

Ike Going to U.N. Day Before Nikita

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower announced today he will personally present a program of "specific proposals" to the United Nations on Thursday, Sept. 22, the day before Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev speaks at the momentous General Assembly session.

Eisenhower's decision to address the U.N. session was made public in a brief White House statement. White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to amplify on the specific proposals which the President will make.

However, it is expected that they will deal with disarmament and other major issues in the East-West conflict.

Hagerty was asked if Eisenhower planned to see Khrushchev while at the U.N. He replied: "I have nothing else to add except what I have told you."

Eisenhower declared at a news conference last week that the chances of he and Khrushchev conferring were "very, very slim."

To begin with, he said, the Russians would first have to free two crew members of a U.S. RB47 plane shot down off the Soviet coast earlier this year. This the Kremlin has flatly refused to do.

Khrushchev presently is en route to New York for the session which gets under way Sept. 20.

The United States today held firmly to its plan to confine Khrushchev to Manhattan Island during his U.N. visit despite expectations that the Soviet premier would seek to exploit the issue.

Both the White House and the State Department said Tuesday his movements are being restricted only to assure his safety.

REJECTS PROTEST
In cool but correct terms, a U.S. note speedily rejected a formal protest that the Sept. 9 U.S. order restricting Khrushchev to Manhattan was an unfriendly act, unlawful and aimed at hindering the work of the Soviet delegation.

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Gromyko delivered the Soviet protest Tuesday. The State Department reply was delivered by messenger to the Soviet Embassy Tuesday night.

The U. S. note told Khrushchev that under the U. N. headquarters agreement between the United Nations and the United States, the American government is responsible for his safety and for assuring his unimpeded access to U. N. headquarters which are on East Side Manhattan.

"Precisely in strict fulfillment of this obligation, the note said, the U. S. government has decided to require that Khrushchev 'reside in closest convenient proximity' in U. N. headquarters and limit his moves to Manhattan.

DENIES HINDRANCE
The American order in no way interferes with the "normal work of the Soviet delegation," it said, adding: "Travel beyond the limits of Manhattan Island is clearly not essential to the normal functioning of a delegation to a session of the U. N. General Assembly."

Khrushchev wanted permission at least to go to the Glen Cove, Long Island, estate where Soviet delegations in General Assembly meetings are normally quartered.

As matters now stand, Khrushchev will be putting up at the downtown headquarters of the Soviet U. N. delegation on Manhattan's Park Avenue. A five-story, block-long mansion there includes comfortably furnished apartments as well as offices and usually carpeted reception rooms.

The Moscow protest said the U. S. restriction can be aimed only at archaizing the international atmosphere in advance at a time when the heads of many states intend to make new efforts toward easing international tension."

Crashes, Burns on Landing All 76 Survive as Plane Flips

WRECKED AIRLINER—Seventy-six persons—all that were on board—walked away from this American Airlines Electra minutes before it was consumed by fire today. The plane was caught by a gust of wind as it landed and cartwheeled into a dike and along the edge of a swamp at New York's LaGuardia Airport.

It landed upside down and immediately burst into flames. Passengers released themselves from their seat belts and dropped to the ceiling of the craft, then hurried out the door, just escaping the flames.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The crowded Lockheed Electra crashed into a dike, flipped onto its back and plunged, blazing, 500 feet along a swamp.

Seventy-six passengers and crewmen hung head downward, pinned in their upside-down seats by safety belts as flames closed in on the cabin.

But not a life was lost today when American Airlines Electra Flight 361 crashed at the end of a runway at New York's LaGuardia Airport.

The 70 passengers and six crewmen managed to loosen themselves from the safety belts, felt eight feet to the ceiling of the shattered plane and all walked away.

DESTROYED BY FIRE
Within minutes, the plane was destroyed by fire.

It happened at 8 a.m. (New York time) during a clear-weather flight from Boston to St. Louis—the fourth major crash involving the Electra jet-prop aircraft since Feb. 2, 1959, when an American Airlines plane crashed approaching LaGuardia.

Capt. R. E. Pangburn, a supervisory pilot with the regular crew, was at the controls on a normal approach with the full load of 70 passengers.

He said that at the last airborne moment a gust of wind struck the aircraft.

It drove the left wing down, he said.

The plane struck an eight-foot dike at the bay side end of the runway, cartwheeled and turned over.

"There was a hard crash," said stewardess Margaret Fleming, 24, of London, England. "The next thing we knew we were turned over. Donna (Donna Gilligan, the other stewardess) and I were hanging from the ceiling."

"I felt the heat coming through the cabin and we both realized the plane had caught fire."

"The passengers were all buckled in and I saw some of them hit their heads on the ceiling when the plane turned over," Miss Fleming said. "All the passengers loosened their belts and got down the eight feet from the floor of the plane as best they could, just like we did."

Carnival Atmosphere Invading Downtown

Transformation of downtown Pontiac into a carnival atmosphere of fun and excitement was beginning today amid predictions that Downtown Fall Festival Days will break records this year.

The three-day festival, sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association, begins tomorrow with merchants promising shoppers continuous street entertainment, unusual retail values, free parking in all the municipal lots, free breakfast every day for 1,000 persons, free bus rides downtown every morning from 8:30 to 9:30 and free carnival tickets with every downtown purchase.

"There's no doubt that everyone will find this the best festival we've ever had in Pontiac," said Clifford Grovogui, association president.

"More advance planning than ever is going to result in more activities, more merchant participation and more fun for everyone than in any other year."

The one element merchants couldn't plan on is apparently going to be in their favor.

CLEAR SKIES, SUNSHINE
The Weather Bureau says tomorrow's festival opening will be blessed with clear skies, lots of sunshine and warmer temperatures.

Dozens of concerns plan something special, said Grovogui. For instance, Walte's Department Store, which Grovogui manages, has lined up an eye-stopper.

A human mannequin will be posed in the midst of the store's window display. He'll be motionless for minutes on end. Passersby are invited to guess which manikin is the human one. There'll be six shows every afternoon and evening, beginning at 3 p.m.

Direction of the attack was indicated by Glenn Lafone, food dealer, president, who said: "The quarrel is not with the farmers or the downtown merchants. It's with the City Commission."

Milton F. Conroy, Pontiac attorney who spoke for the grocers, warned commissioners they would be "leading the law" if, for the benefit of the merchants and farmers, they waived the 1955 health law forbidding outside display and sale of food-stuffs without licenses.

He warned the commission about "taking any action that might embarrass your police chief should this conflict come up again in the very near future."

TRADITIONAL SPLIT
The split in the commission vote was along traditional lines, with Commissioners Winford E. Bottom, Milton R. Henry and Robert A. Landry opposing the waiver.

They told Mayor Philip E. Rowston and the three others who supported the waiver that there should (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Says GOP Deludes Public

Kennedy Bidding for New York Vote

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy opened his bid for New York's 45 electoral votes today by declaring the Republican device either themselves or the American people if they promise to end the Cold War.

Kennedy was pleased with the receptions he had in St. Louis and Texas. And he had a big day ahead of him.

He had a dinner date with Adlai Stevenson, who twice sought the presidency and lost, and, tonight he speaks to the Liberal Party.

In his prepared talk at a luncheon for the New York Women's Democratic Club, Kennedy spoke mostly on peace.

He warned that peace will not come easily, and cautioned that the Republicans still haven't learned that "words are not a substitute for action" in dealing with the Communists.

"How many Spaniards and Latins and Cubans and Lascumbas," he asked, "will take to make us realize that we must be dynamic in something like our public relations?"

At St. Louis Tuesday night, Kennedy encountered the widest demonstration of an otherwise relatively placid crowd with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

It took 15 minutes and repeated appeals by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., over a ship's loudspeaker before aides would agree to let the Democratic nominee venture into the narrow aisle that had been formed to let Kennedy pass to a ramp where he spoke briefly.

Our Growth Depends on Individuals... Nixon

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (U)—President Richard M. Nixon said today that private enterprise must carry the major share of American economic expansion.

The GOP presidential nominee told a breakfast meeting of the Boise, Idaho Chamber of Commerce that the government can stimulate private growth by contributions to reclamation and similar projects. But overall, he said, the growth of the American economy is geared "to what individuals do."

Session at MSUO Studies Baby-Boom Influx

Huge New Labor Force to Want Jobs Here in 1960s

DISCUS OAKLAND EMPLOYMENT—About 75 community, business, educational and industrial leaders in the Pontiac area gathered at Michigan State University Oakland yesterday to discuss the population boom in the next 10 years and how it will affect employment. Max M. Horton, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, was featured speaker. Here (from left) are the men who led the meeting: Delos Hamlin, chairman; Pontiac Mayor Philip E.

Rowston; Horton; Howard Nelson, manager of Sears Roebuck Store in Pontiac; Dr. Otto C. Hutziger, assistant superintendent of schools in Pontiac; Fred Hagard, executive secretary of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council; and James P. Dickerson, Pontiac Press general advertising manager, representing the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

By DEAN SAUNDERS
The postwar baby boom will soon begin pouring from high schools swelling Oakland County's labor force by more than 100,000 during the 1960s.

This was made clear Tuesday at a meeting of community leaders at Michigan State University Oakland discussing increases in population and the labor force and the effect on employment in Michigan and Oakland County during the 1960s.

"Population and the working force will show a great increase in Michigan and Oakland County during the 1960s and available jobs must increase accordingly," said Max M. Horton, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The meeting brought out some startling facts about Oakland County:

1. The Oakland rate of population increase, estimated during the 1960s will more than double the Michigan rate and nearly triple the national rate.
 2. During the 1960s nearly 135,000 young persons will attain the age of 18 (become a member of the labor force) in Oakland, compared to 41,300 during the past decade.
 3. The increase rate in the total Oakland labor force will equal or exceed that of the last decade.
- Although he spoke only briefly as a member of the local panel, Dr. Otto C. Hutziger, assistant superintendent of schools in Pontiac, struck at the heart of a coming problem and the need of planning for it.
- "In 1952 the community gave us

Calls Legislature to Sept. 22 Huddle

Williams Acts on Aged Care

Legislation to Meet Revised Medical Aid for 120,000 in State

LANSING — Michigan lawmakers will meet in special session Sept. 22 to enact legislation bringing new or improved medical benefits to 120,000 of the state's elderly residents, Gov. Williams said today.

The governor set a date for the session Tuesday night after long negotiations of both parties met behind closed doors for nearly three hours to talk over the proposal.

Republicans and Democrats voiced general agreement on a seven-million-dollar, six-year program that would go into operation Oct. 1, effective date of the new federal program for medical care for the aged.

Lawmakers said they hoped to accomplish their task in one day and return to campaign chores.

ONLY SUBJECT

The session will be confined to the subject of medical care, the governor said.

"If we have to take care of other things, we will have another special session later in the year," he told a news conference.

Basically, the program to be laid before the legislature follows recommendations outlined by Williams two days ago.

It calls for deficit financing for the first six months, using existing welfare funds.

The federal government would pay half of the seven-million-dollar bill, the state and counties the rest.

Persons receiving old-age pensions would get home nursing care in addition to present benefits. Each new pensioner also would get a physical examination when he applies for assistance at age 65.

COUNTY SHARE TO DROP

The county share of hospital costs likely would be cut from 40 to 10 per cent.

Broad hospitalization coverage would be provided for 60,000 other persons not now on old age assistance who are unable to pay major medical expenses.

Additionally, they would receive nursing home and home health care services.

Eligibility would be determined by a means test, with new services limited to those with incomes of less than $1,500 a year and liquid assets not exceeding $1,500.

For couples, the figures would be pegged at $2,000.

Rep. T. John Leishand, D-Detroit, candidate for lieutenant governor, said Democratic conferees pressed for additional medical care and preventive medical service.

They agreed to a more moderate blueprint in the interest of bipartisan harmony, he said.

"We got as much as we thought we could get without running into needless harangue and delay," he said.

Illness Takes Former Athlete

City's Les Mathews Taps in Many Sports in the 1930s

Charles L. Mathews, one of the best all-around athletes in Pontiac's history, died Tuesday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, following a two-week illness. He was 47.

Mr. Mathews, 1408 Glenwood Ave., Sylvan Lake, had been closely associated with athletics in Pontiac since his high school days at Pontiac Central in the early 1930s.

Les, as he was called by nearly everyone who knew him, was active in all sports both during and after his prep days. He starred in basketball, football, baseball and golf at Central.

In 1931 he received All-State recognition at end and he's also given credit for introducing the one-handed push shot in basketball in the Pontiac area.

He was Pontiac Central's leading scorer and also ranked high in state prep scoring circles.

Mr. Mathews was numerous golf and bowling trophies and was active in athletics and recreation activities at General Motors Truck & Coach where he worked in the department of Parts, Service and Material Control.

He was born Jan. 14, 1912, at Decatur, Ill., and moved to Pontiac when he was 5 years old. He was married in Pontiac April 7, 1934, to Esther A. Talbot, who survives.

Other survivors include: Two sons, Charles T. and Michael J. at home; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Laidlaw of Sylvan Lake; three brothers, Merlyn of Pontiac, Lowell of Rochester and Roy of Battle Creek; and a sister, Mrs. Eugene Elkins of Pontiac; and one daughter.

Service will be held Thursday at Veterans-Siple Chapel at 1:30 p.m. with Rev. Galen E. Hershey of First Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

out at the meeting emphasized that the so-called "postwar baby boom" was moving from the schools to the community.

"When a teen-ager becomes 18 years old, he becomes a member of the labor force."

"Michigan is currently in the midst of an increase in the number of people reaching 18," Horton explained.

"Some 96,300 reached 18 last year, and 115,600 will this year and 132,800 in 1961. Ten things will taper off for three years."

"But in 1965 more than 155,000 persons will reach that age and each year thereafter the figure will be around 161,000 until 1969 when 175,100 persons will become 18," Horton said.

1.5 MILLION THIS TIME:

More simply, from 1950-59, approximately 678,100 persons attained the age of 18. From 1960-69, the state will gain nearly 1.5 million 18-year-olds.

Oakland County is no exception. Figures based on school census figures extended to 1970 and adjusted for deaths show about 125,000 persons will reach 18 from 1960-70 in Oakland.

Of these, 32,300 entries in the 18-year-old age group will materialize between now and 1961, while 72,500 will come of age from 1962-69.

During the past decade only 61,300 persons became 18 in Oakland.

According to estimates based on census projections by MSU, the Oakland population growth in the 1950s will equal that of the 1960s.

The total population will increase by about 201,000.

During the 1950s the total Oakland labor force grew from 110,500 to 191,600.

Estimated growth for the next 10 years is expected to equal or surpass that of the past decade.

By 1970 the labor force in Oakland should be at least 270,000.

It was also explained that an estimated 36,000 members of the Oakland labor force now live out of town.

crash trucks reached the blazing wreckage. Several suffered burns and bruises and 20 were reported "shaken up." Flushing Hospital admitted six passengers for treatment of minor burns.

William Kripf, director of flight personnel for American, said many passengers credited the two young stewardesses, who are roommates in Boston, with saving the lives of 76. They did a magnificent job of keeping everyone calm and getting them out fast, he said.

Stewardess Fleming gave the praise back to the passengers. "The passengers had it been extremely calm," she said in her clipped English accent. She showed reporters a left ankle blackened by a foot when she opened an emergency exit to free the passengers.

Miss Gilligan, 23, of Chicago, said she had seen no passenger with clothes afire but "some of them hit their heads." They were, happily, no young children aboard.

Supervisory Captain Fargnoli of Burbank, Mass., had been assigned to the flight on a routine "line check," the airline said. The regular pilot, Captain Gordon Stiles of Fort Beach, N.H., was sitting in a jump seat.

One of the passengers was headed to New York for a physical examination for a job at an American Airlines stewardess, Susan Macbeth, 20, of Stoughton, Mass., said.

"On sure, I'll still be a stewardess," she told newsmen. She said this was only the third time she had been in the air.

G. B. Townsend, 31, Manchester, Mass., investment analyst, said he heard a "horrible thud."

"I was right next to the emergency exit and felt the handle, but was unable to get out because of flames," he said. Eventually another exit was opened.

When he got out, he said, "I started running for my life. I was unable to get as far away from that plane as I could."

One of the youngest passengers was Hilde Pilling, 13, of St. Louis. She was headed back to school after a vacation visit with her grandparents in Maine.

"I didn't think I was going to get through it," she said. "My seat belt slipped but I grabbed it even though I was hanging upside down."

"I was scared. At first I thought it was a nightmare but then I knew it was real. I feel awfully lucky."

Asked why she wanted her husband to be president, Mrs. Kennedy replied: "I think I am as anxious as any woman in America for the future for our country, and rather frightened about it. And I feel that my husband is so equipped to help us in the next decade. He has a conception of America that is great, and he has served it for 14 years, in the war, and I just think he could save the country."

The Day in Birmingham Hills Awards Contracts for Paving, Sewer Line

BIRMINGHAM — Contracts for paving a parking area and replacing a sewer line were awarded last night by the Bloomfield Hills City Commission.

The contract for the blacktopping of the city parking lot around the new Department of Public Works garage, and the laying of a new sewer pipe between Yarbrough and Quanton Roads.

The paving was won by Mike Harabedian of Troy for $7,872. The Gray Bros. Construction Co. of Pontiac received the sewer job for its bid of $7,235.

In another action, the commission hired Harry M. Denyes Jr. of Pontiac to submit preliminary plans and drawings for the remodeling of the city office.

The public meeting to discuss the proposed $11-million Bloomfield Hills internal sewer system will be held two days earlier than scheduled, City Clerk Robert Stadler said today.

The meeting will take place Monday at 8 p.m. at the Cranbrook gymnasium, rather than Wednesday.

The bond proposal, which will be on the ballot in a special election meeting Tuesday night.

More Changes Needed in Social Security

No one yet knows the effect of the medical care legislation recently passed by Congress. Much will depend on the response of the states.

The measure is intended to bring health care to those who can prove they need it and cannot pay for it. Michigan and a few other states already are attempting to provide some such service. But other states have done little or nothing toward assuring health care for older citizens who cannot pay for it.

Another change in the Social Security law has to do with earnings for those over 65. Under present law workers who have not reached the calendar year after their 72nd birthday, and who earn more than $1,200 a year lose some of their monthly benefit checks depending on how much they earn.

The rules have been eased—but not much. One dollar of benefits will be lost for each $2.00 earned between $1,200 and $1,500. From $1,500 to $1,800 the whole $300 will be taken off.

In other words anyone earning $7,800, that is $600 over the present maximum of $1,200 will lose $450. Under the new law extra net earnings permitted without losing all benefits would be a grand total of $150—not much of an incentive.

The Senate had raised the earnings limit to $1,800, but the House turned it down. Several Senators tried to get the limit removed altogether. This makes sense. Social Security is not a dole but an insurance fund and all earnings no matter at what age are subject to that tax.

Those with incomes other than earnings, however, are not limited in any way. Only if a retiree works is he penalized. This doesn't make sense.

Mining Rights Pay-Off Borne by the Taxpayer

In March, 1954, the Al Sarena Mining Co. of Alabama obtained mining rights to 475 acres of Federal timberlands in the Rogue River National Forest of Oregon for $5 an acre. Appraisers at that time estimated that timber on the tract was worth up to $650,000.

For years the company had been trying to get permission to mine the land. The Government refused on the ground that assays showed the ore too low grade to justify mining. But in 1953 Clarence Davis, solicitor and later undersecretary of the interior, permitted the Al Sarena Co. to pick its own assayer in Alabama.

Mr. Davis, who later resigned under fire, accepted the assay overruling Government assays, the Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management. Ore samples which had been taken from the tract and held by the Government were thrown in the Rogue River by an Al Sarena engineer and a Bureau of Mines employee. Thus the evidence was destroyed.

In public hearings the following year it was claimed that the company wanted to exploit the timber under cover of mineral claims. Just before the 1956 Oregon elections miners appeared on the claim in costume and with tools. Pictures were taken of this as proof that mining was going on.

Now comes the pay-off. A Senate investigating subcommittee has found that the Alabama "miners" cut from the tract two million board feet of lumber valued at $110,000. Oregon's Sen. Morse reveals that the Al Sarena Co. sold its claim in 1956 to a logger in Southern Oregon. Some 4.5 million feet more timber have been cut from the tract.

So the return on the company's $2,375 "mining" investment to date is $275,000 taken with the permission of the U.S. Government from the American people, the real owners of this national resource.

An interesting item phoned by Mrs. James McGinnis of 3067 South Adams Road, starts me wondering. She has some strawberries canned by her mother 30 years ago. Why Are We So Lucky?

David Lawrence Says:

Resignation Offer Hurts Kennedy

WASHINGTON — Sen. John F. Kennedy may have pulled the "bomber" of the campaign.

He didn't intend it, of course, but the widespread interpretation that has been placed on his willingness to resign the presidency if any action came up that would require him to "violate" his conscience is certainly unfortunate.

The average man doesn't like the idea that anybody would even consider resigning the presidency for any reason whatsoever—except possibly ill health.

Not is it deemed wise to admit that there is even a possibility of a decision arising in the presidency which, when based on a religious viewpoint, could "violate" the national interest?

Sen. Kennedy's speech before the Greater Houston Ministerial Association at Houston, Tex., was motivated plainly by an honest desire to clear up all doubts as to where the Democratic nominee stands on the so-called "religious issue."

But whoever advised him didn't anticipate the possible meanings that can be derived from the words used.

Here is the exact quotation in the prepared speech as given out in advance:

"Whatever issue may come before me as president on birth control, divorce, censorship, gambling or any other subject—I will make my decision in accordance with these views, in accordance with what my conscience tells me to be the national interest, and without regard to outside religious pressures or dictates."

COULDN'T BE FORCED
"And no power or threat of punishment could cause me to decide otherwise."

"But if the time should ever come—and I do not consider any conflict to be even remotely possible—when my office would require me to either violate my conscience or violate the national interest, then I would resign the office, and I hope any conscientious public servant would do the same."

Many people have read the above to mean that the possibility, though remote, of a conflict between Kennedy's religion and his decisions in public office could come, and that he would resign from the presidency in favor of his religious convictions, or his conscience.

When this writer happened to be in a nearby town today, he talked with a carpenter who said he had read the Kennedy speech, and his comment was:

"Kennedy puts his religion above the presidency—I don't like that. Later on, in talking with a congressman who is prominent in the same community, the identical reaction was forthcoming."

Political speeches that are prepared in advance should be scrutinized for possible ambiguities of this kind.

IMPRESSION COUNTS
For, after all, it is the impression made by the words used, rather than the motivation or intention which counts.

When I am hungry or tired and often for dessert, I take at least 2 glasses of skim milk every day.

"On this diet my gall bladder trouble is greatly relieved. I have gained in vigor and general health, but not in weight."

"Sometimes I wonder why we are not more intelligent about our eating and just why doctors do not go into this food matter more seriously. I am indebted to you for your fine teachings." (M.R.)

What! No meat, no eggs, no vegetables?

Even a peck of spinach every day would be insufficient to supply the minimum daily requirements of essential minerals and vitamins, especially vitamin C. Cooking spinach destroys much of the vitamin C.

If the whole wheat bread is 100 per cent wheat (from which nothing has been removed), it would supply a considerable amount of vitamin B. Wheat, as it comes from the threshing, is the richest food source of vitamin B complex.

WOULDN'T BE ENOUGH
One with gallstones or chronic inflammation of the gall bladder (cholecystitis) may get enough biologically complete protein from skim milk (or whole milk or buttermilk) and wheat, but only two glasses of skim milk a day would be hardly enough to maintain good nutrition.

You should take four glasses of skim milk daily, or the equivalent in cheese (whatever kind you like) and eggs (two a day).

I thank you, M.R., for not mentioning cholesterol. I got so tired of inquiries about this that I can hardly drag myself over to the bowling green.

Gallstones, I regret to say, contain more or less cholesterol. So does healthy bile.

Patients worry about the cholesterol content of food, blood, etc., although no one has shown that cholesterol has anything to do with the occurrence of gallstones or the occurrence of gallbladder trouble.

If your limited diet brought about your gain in vigor and general health, supplementing your diet with the essential I have mentioned probably will satisfactorily not scandalize the neighbors by making you a good 10 years younger.

INDISPENSABLE IN DIET
Milk, skim milk, buttermilk and/or cheese is indispensable in the diet of anyone who wants to keep young.

It is not only the best food source of calcium, which, notwithstanding fussy nutrition about a mistake to devote attention to issues that arise out of bigotry or arguments concerning so complex a subject as religious doctrine or dogma.

Vice President Nixon was right the other day when he urged that

For that kind of issue is not likely ever to be decisive in a presidential election. (Copyright 1959)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Tumble Into a Trap, You Need That Vitamin C

"Due to gallstones my diet is quite limited. It includes whole wheat bread only, that is no white bread; spinach every day; bananas when I am hungry or tired and often for dessert; I take at least 2 glasses of skim milk every day."

"On this diet my gall bladder trouble is greatly relieved. I have gained in vigor and general health, but not in weight."

Knowledge of Bible Urged Before November Election

We might do well to follow the Bible in determining the course to follow in the all important November election. We should be interested first in learning all we can about principles, truths, and deceptions involved.

Let's carefully examine the material which some so glibly call "hate literature." Why not prove it? It's very nice to be impartial and unprejudiced, but can we be nice with a total disregard for truth. Suppose we consult our "impartial" encyclopedia or public library to prove such literature.

I fear our average American is too busy fighting for acceptance of "Universal Brotherhood" to bother about the truth. Is our American way becoming a way in which we cover our eyes, and plug our ears? Robert J. Vogel

Hail 2 Rights Steps as Break-Throughs

By United Press International—A federal judge in Georgia and a U.S. attorney in Tennessee took action under the Civil Rights Act yesterday on charges of discrimination against Negro voters.

Federal District Judge William A. Rouse III, at Macon, Ga., said voting registrars of Terrell County in Southwest Georgia set up different standards for white and Negro registrants, for "no lawful reason."

He issued an injunction to stop the practice and give the registrars 10 days to comply.

"This decision will mark the beginning of a new day for the civil and political rights of Negroes," said John Wesley Davis, president of the Georgia Negro Voters League.

At Memphis, Tenn., U.S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark filed a charge charging 27 white merchants, farmers and businessmen and two banks in agricultural Haywood county with "economic reprisals" against Negroes who registered to vote.

The defendants include attorney Alex H. Gray whose wife is national president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The Tennessee suit is a civil action which simply asks an injunction to stop the alleged reprisals. The defendants, given 30 days to answer, said they had not decided whether to band together to fight the charge. Most of them expressed surprise.

The government suit charged that "fewer than 30% Negroes and more than 650 whites were registered to vote in the predominantly Negro county. County election officials disputed the figures and said there are 497 registered Negro voters and about 6,500 white voters.

The suit charged that Negroes leading a voter registration drive were subjected to "various types of economic penalties" including refusal by some merchants to sell to them.

Sunspots Offer Enigma to Man

Mystery Now Deepens as Spots on Spots Have Been Found Lately

WASHINGTON — Sunspots have baffled man since the ancient Chinese thought they were "flying birds" in the sun. Modern science has now deepened the mystery. The spots themselves have spots. The spots-within-spots were detected in photographs taken above most of the earth's obscuring atmosphere with stratospheres, or balloon-borne telescopes.

The pictures, clearest ever made of the sun's surface, showed bright dots within the umbra or darker region of the sunspots. These dots may be bubbles of rising gas, though astronomers cannot be sure. The dots are less than 200 miles in diameter and have a lifetime of about one half-hour.

DISCOVERED BY GALILEO

The discovery offers an intriguing new clue to an old mystery, the National Geographic Society says. Galileo detected sunspots shortly after he built his telescope in 1610, but hesitated for months to announce his discovery.

At the time, the influence of the ancient Greek philosopher-scientist Aristotle was at its peak. Aristotle had never mentioned sunspots, and in consequence his followers refused to look through Galileo's telescope lest they become bewitched by the seeming impeachment of their master.

Men eventually accepted the idea of spots on the sun. In the 19th century German scientists found they come in 11-year cycles.

Students of sunspots have tried to connect these periods of intense solar activity with everything from swallow migrations to wheat yields. Scholars have noted that the American Revolution, the French Revolution, the Paris Commune, and both Russian Revolutions erupted during periods of maximum solar activity.

If sunspots really do influence social upheavals, however, nervous folk can breathe easily for a few years: The next cycle of sunspots is not expected until 1969.

Though a familiar phenomenon, sunspots cannot be seen by the naked eye except when the sun is shrouded by mist, fog, thin clouds, or reddening at dusk.

The spots look dark only in contrast with the more luminous surface around them; a large sunspot is really as bright as 100 full moons. It may have a diameter four or five times that of the earth.

No one yet knows what causes them, but the spots are great funnel-shaped vortices in the seething outer layers of the sun.

Truman Thinks GOP Starts Religion Digs

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry Truman said today he thinks the Republicans have a nationwide campaign to "circulate all the dirty pamphlets they can find on religion."

Truman made the assertion during his customary morning stroll while on a visit here. "In my home town the Republicans are sending out all the dirty pamphlets they can find on religion," he said.

A reporter among those accompanying him asked if he thought the campaign was part of a nationwide one and Truman replied: "Yes, I think so."

Nobody Wins in Collision of Deer, Sports Car

A deer-sports car collision on Dixie Highway in Holly Township early today apparently ended in a draw, according to sheriff's deputies.

Paul Powers of 6747 Snowapple Drive, Clarkston, said he was traveling south on the highway at about 12:38 a.m. when the deer jumped in front of his small English roadster.

He couldn't avoid hitting it head-on, he said.

The collision caused only slight damage to the car, but the deer went down for the count.

Powers dragged the animal off the road, where it kicked several times. He phoned the sheriff's department.

Deputies said the deer was gone when they arrived.

It must have wandered back into the woods, they theorized.

Rash of Coffee Shops Boosts Consumption

Since New Zealand broke out in a rash of coffee shops a few years ago, the consumption of coffee has quadrupled, Auckland reports.

It is now 1.21 lb. per person per year; the average for the three years up to 1958 was 0.32 lb. In spite of a population increase, tea consumption has remained the same.

46 Japanese Injured
by Suicide Jumper

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—Forty-eight Japanese were injured as the result of a suicide

Monday night. Tokaido-Kansho, 38, jumped to his death in the path of a commuter train, authorities said. The train made an unscheduled stop and moments later it was rammed in the rear by a second train.

Beef Price Dip
May Drop Milk

Dairy Production Has Become Closely Tied to Meat Tabs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A steady decline in beef prices may be leading to lower prices for dairy products, too.

Agriculture Department economists pointed out that in recent years dairy production has been tied closely to beef prices.

When beef prices go up, dairy men sell off their low-producing cows, and milk production drops. When beef prices come down, more dairy cows remain on the farms.

The department reports that during the past year while beef prices have been falling, the decline in dairy cow numbers has been the smallest since 1954.

Beef prices were expected to continue heading down for the next few years, which might halt the decline in dairy cow numbers altogether.

With dairy cow numbers relatively stable, milk production will go up. The average cow's production has been rising 2 percent a year in recent years.

Rising production may lead to lower milk prices.

Protestant Group Seeks Approval of Kennedy's
'Resign' Statement

WASHINGTON — A Protestant group headed by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale called today for an endorsement by the Roman Catholic Church of Sen. John F. Kennedy's position on the religious issue.

The newly-formed "Citizens for Religious Freedom" said the Democratic presidential nominee's disavowal of religious influence was "reassuring" but still left the question of "whether his statement is acceptable to his church."

The group, composed of about 150 Protestant clergymen and laymen, said last week that Kennedy, a Catholic, would be "duty bound" to follow his church's dictates if he were elected president.

Kennedy replied Monday night that he would resign as president rather than allow pressures to influence his actions in the White House.

Peale's group said last night it believed Kennedy's remarks were "the most complete, unequivocal and reassuring statement which could be expected of any person in his position." But it added:

"The only remaining question is whether his statement is acceptable to his church and, of course, he is in no position to answer on that question.

"We do hope that endorsement of his position will be forthcoming from sources of authority in the Roman Catholic Church. When such an endorsement is forthcoming, the question will be settled for all thinking citizens."

Laundry Service

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Self-service laundry operator O. W. Smith recently acquired 82 Mexican coins but he's a mighty unhappy about the rate of exchange.

Eighty-two 16 centavo pieces normally are worth $100.65 cents in American money. But the culprit who stuffed them into the laundry's coin changer may have collected $20.50 if he got five nickels for each Mexican coin.

Falls Asleep Anywhere

OWOSSO — A Grand Trunk train screeched to a stop here when the engineer saw a car parked on the tracks. A look inside the car uncovered Mrs. Kay J. Huff sound asleep.

Mrs. Huff said she must have dozed off while driving and the car stalled on the tracks at an intersection.

Quit Meg, Tony—Lives It Here

'Perfect Butler' Gears for Life in U.S.

By JOYCE SCULLER
CHICAGO (UPI)—The "perfect butler" who quit Britain's royal household in a hull last month took his first look at the United States today and said it looked good.

Thomas Cronin, who gave up cutting for Princess Margaret and her husband Antony Armstrong-Jones after only 25 days' service, came here to meet his new employer, R. A. McAndrews of Riverside, Ill.

McAndrews, president of the Dunlap and Dunlap Palace South of Port Lauderdale, Fla., hired Cronin as chief butler for his sports arena.

The job pays $15,000 a year, better than six times the reported $248 Cronin earned for running the Armstrong-Jones household.

MONEY DOESN'T MATTER: But Cronin staunchly maintained he did not accept the position for financial reasons.

"Money doesn't matter to me," he said. "It was only after accepting the job that I surprised about the rate of exchange to determine how much I would earn."

Cronin allowed the United States might take a bit of getting used to.

"But I'll not need to get used to Americans," he said.

He worked for the American ambassador to Great Britain, John Hay Whitney, for three years.

Told he might find Americans less formal and more unsetting in their native setting, he said:

"They could hardly be more unsetting than the 230 women reporters I served when Vice President Nixon's wife rode in a limousine to the American Embassy."

This female reporter squirmed, then asked, "Aren't you afraid of those man-hungry American women will chase a handsome bachelor like you?"

The silver-haired, 44-year-old Cronin replied:

"I think it would be rather nice to be chased by women. But they'll not get any of my money."

ONLY IN U.S. MOVIES

Cronin, who arrived in the United States wearing what he called his semimilitary outfit—dark coat and striped trousers—changed to a navy blazer, gray flannels and striped regimental tie for street wear.

He expects to transition dressing conservatively, but said his employer predicts he'll wear a loud sports jacket within a few years.

"But not on the job," Cronin said.

He will welcome celebrities at the Dunlap palace, described as the world's biggest and plushiest arena for the Dunlap and Dunlap Palace.

"It's only in American movies the English butlers always dress formally," he said.

ALY'S WEDDING — The will of Aly Khan was published Tuesday and it made special provision for his daughter Yasmin, 10, left, and Simone Bodin, right, better known as the French model Bettina, who was injured in the auto accident that killed Aly. The will instructs Aly's two sons to give affection and protection to Yasmin, daughter of actress Rita Hayworth; it also leaves a mansion in France and $230,000 to Bettina.

Trial by Fire—Look Out for That 1st Step

DETROIT (AP)—John Ingolia saw smoke pouring from a second-floor window next door Tuesday. He moved into the apartment building and found an over-stuffed chair afire. He grabbed it and started downstairs.

Halfway down, he met a woman who entered. "Don't bring that smelly thing down here," she replied, stumbling back up the stairs.

Ingolia took the chair through a back door on the second floor, but found himself treading air. The porch had been ripped down some time ago.

Ingolia's injuries were minor. There wasn't much left of the chair.

The costs of settling a $10,000 estate average about one-fifth of the gross estate. Outstanding debts average between 5 and 10 percent and administrative expenses between 10 and 15 percent. In addition, 2 or 3 percent may have to go for inheritance taxes.

Anti-Russian Riot Breaks Out in Cuba

HAVANA (AP)—Police in the town of Perico about 100 miles east of Havana said two persons were wounded and a number of others were arrested during rioting which followed a public dance Tuesday night.

Unconfirmed reports said the fighting broke out following chants of "Cuba yes, Russia no."

Lodge Winds Up 2-Day Swing

Pledges More Jobs and Brushes Off Religious, Political Issue

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Republican Vice Presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, pledging to put life into chronic unemployment areas, winds up a two-day campaign swing through Western Pennsylvania today with brief stops at four industrial communities.

Lodge told thousands in Erie, Pa., Tuesday that foreign affairs and unemployment are major issues in the presidential race. He promised a GOP ticket would revitalize industry "to the full extent that our leadership can bring about a decision by Congress which will reflect the true public interest."

Lodge brushed off the religious issue sharply. "A man's religion has nothing to do with the presidency," he said while predicting a Republican victory in the November election.

The former ambassador to the United Nations addressed an overflow crowd of 7,500 at Gannon College in Erie and made sidekick talks in Sharon, Mercer and Meadville in Northwestern Pennsylvania and in Youngstown, Ohio.

His schedule today calls for stops at Butler, New Castle, Ellwood City and Beaver, Pa., before flying to Chicago.

India Patents Invention to Cut Costs of Diesels

An Indian engineer has patented an invention which may "revolutionize the manufacture of diesel locomotives the world over," New Delhi reports. Named after the inventor, M. M. Suri, the Suri transmission is a new system which may bring down the capital and running costs of diesel locomotives and ensure greater efficiency in diesel traction.

The Indian government has taken over the invention for commercial exploitation and granted a license for seven prototypes to a West German firm.

Mark Twain's favorite Bourbon or Scotch?

Perhaps at one time or another, you've seen Mark Twain featured in our Old Crow advertising. The reason is that Mark Twain's favorite bourbon was Old Crow. He was known to have been so pleased with our bourbon that he made a trip to Kentucky to visit James Crow's distillery. There he ordered 25 barrels of Old Crow for his favorite tavern in Elmira, New York.

But recently we were challenged. An executive from a competitive whiskey company wrote us saying he had incontrovertible evidence proving Mark Twain to be a Scotch drinker! We checked immediately and found that yes, it was true, the great American author had once been a Scotch drinker during his early years! But further examination revealed that he subsequently changed to bourbon!

Now, many city folk are going through the same taste change that Mark Twain experienced. They've tasted them all and are now savoring the simple goodness of fine bourbon. Have you tried the time-honored flavor of light, mild Old Crow 86 proof Kentucky bourbon? It is America's favorite. Try it and you'll see why Mark Twain was a bourbonite in his time — and an Old Crow fan.

EYES SWIM FEAT — Well-known distance swimmer Florence Chadwick, 42, of San Diego, Calif., Thursday will make a second attempt at a 24-mile swim across the Irish Sea. She is shown here training in Scotland, and will attempt the swim from Ireland to Scotland. She tried and failed three years ago to become the first woman to accomplish the feat.

Senator From Missouri Cancer Victim at 57

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., D-Mo., died of cancer at the age of 57. Hennings died Tuesday, only a few hours after he had been sent home from George Washington University Hospital. He had undergone an abdominal operation at Mayo Clinic last May when his ailment grew progressively worse and he was unable to attend the Democratic National Convention or the August session of Congress.

Hennings, though he came from a border state, was an outspoken advocate of strong civil rights legislation. He also favored substantial foreign aid, with emphasis on economic rather than military help for friendly countries.

He was elected to the Senate in 1950, and re-elected in 1956. He served in the House from 1935 to 1941, when he left to become a lieutenant commander in the Navy.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential candidate, said Hennings' death was a great loss to his party and country.

Hennings' Missouri colleague, Sen. Stuart Symington, called him "a great senator and a great humanitarian who was generally recognized as the outstanding constitutional authority of his time."

Gov. James T. Blair of Missouri, a Democrat, said the state and nation "has lost an outstanding citizen, an eminent lawyer and a great statesman and legislator."

Blair said he would call a special session Nov. 8 to fill the unexpired two years of Hennings' term.

Maintains TV Shouldn't Irk

Job of Show Biz Is to Entertain

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Freedom of speech is one thing," said actor-producer Ronald Reagan, "but it certainly does not include permission for the producers of a television show to go out of their way to offend certain groups in the viewing audience."

Reagan, host and often star of the G. E. Theater which soon will start its seventh year on the air, was talking about frequent criticism of television for its lack of daring, its reluctance to experiment.

"There's a whole school of people in the entertainment business today which seems to exist primarily for its own amazement," Reagan continued. "And that's all right, but I don't think these people have any right to expect that this eliminates their responsibility toward children and young people in the big audience, toward people who want entertainment from television and toward stockholders and boards of directors of companies that sponsor television entertainment."

Hollywood, said Reagan, became a great film capital by "matching up good stories with good, capable stars."

"We feel that it is our obligation to entertain people," he said. "It is the course of entertaining them, we find a way to uplift them or to better them, that is plus value. But if our show refuses to go in for sordid, unpleasant themes and unwelcome subjects, it is not because of the 'cowardice' of the sponsors. It's just that we don't think that's our job."

There are 2,412,055 households in Tokyo, which has an estimated population of 9,353,127.

That was the prediction of informed U.S. and Japanese sources today as the President prepared to answer Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's letter renewing his standing invitation.

These sources said Eisenhower was giving no encouragement to suggestions that he consider additional goodwill tours before his White House term expires next January.

The kiltie, an American plover, lays eggs which are stone-colored. She builds her nest in a hollow surrounded by a camouflage of small stones and bits of shell which resemble the eggs.

Hilton's Newest Project —Eighth Hill for Rome—

ROME (UPI) — Conrad Hilton, the man who built or operated hotels that reach from the Waldorf to the one in Istanbul, embarked officially here the other day on his most ambitious project. He is building an eighth hill in Rome.

No kidding. When at long last and after dismantling blocks the foundation stone of the Cavalieri Hilton was put in place Monday it was revealed that one of the conditions must be that Hilton build a hill to hide his magnificent new hotel from Roman eyes. So he's building a hill on Monte Mario, high over the dome tops of the Eternal City.

Hilton is operating or is in the process of operating a hotel system that has never known a competitor.

There are now Hiltons of various names and shapes in Australia, Canada, Egypt, West Germany, Mexico, Panama, Puerto Rico, Spain, the Virgin Islands and the aforementioned Turkey.

In gastronomic stage are Inns in Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Athens, London, Rome, Tehran, Trinidad, Tokyo, Bogota, Mayaguez (Puerto Rico), Adis Ababa, Australia, New Zealand, Paris, Montreal, Tunis, Geneva and Brasilia.

But Romans, critically in need of more hotel rooms, gave him his head.

When the Communies stopped picking on the project, the owners of Rome's top hotels started in. It should have been finished long before the Olympics but it will not be ready for two years and more.

To keep the beautiful 411-room structure from "offending," builders have had to dig a kind of crater in the top of Monte Mario and then that screening hill to build.

To satisfy its eventual neighbors in this swank district the hotel must build a 15-acre park around it. Some 300,000 cubic yards of earth have been moved to date and there is much more work to come.

A new distance record for outboard boats — 3,700 miles — was claimed last fall by two residents of Vicksburg, Miss., who traveled from Vicksburg to the Atlantic end of the Panama Canal in a 22-foot fiberglass reinforced plastic of more hotel rooms, gave him his head.

Demands Death Edit in Polish Embezzlement

WARSAW (AP)—A Polish prosecutor Tuesday demanded the death sentence for two men accused of embezzling more than $1 million dollars — $324,000 — from a state-run tanning factory. Legal experts said it was the first time the state has sought the death penalty for an economic offense. The surprise move came at the end of a six-week trial of 23 persons charged with misappropriating funds and property of the Warsaw tanning factory.

LAST YEAR 72,223 horses were slaughtered in this country. The highest United States consumers are dog food manufacturers. Abroad there's a good market for horse meat for human consumption.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have noticed that embossed lines in the gum area of the dentures are just as noticeable as the teeth themselves. Just replace a little FALSE TEETH, the solution (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold them down more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Don't let your friends "take a look" at your false teeth at all. Get FALSE TEETH at drug stores.

Business Waits, Wonders

Where's That Fall Upswing This Year?

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The fall business upswing still drags its feet. Many who had counted upon Labor Day's passage to work its usual magic are growing restive. The stock market, which has been watching and waiting, is getting fidgety. It has painful memories of other years when the seasonal fall upswing didn't come. And September is at the midpoint with the official start of autumn scarcely more than a week away.

Some hope that with the passing of both Donna and the Pennsylvania Railroad strike the Northeast industrial centers will pick up activity.

But from the steel mills comes word that new orders are still too slow to point to much, if any, increase in output this month, and probably to only a faint one in October.

MORE TO LEND

The banks have been granted more available funds to lend and still suffering from the drop in total amount of steel the auto industry will need.

sported with any flurry of borrowing. All the more disconcerting, while American business seems stalemated, Western European industries are booming.

More funds are available here for mortgages and in some areas the terms are easier. But the home building industry, facing its usual seasonal downturn for weather reasons, is also beginning to write off any pickup for some months to come because of high prices and too few shoppers for new homes.

The auto industry is busy turning out new models for presentation over the next few weeks. But however good their reception may turn out, dealers still aren't out from under the big stock of unsold 1960 models.

Auto companies are ordering steel for their new models. But the compact cars take less than the large ones. And the steel mills, although thankful that auto orders are giving steel production its principal lift at the moment, are still suffering from the drop in total amount of steel the auto industry will need.

Steel output dropped below 50 per cent of capacity both in the fourth of July and in the Labor Day weeks. But its expected rebound this week turns out to be scarcely more than a mild bounce, up to 52.7 per cent of capacity.

Back in midsummer the steel industry had looked for much more than that by mid-September. Steel output has yet to show anything like a normal seasonal recovery from summer dullness.

Anti-Castroites in Cuba Threaten to Kill Mr. K

HAVANA (AP)—An anti-Castro group threatened Tuesday to kill Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev if he visits Cuba. Signed by a group calling itself "The Five," the threat was contained in mimeographed letters addressed to the Soviet Embassy here and distributed to other foreign embassies.

The number of deportations from the United States during 1959 decreased 11 per cent over 1958.

Q. My husband and I work, but would like to have a dog. Would it be harmful to the dog's character to leave it alone all day?

A. Although there are not the ideal circumstances under which to raise a dog, the obstacles aren't great enough to deny yourselves the enjoyment of a puppy. Many
 alone all day.

Because you will not always be there to reprimand the puppy in his mischievous moments, it will naturally take longer to train him.
 Isolate him from furniture and other valuables he might decide to chew on.

Leave him water in a heavy container that can't tip over, and plenty of dry food snacks. Feed the puppy as soon as you arise in the morning, so that he can be taken outside before you leave for work.
 Early evening feeding followed by outings will also help the housebreaking problem. Your working hours are no longer than the night period when dogs are alone, and you can catch up with lost affection and companionship in the evenings and weekends.

Candid Camera Gets Godfrey

'Old Redhead' to Host Sunday Night Show on CBS-TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations have not yet been concluded, but it looks as though Arthur Godfrey will be returning to weekly television in less than three weeks on his own "Candid Camera."

Viewers remember the "Candid Camera" hilarity on last season's Garry Moore Show—a sort of people's page of average citizens, taken under exasperating or amusing circumstances. At first blush it hardly seems to be an ideal vehicle for a TV personality of Godfrey's stature. The program is based on a device which is more important than any star connected with it.

Godfrey, however, does not feel that way about the new CBS show, scheduled to enter the Sunday evening line-up on Oct. 2.

"It's the only gimmick idea I've had in a long time," he explained, "and I think it will prove a good reprieve from the usual television fare and there's plenty of room in it for creative imagination."

GUEST ON 1ST SHOW

Allen Funt, the producer, and I had a long talk about that Monday and the possibilities of the program are inexhaustible."

Godfrey's interest was caught by the program when he was called to be a guest on the first show. He played the part of an itinerant ice cream salesman trying to sell a premium flavor of ice cream. The man known as America's greatest salesman lost the sale.

"It was a good gag," he said, "and I had lots of fun. This particular type of thing I've always loved."

It had been announced that Edie Albert would act as host on the show, but Michael Dana, programming vice president of CBS-TV, said negotiations for Albert's services had reached something of an impasse when Godfrey indicated serious interest in the show.

Korean Students Riot Over School Principal

The latest food among students the world over—manned demonstrations—was tried again in Seoul, South Korea, recently. In the spot where much larger demonstrations toppled the Syngman Rhee government earlier, 125 high school boys squatted on the Seoul City Hall Plaza in an effort to get their principal fired.

They charged he was derelict in his duties but troops broke up their protest before the principal was "toppled."

Women Make Good as 'Clippers' in Ghana

The municipal transport service recently started employing Ghanaian women as "clippers," or ticket collectors. Accra reports.

In the past the people of Accra had been considered too difficult to be handled by women, but recently the women have proved themselves capable of doing anything the men can do.

Of the women clippers, a common sight in Accra today, the transport manager says, "They're just as good as the men."

Fliers Plan Rendezvous With No. 15

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Air Force fliers plan a risky rendezvous today with the parachuting payload of Discoverer XV.

The rocket, launched at 8:13 p.m. Tuesday, is striking the earth every 34 seconds. In its nose is an instrumented capsule whose hope is to catch the flier's second aerial recovery of an object from orbit.

Discoverer XIV's capsule was caught in the air Aug. 18 as it dropped toward the target area near the Hawaiian Islands. Planes missed Discoverer XII's payload but it was fished unharmed from the sea.

Like previous Discoverer shots, No. 15 was fired from the big West Coast missile base into a polar orbit, south to north.

It went into orbit almost perfectly, circling the poles on an 87-day course as far out as 442 miles and as close as 120 miles.

On the 17th trip, about 8 p.m. EST today, the capsule should detach from the rocket carrier over the Arctic and begin a descent toward a 65-by-200-mile target area north of Hawaii.

Hawaii-based C-119 flying boxcars trailing huge trapezes will try to snag it.

Discoverer XV carried aloft "sky suit" gear being tested for the upcoming Midas and Samos satellites. These are expected to be able to photograph, listen in, and detect missile launches anywhere.

There is nothing live aboard this Discoverer. Later rockets will carry laboratory animals.

U.S. to Restrict Fidel Like Nik

Cuba's Boss Also Must Stay on Manhattan During U.N. Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro restricted to Manhattan Island when he attends the United Nations General Assembly session in New York, beginning next week.

The limitations imposed on Castro's movements are the same as those previously set on the travels in this country of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and two other Soviet-bloc leaders.

This latest move by the United States in preparation for dealing with the New York assembly of many government chiefs who follow the lead taken by Khrushchev was announced at a news conference today by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Herter said the Cuban Embassy was formally advised this morning of the restrictions on Castro.

London Eyes Pay TV for Cultural Programs

A new pay-as-you-see television service may be the government's answer to the problem of a third TV channel, London reports.

Officials are in favor of setting up another commercial channel separate from the ITA and the BBC, to carry programs of higher cultural and educational quality.

Since this type of program wouldn't attract large enough audience to earn a high advertising revenue, officials are investigating a shilling-in-the-slot system.

Imported Cars Set State High

August Registrations in Surprising Boom With Special Simca Deal

LANSING (UPI).—Secretary of State James M. Hare reports August registration of foreign cars hit a record high with 2,426 registrations.

"This occurred during a month when many automobile editors were quoting industry predictions that import sales would dip," Hare said.

He said the upsurge in foreign car registrations was accelerated by a special deal offered to Chrysler Corp. employees to buy the French Simca at sharply reduced prices.

Chrysler handles American distribution of the Simca.

There were 677 Simcas registered in August compared with the perennial leader in the foreign car field, Volkswagen, which has 788 registrations, Hare said.

Other imports and the number registered in August included Renault, 242; English Ford, 99; Opel, 90; Fiat, 78; Triumph, 67; and Metropolitan, 56.

BISHOP BACK — Dr. Ambrose Reeves, Anglican bishop of Johannesburg who was deported from South Africa Monday, is greeted by his wife Margaret at London Airport Tuesday. Dr. Reeves, who fled from South Africa last April when he believed he was about to be arrested for assailing the South African government's racial policies, returned to Johannesburg last Saturday. He was expelled after a stay of only 48 hours. The bishop told London newsmen, "I am still bishop of Johannesburg, and at present I intend to remain just that."

Suffocation causes an estimated 11,000 deaths in the United States each year. Minnesota, known for its 11,000. The Pony Express, originated in 1860, was in operation about 16 months.

Scientist Sees Ability to Survive Waning

Says Man Pays High Price for Comfort

NEW YORK (AP) — Modern man's comfort, he suggested, may cost him much of his ability to adapt and survive, a scientist suggested today.

The danger lies in failing to use a natural gift held by even the simplest bacteria—the ability to adapt within limits to one's environment.

Dr. Van R. Potter of the University of Wisconsin reported this morning at a meeting of the American Chemical Society. Earlier, in a

When the surplus material is used up, the chemical production line is freed and begins producing again.

Each individual human or one-celled, is allowed some change within its particular genetic pattern.

Darwin suggested that man would evolve to perfect form, Dr. Potter said. But man must be aware that the vast majority of species have become extinct and the possibility exists for mankind.

There are obvious dangers in obesity and lack of muscle development which degrades man's ability to meet severe physical challenge. Less obvious and less easily recovered are mental skills and attitudes, Dr. Potter said.

Dr. Arthur Pardee, University of California biochemist, explained how elaborate was the chemical machinery within a single bacterial cell.

So efficient is the cell that 98 per cent of its food is used for growth. In one cell there may be as many as a million chemical reactions a minute.

If you damage the cell's ability to adapt its chemistry, you upset its efficiency and make a "perfect idiot" out of an intelligently operating cell.

happens even animals — may have evolved from colonies of such genetically damaged cells.

Unable to provide themselves with chemicals they needed for existence, these cells by some accident may have been thrown to a mutual death with other cells with the chemicals they lacked.

Senegal Troops Sent to Border

DAKAR, Senegal (UPI) — Senegalese troops were sent to the Sudan border following Sudan's proclamation of martial law, it was reported Tuesday.

The troops apparently were sent as a defense measure against any attack from Sudan, observers said.

Sudan and Senegal, former French colonies, broke up their union as the Mali Federation last month when Senegal pulled out. France has recognized Senegal as a separate nation, but Sudan insists that the federation still is in force.

Bagwell Plans Fast Action

Vows Citizens Group to Blueprint Cure for State Financial Woes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Republican Paul D. Bagwell said Tuesday that if he is elected governor Nov. 8 he will name a citizens action committee "within two days" to blueprint a cure for state financial ills.

"This will not be a study committee. We have shelves of studies now, all of them gathering dust," he said in a talk before the Michigan Table-Top Congress, a tavern owners group.

Bagwell said it would be handed the job of "reviewing the state's financial situation in the light of the vote on the (four-cent) sales tax . . . and recommending a program to the 1961 legislature."

The lawmakers convene in January for next year's regular meeting. Bagwell said his action committee would be given a Dec. 15 report deadline.

NO DOMINATION

The group, he said, would be chosen to represent business, labor, state and local government, agriculture, education—and dominated by no single element.

"Recommendations involving immediate constitutional changes would be placed on the ballot for a popular vote at the April 1961 election," Bagwell added.

"And by May of 1961 I would expect legislative action of the program to bring order out of financial chaos."

With Information—Weatherman Says Weatherman

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weather researchers gathered more information about hurricanes from Donna than all tropical storms since the national hurricane research project began in 1956, says the chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer said tracking warning and forecasting during the passage of Hurricane Donna were the most complete in history, adding that if Donna had occurred five years ago, thousands of people might have lost their lives because of less adequate warning.

"Donna has left no doubt that it was the most destructive and vicious storm since Weather Bureau records were first kept in 1886," Reichelderfer said.

CROSS VILLAGE (UPI) — The possibility of shifting the mainland terminal of the Beaver Island Boat Co.'s Emerald Isle from Charlevoix to Cross Village was being considered today.

The move would shorten the route from 24 miles to 24 miles and cut the crossing time from two hours and 45 minutes to two hours.

party leader; Antonin Novotny, Czechoslovakian president and Red boss; Wladyslaw Gomulka, Polish Communist chief; and Janos Kadar, Red leader in Hungary. All are first secretaries of their respective Communist parties.

West Wonders What Nikita Has in Mind

Satellite Six Follow K to New York

By ENDRE MARTON
WASHINGTON (AP)—When Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrives next week to lead the Soviet Union's delegation to the United Nations, there will be a strange six-man group in his retinue.

The six European satellite members of the world organization are sending their undisputed leaders to the session. They are Poland's Wladyslaw Gomulka, Hungary's Janos Kadar, Romania's Gheorghiu-Dej, Czechoslovakia's Antonin Novotny, Bulgaria's Todor Zhivkov, and Albania's Mehmet Shehu.

All of them except Shehu are first secretaries of their respective parties, the highest rank a man can reach in the Communist hierarchy. Shehu is Albania's prime minister. Novotny, beside being the party boss, also is Czechoslovakia's president.

State Department officials tersely call this Red-star studded parade of Communist chieftains "most interesting."

Khrushchev made it clear some time ago that he wanted a mass summit meeting at the U.N. headquarters. The free world's leaders generally ignored his overtures, but a growing list of top officials from other countries is planning to attend.

EDUCATED GUESSES
No one professes to know what Khrushchev had in mind in bringing along the satellite leaders. Specialists on Soviet affairs speculate on these as possible reasons:

1. Khrushchev wants to impress the free world with his unprecedented parade, demonstrating undisputed leadership in the Communist orbit. The West, the same officials maintain, will not be impressed. They say the show will prove once again what the free world knows and what Moscow indignantly denies, that the satellites are not free countries and their leaders get their cues from the Kremlin.

2. Khrushchev might want to impress someone else, too: Red China's Mao Tse-tung, the man who must quickly recognize leadership in the Communist world.

3. Summitry was invented by the Russians and despite the fiasco in Paris last May, Khrushchev insists that only a meeting of top leaders can remedy the world's headaches. He now wants to prove that though cold-shouldered by the West, the General Assembly meeting will be some kind of a summit, however limited in scope.

4. Khrushchev, in his peculiar way, is a vain man, extremely sensitive to protocol. When he comes to the United Nations, the meeting should be attended by men of the same standing, and not just foreign ministers, who usually lead their delegations on such occasions.

From among the six men Poland's Gomulka and Hungary's Kadar are the best known. Gomulka, now 55, is the only one of the six who maintains some limited independence from Moscow. The former oil field mechanic, professional agitator and anti-Nazi resistance leader spent many years in prison both before and after the war. During the great purges of the late 1940s he was labeled a deviationist and was arrested in 1951, but his comrades never tried him. The historic autumn of 1956 returned Gomulka to power and he immediately established a separate course for Poland's Communists, despite Khrushchev's personal frantic efforts to keep him in line.

CLIMB TO POWER
Kadar, 46, a former factory worker, was a second-string underground Communist leader during Hungary's Nazi occupation. When the Communists took over he became interior minister, but then was arrested himself by the Stalinist dictator Matyas Rakosi and tortured by the same secret police he helped to create.

Kadar's comeback was in connection with the October 1956 revolution, during which he became first secretary of Hungarian Communists, while Imre Nagy headed the revolutionary government. The circumstances why and how Kadar betrayed Nagy and the revolution are still obscure. Nagy was executed two years later and Kadar now is the leading Communist of his country.

Czechoslovakia's Novotny, 56, Romania's Gheorghiu-Dej, 58, and Bulgaria's Zhivkov, 49, escaped the purges and the Communist arrests. Novotny was once a metal worker, Gheorghiu-Dej a top-ranking trade union official, and Zhivkov a printer before climbing to the top in their respective countries. Novotny is the only one who can boast of having spent a long term in a Nazi prison and later in the Mauthausen extermination camp.

Albania's Shehu, at 42 the youngest of the group, differs from the others in many respects. Firstly, he is only prime minister of his tiny country on the Adriatic. Next he is the son of a Moslem priest, and lastly he was not a worker, but a professional army officer trained in an Italian army school before the war and in Moscow's Military Academy after. A man who fought with the Loyalists in the Spanish civil war, he is known to be a firm adversary of Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito.

ROYAL REPLACEMENT — Michigan is a state of boundless resources and it appears beauty is one of our most abundant. Here, flashing a smile that would have sent shivers up and down the lovely spines of the Miss America contestants in Atlantic City, N. J., last weekend, is Donna Jean Shepard, 18, of Dowagiac, our new Miss Michigan. Donna Jean, a freshman at Central Michigan University, finished second to Nancy Anne Fleming, now Miss America, and has been chosen to replace her as the state's reigning beauty.

Knights of Pythias at Pontiac Lodge 19 honored three of its members marking their 50th year in the club at a banquet last night. Jeweled pins and certificates were presented to Philip H. Kemp, 265 Cherokee Road; Glen E. Seely, 4389 Forest Drive, Waterford Township; and D. Carl Kemp, 185 Ward Road, Bloomfield Township.

All three men were knighted into Lodge 19 the same evening in 1910.

Last night's presentations were made by William H. Rice, grand chancellor of the Domain of Michigan.

J. L. Van Wagoner was named delegate from here to the Domain's Grand Lodge meeting in Muskegon Thursday through Saturday.

Lodge 19's annual Hunters Banquet will be held Oct. 11 at the club hall, 18 1/2 W. Huron St. Chancellor Commander Maynard A. Winkley announced.

Foster Furcolo Upset for Senate

9 Primaries Fill Candidate Ranks

By United Press International
November candidates emerged from nine state primary elections today facing campaign trails looking as rugged and uncertain as those confronting national standard bearers.

There were few surprises. But voters responded enthusiastically, here and there in near-record numbers, to familiar candidates and active politicians.

The primaries decided congressional, gubernatorial and state candidates in Arizona, Colorado, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Utah, Vermont, Washington State and Wisconsin.

Massachusetts recorded a major upset, handing Springfield Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination over Gov. Foster Furcolo.

In one of the first of similar statements through the night as unsuccessful candidates conceded primary elections to their intra-party rivals, Furcolo offered his "congratulations and support" to O'Connor, a 34-year-old bachelor.

Other veteran campaigners who ran either unopposed or with only token opposition, including Democratic Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Republican convention keynote Rep. Walter Judd, both in Minnesota, won nomination easily.

The contests shed little light on November chances of Republican presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon and his Democratic opponent, John F. Kennedy. But much of the voting reflected campaigns by both national parties to teach citizens the potential power of a handful of votes.

Vermont and Arizona contests offered a few clues to November presidential prospects.

Vermont Republican Lt. Gov. Robert S. Babcock lost a close battle for the gubernatorial nomination to State House Speaker F. Ray Sawyer Jr., who made a campaign issue of a reported statement by Babcock that the lieutenant governor had never been "overwhelmingly enthusiastic" about Nixon.

SURPRISE WINNER — Springfield, Mass., Mayor Thomas J. O'Connor lets out a victory yell on hearing that Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo, his opponent, conceded the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate. Furcolo said he would support O'Connor and all Democratic nominees.

In Arizona, poll workers reported about a 50 per cent turnout of registered voters. Neither Gov. Paul Fannin, a Republican, nor Rep. Stewart Udall, a strong Kennedy backer and new state party leader, had primary opposition.

Conservators predicted a tight vote might indicate both Udall and Kennedy had lost favor with conservative Democrats in Arizona, home state of conservative GOP Sen. Barry Goldwater.

COYA LEADS

In Minnesota, former Rep. Coya Knutson of "Coya come home" fame, carried a narrow lead through the night over State Sen. Roy Wiest for the Democratic-farmer-labor 9th district nomination for Congress.

Mrs. Knutson, unseated in 1958 by Republican Odys Langin, blamed her defeat on a letter allegedly written by her husband Andy begging her to return to Olney and housekeeping.

Other primary highlights: Arizona — Superior Judge Lorna Lockwood, a Democrat, unseated Justice M. T. Phelps and will be the state's first woman Supreme Court justice since she is unopposed in November. Richard Halsey, a 125th-congressman since 1948, easily beat Democratic rival Mubarak Ali Khan.

Colorado — Democrats nominated attorney Franklin Stewart of Pueblo to try to unseat Rep. J. Edgar Crenshaw in the 2nd District, where the Republican victories since 1956 have been narrow. Voter turnout was estimated at about 25 per cent.

Massachusetts — Apart from the O'Connor-Furcolo contest, Secretary of State Joseph D. Ward edged away from six other Democratic gubernatorial hopefuls. Former State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe was unopposed for the GOP gubernatorial nomination.

Former House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. easily disposed of his first GOP primary opponent 30 years after a victory over Oscar H. Peterson in North Eastern in the 18th District.

Minnesota — Mayor P. Kenneth Peterson of Minneapolis coasted to the GOP U.S. Senate nomination and will face Humphrey in November.

New Hampshire — A post-mortem offered a close race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination between political enemies Gov. Wesley Powell and former Gov. Hugh Gregg.

Former Lacrosse Mayor Bernard L. Beutin had relatively easy sailing in his bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. GOP Sen. Styles Bridges had only token opposition for nomination to his fifth consecutive term.

Utah — George D. Clyde, a Republican, won nomination for a second term as governor. He will be opposed by William A. Bar-locker, 59, turkey grower and St. George mayor who if elected would be Utah's second youngest chief executive.

Vermont — Republican Gov. Robert T. Stafford won the right to oppose for Congress U.S. Rep. William H. Meyer, first Democrat in more than a century to represent Vermont in the House.

Washington — Only a small voter turnout was reported in the GOP gubernatorial nomination race between State Schools Sup. Lloyd J. Andrews and State Rep. Newman "Zeke" Clark.

Wisconsin — Republicans outpolled Democrats, but GOP organization candidate Ivan Kindach suffered a major upset in the race for state treasurer nomination from veteran campaigner Mrs. Dena Smith of Milwaukee.

Li. Gov. Phillip Nash, 50, a Wisconsin Rapids cranberry grower, overcame a smear campaign to beat Milwaukee attorney Jerome Grant for the second term. Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson and GOP gubernatorial nominee Phillip G. Kuenen were easy victors.

Dominicans Approve Political Amnesty

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (UPI) — The Dominican Senate Tuesday approved a bill submitted by a new President Joaquin Balaguer to grant a general amnesty to political prisoners.

Balaguer replaced President Hector B. Trujillo last month but Trujillo's brother Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo retained political power in the nation.

The six Roman Catholic bishops of the Dominican Republic have twice urged the government to free political prisoners this year. Gen. Trujillo replied that the law did not permit such an action.

Last June, the Inter-American Peace Committee accused the Trujillo regime of "arbitrary arrest, cruel and inhuman treatment of political prisoners, and the use of intimidation and terror for a political weapon."

Woman Was Murdered After Seeing Film

Do TV and Movies Encourage Crime?

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Do crime movies and TV shows incite crime?

The question has long been argued. It was brought up again last week when a confessed triple slayer in Hollywood said he killed victim No. 2 after taking her to see the film "Psycho."

The stranger insisted the movie did not prompt his deed.

"I don't know why I did it," he said. "I occasionally get a strange urge to kill. Most of the time I get rid of it by watching TV or going to the movies, but sometimes—"

The story that gave ammunition to both sides in the continuing argument about the effect of crime portrayals:

1. Upholders of films could reason that movies offer a vicious outlet for criminal urges.

2. Their opponents could argue that the seeing of "Psycho" and the committing of the murder were too close to be coincidental.

HITCHCOCK MUM

Alfred Hitchcock, who made "Psycho," declined to enter the controversy. Nor was there any comment from the Motion Picture Association, which gave the film its Production Code seal. Code overseer Geoffrey Shurlock has been barred from public comment.

In the days when he was allowed to talk, Shurlock told me that he did not believe crime films induced criminal activity. He said he kept track of news stories that claimed a criminal had committed a crime on the stimulus of seeing a movie. All such cases were thoroughly investigated, Shurlock said, and it was found the crimes stemmed from other causes.

William H. Parker, Los Angeles chief of police, has this to say: "The power of suggestion to persons easily stimulated undoubtedly—"

South Carolina Officials Seek Business in SA

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—South Carolina Gov. Ernest F. Hollings and a 27-man committee of the state's industrial and business leaders held a final series of informal meetings with local officials Tuesday before flying to Montevideo, Uruguay.

The Carolinians arrived in this Argentine capital Sunday on the first part of a six-city tour of South America designed to drum up business for the recently modernized and expanding port of Charleston.

Lawrence, Kan., was founded in 1854 by a group of abolitionists of the New England Emigrant Aid Society, headed by Amos A. Lawrence of Boston.

GETS AGREEMENT

His opinion is shared by Dr. Frederick J. Hacker, psychiatrist head of the Hacker Clinic in Beverly Hills.

"I personally do not believe accounts of crimes in mass media create criminals, but they can create a crime in persons predisposed to criminal activity," Dr. Hacker said.

Other countries are more sensitive to the treatment of crime and violence on the screen, England,

India and Indonesia are among the nations whose censors often make wholesale cuts in Hollywood crime films.

The Production Code has strongly worded provisions: "Excessive and inhuman acts of cruelty and brutality have no proper place on the screen."

"Psycho" is an example of the current loosening of the code to permit more daring film material. Hitchcock never shows a blow being landed, but the terror is unmistakable.

Ostriches Run Wild as Mayors Sweep Ahead

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The "Kentucky Ostrich Derby" at the State Fair was a pug, but the brooms waved by the three drivers had a real use.

The ostrich has 180-degree vision. It runs when it sees, the broom near its head.

To make the ostrich pull the chariot left, right or straight ahead the driver merely waves the broom in the desired direction.

Parke, Davis Denies Hiding 'Danger'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., Tuesday accused a major drug firm, Parke, Davis & Co., of trying to get the government to "water down" a required danger warning on use of the antibiotic drug chloromycetin.

Harry J. Loyd, president of the firm, immediately denied the charge and repudiated a letter sent from his firm to the Federal Food & Drug Administration five years ago.

The forested area of Canada is exceeded only in size by the forest lands of the United States and Brazil.

Why More Training?

The Job Guide, published by the U. S. Dept. of Labor, gives this answer: "You should weigh carefully the long run advantages offered by jobs you are considering against immediate gains. You should be aware of the great importance of education as a general and specific basis. Technical or professional training received after leaving high school will give you definite advantages in seeking and finding a job. When advancement opportunities occur, preference is generally given to persons with superior educational qualifications — other things being equal."

Stumped by College, Dad?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Curious comments of a Pavement Painter: "A million or so young Americans will start one of the grandest adventures of a lifetime this month—college."

BOYLE

A boy's first day in kindergarten and his first day in college are two great landmarks in his life. On one he leaves infancy behind forever, and on the second, he begins to become a man.

The parent has a big role to play when his son is ready for college. But often he isn't college-educated himself and isn't sure just what that role should be. He wants to help, but he isn't sure of either the possibilities or the pitfalls in college.

SAGE ADVICE
Here are a few scattered answers to a number of questions many of these parents are asking themselves:

Q. My son can't get into one of the famous Ivy League schools in the East. Will this ruin his future?
A. No, although attendance at these schools will be of great help if he plans to sell bonds or get on the U. S. Supreme Court.

Q. What about the big state universities?
A. Educationally, they are fine. But sometimes a boy of 17 can get lost in the crowd.

Q. Where would you prefer to send your own son?
A. To a good junior college or one of the hundreds of fine smaller colleges. Their quality of teaching is often better than in the larger universities, and their enrollment is small enough so that your son will get more individual attention. If he needs help, he is more likely to find it.

Q. My son doesn't yet know what he wants to be. What courses should he take?
A. Let him take basic courses in literature, history, economics, logic, biology, public speaking.

American government, psychology—and at least one foreign language. These will give him a broadwork of wide knowledge that will benefit him all his life, and perhaps speed him to a choice of a career.

Q. Should my son join a social fraternity?
A. Fraternities help to sharpen socially many shy and reserved treatment; others they may ruinably by giving them the idea college is just one long party. Why not let your son stay in a dormitory his first year, then make up his own mind? He'll be in a better position to do so.

Q. What about letting my son work his way through college?
A. No, not even if you have a mortgage your home. The benefits of working one's way through college are highly overrated. Few give him a car as a reward if he men who did this ever want their sons to, because they know what odds are you might regret it.

Q. Should I give my son a car during his first year in college?
A. No. It would probably cause him less trouble if you bought him a shotgun. Gasoline, youth and midnight oil simply don't mix. All surveys show that students with cars do poorer in their studies than those who walk to class.

If your son makes the dean's list after two years, you might give him a car as a reward if he insists on one—but even then the odds are you might regret it.

Campanella Drops Quest for Divorce

GLENN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Roy Campanella has decided to drop action for a legal separation from his wife, the former baseball star said Tuesday.

Campanella, paralyzed from an automobile accident 24 years ago, announced Aug. 11 he was seeking a separation from his wife Ruth, after 13 years of marriage.

"I can't take it any more," the one-time catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers said at the time. "She hasn't been a good mother to the children."

"She wouldn't cook for any of us. Some nights she just doesn't come home at all," Mrs. Campanella, opposed to a separation of a divorce, said Campanella's charges were a figment of his imagination. Consideration for the children was the reason Campanella gave for the reconciliation.

Flying on 3 Engines Nothing New for Nixon

BOISE, Idaho (UPI)—Engine trouble in flight is nothing new to Richard M. Nixon.

When an engine cylinder cracked, one of the four propellers on the vice president's plane was feathered last night between Portland, Ore., and Boise.

It bothered the Republican presidential candidate not at all.

In his Boise speech a few hours later he quipped that "if a plane can run on three engines, I can run on one knee."

It was the sixth powerless-engine incident for the wide-ranging Nixon since he became vice president. None has caused him any serious problem.

LANDS 15 MINUTES EARLY

"That was a darn good job," he told the veteran pilot, Terry Thomas, 44, Barnardville, N.J.

His chartered plane landed at Boise 10 minutes ahead of schedule.

Old Monroe Looks New

MONROE (U)—Monroe, one of the oldest cities in Michigan, has a bright new look.

Trid of a plain, old-fashioned and dark downtown area, cooperating businessmen and city officials have joined forces to make Monroe's business section one of the most modern in the state.

Changes include shade trees, flower boxes, and benches and soft fluorescent lights on taller, more graceful poles that make downtown streets safer as night.

And officials say this is only the beginning.

TREES DISPLACE SIDEWALKS
City employees in April began breaking up sidewalks in the central business area to plant the trees. Benches and flower boxes completed each unit.

The project was finished by Michigan Week, May 16-21, with the exception of a small area in front of a new supermarket on West Front Street.

Benches will be installed there when the store is completed this fall.

Little-leaf Linden trees were planted on South Monroe Street, London planes on Front Street, Washington Hawthorn on Washington Street and upright Norway maples on First Street.

Care has been taken to see that they will survive hard rains, warm and cold temperatures, brick winds and the like.

Human nature dealt the only hardship in the project. Rear bumpers of automobiles damaged the wooden benches.

The city alleviated the problem by installing posts in front of these benches in danger of being struck by cars.

Visitors have made favorable comments when asked how they like the trees and benches.

The mayor's downtown development committee began a drive for project funds Jan. 2.

Wyandotte to Annex 2 Islands Under Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower Tuesday signed a bill which permits the City of Wyandotte to annex two islands in the Detroit River.

The legislation directs the secretary of interior to petition the city to annex Grassy Island and Mammy Julia Island, both of which now are under jurisdiction of the Coast Guard.

Wyandotte officials wanted to annex the land so the city could furnish police protection and enforce zoning ordinances if they should become necessary to control private use of the property. The legislation was required because Michigan law provides that the property owner must petition for annexation.

Supermarkets report that sales are about 60 per cent higher on Fridays and Saturdays than on other days of the week.

Merchants provided all the materials, with the Monroe City Commission agreeing to pay the cost of installation and maintenance of the trees and benches.

Some $5,500 was received from merchants, businesses and utility companies to the project. Expenditures totaled $4,300. The balance will be used to replant trees and shrubs.

Another program of the mayor's downtown redevelopment committee is improvement of the street lighting system in the downtown and East Side business districts.

The City Commission last year asked the Monroe office of the Detroit Edison Co. for plans and costs. They were approved in March and work began June 30.

Edison Co. officials expect the project to be finished about Friday.

New fluorescent neonatal lamps are replacing some 100 incandescent lamps.

The new lighting system, already completed in the central business area, is in sharp contrast to the former one. Downtown night shopping and driving is easier and safer.

Cost of converting the system will be some $7,000 to the city. It will be paid from the meter revenue fund.

Beautifying the city won't stop here. The redevelopment committee is obtaining information on costs and necessary equipment to provide hi-fidelity background music for the downtown business area and canopies for the stores.

Polaris Plans Sunk by Failure

Second Straight Miscue Jinks Hopes of Putting Missile on October Duty

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Navy plans for putting its Polaris missile on sea patrol duty in October apparently were buried today in 14 tons of rubble at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean.

The twisted metal and unburned fuel were the remains of a Polaris test rocket which crashed in spectacular fashion Tuesday seconds after a submerged firing from a nuclear submarine, the USS Patrick Henry.

The missile was triggered as the sub crashed more than 20 feet beneath the ocean's surface about 30 miles east of this missile testing center.

The failure was the second to a series of underwater tests of the missile after three history-making successes in July and August by the USS George Washington, the nation's first Polaris submarine.

The fourth and final shot from the George Washington, in early August, failed when a missile veered out of control 7 seconds after it was ejected from a tube in the sub's midsection.

That fizzle combined with Tuesday's failure in the first launching from the Patrick Henry apparently all but doomed any move by the Navy to declare the worthwhile Polaris operational next month.

Children Victims of Their Parents' Doubts

By DR. ROLLO MAY
Parents who have inner, often unconscious doubts about their own strength tend to demand that their children be especially courageous, independent and aggressive. They will buy the son boxing gloves, push him into competitive groups at an early age and in other ways insist that he be the "man" they inwardly feel they are not. Generally parents who push the child, like those who overprotect him, are showing in actions which speak louder than words their own lack of confidence in him. But just as no child will develop courage by being overprotected so no child will develop courage by being pushed. He may develop obstinacy or bullying tendencies. But his courage grows only as an outcome of his confidence, generally unexpressed in his own powers and his intrinsic qualities as a human being. This confidence gets its base from his parents' love for him and their belief in his potentialities.

Often adults require that the child fulfill the social amenities of the parents' social group, get good grades and be elected to college societies, being "normal" in every respect so he never will be talked about.

When the son or daughter conforms to these requirements, they rationalize their actions by saying they need to keep parental support, financial and otherwise. But on a deeper level they conform to parental expectations as the way to gain admiration and praise from their parents. Thus vanity is the enemy of courage.

Vanity and narcissism undermine courage for one then fights not on one's own conviction but on someone else's.

When we act to gain someone else's praise moreover, the act itself is a living reminder of our feeling of weakness and worthlessness. This leads to the "cowardly" feeling which is the most bitter humiliation of all—the humiliation of having knowingly cooperated in one's own vanquishment.

It is not so bad to be defeated because the enemy is stronger or even because one didn't fight; but to know that one was a coward because one chose to sell out his strength in order to "get along" with the victor—this betrayal of one's self is the bitter pill of all. It leads to the pervasive sense of oneself as a "bluff" a "faker."

Congregational Church Groups Get Together

Devotions were given by Mrs. C. J. Barrett and Mrs. J. A. Hammes spoke on her recent European trip.

New member, Mrs. Rodney H. Milton, was welcomed.

Mrs. Howard Luce of North Perry Street was hostess Friday to the Standish Group, with Mrs. E. C. Murphy cohostess.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Carl Malkin.

Put the Bug in His Ear

By ABIGAIL VAN MURPHY

DEAR ABBY: My brother is married to a woman who has graduated from college and people call her "brilliant." She talks in a highly educated way about world affairs and she needs every best seller that comes along. But believe me when I say no one in the family will accept a second invitation to her home because she is such a careless housekeeper. We ate there once and the silverware was encrusted with dirt and the glasses and dishes were filthy. She puts raw fruit and vegetables on the table without washing them. I once saw bugs crawling around on my salad. We have nothing against her but we can't eat there. We're run out of excuses. Is it possible to come right out with the truth in a case like this and keep her friendship?

ABBY: STUCK to her home because she is such a careless housekeeper. We ate there once and the silverware was encrusted with dirt and the glasses and dishes were filthy. She puts raw fruit and vegetables on the table without washing them. I once saw bugs crawling around on my salad. We have nothing against her but we can't eat there. We're run out of excuses. Is it possible to come right out with the truth in a case like this and keep her friendship?

SISTER-IN-LAW: If you tell her the truth, you may lose her friendship. It's time someone took a bug out of the salad and put it in your brother's ear.

DEAR ABBY: I know a girl isn't supposed to let a fellow kiss her on the first date, but

Mothers Club Sees Slides on UF's Aid

Joseph Schultz, training chairman for the Pontiac Area United Fund, showed slides depicting aid given by and to the various agencies affiliated with the organization at Tuesday's first fall meeting of the Mothers Club of Pontiac Boys' Club.

Program Chairman Mrs. Cressy B. Larson introduced the speaker and guests from the United Fund: Mrs. Rodrick Taylor, chairman of the women's campaign division; Mrs. Ben Hawkins, Pontiac chairman of the women's division; and Mrs. Schultz.

Members were informed that the Mothers Club of Detroit's Boys' Club has been invited to a joint meeting with the local club in November.

Mrs. John Berthold joined the club. Guests were Mrs. Joseph Gibson and Mrs. Elmer Walker, prospective members.

Hostesses were Mrs. Arthur Longhenke, Mrs. Walter Peters, Mrs. Elmer Hicks and Mrs. Alvin Graham.

when is it proper to let all the stops out?

JANE: DEAR JANE: After the organ plays "The Wedding March."

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office with another girl. We usually go out for lunch together. She makes as much as I do, but I always end up paying the bill. She uses the old excuse, "I left my money in my other purse." How can I put a stop to this without appearing cheap?

STUCK: DEAR STUCK: If you hold still for that line more than twice you must have left your brains in your other head. When her money's in her "other purse," tell her you'll "lend" her lunch money. And if that doesn't do it—find a new lunch mate.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend is in the service. He is stationed near enough to home so that he gets home once in a while. When he is away he writes the dreamiest love letters, saying he is counting the minutes until he sees me. But when he gets home he spends all his time running around with his buddies and I hardly ever see him. When he gets back on the base the love letters start coming again. I like this boy a lot, Abby, and want to know how to handle him.

CLIFF'S GIRL: DEAR GIRL: Write "Book-well" and tell him you don't want a pen-pal, you want a real live boyfriend.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want To Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

You can speed the loss in inches is described in Josephine Lowman's column today.

Extra Weight May Bother

Want to Be Old Sylph?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Would you like to be your old SYLPH again? Perhaps your vacation did more than dry out your hair and skin. Maybe you gained a few pounds. If so, it is just possible that most of them landed on your special problem measurement. This usually happens!

The extra pounds never are considered. They never hide under a weak intestine to reinforce it. They do not accumulate on a neck which is too bony.

They go, as though hypnotized, to any out-of-proportion spot we may have and settle there until we scare them away with exercises.

It is true that weight distribution is individual. When one woman gains it may show most in her abdomen, while another will find her waistline much larger and yet another may feel that every extra pound lands on her hips.

CAN SPEED LOSS

You can speed the loss in inches with special exercises. Today let me give you a few for the hips.

1. For the back hip line — Sit on the floor with your legs resting on the floor, knees straight. Lean to the right and place both hands on the floor on the right side of your body.

Lift the legs from the floor and lean back until the body weight falls directly over the largest part of the hips.

Roll from side to side, keeping the legs off the floor and catching yourself with BOTH hands at the end of each roll. Push out with the hands.

2. Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Bend both knees and place your feet on the floor close to your hips. Lift the heels and the hips from the floor.

Turn the hips toward the left and smack the right buttocks on the floor. Again lift the hips and Continue, alternating. Do this briskly but be sure that the fat part of the hips hits the floor. You should not land on your spine.

If you would like to have my tested hip-slimming exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Also, if you gained from five to 18 pounds during the summer, you may want to lose it in nine days. If so, send 18 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for my Nine-Day Reducing Diet booklet.

Offering Art Classes

Well qualified instruction for beginning and accomplished artists is being offered again this year by the Bloomfield Art Association (BAA), which opened its fall classes Monday.

Beginning its fourth year of service to area communities, the association is presenting a program of art exhibits, lectures and movies in addition to the 10-week fall term and 16-week spring term.

Teen-agers and adult women are receiving instruction in creative drawing under Chas. Levine at Birmingham's YMCA. Miss Levine holds a master's degree in dance from University of Wisconsin and has been an instructor at Kingswood School Cranbrook for the past five years.

Children from grade one through twelve will meet for the Saturday Young People's Workshop, taught by John W. Martin. These classes are given by BAA in conjunction with the Detroit Institute of Arts Extension Services. A class in contemporary jewelry is being instructed by Nancy Fanzini, a graduate of the Cranbrook Academy of Art. She has shown her work at Columbus, Mo., Wichita, Kan., and Detroit.

Svea Kline, recently commissioned to do 15 panels of glass now installed in a 50-foot wall at the J. I. Hudson Company's Northland Store, is teaching sculpture compositions. Drawing and painting classes, using several media, are being led by Albert Mullen. An assistant professor of art at University of Michigan, he had a one-man show at the Artists' Gallery in New York City last fall.

Cranbrook graduate Kathleen Black, winner of the Palette and Brush Club prize in the Michigan Artists' Annual in 1953, is teaching oil painting.

Mary Jane Bigler, whose works are on display at the Metropolitan Museum in New York and in numerous other collections, is conducting water color classes. She is a professor at Wayne State University.

Clifford H. West is teaching life classes. He is winner of first prize, Prix de Rome Alumni and has murals in many prominent area buildings.

Instructor in portrait painting is Mildred E. Williams whose work hangs in the permanent collection at the Detroit Art Institute and in many other galleries. She has studied under a number of noted artists.

Fashion Show, Alumni Tea Set

The annual Kingswood Alumni Fashion Show and Tea will be Sept. 23 at 2 p. m. in Cranbrook House. Sak's Fifth Avenue will provide clothes for children as well as adults to model. Youngsters modeling will be Elizabeth and Suzanne East, Wynne Miner, Cathy Allen, Kathy Irwin, Barbara Beresford and David Redfield.

Proceeds will go to the Ellen and Katherine Wallace Memorial Scholarship Fund. Among patronesses will be Leslie H. Green, Mrs. W. Lloyd Kemp, Mrs. Richard Wagner, Mrs. Earl Bartholomew, Mrs. Howard J. Soudan, Mrs. George Trumbull and Mrs. Walter J. Treutner.

Rolled Sandwiches Hold Ham, Olives

One grand way to use leftover ham, of course, is in a hearty ham loaf. Another way, so appropriate at this time of year, is in rolled sandwiches which can be served as appetizers. Simply grind the ham and combine it with delicious, meaty ripe olives, cream cheese, lemon juice and a bit of catsup. —Ham-Cheese-Olive Sandwich" can also be made by spreading the hearty filling on buns or your favorite bread.

Ham-Cheese-Olive sandwich
1/4 cup ripe olives
2-ounce package cream cheese tablespoon catsup lemon juice cup ground cooked ham
Thinly sliced bread

Chop olives coarsely. Soften cream cheese and blend in catsup and lemon juice. Add ham and olives and mix well. Trim crusts from bread, spread with olive mixture and roll up as for jelly roll. Makes 6 to 8 sandwiches (1 1/2 cups filling).

Baking Bacon

When cooking bacon for a group, place strips on a rack in an open roasting pan and bake it in the oven. Cook bacon for about 10 to 12 minutes, at a temperature of 375 degrees F.

touch to any meal. Make it in only 8 minutes from start to finish.

Measure 2 cups of your favorite wine into top of double boiler and add 3 cups sugar. Mix well. Place over rapidly boiling water and heat 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from water and at once stir in 1/2 bottle liquid fruit pectin.

Four quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Make about five 6-ounce glasses. This recipe may be used with California Sherry, Claret, Sauternes, Port, Muscatel or Tokay wine. Glasses of wine jelly make ideal gifts, too.

SENSATIONAL VEAL—Boneless veal roast is becoming a favorite meat. You'll find it in the frozen meat counter, weighing from two to six pounds. Count on about four servings per pound. Serve it with an extra special Orange Sauce.

Make Full Use of Raspberries

Veal Casserole Has Fruit Wine Flavoring

Fragile is the word for raspberries! This is your guide to care and use of this delicate fruit, suggests the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Lawyer.

Black raspberries come first, and those in the southwestern part of the state have passed their peak in supply. Now is the time for red raspberries.

You can tell whether you are buying quality by appearance. Raspberries should be firm, plump and full colored. Ripe berries are free of their hulls. Beware of stained boxes and berries that are dull in color and soft.

Buy raspberries for immediate use only, advises Mrs. Lawyer. They crush easily and lose flavor quickly. To store raspberries, spread them in a thin layer on a pan or tray. Keep them refrigerated.

If you are freezing raspberries there are several ways to pack them. Some homemakers pack raspberries dry without sugar. Some mix 1 cup of sugar with 6 cups of fruit. Others cover the berries with a 40 per cent cooled syrup made with 3 cups of sugar to 4 cups of water.

Raspberries may be your choice for a rainy July dessert. Start with a pound cake or loaf angel cake. Slice lengthwise in three slices. Between the layers, spread a thick layer of partially softened vanilla ice cream and slightly sweetened raspberries. Put together and add more ice cream and berries on top. Place in freezer to harden. Just before serving, spread with whipped cream and garnish with whole berries.

Raw Brussels Sprouts Make a Crisp Slaw

NEW YORK (UPI) — Brussels sprouts make the basis for a crisp, colorful slaw to serve with barbecued steaks or seafood. Thaw ten 10-ounce packages of frozen sprouts and chop fine. Combine with 1 1/2 cups of grated carrots and 2 tablespoons of chopped pimiento. Toss with dressing of 2 tablespoons of vinegar, 1 teaspoon of sugar, 1/2 cup of mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon of onion salt and 1/2 teaspoon of pepper. Serves 4 to 6.

Frozen Orange Juice Adds Zest to Soup

The heat is on and here's a way to beat it. Serve zesty, easy-to-make soup as a first course and watch people perk up.

What's your soup preference, hot, or chilled on-the-rocks? Either way, frozen Florida orange juice will help you achieve a pleasing new flavor combination. The product, so popular for nutritious, thirst-quenching juice morning, noon and night, has other uses.

Orange juice added to ramed condensed tomato soup, heated and topped with sour cream makes a delicious and different tasting soup for lunch or dinner. Orange juice and beef bouillon.

Try Crumbled Bacon Over Fresh Spinach

This emerald green dish is recommended by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association to improve most everyday menus. Try two slices of bacon. When the bacon is crisp drain it on paper towels.

Sprinkle a teaspoon of dry mustard, two tablespoons each of salad oil and vinegar and heat with the bacon fat just to boiling. Lower the flame and add a pound of fresh spinach. Toss until each leaf is coated with the dressing. Crumble the bacon slices over the top.

Finding a new way to serve veal is always a happy discovery. Veal is the meat for an imaginative cook for it's delicate flavor is partial to savory sauces and long, slow cooking.

In today's recipe for Pineapple Veal Scallop, the meat is first browned in hot fat, then cooked with canned pineapple chunks, sliced mushrooms, sautéed onions, chicken broth and Sherry at a leisurely pace in a casserole.

Pineapple Veal Scallop may be prepared in the morning, if desired, refrigerated and then baked for an hour instead of the 30 minutes in a casserole just before serving.

Make Up Jam Now for Christmas Gift

It seems early to be talking about Christmas-giving but now is the time to put up luscious preserves and jams for thoughtful little gifts to neighbors and friends. Make them a two-fold gift by selecting attractive juice glasses or tumblers as jam containers.

Buy several inexpensive 4 or 6 ounce glasses; wash and sterilize. For a tart apple-rain conserve, mix 1 pint each pared, diced pears and tart apples with 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon, grated lemon rind and 1 cup light or dark seedless raisins. Stir in 3 cups sugar and boil about 25 minutes until clear and thick. Stir frequently to avoid scorching.

Pour into sterilized glasses and seal with paraffin while hot. Store in cool place until time to gift wrap.

combine well to serve cold over ice cubes.

The vitamin C and other energy boosting nutrients in orange juice do wonders towards refreshing heat-weaned bodies. Orange juice concentrate takes little room in freezers or freezing compartments of refrigerators so keep a supply on hand — it is easy to use and so good for you.

Orange Tomato Soup
1 1/2 cups frozen orange juice, thawed
1 can condensed tomato soup
Chopped chives or parsley
Blend orange juice with tomato soup, stirring until smooth. Heat to serving temperature. Garnish with sour cream and chopped chives or parsley. Yield: 3 servings.

Orange Bouillon On-The-Rocks
1/2 cup frozen orange juice, room temperature
1 can condensed beef bouillon
Blend orange juice and bouillon; pour over ice cubes in large old-fashioned glasses. Garnish with sprigs of mint. Yield: 3 to 4 servings.

You Too Can Make Jam or Jelly With Ease

By JANET ODELL

Foodies From Home Editor
Even if you have vowed never to can anything again, you might be persuaded to make a few glasses of jam or jelly. It tastes so good on breakfast toast all winter, and it gives you such a feeling of pride when you bring it out for company.

Modern methods of making jam and jelly are so easy that it is no longer a hard day's work. You need only four ingredients: fruit, pectin, acid and sugar.

Fruit gives much product a characteristic flavor. Pectin makes it jelly. Acid is needed for flavor and for proper setting. Sugar preserves the fruit and adds to its flavor.

Some fruits have enough natural pectin — like crabapples. Other fruits need the help of 8 quid or powdered pectin. Using the pectin makes cooking time shorter and is more apt to give a uniform product. But you CAN make jam or jelly without it.

With purple plums in the market now the time has come to make both jelly and jam from the same batch of fruit. You'll be glad you did.

Plum Jelly and Jam

Yield: about 10 medium glasses (5 pounds) jelly and 12 medium glasses (6 pounds) jam.

About 4 pounds ripe Italian plum

8 lemons
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup lemon sugar and
1/4 cup liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Crush (do not peel or pit) about 4 pounds fully ripe Italian plum. Add 1/2 cup water; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 15 minutes. Place in a large sieve lined with a double thickness of cheesecloth. Stir, but do not press. Drain and measure 3/4 cup juice into a very large saucepan. Remove pits from pulp. Use juice for making jelly; use pulp remaining in sieve for making jam.

Plum Jelly

1/4 cup (1 1/2 pints) sugar
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup liquid fruit pectin

Second, make the jelly. To plum juice in saucepan, add sugar, and mix well. Squeeze and strain the juice from 4 medium-sized lemons. Measure 1/2 cup into saucepan with pulp and sugar. Place over high heat and bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and add 1/4 cup of 1/2-inch hot paraffin. Stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly. Do not quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with 1/4-inch hot paraffin.

Plum Jam

4 cups (8 pints) sugar
1/4 cup (1 1/2 pints) lemon juice
1/4 cup liquid fruit pectin

Then make the jam. Measure plum pulp and sugar into a very large saucepan and mix well. Squeeze and strain the juice from 4 medium-sized lemons. Measure 1/2 cup into saucepan with pulp and sugar. Place over high heat and bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat and add 1/4 cup of 1/2-inch hot paraffin. Stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly. Do not

Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour

Here is a recipe that does not call for added pectin. Because the fruit used is not tart, the recipe does call for added lemon juice. Serve the Honey with hot biscuits.

Quince and Apple Honey

4 cups quince
4 cups apple
8 cups boiling water
Sugar to 3 inches

Peel and core quinces and apples, and grate. Measure the pulp and use 1/4 as much sugar as pulp.

1. Dissolve the sugar in the boiling water, add fruit and lemon juice, and cook slowly until honey is thick and clear. Pour into hot jars and seal.

Because many women like to make uncooked jam that is kept in the refrigerator or freezer, we are giving you a recipe for uncooked peach jam. For this you will need powdered pectin.

Uncooked Peach Jam

1 cup crushed peaches
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup powdered pectin
1/4 cup water

Measure fruit into large mixing bowl. Add sugar, mix well and let stand for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Dissolve the pectin in the water, bring to a boil and boil for 1 minute. Add pectin solution to the fruit and sugar mixture and stir for 2 minutes.

Ladle jam into jelly glasses or freezer containers, leaving 1/2-inch space at the top. Cover containers and let stand 24 in 48 hours, or until jam has set. Then cover with 1/4-inch layer of hot paraffin. Make about 9 six-ounce glasses.

This jam will keep a few months in the refrigerator or up to a year in a freezer. Once opened, the jam should be used within a few days.

NOTE: If jam is too firm when opened for serving, it can be softened by stirring. If it tends to separate, stirring will blend it.

For a satiny shine on summer fruit pies, brush the top crust with undiluted evaporated milk before baking.

Do Blanch Vegetables

EAST LANSING — "One pound of food is one gallon of boiling water" is a general guide when you're blanching vegetables for the freezer. With these quantities, the water usually keeps boiling when the food is dipped, and timing can begin immediately.

Most vegetables, such as green beans, lima beans, broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, sweet corn, peas, and greens, should be blanched before they are frozen.

NOTE: If jam is too firm when opened for serving, it can be softened by stirring. If it tends to separate, stirring will blend it.

For a satiny shine on summer fruit pies, brush the top crust with undiluted evaporated milk before baking.

storage. Laboratory tests show that frozen, unblanched vegetables can change in flavor within two weeks.

Time for blanching varies with different foods. It takes one and a half minutes to blanch peas, and eight to ten minutes to blanch corn on the cob. Mrs. Dean says time also varies with size. Small lima beans need only two minutes in the boiling water dip, but large lima beans require four minutes.

Quick blanching should be followed by quick cooling. Use ice water or cold running water to cool the food as fast as it was scalded. If you're not sure when the food is cold, bite into a piece.

Anita Dean, foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, notes that some home-sealing, cooling, packaging and makers like to skip this step, but freezing can be done quickly and they pay with lower quality product with little loss of food quality.

The olive tree grows slowly and uniform reaches more than 30 feet color, flavor and texture during in height.

Roa Makes It Plain: Fidel Firmly Aligned With Soviet Bloc

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro will head Cuba's delegation to the U.N. General Assembly with the avowed aim of backing policies put forth by Nikita Khrushchev and his cast of Communist leaders.

Cuban Foreign Minister Rodolfo Stuenkel said Tuesday night

Castro will go down the line with the Soviet bloc. He said Castro would come out for such Kremlin causes as seating Red China in the U.N., supporting left-leaning Patrice Lumumba as Congo premier and denouncing U.S. "imperialistic policies."

Castro and his delegation are slated to fly to New York Sunday, two days before the Assembly session opens. The U.S. State Department said the Cuban leader will not be limited to Manhattan Island by travel restrictions like those placed on Khrushchev.

Winter is considered the best time to deliver cattle since the risk of infection from fly bites at the spot where the horn is removed is a great deal less than in other seasons.

Young Williams Will Stump State for Jack Kennedy

LANSING (UPI)—G. Mennen "Gerry" Williams Jr., 19-year-old son of Michigan's six-term Democratic governor, is following in his father's campaign tracks.

Young Williams has been named chairman of the Young Citizens for Kennedy in Michigan and will stump the state seeking support among younger people for the Democratic presidential nominee.

He will take a year off from his political science studies at Princeton University.

Plan Two More Weather Moons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two more Tiros weather satellites will be sent aloft to take television pictures of the earth and its cloud cover.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says that Tiros II will be sent into orbit before the end of the year, and Tiros III will be launched next year.

Dr. Morris Pepper, NASA chief of meteorological satellites, told Elizabeth Van der Grint William, an Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences dinner meeting Tuesday night that attempts will be made to analyze data from Tiros II to create "unreasonable noise."

Mauch Receives 2-Year Contract to Pilot Phillies

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—General Manager John Quinn of the Philadelphia Phillies said today field manager Gene Mauch was given a "contract extension" to manage the club through 1962 because "he's aggressive, uses good judgment and has done a fine job."

Asked why the 34-year-old Mauch had been given a new contract to replace a two-year pact which ran through 1961 in view of the Phillies' last-place standing in the National League, Quinn said: "I appreciate the question. But

U.S., S. Africa OK Radio Telescope

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—An agreement was signed here Tuesday between the South African and U.S. governments for construction of a radio telescope to probe several million miles into outer space tracing space vehicles.

The telescopes will be built at Krugersdorp, about 30 miles west of Johannesburg. The project is sponsored by the U. S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Inquirer Gives Nod to Nixon, Lodge

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Inquirer has come out in favor of Republican Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge for president and vice president.

The Inquirer is listed as politically independent. It supported President Eisenhower in the 1952 and 1956 campaigns.

CHILDREN are to be seen not hurt

Time of thousands of little strangers to the law of grownups will cross Michigan streets this month. All will be fitted with their importance of "going to school for the first time."

As fellow motorists, the members of the Automobile Club of Michigan asks all motorists to appoint themselves as the guardians of these youngsters.

The Club will undertake, in cooperation with school and police officials to educate these little children in the ways of safety. The Club has helped to organize 80,000 Michigan school boys into 3,100 scout-like patrols to protect the crossings, over 1,000 schools will be served monthly with safety lessons, safety plays, posters, etc. over 3,000,000 pieces of safety literature will be distributed in the schools.

Members of the Club assist not only by personal carefulness but contribute through their membership to carry on this world-famous work in Michigan. This AAA emblem on a car is truly the badge of honor of those who strive for greater safety.

Broken Ankle Benches Kuenn for Rest of '60

CLEVELAND (AP) — Outfielder Henry Kuenn, last year's batting champion in the American League and currently fourth, has a hair-line fracture in a left anklebone and will play no more this year.

Kuenn fouled a ball during batting practice in New York three weeks ago and it struck his foot but X-rays at the time showed no break. When the pain persisted, pictures were taken again, and the fractured bone. A walking cast was put on the foot Tuesday and Kuenn, batting .308, will go home to Milwaukee later this week.

Title Bout Nearer for Henry Cooper

LONDON (AP) — British heavy-weight champion Henry Cooper, who lost a little weight to a world title fight today after a 10-round decision over Ray Harris of Texas.

The 27-year-old American, who once lasted 11 rounds against world champion Floyd Patterson, put in a word for Cooper's chances.

"That man would rate in the United States as challenger to Patterson," Harris said. "He's a good fighter."

The fight was a further setback to Harris, who since he was defeated by Patterson in August, 1958, has slipped out of the rankings.

His defeat by Cooper, before 11,000 fans at Wembley Indoor Stadium Tuesday night, was his fourth in 35 bouts. But it was the first time he had ever been out-pointed.

Ten State Colleges to Lift Lid

By The Associated Press

Football rolls onto the sports scene in Michigan this weekend with a 10-game schedule.

Half the action is at night, and all the games are non-league contests.

The top attraction is the Saturday afternoon duel at Kalamazoo between Central Michigan and Western Michigan. The same two teams met last year and Central extracted a 21-15 defeat.

Norio Schuster has a flinty-faced visage against back of Western and will give Central's untamed quarterback, Wally Sedberry, a rugged trial in his first taste of collegiate competition. Central's main threat is breakaway runner Jerry O'Neil.

Hilldale and Hope, the teams with the best record in the state last year, help inaugurate the regular campaign, although Hilldale dropped a postseason decision.

Hilldale opens at home Saturday night against Frosty Perazza's Northern Michigan team. This is the year Perazza's ambitious recruiting should pay off. The Wildcats were 6-2 last season and it may be tough to improve on that since the schedule is tougher.

Hope is at home Saturday night, also, playing DePaul. The DePaul crew, like Hope College, is rebuilding its line. Coach Bruce Davette has a fine backfield at Hope and the Dutchmen will be more aggressive-minded than in recent seasons.

Michigan Tech opens at night against the Spartans.

'60 Red Wings to Be Well Conditioned 1st Scrimmage Satisfactory to Adams, Norris

McKenzie's Hot Trick Gives Edmont Farm Team 4-3, Win

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings of 1960-61 will be an aggressive, well-conditioned hockey team. Just how good they are in a question that cannot be answered in training camp.

The Wings had their first full-scale scrimmage yesterday under the watchful eyes of coach Sid Abel, general manager Jack Adams and the big boss, owner Bruce Norris. Norris flew in from Chicago to watch his club in action after a week of work.

The Edmont Farm Club, helped out by a few players from the varsity, beat the Wings 4-3 in a full-scale trial.

There have been only a few minor injuries in camp. Brian Smith, Murray Oliver and Len Lundberg had leg injuries. Abel said, "One thing is certain. We'll be in condition. Every one reported in good shape — better than last year. The kids are moving extremely well, and so are most of the veterans. Some of the old timers are a little slow now, but I'm not worried about them."

Adams is exceptionally pleased with the work of a young right wing, Bruce MacGregor, an Edmont youth who just turned pro. MacGregor, only 19 and still eligible for a year of junior competition, will get a berth on the Detroit squad if he continues his sharp early work.

"That trip through the week, with all those exhibition games, will decide whether he makes the big club," said Abel. "It also might decide whether some other kids knock off a few older players. We have some fine bats going for regular jobs."

The front office also is impressed with hard-hitting Marc Reaume. The veteran defenseman, acquired in the controversial Red Kelly deal, saw little service last season because of a shoulder injury.

Tom McCarthy, the man the Wings said they have to light a fire under, seems to be progressing well. Abel said the big left winger is having his best training camp in several seasons.

"All he has to do is work," said Abel. "He's got all the fundamentals of an outstanding hockey player."

The rebuilding program with the Detroit organization has its problems. Adams and Abel are concerned the inexperienced defensemen of mistakes that would be costly against National Hockey League opposition.

Some of the kids do well until they get in trouble in their end of the ice," said Abel. "Then they don't know what to do."

Adams said the main problem was the inexperienced defensemen as they often drift too far into enemy territory and get tripped when the puck changes hands.

The Red Wings are encouraged over the play of goalie Terry Sawchuk. Adams and Abel felt that competition from Hank Baskin and Dennis Ruggie would inspire Sawchuk to his best play, and apparently it has.

Pistons Open at Marystown

MARYSVILLE (AP) — The Detroit Pistons start pre-season training tomorrow with a light conditioning drill in the Marystown High School gym.

Coach Dick McGuire, starting his first full term as head of the National Basketball Association team, said 20 players, 12 of them newcomers, would be on hand.

"We have a great group of young, hustling players coming in here to challenge our veterans," McGuire said. "I've talked with most of them (the 1960 summer and they're eager to get started. Competition for jobs should be real good."

ACE center Walter Dukes will be making from the training camp contingent. The seven-footer was excused from the 1960 season in order to write his bar examination for the state of New York. McGuire said twice-day sessions would get under way Friday and "continue indefinitely." He said he hoped to hold his first head-to-head scrimmage Saturday.

A junior rifle training program for teen-agers 12 to 18 years of age has been slated Sunday at the Oakland County Sportsmen's club under the sponsorship of the J. L. Hudson Company of Detroit.

Registration started August 24 and is continuing at the Hudson store at Northland and downtown until a total of 500 registrations are accepted.

The National Rifle Association and the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club is cooperating with the Hudson Company.

The program is for the purpose of teaching teen-agers the proper handling of firearms, requirement of firearms laws and an opportunity for teens to test their marksmanship by shooting live ammunition at fixed targets.

The program starts at 9:00 a.m. and will continue until 5:30 p.m. Fifty instructors of the National Rifle Association will supervise the firing with .22 caliber rifles.

The teen-agers will receive membership cards in the Hudson Teen Hunters' club.

Each teen-ager must be accompanied by a parent. Rifles and ammunition will be supplied for use by the Sportsmen's Service Bureau.

MUCC All Set for Skeeters

Annual Shoot Planned This Weekend on New Ranges

The 12th annual Skeet and Trap shoot will be held Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 17-18, at the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association Club in Milford.

FRIEND OR FOE? — State conservation department captures a shot here that isn't all it appears to be. The piercing eyes of the osprey belie its harmless character. It is found in most Michigan localities, lives on fish which it catches with its talpate claws.

'Cuttings' Boost Browse for Deer

LANSING — Last winter's deer yard timber cuttings on state-owned lands have provided nearly $2,400,000 worth of browse and boosted the carrying capacity of the deer herd's range in 1960 by an extra 110,000 white-tails, Conservation Department game warden estimate.

Dog Obedience Classes Set

Obedience trained dogs will show their best manners at three public demonstrations starting Thursday, Sept. 17 at the Daniel Whitfield School, Pontiac; Bloomfield Hills H. S. Monday, Sept. 19, and C.A.I. Building, Waterford Wednesday, Sept. 21.

This is a 10-week dog obedience training program for dogs and their master.

The demonstrations will start at 9 p.m. Anyone interested in dogs is cordially invited to attend.

Club officials ask not to bring dogs to the demonstrations as the actual training classes will begin the following week.

For further information regarding these sessions, interested persons should contact Reg Armstrong FE 2-748 trainer at Pontiac, Chas. Barnes FE 4-693 trainer at Waterford, or the Bloomfield Hills High School MI 7-1535, Holly Thornton, trainer; or club secretary, Mrs. A. R. Larson FE 3-771.

'Plain-Clothes' Staff Will Check Hunters

LANSING — Regional Conservation Department clubs are studying work loads with their field staffs to send as many "plain clothes" officers as practical into northern Michigan's woods before the start of this fall's deer hunting season.

It is hoped the shift in manpower will double the department's regular conservation officer force.

This auxiliary corps of law-enforcement "deputies" to be composed of field men from all department divisions, will accompany officers on patrol and generally assist them in communications, recovering illegal kill, checking "any deer" permittees, registering hunters in field offices, searching for lost hunters, and other duties.

Grouse Hunters to Enjoy Bird Increase This Fall

LANSING — Michigan's ruffed grouse hunters should enjoy a moderate increase in their shooting success this fall, according to results of surveys recently summed up by the Conservation Department.

Such a forecast is particularly encouraging since hunters took 770,000 ruffed grouse last year for their highest kill in five seasons.

Drumming counts, opinion polls, grouse banding and other survey data indicate that grouse numbers are down somewhat from last year in the Upper Peninsula.

However, unusual weather and cover conditions above the Straits this summer may have tempered the true hunting prospects.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, all surveys point to more birds, a strong sign that ruffed grouse are continuing an upward swing dating from 1956 in their population cycle.

Based on last season's kill and flushing reports from cooperating hunters, the grouse outlook is good in northern sections of the southern Lower Peninsula where hunting success has picked up steadily during the last several years.

There's another bit of good news for grouse hunters running their favorite "house hold." This spring's singing ground counts of woodcock indicated these early season croakers are up slightly from 1959. Woodcock kill totaling 64,000 last season, about 2,000 above 1958, to rank second best in recent years.

Hunters should find little change from last year in sharp-tailed grouse numbers above the Straits, according to the Department's dancing ground checks this spring.

Sharp-tailed have made a modest comeback on Drummond Island where last year's closed season on them will be lifted. Neebish and Sugar Islands and a portion of Chippewa County will also be reopened to legal hunting. These birds are no legal targets in the Lower Peninsula.

It's How Worm Turns in Bass Trolling

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
OYSTER BAY, N. Y. (AP) —

This is a story I just had to write. Men are known to have spent $300 for one day's sport fishing without getting a game fish. Over a period of seven weeks I caught 41 striped bass and it cost me only $233.80.

I can't get a penny on the expense account because the fish were caught on week ends and during a four-week vacation not far from Cooper's Bluff where Teddy Roosevelt often laid down the sandy banks overlooking Cold Spring Harbor and Long Island Sound. And I probably can't deduct a dime for income tax purposes even though the expenditure helped obtain this story, which is part of my livelihood.

This season I baited hooks that caught 71 striped bass. None were over three pounds but we use light tackle and shun night fishing when the lunkers strike. My wife basins in strippers. Two lads from Red (Wood, Neb., caught two and a neighbor caught another. Add my 41, and that makes 71. I baited my wife's hook each time because she hates sand worms, but the striped bass just adore the wigglers creatures.

When there's a fishing lull my wife fires two standard questions: "What are they (a) why can't we have a big salt host like the one moored off the Swarthalla Yacht Club, and (b) where does the money go?"

The sailboat idea is easy to dispel when I inform the lady that to put the best in water at the start of the season and to haul it out at the end would cost $500. I like big salt boats, too.

But I keep telling her you can't catch striped bass from a sail boat. The keel prevents close to shore trolling. And anyway the 41 horsepower outboard motor pulls like a kitten.

Money. I've told her, is the root of all evil. On that she agrees. However, here's a breakdown on what my striped bass fishing costs.

Gasoline and oil $36.
Sundries $42.
Boat insurance $13.
Boat cover depreciation $30.
Boat depreciation $50.
Tackle depreciation $20.

Lost tackle $1.50. TOTAL $233.80

The lost tackle — one-foot leader, double June bug spinner and a 24 hook — was a sore spot with my wife, especially when she cast her line portside only to learn the propeller blade got to it first. I was accused of not knowing how to troll. The cost of worms was another peeve.

"Why don't you dig your own worms like other men do?" she admonished.

The last two days of the vacation I did just that. Big juicy worms, too. We caught 19 strippers in the last two days. It gave my wife a laugh, especially since they are as big as the Maine worms retailing for 70 cents a dozen.

"Look at all the fun we had," she lectured. "And next season our fishing costs will be lowered. You can dig your own worms."

200-Pound Bear Bagged by Pontiac 12-Year-Old

A 12-year-old Pontiac boy has accomplished a feat many ardent hunters fail to realize in a lifetime.

Larry L. Smith and his dad, Leon, recently returned from their hunting lodge near Sault Ste. Marie in Scholastic County with a 200-pound black bear killed by young Larry.

Using his own 35 Remington automatic, the little sharpshooter bagged the charging animal with a single shot in the shoulder.

Quite a performance for a boy on his first big hunting trip. Larry had been shooting small game since he was six but had never been able to go deer hunting due to school.

Leon took advantage of an open season on bear in the Upper Peninsula to give his boy a chance to see what he could do against something it didn't take long to find out.

The excitement occurred shortly after the father-son team had set down in a rest deep in the woods. Larry heard a noise behind him and turned to see the big bear charging at them. He calmly got out and made a perfect hit. Then he did a little dance around the animal.

The bear will either be made into a rug for Larry's room or a wall mount. The Smiths already have a bear rug in their den as the result of a kill by Leon a few years ago.

The Smiths live at 75 Henderson Street, Larry will enter Washington Jr. High. His dad is a designer in Madison Heights.

Lamprey Bait Is Taboo in State Waters

LANSING — Fishermen are reminded that lamprey — dead or alive — are strictly taboo as bait in Michigan waters.

The warning, sounded by Conservation Department officials, is prompted by a recent article in a national outdoor magazine popularizing the use of lampreys as bait.

Used as bait, these eel-like predators could cause serious headaches in the Great Lake region.

Michigan State Police in Pistol Competition

PUTNAMVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Michigan State police and Louisville City police led their respective divisions in 25 caliber competition at the 14th annual Indiana State police individual pistol match yesterday.

The Michigan team scored 1,180 of a possible 1,200 points. The Detroit Police Department was second, Illinois State police third and Indiana State police fourth. Louisville scored 1,143 points in its division. Lansing, Mich., was second.

BYE, BYE — It's a risky stunt, but trainer Adolf Frohn knew his subject. Frohn tried to find out if Corky, trained porpoise at Miami Seaquarium, would bite the hand that feeds him. Corky didn't, because porpoises don't bite or chew, swallowing their food whole. However, they have 36 sharp teeth, that could do a lot of damage.

Author Offers New Atomic Survival Hope

Your Life Could Depend on You

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a two-part series by an author who has written a book on atomic survival. The first part was published in the August 28 issue.

By RAY CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — One thing is abundantly clear as of now: You could live through an atomic attack. Or you could die. It mostly would depend on you. In the crucial hours just before an attack began, during the attack itself, in the days just after — you might be almost wholly on your own.

Don't count on government warnings. Don't count on the famed radio system. Consider. Bombing dropping — might be the first warning. The civilian warning system is not working well in practice.

If you're going to live, you would have to manage your own survival yourself, and the survival of your family, perhaps the first 14 days. By that time you should have outside help.

This is the consensus of government and volunteer experts working on civil defense.

If you do nothing, analysts figure, there could be H-bomb attacks rough enough so that you would have about one chance in 10 of living.

If you are personally prepared, you can increase your chances of living to 80 per cent or better. This still would leave millions of Americans dead, but it would be nothing like total extinction.

There is still little you can do to protect yourself from the blast of a hydrogen bomb if you're within a mile of the blast.

But for everyone else, there's new hope. If you're willing to spend $500 to $800 you can have a crude, underground, reinforced concrete pipe blast shelter for a family of six. This model, made of reinforced concrete pipe eight feet in diameter would give you 90 per cent assurance of living through the blast of a 10 million ton H-bomb a mile and a quarter away.

panies and the government to clean up the water supply, get electric power and other services going again rather quickly, and to get under way speedily decontamination of major roads and key areas.

Stable areas of highly-contaminated land might have to be abandoned for years. But much could be farmed right away.

Much more could be cleaned up fairly easily by timing and deep plowing, or by building the worst contaminated surface layers to one side.

There would be many more troubles, but you could live with them. You still would be able to live in this contaminated world. You wouldn't be "wiped out" if you were careful.

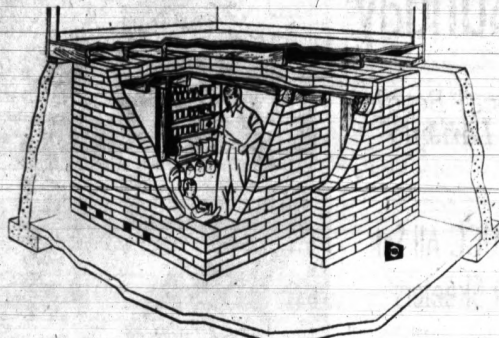

6 Run in Massachusetts

John Kennedys Fill Ballot

BOSTON (UPI)—Six John Kennedys—none related to the Democratic presidential nominee competed in Tuesday's Massachusetts primary.

They sought these Democratic nominations:

- John Kennedy of Canton—Governor.
- John Kennedy of Saugus—State treasurer.
- John Kennedy of Baintree—Norfolk County commissioner.
- John Kennedy of Everett—State representative.
- John Kennedy of Boston—State representative.
- John Kennedy of Plymouth—State representative.

A BASEMENT, concrete block fallout shelter can be built with $200 worth of materials.

If You Do... or If You Don't!

- If you want to really prepare your family for the possibility of an H-bomb attack, you'll do these things now:
 - Make a plan. Build a shelter.
 - Store in a two-week supply of canned or bottled food. One company puts out a quart can of basic food for one person for two weeks for $2.50. Add vitamin C pills and water and you're set.
 - Assemble a first aid kit. Have someone in your family trained in first aid. Remember, you probably wouldn't be able to go out for a doctor.
 - Add toys, eating and sleeping equipment, something to read, a battery-powered light, refuse and sanitary pads, a battery-powered radio.
 - You can buy a citizen's instrument kit for monitoring radiation for $25.
 - If a bomb warning comes — or maybe a bomb without warning — get in your shelter.
- Stay there for two weeks.
- After the first week, you should be able to move places to come out of your shelter for a few minutes to a few hours a day for emergencies.
- Suppose you are a procrastinator. You haven't built a shelter, or stored up food, or packed your car with a first aid kit, or organized your family. And H-bombs drop. Remember you might have 30 minutes or maybe several hours.
- You could start jerry-fitting your basement. Put a heavy table in a basement corner. Cover it high with books, magazines. Pile books around the table. Or pile anything that's heavy and dense on and around the table. Crawl under!
- If you were on the road, you could watch for a culvert. Or a big building with a basement that didn't look like it's exposed already. But if you were too close to ground zero, the best thing to do would be to keep going.

You can up your own survival chances against fallout dramatically by two simple steps: having a plan and having a low-cost fallout shelter. Some have built shelters for $35.

FOR ONLY $200

The concrete pipe blast shelter also would cut radiation by 5,000 times. But for only $200 worth of materials and some time and labor, you can build a concrete block shelter for six in your basement that would cut fallout radiation by 90 1/2 per cent.

It's enough to protect you and your family from death anywhere between eight to 10 miles from a five million ton H-bomb blast. Plans are available from Civil Defense offices.

But a personal plan is crucial. If you don't have a plan, you would waste precious minutes or hours. The "life or death" thing is to make simple decisions like these in advance:

What would you do if your family was all at home together "when the boom goes down"? What if you were at work, your children at school, your wife shopping?

Would you rush home to get the family together? Would the children stay in a school shelter? Would your wife gather the family and bring them to you at a shelter in the sub-basement of your office building?

If you were caught in the open do you know where the nearest culvert is to hide under?

The experts say deciding things like this beforehand could do more to save your family than anything else you could do.

Of course, even if you lived safely through the H-bomb attack and sat out the next two weeks safely in a shelter, your troubles would just be beginning. Expectedly if the Reds had saturated the U. S. with multimegaton weapons.

You would have to get used to living for a long while in a badly-contaminated world.

Much of the land could be contaminated, the roads, the roof of your house, your car, the food and water supply, the crops growing in the fields, the fresh milk.

You would have to be careful how long you stayed outside, where you walked, what you wore. You would have to learn how to decontaminate your roof, car, yard, food. But these things could be done.

You might have to change your eating habits, go easy on milk and dairy products, maybe eat less meat and some kinds of fresh fruits and vegetables for awhile, step up your consumption of wheat and corn and other grains and cereals.

In surplus wheat, corn and some other foods, the U. S. has enough to feed everyone in the country for more than a year. Much of this food, though it might be partially contaminated, could be cleaned.

No Curbs Set on Fidel in U.S.

Converging of Commie Dignitaries May Make Measures Necessary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department said today it had no plans at present to restrict the movements of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro when he comes to New York to attend the United Nations General Assembly.

Officials said, however, that if they received information which made it advisable to restrict the movements of Castro or any other top dignitaries at the U. N., they would have to take measures in the interests of their personal security.

Castro's decision to attend the assembly further complicated the problems of the free world, in general, and the United States in particular, will face during the meeting.

U. S. officials acknowledged that the Cuban leader's presence, added to that of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and the heads of a number of neutral countries, increased their headaches — both on ideological and security grounds.

3 Townships Nix Funds for St. Clair Schools

PORT HURON (UPI)—Voters in three St. Clair County townships turned down proposals Monday for increased school appropriations.

Port Huron Township voters defeated, by a 7-3 margin, three proposals to create a high school district, to add a five-mill tax for operation of the school, and to borrow $1 million for construction of the school building.

Three similar proposals were defeated in Fort Gratiot Township by a 7-5 margin. The amount to be borrowed was $1,100,000.

Kimball Township voters defeated, by a 7-5 margin, a proposal school operating tax increase of two mills.

Barrymore Jr. Asks Court to Retrieve Ring

HOME: In — Actor John Barrymore Jr. has asked the Rome Civil Tribunal to order Italian actress Georgia Moll to give back his engagement ring.

Barrymore filed the petition a week after police were called to Miss Moll's apartment building because of a 5 a. m. disturbance.

pending on Miss Moll's door and shouting, "I want my ring back."

Barrymore, 28, and the pretty Miss Moll were engaged for several months last year. Both are currently making motion pictures in Rome.

Court sources said the tribunal would decide next week when to hold hearings on the case.

Finds Room at the Top

Laurence Harvey Now Tops Film Wanted List

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—On the basis of a single movie, British star Laurence Harvey has become the most sought-after actor in Hollywood—more so than box-office champ Rock Hudson and clan leader Frank Sinatra combined.

Harvey, nominated for an Oscar this year for his performance in "Room at the Top," has received the top spot in the list of actors that the industry and public want to see more of.

The ex-Schwarzenegger has already signed for five more pictures—and has enough others lined up to keep him working for the next three years.

His explanation: "There is a demand for me because there's a shortage of leading men."

Not particularly handsome and unschooled in New York's "method" of mumble, scratching and shifting eyes, Harvey is unique.

"If I accept all the offers, I can go from one picture to the next for 10 years," he said. "But it's not a matter of keeping busy or piling up money."

"The important thing is good scripts. If an actor can find the right property he doesn't have to worry about money. All you can do is find decent stories. They are a form of collateral that can be bartered for financing."

The sandy-haired Englishman has acquired several properties himself and has formed his own production company.

But before he opens store, he is duty bound to star in "The Spenser" (with Shirley MacLaine), "Summer and Smoke," "A Borrowed Life," "A Distant Trumpet" and "The Long, the Short and the Tall."

"I play an Englishman only in 'The Spenser,'" in the others I portray a Southerner, a Russian, a Yale man, and various Europeans," said 31-year-old Harvey.

Another measure of his sudden success is his leading ladies.

In addition to Miss MacLaine, he is scheduled to work with Elizabeth Taylor, Kim Novak and Ava Gardner.

"There's a sixth picture that I neglected to mention," he said. "I must leave for Tokyo this week to scout locations for 'Tanaka.'"

"That's another exciting thing about making movies today. My films will be made all over the world. Instead of staying in one place posing like ladies and gentlemen, actors have become tramps and vagabonds again."

AF Enlistment Setup Revised

Pontiac Area Recruiter Notes Opening in Many Career Fields

Major revisions in Air Force enlistment policies will become effective next month, T. Sgt. Charles A. Abner, recruiter in the Pontiac area, announced today.

Many veterans barred in the past from re-enlisting will find making me about it and now it just means they are eligible for training because they are a good soldier."

Also, for the first time, veterans will be accepted for enlistment between now and June 30 next year, the Air Force reports, with a large number of these retaining the grades held when discharged.

134 FIELDS OPEN

Altogether, 134 career fields will be open to veterans, compared to the 41 previously authorized.

Another change becoming effective Oct. 1 is the new officer commissioning program.

It will allow qualified aviators to attend college at Air Force expense. Upon graduation, they will be commissioned as officers on active duty.

Emmet Kelly's Son to Start Clownin' Around

PERU, Ind. (UPI)—Emmet Kelly Jr. will make his debut into the circus world here this week and may become the second son of the famous clown to go into the business.

Kelly, 35, who now works for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, has put together an act patterned directly after his father's and will appear by special arrangement in and about a local dry goods store Friday and Saturday.

"I just never before had the banking to go into the circus business," said Kelly. "People kept making me about it and now it just means they are eligible for training because they are a good soldier."

Powers... Olympics... Tough Luck

Month Has Many Memories

By BOB CONSIDINE

ROME — It has been quite an assortment of memory material, this month. Here are some samples.

The absolutely explosive burst of applause in Moscow's big hall of columns when Oly. Victor Belousov, pronounced "Belousov," was crowned champion.

In America, courtroom crowds are funny. They cheer only occasionally.

The solution a Russian gave to something that has puzzled us before in the Soviet Union — the fact that you never see a dog or cat.

NO GUINEA PIGS

"You Americans can afford to have these animals," he said. "We don't have guinea pigs for our laboratory work."

The mixed emotions in the press gallery at Powers' trial.

A correspondent as my left kept saying, "Oh, that poor guy," as the U2 pilot poured out his act of contrition in his practiced way.

A reporter on my right biased. "If I had a gun I'd shoot him. He's singing like a bird."

Sometimes the jet age overpowers the mind.

It is still difficult to believe that you can fly from the Kremlin to the Vatican in an easy day.

They are just not that close together.

The chaotic bureaucracy of the Olympics was a thing to behold and marvel at.

Italy built the most magnificent arenas any Olympics ever possessed, then made the mistake of staffing them and guarding the approaches to them by incredibly incompetent police, gatekeepers, ushers and the like.

At the swimming arena a number of American sports writers swam, after calling delays, in a row the contractor never got around to building.

The Olympic athletes who didn't make it:

That poor guy Ray Norton — last in the 100 meters, but in the 200 meters and the 400 meters, he was the winner of the American 100-meter relay team because of a foul he committed at the start of the second leg.

The sad effort of the world's greatest high jumper John Thomas to shrug off his defeat by two Russians.

THAT'S MY RACE!

The one-man team from Surinam who wasn't told that the scheduled time of his event, the 800-meter qualifying race, had been changed from afternoon to morning.

He woke up at Olympic Village, had a light breakfast and strolled over to the athletes' lounge to watch television.

To his horror, his race was on. He had come halfway around the world for this frustration that will haunt him the rest of his life.

London Paper Hits Reins on Nikita

LONDON (AP) — The liberal News Chronicle said today the American decision to restrict Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to Manhattan Island was "unfortunate and unwise."

"The right course for the Americans was to issue a warning that they could not guarantee the safety of any of the guests once they left Manhattan," said the Chronicle. "It should be the constant aim of Western governments to avoid giving opportunities to the Communists to appear in the injured party."

Six of the recognized wildlife zones in North America are included within the borders of New Mexico.

Environment Cancer Key?

Scientist Predicts Our Way of Life Will Soon Provide Answer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Our ways of life hold keys to saving many thousands of humans from cancer, a prominent scientist predicts.

Cancer tolls might well be cut 10 to 15 per cent within 10 years by finding these keys, says Dr. John B. Heller, president of the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, New York.

Dr. Heller listed five major fields for study of possible cancer-causing agents in the American environment:

Unnecessary exposure to radiation, smoking, air pollution, use of the chemicals added to food, drugs, and some chemicals handled in industry and manufacturing.

It is generally considered that only one per cent of cancers can be blamed upon environmental causes, he said in an interview at the fourth National Cancer Conference sponsored by the National Cancer Institute and American Cancer Society.

But, admitting it could be "a wild guess," Dr. Heller said he thinks perhaps 15 to 20 per cent of cancers might be traced to agents in our environment.

Dumped Polio Shots Stir Drug Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate drug investigators planned to dig deeper today into the disclosure that more than 14½ million shots of polio vaccine were destroyed because they became outdated.

Eugene N. Bessley, president of Eli Lilly and Co., Indianapolis, said his firm had to destroy the vaccine. He cited this as a key example of high costs drug companies must shoulder in their business.

Investigators for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee said Bessley might be asked why something couldn't have been done to avert the waste of the vaccine, especially when millions of Americans are still not protected against polio.

They said they also wanted to know if Americans are footing the bill for the destroyed vaccine by paying higher prices for other drugs.

Bessley told the subcommittee Tuesday that Eli Lilly's drug prices have gone down over the years, despite a general inflationary trend in the nation's economy. He said the company's profits have been "reasonable" and averaged 13.3 per cent of sales during the past 10 years.

Dry Bean Outlook Better

Corn Reports Steady But Stay Week or Two Behind Normal

LANSING UP — Dry beans and corn prospects picked up and corn held steady last month, while dry bean crop forecasts reported Monday.

The outlook for dry bean production was described as "considerably better" on Sept. 1 than a month earlier, and the per-acre yield was pushed to an estimated 60 bushels—about 10 bushels better than last year.

The probable field bean harvest was put at 1,602,000 bushels, only slightly below last year. Total area production was increased at 27,000 bushels as the smallest increased acreage since the 1950s.

In their September crop report, the experts said progress toward corn maturity continued to run a week or two behind normal.

As a result, unless fall frosts come late, corn was likely to mature as fast as beans, and most growers, the report said. This year's corn acreage is the largest on record in the state, exceeding last year by 4 per cent. But production was held at about 8 per cent under 1959.

Moisture shortage cut prospects for late September harvest in Bay County. On the other hand, fall potato prospects were looking up. Sugar beet and fruit outlooks were mostly unchanged from 8 months ago, the report said.

Waterford Sets Registration for Adult Education

Registration for Waterford Township adult education classes has been set for 7 to 8 p.m. tomorrow at the high school, according to director Byron J. Merritt. The full roster will begin Sept. 20 and continue for 10 weeks meeting on Tuesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the high school.

If there is sufficient interest, the following courses will be offered:

Auto mechanics, bookkeeping, drafting, photography, advanced bookkeeping, sewing, shorthand, advanced typing and dictation, beginning typing and word processing.

The registration fee will be $1 per course and is payable at the time of registration. No refund will be made after the second meeting of the class. If an individual cannot register at the above scheduled time, he may register the first night of the class.

Molotov Subdued at A-Energy Contab

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Former Soviet Foreign Minister N. S. Molotov was subdued Tuesday at the meeting of the International Atomic Energy Agency's board of governors opened here.

An IAEA spokesman said Molotov is present but not participating in the meeting. Vasily Yermolov, representative of the Soviet Union, was named alternate delegate to West German. Molotov's modest speech appeared to confirm speculation that his appointment was a ploy to remove him from the scene of the Red China overseas striped of his high post by Premier Nikita Khrushchev in 1957 and charged with being a "lack of an anti-party group." The East German regime also condemned the visit here. Thuringia, German President Heinrich Lübke as "deliberate political trouble making."

Bulletin Board Tells Story

Big D. C. Moving Day Coming

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although the elections are still two months off, the U. S. capital already is getting ready for the opening of the lame duck season.

I saw signs of it last week or two ago when I was looking at the bulletin board in the cafeteria of the House Office Building.

The board was covered with notices of apartments for rent, houses for sale and other things that would be of interest to the members.

The notices were posted by congressional employees who, for one reason or another, are making plans to leave town.

ANTICIPATE WORK
In some cases, their bosses are indirectly retiring from the law-making machine this year, leaving them without a patron. Others are merely anticipating the worst come to pass.

One man who was very active in the House last year was now a quiet observer. He had a name that was well known in the House, but he was now a quiet observer.

Chain on Berlin Tightens, Keeping Pace With Nikita

BERLIN (AP) — The squeeze on Berlin gets tighter as the Soviet Communists are operating on the principle that a slow victory now and then is not bad. But in the end there is nothing left.

It may be coincidental, but the progressive pulling at the drawing string on this Communist-arranged city, appears to be keeping pace with the progress of the Soviet premier across the Atlantic.

Western officials speculated today that Khrushchev would like to have the Berlin situation boiling when he appears before the U.N. General Assembly soon after its opening session next Tuesday.

Any doubts whether the current harassing of travel by West Germans has Moscow's approval were removed Tuesday night by the Soviet newspaper in East Berlin, (Ma) Gen. Nikolai F. Zakharov.

He stoutly backed up the Communist East German regime, saying it was acting within "constitutional rights" the Soviets gave it five years ago.

Zakharov rejected an Allied protest of Aug. 21 against the Soviet blockade of West Berlin. He said the series of jobs in West Germany over the past two weeks, Zakharov turned down the Western argument that four-power control still applies to the whole of the city. The East sector, he said, is part of the sovereign East German state.

He also pointed a menacing finger at the West's lifeline air corridors to Berlin, warning the allies not to misuse them. The Soviet powers would have to "bear the consequences" if they allowed West German "revenge seekers and militarists" to fly to the city to "stage provocations" against Communist countries, the general said.

The Communist regime announced Tuesday night it would no longer recognize the West German passports issued to West Berliners. Instead, visas would be attached to personal identity cards for travel through East Germany, a turnover which will take place by the end of the month.

The East German regime also condemned the visit here Thursday by German President Heinrich Lübke as "deliberate political trouble making."

The bridge on the Grand River and a railroad track. The bridge will extend Logan Street to U.S. 16.

Low bidder on the bridge was the C. A. Hull Construction Co., Detroit, at $618,000.

Officials said it would take about 15 months to complete the project.

Presumably, as many or more will be brought in.

The turnover is expected to be higher if Democrat John F. Kennedy defeats Republican Richard M. Nixon in their battle to succeed President Eisenhower.

The theory is that Nixon would be less eager to swing out over the GOP job holders.

Either way, it probably will be sometime next spring before the city finally settles.

THANKS KENNEDY FOR HELPING LABOR LIKE HOW

Kennedy Happy in Missouri

Dem Candidate Hailed by Big Unruly Crowd at St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sen. John Kennedy bid strongly today for Missouri and New York electoral votes with renewed confidence in the stability of his Texas flank.

The Democratic nominee brought his campaign for the presidency to this doubtful state Tuesday night. He encountered the wildest demonstration of an otherwise relatively placid contest with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican rival.

An unruly crowd, which refused to heed police pleas—and in fact tossed policemen around as though they were teapots—engulfed the Kennedy plane after it landed at St. Louis Municipal Airport.

It took 15 minutes and repeated appeals by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., over a ship's foghorn loud-speaker before aides would agree to let the Democratic nominee venture into the narrow aisle that had been formed to let Kennedy pass to a ramp where he spoke briefly.

Police, who admitted they were not prepared for the big turnout, at first estimated the crowd at 10,000. Later the figure was revised upward to 20,000.

This reception, in a state where there are some Democratic doubts about the contest for 13 electoral votes, encouraged Kennedy's aides to believe the Massachusetts senator may become the sort of popular favorite former President Harry S. Truman proved himself in 1948.

Kennedy bid for active Missouri support with an early morning speech to the International Association of Machinists.

In his prepared text, Kennedy echoed a theme he sounded in his Labor Day talk in Detroit—that the American people are "tired of the drift in our national course" and want a change in administration.

There was frost on the pumpkins last night.

And many Oakland County residents reported the chilling temperatures killed their tomato plants and flowers.

For the next five days temperatures will average 3 degrees below the normal high of 74, the weathermen say. The low will be 43 tonight.

Thursday and Friday will be a little warmer with the high tomorrow about 76. Temperatures will turn cooler over the weekend, however.

Morning southerly winds at 16 miles per hour will become westerly at 8 to 12 m.p.h. and southerly at 5 to 12 m.p.h. tonight. Winds will be 10 to 18 m.p.h. Thursday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. is 41 degrees. At 1 p.m. the reading was 66.

Days, Times of Dick-Jack Debates

NEW YORK UP — Dates and times for the "great debates" between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy have been announced by television and radio networks.

The first debate will be in Chicago on Monday, Sept. 19, 8:30-9:30 p.m., Pacific time, as domestic policy.

On Friday, Oct. 7, 6:30-7:30 p.m. EST, they will appear on the first of two programs of a new panel format. The program will originate in New York if both candidates can be here.

The second news panel program will be Thursday, Oct. 13, 6:30-7:30 p.m. EST, using the split screen. Nixon will be in Los Angeles, Kennedy in New York.

On Friday, Oct. 21, 8-10 p.m. EST, they will discuss foreign policy from New York.

Networks participating are the Columbia Broadcasting System, National Broadcasting Co., and the American Broadcasting Co.

The programs will be carried on both radio and TV.

Nixon Pounding Away on Peace

Carries 'Best Prepared and No War' Theme to Farm Belt Today

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried into the Midwest farm belt today his story that the best chance to avoid nuclear war is to vote the Republican ticket.

That, in essence, is the case he is trying to make to the voters across the country.

It stirred cheers Tuesday in Washington, Oregon and Idaho. He will tell it again today in Grand Forks, N. D., and in Peoria, Ill., as he does at every stop.

A human mankind will be posed in the midst of the store's window display. He'll be motionless for minutes on end. Passersby are invited to guess which mankind is the human one. There'll be six shows every afternoon and evening, beginning at 3 p.m.

Stores began putting up banners and decorations today and distributed to sales personnel the Wild West-Style American costumes they'll be wearing tomorrow when stores open.

At Wayne and West Huron Streets, they began erecting the big tent in which the free breakfast of scrambled eggs, pancakes and coffee will be served every morning 9 to 10:30.

The festival's five outdoor stages were being erected in "east side, west side, all around the town" fashion.

They'll be on East Huron, West Huron, South Saginaw, North Saginaw and on the courthouse grounds at the corner of Huron and Saginaw.

He has found it so effective that he almost abandoned a speech on public works Tuesday in the power-conscious Northwest. He skipped the speech at Vancouver, Wash., and barely mentioned power and reclamation at Portland.

That, coupled with his assurances that he, the GOP presidential nominee, and Henry Cabot Lodge, his running mate, have the background and experience to carry on the Eisenhower policies, stir every audience to rousing applause.

Carnival Atmosphere Invading Downtown

Transformation of downtown Pontiac into a carnival atmosphere of fun and excitement was beginning today amid predictions that Downtown Fall Festival Days will break records this year.

The three-day festival, sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association, begins tomorrow with merchants promising shoppers continuous street entertainment, unusual retail values, free parking in all the municipal lots, free breakfast every day for 1,000 persons, free bus rides downtown every morning from 8:30 to 9:30 and free carnival tickets with every downtown purchase.

"There's no doubt that everyone will find this the best festival we've ever had in Pontiac," said Clifford Grovogel, association president.

"More advance planning than ever is going to result in more activities, more merchant participation and more fun for everyone than in any other year."

The one element merchants couldn't plan on is apparently going to be in their favor.

CLEAR SKIES, SUNSHINE.
The Weather Bureau says tomorrow's festival opening will be blessed with clear skies, lots of sunshine and warmer temperatures.

Enthusiasm of the association's outdoor stage shows and street displays will spill over into downtown stores and businesses.

Dozens of concerns plan something special, said Grovogel. For instance, Walde's Department Store, which Grovogel manages, has lined up an eye-stopper.

A human mankind will be posed in the midst of the store's window display. He'll be motionless for minutes on end. Passersby are invited to guess which mankind is the human one. There'll be six shows every afternoon and evening, beginning at 3 p.m.

Leaders Get Firm Preview of Population and Jobs

By DICK SAUNDERS
Community leaders in the Pontiac area gathered at Michigan State University Oakland yesterday to look at a major problem of the coming decade—population versus employment.

"Population and the working force will show a great increase in Michigan and Oakland County during the 1960s and available jobs must increase accordingly," said Max M. Horton, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Crystal Ball Reveals County's Next 10 Years

The meeting brought out some startling facts about Oakland County:

1. The Oakland rate of population increase estimated during the 1960s will more than double the Michigan rate and nearly triple the national rate.
2. During the 1960s nearly 125,000 young persons will attain the age of 18 (become a member of the labor force) in Oakland, compared to 61,500 during the past decade.
3. The increase rate in the total Oakland labor force will equal or exceed that of the last decade.

Horton gave his listeners an impressive look at estimates for the coming decade, based on past industrial and business figures and population statistics.

"In order to keep pace with the growing labor force, we must create 80,000 new jobs in Michigan each year for the next 10 years," he asserted.

"We have the manpower potential to provide us with the most productive decade we've ever known. The challenge will be to utilize this manpower to its full capacity."

Horton emphasized the value of seeing trends in what type of employment will be most in demand and the importance of education in thwarting mass unemployment.

"Everything points to a much faster increase in employment in service industries than production industries," Horton said.

"In fact, by 1962 the service employment will begin to outnumber production jobs and the gap will continue to widen as the decade progresses."

"There will be more interesting jobs, but more need for training. Education has replaced land (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

President Has Specific Plans for Assembly

U.S. Holds Firm to Ban on Travel for Nikita for His Protection

From Our News Wire
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower announced today he will personally present a program of "specific proposals" to the United Nations on Thursday, Sept. 22 — the day before Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev speaks at the momentous General Assembly session.

Eisenhower's decision to address the U.N. session was made public in a brief White House statement. White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty declined to amplify on the specific proposals which the President will make.

However, it is expected that they will deal with disarmament and other major issues in the East-West conflict.

Hagerty was asked if Eisenhower planned to see Khrushchev while at the U.N. He replied: "I have nothing else to add except what I have told you."

Eisenhower declared at a news conference last week that the chances of he and Khrushchev conferring were "very, very slim."

To begin with, he said, the Russians would first have to free two crew members of a U.S. B-57 plane shot down off the Soviet coast earlier this year. This the Kremlin has flatly refused to do.

Khrushchev is en route to New York for the session which gets under way Sept. 20.

The United States today held firmly to its plan to confine Khrushchev to the United Nations during his visit. He is being restricted only to assure his safety.

Both the White House and the State Department said Tuesday his movements are being restricted only to assure his safety.

Electra Flips at New York, All 76 Live

NEW YORK (UPI) — The crowded Lockheed Electra crashed into a ditch, flipped onto its back and plunged, blazing, 500 feet along a swamp.

Seventy-six passengers and a crewman hung head down, pinned in their upside-down seats by safety belts as flames closed in on the cabin.

But not a life was lost today when American Airlines Electra Flight 381 crashed at the end of a runway at New York's LaGuardia Airport.

The 70 passengers and six crewmen managed to loosen themselves from the safety belts, fell eight feet to the ceiling of the shattered plane and all walked away.

DESTROYED BY FIRE
Within minutes, the plane was destroyed by fire.

It happened at 9 a.m. (New York time) during a clear-weather flight from Boston to St. Louis—the fourth major crash involving the Electra jet-prop aircraft since Feb. 3, 1959, when another American Airlines plane crashed approaching LaGuardia.

Capt. S. E. Pangburn, a supervisory pilot checking out the regular crew, was at the controls on a normal approach with the full load of 70 passengers.

He said that at the last airborne moment a gust of wind struck the aircraft.

It drove the left wing down, he said.

The plane struck an eight-foot ditch at the byway end of the runway, cartwheeled and turned over.

DISCUSS OAKLAND EMPLOYMENT — About 75 community, business, educational and industrial leaders in the Pontiac area gathered at Michigan State University Oakland yesterday to discuss the population boom in the next 10 years and how it will affect employment. Max M. Horton, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, was featured speaker. Here (from left) are the men who led the meeting: Delos Hamlin, chairman; Pontiac Mayor Philip E.

Rowston; Horton; Howard Nelson, manager of Sears Roebuck Store in Pontiac; Dr. Otto C. Butziger, assistant superintendent of schools in Pontiac; Fred Haggard, executive secretary of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council; and James P. Dickerson, Pontiac General advertising manager, representing the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

DONNA'S DIRTY WORK — Flood waters were churned up over this beachfront at Atlantic City, N.J., in the north Jersey resort area by Hurricane Donna Monday. The boardwalk, fences and benches were uprooted at the height of the howler. The storm was nearing its end as it hit here after roaring up from the West Indies more than 10 days back.

Typical of the feeling which pre- vailed was a move in Miami to adopt families left homeless by the hurricane. A 22-year-old book- keeper discussed the idea with three of her co-workers and they decided to start a chain of good will.

The plan is for persons to give away items which will help set up families back up in housekeeping.

A "little WPA" which would not only help with the cleanup task but would provide work in the devastated areas was proposed Tuesday by Gov. LeRoy Collins.

The governor said the project

"I have yet to hear a person say they have had enough of Flor- ida," Collins said. "They say they are going to rebuild and this will bring us out on the plus side."

Cleanup details became family neighborhood and city projects. Some 250 storm refugees are at Islamorada, a once-busy sports and fishing center 75 miles south of Miami. More Changes Needed in Social Security

No one yet knows the effect of the medical care legislation recently passed by Congress. Much will depend on the response of the states.

The measure is intended to bring health care to those who can prove they need it and cannot pay for it. Michigan and a few other states already are attempting to provide some such service. But other states have done little or nothing toward assuring health care for older citizens who cannot pay for it.

Another change in the Social Security law has to do with earnings for those over 65. Under present law workers who have not reached the calendar year after their 72nd birthday, and who earn more than $1,200 a year lose some of their monthly benefit checks depending on how much they earn.

The rules have been eased—but not much. One dollar of benefits will be lost for each $200 earned between $1,200 and $1,600. From $1,600 to $1,800 the whole $300 will be taken off.

In other words anyone earning $1,800, that is $600 over the present maximum of $1,200 will lose $450. Under the new law extra net earnings permitted without losing all benefits would be a grand total of $150—not much of an incentive.

The Senate had raised the earnings limit to $1,800 but the House turned it down. Several Senators tried to get the limit removed altogether. This makes sense. Social Security is not a dole but an insurance fund and all earnings no matter at what age are subject to that tax.

Those with incomes other than earnings, however, are not limited in any way. Only if a retiree works is he penalized. This doesn't make sense.

Mining Rights Pay-Off Borne by the Taxpayer

In March, 1954, the Al Sarena Mining Co. of Alabama obtained mining rights to 475 acres of Federal timberlands in the Rogue River National Forest of Oregon for $5 an acre. Appraisers at that time estimated that timber on the tract was worth up to $650,000.

For years the company had been trying to get permission to mine the land. The Government refused on the ground that assays showed the ore too low grade to justify mining. But in 1953 CLARENCE DAVIS, solicitor and later undersecretary of the Interior, permitted the Al Sarena Co. to pick its own assay in Alabama.

Mr. DAVIS, who later resigned under fire, accepted the assay overruling Government assays, the Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management. Ore samples which had been taken from the tract and held by the Government were thrown in the Rogue River by an Al Sarena engineer and a Bureau of Mines employee. Thus the evidence was destroyed.

In public hearings the following year it was claimed that the company wanted to exploit the timber under cover of mineral claims. Just before the 1956 Oregon elections miners appeared on the claim in costume and with tools. Pictures were taken of them as proof that mining was going on.

Now comes the pay-off. A Senate investigating subcommittee has found that the Alabama "miners" cut from the tract two million board feet of lumber valued at $110,000. Oregon's Sen. Morse reveals that the Al Sarena Co. sold its claim in 1956 to a logger in Southern Oregon. Some 4.5 million feet more timber have been cut from the tract.

So the return on the company's $2,375 "mining" investment to date is $275,000 taken with the permission of the U.S. Government from the American people, the real owners of this national resource.

David Lawrence Says:

Resignation Offer Hurts Kennedy

WASHINGTON—Sen. John F. Kennedy may have pulled the "bombs" of the campaign. He didn't intend it, of course, but the widespread interpretation that has been placed on his willingness to resign the presidency if any action came that would require him to "violate" his conscience is certainly unfortunate.

The average man doesn't like the idea that anybody would even consider resigning the presidency for any reason whatsoever—except possibly ill health.

Not is it deemed wise to admit that there is even a possibility of a decision arising in the presidency which, when based on a religious viewpoint, could "violate" the national interest.

Sen. Kennedy's speech before the Greater Houston Ministerial Association at Houston, Tex., was motivated plainly by an honest desire to clear up all doubts as to where the Democratic nominee stands on the so-called "religious issue."

But whoever advised him didn't anticipate the possible meanings that can be derived from the words used.

Here is the exact quotation in the prepared speech as given out in advance:

"Whatever issue may come before me as president on birth control, divorce, censorship, gambling or any other subject—I will make my decision in accordance with these views, in accordance with what my conscience tells me to be the national interest, and without regard to outside religious pressures or dictates.

COULDN'T BE FORCED

"And no power or threat of punishment could cause me to decide otherwise."

"But if the issue should ever come and I do not concede any conflict to be even remotely possible—when my office would require me to either violate my conscience or violate the national interest, then I would resign the office, and I hope any conscientious public servant would do the same."

Many people have read the above to mean that the possibility, though remote, of a conflict between Kennedy's religion and his decisions in public office could come, and that he would resign from the presidency in favor of his religious convictions, or his conscience.

When this writer happened to be in a nearby town today, he talked with a carpenter who said he had read the Kennedy speech, and his comment was:

"Kennedy puts his religion above the presidency—I don't like that." Later on, in talking with a clergyman who is prominent in the same community, the identical reaction was forthcoming.

Political speeches that are prepared in advance should be scrutinized for possible ambiguities of this kind.

IMPRESSION COUNTS

"For, after all, it is the impression made by the words used, rather than the motivation or intention, which counts."

It is tragic that the religious issue has arisen in the campaign, though it is not as influential as some have been portrayed by some politicians.

Group or bloc prejudices appear frequently in campaigns, and it is a mistake to devote attention to issues that arise out of bigotry or arguments concerning so complex a subject as religious doctrine or dogma.

Vice President Nixon was right the other day when he urged that

Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Tumble Into a Trap, You Need That Vitamin C

"Due to gallstones my diet is quite limited. It includes whole wheat bread only, that is, no white bread; spinach every day; bananas when I am hungry or tired and often for dessert; and milk, at least 2 glasses of skim milk every day."

"On this diet my gall bladder trouble is greatly relieved. I have gained in vigor and general health, but not in weight."

"Sometimes I wonder why we are not more intelligent about our eating and just why doctors do not go into this food matter more seriously. I am indebted to you for your fine teachings." (M. R.)

What! No meat, no eggs, no vegetables?

Even a peck of spinach every day would be insufficient to supply the minimum daily requirements of essential minerals and vitamins, especially vitamin C. Cooking spinach destroys much of the vitamin C.

If the whole wheat bread is 100 per cent wheat (from which nothing has been removed), it would supply a considerable amount of vitamin B. Wheat as it comes from the threshing is the richest food source of vitamin B complex.

WOULDN'T BE ENOUGH

With gallstones or chronic inflammation of the gall bladder (cholecystitis) may get enough biologically complete protein from skim milk (or whole milk or buttermilk) and wheat, but only two glasses of skim milk a day would be hardly enough to maintain good nutrition.

You should take four glasses of skim milk daily, or the equivalent in cheese (whatever kind you like) and eggs (two a day).

I thank you, M. R., for not mentioning cholesterol. I get so tired of inquiries about this that I can hardly drag myself over to the bowling green.

Gallstones, I regret to say, contain more or less cholesterol. So does healthy bile.

Patients worry about the "cholesterol content of food, blood, or cheese; although no one has shown that cholesterol has anything to do with the formation of gallstones or the occurrence of gallbladder trouble."

If your limited diet brought about your gain in vigor and general health, supplementing your diet with the essential I have mentioned probably will astonish—if not scandalize—the neighbors by making you a good 10 years younger.

INDISPENSIBLE IN DIET

Milk, skim milk, buttermilk and/or cheese is indispensable in the diet of anyone who wants to keep young.

It is not only the best food source of calcium, which is indispensable in many actions about

Knowledge of Bible Ushers Before November Election

We might do well to follow the Bible in determining the course to follow in the all important November election. We should be interested first in learning all we can about principles, truths, and deceptions involved.

Let's carefully examine the material which some so glibly call "hate literature." Why not prove it? It's very easy to be impartial and unprejudiced, but can we be with a total disregard for truth. Suppose we consult our "impartial" encyclopedia or public library to prove such literature.

I fear our average American is too busy fighting for acceptance of "Universal Brotherhood" to bother about the truth. Is our American way becoming a way in which we cover our eyes and plug our ears?

Words of Long Ago Still Applicable

"I place economy among the first and most important virtues, and public debt as the greatest of dangers to be feared. To preserve our independence, we must not let our rulers load us with perpetual debt. If we run into such debts, we must be taxed in our meat and drink, in our necessities and in our comforts, in our labor and in our amusements. If we can prevent the government from wasting the labor of the people, under the pretense of caring for them, they will be happy." — Thomas Jefferson

Certainly these words are more applicable now than when Mr. Jefferson wrote them.

Hail 2 Rights Steps as Break-Throughs

By United Front International A federal judge in Georgia and U.S. attorney in Tennessee took action under the Civil Rights Act yesterday on charges of discrimination against Negro voters.

Federal District Judge William A. Riddle ruled at Macon, Ga., that voters registered at Troup County in Southwest Georgia act up different standards for white and Negro registrants for "no lawful reason."

He issued an injunction to stop the practice and give the registrars 10 days to comply.

"This decision will mark the beginning of a new day for the civil and political rights of Negroes," said John Wesley Dobbs, president of the Georgia Negro Voters League.

At Memphis, Tenn., U.S. Attorney Warner Hodges filed a suit charging 27 white merchants, farmers and businessmen and two banks in agricultural Haywood County with "economic reprisals" against Negroes who registered to vote.

The defendants include attorney Alex H. Gray whose wife is national president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The Tennessee suit is a civil action which simply asks an injunction to stop the alleged reprisals. The defendants, given no time to answer, said they had not decided whether to hand together to fight the charge. Most of them expressed surprise.

The government suit charged that "fewer than 300" Negroes and more than 6,500 whites were registered to vote in the predominantly Negro county. County election officials disputed the figures and said there are 407 registered Negro voters and about 6,300 white voters.

The suit charged that Negroes leading a voter registration drive were subjected to "various types of economic penalties" including refusal by some merchants to sell to them.

Mark Twain's favorite—

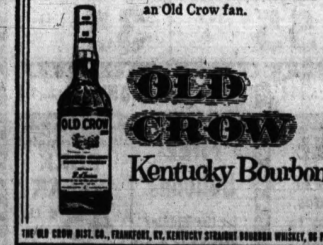

Bourbon or Scotch?

Perhaps at one time or another, you've seen Mark Twain featured in our Old Crow advertising. The reason is that Mark Twain's favorite bourbon was Old Crow. He was known to have been so pleased with our bourbon, that he made a trip to Kentucky to visit James Crow's distillery. There he ordered 25 barrels of Old Crow for his favorite tavern in Elmira, New York.

But recently we were challenged. An executive from a competitive whiskey company wrote us saying he had incontrovertible evidence proving Mark Twain to be a Scotch drinker! We checked immediately and found that yes, it was true, the great American author had once been a Scotch drinker during his early years! But further examination revealed that he subsequently changed to bourbon!

Now, many city folk are going through the same taste change that Mark Twain experienced. They've tasted them all and are now savoring the simple goodness of fine bourbon. Have you tried the time-honored flavor of light, mild Old Crow 86 proof Kentucky bourbon? It is America's favorite. Try it and you'll see why Mark Twain was a bourbonite in his time—and an Old Crow fan.

Lodge Winds Up 2-Day Swing

Pledges More Jobs and Brushes Off Religious, Political Issue

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Republican Vice Presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, pledging to put life into chronic unemployment areas, winds up a two-day campaign swing through Western Pennsylvania today with brief stops at four industrial communities.

Lodge told thousands in Erie, Pa., Tuesday that foreign affairs and unemployment are major issues in the presidential race. He promised a GOP ticket would revitalize industry "to the full extent that our leadership can bring about a decision by Congress which will reflect the true public interest."

Lodge brushed off the religious issue sharply. "A man's religion has nothing to do with the presidency," he said while predicting a Republican victory in the November election.

The former ambassador to the United Nations addressed an overflow crowd of 7,500 at Gannon College in Erie and made a side walk talk in Sharon, Mercer and Meadville in Northwestern Pennsylvania and in Youngstown, Ohio.

His schedule today calls for stops at Butler, New Castle, Ellwood City and Beaver, Pa., before flying to Chicago.

India Patents Invention to Cut Costs of Diesels

An Indian engineer has patented an invention which may "revolutionize the manufacture of diesel locomotives the world over," New Delhi reports. Named after the inventor, M. M. Suri, the Suri transmission is a new system which may bring down the capital and running costs of diesel locomotives and ensure greater efficiency in diesel traction.

The Indian government has taken over the invention for commercial exploitation and granted a license to seven prototypes to a West German firm.

Orders Driver Training

LOS ANGELES—California employs driving State-owned cars have been ordered to take a safe driving course by June 30, 1961. The program, estimated to cost $180,000 to $200,000 is expected to cut the State's losses in employee traffic accidents by 35 per cent.

3 in 5 Now Make Wills

NEW YORK—Only about 60 per cent of Americans have made out wills, a new survey shows. But that's better than a decade ago, when a similar survey showed only 52 per cent had written wills.

'Nose' Traces Smog

STAMFORD, Conn.—Standard laboratory workers have developed a scientific "nose" that can "smell out" smog sources. Called the FICA — for flame ionization continuous analyzer — the device inexpensively helps detect and examine sources of air contamination and measures the atmosphere for exhaust hydrocarbon content.

Charity Lights Town

EL CAMPO, Tex. (UPI)—The local Junior Chamber of Commerce lit up this South Texas town recently. The Jaycees sold thousands of light bulbs door-to-door to raise money for charity.

Mayor Needed Saw, Not Scissors, at Opening

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—When Mayor A. Scott Anderson arrived at a store-opening ceremony here, he found the doorway barred not by the customary ribbon but by a plank of Honduras mahogany. E. M. Farley, president of the Biggs Furniture Store, handed the mayor a saw instead of the customary

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.
 Q. My husband and I work, but would like to have a dog. Would it be harmful to the dog's character to leave it alone all day?

A. Although these are not the ideal circumstances under which to raise a dog, the obstacles aren't great enough to deny yourselves the enjoyment of a puppy. Many happy, well-adjusted dogs are left alone all day.

Because you will not always be there to reprimand the puppy in his mischievous moments, it will naturally take longer to train him. Isolate him from furniture and other valuables he might decide to chew on.

Leave him water in a heavy container that can't tip over, and plenty of dry food snacks. Feed the puppy as soon as you arise in the morning, so that he can be taken outside before you leave for work. Early evening feeding followed by outings will also help the house-breaking problem. Your working hours are no longer than the night period when dogs are alone, and you can catch up with lost affection and companionship in the evenings and weekends.

an object from orbit.

Discoverer XIV's capsule was caught in the air Aug. 19 as it dropped toward the target area near the Hawaiian Islands. Planes missed Discoverer XII's payload but it was fished underwater from the sea.

Like previous Discoverer shots,
No. 15 was fired from this big West Coast missile base into a polar orbit, south to north.

It went into orbit almost perfectly, circling the pole on an egg-shaped course as far out as 172 miles and as close as 130 miles.

On the 17th trip, about 8 p.m.
today, the capsule should descend from the rocket carrier over Arctic and begin a descent toward a 60-by-200-mile target area off of Hawaii.

Two Hawaii-based C-119 flying box-trailing huge trapezes will attempt to snag it.

Discoverer XV carried aloft a "spy" gear being tested for upcoming Midas and Samos satellites. These are expected to be able to photograph foreign territory and detect missile launchings anywhere.

There is nothing live aboard Discoverer. Later rockets will carry laboratory animals.

U.S. to Restrict Fidel Like Nik

Cuba's Boss Also Must Stay on Manhattan
During U.N. Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States today ordered Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro restricted to Manhattan Island when he attends the United Nations
General Assembly session in New York, beginning next week.

The limitations imposed on Castro's movements are the same as those previously set on the travels in this country of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and two other Soviet-bloc leaders.

This latest move by the United States in preparation for dealing with the New York assembly of many government chiefs who follow the lead taken by Khrushchev was announced at a news conference today by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Herter said the Cuban Embassy was formally advised this morning of the restrictions on Castro.

London Eyes Pay TV for Cultural Programs

A new pay-as-you-see television service may be the government's answer to the problem of a third TV channel, London reports.

Officials are in favor of setting up another commercial channel separate from the ITA and the BBC, to carry programs of higher cultural and educational quality.

Since this type of program wouldn't attract large enough audiences to earn a high advertising rate, officials are investigating a shilling-in-the-slot system.

Says Man Pays High Price for Comfort

NEW YORK (AP) — Modern man's comfortable, controlled environment may cut him much of his previous ability to adapt and survive, a scientist suggested today.

The danger lies in failing to use a natural gift held by even the simplest bacteria—the ability to adapt within limits to one's environment.

Dr. Van R. Potter of the University of Wisconsin reported this at a meeting of the American Chemical Society. Earlier, in a chemistry conference, he suggested that man may be facing a road that long ago led the dinosaur and other creatures to extinction.

In biochemistry, even the simplest germ has the ability to adapt to some changes in his environment. This is seen in the process called feed back.

If you provide a bacteria with an essential chemical it normally makes for itself, it stops making the chemical by sending some of its surplus back along the production line to lock up the machinery.

When the surplus material is used up, the chemical production line is freed and begins producing again.

So each individual, human or one-celled, is allowed some change within its particular genetic pattern.

Darwin suggested that man would evolve to perfect form, Dr. Potter said. But man must be aware that the vast majority of species have become extinct and the possibility exists for mankind, too.

There are obvious dangers in obesity and lack of muscle development which depreciates man's ability to meet severe physical challenges. Less obvious and less easily recovered are mental shifts and attitudes, Dr. Potter said.

Dr. Arthur Purdie, University of California biochemist, explained how diabetes was the chemical machinery within a single bacterial cell.

So efficient is the cell that 99 per cent of its food is used for growth. In one cell there may be as many as a million chemical reactions a minute.

If you damage the cell's ability to adapt its chemistry, you upset its efficiency and make a "perfect idiot" out of an intelligently operating cell.

Dr. Potter suggested the possibility that higher organisms—perhaps even animals — may have evolved from colonies of such naturally damaged cells.

Unable to provide themselves with chemicals they needed for existence, these cells by some accident may have been thrown into a mutual broth with other cells that were able to support them with the chemicals they lacked.

Steady Drip From Cor Tips Officers on Thief

PUEBLO, Colo., (AP)—The word was flashed on police radio: A 14-gallon keg, full to the brim, had been stolen from a beer truck.

Officers in a cruise car noticed a healthy drip from the trunk of an automobile just ahead. It was from the stolen keg, which had tipped over in flight.

Senegal Troops Sent to Border

Senegal troops were sent to the Sudan border following Sudan's proclamation of martial law, it was reported Tuesday.

The troops apparently were sent as a defense measure against any attack from Sudan, observers said.

Sudan and Senegal, former French colonies, broke up their union as the Mali Federation last month when Senegal pulled out. France has recognized Senegal as a separate union, but Sudan insists that the federation still is in force.

Bagwell Plans Fast Action

Vows Citizens Group to Blueprint Cure for State Financial Woes

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Republican Paul D. Bagwell said Tuesday that if he is elected governor Nov. 8 he will name a citizens action committee "within two days" to blueprint a cure for state financial ills.

"This will not be a study committee. We have shelves of studies now, all of them gathering dust," he said in a talk before the Michigan Table-Top Congress, a tavern owners group.

Bagwell said it would be handed the job of "reviewing the state's financial situation in the light of the vote on the (four-cent) sales tax . . . and recommending a program to the 1961 legislature."

The lawmakers convene in January for next year's regular meeting. Bagwell said his action committee would be given a Dec. 15 report deadline.

NO DOMINATION

The group, he said, would be chosen to represent business, labor, state and local government, agriculture, education—and dominated by no single element.

"Recommendations involving immediate constitutional changes would be placed on the ballot for a popular vote at the April 1961 election," Bagwell added.

"And by May of 1961 I would expect legislative action on the program to bring order out of financial chaos."

With Information—Weatherman Says Weatherma

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Weather researchers gathered more information about hurricanes from Donna than all tropical storms since the national hurricane research project began in 1956, says the chief of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer said tracking, warning and forecasting during the passage of Hurricane Donna were the most complete in history, adding that if Donna had occurred five years ago, thousands of people might have lost their lives because of less adequate warning.

"Donna has left no doubt that it was the most destructive and vicious storm since Weather Bureau records were first kept in 1886," Reichelderfer said.

Beaver Island Boat Co. Eyes Cross Village

CROSS VILLAGE (UPI) — The possibility of shifting the mainland terminal of the Beaver Island Boat Co.'s Bluebird Isle from Charlevoix to Cross Village was being considered today.

The move would shorten the route from 34 miles to 24 miles and cut the crossing time from two hours and 45 minutes to two hours.

Charlevoix is southeast of the island, located out in Lake Michigan, while Cross Village is directly across from the island.

Woman Was Murdered After Seeing Film

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Do crime movies and TV shows incite crime?
The question has long been argued. It was brought up again last week when a confessed triple slayer in Hollywood said he killed victim No. 2 after taking her to see the film "Psycho."

The stranger induced the movie did not prompt his deed.
"I don't know why I did it," he said. "I occasionally get a strange urge to kill. Most of the time I get rid of it by watching TV or going to the movies, but sometimes—"

The story thus gave ammunition to both sides in the continuing argument about the effect of crime portrayals:

1. Upholders of a vicarious outlet for criminal urges.
2. Their opponents could argue that the seeing of "Psycho" and the committing of the murder were too close to be coincidental.

HITCHCOCK MUM

Alfred Hitchcock, who made "Psycho," declined to enter the controversy. Nor was there any comment from the Motion Picture Association, which gave the film its Production Code seal. Code overseer Geoffrey Shurlock has been barred from public comment.

In the days when he was allowed to talk, Shurlock told me that he did not believe crime films induced criminal activity. He said he kept track of news stories that claimed a criminal had committed a crime on the stimulus of seeing a movie. All such cases were thoroughly investigated, Shurlock said, and it was found the crimes stemmed from other causes.

William H. Parker, Los Angeles chief of police, has this to say: "The power of suggestion to persons easily stimulated undoubted."

South Carolina Officials Seek Business in SA

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—South Carolina Gov. Ernest F. Hollings and a 27-man committee of the state's industrial and business leaders held a final series of informal meetings with local officials Tuesday before flying to Montevideo, Uruguay.

The Carolinians arrived in this Argentine capital Sunday on the first part of a six-city tour of South America designed to drum up business for the recently modernized and expanding port of Charleston.

Lawrence, Kan., was founded in 1854 by a group of abolitionists of the New England Emigrant Aid Society, headed by Amos A. Lawrence of Boston.

ly plays a part in criminal behavior."

His opinion is shared by Dr. Frederick J. Hacker, psychiatrist head of the Hacker Clinic in Beverly Hills.

"I personally do not believe accounts of crimes in mass media create criminals, but they can create a crime in persons predisposed to criminal activity," Dr. Hacker said.

Other countries are more sensitive to the treatment of crime and violence on the screen. England, mistakable.

India and Indonesia are among the nations whose censors often make wholesale cuts in Hollywood crime films.

The Production Code has strongly worded provisions: "Excessive and inhuman acts of cruelty and brutality have no proper place on the screen."

"Psycho" is an example of the current loosening of the code to permit more exciting film material. Hitchcock never shows a blow being landed, but the terror is undiminished.

Ostriches Run Wild as Mayors Sweep Ahead

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The "Kentucky Ostrich Derby" at the State Fair was a gag, but the brooms waved by the three drivers had a real use.

The ostrich has 180-degree vision. It runs when it sees the broom near its head.

To make the ostrich pull the chair left, right or straight ahead the driver merely waves the broom in the desired direction.

Parke, Davis Denies Hiding 'Danger'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., Tuesday accused a major drug firm, Parke, Davis & Co., of trying to get the government to "water down" a required danger warning on use of the antibiotic drug chloromycetin.

Harry J. Loynd, president of the firm, immediately denied the charge and repudiated a letter sent from his firm to the Federal Food & Drug Administration five years ago.

The forested area of Canada is exceeded only in size by the forest lands of the United States and Brazil.

Why More Training?

The Job Guide, published by the U.S. Dept. of Labor, gives this answer: "You should weigh carefully the long run advantages offered by jobs you are considering against immediate gains. You should be aware of the great importance of education as a general and specific asset. Technical or professional training received after leaving high school will give you definite advantages in seeking and finding a job. When advancement opportunities occur, preference is generally given to persons with superior educational qualifications—other things being equal."

Barrymore Jr. Asks Court to Retrieve Ring

—ROME 14—Actor John Barrymore Jr. has asked the Rome Civil Tribunal to order Italian actress Georgia Moll to give back his engagement ring.

Barrymore filed the petition a week after police were called to Miss Moll's apartment building because of a 5 a. m. disturbance.

pounding on Miss Moll's door and shouting, "I want my ring back."

Barrymore, 28, and the pretty Miss Moll were engaged for several months last year. Both are currently making motion pictures in Rome.

Court sources said the tribunal would decide next week when to hold hearings on the case.

Tax Refunds Increase

CHICAGO (UPI)—Large tax refunds—amounting to $100,000 or more—jumped 50 per cent last year, according to Commerce Clearing House. There were 300 such refunds in 1959 totaling $772 million, compared with 179 amounting to $245 million in 1958.

Finds Room at the Top

BY VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—On the basis of a single movie, British star Laurence Harvey has become the most sought-after actor in Hollywood—more so than box office champ Rock Hudson and clan leader Frank Sinatra combined.

Harvey, nominated for an Oscar this year for his performance in "Room at the Top," has reached the top and finds more room there than he had expected.

The ex-Shakespearean has already signed for five more pictures and has enough others lined up to keep him working for the next three years.

His explanation: "There is a demand for me because there's a shortage of leading men."

Not particularly handsome, and unschooled in New York's "method" of mumble, scratching and shifting eyes, Harvey is unique.

"The important thing is good scripts. If an actor can find the right property he doesn't have to worry about money. All you can do is find decent stories. They are a form of collateral that can be bartered for financing."

The sandy-haired Englishman has acquired several properties himself and has formed his own production company.

But before he opens store, he is duty bound to star in "The Spinsters" (with Shirley MacLaine), "Summer and Smoke," "A Borrowed Life," "A Distant Trumpet" and "The Long, the Short and the Tall."

"I play an Englishman only in 'The Spinsters'. In the others I portray a Southerner, a Russian, a Yale man, and various Europeans," said 32-year-old Harvey.

Another measure of his sudden success is his leading ladies.

In addition to Miss MacLaine, he is scheduled to work with Elizabeth Taylor, Kim Novak and Ava Gardner.

"There's a sixth picture that I neglected to mention," he said. "I must leave for Tokyo this week to scout locations for 'Tamika.' That's another exciting thing about making movies today. My films will be made all over the world. Instead of staying in one place posing like ladies and gentlemen, actors have become tramps and vagabonds again."

Pontiac Area Recruiter Notes Opening in Many Career Fields

Major revisions in Air Force enlistment policies will become effective next month, T. Sgt. Charles A. Ahnen, recruiter in the Pontiac area, announced today.

Many veterans barred in the past from re-enlisting will find that they are eligible to resume service careers, as the Air Force has found a number of career fields in short supply.

Also, for the first time, veterans these fields regardless of their number of dependents, according to T. Sgt. Ahnen.

Almost 9,000 men with prior service will be accepted for re-enlistment between now and June 30 next year, the Air Force reports, with a large number of these retaining the grades held when discharged.

134 FIELDS OPEN

Altogether, 134 career fields will be open to veterans, compared to the 41 previously authorized.

Another change becoming effective Oct. 1 is the new officer commissioning program.

It will allow qualified alimen to attend college at Air Force expense. Upon graduation, they will be commissioned as officers on active duty.

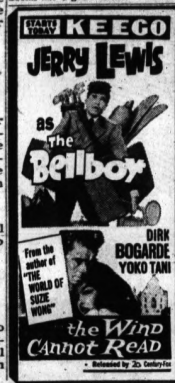

Emmet Kelly's Son to Start Clownin' Around

PERU, Ind. (UPI)—Emmet Kelly Jr. will make his debut into the circus world here this week and may become the second son of the famous clown to go into the business.

Kelly, 35, who now works for the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, has put together an act patterned distinctly after his father's and will appear by special arrangement in and about a local dry goods store Friday and Saturday.

"I just never before had the hankering to go into the circus business," said Kelly. "People kept asking me about it and now it just seems like a good idea."

Wind, as well as sun, causes (read) the earth to dry. Therefore, it is no windy spell.
