

Williams Urges Buildup of Michigan

SLEEK AND USEFUL—GMC's all-purpose vehicle, L'Universelle, is this sleek panel delivery with front-wheel drive, V-8 180-horse-power engine, inverted hydraulic transmission, torsion bars, panoramic windshield and two-way radio-telephone. The grille for the air intake to the radiator is seen on the roof. Built by the GMC Truck & Coach Division, the GMC dream truck will be shown in GM Motoramas at New York, Miami, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Boston this year.

GMC Truck Designers Unveil Vehicle of Future

Creation of a GMC "dream" truck, a front-wheel-drive mechanical marvel with both grace and versatility, was announced today by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of GM and general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

GMC's all-purpose vehicle, project XP-39 in the General Motors styling section, has been officially designated L'Universelle, a French word meaning all purpose or versatility of application.

L'Universelle will be unveiled to the public in the GM Motorama of 1955 which opens next Thursday in New York City.

Although the basic design of L'Universelle is a panel delivery, minor manufacturing changes can convert it into a small bus, taxi, station wagon or sportsman's car, Monaghan disclosed. On such other applications windows would replace the panels.

As a panel delivery truck, the GMC creation is 10 inches lower and 10 inches shorter than current model panel delivery trucks, yet has a greater cubic foot capacity and a load floor height only half that of any in use today, Monaghan revealed.

To place the floor only 13 inches from the ground, engineers eliminated the regular driveshaft to the rear, used a drop-center rear axle, and gave the unit a front-wheel drive.

This L'Universelle becomes the first truck in history to have exclusively front-wheel drive.

"Under a 1,000-pound load 54 per cent of the gross vehicle weight will be on the front wheels, insuring excellent traction effort," Monaghan said.

Versatile Dream Truck Is Built Here

Monaghan said, "In addition, the front-wheel drive combined with a wheelbase of only 107 inches and an overall length of 188 inches gives our truck a maneuverability and more positive control on turns that are highly desirable safety factors. The front-wheel drive pulls the body around corners instead of pushing it, eliminating tire skid and making a safer turn."

Monaghan listed other L'Universelle features as:

ENGINE — A V-8 of 288 cubic inches developing 180 horsepower, is located behind and beneath the driver and transmits power to the differential through an inverted hydraulic transmission.

COOLING—Air comes through a roof intake, feeding a large volume of air through two ducts into the radiator core which is located at the left-hand side of the engine, back of the driver compartment.

SPRINGS — Torsion bar springing in front, long leaf springs at the rear, and 8:00x13 "hi speed" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Police Granted Overtime Pay

Pontiac Police yesterday were granted overtime pay by City Manager Walter K. Willman who also promised a study of grievances growing out of a new departmental leave system.

Officers below the rank of sergeant will receive time-and-a-half for all duty hours exceeding 40 hours. Willman said the policy would be retroactive to Jan. 9.

Previously, policemen were not included with other city employees in the overtime policy, except on holidays.

Willman told the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. that he would study personally a 28-day month leave system recently evolved by Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The association took a grievance to Willman after they said Straley refused to discuss a petition which asked reconsideration of the new policy. The petition was signed by 100 of 107 members of the force.

Under Straley's system, police would rotate their leave days every 28 days as opposed to the old plan whereby the same day was taken off each week.

The association said that, although officers prefer the old plan, they are not opposed to the new policy excepting the alternating leave days. They feel this is unjust. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Hidden Valley Not So

LAKEPORT, Calif. (UP)—Some bootleggers in this area picked a fine-sounding location to set up operations, but it didn't work. Sheriff's deputies raided the still in Hidden Valley yesterday.

U.S., Neighbors Step Up Costa Rica Peace Efforts

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—The United States and her Latin-American neighbors stepped up peacemaking efforts today in the wake of spreading fighting and widespread small air attacks in Costa Rica.

The State Department announced in Washington it was immediately ordering U. S. planes to the battle area to make "pacific observation flights" requested by the Organization of American States.

The OAS hoped such flights would halt air raids on Costa Rican towns.

A five-nation commission from the OAS was due in San Jose today from Panama for an on-the-spot investigation of the outbreak in northern Costa Rica, which Costa Rican President Jose Figueres blamed on exiles and "mercenaries" trained and equipped in neighboring Nicaragua.

Across the border, Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza continued to deny the Costa Rican accusations, claiming the fighting in Costa Rica as a "civil war." He said he had ordered all rebels crossing his borders disarmed and all Costa Ricans in the country rounded up for questioning.

At a news conference in Managua, Somoza also challenged Figueres to meet him at the border and settle their long-time feud with a duel between the two of them. "Somoza must be mad," a source close to the Costa Rican President commented in San Jose.

Fighting flared at half a dozen points yesterday and planes strafed nine towns including the capital. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Record Low Rate Given Schools for Bond Issue

Chicago Firm Is Lowest Bidder for $2,100,000 Expansion Financing

Pontiac Board of Education last night sold $2,100,000 worth of bonds to finance its building and expansion program, at an interest rate of 1.6118 per cent.

The interest rate is the lowest in the state for public works financing in recent months, and reflects the high credit rating currently held by the Pontiac district, school officials say.

The bonds issue was purchased by Northern Trust Co. and Associates, of Chicago, low among four bidders when sealed offers were opened.

Money from these bonds will initiate this district's long-term expansion of the new Lake Street school, an addition to Whitfield school and the building of a new junior high school. Elementary sites are also to be purchased for future location of schools.

Ground already has been broken for the Lake Street School and the Whitfield School addition. Plans for a new junior high school are about a fourth completed.

Attributing its excellent credit position in the state to sound administration, a well-balanced tax base, and to the district's reputation for "keeping its word as good as its bond," the board of education members were elated over the low interest news.

In a spot survey of other comparable communities in the state which have sold school bonds in the past 10 months, higher rates have prevailed in each instance. A recent borrowing transaction (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Red Island Base Bombed 4th Day

Nationalist Planes Hold Air Supremacy; Ships Exchange Salvoes

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist four-engine bombers blasted Chinese Communist-held Tienan Island for the fourth straight day today and pounded nearby Tumen Island, air force headquarters said.

Nationalist warships fired on three Communist patrol boats in the same area, around 220 miles north of Formosa, and forced them to flee, a communiqué said. The surface action was reported south of Yushan, a Nationalist island 30 miles northeast of the Tachen Islands.

The big bombers roared north from Formosa in predawn darkness, flew through "heavy anti-aircraft fire" and dropped scores of bombs, the communiqué reported. It said big fires broke out on the two Communist islands.

Nationalist headquarters said the raiders ran into heavy anti-aircraft fire but blasted Communist shore installations and ships with excellent results. The island is regarded as a possible staging point for an invasion of the nearby Nationalist-held Tachen.

Communist warplanes failed to challenge the raiders and all bombers returned, the ministry said.

Cloudy, Light Snow Is Weather Outlook

Another inch of snow fell in the Pontiac area yesterday and last night, accompanied by lower temperatures and mostly cloudy skies.

Present weather conditions are expected to continue, with light snow flurries tonight, Friday night and Saturday, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Yesterday's downtown temperatures ranged from 28 to 31 degrees, showing 26 at 6 a.m. today. The mercury dropped to 23 at 8 o'clock and continued falling until it hit 20 degrees at 9 o'clock. After that, temperatures began rising, hitting 25 by 1 p.m.

Judge Protests Tangled Phrases of New Tax Form

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Circuit Judge Dale Souter says he has come face to face with the most perplexing problem of his career—the new income tax form.

The form so vexed the judge that he wrote a letter of objection to Rep. Ford (R-Mich), Sen. Potter (R-Mich) and Sen. McNamara (D-Mich).

The judge wrote that he thought the income tax statement forms are "to say the least, atrocious."

"It seems the Congress certainly should be able to find the necessary personnel to prepare a form that the ordinary taxpayer can understand and fill out himself without paying an expert to interpret it for him," Judge Souter stated.

He said he has completed his return but added he now is seeking an accountant to verify it.

French, German Heads to Confer on Arms Pool at Winter Resort

ROME (AP)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France left today by special train for Baden Baden to talk with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer about the arms pool plan which Italy has given her qualified approval.

The French Premier left at 2:11 p.m. aboard the private coach of Italian President Luigi Einaudi on a four-car special due in Baden Baden tomorrow morning.

Adenauer is vacationing at that resort.

During two days of talks here with Premier Mario Scelba and other Italian leaders, the French Premier won agreement-in-principle for his plan to set up a seven-nation agency to control arms output and distribution within the projected Western European Union.

The two nations also announced agreements on several economic questions, involving trade, industrial cooperation and immigration.

Despite the promise of partial support, Mendes-France reportedly was disappointed in the reception given the arms pool plan by Italian leaders. Sources indicated he had hoped for more enthusiastic backing, which might aid him in getting an okay from a less receptive West Germany.

The plan, designed to prevent West Germany from overarming within the WEU, comes up next Monday before a meeting in Paris of the seven nations which signed the still-unratified WEU treaty. In addition to France, Italy and West Germany, they include the Netherlands, Britain, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Something Wrong With HIS Cooking

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—It's a task keeping up with the questions of a 4-year-old.

Mrs. Bettie Nellie Starr discovered that when she entertained her grandson at lunch recently.

Young Phil Starr, she said, was conducting a real interview. Did God make the chair? Yes. Did God make the table? Yes. Did God make the hamburger they were eating? Mrs. Starr nodded.

"Well," Phil observed, "God sure got the hamburger too salty."

Dr. Guyer to Be Speaker at Annual Realtor Banquet

Dr. Tennyson Guyer, noted commentator, will speak at the 39th annual banquet of the Pontiac Real Estate Board scheduled Jan. 17 in Elks Temple.

Choosing a theme well known to real estate men, Dr. Guyer will speak on "There's No Palace Like Home."

Former school teacher, youth worker, circus performer, mayor and church administrator, Dr. Guyer now lives in Findlay, Ohio.

He is executive assistant and public relations director for the Cooper Tire and Rubber Co. of that city.

Newspaper critics have applauded him as another "Will Rogers," because of his homespun humor and close-to-the-people stories.

Brushes Aside Tax Questions in Capitol Talk

Outlines Expansion of Highways, Recreation, Schools, Agriculture

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams, portraying a rosy future for Michigan if money is spent on preparation, went to the Legislature today with a major program to expand highways, schools, recreation and agriculture.

In his first message to the new 68th Legislature, Williams gave only generalized recommendations on most points and said he would come back later with more specific plans.

He avoided the question of new taxes which many in state government predict and said the complications of drawing the new budget would delay his fiscal recommendations.

Williams made his biggest drive for a half-billion dollar bond issue to build more highways.

Saying he did not think gasoline taxes ought to be increased, Williams turned aside the question of financing the bond issue by saying:

"I urge you to set aside the controversial long-range questions which need not be answered now—and to consider this proposal as the simple matter it really is—a proposal to buy some of the roads we most acutely need, on the installment plan, out of future revenue from existing sources."

Williams said also:

"Some have argued that we will need additional taxes after the bond issue funds have been expended. Perhaps so. But there are variables which make it unwise to attempt to settle that question now."

"It is estimated that five years from now, if traffic increases occur as anticipated, our present gas and weight taxes revenues will be 50 million dollars higher than they (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Blind Detroit's Dog 'Seated' in Legislature

LANSING (AP)—Robert D. Mahoney, 33, has taken his seat in the Michigan Legislature. So has his dog Happy.

Mahoney, though blind since he was 15, said after yesterday's opening session that he thinks he can keep pace with his colleagues in the House.

For taking notes, he uses a slate and stylus to print in Braille. Other representatives have offered to read to him much of the voluminous legislation he will have to study.

"So you see," said Mahoney, a Detroit Democrat, "it seems like a major problem, but actually it's a pretty minor one."

DR. TENNYSON GUYER

Careless Parents Blamed for Child Poison Deaths

DENVER (INS)—The Colorado Medical Society said today that careless parents are to blame for more than 1,000 needless child deaths from accidental poisoning each year.

A medical spokesman pointed out: "Kids can't read or understand poison labels. Parents can."

Putting the matter on a house-to-house basis, the spokesman asked: "How long has it been since you made a safety inspection of your home for poisons within reach of curious youngsters? What's in all those left-over bottles in your medicine chest?"

The Medical Society's bulletin pointed out in addition to the 1,000 fatalities, poisons also are responsible for the crippling of additional thousands of youngsters each year.

Throats are permanently scarred and closed by lye. Children suffer permanent liver, kidney and eye damage from moth repellents, gasoline and kerosene.

Medical Society officials said the most common poisoning agent taken by children brought to Denver Children's Hospital has been common aspirin, which can be fatal when an overdose is taken.

The other most common poison hazards to children are laundry bleaches and cleaning solutions, gasoline and kerosene, benzene and naphtha; moth repellents; the aniline dye found in red and orange wax crayons; some diaper making fluids; barbiturates; nicotine; rat and insect sprays and pastes; lead paints, and medicinal drugs.

Medical spokesmen said prevention is paramount. Poison hazards should be kept out of reach of children, and old medicines should be thrown out.

Don't put detergents, petroleum products or other poisonous substances in pop bottles. Kids are just naturally attracted to pop bottles.

Federal law specifies that any substance containing a poison be labeled, stating the percentage of the poison, and listing its antidote.

For that reason, never switch a poisonous substance from one bottle to another.

A universal antidote, if you can't reach a doctor and don't know what to use, can be made from two parts charcoal (burnt toast crumbled up), one part magnesium oxide (milk of magnesia) and one part tannic acid (strong tea).

Give soap or milk of magnesia for acids, and vinegar or orange juice for alkalis, such as lye or caustic soda.

PEAK OF THE SKI SEASON—Skiers ride the tow line to the top of a hill at Snow Valley, near Gaylord. Michigan's ski season is hitting its peak at most winter sports areas in the upper part of the state.

These Skiers Don't Ski, They Just Dress the Part

GAYLORD (U)—Someone once said no creature is more amusing than a sports fan who dabbles a bit at his favorite pastime.

This can be proved almost any winter day at several ski lodges buried in the sticks near this central Michigan community of 2,300. Skiers, dressed in fineries that would stop a Paris fashion show, struggle every morning into fancy ski boots that would make Torge Tolle blush for their "jaunt down the slopes."

Typical of these resorts is Snow Valley, a moderate lodge compared to some. It plays host to some 401 fans every weekend day to the tune of $2.50 tow charges.

Expert skiers are not easily seen from the giant picture windows of the clubhouse, where easily half the guests watch while they sip something tall and cold and pass out "experts' opinions."

The experts are far away on hills so steep that the crease in their ski pants wrinkle from the wind around their knees.

Directly outside the gleaming windows is the fashion show. Skiers dressed in colors ranging from electric blue to orange that shines at night can be seen gliding down gently sloping hills with the greatest of form.

Gilbert Wells, Snow Valley's owner, is getting used to the idea of taking care of some 10,000 customers each winter.

He started the lodge eight years ago when he cleared away enough lumber to build himself a small ski trail for his private use.

"I was happy then," he says. "I had no troubles and was making a living with a summer resort on Lake Otsego across the way."

"Then I decided to build a tow and make a couple of bucks by letting people ski here. That's when it all started. Now look, I'm making money and don't have time to spend it."

Today he rents out 250 pairs of skis, keeps a staff of 20 and operates 10 ski tows to make things easy on guests.

But Wells, an enterprising man, keeps building each year to take care of his board of customers. He has bulldozed one hill some 80 feet in the air and says he's going up with it again next summer.

His biggest crowd of the year storms Snow Valley on New Year's weekend. Some ski, others pick out the handiest table in the lounge and camp for the weekend, dressed in boots, flashy sweaters and jackets lined with patches from various ski lodges.

Another nearby club considerably more flashy is Boyne Mountain Ski Lodge, which graces its customers with a heated outdoor swimming pool and contemporary architecture.

There, skiers who really aren't skiers can take a dip in the 80-degree swimming pool or play bridge at the bar.

As one skier remarked after making a five bid, "Like I always say, nothin' beats winter sports."

VICTORIA (U)—A man who likes to smoke in bed says he has figured out a way to do it without causing a fire hazard. J. Henry Michaud says his in-

AF Asked to Delay Work on Jet Base at Cadillac

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Cannon (D-Mo.) of the House Appropriations Committee disclosed last night he has asked the Air Force to hold up an $8,635,000 jet base planned for northwest Michigan until it "justifies" its latest site choice.

Cannon said he made the request in a letter to Secretary of the Air Force Talbott.

The base originally was to go up on a site near Homestead in Benzie County. Later, however, the Air Force changed its plans and announced it would be built near Cadillac in Wexford County.

The decision brought an outburst of protests from Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich.), whose district embraces both sites. She accused Talbott of "putting me in the middle" with her constituents and said Talbott admitted to her personally that the Air Force "bungled" the job.

Cannon said he asked Talbott to delay work on the base "because money appropriated for a specific purpose can't be used for another purpose without authorization." He said he is not interested in the political background of the decision.

The Air Force, Cannon declared, will have to come before the Appropriations Committee "and justify this new site just as it did the first choice."

He pointed out that the Air Force now stands behind the Cadillac site, but the Appropriations Committee has allotted money with the understanding the base was to be built on the Benzie County site.

Cannon said his committee should be ready to proceed shortly on hearing the Air Force explanation for the change in plans.

Cannon said the hearing would take up "all the evidence pertinent" to the dispute, apparently indicating that Miss Thompson and other critics of the Cadillac site will be heard.

Will Ike Run Again in '56? Senators Not Sure Either

WASHINGTON (AP)—Several Republican senators said today they think President Eisenhower is reluctant to run for re-election, but will be convinced he ought to before the 1956 GOP convention.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) on the other hand, said he is betting Eisenhower will retire. Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said in a separate interview it is "far too early to speculate."

Monroney, who said he had won five hats betting former President Truman would not run again in 1952, said he is basing his predictions on reports that Mrs. Eisenhower doesn't want the President to be a candidate again.

"Mrs. Truman didn't want President Truman to run and he didn't," Monroney said. "I don't think Mrs. Eisenhower wants President Eisenhower to run and I'm betting that he won't."

Eisenhower was again noncommittal when asked at his news conference yesterday about his plans for 1956.

Senators Carlson (R-Kan.) and Bender (R-Ohio), who call themselves staunch Eisenhower supporters, said they don't have any doubt the President will be the party's standardbearer in 1956.

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) said, "I don't think he wants it, but I think he'll be the nominee."

Senators Allott (R-Colo.) and Clifford Case (R-N.J.), elected last November with the President's active support, said they assume Eisenhower is going to run and will have no opposition for the nomination.

Eisenhower told newsmen he hopes he never becomes sufficiently self-centered that he fails to respond to a call to duty. But he said the individual involved has to decide for himself just where his duty lies.

Eisenhower defended Vice President Nixon yesterday against Democratic charges that he had engaged last year in unfair campaign tactics. The President told questioners Nixon had assured him he never had tried to condemn the entire Democratic party. The President suggested that perhaps Nixon's remarks were taken out of context.

Field Will Stay in Red Hungary

Freed American Tells of Decision in Message to U.S. Diplomat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Noel Field has notified the State Department he and his wife have decided to forsake the United States and remain in Communist Hungary, which imprisoned them for five years.

Field's decision, not unexpected by the State Department, was relayed in a handwritten letter received two days ago at Budapest by U.S. Minister Christian M. Ravndal. The letter was disclosed last night by Department Press Officer Henry Suydam.

But officials fully expect Noel's brother Hermann to come home again. Hermann, 44, was freed by Communist Poland late in October. He too had served five years in a Red prison. He was issued a U.S. passport and is recuperating in Switzerland. A Cleveland architect, he ran afoul of the Communists in Warsaw while searching for his brother.

Noel, 50, is a controversial figure on both sides of the Iron Curtain. He has been accused by the Reds of being a spy and in Washington hearings as being a consort of Communists.

Reds in Eastern Europe accused Noel of being an American agent, but these charges were washed out when he and his wife Herta were freed last Nov. 17.

Suydam said Field's letter confirmed the Christmastime reports that he had been granted political asylum in Hungary at his request.

Youth Faces Chair for Rape-Murder

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Bernard Schreiber, found guilty of the rape-slaying of Mary Jolene Friess, 17, today faces death in Ohio's electric chair.

A panel of three judges yesterday found him guilty of first-degree murder in the woodland slaying near here last Aug. 12. The judges deliberated one hour and made no mercy recommendation.

The youth testified he raped the girl in a wood near her home after a 12-year-old boy companion had knocked her unconscious with a club. He said he stabbed her when she regained consciousness.

The 12-year-old boy denied accompanying Schreiber or striking the girl.

McBride Feels That Age of Specialization May Have Gone Too Far

Light Fixture Balances in Bed-Window Problem

By ELIZABETH HILLIER
Sometimes a headboard must fit against a window, but the effect problem has added complications, can be attractive. Even when the problem has added complications, as those Mrs. S. H. asks about. She writes, "In my bedroom I have long false draperies with valances which match bedspreads. One window is necessarily behind the headboard of the bed, but offside. Since one valance is extra wide, could it be used above the bed with a traverse rod for the drapery? Or would this effect be too heavy?"

Growing Girl Needs Room to Call Own

Transition Period for Teen Aided Through Planning

A teen-age girl's bedroom should be her sanctuary, study, and lounge—a retreat to call her very own. By giving it a "living room" look, she'll have a much more versatile spot, equally suitable for entertaining school chums and for quiet relaxation of homework sessions.

Since high school is a growing-up time, the transition from "child" to "young lady" should be reflected in her living quarters.

Most budgets don't allow complete refurnishing overnight. So daughter should work out a long range plan for piece-by-piece buying.

By selecting good-quality, attractive furnishings during her school days, the teen-ager will find that she has a wonderful heritage with which to set up housekeeping when wedding bells eventually ring.

In place of the traditional bed, convertible sofas or day beds flanked with bolsters and scatter pillows are high fashion for the modern miss' living-bedroom. Besides providing a comfortable night's sleep, they afford space for teen-agers who love to sprawl.

Available in a wide variety of styles and cover fabrics to suit even the fussiest teen-ager, the latest dual purpose bedding is equally comfortable for both sitting and sleeping. Prices are surprisingly economical.

Tricky originality shouldn't be substituted for furniture with pleasing lines that will stay fashionable, however. Personality can be expressed in accessories and decorations that can be changed more easily (and less expensively) as the teen-ager matures.

since it matches the spread and thus seems to belong to the bed.

The sketch also shows how you might place an interesting light fixture to help balance the offside position of the window. Pictures or other wall decorations might also fill in this wall space.

IF small women of 40—

Too bare, too tailored is not as flattering as a ladylike, gentle softness in line and color.

Mrs. O.F.—The neckline loses its youthful freshness, the upper arm thickens more or less but feminine lines in pretty prints or plaids with lingerie details, soften the silhouette for us after we pass forty.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

The young man who is applying for a job shouldn't make himself so much at home in the employer's office that he leans over the desk, lights a cigarette, or sits down before he is invited to do so.

Such lack of courtesy is more likely to get him the gate than the job.

Here's a new use for the family hot water bottle suggested by a mother: Fill it half full of tepid water and place it half full at the bottom of the bathtub for a young child to sit on during his bath. It keeps him from skidding.

Actions Say Girl Liked by Fellow

She's No Nuisance, if He Keeps Sights Aimed Toward Her

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Recently I met this boy who goes to my school and is in most of my classes—and I've grown to be very fond of him, and most of the kids at school know it. He finds out where I'm going (for instance, to a dance) and makes it his business to be there. At any social function he stands near me and watches me. (I also try to be where he is!)"

The other night I danced with him and found out that he thinks girls are a nuisance. But after the dance he pulled me away from my friends to walk with him, and he put his hand over mine when he said good-by. Should I keep on trying to get him to like me, since he gives me what looks like encouragement, or should I drop the whole thing?"

A boy who doesn't like a girl doesn't bother to trail her wherever she goes. A boy who thinks a girl is a perfect nuisance doesn't hover close to her whenever he sees her. He doesn't dance with her, try to get her off alone, and go even slightly sentimental when it's time to part. That is encouragement. It's very promising.

By all means keep on trying to get him to like you. Make it just a bit easier for him to see you alone. Make the most of every opportunity to get better acquainted with him. Respond to his encouragement—and do a bit of encouraging on your own.

This has all the earmarks of the beginning of a BIG THING.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Last summer I started going with Pat, and he said he liked me very much, enough to go steady even. But I told him I was too young.

He then said that maybe next year when I'm a junior I might change my mind. But he hasn't asked me to go any place since then. In fact, he's even started going with another girl.

"My problem is that I like him very much and would like to get him back. But how could I do this if I'm not sure whether or not he still likes me?"

Pat made a good start at lining you up as his girl friend during the summer. You had many enjoyable times together. But when you couldn't see his point about going steady, the whole thing fell apart in his mind, and his heart. Obviously Pat only plays it steady—and since you wouldn't—he doesn't ask for any more dates. That explains his interest in another direction.

It was just a suggestion of Pat's—maybe even a wish—that you would change your mind next year when you're a junior. It wasn't a promise that he'd wait around until that happens. Now that he's back, it would be hard to "get him back." But, if you stay friendly, it might be more promising next year.

TV is called home entertainment because you wouldn't walk across the street to see a lot of it.

"Open" planning, where separation between living, dining and kitchen areas is only suggested by dividers, has become popular even in colonial-style homes. Snowy-white steel kitchen cabinets are also used today with this decorative style because they add complimentary highlights and never restrict the choice of color schemes.

Fears About His Future Can Cripple Man's Present

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband's family died penniless," a woman writes, "and the last years of their lives were very tragic. He supported them, which meant that he couldn't marry until he was in his late thirties.

"Now we've been married six years, and he is 44. We have one child, and while my husband makes a good salary, we live like paupers, because he puts all we can put into his savings account. We are so busy saving for our old age that we have no fun at all now.

"What good will it do us to live decently when we're over 65? I'd rather do some living now!"

The first step this woman will have to take is to try, try very

Floor Must Be Prepared for Tile

By HUBBARD COBB

One of the best ways to prevent a concrete basement floor from sanding is to coat it with water-glass or a commercial concrete hardener. This stuff goes into the pores of the concrete and hardens there to prevent the surface from sanding. So far so good.

Now the question comes up, "Suppose the floor has been treated with water-glass or a commercial hardener and I decide I want to cover it with asphalt tile. Can it be done?" Well, in most cases it can be done before you go ahead and apply the tile, it's best to be sure. This can be done by applying a special primer to the floor and seeing whether or not it sticks.

The floor should be swept clean and then the primer is applied. This primer for use on concrete floors to be covered with asphalt tile can be purchased at most stores that handle the tile. The entire floor is coated with the primer and then you allow 24 hours for drying.

If, at the end of this period, the primer is well stuck to the floor, you can go ahead and lay the tile using regular tile cement. If you find that after 24 hours the primer has not made a good strong bond with the concrete, better forget the idea of using asphalt tile. Should the primer stick, your chances are almost 100 per cent that the tile will hold as it should.

All this, however, only applies to asphalt tile. It does not necessarily apply to some of the other types of tile suitable for use on basement floors.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Fields of Sudden Change Bad Place for Beginning

By MARY MARGARET MCBRIDE

Sometimes I think the age of specialization may have gone too far. I don't mind special stores for tall women, for short women, for "mature" (meaning fat) women, for "ladies-in-waiting" (euphemism for expectant mothers), for young-marrieds, even for the narrow or sensitive-footed.

But a shop so exclusively for red-heads that blondes and brunettes are refused admittance gives me pause. The story goes that when a blonde strolled into this emporium recently, the clerk refused to sell her anything. The blonde, however, was a woman of spirit, and, besides, had her eye on a certain garment. So she

Not Wrong in Refusing Invitation

Weddings Happen Once, but Dinners Can Wait

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "Isn't it unforgivably rude for a person having accepted an invitation to turn it down later for another? I have always felt that barring serious illness, it was a serious breach of etiquette for a guest to give out after having said 'Yes' to a hostess.

Not long ago I invited a couple to our house for dinner, and they accepted. Several days later I received a telephone call from the wife saying that they had received an invitation to a wedding for that same day which would interfere with their coming to dinner. Wasn't this bad manners on their part?"

Not necessarily—especially if it was a wedding that occurred unexpectedly in their family, or the wedding of a very close friend. To cancel one dinner invitation and then accept another, would, of course, be very rude. But a wedding occurs only once and a dinner can be given many times.

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiancé will receive his medical degree one week before we are to be married. However, the wedding invitations will be sent out three weeks before at which time he will still be Mr. I would like to know how his name should appear on the wedding invitations. Should it be Mr. John Smith, or Dr. John Smith?

If you are sure he will receive his degree, you may use the title Dr., but if there is any possibility of his not passing his examinations, it will be wiser to use Mr.

Dear Mrs. Post: When two unmarried couples go to the theater together, is it correct for the two girls to sit next to each other with a man on either side of them, or should the foursome be seated alternately, man, girl, man, girl?

There is no fixed rule about this, either way you mention is correct. You sit whichever way is most pleasant to you four.

Tailoring, Design New Handbag Team

Tailoring and design are unmatched in new dressy handbags of economical rayon-and-wool blend faille. These handbags have the thoroughbred look of fine custom pieces, yet they are remarkably low priced.

These little purses are neatly fitted inside and made with rayon satin linings. Roomy over-a-n styles and smart new clutch bags sell for as little as $5 to $8 in department stores. Many of these rayon handbags are made with non-tarnishable fake gold handles or closings.

Teach Her Early

Since most women live with a frying pan in their hands, teach your little girl to cook while she is young. If you create the interest now, she probably will not find cooking such a dreadful chore in the future.

A goose may furnish up to a pound of feathers.

Pattern 700: Sizes small (10, 12); medium (14, 16); large (18, 20). Pattern pieces, embroidery motif. Sew-easy! State size.

Blouses Tops in Fashion Now

Emerging from a backfield position in fashion, are the simple "everyday" blouses. That good shirt or suit accessory has now become the focal point of dressy fashion. Credit for the transition goes to the many handsome fabrics which manufacturers are now using.

Leading among these are the rich rayon satins that give such a grand occasion air to the simple shirtwaist blouse. Reaching new heights in fashion popularity this season, are the soft, crepey, rayon mat-jerseys that lend so much chic to late-day fashion.

A "comer" for now, and later in the spring, is rayon crepe that looks fresher than ever in pure white and new pale pastels. These and many more are available at department stores now, at very moderate prices.

Registrations Reported Good as Adult Classes Open at Rochester

ROCHESTER—A healthy registration for the adult education classes which began this week has been reported by director Roger Seager.

He said the pre-flight course and the class in ceramics seem most popular, along with the square dancing instruction.

Some classes, including typing, are filled to capacity already, and others are being divided into beginners and advanced sections.

There are still openings in the woodwork and reading-for-pleasure courses, Seager stated.

This evening at 7:30 Dr. Eve Schlechte will conduct the class on "Infants and Toddlers." This is designed for interested parents.

Glenn Levin Named Romeo's Assessor

For the ceremony, attended by the immediate families and close friends, the bride wore a two piece dress of charcoal gray with pink trimmings.

Mr. and Mrs. Elias Costopoulos of Auburn Heights were the couple's attendants.

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Lahe following the ceremony. The newlyweds are making their home on Auburn avenue in Auburn Heights.

Dairy Support Cuf Brought Improvement --- Benson

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today there has been a general improvement in the dairy industry since the government reduced support prices for dairy products last April.

Milk production is showing signs of leveling off, and large quantities of government-held surpluses have been disposed of, he said in a talk prepared for the 53rd annual Farm and Home Week at the University of Minnesota.

Benson said dairy surpluses which have burdened the industry reflected overproduction in relation to market demands at government support levels.

With price supports reduced, he said, milk production is showing signs of leveling off. While output for 1954 set a new record of 124 billion pounds, output in December was down one per cent from a year earlier, Benson reported.

In addition, the Secretary said, consumption of dairy products is increasing.

"This is of vital importance to every dairyman in America," he said. "It means that the day is approaching when supply and demand will be brought into balance—not through a distasteful and uneconomic program of production controls but rather through increased use of the healthful dairy products which our people need."

Benson said that when production and consumption are brought into balance, prices of dairy products will move above government support levels and the latter will no longer be the ceiling price, as he said, has been the case too long.

Benson took issue with some members of Congress who are pressing for higher dairy supports. "Many would be political leaders have been using high fixed price supports as a smokescreen to cover up one indisputable fact—the fact that it was the unprecedented demands of war, together with inflation, that kept farm prices high during the 10 years following Pearl Harbor," he said.

Lie Tests Sought in Carver Hassle

Some Involved Agree to Measure as Recall Controversy Boils

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George Taylor said yesterday that lie detector tests have been agreed to by several persons involved in the George Washington Carver school board controversy.

The scheduled tests are the result of an investigation of an assault on the Royal Oak Township school board secretary, Mrs. Louella Baker at her 2134 Majestic St. Oakland Gardens home.

Mrs. Baker has told police she was beaten by three hooded men who demanded recall petitions for another board member, James E. Harrison.

The majority group of the school board has started recall action against Harrison, one of the two-member reform minority on the strife-torn board.

Taylor said he hopes to get additional persons to undergo the test, including Mrs. Baker, when she is able to leave her home.
