

Fixed Bayonets Back Court Order

THEY STAND READY — Troops from the 101st Airborne Division of Ft. Campbell, Ky. were standing guard this morning when a crowd appeared at the Little Rock high school. A charge with fixed bayonets moved the crowd, clearing the way for Negro students to enter. The charge followed a third order to disperse.

2 Hurt as GIs Take Negroes to School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Hard-eyed paratroopers, in battle dress and with bayonets at the ready, brought nine Negro students quietly into Central High School today in a new climax to the hate-filled struggle over integration in Little Rock.

One man was clubbed and another stabbed in the arm by the soldiers in fights that followed.

A few white students left the school after the Negroes entered, but there was no sign of a mass exodus.

A school official said 1,250 students were in class today, making 750 absentees. It was 50 more than yesterday when it was known the Negroes would not appear.

In an arc two blocks wide around the high school, the paratroopers kept breaking up clusters of people, moving them back, herding them onto porches, and keeping the area clear.

They moved with swift, purposeful action.

Saginaw Seeks Bus Fare Hike

Citizens' Group, City Council Expected to Urge Five-Cent Jump

SAGINAW (AP)—A citizens' business committee is to meet with city councilmen here today and is expected to urge that a five-cent bus fare increase be granted to Saginaw City Lines.

Committee Chairman Sam Lebeck said he believes the committee will agree to recommend the fare boost.

Ralph E. James, executive vice president of National City Lines, Inc., told committee members and councilmen yesterday the fare hike is needed to boost sharply dropping revenues.

"We've reached the point where we question whether we can continue to operate as a private enterprise," James said.

The City Council split 4-4 last week on a proposal to hike bus fares. The four dissenters said they would not approve it unless the bus company improves its service.

If approved, fares would be increased from 15 cents to 20 cents for adults and from 10 cents to 15 cents for students. Tokens would be three for 50 cents for adults and two for a quarter for students.

Saginaw officials are also studying the feasibility of leasing bus facilities and operating them under city management similar to systems already in operation at Jackson and approved Monday for Kalamazoo.

Clear Weather, Cooler Tonight and Tomorrow

The weather man promises clear weather this evening, with temperatures becoming somewhat cooler. Tonight's low will be around 47 degrees.

Tomorrow will be cool with the mercury reaching a high near 67.

An extended forecast from the U. S. Weather Bureau predicts generally fair and cool for Pontiac on Friday.

Scattered showers and a slight warming trend are expected Saturday and Sunday.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 51. At 2 p.m. the thermometer read 71.

The low tonight will be from 38 to 43. Tomorrow's high will range from 55 to 60 degrees.

Big Values Offered on Dividend Days

Downtown Dividend Days, a festival of special values, is being staged by the Downtown Pontiac Assn. today, Thursday and Friday.

Association members are offering a $600 color television set along with the hundreds of special buys on all types of merchandise during Dividend Days.

Free entry blanks will be available at association members' shops during the three-day promotion.

Pages of coupons, denoting the extra values available for Dividend Days, appear today in The Press.

Blake, 46, a railroad employee, tried to grab a paratrooper's rifle, soldiers said. The trooper, quickly reversing it, struck Blake over the eye with the butt. He fell to the street but did not appear to be seriously injured.

Paul Downs of Springfield, Ark., got a bayonet cut in the arm apparently when he was too slow in obeying all order.

Jess Matthews, principal of the high school, reported "everything is calm inside the school and education is proceeding normally."

GUARD IN RESERVE

The 1,000 regular federal troops flown in here are being relied upon almost entirely by the Army today for prompt settlement in the school dispute.

Although the 10,000-man Arkansas National Guard has been placed under federal command since the active-duty pay dispute crisis, it is anticipated that only a few "selected units" of the guard will see actual service.

At the same time, the complete federalization of the state's army and air National Guardsmen is believed to have tied the hands of Gov. Orval Faubus, since he has no militia left to call upon. The guard is normally under state control.

LI. Gov. Nathan Gordon, acting governor until mid-afternoon yesterday when Faubus returned to the state after attending the Southern Governors' Conference at Sea Island, Ga., said: "I don't like it. Sending troops in here won't help the situation in the long run. I wonder if they are going to put a soldier with each student."

Faubus had no new comment on Eisenhower's action.

Outside, the scene was identical with those that developed in the last two wars of the United States.

The high school was the command post.

A line of paratroopers, spaced about three yards apart, stood in the street fronting the school. Behind them, jeeps equipped with walkie-talkies, were stationed at strategic points all around the school.

Four soldiers stood just outside each of the first-floor doors, and others guarded the long, slanting

Hoffa Indicted for Perjury by U.S. Rackets Grand Jury

To Protect U. S. Against Anarchy

Ike Explains Troop Action in Arkansas

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—President Eisenhower returned to his vacation headquarters today after telling the nation from Washington why he ordered federal troops into Little Rock in the school integration crisis.

A Marine helicopter put the President down on the lawn of the Newport White House at the U. S. Naval Base.

The President was smiling. He went immediately to the temporary White House for a round of conferences with aides.

In a hastily scheduled radio-TV address to the nation, he appealed to the American people last night to unite in understanding that he had no choice but to dispatch the troops.

"Unless the President did so," he declared, "anarchy would result."

TO STOP INTERFERENCE

And he emphasized that the troops are there "solely for the purpose of preventing interference with the orders of the court" which directed the admission of nine Negroes to Little Rock's Central High School.

Eisenhower said he personally knows that "the overwhelming majority of the people in the South—including those of Arkansas and Little Rock—are of good will, united in their efforts to preserve and respect the law even when they disagree with it."

But he said at another point that "certain misguided persons, many of them imported into Little Rock by agitators, have insisted upon defying the law and have sought to bring it into disrepute."

In other nations, he said, "our enemies are gloating over this incident" and seeking to undermine the nation's prestige and influence around the globe.

As he spoke last night 1,000 paratroopers flew to Little Rock. The 9,900-member Arkansas National Guard prepared for its first day

Hoffa Campaigns Around Clock to Win Election

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—In the face of new attacks from the Senate Rackets Committee, Detroit Teamster boss James R. Hoffa campaigned virtually around the clock today to succeed retiring president Dave Beck of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Hoffa, heir-apparent to the top post in the sprawling transportation union with more than a million members, ignored latest developments in Washington.

One of the announced candidates who is opposing Hoffa, Teamster Vice President Thomas L. Hickey of New York, set up campaign headquarters in one of the hotels on Miami Beach.

Hoffa has opened his headquarters in the oceanside resort hotel which has been taken over as convention headquarters by the Teamsters.

Peter J. Hoban of Chicago, campaign manager for Thomas J. Haggerty, another of Hoffa's rivals for the presidency, said he will appear before the Credentials Committee today to challenge delegates from 105 locals in trusteeship.

Flu Keeps Reuther Here

DETROIT (INS)—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther says a touch of the flu has forced him to cancel plans to attend sessions of the AFL-CIO executive council meeting in New York. A union spokesman said the UAW chief was confined to his home on the advice of his physician. Reuther was first stricken ten days ago while in England.

Still Pay Same Fines

PARK HILLS, Ky. (AP)—It really doesn't cost you any less, but this city explains to persons fined for traffic violations that it isn't after their money. A pamphlet given out when the fine is paid says: "The man who is fined today may not run into you tomorrow."

Mrs. Roosevelt in Yalta

MOSCOW (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will fly to Yalta tomorrow to visit Nikita Khrushchev. The Communist party leader invited her to pay him a visit at his vacation residence there.

Also Accused of Payroll Fraud at Pontiac Local

Probers Hear Report Teamsters Paid 2 Here During Prison Terms

Teamster Vice President James R. Hoffa was indicted today on five counts of perjury by a federal rackets grand jury, as investigators reported that he kept two Teamster officials on Pontiac Local 614's payroll while they were imprisoned for extortion.

The new indictment charged that the 44-year-old union leader lied to the grand jury during its probe into alleged wiretapping of Teamsters' headquarters in Detroit.

The grand jury also indicted Benjamin F. Collins, secretary-treasurer of Local 299, which is headed by Hoffa. It accused him of 12 counts of perjury in connection with the same investigation.

Investigators did not name the officials involved in the alleged payroll scheme. However, Daniel J. Keating, 54, and Louis C. Lintean, 42, of 615 Tennyson Ave., were sentenced in October, 1954 for their part in a $100,000 shake-down of Detroit-area contractors. Keating was president of Local 614 at the time of his conviction. Lintean served under him as secretary-treasurer and business agent.

Keating received a six months sentence and a $1,000 fine while Lintean went to prison for five months and was fined $500.

Sentenced with the pair were the president and a business agent of Local 247 in Detroit. Indictments followed a two-months one-man grand jury investigation by

Orders Cleanup of Bakery Union

AFL-CIO Expected to Give Similar Ultimatum to Teamsters

NEW YORK (INS)—The AFL-CIO Executive Council today reportedly gave the 138,000-member Bakery Workers' Union 20 days to set its house in order and get rid of officials charged with corruption.

A similar ultimatum is expected to be handed to the 1,400,000-member Teamsters Union later. The obvious alternative will be expulsion from the federation.

Such action would mean that the Teamsters, the nation's largest union, would have to travel alone.

The council is winding up a two-day session in New York devoted mainly to the federation's crusade for clean unions.

AFL-CIO President George Meany indicated the Teamsters will be given until Oct. 24 to clean up conditions. The federation has been complaining about since the senate rackets committee investigation began months ago.

The Executive Council is expected to make much the same demand on the Bakery Workers.

In the Teamsters' case, the Executive Council will act on a report by the ethical practices committee which contained a blistering indictment of Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa and President Dave Beck.

It is recognized on all sides that unless the Teamsters install a new leadership at their Miami Beach convention next week they will be making their exit from the AFL-CIO since the convention delegates alone have the supreme power of decision in the union.

Indications are that the Executive Council's demands would mean not only that Hoffa not be elected president, but that he not be re-elected vice president of the Teamsters are to stay in the federation.

Claims That Girard Chased Scavengers

SOMAGAHARA, Japan (AP)—A prosecution witness testified today that minutes before William S. Girard fatally shot Mrs. Naka Sakai he chased other Japanese brass collectors on a U. S. firing range.

The witness, Hidetsugu Onezaki, said Girard pursued six or seven Japanese for more than 50 yards on the range near Somagahara.

Girard, of Ottawa, Ill., is charged with placing an empty cartridge case in a rifle grenade launcher and killing Mrs. Sakai. Testifying at the final outdoor session on the range, Onezaki gave this account:

After chasing the scavengers, Girard returned to his foxhole and threw cartridge cases toward the Japanese. Mrs. Sakai approached and Girard called to her in Japanese.

"Old woman, there's really a lot of brass, isn't there?" Mrs. Sakai went to a foxhole to which Girard pointed and climbed in, Onezaki said.

Girard fired at Mrs. Sakai and she tumbled to the ground, he said. The testimony was taken as rain fell on the firing range. Presiding Judge Yuzo Kawachi was dressed in a raincoat and a large straw hat.

The trial will resume tomorrow. There will be no further outdoor hearings.

The testimony of Onezaki agreed in part with that of soldier Victor Nickel, of Inkster, Mich., who was with Girard just before Mrs. Sakai was shot Jan. 30.

Nickel testified yesterday that Girard called to Mrs. Sakai shortly before firing the shot that killed her. Onezaki gave the same testimony.

Nickel, the only American witness for the prosecution, said he believed Girard fired at Mrs. Sakai as a joke. Nickel said he did not believe Girard intended to hit her.

Navy Reports Planes Missing

4 Aircraft With 10 Men Vanish During NATO Exercises in Atlantic

LONDON (AP)—The U. S. Navy reported today that four of its planes, carrying 10 men, were missing and are feared to have crashed in the Atlantic while taking part in giant NATO sea exercises.

The Navy identified the planes as two F4D Skywarrior, single-seater jet fighters capable of speeds of more than 1,000 miles an hour, and two SF2 anti-submarine planes each carrying four men.

A Navy spokesman said the anti-submarine planes were based on the 33,100-ton carrier Essex. He said he did not know on which carrier the Skywarriors were based.

The carriers are part of a seven-ship NATO fleet taking part in exercise "Strikeback," designed to guard the Atlantic against Russian attack, especially from submarines.

The exercises were immediately suspended and ships and planes were ordered to search for the missing planes and possible survivors.

Usher In New Year With Symbolic Ritual, Penance

Jews Mark Rosh Hashanah Today

Jews in the Pontiac area tonight begin the observance of the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah. In homes and synagogues they will mark the start of the Jewish calendar year 5718, as figured from the time of creation.

The holiday starts at sundown tonight and ends on sundown tomorrow for Reform Jews and at sundown Friday for Orthodox and Conservative synagogues.

Rosh Hashanah ushers in the Jewish high holy days or "Days of Awe," a 10-day period of self-examination and re-dedication to the laws of God.

According to the Jewish faith, it is determined during this period who shall live and who shall die during the coming year; who shall prosper and who shall become poor; who shall have rest and peace and who shall wonder and suffer.

CAN CHANGE JUDGMENT

Repentance, prayer and right living, however, can change an adverse decision, it is believed.

On the two days of Rosh Hashanah, Jews greet each other with the hope, "Leshanah tovah tikasev V'sheasem." ("May you be inscribed and sealed for a good year.")

In the Jewish home, the Kiddush (sanctification prayer) is recited over wine, and festive lights are kindled on the eve of Rosh Hashanah.

As a piece of sweet apple is dipped in honey, the person who performs this symbolic act says, "May it be God's will to grant us a good and sweet year."

Likewise, bread is dipped in honey to symbolize the hope that, as the bread is sweet, so may the experiences during the approaching year be only the most pleasant. The Biblical writers do not know the holiday as Rosh Hashanah.

They designate it as the "Day of Memorial" and the "Day of Blowing the Alarm."

The former name suggests that men are to recall and review the events of the past year and attune themselves to the higher purposes of life during the new year by learning how to "count their days" properly and thus to resolve their hearts to wisdom.

The latter name suggests that by the sound of the shofar, a flattened ram's horn heard in three distinctive blasts in the synagogue on this day, Jews are summoned to the return of religion and all its blessings.

The blowing of the shofar holds an important place in synagogue and temple services. It had its

FIRST IN PONTIAC AREA — The attractive Kirby's Shoe Store will be the first in this area. Owned and operated by the Shoe Corporation of America, it will feature a complete line of shoes for every member of the family. The modern interior is designed to make shopping for the entire family, pleasant and relaxing.

William A. Harmon Named Manager

Kirby Shoe Chain Opening Branch Here

The first Kirby Shoe Store in the Pontiac area will open its doors this week at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center with a complete array of shoes for the entire family.

The Kirby chain is owned and operated by the Shoe Corporation of America, and spreads from coast to coast. The new store will be located in the center section of the vast shopping center.

A local man, William A. Harmon, of 3168 Crooks Rd., Avon Township, has been named manager of the Kirby store.

Harmon, with 17 years experience managing shoe stores for the corporation, has been in downtown Pontiac, for the past 10 years.

An employee of the corporation, Harmon was manager of the Boston Shoe Store, in downtown Pontiac, for several years before it was dissolved.

The Kirby shop will offer Crosby Squares, Madison Squares, and Yorkshires among their stylings for men. These brands will also be available in junior sizes, along with Bluebird shoes, for boys.

Girls may choose from such outstanding brands as Classmate, Robinhood, and Bluebird shoes, while American Girl, Friskies, and Dream Step shoes will be in stock for women customers.

The store is completely air conditioned while the interior will be trimmed with chestnut paneling. A floor of gleaming terrazzo and asphalt tiling will contrast with the ceiling of paneled and finished rockwool.

Lighting will be amply, yet

Bob Considine Says:

Capital Hotel Features Bygone Favorites

NEW YORK (INS) — The Mayflower Hotel in Washington now features dishes which were the favorites of bygone presidents of the United States. There's been a reported run on Andrew Jackson's hawg jowls and grits.

Years ago in Washington we had a timid government clerk who had a friend working in the kitchen of the White House. Each day the clerk, a lonely man caught on the flypaper of civil service, would call his friend and ask what the president was having for lunch. Then he'd go out and buy an identical meal.

We often think of him and wonder how he fared, as figuratively he sought the meat that sustained successive Caesars.

Did he waste away on Coolidge's soda crackers and skimmed milk? What happened to the old waistline under Hoover, and how did his system stand up under F. D. R.'s gulped desk-side sandwiches? Where did he find the chile, while Truman was in? And how could he afford Ike's favorite: A thick sirloin rolled in salt, heavy pepper and garlic and cooked in, not over, live charcoal?

It could make a short story, or a TV unspectacular. The poor soul expects each president's food to bring out the tiger or leader in him, but he seems doomed to be just run-of-the-mill until the triumphant day when he knows his years of experimentation were not in vain: he comes down with ileitis.

Prince Michael Romanoff, of

Beverly Hills, San Francisco, Palm Springs and Graustark, has sold his life story to Hollywood for $100,000 — roughly the cost of dinner at his place. We wish our friend well and would suggest that he impersonate himself. Hiring an actor to play the part would be redundant, an impersonation of an impersonation.

Mike has the most magnificent imperturbability of any man in his business. One night in his Beverly Hills place a young lady, dining with George Jessel, became piqued — if that's the word — snatched off George's brand new topee and flung the rug into his soap.

Mike glided easily into the scene, picked up the only fur-bearing mimestone he had ever seen, and delicately carried it into the kitchen. The serenity of the salon-like saloon was restored.

All was not lost. George now wears the wig as an eyebrow. The American Weekly recently ran a general knowledge test which is given to eighth grade students, and we suggested that a few of our friends in the international set could pass. A fine Brooklyn housewife, Maureen Thompson, writes that her husband, George, got 11 out of 15 answers.

"George graduated from St. Agatha's Grammar School in Brooklyn and Erasmus High. He is 40 years old, a laboring man, no desk job, but an avid reader. I think he deserves a few words of praise from the little woman." George, old boy, you've got what kings can't buy.

Howard Hughes' "Jet Pilot," starring John Wayne, has been in the making and in the can for a long time. Yet it opens as fresh as the headlines of a few days ago — the landing of a Russian jet on U. S. soil.

turns out to be Janet Leigh. In real life, we got Gromyko.

Gromyko's a character. At a U. N. cocktail party in the Rainbow Room atop the RCA building a couple of years ago, someone said to him, "It's a pity it's foggy and rainy today, for otherwise we'd have a grand view of the city." The dour and very smart Russian diplomat nodded gravely and intoned, "And tomorrow I'll be blamed for this in the New York Times."

NEW BECK STORE—In this photograph, you can see one of the A. S. Beck Shoe company's employees in the right-hand window, putting the finishing touches on an exclusive men's department. All should be ready when the company opens its first Pontiac area store tomorrow.

Special Men's Department Featured at Beck Store

A special men's department, with its own entrance and clerks, will be featured at A. S. Beck Shoe Company's new store opening tomorrow at the Miracle Mile Town & Country shopping center.

According to the manager, Lloyd E. Hesseaur, male customers won't have to mingle with the lady customers at all.

"It may be true that some men are a little wary of shopping since they are somewhat over-awed by the crowds of women," said Hesseaur. "If that's the case, our new men's department should be the answer."

Hesseaur concedes that the men's department in the new Beck store may be even more plush and comfortable than the women's section.

The Miracle Mile store is one of the first in the 179-branch Beck chain to have its own special department for men, Hesseaur said.

Hesseaur has been manager of the Beck store in Royal Oak for the past 10 years.

In addition to the full line of men's shoes, the store will carry the customary stock of women's high-styled shoes, lingerie and accessories found in Beck's stores everywhere, said Hesseaur.

The company manufactures its own handbags and shoes, including an exclusive style developed in its main Chicago store, Hesseaur said. Other items, he said, are styled mainly in New York.

'Pirate' Gals Deflect Lifeguards' Efforts

JOHANNESBURG — There are many hazards to life-saving jobs on the coasts of South Africa, and among the most perilous are girls, says R. V. Loana, secretary of the Surf Life-Saving Association, in Johannesburg. "Pirate" girls who hang around the life-savers and distract their attention are a major menace, he says.

The Association's squad leaders have been ordered to keep girls well clear of areas occupied by men on duty. Members of the public who interfere with life-savers' work can be charged with a misdemeanor.

The 300 young men who voluntarily give up their week-ends to watch over beaches are often abused and sometimes struck. Just the other day, say Loana, a life-saver had his face slapped by a matronly woman whom he rescued from drowning. "How dare you hold me like that?" she exclaimed.

First Frost Is Not Serious Matter

The initial visit of Jack Frost each autumn is not as tragic an occurrence as it seems to the casual observer.

Truly it marks finis for most outdoor growth for the current year.

In growing crops in garden and farm it changes a verdant green to a sere and somber brown or black.

It is the first portent of Winter. But it is a part of nature's grand balance.

In many respects it is a necessity. In the Pontiac area it usually arrives quite coincidental with the calendar scheduled Autumn.

And usually the plant life with which we have enjoyed the Summer is ready and waiting for it.

With the farmer it is the required "ripening" of his potato crop. It provides a short period for the tubers to solidify and get in proper condition for the table.

It also shrivels up the potato vines and gets them out of the way to make the harvest easier.

Frost doesn't do the damage to corn, our biggest crop, that the appearances indicate. A field of frozen corn is not the sad spectacle that it looks.

Now cut and handled entirely by machinery, the frozen and dried corn stalks have as much value for silage as when green, the only frost loss being in the breaking up of some of the brittle leaves.

And with most farmers the ears of corn also now go through the ensilage machine without first being removed from the stalks, being an integral part of the silo filling that means good stock feed during the Winter months.

To be sure, the housewife is a little saddened to see her garden flowers nipped by the frost. Her geraniums and begonias usually are the first to feel the pinch.

But she can stave that off for a long period by a nightly covering of even a single thickness of a newspaper—another use for one of life's prime necessities.

The gardener's tomatoes are among the first to get the rap. Many other vegetables refuse to notice the initial onslaught of Jack Frost.

But on the asset side of life's calendar, which is the largest side, we find that it is the first few frosts that put the finishing touches on the Autumn foliage display. That's nature's recompense. Let's comprehend, appreciate and enjoy it.

Also we should remember that the first frost is only a brief reminder of what is to come—a tender sample, usually followed by an upswing in the mercury, and one of the most enjoyable seasons of the year.

No, the first frost is distinctly not a seasonal tragedy.

Hoover Speaks Frankly on 'Juvenile Problems'

J. EDGAR HOOVER, the internationally celebrated head of our FBI, has always called a spade a spade or at least a shovel. He has never tried to pawn it off on anyone as a fly swatter or a fairy wand.

Hence, when he digs into the current crime wave, he speaks with authority and utter frankness. He says:

"Shockingly, arrests of persons under 18 years of age increased more than 17 per cent in cities during 1956, while the increase in population of this group was only about 3 per cent. Furthermore, almost 46 per cent of all arrests for major crimes in the United States were of youngsters under 18. They are no longer bad children; they are young criminals and must be dealt with accordingly."

This is plain language. It comes from a top authority.

Further, Mr. Hoover does not propose to coddle the young punks, nor does he permit their parents to evade the responsibility that is rightly theirs. Hoover's propensities for facing all the facts permit him to say:

"The term 'juvenile delinquency' is, of course, a misnomer. The large majority of cases involving juveniles have exhibited that the real delinquency originates in the home. Parental delinquency would certainly be a more descriptive term. To salvage our youth is the responsibility of adult America—it is inescapable, and we must turn our faces to it, not our backs."

"It is my firm conviction that only when the family returns to living as a unit will we be moving in the proper social direction. Any lasting corrective steps will have to begin at the cornerstone of our society—the home. The child with a secure, happy, religious home rarely becomes delinquent. The youngsters whose parents care enough about them to be interested in their activities are not found in the juvenile courts and correctional institutions."

An international authority has been speaking. At times we are inclined to discount some commentators on this baffling and challenging subject. But no one can write off anything J. EDGAR HOOVER says on the subject of his life's work.

The Man About Town Long Smoldering Arkansas Mess Has Been Building Up Many Years

Delay: What may knock you for $300. Contest closes day after tomorrow.

A man holding a prominent position in Oakland County, but for obvious reasons prefers to remain anonymous, gives me some inside information on the Arkansas trouble. He has extensive real estate holdings in that state, spends much of his time there, and knows what he's talking about.

He says it has been smoldering since the Civil War, no political party or official daring to do anything with it, and has been brought to a head largely through the growth of juvenile delinquency in our nation. It is quite difficult to find a boy (or girl), either white or Negro, of high school age in the state who is not carrying a knife—which they do not discard when they grow up. For many years the state has been on the verge of an eruption.

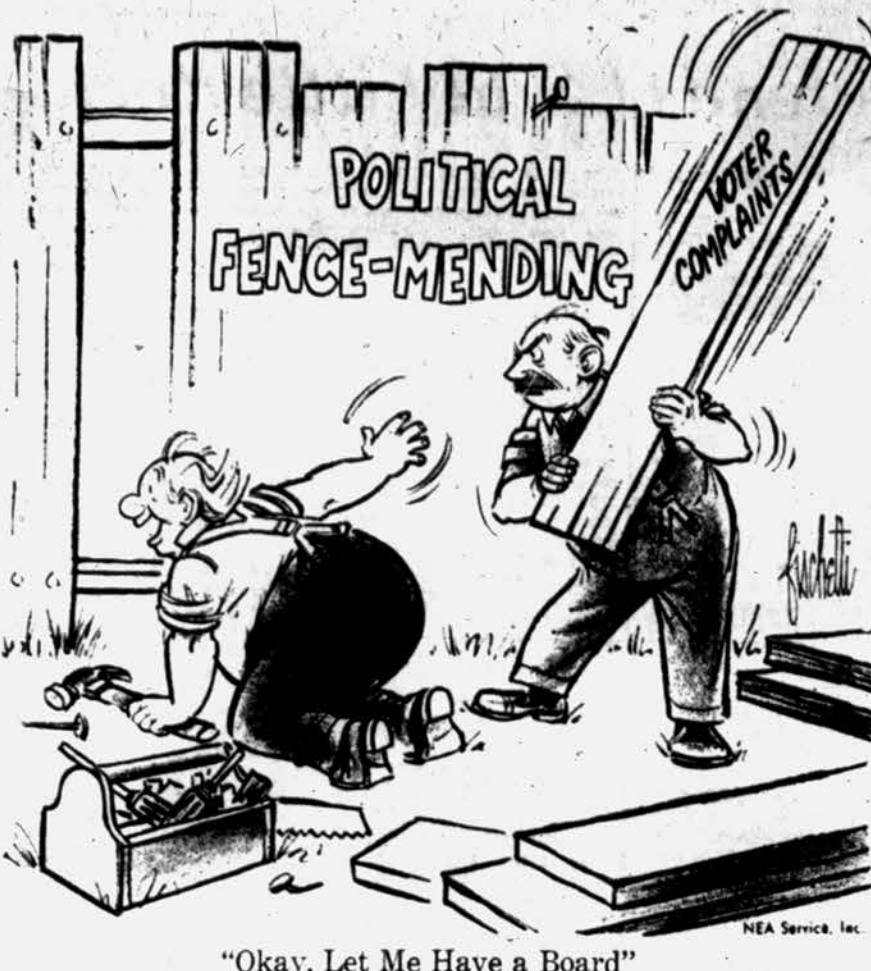

"For many years I've been the family 'expert' in your football contest," writes Blair Lawther of Keego Harbor, "and we never won anything. This time I'm leaving it to the wife who doesn't claim to know anything about football—and we're getting ready to spend that $300."

Inside information from Pontiac's Downtown Promotion Committee tells me that Thursday, Friday and Saturday are sure to be Big Diving Days for everybody who watches the ads of local merchants.

Verbal Orchids to—

Mrs. Josephine King of Waterford: eighty-third birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bloomer of Holly: fifty-third wedding anniversary.

Did Ike Go Against Constitution?

WASHINGTON — Has President Eisenhower unwittingly violated the Constitution of the United States?

If the statute on which he is basing his action in ordering Federal troops into Arkansas—a law passed during the tragic days of reconstruction—is constitutional, which is highly doubtful, and if the Supreme Court of the United States, which has never passed upon its validity, should uphold it, then Mr. Eisenhower will be vindicated. But any such decision would at the same time be telling the world that America has given the powers of dictatorship to a president who at any time without any check—except impeachment and subsequent removal from office—may order the troops to do anything he wishes the military forces to do.

LAWRENCE

For, while the statute which the President's proclamation cites as his authority to ignore the government of any state at any time and force compliance with any court orders irrespective of their merit was passed in 1871, it has never been used by any chief executive of the United States for the purpose set forth by Mr. Eisenhower.

CLEVELAND DID IT There have been several occasions in American history when Federal troops have been sent into different states to preserve order but in every single instance with one major exception—that which occurred during Grover Cleveland's administration—the governor of a state had previously requested Federal assistance. The Governor of Arkansas did not request Federal troops.

When President Cleveland broke a railroad strike with a court injunction in 1894 by the use of Federal troops, he brought upon himself nationwide criticism. His place in history has been grievously injured by that incident. If Mr. Eisenhower now wants to tell union labor in America that he has the power today at any time to break a future strike by using Federal troops, he will find the lawyers for the labor unions disputing his power under the Constitution, even as they did President Cleveland's.

Today, there is no Federal law forbidding segregation. The 1871 statute on which the President is relying declares that the executive can use troops on his own initiative whenever the "laws of the United States" cannot be enforced.

LEGAL PROBLEMS What evidence is there that any "law" was violated or that the order of a lower court judge was based on any valid law? These are matters of legal dispute. The real issue is whether the preservation of law and order inside any state is a constitutional right that supercedes the chance interpretation in a particular instance by a Federal judge—unreviewed by a higher court—as to what he thinks ought to be done about "integration" in the schools.

For the Constitution says that the Federal Government must guarantee every state "a republican form of government." The Supreme Court said on this point in 1849 and again in 1917: "The state itself must determine what degree of force the crisis demands."

Here is what the President said in a press conference on July 17 last:

"I can't imagine any set of circumstances that would ever induce me to send Federal troops into a Federal court and into any area to enforce the orders of a Federal court, because I believe that the common sense of America will never require it. Now, there may be that kind of authority resting somewhere, but certainly I am not seeking additional authority of that kind, and I would never believe that it would be a wise thing to do in this country."

What made the President reverse himself? Who in the Department of Justice dug up the tricky statutes of the Reconstruction Era, which had been used in those days repeatedly to violate constitutional guarantees, and then persuaded Mr. Eisenhower to ride roughshod over the rights of the states? President Cleveland was misled by overzealous lawyers in the Department of Justice. Has history repeated itself?

Disgusted

Martha was like millions of men and women past 40 who refuse to get false teeth. So she grew neurotic and was referred to a psychiatrist. But a tactful modern dentist made her look 10 years younger and gave her new zest for living, for dentists often function partly as psychiatrists. See the proof below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE Case W-303: Martha M., aged 43, had become very neurotic. "Dr. Crane, I was finally referred to psychiatrist by my family physician," she began. "For I was so upset and afraid. My family tried to reassure me, but I just felt blue and moody most of the time. "For all my teeth were gone except a few in front. I couldn't chew, so my husband had suggested that I get false teeth. "But I was panicky at the thought. I guess I felt that to lose my remaining few teeth would place me in the senile class. "Under pressure from my family, however, I finally started down town to see the psychiatrist. "But I lost my nerve, so I dropped into a dentist's office first. He had a very reassuring personality and told me that I would look 5 or 10 years younger if I had new dentures. "Then he showed me pictures of many patients before and after they had received false teeth. "It was certainly true that they looked much younger. So I grew less fearful. "He then told me that nowadays dentists ask for former photographs of the patient before they construct the new dentures. "For they try to make the new teeth look like the patient's natural teeth used to. "And he used a metal wire to make a profile of my face so that he could build my teeth to fit the proper shape of my face. "Well, I grew so interested that I agreed to get false teeth. And now look at me! I actually appear 10 years younger as you can see by this photograph taken a few months ago before I obtained my new teeth. "Oh, I am so happy! My whole personality has changed. My family say I am more like myself than I have been in many years. "And I never had to see the psychiatrist at all. Maybe modern dentists serve indirectly as psychiatrists, don't you think?"

DENTAL PSYCHIATRISTS Dentists give a psychological boost to the morale of shy, introverted teenagers who feel inferior because of their uneven or protruding front teeth. For the dentists then straighten these teeth and make the young people look attractive. The basic cause of their inferiority complex is thus removed. False teeth can make you look younger by filling out the hollow spots in your cheeks. And they will remove the puckered wrinkles around your sunken mouth. They also add more vertical dimension to your profile, thereby reducing your "old witch" appearance. But they also permit you to eat raw vegetables and tough steaks, which are the foods of your youth. So look younger and feel younger by getting new dentures as soon as you need them. Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 2c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets. ## Teen Gives Parent Advice on How to Teach Children

Parent asked how he could teach his children laws and keep them decent. It's up to the parent to do that himself. Many parents try but break laws and get into trouble themselves. With such examples it's understandable how the kids get into trouble. If you trust your children and let them know it, show them you're interested and give them love and guidance, they'll be all right. Count your blessings and give them a chance to grow up.

Gives Explanation of Term '63B'

The following is taken from the international agreement between the union and General Motors. It explains a 63B which Bosh talked about in an earlier letter.

"It is the policy of Management to cooperate in every practical way with employees who desire transfers to new positions or vacancies in their department. Accordingly, such employees who make application to their foreman or the Personnel Department stating their desires, qualifications and experience will be given preference for openings in their department provided they are capable of doing the job. However, employees who have made application as provided above and who are capable of doing the job available shall be given preference over new hires. In case the opening is in an equal or lower rated classification and there is more than one applicant capable of doing the job, the applicant with the longest seniority will be given preference."

Bald Man Asks End of Nickname

I'm bald and unhappy about it. Why can't these 10-cent dimwits quit calling me "Curly"? Suppose I started calling them "Stupid" and "Lame Brain" which I think most of them are.

"Curly"

Social Paradox Perplexes Man

The uncharitable give to charity, the lecherous restrain their vice and the brutal curb instincts against their fellows not because they fear legal retaliation, but because their communal standing would be affected. But with animals, legal penalties are slight and social censure lacking.

The woman who gives baby animals to her children to maul will not be refused club membership. The scientist who performs experiments on animals only to satisfy his vanity and curiosity will cause no member of his church congregation to turn away. The woman who wears furs caught by trapping and other cruel methods will be admired rather than derided. Operators of unspeakable livestock auctions and riding academies are others. And there, terrified, tortured and helpless, cower the animals.

Girls' Appearance Disgusts Reader

A piece in The Press recently praised the TV program Bandstand. It's sickening to me, as way girls shake and wear such tight clothes. People talk about how Elvis shakes and wears tight clothes. They should look at their own children on Bandstand. Some of the girls look real cute in full skirts, but the ones in tight skirts and sweaters ruin it for the others.

New Teeth Can Work Wonders

Martha was like millions of men and women past 40 who refuse to get false teeth. So she grew neurotic and was referred to a psychiatrist. But a tactful modern dentist made her look 10 years younger and gave her new zest for living, for dentists often function partly as psychiatrists. See the proof below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE Case W-303: Martha M., aged 43, had become very neurotic. "Dr. Crane, I was finally referred to psychiatrist by my family physician," she began. "For I was so upset and afraid. My family tried to reassure me, but I just felt blue and moody most of the time. "For all my teeth were gone except a few in front. I couldn't chew, so my husband had suggested that I get false teeth. "But I was panicky at the thought. I guess I felt that to lose my remaining few teeth would place me in the senile class. "Under pressure from my family, however, I finally started down town to see the psychiatrist. "But I lost my nerve, so I dropped into a dentist's office first. He had a very reassuring personality and told me that I would look 5 or 10 years younger if I had new dentures. "Then he showed me pictures of many patients before and after they had received false teeth. "It was certainly true that they looked much younger. So I grew less fearful. "He then told me that nowadays dentists ask for former photographs of the patient before they construct the new dentures. "For they try to make the new teeth look like the patient's natural teeth used to. "And he used a metal wire to make a profile of my face so that he could build my teeth to fit the proper shape of my face. "Well, I grew so interested that I agreed to get false teeth. And now look at me! I actually appear 10 years younger as you can see by this photograph taken a few months ago before I obtained my new teeth. "Oh, I am so happy! My whole personality has changed. My family say I am more like myself than I have been in many years. "And I never had to see the psychiatrist at all. Maybe modern dentists serve indirectly as psychiatrists, don't you think?"

DENTAL PSYCHIATRISTS Dentists give a psychological boost to the morale of shy, introverted teenagers who feel in-

Gen. Ike Ready to Defend U.S. at Little Rock

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower has doffed his Homburg hat and reluctantly put on again Gen. Ike's old garrison cap. The President's angry reactions to events in Arkansas show he is ready, willing and able to assume a role more aggressive than any he has assumed since he was victorious commander of the Western Allied forces against Germany.

This is a man who commanded millions of men in a war against an outside enemy, and was most effective in creating unity to win that war. He has been stirred to anger, never to panic. A man who has been a victorious general and is presently commander in chief of the armed forces of the United States cannot indefinitely sit idly by when his chain of command is challenged. Nor can a corporal.

Thus President Eisenhower, the statesman-politician, might want to look the other way when a state governor calls out the National Guard on a controversial day, but Gen. Eisenhower, both as soldier and president, is by oath committed to the federal duty.

Ike, the golfing President, became again the general, when he issued a statement—which, to those who knew Eisenhower in war, is an order of the day:

"I will use the full power of the United States, including whatever force may be necessary, to prevent any obstruction of the law and to carry out the orders of the federal court."

To those who think of Eisenhower as a compliant president, it may be pertinent to point out that the foregoing statement is the promise of a general not unused to challenge, not strange to trial, not foreign to victory. "I will use the full power of the United States," he said, "including whatever force may be necessary, to prevent any obstruction of the law and to carry out the orders of the federal court."

This is Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States, speaking.

Plenty of Peppers

LOS ANGELES — California farmers grow nearly two thirds of the nation's chili-pepper crop. This year they planted 3,315 acres of peppers, 6 per cent more than in 1956. Last year's harvest of 5,110 tons represented an increase of 40 per cent over the 1946 crop.

The commander in chief, explaining to the nation last night why he ordered federal troops to Little Rock, said "mob rule" threatened the safety of the United States and the rest of the free world.

In a TV-radio broadcast from the White House, he solemnly called upon citizens of Arkansas to help bring an end to all interference with legal processes. "Mob rule cannot be allowed to override the decisions of the courts," he declared.

The President pledged: "If resistance to the federal court orders ceases at once, the further presence of federal troops will be unnecessary."

He said the safety of the United States and the free world had been menaced because "gloating" Communists abroad were using the school integration riots to misrepresent this country and undermine its prestige and influence around the globe.

Park Hotel Bought by Salvation Army

DETROIT (INS)—The Salvation Army today is the owner of the $600,000 14-story Park Avenue Hotel (at Park and Sprout) in Detroit.

The SA announced yesterday it had purchased the building as a residence for old people.

Brig. Clyde Cox stated an adjoining brick rooming house will be leveled to provide space for an outdoor garden. The former hotel will be known as Eventide Home and renovation is expected to be completed next spring.

Cox said it would accommodate 200 guests.

Paper Publishes Late After Printer Fools Up

DOUGLAS, Wyo. (AP)—The weekly Douglas Enterprise was a day late publishing recently and carried this page 1 explanation: "The Enterprise is a little behind schedule this week as the printer we hired last week got his directions mixed up over the week-end and went to work for the (competing weekly) Budget across the street."

Detroit Firm Opens Store Here

The first local branch of an established Detroit firm, the Monarch Men's Shop, will open this week at the new Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

The new store is Monarch's first move into suburban areas since the firm was established by two brothers, Dore and Robert Novitz, in Detroit, 23 years ago.

Named as manager of the new shop is Orville Springer, of 447 Montclair St., who has been a Pontiac resident for 36 years. Springer has spent 20 of those years in the clothing business.

The new Monarch Men's Shop will carry a complete line of men's and boys' furnishings with a vast stock of everything from casual wear to formal clothing.

Among the nationally advertised brand names to be found at the store are Arrow, Clipper Craft, Clothes, and a complete array of Stetson hats.

The interior will be designed to make browsing more easy and enjoyable for patrons. A color design of soft shades of tans and yellows is blended together pleasantly by their indirect, recessed lighting system.

The store will consist of casual wear, trousers, and clothing departments, situated to make self selection an easy task.

The front of the store is of enameled steel construction with two doors and straight and "L" shaped window displays. Open wall cases will be found in the front of the store, displaying casual wear in a manner designed for semi-self selection.

The building is of steel and concrete construction and will be uniformly air conditioned and heated.

Wilson Orders Guard in Army

Secretary of Defense Moves Fast to Carry Out Ike's Directive

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson moved quickly yesterday afternoon to designate troop units to carry out President Eisenhower's order to enforce school integration in Little Rock.

Here is the text of Wilson's order federalizing the Arkansas National Guard:

"I, Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense of the United States of America, by virtue of the direction to me from the President of the United States under Executive Order dated 24 September 1957, entitled 'Providing Assistance for the Removal of an Obstruction of Justice Within the State of Arkansas,' hereby call into the Federal service all of the units and the members thereof of the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard of the state of Arkansas, to serve in the active military service of the United States for an indefinite period and until relieved by appropriate orders.

"I order the members of such National Guard units to hold themselves in readiness for further orders as to the time and date of reporting to active duty by the secretary of the Army acting for me.

"Copies hereof shall be furnished forthwith to the governor of Arkansas and to the commanding officers of the Army National Guard and the Air National Guard in the state of Arkansas.

"I further direct that the secretary of the Army take such action as he deems necessary to implement such executive order and this order, and I hereby vest in the secretary of the Army the right to exercise any and all of the authority conferred upon me by sections 2 and 3 of the above mentioned Executive Order of 24 September, 1957."

The President's order makes nearly 16,000 Arkansas National Guardsmen available for Federal service. Wilson also may use any Regular Army troops he believes are necessary.

The Arkansas National Guard, as of July 31, included 8,605 men in ground units and 1,331 in the Air National Guard. Eisenhower's sweeping order embraced both branches of the service.

Cost of Living Rises to Set August Record

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government reported today that the cost of living increased in August for the 12th consecutive month and was 3.6 per cent higher than a year ago.

Higher prices for food and housing were the main reasons for the advance in August although all other major groups of goods and services also rose.

Prices of goods and services went up two-tenths of one per cent in August and at the end of the month stood at 121 per cent of the 1947-48 average.

Food, which accounts for one-third of the consumer price index, declined one and one-half per cent in August last year but went up four-tenths of one per cent last month.

At 117.9 per cent of the 1947-48 average, the retail food index was at a record high in August, 4.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

Galapagos Finch Is Living Text on Evolution of Birds

WASHINGTON — Galapagos finches form a living text in evolution. Scientists believe all the forms found in the islands are descended from a single species. In time, they took over the various niches customary to bird life.

One finch became, in effect, a warbler, with a thin beak and insect-hunting habits. Others became seed eaters, modifying their beaks for small or large grains. Another species has grown a parrotlike beak for eating fruit and tree buds.

Convictions of 2 to Be Reversed

Access to FBI Records Concerned in Cases of Lightfoot, Scales.

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department says two Smith Act convictions must be reversed in view of a recent Supreme Court ruling that defendants must have access to pertinent government files in certain cases.

In a memorandum yesterday to the Supreme Court the department said the two cases involved the same government records issue decided in the Jencks case.

The two men involved are Claude M. Lightfoot, a Chicago Negro who served as executive secretary of the Illinois Communist party, and Junius I. Scales, Communist leader in Tennessee and the Carolinas.

Lightfoot was sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000. Scales got a six-year sentence. The Supreme Court heard arguments on their appeals last November, but on June 3 it set arguments for Oct. 14.

It was also on June 3 that the court ordered a new trial for Clinton E. Jencks, a former labor official convicted of filing a false non-Communist affidavit. The court said Jencks should have been given access to FBI reports made by undercover agents who testified against him at his trial.

Congress last month passed a bill to let trial judges decide what parts of a government document, if any, should be shown a defendant.

The Justice Department said presumably any new trials for Scales and Lightfoot would be governed by provisions of the new act.

Los Angeles Packaging Smog as City Souvenir

LOS ANGELES — Ever since the land boom days that preceded citrus and film production, Southern Californians have had a reputation for capitalizing on anything.

So now come two San Fernando Valley men to package smog, in cans and other containers, as a souvenir "of the nation's third largest city."

Carlton Young and Noel T. Young of Van Nuys have filed articles of incorporation.

Son Born to Belafontes in New York City

NEW YORK — Mrs. Harry Belafonte, wife of the singer and actor, gave birth yesterday to a son, David Michael, at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

Belafonte is at New York Hospital recuperating after a second operation in a month for an eye ailment. He is expected to remain at least another week.

Belafonte, a Negro, was married March 8 to Julie Robinson, 28-year-old white dancer.

New Miracle Mile Center Has Sibley Shoe Store

For years one of Michigan's largest dealers in Florsheim Shoes, the Sibley Shoe Stores will open their fifth store, Thursday, at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

The new store, Sibley's Miracle Mile Shoes, will be one of the largest in the company chain, and first in the Pontiac area.

Their original store was founded in 1921, located next to the Fox Theater Building in downtown Detroit.

The company has named Nathan Weiner, who has been with them for six years, as manager of the new store. Weiner is being transferred here from his former position as manager of the Grand River-Southfield store.

Sibley's, as has been their practice, will specialize in better grade men's, women's and children's footwear.

The store's interior is of an unusual and striking design. With the lighting and color scheme created by world famous designer, Raymond Loewy, the shop is decorated to create a very casual atmosphere directed at the present trend toward casual living.

Each department will be separated, with something to catch the eye and mood of each member of the family. The plush carpeting is in gold and blends softly with bamboo-type wallpaper and modern bamboo furniture.

Atop all this is a pleasant blue ceiling blended with the remainder of the design by soft recessed lighting.

The children's department will no doubt be enjoyed as much by adults as the kids. It is featured by a four-horse merry-go-round and a crazy mirror.

Many men will find they can actually "get a lift" out of shopping for their shoes at Sibley's. The company has been exclusive dealers for elevator shoes in Michigan for many years and can guarantee men that they will "walk out two inches taller."

The Sibley Shoe chain has other stores at Grand River and Southfield, Livernois and Seven Mile Roads, and in the Lincoln Park Plaza Shopping Center.

Gomulka Tells Bonn to Accept Frontier

WARSAW — Wladyslaw Gomulka says there is only one alternative to permanent acceptance of Poland's disputed frontier with Germany — "the alternative of war."

"We cannot remain blind to this truth," he told a meeting at the Warsaw auto works Saturday in a speech made public only last night.

"That is why we stress that the present policy of West Germany is a great danger for Eastern Europe. We must secure ourselves against this danger by building our own military forces and by a system of alliances."

Poland's western frontier now runs along the Oder-Neisse River line. It was imposed by the Soviet Union after World War II. The line takes in some former German territory to compensate Poland for Polish territory taken by Russia.

The line never has been recognized as permanent by the Western powers or by West Germany.

Laile Faces Loss of Job Sept. 30

Quartermaster General of State Guard Ousted

LANSING — Gov. Williams last night ordered Col. Herbert F. Laile of East Lansing relieved on Sept. 30 as quartermaster general of the Michigan National Guard.

The governor, acting as commander-in-chief of state military forces, said there was some possibility Laile would be restored to his post on Oct. 1 with the rank of brigadier general.

But there were signs this is unlikely, and Laile, who learned of Williams' plan at a meeting in the governor's office, told newsmen afterwards, "This is quite a shock, quite a blow."

The position of quartermaster general is one of two in the Guard set in which the incumbent officer receives the full pay of his rank full allowances and longevity. The other is state adjutant general.

For Laile, this means about $12,000 a year.

LEGISLATURE RULED

The governor told the State Military Board, his official advisers for most military purposes, that his action stemmed from a 1957 legislative enactment.

A bill was passed requiring that the quartermaster general hold the rank of brigadier general. Williams said this meant either the Legislature intended a promotion for the incumbent, or that the office should be vacated and filled from among the 12 members of the Guard holding the next lower rank — namely, colonel.

If it was the first, the governor said, this would be an invasion of the governor's constitutional authority to promote guard officers, something he as governor could not permit.

Williams said he was proceeding under the second interpretation, as laid out for him by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh.

He asked the board, of which Laile is an ex officio member, to supply him a list of colonels eligible and qualified to fill the vacancy that then will exist, together with its recommendations.

LAILE WORRIED
Laile asked the governor if he proposed to relieve him "without further consideration."

Williams replied that he did.

Cool for Traffic Cops but Hot for Violators

WALTHAM, Mass. — To make it hot for traffic violators, first make it cool for the traffic cop.

That's the prescription here where traffic division police taxed themselves $1 a week to buy a one-ton air conditioner for their office and a smaller one for the squad commander's office.

Similarly the men got new floors for their quarters by trimming and laying the tiles themselves.

Capt. Walter T. Weir, head of the squad, says he's sold on do-it-yourself.

Needle Gas Into Soil to Serve as Fertilizer

DES MOINES, Iowa. — A relatively new use of ammonia involves its direct application to the soil as a gas. The gas, needed into the soil, diffuses in all directions.

This revolution in fertilizing practice enables farmers to plant a pay crop every year without depleting their land.

Small Women Get Big Break

Small-sized women will get a special break at the new Miracle Mile Town & Country Shoppers City.

Opening there tomorrow will be a new branch of Naden's Inc., a Michigan company that specializes in women's junior-size wearing apparel.

Naden's is a relatively new firm, nine years old, with two other stores in Detroit.

Although the company is new to Pontiac, its manager is not. She is Bertha Hunt, who has been in the retailing business many years and is former millinery manager at George's-Newport's department store in downtown Pontiac.

Nationally-known brands, including medium-to-better-priced sports wear, suits, coats and a full line of dresses will be featured in the store's 3,000 feet of selling space.

Decorations throughout take their cue from a large fireplace, giving the store a suburban setting, in which its merchandise is best displayed, said Miss Hunt.

She was quick to point out that though the store specializes in sizes 5 to 15, these are not necessarily styled for youngsters, but rather for short or slim women. Naden's two Detroit stores are at 13516 W. McNichols Rd. and at 33 W. Putnam St.

Upper Peninsula Gets Tracks

Railroad Day Returns

GRAND MARAIS — Railroad building—which is something new to these times—is going on in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Men and machines are cutting and smoothing a grade and laying down steel track.

It is only for a distance of 16 miles. But it is regarded as significant as a recognition of new potential wealth from the forests.

The Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad is building an $800,000 16-mile line from its present terminal at Cusino to a new terminal southwest of Grand Marais, a few miles from Lake Superior's Pictured Rocks.

Wood products from timberlands of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. and the State Conservation Department are to be hauled on the new line.

Cleveland Cliffs, which owns the L&I Railroad, says it has been determined that the timber products are of sufficient commercial value to support the new operation.

To a large extent mechanical, the methods used in building the line contrast sharply with the past.

Men's muscle was predominant in the old construction of America's railroads.

But the L&I is strictly modern. "Tumblebugs" built the grade rapidly in place of the slower slip scrapers of another day.

Trucks haul the rails and other track equipment on newly bulldozed roads, staying ahead of the track layers. A special crane sets the rails gently into place.

The rails are spiked to the ties with a pneumatic hammer. Another device bolts the rails together. There has been one problem—ties.

In the great days of railroad building, the Upper Peninsula was a big producer of ties. A treating plant west of Ishpeming is being worked 24 hours a day to supply the ties.

The new terminal has a name. It is "Ewalt Landing," named for Richard Ewalt, forester of Cleveland Cliffs.

Son of Burns and Allen Sentenced for Speeding

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Ronnie Burns, actor son of George Burns and Gracie Allen, has been sentenced to spend two Saturdays doing "manual labor" for the Beverly Hills police chief.

Burns, 22, was given the sentence in Municipal Court yesterday as a condition of a 10-day jail term. He also was given one year's summary probation. Burns was sentenced for speeding 85 m.p.h. in a sports car in a 25-mile zone here.

Prize Money Now at $300 in Pot-O-Gold

Another new puzzle adds another $100 to the Pot-O-Gold coffers, bringing it back to the $300 mark. If no one has found the answers to last week's puzzle, a perfect solution for this puzzle will empty the pot. Read all rules and clues carefully.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

A car driven by Beatrice B. Heff, 38, of Keego Harbor, was stopped to make a left hand turn off Telegraph road when it was hit by the car of Donald E. Gaspie, 23, of 118 Nakoma St.

Mrs. Heff was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with possible spine injuries. Gaspie was treated for lacerations and released.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: How fast can the hummingbird move his wings?

ANSWER: A hummingbird can beat his wings 55 times each second. He moves his wings so rapidly they make a whirling sound, which is especially noticeable when he's hovering over flowers to feed on their nectar. The motion of his wings is so fast they seem a blur. Hummingbirds, which live only in the Americas, very from about two inches in length to about nine inches, depending upon which of 319 known species you're talking about. The two-inch hummingbird is the smallest of all birds. Eighteen species of hummingbirds live in the United States. It can fly 55 miles an hour. Hummingbirds' legs are weak, and they spend most of their active hours aloft. They're the only birds capable of true backward flight. They feed entirely on the wing, with their sharp pointed little bills searching far down into flowers to reach nectar and insects.

Use Oodles of Noodles to Get Funds for School
 RACINE, Wis. (U) — The ladies of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine of St. Lucy's Church are using their noodles—to raise funds for the parish's school fund.

Leader of the project is Mrs. Louis Szondi who was presented with a jeweled rolling pin when hailed by her fellow workers as the confraternity's "Empress of Noodledom."
 Following a close time table because you can't rush a noodle—the ladies will produce 200 packages of noodles to be sold for 50 to 75 cents a package at the annual bazaar.

 Green paper money first was issued by the United States government in February of 1862.

Patrolman Becomes Pastor of 3 Churches
 FOUCHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (U) — Albert F. Arbogast, Sr. was a city police patrolman with nine years of service on May 1. A month later, he was the pastor of three rural Methodist Churches in Malden, Quarryville, and Palenville.

 The Kingston native said he long had wanted to be a minister. After his appointment to the police force in 1948, he resumed interrupted church work and study.

 On May 1 he received his preacher's license, and shortly afterward his appointment.
 The Rev. and Mrs. Arbogast have two sons, Albert Jr., 16, and William 3rd, 15.

Clamp Down on Persons Failing to Pay Bills
 CHEYENNE, Okla. (U) — City officials here are clamping down on persons who fail to pay their water bills on time.

Water service is cut off promptly on the 15th of each month to residents who have not paid. But the slow-paying customers aren't forced to do without water — they are welcome to haul water from a hydrant in the city park.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wooten of Cheltenham, England, yearned to take them in during a visit in exchange for hospitality in their own home in England.

they could take outside the country blocked their plans for several years. They wrote to the mayors of several American cities asking if they knew of anyone who would take them in during a visit in exchange for hospitality in their own home in England.

"We were besieged," said Mrs. Wooten here. Among the cities they will visit under their plan are Atlantic City, Asheville, N. C., Miami, Mobile and Denver.

Wet Golf Greens Dried by Mechanical 'Blotter'

WEST POINT, Pa. — A West Point manufacturer has developed a self-propelled mechanical "blotter" for use in drying wet turf, which sometimes cheats golf and tennis fans out of valuable playing time.

The factory says its "blotter" soaks up excess moisture from turf like a sponge mop on a wet kitchen floor.

The machine features a 24-inch roller of a specially made cellulose sponge that is said to hold 20 times its weight in water.

Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain in Africa, rises 19,340 feet above sea level. Masai tribesmen of Tanganyika call it "House of God."

Farmers in Nebraska Turning to Irrigation

WATERLOO, Neb. (AP) — Several years of drought turned a lot of Nebraska farmers to irrigation. This year the shoe has been on the other foot and abnormally heavy rains have caused flooding and left water standing in many fields.

A number of farmers, like Clarence Clover who lives south of Waterloo, had the ready-made remedy: They simply used their irrigation equipment in reverse and pump the water out of their fields.

made preparations for Michigan State University where they are freshmen. They are the daughters of Mrs. J. Earl Cowan of Wenonah drive.

Carol Brooks Section Sews for Needy Infants

More than 50,000 infant garments have been contributed to the needy of Pontiac during the last 26 years by the Carol Brooks Section of the Pontiac Branch, Needlework Guild, Inc.

Meeting once a month at the YWCA, members cut and sew infant wear. Some sewing is done at home. The completed garments are assembled in layettes consisting of nighties, diapers, shirts and blankets.

Until recently, the 35 women featherstitched in color around the tiny rolled hem of neck and sleeves on the all-white nighties. Now most of the material is the small sprigged rosebud pattern with matching tape-ties at the neck.

Seventy-five layettes are being completed for the annual Ingathering of Needlework Guild on Nov. 14 in the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Vaughn S. Garrison is president of the group; Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer, vice president; Mrs. Arthur R. Young, secretary; Mrs. Glenn H. Griffin, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Norman H. Kujala, treasurer.

The board of directors consists of the officers and the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Addison K. Oakley, ways and means; Mrs. William S. Isgrigg, publicity; Mrs. P. H. Hubbard, associate membership; Mrs. Donald S. Smith, Mrs. James A. Hubbard and Mrs. Arthur H. Harrington, sewing chairmen.

Mrs. Carroll C. Braid, chairman of purchasing, stated she has just bought 300 yards of outing flannel to start next year's work.

FOUNDED IN 1931

It was in October 1931 that a group of young matrons met at the home of Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald on Ottawa drive and organized under the direction of Mrs. Vern C. Markley, who was in charge of junior activities of the Pontiac Branch.

Mrs. Robert A. Armstrong was named assistant director; Mrs. Harold E. Howlett, secretary, and Mrs. Fitzgerald, treasurer.

This was during the depression years when men were out of work, banks were closing, and funds of charitable organizations were gone. There was a great demand for infant clothing. The group sponsored a ball, raised funds for material and began its work.

Twenty-five women joined the organization and met every Thursday morning in Pontiac General Hospital to cut and sew the garments.

EARLY MEMBERS

The early members of Carol Brooks included Mrs. Harold A. Furlong, Mrs. John E. Clark, Mrs. E. Hardy Luther, Mrs. Bertie T. Larson, Mrs. Harold A. St. John, Mrs. Henry A. Houston Jr., Mrs. Stuart E. Whitfield, Mrs. L. Warren Gately, Mrs. Claire Gaskler, Mrs. Edwin H. Hallett, Mrs. Carleton C. Patterson and Mrs. J. Kenneth Eddy.

Others were Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Howard B. Barker, Mrs. C. Sanborn Hutchins, Mrs. James A. Hubbard, Mrs. Russell V. Thurston, Mrs. Loren C. Sheffield, Mrs. Aaron D. Riker, Mrs. Clifford T. Ekelund, Mrs. Harold E. Groves, Mrs. John D. Ellis, Mrs. George K. Zimmerman, Mrs. Noyce W. Strait, Mrs. Howlett, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Markley and the late Mrs. Harold L. Ward.

Mrs. Carroll C. Braid (right), chairman of purchasing for Carol Brooks Section of Pontiac Branch, Needlework

McElroys Find Home in Capital

New Defense Boss and Family to Live in Charming Flat

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON — When new Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy moves his family to the capital from their home in Cincinnati, a charming two-bedroom, two-bath apartment, freshly painted and completely furnished, will be awaiting them.

McElroy, his wife and young son, Malcolm, found the apartment during a quickie visit shortly after the former $280,000-a-year soap company president was sworn into his $25,000-a-year job at the Pentagon where he succeeds Charles E. Wilson.

The new Washington address of the McElroys is in the swank cooperatively owned Westchester Apts., home of many government bigwigs.

The apartment also boasts a huge living room and a step-up dining area off the kitchen. Artistic Mrs. McElroy chose a soft robin's egg blue color for the entire apartment.

NOT SURPRISED

There was at least one person who was not surprised at the sweeping victory scored by Democrat William Proxmire in the Wisconsin special election to fill the vacancy in the U.S. Senate caused by the death of Sen. McCarthy — his mother-in-law.

She is Mrs. Charles R. Hodges of nearby Bethesda, Md. She told local newsmen she was so sure of the outcome she changed the linens in the guest room in anticipation of a visit from the couple before she even learned the election returns.

She said her daughter, Ellen, who married the new senator in December 1956, had told her if Proxmire won they'd be here a few days for his swearing-in.

"Bill," she said happily, "is one in a million."
Charles Hodges is with the U. S. Patent Office. He admitted he wasn't so sure of his son-in-law's victory.

PERT POINTERS

Glamorous Anika Burgard, Dutch-born former Paris fashion model and now director of women's affairs for a transatlantic airline, has a few pert pointers for women travelers, imparted on a recent trip to Washington:

"Don't take rhinestone-studded plastic high-heeled shoes to Paris because they wouldn't be appreciated in Maxim's."

"Don't forget to take along a packable hat or lace mantilla if you plan to go to cathedrals because in the last instance your husband's handkerchief doesn't look well draped on the head."

Women's Section Personal News of Interest in Area

Catherine Justin Feted at China Bridal Shower

Catherine Ann Justin, bride-elect of Thomas F. Devereaux, was honored Tuesday evening at a china shower given by Mrs. Donald McLean in her Oriole road home.

Refreshments were served from a table featuring red and white carnations with a white lace cloth, white candles and bridal couple figurines. Presiding at the silver service was the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. William J. Justin.

The guest list included Mrs. Justin, Mrs. Thomas Devereaux of Howell, the prospective bridegroom's mother; Mrs. Norman H. Kujala, Mrs. W. W. Abbott, Mrs. Dale Meneer, Mrs. William Webb, Mrs. Walter Ward, Mrs. Clarence Norton, Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson and Mrs. Willis Brewer.

Others were Mrs. Charles Heimke, Mrs. Frank Green, Mrs. Thomas Hollis, Mrs. Cecil Myers, Mrs. George Yansen, Mrs. Merlin Sanders, Irene Dawson, Mrs. Lucille Boner, Joyce Hofman, Faith Cook, Rosemary Wandell, Sally Gamm and Ann Demery.

The bride-elect, daughter of the William John Justins of Orchard Lake, and her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Devereaux of Howell, will be married Oct. 19 in Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT B. WILSON

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Wilson of Preston street. The couple will be honored with a reception at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. The Wilsons have four children, Donald Wilson, Mrs. George Driitler and Clare Wilson, all of Pontiac, and Harold Wilson of Detroit.

Companies Want Unbought Love

By ANNE HEYWOOD
 There's one thing all members of the human race have in common — we want to be loved, or liked, for ourselves alone.

When we find that people have taken up with us just because our daddy is head of a business — or our house is on the beach, or our older sister is a dreamboat, or we're good at arithmetic—we're miserable. We want people to find us interesting for ourselves alone and not for any other reason.

MADE UP OF PEOPLE

Well, companies are like that, too. After all, no matter how large a corporation may be, it's made up of people.

The best way to get a job with a corporation is to be really interested in it and the work it does.

If you show too much interest in fringe benefits and vacation schedules — putting them ahead of anything else — you're in a class with the person who cultivates people because they have money!

That's a mistake Polly Y. is making.

LOW STANDARDS

Here's part of her letter: "Jobs are supposed to be easy to get, but they aren't — that is, unless your standards are low and you'll work just anywhere.

"I want a top job to a top man in a top corporation. I have the experience for it and I'm a good secretary with all the educational requirements. I'm 31 and quite attractive. I don't care what kind of work it is, but I want good pay, good pension plans and vacation benefits. But when I ask about them, the interviewer always looks as if I've made a big boner."

"Why shouldn't I want to have security?" We all want security.

GOOD MANNERS

But when you apply for a job, it's only good manners, let alone good judgment, to highlight what you think you can contribute to the company and to soft-pedal what you want from them.

To go into the interview with "gimme, gimme" the upmost thought in your mind is to lose the job.

Even though it's an executive secretarial job, you've got to select an area that interests you.

Maybe you like working with figures, or working with people; maybe the transportation field or the public utilities field or the food field interests you.

Whatever it is, you have got to think in terms of them and what you could offer them, and you have to find them interesting.

In short, you have to love them for themselves alone, and after that, the fringe benefits will be a nice addition.

If you have trouble getting jobs, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my "Checklist on Good Manners in Job-Hunting." (Copyright, 1951)

Dorothy Ostrander was honored at a bridal shower given by Bonnie Allen and Ruth Allen and Ruth Ann Bandy in Miss Bandy's Lowell street home.

Bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ostrander of Parkway drive and her fiancé, Gerald A. Klein, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Klein of Ludington. The couple will be married Sept. 28 in United Church of Big Rapids.

8 Teachers Attend State Conference

Eight Pontiac teachers attended Alpha Delta Kappa honorary sorority's state conference in East Lansing Saturday.

The group was greeted by field representative Mrs. Maye Payne from national headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Purpose of the sorority for women teachers is to further high educational standards, social and altruistic values.

Shoemakers Shrewd

Shrewd, those early Italian shoemakers. Roman shoemakers were constantly promoting parades. The reason: the more people walked, the quicker they wore out their shoes and the more business they created for the shoemakers.

Why Will Honest Woman Fib About Club Chores?

Why Does Poor Housekeeper Think Disorder Makes Her Home Comfy?

By RUTH MILLETT

Why is it — That the most honest of women — if put to the job of appointing committee chairmen for an organization — will promise each person she is trying to talk into taking a hard job that it won't be "any trouble at all?"

That the woman with the most clothes in her closet is the woman who is always telling her husband, "I haven't a thing to wear?"

That a woman can convince herself she needs almost anything she sees in a store — if the price tag shows the price has been cut in half?

That the poor housekeeper usually assumes that her house is more livable than a house that is kept in apple pie order?

That so many women think that "being married to a man gives them the right to correct any statement he makes?"

That so many women can hold down a full-time job and do the housekeeping too, while most men come home from a day's work too exhausted to do anything but sprawl in front of the TV set?

SLOPPY ATTIRE

That a woman who looks positively beautiful when dressed for a party will let herself be seen at the supermarket in pincurls and shorts that loudly proclaim she would look better in a dress?

That women find it so difficult to turn down an invitation they know promises only a dull evening?

That so many women save their sweetest tones for strangers and let a whine creep into their voices whenever they are talking to members of the family?

That a woman can have such a fine time "shopping" for an afternoon without buying a single thing?

Marks 8th Birthday

Catherine Ann Barnowsky of East Russell street celebrated her eighth birthday on Saturday with a party. Among the guests were Judy Rick, Susan Twelt, Rosie Schertzer, Wendy Bilyeu, Susan Palasek, Dianne Campbell, Devota Ann Taylor and Karen Plourde.

Worry Can Wreck Mental Health

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
Mental health is of the greatest importance to all of us. It not only affects our happiness but our health, and even our looks. Jealousy, anger, envy, cattiness, depression — all have their damaging influence, but perhaps worry is the greatest saboteur of them all.

Worry saps a tremendous amount of energy. This can make one feel exhausted when there is no real physical difficulty. It actually can cause illness.

It also gives us wrinkles and a drooping facial contour. It may even show in our walk and posture. It is something none of us can afford; once it gets into our outlook it can be a vicious and tenacious habit. It takes real effort to break the worry habit — but it can be done!

A sense of humor is most helpful. We must also learn to execute mental and emotional cutoffs in times of unhappiness if we are to survive. It helps to realize that our problems and disappointments are no worse, and not as bad, as those of many others.

Life is wonderful but it is rugged, and full of risks to life, limb and happiness. Perhaps some folks sail through life without any problems or any complications, but I doubt it!

FINANCIAL STRAIN
Most people are under financial strain from maturity all through life and are attacked by stresses from all sides. They are pulled this way and that by their loyalties and obligations, their desires and dreams.

Even if there is plenty of money there are apt to be emotional difficulties. Life isn't easy for anyone all of the time.

It seems to me that it would be helpful if we could keep this in mind. It would make us more tolerant to remember that most of the thoughtlessness, rudeness and cussedness we meet come from inner turmoil on the part of the offender or from poor health. This alone would relieve us of many a negative emotion.

If you would like to have my leaflet which gives you psychological suggestions on how to end the worry habit send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 64 "Worry."

Much Fur for Fall

"If it's fur, its fashion" might well be a slogan for this coming Fall season. In the accessory line you'll see a profusion of hats, collars, cuffs, belts and bags — all of fur... or a reasonable facsimile.

But the big surprise is the profusion of "fur" coats. From California coat designers comes deep-dyed "fur" used in two ways: It gives you a long coat cut on full, graceful lines, interprets it in a fur-striped Glenora... looking for all the world like mutation mink!

Jane G. Fisher Marries

Chapel flowers banked the altar of First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, for the noon wedding Saturday of Jane Gail Fisher and Erik Leif Bergishagen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Everett Fisher of Birmingham are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Erik Bergishagen of Birmingham and the late Mr. Bergishagen.

For her wedding the bride chose an afternoon dress of beige wool jersey trimmed in beige satin with a small velvet and feathered hat. She carried Hibbard roses.

Nancy C. Lewis of Birmingham served as the bride's only attendant. She wore a sapphire blue silk street-length dress with a feathered hat.

Serving his brother as best man was Finn Bergishagen of Birmingham. Robert Fitzgibbon, also of Birmingham, seated the 60 guests.

For a reception at the home of the Robert J. Vintons of Birmingham the bride's mother chose a navy silk tulle suit with a white feathered hat and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Bergishagen wore a navy silk gown with a white net hat and a corsage of white orchids.

For a short trip the bride changed to a sapphire blue wool tweed dress with navy accessories. The couple will live in Birmingham.

Parents Must Firmly Stick to Standards

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
It was Midge Ryerson who cracked the window in the Lawsons' car.

He, Dave and another kid were playing ball in front of the Lawsons' house. Big for 14, Midge had a powerful pitch, and one of them sizzled right on past Dave's glove — straight into the side window of the Lawsons' parked car.

Dave saw the glass splinter. Still struggling to digest this impression, he heard someone shout "Get lost!" Then he was alone. Midge and the other kid were gone — and a red-faced, shouting Mr. Lawson was striding down his front walk towards him, shaking his fist.

Later, when he borrowed money from his father to pay his share of the damage, he was close to tears. "It will take me weeks to pay you back from my allowance," he said.

"If I'd run like Midge and that other kid, I wouldn't have to pay. I wouldn't have had to listen to old man Lawson calling me a juvenile delinquent."

Protested Dave despairingly.

Check Cord Binding

If the cord bindings on sofa cushions show wear, overcast the bindings with nylon yarn to match the color of the upholstery. The cushions will not only look better but will wear much longer.

Box Mending Tape

For a laundry time saver, cut hot iron mending tape in round, oblong and other shapes and separate in small boxes. While ironing it is easy to select the size tape needed instead of stopping to cut the proper size.

"What's the good of telling the truth like I did if telling it costs me $8 — and running away saves $8 for Midge and that other kid?"

NOT FOR MONEY

His father said, "You don't tell the truth to keep money or lose it. You tell it to stand up for yourself the way you are. To discover you could stand up for yourself with the truth to Mr. Lawson is worth a million times $8 to you. 'You learned you're a brave boy today. So don't let me hear any more about how sad it is that it's costing you some money.'"

Was Dave's father right to thus impose his respect for truthfulness on his son?

Two distinguished authorities would say yes.
Dr. Dale B. Harris, director of the University of Minnesota's Institute of Child Welfare, recently told the Child Study Association of America: "The parent who does not strongly endorse — even demand — the values he feels are important may actually be transmitting weakness of faith in all values."

Added Dr. Alfred L. Baldwin, head of Cornell University's Department of Child Development, "Parenthood must be positive. It must commit itself to standards and maintain those standards in the children's presence so that they get the idea that the universe is a place which requires a stand, a commitment in order for any activity to develop purposefully."

Emily Schuster Becomes Bride in Grace Lutheran

White gladioli banked the altar of Grace Lutheran Church for the candlelight wedding ceremony of Emily Ann Schuster and Karl Bernhard Ruppel of South Lyon. The Rev. Richard Stuckmeyer performed the ceremony Saturday afternoon before 100 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Schuster of Bloomfield Hills are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Christoph W. Ruppel of Mannheim, Germany.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white tulle featuring a fitted Chantilly lace bodice with long sleeves and a bouffant skirt which swept to the back and cascaded into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured to a small handmade headpiece, accented with seed pearls and fashioned of French lace brought from Paris by her mother. Across the back a row of tiny wax orange blossoms taken from her mother's wedding crown held a short mantilla of the same lace.

The bride carried a white Bible covered with white roses and a small colonial cascade of stephanotis.

Mrs. Richard Beyer of East Lansing, the bride's former college roommate, served as the matron of honor. Joyce Paula Bohn of Grosse Pointe Woods was the bridesmaid and Nancy Stephenson of Detroit was the junior bridesmaid.

They were gownned alike in powder blue tulle dresses with small tulle bustles in back. Their headpieces were of blue velvet, net and seed pearls. Each carried a cascade of pink carnations.

Adolf Hertrick of Ann Arbor acted as best man while Norman Stephenson of East Lansing and Timothy Seltner of Birmingham seated the guests.

For a dinner at the home of the bride's parents Mrs. Schuster chose an aqua sheath dress with corsage of pink carnations.

Before leaving on a northern Michigan trip the new Mrs. Ruppel changed to a beige wool dress with black accessories. The couple will live in East Lansing where they both attend Michigan State University.

WHAT TO WEAR

...with what

By Edythe McCulloch

You'll feel entirely different this season in that good navy suit from last year if you start off with luscious pink lingerie for a secret gay touch. Change your matching accessories to contrasting ones. Let any three match each other, the fourth be white. For instance... your shoes, purse and hat be black, your gloves white. Or turn about... shoes, purse and gloves black and your hat in winter white.

Be daring if it fits your mood and personality... wear moss green with scarlet... small touches of fur... and this year own a pair of precious white kid gloves. You'll look smart... but most of all will be the change you'll FEEL from the inside, because you have dared to be different.

Barbara LaPoint Speaks Vows in Candlelight Rite

MRS. ROBERT ROBINSON

In a Saturday evening candlelight ceremony Barbara Ann LaPoint became the bride of Robert Dean Robinson. The Rev. Easton Hazard performed the ceremony in Wilson Avenue Methodist Church before 100 witnesses.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Theodore LaPoint of Racine avenue and the late Mr. LaPoint and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robinson of Mishawaka, Ind.

The bride chose a gown of lace and taffeta inserts over shimmering satin. The fitted bodice extended into tiny scallops embroidered with iridescent sequins ending in a Sabrina neckline.

Her matching headpiece, in the shape of a crown, held a fingertip veil of imported French illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses and gladioli.

Marilyn Cremer Speaks Vows in St. John Church

Vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, banked the altar of St. John Lutheran Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Marilyn Luise Cremer and Donald James Carn. The Rev. Carl W. Nelson performed the ceremony before 200 guests.

The August J. Cremers of Howard street are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Carn of Wheeling, W. Va.

For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of Rochelle lace fashioned with a fitted bodice, a high neckline featuring a Peter Pan collar of matching lace, and long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. A bouffant skirt of lace featured a back panel of alternating tiers of lace and nylon.

Marilyn wore a pair of pearl earrings and carried a bouquet of white shattered carnations with a detachable corsage in the center.

Mrs. Robert Kline was the matron of honor and Annis Bredon, Elizabeth Hazely and Mrs. Alfred Mitchell were the bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned alike in ballerina-length dresses of peau de chamois featuring boat necklines, inserted empire waistlines and bouffant skirts.

The matron of honor wore a champagne-colored gown and carried an arrangement of ivory-colored roses. The attendants wore turquoise-gowns with bouquets of yellow roses.

Flower maids Beverly and Betty Larson were gowned in yellow taffeta dresses with matching bows and streamers in the back. They carried miniature bouquets of yellow roses.

Robert Kline was the best man, Jerry Strong, Richard Thompson and Richard Cremer, a brother of the bride, seated the guests.

The bride's mother chose a blue

Departure Handshake Questioned Hostess Wonders if She Was Wrong to Act First

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: When visitors are leaving and we are standing at the door saying goodnight, should I extend my hand to the lady first and then her husband, or should I wait for them to do this?"

"We had neighbors call on us for the first time after we had been in our new house nearly three months. When leaving they stood at the door making some last-minute remarks, and when there was a lull in the conversation I shook hands with the lady and then her husband."

"I have since wondered whether this was the right thing to do, or might it have seemed as though I was trying to get rid of them?"

Answer: I am sorry but you should not have been noticeably the first to extend your hand.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister-in-law is going to be married next month. I have a very pretty black dress which I bought recently and which I thought I would wear to the wedding."

"When I told my mother-in-law I was going to wear a black dress she was very upset over it and told me that it was improper to wear black to a wedding. I suppose another color would be more suitable but since I have the dress would it be wrong to wear it, or must I go out and buy another dress?"

Answer: Now that you have spoken about it to your mother-in-law and she has told you how she feels about a black dress, I think you will have to get another one. Ordinarily you would not be criticized for wearing a black dress brightened with colored accessories.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Because I'm married and have a 5-year-old child, mother thinks I am ineligible to take part in a friend's wedding as a bridesmaid. The difference between the bride's age and mine is very slight. I would like very much to have your opinion on this matter."

Answer: There is nothing at all unusual in married bridesmaids—mothers at that! Although actually a bridesmatron, you would nonetheless be called a bridesmaid.

One resolution I have made and always try to keep is this: to rise above little things. — John Burroughs

Corned Beef Available Any Time

Mrs. Hubbard Uses Inexpensive Meat for Delicious Treat

BY JANET ODELL

Did you ever wish you could corn your own beef and have it on hand any time? Mrs. Joseph Hubbard of Clarkston says it can be done easily in a short 24 hours. She uses any of the cheaper cuts of beef she finds on sale.

For many years Mrs. Hubbard has been active in Extension work in the county. She does church work. Her home has many evidences of her clever fingers, with needlepoint, hooked rugs and braided rugs all represented.

QUICK CORNED BEEF
By Mrs. Joseph Hubbard

8 pounds beef (brisket, chuck or any inexpensive cut)
1 tablespoon salt
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon saltpeter
Put beef in large bowl. Add other ingredients and water to cover. Let stand at least 24 hours in the refrigerator.

Cook in the same brine in which the meat was corned. Skim off the foam as it boils up, until clear. Add more hot water if it cooks down too much.

Genius begins great works, labor alone finishes them.
— Joubert

He has the right answer in this sport shirt. Typifying the new interest in a luxurious look, this carefully matched plaid model is worn with the collar open or closed.

Ribbons Bring Fresh Accents, Colors to Rejuvenate a Room

No matter how attractively we've decorated our homes, no matter how satisfied with the results we may be, there comes a time in every woman's life when she longs for a change, for some extra thing that will take the monotony out of seeing and living in the same settings all the time.

Naturally, we can't all afford to make major renovations every time we feel the urge, but Ribbon Fashions Associates suggests a few easy, do-it-yourself ways of bringing a new color and accent to your rooms through the use of woven-edge ribbons.

For instance, the throw pillow, which has been one of the biggest decorating successes in years, can have a new look with the addition of just a few yards of woven-edge ribbon. Choose complementary colors that carry out your room decor, and sew woven-edge ribbons in straight lines, squares or abstract patterns right onto the pillows. You can use almost any ribbon width from 1/4 inch to 1 1/2 inches for this, and it can be even more interesting when you mix widths for an all-over effect.

Too, you can suit your type of ribbon to the fabric of the pillows: rent favorite of brides in Paris for summer-covered pillows of cotton and linen, grosgrain ribbons would be excellent; pillows of corduroy or velvet gain interesting texture with the use of velvet ribbons, and of course, for pillows in the children's rooms, satins in traditional boy-girl colors are always an attractive way of saying his and hers.

Satin trim from the Empire belt effect, will give the bride height and with gown of crepe, bride will look slimmer than in shiny satin gown.

Another way to use ribbon to brighten up throw pillows is easy and very decorative, too. Using woven-edge ribbons—whose edges won't ravel—of between 2 and 3 inches wide, cut out patches in cheerful colors and sew them right on the pillows. You can use one patch, two, or as many as you like to create an interesting effect, and your pillows will not only look new but will also add a pleasant bit of casual color to your room scheme.

Ribbons can be used, too, to brighten up dresser scarves, dressing-table covers, and other important accessories in your home. Again, there is a good opportunity here to pinpoint your favorite colors and give them increased importance. Sew two, three or even four rows of 1/4-inch grosgrain ribbons on scarves, and for the dressing-table, use woven-edge satin ribbons in pastels and bright shades as well to add charm and a bit of drama to this fairly neutral setting.

It doesn't really take a professional decorator to bring little touches of excitement to your rooms; just a little imagination, a few yards of woven-edge ribbon and a needle and thread are all you need to create a small-scale but effective new look in your home.

Straits Ferry Hands Looking for New Jobs

By A. F. MAHAN JR.

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Sailors who man the ferries across the Straits of Mackinac mostly are sad that a giant, 100-million-dollar bridge will abolish their jobs shortly.

But there is a little gladness mingled here and there, and occasionally a sailor is found who's downright happy.

LOOK FOR JOBS

With only to Nov. 1 to go, at most, few know yet exactly where they'll land. Some of the older ones are wondering if they could get any kind of job elsewhere.

Two of the five ferries have been withdrawn and are being prepared for storage until the state decides what will be done with them, sold or moved elsewhere. They are the smallest, The Straits of Mackinac and the City of Cheboygan. Together they gave employment to 96 seamen.

Not all of the men, however, have been laid off. Some are putting them in shape for storage. Some have succeeded men on other ferries.

And Capt. George Lloyd, state superintendent of ferries, says the State Highway Department's placement of sailors in shore jobs has picked up considerably in the last few weeks. He has no firm figures on placements, however.

A job with the highway department, which operates the ferries and with which they have civil service seniority, is the goal of most of the Straits sailors. But some realize all may not have the skills required. They know, too, that highway work slows in winter.

At the peak of the tourist season in recent years the ferries have given employment to as many as 471 afloat and ashore and the monthly payroll has totaled $226,000. In winter, even, around 230 were required on the boats and docks.

The State Highway Department began operating ferries across the Straits in 1923 on orders of the legislature. Traffic had become too much for the railroad car ferries, which therefore carried a few automobiles each trip.

One of those who doesn't know what for sure he'll be doing after Nov. 1 is Capt. Lloyd, who answered a reporter's question on where he'd be going, thus:

"Damned if I know. Nobody has asked me and I haven't asked anybody. 'Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.'"

Lloyd's sailing days began when he was a teenager and he was a Great Lakes captain when he took over ferry operations in 1949. He's a qualified master on any waters in the world.

Sailors who stick on to the end shuttling between the state's two peninsulas have been promised a 10 per cent bonus by the highway department. That'll help tide some over to the next job.

So will unemployment compensation, for which they were made eligible two years ago. And most will have extra pay coming from so-called "banked days." The men work a seven-day week without overtime pay, but for each seven consecutive days they get an extra day's pay banked for them later on.

LOOK FOR CUTS

If they get a highway department job, most of the men look for a pay cut. If they don't, they expect a fairly bleak winter, because jobs are hard to come by in the north country, where most of them live, after the snows come.

A sailor with an A.B. (able bodied seaman) rating draws $2.11 an hour, and gets, in reality, eight days' pay for seven days' work. Officer pay, of course, tops that considerably.

Most of the sailors plan to drop anchor on land and stay there when the ferries stop.

An officer of that mind is Capt. Frank Nelson, skipper of the sleek Vacationland. He found another job with the state, and said he was "going to stay home" from now on.

He boarded the queen of the straits fleet, capable of carrying 130 automobiles simultaneously, on May 24 and hasn't been off her to mid-September.

A sailing man for around half his 44 years, Nelson took over the Vacationland on her maiden voyage Jan. 11, 1951, and he'd made up his mind when he left her his sailing days were over and he'd stay close from here on to his wife and three children.

Seaman Harold Lelonde of the City of Munising was "glad we're through because I'm tired of these seven-day weeks." But 56-year-old Russell (Senator) Ranville of Mackinac City thought "it might not be too easy at my age" to get another job.

Ranville has 12 years with the highway department and he's hoping to land there, because if he doesn't "I'll lose my pension." He's fairly sure he couldn't get back the grinder's job he left at General Motors.

James Gustafson, a 22-year-old from St. Ignace, wasn't sad. "Now," he said, "I'll go to school—Bay City Business College."

Machine to Act as Interpreter

New Electronic Brain to Translate Documents From Russia

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter
SEATTLE (AP) — Linguists and engineers expect to test in the near future an electronic brain system which they believe will translate Russian scientific documents into English at high speed with a minimum of human effort. If successful, it will give the English-speaking world a huge flow of information about Russian science instead of the mere trickle that has been available up to now.

NO SECRECY

The project has nothing to do with secrecy. The material has been available all along, in Russian books, periodicals and scientific reports.

Translation is difficult because the Russian and English alphabets are substantially different. Idioms, complex word structure and to some extent syntax further complicate the problem. And the number of Americans proficient in Russian language is very small.

But many Russians meaningful units such as words, prefixes, endings, compound words and even phrases can be matched pretty well with English equivalents, says Prof. Erwin Reifler, professor of Chinese at the University of Washington, who heads the project.

It was Dr. Reifler's pioneering, particularly in word matching, which gave the project its momentum here. Now researchers under Dr. Lew R. Mickelson, assistant professor of Russian, are pairing off 160,000 or more Russian semantic units with their English equivalents.

And in Los Angeles engineers of the International Telemetering Corp., with U. S. Air Force support, are building the mechanical brain for the system.

This project, however, is not the only one in the field. Electronic translator development is under way at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at George Washington University and at the California Institute of Technology.

The University of Washington system still is in crude form. Translators here have given as many as eight different meanings to a single Russian term. If the machine were to process a Russian document now it would in many cases, supply more than one English equivalent for each Russian semantic unit.

When the machine is completed an electronic device will scan the Russian documents and record each semantic unit in the text. The machine then automatically will locate English equivalents previously stored in its "memory" and release them in their Russian order.

Sometime this fall the machine is expected to be ready to produce accurate, intelligible sentences, though in poor grammar. Eventually the scientists hope to "teach" the machine how to translate in good English.

'Cleanest Factory' Built in Connecticut

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. — A new bearing company at New Britain boasts the "world's cleanest metal-working factory." The new million-dollar plant is used for assembling and inspecting instrument ball bearings.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken to keep dust out, and an enormous air-conditioning system changes the air every 2.8 minutes and contains electronic devices that trap the smallest dust particles.

Production rooms are pressurized; when the doors are opened, air blows out, preventing dust from entering. Bearings are cleaned in a field of high-frequency sound waves and carried in stainless-steel containers.

Vacuuming of floors goes on continuously. Face power, rouge, and lead pencils are forbidden.

World Gains 25 New Countries

States Have About Half of Total Population; One Urgent Problem—Food

WASHINGTON—The world has gained 25 independent nations and more than 500 million people since the start of World War II, the National Geographic Society reports.

This gives the world a total of 103 "states," and a population rapidly approaching the three billion mark. Asia had the lion's share of the increase in population. All but six of the new states are in Asia.

One state—the Saar—lived and died within a span of 10 years, from 1948 to 1957, when it joined West Germany.

The 25 new states have about half the world's population. Perhaps their most urgent single problem is how to raise living standards among ever-increasing masses that must be fed and clothed.

A geography book quickly becomes dated in this changing world. Gleaming new cities are rising. Deserts and tidelands are blossoming with oil rigs. Rich mineral lodes are being found under tundra and jungle. The ferment of growth has even reached the snow-buried Arctic, now sprouting airplane control towers and weather stations.

Asia has 40 states, including Russia and Turkey; Europe, 30; North America, 12; South America, 10; and Africa, nine. Australia and New Zealand bring the total to 103. Here is an outline of the new states: with the year each attained independence.

Europe

Iceland—Independent North Atlantic island once ruled by Denmark (1944).

Near East

Lebanon—Coastal nation on the eastern Mediterranean ruled by France until 1941.

Syria—Like Lebanon, Syria won freedom from France in 1941.

Jordan—Arab kingdom sharing Jerusalem with Israel (1946).

Israel—Jewish state created in 1948; still at war with Arab states, although an uneasy truce obtains.

Middle East

Pakistan—Formed from Moslem areas of India, with whom it disputes possession of Kashmir, a Himalayan garden province (1947). India—Despite loss of Pakistan, still second most populous land (1947).

Ceylon—Island independent of Britain since 1947. Like India and Pakistan, it is a member of the British Commonwealth.

Far East

Burma—Texas-sized rice-growing land (1948).

Cambodia—Peaceful Buddhist kingdom no longer ruled by France (1949).

Laos—Former French territory between Cambodia and China (1949).

Korea and Viet Nam—Two nations divided by world politics into four. Korea became independent in 1948 and Viet Nam in 1949.

Malaya—Land of tin and rubber that won freedom this year.

Indonesia—Formerly Dutch East Indies; mineral-wealthy and populous (1945).

People's Republic of China—Communist state proclaimed at Peking in 1949.

Mongolia—Enormous but thinly populated land between China and the Soviet Union (1946).

Philippines—An archipelago, like Indonesia. Proclaimed a republic in 1946.

Africa

Ghana—Became an independent member of the British Commonwealth this year.

Libya—Independent kingdom since 1951; once ruled by Italy.

Morocco and Tunisia—Former French territories that became self-governing in 1956.

Sudan—Huge half-Arab, half-Negro territory which gained freedom from Britain and Egypt in 1956.

New Car Ashtray Empties Itself

PORTLAND, Ore. — A vacuum-powered automobile ash tray has been developed by a Portland concern, which says that at the touch of a button the gadget will snatch away a cigarette stub laid on it and will clear away the ashes, too.

Vacuum power draws the but and ashes through a tube into a glass container under the hood, where sparks are extinguished. The container need be emptied only about four times a year in normal use.

British Schools Keep Tradition

Teenagers Sent Home for Rock 'n' Roll Outfit, Handsome Beard

LONDON (INS) — Britons, noting America's back-to-school incidents in the south, are rather relieved to have their own children taking up the books again in the traditional style.

Opening day events provided reassurance that Britain's schools were maintaining their standards even in these accelerated times.

Sheffield teenager Stuart Beaton was sent home from school the first day when the principal spotted his costume — black sweater embroidered "rock 'n' roll," drab trousers and luminous green socks.

Sixteen-year-old Nigel Jones of Cardiff, Wales, was sent home to shave.

Nigel had grown quite a handsome beard during a six-week hitch-hiking tour to Turkey during the holidays. Principal P. M. Michael reported the beard was greatly admired at Cathays high school.

"We all wanted to see the famous beard, but we could hardly allow Nigel to keep it."

Meanwhile, the London Times reported a scholar who had spent the past seven years "conducting a survey into the folklore current among English school children" came up with the conclusion that youngsters haven't changed much in the past 300 years — at least.

Researcher Pete Ople found that schoolboys who wore their socks wrong-side out were unconsciously following a 17th century expert's injunction to "wear the inside of their stockings outside to scare the witches."

British students have also added a more modern note to their hinks this season. Two of them are currently sweating out a ten-week jail sentence in Finland after narrowly avoiding an international incident when they swiped a Soviet border sign.

The Manchester Guardian was moved to whimsy by the back-to-school movement. It was reminded of the story of a teacher's temperance experiment.

She placed a worm in a glass of water in which it wiggled happily. Then she dunked the worm in a glass of gin, whereupon it died. The moral? she asked. From the back of the class came the reply:

"Please, ma'am, if you drinks enough gin, you won't get worms."

Japanese Can Build Ship in 11 Weeks

TOKYO — To keep pace with the rapidly expanding demand for oil tankers, a Japanese firm reports the development of a quicker way, by several weeks, to build an ocean-going tanker.

It will do away with the laying of the keel in the normal sense of the expression. Five-thousand-ton sections of a 29,750-ton tanker being built by the Kawasaki Dockyard Co., Ltd., for a New York firm, will be assembled along the main dock and machinery and other equipment installed as the pieces are put together. It is claimed that the new vessel can be completed in 11 weeks this way.

17 Years Writing Pays Off at Last

NEW YORK — Grace Metalious, author of the novel "Peyton Place" wrote 2 to 4 hours a day for 17 years before a line of her writings was published.

But perseverance paid off in her case, for the book, her first published work, has thus far brought her more than $400,000.

West Virginia Drought Cuts Short Much Dew

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — The drought in West Virginia this summer cut short the supplies of two kinds of dew — plain water and the mountain kind with the mule kick also known as moonshine.

David H. Walker, a government investigator, explains that mountain streams which supply water for stills have dried up, cutting moonshining to a trickle. The 'shiners are too shiftless to tote water up the hills from dug wells, he says.

Face Problems in Laying Cable

New Voiceway Crosses
Little-Explored Ocean
Depths to Hawaii

WASHINGTON — Laying an undersea telegraph or telephone cable is difficult. Keeping it from harm can be, too.

One of the world's longest submarine telephone cable systems—two strands 2,400 miles long—is now being sunk between California and Hawaii. The new voiceway crosses little-explored ocean depths and an escarpment more than a thousand miles long. At one spot, the cable had to bypass an uncharted mountain some 11,000 feet high.

Already stretched across the drowned landscapes of the world are some 400,000 miles of international communications, the National Geographic Society says. This vast network of copper wire has been subject to numerous outrages of fate, including piracy.

Pioneers who successfully laid the first 16,000 miles of cable in American and European waters lost or had to abandon an equal amount.

America's first underwater telegraph line was strung out beneath New York Harbor in 1842 by inventor Samuel F. B. Morse. The demonstration was spoiled when a ship's anchor snagged the cable and ruined 200 feet of it. Sailors carted off a piece as a souvenir.

A similar fate overtook the cable submerged between England and France in 1850. Legend says a French fisherman caught the blackly insulated strand, mistook it for a big eel, and clouted it with a hatchet. After hauling in 20 yards or so, he prudently cut off what he had aboard and made for shore to show his catch.

Laying of the Atlantic cable was a long saga of mishaps, complicated by curious ships, antic whales, and icebergs. Cyrus Field's dream became a reality, at long last, in 1866. At the turn of the 20th century, submarine cables had been sunk throughout the world. The Spanish-American War proved their military value, and the cables were considered prime targets.

College Boasting of Small Church

LEXINGTON, Ky. (U.P.)—Transylvania College has one of the smallest churches in the South.

The 11 by 12 foot chapel was constructed and furnished in 1952 by Theta chapter of Phi Kappa Tau, a social fraternity on the campus.

The chapel, seating 12 persons, was dedicated in honor of Dr. Harvey A. Wright, now emeritus professor of mathematics at Transylvania. The altar was dedicated to the memory of Dr. E. W. Delcamp who died in September, 1952, after nearly 50 years of service to the college.

Among the furnishings is a Bible printed in 1880.

Poor Salesmanship Pays Off for Pair

CLEVELAND (U.P.)—Poor salesmanship has paid off for a young Cleveland area couple in the form of a $20,000 house and a new car.

Frank Berry, 26, of suburban Parma was given three books of raffle tickets to sell in connection with St. Ignatius High School's annual scholarship benefit.

Unable to dispose of six tickets, he bought them himself—three in his name and three for his wife.

One of his wife's tickets won the house and Frank won the new car as seller of the prize-winning ticket.

—Muffled Sounds?

THEN THE CHANCES ARE THAT YOU HAVE CERUMEN

CERUMEN is the condition brought on by excessive excretion of wax in the ear canal. (Cerumen) can make you hard-of-hearing in two ways: by clogging the canal and keeping sound from ear drums; by coating the vibration-carrying canal linings. This deep-down wax, in addition to making you hard-of-hearing, can cause buzzing, ringing, head noises.

PROVE YOU AREN'T GOING DEAF!
Remove those hardened wax accumulations deep in your ear canal with WAX-OUT. This compound of soothing oils gently loosens wax and by use of a simple syringe floats it out; also soothes and helps tissues normalize. # Sad Ike Chides Errant Little Rock Sons on TV

By ED CREAUGH
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—He was not the stern old soldier. He was not the towering figure of wrath.
Dwight D. Eisenhower was a troubled, reluctant man as he addressed the nation last night. He spoke at the outset of his sadness over the action he had just taken. He voiced deep confidence the whole unpleasantness would be over quickly.

But in the meantime:
The President served notice that troops under federal authority will be stationed in Little Rock, Ark. until law and order have been restored—until "agitators" and their followers stop trying to keep a handful of Negro children from attending a white school.

CHIDES MOB
Sobberly, like a father chiding an errant son, Eisenhower addressed himself to the mob and the whole populace of Little Rock and Arkansas. He told them the eyes of the world were upon them. And he would have known that the world's eyes were on him too.

Eisenhower was on trial as never before in his presidency. He is a man who strives always for harmony. He made his reputation in war and peace as one who smooths out difficulties. But on this issue he couldn't please everybody. Whatever his course, he would be damned if he did and damned if he didn't.

Suppose he let matters drift farther in Little Rock. He'd have been accused—as he already has been—of golfing while Rome burned. Said Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.), after Eisenhower called out the troops: "It's damn near time he took some positive action."

UPROAR FROM SOUTH
On the other hand, after Eisenhower took the most positive action in his power, the uproar from many elements in the South was tremendous. Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) came out for virtual war in his state if the same situation should occur there—as it very well may. Johnston, a former governor was all for calling out the National Guard (under state control, that is) and fighting it out.

What Southerners say Northerners don't understand—among other things—is this: "Federal," especially when used in connection with "troops," is all but a dirty word in most regions south of the Mason-Dixon Line.

RECALL RECONSTRUCTION
Yankees may have forgotten Reconstruction days, but the Southern memory hasn't. For 10 bitter years most of the South was under Northern military rule. Untrained Negroes and Northern carpetbaggers ran what amounted to an occupied territory.

To this ugly aftermath of the 1861-65 war much of the South's current temper can be traced.

Fire Prevention Parade Planned

C. of C. Unit Lines Up Scores of Participants for October Event

Final plans for a mammoth Fire Prevention Week parade were formulated at a meeting yesterday of the Fire Prevention Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Under the chairmanship of Harvey Johns, the committee has lined up scores of participants for the parade which will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 9 up S. Saginaw St.

According to Sherwin Birnkant, parade marshal, equipment from all surrounding departments, as well as the Pontiac Fire Dept., will participate.

Special historical equipment is being brought from other Michigan cities.

YMCA Seeking More Members During Campaign
Seventy volunteers working this week to boost the membership of the Pontiac YMCA by 200 persons, have until tomorrow night deadline, according to James R. Jenkins, general chairman of the campaign.

"The campaign is two-thirds along the way but only halfway to the goal, particularly with respect to new members," Jenkins said.

Volunteers have brought in 93 new members and have renewed two-thirds of the 2,800 memberships.

A victory dinner tomorrow night at the YMCA building at 6:15, will climax the drive.

Confidential Juror Down With Cold

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Illness of a juror today added complications to the already up-in-the-air Confidential magazine criminal libel conspiracy trial.

Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker awaited a doctor's report before making a decision on whether juror Carl Rush should be replaced by the only remaining alternate juror.

Rush complained yesterday of having a cold. The jurors' deliberations, already in their seventh day, were interrupted so Rush could be examined by a doctor.

Dr. Marcus Crahan reported to Judge Walker that he found Rush was suffering from a cold. Dr. Crahan expressed the opinion Rush was able to continue as a juror. Judge Walker ordered him to make another examination this morning.

The jury started the case with three alternates. Two replaced regular jurors who became ill during the six-week trial.

Mrs. Anna Thompson has been elected president of the Mary Morton Chapter of WCTU. Other officers are Mrs. Sallie Wright, vice president; Mrs. Edward Bradley, secretary; and Mrs. Amanda Goodwin, treasurer.

Mrs. S. A. Beaver is parliamentarian and Mrs. Mary H. Woods in charge of publicity.

Eisenhower knows the South's stance in the violence that flared in using federal troops. Only a few months ago he said he couldn't imagine a circumstance that would cause him to enforce a segregation order with troops. But he found such a circum-

Wilson Closing Public Career Man of Fast Words, Action

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS
Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson is a man of fast words and fast actions, as he proved in dealing with the National Guard. The former head of General Motors has been in the headlines frequently with his verbal blasts.

He caused a national stir when he said the National Guard was a haven for draft dodgers during the Korean war. In response to President Eisenhower's directive he took what may be his final important action as defense secretary. He ordered the Arkansas National Guard into federal service.

The white-haired, 68-year-old engineer now is preparing to turn over his office to Neil H. McElroy, president of Procter & Gamble.

He will be much missed in Washington, where he has more than once set the town on its ear. It was Wilson who addressed dignified Senators as "you men" and said this of generals: "I haven't noticed it made a man any smarter to put one more star on his shoulder."

It was Wilson who reckoned that "what was good for our country was good for General Motors, and vice versa," and it was Wilson who implied a companion of some unemployed auto workers with "kennel dogs" that wouldn't get out and rustle for food.

The moon-faced, stocky secretary brought many changes to his office but one of the most characteristic was decentralization of the $36-billion-a-year defense operation.

During the war, the secretaries of the Army and Navy had just 12 secretaries. Wilson installed 35. The man whose motto is "cooperate with the inevitable" was born in Minerva, Ohio, the son of school teachers. He was graduated from Carnegie Institute of Technology, went to work for Westinghouse, designed an automobile self starter, became chief engineer of DeLoe Remy, a G.M. subsidiary and by 1928 was a vice president of General Motors.

Meantime, he had met and wed Jessie Ann Curtis, a stenographer and daughter of a construction engineer. They had three sons, and now have 15 grandchildren.

Mrs. Wilson has said she wants her husband to get out of the cabinet because, "we have interesting things to do. We have an interesting family. We should spend more time with them."

Southern Officials Blast Decision to Call in Army

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Most Southern officials hit hard at President Eisenhower's decision to use federal troops to enforce school integration in Little Rock while Northerners backed his action as necessary to preserve law and order.

"Federal force must be used in this situation to put down force," said Adlai Stevenson, twice beaten by Eisenhower for the presidency. Stevenson termed the Little Rock situation a national disaster, but he said the President had no choice. He said Gov. Orval Faubus behaved irresponsibly in using the Arkansas National Guard to thwart integration.

A Southern governor, A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, agreed that Eisenhower had no choice. Chandler, an avowed candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 said, "We can't have anarchy and mob rule."

Sen. Olin Johnston (D-SC) talked of armed resistance. "If I were governor and he (the President) came in, I'd give him a tight such as he has never been in before."

"I'd proclaim a state of insurrection and I'd call out the National Guard and then we'd find out who's going to run things in my state."

Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said the President had "contributed to the making of the present situation" in Little Rock by not taking strong action at the outset of the school crisis.

"Any trouble we have from now on can be laid at the door of the President's complacency and policy of appeasement of Gov. Faubus while this crisis was developing," the New York Democrat added.

"This sort of totalitarian rule may put Negro children into the white schools of Little Rock, but it will have a calamitous effect on race relations and the cause of national unity," Russell declared.

At Sea Island, Ga., where Southern governors are in conference, Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee proposed a committee of seven governors from the conference to confer immediately with Eisenhower to seek a solution to the school problem without recourse to federal troops. Some of his colleagues welcomed the suggestion, but Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland said he was opposed to the idea.

McKeldin defended Eisenhower's action as necessary and was joined by Gov. Cecil Underwood of West Virginia. Both are Republicans.

Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina, conference chairman, proposed a compromise under which the President would not use federal force "so long as state and local authorities are able properly to perform this function."

Faubus, who returned yesterday to Little Rock from Sea Island, said state authority would have settled the integration problem in the Arkansas capital without violence if the President had left "law and order to us."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) agreed with Russell that the action was "without authority of law." He said, "It may precipitate more trouble than it will prevent."

Governors Marvin Griffin of Georgia and James Folsom of Alabama called the action political. Griffin charged that Eisenhower "is a captive of the Republican political strategists, who are more interested in the minority Negro vote than the welfare of the people."

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn) agreed that the President did the right thing. "The situation left him no alternative, under the Constitution and the laws of the land," said Bush.

Ribicoff called the move "right and proper in order to guarantee our constitutional rights and prevent mob rule."

Calm Voices Talk in South

Florida Governor Asks Middle-of-Road Policy in Racial Crisis

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)— Amid the din of the extremists the calm voice of the moderate is beginning to make itself heard in the South. Emerging this week as a likely leader of these middle of the roaders was Florida's 48-year-old Gov. Leroy Collins, who is neither a segregationist nor an integrationist by popular concepts.

Collins went before the Southern Governors' Conference at Sea Island, Ga., preaching there that good will between the races rather than judicial decrees will bring the ultimate solution of racial problems. He declared that an end to segregation will depend largely upon bettering the living standards of the Negro.

The Florida chief executive, a Democrat, talked in political practicalities on the topic, "Can a Southerner Be Elected President?" He also probed into the whole problem of a changing South's place in the nation.

"If the South should wrap itself in a Confederate blanket and consume itself in racial furor, it would surely miss its greatest opportunity for channeling into a wonderful future the products of change now taking place," he declared solemnly.

"And we should face up to the further fact that it would bury itself politically for decades to come."

Later, with the events in Little Rock fresh before him, Collins declared that "the matter can never be resolved by court order and by efforts to enforce court orders whether by court marshals, the National Guard or the United States Army."

He said he favored development of a plan of enforcement by congressional action that would permit integration where proper and possible "but at the same time protect against... forced integration where such is not proper."

Summarizing the political question he raised, Collins said a Southerner of sincerity, courage, proper political appeal and progressive national viewpoint can be nominated and elected president.

Some political observers in Florida felt Collins painted a self-portrait in the qualifications he set forth. Collins himself said he was not a candidate for the presidency but some of his friends have been booming him since the 1936 convention.

One Way to Solve Taxicab Problem

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Louis Schweitzer likes to go to the theater. Unoccupied taxicabs are hard to find during theater hours.

So, her husband, a wealthy engineer:

1. Bought an expensive foreign car.
2. Equipped it with a taxi medallion—a permit that costs thousands of dollars.
3. Hired Louis Schweitzer, no relation, a cab driver for 40 years, to operate the car.

The driver and the owner split the day's receipts. The engineer avoids hiring a chauffeur and he and his wife can make arrangements for a taxi at any time.

Weather Bureau Reports 'Frieda' Losing Punch

WASHINGTON (INS)—The sixth tropical storm of the season is losing its violent characteristics. The Washington weather bureau reported in its early morning weather advisory today that the storm, dubbed "Frieda," was centered "about 650 miles east of Wilmington, N. C."

Winds of 55 miles an hour, about 20 miles per hour less than hurricane force, were blowing in squalls within 100 miles of the center, where the storm's major turbulence is located.

"Frieda," the weather bureau report said, "is gradually losing its tropical characteristics."

Movement within the next 12 hours is expected to continue east as the storm maintains its present size and intensity, the advisory explained.

The weather bureau warned all shipping in the storm's path to "exercise caution." "Frieda" was situated at latitude 34.3 north, longitude 65.8 west.

More Versatile than ever
Thanks to Kodak research and development, the Verifax Copier now gives you photo-exact copies at a new low cost... does jobs which never before were within the scope of office copy equipment.
For example—it lets you produce a translucent "blueprint" master from an opaque or two-sided original in one minute for only 10¢. A big advantage when you need quantities of blueprints or whiteprints. And, by using a new low-cost adapter unit, just $60, you can make an offset plate in one minute for less than 20¢. Far and away, the most convenient, lowest cost method today.
Cutting costs in thousands of offices today
We'd like to demonstrate, at your convenience, how this completely different copier lets you answer letters without dictation and typing; eliminates "I quote" memos; keeps hot sales leads from turning cold; simplifies routines for your whole office staff.
And, last but not least, we'll give you details on our new rental plan which lets you "see for yourself" for just 50¢ a day. Give us a ring today!

Contrasted With Soviet Help

Greek Appraisal of U.S. Aid Should Influence Arabs

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Writer

Foreign travel and contacts with informed sources help to give us, in the phrase of the poet Robert Burns, the gift to see ourselves as others see us.

During my recent visit to Greece, which provides a window to the Middle East, I was able to get an outside viewpoint as to the American role in competitive coexistence with the militancy of the Soviet Union.

At a dramatic press conference in the moonlight at the ancient Temple of Poseidon (god of the sea) at Sounion, a resort peninsula near Athens, Constantine Tsatsos, Minister to the Prime Minister's Office, gave an historically significant reply to a cynical query from a Spanish journalist. During a discussion of the Cyprus question, the Spaniard asked:

"Since Greece has been taking military and economic aid from the United States, won't Greece jump to whatever tune the United States calls in the Cyprus matter?"

In replying in the negative, Mr. Tsatsos, with his long background in politics and before that as an intellectual leader as a professor of law at Athens University, spelled out the essential difference in kind which distinguishes American aid from that granted by the Soviet Union.

Greece is important as a laboratory showing the physical and psychological effects of being assisted through the years by U. S. military and economic aid.

Mr. Tsatsos' appraisal of the inner nature of American aid should be recorded for history.

Addressing himself to the blunt nature of the Spaniard's question, the minister declared:

"There are no strings attached to American aid. The United States makes no effort to dictate to Greece or other associated nations.

"In leaving the recipients of such aid free to determine for themselves their policies and preferences, American aid stands in sharp contrast with assistance from the Soviet Union. Those who take aid from the Soviet Union tend to become vassals, and are expected to follow Moscow's will. It was this type of violation of national rights of self-determination which led Tito in Yugoslavia to break away from the Soviet bloc. Tito's movement was a protest against dictation by Moscow bosses."

With a large segment of the world still uncommitted to the East or the West, such testimony from experienced recipients of American aid is capable of widespread constructive use.

Foreign Minister Averoff, a trained economist, gave similar testimony. In a major press conference, which this writer attended, the Greek Foreign Minister, in addressing himself to the same general issue, declared:

"Greece was the first to accept the Eisenhower Doctrine. We knew it was developed in the spirit of friendship toward the Arab world, and we told the Arabs of our view. Under the Eisenhower Doctrine, the United States asks for nothing in return, but holds out to the Middle East the offer of sound help if desired."

In sketching the rapid physical and economic comeback of Greece in the past half dozen years, the foreign minister added:

"Our people have been wonderful, but their accomplishments would have been impossible without American aid."

Likewise, at a press conference, Prime Minister Caramanlis, in pointing out that in recent months trade relations between Greece and the Soviet Union had been improving, emphasized that in economic discussions Greece make it crystal clear to the Russians that the country was anti-Communist.

Pontiac City Affairs

Take No Action to Replace Geal

The resignation of Sidney N. Geal from the Pontiac Housing Commission was accepted by the City Commission last night "with regrets."

Commissioners didn't take immediate action to replace Geal whose term would have expired in June of 1959. Geal, of 161 W. Lawrence St., was appointed Oct. 4, 1955.

He resigned to take a position on the national staff of the American Camping Assn. In his letter of resignation, he asked that commissioners consider a replacement with both social and recreation interests so as to develop same at Lakeside Homes, the city's only public, low-rent housing development.

All other items on a 16-point agenda dealt with the city's public improvement program. Commissioners handled the business in 27 minutes and adjourned.

Bad Check Artist Gives Judge His Pen to Use

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pietro Pugliano and his 18-year-old wife were arraigned yesterday on charges of passing about $3,000 worth of bad checks.

As magistrate E. N. Johnson was about to sign a legal form, his pen went dry. Pugliano smiled and handed his pen to the magistrate.

"Here judge, try this. It made a lot of money for me," he said. Johnson did just that and held Pugliano and his wife for court.

The city will hold public hearings next Tuesday on its intention to grade and gravel Palmer drive from Mt. Clemens to the north end of the street, and for resurfacing and installing curb and gutter on Turk street from Saginaw to the east end of the street.

Commissioners reinitiated a proposed job tabled in April of installing curb and gutter on Carlisle street from Cornell to Columbia. During four public hearings on curb and gutter, sewer and sidewalk projects no objections were heard from citizens.

The commission also set six other hearings for next week's meeting on public works projects now under way.

At the conclusion of their Oct. 8 session, commissioners will confer with Pontiac City Lines officials on their proposal that the city lease the bus firm in a move to strengthen its financial condition.

A joint meeting with the Planning Commission has been tentatively set for Oct. 17 at which time David S. Geer, Pontiac's planning consultant, will review the city's plans for seeking federal aid for its urban renewal program.

School Board to Discuss Issues

PTA Sets Public Meeting

The first of a new type of public meeting will be held by the Pontiac Board of Education Thursday, at 7:30 p.m., at the Pontiac Senior High School.

The meeting, to which the board was invited by the school's PTA, is one of several planned this year to give parents and teachers an opportunity to meet the board and discuss mutual problems.

Although all board meetings are public, they are usually poorly attended and the board hopes to correct this situation by meeting at various schools, according to Dr. Dana Whitmer, superintendent.

Items of particular interest to the high school will be discussed at the meeting and a public question and answer period will follow. A coffee hour will give the public a chance to talk individually to board members and administrators.

Sleep Shop Set to Open Doors at Miracle Mile

Another of the many stores opening at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, is the Modern Sleep Shop chain.

The new shop will offer the largest selection and display of nationally advertised sleep products for the entire family.

Robert Roebuck, general manager for the chain, is manager of the new store.

The new specialty house will carry a complete line of nationally advertised bedroom sets, mattresses and box springs, hideaway beds, studio couches and sofa beds, relaxing chairs, pillows and comforters, bunk and trundle beds, fold-a-beds and cots, and tables and lamps.

This will be supplemented by a large juvenile furniture department featuring cribs, cribs, baby strollers, highchairs, baby strollers, and unfinished furniture.

They also do an extensive business in custom bedding, which is a highlight of their customer services. The management has done all its own interior decorating, giving the shop an antique white interior that harmonizes with the many different colored fabrics.

Use Mirrors on Satellites

Give Off-Used Object Glamorous New Chore in Outer Space

WASHINGTON — One of the most commonly used objects on earth has a glamorous new chore in space.

Man has long observed things too tiny or too distant for his naked eye with the aid of a simple tool—the mirror.

Now, an incredible enterprise may take a looking glass out of this world. The skin of the earth satellite is a highly polished mirror, in effect, designed as such with the hope of making the tiny sphere visible in flight.

Since time immemorial, an aura of magic has surrounded the mirror, the National Geographic Society says. It has been prized above jewels. It has figured in myth, legend, lore, and superstition.

Many people have qualms, even today, about breaking a mirror. The feeling that shattering a piece of foiled glass may bring bad luck stems from an ancient belief that the mirror's image was one's soul. Moreover, it was considered dangerous to let a sick person look into a mirror for fear the patient might lack the strength to lure his soul back into his body.

NOT SHY But perils hasn't made people shy of mirrors. Prehistoric men managed to make looking glasses by polishing bits of obsidian. Ancient Egyptians, Greeks, and Romans admired themselves in thin disks of metal with fancy handles.

Pliny mentions the manufacture of glass mirrors at the Phoenician seaport, Sidon. As no one knew how to make colorless glass then, all such looking glasses were black, blue, green, red or amber.

Venice, in the 14th century, became the world's mirror capital after its craftsmen discovered a way to make colorless glass and foil it with reflective backing. Venetian mirrors weren't especially good, by later standards, but they cost a lot and the rich snapped them up like hotcakes.

So jealously did Venice guard all its glass-making secrets that craftsmen were sequestered on the Murano islets. Export of tell-tale scraps of glass was banned. Glassmakers were forbidden to carry their art abroad under pain of death and imprisonment of their relatives. By way of compensation, however, craftsmen were raised to the status of burghers, which meant their daughters could marry noblemen.

Marines Ready for Mock Fight

'Invade' Western Turkey Under Nuclear Warfare Conditions

SAROS BAY, Turkey (AP)—American Marines stood by in boats today to swarm ashore in a pretended invasion of enemy-held western Turkey just 30 minutes after an imaginary atomic bomb. The demonstration of amphibious operations under nuclear warfare conditions indicated that the United States is counting on the availability of "clean"—or virtually fallout-free—atomic bombs which will not endanger its own troops.

An hour and a half after the landing on green beach of the Thracian Peninsula, a second simulated atom bomb blast was planned 18 miles inland at Kesan. Thirty minutes later, a 2nd Marine Battalion task group was to land at Kesan in 45 helicopters, the largest copter force ever used in NATO exercises.

The 50-ship U. S. 6th Fleet was reinforced by 7,000 Marines and 40 other U. S. ships for exercise "Deepwater," at the eastern anchor of NATO defenses. The practice beachhead is across Saros Bay from Gallipoli, where British invaders suffered terrible losses in World War I.

In theory, the Americans had embarked hurriedly and crossed the Atlantic and Mediterranean to help drive away an enemy who seized parts of Turkey and Greece in an atomic attack a month ago.

Jet planes from the American carrier Lake Champlain, and from the carriers Randolph and Roosevelt with the 6th Fleet, were waiting to strafe the landing areas after the simulated atomic air burst. The jets also were to give ground support to Greek and Turkish troops practicing defense of their countries north and south of the American beachhead.

Why bother strafing an enemy who presumably has been annihilated by an atom bomb? "It's a matter of experience," an air operations officer said. "Our experience has been that people refuse to die. In Korea, they lived to fire at you after they were hit by demolition bombs our scientific people said would destroy them."

The United States part of the exercise will be completed Thursday. A thousand of the Marines will remain here to join the 6th Fleet. The others and the amphibious force ships, will return to the United States.

The Marine commander, Brig. Gen. R. K. Rottet, said both his Marines and the 6th Fleet have a "surface delivery capability" of atomic weapons "and that's as far as I can go."

Generalissimo Francisco Franco, ruler of Spain since 1939, began his political career as military governor of the Canary Islands, a Spanish possession off southwest Africa.

Williams Backs Sending Troops

Says President Acted to Support Constitution in Little Rock Crisis

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams, critical earlier of President Eisenhower's conduct in the Little Rock school integration dispute, yesterday approved his call for troops to suppress further disorders.

"The President has acted as his oath to support the Constitution requires," the Democratic governor commented.

"Any other course would lead to the complete breakdown of law and order. I only wish he had taken a firmer position from the very outset. The violence of Monday then might never have occurred."

In a speech distributed last Friday afternoon and prepared for a Chicago Democratic meeting on Saturday, Williams said that the President "has failed to defend the Constitution."

He criticized the President for failure to "exert the immense prestige and influence of his office," and said he had "grievously let down" citizens of the South who were trying to abide by the Supreme Court's edicts.

Later, after Gov. Faubus of Arkansas had ordered National Guardsmen withdrawn, this portion of the prepared speech was deleted.

Williams substituted the criticism that "seldom has the nation seen a comparable spectacle of hesitation and confusion," and said "virtual silence" in the White House damaged the "prestige and dignity" of the nation.

FOR THE FAMILY — Mom, dad, sister and brother all can shop for shoes at the new Thom McAn store at the Miracle Mile shopping center.

A complete stock is on hand, with many of the items attractively on display.

Thom McAn Family Store Opening at Miracle Mile

Another shoe store in the vast Thom McAn chain is ready for opening at the new Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

The new store will be Thom McAn's first family shoe store in the Pontiac area. However, there is a store for men and boys at 21 N. Saginaw St.

The new store will be operated by a local company, Miracle Mile Thom McAn, Inc. The manager is Theodore T. Jarvis.

Jarvis has been with the firm for five years, managing stores in Port Huron and Adrian. He will come to the Miracle Mile store from his former managerial position in Port Huron.

The interior of the new family store, with soft carpeting, decorator colors and upholstered individual chairs, will offer a home-like setting.

The women's salon will have its own distinctive color scheme and the children's department and men's department will be in harmonizing, but strikingly different shades.

Current shoe styling, with the various brushed and grained leathers, and the many other materials used, together with the many colors ordinate shoes with accessory as well as dress colors, and men to obtain the better style coordination that is increasingly in demand.

The first Thom McAn store opened in New York City in 1922. Since then the number has grown to more than 760 stores in over 400 cities from coast to coast. There are 37 Thom McAn stores in Michigan.

Trussed Girl Gets No Help From Strangers

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) — Curious stares greeted a loan company clerk's appeals for help as she hopped onto a busy street yesterday, her hands and feet bound by holdup men.

"I tried to get help," said the clerk, Mrs. Dan Nemmer, 21. "I asked them to help me but they wouldn't do it. One man said he would, but he walked off and left me. The passers-by apparently thought it was a prank."

Her feet still bound, Mrs. Nemmer finally hopped into a nearby store. There a clerk removed her bonds and listened to her story. She said two holdup men entered the Superior Loan Co. and took $199.

WHY PAY A BULGING PRICE TAG?

55 years ago Mr. Penney got interested in thrifty prices. He decided to whack off every extra that makes for a big tag. One sure way was selling for cash.

That way no credit bookkeeping . . . no hidden service charges . . . no delivery costs.

Nothing extra in our shopkeeping . . . nothing extra on your price tag!

And that's Penney's policy in Pontiac . . . past . . . present . . . future!

GLASS VISTAS — S. S. Kresge company's newest store at Miracle Mile features a vast expanse of front windows, a new departure from the company's traditional store-front. No window displays here, but rather a good view of the open-counter displays inside. There's a convenient check-out system, too, after selections have been made.

New S. S. Kresge Store Has Fast Check-Out System

A streamlined S. S. Kresge store, featuring the fast checkout system, will open tomorrow at the Miracle Mile Town & Country shopping center.

Covering more than 26,000 eye-appealing, yet functional square feet, the new variety store has 2,625 lineal feet of convenient front serve counters, said the store manager, Richard O. Williams.

The counters allow for merchandise to be displayed on tiers for greater visibility and easier access, said Williams.

The manager explained that check-out service will be handled speedily by cashiers at six stations near the entrances and exits. The cashiers will be provided with automatic change-computing cash registers and are trained to work quickly and efficiently, Williams said.

Although the fast check-out system is relatively new in variety store merchandising, Williams said, it has already proved efficient in 265 of Kresge's 688 stores throughout the nation.

RICHARD O. WILLIAMS

Kresge organization in 1942, has served as assistant manager and manager of stores in Indiana, Ohio and Michigan. His last post was as manager of the Kresge store in Lansing.

The newest addition to the Kresge chain a number of special features, Williams said.

For instance, in addition to the familiar low-priced items associated with Kresge's since its first store opened in Detroit 58 years ago, shoppers will find at the Miracle Mile store nationally advertised electrical appliances, power lawn mowers, power tools, small furniture and fashion apparel for all the family.

At the luncheonette, an illuminated menu rack has been mounted above the counter to facilitate customers' food selections. The luncheonette, seating 40, will offer complete dinners, plate lunches and light refreshments.

At the new store will be a public address system, over which daily "specials" will be announced. There will be air conditioning for year-round comfortable temperatures.

A striking note in appearance is the building's facade. There are no show windows. The entire front consists of a combination of glass paneling and glazed tile.

Williams' two assistant managers are Raymond E. Valley, who formerly was assistant manager of the downtown Detroit Kresge's, and Ralph H. Kalajian, who joined Kresge's earlier this year.

Thyroid May Be Clue to Treating Alcoholics

BOSTON — New investigations involving the thyroid gland are believed to hold a possible clue to the treatment of alcoholics.

Surveys show that patients with overactive thyroids are rarely alcoholics and that alcoholics rarely have overactive thyroids. This indicates that treating alcoholics with thyroid preparations may reduce the craving for drink.

Massachusetts has a coastline about 300 miles.

Senator Says Dems to Split

South May Bolt Party as Result of Little Rock Fight, Aiken Declares

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Republican senator said today that the Little Rock school integration battle may split the Democratic Party and put a third ticket into the 1960 presidential campaign.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), in making the forecast, also declared that President Eisenhower must avoid appointing extremists to the six-man Racial Discrimination Commission authorized in the new civil rights law.

Aiken told an interviewer: "The President can't be too careful in the make-up of the commission. He will be under great pressure by interested groups to name some of their people. I think it important that the President avoid naming an extremist or anyone closely connected with racial disputes."

The commission, which is to have subpoena power in its investigatory work, must be confirmed by the Senate, but Eisenhower could make recess appointments and thus set it up before Congress returns in January.

In discussing political repercussions of developments at Little Rock, Aiken said: "As far as the Republican Party is concerned, I am not sure they have made any gains by the handling of this. As to Republicans capturing Negro votes, I think that is overrated. There is no wholesale flocking of the colored vote to the Republican standard."

But he said he foresees an attempt by northern Democrats who are wooing the Negro vote, "to eliminate southern Democrats from power." He said he thought this will be one of the "most obvious" repercussions of Little Rock.

Aiken continued: "I think it could lead to a third (southern) ticket in the 1960 election campaign. A third ticket in 1960 undoubtedly would be more effective than the third ticket was in 1948."

In 1948 Harry S. Truman won an upset presidential election even though the South had its own candidate in the field. He was states' rights standard bearer Strom Thurmond, now Democratic senator from South Carolina who staged a dramatic one-man filibuster against the civil rights bill last month.

State Stops Detroit in DSR Bond Plan

LANSING (AP) — The city of Detroit has been rebuffed by the state a second time in its bid to go head with a refunding plan on Detroit Street Railway bonds issued in 1930.

The State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday specifically denied authority to refund $1,200,000 in DSR bonds affecting May 15, 1958, maturities.

In all, the city wanted over the next six years to put off repayment of $4,350,000 in DSR obligations.

The Municipal Finance Commission said the city is in a position to retire the debt coming due next May, that the overall refunding plan would cost taxpayers $1,544,800 in additional interest and that the taxpayers should be protected from this additional burden.

"Good financing requires payment now," the agency said.

The commission at its regular weekly meeting approved two related borrowing proposals calling for issuance by the city of one million dollars in general obligation bonds and $860,000 in revenue notes to finance purchase of diesel buses.

West Bloomfield Woman Wins Slogan Contest

Mrs. Donald G. Muehl, of 2045 S. Hammond Lake Dr., West Bloomfield Township, submitted a winning slogan in the $216,000 Colgate-Palmolive American Gas Assn. freedom gas laundry contest.

The presentation was made by C. W. Haton of the Colgate-Palmolive Co., and E. L. Karkau, of Consumers Power Co.

The appliances won by Mrs. Muehl consisted of a washer and matching gas dryer, gas water heater and cabinet with sink, and built-in gas range units.

Eight Deaths in Year Attributed to Rabies

CHICAGO — The American Medical Association reports that eight Americans died of rabies in 1956 and one other death was attributed to the disease, but was not confirmed by autopsy.

Four of the confirmed deaths occurred in Dallas, and one each in Austin Tex., and in Alabama, Indiana, and New Mexico.

A group of teen-age students learning about Billy the Kid were told he'd killed 21 men by the time he was 21. "Goosh," said one teen, "what kind of a car did he drive?" ... A married wolf is a guy who tells his wife he's going fishing — when he's really going hunting. Earl Wilson.

Marine Begs Judge for Stiffer Sentence

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A Marine Corps sergeant surprised a municipal judge when he told him he preferred a 90-day sentence rather than 30 days.

Sgt. Richard K. Battershell, 27, Camp Pendleton, Calif., was ordered to serve 30 days for cashing five forged checks totaling $625. He told Municipal Judge Beach Vasey: "If I serve 90 days I'll receive a bad conduct discharge from the Marines without a court-martial."

With a 30-day sentence, however, the Marines could court-martial him and make him serve additional time in a military prison, Battershell explained.

Judge Vasey granted the request.

Mississippi Hit by Flu Epidemic

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Mississippi's flu cases have increased to an estimated 99,840.

Dr. A. L. Gray, director of preventable disease control, said today this estimate was based on physicians' reports in the week ending Saturday. It is an increase of 75,840 over the previous week.

The figures indicate flu has reached epidemic proportions in some parts of the state but Gray said the northeast section appears relatively free of the disease. There have been no deaths.

Two Killed in Landslide

SENDAI, Japan (AP) — Two workers were killed and three others are missing in a landslide today at Zao, northern Japan, police reported. The landslide was believed to have been caused by heavy rain.

Hurricane Waves Lash British Coast

LONDON (AP) — High waves kicked up by Hurricane Carrie pounded the coast of Britain today. There were at least three deaths and property damage was heavy.

At Mount's Bay in Cornwall, 22-year-old Christopher Mann was swept off a 40-foot cliff by a towering wave and drowned. Two men drowned after waves overturned their motorboat.

Firemen Don't Stay for Early Barbecue

NEW GRANT STORE — Four-stores-in-one, with goods at popular prices, are housed within this eye-appealing W. T. Grant department store at the Miracle Mile shopping center. Shoppers will find dry goods, wearing apparel, household accessories and a full line of variety items at Grant's.

Quick Service Feature Planned at New W. T. Grant Store

Quick service will be featured at the W. T. Grant department store opening tomorrow at the Miracle Mile Town and Country Shoppers City on Telegraph road. Customers can pick and choose for themselves among the thousands of items displayed on the store's shop - at - a - glance style counters.

As in a super market, purchases will be checked out by cashiers at the exits of the large attractively decorated store.

But department managers and clerks will be on hand throughout the store to help customers in their selections, said W. F. MacDonald, store manager.

There'll be extra-quick cashier service, too, for customers buying only a few items, MacDonald said.

The new store's manager has been with the Grant company 15 years, managing stores in New York, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Ohio. Before coming to Pontiac, he was in charge of the Toledo store.

MacDonald is considered one of the outstanding managers in the Grant chain, and has been twice awarded by the company.

Grant's is described as "four stores in one," featuring large selections in dry goods, home furnishings, wearing apparel for all the family, and variety items.

The new branch is the sixth to be located in the Detroit area. It is the largest store opened by the company this year, and is the largest in the company's chain to have quick checkout service.

The Grant chain, begun in 1906, now includes almost 700 stores located throughout the nation, doing a half billion dollars in business annually.

The company's merchandise is in the moderate-price range, including nationally advertised brands, many of which have been developed by the Grant company itself.

Grant's has been trying out a novel way to introduce the new store this past week. The company has had a group of young women ringing doorbells in the area, extending personal invitations to shop at Grant's.

MacDonald figures about 5,000 homes were contacted this way.

West German Fray Coaches Diplomats

BONN — Basic rules for social conduct are laid out in a new book on etiquette published in Bonn. It was written by Frau Erica von Pappritz, 63-year-old assistant director of protocol, whose job is to teach good manners to budding German diplomats.

All Germany is howling with laughter, from Chancellor Adenauer—who asks his officials if they are wearing their long underpants this morning—to the crackers of dubious jokes in night-clubs.

Some gems of etiquette from this best seller: "If you cannot take a daily bath, you should wash yourself all over every day." "When fully dressed, gentlemen must wear or carry gloves." Diplomats' wives should not smoke in public, the author says, lest they forfeit the right to the title "lady," not to speak of "being mistaken for Americans."

J. C. PENNEY CO.

NEW DEPARTMENT STORE — Dominating the Miracle Mile shopping center is this big, new J. C. Penney Co. store. It is located in the middle of the center, handily available to all shoppers. The gleaming exterior is matched within the store by attractive displays and many conveniences for the benefit of shoppers.

Penney Store Largest in Center; Ralph Eastridge Heads New Unit

The J. C. Penney Company will open its largest suburban store in the Detroit area at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, this Thursday.

The new store, with 13,000 square feet of floor space, is the largest in the new shopping center. Of steel and concrete construction, it has attractive display windows set in an exterior of ledgerrock.

Manager of the store will be Ralph Eastridge, of 2680 Garland St., Sylvania Lake.

Eastridge, a veteran of many years of experience in department store management, has been manager of the downtown Pontiac store for the past four years.

A new housewares department will be one of the many leading features of the latest branch. Approximately 3,000 square feet of floor space will be used for lamps, appliances, small furniture, pictures, mirrors, and many other household items.

The store will also specialize in piecegoods as well as a complete line of men's, women's and children's clothing. Another feature will be the Singer sewing machine department, which will offer free sewing lessons to all buyers of Singer products.

The entire staff will be composed of Pontiac area personnel.

The building will be made enjoyable for both shoppers and personnel by an air conditioning and heating system which will maintain filtered air with a uniform temperature throughout the year.

Each department is isolated and personalized through the gay and changing interior color design.

The company has built the majority of interior fixtures while working on the decorating since July 1.

This store is equipped with a sprinkler system, and also has a special steam room to freshen clothing which may have been wrinkled during shipment.

A special feature of the store's grand opening will be the displaying of J. C. Penney's first counter, from his original store in Kemmerer, Wyoming, which opened on April 14, 1902.

To celebrate the new gigantic branch, J. C. Penney will appear at the store Thursday afternoon. He is scheduled to speak at a meeting of the Advanced Gifts Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund, Thursday morning at the Waldron Hotel.

The store will be the newest, and one of the largest, in the nationwide string of 1700.

The main floor will house the entire shopping area, with lunchroom facilities and lounges for employees.

Business offices are on the second floor in the front of the building.

Governor of Maryland Turns Facile Phrases

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (U) — Maryland's Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin can turn a facile phrase when he gets his dander up.

Soon after a dispute erupted over issuing liquor licenses to piers and boats on the Potomac River, McKeldin made references — in a single speech — to "piers of the potato peddlers," "highball havens" and "drifting Dalquiri dispensers."

The governor is a tee-totaler.

LARGEST IN CHAIN—The new Kinsel's Drug Store about to open at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center will be the largest store in the company's vast chain. It is the second store in the Pontiac area, covers an area of 10,000 square feet, and is one of Michigan's most modern drugstores.

George Gust to Manage Branch

Largest Kinsel's Opening at Center

The largest Kinsel Drugstore in the company's chain will open this week at the new Miracle Mile Shopping Center.

Manager of the new store will be George Gust, who has been with the organization for 30 years. Gust has spent 15 of these years managing Detroit area stores and for the past seven months has managed the Kinsel Drugstore at Huron and Saginaw streets.

The new store, covering 10,000 square feet, will be the second in this area. One of the most modern drugstores in the state. It is designed on the self serve basis with check-out facilities.

The store will carry a complete line of drug needs and confections, as well as major cosmetics and various types of housewares and cutlery.

The prescription department will spread across the back of the store, being constructed along colonial designs and offering a refreshing contrast to the modern design of the store itself.

The department will be set off by four colonial type pillars and housed in woodwork following colonial architectural lines, in white against a burgandy background.

The side walls of the store will be gay-shades of pink and yellow, with a soundproof fiberglass ceiling. Canope lighting will be used around fixtures, while the overhead lights will be neon.

The interior decoration is designed to make shopping a pleasant venture, with plenty of floor space between the racks and shelves displaying merchandise.

The new Kinsel's store will also feature a large soda fountain well equipped to serve lunches to patrons or employees at the shopping center, as well as those desiring only a quick cup of coffee.

One factor allowing customers more shopping space will be the lack of window displays. The front of the store will consist of plate glass from ceiling to floor with no inner display cases using up floor space which will permit shoppers the advantage of moving about and browsing more easily.

The modernistic store will be completely air conditioned during warm weather and warm weather during cold weather. The building is of a steel and concrete construction.

First practical automobile was built in Kokomo, Ind., by Elwood Haynes in 1892, according to En-

Pure Oil Will Open Miracle Mile Station

Pure Oil Company has announced the opening of a new service station tomorrow at the Miracle Mile Town & County Shoppers City. The station is located on Telegraph road at the southernmost entrance to the shopping center area.

Its facilities are handy to both Telegraph road traffic and motorists visiting the many stores opening up in the shopping center. It was pointed out by co-managers, Robert L. Dickie and Z. B. (Bud) Green.

Dickie, of 2395 Pontiac Dr., Sylvan Lake, has operated service stations in the Pontiac area 13 years. Green, of 213 Norton St., formerly owned his own gas station in Royal Oak.

The Miracle Mile service station has Automobile Club of Michigan road service.

Services such as engine tune-ups, lubrication and minor repairs are available. On sale are such items as tires, batteries and automobile accessories.

Speed Age for Trains

ST. LOUIS—There are more than 3,100 station-to-station passenger trains runs in the United States of a mile a minute or faster. Some are at a speed of as much as 84 mph, start to stop, and many trains attain speeds of 90 to 100 mph somewhere along their regular runs.

Chief at Little Rock School

Smith Seems Minus Fear

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Little Rock's Assistant Police Chief Gene Smith, in charge of the city force assigned to maintain law and order at Central High School, is regarded as a man without fear — an invaluable trait when it comes to handling a mob. Veteran police reporters who have seen political appointees come and go regard Smith as a "policeman's policeman," a strong disciplinarian who has the respect of the officers under him.

An amazing man who came up through the ranks, Smith worked in nearly every department of the force, including a six-months stint as desk sergeant, before becoming assistant chief four years ago.

But his greatest talent lies in handling the rough, tough situations that call for a man with guts.

Like his uniformed officers at strife-torn Central High Monday morning, Smith, in civilian clothes was swinging a billy club against the mob agitators who rushed police lines.

Another display of intestinal fortitude landed Smith on the front pages of nearly every newspaper in the nation on Sept. 17, 1954. On that day, Smith was caught by a news camera just as he killed a rifle-toting mental hospital escapee.

The crazed fugitive, James Herschel Long, was caught with a slug from Smith's gun just after Long had emerged from a house, shoving his wife in front of him.

When Long swung his rifle in Smith's direction, it was a fatal move.

On another similar occasion, Smith calmly walked up to within conversational distance of a crazed 15-year-old boy who had barricaded himself in his home and was taking random shots with a 22 cal. rifle at any one passing by.

Unable to reason with the youth, Smith then crept around to the back of the house, crawled through the window, took off his shoes and tiptoed up behind the boy, downing him with a flying tackle.

Smith, a rugged 6-foot-2 inches former football and track star was a chief petty officer in the Navy Shore Patrol in World War II and with his size alone convinced many a Navy Gob that he should behave.

SUPER MARKET — Rows and rows of foodstuffs are awaiting shoppers in the new Food Fair market at the Miracle Mile shopping center. The vast store boasts a huge array of goods plus a large number of check-out counters for speedy service.

Customers will find items handily arranged for easy selection, with carry-out teams on hand to deliver purchases to automobiles.

First Area Food Fair Market Ready at Miracle Mile Center for Union Land

One of the largest and most streamlined super markets in Michigan will service Miracle Mile Shopping Center patrons after Thursday, when the new Food Fair Supermarket will open there.

The gigantic market, offering customers 24,000 square feet of shopping area, will be the first Food Fair Supermarket in the Pontiac area, and the 30th in a chain of markets blanketing the Detroit area.

The manager of the super-market will be Edward Toswell, who has been managing markets in the Food Fair chain for 12 years.

Toswell is being transferred to the Miracle Mile branch from his former position as manager of a Dearborn Food Fair market.

The new supermarket will offer many outstanding features to customers. Among these will be the largest cosmetic and toiletry department in any supermarket in the state.

Aside from this dazzling cosmetic display, the dairy products department will offer 300 different varieties and brands of foreign and domestic cheese.

Food Fair's grocery department will give shoppers one of the largest arrays of national brand merchandise in Michigan supermarkets. This will include a complete line of various frozen foods.

Other features in merchandise will be a complete line of men's furnishings, drug items, household items and some clothing.

A highlight will be the Awrey Bakery department, with its complete line of fresh baked goods.

The handiest new service feature of the market will be a convenient customer pickup station. After the shopper's groceries are packed, a tag is given to the shopper and one clipped on his or her bags.

The patron then only needs to get his or her car, drive it up to the pickup station, present the tag, and the groceries are put in the car by an employee.

The market is designed on the self-serve basis, with wide aisles to give shoppers a maximum of free moving space. The entire store has been designed with customer ease and enjoyment in mind.

A large air conditioning and heating unit will keep the market at a pleasant and uniform temperature throughout the year.

The market will also offer baby carriage food carts for the convenience of mothers who can't get out to shop without bringing the young ones.

Sees High Tolls Barring Seaway, Asks U.S. Aid

TRAVERSE CITY (INS)—Mayor Frank P. Zeidler of Milwaukee said the federal government should support the St. Lawrence Seaway if tolls fail to do the job.

In a speech made in Traverse City, Mayor Zeidler said:

"Shippers of the lakes and promotional groups feel that the decision of the Seaway Corporation will cause tolls to be set so high as to destroy the commercial value of the Seaway and discourage its use.

"In the event that revenue returns are not sufficient to repay the cost of the Seaway, I feel no compunction about asking Congress to extend the time of repayment, reduce the interest rate or make capital grants to the seaway to compensate for certain of its unexpected costs."

His remarks were delivered to the Great Lakes Harbor Association in conference in Traverse City.

Ascension Island was named for its discovery by the Portuguese on Ascension Day, 1501.

End Dealings for Union Land

City Withdraws Offer to Buy Pike Street Lot for Parking Access

Negotiations between the city and officials of Baldwin Rubber Co. Local 125, to secure the union's property to complete a municipal parking lot, have been canceled, City Manager Walter K. Willman reports.

"We gave them 30 days to accept our offer of $45,000 and they didn't act," said Willman. The union is asking for $50,000 for the 100-foot lot on Pike street.

It is needed to provide an entrance and exit from Pike to the new parking lot on West Lawrence. Lack of the property is holding up construction of 30 spaces, the manager said.

He said the city would seek other means to provide the entrance and exit which is required under provisions of the ordinance authorizing the $600,000 municipal parking lot program.

The city also has canceled its condemnation proceedings against the union to secure the parcel.

Reviewing the rest of the off-street parking program, Willman said that besides the West Lawrence lot, only the West Lawrence lot at the foot of Wayne street is not completed.

The Army Reserve Building next to the lot is preventing completion of the lot. The lease for the building expires next February.

The third large lot in the program — the Jacobes and Lafayette lot — has been completed. An entrance off Oakland has just been provided.

Glamis Castle in Scotland, childhood home of British Queen Mother Elizabeth, is the traditional home of Shakespeare's Macbeth.

Bloomfield Gas Dealer at Washington Parley

A Bloomfield Township gas station owner is in Washington, D.C., today because he knows how to build up a small business.

Sam Reeve, of 6425 Golfview Dr., was chosen to attend President Eisenhower's small business conference because of the success he has had with his station at 6495 Telegraph Rd.

Rep. William S. Bloomfield (R-Royal Oak) attributed much of Reeve's success to extra neighborly services—friendliness and helpfulness that can help any small business prosper, the congressman pointed out.

Reeve has about 1,250 regular customers, said Bloomfield, a tribute to his success. Last year, his single station pumped more than 20,000 gallons.

At the small business conference,

'Austerity' Makes Army Wife Hang Her Own Drapes

HEIDELBERG, Germany (U)—The U. S. Army wife living in Europe will have to hang her own curtains from now on, just like millions of housewives back home.

Announcing that budget cuts require "more austere standards" for troops and their families, the U. S. Army's European headquarters said today one result will be that "tenants will hang their own drapes."

Personnel also are made responsible for "cleaning of drapes, furniture etc., if they want it done during their stay in government quarters."

Commissary hours will be reduced and deliveries of milk and bread curtailed. The Army added, however, that medical care, health sanitation and safety measures will not suffer.

Puerto Rico's spiny club palm is a plant porcupine. Long, needle-sharp thorns extending from the trunk ward off land crabs and rats that might otherwise climb up and steal the palm's fruit.

Barotseland Riches Revealed Soon

BAROTSELAND — The world's next mineral riches to be exploited may be in Britain's Barotseland Protectorate, the last almost autonomous native state in the Central African Federation.

The country is thought to have oil and is known to have tremendous mineral wealth but no prospecting can be carried out. Under a treaty signed in Queen Victoria's time, the Paramount Chief, Barotsa ruler, retained the right to grant licenses to prospectors, so Barotseland is still virtually "closed" territory.

The people live in a state of incredible primitiveness. Recent arrests on charges of witchcraft and cannibalism have reached 500, the capital, Mongu, reports. But young Barotsa men are leaving, lured by high wages in Northern Rhodesia. Britain is urging Mwanawina III, present ruler, to relax his ban on prospecting.

U.S. Assets Estimated at 1.6 Trillion Dollars

NEW YORK—The nation's total assets — including houses, cars, farms, goods and inventories, federal properties, public utilities and factories, mines, oil wells, and the like—are estimated at 1.6 trillion dollars.

The figure was arrived at in a recent study by Dr. Howard Clark of Columbia University.

Londoners Like Their Plays Earlier

LONDON — London adopted 7:30 p.m. as the hour for opening theatrical shows in wartime and now Londoners are loath to go back to 8:30. Henry Sherek, a West End impresario, has had such successes as "Edward, My Son" and "The Cocktail Party" to his credit and should know what the public wants, but he is getting little support in his effort for later shows, critics report.

One says: "He seems bemused with the idea that people want to eat a long dinner before going to the theater. But the mainstays of the theaters nowadays are the office workers who finish at 5:30. A quick, half hour meal usually suffices them." Other West End theaters are dead against Sherek's plan.

THIS IS THE LIFE

No cares, no worries, nothing to do but dream the long sweet dream of summer, and listen to music. Softly, maestro, the lady's napping! Why can't this be your dinner. Just borrow the lady's cooking-the-ham-the-night-before technique so you're relaxed and pretty for your guests with a cool-like-air-conditioned kitchen to do your serving from.

There's no question that home is sweeter than it used to be since science stepped into the kitchen and relieved the "little woman" of some of her burdens. Frozen foods, quick mixes, ready-to-heat-and-eat, every variety and size of canned food — all right at your fingertips at your Kroger store to help make life a breeze.

St. Fred's starting backs of Jack Lyon, Tom Nesbitt, Gary Dirker and Dick Kast will have to go some to match the running averages they compiled in that opening win over Marine City. Lyon averaged 8.5 per carry for 16 rushes, Kast ran nine times for 7.7 yards, Nesbitt had a 5.6 mark and Dirker 5.3, both for 11 carries.

Armada had seven different players take part in the scoring in its 55-0 opening triumph, while Brown City had a completely different situation. The Green Devils squeaked by on a two-point margin, scoring one TD against two safeties.

Jackie Jensen is always being mentioned in trade talks but the Boston outfielder most likely to go in a trade is Jimmy Piersall.

Michigan's final golf tournament of the 1937 season, the 36-hole state PGA, will be held this Sunday at Birmingham Country Club. The annual medal play tournament will be preceded by a pre-member event Saturday.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's reorganized Midget football program begins next week. After-school sessions are scheduled Monday through Thursday while a morning workout is set for Saturday.

Troy's Half-Pint football team will stage a candy sale drive Friday to raise funds for its entry in the All-American Little Football League.

A double-feature fight card is scheduled for tomorrow night in Saginaw when Pat Lowry meets Willie Barbois and Duke Harris faces Gus Rubial, all welterweights.

Newt Loken, gymnastics coach at the University of Michigan, will be conducting the clinic for cheerleaders sponsored by the MHSAA. The locations are: Oct. 12 at Central Michigan; Oct. 19 at Eastern Michigan; Oct. 26 at Northern Michigan; and Nov. 2 at Western Michigan.

Pirates Sign Three Rookies to '58 Pacts

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced the signing of three players to 1938 contracts with their San Jose, Calif., and Clinton, Iowa, farm clubs.

Catcher James A. Burnette, 18, of Marion, N. C., and pitcher John K. Sadecky, 17, of Tarentum, Pa., will be assigned to Clinton and outfielder Fred P. Filippelli, 21, of Alameda, Calif., will report to the San Jose club.

E. Lansing Again Leads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Trojans from East Lansing High School, riding along on a nine-game winning streak, have started the defense of their 1936 state football title in championship style.

Ranked the No. 1 Class B eleven in Michigan last year, the Trojans beat Mt. Pleasant 19-6 last Friday night and started the 1937 weekly ratings at the top of the heap.

A 10-man panel of experts, all veteran football observers from every section of the Lower Peninsula, rates the top 10 teams each week for the Associated Press.

East Lansing was far in front of second-ranked St. Joseph, a 12-0

Wings to Play Charity Game Sunday Night

The Detroit Red Wings will make their first home appearance of the exhibition season Sunday night at the Detroit Olympia with proceeds of the game going to the Leader Dog Building Fund.

The game is being sponsored by the Metropolitan Council of Lions Clubs and tickets can be obtained by calling Ray C. Cannon at TRinity 2-2510 in Detroit.

ALBION IRON MAN — Junior guard Lanny Leak, 6-feet, 195 pounds from Clarkson, was the iron man for the Albion line last year as he played 60 minutes in every game. He is back at his position this year and is expected to be one of the top linemen in the MIAA.

Tigers Open Two-Game Series With White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers were back on the road today to finish up the last of their season's traveling and without much to hope for in this campaign.

Bogged down in a six-game losing streak, Detroit opens a two-game series with the Chicago White Sox tonight. The Tigers complete the season at home in a three-game set with the Kansas City Athletics. Detroit had an open date yesterday.

Dreams of a third place finish in the American League have all but faded out. And the Tigers had best tend to their knitting in order to preserve fourth place.

At the same time only one more good chance remains for Jim Bunning to get that 20th victory.

Bunning, who failed to win his 20th against Cleveland Monday night, will get a chance in the final series with the Athletics at Detroit over the weekend.

The Tigers close out the 1937 run against the A's in single games Friday night and Saturday and Sunday. For tonight's opener with the White Sox Billy Hoelt (11-8) is the likely Tiger pitcher.

The Boston Red Sox' 9 to 4 victory over the Washington Senators last night put third place virtually out of the reach of Detroit.

With Detroit idle, Boston hiked its lead over the Tigers to four and a half games, clinching at least a tie for third. The Red Sox have four games left to Detroit's five.

The Tigers' final five find them two games ahead of the fifth-place Baltimore Orioles, which ought to be safe enough but which might not be if their losing habits continue. Their present losing streak of six is their longest in reverse since early in the 1936 season.

VERSATILE 160-POUND HALFBACK
McKeiver Sparks Wildcats

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The American sports public, which loves an underdog hero, might find a new one Saturday when halfback Bob McKeiver leads Northwestern against Stanford in a nationally televised game.

McKeiver is an oddity in this day and age when college coaches are looking for 200-pound halfbacks with the speed of 160-pounders.

McKeiver is 5 feet 4½ inches and has trouble reaching 160 pounds. But that doesn't bother the versatile star who last year was one of the big reasons Northwestern moved back into Big Ten football respectability.

McKeiver does everything. He is one of the finest defensive backs in the Big Ten despite his size. He is also Northwestern's No. 1 offensive threat.

Last season he led the team in rushing with 592 yards for a 5.2 average. He scored 38 points with four touchdowns, 11 extra points, and one field goal. He caught 14 passes for 171 yards and was the winner over Grand Rapids Godwin in the first weekly poll. Albion, led by halfback Hoseny Hall to 38-0 triumph over Grand Ledge, took third place.

Albion finished in eighth place in the final poll of 1936, while St. Joe was in 10th place.

The 1937 Class B ratings are for Lower Peninsula schools only. The Associated Press also will feature this year ratings among Upper Peninsula football teams.

A three-way tie developed for fourth place among Manistee, Inkster Roosevelt and Charlotte. Manistee whipped Petoskey 26-6 and Roosevelt walloped Avondale 50-7. Charlotte, unbeaten last year, won its ninth straight, nipping Lansing Everett 18-13.

Sooners Ranked No. 1 Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Oklahoma Sooners, whose decisive opening victory over Pittsburgh supported the pre-season balloting that nominated them as the nation's No. 1 college football team of 1937, can't lose this week.

After reaching the heights to smash Pitt, regarded as the East's best, 26-0, Oklahoma has an idle Saturday before meeting its first Big Eight Conference rival, Iowa State, Oct. 5.

Meanwhile the sports writers and broadcasters, who picked Oklahoma first in the pre-season Associated Press ranking poll, reiterated their belief by voting the Sooners the No. 1 rank in the first weekly poll after the start of the season.

Pitt was given the top Eastern ranking and eighth in the nation in the pre-season voting. It was the last team to tie Oklahoma before the start of a record winning streak which now has reached 41 games. But Coach Bud Wilkinson, who has the knack of getting the Sooners up for a big game, had them ready and they ground a good Pitt team into submission.

The next big one is the traditional game against Texas at Dallas, Oct. 12, and Oklahoma already is looking beyond that one to Notre Dame in November.

The results of Saturday's games brought several changes in the pre-season ranking order. Of 74 writers and broadcasters participating in this week's poll, 65 voted Oklahoma first; four put Michigan State on top; two voted for Duke and single first place votes went to Navy, Minnesota and Iowa.

Texas A&M, a 21-13 winner over Maryland in the weekly television game, retained second place without drawing a first place vote. Georgia Tech, on a good 13-0 victory over Kentucky, advanced from 11th place to third, dropping Michigan State a peg.

In the point scoring on the usual 10-0-8 etc. basis it was Oklahoma 720, Texas A&M 460, Georgia Tech 374 and Michigan State 354. Completing this week's first ten were Navy, Minnesota, Duke, Tennessee, Oregon State and Michigan.

NEW YORK (AP) — World Series experience and better relievers should give the New York Yankees the edge over the Milwaukee Braves in the series opening a week from today in Yankee Stadium.

Of the 10 Braves' pitchers eligible for the battle between the pennant winners, only Warren Spahn has worked in the Series. He was 1-1 in 1938. On the other hand, every Yankee hurler except Bobby Shantz, Art Ditmar and Al Cicotte has seen action in the post-season classic.

The Yanks' bullpen strength may be an important factor with Bob Grim and Bob Turley the chief firemen. Grim has won 12 games and saved 14 others. Manager Casey Stengel has shown increased confidence in Turley's relieving ability and Bob has come through with several excellent late-inning performances.

Milwaukee's best relief pitcher in the last three months has been rookie Don McMahon. But neither he nor Gene Conley, who came effectively to the rescue of starting teammates in a few key games, rate with New York's top men.

Managers Stengel and Fred Haney probably will not announce their starting pitchers for the opening game until next Monday. The naming of pitchers for the second and third games also will be on a day-to-day basis.

But here's the way the pitching lineup for the first three games looks at this time:

First game — Spahn (21-10) vs. Whitey Ford (11-4).
Second game — Lew Burdette (16-9) vs. Shantz (11-5).
Third game — Bob Buhl (18-6) vs. Tom Sturdivant (15-6).

If there is a change in this set-up, it may be the substitution of Don Larsen, last year's perfect game pitcher, for Shantz. Turley could be the Yanks' No. 3 hurler if he isn't used in relief in the first two games.

Texas A&M, a 21-13 winner over Maryland in the weekly television game, retained second place without drawing a first place vote. Georgia Tech, on a good 13-0 victory over Kentucky, advanced from 11th place to third, dropping Michigan State a peg.

In the point scoring on the usual 10-0-8 etc. basis it was Oklahoma 720, Texas A&M 460, Georgia Tech 374 and Michigan State 354. Completing this week's first ten were Navy, Minnesota, Duke, Tennessee, Oregon State and Michigan.

NEW YORK (AP) — World Series experience and better relievers should give the New York Yankees the edge over the Milwaukee Braves in the series opening a week from today in Yankee Stadium.

Of the 10 Braves' pitchers eligible for the battle between the pennant winners, only Warren Spahn has worked in the Series. He was 1-1 in 1938. On the other hand, every Yankee hurler except Bobby Shantz, Art Ditmar and Al Cicotte has seen action in the post-season classic.

The Yanks' bullpen strength may be an important factor with Bob Grim and Bob Turley the chief firemen. Grim has won 12 games and saved 14 others. Manager Casey Stengel has shown increased confidence in Turley's relieving ability and Bob has come through with several excellent late-inning performances.

Milwaukee's best relief pitcher in the last three months has been rookie Don McMahon. But neither he nor Gene Conley, who came effectively to the rescue of starting teammates in a few key games, rate with New York's top men.

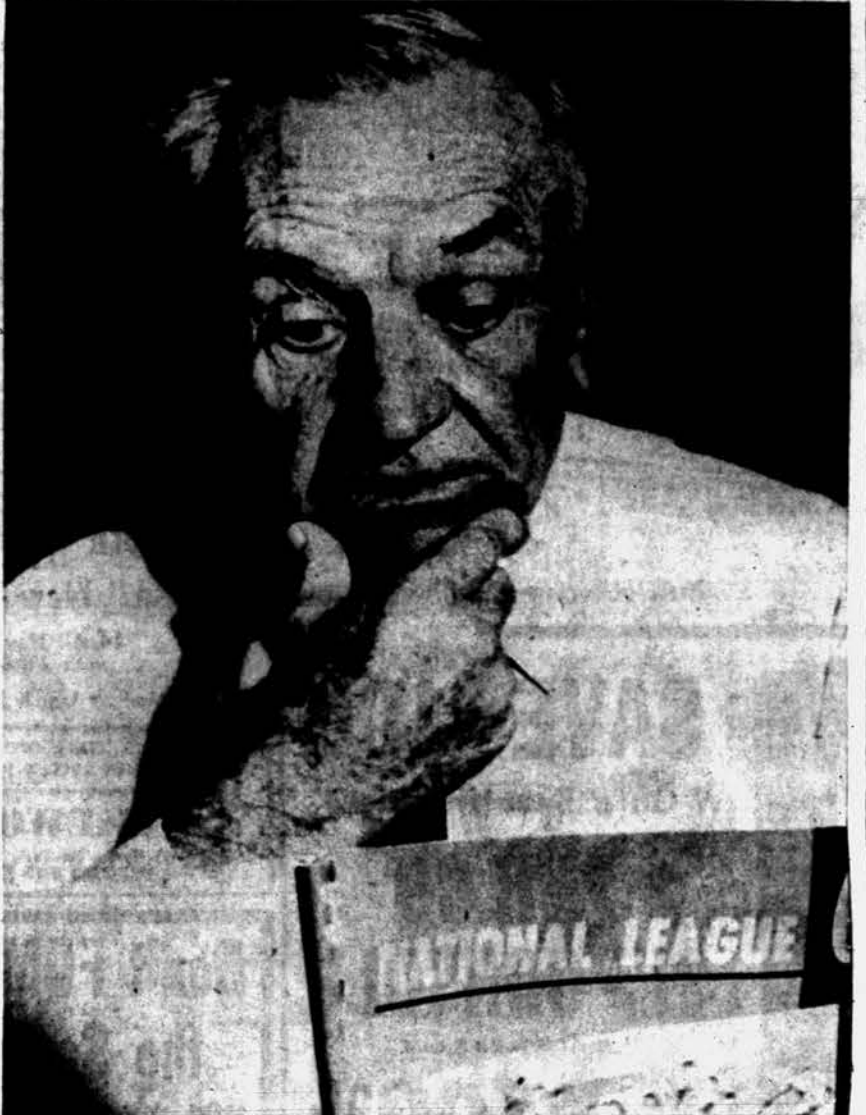

Managers Stengel and Fred Haney probably will not announce their starting pitchers for the opening game until next Monday. The naming of pitchers for the second and third games also will be on a day-to-day basis.

But here's the way the pitching lineup for the first three games looks at this time:

First game — Spahn (21-10) vs. Whitey Ford (11-4).
Second game — Lew Burdette (16-9) vs. Shantz (11-5).
Third game — Bob Buhl (18-6) vs. Tom Sturdivant (15-6).

If there is a change in this set-up, it may be the substitution of Don Larsen, last year's perfect game pitcher, for Shantz. Turley could be the Yanks' No. 3 hurler if he isn't used in relief in the first two games.

CHECKING HIS FOE — Yankee manager Casey Stengel gets out the National League brochure to look over the roster and notes on the Milwaukee Braves whom he will face in the World Series starting next Wednesday. Both the Yanks and the Braves clinched their respective pennants yesterday.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If streak-hitter Hank Aaron can keep his big bat booming it may be "Katie bar the door!" when the Milwaukee Braves and New York Yankees, the power clubs of the majors, start swinging in the World Series next week.

Hammerin' Henry, who hits in spurts but remains dangerous anytime he comes to the plate, is on a whale of a ride at the moment. He is batting .415 with four runs and 12 RBI in a 10-game hit streak. It's no coincidence his streak overlaps the eight-game streak that brought Milwaukee the National League flag.

When Henry hits, the Braves breeze. It was Aaron's two-run homer in the 11th that nailed the pennant in Monday's 4-2 victory over St. Louis. It was his first major league grand-slam home run that made last night's 6-1 decision over the second place Cardinals a cinch.

It was Aaron's 44th home run, third in three days, and kept him in the major league lead while southpaw Warren Spahn, Milwaukee's probable choice for the World Series opener a week from today, won his 21st.

The victory, by the way, was No. 93 for the Braves—their most since 1914.

The rest of the NL clubs scrambled for the leftovers last night. Brooklyn's Dodgers, playing what probably was their last game in Ebbets Field, nailed no worse than a share of third with a 2-0 victory over Pittsburgh. Cincinnati clinched fourth and stayed in contention for a third place tie by beating Chicago's Cubs 4-3 and 11-9 in a two-night pact. Philadelphia's fifth place Phillies defeated the New York Giants 5-0.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox outlasted Kansas City's Athletics 7-6. Ted Williams' 33rd home run gave Boston a 2-1 edge over Washington in the only other game scheduled.

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Veteran rightwinger Metro Prystai was among 17 players farmed out yesterday as the Detroit Red Wings trimmed their training roster.

Prystai, 30, was sent to the Edmonton Flyers for the 1937-38 season, Red Wing general manager Jack Adams said.

The switch ended 12 years of play in the National Hockey League for Prystai who was first acquired by the Detroit club in 1925.

Detroit traded the veteran Winger to Chicago in 1925, but reacquired him the following year. Last year Prystai appeared briefly with Marty Pavelich and Alex Deivechio on the Wings' "checking line."

Adams said Gordie Howe and three other players sidelined over the past weekend with attacks of influenza have recovered.

Howe rejoined the team yesterday for practice.

Other players cut from the roster yesterday included Jim Hay, sent to the Troy Bruins in the International League, and goalie Hank Bassen and right winger Ray Kimaswich, both sent to Seattle. Bassen went to Troy as a playing coach.

German Heavy to Test Durelle's Title Plans in TV Bout

DETROIT (AP) — German heavyweight Willi Besmanoff has the advantage in height and reach and a chance to upset Yvon Durelle's title plans when the two meet tonight in a 10-rounder at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

But Durelle, a stocky French-Canadian who owns three fishing boats in Baie Ste. Anne, New Brunswick, is favored to whip Besmanoff in this over-the-weight match that will be nationally televised and broadcast over ABC at 9 p.m. EST.

Durelle, a busy fighter who has had six victories and a draw with Tony Anthony in 1937, may be the next light heavyweight to challenge Archie Moore for the championship if he can record a decisive victory over Besmanoff.

The German boxer, whose biggest win in this country is a decision over heavyweight Bob Baker, will weigh about 188 pounds. He is 5-feet-11 and will spot Durelle about three inches in height.

Denver in Early Lead of Little World Series

DENVER (U) — The power that has marked Denver's play in three American Assn. seasons staggered the Buffalo Bisons 16-5 and sent the Bears into an early lead in the best-of-seven Little World Series last night.

A crowd of 11,838 fans saw the Bears bomb five pitchers for 15 hits, seven of them for extra bases, during the three-hour contest.

Oosterbaan Holds Scrimmage Session

'M' Ready for Coast Trip

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (U) — Rays of brightness have pierced the gloom of the Michigan football camp.

For a while the Wolverines went through the practice paces with the grimness of a cop walking a tough beat. They didn't look good. But yesterday coach Bennie Oosterbaan sent them through a rousing scrimmage.

Now the spirit has picked up and with the blocking and tackling which had been the Wolverines' sore spot.

It looks as if Michigan will be well prepared by the time it takes the field at Los Angeles Saturday for the debut against Southern California.

Oosterbaan seldom scrimmages at length before a game unless Michigan has lost the previous Saturday.

"Yes, it's rare to scrimmage at this stage although it's often been done here before," Oosterbaan said after it was over yesterday.

He was in his best humor in a long time and obviously felt he had needed and whipped his team into shape. His backs were running with abandon and the linemen snapped instead of pushing and mauling.

But Van Pelt's understudy, sophomore Stan Noskin, has found difficulty untracking himself after three weeks of brilliance. Noskin had his worst day in last Saturday's scrimmage and failed to reach his earlier heights yesterday.

"Noskin is a sophomore," Oosterbaan reminded, "he's had a good buildup and now he's feeling the pressure. All he needs is the experience several games will give him."

Fisher Body Golf League in Finale

The Fisher Body Office Golf League held its 25th anniversary celebration at Bald Mountain last weekend and trophy honors went to R. Kemp and G. Chakroff.

Kemp and Chakroff, first half of the season winners, defeated G. Wright and G. Shatto the second half winners for the Nichols trophy.

Low Gross honors went to five players in a tie with 38. They were C. Tarchalski, J. Ross, A. Marcum, A. Lovse and W. Stolt.

W. Bailey and B. Woodly took low net honors, J. Raymond won the driving contest and B. McLaughlin the putting contest.

Noskin yesterday fired several long passes. Some were overthrown but others were right on target. Two weeks ago almost every one he threw hit the bulls-eye.

The Wolverines leave on their long air journey to Los Angeles Thursday morning. They will carry 38 players. There are a few key players nursing slight injuries, but all should be ready to play.

Fullback John Herinstein still is impaired by knee and ankle pains which have been slow to heal. Left end Gary Pruhst has a bruised hip. His substitute, sophomore Chuck Teuscher, is considerably handicapped by a twisted knee and is the only Wolverine on the doubtful list.

Indiana to Make 1st Appearance Under New Staff

Tennessee System Is Installed; Hicks Acting Head Coach

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (U) — Indiana University's coaching staff, undefeated at Wyoming last year with basically Tennessee football, will begin learning about Big Ten competition at Michigan State Saturday.

And that, says Bob Hicks, acting head coach, is like starting your education with a post-graduate course.

The Tennessee-trained staff actually began learning about the Big Ten on July 25 when head coach Phil Dickens was suspended a year for exceeding conference limits on offers of aid to prospective players.

Dickens, hired in January for the formidable job of reviving an I.U. team that had won only eight conference games in the last eight years, was picked largely because of his diversified offense—also a Michigan State hallmark.

Spartan fans will see exactly the same "side saddle T" and Tennessee single wing with "organized confusion" defense that Dickens began installing before he was banned from the bench. Dickens brought his entire staff from Wyoming. It never has known a losing season of football.

In the side saddle T, the quarterback crouches behind and between the center and right guard, facing the left sideline. The line is balanced. The system utilizes off-tackle power, reverses, spinners and buck laterals of the single wing but keeps the dives, pitch-outs, options, roll outs and other weapons of the T and split T.

The center pass can go to one of three backs—the quarterback, tailback or fullback. Any one of the three may pass and probably will. Dickens' Wyoming teams passed on about a third of their plays.

Indiana's men in the side saddle will be Tom McDonald, husky six-foot junior from Valparaiso, Ind., and Tom Kendrick, same size and class, from Lancaster, Ohio. Steve Filipowski, another junior and an inch taller from Wilkesburg, Pa. was the starting quarterback most of last year after senior Chick Cichowski was hurt, but he hasn't been able to hold the advantage in a system calling for the quarterback to block.

Kendrick started in Indiana's 33-4 defeat by Michigan State last year.

The No. 1 Hoosier tailback is Willie Jones, a junior who has looked tremendous in practice for two years and could realize his potential this season. The 182-pounder was a teammate of Mel Dillard, Purdue's fine fullback, at Dunbar High School in Chicago.

Indiana may not have the depth, experience or natural talent to defeat Michigan State for the first time since 1940. It does have hustle and an intriguing new system.

Is Robinson Hanging Up Gloves?

NEW YORK (U)—Was Sugar Ray Robinson serious when he said he was thinking of hanging up his gloves for good?

No, according to most expert opinion.

They point out that Sugar Ray is a man of tremendous pride, and he dearly wanted to beat Basilio and retire as the champion.

Now, having lost the title three times, he wants to give it one more try. If he can beat Basilio in a return, he'll call it quits. He's 37, and can't go on forever.

Basilio is perfectly willing to go through with the return. The contracts stated that it was to be held in 90 days, but that is purely legal terminology. Because of taxes, neither fighter would want to make it again this year.

It probably will be held sometime between February and June. There is talk of holding it either in Miami or New York if it takes place in February or in Chicago if it goes outdoors in June.

The promoting International Boxing Club lost about $100,000 on the Monday bout, and a Basilio-Robinson return is really the only remaining big money bout left to put on. The loss, incidentally, was the biggest the IBC has taken in its eight-year existence.

Robinson went into seclusion to lick his wounds and hurt pride right after the fight and still has not come out of hiding.

Basilio's brain trust has been toying with keeping the welterweight title which he also wears (or wore), figuring there might be more money involved. But that appears to be out.

"The New York State Athletic Commission ruling on this is specific," said Chairman Julius Helfand. "The moment a champion wins a title in a division heavier than his own, he must abandon the title in the lighter division. Basilio is the world middleweight champion, nothing more."

The National Boxing Assn., which is not affiliated with the New York commission, gives a dual champion a 10-day period to decide which title he wants to keep.

Open Season at Baltimore

Lions Pare Roster

Yesterday was the day for chopping heads around the National Football League as the teams prepared for their season openers this weekend.

The Detroit Lions reached their 35-player limit by placing veteran Sonny Gande on the injured reserve list, Tom Rychlec on the military reserve list and putting guard and linebacker Chuck Muehlaupt on waivers.

This left the team with five rookies and 30 veterans. One of the newcomers who battled his way to stay on the squad was little Marvin Brown, 149-pound speedster from East Texas State.

Other rookies on the squad are tackle Ken Russell of Bowling Green, defensive back Terry Barr of Michigan, end Steve Junker of Xavier and tackle John Gordy of Tennessee.

Gandee, who injured his knee last week, will undergo surgery next week to correct the injury.

In workouts for the regular season opener Sunday afternoon at Baltimore, two of the Lions' first stringers missing from last week's game were back in action today.

Jim Doran, out for three games with a bad leg was running well, and Dave Middleton, leading pass receiver of the team, has completed studies for the summer at Tennessee medical school.

The absence of Doran and Middleton along with Dorne Dibble was a hurting factor in the 17-0 loss to the Giants Sunday.

Baltimore will have nine rookies on its roster when it opens against the Lions. Yesterday, the Colts placed veteran defensive back Don Shula, linebacker Bill Koman and halfback Ronnie Underwood on waivers.

Shula has been with the Colts since 1933 when he was obtained from Cleveland.

In other player transactions around the league yesterday:

area players with three six-pointers to their credit already.

There is certain to be a new county scoring champion this fall with Ron Brewer of Southfield graduated. He tallied 128.

A strong threat may be 1936 runnerup Jim Kearney, Bloomfield field. He scored 12 points opening day.

Gary Ballman, area leader easily with 144 points for East Detroit a year ago, will have a tough time defending that crown, due to a summer injury which has sidelined him for the early games.

St. Fred's Lyon Leads County Scoring

St. Frederick junior back Jack Lyon, who ran wild tallying five touchdowns Sunday in the Rams' 1st victory in four seasons, is the leading individual scorer for Oakland County and the surrounding area following the opening weekend of prep football with 30 points.

The speedy fullback scored better than half his team's points in a 50-0 walloping of Holy Cross of Marine City despite the fact he is not an experienced ballcarrier.

"I think those touchdowns were the 1st Jack has scored in high school ball. We used him mostly as a blocker last year when we were passing a lot."

said his pleased coach Gene Wright.

Lions takes a big two touchdown lead over his nearest competitors in both the county and area into a Sunday game at Fennell St. James.

In the opposing backfield that day will be one of the six area gridders who has 18 points on three tallies. He is rugged veteran Bill Tunnell.

Lake Orion pass catcher Jim Drake, Frank Redman of Milford and Troy's Wayne Flegley are others with 18.

Last Game at Ebbets Field?

Dodgers' Home Is Like Ghost Ball Park Today

BROOKLYN (U)—Ebbets Field looked the same as always today. The admission price signs still were hanging. The flags of the eight National League teams still wafted in the flatbush breeze. Even the tarpaulin was spread across the infield.

There was one big difference, though.

It was a ghost ball park. Barring an unforeseen miracle, the Brooklyn Dodgers never will play there again. Only the official signing of contracts stood between them and moving to Los Angeles next year.

Major league ball players are not supposed to have any feeling about where they play. But to a man—even the native Californians—the Brooks were sad at the thought of leaving the little bandbox.

"It's an eerie feeling," admitted Duke Snider, who resides in California.

Said Manager Walt Alston: "When I came here, I heard that this was a tough town, but the fans could get on you. But they treated me good. I'm slow making friends but when I make them I hate to leave them."

Roy Campanella refused to give up hope that the team would stay in Brooklyn.

"Gosh, I hope last night's game wasn't our last one in Brooklyn," said the usually jovial catcher, suddenly realizing that it was the season finale at Ebbets Field.

"I'm afraid it was the last game in Brooklyn," observed outfielder Carl Furillo sadly. "This is a sorry bunch to have to leave here. It is a good town."

Gil Hodges, the big first baseman, who married a Brooklyn girl and has resided the year-round here the past eight years, said simply:

"I hate to leave."
"It's a funny feeling," said veteran pitcher Carl Erskine. "Every play you watch, you realize that you'll never see the same thing at Ebbets Field again."

Captain Pee Wee Reese, the senior Brook in point of service, shook his head and said:

"I don't think any ball player anywhere ever had better treatment than I here in Brooklyn. It's tough."

A crowd of 6,702 turned out for the finale and it resulted in a 2-0 victory for the Brooks over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Organist Gladys Gooding kept up a running selection of reminiscent songs and when the ball game was over, she played Auld Lang Syne.

Orion Archery Club Proceeds With Building

Material Is Purchased for Clubhouse to Be Built by Members

LAKE ORION — The Lake Orion Archery Club has purchased materials for their clubhouse from proceeds from their summer projects and are building their own club house.

The building 24x30 is being erected on Ferndale Ave. just off Highway about 1/4 mile North of Clarkston Rd. on three lots 120x100 feet. (With the 90' to the road) This leaves ample room for parking in front of the building, and enough room for a horseshoe driveway so no cars will accidentally back over children in the neighborhood.

The Northern end will be double walls filled with sand so no arrows can pierce the exterior, and bales of straw will be placed before it. Four large windows will be towards the road and two to the back. The entrance will be on the South end.

The club members began working on the foundation on September 14, and began erecting the roof rafters September 21. Their fall tournaments which will begin in October will be held here, so it is necessary to enclose and weatherproof the structure quickly.

When completed it will have a cement block foundation, white asphalt sides, and a dark asphalt roof. A floor will also be placed over the present plyscore. Eventually the building will be soundproof.

Just how many hands will continue the work of October 1 with the beginning of bow and arrow hunting season remains to be seen, but thus far volunteer workers have included: William and John Ardean; Irvin Johnson; Melvin Krueger; Richard Peters, E. L. Pierce; Richard Sinclair, Leo, Jr., and Arthur Stone.

DOG TIRED — Little "Stevino," held by his owner, Jerry McAnnally of 3423 Oakbeach Dr., Waterford Township, would rather sleep than do anything else right now. Eventually he may become a beagle's dream — a field champion.

Beagles Hold Top Spot With Hunters

The friendly, alert little beagle hound, currently the "top dog" among small-game hunters everywhere, is also the most widely owned hunting companion among Oakland county outdoors enthusiasts. American Kennel Club reports the beagle far in front of other breeds in "popularity." Boxers and cockers rate behind the little hunter and pet.

Beagles sell for as high as $7,000 according to Charles Chapman, of 2333 Silverdown Dr., one of the founders of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Beagle club.

Chapman owns more than 30 pure-bred registered beagles in his kennels in Waterford Township. He says, "In my opinion, there will never be a dog to pass the beagle in popularity."

An honest, untiring workman, the beagle has a determination and singleness of purpose, which makes him a sportsman in his own right, Chapman added.

He explained that dogs are priced for their ability to produce the fine characteristics that are bred in them and many high-bred dogs often fail to pass on these attributes.

A true "beagler" owns from four to 30 pure-bred, registered dogs.

never one, Chapman said. "And of course, a beagle's dream is to make a field champion," he added.

The dog has to participate in field trials until he accumulates 120 points and wins three first places, to achieve a championship.

Chapman added that field trials make interesting out-door sport because a rabbit always runs in a big circle, returning to the spot where he was "kicked out." However, in spite of this, a good dog sometimes gets lost, he said.

Other area experts on beagling are Adolph Walter of 3925 Suffolk Ave., Gerald Rosten of 4430 Meigs Ave., and Omer McAnnally, 3423 Oakbeach Dr.

The entire McAnnally family is interested in his new litter of hound puppies, whose mother's name is just plain "Emma."

Her five babies have already acquired the knack of "declaring it," with their mournful howl, according to McAnnally.

Sportsmen from all parts of the state are preparing for the sixth annual OCSF Field Trials, to be held Oct. 10-11-12 at Sashabaw Ranch in Waterford Township.

LET'S GO, BOSS — An alert little beagle, one of those sturdy, clever all-around hunting dogs just now rated as the national favorite among outdoorsmen, looks through a Waterford Township fence. His expression seems to say, "let's go, boss." And he's always ready, and eager. Rabbit hunters, particularly, swear by the smart little hound.

Deer Season Information Is Available at Dealers

LANSING — Regulations, permit applications and instructions for obtaining permits for Michigan's 1937 special deer hunting seasons can be obtained from all license dealers in the state as of now. These materials also will be available at Conservation Department district offices.

The information and applications are being mailed from the Department's Lansing office and some dealers may have supplies on hand before today.

In order to be eligible for a permit, a hunter must submit an application postmarked no later than October 10. If the number of applications exceeds the permit quota for any area, a drawing will be held about October 20 to determine distribution of permits.

Special seasons have been set to take deer of any age, either sex, in 31 designated food short or crop damage areas. Goal for the special seasons is a harvest of 17,790 deer in addition to the regular buck kill.

The same checker-boarding existed in the northern half of the

260 Entries in Skeet Shoot

Wayne Skeeters Walk Off With Squad Honors

Battle Creek Sportsmen Take Class A Title in Trap Shoot

A record number of 260 entries was attracted to the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club last weekend for the 9th annual MUCC trap and skeet shoot.

Wayne County Sportsmen's Club walked off with skeet honors as their five-man team posted a 240x-250 winning score. Members of the winning team were: Albert Tatom, 45x50; Leamon Armstrong, 48x50; George Daugherty, 50x50; Steve Cory, 48x50; and Ronald Kelly, 49x50. Team Manager was Ray Bartell.

High gun in skeet was Ted Hanaford, shooting with the Detroit Sportsmen's Congress, with a perfect 50x50 score. Hanaford hit 10x100 during the day's shooting. Runner up was George Daugherty of the winning Wayne County club with a 50x50 performance.

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club team No. 1 scored a 216 while its No. 2 team hit a 224 in the skeet event.

Multi-Lakes Conservation Association entered three teams and they ended with scores of 196, 182, and 187, respectively.

BATTLE CREEK CLUB WINS TRAP

The Sportsmen's Club of Battle Creek, team No. 2, won the Class A trap shoot with a final score of 22x250. Class B winner was Battle Creek's number 2 team with a 22x250. Class C team championship went to Southeastern Michigan Conservation Club team No. 1 with a 210x250 score.

OCSF entry posted a 212 while Multi-Lakes scored 203 and 196.

High gun in trap shooting was F. Peterson of Battle Creek team No. 1, who scored a 49x50. Runner up was K. G. Jones of the Lansing team No. 1. He also scored a 49x50.

The Ninth Annual MUCC shoot was combined with a successful turkey shoot at the OCSF grounds. The sportsmen's club snack bar and spacious clubhouse was open throughout the day for shooters and families to enjoy and elk barbecue dinners were served during the afternoon.

Grouse Cycle Now Moves in Upswing

By JACK PATTERSON

A recent letter from Andy Amman, Game Division ornithologist, bears the good tidings for grouse hunters that ruffed grouse show a "moderate but definite" increase throughout their range.

Most notable increase is in the Upper Peninsula but there are signs elsewhere that the grouse cycle has entered an upswing. As usual, some areas may be expected to provide better shooting than others.

It has never been the policy of this column to attempt to pinpoint "hot" grouse areas in advance of the season.

We'll cheerfully pass along conditions as we find them when we're afield during the season, but not beforehand. We have several reasons for this.

First, and most important, we abhor any word or deed which tends to bring about an unnatural concentration of hunters in any area, particularly on opening day.

Second, the information we have to rely on is often fragmentary and of questionable value and we'd hate to impair our standing in the prophet's guild by giving anyone a bum steer.

But putting aside thoughts of pin-pointing, we can still draw some useful conclusions from a study of last year's flushing reports. A county by county comparison shows a checker-board effect, part of which is at least in due to scanty information from some counties.

In the Upper Peninsula, for example, no one county stood out head and shoulders above another although there were variations. If a trend showed at all it was to the effect that the eastern and far western counties showed a slightly better percentage of birds flushed per hour than the center counties.

The same checker-boarding existed in the northern half of the Lower Peninsula with somewhat greater variation between the best and poorest.

It should be noted here that the counties rated as "poorest" (our designation), where flushing average was less than one bird per gun hour, were in every case poorly reported (less than 50 gun hours total) so the value of the figures is highly questionable.

Be that as it may, if we wished to paint a general picture of the northern half of the L. P. it would be roughly as follows:

The western half of the area and the southern border of the area generally showed a somewhat higher percentage of birds.

The northeastern section, with one or two exceptions showed the fewest.

Before we jump to the conclusion that it's a waste of time to hunt grouse in the northeast counties, let's take a look at the comparative flushing figures in the five game management districts into which the northern half of the lower peninsula is divided.

The most — grouse — flushed district averaged about two birds per gun hour flushed. The least — grouse — flushed district averaged about one bird per gun hour flushed. The rest of the districts fell in between.

When we consider that some of the disparity in apparent grouse populations is undoubtedly due to incomplete reporting, the difference between the "best" areas and "poorest" areas begins to look almost academic.

Our advice, then, to the grouse hunter who plans to do some business next Tuesday is this: Hunt an area where you found birds last year and expect to find more there this year. That's what we're going to do and we're going to spend more "gun hours" in the northeast area than anywhere else, figures or no figures.

Regulations for Hunters

Because of the complexity of the 1937 Game Laws the following summary includes only those species upon which the season opens October 1st. Zone 1 includes all of the Upper Peninsula. Zone 2 includes Lower Peninsula north of highway M-20. Zone 3 includes Lower Peninsula south of highway M-20.

PCC Hearings in Second Day

Commissioner Denies Using Illegal Methods to Gain Information

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt of the Pacific Coast Conference has denied accusations his office used illegally obtained information, coercion and misrepresentation in investigating conference members.

Schmidt returned to the stand yesterday as a voluntary witness in the second day of hearings before the State Assembly subcommittee on intercollegiate athletic activities.

Assemblyman Joseph Shell of Los Angeles, a former University of Southern California athlete, asked about internal revenue files which showed that a host of USC athletes had been paid by the Southern California Educational Foundation, an influential alumni organization. Shell charged that the PCC illegally obtained these files. He said they led to the imposition of wholesale penalties on USC.

Schmidt said he obtained a legal opinion from a private law firm which in essence said the material could be used as an exhibit but not circulated. The exhibits, however, were never shown to the conference fathers, Schmidt said.

Duffy Daugherty on the new Big Ten aid to athletes policy: "The new Big Ten grant in aid is based on need, and, boy, do we need it." Bob Berch, Michigan State half-back, has a brother, Jim, who was on the Purdue team which upset the Spartans 6-0 back in 1933 to snap State's 23-game winning streak.

BIG MAPLE — A highlight of Birmingham's 19-7 win over Cranbrook last Friday was the power running of fullback Chuck Gibson, a 220-pounder who also plays tackle. Gibson will be one of the Maples' big hopes for an upset Friday night at Birmingham when they collide with mighty Bay City Central in the area's No. 1 grid attraction.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman
The Big Three — Footwork, Arm Swing, Timing.

Bowling, a simple game, is based upon just three fundamentals. If you have fairly good mastery of these, you'll be a pretty good bowler. They are:

1. Footwork
2. Arm swing
3. Timing

Now, at the beginning of the season, is the time you should pay particular attention to these basic fundamentals. Forget about everything else in your practice sessions. Don't even keep score if that distracts you.

Concentrate on one fundamental at a time and take them in the order outlined above. Walk through your delivery without the ball, as we show today. You can even practice this at home. If things don't feel right, slow down your actions. Next, work on the arm swing. Finally, coordinate the movements of your feet and arms with the rest of your body for perfect timing.

Whenever you practice or whenever you're analyzing your game, always start with these fundamental points and you can't go wrong.

Awesome Gridiron Task Lies Ahead for Maples

By BILL CORNWELL
Carl Lemle, head football coach at Birmingham High School, is no doubt the most unenvied person in Oakland County this week.

The reason is obvious. Lemle has the thankless task of sending his gridders onto the Birmingham stadium turf Friday night to clash with powerful Bay City Central of the Saginaw Valley Conference.

Carl doesn't want anyone to shed tears for him because he stuck his neck out. He wanted his gridders to have some stiff competition and you can bet your life that they'll get it.

Birmingham's battle with Bay City is the No. 1 prep game this week in the Oakland County area. It will be the 1st meeting of the two schools in their history.

Coach Elmer Engel's Wolves, currently ranked 3rd in the state Class A poll, are favored to win the Saginaw Valley crown this year.

The Wolves boast a star-studded lineup, headed by junior quarterback Jerry Gross.

Gross pitched three touchdown passes to end Jim Schultz last Friday as the Wolves opened their 1937 season in impressive fashion with a 48-0, walloping of Owosso.

Birmingham's hopes for an upset of stunning proportions will hinge largely on fullback Chuck Gibson and the ability of the line to contain the high-powered Bay City attack.

Gibson, who plays both fullback and tackle, is a 220-pounder who lugged the ball in devastating manner last week when the Maples downed bitter rival Cranbrook, 19-7. Lemle has said that Birmingham's success in 1937 depends a great deal on the performance of Gibson.

The Maples are presently rated in the second 10 of the 'A' poll. Their tiff with Bay City is a one-year contract and no return game will be played.

Orchard Lake St. Mary, aiming for its 3rd consecutive Suburban Catholic League title, opens its '37 schedule Sunday at Highland Park against tough St. Benedict, the school which snapped the Eagles' 19-game winning streak last year.

Other attractive games this week are St. Rita at St. Michael, St. Frederick at St. James, Waterford at Lapeer, Farmington at Rochester, Holly at Bloomfield Hills and Avondale at Romeo.

Warning Duck Hunters
LANSING — Michigan duck hunters are reminded to make sure their target isn't a wood duck when the waterfowl shooting season opens October 1. State regulations again this year prohibit the taking of wood ducks.

Tigers Sign College Catcher to Contract

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers announced today that they have signed college baseball star Carl Hartman to a minor league contract.

A sophomore at Bowling Green University, the 18-year-old Lorain, O., catcher has been assigned to train with the Class A Augusta team.

Tiger officials said Hartman was signed by Scout Pat Mullin after seven other Major League teams had tried to get him.

Before enrolling at Bowling Green, where he earned a football letter last year, Hartman was a four-letterman at Lorain High School where he batted .350 on the baseball team.

1,000 Scouts Eye Outing

Oxford Scene of Big Campout

Clinton Valley Youths to Leave Friday for Weekend 'Jamboree'

More than 1,000 Clinton Valley Boy Scouts and Explorers will head for Oxford on Friday night to participate in a weekend "Roundup Jamboree."

Largest camping event ever sponsored by the local Scout council, the activity will be based on the program and layout of the National Boy Scout Jamboree held during the summer at Valley Forge, Pa.

It also will provide a panoramic view of Scouting for boys who have joined troops and posts in the past few weeks.

Coming by car, truck and bus from all parts of North Oakland and Macomb Counties, the boys will put up their tents at the Paul White farm, four miles east of Oxford on the Lake George Rd.

MIXED CAMPING

Dave Vogt of Rochester, chairman of the miniature Jamboree, pointed out that this event will incorporate many changes from previous council-wide jamborees. "Scout units will not camp by districts, but will be assigned to tent areas in the order in which they arrive. In this way, the boys will meet more scouts from other parts of the council. A Romeo troop may be next to a Farmington unit and a Milford explorer post next to a Utica troop.

"Program events will not be on a contest basis, but will be offered for participation by the unit. An award will be given to those entering at least four of the nine events," he said.

Saturday's program events include: rope and knots, orientation compass, axmanship and sawing, nature, friendship exchange, whittling, first aid and camping. Neighborhood commissioners from the four districts of the council will be in charge of these events.

CAMPFIRE PROGRAM

Sherry Mapley of Oxford, in charge of a big campfire program on Saturday night, reports high-light acts are to be a bull whip demonstration, trick roping and horseback riding. Civil Air Patrol fancy drill team marching and Indian dancing. "And, of course, there'll be singing," he said.

On Sunday, field services will be conducted by church officials for Scouts of the Protestant, Roman Catholic and Lutheran faiths.

Accented the miniature Jamboree theme, boys of Pontiac troop 244 will set up a camp similar to their site at the Valley Forge Jamboree.

PLENTY OF WORRIES

Ervin Schilke of Rochester, director of physical arrangements, readily admits that his committee had "plenty of headaches" in arranging for the many unusual needs of a group of this size.

"For instance," he said, "we have to provide plenty of water for the boys to use for drinking, cooking and washing." The Michigan Milk Producers Association is going to bring in a tank truck with water.

State police and the sheriff's department was contracted for assistance in parking and traffic control. A Red Cross first aid truck will be on hand.

Inasmuch as little firewood is available, Scout units will bring their own charcoal for cooking. And, fire pails for fire protection.

"The Jamboree staff of leaders will sleep in a circus tent. That's probably indicative of the size and of the fun we're expecting," Schilke said.

Four Towns Methodist Guild Meets Thursday

FOUR TOWNS — The Elizabeth Russell Guild will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Four Towns Methodist Church. After the business meeting a representative from the Detroit Edison Home Service will give a talk on "How to Make Your Home More Attractive at Low Cost."

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Calvin Patterson, Mrs. Harold Knisley, Mrs. Leon Betcher and Mrs. Dan Simpson. The Building Committee also will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at 1200 Williams Lake Rd.

Rural Nuclear Power Conference Scheduled

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Rural Electrification Administration today scheduled its second rural nuclear power conference for Oct. 7 and 8 in Washington.

About 250 rural electricity delegates will meet with industry representatives at the meeting.

Heads Jewelers Assn.

GRAND RAPIDS (INS) — Elly Berndt of Adrian has succeeded T. S. Fox of Grand Rapids as president of the Michigan Jewelers Assn. The organization is celebrating its 50th anniversary, and concluded its annual convention Monday in Grand Rapids.

Work, $1,100 Produce Hotrod

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
MILFORD — After two years of hard labor and $1,100, a Milford youth has almost finished building one of the most unique hotrods in the area.

Every time that Ned Watson of 1100 Commerce Rd., rolls his "Baby-Mint" out of the ground-level garage, other "rodders" driving by — come to a screeching stop to investigate and examine the progress made.

Originally, the scud-going vehicle was a 1932 Ford pick-up truck. A 1948 Mercury engine with a stroked-Cam aluminum flywheel and triple carbs were installed. Special chrome racing type domed pistons dominate the top.

The chassis was stripped, the cab cut way down, then mounted on the framework. Inside, the most important item is the unusual Stewart-Warner dash board for the various instruments. Soon a safety belt will be attached to the sides.

Up front, there are 670 x 15 inch tires, while on the rear wheel there is 800 x 15 rubber. Ned has a fine radio installed, too, but is "not concerned about a heater."

Other equipment includes airplane-type shocks, and the protective roll-bar, so necessary in hotrod racing. In contests, "Baby-Mint" takes the curves at 84 miles per hour, Ned said.

Although Milford does not have a Hot Rodders organization at the present time, plans are being made to re-organize the "Clipped Angels," which folded up in 1935.

Most of the local teenagers belong to the "Spark Plugs," in South Lyon, according to Watson, and they are affiliated with twenty active clubs in Michigan.

Each Monday night the boys get together and help members work on their cars. There are nine rods under construction now, and "as far as that goes," Ned said, "we never completely finish building our cars because

Enrollment at U. of M. Highest With 27,035

ANN ARBOR (INS) — The University of Michigan announced enrollment has hit an all-time high of 27,035 students at the main campus here, at the Flint branch and at extension centers throughout the state.

More than 23,000 students are attending classes in Ann Arbor, said Edward G. Groesbeck, director of registration.

The statewide figure a year ago was 25,810.

Auction of Ewes, Lambs to Be Held in St. Louis

Oakland County farmers will have the opportunity to buy native ewes and feeder lambs Friday during an auction sponsored by the Michigan Livestock Exchange.

Held in St. Louis beginning at 8 p.m., the auction will consist of more than 500 ewes and 500 lambs. They will be sorted into uniform lots of 20 to 50 head according to age and quality, Jay Poffenberger, assistant county agricultural agent reports.

The sheep are from flocks throughout the central Michigan area and many come from farmers who are shifting their sheep program to large flocks of western ewes, he added.

Little Rock in Headlines

LONDON (INS) — Paris and London newspapers heavily featured today the Little Rock school integration story. Several of the papers gave it front-page display under banner headlines.

something new can always be added."

The boys usually go to New Baltimore, where teenagers from all over the state may race on a special drag-strip under the jurisdiction of the State Police and Safety Council committees.

"I don't know of one single accident that has occurred there, yet," Watson concluded.

Martin Charges Rival Coercion

Says MMPA Compels Members to Sign Up; Asks Aid of Williams

LANSING (INS) — The organizing boss of a fledgling dairy group has accused a rival organization of resorting to coercion and intimidation in building up its membership.

The Michigan Milk Producers Assn. has 8,000 "prisoners" among its 10,000 members, Homer Martin, organizational director for the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn., told Gov. Williams yesterday.

"Farmers are told to sign up with the MMPA or they won't have a market, sign up or the dairy inspectors will be out to see them," Martin said. "The MMPA doesn't represent the dairy farmers at all."

Martin and directors of the year-old cooperative group called for the Governor's help in Michigan's milk price battle.

"Dairy farmers are ready to strike for what they feel is necessary to give them a decent living," said Martin. Plymouth farmer and former leader of the Fair Share Bargaining Assn., another dairy group.

Williams told the delegation he was sympathetic to their plight, but that dairy farmers must stop feuding among themselves and settle on a course of action before the state can come to their rescue.

Asked to outline the group's program, Martin said:

"Our goal, simply put, is more money for less milk."

He called for legislation setting up bargaining powers for dairy-men which would allow them to control milk prices and milk production through contracts with dairies.

Paul Dehring of Armada, treasurer of the organization, told Williams dairy farmers hope eventually to "get government off our backs." Rather than rely on government help, he said they aim to set up an organization to bargain for themselves.

City Hall Clock Rests So Citizens Can Sleep

BURLINGTON, Vt. (INS) — City Hall clock is sounding again — but it rests between midnight and seven in the morning so nearby residents can do the same.

The clock was halted a year and a half ago when area householders and hotels objected to its loud bonging of the wee hours.

It was electrified by a Harrisburg, Pa. firm, which also changed the mechanism to assure a discreet, sleep-saving silence for seven hours out of each day.

Start Evangelist Series Tonight

2 Outstanding Leaders to Hold Nightly Services at Mandon Lake Church

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Dr. Homer A. Hammon and Paul Beckwith are holding a series of evangelistic meetings at the Mandon Lake Community Church on Round Lake Road.

The meetings which start tonight, will conclude on Sunday, Oct. 6, with services held at 7:30 p. m. each evening.

Dr. Hammon has been for six years the head of the music department at the Moody Bible Institute and has served as song leader for many of the nation's leading evangelists, including with the "Billy" Sunday team. He has an outstanding ministry with servicemen during the last two wars.

Beckwith, a native of Michigan is a graduate of Dallas Theological Seminary and has been active with the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship. He has edited hymnbooks and authored many articles that have appeared in Christian magazines.

Both men, active on the conference programs of many churches, have a unique teaching ministry.

The church is located north of Cooley Lake road. The Rev. Dorr W. Fockler, pastor of the church has extended an invitation to the public to attend the meetings.

Carrier Back in Service

BREMERTON, Wash. (INS) — The aircraft carrier Midway will go back in service Monday after being modernized at a cost of 30 million dollars.

Marco, assistant director. "Wake Up Darling," slated for presentation at West Bloomfield High School Oct. 17-19 will be mounted in a lavish setting and promises to be of Broadway caliber.

Says Hoxsey Clinic Changed Treatments

PITTSBURGH (INS) — A Grand Haven, Mich., witness testified in a court hearing yesterday that the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Portage, Pa., twice changed the treatment for his wife.

The witness, Vander Wall, appeared for the government in an injunction suit in U.S. District Court. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration seeks a permanent injunction against the clinic's dealing with out of state patients.

Wall said he took his wife to the clinic five times since last September when a growth developed on her neck.

He said his wife first was given green and red pills with the color combination later changed and, still later, she was taken off pills and orange juice was substituted.

He said Mrs. Wall now is being treated at a hospital in Grand Haven.

Last fall, after a court battle, the Hoxsey pills were declared worthless and ordered destroyed. The government now says the clinic has changed its type of pills and is guilty of double fraud.

Avon Photo Club to Meet Thursday

At the recent meeting of the group, Robert Harris was elected vice president to complete the term of George Taylor, who has moved from the area.

Find Cost of Living Drops in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit's cost of living, going opposite to that of the nation as a whole, dropped a little for the month of August.

The drop, first of the year, was one tenth of one per cent. The index here is now 123. But that is still 2.5 above last year. It compares to the national index of 121 per cent of the 1917-18 average. Food costs were a shade down in Detroit. The reduction was four tenths of one per cent.

In White Lake Rite Carol Lee Miller Wed

MILFORD — An evening ceremony at White Lake Presbyterian Church Saturday united in marriage Carol Lee Miller and Charles Arthur Redman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Miller of 3141 Lake Dr. here, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Eva Redman, 1085 North Park Dr., Milford.

Wearing a gown of Chantilly lace over tulle with bouffant skirt, the bride repeated her vows before 150 guests.

Her headpiece was of Chantilly lace and iridescent sequins with scalloped edge of pleated-nylon and seed pearls. Stephanotis, white roses and ivy formed her semicascade bouquet.

Bridal attendants were Sandra Lee Ribble of Milford; Patsy Ann Miller, sister of the bride; Connie Weaver; and little Sue Ann Simpson, who was flower girl.

Norman St. Clair served as best man and ushers were Frank Redman, Jim Miller and Dale Bretz.

After a reception in the church parlors, the couple left for a Cape Cod honeymoon.

They will reside in a new home in Highland, upon their return.

Lake Orion Church Plans Dinner Thursday

LAKE ORION — The Women's Department of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints will hold a family style dinner Thursday at the church. Serving will be continuous from 5 to 7 p.m.

Proceeds of the event are earmarked for the church building fund.

Heart Attack Kills Man on Outing

ROME — A Detroit man collapsed and died of a heart attack yesterday morning in a woods a half mile south of 31 Mile Rd., near Camp Ground Rd.

The victim was Andy Sotoliga, 64. He had been picking mushrooms with his wife and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pathewies of Hamtramck when he was stricken.

The rescue squad of the Romeo Fire Department was summoned and Dr. Ronald Rosman pronounced the man dead at the scene.

Hollywood Headlines

Colorful Gene Tierney Back After Long Layoff

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — One of our most colorful actresses, Gene Tierney, who has been away from the screen for several years because of ill health, returns to 20th Century-Fox to star in "The Young Man with a Secret," an original short story. Along with this pleasant news comes word that Herbert Bayard Swope Jr. has signed a nice new fat contract with 20th and will produce Gene's return film.

Quite a schedule is arranged for young Swope. His first of the three on this new deal is "The Bravados," starring Gregory Peck with Henry King directing. "Rope Law," Elvis Presley's western for 20th, also comes under the Swope aegis. I was interested to hear that Henry Silva whose role of "Mother" in "Hatful of Rain," both on the stage and screen, was such a frightening character, will play the villain in Elvis' movie.

"The Rivalry," the play Agnes Moorehead and Raymond Massey are doing for Paul Gregory, might be a story of today, Agnes told me. She plays Adele Douglas, wife of Stephen Douglas, and there's a great discussion of civil rights.

The Lincoln-Douglas debate at Freeport, Ill., is featured, she told me. I told her my grandmother was there with my mother, a very tiny baby, in her arms, and, of course, I've printed it so much I'm sure she'd read that Lincoln kissed my mother.

We discussed the text of that debate, and Lincoln's sound logic. Agnes said that she had studied everything about Mrs. Douglas, and she feels that she was a great helpmate for her politically ambitious husband.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Mary Hovford, Sonny Whitney's bride-to-be, is in the East while Eleanor is trying to talk to his wife. Eleanor, about a settlement so he and Mrs. Hovford can be married.

Susan Zanuck and her husband, Andre Hakim, and their baby are spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Darryl Zanuck. They flew from Paris to attend Susan's grandmother's funeral.

A few minutes after Carlos Thompson married Lilli Palmer in Zurich, he telephoned and introduced her to his mother. He asked his mother to tell me first, but by that time the news had been flashed to the world.

At the Don Loper dinner at the Escoffier Room, Mrs. Cesare Danova, wife of the famous Italian actor, and I discovered we have the same natal day.

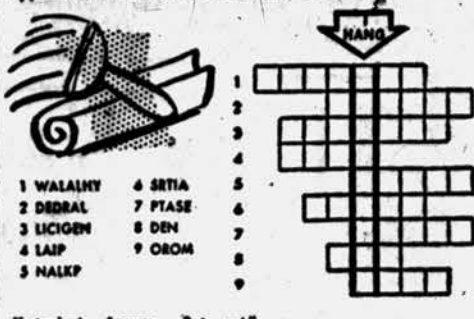

Martha Myer, wearing the biggest hat (she said she hadn't had time to do her hair) came to the Jules Steins cocktail party with Gene Kelly. The party honored Jules' brother, David, who has lived in Paris for seven years.

Jane Wyman, in a red, red dress, at Chasen's having dinner with Gail Smith and a party of TV executives.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Plan Motor Lodge in Southfield Area

SOUTHFIELD — Construction of a Motor Lodge and Howard Johnson Restaurant is planned to be built in the near future at 10 Mile road and Northwestern highway. Township Clerk Fannie Adams told The Press this morning.

Application for rezoning from residential to commercial of an additional 150 feet adjacent to the 200 feet already owned at the site by the Howard Johnson chain was made at last night's regular township meeting.

The request, made by Herbert J. Book, of the Book Cadillac-Sheraton Hotel Chain, has been referred to the Zoning Board here for public hearing.

Cairo Woman Becomes Mother of Quadruplets

CAIRO (U) — Aziza Mohammed el Hefnawy, 25-year-old wife of a porter, yesterday gave birth to quadruplets, the newspaper Al-Ahram reported today.

She delivered two babies by herself, but a doctor was called to deliver two more, the newspaper said. Both mother and babies, all boys, were reported doing fine.

Find Precedent for Ike's Action

Experts Discover 14 Cases of Troops Used in Civil Outbreaks

WASHINGTON (INS) — Precedents dating back to 1792 were cited today by government legal advisers as justification for President Eisenhower's use of federal troops in Little Rock.

On May 2 of that year George Washington signed a law, basically unchanged in the next century and a half, that provided the specific language of Mr. Eisenhower's proclamation ordering the crowds at Central High School to "disperse."

The statute empowered the President to use force if such a proclamation was rebuffed and "insurgents" proved "too powerful to be suppressed by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings."

Washington had recourse to the law in 1794 when the "Whisky Rebellion" against a federal excise tax was put down in Pennsylvania by militia from four states.

The act expired in 1794 but was revived the next year and clarified in 1807 by a specific congressional authorization for the use of United States forces.

The law remains in effect and at least 14 presidents since Washington have issued proclamations for the use of federal troops to quell civil disturbances.

Bartlett Doubts Solons Bettered State Colleges

LANSING (U) — Lynn M. Bartlett, Democratic state school chief, today questioned a Republican legislator's assertion that the 1957 Legislature "substantially" improved the position of state universities.

He replied to Rep. James F. Warner (R-Ann Arbor).

Bartlett said the Legislature, by maneuvering for increased tuition and student fees, worked a hardship on young men and women students of limited means.

Teenagers Today Are Conservative in Sex Attitudes

LOS ANGELES (U) — Today's young people are far more conservative than their elders in their attitude toward sex, says a California theologian.

"It isn't that today's college generation is against the mass exploitation of sex," said Dr. Robert Elliott Fitch. "They are indifferent to it."

Fitch, dean of the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, Calif., told a luncheon meeting yesterday that the "lurid age," which began in youthful revolt following World War I, is drawing to a close.

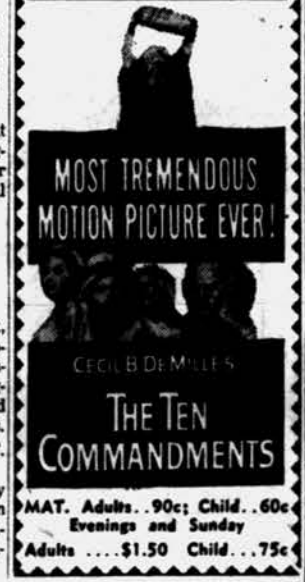

The dean had a final word, however. "It is ridiculous to speak of the fall of sex. It just can't happen," he said.

CHICAGO (U)—A police captain acted speedily yesterday when he learned Santa Claus died and his body was destined for potter's field.

He wasn't really Santa Claus to everybody. But William Moss, 65, was St. Nick for the last half dozen years to the kids around 79th and South Halsted streets, where he donned beard and bright red suit for the merchants' association.

Capt. William Hennessy of the busy South Side Gresham district said Moss was a friend to a lot of folks. He liked children and he had a hearty laugh.

Hennessy, Moss' landlady and friend, Sam Kaplan, in whose restaurant Moss dined daily, never did learn any information about his family.

"They live out East," Moss could say, "I've been here 22 years. This is my home."

When Hennessy was told Moss had no money for burial he ordered the body taken to an undertaker — and then spread the word. Businessmen, policemen, the waitresses in Kaplan's restaurant dipped into their pockets.

"We've got enough for a fine funeral," Hennessy said.

When it was learned Moss was Jewish, Rabbi Jacob S. Rabin agreed to officiate at today's services.

"Sure he'll have flowers," said Hennessy, "and a motorcycle escort to the Beverly cemetery with some squad cars too."

Gas Station—Cabaret Doing Brisk Business

RIO DE JANEIRO

"Dance around while we fill 'er up" may be the motto of a unique service station in Rio de Janeiro.

The Brazilian night club-gasoline station reports that business is brisk. Customers buy about 100,000 gallons of gasoline a month while frequenting the adjoining club.

Stage Was All Ready —But Audience Vanished

DENVER (INS)

The Denver city council, after months of citizens' complaints about not being able to hear the councilmen in the council chamber, finally rearranged their seats to face the public.

The new arrangement works fine, save for one minor detail. Since the change there has been no audience.

Gilt Fire Hydrants Start New York Fiesta

By PHYLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — AT the risk of developing a city full of neurotically grandiose dogs, New York is about to spray its better fire hydrants with gilt.

At the equal risk of panicking its late-night inebriates, the city will paint its trash baskets, lamp posts and store windows gold — such a brilliant gold that a man stumbling 50 yards east from the Stork Club will swear he's in heaven.

And when Queen Elizabeth comes to town next month and sees the sparkling streak that by that time will be shimmering down the center of Fifth Avenue, she'll not only be impressed, she'll likely carry the word back that it's all true, what they said in Victoria's day: America has streets paved in gold.

All this, and yellow garbage trucks too, are part of the upcoming 50th anniversary celebration of that street of spendthrifts, Fifth Avenue.

In 1907, the "Fifth Ave. Association" — a group of merchants dedicated to making her the mecca of shoppers — was founded.

"She's a great old street," said Grover Whalen, bristling with animation from his white-tipped mustache up. "Not a very attractive street when she got going — full of arteries leading into her and littering her with dirt — but a real sensation, now that she's a half-century thriving."

Seventy-one year old Mr. Whalen, called "Mr. New York" and identifiable at all public rallies and parades by a lapel carnation and the fact that he's squarely in the middle of the crowd, running things, is chairman of the celebration.

"It will start with a torchlight parade up Fifth Avenue on Thursday night, October 10th," Whalen said, "that should be the most colorful spectacle since Lindy came home."

"Then for a week we'll have unusual events. The sanitation department, for example, is going to show us how they cleaned the streets 50 years ago, and the transit commission will show its progress since the first Fifth Avenue bus." It'll be painted gold, of course. "There will be prizes for the best store windows and the N. Y. public library will have a 'reminiscescences' exhibit, and a ball and pageant at the Waldorf, and

and lively at the same time, Grover Whalen achieved the duo ex-

ible half-century association with his mind to many things . . .

Fifty years ago, Fifth Avenue was a relatively short, high-class residential street, but the merchants were just beginning to move in — forcing the Vanderbilt and Rockefellers to move "up and up and up, both on the avenue and above it."

Since that year of 1907, the complex of the avenue has been constantly changing, getting fancier and fancier, busier and richer, until now there is scarcely a building still standing that bears any resemblance to the Fifth Avenue of Whalen's youth.

"The only thing, in fact, that's the same is this . . . Fifty years ago this month, the association's big problem was traffic, and how to regulate it. Today's status? A less quiet quo."
