Kidnap Hoax Call Sent Parents From Pontiac

O. L. Beaudette Offers Park Gift to City

Includes Home and Property on West Huron

City Starting Action to Rezone Whole Area for Future Use

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

An offer by O. L. Beaudette to deed his home and land on West Huron street to the city has spurred long-range planning for a 15-acre park and library site on the property across from Pontiac High School.

The property included in the proposed gift is estimated to have a value of several hundred thousand dollars.

Beaudette emphasized in his offer that no building other than a library may be erected on the land.

Beaudette, son of O. J. Beaudette, pioneer automobile body industrialist in Pontiac, offered to deed approximately eight acres in the block bounded by West Huron, Williams, West Pike, and Franklin Boulevard if the entire block be eventually converted to a city park.

With this in mind, the city commissioners last night passed a resolution instructing the city attorney to prepare an ordinance to rezone 21 lots in the block to Residential 1.

FOR LIBRARY USE

Mayor William W. Donaldson explained the rezoning proposal was to prevent any commercial establishments initiating new business in the block.

Beaudette, 65, and Mrs. Beaudette, also have agreed to deed their six-bedroom home at 269 W. Huron, upon their deaths along with the adjacent property. The remaining acreage would be deeded to Pontiac over a three-year period, possibly beginning in January.

The city commissioners have announced intention of converting the home, which has been occupied by the Beaudettes since 1918, into a city library to bolster much-needed library facilities in the city.

PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held Aug. 1 before the City Plan Commission on the proposed rezoning of the block. Last week, the plan group considered the change and recommended the rezoning to the commission.

As originally zoned in 1938, there are eight lots presently zoned Residential 3, 13 Commercial 1, and the remaining lots in the block already zoned Residential 1.

Donaldson cited two examples of potential commercial firms establishing in the block which have agreed, according to the mayor, to "hold their plans in abeyance pending action by the city."

HE DIDN'T COME HOME—Diane and John Matas stare sadly at a dish marked "DOG." But the dog—a black German Shepherd named "Paisan"—hasn't been home since July 2, and Johnny has lost three pounds worrying about him.

Have You Seen 'Paisan'? Missing Dog Worries Lad

Four-year-old Johnny has lost three pounds this week, and cries out in his sleep for the 100-pound black German Shepherd dog that disappeared July 2.

Johnny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Matas of 1175 Jay Rd., Waterford Township. His sister, Diane, is 5.

"We don't know what happened to Paisan—whether he was killed, lost, or picked up by somebody," Mrs. Matas said today. "I let him out for a run early in the morning, and he just didn't come back."

The family has owned Paisan—who will be three years old Aug. 15—since his brother, Blackie, died last January.

"He's a big dog, nearly all black, with a massive head," Mrs. Matas said. "We've looked for him everywhere and called the pound, but he just hasn't been seen.

"We've driven all over the county answering phone calls from people who had seen stray dogs. But it was never Paisan.

"Paisan," Mrs. Matas said, is the Italian word for "My countryman."

"Johnny is worrying himself sick," Mrs. Matas said. "He just doesn't understand why Paisan won't come home, or why anybody would pick him up."

If anybody's seen Paisan, Johnny's phone number is FEderal 4-8911.

Ike, Hall to Talk About Campaign

President Will Confer With GOP Chairman Tomorrow at Farm

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower, once again intent on running for a second term, will talk campaign strategy tomorrow with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

Hall will come up from Washington tomorrow morning for the conference at the Eisenhower farm home.

The arrangements for the GOP chairman to consult with the President—their first get-together since Eisenhower's June 9 intestinal operation—followed by a day definite word that Eisenhower still plans to try for four more years in the White House.

Hall is to hold a news conference after seeing the President.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty declined to discuss GOP campaign plans, or even to say specifically whether Hall and Eisenhower would go into them extensively. But he said he wasn't foreclosing their making some campaign plans tomorrow.

Today, the President put in around an hour and 45 minutes on official business with White House staff members. He signed 35 bills, allocated some emergency funds to Ohio, asked Congress for the money to build an animal disease laboratory at Ames, Iowa, and got in some initial licks on the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957.

2 Killed, 1 Hurt in Road Wreck Near Flat Rock

Former Pontiac Man, Oakland Twp. Resident Die as Car Rams Truck

Two area men were killed and a third critically injured when their car went out of control and crashed a parked cattle truck near Flat Rock early this morning.

The dead include Joseph Balinski, 36, formerly of 16 School St., Pontiac; and Lester Arnold, 31, of 2351 Silver Bell Rd., Oakland Township.

Another victim, Jack Womack, 23, of 45 W. New York Ave., is reported in serious condition at Wyandotte General Hospital.

The auto, believed to have been traveling at a high rate of speed, apparently missed a curve near the intersection of U.S. 25 and U.S. 24, crossed four lanes of highway and crashed into the truck which was parked 30 feet off the pavement.

State police state that the accident occurred at about 3:24 a.m. The intersection is located about three miles north of the southern Michigan city.

The truck's driver, Wilbur Laubis, 21, of Kenton, Ohio, was reportedly asleep in the cab when the car rammed into the vehicle's front. He and his cargo of cattle both escaped injury.

Although Arnold has been identified as the car's owner, troopers have not yet determined which of the three was driving at the time of the fatal collision.

Arnold was found on the passenger side of the front seat with his body jammed part way through the windshield. Balinski and Womack were both thrown out of the auto by the impact.

Womack, who suffered a concussion, lacerations and bruises, will be questioned about the details after his condition improves, police said.

Scattered Showers Expected Tonight

Partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow is the prediction for the Pontiac area with a chance of widely scattered showers or thunderstorms this evening.

Rainfall for the next few days will total around ½ inch ending by Saturday night. The weekend will be a little cooler with the weather warmer Monday.

The low temperature tonight will be around 65. The mercury will rise to a high of 85 degrees tomorrow.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 61 degrees. The thermometer registered 83 at 2 p.m.

The Badge of Courage

Steel Mediators Push for Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal mediators confer today with a management team to pave the way for a face-to-face meeting tomorrow with union spokesmen in the hope of ending the national steel strike.

Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service officials arranged a "preliminary" meeting here with a team headed by John A. Stephens, vice president of U.S. Steel and the industry's chief negotiator.

The mediators met yesterday with officials of the striking United Steelworkers. They plan to call management and labor together at Pittsburgh tomorrow for resumption of negotiations.

The talks collapsed July 1, precipitating a strike which has idled 730,000 workers and cut national steel production by 90 per cent.

Chief mediator Joseph F. Finnegan said after a one-hour discussion with union officials the situation was "grave" but he was confident that both sides would cooperate in new bargaining efforts.

He told newsmen he had assured the union men a solution would be worked out "only by bargaining" and it would "not be imposed by the government." He said he would not term the strike a national emergency at this time.

United Steelworkers called out 650,000 members on strike after the failure of negotiations for a new contract to replace one expiring July 1. In dispute were the duration of the contract and the immediate "package" pay raise.

The union rejected the last company offer of a 52-month contract. Management said it provided a raise of 17 2-3 cents an hour the first year. The union, representing workers who averaged $2.46 an hour before the strike began, said the proposed first-year increase actually amounted to only 14 cents and the contract offer was "too little and too long."

The union hasn't disclosed what wages or contract length it seeks.

County Builders Expecting Boom

"This is the second highest year in the history of the office," Oakland County Register of Deeds Daniel T. Murphy Jr., said today, "despite a 15 per cent dip from last year's business."

The drop in business does not mean the building boom is over, according to Murphy. "Most builders I talk to feel this is only the start of the boom," he said.

An indication of builders' optimism, he said, is the number of new subdivision plats recorded—a startling 95 from January to June.

In the same six months last year, only 88 new subdivisions were under development.

Business in the Register of Deeds office is an accurate measure of building and development in the county, Murphy explained, since all deeds, mortgages and plats for new subdivisions throughout the county are filed here.

Murphy said he believes the recent decline is mainly due to tightened mortgage money.

"We first felt the decline in mortgages filed here last fall, when mortgage money started tightening," Murphy said. "In December, the effects of a hard winter reinforced the slump.

"Last year, we had a comparatively easy winter. But this year the frost went into the ground and stayed until late March, and builders couldn't work the ground.

"Then, about the time the frost was coming out, unemployment also held back building.

"As a result, one contractor who had 12 houses under construction by this time last year told me last week he didn't have one house going."

The 2,366-mile race from San Carlos, Calif., to Flint began Saturday and ended officially yesterday. Winners were announced today on a handicap basis.

Mrs. Bera won the race in 1953 and again last year. She flew a Beechcraft Bonanza.

Second was Mrs. Alice Roberts of Phoenix, Ariz., with copilot Mrs. Iris Critchell, Palos Verdes Estates, Calif., in a Beechcraft Bonanza.

Extra Farm Goods Sold and Donated

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower reported today that $2,953,000,000 of government owned surplus farm products have been disposed of—mostly abroad— under the Agricultural Trade Development Act of 1954.

He said in a semiannual report to Congress that nearly one half—or $1,264,800,000—was contracted for sale or donation during the first half of this year.

The commodities were acquired under farm price support programs and the government still holds commodities valued at more than eight billion dollars.

Airline Chalks Up Record

NEW YORK (INS)—United Air Lines set an all-time company record in passenger traffic and freight movement last month. Revenue passenger miles totaled 474,797,000, 16 per cent above the previous monthly peak attained in August, 1955, and 21 per cent ahead of June 1955.

Straley Calls It Cruel; FBI Opens Investigation on Long Island Scene

A telephone call from Pontiac was listed as one of 17 crank calls received yesterday by the parents of kidnaped Peter Weinberger. The Federal Bureau of Investigation officially moved into the case as it entered its second week today.

Context of the call was not disclosed. Area telephone officials said today no efforts have been made as yet by law enforcement officers to trace the call made to the grief-stricken Westbury, N. Y. home.

The 39-day-old baby has been missing since he was spirited from an unattended baby carriage on the patio of the Weinberger residence a week ago.

According to Pontiac Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Manager Ray Storm, state and federal laws forbids release of information on the call, unless subpoenaed by court order.

"Even if we could release the information, it would take days of checking to find out who placed the call, since all toll calls are filed by telephone number, not destination of call," Storm said.

He added that neither Detroit nor Pontiac Bell officials had been contacted regarding the call.

NO INSTRUCTIONS

A spokesman at the Detroit Regional FBI office said no federal investigation into the kidnaping has been made in the Pontiac area as yet.

He said that the office has received no instructions to investigate the telephone call.

Pontiac police Chief Herbert W. Straley labeled the call as the "cruel work of a crank." If re-

Dulles Predicts Freer Russia

Forces Within Country 'Irresistible,' Secretary Tells Newsmen

WASHINGTON (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles predicted today liberal forces will take over the Soviet Union within 10 years.

Dulles told a news conference he believes the forces which have imposed the "new look" on Russian policy will be irresistible.

He said he does not expect great transformation in Soviet policy today, tomorrow, this year or next year, but he believes in this decade the free world can hopefully look forward to a change in the international scene.

At the same time, Dulles ruled out the idea that the U. S. can help the trend toward liberalization behind the Iron Curtain by direct interference.

Dulles said he believes the most the U. S. can do is show by conduct and example how good are the fruits of a free society.

Dulles challenged Moscow to restore independence to the East European satellites.

He expressed belief that the trend behind the Iron Curtain toward liberalization may be reversed but these forces from the people demanding freedom and higher living standards will, in the end, prove irreversible.

Reds Surprise U.N., Ask Disarmament Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — Russia, in a surprise move, today requested a meeting of the U. N. disarmament Commission for 11 a.m. (EDT) Thursday to hear a statement by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Gromyko is expected to reply to a Western offer to curb tests of nuclear weapons once East-West agreement has been reached on a four-power safeguaraded disarmament program.

DR. HARRY A. SIBLEY

Early Physician Taken by Death

Dr. Sibley Practiced Here 48 Years Before Retirement in 1953

Dr. Harry A. Sibley died July 10 at his home on Matthews Street following a long illness. The oldest son of Judson L. and Lucia Banks Sibley, he was born March 23, 1882, at Wixom.

He attended Wixom Public School, later graduating from Detroit Central High. He received his medical degree in 1907 from the University of Michigan, where he was a member of Phi Rho Sigma medical fraternity.

After practicing one year at Dollar Bay in the copper country of Upper Michigan, he returned to Pontiac, where he continued in general practice for 46 years.

At the time of his retirement in 1953, Dr. Sibley had been in active practice in Pontiac longer than any other living physician.

In 1911 he was married to Alice Wixom of Wixom.

Dr. Sibley was a life member of the American Medical Association, the Michigan State Medical Society, and the Oakland County Medical Society, of which he was a past president. He served on the Board of Education of the City of Pontiac; was at one time school physician and was a member of Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 19.

Many older Pontiac residents will remember him also for his ability as a pitcher on the Pontiac City and other baseball teams of this area over forty years ago.

Dr. Sibley is survived by his wife, two sons, Dr. Wixom Sibley of Redwood City, California, and Forbes Sibley of Birmingham; two brothers, Wesley, of Los Gatos, California, and Standish, of Pontiac, and six grandchildren.

Service will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday from the Huntoon Funeral Home. The Rev. James H. Luther of the Silvercrest Baptist Church will officiate with burial in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Pontiac Motorist Jailed for Permitting Violation

Will C. Franklin, 29, of 101 S. West Blvd., is serving a 30-day sentence in the Oakland County Jail for allowing an unlicensed person to drive.

The Pontiac man pleaded guilty to the charge when arraigned before Springfield Township Justice Emmett C. Leib Tuesday. An original sentence of three days was increased when Franklin failed to pay fine and costs totaling $50.

Detroiter Found Guilty for Giving Minor Beer

Pleading guilty on two charges, Harold G. Schuh, 24, of Detroit, was committed to the Oakland County Jail for a total of 100 days yesterday.

Schuh admitted his guilt on both counts of furnishing beer to a minor and driving with a defective muffler when arraigned before Justice Emmett C. Leib, of Springfield Township. Failure to pay court costs resulted in an addition of 40 days to his original sentence.

Feikens, O'Sullivan at Capital

Ike's Plans 'No Surprise,' Say State's GOP Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Announcement that President Eisenhower is going to run for a second term came as no surprise to any of Michigan's Republican leaders.

John Feikens, state Republican chairman, and Clifford O'Sullivan, Michigan's GOP national committeeman, told newsmen they had never doubted what the President's decision would be despite his recent operation for ileitis.

O'Sullivan added, "If President Eisenhower himself had entertained any doubts he would have let the people know in keeping with frankness he has evidenced throughout this picture."

The party leaders voiced their opinions after talking with members of Michigan's Republican delegation in Congress.

COBO 'DELIGHTED'

In Detroit, Mayor Albert E. Cobo, who has entered the race for the Republican nomination for governor, said he was "delighted, but not surprised" at Eisenhower's decision.

"I believe that this will strengthen considerably the Republican position here at home," Cobo said, "and it would follow that it certainly will help me."

Feikens said Eisenhower's "unquestioned popularity" will have a profound influence" on Michigan congressional races next fall.

Feikens predicted Republicans will retain control of their 11 congressional seats and may unseat Democratic incumbent Reps. Hayworth and Griffiths in the 6th and 17th districts respectively.

Feikens said Michigan Republicans are "going all out" to attract a large labor vote, adding: There are indications, too, that in Negro communities there will be some interest in the Republican Party. He expressed doubt that auto industry unemployment will be a political factor this year.

WORRIED ABOUT JOBLESS

"We are very genuinely concerned with unemployment," O'Sullivan said. "No political purpose could be served by failing to do everything we can to improve the situation."

Hal Short, Michigan GOP campaign manager, said the unemployment situation is "not as serious as it appeared to be from the pronouncements" of Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams and President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers.

Williams and Reuther estimated there were 207,000 jobless workers in the state but only 129,000 were on the unemployment compensation rolls, Short said.

Short later conceded there are more persons jobless than are receiving compensation and made his own estimate of 170,000 to 180,000 unemployed.

Kidnap Crank Call Traced to Pontiac

quested, he stated, local police will bend every effort to find the mysterious caller, who Straley says has seriously interfered in the course of justice.

MOTHER TRIES AGAIN

Twice yesterday the heart-sick mother attempted to make contact with callers who alleged they kidnaped the infant.

The Rev. Thomas Code, pastor of St. Brigid's Roman Catholic Church, told reporters of the two new fruitless attempts to keep a rendezvous after visiting Mrs. Weinberger at her home for 20 minutes this afternoon.

One of the calls came from a man and the other from a woman, but neither showed up at the appointed meeting places.

One of the rash of unfounded calls sent police and clergy on a fruitless search through a Long Island church yesterday at just about the time two men were being held without bail in Queens for sending the anguished mother on a false chase to recover the infant early Monday.

SEEKS LAW CHANGE

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Francis E. Dorn (R-NY) announced today he will introduce legislation which would grant the FBI authority to step into kidnap cases immediately after an abduction.

Under current law, the FBI must wait seven days before stepping into a kidnap case.

Dorn said: "I am trying to amend the law so that in cases such as this the FBI can go to work immediately. The mails and telephone service are considered to be interstate commerce generally, and it seems to be that this would be the best way to enable victims, such as the parents of the Weinberger child, to call on the investigative powers of the FBI without undergoing the seven-day waiting period."

The Dorn bill would broaden the Lindbergh Law, which empowers the FBI to enter kidnap cases.

Ford Foundation Has New Chief

New York University President to Succeed H. Rowan Gaither

The foundation named the 51-year-old educator to the post yesterday. He will succeed H. Rowan Gaither Jr., foundation president since March 1953 and chairman of the Board of Trustees since last May.

Gaither will continue as chairman.

The foundation was established in 1936 as a nonprofit organization to receive and administer funds for scientific, educational and charitable purposes for the public welfare.

The foundation's assets, estimated at 2½ billion dollars, have come chiefly from the Ford family and Ford Motor Co. stock.

150 Pontiac Youths to Visit Detroit Zoo

Some 150 children from the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. playgrounds will board buses Thursday noon for an afternoon at the Detroit Zoo.

The annual trip, sponsored by the city department, is the only out-of-town trip taken during the summer playground program, said Leonard T. Buzz, recreation supervisor.

The kids will ride the train through the park and visit the exhibits, returning to Pontiac by 5 p.m., Buzz said.

PROPOSED PARK SITE—This map shows the proposed future site of 15-acre park-library site made possible by the offer of O. L. Beaudette of approximately eight acres (in the shaded portion) to the city if the entire block is eventually converted to a park. Due to the Residential 3 and Commercial 1 zones in the block, the City Commission last night moved to rezone the entire block to Residential 1 to prevent any new commercial establishments from beginning in the area. A public hearing will be held before the City Plan Commission Aug. 1 on the proposal. The shaded portion (lot 35) to the extreme left of the picture, along with Beaudette's home, will be deeded to Pontiac upon their deaths. The remaining portion will be granted over a three-year period.

Hard-Drinking Khrushchev on Skids? Red Army Boss Irked at Party Capers

LONDON (INS) — Growing reports that Nikita S. Khrushchev's liking for vodka and drunken antics at public functions are displeasing other top Soviet leaders intensified speculation today that his days as Russia's boss may be numbered.

For a short while today, observers thought there might have been significance in Khrushchev's absence from the opening sessions of the two houses of the Soviet Parliament. But he was on hand later in the afternoon when the bodies met in joint session in the Kremlin.

Some observers said it is possible the first secretary of the Soviet Communist Party may be ousted or at least demoted and that former Premier Georgi Malenkov may climb back to the No. 1 spot.

There is no question but that Khrushchev's conduct at the Moscow Aviation Day party for foreign visitors was highly embarrassing to other Soviet leaders.

DRUNK AND INSULTING

He and Premier Nikolai Bulganin were said to have been drunk and Khrushchev reportedly insulted the Western visitors, including British Air Secretary Nigel Birch and, perhaps, U. S. Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. Nathan F. Twining at the June 24 party.

The British Foreign Office even went out of its way to say it had "no reason to believe" Khrushchev insulted anyone.

Regarded as significant was the fact that the nominal host of the affair, Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov, was so embarrassed by Khrushchev's conduct that he personally apologized to the Western guests. Observers pointed out that Zhukov heads the Red Army which ended the career — and life — of Secret Police Chief Lavrenti P. Beria.

Khrushchev is suffering unexpected consequences of his speech which opened the campaign to debunk Stalin. He reportedly sowed seeds of doubt among leaders of Communist parties in non-satellite countries.

For example, fellow-traveling left-wing Italian Socialist Pietro Nenni was reported by the London Daily Mail to be telling people Khrushchev is about through.

The anti-Stalin drive, it was said, has virtually destroyed the Communist regime in Poland, scene of last month's bloody workers' uprising.

BULGANIN TOO?

Khruschev's fall also might mean the end of Bulganin, observers said, as premier. They said this may lead to the reascendancy of Malenkov, whose stress on consumer goods production was popular with the Russian people, though not with Bulganin and Khrushchev.

The Daily Mail said today the clique opposing Khrushchev is headed by old Stalinists Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich. The last two are first deputy premiers.

Several London newspapers, acting as if in concert, raised the question of whether Bulganin and Khrushchev still will be around next May when Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden visits Moscow.

The Daily Mail published two articles today on the Khrushchev affair. They amounted to a flat "Yes" to this question. Is Nikita Khrushchev on his way out?

Dope Suspects Pre-trial Opens

County Narcotics Ring Faces Charges Before Circuit Court Bench

Fifteen persons, including three women, are scheduled for pre-trial examination today on charges of conspiring to violate state narcotic laws in an alleged dope ring in the southwest City area.

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor was to begin presentation of evidence in the conspiracy between Sept. 1, last year and the arrests in mid-May.

The hearing is scheduled before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum. If the suspects are bound over to Circuit Court for trial, it will be the first such conspiracy case ever tried in Pontiac.

The examination today comes after a series of postponements. All suspects arrested have demanded examination in the conspiracy.

Seven other persons named in warrants issued in May are still at large, police said. Det. Herbert Cooley, a member of the Pontiac Vice Squad which made the arrests, is the complainant in the case.

City Burglaries Solved by Police

Arrest of Detroit Man Provides Answer to Recent Breakins

With the arrest of a Detroit man here yesterday, Pontiac police say they have cracked several more recent home burglaries.

Det. Insp. Clark M. Wheaton attributes five cases of daytime larcenies to James Proffitt, 23, who was apprehended in the basement of an apartment building at 111 N. Telegraph Rd.

Detectives John DePauw, Orville Johnston and Robert Emery, who made the arrest, say that Proffitt was staying there temporarily.

Wheaton said Proffitt admitted only one of the larcenies, at 22 Delaware Ave. June 22, where a purse and $28 were taken. The pattern of the other larcenies was similar, however, Wheaton explained.

Proffitt was turned over to Detroit police who have a warrant charging him with breaking and entering, Wheaton added.

Meanwhile, a former Utica man whose confession Monday reportedly cleared up 38 home burglaries at night time, this morning waived examination on a charge of breaking and entering.

Gerald Lenz, 21 was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Monday. Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum remanded Lenz to jail under $2,000 bond.

Police say that the crimes Lenz admitted had earned him the nickname of the "Bedroom Burglar".

Shriners Install New Potentate

Deadwood, S. D. Man to Assume Leadership of 775,000 Members

He succeeds Walter Guy of Little Rock, Ark.

As Imperial Potentate, Crary will be leader of 775,000 Shriners in North America. He will command 166 temples and 17 Shrine hospitals for crippled children.

50,000 ATTENDING

A second madcap parade tomorrow night will wind up the official program before the convention breaks up Friday.

Some 10,000 took part in a 3½ hour spectacle that spread over a mile and a half of city streets yesterday.

In convention business yesterday outgoing Imperial Potentate Guy suggested public relations departments in each temple with a central office for the dissemination of Shrine business and accomplishments.

Commission Delays Sidewalk Project, Gives Lumber Yard Time to Rearrange

Construction of 170-feet of sidewalk along Virginia avenue on the city's north side, was deferred for 90 days by the City Commission Tuesday night.

Harold E. Howlett, attorney for the M. A. Benson Lumber Co., asked that the previously approved project be delayed to let the firm change its yard to permit construction of the walk.

He said the company will have to move 100 tons of coal and rebuild 500 feet of railroad siding within the yard.

BIDS DUE JULY 30

Bids on the station, estimated from $75,000 to $80,000, will be taken at 2 p.m. July 30.

Commissioners also passed a resolution by City Manager W. K. Willman to ask the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission to transfer $34,868 from the 1952 $700,000 sewage plant bond issue toward planning and construction of the city's auxiliary sewage plant.

The resignation of T. L. Harsen from the Police and Fire Trial Board was accepted with "regrets" by the commission. Harsen, a board member for 11 years, resigned because he is moving to Detroit.

His replacement and the expired term of James Flanary on the board will be discussed at the commission's next informal meeting, July 23.

A request from the Sunnyvale Chapel to hold street meetings in Pontiac was approved with the restriction that the chief of police determine locations of the meetings.

Willman was authorized to waive permit fees for all demolishing projects in the city for the razing of recently sold homes on city-purchased property.

DEEDS ACCEPTED

Warranty deeds from Thedosia Fortune and John Athanas and his wife for parcels of land needed for the Glenwood avenue extension, were accepted by the commission.

Another deed was instructed to be executed for the purchase of seven lots in Robert Herndon's Pontiac Apartment Subdivision by Anthony Tassi.

A public hearing will be held July 18 on proposed rezoning of 11 lots on the east side of Golf drive between Canterbury and the alley. The rezoning is to allow for construction of a motel on the site.

City Attorney William A. Ewart was instructed to prepare an ordinance to amend the city's building zone code to allow for the rezoning to Commercial 2 of the northeast side of Norton avenue from Florence to Johnson avenues.

At a joint meeting of the City Commission and City Plan Commission set for July 23, further discussion on a proposed change to the building ordinance as pertains to schools and hospitals will be held.

Public hearings will be held Tuesday on the following special assessment rolls to finance:

PAVING PROJECTS

Sidewalk reconstruction and change of grade on the south side of East Pike from Mariva to Jessie; sanitary sewer on Riverside drive from the trunk sewer to 70 feet west; and curb, gutter and related work on Riverside drive from Maines to Tasmania, Maines from Roselawn to Tasmania, and Bond drive from North East boulevard to the west line of the Green and Sarko Subdivision No. 1.

Confirmations and payments were established for five public improvement projects in the city.

A $5,000 bid from Anthony Tassi for nine lots in the Marquette Subdivision located on Baldwin avenue was rejected by the commission.

In final action, the group approved the Aug. 7-11 4-H Fair.

Oakland Road Bids Approved by Ziegler

Low bidders on four Oakland County state highway construction projects were announced today by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

The four county projects were among 24 in the state, with low bids totaling $1,425,359.

H. J. Brighton and Max R. Frisinger were joint low bidders for intermittent concrete pavement patching on M24 from Walton boulevard southerly, and on Orchard Lake road from Commerce road south to Pontiac trail.

Detroit Concrete Products Corp. of Detroit was awarded the contract for 7.2 miles of surfacing on M150 from Rochester north to Romeo road.

Lewis & Frisinger Co. of Ann Arbor submitted the low bid for intermittent concrete pavement patching on U.S.16 from the county line east to Farmington.

The Day in Birmingham

Nine-Hole Golf Course Sketched in Sports Areas

BIRMINGHAM—A nine-hole golf course may be included in the extensive sports areas being planned by city organizations.

The city planning commission last night endorsed a layout by City Planner Herbert Herzberg that outlined tentative areas for use of the 66-acre property near the Sewage Treatment Plant and catty-corner from the high school.

"It is basically the same as the plan originally submitted to the school board and city commission," Herzberg told the board. The plan had been referred back to the planners for further study.

The first plan had included a pitch-and-putt course, but Herzberg's sketch included the nine-hole area in the southern portion of the 66 acres. Further planning depends on how much land the proposed expansion of the sewage treatment plant will require in the southern sector.

In the northeast and northwest corners of the land, flatness permits land use for ball courts and parking.

Four softball and two hardball diamonds, two football fields, parking lots, 12 tennis courts, five horseshoe areas, three shuffleboard courts, two basketball courts, four badminton courts, and two volleyball areas are planned.

A building to house recreation equipment, rest rooms, and a center for the driver training, will be placed in close proximity to the parking and recreation area, the plan shows.

Herzberg specified that the plan is in tentative form only. The board directed him to continue with the development of plans.

The caterpillar story from Alice in Wonderland will be presented by junior high schoolers in the recreation department's drama unit over WCAR Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

Stars are Roger and Tom Fogarty, Christine DeRosier, Mary Ann Stone and Judy Apitz.

Mrs. M. L. Butzel, of Birmingham, a member of the Detroit Metropolitan Committee on Aging, has been named to a committee to form a Michigan Gerontological Society.

The society will study problems of the aged. Dr. Gordon Aldridge, Michigan State University Sociologist, will be chairman.

Registrations have been extended for Our Shepherd Lutheran school in hopes of reaching an enrollment of 100. About 60 pupils are promised now, for the parish's first Christian Day School.

Tuition is $120 per parish family, regardless of the number of pupils. For other congregations, a graded tuition scale is enforced.

Church voters this week approved a budget of nearly $10,000 to build school partitions, buy furniture and cover operation expenses for four months. It includes $900 for playground equipment.

Principal Carl Christian will be assisted by two women teachers.

"It is too early in our lives for us to anticipate how long we shall be using the old home, but we would like to make an immediate contribution either in money or other property in the area toward the initial effort of getting this project under way," the letter read.

Because the Palmer family were early residents of the city and owned an undisclosed portion of surrounding property on West Huron, Mayor Donaldson has suggested the future park be called "Palmer Park."

The city presently operates six city parks. Beaudette Park, off Orchard Lake avenue, was purchased by the city in 1919 and named after the elder Beaudette.

Because Beaudette has stipulated that no new civic buildings be erected on the site, the City Commission has ruled out building any part of the Civic Center on the block. It is the intention of the commission to group all such buildings around the City Hall.

What is considered to be the first offer to the city of property occurred and died in 1890. Owners of the Hodges Addition offered a 375 square foot plot to the city if it appropriated $100 a year for three years to maintain the site. The city aldermen refused and the land reverted back to the owners.

Avon Woman Injured After Car Strikes Tree

An Avon Township woman was in "good" condition at the Avon Center Hospital today after being injured yesterday when the car in which she was riding went off the road and struck a tree in that township.

Bernadine Belfry, 32, of the same address, the driver, was not hurt. Investigating Oakland County Sheriff Department deputy Steve Navarre said the woman apparently struck a soft shoulder causing her car to go out of control.

Recklessness Costs Dearborn Driver $100

Pleading guilty to reckless driving, Algird Grybas of Dearborn, paid a $75 fine and $25 costs in Justice Court Tuesday.

He was arraigned before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle. Earlier Grybas pleaded not guilty to a drunk driving charge.

Salvation Army Worker Held for Ring Theft

A Detroit man was charged here Tuesday with the grand larceny of two rings worth $175 from a house at 137 Wall St. Friday, Pontiac Police said.

James E. Hicks, 43, was arrested at the Detroit headquarters of the Salvation Army, where he works, Det. Insp. Clark M. Wheaton said.

Hicks allegedly took the rings while at the house to pick up clothing for the organization, Wheaton added. One ring was recovered.

Detroiter Gets 60 Days on Shoplifting Charge

A Detroit man was sentenced to 60 days in the Oakland County Jail Tuesday after pleading guilty to a reduced charge of simple larceny in Justice Court.

Raymond Arnold, 22, was jailed after paying court costs of $50 after an arraignment before Justice Allen C. Ingle, of Farmington Township.

He was arrested by State Police June 16 on a charge of stealing a radio and a pair of pajamas, valued at $36.20, from the J. L. Hudson Co. at the Northland Shopping Center, Southfield Township. Arnold demanded examination at an earlier arraignment for larceny from a building.

Pipeline Finding Will Cost State

High Court Decision Loses $20 Million in Tax Revenue for Michigan

LANSING (AP) — A decision by the State Supreme Court threatens to cost the state up to 20 million dollars a year, a top official of the State Tax Department states.

Clarence W. Lock, deputy state revenue commissioner, said the 1957 Legislature may have to provide 35 to 45 million dollars in new state revenue to make ends meet.

Much of the additional money will be needed to offset tax losses expected to result from a June 4 decision of the State Supreme Court, he said.

The court held the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. did not have to include gas piped into Michigan in computing payments under the state's annual corporation franchise tax.

"Tax executives of the state's major corporations are greatly disturbed over the implications of the decision," Lock said.

He said representatives of many of the large corporations are meeting this week in an attempt to gauge what affect the decision will have on their own tax burdens.

* * *

The companies fear that the court's decision will mean a shift of the tax burden from companies outside of Michigan to home companies, Lock said.

New Manager Running MSU's Kellogg Center

EAST LANSING (AP) — Kellogg Center, headquarters for hundreds of conferences each year at Michigan State University is breaking in a new manager.

He is Robert J. Emerson, a veteran of 13 years in the hotel business. His last job was managing the Ambassador Hotel in Washington, D. C.

Bob Considine Says:

Dizzy's Injury Is Recalled With Skepticism

WASHINGTON (INS)—Most of the baseball writers on hand for the All-Star Game spent a little time in makeup having a tear waxed on to their cheeks before writing that when the game was last played here (1937), Earl Averill broke Dizzy Dean's big toe with a liner that curtailed the great man's active baseball life by, say, five years and crimped off a quarter of a million bucks.

Matter of fact, as Shirley Povich of the Washington Post reminds me, Dean made no mention of his hurt until later. On the day itself he dismissed the Averill knock with a shrug and carried on in a bustling manner until what proved to be his downfall in that particular game.

Lou Gehrig was up and the bases were populated here and there with Yankees, the Cincinnati Redlegs of their day. Dizzy stared past that wonderful man to inspect certain rudimentary gestures being made against the leathery backdrop of the catcher's mitt of a compatriot, Gabby Hartnett.

Dizzy didn't like what Gabby called for. He gave his catcher one of the most vigorous shakeoffs in baseball history. He alone, Dizzy said by the shaking of his head, knew what to serve Gehrig. Lou hit the next pitch out of the park.

Not many days after that, Dizzy was kayoed in a game in Boston, which then had not only a National League team but another ornament named the Old North Church steeple.

He growled that his toe had been broken in the All-Star Game. After all, it was a time in baseball when few players really wanted to play in the game. They generally resented this game which helped to set up their pension fund. Diz was not especially out of order.

FAVORITE STORY

There's always a prime story when the baseball clan meets. This one belongs to Frank Slocum, who has assigned me limited rights to dine out on it.

Seems that Dusty Rhodes, hero of the 1954 World Series, returned to his home town to face a sports banquet crowd that wanted only to hurl questions at him from the floor, where several reposed.

One asked, "If Ty Cobb was playing today, what do you think he would hit?" Dusty thought a moment and said, "maybe 210, 220."

The questioner was shocked. He said: "But Ty Cobb played 24 years and had a lifetime average of 368. Why do you say he'd hit only 210-220 today."

"Craminy," Dusty said, "he's a man 65-70 years old."

NAMESAKES MEET

I was talking with Joe Lynch of the Touchdown Club last night at the free load in conjunction with the All-Star Game when my friend Maj. Joe Lynch of the Air Force came up and joined us.

It made for quite an introduction. But neither was as startled as subsequent arrival who met two Joe Lynches and promptly swore off.

One of the stars of the press room seances during the all-star affair was Bobo Newsom, who was born just a bit too late to have been immortalized by Ring Lardner.

Bobo, who now broadcasts for the Orioles, was trying to straighten out Pulitzer Prize winning Arthur Daley on some dispute concerning himself.

It reminded me of the time I wrote a magazine piece about Bo and he called me to task for reporting that he had won 31 games one season on the coast. "Won 33," he said.

"But the official records of the league say you won 31," I said.

Bobo looked at me with the manner of the falsely accused. "Who are you going to believe?" he asked.

Tax Men Miss Guess by .00003 Per Cent

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—The South Carolina Tax Commission and State Auditor J. M. Smith missed guessing the state's 1955-56 tax take by $4,000. That figures out an error of .00003 per cent.

The prediction—made in December 1954 for revenue that would not all be collected until June 30 of this year—was $119,946,000. The take was $119,950,000.

Best Way to Kill Roaches and Ants

Best Way to Kill Roaches and Ants

COCKROACHES and ants are the most difficult household pests to control. Now you can kill these pests with Johnston's Super No-Roach.

No-Roach is a white viscous substance which you apply with a brush. Within minutes it dries to form a colorless, odorless contact insecticide, that stays effective for months.

Cockroaches

Apply No-Roach to cupboard walls, baseboards, near sink and cabinets, on pipes, and wherever you see cockroaches.

Ants

Brush No-Roach around table legs and counter tops, across window sills and door sills, and across ant trails. Ants will not cross the coating. Pour a few drops into ant hills.

No-Roach is also effective against resistant roaches, spiders, silverfish, waterbugs, bed bugs and other crawling insects.

Common Sense Way

Remember, when you use Johnston's Super No-Roach, you don't have to move dishes, pots and pans, or breathe harmful vapors, as you must with contaminating sprays. Apply No-Roach just where you want it, the invisible coating stays effective for months.

CARNIVAL—2

The Knock-'Em-Down Game

Jane has just picked up a ball to try her skill at the Knock-Em-Down game, called "Nockem." This is one of the many games at the carnival.

Use your brightest colored crayons to make this a gay picture. The stands are painted Dutch blue, so they will attract attention, and the spun sugar candy is pink.

Paste down on cardboard and then cut out the whole picture. Cut around the tops of each head in the stand and fold back on the dotted line. Then you can push any head down out of sight, just as it would look if Jane hit it with a ball.

Fold the picture forward down the center on the dotted line and it will stand up. Try tossing a marble at any of the heads or aiming at one with a pea-shooter and see if you can push any down.

(This idea was first contributed by Nancy-Lee Hartman, Round Lake, Ill. Send in your suggestions for Junior Editors care of this newspaper, and it may win you $10.)

Tomorrow: Test Your Strength.

Boy, 3, Recovering From Fever of 108

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Bobbie Lineham, 3, apparently is recovering after he was overcome by heat when he accidentally locked himself in the family car during 101-degree weather.

Bobbie was unconscious and had a temperature of 108 degrees when discovered by his mother.

Doctors at a clinic here packed him in ice and administered oxygen. His temperature dropped to 105 and he was transferred to a Fort Worth hospital, where his condition was reported fair.

Doctors said a 108 temperature usually is fatal but they believed Bobbie would recover.

Israel Stages Biggest Air Raid Drill Ever

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) —Screaming air raid sirens an da series of explosions today set off the biggest civil defense air raid drills ever held in the Israeli sector of Jerusalem.

In two specified areas—the center of the city and the suburb of Beth Hakerem—traffic was halted and all persons were ordered to clear the streets and take shelter.

Response was virtually 100 per cent.

The 10-minute air raid drill was carried out on the second day of civil defense exercises here. Yesterday's program involved only members of the Israeli civil defense organization.

As the civil defense operation was being held here, the Israeli government charged Jordan — which occupies the old city of Jerusalem—with organizing fedayeen (commando) bands to carry out acts of aggression along the Israeli-Jordan demarcation line.

Butterflies do not grow.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

THE STORY: A frightened woman has asked Mike Shayne to investigate the disappearance of the body of a murdered man from room 316 at the Hibiscus Hotel. The woman says the victim is her brother. A knock comes on Mike's door and the woman believes it is the murderer, who pursued her. A man enters, introducing himself as Bert Paulson and says he is looking for his sister. He admits pursuing the woman, whom he calls Nellie.

XI

Shayne told him dryly: "She claims she doesn't know who you are. That she never saw you before in her life. She suspects that you murdered her brother, and—"

Paulson's look of astonishment was ludicrous. "I'm her brother. Didn't she tell you that?"

"No," he said, slowly. "She didn't tell me that, Paulson. She assured me she had seen the body of her murdered brother in room 316 at the Hibiscus Hotel no less than 10 minutes before you jumped at her in the corridor as she came out of the room."

Paulson's body went slack in his chair. He closed his eyes tightly and put his left hand over them as though he had to shut the glaring overhead light.

"I'm Nellie's brother," he told Shayne slowly. "I'm not dead, as you can well see. Now do you realize the condition she's in? Why I'm so worried? Why I have to find her and take care of her?"

Shayne said, "I can see that all right. If you are her brother and are telling the truth. But you see, I got a completely different story from her. She hired me to protect her from you—describing you perfectly, including the scar. And she also wants me to find out who cut her brother's throat tonight and how they got rid of the body. Until I find out which one of you is telling the truth—"

I CAN PROVE IT

"But I can prove it," said Paulson vehemently. He reached into his hip pocket for a wallet, opened it and began pulling out cards. "I've got identification. I can prove I'm Bert Paulson. You look. I don't see too well without my glasses."

Shayne didn't glance at the cards. "And I can easily prove I'm Mike Shayne. But if I told you I had a sister named Nellie who had suddenly gone crazy and thought I was going to kill her, that wouldn't prove I was her brother."

"Nellie and I lived in Jacksonville until I got pulled into the Korean war. Mother died while I was overseas, and when I came back I found Nellie living alone. She had a good job in Jax and seemed to be enjoying being on her own.

"I thought maybe it was just what she needed. Mother was always—sort of over-possessive. And Nellie never had been able to call her soul her own. She had a nervous breakdown when she was 16," he went on fiercely, "and spent several months in a sanitarium. I always felt it was entirely mother's fault. So when I came back and thought I'd settle down in Jax and Nellie could sort of keep house for me, I saw she resented it. She blew up all over the place when I suggested it, and accused me of being as bad as mother about wanting to hold her down.

JOB IN DETROIT

"Well, she was 20 and earning her own living." He spread out his hand and looked at Shayne helplessly. "So I got a job in Detroit, and from her letters I thought everything was fine. Two weeks ago I got a wire saying she was in trouble."

"What sort of trouble?"

"She didn't say. So I wired her to hold the fort and drove down—straight through in 26 hours. And when I got to Jax she'd vanished. I hired this private detective in Jacksonville, and this afternoon he reported he'd located her in Miami—at the Hibiscus Hotel, Room 316. Always before when we came to Miami we stayed at the Tropical Arms—where they knew us."

"What time did you leave Jacksonville?"

"A little before 4 o'clock."

"You weren't in much of a hurry to reach her," said Shayne dryly. "Anybody can do it in four hours."

"I had an accident the other side of Fort Lauderdale. Crazy driver smashed into my rear-end when I slowed for a light."

Paulson rubbed his forehead vaguely. "Slammed me against the windshield. Broke my glasses and half knocked me out. I had to drive slow coming on in. That delayed me a couple of hours, so it was about 9:30 when I got to the Hibiscus."

"And?" prompted Shayne when Paulson stopped again.

"Well, I went to the elevator and up to the third floor. As I walked down the corridor toward 316, I saw the door stood open and light was coming out. And when I was about eight feet away, Nellie stepped out and turned toward me. She gave one scream and started running in the other direction. I've thought and thought about it," he ended wearily, "and I admit the hall light was dim and she'd just stepped out of a brightly-lit room, so maybe she didn't recognize me in one glance."

"It wouldn't explain," said Shayne sharply, "her story about being registered at the Roney Plaza Hotel with her brother, and going to the Hibiscus at 9:30 in response to a call from him and finding him lying on the bed in 316 with his throat slit wide open."

"But there wasn't anybody in the room—dead or alive," protested Paulson.

Dream Realized for New Yorkers —Underground

NEW YORK (INS) — New York City has unveiled its first air-conditioned subway train—a sleek, six-car affair, complete with germ-killers, dust removers, de-humidifiers and soothing music, but no dancing.

New York Transit Authority Chairman Charles E. Patterson, after a special exhibition run on the new underground marvel, said "definitely no dancing allowed," as lively waltz strains floated through the car and set feet tapping among the special passengers.

The air-conditioned train goes into regular service today.

It will be shifted from time to time on various New York subway lines to give as many passengers as possible a chance to ride in it.

N.Y. Central Asks Halt of Toledo-Elkhart Run

ADRIAN (In — The New York Central railroad says pay for crewmen on the Toledo, Ohio-Elkhart, Ind., run exceeded passenger revenues "six or seven times."

The railroad testified at opening of a state Public Service Commission hearing on a NYC petition for discontinuing passenger service on the 140-mile route.

Since 1955, the railroad said, the train between the two cities has averaged only eight passengers a day.

$64,000 Winner Proves to Be Real Champion

In all this mad welter of television giveaways, panel games and adult guessing contests, the home viewers have been treated to a weird and challenging assortment of human beings.

Some appeal to everyone.

Some are fifty-fifty. You can take 'em or "leave 'em be."

Yet, through all this curious cross section of humanity, we offer the Number One Hero, male or female, as Mr. Peter Freuchen.

He's our boy.

He's Number One.

After him — just relax.

You can rank the breath-taking girls, the handsome boys, the appealing youngsters and the ring tailed chimpanzees in any order you please. Let your conscience be your guide.

Peter Freuchen is first.

The Danish newspaper correspondent tore through the seven seas at a faster clip than any craft since the beginning of time. He was the absolute master of all the questions they could conjure. At times Peter created the impression that he felt just a wee mite sorry that the Encyclopedia Britannica didn't delve more deeply into abstruse and baffling matters of the deep.

Always he was kindly.

Always he was shy.

And always he was warm, human and a tremendously fascinating personality.

Personally, we believe Peter has sailed over every individual wave in the entire seven seas. We suspect he has caught every fish that exists. We are certain he's the only man in recorded history that calls Davy Jones by his first name; and lastly we believe he's a direct descendant of Father Neptune.

Peter, we're proud of you.

Plenty of Iron Remains

Michigan has had a big stake in the iron industry for many years because of the quantities of ore which have been mined in our Northern Peninsula. Then came the fabulous Mesabi Range in nearby Minnesota, with its vastly lessened costs due to open pit mining.

By the time these sources had been pretty well used up, huge new supplies were opened up in Labrador and the northern coast of South America. Also new methods have made possible the utilization of taconite ore, less rich in iron, from Michigan's mines.

Now with these later sources hardly more than touched by industry, a rich new deposit has been discovered near Dillon, Mont. There mining engineers have established the presence of a vein of ore twelve thousand feet long and nine hundred feet wide with reserves estimated at forty-two million tons of iron. In fact engineers say that this deposit might develop into several hundred million tons.

It seems fair to believe that there still are huge deposits of iron lying undiscovered beneath the earth's surface. Meanwhile, other metals and substitutes for metal are coming into increasing use. So, despite the tremendous amounts of iron being used, some as iron and some in the manufacture of steel, any threat of shortage in supply lies far in the future.

Manistee Gets Air Base

What apparently is the final action places Michigan's new Air Force Base in Manistee County, instead of Kalkaska. That was the action taken recently by House and Senate conferences after the site of the proposed base had been shifted back and forth several times.

Politics, pure and simple, was behind the conflict over the base's location. Congress still has to pass the bill, but it is not now anticipated that the decision of the conferees will be upset.

The House had favored Manistee, while the Senate had backed Kalkaska.

This new base will provide added protection against possible future attacks on Detroit and Chicago from across the Arctic Circle.

It is high time that the disagreement over the site was ended, so that construction can begin. It is comparatively unimportant whether it is to be located in Manistee or Kalkaska Counties. The important thing is to get it built and in operation.

The Man About Town

We Beat Europe

Our Own County Has Great Variety of Tree Species

Settle down: What some people seem unable to do even when they are forced to settle up.

According to the findings of Harlowe O. Whittemore,

Professor of Landscape Architecture at the University of Michigan, Oakland County has more native species of trees than all of Europe. Our county, with 900 square miles of area, has 90 such species, while the entire continent of Europe, with 3,000,000 square miles, has 85. The species in each case include only those which will reach a diameter of eight inches when full grown.

But Oakland County's trees are disappearing in the face of our residential growth, and need replenishing. According to

Lyle Abel,

County Agricultural Agent, it is quite easy to get the seedlings to start a new growth. The Michigan Department of Conservation has them for you, and you can get full particulars by writing them at Lansing. Quick action is necessary if you wish to get them for fall planting.

The other day I made mention in here of

C. George Widdifield,

Rector of All Saints Episcopal Church here in Pontiac. One of my colleagues at The Press tells me that George is a really fine golfer and would be a top notcher if he put more time on the game. Sometimes he doesn't play for a couple of weeks.

Last week he got in a big schedule for him and played three times, twice at Orchard Lake and once at Bloomfield. His three rounds were 80—79—82 which is tolerably stout shooting for an amateur who doesn't take the whole thing too seriously.

Thanks are extended for that letter with a Pontiac postmark and from

"A Real Baseball Fan," who very clearly points out the

"Real Trouble with the Tigers."

He says they have too many players who can go through a whole season without an error, who always bat 1,000, never strike out, and also are the best umpires —but won't give up their hot dogs and come out of the grandstand.

'Twas the pleasure of old MAT to enjoy the ride from Detroit to Greenfield village Monday in a 94 year old train, pulled by a wood burning 1860 engine. The occasion was the presentation of a 600-ton coal burning locomotive, largest ever built, which was accepted by president of the village, and will stand besides the 1860 and other early models.

William Clay Ford,

Our sincerest appreciation goes to

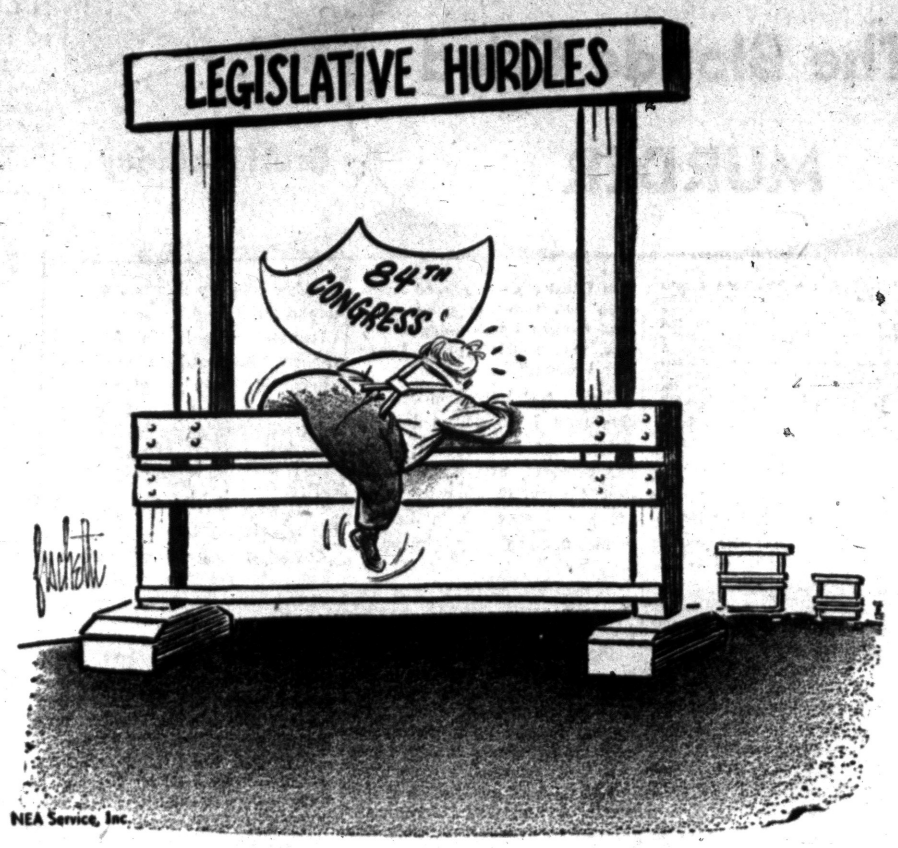

Congressman George A. Dondero

Can't Say Much for His Form

David Lawrence Says:

Big Giveaway Sponsors Defeated

WASHINGTON — The so-called "liberals" are having no difficulty nowadays fixing the blame for the refusal of Congress to continue its "giveaways" to foreign countries in as large a quantity as before. They are saying that President Eisenhower is culpable. The line taken is that somehow the President did not browbeat Congress, that he did not exercise his leadership, or that he was sick or indifferent or something.

But the truth is that sponsors of bigger programs of foreign aid are themselves largely responsible for the failure of Congress to appropriate as much or even more money than the President requested.

For the palpable propaganda to get Congress to spend more money abroad was started a few months ago by the so-called "liberals" and was carried on vigorously by their auxiliaries here and abroad, particularly by certain sections of the press and even by many members of the New York City clique who have access to the President. They overplayed their hand. Members of Congress became suspicious and resentful.

ARGUMENTS APLENTY

The argument was widely made that America was too much concerned with "military alliances," that this was a time to "win men's minds," that what was needed was something "imaginative" in the way of foreign policy, that the United States must not insist on extending aid to foreign countries "with strings attached," and that the Russians were being successful in their policies of "competitive coexistence." Also a lot of dispatches were coincidentally sent from abroad designed to prove that America was "losing prestige."

The Congress, however, didn't fall for any of this, though there were a few speeches planted here in Congress by the so-called "liberals" to emphasize their arguments. Such speeches were difficult for some of the Democrats to make because their own brethren simultaneously were engaged in cutting down the President's program in an effort to put him on the spot.

As a matter of fact, if political theory were realistically applied, the finger of criticism would be pointed today not at President Eisenhower but at the Democratic party which controls both Houses of Congress. The Democratic leaders told the nation in the 1954 campaign that they would cooperate with the Republican President. The rank and file of the Democrats, however, have not followed their own leadership.

DIFFERENT TUNE TODAY

So today the song is different. Now it's the President who is said to be at fault "for not leading vigorously enough," and it's the Republicans in his own party who are being held responsible by these critics. Indeed, the President is being openly urged to split with his own party, to call his own leaders names, to "purge" them.

All this overlooks the plain fact that for nearly 20 years now no party in Congress has been sure of a majority on important issues and no President has been able to "lead" his party in that sense. The reason is that there are four major blocs in Congress. Both parties are divided.

Eisenhower's "leadership," for example, isn't a bit more effective than was Truman's or Roosevelt's on legislative issues. Thus, Truman faced continuously a split Democratic party on civil rights and on labor legislation. The Taft-Hartley Act was passed over his veto by a coalition of Democrats and Republicans.

Roosevelt again and again had the same experience with such a coalition. It beat his Supreme Court bill. He tried the "purge" system—butting into party primaries—and lost in almost every instance. Yet Eisenhower is being urged today to intervene in the Wisconsin Republican primary and thus assure victory for a Democratic nominee.

BLOCS STYMIE IKE

As leadership goes, Eisenhower is doing about as well as can be expected in dealing with a Southern Democratic bloc that is against federal aid for education, a Northern Democratic bloc that wants it, a Republican bloc of independents who vote against "giveaways" of all kinds and a Republican bloc of administration stalwarts who go along with him on almost everything.

The Internationally-minded spenders ought, however, to be happy with the results. They should consider themselves lucky to get $4,000,000,000 out of Congress. The other $900,000,000 which has been cut out of the program will go for armament.

The Air Force enthusiasts will see to that, and, incidentally, isn't it a Democratic senator who is leading the fight for more and more money for air power and an unbalanced budget? One wonders how a Republican president can exercise "leadership" over Democrats in Congress who are aspirants for the presidency.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doctor Cautions Readers on Fictitious Miracle Drug

Some readers may remember that about two years ago I, too, hailed a miracle. I lost my head and described here some effects of a new medicine, effects which, I'm ashamed to admit, I mistook for evidence of improvement surpassing understanding. A few days later it became all too evident that there was no real improvement in the patient's condition, but just more prolonged relief of pain than ordinary analgesics such as aspirin give. Still worse, a month or two later reports appeared in the medical journals, telling of grave and even fatal toxic effects of the "miracle medicine" in some instances. I passed many sleepless nights worrying about it, but I guess God heard my prayer.

What I have to say now is that there's a reason why, except that one mistake, for which I apologized here two or three times, I have avoided mention or discussion of miracle or wonder drugs, particularly derivatives of exotic plants introduced under various trade names and natural or synthetic hormone products.

I have searched assiduously and at first hopefully for clinical evidence of actual cure or even lasting improvement of chronic joint disability by one of these new drugs. When I referred to this here, one reader protested that she had experienced tremendous relief from arthritis, thanks to (she named the wonder drug). But when I tried to get in communication with her physician she demurred. Also she mentioned casually that she still took injections of the remedy from time to time, just in case.

To the best of my knowledge nothing has happened since May 11, '54, to nullify the frank statement in the Bulletin of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, released for that date:

"It should now be recognized that treatment with various drugs available today has not been shown to alter the natural course of the disease in a significant manner."

Yet thousands of persons with chronic joint disability are "trying" such treatment today.

Even though it seems to some doctors that I "take the attitude that everyone is out of step but Brady," I repeat that what doctors call "arthritis" they cannot define in terms of pathology, but the name "arthritis" sounds as scientific as all get out.

Forget just who happens to be out of step, and send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz. The difference between "arthritis" and rheumatiz is that I define rheumatiz so clearly that any intelligent reader will understand precisely what I'm talking about.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Case Records of Psychologist

Don't Judge Man by Car He Drives

Floyd's warning is much needed in America. Many fathers spend more time polishing their new automobile than in setting a shining example of moral behavior before their youngsters. A lot of men even devote more training to their coon dogs than to their kids. So read Floyd's terse warning and quit trying to fourflush the neighborhood.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-309: Floyd G., aged 37, is an automobile salesman in Ohio.

"Dr. Crane, I make a pretty good income," he informed me when I had addressed the Rotary Club of his city recently.

"But I marvel at the stupidity of the average person in money matters.

"For example, most of the working people to whom I sell automobiles want to buy a new car, instead of a modestly priced but very serviceable auto within their budget.

"Why, I don't drive a new car myself, and I am in the automobile business! I figure I can't afford that extra dough.

"Why should I spend $2,600 in cold cash for auto transportation when I can pick up bargains at $1,000 that look like new and give me just as many miles to the gallon? Thus, I save the extra $1,600 for other things.

"But I don't dare talk like this to my prospects, for they seem hell bent on nothing but new cars.

"And if I don't make the sale, they'll go right across the street to a competitor and buy a new car from him.

"So I sell them new cars when I know they can't afford them. They don't look ahead and their wives will be nervous wrecks quarreling with their mates when the next payments come due.

"Why will people with the least money strive so hard to squander it on the most showy type of merchandise?"

EGO HUNGER

"Ego hunger" is one of the simplest answers.

People want to feel important. That is a universal desire of mankind.

The average person feels somewhat inferior in both education and social standing. So he wants to move into a higher social stratum.

"If I drive as swanky an auto as the banker does or if my wife wears as ritzy a fur coat as does my employer's wife, then people may think I am a big shot," he subconsciously thinks to himself.

That craving to lift ourselves to a higher social plane is one of the surefire rules that advertisers rely upon when they stampede people into smoking cigarettes or drinking liquor.

They simply run testimonials in their ads from so-called pacesetters. Famous baseball stars or other athletes are employed to coerce the thoughtless teenage boys.

Cosmetic firms employ aristocratic women belonging to the Social Register, who acclaim their cold creams, lipstick, rouge and other beauty aids.

And for the uncritical thinkers who have a yen to be scientific, the advertisers depict physicians in white coats, sucking on a certain brand of cigarette or holding a cocktail.

Doctors endorse my cigarette (or liquor)," is the subconscious thought which the advertisers realize will then be retained in the mind of the average person.

DOUBLECROSSED CHILDREN

Parents, don't doublecross your children by creating the false notion that fur coats and new cars make you big shots.

The important test of character is what you are doing in life to make this world a better place in which to live.

Gangsters chronically sport big cars and mink coats! Clergymen and teachers do not.

Yet the latter are planting roses in life, whereas the gangsters and similar nitwits are planting thistles.

So be sure you don't confuse your children's sense of values by an abnormal craving to ritz the neighbors and show off.

Culture and morality have no price tags. A modest income that permits only a jalopy, is preferred to the swagger behavior of those who are frenzied in their desire to "keep up with the Joneses."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'More Opportunity Means Decrease in Delinquency'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am somewhat perplexed by the big question of juvenile delinquency and what's to be done.

Recently a 17-year-old Negro girl pleaded for a chance to work and pay her way through college. She's not alone . . . many more are confronted with the same situation. They beg for a decent chance to an honest job to further their ambitions.

Something should be done to provide work for these aggressive youngsters. If college were in reach of more, we would have less need for juvenile courts. A college student isn't exposed to crime. Idle hands and minds are easy to be led astray.

So merchants, factories, any employment concern . . . take down your "not hiring" sign and open the door of opportunity to our future worthwhile citizens of tomorrow. Their futures lie in your hands, the future of our country in theirs.

V. P. J.

'Why Blame Us All for Small Group?'

I have a word to say about teenagers. I'm one of them. About ten per cent of our number, or even less, are on the loose a lot of the time. They have no restraint and no one at home steers them. They do what they please and it isn't always nice.

They're the ones that get in trouble. They're the ones that defy the police, smash property, insult the public, drink too much and cause all of us to suffer from a bad name. I think the top 90 per cent are about the same as teenagers have always been, like our fathers and mothers and grandfathers and grandmothers. The bottom ten per cent of our group is lower morally, physically and mentally than the bottom ten per cent of the other generations.

But why do the other generations blame all of us for the sins of the bottom ten per cent? And furthermore, the ten per cent at the bottom probably got that way because their fathers and grandfathers did a lousy job in bringing them up.

Soviets Woo West Berlin With Gift of Radio Center

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The huge Radio House in Berlin has been turned over to the West Berlin city government unconditionally.

The return of this building, which once housed the Reichsrundfunk and which formed a Soviet-occupied islet in the British sector since the war, is an important gesture of Russian goodwill.

It has been done in a city which was the focal point of the cold war and which thus far has felt few effects of the new wind blowing from the East.

Gen. A. S. Chamov, Soviet commandant in Berlin, and West Berlin's Dr. Otto Suhr signed a protocol on the return of the block-long communications center in a ceremony at Soviet headquarters in Karlshorst, East Berlin.

How big a gesture this is can be gauged by recalling that for the past four years a Soviet military guard has occupied the otherwise abandoned building solely for the purpose of denying its use to the West.

HARDLY DAMAGED

The building was hardly damaged during the war. The Soviet-controlled Berlin Radio, which took it over by agreement among the four powers, continued to operate it even during the famous days of the Soviet blockade. It was a very vituperative organ of anti-Western propaganda.

In July 1952, when Soviet "pinprick" measures angered Berliners and the Western allies, British troops put barbed wire around the building one night, posted guards and ruled that henceforth only Germans having a special pass could enter it.

This is the first time that the Soviets have dealt with the West Berlin city government, which they do not presume to recognize legally, any more than the Western allies recognize the East Berlin Communist regime.

The move is attributed to the Soviet wish to have East and West Germans negotiate directly on the question of German reunification, and part of a Soviet "softening up" policy toward the West Berlin city government.

FOUR-POWER BASIS

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has insisted that the German reunification question be settled on a four-power basis. But the Reds refuse this, knowing that the East Berlin government would be defeated in free all-German elections.

* * *

Adenauer, in arguing for approval of an armed forces draft law in Bonn, said, "There is no change in Soviet policy; they still want to grab Europe."

British Lords Kick Out Stormy No-Hanging Bill

LONDON (AP) — The House of Lords has delayed abolition of hanging—Britain's only form of capital punishment—at least until next March.

The Lords last night overwhelmingly rejected the controversial abolition bill. Their action sent the measure back to the House of Commons. The bill can still become law if the lower house approves it again one year after its passage last March 13.

Polio Strikes Boy, 14, 2nd Time in 13 Years

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP)— Robert Shipman Jr., 14, has been admitted to the Sister Kenny Memorial Hospital for the second time with polio.

Since the hospital opened in 1950 three patients were admitted for the second attack of the disease. Robert was first stricken in 1943.

Red Chamber Backs Disarmament Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—The Supreme Soviet met today to appeal to the world's parliaments for backing of Russia's disarmament proposals and of the Japanese Parliament's call for an end to nuclear weapon tests.

These items topped a five-point agenda adopted by the lower house of the Soviet Parliament in an 18-minute opening session.

Soviet government sources have said "nothing sensational" was in prospect for the meeting. Recent calls by government leaders and the press for a greater degree of parliamentary democracy indicated argument and debate would be greater than at any meeting of the Supreme Soviet since Lenin's time. But the usual blanket approval of all policies of the Kremlin leadership was expected.

President Lacks Leadership, Says Harriman

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman has charged that President Eisenhower demonstrated "lack of leadership" in dealing with the nationwide steel strike.

The governor, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, said at a news conference yesterday that Eisenhower doesn't seem to have any conception of the responsibilities of the presidency."

Harriman held there was a "lack of understanding" in the national administration "of the functions of mediation."

The governor responded to reporters' questions on other topics this way:

1. He was "very much encouraged" by the progress of his campaign.

2. He would include discussion of civil rights in a talk Saturday at a meeting of Young Democrats in Asheboro, N.C.

3. He placed great value on the "advice and support" of former President Harry Truman. (Harriman had been asked if he thought Truman's support would be "vital" in winning the nomination.)

4. Newsmen who wanted to determine whether Truman would support Harriman for the nomination would have to ask Truman.

The former President has said he intends to remain neutral in the race for the party nomination.

Wife, 17, Saves Burning Mate With Body Hugs

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP)—A 17-year-old bride of four weeks was credited with saving the life of her husband after ignited gasoline turned his body into a torch last night.

Ernest Leroye Strawn, 19-year-old construction worker, was cleaning asphalt from his clothes with gasoline when the flame from a nearby water heater ignited the fumes.

"There were flames all over him. I looked for a towel or sheet to wrap around him. I couldn't find one. So I wrapped my arms around him and pulled him against me. I held him and hugged him all over. That smothered most of the fire. Then he saw the bed and rolled up in a bed spread," Mrs. Strawn said.

Hospital attendants said Strawn was in a "very serious condition." Mrs. Strawn was treated for burns on her arms and her foot.

Their two-room home was destroyed by the fire.

You Can Roll a Silver Dollar—It'll Rol-l-l

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—There were plenty of offers to help two deliverymen when they dropped a bag they were carrying.

The bag, destined for a downtown bank, contained 1,000 silver dollars.

The dollars scattered across the sidewalk and into a gutter. A bank official said most of them were recovered.

Latest Nuclear Test Biggest, Says Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's national Weather Bureau said the United States today apparently set off the largest nuclear blast in this year's series of tests at the Bikini testing grounds.

The Central Meteorological Observatory announced that weather stations throughout the country recorded atmospheric changes indicating a nuclear blast around 3 a.m. (1 p.m., EST, Tuesday) in the direction of Bikini Atoll. The amplitude readings were the highest recorded on the sensitive barometer since the current series of tests began in early May.

The shock waves continued an hour.

It was the sixth Japanese report of a possible nuclear explosion since the United States on May 21 detonated a hydrogen bomb in the Bikini area. That test was watched by U.S. newsmen, but the United States has neither confirmed nor denied the subsequent Japanese reports.

Failure to Adjust to Retirement Shaves Years Off Living to an Old Age

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A Detroit doctor said today that persons who fail to adjust well to retirement can usually expect to live just about two years after they quit their jobs.

Dr. Charles Sellers told the Ninth Annual Conference on Aging at the University of Michigan that the arbitrary age of 65 is not necessarily a good age to retire.

Speaking at a workshop in the physician's role in helping older people keep their health, he said that retirement for reasons of disability was quite another thing, however.

"Retirement is not the blissful state that some hard working persons envision," Sellers said. "It soon becomes a great bore, a dreary existence, and, unless something is found to take the place of previous occupation, depression sets in.

"These persons who fail to make a satisfactory adjustment to the rigors of retirement usually have a life span of approximately two years after complete idleness has been initiated."

Sellers added, "retirement amounts to social rejection and intimates uselessness." But he said, he is certain that many people reaching 65 are mentally and physically capable of continuing useful activity.

Docotrs, he said, should advise bot employes and employers of this fact.

"There is a great need," he said, "for initiation and guidance of retired individuals into some purposeful project or activity so that they will not just vegetate until the bell tolls."

Last night, Dr. Lowell T. Coggeshall, special assistant to the Secretary of Health, Eeucation and Welfare, said the government is taking a new interest in the problems of the aging. He said new buildings and research programs point up that interest.

Dr. Coggeshall said the government duing the coming year will make 184 million dollars available for research on chronic diseases and disabilities, the No. 1 problem of the nation's aged.

Legislation now is pending which would authorize a three-year program providing matching federal funds for construction of medical research facilities on diseases of old age, Dr. Coggeshall added.

He advocated action to cut the cost of medical care for the aged, noting that "two-thirds of all Americans over 65 had in 1954 incomes of less than $1,000."

He also recommended grants-in-aid to states to support health services for older people and additional funds for research into chronic diseases.

Another speaker, William B. Kountz, president of the American Gerontological Society, said that doctors in the past have been most concerned with medicine for younger persons.

"Now," he said, "treatment and control of disease in older people has been much improved and the trend is to better health and to a brighter outlook."

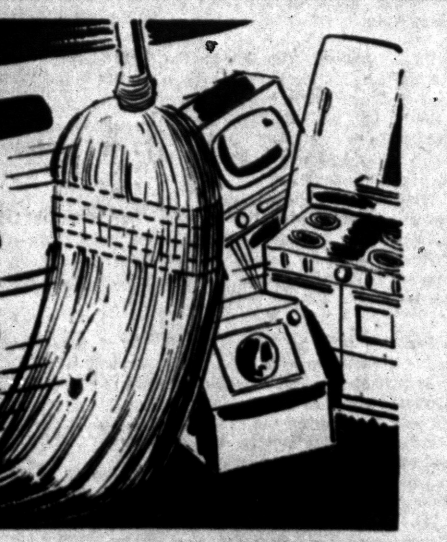

Nevertheless, Kountz said, there is too little emphasis on the preventative aspects of old age diseases.

Many doctors "stack up most diseases that occur in older people and call them arterial sclerosis, and shake their heads and say 'it is inevitable.'", he said.

Dr. Johan Bjorksten of the Bjorksten Research Foundation at Maddison, Wis., said science may be able to extend man's life expectancy to 110 or 120 years.

Chicago Seeking Ike Farm Talk

GOP Out to Capture Midwest Farmer Vote; Speech Could Do It

CHICAGO (AP)— President Eisenhower will be asked to make a major farm address in Chicago to spearhead a Republican drive for farm votes.

Dan Thornton, who heads the Republican National Committee's new Midwest farm headquarters, said he has had indications from the White House staff that the President might make the speech during the campaign.

Thornton's announcement to newsmen came after the former governor of Colorado met with Midwest party leaders and mapped campaign plans to win the farm vote for the GOP.

Thornton said he himself will kick off the farm vote drive with a speech at the Iowa Republican Convention in Des Moines July 20. He said that during the campaign Secretary of Agriculture Benson and top officials of his department will head speakers who will travel through the Midwest farm states.

He expressed gratification at Eisenhower's announcement reaffirming his decision to run for re-election, saying it was "reassuring to all American citizens, and especially to farmers, that their freedom will be preserved."

Thornton said he would consider a Chicago farm speech by the President a Republican defense of the administration's policies. He said he will recommend the address be made in Chicago as it is "the heart of the farm country and a Democratic stronghold."

* * *

He charged the Democrats had failed to solve farm problems and said Democratic leadership approached socialistic thinking on the farm situation.

Military Slapped for 'Land-Grabbing'

ATLANTA (AP)—Officials of the National Assn. of Soil Conservation districts say the government is swallowing up too much good farm land for military bases.

At a meeting yesterday, the officials said the $2,132,886,000 military construction bill just sent to the White House represented an increasing land-grabbing trend of the military.

"The military says they always have to have strategic land for bases and land always turns out to be good farm land," said Clair P. Guess Jr. of League City, Tex., program adviser of the association.

Hal Boyle Says:

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments of a pavement Plato:

If you are a middle-aged do-it-yourself fan, now is the time to start whittling a cane and making your own wheelchair.

It'll save you money later.

For you'll need these items when you grow old, and by the time you do grow old they may be in short supply—for America is facing a boom in old folks.

A University of California psychiatrist said there were only 13 million Americans over 65 in 1950, but by 1975 there will be 18 million.

And after that there will be more and more, until old people will be stepping all over each other and getting into each other's gray hairs.

As a middle-aged man myself, who will hit 65 in 1976 during the cold month of February, I find the thought of growing old somewhat depressing—for the first time in my life.

THE BEST IS YET

Until now I have put a great deal of store in Rabbi Ben Ezra's saying, "Grow old along with me—the best is yet to be, the last of life for which the first was made."

Now I'm not so sure. If a shady scientist stopped me and whispered, "Psst, Mac, I've got some pills here I invented that'll postpone old age"—well, darned if I don't think I'd buy a bottle of them.

It would certainly be a great temptation. For being old isn't what it used to be. Its serene advantages are being lost. In less than half a century the values and virtues of the generations have been turned upside down.

I was born in an America booming with so many children they were taken for granted. The worship of youth hadn't begun. There weren't so many old people around that people felt they were in the way.

A child was stringently taught to show respect for his elders, no matter whether they had done much worthwhile or not. To paraphrase the Army saying, we saluted the gray hairs not the man.

It was felt in the community that anybody who hit 65 or 70, even though he remained as big a fool as ever, certainly deserved at least courtesy from the young.

To grow old then was regarded as an achievement in itself—as it was, considering the rigors of life and the kind of medicines people dosed themselves with.

OLDSTERS VENERATED

To be respectful to old men and women never was a struggle with me. I always venerated them as a child and loved to listen to them by the hour.

Although they may not have been founts of wisdom they certainly were the repositories of wonderful memories and strange tales of bygone times.

To this day oldsters still hold the same fascination for me. I rarely find even the most garrulous of them boring.

Old people, having known more of life, generally can converse more interestingly than young people, with the possible exception of very young children.

But the sad paradox of our civilization is that while we are entering an old folks' boom in term of numbers, and our old people are healthier than the aged of previous times, we manage to make so many of them feel useless and unwanted.

We chain many of them to the idleness of a retirement they do not want. They offer the fruits of long experience and industry meets them at the door with the unwelcome mat.

AGE A CRIME?

Sometimes, in our mad pursuit and idolatry of youth, it seems almost as if we really regarded growing old as a crime against nature.

* * *

But the real crime lies the other way. It is a crime against human nature to shove the old out of the way, when they still have much to offer, and treat them as calendar cripples.

Red-Held Poland Hates Germany More

(Katharine Clark was the first American reporter to enter Poznan after the bloody "bread and freedom" riots in that Polish city late in June. Today she begins to tell the story of what life now is like inside Red-ruled Poland.)

By KATHARINE CLARK

WARSAW — (INS)—Poland can break the heart of an American visitor.

The astonishment of a soldier at a road block — and his great courtesy — when he learns you are an American, the hope in the eyes of an old woman, the eager questions of young people — even some Communists—cannot fail to touch you.

With a few, it may be suspicion —but with most the reaction to an American is one of friendship and delight.

From the moment you register in a hotel and see the excitement your passport produces, you must be on your guard. There are rules an American learns quickly:

Guard well the people who risk so much to see you.

Do not mention their names carelessly—if at all.

Learn to understand when a Pole starts talking about the weather.

Watch the doors of restaurants and who comes in them.

If a friend suddenly says he thinks you must be tired — be tired and go home.

Understand what is meant by, "Oh, you know how it is!"

Do not seek after people too much—just be around.

Few Poles in Poland do not want to talk to you. They buttonhole you. And they all have a different tale to tell of the tragic history of Poland and themselves.

TICKET TO SPEAK

In one day the visitor relives the whole war — and the Russian occupation — and becomes emotionally exhausted. But this is not what the Poles risk so much to see you about. Those life histories are only identity cards. Those histories are their way of saying they have a right to speak about America's policy in eastern Europe.

And the consensus is that America has too quickly forgotten the war. There is no Pole here who does not hate the Germans. He does not draw a line between East and West Germans. He hates all Germans. The great focal point of emotion in Poland today remains Germany.

One anti-Communist put it this way:

"Five years of German occupation were so horrible they seem even worse than the past 10 years under Russians. I admit it was because there was a war then but today we are a weary people. We only want peace, a home and a chance for a few pleasures. The Russians may have robbed us of our liberty but most of us are still alive. In the five years the Germans were here—9½ million people were lost."

This does not mean the Poles are happy at Russian control. They welcome any hope of being free. But they do not want America to depend so much on Germany in Europe.

One Pole said:

"If war comes between America and Russia, our Communist government will be on the side of the Russians, but 90 per cent of our people will take to the forests to fight against the Russians. However, if America has Germany for an ally against Russia, the Polish people must have America's guarantee that she will control Germany before even one Pole will fight against Russia."

It is easy, the Poles say, for America to talk about resistance by them. We understand resistance also, they say, but we have two sides to resist. Eventually we will be free of Russia but America must keep us free of Germany.

As we said, Poland can break the heart of an American visitor.

Hearing on Racetrack

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — A public hearing will be held July 30 on the request of a syndicate headed by Dr. Clayton T. Stubbs for permission to operate a harness racetrack here. State Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis said interested parties will be heard prior to a hearing later in Detroit on background of the syndicate members.

Boat Flips on River, Drowns Tuscola Man

CARO (AP) — A Tuscola County man, unable to swim, drowned Tuesday night when his motorboat flipped over on a sharp turn while he and a friend were cruising on the Cass River just south of Caro.

Sheriff's deputies said Eli Ashcroft, 35, of Novesta Township, went under immediately when the boat overturned. His companion, Mealvin Reamer, also of Tuscola County, clung to the capsized boat until rescued.

15 'Must' Laws Listed by Ike

Asks Democrats' Help to Push Bills Before Congress Adjourns

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has tabbed 15 legislative proposals—headed by foreign aid funds and school construction—as matters he hopes Congress will act on before adjournment.

Eisenhower pushed his requests by personal telephone calls to Democratic leaders here after talking them over with Republican Senate and House leaders at a meeting in Gettysburg, Pa.

Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas disclosed the President had telephoned him and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) about the impending adjournment of Congress and "certain legislative matters."

Johnson would not quote the President on legislative desires, but said Eisenhower thanked him for several matters that Congress had handled.

However, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said in Gettysburg that Eisenhower had 15 "priority" items which he hoped would get through Congress before adjournment.

The foreign aid bill led the list, Knowland said, adding the President and the GOP leadership hope the federal aid to school construction program can be reinstated. It was killed in the House last week.

Famed Bombers of World War II Being Dishonored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Remember the Enola Gay and the Swoose?

"It breaks your heart," said Paul Garber, head of the National Air Museum.

But, he said, the Smithsonian Institution hasn't been able to build an air museum building and there is no other place for the ships.

The Enola Gay, a B29 that wrote history by dropping the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima, Japan, Aug. 6, 1945, is rusting. Her windows have been broken out, her instruments smashed.

Instruments have been stolen from the Swoose, her radio gear has been smashed, one door is hanging on its hinges.

The Swoose gained fame as a hodgepodge of parts from B17s salvaged by airmen after Japanese bombers struck Clark Field in the Philippines Dec. 18, 1941. She flew many combat missions against the Japanese before retirement and an honored goodwill tour of the world.

Southern Democrats to Plan Convention Unity

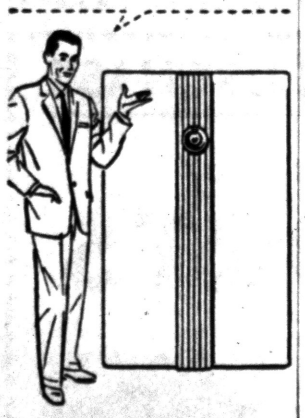

ATLANTA (AP)—State Democratic party chairmen and other party leaders in the South will meet this weekend in Atlanta to discuss plans for Southern unity at the national convention.

The Atlanta Constitution said today that South Carolina's committee chairman, Neville Bennett, had mailed letters to 11 Southern chairmen inviting them to such a caucus.

Winter Hits Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Wintry weather gripped the Australian states of New South Wales and Victoria today. Sydney was hit by icy winds and heavy rains, while the Blue Mountain area 60 miles west of the city reported its heaviest snowfall in 10 years.

Security for You

Look Over Your Records for Any Possible Errors

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Your boss and the Social Security people, being human, make mistakes — mistakes which if not corrected could lower your Social Security payments when you retire.

Suppose, for example, your boss in reporting your wages to Social Security makes an error which results in the report showing you made $500 less than you actually made. Unless it's caught at Social Security headquarters, your wage record for the year will be credited with less than you made.

Since your future Social Security payments are based on what this wage record shows, the error will be reflected in your future benefits.

Or, suppose the Social Security people somehow get your Social Security number fouled up—two of the numbers are reversed or one of them copied incorrectly. Then, it's possible that your wages might be added to the record of the person with the number which was incorrectly listed for you.

TIME LIMIT SET

As in the case where your boss made the $500 mistake, your Social Security wage record would be wrong and the error will be reflected in your future payments.

To protect yourself against such errors, the Social Security Administration has a simple way for you to catch them. But, generally you must do so within three years after they're made since there's a time limit for correcting official records.

Since most errors will result in your not being credited with the correct wages in your record at Social Security headquarters, that's the place to look for them.

To do this, the Social Security Administration has a postcard form called a "Wage Statement Request" which you can use to get a rundown of your wage record. The form is available at any Social Security office or you can get one by writing to: Social Security Administration, Candler Building, Baltimore 2, Md.

JUST FILL CARD

It's a simple form which only requires you to fill in your Social Security number, date of birth, name and address. Once you've filled out the card, all you need do is paste on a two cent stamp and drop it in a mailbox. The card is self-addressed.

Within a few weeks, you'll be mailed a special form showing a breakdown of your wages for the previous three or four years. It will only show the amount on which you're credited with paying Social Security tax since it's that amount on which your future benefits are based.

The card will not include the wages you've earned for the past six or nine months since that's the time lag involved in adding your recent wages to your record.

By comparing this wage record with your own personal files of the wages on which you've paid Social Security tax, you should be able to quickly tell whether errors have been made.

If you find that your personal records don't agree with the one you've received from Social Security, you should immediately get in touch with the nearest Social Security office to discuss the matter.

That office will be glad to track down any possible errors and make any corrections that are necessary.

Poor Pianos— Rock 'n' Rollers Pound the Ivory

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A delegate to the National Piano Tuners Convention says he had seldom seen a bass string on a piano broken—until the advent of rock 'n roll music.

* * *

O. J. Dodd of New Orleans, related:

"I went into a place to tune a piano and it was broken — the bass string —and it's a real thick cord.

"I asked how it was broken and this fellow said it was rock 'n roll music."

"That must have been how the piano player hit the keys. He must have hit them like a hammer to break the bass string."

U. G. Jeffers of Charleston, W.Va., vice president of the National Piano Tuners Assn., interrupted.

"I'm an advocate of the master's work," he said. "Rock and roll has a fixed place in society now because they're something wrong with society. There must be a trend in public attitude to drift from stable things in music to unstable things. There will be a return to the masters with their thought of life. These other things come from baser emotions."

The tuners agreed rock 'n roll will soon pass but Dodd was pessimistic.

"Don't worry," he said, "someone will find something else to follow it."

In England many pipe smokers saturate corks in sherry and then put them in tobacco in humidors to keep the tobacco moist and fragrant.

The loquat, a fruit that looks and tastes much like a plum, belongs to the same family as the apple and pear.

A-Planes Seen in 20 Years

Aviation Group Says Nuclear Energy Needed Because of Size

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (INS) — The International Civil Aviation Organization has predicted that atomic-powered air freighters will be covering the globe at supersonic speeds within 20 years.

The organization said aircraft such as the DC8 and the Boeing 707, expected to be introduced into service within the next few years, will be capable of traveling at 600 miles an hour, carrying 150 passengers on non-stop flights of up to 4,000 miles.

ICAO said in a report that long-range aircraft will use atomic power "because such a power plant is inherently very heavy and the airplane will be very large." It added:

"Estimates of the smallest practicable atomic-powered freighter range as high as 500,000 pounds, and it is not unreasonable to expect that, in 20 years time, there will be civil transport aircraft with maximum weights of the order of a million pounds.

PRIMARILY FOR FREIGHT

"They will be developed primarily for freight-carrying but may well carry passengers also."

The ICAO report said that the helicopter has not fulfilled the hopes held out for it but has "proved to be very complicated and expensive."

It added that helicopters "are not likely in the next 10 or 20 years completely to supercede conventional airplanes even on short ranges."

PREMIER APPEARANCE—Among the highlights of the annual GMC Family Picnic this week will be the first Oakalnd County showing of the Firebird II, new General Motors gas turbine passenger car. Pictured with the rakish new auto is its designer, Harley J. Earl, General Motors vice president in charge of styling.

Products to Highlight Annual Event

30,000 to Gather at GMC Picnic

Thirty thousand persons will throng to Walled Lake Amusement Park July 14 for one of the country's largest industrial outings—the annual GMC Family Picnic.

For the 20th year GMC Truck & Coach Division employes and their families will gather for an old-fashioned family frolic complete with three-legged races, baseball and free ice cream.

Adding a modern touch to the familiar festivities will be a huge exhibit of products from five General Motors divisions. The displays will jam the rollerskating rink and overflow onto the grounds.

They include 18 representative GMC trucks and two buses, Pontiac's "dream car" the Club de Mer, modern kitchen appliances from Frigidaire, an electronic garage door opener by Delco Products, and some of Euclid's heavy earth-moving equipment.

A highlight of the vehicle display will be the new General Motors experimental gas turbine passenger car, Firebird II. It will make its Oakland County debut at the picnic.

Named after the original Firebird introduced by GM in 1953, Firebird II was designed as a four-passenger family "dream car" for highway use. Its unique features include a shell of titanium, a lightweight metal of great strength, and a newly developed regenerator for pre-heating intake air.

Program Chairman Owen J. O'Neill says a public address sytem hooked up to a helicopter will keep picnickers informed of various events.

Some 600 T-shirts inscribed with the GMC emblem will serve as prizes for children and adult athletic contests. Adults will test their skill in basketball and baseball throwing, horseshoe pitching, broadjumping, field goal kicking, and golf chipping.

Youngsters will compete in such special events as sack races and greased-pole climbing. A baseball game between GMC and Stadium Inn will round out the athletic part of the picnic program.

Free amusement park rides will be offered the younger set from noon until 4 p.m. Thirty thousand ice cream sticks will be passed out.

All the product exhibits will remain on public display at the Park during the evening of July 14 and 15.

City Hall Gets Stoning After Refusing Aid Letter

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A quickly gathering crowd cheered when Claiborne Reed started throwing stones and broken bricks at the City Hall.

"I guess they figured he was protesting against taxes," said one of the officers who collared Reed, 28.

Police learned that Reed had threatened to stone the City Hall unless given a letter qualifying him for welfare aid.

Reed was charged with malicious mischief and disturbing the peace.

WE HAVE SUCH GOOD FRIENDS who feel a sort of proprietorship in the store — that makes us feel very good!

One of those friends — could scarcely wait until he could come from the airport — to give us his enthusiastic report — of a New York store — that advertises little services that they give to customers — like for instance — sewing on a button — or fixing a hanger — removing a spot — things like that. He recommended such a procedure to us!

AND HERE WE WERE — we thought he knew. and we thought that men in a great measure knew, we did those things — it's something that has been going on here for years and years — these little attentions were given so naturally, so instinctively — that it never occurred to us to publicize them.

BUT OUR GOOD friend said we went too far! — that we are hiding our patrons' delight under a bushel! "Why don't you tell people those things?"

In any event — of course we'll SEW A BUTTON (even a couple of buttons) on your clothes — we'll FIX HANGERS that hang by a thread or put on new ones — we'll remove a spot (if we can) — and things like that — these and others like them — of course, and to be sure — done while you wait and without charge — it's a pleasure. AND THE PLEASURE is just as keen — whether the clothes were purchased here or not.

WE'LL GIVE YOUR HAT a refresher course — steam it up for you — and "leur" it (leur as you of course know is a French word used in hat circles — it means to provoke the nap of the felt). . If it's too snug we can stretch it for you — or if your barber got carried away with himself we have pads that will fill up the void. All done while you wait — at no charge!

AND IN CASE your COLLAR STAYS have become vulcanized into your collar — or lost — we shall give you spares with our compliments —

At any rate, WHATEVER YOUR PROBLEMS ARE (sartorially speaking, that is) — don't feel embarrassed to stop in at either Osmun's downtown or Tel-Huron store for the kind of extra service that it's always been our pleasure to give.

U.S. Cities Fighting Traffic Strangulation

(Founder Brigham Young did Salt Lake City traffic officials a big favor when he laid out broad streets, but other cities across the country were not so fortunate. Here, the traffic problems and the plans of 16 communities are outlined in the third of five articles.)

By JACK LOTTO
INS Staff Writer

The foresight of Brigham Young over 100 years ago, and today's uncompromising "Meter Maids," have saved Salt Lake City from the critical traffic congestion which afflicts most major cities.

The Mormon pioneer leader made the main streets over 100 feet wide when he mapped the city in 1847. The "Meter Maids", policewomen who patrol the parking meters with a vengeance, are responsible for a fantastic turnover in parking spaces, probably unequalled in the country.

When the special patrol of 12 women was set up in 1954 there was not enough downtown meter space. Illegal parking and double-parking was becoming a headache to traffic officials.

The "Maids," passed out tickets at the rate of 16,000 a month despite howls from retail merchants and, naturally, violators of the one-hour parking rules.

At the end of the first year, unhappy merchants lost their frowns when they totaled their figures and found that the increased parking turnover had increased their business 27 per cent!

TERRACE PARKING LOTS

Stores have built terrace-type parking ramps near their stores, and are constructing more, to get shoppers' cars off the street.

The state highway commission is planning to build a six-lane expressway through the city and other freeways to speed up the flow of traffic in, out and through Salt Lake City.

Here are some highlights of programs in other cities aimed at speeding traffic flow:

DETROIT: A television monitor watches the John Lodge Expressway connecting downtown Detroit with suburban areas. The remote-controlled "eye" spots accidents which can create immense traffic jams and the patrol technician can notify tow trucks exactly where to go in a matter of seconds. The main effort to alleviate traffic congestion has been the construction of expressways. The city is building underground parking garages to keep traffic out of the busy loop area. The publicly-owned transit system is using more non-stop express lines to take advantage of expressways.

CLEVELAND: Fringe parking lots have had wide acceptance. These lots, located around the central shopping areas, are used to capacity.

COLUMBUS: The city has banned parking between the hours of 7 and 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. to speed movement of traffic. Downtown streets have been made one-way thoroughfares. Columbus has started a system of expressways.

INDIANAPOLIS: A new mayor was elected largely because of his one-way street pioneering. One-way streets are cleared of all parking during morning and evening rush hours.

CHICAGO: The city has voted a $50,000,000 bond issue to build off-the-street garages. Seven have been put into operation. Six parking lots are in operation; 14 more planned. One way traffic has speeded movement in the "loop" 25 to 40 per cent.

* * *

DALLAS: The Dallas Transit Company is planning to introduce before the year's end hostesses aboard buses and a so-called "executive express" to pick up patrons at their homes in the morning and return them in the evening for a premium rate.

HARRISBURG, Pa.: Merchants subsidized a parking lot on the fringe of the Pennsylvania city where motorists can park free and take a bus for five cents into town.

SAN ANTONIO: Sixty-four miles of new paved roads are scheduled in the next year and a north-south expressway is being completed. Stores are giving free bus rides to encourage shoppers to leave their cars home. The transit company inaugurated a popular "open air" parti-cruiser service. These buses are equipped with patio furniture, radio loudspeaker and a small bar.

LOS ANGELES: Traffic is increasing faster than new roads can be built. Parking is banned downtown from 7 a.m. to 6:15 p.m. Truck loading and unloading is abolished during peak periods. City has instituted reversable traffic lanes. Los Angeles is the only major metropolitan area in the world that does not have some form of mass rapid transit free of traffic lights and street crowding.

Just 16 Words Can Win Prize in Pot-O-Gold!

You have a chance to match your wits against those of the experts in the Press' summer word game POT-O-GOLD, the seventh of which appears below. Compiled by some of the top puzzle-makers in the country, POT-O-GOLD is a challenging contest in which words are made to fit the clues given below the blank. Read the rules, fill in the empty spaces and send us your entry by the specified deadline. Good luck on the $100 weekly prize!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conform to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

U. S. Industry Spurring Malaya Rubber Growers

KUALA LUMPUR (AP) — American synthetics and automation, staggering labor costs and the country's uncertain political future are threatening the worldwide marketing future of natural rubber, Malaya's largest foreign exchange earner.

Cheaper production of a high quality rubber is "the only way to combat the present threat from the U. S. synthetic product," said R. G. D. Houghton, secretary of the Malayan Planting Industries Employers Assn. The group is made up of the hard-headed, practical British planters who run the country's most lucrative estates.

"The time has come," Houghton continued, "for those engaged in the industry to do something to see that natural rubber is not placed in a permanently disadvantageous position."

"The rubber industry unfortunately cannot introduce automation, but it is facing competition from American synthetic plants where automatic production has long been in operation and labor charges are at a minimum," he said.

To compete with further expected U. S. price reductions, the planters must increase their annual yield per acre to 1,500 pounds —three times the present output. At the same time, they must hold down labor costs, which make up 60 to 70 per cent of their production costs.

The planters believe they have a long-term solution, called budgrafting of trees, which eventually may bring trees that would yield a ton an acre every year, or four times the present output.

Bud-grafting, a method used with success by California and Florida citrus growers, works like this: the seed of a best tree is transplanted and grown into a selected seedling from which the branch is bud-grafted onto a foreign seedling. From this, more seeds are taken and planted and the cycle continued.

But re-planting costs money and you have to wait seven years until the trees are mature enough for tapping. The Malayan Government has been subsidizing estates with the equivalent of $130 per acre to stimulate replanting, but it costs more than double that amount.

The recent easing of the U.N. embargo by Britain, paving the way for trade with Communist China, offers little hope to the planters.

"The argument that China will begin purchasing large amounts of Malayan rubber because of the new relaxation is sheer nonsense," said Houghton. "Certainly, there is a market on the mainland. But first you have to make 520 million Chinese (the estimated population) wear rubber shoes."

U.N. Chief to Visit Mideast for 4 Days

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)— U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold—now on a European tour—will make a four-day visit to the Middle East later this month, the U. N. announced.

He is now in Vienna. His next stop is Belgrade. His original itinerary did not include a visit to the Middle East.

The U. N. announcement said he had found scheduled meetings in Geneva would not take as much time as he had expected, permitting the expansion of his interary.

The number of cattle and calves available in the United States for slaughter — from pastures, ranges, and feed lots — totaled 97,500,000 head at the start of 1956, a record high.

Military Exchange Desired by Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining said today the Russians in inviting him to visit Moscow indicated a Soviet desire to make exchange of military information an alternative to President Eisenhower's aerial inspection proposal.

"First, Soviet officials at all levels constantly repeated, the hope that our visit would be the first of a series of encounters leading to wider exchange," Twining told the Senate Armed Services Committee.

"They plainly desire an early invitation to pay a reciprocal visit to the United States.

"Second, the nature of the Soviet overtures indicated a definite desire on their part to establish a pattern for the exchange of military information on their terms as a possible alternative to the Presidents aerial inspection proposal which they continue to reject."

One giant aircraft being produced in the United States uses 114 electric motors, exclusive of the automatic pilot. Its anti-icing wing and stabilizer equipment uses 2,800,000 British thermal units of heat per hour—enough to heat 56 five-room houses.

The rubber industry uses more than 80,000 tons of sulfur a year to vulcanize rubber to give it toughness, elasticity, and moldability.

TWO CHAMPIONS OF THE ROAD...

To the eye, the new Corvette and the new Chevrolet are far different. But these two champions have one superb quality in common—both were born to cling to the road as though they were part of it!

Chevrolet's astonishing roadability—its precision ball-bearing steering, wide spaced rear springing and beautifully balanced weight distribution—are the major reasons why Chevrolet is America's short track stock car racing champion. It can and does out-run and out-handle cars with 100 more horsepower. When you wed this rock-solid stability to superb engines such as the 225-h.p. V8 that flashed the Corvette to a new American sports car record—then you get a real championship combination. Stop by for a sample!

Death Made No Distinction in Grand Canyon Crash

By BILL BECKER
Associated Press Reporter
(Second of two articles.)

Big and small, young and old, rich or in moderate circumstances, 128 persons shared a common grave in the Grand Canyon.

Death came alike to captains of industry and lesser workers when the United and TWA airliners tangled with fate, and apparently each other, less than 90 minutes out of Los Angeles on June 30.

Carl J. Snyder, 59, Chrysler Corp. director, vice president and operating manager, was returning home to Bloomfield Hills after attending the funeral of his uncle in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Snyder was unable to get a seat on the United airliner. She went back by train after the crash was verified.

VISITING SON

On the TWA plane were Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Noel of Scarsdale, N. Y. Noel, 65, was a partner in the Wall Street brokerage firm of Van Alstyne, Noel and Co. and director of six companies.

The Noels had visited a son in San Francisco, planned to stop a day with a daughter in St. Louis.

Another executive lost was Gerald Murchison, 51, vice president of an Indianapolis jewelry firm, Herff-Jones Co. Murchison, a former University of Pennsylvania and Illinois athlete, was the younger brother of former Olympic sprinter Loren Murchison.

A young guided missiles expert, Noel Gottesman, 30, of Huntington Woods, died because he liked to make movies while flying.

Gottesman, rated a mathematical wizard by his employer, the Bendix Aviation Corp., headed an analytical group of six who had been looking into a project on the West Coast. Most of the others took a plane back to Detroit the night before. But Gottesman wanted daylight for his movies.

Ironically, storm clouds covered his best potential subject — the Grand Canyon — when the plane arrived over it. At 21,000 feet the United airliner, some conjecture, might have been zig-zagging to afford passengers some sort of view of the big gulch, fairly common practice among airline pilots flying the route.

Walter M. Fuchs, 75, head of a Detroit blueprint firm, returning with Mrs. Fuchs, was the proud recipient of a plaque presented to him at a Los Angeles convention. His industry had acknowledged his 50-year contribution.

Women of importance in their communities, many of them mothers or grandmothers, were on both planes.

Mrs. Gertrude Coyne Book, 62, was the wife of the owner of the Book Building, Detroit skyscraper. She had been with her daughter when a new granddaughter arrived in San Diego.

Mrs. Phyllis Berman, 46, Milwaukee, had been consulting with officials of City of Hope, Duarte, Calif., a charity cancer foundation. Mrs. Berman was national volunteer chairman of auxiliaries.

But the cross-section ran much deeper on both planes. Those pretty girls on TWA were Janice Haas, 20, college senior of Springfield, Mo., and Sally Cressmen, 22, Leavenworth, Kan., nurse. The score or so passengers traveling on TWA passes included an extra stewardess, clerks, stenographers, a pilot's wife, various officials and their relatives.

Lillian Carple, 39, a Los Angelus elevator operator, had saved up for a Kansas City vacation. Miss Lillian Hahn, 46, was making her first flight to see relatives in Detroit.

Mrs. Esther Sharp, 40, East St. Louis, Ill., was corresponding secretary for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

A Los Angeles secretary, Roberta Wilde, almost missed the United airliner when she forgot her handbag and had to return to her apartment for it. She was headed for a visit with her parents in LaGrange, Ill.

Stanley J. Weiss, 37, Detroit arsenal research chief, was hurrying to get home for the arrival of his fourth child.

Perhaps Robert Perisho, 30, an abalone diver, with a booming laugh, will be remembered as long as anyone.

The night before he took off he had a few drinks with friends at a Long Beach cafe. He had never flown before and, as he put it, he'd feel more at home in 10 fathoms of water.

'I'LL DIE'

"Why, if that plane so much as hits an air pocket," he laughed, "I'll die of heart failure."

His pals roared.

Saturday morning he boarded the TWA plane for St. Louis, where his sister, Mrs. Fred Huddleston, Casey, Ill., was waiting when the news came of the crash.

That night, after his Long Beach pals heard what had happened, they went back to the cafe and drank a final toast to Perisho.

Ike Challenged by Dems on Legislative Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Democrats challenged President Eisenhower today to raise Congress' handling of his legislative program as an issue in the coming campaign.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said the Democrats are well armed with facts about a lack of Republican support in Congress for foreign aid, which Eisenhower reportedly pledged yesterday to stress in the campaign.

"Before Eisenhower starts trying to convince millions with his leap year liberalism, I suggest that he try convincing about 225 Republicans in Congress who don't go along with him," Humphrey said.

"It might be better for him to campaign a little for the farmers and small businessmen, for the old age pensioners and the children in desperate need of school rooms."

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), the 1952 Democratic vice presidential nominee, said Eisenhower will have to explain how Republicans helped bottle up a Senate-passed housing bill in the House.

In Chicago, Adlai E. Stevenson, front-running contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, said the country would "benefit in the coming months from a searching and vigorous debate on our urgent problems."

* * *

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) predicted Eisenhower will be defeated in November "on the issues — farm policy, defense policy, foreign policy and others."

Eisenhower's intention to stay in the running for a second term was announced after he met with GOP congressional leaders yesterday at Gettysburg, Pa.

"I DON'T KNOW WHAT I WOULD HAVE DONE WITHOUT O-JIB-WA"

"For a lady of 83, I'm in really wonderful health, and am glad to recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS to others," says Mrs. Blanche Brown, 406 Michigan Ave., Owosso, Mich.

"A couple who roomed with me over 12 years ago in Saginaw, told me about O-JIB-WA BITTERS. The husband was so crippled with arthritis that he used crutches, but after using your medicine, he was all better. For 10 years I had terrible rheumatism and arthritis in my knees and limbs, and it got so I couldn't get around. I was forbidden to climb stairs, and once went three weeks without being able to walk a block. The swelling was real bad in my ankles, and the pain was so fierce I couldn't sleep nights. My kidneys too were bad, and caused me to get up frequently. O-JIB-WA started helping me within two weeks. Even my daughter noticed a big difference in my health, as your medicine helped me all over. My stomach does not burn me now, and I can eat almost anything without the fear of indigestion. One thing I want to urge, and that is that a person take O-JIB-WA BITTERS long enough to help them; a couple of months if necessary, and not for a few days and quit. I will always recommend O-JIB-WA to others, but want them to understand that they won't be better overnight. If you are going to try it, give it a fair trial."

'We Doubt It,' Western Officials Reply to Reports of Nikita's Drunken Orgy

LONDON (AP)—Two British newspapers have asserted Nikita Khrushchev drunkenly insulted Western representatives at a big Moscow party recently.

A British Foreign Office spokesman, questioned about the reports, commented: "I have no reason to believe that anyone was insulted."

Other Western diplomats here said they felt the reports were exaggerated.

The occasion for Khrushchev's alleged outburst was a banquet and garden party given by the Soviet Defense Ministry June 24 to celebraate Red Air Force Day.

Among those attending were Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff; Nigel Birch, British air minister; envoys and military men representing all the leading Western powers.

The British papers — the Daily Mail and the Daily Telegraph — declared in front page stories that both Khrushchev, who is Communist party chief, and Soviet Premier Bulganin were drunk. They gave this account:

The two argued violently as to who should speak.

Khrushchev apparently won. He then insulted nearly every guest of nearly every nationality present—personally as well as nationally. The nature of the insults was not specified.

The Daily Mail, attributing its information to "An American who was present," said Khrushchev and Bulganin angered other Russian ministers by their behavior. It said the other ministers later apologized personally to Twining and Birch.

Both papers said the performances of Khrushchev and Bulganin have posed the question even in Moscow:

How long can the two men keep up the pace of such drinking?

The Daily Telegraph descibed the affair as "the most incredible episode to date in the incredible career of Mr. Khrushchev" and said Moscow censorship has held up "all reports on the subject."

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Two University of Michigan faculty members have been awarded grants under the Fulbright Act to lecture abroad. They are Watson Dickerman, Associate Professor of Education, who will lecture at Ochanomizu Women's University in Tokyo, and Henry L. Bretton, Assistant Professor of Political Science, who will lecture at the University of Innsbruck in Austria.

Seaway Project Behind Montreal Property Boom

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal is spilling over. The boom has struck the south shore, across the St. Lawrence from the metropolis. Farms, sold for several times the value they had a few years ago, are being developed into industrial sites. Construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway is a factor.

A particularly attractive site is a 15-mile strip beside the main river channel to the Atlantic, and at the entrance to the St. Lawrence Seaway project. In this area industries can build docks direct to a waterway 35 feet deep, the St. Lawrenee Ship Canal. Several United States and European steel companies have optioned or purchased land in the district, Montreal's Economic Development Bureau reports.

YOUTHFUL CARTOONIST — Larry Robertson, 1152 Lakeside, Birmingham, shows his favorite comic strip character, "Mono Mouse," which he has created himself. He has put out mimeographed comic books with stories he and a friend have written.

Teenager Creates 'Mono Mouse' Cartoon

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

Youthful but handy with pen and ink is Larry Robertson, teenage son of the John M. Robertsons, who has already "published" several comic book magazines. Now he's turning to his summer occupation—putting on puppet shows.

Since he was six, Larry had done cartoons—mainly for friends of his own age. Last fall he met Paul Kuebler, 388 Baldwin, whose family had mimeographing facilities.

So the first mimeographed comic book evolved for Larry and Paul—with their story based on an idea offered by one of their mothers. Two issues, of about 20 copies each, were published and sold.

But now hot weather brings puppet show time—as it does every summer for Larry and his friends.

Sometime this month, they'll stage their play, using ready made puppets, and then later they'll make puppets for another show. The first show will use a play based on a treasure search by a high school boy.

First starts at cartooning are remembered with a laugh by the boy. "I'd get to a point and just couldn't finish a book," he says. "Finally I got one good one done, and then I started doing them for my family and friends."

Prison Census Inches Up

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's prison population stands at a new high.

Gus Harrison, director of the State Corrections Department, said the prison system had 10,129 inmates as of Friday.

The number was one more than the total June 18, when Harrison asked 11 heavily populated counties to stop sending new prisoners to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

"We have lifted the ban, but that doesn't mean the situation is relieved," Harrison said.

He said the corrections commission may discuss the need for a fifth state prison when it meets Thursday.

"We aren't ready to recommend anything definite, yet," he said. "We're still trying to decide what type of prison we want."

Harrison said the department is considering requesting another medium security prison for youthful offenders or a "medical" facility for epileptics, homosexuals and handicapped cases.

Meanwhile, Harrison said, there is no sign of a break in the walkout of construction workers at a new 600-man medium security prison at Ionia.

The workers walked off the job July 6 to protest the proposed use of inmate labor on the project.

Ceil Chapman Creates 'Camise' Bodices for Fall

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—It's sort of a camisole and kind of a chemise, so glamor designer Ceil Chapman calls it a "camise."

* * *

It's the loose-bloused top with camisole straps, usually jeweled or beaded, which distinguished the newest silhouette in the Chapman collection of festive fashions for fall evenings, previewed today.

FLAPPER FASHION

Though it has somewhat a look of the flapper era, Ceil uses the camise top on a full-length satin gown done in the 1912 manner—heavily beaded lace bodice and hemline border. There also are versions for cocktail and dinner wear, in various lengths from mid-calf to instep.

There are five pages in today's Women's Section

This designer, noted for fashions which glorify the best features of the female form, goes all out for glitter this fall, using bushels of beads, sequins, jewels and paillettes in after-5 fashions as elegant as Lillian Russell at her most flamboyant.

1912 LOOK AGAIN

Equally elegant is the collection of Jo Copeland, the all-American designer who invented the cocktail suit, and who always has had a weakness for sexy styles. She also uses the 1912 look in a series of slender evening dresses of ankle length, such as one in champagne satin encrusted with pounds of beads, and a gold lace confection with a band of black velvet around the above-the-ankle hemline.

An apricot silk brocade dinner dress is short in front, longer in back, with fan-shaped folds adding back interest and ostrich feathers adding the popular prewar touch to the bodice.

Collared and cuffed with black cape seal, this George Carmel natural-colored coat is of wool and fur mixture. A back belt is placed high between panel-like folds and accents the lower-placed front pockets.

Silk organza and cashmere combine for a blue two-piece evening costume. Designed by Tina Leser, the skirt is cowl-draped and full. The sweater is long-sleeved with a low, round neckline.

Christian Dior's fall collection always causes a stir in the fashion world. One of his evening dresses he calls "Comedie Francaise." With an over-blouse sacque and "carriage-wheel" sleeves, the evening sheath is in black poult de soie and black silk velvet. The black poult de soie is also used for a back bow and sash.

This black and royal blue jacquard sheath from the fall collection of Ceil Chapman has a deep collar extending to the band and bow at the empire waist.

Mrs. Bickerstaff Opens Home to Church Group

Mrs. David Bickerstaff of Fenmore drive opened her home Tuesday evening to the Women's Society of World Service of the Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Highlights from the state WSWS convention were the theme of the meeting, at which Mrs. Phillip Waldie presided.

Mrs. Alford Bell spoke on children's work and Mrs. Waldie presented the program for the coming year.

Mrs. Grant Burlison gave devotions and Mrs. Myron Everett led the group in prayer. Reports were given by Mrs. George Hollis, Mrs. Cecil Leggett, Mrs. Lewis Ball and Mrs. Barbour Williams.

MOMS Group Enjoys Picnic

Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind opened her home on South Johnson avenue Tuesday to members of Unit Two, MOMS of America, Inc., for a picnic luncheon and meeting.

Devotions were led by Mrs. David Edwards and the business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Harry Luxon, president. Reports were read from the national board meeting.

* * *

Mrs. Bessie Clark will be hostess to the group for the August meeting.

BARBARA ANNE KITZMILLER

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kitzmiller of Elizabeth Lake road announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Anne, to Robert R. Locher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Locher of Marco Island, Fla. A September wedding is planned.

Your Hairdo Will Glitter in Autumn

The 1912 trend in fashions, which has brought back both longer hair and longer dresses, demands glitter in the hair as well. So for the first time in 10 years, the big jewelry makers are turning out hair ornaments.

There are rhinestone stars, hearts, crescents and comets, all firmly attached to platinum-colored bobbie pins, for the girl who still wears her hair short.

For the girl who has let her hair grow to bun-length, there are rhinestone chignon pins. These are designed to stick up out of the bun thanks to heavy horseshoe-shaped hairpins.

The hair ornaments, which will sell from two to five dollars apiece in fancier versions, can also double as dress clips or as clips on necklaces.

A rhinestone bobbie pin, for instance, could be used to hook several strands of pearls together.

The jewelry firm of Trifari, which displayed the hair ornaments for visiting fashion editors, said the pins could be used singly. Chignon pins, however, look best in pairs—sticking out of your hair at different levels in geisha girl fashion.

Dior Chooses 1912 Look for Autumn

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Christian Dior, the French czar of fashion, today put his seal of approval on the "1912" look for fall . . . with a few reservations.

But Monsieur Dior has vetoed tight or pegged skirts; he likes them slender and sittable or full-skirted. He's also against putting all the interest in the back; when Dior sashes a midriff, the sash ties in front.

Dior showed editors attending the 27th National Fashion Press Week his new fall look for American women—the "Epee Look." It takes its silhouette from the fencing sword—slim from hem to midriff, like the blade, and wide and curved on top, like the hilt.

The "hilt" part of collars make the "hilt" in the Dior-New York collection. There are all sorts of interesting collars: Split petal collars, caped collars, back-bow collars and big berthas. Some of the collars accent deep-cut necklines.

SOME OLD IDEAS

Dior retains for fall, 1956, some of the ideas he launched in Paris last year. There are big draped stoles and little cropped Caraco jackets, as well as coats with slit sides in the caftan fashion.

Designer Tina Leser, who also showed her fall styles to editors today, has gone back in fashion way past 1912—right to the court of England's Henry the Eighth.

If you've seen portraits of any of Henry's six wives, you've seen the wide square neckline, the slashed sleeve and high bustline that Miss Leser is using in her new designs.

Miss Leser, however, is being quite modern with skirts—all the Henry the Eighth tops are put on simple 1956 skirts.

The jolly Miss Leser, a designer with a sense of humor, has contributed a whole variety of other ideas for fall.

There are "surcoats" which are jackets shaped like cutaways that reach to the hipbone, hooded capes which look romantic and still keep your hair down in a sports car, and "Britinas"— a Henry the Eighth contraption which turns out to be fur suspenders.

BELTED AND FURRED

The third dress house to display a fall line for editors today was Harry Frechtel. This coat and suit maker likes belted suits and furred coats, both in '56 versions.

The belted suits carry the belt an inch above the waistline, or use blousing above a wide natural-waist-level belt.

The coats, both full and fitted, carry mink or sable over black, and Persian lamb and seal on tweed.

Auxiliary Gathers

VFW 1008 Auxiliary met Monday evening at the American Legion Home on Auburn avenue. Plans were made for a caravan to leave the Legion Home July 22 at 9:30 a.m. for luncheon and a tour of the VFW National Home at Eaton Rapids. The tour will be taken by the post and the auxiliary.

This apricot silk brocade dinner dress is short in front, longer in back, with fan-shaped folds adding back interest and ostrich feathers lending the popular prewar touch to the bodice. It was designed by Jo Copeland who invented the cocktail suit.

Shoes Can Be Washed

Colors are as varied as one could wish in patterns that include stripes, polka dots, two-tones.

Keeping these shoes clean is a matter of moving quickly when they get soiled. It's easier to get out a small smudge than to work on the whole shoe.

Cleaning should be done with suds and a brush. Don't immerse the shoe completely unless it's labeled washable.

A bowl of stiffly beaten suds should be nearby, for dipping the brush. First wipe the insole to remove perspiration.

Stuff the shoe with tissue paper or a clean cloth to keep it in shape. Spot clean the outside. To get out dirt lodged between upper and sole, use the brush.

After entire shoe is washed, rinse the sponge or brush and mop away suds.

Shoes should be dried outside in the shade or indoors at room temperature.

Better Than Ever

Jersey and corduroy are two fabrics that have traveled a far piece in a short time. This year, they come striped, printed and in plain colors. What more could a girl ask?

You'll Get Job if You Really Want It

By ANNE HEYWOOD

A 25th anniversary of anything — a marriage, birthday, or graduation from college — is all right until you begin to think of it as a quarter of a century. Then it really does loom large and rather frightening.

* * *

"A quarter of a century ago . . ." you find yourself thinking — and then you clamp down on your mind.

This year my friend, Alma, attended her college reunion — the 25th!

"I had such mixed feelings," she told me.

"Of course, we all look older, and most of us have grown children.

"The pictures that were taken when we were graduated looked so dated and awful — the hairdos and the clothes. I began to think that a quarter of a century is a pretty long time.

A LITTLE RESEARCH

"So to take my mind off it, I did a little research project. I decided to find out just what the 'girls' — silly adjective for us now, I must say — were up to.

I decided to find out how many of them were doing something productive, now that their children were grown.

"There's a lot of talk about it," she went on. "You know, little studies of the college-educated housewife and how difficult it is for her to re-enter the business world.

"But I found out a very interesting thing: Every one of us who really wanted a job, full-time or part-time, had one!

"You can analyze trends and complain about dearths of opportunity, lack of community services and close-minded employers all you like. The truth of it is the woman who wants a job — even when she is in her 40s — gets it."

COLUMNIST AGREES

That has been my experience, too.

The woman who swears her community offers no opportunity for her talents is the woman who doesn't want to use her talents.

I know women in one-horse towns who have dug up a job against all possible odds, even if they had to invent it for themselves.

I know women in their 50s with no previous experience in business who have landed jobs, just because they meant business.

The next time your hear a woman sighing about how hard it all is, face the fact that she is just making conversation.

She wants to look "intellectual," needle her husband into making more money, make her children feel sorry for her or make her friends think she's dynamic.

But if she really wants a job, she gets it!

If you are having trouble getting started at this yourself, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my pamphlet, The Older Woman Goes to Business.

Clark - Chapin Wedding Vows Read

A gown of French lace over satin was worn by Cleo JoAnn Chapin for her Saturday wedding to Thomas Lee Clark. Cleo is the daughter of the Charles D. Chapins of North Roselawn avenue drive and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clark of Ellwood avenue are his parents.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Maynard Oesterle of Bethel Evangelical and Reformed Church in the presence of 150 guests.

The bridal gown was of French lace over satin with long sleeves and a tiny lace collar accenting the high neckline. Her bouffant skirt was tier on tier of French lace over tulle. A Juliet cap of lacea and seed pearls held her veil.

She carried a satin covered Bible with an arrangement of white orchids, shattered carnations and ivy streamers and wore a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

A reception was held in the church parlors followed by an open house at the home of the bride's parents.

Eva Carpenter Married to Alfred E. Beanblossom

A ballerina-length gown of lace and net was chosen by Eva Carpenter for her marriage to Alfred E. Beanblossom Friday evening. Fashioned along princess lines, the gown was accented by a matching lace jacket.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Raymond Carpenter of Myra avenue and the late Mr. Carpenter. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Harvey Beanblossom of Charest avenue and the late Mr. Beanblossom.

GOWNED IN WHITE

For her duties as flower girl, Martha Jane Wheat, niece of the bride, wore a white nylon frock. She carried a basket of red rose petals.

Morris Hall performed the duties of best man. Seating the guests were Kenneth Squires and Charles Currey.

Mrs. Carpenter greeted her guests at the reception held in Eagles Hall immediately following the ceremony wearing a pink eyelet dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Beanblossom chose an all-white ensemble for her son's wedding. Her corsage was also of orchids.

The bridegroom will return to Aberdeen, Md., where he is stationed with the U.S. Army. His bride will join him there at a later date.

Guest Asks What Rules to Follow

Nothing Is Expected of Those Invited to Dinner Party

By EMILY POST

"Several weeks ago I met the wife of my husband's employer at a large tea and cocktail party. She has now invited us to a dinner party at her house, and I would like to know what is the correct procedure.

"Do I take a box of candy, write a thank-you note after the dinner, or invite her to dinner at my house to repay my obligation?"

Answer: You do not take anything and neither do you write a thank-you note. In short, nothing is expected of you — unless she should invite you several times and you become real friends. Then you should return her hospitality in whatever way you can.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A club to which I belong is giving a barbecue shortly. About a month ago I asked a girl, whom I had gone out with two or three times before, to go with me. She accepted.

"Just recently, however, I met another girl at a party. I am very keen about her and would like to have her go with me instead.

"Can I possibly ask this second girl to go with me without hurting the feelings of the first? I would very much appreciate hearing fom you on this matter."

Answer: Having asked the first, you cannot possibly ask a second. But in the future you can ask the second as often as you please.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Next week my mother and I are planning to go to the wedding of my mother's niece. When the usher escorts my mother to her seat, do I follow them alone or do I wait at the back of the church until he comes back for me?"

Answer: If there are plenty of ushers, you wait at the back of the church for one of them to take you. Otherwise you walk on the other side of your mother and go up the aisle three abreast.

Soft pastel felts are new. They're pliable enough to travel in style and so light in weight they go well with silks and cottons.

There are the bright color velvets for pre-fall and the soft pastel felts. Vibrant but not blatant fall colors are softly muted but rich in depth and will go with early black silk and cotton dresses.

Summer Pedicure Is Beauty 'Must'

Summer pedicure is a "must", for open sport shoes, sandales, the beach. In summer, your toes show. Make them show you at your best, neatly pedicured.

Technique is virtually the same as with the manicure, and the same care, not to clip the skin, should be exercised. Treat nicks and bruises immediately by applying cotton squares, soaked in good quality witch hazel.

New Housewares Styled for Comfort

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (INS)—The latest housewares are designed to make the homemaker more comfortable when she works, plays and rests.

Some 580 manufacturers are curdently displaying their housewares at the 25th and biggest National Housewares Manufacturers Exhibit at Atlantic City. And many of the 100,000 items are designed to make life around the house more comfy and cosy.

If you've got cold feet, then there's one new item that's literally made for you—an electric blanket with a built-in foot warmer.

This operates by using separate wiring for the bottom 2 feet of the blanket. The special wiring heats the lower half of the blanket seven degrees warmer than the top.

The blanket is being produced in twin and regular bed size and has snaps at the foot for contour fitting. Colors of the single or dual control blanket are white, candy pink, flamingo coral, yellow, light blue and green.

SHEETS COST LESS

Electric sheets are going down in price, with one of the top electric housewares firms selling a single sheet for $19.95, which a company spokesman says is about the lowest price going.

The spokesman said that prices of electric bed coverings in general were down when compared to a year ago.

Added work comfort is provided by a carpet sweeper which features a switch for adjusting the height of the front wheel for thick or thin pile rugs. The manufacturer thinks its streamlined chrome shape is so attractive he has gift-wrapped it.

Part of being comfortable is living in a pleasant atmosphere, and the housewares makers have come up with some items to prettify the home.

There's an artificial fireplace log affair, for instance, which looks as though the "flame" is leaping up out of the logs. The "flame" reflects against the whole fireplace, giving it a rosy, realistic glow.

NEW-STYLE CLOCKS

Clocks take their part in the good-looking-through-gadgets home. A new one has a transparent face with gold hands and numerals. The works of these electric clocks are hidden in the frame, leaving the center of the clock clear so the wall color can show through.

Manufacturers aren't appealing to the sense of sight alone—they're also out to improve smells.

Household deodorants come in different aromas for different rooms—mint for the kitchen, old English lavender for the bathroom. Additionally, the bathroom variety comes in a pretty pink package so it won't look offensive to guests.

Color is part of any housewares story today and a survey of manufacturers reflects the fact that the "rainbow" is here to stay. Yellow leads the pack, with turquoise and pink running second and third.

CROCHET AFGHAN

This pretty afghan is crocheted in a lovely pineapple design. Use blending colors; or for a "granny afghan" effect (and inexpensive too) use scraps of knitting worsted left over from other projects.

Pattern No. 2402 contains crochet directions; material requirements; stitch illustrations.

Send 25c in coins, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Quilt books now available: Flower Quilts — Q101; Grandmother's Patchwork Quilts — Q102; All-Year Quilts — Q103. Each book contains pattern pieces and full directions for making 12 quilts. Each book 50c.

Parisians Take Stoles to the Beach

In France, Ponchos, Skirts and Wraps Match Swim Suits

PARIS (INS) — To be fashionable on a beach this year you'll have to think—and spend—twice.

A poncho will look exotic and fashionable. There is one of giant size in a Paris boutique. Cut to a regular circle with a hole for the head in the middle it is made of black, yellow and white striped jersey and edged with black wool finges.

It is large enough to serve as a "dressing-tent" with just the head visible. Belted at the waist with a cord, it becomes a monk-styled beach-robe.

Hubert de Givenchy has large beach stoles of turkish toweling in his boutique. One for "aristocratic" clients is white with huge coat-of-arms printed in the center.

One new beach garment is a wrap-around skirt made in fabric and color to match your swimsuit. You can wear it as a cape, and worn as skirt it transforms your bathing suit into a summer dress.

Beach shirts, too, should be made of fabrics matching the swimsuits. With Paisley patterns with Paisley-patterned cotton swimsuits and matching cotton shirts, worn loose.

Sense of Duty Intimidates Parents

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Nora Baxter, 16, dislikes her after-dinner chores of drying the dishes, putting them away and sweeping the kitchen floor.

So she postpones doing them by prolonging telephone calls from her friends. Because the calls represent her social life to her parents, she knows they fear to interrupt them.

If, as sometimes happens, her father does protest, all Nora has to do to silence him is clamp her hand dramatically over the telephone mouthpiece, crying in an anguished voice, "Oh, daddy, please! Hank called me. This is his call! He's having terrible trouble with his history notebook!"

As a result, it's often after 9 p.m. before Mrs. Baxter gets her kitchen put in order.

One night, she got bored with this situation. Quite suddenly, as she was trying to read a magazine, Mrs. Baxter found herself tired of dancing attendance on Nora's social life.

JUST A TIDY KITCHEN

Without any resentment at her child, she thought, "Right now, I am not interested in giving this girl a full social life. I am not interested in giving her right training in home responsibility. All I'm interested in right now is giving myself a tidy kitchen at this time of night."

* * *

Rising from her chair, she went into the kitchen to take this self-indulgence.

At once from the telephone Nora called, "What are you doing, Mother?"

"Your work," her parent replied pleasantly.

For the first time in weeks, Nora voluntarily ended a telephone conversation. With almost amusing haste, she said to her caller, "I've got to go. Mommy's doing my kitchen. I can't talk any more now. . . ."

CONSCIENCE HURTS

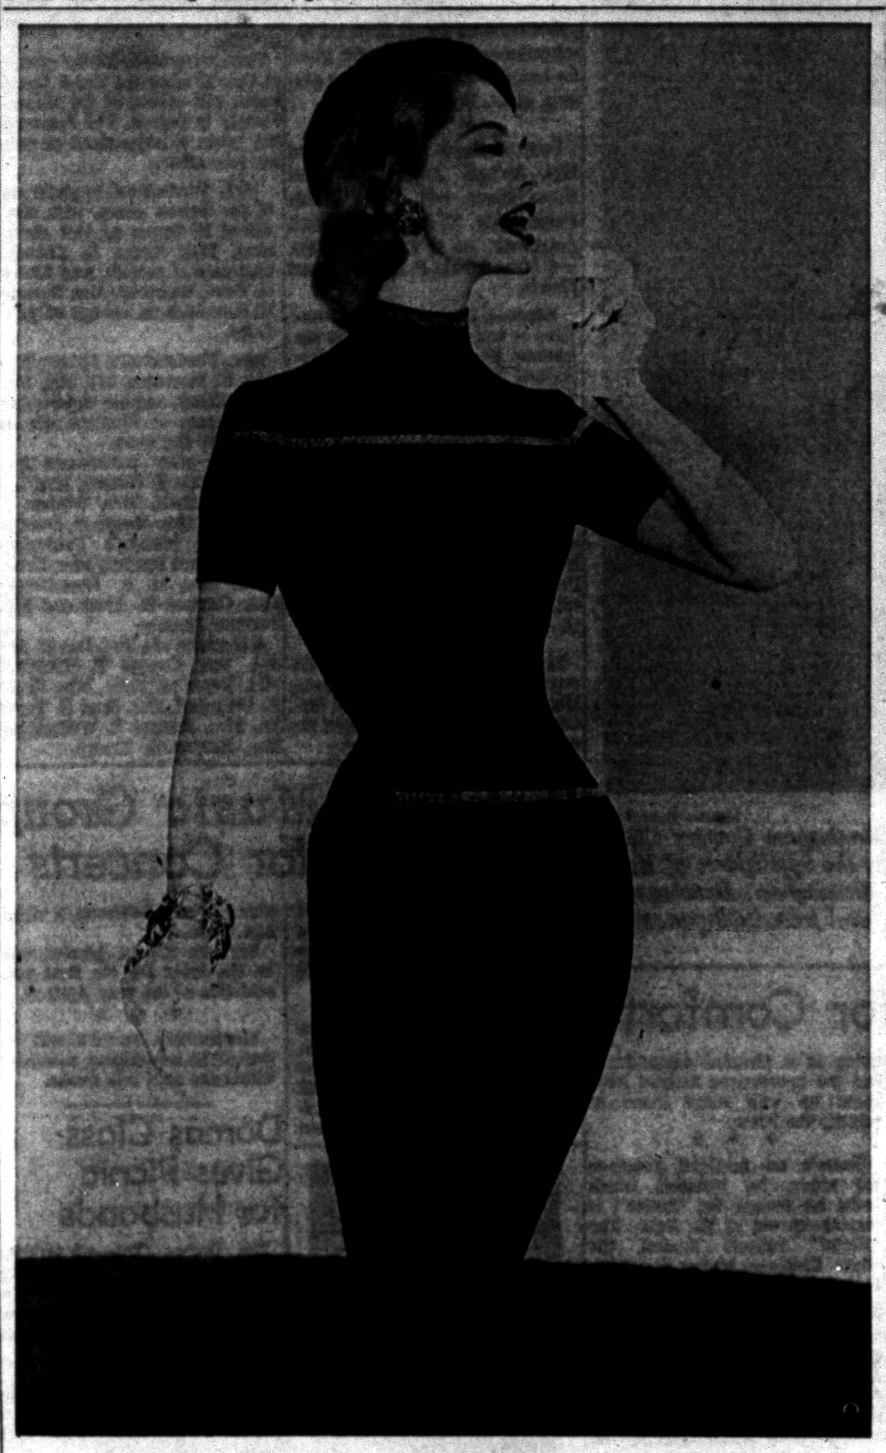

Nora's conscience, smothered so long by her parents' anxiety to take responsibility for her, began to function. Released from their eagerness to do the right thing for her, she was able to do the right thing for herself.

A lot of our trouble with children is our fear of serving ourselves. We are beaten down by the idea we have to give them everything from perfect training in home chores to endowed marriages.

So it never occurs to us that we can give ourselves a tidy kitchen if our daughter won't give it to us.

When we can detach ourselves from this burdensome sense of parental obligation and behave like a person, a fine thing often happens. The child detaches herself from his resentful sense of obligation to us—and responds like a person, too.

Anne Fogarty's Columnette sheath is shown in a lightweight wool of militaire navy. A woven red stripe encircles the torso and extends to the short sleeve. The guardsman collar adds to the ease and simplicity of line.

Couple United in Shrine Rite

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Gladys Leona Braddee of Saginaw, formerly of Pontiac, and Leo Thomas Hendrick of Saginaw.

The ceremony was held July 3 at the chapel of the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Wilson J. Harbage of Birmingham was her mother's attendant, and Leo T. Hendrick Jr. served as his father's best man. The newlyweds will live in Saginaw on their return from a wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec City.

Too Much U. S. Influence Seen by Some Monacans

Others Believe That Princess Grace Hasn't Drawn Enough Tourists

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Monacans have two complaints since Grace Kelly married Prince Rainier. Some argue that Monaco is under too much American influence. Others moan that Americans are practically ignoring the country.

As for Princess Grace, they hardly know what to say. She has appeared in public, with advance announcement, only twice since the wedding—when she returned from the honeymoon, and to go to a special Mass July 4.

Another time she and the Prince stepped onto the balcony of the palace—unannounced but expected—to watch a folklore festival on the big plaza. Most of the time the couple has either remained in the palace or ducked out quietly, sometimes to watch a movie downtown.

The fact that Princess Grace and the Prince chose the Fourth of July for their first official outing rankled Monacans just a little. The fact that the Prince pardoned an American convicted of a plot to use loaded dice at the Monte Carlo casino did not go without notice and some tongue wagging.

Further American influence is cited in the fact that Andre Brun de Pontet, a Wall Street private banker, has been named a technical financial counselor to the Monacan government and a member of the committee which oversees placing of its funds.

Those who complain that Americans are avoiding Monaco were perhaps too optimistic in their expectations of what the marriage would do for the country.

Official figures show 1,058 Americans tourists in May and 1,118 in June. These figures are quite a letdown for the business people who dreamed of Monaco as a main point of interest in Europe. The American arrivals have increased sharply — from 625 and 575 in the same months of 1955 — but not enough to satisfy the merchants. And the American visitors haven't been big spenders. Only 5 per cent are visiting the casino.

However, since Americans need no visas to visit Monaco, the Tourist Bureau figures don't count those who drop in for one day or less. And almost everyone can cover all the sights in the 368-acre principality in one day.

The wedding was a success for the Monacan treasury. The expenses were finally totaled up to about $450,000. This was covered by the sale of a special issue of postage stamps, which brought in $571,422.

Outside the postage stamps, the state had little opportunity to cash in on the event. It is reported, however, that Prince Rainier has a private interest in the company which made a color movie of the ceremonies.

If any Americans have the idea of coming to Monaco to see Princess Grace, they would do better to go to a movie in which she is appearing. Palace protocol won't pass anyone except old personal friends. In the next few months, the couple will be traveling extensively. First it will be a trip to Paris, then to the home of Rainier's mother near Paris. In August they will go for another trip in the Mediterranean on the Prince's yacht. In September they plan to leave for the United States.

PARIS (AP)—Grace Kelly arrived in Paris today on a shopping trip and carefully dodged questions about whether she is expecting a baby.

Looking chic and slender in gray silk shantung, she gently told a reporter: "I'm afraid we didn't start the rumors."

Her husband of three months, Prince Rainier of Monaco, stood by unblushing and silent.

The Monacan royal couple arrived by train just after the morning commuters' rush. Only about 30 reporters and photographers were there to greet them.

The former American film star chatted amiably but vaguely. She was most definite about her purpose in Paris — not to buy any any specific kind of wardrobe.

"It's just all the wonderful, tempting things here in Paris," she explained. "I'm sure I'll find them irresistible."

She remarked there were quite a few film companies shooting in and near Monaco, but that she hadn't seen any of them.

"I've spoken to a few people on the telephone, but they've been so busy — shooting at night and sleeping all day."

Told that some of the companies making films around Paris had had "weather trouble," she replied sympathetically:

Beauty Clinic

MISS 1956

This year the fashionable look for ladies is the lady-like look. Men prefer it, you know. Planned sculptured waves and restrained curls are in the limelight. Placed properly, they soften your features, make your eyes wider, shorten the forehead or lend a youthful look.

How to make your hair behave beautifully? Start with a professional cutting and styling. If you are not a regular visitor to a salon, these services every few weeks will make your home pin-ups much easier. Remember, brushing can't hurt a good permanent.

It does much to keep it pretty. Do your curls droop between settings? The new hair spray is the miracle that will keep them in place. Try carefully placing a few clips at bedtime, spray lightly before putting on hairnet.

Try Foot Massage to Relieve Tension

Relax from the feet up. Stroking the forehead will help you relax — but for lasting relief from tension, start at the bottom! Kick off your shoes and wriggle your toes.

Stand on a sponge rubber ball and rotate the foot so the ball massage the arch. With your hands massage the skin vigorously. Use a chilled, good quality witch hazel. Pay special attention to the insteps and ankles.

Encourage children to learn that cleanliness is a wonderful virtue by providing a constant supply of gas heated water, plenty of clean towels, and soap near every sink and bathtub in the house.

Summer Girdles Feature Comfort

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women who habitually wear girdles leave them off in hot weather. This is understandable and cooling but it seldom adds to attractiveness.

Even the slimmest hips may wobble under lightweight or tightly fitted summer clothes, and there is no need for this today. There is a wonderful array of amazingly lightweight girdles of all styles.

These are cool and yet restraining and so comfortable that you hardly know you have one on. Now they even have air-conditioned girdles! These have little holes in them for ventilation.

Many of the most effective undergarments are seamless and boneless and are made from materials which are as tenacious as they are light.

There are even brief panty girdles which are entirely invisible under a swimsuit. If you are a beach loafer these will be especially interesting to you.

STYLE FOR EVERYONE

In these cool lightweight fabrics there is a style for everyone. Some of the girdles give special hip control, others have non-roll tops which banish the roll over the girdle and slim the waist and the diphragm. Some have hidden built-in panels which flatten the tummy.

Of course you all know that I believe women should get rid of figure faults with diet and exercise. However, clothes look better over the right girdle even when the figure is near perfect. So be cool this summer in one of these special summer gear.

If your hips are oversize, do this exercise: Lie on the floor on your back. Arms rest on floor at sides, palms toward the floor. Bend both knees and place the feet on the floor.

Lift the heels and the hips from the floor, twist hips to right and flop down on left hip. Twist to left and flop down on right hip. Continue. Do not hit the floor with your spine but on the fatty parts of the hips.

If you would like to have my tested hip reducing exercises, which will decrease the hip measurement in a few weeks time send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

* * *

Tomorrow: "We Need New Interests, Goals to Prevent Aging."

Clothes look better over the right girdle even when the figure is near perfect.

Will-O-Way Schedules Merry Play

'The Happy Time' Opens July 17 for Two-Week Run

"The Happy Time", which opens July 17 for a two-week stay at Will-O-Way Playhouse, will provide audiences at Michigan's senior "straw-hat" theater with all the amusement that the title implies.

One of the most successful of the Rogers and Hammerstein productions, the plot of "The Happy Time" centers about an irresponsible and self-indulgent group of Frenchmen of the Bonnard family, whose answer to "you can't take it with you" is simply "enjoy it while you're here".

The clan Bonnard is ruled by a level - headed, amiable Scottish mother who is constantly at her wits' end in attempts to prevent her teenage son from being influenced by the family's sometimes bizarre advice on affairs d'amour.

The degree of success that her efforts meet with is the crux of this heartwarming, enjoyable story.

ROSALEE TOFT

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Toft of Lochaven road announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosalee, to Virgil M. Keener. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe C. Keener of Opdyke road. An Aug. 5 wedding is planned.

Bath towels are either double or single looped, easily determined by inserting a slender-pointed object into a pile and raising it up from the towel slightly. Double loops usually offer better moisture absorption.

Lucky 13 Members Fete Mrs. Dayner

Mrs. Harold Dayner was honored on her birthday by members of the Lucky 13 Birthday Club Monday afternoon. Mrs. John Bee was hostess to the group at her home on East Chicago avenue.

The beautiful movie star, who is making a film in Britain, said in a statement:

"I met him once in Madrid and dined with him in company with others one evening in Paris. These are the only two occasions when I have seen Mr. Rubirosa."

The marriage report was published yesterday in a New York paper. Rubirosa, international playboy and former Dominican diplomat, was last married to dime store heiress Barbara Hutton.

Tickets Sought - - - for Sentimental Reasons

Tears Rain Upon 'Fair Lady' Press Agent

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It is surprising in many ways that Richard Sylvester Maney, the florid-faced press agent for Broadway's boom-show "My Fair Lady," still can smile at the world.

He has heard such sad, sad stories recently.

Everyone who knows Maney (and there are thousands) and who wants tickets to "Fair Lady" (at less than $100 apiece) is crying in his amiable ear for help.

"They all have anniversaries, you know, or birthdays to celebrate," reports Maney. "All the editors, from marine to garden, are looking for seats—not merely because they want to see the show, understand, but for some reason that is on a highly sentimental plane."

Maney does not sniff with sympathy, nor does he sneer with disbelief. He just apportions out the four press seats-per-night which he is allotted, buys from the box office what he can wheedle, tries to retain his sanity, and assures the unfortunates that there is plenty of time to catch the show.

SEES 5-YEAR RUN

"I really believe," he says, and who's to doubt him, "that 'My Fair Lady' will run for five years. Sheer speculation, of course."

* * *

In his 37 years as a publicity man on Broadway, the literate and outspoken Maney has never made a stronger statement about a show.

"I've handled about 300 productions," he says, "some running three years and others, regrettably, three hours . . ."

But in "My Fair Lady" he has supreme confidence and affection, evidenced by the fact he has seen it en toto three times. "In spite of my business I don't attend the theater much, but I might have seen this show even oftener," he states, "except it's so difficult to get tickets."

Burly and white-haired, Dick Maney is a man who possibly receives more respect and attention from newspapermen and actors than any other character in the neighborhood.

This is because he writes more pointedly than 99 per cent of the journalists, and speaks more eloquently than all but the finest thespians.

ADMIRE HIS HONESTY

Producers, likewise, admire him. Mainly because of his honesty. Asked by one producer what he should wear at the opening of his new play, the press agent remarked, "Better wear your track suit."

It turned out to be the proper attire.

Maney is probably the revered friend of most of the top brass of the theater world, and yet he still works in a linoleum-floored office on 48th street, with no smart appurtenances beyond a cute, efficient secretary and three typewriters for his copious editorializing.

He turns out thousands of words a week for newspapers, picturesquely and humorously blasting everything from editors to playwrights.

It's not out of respect for his own job. Maybe it's sympathy. "Critics have to tolerate a lot of nonsense. Out of 55 or 60 shows a season, if there are 10 with merit a critic's lucky."

In his spare time—and it is spare indeed since the crush for "My Fair Lady" tickets began—Maney rarely attends the theater.

Mostly, he reads. But occasionally, he turns on television to watch baseball—which to him is the only excuse for the existence of TV. He explained his sentiment to a friend this way:

"I never turn on a TV set in the wintertime in the fear that I'll see an empty ball park."

Ireland's Agriculture Department has set up a 10-year plan to develop apple growing in the southern counties of the country. Some 500 acres are to be planted under the plan.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

Tradition that teams leading at sundown July 4 will win the pennants may take a shellacking. The Dodgers, Reds, Braves look so evenly matched you might be able to throw a horse blanket over them at the wire.

A Cincinnati win would be best for baseball. Cincy is rated a have-not club. Braves have been coining money. Dodgers are regarded as city slickers. Cincinnati would be the sentimental favorite in the World Series, especially if the opponent is New York.

Morale is so important. Look at Detroit. Tigers have been sniped at by Spike Briggs.

Joe Gordon became so fed up he walked out. It is easy for sideline cynics to scoff and insist ball players are concerned only with paychecks yet the fact remains most players are comparatively young and impressionable. They can go a long way when fired up.

The reverse holds when spirits are dampened.

Even most conservative estimates make the new baseball pension plan look terrific. Actuaries say a 10-year man at 50 will receive at least $300 a month for life.

This means one of the most insecure professions overnight is one of the best. Players may even relinquish a greater portion of current income for their pension pool. This would lower current income tax bite.

It would be a legal method of deferring income to the years when they need it most.

HAPPY CHANDLER FATHERED PENSION PLAN

Happy Chandler was the father of the current pension plan. Even his most vituperative critics concede he did a wonderful thing for the rank and file player when he first called in those Cincinnati insurance advisors.

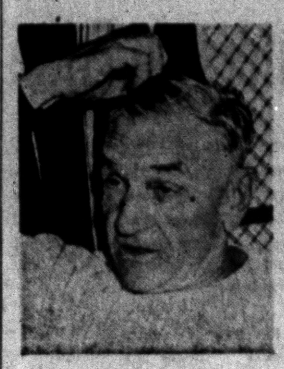

At the age of 50, the life expectancy of a male is 72.6. The number of earning and saving years varies, of course. But before the pension plan went into effect many ball players arrived at the age of 50 with very little savings from their years in the Big League.

The cost of maintaining two homes, travel for dependents, and the confiscatory income tax took a heavy toll.

Players, desperate to maintain a decent standard of living, gambled. They purchased interests in bowling alleys, filling stations and restaurants knowing little or nothing about the operation of even the simplest retail business in a highly competitive world.

Today it is a delightfully different picture, with an assured income of $3,600 a year for life—some slide rule boys insist it will be close to $5,000 a year—a ball player can look forward to a secure old age. This tends to increase life expectancy.

MY ACHIN' HEAD—New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel scratches his head unhappily after the American League All-Stars dropped a 7-3 decision to National Leaguers yesterday at Washington.

Too Many Redlegs on NL Team for AL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1956 All-Star game, won by the National League yesterday 7-3, furnished proof it is no accident that the Cincinnati Redlegs are in first place in their circuit.

Furthermore, it is the concensus of Brooklyn Manager Walter Alston, Cincinnati's own pilot Birdie Tebbetts, a majority of the writers and the 28,843 spectators who attended the game, that the Redlegs are going to be tougher than ever from now on.

Alston, who directed the winning National League All-Stars, was generous in his praise of the six Cincinnati players in action, five in the starting lineup.

Noting that three of them, first-baseman Ted Kluszewski, shortstop Roy McMillan and second-baseman Johnny Temple, accounted for six of the National's 11 hits, scoring three runs and driving in two more, Alston said meaningfully.

Tebbetts, who was the Nationals' first - base coach, grinned broadly when asked about his hirelings' showing.

He had a right to. Kluszewski had two doubles in two times at bat and drove in a run. Temple had two hits, one RBI and a stolen base and McMillan had two singles. In addition, Temple and McMillan executed the only doubleplay of the game to snuff out the American's biggest threat.

"I'm proud of my guys," Birdie said. "A lot of wise guys snickered when all those men of mine were voted to the All-Stars. After what they did, we don't have to apologize to anybody. This was good experience for my players. It should give them the confidence they need for the second half of the race."

* * *

Except for third-baseman Ken Boyer of the Cardinals, one of the stars of the game, only McMillan and Temple played throughout for the Nationals. Alston employed 17 players as compared with 21 used by Casey Stengel of the Americans.

"We were out front and I can't think of anybody in the league better than Temple and McMillan, defensively," Alston said in explanation of keeping the Redlegs' brilliant second-base combination intact. "Had we been behind and needed the long ball, I would have put a fellow like Ernie Banks in.

Alston said the key hit in the game that produced the Nationals' sixth victory in the last seven games, and their 10th in the series of 23, was the homer by Willie Mays, a bench warmer until the fourth inning.

The Nationals held a slim 1-0 lead when Mays came up to bat for Gus Bell after Boyer had slashed the second of his three straight singles.

Lefthander Whitey Ford of the Yankees was on the mound, having replaced starter Billy Pierce of the White Sox at the beginning of the inning. Pierce and Bob Friend had waged a fine pitching duel for three innings. Billy yielding the only run on a walk to Temple, in the third, Friend's sacrifice and Temple's line single to center.

Mays missed the first pitch, then walloped a 400-foot home run halfway up the left-center field bleachers at Griffith Stadium to give the Nationals a 3-0 bulge. The Americans never caught up, although Ted Williams' two-run circuit blow in the sixth, immediately followed by Mickey Mantle's four-base blow, cut the winners' margin to 5-3. The Nationals had tallied single runs in the fifth and sixth.

"Mays' pinch homer was the turning point," said Alston. "It gave us a comfortable lead and put them on the defensive. After that it was just a matter of getting good pitching from everybody.

DOUBLE TROUBLE—Mickey Vernon (6) American League first baseman and Nellie Fox, second baseman, try for a blooper by Roy McMillan near the first base line. Both missed the elusive ball and McMillan was credited with a single. The Redleg scored the first National League run in the 3rd after a walk from Billy Pierce. The Nationals won, 7-3.

Hills Golfer Qualifies for Jaycee Junior Meet

Britigan, matching a six-over-par 77 with an opening round 74, fired a 36-hole score of 151 to annex the State Jaycee Golf Crown yesterday in competition with 139 other entries at the Kalamazoo Country Club. He and teammate Jim Rock will join Tom Wilson of Detroit and Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills to form the state team in the national tournament.

Badger finished in second place a single stroke back after identical rounds of 76. A three-way tie at 153 forced a playoff among Rock, Wilson and Nick Berlich of Ypsilanti. Rock and Wilson each carded par 5's on the first hole of the playoff while Berlich slipped to a bogey. Wilson then took third place when he fired a par 3 on the first hole of a second playoff with Rock.

Dick Weyand of Birmingham, representing the Pontiac Jaycees, was six strokes off the winner as he carded a 79 yesterday for a 157 total. Dick Crean had a total of 161.

Detroit's winning four-man team wound up with an aggregate score of 617 for the 36 holes, Kalamazoo finished second with 624, Grand Rapids third with 633 and Jackson, the defending champion, 4th with 636.

In the Jaycee tennis tournament, Dick Colby of Kalamazoo came up with the day's big upset yesterday when he whipped top-seeded Loren Campbell of Cadillac, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4, in the boys division quarterfinals.

Cook meets Jon Scott of Kalamazoo in semifinal play today and Frank Fulton of Bay City battles Bill Vogt of Saginaw in the other semifinals match.

Mrs. Israel Winner of Weekly Tourney

Shooting an 82 over Bloomfield Hills CC in the weekly WDGA tourney yesterday gave Knollwood's Mrs. J. G. Israel her season's 1st victory. She paced the biggest field (153) for a WDGA weekly event, leading Sally Sharp of Pine Lake by two strokes. Mrs. Susie LeClair of Ann Arbor, recent district tourney winner was three strokes back at 85.

Inman, Smith Repeat

Compile Record 129 for Title

By H. GUY MOATS
Special Writer, Pontiac Press

It took a record 129 to win yesterday's 19th Michigan Pro-Amateur golf championship. Stocky Bob Inman and his steady-going partner, well-regarded Ben Smith of Detroit, had all that was needed in the way of birdies and other assorted count to capture the title for the second time in succession.

The defending champions, completing their 36-hole marathon best-ball round late Tuesday afternoon at Tam O'Shanter Country Club carded 33-31-32-33 for their new Pro-Am record of 129.

It would have been one less but for a missed 18-inch eagle putt on No. 16. Inman, who missed the "little one" remarked afterward, "boy, they always remember the little ones you miss, but kinda forget about the tough ones that are canned."

In the runnerup slot were Johnny Dalrymple, former Keego Harbor HS athlete, and young Tommy Watrous of Royal Oak, with a fine 133. Nearly the last to finish, this duo had a chance up to the first few holes of the final nine. Several bogeys and an unplayable lie that cost a stroke hurt, despite the 32 count. They had 33-33-35-32—133.

A considerable group converged on the 134 point and other cards ranged down to 151.

Inman and Smith took down $375, $125 worth of merchandise to Smith and $250 in cash for Inman, besides having their names placed on the big championship trophy.

The champs wiped out a record 130 total that was first set in 1946 by Horton Smith and Rollin Taylor and equaled in 1951 by John Barnum and Harold Brink of Grand Rapids. The new mark is 13 under par for 36 holes.

On their way to the top spot the champs carded 13 birdies and never were over par. The runnerup pair contributed 13 birds and an eagle to the day's parbreaking, with Dalrymple getting six birds and the eagle.

Glenn Johnson Defending Titlist

350 Entries in Michigan Amateur

JACKSON (AP) — Two-time champion Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile, the defending titlist, heads a record field of more than 350 entries in the 50th annual Michigan Amateur Golf Tournament opening today.

Johnson, former Michigan State quarterback who now sells insurance for a living, is a solid favorite to retain the title he won in 1954 and 1955, but he'll have plenty of competition from such veterans as Harold Brink of Grand Rapids and Jack Gregory of Detroit.

Chuck Kocsis of Detroit, a six-time winner, says he won't be playing in the tourney this year.

Entries in the five-day tournament will shoot 18-hole qualifying rounds today and tomorrow over the Jackson Country Club and Cascades courses. Starting Friday there will be three days of match play at the J.C.C. course, six 18-hole rounds in all, with Johnson and the low 63 qualifiers competing.

Johnson, who has been playing some of the best golf of his amateur career, will be only the second Michigan player to take three state tournaments if he can win it again this year. Johnny Malloy did it in 1927-28-29.

But with such a large entry list, such a feat is not easily accomplished.

Others he'll have to beat include John Kurach of Detroit, who lost out to Johnson in the finals last year, and a number of former champions, Tom Draper of Detroit, Fred Turner of Flint and Lou Wendrow of Lansing among them.

There's plenty of talent evident too in the more youthful entrants, including Fred Miclow of Hillsdale, Dick Norton of Grand Rapids, Tom Watrous of Royal Oak and Dave Hill, Steve Miller and Bob Zimmerman of Jackson.

This is the third year in a row that the tournament, one of the oldest state golf tourneys in the nation, has been played in Jackson. The country club course has been made a bit tougher since last year with the addition of several traps and the changing of the 10th hole from a short par four to a long par three.

Many entrants toured the two courses yesterday in practice rounds.

Lions Get Set to Open Drills Shy of Contracts

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions, who begin practice in less than two weeks, are having contract troubles with many of their veteran players.

Several weeks ago the Lions — who finished in the National Football League basement last season after winning three straight division titles — sent out contracts to 19 veterans.

Only one of them, Harry Gilmer, has signed.

Although rookie practice begins July 23 with the veterans reporting a week later, general manager Nick Kerbawy sticks to his original statement that he expects "no serious trouble" in bringing the rest of the veterans to terms.

Kerbawy said at the time there would be some pay cuts. But the Lion players, taking note of the tremendous advance ticket sale, believe their paychecks should be the same — if not a little better — this season. It is known that some of the players plan all-out campaigns in their contract battles.

"The club is drawing the same and maybe a little better," reasoned one player. "Why should we take pay cuts?"

The Lions front office says there is nothing unusual in the fact that most of the players either have returned their contracts unsigned or have not returned them at all.

Said a club spokesman:

"A lot of players bring the contracts with them when they come to camp. Maybe in some cases there are a few minor points to be ironed out. By August first they'll be ready to go."

* * *

The club expects to sign its top draft choice, Ohio State's halfback Howard (Hopalong) Cassady early next week. The fleet redhead will report to the college all-star camp July 19 and the Lions expect him to come to terms in his home town, Columbus, Ohio, before that.

Kraus Team Wins Pine Lake Tourney

Mrs. Mark Kraus and son Jim (one of the fine young twin golfers) walked off with the annual mother-son (or daughter) golf tournament at Pine Lake over the weekend. They fired an 84 best-ball to lead Sally Sharp and her mother, Mrs. Claude Sharp who had 90.

The Kraus family and the Sharps live in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills, respectively.

Low gross for the event went to Mrs. Pat Hogan and son Jim, of Detroit, with 91-23—68.

Saturday Shoots

Two regular club trapshoots have been arranged for July 21 and July 28, last two Saturday's of the month, at Birmingham Gun Club. Members and friends are invited to participate in these events.

Union Swamps Fowlers 13-2

Scoring early and late, CIO No. 594 Class A baseball club yesterday swamped Fowlers' Fine Foods 13-2, in a city league contest on Wisner Field.

Union crew collected three in the 2nd, four in the 3rd, four in the 5th and two in the top of the finale, while the Fowlers were hard put to get one each in the 4th and 6th innings.

Each club garnered nine safe blows, off two opposing hurlers. Six were of the extra-base variety, with Union's Ron Woodhull getting the only triple of the night in the 5th frame. Kim Conroy's 3-for-3 led the hitting.

Big Field Seen for Father-Son Links Tourney

A capable and large field of golfing father and son teams is shaping up for the annual Detroit District Father-Son championship on July 17 at Pine Lake Country Club.

The defending champions, pro Faust Bianco and son from Dearborn will be back to defend their crown, Elmer Prieskorn, Pine Lake's professional reported today.

Others already indicating their entries include Hermie Miller and son from Harbor Hills CC at Jackson; Bud Badger and son, Buddy Jr., from Bloomfield Hills.

Howell Wins Feature Race at Speedway

Behind Howell in the Gold Cup race was Rusty Kelly and Dorris Sanders. It was a race for the 16 top point men at the speedway.

Game Decided by Wild Pitch

Baptists Edge White Bros. in 10th Inning at Drayton Plains

A wild pitch in the 10th frame of an extra-inning softball contest at Drayton Plains Recreation field, last night cost White Brothers club a 1-0 loss. Emmanuel Baptists hung on the defeat after the clubs had gone nine frames of a fine, scoreless battle, marked by sharp pitching.

Whites lost their chance to tie the count again in the top of the 10th when Doug Brown, pitcher, tripled with one out. But Harlan (Fat) Keith bore down and fanned the next batter, forced the third to pop out to the infield.

In another Waterford league contest Lakeland Pharmacy moved into 1st place over Drayton Drugs with a 5-1 victory. Pharmacy has a half-game edge.

Orioles Trip Senators

In the only game played yesterday in the Federal Savings Baseball League at Boys' Club, Orioles defeated the Senators 5-4 in an extra-frame contest.

Win kept Orioles in first place.

Machen Favored Tonight

White Sox Get Ellis Kinder

Kinder, who compiled a 2-0 record with the Cardinals, was sold to St. Louis last winter by the Boston Red Sox where he had a 1955 mark of 5-5.

Jewelers Trip GM in Feature

Playing tight ball in the clutches, Shaw's Jewelry city softball league club last night held General Motors club to a single run, while collecting a 4-1 victory. Game at Beaudette Park was rated an important engagement, giving the winner an edge going into the last third of the season.

Elks No. 810 defeated Sam Benson's in the nightcap, at Beaudette, 5-1, with a four-run 2nd inning blast.

Jewelers got tight, effective hurling from the veteran Perc McConner, who gave up four blows. Woodworth and Lynus Grant gave up seven.

Three hits and a couple errors figured in the 4th frame winning effort. Shaw's had collected one in the 2nd and added another in 5th. Three hits produced Motors' only tally, in the 4th.

A nine-inning overtime victory for General Motors girls over Michigan Bell and a 8-5 win for Drive Inn over Franklin Products marked action on the North Side diamond. The girls were knotted at 7-7 at end of regulation seven frames. GM exploded in the 9th with three hits good for five runs and the victory.

Scouts Clean Debris From Au Sable River

The boys, who volunteer their services, gathered an estimated six tons of debris from the main stream and south branch of the river. The assorted refuse consisted mainly of cans and bottles, but included wire fencing, rubber tires, washtubs, bedsprings and frames, rope and other miscellaneous articles.

The scouts spent three days completing the cleanup this year, using canoes donated by local boat rental agencies. The refuse was unloaded at access points on the river where it was picked up by Conservation Department trucks for disposal at county dumps.

State Quail Shows Population Boost

A recent survey produced an index number of 16 birds per route surveyed. Last year, the same highway routes produced an index of 13.1 birds per route surveyed.

Quail in Michigan are generally limited to the southern tier of counties, mostly in Branch, Hillsdale, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Lenawee and Monroe.

Stop, Go Angling

Shifty Weather Puts Trouters on Edge

By JACK PATTERSON

Local fishermen are stymied by April-in-July weather, which, in case you hadn't noticed, seems to have latched onto us for good. We're not sure what precise effect unstable weather has on feeding schedules and peregrinations of fish but it has plenty of effect on the angler. Wind, cold evenings are the chief malefactors. The tag line of that dreadful pun that Dr. George Petroff is fond of quoting—about the man who ate 46 waffles; how waffle!—pretty well sums up the local fishing picture. It also hints at the hazards one puts up with in this business.

PATTERSON

On the trout streams, cold evenings are putting big fly hatches on a stop and go basis. Some evenings all you-know-what breaks loose—others, nothing.

Since the weather bureau has demonstrated its complete inability to forecast tomorrow's—any tomorrow's—weather, the trout fisherman is pretty much on his own and just has to hope he'll be on the stream at the right moment.

Up at Woodland Springs, near Comins, club rainbows took a recent beating from Dr. Vern Abbott, Jim Clarke and Lee Voorhees. Biggest fish taken was a 22-incher that fell to Abbott's skilful fly-heaving. Vern was very ho-hum about the fish, as though he caught that sort of thing every day, but we know better.

All activity was during early evening and before the hatch got well under way. These anglers experienced the frustration of trying to catch fish, when the water was boiling with them, at the peak of the hatch.

This is a rather common problem when the water is so covered with naturals that an artificial is lost in the crowd. Sometimes a wet fly, fished from the bottom to the surface, in small jerks, will provide the necessary change of pace under these conditions.

Although there have been many good hatches, big hatches are far from over. In fact we predict that the best "hatch fishing" is still ahead of us and are backed up on this theory by no less an authority than Dr. L. A. Farnham, who has spent a lifetime observing—and taking action on—such matters.

* * *

Aside from fishing the hatch the midsummer trout fisherman often runs into exasperating feeding patterns that are enough to make him give up fishing entirely. Lynn Allen recently ran into such a situation on "one of the best pools in the North Branch."

Big browns were churning up the surface of the pool, feeding on green worms dropping off the bushes. Lynn didn't have anything that resembled a green worm but finally took a fish on a sparse squirrel tail, after first burning off the hackle with his cigarette.

This situation illustrates the usefulness of a batch of wooly worm flies in assorted colors. These can be used to duplicate worms, caterpillars, beetles and any of a dozen species of casual flotsam that trout often go for whole hog.

We have taken good fish in a "dead" stream at midday by slapping down a big w. w. with a splash, under an overhanging alder or clump of grass.

Junior FEI Event

PHA Plans Two-Day Show

METAMORA—Professional Horsemen's Association will hold a show on July 21-22 at the Metamora Hunt Club area in Barber Road, where a complete new jumper course has been erected. A new 20-stall barn has also been built by members of the P.H.A. to stable the rapidly growing number of horses that take part in the show each year.

First day (July 21) will be Junior F.E.I. Day, starting at 8:30 a.m. There will be 14 teams competing in the four F.E.I. classes. These F.E.I. classes are run at five different shows in this area, and the team winning the most points will compete with the winning team in Canada in September.

Purpose of these F.E.I. competitions is to develop horses and riders for the U. S. Olympic team.

July 22 will be taken over by juniors and seniors to compete for a blue ribbon and a piece of silver plate. Jumping course is made up of different types of fence that riders come in contact with on a normal hunting day.

Judge for the show will be Frank Hawkins of Bedford Village, N. Y. Officers of the P.H.A. are: Clinton Williams, Oxford, chairman; Rodney Gray, Metamora, secretary; Gene Lasker, Metamora, treasurer; trustees, Welby Kirby, Clinton Williams.

OCSC Champs in State Test

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club rifle team walked off with the Michigan Outdoor Rifle Championships last weekend at Ionia.

The squad, captained by Frank Brusha and coached by Bob Waggoner, included Big Ten star Roberta Gubbins of Birmingham, Bert Beam, John Treeful and Allan Johnson. The ensemble fired 1582x1600.

Andonian Lone State Survivor in Publinx

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Paced by three sharp-shooting Californians, the 64 surviving golfers in the National Public Links tournament today stop playing against par and start competition among themselves.

Two match-play rounds were scheduled that will cut the field to 16 before the day is over.

Leading the public course players into match play was medalist Scotty McBeath, a 34-year-old Palo Alto, Calif., salesman. He put an even par 72 yesterday with his 69 first round of qualifying play for a 141 total over the Harding Park course.

Only two others broke par for the two days. They were Vern Callison, a Sacramento, Calif., tavern owner who finished with a 71-71—142, and 19-year-old Joe Gallardo Jr., of Los Angeles who had a 75-68—143.

Par for the 6,683-yard Harding course is 36-36—72. Roy Hart, a milkman from Daly City, Calif., matched it for the two days with a 74-70—144.

Callison met George Roddy of Indianapolis who fired a 73 yesterday for a qualifying total of 150. Gallardo, whose 68 was the lowest 18 among the 150 who shot qualifying rounds, drew his first match test against Mike Mural of Perman, Ohio.

Despite the many low California scores, city team honors went to a threesome from Memphis, Tenn. with a team aggregate of 455, eight strokes less than teams from Portland and Dallas that wound up in a second-place tie.

Taking the Harding Cup, symbolic of the team title were Junie Buxbaum, 73-73—146; Gene Frase, 73-80—153, and Eggie Langert, 72-74—146.

Of the seven entries from Michigan, only Mike Andonian of Pontiac qualified for entry into the match play championships. Andonian added a 75 to go with his first round of 79 for a 154 which was one stroke within qualifying range.

Edward Briegel of Ann Arbor had a 78-77 for 155 but failed to make the field because of the draw in which Billy Lauer of Spokane was chosen by a coin-flip.

William Schwope, Detroit, withdrew.
Fred King, Dearborn, 80-79—159.
Richard Preston, Detroit, 84-77—161.
Mike Andonian, Pontiac, 79-75—154.
C. James Seltzer, Flint, 80-79—159.
Roy Iceberg, Pontiac, 81-77—158.

TREATMENT: When you sting your fingers by hitting too high on the ball, the upper half, you've let go of the middle, third, and little fingers of the left hand at the top of the swing. That's where the right hand takes over and anything can happen. Because the action then speeds up so much that it's a quick slap rather than a smooth, timed stroke. The club loses its groove, the body checks, no follow-through, no distance, no direction.

Take a look at the sketch. The perfect grip. Notice particularly the firmness of the middle, third, and little fingers. The right hand grip is much in the fingers, with the index finger and thumb forming a "lock."

Keep the grip just this firm with both hands throughout the swing. Don't let go, anywhere. Here's an important backswing tip: In sweeping the clubhead low and straight back from the ball feel a little pressure in the middle, third and little fingers of the left hand—and hang on.

And in the downswing—feel that the left hand pressure again, in the middle, third and little fingers . . . all the way down and through the ball

Emmanuel Juniors Upset Drayton 9

Emmanuel Baptist scored an upset in Junior League at Williams Lake last night by downing league leading Drayton Drugs, 11-9.

Church Nines in Heavy Play

Action in the City Softball League last night saw Liberty Baptist edging Memorial Baptist, 3-1; Community Church shellacking Oakland avenue U. P., 13-1 and First Presbyterian outslugging Marimont Baptist, 14-7.

Gerald Roerink limited Oakland U. P. to three hits as Rod Treais homered for Community church.

Marimont scored all of its 7 runs in the 7th but it wasn't enough to beat First Presbyterian which was led by Robert Knoop's two homers.

Tonight's games include: First Baptist versus Central Christian at Longfellow; Liberty Baptist versus Marimont Baptist at Oakland Park and First Presbyterian versus Columbia Baptist at Jaycee Park. Game time is at 6:15 p.m.

Pick Members to School Board

NORTH BRANCH — John E. Simmons and Wilmer Fricke won three-year terms on the North Branch Area School District No. 7 board Monday.

Of the 74 votes cast, Simmons received 52 and Fricke, 64 with nine write-in votes for five persons.

A 47-to-20 balloting carried the proposal for the board to transfer $10,000 from general funds to the building and site fund if members of the board deem it necessary.

A proposition to let the board buy property next to the school land was approved 48 to 19.

Simmons was elected president of the board; Fricke, secretary; and Francis Fike, treasurer. Other board members are Walter Marion and Christopher Margrif.

De Camp Wins Again in Imlay City Vote

IMLAY CITY — Hugh DeCamp, re-elected to the Imlay City Community School Board of Education Monday, received 209 votes. Howard Caldwell of Erity district, was seated with 149 votes. Defeated Wallace Johnson received 143 votes.

DeCamp, beginning his 26th year on the board, has served as president for the past six years.

The school district had a total cash balance of $113,686.92 as of July 1, 1956. The balance in the General Fund was $83,258.82 and in the building and site fund, $30,428.10, and all current bills were paid.

Readying Antiques for Auction May Yield Funds for Kitchen

MILFORD—"Treasures" in antiques have been being collected and repaired for months by a group of 175 Milford women who have set themselves a $5,000 goal for a church kitchen fund.

The fund goal was adopted by the Women's Guild for their contribution to the new $200,000 addition to the 75-year-old Presbyterian Church on Main Street.

Their auction sale this Saturday at the Hubbell Antique Shoppe on South Milford Road is one of the first and biggest projects for raising the fund.

The sale begins at ten o'clock in the forenoon and will continue until the last item is gone.

Mrs. Roger Hubbell and her crew have been working for months accumulating anything and everything, then repairing and cleaning up the "treasures" for the public bidding.

Already they have collected old chests, beds, rockers, dishes and even woolen clothing for rug-makers. Much more is needed, however, as $5,000 is a lot of money to raise in a town the size of Milford, according to Mrs. Hubbell.

Along with the Auction sale, there will be a bake sale, and lunch will be served on the grounds by women of the church.

The Guild has been serving a cafeteria-style noon day lunch, plus a bake sale every other Friday since pledging the $5,000. Profits from this project net close to $160 a month, which is contributed to the kitchen fund. Mrs. Phil Wathen is chairman.

Residents of the area who have contributions to make are asked to call Mrs. Hubbell or Mrs. Roy Helberg.

Enthusiasm for the project would have been much less for other than a kitchen project.

If the same women had been asked to raise $5,000 for a new heating plant, plumbing system, or electrical installations, they would have only been lukewarm to the idea.

According to people who know—more activity goes on in a church kitchen than any place else in a small town.

Here women get acquainted, exchange cooking and household ideas, talk over family problems and in general, have the "time of their lives." With the possibility of new equipment, enthusiasm runs high.

Farm Referendum to Tell If Price Supports Desired

Farm policy makers will be watching the outcome of the July 20 wheat referendum with a keen eye.

They'll be watching to see whether farmers are in favor of strict controls and full price support, or practically no controls and little price support, or practically no controls and little price support, states Lyle Abel, Oakland County agricultural agent.

County agent Abel sees the referendum as both an indication of farmer feeling about controls in general as well as wheat specifically.

Because the voting does have an overall effect on farm policy, Abel urges all eligible wheat growers in Michigan to cast their ballot to make known their beliefs.

In the past three referendums, only about one-third of the eligible Michigan farmer voted. Because of the light vote, the actual feelings of Michigan farmers may not be shown. A non-vote may be considered an agreement or disagreement.

Farmers who will harvest more than 15 acres of wheat as grain in 1957 are eligible to vote in the referendum.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lynd, 3982 Pontiac Lake Rd., Waterfrd Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Mary, to Norman Nesbitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nesbitt, 39 Cadillac St., Pontiac. No date has been set for the wedding.

Troy Studying Size of Lots

TROY — Demands for smaller lots in Troy since installation of sewers and water for the presently required large lots are prohibitive was voiced before the city's planning commission last night.

* * *

The city now has few sewer installations, but when they are available in the future, costs would be too high for lots with several hundred feet of frontage, builders told officials.

Approval of a new subdivision at Big Beaver just east of Adams was voted at the meeting, but decision is not final without the city commission vote.

The plot was subdivided by John R. White of Detroit, and has 22 lots, relatively large and intended for ranchhouses.

A United Brethren Church, proposed for building on John R., was not approved. The board asked that plans for the church be submitted before the area be rezoned from residential to allow the church's building.

MMPA Trial Comes to End

Corporation Attacked as Conclusion Reached; Ruling to Be Delayed

The Fritz versus Michigan Milk Producers Association court case, which concluded recently, is significant "because it is the first time that a controversy has come to a conclusion and that the structure of the corporation has been attacked in the courts," according to a statement the MMPA released this week

The records of the trial have been transcribed and the judge has given the plaintiff, Harold H. Fritz, president of the Romeo local, until July 15 to submit his arguments, and briefs.

The defendants have been given until August 1.

The judge will be absent for the month of August, but on his return is to render his decision in the early part of September.

"If he should hold that the delegate system is void, all the other questions we raised are really moot questions because the by-laws and the delegate system would all be void and the officials would be operating ad de facto officers," the MMPA statement says.

"A special meeting could be called, or it could be done at the annual meeting, for the purpose of preparing a new set of by-laws and for the election of a new board of directors," the statement continued.

"If the court should decide that the delegate system is not void, it probably will make a decision on our rights in order that the members could have more direct control of their association, by the interpretation of the various statutes made and provided for such cases," the statement, issued by Mrs. Marion M. Lloyd, MMPA secretary, said.

Hollywood Headlines

Francoise Sagan's Novel Will Be Made Into Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Francoise Sagan, youthful author of "Bonjour Tristesse," has written another novel, "A Certain Smile." She was 18 when she wrote "Bonjour Tristesse"; she is 20 now.

Buddy Adler has purchased the rights to her second book and has assigned Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett, who won the Pulitzer Prize for "The Diary of Anne Frank," to write the script.

"A Certain Smile" will be made in Paris early next year. So far, Buddy says he has no actress in mind, but she must be a young girl who can express many emotions.

Just before Helen and Peter Rathvon took off for England, Peter telephoned me to say that when he gets to England he will start the first of his TV series called "Phnomena," with Paul Douglas as the narrator.

"Our series is based on the British Psychological Research Institute, a place that has been in existence over 100 years. My aim is to get both foreign and American releases."

Peter will also produce a TV series based on the Captain Hornblower character.

PRAYERS CREDITED

The prayers of the Sisters at St. John Hospital, Darrylin Zanuck Jack feels, saved the life of her baby Wendolyn. When Wendolyn was born she couldn't breathe because of a lung constriction and she went down to 3 pounds.

She only weighed 4 pounds, 5 ounces at birth. She was put in an incubator and the doctors told Darrylin and Robert Jacks that the baby would live only 24 hours.

"Now she's back to 4 pounds, she's out of the oxygen tent, she's pretty as a picture," said Darrylin. "We're leaving her in the hospital until she weighs 5 pounds and then they tell us we can take her home. Even the doctor says it's a miracle."

I pinned Martha Raye down in Las Vegas and asked her if she plans to marry Al Riddle, a dealer at the Sahara.

"I'm not going to marry anyone," she said. "I've been married five times and that's plenty! Al left the day after I arrived here to go East to see his mother who has been very sick, and when he returns I suppose I'll see him."

Martha's ex-husband No. 4, Nick Condos, is very much in the picture. He still manages her, and he joined us in the lounge at the Sahara after her show.

THEY'RE ENGAGED

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Actress Barbara Darrow had a happy smile at Ciro's when she showed the engagement ring Tommy Tannenbaum, son of the mayor of Beverly Hills, had put on her finger. They'll marry Dec. 28.

The Sultan of Pahang and his entourage were the guests of honor at a cocktail party given by Cobina Wright. The Sultan reigns in Malaya and a part of his entourage was George Sanders (not the actor), an Englishman who is close to the Duke of Edinburgh.

It's a baby boy for the Felix Jacksons. Papa has been producer on TV for "Studio One" during the past year or so in New York.

Westwood Village Prospectus Now Ready

Advocates Plan to Issue Report in Southfield

Ballots Ask Residents to Pick Between Three Courses of Action

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—After a two-week delay, the petitions to form Westwood Village, a home-rule community, will be circulated this weekend, according to Ted Shurtleff, chairman of the East and West Beverly Hills and Berkshire Hills subdivision incorporation committee.

Distribution of 1,500 copies of a detailed report on the advantages of home-rule village will begin Friday, he said.

A proposed budget with an estimated $7.25 tax per $1,000 of assessed valuation will be among items in the report, he says.

The area proposed for incorporation is in the northern part of the township and covers 14 per cent of the land area which now pays 25 per cent of collected taxes.

The boundaries would be from Greenfield to Evergreen Roads between 13 and 14 Mile Roads and from Evergreen to the eastern boundary of Bingham Farm Village between 12½ and 14 Mile Roads.

Ballots will be issued by the Greenfield-Beverly Improvement Assn. to determine whether they prefer incorporation with Southfield, annexation to Birmingham, or incorporation as a home-rule village, Shurtleff said.

5-Month Car Sales Surpass 2,548,000

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's new car retailers sold 2,548,710 units during the first five months of 1956, official registration figures disclosed today. The total compares with 2,840,532 registrations in the same 1955 period.

Factory output for the first five months of the year came to about 2,762,000. Of this total about 125,000 cars were for export. Thus the auto makers geared production more closely than ever to the retail market.

(Unofficial figures indicate June output came to 428,364; retail sales are estimated to have been welll above 500,000.)

Of this year's five months' registration total, General Motors' big Chevrolet Division accounted for 656,560 and Ford Division for 545,037 cars. Buick was third with 248,134 and Plymouth fourth with 214,294.

Gas Firm Authorized Boost in Customers

DETROIT (AP) — Given a go-ahead by the Federal Power Commission, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. says it will begin immediately to take on 60,721 new natural gas space heating customers.

The action, previously approved by the Michigan Public Service Commission, brings to 138,000 the number of new heating customers Michigan has been authorized to serve in the last 10 months.

The firm's operations, confined mainly to consumers in the southern part of the state, stop at Eight Mile Road from where gas is supplied on north by the Consumers Power Co.

Start on the new program was assured when the FPC modified a ceiling regulation limiting the number of space heaters which could be served by outleters of the Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., which include Michigan Consolidated.

New supplies of natural gas will be made available to Michigan, Wisconsin and Michigan Consolidated with completion of the new American Louisiana pipe line in a few weeks.

Chevrolet Buys 70 Acres for Warehouse in Atlanta

Lathrup Judge Refuses Council

Asked to Resume Job; Mayor Endorses Action on Police Strength

LATHRUP VILLAGE — Leonard V. Pylkas, who quit as Justice of the Peace here last week, was asked to withdraw his resignation by City Council in a two hour session before the regular meeting Monday night.

It was also court night. Hearings were postponed for two weeks because no judge was available.

"The bone of contention is the inadequate volunteer police force," Pylkas said last week. Police Lt. Dave Bourgeois, who also submitted his resignation, said, "I agree with Pylkas."

Mayor John Campbell said he agrees with council which feels the police force is adequate for the one and one-half square mile, 3,000 populated area.

"We had no trouble here until Bourgeois, a professional policeman, wanted to put the Lathrup Police force on a professional basis," he added.

When contacted today, Pylkas said he did not intend to withdraw his resignation.

Navy Prepares Missile Ships

Warships Will Install Supersonic Warhead Launching Platforms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy expects within a "few years" to begin equipping ships with ballistic missiles armed with "high yield nuclear warheads" and capable of traveling at tremendous speeds.

In testimony made public yesterday by a Senate Armed Services subcommittee, Adm. John E. Clark said the missile, Jupiter, will be in operation long before the expected perfection of countermeasures against the weapon. He said it will travel "many times" faster than sound—around 760 miles per hour at sea level.

Testimony given last month by Clark, director of the Navy's guided missile program, was made public in highly censored form. He said the fleet ballistic missile, being developed jointly with the Army, will take form in a year and the Navy already is studying the types of ships that could use it.

Rochester Plans Improvements Around Village

ROCHESTER—Village Manager Robert A. Slone made several recommendations regarding improving the area around the Sewage Treatment Plant, rezoning problems, and storm sewers this week.

He presented recommendations to regulate operation of a sanitary land fill on village owned land adjacent to the sewage treatment plant. The council forwarded them to the Avon Township Board.

Manager Slone was also authorized to employ earth-moving equipment to rough grade village property north of Woodward street.

The finished grade will be planted along the north and east sides.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mitchell, 520 First St., who requested a zoning change in the Renshaw addition, were instructed to circulate a petition.

Persons signing the petition should be informed that each lot have an area of 6,400 square feet before a permit would be granted for a two family dwelling, the council pointed out.

President C. Burr appointed councilmen Frank Rewold and John Dahlman to survey the possibility of additional storm sewers in the village, particularly on Parkdale, Wesley, Fourth, Drace, Griggs and Second streets.

Ike Signs Pollution Control Program Bill

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower has signed into law a bill making federal water pollution control a permanent program.

At the same time, in a statement issued at the temporary White House here Monday Eisenhower said the measure in one respect goes beyond what he recommended — by providing for federal grants to localities to pay part of the cost of constructing municipal sewage treatment works.

The bill as signed authorizes annual appropriations of five million dollars for grants to states carrying out water pollution control programs.

Market Moves Slightly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails and chemicals gained but other industrial shares slackened today with the net result of a slightly higher stock market on average early this afternoon.

The gains generally ran from fractions to around 2 points in moderately active trading. There was a scattering of losers, too.

Steels were mixed after leading yesterday's late upturn following definite word that President Eisenhower would seek re-election. Motors backed away following their advance of yesterday. Utilities were mixed.

Among the chemicals, Du Pont, American Cyanamid and Allied moved upward around a point. Dow and Union Carbide were fractional gainers.

Plus and minus signs in small fractions dotted the steel division. The motors were off in fractions.

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—The success of ABC-TV's Lawrence Welk Show has inspired all the networks to their busiest artistic endeavor, which is imitation, so now we must undergo a trend we might as well describe as "Welkin ringing."

Having analyzed the success of this Welkin trend, CBS must have decided what was needed was essentially not so much the best in popular music but the friendliest, and on Saturday evening fielded its first imitation of the season, "The Russ Morgan Show."

On this basis of sheer niceness, CBS had its hired hands dig up one of the friendliest, nicest fellows of the popular music business, the Russ Morgan of the show's title, a large gentle-bear hearty type.

Morgan has been filling the air with a fine grade of cornball jazz for several decades, tooting a highly individual brand of wah-wah trombone and rattling off an enthusiastic ragtime piano.

He has a pleasantly husky singing voice and a smile that is genuine and unforced.

The smile lights up to a level of geniality you sense is pure satisfaction with the owner's place in the entertainment forefront, a suspicion confirmed when Morgan took a two-bar rest to voice his preference for this life as compared with coal mining, an occupation he once practiced.

THE RIGHT TRACK

Starting with such a pure and likeable personality, CBS would seem to be on the right track, and the selection of Helen O'Connell, graduate of Jimmy Dorsey's best broadcasting and recording days, was a pretty wholesome exclamation point indeed.

Miss O'Connell has a smile which illuminates with even more candlepowered sincerity than Russ Morgan's, and though she has a voice which hardly will send Jo Stafford enviously packing, it does have a sort of hip and happy competence backed up always by that wonderful visual warmth and incandescence.

They say a singer's voice seems far better if the owner has extra telegenic attributes, and this we professionally and personally believe.

Miss O'Connell did not especially get to us during her radio-recording Dorsey days—but now that we have seen her and have basked in the clear glow of such dimpled and undoubted TV pleasantness, we have undergone a not in the least reluctant change of mind and ear. The eyes, in TV, have it.

* * *

Now for the negative side of "The Russ Morgan Show." Seems to us the production and direction lagged and dragged where a constantly bright and pleasant pace could have kept things bubbling (ah there, Lawrence Welk).

MEANINGLESS TALK

The dialogue was meaningless small talk for the most part. On the Lawrence Welk Show, CBS please note, the between-numbers talk is limited to the skimpiest introductions and appreciations of the artists, and off they bubble into each succeeding ensemble or solo performance.

* * *

"The Russ Morgan Show" started off with precisely the right pleasant stars and then let them drag their feet when they should have been effervescing.

Atoms Wooing Asia to Freedom

Recent Visitor Praises U.S. Plans to Construct A-Lab in Philippines

EAST LANSING (AP)—A Michigan State University professor, just returned from a tour of Asia, said Tuesday atomic energy has given the free world one of its greatest peacetime victories.

* * *

Dr. Harold B. Tukey, head of the MSU Horticulture Department, was interviewed following a three-month Far Eastern tour with a team of top U. S. scientists.

He told of U. S. plans to start construction next year on a multimillion dollar nuclear center in the Philippines to offer 14 Asiatic nations the peacetime benefits of atomic energy.

The U. S. team visited Japan, India, Indonesia, Pakistan, Thailand, Burma, Nepal, Ceylon, Laos, Siam, Cambodia, Vietnam, Malaya and the Philippines.

TO BLOCK COMMUNISM

Purpose of the trip was to aid these countries and attempt to save them from Communism, Tukey said.

One answer, he said, is a 35 million dollar nuclear center scheduled for construction next year at the University of the Philippines, Manila.

"The center already has given new prominence and prestige to the free world among Far Eastern countries," Tukey said.

"It represents one of our trump cards in the game of international poker," he added.

The first chief benefits from the project will be to agriculture and medicine, both of vital interest in the Far East, Tukey said.

Red Women Declare Scorn for Sex Appeal

By EARL WILSON

MOSCOW—"We Russian women don't believe in sex appeal," the Russian glamor gal Irina Skobtseva said recently at the Cannes Film Festival.

I wished to see a Russian model, Tamara.

London fashion models here for an exhibition had become excited over her and invited her to London.

Tamara and a dozen other models minced up and down as at an American fashion show . . . a pianist and fiddler in shirt sleeves played modeling music . . . including "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby."

Then out came a boy model!

I met Tamara in the "director's" office.

Very smart, she wore an Italian hairdo, high heels, and a red-and-white taffeta sheath with fly-away panels which the B. W. said was new in New York last fall.

"We hoped we'd have to fight our way out of all sorts of compromising positions with them," one English model related. "Instead, we've been reduced to the indignity of going out with British and American newspapermen. The Russians have ignored us.

"The Russian men," she said, "are carrying that don't-mix-with-foreigners idea too far."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

ELAINE

The "Grand Ole Opry" hillbilly TV'er goes highbrow July 21, with Marguerite Piazza as guest . . . Aly Khan's former honey, Bettina, is due here in the fall to show her clothes for designer Valla De Nilly . . . With titles sprouting all over, Elaine Weiss was named "Miss Totem Lodge."

Life magazine will profile Sammy Davis Jr. . . . Blind crooner Al Hibbler started his 30-city tour, at 11G's a week . . . Sophia Loren, making a film in Spain with Sinatra and Cary Grant, stepped on her foot during a dance and busted a bone.

Dizzy Gillespie's South American tour was called off by the State Dept.—things too unsettled down there . . . Rob't Mitchum refused $250,000 for his share of the film, "Bandido." Says Bob, "That's my retirement insurance."

Earl's Pearls . . .

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "A good pitcher is one who can throw a ball faster than a batter can shake a stick at it."—H. G. Hutcheson.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Goldie Hawkins tells of the wealthy guy who had his passport photo done in Cinemascope.

Jockey Hedley Woodhouse, who has finished second to Eddie Arcaro twice recently, told him, "Eddie, the view from back there is getting monotonous. Why don't you get a haircut?" That's earl, brother.

Rebels Weakening Grip on Cyprus?

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The man directing British antiterrorist operations on Cyprus believes the backbone of the EOKA extremist campaign is "severely bent" and may soon be broken.

"Once we get Grivas," says Brig. George Baker, "I think the rest will crumble."

He was referring to 58-year-old Greek Col. George Grivas, supposed to be operational leader of the EOKA underground organization which is pressing for immediate union of Cyprus with Greece. The British have offered $28,000 for his capture.

* * *

Baker, chief of staff to Gov. Sir John Harding, predicts that by autumn the EOKA will be a "fairly spent force."

* * *

"We have evidence that they are running short of arms," he said. "I am more optimistic now than I was three months ago."

He added that "there are also definite signs that EOKA is becoming unpopular" among the island's overwhelmingly Greek Cypriot population.

President Sends Birthday Greeting to Granny, 102

MIDDLESBORO, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Nancy Lawson, whose hair began to gray only a year or so ago, is 102 today — and among her well wishers is the President of the United States.

A birthday card from President Eisenhower is among Mrs. Lawson's proudest possessions, as is a letter from Gov. A. B. Chandler thanking her for her support.

An ardent supporter of the governor, who took office last December, Mrs. Lawson said: "I reckon you could say I campaigned for him from my wheel chair."

Asked how she would vote in November if Gov. Chandler receives the Democratic presidential nomination and runs against Eisenhower, Mrs. Lawson snapped: "I'm a Democrat." She said she believes, though, that Ike is as much a Democrat as he is a Republican.

Bonds Attract Voters

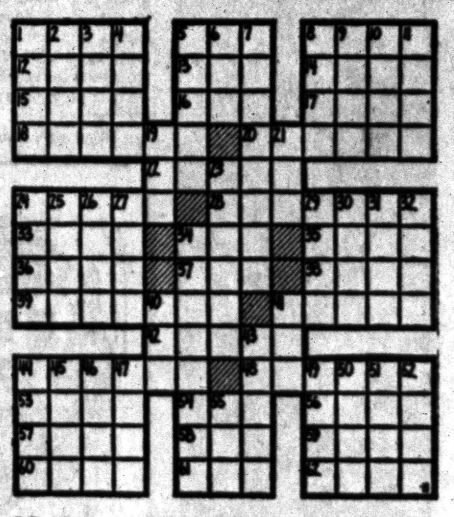

STAMBAUGH (AP) — Two $25 savings bonds offered by merchants to attract voters to the polls may have accounted for the record turnout of 1,562 voters at a special school board election Monday in Stambaugh. Mrs. Arthur Carlson and Dr. Charles A. Cooper won the two vacant posts in a record field of 12 candidates.

Founder of Dairy Dies

SAGINAW (AP) — Richard T. Watson, 64, founder of the Watson Dairy Co. of Saginaw, died Tuesday. Watson retired last year after selling an interest in his company to the McDonald Cooperative Dairy Co. of Flint. Watson's firm was a large ice cream distributor in eastern Michigan.

Traffic Fatalities Show July Rise

State Officials Report 49 Deaths for Month; 826 for 1st Part of '56

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's traffic situation took a turn for the worse this month, state officials said today.

Joseph A. Childs, state police commissioner, told the State Safety Commission 49 persons lost their lives in Michigan traffic during the first eight days of July.

This was an increase of 12 over the same period last year, he said.

The record for the period ending June 30 shows 826 persons were killed during the first six months of the year, a six per cent drop from the figure for the same period last year.

June was the month of most improvement over last year, Childs said. Traffic deaths during June, 1956 were down 96 from June, 1955. "We will have to go right through the winter months with our program if we expect to show any appreciable adjustment at the end of the year," Childs said.

Last year, he said, there was no decrease in fatalities after Labor Day as there usually is, he said.

Secy. of State James M. Hare said a ruling of Judge Marvin J. Salmon of Ingham County Circuit Court "dealt a blow" to the state's safety program.

Salmon held last month that the state cannot refuse to renew licenses of drivers because of "bad driving records."

Hare said the state denied 10,000 renewals last year.

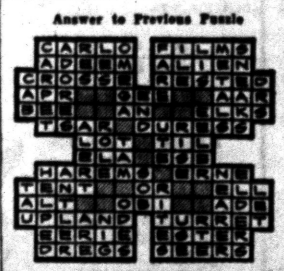

Power Company Gives Land to Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Consumers Power Co. has given the city of Battle Creek a piece of downtown property worth $750,000.

Mayor Frank C. Wagner said the 56-acre millpond and millrace would cut $550,000 from the construction costs of the city's highway and railroad relocation project now in progress. The city took over the property yesterday.

SYMBOLIC—Layman's eye view of the pilot of the future is assembled in front of robot-controlled helicopter to symbolize electronic control which replaces a human at the stick. Demonstration of the craft was recently made at Fort Belvoir, Va., by Kaman Aircraft Corp., which is building a model of the camera-carrying ship for testing by Defense Department. Pilot went along for the ride to conform to regulations, but did not handle the controls.

Grants Boosting Professors' Pay

Ford Foundation Gifts Set Up to Lure More Money From Others

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—The Ford Foundation regards the 260 million dollars it is giving colleges and universities to raise faculty salaries as a challenge to other donors, a foundation official said Tuesday.

* * *

"The last thing in the world the foundation's trustees or officers would wish is for anyone to conclude that the college faculty salary program is solved by this action," Foundation Secretary Joseph M. McDaniel told a gathering of college public relations officials.

"It is not solved. Indeed, only the slightest inroad has been made into it," he said.

He called the 260 million "no mean sum" but noted it is not as large as it appears. He said it is in the form of endowments to colleges and they can use only interest from the money over the next 10 years as salary increases.

38,000 PAY RAISES

This means, McDaniel added, it will provide pay boosts of about four per cent for 38,000 faculty members at those schools receiving the grants.

It does not cover 212,000 others at state institutions and private schools which failed to qualify for the grants.

"The foundation regards its grants as 'challenge grants'—and the challenge is to any and all who are interested in the same problems which concern the foundation," McDaniel said.

"In a large sense, this means the general public, and in a specific sense it means the very public with which you have to deal: Your alumni, friends, business, industry and in the case of the public institutions your state legislatures or other governmental bodies that fund your enterprise," he added.

Plenty of Jobs for Blind, Association Official Says

LOS ANGELES (AP)—There are more jobs for blind persons than there are blind to fill them, but so many employers have mental blocks against hiring the blind that only 20,000 of 90,000 blind employables have jobs.

That picture was given to the American Assn. of Workers for the Blind at its annual convention yesterday by President Joseph F. Clunk of Philadelphia.

"In no case is blindness of itself a bar to gainful work, and the big task we face is to overcome prejudices in hiring," Clunk said.

Statistics show that the percentage of American consumer income spent for pork dropped to 1.9 per cent in 1955 from 2.5 per cent in 1949, a decline of 25 per cent.

Priest Convicted, Freed on Road-Building Count

ACQUI, Italy (AP) — Don Lugi Schiavetta, an energetic young priest, has been given a five month suspended sentence for illegally building a road to his isolated village.

Don Schiavetta is the pastor at Giglione, which had no direct road to nearby towns. The priest asked land owners to allow a road to be built across their property. When they refused, he formed his committee and built the road anyway.

The American Dental Assn. says that Americans bought 120 million tooth brushes in 1954, a year when the country had 158 million people over two years old.

Americans Wait, Wait —and Wait for Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Twenty-eight auto trailers in which American families are touring Europe pulled into St. Peter's Square on Monday.

The tourists, mostly from Pennsylvania, Oregon, Ohio, Florida, Michigan, New York, Louisiana and California, waited for some time in hopes Pope Pius XII would appear in his Vatican apartment window as he often does. But the pontiff didn't show up. He was receiving 30 officers and cadets from a Brazilian naval training ship.

Some instances have been reported in which a group of several eagles have attacked and killed small deer, but many observers deny that such attacks are often made.
