Navy Seeks Cause of Ship Fire That Killed 91

Takes Stand

ROY M. COHN

Counsel for the McCarthy Senate investigating subcommittee, Roy M. Cohn, today took the stand to testify in the hearing of the Army-McCarthy controversy. This was his first extensive testimony.

Cohn Credited for 35 Layoffs at Ft. Monmouth

McCarthy Aide Claims Army Tried to Discredit Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy M. Cohn today claimed full credit for the McCarthy subcommittee for the suspension as possible subversives of 35 persons at the Army's secret laboratories at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Under oath, the 27-year-old chief aide to Sen. McCarthy also said it was "true," as the McCarthy camp alleges, that the Army officials tried to "discredit" the subcommittee.

Cohn's early testimony was punctuated by a hot exchange between McCarthy and Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) over whether any crime was involved in McCarthy's receiving secret information from an Army officer.

"You cannot receive classified information obtained by criminal means without being guilty of a crime," McClellan told McCarthy.

McCarthy retorted that if anyone wanted to indict him for getting information "exposing Communists . . . let them go ahead."

The exchange dealt with a document McCarthy unsuccessfully sought to introduce earlier in the hearings, summarizing an FBI report on subversive activities at Ft. Monmouth, N.J. McCarthy said at the time he got the information from an Army officer but declined to name him.

McClellan said he wasn't passing final judgment on whether a crime had been committed but had told Atty. Gen. Brownell he ought to look into it.

The senators got into the matter through another document, produced by Cohn. It was described by Cohn as dealing with Communist infiltration of the Army, and as having been in committee files since March, 1953.

Cohn described the document as estimating the extent of Communist infiltration of the Army.

It was made an exhibit for the hearing record.

Cohn testified the committee began its preliminary investigation of reported Communist infiltration of the Army in February, 1953.

He testified the information the committee received presented this picture:

1. Pre-Communist literature was found to be "in use by Army intelligence" and "still is in use."

2. Persons following the Communist line were "teaching at military institutions."

3. Communists had been commissioned in the Army under the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt's directive of 1944. Some still were in the Army, and some Communists were commissioned in fairly recent years.

Cohn went on to state that the committee investigating disclosed that Communist infiltration had extended to the radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth.

He was told in the spring of 1953 that a man named Aaron Coleman was working at Ft. Monmouth, Cohn said, adding:

"This rang a bell."

As a federal prosecutor of atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, Aaron Coleman had been mentioned as "a friend and associate"

Survivor Tells of Horror as Blast Rips Bennington

LOOKED IN ON DEATH — Aviation Electrician's Mate Francis Toth of Phoenixville, Pa., tells newsmen a grim story of death on the Aircraft Carrier Bennington during the fire that followed an explosion while the carrier was 75 miles at sea off Rhode Island yesterday. Toth said he was near the engine room on the fourth deck when he smelled smoke. When he entered the engine room, Toth said, "It looked like hell in there. I started pulling out bodies. Everyone I pulled out was dead." His face is blackened by oil and smoke after four hours of fire fighting.

TWISTED WRECKAGE — Mute testimony of the force of explosion aboard the aircraft carrier, Bennington, yesterday is this smashed locker, tangled mattress and bunk and twisted walls of officers quarters.

Sabotage Check Will Be Made on Bennington

Explosions and Blaze Aboard Carrier Are Still a Mystery

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (UP) — Survivors of the scarred aircraft carrier Bennington appear before a special naval board of inquiry today (12:30 p. m. EST) to describe the explosions and fire that ripped through the great ship Wednesday, killing 91 and injuring 201.

The board, headed by Rear Adm. John M. (Peg Leg) Hoskins, will check particularly for any indications that sabotage might have been involved, although Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas said preliminary inspection showed no evidence of sabotage.

The Bennington's master, Capt. William F. Raborn of Oklahoma City, Okla., said he had no idea what caused the explosions and fire.

"It's a mystery to me," he told newsmen.

The word "catapult" bobbed up today in eyewitness accounts of the disaster which killed at least 91 men and injured 201 yesterday on the aircraft carrier Bennington.

The catapult room of the big ship may come under investigation after the Navy Board of Inquiry meets for the first time here today.

Other investigations were ordered by the Armed Services Committees of the House and Senate. Rep. Edith Norst Rogers (R-Mass) suggested the possibility that Communists may have attempted to cripple the ship.

While the investigations shaped up, intelligence officers and engineers searched the blackened interior of the carrier for clues to the disaster.

Capt. Raborn brought the crippled ship to its moorings here from a point 70 miles at sea where the disaster occurred.

Raborn, given command of the 27,100-ton vessel only three weeks ago, was on the navigation bridge when the first explosion occurred as the members of his 2,800-man crew lined up for breakfast.

"I am damned proud to be the commanding officer of such a heroic and unselfish crew of American seamen," he said. "Their rescue effort was splendid."

Raborn ordered full speed ahead for Quonset while damage control parties and rescue workers fought their way into the choking smoke that billowed from the third deck in the forward port section.

Debris littered the passageways. Bulkheads and deck plates were twisted. But there was no visible

2nd Fire Breaks Out Alongside Carrier

QUONSET POINTS, R. I. (UP)—Fire broke out today on a pier alongside the Aircraft Carrier Bennington as a special naval board of inquiry prepared to investigate explosions and flames that killed 91 and injured 201 on the great ship Wednesday.

Today's fire, first reported aboard the carrier, it proved to be blazing rubbish on the dock. The fire was extinguished and the ship was not affected.

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Robert Raakosky of Venice, Ohio, was due aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington Tuesday. But he didn't make it.

The 23-year-old naval airman was released yesterday from a Delaware, Ohio, jail where he was serving a three-day sentence for a traffic offense.

THOMSON, Ga. (AP) — For the second time in 13 months, two Thomson seamen wired their parents they had survived a blast aboard the Carrier Bennington.

The two, both former schoolmates at Thomson High School and new shipmates aboard the carrier, are Gunner's Mate 3.C. Weldon T. Neal Jr., 22, and Seaman Charles Cameron Jr., 21.

Neal and Cameron also were aboard the Bennington in April 1953 when 11 crewmen were killed in a boiler explosion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lt. Wallace Rich, 28, killed yesterday in the explosion aboard the carrier Bennington, was one of the three Navy pilots who last month set a new unofficial cross-country speed record, the Navy said today.

The Navy said he made the flight last month in an F9F7 jet from San Diego, Calif., to New York, a distance of 2,438 miles, in 3 hours 47 minutes 9 seconds.

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Cincinnati man aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington slept right through the explosion.

Thomas J. Lorenz, 23, told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Lorenz, by telephone that he was "missing" when his squadron held muster after the explosion. But he wasn't a casualty. He was asleep.

He was awakened by shipmates and joined in the rescue work.

Ten of at least 23 Michigan men believed to have been aboard the U.S.S. Bennington yesterday were reported unharmed today. Seven of the 23, however, have not yet been heard from. Five of the other seven were killed and two were critically injured.

Cmdr. John W. Fair, operations officer on the Bennington, of Grosse Pointe; Graham W. Casserly, Milford; Bruno Costantini, 20, of Dearborn; Thomas Davis, 24, of Dearborn; Gardner A. Boone, 22, of Detroit; Robert Newman, of Detroit; John A. Lefevre, 21, of Detroit; Herbert Brandana, 20, of Detroit; Ronald Husk of St. Clair Shores; Robert Kenyon, 24, of Middleville.

Ten Atomic Bombers to Fly Over Nicaragua at Her Request

By UNITED PRESS

Three 10-engine American atomic bombers roared out of the darkness at Fort Worth, Tex., today on an unprecedented good will flight over Nicaragua, next-door neighbor of Communist - influenced Guatemala.

Brig. Gen. John D. Ryan, commander of the 19th air division, took off in the lead plane from Carswell Air Force Base at 1:15 a. m. (EST) and the other two superbombers followed at eight-minute intervals.

The non-stop trip was expected to last about 17½ hours, giving the B-36's at least 30 minutes in Nicaraguan skies. They will not land.

Defense Department spokesmen said officially the flight was a good will mission in observance of Nicaraguan Army Day, made at the request of the South American government. The United States never before had received such a request from a foreign government on the occasion of a state holiday.

The flight was ordered only a few days after the United States had airlifted a small amount of arms and ammunition to Nicaragua and Honduras after Guatemala received 2,000 tons of war-making material from European Communists.

Guatemalan exiles in Mexico City reported last night that in an addition to the widely-publicized Iron Curtain arms shipment, Guatemala also received five Soviet-built MKG-15 jet fighters, accompanied by "European-type" aviators from an unidentified cargo ship.

The "good will" flight and the exiles' report on the mystery ship occurred amid these developments:

U. S. Customs officers detained the French line's S.S. Wyoming at the Panama Canal while authorities searched the ship for arms believed bound for Guatemala.

Oakland County's quota: Board 65, 15 men; 66, 35 men; 67, 25 men.

Vietminh Step Up Attacks to Crack Hanoi's Defenses

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—Communist rebels have launched their most violent attack yet on the Red River defense outpost of Yen Phu, key city in the southern defenses of Hanoi, the French High Command announced today.

The high command said the Communists brought up large concentrations of 57 mm recoilless cannon and were blasting the encircled fortress incessantly in a major effort to crack Hanoi's southern defense perimeter.

An estimated two Red divisions were hurled against Yen Phu while another Communist division slashed away at the major defense city of Phu Ly, seven miles north of Yen Phu, and 32 miles below this northern capital.

The fall of Yen Phu would open Phu Ly to a massive assault from the south and threaten the entire French position in the part of the Red River Delta below Hanoi and Hawphong, its seaport 56 miles to the east.

The Communist-led rebels, in a general upsurge of activity in the threatened delta, also attacked six villages within a 10-mile radius of Hanoi but were driven back.

French fighter-bombers swooped down over Red trenches and artillery positions in an attempt to smash the siege that threatens to turn the post into a miniature Dien Bien Phu where four Red divisions overwhelmed the fortress.

The high command said the recoilless 57s were used in strength for the first time Wednesday. Military sources said the weapons could not have been transferred from Dien Bien Phu and therefore must represent new and important Chinese military aid.

The French already have been evacuating their Yen Phu wounded by helicopter and parachuting tons of arms and food to the garrison. Wednesday a helicopter flying into the outpost for a load of wounded was damaged by machinegun fire. A second was flown from Hanoi with spare parts and both took off at dusk.

French bombers today dumped bombs and napalm on rebel bases in the hills just across the Day River from Yen Phu, but new Communist units were reported infiltrating into the delta, especially in the Phu Ly area seven miles to the north.

French sources said one of the major aims of the current outbreak of Communist offensive action is to seize the huge May rice crop now being harvested. The Communist Army depends as much on the delta rice crops as do the French Union forces and the civilian population.

MUIFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., gained the quarter-finals of the British Amateur Golf Tournament today by beating E. L. Dalton of South Africa, one up, but America's other top hope, Frank Stranahan, was beaten.

Stranahan bowed to Ernest Millward of England, 4 and 3, in the sixth round.

Campbell had an even par 72 for the 18 holes against Dalton. The South African was one over with 73.

Third of State Will Use Voting Machines in '54

LANSING (AP) — Almost one-third of Michigan election precincts will use voting machines this year.

The state elections division said this should speed election returns and make them more accurate.

Robert M. Montgomery, elections director, reported that 1,504 precincts have reported they will use voting machines for the 1954 election year—compared to 1,018 in 1952.

Of the total additions, 366 are in Wayne County and 120 in outstate precincts.

Oakland County will have at least 139 voting machines for its 206 precincts by election day. Pontiac city and a few less populous townships still use paper ballots in this county.

In addition, local authorities have split up precincts so that Michigan will vote this year in about 4,742 precincts, instead of 1952's 4,468. Smaller precincts also speed election returns and voting, Montgomery said.

There are 3,217 precincts which still will use ballot boxes this year, Montgomery reported. The total is still subject to revisions, however.

Ottawa and Bay are the only counties in the state listed as having voting machines in all precincts.

Seaway Impact to Equal Auto

Economic's Expert Says Great Changes Will Come to State

DETROIT (UP)—John Beukema of Muskegon, one of Michigan's leading transportation authorities, believes the St. Lawrence Seaway will have as great an effect on the state's economy as the invention of the automobile.

Beukema, chairman of the Michigan Economic Development Commission's transportation advisory committee, told a meeting of the commission Wednesday that many industries now located on the Atlantic seaboard may be attracted to Michigan by the seaway.

"But it will take time," he added.

"Any improvement in Michigan's economy from the seaway won't happen over night," Beukema said. "What we must look for is an evolution and not a revolution in our economy."

He pointed out that the seaway will not be completed before 1960, and predicted that concrete benefits to the state's economy could be realized only gradually after that date.

Predicting that 25 to 30 types of industry could be attracted to Michigan by the seaway, the Muskegon engineer said, "we can expect much greater diversification of industries in Michigan that depend upon foreign commerce."

Through the St. Lawrence Seaway, Beukema said jute and bananas can come directly to the middlewest instead of arriving by rail from the Atlantic coast.

Beukema also foresaw a boom in Michigan shipbuilding, which he said may be restricted to smaller ships, such as small naval vessels.

"In my opinion, the construction of the seaway will mean as much to Michigan as the Gulf of Mexico means to the South, the Mediterranean to Southern Europe, or the Baltic Sea to Russia," he said.

Call From Sailor Ends Ordeal of Milford Family

A Milford family spent a fearful four hours last night wondering if their son perished in the Bennington disaster.

The agonized vigil ended at 10:30 p. m. when Graham W. Casserly, 26, of 131 Lafayette, called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Casserly, to assure them he was unharmed.

An unidentified Pontiac father, also tortured with fear for the safety of his son, called the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross for possible information.

The father, like the Casserlys, had not heard from his son hours after the news of the explosion and fire was flashed across the nation.

Graham Casserly, an electronics and radar man third class, explained the delay in telephoning by telling his parents he waited in line an hour to phone from Quonset Point, R. I., where the damaged carrier docked.

About 1,000 Navy men waited to make similar calls, so Casserly was unable to tell his part in the catastrophe.

A graduate of Milford High School and the University of Michigan, Casserly is due for discharge June 27. His brother, Maj. Francis G. Casserly, is an airman stationed in Topeka, Kan.

Camp Dearborn Boss Drowns

Body Found Floating in Lake Early Today by Employe

The 59-year-old superintendent of Camp Dearborn, near Milford, was found dead in one of the camp's artificial lakes early today. Accidental drowning was ruled the cause of death.

The body of Bernhard Urban, superintendent and manager of the 520-acre recreation area owned by the city of Dearborn, was sighted about 40 feet from the shore by James McDermut, a camp employe.

Urban was last seen alive by two other employes at 6:30 a.m. when he told them he was going down to check the level of the lake. Pumping operations have been under way to raise the lake's level.

Dr. Isaac C. Prevette, deputy Oakland County coroner, said that from all indications, Urban drowned.

Urban had been under treatment for a heart condition, and it was thought he either suffered an attack at the water's edge and toppled in or slipped and fell in.

Urban, who lived at 1700 General Motors Rd., is survived by his widow, and a son Bernard, 17.

Rain Predicted Tonight, Friday

Warmer Temperatures to Accompany Showers in County

Drought-busting showers are expected to fall on parched Oakland County tonight and Friday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said ¼ of an inch of rain may fall, the heaviest amount this month.

Slightly warmer weather is expected to accompany the scattered showers. A low of 54 to 56 tonight and a high of 68 to 72 Friday are forecast.

County agricultural authorities earlier said that sizable rains are needed to save crops perilled by this month's lack of moisture.

If a quarter inch of rain falls, it will be the heaviest since May 8 when two-tents of an inch was recorded.

Light showers Monday night broke a 12-day drought, but were of little benefit to farmers.

A trace of rain was recorded Wednesday, along with a temperature range of from 38 to 67 degrees.

The mercury rose from 50 degrees at 8 a.m. today to 60 at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

Cohn Takes Credit for Layoffs at Fort of Julius Rosenberg when Rosenberg was employed at Ft. Monmouth.

Cohn said a check of the Rosenberg trial record established this as a fact, and he read Rosenberg's testimony to the effect that Coleman was an associate and classmate.

"So we knew in the spring of 1953 that a friend and associate of Julius Rosenberg was still working at Ft. Monmouth," he summed up.

"That was Aaron Coleman?" inquired Jenkins.

"That was Aaron Coleman," agreed Cohn. "We believed this to be a thoroughly alarming situation."

Cohn testified that on Dec. 8, 1953, Coleman admitted under oath to the committee that he had gone with Rosenberg to a meeting of the Young Communist League. Cohn said another witness under oath named Coleman a member of the Young Communist League in the same "cell" as Rosenberg.

Were others discovered besides Coleman, inquired Jenkins.

Cohn said there was a "large number" of persons whose background made them security risks found to be still working at Ft. Monmouth in 1953, despite what Cohn said were repeated FBI warnings to the Army.

Jenkins directed the questioning to the case of a "missing file" involving Coleman.

Cohn said the file included an Army intelligence report to the effect that a raid on Coleman's home had uncovered 43 "secret or otherwise classified" documents in a bureau drawer.

The Army said it couldn't surrender the original file, Cohn testified, but promised a complete photostatic copy.

But when the photostats were delivered in Washington, Cohn insisted, the staff couldn't find the report about the secret documents.

Cohn testified the Army at first said there must have been "some mistake."

This incident was explored at considerable length while Stevens was in the witness chair. Stevens said secret documents were omitted from the photostats supplied the subcommittee because of security regulations.

Navy Seeks Cause of Carrier Disaster

Screams echoed in the compartments where men were trapped. The noise was compounded by clanging alarm bells and the shouts of half-naked sailors who battled to save their shipmates.

Even before the stricken vessel reached Quonset, seven helicopters had flown out to bring the more seriously injured ashore. The timesaving technique developed in Korea probably saved many lives, according to hospital officials.

When the carrier reached port, the dock was piled high with coffins. A corps of medical airmen waited to receive the ship's grim cargo.

Since Quonset is the home port of the Bennington, scores of wives, mothers and sweethearts were at the base, waiting anxiously to learn the fate of their loved ones.

The grisly task of identifying the dead lasted into the night. Some bodies were charred so badly fingerprints were indistinguishable. Dental charts were used as a last resort.

The Bennington left Norfolk, Va., on Monday for Newport where it was scheduled to rendezvous with a task force and take midshipmen on their annual training course. It had just launched a flight of jet fighter planes on a routine operation when the blast occurred.

The death toll was the second highest in peacetime naval history. Some 176 were killed in the collision of the carrier Wasp and destroyer Hobson April 26, 1952.

The original USS Bennington, a Navy gunboat, suffered a disaster almost as great as the one that struck its namesake. On July 21, 1906, the gunboat's boiler exploded in San Diego Bay, killing 60 and injuring 46.

The present Bennington was launched Feb. 26, 1944, at the Brooklyn, Navy Yard and within weeks was engaged in combat in the Pacific. It fought through the battles of Iow Jima and Japan without loss of a single life.

Though the vessel came through World War II without damage, peace seemed to bring only bad luck. In 1947 a Pacific typhoon caused heavy damage. Only a year ago a boiler blew up off the coast of Cuba, killing 11 men.

Lions' Yale Lary Is Called to Army Duty

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions announced today halfback Yale Lary had advised them he has been ordered to report for Army duty at Fort Benning, Ga., next Tuesday.

Lary, 23, is a reserve infantry lieutenant and a graduate of Texas A. & M. College. The Lions said they understood Lary was scheduled for 18 months to 2 years of military duty.

Lary, an outstanding defensive player for the National League champions, is the second Lion called into service since the end of the 1953 season. Gene Gedman, an offensive halfback, was inducted in February.

No Official Decision on 'Air Point' Site

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Air Force says no decision has yet been reached on a site for its new Air Academy.

The five-man site selection board met again Wednesday to discuss technical data on various proposed sites, a spokesman said.

He said there was "no indication of how soon the board expects to reach a decision." A recommendation from the board to Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott could come at any time, he pointed out.

If the recommendation is unanimous, Talbott must accept it. If it is not, he will name the site from the board's first three recommendations.

But the photographer induced the husband to accompany him to the hospital, where the pair posed for a picture. They were married May 25, 1883.

Now Has Equalized Valuation

Tax Allocation Board Set to Fix School, County Rates

Oakland County Tax Allocation Board, armed with the equalized valuation of $966,608,754 passed by county supervisors Wednesday is preparing to set county and school tax rates.

The tax board has been waiting since early May for supervisors to set cash values on property in each city and township for tax purposes.

The tax board will take townships', school districts' and the county's budget requests, figure them against the value of property, and come up with tax rates.

The supervisors' action Wednesday set a cash value on the county $121,000,000 higher than last year. This means for every mill of taxes ($1 on each $1,000 worth of property) the county levies, it will get $121,000 more than last year.

Actually, the report adopted Wednesday was almost the same report supervisors turned down and sent back to committee last week.

Several supervisors objected then that the county equalization staff had sampled only 1,500 of the county's 280,000-odd homes, farms, lots, and businesses — and that this wasn't a big enough sampling to show assessment rates in the various areas.

The equalization committee checked its figures, found mistakes that cut Groveland's and Lathrup Village's figures a bit, and brought back almost the same report.

L l o y d Anderson, Waterford Township supervisor, and several others tried to get a substitute report of their own passed Wednesday. Their report was based partly on last year's figures and partly on this year's. The board voted it down.

The equalized valuations actually show what a share of the total county tax burden (about $5,000,000 this year) that each township and city will pay.

Townships are carrying a heavier load this year. They'll pay about 39 per cent — almost three per cent more than last year. Cities are paying less.

This is the first year that the county staff has done its own sampling of property. Men looked over lots, set a sale value on them, then checked local assessment rolls to find out what each local assesor was valuing his property—generally.

For the past few years, the county had been using samples taken by Michigan State tax men in 1950.

Shown here are the "valuations" set on each township and city this year, the share of the total county tax burden each one will pay this year and the share it paid in 1953.

Special Marine Unit Now Being Recruited

A special 225-man unit called the Michigan Marines now is being recruited, according to Sgt. Ishmael Powers, in charge of the local station.

Enlistment quotas have been raised for the program through June. The outfit will leave Detroit July 15 aboard a special train for the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S. C., where it will train as a unit.

All men will be enlisted for either three or four years. They must be between 17 and 28, in good physical condition and able to meet mental requirements. Details are available at the recruiting station in the Post Office Building here.

Omaha City Fathers Circumvent Problem

OMAHA (AP)—When Omaha went in search of an oldest resident to be the city's centennial mother, the oldest person nominated was Mrs. Margaret Deerson.

She, like the city itself, is 100 years old.

Still she couldn't be the centennial mother. She was born in Schleswig-Holstein and to be eligible the winner had to be native born.

What to do? The centennial committee made Mrs. Deerson "The Adopted Mother of the Century."

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1954

B-I-E Day a Success

Thanks to the Chamber of Commerce, Pontiac's annual Business-Industry-Education Day has taken on a new and valuable meaning.

Thanks also to the Chamber's education committee, 490 high school seniors have a much clearer idea of the employment opportunities in their home town.

At the same time representatives of the 34 host firms got a close-up view of potential recruits to the local working force. Student groups spent the day with their hosts seeing first hand what makes businesses and industries tick and the kind of opportunities they can offer.

Reports show that student interest displayed here at the Press was typical. That makes us confident that the day was as valuable to the students and employers as previous B-I-E days have been to teachers and their hosts.

It also suggests the thought that repetition of this program for future senior classes is well worth considering.

A War We Must Avoid

Fresh hints of Administration plans to intervene in Indochina lend point to questions raised about the proposed Southeast Asia defense alliance.

Presidential intimation that this pact might be forged without Britain, has caused concern not only in London but at home. It is of vital importance for the American people to know Mr. Dulles' purpose in pressing for such an arrangement.

No one can complain if his aim is only to arrange for collective strength to discourage further overt aggression in Southeast Asia. But there would be room for objections if he intends using this proposal as an excuse for intervening in the seven year old Indochinese war.

We believe our people want no active part in that struggle. Intervention would mean U. S. entry into a war against a Soviet satellite which would cause no drain on Russian resources. As one foe of intervention put it, we would be committed to a limited war which most probably could be won only by unlimited effort.

Our entry would place us on the side of an unpopular colonial administration. We'd be opposing an uprising which, despite being taken over by the Communists, is said to have more native support than the French regime. Incidentally, that support comes from people who haven't asked our help.

The American people should lose no time in letting our Government know how they feel.

A Welcome Royal Guest

Many distinguished personages have been official guests of the United States but none has been more welcome than Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

This progressive ruler of the oldest Christian Kingdom over which his ancestor, the Queen of Sheba reigned, is the guest of President and Mrs. Eisenhower. After two days with the First Family he will start on a two months' tour of the Nation, which will include a visit to Detroit.

Haile Selassie is known to his 15,800,000 subjects as the Conquering Lion of Judah. In the 1930s he and his people won the admiration of Americans for the heroic resistance of his untrained army to the legions of Mussolini.

Although he is one of the earth's last few absolute rulers, Haile Selassie directs a firm but enlightened administration. His capital city, Addis Ababa, is considered next to Cairo, Africa's most cosmopolitan center.

The Emperor likes American customs and food and gets much pleasure from driving American cars. Many of his top advisers are Americans.

We hope his visit will strengthen his already strongly pro-Western position in world affairs.

Tax Leak Unplugged

Senator Williams of Delaware isn't discouraged by the rejection of his bill to cut tax depletion allowances enjoyed by oil, gas and sulphur operators.

The Delaware Republican intends to renew the battle when the omnibus tax revision bill reaches the Senate floor. Actually his bill, rejected by a secret vote in the Senate Finance Committee, was far less drastic than might have been expected.

It merely would have reduced the allowance from 27.5 per cent on oil and gas and 23 per cent on sulphur to 15 per cent. This reportedly would have transferred $250,000,000 of the Federal tax burden to the shoulders of the oil, gas and sulphur interests where it belongs.

★ ★ ★

Although the last two Secretaries of the Treasury have urged complete plugging of this tax leak, Treasury representatives opposed such action pending a detailed study.

The Press long has urged elimination of this tax inequity. We hope Sen. Williams will have greater success in winning support for his second attempt.

Informal Talks Between Reds, Allies at Geneva May Result in World Peace

By DAVID LAWRENCE

GENEVA — What is the true significance of this conference? There is something here that vitally concerns every man, woman and child in America and in every other country as well.

For top men of the East and the West have sat down together here to talk intimately about the biggest issue in the world today — whether there is to be another World War and what might bring it about.

This year's conferences at Berlin and Geneva are the first since 1945 in which the East and West have faced the facts so frankly, and they haven't minced words either.

What the various delegations have said, of course, about the Indochina and Korean problems in their public speeches or in the so-called restricted sessions, where 40 persons are present, are merely the outward manifestations of various national policies.

What has been said, however, over the lunch or dinner table and in the quiet of a private parlor afterward — with just three or four persons present as the broader issues in the world are discussed — can be said to be the real story here.

Naturally, what is said by the foreign minister of Soviet Russia or what is said by an American envoy when they are alone or what is suggested by the British foreign minister when he is alone with the foreign minister of Red China is reported back only to the heads of governments in top-secret form.

Such conferences would be valueless if they were instantly reported in the press. It would be sensational news if you could publish everything that Great Britain, through its foreign minister, says to Soviet Russia or all that the American representative says when he has a heart-to-heart talk with Molotov, with only a Russian interpreter present, especially when the Soviet foreign minister wants it to be arranged that way.

The impression given by the Soviet delegates in their private talks here is that they are well aware of many of the currents that are causing a drift toward another world war. They are inclined to dissect our plans and statements, just as we do theirs. They don't trust us and we don't trust them.

Hence, if they ask us to present what to them is a more reasonable attitude on some controversial issue, we wonder whether, if we do, there is a trick behind the request and whether it isn't the old game of leading us into concession after concession only to find that they have mistaken our kindliness for weakness or cowardice.

What can be said under such circumstances by our envoy? Truth is the only language we of the United States can articulate, because deviousness doesn't pay, though some of the old world diplomats still cling to that technique. All we can say is that America is not bent upon making war. If we had been, we have had many opportunities since 1945 — especially when we had a monopoly on the A-bomb — to become bellicose and make demands under penalty of military action.

Even our policy in failing to go north of the Yalu in the Korean War, which has been criticized by many of us, certainly demonstrated that we did not want a war with Soviet Russia in the Far East or anywhere else. We knew then that the Soviets have always dreaded a two-front war and we might have taken the risk — but we didn't.

It is interesting how often the possibility of World War III comes into the conversations among the top men. It is not surprising because lurking in the background is the question not of Korea or Indochina but the big war that can come if there are more clashes between the East and West. In all this, the sparring that goes on in public plays a big part.

The Soviets see divergences between Britain and France and between America and Britain, and they tend to exaggerate them in their own minds. This has to be overcome. So, Anthony Eden, the British foreign minister, tells the Red Chinese foreign minister not to count too much on transient differences because, in the final showdown, all the Allies will stand together.

Out of it all comes a single important fact. It is costly for the Soviets to maintain a supply line of a military nature into Korea and Indochina and it is costly, too, to put so many billions of rubles into armament preparations when the demand inside the Soviet Union is for a better standard of living.

So the pressures for peace are at the moment strong in Moscow, but nevertheless the pressure to push Communist imperialism as a dominant ideology in the world is unabated. The dangers were accurately described this very week in Paris by Field Marshal Montgomery, when he said in a speech:

"A third world war could start by miscalculation or mistake. A situation might arise somewhere in the world leading to great tension. The leaders on both sides lose their grip on the situation and then, suddenly, they find they have gone too far and cannot prevent it — although neither side really wished to start a major war."

It is to prevent such a "miscalculation or mistake" that the principals in the Geneva Conference are talking to each other privately, earnestly, and with a cordiality and frankness which thus far afford the only basis for a hope that a third world war can be prevented.

Case Records of a Psychologist

'Solo Sports' Brightened by Competition, Cheering

Winning athletic coaches must use good psychology. For the proper morale can thus spell the difference between success and defeat. So inject more motivation into practice sessions by adopting the suggestions below. Change them from dreary "solo" affairs into enjoyable competition, and get more girls out to cheer the boys on.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-316: David, aged 17, is our youngest child.

Last fall he started his senior year at South Shore High School in Chicago.

"Dad, I think I'll go out for basketball this year, instead of swimming," he said at the dinner table.

"But why desert your swimming?" I protested. "You were good at that and won your letter last year and you have a dandy coach.

"Besides, you have prospects for a great team and might take the city championship in Chicago!"

"Oh, swimming is dull," he argued. "You just spend every afternoon swimming your own event or hanging on to the side of the pool for 30 minutes and kicking steadily to develop your legs.

"That's monotonous! But basketball practice is fun, for we play games between the squads and thus enjoy the practice itself.

"Besides, our swimming pool is so cold during the winter that we fellows hate to go down there. We sit around blue and covered with goose-pimples.

"It wouldn't be so bad to have the water cold, if they'd keep the air warm. But when both are cold, we can't stand it."

David didn't voice one of his strongest arguments, for he knew that coeds and other spectators came out for basketball, but the swimmer is almost like the track athlete in that few people cheer him on during his grueling practice sessions.

"Why don't you fellows start a beauty contest among the girls" I suggested, "and pick several to be 'mascots' or something?

"Then ask your coach to split up all swimmers into four groups, and have each of them cheered on by its own beauty queen."

"Say, we might call them mermaids," he picked up my suggestion with alacrity.

"Yes, and they'd probably bring some other girls down to root for the teams during practice. That would give you more spectators.

"And the competition between the four squads would offer more fun than your present system."

So he appeared partly mollified, and later went into swimming with far more enthusiasm.

But the school faculty and the coaches should try to offset the fact that football and basketball naturally attract bigger audiences.

The track and swimming and wrestling or gymnastic squads may drill for just as long a time, but their practice sessions are seldom patronized by spectators nor do they pull out very big crowds even when a meet is finally scheduled with a rival school.

So the coaches should enlist the aid of coeds. Nothing spurs a boy on to greater deeds than admiring spectators of the opposite sex.

The school newspapers should also stress track and swimming and other school teams more heavily to offset the heavy rooting for football and basketball.

Also, make the actual drill more fun, which usually means inject competition. Dreary repetition of exercises in "solo" practice is not much more stimulating than shadow boxing or working at a rowing machine.

It is competition in the daily practice sessions, plus coeds and large rooting sections, which bring out the players for those grueling drill periods each afternoon.

"Consumer surveys" are now the keynote of business progress. They can likewise be employed to bring out sullen resentment of dissatisfaction among the players on school teams.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
International News Service

We'll have to concede the Democrats must be advising the Republicans. Nothing else can explain those chambered consultations in the ante-room of investigation.

There has been more wasted energy than a near-sighted old lady petting an iron deer.

The Democrats have been as smooth as a bookkeeper's elbows about the Stevens-McCarthy scrabble. Any time you gander an idiot fanning moonbeams with his hat it gives you a sense of superiority.

The investigatory wordeo was a Republican family quarrel. On the front porch.

The Democrats helped it along because they were popping some corn of their own on the hospitable hearth. They will get results in the Ides of November. They're not forgetting the New Jersey and Wisconsin elections last fall. Straws show which way the soda water goes.

After being loose from emoluments and appurtenences of office for twenty years the GOP naturally forgot how to act during an investigation.

Too bad one of the old Tammany Sachems didn't write a cook book of old tribal recipes. They're the slickers who could tear up eleven blocks of city streets on a snow-cleaning contract.

You cannot call these first two years of Republican office a shakedown cruise. The Democrats shook everybody down long before that.

And once again they are going to capitalize on the GOP inability to blow hot and cold with the same hair dryer.

Congress will go along for the ride. Provided it can ride the White House.

Franklin Dee knew how to handle the desk-hands on Capitoline Hill. He changed the motto of government to, "E Pluribus or Else."

Calcium Deficiency May Take Months to Show Up So Correct by Daily Ration

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Yesterday I told you, and today let me remind you again that the calcium shortage is not just one of my pipe dreams, as some of you wiseacres like to think, but the dictum of Sherman in his Chemistry of Food and Nutrition.

He says "the ordinary mixed diet of Americans and Europeans . . . is probably more often deficient in calcium than in any other chemical element."

To this authoritative statement Dr. Sherman added another which you would dismiss as a pipe dream if I cited it here without quotes: "In adults there may be a long-continued loss of calcium without the appearance of symptoms because the losses from the blood and soft tissues may be replaced by calcium withdrawn from the bones."

Yes, but teeth and bones are not the same, argues the nineteenth century dentist, backed by the American Dental Assn., which apes the American Medical Assn. including "councils" on this and that to "accept" the nostrums or gadgets that advertise.

These old-time doctors, medical and dental, acknowledge that calcium is "laid down" and enters into the composition of the teeth in the first 18 to 25 years of life—while the teeth are developing—that is, until such of the third permanent molars (wisdom teeth) as the individual is going to have are cut.

But nothing of the sort is conceivable in full grown adults, in the mind of an old timer.

Notice that Sherman speaks of "a long-continued loss" of calcium from the body tissues.

Boas (Treatment of the Patient Past Fifty) speaks of "a steady, long-continued loss of calcium through the years."

Calcium deficiency takes months to become manifest, and prevention or correction of the manifestations takes months of high calcium diet and Ca and D feeding.

Remember, then, you do not "try" calcium and vitamin D. It is food, not medicine. Do you take meat and potatoes for a week or two and then discontinue taking them?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed.

U.S., Germany Share Expenses

Germans and GIs Both Confused About Who Pays for Occupation

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)— An American newspaper here reports that Germans and U.S. soldiers alike apparently don't know who pays the bills for U.S. troops and installations in Germany.

The newspaper, Overseas Weekly, said more than half of the Germans interviewed in a poll believed their tax money goes for salaries of U.S. officers and men.

Likewise, most of the soldiers interviewed did not think the Germans contributed a nickel to the occupation forces or construction of bases and housing.

The actual figures show, Overseas Weekly added, that Germans are contributing $52,000,000 a year.

The questions asked and the correct answers:

1. Where does the money come from to pay salaries of U. S. soldiers and officers in Germany? The U.S. taxpayer.
2. Who pays for gasoline used by the Army in Germany? The U.S. taxpayer.
3. Where does the money come from to pay for Army and Air Force construction projects in Germany, like the air bases behind the Rhine? The German taxpayer.
4. Where does the money come from for food served on U.S. Army mess tables in Germany? The U.S. taxpayer.
5. Where does the money come from to pay salaries of German employees of U.S. Army in Germany? From both U.S. and German taxpayers.
6. Does the presence of U.S. troops in Germany cost the German taxpayer anything? Yes. Each year the German government budgets funds that can be spent by U.S. forces for specific items. Cars, cut-rate rail fares, requisitioned housing and other items are subsidized by Germans.

Flying Goose Revenged, Drops Dead on Hunter

MARION, Ill. (UP) — A goose gained posthumous revenge on a goose hunter by knocking the hunter cold.

Arthur Melvin, Marion attorney, was hunting with his son, Harry, at nearby Crab Orchard Lake. Both blazed away at a flock of geese.

At the end of the action, Harry turned to his father to find him stretched out unconscious. A dead goose lay beside him. The honker had conked him on the head as it dropped to earth.

Modern railway tracks last about 20 average years before they are replaced.

ANOTHER GIRL?—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brooks, both 38, and their 13 daughters, national champions in the unofficial duaghter derby, turn out enmasse at the mail box in Pittsfield, Me., to oblige the photographer. Mrs. Brooks expects her 14th child in October and the family hopes for—a daughter. Brooks is a $45-a-week handyman in a dye plant. Left to right, front: Donna, 7; Rosalie, 10; Hazel, 6; Eleanor, 4; Janet and Janice, twins, 8, and Raejean, 5. Back, left to right: Ervena, 12; Eunice, 16; Elaine, 14, holding Loreen, 1; and Alma, 15, holding Joyce, 2, head turned.

162,000 Licenses Suspended in 1953

ALBANY, N. Y. — (UP) — The state motor vehicle bureau says a new record was set last year—but one the state isn't proud of.

The record—161,631 drivers' licenses suspended during 1953.

Nearly 2,400 licenses were revoked for "driving while intoxicated," the bureau said. Over 1,000 persons had their permits revoked for leaving the scene of an accident, and 2,758 licenses were suspended under a new "point system" now being used by the department.

The "point system removes from highways all drivers who become classified as "persistent or habitual violators" of traffic laws. Every time a driver violates a law, he gets "two points." When a driver gets six points in two years, or eight points in any length of time, he is summoned for a hearing. The result usually is a suspension.

New Mexico Grows

SANTA FE, N. M (INS) — The University of New Mexico's Bureau of Business Research estimates the state will have a population of nearly a million in 1960. The bureau based its estimate on the present rate of population increase which saw the state gain 82,000 in three years.

Cartagena Due to Regain Glory

Rebuilding of Old Canal Promises to Restore Shipping Center

WASHINGTON — With modernization of its ancient Dique Canal under way, Cartagina bids to regain its position as Colombia's leading shipping center.

One of the oldest engineering works in the Western Hemisphere, the Dique Canal has been open almost continually since 1650. At Calamar, 45 miles east of Cartagena, it connects with the wide, serpentine Magdalena River, chief traffic artery from the Caribbean to Bogota, the capital.

When the waterway's 20 curves are eliminated and its passageway deepened, barge fleets and cargo ships laded with coffee, balsam, hides and precious stones may soon again pour into Cartagena from the rich, highland interior. In the last century, Cartagena has bowed to Barranquilla at the mouth of the river a Colombia's leading port.

Rich in the lore of Spanish conquistadores and swashbuckling pirates, Cartagena is the most elaborate sity in South America. Founded in 1533, it served as an ancient-day Ft. Knox for the accumulating riches of the Indies which the Spaniards shipped back to their homeland.

Engineers commissioned by the Spanish king lavished all their skill on the city's defenses. A massive wall 40 feet high and 50 to 60 feet wide, hewn from coral rock, was thrown around the rising town. Its estimated $60,000,000 cost was a pittance compared to the treasurer it guarded.

Cartagena lies upon a short, sandy peninsula, with many islands and mangrove-bordered trance. As a protective backbays dotting the harbor enbone, its builders erected 29 separate forts. Atop a small hill just outside the walls, San Felipe served as the defensive key. Miles of tunnels, ventilated by shafts driven 100 feet through solid rock, connected its 12 emplacements. It took 30 years to build the fortress.

Strangely, the city which served Spain so well for three centuries was the first to declare its independence. Thousands of Cartagenians died of starvation and pestilence when the Spanish army besieged the town in 1815, but six years later it was finally freed by the forces of Simon Bolivar.

Today Cartagena offers a curious mixture of modern office buildings and venerable Spanish homes. Street cars and imported automobiles course wide, brightly lit streets. On other roadways, narrow and twisting, overhanging balconies almost meet to shut out the hot Caribbean sun.

Stores crammed with moderately priced goods attract shoppers. The city is noted for its handwrought silver, wood carvings, and leather, tortoise-shell and mother-of-pearl items.

Tire wear on curves is up to 1200 per cent greater than on straightaways.

Slaying Suspect Says 'I'm Crazy'

Former Mental Patient Can't Remember Killing in Arizona Desert

TUCSON (INS) — A former mental patient who insisted "I'm crazy," has been charged with the slaying of a ptetty, 23-year-old girl whose nude, mutilated body was found in the ruins of an ancient Indian village on the Arizona Desert.

The suspect, Richard L. Jordan, also has been accused of robbing and shooting James Clark, of Phoenix, who crawled to the home of a Tucson sheriff's deputy after being left to die in the desert. The two incidents apparently were unrelated.

Sheriff's officers said Jordan admitted shooting Clark in the desert near Tucson Tuesday night but insisted that he could not recall stabbing and beating to death Phyllis Mae Thompson, of Lyons, Colo.

Deputies quoted him as saying: "I won't admit killing the girl, but I don't deny it . . . I'm crazy."

Jordan assertedly told Sheriff Frank Eyeman after his arrest Wednesday that he was discharged recently from a mental hospotal in Little Rock, Ark.

Eyeman said Jordan admitted being with Phyllis Mae Monday night and driving to the outskirts of Tucson with her. The sheriff quoted Jordan as saying:

"I was with the girl. I drove out of town with her and parked with her. I don't remember where."

The girl's body was found sprawled in the Indian ruin Tuesday by a tourist couple. She had been stabbed 16 times, and authorities said her face had been "horribly mutilated."

She had stopped in Tucson on her way home to Lyons from San Diego. She was last seen alive when she left a bus at a Tucson depot and entered a taxicab early Tuesday.

Authorities said she had been killed sometime between 8 a.m. and noon Tuesday. Her purse and suitcase were found in some bushes near the Indian ruins, which are nine miles from Tucson. Her clothing was found ¼ of a mile from the body.

Jordan was booked on suspicion of murder in the slaying of the girl and on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and robbery in the shooting of Clark, who was wounded critically in the head, stomach and hips.

Jordan was arrested after Capt. Robert S. Ross, a University of Arizona ROTC instructor, told Sheriff's officers he had seen him with the slain girl in a car the night before she was killed.

Ross said that on the previous night, Jordan had shown him two knives and a pistol he kept in his car.

Thieves Tear Hole in Drugstore Roof

Thieves drilled through the roof of Furtney's Drugstore at 493 S. Sanford St. last night and stole $70 and three bottles of liquor and made an unsuccessful attempt to crack a 2-foot safe, Pontiac Police reported today.

Detective Thomas Mitchell said the thieves, who probably noticed a burglar alarm in the front and rear of the building, fled through the 16-inch square opening in the inch-thick roof.

The thieves tore through a sheet metal covering which separates the ceiling from the roof and slid down a wooden post to get into the store, according to police. Mitchell said the burglars climed a tree in the rear of the building to get on top of the store.

Man Finds Wife's Money, Fight Produces Confetti

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. Alton Ferguson staged a money-pulling fight Wednesday over whether or not to buy a used car.

Ferguson found $800 of his wife's savings in a pillow and went to buy a used car as his wife followed, grabbing at the bills as he counted them. It took five hours to paste about $500 in bills back together.

Now, four years later, he is ready for gradulation from Wesleyan and enrollment for three years in Bethany Seminary at Chicago.

NYC Proxies Being Tabulated

Rivals Young and White Await the Outcome of Stockholders' Vote

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The fate of the mighty New York Central Railroad rested today in four huge safes and nine steel filing cabinets.

Their contents — stock proxies voted for the present management headed by President William White or for the opposition forces headed by financier Robert R. Young—will decide who will run the railroad.

Young's proxies were in the safes and White's in the filing cabinets. After yesterday's rip-roaring annual meeting in the Washington Avenue Armory, attended by 2,000 stockholders, the proxies were taken to the 12th floor of the Hotel Ten Eyck.

* * *

There three law professors today began to supervise the laborious process of tabulating, separating the valid from the invalid, and judging challenges.

After 4 hours and 40 minutes of noise and at times disorder and confusion, the stockholders' meeting was recessed yesterday until noon next Tuesday, when the inspectors will report on the vote.

Some sources said it might be only the first of several reports and that the count might last many days or even weeks longer if the vote is close.

* * *

The management made a crucial challenge of 800,000 shares—largest block of Central stock—voted by Young's Texas millionaire friends, Clint W. Murchison and Sid W. Richardson, who did not attend the meeting.

Flattened Tires Await Illegally Parked Cars

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—A Grand Rapids apartment house pulls no punches in its warning to nonresidents to stay out of its parking lot.

A sign on the lot reads:

"Keep off or we'll flatten your tires."

Terrorists Executed

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—Two Tunisian terrorists were executed yesterday by a firing squad at Sousse, 160 miles southeast of here. They had been convicted of assassinating a French colonel in 1952.

Carrier Crewman Hears Mates Die

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (AP)—The words came slowly—"This is my last breath." Then the phone went dead.

"It isn't fun to hear men die," said Seaman Edward Cushman of New Milford, Conn. Wednesday as he told of talking with doomed buddies trapped below decks in the explosion-wracked aircraft carrier Bennington.

Cushman said he talked to personnel just before they suffocated in the Bennington's damaged control center as shipmates tried to reach them.

* * *

"I talked with those guys for an hour and three quarters," Cushman said. "They were pleading to hurry up and get to them before they ran out of air.

"We told them to lie face down with wet rags over their faces, but it didn't help much. The last words I heard were 'This is my last breath.'"

George Vega, 25, of Brooklyn, N. Y., a fireman aboard the carrier, said he also talked with the trapped men by phone.

"They said they were suffocating and asked us to please hurry up and break through," Vega said. "I dropped the phone and tried to get down there.

"Hatches were blown closed and and bulkheads were curved in. Everybody worked hard but we were too late. I think only one of those guys was still alive by the time we got there."

Another fireman, Merle R. Wilson, 23, of Carion, Iowa, said "A chief engineer down there pleaded with us to get in with oxygen."

* * *

"He said he wanted to get the other guys out first," Wilson said. "He was one of the men we found dead in there.

"Just as soon as the fires were killed and we could get down, men with oxygen-breathing apparatus went below to get the casualties," Wilson related.

"We found a lot of bodies on the mess deck and I guess about one-third of all the steward's mates were killed," he said. "Other dead were in the warrant officers' wardroom and the port catapult room."

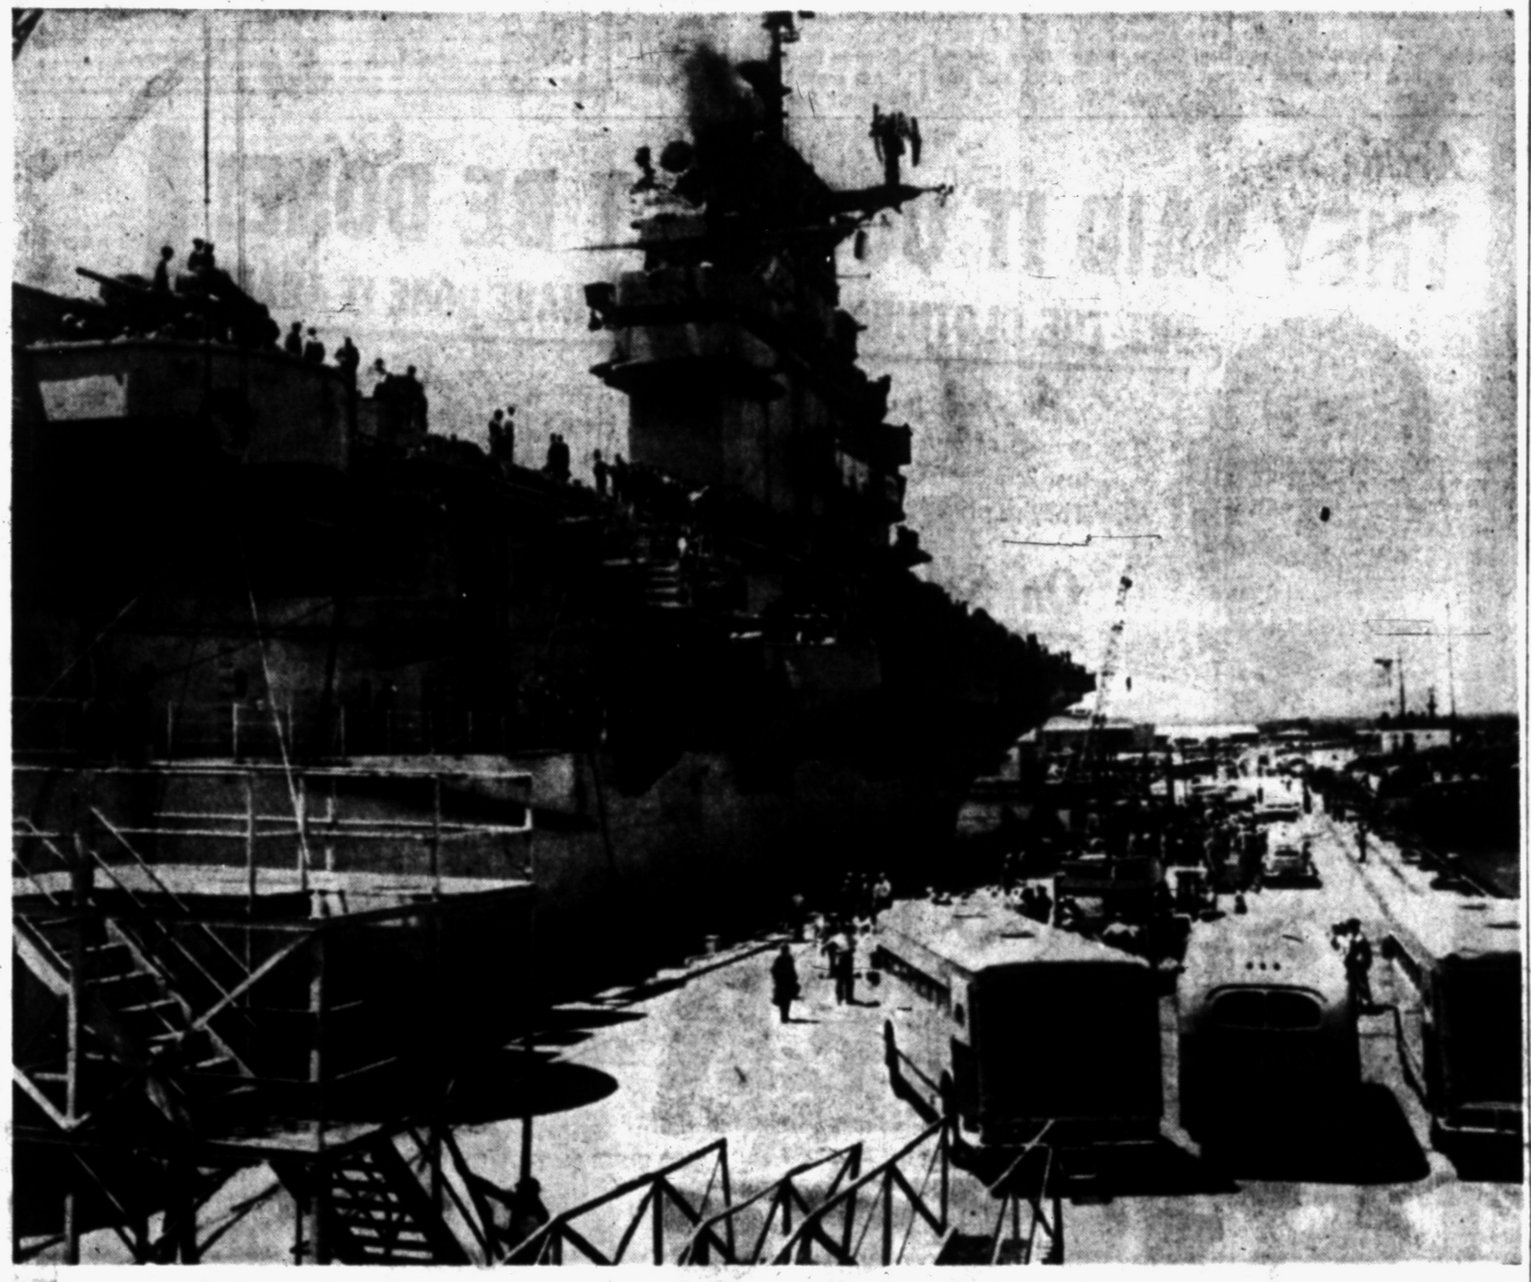

* * *

Wilson added grimly:

"When we get down there pumping I suppose we'll find other bodies under the water."

STRICKEN CARRIER IN DOCK—Ambulances are shown as they converge around the stricken carrier Bennington berthing with 91 known dead and 201 injured following an explosion while the famed carrier was carrying on routine operations about 75 miles at sea. Five of the dead are from Michigan.

Tragic Explosion-Fire Aboard Carrier Kills 5, Injures 3 Michigan Sailors

By the Associated Press

Newsmen and tersely worded Navy telegrams brought the grim news to five Michigan families that loved ones had died in the explosion aboard the aircraft carrier Bennington Wednesday.

The Navy today listed the following Michigan men as killed:

Douglas Goodrum, steward's man, husband of Mrs. Priscilla Goodrum, of Detroit.

Emory D. Pendell, ensign, son of Mrs. Don Pendell, of Detroit.

Henry H. Wright, steward's mate, of Detroit.

Gerald James Witvoet, Lt. (J.G.), son of Corniel G. Witvoet, of Grand Rapids.

Harold Loucks, 26, of Olivet, a civilian engineer.

Listed as critically injured was Alfred Olivarri, S.A., of Delton, and seriously injured, Cecil I. Harris, steward's mate, of Detroit.

Listed as not seriously injured was Charles Maxwell Hunter, S. N. son of Mrs. Jean Swanson of Detroit.

The Navy released the names of the casualties to newsmen at the same time telegrams to next of kin were dispatched.

Newsmen reached the parents of Pendell ahead of the Navy telegram.

"Oh no!" the father said.

He and his wife had not been sure their son was on the Bennington.

Pendell, who won his wings at Pensacola, Fla., went on active duty in August, 1952.

Mrs. Priscilla Goodrum, 25, became hysterical when newsmen informed her of her husband's death on the ill-fated carrier. Her sister, Mrs. Margaret Thomas had to speak for her.

Goodrum, 30, joined the Navy in 1947. He had served as a steward's man. He recently signed up for a new hitch and had been home on leave only this month.

Mrs. Goodrum, her sister said, had been highly nervous about her husband all afternoon and had "a premonition" of the bad news.

Mrs. Marguerite Wright called a newspaper to check on a message she had received from Kansas City, Kan., that her husband, Henry, had been killed. Wright a veteran of nine years service, previously told his wife he was trying to get a transfer off the Bennington.

The Wrights have lived in Detroit a year. His mother lives nearby.

"He called me only last Saturday," Mrs. Wright said. "He told me then how desperately he wanted to get off that ship. He had been with the Bennington crew when it was taken out of mothballs in 1952."

Lt. Witvoet's family learned the grim news through a telegram. The 25-year-old jet pilot had been in the Navy six years serving on carriers.

A brother, Robert, 32, said his parents, Cornell, 62, and Geraldine, "were completely broken up by the shock."

Loucks, a 26-year-old electronics engineer, was employed by Westinghouse Corp. His mother, Mrs. Harry Shilts, said the company informed her that Loucks had been killed. (The Navy casualty list confirmed the company telegram.)

Loucks had visited Olivet only 10 days ago. He was single and a graduate of Tri-State College in Angola, Ind.

It was the second tragedy in eight months for Harris. A 16-year Navy veteran, Harris escaped uninjured when the USS Leyte, also an aircraft carrier, was damaged by a mysterious explosion in Boston harbor Oct. 16, 1953.

His sister, Miss Yvonne Harris, said the family thought he had remained with the Leyte and had gone to sea when the carrier was repaired.

"It's the first we've known that Cecil was transferred to another ill-fated ship," she added.

Olivarri had been in the Navy only about a year. His father said his son last wrote to him from Florida.

"I hope he'll get all right soon," the father said, "since my wife died, Alfred has helped a lot with both the farm and the other 11 children."

School Board Balks at Remodeling Bids

Pontiac Board of Education Wednesday turned down contractors' bids for remodeling Pontiac High School lavatories and asked for new estimates that come within the board's budget.

The school board, meeting at 40 Patterson St., pointed out that there's just $32,000 in the school budget to cover remodeling of the toilet rooms. Lowest bids totaled about $36,000.

Board president Glenn H. Griffin suggested the board tell architect Ray Ward to change plans so the job can be done at a lower cost. The board decided to use galvanized pipe instead of copper, leave concealed water pipes uncovered and use glazed wall tile instead of ceramic tile.

SEARCHES FOR GEAR — Lt. Jack Minner of Long Beach, Calif., searches through the damaged "ready room" for his flying gear following the explosion and fire which swept parts of the carrier Wednesday. Minner was in his bunk at the time and was thrown to the floor by the explosion. The Bennington was enroute to the Quonset Naval Air Station at the time.

War On Against Moths

LANSING (AP) — State Agriculture Department workers have failed to find any further infestations of gypsy moths as they continue to check a widening radius around the small area south of Lansing where the pests first were discovered.

C. A. Boyer, chief of the department's Bureau of Plant Industry, said that the checking will continue until it is reasonably certain that the pests have not started any distant colonies.

Gov. Williams has called the state "Little Legislature" to meet next Wednesday to provide an emergency appropriation to spray a three-mile radius of the infested area with DDT.

State and federal experts hope that this will stamp out the infestation before it becomes serious.

The infested area, a two-mile strip along the southern city limits of Lansing, is being sprayed from trucks by the Lansing City Forestry Department. They completed the third day of spraying Wednesday. Boyer said they should complete the job in a few days.

Boyer said that field observers report that the gypsy moth caterpillars, now about ½-inch long, are entering their destrictive stage in which they strip vegetation of leaves. Pin holes are beginning to appear in infested trees and shrubs, he said.

Michigan to Get $18 Million in Military Building Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan is to get an $18,931,000 share of the $877,091,000 military construction program authorized by the House of Representatives Wednesday.

Though it's strictly hush-hush, Michigan is also to get some of the $85,000,000 authorized for Nike installations to protect the industrial centers of the nation. All that's been made public so far is that the "Detroit-Chicago" area will be protected. Rep. Paul W. Shafer (R-Mich) a member of the Armed Services Committee, said the extent of the Nike protection in Michigan is confidential.

The $18,931,000 state share of the military construction goes to three Air Force bases in the radar protection network the nation is thowing up against an air attack from the north, through Canada.

One of the installations, Wurtsmith Air Force Base at Oscoda will get $1,740,000 for improvements to take its place in the protective net.

Another link in the protective chain will be at K. I. Sawyer Airport near Marquette. The bill passed Wednesday provides $8,556,000 to put the installation in shape to take the jet planes which will be used for defense.

The third installation is designated only as "The Traverse City Area," and its exact location still has to be recommended by the Department of Defense and approved by the Armed Services Committee. The bill authorized $8,635,000 for such a base.

Adlai Says Ike Too Easy Going

Charges GOP Actions Disgrace Nation; Urges President to Be Firm

By SAM JOHNSON

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—Democratic leader Adlai Stevenson declared last night President Eisenhower allowing himself to be pushed around too much by other Republicans.

Eisenhower's "reluctance to man the barricades of his office" and defend his rights against congressional encroachments has left the United States with a Republican party having "as many wings as a boardinghouse chicken," Stevenson said.

The Army-McCarthy fight—"the shameful spectacle we have witnessed on television"—displays in public a Republican party acting like a "blind dog in a meat house," he said.

All are symptoms of "something deeper—a constitutional crisis in American government," an attack on the separation of powers, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate told a crowd of 15,000 at Meridian's Hillbilly Day.

CORUNNA (AP)—The couple got married free by Justice of the Peace Homer Bush. But the judge also ordered a $65 fine and three days in jail for drunken driving. The Justice, however, gave the man a reprieve of 36 hours on the starting of his jail term.

The man explained he'd been celebrating his impending marriage.

Carved in Stone 5,000 Years Ago

Egyptian Tells of Finding Pharoah's 'Magic' Boat

CAIRO (AP)—An Egyptian archeologist claimed today the discovery of "magic" stone boats designed 5,000 years ago to carry the soul of Cheops—one of the greatest of the ancient Pharoahs—across the sky in an eternal parade of the sun.

If the site near the Great Pyramid at Giza bears out the archeologist's hopes, it may be the most important discovery since the excavation of King Tut's tomb, according to Egyptian authorities.

A glimpse from a narrow shaft into the interior of one of the stone boats is all the experts have had so far.

• • •

But Kamal El Mallakh, 32-year-old director of excavation work at Cheops pyramid, is convinced he will find the first statues of Cheops as well as wooden furniture and other relics of the famed second king of Egypt's 4th dynasty.

El Mallakh had his first look at the find yesterday.

"I could see perfectly preserved wooden deck planks and 15-foot long wooden cars," he told newsmen today. "The wood is in such good condition after nearly 5,000 years I could smell the aroma of sycamore wood when I crawled down in the shaft after breaking through the 6-foot thick stone slabs that covered the boat.

• • •

"The wooden deck had shrunk about two inches away from the stone sides of the boat and by means of a mirror reflecting the sun-light from above, I could see layers and layers of wooden objects below the deck.

"I am sure we will find statutes of Cheop and sailors, together with furniture and other equipment which the ancients used to put in magic boats to follow the parade of the sun across the sky to eternal life."

El Mallakh said there are two great "solar boats," covered with huge slabs of limestone, carved into the bedrock in a line running parallel to the southern side of the Great Pryamid and 25 yards from its base.

• • •

Mustafa Amer, director of the Egyptian archeological department and well-known authority on ancient Egypt, said the find "is undoubtedly a discovery of transcendant importance. It should provide us with a lost link in the history of Cheops."

Although Cheops built the Great Pyramid—one of the seven wonders of the ancient world and Cairo's foremost tourist attraction—nothing is known about the Pharoah himself except for scraps of knowledge pieced together from old writings. The tomb in suburban Giza was built long before the birth of Christ. The mummy and all the contents were removed long ago.

Hope for new knowledge of Cheops lies in the fact the ancient Pharoahs believed they would be immortal if they could follow the sun through the twelve gates of death (night) and then across the sky through the twelve gates of life (day).

• • •

For this purpose, before death, they carved huge "solar boats"—in reality only boatshaped depressions in the bedrock near the pyramid tombs—and equipped them for the voyage after death.

Similar "solar boat" depressions have been found elsewhere but all had been ransacked and were empty.

Pro-Bingo Forces Need 157,000 Names

LANSING (AP) — Bingo backers meeting at Lansing Wednesday night reported they have almost reached the half-way mark in a drive to collect enough signatures to put the proposal to legalize charity bingo on the November ballot.

Representatives of county chapters of the Michigan Assn. of Non-Profit Charitable Organizations said a total of 130,000 signatures have been collected on pro-bingo petitions to date.

An approximate 287,000 signatures will have to be filed with the secretary of state's office by July 1 to put the bing proposal up for a popular vote.

Accused Murderess Gets $25 Refund From Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Sylvester Shaw will be given $25 by the law, even though she is charged with the slaying of her husband.

She had posted a $25 bond to insure her husband's appearance in court in connection with an auto collision. That was April 19.

Three days earlier, April 16, her husband died of a stab wound, and a Traffic Court referee yesterday ruled:

"Under the law the case against Shaw was dismissed automatically. Mrs. Shaw is entitled to the return of her $25 even though she is in jail, charged with his murder."

U. S. Arrests 21 Men

CHICAGO (INS)—A total of 21 men, some of them described by police as "big time" mobsters, were arrested in Chicago last night and early today in a federal crackdown on rackets and narcotics rings.

Fervent Plea for Park Benches Is Gaining Results

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—Benches were being placed at strategic points in the Furniture City's Franklin Park today, thanks to the pleadings of a romantic young man who wrote Park Superintendent Fred C. See about the situation.

"A few nights ago, when the moon was doing its best ('tis spring, you know), my girl and I wended our carefree way, hand in hand, through Franklin Park," the man wrote.

"But, sir, alas and alack, there are no benches in that park and we were very much saddened. Couldn't you please, O please, sir, see to it that one, only one, bench is placed in the park? It would be a wonderful gesture on your interest in the human race."

"How could I turn down a plea like that?" See asked.

Catholic Family Center Honors Foster Parents

Catholic Family Center named two couples "Foster Parents of the Year" at its foster parents' dinner Wednesday night.

Sixty-eight people, including 25 foster parents, turned out for the dinner at Knights of Columbus Hall, celebrating the center's first year of placing homeless children in foster homes.

Scrolls were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ford, Royal Oak, for outstanding service and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Squires, Drayton Plains "rookie foster parents" who have cared for youngsters less than six months.

Special guests at the dinner were the Rev. Thomas Murphy, secretary to the Cardinal for Catholic charities, Detroit; the Rev. Wilbur Suedkamp, his assistant and former Catholic Family Center director, and the Rev. John R. Hogan, director of St. Clair County's Catholic Family Services.

The Catholic Family Center, which gets most of its money through Pontiac Area United Fund drives, started finding foster homes for children in April 1953.

DENVER (AP) — Dist. Judge William A. Black halted a roofing job at the City and County Building yesterday, saying the noise disrupted his courtroom.

He ordered two men in charge of the roofing crew brought before him, instructed them to put a stop to the hammering and called a hearing for today to determine who approved the pounding job over his court.

Spokesman Cites Council In Action

Community Body Cancels Regular Meeting Tonight

ROMEO — "Due to the inaction on the part of the Village Council in taking definite steps to incorporate a summer recreation program," the recently formed Community Council has canceled its regularly scheduled meeting tonight, a spokesman for the group said today.

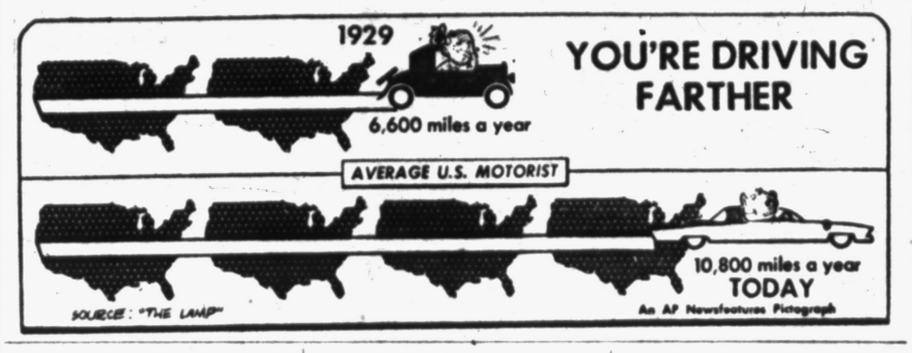

On May 13, some 30 members of this civic betterment group met with Ray Mellen and Fred Hebert of the village's Parks and Recreation Committee to discuss a summer program for children 8-15 years old.

This committee has not yet met with the village trustees with a report of the citizens' session.

The Community Council had originally drafted a proposed summer recreation program which was presented to the Village Council members.

In the proposal the council had asked for $1,000 to finance a six-week vacation program. The trustees turned the matter over to the Parks and Recreation Committee for further consideration.

If the village fathers should hold a special meeting within the next week to draft a play schedule, the Community Council will convene on next Thursday, the spokesman said. The next regular meeting of the trustees is scheduled for June 14.

Hal Boyle Says:

Mama Makes Last Visit but Decides to Come Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Two weeks ago my mother wrote me she wanted to make "a last visit" to those close to her heart who live far away.

Although she came all alone to this country from Ireland as a slender girl of 16, Mama—as she herself says—is no longer "the same spring chicken." She is 66, quite stout, and though summer still rules her heart, she feels a twinge of late autumn in her legs.

I phoned the old family home in Kansas City and asked whether, if I came out to get her, she would fly back with me.

Mama, who had never been up in an airplane, hesitated only a moment, then said cheerfully:

* * *

"Sure, what have I got to lose? I'll go anywhere with you except on a department store escalator. Those things make me nervous."

"I've got it all figured out. I'll spend a week with you and Frances in New York, and a week in Philadelphia talking with my four sisters about old times in County Mayo, when we were all young together. Then I'll be glad enough to go back home and "—she laughed—"die when I get around to it."

Mama was cheered the next morning at the airport terminal by an old lady of 77 who said, "Your first flight? Why, I've been flying for 30 years. Nothing to it."

The last worry vanished for mama when she boarded the plane and found all the windows were closed.

* * *

"I was afraid they'd be open," she confided. "I just got a new hairdo, and I didn't want it blown about before I even got to New York."

* * *

The flight was smooth and pleasant, leading Mama to give cautious approval of the flight age.

I was nervous myself later. Nearly 10 months ago Frances and I adopted a baby girl, Tracy Ann. Mama was one of nine kids, dad one of 16. They had five offspring themselves, but the five have so far given Mama only two grandchildren. How would she react to the first adoption in an Irish family that had dwindled so quickly in only three generations?

Knowing my mother's love of children, it was unworthy of me even to harbor a doubt. I felt ashamed when Mama kissed Frances and then, without waiting to remove her coat, went over to the baby's play pen and said:

"Oh, the darling. She looks like a picture. Let me hold her."

* * *

Tracy looked up solemnly for her first view of her grandmother. But she broke out in chuckles as Mama taught her a new patty cake lyric:

"Patty cake, patty cake, till daddy comes home.

"Daddy has money, but mommy has none."

* * *

The two soon became inseparable. Mama had no desire to see the city sights.

Once I did ask her outright whether the fact Tracy was an adopted child troubled her in any way, and she immediately named three members of the family she had decided Tracy resembles.

"Mind?" she said. "You should have done it 10 years ago. But, of course, if you had, you wouldn't have Tracy. You're lucky the way things have worked out."

One evening Tracy came down with a mild cold, and Mama was up half a dozen times in the night to listen to her breathing.

Tracy still had a runny nose on her 11-month birthday, when I left with my mother for Philadelphia, the next stop on "the last visit."

* * *

"Oh, I'll miss you, darling," Mama said, kissing Tracy. "And you . . . you'll remember grandma . . . at least for a few days."

* * *

Mama never looked back as Tracy, sensing it was no ordinary goodby, let out a cry and waved frantically. She wanted to go with grandma.

On the train a chicken sandwich revived Mama's spirits, and she mused aloud:

"Why, the next time I see Tracy she'll be walking. And the time after that she'll be talking a blue streak."

"Okay, Sarah Bernhardt," I told her. "How many grand farewell tours are you planning now?"

"Well, you never know," said Mama. "At 66 every bite you take may be your last one, but I guess that's no reason to quit going to the grocery store, is it?"

Model-Wrestler Calms Eager Dates

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — When pretty, 22-year-old Joyce Ford, a Dallas professional model, finds herself with a too-arduous swain, she feels little concern.

A simple but well-executed arm lock or a swiftly-administered but permanent crick in his neck will keep the lad in his place.

Joyce is a professional wrestler with 300 matches — all the way from Canada to Venezuela — to her credit. And before she took up wrestling she was an amateur rodeo performer.

But she still has what it takes to be a fashion model, working at that career between bouts. She models sports clothes for the most part.

U. S. Air Base Aids English Housewives

MARGATE, England (AP)—In East Kent, which has more weather than it does climate, English housewives appreciate the fact that the U. S. Air Base at Manston is so obliging. They phone the base's meteorological station before making washday plans. Sometimes they ask how warmly they should dress their children for school.

Margate's sailing club frequently calls for information about winds and the height of waves in the Thames Estuary.

The airmen are happy to give the information, but sometimes they are puzzled. For instance, a man called recently and asked: "Will the wind be strong enough tonight to blow down by TV aerial?"

Detroit to Use City Hall for Ceremonial Reasons

DETROIT (AP) — Because it would cost about as much to tear it down as it did to build it, Detroit's old, solid stone City Hall will continue overlooking Cadillac Square, the Motor City's hub. It cost $500,000 80 years ago.

Government offices will move to a new 20-story city-county building on the riverfront, but the City Plan Commission recommends that City Hall be kept and used as a reception headquarters for royalty and heroes, a parade reviewing stand, and other ceremonial events. City Council agrees.

WEATHERTESTING—An Air Force "Moby Dick" weather balloon is released at the Grenier Air Force Base in Manchester, N. H. the huge balloons carry instrument packages suspended beneath them so researchers at the base can receive automatic reports of weather data through radio relays. Officials say the balloons aren't dangerous and all aircraft in the release area are notified of the ascent.

LOST DOUBLE CHIN, 22 LBS. DISAPPEAR—RENNEL DOES IT

"My flesh is becoming more solid and I have lost my double chin. I am so glad I started to take Rennel Concentrate," writes Mrs. John Schwab, 323 N. Military St., Detroit 9, Mich. "Using Rennel I have lost 22 lbs. Now I can wear some of my good dresses that I had outgrown. But that is not all. I feel better and sleep better. I am relieved of those awful headaches and pains in my legs. To all friends I recommend Rennel. They like the way it has helped me lose weight and are taking it now."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain 4 ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate at your druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it—You can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. Insist on genuine Rennel.

Robber Repents Crime

DETROIT (AP)—A robber surrendered at the scene of his crime—a week after the holdup. It was at the box office of a mid-town movie where he got $35. "Right away," he said, "my conscience started to bother me. I didn't need the money. It was just an impulse." The startled ticket seller called police.

District Attorney Gets Female Help

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—A bit of feminine pulchritude has been added to the heretofore all-male staff of U. S. District Attorney Henry Wade.

Mrs. Louise B. Raggio, a five-foot, two-inch, blue-eyed brunette not much heavier than a short stack of law books, has joined the staff. Previously Wade had 27 men working for him. The lady barrister, who weighs 114 pounds, works on child dependency, support and neglect cases.

She was graduated from the University of Texas in 1939 and was a Phi Beta Kappa.

Mrs. Raggio began her law studies in 1948 and it took her four years of night school to get her degree at Southern Methodist University's law school. She was the only woman in a class of 63. Her husband is Grier H. Raggio, a Dallas lawyer. The couple has three children, ranging in age from four to 11 years old.

Two Brothers Reunited in Drama of Surgery

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Two Nebraska brothers who had not seen each other for 20 years finally met when both entered the University of Nebraska hospital for identical eye operations.

Despite the fact they lived only 98 miles apart during the 20 years, they were both "just too busy" to get together, said Bert Travis, 75, Loup City, and Willard, 73, of Aurora.

Philippines Fight Malaria With DDT

MANILA (AP)—Three thousand men with DDT spray-guns are fanning over malaria-threatened areas of the Philippines, to spray more than a million houses and provide protection for more than 5 million persons in rural areas.

The program is financed by the U. S. foreign administration mission.

S. M. Keeny, director of the United Nations Children's Fund in Asia, says that within the next 10 years it is expected that 300 million people in Asia will be protected against the dread disease.

Accidents Are Collisions

MUSKEGON (UP) — There are no more "accidents" in Muskegon as the result of a recent order by Police Chief Fred E. Castenholz.

They are now called—for police purposes—"collisions."

In explaining the change, Castenholz said an accident is an "unforseen event" that is no one's fault, while traffic collisions occur because someone is in the wrong through "lack of caution, courtesy or disregard of the law."

The ABC Board promised to think it over.

Battle for Asia

Anti-American Sentiment Rising Very Fast in India

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

GENEVA (AP) — "The Devil I know," said an Indian leader, "is worse than the Devil I don't know."

He was trying to explain why anti-American sentiment is rising in India, why Indians profess not to fear any threat of communism from abroad.

* * *

"America is capitalist," he said. "Indians relate capitalism to imperialism, and imperialism to colonialism. Colonialism is the Devil we know."

* * *

This came from an Indian leader who is pro-American, and thus is testimony to the strength of Moscow-Peiping propaganda in Asia. Communist efforts have been concentrated upon identifying the United States with colonialism and imperialism.

The Communist party in India professes to give all-out support to the foreign policy of Prime Minister Nehru and his Congress party, itself carrying on a grim struggle with the domestic Communists.

The Red objective seems to be to drive Nehru into toeing the Communist Chinese line. Nehru does not appear willing to be lured all the way, but apparently he is becoming openly more and more anti-American. He declined an interview, but his supporters say he has these reasons:

* * *

1. U.S. military aid to Pakistan. Nothing has so stirred anti-American sentiment. One Indian leader told me this amounted to arming "India's enemy," since there has been no solution to the Indian Pakistani dispute over Kashmir state.

* * *

2. Suggestions in Washington that the war in Indochina might be internationalized. Indian leaders picture the Indochina war as purely one against colonialism.

3. Statements by Americans about the use of atomic weapons and the prospect of "massive retaliation." Indian leaders portray such statements as heralding a futile attempt to blast communism out of existence rather than trying to outflank communism with better ideas and ideals.

* * *

4. Failure to appreciate India's special position. This is the crux of the matter. Indian leaders apparently consider themselves misused by American misunderstanding, consider that they are required to walk an international tightrope because of their geographical position.

* * *

Nehru has been facing rising criticism throughout India — particularly in west Bengal and Communist-infested Calcutta—in sharp contrast to his almost unassailable position of a few years ago. There has been talk about his Congress party is getting soft and tired, that it must produce definite economic results by the next elections in 1957 or prepare to get out of power. Now, apparently, the Congress party is attempting to step up its efforts in that direction.

In foreign policy the Congress party's worries bring about a sort of solemn masquerade, such as the "National Convention Against United States Military Aid to Pakistan," which I attended in New Delhi.

The convention was unofficial, but obviously had Congress blessing. Speakers criticized the United States in a tired sort of way, as if required to do so. It looked almost as if such things might be staged primarily to steal Communist thunder on such issues. But, in attempting to pull the rug from under the Communist drives, the Indian politicians themselves gave impetus to anti-American sentiment.

* * *

Everything the United States does or offers to do in India is subject to suspicious scrutiny. The United States receives a generally bad press. Anti-Americanism is fanned by professional Communists and opportunists who twist Nehru's statements on international affairs to suit their own purposes.

* * *

To retain its dominant position, the Congress party wants to appear completely independent of the United States and the taint, advertised by the Communists, of "imperialism." Thus Nehru's biggest problem seems to be an attempt to satisfy all shades of opinion, including those within his own party.

For some time to come world communism likely will be satisfied with a neutral India. There is much to digest meanwhile. But the Communists in India are far from idle. They have infiltrated deeply into the Indian press. They have kept up unceasing efforts to dominate India's students, source of tomorrow's leadership. They are active in the trade union movement.

Communism's ultimate aim is a coalition of all opposition parties against the Congress party. Already in some areas the Congress party owes its dominance only to the fact that the opposition has been split. Should the coalition succeed, the Communists then could operate in the usual pattern — lopping off their temporary allies one by one.

Trial Begins in Dog Case

Waterford Man Cited for Having Unlicensed Animal

Trial of one Oakland County resident for possessing an unlicensed dog was scheduled to begin today, and seven more residents will be arraigned on similar charges tomorrow.

Up for test is the anti-rabies vaccination law passed by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors May 5, 1952. The law requires dog owners to have their pets vaccinated for rabies as a prerequisite to obtaining a dog license.

The jury trial requested by Rex Abney, of 3125 Mann Rd., Waterford Township, is scheduled before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

Seven Farmington Township residents face arraignment before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle tomorrow on similar charges. Three have acquired dog licenses since charged with the misdemeanor, but will still face the charges, Ingle said.

Cloys Heath, of 21228 Cass, Farmington Township, pleaded not guilty to the charge when arraigned before Ingle last week. His trial is set for Saturday.

Convincing Evidence

NORMAN (UP) — Prof. R. Dale Vliet of the University of Oklahoma is beginning to wonder if some of his law school examinations aren't a bit too hard to digest. Wednesday one of his students, Duke Logan, walked into the "evidence class," took a look at the exam paper and fainted.

Neglect Is Biggest Tooth Health Hazard

CHICAGO (UP) — Complacency is the biggest hazard to dental health.

An authority, Dr. Leslie M. Fitzgerald, who is president of the American Dental Association, says "the biggest obstacle to sound dental health is complacency. The fact must be learned and accepted that dental disease is not inevitable, that teeth do not necessarily have to become decayed and lost, and that gum diseases are preventable."

His suggested weapons against tooth problems; a moderation in consumption of sweets, proper use early dental examination to prevent more serious defects later, and fluoridation of public water supplies, which he says reduces tooth decay among children as much as 65 per cent.

Body of 4-Year-Old Boy Found in Detroit Canal

DETROIT (AP) — The body of the second child drowned in the Detroit River within 24 hours was recovered today.

It was that of 4-year-old James E. Fasce Jr., and was discovered by police in a canal near the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Fasce. The boy had been missing since 2 p.m. Wednesday. He had climbed through a hole in a fence that blocks off the canal from a street.

The body of James Harrison, 9, was found in the river after an all-day search Wednesday.

Oh, Happy Days!

Married 70 Years

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schorr, the parents of seven living daughters, have celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary. They were childhood neighbors and sweethearts. He was 19 when he was married and is 89 now. Mrs. Schorr is 86. Besides their seven daughters, the Schorr family now includes 28 grandchildren, 66 great-grandchildren and 12 great-great-grandchildren.

Bob Considine Says:

Many Junkets Puzzling; a Few Are Newsworthy

HONOLULU (INS) — "Dear Mr. Constantine," writes a constant reader, "You mentioned the word 'junket' in a recent article. Tell me, Bill, what is a junket? I always thought it was a kind of quick-mix pudding, but now I am confused. Yours in sport,

"Deborah Considine"

Dear Miss: A junket is not a pudding. It is a flight in a flying machine, generally, though junkets involving other means of travel have been committed in the past.

Briefly, a group of people who can well afford to travel out of their own pockets are picked up and taken to some place they've already seen, but this time on the cuff.

It is a very pleasant form of nomad life, young woman, and I hope you grow up to be a part of it. The best way to get into the junket business is to be elected to Congress.

The next best way is to get into the newspaper 'game' as all red-blooded American reporters call it, or in the other rapid-fire, stop the press news media that has sprung up around it, like the Yale Quarterly.

If you make it to Congress you can practically create your own junkets.

Your wife gets too oppressive about the end of the session (and she will) just come home to her some night with a long face and say, "Prunella Pearl, President Eddie Fisher called me today and asked me to look into the Bramsk situation in Umsk. The Secretary of guided missiles is sending a WAC corporal for me first thing in the morning. Tooda-loo." And you're off.

It is safe to say that if President G. Washington had shot the first would-be junketeer, (one Ebenezer Flubb of Virginia who had a hankering to see far off West Virginia for free) there would now be no deficit and we could have underwritten all wars from the Crimean on.

The congressmen who have sped to Honolulu (this is a tough one to shake the wife off) alone would have saved it from Japanese attack by sheer weight of numbers, or sunk the place into the Pacific ocean, if assembled at once.

You may ask "what is done on junkets?" Well, tonstant weader, that's a puzzler. The Congressmen usually write up a report used generally to wrap gift seeds in. In this way they give their findings to the people.

The souvenirs they keep. But other junkets make more sense and have some legitimate news value.

I remember, for example, the voyage of the S. S. United States from Newport News to New York. It proved that we had the fastest big ship in the world—after a century of forlorn maritime rivalry with England, France and Germany.

It proved to the world, too, that the biggest town in the land could welcome a ship with the same ear-splitting reception as must have greeted the return of old Yankee clippers in the 1840s and '50s.

The Air Force, Navy and Army have run some instructive junkets through the years, a few devoted to the greater honor and glory of the brass, most of them dedicated to explaining the scope, muscles and complexity of the security the people are buying.

This present trip is newsworthy. It is the first DC7 flight to Hawaii, the first time United or any other airline has flown passengers from New York to this fragrant isle (5,000 miles) between breakfast and poi. It brings an important part of the United States a little closer to a place in the star-studded section of the American flag.

Restaurateur Aims at Four-Millionth Cup

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C. (UP) — Spero Kounouklis is not satisfied with making three million but is working on his fourth million — cups of coffee, that is.

For the last 41 years, Kounouklis, a restaurant operator, has made about 10 gallons of coffee each day or about 200 cups. He has worn out 14 coffee urns.

2 Zoos Lose Clues to Traveling Tiger

CLEVELAND (UP)—Seen a tiger around?

The Cleveland Zoo is missing one.

Director Fletcher Reynolds said his organization had bought a Bengal tiger from the Bronx Zoo in New York but couldn't find the 200-pound cat which supposedly was shipped yesterday.

Sup. Jack Cherry and four aides met trains at Union Station twice last night in vain. And then Reynolds telephoned New York.

Bronx Zoo officials checked with Railway Express but the last that agency heard of the tiger was from Buffalo.

Rural mail carriers in the U. S. travel 1,492,935 miles each day to serve 33 1-3 million persons on their routes.

Prices Down on Turkeys for Memorial Day Holiday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Turkeys, hams and watermelons are being featured in many of the nation's food stores this week as thrifty buys for the Memorial Day weekend.

The watermelons should appeal to holiday picnic fans; they are plentiful, of excellent quality and relatively cheap. For stay-at-homes with backyard barbecues, sirloin and porterhouse steaks are available at prices ranging from about 2 cents a pound higher to 8 cents lower than last week, depending on where you live.

Best buys in turkey are in the small (under 8 pounds) and large (over 18 pounds) varieties. Elsewhere in the poultry department, fryers can be had at prices just about the same as a week ago.

Duck is in abundant supply in wide areas of the country; the Department of Agriculture has singled out roast duckling as one of its "food headliners" of the week.

Lobster and shrimp are being promoted at reduced prices in some cities. Other featured items are skinless franks, corn on the cob and ripe tomatoes. Pork prices are moving up again.

Eggs are still in more than abundant supply, with prices mostly unchanged from last week's levels. Most vegetables are priced lower than a week ago.

Strawberries are probably the outstanding buy this week in the fresh fruits department. The first peaches and blueberries from southern growing centers are finding their way into big city markets, but prices will continue high until the season is more advanced.

Good news this week for coffee drinkers: Prices, says the Department of Agriculture, may ease off later in the year and are almost certain to go down in 1955. That's because coffee-growing countries outside Brazil are increasing their production.

Use Safety Guards on Home Machines

BOSTON (UP)—Warning to do-it-yourself enthusiasts: Respect the safety guards on your power saw.

Arthur S. Johnson, director of American Mutual's institute for safer living, says that more than 180,000 home accidents in the last year resulted from the use of power tools, a large number of them power saws or combination units with saw attachments. Johnson said that most manufacturers provide safeguards for their tools, but added "no amount of caution can prevent the user from losing a finger or hand if he removes the guard or uses the tool in a manner for which it is not intended."

LONDON (AP) — British film makers are turning to the east these days for adventure movies. Jack Hawkins, star of "The Cruel Sea," is busy shooting a color film "The Seekers" in New Zealand. With him are Laya Raki, Noel Purcell and others from Pinewood studio.

"The Purple Plain" with Gregory Peck and the Burmese discovery Win Min Than is being filmed in Ceylon. It's a jungle story about Burma.

Director Philip Leacock who made "The Kidnappers" is in Aden exploring a hidden desert city for a picture to be called "Ingrams Peace." This also will star Jack Hawkins. They hope to get started soon."

Dominant Men Like Long Hair

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—A noted hair designer believes there's a clue to your man's personality in his attitude toward your tresses. York said the man who refuses to let his wife try a short haircut is the domineering type.

"Long hair on his lady-love makes him feel stronger," she said, deploring the style-conscious-less male who won't look beyond the feminine angle.

In Dallas as a guest artist at a Texas beauty show, Mme. Buck admitted there are men "who don't care about inches as long as hair is becoming."

And she added that she hoped "hair education" would put more of them in that class.

Make Baby Aware of Spoon Quite Early

Most mothers have trouble teaching their infants to eat from a spoon. One way to make this easier is occasionally to feed baby water on a spoon when he is only a few weeks old.

Among reasons for juvenile delinquency, he listed broken homes, uninteresting home life, poor supervision, lack of respect for parents, lack of security and associations with other delinquents.

Bertha Locke gave the opening prayer for the Tuesday meeting and Mrs. LeRoy Shafer gave devotions on "How Do We Spend Our Time?"

Guests included Jo Hilton, Jo Ann Smith, Mrs. Nels Swanson, Mrs. Raymond Bowhall, Mrs. Fred Toles, Mrs. Basil Toles, Lee Ann Blanquart, Mrs. Lloyd Sage, Sharon Redemius, Mrs. Jim Jones and Mrs. Wiggins.

Announcement of the marriage of Neva Hagner and Denver Carr is made by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hagner of Waterly street. He is the son of Mrs. Flora Carr of Monroe.

Avoid Short Nylons

You'll get better wear from your sheer nylon stockings if you buy them long enough in both the foot and the leg. Select a foot size that is one half inch longer than your foot. And, in selecting the leg length, consider whether your legs are thin or heavy.

Check Glove Length

When buying gloves, be sure that the length of the middle finger of the glove measures exactly the same as your middle finger. Place the top of the glove's finger at the base of yours to judge.

Poor Eyesight Makes Junior A Dud at Sports

If junior is strike-out champ of the neighborhood baseball team, the trouble may be in the eyes instead of the muscles.

Faulty vision makes poor athletes. No youngster can hope to be another Babe Ruth or Ted Williams unless his sight as well as his coordination are right.

Persistent blunders on the playing field often indicate the need for eye examination and glasses. But the youngster need no longer fear that eyewear and sports don't mix. Today glasses are rugged enough to withstand the rigors of children's play, while aiding vision, too.

Besides being a handicap in sports, poor vision may also lead to faulty grades in school; personality problems due to feelings of frustration and inadequacy, and physical ills such as headaches, eyestrain and nervous disorders. No child can work or play well with eyes that need correction.

Parent's visual defects may also be more noticeable when the baseball season rolls around.

If dad squints at the TV set and disagrees with the umpire's decisions frequently, faulty sight can be the reason.

Ball parks are crowded with nearsighted, farsighted and astigmatic fans, all shouting that the umpire is "blind." More frequent eye checkups would add greatly to their enjoyment of the game.

Wash Paint Roller

Prewash a new paint roller in warm soapsuds and rinses. This removes loose lint and thus produces a smoother paint job.

Bride-Elect Julia Pope Is Honored

Julia Pope, bride-elect of John Mason, was honored Wednesday evening at a personal bridal shower given by Mrs. Beverly Coleman of North Johnson avenue.

Julia is the daughter of the James Popes of Lowell street, and the John R. Masons of Beach street are John's parents. They will speak their vows on June 19 in St. Michael Church.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Pope, Mrs. John Glynn, Mrs. Lillian Campbell, Mrs. Steven Erntz, Mrs. Russell Carlson, Mrs. David Jones, Mrs. Ward Rowden and Mrs. Leonard Walsh.

Others were Mrs. Burt Bond, Mrs. Robert Hasse, Mrs. Lee Wirick, Mrs. Robert Dix, Mrs. Chalmer Calme, Kathleen Steel, Ann Marie St. Charles, Jackie and Pat Kroplin and Mrs. Bernice Steiner.

Milk Stain Vanishes

Moist milk stains disappear in the soapsuds during ordinary laundering. If the stain is stubborn, moisten it and rub in powdered pepsin from the drugstore. Let this stand for about half an hour and then launder the entire piece.

Display Illustrates New Concepts

Cranbrook Students Show Artwork

By MAUDE H. DONAHUE

Friends and guests of Cranbrook Art Academy Wednesday evening viewed an outstanding exhibition of student work at Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum.

Mrs. Donahue

The show integrated a comprehensive collection of work done by the students during the year, including painting, sculpture, architecture, ceramic metalwork, weaving, graphics and design.

The overall plan presented a unity of feeling which encompassed individual items in a harmonious display.

One eye-catching feature was a space frame for living by Ken Isaacs. This structure of lemon yellow and black plywood, metal and rubber is to be placed within an enclosed area of the home to provide facilities for sitting, guests, study, storage, sleeping and clothing storage.

The structure is fashioned in a Mondrian effect, and the primary pieces are a desk, steps and various levels of platforms with cushions of different sizes for relaxing.

A cylindrical fireplace placed at hip level, a phonograph, several steel chairs and a magazine rack complete the area, which was strikingly displayed on a tile-like floor of black and white.

Creating a room within a room, the structure breaks up space into interesting areas in a form of life-sized sculpture, thus creating a new concept of living.

Outstanding in the same gallery were two pieces of sculpture by R. W. Cremean. Both emphasizing a horizontal approach, the figures "Lazarus" and "Reclining" show two different aspects of a horizontal-but-tense feeling. They express something complex in form and idea not usually found in figure sculpture.

The architectural display tied in with an area planning project done at the request of Marietta, an Ohio city. All aspects of the program are shown, from regional surveys to plans for individual homes.

Solutions of product and graphic design were exhibited in the back gallery, rounding out a show of contemporary art with the most recent aspect.

In this group, students have tackled everything from automobile design featuring a motorcycle engine to a complete redesigning of a cake of soap and its wrapper for cheaper production and easier handling. This phase of the exhibit shows the versatility of the designer viewpoint.

Other notables in an exhibit abundant with new ideas and fine workmanship were several paintings by Don Smith and a brass bowl and ladle by Maurice Bernson.

The exhibit was a successful attempt on the part of the students to intrigue the viewer into a sincere interest in what is being done and thought by academy students in the field of art today.

Reciting Favorite Verses Brings Comfort, Guidance Throughout Life

Only Rare Type Can Wear Many Bracelets at Once

For a few years now there has been quite a vogue for the wearing of several bracelets on one arm. And many have come to think that the popularity of this fad indicates that anyone can adopt it.

Actually, very few women can do so successfully. First of all, unless a woman is tall and has long arms, she'll look lost in the metal adornment.

The woman of small stature should never succumb to the lure of this fad. And the tall girl should approach it with caution.

The only woman who can wear an armload of bracelets without looking as if she were in the midst of cleaning out her jewelry box is the very chick, the very dramatic, staturesque type.

This is the long-limbed girl who has a flair for looking stunning in a plain black sheath. The girl who can wear an unusual hairdo and look smart, not strange. The girl who looks terrific in slacks.

In other words, the girl who was born to be beautifully different.

And let's face it. There aren't very many of these girls around.

Consider Silhouette for Toppers, Shrugs

There are more toppers and shrugs this season than ever. Should you decide to invest in one, keep in mind the silhouette you will pair it with.

Generally, the finger-tip length topper with flared back is most versatile.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Modern Youth Will Miss Pleasures of Memorizing

A famous engineer who has been going through personal tragedy tells me that in his darkest moments he has found reading the 91st Psalm more effective than taking a sleeping pill.

This disturbed man has picked one favorite verse: "For he shall give his angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways." As he says this over and over, his burdens lift and he falls asleep.

MISS McBRIDE

The educational experts tell me that children aren't required to memorize much any more, that learning by heart, as we used to call it, has almost gone out of fashion along with other outmoded pedagogical ideas.

If this is true, I think children are missing a lot of pleasure now and will miss more when they grow up without fine thoughts tucked away in their heads for use at need.

I still have the memorizing habit but it's not so easy to commit to memory as you get older, and the poems and sayings learned in childhood are still the ones that provide comfort today.

My favorite quotation is the whole of the 121st Psalm which I began to learn when I was 5. Nowhere is there more majesty and solace than in words like these: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved. He that keepeth thee will not slumber . . . The Lord shall protect thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth and even for evermore."

If it's a pleasant picture I want in a bleak moment, I conjure up Wadsworth's crowd of daffodils by saying over to myself, "I wandered lonely as a cloud that floats on high o'er vales and hills. . ."

For declaiming in the bathtub I like Sir Walter Scott's "Young Lochinvar is come out of the west," or maybe "The boy stood on a burning deck," or even "The curfew shall not ring tonight . . ."

I envy professional memorizers, actors and actresses whose words come tripping off the tongue so effortlessly.

The other day, in the course of an ordinary conversation with me, Shirley Booth, who has been declared by many discerning critics the finest actress in the world and now is a hit in Broadway's "By the Beautiful Sea," said suddenly, "Would you like to hear my creed?" and then recited in full the old Pilgrim's Grace inscribed in Chester Cathedral, England:

"Give me a healthy mind, oh Lord, and also something to digest.
"Give me a healthy body, Lord with sense to keep it at its best.
"Give me a heathy mind, oh Lord to keep the good and pure in sight,
"Which seeing sin is not appalled, but finds a way to set it right.
"Give me a mind that is not bound, that does not whimper, whine or sigh.
"Don't let me worry overmuch about the fussy thing called I.
"Give me a sense of humor, Lord give me the grace to see a joke,
"To get some happiness from life and pass it on to other folk."

If I were either a child or an actress, I'd immediately memorize Shirley's creed. Anyway, I intend to keep it around for ready reference.

Flour Bags Make Outfit for Baby

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (INS) — Putting baby in the "sack" has come to mean more than slang for tucking Junior in bed.

He literally is put in a sack — a cotton flannel sack, the newest twist in flour packaging.

The National Cotton Council in Memphis reported that for the first time housewives can buy 25 pounds of flour in a high quality cotton flannel container.

Each bag provides a piece of fabric 27 inches square, suitable for making children's pajamas, be' jackets, baby gowns and other sleepwear.

The sacks are available in five print patterns, each in a combination of two different colors.

The prints include a gray, red and tan wild west print, a toy animal design in pastel hues and three dainty floral designs.

Use Shelf Paper to Wrap Gifts

ITHACA, N. Y. (INS)—Elegant and original gift wrapping shows thought—and it can be done cheaply.

Shelf paper, 18 inches wide, is inexpensive. You can buy it at the dime store in solid colors, white and even gay plaids. It's strong, has a shiny surface and you'll be able to cover many packages at a small cost.

White pipe cleaners and some colored sequins are good "makings" for attractive packages. You can fashion pipe cleaners into almost any shape you want. Sequins go on most any wrapping to add dash and personality.

You'll find that lace-paper doilies come in handy too. They make fine trimmings to scatter over a package. For extra glitter, add a sequin here and there.

With Matching Background

Blend Paper, Woodwork

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Bright-colored, definite pattern can be very successful in a room that has more than its share of woodwork, but it's an especially good idea to match the woodwork with the background of the paper. Walls look less cut up that way.

For example, in the room Mrs. W. W. asks about: "This room has built-in shelves and cabinets and wainscoting as well as window and door frames, all painted white.

"There really isn't too much wall to be papered, but I'm afraid the colorful paper I like will make the walls seem to be cut up even more. Must I skip pattern and settle for a plain colored paper?"

Any plain color—except white—will separate the papered areas from the rest of the wall features with definite straight lines., Mrs. W., just as pattern with contrasting background will.

Since there is little wall to be papered, it can well be used to bring color and pattern interest into the room if you want it to.

But choose the paper with a woodwork, so there will be continuity of color from one area to white background to match the the other.

* * *

Mrs. G. D. "What kind of curtains can I use on the window walls of a sleeping porch to make it look like a bedroom for my small daughters? The room gets too hot in the summer and I would like to shut out the light completely.

"Also, what color should the curtains and bedspreads be? The other two walls are knotty pine. I like bright colors."

Tier curtains in a medium-weight cotton shut out enough light, look well in a room for little girls, and can make a porch look more like a bedroom. Match the wall that shows around the windows and the window frames to the curtains and hang the curtains to cover the window frames.

Aqua and turquois shades of greens, soft gray-green or soft olive, are better choices of color than more intense shades because of the light and heat problem.

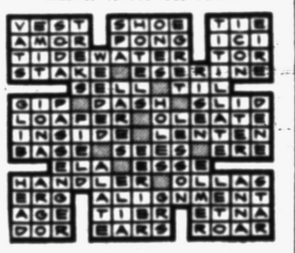

Spreads might be deeper shades of the same color, or prints featuring the curtain color. Use bright shades for accessories or one of the colors in the print.

Mrs. K. R. T. "Can plastic dinette chair seats be re-coated when the color has faded and worn thin?"

Yes, there is a special flexible coating for this purpose which comes in many colors. The plastic, of course, should not be cracked or rough.

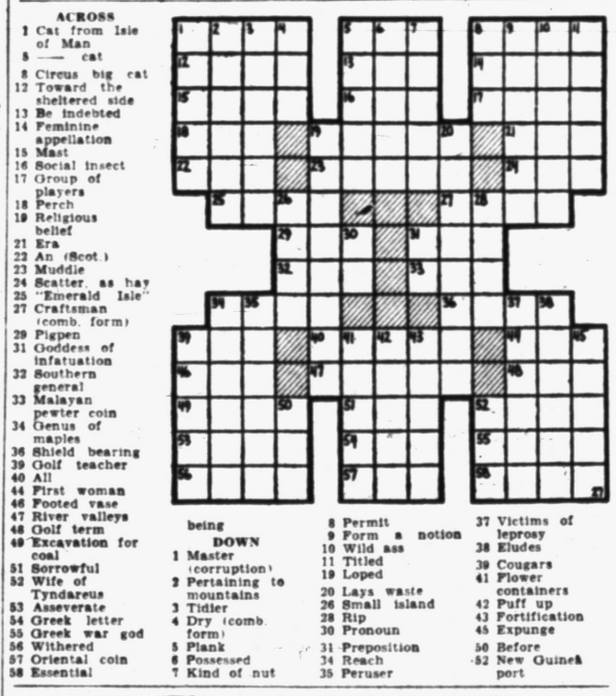

Belts on washable dresses must have washable interlinings — avoid leather backings that will bleed or crack during sudsing.

Traffic Expert Gives Men a Bad Mark

ATLANTA (INS)—The men who bellow loudest about the failings of women drivers probably are responsible for their own sex having the worst safety record.

That is indicated in so-called "driving patterns" that are as significant to one female traffic expert as behavior patterns are to a psychiatrist.

Dorothy Mignault, Kennebunkport, Maine, businesswoman who is making a coast-to-coast check of the driving habits of American motorists, said:

"Men are in the majority when it comes to traffic law violations. About seven male drivers violate traffic laws for every three females."

Allowing for the fact there are more men than women drivers, Miss Mignault continued, men still have more accidents in proportion.

She pointed to distinct differences in "driving patterns" to account for these and other facts accumulated during nine months on the nation's highways.

(Although Miss Mignault has driven 20,000 miles, she has never seen an accident.)

"Men are in more of a hurry than women," she explained. "And at least 90 per cent of drivers violate speed limits."

Other chiefly male driver faults noted were recklessness, cutting in between other cars too closely, and jumping or sneaking throuth traffic lights.

These are traits of an aggressive personality, normal though not justified in a man, the expert reasoned. But such behavior indicated something else to Miss Mignault. She explained:

'General nervousness is a sign of our times. That emotional state is reflected in today's driving patterns.

"For instance, a man who is angry at his boss will drive faster than he should. The feeling of power he gets at the wheel makes him bully the car."

The critic of male drivers did not attempt to whitewash members of her sex, however. She admitted:

"Women ride the center line down the highway, take too long starting up at traffic lights and give indefinite hand signals."

Here again it's mostly a matter of temperament.

"Some of us are overly cautious," said Miss Mignault.

"We ride the center line because we fear the shoulder of the road. Women are shy and less confident than men."

The deeply tanned traveler who favors uniform traffic laws throughout the country had no solution for the emotional side of the problem that pits men against women drivers.

She strongly advised, however, against husbands teaching wives to drive:

"The student is apt to adopt the mannerisms of the teacher."

Make Yourself a Dress Form

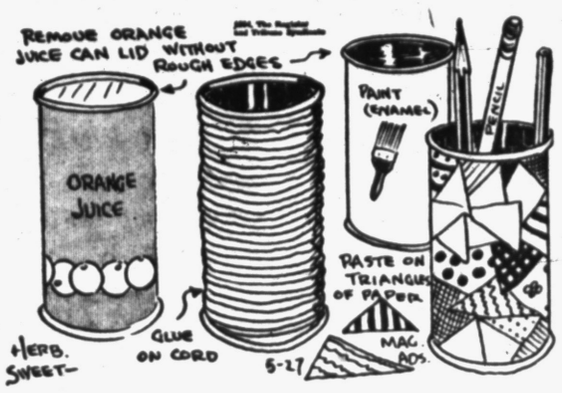

Women who make their own clothes know how hard it is to adjust their measurements to the pattern, or vice versa. A dress form of your own figure helps, but is usually expensive.

Now however, a California firm is offering a make-it-yourself dress form. You pay $3.95 for the form, $.95 for a base if desired, and $3.50 each for molded arms. Big sizes, like 44, cost more.

The form takes two people to make: you wrap yourself in muslin and have a friend strip on adhesive paper.

The paper hardens and the form is scissored up the back. Then it's pasted together, covered with muslin, and may be mounted at your exact height.

Try It

Decorate Can for Pencils

Here is a Try It which I'll bet will come in handy. Do you have some place where you study, draw or get your lessons, but when you want a pencil, do you have to turn the house upside down? Sometimes it is more trouble to get things together than it is to do your work.

Sherry Coad of Niles, Mich., sends in this idea for you Try-Iteers to use to rid yourself of pencil troubles.

She suggests that you make a pencil holder for your work place. This will not cost you a thing to make, for the base of the holder is made from a frozen orange juice can.

Sherry is a teenager and therefore should know what it takes to get lessons in high school. Do some of you other teenage Try-Iteers have study tips to pass on for next fall?

Remove the top of the can with an opener which leaves a smooth edge. Now use one of the three ways shown to decorate the can.

Wrap it with cord tied around and around, then give it a coat of shellac. Paint it with enamel and put on your favorite design, or cut triangles of paper and paste these to the can all hit and miss, then shellac it all over. Make your can different—it will be useful!

Stains Best for Natural Exteriors

By HUBBARD COBB

Time was when anyone who didn't want to paint the outside of his house was pretty close to being a bum. Barns often were let go without paint, but houses never.

Today, however, there is quite a vogue for natural finish on siding, doors, etc., and this brings up the question of how it should be treated.

There are a good many woods such as redwood and cypress which can be exposed to the weather without much harm, but in time they will fade from the sun and the weather.

If they faded all over the same amount this would not be too bad, but they don't, they fade in varying degrees.

You need, then, some sort of coating which won't hid the wood but which will protect it from the weather. Some people have used linseed oil but linseed oil picks and holds dirt pretty easily so this isn't too hot.

Clear finishes such as varnish can be used but varnish has a slight yellowish color and takes time to apply. Another point to keep in mind is that the less pigment in the finish, the shorter time it will last.

One kind of finish that does seem to be doing a good job is a pigmented exterior stain seal. These stains contain a small amount of pigment which helps to make them last. They can be applied easily and will protect the wood.

And they aren't too expensive. This is important for, while they do give good service, no finish of this sort will last as long as paint, especially on those portions of the house which receive the greatest amount of light from the sun.

The great advantage of using a stain is that when it shows signs of fading, you just slap another coat over it and there you are.

There are almost 45,000 elevators in New York, including 30,000 passenger lifts.

Wire Brush Only Abuses Suede Shoes

There isn't a woman in the world who doesn't love the feel of a glove-soft suede shoe caressing her foot. How many of us realize that suede is leather? The majority of suede shoes worn today are made of kid leather.

In fact, these little kids literally turn themselves inside out, in order that you may have those buttery-soft suedes you love so much!

Suede kid is the reverse side of smooth. Its soft, rich depth is due to tanning with simple kitchen items as milk, flour and eggs.

So never use a wire brush to clean your suede shoes, but a natural bristle brush or a rubber sponge. When you use a wire brush on your suedes, you get the same effect as if you used a wire brush on your face . . . it hurts!

Suede kid and smooth kid too, has pores like you have, so that it breathes and is as soft as your own skin. It even gets the same careful cosmetic treatment you give your face.

Your suede kid shoes are rich and beautiful because the pores of the skins absorb the exquisite colors.

Coppery suedes, avacado greens, flame reds, charcoal greys, black, navy blue and chocolately browns, all reflect depth and luxury. Softness — color — beauty — give you magic at your feet—because suede is kid leather.

Quick as a wink, crochet a pair of fashion's favorite fruit or flower earrings. Choose gay summer colors—use scraps of tatting crochet cotton. Make pins, too.

Best Friend's Boy Craziness Embarrasses Girl

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: For some time now I have run around with a girl — she is really my best friend. But since she has turned 15 she has changed completely.

"She makes plays for boys, acts very silly and hangs round where the boys are all the time. The other night she embarrassed me dreadfully.

"Should I change my crowd, play lone wolf, or stick with her and act the way she does?"

There's still another alternative: Stick with her without acting the way she does. This girl has been a close friend. By yourselves, you're probably still just as close and have the same interests.

She has become aware of the boys in a rather violent way before you have, that's all. The change in her is conspicuous and noticeable — to you, at any rate. You're sorry to see her carrying on. And, because you care for her so much, what she does bothers you.

The answer is to let her go her way with the boys without you. Find another girl who's more your speed and with whom you can keep in step. Do most of your running around with her.

Make a point of seeing your best girl friend at home where you won't have to share her with the boys.

The two of you are out of step for the time being, but that needn't keep you from continuing to be friends. Sooner or later she's going to slow down, or you're going to quicken your own pace, and you'll be even-Stephen again.

"Dear Miss Woodward: We belong to a teenage club of eight girls, seven of whom are nice, clean girls. The eighth is always sloppy and dirty and has persistent body odor. Because of her messy appearance, we are losing popularity.

"Some of our parents don't approve of her as a companion but we don't want to do anything rash which might hurt her feelings. She's really a nice person. But what are we going to do about her?"

With all the bizz-bazz that must go on among you on the subject of clothes, hairdos, lipstick and stuff, it ought to be easy to bring her shortcomings to her notice without hurting her feelings.

Start asking questions of each other which she in turn will have to answer. "How often do you wash your hair?" "What kind of soap do you use in your bath — and when do you like your bath, night or morning?"

Stage a beauty clinic sometime when you're all together in somebody's bedroom, and start working on each other's hairdos.

Make a point of tackling hers, discussing its condition, its style, its grooming. Tease her gently about her dirty neck, prophesy the runs she'll get in her best nylons from her snagged fingernails.

Be sure that the rest of you don't come out perfect by comparison, but do in a friendly way get down to her unattractive details and offer some helpul hints for improving same. Perhaps you can kindle her personal pride and snap her out of her laziness.

Typical of the mood of the season is a new fragrance, Bright Secret, which is a perfume of song and sunshine whose enchantment surrounds you in a secret as bright as yourself.

Newlyweds Can't Remind Friends of Gift Promise

By EMILY POST

A reader asks this question: "Is there any reminder we can make to friends who said they would send us a wedding present after we got settled and knew what we still needed?

"Months have gone by, and we've been settled and have even seen these friends here at home! But not a word have they said about the wedding gift they haven't sent."

Answer: I am very sorry, but there is really nothing you can do but hope that they will remember their promise. (Possibly a mutual friend might remind them.)

Drar Mrs. Post: In your book you say: "A gentleman is always presented to a lady even though he be a gentleman of distinction (except of course the President of the U. S., a royal personage or a dignitary of the church) and the lady no more than 18." You give as an example, "Mrs. Young, may I present Professor Gray."

This I understand, but further on you say, "A young member of the family is introduced to a visitor, Mr. Eminent, my daughter Mabel'." In this last statement it appears to me that the woman is being presented to the man. Will you please straighten me out on this?

Answer: There is a difference between a presentation and the giving of two names in an introduction. The first is the most ceremonious introduction possible where the man is presented to the woman.

In the second case, no one is being presented and when the two names are said in the same tone of voice it is hardly apparent who is introduced to whom. Furthermore, Mabel being a member of the family, it would be impossible to say, "My daughter Mabel —Mr Eminent."

Dear Mrs. Post: When isn't it proper for women to cross their knees?

Answer: Never on any formal occasion, and rarely in public unless they cross so easily as to be practically unnoticeable . . . that is if the skirt is very long as well as full.

Manners
MAKE FRIENDS

When you compliment a woman on a dress, don't tell her it makes her look slimmer. That's one of those compliments that carry implied criticism.

For you are actually saying, "You need to look slimmer than you are."

Insulin was discovered by scientists in Toronto, Canada in 1921.

Keep Jewelry Sorted for Use

There's a bit of collector in every woman, they say. So it's inevitable that one accumulates quite a collection of trinkets over the years.

The jewelry box is particularly affected. In time it gets to look more like a veritable treasure chest — until, of course, its contents are sorted out.

And that's a sound idea for anyone who hasn't delved into the depths of hers for some time. Jewelry, like all other apparel, becomes dated. And when that happens, it no longer deserves its place in a jewelry box.

For when the unwearable pieces aren't removed, the wearable ones eventually get lost in the crowd. And finally it becomes just too much trouble to hunt for the right piece that's just right for a particular outfit.

In going through your jewelry box, you probably will come across many pieces about which you'll be undecided. Put them in a separate place for further consideration.

And do keep in mind that old jewelry can date you just as easily as an old hat. Pieces that have a frankly antique look, of course, are as ageless as pearls.

Pieces you may not be able to wear fashionably now might be redesigned if they are valuable. Or consult your jeweler about selling them.

If some pieces are still fashionable but are no longer flattering to you, now is the time to make the wise decision. Why not give them to someone who can still wear them well?

After eliminating all these pieces, you probably will no longer have a very impressive array in your box. But what you lack in numbers, you'll make up in quality.

For now you'll have handy those items that will play their part in presenting you at your best. In that sense, then, your revamped jewelry chest will be more of a treasure chest.

When people say "in other words," they are usually making a bad matter worse.

Summer Brings New Gay Prints

Spring features many gay prints, ranging from the simple conventional dot or dash to the large realistic designs. Very popular this season are the many decorative designs achieved by a method called "lacquer pigment printing."

There are several variations in this method of printing: One is the emulsion type, where finely ground pigment in a resin binder is printed on the fabric; in another type, the fine pigment is carried by a nitro-cellulose lacquer; in still another method, a casein or albuminous material serves as the binder that holds the pigment to the surface of the fabric. In the latter, the printed design is usually white.

The very popular lacquer pigment prints may be of just one color or of several colors. For example, a gold and gray design may be printed on a white background; red, blue, yellow, and black on a plain or neutral background.

Pigment prints are most commonly found on rayon or acetate taffetas, or rayon acetate, and cotton failles and bengalines. Pigment printed fabrics also may be embossed for added textured interest.

The National Institute of Drycleaning tells us it is impossible for most of us to distinguish a pigment print—yet it is important to know that this class of fabrics has certain limitations in wear and cleaning. Some clean beautifully; in others the print is removed partially or entirely in wear or cleaning.

Unfortunately, neither you nor your cleaner can predict in advance how a pigment print will hold up.

The degree of serviceability depends on the fiber content and the construction of the fabric to which it is applied; the type of binder used to carry the pigment; and the condition of "curing" the binder and pigment during manufacture.

4 Exercises Aid Teenage Figure

You teen-agers who have been growing upward without adding curves don't have to wait for nature to take its course. Start a daily exercise program now and you'll have lovely gentle curves in time for the bathing-suit season.

The following exercises are aimed at developing the bust, hips, legs and arms:

1. Standing with arms held out straight from the shoulders, put your right hand on your left arm at a point about three inches below the elbow; do the same with the other hand. Spread your fingers, pushing them into the flesh and moving the hands up toward the elbows. For the first two weeks, do this 25 times three times a day. Gradually work up to 100 times.

2. Lie on floor with arms out at sides. Keeping shoulders on floor, bend knees and bring feet close up to body. Roll hips all the way to the right, then all the way to the left. Do this 10 times, rolling at a moderate pace.

3. Raise legs in the air, rest body on head and sholders and put hands on hips for support. Stretch legs as wide as possible and close them scissors fashion. Do this slowly, 12 times at first, 50 times after several weeks.

4. Standing with hands at sides, raise arms overhead, and clap palms together. Then throw arms, palms up, straight out to the sides on a level with shoulders. Bend elbows and touch shoulders with fingers. Let arms fall to sides. Do this 10 times.

New Body Lotion Insures All-Over Baby-Soft Skin

How much care do you lavish on your skin? Do you pamper all of you or do you ignore the areas that are hidden by clothing in the belief they receive sufficient protection?

Actually, those areas are just as prone to drying and scaling, of becoming sluggish and sallow. Just as you need cream for your face and lotion for your hands, the rest of you needs special attention to prolong its loveliness.

Recognizing this need, some women have used on their body a lotion primarily conceived for the hands, but this fails to produce the freshening and stimulating effect so necessary for pleasant all-over use.

With this knowledge in mind, one company has created a new preparation designed to achieve and maintain all-over baby-soft skin. A unique formula, it is light and luxurious in texture with a translucent rosy glow. You can see from its very apppearance that it will quickly disappear into the skin.

It is meant for everyday use, especially after tubbing or showering when the skin is in a most receptive condition. Apply it all over your body—from the toes up — and you will experience an immediate result.

First, it tingles and refreshes the skin, imparts a wide-awake, alert feeling. One application and your skin will feel more alive, vibrant, younger.

Second, it softens and smooths the skin because it contains a moisture-giving element that lubricates the skin without leaving even the slightest trace of heaviness or stickiness.

Although you will want to use this lotion the year around, it is a particularly worthy candidate for summer use, since it helps achieve that smooth, soft look so necessary for the new bare fashions.

At the same time it gives a wonderful "slip" to the skin, in much the same way that talcum does. Girdles and stockings glide on with the greatest of ease, with the possibility of nylon runs reduced to a minimum.

As if all these talents were not enough, this lotion scents the skin with a lace-inspired fragrance. Ordinarily, you would not expect a functional product to be scented with such a luxurious fragrance, so this is really a wonderful bonus.

This new beauty discovery is easy to use for it comes with a convenient shaker top. Just shake this precious preparation into your hands and smooth it all over your body and it will become as much a part of your daily routine as taking a bath and brushing your teeth.

The makers are offering a unique introductory package consisting of two bottles, a regular 6 once size and a generous sample size.

Try the small bottle, they advise, and if you are not completely satisfied you have the privilege of returning the large one to the store for a refund. Chances are, however, that you will reserve the little flacon to carry with you on summer weekends and vacation.

Shampoos Available for Oily, Dry Hair

Most shampoos are available today in formulas for oily, dry and normal hair. Generally, you can consider that your hair is oily if it seems dirty four or less days after being washed.

Normal hair looks well for at least six or seven days. And dry hair can easily go two weeks between shampoos.

Nylons Go Wild With Polka Dot, Leopard Designs

Now that stockings have reached the ultimate in sheer beauty and fit, hosiery designers from Paris to California are introducing innovations that range from the subtle to the extravagant.

Leopard patterns and polka dots are being featured in Paris. And California, not to be outdone, is coming up with such color tones as "Actress Sunburn" and "Tragedy Black."

Built-in gold ankle bracelets and tiny china flowers are decorating some of the dressier nylons. Jeweled toe rings of gold-colored plastic sparked with rhinestones are also being offered.

In a more conservative vein, nylons are now being matched with other accessories, including belts and umbrellas. Both texture and color are very important in the hosiery picture for spring and summer.

Many women will find that the new pastel shades, such as Frosted Apricot, Frosted Lime and Pink Freeze, are flattering and underline beautifully the delicate hues of spring and summer outfits.

With Tenor Fred Kendall As Solo Attraction

Women's Chorus Presents Varied Concert Program

By DONNA ANDERSON

Fred Kendall's tenor voice, well-known in this area, was heard in contrast with women's choral work when Pontiac Women's Chorus presented its annual spring concert Wednesday evening at Pontiac High School, under the direction of Charles E. Hutton.

DONNA

As guest artist, the popular Detroit vocalist chose his more serious selections from the works of Watts, Carnevali and Reddick in "Blue Are Her Eyes," "Come Love With Me," "Wings of Night" and "The Velvet Darkness."

Opening the concert with several religious selections, the chorus later turned to three unique "voistrations" adapted by the chorus conductor Mr. Hutton.

These were based on two Brahms compositions, "Hungarian Dance No. 6" and "Waltz in A Flat," and on "Dedication" by Franz.

Before they presented a group of American folk songs and spirituals, chorus members turned to the 16th Century polyphony of Orlando di Lasso in one of his secular compositions, "Echo Song."

Elaine Keinert, Carol Crittenden, Velva Wolfe, Dorothy Tallerday and Julie O'Brien were the echo voices.

Mr. Kendall's charming personality had a real chance to come through in his selections from musical comedies, "Oklahoma" by Rodgers, "One Alone" by Romberg, "Donkey Serenade" by Friml and "Serenade" from the "Student Prince" by Romberg.

He sang "Stranger in Paradise" for an encore and concluded his performance with a short, amusing ditty called "The Crow's Egg."

The chorus' last group of offerings featured a dance interpretation of Leroy Anderson's "Blue Tango" by guest dancers Jane Dunn and Arthur McCormick, with the chorus providing background music.

Also included in this group was the amusing nursery singing game, "Ten Little Indians." Roy Ringwald's arrangement of Hahn's "Could My Song on Wings Go Flying" and Fred Waring's "Where in the World But in America," "I Believe" and "Steal Away" were chorus encore numbers.

Dorothy L. McKibben is chorus accompanist and George Primo accompanied Mr. Kendall. The Pontiac Women's Chorus is sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation.

Serve Tots' Food in Small Quantities

Children are more likely to eat well when served small amounts of foods. Even a youngster whose appetite is hardy can lose interest when confronted with a plate piled high with food.

New foods especially will get a better reception when offered in small quantities. When offered a tablespoon of squash, Baby may create a scene. But he probably would quietly accept a teaspoon of the same vegetable.

Give Crisp Food to Toddling Child

When baby gets to the toddler stage, it would be a good idea to serve him one crisp food in each meal. Not only will it appeal to him, but it will also help to teach him to chew.

On the other hand, foods that are gummy, sticky or stringy are usually disliked by the preschool group. So add extra milk to baby's mashed potatoes and puddings.

Think of Soapsuds

It's smart to make sure you get washable coverings and cushions when buying summer furniture. The plastic combinations are a great find because you can sponge them with lukewarm soapy water. Anything from stack-up chairs to a patio umbrella should be able to face both sunshine and soapsuds.

Potato Salad Needs Pickles!

Always Liked as Picnic Dish

Sliced Sweet Gherkins Garnish Platter for Summer Menu

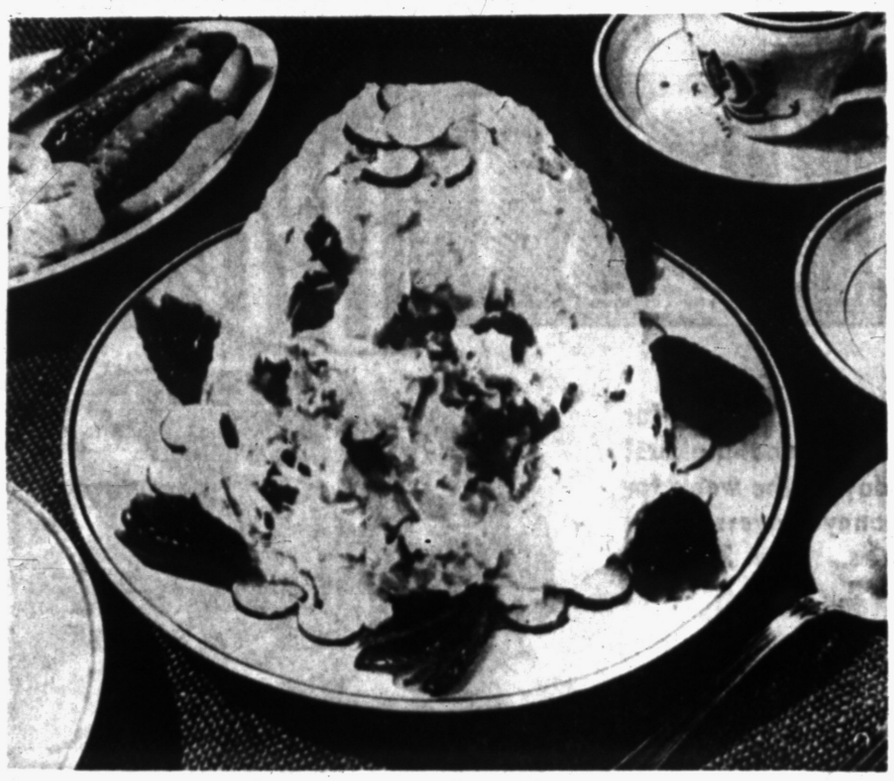

That perennial picnic favorite, potato salad, takes on a new look in this recipe for Ham and Pickle Potato Salad. Turn the salad into a mold and chill thoroughly.

It's all ready to be carried conveniently to picnics and turned out on a platter for serving. Sliced sweet gherkins and sweet pickle liquid add piquant flavor to this delicious picnic main dish.

Ham and Pickle Potato Salad

1 pound cooked ham, diced
½ cup chopped onions
½ cup chopped celery
¾ cup sliced sweet gherkins
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup sweet pickle liquid
⅔ cup mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients and mix lightly but thoroughly. Press potato-pickle mixture into a 1½ quart mold. Chill thoroughly. Unmold and serve surrounded with crisp salad greens, or garnished with pickle fans. Makes about 1½ quarts.

HAM AND PICKLE POTATO SALAD—Celebrate National Pickle Week (May 20-29) by featuring this recipe in patio picnic menus. With a three-day holiday in the offing, there will be plenty of chances for outdoor, informal meals. Serve sweet pickles and dill slices on the side.

Serve Cheese Dip With Pretzel Sticks

Everyone likes to dunk, so serve this good cheese dip along with pretzel sticks at your next party.

Blue Cheese Dip

¼ pound blue cheese
2 tablespoons chili sauce
2 to 3 tablespoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup (about) mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type dressing

Have blue cheese at room temperature; mash with a spoon or fork, and stir in chili sauce, onion, parsley, and worcestershire sauce.

Gradually stir in mayonnaise until mixture is of dunking consistency. (If you want a smoother mixture, force it through a fine sieve.) Refrigerate in covered container until serving time.

Low-Temperature Secret of Success in Cooking Eggs

LINCOLN, Neb. (INS) — The secret of cooking eggs, according to food and nutrition specialist Kathryn Cooley of the University of Nebraska, is the use of low to moderate temperatures.

Like all protein food, she says, eggs cooked at too high a temperature become tough and leathery.

The green, unattractive color, sometimes seen on the surface of a hard cooked egg, may be prevented by cooking at simmering temperature. Then cool the egg promptly in cold water.

If oven dishes such as custards and souffles are overcooked or cooked at too high temperature, "weeping" will occur. In a well-baked custard the sides and bottom of the product are smooth and firm. In an over-cooked one, there will be bubbles along the sides of the dish.

Fresh eggs, a day old, give the best results when cooking, and they usually have the best flavor.

Stir baking powder and baking soda in their containers so as to break up any lumps before measuring when you are baking.

Butterscotch Pudding Mix Makes Delicious Cookies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Probably there are not many cooks these days who take the time and trouble to make puddings such as chocolate, vanilla or butterscotch.

They buy the prepared mixes, add milk, cook the required length of time and serve. No fuss, only a little muss, and very little bother.

But prepared puddings are fairly new in the culinary world. I am unable to find any positive date of their first appearance. My guess is that they have been available about 25 years; but that is only a guess.

At any rate, that is long enough for many women to know no other means of making puddings. I don't know many cooks who make blanc mange or other cornstarch puddings.

When my sister and I were young, we used to beg mother to make what we had termed, "Our Dessert." To make it she added ½ cup brown sugar to butterscotch pudding mix, prepared it as directed, then folded a cup of whipped cream into the cooled pudding. Wonderfully rich and perfectly delicious.

Vanilla pudding may be used as the base of a cream pie filling. Fold any desired fruit—fresh or canned—into the cooled pudding mixture and pour into a baked pie shell.

Chocolate pudding makes a good cake filling; it can be prepared quickly and lends a different air to a cake. Fold quartered marshmallows into hot chocolate pudding, pour into tart shells, cover with a meringue and brown for a yummy chocolate tart.

A most unusual use of a prepared pudding mix is for cookies. This recipe comes from Mrs. Stanley Kipp who graciously gave it to me to use.

Butterscotch Pudding Cookies

¾ cup shortening
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 beaten egg
1 package butterscotch pudding
1 cup flour
1½ cups quick oats
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix in order given. This makes a very stiff dough. Shape into small balls, flatten with a fork. Bake 10-15 minutes in a 350 degree oven on a greased cookie sheet. You may add ½ cup of ground nuts if desired.

Salad Dressing Has Full-Bodied Flavor

Men usually go for this salad dressing because it's so full of flavor.

Savory Dressing

¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup evaporated milk
2 tablespoons cider or wine vinegar
½ teaspoon minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons blue cheese

Measure ingredients into screw-top jar. Cover tightly; shake vigorously for about 1 minute. Chill before using; shake well again before pouring over salad. Makes about 2-3 cup.

Tomato Soup Easy Way for Macaroni Recipe

You'll carry home the prize from the potluck supper if you take a casserole of macaroni and cheese—made with tomato soup. There are 2 easy steps. Make sauce by blending 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed tomato soup with ½ cup milk and 1½ cups shredded sharp cheese. Heat over low heat till cheese melts. Blend sauce with 4 cups cooked cooked macaroni.

Pour all into a buttered 2-quart casserole. Top with more grated cheese and buttered bread crumbs.

Bake a Casserole of Tuna, Cabbage

Here's a brand new way to use that old favorite, tuna, in a main dish.

Baked Tuna and Cabbage

1 medium-size head of cabbage
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1½ cups milk
1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna
½ cup grated cheddar cheese

Quarter cabbage; cut into 1-inch slices; add salt and cayenne pepper to small quantity of rapidly boiling water. Gradually add cabbage so that water continues to boil; boil 5 minutes. Remove from heat and drain well.

Melt butter in a heavy saucepan; blend in flour; add milk all at once and cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth.

Drain tuna and break into pieces with a fork; arrange alternate layers of cabbage and tuna in a greased 2-quart casserole. Pour white sauce over layers and sprinkle with cheese.

Bake in 350 oven 45 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Cream Panocha Is Satin Smooth

How do you use sour cream at your house? With vinegar, as a luscious dressing for sliced cucumbers? In beef stroganoff or veal paprika? As a thick tangy topping for anything from borscht to blintzes?

Sour cream is so good these days—smooth, thick, and always of the same flavor and acidity—you're probably using more and more of it. But here's a use you may not have tried—in candy-making.

To make the creamy white panocha below, baking soda is essential. Pure baking soda neutralizes the acid in the sour cream. The resulting candy is smooth as satin and "sweet, but not too sweet."

You'll like Sour Cream Panocha—just what that pesky sweet tooth has been asking for.

Sour Cream Panocha

1½ cups granulated sugar
1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon salt
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Combine sugars, baking soda, salt, sour cream and corn syrup in a heavy 3-quart saucepan. Stir over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Boil over moderate heat, stirring gently back and forth until candy thermometer registers 236 degrees (softball stage).

Remove from heat. Do not remove thermometer. Add butter or margarine and vanilla extract. Do not stir in. Cool, without stirring, until thermometer registers 110 degrees (lukewarm). Beat with a spoon until mixture loses its gloss and becomes creamy.

Quickly spread candy in an oiled 8x8x2-inch pan. Mark into squares. Store in a tightly covered tin. Makes 1½ pounds.

Tasty Cabbage

NEW YORK (UP)—Cabbage is an economical and plentiful ingredient for salads at this time of the year. Try combining finely shredded cabbage with chunks of red-skinned apples, seedless raisins and bits of roasted almonds. Toss with a thin mayonnaise dressing.

Mash a fully-ripe banana until smooth and beat with a cup of milk and a tablespoon of molasses. Serve at once.

Frozen Foods Reversing Nation's Cooking Habits

NEW YORK (UP) — Housewives all over the nation are thawing out dinner, instead of cooking it.

The consumption of frozen foods — even whole frozen dinners on disposal plates — is growing so rapidly that frosted fingers soon may replace burns as a kitchen hazard.

Last year for example, nearly 3,500,000,000 pounds of frozen food were processed. This included every-day dishes like mashed potatoes, peas and carrots, and hamburgers; but there also were pink lemonade, caviar hors d'oeuvres, french toast and soup — just like mother's.

Southerners now can buy frosted crookneck squash, collard, mustard and tyrnip greens and okra out of season.

Young housewives afraid to try their hands at fancy desserts can thaw out delicious eclairs and cheese or chocolate cake.

Or a homemaker can go global in her taste with German fish fillets, Danish trout, Pakistan turtle meat, Colombian and Peruvian shrimp, breaded fish sticks cooked in England, and smoked Scotch kipper.

With married women holding more than half the 19,000,000 jobs held by women, the Frozen Food Institute believes it has a gold mine in its quickly prepared dinners.

These include a turkey dinner for four, which can be thawed out and served in record time.

Chicken parts for frying or broiling has been on the market for a long time, but an institute spokesman pointed to something new: frozen chicken parts for soup — necks, wings, backs, gizzards and hearts.

Tuna fish pot pie is one of the latest frozen foods, and there also are wall-eyed pike, buttered beefsteak, pan-dressed catfish and frog legs, fresh from Japan.

Served with frozen eggplant parmigiana, any of these is enough for a meal, especially with thawed out uncooked frozen jam and nonfattening frozen whipped cream as a topping for the ice cream dessert.

New Touch: Glaze Ham With Fruit Marmalade

Here's a little different way to finish off that baked ham. Spread the ham with orange marmalade and put back into the oven to glaze. Serve thin slices of the ham with broiled orange slices with cherries or whole cloves.

Less Costly Butter Makes Good Cookies

The price of butter came tumbling down the beginning of April, and that's an invitation to use butter to bake cookies and cakes.

Jessie Cartwright, director of a home institute in Chicago, suggests this way of using the less expensive butter.

Dutch Sour-Cream Cookies

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ cup sour cream
½ teaspoon lemon extract
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
3 cups cake flour

Cream butter and sugar. Add eggs and beat thoroughly. Dissolve soda in cream and add to butter mixture. Stir in flavorings. Sift flour and add it.

The mixture should be a soft-dough consistency. When it's ready, shape it into a roll, wrap in waxed paper, and chill overnight. When firm, slice thin and bake in moderate oven 10 minutes. Yields 50 small cookies.

Molasses Cake Has Raisins, Too

Treat your family to this delicious spicy cake for dessert.

Raisin Molasses Cake

2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon cloves
1 cup seedless raisins
⅔ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup molasses
2 eggs (beaten)
⅔ cup boiling water

Sift together flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon and cloves. Rinse raisins in hot water; drain well and chop. Cream shortening, sugar and vanilla. Blend in molasses.

Add beaten eggs and beat well. Gradually blend in sifted dry ingredients, then raisins. Stir in boiling water, mixing thoroughly but quickly.

Turn into greased 9-inch square baking pan. Bake in 350 oven 45 to 55 minutes, or until tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cut into squares and serve warm.

When you are planning a company dinner, try to have one course or one dish a little out of the ordinary.

PINEAPPLE SUPREME — Shown putting the final touch of whole strawberries on Pineapple Supreme is Mrs. Janet Odell, Pontiac Press Food Editor. A mixture of cubed pineapple pieces, whole strawberries and cut oranges is piled back into the pineapple shell. It may be a salad or a dessert.

Here Are Etiquette Rules for Eating Italian Pizza Pie

The flash flood of popularity of the Italian style pizza pie which has swept the country in recent weeks has brought in its wake a wave of inquiries about the etiquette of eating the tasty discs.

In order to allay the fears of those gourmets who would eat pizzas in any of its hundreds of recipe variations, but who are also sticklers for "proper form," Food Specialties, Inc., of Plymouth, Mass., and San Jose, Calif., has conducted a series of surveys to determine:

1. What percentage of pizza eaters use forks.
2. What percentage of pizza eaters use their fingers.
3. How many "epicures des pizzas" hold with the quaint continental custom of "rolling" their pizzas.

The results of this impartial survey were amazingly revealing. They showed conclusively that the old saw, "Fingers came before forks," is a good rule of thumb to follow.

After an exhaustive study of survey answers, Mrs. Phyllis Taylor-Hanes, home economist for Food Specialties, issued the following rules as being correct form for all pizza eaters:

1. It is eminently proper to hold quarter-sections or segments of the pizza, regardless of its topping, in the fingers.

Procedure is to pick up a pie-shaped wedge of pizza at the arc edge, placing thumb and third finger under the edge, while the forefinger rests atop the flaky crust.

2. It is considered exotic, by experts, to "roll" pizzas into "little logs." However, for those interested in this "oriental style," it is accomplished by slicing the pizzas into two-inch strips which are then dexterously rolled up and impaled on two-tined forks.

3. Authorities have placed a stamp of approval on the use of ordinary dinner forks for the eating of pizza, whether or not they are topped with anchovies, mushrooms, chicken bits, cherrystone clams, diced sirloin of beef, gorgonzola cheese or lobster tail chunks.

The normal left-and-right hand fork switch is considered good style here.

Mrs. Taylor-Hanes, a nationally known food authority, was quick to point out that all of the above methods of eating pizza are "applicable for use when the pizza is served for a between meals snack, a TV collation, a full one-dish dinner or a midnight appetite-appeaser."

Lemon Gelatine Makes Quickie Pineapple Pie

Quickie pineapple pie filling: Fill a baked pie shell with drained pineapple chunks. Cover with partly congealed lemon-flavored gelatin. Use drained pineapple syrup as part of liquid for gelatin.

Chill thoroughly. Garnish with sweetened and flavored whipped cream.

Biscuit Diamonds Easy

Diamond-shaped biscuits are pretty and quicker to cut out than traditional round biscuits. Just square the edges of the biscuit dough when rolling out, then cut diagonally with a knife to make the "diamonds."

Interesting Food Develops Reputation as a Gourmet

Gourmet food need not be foreign, expensive, exotic, elaborate, or even herb-scented. It actually is just fine and interesting food served with careful attention to detail. Serving familiar food in a different way may make your reputation as a gourmet cook.

Take fresh pineapple for instance. This delicious tropical fruit needs little added to it before serving. But the way you serve it may be dramatic.

Wash and dry a good sized pineapple, one free from soft spots. If it is a really large one, cut it in half. If it is on the smallish size, slice off one side in a slice about an inch thick. Leave the top on for this method of serving.

Scoop out the pineapple pulp, leaving a shell to form a natural bowl. Dice the scooped-out pineapple, combine with a pint of fresh strawberries and a peeled orange cut into small pieces.

Sprinkle with powdered sugar, mix thoroughly and return to the pineapple shell or shells. Chill until serving time and use as a dessert.

If this is desired for a salad course, omit the sugar and mix fruit with French dressing or fruit salad dressing.

A heartier dessert version calls for filling the pineapple shells with ice cream, covering with diced pineapple and garnishing with cherries. Makes from 4-8 servings, depending upon the size of the pineapple.

Gobs of Cream Whip Top Apricot Dessert

This delicious and easy-to-prepare dessert is one you will want to make often.

Apricot Crisp

1 No. 2½ can (1 pound and 14 ounces) unpeeled apricot halves
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon salt

Drain apricots well; arrange in 9-inch pie pan. Work butter, sugar, flour and salt together with pastry blender or fingers until they form fine crumbs; sprinkle over apricots.

Bake in 350 oven 50 minutes. Serve warm with whipped unsweetened cream. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Place a piece of aluminum foil about 1 inch wider than pie pan under pan in oven in case dessert bubbles over.

Everyone Loves Bran Popovers

Popovers are an intriguing name for a most delicious hot bread. And, the way men's eyes, particularly, "pop" when they see them arrive at the table, steaming hot and fragrant, may be one reason they're so named.

These, today, are a good all-bran recipe with guaranteed sure-fire results.

The trick is to beat the cereal-flour mixture until free from lumps. Serve popovers hot from the oven for best results.

Bran Popovers

¾ cup ready-to-eat bran
1¼ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 eggs, well-beaten
1½ cups milk
1 tablespoon melted butter or margarine

Crush all-bran into fine crumbs and mix with flour and salt. Combine eggs, milk and melted butter; add to flour mixture. Beat with rotary beater until free from lumps.

Fill heated greased heavy iron muffin pans or ovenware custard cups two-thirds full and bake in preheated oven at 450 about 30 minutes; reduce heat to 350 and bake 15 minutes longer.

Cut slit in side of popover to allow steam to escape. Makes 8 popovers.

Chopped Sweet Pickles Fine in Turkey Casserole

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Pickles inspired Thomas Jefferson to write: "On a hot day in Virginia, I know of nothing more comforting than a fine spiced pickle, brought up trout-like from the sparkling depths of that aromatic jar below stairs in Aunt Sally's cellar."

This is National Pickle Week, as you may have discovered from billboard signs and other advertising. That's a good excuse to talk about pickles.

Pickles are an old, old food. Early American settlers, who by no means originated pickles, regarded them highly since they were the only juicy, green food available for many months of the year.

Pickles have become so important that several professors at Michigan State College devoted three years to studying the little green things.

They found that our fondness for pickles represents a natural craving of the human body for certain vital nutritive elements which pickles contain in generous amounts. High in vitamins A, B and C, pickles also contain valuable minerals.

Any food shopper is bound to be confused by the number of different style pickles on grocers' shelves. There are actually only four basic kinds: Dill pickles, sour pickles, sweet pickles and fresh packed pickles or quickles.

Dill pickles describe themselves. Chow Chow is a form of sour pickles.

Sweet pickles are sour pickles from which the vinegar has been drained before finishing in sweet, spicy liquors.

Quickles may be one of three kinds—"bread and butter" pickles, Polish style dills and vegetable relish.

One of the nice things about pickles is that they may be served as an accompaniment to other foods, as an important ingredient in prepared dishes or as a food standing by themselves.

Furthermore, they are convenient to use; you don't have to bake, broil, stew, or fry them to get them ready for use; you just eat 'em!

Try this recipe for a casserole dish that includes pickles among its ingredients. While it calls for turkey, there is no reason why you cannot substitute chicken with equally good results.

Southern Turkey Pickle Casserole

2 eggs
1 cup turkey or chicken broth
½ cup milk
1½ cups bread crumbs
1 tablespoon melted butter
3 cups chopped cooked turkey or chicken
¼ cup chopped pimientos
½ cup chopped sweet fresh cucumber pickles
1 teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper

In a bowl, beat eggs slightly. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour into 1-quart baking dish. Bake in 350 oven 45-50 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Ever serve orange or grapefruit sections with stewed raisins? This combination tastes good as a breakfast fruit or as dessert at lunch or dinner.

Cooked Rice Pudding

Rice pudding now comes in a can, without the need of cooking and fussing. The product is supposed to be the first successfully canned, condensed and ready-to serve rice pudding.

Water, milk or cream are added to taste, and rasins or custard may be added while the pudding is being mixed to smoothing.

Mold Garnished by Asparagus

Fresh as the first spring day, asparagus comes into its peak season April through June.

Its bright green stalks and tender tips are good sources of vitamins A and C and good low calorie food for spring diets.

Tomato Ring With Fresh Asparagus

4 cups tomato juice
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon minced onion
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
½ cup water
2 pounds fresh asparagus

Measure 4 cups tomato juice, add lemon juice, onion, salt and pepper. Soften gelatine in water in a custard cup. Place in hot water (not boiling) to dissolve and add to tomato juice. Rinse a 5-cup ring mold in cold water. Fill with tomato juice mixture. Chill until ready to serve.

Turn out on serving plate. Fill center with mayonnaise. Arrange cold, cooked fresh asparagus around the mold. Garnish with strips of pimiento. Yields 6 to 8 servings.

Makes Blue Ice Cream

A new blue-colored coconut sauce for use in ice cream making has been developed? For patriotic occasions, red cherry sauce and blue coconut sauce can be injected into vanilla ice cream simultaneously by separate pumps?

Attractive Coffee Dessert Full of Surprise Flavor

Just the dessert to surprise the girls and make them really rave about the wonderful, unusual thing you always serve!

This coffee dessert looks too pretty to eat, and makes a big impression when it is served because it is so good looking — as well as being full of surprise flavor. Not only your company but your family as well, will look forward to any meal which ends with "easy-to-fix" Coffee Bavarian.

Coffee Bavarian

¾ cup milk
2 cups cooked white rice
½ cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 tablespoons instant coffee
¾ cup beet or cane sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup whipping cream

Add the milk to the rice and cook over a low heat until milk is absorbed, about 8 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Pour the cold water into a saucepan and sprinkle the gelatin over the water. Allow to stand 5 minutes. Slowly add the coffee and stir until the coffee dissolves. Add the sugar and salt. Place the saucepan over a low heat and stir until the sugar dissolves. Add the rice and mix well. Cool.

When the mixture begins to thicken, whip the cream and then add the rice mixture to the whipped cream and gently mix. Turn into a greased mold or into greased individual molds, or into compotes. Chill until ready to serve. Serve within 24 hours.

If the dessert is molded, chill until firm. Then dip the mold into hot water. Remove and place a serving plate over the mold. Invert mold and plate together and lift mold from the plate.

Garnish with whipped cream or maraschino cherries or both. This recipe makes 6 servings.

New Way to Fix Tempting Pizza

For a treat at lunch or snack time, serve these easy-to-make Pizza Muffins. Bring them to the table piping hot from the oven, and watch the tantalizing aroma tempt appetites.

It's a new easy way to prepare that old favorite Pizza, taking only a matter of minutes. As insurance against the time when unexpected guests drop in, or when the family feels like an extra snack, you can keep the cheese spread in the refrigerator.

Pizza Muffins are versatile too. Cut each pizza into 6 wedges and serve piping hot as hors de oeuvres.

Pizza Muffins

4 English muffins
1 recipe sharp cheese spread
Tomato paste
Oregano

Split muffins in half and toast very lightly. Spread each muffin half generously with cheese spread, then sparingly with tomato paste — just enough to cover cheese spread. Sprinkle oregano liberally over tomato paste.

Top each muffin half with a generous dab of cheese spread. Place muffin halves on cookie sheet and broil until cheese bubbles (1 to 2 minutes). Makes 4 servings.

For hors d'oeuvres, cut each pizza into 6 small wedges and serve piping hot.

Sharp Cheese Spread

1 bar (1½ cups) margarine
1 8-ounce jar sharp cheese spread
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce

Cream margarine thoroughly with mixing spoon. Add cheese spread and Worcestershire sauce and cream until well blended. Yield: about 1 cup.

Shrimp Casserole New Way to Serve

Shrimp, in savory tomato sauce, make a piquant main dish.

Casserole Shrimp Curry

1 pound shrimp
2 tablespoons salad oil
½ cup finely diced onion
½ cup finely diced celery
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon curry powder
1 3-ounce can chopped broiled mushrooms
1 can condensed tomato soup
2 tablespoons piccalilli
1 cup frozen green peas

Cook shrimp; shell and devein. Arrange in buttered shallow baking dish (10 by 6 inches). Heat oil in saucepan; add onion and celery. Cook, stirring often, over moderate heat for 5 minutes. Stir in salt and curry powder. Add mushrooms, including liquid in can, and soup. Mix well. Add piccalilli and peas. Bring to boil and cook gently for 2 minutes; pour over shrimp. Place in 350 oven and bake until hot—about 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

TUNA PICNIC SANDWICHES — Every picnicker makes his own sandwiches and really enjoys them when they are a combination of tuna and chopped carrots, onion, parsley and horseradish (left), or tuna and chopped radishes and celery (right).

Picnic Not Worthy of Name Without Tuna Sandwiches

Going on a picnic? You'll find the fun will double if you let your picnickers create their own sandwich masterpieces at the picnic site.

Naturally the makings will include a couple of tuna fillings for what picnic is worthy of the name without tuna sandwiches? We're including two new recipes which we think are especially tasty.

Have the fixings all ready with a variety of accompaniments, such as avocado crescents, tomato and cucumber slices, hard-cooked egg slices, sweet pickle relish and assorted salad greens.

Bring along an assortment of bread and rolls, too, to lend further variety.

Tuna Radish Sandwich Filling

1 6½-ounce can chunk-style tuna, drained
¾ cup coarsely chopped radishes
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ teaspoon onion salt
Mayonnaise to moisten
Salt and pepper to taste
Buttered bread slices

Combine tuna, radishes, celery, onion salt and mayonnaise to moisten; mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Spread between buttered bread slices to serve. Makes 1½-2 cups filling.

Tuna Carrot Sandwich Filling

1 6½-ounce can chunk-style tuna, drained
¾ cup chopped raw carrots
2 tablespoons minced onion
¼ cup chopped parsley
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
Mayonnaise to moisten
Salt and pepper to taste
Buttered bread slices

Combine tuna, carrots, onion, parsley and horseradish; mix well. Add enough mayonnaise to moisten; mix well and season to taste with salt and pepper. Spread between buttered bread slices to serve. Makes 1½-2 cups filling.

Tomato Aspic Salad No Trick to Prepare

For molded tomato aspic salads, place the contents of a can of tomato aspic in a sauce pan over low heat. Stir occasionally until melted. It is then ready to pour into individual molds (which have been rinsed with cold water) to rejell, or combine with other ingredients and pour into molds.

Your own individual seasonings, such as lemon juice, horseradish, onion, chopped celery, pickles, or olives may be added to the melted aspic.

More substantial foods such as hard-cooked eggs, chicken, shrimp, lobster, or tuna may be added.

Vegetables either raw or cooked, combine well with tomato aspic.

Starter Cookie for Young Chef

The day your teenagers start to do their own cookie baking is a day for rejoicing. Why not inspire them with this recipe for quick, crunchy Scotch Shortbread? It's so easy, they'll be able to bake a batch for themselves and their friends whenever they wish. Perfect for their Girl Scout or 4-H feasts too.

Scotch Shortbread

1 cup soft butter or margarine
½ cup sugar
2½ cups sifted, enriched flour

Cream butter; add sugar gradually while creaming. Stir in flour. Mix thoroughly with hands. Chill ½ hour.

Roll out about ¼-inch thick. Cut with floured cooky cutter. Prick with tines of fork. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in slow oven at 300 degrees 20 to 25 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen cookies 2½ inches in diameter.

Sprinkle Curry on Fish

Curry powder is a combination of herbs and spices. Turmeric, coriander, cumin, ginger, garlic, chili and peppercorns usually go into it. It is delicious sprinkled over fish or chicken that is to be broiled.

When you are making a frozen dessert in your refrigerator, set your temperature control for fast freezing for best results.

After a gelatin salid is partially set, you'll need to allow about four more hours of chilling before it will be firm enough to unmold.

SPRING JAM SESSION—It's time to make jam out of the luscious spring fruits, strawberries, rhubarb and pineapples. There's nothing better for breakfast toast right now. And think how good it will taste next winter when warm days are but a memory.

Fresh Spring-Fruit Jams ...Good Breakfast Words

Hot buttered toast with fresh pineapple and strawberry jam — those are good breakfast words, aren't they? They have the feeling of spring. Make up a batch of one or both of these jams and watch the family "dig in."

Pineapple and Strawberry Jam

4 cups prepared fruit
7 cups sugar
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Pare 1 medium, fully ripe pineapple. Grind. Crush thoroughly about 1 quart fully ripe strawberries. Combine fruits. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan.

Then make the jam. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon.

Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

Rhubarb and Strawberry Jam

3½ cups prepared fruit
5 cups sugar
1 2¾-ounce box powdered fruit pectin

To prepare the fruit. Slice thin or chop (do not peel) about 1 pound rhubarb. Crush thoroughly about 1½ quarts fully ripe strawberries, one layer at a time, so that every berry is reduced to a pulp. Combine fruits and measure 3½ cups into a large saucepan.

To make the jam. Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit.

Leftover Coffee Makes Fine Pie

No one wants to waste coffee these days. Yet few of us like the idea of saving coffee from one meal to another and reheating. So, here's the perfect solution.

Use that left-over coffee as the flavoring agent in a sweet, gelatin pie filling. Spread the filling in a corn flake crumb crust for extra flavor.

The pie crust is so simply made, it need never see the inside of an oven. Just mix ingredients and press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of pie pan.

This makes an excellent dessert for family dinners or to serve to guests with tea. The entire recipe requires less than one half hour to prepare.

Coffee Chiffon Pie With Corn Flakes Crumb Crust

4 cups corn flakes
¼ cup sugar
½ cup melted butter or margarine
* * *
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup sugar
1½ cups cold coffee brew
¼ teaspoon vanilla
2 egg whites

Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; mix with sugar and melted butter. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of 9-inch pie pan. Chill.

Soften gelatin in ½ cup of cold coffee brew. Heat remaining coffee, add softened gelatin and ¾ cup of the sugar, stirring until dissolved. Stir in lemon juice and vanilla. Chill until mixture begins to set. Whip gelatin mixture until light and fluffy and double in volume.

Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beat remaining sugar gradually into egg whites; continue beating until mixture stands in stiff peaks. Fold into the gelatin mixture.

Spread in Corn Flakes Crumb Crust; chill until set. Serve with whipped cream, if desired.

Platter of Cold Meat Should Be Assorted

As the days grow longer and warmer, you'll undoubtedly be entertaining more frequently. A smart choice for guest suppers and late evening snacks is an attractive array of cold cuts. Serve the hearty meat assortment with a tasty salad and a choice of breads.

When purchasing cold cuts, choose meats which contrast in color (some light, some dark), flavor (some spicy, some mild) and shape (some round, others square or rectangular).

It's also a good idea to vary the cold cuts assortment with slices of cooked tongue, baked ham or roast beef. With beef in plentiful supply, a beef tongue is an economical choice. What's more, it's a cinch to prepare—just simmer with seasonings (peppercorns, whole cloves, sliced onion and bay leaf) in water to cover until tender. When cool, peel off skin and remove root ends. Chill and slice.

Knowledge of B Vitamins Paves Way to Good Health

Just as engineering progress has surfaced once muddy streets, knowledge of nutrition has paved the way to better living.

Spring arrives, as ever, with showers, flowers and a lift to our spirits. Spring showers, however, in grandmother's day signaled the season for muddy streets and muddied gowns.

And, even worse, to some, spring brought the dread disease — pellagra. Pellagra has become almost a thing of the past by the teaming up of the public health and enrichment programs. Enrichment of bread and flour is now done by the bakers and millers.

A noted scientist, Dr. Tom D. Spies, first revealed by studies of patients that pellagra was the direct result of a deficiency of niacin in the diet. He said in a report made this year, "It is difficult now to estimate the one-time ravages of pellagra, of scurvy . . . in our country. These diseases, which killed and crippled so many thousands, no longer occur in the southeastern part of the United States."

Dr. Spies, who has seen more cases of pellagra than any other scientist, said, "It is the application of the enrichment program and the improvement in the general dietary education of the people in our southeastern states that has eradicated pellagra and beri-beri and this has resulted in a stronger and healthier population."

Enrichment is not the addition of more calories but the addition of the B vitamins — niacin, riboflavin and thiamine and the mineral, iron. These are added in quantities approximating those found in whole wheat.

Six slices of bread eaten daily will supply one-third of the needed niacin. A government survey reports that approximately 60 per cent of the improvement in niacin in the diet between 1942 and 1948 is due to enrichment.

Cereal products are popular with people in all levels of income. Therefore, enrichment of these foods and their liberal use is an important contribution to the general health.

Pudding Variation

For a delicious quick dessert, add cooked rice and chopped pecans to a package of prepared butterscotch pudding.

An old-fashioned canvas bag and a mallet are still fine to use when you want to chop ice.

Just Brings Out Flavor

Monosodium glutamate (MSG) doesn't thicken foods nor add flavor. It is used in the preparation of soup, vegetables and meats to bring out or enhance the natural food flavors.

German Gravy Ladle Holds Back the Fat

A new housewares import from Europe is a ladle which separates gravy into fat and lean as it pours.

This $1 item from Western Germany has a compartmented spout; you let the gravy settle for a few seconds and then pour. The lean gravy comes out the spout, the fat stays behind. It's made of aluminum for easier cleaning.

Add a bit of rosemary to snap beans when you are cooking them for extra flavor.

Serve Steaming Hot Ham Bone Soup

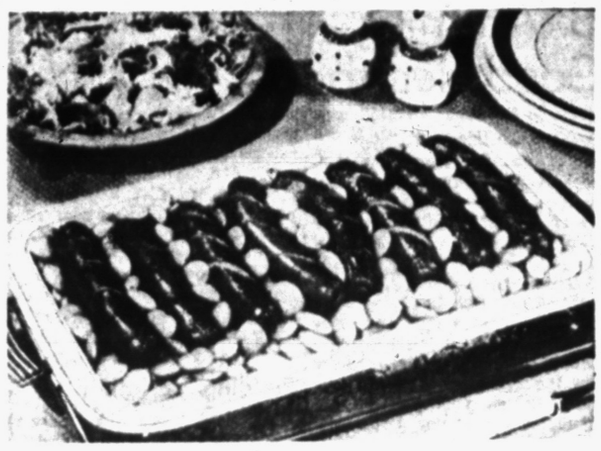

Serve steaming bowls of this ham bone soup and your family will give you the most praise you have ever had.

Watch their smiles broaden after each spoonful of this mouth watering soup of tender rice and green peas. Bubbling with peppy flavor, this is a soup which challenges all other soups for the title of "Family Favorite."

Split Pea Soup

1 pound (2¼ cups green split peas
1 cup chopped onion
10 cups water
1 ham bone
½ cup uncooked white rice
½ teaspoon thyme
1 tablespoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Simmer the peas, onion, water and ham bone in a covered soup kettle until the peas are tender. (About one hour). Add the rice, thyme, salt and pepper. Cover and simmer 20 minutes or until the rice is tender. Serve hot. This recipe makes about 12 cups of soup.

LIMA AND FRANK CASSEROLE—A simple, wholesome and delicious meal of lima beans and frankfurters fills this casserole. Each frankfurter is scored three or four times and brushed with kitchen bouquet. Fresh limas are called for, but frozen ones will do nicely.

Lima Bean Dish Hearty but Easy on the Budget

For a simple and inexpensive home dinner, you'll welcome this combination of lima beans and frankfurters. It's hearty eating but easy on the budget.

Serve it with baked potatoes, broiled tomato halves, crisp rolls, green salad and baked apples with cream for dessert.

Lima Bean and Frankfurter Casserole

2 pounds fresh lima beans
1 ½ cups water
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup finely minced onion
8 frankfurters, about 1 pound
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet

Shell, wash and drain beans. Place water and salt in saucepan and bring to boil. Add beans, cover, lower heat and cook until just tender when pierced with a fork, 10 to 15 minutes.

Meanwhile melt butter or margarine over low heat, add onion and saute for 1 minute.

When beans are done, stir in butter and onion. Pour into shallow baking dish, about 12x7 inches. Score each frankfurter three or four times and lightly brush with kitchen bouquet.

Arrange on top of beans. Bake in 400 oven until franks begin to puff, 20 to 30 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Homemade Wafers Fine With Coffee

Petit Cafe the French call it, literally "the small coffee." It's a wonderful way to fill in those awkward moments just before dinner is served, and especially welcome to those guests who don't take cocktails.

Cinnamon sticks and twists of lemon peel are its traditional accompaniment. Tiny, tasty Hot Cheese Wafers make perfect crispy partners for your Petit Cafe.

Hot Cheese Wafers

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1 3-oz. roll snappy cheese
½ cup sifted flour
Paprika

Cream butter; add Tabasco and cream well. Blend in cheese and flour and form into roll about 1 inch in diameter. Wrap in foil and chill several hours. Slice ⅛ inch thick. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in 350 oven, 12 to 15 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika. Serve hot. Makes 4 dozen wafers.

Only a Rumor

You may have heard there in very little, if any calcium in milk that is pasteurized. Heating milk in the pasteurization process does not destroy the body-building mineral, calcium. Pasteurization is the important and necessary step in making fresh, clean milk safe to drink.

Way to Warm Rice

A quick way to warm up left-over rice is to pour boiling water over it, cover, let stand several minutes and then drain. If you want the rice steaming hot, bring to a boil over high heat after it has stood in the hot water but do not let it cook.

Trick to Flatten Meat

If the veal you've bought isn't quite as thin as you would like it for that famous Italian dish — Veal Scaloppine — here's a chef's trick. Place the serving-size slices of veal between two sheets of waxed paper and hammer with the flat side of a heavy-blade knife.

Fine Idea to Fast-Freeze Skewered Steak Cubes

If you have a home freezer you might like to try this: alternate one-inch cubes of sirloin steak and sauted mushroom caps on skewers. Brush both steak cubes and mushrooms with melted butter before wrapping and freezing. Fine to have on hand for unexpected company.

At serving time all you have to do is to put the frozen steak and mushrooms about four inches from the source of broiling heat, and broil 11 minutes on one side, about 7 minutes on the other. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and bring forth!

CLOROX makes linens more than white
... it makes them sanitary, too!

There's more than ordinary whiteness in a wash that's Clorox-clean. Yes, dulling dinginess is gone, stains are removed, even scorch and mildew disappear. There's added health protection, too. For remember, no other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

But there are more than two good reasons for always using Clorox in laundering cottons and linens. Clorox deodorizes. It conserves linens, too, for it's extra gentle, free from caustic. In addition, Clorox, a liquid, contains no gritty particles to damage wash and washer.

Disinfect bathroom germ centers regularly with CLOROX!

That's really good advice. For in routine cleaning of wash basin, shower, tub and toilet bowl, Clorox not only removes stains and deodorizes, it also disinfects... provides a type of non-poisonous disinfection recommended by hundreds of public health departments. Declares New Pump to Be Put in Operation Soon

A new pump recently installed will be put into use this week, and the pumphouse will be roofed Monday, Slone said.

Discussion arose on the lack of iron taste in the water, and Slone said that pumping direct to the water mains has held some of the iron in suspension, but when all new equipment is installed, the water would have the normal iron content.

Latest Award From Judge Welcomed by Best Driver

ROCHESTER—Before a crowd of 300 interested residents, Charles Mitchell of 690 W. Tienken Rd. drove off with top honors in the first local teenage Road-E-O Saturday.

He bested the efforts of 20 other contestants in the written tests, and although he placed second in the driving events, his total point score won him the first place crown.

Chuck, a Rochester high School senior named to the University of Michigan dean's list for scholastic ability, received a much different "award" from Judge Luther Green approximately a year ago.

Judge Green, making the award for the Road-E-O recalled that he had given Chuck a $100 fine resulting from a reckless driving charge some 12 months ago.

At that time, Chuck thought a car chasing him carried a group of boys, when in reality it was a police car. The police car was smashed in the chase.

Next morning, he heard about the police car cracking up and decided he was the object of the chase and turned himself in to police.

Ed Grabman of 756 Ludlow St. and Gary Wilcox of 822 Second St. placed second and third behind Mitchell in the contest judged by Marvin Lickert, George Stringer, Alex Duffield, Judge Luther Green, and Rev. Edgar Lucas.

The event was sponsored by the Harrison PTA Father's Group and the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Winners claimed engraved trophies, and Mitchell earned a chance to compete in the Road-E-O state finals at Lansing in June.

In seventh place among the contestants was Joan Warner, high point winner of the five girls competing.

Growth Hits Farmington, Novi

(This is the 11th in a series of articles describing population and industrial growth of communities in Oakland and adjoining counties. The 12th article will also discuss Farmington and Novi townships.)

By HARRY J. REED

On the outskirts of the metropolitan Detroit area which is currently spilling industry and residences into Oakland County, Farmington and Novi townships are feeling a rising swell of population that is apt to last for several years.

The two townships and the city of Farmington are increasing in tempo with the surging development which is predicted to double Oakland County's population by 1970.

Having a hard time keeping track of the new subdivisions sprouting within his territorial limits is Farmington Township Supervisor Ernest V. Blanchard.

BLANCHARD

"We had 14 new subs last year, and already this year we have four more," Blanchard stated. "In the last four years our evaluation has risen from $2,055,395 to $13,895,830," he said.

Population-wise, he estimates the 1950 figure of 11,652 has risen to between 14,000 and 15,000 now.

Another indication of the influx is the jump in the number of buliding permits, from 394 in 1952 to 681 in 1953. Construction totaled $5,763,427 last year.

In a good position to check the growth is Farmington Postmaster Henry L. Trombley. He measures the increase in a $15,000 boost in postal receipts between 1950 and 1953. Receipts were more than $93,000 in 1953.

We'll have to get space outside the building this winter to handle the parcel post packages," he said, adding, "growing is nice to see, but it sure brings headaches."

Little of the Farmington expansion has been industrial so far, but companies are beginning to move to the less congested sites of the township.

The spaciously landscaped plant of the Star Cutter Co., is an example.

Employing 150 people in the manufacturing of metal cutting tools, the plant was moved out from Detroit three years ago, for expansion purposes. The present building is twice the size of the former structure in Detroit.

Another man in constant contact with the expanding countryside is Farmington City Manager James O. Tennant.

TENNANT

His 1.7 square mile political subdivision is perhaps the fastest growing section in Oakland County. Only 38 building permits were issued in 1952, but 106 were listed in 1953.

"There are 870 new homes planned for the city, which may double our 3,000 population in the next 15 months," he said.

"This construction will leave only 25 desirable acres for subdivisions within the city, or approximately another 125 homes," the manager continued.

The boom in home construction keeps Supt. of Schools O. E. Dunckel scrambling to keep his charges under a roof.

"We studied our growth trends from 1944 to 1953, and then predicted our future growth by the percentage of increase," Dunckel says, "but now we're increasing much faster than we did in the period of time studied."

He figures his present 3,100 pupil count will blossom to 6,885 by 1960, and warns that these are conservative estimates.

Beginning in September, approximately 800 first and second grade students will be on half-day sessions.

To remedy this, three new elementary schools totaling 42 classrooms and a senior high school are being readied for September, 1955. Voters approved a $1,500,000 bond issue for these improvements March 29.

National C. of C. Speaker Sees Taxes Staying High

The necessity to maintain a high rate of defense spending probably will prevent any extensive tax cuts this year or next, said Bernard Roach of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Waldron yesterday.

In a talk before a group of local businessmen, sponsored by the Pontiac C. of C., Roach explained that the threat of Red domination in Indochina and the recent Communist arms shipments to Guatemala should cause defense spending to remain high.

Other federal legislative problems considered important by C. of C. observers include the farm price support program, said Roach.

"Can we have farm security without a farm products surplus?" he asked. "It's costing the government $5,000,000 per day to store surpluses of wheat, butter and other products," he stated.

One present idea, he said, is to continue the "rigid price supports" for a year and then get a referendum vote by farmers to find out how they want the problem handled.

"Some 60 per cent of our highways are below tolerable conditions." Roach stated. "Roads weren't built during the war and costs have skyrocketed since.

However, the government recently provided $900,000,000 for federal highway construction and we should see the results of this in 1957-58."

Revenues from the postal service falls over $1,000,000 per day short of covering costs, the C. of C. expert said. The difference is made up from other government incomes.

The problem is whether to raise postal rates and make the system pay for itself or continue to subsidize it, Roach explained.

The Bricker amendment limiting the President's power to make agreements with other nations "is dead for this session," said Roach, but probably will come up again next year.

Roach said that the U. S. Chamber is a non-partisan organization with its board of directors split evenly among Democrats and Republicans. He stated that the national chamber has 32,000 local groups linked with it.

At present, Roach explained the chamber is working toward the following objectives in government:

1. A better tax system that will be free and equal and yet provide adequate revenue.

2. Government economy yielding a streamlined system without unnecessary spending.

3. Continued business expansion on a stable basis with sufficient markets and 600,000 new jobs each year to absorb the growing labor force.

4. An improved social security system with wider coverage and a sound financial basis.

5. Better labor relations through sound legislation and creating labor - management - government harmony.

6. Economic understanding to show why the American profit and loss system gives the people more than any other yet devised, and work to improve this system.

7. A foreign policy which increases world trade and promotes world peace.

Supervisors Ask TB San Report

Will Study Cooperation Between Medical and Business Offices

Cyril E. Miller, Avon supervisor, won Oakland County Board of Supervisors' backing Wednesday in calling for a report on the county tuberculosis sanatorium's management system.

Miller claimed "there are conditions there that certainly aren't good business procedure."

Miller asked the tuberculosis sanatorium committee to answer these questions at the next board meeting:

1. Has the organization of sanatorium management been changed since last fall?

2. Does the medical officer have any authority?

3. Has a doctor ever been a member of the sanatorium board of trustees?

4. Is the Board of Supervisors responsible for the medical director?

Willis M. Brewer, committee member, said he didn't know of any report hanging fire and asked if "anything new" had come up since Dr. George H. Phillips resigned last summer.

The committee, he said, had talked to Dr. Phillips and the three-man board of trustees then and had "found no reason to take any action."

Brewer then moved the report be made by his committee at the board's next meeting. The motion, supported by William A. Ewart of Pontiac, carried.

Dr. Phillips charged last summer that having authority split between a medical director and business manager caused conflicts that "made it difficult to do good medicine."

He also charged that trustees decided in favor of the business office every time a conflict arose between finances and patients' well-being.

Records show, however, that the Board of Supervisors and its tuberculosis sanatorium committee early last fall expressed complete confidence in the way the sanatorium was being run.

Tent Caterpillars Hit Southeastern Michigan Area

The heaviest infestation of tent caterpillars in Southeast Michigan in five years was reported today by naturalist Walter P. Nickell of the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

But unlike the gypsy moth peril near Lansing, losses from the web-spinning insects are expected to be confined to abandoned orchards and some heavily infested forest trees.

Nickell said a check of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, St. Clair and other southeastern counties showed tent caterpillars have multiplied greatly over last year, making "this about the heaviest infestation I've seen in five years."

He said he hasn't seen any of the tent-like webs on well-kept fruit trees, but has spotted scores of them in old, run-down orchards.

The caterpillars attack the foliage of fruit trees and some wild trees in the spring, sapping their vitality. They are dangerous only in the caterpillar stage.

Headlights Blind Driver; Hospital Treats Injuries

William Brooks Jr., 20, of 348 Branch St., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for injuries sustained when his car hit a parked car Wednesday night on Bagley street near Rapid street.

He told Pontiac Police he swerved to avoid an oncoming car. He said bright headlights on the oncoming car temporarily blinded him.

Trial Opens Today in Fatal Stabbing

Olivero Ortega, 16, went on trial in Circuit Court today on a charge of fatally stabbing Paul Vlez, 19, following a wedding reception last Jan. 10.

Ortega, of 381 Irwin St., is charged with manslaughter. A 12 member jury is hearing the case before Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Ortega's brother, Roberto, 21, is charged with felonious assault and George Theobald, 19, of 562 Arthur St. is also facing trial on manslaughter charges in the knifing. All three are in Oakland County Jail.

The younger Ortega told police he stabbed Velez in the left shoulder when his brother, Roberto, called for help. Roberto said a fight started between him and Felez at Nevada St. and Franklin Rd.

President Says Plan Would Brace Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says he plans to use as a guide a government report calling for fewer but stronger airlines and for a cutback in subsidies to domestic air carriers.

The report on American air policy by an interagency air coordinating committee was made public yesterday by the President, who declared the study "reflects this administration's central objective in this field—to strengthen American aviation."

Brighton Boy, 12, Injured When Car Goes Off Road

A 12-year-old Brighton boy is reported in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital with head cuts sustained Wednesday when the car in which he was riding ran off Pontiac Trail and struck a culvert abutment, ¼ mile west of Wixom.

The youth, Gordon Murray, was riding with his mother, Mrs. Grace Murray, 44, when she swerved to avoid an oncoming car, Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said. Mrs. Murray was treated at the hospital for face cuts.

Disease Decline Noted in County

Mumps, Chicken Pox Reported Slackened Off During Past Week

Oakland County's siege of mumps and chicken pox slacked off last week as fewer cases of almost all "catching" diseases were reported to the county health department.

The department's weekly report, released by Dr. John D. Monroe, director, said 27 people caught chicken pox, compared with 80 the week before. Mumps struck 83 people—about half the preceding week's 152 victims; and fewer cases of rubella (German measles), scarlet fever and whooping cough were found.

The department's report, covering the whole county except Pontiac, follows in full:

	Past Week	Week Ending May 15, '54	May 22, '53
Chicken pox	27	80	134
Measles	87	90	86

Pontiac City, too, had fewer new cases of chicken pox last week—but mumps was on the increase.

The city health department's report, also released by Dr. Monroe, showed six new cases of chicken pox last week, only one-third the preceding week's 18 cases. Mumps struck 21 city people—more than the 18 the week before; but only three cases of measles were found.

The city department's complete report reads as follows:

	Past Week	Week Ending May 15, '54	May 23, '53
Chicken pox	6	18	18

NEW YORK (AP) — Senorita Ana Beker, 36, is stopping here a few days before continuing her horseback ride from Buenos Aires to Ottawa, Canada. She arrived yesterday.

She left Argentina Oct. 1, 1950, and hopes to beat the distance record of an Argentine who rode a horse to New York several years ago.

Kind Postman Earns Widow's Gratitude

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Postman John McKalvey always had time to stop for a friendly chat with Mrs. Lydia Wood Baily, an 80-year-old widow whose mansion was located on his route.

His friendly smile meant a lot to the lonely old lady from the time he started delivering mail to the $175,000, 15-room home in suburban Wayne eight years ago.

McKalvey brought his wife to meet, sit and chat with and read to Mrs. Baily. In 1952, they moved in temporarily with her to care for her after she suffered a heart attack.

She died earlier this month. When her will was probated, it left the home to the McKalveys.

Nesting Mallard Halting New Home Construction

SEAFORD, N.Y. (AP)—A mallard duck is hatching a nest of seven eggs in this Long Island community at a cost of $300 a day.

Builder Louis Hirsch, who is putting up 96 new homes here, is losing some $300 a day because he ordered a bulldozer driver not to uproot the three where the nest is until the eggs are hatched.

It takes about 26 days for a mallard egg to hatch, but Hirsch thinks he saw a crack in one of the eggs and hopes the mother mallard is near the end of her sitting.

"I'm not sure," he said, "how long I can afford to wait for her to become a mother."

Dog Spends Entire Day Earning $20 for Master

MILAN, N. H. (AP) — When Pat Hickey returned from work his wife told him their mongrel dog Mike, had refused to budge from the woodshed all day.

Investigating, Hickey spotted a large bobcat behind a wood pile, held at bay by the dog.

A shotgun blast made Pat and Mike eligible for New Hampshire's $20 bobcat bounty.

Convicted on 4 Charges, Man Faces Death Penalty

BALTIMORE (AP) — William C. Thomas, 32, convicted of murder, rape, robbery and burglary, awaited sentence today on all four counts.

Thomas, an ex-convict, was convicted yesterday of the slaying of Miss Della Honeyman, 67, in her grocery Jan. 17. He faces a possible death penalty.

Thomas admitted killing Miss Honeyman after she surprised him while he was trying to burglarize her shop. He admitted robbing her of $4,700 but denied the rape charge. He pleaded innocent by reason of insanity.

Ticket Tickles Him

GLASTONBURY, Conn. — (UP) —J. William Purtil left his car on the street overnight when it broke down. Finding a ticket on it next day he said: "I'm happy to pay the ticket—it shows me the police are doing a fine job." Purtil is a charter member of the Board of Police Commissioners.

Circus Tent Blows Down; No Fatalities

STOCKTON, Kan. (AP) — Strong winds blew down a circus tent last night but approximately 1,500 spectators and the performers escaped serious injury.

Employes of the Al G. Kelly and Russell Brothers Circus and townspeople on the grounds outside the big tent helped free those trapped under the billowing canvas.

The most serious injury reported was a broken ankle although a number of persons received cuts and bruises.

* * *

Pershing Brady, editor of the Rooks County Record, who was attending the circus, said that six girl aerialists had gone up ropes to start their performance when the wind hit.

He said the big top began to sway and the girls screamed.

"They started lowering the girls down as soon as the wind started blowing so hard," he said. "They were on the ground just before the tent gave way.

"The tent blew right over our heads and down to the north. The bleachers we were sitting in stayed up but a lot of the other bleachers collapsed."

New Hampshire has had a state system of education ever since 1647 when a general court order required every community of 50 or more persons to maintain a school.

Kelly Elected; Merger Hinted

United Presbyterians Name Moderator Who Favors Union

AKRON, Ohio (UP) — Election of Dr. Albert E. Kelly of Pittsburgh as moderator of the United Presbyterian Church of North America makes it appear certain the group will vote for a merger with two other Presbyterian branches.

Dr. Kelly, general chairman of the church's Board of Administration for six years, has been a strong supporter of the proposal for unification. He was elected yesterday, and the vote on the merger comes Saturday.

* * *

The other two branches are the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, a Northern faction of about 2½ million members; and the Presbyterian Church in the United States, a Southern body of about 750,000 members.

The Northern group, meeting in Detroit last week, voted unanimously to unite with the other two factions. If the other two groups approve, three fourths of the presbyteries of all three groups must endorse the plan to make it a reality.

With 220,000 members, the group meeting here is fairly compatible with the two other groups. It broke away from the mother church in Scotland over the issue of separation of church and state.

Also elected by the 300 delegates yesterday were Dr. Vincent D. Beckett of Philadelphia, vice moderator; and Dr. Samuel Shane of Pittsburgh, principal clerk.

CHICAGO (UP) — Nancy Olson, 13, bedridden with rheumatic fever, will resume her seventh grade classes today by telephone.

The experimental program is being tried for the first time in the Chicago public schools. A similar instrument will be located in her classroom in the Ruggles school.

Nude Women Batter Attendance Officer

GRAND FORKS, B.C. (UP)—A school attendance officer reported that 20 nude Doukhobor women of the Sons of Freedom sect attacked him yesterday when he attempted to read a proclamation ordering them to send their children to school.

Ralph McIntosh said he was scratched and bruised and his clothing torn at nearby Gilpin.

Sons of Freedom members have refused to send their children to school on the ground Canadian institutions teach militarism. They frequently use nudism as a means of protest.

Throngs Arrive for Rites Canonizing Pope Pius X

By FRANK BRUTTO

VATICAN CITY (UP)—The vanguard of hundreds of thousands of Roman Catholic clergy and faithful poured into Rome today for ceremonies marking the canonization of Giuseppe Sarto, the humble man who became Pope Pius X.

The tremendous throng will jam St. Peter's big square Saturday afternoon where Pius, the 258th of the church's 251 pontiffs, is to be declared a saint. He will be the 78th Pope canonized.

Some 500 bishops and about 45 of the present 69 cardinals of the church are expected to attend. Among those already in Rome was Samuel Cardinal Stritch, archbishop of Chicago. Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, was in Venice, the patriarchial city of Giuseppe Sarto when he was a cardinal.

* * *

The canonization ceremony will marshal the historic pageantry of the church. After the service in St. Peter's Square, a golden carriage, drawn by six white horses, will carry the crystal and bronze urn containing the remains of the new saint to St. Mary Major basilica.

The urn will be placed in the central aisle of the church, where it will be the center of a three-day ceremony of thanksgiving. It will remain in the basilica for about a week before being returned to St. Peters.

* * *

Giuseppe Sarto, the son of a poor family in northern Italy, was known while he lived as "Papa Santo"—the Pope Saint. His life was marked by humility.

The man who wore cut-down and castaway clericals during his student days as a priest, became archpriest of Salzano, northern Italy, when he was only 32. He became bishop of Mantova in 1884 and was created a cardinal June 12, 1893.

He became pontiff on August 4, 1903, when, with bowed head, he accepted the burden he had tried to put off and had described as "too heavy."

* * *

He died a saddened man, heartbroken by the outbreak of World War I which he had sought to avert. His death came August 20, 1914, the day that German armies occupied Brussels.

Blind, Deaf Student Wins Highest Honors at College

ALLIANCE, Ohio (UP) — Richard Kinney, 31, a blind and deaf student being graduated summa cum laude from Mount Union College, delivered the valedictorian address yesterday.

He said: "Problems can be opportunities for the flexible man. Life even in the hydrogen age can be gracious for the truly educated man."

Only two other blind and deaf persons have ever completed college. They were Helen Keller and Robert Smithdas.

Drunk Gets Opportunity to Turn Over New Leaf

'Red' Guatemala's Trouble With Her Neighbors Erupting After 10 Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The hottest fued in Central America has been waged for nearly a decade between leftist Guatemala and rightist Nicaragua, the strongest ally of the United States in the Panama Canal sector.

The trouble can be traced to the fact that Guatemala's government is left wing, with Communists holding influential positions, while Nicaragua's is far to the right.

They have a mutual disrespect for each other.

The two countries, separated by Honduras, have been hurling charges and countercharges of plots by one to overthrow the other. Finally, Nicaragua last week broke off diplomatic relations with Guatemala.

* * *

Adding to the tension was the disclosure by the U.S. State Department that Guatemala had recived a shipment of arms from Communist Poland, and the prompt U. S. countermeasure in airlifting arms to Nicaragua and Honduras.

Guatemala repeatedly has charged the United States is behind plots by other Central American republics to overthrow her government.

The trouble started after the 1944 "October revolution" in Guatemala swept to power leftists—not necessarily Communists—who welcomed the backing of the Reds in promoting a new program of land reform, labor codes and social security. A strong man in that movement was Capt. Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, who since has become Guatemala's president.

The Guatemalan military junta kept Nicaragua on the "nonrecognition" list until 1951. During that time, the two nations had no diplomatic contact.

* * *

Arevalo, however, was promoting his own special scheme for a kind of United States of Central America over which he would be president and the presidents of the other republics would serve as delegates to the federal government. In an apparent move to get support all around, he renewed relations with the government of President Anastasio Somoza, Nicagarua's strongman president and biggest landowner.

But this didn't improve relations very much. Guatemala continually suspected all her neighbors of supporting opposition elements and harboring her political exiles until a possible coup could return them to power. Nicaragua suspected Guatemala of plotting to furnish a springboard for Communist domination of Central America.

Last January, the Arbenz government accused Somoza of leading a plot with the support of El Salvador, the Dominican Republic and Venezuela, to invade Guatemala and overthrow his regime—all this with the approval and backing of the United States.

These countries hotly denied the charge. Somoza's government abruptly ordered its entire embassy staff in Guatemala City to hasten home and told Guatemala's ambassador to leave Managua as soon as possible.

The Somoza government charged the Guatemalan embassy was being used as a distribution center for propaganda in Nicaragua. It also accused Guatemala of trying to aid Communist infiltration in other ways.

* * *

Although relations were broken off, Guatemala's foreign office ordered Ambassador Col. Gabino Santizo Roman to stay in Managua until Nicaragua guaranteed protection for four of its nationals who had been granted asylum in the Guatemalan embassy.

These four men—Francisco Ibarra Mayorga, Lt. Alfonso Duarte, Guillermo Suarez Rivas and Virgilio Vega Fornos—were accused of being revolutionaries seeking the overthrow of Somoza's 20-year-old rule. Somoza refused to grant the four safe passage out of the country.

The matter was solved when El Salvador agreed to handle Guatemala's diplomatic affairs in Managua, along with protection of the four refugees. Among Latin-American countries, the right of such asylum usually is considered sacred regardless of political affiliations.

Ambassador Santizo Roman returned to Guatemala last Tuesday.

Inland Port in Paraguay Open for Atlantic Shipping

WASHINGTON—In the heart of South America, an old river port a thousand miles from the ocean is taking on transatlantic business.

Asuncion, capital of landlocked Paraguay, recently turned out tc cheer the first freighter of a British merchant line. The service will operate monthly from Liverpoool without the usual transshipment at Argentina's Buenos Aires.

For Paraguayans this new overseas traffic is a break in the vast land barrier that has long made their country one of the world's most isolated regions. It is another example of the usefulness of their many rivers.

Asuncion is linked to the Atlantic by two of the country's three great rivers — the 2,000-mile Parana and the Paraguay which drains the heart of the nation. The capital stands at the confluence of the Paraguay and the Pilcomayo that starts in the Andes of southwest Bolivia.

More than four centuries ago the Parana was the highway of exploration into central South America that led to the founding of Asuncion. In 1527 Sebastian Cabot sailed up the river to its junction with the Paraguay and then on to the Pilcomayo.

A decade later, another Spanish party came that way, seeking the "northwest passage" to the continent's legendary wealth of gold and silver. Its leaders, including Domingo Martinez de Irala, governed the region for the next 20 years.

They built a "refuge and a shelter" on a fine bay of the Paraguay River. The crude settlement, originally considered only a base for treasure-hunting expeditions, became the permanent city of Asuncion and capital of the future Republic of Paraguay.

Asuncion's population is more than 200,000, one-seventh of the whole nation's. It is Paraguay's only big city. As a port, it handles 90 per cent of the imports (textiles, machinery, fuels) and the exports (cotton, timber, cattle products, tobacco, and yerba mate, or Paraguayan tea).

Modern growth of Asuncion has followed a tragic course.

Not only geography isolated Paraguay and its capital. Under the dictatorship of "El Supremo"—Rodriquez de Francia who came to power in 1814 after the overthrow of Spanish rule—all foreign trade and travel were halted. Even communication with the outside world was broken off.

El Supremo's successors put an end to the fanatic isolationism. But a series of events led in 1864 to a devastating struggle against the triple alliance of Paraguay's neighbors, Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. In five years of war, half of Paraguay's estimated half million people were wiped out.

With most of its young men lost, Asuncion and the rest of the country turned to the huge tasks of rebuilding the shattered towns and economy. Only recently has the normal balance between the sexes been reestablished.

First successful motorcycle was not built until 1900. The original two-wheeled cycle was invented in 1868 but it was propelled by a steam engine.

U.S. Army Licks Malaria

New Primaquin Pills Do Not Leave Toxic After Effects

CHICAGO (INS)—Malaria, once the scourge of armies fighting in tropical areas, is no longer a military problem.

The U. S. Army surgeon general, Maj. Gen. George E. Armstrong, said a new drug—primaquin — has practically eradicated the disease.

Gen. Armstrong reported that less than one percent of the soldiers in Korea exposed to malaria developed the disease if they adhered to the primaquin pill diet.

The surgeon general, who recently returned from his fifth trip to Korea, said the new drug not only can cure malaria, but does not incur the toxic after effects of its forerunners.

Atabrine, World War II's antimalria drug, and chloroquin, wheih was used early in the Korea fighting, were not permanent cures.

Infected men usually developed malaria drug, and chlorquin, which taking these drugs, and atabrine caused a yellowish appearance in the victim.

Gen. Armstrong said "a daily dose of primaquin, taken orally for 14 days, apparently permanently cures that individual infection.

The drug, now available commercially, was developed in tests on volunteers from inmates of the Illinois State Penitentiary at Joliet.

Some 8,000 organic chemical compounds were tested from 1951 until the summer of 1952, when success was achieved. The tests were conducted by Dr. Alf S. Alving of the University of Chicago.

Chile has practically all the coal deposits found in South America.

Author Sees Clubs Mixing Membership

NEW YORK (UP) — Men eventually will join women's clubs, and vice versa, say the authors of a new book for and about the nation's 10,000,000 clubwomen.

Helen M. Avery, a Glendale, O., clubwoman, and Frank W. Nye, a Manhattan advertising executive, say it is their "strong conviction that many of the present organizations for men only and for women only, if they survive, will remove the sex bars."

They indicate that the need for strong feminist movements no longer is necessary.

"As the world advances, as the notion of inferiority of the women is outgrown, as the rights of women approach par, there is less and less need for women to organize separately for their own protection," they say. "And the tendency grows for the still sharp sex line between organization to fade out."

Miss Avery and Nye have written "The Clubwoman's Book" (Henry Holt), an all-embracing guide for the women who join everything from the local poetry society to international organizations.

Soda Removes Grease

CHICAGO (UP) — Grease spots can be removed from rugs and upholstery by making a paste of baking soda and water; then rubbing liberal amounts into the spots. Let the paste dry. Then brush it away. Repeat the operation several times if the stain is stubborn.

Toast Is Burned

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — A two-alarm blaze broke out in an automobile agency, and during the scramble to drive the automobiles out of the building one of the employes was slightly toasted. His name, Charles Toast.

Laws of Lebanon Enforced Vigorously

BEIRUT (AP)—A new chief of police, Commandant Youssef Haraki, began his first week in office by arresting more than 20 policemen, who were inclined to look the other way when their friends violated traffic laws. Then he knocked off the top floor of a building one story higher than the law allowed; he threatened similar treatment to 1,300 other surplus stories on Beirut buildings.

He closed eight restaurants guilty of violating sanitation laws. And he is enforcing traffic regulations.

Commandant Haraki has been assaulted by an armed policeman, and several landlords have threatened to "shoot it out" with the police if they try to enforce the long-ignored building regulations on their property.

U.S. Opposes Indochina Split

Conferees in Geneva to Consider Areas for Regrouping Troops

GENEVA (AP)—The United States was reported determined today to stand firmly against any settlement of the Indochina problem which would partition territory of the Associated States.

This view was reported by authoritative quarters as the nine-party Indochina conference prepared to meet again in secret session to consider defining assembly areas into which the military forces of the two sides would be regrouped after a cease-fire.

Viet Nam sources said the proposals submitted Tueday by Communist-led Vietminh definitely would result in the partition of Viet Nam and would be strongly opposed by the Vietnamese.

Informed quarters said the United States had not yet taken a definite position on the Vietminh proposals, but that the first reaction of the U.S. delegation was that the proposals go a great deal farther than the United States is prepared to go.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has proposed that military representatives of the "two commands" meet in Geneva immediately to work out the lines of the proposed assembly areas.

An unidentified French general was reported rushing here from Indochina to represent French Union forces if such talks are authorized. He would sit down with an opposite number in the Communist-led Vietminh regime.

The urgency of the situation was stressed once more as French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault returned from Paris with orders to break off discussions if the Geneva conference fails to produce results soon.

Dock Vote Rests on Ballot Tests

Longshoremen's Older Union Holding Edge, Pending Challenge

NEW YORK (AP) — The old International Longshoremen's union has won an indecisive margin over its AFL rival in a National Labor Relations Board election and the final result hinges on challenged ballots.

The situation today is about the same as it was five months ago when the racket-tainted ILA had a vote edge over the newly formed AFL-ILA.

That NLRB election was scrapped because ILA adherents employed strong-arm tactics and intimidation at the polls, with brawls and bloodshed generating terror on the waterfront.

In yesterday's new election, almost everybody played the part of a perfect Gentleman. Heavy details of police — 2500 on special duty in New York City and about 500 others on the New Jersey side of the port — had little to do. NLRB Regional Director Charles T. Douds said the election was the "most orderly" he had ever seen.

There were 1,797 challenged ballots, and Douds said it may take from six weeks to two months to investigate and tally them and decide the winner.

Connolly demanded that the election results be certified without delay so the ILA could negotiate a contract with the employers. He hinted at a new strike if the NLRB engaged in a protracted hearing.

State Cancels Fire Permits

Lack of Rain Brings Increasing Danger to Forests in North

LANSING (UP) — The forest fire danger is mounting daily in the absence of general rains for most of May throughout the state, the Conservation Department said today.

Dry conditions, which have delayed the "greening up" of forests, are worst in the Upper Peninsula. Fire permits have been canceled in the eastern part of the peninsula and only a few are being issued under special conditions in the rest of the peninsula.

The fire index in the Upper Peninsula is between 44 and 51 out of a possible 100.

The southern Lower Peninsula has only a slightly lower fire index, running from 40 to 50. Fire permits are being issued at the discretion of local officers.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, the issuance of fire permits was stopped today and existing permits were canceled after Friday morning. The fire index in the region stands at 39.

Fire crews have been able to restrict most fires to small acreages. The worst so far reported occurred early this week when 50 acres of hardwood slash were destroyed before the fire was brought under control.

Kids Grumble About Holiday for Adults Only

LANSING, (UP) — Michigan legislators declared Monday a legal holiday, but it will be no treat to thousands of schoolchildren.

Teachers throughout the state have reported grumblings among children who must continue to tote books while their parents legally play hooky during the extended Memorial Day weekend.

And there's no last-minute stay of execution in sight.

"We can't do a thing about it," Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor said. "The law requires 180 days of school in order to meet state aid requirements."

"May 31 in not a legal school holiday. If students are excused, they must make the time up at a later date should they fall short of the 180 days.

"Many schools that have a longer school year will be closed, but those with nine months of school probably will remain open. It's up to the school district."

Kids will have a hard time pinning down who's responsible for the "injustice."

Teachers can turn to the local superintendent, who can turn to Taylor, who can turn to the attorney general, who can turn to the legislators, who will probably be out fishing.

The kids have one consolation.

Memorial Day, which is a school as well as a legal holiday in Michigan, will fall on a Monday in 1955.

Cornell Machine Speeds Up Reading

ITACA, N. Y. (UP) — Machines have replaced the old school primer for teaching reading speed to business executives who take special courses at Cornell University.

A "reading accelerator" is used to force speed, prevent the reader from going back over material and promote a reading rhythm. Techniques of skimming are taught which allow the executive quickly to get information from the mass of paper which comes to his desk daily.

Many of the student businessmen have increased their reading speed by 195 words a minute. One executive said his reading speed saved his company $30 a day by allowing him time for other work.

'Zinker Zuverink' Clips Orioles' Wings

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—"I'm an old man. I'm 27. I can't throw that ball like those youngsters. No strikeouts for me. I give them a little bit of this, and a little of that. Nothing overpowering."

Sandy-haired George Zuverink, a solid son of Holland, Mich., was hemmed against his locker by a knot of newspapermen. He was reviewing, with much elation, his 1st major league start—and his 1st major league victory.

The 6 foot 4 righthander of the Detroit Tigers beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-3 with a scrambling eight hitter yesterday. He was in "Dutch" in every inning and was touched for two home runs.

But the big show took place in front of Zuvvy's locker after the game.

"What kind of pitch did you throw to Vic Wertz on his home run?" one reporter asked.

"Well," said Zuverink, "they told me to pitch him upstairs—about here, across the shoulders. So he hit it upstairs. Boom! I was just hoping it wouldn't sail over the roof and bounce off somebody's head in the street. Then I'da been sued."

Another reporter pointed out that Baltimore put runners on base in every inning.

"Yeah, I know," Zuverink replied. "I was nervous. Couldn't sleep at all last night. I got tired after the 6th inning. Hutch kept asking me if I was okay and I kept saying 'sure, sure, Hutch, I'm okay, I'm okay'.

Despite his troubles, Zuvernik kept the Baltimore hitters off balance with a tricky sinker ball.

Fred Hutchinson, Tiger skipper, said Zuverink's work earned him another starting assignment. "I'll probably use him again this weekend. He pitched well."

The Tigers backed Zuvernik with a hefty 11-hit attack against loser Don Larsen. Harvey Keunn, in a desperate RBI slump, knocked in three runs with three singles.

Zuverink gave up home runs to Wertz and Sam Mele, the latter with a man on base. It was Wertz' 1st homer of the season.

Detroit clinched the win in the 5th with a pair of tallies by Bolling and Hatfield, on three hits. Tigers counted three in the 3rd and added another in the 8th. Orioles' scored a single in the 2nd and two in the 8th, on Mele's homer.

Giants, Braves Extend Streaks

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York Giants fans, still basking the fading glories of 1951, bragged today about a five-game winning streak, then cautiously crossed their fingers. Brooklyn's coming.

The Dodgers invade the Polo Grounds for a three-game series starting tomorrow night against a Giant club that has been showing more signs of life than most experts expected.

Leo Durocher's athletes have tended to streaks this spring and the last five days have been one of their good periods. By whipping Pittsburgh 2-1 yesterday they took over second place, a game and a half behind Milwaukee.

The Brooklyn series won't make or break the Giants. But if they happen to sweep three games, or even gain a 2-1 edge in decisive fashion, they'll find themselves in the midst of the hottest pennant talk since they knocked off Brooklyn three years ago.

New York got only four hits, a single and a home run by weak hitting Davey Williams and two doubles by Willie Mays. Williams' single figured in the first run, his homer provided the winning margin.

Mays' hitting has been one of the brightest features of the current streak. He's raised his average from .260 to .304 with 10 hits in his last 15 times at bat. Included were two homers, two triples and two doubles.

Brooklyn fell to third last night, half a game behind the Giants, by bowing to the Philadelphia Phillies 8-6. Milwaukee won its ninth straight, 7-6 over Cincinnati. Chicago crushed St. Louis 15-5.

In the American League the Chicago White Sox closed to within half a game of league-leading Cleveland by beating the Indians 5-4. Washington shaded New York 2-1. Detroit handed Baltimore its sixth loss in succession, 6-3 and Philadelphia shaded Boston 6-5 in 10 innings.

* * *

Chicago's second straight victory over Cleveland came in the last of the ninth when Cass Michaels slammed a Hal Newhouser pitch over Larry Doby's head in center field with the bases loaded. The Indians had tied the score in the top of the ninth on a pinch hit triple by Joe Ginsberg, his first hit of the season.

* * *

Art Houtteman opened the ninth as the Cleveland pitcher but was yanked in favor of Newhouser when he loaded the bases without getting anybody out. Newhouser retired one man on a force at the plate before Michaels unloaded.

Thoroughbred Racing Queen Shooting for Nation's Purse-Winning Crown

By H. GUY MOATS

Down at the Livonia oval where the Detroit Race Course spring meeting is now in full swing, there's an aura of high purpose about the stable where a handsome mare, Sickle's Image, is quartered.

Racing followers of this section are particularly interested in The Image. She is the pet, and the big competitor for high purses for the Clarence Hartwick family of Oxford. At the home stock farm, the flashy mare is a family institution. But at the track she is a great racer, shooting this year for the all-time money-winning title for her sex.

Named in 1953 by turf experts as "Mare of the Year in the United States," the Image has already turned in enough wins to put her just $68,000 behing Bewitch, Calumet Farms' top earning mare of racing history. Owner Hartwick thinks the mare will take down enough of the $192,500 stakes money at the Michigan Mile Track to pass the Calumet queen before the meeting closes July 24.

"The day she brings her total winnings to $465,000," says Hartwick, "will be the last time the old girl will go to the post."

After that time, the owner says, "when she reaches that record, which is beyond all mares in this country, she'll be sent to Lexington, Ky., to breed to the great sire Roman."

Family interests are credited with keeping The Image in the Hartwick stable. After she started winning, an offer of $100,000 came from Califoenia. It was rejected, because, Hartwick says, "I was afraid to go home if I sold her, because she served as a family pet in her spare time."

Hartwick is looking ahead to the June 19 feature, the Rose Leaves stake, with a purse of $15,000 added. This is the richest race for mares and fillies in the state.

The Image has been to the post 65 times and finished in the money 53 times in her four-year career. She won 9 times as a 3-year-old. The mare has raced from California to New York, over 11 tracks in 10 states and has been out of the money only seven times.

'Big Train' Conacher Dies on Playing Field

OTTAWA (AP) — Lionel Conacher, Canada's greatest athlete of the half-century, died last night in familiar surroundings—on a playing field. He was 52.

* * *

The "Big Train", member of the family that made athletic history in Canada, collapsed at third base after hitting a triple in the sixth inning of the annual softball game between members of Parliament and the parliamentary press gallery.

Conacher, liberal member of Parliament, was standing on third while the pitcher was winding up to throw to the next batter. Suddenly, he slumped to the grass. He was dead on arrival at a hospital 20 minutes later. The hospital said death apparently was caused by coronary thrombosis.

Lionel, member of Parliament since 1949, was rated one of the National Hockey League's greatest defensemen in the late '20s and early '30s when he played with the old New York Americans, Montreal Maroons and the Chicago Blackhawks.

But he was equally great on the football and lacross fields and the baseball diamond or in the boxing ring. He also was better than average as a sculler, swimmer and wrestler. As a boxer he won the Canadian light heavyweight title and in 1926 starred in baseball for the Toronto Maple Leafs as they won the Little World Series.

* * *

Two of his brothers, Charlie of the Maple Leafs, and Roy of the Boston Bruins, also starred in hockey and a cousin, Jim, is a member of the Blackhawks.

Beats Out Milford 9 in 10-Inning Battle; Stadium Trips Tools

CIO 594 and Milford Merchants hooked up in a 10-inning softball battle to feature City League play in Pontiac Tuesday night. Union nine pushed over 2 runs in the 10th to win the marathon, 7-5, at Beaudette Park.

Stadium Inn defeated Forster Tool, 6-4, in another well-played game, while Giles Realty won a Girls' league game from General Motors by forfeit.

A walk to Clyde Skinner, Proulx's 3rd hit, a single, and an error scored CIO's winning runs. Skinner also homered in the 7th inning.

Two runs in the 4th provided Stadium Inn with its victory margin. Two walks and a single with two out did the scoring.

Allen Park Crew in National Regatta

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The 20th annual national scholastic rowing regatta, with 40 shells representing 29 schools from Michigan to Virginia and into New England, begins a two-day session Friday on Lake Quinsigamond.

Allen Park High School of Allen Park, Mich., is the defending champion in the varsity eight-shells but is expected to meet strong competition from Washington and Lee of Alexandria, Va., George Washington of Arlington, Va., and host Shrewsbury High.

State May Buy 4 New Fishing Sites

LANSING (UP) — The State Conservation Commission will hold its monthly meeting June 3-4 at the Higgins Lake Training School near Roscommon.

* * *

The commission is expected to recommend purchase of four fishing sites and 786 acres of forest and hunting lands.

Commissioners also will discuss a proposed dam near the outlet of Foch Lakes, Montmorency County, an addition to Allegan State Forest and several land exchanges.

* * *

Approval of the commission will be sought on stream improvement programs on the Huron River in Washtenaw County and the Otter River in Houghton County.

Don Kellett, general manager of the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League, played nine games as an infielder with the 1934 Boston Red Sox.

No Money, No Athletes

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)— Lack of funds may prevent many of Australia's top athletes from competing in the Empire Games at Vancouver in July and August. Endorsed for the games were 26 athletes. But there may be money for eight only.

Sure participants are Ken Doubleday, Hector Hogan, Marjorie Jackson, John Landy, David Lean, Brian Oliver, John Vernon and Gwen Wallace.

Second Section of Schoolboy Meet Under Way

Four events were on this afternoon's program at Eastern Junior High athletic field as the 1954 Pontiac Junior Olympics began the second section of the big event.

Pole vault, high and broad jumps and the shotput were the events in which all three Junior High groups, Classes A-B-C will be engaged.

The meet's windup, on June 2, at Wisner Field, will provide the first showing of the runners, hurdlers and relay teams.

First section of the Olympics was held Monday, for grade school field events.

Boosts RBI Mark

CLEVELAND (AP)—There's just no stopping Al Rosen these days. The husky Cleveland slugger continued his lusty slugging with another home run yesterday against the White Sox. The homer was the ninth in his last 11 games and gave him 12 for the season, tops in the American League. Rosen also batted in two more runs to increase his league-leading total in that department to 46.

Schmeling Returning to Germany After Very Cool Reception in United States

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Following one of the coolest receptions in history from this country's boxing fraternity, Max Schmeling, the former world's heavyweight champion, is on his way back to Germany. The man who held the big title for almost exactly two years, from June 12 in 1930 to June 21 in 1932, may never be seen on these shores again.

* * *

The Black Uhlan's return to the scene of his fistic triumphs must have been a disheartening experience, even for a man who never was noted for his delicate sensibilities. Before he left he fully realized the trip had been a mistake, that he could not roll back the years.

Schmeling refereed a fight in Milwaukee, and it drew next to nothing. He was to have stayed on and refereed a series of wrestling shows, but the promoters counted the Milwaukee house and thought better of it. Finally, as a sort of crowning rejection, the athlete who flourished in Hitler's day was firmly advised not to try to visit the training camps of Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles in the Catskills.

* * *

Though he protested to the last that he never had been a member of the Nazi party, he took the hint and said goodby.

If, as is rumored, the ballplayers are planning to insist through their attorney, J. Norman Lewis, that the club owners cease employing private detectives to check upon their after hours activities, you may look for them to get turned down hard.

The owners feel that theirs is a very special relationship with their young employes, and that for the kind of salaries they pay they have every right to protect their investments by any means possible.

Haney Sees Ray of Hope for Down-Trodden Pirates

NEW YORK (AP)—Pittsburgh Manager Fred Haney peeked out of the National League cellar today and saw what many observers didn't think existed for the Pirates—a ray of sunshine.

"I know we haven't looked like much so far," he observed, "but some of our kids have come along even better than I expected.

"Take Bob Skinner. He's sure to be one of the best hitters in the game in a year or two. He takes a beautiful cut and doesn't get fooled by the same pitch twice. Bob's only had a year of pro experience and that was in Class D.

"Then there's our new second baseman, Curt Roberts, one of the best fielders around and a good leadoff man. (Catchers) Jack Shepard and Jim Mangan also look impressive and (shortstop) Gair Allie is doing all right too."

Haney is highly pleased with the pitching of his veteran right-hander Max Surkont, who has won four of the Bucs' 12 games.

"Max is really going good. He's dropped a lot of weight and has made a good showing almost every time out. They say he doesn't go so well once the hot weather sets in, but I don't think that's a good reason he won't continue to win for us."

Fordham Half-Miler to Try for World Record; Did 1:48.2 on Coast

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Newest glamor boy of American track and field is Tom Courtney, a 20-year-old junior at Fordham University.

Tom is anchor man on Fordham's two-mile relay team which recently set a new world record for the distance at 7:27.3 in Los Angeles, and in which he was clocked in 1:48.2 for his half mile. This was ONLY four-tenths of a second BETTER than Mal Whitfield's world record for the distance.

Come Saturday Tom will try to set an official new world mark for the half mile when he races in the annual IC4A championships. If conditions are right he may break the world record. Regardless of conditions he probably will smash the IC4A record of 1:51.2, established by John Woodruff of Pitt 15 years ago.

Tom's dad, Jim, is a lawyer in New Jersey, who once was a left-handed pitcher for the Newark Bears then in the International League.

Big NCAA Meet Called Preview of '56 Olympics

Bulk of Squad in June 11-12 Event Will Go On to World Test

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The next Olympic games, scheduled for Australia, won't be held until 1956, but the bulk of the track squad which will carry the colors of the USA will be on review in the annual NCAA championships at Ferry Field June 11-12.

* * *

With Russia hinting strongly that it will field a powerful team for the '56 games, the results of the NCAA meet will be closely watched, even though the games are two years off.

Don Canham, Michigan's veteran track coach and manager of the attractive meet, looks for the closest competition in many a year, especially in the high jump, where the boys are going for the seven-foot leap to stack up against the established four-minute mile and 60-foot shot put.

The co-champions in the high jump—Michigan's Milt Meade and Mark Smith of Wayne—will be on hand to attempt to win the title outright. Their chief competition is expected to come from J. Lewis Hall of Florida.

* * *

The 100-yard dash should be a feature of the two-day meet. Sprint king Willie Williams of Illinois will face his greatest challenge from Mercurial Dean Smith of Texas, who has blazed a 9.3 100 this year.

* * *

The first day of the meet, Friday, will be devoted to preliminaries, starting at 5 p.m. Saturday's finals, with 14 events on tap, begin at 1:30 p.m.

Five Records Are Periled in Big Ten Track Meet

By JERRY LISKA

LA FAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—At least five records will be menaced as returning champions defend in nine of the 13 individual events in the 54th Big Ten outdoor track and field meet tomorrow and Saturday.

* * *

Defending champion Illinois, seeking a record fourth straight team crown, and Michigan figure to battle it out for top laurels with Indiana rated a chance to break up the two-team scrap.

New marks are likely in the one and two mile runs and closing one mile relay, while the high hurdles and 100-yard dash records also will be under fire.

Returning champions include two 1953 double winners, Willie Williams of Illinois in the 100 and 220 dashes, and Roland Nilsson, Michigan's exchange student from Sweden, in the shot put and discus.

One of the meet's oldest records, the two-mile clocking of 9:10.4 set by Wisconsin's Walt Mehl in 1938, is expected to succumb to Gene Matthews of Purdue.

* * *

Matthews last Saturday reeled off a 9:05.3 in the Indiana State meet and is expected to have a hot duel with defending champion Rich Ferguson of Iowa in the conference showdown.

Ontario Lake Called 'Brookie' Paradise

A Pontiac couple who spent some glorious days in the Ontario northlands, have returned with a very happy experience, fishing for trout. Mr. and Mrs. Loren Papenguth went to Ranger Lake Ont. and then to Cherry Lake, a portage into a lake where they were the first outsiders of the year. The area is 64 miles north of the Soo.

"We got out limit every day we were there," Loren reports. "Those brookies ran between 15 and 20 inches, the biggest probably was 3½ pounds in weight."

Fishing was from a canoe. Weather was fine says Loren, but it was very cold in the early morning hours.

Had Kick Coming

CHAMPAIGN-URBANA, Ill. (AP) —J. C. Caroline, Illinois' All-American halfback, has been hitting the books rather than the line since last fall.

He was out for a minor scrimmage, however and did some place kicking practice. The first one to leave his toe went between the goal posts for an extra point.

Writer Figures Ben Hogan's Round at Baltusrol on 'Beat the Champ' Day Will Be in Vicinity of 70

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — Next week brings back "Beat Hogan" day at Baltusrol. It is a curtain raiser for the U. S. Open, already facing a new record. Started by Life slightly over two years ago, "Beat The Champion" has now grown into a national charity that will pass $300,000 for the three-year total. Returns for 1952 and 1953 netted about $190,000.

* * *

For this new season, dubs, duffers and stars, taking aim at Hogan with their handicaps, have not only covered this country. They have spread to East Africa, Saudi Arabia, Great Britain, France, Canada and Mexico. It is now known as the average man's Golf Olympic.

* * *

Ben Hogan will be the pacesetter at Baltusrol, giving you some idea of the scoring needed to win. This will make the 2nd time he has faced this test against so many thousands of competitors.

* * *

From Ben Hogan's challenge round on through the following championship you can get a clear picture on what is happening in the field of sports, such as Bannister's great mile, the new shot-put mark and various other records that have been lowered, which can be measured or timed.

Back in 1903, just 51 years ago, Baltusrol held its initial Open Tournament. Willie Anderson won the title with 307. That mark has dropped to Hogan's 276 at Riviera, made in 1948, a difference of 31 strokes.

This old mark slipped to 297 at Baltusrol when Jerry Travers won in 1915. The last time the championship was held at Baltusrol was in 1936 when Tony Manero galloped in with 282.

* * *

Hogan in his test next week will shoot in the immediate vicinity of 70 for his round. Baltusrol is no par-breaking paradise for anyone. I doubt that 280 will be broken in June.

* * *

In many ways this next Open will be the all-time top. Above all it will have Hogan and Sam Snead possibly for the last time at the head of the parade. It is just as if we had Bobby Jones, Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen back at their peaks. This should be one of golf's greatest years.

Spartans Ready for NCAA Trial

Trip Irish 6-4, Face Ohio Nine Next Week in District Series

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's baseball team returned today from a triumphant visit to South Bend and began preparations for its NCAA playoff against Ohio University.

Spartans will host Ohio Monday in the 1st game of a best-of-three series to determine the District Four representative for the NCAA world series at Omaha, Neb., next month.

Ohio University won the 1st round of the District Four playoffs by defeating Ashland (Ohio) College, 10-6, yesterday.

Meanwhile, Michigan State — which won its first Big Ten title — journeyed to South Bend yesterday and took a 6-4 decision from Notre Dame.

Irish were hospitable hosts, committing five errors. The Spartans scored three times in the 2nd and three times in the 5th, to take a 6-0 lead.

DIVING FOR IT — Umpire, catcher and runner seem to be diving into the dust to find home plate in this 8th inning try by Tigers shortstop Harvey Kuenn to get home on a double hit by Tigers outfielder Don Lund. Kuenn was out, however. Orioles catcher is Lester Moss. Umpire, Bill McGowan. Detroit won 6-3 Wednesday.

Gain 6th Round of British Test; Carr Also Wins

Toledo Strong Boy Is Victor Wednesday Over English Champ

By TOM OCHILTREE

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—The three co-favorites — America's Frank Stranahan and Bill Campbell and defending champion Joe Carr of Ireland—won their way to the 6th round of the British Amateur golf tournament today.

Stranahan, victor in 1948 and 1950, turned back Alan Thirwell, the English champion, 3 and 2, in the feature match of the morning round. Campbell, Walker Cup ace from Huntington, W. Va., finished brilliantly to oust R. F. Stevens of Australia, 2 and 1.

Carr, a Dublin clothing man, won over Harold Ridgley, 40-year-old master sergeant from Havertown, Pa., 2 up. Ridgley gave the champion a good battle. Carr's medal round of 69 was the best of the tournament so far.

* * *

The field now is reduced to 16. This afternoon's round will put the meet in the quarter-finals.

Stranahan turned nine holes all square with his English foe although Thirwell shot the front-side in even par 36 to Stranahan's 37. Thirwell's game collapsed on the backside, however, where he took consecutive bogeys on the 13th, 14th and 15th holes.

* * *

Campbell turned one-up on Stevens, whose play has been one of the sensations of the tournament.

This match was extremely slow and officials had to ask them to speed up at the 8th hole.

* * *

Biggest upset yesterday was Frank Strafaci's loss to Australia's steady Peter Toogood 1-up on the 25th green in 4th round play. Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y., missed an easy three-foot putt to lose a heart-breaking overtime match which lasted seven extra holes and almost two hours behind schedule.

Giardello and Bassett Lose Top Challenger's Position

NEW YORK (AP)—As a result of their recent setbacks in the ring and on the television screens, middleweight Joey Giardello and featherweight Percy Basset, both of Philadelphia, today were dropped from the positions as No. 1 challengers in the monthly Ring Magazine ratings of boxers.

Giardello, beaten by France's Pierre Langlois, was dropped to third place among the challengers in the middleweight division, where the ratings were completely reshuffled.

Rocky Castellani of Cleveland, who will meet champion Bobo Olson in a title bout at San Francisco in August, became the No. 1 man and busy Holly Mims of Washington advanced to No. 2 from the sixth spot.

Bassett's defeat by lightweight Orlando Zulueta cost him the No. 1 spot in the featherweight division. He now is rated second behind Baby Ortiz of Mexico.

Some of the other significant changes in the ratings were:

Billy Graham was dropped from third to sixth among the welterweights because of continued inactivity.

Former featherweight champion Willie Pep was dropped from the ratings in that division.

Johnson Will Keep Up Fight

Plans to Push Battle Against Beer Firms in Major League Ball

By JERRY T. BAULCH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even if Congress won't go along with him in his battle to get big beer firms out of major league baseball, Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) said last night, "I'm going to go right on fighting."

* * *

"I'm not stopping until every baseball club in the country knows about the perilous legal situation facing baseball," Johnson told a reporter.

* * *

The Senator said he planned to write a letter giving his views to "every major and minor league club owner."

That, he said, would leave it up to the club owner to do something about it too.

Johnson, president of the Class A Western League, battled bitterly before a Senate judiciary subcommittee yesterday for his resolution aimed squarely at the beer-making Busch family at St. Louis.

Sharp Hurling, Hitting Brought Spartans Title

CHICAGO (AP) — Fine pitching and hitting was the perfect combination that brought Michigan State its 1st Big Ten baseball pennant, conference statistics showed today.

The Spartans, who won 11 games, lost two and tied one, had the league's leading hurler in Bud Erickson and was tops in team batting with a remarkable .317 pace.

Erickson went four complete games, won five and lost none, and posted an earned run average of 2.48. Ed Hobaugh, 4-0, and Bill Mansfield, 1-0, also were unbeaten Spartan hurlers.

Bob Robertson, Indiana outfielder, won the batting title with .438 and topped the league in hits with 21.

Michigan State's only representative in the top 10 hitters was outfielder Jack Risch, who shared 2nd with Ohio State's Don Kelley, each with .433.

Ancient Crank Telephone Is Utilized to Lure Catfish

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK (INS) — Only the fact that, through the courtesy of my friend "Country" Norman of Corn Mill Creek, Ga., I'm bringing an entirely new technique to the science of fishing emboldens me to branch out into the league of the devotees of Izaak Walton.

When you go fishing, you have to cast around from pool to pool, or even lake to lake, to find out if the fish are there. Or, if they are, whether they are in a receptive mood.

The Norman-Corum school of angling does away with such haphazard methods at the outset. We phone the fish to find out where they are and how they're feeling.

According to my guide, Country, all we need is one of those old-fashioned telephones on which the receiver hangs alongside the box, with the crank for ringing on the other side.

You take the phone out into the boat, find a quiet place in the stream, throw the wires from the phone-box over the side, and ring for the fish.

In no time at all, according to Country, you have catfish swimming around the boat, their little catfish-eyes beaming and their whiskers wriggling with delight. After which, it's just a matter of reaching out and picking up the plumpest ones until you figure you have the desired number of skillets-full.

Oaks' Lineup Lists Ex-Major Leaguers

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The starting lineup of the Oakland Oaks in the Pacific Coast League includes many ex-major league performers. Third baseman Johnny Jorgensen was with the Dodgers and Giants. First baseman Sam Chapman is a former star for the Athletics. Outfielder Bill Howerton once played for the Cardinals. Pitcher Al Gettel hurled for the Yankees.

The manager? He's Charlie Dressen who last season piloted the Dodgers to the National League flag.

Footballing for Fish

STONINGTON, Conn. (AP) — Sam Erskine spotted a fish in shallow water. He waded out and unsuccessfully tried to catch it with his hands. Disgusted, he aimed a vigorous kick in the fish's direction. A 15-pound codfish sailed through the air and onto the shore.

Davey's Crushing Defeat May End Ring Career

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — To all intents and purposes, Chuck Davey appears through as a professional boxer, ending one of television's first births of a national sports hero.

Davey was more than self-made; he was television made.

* * *

He advanced undefeated through a series of warmups, backed by the International Boxing Club, until he reached the top—a title fight with welterweight champion Kid Gavilan 15 months ago.

His bubble, incubated with painstaking care with an eye on a national following born from television, was then burst by Gavilan, who stopped him in the 10th.

Vince Martinez last night in the same Chicago Stadium ring showed less mercy than Gavilan. He kept Davey, the ex-Michigan State collegiate champion, off balance with strong left jabs—something unheard of by a right-hander against a southpaw like Chuck.

And when he threw his rights, the balding Davey was shaken down to his dancing feet. Davey went down four times—in the first round from a steaming right to the jaw; twice in the third from stiff left hooks, although Referee Frank Sikora ruled a slip on one of them; and again for an eight count in the sixth from a series of rights.

* * *

The nationally televised bout drew a ringside crowd of 3,585, who contributed to a gross gate of $10,667. Davey weighed 149 and Martinez 148½.

* * *

"It's a rough statement to make that Davey is through," said his manager, Hec Knowles, after the heartbroken boxer with a masters degree in education had been led to his dressing room.

"But I will recommend that he quit the ring now. He was 100 per cent in condition coming into this bout. What happened? I don't know. His legs, he didn't have it there. I asked that the bout be stopped after the doctor looked at Davey.

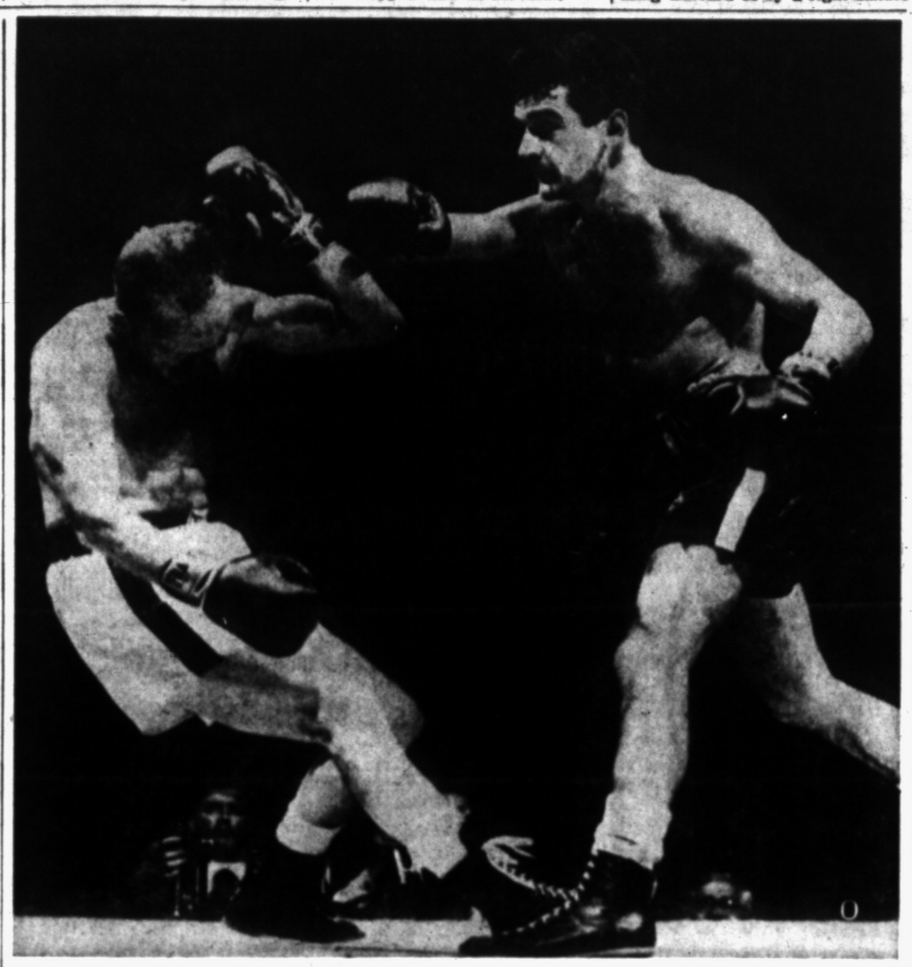

"Our projected fight with Art Aragon (signed for June 25 in Los Angeles) is now out the window."

* * *

The defeat by 25-year-old Martinez, the 8-5 favorite from Paterson, N.J., and boxing's Rookie of the Year in 1952, left Davey making the first plea to the press in his career.

* * *

"Listen, fellows, give me a break," he said in his dressing room. "Don't ask me if I'm going to quit. Let me sleep on it a couple of days."

ON THE WAY DOWN — Vince Martinez (right) of Paterson, N. J., sends Chuck Davey to the canvas with a solid right in sixth round of their scheduled 10-round Welterweight battle at Chicago Stadium Wednesday night. Davey, of Lansing, Mich., was floored four times and Martinez won by a technical knockout in the seventh round.

Hogan Favorite for Fort Worth Colonial Title

Middlecoff and Toski Also Loom as Threats in $25,000 Test

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) Ben Hogan, Bob Toski, Cary Middlecoff and a terrific amateur, Ernie Vossler, were given the longest look today as the eighth $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament rolled into its first round.

* * *

Most eyes were on Hogan, the little Texan who has won about everything golf has to offer and wants to make it five Colonial titles. The once-tight par 70 of Colonial Country Club's 7,035 yards has proved of little concern to the mighty bantam, who has shot two 68's and a 69 in tuneup rounds.

* * *

The hottest of the "shadow boxers," however, has been Vossler, the Fort Worth amateur who's known mostly in Texas. Ernie did a 65 to tie Hogan's competitive course record and then turned in a 66, although missing two birdie putts, in his final practice swing yesterday.

Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, who won the Colonial title in 1951, breezed through a 68 in his only tuneup. Toski, the little man from Livingston, N.J., who is the year's money winner with $10ealding leading money winner with $10,988.74, didn't arrive in time for more than one practice round. He did an easy 71.

* * *

The field numbers 42 professionals and five amateurs with Hogan and Middlecoff being the only former champions. Ed (Porky) Oliver of Lemont, Ill., withdrew yesterday because of a kidney ailment to trime the field to 47—one below what had been anticipated.

* * *

Twenty-one of the top 25 money-winners of the year are in the field and there are four former National Open champions—Hogan, Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., and Middlecoff. And Hogan, Nelson, Chandler Harper of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., are former national PGA titlists.

Long Argentine Netter Is Surprise of Paris Tourney

PARIS, (AP)—The big surprise of the French International Tennis Championships is the tall, gangling Argentine Enrique Morea, who has been quietly defeating the big names of the sport for the last year.

Win or lose, the 30-year-old Morea's entrance into the semi-finals has served notice he is now, after years of indifferent European play, ready for center-court treatment.

To get to the round of four he knocked over Belgium's highly regarded Philippe Washer and America's veteran Gardnar Mulloy.

The modest Argentine admits to being in the best form of his career. Also he plans to play for many years to come.

He credits his improvement partly to his ability to go to the net for drop shots and leading a "simple life" with plenty of practice.

The Argentine teamed with Larsen in the doubles and yesterday dropped a 5-7, 8-6, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3 match to Mulloy and Patty.

The top women's match today sent tournament favorite Maureen Connolly against Sylvanna Lazzarino of Italy in the semifinals.

Wyoming 9 Had Only One Home-State Man

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Bill Wilson, second string catcher, is practically a foreigner on the University of Wyoming baseball team.

He's the only player on the squad who hails from Wyoming. Nine men come from Chibago. Others make their home in Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Michigan, Colorado, Missouri and California.

But the midwesterners and easterners will see the last of Bill this year. He's one of two seniors on the team.

Irish, NCAA Clash Over Controlled Football TV

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP) — Notre Dame, a bitter foe of controlled football telecasts, and the NCAA, clashed head-on Wednesday at a broadcasters' convention.

Both sides gave their opposing views on the NCAA's "Game-of-the-Week" program for college football before the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters (NARTB) convention.

* * *

Walter Byers, executive secretary of the NCAA, said the televising of games involving such nationally known schools as Notre Dame "tremendously hurt" game attendance at many of the NCAA's 425 member schools.

But the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of Notre Dame, said the NCAA's present control policy is "reactionary, socialistic, artificial and of doubtful legality."

The NCAA plan provides for telecasting what it feels is the top game of the week selected by its television committee, originating from different sections of the country each week.

"The NCAA is presumptuous in thinking it can control the comings and goings of citizens in a free country," Father Joyce said.

Father Joyce said he believes the NCAA program is doomed to failure because college football will be forced into full-scale television operation to combat the invasion of other entertainment on Saturday afternoons.

Father Joyce advocated the relaxing of all control.

Oakland Hills Honors Watrous

Twenty-five years on the job as professional at Oakland Hills Country Club Wednesdsy night brought unexpected reward for the veteran Al Watrous. Watrous, one of Michigan's colorful pros and a long-time competitor and champion from time to time in state PGA and Michigan Open tourneys was given a trip to Europe. He will attend the British Open test.

More than 150 members of the club took part in the observance of Watrous' 25th year. Members of his family, and several aides were also there, including Mrs. Watrous, Al Watrous Jr., Joe Watrous, Tommy Cosmos, Joe Devaney and Bob Gajda, former aide to Al, now at Forest Lake.

Wally Post, slugging rookie outfielder for the Cincinnati Redlegs, started his baseball career as a pitcher.

Co-Medalists Ousted From Links Tourney

MEMPHIS, May 27 (AP)—A tall Texan and a Memphis newspaper reporter blasted the co-medalists out of the Southern Amateur golf tournament Wednesday.

Stocky, soft-spoken Tom Michael ousted Mason Rudolph of Clarksville, Tenn., in the first round of match play, 1-up.

In the second round, Howie Johnson of Houston, twice winner of the Texas Public Links title, trimmed Hillman Robbins of Memphis, Southern intercollegiate champion and a prime tourney favorite, by the same score.

Rudolph and Robbins shared the qualifying medal with 4-over-par 144s and 36 holes over the par-70 Memphis Country Club course.

Michael qualified with 155, Johnson with 151.

Billy Herman, Brooklyn Dodger coach, was the second baseman on 10 straight National League All-Star teams.

Orioles' Dykes Says Tigers 'Going Places'

DETROIT (UP)—Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Baltimore Orioles, told a Detroit audience Wednesday that the Tigers are a baseball club that's "going places."

The Baltimore manager spoke at the 13th annual baseball dinner of the Capuchin Charity Guild.

"I've never been out here after winning a game," he said. "And now they (the Tigers) have beaten us twice in 24 hours."

Troy Caps Big Year With Track Victory

By JACK SAYLOR

Troy High School climaxed its most successful athletic season since the consolidation of Big Beaver and Log Cabin High Schools in 1951 by winning the Oakland B conference track meet Wednesday at Fitzgerald.

Troy added the track trophy to its basketball crown by totaling 67 points, far out-distancing its nearest rival, defending champion Roseville at 41½. Fitzgerald was 3rd with 36. Rounding out the list were Clawson 26, Avondale 18, and Madison 4½.

Troy scored in every event with Fred Burnard and Jim Pouget showing the way. Burnard won both dashes, tied for 5th in the high jump and ran a relay leg. Pouget won the 440 and also ran a leg on the winning half-mile relay team.

Pouget's 440 time was 54 seconds, setting a new Troy and Oakland B Conference record. One other record was eclipsed as Avondale's Giles Goforth tossed the shot 47 feet, 4½ inches.

Goforth also won the high jump to rank with Burnard as the only double winner of the meet. Troy's only other 1st came from Max Lankford in the broad jump.

Lewis' 1-Hitter Wins for Auburn

Auburn Merchants made their 1st Class A City League baseball start a successful one Wednesday at Wisner Field by trimming Jerome Olds-Cadillac, 9-3, on a 1-hit pitching chore by Dick Lewis.

Lewis fanned eight, walked three and yielded only a 3rd inning triple to Burmeister. He scored on Don Stone's sacrifice fly to momentarily tie the game at 3-3, but the Merchants came up with a pair of runs to salt the game away.

A walk and a hit batsman were the only base runners Lewis permitted after the 3rd. Auburn's winning runs came on singles by Cruz and Sewayne Sheffer and an outfield error.

League play resumes Monday with a 2 p.m. Memorial Day tilt between General Motors and CIO 594.

500 Racers Shun Turbines

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Gas turbines, high speed supercharged engines and similar experimental auto power plants will be left in the garages when the 33-car field lines up for the 38th annual 500-mile race Monday.

Every car that survived two weekends of time trials was powered by a four-cylinder, unsupercharged Offenhauser engine manufactured by Meyer & Drake of Los Angeles.

It's basically the same as the Miller engine of the 1920s, refined by Fred Offenhauser and successors Lou Meyer, three-time Indianapolis winner, and Dale Drake.

The Noisy Offy has about 270 cubic inches of piston displacement compared with 241.6 on the Dodge which will pace the first, uncounted laps of the race.

* * *

The Indianapolis Motor Speedway last year relaxed its rules to permit gas turbines to compete, but nobody has taken advantage of the chance. A gas turbine racer was reported under construction in deep secrecy on the West Coast but it wasn't completed for this year's race.

* * *

The most radical car entered in the 500 will be driven by newcomer Bill Homeier of Pacoima, Calif., but its experimental power plant blew out a valve in practice and was replaced with a conventional Offy.

* * *

With the equipment pretty well standardized, the race's principal contributions to the auto industry in recent years have been in sturdier "stickier" tires and fuel injection. Fuel injection, which has replaced carburetors in all the starting cars, is being used in a German Mercedes production car this year but has not been adopted by any American pleasure car builders.

Kaz Enlists in Navy

BOSTON (AP)—Former All-America back Dick Kazmaier has enlisted for a hitch in the Navy and will report to officer candidate school at Newport, R.I., Aug. 16.

The versatile Kazmaier was a brilliant tailback on Princeton's Lambert Trophy winning teams of 1950 and 1951. He currently is taking graduate work at the Harvard business school.

Andy Seminick of Cincinnati batted 2.79 and hit 14 home runs against southpaw pitching in 1953.

Ladies Have Their Day

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Delaware Park's $100,000 added New Castle Handicap, world's richest race for fillies and mares, was a big occasion for the ladies last year.

The first three thoroughbreds under the wire were owned by ladies.

* * *

Grecian Queen won for Mrs. B. F. Whitaker. Devilkin was second for Mrs. John W. Hanes. My Celeste took third money for Miss Constance Morabito.

This year's race will be July 5.

My Greatest Shot

By JUG McSPADEN

The shot I always think of when I look back is an eagle I made on the seventh hole during the 1938 Greater Greensboro, N. C., Open.

The shot was made during the first round—and that's no surprise, for in that first round, I shot a 66, a new course record at the time, for the par 71 layout.

The entire round gave me a kick, but I guess I'll always remember that shot on the seventh. It was a 600-yard par 5 and, like the rest of the course that day, a severe test. Several holes were wooded and fairways of packed clay forced us to keep our shots straight or we'd see the ball rolling into the woods.

An iron shot following my drive on the seventh left me 20 feet from the pin and I holed out.

A tee shot on the last hole of the Sacramento Open of 1934 gave me an earlier big moment. It brought me my second victory of that particular tour.

The 18th hole of the muncipal course in Sacramento was a short par 3, 155 yards long. With a 5 iron, I put my tee shot six feet from the cup and rammed the putt down for a birdie 2, giving me a 71 for the final 18 and a 72-hole total of 284.

Southern Fans Laud Barons' Big Catcher

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Baseball fans here are raving about Lou Berberet, classy catcher for the Birmingham Barons in the Southern Assn.

One of his biggest boosters is Baron General manager Eddie Glennon. Says Glennon: "Lou's big and smart. He's a real glove artist. He has a rifle arem, knows how to put the lid on pop flies and has that natural born knack for handling pitchers."

Berberet isn't a high average hitter, but gets a base hit or the long ball when it counts.

The 22-year old receiver is 5 feet 11 and weighs 200 pounds.

Berberet is the property of the New York Yankees.

Skippers Trip Cranbrook, 6-5

Gard's Single in 7th Breaks Up Tie as WHS Wins 8th Start

Bill Gard's single with two out in the home half of the final inning Wednesday gave Waterford High School a 6-5 baseball victory over Cranbrook. It was the Skipper's 8th win of the year and avenged an earlier loss to the Cranes.

Waterford nullified Cranbrook's 5-3 lead in the 5th on a walk, an error an. Dave Larkin's double, then won the contest in the 7th on a walk, Larkin's sacrifice and Gard's two-down hit.

Skipper outfielder Loren Bray made a game saving catch with two runners on in the 6th when he speared Joe Prendergast's drive to deep left center. Jerry Kruskie went the route for Waterford's win.

Planted Fish Get Away, Spoil Year's Experiment

HELENA, Mont. (AP)— Montana's Fish and Game Department had been experimenting one year to see how many trout would survive after a state hatchery planted them in a lake.

A few days before Montana's fishing season opened vandals released the fish—25,000 cutthroat trout—into streams around northwestern Smith Lake. The year spent experimenting was a loss.

They Steal Bases, Too?

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — A Benton township baseball team may have to play without its infield and an outfielder until five players are released by juvenile authorities. The youths, aged 15 and 16, are accused of the theft of five baseball gloves from two department stores.

Injured Arm Keeps Martin Out of Lineup

Ex-Yankee Is Member of 200th Infantry Nine in Colorado

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo (AP)— Pvt. Billy Martin is just another ballplayer on the 200th infantry regiment's baseball team at Camp Carson.

* * *

The former Yankee second baseman and 1953 World Series batting star has appeared in two games for the 200th team, neither in a starting role.

Martin joined the 200th last week after the club had played 10 games and was in second place in the Carson Regimental League.

But now the 200th has dropped its last two games, and on top of that Martin is plagued with a sore arm.

Martin threw out his arm attempting to complete a long relay from the outfield into the plate. He hasn't played any organized ball since last fall when he toured the country with Ed Lopat's All-Stars.

British Girl Sets Women's Mile Mark

LONDON, England, May 27 (AP) — Tall, slim Diane Leather ran the fastest mile ever recorded by a woman Wednesday. Her time was 5:00.2.

The previous fastest mile by a woman was a 5:00.3 set by Romania's Edith Treybel last year.

There is no official record since the mile for women is not recognized by the International Amateur Athletic Assn.

Lou Fageol piloted the speedboat Slo-Mo-Shun IV 108.663 miles per hour during a 3-mile lap in the Gold Cup races at Seattle in 1951.

Preacher Roe, Dodger southpaw pitcher, admits to 38 years. Record books have Preach as only 36.

Northern Lights Aid Study of Upper Air

WASHINGTON (UP) — One of nature's most spectacular displays, the aurora borealis, is helping science explore the mysteries of the upper air.

Analysis of the Northern Lights has revealed the composition of gases in the ionosphere, the electrified region between 50 and 250 miles above the earth. Oxygen atoms produce the bright red and yellow-green colors of the aurora. Nitrogen molecules give the orange-red, blue-green, and voilet shades.

The rippling arcs and streamers of light are caused by gigantic currents of electrified particles that spout out from the sun and speed millions of miles into space. At times the aurora extends 600 miles up into the thinning atmosphere.

There is also an aurora australis or "southern lights," but it is seen far less frequently than the aurora borealis because there is little inhabited land within the region.

Hunters Can't Find Dog —He's Locked in Car

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Five men piled out of the car and sloshed through mud and dense underbrush for three hours before calling off the coon hunt because they couldn't hear their dog bay.

George Cloys said they returned to their auto and found the hound standing on the back seat, his nose pressed against a window.

He had been locked in when the hunters got out.

Eskimos to Get Book Learning

Head of Native Service Will Visit Tuluag Lake This Summer

JENEAU, Alaska—(UP)—Max Penrod, area director of schools for the Alaska Native Service, plans to visit the Tuluag Lake Eskimos this summer to see if book learning can be taken to the natives.

Thirteen children of the Tuluag Lake tribe who left the frozen tundra last fall to study at ANS boarding schools show exceptional intelligence, Penrod said. But there is a terrific problem in educating their brothers and sisters who were left behind at remote Anaktuvuk Pass in the Brooks Mountains.

Eleven 16 and 17-year-old boys and girls from Tuluag Lake, main settlement of the Anaktuvuk Pass area, are attending Wrangell Institute and two girls are at Mt. Edgecombe School. The two girls at Mt. Edgecombe are studying work of fourth-graders although they have had no formal schooling since last September.

Summer classes the Native Service conducted at Tuluag Lake in 1948, 1950 and 1952, are believed to have given these particular children a good start, although the classes mainly were to teach the rudiments of English.

The village council selected the 13 children to make the trip to the "outside" last fall. At last reports there still were two dozen children of school age in the village. Penrod said that if the village can show that at least 12 students will attend school for 180 days a year, establishment of a school there might be justified.

From its source to its confluence with the Mississippi, the Missouri river is 2,945 miles long. Their combined length exceeds any other river system.

Weissmuller May Forsake Movie Jungle

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 27 (AP)—"I went into the jungle with a bunch of tin medals and came out with gold."

That was Johnny Weissmuller's reflection on his 23 years in the movie business. Now well fixed because of his earnings in African movies, the onetime swimming champ says he may retire in another two years.

"I've had it," he says. "In another two years, I'd like to give up the jungle life and retire.

"Don't worry about me finding something to keep my busy. I'm a guy who likes his leisure. I'd be perfectly content to spend my time skin-diving, playing golf and just relaxing."

* * *

There's only one element that might upset his plans—TV. Right now a deal for a series is being whipped up. His agents and business managers are hot for it, but Johnny isn't enthusiastic. He doesn't like to work that hard.

That's understandable. He probably does less work for more money than any other performer in Hollywood. For the past eight years, he has been doing the Jungle Jim series, in which he shares the profits. He does three a year, for an estimated return of $100,000. Not bad, considering the films take a mere nine days apiece.

Movie making takes only 27 days out of his year. What does he do the rest of the time? Occasionally he takes out a water show, as he did in Las Vegas last year. But most of the time he simply enjoys life.

* * *

I must say that it agrees with him. I saw Johnny on the set of his latest Jungle Jim epic, "The Moon Men." He was up to his thighs in moon men—all the midgets and dwarfs in this area had been recruited for film. He'll be 47 next Wednesday, but he has the build and face of a much younger man.

I asked him how he does it.

* * *

"Swimming," he replied with the obvious answer. "I keep my pool at home at 80 degrees the year around. Every day I swim about a half-mile. I do it with my feet in a rubber tube, so I'm pulling dead water. That way I get the exercise without having to make so many turns. The pool is only 20 by 40 feet, and I'd get dizzy if I swam without something to hold me back."

* * *

The daily workout keeps him at a trim 205-210 pounds, which is par for a man who is 6 feet 3. He was only 10 or 15 pounds lighter when he was breaking all the swimming records in sight.

Crocodiles Are in Life Struggle

Commercial Demand Threatens Existence of Largest Reptile

WASHINGTON — Crocodiles, the world's largest reptiles, face an uphill battle for survival.

In central Africa authorities have ordered license controls to stem the mass slaughter of crocodiles, after a survey revealed a "marked and rapid decline" of the once numerous Nile creatures.

In Australia's Northern Territory the reptiles are so scarce that professional hunters may abandon their annual trips into the backland.

A booming trade in skins for women's shoes and handbags is steadily shrinking the crocodile population, says the National Geographic Society. Europe's recent leather shortage has been a major factor in the growth of the lucrative industry.

East Africa yields more than 2,000 skins monthly, 700 from Tanganyika alone. Skins are shipped to tanning factories in Britain and the United States. Only the relatively soft belly skin is suitable for processing.

Copying methods of modern whalemen, some professional crocodile hunters today employ harpoon guns. Natives still seek their prey with noose and pronged stick. Poisoned bait is also used. A ball of cyanide is concealed in a piece of meat and hung from the shoreline bushes.

More intrepid sportsmen capture their quary with hook-and-line. The "line" is an inch-thick rope with six feet of well-chain at the end. Bait is attached to a nine-inch shark hook. Unlike harpooning, "fishing" insures undamaged skin.

Ten known species of crocodile inhabit a tropical belt stretching around the world. In addition to Africa and Australia, the semi-aquatic creatures are found in India, southeast Asia, the West Indies, Central America and the northern portion of South America. There are also a few in the extreme southern tip of Florida.

The crocodile family includes two species of alligator and five species of cayman. Alligators are found only in the southern United States and southern China. Caymans are confined to Central America and parts of South America east of the Andes.

A crocodile's distinguishing feature is a long, slender head with massive jaws and many teeth. Alligators and caymans have shorter, blunter snouts. The fourth tooth on each side of the lower jaw pierces the upper jaw.

Crocodiles are more agile than alligators and caymans and are considered more vicious. They average about 12 feet in length although some species may grow to 20 feet. They sometimes live as long as 40 years.

Baptists Buy Hall Used by Communists

DETROIT (AP)—A favorite meeting place for Detroit Communists has changed owners and philosophies. The three-story, red brick building frequented for years by various Red groups has been purchased by the A. C. Williams Memorial Missionary Baptist Church for $65,000.

The move was annoying to subversive organizations but proved even a harder blow to police, who will have to ferret out the new meeting grounds.

In its hey-day as a Communist conference hall, police cars were said to vie with subversives for choice parking spaces in front. The main doors served as a backdrop for FBI movies of persons entering and leaving.

Greatest vegetable oil source in the world is believed to be South America's Amazon river valley.

An average acre in a vineyard has 500 to 800 vines.

Heck, no! He's been shopping with his wife!

People buy more in Summer than in most other months of the year!

• Away on vacation? Heck, no! You can find 94% of the people at home at any time during June, July and August* — still shopping at a fast rate. Still reading newspapers. Still buying the things they read about!

Businessmen who know this — and act on it — are profiting handsomely.

As the famous retailer Bernard F. Gimbel said recently, "There is no good reason for a summer slump in any market or in any year, and particularly in 1954. Above all, there is no excuse for reduced sales effort. The business is there if we go after it — all summer long."

Based on studies by Curtis Publishing Co. and NBC.*

Sales are as hot as the weather!

People spend more money on merchandise in June, July and August than in most other months.

These items sell faster in the hot months than at any other time:

Wash & play dresses, sheets, refrigerators, luggage, men's summer suits, portable fans, paint & wallpaper, auto tires & accessories, do-it-yourself items, linens & piece goods, bedroom suites—and a host of others!

Are you taking advantage of this?

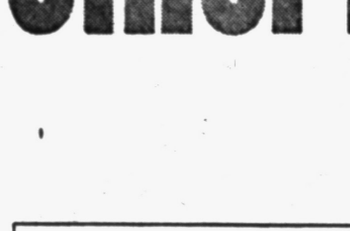

1953 Retail Sales $171 Billion

Percentages show how much of this total is absorbed by each month of the year. Only 3 other months outrank June, July, August.

DEC.	9.6%
OCT.	8.8%
MAY	8.6%
JUNE	8.5%	25.3% of year ($43 Billion)

SUMMER MONTHS get their full share of year's business — and more besides! 25.3%! (Source: Dept. of Commerce)

Business leaders are capitalizing on this!

BERNARD F. GIMBEL: Chm. of Bd., Gimbel Bros., Inc.; Dir., Coca-Cola Co.; Dir., Burlington Mills.

Mr. Gimbel says: "We're going after summer business because we feel that there are too many valleys between the peaks that have no reason to be there.

"What retailers accomplish will depend in large part on how actively they go after summer business... the most underpromoted area in our merchandising system."

And they're using newspapers!

They know there's no summer replacement for the newspaper. People buy and read newspapers in summer as avidly as they do at any other time.

Circulation remains high through June, July and August. Smart businessmen are now planning additional promotion — in newspapers — for these 3 months.

Don't default to your competitors! Plan your promotion now!

CIRCULATION IS STEADY — 54 million dailies for the nation's 45 million families.

Training Camp for Husbands

Five Young Bachelors Keep 7-Room House in Peoria

PEORIA, Ill. (INS) — Any girl looking for a well-trained husband might cast an inquisitive eye on a neat seven-room house in Peoria.

The home is run and maintained by five young bachelors who work at the Caterpillar Tractor company.

The young men are Frank Bartos, of Cedar Rapids, Ia., Ron Miller, a native of Denver, Colo., Keith Johnson, of Racine, Wis., Charles Jett, of Paducah, Ky., and Bob Behrens, from Jefferson City, Mo. All five are about as well-trained as husband material ever gets. The fellows take turns cooking, rotating daily.

The one who pulls cook duty is responsible that day for breakfast and supper and that includes doing the dishes and cleaning up the kitchen afterward.

The men also do their own washing, except for white shirts, and press trousers and are, generally, as handy around the house as an extra $100 bill.

General housecleaning is a community undertaking. Bartos explained:

"Usually we clean house after every party. It seems to go smoother about three or four in the morning. Don't know why, though."

The men have organized dinner parties about every other month and plan menus like veteran housewives.

All have had "batchin' it" experience before in dormitory, barracks or both, but they like their present setup better. More privacy, they say.

One of them added:

"Next to home itself, it's the best thing possible."

Jewish Leaders Hit Hard in Romanian Mass Purge

By CHARLES M. McCANN

Communist-Romania is conducting a mass purge of Jewish leaders.

Prominent Jews are being tried in secret in Bucharest, the capital, and in the provinces.

It is reported that more than 100 Jewish leaders, some of them held in prison for four years or longer, have been sentenced recently or about to be tried.

Persistent reports are being circulated in European capitals that former Romanian Foreign Minister Ana Pauker,a Jew, is to be the chief defendant in a show trial now being prepared.

Few details of the Romanian purge have leaked through the Iron Curtain. But there is no doubt that it is under way.

There hardly can be any doubt that the purge is being conducted with the approval of the Soviet Russian government, if not by its direction.

The purge is causing alarm to Jewish organizations in the United States and other countries. Forty-five former Romanian Jewish leaders started a 100-hour hunger strike in Tel Aviv, Israel, Sunday night in protest against it.

Prime Minister Moshe Sharett of Israel said in a speech to the Israeli Parliament Monday that he was shocked by the purge.

Apparently the trials started in March when three Zionist leaders were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Late in April reports reached London that at least 40 Jews, including six women, were then on trial in Bucharest and that others were being tried in the provinces.

Charges in the trials vary. They include conspiring against the Communist government, encouraging underground emigration to Israel, maintaining secret contact with the Israeli legation and obtaining "subversive materials" and equipment from "American" agents.

But the purge seems to be a general one against Jews. Not only Zionists and other members of the Romanian Jewish community but Jewish Communists are being swept up in it, it is reported.

Most prominent of these is Ana Pauker. The semi-official Yugoslav News agency Yugopress reported from Belgrade last week that Mrs. Parker is to be tried in October along with Vasile Luca, a former cabinet minister.

The charge against them was specified as "knowingly bringing hostile elements into the Communist party and the state administration."

Mrs. Pauker, now in her early sixties, fell into disfavor in 1952. She was accused of a long list of offenses against the Communist party and the government. She lost her posts as foreign minister and a member of the politburo.

She was long the most influential Communist in Romania. It was reported that she alone of Romanian Communists was able to telephone the late Josef Stalin whenever she wanted to.

Whatever the charges that may be cited against her when and if she is brought to trial, there seems no doubt her real offense will be that she is Jewish.

1954 a Good Year for Home Buyers

CHICAGO (UP) — A spokesman for the United States Savings and Loan League says 1954 should be a good year for the home buyer.

Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the league, said there are plenty of houses to choose from, both new and old. There is also plenty of mortgage credit and relatively steady prices, he said.

Strunk said the over-all cost of building materials during the past year has been more stable than at any time since World War II. In 1953, he said, the increase was one per cent, smallest annual increase since the war.

Veterans should find it "considerably easier" to obtain a GI loan this year than at any time during the last two years, Strunk said.

Interest rates have been easing and the 4½ per cent on GI loans is becoming "increasingly attractive" to home financing organizations.

Mart Advancing; Steels Leading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today in early dealings with some vigor, extending the strong rise staged yesterday.

Prices were up around a point at the outside in several key areas. Losses were small and not bunched in any particular area.

The steels, aircrafts, motors, and non-ferrous metals were in demand right from the start of trading.

In yesterday's market, which went ahead to new high levels, the bounce ahead and then motors joined them.

In addition to those three today, the non-ferrous metals were up briskly on reports that the government is getting ready for another go-round on stockpiling of strategic metals.

U. S. Steel, yesterday's second most active issue up 1⅜, opened today on 5,000 shares up ¼ at 49¼, and then it continued much higher in a vigorous manner.

Bethlehem Steel, up a strong 3¾ yesterday, opening today on 3,000 shares off ⅛ at 70⅞. It continued trading around that level.

Tot Thrown From Car Takes Pillow Along

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Four-month-old Michael Hatofilax was sleeping on a pillow on the front seat of a car driven by his mother, Mrs. Ann Hatofilax, 29, when the car was struck broadside by a two-ton truck yesterday.

The right front door was flung open and Michael flew 20 feet through the air, accompanied by the pillow.

It was still under him when he landed. He suffered only minor bruises and scratches.

Packard Will Build Own Auto Bodies

DETROIT (UP) — Packard Motor Co., said today it will start making its own bodies for its cars next month for the first time since 1941.

The company said it will do the body manufacturing in the Briggs-Connor plant in Detroit, which is being leased, with an option to buy, from Chrysler Corp. Chrysler bought the plant along with other facilities from Briggs Manufacturing Co., last December.

At present the Packard bodies are being made in the plant under a supplier relationship with Chrysler.

Packard said the move is the second major step in its manufacturing modernization program. Earlier this year Packard announced plans to build its own engines, automatic transmissions and axles in a new plant at Utica, just outside Detroit. This plant is due to be completed in time for 1955 models.

Plans More TV for Next Fall

Is Nearly 76, Going to Spain to Talk to Franco This Summer

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK (AP) — In radio and television, H.V.K. can only mean one person: H. V. Kaltenborn, dean of commentators.

Almost 76, he has no idea of retiring. He will soon drop off the air for his annual vacation, which may last a little longer this time, but he has arranged for substitutes so he can resume in the fall.

In recent years, H.V.K. has been visiting in Europe with his constant travel companion, Mrs. Kaltenborn. This summer he is going to Spain to see American air bases and to talk to Franco.

His radio program on Saturdays will be handled by his 39-year-old son Rolf, who has assisted with the broadcasts for some time. The TV series, local only in New York, will continue with the use of kinescope recordings and guests.

Titled "It Seems Only Yesterday," the program consists of Kaltenborn's reminiscences about his experiences as a commentator.

Kaltenborn will celebrate his 76th birthday July 9. That puts him a little less than three months behind Lionel Barrymore as the oldest active broadcaster.

H.V.K., who has been on the air 32 years, started broadcasting as a sideline to his editorial position on the Brooklyn Eagle. For more than two decades he has been a staff man, first on CBS and then for 15 years on NBC.

At times when war developments were popping it seemed he was broadcasting almost every hour on the hour.

In recent years he has cut down, until he now has only one radio and one TV program a week. But he hasn't given up his favorite sport, tennis, which he and his wife play almost every day.

One of his proudest accomplishments was the founding of the "Twenty-Year Club," now the nation-wide radio pioners. Members must have at least 20 years experience in radio—or in TV when it gets old enough.

The organization was formed April 4, 1942 on Kaltenborn's own 20th anniversary in radio. Among the original members are many of the best known names in broadcasting.

U.S. May Deal With Red China

Delegation at Geneva Likely to Negotiate for Release of 32 Yanks

GENEVA (AP)—Sources close to the U.S. delegation indicated today the United States might be willing to enter into direct negotiations with the Chinese Communists at Geneva on the release of 32 Americans imprisoned in China.

These sources said there appeared to be no reason to bar such talks, since the United States talked directly with the Chinese Reds at Panmunjom on the release of Korean War prisoners.

The United States has not recognized the Peiping regime and up to now has refused to talk directly with Red China's representatives at Geneva.

* * *

The question of the imprisoned Americans came up earlier this week when it was learned the United States had asked the British to approach the Chinese Reds on the matter.

Yesterday an official Chinese spokesman indicated the best way the United States could arrange for their release was by direct negotiation.

A railroad line to the summit of Pike's Peak in Colorado is the highest bit of trackage in the U.S. It attains a height of 14,109 feet above sea level.

TV May Develop Own Code for Beer Ads

LANSING (AP) — A legislative committee was condifent today that television stations will adopt their own code of ethics and remove necessity for a state law regulating TV beer advertisements.

The committee was chosen to investigate the need for such a law after the 1954 Legislature rejected the McCune bill to censor television advertising of beer.

Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), chairman of the committee, said he had been virtually assured by television operators that a new code covering the touchy subject would be adopted.

A portion of the committee will go to Washington Monday and Tuesday to inquire into the progress of proposed Congressional action to regulate beer advertising.

Death Interrupts Long-Awaited Journey to Italy

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Ever since he came to America 47 years ago, Vito Carbonaro wanted to return to Italy to visit his sister Lucille.

His earnings as a Chicago shoemaker sometimes came slowly, but he saved every cent that he could toward the trip.

At the age of 64, he had enough money. He bought a new suit, round-trip tickets for a train to New York and a ship to Europe, and tucked $700 in travelers' checks and $180 in brand new bills into his clothing.

* * *

Then, waving a happy goodbye to his brother Peter in Chicago, he boarded the train.

Four hours later the train pulled into Toledo. Vito appeared to be sleeping. A conductor tried to awaken him.

But Vito, stricken by a heart attack, was dead.

Haberdasher's Service Identical for Everyone

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — Milford Glick is an accomodating fellow.

A thief threw a brick threugh the plate glass display window of his haberdashery recently and stole a pair of trousers and some shirts.

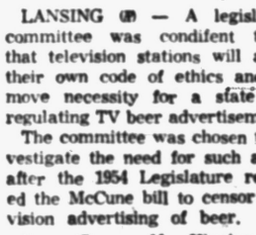

Glick took the loss philosophically.

"There's a chance he got the wrong size," he said. "If he did, tell him to bring them in and we'll exchange them."

Man Loses Top

NEWINGTON, Conn. (UP)—John Murphy offered a $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of the culprit who sawed the eight-foot top off a blue spruce tree on his lawn. Murphy explained that the 25-year-old tree was an ornament to his home.
