Cong Spurns Saigon on Amnesty Offer

PARIS (UPI) — The Saigon government today offered the Vietcong a plan of national reconciliation in which it would participate in political affairs — including elections — as a nonCommunist party. The Cong dismissed the offer as timeworn and American-dictated. The proposals were put forward by President Nguyen Van Thieu in Saigon

South Vietnamese people and are not taking into account the aspirations of peace of the American people and the people of the world who demand the United States stop its war of aggression.

'BY NLF'S CHART'

The Cong statement demanded that the people of South Vietnam settle their own affairs "according to the political program of the National Front for the Liberation of South Vietnam (the Vietcong) without any outside interference."

The last statement was a virtual demand for surrender to the Vietcong. Vietcong rejection of the proposal came as no surprise. Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said earlier today the Communists are not ready for serious Vietnam peace talks because they are still "counting on the impatience of the American public for an advantageous settlement."

Ky arrived in Paris today from Washington, where he conferred with U.S. officials following the funeral of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Ky directs the Saigon government delegation at the Paris peace talks.

The Vietcong said Thieu and Lam are "going against the aspirations of the MARGATE, N. J. (AP) — A school principal shot and killed his wife and three children in their home and then shot himself to death, police reported today.

Police identified the victims as Robert Mayer, 37, and his wife Nancy, 34, and their three boys, Craig, 12, Danny, 9, and Arthur, 6.

The shootings occurred late last night or early today, police said. The bodies were found in the bedroom of the pleasant wood-and-brick cottage. The children were dressed in nightclothes.

Police said the husband was principal at Leeds Avenue School at Pleasantville near this Atlantic County community.

Mrs. Mayer was a nurse at Atlantic City Hospital, authorities said.

Police said the weapon was a 22-caliber automatic pistol.

Clouds Moving In; Low in 30s Seen

Sunshine and blue skies put everyone in a springy mood today. Temperatures will remain mild as clouds move in tonight with an expected low in the 35-to-40-degree range.

The increasing cloudiness will bring with it the possibility of rain tomorrow afternoon or evening.

Continued mild temperatures will favor the area Wednesday with a chance of showers and thunderstorms.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau's five-day forecast, temperatures will average five degrees above normal highs of 50 to 55 through Wednesday.

Chances of precipitation in per cent are today and tonight 5 and tomorrow 20. Low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 38. By 2 p.m. it registered 63.

25 Missing in Ship Fire

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A head-on collision between a Formosan freighter and an oil barge set both ablaze, sent sheets of flame soaring into a heavily traveled bridge and covered a section of the Mississippi river with burning petroleum last night.

The Coast Guard said 25 of the 51 members of crew of the freighter, the 7,301-ton Union Faith, were unaccounted for. Twenty-five were taken to hospitals.

The fire-swept ship sank about six hours after the collision while being towed away for beaching.

The oil barge broke in two and the two fiercely burning sections floated downstream, pursued by fire tugs. One section finally sank and the other ran aground.

The barge, carrying 9,000 barrels of crude oil, was being pushed by the tug Warren Doucet.

Firemen hosed down wharves and ships in the area to prevent the spread of the blaze.

"It looked like the river was on fire," said Elysse Landry, a crewman on a dredger working near the scene.

"Now I know what it would be like riding through hell," said Mrs. Arnold Regouffre, who was in a car with her husband when the flames swept up from the river 175 feet below.

HEADING UPSTREAM

The Union Faith, carrying a cargo of salt, cotton cloth, toys, handbags, household goods and footwear, was headed upstream.

The oil barge was one of three being pushed downstream by the tug.

The collision occurred almost directly under the Greater New Orleans Mississippi River bridge.

"I happened to look," said Landry, "and I said, 'Look, the ship is going to run into those barges. Then they collided, followed by an explosion."

"The whole front end of the ship blew up into fire and smoke and you could hardly see the ship. The pilothouse was burning in three or four minutes."

'TREMENDOUS COLLISION'

A radio operator on the freighter, Yu Fang Fan, 35, said he felt a "tremendous collision" and "I looked outside to see what happened, but there was fire and smoke all around."

Harbor officials feared that wharves

and other ships along the wharves would be ignited by the oil-fed fires, but fire fighters kept the sides of threatened vessels sprayed with foam and water and none caught fire.

The tug McGraph II was the first vessel to reach the burning Union Faith. Piloted by Capt. Chris A. Rieder, 25, the tug rescued 15 to 20 of the ship's crewmen.

'CREW ASLEEP'

"We first got them to jump in the water and to slide down ropes that were hanging from the ship's stern hatch," Rieder said.

"It seems most of the crew was asleep when the collision occurred."

GM Promotes Two Key Execs

NEW YORK (UPI)—Kenneth N. Scott has been named group vice president in charge of the Body and Assembly divisions group of General Motors, GM Board Chairman James M. Roche announced today.

Scott succeeds Philip J. Monaghan of 3737 Lakecrest, Bloomfield Hills, who is on a disability leave of absence, Roche said.

Scott of Detroit will be succeeded as general manager of the Fisher Body Division by Robert L. Kessler, GM vice president and general manager of the Buick Motor Division. Kessler lives in Grand Blanc.

A graduate of the University of Vermont, Scott joined GM in 1935 and subsequently held executive positions in

FREIGHTER ABLAZE OFF NEW ORLEANS — The burning Formosan freighter Union Faith lights up the New Orleans skyline last night after it collided in the Mississippi River with

Obscene Matter Legal in Home

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court, in a major free speech ruling, held today that it cannot constitutionally be made a crime to possess obscene films or printed matter in the privacy of a man's home.

"This right to receive information and ideas, regardless of their social worth, is fundamental to our free society," said Justice Thurgood Marshall in delivering the opinion.

Marshall reiterated for the court its view that the government has a valid interest in dealing with the problem of obscenity.

But, he said in announcing the decision from the bench:

"The state has no business telling a man sitting alone in his own home what books he may read or what films he may watch."

The ruling came on an appeal by an Atlanta man, Robert Ell Stanley, who was convicted in 1967 of having three "stag" films in his home and was sentenced to one year in prison.

In other rulings today, the court:

- Agreed to review state laws which allow a defendant to avoid the death penalty by pleading guilty.

- The test case came from North Carolina. Other states with similar statutes include New Jersey, Louisiana, New York, South Carolina, New Hampshire, Washington and Texas.

- Required states to justify any variance from exactly equal state legislative and U.S. congressional districts.

- Forbade large corporations to condition lending of money on the customer's promise to buy goods only from them.

Mechanical One Replaced

Man Gets Heart

From Our News Wires

HOUSTON, Tex. — Haskell Karp received the heart of a Massachusetts woman today after having been kept alive 65 hours by the world's first completely mechanical heart.

The donor of the 19th heart transplant to be performed by the team headed by Dr. Deaton A. Cooley was Mrs. Barbara Ewan, 40, of Lawrence, Mass., who had been flown to Houston in the early morning hours after suffering irreversible brain damage.

She was pronounced dead at 6:45 a.m. CST.

The flight was arranged after Mrs. Ewan's family responded to a tearful plea by Mrs. Shirley Karp that "somebody" would answer her husband's need for a human heart.

Today's transplant was completed in two hours and 45 minutes.

Karp's new heart began beating after only one electrical shock.

"This indicates a good, strong heart function and Mr. Karp is in satisfactory condition at the moment," a St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital spokesman said. "I am optimistic about the outcome."

Cooley told other doctors as he stitched closed the chest of Karp, 47, of Skokie, Ill.

The heart transplant was another medical first for Cooley, who has performed more of the operations than any other physician.

The surgeon stunned the medical world by implanting the eight ounce device in Karp's chest Friday afternoon in "an act of desperation," after efforts to repair a severely damaged heart chamber had failed.

The experimental device was designed to keep a patient alive only until a donor heart could be obtained and Cooley had indicated he hoped a transplant could be arranged as quickly as possible.

As Dr. Cooley performed his history-making operation today, Dr. Christian Barnard, who pioneered heart transplants, carried out South Africa's fourth heart transplant at the Groote Schuur Hospital, a hospital spokesman announced.

The name of the recipient and donor were not released. The recipient's name was being kept secret at his request, but it was believed he was a middle-aged white man from Cape Town.

Merchant Backs Stadium

Selection of a Pontiac site for a domed stadium would serve to attract considerably more nonmetropolitan Detroit area residents to Tiger and Lion games, says Joseph Durant, a downtown Pontiac businessman.

Durant, proprietor of KDITV, a radio and television sales and service operation at 506 S. Saginaw, added that a local stadium at I-75 and M59 definitely would benefit nonmetropolitan residents since they would not have to travel all the way into Detroit.

He noted that the stadium would be a can't-miss vehicle as a means of reviving downtown Pontiac business activity and would serve as a center of activity and economic asset for the entire Northern Oakland County area as well.

Hussein to Ask Nixon's Help on Big 4 Talks

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — King Hussein, who has steered Jordan through 16 years of war and peril, flew to Washington today to ask President Nixon to do all he can to smooth the course of the Big Four talks on the Middle East.

Hussein pins his hopes for peace on the talks that the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France opened in New York last week. The young monarch feels that continuing tension in his area can only serve Soviet purposes.

One of the most flexible and pro-Western of Arab leaders, Hussein rules an embattled land short of its richest province and overcrowded with embittered refugees.

Because of the refugees, Jordan has become the main base for thousands of Palestinian guerrillas who wage hit-and-run war against neighboring Israel. This has made the country the target for repeated retaliatory raids. Its towns have been bombed and farms in the Jordan Valley devastated.

AVERTS SHOWDOWN

The plucky, 34-year-old king has weathered plots and assassination attempts and has narrowly averted a showdown with the Arab guerrillas. But a showdown may still be inevitable.

The king would like to see the Big Four talks work out some procedure for indirect but meaningful negotiations with Israel through the United Nations, diplomatic sources report.

He believes the United States could do more to persuade Israel to take a conciliatory line, and he will warn Nixon that time may be running out both for peace prospects and for himself.

Hussein has said repeatedly he seeks peace with Israel provided it is based on justice. But his position is too precarious for him to make a unilateral settlement, and for the same reason the concessions he can make are limited.

REJECT SOLUTION

The guerrillas reject any solution that provides for the continued existence of Israel. They have no illusions about Hussein's desire for peace. But the king continues to rule probably because no one else—including the guerrillas—wants to take over Jordan's problems.

THEIR TIME RAN OUT — Pennsylvania Turnpike employee Victor Basehart holds an egg timer found in the wreckage of Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Keenan's car. The Keenans were killed in a shooting spree on the turnpike Saturday. Their 13-year-old son, Paul, was cut by shattered glass.

4 Dead, 17 Wounded in Spree

Killer 'Victim of Race Bias'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Relatives say Donald Martin Lambright, who staged a highway shooting spree in which four died and 17 were wounded, felt he was a victim of racial discrimination.

An uncle said Lambright, 31-year-old son of the Negro movie actor Stepin Fetchit, had been diagnosed by a psychiatrist a year ago as suffering from violent or suicidal tendencies, but had refused treatment.

"The whole black-white confrontation affected him very much," said the uncle,

Howard Johnson, a sociologist in the New York City antipovity program.

In Cleveland, Lambright's mother, Mrs. Winifred Lee, declared her son was "a victim of the racism that is abroad in this land."

"He found it impossible to reconcile himself to the fact that he could not reach employment commensurate to his abilities," she said. He had recently worked for the Ohio State Employment office but quit to return to school at Lincoln University in Oxford, Pa.

During his hourlong rampage on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Saturday Lambright killed Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Keenan of Philadelphia, his wife and infant.

Two of the wounded were in a Harrisburg hospital, which listed Vincent Saitta, 35, of Framingham, N.Y., as critical and Ernest Stevens, 47, of Elkhardt, Ind., as serious. Both were shot in the face.

Lambright was driving west on the turnpike about 10 a.m. Saturday when he began shooting.

His 31-year-old wife, Annette, was seated beside him. Also in the car was an M1 30-caliber semiautomatic rifle, a 30-caliber Marlin carbine, and several boxes of live ammunition which Mrs. Lambright had bought nine days earlier in St. Louis.

Lambright drove leisurely along the heavily traveled superhighway with a rifle cradled in his arms, taking random shots at passing cars.

One of the shots struck and killed Keenan, who was taking him family to visit a son at Pennsylvania State University. When Keenan collapsed, his wife, Ruby, reached for the steering wheel and was killed by a second bullet.

Lambright pulled over to the roadside occasionally to fire at oncoming cars. About one mile east of Harrisburg, he had his final shot. He shot his wife to death, then took his own life.

Four Vice Raids Net 42 City Arrests

The Pontiac police vice squad had a busy weekend, arresting 42 persons in gambling and liquor raids at four houses.

One person was arrested Saturday night for allegedly maintaining and operating illegal dice and card games at 90 Bagley.

Two were charged with aiding and abetting and thirty-four persons were charged with loitering there.

Charged with operating what is called the Big Six Gambling Club was John Taylor, 67, of 40 Harris. Julius Mayo Sr., 66, of 196 Luther and Herman L. Cross, 39, of 60 Clovese were charged with aiding and abetting.

Thirty-four persons were arrested for loitering in an illegal gambling place, police said. They described the operation as "Pretty good size."

'BEER, LIQUOR CONFISCATED'

Police confiscated beer and liquor from an alleged blind pig at 590 E. South Blvd. early Saturday morning. No arrests were made. Police entered the house on a search warrant for illegal liquor sale and gambling.

Four persons were arrested in a raid early Saturday at 151 Bagley, police said.

Charged with maintaining and operating an illegal liquor establishment was Dewey Jones, 64, of 151 Bagley. Nora Ann Jones, 21, same address, was charged with illegal sale of liquor.

Sharon Higgins, 21, and Dorothy Nell Brown, 20, same address, were charged with loitering there.

Leroy Humphrey, 63, of 117 Bagley was arrested for illegal sale of an alcoholic beverage at his residence.

The arrested persons were to be arraigned in District Court today. Each was released on $25 bond for loitering and $100 bond for the other offenses.

Fisher Body plants at Flint, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Kansas City, Mo.

In February 1947 he was transferred to the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac Division, the predecessor of the GM Assembly Division, and managed plants at Arlington, Tex., and South Gate, Calif., before becoming general manager of the division in July 1960.

He was elected a GM vice president and named general manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Division in April, 1966, and later that same year was appointed general manager of Fisher Body.

Kessler, a native of Indiana and a 1936 graduate of Purdue University, was works manager of the Delco-Remy Division when he was named general manager of the Buick Motor Division in January 1961. In July, 1965 he was elected to GM vice president and general manager of Buick.

Monaghan joined KESSLER General Motors in 1936, as a methods engineer for the then Ternstedt Division following his graduation from Georgetown University. In 1940 he transferred to the Oldsmobile Division.

He was assistant production engineer of that division when he enlisted in the Army, serving as an infantry major for three years. Monaghan returned to Oldsmobile and held a number of executive posts until he joined the GMC Truck & Coach Division in 1951 as manufacturing manager.

Two years later he was named general manager of GMC Truck & Coach and elected a GM vice president.

In March, 1968, Monaghan was named vice president in charge of the manufacturing staff of GM; in 1943 he was named group executive in charge of the Household Appliance and Engine Group in Dayton and assumed the position of group executive in charge of the body and assembly division group in November 1967.

U.S. Postpones Aid Sanctions

WASHINGTON — The United States has decided to postpone potential economic sanctions against Peru pending a further effort to solve the dispute over Peruvian seizure of U.S. oil properties.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers announced the decision at the news conference only two days before the

Related Story, Page C-5

April 9 deadline when, by law, Washington would have to crack down on Peru aid should Lima not offer appropriate compensation for the oil seizure.

Rogers said that the Peruvian government has advised that the U.S. company involved — the International Petroleum Co. — has an opportunity through Peruvian administrative processes to contest the huge debt the Peruvians have assessed against the U.S. firm.

Peru's military junta expropriated the oil company Oct. 9, charging the company had exploited Peruvian oil for 46 years without legal title to the oil fields.

$1-BILLION CLAIM

The expropriation was made in the form of a claim that eventually totaled more than $1 billion, which Peru said represents gross profits, taxes and other debts on oil IPC has produced here since 1922.

Safe With $1,000 Stolen in Pontiac

Pontiac Police are investigating the theft of a safe containing $1,000 from Jax Roast Beef Restaurant, 511 N. Perry, early Saturday morning.

Burglars entered the building by forcing open an outside rest room door and then cutting a hole in the wall to get to the rest of the building, police said.

A 100-pound safe, valued at $200 and containing $1,000 in cash and checks, was taken from the manager's office, according to police.

Ray, Attorney Huddle

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — James Earl Ray and Memphis attorney Richard J. Ryan have held a brief strategy session at the Tennessee State Prison to discuss ways of obtaining a new trial for Ray.

"We discussed language" said Ryan after the 45-minute meeting. The gray-haired attorney refused to say anything else about the Saturday visit.

HER HEART REPLACES ARTIFICIAL ONE — Mrs. Barbara Ewan, 40, of Lawrence, Mass., donated the heart that replaced the mechanical one of Haskell Karp in Houston today. Mrs. Ewan was flown to Houston early today after suffering irreversible brain damage. The transplant was completed in two hours at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital by a team headed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley.

Birmingham Area

Philadelphia Firm Promotes Local Exec

BIRMINGHAM — R. C. Oglesby of 947 Westwood has been promoted to automotive marketing manager with the Rohm and Haas Co., Philadelphia.

He will be responsible for coordinating sales activities in the automotive industry for the various Rohm and Haas sales departments.

Oglesby has been serving as sales manager in the Detroit territory for the plastics department of Rohm and Haas since 1965. In 1965 he was given the added duties of automotive marketing coordinator.

William B. Hulbert has filed a letter of resignation from the Birmingham Traffic and Safety Board with the City Commission.

Hulbert of 156 Linden said business pressures requiring increasing out-of-town travel necessitated the resignation.

The Christian Businessmen's Committee of Birmingham, Royal Oak and Detroit will sponsor a drug seminar Friday, at 6:30 p.m. at Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit.

Guest speaker Dr. A. E. Wilder Smith will talk about drugs available today and their potential abuses.

Dr. Wilder is professor of pharmacology at the University of Illinois Medical Center in Chicago.

Robert Van Deven, 1576 Melton, Birmingham; Joseph M. Stout, 7119 Lindenmere, Bloomfield Township; and Richard L. Glissman, 4725 Quorton, Bloomfield Township, have been named associates with O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Inc., Birmingham architectural and engineering firm.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Robert Squiers of 6391 Wing Lake, chairman of the Oakland County Heart Foundation Center, has been elected a delegate by the Oakland County Heart Unit to the Michigan Heart Association's Annual Assembly scheduled for Thursday and Friday at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

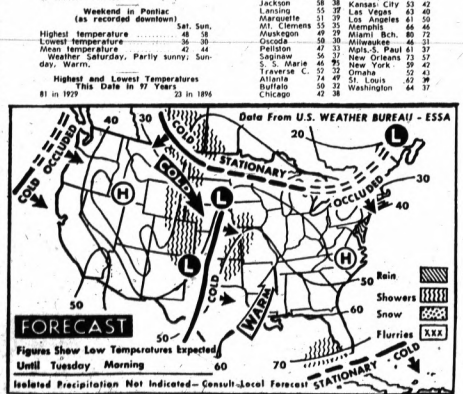

Dr. Paul D. White, the famed cardiologist, will speak to the assembly at the Fisher Theatre Friday afternoon.

'Soapy' Leaves the Philippines

Airport Well-Wishers Bid Goodbye to Envoy

MANILA (UPI) — Philippine Vice President Fernando Lopez led well-wishers who jammed the special departure airport at Manila International Airport today to say goodbye to retiring U.S. Ambassador G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams and his wife, Nancy.

Williams, in a lightweight shirt of Filipino style, and Nancy in a light dress, shook hands and embraced their friends. They included government officials, diplomats and embassy aides, most of them wearing green polka dot bowties—a departure present from the ambassador.

Lopez told UPI "The Philippines is losing a good friend... he has done much to foster friendly relations."

Williams, elected governor five times in Michigan, had the political background, the outgoing personality and a regard for the sensibilities of the Filipinos which other diplomats said were requirements of the post.

NO SUCCESSOR NAMED
No successor has yet been named for the ambassador's job, which is one of the thorniest in Asia. The rise of Philippine nationalism in recent years has clashed with U.S. business interests and military bases.

In his departure statement, Williams, 58, said: "I leave the Philippines confirmed in my belief that Filipino friendship between us, so important to both our freedom and the freedom of this part of the world, shall endure."

The Williamses departed on a trip that will take them to Djakarta, Bali, Bangkok, Rangoon, Calcutta, New Delhi, Kashmir, Tehran, Tel Aviv, Athens, Istanbul, Bucharest, Belgrade, Prague, Munich, Rome, Paris, London and Washington over a period of six weeks.

Sen. Kennedy Will Speak in Detroit Tuesday

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., will make a major speech of economic policies Tuesday at the Detroit Economic Club.

About 1,400 persons are expected to listen to Kennedy at the Fountain Room of the Masonic Temple.

The 37-year-old Kennedy, whose brothers were the late President John Kennedy and the late U.S. Sen. Robert Kennedy, was elected the Senate majority whip this year.

Utility Resumes Contract Talks

JACKSON (AP) — Representatives of Consumers Power Co. and some 5,200 members of the Michigan Utility Workers Council resumed negotiations on a new contract today following an Easter weekend recess.

Despite a March 31 expiration of their old contract, the utility workers have remained on the job under a "no strike" agreement.

Tended to Injured Baby Raccoon

Healer of Animals Is Jailed

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — When a man goes to jail for healing a hurt baby raccoon, even his jailer scratches his head.

"It seems like kind of a rotten deal to me," said Deputy Sheriff Claude Datema at the Kent County Jail, "but then, I'm not a judge."

But John Letts was, and he ordered Jim Westra locked up for five days for violating Michigan conservation laws. Westra will have to serve another 15 days unless he pays a $100 fine and $50 in court costs.

Today, Westra, a gentle, 40-year-old bachelor, will be examined by a doctor, have his chest X-rayed, be run through a shower and outfitted with jail clothing.

He showed up Easter morning to start his term and spent the day with other new prisoners in a "processing tank." He'll be housed in a 10-man cell block when his processing is completed.

Westra's jailing came several months and $2,800 in appeals costs after he was convicted of harboring a wild animal.

Letts, a Kent County Circuit Court judge, upheld Westra's conviction but stayed the sentence two weeks so "Mr. Jim," as he is known, could complete a round of speeches at local schools.

"You can get a license to under state law, he cannot keep shoot birds and animals, but when you try to keep them alive, you run into trouble," Westra said before starting his term.

WON'T GIVE UP

"I'm out of money, but I won't give up treating wounded birds or animals. But from now I will go underground and hide them from state inspectors, like Easter eggs."

Westra has built a reputation as a healer of wild wounded things in his 14 years as a pet store owner in suburban Wyoming.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources says that "captive" wildlife on exhibit at his shop.

Westra claims he doesn't sell the animals and birds, but releases them when they are mended.

His conviction came from the treatment of a wounded baby raccoon, one of a brood of five that a group of teen-agers found orphaned after the mother was killed by a car. The other four were released.

Annual Meetings Are Held by Townships

Annual township meetings were held Saturday in those area townships required to hold them.

Main order of business was adoption of a budget at each of the meetings for a fiscal year beginning April 1 in most instances.

Some area townships in the past have elected not to hold an annual meeting. These are Oxford, Orion, Bloomfield, Shelby, West Bloomfield and Farmington.

Listed below are the results of Saturday's meetings.

Avon

More than 200 electors turned out Saturday in Avon for the annual town meeting, which was presided over by Supervisor Cyril Miller.

13 Are Killed on State Roads Over Weekend

By the Associated Press

Three persons were killed in two accidents involving motorcycles as the weekend traffic fatalities in Michigan reached 13.

The Associated Press weekend fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims.

Martin Doran Hopkins, 24, of Ypsilanti, when his car rolled over Sunday on I-94 at Ralston Road in Washtenaw County's Ypsilanti Township.

Sheila Ann Campbell, 21, of Detroit and Stanley J. Krochmal, 22, of Warren, when the motorcycle they were riding collided with a car Saturday night on Detroit's East Side.

PEDESTRIAN HIT

Thomas M. Quartz, 40, of Wyandotte, struck by a car Saturday night in the Detroit suburb of Southgate.

Burton Swick, 49, of Chesaning, whose motorcycle went out of control on gravel in Ingham County's Delhi Township Sunday and turned over.

CAR HIT TREE

Lyn Abbs, 27, of Kawkawin, whose car hit a tree Saturday in Bay County's Monitor Township.

Ronald Ballenger, 23, of Clio, when a car in which he was a passenger hit the rear end of a parked truck in Vienna Township near Flint Saturday.

TEEN IS KILLED

Michael George Loomis, 17, of Route One, New Era, whose car struck a tree at Claybanks Township in Oceana County Saturday.

Floyd Ray Bell, 56, of Dowagiac, whose car hit a tree at Cass County's Pokagon Township Sunday night.

Romeo Readies Its Adult Education Classes for Spring

ROME — The spring term of the adult education program of Romeo Community Schools will begin next Monday and run for 10 weeks.

Classes will meet for two hours beginning at 7:30 p.m., on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday of each week.

Offer of all courses will depend on a minimum enrollment of 10 per class and an available instructor.

The following courses are being considered: beginning bookkeeping, intermediate bookkeeping, ceramics, beginning drafting, gym activities for women, interior decorating and design, modern dance, office machines, oil painting, beginning shorthand, refresher shorthand, speech (public speaking), beginning typing, intermediate typing, advanced typing and upholstery.

Persons interested in any course not listed may contact school officials.

Fire Station Plans Readied for Highland

HIGHLAND TOWNSHIP — A final draft of plans for the proposed township fire station is being prepared by architect Roy Strickfaden of Farmington.

A model is on display at the Township Hall. Approximate cost of the station, to be built on West Livingston near John, will be $150,000.

Preliminary sketches already have been approved by the Township Board.

After going over the proposed budget line for line, the electors approved a balanced budget of $486,175, a decrease of $4,000 from last year.

The principal difference stems from a decrease in cost this year of the township's reappraisal program. The budget is a tentative one because the allocated millage is not yet known.

Several residents quizzed township officials Saturday on line items in the budget. Among the questions was one for a rundown on each of the township employees and their rate of pay.

Oakland

Oakland Township's town meeting Saturday was attended by 36 persons and was highlighted by the approval of raises for township officers and concurrence with a $120,000 proposed budget.

A motion by elector Clarence Kremer succeeded in boosting the annual salaries for Township Supervisor Wesley Holyoke ($4,000 to $5,500), Treasurer Robert Barkham ($3,000 to $4,000) and Clerk Mrs. Lucy Alt ($4,500 to $6,000).

Oakland's budget included $30,000 for engineering and financial consultants for future sewer construction.

Pontiac

A $500 raise for Pontiac Township Clerk Mrs. Greta Block and Treasurer Mrs. Goldie Mailin as well as an $800 raise for Supervisor Roy Wahl were main orders of business at Saturday's town meeting.

Citizens authorized the purchase of land adjacent to the township hall for future building expansion, approved a $653,670 tentative budget and reinstated a two-mill fire tax. About 35 attended the session.

Independence

Township electors approved a budget of $301,965, a 20 per cent increase over last year's figure of about $250,000.

Supervisor Duane Hursfall said raises were approved for township officers which increased the original new budget proposal from $298,165 to $301,965.

Revised township officer salaries are: supervisor, $11,300 to $12,500; clerk, $10,300 to $11,300; treasurer, $9,000 to $10,000 and trustees, $900 to $1,200 annually.

About 71 persons attended the meeting.

Groveland

The new budget in this township totals $41,000, a slight increase over last year's figure of $38,000.

Township electors Saturday also adopted a proposal from the Township Property Owners Association calling for establishment of a planning commission for the township.

The planning commission proposal evolved from recent controversy concerning zoning and land use in the township.

Brandon

The new Brandon budget of $76,900 approved here Saturday is about 20 per cent higher than last year's total of $64,000.

Supervisor Norman Kapson said most of the budget increase will be used for road maintenance and improvements.

Kapson said most of the 51 persons attending the annual meeting indicated a strong need for road improvement in the township.

Holly

The township budget here for the new fiscal year will total $82,000, up slightly from the $79,262 figure for last year.

Supervisor Seely Tinsman said no residents appeared at the annual meeting this year.

Springfield

This township's new budget will reach about $62,000, a 16 per cent increase over last year's budget.

Electors at Saturday's meeting also gave Supervisor Nelson Van Natta approval to pursue the legal aspects of replacing the township's zoning board with a planning commission.

Van Natta said much of the new budget increase will be used to refurbish the township's town hall in Davidsburg and for road improvements and maintenance.

ON SCHEDULE — Work on the Sheraton Motor Inn on Woodward across from St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Pontiac is right on schedule. The inn is expected to open by July 4, according to Charles Langs, developer. The $2.5-million facility will contain 158 rental units and dining room accommodations.

Lost Plane Hunted, but None Is Found

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP — A woman's report of a plane in trouble resulted in a search by three Coast Guard helicopters and several private planes but no wreckage was found.

Pontiac State Police said an area southeast of Holly in Oakland County was searched even though there had been no reports of any plane missing. The search was called off yesterday.

The woman had reported seeing a plane with lights flashing drop out of sight Saturday night in a wooded and swampy area of the township.

2-Car Crash Fatal to Nine

CORBIN, Ky. — Eight members of a Williamsburg family were killed, and another critically injured, in a two-car collision Sunday night.

William Ball, 41, a lay preacher; his wife, Vergene, 36; and six children: Daniel, 16; Mark, 14; Timothy, 12; Beverly, 9; Luke, 7; and Holly, 5, were killed. In critical condition at a Lexington hospital was 17-year-old Steven Ball.

The driver of the other car, Carolyn Sue Falkner, 19, of Corbin, was killed also, in the crash on U.S. 25W.

West Bloomfield Post

Water-Sewer Aide Named

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Brendan Daly began work today as managing engineer of the township's water and sewer department, a newly created position.

He formerly was a subdivision engineer with the plat division of the Oakland County Road Commission's engineering department.

Daly of 297 Starr, Pontiac, has been in highway department work for 17 years and was with the road commission for 2½ years. He has worked with road commissions in Monroe and Muskegon Counties, and was county highway manager engineer and manager for the Oceana County Road Commission prior to coming to Oakland County.

He received a degree in civil engineering from Michigan Technological University.

When announcing the appointment, Township Clerk Betty Sue Dupree commented, "Our water and sewer department is growing so fast that we feel it's

Paying During Appeals Could Be Costly

State Fears Welfare Regulation

LANSING (UPI) — Unless the federal government clarifies a new welfare regulation, Michigan could end spending thousands of dollars in hardship case appeals, says State Social Services Director R. Bernard Houston.

Stated to become effective next October, the rule allows welfare recipients to get payments as long as the eligibility of their case is under appeal.

Another requirement is for the state to provide free legal service to those bringing action against it in an appeal.

"This has tremendous implications," Houston said. "It is an invitation to capricious appeal. Why wouldn't a person demand a hearing if, by doing so, he could avoid closure of his case?"

MILLIKEN 'IN TOUCH'

Gov. William G. Milliken's office is keeping "in close touch with the situation" according to Richard Helmbrecht of the Executive Office's Program Planning section.

"The federal government, hasn't been too clear on this," Helmbrecht continued. "We have asked them (Department of Health, Education and Welfare) to clarify how many times a recipient can appeal on the same grounds."

If there is unlimited appeal for the same reason, it could come once a month, and "involve a few hundred thousand dollars," he said.

There now is no uniform state pattern on welfare payments while a case is under appeal. Some counties continue paying, some don't.

"It often depends upon the lawyer," Helmbrecht added.

Houston, who attended a Washington, D.C., meeting of 38 welfare directors recently, said they all "expressed concern" over the new regulation.

"They state we have to notify a person whenever an adverse action such as the closure of a case or a grant reduction is about to be taken," Houston said.

"Then we wait 10 days to see if there'll be a request for a hearing. If there is, we can't proceed further pending the hearing result."

Since Houston's office closes about 36,000 cases and changes 280,000 grants each year, the potential problems broaden in scope.

HALF CLOUT APPEAL

"Over half of these could be considered adverse actions and would be open to appeal," he added. "We'll be flooded with appeals and we'll have to hire at least 40 attorneys to handle them."

The department currently has two lawyers to handle appeal cases.

Law on Ambulances to Hit Albion Hard

ALBION — At least one city is going to take a hard blow when Michigan's new laws on training of ambulance attendants take effect this summer.

That city is Albion, where 225 volunteers and one full-time manager have been running an ambulance service for over two years.

About 60 of the volunteers are college students, and manager Ron Duchenev says "We'll lose the vast majority" when the new legislation takes effect.

The new law, says Duchenev, will create a crisis for the two-ambulance service. But crises are old hat for it.

The service has its roots in one crisis, which occurred when Albion's two funeral homes decided in 1966 to go out of business. The funeral homes donated their two vehicles to the volunteer service, though, and the town's first ambulance crisis was averted.

A slower-smoldering crisis was caused by the obsolescence of the service's original two cars. Now seven and nine years old, the cars sometimes must be pushed to start on emergency calls.

The city has responded with a successful $30,000 drive to raise money for two new ambulances.

"It's true we've had to operate with obsolete equipment," says Duchenev, who adds that the service has never had a call it couldn't handle.

HAS HELPED OUT

And even though many of its volunteers won't meet the new standards, the service has helped out in emergencies ranging from childbirth to heart massage.

The volunteers haven't been entirely untrained, either. They've all had to pass a 26-hour first aid training course and must have good driving records.

With two new ambulances on the way, the service itself hopes it won't be on the way out — and Duchenev is convinced it can survive, but only if "we can keep our volunteers."

Retarded Child Group Sets April 17 Meeting

The Oakland County Association for Retarded Children will conduct a general membership meeting at 8 p.m. April 17 at Seasholm High School, Birmingham.

Problems of the retarded will be discussed, a therapeutic dance routine for mentally retarded children will be demonstrated and Bruce Letman of the Association for the Betterment of the Handicapped will explain the purpose of his organization.

Youth, 18, Bound Over on Marijuana Charge

A Bloomfield Township youth, Thomas Darling, was bound over to Circuit Court at his recent examination on a drug charge.

Darling, 18, of 5675 Woodland Pass waived examination and must appear before Circuit Judge William J. Beer on April 30.

The youth was arrested last month by West Bloomfield Township police and charged with possession of marijuana.

Commerce

Township electors here approved the proposed budget of $264,207 with one minor change at Saturday's meeting.

The free per day for board of tax review members was raised from $25 to $35.

About 35 residents attending the meeting also voted to place on the next ballot a request for a road millage of two mills for five years. Defeated last November, the proposal, if accepted, would enable the township to finish blacktopping all local roads outside of subdivisions.

Also approved was a ballot request of one mill for one year to hire a firm to reappraise the township for assessment purposes.

Citizens also directed the Township Board to look into possible methods of financing garbage collections.

White Lake

White Lake Township electors hiked the salaries of all 12 township employees by eight per cent, approved a $232,236 budget as presented and set one more meeting per month of the Township Board, making meeting dates the first and third Tuesdays, 8 p.m.

Township officers' salaries now become $10,800 for Supervisor James Reid and $9,288 annually for both Clerk Ferd C. Velters and Treasurer Ronald Voorheis.

Milford

Some 20 residents attending Saturday's annual meeting approving a budget of $78,285.

The treasurer's salary was raised from $4,875 to $6,250. The job, formerly part-time, was made a full-time position effective April 1.

The township supervisor was given a $500 increase, raising his salary to $8,000. The clerk's salary was raised from $5,825 to $6,250.

Highland

Residents of Highland Township Saturday approved a $199,920 budget and raised some salaries.

The township supervisor now will receive $12,000 a year, an increase of $1,000, plus $50 a month for expenses. The clerk and treasurer will each receive a $1,000 increase, bringing their total salaries from $6,500 to $7,500.

Some 125 residents attending the meeting also passed a resolution supporting the supervisor's efforts to enforce regulations against unlawful junk yards.

Rose

A new budget of $35,608 was approved by Rose Township electors for the new fiscal year here, about a 20 per cent increase over last year's budget.

Supervisor Milton Nelson said most of the increased revenues will cover expenses for private appraisers who are reassessing property values throughout the township.

Addison

Addison Township residents redesignated the Oxford Bank for the deposit of township funds and approved a $17,412 budget as presented at Saturday's annual meeting. Public meeting dates of the Township Board were set for the first Monday of the month, 7:30 p.m.

Fire Chief Drops Limousine for Unmarked Car

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Fire Chief John J. Killen has given up the traditional red limousine with siren and flashing light for an unmarked black car.

"Other traditions have been broken, so why not this?" was his answer to a query.

However, Commissioner James J. Lacy Jr. said: "We don't want the chief getting hurt when he's on the scene of any riot, and an unmarked car offers him better protection."

Bomb Wrecks Police Car

MELVINDALE (AP) — A police car was wrecked and the driver was killed Sunday night by a blast driving through the station's out near the child's crib. They managed to get all five of their children out of the house. The couple and a daughter, Christy, 15, were treated for cuts and smoke inhalation.

No one was injured.

The bomb, evidently triggered by a lighted fuse, exploded under the front of an empty squad car. It damaged the motor, radiator, headlights and a fender.

Lt. Raymond Machurski said the type of explosive was not identified, but Machurski said "It was something pretty powerful."

The blast also blew out a hole in the asphalt parking lot.

Crying Saves 5

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A family of five escaped death because of a six-month-old baby's crying, police said. Willie Hudson, 37, and his wife, Kathleen, 33, heard the baby, Bonnie, crying Saturday night and discovered that fire had broken out near the child's crib. They managed to get all five of their children out of the house. The couple and a daughter, Christy, 15, were treated for cuts and smoke inhalation.

Cancer of the colon and rectum affects 73,000 new patients annually and 46,000 of its victims die each year.

MOTORISTS WALK AWAY—The driver of the burning car and two other motorists walked away unhurt Saturday—seconds before the gas tank of the car exploded on I-75 in Cincinnati. The burning auto was stopped behind the other car when a third auto (not shown) crashed into them from the rear. Gene Mayl of Dayton, Ohio, driver of the third vehicle, was charged with following too closely. The cars in the photo had stopped for a stalled car that was not involved in the crash.

Pope Paul VI forsook his usual Easter message on world peace or political crisis and instead urged "weak, indolent human clay" to reject "the dolce vita of sense, opulence, power and self-sufficiency."

The Pope spoke in a firm strong voice yesterday to 250,000 Romans, tourists and pilgrims packed in St. Peter's Square for an open-air Mass. He also omitted any mention of the controversies dividing the Roman Catholic Church about which he spoke twice in earlier Holy Week sermons.

His 800-word address dwelt on the "old-teaching, the severe teaching" of his religious office, saying it was "in continual contrast to the illusion of easy, instinctive habit through which degrading license would clothe itself in the exulting dress of liberty."

He urged mankind to stir up "new and heroic moral energies."

Nixon, Spacemen Congratulate Polar Hero

Read Adm. Donald B. MacMillan, last survivor of the 1960 Peary expedition to the North Pole, received messages of congratulations from President Nixon and the Apollo XI astronauts on the expedition's 60th anniversary yesterday in Provincetown, Mass.

But the 94-year-old polar veteran, who still stands as straight as a ship's mast, was especially delighted by a model of his beloved schooner, Bowdoin.

The half-round model was built by George Hodgdon of East Boothbay, Maine, whose family launched the original vessel in 1921.

The 87-foot schooner, one of the most rugged wooden ships ever built, is now being restored at Camden, Maine.

Cassius Clay Defrocked by Black Muslims

Former heavyweight champ Cassius Clay has been defrocked by a Black Muslim minister because he said he would like to box again to pay off his bills.

Black Muslim leader Elijah Muhammad announced over the weekend in the Muslim newspaper, Muhammad Speaks, that Clay has been suspended from the religion for one year and stripped of his Islamic name of Muhammad Ali.

Clay has retracted his statement about returning to the ring several times and told a Georgia Tech audience Friday, "I'll never climb into the ring or go into an arena again."

The Beatles have set up shop in Hollywood for a new record company, and their first release will be recording of newweds John Lennon and Yoko Ono talking.

Zapple Records, an offshoot of the Beatles' Apple Corp., will record only "spoken word" albums and what the quartet describes as "releases of a more wide-ranging and esoteric nature." The new headquarters is in the record-shaped Capitol building on Vine Street.

Longtime MSU President
Put School in Top Ranks

Michigan—and the Nation—lose one of the greatest figures in current collegiate history to the Federal government. JOHN A. HANNAH completes more than a quarter of a century of brilliant and inspiring work as the leader of Michigan State University.

HANNAH

President HANNAH took the reins when Michigan State was struggling to assemble herself with an enrollment of 6,000 students. This perceptive genius carried the East Lansing institution squarely into the upper echelon of U.S. educational circles. As he steps aside, the number of students is just 51 shy of the 40,000 mark. M.S.U. is one of the great universities in the world—academically and in sheer size.

Happily, for the institution and all concerned, John A. Hannah was primarily an astute, shrewd and far-seeing business executive with a penetrating mind that exhausted every constructive angle. Surely he was an academician, but that side of his development was far overshadowed by his economic and administrative abilities.

When he assumed the top role, the campus had a value of $15 million and today it stands at an awe-inspiring and almost unbelievable total of $330 million. Further, more than half of this growth has been self liquidating and the taxpayers escaped these gigantic sums. This was Hannah-planned.

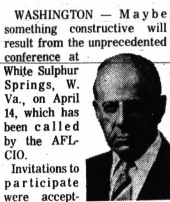

JOHN HANNAH is an exceptionally personable individual who possesses a genial, outgoing manner that wins quick acceptance everywhere. Repeatedly he makes new friends unconsciously and even unknowingly as people "go for him" instinctively and accept his beliefs and analyses.

No less than five presidents of the United States have called upon him at various times in emergencies for aid and assistance. His personal record of individual honors and national recognition is almost unbelievable and the entire State of Michigan is exceptionally proud of this great, genuine but still very modest man as he journeys to the District of Columbia at the behest of President Nixon.

David Lawrence Says:

Labor Conference Significant

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe something constructive will result from the unprecedented conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., on April 14, which has been called by the AFL-CIO.

Invitations to participate were accepted by the Secretary of Labor, the director of the budget, the chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors and the White House counselor on economic policies.

Frank interchanges are possible because these meetings are not open to the press. Afterwards, excerpts or briefings are furnished to the newsmen by the participants at will.

What is the underlying purpose of the new meeting so far as labor is concerned?

One labor leader says they hope to persuade the administration not to use "unemployment as a weapon against inflation."

There are many economic issues at stake. Labor is deeply concerned over what the trend of administration policies on economic matters will be.

There is an even greater significance to the conference than merely to get an explanation of governmental attitudes or future recommendations. Labor hopes to present its viewpoint, just as business does at similar meetings.

The AFL-CIO, the parent labor organization, has practically no authority over the operations of its components — the big national or international unions which negotiate their own contracts and do so in many cases on virtually an industrywide basis.

There are many problems of this kind which would seem to require intimate consultations between government and labor leaders.

LITTLE OPPORTUNITY

Up to now, while the AFL-CIO has maintained an economic staff, the government has had little opportunity to reach the leadership of the labor unions — often motivated by internal politics — and tell them what is meant by "voluntary restraint."

Thus, labor would indeed be getting higher wage payments for its members if prosperity were sustained on a sound economic basis.

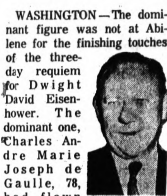

An exchange of ideas at a meeting such as has been brought about by the AFL-CIO could be fruitful.

Maybe some day there will be still another type of conference — also without reporters present — as businessmen and labor leaders exchange views and begin to recognize the realities of a system of free enterprise.

Bob Considine Says:

Another Side of DeGaulle
—the Heartbroken Father

CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON — The dominant figure was not at all alone for the finishing touches of the three-day requiem for Dwight David Eisenhower. The dominant one, Charles Andre Marie Joseph de Gaulle, 78, had flown home from Washington on the night of the state funeral. He had gone back to work, back to his tireless crusade to make France more powerful, more secure, more of a third force.

It was difficult not to stare at De Gaulle at the Washington ceremonies. He appeared in his brigadier general's uniform at the cathedral services, a plain tan outfit with nary a medal or ribbon showing.

The man is unique. Fortunately, just at this time a book has been published that gives us a view of him that pierces the stiff exterior and reveals the man in all his aspects, including his roles of heartbroken father of a retarded child and doting old grandfather.

The book is Pierre Galante's "The General!," published by Random House.

STARTS WITH DEATH

I would defy any reader who watched De Gaulle on television recently from Washington to put down "The General!" after reading its first passage.

It deals at the beginning with death.

De Gaulle has chosen to be buried in the churchyard of his retreat and onetime exile, Colombey-les-deux-Églises, in a grave next to his beloved and tragic daughter Anne. Galante writes:

"He would walk arm in arm with her through an English village (editor's note: during his sojourn in Britain before D-Day), coloring at people's stares and bristling at their sympathy, at home he would pretend to play the trumpet for her or spend hours on childish notions."

NO FAMILY PICTURES

"But when Churchill put up 500 pounds sterling for a publicist to project this unknown Frenchman to the indifferent

British, De Gaulle would not allow any pictures to be used of himself with his children, for if the world could not see his poor Anne, neither would it see his charming Elisabeth, then an undergraduate at Oxford University, or his handsome Philippe, a naval cadet

"It was in memory of Anne that De Gaulle decided to mortgage his Colombey home, La Boisserie. It was also in order to keep the Anne De Gaulle Foundation for Retarded Children going that he also decided to publish his memoirs he had started writing only for posterity to read . . .

"Of all the fine speeches that De Gaulle has ever made to uplift his nation or to belittle his adversaries, the most touching words he ever spoke were in one short line that Anne inspired.

"It was in 1948, the day they buried her, and Charles de Gaulle, bleak and tall and craggy and with that deceptive look of being void of all emotion, took Yvonne's hand at the graveside and said, 'Don't weep for Anne, my dear, now she is like any other child.'"

Accept our sincere appreciation for The Pontiac Press' efforts in initiating and jointly producing the 1969 Lawn, Garden and Flower Show at The Pontiac Mall.

The work and endeavors of Mrs. Jody Headlee, Lawn and Garden Editor of your paper, have been outstanding. Not only did she sell the landscape people and florists on participating in the show, handle the news coverage admirably, manage pictures, plan and engage speakers for the demonstration program, but she spent continuous hours at the show to oversee its many areas and that all functioned properly. We cannot commend her efforts too highly.

We also appreciate the work of the display department, Mr. Salvatore and Mr. Sanford, for their continuous moral support and work in producing a good section in the paper to back up the show.

The United States can hardly say that it is really neutral in the Nigerian conflict.

Furthermore, just to make matters worse, the United States is presently training six Nigerian military officers at Fort Belvoir, Va., at the U.S. army engineer school there.

So the poor American public is spending its tax dollars on one hand to train fighters to kill Biafrans and, on the other, is raising money to relieve misery created by the conditions we have subsidized in the first place.

This is all a little ridiculous, to put it mildly, especially in view of the fact that Communist Russia is the main ally of the Nigerians.

Based on Real Happenings

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Cosby's comedy is the remembrance of things past. It is our collective childhoods filtered through his laugh machine.

Many of us can remember fighting with a brother over something or other, and we might even be able to summon forth a few chuckles.

But when Cosby recalls a tussle with his brother Russell over a blanket, it becomes an epic struggle in what is billed as television's longest uninterrupted comedy routine. The monologue, called "Russell, With Whom I Slept," runs about 22 minutes in "The Second Bill Cosby Special" on NBC Wednesday, April 9, from 9-10 p.m.

To find out more about this monologue Cosby was engaged in a dialogue:

Do you really have a brother named Russell?

THE REAL STORY

"I usually have everything I want to look at it, and that's in talk about. Comics come out with so many wild ideas and so healthy part about all of us is many wild things I think it's the ability to look back on very difficult for people to believe me when I say this really did happen. Even though part of it happened to them. I really had a brother. I really had a bedroom. I was very serious. I remember one day the reality of it—I was on guard duty and I was so sleepy, man, I wanted to cry. Now that I look back on it I have to smile, but while it was happening, there was no laughter there at all."

"They're not really funny things that people would laugh at. I make them funny because that's the way I draw them. I draw the father character as a huge human being and the kids as small people who are lying to protect their hides."

Some comics say comedy comes out of unhappiness. Do you agree with that?

UNHAPPY VEIN

"I would try to draw it out this way. At that particular moment it happened, when the sad thing struck, there's only one way to look at it, and that's in a positive manner."

You were censored recently on "The Tonight Show." How do you react to censorship?

"If they say it's too dirty or if they don't like it, then I'll take it out. Censorship usually doesn't touch me, but they said a lot of things about Noah and the Ark being sacrilegious."

Can comedy help in racial understanding?

"Maybe we can teach people something without having to come out and hit them over the head. People can learn from it, you know, if we can show it in a positive manner."

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Does your elephant need a shave?

Circus elephants need a trim about twice a year, according to the American Petroleum Institute, because even though the huge beasts have relatively little hair, it frequently becomes matted and unsightly.

"Naturally after the hair singeing, an after-shave lotion is in order," the Institute reports in its magazine, Petroleum Today.

"One that has recently come into favor is a petroleum-derived oil that is manufactured primarily for use in the tanning industry."

The institute counts about 150 circus elephants in the United States plus a few zoo customers.

Leaders Predict Legislative Speedup

LANSING (AP) — Legislative leaders predict that members will bear down on important bills when the Legislature reconvenes next Monday after a week-long recess.

Since the session began Jan. 8, only three minor bills have been delivered to Gov. Milliken's desk for his signature.

Still to be considered on the House and Senate floors are appropriations bills, the school aid act and measures to authorize issuance of $100-million recreation bonds.

Just before adjourning for the Easter recess, the Senate passed a bill permitting sale of $285-million in water pollution control bonds.

INTEREST CEILING

It was the second major bill that the Senate this session has approved and sent to the House. The first raised the ceiling on the interest rate on home mortgages from 7 to 9 per cent.

"I figure we're three weeks behind schedule," said Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis. "I can envision we'll fall farther behind."

He attributed the delay to members' concern over racial problems, campus unrest and whether to give aid to private and parochial schools.

"Deliberations in all these areas have caused us to fall behind," he said.

AFFORDABLE DELAY

In the House, Majority Floor Leader George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, said, "The hassle over the issue of student disruption on the campuses did delay the legislative proceedings somewhat."

"But it was a delay we could afford at this point in the session," he said.

"I think the House will be bringing the major appropriations bills to the floor by the end of April," he added.

Montgomery also stated that the House will operate from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. after committees finish the bulk of their work April 25.

"I personally feel there should be a lot of night committee meetings," Lockwood said.

The powerful majority leader also said the Legislature should quickly pass a school aid bill after the Easter recess.

'Home Cures
for Hiccups Really Work'

BOSTON (UPI) — An Irish anatomist has confirmed what grandma knew all along — that blowing into a paper bag will help cure hiccups.

Dr. Patrick F. Fitzgerald of University College, Cork, Ireland, told the American Association of Anatomists meeting here last week that drinking water and holding one's breath can also stop hiccups.

All the home remedies interrupt reflex stimuli between the alimentary tract, where Fitzgerald says hiccups begin, and the respiratory center in the brain.

Fitzgerald says hiccups are now thought to be caused by irritation anywhere from the back of the tongue all the way through the intestinal tract.

DIAPHRAGM TWITCH
The reflex stimulus causes the glottis, or vocal cord area, to contract suddenly and the diaphragm to twitch, producing the gasp known as a hiccup.

Previously, Fitzgerald said, hiccups were thought to arise from irritation of the diaphragm but that explanation "didn't seem reasonable anatomically."

Now, he says, doctors will have to search for the irritant in a larger area of the body in attempting to stop chronic hiccups.

Fire Supervisor Gets Regional Promotion

LANSING (AP) — Arthur Saviluto, district fire supervisor at Crystal Falls, has been named regional fire supervisor for the southern Lower Peninsula.

He will replace Albert Livingston, transferred from Lansing to Marquette as regional fire supervisor for the Upper Peninsula.

The Department of Natural Resources also announced the transfer of Thomas Pawdzik, game habitat biologist at Atlanta, to become game biologist for the Gladwin District.

Mrs. Muir's Landlord Has Life of Reilly

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Charles Nelson Reilly, the nervous-wreck real estate man of "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir," doubtless acquired his theatrical twitches as an usher for the Ed Sullivan show.

It couldn't have been his experience as a member of the chorus with the Connecticut Opera Company.

Reilly is a happy bachelor. Ecstatic bachelor.

When he came West to star in the NBC-TV series he bought the first house he ever owned. He describes it as being a typical modern ranch place, adding, "It's not beachy or California."

He bought the seven-room house because "it looks like a house."

Reilly is superconscious of houses, having lived most of his life in apartments. One in New York held his Antoinette Perry (Tony) Award for his role as Bud Frump in "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying."

He also brought along his furniture, many of the pieces wood and antiques collected on the East coast.

"I'm becoming a home person," Reilly says. "I'm relating to a house for the first time. Everytime I hung a painting in my New York apartment I knew it was on option. The city was too fast for me — I mean people hanging on fenders trying to cross the street."

LIKE BLAYMORE

In some respects Reilly is as fussy as Blaymore Gregg, the dinging he plays on the series. He has a small shepherd, Rose, for whom he cares a great deal.

The actor also does his own cooking, specializing in chicken and a variety of pasta. He explains his dexterity in the kitchen as an avocation most hungry actors pick up in New York.

When he tires of chicken Reilly cooks fish dishes and pork chops.

"I make a wicked meat loaf," he says. "Starving actors are tuna fish casserole."

Like most supporting players, Reilly's hours are easy. He works approximately three days a week — from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m.

On his off days, Reilly enjoys strolling the beach at Santa Monica smoking his pipe and thinking. What he thinks about is not exactly clear, and he is explaining it.

"If I'm turned off I go to the beach because it might turn me on."

There are other days devoted to driving. In addition to buying his first abode, Reilly has purchased his first automobile. He recently received a diploma from a driving school and has won a California driver's license.

Thus it is not unusual to see Reilly piloting his new convertible around Hollywood streets — with the top down in fair weather or foul.

He is a close friend of Hope Lange, who stars in the series, and not infrequently dines at her home. She is married to movie producer Alan Pakula.

Reilly seldom has dates but isn't counting on being a lifetime bachelor. One of these days, he is at pains to explain, he may marry but at the moment is too busy to go wife hunting.

"I am a Capricorn," he says. "We are late bloomers, but we finish fast."

Serves Dessert on Tray for Dinner Guests

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently at a friend's home when dessert was served, my friend went to each guest with a silver tray holding an assortment of cakes and squares of strawberry shortcake. I've seen this done in restaurants but is it proper for home serving?

She also had a dolly on the dessert plate which I've been told is incorrect for this type of dessert. I am planning a dinner in the near future and would appreciate your comments. — Nan

Dear Nan: I know of no reason why an assortment of pastries or cakes should not be passed on a silver tray. It seems an efficient and attractive way to serve. Foods with filling should be served in individual frilled paper holders.

Dollies may be placed under them on the serving plate if liquid or runny fillings do not spill over to make them soggy. They are not used, however, on the individual plates.

Dear Mrs. Post: If godparents bring their godchild a Christmas gift, are the parents of the child obliged to return the gesture with a gift to them? — Vivian

Dear Vivian: Since godparents are generally very close friends or relatives, parents often exchange gifts with them in any case. However, when the couples have lost touch with each other, even though the godparents may continue to send the child a remembrance, there is no obligation for the parents to reciprocate.

Tricia Nixon Proves Expert on Privacy

WASHINGTON — (KNA) — H. Daniel Jones would like to know Patricia Nixon better, but he's not sure how to go about it.

The signs are encouraging. He met her a year and a half ago when Miss Nixon was working in Sen. George Murphy's office for a few weeks in the summer, and Mr. Jones was working for Sen. Charles Percy.

"I took her home several times, and out for coffee occasionally," he said. "I wrote her when I was in Princeton Law School (she answered) and I invited her up one weekend when she lived in New York, but she couldn't make it."

Jones now works as a legal aid in the U.S. attorney's office in Washington and would like to see more of her. But, he asks, "How does one get a date with the President's daughter? Do you write her, or telephone her, or what?"

His concern is understandable. One does not approach a president's daughter in any of the conventional ways. Protecting the progeny of the first family is a problem that has faced every chief executive but more elaborate measures are taken now than in the days when individuals with spyglasses peered at Grover Cleveland and his 22-year-old bride at their honeymoon cottage.

Luci Johnson frugged in a blonde wig to avoid detection. Lynda Byrd took to highly secluded vacation spots and elaborate security when her romances blossomed.

But if present practice continues, blonde, petite Tricia Nixon could become less visible than any White House marriageables in years.

So far in these early days of her father's administration, the White House has successfully kept her social life and her hours inside the presidential mansion very private indeed and she is refusing any interviews that might shed light on them.

A bit glamor shy, perhaps, is Jacqueline Munson, 5, of Joslyn Road, as she models her matching yellow Easter dress and coat for services at St. John's United Methodist Church. Quite the proud Dapper Dan, however, is 10-year-old Donald Richardson, center, of Judson Street, who's wearing a gold sportcoat with dark slacks. Not the least bit impressed, by the way, is Jacqueline's brother, three-year-old Brian.

Pontiac Press Photos by Roll Winter

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am nearly 19 years old and do not have my driver's license yet. The reason is my mother. She says I am too "nervous" to drive. Abby, I admit, I am nervous, but that's because I don't drive and I'm always begging rides off my friends or asking my mother to please drive me some place.

My mother has her own car, but she is always too busy to drive me. Will you please tell me how I can convince my mother that if I drove I wouldn't be so nervous?

WANTS TO DRIVE
DEAR WANTS: You don't say whether you are in school, working, or under treatment for your "nervousness." If you are in good health, and qualify for a driver's license, take a course in driver-education. If you pass the tests, there will be no question about whether or not you are qualified to drive.

DEAR ABBY: "Ella," a waitress in

"Tricia can't see why she can't have a private life just like anybody else," says Mrs. Gerry Van der Huevel, press secretary for Mrs. Nixon and the two girls. "She just happens to be a very private person."

"If I say she likes to play tennis, people will scour the tennis courts until they find where she plays. If I mention she's spending a great deal of time with old school friends, they'd seek them out."

There are plenty of male admirers who could be knocking at the Nixon door — Secret Service permitting — to call on the 5-3, 56-lb. lovely.

Her young escorts to various public functions have been dutifully reported by the watchful press, but there is none yet who presumes to the status of beau.

In the three weeks she worked as a receptionist in Sen. Murphy's office in the summer of 1967, young Capitol Hill staff workers badgered her almost constantly for dates.

"It was just hysterical the way they streamed in here," said Peggy McNulty, who worked in the office with Tricia.

"They'd call her on the phone and say, 'You don't know me but I heard you were working here...' and they'd ask her for a date. I don't know that she ever accepted."

Miss Everett Repeats Vows

Attired in an Empire gown highlighted the A-line silhouette of organza, Char Elaine Everett chosen by the bride, which was escorted to the altar of Our Lady of the Sacred Heart church, and Kabuki sleeves. A match, Presbyterian, Saturday where she became the bride of Albert G. Tackett.

Peau d'ange lace appliques Mrs. Dean Mersino was matron of honor for the daughter of Mrs. Robert E. McDaniel of Onondaga Street and Joyce E. Everett of Strathdon Way. Best man for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Elliott of St. Clair was the bridegroom's twin brother, Clayton Tackett.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Arnette Cefal, Mrs. Paul Williams and Leigh Everett, the bride's sister. Terry Stocker, Paul Williams and Craig Everett made up the usher corps.

Following the afternoon nuptials, the newlyweds were feted with a reception in the church parlors.

They are honeymooning in Niagara Falls and Canada.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. Are there any foods that would make me grow taller?

A. There are no special foods that will make me grow taller. One type act which is stimulating is to like a shield over the entire nail growth. A person's height is to protect it while it grows out.

More or less set by inheritance. However, years of consuming an inadequate diet may curb not your natural tendency and cause you to stop short of your potential. A good health regime with the right foods, exercise and enough rest, will help you reach your potential height.

Q. I have bitten my nails for years, almost down to the quick. I am always chewing on them. You probably guess that I am a teen-ager but I am not. I am 35 years old. I have tried the hard to stop, but I do this without realizing what I am doing. It is such a habit! Please help me. I am embarrassed by my nails, or lack of nails, I should say.

A. Have you tried applying one of the bitter tasting products (formulated for this purpose) to the tips of your fingers? This would remind you. Also, if you have enough nail to manicure regularly. You will dislike spoiling the improvement in appearance and will not possible.

Q. Please give me a good exercise for the arches of my feet.

A. Try this one. Place the edge of a handkerchief under the toes of your feet. Reach out with your toes and then pull back with them, continuing, trying to pull as much of the handkerchief under your feet as possible.

Hostess Tips Are Given in Course

"Party P's and Q's," a popular course for women will again be offered at Troy High School this spring. The course is being co-sponsored by Oakland Community College and Troy Adult Education Department.

Attention will be focused on skills essential to making parties fun for the hostess as well as the guests. Glamour for the hostess, parties with a theme, table settings, the gourmet touch, elegance on a budget and detours around difficult situations are the topics for the six-week course beginning Wednesday from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Water Color Exhibit Scheduled

The Michigan Water Color Society will present its 23rd annual exhibition in the Bloomfield Art Association, Birmingham from 2-5 p.m. except Mondays beginning Sunday and running through May 4.

Juried by Richard Treaster of Cleveland Art Institute, the show consists of 60 paintings by artists who have established reputations in the water color medium. All exhibitors are or have been Michigan residents.

REGIONAL SHOW
The exhibition is the only important regional show in Michigan which is limited to paintings done in water-soluble media. The Michigan Water Color Society, of which Wayne University's Richard Kinney is present chairman, was founded in 1946 to promote awareness of and interest in the water-soluble media as art.

Their annual competitive exhibition honors outstanding paintings with five awards, including the Maximilian Jaeger Memorial Award, totaling $1,150. Award winners for this year's exhibition are: Janis Gallery.

Wagoner, Royal Oak; Joe DeFrancesco, Mt. Clemens; Shelli Rubiner, Detroit; Char- maine Kaptur, Grosse Pointe.

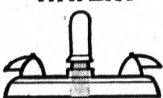

Igor Beginnin of Eastern Michigan University will assist in installing the exhibition in the Association's DeMarco

New Trim Brush Aid to Painters

A newly designed paintbrush cuts labor and time on all trim work, the manufacturer says. Trims done faster with the new brush include casework, molding, doors, cutting in ceiling lines and baseboards — any application where a medium size brush normally would be used. Another brush in the new line is used for cutting in all types of wood and steel sash. Saves tempers, time and paint.

Cake Serving Tip

You will not be bothered with cake, sticking to the plate on which you have frosted it, if you will first sprinkle the bottom of the plate with cane sugar. This absorbs the moisture and prevents the cake from crumbling and sticking when you cut it.

For an unusual and artistic planter, take an interesting shaped branch and place it in good rich soil in the planter. Then plant six or eight blue morning glory seeds around it. The vines will climb up the branch, giving you colorful blooms.

Beauty Care in Institutions Gains Honor

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The donation of more than 5,000 hours of free time in one week to provide beauty care for institutionalized children and adults has made Kay Koch's welfare committee of the St. Louis Cosmetologists Association first in the nation again — for the 11th year in a row.

During National Beauty Salon Week, she and her band of volunteers gave away professional services in such places as the City Jail, Jewish Home for the Aged, Blind Girls Home, Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, among the 32 institutions they visited.

Many area cosmetologists, both men and women, use their one free day giving services after working at their regular jobs five days a week. Local supply houses give them supplies and salons donate old chairs and mirrors to set up shops.

It's all good therapy, Mrs. Koch says. "Why, you take a typical little lady. You know the kind — stringy gray hair and all sad," she says. "You fix her up nice. Then she'll sit there and look in the mirror and say, 'Gee, I'm pretty.'"

Draw 'Goal Lines' First

By GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE 1-316 Lionel J., aged 17, is puzzled.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I am going to be ready for college next term."

"But I don't know what I want to be!"

"My father is a dental surgeon and he'd like to have me take up dentistry, but I am wildly enthusiastic about it."

DR. CRANE yet I don't have any special objects, either.

"So how should a person pick his future life's work?"

CONSCIENCE

A well developed conscience is one of the best vocational advisers you can ever consult.

So avoid any job whose influence on mankind is to produce a high increase in cancer, heart attacks, auto accidents, disease, broken homes or other subversive influences.

Instead, follow the advice of Horace Mann, father of our American public Schools, who stated:

"Be ashamed to die until you have won some victory for humanity."

Abraham Lincoln similarly held up before himself the goal of "planting roses where saving our teeth so we can ingest the proper diet."

At the age of 65, when you may retire, you will want not just financial security but also straightening the teeth of teenagers and removed the "old" profile of middle age via modern dentures.

And it is a tonic to your soul to look back and realize that you safeguarded health, preserved happy homes, made children's lives happier instead of sadder, and advanced the Golden Rule philosophy.

Whether you work in medicine or journalism, manufacturing or farming, accounting or music, you can thus feel elation of your soul.

That's not true if you deal in liquor, tobacco, gambling, pornographic merchandise and race prejudice.

Dental surgeons are actually the most important branch of our modern medical field! For they insure us longer life by career.

July Vows Set for Couple

A July wedding is planned by Patricia J. Maddock and Richard H. Jarmon. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. William A. Maddock of Troy and the late Mr. Maddock. Her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Walter H. Jarmon of Birmingham and the late Mr. Jarmon.

Miss Maddock has attended Oakland University. The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., where he was affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Elect PEO Officers

At a recent meeting of chapter AW, PEO Sisterhood, new officers were elected and installed.

They are: Mrs. Iva O'Dell, president; Jennette Gudgel, vice president; Mrs. C. H. Brown and Mrs. John Heitch, secretaries; Mrs. Walter Teeuwissen, treasurer; Mrs. Earl Rinker, chaplain; Mrs. Charles Tabar, guard.

Onion Deodorizer

To remove onion odor from pans and dishes, wash and dry them in the usual way, then scour with common salt and place them on the stove until the salt is brown, shaking the pan often. Wash again in the usual way.

Mother and daughter perform a red, white and blue duet in tune with spring '69 with new Polan Katz vinyl umbrellas in an All-American color combo. These "singin' in the rain" umbrellas are practical as well as pretty with their clear see-through vinyl window panes—a great safety measure for mother or daughter when walking through the rain or dodging traffic. Easily carried by color coordinated vinyl crook handles.

Estimates Rate Cost of Living for Retired, Married Couples

A retired married couple needs a cash income in the neighborhood of $4,000 a year to maintain a moderate standard of living in America.

That estimate, reported by the Institute of Life Insurance, is for the couple who enters retirement in fairly sound physical and financial shape—a man and wife, both 65 years or older, in reasonably good health, who probably own their own home rather than rent, and have accumulated most of the appliances and clothing they basically need. Of course, they're supporting no one but themselves.

The estimate, based on a recent U.S. Department of Labor report, covers the cost of food, home maintenance, transportation, clothing and personal needs, medical care not covered by Medicare, gift giving and miscellaneous amusements.

VARIATIONS

The cost of these items, as might be expected, varies from region to region and city to city. In the big metropolitan areas, for instance, it would require an income of $4,200 a year, on the average. In a small city in the South maintaining a moderate standard of living in retirement costs about $3,200.

Judging by the Labor Department study, the most expensive city for a retired couple is Honolulu, Hawaii, where it takes slightly more than $4,400 a year to maintain a modest living standard. Equally sunny, but less densely populated mainland cities, are less costly.

Baton Rouge, La., for instance, has an economy that permits retirees to live on about $1,000 a year less than Honolulu.

In recent years — because of the growing number of people over 65 and because of changes in the economy and social 7.3 cents (for out-of-pocket outlook of the nation — more expenses and health insurance to and more attention is being supplement Medicare); gifts paid to the financial needs of and contributions: 6 cents; other needs: 7.6 cents.

There are, of course, many retired couples who are not in good health who do not own their own homes and who have incomes of less than $4,000 a year.

Still, there are many enjoying financially secure retirements. They benefit from private or group pension plans, social security payments, savings, the cash values of their life insurance policies, annuities, and income-producing investments and properties.

Retirement income, regardless of source, goes farthest, generally, in smaller cities in the Southeast, whereas, the cost of living is significantly higher in New York City, Hartford, Conn., Cleveland, Ohio, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Honolulu.

The government survey indicates that on a national basis, a retired urban couple's dollar is spent mostly on the necessities. Here is the breakdown:

Food: 27.7 cents; housing: 33.6 cents (including insurance, maintenance); transportation: 8.9 cents; clothing and personal needs: 8.9 cents; medical care: 7.3 cents (for out-of-pocket outlook of the nation — more expenses and health insurance to and more attention is being supplement Medicare); gifts paid to the financial needs of and contributions: 6 cents; other needs: 7.6 cents.

Farm Bureau Out to Head 'Em Off

Rustlers Still on Prowl in State

LANSING (AP) — Rustlers, once a major problem to livestock producers, still are on the prowl in Michigan.

And the State Farm Bureau is looking for ways to head them off.

Dr. John Quinn, chief veterinarian in the State Agriculture Department, says he's "not convinced the problem is widespread."

"But there is some rustling," says Jim Franklin, owner of the Howsell livestock auction, which handles some 1,000 head of animals a week.

HOGS RUSTLED

Bob Smith, Farm Bureau lobbyist, cites the case of a Stockbridge hog breeder away from his farm for the day.

"When he came back, some hogs were gone. He even found tracks where the truck had backed up to the barn and just loaded them on," Smith says.

"A little later his neighbor was at livestock auction and saw some hogs like his—an unusual breed — go through the ring. The neighbor told him when he got home that some hogs had been stolen, and they assumed the ones sold were the ones rustled."

Few hogs are branded and once sold and slaughtered, there's no means of identification.

LOOK ALIKES

"One pork chop looks like another pork chop," says Smith. Cattle are a bit easier to identify, Smith says, because they have either brands or ear tags. But even cattle are rustled.

"Every so often we hear of some farmer who had livestock in a field—maybe quite far from his house. A thief goes out into the field, kills the cow, dresses it there and takes away the meat."

The extent of this type of rustling, Smith says, is unknown. But the Farm Bureau may ask the Legislature to head off hog rustling.

"We're wondering if auctions should be required to demand positive identification on the part of the seller," Smith says.

Smith and Quinn compare anti-trustling legislation to anti-bankrobbing legislation.

"A law doesn't mean no more bank robberies," Smith says. Present law requires auction barns to be licensed, bonded and to keep records, including names and addresses of persons selling livestock.

It does not, however, provide for positive identification of the seller.

"I'm very cool toward more legislation in this area," Quinn says. "They can't give every farmer the third degree when trailer full of animals, we'd they bring animals in. I don't wonder—and check."

think any legislation could improve the situation.

"Auction barns might be a little more careful," suggests Smith. "Maybe what we need is an educational program."

Franklin says that if he at any time has a question about the goods, he "goes into detail with the seller who is consigning the animals."

"In our business, you kind of get a nose for these things," he says. "You get suspicious if a person is nervous and doesn't know the trend of operation. And says, 'They can't give every farmer the third degree when trailer full of animals, we'd they bring animals in. I don't wonder—and check.'"

Revolutionary Bridge Built Near Lansing

LANSING (AP) — A prefabricated, lightweight bridge being constructed near Lansing may revolutionize bridge building, reports the State Highway Department.

The 192-foot, all-steel span carrying Creys Road over I-496 west of Lansing will be completed this spring.

The department said the $167,412 cost of the bridge is slightly higher than for conventional bridges. Decreased maintenance costs should offset the additional construction expenses, the department said.

The superstructure of the bridge was prefabricated in nine pieces and bolted and welded together on the construction site.

Conventional bridges consist of independent girders with separate decks. The girders of the new span were bolted and welded together to form one stiff-ended unit.

The bridge represents Michigan's first attempt at such a structure. Several others have been built elsewhere in this country and in Europe.

EYE TEST

One's outlook may depend on one's state of mind. But a healthy pair of eyes ensures a healthy view of the world—literally.

Proper functioning of the eyes, which is easily taken for granted, can be helped by taking the best possible care of them. A yearly checkup of the eyes is a sensible procedure. And this should be a thorough examination by a fully-trained ophthalmologist using the proper instruments. He can not only check defects in sight and prescribe eyeglasses if needed, but he can spot diseases such as glaucoma and cataracts. Glaucoma, for example, is a serious, non-reversible ailment eventually causing blindness; it is estimated that two to three per cent of all Americans over 40 have an undetected glaucoma condition. For this, as for cataracts, early diagnosis is very important, for the correct medication or surgery, if necessary, can help both these conditions in the incipient stages.

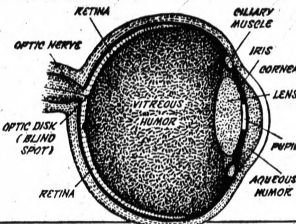

The eye test is invaluable in another way: many diseases of the central nervous system and many general diseases betray themselves through some eye trouble. The main warning signs are headaches, blurred vision and painful inflammation of the eyelids. The state of health of the eyes and of the body in general influence each other so much that the ophthalmologist will begin by asking for a full medical history. The photographs on this page show the main steps in the rest of an eye test demonstrated by Edward P. Perley, M.D., attending surgeon at Manhattan Eye and Ear Clinic, N.Y.

Refraction test, with trial frames and lenses, to measure visual acuity (and to correct, if necessary, by prescription of eyeglasses).

First, the external ophthalmic examination; overall observation, no instruments.

Visual acuity and extra-ocular motility are tested by reading the familiar eye chart.

Lower left, direct funduscopy, to study the interior of the eye for pathology. Right, indirect funduscopy. The eye is the only organ of the body whose interior is easily visible with conventional instruments.

An ophthalmologist is a physician who specializes in the study and treatment of defects and diseases of the eye. An optometrist measures visual powers and prescribes lenses. An optician makes spectacle lenses from prescriptions.

Slit lamp microscopy, for the study of the anterior segment of the eye.

Applanation tonometry, to measure the pressure of the eye, for the detection of glaucoma.

Indentation tonometry, using a Shiotz tonometer, also for the detection of glaucoma.

Visual field study on the tangent screen (with one eye masked), as a test of peripheral and central vision.

Soviet Union Trails Europe in Hotel Industry

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union, which likes to say it leads the world in this or that, trails the rest of Europe when it comes to hotels.

A nightly sight in Soviet cities is travelers being turned away from hotel desks with the explanation, "No vacant rooms."

Railway station waiting rooms are filled with the overflow.

The comparatively few existing hotels are mostly old-fashioned. Hot water taps work only intermittently. Room service is unheard of. The restaurants are notorious for the long delay before a waiter appears, and the even longer delay before he brings any food.

The available rooms go largely to groups of foreign tourists and Soviet members of delegations to the innumerable conferences held in this country.

"I don't understand why in the Soviet Union, where the economy belongs to the people and serves only them, we can't solve this hotel problem," one guest said in discussing the situation with a Moscow hotel director.

"Why is a person here practically deprived of the possibility of making a trip to Moscow, Tallinn or Leningrad? Hotel space is only for tourists and delegates," he exclaimed.

"If you are alone it's bad enough—but what about if you have your family with you?" The director, Georgi Zhukov of the Tourist Hotel, sided with the guest.

"Unfortunately," Zhukov said, "we rank last in Europe in the number of hotel rooms per thousand of population."

"The huge Russian federation has only 206,000 hotel beds,

There has been a 50 per cent increase in Moscow during the past 50 years."

Gorki, with a population of over a million, has 1,700 beds. Novosibirsk, a city of the same size, has only four not very large hotels.

"The number of hotels can be counted on the fingers."

"The fact is that our hotel system does not in any way correspond to the century of travelers, of mass tourism. And because of that we suffer tremendous losses."

EAST BLOC EARNINGS
Zhukov, writing in the newspaper Literaturnaya Gazeta (Literary Gazette), noted that in the other East Bloc countries the hotel income from tourists includes large amounts of Western currency.

The hotel director also pointed out that with the planned increase in private cars in the Soviet Union, the demand for hotel rooms will rise.

'Many State Communities Are Cleaning Own Water'

LANSING (AP) — Many early pollution abatement agreements include:

Berrien Springs, Andrews University at Berrien Springs, Fremont, Boyne City, Charlevoix, Escanaba, Hastings, Hillsdale, Holland, Kalamazoo, Manistee, Marshall, Menominee, Muskegon, Niles, Petoskey, Plainwell, Rogers City, Spring Lake and Vicksburg.

The commission notified 85 communities last June that their waste treatment plants must be upgraded through the additions of secondary treatment facilities and installation of phosphorus removal facilities or both.

So far, the commission said, 20 communities have signed agreements to comply with commission orders. Another 34 have notified the commission they will proceed on a voluntary basis.

Among the remaining 31 communities, one has a contract with the county to provide waste treatment, another has treatment facilities under construction and a third has submitted an agreement to the commission.

ADDITIONAL ORDERS

Three additional communities have been ordered by the commission to upgrade their treatment plants. Commission action against the remaining 25 communities is expected in the near future.

Fades those Horrid

—famous cream for stubborn skin faults

Those ugly brown surface spots are very stubborn. Some think even hopeless. No ordinary cream will remove them. But Euterica does—for thousands! Because those spots of pigment are in the surface skin, and Euterica has a medication to penetrate, to reach, to break up those spots. Within a week, you should see those spots begin to fade. Then, Happy Day! Blandly, your hands become clear, smooth, young-looking again.

For the same reason, Euterica has been used by millions for skin faults that defy ordinary skin care—to make dull, muddy skin look clear... to root blackheads and surface pimples... to reduce coarse pores... to lighten dark, neglected neck or dingy drab, lifeless skin... even to dim fine lines.

Lobbyist: What Does He Do?

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—A thick layer of dark goo slides onto a wide, white beach at Santa Barbara.

"The public and press cry 'outrage.'"

The oil company profusely apologizes, then hurriedly begins to clean up the mess.

Legislators view with alarm, then introduce a myriad of bills to prevent such an event from recurring.

GOES TO WORK

And Albert J. Shults quietly goes to work.

"I'm one of a number of hard-working lobbyists," said the 54-year-old lawyer.

He hardly fits the usual image of a lobbyist as a big, fat, cigar-smoking wheeler and dealer. Shults could get lost in a crowd. He is of medium build and looks like a conservative businessman.

Shults grossly understates his position as one of the highest paid and most influential of the 400-member "third house" of California's Legislature.

$4,000 A MONTH

The 10 clients who pay Shults $4,000 a month plus expenses include almost every major oil company.

For more than a decade the "legislative advocate—a formal name for lobbyists—has been responsible for "all legislation affecting the oil industry."

What kind of a job is Shults expected to do for one of California's largest industries? "It's principally defensive," Shults said in an interview. "We offer very little in the way of affirmative legislation."

This year, that defensive role includes stopping legislation which would ban tidelands oil drilling, levy a 2 per cent severance tax on oil and gas producers and refiners, and limit the depletion allowance.

"I think it's in the way of being panicked," Shults said of proposed bans of oil exploration and drilling.

"I actually doubt that there will be any really serious restrictions by California law because I think California law is a pretty good law," he said.

The Santa Barbara oil leak came from a well leased to Union Oil Co. by the federal government which did not fall under California drilling regulations.

'OLD DOG'

The depletion allowance and severance tax measures have been introduced in varying forms for many years.

"It's an old dog," Shults said. Asked if he thought the bills would die in the committee as they have in the past, he replied: "I would certainly assume so."

Then why are the bills introduced every year?

"It's a big story," Shults said. "That's why they're the authors, I think. They do get publicity, don't they? They're fighting the big, powerful oil companies. They're slaying the dragon."

'DEFENSIVE' TACTICS

Although Shults spends more than $2,000 each month on food and drinks as a lobbyist, his "defensive" tactics for the oil industry also include supplying lawmakers with armloads of charts, surveys and reports to support his position.

Lobbyists often are suspected of donating heavily to political campaigns in return for special favors from lawmakers.

"Every day in the legislative session and sometimes in between, I impose on the good nature of legislators to represent my clients — and they're very kind. They give me time, they're busy men," Shults said.

"It's just artificial to think that a campaign comes around — they need a little help — that I say 'Oh, no. Thank you for being very nice to me but I wouldn't think of giving you any help.'"

PERSONAL FRIENDS

"Many of them are personal friends, it's ridiculous. Of course I make campaign contributions — not in substantial amounts because I'm not a rich man. But of course I give them help. Nothing like the press indicates. That's fantastic."

The candidates charged his opponent received $100,000 in the primary campaign from the oil industry.

"I laughed for two or three days until I found that some people were taking it seriously," Shults said.

"Every company, oil or otherwise, makes political contributions to some extent through individuals or otherwise," he said.

RELATIVELY SMALL

"The contributions are relatively so small that there could be no question of quid pro quo, and in fact it would be a dangerous thing if that were so," he added.

"I'm very often embarrassed by the very little that I can do but I would be much more embarrassed if I had a free hand. If corporate funds were just available generally for political contributions, it would be a very dangerous thing."

"If corporations had the equivalent of a COPE (the political arm of the AFL-CIO) and the very, very large amounts of money that labor has available through COPE, it would be a bad thing in my opinion."

Boat Is Launched at Soo—Car, Too

SAULT SAINT MARIE, (AP)—Jack O'Connor decided to launch his boat into the St. Mary's river near here.

He drove to the side of the stream and got out of his car, but forgot to set the handbrake. He quickly found he had launched not only his boat but also his trailer — and his car.

Immigrants Wanted to Develop Argentina

BUENOS Aires (U) — Wanted: immigrants to help develop the vast underpopulated and undeveloped areas of Argentina and to strengthen its competitive position with South American neighbors.

The present population of 24 million is too small to create a domestic market for large-scale industrial development and too few to populate more than half the land area.

The government, with economic and strategic goals in mind, has launched a program aimed at luring immigrants and bringing home Argentines who have left in search of economic opportunity.

Foreigners and Argentines who have been away for at least three years are being exempted from payment of import duties and consular fees. If they wish to start a business in Argentina, they can import about $50,000 worth of equipment duty-free. Tax-exempt items can include tools, scientific instruments, farming, mining or industrial machinery, tractors and bulldozers. Private automobiles are not included. These normally carry import duties equal to 100 per cent of their value.

Immigrants who intend to settle in remote undeveloped areas can even bring in tax-exempt prefabricated housing.

Individuals who wish to come to Argentina to work as a group can pool their exemptions. But they must stay together for three years. If they branch out on their own before then, they will be subject to full tax on the items they brought with them.

Tax-free material can't be transferred, sold or mortgaged for three years from its date of entry.

NOT ELIGIBLE

"Refugees" entering the country will not be eligible for the privileges. By "refugees" the government means poor, often illiterate laborers who cross the borders from neighboring Paraguay, Bolivia and Chile to look for jobs and a better life. Unable to find work in the border areas, these laborers and their families flock to the large Argentine cities where they usually end up unemployed and living in slum communities.

Government Secretary Mario Colodrero admits the new laws is aimed at attracting immigrants from Europe—traditional source of new blood for Argentina. Thousands of Italians and Spaniards came to Argentina in the early 1900s. Later came Germans, Poles and other Eastern Europeans. All left their stamp on Argentina, which today boasts one of the highest literacy rates and standards of living in Latin America.

The government also is interested in attracting adventurous and industrious Japanese. Representatives of the Italian, Spanish, Dutch, West German, French and Japanese embassies were invited to attend the announcement of the new immigration rules.

March Traffic on Big Mac Sets Record

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Traffic over the Straits of Mackinac Bridge in March set a new high for the month, mostly because of the lowering of bridge rates. The bridge authority reports there were 57,483 crossings in March, up from 45,934 for the same month a year ago.

Prentiss Brown, bridge authority chairman, said the rate reduction stimulated a great growth in weekend traffic.

The March crossings were up more than 25 per cent over the previous year.

Many of the additional bridge crossers were snowmobiles, basketball fans and people with Upper Peninsula ties who are now induced to make more crossings as a result of the fare reduction," Brown said.

Bridge traffic for the first three months of the year went up to 142,441 compared to 112,738 during the same period of 1968. This was an increase of more than 26 per cent.

It has been theorized that there may be millions upon millions of stars similar to our sun, each with planets circling it.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles in Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science discovered a medication with the ability, in most cases, to actually shrink hemorrhoids and promptly stop the burning itch and relieve pain.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, very striking improvement was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain and itching were promptly relieved. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated piles.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in

New York City, in Washington, D.C., and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this. And it was all done without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

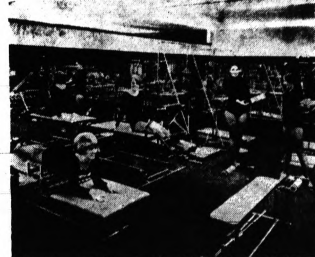

The secret is Preparation H®—an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! Preparation H also lubricates to make bowel movements less painful, it soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in both ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Lakers, Celtics Win in NBA

By The Associated Press
The Los Angeles Lakers rested today with visions of a crown on their heads while the Atlanta Hawks prepared for another fitting night.

But hold everything because the Boston Celtics, present kings of the National Basketball Association, appear to have little intention of abdicating.

NBA Draft Lacks Lots of Talent

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be no surprises when the Milwaukee Bucks open the National Basketball Association draft today by picking Lew Alcindor, but from then on the guessing game begins.

"From what I've seen, it doesn't look like a very robust crop," says Red Auerbach, son, general manager of the Boston Celtics who has scouted many of the college seniors eligible for the draft. "For most clubs, it will be a guessing game after the first five or six players have been taken."

After Big Lew, UCLA's threetime All-American who already has signed with Milwaukee, most pro scouts feel the choice narrows to Jo Jo White of Kansas, Larry Cannon of La Salle and Lucius Allen of UCLA, after that, who knows?

Among the big names are Neal Walk of Florida, Sammy Hill of West Texas State, Terry Driscoll of Boston College, Bud Ogden of Santa Clara, Willie McCarter of Drake, Butch Beard of Louisville and George Thompson of Marquette.

LESSER TALENT

The comes lesser known talents like Norm Van Lien of St. Francis, Pa., Ricky Robertson of Cincinnati, Bobby Dandridge of Norfolk State, John Warren of St. John's, Elnardo Webster of St. Peter's, N.J., and Luther Rackley of Xavier of Ohio.

Most teams, however, are waiting for next year when such players as Rick Mount of Purdue, Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, Charley Scott of North Carolina and Bob Lanier of St. Bonaventure, among others, will be available.

Only two rounds, conducted by telephone in Commissioner Walter Kennedy's Madison Square Garden office, will be held today, with the remaining rounds held May 7.

Seattle will pick third, followed by Detroit, Chicago, San Diego San Francisco, Cincinnati, Boston, Atlanta, New York, Philadelphia or Los Angeles and Baltimore. Philadelphia and Los Angeles, who finished with the same season record, will flip a coin.

The aging Celtics, who won the NBA title last year and then finished a disappointing fourth in the Eastern Division this season, look ready for another coronation now that the playoffs are underway. After winning the division semifinal series in five games from Philadelphia, Boston opened the division final with an impressive 108-100 victory over the red-hot New York Knicks in a nationally-televized game Sunday in New York.

The winner of that best-of-7 series, which resumes Wednesday night in Boston, meets the West winner.

BIG STEP

The Lakers took a big step in that direction by winning their fourth straight from San Francisco, 118-78, Saturday night to win their semifinal set and now await the victor in the Atlanta-San Diego series.

Atlanta, after a 112-101 triumph Sunday in Atlanta for a 3-2 lead, can wrap up its series tonight in San Diego, where the Hawks have not won this season.

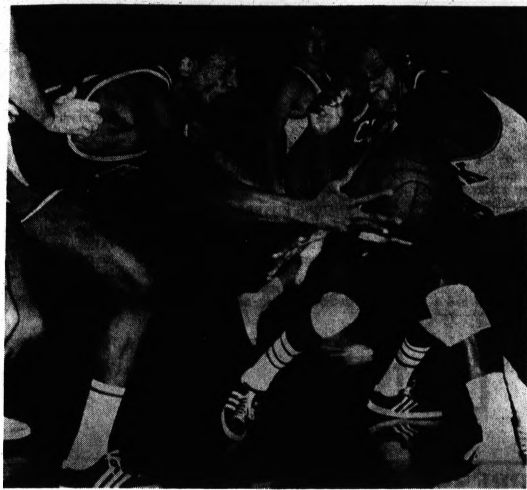

"I'm sure glad to be back," he says. "It sure gets cold in Japan."

Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

The Celtics moved to a 70-55 lead in the third period against the Knicks, who came off a surprising four-game sweep over Baltimore in their semifinal series. Although New York made several desperate rushes in the final period, cutting the margin to 94-90 and then 98-94, Boston, with its playoff savvy always had the answer.

Atlanta 112, San Diego 101, Atlanta leads best-of-7 series, 3-2.

Today's game scheduled 8 p.m. Eastern Time. West Division only game scheduled.

Change in Control of Rams Rumored

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams, who have reportedly had front office squabbles for years, may soon be owned by the man who designed the Space Center in Houston.

Charles Luckman, one of the west's leading architects, is reportedly dealing for Rams President Daniel F. Reeves' 51 per cent controlling interest in the National Football League team.

Reeves told The Associated Press Sunday night that an immediate sale "is possible but far from conclusion."

MAJOR PROBLEM

Apparently one of the problems holding up a sale is the fact that Reeves, who is 51, has sold 49 per cent to a group of partners, two of whom are Gene Autry and Robert Reynolds, owners of the California Angels baseball team in the American League.

The Rams, one of the most highly rated teams in pro football, came to Los Angeles without prospects and for the first four years, Reeves lost money. He once said he considered a $1 million offer for his team.

Traveler Wins Job

Angels Signing Stuart

ANAHEIM (AP) — Durable Dick Stuart, who has bounced around baseball from the New York Mets to Tokyo, will sign a contract with California of the American League, Angel officials said today.

The 36-year-old journeyman has played outfield and first base in nine years in the major leagues. As a free agent and nonroster handyman, he played with the Angels in spring training and led the club in home runs with four and was second in runs batted in with 14.

The last two seasons Stuart played baseball in the Japanese professional leagues.

The story of Richard Lee Stuart first made news in 1956.

As a 23-year-old minor league outfielder, he came to Lincoln in the Western League. He announced he would hit lots of home runs. The prediction was accurate. He belted 66 for a league record that year and batted in 158 runs.

SAME PREDICTION

The next spring he was on the roster of the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League, making the same prediction.

And he started that season like a house afire, hitting six home runs in his first week. But then the bat went cold, home runs turned to strikeouts and Stuart was sent down to Atlanta and then back to Lincoln.

Two years later, the Pittsburgh Pirates gave Stuart, then a first baseman, a chance. By then he had a reputation as a power hitter who was a terrible fielder and soon he acquired the nickname of Old Stone Fingers. Others called him Dr. Strangelove.

In 67 games with the Pirates in 1958, Stuart hit 16 home runs, batted .268 but tied for the National League lead with 16 errors at first base. The following year he had 27 home runs and a .25 average—but had 22 errors at first.

LEAGUE-LEADER

The high point in his baseball career may have come in 1961. He had 35 home runs for the Pirates, 117 runs batted in, hit .301 and played in 138 games. But he committed 21 errors and led the league in strikeouts with 121.

He played 1962 with Pittsburgh, then went to Boston of the American League where in 1964 he batted .279 with 33 home runs. In 1965 he played for the Philadelphia Phillies and in 1966, the New York Mets and Los Angeles Dodgers. He has a major league lifetime total of 227 home runs and a lifetime major league batting average of .262.

He swears the fielding problems have been licked and he can still hit the long ball. To prove it, he batted .333 this spring.

"I'm sure glad to be back," he says. "It sure gets cold in Japan."

Young Driver Dies in Crash

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A 23-year-old driver, Bevan "Biff" Gibson was killed today while taking part in a six-lap sports car race at Mount Panorama Circuit, Bathurst.

As Gibson's Elfin Repco V6, accelerated down the straight away it became airborne. It struck the surface of the circuit, spun five times and then burst into flames.

Villanova Cyclist Wins

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Dave Chaumer a 19-year-old Villanova student and a member of the U.S. Olympic team, won the 235-mile cross Florida tour bicycle race in nine hours, 28 minutes and 12 seconds Sunday.

Today Is Mostly Fun-and-Games Time for President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon took time out today from the weighty problems of his office for a little fun and games—rolling Easter eggs and watching some baseball.

The President, just back from a Florida weekend, set aside time in the morning to join in the traditional Easter egg roll on the White House lawn. Following this was a trip to the Robert F. Kennedy Stadium to throw out the first ball marking the opening of the 1969 major league baseball season.

In attending the game between the Washington Senators and the New York Yankees, Nixon was following a tradition started in the early part of the century by President William Taft.

The day wasn't devoted entirely to such lighthearted affairs. Nixon had called a morning meeting of his Urban Affairs Council to push ahead with plans for his own program of domestic legislation.

FORMAL CONFERENCE

While spending five days at his waterfront home at Key Biscayne, Fla., Nixon bore down on paper work in the domestic area and held one formal conference review of home front policies.

The chief executive's final bit of official business before returning to the capital Sunday night, however, involved tough relations with Peru.

John H. Irwin II, Nixon's special envoy to Peru, stopped by for an hour-long meeting en route back to Lima. Irwin is seeking a solution to the dispute over compensation by Peru for seizing the American-owned International Petroleum Co.

If no solution is forthcoming, Nixon could be forced to cut off American aid to Peru and eliminate the annual quota permitting sugar imports from that country.

The rest of the week's presidential calendar has an international flavor.

Tuesday and Wednesday he will be host to King Hussein of Jordan, who is paying an official visit to the United States. The explosive Arab-Israeli situation will, no doubt, be a major topic of talks between the two.

Thursday the President will speak at a ministerial meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The alliance is celebrating the 20th anniversary of its founding.

The entire Nixon family—the services at Key Biscayne's President and his wife, Pat, starkly modernistic daughters Tricia and Julie and Presbyterian church.

Robbed Woman in Church

Prayer Service Held for Thief

MIAMI (AP) — There was a special Easter prayer service for a thief at St. Hugh's Catholic Church Sunday — the thief who robbed Sophia Larsen as she knelt in solitary Lenten prayer.

"We asked God to be merciful to this person," said Larry Dies, a layman who led the 25-minute service.

"It was a very small thing," the Rev. James Kiley said.

Thieves Hit 2 Churches; Vandals Damage Third

NEW YORK (AP) — Thefts took place in two Roman Catholic rectories here while Easter Masses were being said in the churches next door, and vandals damaged a third church, all in Queens.

A gunman held up two ushers at the Church of the Transfiguration and fled with $2,000. Burglars stole a pistol, $100 cash and stock certificates from a priest's bedroom near St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church.

Vandals overturned the altar and broke windows at Christ Congregational Church, but worshippers ignored the mess during services and then forsook a communal breakfast to clean up.

Not Just Girls

NORTH LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The city ordinance which long has required that "girls with long hair" must wear bathing caps while swimming in the city pool has been changed to read: "persons with long hair are required to wear bathing caps."

that did this thing," said Dies, a voice said: "Don't move, don't say anything, just sit quiet and still."

PRAYED FOR MANKIND

Two hands appeared from behind. One pointed a pistol at Mrs. Larsen's face and the other took $14 from her purse.

"This is the sort of thing that can frighten people into feeling it's not safe to be there," Dies said. "That's wrong."

'GREATEST CRIME'

"Perhaps the greatest crime is not so much the robbery as the fact that the church was empty except for Mrs. Larsen," said Beverly McLaughen, another parishioner.

"If the place had been crowded, as it should have been in the Lenten season, it wouldn't have happened."

Dies said the special Easter Sunday service attracted 28 people who contributed $28.

"We're going to give the money to the lady and my understanding is that she is going to give it to some charity," he said.

"I don't know the lady herself. I have never seen her."

SKIN BUFF'S GATHER—Fun-seeking collegians stand on a Fort Lauderdale beach yesterday waiting for a nude swimmer that just never came off. City and state police boats were on hand, too. One buxom coed became separated from her bikini top while in the surf, but lifeguards managed to take care of her.

'Things Just Never Came Off'

Nude Wade-In Proves 'a Bust'

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — One bare bosom among 25,000 frolicking college students isn't much of a protest demonstration.

But despite all the publicity by the Sexual Freedom League, only one bikini top dropped on sun-splashed Fort Lauderdale beach yesterday, and that may have been an accident.

The league's nude wade-in, so to speak, was a bust — "a 36-inch bust, to be exact," opined one policeman.

The mass skinny dip was planned to climax the Easter holidays on this south Florida seashore, a girl-watcher's paradise which attracts college students in swarms at this time of year.

STANDING ROOM ONLY

There was standing room only at high noon yesterday along the two-mile strip of yellow sand fringed by beer bars, surf shops and hamburger stands.

There was a lot of talk about the Sexual Freedom League's covered. Alert lifeguards rushed to her aid, wrapping her in a blanket and hustling her off. The kids joked about the nude romp and boasted they'd join in if somebody else would go first. Police didn't arrest the young lady, and in the excitement no one bothered to get her name.

Most of Fort Lauderdale's 150-man police force was on hand to watch.

"But things just never came off," said a tall history major from Mississippi.

NOTICEABLY UNCOVERED There was one exception, a buxom coed romping in the surf suddenly shrieked and stood up. She was, quite noticeably, uncovered. Alert lifeguards rushed to her aid, wrapping her in a blanket and hustling her off.

"What happened today happens quite often at nearly every beach in the world," said chief lifeguard Jarrett (Lucky) Jordan. "A girl in a bikini was struck by a breaking wave and came out of the surf minus her bra. We wrapped her in a blanket and removed her from her difficulty."

But whether a wave knocked the girl's top off, or whether she yanked it off herself, remained a subject of speculation.

GLEEFUL YOUTH There were reports of some Army Lt. Col. George Lawlor youth scampering gleefully of Jackson, Mich., has been from the scene waving a scanty awarded a George Washington bikini top.

Honor Medal by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. (AP) The Sexual Freedom League, based in Berkeley, Calif., issued the call two weeks ago for a nude wade-in to "establish the right of nude swimming at public beaches." But the league added that it had "no funds available for legal defense in Florida."

Police reported they had little trouble with this year's influx of the case later this week, they said. "If you lower the scale too much, most murderers and bank robbers will escape imprisonment," he said. "Where do you draw the line? I can give the facts, my view, the University of California, a Where does society draw the giant in the field of psychiatry line?"

Nevertheless, when the jurors are finally permitted to discuss the case later this week, they said. "If you lower the scale too much, most murderers and bank robbers will escape imprisonment," he said. "Where do you draw the line? I can give the facts, my view, the University of California, a Where does society draw the giant in the field of psychiatry line?"

'Dazed' Youth Steals Bus; Police Guns Halt His Ride

ATLANTA (UPI) — Police fired from cars, bridges and an expressway ramp Saturday before wounding a youth "in a daze" who stole an unoccupied Continental Trailways bus and raced through downtown streets.

The man was identified as Lawrence Sewell, 20, of Atlanta.

Police Detective R. A. Brown said Sewell was shot in the left arm after leading more than 10 police cars through the city streets onto the South Expressway. Sewell was not seriously injured.

Brown said he once tried to stop the bus by pulling in front of it, but gave up when it was apparent that Sewell would have ram him down.

MANY SHOTS FIRED

A bullet finally reached its mark shortly after the bus entered the expressway. Brown said so many officers shot at Sewell it was impossible to tell which shot finally hit the youth.

"We could have killed him at any time, but there is no telling where that bus would have gone," Brown said.

J. P. Billingsly, a maintenance supervisor of the Trailways station, said a driver noticed Sewell sitting in the driver's seat of a bus.

"We ran around to the loading door of the bus and saw him sitting there looking dazed," Billingsly said. "He looked like he was under the influence of something."

ARM CAUGHT IN DOOR

"I told him to get down from there, and he looked like he was coming. But then he pushed the door-closing button and caught my arm."

Billingsly managed to free himself, but before other employees could enter the bus through an emergency door, Sewell started the bus and roared off.

Experts Hold Key to Sirhan Fate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For 18 and the law. On the other side, Pollack said Sirhan "un-exhausting, repetitive and oftentimes boring court days, a Seymour Pollack of the what he had done." It was, the swarm of psychologists and University of Southern California, a man of equal political assassination by a mind of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan (federalist stature.

DISAGREEMENT

They agree Sirhan is mentally ill. They diverge on the extent. Sirhan is not so mentally ill that he should escape legal and responsibility for the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"I suspect everyone in the trial may be tired of it," sighed one of the defense lawyers.

Nevertheless, when the jurors are finally permitted to discuss the case later this week, they said. "If you lower the scale too much, most murderers and bank robbers will escape imprisonment," he said. "Where do you draw the line? Nixon Salutes Student's Stand

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When the Black Students Union set up barricades at the main entrance to Los Angeles City College, Steve Frank and nine other students tore them down.

The incident March 12 has brought a letter from President Nixon commending Frank, 21, a Vietnam War veteran.

"I know it is not a popular position to take a stand against your fellow-students or other young people when you think they are wrong," Nixon wrote.

But the President expressed hope that such action by others "will help greatly in seeing our colleges and universities through the current challenge to their integrity and independence."

Frank said he is president of VIVA, a group "dedicated to reason and dialog."

JOHN W. MCCORMACK

Nixon Prodded to Speed Up His Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., prodded the Nixon administration today to speed up its recommendations to Congress.

Emphasizing that he meant no criticism of Nixon, McCormack said in a statement that Congress and the new President "can best act by the executive expediting messages and reports as quickly as possible."

Without mentioning criticism of Congress for having done little during its first three months in session, McCormack said that to date the legislative branch "has made fine progress."

"As a practical matter," he said, "it is exceedingly difficult for the leadership in Congress to formulate a legislative program and timetable... until it has before it those recommendations which the President has to submit to the Congress."

McCormack's prod came on the heels of a weekend statement by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills that his House Ways and Means Committee will start writing tax reform legislation before the end of the month even if Nixon hasn't submitted his own proposals.

Mills, D-Ark., is chairman of the committee, which handles all tax legislation.

Nixon reportedly has told leaders of both the House and Senate that he hopes to present his budget recommendations and some other major legislative proposals soon after Congress returns from its current Easter vacation a week from today.

McCormack said he made his observations "in the spirit of having close coordination between the Congress and President Nixon."

LBJ WAS BUSY

During the first three months of the new Congress that convened in 1965, he said, then-President Johnson sent a total of 25 messages to Capitol Hill before the Easter recess and they covered major subjects requiring legislation.

During the first three months of the new Congress in 1967, he added, Johnson sent 23 messages dealing with major legislation.

Eleven messages have been sent to Congress by President Nixon since he took office on Jan. 20, McCormack noted, and only eight of them included legislative recommendations.

No Presidential Bug Yet, Claims Muskie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie says he has a lack of candor. "If I had a decision to make today, I'd probably say 'No.' But I don't have to say 'No' today. I don't have to say 'Yes.' So I don't say either."

"I really don't know if I want to be a candidate for President. But I'm not ready to reject it."

Muskie did reject the suggestion that he was already in competition with Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who also says he hasn't decided whether to make the 1972 race, but remains the leading Democratic contender in many minds.

Muskie, the 1968 Democratic vice presidential candidate, has made dozens of speeches at colleges and political affairs in nearly 30 states over the last three months in what observers see as an attempt to build a power base for a 1972 presidential run.

When asked about this, Muskie said:

"They say I have the presidential bug. I really don't. But the more involved my explanations get, the more I get stuck with the bug. And I know what I'm saying now has led its way into countless headlines across the country."

He went on: "It might be better not to comment at all,

Scattered Outbursts of Gunfire in Mideast

By The Associated Press

Gunfire echoed again in the Jordan River Valley today following scattered Israeli Sunday outbursts along cease-fire line between Jordan and Israel.

A Jordanian army spokesman said an Israeli tank was damaged and a jeep was destroyed in an exchange shortly after dawn east of the Sheikh Hussein Bridge in the northern Jordan. He said there were no Jordanian casualties.

In Tel Aviv, an Israeli spokesman reported Jordanians fired mortars at Maoz Haim settlement in the Beisan Valley and a worker was slightly wounded. Israeli forces returned the fire, the spokesman said. Fighting was reported around Maoz Haim Sunday.

An Arab commando spokesman claimed a number of Israeli soldiers were killed or wounded Sunday in an ambush at Tel

Zarrah in the northern Jordan Valley.

The spokesman in Amman, Jordan's capital, said members of the Palestine Armed Struggle organization destroyed two Israeli troop carriers while the Arab side suffered no losses.

The Jordanian army claimed two Israeli half-tracks were destroyed or damaged in a 25-minute exchange Sunday after Israeli troops opened fire on the Jordanian villages of Adasia and Telbabin. The army said there were no Jordanian casualties.

Exchanges also were reported at East Turkman and at a point 50 miles north of Jerusalem where Christians were observing Easter.

Arab guerrillas and Jordanian troops fired bazookas and light weapons at Israeli army patrols near Sha'Ar Hagolan and Maoz Haim, according to witness accounts.

Census 'Prying' Pinups in Czech Press

Foe to Speak

An Oakland County congressman leading a fight against "invasion of privacy questions" during the 1970 census will speak at a public meeting in Royal Oak tomorrow.

Rep. Jack McDonald, R-19th District, will address the Oakland County Young Republicans at 8 p.m. in the Balenger House, Main at 12 Mile Road.

McDonald, who is expected to talk on several controversial topics, has said he doesn't feel it's the federal government's business to know how many families use a single bathroom or how much rent or mortgage a person pays.

Testimony during a House hearing on McDonald's census limitation bill is expected to be taken soon.

McDonald's bill would permit voluntary answers to questions other than those concerning name and address, sex, race, color, date of birth, marital status, relationship to head of household and number of persons in the house at time of census.

Pinups in Czech Press Decried by Soviet Paper

MOSCOW (AP)—Pictures of art, asserting that "the naked women in the Czechoslovak press 'carried a well-converted ideological load' that hurtling the cause of true Communism, the Soviet Young Communist League charged Sunday.

The league's newspaper Komсомолска Права said these pictures and the introduction of the striptease were designed to turn the thoughts of the people toward the "sweet life" when they should be concerned with strengthening communism.

"Under the slogan of a struggle for a free press, which anti-Socialist forces actively exploit in Czechoslovakia against socialism," wrote Viktor Bolshakov, a campaign was unleashed for freedom from all moral norms and values."

Legislators Are Invited to Tax Protest

State senators and representatives from Oakland County have been invited to attend a property tax protest meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Oakland County Courthouse Auditorium.

Called by the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, the meeting is scheduled to obtain relief from spiraling property taxes and to get immediate help for retired property taxpayers.

Petitions are being circulated to that effect, according to George Williams, president of the association.

Williams points out that four bills recently have been introduced in the State Legislature, three by local legislators, to circumvent the attorney general's recent opinion supporting the 15-mill limitation of the State Constitution.

He said the public is invited to the meeting.

Viet Escalation Defended, Curbs Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two former U.S. commanders in the Vietnam war say American escalation of the fighting was essential in preventing the fall of South Vietnam, but that White House restraints ruled out a traditional military victory.

In their 347-page "Report on the War in Vietnam," published today by the Pentagon, Gen. William C. Westmoreland and Adm. U. S. G. Sharp said their strategy in building up the American effort from 1964 until last year was generally successful and ended any chance of an enemy victory.

Westmoreland, who ran the U.S. war effort in Vietnam until he became Army chief of staff last June, said without the buildup of American troops in 1965 he doubts the South Vietnamese could have held out for more than six months.

But, he wrote, restrictions by the White House on military operations against Vietcong and North Vietnamese sanctuaries in neighboring Laos, Cambodia and North Vietnam "made it impossible to destroy the enemy's forces in a traditional or classic sense."

LED TO TALKS

Sharp, who as U.S. commander in the Pacific planned the air war against North Vietnam until his retirement last August, for his part, said the "profound effect" of American bombing of the North probably induced Hanoi to seek relief by agreeing to the negotiations now under way in Paris.

"The cumulative effects of air operations and the demands of the war in South Vietnam resulted in unprecedented stresses and strains on the North Vietnamese economy, production and distribution systems, the life of the people and the political control apparatus," Sharp wrote.

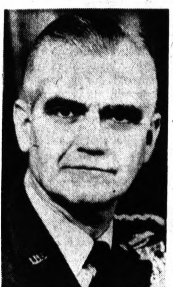

"Conditions may have been sufficiently serious to have induced North Vietnam to use the tactics of 'negotiation' to gain a period of relief in order to recast its more pressing problems, and to reinvigorate support of the war in South Vietnam."

Although calling the bombing "the most precise in history," Sharp implied the restraints would have been even more effective were it not for restrictions imposed by Washington for non-military reasons.

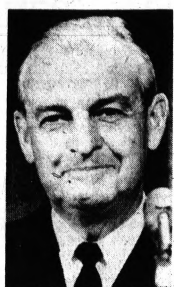

MILITARY INHIBITED

"From a military standpoint, both air and naval programs were inhibited by restrictions growing out of the limited nature of our conduct of the war," he said.

Sharp also stated that "additional operational latitude . . .

GENERAL WESTMORELAND

would have enabled the execution of campaigns against North Vietnam, which would have brought about a more rapid deterioration of the enemy's total war-supporting structure."

Sharp's report covers a period from 1964, when the air war against the North was launched, through June 30, 1968, after it had been curtailed.

The raids started as punitive measures, but were increased to cut North Vietnamese support of the enemy troops in the South and to prove U.S. staying power, the report said.

The admiral wrote that without the bombing, the U.S. military price of the war would have been much higher.

"The uninhibited flow of men, weapons and supplies through North Vietnam to confront our forces in South Vietnam could have had only one result for the United States and its allies — considerably heavier casualties at a smaller cost to the enemy," Sharp said.

Describing the bombing objective of "steadily increasing pressure," Sharp said North Vietnam was hurting in 1967 when Washington stopped approving new targets.

After the 1968 partial bombing halt, the admiral said, North Vietnam made extensive repairs on its roads, rails, bridges and other bomb-damaged facilities. Raids on the North were stopped last Nov. 1.

CENSORED VERSION

Westmoreland's account of the ground war from 1964 to 1968 is a censored version of a report he said former President Lyndon B. Johnson asked for last April.

He said allied forces were surprised by the 1968 Vietcong Tet offensive because "it did not occur to us that the enemy would undertake suicidal attacks in the face of our power."

While he had some mild criticism for the holiday mood which left South Vietnam off guard when the Tet offensive was launched, Westmoreland also saw the crisis as a possible turning point.

After Tet, the general said, the South Vietnamese government was "intact and stronger; the armed forces were larger, more effective and more confident; the people had rejected the idea of a general uprising; and enemy forces . . . were much weaker."

"As I left South Vietnam in June of 1968 I took with me the conviction that the enemy not only had failed to attain his objectives but that in each case they lay farther from his grasp than at any time since the dark days of 1965 when the United States intervened in strength," Westmoreland said.

The report does not go into the controversy surrounding Westmoreland's alleged recommendation in February 1968 for more than 200,000 additional troops.

Westmoreland said only he had asked for additional troops as fighting raged in February and early March of last year.

"However, by the end of March, the uncertainty surrounding the Tet offensive had abated," Westmoreland said, eliminating the need for major additional U.S. forces.

About 2,000 persons marched in Vancouver, B.C., and a Sunday parade through downtown Montreal drew 300 participants. About 150 protesters rallied in Ottawa to demand an end to Canadian "complicity" in the war.

A few persons demonstrated briefly Saturday against the draft, and the proposed anti-ballistic missile system, near President Nixon's Key Biscayne residence.

Antiwar Protests Attract Multitudes

By the Associated Press

Tens of thousands of persons joined Easter weekend protests against the Vietnam war.

More than 50,000 gathered in New York's Central Park Saturday in an orderly protest that set the tone for parades and rallies in other cities. The protests were organized by the National Action Coalition, made up of 12 antiwar groups.

The only violent incident came Sunday in San Francisco, where a peaceful parade of 10,000 to the Presidio army installation ended in a clash that injured 13 military policemen.

Seven MPs were treated for eye injuries after being sprayed with an unidentified liquid. Three others suffered chemical skin burns and three were cut by thrown bottles. Police held three demonstrators.

SERVICEMEN, TOO

The parade, which included some out-of-uniform servicemen, moved from the Civic Center to the Presidio without incident.

The clash began when several demonstrators tried to push into the base. MPs who resisted were being bombarded with stones and bottles.

Several West Coast military bases scheduled extra duty over the weekend during the hours of the demonstrations.

More than 10,000 persons marched through Chicago Saturday in a peaceful protest. Strong winds blew away their signs and there was scattered heckling.

About 3,500 people gathered in Los Angeles Sunday for an antiwar rally. A brief scuffle between two antiwar groups ended with 12 fist-fighters falling into the lake at Lafayette Park. Police booked five persons on charges of suspicion of disturbing the peace.

The massive New York rally followed a parade up Sixth Avenue by about 40,000 persons. Six persons were arrested in two incidents, and police and bystanders were splattered with yellow paint hurled from a skyscraper, apparently at paraders.

About 150 off-duty servicemen led the parade, organizers said. They wore white hats labeled "GIs for Peace." Some of them burned what appeared to be military identification papers during the park rally.

Many marchers, in New York and elsewhere, wore black armbands that said, "33,000," a figure indicated the toll of GIs killed in Vietnam, which passed the Korean War last week.

In Gainesville, Fla., about 200 persons marched to the federal building and built a small brick and mortar "humble memorial" there. It contained 33 bricks, one for each Alachua County man killed in Vietnam.

In West Palm Beach, Fla., about 50 persons marched through the downtown area with a 65-foot streamer made up of 124 pages of the Congressional Record, listing all Vietnam war fatalities. About 110 people marched in Miami.

A few persons demonstrated briefly Saturday against the draft, and the proposed anti-ballistic missile system, near President Nixon's Key Biscayne residence.

Gunman's Pity Is to No Avail; He's Arrested

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A man waved a pistol at Mrs. Mary Franklin while she worked in a hamburger stand Sunday.

"Give me all your money," the gunman demanded.

"I've just been robbed," lied Mrs. Franklin. "I don't have any money."

"Oh, you poor lady," the bandit replied.

He piled some bills from his pocket on the counter.

"Here, take some of my money," he said.

Mrs. Franklin refused. The man finally gave up, took his money and left.

Sheriff's deputies arrested a Houston truck driver outside the stand.

WINNING NUMBERS ON EVERY CARD

AT PURE

Win $1 to $1000 or up to $5000 cash

The odds are that over 25,000 people will win cash prizes each week. You could easily be one of them... and win a dollar, five, ten, twenty, one hundred, or one thousand dollars. There's a chance you could win up to $5,000! Play Beat the Dealer, and get complete prize information, at Pure Oil stations displaying a Beat the Dealer banner. Every card has winning numbers on it. Pick the correct three and you win. There's nothing to match and nothing to collect, so you can win on the spot. Only licensed drivers can play, and it's void where prohibited. Play Beat the Dealer at Pure stations displaying a Beat the Dealer sign. No purchase required. Or write P. O. Box 387, Columbus, Ohio, for free game materials.

Here's how to play.

It's easy. Rub off this area first, and underneath you'll find the cash prize you're playing for ($1, $5, $10, $20, $100, or $1000) and the dealer's hand. On this sample card, to win $10, you must beat 17.

Next, rub off any three of the 16 spots, and if the numbers you reveal total more than the dealer's hand, you win. On this sample card, if you had picked the three spots indicated, you'd Beat the Dealer with 18 points, and win $10.

The winning numbers are on every game card. You just pick them!

Jim: "Here is a letter from Manitowish, Wis. We are asked to show a very simple cross-ruff hand and discuss that play."
Oswald: "The cross-ruff as the name implies, consists of ruffing in both hands. This gives declarer a chance to make his dummy's trump-tricks separately."
Jim: "Here is a nice, easy one to watch. South is in four spades. He wins the first trick

Oswald: "If he follows the time-honored practice of drawing trumps, it will require three leads. That will leave him but one trump in dummy. He will be able to ruff a diamond with that but he will be left with two losing diamonds and two losing clubs."
Jim: "The cross-ruff will enable him to get out without the loss of any diamonds at all."
Oswald: "Let's look over the whole play. He wins the first club and cashes both red aces. Then he plays one round of trumps, making sure that the three-spot is played from his hand. After this he leads hearts and diamonds alternately, and ruffs back and forth."

Jim: "In some cross-ruff situations declarer has to worry about an unkind opponent overruffing. He does not with this hand because once he has played his three spot, the rest of his trumps and dummy's are high." Oswald: "He winds up with

Daily Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Monday, April 7, the 97th day of 1969 with 268 to follow.
The moon is approaching its last quarter.
The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.
The evening stars are Venus and Saturn.

On this day in history:
In 1927 the first successful test demonstration of long-distance television was made between Washington and New York City.
In 1961 American and British troops linked up in Tunisia during the North African campaign of World War II.

In 1947 millions of Americans were left without telephone service as a nationwide strike began. It lasted for 23 days.
In 1968 Federal troops were ordered into Baltimore to quell racial rioting.

Off-Duty Policeman Stops Street Brawl
NEW YORK (AP)—Transit patrolman John Maye, 36, was off-duty Saturday night and doing some Easter shopping when he heard shots and raced outside—into a street fight.
He took a seven-inch knife away from one man in the fight, during which five persons were wounded, and held off 75 persons with his revolver until help arrived.
Maye, who is president of the Transit Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, holds 12 previous commendations for valorous off-duty service.

Cong, N. Viet Activity Seen at Lowest Level Since Offensive Start

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese infantrymen slashed into two groups of U.S. troops Sunday night, killing 14 Americans and wounding 28 in close-quarter fighting. Only three enemy were known dead.

Fighting generally appeared to be at the lowest level since the enemy's spring offensive began six weeks ago. Eleven Americans were killed and 13 were wounded in one night, about 100 miles northeast of Saigon.

Mortars slammed into a night bivouac of American paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade, defending the southern approaches to the provincial capital of Bao Loc.

REACHED PERIMETER

As the mortars pined down the defenders, North Vietnamese infantrymen drove to the barbed wire perimeter of the camp, hurling hand grenades and firing machine guns and rifles.

The paratroopers fought back and called in helicopter reinforcements and troop reinforcements, who succeeded in driving off the attackers after a 2½-hour battle. North Vietnamese casualties were not known, spokesmen said.

The other engagement, also lasting 2½ hours, was in the Viet Cong's War Zone C stronghold in northern Tay Ninh province along the Cambodian border, where thousands of American air cavalrymen are pursuing troops of the North Vietnamese 1st and 7th Divisions.

Troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division sweeping 65 miles northwest of Saigon late Sunday came under withering small arms and machine-gun fire that killed three Americans and wounded 15. The enemy withdrew under heavy bombardment by warplanes and artillery, leaving only three bodies.

3 COPTERS DOWNED

Headquarters also announced three more American helicopters were shot down and destroyed during the weekend, raising the number of choppers lost in the war to 2,499. Only one crewman was wounded.

It was the only action reported in the 3rd Corps Area that includes Saigon. Military spokesmen reported a notable drop in enemy activity there and said the threat to Saigon posed by four North Vietnamese and Viet Cong divisions had eased.

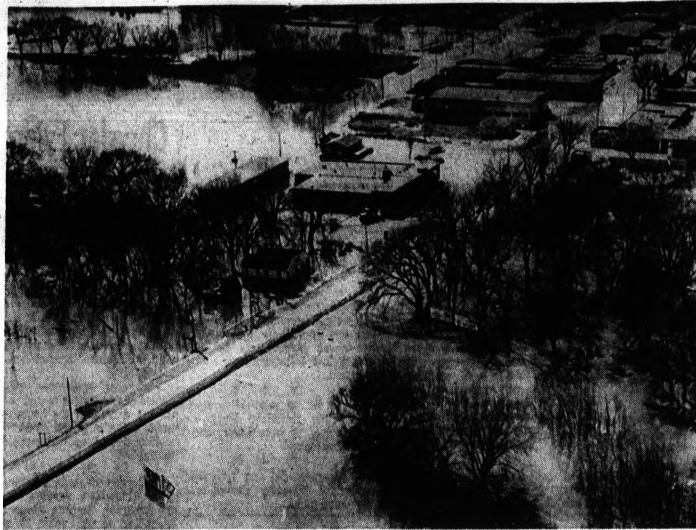

They said allied forces in the area killed more than 8,000 enemy soldiers in the past six weeks, took more than 1,000 prisoners and captured more than 2,000 weapons and 100 tons of rice.

"We do not see any large-scale activity throughout the 3rd Corps at this time," said a spokesman. "The enemy has been hurt by his rice supply. Most of the people are hungry. They are short of medical supplies. Malaria is a big problem. It causes them heavy casualties."

'ACTION TO PICKUP'

But analysts predicted the offensive would continue and enemy would pick up again with some battalion-sized assaults and continuation of rocket and mortar attacks. They said the most critical area is still the string of American bases stretching 20 to 70 miles north of Saigon.

With fighting around the capital at a low level, half the B52 strikes along the Saigon approach have been shifted to the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos.

TOWN IN IOWA INUNDED — The lower east side of Cherokee, Iowa, took the brunt of the flooding of the Little Sioux River over the weekend. Several businesses on one of the town's main streets were flooded, and 35 to 40 persons were evacuated from the south and east portions of the town.

Negro Churches Forsake Finery on 'Black Easter'

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The

Easter finery was missing from two Negro churches here Sunday as the pastors and worshipers wore work clothes and jeans to celebrate a "black Easter."

Participants said the services at the New Zion Missionary Baptist Church and the Humboldt Parkway Baptist Church were to commemorate the death a year ago of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

They said they would donate the money they would have spent on new clothing to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which King headed.

Reported crimes of violence increased by 16 per cent last year, with 7,600 persons shot to death and 4,400 who died from beatings and stabbings.

An Indian camp site estimated to be 200 or 300 years old has been discovered on the prairie south of Alberta, Canada. At least three buffalo rubbing stones are in the area.

Japanese Legislator Hits His Nation's China Policy

TOKYO (AP) — Last week

the Japanese government fired an ambassador who poked fun at Japan. Now it is confronted with a senior legislator who denounced his own party's government.

The dismissed ambassador is Ichiro Kawasaki, Japanese envoy to Argentina, who compared the Japanese to pygmies and Hotentots and said some sharp things about Japanese politicians.

The senior legislator, a leading member of Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's ruling Liberal Democratic party, is Yoshimi Furui. In Peking last Friday he signed a joint Japan-Communist China communiqué which said that all responsibility for present strained Tokyo-Peking relations rests with the Sato government.

The communiqué, which already has produced shock waves in political circles here, called the Japan-U.S. security treaty, which Sato's government supports and plans to continue past 1970, an aggressive military alliance directed against China and other Asian nations.

POLICY ASSAILED

It went a step further and assailed Sato's policy of trying to keep Japan's trade with mainland China separated from the question of recognition. Japan has diplomatic relations with Nationalist China, none with Peking.

The cabinet cashiered Kawasaki, a veteran head diplomat, on the ground he had damaged Japan's image abroad.

The situation is somewhat different for Furui. He went to Peking with Sato's unofficial blessing to negotiate a $70-million private trade agreement for 1969. The communiqué was Mao Tse-tung's humiliating price for the package, 30 per cent smaller than last year's.

The government's reaction to the communiqué was that it was not an official Japanese view; it welcomed the trade agreement.

But it is awaiting an explanation from Furui, due back this week.

The Liberal Democrats issued a statement saying present China policy will not be changed.

The Socialists insisted that the government implement the communiqué, promised to carry out a campaign to force it to do so.

One reaction awaited with some concern here is that of Nationalist China: the communiqué asserted that the people's republic "represents the people of China" and that Taiwan is "an inseparable part of China."

This is the closest anyone in the Liberal Democratic party has gone toward recognizing Peking. The Tokyo newspaper Yomiuri Shimbun today: "We foresee much controversy over this communiqué, and it will be a healthy thing if all segments of the nation now begin to look closely at the issues and alternatives for our future China policy."

A Look at TV

What Next for Smothers?

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Television's biggest drama—the CBS-Smothers Brothers confrontation—was played out over the weekend away from the living room screens. And the end may not have been written.

CBS-TV terminated its arrangements for the Smothers Brothers comedy hour for next season, charging breach of contract. Tommy Smothers insists there was no breach and that basis was his resistance to network censorship.

The program has on occasion been edited by network censors. Smothers has been a vocal critic of the practice, in print and on other TV shows. This led one highly-placed CBS executive to comment that "Tommy has been sticking his finger in the network eye and something had to be done."

At a news conference in Toronto Sunday night Tom indicated the brothers would not sue CBS although Dick had said in New York Saturday they would "litigate to save the artistic integrity of television."

CAN ONLY ACCEPT

"I cannot go to court," Tom said, "If I do, I will be tied up in litigation for two or three years," he said, "and only accept to talk to the other networks to try to get another contract."

"We have always met our obligations," he said, "We have been prepared to let the affiliates cut out anything they wanted—but CBS kept itself between the creative people and the affiliates."

The program, opposite NBC's front-running "Bonanza" has done pretty well in a time spot that was disastrous for a succession of earlier shows. It had respectable ratings although it could not be counted in the hit class. Therefore, it must be presumed that CBS was reluctant to take such drastic action. There are millions of dollars and many jobs involved.

The question now is whether there is still any chance things can be patched up. Opinion on this is split.

"The Ship That Wouldn't Die" on NBC Sunday night Tom indicated the brothers would not sue CBS although Dick had said in New York Saturday they would "litigate to save the artistic integrity of television."

CAN ONLY ACCEPT

"I cannot go to court," Tom said, "If I do, I will be tied up

The program was based on some extraordinary news shot during the period when the ship was going up in smoke and flames, with the able-bodied trying to contain the explosions by dumping ammunition overboard and helping the injured.

Show Banned by CBS

Innocuous—Tommy

NEW YORK (UPI) — A spokesman for Tom and Dick Smothers said today that the brothers still regard their contract with the Columbia Broadcasting system as valid despite cancellation of their weekly program by the network.

Dennis Shanahan, press agent for the brothers, told UPI the entertainers would make their position in the broadcast field absolutely clear today at a news conference scheduled for 11 a.m.

"Tommy and Dick are just going to make things clear as to where they stand with CBS. As far as they are concerned their contract with CBS is still valid," said Shanahan.

Asked about speculation that the Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour which CBS cancelled last week might join another network, particularly NBC as part of a one-two—"Laugh-In" and "Smothers Brothers" punch, Shanahan said, "We're not doing anything that would violate our contract with CBS. We signed March 14, for 26 weeks for shows on their network."

UNEDITED VERSION

While Dick Smothers has been in New York for the past few days, Shanahan and Tommy Smothers in Los Angeles, Los Angeles to Toronto yesterday to view an uncut, unedited version of their show, which CBS had banned from U.S. screens.

Tommy Smothers said that the reaction of Canadian viewers had been good, that nothing was objectionable contrary to CBS' opinion that comedian David Steinberg's "Sermonette" routine was in poor taste.

Watching his program from the Toronto Hotel suite, Smothers said he could not understand "what on earth is offensive," about a skit by Steinberg based on an imaginary conversation between Solomon and Jonah.

Earlier, Canadian Television (CTV) President Murray Leonard, whose stations carried the uncut show, said, "I have an irrevocable contract for this year and next for the Smothers show and options for any future ones."

Cherover added that no matter what the CBS-Smothers entanglements may be, CTV is prepared to "film the entire show right here in Toronto."

Boxer Named Suzie No. 1 at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—A 2½-year-old boxer, known affectionately as Suzie, was judged Best-in-Show Sunday at the 29th International Kennel Club Dog Show which attracted a near record of 3,405 dogs.

The crowd of 41,000 at the International Amphitheatre for the two-day event established a record.

The boxer, shown by veteran handler Jane Forsyth, is named as Ch. Arriba's Prima Donna. This was her seventh best-in-show and her 10th group award since taking her first championship title more than a year ago.

Suzie is owned jointly by Dr. and Mrs. P.J. Pagano and Dr. Theodore S. Fickes of Pelham Manor, N.Y.

Would-Be Rescue Ends in Tragedy

HUTCHINSON, Minn. (AP) — John Fenske, 60, drowned Sunday in the flood-swollen Crow River when he attempted to rescue his dog from a chunk of ice, the McLeod County sheriff's office said.

The sheriff's office said that when Fenske ventured onto the ice to rescue the animal, he fell into the swift current.

McDivitt Fete Set in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Astronaut James A. McDivitt Jr., who was raised in Jackson and attended the University of Michigan before embarking on two space flights, will be feted April 19 in a banquet at Detroit's Cobo Hall.

The 39-year-old Air Force colonel will be the main speaker at the banquet sponsored by the Michigan Aeronautics and Space Association and the Michigan Aircraft Pilots Association. McDivitt will discuss his historic 10-day Apollo 9 mission and the risks taken 150 miles above earth.

McDivitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McDivitt of Jackson, also plans to visit the University of Michigan April 18. He may visit Lansing and Jackson after the Detroit appearance.

The Apollo 9 crewmen spent 10 days in space, returning to earth March 13. McDivitt and Russell L. Schweickart made a test flight of the lunar module, the space taxi scheduled to take Americans to a moon landing in July.

McDivitt was commander of Gemini 4, a four-day mission launched June 4, 1965, in which astronaut Edward White made America's first space walk.

Sammy, Worn Out by Work for Many Causes, in Hospital

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK — We hope that when you read this, Sammy Davis is quite fine and fit, but the guy really works too hard for too many causes — no stopping the burn — and he's been hospitalized in Mount Sinai.

Severe pains, a 103 temperature and an infection sent him there, and doctors continued tests to pinpoint the trouble. His mother Elvira, leaving the hospital after he was back to normal, said, simply, "He needs a rest."

"Opening night at the Copacabana last week, I cried," she said. "He gave and gave and gave. I know how tired he was. He's always so careful about how his clothes fit. I knew he'd lost weight — his pants were loose."

Sammy, who's famous for doing benefits, is scheduled to go to Israel to do three big benefits for veterans of the Arab War. Friends urge him to take a long vacation before undertaking so rigorous.

Strong men like Orson Bean wept at the "Sweet Charity" and some gals lost three sets of eyelashes. . . Bob Hope's brother George underwent serious surgery for six hours. . . the cutback activities of a couple of magazines have publishers now talking about what's next.

Shelley Winters, who had vowed to break up her apartment, housewrecking it because her landlord wouldn't pay for his repairs, is so beautiful, I decided out of respect to the unknown workman, not to smash it but preserve it." (Bravo)

The Beach Boys' $2 million suit vs. Capitol Records illustrates the size of the discery business today: They ask $625,018 royalties, and Brian D. Wilson of the group says he produced his record and demands a special producer's fee of $1,118,827.

Is David Merrick not a demilitarized zone? His big Chrysler's license plate reads "DMZ."

THE MIDNIGHT EERIE
Siegfried Sessler, good friend of Americans in the International Set, died in London, he operated famous Siegl's club in Berkeley, Calif., and Liza Minnelli makes one of her first benefit performances at the Fight for Sight show at Philharmonic May 4. . . and Peggy Lee's chairman of the Tree of Life Foundation ball for the Salk Foundation Institute at the Waldorf.

MGM asked Robert Mitchum (filming David Lean's roadshow picture in Ireland) if he had any word for his fans. He said, "Yeah — tell 'em I'm alive and . . . Sugar Ray Robinson up for a post war White House physical fitness program.

The astrology fad's spreading — two new night spots are titled Virgo and Aquarius. . . Fighter Marcel Cerdan Jr. introduced his bride, pretty Michelle Turquois.

Don Rowan and Dick Martin'll make more from their first film, "The Maltese Bippy," than they've earned from three years of "Laugh-In." . . Beate John Lennon and his bride Yoko Ono have invitations to lecture at European colleges (dressed or undressed, as they prefer).

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A young man told Pic Larmour his girl had worn a miniskirt out in the rain, "and it shrank something wonderful."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Ray Fine of the H'wood Beachcombers described Phyllis Diller: "A gal with a winning smile — and a losing face."

REMEMBER QUOTE: "A food sermon is one that goes right over your head and hits your neighbor." (Publishers-Hall Syndicate) to work out a settlement guaranteeing the International Petroleum Co. (IPC) full compensation of $69.5 million for the refinery.

Irwin told Nixon yesterday in Key Biscayne, Fla., that he had made little headway in his negotiations with the government of Peruvian President Juan Velasco Alvarado and then flew back to Lima for a meeting today with Peruvian officials.

He was instructed to advise them that the White House is obliged by law to halt foreign aid and impose economic sanctions against any nation which seizes American-owned property and refuses to pay for it within six months. That deadline will expire Wednesday.

COST OF DECISION

The Velasco regime's refusal to pay for the refinery will cost Peru about $10 million in direct U.S. loans and an estimated $20 million in sugar sales to the United States during the remainder of the year.

Peru was also expected to lose a good portion of the $17 million in loans from international agencies in which the United States has a tacit veto power. Economists predicted Peru probably

Clouds Moving In; Low in 30s Seen

Sunshine and blue skies put everyone in a springy mood today. Temperatures will remain mild as clouds move in tonight with an expected low in the 35-to-40-degree range.

The increasing cloudiness will bring with it the possibility of rain tomorrow afternoon or evening.

Continued mild temperatures will favor the area Wednesday with a chance of showers and thunderstorms.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau's five-day forecast, temperatures will average five degrees above normal highs of 50 to 55 through Wednesday.

Chances of precipitation in per cent are today and tonight 5 and tomorrow 20. Low mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 9 a.m. was 36. By 1 p.m. it registered 60.

25 Missing in Ship Fire

NEW ORLEANS (U) — A head-on collision between a Formosan freighter and an oil barge set both ablaze, sent sheets of flame soaring into a heavily traveled bridge and covered a section of the Mississippi river with burning petroleum last night.

The Coast Guard said 25 of the 51 members of crew of the freighter, the 7,301-ton Union Faith, were unaccounted for. Twenty-five were taken to hospitals.

The fire-swept ship sank about six hours after the collision while being towed away for beaching.

The oil barge broke in two and the two fiercely burning sections floated downstream pursued by fire tugs. One section finally sank and the other ran aground.

The barge, carrying 9,000 barrels of crude oil, was being pushed by the tug Warren Doucet.

Firemen hoosed down wharves and ships in the area to prevent the spread of the blaze.

"It looked like the river was on fire," said Elysse Landry, a crewman on a dredger working near the scene.

"Now I know what it would be like riding through hell," said Mrs. Arnold Regouffe, who was in a car with her husband when the flames swept up from the river 175 feet below.

HEADING UPSTREAM

The Union Faith, carrying a cargo of salt, cotton cloth, toys, handbags, household goods and footwear, was headed upstream.

The oil barge was one of three being pushed downstream by the tug.

The collision occurred almost directly under the Greater New Orleans Mississippi River bridge.

"I happened to look," said Landry, "and I said, 'Look, the ship is going to run into those barges. Then they collided, followed by an explosion."

"The whole front end of the ship blew up into fire and smoke and you could hardly see the ship. The pilot house was burning in three or four minutes."

'TREMENDOUS COLLISION'

A radio operator on the freighter, Yu Fang Fan, 35, said he felt a "tremendous collision" and "I looked outside to see what happened, but there was fire and smoke all around."

Harbor officials feared that wharves

and other ships along the wharves would be ignited by the oil-fed fires, but fire fighters kept the sides of threatened vessels sprayed with foam and water and none caught fire.

The tug McGraph II was the first vessel to reach the burning Union Faith. Piloted by Capt. Chris A. Rieder, 25, the tug rescued 15 to 20 of the ship's crewmen.

'CREW ASLEEP'

"We first got them to jump in the water and to slide down ropes that were hanging from the ship's stern hatch," Rieder said.

"It seems most of the crew was asleep when the collision occurred."

The 25 crewmen in hospitals were reported suffering primarily from minor burns and smoke inhalation.

Saigon Offers Cong Amnesty

PARIS (UPI) — The Saigon government today offered the Vietcong a plan of national reconciliation which would permit it to take part in the political affairs of South Vietnam as an opposition political party and not as a Communist force.

Whether the Vietcong would accept was in doubt. Vice President Nguyen Cao

Ky said the Communists are not ready for serious Vietnam peace talks because they are still "counting on the impotence of the American public for an advantageous settlement."

London diplomatic sources in close contact with Hanoi and the Vietcong reported a hardening of the Cong line. They said the Cong has no intention of negotiating in earnest until it has won, or is given, seats in the Saigon government.

The reconciliation offer was made in Saigon by President Nguyen Van Thieu, who offered the Cong amnesty and a place on the ballot if they quit fighting and change their name. The South Vietnam constitution specifically prohibits any Communist political activities.

The Thieu offer — echoed by his top negotiator in Paris — followed his earlier offer of direct political talks with the Vietcong in Paris. The Cong scoffed at the offer but never formally rejected it.

McGovern said the proposal — to deploy nuclear-tipped missiles to protect the nation's offensive missile system — has support from "not more than 30 or 35" senators at the moment.

He said "as many as 45 senators are now opposed to the system" and another 15 or 20 are undecided. When they make up their minds, he said, "we will win by a narrow margin and will stop the deployment of this system."

A poll of the Senate made by UPI on March 8 indicated there were 46 senators who planned to vote against the ABM. Nixon's new proposal was announced on March 14.

McGovern said one person who switched from the opposition was Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., but "I haven't discovered or heard of any other senator who has switched his position."

Meanwhile, two scientists — Drs. George W. Rathjens of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Ralph E. Lapp, an atomic scientist — predicted it would be cheaper for the U.S. to spend money on more ballistic missiles rather than on the "Safeguard" system.

He said "as many as 45 senators are now opposed to the system" and another 15 or 20 are undecided. When they make up their minds, he said, "we will win by a narrow margin and will stop the deployment of this system."

Merchant Backs Stadium

Selection of a Pontiac site for a domed stadium would serve to attract considerably more nonmetropolitan Detroit-area residents to Tiger and Lion games, says Joseph Durant, a downtown Pontiac businessman.

Durant, proprietor of KDTV, a radio and television sales and services operation at 508 S. Saginaw, added that a local stadium at I-75 and M59 definitely would benefit nonarea residents since they would not have to travel all the way into Detroit.

He noted that the stadium would be a can't-miss vehicle as a means of reviving downtown Pontiac business activity and would serve as a center of activity and economic asset for the entire Northern Oakland/County area as well.

McGovern Sees Defeat of ABM To Replace Mechanical One Man to Get Heart

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon's proposed "Safeguard" anti-ballistic missile (ABM) system will be scuttled by a "narrow margin" when it comes up for a vote in the Senate, according to Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D.

McGovern said the proposal — to deploy nuclear-tipped missiles to protect the nation's offensive missile system — has support from "not more than 30 or 35" senators at the moment.

He said "as many as 45 senators are now opposed to the system" and another 15 or 20 are undecided. When they make up their minds, he said, "we will win by a narrow margin and will stop the deployment of this system."

From Our News Wires

HOUSTON (UPI) — Dr. Denton A. Cooley today began another medical "first" by replacing an unprecedented man-made heart in an Illinois man with a "God-given" heart from the body of a 40-year-old Lawrence, Mass., widow.

The surgeon, who only last Friday stunned the medical world by implanting a synthetic heart into 47-year-old Haskell

Karp of Skokie, Ill., started replacing it with a human heart about 7 a.m. CST in an operation at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital.

The human donor, flown to Houston aboard a private plane, died at St. Luke's less than 90 minutes after she was rushed to the hospital still in "very, very critical" condition from what the doctors called "irreversible" brain damage.

Lawrence General Hospital identified the donor as Barbara Ewan.

Mrs. Ewan was transferred to Houston at the request of one of her three daughters, Carol Burns of Lawrence, who accompanied her mother to Houston.

Mrs. Burns asked that her mother be transferred in response to a plea last Saturday by Karp's wife for a "God-given" heart to replace the man-made one.

A St. Luke's spokesman said the donor's brain damage was not caused by injury, but was the outgrowth of a medical problem. They were not sure of the exact cause of the ailment.

Dr. Cooley, veteran of 19 human transplant operations, had said Friday night he was not sure how long the mechanical heart would work without replacement, but indicated it might last at least two weeks or more.

'SACRIFICE' OFFERED

That stepped up the tempo of the search for a human donor and also prompted Mrs. Karp's plea.

The hospital received some 20 or 30 calls from would-be donors over the weekend. Each of the callers wanted to "sacrifice themselves," a spokesman said.

"We explained to them there is no way in the world we could accept," the spokesman said.

Hussein to Ask Nixon's Help on Big 4 Talks

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — King Hussein, who has steered Jordan through 16 years of war and peril, flew to Washington today to ask President Nixon to do all he can to smooth the course of the Big Four talks on the Middle East.

Hussein pins his hopes for peace on the talks that the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France opened in New York last week. The young monarch feels that continuing tension in his area can only serve Soviet purposes.

One of the most flexible and pro-Western of Arab leaders, Hussein rules an embattled land torn of its richest province and overcrowded with embittered refugees.

Because of the refugees, Jordan has become the main base for thousands of Palestinian guerrillas who wage hit-and-run war against neighboring Israel. This has made the country the target for repeated retaliatory raids. Its towns have been bombed and farms in the Jordan Valley devastated.

AVERTS SHOWDOWN

The plucky, 34-year-old king has weathered plots and assassination attempts and has narrowly averted a showdown with the Arab guerrillas. But a showdown may still be inevitable.

The king would like to see the Big Four talks work out some procedure for indirect but meaningful negotiations with Israel through the United Nations, diplomatic sources report.

He believes the United States could do more to persuade Israel to take a conciliatory line, and he will warn Nixon that time may be running out both for peace prospects and for himself.

Hussein has said repeatedly he seeks peace with Israel provided it is based on justice. But his position is too precarious for him to make a unilateral settlement, and for the same reason the concessions he can make are limited.

REJECT SOLUTION

The guerrillas reject any solution that provides for the continued existence of Israel. They have no illusions about Hussein's desire for peace. But the king continues to rule probably because no one else—including the guerrillas — wants to take over Jordan's problems.

THEIR TIME RAN OUT — Pennsylvania Turnpike employee Victor Basehart holds an egg timer found in the wreckage of Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Keenan's car. The Keenans were killed in a shooting spree on the turnpike Saturday. Their 13-year-old son, Paul, was cut by shattered glass.

4 Dead, 17 Wounded in Spree

Killer 'Victim of Race Bias'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Relatives say Donald Martin Lambright, who staged a highway shooting spree in which four died and 17 were wounded, felt he was a victim of racial discrimination.

An uncle said Lambright, 31-year-old son of the Negro movie actor Stepin Fetchit, had been diagnosed by a psychiatrist a year ago as suffering from violent or suicidal tendencies, but had refused treatment.

"The whole black-white confrontation affected him very much," said the uncle,

Howard Johnson, a sociologist in the New York City anti-poverty program.

In Cleveland, Lambright's mother, Mrs. Winifred Lee, declared her son was "a victim of the racism that is abroad in this land."

"He found it impossible to reconcile himself to the fact that he could not reach employment commensurate to his abilities," she said. He had recently worked for the Ohio State Employment office but quit to return to school at Lincoln University in Oxford, Pa.

During his hourlong rampage on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Saturday Lambright killed Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Keenan of Philadelphia, his wife and himself.

Two of the wounded were in a Harrisburg hospital, which listed Vincent Salita, 35, of Framingham, N.Y., as critical and Ernest Stevens, 47, of Elkhart, Ind., as serious. Both were shot in the face.

Lambright was driving west on the turnpike about 10 a.m. Saturday when he began shooting.

His 31-year-old wife, Annette, was seated beside him. Also in the car were an M1 30-caliber semiautomatic rifle, a 30-caliber Marlin carbine, and several boxes of live ammunition which Mrs. Lambright had bought nine days earlier in St. Louis.

Lambright drove leisurely along the heavily traveled superhighway with a rifle cradled in his arms, taking random shots at passing cars.

One of the shots struck and killed Keenan, who was taking him family to visit a son at Pennsylvania State University. When Keenan collapsed, his wife, Ruby, reached for the steering wheel and was killed by a second bullet.

Lambright pulled over to the roadside occasionally to fire at oncoming cars. About one mile east of Harrisburg, he had his final stop. He shot his wife to death, then took his own life.

Four Vice Raids Net 42 City Arrests

The Pontiac police vice squad had a busy weekend, arresting 42 persons in gambling and liquor raids at four houses.

One person was arrested Saturday night for allegedly maintaining and operating illegal dice and cards games at 90 Bagley.

Two were charged with aiding and abetting and thirty-four persons were charged with loitering there.

Nigeria Poised to Seize Last Big Rebel Town

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Biafrans are fleeing Umuahia to escape a federal offensive aimed at the secessionist headquarters and last major town, the Nigerian command said today.

A high military spokesman said the information came from Col. Mohamed Shuwa, commander of the 1st Division that the Nigerians claim has overrun Ozu Okoli, a railway town eight miles north of Umuahia.

Before the outbreak of the civil war 21 months ago Umuahia had a population of about 29,000, but this has been swelled by thousands of refugees from Biafran areas seized by federal soldiers.

Lt. Col. Abdul Wya, the Nigerian field commander, said the Biafrans were preparing to abandon Umuahia and were setting up a new headquarters at Nkwere, 30 miles away.

The Nigerians have prevented newsmen and international observers from entering the fighting area north of Umuahia.

The Nigerian spokesman said the federal troops would be careful about opening an escape route for refugees from Umuahia for fear the Biafrans would infiltrate troops disguised as civilians behind their lines.

Charged with operating what is called the Big Six Gambling Club was John Taylor, 67, of 40 Harris, Julius Mayo Sr., 56, of 196 Luther and Herman L. Cross, 39, of 60 Clovee were charged with aiding and abetting.

Thirty-four persons were arrested for loitering in an illegal gambling place, police said. They described the operation as "Pretty good size."

'BEER, LIQUOR CONFISCATED'

Police confiscated beer and liquor from an alleged blind pig at 590 E. South Blvd. early Saturday morning. No arrests were made. Police entered the house on a search warrant for illegal liquor sale and gambling.

Four persons were arrested in a raid early Saturday at 151 Bagley, police said.

Charged with maintaining and operating an illegal liquor establishment was Dewey Jones, 64, of 151 Bagley. Nora Ann Jones, 21, same address, was charged with illegal sale of liquor.

Sharon Higgins, 21, and Dorothy Nell Brown, 20, same address, were charged with loitering there.

Leroy Pumphrey, 63, of 117 Bagley was arrested for illegal sale of an alcoholic beverage at his residence.

The arrested persons were to be arraigned in District Court today. Each was released on $25 bond for loitering and $100 bond for the other offenses.

Congress to Get Proposal for Teachers' Labor Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — School boards could be forced to engage in collective bargaining and teachers would be allowed to strike in some cases under a bill proposed today by the National Education Association.

An NEA spokesman said the bill, to be introduced soon in Congress, would legalize teacher strikes only under restricted circumstances. Court injunctions still could be issued in cases where such walkouts pose a danger to public health or safety.

The bill would require a school board to bargain with any organization representing the majority of professional employees in a school system.

A teacher organization applying to a school board for recognition as an exclusive bargaining agent could be challenged by a competing group. But the challenging organization would have to present a certified membership list including at least 30 per cent of the professional employees in the negotiating unit.

SECRET ELECTION

Where there is a question of the teachers' preference, a secret ballot election would be held to decide which organization represents them. Instructors in elementary, secondary and higher education are covered by the proposal. Administrators would be excluded.

The bill would ban school board reprisals against teachers for striking. Provisions for mediation and arbitration are included.

The NEA bill provides a legal teachers' strike could occur in absence of an agreement.

Philadelphia Firm Promotes Local Exec

BIRMINGHAM — R. C. Oglesby of 947 Westwood has been promoted to automotive marketing manager with the Rohm and Haas Co., Philadelphia.

He will be responsible for coordinating sales activities in the automotive industry for the various Rohm and Haas sales departments.

Oglesby has been serving as sales manager in the Detroit territory for the plastics department of Rohm and Haas since 1965. In 1965 he was given the added duties of automotive marketing coordinator.

William B. Hulbert has filed a letter of resignation from the Birmingham Traffic and Safety Board with the City Commission.

Hulbert of 156 Linden said business pressures requiring increasing out-of-town travel necessitated the resignation.

The Christian Businessmen's Committee of Birmingham, Royal Oak and Detroit will sponsor a drug seminar Friday, at 6:30 p.m. at Covenant Baptist Church, Detroit.

Guest speaker Dr. A. E. Wilder Smith will talk about drugs available today and their potential abuses.

Dr. Wilder is professor of pharmacology at the University of Illinois Medical Center in Chicago.

Robert Van Deven, 1576 Melton, Birmingham; Joseph M. Stout, 7119 Lindenmere, Bloomfield Township; and Richard L. Glissman, 4725 Quorton, Bloomfield Township, have been named associates with O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Inc., Birmingham architectural and engineering firm.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Robert Quarters of 6391 Wing Lake, chairman of the Oakland County Heart Information Center, has been elected a delegate by the Oakland County Heart Unit to the Michigan Heart Association's Annual Assembly scheduled for Thursday and Friday at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

Dr. Paul D. White, the famed cardiologist, will speak to the assembly at the Fisher Theatre Friday afternoon.

It Seems to Me . . .

Longtime MSU President Put School in Top Ranks

Michigan—and the Nation—lose one of the greatest figures in current collegiate history to the Federal government. JOHN A. HANNAH completes more than a quarter of a century of brilliant and inspiring work as the leader of Michigan State University.

HANNAH

President HANNAH took the reins when Michigan State was struggling to assert herself with an enrollment of 6,000 students. This perceptive genius carried the East Lansing institution squarely into the upper echelon of U.S. educational circles. As he steps aside, the number of students is just 51 shy of the 40,000 mark. M.S.U. is one of the great universities in the world—academically and in sheer size.

Happily, for the institution and all concerned, John A. Hannah was primarily an astute, shrewd and far-seeing business executive with a penetrating mind that exhausted every constructive angle. Surely he was an academician, but that side of his development was far overshadowed by his economic and administrative abilities.

When he assumed the top role, the campus had a value of $15 million and today it stands at an awe-inspiring and almost unbelievable total of $330 million. Further, more than half of this growth has been self liquidating and the taxpayers escaped these gigantic sums. This was Hannah-planned.

JOHN HANNAH is an exceptionally personable individual who possesses a genial, outgoing manner that wins quick acceptance everywhere. Repeatedly he makes new friends unobtrusively and even unknowingly as people "go for him" instinctively and accept his beliefs and analyses.

No less than five presidents of the United States have called upon him at various times in emergencies for aid and assistance. His personal record of individual honors and national recognition is almost unbelievable and the entire State of Michigan is exceptionally proud of this great, genuine but still very modest man as he journeys to the District of Columbia at the behest of President Nixon.

Territorial Waters . . .

Michigan's own Senator, ROBERT P. GRIFFIN, has introduced a resolution to extend America's territorial waters from 3 to 12 miles in the case of all nations which tell the U.S. to observe the longer limit.

Some two dozen senators leaped behind the measure instantly. In a prepared statement, Griffin said: "It makes no sense to allow Communist ships within three miles of our shores when we have to observe a 12-mile limit claimed by the Communist block countries."

Russia, North Korea and others who arise above the pack should find us playing the same rules. Those with a three-mile limit will see the U.S. in accord. Further, the Michigan Senator wants an international conference that would impose uniform limits for all countries everywhere. In the meantime, he believes we should protect ourselves against the onerous gangs. Only 29 out of 98 countries with coastlines impose the three-mile limit now.

Senator Griffin is on very sound ground (or water).

No Obligation . . .

You don't have to accept, pay for or send back unordered merchandise.

The Federal Trade Commission says complaints are steadily increasing. You're under no obligation. It would probably be unwise to use the pesky stuff. I know one man who waited for the third demand for the $2.75 when he dropped the stupid firm a little note and told them the rental charges in his home now amounted to $4.85 and upon receipt of their check, he'd mail the junk back.

You can notify the post office, the Better Business Bureau or the Office of Information, Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C.

You're under no obligations at all.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

On night calls, New York doctors do not drive cars with MD plates. Too many have been held up by drug addicts who crave dope. . . . GARY MOORE's long absence from TV will be ended next fall when he takes over the host job on "To Tell the Truth." This has already run 12 years. . . . Overheard: "GROUCHO MARX says TV is very educational as every time someone turns on the set he goes into the next room to read a book." . . . Why do the women who shouldn't wear the shortest miniskirts insist on doing so?

Purely personal nomination as one of the great gals of this hemisphere: Agatha Christie, who's so shy she's rarely seen in public places and rarely gives out interviews and yet stands as the greatest mystery story writer of all time. . . . Did you know jogging is having a great revival? Men of all ages, descriptions and some gals are really serious about it these days. . . . A new play, "1776" is the greatest hit in New York at the moment and there isn't a dirty word or scene in it anywhere. . . . Earl Warren says his "court is over-worked and doesn't get enough money." The Justices barely have time for their four-month vacation.

A great Big Round of Hearty Applause for BOB CRITCHFIELD who's one of the best tempered, happiest and most jovial retired men in the area. . . . Overheard: "Any doctor can make a heart transplant, but mine's a lot better than that. He makes house calls." . . . The Red Wings had one of the weakest hockey teams and yet possessed the best line in the business: HOWE, MAHOVLICH and DELVECCHIO. . . . Smart boys in the baseball business say Baltimore ought to win

David Lawrence Says:

Labor Conference Significant

WASHINGTON—Maybe something constructive will result from the unprecedented "conference at White Sulphur Springs, Va., on April 14, which has been called by the AFL-CIO.

LAWRENCE

Invitations to participate were accepted by the Secretary of Labor, the director of the budget, the chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and the White House counselor on economic projects.

Frank interchanges are possible because these meetings are not open to the press. Afterwards, excerpts or briefings are furnished to the newsmen by the participants at the three-day conference.

What is the underlying purpose of the new meeting so far as labor is concerned? ECONOMIC ISSUES

One labor leader says they hope to persuade the administration not to use "unemployment as a weapon against inflation."

There are many economic issues at stake. Labor is deeply concerned over what the trend of administrative policies on economic matters will be.

There is an even greater significance to the conference than merely to get an explanation of governmental attitudes or future recommendations. Labor hopes to present its viewpoint, just as business does at similar meetings.

The AFL-CIO, the parent labor organization, has practically no authority over what the trend of governmental policies on economic matters will be.

LITTLE OPPORTUNITY Up to now, while the AFL-CIO has maintained an economic staff, the government has had little opportunity to reach the leadership of the labor unions—often motivated by internal politics—and tell them what is meant by "voluntary restraint."

Thus, labor would indeed be getting higher wage payments for its members if prosperity were sustained on a sound economic basis.

An exchange of ideas at a meeting such as has been brought about by the AFL-CIO could be fruitful.

Maybe some day there will be still another type of conference—also without reporters present— as businessmen and labor leaders exchange views and begin to recognize the realities of a system of free enterprise.

Bob Considine Says:

Another Side of DeGaulle —the Heartbroken Father

WASHINGTON—The dominant figure was not at Abilene for the finishing touches of the three-day requirement for Dwight David Eisenhower. The dominant one, Charles Andre Marie Joseph de Gaulle, 78, had flown home from Washington on the night of the state funeral. He had gone back to work, back to his tireless crusade to make France more powerful, more secure, more of a third force.

CONSIDINE

Washington on the night of the state funeral. He had gone back to work, back to his tireless crusade to make France more powerful, more secure, more of a third force.

It was difficult not to stare at De Gaulle at the Washington ceremonies. He appeared in his brigadier general's uniform at the cathedral services, a plain tan outfit with navy a medal or ribbon showing.

The man is unique. Fortunately, just at this time a book has been published that gives us a view of him that pierces the stiff exterior and reveals the man in all his aspects, including his roles of heartbroken father of a retarded child and doting old grandfather.

The book is Pierre Galante's "The General", published by Random House.

STARTS WITH DEATH

I would defy any reader who watched De Gaulle on television recently from Washington to put down "The General" after reading its first passage.

It deals at the beginning with death.

De Gaulle has chosen to be buried in the churchyard of his retreat and untimely exile, Colombey-les-Deux-Eglises, in a grave next to his beloved and tragic daughter Anne. Galante writes:

"He would walk arm in arm with her through an English village (editor's note: during his sojourn in Britain before D-Day), coloring at people's stares and bristling at their sympathy; at home he would pretend to play the trumpet for her or spend hours on childish nothings."

NO FAMILY PICTURES

"But when Churchill put up 500-ponds sterling for a publicist to project this unknown Frenchman to the indifferent

British, De Gaulle would not allow any pictures to be used of himself with his children, for if the world could not see his poor Anne, neither would it see his charming Elisabeth, then an undergraduate at Oxford University, or his handsome Philippe, a naval cadet

"It was in memory of Anne that De Gaulle decided to mortgage his Colombey home, La Boisserie. It was also in order to keep the Anne De Gaulle Foundation for Retarded Children going that he also decided to publish his memoirs he had started writing only for posterity to read . . .

"Of all the fine speeches that De Gaulle has ever made to uplift his nation or to belittle his adversaries, the best touching words he ever spoke were in one short line that Anne inspired.

"It was in 1948, the day they buried her, and Charles de Gaulle, black and tall and craggy and with that deceptive look of being cold of all emotion, took Yvonne's hand at the graveside and said, 'Don't weep for Anne, my dear, now she is like any other child.'"

Dem Woes

Atlanta Journal

Hubert Humphrey wants the Democratic party to regain the South. He wants the Democratic party in the South to have it off the barrel and get to work. He wants the party in Georgia to forget the infighting and open its doors to those citizens without a political home.

During his journey to Atlanta, Mr. Humphrey talked with a small group of middle-ground Democrats, most of them urban men. The makeup of the group probably was prophetic, whether or not the Democrats are ready to realize it.

The hope of the party is in the cities, and Georgia is fast becoming a state of cities. Mr. Humphrey suggested to the Democrats that they 'Express Appreciation for Mall Garden Show'

Accept our sincere appreciation for The Pontiac Press' efforts in initiating and jointly producing the 1969 Lawn, Garden and Flower Show at The Pontiac Mall.

The work and endeavors of Mrs. Jody Headlee, Lawn and Garden Editor of your paper, have been outstanding. Not only did she sell the landscape people and florists on participating in the show, handle the news coverage admirably, manage pictures, plan and engage speakers for the demonstration program, but she spent continuous hours at the show to oversee its many areas and that all functioned properly. We cannot commend her efforts too highly.

We also appreciate the work of the display department, Mr. Salvatore and Mr. Sanford, for their continuous moral support and work in producing a good section in the paper to back up the show.

Discusses Income From License Plate Sales

Secretary of State James Hare wonders why there is less money coming in this year than in 1968. While plates for cars were 40 per cent up, the big companies get a big discount. In 1968 they paid from $300 to $400 per plate for their highway trailers. This year the fee is only $18.

Comments on Newspaper's Attack on Huber

An article in last week's Press tells how an erroneous paper struck out at Senator Huber, one of the few legislators doing his homework and doing what the people want. The paper is probably a revolutionary publication like WSU's "South End" and dedicated to the overthrow of this Country. All these publications are trash and try to aid in the demoralization of our beloved country.

'Ashamed of Ragged Appearance of Flag'

I am proud of the American Flag and what it symbolizes, but when I see it at The Pontiac Mall I must admit I am ashamed of its appearance. It is ragged and torn around its edges, and looks as if it has been used as a dishrag. Why is it we can spend millions to beautify America but can't afford to buy a new flag? Or is it that we don't take time to look at it?

REPLY

Information from the Health, Education and Welfare Department in Washington indicates several amendments major to the Public Health Service Act were enacted in 1956: National Health Survey Act, Alaska Mental Health Enabling Act, Health Research Facilities Act of 1956, National Library of Medicine Act, Health Amendments Act of 1956. If the one you're thinking of is not among them, we would need more specific information to help you further.

Question and Answer

Would you settle an argument I had with another member of our church? I saw Madelyn Murray O'Haire (the atheist who helped ban prayer from schools) on TV and am sure she said she's an attorney. The other member said she has very little education. I'd appreciate any information you have on this.

MRS. W. S. H.

REPLY

You win this one. According to information we were given, Mrs. O'Haire attended University of Toledo, University of Pittsburgh, Ashland College (where she received a B.A. degree), Western Reserve, Ohio Northern, Howard University and Southern Texas College of Law (where she received a law degree). We have no information as to whether or not she passed any bar examinations.

make the party attractive to those young Georgians who were stunned to inactivity by the murder of Robert Kennedy and by the Daley fiasco in Chicago.

Such an effort would broaden the outlook, and right now the Democratic party is in need of such broadening. After a century in the saddle, the party is hurting. Mr. Humphrey's advice is one way to stop the hurt: Stop talking about it and get to work rebuilding.

Union Leader

The United States can hardly say that it is really neutral in the Nigerian conflict. Furthermore, just to make matters worse, the United States is presently training six Nigerian military officers at Fort Belvoir, Va., at the U.S. army engineer school there.

So the poor American public is spending its tax dollars on one hand to train fighters to kill Biafrans and, on the other, is raising money to relieve misery created by the conditions we have subsidized in the first place.

This is all a little ridiculous, to put it mildly, especially in view of the fact that Communist Russia is the main ally of the Nigerians.

Serves Dessert on Tray for Dinner Guests

Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Recently at a friend's home when dessert was served, my friend went to each guest with a silver tray holding an assortment of cakes and squares of strawberry shortcake. I've seen this done in restaurants but is it proper for home serving?

She also had a doily on the dessert plate which I've been told is incorrect for this type of dessert. I am planning a dinner in the near future and would appreciate your comments. — Nan

Dear Nan: I know of no reason why an assortment of pastries or cakes should not be passed on a silver tray. It seems an efficient and attractive way to serve. Foods with filling should be served in individual frilled paper holders.

Doilies may be placed under them on the serving plate if liquid or runny fillings do not spill over to make them soggy. They are not used, however, on the individual plates.

Dear Mrs. Post: If godparents bring their godchild a Christmas gift, are the parents of the child obliged to return the gesture with a gift to them? — Vivian

Dear Vivian: Since godparents are generally very close friends or relatives, parents often exchange gifts with them in any case. However, when the couples have lost touch with each other, even though the godparents may continue to send the child a remembrance, there is no obligation for the parents to reciprocate.

From the looks of Patricia Jones' tilted hat, it was quite an Easter morning at Our Lady of the Lake Catholic Church. Patricia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Jones of Hiram Street, Orion Township, chose a yellow theme for her spring ensemble.

Driver-Education Courses Open to You for Training

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am nearly 19 years old and do not have my driver's license yet. The reason is my mother. She says I am too "nervous" to drive. Abby, I admit, I am nervous, but that's because I don't drive and I'm always begging rides off my friends or asking my mother to please drive me some place.

My mother has her own car, but she is always too busy to drive me. Will you please tell me how I can convince my mother that if I drove I wouldn't be so nervous?

WANTS TO DRIVE DEAR WANTS: You don't say whether you are in school, working, or under treatment for your "nervousness." If you are in good health, and qualify for a driver's license, take a course in driver-education. If you pass the tests, there will be no question about whether or not you are qualified to drive.

DEAR ABBY: "Ella," a waitress in Newark, wrote that she can always tell whether a man is with his wife or his girl friend by the size of the tip he leaves, because a man is always more generous when he's with his girl friend.

Well, if we ever go to New Jersey, I must remember to ask my husband to forego his usually generous tipping habits. I'd hate to have the waitress conclude that we were traveling in sin. C. K. H. (DODGE CITY, KAN.)

Tricia Nixon Proves Expert on Privacy

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — H. Daniel Jones would like to know Patricia Nixon better, but he's not sure how to go about it.

The signs are encouraging. He met her a year and a half ago when Miss Nixon was working in Sen. George Murphy's office for a few weeks in the summer, and Mr. Jones was working for Sen. Charles Percy.

"I took her home several times, and out for coffee occasionally," he said. "I wrote her when I was in Princeton Law School (she answered) and I invited her up one weekend when she lived in New York, but she couldn't make it."

Jones now works as a legal aid in the U.S. attorney's office in Washington and would like to see more of her. But, he asks, "How does one get a date with the President's daughter? Do you write her, or telephone her, or what?"

His concern is understandable. One does not approach a president's daughter in any of the conventional ways. Protecting the progeny of the first family is a problem that has faced every chief executive but more elaborate measures are taken now than in the days when individuals with spyglasses peered at Grover Cleveland and his 22-year-old bride at their honeymoon cottage.

Luci Johnson frugged in a blonde wig to avoid detection. Lynda Byrd took to highly secluded vacation spots and elaborate security when her romances blossomed.

But if present practice continues, blonde, petite Tricia Nixon could become less visible than any White House marriageables in years.

So far in these early days of her father's administration, the White House has successfully kept her social life and her hours inside the presidential mansion very private indeed and she is refusing any interviews that might shed light on them.

"Tricia can't see why she can't have a private life just like anybody else," says Mrs. Gerry Van der Huevel, press secretary for Mrs. Nixon and the two girls. "She just happens to be a very private person."

"If I say she likes to play tennis, people will scour the tennis courts until they find where she plays. If I mention she's spending a great deal of time with old school friends, they'd seek them out."

There are plenty of male admirers who could come knocking at the Nixon door — Secret Service permitting — to call on the 5-3, 95-lb. lovely.

Her young escorts to various public functions have been dutifully reported by the watchful press, but there is none yet who presumes to the status of beau.

In the three weeks she worked as a receptionist in Sen. Murphy's office in the summer of 1967, young Capitol Hill staff workers badgered her almost constantly for dates.

"It was just hysterical the way they streamed in here," said Peggy McNulty, who worked in the office with Tricia.

"They'd call her on the phone and say, 'You don't know me but I heard you were working here...' and they'd ask her for a date. I don't know that she ever accepted."

EYE TEST

One's outlook may depend on one's state of mind. But a healthy pair of eyes ensures a healthy view of the world—literally.

Proper functioning of the eyes, which is easily taken for granted, can be helped by taking the best possible care of them. A yearly checkup of the eyes is a sensible procedure. And this should be a thorough examination by a fully-trained ophthalmologist using the proper instruments. He can not only check defects in sight and prescribe eyeglasses if needed, but he can spot diseases such as glaucoma and cataracts. Glaucoma, for example, is a serious, non-reversible ailment eventually causing blindness; it is estimated that two to three per cent of all Americans over 40 have an undetected glaucoma condition. For this, as for cataracts, early diagnosis is very important, for the correct medication or surgery, if necessary, can help both these conditions in the incipient stages.

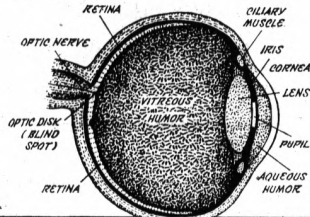

The eye test is invaluable in another way: many diseases of the central nervous system and many general diseases betray themselves through some eye trouble. The main warning signs are headaches, blurred vision and painful inflammation of the eyelids. The state of health of the eyes and of the body in general influence each other so much that the ophthalmologist will begin by asking for a full medical history. The photographs on this page show the main steps in the rest of an eye test demonstrated by Edward P. Perley, M.D., attending surgeon at Manhattan Eye and Ear Clinic, N.Y.

Refraction test, with trial frames and lenses, to measure visual acuity (and to correct, if necessary, by prescription of eyeglasses).

First, the external ophthalmic examination; overall observation, no instruments.

Visual acuity and extra-ocular motility are tested by reading the familiar eye chart.

Lower left, direct funduscopy, to study the interior of the eye for pathology. Right, indirect funduscopy. The eye is the only organ of the body whose interior is easily visible with conventional instruments.

An ophthalmologist is a physician who specializes in the study and treatment of defects and diseases of the eye. An optometrist measures visual powers and prescribes lenses. An optician makes spectacle lenses from prescriptions.

Slit lamp microscopy, for the study of the anterior segment of the eye.

Applanation tonometry, to measure the pressure of the eye, for the detection of glaucoma.

Indentation tonometry, using a Shiotz tonometer, also for the detection of glaucoma.

MAKE OVER PAGES Equipment Rentals Thriving, Changing

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If you really want to impress guests at your daughter's wedding reception you might consider renting a champagne bubbler and a pair of ornate, five-branched silver candelabra.

The total cost will be about $25.

Nobody but you will know the difference. And so, for no reason other than it would cost you more to buy than to rent, you should consider a night on the town, a CUNNIFF mere passing pleasure, you will have bought the permanent envy of your social companions.

Such motives can't be discounted, but the $1-billion-a-year rental equipment industry, which boasts that it can rent you not just party goods but also the latest in home furnishings, believes it is far more soundly based.

The industry spread eastward gradually from the West Coast shortly after World War II.

Only in the past few years has it attained strong growth along the Eastern seaboard.

A typical general rental store founded perhaps 20 years ago as a mom-and-pop operation might find itself handling the following orders in the next few weeks and months:

• Supplying chairs, banquet tables, a bar, linen, china, glassware, silverware, a champagne fountain, coffee urns and incidental items for a graduation party of 50. The estimate of the cost: well under $200.

• Providing the equipment for homeowners to spruce up property. This might include lawnmowers, power rakes and tillage for the lawn, and rug and floor care equipment for inside the house.

VACATION ON WHEELS

For a power rake, such as now being used on spring lawns, the charge might be $12 a half day or $18 a day from one firm. The same company charges $9 a day for a floor sander, one of its most popular items.

• Equipping a family for a vacation on wheels. You needn't be so evasive when you realize that most of the camp trailers that jam into national parks, mountains and seashores are rented, not driver-owned. Rate: about $65 a week.

• The continuing popularity of the do-it-yourself activity, especially as the cost of professional home maintenance rises sharply.

$1-BILLION REVENUE

If you exclude the revenue from rental cars — estimated to number about 250,000 — the rental industry is believed to have revenues of at least $1 billion. It is so multimillion, however, that statistics sometimes are misleading.

The only thing tying one part of the industry to another, in fact, is the manner of obtaining revenue. The tuxedo or typewriter rental store, for example, is only distantly related to the crane rental company.

Not only the same mom-and-pop enterprises, but from time to time large corporations toy with the idea of entering the business. Franchisers have a firm foothold.

Essentially, however, it remains an industry of individuals. Ray McMahon of Bayshore, N.Y., might be typical. He began his company 15 years ago with $7,000 of tools.

ADDS PARTY LINE

Because business was slack in winter, McMahon added a party line, and now does a thriving late fall and early winter business. He still heads his own operation, which now rents $250,000 to $300,000 of stock.

His annual gross revenue is about $350,000, he states, of which about 8 per cent is profit. And among the most profitable days, he feels, are those coming up in Monroe.

These include the increased cost of doing business, increases in wages, increases in plant costs, the high cost of obtaining money and the impact of the federal tax plus the state income tax.

Dow Jones Down 8.96

Stock Market Is Off Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, continuing last week's downward trend, was off sharply early today.

Brokers said the decline was due in large part to Federal Reserve action last week to increase the discount rate to 6 per cent from 5 1/2 per cent and by increasing required member reserves. Trading was fairly active near the opening.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 10:30 a.m. was off 8.96 points at 818.34. The Dow lost 3.62 points Thursday. The stock exchanges were closed Good Friday.

Losses led gains by nearly 600 issues.

Conglomerate issues generally were lower. AMK Corp. was off a point.

Steels, motors, aircrafts and electronics all were lower. General Motors was off 1/4, United Aircraft was off 1/4, and Sperry Rand was off 1/4.

Among higher priced issues, IBM was up 2 1/2, and Control Data lost 2 1/2.

OPENING PRICES

Opening prices included:

Jones & Laughlin Steel, off 1/4 at 22 1/2 on 14,300 shares; Union Pacific, off 1/4 at 20 1/2 on 12,700 shares; Occidental Petroleum, off 1/4 at 42 on 9,500 shares; and General Telephone & Electronics, off 1/4 at 37 1/2 on 9,000 shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks Thursday was off 4 at 334 1/2.

Prices generally were lower on the American Stock Exchange.

Fractional losses were shown by Aerojet-General, Allen Electric, Asamera, Four Seasons and Kaiser Industries. Gale Industries was unchanged at 7 1/2.

Molybdenum Corp. was up 1/4 at 31 1/2.

DETROIT (AP) — A total of 55,500 Chrysler Corp. employees could be idle by the end of the week because of a wildcat strike at a suburban Detroit stamping plant which manufactures body panels.

A Chrysler spokesman said Saturday that failure to end the wildcat strike over the weekend would result in layoffs of 33,000 additional workers in five cities by Friday.

A shortage of parts resulting from Thursday's shutdown of the suburban Sterling Heights plant had already idled 22,500 hourly workers by the start of the weekend. The other layoffs were scheduled at Detroit, St. Louis, Newark, Del.; Belvidere, Ill.; and Windsor, Ont.

Some 70 Sterling employees identified as pickets were sent notification of discharge. The Chrysler spokesman said, "The strikers members of the United Auto Workers Union, said the dispute was over safety issues."

Chrysler employs about 3,500 hourly workers at the stamping facility, which turns out components as floor pans, hoods, trunk lids, quarter panels and engine pans for all of the company's cars.

Tries to Block Ducker Strike at Standstill

MONTREAL (AP) — Efforts to head off a threatened strike by Montreal's 2,200 longshoremen were reported at a standstill Sunday.

Judge Jean B. Gould, chairman of a conciliation board, said the dispute between the longshoremen and the Shipping Federation of Canada, said he had not finished his conciliation report. Legally, the longshoremen cannot strike until seven days after the report is submitted to Labor Minister Bryce Mackenzie.

The shippers, preparing for a possible strike, were reported getting ready to use other ports if necessary.

The longshoremen are seeking an increase of their hourly wage from $3.75 to $5.50 over a two year period. The shippers have offered a 15 per cent increase in a three years contract.

DETROIT (AP) — A total of 55,500 Chrysler Corp. employees could be idle by the end of the week because of a wildcat strike at a suburban Detroit stamping plant which manufactures body panels.

A Chrysler spokesman said Saturday that failure to end the wildcat strike over the weekend would result in layoffs of 33,000 additional workers in five cities by Friday.

A shortage of parts resulting from Thursday's shutdown of the suburban Sterling Heights plant had already idled 22,500 hourly workers by the start of the weekend. The other layoffs were scheduled at Detroit, St. Louis, Newark, Del.; Belvidere, Ill.; and Windsor, Ont.
