993 Welch Rd., Commerce Township, admitted shooting Karl Kolm, 63, in his small grocery store at 1010 Oakley Rd., two miles north of Walled Lake.

Before he was sentenced, Drew alleged the judge's instructions to the jury was prejudicial. Judge Doty replied: "The jury had no trouble reaching its verdict."

FREAK BLIZZARD

A freak blizzard over an area only about 20 miles square around Michigan City, Ind., dropped up to 48 inches of snow.

The Lake Michigan port city's 30,000 residents were almost completely isolated. Mayor Francis Fedder declared a state of emergency. Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley sent nine snow plows to aid the stricken community. George Chacharis, acting mayor of Gary, Ind., sent 13 pieces of road equipment.

Washington, D.C., was paralyzed by a 14-inch snowfall, the district's worst in 22 years. Thousands of government workers remain home today with White House approval. All schools were closed.

★ ★ ★

Schools were closed in hundreds of other communities in a number of states. Many industries and business offices were closed. Many Sunday church services were canceled.

NO POLICE LEAVES

In New York, Gov. Averell Harriman canceled all state police leaves. In Pennsylvania, Gov. George M. Leader ordered key civilian defense units mobilized to aid the highway department.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 40 to 45 inches fell in Wayne County in the extreme northeastern corner of the state.

Hundreds of weekend pleasure-seekers were stranded by the storm in the eastern area, including up to 1,000 who spent Saturday night at Maryland's Bowie Race Track.

The fall of 8½ inches in New York City was the heaviest in almost two years. Public and parochial schools in the city were to carry on today.

TRANSPORT DELAYED

Throughout eastern New York and in other parts of the Northeast, plane and bus service was canceled and trains were delayed. Power failures harassed many towns.

★ ★ ★

The snowstorm started Friday on the Gulf Coast of Louisiana, drove into Mississippi, swung east into the Carolinas and then headed up the Atlantic Coast.

Maryland State Police reported almost all major highways in the state impassable due to drifting snow. A huge traffic jam developed at the Baltimore line on U.S. 40. Cars have been stopped there for 14 hours.

The temperature dropped to 23 degrees below zero early today on 6,684-foot Mt. Mitchell in North Carolina. Yesterday's high temperature there was minus 6 degrees. There were 28 inches of snow on the ground and winds of 40 to 50 miles an hour.

SOUTH SUFFERING

In Atlanta, the hardest cold wave of winter's worst visit in years hit the South today and a natural gas shortage added to the hardships.

★ ★ ★

The natural gas shortage was reported in Georgia and Alabama. The Atlanta Gas Light Co., which serves 58 communities in 29 counties, started radio broadcasts early in the day appealing to residential customers to cut their thermostats back five degrees.

They also were urged to delay washing, and any cooking not strictly necessary.

HAZARDOUS ROADS

Schools closed in at least 10 Georgia counties and many roads were hazardous because of ice and snow.

A similar situation existed in Alabama. Among the schools closed because of a gas shortage were those at Phenix City—adjacent to Columbus, Ga., and Ft. Benning—and Lanett.

Probers Question Schwartz

Air 'Pressure' Allegations

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (UP) — Allegations that some persons connected with the White House tried to influence decisions of independent regulatory agencies may be aired today before a House subcommittee.

Bernard Schwartz, who has made such allegations, was summoned back to continue his testimony before the House group which fired him a week ago as its counsel.

Schwartz was ousted in a row over the conduct of the subcommittee's probe of the Federal Communications Commission and five other regulatory agencies.

He has charged that FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack accepted at least $2,650 dollars from a lawyer for one of four applicants for television Channel 10 in Miami, Fla. Schwartz said Mack was pledged to vote for the lawyer's client, which received the grant last year.

Mack, who has said Schwartz's charges are "without foundation," will testify later in the week, perhaps Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Schwartz has said a "white House clique" has exerted pressure on supposedly independent agencies which regulate the broadcasting, airline, power and other industries. He has not given the names of Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide; Secretary of Commerce Weeks; former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey; and Col. Gordon Moore, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Eisenhower.

Nearly 5,000 public and parochial students in the Utica area received an extended weekend when nine schools remained closed. Some 625 students in the Almont Community School district cheered the "no school" news.

The weather caused some power trouble for more than 1,000 Detroit Edison users in the Commerce Township area when a broken line cut them off from electricity this morning at 8 o'clock for about an hour.

The weather was blamed for contributing to the deaths of a young man and a boy whose bodies were found in their car which was stuck in a snowdrift on U.S. 41 near McFarland in Marquette County.

Police listed them as Spencer B. Peterson, 22, and David Soulliere, 15, both of Marquette. They died of asphyxiation after their car became stuck.

The "ice box" of Michigan overnight was Ramsey, nine miles east of Ironwood, which recorded 35 below. Muskegon was the "warmest" spot with the mercury hovering a fraction below zero.

Police reported many roads in the state slippery because of drifting snow.

Road crews from Oakland County, out around the clock since Friday night, had to use sand in an effort to remove ice from roads.

Among other reported lows in the state were: Ironwood -20; Houghton -15, Pellston -12, Grand Marais, Battle Creek and Flint -13, Jackson -10, and Gladwin -9.

The five-day forecast for Pontiac and vicinity was for temperatures to average around 16 degrees below normal—high 34 and low 20.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was -9. At 2 p.m. the reading was 3 degrees above zero.

Commissioners to Decide on Paving of Elm Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners tonight will decide on the necessity of the paving of Elm street from Bower street to Hunter boulevard. Plans call for a 37-foot concrete pavement at an estimated cost of $7,900, 85 per cent of which will be borne by abutting property owners.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners also will consider two applications for zoning map changes.

One from Marian Smith asks a change on six lots in the Snow Subdivision. The owner claims the residential value of the property has been lowered by the proximity of the Bowers fire station.

The second application is from F. H. Henkel who asks that one lot on West Maple avenue be rezoned to multiple dwelling use.

The Exchange Club has requested April 19 for its toothbrush sale; the Rotary Club wants April 5 for its lily sale, and the Birmingham Women's Club is seeking April 11 or 12 for a tag day to benefit the Girls' Ranch.

The death of Mrs. Loretta Sidney, 39, of 1339 S. Eton Rd. was determined by autopsy to have been caused by asphyxiation, according to Detective Sgt. Robert Schaule of the Birmingham Police Department.

Mrs. Sidney died Saturday morning in a fire which gutted her home.

Fire Chief Park Smith said that while all facts were not yet known, the fire is believed to have been caused by an overheated furnace.

Birmingham Women's Club has planned two meetings for tomorrow. The fine arts and modern living groups will meet jointly for an 8 p.m. session at the Chesterfield road home of Mrs. William Mirgeler. Husbands have been invited to hear a talk on stocks and bonds by D. W. Linton.

The American home unit will entertain the literature department, with Mrs. Lawrence Heintz as hostess. Husbands also have been invited to this 8 p.m. program which will feature colored slides on the Mediterranean islands.

Men's Night will be observed Wednesday by Birmingham Chapter 220, Order of the Eastern Star. The initiation of four candidates will be conducted.

This class is unusual in the history of the chapter in that it is made up of four men, David Masterson, past master of Birmingham Lodge 44, F&AM; Glen Barker, Merle Ryder and Henry Bowden.

Union Head Denies Change in Demands

strike in June when a backlog of autos will carry dealers for several months without new production.

"We have our strategy, too," Woodcock said, "and we might not be provoked into a strike in June, but might wait until the 1959 model year production starts, to walk out."

He said Chrysler's share of auto sales has slumped from 20 per cent last year to 13 per cent and the firm was "trying desperately" to force the workers to strike now to avoid payment of unemployment benefits and to exhaust the union strike fund.

He said the UAW would seek elimination of time and a half for overtime and the substitution of double time for all work over eight hours a day plus any work on Saturdays or Sundays.

Better pensions which would allow workers to draw more money from the pension fund if they retired before 65 until they became eligible for social security benefits were outlined by Moran.

Another demand on GM, he said, will be full time shop committeemen paid by the company, such as exists at Ford.

Beginning of dues checkoff within 30 days after a new employe is hired instead of 90 days as it is now, was another demand explained by Moran.

A final demand, he listed, would be promotion on a basis of seniority with employes applying in writing for the promotions they wanted.

Woodcock, in his discussion of economic demands, said improved supplementary unemployment benefits would be sought from GM which will cost the company 2½ per cent of the current payroll.

Benefits would be boosted under the union demands, he said, to 65 per cent of the workers' gross pay, not take home pay as now, plus $2 for each dependent.

Also, he added, the company would pay supplementary unemployment benefits (SUB) for any hours less than 40 a man might work in a week under the UAW plan. Maximum length of SUB payments would be extended to 52 weeks, from the present 24.

He also proposed that GM join the union in a study of hospital-medical costs to see if they can be lowered.

"If the current recession, which may be a deliberately planned one, is continued," Woodcock said, "the auto companies may be surprised by the radical change in the political temper of the American people."

"They may get the surprise of their lives," he added, "like they did 20 years ago." He was alluding to the sit-down strikes of 1937.

Mamie's Brother-in-Law Linked With TV Case

WASHINGTON (INS)—House investigators linked Mamie Eisenhower's brother-in-law today with the application of National Airlines in a controversial Miami TV license case.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) of the subcommittee on legislative oversight, read from a sworn affidavit that the brother-in-law, Col. Gordon Moore, and Mrs. Moore had once been house guests of National Airlines president George T. Baker.

U.S. Population Climbs to 172,790,000

WASHINGTON (UP)—The population of the United States was about 172,790,000 as of the first of the year.

This estimate, reported by the Census Bureau, was about three million bigger than the previous year and represented a rise of more than 22 million since the last general census in 1950.

The bureau said both births and deaths in 1957 reached record totals for any year in U.S. history.

Formosa Merrily Ushers Out Its Year of Rooster

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Year of the rooster was being ushered out in Formosa with the usual merrymaking.

* * *

Most people were waiting up for midnight, to welcome the Year of the Dog, next in the 12-year animal cycle observed by the Chinese. The Dog's approach was heralded by the traditional popping of firecrackers, whose explosions are intended to scare away evil spirits.

Buses and trains were crowded as people traveled to family reunions. The lunar New Year's Eve is considered especially auspicious for such reunions because all the lesser dieties are supposed to be then reporting to the Jade Emperor in the 33rd heaven, leaving mortals on their own.

American Indians used petroleum as a medicine.

Mount Everest in the Himalayas is 29,002 feet high. It has been climbed only once, in 1953.

Air Force Tells Need for Bases

Report Specifies That Spanish Sites Meet Urgent Requirements

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force says there is a "strong military requirement" for the bases it is building in Spain.

This was the Air Force's reply to a report by the General Accounting Office which said some of the bases involved in the half-billion-dollar construction program are of doubtful military value.

The GAO report was made Jan. 31 to House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) and Vice President Nixon, the Senate's presiding officer. The GAO functions as a watchdog for Congress over government spending.

In its report, the GAO said construction was continued at San Pablo when there was no operational need for that base. The agency said this was done because stopping the work "would have had an adverse effect on Spanish-American relations.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force said the construction at San Pablo "provides for increasing both our striking and our emergency recovery capability."

The GAO said a base site was chosen at Torrejon chiefly because Spanish officials wanted an air defense post near Madrid and a show place for jet fighters.

★ ★ ★

In reply, the Air Force said the Torrejon base "is satisfactory from a military point of view and benefits from excellent community support from Madrid."

Hal Boyle Says:

Lauren Bacall No Believer in Useless Life

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't believe in a useless life," said Lauren Bacall. "You have to do something for somebody."

★ ★ ★

After the death of her husband, Humphrey Bogart, a year and a month ago, Lauren was left well enough off to spend the rest of her life in comfortable idleness if she chose.

"But you just can't throw in the sponge—and work helps," she said. "It disciplines you."

So she went back to the studios and starred in her 14th film, "Gift of Love," for 20th Century-Fox. Then she came on to New York to celebrate, as she and "Bogie" used to do in the old days, when either had finished a picture.

But it hasn't been quite the same fun. Lauren, one of the best-liked gals in Hollywood, still has her sudden, deep, throaty, infectious laugh—but at times it has a kind of question mark behind it.

"My goal now is to stay alive," she said cheerfully when asked about her future plans. "That's a pretty good program now—just to survive until the Sputniks and the rest of the things take over.

"But I haven't any long-range plans. I've learned not to, and I never will again. Plan your life . . . and something steps in . . . and there you are . . . flat. Something always happens to louse it up."

Lauren hasn't gotten over the death of her husband yet, but she isn't looking for anybody's sympathy.

"It takes a long time," she remarked matter-of-factly. "But my friends have helped—and the passage of time. The passage of time takes care of everything. . . . Yes, everything.

"My main problem was to learn to live alone. When you've shared your life with someone for 11½ years, it's a problem suddenly to find yourselves with both halves.

"I suppose it's good training—to learn to shift for yourself. But if you forget for a moment and try to lean on someone, you fall down . . . because there's no one there.

"The children give you a tangible reason for continuing, but you can't lean on them. I love babies. I'd like to have eight more."

She has two—Stephen (called "Bonzo"), who is 9 and wants to be a scientist and a fireman, and Leslie, 5½, who at the moment wants to be a ballet dancer.

★ ★ ★

"I want my children to be anything they want to be — except bums," she said. "But I will try to impress upon them two things—that whatever they do they must do well, and that the world doesn't owe them a darned thing. I think that's very important."

Lauren restlessly lit another of the cigarettes she had been chain smoking from three packs on a nearby hotel livingroom table.

"I smoke about 8,000 a day," she remarked absently. "I don't read what they say about cigarettes.

★ ★ ★

"Keeping your sense of humor is what really keeps you going," said Lauren. "It's a battle some of the time. But it helps you get over the rough spots—and the dull ones—in this world."

THEY'RE ALL SCARED TO DEATH OF YOU, THE PUBLIC!

Yes, they are running scared as cats! They are afraid to give you the freedom to choose on your own behalf the television programs you might want to see! They say that you must be compelled to watch the programs they select for you or nothing at all!

Who is so afraid?

The president of CBS and the president of NBC and the president of ABC and the president of the National Association of Broadcasters and a number of other very powerful people who run television networks and are so afraid to trust you that they are operating a nation-wide propaganda and lobbying campaign, hoping to high pressure you and Congress!

They are afraid that even the limited trial run of subscription TV, recently authorized by the FCC, would prove a public demand for really great programs and be a huge success.

What are they so afraid of?

These men know better than anyone else that your TV set is technically capable of receiving the finest new motion pictures and hit Broadway plays. These are attractions which you can now see only by leaving your home and going out to the theatre or stadium, because the advertiser can never afford to sponsor them.

The networks know it would be cheaper and more convenient for you to see these great features in your own living room at a cost to the whole family of less than one ticket to the movies! No baby-sitters—no traffic, no parking fees—and no commercials in the program!

This is what wakes them up shaking in the middle of the night! They are afraid you will find out how good TV can really be!

This is why they are flooding the public and Congress with the phony charges that Subscription TV will make every set owner pay for the programs he now sees free. They know this is not true and that it cannot ever be true.

At Zenith, we have time and time again pointed out that it would be plain business stupidity to ask you to pay to see a program you are now receiving free. The FCC has stated that it does not intend to permit, during the tests or after them, any practices that will impair the availability of advertising supported or so-called free programs. But despite all this—the phony charge continues being dinned into the ears of millions of Americans, accompanied with the request that people object to subscription television in letters to Congressmen.

The campaign is paying off handsomely. Thousands of letters from people rebelling against the idea of having to pay for present television programs are pouring into Congressmen's offices.

Actually, these thousands of letters prove what we have always known, namely, that the public would be outraged if asked to pay for television programs now received through advertising sponsorship. It has always been our position that subscription television can only succeed if it offers vastly superior programming for which people are willing to pay.

This all-out network campaign raises a frightening spectre of network power over the public mind. If it is successful, it will confirm the three networks as the most powerful and dangerous lobby the country has ever known. Between them, they will have an ironclad grip over what shall be seen and what shall not be seen on the nation's 40,000,000 television sets. This power is now being used to prevent you from even sampling the wares of a new competitor, subscription television. It can also be used for many purposes, political as well as economic. Where will it stop?

If anyone has any doubt about the manner in which this power is being used today, here are a few of the facts:

Last January 13, on the eve of Congressional hearings regarding subscription television and proposed action to loosen the strangle-hold networks now have on their dependents, the affiliated stations, the Columbia Broadcasting System threw an enormous banquet in Washington. There was provided a lavish star-studded program of entertainment which CBS would have charged an advertiser a quarter of a million dollars to televise. It was specifically designed to attract members of Congress. What these guests had not anticipated was the presence of scores of executives of affiliated stations, well briefed beforehand, and strategically seated in the hope that the captive audience of Senators and Congressmen could be indoctrinated against subscription television.

Stations were urged to go on the air at home to repeat the charge that subscription TV would take over all TV, and to urge their listeners to write opposing letters to their Congressmen.

One station, a CBS affiliate, went so far as to tell the kids listening to a children's program that it would be killed off by Pay-TV and to be sure to get mother and dad to write their Congressman and Senator.

Others bought space in local newspapers to publish the same phony charges.

Still others scurried through the halls of Congress, urging their representatives to vote for legislation that would ban even the FCC-authorized trial of subscription TV.

NBC, another network, asked its affiliated stations to contribute money to an organization formed solely for the purpose of fighting subscription TV.

Washington has rarely, if ever, seen such a display of high pressure lobbying from entrenched and vested interests.

All this has just one purpose—they want to pressure Congress into THINKING that the people are against subscription television. The networks and the movie theatres don't really believe you are against it—on the contrary, they are so afraid you will support it during the course of the trial run proposed by the FCC that they are frantic in their efforts to prevent you from having that chance! If they really believed you were against paying a small fee for better, commercial-free programs, or that we won't be able to bring such programs to you, then they should welcome a public test. They know as well as anyone that we must have your support, earned by giving you the top-notch programs you really want, because without your support, even a limited test would be a crashing flop!

It is astounding enough that the networks dare undertake such an unprecedented thing as the outlawing of a new competitor at birth. It is shocking enough that their cynicism toward governmental processes has reached the point where they insult Congress by seeking to use lavish entertainment, pressure from special interests, and letters obviously induced by unfair propaganda to obtain legislation to protect their own pocketbooks. It is amazing enough that they can take in hundreds of millions of dollars each year out of the public's airwaves, for which they pay nothing, and then use those public airwaves to conduct unfair propaganda campaigns. But the most astounding, shocking and amazing thing of all is that three organizations in New York City could have amassed such terrible power. The question is no longer whether subscription television will benefit the public. The question is whether our democratic institutions and processes can co-exist with such tremendous concentrations of unbridled and irresponsible power.

What About Pay TV?

Presidents of America's three major radio-TV networks have been busy this week warning a Congressional committee that pay-TV would ruin free-TV.

The argument is intriguing. Here, say the gentlemen, are magnificent television programs free to the American people at a mere twist of the fingers. Yet if the Federal Communications Commission approves a three-year test of pay-TV, say these network presidents in unison, practically all the good shows and talent would gravitate to the pay circuits, leaving free TV nothing.

Let's examine this:

Why should a man pay for Product A when a similar Product B is offered free? There is only one answer. He must prefer Product A enough to make up for the price.

How could pay-TV survive in the face of competition from free-TV? Only if pay-TV offered programs that appealed to X-number of people so much more than the free-TV fare that these people would be willing to fork over enough to make pay-TV a paying proposition.

Is there any reason why Americans should not have a choice between free entertainment and paid entertainment? They always have. You can go to the symphony, or you can play a record on your phonograph. You can take a bus ride, or you can walk your girl through the park. You can go to a movie, or you can flip on the TV.

Ah, as Hamlet said, there's the rub.

What the TV tycoons are really saying is that if you want to see good shows without commercials you cannot see them in your home—no, not even if you are willing to pay for the privilege. You must load the kids in the car and drive to the nearest theater. Your home entertainment is to be reserved exclusively for what the Presidents of NBC, CBS and ABC choose to give you.

If these gentlemen choose to give you Grade B movies, interrupted every few minutes with lengthy sales talks, you must take it. You cannot subscribe to something else for your living room. In short, unless you are willing to go to the inconvenience of leaving your house you must leave your entertainment in the hands of the commercial networks.

So much for these crocodile tears about pay-TV "depriving the American people of free entertainment." If the American people chobse not to pay the commercial circuits will lose no viewers. And unless the pay circuits offer better fare than TV does at present they will have no business.

We have here a very fundamental issue. Do the electronic screens in America's living rooms belong to NBC, CBS and ABC or do they belong to the people who have bought them? Is it in the interests of "free enterprise" to give the three networks dictatorial power over what one shall see in his home, or shall the home-owner be allowed to buy a program if he thinks it's worth the price?

We hope Congress isn't fooled by these anguished gentlemen.

ORTONVILLE HOME DESTROYED — Four fire departments battled this blaze which destroyed the Virgil Hickey home, 700 State Park Rd., Ortonville, shortly after noon yesterday. Much of the family's furniture was saved, but nothing was left of the house except the chimney. Brandon Township Fire Marshal William Buckingham said the fire apparently was caused by faulty wiring. Other departments fighting the blaze were from Atlas and Independence townships and Oxford Village. Firemen said, however, that the house was a mass of flames when they arrived — too late to be able to stop it.

Icebreaker Suddenly Isn't as Maumee Bay Freezes

TOLEDO (AP)—It's cold, all right. The Coast Guard cutter Tupelo, which doubles as an icebreaker, was frozen in itself today in its berth at Bayview Park.

Lt. Henry Wear, skipper of the vessel, said it would be able to batter its way out of the ice if the need arises. He estimated the ice is about two feet thick in Maumee Bay where ice-breaking operations are expected to resume March 1.

Walled Lake Family Surprised

Baby Born, House Robbed During Florida Vacation

Their vacation at Miami Beach was interrupted by a baby — born to Mrs. Campanaro, 35, two months ahead of schedule. A girl, whom they named Diane, she weighed in Feb. 7 at two pounds nine ounces at the Hollywood Hospital, Miami.

Campanaro, who owns a Walled Lake Supermarket, his wife and daughter, Debra, 10, were hardly back on the beach when they received word their home at 471 W. Walled Lake Dr., had been robbed of an estimated $700 in cash and $7,000 in U. S. Savings Bonds.

Walled Lake Police Chief Albert Decker said the break-in occurred sometime between Wednesday and Friday. The theft was discovered Friday afternoon by Campanaro's sister, Mrs. Florence Mahar of 220 Wanda St., Walled Lake.

"We hadn't expected the baby until April," Campanaro said.

★ ★ ★

"We were caught without baby clothes—didn't even have a name picked out."

The couple will have to leave Diane at Variety Children's Hospital, Miami Beach, until she weighs about six pounds, which may be about two months.

The family was to fly back to Walled Lake yesterday.

Our Right-to-Know Should Be Protected

Hearings have been concluded by the Freedom of Information subcommittee of the House Operations committee on the people's right to know what goes on in their government.

In defense of secrecy Federal administrators long have quoted a provision in the Federal code regulating "custody, use and preservation" of government documents. The intent of this clause obviously was to make officials responsible for records under their care and not blanket authority to keep them secret.

The First Amendment to the Constitution bars abridgment of freedom of speech and press. To this end the newspapers of the country carry on a constant struggle for less secrecy.

Witnesses for an amendment to the statute include such well known newspaper men as JAMES S. POPE, executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and CLARK K. MOLLENHOFF representing the Freedom of Information committee of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity.

All witnesses favored a simple clarifying amendment to the statute that "this section does not authorize withholding information from the public or limiting the availability of records to the public."

The amendment would in no way affect other laws which expressly authorize secrecy such as those concerned with military or trade secrets or income tax returns. It simply means that Government agencies may not keep secret public information on the basis of a law clearly not intended for that purpose.

★ ★ ★

Editor NEWTON of the Tampa Tribune, writing in Look Magazine, warns that we have far more secrecy in all levels of government today than even five years ago; that if this secrecy keeps expanding eventually we will have lost our right to know and with it the rest of our freedoms.

The Pontiac PRESS strongly believes this amendment should be made law.

U.N. Should Discuss French-Algerian Strife

President BOURGUIBA of Tunisia has appealed to the United Nations and France is holding emergency cabinet meetings over the French air raid on the helpless Tunisian town of Sakiet-Sidi-Youssef.

The United States and Britain protested to Paris and condemnation is worldwide. All this perhaps may help to placate Arab indignation but won't settle anything.

★ ★ ★

As far as that goes, France had provocation enough. Tunisia has been a sanctuary for Algeria's guerilla bands. Recently guerillas crossed from Tunisia and attacked a French patrol killing 15 men. Last fall France warned that under the "law of hot pursuit" which we ourselves used in the Mexican war, it claimed the right to pursue insurgents into Tunisia and has done so on numerous occasions. There seems to be no doubt that Tunisia has been providing refuge for the guerillas.

★ ★ ★

But bombing of innocent and helpless villagers is another thing and a tragic blunder. The French people deploring such tactics, are demanding to know who was responsible. Foreign Minister Pineau says the attack was not authorized by his government and there now is talk of apologies and indemnities to Tunisians.

President BOURGUIBA is a friend of the West. He has resisted extremist Arab pressure and has been trying to mediate between the French and Algerian Nationalists. However, he refuses to close Tunisia's borders to the rebels who strike from bases there although his country is heavily dependent on France economically.

Unfortunately of the 25 planes which ranged over the village for an hour, 17 were made in this country and were given to France under our military assistance program. This has brought the United States into the picture so Moscow and Cairo are taking full advantage of our embarrassment.

Politically Algeria is an integral part of France and the French claim the trouble there is an internal matter. However, this raid into Tunisian territory has made it a matter for the United Nations.

This County Started That Way; Then Dropped to 13th

Pessimist: A person who thinks the only place he can find gratitude is in the dictionary.

A proof of the great development of Oakland County in the past half century is found in the fact that in the 1910 census it was thirteenth in population among Michigan's 83 counties. The growth which had then started lifted it to second place, which it has held for several years.

When our county was organized in 1820, it was in second place, Wayne then also being the only county to have a greater population. It held that position for 50 years.

In 1870 we dropped to fourth place, in 1880 to sixth, in 1890 to eleventh, in 1900 to twelfth, and in 1910 to thirteenth. Then the climb to our present position started.

Our county now has nearly twice the population of third place Kent County, and nearly three times that of fourth place Genesee County.

Going Rather Far Afield?

David Lawrence Says:

Need 'Regulatory Agencies' Study

WASHINGTON — The cloud of scandal—involving here and there an isolated case of impropriety—has blown across the so-called independent commissions and may unfortunately tend to obscure a fundamental problem in government that has long called for attention.

LAWRENCE

There could be no more important study this year than the one a House committee has begun to make with respect to the "regulatory agencies."

Congress back in 1887 recognized that, with the growth of railroads, transportation required governmental regulation and hence established the Interstate Commerce Commission. What was then a railroad monopoly has ceased to be one in the transportation field.

The pattern, however, has been more or less followed in setting up eight other independent commissions—the Federal Trade Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, the National Labor Relations Board, the Federal Communications Commission, the Federal Power Commission, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Civil Aeronautics Board and the U.S. Tariff Commission.

Basically the trend arose because of a peculiar defect in the American governmental system—an unwillingness to let the executive branch of the government do the regulating of business or financial or industrial practices or employer-employe relationships.

Congress has always maintained that it should not delegate full power to the executive branch of the government in certain fields, but should retain a hold on the independent commissions as a kind of creature of the legislative branch.

This has resulted in all sorts of terminology. Sometimes these independent commissions are formally called "quasi-judicial" and sometimes "quasi-legislative," and in a recent report by the Hoover Commission, emphasis was placed on the need for transferring certain "administrative" functions to the regular executive departments or at least giving considerable administrative authority to the chairman of the independent agency.

When the New Deal came into power, the first serious challenge to the independence of the regulatory commissions developed. It came from none other than President Franklin D. Roosevelt himself, who on this point at least was as reactionary as any of the Republicans in the days when the wickedness of corporations was in the headlines.

For in 1933 Mr. Roosevelt summarily removed William E. Humphrey from the Federal Trade Commission in a letter which, in effect, said that he was a satisfactory person in all other respects, but that "I do not feel that your mind and my mind go along together on either the policies or the administering of the Federal Trade Commission."

The Supreme Court of the United States unanimously repudiated that doctrine and ordered the family of Mr. Humphrey paid his salary till the date of his death during the term for which he had been appointed and said commissioners couldn't be removed except for such causes as are specified by Congress in a law.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Roosevelt had given utterance, however, to a view which unfortunately prevailed throughout his administration — namely that, whether it involved a member of an independent commission or a justice of the Supreme Court, the views held by the prospective appointee had to correspond with those of the administration.

This was the beginning of the breakdown of the prestige of regulatory commissions in Washington.

The chief criticism of the regulatory agencies, according to a Hoover Commission report, is that they have become too engrossed in case-by-case activities and thus fail to play their roles and to promote the enterprises entrusted to their care.

Much of the work could be done by the regular departments, and the commissions should really be confined to ruling on questions of law.

It would be much better if Congress took a broad look at the functions of the commissions and gave them a mandate to do more to promote the well being of the industry they regulate and to think less of ways of harassing it and crippling it, especially since competitive industries go unregulated.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Diet of Pap Won't Keep Elderly Woman Healthy

An Indiana reader sends a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet Wheat to Eat, and asks for suggestions that may help mother, who is 72 and very miserable.

DR. BRADY

"In the past two years, mother has had hardening of the arteries, also arthritis . . . She eats barley soup, toast, some tea and milk. (Mrs. W. F.)"

★ ★ ★

Mother may continue to breathe for quite a while on the diet described, but that is all.

The minimum daily ration of milk that may help her is 1½ pints — three glasses. If she refuses to take fresh sweet whole milk, maybe she will take buttermilk, skim milk, or evaporated milk in one form or another; or cream on her cracked wheat at breakfast.

Buy wheat from farmer, feed store or public market. Crack it in your old coffee mill or in a hand or power mill such as that described in the pamphlet.

Besides cracked wheat or rolled oats or oatmeal as cereal, mother should have bacon, sausage or other meat or fish or two eggs for breakfast four or five days in the week.

Poach, boil soft or hard, scramble or fry the eggs — as she prefers. Egg cooked the way one prefers, or raw if you like, is most digestible. Cooked egg is slightly more nutritious than raw egg, because a fraction of raw egg white is not absorbed.

Mrs. F. doesn't say whether mother's masticating equipment is functionally efficient. There's no good reason why a person only 72 years old should not not have teeth or dentures to maintain good digestion.

It wouldn't matter so much if it were only the question of swallowing the food. Meat, for instance, requires no mastication — it digests just as well if it's swallowed in chunks; scraped or ground meat is not preferable for an invalid unless he or she prefers it that way. Proper mastication—which doesn't mean the extreme called Fletcherism — brings the salivary enzyme (ptyalin) in contact with every particle of carbohydrate (starch or sugar) in the food.

Digestion of carbohydrate begins in the mouth, and continues for nearly an hour after the food is swallowed before the enzyme is destroyed by acid gastric juice. From carbohydrate material we get most of our calories to supply the daily energy requirement.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Letters Discuss Problems of Slump, Possible Strike

To all union leaders: You alternately blame big business and the Government for the present recession. They may be partly to blame, but why not concede your own part? You claim if Government cut taxes or companies shared profits increased spending would stop the recession. What good to the present recession are profits that might be distributed a year from now at the cost of days, weeks or months of strike-caused unemployment?

★ ★ ★

If you're sincere, Mr. Union Leader, in wishing to make people confident of the future, sit down immediately with management and make the type of agreement your union members would make if they were free of the principles of unionism that they must support a strike to achieve their goals. Say we'd like more pay, more fringe benefits, share the profits, but even more than all these, we'd like to keep working. We want to sign a contract.

★ ★ ★

You'd have the spending and confidence you seek because members as well as the nation would know a crippling strike won't deprive them of income. They could feel free to start spending. The words of a union member express it well: "I need a new car and I want to add a room onto my house, but I can't do it until I'm sure we won't have a strike." Thousands, maybe millions, think the same way. It might not be a cure-all but it would be a good start.

We were glad to see the letter from Wife of Union Man about the GM Milestone contest. We, too, resented being called liars in the union paper just because we entered the contest.

All this "hate your boss" propaganda sounds mighty Russian to us. Maybe a trip to Russia would open the eyes of some of these radical union leaders.

Anyway, let them speak for themselves. We are a factory family who can still find something to be thankful for, and were glad to enter GM's contest.

Factory Family

I've been expecting to hear from a few like Worried, crying their eyes out about work. Worried was probably among those that bought everything their hearts desired while making good money and didn't save a cent for a rainy day. I doubt if they even gave God his share of their earnings.

If I happen to be among those he considers vultures, that have waited for a depression to spend my money, I'm glad. I saved mine till a dollar is worth a dollar, instead of 50 cents. Of course, my wife and I have always lived within our means, regardless of what I make. We don't try to keep up with the Joneses and buy a new car every year and fine clothes.

We're happy to have security when a slump comes and you won't see us rushing out to buy anything we don't really need, regardless of how cheap it may get. We give God his share first. You try that, Worried, it might help you.

Un-Worried

Hoorah! Finally the little man in the union at Fisher Body has gotten up on his hind legs.

The no-strike vote this week was very gratifying to us. We and nearly everyone else on the production line haven't had a 40-hour week this year and are in no shape to withstand a strike. I have yet to see, and my husband's been in the shop 10 years, any real gain from a strike.

I for one, and I'm not alone, am relieved the vote was no. Come on, men on production, don't let the union run us all into the ground in June as well as now. Again I say hoorah!

"So Jean buys an ample supply for just about whatever she will offer them.

"She also gets bread and pastry at almost half price by purchasing baked goods that are a day old.

"So I can certainly recommend that college men get married, at least if they pick as wisely as I did. Marriage is wonderful and my grades are higher now than they ever were before I settled down with Jean."

MARRIED STUDENTS

One of the great advantages coming from the recent war has been the fact it has made it fashionable for college students to be married.

Young married couples by the thousands are now living on college campuses. They may occupy rather tiny quarters, but they work and often study together.

Even if the wives are not officially enrolled in college courses, they obtain much of the benefits therefrom.

For they often do a lot of the library research for their husbands and then type the final themes or term papers.

★ ★ ★

In this way, they absorb a great deal of helpful information and thus share in their husbands' work as well as play.

A married student also saves a lot of time. The unmarried fellow may squander an hour driving to his girl friend's home and then waste a similar hour at the end of the date.

But a married student has his date with him all the time! So he salvages those hours the unmarried male must spend picking up his girl and then returning her.

And he saves money thereby, for it may take two gallons of gasoline for the unmarried fellow to do that extra driving.

BUDGET STRATEGY

Alas, not all wives are as thrifty and capable as Jean. But they can all learn how to live very economically.

A smart wife can thus prove it is literally true that two people can eat as economically at home as one can dine at the restaurant.

For she will spend no more on groceries for two than her mate would be charged at the cafeteria for his own meals, if he were single!

Remember, the more brains and experience you get, the less money you can live on!

Smart wives watch the ads in this paper and shift from one store to another to pick up the bargains.

And they look at the "net contents" on jars of peanut butter and other foods, so they can get the most net weight per penny expended.

If you men select smart wives, let them act as family treasurer of your domestic corporation, and praise them for their shrewd buying.

To help run your home more economically, send for my booklet "How to Live Happily on a Budget," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs, when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Would Halt Oil Shipments

Indonesian Rebels Order New Squeeze on Sukarno

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Rebel leaders in Sumatra have ordered a new economic squeeze on President Sukarno's shaky government today. His army chief replied with an apparently unenforceable order to arrest the top rebels.

★ ★ ★

In the first major step since it proclaimed its existence Saturday, the rebel government on Sumatra directed all foreign firms to halt oil shipments and royalties to the central government treasury here.

There was no indication whether the companies would comply. Most of the refineries are on Sumatra, which is largely controlled by the rebels.

★ ★ ★

If the oil companies comply, it would strike a body blow to the Jakarta government, which received millions of dollars annually in royalties and much foreign exchange from the oil shipments. Motor transport on populous Java also is dependent on Sumatran oil.

The major oil companies affected—the American Caltex and Stanvac and Royal Dutch Shell—operate mostly on rebel Sumatra.

Oilmen say the government-held sectors of Borneo could not begin to supply Java's needs.

★ ★ ★

The rebel order underscored the Outer Islands' main economic complaint against the Jakarta regime. They claim Jakarta is happy to sell their products but balks at giving them a fair share of the return either in tax appropriations or foreign goods.

Their other major complaint is that Sukarno's "guided democracy" fosters communism and corruption.

★ ★ ★

The arrest order was issued by Maj. Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, one of the more pro-Western leaders in the Sukarno regime. But it seemed unlikely he could enforce it.

The rebel center of Padang, Sumatra, is some 600 miles from Jakarta, and the Indonesian navy and air force haven't the craft to transport a sizable force.

★ ★ ★

Should the government decide to use force, it might open the way to a civil war. Each side, however, would be seriously hampered by lack of transport.

Her manager said she undoubtedly will miss all performances.

Order Autopsy on Body of Actor Van Zandt, 54

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — An autopsy has been ordered to determine the cause of the death of actor Phillip Van Zandt, 54, whose body was found yesterday in his apartment. A bottle of sleeping pills was beside him.

Van Zandt had played more than 400 character roles in Hollywood. He was born in Amsterdam, Holland.

Efforts Strained in North Africa

Tunisia Demands That U.N. Investigate War in Algeria

TUNIS (AP)—U.S. efforts to conciliate between France and Tunisia were threatened today by a Tunisian demand that the U. N. Security Council investigate the Algerian rebellion next door.

Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba cabed his U.N. delegate, Mongi Slim, to put the new demand before the Council as an extension of Tunisia's previous protest against the French air attack Feb. 8 on the border village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef. The Council is scheduled to debate the earlier complaint tomorrow.

Bourguiba said in an interview he had enlarged his demand because France had countered his first protest to the U.N. with a demand for a U.N. investigation of Algerian rebel operations from Tunisian sanctuaries.

★ ★ ★

The French contended they bombed Sakiet Sidi Youssef because rebels were concentrated there. The Tunisians claim 79 persons, including women and children, were killed.

Western sources termed the new Tunisian move "highly embarrassing." They feared it would give the Communists a new platform from which to attack the West.

★ ★ ★

The American Embassy said Bourguiba's action had made U.S. conciliation efforts more difficult.

Library Seeking Books Overdue—Only Gently

OXNARD, Calif. (AP)—City Atty. Joseph Goss wrote a letter to Dave White of Oxnard asking him to return two books long overdue at the public library.

The books were "Atomic Power," and "How to Make an Atomic Bomb in Your Own Kitchen."

At the end of the letter Goss wrote: "No massive retaliation, please."

Error Puts Okinawa Under Air-Raid Alert

NAHA, Okinawa (UP) — The U.S. Air Force got its signals crossed and put Okinawa under a false air defense alert for an hour today.

★ ★ ★

The 5th Air Force said an alert signaled by a training group in the Pacific was mistakenly transmitted to Okinawa and the island went on yellow alert — "an air raid is probable."

★ ★ ★

People ran for air raid shelters, antiaircraft crews went on duty, and soldiers mustered at the arms lockers before headquarters called off the alert.

Gas 'Tycoons' Killed Latest Bill—Potter

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) says the natural gas bill's chances of becoming law this year were killed by what he terme "the latest brazen moves of gas tycoons."

"Consumers throughout the nation, therefore, can view the incident as a kind of blessing," he wrote in a newsletter to constituents yesterday.

Potter referred to a dinner in Houston, Tex., last week in which Texas Republicans raised $100,000. The appeal for thouse funds said the Republican leadership had fought for the gas bill and could be counted on to do so again.

Potter said: "By their very crudeness, the Southwestern fat boys stacked the deck against themselves. No member of Congress, regardless of his position on an issue, could hold his head up if he accepted money tainted with a built-in commitment on his vote."

Dingell Introduces Public Works Bills

WASHINGTON (UP) — Two bills calling for a boost in unemployment compensation and a stepup in public works projects were introduced in the House today by Rep. Dingell (D-Mich).

"I am afraid . . . that unless this action is taken promptly, the misery of Detroit and other depressed areas may be just beginning," Dingell said in a statement prior to introducing the measures.

Both Dingell and Rep. Denton (D-Ind), who each proposed reestablishment of the New Deal's Public Works Administration, earlier belittled President Eisenhower's prediction of an economic upsurge.

The lawmakers compared it to former President Herbert Hoover's "prosperity is just around the corner" prediction.

Denton, who introduced bills similar to Dingell's last week, said: "More jobs may be just around the corner, but we need something to get to that corner, and fast.

Airliner in Trouble Over Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK (UP) — An American Airlines DC7 carrying 83 passengers and crewmen made an emergency landing here yesterday when a fire warning indicator began flashing.

★ ★ ★

The 78 passengers, bound nonstop from Los Angeles to New York, were taken by bus to Detroit's Willow Run Airport where they continued their trip aboard another plane.

★ ★ ★

An airlines spokesman said no evidence of fire was found and it appeared the warning indicator was faulty. The plane was kept at Kellogg Field pending an inspection by company mechanics.

IRA Raiders Battle North Ireland Police

MIDDLETOWN, Northern Ireland, Feb. 17 (UP) — Raiders from the Irish Republic and North Ireland police fought a 20-minute gun battle early today.

The raiders, believed to be members of the illegal Irish Republican Army, attacked the Middletown constabulary station. They were driven off and escaped across the border.

There were no police casualties. It was not known here whether any of the raiders were hit.

A few hours before, six IRA men attacked the Blandford camp of the British army in Dorset, in the heart of England. The raiders, believed to have been seeking arms, fled empty-handed after shooting a sentry in the stomach, and tieing up seven guards.

The IRA seeks the reunion of Northern Ireland's six counties with the Irish Republic.

Bob Considine Writes to Khrushchev:

No Fear, Comrade, SAC Has the Answer

OMAHA, Neb. — Nikita Krushchev, the Kremlin, Moscow.

Dear Nikita:

Do you remember last November when you told Bill Hearst, Frank Conniff and myself that your great concern was that World War III might emerge from a "mad" Strategic Air Command pilot who would decide to bomb Russia on his own? You added also that perhaps a pilot, living in what you called our psychosis of war, might honestly misinterpret an order and bomb your land. You further added that in such event, the Soviet Union was prepared to wipe out our major cities and overseas bases.

* * *

Well, today I asked Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander-in-chief of SAC, if there was any chance that this could happen — either through pilot insanity or wrong signals — and he said, in effect, that there is no chance whatever that this could come about.

SAC has the greatest communications system in history. It knows where every plane is every hour of the day and night, and each has its prescribed mission. There could be no deviation from that mission, any more than there could be if Russia threw the first punch and the task of retaliation got under way.

As for a pilot blowing his stack, and setting off over thousands of miles to a bombing target, Gen. Power laughed and said:

"It takes two to tango."

I recall that you fellows have great difficulty comprehending our expressions. "It takes two to tango," means, in this case, that the pilot couldn't do it on his own, mad or not. Too many cooler heads would prevail.

So much for your fears, comrade.

If you need any other assurance of our good faith, there's a big blue sign on the road leading up to one of the gates of the headquarters of SAC which is emblazoned with this legend:

Peace Is Our Profession

They mean it very sincerely at SAC, though you and your associates have expressed complete suspicion of SAC's motives. Your suspicion springs, of course, from an ideological root.

It seems incredible to you, as it must have seemed to your predecessors, that a nation which would like to see much of the world live as it does — in our case under democratic forms of government — would hesitate to impose its will on the opposition when it is capable of doing just that.

* * *

In other words, if the positions had been reversed between 1945 and 1949, and Russia held a monopoly on the A-bomb and the means of delivering it, common sense (Communist type) would have required that it conquer the world then and there — instead of waiting tediously for the workers of the world to arise, or economic erosion to waste our will. It is understandable why you therefore believe SAC is the potential spearhead of "aggression."

It is a peace-keeping organization. At the moment, you have persuaded a certain number of Americans to believe that you are right when you say that the manned bomber is obsolete, and that your boasted possession of the intercontinental ballistics has sealed its doom. They, the Americans concerned, should be reminded that SAC is very much still in business. You are smart enough not to have to be reminded.

Assuming you do have an operational ICBM, recall that it will take it 25 minutes to reach our major targets. Fantastic, indeed.

But equally fantastic is the fact that SAC is prepared now to get the major portion of its entire striking force in the air 15 minutes after your first ICBM goes up . . . and the aircraft commanders know their U.S.S.R. targets so well.

* * *

As you pointed out several times during the three hours and thirty-five minutes you were kind enough to give us for our interview, "This is not a threat." It is simply a few of the things SAC can do, and would do, if somebody talks you into heaving that first blow, Or, regrettably, if one of your own pilots or button-pushers blows his stack.

Hoping to hear from you soon, I am, yours truly—Bob Considine.

P.S.—It takes two to tango.

Premier Resigns, Chiang Says 'No'

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek has refused to accept the resignation of Premier O. K. Yui, who quit after Nationalist China's watchdog body impeached him and the top judicial organ censured him.

* * *

A brief announcement yesterday said Chiang had ordered Yui to continue both as premier and governor of the Central Bank of China.

* * *

Yui had refused to appear before the Control Yuan to answer charges of wasteful government spending, contending that he was answerable only to the Legislative Yuan, the Nationalist Parliament.

The Judicial Yuan approved Yui's rejection of the control body's authority but censured him on several other counts.

Ella Fitzgerald Saves Her Voice for Songs

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Ella Fitzgerald, a gentle lady whom many idolize and few know, is a finger twister. That is to say she is both uncomfortable and wary of her words when in the presence of a new face, however friendly its surface contours.

"I'm still tryin'," she says as she thaws out a bit after a half-hour of lengthy questions and quick, halting, solemn answers, "but I'm still shy. When I'm singing I can ham it up. You can't shut me up. But I don't do much talkin'."

This inner sensitivity of Ella's has much to do with her greatness as a singer. Because she hasn't lain her emotions on the table for every person who comes along, she can save herself for her songs; and because through 23 years of professional acclaim she has avoided rubbing elbows and minds with men in the secular world beyond music, she sings honestly and simply.

She doesn't discuss her personal life (a marriage to bass player Ray Brown ended in divorce in 1953) except as it reflects on her attitude toward singing.

"I'm a sentimentalist. I've had some unhappy times, but I don't regret any of it. It's an experience—everything is. I guess that's why I like the ballads, why they mean so much to me, certain ones.

"They make me remember things, and it hurts some. But that's just an experience.

"That's why everybody likes ballads, I think, like Cole Porter tunes. Through your experience you get a little closer to that kind of song."

Ella, when she gets more accustomed to the face that is addressing her, begins to loosen up. She talks about songs affectionately as if they were children.

"There's a song I heard I'm crazy about, I hope Norman Granz (head of 'Verve' records, distributor of Ella's albums) will let me sing. It's called 'Somebody Teach Me How to Cry.' If you're a sentimentalist, you can't help loving that."

The famous Fitzgerald voice was heard by the populace for the first time in 1935 at an amateur contest in New York's Harlem Opera House. She was 17.

★ ★ ★

"I actually went on to dance. In Newport News, Va., where I came from, they thought I was a pretty good dancer. I lost my nerve just before the show about dancing, and I remembered Connie Boswell who was a great favorite of mine, and still is. So I sang instead.

"Funniest thing—I won the first prize."

Since then, things have just happened to Ella. Professionally, all of them good. In the last year her career has boomed, from Granz' insisting that she record full albums of Cole Porter, Rodgers & Hart, and an upcoming melodic batch of Duke Ellington.

"They've been trying to tell me that you can't just sit back and wait for things to happen to you," she says with a wispy, reflective smile. "I wanted always to be lazy and go to the movies. Now, through these albums, I'm tryin' to be more ambitious.

"And really, I have more of a little 'push,' don't you think?"

Geographic Unit of UF Holds Tea

Discusses Plans for Campaigning This Year

Members of the Geographic Division and fund staff of the Pontiac Area United Fund met at a tea in the Walton boulevard home of Mrs. R. G. Bump for the purpose of analyzing the past United Fund campaign and laying down basic plans for improving the division's role in the 1958 campaign.

★ ★ ★

The group discussed various problems faced by the door-to-door volunteer worker and stressed the plan for educating the public about the services available to them through the UF at the Friday meeting.

DIVISION GROWS

When the Geographic Division was originated in 1952, it restricted activities to an area encompassing six small districts in the center of Pontiac. Today, it has grown to the extent that two separate co-chairmen head the residential solicitations in Pontiac and Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

During the 1957 campaign, Mrs. Donald White, Waterford cochairman, had 22 district captains and over 375 solicitors calling on the township's residents. Cochairman of Pontiac geographic solicitations, Mrs. Ralph Norvell, had 18 district captains working under her supervision.

Dear Abby....

Washington Teeth Weren't 'George'!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You said in your column that it took an expert to make a set of false teeth. Read your history, lady!

ABBY

Didn't you know that Paul Revere made a set of false teeth for George Washington and Revere was no dentist? He was a silversmith! And Washington wore them, too! Thank you for letting me stick in my two-cents worth.

HISTORY SCHOLAR

DEAR SCHOLAR: And the teeth Paul Revere made for Washington were far from "George." (That's why his lower jaw stuck out.)

In the 1700s the silversmith hammered out teeth and the barber substituted for the doctor, but today, thank heavens, we have competent specialists. Let's use them!

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and hate to do the dishes. I have two sisters, Margaret and Mary Jo. Margaret is 22 and Mary Jo is 19. Margaret is getting married this month and Mary Jo is getting married in June.

Ever since they got their engagement rings they think they are the Queen of England. They won't do the dishes and my mother is so happy they are getting married she doesn't make them. What should I do?

DISHWASHER

DEAR DISHWASHER: Do the dishes, Honey. Pretty soon they'll be doing plenty of their own.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a gentleman 61 years old who is semi-retired. I would like to meet a trained nurse who can drive. She should be between 35 and 50 and have no ties.

I want her to be refined, have a pleasant personality and to insure that she has a good appearance I would like her to enclose a recent picture. I will pay well. The right lady would find this job a pleasure.

R. J. M.

DEAR R. J. M.: A refined nurse (between 35 and 50) who can drive should not have to enter a beauty contest to secure employment.

I suggest you advertise in another section of this newspaper—and be prepared to furnish character references on yourself. A lady has the right to know with whom she is having the pleasure.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: It is no surprise that you can't tell men from ladies anymore. In school they teach boys cooking, sewing and how to iron. When a man gets married he goes to special classes to learn how to feed and diaper babies. How nuts can people be?

S. S.

DEAR S. S.: There are many homes in which a man MUST do woman's work. It's good to know how, in case you have to.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have an aunt who must be color blind. She bought me a shirt for Christmas that I wouldn't be caught dead in. Every time she comes over here she asks me how come I haven't got the shirt on. What should I tell her?

GORDON

DEAR GORDON: Tell her you are "saving it for special occasions." (Maybe you'll be invited to a costume party.)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My girl friend and I got acquainted with a couple of sailors who are on the USS Wasp and we told them we were 19 but we are only 15.

They told us they would call us when they got back from their cruise. We know they are back but we haven't heard from them. Should we call them or not?

WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Do NOT call the sailors. Maybe the boys from the Wasp found out how old you were and didn't want to get stung.

Why Men Leave Home

Surgeon Couldn't Forget His Dreams of the Sea

(Each year thousands of American husbands and fathers walk out on their families and homes to seek new lives and new identities by men who apparently love their families? What are the titles. What causes desertion—years in which a husband is most likely to pull the "disappearing act"? These are some of the questions answered in a six-part series beginning today. The articles are based on case histories from the files of the Tracers Company of America, and on talks with experts in the field of family relations. Only the names have been changed.)

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

Dr. Howard H. kissed his wife's cheek, slipped his hand over the blonde head of his daughter and walked out of the breakfast nook.

★ ★ ★

"Are you operating this afternoon, Howie?" his wife called.

"I don't know," he said over his shoulder. "I don't know when I'll get back."

THE FIRST TIME

It was the first time Mary H. had heard her husband speak vaguely of him work. She frowned and watched his disappear into the hall.

★ ★ ★

There, he slipped into his overcoat, pulled on his gloves, glanced for a moment around the hall at his paintings of the sea and stepped out the door into the cool fall morning.

He didn't come home. He joined the legion of men who have left, and are not adequately supporting 4,500,000 wives and children in the United States.

★ ★ ★

It has been estimated that 1,000,000 persons—the great majority of them men—disappear each year in the United States.

MOST 40 TO 50

An analysis of the men who disappear has been made by Dan Eisenberg, head of Tracers Company of America, the only commercial organization that specializes in locating missing persons. He found that in 5,000 husband disappearance cases which the firm handled in the last three years, three-fourths were from 40 to 50 years old.

★ ★ ★

This middle age also was called critical by the Family Location Service. In studies of 1904, 1926 and 1949, the service's chief counsel, Jacob T. Zukerman, found that "while the majority of desertions took place with husbands aged 35 or less, the next 10 years (35-45) are still what might be termed 'critical'."

Dr. Howard was 44. On the surface there was no reason why he would want to leave home. He was lanky and soft-spoken. His charm and skill with a scalpel had made him one of the leading surgeons in a major port city.

He was comparatively wealthy. His wife had been confident of his love for her and even more confident of his love for their seven-year-old daughter.

SOMETHING WRONG

By nightfall she knew something was wrong. She learned the doctor had warned his secretary the week before that he was taking a vacation. He had not appeared at the hospital.

★ ★ ★

Within four days, Mary and her daughter received annuity checks in the mail, and she found out how thoroughly Dr. H. had made his plans.

A week before his disappearance he had instructed his broker to sell all his stocks and bonds. He had closed out his bank accounts. With the cash he had purchased two paid-up annuities and directed that monthly checks be sent his wife and daughter.

★ ★ ★

Mary made cautious inquiries in medical circles throughout the country. She found no trace of her husband.

Then she called on the Tracers Company. The agency sent an operative to talk with her. He noticed paintings of the sea in the hall.

DAYDREAM OF SEA

"The sea always was sort of a daydream with Howard," Mary said. "Sometimes when we were younger he would talk about it for hours. He knew a great deal about the sea, tides and winds and currents.

★ ★ ★

"We almost bought a sailboat once, but he was too busy and we couldn't really afford it. We had to pay off medical school debts and some other things."

The sea was the only clue.

An agent began checking seamen's hiring halls. In one, an official remembered a story told by two sailors. The agent finally located one of the men.

★ ★ ★

"I can't tell you much," he said. "I didn't know the guy except to work with. We ran into a storm in the Caribbean, and some of the freight broke loose. Two of the boys were crushed.

PERFORMED SURGERY

"This guy, Mike, said he had fooled around with medicine. He asked the skipper if he could see what he could do, and he talked the two fellows into letting him operate.

★ ★ ★

"When we got to port, the docs at the hospital said he had saved their lives. I left the ship, but he's still on her."

The agent kept tabs on the freighter. Two months later, when the ship steamed into port, Mary was waiting on the pier. It was a little more than a year since her husband had disappeared.

★ ★ ★

The black hull of the freighter warped in close to the pier, tied up and dropped her gangplank. Mary stood almost an hour before any of the crew came down the gangplank.

The third man was lanky, wearing a heavy raincoat buttoned up tight. He walked head down against a drizzle, and he didn't see Mary until he stepped onto the dock.

NAGGING BOREDOM

In the days that followed, Mary learned how age, the never-lost dreams of boyhood and the nagging boredom of the daily routine had sent her husband away to sea.

At one point, he smiled and then chuckled at himself. "It's hard to explain," he said, "to give you the feeling. But I had to get out, get away, to escape."

Overweight Can Lead to Cardiovascular Troubles

February Reminds You: Heed Your Heart

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

February is called Heart Month because this is the month during which the American Heart Association calls your attention in a special way to the dangers of heart trouble and, even more important, to the latest scientific data concerning this ever increasing hazard.

* * *

This organization sponsors a tremendous amount of research and asks your help. When you contribute to the American Heart Association you will be helping save thousands of lives, maybe even your own.

In one of the more recent pamphlets published monthly by the American Heart Association, Dr. Herbert Pollack, chairman of the nutrition Committee and associate professor of clinical medicine, New York University Post-Graduate Medical School, points out that high blood pressure develops in overweights twice as rapidly as it does in those of normal weight.

Also, insurance statistics show, without a doubt, that overweight men and women, in all age groups, have a higher mortality rate than those with normal weight. The dengerative diseases of the kidneys, heart and blood vessels account for most of this increased mortality.

* * *

Overweight increases the burden on the heart. It is similar to a man of normal weight carrying some extra burden about constantly. In order to convert food into heat and energy every 4.8 calories must have one litre of oxygen. This means that we must have 120 litres of oxygen for approximately ever 600 calories.

Each normal respiration supplies the blood with only 25 ml. of oxygen. Thus it takes 4,800 respirations a day to supply the necessary oxygen for 600 calories. Since the pulse rate increases with the respiratory rate, the heart must work harder.

* * *

Actually, those who are very overweight breathe three times more a minute than those of normal weight. The obese person must eat more just to maintain his overweight. His heart must also pump blood through many more feet of blood vessels to supply his extra poundage.

We all know that a loss of extra weight is one of the first requirements for those who have heart trouble. Certainly, correct weight is a wise preventative measure if we wish to miss cardiovascular renal diseases.

To wear or not to wear glasses, that is the question; whether it is better to endure the inconvenience of nearsightedness, tripping over objects, squinting generally, snubbing the wrong people, failing to recognize friends, or to buy a pair to end these troubles (my apologies to Shakespeare.)

The war of vision versus vanity has been going on for a long time. It is too bad that there should be such a conflict since groping around is unpleasant and also gives the impression of age, and eye strain leads to fatigue. Also, eye glasses today are so good looking that they actually can improve a woman's appearance as well as help her select the right man!

With millions of women wearing them, it did not take a fortune teller to predict that eye glasses would be beautified and styled to flatter different shaped faces and to go with clothes for different occasions.

Some women have glasses for all occasions; Sports, evening, opera, bridge and reading. These may be different shapes and the rims may be of varying colors.

* * *

If you cannot afford several pairs to add variety, then be sure that the one pair you have is flattering. Take the shape of your face into consideration. In general, follow the rules for hair styling.

* * *

Your glasses, just as your hairdo, can make your face appear longer or shorter, wider or slimmer. You also can flatter and emphasize your eyes with the use of color in the rims. Be sure to investigate the attachments which are now available for adding a dressy touch to the rims for dress-up times.

Here are a few tips for women who wear glasses:

1. Use eye makeup, but with discretion. Heavy eye makeup, plus glasses, will make you look like a Christmas tree.

2. Be careful about rouge too near the eyes, since the glass frames cast a shadow.

3. If your lashes touch your eye glass lens, use an eyelash curler to give an upward sweep to the lashes.

* * *

4. Use lipstick generously. This helps balance the glasses.

5. Veils are usually not flattering to the woman who wears glasses. The whole effect is too fussy or "busy."

* * *

If you would like to have my eye exercises which are restful to the eyes, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 8. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Reducing Is Easy —Just Do a Little Arithmetic."

February is called Heart Month because this is the month during which the American Heart Association calls your attention in a special way to the dangers of heart trouble and, even more important, to the latest scientific data concerning this ever-increasing hazard.

Small Disloyalties Cause Many Marriage Failures

Airing Mate's Faults, Tiffing in Public Can Result in Constant Conflict

By RUTH MILLETT

Recent scientific studies show that one of the major reasons for job failure is disloyalty—disloyalty to one's firm, disloyalty to one's immediate superior, disloyalty to the head man.

Apparently there are a lot of people in the world who can identify themselves with a company or organization without feeling any loyalty to the firm that pays their salaries.

The same thing is true in many marriages. And undoubtedly disloyalty in marriage also accounts for many failures.

Not just the big disloyalty we label infidelity. But all the minor disloyalties that cause constant conflict between a husband and wife.

Some of these small disloyalties are:

Showing each other up to the worst advantage instead of the best before others.

* * *

Violating each other's confidences.

Talking to friends and relatives about each other's faults.

Not backing each other up when one or the other takes a stand regarding the children.

Not standing up for each other when criticism comes from an interfering relative or in-law.

Not being as loyal to the other's parents as to one's own.

Expecting the worst instead of the best from each other.

* * *

These are the small, but important disloyalties that cause friction and failure in marriage.

Refusal to Attend Is Disappointing to Others in Party

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I and three other couples had tickets to see a play last Saturday night. After the theater one of the couples suggested that we go to a certain nightclub where a well-known comedian was appearing. All the others thought it a good idea and were all set to go.

"I had heard that the show was quite vulgar and as I do not care for this type of entertainment I said I was not keen on going but that they could go. They said they wouldn't go without us and so we all went somewhere else instead. I could tell that the others were disappointed.

"My fiance thinks that I acted very selfishly and that since we were out in a group and all the others wanted to go I should have put aside my own feelings and gone along with the others. I would very much like to have your opinion on this matter."

Answer: If it had been merely a question of fear on your part of being bored, you should have gone with the others. On the other hand, if it was against your principles to go to the kind of entertainment you expected this would be, you were right in refusing to go.

Dumplings Cook Gently With Stew

Mrs. Kitson Adds Canned Carrots to Browned Beef

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

One-pot meals are welcome in large families. With meat prices soaring, a recipe that serves six and uses only a pound of meat is a find. Mrs. George Kitson of Rochester thinks so.

★ ★ ★

With six children under the age of eight, Mrs. Kitson finds her days more than full. She loves to bake and sew. All her gifts are articles she crochets.

GROUND BEEF STEW
By Mrs. George Kitson

1 pound ground round steak
1 medium onion, chopped
Salt and pepper
1 can sliced cooked carrots, undrained
1 can condensed tomato soup
1½ cups diced cooked potatoes
1½ cups water

Brown meat and onion. Add other ingredients and simmer 20-30 minutes. Make dumplings with biscuit mix. Bring stew to boiling, drop in dumplings.

As soon as all are in, cover pan closely and keep stew boiling gently but steadily. Cook about 15 minutes. Serve at once. Never peek while the dumplings are cooking!

Be Sure Your Baby Receives Disease Immunization Shots

Your baby needs lots of tender loving care, but he also needs the protection of modern medicine. We know, these days, how to prevent many diseases which in times past cost the lives of thousands of babies.

Some diseases we prevent by the way we feed babies, some we prevent by clean and sanitary water and milk supplies, some we prevent by draining swamps or spraying with DDT to destroy insects. But some we can prevent only by giving "shots" to the babies themselves.

You owe it to your child to see to it that he lives free from the shadow of past evils.

ROUTINE PREVENTION

Routine immunizations for every child in this big country of ours should include protection against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and infantile paralysis.

★ ★ ★

Depending upon where you live and what the risks are, your baby may need additional immunizations against such things as typhoid fever, Rocky Mountain spotted fever and maybe some others.

Smallpox is really a solved problem, medically speaking. Time was when widespread epidemics of this disease snuffed out the lives of many children, and left those who survived scarred for life.

★ ★ ★

Vaccination against smallpox is one of the most perfect immunizations we have. In fact we just don't have this disease any more, except in a few states in which vaccination is not required by law. But the only way we can keep smallpox from cropping up is to have everyone protected.

REPEAT IN 7 YEARS

Smallpox vaccination should be given anytime during the first year of life and then repeated about seven years later. There is no need to repeat it again unless we go somewhere where there is a greater risk of the disease than in this country.

Immunization against diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough can all be given together. It takes three "shots" given a month apart. Each shot contains protection against all three diseases.

These shots should be given when the baby is approximately 4, 5 and 6 months of age. He should then be given a booster injection when he is 18 months of age.

The effectiveness of these immunizations wears off in time, so booster injtctions should be given every two years until adolescence. After that tetanus alone should be given every two years.

GOOD PROTECTION

The protection against diphtheria is as good as that against smallpox. Protected children just don't get this serious disease. The protection against whooping cough is not so perfect. It is good but not perfect.

Some children even though protected by immunization will come down with the disease. However the case will probably be mild and no serious consequences need be feared.

Shots aginst polio or infantile paralysis everyone knows about these days. This is a disease which can go in the class of solved medical problems, like smallpox and diphtheria.

We can free this land of ours of this dread disease as soon as everyone, children and adults alike, receives three polio shots.

Different doctors administer routine immunizations on slightly different schedules. It doesn't matter exactly what the schedule is, so long as all are done.

Be sure to see to it that all your children are protected against these diseases we know how to prevent.

Lutheran Group Holds Meeting

Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. John Berglund, Mrs. Hans Michkelsen, Mrs. John Englund and Mrs. Ruth Olson participated in the program when members of Women's Missionary Society of St. John Lutheran Church met Thursday in the church parlors.

Orion Twirling Contest Draws 550 Entrants

Low Temperatures Fail to Discourage Turnout of Youngsters

By LAOMA SANFORD
Lake Orion Correspondent

The Land-O-Lakes sponsored baton twirling contest at Lake Orion Saturday attracted 550 entries from Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Ontario and the state, despite sub-zero weather.

★ ★ ★

Warren Norlund of 142 Lincoln Ave., who has been twirling for seven years, was the only area first place winner, and Sandra Sheldon of Lake Orion placed second in stiff competition among contestants in the 15-year-old class. Hitting her eye with her baton cost her ¼ point and the championship.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Senior queen Elaine Tulke topped June Ciampa, 14, of Dearborn, and Sharron Shutty, 15, of Oak Park, regional National Baton Twirling Assn. champions, as well as Betty Jane Fitch, 12, of Highland Park; Barbara Hodson, 13, Royal Oak; Elaine Fuller, 16, Detroit, and Jody Marshall of Plainville, Mich.

★ ★ ★

Jody, who is a scholarship majorette with Purdue University, also won the senior strutting. Delores DeWilde and Sandy Baker were other strutting champs from 75 entries.

★ ★ ★

The corps with their trim outfits were a picture of precision but judges following new NBTA rules erased points for lack of uniformity in hair dos and make-up.

★ ★ ★

Roy Hess, director of the Land-O-Lakes twirling group pointed out "Corps are increasing in popularity because they allow individuals who are not champions to become winners. The large number of trophies and medals were also to encourage youngsters often discouraged in the competition."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Edward Smiddy, of Pontiac, was praised for her food—over 300 meals served by the Parents' Advisory Club to raise funds to purchase new uniforms for the local corps.

★ ★ ★

Only quiet period of the day was a minute of silent prayer for Patricia Walk, Royal Oak girl who was to be a judge, and in serious condition at the Royal Oak Hospital emergency ward.

FAMILY GROUP — Mrs. William Sheets and daughters Carol Ann, 9; Linda, 5; and Diane, 6, had quite a day. Each girl had earned two medals before the strutting contests in which they were also entered. They drove from Merritton, Ont., near Niagara. Mother was calm but busy with nine contests, six costumes, and Carol's nose bleeding in the afternoon.

EDGED FOR FIRST — Skip Frizzell of Plainwell; Robert Angelinas of Wyandotte and Allan Kramer, of Philadelphia, Pa. (l-r), a Michigan State student; were edged out of first place in the stiff senior boys competition by Warren Norlund, of Pontiac.

TROPHY WINNERS — Selita Sue Smith, 5, (left) holding her lamp trophy, is shown with her mother Tudy Smith, and Nadeen Latham, 4. Selita of Sharpsville, Ind. is a veteran of two years experience. She topped the Chicago Music Festival and is second nationally for her age group. Nadeen, of Hamilton, Ont., was clutching her first trophy.

CHAPTER 40

"I've done very good work, have I?" Inspector Craddock said bitterly to Miss Marple. "I've let a whole family be poisoned, Alfred Crackenthorpe's dead and now Harold's dead too. What the hell's going on there? That's what I should like to know."

"Poisoned tablets," said Miss Marple thoughtfully.

★ ★ ★

"Yes. Devilishly cunning, really. They looked just like the tablets that he'd been having. There was a printed slip sent in with them by Doctor Quimper's instructions'. Well, Quimper never ordered them. There were chemist's labels used. The chemist knew nothing about it, either. No. That box of tablets came from Rutherford Hall."

"Do you actually know it came from Rutherford Hall?"

"Yes. We've had a thorough check-up. Actually it's the box that held the sedative tablets prescribed for Emma."

"Oh, I see. For Emma . . ."

★ ★ ★

"Yes. It's got her fingerprints on it and the fingerprints of both the nurses and the fingerprints of the chemist who made it up. Nobody else's, naturally. The person who sent them was careful."

"And the sedative tablets were removed and something else substituted?"

★ ★ ★

"You are so right," agreed Miss Marple. "I remember so very well in my young days, the black mixture and the brown mixture (the cough mixture that was) and the white mixture, and Doctor So-and So's pink mixture. People didn't mix those up nearly as much. In fact, you know, in my village in St. Mary Mead we still like that kind of medicine. It's a bottle they always want, not tablets. What were the tablets?" she asked.

"Aconite. They were the kind of tablets that are usually kept in a poison bottle, diluted one in a hundred for outside application."

"And so Harold took them and died," Miss Marple said thoughtfully. Dermot Craddock uttered something like a groan.

★ ★ ★

"You mustn't mind my letting off steam to you," he said. "Tell it all to Aunt Jane; that's how I feel!"

"That's very, very nice of you," said Miss Marple, "and I do appreciate it."

Dermot Craddock gave her a fleeting grin. "But the fact remains that I've made the most ghastly mess of things all along the line," he said. "The Chief Constable down here calls in Scotland Yard, and what do they get? They get me making a prize ass of myself!"

"No, no," said Miss Marple.

"Yes, yes. I don't know who poisoned Alfred, I don't know who poisoned Harold, and to cap it all I haven't the least idea now who the original murdered woman was! This Martine business seemed a perfectly safe bet. The whole thing seemed to tie up. And now what happens? The real Martine shows up and turns out, most improbably, to be the wife of Sir Robert Stoddard-West. So who's the woman in the barn now? Goodness knows. First I go all out on the idea she's Anna Stravinska, and then she's out of it—"

★ ★ ★

"But is she?" she murmured.

"Yes," said Miss Marple, "but that isn't really evidence, is it? I mean, anyone can get a postcard sent from almost anywhere, I suppose. I remember Mrs. Brierly, such a very bad nervous breakdown. Finally they said she ought to go to the mental hospital for observation, and she was so worried about the children knowing about it and so she wrote about fourteen postcards and arranged that they should be posted from different places abroad, and told them that Mummie was going abroad on a holiday." She added, looking at Dermot Craddock, "You see what I mean."

"Yes, of course," said Craddock, staring at her. "Naturally we'd have checked that postcard if it hadn't been for the Martine business fitting the bill so well."

"So convenient," murmured Miss Marple.

★ ★ ★

"It tied up," said Craddock. "After all there's the letter Emma received signed Martine Crackenthorpe. Lady Stoddart-West didn't send that, but somebody did. Somebody who was going to pretend to be Martine, and who was going to cash in, if possible, on being Martine. You can't deny that."

"No, no."

"And then, the envelope of the letter Emma wrote to her with the London address on it. Found at Rutherford Hall, showing she'd actually been there."

"But the murdered woman hadn't been there!" Miss Marple pointed out. "Not in the sense you mean. She only came to Rutherford Hall after she was dead. Pushed out of a train on to the railway embankment."

"Oh—yes."

"What the envelope really proves is that the murderer was there. Presumably he took that envelope off her with her other papers and things, and then dropped it by mistake — or — I wonder now, was it a mistake? Surely Inspector Bacon and your men, too, made a thorough search of the place, didn't they, and didn't find it. It only turned up later in the boiler house."

"That's understandable," said Craddock. "The old gardener chap used to spear up any odd stuff that was blowing about and shove it in there."

"Where it was very convenient for the boys to find," said Miss Marple thoughtfully.

"You think we were meant to find it?"

★ ★ ★

"Well — I just wonder. After all it would be fairly easy to know where the boys were going to look next, or even to suggest to them . . . Yes, I do wonder. It stopped you thinking about Anna Stravinska any more, didn't it?"

Craddock said, "And you think it really may be her all the time?"

"I think someone may have got alarmed when you started making inquiries about her, that's all . . . I think somebody didn't want those inquiries made."

"Let's hold on to the basic fact that someone was going to impersonate Martine," said Craddock. "And then for some reason — didn't. Why?"

"That's a very interesting question," said Miss Marple.

★ ★ ★

"Somebody sent a wire saying Martine was going back to France, then arranged to travel down with the girl and kill her on the way. You agree so far?"

"Not exactly," said Miss Marple. "I don't think, really, you're making it simple enough.

"Simple!" explained Craddock. "You're mixing me up," he complained.

Miss Marple said in a distressed voice that she wouldn't think of doing anything like that.

"Come, tell me," said Craddock, "do you or do you not think you know who the murdered woman was?"

★ ★ ★

Miss Marple sighed. "It's so difficult," she said, "to put it the right way. I mean, I don't know who she was, but at the same time I'm fairly sure who she was, if you know what I mean."

Craddock threw up his head. "Know what you mean? I haven't the faintest idea." He looked out through the window. "There's your Lucy Eyelesbarrow coming to see you," he said. "Well, I'll be off. My amour propre is very low this afternoon and having a young woman coming in, radiant with efficiency and success, is more than I can bear."

"I looked up tontine in the dictionary," said Lucy.

The first greetings were over and now Lucy was wandering rather aimlessly around the room, touching a china dog here, an antimacassar there, the plastic work box in the window.

"I thought you probably would," said Miss Marple equably.

Lucy spoke slowly, quoting the words. "Lorenzo Tonti, the Italian banker, originator, 1653, of a form of annuity in which the shares of subscribers who die are added to the profit shares of the survivors." She paused. "That's it, isn't it? That fits well enough, and you were thinking of it even then before the last two deaths."

Whole Block Burns, Cigarette Blamed

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (AP)—A lighted cigarette was blamed for the death of three persons and injury of four in a fire that destroyed an entire business block of this northwestern California lumber town yesterday.

One person still is missing.

Damage was estimated at 1½ million dollars.

★ ★ ★

The casualties occurred at the Bay City Hotel, where the fire started from a cigarette on a mattress in a third-floor room, Police Chief Bill Burke said.

Burke identified the dead as Bobby Booker, 22, stationed at Requa Air Force Base near Kamath; Elmer Wasankari, 53, Crescent City; and William Maughan, a logger.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Wings Win on Terry's Brilliant Play

17 Saves Made in 1st Period of 4-1 Victory

Detroit Back in Third Spot; Adams Says Club 'Kissed by an Angel'

DETROIT (AP)—The final score read Detroit 4, Toronto 1, but Jack Adams said the Red Wings were "kissed by an angel."

"We could have been trailing by five goals in the first three and a half minutes," said the Wing general manager after last night's hockey game at Olympia Stadium.

Except for the brilliant goaltending of Terry Sawchuk, that would have been the case. But Sawchuk made 17 saves in the 1st period alone and finished out the night with 36 stops—and might have had a shutout except for an unnecessary final period penalty to Bill McNeill.

The triumph put the Red Wings back into 3rd place in the National Hockey League, two points ahead of Boston and one point behind second-place New York.

"This is the third or fourth time we've had a chance to get into 2nd place," said coach Sid Abel. "It would be wonderful if we could get up there and stick."

The Maple Leafs thoroughly outplayed Detroit in the opening period of last night's contest, witnessed by 11,106 people despite the bitter cold. Sawchuck turned back great efforts by Frank Mahovlich, Tod Sloan and Brian Cullen in the 1st two minutes, and before the game was four minutes old made two or three more saves that drew thundering ovations from the crowd.

Twice in the first period the Leafs held a manpower advantage but failed to capitalize. The Wings took a 1-0 lead at the 13:26 mark when 24-year-old Tony Leswick got his 1st goal of the campaign when he smacked in Warren Godfrey's rebound.

It was a similar effort on Marcel Pronovost's long shot that put Detroit into a 2-0 lead in the 2nd period. Nick Mickoski got the goal from 12-foot range.

Gordie Howe carried the Wings through the final period. First, he set up Red Kelly on a 20-footer early in the period, stealing the puck from two Toronto players and sending a pretty pass to Kelly for the goal.

Five minutes later Howe took a pass from Norm Ullman at midice, skated around a Leaf defenseman and rifled a 25-foot backhander over the shoulder of goalie Ed Chadwick, who had a rough night in the net with only 21 saves.

Other games last night in the league resulted in victories for the Rangers over Bruins, 3-2, and the Chicago Black Hawks over Canadiens, 4-0. Montreal and Boston tier, 3-3, in a Saturday contest.

Dukes' Basket Does It, 100-98

Pistons Clip Hawk Quintet

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Seven-foot Walter Dukes' newly acquired flair for dramatic finishes is proving troublesome for the National Basketball Assn.'s division leaders.

The lanky Detroit star sank a field goal in the final second last night as the Pistons scored a 100-98 triumph over the St. Louis Hawks, top team in the NBA's Western Division.

Two nights before, Dukes hooked in a two-pointer in the last 23 seconds in giving Detroit a 111-109 victory over the world champion Boston Celtics. It was only Boston's second home court setback of the season.

Dukes' shot last night was in the air when the buzzer sounded, ending the game.

Although the contest ended on a tense note, the Pistons twice held a 25-point lead and then had to come from behind in the final minute to win.

The Hawks closed the gap to 77-68 at the end of the third quarter, finally taking the lead 98-96 with 1:24 to go in the final period. Joe Holup of the Pistons sank two free throws to even the score at 98-98 with 53 seconds to go.

Bob Pettit was high for the Hawks with 27 points. Shue topped the Pistons with 21 followed by Yardley with 20 and Dukes with 19.

In other NBA games Sunday, the Minneapolis Lakers downed the Philadelphia Warriors, 106-99, and the Syracuse Nationals chalked up a 113-105 victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

IN-OUT — Bill Hoeft, left, became the newest Tiger regular to join the list of signed players yesterday but his pitching buddy Frank Lary remains as a holdout.

Halas Returns as Coach

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner George Halas of the Chicago Bears is going to make a coaching comeback at the age of 63 with some "new ideas" he's itching to put into practice.

The National Football League pioneer yesterday announced he will succeed Paddy Driscoll as head coach of the team he organized as the Decatur, Ill., Staley's in 1920 and moved to Chicago in 1921.

It will mark the third time Halas will return to coaching. He celebrated his other two comebacks with championships in 1933

Two years ago, Halas handed the coaching reins to Driscoll saying administrative and coaching duties were getting to be too much for him.

★ ★ ★

Driscoll piloted the Bears to the Western Division title in 1956 only to lose the playoff championship to New York. The Bears were preseason favorites last year but finished in the second division with a 5-7 record.

★ ★ ★

Halas said Driscoll would become administrative vice president in charge of team organization and added there would be no other staff changes. That means retention of assistant coaches Phil Handler, Luke Johnson, Clark Shaughnessy, George Connor and Sid Luckman.

★ ★ ★

"When I quit coaching," said Halas, "I couldn't think of any reason to induce me to come back. But sitting back and looking over the situation the last two years, I felt coaching methods in pro football were changing and I developed some new ideas. Now I want to try out those ideas."

Fans Stranded at Race Track

East Coast Blizzard Blasts Sports Events

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Horse racing, basketball, boxing, soccer, boat racing and horse shows and even such winter sports as skiing, hockey and speed skating were dealt blows by the blizzard which swept the Atlantic Coast over the weekend.

Bowie, where several thousand fans were stranded after Saturday's horse races were run off in a blinding snow storm, cancelled today's program. Weather conditions govern when the track will re-open.

A raging snowstorm in New England caused the Boston Celtics to cancel their National Basketball Assn. game with the New York Knickerbockers Sunday.

Numerous small college basketball games in the South were postponed Saturday and at least two Sunday because the teams were unable to get to their appointed places of play.

Opening of Eastern Parkway in Brooklyn for boxing was postponed until March 1 when several of the fighters were unable to break through the snow barrier.

In Bronxville, N.Y. a horse show was cancelled when a judge and many exhibitors were unable to reach the Saddle Tree Farms Club. A soccer game between the first Vienna team of Austria and an all-star American aggregation in New York also was cancelled.

An Eastern Hockey League game between Johnstown and Washington was postponed.

High winds and sub-normal temperatures resulted in the postponement of four regattas in Florida and competition among frostbite dinghies on Long Island.

The Connecticut ski meet at Salisbury was postponed until March 9. The 2nd day of competition in the Tri-State Speed Skating Championships at Grossinger, N.Y., also was postponed.

★ ★ ★

Start of numerous sports events, including the NHL game at Chicago, were delayed because the storm delayed arrival of the teams.

Tuesday night's Steve Ward-Teddy (Red Top) Davis 12-round fight at Hartford, Conn., was postponed until Feb. 25.

Miss Rawls Wins as Jackie Slips

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Betsy Rawls, who went on her steady way while Jackie Pung zoomed up and down, won the St. Petersburg Women's Open golf tournament.

She is the only woman pro on the circuit to win two events this winter. She also won the Tampa Open last month.

Miss Rawls, a Texan playing out of Spartanburg, S. C., nicked a little off par every round, but didn't get much attention at first because Mrs. Pung was chopping great chunks off the 74 set as women's par for the 6,116-yard Sunset Club course.

Then Saturday Mrs. Pung lost her touch and took 81. Her margin dropped to one stroke as Miss Rawls shot another 73.

Again yesterday Miss Rawls shot 73 and won by four strokes with a 291 when Mrs. Pung took 78, missing eight putts of five feet or less.

Utah Pro Wins Texas Tourney

Bill Johnston Shoots 274 Total for Honors at San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Club professional Bill Johnston, who plays only the winter tour—and not too much of that — was showing the big names of golf a thing or two today. He was the only player winning money in all tournaments this year.

The Provo, Utah, Municipal Course pro, a deadly swinger off the tee and as imperturbable as a marble statue, won his first tournament in two winters of trying yesterday as he galloped in with a 3-under-par 68 for a total of 274 on 72 holes and $2,000 first money in the Texas Open.

Most of the field that pounded along behind him in this storied tournament also is on the way to Houston. Among them is Bob Rosburg of Napa, Calif., the great stretch runner who almost won the Texas Open with a great 6-under-par 65 on the final 18 holes. He wound up in second place at 277 and got $1,500.

Marr, who led the tournament by six strokes after the first two rounds but by only one going into the final 18 holes yesterday, could manage only a 2-over-par 73 and finished in a tie for third at 278 with Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y.; Bo Winiger of Odessa, Tex., and Billy Maxwell, also of Odessa.

Busy Week for Parochials

Area Fives Play 7 Games

By H. GUY MOATS

With all parochial league competition settled, area Catholic school basketball clubs are making use of the time this week, and next to sharpen up for the coming district playoffs. None reached divisional trials, Orchard Lake St. Mary's coming closest as runner-up to St. Benedict, with a 8-2 mark.

The week will be a busy one. Seven games are listed starting with tonight's tilt at Shrine, against Detroit St. Benedictine.

Pontiac St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary tangle Tuesday at 8:15 in the 2nd battle between the teams this season. Eaglets trounced the Shamrocks 47-38 in the first meeting, but this could be another story, despite the advantage the Orchard Lakers will have on their own court.

Both clubs will use their regular starters, except in one spot. Coach Bob Mineweaser said this morning he would start Bob Mountain at center in place of George Drake to give some help in scoring. Mountain is a 10th grader, brought up from the reserves and this will be his first starting nomination. Other Shamrock starters will include Bob Mineweaser and Art Robak at forwards, Pat Campbell and Tom Dabbs, guards.

Rams of St. Frederick will play Tuesday night at St. Frances de Sales, in Detroit. Detroiters finished 5th in the West Side loop, Rams 3rd in the SCL.

★ ★ ★

Detroit St. Rita returns to Pontiac for the 2nd time this season when the Irish oppose St. Michael's on Thursday in the only game of the year played on the Shamrock's home floor.

Games Friday pit St. Mary (OL) against St. Hedwig in Detroit, while St. Frederick goes to Detroit St. Cecelia.

Closing out the week's basketball business for the parochials will be another of those unpredictable Ram-Shamrock battles. It takes place Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in PCH gymnasium. Rams won the previous tilt, 54-25.

Detroit Skater Midwest Champ

TROY, Ohio (AP) — Gary Visconti of Detroit won first place in the junior men's event of the Midwestern Figure Skating championships over the weekend.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Ice Show Postponed by Severe Weather

Last weekend's severe weather brought about postponement of the Oakland County Boat club, Sylvan Lake city and Pioneer Highlands sponsored ice review.

Chairman John Benson this morning said the review, including all previously announced features, would be held Saturday, Feb. 22, starting at 1 p.m.

Races for skaters 7 to 16 years, a show by the Pontiac Skating club and a hockey game are scheduled.

Hope for 1,000 Entries

OCKC Show on New Date

Hopes were expressed at the annual banquet, Saturday night, for members of Oakland County Kennel club, their wives and guests, that the April 6 show will achieve the 1,000 entry mark, long sought by the club.

The date is a new one. Heretofore the OCKC show has had to share dates with shows in St. Louis Mo., and Pittsburgh, Pa. areas, and this fact influenced the entry here. The show, date for which was announced Saturday night, will take place in Detroit Artillery Armory, 15,000 West Eight-Mile Road, in Oak Park.

The show will be a benched, all-breed event, with an obedience trial and junior showmanship competition as additional features. Entries close Tuesday noon, March 25, at the Bow Dog Show Organization, 4461 West Jefferson, Detroit 19.

New officers for the club are headed by Frank L. Grant, Lathrup village, president; Honorary president is John P. Hackett, Birmingham; vice president, Gordon Parham (retiring president); vice president, Fred Jackson (RO); treasurer, B. W. Ziessow and secretary, Tom Blessing, Detroit.

Joseph Faigel was toastmaster and brief remarks were made by Grant, A. Wilson Bow, Blessing, Jack Mahoney of the Progressive Dog Club, Parham and others. Between 60 and 70 attended the dinner, only affair of the year at which others than the 30 "stag" club membership are invited.

GAMBLED ON WEATHER — LOST — These racing fans braved a snowstorm to attend Saturday's program at Bowie race track and were unable to make it home through an 18-inch blanket of snow. An estimated 1,000 people stayed at the track until Sunday waiting for a chance to dig out their cars. Some 3,500 others returned to Baltimore on special trains.

Cold Weather Still Hinders Tigers

Signing of Hoeft Only Heartening News for Tighe

9 Still Not in Fold; Games Set This Week May Be Canceled

LAKELAND, Fla. (UP) — Cold weather continued to plague training plans of the Detroit Tigers today and the only heartening development for manager Jack Tighe was the signing of Billy Hoeft.

Hoeft, Tighe's single southpaw among the list of starters, ironed out salary differences in a telephone conversation with General Manager John McHale yesterday.

The 1956 20-game winner, who dropped to a lowly 9-11 record last season, took a pay cut. He wouldn't say how much he was getting for the upcoming season but disclosed that he and McHale "were never far apart."

"I admit I deserved to be cut," the 25-year-old Hoeft said, "but I'm hoping to make it up in a hurry."

★ ★ ★

"I really want a great year," he declared. I'm expecting to be a father in August and I figure I'll be needing a few more dollars."

With Hoeft signed only nine of the 39 players on the Tiger roster remained without contracts. The nine, however, include regulars Frank Lary, Reno Bertoia, Harvey Kuenn and Charley Maxwell in addition to Mickey McDermott, Hal Woodeshick, Chuck Daniels, Jim Greengrass and Lou Skizas.

Hoeft appeared undaunted by the cold which has panicked the natives here and been the bane of Tighe and the Lakeland Chamber of Commerce.

The way Hoeft figures is if the current cold snap continues all the players will nurse their arms carefully and come up in better condition when things warm up.

Tighe had planned an intrasquad game Wednesday before taking on a rookie team from the camp of the St. Louis Cardinals Thursday.

But he now says unless things warm up enough to permit batting practice, both games will be canceled.

WOMEN WINNERS — Mrs. Ruth Debow, left, was the top morning qualifier with 651, Mrs. Doris Lanktree, center, rolled the best actual game of 220 and Miss Pat Donner was the top afternoon qualifier and had the best actual series with scores of 662 and 557 in the women's qualifying round of the 1958 Pontiac Press Bowlerama Saturday at Motor Inn. Women and men finalists will compete next Saturday at Huron Bowl. Seated is Mrs. Anna Winters, the oldest woman at 76, who bowled 281 to go with a 285 handicap as a large crowd cheered her on.

Spartans Risk Big 10 Lead Against 'M'

By BILL CORNWELL

ANN ARBOR — Michigan State will have a double incentive for victory here tonight when the Spartans clash with their arch rival, the University of Michigan, in a Big 10 basketball headliner at Yost Fieldhouse.

The Spartans invade this hostile den of the Wolverines with a half game hold on 1st place in the craziest Big 10 cage race in years. Holding that exalted position will be their No. 1 incentive.

Not far behind in incentive will be their desire to gain revenge for a pair of setbacks at the hands of Michigan last season, the 2nd defeat being particularly costly.

It was on this same court last March that the Wolverines trimmed the Spartans in the final game of the season, thus forcing coach Forddy Anderson's cagers to share the conference title with Indiana.

★ ★ ★

MSU was voted the league's representative to the NCAA tournament last year, and the Spartans advanced to the championship final before losing to North Carolina.

Once again the Spartans find the Hoosiers breathing down their necks as they enter the U. of M. lair. A victory over the Wolverines would preserve State's lead and gain a juicy bit of revenge at the same time.

The Wolverines will be attempting to bounce back into the victory column after dropping a foul-ridden 85-76 decision to Ohio State Saturday at Columbus. Michigan is now even at 4-4 in the conference standings while State is 6-3.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State was not even pushed slightly Saturday in trimming a stone-cold Illinois team, 69-56, in a nationally televised game from East Lansing which never reached the living room TV screen after 15 minutes of the 1st half due to a power failure.

The Spartan regulars sat out most of the 2nd half and should be well rested for tonight's encounter with Bill Perigo's Wolverines.

In other Big 10 games Saturday, Northwestern shaded Minnesota, 76-75, and Purdue downed Wisconsin, 81-76. Indiana and Iowa were idle.

★ ★ ★

The Hoosiers meet Ohio State tonight at Bloomington while Wisconsin visits Iowa and Minnesota goes to Illinois. Purdue and Northwestern take the evening off.

Wind, Cold Ground Jumpers

U. S. Ski Meet Postponed

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (UP)—America's foremost ski jumpers grounded two days by strong winds and sub-zero temperatures, waited impatiently today for a break in the weather that would permit the start of the National Championships.

Postponement of the National meet yesterday followed cancellation of Saturday's scheduled invitation tournament. It was the first time in history that the weather interferred with jumping bee two days in a row.

Conditions permitting, the two meets were to be held simultaneously at 2:30 p.m. EST today on the world's tallest man-made ski scaffold at nearby Pine Mountain.

Because of the delay, many of the visiting spectators and a few of the participants departed without waiting for another try. Among the jumpers who withdrew and returned home to their jobs was Lewis Moser of Toronto, Canada, newly crowned North American Senior Champion.

The location of the Pine Mountain scaffold, which towers 156 feet straight up from the top of a 250-foot hill, paces it at the mercy of the elements. Designed especially for record breaking, it has produced American records five times in its 20-year history but has never before been selected for the National Championships.

Trojans Win 'Y' Crown

The YMCA Trojans won the YMCA Community League basketball playoffs with a 64-38 victory over the Hi-Y Swishers in Saturday's championship finals at the Pontiac "Y" gym. Larry Beamer paced the Trojans with 27 points and Steve Lewis scored 11 for the Swishers.

Dodgers Sell Sandy Amoros

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers are shipping Sandy Amoros, 26-year-old leftfielder from Havana, Cuba, back to their Montreal farm club in an outright sale.

★ ★ ★

The surprise move was disclosed yesterday. The Dodgers got waivers from the other National League clubs to send Amoros to Montreal, where he played for a year and one-half before going to the Dodgers in 1954.

★ ★ ★

Amoros, a lefty, batted .277 last year. He was one of three Dodgers unsigned for the 1958 season. Whether this had any bearing on his sale was not revealed.

4 Drown After Car Plunges Down Cliff

SHELTON, Wash. (UP) — Four members of a Seattle family, out for a Sunday afternoon drive in Olympic National Park, were trapped and drowned when their automobile plunged down a 100-foot cliff from a gravel road and landed upside down in six feet of water in Lake Cushman.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Clark, both 48, and their two children, Susan, 5, and Loren, 2½.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvis Rudeen of McCleary, Wash., and their two granddaughters, Susan, 11, and Mary Tauscher, 8, Elma, Wash., managed to get out. Mrs. Rudeen was admitted to Mason County hospital but the others had only minor injuries.

Rudeen tried unsuccessfully to save the Clarks.

Killed on Visit to South

WHITLEY CITY, Ky. (UP) — Rose Marie Fitzner, 36, of Warren, Mich. died yesterday an hour after her auto went out of control and crashed off U.S. 27 north of here. State police reported roads throughout the area were slippery and hazardous at the time.

Starting Today: Your Income Tax

Income Tax Deadline Is April 15, but You May Gain by Filing Early

(Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of eight stories on your income tax, designed to save you time and money in filing your return on 1957 income. Clip and save each of the eight articles for ready reference when you begin calculating your tax.)

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Associated Press Writer

There's no use trying to ignore it any longer. It's that time again when Uncle Sam expects all his money-making nieces and nephews to file their income tax returns. The deadline isn't until midnight of Tuesday, April 15.

However, if you have a refund coming, odds are the sooner you file your return the sooner you'll get your money. Even if you owe Uncle Sam more than he already has taken, it's wise to get started now. Those who wait until the last minute are more apt to make mistakes, and mistakes can be costly.

Some weeks ago Uncle Sam should have mailed you a copy of the same type of form that you used last year. If he didn't, or if you are paying income tax for the first time, you can get the forms and instructions sheets from your local bank or post office, or from any Internal Revenue Service office.

Before you start the actual work on your tax return it might be well to develop the proper mental attitude by repeating slowly several times: "It just isn't true that Uncle Sam wants all my money and the shirt off my back — it only seems that way."

Actually, the tax laws provide numerous ways in which you can reduce the government's annual bite. The tax collectors insist they want only what's due, and not a cent more.

They proved that last year by refunding millions of dollars to surprised taxpayers who had made careless mistakes in filling out their forms.

This series of articles is designed primarily to help the vast group of Americans who deal directly with the government on taxes due for salaries and wages earned during 1957.

WHO MUST FILE

If you are under age 65 and had an income of $600 or more during 1957, you must file a return, regardless of whether any tax is due. If you are 65 or over, you must file if your gross income was $1,200 or more.

If your income was below these minimums you don't owe any tax. So, if your employer or employers withheld any taxes during the year, you must file a return in order to get a refund.

You can fill out your form and mail it in just as soon as your employer (or employers, if you worked for more than one during the year) provides you with his record of how much you were paid and how much was deducted for taxes during the year.

This information will come to you on form W2, and a copy (copy B) of this form must be attached to your return when you file it.

There have been no major changes in the tax laws since last year. There has been only one major change in the form 1040—the addition of a line on the first page for the listing of travel and reimbursed expenses, etc.

However, after the forms were printed, the Internal Revenue Service decided that the public hadn't been given enough warning of the details involved, so it ruled that you are not required to use the new line. A later article will explain this new line.

In addition to filing an income tax return for money earned in 1957, many taxpayers will have to file a declaration of estimated income and tax for money to be earned in 1958.

This is designed primarily for self-employed persons, but it also applies to other taxpayers who will have income during the year that will not be subject to the withholding tax.

★ ★ ★

The declaration includes the amount of any such income and the amount of tax that must be paid on it. Then the taxpayer must make quarterly payments to IRS to cover the difference between the estimated total tax due and the amount paid through withholdings.

The idea is to keep taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis.

If you find later that you have underestimated your tax, your nearest IRS office can tell you how to file an amended declaration.

After you get your facts and figures together on your 1957 income, the next thing to decide is which of the various forms to use. That will be the subject of the next article.

Wants Summit Confab 'Soon'

Stassen Advises: Add Poles and Czechs to U.N. Meeting

WASHINGTON (UP) — Harold E. Stassen says a summit meeting should be held, with Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia added to the participants and U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold acting as moderator.

"The sooner the better," he said with reference to the time for such a conference.

★ ★ ★

Stassen, who resigned Saturday as President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, made his suggestion in a television interview. Stassen quit his disarmament post to seek the Republican nomination for governor of Pennsylvania.

A summit conference should be held at United Nations headquarters in New York, Stassen said. If Hammarskjold served as "moderator or manager," he said, nations not taking part directly would "all have confidence in the way in which their interests are handled."

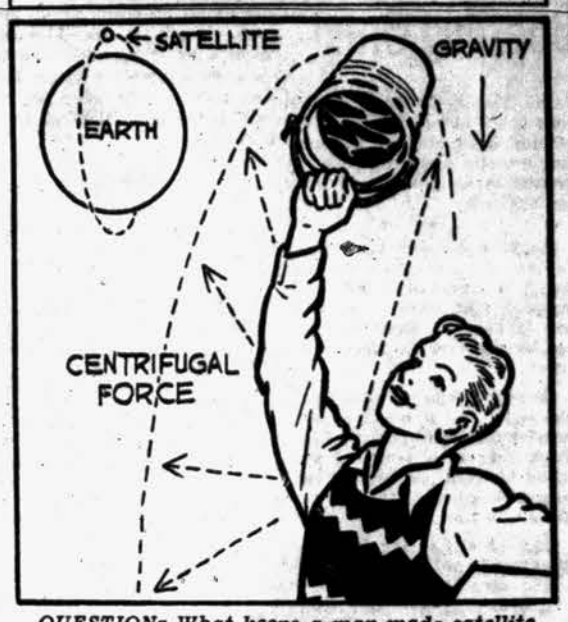

★ ★ ★

Stassen did not say why he proposed including Poland and Czechoslovakia in such talks, which would normally be held among the United States, Russia, Britain and France. However, such a lineup would give equal representation to the free world and the Communist bloc.

In his view, Stassen said, the kind of conference he proposed would have a real chance of achieving a "sound, safeguarded first step agreement" on disarmament should be only one of several topics considered by such a meeting.

Stassen declined to say whether he had discussed his plan with Eisenhower.

Junior Editors Quiz on SCIENCE

ANSWER: A speeding satellite would not remain in its orbit around the earth unless centrifugal force, which is pushing it outwards from the earth's center, and gravity, which pulls it toward the center of the earth, were exactly balanced. If not, the satellite would either veer down toward the earth, or shoot off into space.

To demonstrate these principles, pour a little water into a bucket and, going outside where there is room, swing it up and around using the full circle of your arm. The water does not spill over, even when the bucket is upside down over your head. The rapid revolving motion has caused centrifugal force to push the water away from the center of the circle and this has overcome the force of gravity, which would otherwise have pulled the water out and given you a good wetting. Your arm has prevented the bucket from flying away, just as the force of gravity keeps a satellite circling the earth, instead of whirling off into space. Before launching a satellite, very delicate calculations must be made so that these two forces will remain permanently in balance.

FOR YOU TO DO: Tie a small weight to a string and whirl it around your head, noticing that when you increase the speed centrifugal force makes it rise higher. Stop spinning and gravity takes over; the weight quickly comes to rest.

★ ★ ★

Hollywood Headlines

Sage Brush Sagas Reign Today as King of Video

By BOB THOMAS

The most startling demonstration of that fact is in a recent TV audience survey. It disclosed that six of the top eight shows were Westerns! Only Perry Como and "I've Got A Secret" interrupted the thundering herd.

But the onrush of TV horse operas hasn't discouraged theatrical producers from heading for the wide - open spaces. Far from it At this moment, there are four large-scale Westerns being filmed for the big screens, starring such stalwarts as Gregory Peck, Gary Cooper, Alan Ladd, Ernest Borgnine and Randolph Scott.

It's time we came to grips with this art form—and it is an art form despite what the scoffers say.

Some long-hairs claim the Western is the sole original contribution of the movies to art. Everything else the screen has done has been borrowed from earlier modes of expression.

Okay, so it's art. It's also commercial. But neither the movies nor TV realized it could be both until late in the game.

The commercial aspects of Western movies were realized early. The first story film, "The Great Train Robbery," was a Western. That was 1908, and the star was broncho Billy Anderson, still living in Hollywood.

Only occasionally did Hollywood go in for big-budget Westerns such as "The Covered Wagon," "In Old Arizona," "Cimarron," "The Big Trail" and "The Plainsman."

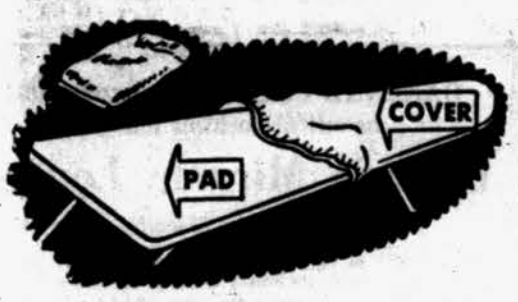

Artistic merits of the Western went largely unrecognized until John Ford's "Stagecoach." After it came a flood of expensive Westerns with top stars.

Rare is the Western that has lost money. It is a sure - fire staple.

TV also was slow to realize the artistic value of the Western. The early days saw Bill Boyd as Hola-long Cassiday, Gene Autry, Roy Rogers, Guy Madison, Wild Bill Hickok, Bill Williams, Kit Carson, Duncan Renaldo as Cisco Kid, etc. But these shows were aimed at kids and the most devoted Western fans.

When TV discovered the adult Western, the gunslingers came with a whoop. Hollywood's Western bit players are finding steady work for the first time in years and San Fernando Valley stables can scarcely fill the demand for horses.

Slight Demand Boosting Grain

CHICAGO (AP)—Moderate demand almost all along the line gave grain futures prices boosts of more than a cent a bushel for some deliveries in early board of trade dealings today.

★ ★ ★

The strongest demand was for old crop wheat contracts and was hinged to a general feeling, traders said, that some export business is expected soon. Commission houses were the most active buyers.

Continued cold weather and the belief that it would require heavier feeding of grain to livestock set off a scattered demand for corn and brought out some short-covering. Oats moved along with corn.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅛ to 1⅛ higher, March $2.16⅞; corn 1⅜ higher, March $1.11; oats ⅜ to ¾ higher, March 65½; rye ⅝ to ⅞ higher, March $1.29½; soybeans ⅝ to 1 higher, March $2.21⅞; and lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.02.

Pick Roads, Homes to Bolster Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Democrats picked highways and housing today as likely to offer the speediest opportunities to pump federal expenditures into the faltering economy.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) announced the Senate Public Works subcommittee he heads will begin hearings tomorrow on proposals to accelerate the interstate highway program.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said in a separate interview he is drafting legislation aimed at making it easier for people with moderate incomes to buy houses in the $10,000 to $15,000 bracket.

Sparkman's plans call for still further easing of down-payment requirements in that bracket, and for other actions to make more housing credit available.

Classes Scheduled for 3 UAW Locals

A 10-week series of educational sessions for leaders of three Oakland County UAW locals will begin tomorrow at the Pontiac Motor Local 653 Hall, 38 E. Kennett Rd.

★ ★ ★

The classes will stress collective bargaining procedures, grievance procedures and labor history, according to Charles S. Curry, regional UAW educational representative.

Sessions will be on Tuesdays from 10 a. m. to noon and from 7:30 to 9 p. m. for stewards, committeemen and general membership, Curry said.

Attending will be representatives from Fisher Body Local 596; Local 540, which represents 16 plants in Oakland County, and Local 417, which represents five plants.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A woman using a ladder to reach her second-story bedroom window, froze to death today when she slipped and became wedged between the roof and an overhang.

★ ★ ★

The body of Mrs. Robbie Lee Keith, 41, was discovered by her landlord, Mrs. Lois Noel. She told police she had the only key to the house and that Mrs. Keith often used the ladder to gain entry.

It was three below zero, police said, when Mrs. Keith climbed a ladder and reached the peaked roof of a bathroom addition directly below the bedroom window.

★ ★ ★

She slipped and slid down the roof, her legs wedging between the roof and a short projection extending over the back door to the cottage.

Her shoes had fallen off and she was not wearing a coat, hat or gloves. A sack of hamburgers and coffee were found on the ground.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Noel said she discovered the body when she went outside and saw Mrs. Keith's feet and legs.

Perilous Roads Claim Seven

Driving Dangerous in Entire State During Cold, Stormy Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven persons died in Michigan traffic accidents over one of the coldest, stormiest weekends in decades.

Heavy snowfalls in the early part of the weekend capped by cold weather, heavy winds and drifting snow in the latter portions made driving conditions hazardous everywhere.

Mrs. Edward Goertzen, an elementary school principal of Taylor Township, died Sunday following an auto collision.

Carl D. Miller, 23, Petersburg, was injured fatally Sunday when his car struck a culvert in Monroe County.

Stanley Stanfield, 10, Battle Creek, was injured fatally Saturday when the car in which he was riding collided with a passenger train east of Kalamazoo.

Russell H. Lawrence, 43, Farmington, was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision in Wayne County.

Herman A. Davidson, 50, Highland Park, died Saturday when his car overturned in Detroit.

Emanuel Butler, 67, Detroit, was killed Friday when the car in which he was riding struck a bridge abutment in Detroit.

Raymond Bauer, 45, Saginaw, was killed Friday night when his car skidded into a tree near Bay City.

Suffers Lacerations in Head-On Collision

A Lincoln Park woman is reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering multiple facial cuts in a headon collision Saturday that injured six other persons, said Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Mrs. Pearl McPherson, 37, of 821 Fairfield St., was injured when the car driven by her husband, Ralph 49, collided with one driven by Gerald J. McFarlane, 22, of 608 E. Commerce Rd., Commerce Township. The accident occurred on Milford Rd. about one mile north of Milford.

Both drivers were treated and released. Also treated and released were Michael Brown, 42, also of Lincoln Park, his wife, Mildred, 35, and their daughter, Nancy, 10, who were in the McPherson auto; and Charles Schoenberg, 27, of Milford, who was riding with McFarlane.

Stock Market Slightly Lower

Most key stocks declined fractionally. There were a few small gainers.

Some tobaccos, oils and base metals nudged ahead but steels leaned to the downside and motors were irregularly lower. Farm implements, aircrafts, chemicals and most leading rails edged off.

Reports were that steel orders for March are failing to match earlier expectations. Copper prices continued soft. More price reductions and cutbacks were announced for crude oil.

Du Pont dropped more than a point. U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Chrysler, International Harvester and General Dynamics dropped fractions.

After a moderately active opening trading became very slow. Because of the blizzard there was some early absenteeism and tardiness among floor brokers at the New York Stock Exchange.

Government Dips Into Till to Take 100 Million Dollars

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Uncle Sam's golden nest egg is helping him meet his bills while waiting for you to pay your income tax.

Tapping Fort Knox for 100 million dollars in emergency reserve gold so that new currency can be issued against it is another side to the complicated and often mysterious part that gold plays.

★ ★ ★

Important events in the story of gold include the secret hoard of the Russians and how they use it from time to time; the amount that the United States keep as legal backing to its currency; the dollar investments of foreign lands which theoretically could be turned into gold on demand; and the Treasury's, emergency gold reserve.

This reserve was once nearly three billion dollars. Now it's 400 million.

Federal spending is rising and tax collections will be inadequate until corporations make big income tax payments a month hence and individuals make theirs two months from now.

Treasury cash has fallen to 2½ billion dollars, a pretty slim margin. The federal debt is close to the legal limit of 275 billion dollars. Borrowing can't help much unless Congress boosts the limit by five billion as requested.

Hence the Treasury's getting backing for new currency.

★ ★ ★

Uncle Sam isn't strapped for gold—and even if his cash runs low from time to time, his credit is still tops.

U.S. gold holdings are now 22¾ billion dollars, half a billion more than a year ago. About 12 billion of this is earmarked for currency backing.

U.S. gold holdings are published daily, but Russia's gold is a well kept secret. Its hoard is believed to be second only to ours but far smaller. Top guesses put it at seven billion dollars.

OUTPUT DROPPED

U.S. gold output has dropped. Miners say that since the price hasn't risen from $35 an ounce since 1934 gold digging isn't profitable. Latest figures put U.S. gold production at 34½ million dollars a year, compared with 121 million dollars before the war. Meanwhile Russian production is believed to have been kept up.

Russian gold is reported swinging up world markets presumably in payment of goods. Often it is thought to appear through the black market.

Sub rosa dealing in gold has subsided in recent years but earlier it went as high as $60 an ounce.

OTHER BUILD UP

Other Western countries have been building up gold and dollar reserves. Their central banks have perhaps nine billion U.S. dollars which by law could be turned into gold on demand.

Individual foreigners have an estimated six billion in dollar credits, a further theoretical threat to our gold stocks.

In financial circles a run is considered highly unlikely.

GM Employes Get $3 Million for Ideas

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors' employes received a record $3,414,073 in awards for suggestions on ways to improve operations and better their jobs in 1957.

★ ★ ★

Nearly 261,000 ideas were accepted. Maximum awards of $2,500 were granted for 118 of the ideas submitted, and 427 suggestions resulted in awards of $1,000 or more.

The previous record total of payments was $3,225,741 awarded in 1955.

General Motors said last year's awards brought to nearly 24 million dollars the total payments made since 1942 when the plan was established on a company-wide basis.

★ ★ ★

The suggestions advanced last year ranged from use of a can opener for replacing metal tabs in slots on a timecard rack to substitution of smaller water pipes in a plating job to conserve water. The latter suggestion, GM said, is expected to save more than 70 million gallons of water a year.

Rambler Car Sales Up

DETROIT (AP) — American Motors reported today its retailers sold 2,906 Rambler cars in the first 10 days of February. This compared with 1,760 unit sales in the same 1957 period. Sales since the start of the 1958 model year, (Oct. 1) have numbered 41,515 units, a 66.4 per cent increase over deliv-

32 Missing on Korean Airliner

Fog Over Italy Hampers Hunt for 16-Man AF Plane

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Fog and heavy clouds over the south Italian mountains and the Ionian Sea hampered the search today for a twin-engine U.S. Air Force transport missing with 16 military personnel aboard.

Despite the fog, more than 15 American search planes took off from bases in the Naples area. Italian seaplanes from Syracuse and Taranto, British planes from Malta, and ships of the U.S. 6th Fleet joined in.

Officials said the possibility that the plane had been forced down in Communist Albania could not be excluded. There were unconfirmed reports that the United States was trying to check with the Albanians.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The United Nations Command will meet the Communists tomorrow to demand the return of a Korean civilian airliner which vanished into North Korea with two Americans at the controls and 30 other persons aboard.

It was assumed that one or more Communists had gotten aboard the plane in disguise and forced the pilots to fly north at gunpoint. Korean National Airlines charged the 32 had been kidnaped.

Aside from agreeing to the U.N. request for a meeting in the neutral zone at Panmunjom, the Communists remained silent on the fate of the twin-engine airliner.

Lt. Col. Howard W. McLellan of Buchanan, Mich., was among 32 persons aboard.

Col. McLellan, a U.S. Air Force officer, was acting as co-pilot.

Need Tax Cut, Detroiters Told

U.S. Economy Requires More Moderate Rate, According to Speaker

DETROIT (AP)—Charles R. Sligh Jr., executive vice president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, asked Congress today to "remove the roadblocks to capital formation and restore personal incentive" by cutting taxes on individual and corporate incomes.

★ ★ ★

What the nation needs to revitalize its ailing economy, he said, are moderate tax rates spread over the widest possible base.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Detroit Economic Club, Sligh described the current tax structure as punitive and said it undermines incentive and hampers the accumulation of needed investment capital.

★ ★ ★

It would be difficult, he said, to devise a tax system more hostile to a dynamic growing economy than the one we now have. And, he added, the only way the government can hope to take in enough revenue to balance its budget without inflation is through a resumption of economic growth.

★ ★ ★

Economic growth, Sligh said, could best be fostered by "reforming the tax rate."

The former NAM president proposed a systematic tax cut along lines embodied in bills introduced in Congress by Rep. Sadlak (R-Conn) and Rep. Herlong (D-Fla).

The measures provide gradual tax rate reductions over a five-year period down from 20 to 15 per cent on individual incomes and from a top of 52 to 42 per cent on corporate earnings. The bills also would cut the progressive surtax rates from a top of 91 per cent to 42 per cent.

GM Laying Off 500 in Arlington Plant

Union spokesmen said it is a seasonal cut. GM officials said it is based on a drop in demand for automobiles. The plant assembles Buicks, Oldsmobiles and Pontiacs.

The announcement said only hourly-wage workers will be affected.

Harold Houge, chairman of the collective bargaining committee of the United Auto Workers Local, said the layoff would cut production from 46½ cars an hour to 37. The plant now employs about 2,150.

Meg's Bodyguard Larger After Threatening Letters

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Sketch said today Princess Margaret' bodyguard of detectives has been strengthened because she has received some threatening letters.

The letters were said to have warned her not to go through with plans for a visit to the West Indies in April.

Addressing High School Principals

New Education System Recommended

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Dr. James B. Conant recommended today that the nation's high schools group their students by ability, wherever possible, so that they may proceed at a pace in keeping with their talents.

This, the former president of Harvard said, would apply to 15 or 20 per cent of the student body that is particularly gifted, as well as to the 10 to 15 per cent who just aren't capable of keeping up with the rest.

Dr. Conant, in a speech prepared for the 42nd annual convention of the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals, said the slower students, who usually have trouble with reading and handling numbers, should be taken out of the required courses such as English, history, and general mathematics.

They should, he said, be given "a different type of instruction by teachers specially qualified for this work and anxious to undertake it."

Only in this way, Conant said, can the slow learner be given anything like a satisfactory education.

Dr. Conant outlined a proposed program of high school courses for grades 9 through 12.

★ ★ ★

He recommended four years of English and four years of history or related social studies as required courses. Two years of mathematics should also be required, he said, with the more able students going on to more advanced courses, and the weaker students taking general or commercial arithmetic.

Another proposed requirement was a general science course in the ninth grade, or biology in the ninth or tenth grade.

U. S. Welcomes Canada Goose

Hearty Fowl Survives Annual, Long Flight in Good Health

WASHINGTON — Among visitors to the United States, none is more hospitably welcomed and pampered than the Canada goose.

Sounding their clarion notes on still nights, the wild geese come in V-shaped formations to pass the winter on ancestral feeding grounds. They are among the first birds to start north again in early spring to breed, the National Geographic Society says.

Though hunted by fair means and foul, the big Canada geese are more than holding their own. The population trend is upward. The Fish and Wildlife Service estimates that some 327,000 came down the Atlantic Flyway alone in 1957 as compared to 266,000 in 1954. These and Canada geese migrating along other flyways find winter haven at 255 Federal refuges totaling 9,422,935 acres.

To assure the welcome guests plenty of food, crops are set out in refuges along the flyways. Fields are burned well in advance so the geese will be greeted with an expanse of tender green shoots. Oats, rye, soy beans, and clover are planted in clearings.

The Canada goose (Branta canadensis) gets around more than perhaps any other water fowl. The species is seen seasonally from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic Circle.

Adults have a wingspread of about six feet and weigh from seven to 14 pounds. Boldly marked, the brownish-grey geese have black heads, white cheeks, and long black necks or "stockings."

Like periscopes, the black necks and heads of sentinels protrude above the backs of a feeding flock. The guards remain tensely alert until relieved by others to take their turn eating.

Canada geese mate for life and show great concern for each other. The gander doesn't deign to sit on the nest, but it keeps constant watch, and is a fierce defender of the family.

U. S. and Britain Negotiate Missile Base Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Britain have successfully negotiated an agreement for bases. It seems certain to become the pilot pact for arming other NATO allies with medium-range rocket weapons.

The key to the agreement is joint control of the missile system which will be set up on British soil with American - made weapons.

The issue of who would pull the trigger in event of a war has been hotly debated in Europe. Those who opposed arming NATO with nuclear missiles argued that the United States might plunge an Allied nation into war without that nation's consent, merely by pushing a button.

The 1,500-mile missiles which Britain will receive from the United States, according to reports here and in London, will be distributed among four bases along the eastern shores of the British Isles.

London dispatches said that Britain would pay the 90-million-dollar cost of constructing the base. The United States will supply the missiles by the end of this year and U.S. crews initially will handle the weapons. British crews will take over as soon as they can be trained.

The hydrogen bomb warheads, with which the missile would be equipped in wartime, will be stockpiled at the bases but they will be under U.S. control. Under U.S. law the President cannot transfer atomic weapons to any other country.

★ ★ ★

At the NATO summit conference in Paris in December the heads of the 15 Allied governments decided that NATO defenses in Europe should be reinforced with U.S. nuclear missile. They left it up to Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme Allied commander, to decide where the missile bases should be and to work out arrangements with the governments concerned. Then those governments and the United States will negotiate formal agreements.

It's No Crime to Forge French Rose in Belgium

BRUSSELS — It is given to money. It is given to paintings. And now a court in Brussels has agreed that the forgery treatment can be given to roses.

The allegation came from a French horticultural company which has sued a Belgian firm for more than $20,000. The French say that their roses, a special type protected by international patents, have been copied by the Belgians and sold at cut prices.

The Belgian defedants claim that a new color rose is not an invention, such as a rose without a thorn would be, and therefore cannot be patented. Attorneys for both sides agree that the case is unique in international law.

Show Business Feels Death of Manie Sacks

By EARL WILSON

★ ★ ★

Now, a few hours later, Frank faced Lauren Bacall and Dinah Shore across a dinner table.

WILSON

They eulogized the quiet saint of show business, Manie Sacks, who knew for three years that he was dying of leukemia but kept silent lest word reach his mother in her 80s. At the funeral in the Philadelphia synagogue, I'd noticed nearly every chin shoot up when the rabbi revealed Manie "had known."

SACKS

Little Manie, the 56-year-old bachelor NBC vice president in charge of TV programming, knew his fate, but "went about doing good" in a notoriously cutthroat, ingrate world where goodness is considered a luxury and even a foolishness.

"He dispensed more love and got more love than anybody we'll ever know," Dinah Shore said. "He started Frank and me when we were babies"

In '54, suffering the flu, Manie learned via a blood count that he had leukemia, murdered of his great friend, Eddy Duchin.

Too busy to die, he was always off to Paris, Miami or Hollywood, or secretly getting weekly transfusions when home. He rained gifts. He carried Grace Kelly her wedding dress — for himself a new cutaway—also new white-tie and tails.

He lent one never-before-worn outfit to me in Monaco. I literally owed him my striped pants.

But Thanksgiving Day at the home of the Ike Levys in Philly he filled up with tears. It was licking him. But he wrote cherry letters saying he'd soon be back. The Friday before he died he asked to watch Frank's TV show. It was the last TV he saw. They told his mother.

Frank, Dinah, Dean Martin, Leo Durocher, Toots Shor and the rest of us will start an Emanuel T. Sacks Memorial Leukemia Fund soon.

Manie'd have donated big to something like that. They tell how in Chicago once a friend delayed their getting on a plane because he'd forgotten to take out air travel insurance. "Come on!" said Manie restlessly. "I took out insurance — I'm giving YOU half of mine!"

The point of all this is that Manie, who made many stars, was unknown to most of the world, but great, and loved by those he made. Whom would I prefer to be? Manie.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

MMonroe keeps denying it, but those awful rumor mongers insist she's helping Arthur Miller cast his first movie, "The Misfit" (in which, they whisper, she might even star). Newlyweds Eydie Gorme and Steve Lawrence are so busy workin' they can't honeymoon till June . . . Bob Hope, trying for weeks to get Lana Turner on his TV show, sighs, "She's still the toughest gal in Hollywood to date". . . . Singer Charlie Applewhite gets out of the Army in six weeks . . .

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: It's fine for parents to bring up children — if only they wouldn't keep bringing them up in their conversation.—Jack Herbert, Quote. That's earl, brother.

Business as Usual While Robbery Ensues

CLEVELAND (AP) — While three thugs slugged and robbed a drugstore operator of $500, a fourth member of the gang sold a cigar to an unexpected customer.

Edward Chakoff, 36, owner of the Purity Drugstore, told police he was held on the floor behind a counter while the fourth thug sold a cigar to a customer, told him the cash register was broken and asked him to return later and pay the 15 cents.

Old Soldier's Airplane Bataan II Fades Away

The old plane, damaged by fire last year, was sold recently for $120,000 to P. D. Smith, Los Angeles airplane salvager. It was dismantled and shipped to the United States aboard the U.S. freighter Pacific Transport.

Audience Likes Family Comedy

Five-Year-Old Series May Even Top Record Set by Lucy

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — "You Gotta Have Heart."

★ ★ ★

Danny Thomas had it in the early days of television when he interrupted his jokes and night-club songs to sing and to talk to little children sitting on his knee.

But it was the era of big brassy TV variety shows and no one thought about veteran night-club comedian Danny Thomas as a family man at home with his wife and children.

But Danny (who is a family man), and telefilm people (who knew it), thought about it and Danny's family show, zooming to new audience highs in its fifth year, has a good chance of topping even the seven-year longevity record of "I Love Lucy" in the weekly show league.

★ ★ ★

Why? Ask almost anyone why they like the Danny Thomas Show, now on CBS-TV every Monday night. They'll tell you:

"Because it has heart."

WARM COMEDY

It's Danny Thomas' big heart coming through those TV sceens in warm, human family comedy. With laughs like daughter Terry's comment to little Rusty when widower Danny was dating, object matrimony, at the close of last year's season.

★ ★ ★

"He needs help," said Terry. "After all, what does Daddy know about women? He's been married all his life."

Even Danny becoming a widower — when wife No. 1 Jean Hagen tired of the show a year and a half ago—didn't hurt the ratings, as TV Alley predicted.

After a time there were occasional dances for Danny, to mixed amusement and worry for Terry and Rusty. Marjorie Lord, called in as Rusty's nurse when he became ill, finally became this year's Mrs. Danny.

★ ★ ★

Marjorie, mother of two herself, was selected for the perfect-wife role because of the demand by Danny and his director, Sheldon Leonard, for a "genuinely nice person." That Marjorie is and today she smiles:

"It seems like we've been married for 10 years."

GROWING TOGETHER

Starring in his 139th film, Danny can look back and say, about Rusty and Terry, "We grew up together." Rusty Hamer has appeared in every show and Sherry Jackson, as Terry, in almost all of them.

Both kids celebrated their birthdays on the same day, Feb. 14—Rusty was 11 and Sherry sweet 16. The gradual change of growing-up plots is a constant chuckle for Danny, who laughed:

"When we started the show I was bathing Rusty. Now he reads lines like John Foster Dulles. I think he's going to span the awkward age on a pogo stick. It will be that easy for him."

There are other reasons for the show's success. As a coffee shop waitress recently told Danny, "I never know what's going to happen on your show, Mr. Thomas."

★ ★ ★

New characters have paraded through the Williams living room ever since the show started. Bill Demarest as Marjorie's father and Tom Tully as her uncle are the latest, plus almost 5-year-old Angela Cartwright, who was introduced as Marjorie's daughter by a previous marriage.

ADDED INTEREST

Which brings up another element. Danny and his family are like the family next door—but they're not.

★ ★ ★

Their lives revolve around the everyday things of the family next door, with Danny's job as a night-club entertainer occasionally giving the family some unlike-next-door show business excitement.

But there's something more important people don't see on home screens. Or maybe they do.

"It's our attitude toward the show," Danny explained it to me. "I don't get hysterical when our rating goes down — or goes up. There isn't a single genius in our organization.

Artist's Remark on Video Quiz Brings Protests

NEW YORK (INS)—A New York artist's inadvertent use of a profane phrase before a nationwide television audience tonight caused a rash of phone calls to the Columbia Broadcasting System and its affiliated stations.

Larry Rivers, 33, appearing on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Challenge," had just missed a question about Renoir's painting "Luncheon of the Boating Party." He failed to identify a woman in the picture and her relationship with the artist (she was Aline Charigot who later became Renoir's wife).

Rivers, whose incorrect answer cost him $32,000, then blurted out that the women looked like that "in every ---- ---- picture Renoir ever painted."

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for CBS said the network's New York outlet (WCBS-TV) received 37 calls from viewers protesting the remark. The spokesman added that there were some calls from persons who failed to grasp Rivers' words and wondered why Story was apologizing.

Rivers and his opponent, Leo Lerman of New York, a contributing editor for Mademoiselle Magazine, split $8,000 on the category of great art.

In another match, actor Jackie Coogan and former screen star Lila Lee, who was Rudolph Valentino's leading lady, tied at the $4,000 level on the subject of Silent Movies.

In Letter to Bulganin

Ike Charges Kremlin Misrepresents U. S. Aims

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower today accused the Kremlin of "deliberately" misrepresenting the U. S. desire for peace and questioned whether he should continue to exchange letters with Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower, in a letter to Bulganin, sharply assailed the views expressed by the Soviet premier in recent correspondence and also a speech by Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev on Jan. 22.

In his letter Eisenhower wrote: "I begin to wonder, Mr. Chairman, whether we shall get anywhere by continuing to write speeches to each other?"

He added: "I cannot avoid the feeling that if our two countries are to move ahead to the establishment of better relations, we must find some ways other than mere prolongation of repetitive public debate."

Concerning a possible summit meeting, Eisenhower criticized Bulganin for his attitude on the topics which might be discussed.

The President told the Soviet leader that his proposals "leave considerable puzzlement as to what you think another such meeting could contribute to a genuine settlement of our problems."

Eisenhower recalled that Bulganin suggested about 10 topics for discussion while he himself suggested eight.

The President commented: "Your answer is that I must be prepared to discuss your proposals but that as regards mine there must, you said 'be unanimous agreement of all participants as to the necessity of considering such proposals.'

"In other words, you demand the right to veto discussion of the matters I believe to be vital to peace."

Continuing in the same tone, Eisenhower declared: "If indeed a top level conference were to apply the formula that no one is to say anything except what all the rest agree that they would like to hear, we would . . . end up in the ludicrous posture of our just glaring silently at each other across the table."

★ ★ ★

The President suggested that the deadlock between himself and Bulganin "can be broken by less formal and less publicizied contacts" in which both governments would try to find out whether there can be a summit conference.

DETROIT (INS)—Sgt. Charles Wolfenden of the Detroit Police Department stuck to his story today.

He said the police are aware of a Detroiter who is separated from his wife, but drinks a bit sometimes, and telephones his mate to tell her what he thinks of her.

However, this morning he told her:

"This is it. I'm tired of it all. I'm coming over to kill you."

After waiting half an hour, the wife said her husband called back and declared:

"Forget it, Honey. I can't get the car started?"

GM Reports '57 Sales Up, Earnings Down

Biggest Auto Company Blames Drop in Profits on Higher Costs

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. reports sales were up but earnings were down last year in contrast to Ford and Chrysler reports of both increased profits and sales for 1957.

The giant General Motors, largest of the big three auto companies, said in its annual report yesterday that earnings for 1957 were $843,592,000, equal to $2.99 a share compared with $847,396,000 or $3.02 a share for 1956—a decline of one-half of 1 per cent.

Ford previously reported earnings for 1957 were up $46,200,000 to $282,800,000 and Chrysler announced earnings for the year were more than six times higher than 1956, jumping to $119,952,406. All three auto firms reported sales increases.

GM sales totaled $10,989,813,000 —second only to the record $12,-423,277,000 posted in 1955, the auto industry's banner year. Sales in 1956 were $10,796,445,000.

Ford sales for 1957 came to $5,-771,300,000 or 24.2 per cent greater than in 1956. Chrysler, capturing its biggest share of the auto and truck market since 1953, reported record sales of $3,564,982,510—up 33 per cent over 1956.

General Motors blamed its drop in profits on higher costs.

The company's share of the U. S. auto and truck market shrank from an estimated 50 per cent in 1956 to around 46 per cent in 1957. Ford claimed to account for a postwar high of 30.9 per cent of the industry's market last year against 28.4 in 1956. Chrysler claimed 19.5 per cent against around 17 per cent in 1956.

Commenting on the 1957 GM report, President Harlow H. Curtice and Chairman Albert Bradley predicted a further decline in auto sales in 1958.

"Consumer and business spending reached record levels in 1957 but have eased off somewhat in recent months," they said.

"This trend may well continue during the remainder of the first half of 1958. But during the sec-

182 Dead as Cold Still Grasps East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter cold continued to hold much of the nation in an icy grasp today, disrupting transportation and stalling a vast snow removal job in the Eastern third of the country.

No relief was in sight for the Atlantic Seaboard, still trying to dig out from a weekend blizzard which struck from Mississippi to New England.

At least 182 deaths in the nation were attributed to the storm and cold.

Some snow shovelers dropped dead of heart attacks. Some stranded motorists were killed by carbon monoxide. Some children were crushed to death on sleds.

With temperatures near zero in snowbound Washington, federal workers have another holiday today. All schools were closed in the district yesterday and tens of thousands of workers were absent from their jobs.

TRANSPORT DELAYED

Throughout the Northeast, trains, planes, subways and buses struggled to maintain schedules but almost every piece of transportation equipment was delayed or disabled.

Airlines canceled hundreds of flights. Trains ran up to 12 hours behind schedule on runs to and from Chicago, New York and Washington.

Some trains and buses never left their terminals. Many unheated railroad cars added to passengers' woes.

Schools and factories closed. Businesses suffered. All public places, industries and schools were ordered to close in Delaware as drifting snow caused an emergency.

Central Maryland was crippled. A state of emergency was declared in Huntsville, Ala., site of the Army missile center, when gas supplies dwindled.

APPEAL FOR HELP

In Middlesboro, Ky., 11,000 of the town's 15,000 residents were without heating gas. Appeals were hundreds of schools and industries

Eleven Children Among 12 Dead in Atlanta Fire

★ ★ ★

ATLANTA (AP) — Twelve persons, including 11 children in two families, perished in a fire that roared through a two-story duplex building in Atlanta's southwest section last night.

Firemen said they found the bodies of 10 children huddled in one upstairs bedroom.

In other bedrooms were the charred remains of an infant boy in an incubator and a woman, mother of four of the dead youngsters.

Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Jones risked their lives in unsuccessful attempt to reach their seven children.

Cause of the fire was not determined.

★ ★ ★

A general alarm fire also swept through a three-story brick building in the downtown section early today and threatened to engulf an entire block before being brought under control.

Flames shot 50 to 60 feet into the air at the height of the blaze and a pall of black smoke enveloped much of the downtown section.

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Six children died in a fire last night which attacked their trailer-shack home which, police said, "went up like a pile of kindling."

The parents and one of the four other children who escaped from the flimsily constructed home were reported in serious condition with second and third degree burns.

The fast - spreading fire destroyed the combination semi-trailer, house trailer and shack structure occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Wright and their nine children in nearby Romeoville. Five died in the fire. The sixth died early today in a Joliet hospital.

An overheated coal stove in one corner of the rambling structure was tentatively blamed for the fire, police said.

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Fire caused extensive damage at the 149-year-old community hall in this resort community yesterday.

John Cowell, 22, was overcome by smoke as volunteer firemen and Coast Guardsmen battled the blaze in sub-zero weather.

The single-story frame structure was built in 1809 and was once used by the American Fur

And this warming spell —maybe a whole six degrees up the thermometer —is expected to continue at least for two days here, offering slight relief to frozen residents.

The mercury is forecast to climb around the 14-degree mark tomorrow, with tonight's low expected to stay above the zero mark—from 2 to 6 degrees.

Five Michigan deaths, including that of a 60-year-old Farmington Township man, were attributed to snow or cold.

Richard A. Haigh, of 24895 Springbrook Rd., Farmington Township, was killed Monday night when his car struck a snowdrift on U.S. 16 near Old Plank road in Lyon Township and ran off the road.

This was a pleasant surprise to thousands of motorists who were plagued Sunday night and Monday morning with a near-record of 9 below and non-starting cars.

★ ★ ★

Chilly winds from the northwest at 25 miles per hour are to bring in "frequent snow flurries" tonight and tomorrow, the Weather Bureau reported.

SCHOOL HOLIDAY

More than 15,500 students received another vacation today as schools in Lake Orion, Dryden, West Bloomfield, Romeo, Utica, Almont, Imlay City and Armada remained closed due to the weather.

★ ★ ★

Although "not quite so cold" readings were forecast, Michigan thermometers, however, aren't expected to top 20 degrees anywhere over the next two days, and upstate readings are expected to slip back below zero overnight.

High winds late yesterday resulted in snow drifts which have blocked many side roads in the county, according to Road Commission Dispatcher Elmer Hess.

He reported impassable roads mostly in the townships of High-

Gives Success Formula to Realtors

'Get Along With People'

By PETE LOCHBILER

L. L. Cunningham is a man who believes that real success depends on getting along with people.

He put the point across last night as guest speaker before an overflow crowd attending the Pontiac Board of Realtors 42nd annual banquet at Elks Temple.

"No matter what your goals are, your success will depend upon how you handle yourself and other people," said Cunningham, a friend of Dale Carnegie and the late Knute Rockne.

"There is nothing more important on earth except human beings, and there is nothing as important about human beings as human relations."

An able, inspirational speaker who received an enthusiastic ovation last night, Cunningham describes himself mainly as a salesman, although he is now president and owner of the Business Institute of Milwaukee.

★ ★ ★

He is a former sponsor and instructor of Dale Carnegie courses and for several years was physical education director at his alma mater, Notre Dame, during Rockne's heyday as football coach there.

USED CHRIST'S TEACHINGS

Carnegie, he described as a "humble, simple man, who admits that all he did in writing the world's second best selling non-fiction book was take the words of Jesus and other great leaders and put them together."

He hailed Rockne not so much for his scoreboard successes, as for his dedication as "a great leader of youth."

Cunningham presented a formula he had devised for himself when working his way up as a salesman.

He told realtors that the formula not only produced good salesmen and able leaders, but also happier people.

"Success and happiness are not necessarily one and the same thing," he pointed out. "The man who does not work for the love of work, but only for money, is not likely to make money nor find much fun in life.

A salesman, Cunningham said, deals not so much in a specific product as in dreams.

"After all," he said, "to buy a house or a car is the fulfillment of a dream for most people. For many, this dream would never be fulfilled if you, as a salesman, did not help them."

Therefore, he said, sincerity and knowledge of a product do not alone make a good salesman," you have to have enthusiasm to make the buyer believe that you believe in what you're selling him," he said.

Election Results

Results of yesterday's elections in Dryden, Hazel Park, Lake Orion, Rochester, Romeo, Troy and Walled Lake are on Page 17.

BULLETINS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — U.S. Atty. James Guilmartin today announced indictment of four prominent Miami financiers on charges of misapplying a total of $7,084,409 in bank and federal savings and loan association funds.

They were listed as Baron de Hirsch Meyer, who resigned a week ago as president of the Miami Beach Federal Savings & Loan Assn.; Leonard L. Abess, former senior vice president and treasurer of the Miami Beach Federal; W. George Kennedy, a director; and Sam R. Becker, executive vice president and secretary before a recent reorganization, and now an administrative assistant.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The three highest officers of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters were indicated today for conspiracy to bribe a state official in the latest phase of the Indiana highway right-of-way land profiteering scandals.

Carpenters President Maurice A. Hutcheson; the union treasurer, Frank M. Chapman; and a vice president, O. William Blaier, were indicted for conspiracy to commit a felony, and bribery.

Great Lakes Trip for Mayflower II Possible in 1959

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayflower II may sail on the Great Lakes in 1959.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the Plimouth Plantation, owner of the famous replica, told a delegation of Michigan residents yesterday that the vessel might make the trip down the St. Lawrence Seaway next year.

The trip was proposed by Sen. Potter (R-Mich) for this summer. Henry Hornblower II, Plimouth Plantation president, said financial considerations made a 1958 trip unlikely.

The Mayflower is on exhibition in the Eastern United States.

Hornblower said a Great Lakes voyage would cost from $150,000 to $200,000 for six months.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan delegation named a five-man steering committee headed by Frank Davis of Bay City, secretary-manager of the East Michigan Tourist Assn., to look into prospects for a 1959 trip in connection with the seaway's opening.

Battle Creek Hikes Bus Fare to 20 Cents

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Beginning today adults will pay a straight 20-cent fare to ride Battle Creek Coach Co. buses. Fares for school children go from 10 to 15 cents.

The Battle Creek City Commission approved the new rates, which abolish a previous system under which five adult tokens could be purchased for 90 cents.

And beginning next Sunday, the commission has authorized the bus line to discontinue all Sunday and night-time runs.

County GOP Will Learn Financial Status Tonight

Don E. Ahrens, state finance chairman, will brief some 100 party members on the financial state of the Michigan organization at a kickoff meeting at 7:45 in the supervisors' auditorium in the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Ahrens, of 540 Haverhill Rd., Bloomfield Hills, will join with State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer in helping the Republican Committee of Oakland County initiate its new drive.

State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, State Rep. Farrell E. Roberts and county officials are expected to attend the open meeting.

Arthur G. Elliot, county committee chairman, said the meeting will be held to "give everyone a chance to see what we are doing and how they can take part."

Passengers Surprised; They're in Paris Again

PARIS (AP)—The 32 passengers of a New York-bound Air France Super Constellation got a big surprise today when they stepped down on Orly Airfield instead of Idlewild.

The plane left Orly at 10 o'clock for New York. Over the Atlantic one engine failed, and the pilot returned to Paris, landing shortly after 7 a.m.

sNOw Use, Folks! You Parked Illegally

EAST ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—About 500 motorists who finally dug their autos out of the mounds left by the weekend's record snow-storm found tickets for overtime parking on their windshields.

Other communities in the area and even nearby New York City had waived parking restrictions during the storm, which left 13.3 inches of snow on the ground.

But Police Chief John F. McGinty told the irate motorists:

"We don't make exceptions, regardless of the weather." He said the parking violators "impeded snow removal."

Kids Clear Hydrants for Plug on Radio

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Dan Healy, announcer for radio station WBRK, came up with a new way of getting fire hydrants clear of snow.

After some two feet of snow fell, Healy announced he would mention on the air the name of any youngster who shoveled out a fire hydrant.

40-Day Observance Starts Tomorrow

Christians Prepare for Lent

Protestant and Catholic churches throughout the world will observe the first day of Lent tomorrow on Ash Wednesday.

The 40-day season of Lent is, for the devout, a period of self-examination and discipline in preparation for Easter, which falls on April 6 this year.

In Catholic and some Episcopal churches, priest and pastor will intone: "Thou art dust and to dust thou wilt return," as they impose ashes from palms left over from the last Palm Sunday on the foreheads of worshippers.

From this rite comes the name of the first day of Lent, Ash Wednesday.

Traditional services will be held in Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal churches. A number of other congregations will hold dinner programs and study sessions. In many churches social activities will be curtailed.

Monitors Meet With Teamsters

Discuss Ways of Giving Members More Voice in Union Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters bosses meet with their court-designated monitors today to discuss ways of giving individual members a greater voice in union affairs.

An immediate problem is how to interpret the union's constitution on qualifications of candidates for union office in more than a dozen Teamsters locals now under trusteeship. Election of local officers is part of a move to end the trustee control.

★ ★ ★

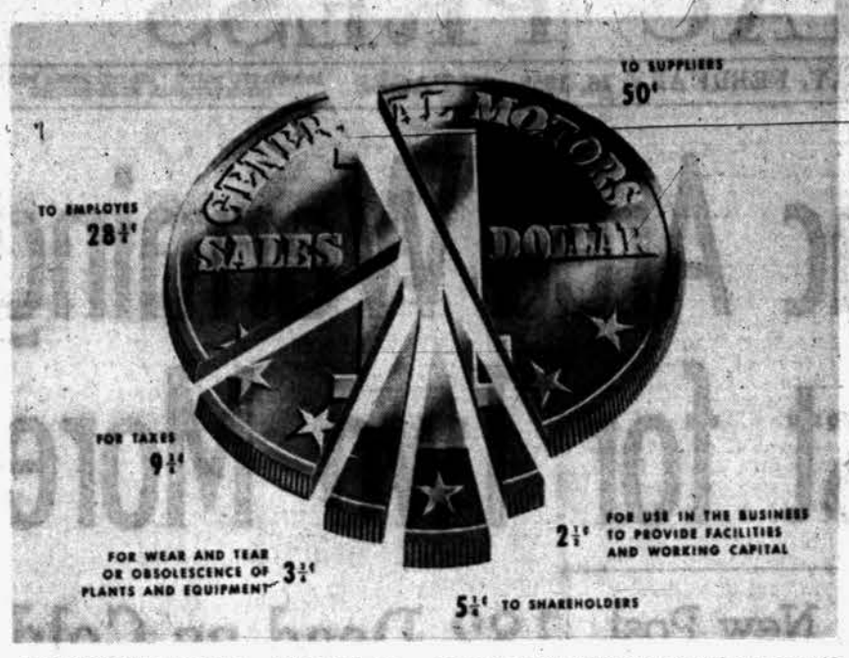

The monitors met Teamsters President James R. Hoffa and members of the union's executive board last week at Miami Beach, Fla., and arranged for another session today at Teamsters headquarters here.

Hoffa said last week that about 37 of the more than 100 trusteeships had been ended, and that more than a dozen other locals were in the process of electing their own officers so they can again become autonomous.

But from one trusted local at Decatur, Ill., came complaints that Hoffa had ruled out all 24 candidates for office as ineligible. It was indicated the reason given was that the candidates had not paid their dues on or before the first of each month for two consecutive years, an eligibility requirement for office under the union's constitution.

This was to be discussed further with the monitors today.

The monitors were named as part of the settlement of a federal court suit which challenged Hoffa's election as president of the union at Miami Beach, Fla., union convention last October.

HOW GM USED INCOME — This chart, prepared by General Motors Corp. in connection with its annual report, shows how money received for its products in 1957 was split up. Largest portion, half of each dollar, was paid to suppliers; second largest, almost 29 cents of each dollar, went for wages and salaries.

New Orleans Chucks Away Cares to Whoop It Up During Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — New Orleans, the Grand Old Lady of the South, chucks away the cares of inner and outer space today to become a gay young debutante again and have herself a ball.

For today is Mardi Gras.

WORRY BANISHED

Worries of races, recession and Sputniks have been banished as the "Queen of the South" lives up to her reputation for one brief day as "the city that care forgot."

Ruling over the festivities will be Rex, lord of misrule, who has called on all his loyal subjects to don costumes and masks and join in the revelry.

There'll be parades with colorful floats and high-strutting bands to help the hundreds of thousands of natives and visitors to forget their worldly problems and join in the gigantic world of make-believe.

KEEP WARM

The weatherman said it will be cold with possible showers. But no one will be paying too much attention to the weather. The merry-makers will keep warm with the cup that cheers and beat cold feet and hands together to the hot tempos of jazz combos in the French quarter saloons.

And while the fun-makers won't realize it, they have Russia to thank for a large slice of the merriment they're enjoying.

It was his imperial highness, the Grand Duke Alexis of the Russian empire who brought into being Rex, the ruler of Mardi Gras.

★ ★ ★

His impending arrival in New Orleans in 1872 brought out proclamations from a mysterious "Rex" when the city officials failed to become enthusiastic about the grand duke's visit.

From those proclamations grew the formation of the Rex Carnival Organization which ultimately staged the parade.

City officials were persuaded to build a reviewing stand on the steps of the old city hall when the enthusiasm could no longer be ignored.

The idea of the parade took hold and the custom lasted through the years but the average reveler won't be thinking about any defunct grand duke. He'll be down on Canal Street, the nation's widest "main drag," which was ordered closed to all but human traffic, happy in his anonymity behind a mask—an excellent shield to hide behind lest any embarrassing situation arise.

★ ★ ★

By tradition, Mardi Gras ends at midnight — the beginning of the austere Lenten season.

But the sheer momentum of the celebration will carry many of the revelers far into the wee hours of the morning before they trudge wearily home.

Then the street cleaners take over.

GM's Sales Rise but Earnings Drop

ond half there is hope that the principal factors that have caused the downturn will be reversed. On balance, 1958 can be a good year for business.

"The current outlook for the automobile industry is for another year of intense competition with the indicated volume being less than in 1957. How much less, it is difficult to appraise at the present time."

GM's 1957 profit amounted to 7.7 per cent of sales against 7.8 per cent in 1956.

"During 1957 the upward trend in payroll costs and charges for materials continued," Curtice and Bradley said. "Price increases on 1958 General Motors passenger cars have not been sufficient to cover the higher costs."

PROF. WILBUR J. COHEN

U. of M. Man Slated by Social Workers

Wilbur J. Cohen, professor of public welfare administration at University of Michigan's School of Social Work, will be guest speaker at Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers monthly luncheon meeting Thursday at the Elks Temple.

Cohen, a member of the association's Commission for Social Policy and Action will speak on "The Social Worker's Role in Public Social Policy." He is considered an authority of social security programs.

★ ★ ★

Prior to joining the university's faculty in 1956, Cohen spent more than 20 years with the federal government. He has represented the U. S. government at many international conferences on social security. In 1956, he received the Health, Education and Welfare Department's Distinguished Service Award.

The Day in Birmingham

Won't Dismiss City's Suit Against Greyhound Lines

BIRMINGHAM—The motion for dismissal of the city's case against the Greyhound Bus Lines, Inc. on the grounds the company is not subject to criminal liability was denied in Birmingham Municipal Court yesterday.

The court action was begun about two weeks ago when residents of the Forest street-Hunter boulevard area complained that noise and fumes coming from a bus parking lot were nuisance and health hazards.

They said buses are parked there with motors running during the night.

City Attorney James Howlett said Greyhound further refused to enter an appearance and that a summons was issued to bring the company into court Monday.

To strengthen the case, Howlett said additional complaints have been signed against Greyhound employes who operate the buses on the lot.

About 100 women will meet at the Community House for luncheon tomorrow to get final action on the house-to-house canvass for the annual roll call to raise funds for the Community House.

Mrs. Robert Watt, general chairman, said 100 captains will spearhead the $50,000 drive.

They will entertain drive workers in their homes Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Watt said contributions mailed to the Community House will eliminate the need of a solicitor making a call.

The regular meeting of Pierce School PTA at 8 p.m. Friday in the school gymnasium will feature an explanation by Mrs. E. E. Schaffer, Community House director, on the educational opportunities offered by the house.

James Fowler of the Cranbrook Institute of Science will illustrate a talk on the museum and planetarium there.

Edwin Kirbert will speak on supplementary educational facilities of the Birmingham YMCA, while Dorothy O'Neil will give information on the children's division at Baldwin Public Library.

★ ★ ★

Expect Suspension of Tunisian Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.S.-British offer of "good offices" to help solve the French-Tunisian dispute was expected to bring a speedy suspension to U.N. Security Council debate today on the charges growing out of the French bombing of a Tunisian village.

★ ★ ★

Although both France and Tunisia accepted the British-American offer, neither made a move to avert the Council meeting scheduled after Tunisia complained to the U.N. and the French filed a countercharge.

However, diplomats both at the U.N. and in London were confident both nations would now try to avoid a bitter debate which the Communists could exploit.

★ ★ ★

These sources predicted each nation would make a restrained statement explaining its charges, and that the necessary 7 of 11 Council members then would be mustered to adjourn the debate, giving the good offices a chance to work.

★ ★ ★

U.S. officials in Washington said they would offer "concrete suggestions and proposals" on outstanding problems between France and her former protectorate. Instead of a single conference bringing both sides together, a coordinated diplomatic drive will be made in Paris and Tunis.

Ski Club Members Stranded in Storm

DETROIT (INS) — More than 100 Detroit area ski club members returned to the Motor City last night after being stranded in a Canadian blizzard.

Members of a Michigan Bell Telephone ski club and two General Motors clubs were stranded near Grand Bend on their return from a skiing weekend at Collingwood, Ont., in the Nottawasaga Bay area, about 200 miles from Detroit.

Door to Riches Opens: Butler Willed $100,000

DETROIT (AP)— A new door is opening today for Melvin Hoover, who has been opening doors for a living for more than 30 years.

Hoover, a butler in his mid-50s, was notified yesterday he was named to receive $100,000 "after taxes" in the will of his employer, Mrs. Louis Mendelssohn, who died recently.

★ ★ ★

Taking the news quietly, he said he planned a trip through the United States.

"I've only been to Idaho and New York City," he explained.

The bequest was "for loyal service and able assistance." He said: "Mrs. Mendelssohn told me before she passed away that she'd take care of me, and she did."

He expects to make some investments.

★ ★ ★

"My roots are here," he continued. "After you've done one thing for so many years—and for such wonderful people—it's hard to leave and even harder to find something else to do."

Hoover, native of a small Ontario community 100 miles east of Toronto, is divorced. He has two daughters, both married with families of their own.

An uncle, the Mendelssohn's gardner, induced Hoover to come to Detroit in 1921, while the Canadian still was in his teens.

Mrs. Mendelssohn also willed $50,000 to Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York. After numerous smaller bequests, several to servants, from the estate valued in excess of a million dollars by bankers, the will sets up trust funds for her daughter and son-in-law and her two grandchildren.

★ ★ ★

Mendelssohn was a financier and an early-day automotive inventor. The Grosse Pointe Shores mansion where Hoover opened doors has, by his estimate, "maybe 60 rooms."

Bill Would Prohibit Altering Car Mileage

A bill authored by Rep. John T. Bowman (D-Roseville) would make it a fraud for a car dealer to alter the reading on the odometer, the device that registered total mileage traveled.

The proposal also would forbid him to sell a car knowing the odometer has been tampered with.

2 State Airmen Among 16 Aboard Missing Plane

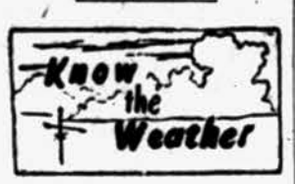

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—U. S. planes resumed their hunt today for an American Air Force transport missing since Saturday with 16 servicemen aboard. Heavy fog over most of southern Italy and the Ionian Sea continued to impede the search.

Authorities speculated that the plane, flying through fog, could have been forced down in Communist Albania.

The Air Force listed two Michigan airmen—one from Niles, the other from Grand Rapids—among those missing on the C47 plane.

They are: A.2.C. Robert K. Systna, son of Sydney Systna, 744 Lake Mich Dr., Grand Rapids.

By E. H. SIMS

What are the two weather conditions which most affect the way we feel?

The first and perhaps the most important weather factor influencing your physical comfort is, of course, barometric pressure. The weight of the air pressing down on you is definitely a major influence on the wa, you feel, because it affects the tissues of your body.

Low pressure causes irritation or deflation in many people. The physical effects often produce psychological repercussions. The second factor is the humidity of the air. This affects people in varying degrees and in various ways.

High humidity often makes people uncomfortable. It sometimes affects aches and pains (as will low pressure) and therefore a combination of very high humidity and low pressure produces the most irritable of weather's depressing effects.

New York Train Pulls Into Detroit 13 Hours Late

DETROIT (INS) — The North Shore Limited from New York City was 12 hours and 52 minutes late arriving at the Michigan Central station in Detroit yesterday. The train got behind another train stalled in high snow drifts outside Syracuse and had to back up for miles to get around it.

CHICAGO (INS) — Two hundred cold and weary passengers finally arrived in Chicago early today aboard the New York's Central's Commodore Vanderbilt which was delayed 19 hours by stormy weather.

The train left New York City Sunday night and was scheduled to reach Chicago at 8:45 a.m. yesterday.

It chugged into the city at 2:50 a.m. today.

Temperature in the train plummeted to 20 degrees.

Then midway between Rochester and Syracuse in upstate New York, the train stalled because the one functioning engine used up more fuel than two would have.

The passengers shivered in the halted train for four hours before a mail train came along and pushed it into Syracuse.

FCC Examiner Testifies

Against TV License Pick

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Federal Communications Commission examiner testified today that National Airlines won a valuable Miami TV license even though he found it failed to meet any of the criteria for such an award.

Herbert Sharfman told the House subcommittee on legislative oversight that he issued a "strong opinion" in the bitterly contested case in favor of Col. A. Frank Katzentine, a Miami radio station owner.

The subcommittee has previously heard charges that:

—An attorney employed by National paid FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack $2,650 while the case was pending and before Mack voted for the airlines application.

Sharfman said he favored Katzentine's application over three others because Katzentine was a local resident of Miami and had an excellent record of civic action, that he not only would own but manage the station and that he had an over-all good broadcast record.

Regarding National Airlines, Sharfman said: "I did not give them a preference for any factor although I did give them complete consideration."

Sharfman said he did not consciously grade the applicants, but added that a "fair analysis" of the four in his opinion showed National "would be the lowest one."

Sharfman said the four applicants sharply attacked each other even before the hearings began in the summer of 1954. "Nobody overlooked anything," he told the subcommittee.

He said there was no question in his mind that he had arrived at the right decision. He added that this was not always true in comparative TV cases, "but I felt more certain in this case than I had in others."

The FCC awarded the license to National a year ago by a four to two vote. Sharfman testified that it was "not unusual" for the commission to overrule a hearing examiner.

Dispute Idles 7,100 Chrysler Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. sent 7,100 workers home today from two Detroit plants as a production standards dispute erupted anew. It was the 16th straight day of work interruption at Chysler plants.

Because of what it said was failure of trim department employes to perform regular work assignments, Chrysler sent 5,000 home from its big Dodge Main plant at mid-morning.

At the same time, the Detroit 2,100 home. Failure to do assigned work also was blamed there by the company.

DRIFTS TOO DEEP

While 1,900 Troy elementary students found their one-day vacation over, some 1,156 Brandon Township students were excused today because of deep 5-foot snow drifts.

The other four persons killed in the state yesterday:

Frederick B. Twigg, 62, of Eaton Rapids and his daughter, Mittie, 21, died when their car collided with a truck near Harbor Beach during a blinding snowstorm.

John G. Davies, 74, was found dead yesterday in an alley near his Detroit home. He died of exposure, according to the Wayne County medical examiner's office.

Despite the generally slippery driving conditions in this area, county sheriff's deputies, Pontiac Police, and State Police from Pontiac and Redford Posts went through the night without any injury accidents reported.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 3. The reading at 2 p.m. was 9.

Bob Considine Says:

SAC Prepares for Push-Button Warfare

OMAHA (INS)—"If we desire to avoid insults we must be able to repel them; if we desire to secure peace, one of the most powerful instruments of our rising prosperity, it must be known that we are at all times ready for war."

That could well have been written today by Gen. Thomas S. Power, USAF, commander in chief, Strategic Air Comand, Offut Air Force Base, Omaha. It was written by another general in 1793, George Washington. He would have found SAC all but wholly incomprehensible.

The Control Center, for example. From this brightly lighted electronic dungeon, three floors below the main administration building, the beginning and perhaps the end of World War III would be waged—5,000 miles from perhaps a similar dugout in the heartland of the Soviet Union.

Maps, diagrams and charts show such things as the location of the principal targets in the U.S.S.R., the weather en route, location of the jet streams, sites of bases, number of planes available and in the air, and many other things that might have bewildered G. Washington.

Gen. Power would be able to talk, if he chose, to any SAC commander on the face of the earth, or any aircraft in flight. He has available a red telephone whose dial lets him speak to any SAC commander in this country.

Back in the rear of the lowest level of the underground is an IBM "electric brain" whose astonishing tubes have memorized an appalling amount of information. The colonel who tried to explain it to us said casually:

"Suppose we would lose Goose Bay, our Labrador base. Direct hit, and all that. We could feed a card into the machine and it would tell us how many men and aircraft we had lost. More importantly, it would tell us how many aircraft and crews were on the way to Goose and now must be deployed, the condition of the nearest refueling station, the number of tankers available."

On top of the three floors that rise above the submerged three levels of the heart of SAC is a device which would detect an atomic detonation as far as 50 miles away, and do something about it.

* * *

Automatically, in the underground, great steel doors would close. Pressurization would start, as it does in a plane as the plane rises to thinner air. The SAC control center has its own power plant, a gleaming white room of diesels and generators big enough to light the city of Omaha. Deep wells would insure against radioactive contamination. There is always a 30-day supply of food on hand—just in case.

In time, all these operations—always improved—will have to do with rockets. SAC is in the act, not the throes, of a switchover.

In order to be ready to go to war with the best possible weapon at all times, it will in time replace its B47 with the supersonic B58 Hustler, and its B52 with the chemically fueled B110, with a speed of nearly 2,000 m.p.h. and a ceiling of 90,000 feet.

* * *

This year SAC will open its first guided missile base, at Presque Isle, Me., with the winged Snark (range 5,500 miles) as the weapon. Later in the year the 1,500-mile Thor at overseas bases. And, now, the beginning of training for operation of the Intercontinental Atlas and Titan.

As G. Washington said, ". . . We are at all times ready for war."

Dr. Laurence E. Morehouse of the University of California says a dentist gets more pain and fatigue from pulling a tooth than does a patient.

Droll Dane Philosophizes on His Success

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The droll Dane called Victor Borge sat himself at a table in the Hotel Plaza, ordered a sardine sandwich without cholesterol, and gazed morosely through the window at frostbitten Central Park.

"Look at all those trees," he said, head shaking. "All the money they spend on this town, and there's not a leaf on them. Disgraceful."

His sandwich came, closely followed by a bread boy picturesquely swathed in white duck and chef's cap, proffering hot rolls. Borge grimaced.

"Manners, young man, manners. We do not accept so much as a corn muffin as long as you're wearing a hat indoors. And ladies present. There's no breeding any more."

An interview with this audaciously amusing pianist from Copenhagen inevitably begins with his poking fun at everything—mostly himself. It usually ends, however, on a philosophic note because Borge has a kindly, thoughtful philosophy of life which has a habit of leaking out without much prodding.

TIMING VITAL

Thus, when asked why he is equally successful as comedian, musician and businessman, he said, "There's only one thing important in life, and it's timing. Everything in life is that. It's an instinct, not something you learn.

"My timing machine has always functioned well."

This required explanation, and Borge, apologizing for its complexity, began: "I believe that everybody is born with a body full of thousands of little machines. They govern his thousands of various physical and mental and psychological potentials, and these little motors work differently in different people.

"For me, the 'music ability' machine and the 'timing machine' work efficiently, and other machines—like say, the 'science research machine'—don't work to capacity.

"The tragedy for a lot of people is that they have a strong 'ambition' machine, and their various 'talent' machines aren't forceful enough to support it." He shrugged. "So just because a man is ambitious doesn't necessarily mean he'll achieve anything; nor should he be blamed for it."

* * *

"You could compare these machines to trees. Are you with me? One tree is an oak, and is born to grow tall. Another is a scrub, and born to grow short. Of course, early education is very important in making the machines, or trees, function to the best of their ability—it's like pulling a tree out of the shade and placing it in the sun, so it's grow as big as it can . . .

"But still, if it is born a scrub, it can get just so tall and no taller, no matter what you do to it."

So, according to this philosophy, one must have sympathy but little patience for people who say that they might be wealthy or famous or happily married today except that somewhere along the line they "missed the boat."

* * *

Tomorrow night on CBS the philosopher will present his third TV "Comedy in Music." He will be pitted against Milton Berle's dramatic comeback on NBC, which is mighty tough competition.

May the man with the best "timing" machine win.

Nuclear Space Flight Closer

AF Awards Contract for Ion Rocket Engine Development

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP)—Nuclear space ships capable of incredible speeds for years at a time came a step closer Monday with disclosure of a new contract awarded by the Air Force to one of America's top missile-makers.

The contract for development of nuclear rocket engines went to Rocketdyne Division of North American Aviation, Inc.

Nuclear rockets, because of their almost limitless power, could carry great payloads at tremendous velocities and would require no more fuel than a woman could carry in a small handbag. Coupled with an ion motor which the company is known to be developing, such a space ship could maintain high speed flight almost indefinitely.

* * *

A nuclear rocket, Rocketdyne said, would use the heat of nuclear fission — atomic explosion—to convert fluid into gases much as the flame on a stove turns water in a teakettle into steam. The gases created by fission heat would rush through the rocket nozzle at tremendous velocity. The resultant thrust would be many times greater than that of chemical-fuel missiles such as the Jupiter-C, which hurled the Explorer satellite into space.

The nuclear reactor would heat heavy metals such as rubidium or a gas such as helium to a point where small electrical charges—ions — would be released. The ions, bearing positive charges, would then be accelerated past the negatively charged substance at the nozzle of the rocket and on out into space.

The enormous thrust of a nuclear rocket would carry the ship beyond the earth's atmosphere and gravitational pull. Then the ion rocket would take over and carry the ship through the low resistance of space at a speed approaching that of light to its destination: the moon, another planet — someday perhaps to another solar system.

"Buick brakes 100% better than Industry standard"

THE BEST WAY to find out who has the best brakes is to see how long they can stand up under tests like these:

Test #1 California: Driver: Griff Borgeson, an editor of SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED Magazine. Buick CENTURY results: 22 emergency-stops from 60 mph and brakes still fully effective. Buick proved 2 times better than the closest American car tested.

Test #2 Florida: Driver: NASCAR President Bill France. Buick CENTURY results: 176 crisis-stops at 60 mph and brakes still going strong. Buick proved up to 8 times better than other cars tested.

How could Buick be so far ahead of other cars? Buick's brakes get rid of heat fast because they're aluminum. And only Buick has air-cooled aluminum brakes—standard on every CENTURY, SUPER, ROADMASTER 75 and LIMITED, optional at extra cost on every SPECIAL.

So for stopping-power that matches go-power—you'd better buy Buick.

Financial Straits Place Railroads in Jeopardy

When business flattens out or recedes, inequities spring more clearly into focus. The injury is felt more sharply. The penalties that inequalities exact are emphasized.

Railroads stand out prominently as one of the first to feel hurt in the current economic adjustment. Many of them had fallen on evil days considerably ahead of other lines.

★ ★ ★

The nation was startled not so long ago when a first line carrier asked for a 45 per cent rate increase on passenger business, or the right to terminate the service completely.

Things were that bad.

They called for drastic action.

★ ★ ★

Congressional hearings have focused more attention on the plight of the railroads. The Brotherhoods have upped their wage demands beyond the ability of the roads to pay. Many of them are running at a loss. They're ready—and anxious—to abandon certain classes of business completely. This comes as a shock to the public.

The rails aren't bluffing. Unless they can get relief from their current plight, they wish to discontinue many services.

★ ★ ★

Some of the proposals they have advanced are a bit of a surprise. The people haven't dreamed the rails were as badly off as they are. Railroad management charges "feather bedding" and spiraling wages as the chief source of trouble. The unions have exploited these practices to the point they are putting their own employers right out of business.

★ ★ ★

Nor is this purely an "outside" matter. The Grand Trunk Railway would probably drop commuter service between Pontiac and Detroit tomorrow if it had permission. Instead, it staggers along with an annual loss that runs from $50,000 to $100,000 each year. (And yet, some passengers complain.)

★ ★ ★

The Grand Trunk costs in general, led by the wage demands, have skyrocketed beyond the ability of the company to raise prices to shippers. Last year the road lost around $10,000,000.

Operations like this don't continue indefinitely.

Ocean Crossings by Air Set New Record

International air travel hit new highs in 1957. According to recent reports, nearly one million passengers traveled by air between the United States and Europe.

★ ★ ★

The traveling public has come to accept air travel as one of the fastest, safest and most economical ways of travel. This is borne out by the fact that during the year approximately 885,000 passengers flew between the United States and Europe as compared with 738,933 in 1956.

★ ★ ★

Oddly enough, the greatest gain came in the westbound travel from Europe. An airline spokesman explained by saying that a new special "immigrant fare," 40 per cent lower than the one way tourist fare, was put into effect in November of 1956.

Since we are now in the space age, it is entirely possible that within a few years we will be writing about moon travel.

Who wants the first ticket from Pontiac?

ONE of the most incompatible mixtures ever cooked up, now increasingly cluttering up the air waves, is the combination of rock-'n'-roll tempo, gospel-song sentiment and hill-billy cater-wauling.

THERE is no consolation to be derived from the foregone conclusion that Russia will not declare war on the United States.

THE Administration says business is taking a breathing spell. So it seems. And it is hoped it can go through the spell without needing a pulmotor.

Pontiac people are showing their usual partiality to Florida as a place to escape the cold weather, although this winter it often wasn't much better than Michigan.

Routings sought at the AAA show Florida far in the lead, according to

Greyhound inquiries and ticket sales follow much along the same line as the AAA, according to

Pete Waidelich,

The present railroad schedules favor Florida, according to

William B. Gracey,

Pontiac ticket agent for the Grand Trunk, better connections now being offered than was the case in former years.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Bonjour Tristesse

David Lawrence Wonders:

'Sputniks' OK; What About Earth?

WASHINGTON — Man may be talking big about going to the moon, but actually he hasn't conquered his own problem of communication on earth. The reminder comes when blizzards and freezing temperatures in our big cities tie up transportation and paralyze communications so that work stops, stores close, schools suspend and whole regions take on a primitive aspect not unlike the 1890s.

LAWRENCE

This is a time when facilities like railroads, which have had a hard time competing with newer forms of travel, come into their own. Over the weekend when airplanes were having trouble landing their planes in many places, buses were running less frequently and individual automobile riders were stalled on the highways, the mainstay of American transportation—the railroads—came through to carry a large section of the traveling public and to maintain the movement of food supplies and mail.

★ ★ ★

This correspondent on Sunday was on the "Afternoon Congressional" of the Pennsylvania Railroad which usually makes the trip between New York and Washington in three hours and 35 minutes. As a result of the snarl in traffic in the rail yards, the train was more than an hour delayed in leaving the station in New York and took about six hours to make the trip.

The number of people at each stop clamoring for a chance to get on the train was unprecedented. The rail officials allowed passengers to stand in all the aisles and squeezed them into every conceivable space—to give them service. Yet many of these same passengers ordinarily ride buses or their own cars or use the airlines.

Here is a standby means of transportation which America cannot afford to let lapse. The importance of iron tracks which can be cleared for travel in the worst storms, while many autos litter the highways unable to move and themselves blocking other cars, cannot be overestimated.

★ ★ ★

As long as there are steel rails to rely on, the American people can maintain a semblance of normal life no matter what happens in the way of weather.

It makes one wonder, incidentally, what kind of life the people of Soviet Russia lead today with such inadequate transportation.

With a population of more than 200,000,000 the Soviet Union has only 72,400 miles of railroad track, compared to America's 220,000 miles. Turning to ordinary highways, the Soviets have only 127,000 miles of paved roads compared to about 2,300,000 miles in the United States. This would ring the earth more than 90 times.

As for telephones, there are only 861,000 in the entire Soviet Union compared to more than 60,000,000 in the United States. This means that, in the Communist empire, people have to spend a lot of time going from place to place to do what a telephone call does for the average American.

So far as automobiles are concerned, the Soviets have only about 700,000 passenger cars, in contrast to about 56,000,000 passenger cars registered in the United States. Yet the Soviets have more than two-and-a-half times the number of square miles of territory to cover.

Communication does substantially affect the opportunity of a people to enjoy a high standard of living. Russia has lots more wintry weather than the United States. What is occasional here in the way of storm paralysis is frequent in Soviet Russia.

There is, in other words, a lot of progress the Soviet rulers have to make before their people can enjoy the earthly things they should have instead of being compelled to see billions of rubles spent on "Sputniks."

It takes a blizzard or two in America to emphasize what the people of Soviet Russia are up against constantly—and such oppressed people certainly do not want another world war.

They do want the right to control their own government, and they'll get it some day—for it's the only way to material well being, too.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Tonsils May Be of Help in Fight Against Infection

Many physicians believe that the tonsils contribute to the body's defense against infection. This has not been proved, but it seems reasonable. Even though tonsil tissue serves no such purpose, there is no reason to imagine tonsil tissue is in any way harmful in itself.

DR. BRADY

The everready operator who looks at a child's throat and finds "Those tonsils are very bad—they'll have to come out before the child will stop having so many colds," guesses wrong as often as right.

Children with large or "enlarged" tonsils generally have no frequent attacks of sore throat than children with small tonsils. And children whose tonsils have been removed usually continue to have the CRI (one or another of the Common Respiratory Infections) as frequently as before the operation—until they pass the age of 10 years, when all children have less frequent CRI.

Surgery is warranted only when enlarged (hypertrophied) tonsils obstruct breathing through the nose, impair hearing or interfere with swallowing. And only tonsillotomy, not tonsillectomy, is justifiable, in my judgment.

I have found nothing to indicate that the currently popular tonsillectomy operation is better treatment for what ails the child than tonsillotomy—a simple snipping of protruding tonsil.

Tonsillectomy is an atrocity in any circumstance. Even so, it may be the only hope of saving life in rare instances such as malignancy or actinomycosis or syphilis, when the primary lesion is apparently limited to the tonsil.

The fact that portions of tonsil tissue usually remain in the throat after tonsillectomy invalidates the principle on which tonsillectomy is based. The bits of tonsil that remain in the throat only rarely give any trouble.

Tonsillotomy is a minor operation, comparable in every respect with extracting a tooth. With the tonsillotome or guillotine (instead of forceps) the operator instantaneously slices off the obstructing portion of tonsil, without anesthesia in some cases, under local anesthesia in others, or under general anesthesia in still others.

The operation is instantaneous—takes less time than extraction of a tooth and gives no more pain. Yes, of course it leaves maybe half of the tonsil intact. Don't be a chump!

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Area Merchant Disturbed Over Boat License Matter

As a rather substantial taxpayer in Oakland County, I intend to find out who fostered this boat license matter, and you may be assured that their names will be posted in my store this summer on a sizable sign. With people working three and four days a week, I am very, very sure they don't need any more taxes at this time.

There is just one way we taxpayers can fight this perpetual tax increase and that is to make very, very sure that any politician who increases taxes during his term of office will be looking for a new job come next election, be he Democrat or Republican.

Debates Question of Death Penalty

Rev. Day recently wrote suggesting death penalty for murder. A death penalty would make little difference to a murderer-to-be. There are any number of recognizable "perhaps," such as environment, mental and emotional makeup, etc., that make a person ready for a crime before he commits it, regardless of the consequences.

If the crime or the development of the criminal hasn't been prevented under existing laws, we shouldn't let murderers loose to return to conditions that might aggravate their weaknesses. But we should be able to see that they have a chance to contribute something to society, if only from inside a prison. A good number of prisoners do productive labor and many life term prisoners volunteer for medical experiments. The Pontiac Press, I believe, mentioned that prisoners had made sizeable contributions to charities. These acts don't erase crimes, but we have evidence that a life sentence instead of death occasionally proves of some value to many and that a prisoner may have an opportunity for a change of heart which he might otherwise never have had.

It's up to us to build a sense of moral responsibility and support organizations trying to prevent crime by recognizing the potential criminal, where he may come from and what he needs to be a rounded-out person. Whatever our approach, I agree with Rev. Day that this is something we should be much more concerned about.

Dentist Clarifies Advice on Teeth

Although we dentists applaud Dr. Brady's efforts to get people to have their teeth checked regularly, we are always sorry to see him undo this good work consistently with misleading statements and uninformed opinions in regard to dentistry.

The toothbrush is not a useless device as Dr. Brady implies. Sensible use of the toothbrush helps oral hygiene in many ways. Even primitive people recognized this. They used frayed stems and grasses as their toothbrush.

Dr. Brady hasn't made more than a superficial study of dental problems. Most of his comments on dentistry are therefore questionable and your readers should be so informed.

Reveals Message to Eisenhower

I've written the following message to Eisenhower:

It is true I did support you. But now millions are unemployed and you in your illness do not understand that they can't get groceries on credit in a chain store like they used to in the small corner store.

You have gained all the success, all the honors, all the pensions and all the wordly goods anyone ever could want.

I supported you. I call on you now to resign, at once, and let a younger man take the helm, lest our people perish. THIS ALARM is NOT false. Believe me to be yours for America.

Income Tax-Fax

THE SIMPLE FORM

Use of form 1040A is the easy way to report your income. If your total income is less than $5000 and consisted of wages, subject to withholding tax, (and not more than $100 from other wages, interest or dividends—the 1040A card should be used for filing a tax return. A husband and wife may file a joint return on the card form if the combined incomes do not exceed the above limits. The Internal Revenue Service will compute the tax for you and on joint returns the tax will be computed on combined or separate incomes, whichever results in the greater tax benefit to you. If single and you had tax withheld on a total income of less than $600 — the card form is the proper way to get your refund.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Teach Children to Shop Shrewdly

David likes to get a bargain when he spends his money. For bargaining is a game. And just as the "squeeze bunt" may win a baseball contest, so it pays for kids to learn ho to squeeze the maximum value out of nickels and dimes. Happy marriage requires the efficient use of money.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

During the summer he and his brother Daniel worked as lifeguards on our Chicago beaches. They were employed only a couple of city blocks from our house, so they'd come home for lunch.

DR. CRANE

Most of the time they did their own cooking, for Mrs. Crane and I were often at our little farm in Indiana.

However, we'd drive back to Chicago on alternate weekends so I could teach my two Bible Classes and Mrs. Crane could give the boys a change of menu.

For they usually ate hot dogs at noon. Or they'd heat a can of beans or of soup.

They might vary their menu by using cheese or cold meat, and then fill up the remainder of their stomachs with milk. For dessert, they'd gobble a package of cookies apiece.

One day I happened to be dining with them. Mrs. Crane had gone to the store that morning and brought home two big sacks of food to help tide them over another week or 10 days till our return.

And she had picked up two quarts of chocolate milk.

"How do you like that chocolate milk?" she inquired, and both boys expressed pleasure with it.

"Well, I got it at a bargain," she answered, "for there was a special sale on it today — two quarts for only 25 cents."

"Why, that's cheaper than ordinary white milk!" David explained. "Why didn't you get a lot more?"

"I wanted to see how it tasted," she replied, "but now that I know you enjoy it, I'll go back this afternoon and buy a larger supply."

"How could they afford to sell it at that low price?" David persisted, and his mother told him it may have been an advertising method to coax customers to try this special brand.

"Your mother is a very shrewd buyer," I said. "When you get married, you may need to skimp and save, so be sure you pick out a wife who is a bargain hunter."

★ ★ ★

He grinned, and then he mentioned the fact that a pal of his who needs to save his money, still doesn't use good judgment at the grocery store.

"He bought a larger box of cookies," David explained, "and thought he was beating me.

"But I showed him that on the basis of net contents his cookies actually cost more than mine, even though he thought he was getting a bargain in the bigger box.

"For instance I find you get more by ordering two 5 cent drinks than you obtain in one 10 cent drink."

"David, that is also true of soap," Mrs. Crane broke in. "You must watch carefully for you don't

If you teenagers learn to be shrewd buyers, you will be better able to operate your own homes economically in later life.

But if you grow up with no zest for obtaining bargains, you may be a financial liability after marriage.

Regardless of the size of your pay check, you may always be broke and in debt if you don't learn the valuable art of shrewd buying.

It was called "horse sense" in earlier days, and we need a revival of it both at home and in Congress.

HOW TO RELIEVE YOUR TENSIONS AND BE HAPPIER

If anxieties and tensions are depriving you of the full pleasure of life, it's time for you to take stock of your present state of mind. There's no need to be frightened, since many people today suffer a little mental tension. But a little tension can often lead to more tension, and so on. That's why you should follow these suggestions:

1. TALK IT OUT! Confide your worries in some level-headed person you trust. You'll be amazed how different your problems look after you've talked them out.

2. ESCAPE FOR A WHILE! When things go wrong, sometimes it's best to lose yourself for a while, in a movie or a book. When you face your worries again, you may find them a lot easier to solve.

3. WORK OFF YOUR ANGER! "Blowing up" can't possibly answer your problem. When you reach your boiling point, work off your anger in a sport, or some project around the house.

These are just three of the many easy-to-follow suggestions which psychiatric experts have developed to help you get rid of your tensions and live a happier life. To find out more, write for the free booklet: "How To Deal With Your Tensions". Address: Better Mental Health, Box 2500, New York 1, New York.

Agriculture's Outlook Gloomy in Disastrous Florida Winter

There was plenty of warning. The Federal-State Frost Warning Service alerts Florida people at least 24 hours ahead of time.

★ ★ ★

The cattle rancher, the vegetable grower and the citrus farmer had time to get ready.

After midnight, as temperatures dropped to the danger point, J. O. Pearce Jr., a cattle rancher near the shore of Lake Okeechobee, became concerned.

Northward, in the citrus area near Orlando, Ernest S. Dill worried about the 70-acre citrus grove he had carefully cultivated since 1927.

★ ★ ★

Thus began the most disastrous winter Florida has ever known.

Since Dec. 11, other cold waves have followed in fearful regularity. In between, torrential rains have fallen.

On brown pastures, where at this time of year the clover ought to be standing tall and green, cattle are starving.

In the citrus belt, 30 million boxes of fruit have been killed.

Truck crops on which much of America depends for its fresh salads in wintertime have been ploughed under, frost-blackened and dead.

Pearce has been forced to sell 1,000 of his 3,000 cattle because there is no feed. He has burned 35 carcasses of cattle killed by pneumonia.

He estimates next year's calf crop will be only 20 per cent of normal. It will take three years to rebuild the depleted herds.

Pearce, president of the Florida Cattlemen's Assn., predicted recently that if the bad weather continued through February, 275,000 head of cattle would die in south Florida.

At Immokalee, there has been ice on the vegetable fields, 20 to 25 inches of rain in six weeks—continuous cold and biting winds.

Moore has ploughed under one crop of tomatoes, cucumbers, corn and watermelons and half of another. His third crop of the winter is just beginning to sprout.

If the present crop on his 500 acres doesn't make money, he says he may be wiped out as a grower.

★ ★ ★

The temperature Dec. 12 dropped to 24 and killed the foliage on many of Dill's citrus trees, which had been heavily burdened with one of the best crops he'd ever had. Much new growth which had popped out on the trees after the December freeze has now been killed. About 6,000 boxes of fruit froze on his trees.

No full-grown trees are dead but some won't bear normally again for three years.

Sentence 5-15-Years for Repentant Bandit

Pontiac bandit Lester S. Smart received a sentence of 5- to 15-years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson for armed robbery.

Smart, 24, of 1820 Hillside Dr., confessed to Pontiac police last month robbing several business places in the city, and said he turned himself in because he had found a religion.

He was sentenced Monday by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick.

He pleaded guilty Feb. 3 to holding up the Home Service Grocery at 43 Orchard Lake Ave. He also admitted robbing a downtown Pontiac department store and barbecue.

RELIEVES ALL 5 KINDS OF MINOR ARTHRITIC—RHEUMATIC—BURSITIC PAIN

New Rub-On Medicine Gives Quick, Temporary Relief of Pain Due To: (1) Stiffness (2) Aching Joints (3) Irritated Nerve Endings (4) Muscle Spasms (5) Swelling

From Anahist Research Laboratories comes a new, safe, medically proved formulation named Stim-U-Rub, because it stimulates blood. Minutes after you apply it, you can see a warm, red glow appear on the skin . . . as blood is rushed to the area.

You can also feel the blood heat spread like a blanket of soothing warmth over painful joints and muscles. Scientists, using electronic skin thermometers, report: "Stim-U-Rub raises skin temperature over pain areas as much as two full degrees, in minutes." Stim-U-Rub also speeds pain-relieving medication right to where blood circulates.

(1) Pain of stiffness is relieved. (2) Joint aches eased. (3) Irritated nerve endings soothed. (4) Muscle spasms decreased. (5) Soreness of swelling eased. So, Stim-U-Rub relieves all 5 kinds of minor arthritic-rheumatic-bursitic pain for periods that may last for hours, helping you to sleep the whole night in comfort.

Pick Tax Form to Fit Income and Half the Struggle Is Won

(The second in an eight part series, this article describes how to select the proper form for filing your income tax return. Later articles will deal with classes of returns, exemptions, taxable income, deductions and other important subjects.)

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Feature Writer

When you have all the facts and figures collected on your 1957 income and deductions, the next step is to decide which form to use in filing your tax return.

There are two basic forms available—the 1040 and the 1040A. The 1040 can be used as a short form, using only page 1, or as a long form, using pages 1 and 2, and possibly 3 and 4. You should pick the form that fits the size and type of your income and expenses.

From 1040A is the simplest of all, and the Internal Revenue Service would like to see it used more than it is. It is a printed card, about the size of an ordinary check, and can be processed by machine. It's designed to save both taxpayer and tax collector considerable time and trouble.

The IRS says about 30 million taxpayers could use this form if they only would. Last year 14 million did, and IRS hopes at least 20 million will this year.

TIME SAVER

1040A doesn't call for any great detail. You could probably finish your income tax chores in five minutes or less by using it. All you have to do is fill out a few blanks, sign it, and send it to the revenue service. They'll figure up your tax and send you a bill or a refund, depending on your individual situation.

If you want, you can compute your own taxes from the instructions you'll get, and enter it on the form. This will be to your advantage if you have a refund coming, because you'll probably get your check from the government a bit sooner. However, if you do your own computing and find you owe Uncle Sam more taxes, you must send along a check for the amount—you can't wait for a bill.

The gimmick on this easy, almost painless, way of filing your return is that not everyone is eligible to use it, and you may not want to use it even if you can.

For instance, your total income must not be more than $4,999.99. If it's a joint return, the combined income of husband and wife must not exceed $4,999.99. This income must consist mainly of salaries or wages from which income taxes have been withheld. Not more than $100 can be in other wages, dividends or interest.

You can't use the 1040A if you had other types of income such as annuities, rent receipts, royalties, pension payments, business profits, professional earnings, security transactions, farming income, or earnings as a participant in partnerships, estates and trusts.

And you can't use this form if you want to itemize your deductions or deduct your business-connected expenses (such as traveling costs) or "sick pay." Nor can you use it if you claim the special "head of household" status.

If you can't use 1040A, or don't want to, you'll next have to decide how many pages of the 1040 you should fill out.

Form 1040 is printed on pages about the size of a large letterhead. There are four pages, but the average taxpayer needs worry only about pages 1 and 2.

If your adjusted gross income is not more than $4,999.99, you may be able to get by with page 1 only.

Your adjusted gross income is what's left after you've deducted your business expenses and sick pay exclusions. Thus, you can have a total income of $5,000 or more, and still use just page 1 if those deductions bring the adjusted gross below the $5,000 mark.

On this form, too, there are certain restrictions.

You can get by using just page 1 if you are single with no dependents to claim as exemptions, or if you are married and claim exemptions only for your wife and children. And to use the first page only you must accept the standard 10 per cent deduction, just as on the 1040A.

If your adjusted gross income is $5,000 or more, you have no choice. You must use the longer form of 1040, which means pages 1 and 2, and possibly 3 and 4.

MORE WORK

This calls for a bit more work, but there are a number of special benefits you can claim. For instance, if you have other dependents besides your wife and children—say your mother or mother-in-law, a niece or nephew, etc.—and you are qualified to claim them as exemptions, you can list them on page 2 and thus reduce your tax.

Also on page 2 you can itemize your deductions for interest paid, charity, medical expenses, etc., and this may result in a substantial saving to you.

Pages 3 and 4 are for use in reporting income from dividends, interest, rents and royalties, and from partnerships, estates, trusts or other sources.

Rmember, the first $50 of dividend income—$100 if the stock is jointly owned with your wife—is tax free.

USE TABLE

If you use the short form of 1040, or page 1 only, a table on the back of the instruction book will tell you your tax liability according to your marital status, the number of your exemptions and the size of your adjusted gross income.

If you use the long form you get the help of a table, but you still have to do the arithmetic of working out your own tax.

By looking over your income figures you should now be able to select the proper form to use this year in filling your tax return.

The next article will deal with the various classes of returns.

Typical Boy Next Door

'Space Man' IS Normal

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Air Force scientists picked Donald G. Farrell for their "space cabin" experiment because they thought he was just a normal American boy.

A search of his background indicates they were certainly right.

★ ★ ★

For there is little to show that Farrell is anything but a normal American boy with a liking for sports and a tender heart for animals.

He is the typical "boy next door," modest, active, intelligent, and perhaps with little thought of fame.

Farrell was born and raised in an apartment house in the Bronx, one of New York City's five boroughs. His Roman Catholic parents sent him to the parochial Cardinal Hayes High School there.

He played football in school, built model airplanes at home and spent a lot of time hunting, fishing, swimming and water skiing.

Physically, Farrell seems well-equipped for these activities. He stands six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds.

He chose accounting as a career and worked at it a couple of years before joining the Air Force. His father, James A. Farrell, also is an accountant.

However, the elder Farrell says, Donald hopes to enter college when his four-year enlistment is up in August. He wants to become an aeronautical engineer.

"I remember once, around Easter time, he found a little lame chicken and brought it back to the apartment. He took care of it and raised it until it got so big it almost ran us out of the apartment."

James, an intelligent and usually articulate man, was hard-put to find something in his only child's boyhood that would indicate future fame, except:

"We fed him a good diet."

But Farrell's mother, Helen, offered what might be a greater clue:

"He never likes to give up anything he starts."

Schwartz Uses Word Unknown to House Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Schwartz, the erudite former counsel and later star witness of the House subcommittee investigating regulatory bodies, sprung this word on his questioners:

"Overdichotomize."

★ ★ ★

That, he told the subcommittee yesterday, is what some members of commissions do when they insist on fine distinctions between the judicial and the legislative aspects of their work.

Nobody asked him for a definition. Webster's Unabridged says dichotomize means to divide into two or more parts, as for analysis.

Takes New York Snow to Boy Living in Florida

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Raymond Christenbury, 11, saw snow yesterday for the first time—right on his front porch.

Junior Editors Quiz on NATURE

QUESTION: What makes the grass turn green?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The bright green which spreads over our lawns and meadows every spring or after a summer rain is a sign that one of nature's magical operations is going on. The grass plant, like all living things, must have nourishment. In filling this need, grass, like other plants, performs what seems a true miracle — it makes food out of the apparently lifeless materials of earth, air and water, using the power of sunlight for energy. Inside each leaf, working in little laboratories called cells, are tiny specks of protoplasm, colored with a brilliant green named "chlorophyll." A lawn or meadow turns green because new blades of grass, springing up to replace the old, are filled with this chlorophyll. And the new grass appears because the chlorophyll has the right conditions to work with: enough sunlight, enough air, enough water and minerals from the roots. No one knows the exact details of "photosynthesis", the remarkable process by which chlorophyll takes these raw materials and turns them into sugar and starch, but we are all alive because of it. Many animals live off plants. Since we use them, and plants too, for food, we should be very grateful to the grass.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Cover a bit of grass with a small board and look under it in a few days. The green is going away because the chlorophyll has no more air and sunlight. Leave the board off, and the spot will soon turn green again.

Henson Enters Plea of Innocent in Death

A plea of innocent was entered for Hazel Park factory worker Frank W. Henson when he was arraigned Monday on a second-degree murder charge of his 57-year-old wife last December.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick heard Henson, 54, of 62 W. Maxlow St., stand mute to the charge, after he entered the plea.

Henson is free of a $5,000 bond pending his trial.

Police said they found Mrs. Henson sprawled on the kitchen floor of the Henson home Dec. 23 in what appeared at first to be an accident or suicide.

Further investigation and pre-trial examination testimony led authorities to believe otherwise. A coroner and pathologist testified death was not caused by an accident and that the woman died from loss of blood from 13 scalp wounds.

Australia today has more sheep and cattle than ever before. Statistics reported at the end of 1957 said there were 149,802,000 sheep and 17,257,000 cattle. There also were 1,325,000 pigs and 737,000 horses.

Dear Abby . . . . .

For One Not Nosy, You're Too Newsy

By ABIGAL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor has six kids and she's still going strong. They say that no two of her kids have the same father and my kids, who are 11 and 13, are asking me questions.

ABBY

She is not a welfare case, either, and nobody can figure out how she does it because her husband has been laying around with a bad back for years.

The mailman says she gets no bills so it means everything is for cash. They got good clothes, good furniture and two TVs. Will you please tell me how she does it?

NOT NOSY

DEAR NOT: For a woman who is not NOSY, you are very NEWSY. I don't know how she does it, but she does it!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I had her brother, his wife and their children for Sunday dinner. My wife was trying to set 12 plates around a table that seats eight. I suggested that she put the four younger children in the kitchen, but she said it would be bad manners to separate the parents from the children.

I have seen it done before and it worked out much better because everyone was comfortable and nobody got mad. These kids are all between 10 and 13 and nobody has to help them eat.

As it was, everyone was crowded and nobody enjoyed the meal. Please print this. My wife has to see black on white to believe anything.

DANNY

DEAR DANNY: I agree with you. If you don't want to put the children in the kitchen, you can set up a card table in the dining room or living room. Everyone does it!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Someone gave my 8-year-old son a guinea pig. We keep him in a cardboard box down in the basement. When my husband comes home he helps the boy sneak the box up into the bedroom for the night.

We are renting this house and the floors are beautifully varnished, but that guinea pig's box is soaked every morning and it is ruining the floor. Should I give the guinea pig to the hospital when my boy is at school? I just can't take any more of this.

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: It would be cruel to dispose of the boy's pet in his absence. Your husband is being childish. Talk with him about keeping the guinea pig in the basement, and just to be on the safe side, try foil or waxpaper under that box!

★ ★ ★

Madame:

I don't even want to call you "Dear Abby" after reading the answer you gave those boys, "Old Fossil" you called him! Maybe he is an old fossil for keeping the baseballs that land in his yard, but he warned them.

Why not teach those kids respect for other people's property when they're young? My taxes are plenty high and I happen to enjoy looking at a nice lawn and blooming flowers.

I'd keep any baseball that landed on my property, too. Come visit me at the Smithsonian Institution because I must be another old fossil.

Sport Attracts Whole Families

From the interest being displayed in indoor archery leagues over at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in Waterford there is sufficient evidence that the sport is rapidly increasing in popularity.

★ ★ ★

THEN OUTDOORS

It has been reported to us that indoor competition will continue through March when archers will return to the roving archery range that weaves over the grounds of the Sportsmen's Club.

★ ★ ★

Events which allow members to become better acquainted socially include northern deer hunting trips, the annual archery fair, archery tournaments which draw archers from all over Michigan, and the annual banquet which is held to present cups and trophies to district winners.

★ ★ ★

Through increasing interest shown in archery, this family sport seems to be taking its place high among the ranks of the outdoor activities of Oakland County.

Even Potter Gets Pulled Into War of the Chemise

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As the war of the chemise rages on, strange things are happening.

★ ★ ★

Husbands are issuing ultimatums, wives are having hysterics, manufacturers are sending their spies into dress departments to sample public opinion, buyers are biting their fingernails and innocent bystanders are placing bets on the outcome of it all.

A LAW WANTED

Many a long-suffering male, viewing photographs of the latest sack, barrel and balloon fashions in slick-paper magazines, has muttered: "There ought to be a law!"

★ ★ ★

But it remained for a female resident of Big Rapids, Mich., to make a definite legal appeal.

Infuriated by the idea of returning to the unlamented flapper styles of 1925, this lady sat down and wrote a letter to Sen. Charles Potter (R-Mich) as follows:

"I appeal to you as my senator to do all in your power against the new style 'sack' dresses foisted on us by foreign so-called designers.

★ ★ ★

"Healthy, well-formed American girls are draping themselves in these shapeless gunnysacks. There ought to be a law against it."

SOLONS POWERLESS

★ ★ ★

The senator included the letter and his reply in his weekly newsletter. If Potter's fashion tastes are like those of the average American male, he probably would have loved to pass a law banning the fashion which conceals feminine curves.

But, as a wise politician, he must have realized that such a law might boomerang, with disastrous results.

★ ★ ★

The one thing sure to make the gunnysack dress a raging success would be to tell women they must not wear it.

Movie Wins 10 Separate Nominations

'Sayonara' Leads in Oscar Derby

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—"Sayonara," "Peyton Place" and "The Bridge on the River Kwai" were front runners today in the 1958 Oscar derby of the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences.

★ ★ ★

The nominations, five in each of 16 classifications, were announced yesterday and the denizens of the movie colony immediately began the traditional guessing game that will go on until the award winners are announced over a national radio and TV hookup on March 26.

"Sayonara," the tender love story of an American pilot and a Japanese actress, won 10 separate nominations for Oscars in the 30th presentation of the Academy Awards.

BRANDO, BUTTONS

Nine nominations for excellence, including one as the best picture, were credited to "Peyton Place," the sensational best-selling novel of life in a New England town by Grace Metalious.

"The Bridge on the River Kwai," which concerns the emotions of men in war, won eight nominations, including two for acting and others for direction and as the best picture.

★ ★ ★

Other films nominated for the best motion picture were "Witness for the Prosecution" and "12 Angry Men."

THE BEST ACTOR

Nominations for best actor of the year went to three former Oscar winners, Brando for "Sayonara,"; Charles Laughton for "Witness for the Prosecution," and Anthony Quinn for "Wild is the Wind."

★ ★ ★

Others nominated in the classification were British Star Alec Guinness for "The Bridge on the River Kwai" and film newcomer Anthony Franciosa for "A Hatful of Rain."

★ ★ ★

The nominations for best performance by an actress were paced by tempestuous Anna Magnani, who won the award in 1955 for her work in "The Rose Tattoo," and is a leading contender this year for "Wild Is the Wind."

★ ★ ★

Her competition will be furnished by Deborah Kerr, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison;" Elizabeth Taylor "Raintree County;" Lana Turner, "Peyton Place;" and Joanne Woodward, "The Three Faces of Eve."

SERIOUS ACTING

Buttons, a former television comedian making his first serious try at movie acting, was joined in the competition for best supporting actor by Vittorio de Sica, "Farewell to Arms;" Sessue Hayakawa, "The Bridge on the River Kwai," Arthur Kennedy, "Peyton Place," and Russ Tamblyn, "Peyton Place."

Why Men Leave Home

'2 Jobs for 15 Years—Never a Day Off'

(This is the second of six articles telling through case histories why thousands of American men each year leave their wives and children to seek new lives under new identities. The articles are based on the files of the Tracers Company of America. Only the names have been changed.)

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

"Two jobs for 15 years," Casey D. said to his wife. "Two jobs for 15 years, and now you think we ought to start going out more.

★ ★ ★

His wife, Janet, sighed. "You're always tired," she said. "Do you know how many friends I have who haven't even met you because you're so tired?"

FOR THE KIDS

"Maybe you've got too many friends," Casey said. "First it was the PTA, then this political club and now it's bridge parties. That looks great for the kids."

His wife stood up. "Will you please stop talking about the children. They are grown up; 19 and 17 years old.

"They've started living their own lives. They only sleep here. You only sleep here. I'm the only one who lives here, and I'm sick of it."

Casey watched her for a moment. He shrugged. "You seem to be having a pretty good time," he said, "what with the parties and the men."

"That's disgusting," Janet said. She turned and walked almost ran—out of the room.

Casey heard her crying in the bedroom. A few weeks later, Casey joined the company of men who leave home and family, and cost the taxpayer up to $100,000,000 a year in aid to dependent children.

They flee to escape a situation they find intolerable because of personality or social differences, economic problems or health. Faced with such a situation, the man—or occasionally the woman—finds an immediate and not always related "cause" for vanishing.

★ ★ ★

Dan Eisenberg, head of Tracers Company of America, said that the deserted wife often alleges infidelity and that there often is another woman in the picture.

THE FINAL SPARK

"But the other woman seldom is the real cause," he said. "She just happened along, or provided the final spark that let the guy go the way he had wanted to go.

★ ★ ★

"The real problems, the underlying reasons, range from escapism to work to keeping up with the Joneses."

Jacob T. Zukerman, executive secretary of the Family Location Service, said studies showed infidelity, drinking, finances and irresponsibility as the major causes listed by the wife. But he added:

"It is important to stress that these were the alleged causes named by the wife and that further analysis indicated that by no means were these the real or underlying causes of the difficulty."

★ ★ ★

Infidelity by her husband was the cause alleged by Janet D. when she talked with a case worker.

She told how Casey had been one of the assistants to the office manager of an insurance company. On Friday nights and weekends he had worked as a cashier at a restaurant.

STARTED TO PACK

Janet told of their fight and how a few weeks later he had come home and started throwing his things into a suitcase.

★ ★ ★

She had said to him, "Go ahead, then. But if you think the children and I are going to starve while you run around with that Martha woman . . . you've got another guess coming.

"I've seen you with her at the restaurant, talking and giggling."

"Shut up," he said. "Seven days a week I work, and when I get home the place is a mess from your booze parties.

★ ★ ★

"At least she's decent, and we can talk about something besides going out at night. You and me are finished. I'm leaving for good."

LEAVES JOBS

Janet waited two nights before she called Casey's office at the insurance company. He had gone to work only to say he had to go away for two weeks. She called the restaurant. Casey had quit.

★ ★ ★

Janet was referred through the courts to a welfare agency, which began looking for her husband in an attempt to arrange a possible reconciliation.

The agency contacted Casey's family. The relatives agreed to write to him.

A week later, Casey was talking to a social worker.

★ ★ ★

"Fifteen years," he said, "two jobs for 15 years. I never had a day off just so we could live decently and bring the kids up right. Then as soon as the kids get old enough, she starts running around.

PLEASURE AT WORK

"What would you do? At least at work I could enjoy myself a little bit. You know," he said, and he leaned forward in his chair, "you know I used to look forward to the weekends. Dinner at 11 o'clock after the crowd cleared, dinner with Martha, and we'd talk . . .

★ ★ ★

"But I stuck it out, and then I came home one night and found this Joe on the couch, boozed up, with lipstick on his face. What would you do?"

It took about six separate interviews with Janet and Casey before each saw the problem—not each other's infidelity but what had produced it, the fact that they had grown far apart, Casey by working so hard he had no time for his wife and she by trying to conquer her loneliness in activities away from her husband.

★ ★ ★

Both decided to change things; he would give up the second job and she would go to work. That would give her interest outside the home and give them both time to be together.

"Maybe it'll work," Casey said.

Don't Split Children From Unfaithful Dad

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"For months my husband has been seeing another woman. Now he tells me he wants not only a divorce but full visiting rights with our two children. How can I agree? Why should I expose my two innocent children to the influence of their father and this woman?"

Because the children can't feel about him as you do, Mrs. T. They have not been married to him. So they can't feel the shock and anger you feel at his sexual betrayal. Though you may no longer feel a part of him, your children do.

If you try to divide them from him, you may arouse their doubts of your love for them. They'll feel "If Mother hates Daddy so that she won't let us see him, she must also hate the part of us that belongs to him." And their confidence that they are wholly dear to you will be badly shaken.

* * *

Do you recall the Bible story of Solomon's judgment between the true and false mothers? The false mother was willing to allow Solomon to cut the child in two in order to secure her portion of him.

But the true mother withdrew all claim to the child in order to preserve his wholeness. Solomon awarded the child to the mother who let go of him.

SPLIT FEELINGS

If we love children, we don't want to have their feelings split any more than we want their bodies cut in two.

If their father is as unfaithful to them as he's been to you, they will do their own splitting from him in their own time.

* * *

It is resentment of your husband that suggests you have to force the splitting on them before they are ready for it.

It would be good to admit you feel it. Otherwise you may continue to dress it up as moral indignation. You'll go on thinking, "It's my duty as a virtuous woman to protect my children against these two sinners."

What our "virtue" is really concerned with is punishment of our unfaithful husband, not his children's safety. We're just trying to make hate appear fine and altruistic.

* * *

Unless we can admit we feel it, we won't be able to see how our wish to hurt our husband involves hurting the children, too. Like the false mother in the Bible story, we'll assert our claim to the children regardless of its effect on them.

Husbands Advised to Try Partnership in Marriage

Woman Reader Claims It's More Fun Than Old Battle of the Sexes

By RUTH MILLETT

"Judging from some of the letters you print from husbands, there are still a lot of married men in the world who have never given the partnership idea of marriage a try," writes one of my women readers.

"For their informatoin, I'll tell them how a partnership in the home works. There are some rules to the game, of course.

"The first and most important rule is that both partners assume that the other is a mature person and act accordingly.

"If one says he is too tired to do something, whether to get the dinner or mow the lawn, the other assumes its probably so.

"It doesn't matter whether one got tired playing bridge, playing golf, working, or just sitting thinking. The point is, you're tired. So let's get rested.

"If Mama wants reducing exercises or Papa wants a new fishing rod you don't throw a scene or take the plunge and then try to justify it.

"You both sit down and see if there's a spot for it in the budget. When and if you can find it, you're both pleased. If not, you work and finagle or wait until the budget will stand the strain.

"The job of each partner is important to the other. If his job means she has extra work entertaining, or if he wants to talk over an office problem or get some help doping out a letter — well, she's proud of her part in helping him up the ladder.

* * *

"He remembers that when she's snowed under with housework, and gets out the vacuum cleaner without being asked.

"They add labor-saving devices to their home as they can afford them, not because she is whining for them, but because they enjoy the additional free time together.

* * *

"Any man who has never tried partnership in marriage ought to give it a go. Man, it's lots more fun than the Battle of the Sexes some of you are still fighting."

S. SGT. and MRS. DAVID F. MARSAC

Married Saturday morning were Joanne J. Volcheck and S. Sgt. David F. Marsac. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Volcheck of Ascot street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ruth Burgess of Rochester and Clifford Marsac of West Walton boulevard.

Joanne Volcheck Speaks Vows in St. Benedict Rite

St. Benedict Church was the scene of the Saturday morning wedding uniting Joanne Joyce Volcheck and S.Sgt. David Frederick Marsac. The Rev. John Hoar performed the ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

* * *

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Volcheck of Ascot street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ruth Burgess of Rochester and Clifford Marsac of West Walton boulevard.

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle featuring a ruffled underskirt and appliques at the neckline. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was secured to a crown of lace trimmed with pearls, and she carried a cascade arrangement of lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor Nancy Pawlosky of Waynesburg, Pa., and bridesmaids Maryanne Pochotko of Detroit, a cousin of the bride, and Jackie Holst of Royal Oak were gowned alike in white net over blue taffeta with blue headbands. Their flowers were pink carnations.

* * *

The best man was Lewis Swann of Detroit. Seating the guests were Neil Marsac of Oscoda, brother of the bridegroom, and Jerry Cannon of Rochester.

At a reception held in the VFW Hall in Keego Harbor Mrs. Volcheck wore a blue lace dress with navy accessories and a corsage of demure roses. Mrs. Burgess chose a navy ensemble with pink accessories and a demure rose corsage.

Prior to leaving on a trip to Florida the new Mrs. Marsac changed to a beige wool dress with brown accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

* * *

The couple will reside in Belleville where Sgt. Marsac is stationed with the U. S. Air Force. The bride is a graduate of Eastern Michigan College.

DANNY

DEAR DANNY: I agree with you. If you don't want to put the children in the kitchen, you can set up a card table in the dining room or living room. Everyone does it!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Someone gave my 8-year-old son a guinea-pig. We keep him in a cardboard box down in the basement. When my husband comes home he helps the boy sneak the box up into the bedroom for the night.

We are renting this house and the floors are beautifully varnished, but that guinea pig's box is soaked every morning and it is ruining the floor. Should I give the guinea pig to the hospital when my boy is at school? I just can't take any more of this.

UPSET

DEAR UPSET: It would be cruel to dispose of the boy's pet in his absence. Your husband is being childish. Talk with him about keeping the guinea pig in the basement, and just to be on the safe side, try foil or waxpaper under that box!

★ ★ ★

Madame:

I don't even want to call you "Dear Abby" after reading the answer you gave those boys. "Old Fossil" you called him! Maybe he is an old fossil for keeping the baseballs that land in his yard, but he warned them.

Why not teach those kids respect for other people's property when they're young? My taxes are plenty high and I happen to enjoy looking at a nice lawn and blooming flowers.

I'd keep any baseball that landed on my property, too. Come visit me at the Smithsonian Institution because I must be another old fossil.

Sport Attracts Whole Families

From the interest being displayed in indoor archery leagues over at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in Waterford there is sufficient evidence that the sport is rapidly increasing in popularity.

★ ★ ★

THEN OUTDOORS

It has been reported to us that indoor competition will continue through March when archers will return to the roving archery range that weaves over the grounds of the Sportsmen's Club.

★ ★ ★

Events which allow members to become better acquainted socially include northern deer hunting trips, the annual archery fair, archery tournaments which draw archers from all over Michigan, and the annual banquet which is held to present cups and trophies to district winners.

★ ★ ★

Through increasing interest shown in archery, this family sport seems to be taking its place high among the ranks of the outdoor activities of Oakland County.

Even Potter Gets Pulled Into War of the Chemise

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

As the war of the chemise rages on, strange things are happening.

★ ★ ★

Husbands are issuing ultimatums, wives are having hysterics, manufacturers are sending their spies into dress departments to sample public opinion, buyers are biting their fingernails and innocent bystanders are placing bets on the outcome of it all.

A LAW WANTED

Many a long-suffering male, viewing photographs of the latest sack, barrel and balloon fashions in slick-paper magazines, has muttered: "There ought to be a law!"

★ ★ ★

But it remained for a female resident of Big Rapids, Mich., to make a definite legal appeal.

Infuriated by the idea of returning to the unlamented flapper styles of 1925, this lady sat down and wrote a letter to Sen. Charles Potter (R-Mich) as follows:

"I appeal to you as my senator to do all in your power against the new style 'sack' dresses foisted on us by foreign so-called designers.

★ ★ ★

"Healthy, well-formed American girls are draping themselves in these shapeless gunnysacks. There ought to be a law against it."

SOLONS POWERLESS

★ ★ ★

The senator included the letter and his reply in his weekly newsletter. If Potter's fashion tastes are like those of the average American male, he probably would have loved to pass a law banning the fashion which conceals feminine curves.

But, as a wise politician, he must have realized that such a law might boomerang, with disastrous results.

★ ★ ★

The one thing sure to make the gunnysack dress a raging success would be to tell women they must not wear it.

PEO Unit Conducts Gathering

"What's New and Old in the Constitution?" was the theme of the program for Chapter AW of PEO Monday evening in the Elizabeth Lake road home of Mrs. William Miller. A study of the state bylaws was included in the program.

★ ★ ★

Guests for the evening included Mrs. Frances Plumb, president of Chapter AD, Royal Oak, and Anabel Ricard, recently of Chapter AW.

Plans were completed for a fund-raising project to be held Friday and Saturday under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ashton Emery.

Mrs. Everett Peterson will open her West Iroquois road home for the next meeting.

Let Kids Glorify Their Mud Pies

Even a mud pie looks pretty with frothy icing. Treat the youngsters to a big bowl of thick, stiffly beaten soap or detergent suds tinted with vegetable coloring.

This "frosting" will add great zest to juvenile pie-making, indoors and out.

Movie Wins 10 Separate Nominations

'Sayonara' Leads in Oscar Derby

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—"Sayonara," "Peyton Place" and "The Bridge on the River Kwai" were front runners today in the 1958 Oscar derby of the Motion Picture Academy of Arts and Sciences.

★ ★ ★

The nominations, five in each of 16 classifications, were announced yesterday and the denizens of the movie colony immediately began the traditional guessing game that will go on until the award winners are announced over a national radio and TV hookup on March 26.

"Sayonara," the tender love story of an American pilot and a Japanese actress, won 10 separate nominations for Oscars in the 30th presentation of the Academy Awards.

BRANDO, BUTTONS

Nine nominations for excellence, including one as the best picture, were credited to "Peyton Place," the sensational best-selling novel of life in a New England town by Grace Metalious.

"The Bridge on the River Kwai," which concerns the emotions of men in war, won eight nominations, including two for acting and others for direction and as the best picture.

★ ★ ★

Other films nominated for the best motion picture were "Witness for the Prosecution" and "12 Angry Men."

THE BEST ACTOR

Nominations for best actor of the year went to three former Oscar winners, Brando for "Sayonara,"; Charles Laughton for "Witness for the Prosecution," and Anthony Quinn for "Wild is the Wind."

★ ★ ★

Others nominated in the classification were British Star Alec Guinness for "The Bridge on the River Kwai" and film newcomer Anthony Franciosa for "A Hatful of Rain."

★ ★ ★

The nominations for best performance by an actress were paced by tempestuous Anna Magnani, who won the award in 1955 for her work in "The Rose Tattoo," and is a leading contender this year for "Wild Is the Wind."

★ ★ ★

Her competition will be furnished by Deborah Kerr, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison;" Elizabeth Taylor "Raintree County;" Lana Turner, "Peyton Place;" and Joanne Woodward, "The Three Faces of Eve."

SERIOUS ACTING

Buttons, a former television comedian making his first serious try at movie acting, was joined in the competition for best supporting actor by Vittorio de Sica, "Farewell to Arms;" Sessue Hayakawa, "The Bridge on the River Kwai," Arthur Kennedy, "Peyton Place," and Russ Tamblyn, "Peyton Place."

Why Men Leave Home

'2 Jobs for 15 Years—Never a Day Off'

(This is the second of six articles telling through case histories why thousands of American men each year leave their wives and children to seek new lives under new identities. The articles are based on the files of the Tracers Company of America. Only the names have been changed.)

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

"Two jobs for 15 years," Casey D. said to his wife. "Two jobs for 15 years, and now you think we ought to start going out more."

★ ★ ★

His wife, Janet, sighed. "You're always tired," she said. "Do you know how many friends I have who haven't even met you because you're so tired?"

FOR THE KIDS

"Maybe you've got too many friends," Casey said. "First it was the PTA, then this political club and now it's bridge parties. That looks great for the kids."

His wife stood up. "Will you please stop talking about the children. They are grown up; 19 and 17 years old.

"They've started living their own lives. They only sleep here. You only sleep here. I'm the only one who lives here, and I'm sick of it."

Casey watched her for a moment. He shrugged. "You seem to be having a pretty good time," he said, "what with the parties and the men."

"That's disgusting," Janet said. She turned and walked —almost ran—out of the room.

Casey heard her crying in the bedroom. A few weeks later, Casey joined the company of men who leave home and family, and cost the taxpayer up to $100,000,000 a year in aid to dependent children.

They flee to escape a situation they find intolerable because of personality or social differences, economic problems or health. Faced with such a situation, the man—or occasionally the woman—finds an immediate and not always related "cause" for vanishing.

★ ★ ★

Dan Eisenberg, head of Tracers Company of America, said that the deserted wife often alleges infidelity and that there often is another woman in the picture.

THE FINAL SPARK

"But the other woman seldom is the real cause," he said. "She just happened along, or provided the final spark that let the guy go the way he had wanted to go.

★ ★ ★

"The real problems, the underlying reasons, range from escapism to work to keeping up with the Joneses."

Jacob T. Zukerman, executive secretary of the Family Location Service, said studies showed infidelity, drinking, finances and irresponsibility as the major causes listed by the wife. But he added:

"It is important to stress that these were the alleged causes named by the wife and that further analysis indicated that by no means were these the real or underlying causes of the difficulty."

★ ★ ★

Infidelity by her husband was the cause alleged by Janet D. when she talked with a case worker.

She told how Casey had been one of the assistants to the office manager of an insurance company. On Friday nights and weekends he had worked as a cashier at a restaurant.

STARTED TO PACK

Janet told of their fight and how a few weeks later he had come home and started throwing his things into a suitcase.

★ ★ ★

She had said to him, "Go ahead, then. But if you think the children and I are going to starve while you run around with that Martha woman . . . you've got another guess coming.

"I've seen you with her at the restaurant, talking and giggling."

"Shut up," he said. "Seven days a week I work, and when I get home the place is a mess from your booze parties.

★ ★ ★

"At least she's decent, and we can talk about something besides going out at night. You and me are finished. I'm leaving for good."

LEAVES JOBS

Janet waited two nights before she called Casey's office at the insurance company. He had gone to work only to say he had to go away for two weeks. She called the restaurant. Casey had quit.

★ ★ ★

Janet was referred through the courts to a welfare agency, which began looking for her husband in an attempt to arrange a possible reconciliation.

The agency contacted Casey's family. The relatives agreed to write to him.

A week later, Casey was talking to a social worker.

★ ★ ★

"Fifteen years," he said, "two jobs for 15 years. I never had a day off just so we could live decently and bring the kids up right. Then as soon as the kids get old enough, she starts running around.

PLEASURE AT WORK

"What would you do? At least at work I could enjoy myself a little bit. You know," he said, and he leaned forward in his chair, "you know I used to look forward to the weekends. Dinner at 11 o'clock after the crowd cleared, dinner with Martha, and we'd talk . . .

★ ★ ★

"But I stuck it out, and then I came home one night and found this Joe on the couch, boozed up, with lipstick on his face. What would you do?"

It took about six separate interviews with Janet and Casey before each saw the problem—not each other's infidelity but what had produced it, the fact that they had grown far apart, Casey by working so hard he had no time for his wife and she by trying to conquer her loneliness in activities away from her husband.

★ ★ ★

Both decided to change things; he would give up the second job and she would go to work. That would give her interest outside the home and give them both time to be together.

"Maybe it'll work," Casey said.

Don't Split Children From Unfaithful Dad

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

"For months my husband has been seeing another woman. Now he tells me he wants not only a divorce but full visiting rights with our two children. How can I agree? Why should I expose my two innocent children to the influence of their father and this woman?"

Because the children can't feel about him as you do, Mrs. T. They have not been married to him. So they can't feel the shock and anger you feel at his sexual betrayal. Though you may no longer feel a part of him, your children do.

If you try to divide them from him, you may arouse their doubts of your love for them. They'll feel "If Mother hates Daddy so that she won't let us see him, she must also hate the part of us that belongs to him." And their confidence that they are wholly dear to you will be badly shaken.

★ ★ ★

Do you recall the Bible story of Solomon's judgment between the true and false mothers? The false mother was willing to allow Solomon to cut the child in two in order to secure her portion of him.

But the true mother withdrew all claim to the child in order to preserve his wholeness. Solomon awarded the child to the mother who let go of him.

SPLIT FEELINGS

If we love children, we don't want to have their feelings split any more than we want their bodies cut in two.

If their father is as unfaithful to them as he's been to you, they will do their own splitting from him in their own time.

★ ★ ★

It is resentment of your husband that suggests you have to force the splitting on them before they are ready for it.

It would be good to admit you feel it. Otherwise you may continue to dress it up as moral indignation. You'll go on thinking, "It's my duty as a virtuous woman to protect my children against these two sinners."

What our "virtue" is really concerned with is punishment of our unfaithful husband, not his children's safety. We're just trying to make hate appear fine and altruistic.

★ ★ ★

Unless we can admit we feel it, we won't be able to see how our wish to hurt our husband involves hurting the children, too. Like the false mother in the Bible story, we'll assert our claim to the children regardless of its effect on them.

Husbands Advised to Try Partnership in Marriage

By RUTH MILLETT

"Judging from some of the letters you print from husbands, there are still a lot of married men in the world who have never given the partnership idea of marriage a try," writes one of my women readers.

"For their informatoin, I'll tell them how a partnership in the home works. There are some rules to the game, of course.

"The first and most important rule is that both partners assume that the other is a mature person and act accordingly.

"If one says he is too tired to do something, whether to get the dinner or mow the lawn, the other assumes its probably so.

"It doesn't matter whether one got tired playing bridge, playing golf, working, or just sitting thinking. The point is, you're tired. So let's get rested.

"If Mama wants reducing exercises or Papa wants a new fishing rod you don't throw a scene or take the plunge and then try to justify it.

"You both sit down and see if there's a spot for it in the budget. When and if you can find it, you're both pleased. If not, you work and finagle or wait until the budget will stand the strain.

"The job of each partner is important to the other. If his job means she has extra work entertaining, or if he wants to talk over an office problem or get some help doping out a letter — well, she's proud of her part in helping him up the ladder.

★ ★ ★

"He remembers that when she's snowed under with housework, and gets out the vacuum cleaner without being asked.

"They add labor-saving devices to their home as they can afford them, not because she is whining for them, but because they enjoy the additional free time together.

★ ★ ★

"Any man who has never tried partnership in marriage ought to give it a go. Man, it's lots more fun than the Battle of the Sexes some of you are still fighting."

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. Troy Stone decided to take her shoes off while driving home from a shopping trip and tossed them in the back seat.

A couple of days later, she looked for the shoes and found only one.

★ ★ ★

Then she recalled she had delivered some discarded garments to a rummage sale. She checked at the sale, and found her lost shoe.

S. SGT. and MRS. DAVID F. MARSAC

Married Saturday morning were Joanne J. Volcheck and S. Sgt. David F. Marsac. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Volcheck of Ascot street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ruth Burgess of Rochester and Clifford Marsac of West Walton boulevard.

Joanne Volcheck Speaks Vows in St. Benedict Rite

St. Benedict Church was the scene of the Saturday morning wedding uniting Joanne Joyce Volcheck and S.Sgt. David Frederick Marsac. The Rev. John Hoar performed the ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Volcheck of Ascot street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ruth Burgess of Rochester and Clifford Marsac of West Walton boulevard.

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle featuring a ruffled underskirt and appliques at the neckline. Her fingertip veil of French silk illusion was secured to a crown of lace trimmed with pearls, and she carried a cascade arrangement of lilies-of-the-valley and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor Nancy Pawlosky of Waynesburg, Pa., and bridesmaids Maryanne Pochotko of Detroit, a cousin of the bride, and Jackie Holst of Royal Oak were gowned alike in white net over blue taffeta with blue headbands. Their flowers were pink carnations.

★ ★ ★

The best man was Lewis Swann of Detroit. Seating the guests were Nell Marsac of Oscoda, brother of the bridegroom, and Jerry Cannon of Rochester.

At a reception held in the VFW Hall in Keego Harbor Mrs. Volcheck wore a blue lace dress with navy accessories and a corsage of demure roses. Mrs. Burgess chose a navy ensemble with pink accessories and a demure rose corsage.

Prior to leaving on a trip to Florida the new Mrs. Marsac changed to a beige wool dress with brown accessories and the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

★ ★ ★

The couple will reside in Belleville where Sgt. Marsac is stationed with the U. S. Air Force. The bride is a graduate of Eastern Michigan College.

EAST LANSING (INS) — Home medicine chests should be cleared of leftovers every two months.

Mrs. Thelma Dunn, home management specialist at Michigan State University, makes that recommendation.

Mrs. Dunn asserts that few drugs should be kept regularly in the medicine chest. Most drugs, she explains, are ordered for a certain person for a specific illness.

City to Join Worldwide Observance

Church Women of Pontiac to Gather at First Methodist

The prayers of chanting aborigines in the wilds of central Australia will be heard in many tongues circling the globe when the World Day of Prayer dawns Friday.

★ ★ ★

A committee of church women in Melbourne collected four of these prayers from tribeswomen, who have no written language but have been taught the Christian Gospel. Around them was written the service for the annual international observances on the first Friday in Lent.

Each year the service said in some 60 languages and more than 1,000 dialects comes from a different country.

On World Day of Prayer, sponsored in the United States by United Church Women, millions of women around the world will join in a 24-hour prayer vigil.

★ ★ ★

The prayer chain crosses 144 areas on six continents and is never broken in the 24-hour passage of the sun around the earth.

PONTIAC SERVICES

United Church Women of Pontiac will open the Day of Prayer with music at 9:45 a.m. in First Methodist Church. During the registration period Mrs. Ralph Clara will be at the desk.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rebecca Moreau will give the call to prayer at 10 a.m., followed by congregational singing and a solo by Mrs. Buel Faultz.

Mrs. Warren Fowler and Mrs. Fremont Alden will present the morning meditations on the theme of the day, "The Bread of Life."

At the Communion service the Rev. Paul T. Hart, pastor of First Methodist, will be celebrant. Mrs. Hart will preside at the noon luncheon.

★ ★ ★

The praise service beginning at 1:15 p.m. will be led by Mrs. Fred Haushalter. Mrs. P. G. Latimer will give the confession.

LEADING PRAYERS

Leading the prayers for intercession will be Mrs. D. D. McColl, Mrs. J. A. Parker, Mrs. Roy Cummings, Mrs. Karl Ostberg, Mrs. James Passmore, Mrs. Joseph I. Chapman, Mrs. James W. Deeg and Mrs. Stanley Kipp.

★ ★ ★

Women of Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren, Central Methodist, First Congregational and First Presbyterian Churches will present skits depicting the projects of United Church Women in Japan, Pakistan and India, with the migrant worker and the American Indian.

The afternoon soloist will be Mrs. Lawrence Devore.

In charge of the service of self-dedication will be Mrs. Carl W. Nelson and Mrs. Moreau. Mrs. Hart will give the benediction.

World Day of Prayer, when millions of women around the world join in the 24-hour prayer vigil, is set aside to unite all Christians in the bond of prayer and to make an offering for missions at home and abroad.

★ ★ ★

When dawn breaks in the Tongas, west of the International Date Line, the first prayers will rise from the people of Queen Salote's island kingdom. The voices of men and women, dedicated to peace and universal good, will cross 144 countries on six continents.

IN BERING SEA

By nightfall they will reach the Land of the Midnight Sun on St. Lawrence Island in the Bering Sea.

★ ★ ★

The theme for the day is "The Bread of Life." Men and women throughout the world will pray for the physically hungering and for the souls of men, for those who are starved for love and understanding, for the lonely ones, the strangers, the refugees.

In the United States where World Day of Prayer came into being in 1887, more than 25,000 communities will take part in the observance.

World Day of Prayer offerings will help American migrant agricultural workers and Indian-Americans trying to adjust to city life. In Asia and Africa 10 colleges for women will be aided, as well as many relief and self-help projects.

The large figure will find the V-insert makes this sweater as becoming as the open cardigan. It divides the large bosom expanse.

A change from the cardigan for the bosom-y figure who thought she couldn't wear the pullover, the double V-inset is right to slim the bosom. It also comes in two tones instead of two constrasting colors and is more subtle.

Cut Intake and Add Exercise to Lose Weight

Remember, Every Calorie Counts

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Dr. Herbert Pollack, chairman of the Nutrition Committee of the American Heart Association, and associate professor of clinical medicine at New York University Post-Graduate Medical School, makes reducing seem easy with some simple arithmetic.

★ ★ ★

Quoted in "The American Heart," a quarterly publication of the American Heart Association, he suggests that one slice less of bread and butter a day and one extra mile of walking a day will add up to a loss of 20 pounds in a year.

In order to become overweight we must get more calories in our food than we require for our normal bodily processes and our physical activities.

Dr. Pollack feels that the fat person does not necessarily eat more food than he or she did when younger, but that the accumulation of fat is due to other factors. This will be enlightening to many women who wonder what has happened to them.

In the first place, as we grow older, we need fewer calories. Also, physical activity usually slows down. This is especially true since the automobile is such a great part of our lives and mechanical devices are doing much of our work for us.

As an example, a housewife used to spend about 250 calories an hour washing clothes and cleaning and polishing floors. Today she spends less than half that number an hour when using a washing machine or a vacuum cleaner and floor polisher.

Thanks to mechanical devices, a housewife spends about half the time she used to when cleaning floors.

★ ★ ★

To further emphasize these points, Dr. Pollack says, "A pound of body weight is equal to approximately 3,500 calories. One hundred calories a day for 365 days of the year add up to 36,500 calories a year. In terms of body weight this is approximately 10 pounds.

"A piece of pie, averaging 250 calories, just once a week, in the course of a year adds up to 13,000 calories a year, or the equivalent of more than 3 pounds of body weight."

★ ★ ★

It is just as simple as that! Even a small reduction in the number calories plus the habit of walking an extra mile a day and walking rather than riding whenever feasible will add up to a gradual decrease in poundage.

Displeased Over Plans for Wedding

Mother Wishes to Advise Her Son's Bride-to-Be

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Does the man's family have anything at all to say about the wedding arrangements? Our son is going to marry a girl who has had very few social advantages and from what I have heard of the wedding plans so far, she knows nothing whatever about how a wedding should be conducted.

"As I am very anxious that this wedding be perfect in every detail as there will be many prominent people present and I do not want them to think that we do not know any better.

"The bride is a perfectly nice person. I do not want to hurt her feelings, but on the other hand, neither do I want our friends to criticize. Will you please tell me how I can tell her in a tactful way that certain details are wrong?"

Answer: You are not in any way responsible for the details of the wedding. That is entirely the concern of the bride's family and everyone knows it, and therefore no one will criticize you for anything about the wedding which may not be perfect.

If something is being very badly done, perhaps you can say to the bride, "Don't you think it would be nicer if it were done this way instead?" But you can only suggest and the final decision on any question is up to the bride and her family, and you must not question it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I am served a piece of meat I usually cut the whole piece up at one time instead of cutting off a piece at a time. It seems senseless to me to have to pick up the knife, cut a piece of meat, put it into the mouth and then cut off another piece and go through the same rigmarole.

"My wife says this is bad manners. I can't see why this is bad manners and it certainly is not offensive to anyone. Will you please discuss this in your column?"

Answer: While not really bad manners, your cutting all your meat at one time is contrary to what we have all been taught and is apt to cause some criticism.

Capital Residents Live With History

(Editor's Note: Jane Eads, who has covered Washington from the woman's angle for 20 years, is swapping her typewriter for retirement in Florida. Her final column will appear February 21.)

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Except for not having the vote, residents of Washington have rich and varied opportunities not afforded citizens anywhere else in the nation, or the world for that matter.

★ ★ ★

They are privileged to sit in on the sessions of Congress and most of the important hearings, witnessing formulation of the laws of the land.

They can visit the White House, the government agencies, our museums and shrines almost any time without cost, or special dispensation.

EVERYDAY LIVING

These advantages are, of course, available to visitors, but for Washingtonians they are a part of everyday living.

★ ★ ★

The people who are mere headlines to most Americans are our next-door neighbors, fellow market shoppers, bus travelers and waiters-in-line at the movies.

Probably the most interesting and challenging experience is getting to know the representatives of the rest of the world's peoples.

★ ★ ★

In no other city is there such an aggregation of foreigners, nor such a unique chance to meet them on an equal social basis. Here it is not only the business but the desire of diplomats from nations all over the world to entertain and be entertained by the representatives of all the American people.

'TOUR' THE WORLD

With the ambassadors of some 87 countries living and doing business here, one can practically "tour" the world without even setting foot outside the boundaries of the District of Columbia.

★ ★ ★

Those on Embassy Row guest lists, and on many occasions those who are not, are privileged to inspect at first hand the furnishings and objects d'art that distinguished their native homes, to savor their exotic national dishes and attend their many cultural programs.

★ ★ ★

One comes to learn through these varied and seemingly incredible contacts that the similarities are more outstanding and numerous than the differences among the peoples of the world.

The first cast-iron bridge was built by two 18th Century British ironmasters. They were chiefly interested in proving the strength of their cast-iron wares.

Members voted to give money to the American Field Service to pay for the transportation of exchange students.

Julius Chajes will direct the Center Choral Society of Detroit Saturday evening for a performance at Temple Beth Jacob. The program is being presented in celebration of Jewish Music Festival.

CHAJES

All music on the program is Jewish music or written by a Jewish composer.

★ ★ ★

Among the performers for the concert will be Mildred Levey, pianist; Harvey Seigel, violinist; Adele Brown, soprano, and Irving Rosengard, baritone.

KOWALSKY

Featured performer for the presentation will be Betty Kowalsky, of Detroit, pianist. She and Mr. Seigel will present "Nigun" from "Baal Shem" by Bloch, "Melody" by Achron and "The Chassid" by Chajes.

Oakland Area Voters Brave Cold to Cast Ballots

Elect Officials in Lake Orion

Candidates in 1-Party Village Automatically In; Leipprandt President

Primary elections were held yesterday in Rochester, Hazel Park, Troy, Romeo and Dryden. In Lake Orion where there is only one party the candidates elected yesterday will assume office without a general election.

LAKE ORION

W. C. Leipprandt won the Lake Orion Village presidency for the sixth consecutive year with 156 votes. He defeated Clarence Briadwood, former village police chief who received 110.

The three winners of Lake Orion Village Council posts include: William O'Brien, 191, a newcomer; Hugh Galloway Sr., 125; and Gordon Hazelton, 121, both incumbents. The other three candidates who ran for council positions and the votes received included: William Shoup, 100; Grover Shimmons, 86, and Gilbert Woodcock, 82.

Other village officers were unopposed and received the following number of votes: Mary Parkinson, clerk, 243; Geraldine Campbell, treasurer, 238 and Geraldine Storey, assessor, 214.

ROCHESTER

Village President Sydney Q. Ennis led the field of nine candidates for the Village Council in Rochester's primary election yesterday.

He polled 232 of the 350 votes cast. The small turnout was blamed on the cold and lack of issues. Rochester has about 1,200 register voters.

Only one candidate was eliminated yesterday. The eight who received the most votes will vie in the spring election for four seats on the Village Council.

Besides Ennis, they are: Incumbents Stowell Collins, 165, and John H. Dahlmann, 154; William C. Chapman, 141; Wilson B. Severance, 126; William J. Grosslin, 123; B. Ford Thompson, 106, and Mrs. Jean M. Watson, 93.

HAZEL PARK

Mayor Louis Elias topped candidates for mayor in Hazel Park's primary yesterday. Elias, who received 773 votes, will be opposed in the April 7 general election by Charles D. Arnold who was second with 316 votes.

Nominated for City Council posts were Leonard Milligan, 648 votes; Edmond R. Hocking, 492; Oscar S. Beamer, 461, and Orlen W. Boyd 444.

Of the 11,500 registered voters, 4,712 went to the polls.

TROY

One incumbent was eliminated yesterday in the primary contest for four nominations to the Troy City Commission.

Staney Smith received the most votes, 667. He was followed by Louis Yanich, 654; Keith Jenkins, 259, and Vincent McAvoy, 244.

DRYDEN

Councilmen elected for two-year terms were Robert White, Charles Carlofs and Oliver Braidwood.

Elected for a one-year council term was Robert McCauley.

Turnout Light at Romeo Polls

Sidney White Defeats Incumbent in Hot Race for Clerk's Post

ROMEO — The bitter cold weather caused a lighter turnout of voters than expected in yesterday's village primary in Romeo. Nonetheless, 427 residents braved the wintry blasts to cast their ballots in the Village Hall.

The hottest race — for the office of village clerk — saw Sidney J. White defeat incumbent William M. Oming by a vote of 233 to 182. Oming was seeking a fourth term. It was White's first bid for public office.

The three incumbents were nominated for re-election to their present council posts, outdistancing their three challengers by sizable margins. Donald Payne received 272 votes, David E. Pettibone, 259, and Fred C. Hebert, 237 votes.

Little Girl Almost Freezes Waiting at Closed School

SOUTH FULTON, Tenn. (AP) — Deborah Lynn Beard was puzzled when she arrived at school to find the doors locked yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Temperatures were below zero and her face was blue with cold. Still she waited, unaware the school had been closed due to bitter weather.

She waited an hour and a half. At 9, Herman Roach, a bus driver, stopped at a gasoline station across the street. He saw Deborah hunched on the steps, her head drooping almost to her lap.

★ ★ ★

He called to the little girl. She tried to get up and fell forward. He carried her to a nearby house. A physician was called.

Deborah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Lynn Beard, is recovering from a severe case of exposure.

Red Spy Swallows Rivets, Nuts, Bolts

NEW YORK (AP) — Convicted Russian spy Jack Soble swallowed a quantity of rivets, nuts and bolts shortly before being brought here from prison for further questioning on espionage, U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams announced today.

★ ★ ★

Physicians reported him doing very well after the surgery.

Williams said that Soble altogether had swallowed one pound and 9 ounces of the metallic miscellany.

He added that James Bennett, director of federal prisons at Washington, "confirms that apparently Soble swallowed the hardware in the warehouse because he obviously had access to it."

Williams explained: "All prisoners there shave and have access to the warehouse when it is authorized."

At least 24 hours elapsed after Soble swallowed the material before he complained of feeling ill, Williams said.

REMEMBERED WITH VALENTINE — Mrs. Siiri Lind, who has lived nine years in the Oakland County Convalescent Home, is delighted with the Valentine presented to her by Mrs. Arnold Scholz of Joslyn road, Orion Township. It was signed by all 14 members of the Judah Lake Extension Club which "adopted" Mrs. Lind three years ago. She remembered, from weekly visits, all but two names, and these proved to be new members who had not yet "dropped in."

No Longer Lonely

Girls Cheer 2 Elders in Home

ORION TOWNSHIP — Life is no longer one day after another in loneliness for two ladies at the Oakland County Convalescent Home.

Mrs. Polly Smith, who will be 93 years old Feb. 23, and Mrs. Siiri Lind, 62, who has been crippled with arthritis about 15 years, now await weekly visits of the "girls" of the Judah Lake Extension Club who have "adopted" them.

The project began about three years ago when club members visited the home and learned that the two ladies were among those who had practically no visitors.

Mrs. Lind's only son lives in California and has been able to visit her just once since the death of her husband, two years ago.

Club members found her looking much happier when they went to see her last week and presented her with a Valentine signed by all 14 members of the club.

When the weather improves and Mrs. Lind feels well enough, the club plans to take her for a short shopping trip. She has attended two club picnics, one at Kelly's Beach, and another at Avon Park, and had Thanksgiving dinner at the Marvin Fauss home.

Each of the women were brought gifts of candy and food, but they appear to enjoy the companionship the visits offer more than anything else.

Besides this gratifying experience, members are discovering they are learning things not included in their extension education program.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lind writes to thank them in Finnish, her native language, which a member translates. And many are learning a little Finnish.

Family of 5 Routed

Fire Levels Orion Home

LAKE ORION — A Lake Orion family of five was homeless today following a fire which raced through their $7,000 two-story frame residence yesterday and burned it to the ground.

Lake Orion village firemen report the frigid weather and strong winds hampered them in their efforts to extinguish flames which swept through the house occupied by the Thomas Hardy family, 116 Dutmer Terrace, Bunny Run.

★ ★ ★

The water from the fire hose froze as soon as it hit the building, according to firemen. No one was injured.

Cause of the fire has not been determined by firemen, although Mrs. Hardy said the fire first was noticed around the first floor register.

The couple and their three children, Calvin, 13, Patricia, 9, and Debbie, 2, are staying today with Hardy's father, H. T. Hardy, of 731 Cortland St., Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

They are already making plans to move temporarily into the house under construction next to their destroyed residence. It is being built by John Kessler for his daughter who is being married in May, Mrs. Hardy explained.

The Thomas Goodall family, 207 S. Detroit Blvd., neighbors of the Hardys, are collecting food, clothing and household articles for them.

Summerfield Sees Big Raises Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summerfield says he favors a salary increase for postal workers but contends it is a "Cruel hoax . . . to give false hope that exorbitant pay increases will be realized."

★ ★ ★

Summerfield declined, however, to predict whether President Eisenhower would veto a Democratic-sponsored bill to give the nation's half million postal workers a 7½ per cent pay boost plus flat increases for workers in lower pay brackets.

"I have not explored that issue," Summerfield told the House Post Office Committee.

The House group is considering an administration-backed bill for a 6 per cent increase. Summerfield estimated the cost at approximately 160 million dollars a year. The rival Democratic bill, expected to come up for a Senate vote this week, would cost an estimated twice as much.

OK Bond Issue in Walled Lake

Residents Give Approval to School Construction Program

WALLED LAKE—Voters in the Walled Lake School District yesterday approved a two million dollar bond issue for school construction and improvements. The margin was 813 to 491.

★ ★ ★

The first project will be the construction of a new junior high on a 30-acre site at Commerce and Union Lake roads. It is planned to have the building ready for occupancy by fall of 1959.

Added facilities are needed to provide for a predicted 2,700 increase in pupils in the next five years, Superintendent of Schools Clifford H. Smart said.

Voting by precincts was as follows:

Walled Lake—248 yes, 247 no.
Union Lake—363 yes; 91 no.
Commerce—100 yes; 41 no.
Wixom—48 yes; 53 no.
Glengary—62 yes; 59 no.

Mining Town Continues Fight Against Cold

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP)—Nearly a third of this coal mining town continued its battle against zero weather and no heat today and waited for emergency supplies of heating gas.

★ ★ ★

Gas supplies which had been shot since early January dropped to a new low, cutting heat in nearly 1,000 homes to little or none.

Residents bought up oil and coal stoves, electric heaters and wood trying to keep warm. Others moved into churches or roomed with neighbors with coal or oil-heated stoves. One housing project was evacuated.

Mayor H. F. White asked Gov. A. B. Chandler to declare an emergency, so that gas could be brought in from anywhere in the state to help.

★ ★ ★

Don Finley, manager of Bell-Knox Pipelines, the embattled firm which supplies Middlesboro's gas, had hope for relief to some residents.

He said United Fuel Co. of Huntington, W. Va., and Phillips Petroleum, which has a plant at Brandenburg, would ship in bottled gas, a liquid which could be converted into gaseous fuel which would provide heat for about half the affected homes.

★ ★ ★

Finley said the only permanent solution to Middlesboro's heating problem, which has been growing all winter, is for the firm to hook into a major pipeline.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION ON SCHEDULE—Workmen install windows and panels in new Romeo High School as construction moves toward completion deadline of June 27. This is tiered classroom section designed on separate levels to fit contours of land.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

This is the schedule of a so-called major college basketball team, namely San Francisco, the third ranked team in the country.

Chico State, W. Texas State, California, Southern Cal (2), San Jose State (2), Santa Clara (2), San Francisco State, Los Angeles Loyola (2), Pepperdine (2), Fresno State (2), St. Marys (2), College of Pacific (2).

Even the Texas Bloomer Girls would hardly shudder at playing this list of teams, and they would probably be on the winning side of the ledger.

Yet, every week when the wire service polls come out, San Francisco is hailed as one of the country's great teams. Even when the Dons were riding that 60 game winning streak for three straight years, this was their kind of schedule.

Sure, it was a good team, it knocked off such powers as Iowa and LaSalle, but even in the NCAA championships the Dons waded through the weak sisters of the tournament bracket with such quints as Oregon State, West Texas State and Colorado.

And it may be a fine team this year with its 16-1 record, but looking at it at its face value even the most record-conscious basketball fan will have to admit this is an easy way for any team to tip-toe into an NCAA berth, especially a team that's called "great."

★ ★ ★

It would be like Pontiac Central against non-SVC teams. The Chiefs could leave the SVC and play a bunch of softies and then get keyed up for the big game which would come around once or twice a season, and they could win.

In four years the PCH record outside the league is 17-4. For those who look only at the season record this is tremendous, yet in these 21 games there are no Flint Centrals or Flint Northerns.

Just like coach Joe Dowdy of Flint Central said last week, "A team could break even with a 5-5 record in the Valley, and still be one of the top teams in the state, because the competition is often pretty closely knitted."

★ ★ ★

Now let's look at the U. of D. basketball schedule as an independent. There's Michigan State, Canisius, Wichita, Louisville (2), Fordham, Dayton, St. Bonaventure, St. Francis, Duquesne, West Virginia, Seton Hall, Notre Dame, Bradley, Bowling Green, Loyola, Georgia Tech, with Western Ontario, Assumption, Toledo and John Carroll sandwiched among the list.

You can pick out 15 good NCAA and NIT tournament teams in this list. You can find one on the Frisco schedule.

Schools like Detroit, Butler and Drake will play .500 ball with similarly rough schedules, but "hail" to San Francisco, the king of the "free-loaders."

Tigers Acquire Hegan and Aguirre in Trade

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians today traded veteran catcher Jim Hegan and southpaw pitcher Hank Aguirre to the Detoit Tigers for catcher J. W. Porter and Harold Woodeshick, also a lefthanded hurler.

Cleveland general manager Frank Lane indicated that from Cleveland's standpoint, the deal was made to bring younger baseball players to the Tribe. No money was involved in the deal.

Hegan, who will be 38 this summer, has been with Cleveland since 1941. After three years in the Coast Guard, Hegan returned to the club in 1946 and has been the regular receiver since then. He had appeared in 112 or more games for 10 consecutive seasons. Injuries slowed him up in 1957 when he played in only 59 games and hit .216. He has a lifetime batting average of .230 but was one of the key factors in Cleveland's pitching successes from 1946-57.

Porter, 25, received a $65,000 bonus in 1951 when Lane, then general manager for the White Sox, signed him. He also played briefly with the St. Louis Browns. During the past two seasons, Porter has seen service in a utility capacity, appearing in 58 games in 1957. He batted .250.

Aguirre, 26, spent most of last season with San Diego of the Pacific Coast League where he won six and lost 13. He was 1-1 with Cleveland.

Woodeshick, 25, was drafted by the Tigers from the New York Giants' farm system. He spent last season at Charleston in the American Assn. and later was sent to Augusta in the Sally League.

With Hegan gone, the Cleveland catching duties will be shared by Hal Naragon and Earl Averill in addition to Porter.

Vikings Upset Loop Leaders

The last-place Vikings, paced by the 15-point effort of E. J. Harris, scored a 36-32 upset victory over league-leading Lakeside Monday night in a Class C city basketball game at Madison Junior High. It was Lakeside's 2nd loss in 10 starts.

Jim Kothe and Bill Killen bagged 10 points apiece to lead Town & Country to a 46-36 triumph over Bud & Lou's Bar in the other "C" game. Al Piche tallied 12 in a losing cause.

In Class A yesterday, Harvey Rowan's 24 points paced the front-running Lakeside Royals to an 86-49 rout of Southfield at Pontiac Central gym. Booth Homes piled up a 66-35 Class B win over the Merchants behind Fred Baker's 21 points.

Two Class D American division scraps were played at Lincoln Junior High. The Bowen Arrows stayed unbeaten with a 52-27 conquest of the Rockets and Ken McClintock made 25 points as Auburn 5 & 10 walloped Home Lunch, 65-36.

West Virginia Wallops Titans

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP) — All five West Virginia regulars scored in double figures as the Mountaineers trounced Detroit 98-66 in an intersectional basketball game last night.

West Virginia, ranked No. 2 in the National Associated Press poll, took the lead and stayed there with two minutes and 49 seconds gone in the first period.

The Mountaineers led 53-43 at halftime in chalking up their 21st victory against one defeat. Detroit now has a 12-9 record.

Junior Forward Hurts Michigan With 25 Points

MSU Increases Big Ten Lead With Crucial Win Over Wolverines

By BILL CORNWELL

ANN ARBOR — A brilliant 25-point scoring spree by Bob Anderegg and an assist from Ohio State have combined to hand Michigan State a one-game lead in the topsy-turvy Big Ten Conference basketball race.

Anderegg, MSU's junior forward from Monroe, Wis., went on a 2nd half rampage here last night to spark State's 79-69 conquest of the University of Michigan before a sellout audience of 8,700 in Yost Fieldhouse.

The 6-foot-3 Anderegg fired 21 of his 25 points after intermission as the Spartans gradually pulled away from their arch rivals to gain a satisfying measure of revenge for two losses to the Wolverines last season.

★ ★ ★

It was MSU's 7th league victory in 10 starts and, coupled with Ohio State's 93-83 upset of Indiana yesterday at Bloomington, gave the Spartans a full game edge over idle Purdue, which moved into 2nd place on a 6-4 record.

Anderegg meshed 11 field goals and three out of four foul shots for the greatest point-making flurry in his college career to ruin Michigan's hopes.

The Spartans had their troubles with Michigan, but superior shooting eventually told the story. U. of M. grabbed more rebounds, but had a 31.2 per cent shooting average compared to State's 40.6.

Michigan set the pace during most of the 1st half. The Wolverines were ahead by seven points on one occasion and it was not until the 17th minute of play that they relinquished their advantage.

Two free tosses by Lance Olson put the Spartans into the lead for the first time, 23-21, with 3:48 remaining. They boosted their margin to 31-25 at halftime and never lost the advantage again.

It took a little while, however, for the Spartans to shake off the stubborn Wolverines after play resumed. Michigan twice cut State's lead to two points and came within a single point another time.

MSU started to widen the gap after about five minutes of action. With Anderegg showing the way, the Spartans' lead zoomed as high as 14 points in the late stages.

Johnny Green, Michigan State's "jumping jack" center, was alternately guarded by M. C. Burton, Pete Tillotson and George Lee. Green still netted 18 points and his three pursuers each picked up four fouls in the process. Tillotson fouled out in the final second of the game.

★ ★ ★

State threw a zone defense at the Wolverines in the 2nd half and the maneuver bothered their attack, forcing them to rely largely on outside shooting which went cold.

The Spartans had only a 30-29 edge in field goals, but bagged 19 charity tosses in 26 attempts to Michigan's 11 out of 18.

Lee spearheaded the Wolverines' offensive efforts with 22 points and Tillotson collected 17, all in the 2nd half.

In other Big 10 games last night, Iowa scored a 74-61 victory over Wisconsin and Illinois defeated Minnesota, 94-87.

Royal Oak Dondero at PCH Tonight

Chiefs Oppose Old Rivals

Pontiac Central takes a quick look outside of the Saginaw Valley Conference tonight against a none-too-impressive Royal Oak Dondero quintet on the PCH court.

The Chiefs, now out of the race for the SVC title, have three more games, all of which could improve their final season record.

A sweep of the three, including Friday at Bay City and the following week's finale against Flint Northern would close the campaign for PCH at 11-5.

Dondero started the season in fine fashion by winning four of the first five games, but since then the Oaks have taken a bumpy road with six straight losses.

★ ★ ★

Top scorer for Dondero is John Kerr with 119 points. He is joined at the guard post by the team's playmaker Jerry Patenaude a 6-foot hustler who has had his good moments with his left hand shot. Greg Eastwood, 6-3 center, is Dondero's board man.

Coach Art Van Ryzin is expected to make some changes in the lineup for tonight's contest.

★ ★ ★

Joining Charley Barge at guard will be Hank Robertson. Harrison Munson will be back in the center slot with Jerry Williams and Bill Hayward starting at forwards.

Regular forward Dick Whitmer has been touched with a slight cold but he and Jim Skinner are both expected to be ready for tonight's encounter.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Central defeated the Acorns in Royal Oak last year 53-45. In the all-time series between the two large Oakland County schools, Pontiac holds the edge with 19 wins and 9 losses.

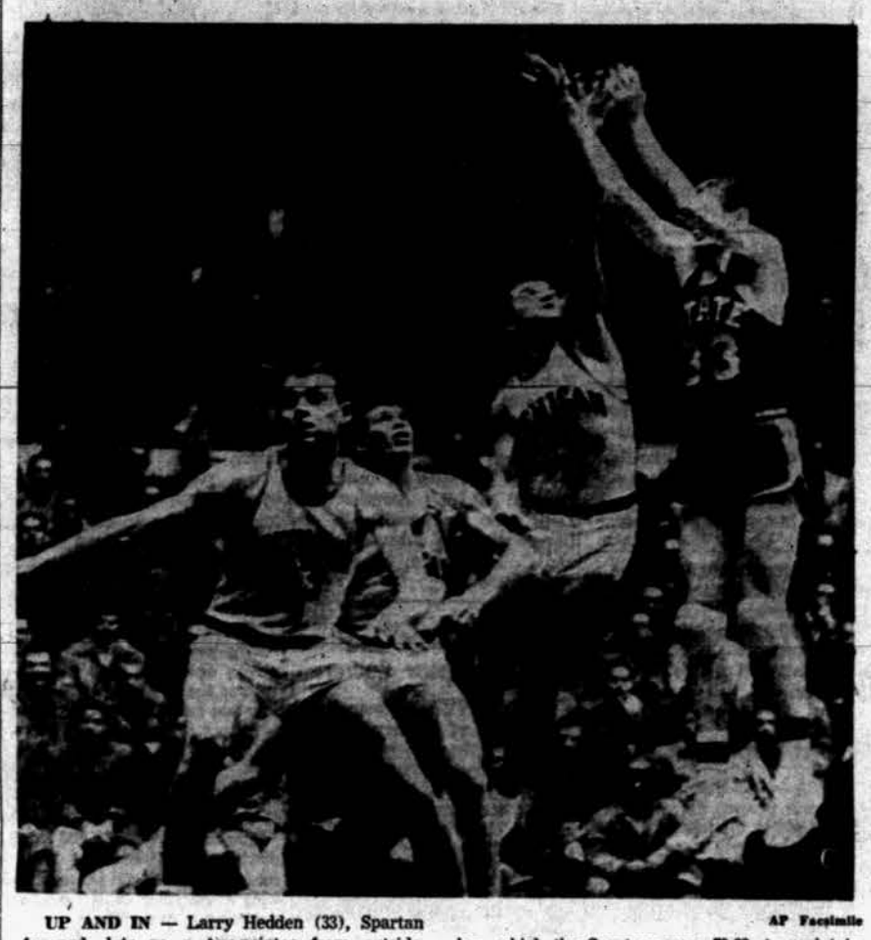

They met eight times in regional tourney play and PCH is ahead 6-2 in victories.

Wings in Annual Game Against Michigan Tonight

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings pay their annual visit to the University of Michigan tonight for an exhibition that usually is more renowned for its laughs than its hockey.

The Wolverines seldom can contain the National Hockey League team for more than a period at best. The Wings have routed Michigan nine times in nine attempts.

★ ★ ★

Detroit's assistant trainer and spare goalie, Lefty Wilson, provides most of the chuckles. He generally cavorts in the nets most of the game replete in a sombrero and smoking a cigar.

Last year, the Wings defeated the Wolverines 13-2.

One of the top groups of trainees in the Southern Michigan Dog Obedience Training club convenes tonight in Emerson school, for the start of a new 10-weeks advanced class. 7 Tiger Players Remain Unsigned

Kuenn, Lary Still Holdouts

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Infielder Reno Bertoia and pitcher Chuck Daniel signed 1958 contracts with the Detroit Tigers today, leaving seven players — including Harvey Kuenn and Frank Lary — outside the fold.

★ ★ ★

Kuenn and pitcher Lary were just another pair of chilled bystanders today as they waited at the early training camp for the expected arrival tonight of Gen. Mgr. John McHale.

Both indicated they will try to get McHale to soften the salary cuts he is asking them to accept.

Kuenn has told manager Jack Tighe he thinks the pay cut is too stiff. When Tighe asked him to settle his money differences by phone yesterday, Kuenn said:

★ ★ ★

"I'd rather sit down with him face-to-face. I guess I deserve a cut but he is asking me to accept an amputation."

Named to the American League all-star team in each of his five seasons as a Tiger shortstop, Kuenn will be tried in the outfield when he comes to terms.

Bertoia batted .275 and hit four home runs while driving in 28 runs last year. Daniel, called up from Charleston during the season, pitched only two innings for Detroit in one game in 1957.

Lary, a righthander, won 11 games and lost 16 for the Tigers last season. He had no comment to make about his contract offer but said he wanted to talk with McHale before signing.

Kuenn, who made $30,000 in 1957, is said to have been offered $26,000 this year. He hit .277 in 151 games last year.

The big Tiger said of the planned switch to the outfield.

"That's another thing. I'm willing to try to play out there if it will help the team and if that is what they want me to do. But it's sort of tough to know that you're going to a strange position and still be asked to take a cut in pay."

Cold weather continued to plague training plans at the early camp today. Tighe plans to look over his veterans and hopefuls at an intra-squad game tomorrow but said he will call it off unless the weather warms up.

NCAA, NIT Battling for Owls

Temple in Middle of Controversy

NEW YORK (AP)—On the heels of a threat by Temple University to withdraw from the NCAA basketball tournament, the chairman of the National Invitation Tournament selection committee said today that he had discussed "several times" the possibility of the Owls playing in the NIT.

★ ★ ★

Walter McLaughlin, St. John's University athletic director, who doubles as NIT selection chairman, also denied a charge that Temple's threats originated here because the NIT would like to have the Owls in the Madison Square Garden tournament.

The entire controversy started yesterday when Temple Athletic Director Josh Cody demanded assurances that the three Negroes on his team could live together with their mates during the preliminary games in Charlotte, N.C.

★ ★ ★

Actually, Temple is not yet in the tournament, but with the longest current winning streak in the nation, 17 games, the Owls are virtually certain to win the Middle Atlantic Coast Conference championship and get an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament.

★ ★ ★

Repercussions came in fast and furious fashion as soon as Cody made known his feelings.

The most outspoken was Chet Welchel, chairman of the NCAA Eastern Basketball Committee who said there would be no segregation of players. He also said he explained the entire program to Cody last month.

★ ★ ★

"I think it's all starting out of New York," he added. "They want Temple at their National Invitation Tournament. . . . They're trying to make Temple disappointed with us so they'll not come here (Charlotte), but go to the NIT."

McLaughlin was quick to deny this.

★ ★ ★

Temple, which is located in Philadelphia only 90 miles from here, played in the NIT last year and got as far as the semifinals.

However, Cody isn't the only member of the NIT Selection Committee who is being placed in the position of seeing his team play in the opposition tournament.

J. O. Christian, athletic director of the University of Connecticut, which already has won a bid by capturing the Yankee Conference championship, also is an NIT Selection Committee member.

★ ★ ★

Arthur C. "Duth" Lonborg, University of Kansas athletic director and chairman of the NCAA Basketball Tournament Committee, echoes Welchel's statement.

"The players will not be separated," he said. "This was cleared before we ever decided to go to Charlotte. There is no problem whatsoever."

Royals Regain Player

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tom Marshall, former Detroit Pistons player, has been reacquired by the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. The 26-year-old one time Western Kentucky ace was sold to Detroit by Cincinnati Dec. 10. The Pistons later asked for waivers and released him.

Howe Among Threatening Trio

Scoring Leaders Pressed

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal fans, whose Canadiens almost have sewn up the National Hockey League title, are frowning a bit today.

★ ★ ★

Their favorites, Dickie Moore and Henri "Pocket Rocket" Richard the NHL scoring leaders, are being pressed from three sides in the league's scoring race, official statistics revealed.

★ ★ ★

Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers, Bronco Horvath of the Boston Bruins and Detroit's Gordie Howe each collected four points last week while the Canadiens duo got only three between them.

★ ★ ★

Moore leads with 67 points, while Richard has 65. Moore got only one assist, Richard two goals last week. Conversely, Moore is still the league's top goal-getter with 30, Richard leads in assists with 41.

The scoring leaders:

Move to Protect Amateurs

CHICAGO (AP)—An effort to protect the amateur status of college athletes playing summer baseball was made yesterday at a meeting of a special NCAA committee and represenatives of organized leagues.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of the meeting was to determine which leagues will conform their operating procedures to the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. code.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCA, said three points were developed at the meeting:

1. Leagues must agree on operational procedures.

★ ★ ★

2. Leagues must file with the NCAA their schedules for the season and their operating regulations.

3. Leagues must file with the NCAA their club rosters showing where a boy goes to college, where he works in the summer, his rate of pay, employers name, etc.

★ ★ ★

Under the NCAA plan, applications will be acted on by March 15 and not later than April 1 and a list of certified leagues or teams will be sent to member schools.

BIG THREE — These are the top three qualifiers who will go into Saturday's Bowlerama championship at the Huron Bowl. Mrs. Pat Donner led the women with a 664 total at Motor Inn, while Frank Roosen topped the men at Montcalm with 730 and Tom Shara at Howe's with 760. Trophies went to the three.

76 in Bowlerama Championship

Bowlers to Vie for 1958 Title at Huron Bowl

Checking of Averages Brings About Several Men's Changes

A total of 76 bowlers, 16 women and 60 men, will battle in the championship round of the 1958 Press Bowlerama Saturday at the Huron Bowl.

Two squads of bowlers, at 11:30 and at 1:00, will go into the finals. Presentation of prizes and awards will be made at 4:00 p.m. in the "300" Lounge of Huron Bowl.

In the final check of men's averages, the break would come at 57 positions but since three men have tied for the last spot all three with 618 totals have thereby qualified for the finals.

These men's and women's lists are the official lists. In two instances, men who were listed among the qualifiers before averages were checked have dropped out of top 60.

* * *

Thomas Shara, the young Pontiac school teacher who lives in Rochester, is officially the top qualifier with a 760 total. He won the qualifying trophy at Howe's Lanes.

Frank Roosen, from Birmingham, was the high qualifier at Montcalm with 730 and he also had the high actual single game of 257 which earned him a bowling bag.

Roosen also rolled a 663 high actual series but this brought about a tie with Harold Hintz of Rochester, thus, the two will engage in a one game roll-off for the bowling ball award.

* * *

In the women's division, Pat Donner, a little Drayton Plains woman who last year took second place in the Bowlerama, grabbed a couple awards in the qualifying round.

She won the high qualifying trophy at Motor Inn Saturday with 664 total and she also rolled the high actual series of 557 to win the bowling ball.

Another high series was turned in by Doris Lanktree of Rochester who rolled a 554 and was the high game winner of the bowling bag with 220.

In the final round Saturday, the high actual series for men and women will earn the bowler a pair of bowling shoes.

* * *

Among the other prizes, the oldest man's honor went to Walter Carpenter who is 79 and the oldest women's award goes to Mrs. Anna Winters who is 76.

There are also the awards to the bowlers who may win the championship and are repeat entries in the 1957 and 1958 tournaments. A cigarette lighter and a compact to the man and woman champ who may be a repeat entry.

MAT REVIVAL — Kenny Garner of Berkley, a squat 238-pounder who would rather wrestle than compete in any other sport, has been a big factor in the revival of the mat sport at Central Michigan College. Ken started wrestling 10 years ago and has yet to lose a dual heavyweight match in 45 starts — 27 in high school and 18 in college.

Two Bowlerama Squads Listed in Final Round

All bowlers entering the championship round of the 1958 Bowlerama can make preference as to whether they want to bowl at 11:30 or at 1:00 p.m.

Calls can be made to the Press night sports desk tonight at FE 2-0104. No more than 48 will be listed on one squad. Once one of the squads is filled, all other bowlers will have to fill the other squad. No changes will be made once the squads are set up.

The two squads and times will be printed Thursday.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

I've seen many bowlers suffer at the foul line for a mistake they committed a few seconds earlier when they took their first step of the approach. In many cases, the first step was too long or too quick, and caused them to rush into their footwork with poor results. In other cases, the arms-and-feet movement wasn't coordinated properly from the beginning, and they end up at the foul line still uncoordinated.

Look at today's drawing. Notice how it illustrates the relationship between a long push-away motion and a long first step. If the first step is a long one and the push-away is short, the ball falls too quickly into the backswing, and the timing is ruined. The same thing holds true if the push-away is too long and the first step is too short.

Rams Away, Orion at Oxford Tonight

Mikes, Eaglets Clash

By CHUCK ABAIR

The 2nd meeting of the season between St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary, a road game for St. Frederick and an afternoon contest between Walled Lake and Cranbrook headline a prep hoop schedule dominated by independent tussles tonight.

* * *

Only loop action on tap will be a full slate in the Southern Thumb and Utica's invasion of Lakeview in the Bi-County.

St. Mary will be favored to repeat an earlier 47-38 triumph over the Shamrocks with the added advantage of playing at home but the Eaglets are expecting no easy time of it.

St. Mike has walloped St. James and Madison Lamphere since bowing to Orchard Lake in league play and the Shamrocks are anxious for revenge and a chance to get over the .500 mark.

* * *

Led by Bob Mineweaser and Art Robak, St. Michael has divided 12 decisions thus far. Stan Moniuszko and Art Goisdzinski have been the big guns in a 10-3 season for OLSM.

St. Fred plays its final regular season tilt away from home playing at Detroit St. Francis de Sales. The Rams have an 8-3 record and three straight triumphs.

Walled Lake opened the season by romping over Cranbrook but a much closer contest was anticipated this afternoon with the Cranes an improved unit since four transfers joined the team.

* * *

Some of the other key games of local interest will be high-powered Lake Orion at Oxford, Milford at Rochester and Ferndale at Royal Oak Kimball.

Orion may come near matching Friday's 102 total unless coach Hal Carlin leaves one of his scoring greats—Jim Drake and Nick Neira—home. Oxford has lost 13 in succession.

Rochester and Ferndale should also have little trouble. The Falcons opened the season by slamming Milford. Ferndale will be seeking its 11th straight win and a boost in the state Class A ratings.

* * *

Rounding out the independent games will be Mt. Morris at Ortonville, Wayne at Farmington, Fraser at Romeo, Oak Park at Clawson, L'Anse Creuse at Country Day, Fowlerville at South Lyon, Roseville at East Detroit and Millington at home against Maple Grove.

The Southern Thumb spotlight will be focused on New Haven where Almont can clinch another league championship by winning.

Runnerup Memphis plays at Capac in hopes of staying in the running for at least a tie for the title. The other game will have Dryden in the host role against Brown City.

Robertson Sparks Cincy in Race for NCAA 'Show'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oscar Robertson is triggering Cincinnati's late surge in the Associated Press poll that could set up a storybook showndown with top-ranked Kansas State in the NCAA major college basketball tournament.

* * *

Robertson, still less than a point behind Elgin Baylor of Seattle in individual scoring, counted 43 last night as Cincinnati whipped Drake 98-64 for a 19-2 record and an 11-game winning streak.

* * *

That string hoisted the Bearcats from third to second in today's AP poll and left Kansas State and Cincinnati well ahead of the field.

Kansas State (17-1) picked up 33 first-place votes to Cincinnati's 37, but pulled in enough support on points (based on 10 for first, nine for second, etc. down to one for 10th) to edge the Bearcats 980 to 971.

State, idle last night, holds the inside lane in the run for the Big Eight conference title while Cincinnati looks like a shoo-in for the Missouri Valley championship. The Big Eight and Mo-Valley winners meet March 14 at Lawrence, Kan., in the 2nd round of the NCAA tournament.

* * *

Once-beaten West Virginia, knocked off the top spot by Kansas State in last week's poll, slipped to third but won its 21st last night in a 98-66 decision over Detroit.

Kansas, ranked No. 4, moved within 1½ games of Kansas State in the Big Eight as Wilt Chamberlain scored 34 in an 84-69 victory over Missouri. The Jayhawks now are 16-3.

San Francisco (No. 5) won its 20th in 21 starts, smacking Fresno State 68-59.

* * *

Michigan State (12th), Kentucky (13th) and Mississippi State (18th) were the only other members of the top 20 to play last night and all won.

* * *

The standings with points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first-place votes and won-lost records through Saturday, Feb. 15, in parentheses):

45 Places at Stake in Houston Qualifying Test

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The last 45 places in the $30,000 Houston Classic golf tournament went on the line this morning as the first 124 players teed off in an 18-hole qualifying round on a frosty day.

* * *

The Classic starts Thursday at Memorial Park with 130 players, the first 85 of whom drew invitations without having to go through a qualifying round. Should bad weather make it impossible for the qualifying round to be completed today it will run over into tomorrow.

All but five of the 124 players in the qualifying round are pros. No more than four amateurs will be allowed to qualify and they must be among the low 45 to do so. The amateurs are from Texas.

* * *

While the qualifying round is being played at Memorial, a field of 320 players, including top ranked pros, will compete in the $5,000 pro-sponsors' tournament at Pine Forest and Golfcrest Country Clubs.

Chief Wrestlers at Waterford

The 2nd meeting within a week between the Pontiac and Waterford wrestling teams was to be held this afternoon at 4 in the Waterford gymnasium.

Pontiac, which has won its last three starts, romped to a 46-7 win at home last Tuesday as 145-pounder Mel Farrar was the only Skipper winner.

A return duel between tiny grapplers Bobby Kiser of the Chiefs and speedy Dave Sherman was expected to be a highlight of the local battle. They fought to a 7-7 draw earlier.

Walled Lake will be another area school in action today as the Vikings meet Wayne. Both Waterford and Walled Lake will complete their regular schedules before taking part in the 1st Inter-Lakes league meet Thursday at Berkley.

CHAPTER 41

Lucy tok up once more her restless, almost aimless prowl round the room. Miss Marple sat watching her. This was a very different Lucy Eyelesbarrow from the one she knew.

"I suppose it was asking for it really," said Lucy. "A will of that kind, ending so that if there was only one survivor left he'd get the lot. And yet—there was quite a lot of money wasn't there? You'd think it would be enough shared out—" she paused, the words tailing off.

* * *

"The trouble is," said Miss Marple, "that people are greedy. Some people. That's so often, you know, how things start. You don't start with murder, with wanting to do murder, or even thinking of it. You just start by being greedy, by wanting more than you're going to have." She laid her knitting down on her knee and stared ahead of her into space. "That's how I came across Inspector Craddock first, you know. A case in the ferent Lucy Eyelesbarrow from the That began the same way, just a weak amiable character who wanted a great deal of money. Money that that person wasn't entitled to, but there seemed an easy way to get it. Not murder then. Just something so easy and simple that it hardly seemed wrong. That's how things begin . . . But it ended with three murders."

"Just like this," said Lucy. "We've had three murders now. The woman who impersonated Martine and who would have been able to claim a share for her son, and then Alfred, and then Harold. And now it only leaves two, doesn't it."

"You mean," said Miss Marple, "there are only Cedric and Emma left?"

"Not Emma. Emma isn't a tall dark man. No. I mean Cedric and Bryan Eastley. I never thought of Bryan because he's fair. He's got a great fair mustache and blue eyes, but you see—the other day—" she paused.

"Yes, go on," said Miss Marple. "Tell me. Something has upset you very badly, hasn't it?"

"It was when Lady Stoddart-West was going away. She had said good-by and then suddenly turned to me just as she was getting into the car and asked: 'Who was that tall dark man who was standing on the terrace as I came in?'

"I couldn't imagine who she meant at first, because Cedric was still laid up. So I said, rather puzzled, 'You don't mean Bryan Eastley?' and she said, 'Of course, that's who it was, Squadron Leader Eastley. He was hidden in our loft once in France during the Resistance. I remembered the way he stood, and the set of his shoulders,' and she said, 'I should like to meet him again,' but we couldn't find him."

* * *

Miss Marple said nothing, just waited.

"And then," said Lucy, "later I looked at him . . . He was standing with his back to me and I saw what I ought to have seen before. That even when a man's fair his hair looks dark because he plasters it down with stuff. Bryan's hair is a sort of medium brown, I suppose, but it can look dark. So you see, it might have been Bryan that your friend saw in the train. It might . . ."

"Yes," said Miss Marple. "I had thought of that."

"I suppose you think of everything!" said Lucy bitterly.

"Well, dear, one has to really."

"But I can't see what Bryan would get out of it. I mean the money would come to Alexander, not to him. I suppose it would make an easier life, they could have a bit more luxury, but he wouldn't be able to tap the capital for his schemes or anything like that."

* * *

"But if anything happened to Alexander, before he was twenty-one, then Bryan would get the money as his father and next of kin," Miss Marple pointed out.

Lucy cast a look of horror at her.

Miss Marple sighed. "People do, my dear. It's very sad and very terrible, but they do.

* * *

"People do very terrible things," said Miss Marple. "I know a woman who poisoned three of her children just for a little bit of insurance money. And then there was an old woman, quite a nice old woman apparently, who poisoned her son when he came home on leave. Then there was that old Mrs. Stanwich. That case was in the paper. I daresay you read about it. Her daughter died and her son, and then she said she was poisoned herself. There was poison in some gruel, but it came out, you know, that she'd put it there herself. She was just planning to poison the last daughter. That wasn't exactly for money. She was jealous of them for being younger than she was and alive, and she was afraid—it's a terrible thing to say but it's true—they would enjoy themselves after she was gone.

* * *

"She'd always kept a very tight hold on the purse strings. Yes, of course she was a little peculiar, as they say, but I never see myself that that's any real excuse. I mean you can be a little peculiar in so many different ways. Sometimes you just go about giving all your possessions away and writing checks on bank accounts that don't exist, just so as to benefit people. It shows, you see, that behind being peculiar you have quite a nice disposition. But of course if you're peculiar and behind it you have a bad disposition, well, there you are. Now, does that help you at all, my dear Lucy?"

"Does what help me?" asked Lucy bewildered.

"What I've been telling you," said Miss Marple. She added gently, "You mustn't worry, you know. You really mustn't worry. Elspeth McGillicuddy will be here any day now."

"I don't see what that has to do with it."

"No, dear, perhaps not. But I think it's important myself."

"I can't help worrying," said Lucy. "You see I've got interested in the family."

* * *

"I know, dear, it's very difficult for you because you are quite strongly attracted to both of them, aren't you, in very different ways."

"What do you mean?" said Lucy. Her tone was sharp.

"I was talking about the two sons of the house," said Miss Marple. "Or rather the son and the son-in-law. It's unfortunate that the two more unpleasant members of the family have died and the two more attractive ones are left. I can see that Cedric Crackenthorpe is very attractive. He is inclined to make himself out worse than he is and has a provocative way with him."

"He makes me fighting mad sometimes," said Lucy.

"Yes," said Miss Marple, "and you enjoy that, don't you? You're a girl with a lot of spirit and you enjoy a battle. Yes, I can see where that attraction lies. And then Mr. Eastley is rather a plaintive type, rather like an unhappy little boy. That of course is attractive, too."

* * *

"And one of them's a murderer," said Lucy bitterly, "and it may be either of them. There's nothing to choose between them, really. There's Cedric, not caring a bit about his brother Alfred's death or about Harold's. He just sits back looking thoroughly pleased making plans for what he'll do with Rutherford Hall, and he keeps saying that it'll need a lot of money to develop it in the way he wants to do. Of course I know he's the sort of person who exaggerates his own callousness and all that. But that could be a cover, too. I mean everyone says that you're more callous than you really are. But you mightn't be. You might be even more callous than you seem!"

"Dear, dear Lucy, I'm so sorry about all this."

"And then Bryan," went on Lucy. "It's extraordinary, but Bryan really seems to want to live there. He thinks he and Alexander would find it awfully jolly and he's full of schemes."

* * *

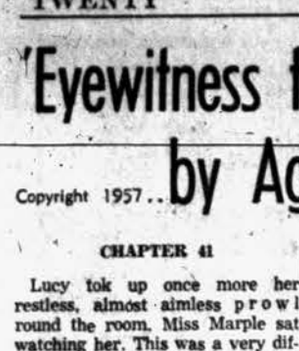

"He's always full of schemes of one kind or another, isn't he?"

"Yes, I think he is. They all sound rather wonderful—but I've got an uneasy feeling that they'd never really work. I mean, they're not practical. The idea sounds all right—but I don't think he ever considers the actual working difficulties."

"They are up in the air, so to speak?"

"Yes, in more ways than one. I mean they are usually literally up in the air. They are all air schemes. Perhaps a really good fighter pilot never does quite come down to earth again . . ."

Your telephone doesn't mind the cold

A cold, snowy winter day can just about stop everything. It's bad enough to have to go outside; even worse to try to drive over hazardous, snow-covered roads.

But your telephone is hard to stop. It isn't bothered by frostbite, and snowdrifts can't slow its speed. With it you can do your shopping, make or change your plans, keep in touch with family and friends near or far—all from the cozy comfort of your easy chair.

Sure is nice to know that no matter how bad the weather gets, you and your family have a useful and dependable friend in your telephone . . . always ready and able to help.

Big 6 Feet 2, Fast Draw, Rides — Lo, a Star Is Born

By BOB THOMAS

Find a big fellow—6 feet 2 and a well-built 190 pounds, 33 years old with some stage training and a little movie experience, born in the western United States, though not on a ranch. Teach him how to draw a gun fast and how to sit on a horse. Have him move slowly—unless provoked—and say his lines without much expression.

That's all there is to it!

* * *

Of course, it's not that easy. Those are merely some conclusions I have reached after studying all the adult Westerns on TV and averaging the specifications of 15 top gunslingers on the home screens.

There is no such thing as an average Western star, of course. They range from sagebrush veteran Ward Bond, 52, (Wagon Train) to 24-year-old Pat Conway of Tombstone Territory. Most were born west of the Mississippi, though Scott Forbes (Jim Bowie) hails from Capetown, South Africa.

Four of the Western stars were born in Los Angeles, of all places. Only Dale Robertson, the Oklahoma Kid, appears to have an authentic Western background. He stars in Tales of Wells Fargo.

One thing is certain: you gotta be tall. Maybe not as tall as Jim Arness (Gunsmoke) and Clint Walker (Cheyenne), who scrape the barroom ceilings at 6 feet 6. But you can't be less than six feet and expect to cut the mustard.

* * *

These Western heroes have shot down their opposition with deadly accuracy this season, the most notable being Maverick's riddling of both Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan. Why has this been so? I reviewed all the shows in search of an answer—and podner, that's a lot of gunplay.

The fact is that the Western is ideally suited for TV. You have a background that is immediately recognizable—no buildup necessary. You have colorful characters and the basic struggle of good vs. evil. You have wide open spaces, a refreshing change from the cramped sets of live dramas.

The stories are well done. Even the New Yorker magazine has admitted that the caliber of drama on the Westerns is above that of other kinds of shows.

Furthermore, the producers have come up with an attractive and convincing crop of Western stars, most of them entirely new to the public.

What makes them so convincing? A man like Arvo Ojala helps.

Ojala is a ruddy-faced young man from the Yakima Valley of Washington who is deadly with a gun. Not that he ever shoots anyone. But he helps the TV gunslingers look as rapid on the draw as Billy the Kid.

Guns have long been Ojala's hobby and now they are his business. As an actor in Westerns, he recognized that a good many Western heroes were clumsy on the draw. He designed a new kind of holster, metal-lined for quick withdrawal of the gun.

"The barrel and the chamber don't touch the sides of the holster," he explained.

Ojala (the name is Finnish) has supplied holsters and coaching to James Garner, Hugh O'Brian, Wayde Preston, Clint Walker and dozens more.

"First I teach them gun safety," he said. "You can hurt yourself badly, even with blanks. The important thing is to start the draw from a relaxed position with the thumb out to pull back the hammer as the gun is drawn up. I favor the single-action Colt .45."

Fire's Anniversary Marked by Service

WARRENTON, Mo. (AP)—A memorial service at a common grave marked the anniversary of 1957's worst fire disaster.

Five wreaths were placed yesterday on the grave shared by 14 unidentified victims of the Katie Jane nursing home fire, in which 72 persons perished in a few minutes.

The private service was conducted at the Warrenton cemetery by The Rev. Walter H. Schwane, who also was conducting services at the home just before it was engulfed by fire. Eight persons attended.

Custody of Grandson Granted to Ex-Star

★ ★ ★

Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle yesterday denied a petition for custody from the boy's father, Thomas Fairbanks, 32, movie studio technician, commenting: "The grandmother has done a good job. She has used her own funds and should be commended for caring for the child during a difficult period."

★ ★ ★

Fairbanks is the former husband of Mrs. Barrymore's daughter Dolores (Dede) Bedell. Both he and the daughter have since remarried.

Tax Men Pass Sen. Symington; He Bills Himself

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Sen Symington (D-Mo) did some figuring and billed himself for personal taxes.

The senator was puzzled when he failed to receive a 1957 tax bill from the St. Louis County collector. He had paid county taxes for many years.

★ ★ ★

Symington went to the collector's office to inquire why he had been skipped. No one seemed to know.

★ ★ ★

He still didn't get a tax bill, so he decided to bill himself.

He compared his 1955 and 1956 returns and figured there had been a 16 per cent increase. So he added 16 per cent to his 1956 payment and sent a check for $57.07 to the collector's office.

Gets All Tied Up, Can't Collect Check

TORRANCE, Calif. (AP) — Tom Garrett can't draw his $40 unemployment insurance check for last week because he got tied up at home Friday.

He was tied up — for real — by two men who escaped from jail in San Luis Obispo and used his house 24 hours as a hideout. They're still loose.

Garrett, 21, unemployed aircraft worker, went to the State Employment Service office to pick up his check yesterday.

Nothing doing, he was told.

An office spokesman said later that an unemployed worker must be available for work "every day of the normal work week" to be eligible for jobless pay. If Garrett couldn't leave the house, the spokesman said, he was unavailable.

Woman Terrified by Two Deputies Hunting Jackass

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — The hushed tones of a terrified woman ominously greeted dispatcher Phyllis Wagner when she answered the San Mateo County sheriff's telephone today.

★ ★ ★

"Something terrible is going on out here," the shaky voice whispered. "There are two men talking, right outside my house, out here on Edgewood Road."

The unidentified nervous voice described the conversation: "I have a cord around his neck now. . . . Here's a rope, that would be better. I don't know how we're going to get him down to the street. We'll just have to drag him. . . ."

★ ★ ★

The dispatcher suddenly interrupted the recital.

"Oh, don't worry," she said cheerfully. She told the caller that Deputies Wilmar Kruger and Harold Francis had been called out there to round up a stray jackass.

Slate Hearings on Street Work

Commissioners Also to Study Pumping Station on Northeast Side

Public hearings on eight street improvements and consideration of a $76,900 sanitary sewer pumping station on the Northeast Side will occupy city commissioners at 8 o'clock tonight.

★ ★ ★

The new pumping station would be on Arlene street, to be financed partially by $25,000 in special property assessments. The city would pay the rest, including $4,158 for benefited school property.

★ ★ ★

In addition, commissioners are expected to approv the city's share in a $200,000 improvement program at Pontiac Municipal Airport, made possible this year by a $105,000 federal grant.

★ ★ ★

Sales for the 1958 period totaled $3,252,102, compared to $3,313,559 for the '57 period. Earnings after income tax were $140,936 for the 1958 six months and $182,520 for the same time in 1957.

Drop Follows Higher Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned lower in early trading today after a slightly higher start.

Dealings were at a slow pace once the opening transactions were completed.

★ ★ ★

The news background of the market was mixed at best. Shortly after the opening, Republican leaders of Congress announced they had agreed with Eisenhower cabinet officers that it "would not be wise" to cut taxes as a business stimulant at this time.

Steels, motors and rubbers were mostly lower. Rails and oils were irregular and aircrafts were steady.

★ ★ ★

General Motors added a small fraction after reporting earnings of $2.99 a share for 1957 vs. $3.02 in 1956.

Chrysler-Willys Deal Reported

Automotive News Says 1954 Plymouth Dies Traded for Aero Rights

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News said today that Chrysler Corp. has sold its three-year-old Plymouth dies to Willys-Overland of Brazil in exchange for the right to build the Willys Aero car in this country.

★ ★ ★

The paper added: "Chrysler, which has been exploring small car possibilities for over a year, still has not decided whether to use the Willys dies or make an importing deal with a European manufacturer.

A Chrysler spokesman said there was "no basis for the report."

A proposal by Chrysler and Willys Motors Inc. for production of standard size four-door Plymouth cars as well as Willys jeep vehicles in Brazil, has been approved by the Brazilian government. Its terms currently are being reviewed by Chrysler and Willys.

★ ★ ★

The Willys Aero car was produced from 1952 to 1955 with 75 and 90 horsepower engines. It had a 108-inch wheelbase and overall length of 181 inches.

General Sales Managers Try to Boost Purchases

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

★ ★ ★

So far their efforts have not been particularly encouraging. Even bonus contests for increased sales have left much to be desired. The optimists among the sales chiefs, of course, still insist an upturn will come in mid-March.

Even if it does the industry apparently will have large inventories on hand to take care of it without substantially increasing assemblies. Dealer inventories on Feb. 1 stood at 781,446 units, according to Automotive News. A month earlier dealers held 652,208 cars.

The industry has just cut back once again its scheduled output for the January-March quarter. It now hopes to build 1,418,000 cars in that period. Original scheduling called for 1,700,000 assemblies.

In the January - March quarter of last year 1,792,000 cars were built.

Continuing to run contrary to the industry trend American Motors is scheduling approximately 58,000 cars for January - March output this year, compared with 24,700 in the like period last year. Company executives say the schedule is based on encouraging sales prospects.

The continuing production cuts elsewhere in the industry, of course, reflect the uncertainty ahead of the car makers during the year ahead. They also reflect the fact inventories have grown much faster than the car makers expected.

It has been suggested in some quarters that the auto companies will welcome substantial inventories should the forthcoming labor contract negotiations lead to work stoppages. Such a development might stimulate new car demand but the car makers certainly have not planned it that way.

Discuss Water at Lake Oakland

Waterford Board and Subdivision Residents Argue About System

At the Waterford Township Board meeting last night residents of the Lake Oakland Subdivision and board members discussed the operation of the Lake Oakland water system.

★ ★ ★

The pros and cons of whether the township or the residents should own and operate the system were argued.

There are approximately 260 families living in homes in the subdivision, and the board told the group that until all 304 homes there were filled no action could be taken. The township now owns and operates the water system.

In other business, the board approved a special street lighting district for the Cotumabi Bluff Subdivision on the east side of Watkins Lake.

Extending along Watkins Lake road, 12 street lights will be installed at an increased rate of $6.30 a year for the 42 assessed lots. There were no objectors at last night's hearing on the proposal.

Contracts for printing 25,000 voter registration cards were awarded to Pontiac Printing Co., which submitted a low bid of $98 for the job.

Board members tackled several requests for reduced property assessments on land where building permits have been refused because of improper drainage for septic tanks. Township Attorney Paul Mandel was asked to submit more legal information before further action.

Ford Sales Leading in 3rd Best Car Year

DETROIT (AP) — New car sales last year numbered 5,982,342 units, making 1957 the third best year in industry history, automotive news said today.

The year was topped in sales only by 1955 with 7,169,908 deliveries and 1950, with 6-326,438.

Ford division finished 37,329 units ahead of Chevrolet. It was the first time in 22 years that Ford had finished ahead of Chevrolet. The figures were Ford division, 1,493,617; Chevrolet 1,456,288.

The over-all 1957 retail sales were only slightly ahead of 1956, previously third best year, when 5,955,248 new cars were registered.

U.S. factories built 6,115,458 cars in 1957, compared with 5,801,872 in 1956.

County Studies Cutting 14 Jobs

May Eliminate Posts to Save About $35,000 in Salaries This Year

In a move to cut down on Oakland County spending, a supervisors' committee will recommend eliminating 14 employe positions already budgeted for the year.

★ ★ ★

If the Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors concurs with the suggestion, the county will save about $35,000 in salaries this year, according to John C. Austin, vice chairman of the Board of Auditors.

The committee — fearing the county by the end of the year will be in the red by a million dollars because of soaring welfare and other costs, — ordered the Salaries Committee to screen all unfilled positions in the county.

Supervisors had okayed 85 new positions in the current budget. Fifty-two have been filled, 28 are unfilled, and five requests have been dropped altogether.

★ ★ ★

Half of the 28 positions were studied Monday by members of the Salaries Committee. Afterwards they voted to recommend deleting 14 positions.

These fall into four different county departments and represent mostly clerical help, said John Witherup, county personnel director.

Going one step further, Salaries Committee personnel, headed by Novi Township Supervisor Frazer W. Staman, asked auditors to also study present jobs when they become vacant to see if they should be continued.

Escape Fire Near Davisburg

Mom, 5 Children Huddle in Snow as Home Burns

DAVISBURG — A 34-year-old mother, overcome by smoke, huddled under blankets and old clothing with her five small children in the yard of their farmhouse as fire destroyed it yesterday.

The house, about three miles south of Davisburg, caught fire shortly after noon, and, whipped by blasts of icy winds, was a mass of flames when firemen arrived.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. William Cooper managed to get her children, including two infants, out of the smoke-filled frame dwelling before the flames spread. All are reported in good condition today.

With her in the house at the time were her children Margaret, 5; Robert, 4; Charles, 3; Linda, 21 months; and Betty, 2 months. Billy, 7, and Mary Ann, 6, were in school.

The frantic mother hailed down a Holly Area school bus to get help. The driver, Mrs. Lyle Barriger of Davisburg reported the fire from a neighbor's home, about a half-mile away.

★ ★ ★

Assistant Davisburg Fire Chief Marlin Hillman said he found the family huddled in the yard when he arrived. Mrs. Cooper was unconscious, having been overcome by smoke and suffering from shock. She had brought all the children out of the home herself, however.

★ ★ ★

An ambulance was called and she was revived with oxygen.

The mother and children were taken to the home of her father-in-law, James Cooper, a few miles away. Mrs. Cooper's husband had been there making a telephone call.

Firemen said they were called too late to save the structure. Damage was estimated at $3,000. All the furniture and clothing were destroyed.

Davisburg and Andersonville church and civic organizations already are busy collecting clothing and money to help the family.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Buildings and Grounds Committee, accompanied by members of the Board of Auditors, in compliance with the By-laws of this Board, has examined and inspected many of the numerous county buildings occupied by the County Departments.

Conditions found in these buildings have been good or above average in all cases. Some few minor repairs were noted by your Committee and recommendations of repairs made to the Board of Auditors are being carried out by the Maintenance Division. In general, we found all county buildings to be in good state of repair.

Your Committee wishes to report that the home on Franklin boulevard, Pontiac, which was purchased for use of the Juvenile Division of the Private Court, has been remodeled and is ready for use.

The recently completed County Service Garage and Animal Welfare Building are also completed and are now in use.

Your Committee reports that the recommendation included in the 1956 Annual Report for the employment of an engineer in the Maintenance Department has been followed through, and is working very satisfactorily.

We also wish to report that most of the members of the Board had the opportunity to personally inspect County buildings and facilities at the Service Center when a tour was conducted there on June 24, 1957.

Mr. Chairman, Members of this Board:

WHEREAS citizens and residents of Addison Township owning property abutting upon Lakeville Lake in said Township, Oakland County, Michigan did on or about October 21, 1956, file petitions in the Oakland County Drain Commissioner's Office, requesting the establishment of the normal lake level of Lakeville Lake and the construction and maintenance of a dam for such purpose under the provisions of Act No. 278 of 1945; and

WHEREAS the Board of Supervisors and its Committee on Drains, being aware that the constitutionality of Act 278 of 1945 was being contested in the case of Ostlech v. Oakland County Drain Commissioner, and being advised that the Board of Supervisors could, under the provisions of Act 194 of the Public Acts of 1939, act either upon its own initiative or a petition of the Director of the Conservation Commission, said Board of Supervisors did proceed upon its own initiative under the provisions of Act 194 of Public Acts of 1939, as amended, to determine the normal height and level of Lakeville Lake, by adopting Resolutions Resolution No. 3064 and No. 3195, and

WHEREAS proceedings were commenced pursuant to the said statute, being Act 194 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, but prior to the hearing it was discovered that the service of notice failed to comply with the exact requirements of the statute, and was therefore defective, and

WHEREAS it appears advisable to assert specifically that the Board of Supervisors is proceeding under the provisions of Act 194 of the Public Acts of 1939, as amended, on its own judgment and initiative and not upon the petition of the property owners, said petition being considered as being advisory in nature, and

WHEREAS it appears expedient that new proceedings be commenced to establish the normal height and level of Lakeville Lake,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1. That this Board, for the protection of the public health, welfare and safety of the people, the conservation of the natural resources of the state and the preservation and protection of the values of property developed around the lake as a result of the creation of the same, deems it expedient to have determined and established the normal height and level of the waters of said lake;

2. That the Prosecuting Attorney, through the office of the Corporation Counsel, institute in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland by proper petition, a proceeding to establish the level sought;

3. That the Michigan Department of Conservation be forwarded a copy of this resolution as a notice of this proceeding, and be requested to cooperate in the proceeding;

4. That the Drain Commissioner be requested to supply to the Corporation Counsel such engineering information as is necessary to adequately present the proof before the Court;

5. That the proceeding be conducted under the provisions of Act 194 of the Public Acts of 1939 as amended and when, under the provisions of the Act, it is appropriate for this Board to determine what property is benefited and the extent to which it is benefited, the Drain Commissioner report to this Board for such determination and such further instructions as this Board shall deem meet;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if, in the opinion of the Drain Commissioner, it will be necessary to acquire private property as an incident to maintenance of the lake level hereby sought to be established, that the Drain Commissioner make a complete report to this Board through the Drain Committee so that this Board may consider appropriate action.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Drain Committee, I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

IN RE: SUPERVISORS PER DIEM

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

WHEREAS Act No. 270 of the Public Acts of 1957, which becomes effective on September 27, 1957, authorizes the Board of Supervisors by resolution, adopted by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members of the Board, to increase the per diem rate of compensation for members of the Board, and

WHEREAS this matter has been considered by the Salaries and Ways and Means Committees, in conjunction with the Salaries and Budget Recommendations for 1958, and

WHEREAS economic conditions warrant an increase by the Board of the per diem compensation for Supervisors to $15.00 per day,

NOW THEREFORE, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Salaries Committee, and with the concurrence of the Ways and Means Committee, I move that as of January 1, 1958, the per diem compensation of this Board of Supervisors be fixed at $15.00 per day, and request a roll call vote.

practices are a violation of the provisions of the above quoted resolution, we are inclined to recommend that the present procedure be allowed to continue for the year 1958 and further recommend that the Salaries Committee, appointed in 1958, give this matter further study and either recommend that the salaries of the Assistant Prosecuting Attorneys be increased to an amount that would discourage carrying on a private law practice, or approve of such a practice and set a salary at a figure which would reflect the privilege to carry on a limited law practice.

While it may not be a prerogative of your Salaries Committee, we consider it proper to call your attention to the following matter:

Usually during the course of each year, various members of this Board offer resolutions which provide that the employes receive extra time off before or after an established legal holiday with the provision that those employes, who, because of the nature of employment and continuous operation of their respective department, be given equivalent time off at a later date.

Because of the seven day per week and the three shift operation of the institutions and several other departments, the extra time off created, at certain periods, a serious problem in adequately staffing the institution or department for normal operation.

We respectfully recommend that all proposals affecting hours of work for county employes be referred to your Salaries Committee in order that proper provision may be made in respect to all departments of the county.

CONCLUSION

In order to comply with the schedule of dates for tax procedures, we have, previous to this date, furnished the Ways and Means Committee with the amounts shown below, in order that the same could be considered in the preparation of the budget for the year 1958 to be submitted by that committee.

IN RE: OAKLAND COUNTY CHILD GUIDANCE CLINIC
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors
Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the last meeting of the Board, a request was made for a report on the recommendations of your Ways and Means Committee covering the 1958 appropriation for the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic. Your Committee respectfully reports as follows:

Prior to the consideration of the 1958 tentative budget, the Child Guidance Clinic filed a request for a direct appropriation of $53,526.76 from the County for their 1958 budget When the tentative budget was approved by the Board on April 15, 1957, your Ways and Means Committee recommended the appropriation of $32,000.00 for the Child Guidance Clinic.

At the April meeting, Supervisor Wright of Clawson requested the Ways and Means Committee to consider whether the South Oakland Child Guidance Clinic should be a part of the budget in the fall.

During the consideration of the final budget, your Committee obtained the following data concerning the total local budget for the Child Guidance Clinic:

Expenses: Pontiac Office	$44,915.00
Birmingham Office	26,733.51
Proposed South Oakland	26,378.25
Total	$98,026.76

The expected income from sources other than the County and State were listed by the Chilo Guidance Clinic as follows:

Pontiac Area United Fund	$5,500.00
United Foundation	6,500.00
Townships United Fund	2,500.00
Junior League in Birmingham	15,000.00
South Oakland	15,000.00
Total	$44,500.00

The Clinic also receives funds from the State which are appropriated annually by the Legislature. Such funds pay the salaries of the staff members.

On August 8, 1957, members of the committee met with the Board of Directors at the Child Guidance Clinic located at 113 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac, Michigan, to review the work of the Clinic and to discuss the 1958 bedget.

On Auegst 26, 1957 your Committee held a hearing in the County Office Building on the budget for the Clinic at which time Mrs. Lawrence B. Marts, Chairman, Mr. Noel Buckner, Vice Chairman, Mr. Abraham Brickner, Board member and Miss Madeleine Half, Director, appeared to discuss this matter in detail. At that time, your Committee advised the representatives of the Child Guidance Clinic that it might not be possible to increase the appropriation which was included in the tentative budget since there would not be enough funds to cover all of the requests made by the various County departments for 1958. Your Committee was informed that the Board of Directors would do the best it could on whatever appropriation the Committee found it could recommend to the Board of Supervisors.

Your Committee wishes to point out that the appropriation for 1958 is $2,500 higher than the $30,000 included in the 1957 budget. Your Committee also wishes to point out to members of the Board that it was necessary in the preparation of the budget to make substantial cuts in the budgets of many County departments and other agencies which are financed by the County in order to balance the 1958 budget.

This information is presented to assist members of the Board in the consideration of the 1958 budget which has been made a special order of business at 10:00 a.m. today.

Your Ways and Means Committee herewith presents to this Board the budget for the operation of the county for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1958 and ending December 31, 1958 and by way of explanation thereof, states as follows:

The report of the amounts set up by the Salaries Committee, totals of which were supplied to the Ways and Means Committee and which you have received, have been inserted as the recommended amounts in the 1958 budget.

It has been the custom of the Ways and Means Committee in the past, in accordance with good budgetary procedure, to place a conservative enough estimate on receipts so that in no case would the estimate be more than was actually received.

$50,000.00 has been placed in the budget which is to be used by the Road Commission for snow removal and emergency use on county local roads.

Amounts have been placed in the budget to cover Blue Cross-Blue Shield Hospital and Surgical Plan and to increase the coverage under present "Paid-Up Life Insurance Plan," as recommended by the Salaries Committee.

The amounts placed after the respective departments in the budget have been arrived at by reference to the budget recommendations of the Board of Auditors, Department Heads and Salaries Committee and consideration has been given to past experience as well as requirements of increase in service during the fiscal year the budget covers.

As a part of the overall program to better efficiency in the use of county-owned vehicles and to more equitably reimburse county employes for the use of privately-owned automobiles in county business, we recommend the adoption and have provided for the establishment of a sliding mileage scale for use of privately-owned cars in county business as follows: First 400 miles per month—10 cents per mile, the next 600 miles—07 cents per mile; over 1,000 miles—05 cents per mile.

We again reiterate the recommendations made in the past years concerning the following policies:

We recommend the continuance of the policy to have the Board of Auditors submit quarterly reports to all members of the Board of Supervisors and each Department Head, as outlined in previous years.

We recommend that the salaries provided for be in lieu of all fees, which fees in any case, are to be credited to the General Fund.

Mr. Chairman, I move the adoption of the above report

IN RE: AMENDMENTS TO 1958 BUDGET
Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Since the submission of the 1958 budget on September 16, 1957, your Ways and Means Committee has reviewed the budget recommendations further and, at a meeting of the Committee on September 20, 1957, it was voted to offer the following amendments to the budget:

(1) Delete appropriation of $2,500.00 for Michigan Institute of Local Government, which is included in Supervisors Department, making a new total for this Department in the amount of $82,800.00 instead of $85,300.00.

(2) Delete appropriation of $50,000.00 for County Roads shown under the column headed "Special Funds."

(3) Add the sum of $52,500.00 to the Contingent Fund which makes a new total in this fund of $97,277.68.

The reason for Amendment (1) is that your Committee felt that the work of the Michigan State Association of Supervisors adequately represents the County on the state level, and that a duplication of cost results from the appropriation to the Michigan Institute of Local Government. It is recommended that this appropriation be placed in the Contingent Fund.

Amendment (2) is proposed in view of a legal opinion from the Corporation Counsel which rules that the County Road Commission specify and itemize the roads upon which moneys are to be expended. Since this has not been complied with, your Committee recommends that the appropriation also be deleted and placed in the Contingent Fund.

The above amendments will not change the total budget figures and will provide slightly less than 1 per cent of the total budget for contingencies, which may arise next year, to be expended only with the approval of the Board.

WHEREFORE, Mr Chairman, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, I move the adoption of the foregoing amendments to the 1958 budget.

IN RE: JUVENILE FACILITIES
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

In order to inform members of the Board of the progress on the study being made by your Ways and Means Committee relative to plans to relieve crowded conditions at the Children's Home as reported by Judge Moore to the Board on July 23, 1957, your Committee at this time reports as follows:

On August 12, 1957, by the adoption of Miscellaneous Resolution No 3264, the sum of $1,000.00 was appropriated for the preparation of plans for one cottage type unit to be constructed at the Service Center under the supervision of the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

The home at 52 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac, which was purchased and equipped by the county for children has been remodeled and is ready for use. These facilities will accommodate twenty children.

On September 5, 1957, your Committee held a joint meeting with Sub-Committees of the Buildings and Grounds and Juvenile Affairs Committees and Judge Moore to consider the possible use of other County facilities for housing and classroom purposes, the details of Judge Moore's recommendations to this Board, the construction and location of cottages and other facilities at the Service Center, and alternate means of financing same.

On September 20, 1957, your Committee met with Dr. L. L. Friedland, consultant, to review his previous recommendations as to space requirements for the Children's Home and to bring up to date the estimates of cost of such facilities and consider his recommendations for other County facilities to relieve the crowded conditions of the Children's Home.

The Committee has authorized a Sub-Commitee consisting of Mr. Smith and Mr. Thatcher to study all of the various possibilities further and consult with Board Chairman Hamlin prior to the submission of a final report and recommendations.

Your Committee therefore expects to have definite recommendations to make on this subject in the near future and will report further at a later meeting of the Board.

Mr. Chairman, I move that the foregoing be made a part of the minutes of this meeting.

September 27, 1957

Board of Supervisors
Oakland County, Michigan
Ladies and Gentlemen:

I want to take this opportunity of clarifying certain matters. The appointment of appraisers in estates in Probate Court is a statutory duty of the Probate Judge. Like most counties, the nomination of such appraisers is generally made by the beneficiaries or their fiduciaries or attorneys, and such nominee is appointed as a rule unless, after conference with the Court, it does not seem a wise appointment.

This policy has been in operation in Oakland County for all of the years of my service and is in general operation throughout the State in all of the Probate Courts. In many small estates, appraisers are obtained who will serve without compensation. In other estates, their compensation is nominal, but in a very few estates the compensation is more substantial because of the large amount of work involved.

The appointment of appraisers is not only a requirement of law, but also a necessity in the administration of any estates where there is to be a division of property between beneficiaries, sale of assets, or the determination of Michigan or Federal tax based on valuation of property.

The qualifications of good appraisers are integrity and ability. For these many years, the heirs of estates have asked local assessing officers or real estate brokers, some of whom have been members of the Board of Supervisors, to serve as appraisers. They bear good repute as public officials. They are well qualified because they are assessing officers and know property values. The appointment of most of those supervisors has been requested by the beneficiaries of the estates.

Attached is a tabulation showing the 1957 appointments. Fourteen Supervisor-Assessors were nominated by estate heirs and appointed. Nine were appointed without recommendation. Thus, twenty-three appointments were made out of a total of four hundred sixty-eight appointments, or this grand total, nearly 5 per cent of all appointments were selected and nominated by the estate heirs. Only 4 per cent of the grand total were supervisor-assessors. The 1956 figures are substantially similar.

I feel there is nothing incompatible with an assessor-supervisor rendering this service to the Probate estates. I am quite proud of the caliber of these men and women and firmly believe the exceptional results of their public service. Out of hundreds of appointments which have been made over the years, only two contests have ever arisen over the results of their appraisal work. When a man is elected or appointed to a public office, he has borne the scrutiny of electors, and it has been my experience that public officials are basically honest and trustworthy. This has been especially true here in Oakland County.

No member of the Board of Supervisors has been under any obligation to me, nor have I ever been under obligation to them. In my years as a public official, I have never received any financial assistance from any person whatsoever. I have been independent and will continue to be independent because of this avowed policy. I have attempted to cooperate with the officials of this county because I feel that we should all understand the various aspects of county problems and attempt to solve them by our joint efforts.

This leads me to the point of the future service of appraising officers who are members of the Board of Supervisors in doing appraisal work for the Probate Court. If the Board of Supervisors prefer not to have any of this work done by its assessor-supervisor members, I will be very pleased to follow such suggestion.

Please advise your position in this matter.

Most respectfully submitted,

IN RE: LOCAL TAXES COMMITTEE REPORT

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Committee on Local Taxes has examined reports from the various townships and cities having taxes to be spread upon the County tax roll, and has checked these reports with the pertinent law (Sec. 37 General Property Tax Law), has caused corrections to be made where necessary and now certifies that such reports are correct and in order.

Your Committee has tabulated the total amount of taxes to be spread on the tax rolls, which tabulation is attached hereto and made a part hereof.

Your Committee has prepared tax warrants showing the amounts authorized to be spread, which warrants are submitted herewith, and which are the basis for the tabulation above mentioned, and it is recommended that your Honorable Body authorize the Clerk to sign these warrants.

Current Drain-at-large taxes are a municipal (township and city) charge and in townships where no millage was allocated, they must be paid from contingent (general) funds. If millage was allocated and inclusion of drain-at-large items would cause the levy to exceed the allocated rate, the spread must stay within its allocated rate, and the excess be paid from the contingent (general) fund.

Your Committee offers the following resolution:

1. BE IT RESOLVED that this Board adopt this report of the Committee on Local Taxes with the recommendations therein contained as a part of the permanent records of this Board:

2. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Clerk be authorized and directed to sign the several tax warrants on which the attached tabulation was based, thereby authorizing and directing the various assessing officer, within the 15 mill limitation, to levy the amounts set forth therein for 1957.

Mr. Chairman on behalf of the Committee whose signatures appear below,

I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution.

pertinent of Public Instruction.

The foregoing are a few of the County's activities in procuring needed legislation.

Now, let's look for a moment at the changes which have been made in County government, all of which were brought about within the existing legislation.

24. Procured at the Service Center sufficient lands to provide for expansion of County activities for the next 100 years.

25. Provided a central heating system and laundry at the Service Center which has resulted in the savings of many thousands of dollars.

26. Cooperated fully with Wayne, Monroe, Washtenaw, Macomb and St. Clair Counties in a joint effort to solve the common problems besetting all of the Counties. The fine understanding between the Counties has been very fruitful in helping procure passage of needed legislation.

27. Complete modernization of the County's accounting procedures to such a standard that the methods are now copied and used by several other County governments.

28. Establishment of a modern Personnel Division, headed by a Director who is a graduate of Michigan State University and who received extensive training and experience with the Wayne County Civil Service Commission.

29. Creation of a modern Purchasing Division which is headed by a Director who has a wealth of experience in both municipal and industrial purchasing and which is second to none.

30. Establishment of a Collection Division which, with the splendid cooperation of our Probate Judge and the State Department of Revenue, has increased the collection of past due and current accounts by many thousands of dollars.

31. Creation of a Records Retention Program which will release valuable office space by the destruction of obsolete records and by moving other records to cheap storage space. This also provides for the release of valuable filing equipment which can be used by other departments or sold. In the few months this Department has been in operation, 33 tons of old records have been mutilated and sold for junk.

32. Established a County Police Teletype Network which now is connected with the networks of the City of Detroit, Counties of Wayne, Washtenaw, Macomb, Genesee and other state networks.

33. Purchased and have in operation, a Police Radio Station which serves the Sheriff's Department and many County municipalities.

34. Established a Justice Court Probation Department which has assisted in keeping many first-time offenders at their jobs and supporting their families instead of serving time in jail.

35. Establishment of a "central Files" system where a record is kept of all persons convicted of a crime which is proving very helpful to the various courts in catching up with "repeaters."

36. Development of a new system of records for the various courts which has reduced paperwork to a minimum.

37. Conducted a continual audit of the various Justice Courts. The system of forms installed have been used as models by the Justices throughout the state.

38. Creation of a Motor Pool of all county-owned motor vehicles.

39. Created a Civil Defense Department.

40. Waged a steady war against rabies which has brought Oakland County from the highest rabies incidence in the state for several years to "Not a single case since the 17th of July 1954."

41. In the past 10 years, built approximately 2½ million dollars worth of necessary buildings without an increase in millage above the 15 mills.

42. Now one more fact. Art. VIII, Sec. 8 of the Constitution authorizes a county to incur indebtedness up to 3 per cent of its valuation. This would permit Oakland County to borrow up to 53 million dollars. But we do not have an outstanding bond, we don't owe a dime.

It would be impossible to enumerate all of the advancements made during the past few years and the above mentioned constitutes a few which come to mind.

It is true that back in 1932, the Pontiac Daily Press widely publicized a comprehensive report by Professor Thomas H. Reed of the University of Michigan. This report was an independent survey of township and county government and was privately financed.

Professor Reed made two general recommendations, one of which required an amendment to the State Constitution which has been impracticable of accomplishment. The other was for legislative changes, many of which have been made, as above pointed out.

Recognizing the need for additional guidance in their never ending efforts to improve Oakland County government, the Board of Supervisors in 1948 appropriated $10,000 for a report which was prepared by the Public Administration Service of Chicago. The authors of the P. A. S. report were familiar with the earlier Reed report and concurred with some of the recommendations therein.

I think I can say without fear of contradiction that the salient features of these reports have been adopted and are the basis for the extent that the recommendations can be placed in operation within the provisions of the Constitution.

These additional facts should be brought to the attention of this Board: The per capita tax in Wayne County is $26.97, in Macomb County it is $26.63, in Oakland County it is $24.74. These figures are verified by the report of the Auditor General of Michigan County Government for 1955.

Oakland County cannot be compared with Iosco County. The nearest parallel we can get is Wayne and Macomb and, of the three, Oakland County's per capita cost is lowest.

I believe it would be appropriate in closing my remarks to call to your attention, the following statement in the Public Administration Service Survey made in 1949:

"County government has worked as well as it has in spite of, rather than because of, its organizational structure. Under these circumstances, even moderately successful operation becomes a tribute to county administrative officials, who by personal effort and cooperation, have overcome to some degree the obstacles inherent in the existing organizational pattern, and to those legislative and administrative officials who by long service have achieved such intimate knowledge of county affairs that they seem able to make some progress even without the advantage of a clear and controllable pattern."

DELOS HAMLIN

Mr. Carey read a resolution (Misc. No. 3305) which he proposed to offer to the Board when the Committee arose.

Mr. Waters commented on the fine report Mr. Hamlin had given and suggested that there be added to it, the effort of the Board of Supervisors to assist the Veterans by an amendment to the Veterans Tax Exemption Law.

Mr. Taylor discussed the Department of Public Works, committee appointments made by the Chairman and office hours of the Probate Judge.

Mr. Cummings read a resolution (Misc. No. 3306) relative to personnel of the Board of Public Works, which he advised he would offer when the Committee of the Whole arose.

Moved by Cummings supported by Taylor the resolution be adopted.

A sufficient majority having voted therefor, the motion carried.

Mr. D. Davis discussed briefly a more elaborate agenda for the meetings.

Mr. Hudson offered the following:

IN RE: NOTICES OF COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Committee on Bylaws had referred to it at the last meeting on September 16, 1957, the resolution offered by Mr. Stephenson, Supervisor of Farmington Township. To refresh your recollection, that resolution read as follows:

WHEREAS having witnessed and being forced to vote on several very important motions presented by the various committee chairmen of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, although grossly unprepared, due to lack of notice and knowledge, I offer the following resolution:

"WHEREFORE due to the fact that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors is operated by a number of "All Powerful Committees" who make decisions of major importance without first giving notice to all members of the Board and other known interested or affected parties, and therefore, not giving them the opportunity of expressing their views on the proposed issues in Committee.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Secretary of all Committees notify members of the Board of Supervisors and all known interested or affected parties, by sending them a copy of the agenda of each meeting."

You will notice from the resolving clause in the resolution that Mr. Stephenson wanted "all members of the Board of Supervisors and all known, interested and affected parties" supplied with an agenda of each Committee meeting.

Considerable discussion was had by the Bylaws Committee on the advisability of notifying all of the Supervisors of each meeting and if that is practical would it be practicable to supply them with the agenda of each Committee meeting.

We also discussed "all interested or affected parties" and the results of such a commitment. For instance if the matter involved perhaps fringe benefits for County employes, all 1100 employes of the County would be "interested." If it were, for instance, the Salaries Committee, every employe of the County would be affected.

After a thorough discussion of the matter, it was voted by the Committee to recommend to this Board that the following practices be put into effect immediately to determine by actual experience whether or not it is practicable to adopt the same permanently:

1. Notify all supervisors by mail, post copy on bulletin board on first floor of County Office Building and make available to all representatives of the press who request the information, of the time and place of meeting of all Committees with the agenda, as far as known, included;

2. That it be the policy of this Board, barring emergencies, to hold no Committee meetings on less than four days notice, Saturday, Sunday and holidays not to be counted;

3. To continue to have all Committee meetings open to the public.

After the foregoing suggestions have been tried for a reasonable period and are found to be desirable as a matter of permanent policy, your Committee will prepare amendments to the Bylaws to incorporate in the Bylaws the foregoing suggestions, or such of them as this Board wishes.

Mr. Chairman, I move that the above be adopted as the policy of this Board.

BY-LAWS COMMITTEE
WILLIAM C. HUDSON,
CHAIRMAN
FRANK F. WEBBER,
VIRGIL C. KNOWLES

Moved by Hudson supported by Phillips the foregoing be adopted.

Discussion followed relative to committee meetings.

Mr. Hamlin suggested that a letter be mailed each week stating what committees had met and what action had been taken.

Moved by Wright supported by Webber an amendment be added to attempt to summarize or report the highlights of committee meetings, these reports to be mailed to the Supervisors, the details of which are to be worked out by the Committee Clerk.

Moved by MacDonald supported by Semann the vote be taken by ballot.

Moved by Boyer supported by Ewart that the previous question be called.

The Chairman announced the previous quesion had been demanded and asked for a show of hands to indicate the desires of the Committee. There not being a sufficient number of hands up, he stated that the question before the body was on Mr. MacDonald's motion to vote by ballot.

The Chairman called for ayes and nays and the motion lost.

The Chairman then announced the question was on the amendment offered by Mr. Wright. After further discussion, the Chairman called for ayes and nays on the amendment and it carried.

Mr. Kelley then moved that the floor be cleared. Motion seconded by Mr. Dickens. Before action could be taken on the motion, it was moved by Mrs. Phillips and supported by Mr. Brewer that the Committee of the Whole arise. The question being undebatable, the Chairman put the question and it carried. Whereupon, Chairman Hamlin again resumed the Chair and the regular meeting continued.

Continuation of Regular Meeting

Mr. Thatcher, who had presided over the Committee of the Whole advised the Chairman the body had been in Committee of the Whole and had transacted no business other than what was to be presented to the Board when the committee arose.

Mr. Levinson suggested that when the Clerk of Committees mails the report of all committee meetings that he be authorized to discontinue sending individual notices of committee meetings.

Moved by Goodspeed supported by D. Davis that the agenda for each meeting include a brief statement on proposed business that is to come before the Board.

IN RE: COUNTY GOVERNMENT
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

In light of what has been said in this meeting, it must not appear that this Board, comprised as it is of men and women interested in the welfare of our County is unwilling to exert every effort to explore ways and means to bring about constitutional or statutory modifications which would permit improvement in county government.

THEREFORE I move that the Chairman of this Board be authorized to appoint a continuing committee consisting of nine members as follows: 4 Supervisors, Corporation Counsel, a member of the Board of Auditors and 3 persons not connected in any way with government operation, the committee to be authorized to obtain the services of experts from the several universities in our state. Members of the committee to serve without pay except for mileage to and from meetings. Progress reports to be made to this Board from time to time should be sent to each member of the Board as well as the Press, prior to Board meetings.

JOHN L. CAREY
SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP

Moved by Carey supported by Phillips the resolution be adopted. Discussion followed.

IN RE: BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Inasmuch as the method of selection and composition of the Board of Public Works has been raised by certain members of the Board, it is to our best interest to review this matter.

It may have appeared to some that action was taken rather rapidly in the creation of this Board. However, the creation and formation of such a Board had been under consideration for over a year and the Legislative Committee of the Board of Supervisors reported on numerous occasions to the full Board on the progress of the Legislation while it was under consideration. These reports, of course, followed upon a report of the Special Study Committee which referred the matter to the Legislative Committee.

In nearing the period between its passage in the Legislature and its effective date of June 4, 1957, careful consideration was given to its eventual formation.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors recommended to the Board that the authority for the appointment of such a Board be granted the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors with approval of the full Board. Needless to say, the Chairman of the Board was aware of the action that the Ways and Means Committee intended to recommend to this Board and you should be reminded that the resolution from the Ways and Means Committee authorizing the Chairman to appoint such Board with the approval of the Board of Supervisors contained provision that the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors appoint himself as a member of the Board.

In making the balance of the selections, the Chairman should be complimented on his selection. While there may have been other members of the Board as well qualified to serve in this capacity, in my opinion there were none better qualified. Mr. Barry, the Drain Commissioner, was made a member of the Board of Public Works under the provisions of the Act which required that where a Drain Commissioner existed, that said Drain Commissioner must be a member of the Board of Public Works during his term of office. Inasmuch as there had to be full and complete cooperation between the Department of Public Works and the Drain office, in order to gain the benefits sought by the creation of the department, what better person was qualified to serve as a member of that Board than Chairman of the Drain Committee of the Board of Supervisors? Therefore, the appointment of Mr. John G. Semann, who is Chairman of the Drain Committee, to a position on the Board of Public Works was warranted and desirable. Further, it was contemplated that in the future, there would be many matters in which the Department of Public Works and the Road Commission would be jointly concerned, and therefore the Chairman of the Road and Bridges Committee of the Board of Supervisors, Mr. Don R. MacDonald, was made a member of the Board of Public Works. In addition to Mr. Hilland Thatcher's position as Vice Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, he also a Township Supervisor and therefore represents townships on the Board of Public Works and I am sure that there is no question in the minds of township Supervisors that Mr. Thatcher represents their interests in any capacity that he serves and for these reasons, if no other, the statement is made that the Chairman should be complimented on his selections.

On behalf of Mr. Hamlin serving on the Board of Public Works, I would like to point out that, in addition to his position as Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, that during his sixteen years of service on this Board, he has truly demonstrated his ability and desire to look at all phases of County operations on a broad base.

Therefore, I suggest to you that the interests of the citizens of Oakland County and the members of this Board are adequately and conscientiously served by the aforementioned persons and there should be no question but what these men have the capacity and the ability to lead the newly created department to the solution of the many sewer and water problems that exist in Oakland County and will exist, that heretofore have met with no solution.

Now therefore, Mr. Chairman, I move that this Board of Supervisors go on record with unanimous roll call attached, as reaffirming and expressing their confidence in the members appointed to the Board of Public Works

WHEREAS the fact as presented to this Board is that the appointments of members of this Board as appraisers in estates before the Probate Court of this County is justified by their knowledge of property values, and

WHEREAS it appears from a count of appointments that members of this Board constitute a negligible number of the appraisers appointed,

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors express its continuing confidence in the Judge of Probate of Oakland County.

IN RE: JURY COMMISSION

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

A communication dated January 2, 1957 from the Oakland County Bar Association, requesting that the question of adopting the provisions of Act 314 of the Public Acts of 1915 to provide for a Jury Comission in Oakland County, be submitted to the electors, was referred by the Chairman to the Miscellaneous Committee of this Board.

At the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors on January 17, 1957, a report was submitted to the Board by the Miscellaneous Committee which recommended that the question of a Jury Commission be placed before the voters at the Biennial Spring Election to be held on April 1, 1957.

After consideration, the recommendation of the Miscellaneous Committee contained in Miscellaneous Resolution No. 3185, was adopted by the Board.

At a meeting of the Board on March 8, 1957, a motion was made and passed to reconsider the vote by which Miscellaneous Resolution No. 3185 was adopted. The matter of providing for a Jury Commission was then referred to the Legislative Committee.

The basic reasons for reconsidering this matter was the fact that limited time was spent by the Board on the matter and when careful consideration was given to the matter it was recognized that Act 314 adopted in 1915 could perhaps not meet the needs and methods of 1957 and further study, with this thought in mind, should be made by the Legislative Committee.

The Legislative Committee was not able to fully consider this matter until after the 1957 Session of the State Legislature, but since that time, a complete file on the Wayne County System and other methods of jury selection have been obtained and will be completely reviewed so that any recommended changes in the State Laws may be presented to the 1958 Session of the Legislature.

This committee feels that the Board of Supervisors was wise in providing ample opportunity to find the most satisfactory solution to the matter of jury selection rather than hurriedly submitting such a question to the voters.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the members of the Legislative Committee whose names appear below, I move that this report be received and placed on file.

IN RE: FARMINGTON SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is my intention to submit to you for your consideration, a resolution approving an agreement between the Board of Public Works of Oakland County, the Townships of Farmington, West Bloomfield and Southfield and the City of Keego Harbor, regarding the Farmington Sewage Disposal System.

However, prior to submitting the resolution, there are several facts I would like to point out to you.

The approval of this agreement does not preclude further consideration of the project by the Board of Supervisors. The Board of Public Works is required, prior to construction, to submit to your Honorable Body, plans and specifications and estimate of costs, together with an ordinance or resolution providing for the issuance of bonds.

At this time, I would like to call on the Director of Public Works to explain changes made in the agreement since the draft of October 15, 1957 and to answer any questions regarding the agreement or the project.

Inasmuch as the members of the Board of Supervisors have received, through the mail, a copy of the proposed agreement, except for minor changes, you may desire to waive the reading of the full agreement.

Before calling on the Director of Public Works, if it is your desire to waive the reading of the agreement, a motion to do so should be made at this time.

HILAND M. THATCHER

TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR

Moved by Semann supported by Cummings reading of the agreement be waived.

HILAND M. THATCHER
WEST BLOOMFIELD
TOWNSHIP SUPERVISOR

FARMINGTON SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made this — day of ——, 1957, by and between the COUNTY OF OAKLAND, a Michigan County Corporation (hereinafter called the "County"); the TOWNSHIP OF FARMINGTON, a Michigan Township Corporation in Oakland County; the TOWNSHIP OF WEST BLOOMFIELD, a Michigan Township Corporation in Oakland County; the TOWNSHIP OF SOUTHFIELD, a Michigan Township Corporation in Oakland County; and the CITY OF KEEGO HARBOR, a Michigan City Corporation in Oakland County,

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS the said townships and city (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "municipalities") are desirous of having the County acquire, finance and operate a sewage disposal system in said municipalities (hereinafter referred to as the "County system") under the provisions of Act, No. 185 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1957, for the purpose of collecting and disposing of sewage originating within the district hereinafter designated, and

WHEREAS the County of Oakland pursuant to the terms of said act, has established a Department of Public Works for the administration of the powers conferred upon the County by said act, which department is under the general control of the County Board of Supervisors and under the immediate control of a Board of Public Works (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "Board"), said

WHEREAS the said act provides that the County may issue bonds to finance the acquisition of such a sewage disposal system, in anticipation of the collection by the County of amounts to become due under a contract between the County and the municipalities, whereby each municipality agrees to pay a certain sum towards the cost of the acquisition of the system, and

WHEREAS in order to issue such bonds it is necessary that the County and the said municipalities enter into such an agreement, and

WHEREAS it is also necessary for the County and said municipalities to contract relative to the operation and maintenance of said sewage disposal system,

THEREFORE IT IS HEREBY AGREED BY AND BETWEEN THE PARTIES HERETO, as follows:

1. The County shall proceed to obtain plans and specifications for, and an estimate of the cost of, a sewage disposal system which will be adequate to transport and treat sewage originating in the area to be served thereby, which area is shown on the map hereto attached marked "Exhibit A" and made a part hereof. The said sewage disposal system shall consist of intercepting sewers located as shown on said Exhibit A and in addition thereto either a sewage treatment plant to be operated by the County or flowage rights in the Detroit sewerage system for a period of not less than 50 years, with a contract for sewage disposal by the City of Detroit for a period of not less than 40 years from the date hereof but with the option on the part of the County to extend the same for a further period of 10 years. After the receipt of said plans and specifications and estimate of cost, the Board shall submit the same to the County Board of Supervisors, together with an ordinance or resolution approved by said Board, providing for the issuance of bonds by the County as hereinafter provided, in an aggregate principal sum not exceeding the amount of the estimated cost. If the establishment of said County system shall be approved by the Board of Supervisors, and if such bond ordinance or resolution shall be adopted by said Board of Supervisors, then the Board of Public Works shall proceed to secure bids for the construction of the project and to secure bids for the purchase of the bonds. If the construction bids are within the authorized amount of bonds, then the Board of Public Works shall proceed to award the construction contracts and to issue the bonds and shall cause the project to be constructed within a reasonable time thereafter.

2. It is understood that the County system is to serve the municipalities and not the individual property owners, unless by special agreement between the Board and the municipality in which the property is located. The responsibility of collecting sewage and delivering the same to the County Intercepter that of the several municipalities which shall cause to be constructed and maintained adequate facilities for such collection and delivery. The County shall not be obligated by this agreement to serve any area outside that shown on Exhibit A or to construct any sewers other than the intercepting sewers designated thereon. The maximum population which the County shall be required to serve within each municipality shall be limited to the following:

Township of Farmington	101,655 persons
Township of West Bloomfield	45,839 persons
Township of Southfield	3,738 persons
City of Keego Harbor	4,385 persons

The Board of Public Works shall establish general regulations controlling the discharge of storm water into the County system. Each of the municipalities expressly agrees that except as permitted by such regulations, no storm water will be permitted to flow into the County system and that it will take all necessary action to prevent the same.

4. Each of said municipalities shall pay to the County, to cover the capital cost of the County system, a sum equal to that produced by applying the following percentages to such capital cost, to-wit:

Farmington Township	65.3238%
West Bloomfield Township	29.4563%
Southfield Township	2.4021%
City of Keego Harbor	2.8178%
Total	100.0000%

The term "capital cost" as above used, shall include:

(a) The cost of any lands or rights therein, which are necessary for the system.

(b) The cost of physical structures and equipment.

(c) Architectural, engineering, financial and legal fees.

(d) Capitalized interest on bonds for a period not exceeding one and one-half (1½) years.

(e) Any discount at which bonds are to be offered.

(f) Administrative costs in connection with the project and with the sale of bonds therefor.

(g) The cost of any flowage rights thru the Detroit sewer system or thru any other sewer or drainage system.

(h) Any other necessary costs directly connected with the said project and the financing thereof.

5. The amount to be paid by each municipality shall be divided into 30 annual installments, numbered in direct order of their maturities. The aggregate amount of each installment for all municipalities shall be determined by the Board prior to the time it shall submit to the Board of Supervisors a bond resolution or ordinance, which aggregate amount shall be divided between the municipalities on the basis of the percentages specified in the foregoing paragraph. Said installments shall be due in consecutive numerical order on the first day of April in each year, beginning with the year 1960, and all amounts thereof from time to time unpaid, shall bear interest from the date of the issuance of the bonds by the County, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum until paid, payable on April 1, 1959 and on the first day of April in each year thereafter: Provided that if the bond issue shall include any amount for capitalized interest, then the unpaid installments shall not bear interest during the period in which the capitalized interest will pay the interest on the bonds. If the amount of interest collected by the County in any year shall exceed the amount of interest which the County is required to pay upon its said bonds prior to the next installment due date, then any excess in the amount so paid shall be credited pro rata to the municipalities in accordance with the several amounts of interest paid by them in such year, which credit shall be applied on the next interest becoming due. If any municipality shall fail to pay any installment of interest when the same becomes due, then the amount thereof shall be subject to a penalty, in addition to interest, of ½ of 1 per cent for each month or fraction thereof that the same remains unpaid after the due date. Any municipality shall have the right to prepay any one or more of its annual installments in inverse numerical order, in advance of the due date thereof: Provided, that there shall be paid in addition thereto interest on the prepaid installments to the first subsequent date upon which the County may redeem an equal amount of bonds and also any premium required to be paid by the County upon such redemption.

6. The percentages mentioned in paragraph 4 above shall be computed upon the estimated cost until the actual cost has been determined. If the actual cost shall be less than the estimated cost, then any surplus from the sale of bonds therefor shall be used to purchase such bonds on the open market or to redeem such bonds as provided therein, and in such event the contract obligation of each municipality shall be reduced by its percentage of the amount of bonds so purchased or redeemed. Any bonds so purchased or redeemed shall be canceled. The estimated cost above referred to shall be that adopted by the Board of Public Works. If the actual cost shall be greater than the estimated cost, then the additional amount shall be allocated among the municipalities in accordance with the percentages set forth in paragraph 4 hereof, and the several then remaining installments for each municipality shall be increased proportionately according to the original amounts of such installments.

7. Each municipality does hereby pledge its full faith and credit for the prompt payment of the aforesaid obligations and shall each year levy a tax in an amount which taking into consideration estimated delinquencies in tax collections, will be sufficient for the prompt payment of any amount falling due before the time of the following tax collection, unless at the time of making such annual levy there shall be cash on hand (as provided for in paragraph 2, Section 12, of Act, No. 185, Public Acts of 1957) earmarked for the payment of the current obligations for which the tax levy is to be made, then the annual levy may be reduced by that amount. Funds for which credit may be so taken, may be raised in the manner provided in said paragraph (2), Section 12 of said Act No. 185, Public Acts of 1957 as now existing or hereafter amended.

8. The County shall issue its negotiable bonds to defray the cost of acquiring said County system which bonds shall be secured primarily by the full faith and credit pledges of the several municipalities under this Agreement, and secondarily by the full faith and credit of Oakland County, if authorized by three-fifths (3-5ths) vote of the members elect of the Board of Supervisors, as provided for in paragraph 2, Section 11 of said Act 185, Public Acts of 1957. Said bonds shall be issued pursuant to the provisions of said Act and the general statutes of the state where not in conflict with said Act.

9. Upon completion of said County system, the County, subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall operate the said system and shall accept for transportation and disposal the sewage from the area to be served. Each municipality shall deliver to the County system all sanitary sewage originating in the area within its limits which is to be served by said system, provided that the foregoing shall not apply to sanitary sewage from scattered properties where a public sewer is not available. In addition to the payment of the amounts required under paragraphs 4 thru 7 above, each municipality shall pay to the County, charges for sewage disposal services hereinafter provided, which charges are herein referred to as "service charges." Such charges shall be sufficient to provide:

(a) For all costs of operating and maintaining the County system.

(b) For the establishment and maintenance of a Replacement Fund in such amount as shall be fixed by the Board, for the replacement of the physical assets of said system.

(c) For setting aside such sum as the Board may determine from time to time to be necessary to provide a fund with which to improve, enlarge or extend said system.

(d) For any other proper costs and expenses relating to said system.

10. Service charges by the County for sewage disposal shall be made to each municipality upon the basis of the amount of water consumed therein as measured by a master water meter or meters, if available, or where not, then as measured by individual home or business meters, and where no such meter readings are available, then said service charges shall be based upon the number of "units" served. The word "unit" herein used, shall mean that property from which there emanates that quantity of sanitary sewage ordinarily arising from the occupancy of a residence building by a single family of ordinary size. The number of units to be assigned to any particular parcel of property used for commercial, industrial or multiple residence purposes shall be determined by the Board and its decision shall be final, provided, if the circumstances justify, may assign more than one unit to a single family dwelling. The Board shall fix a uniform service charge for each unit. The County may elect to use the readings from sewage flowage meters instead of water meters as a basis for making its service charges: Provided that it shall not be feasible to install such a flowage meter or meters so as to measure the total sewage from any municipality, then the County charges for sewage disposal services to any part or parts not so measured, may be based upon the water meter readings if available, and if not, then upon the number of units served.

11. If the County shall dispose of storm water from any municipality, then it shall be entitled to reimbursement from the municipality for the cost thereof.

12. The charges specified in paragraphs 9 thru 11 above shall be payable monthly or quarterly as shall be determined by the Board. If any municipality does not pay its service charge on the date when the same becomes due, then there shall be added to such charge a penalty of one (1) per cent for each month or fraction thereof for which the same remains unpaid. The Board shall have the right to pursue any method permitted by law for the collection of any sum due under this agreement from any municipality, the payment of service charges specified in paragraphs 9 thru 11 above shall be the general obligation of the municipality for which it pledges its full faith and credit.

13. It is the intention hereof that each municipality shall collect service charges from its individual users sufficient to pay the service charges to be made by the Board to such municipality, but this shall not prevent any municipality from fixing service charges sufficient to produce additional moneys for any lawful purpose.

14. No municipality, under this contract, shall construct or permit the construction of any sanitary sewer in the area to be served by the County system, which does not connect to the County's system, and no municipality shall construct or permit the construction of any sewage treatment facility within such area, unless such construction has been previously approved by the Board. The Board shall have the right to impose such terms and conditions upon the granting of such approval as it shall deem proper. It shall be the obligation of each municipality to provide the necessary sewers to transport sewage to the County system. No connection shall be made to the County system without first securing a permit from the Department of Public Works.

15. The Board shall have the right to deny the use of the County sewage disposal facilities to any municipality which shall be delinquent for a period of ninety (90) days in the payment of the charges due from it to the County, while such delinquency continues. The foregoing may be accomplished by blocking off the drains and sewers discharging, directly or indirectly, sewage into the County sysem or by any other lawful means.

16. Each municipality shall be responsible for the character of the sewage originating therein and shall comply with the Board's standards and regulations controlling the discharge of industrial and-or commercial type wastes into the County system. If the character of sewage contributed from any municipality shall be such that it imposes an unreasonable additional burden upon the County system, then an additional charge shall be made over and above the regular service charge, or it may be required that such sewage be treated before being emptied into the County system, or the right to empty said sewage into the County system may be denied if necessary, for the protection of the said system or the public health or safety.

17. The provisions of this agreement shall not be modified or terminated so as to impair the security of any bonds issued by the County upon the full faith and credit pledges of the municipalities hereby declared that the terms of this agreement in so far as they pertain to the security of any such bonds, shall be deemed to be for the benefit of the holders of said bonds.

18. This agreement shall become effective upon being approved by the legislative bodies of the municipalities and by the Board of Public Works and Board of Supervisors of Oakland County and properly executed by the officers of the member municipalities and of the Board of Public Works It shall terminate forty years from the date hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties herto have caused this agreement to be executed and delivered by their respective duly authorized officers all as of the day and year first above written.

IN RE: SPECIAL COUNTY BUILDING —PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Miscellaneous Resolution No. 3102 passed by this Board on April 17, 1956, authorized the Board of Auditors to enter into a contract with O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Associates, architects for the preparation of plans and specifications for the construction of "Phase 1" or the Court Tower section of the proposed new County Building to be located on the "Service Center."

Pursuant to this resolution, a contract was entered into between the County of Oakland and the architects. As a result of this contract, the architects and your Special County Building Committee have met frequently over the past 17 months to carry out the desires of this Board.

We have now reached the point where all work in connection with said contract has been completed, that can be completed until the County is in a position to set a date for receiving construction bids on the project.

At a meeting of your Committee and the Architects held on October 2, 1957, a statement for services to date the final plans and specifications were reviewed and approved for acceptance by your Committee. In addition, the statement for services to date were rendered by the Architects was recommended to the Ways and Means Committee and Board of Auditors for payment.

Any further steps towards actual construction of this much needed project must await the outcome of the appeal to the State Supreme Court from the decision of the Circuit Court which is being pursued by the Corporation Counsel at this time.

Whatever the outcome of the decision of the Supreme Court, your Committee will bring before this Board a recommended plan of procedure as soon after the decision is handed down as possible.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the members of the Special County Building Committee whose names appear below, I move the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS pursuant to Miscellaneous Resolution No. 3102 passed by this Board on April 17, 1956, authorized a contract between the County of Oakland and O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Architects, to provide architectural services for "Phase 1" or the Court Tower section of the proposed new County Building to be located on the "Service Center," and

WHEREAS said plans and specifications consist of the following:

1. Architectural and structural plans containing 61 sheets of drawings.
2. Mechanical plans, consisting of 31 sheets of drawings.
3. Electrical plans, consisting of 32 sheets of drawings.
4. Construction specifications fully complete except for bid proposal pages.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that said plans and specifications be received and ordered placed on file with the Board of Auditors where they shall be made available for review by the members of this Board.

IN RE: PROGRESS REPORT OF THE SOUTHEASTERN MICHIGAN WATER AUTHORITY

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The following is a report of the progress of the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority to this date. It is given for the purpose of letting everyone know exactly what is going on in the Authority that they were farsighted enough to support for the benefit of the County at large.

Since the date that this Board appropriated $58,000 for a survey of the water situation some months ago, the Bechtel Corporation, which was hired to do the job, has completed the field work and has prepared a preliminary draft of its report.

The Bechtel Corporation has proposed to the Authority that they have a three stage construction program with the basic plant designed for the ultimate need, but certain portions being added as the actual need occurs. They have suggested that the intake should be above Port Huron and the lines run into the more populated area with a reservoir at the northern end of the counties involved. As was expected, there is no great engineering problem. The primary problem was one of economics, i. e., whether or not the area could afford to pay for the service. The preliminary report states that the project is economically sound upon the sale of 100 MGD, and further states that there is sufficient demand within the area to use that amount. With such a demand and the total cost at about 93 million, the cost to the using municipalities would not exceed $1.25 per MCF.

The Authority is in the process of negotiating with municipalities who might be large users of water who lie both within and without the area. A representative of the Authority will be calling upon each of the units of government who express a desire to be included in the system. It should be noted that the more water that is used at the inception of the system, the lower the price will be to all concerned.

We have also been negotiating with financial interests to take care of the financing of the system. These, at the moment, are inconclusive but, in any event, we will have to have expressions of intent from units of government in order to substantiate a bond issue. There is a great possibility that this new system could be the hub of a Metropolitan Water System. The total capacity of the proposed system, when it reaches the ultimate, will be approximately 350 MGD. When such a capacity is reached, the costs to the using units will be as low as any in the area.

The Authority wishes also to express its appreciation to this Board for the cooperation and assistance that has been given to it to carry the project this far. The success of the project can only be attained through further cooperation Would each of you be good enough to contact your local unit of government to make sure that they are aware of the service that is being offered and to make sure that they prepare to avail themselves of this service?

HOWARD K. KELLEY,
CHAIRMAN
SOUTHEASTERN MICHIGAN WATER AUTHORITY

The report was placed on file.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

IN RE: RESOLUTION OF OAKLAND COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION — PROGRAM FOR HIGHWAY DEVELOPMENT
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The following resolution, 57-17, was adopted at the October 23, 1957 meeting of the Oakland County Planning Commission and is herewith being transmitted to your Honorable Body and committees for consideration in keeping with previous resolutions of instructions of the Board of Supervisors to the Planning Commission:

"It was moved by Goodspeed and supported by Mr. Belknap that the following program referring to highway development be adopted and referred to the committees of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors for consideration and action.

The population of the Detroit Metropolitan area continues to expand at a very high rate. Since 1950, Oakland County has added over 50 per cent more people bringing its current size to over 600,000. Similar growth has been witnessed by other counties surrounding the city of Detroit.

The growth in population has brought about a parallel growth in traffic and the need for more modern roads to handle the growing number of motorists traveling throughout the metropolitan areas.

To improve traffic conditions within the congested portions of Oakland County, the attention of the Board of Supervisors and its appropriate committees is recommended to review the following seven proposals as a means toward solving this growing problem.

1. Encourage work progress in the grading, surfacing, and the provision of necessary structures on Northwestern Highway from the Eight Mile Road to its connection with U.S. 23 or 30.0 miles of work as recommended and adopted in the 5 year (1957-1962) construction program of State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

2. Encourage the completion of route planning, location and construction drawings by the Michigan State Highway Department on a north-south highway connecting with the proposed Oakland Hastings Expressway in Detroit with the recommendation that construction be commended on the Oakland County segment during the time construction begins in Detroit.

3. Encourage the Michigan State Highway Department to follow the basic outlines determined by the recently completed $750,000 Origin and Destination study which documented the need for a north-south expressway through Oakland County serving the Woodward corridor of traffic.

4. Encourage the determination of the location for an East-West expressway route in the vicinity of the Ten Mile Road as an urban connection to the Inter-State system eligible for 90 per cent federal financing, such route being similar to the one recommended in the 1956 Origin and Destination Traffic Study.

5. Encourage the location and construction of an East-West expressway route in vicinity of M59 to alleviate congestion in the city of Pontiac.

6. Recommend that steps be taken to develop funds for the Michigan State Highway Department which could be used to purchase highway right of way in advance of consiruction and before the properties become built up with structures.

7. Recognize that the enumerated projects must be spread over two or three 5 year construction programs and provide the Michigan State Highway Department with all the information data and support to enable these badly needed facilities to be built and acquired as readily as possible."

ROY GOODSPEED
MEMBER OF OAKLAND COUNTY PLANNING COMMISSION

Moved by Goodspeed supported by Yockey that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors receive and give preliminary recommendation of the plan for state highway construction in Oakland County as submitted by the Oakland County Planning Commission and that this Board refer the plan to its committee on Roads and Bridges with instructions to take such steps as they deem necessary to work with the Oakland County Planning Commission to bring about the adoption of this plan by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

CITY OF LATHRUP VILLAGE
EVERGREEN SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made this 23rd day of December, 1957, by and between the COUNTY OF OAKLAND, a Michigan County Corporation (hereinafter called the "County"); and the CITY OF LATHRUP VILLAGE, a Michigan City Corporation in Oakland County,

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS the townships of Southfield, Bloomfield and Pontiac and the cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Lathrup Village and Troy (hereinafter sometimes referred to as "municipalities") are desirous of having the County acquire, finance and operate a sewage disposal system in said municipalities (hereinafter referred to as the "County system") under the provisions of Act No. 185 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1957, for the purpose of collecting and disposing of sewage originating within the district hereinafter designated; and

WHEREAS the County of Oakland pursuant to the terms of said act, has established a Department of Public Works for the administration of the powers conferred upon the County by said act, which department is under the general control of the County Board of Supervisors and under the control of the Board of Public Works (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "Board"); and

WHEREAS the said act provides that the County may issue bonds to finance the acquisition of such a sewage disposal system, in anticipation of the collection by the County of amounts to become due under a contract between the County and the municipalities, whereby each municipality agrees to pay a certain sum towards the cost of the acquisition of the system, and

WHEREAS in order to issue such bonds, it is necessary that the County and the said municipalities enter into such an agreement; and

WHEREAS it is also necessary for the County and said municipalities to contract relative to the operation and maintenance of said sewage disposal system;

THEREFORE IT IS HEREBY AGREED BY AND BETWEEN THE PARTIES HERETO, as follows:

1. The County shall proceed to obtain plans and specifications for, and an estimate of the cost of, a sewage disposal system which will be adequate to transport and treat sewage originating from the area to be served thereby, which area is shown on the map hereto attached, marked "Exhibit A" and made a part hereof. The said sewage disposal system shall consist of intercepting sewers located as shown on said Exhibit A, and in addition thereto, either sewage treatment plant to be operated by the County or flowage rights in the Detroit sewer system for a period of not less than 50 years, with a contract for sewage disposal by the City of Detroit for a period of not less than 40 years from the date hereof but with the option on the part of the County to extend the same for a further period of 10 years. After the receipt of said plans and specifications and estimate of cost, the Board shall submit the same to the County Board of Supervisors, together with an ordinance or resolution approved by said Board, providing for the issuance of bonds by the County as hereinafter provided, in an aggregate principal sum not exceeding the amount of the estimated cost. If the establishment of said County system shall be approved by the said Board of Supervisors, and if such bond ordinance or resolution shall be adopted by said Board of Supervisors, then the Board of Public Works shall proceed to secure bids for the construction of the project and to secure bids for the purchase of the bonds. If the construction bids are within the authorized amount of bonds, then the Board of Public Works shall proceed to award the construction contracts and to issue the bonds and shall cause the project to be constructed within a reasonable time thereafter.

2. It is understood that the County system is to serve the municipalities and not the individual property owners, unless by special agreement between the Board and the municipality in which the property is located. The responsibility of collecting sewage and delivering the same to the County interceptor is that of the several municipalities which shall cause to be constructed and maintained adequate facilities for such collection and delivery. The County shall not be obligated by this agreement to serve any area outside that shown on Exhibit A or to construct any sewers other than the intercepting sewers designated thereon. The maximum population which the County shall be required to serve within each municipality shall be limited to the following:

Township of Southfield	87,000 persons
Township of Bloomfield	40,000 persons
Township of Pontiac	5,600 persons
City of Birmingham	15,000 persons
City of Bloomfield Hills	7,700 persons
City of Lathrup Village	8,000 persons
City of Troy	21,300 persons

3. The Board of Public Works shall establish general regulations controlling the discharge of storm water into the County system. Each of the municipalities expressly agrees that except as permitted by such regulations, no storm water will be permitted to flow into the County system and that it will take all necessary action to prevent the same.

4. Each of said municipalities shall pay to the County, to cover the capital cost of the County system, lying between the 8 Mile Road and the 14 Mile Road (commonly known as the South Evergreen System), a sum equal to that produced by applying the following percentages to such capital cost, to-wit:

Southfield Township	46.80399%
Bloomfield Township	22.04259%
Pontiac Township	2.02418%
City of Birmingham	9.64774%
City of Bloomfield Hills	4.07466%
City of Lathrup Village	4.20610%
City of Troy	11.19874%
Total	100.00000%

The term "capital cost" as above used, shall include:

(a) The cost of any lands or rights therein, which are necessary for the system.

(b) The cost of physical structures and equipment.

(c) Architectural, engineering, financial and legal fees.

(d) Capitalized interest on bonds for a period not exceeding one and one-half (1½) years.

(e) Any discount at which bonds are to be offered.

(f) Administrative costs in connection with the project and with the sale of bonds therefor.

(g) The cost of any flowage rights thru the Detroit sewer system or thru any other sewer or drainage system.

(h) Any other necessary costs directly connected with the said project and the financing thereof.

5. The amount to be paid by each municipality shall be divided into 30 annual installments, numbered in direct order of their maturities. The aggregate amount of each installment for all municipalities shall be determined by the Board prior to the time it shall submit to the Board of Supervisors a bond resolution or ordinance, which aggregate amount shall be divided between the municipalities on the basis of the percentages specified in the foregoing paragraph. Said installments shall be due in consecutive numerical order on the first day of April in each year, beginning with the year 1960, and all amounts thereof from time to time unpaid, shall bear interest from the date of the issuance of the bonds by the County, at the rate of 6 per cent per annum until paid, payable on April 1, 1959 and on the first day of April in each year thereafter. Provided that if bond issue shall include any amount for capitalized interest, then the unpaid installments shall not bear interest during the period in which the capitalized interest will pay the interest on the bonds. If the amount of interest collected by the County in any year shall exceed the amount of interest which the County is required to pay upon its said bonds prior to the next installment due date, than any excess in the amount so paid shall be credited pro rata to the municipalities in accordance with the several amounts of interest paid by them in such year, which credit shall be applied on the next interest becoming due. If any municipality shall fail to pay any installment or interest when the same becomes due, then the amount thereof shall be subject to a penalty, in addition to interest, of ½ of 1 per cent for each month or fraction thereof that the same remains unpaid after its due date. Any municipality shall have the right to prepay any one or more of its annual installments in inverse numerical order, in advance of the due date thereof: Provided, that there shall be paid in addition thereto interest on the prepaid installments to the first subsequent date upon which the County may redeem an equal amount of bonds and also any premium required to be paid by the County upon such redemption.

6. The percentages mentioned in paragraph 4 above shall be computed upon the estimated cost until the actual cost has been determined. If the actual cost shall be less than the estimated cost, then any surplus from the sale of bonds therefor shall be used to purchase such bonds on the open market or to redeem such bonds as provided therein, and in such event the contract obligation of each municipality shall be reduced by its percentage of the amount of bonds so purchased or redeemed. Any bonds so purchased or redeemed shall be canceled. The estimated cost above referred to shall be that adopted by the Board of Public Works. If the actual cost shall be greater than the estimated cost, then the additional amount shall be allocated among the municipalities in accordance with the percentages set forth in paragraph 4 hereof, and the several then remaining installments for each municipality shall be increased proportionately according to the original amounts of such installments.

7. The municipality does hereby pledge its full faith and credit for the prompt payment of the aforesaid obligations and shall each year levy a tax in an amount which taking into consideration estimated delinquencies in tax collections, will be sufficient for the prompt payment of any amounts falling due before the time of the following tax collection, unless at the time of making such annual levy there shall be cash on hand (as provided for in paragraph 2, Section 12, of Act. No. 185, Public Acts of 1957) earmarked for the payment of the current obligations for which the tax levy is to be made, then the annual levy may be reduced by that amount. Funds for which credit may be so taken, may be raised in the manner provided in said paragraph (2), Section 12 of said Act No. 185, Public Acts of 1957 as now existing or hereafter amended.

8. The County shall issue its negotiable bonds to defray the cost of acquiring said County system which bonds shall be secured primarily by the full faith and credit pledges of the several municipalities under this Agreement, and secondarily by the full faith and credit of Oakland County, if authorized by three-fifths (3-8ths) vote of the members elect of the Board of Supervisors, as provided for in paragraph 5, Section 11 of said Act No. 185, Public Acts of 1957. Said bonds shall be issued pursuant to the provisions of said Act and the general statutes of the state where not in conflict with said Act.

9. Upon completion of said County system, the County, subject to the terms of this Agreement, shall operate the said system and shall accept for transportation and disposal the sewage from the area to be served. Each municipality shall deliver to the County system all sanitary sewage originating in the area within its limits which is to be served by said system, provided that the foregoing shall not apply to sanitary sewage from scattered properties where a public sewer is not available. In addition to the payment of the amounts required under paragraphs 5 thru 7 above, each municipality shall pay to the County, charges for sewage disposal services as hereinafter provided, which charges are herein referred to as "service charges." Such charges shall be sufficient to provide:

(a) For all costs of operating and maintaining the County system.

(b) For the establishment and maintenance of a Replacement Fund in such amount as shall be fixed by the Board, for the replacement of the physical assets of said system.

(c) For setting aside such sum as the Board may determine from time to time to be necessary to provide a fund with which to improve, enlarge or extend said system.

(d) For any other proper costs and expenses relating to said system.

10. The County shall use the readings from sewage flowage meters instead of water meters as a basis for making its service charges: Provided that if it shall not be feasible to install such a flowage meter or meters so as to measure the total sewage from any municipality, then the County charges for sewage disposal services to any part or parts not so measured, may be based upon the water meter readings if available, and if not, then upon the number of units served.

Service charges by the County for sewage disposal shall be made to each municipality upon the basis of the amount of water consumed therein as measured by a master water meter or meters, if available, or where not, then as measured by individual home or business meters, and where no such meter readings are available, then said service charges shall be based upon the number of "units" served. The word "unit" as herein used, shall mean any property from which there emanates that quantity of sanitary sewage ordinarily arising from the occupancy of a residence building by a single family of ordinary size. The number of units to be assigned to any particular parcel of property used for commercial, industrial or multiple residence purposes shall be determined by the Board and its decision shall be final. The Board if the circumstances justify, may assign more than one unit to a single family dwelling. The Board shall fix a uniform service charge for each unit.

11. If the County shall dispose of storm water from any municipality, then it shall be entitled to reimbursement from the municipality for the cost thereof.

12. The charges specified in paragraphs 9 thru 11 above shall be payable monthly or quarterly as shall be determined by the Board. If any municipality does not pay its service charge on the date when the same becomes due, then there shall be added to such charge a penalty of one (1) per cent for each month or fraction thereof for which the same remains unpaid The Board shall have the right to pursue any method permitted by law for the collection of any sum due it under this agreement from any municipality. The payment of the service charges specified in paragraphs 9 thru 11 above shall be the general obligation of the municipality for which it pledges its full faith and credit.

13. It is the intention hereof that each municipality shall collect service charges from its individual users sufficient to pay the service charges to be made by the Board to such municipality, but this shall not prevent any municipality from fixing service charges sufficient to produce additional moneys for any lawful purpose.

14. No municipality, under this contract, shall construct or permit the construction of any sanitary sewer in the area to be served by the County system, which does not connect to the County's system, and no municipality shall construct or permit the construction of any sewage treatment facility within such area, unless such construction has been previously approved by the Board. The Board shall have the right to impose such terms and conditions upon the granting of such approval as it shall deem proper. It shall be the obligation of each municipality to provide the necessary sewers to transport its sewage to the County system. No connection shall be made to the County system without first securing a permit from the Department of Public Works.

15. The Board shall have the right to deny the use of the County sewage disposal facilities to any municipality which shall be delinquent for a period of ninety (90) days in the payment of the charges due from it to the County, while such delinquency continues. The foregoing may be accomplished by blocking off the drains and sewers discharging, directly or indirectly, sewage into the County system, or by any other lawful means.

16. Each municipality shall be responsible for the character of the sewage originating therein and shall comply with the Board's standards and regulations controlling the discharge of industrial and/or commercial type wastes into the County system. If the character of sewage contributed from any municipality shall be such that it imposes an unreasonable additional burden upon the County system, then an additional charge shall be made over and above the regular service charge, or it may be required that such sewage be treated before being emptied into the County system or the right to empty said sewage into the County system may be denied, if necessary, for the protection of the said system or the public health or safety.

17. The provisions of this agreement shall not be modified or terminated so as to impair the security of any bonds issued by the County upon the full faith and credit pledges of the municipalities. It is hereby declared that the terms of this agreement in so far as they pertain to the security of any such bonds, shall be deemed to be for the benefit of the holders of said bonds.

18. This agreement shall become effective upon being approved by the legislative body of the municipality and by the Board of Public Works and Board of Supervisors of Oakland County and properly executed by the officers of the member municipalities and of the Board of Public Works. It shall terminate forty years from the date hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this agreement to be executed and delivered by their respective duly authorized officers, all as of the day and year first above written.

WHEREAS the Board of Public Works has received requests from the Supervisors of Waterford, Pontiac, Avon, Independence and Orion Townships to prepare a Master Plan for sanitary sewers and sewage treatment facilities in that portion of the Clinton River Basin lying within Oakland County, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Department of Public Works cooperate with the City of Pontiac and the County of Macomb in the development of the program as well as any other units of government or agencies necessary to adequately coordinate the Master Plan so that no duplication of facilities will occur, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that it is the understanding of this Board that the funds so advanced on a loan basis will be supplemented by funds advanced by the local units of government, to be used to study and plan the development of a master sewage system for the Clinton River Basin.

Admits Passing Bad Checks

Two Others Stand Mute to Breaking, Entering Charges

Mrs. Betty Lou Harris, 23, of 240 W. Ann Arbor Ave., pleaded guilty yesterday before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick of passing bad checks totaling $1,320.

Sentencing was set for March 10. Mrs. Harris is free on a $100 bond continued by the judge.

★ ★ ★

Two Pontiac area brothers stood mute when arraigned Monday before Judge Hartrick on a charge of breaking and entering.

Police said Joseph Kochan, 30, of 164½ Baldwin Ave., and his brother Stephen, 29, of 1113 N. Oak St., Rochester, broke into a Walled Lake milk plant Jan. 30 and made off with 285 blank company payroll checks and $50.

It was from these checks, police said, Mrs. Harris received the 14 worthless checks she passed in area supermarkets.

★ ★ ★

After the judge had entered innocent pleas for both men, Stephen was returned to the county jail after he failed to post a $1,000 bond, which his brother supplied releasing him until trial.

Sullenberger Talks on Heart Diseases

Cause, symptoms and possible operations used to aid in the cure of congenital and acquired heart diseases were discussed last night by Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, Pontiac chest surgeon.

He described through the use of blackboard diagrams the principle surgical procedures used on acquired heart diseases including "blue baby" surgical corrections and how, by routine chest x-rays, one may determine if the heart is diseased.

Opponents Rapped on Intangibles Tax

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams says foes of his intangibles tax increase bill have tipped their hand by admitting the additional tax on bank deposits would be paid by banks, not depositors.

★ ★ ★

The governor answered a weekend criticism of his 20 million dollar tax boost proposal. Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) said it might drive some banks out of business.

Geerlings, Senate Taxation Committee chairman, also said the bill would net the state treasury two million dollars a year less from bank deposits, rather than six million dollars a year more.

Said Williams:

"A couple of weeks ago the Republicans were scaring the wits out of bank depositors by false charges that we intended to tax everybody's bank account."

★ ★ ★

To the contrary, the governor said, Geerlings "now admits publicly that competitive factors will cause the banks to absorb the tax as they have always done."

Negro Expelled at Little Rock

School Ousts Girl as Well as Three Whites After Racial Incidents

★ ★ ★

Supt. Virgil T. Blossom, who recommended the action against the 16-year-old girl, said Minniejean could not attend a public school, white or Negro, in the Little Rock district until next September.

The decision to expel Minniejean, who already was under a two-week suspension, came a few hours after Blossom disclosed that three white students — two boys and a girl—were suspended after racial incidents Monday at the 2,000-pupil school.

★ ★ ★

W. B. Brown, father of the Negro girl who claims she has been the main target of segregationist students during the five months the Negroes have attended Central, labeled the suspension as "very unfair."

The announcement came about two hours after Minniejean and her parents met with the board in a closed session.

Mrs. Brown said: "I shall consult my attorneys immediately and be governed by their advice."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. L. C. Bates, Arkansas president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, declined comment.

School officials have declined to give reasons for Minniejean's latest suspension. The suspension followed a corridor clash between the Negro and a white girl. Minniejean has said the white girl struck her with a purse after "I called her white trash, because she was bothering me." Minniejean previously was suspended for about two weeks for throwing food on two white boys in the school cafeteria.

★ ★ ★

Blossom identified the suspended white students as Howard Cooper, Billy Ferguson and Sammie Dean Parker. In accordance with board policy, he declined to give details.

A. E. Cooper, father of the 16-year-old Howard, said his son was punished for wearing a billfold-sized card bearing the words, "One down, eight to go." The reference obviously was to Minniejean as the board was expected to sustain Blossom's recommendation.

Young Cooper said he was wearing the card "to show what I believe in."

Sentenced 1½-5 Years for House Breaking

A sentence of 1½ to 5 years in prison was imposed upon John L. Koenig, 21, of 1163 Boston St., for entering a home at 31210 Franklin Fairway, Farmington Township.

Oakland County Circuit Court Judge George B. Hartrick sentenced Koenig after he pleaded guilty Jan. 27 to a charge of entering without breaking.

ATTENTION PROPERTY OWNers in Commerce Area. We need 2 and 3- bedroom homes with and without basements. Many prospects. EM 3-6210, Richard Steele, Realty.

DEAR . . .
Mr. and Mrs. Home Owner: In spite of what you have been led to believe about the real estate market—we, at Humphries Realty, have experienced in the past month, a great increase in sales and inquiries about property. We can attest to this fact with a record of over $350,000 in sales in the past six months. You can readily see how this would drain our supply of listings and why we are making this appeal to you now, to come to our assistance and give us an opportunity to sell your home and show you first hand the service we perform. We will accept the challenge, if you will call!

KEYBOARD COMEDY — The irrepressible comedian-pianist Victor Borge returns to television Wednesday in a special hour-long show, "Victor Borge's Comedy and Music." In addition to his own zany keyboard antics Borge will, for the first time, present guest stars. The show will be telecast by CBS from 9 to 10 p. m., with Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corp. as the sponsor.

Returns to TV on Wednesday

Guest Stars to Assist Comic Pianist With His Hour-Long Show

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Tomorrow evening Victor Borge will offer the third "half" of his "Comedy and Music" on CBS-TV, an annual event that is well worth a twist of any viewer's dial.

★ ★ ★

Borge prefers not to call it a mere continuation of his two previous fine TV solo performances, but "something entirely new—the sort of thing you can't do alone."

He will be joined by dancers Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander, singer Doretta Morrow, 12-year-old piano prodigy Abbott Lee Ruskin, and a 46-piece orchestra in this show which he wrote himself.

"I've consciously limited myself to one television appearance a year," he said, "but as you grow older the passing of a year seems like the passing of a month.

★ ★ ★

"I'm constantly discussing plans for more frequent TV appearances, and there is one idea that does appeal to me.

A PARK CONCERT

"Once a month or once every two or three months I might like to do a show that would be something like a park concert — a full orchestra and some of the leading instrumentalists and singers of our time who are not being heard frequently enough.

★ ★ ★

"We are constantly seeing things on television that are repetetive—like Westerns, for instance. Why not something different?

"Scientifically we are reaching for the heavens these days, yet in the musical arts we already have achieved some divine performances.

"It seems a paradox that so many of our great performers are heard so seldom and by such relatively small audiences.

"What has been ignored too often on television is musical value. It's too often forgotten that great artists are entertaining.

ATTRACTIVE MUSIC

"I'd like to do a show that presents some of these great artists, not with the traditional stuffiness of the concert hall, but to make their work attractive to people who never have had fine music made attractive to them before.

"I'd like to integrate these things with some warmth and humor. An artist can be democratized without any loss of dignity to himself or his work."

Will Honor Pontiac 'Master Salesmen'

Members of the "Pontiac Master Salesmen's Guild" in the area covered by the Pontiac zone will be honored at a banquet Feb. 20, at the Elmwood Casino.

The dinner and entertainment will be given by the Pontiac Division of General Motors as a tribute to these men for their outstanding sales record in 1957.

Officers for the coming year will be announced and membership awards will be presented, H. E. Milliken, Pontiac zone manager in Pontiac will preside at the affair.

New Things to Do Will Be Offered

People in charge of recreation programs for organizations they belong to will have an opportunity to stock up on a variety of new ideas for things to do if they attend the Second Annual Oakland County Social Recreation School Thursday.

The school, held at the Waterford Community Activities Building, 5640 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township, will be conducted from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Sponsors of the program include the Oakland County Home Demonstration Agents, 4-H Club Agents, and a recreation committee composed of home demonstration members and 4-H Club leaders.

Mrs. Cleo Rock, county home demonstration recreation leader, is chairman of the committee.

Sir Laurence May Be New Pinup Boy Here

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK —I never say so many dames kissing a guy as moved in on Sir Laurence Olivier Thursday a.m., after he'd opened in "The Entertainer." First Night gals twittered and gushed over "Larry" at a party given by Producer David Merrick. To a few who wrapped arms around him or smooched his cheek, Larry said, "I'm staying at the Algonquin."

WILSON

Frederic March admired him from a sideline, especially his rendition of a Milton Berle-type comic. "He's the greatest thing," said Mr. March, "since local anaesthetics."

Arthur Godfrey'll try to hypo his morning TV show ratings with give-aways of iceboxes, stoves, etc.,—a step he never thought would be necessary . . . Sally Ann Howes went to see a medic and the "My Fair Lady" backstage gossips promptly reported she was expecting. "Not yet," says she.

Kim Novak's shapely double, Scott Weldon, was in an elevator going up to Columbia Pictures. A man in the elevator said, "Do you know Otto Preminger?" . . . "No" . . . "Well, you should" . . . "What does he do?" . . . He likes pretty girls and can do a lot for them?" . . . "I haven't got time. G'bye, this is my floor" . . . Just then a Columbia Pictures executive was passing, called in to the elevator, "Hello, Mr. Preminger."

SCOTT WELDON

Charles Laughton told me Alec Guinness will positively get the Oscar for "Bridge on the River Kwai." I'd suggested maybe Laughton'd get it. "I shahn't—I've had it once—I've become a hoary old American institution," Laughton snorted. "Alec should get it on past performances. He's never had an acknowledgement of his work. Sentiment inevitably enters into it. He'll get it for 'Kwai' and also for 'The Lavender Hill Mob" and 'Man in a White Suit.'" Laughton admitted, though, that he's "hotter than a firecracker" himself due to "Witness for the Prosecution."

Direct quote from Grace Kelly: "I have given up any thought of making films. It would be most difficult to live two such absorbing types of life at the same time. I have chosen to be a wife and mother, and I have my responsibilities in the Principality of Monaco."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Tennis whiz Althea Gibson is cutting her first records as a vocalist . . . Claire Bloom, (whose newest film is "The Brothers Karamazov") will become an American citizen . . . Artie Shaw and his wife, Evelyn Keyes, return from Spain in the spring . . . a national magazine will profile Roosevelt Zanders, chauffeur to celebrities . . . Joanne Dru tells friends that Lew Ayres "may be the guy."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Iggie Wolfington of "Music Man" was asked if that's his real name. "Do you think," he snapped, "anybody'd pick that as a stage name on purpose? . . . That's earl, brother.

For Students Not Going to College

Ike's Brother Proposes 5 Years of High School

WASHINGTON (INS) — Dr. Milton Eisenhower has proposed that a fifth year of high school be given to students who plan to go to work rather than to college.

The president's brother, who is head of Johns Hopkins University, said this would enable high schools to concentrate on fundamentals such as English, science, history and languages in the first four years for the benefit of potential college students.

★ ★ ★

The fifth year would be devoted to courses such as agriculture, home economics, typing and trade studies.

Dr. Eisenhower said in a copyrighted interview with U.S. News and World Report: "Those who want terminal education would take a thirteenth year and thus complete their training at the age of 18."

He contended that high school students should take a heavier work load to prepare themselves for college. He blamed "community pressures" for the inclusion of non-college preparatory courses on high school schedules.

Of colleges themselves, the educator asserted the quality of teaching has "been downward" in recent years.

★ ★ ★

He said he favored extra - curricular activities on college campuses but said that some of them, including athletics, have become so dominant they have "made unfashionable the attainment of intellectual distinction in the scholarly disciplines."

Dr. Eisenhower said he viewed the fact the Soviets launched an earth satellite before the U.S. as a blessing to education.

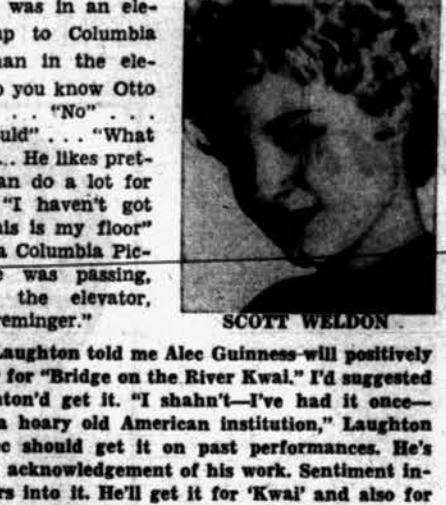

He commented: "It, more than any other circumstance in my lifetime, has caused the American people to look critically and I hope thoughtfully at our entire educational enterprise."

Draws 1½-2-Year Term on Bad Check Charge

For attempting to pass a worthless $35 check at the Pontiac Elks Temple Dec. 16, Robert F. Lucas, 30, of South Bend, Ind., will serve a 1½ to 2 years sentence at the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Lucas pleaded guilty to passing the check without an account Feb. 3. He was sentenced by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick of Oakland County.

Exports of 3,400,000 Christmas trees from Nova Scotia bring in an income each yuletide season of about $2,350,000.

Knowland Asks Bill on Disability

Calls for Congressional Representation to Eye Presidential Fitness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) called today for congressional representation on any commission set up to determine presidential disability despite Atty. Gen. Rogers' statement he would urge a veto for such a bill.

Moreover, the Senate Republican leader said he believes such a commission can be established immediately by passage of a law, without waiting for a constitutional amendment.

★ ★ ★

"I would have no objection to Congress' acting both on a bill and a constitutional amendment, but I think the commission ought to be set up by action in this session and not be delayed by the necessity of ratifying constitutional amendment," Knowland said in an interview.

★ ★ ★

Rogers, who opposed both those ideas at a news conference this month, late today before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee studying the problem.

The Constitution provides that when a president is disabled, his duties shall fall to the vice president. But it does not specify who shall decide that the President is disabled.

Rogers has said only by constitutional amendment could Congress become a partner with the executive branch in such a decision.

Knowland said he favors a commission on which the executive department would have a majority vote, with members of Congress in the minority.

Safety Belts Ordered for New York Autos

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Harriman directed today that all automobiles the state buys be equipped with safety belts on front seats.

He urged employers and drivers to follow the state's example. "This is a small and relatively inexpensive step all of us can take to further highway safety," Harriman said.

In issuing the order, Harriman said there was "impressive evidence" that properly installed safety belts often can prevent serious injuries. State police patrol cars will get the belts, too.

The state will pay about $15 extra on each car to have the belts instaleld.

Continue Checks, Tests on First 'Space Traveler'

★ ★ ★

Airman Donald G. Farrell, 23, of the Bronx, during the seven days in the compact space cabin, neither heard nor saw anything going on on earth. He was subjected to most of the physical and psychological conditions scientists believe man will experience in space travel.

Mostly, he said, he missed smoking cigarettes. He usually smokes a pack a day.

★ ★ ★

At his first meal outside the chamber, attendants placed a big sizzling steak in front of him.

"If Gen. Benson says I'm a chowhound I'm going to be one," Farrell quipped. Maj. Gen. Otis O. Benson Jr., commandant of the aviation medicine school, branded Farrell a chowhound during the simulated space flight.

★ ★ ★

Farrell ate the steak, slept most of the afternoon and then ate a roast beef dinner. He lost four pounds, he said, during the seven-day flight.

Farrell, who now wants to make a real flight to the moon, will complete a scheduled 72 hours of tests and observations tomorrow.

Schwartz Raised Question, When Is Official Dishonest?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — What is honesty in a government official?

Dr. Bernard Schwartz, the emotional law professor described as both brilliant and arrogant, has raised this question. It can stand steady raising in big government.

In some ways Schwartz handled himself like a juvenile. But he got results. At least so far.

★ ★ ★

He was hired by the House subcommittee on legislative oversight as chief counsel to investigate six big government regulatory agencies which were created by Congress and are answerable to Congress.

These agencies—and the 38 men who sit on their boards and commissions — make decisions affecting not only many businesses and broad areas of American life but involving billions of dollars.

They are the Federal Communications Commission, Interstate Commerce Commission, Federal Trade Commission, Civil Aeronautics Board and Securities and Exchange Commission.

★ ★ ★

Their authority includes regulation of stock exchanges, freight rates, truck licenses; approval for new radio and TV stations and air routes for airlines; say-so on telephones and telegraph; watchdogging monopolies and trade practices; and approvals for power dams.

Schwartz, feeling some subcommittee members wanted a whitewash, could have waited until he was completely blocked and then resigned, made his charges, and publicly revealed what evidence he had.

Instead, to force committee action, he "leaked" documents to newspapers, made charges, talked of "gifts" and "favors" to members of the regulatory agencies by industry, and particularly the FCC.

★ ★ ★

In the end he was fired. But he focused so much attention on the subcommittee that now it can hardly duck an investigation, even if it wanted to.

★ ★ ★

In judging a government official's honesty, some lines are clear, some not so clear. There's no doubt an official is a crook if he accepts payments from a business or industry in return for a favorable decision.

★ ★ ★

But accepting a "gift" or favor" is not necessarily crooked although it raises questions about the good judgment of an official and can shake public confidence in government.

For example: How can an official convince anyone that this decision—in favor of some group which wanted a TV station and gave him a gift beforehand—was purely coincidental and had not been influenced?

★ ★ ★

Less often mentioned, though, is the effect of pressure—from some member of Congress or the executive branch of the government—on an official of a regulatory agency. (Schwartz talked of pressures from the White House.)

An official who yielded to such pressures—by a ruling contrary to what he thought fair and just—could not escape the dishonesty charge even though he didn't get a dime out of it.

But what is pressure? Suppose a member of Congress called up an agency and expressed interest in the outcome of a pending case. Is that pressure? Inside the agency it might be considered so.

The agencies are sensitive to Congress. It's Congress which every year decides how much money they can have to operate. An angry member of Congress could cause a lot of trouble.

Congress is zealous in seeing that certain government officials—like the secretary of defense—rid themselves completely of any interest in a company with which the government does business.

But members of Congress don't have to shed themselves of anything.

Gas Metering Station Explodes, Two Die

KIMBERL, Idaho (AP)—A natural gas metering station exploded yesterday, killing two men. A third pipeline worker escaped serious injury.

★ ★ ★

The victims were Donald Burdett Eatchell and Lowell Melvin Prestwich, both 33 and both of Salt Lake City. Clifford M. Turner, 45, also of Salt Lake City, was shaken up by the blast and was hospitalized. There was no resulting fire.

★ ★ ★

The men were employed by Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp. and were checking equipment along the company's big gas transmission line which runs into Oregon and Washington.

Less Snow Fell in Year at South Pole Than Here

But only about two inches of new snow accumulated there during the entire last year when Americans lived at the U.S. base and measured snowfall.

Land at the South Pole lies under 8,300 feet of snow and ice—showing what can happen if nobody shovels.

Career Closed by St. Laurent

Canada's Ex-Premier Retiring From Politics After 17 Years

QUEBEC (AP)—Louis St. Laurent, grand old man of Canadian politics, last night announced his retirement from political office after 17 years.

★ ★ ★

The 76-year-old former Prime Minister said he would not seek re-election to Parliament in the general election, March 31. He said his health was too uncertain.

St. Laurent resigned as prime minister last June after his Liberal party lost its first national election in 22 years. On Sept. 6 he announced he was giving up the party leadership, which a convention last month gave to Lester B. Pearson.

★ ★ ★

The French Canadian leader is expected to practice law in Quebec with two sons.

St. Laurent was a $50,000-a-year corporation lawyer in December 1941 when Prime Minister Mackenzie King named him justice minister and attorney general. Early the next year he entered Parliament by winning the Quebec East seat.

In 1946 he became foreign minister and helped found the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. When King retired he picked St. Laurent to succeed him.
