Kids Tug, But All in Vain

July 27 Secret Hearings Set

Probers' Spotlight on UAW

Industries Feel Crippling Effect of Steel Strike

No Sign of Early Pact as Fact-Finding Plan Gets Rejection

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Union and management negotiators marked time today as the basic steel industry strike spawned growing unemployment in other areas of the nation's economy.

There was no indication of any early break in the two-day strike of 500,000 United Steelworkers — the sixth major shutdown since World War II.

Patches of unemployment have sprung up and will grow daily in such allied industries as rail, coal, truck, inland water shipping, iron ore mining and processing.

Roughly 20,000 or more workers in these industries have been idled.

Joseph Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, summed up the deadlocked situation when he stated: "I don't think it's susceptible to easy or early solution."

At the direction of President Eisenhower, Finnegan had met separately with both sides to explore their positions. He said afterward he plans no formal peace moves until Monday.

Earlier, the union proposed—and the industry rejected—a plan to submit disputed issues to a three-man fact-finding board. The industry said the facts already are well known.

Basically, the union seeks increased wages and improved fringe benefits, contending the steel industry can afford it. The industry says that to grant the demands would be inflationary; it must hold the line on production costs, also have more leeway in effecting operation economies.

★ ★ ★

Steelworkers had been averaging $3.10 an hour. Their old three-year contract expired June 30, was extended two weeks until Tuesday midnight at the request of President Eisenhower.

The President said at his news conference that there is no present emergency which would warrant government intervention under the Taft-Hartley Act.

3-Day Inquiry to Pry Union's 'Flower Funds'

Senate Investigation Could Spark Dem-GOP Political Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee plans to start a preliminary investigation of the United Auto Workers in hearings behind closed doors.

The three-day inquiry, starting July 27, is to determine whether evidence compiled by the committee's Republican members is sufficient to justify public hearings.

The investigation could set off a political row among the senators as a similar one did when the committee investigated the UAW in 1958.

The union traditionally supports Democratic candidates for political office, although it has supported some Republicans at times.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) announced the inquiry. It will deal among other things with UAW "flower funds" — which usually buy few flowers.

UAW President Walter Reuther told the committee last year flower funds really are union campaign funds raised by voluntary contributions from members. He said the funds are used mainly to finance the campaigns of incumbent UAW officers, including himself, and the campaigns of rivals, with each side having its own flower fund.

Mundt and Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb) want to know more about the raising and spending of these funds. Mundt said the committee also would look into the affairs and finances of some UAW officials.

Reuther told the committee in hearings last year he knew of no corruption in his union but that if the committee could point to some he would start cleaning it out within 24 hours.

★ ★ ★

Mundt said the committee also has agreed on "preliminary ground rules" for another touchy inquiry. This one deals with charges that both industry and labor unions have been circumventing or even flouting federal laws forbidding them to participate directly in financing partisan political campaigns.

Police Dispute Hard on Schools

Difficult for Principals to Remain Neutral; Fight Affects Activities

Pontiac school officials found it difficult to remain on neutral ground today in the controversy between Public Safety Director George D. Eastman and the Pontiac Police Reserve Assn.

The principals of both of the city's senior high schools said they were concerned over the matter, "but prefer not to enter the dispute or take sides."

Francis Staley, Central High principal, commenting on the possibility of no reserve police to handle football crowds this fall said, "I don't know what we'll do. It will be difficult without them."

Philip Wargelin, Northern High principal, was more alarmed. "It isn't a possibility, it's an actuality. The reserves stopped policing our basketball games the middle of last season.

"We asked for regular police patrolmen to fill in. They would not come out and work."

For about five years, reserves have been the major force policing student sports and social events. A policy change in the Police Department late last year limited their work.

Both principals said they definitely have no plans to cancel or cut down sports events in the future, with or without police help.

They intimated, however, this might become necessary if crowds became unruly or incidents of violence or rowdyism became frequent.

"I have as much praise for our spectators as I do for the reserves," said Staley. "We've never had any trouble and the credit should go to both the students and the officers."

★ ★ ★

"We used about 20 or 25 reserves for each game. If they aren't around this fall, we can replace some with faculty members. I hope the regular police can fill in."

Both Staley and Wargelin emphasized the importance of uniformed men.

"Arm bands have far less effect on students than do uniforms and arms," Wargelin said.

"We greatly appreciate the help of various civic and fraternal groups, but a uniformed officer has more immediate authority and effect," Staley explained.

Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, would not commit himself.

"I have no comment until I have studied the situation thoroughly," he said. "Before making any statements I feel it best and fair to consult with those people more closely involved and see just what affect the lack of reserve police might have."

Thirsty Earth Gulps Hose in Waterford

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

Another one of those "nuzzling-nozzles" has buried itself in hard ground in front of the Robert Verhine home, 6641 Manson Dr., Waterford Township.

The strange phenomenon of nature has the entire neighborhood wondering just how and why a garden hose with running water should suddenly begin to work itself through the cement-like earth.

It all started last Sunday afternoon when the Verhines' 5-year-old daughter, Linda, laid the hose down on the parched lawn and went into the house.

One hour later the family discovered the hose burrowing downward, so "just for fun" they let it go.

By yesterday afternoon the hose was beginning to pick up speed in its downward drive, and no amount of pulling or tugging could budge the plastic hose.

Finally in desperation, and because they needed the hose to water their sun-baked garden, Mrs. Verhine got a shovel and started to dig.

It took a pick-axe to break the hard ground around the hose, but after digging down three feet the hose broke loose.

There was nothing unusual about the earth at the bottom of the hole, and the hose did not have a sharp nozzle.

SAME EXPERIENCE

Another family in the neighborhood, the Jack Hascalls, had the same experience last week.

A hose laying in the yard began to bear downward when the water was running.

Ralph Anderson, a next door neighbor, decided to help his friend by laying the Anderson garden hose next to the disappearing Hascall hose.

Both hoses began to disappear before the astonished men. So to put an end to the ridiculous situation they pulled the hoses up out of the ground, shut off the water and forgot about the incident.

Caught in Commerce Twp.

Arraign Abductor Today

A drink-crazed ex-convict who was captured in Commerce Township yesterday afternoon after kidnaping his ex-girl friend and terrorizing her family with a deer rifle was to be arraigned this morning in Highland Park Municipal Court.

The girl, blonde Ann Piri of Highland Park, escaped and called police when her abductor, 22-year-old John Thompson, fell asleep yesterday afternoon in a wooded area near the intersection of Commerce road and Watuga drive.

The kidnap victim, who was described as a "problem girl," told police Thompson had criminally assaulted her.

Thompson was still asleep when his arrest by Pontiac State Police Troopers Gary Powell and Gerald Tafel ended a statewide hunt. Asked about the night's events, he said: "I was drunk. I don't remember a thing."

★ ★ ★

Thompson entered Miss Piri's home in Highland Park shortly before dawn yesterday, bullied her family with the rifle by firing a shot just above their heads, and forced the girl to accompany him.

DRINKS WITH BROTHER

He told the trooper he and his brother, George, 24, on furlough from the Army, had been drinking in a tavern earlier. They fought, he said, when George tried to get him to stop drinking. He said he got the deer rifle with the intention of killing his brother but couldn't remember what happened afterwards.

Miss Piri, who has been in trouble for delinquency, school truancy and running away from home, admitted seeing Thompson since his release last March from Southern Michigan Prison where he served a year for burglary.

Thompson received an "undesirable" discharge from the Army in 1956.

Police said the girl had broken off with Thompson and was genuinely frightened of him. Miss Piri said he threatened her with the rifle and punched her in the stomach.

Miss Piri, who told troopers she was too scared to call for help, appeared unharmed except for slight bruises on her neck.

"I need rest," she said.

Tafel said the girl appeared to be in a state of shock.

★ ★ ★

She fled from her abductor when Thompson fell asleep. She raced through the woods and across a field to the home of Mrs. Wilma Volinski, 3868 Tahoe St., Commerce Township. Mrs. Volinski called the state police.

When the troopers arrived at the Volinski home, Miss Piri told them of her ordeal after identifying herself.

Leaving the girl there, the troopers searched the woods until they came across Thompson sleeping on a blanket near his car.

Highland Park Police said Thompson appeared at the Piri girl's home about 4:30 a.m. and pounded on the door. Anne's brother, Robert, 19, answered.

Thompson, he said, demanded to see Ann and when Robert told him he couldn't come in he produced the rifle and said: "This says I can."

Once inside Thompson went up the stairs to the second floor. The girl had heard the commotion and had gotten up, putting on a flowered-blue robe.

Ann's aunt, Lillian Piri, 54, and her grandmother, Mrs. Anna Piri, 84, with whom she lives, also were awakened. Thompson herded the family into the grandmother's bedroom and forced them to stand against the wall.

He fired a shot which smacked into the wall just two inches above Robert's head. Then he grabbed Ann by the arm and pulled her down the stairs and into his car.

★ ★ ★

Highland Park Police said Thompson would be arraigned today on a kidnaping charge.

State GOP to Push Tax

Package Deal Looms; Also Agree to Accept Upped School Aid

LANSING (UPI)—House Republicans decided in caucus today to release enough votes to virtually assure passage of a sales tax-business activities tax package, if Democrats will go along.

But it was generally accepted that a final showdown on taxes will not come until next week.

Senate Republicans today agreed to accept state aid for schools at a $200-per-pupil-level—10 dollars higher than last year.

The Republicans, who control the Senate on a 22-18 margin, also agreed to a deductible millage factor of 3, compared with last year's 2.75.

(See earlier story on Page 7)

The GOP caucus-approved stand was about mid-way between last year's school aid level and the stand taken by the House, calling for $210 per pupil and a millage factor of 3.5.

Meanwhile, the Citizens Research Council of Michigan said today the state stands to take in about 22 million dollars more in the 1959-60 fiscal year than was thought possible seven months ago.

The council said projections for the fiscal year starting July 1 have changed in the last seven months—a period when "all signs and portents point to . . . a rapid and sound recovery from the recent recession."

The House veered off a path toward a showdown on taxes and moved instead toward an area of compromise involving the use (sales) tax and a levy on business profits.

The compromise idea was to be brought before the House by GOP floor leader Allison Green, Kingston, and Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit).

Capital Airport Named for Dulles by Ike's Decree

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has named Washington's new international airport after the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

He said in issuing the executive order yesterday that it was fitting that the airport "should bear the name of this distinguished American whose memory is revered wherever men cherish democracy and freedom."

The new 9,400-acre airport, now under construction near Chantilly, Va., is expected to be in service some time in 1961.

Renewed Air of Progress Seen in Pontiac by Brodie

"After an absence from Pontiac of nine months, I see a tremendous difference in local activities," said Horace F. Brodie, former Advertising Director of The Pontiac Press. "There is a new feeling of buoyancy and an air of progress. I note it on every side."

BRODIE

Brodie is now spending considerably more than half of his time in Florida and only returned to Pontiac this week following his departure last fall. "Retail circles are doing considerably more business than they did in the fall," he asserted, "and I find that this happy condition extends into every line of activity there is.

"The main causes are the great years that Pontiac Motor and GMC Truck and Coach are having. I hear nothing but favorable comments on the Pontiac car wherever I go.

"The general public likes its appearance and owners are happy over the performance. Management and labor are to be congratulated on the great product we are producing here. It's the hot car of the year.

★ ★ ★

"GMC Truck and Coach are necessarily less in the limelight, but a big hauler told me of the grand performance of some of these new South Boulevard products. They've made a great step in all truck construction.

★ ★ ★

"Fisher Body's inside conversion is another reason for renewed activities along with the addition of the station wagons and convertibles."

The Day in Birmingham

Small Blaze Overstaffed as 3 Calls Spur Firemen

BIRMINGHAM — Three uncoordinated telephone calls sent the Birmingham Fire Department out in force yesterday to fight one small blaze.

★ ★ ★

At 12:58 p.m. a call from 644 Purdy street reported a burning garage behind the Charles J. Van Horn Real Estate Office at 576 N. Woodward Ave.

An engine truck and a ladder truck from East Fire Station responded.

A minute later a fire report was received from 569 Pierce street, and that call was quickly followed by another from 593 Pierce street.

★ ★ ★

Acting on the possibility of more than one fire, Fire Chief Park Smith sent out another engine truck and a ladder truck from West Fire Station.

When the four trucks converged firemen discovered that the three calls, made from neighboring homes, had all been prompted by the same fire.

Chief Smith sent the West Station equipment back home, and East Station firemen subdued the garage fire.

★ ★ ★

The garage, owned by the real estate firm, was in the process of being torn down and damage therefore was listed as zero, according to Chief Smith.

★ ★ ★

The fire started when sparks from burning rubbish in an adjoining lot ignited scrap lumber from the garage.

Time Running Out on Fenton Attorney

Dye to Appeal to Top Court

As his corps of attorneys announced they plan to take an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, former Fenton village attorney Clifford B. Dye had until 1 p.m. tomorrow to ponder whether this latest legal maneuver would keep him from behind prison bars.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams yesterday reluctantly granted Dye a 48-hour stay of a 2 to 10 year prison term to allow his attorneys to seek a State Supreme Court bond to keep him free.

Judge Adams earlier in the day had granted a stay also to Herman Kierdorf, former aide to Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa.

The judge told attorneys Andrew J. Transue and Richard Fruit, both of Flint, if when they returned at the specified hour Friday they didn't have notice of a new bond Dye would be shipped off to Jackson Prison.

★ ★ ★

Judge Adams sentenced the 57-year-old white-haired Fenton attorney back in 1956 for assault on a farmer with whom he was having disputes over the management of a farm leased by him from Dye's sister.

SEEMED FINAL

What seemed like the end of legal steps in attempt to prove the conviction "unjust" came when the State Supreme Court affirmed his conviction and this week denied him a rehearing of the case.

★ ★ ★

Judge Adams then ordered Dye to surrender himself at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

Transue appeared before Judge Adams with Dye yesterday afternoon and gave notice of his petition for the emergency setting of bond pending application for a writ of certiorari to the U. S. Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

He filed it yesterday afternoon with the high court. Since the eight justices are in recess until October, Donald F. Winters, court clerk, said it would take a telephone conference around the state to see if the court would grant the new bond on Dye.

★ ★ ★

After studying the $10,000 bond under which Dye has been freed for more than three years, the judge granted what he said would be the last continuance of his bond in his court.

"When Mr. Dye appears before me again, and if he seeks to be further released, it will have to be on bond from the Supreme Court," Adams warned.

When he learned Transue planned to seek the bond from the Supreme Court, the judge asked: "Don't you think they have given this matter enough attention now?"

Transue replied that affirmation of Dye's conviction by the court was "a divided opinion" with three of the justices ruling for a new trial for Dye.

Fine Teamsters for Court Contempt

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—The Teamsters Union was fined $50,000 and a Teamsters official received a $5,000 fine and 18 months in prison today for criminal contempt of court. They were convicted Wednesday.

U.S. Dist. Judge Wilson Warlick handed down the penalties. The official is Hugh L. Rutledge, secretary - treasurer and business agent for Asheville Local 55.

★ ★ ★

Notice of appeals to the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals was given.

Rutledge and the Teamsters were convicted of violating an injunction Judge Warlick issued. The jury deliberated only 16 minutes.

★ ★ ★

The injunction was issued June 4. It enjoined four unionized trucking firms from discriminating against Overnite Transportation Co., a nonunion firm whose employes the Teamsters are trying to organize.

Thompson Asks Leave to Appeal

Teamster Seeking to Reverse Conviction in 'Torch' Arson Case

Legal papers were filed in Genesee County Circuit Court yesterday as attorneys for Jack D. Thompson, imprisoned in the Kierdorf arson case, moved ahead in trying to gain an appeal of Thompson's conviction to the State Supreme Court.

The high court once had refused to step into the case.

Before the court could get the case now, Genesee Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth, who twice denied Thompson a new trial, must approve a statement of facts submitted by Thompson's attorneys. This will be done Monday.

Yesterday this statement, along with an application for leave to appeal, were filed in Flint.

Thompson, a business agent with Flint Teamsters Local 332, meanwhile is serving a 1½-10-year term in Jackson Prison after his legal appeals collapsed.

His attorneys were expected to continue attempts to seek a stay of execution of the prison sentence should Judge Roth and the Supreme Court look favorably upon the latest legal step.

The eight justices would have to be consulted by telephone, as they are currently enjoying a summer recess.

Licked From Beginning

'Uncle' Herman Racing Clock

Must Meet Friday Deadline in Getting High Court Stay

Hours became more precious by the minute today for prison-bound Herman Kierdorf as his attorney raced the clock to meet a Friday deadline on securing a further stay from the State Supreme Court.

Kierdorf's attorney, Eric E. Zisman, had not filed a petition yet this morning seeking a new bond and a chance that the eight justices would reconsider the case they have once rejected.

Supreme Court Clerk Donald F. Winters said he hoped Zisman would submit the new papers soon so that they could be taken up with the justices through a telephone conference. Justices are scattered about the state in summer recess until October.

However, Zisman at noon today said this wouldn't be possible. Because he has to prepare copies for Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, he said he wouldn't be able to make it to Lansing to file his petition until tomorrow morning.

"It's going to be close but what else can I do," he asked.

Winters said then it would be up to Chief Justice John Dethmers to poll fellow justices by telephone in the short time allowed in order for Zisman to report back to Judge Adams at the specified time.

"The chief justice had hoped he could kill two birds with one stone, but I guess he can't now," Winters said.

Winters said he had other matters—one involving convicted former Fenton Village attorney Clifford B. Dye—to take up with the justices, and wished to handle them all through one call to all the justices that can be reached.

Yesterday, Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams gave Zisman until 1 p.m. tomorrow to show that the high court would set a new $15,000 bond on Kierdorf. Otherwise Kierdorf would be transported to Jackson Prison to begin serving his often-postponed 1 to 5 year term.

The former aide to Teamsters president James R. Hoffa was convicted and sentenced to prison by Judge Adams last fall for possessing a pistol silencer. The 68-year-old Kierdorf said the homemade contraption was a muffler for a lawn mower, not a silencer.

The judge told Zisman yesterday that he would grant no further stays of execution of Kierdorf's sentence.

Dizzy Summer for Lapeer Girl

She's Living on Ferris Wheel

AP Wirephoto

DIZZY BLONDE? — Life is just one big whirl for some gals. Take 20-year-old Joyce Mason of Lapeer for instance. She volunteered to ride a ferris wheel day and night until Labor Day as a stunt at a Flint amusement park. She has been on the job for over a week now and says she is enjoying the venture.

FLINT (AP) — Life is a dizzy round these days for 20-year-old Joyce Mason of Lapeer.

She is an attractive blonde who is working on a ferris wheel this summer — going around and around and around.

Joyce volunteered for the stunt at a Flint amusement park and has been on the job now for more than a week. How's she getting along?

"Fine," says Joyce. "I'm having a ball. Never had so much attention in my life."

She climbed into the ferris wheel gondola at 8 p.m. Tuesday, July 7, and plans to stay until the park closes Sept. 7. She'll get down sooner if the Detroit Tigers reach first place — a now unlikely possibility.

★ ★ ★

Joyce has some tips for constant ferris wheel riding.

"I look off at the horizon on the way down. It isn't so bad then. And if you kind of sit sideways you don't notice the rocking so much."

Joyce eats aloft and heartily. Meals, supplied by Flint restaurants, are placed aboard when the car halts at the loading platform.

Under terms of her agreement with the park operator, Joyce gets off three times a day for 10 to 15 minutes to stretch her legs, change clothes and wash up.

The park closes around midnight and Joyce's gondola is halted halfway up the wheel while she curls up to sleep. The night watchman keeps an eye on her in case she shows signs of tumbling out. If she wants down at night, she can signal on a long extension cord linked with a buzzer in the park office.

Several Flint business places advertise at the scene that they supply Joyce's bread, milk, laundry, cleaning, portable radio and protective fringed canopy.

Joyce doesn't say how much she's paid, but says the amount goes up each week she continues the stunt. The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mason of 87 S. Maple Leaf Rd., Lapeer, plans to enter Western Michigan University this fall.

The lack of exercise and hearty meals have confronted Joyce with one unforeseen problem.

People constantly offer her pizza, potato chips, hot dogs and pop for between-meal snacks. And she can't say no.

"I'll be so fat by Sept. 7," Joyce says, "they'll have to pry me out of here."

'Black Panther' Haunts Residents in South Oakland

Police at Berkley, Southfield and surrounding communities are still keeping a wary eye out today for a black panther or some such wild cat.

Night before last police in South Oakland County received at least 12 calls from excited residents reporting an animal variously described as a panther, lion or tiger roaming the streets after midnight.

An all-night search by police from five communities failed to turn up anything more menacing than a large tomcat.

But authorities haven't yet rejected the possibility that something larger than that is lurking in the neighborhood.

Fire Fund Halts at $112 Mark

Aid to Leonard Blaze Victims Stifled Before It Got Going

LEONARD — With only $112 collected to date, the Schirmer fire fund has apparently skidded to a sudden halt before gaining much momentum at all, according to Addison Fire Chief Robert McCallum.

The money collected at Audrey's Patent Medicine Store and at the Addison Fire Hall was totaled last night in a meeting at the fire station. Beside the $112, furniture, including beds and springs, also has been offered.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Schirmer, parents of six children, was gutted by fire July 9. They were on their first vacation in ten years at East Tawas when the blaze occurred.

The Schirmers are presently living with neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hamilton, of 4530 School St. McCallum felt the sudden stop in fund collections was due to the high interest in the Langlois disaster in Mount Clemens.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Langlois, lost five of their six children in a fire that gutted their home Monday. Mrs. Langlois, wife of a Pontiac factory worker, is still in critical condition at a Mount Clemens hospital.

Bremen in New York on Maiden Voyage

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 32,336-ton liner Bremen, the queen of West Germany's merchant fleet, arrives here for a whistle-tooting welcome on its maiden voyage today.

The 25-million-dollar liner is ranked 10th in size among the world's passenger liners, slightly smaller than the United States liner America. It has been converted to a luxury vessel from a World War II French troop carrier, the Pasteur.

The ship, owned by the North German Lloyd Line, is the fifth of its name in the firm's 100-year history. The liner has a passenger capacity of 1,200 in two classes.

Jury Clears Martinez Without Any Hesitation

Pontiac police officer Detective AUGUST MARTINEZ has been completely exonerated by a coroner's jury.

In line of duty, he shot a Mexican gone berserk to save his own life and that of a fellow officer.

The jury was out only 20 minutes.

The decision was swift and accurate.

The formality was made necessary by the intervention of Mexican entities that had no knowledge of the case. Legal adviser to the Mexican consul in Detroit declared that the Mexican government was completely satisfied and had nothing more to say.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac taxpayers are certainly satisfied. The men they pay to protect them are armed. They're armed for a specific purpose and when the need arises, they expect the defenders of law and order to act.

Martinez did.

He was completely justified.

Any other action would have been a betrayal of the faith the public places in him and his brother officers.

This Summer's Label Just About Perfect

We need rain.

That's a cinch.

★ ★ ★

But aside from this, the months of June and July have been just about perfect. Last summer we had very inopportune rains and plenty of them. Also, the weather was a bit on the coolish side.

★ ★ ★

Last winter, we had the coldest winter in a half century and many people suggested we were entitled to a wonderful summer to "even up."

★ ★ ★

Well, we're having it.

Isn't it scrumptious?

Great Lakes Sailing Needs Special Pilot

The technics for handling vessels on the Great Lakes and in connecting rivers and in harbors are very different from those used on the ocean, says the Bulletin, a magazine published by the Lake Carriers' Association (LCA).

This has been emphasized by the rash of mishaps attending the opening of the Seaway. Passage through rivers forms a considerable proportion of lakes navigation. Skillful handling is required since meeting and passing situations are very close and the slightest error may cause a serious accident and block the channel for days.

★ ★ ★

Capt. John C. Murray, head of LCA's navigation school, calls attention to the difference between Great Lakes Pilot Rules and the International Pilot Rules. Most foreign navigators, he says, are not familiar with signal lights and rights-of-way on the lakes and this with the increased traffic could create serious hazards.

★ ★ ★

The answer is, of course, that vessels coming through dangerous waters should be in charge of Great Lakes pilots licensed either by the U.S. Coast Guard or by Canadian authorities.

GAO Given Authority to Examine Records

The House-passed amendments to the Mutual Security Act simply repeat the intent of Congress that the General Accounting Office (GAO) shall have full access to all records for proper audit and analysis of programs.

The amendments require the International Co-operation Administration (ICA) to make all its records available to GAO and proper Congressional committees. House action followed GAO complaints that ICA, as well as the military services and others, has refused access to its records.

★ ★ ★

Under the 1921 act creating this watchdog for Congress, all agencies must show their records to GAO and in 1950 GAO was given the specific assignment of evaluating the "internal management controls of all agencies." Despite this the Executive Department contends that it has the right to withhold information under the doctrine of separation of powers.

★ ★ ★

As a dispenser of tax funds, however, Congress thought otherwise. The lawmakers feel that they need such information in order to properly judge the value of programs. Secrecy could hide inefficiency, waste and even corruption.

Lafayette, We Have Had It!

David Lawrence Says:

Steel Talk Parties Weak on Reason

WASHINGTON — The nation is witnessing an example of how easy it is to slide into a war—to resort to force because there has been no effective exercise of the processes of reason.

LAWRENCE

A nationwide steel strike is a confession that differences between two large groups can be resolved only by economic force.

The end result is a devastating blow to the national economy, involving the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars—to the workers, to the companies directly involved, to related industries such as railroads, to collateral industries, to defense production, and to the government itself, which loses taxes when business operations are interrupted.

Yet in a free country, with all facilities of communication and negotiation available and without duress of any kind upon those who confer, the two parties nevertheless decide to fight it out on the economic battlefield. Reason fails because union leaders are not free agents—they are the victims of organized pressure, within their own ranks, for gain at any cost.

There was a time when the "public interest"—the party of the third part—received more attention than today. This usually meant governmental intervention of some kind.

But the method has fallen into disrepute, because during past administrations it came to mean politically motivated policies that were not impartial.

The side with the most political influence had its way. The governmental intervention that the country wants—a disinterested study and recommendation for a solution—no longer seems to be obtainable, due to the tremendous power the labor unions have mobilized politically.

UNION POLITICS

Certainly the issues are resolvable. Any disinterested tribunal could come up with a formula for settlement. The union leaders, who are themselves elected to office, cannot directly negotiate resonable settlements — they are compelled, because of politics inside the unions, to insist on more and more wages, irrespective of productivity or any other factor.

As for the steel companies, they are up against competition from abroad, where wage rates are much lower than in this country. They are losing some of their markets. Tariffs are not popular these days, so there isn't much relief in sight from protectionist laws.

There is, of course, a basis for an agreement. It involves a revision of the complex working rules in existing contracts which today make it necessary for the employers to pay for work not done—this is called "featherbedding."

If the standards of measurement were based only on efficiency, there could be savings that would mean increases in wages to those who give satisfactory performance.

But the fact is that the union doctrines which have been preached consistently call for increased wages, irrespective of the economic consequences in price inflation.

So, what is the answer? It used to be to submit a dispute to some form of arbitration with both sides agreeing in advance to accept the verdict.

But who today can select impartial arbitrators? And what responsibility can such arbitrators have for the conduct of the businesses which may be asked to accept heavier financial burdens than they themselves feel are warranted?

President Eisenhower said at his press conference on Wednesday that he has done all he could to urge a settlement by the parties themselves. He declared: "I believe that we have got thoroughly to test out and to use the method of free bargaining."

The Country Parson

"I wonder if a doctor has to plead as long to get a man to agree to an operation as I do to get him to have his soul healed."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Degeneration of Body Has Two Main Characteristics

It is human nature for one not yet 45 to be totally uninterested in degeneration until he begins to suspect that maybe he has it.

DR. BRADY

The term has an unpleasant connotation in ordinary use, but here it means only "a retrogressive pathological change in cells or tissues in consequence of which functioning power is impaired and the living substance becomes converted into an inert mass," or, as Webster says, "deterioration of a tissue or an organ in which its vitality is diminished."

Common examples of degeneration are arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), chronic joint disability (chronic rheumatism or "arthritis") and pyorrhea.

The main characteristics of degeneration are (1) insidious onset and (2) long duration. These characteristics distinguish degeneration, in the mind of the physician or pathologist, from chronic inflammation, in such a condition is conceivable.

For instance the onset of pyorrhea is insidious (months or years) and the condition lasts for years or for the rest of your life; and so it is a misleading affectation to call it "parodontitis," "cementperiostitis" or "gingivitis expulsiva"—inflammation (-itis) is only incidental or accidental and not an essential part of the condition.

Likewise chronic joint disability —whether you call it rheumatiz or "arthritis"—comes on gradually, insidiously, in the course of a year, more or less, and lasts—well its duration depends mainly, if not entirely on your intelligence and the intelligence of your physician.

Thank heaven the most widely prevalent degeneration — arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries—has not been nicknamed -itis. The condition is perhaps the most insidious of all degenerations and its course is from 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to the great beyond.

I do not mean to imply that one can do nothing to retard, arrest or, taken in time, even reverse the progress of arteriosclerosis or any other degeneration. The truth is that every man who lives long enough has more or less hardening of his arteries.

As Osler said: "A man of 28 or 29 may have the arteries of a man 60 . . . the arteriosclerosis results from the bad use of good vessels."

I'm afraid many persons with arteriosclerosis, who might derive great benefit from proper treatment are being exploited with mysterious medicine from India, which lowers high blood pressure for a while—as though high blood pressure were synonymous with arteriosclerosis. If any such medicine is effective against hardening of the arteries it is a downright shame that I have not been apprised of it.

Khrushchev Owes Much to Poland's Gomulka

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

On the morning of Oct. 19, 1956, a furious Nikita Khrushchev stepped from a Russian airliner at Warsaw's airport.

"Who is that?" he demanded, meaning a slender, sallow-faced man of medium height who wore steel-rimmed glasses under a high forehead made more so by a receding hairline.

★ ★ ★

"It is I, Gomulka, the man you sent to jail," came the calm rejoinder.

The immediate fate of Poland hung in the balance that morning. Immediate cause of Khrushchev's rage was the fact that Gomulka, back in power and "rehabilitated" after four years in jail, had just fired Soviet Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky as police defense minister and declared Poland's right to its own path to socialism.

A few months earlier, in Moscow, Khrushchev had promulgated his famous destalinization program and opened a Pandora's box of troubles. Russia's seething satellites were seeing a chance to break free from Moscow's iron rule, in just five days that unrest would blow up into flaming revolt in Hungary.

So, it was an harassed and irritable Khrushchev that met Gomulka for the first time that morning.

Arms flailing, shouting insults, Khrushchev told Gomulka that the Soviet Union had not shed its blood over Poland during World War II to see it snatched away now by an upstart.

★ ★ ★

It is probable that no outsider ever will know for sure the exact course of events which followed in the conference between the two at Poland's Parliament House.

LOST HIS HEAD

One version is that Gomulka would have lost his head then and there had not a colleague thoughtfully thrown a cordon of Polish tanks around the building and another had changed the guard at radio Warsaw.

In the end, Gomulka is said to have threatened to go on the air with a broadcast message, telling the Polish people what Khrushchev was demanding and what Gomulka was refusing.

Whatever the events, Khrushchev retreated and agreed to a later meeting in Moscow at which Poland's pressing economic needs would be discussed.

It was a tremendous personal victory for Gomulka who ever since that time has trod the narrow path between the dictates of Moscow and the explosive nationalism of the Polish people.

The events of three years ago were in sharp contrast to those of Tuesday (July 14) when Khrushchev once again stepped from an airliner at Warsaw airport. This time it was a smiling Khrushchev who told Gomulka:

"Your party and ours share the same economic and ideological principles, based on socialism, communism and peace."

In many ways, Khrushchev had reason to be grateful to Gomulka.

In 1956 the Poznan "bread and freedom" riots had erupted in protest against harsh Communist rule and the inequalities of bureaucracy. Polish intelligentsia was outspoken in its criticism of the Soviet Union. Hungarian-style revolt was but a hairbreadth away.

Gomulka, emerging as a national hero after his bout with Khrushchev, prevented that sort of bloodshed and by devious routes through the intervening years has been guiding Poland firmly back into the orbit of world communism.

Gomulka, on his side, must have the support of the Soviet Union. On his western flank is a Germany pledged to regain its lost territories taken by Poland beyond the Oder-Niesse.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Explains Swollen Feet in Summer

Millions of women have Myrna's symptoms, especially in hot weather. If this swelling persists, in spite of cooler weather, then it is not a case of low pressure added to the effect of gravity. But summer weather drops blood pressure, which is one reason why we send high blood pressure folks to warmer climates in winter.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-488: Myrna M., aged 38, is a busy housewife and mother.

"Dr. Crane, my ankles swell in summer," she begins, "but the doctor tells me I am in pretty good physical condition.

DR. CRANE

"Just the same, if it is intensely hot and I am on my feet all day, I notice my shoes grow too tight by supper time.

"And my ankles actually swell so you can notice they are puffed up. Can that happen in a person who is otherwise in good health?"

MEDICAL FACTS

In this column I often explain medical facts which your busy doctor hasn't the time to present in detail to every patient.

★ ★ ★

Would that we had a simple course in practical medicine in high school to relieve the minds of Americans of needless worry and unwarranted medical fears.

What causes swollen ankles and legs? Many conditions, one of which is a heart that beats so fast it needs digitalis to slow it down.

For a heart that contracts too often, doesn't have time to fill with enough blood between beats. So it squeezes down on little or nothing and hence the circulation is poor.

Another cause of swollen ankles is excessive sitting, especially on stools. For the rim of the chair or stool may act like a partial tourniquet and thus dams up the return blood flow from the lower legs.

Myrna says her doctor has checked her and pronounced her O.K. as regards her physical health.

So how do we explain her swollen ankles in hot weather?

By a condition similar to the city water mains in hot weather. Some of you city folks have noticed that the water pressure is often low on the top floors of tall apartment buildings, especially in midsummer.

That's because so many sprinklers are in action, which reduces the pressure in the city water system.

Applied to Myrna and millions of other folks with swollen ankles in hot weather, it means the blood vessels in the skin are opened wider to send more blood into the surface area for the sake of coolness. That is indicated by your flushed or red face and skin.

★ ★ ★

As a result, the pressure in the main vessel "pipes" is reduced.

And this mechanical reduction in blood pressure plays hand in glove with gravity, so the fluid in the lower legs and ankles accumulates.

Swelling results. This type of hot weather swelling is overcome by cooler weather, as well as by frequent use of footstools.

BLOOD DAMS

A number of other medical conditions will swell your ankles. One of these is a blood clot in a leg.

★ ★ ★

Many women after child birth have suffered blood clots that anchored in the vessels of the thighs and thereafter partly plugged the return blood channel. This is a mechanical dam and usually in just one leg. In women it is often called "milk leg" and the dam is in the femoral artery.

But males can also suffer a similar condition. Phlebitis (vein-itis), as in the case of varicose veins, can also swell your ankles.

Kidney disease and inflammation of the connective tissue will do the same. And so will the rare tropical ailment called elephantiasis.

B-488

★ ★ ★

So use your "horse sense" regarding medicine, for the human body is a wonderful machine.

If the pump (heart) is O.K., then look for simple mechanical dams or hot weather lowering of blood pressure before you think of freakish and far-fetched medical diagnoses.

Unchanged School Bill Due to Clear Senate Soon

LANSING (AP) — Republican senators have ordered GOP finance men to strike out of the 1959-1960 school aid bill a 17-million-dollar enrichment factor approved by the House.

The decision meant that with little doubt the school aid bill will clear the upper chamber later this week or next calling for a help formula unchanged from the last fiscal year.

Republicans outnumbered Democrats in the Senate 22 to 12.

However, it was reported the GOP caucus action was intended to set up a House-Senate bargaining situation that ultimately will produce a compromise aid solution based on $197 a pupil with 3 mills deductible.

This would represent a small fraction of the enrichment favored by the House.

Deductible millage is a so-called equalization factor which takes into account local property tax capabilities. The higher it goes the greater proportionately is state help for low valuation districts.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, GOP majority leader, acknowledged there was some dissent from the majority caucus position.

He said he offered the $197-a-pupil, 3-mill-deductible proposal to his colleagues "but I was told it was impossible."

The Republican action solidified prospects for a stiff fight on the issue, which will have a big bearing on the size of the general fund budget and, accordingly, at least some influence in any tax settlement.

Beadle estimated the $197, 3-mill formula would require 31 million dollars supplementation out of the state's cash-poor general fund.

Assuming 15 million dollars for capital outlay and $12,300,000 for deficit retirement, this would boost the budget to 420 million dollars, he said.

Even this figure would leave no provision for restoration of the veterans' trust fund which Beadle holds vital for an easing of the state's steadily deepening cash crisis.

Highway Building to Continue in State

LANSING (AP) — The state highway department expects to be able to continue its stepped-up road-building program despite the steel strike.

★ ★ ★

The department reported it has enough steel on hand to keep projects already planned going until fall.

The steel mostly is used in bridge beams and in steel mats to reinforce concrete.

About a year ago, Commissioner John C. Mackie directed the bridge design division to develop standard plans so the department could switch from steel beams to other types, such as pre-stretched concrete, in the event of any extended steel strike.

The switch will be made if necessary, Mackie said.

★ ★ ★

The department said it has not been stockpiling steel in advance of the strike.

But it reported that contractors, anticipating the strike, had been stockpiling on their own to avoid any costly tieups on state jobs.

Kalamazoo to Open the First Permanent Mall in the Nation

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — The first permanent mall in the United States will be opened with a four-day ceremony Aug. 19-22 in the heart of Kalamazoo's downtown shopping area.

The mall, which has been under construction for about three weeks, will be completed in its initial phase by opening time, at a cost of $65,000, half paid by the city of Kalamazoo, and half by the merchants along the mall.

The project, conceived about three years ago and designed by Gruen Associates, of Detroit, is part of a campaign to save the downtown shopping area of Kalamazoo from the inroads being made by the growth of suburban shopping centers.

Two blocks of Burdick street, on either side of Michigan Avenue are being repaved with pastel-colored concrete blocks. Two blocks alternate in size, 5 feet by 5 feet in size, with others half that size.

Fountains are being installed, along with shrubbery, masses of flowers and trees including evergreens, crab apples and magnolias.

★ ★ ★

The mall will have the appearance of a park with benches for shoppers to rest. In the center is a bandstand.

There will be no vehicle traffic allowed in the two blocks area.

A "purple highway" is being planned to be built around the central business district for shoppers to park nearest the stores where they intend to shop.

Before the end of the year, it is planned to extend the mall one block further south, with still further extensions next year.

The entire plan for the mall was adopted by the Kalamazoo city commission last spring after being debated for two two years.

Elton Ham, executive secretary of the Downtown Kalamazoo Association, the business group which sponsored the project, announced last night plans for the opening ceremonies.

On August 19, there will be ribbon-cutting ceremonies, and Jimmy Dorsey's band will play in the bandstand.

★ ★ ★

August 20 is Ladies Day, with half a dozen or more fashion shows being held.

August 21 is Southwestern Michigan Day with officials of neighboring towns honored by Kalamazoo, and products of neighboring town factories being displayed.

August 22 is Kiddies Day, with a special program for children arranged including personal appearance of TV personalities.

Interest created by the project already has brought increased business to the downtown district according to some merchants. One shoe store reports its business in June was 24 per cent ahead of last year.

Sec. of Interior Seaton Flying to Cambodia

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton is flying to Cambodia to represent the United States at the inauguration of a highway there.

Seaton took a plane for Honolulu Wednesday.

The secretary came to San Francisco this week for a couple of talks but suffered a severe sore throat and a fever and barely left his hotel room.

Approximately 121 million Americans now have some sort of health insurance.

Criticizes Selling Plates to Suspended Drivers

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A Grand Rapids circuit judge has criticized the state for selling license plates to persons whose driver's licenses have been suspended.

Circuit Judge Dale Souter said he feels the state is an "accessory" to certain driving offenses because it sells plates to persons whose licenses have been suspended.

Souter said two persons who appeared in his court on charges of driving while their operator's licenses were revoked had had no difficulty buying license plates for their cars.

"A person who buys automobile plates should be forced to show his operator license before the sale is completed," Souter said.

Navy Polaris Rocket Explodes in the Air.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) —A Navy Polaris test rocket exploded in the air moments after it was launched Wednesday.

The 28-foot tall rocket, forerunner of the Navy's submarine-launched ballistic missile, leaped from the launching pad at 12:59 p. m. (EDT).

The rocket, streaming a white band of smoke, rose smoothly at first then veered sharply making almost a complete arc, and then blew up. Three flaming fragments plummeted into the sea.

The department of defense said the rocket developed "a malfunction and was destroyed by the range safety officer."

The blink of the eye occupies about one-fortieth of a second.

Great Lakes Shippers Start Docking Boats

CLEVELAND (AP) — Great Lakes shippers started tying up their ore boats in port Wednesday in the wake of a nationwide steel strike.

Some operations will continue. But most ships, including 137 vessels whose unlicensed seamen are covered by contracts with the United Steelworkers, soon will be anchored.

The 3,700 unlicensed seamen represented by USW Local 5000 are leaving their ships as they reach port. An estimated 12,000 seamen are employed on the lakes.

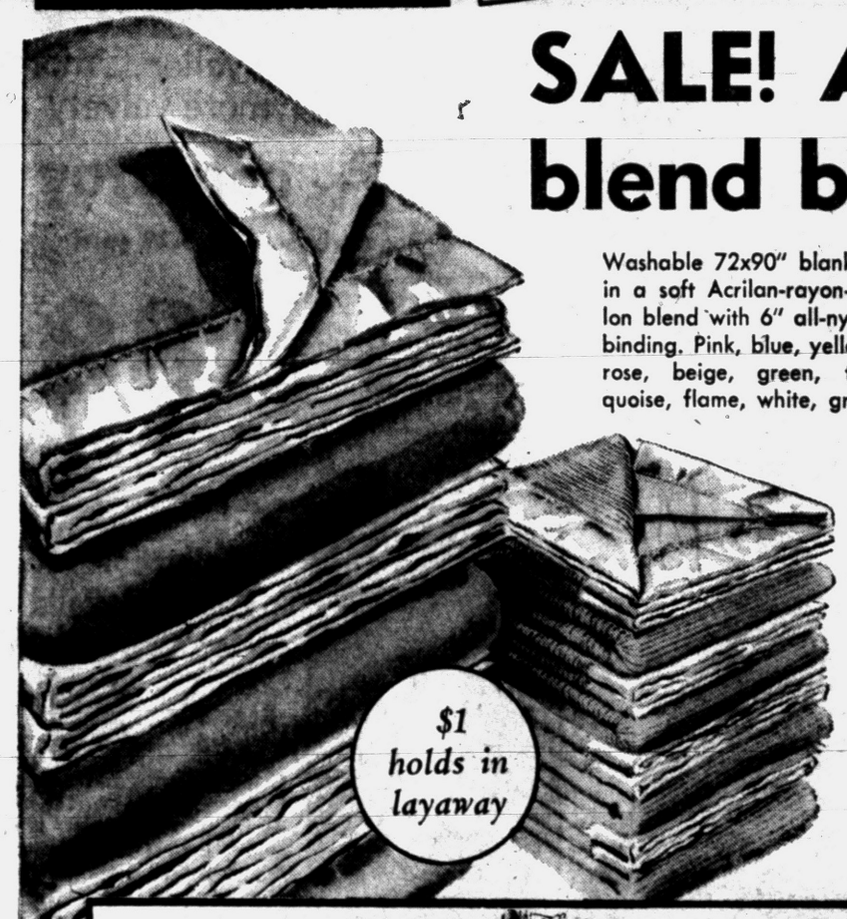

With iron ore mines closed by the strike, shippers will be unable to load their vessels once stocks at upper lakes' ore docks are depleted. A million tons of ore is stockpiled at the Duluth-Superior docks and at Two Harbors, Minn.

City Undergoing Greatest Era of Change in Its History

Building Boom Alters Face of New York

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—East Side, West Side, all around the town, the greatest surge of building in its history is changing the familiar face of New York City.

★ ★ ★

Tall new apartment projects are replacing rotted slum tenements; luxury apartments are rising along newly-revived avenues; entire neighborhoods are being upgraded and renewed; new bridges and expressways are being added to the complex highway network as the United States, state and city spend millions on ambitious projects aimed at speeding traffic across or around congested Manhattan Island; an exciting new cultural center is going up as New York fights to maintain its title as the greatest city in the world.

★ ★ ★

Out of it all is emerging a city that somehow IS getting nicer to look at. For instance:

"EAST SIDE . . ."

The rise of the East Side (Fifth avenue divides Manhattan between East and West) as a favored area for high-rent apartments and soaring office buildings began in 1947 when the meatpacking district near the East River was cleared to make way for the eight acres of glass and marble buildings that serve as United Nations world headquarters.

Then the razing of the Third Avenue El in 1955-56 spurred East Side development as nothing did before. In no time, land that once held shabby four-story tenements and sold for $40 to $75 a square foot jumped in price $200 or $250. And much of Third avenue now is tree-lined, if you please.

A 13-block stretch along Park avenue, from Grand Central Terminal to 60th street, had nothing but apartment houses and luxury hotels until a few years ago. Today, the apartment houses are being replaced by tall office buildings: 30 new ones since World War II.

★ ★ ★

Lofty, landscaped apartment buildings are going up in clusters along the East River from the Brooklyn Bridge to 23rd street, replacing old tenements that, in many cases, lacked water, heat and toilets. The East River, farther uptown, now is flanked by glittering, cliff-like luxury apartments.

"WEST SIDE . . ."

The new pride of New York is the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, a 250-million-dollar cultural project that earned national attention on May 14 when President Eisenhower arrived to turn over a spadeful of soil and start construction going.

★ ★ ★

The Lincoln Center, part of a 45-acre development that replaces rundown tenements and stores, will house an art center, a new Philharmonic Concert Hall (replacing Carnegie Hall, which will give way to an office building); a new home for the Metropolitan Opera (the old opera house is coming down, too); a new Juilliard School of Music, repertory theater, dance theater and museum-library.

In addition, Fordham University will build a new midtown campus and there will be eight blocks of apartment houses for 4,500 families. Eleven thousand people had to be relocated before the Lincoln Center project could start.

★ ★ ★

The Center is near the Coliseum, the city's new exposition hall-and-office building that is rapidly becoming an international landmark.

★ ★ ★

Office building on the West Side, comparatively quiescent despite the pre-World War II razing of the Sixth Avenue El, now shows signs of booming. Not only is Lincoln Center expected to attract shiny new office buildings for neighbors, but a 47-story Time-Life Building is nearing completion on the west side of Sixth avenue.

Some experts believe this skyscraper, 16th in the Rockefeller Center complex, will be a magnet for other tall, highclass office structures in the coming years.

Lending credence to this belief is the recently-announced plan for a mammoth 35-story two-block-square office building. To be built near Pennsylvania Station and called Central City, this structure could double, at least, the Pentagon's three-and-a-half million square feet of office space.

The postwar building boom is adding at least 125 new office buildings to the Manhattan skyline, and the Real Estate Board of New York calls this the largest commercial building program of all time.

★ ★ ★

While most of the offices are going up in the midtown area, the financial district in lower Manhattan, most famous for Wall Street, is adding four million square feet of office space. It is the district's greatest splurge since the 1927 boom.

Leading the way is a 60-story Chase Manhattan Bank building, with 1,600,000 square feet.

Plans also have been announced for a block-square federal office building in the City Hall area. This building would contain 1,500,000 square feet of space and would be the largest federal office building outside the nation's capital.

"ALL AROUND TOWN . . ."

The crystal ball-gazers tell us New York City's future is assured, despite those who say the era of the Big City is over.

A recent survey by the Regional Plan Association reported that by 1975 the 22-county metropolitan area will increase in population from 15 million people to 19,100,000.

As the suburbs develop, planners note that such development is intimately linked to accessibility to Manhattan's core, even though the trend to suburbia has cut down on the number of people who rely on downtown Manhattan for their income or shopping.

More than three million people enter Manhattan each day, but this is 10 per cent fewer than in 1548. It is estimated that suburban shopping centers have led to a drop of 300,000 shoppers daily for Manhattan stores. The major stores, in response, have opened suburban branches.

More and more of those who do commute daily to New York are coming in by automobile rather than by subway, bus, rail or ferryboat. The shift to private transportation has created a greater need for new expressways, and construction is proceeding to expand the city's already elaborate arterial highway system.

One project will link the George Washington Bridge to the Throgs Neck Bridge, now under construction, by means of an expressway across Manhattan and the Bronx. The George Washington Bridge is getting a second level added to it to accommodate the rush. The Throgs Neck Bridge will empty onto Long Island's broad network of highways.

Additional expressways are tying into the Triborough Bridge, which links Manhattan, the Bronx and Queens, and the New England Thruway.

Another enormous bridge is being built from Brooklyn to Staten Island, linking the city's two other boroughs, while permitting Long Island-bound traffic to bypass Manhattan.

Further major assaults on the traffic problem involve a lower Manhattan expressway to link the Holland Tunnel with the bridges to Brooklyn, and a mid-Manhattan expressway to connect the Lincoln Tunnel on the West Side with the Queens-Midtown Tunnel on the East.

In a tremendous task of slum clearance, New York's Housing Authority and the Slum Clearance Committee, which works with the federal-sponsored Title I program, have created in the last decade 28 projects for nearly 36,000 low-income or middle-income families.

Tall X-shaped red or yellow brick apartment houses are springing up in parts of Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx that once were slum-infested. But the job is far from finished and New York still has many blighted and overcrowded slum areas.

★ ★ ★

Many neighborhoods — notably the West Side and Greenwich Village — have organized renewal programs and are sprucing up faded buildings.

Brass Obstacles Go

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—Judge Donald F. Black took another step toward removing obstacles from the path of justice. Noting that all-male juries are a thing of the past, he ordered brass cuspidors removed from the jury box. They were stumbling blocks for women jurists, he ruled.

Bus Line Tax Relief Bill Awaits Williams' Pen

Tax relief appeared likely today for ailing Michigan bus companies such as Pontiac City Lines, Inc.

By a 61-38 vote, the House in Lansing yesterday passed a Senate-approved measure to excuse privately owned bus companies operating in cities and suburbs from gas and weight taxes.

In lieu of weight taxes, all would pay a $25 fee on each bus.

Pontiac City Lines pays about $13,000 a year in gas and weight taxes for its 26 buses, it is estimated.

"Any cut in expenses would be a great help at present," said Earl W. Dreasher, bus manager.

* * *

The local bus company is operating this year with only a slight margin of profit, he explained.

The House-approved legislation went back to the Senate for approval of amendments setting a Jan. 1, 1960 starting date and providing for tax refunds rather than exemptions.

The Senate approved and sent the bill on to the governor. As originated in the Senate, the starting date would have been retroactive to Jan. 1, 1958, giving bus companies immediate financial relief.

The tax relief plan would cost the state about $328,000 a year.

It is scheduled to expire Feb. 28, 1962 unless the legislature approves a time extension.

Municipally owned bus lines already are exempt from gas and weight taxes. A spokesman for bus companies said the new plan would affect virtually all city and suburban bus lines outside Detroit.

* * *

A similar measure cleared both houses last year but died in a conference committee snarl.

Last year's measure was sponsored by the Michigan Municipal League. This year, the league has been unable to make up its mind on what kind of legislation to support.

A difference was that last year's bill required leasing arrangements with municipal governments before bus companies became eligible for tax relief.

"This year's bill is too wide open," complained Rep. Emil Peltz (R-Rogers City), chairman of the House Roads and Bridges Committee. "It excuses even those companies that are making money from tax payments."

* * *

"It will not save the industry any more than we could have saved the buggy manufacturing industry in days gone by," he said.

The Arizona Pioneers' Historical Society in Tucson, a state institution in operation since 1884 maintains a large research library devoted exclusively to Arizona and the Southwest.

Hypodermic Needle Small but Successful

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — A glass hypodermic needle so small that 5,000 of them measure only an inch across is providing new clues to the effects of atomic radiation on nerve tissues.

The needle is used in a research project involving microinjection of nerve fibers exposed to X-rays in a North Texas State College biology laboratory.

Kicked Sister, Nephews, but Let Pooch Alone

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — After pleading guilty to kicking his sister and her two small boys, James Walsh, 25, objected to part of the battery charge.

"I didn't kick the family dog like the charge says," he told Superior Court Judge Warren L. McCarthy.

Walsh was given a six-month jail sentence.

Confident His Vetoes Won't Hurt

Ike Thinks Bill Will Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower expressed confidence Wednesday that all necessary legislation will be passed by Congress despite controversy over his veto of some Democratic sponsored bills.

He said he believes there will be a meeting of minds between the executive branch and Congress and the country to get the needed bills passed in this session.

Eisenhower told his news conference that presidential relations with a Congress dominated by the opposing political party is no bed of roses.

But, he said, he is maintaining personally friendly relations with Democratic leaders of both houses despite political arguments over his vetos of such bills as the housing measure.

The President said that while he has been accused in some quarters of trying to govern by veto, the number of bills he has vetoed falls far short of the total vetoed by some previous presidents.

Eisenhower was asked about a possible compromise which would permit the interstate highway construction program to continue. He has asked for an increase of 1½ cents a gallon in gasoline taxes to keep the program going. House Democrats have declined to go along with this idea but have been talking about a one-half cent raise instead of 1½.

Eisenhower replied that all legislation, of course, is produced by compromise but it would be difficult to continue the highway program on its current schedule without providing the revenue he requested.

The U.S. was without a navy from 1763 to 1789.

U. S. to Lend $15 Million as Aid to Yugoslavia

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States agreed Wednesday to lend 15 million dollars to Communist Yugoslavia for construction of a hydroelectric project near Dubrovnik.

★ ★ ★

Details of the development loan fund are yet to be negotiated, the State Department said. The loan will be used to buy equipment.

★ ★ ★

This is the fourth such loan to Yugoslavia. Total U.S. economic assistance to Yugoslavia since 1950, including the new loan, amounts to 941½ million dollars.

Expanding Fisher Body Ties Future to Pontiac

By PETE LOCHBILER

The multi-million dollar expansion program at Fisher Body Division's Pontiac plant seems to guarantee one big factor in Pontiac's economic future:

Fisher Body, with its thousands of jobs, is here to stay—it's not drifting away piecemeal as many have feared in recent years.

Also definite is the fact that this fall for the first time the Pontiac plant will be assembling station wagon bodies for Pontiac motor cars.

If sales stay high, there probably will be a rise in employment levels, predicted Thomas F. Wiethorn, plant manager.

Looming as a strong probability is the prospect that convertible bodies will be assembled here again as early as 1960.

★ ★ ★

And within the scope of the expansion program is the strong chance that a new small car body will be assembled here, if Pontiac Motor decides to produce one.

ADAPTABLE TO ANY MODEL

"By 1961 we will be capable of producing any model Pontiac that Pontiac Motor Division wishes," said Wiethorn.

"Are there any plans for a small Pontiac?" Wiethorn was asked recently.

★ ★ ★

"That's up to Pontiac Motor to say, not us," was Wiethorn's noncommittal reply.

The remodeling program, affecting "nearly every square foot" of the 1,350,000 Fisher Body plant, according to Wiethorn, is designed to provide the "very latest" production equipment here.

Behind the remodeling lies the anticipation "of the continued growth of Pontiac Motor Division," Wiethorn explained.

★ ★ ★

"Sales have been wonderful this year," he observed.

TO ADD TO FLEXIBILITY

Remodeling will give the plant "a degree of flexibility that we have never had before," Wiethorn continued. It is this "flexibility" which would permit assemblage of small cars, if this is the order of the day, Wiethorn allowed.

Between 400 and 500 construction workers have been hard at work, eight hours a day, five days a week, at the plant since the one-year remodeling program got under way seven weeks ago.

The size of the construction force and the amount of expense makes the remodeling the largest construction project in Oakland County this summer.

Scene of the initial work in the northeast corner of the plant where a second, independent body shop is arising.

★ ★ ★

It's a race against time to get the new body shop completed in time for production of the 1960 Pontiac bodies, said Henry A. Daniel, plant engineer.

Conveyor track is being laid in the newly-poured concrete floor; internal walls are coming down, while electricity steam lines, compressed air and water lines are being installed below the ceiling.

The 1960 Pontiac body is scheduled to be welded together in this area in a few months.

In order to bring suppliers' parts to the new body shop, a railroad siding is being pushed through the eastern end of the plant.

★ ★ ★

One spot where a courtyard is being enclosed around the new siding represents the only new addition to the floor space of the plant, about 50,000 square feet.

★ ★ ★

Remodeling throughout the rest of the plant will continue for the next 10 months, Wiethorn said.

★ ★ ★

When completed, the plant will have two independent body shops, two trim shops and a bigger paint shop.

★ ★ ★

LIKE A ROLLER COASTER

Pontiac bodies will go up and down throughout the plant like passengers on a roller coaster.

★ ★ ★

One trip will be to huge paint drying sheds, which are being constructed on the roof.

"By getting the ovens out of the plant proper, we cut down on heat," explained Daniel.

Another upwards trip will be filling a vacant portion of the plant's second floor.

About the only part of the plant not affected by the remodeling program is the power plant, Wiethorn said. Needing no expansion, the plant produces power for both the Fisher Body factory and the Pontiac plant.

There'll still be a small tool and die operation, said Wiethorn. The huge presses—some weigh 400 tons—have been moved to the northwestern side of the plant.

Dies are made here for stamping operations at other plants, Wiethorn said.

The Pontiac plant used to fabricate metal and cloth parts, but these operations were moved away to other Fisher Body plants during the past several years.

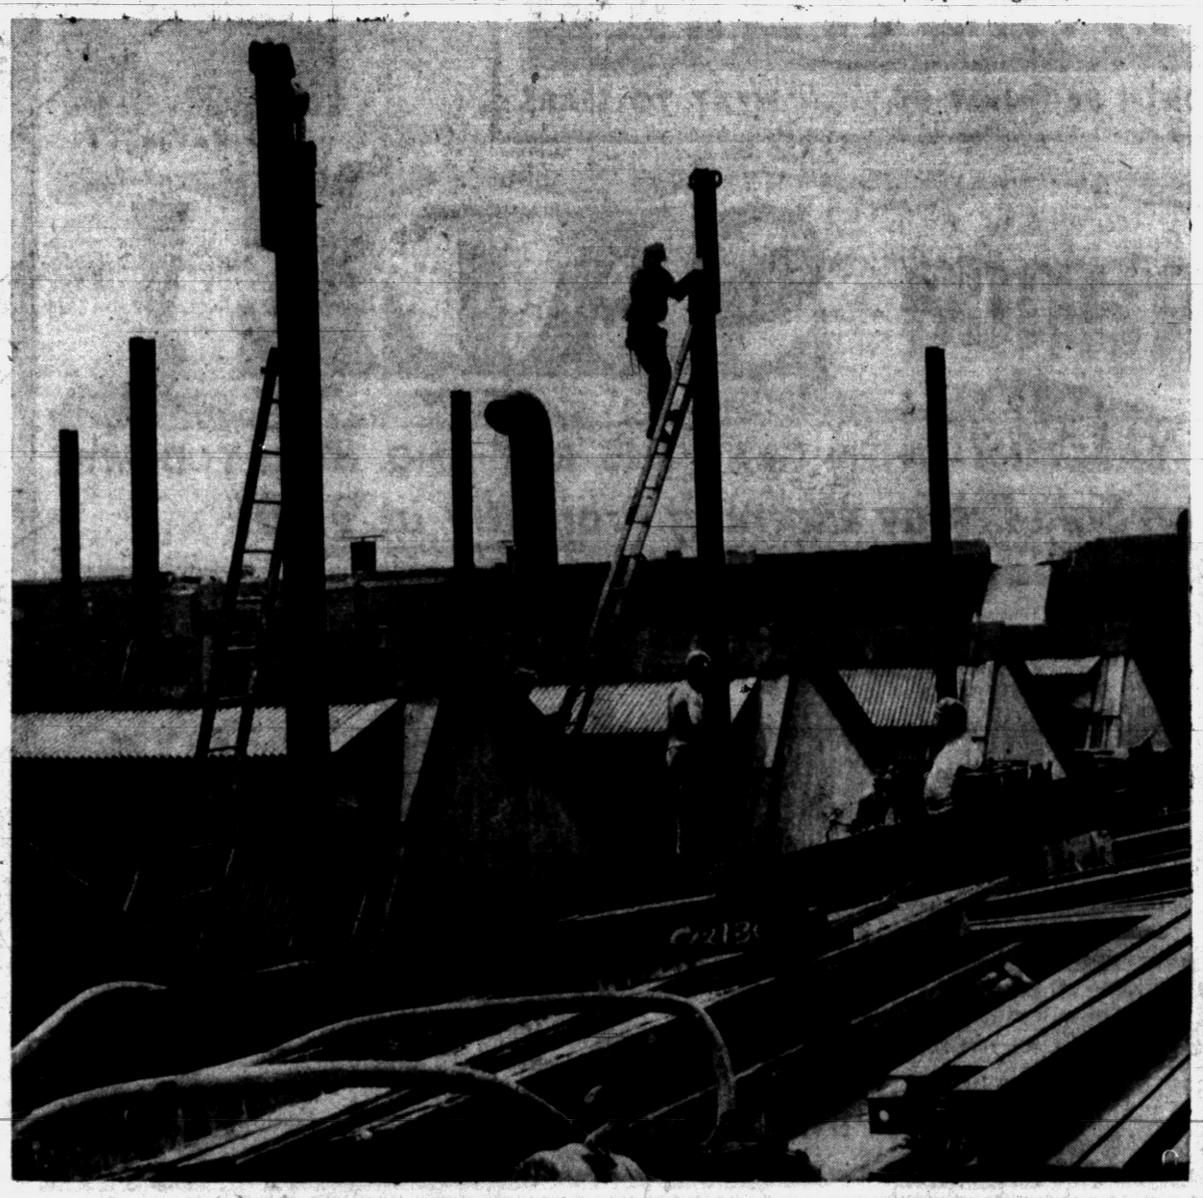

Cutback in these two phases of production led to worries that Fisher Body intended to drop operations here.

★ ★ ★

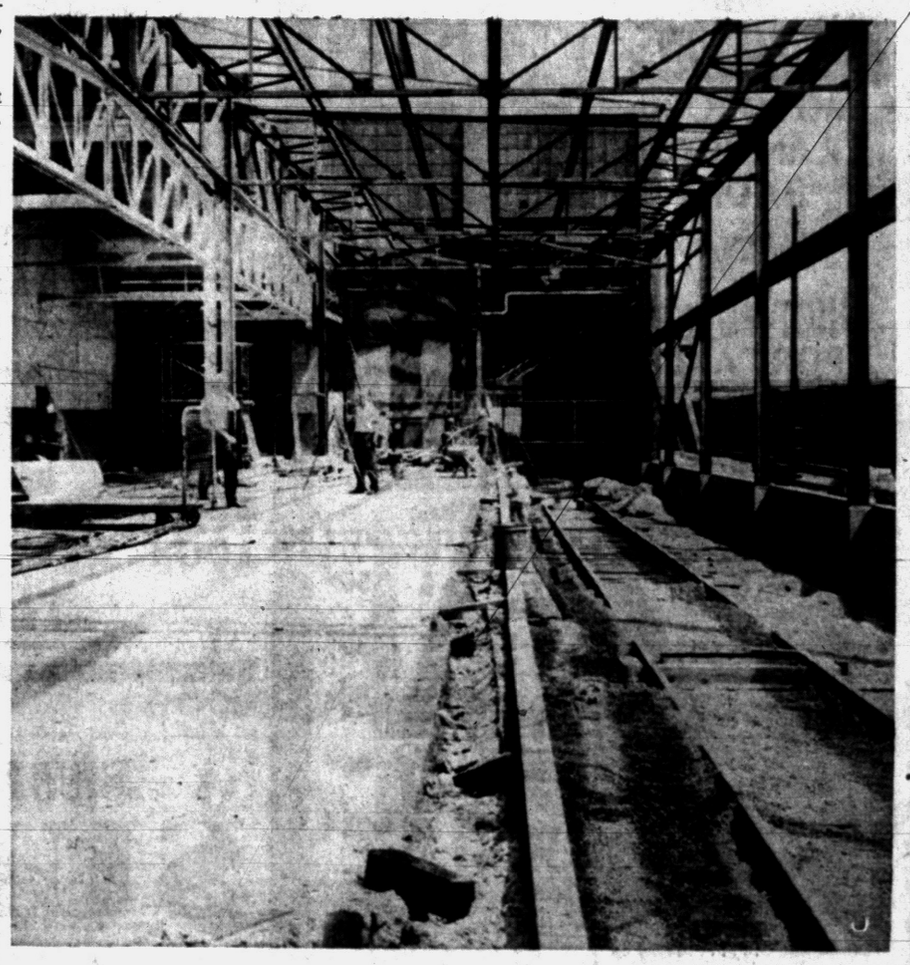

"I believe that the remodeling program will put an end to any such worries," said a Detroit spokesman for Fisher Body Division.

"We wouldn't be spending all that money in Pontiac if we intended to leave."

It was only because some of the Pontiac plant was vacant that remodeling and installation of new facilities was possible, Wiethorn pointed out.

SKYLINE WORKERS — A steel construction crew works at the job of installing 144 new steel columns, each 35 feet high, to act as foundation for the new rooftop heating ovens Fisher Body plans. Newly-painted cars will be conveyed to the top of the plant to dry in the ovens, loctaed outside the plant proper to reduce internal heat.

NEW RAILROAD SIDING — At a large factory like Fisher Body, they bring railroad cars right in the back door. As part of the modernization program, this railroad siding is being lengthened to pass through the rear of the plant so that railroad cars can unload body parts next to the new body plant where they are to be assembled.

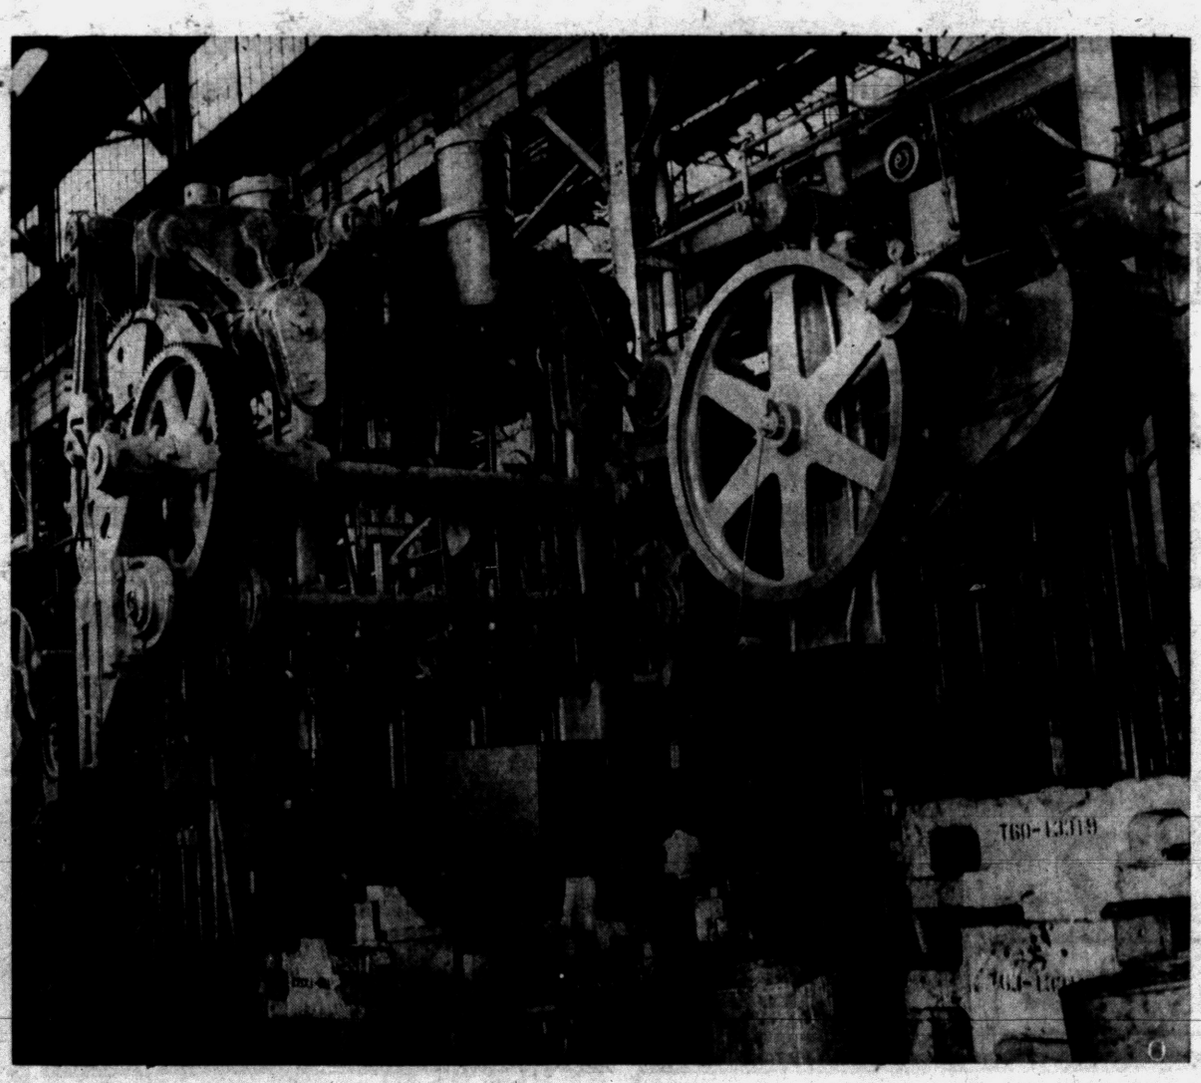

SURVEYING THE JOB — On the shoulders of Henry A. Daniel, plant engineer, falls the responsibility for completing the first stage of the Fisher Body modernization in time for production of 1960 Pontiac bodies. Daniel is shown surveying the mammoth undertaking from a balcony in the Fisher Body plant.

Pontiac Press Photos

PATTERNED GIRDERS — Steel framework for a new roof forms an artistic pattern as a sidelight to the remodeling program. These girders stretch across a 50,000 square foot courtyard that is being enclosed.

MOVE GIANT PRESSES — Giant presses such as these — some weigh 400 tons — have been relocated within the Fisher Body plant and will continue to be used in tool and die operations. The first big step in the modernization program was moving the huge presses 200 feet to the northern side of the building.

NEW BODY SHOP — In a few months, new 1960 Pontiac bodies will be assembled in this section of the Fisher Body plant. Shown here is the northern end of the two miles of new conveyor track being installed at the plant this summer. Some of the unlaid track is pictured in the foreground.

Fenton Board Sets Race Track Hearing

FLINT (AP)—The Fenton Township Zoning Board has set July 24 for a public hearing on a request for a horse racing track in the township.

At a previous meeting, the zoning board split 2-2 on the petition from Grand River Enterprises Inc. of Detroit.

The promoters have options on 200 acres of land outside the Fenton village limits. The $3,000,000 project includes plans for an outer mile-long track and an inner half-mile course enclosed under a transparent plastic canopy.

The zoning board will make its recommendation to the Genesee County Board of Supervisors which also must act on the proposal.

Bloomfield Girls Go to Scout 'Bayjamer'

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Fourteen girl scouts, Mariners of Ship No. 468, and three adults left here this morning for a combined boy scout and girl scout "Bayjamer" at the twin cities, Menominee, Mich., and Maronette, Wis.

Lasting from Friday until Sunday noon, the "Bajyamer" will feature skit, drill and swimming competition between scout units from Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan.

This will be the second year of participation for the West Bloomfield Township unit.

Upsets Administrative Ruling

Court Bans Religius Test in Hirings by Oil Firm

NEW YORK (AP)—A court Wednesday barred the Arabian-American Oil Co. from applying religious tests in hiring employes, and said that if the company can't comply it should "go elsewhere to serve your Arab masters."

State Supreme Court Justice Henry Epstein, upsetting a state administrative ruling that allowed the oil firm to quiz prospective employes about their religion, declared:

"Any such holding would undermine the very foundations of our American concept of liberty and the constitutional safeguards of that liberty."

He said the upholding of American justice outweighed any considerations of the company's relations with governments in the religious-tense Near East.

The Arab lands are predominantly Moslem, with keen antagonisms toward Jewish Israel.

The company had no immediate comment.

The judge said that a state agency's decision to exempt the company from a law barring questions about a job applicant's religion made the agency a "vassale of a foreign potentate."

"Out of some 887 employes on Aramco's New York payroll, few, if any, Jews are employed," the judge said, adding:

"If, as perhaps correctly claimed by Aramco, this must result from the necessity of possible employment in Saudi Arabia, the answer of New York state is simple — go elsewhere to serve your Arab masters — but not in New York state."

Colorado has more than 25 known hot springs.

Predict Home Buying

CHICAGO (UPI)—More families plan to buy a house this year than in either 1958 or 1957, according to the United States Savings and Loan League. It cited a recent Federal Reserve Board study which showed that roughly 9.3 per cent of spending units surveyed planned the purchase of a home this year, compared with 7.5 per cent in 1958 and 8.7 per cent in 1957.

Sightings Drop 50 Per Cent

Flying Saucers on Wane?

WASHINGTON (AP)—There apparently are fewer flying saucers around these days. At least, the Air Force said Wednesday it is hearing less about them.

The number of mystery objects reported sighted in the first six months of this year was only 143, compared to 296 during the previous half-year period.

As in the previous periodic reports, the Air Force said its investigation of unidentified flying objects has provided no evidence to confirm the existence of flying saucers as interplanetary or interstellar space ships.

Astronomical bodies or natural phenomena accounted for the highest percentage of sightings in the period covered by the latest report. Sixty-five objects were identified as astronomical. Aircraft accounted for 23 sightings, balloons for 7 and birds, searchlights, and hoaxes perpetrated by pranksters accounted for 19.

The Air Force said 26 reports included insufficient data to permit any conclusion. There reported objects that could not be identified.

Forge Weapon to Annihilate All War by Welding Men in Great Peace Drive

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

It is sometimes said that the world will never have true peace until a way is found to make peace as exciting as war.

BOYLE

But war, at least as seen by the men who fight it, is only rarely exciting.

For every moment of bright danger the ordinary soldier faces, he undergoes 10,000 moments of boredom. For every hour of action he can remember, he can recall at least 100 hours of waiting.

Excitement comes to the soldier but spasmodically. War to him is more often endless monotony. War is dust and rain and mud and noise. War is thirst and hunger and heat and cold and dirt and flea bites and loneliness. And always the soldier is bored more often than he is either brave or afraid.

★ ★ ★

After his initial battle experience, he may be less excited by combat than he is by a letter from home or a night of freedom in a captured town. Even the excitement of victory is usually short and embittered by loss, the blood price of success on the battlefield.

No, war isn't terribly exciting. If wars were fueled only by excitement, they would all burn out in a month.

Perhaps the most awful fact of war is that it makes everybody feel more important than he does in peacetime—important not only to himself but to others. Therein lies war's terrible glamor.

★ ★ ★

This glamor sweeps through all classes of civilians as well as those who put on the uniforms and do the actual fighting.

Suddenly everyone is wanted. Suddenly everyone has a job to do. Suddenly everyone is needed and has a place in the national effort.

The bugle blows not for a few but for all. It summons them out of themselves and aims them toward a common goal.

Retired men are called back to their old jobs. Girls and wives go into the factories and earn more money than they have ever seen before. The kids go around town picking up scrap metal. Even dancing is patriotic—if you dance with a boy going away.

★ ★ ★

There is something for everyone to do. And even if you can't do anything you can help — by doing without something. You can eat less meat, use less gasoline, give up chocolate bars for the duration.

No wonder illness falls off in wartime and the populations general health improves. People have no time to pick their mental sores and worry themselves sick.

Everyone feels a foot taller. Actually, everyone is drunk—in a sense. For no wine or liquor ever bottled is as intoxicating to the human spirit as its embarkation on a crusade, the losing of oneself in the immensity of a common purpose.

War not only affords people a way to find themselves by losing themselves. It brings home to them, as nothing else seems to do, how really dependent men are on each other's help.

This is best seen, of course, on the battlefield itself. In combat the members of a platoon must fight together or they will all surely die or be captured. They forge a loyalty to one another they have never known before, and will never quite know again.

But all the rest of their lives they will miss that unit loyalty.

★ ★ ★

That is the true problem of peace — to find a way to make people feel they are just as important to each other, just as needed by each other, when the guns are silent as when they roar.

★ ★ ★

When mankind realizes it is eternally mutual, the loyalties of peace will make the loyalties of war unnecessary.

U. S. Mayors Demand Housing Hearings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The United States conference of mayors wants Congress to hold public hearings on President Eisenhower's veto of a federal housing bill.

The 400 delegates at the closing session of the annual conference also described as unacceptable the administration's compromise housing bill. The delegates said the administration bill provides for no public housing and would subject urban renewal projects to additional red tape.

Other resolutions praised the President's Berlin policy but criticized his veto of a four-year extension of the Federal Airport Act.

Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago was elected president, succeeding Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson.

Foamy Evidence Pops a Scare Into Courtroom

DETROIT (AP) — The judge jumped from his chair and several policemen reached for their guns when a sharp report shattered the stillness of Recorder's Court.

★ ★ ★

Embarrassed grins replaced looks of alarm when a geyser of foam shooting from an open beer bottle made it clear what had happened.

★ ★ ★

Pressure had popped the cork on evidence used in convicting a man accused of buying beer for a minor. Judge John P. Scallen gave John Chemeras, 47, thirty days and ordered the evidence removed.

Ike, Herter Split on Bohlen Post

Consider Naming Him Adviser on Red Affairs to State Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and his secretary of state appeared to be in disagreement today about what has been done toward giving Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen a top-flight post in the State Department.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference if Secretary of State Christian A. Herter had discussed with him the possibility of naming Bohlen, now the ambassador to the Philippines, as the State Department's chief adviser on Soviet affairs.

The President replied that Herter twice had mentioned this to him because, he said, Herter had seen newspaper stories that such a move was under contemplation.

The President said Herter told him he had done nothing about the matter and didn't intend to.

Eisenhower replied he doesn't care what was said at the Herter news conference. He said Herter had told him just what the President had previously reported the secretary said, and that was the last time he saw Herter.

Bohlen's possible elevation to a high level department post has been opposed by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee.

About three-fourths of the states engage in growing tobacco crops.

But Still Top 900,000

New Car Stocks Drop for 1st Time This Year

DETROIT (AP) — Stocks of unsold new cars in dealers' hands dropped last month for the first time this year.

The dip in dealer new-car inventories, which reversed most trade inventory forecasts, still left a stockpile in excess of 900,000 new automobiles but marked the first time this year that retail deliveries caught up with production.

The slight increase that had been anticipated in June failed to materialize when sales of domestic passenger cars soared to 580,000 units—the best single month the industry has had in nearly four years.

Additionally, imported car supplies leveled off at an estimated 73,000 units last month preventing the combined stockpile from reaching the one-million mark which had threatened in the spring.

Automotive News, in its regular monthly tabulation of field stocks of new cars, set the figure on July 1 at 903,009 domestic cars in comparison with the record load of 911,472 cars which were in retailer hands on June 1.

At the current rate of sales the July 1 domestic inventory represents about a 49-day supply which is not regarded by dealers as unmanageable.

The current inventory is about 30 per cent above the total of a year ago when 675,598 new cars were stockpiled. Automotive News said, however, "fewer dealers were dreading the autumn cleanup this year."

Last month's sales push was helped along by timely factory-sponsored contests for Chevrolet and Ford dealers.

Unlike last year when factories cut back sharply after sales skidded, dealers had been receiving steady shipments of domestic-built cars and imports all through 1959.

★ ★ ★

Domestic car inventories stood at 544,099 on Jan. 1. By Feb. 1 they had advanced to 666,725 and continued on up in monthly stages to 706,839 in March, 777,002 in April, 843,185 in May and finally to the June 1 peak before dropping.

This continuing increase in stockpiles has reflected car production months of more than 500,000 units from January onward with the sole exception of February.

Importers also have increased their United States shipments. The Automobile Manufacturers Assn. put April imports at 55,677 units which eclipses March's previous record figure.

★ ★ ★

Dealer consensus is that current stocks are adequate to see the industry through the rest of the model year without great loss of anticipated volume as the result of the steel strike.

Whether new model startups will be affected will depend on the length and severity of the walkout.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, auto builders are progressing with 1959 model shutdowns on schedule. Aug. 21 is expected to mark the final industry phaseout—the earliest close of a model output year since World War II.

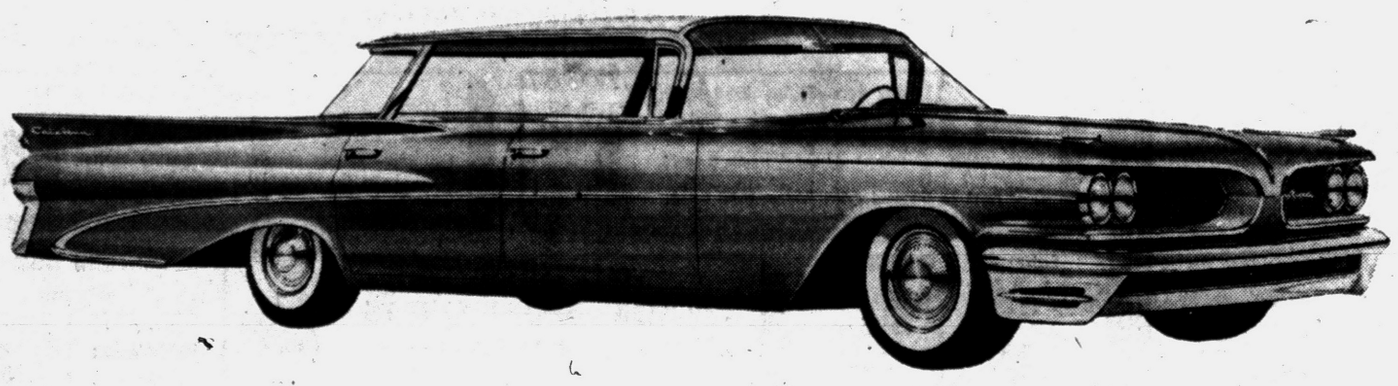

The National Bureau of Standards runs the world's largest testing machine. Its capacity is 10 million pounds and it exerts a force equivalant to the weight of a stack of automobiles three miles high.

A University of Michigan student, Michael Rubin, 23, was wearing braces on both legs. Both limbs were broken in the collision. He also suffered a fractured jaw and head injuries.

The truck driver, Jack Hassett, 26, of 1024 Englewood, was not injured.

Foreign Steel Pours Into U. S. at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Foreign steel poured into Texas through the port of Houston today as the nationwide steel strike entered its second day.

Foreign steelmakers "are throwing the book at us" in an effort to take over the market, said Walter H. Leo, sales manager of the strikebound Sheffield steel plant at Houston.

About 21,600 tons of the metal from Belgium and Japan was unloaded from five ships at Houston yesterday. Two other ships were waiting empty berths.

Leo said foreign steel prices rose $6 to $9 per ton yesterday "and my salesmen report customers have been told the price will go up more."

Persistent Rains Keep Drenching Eastern States

By The Associated Press

Persistent rains which have dampened much of the Eastern section of the country this week didn't appear letting up much today.

★ ★ ★

Showery and cloudy weather continued through southern New England to the New Jersey coast during the night and early morning. More rain was expected along the mid-Atlantic coast while inland the outlook was for scattered showers and thunderstorms from New England southward to the Virginias.

Showers and thunderstorms were indicated during the afternoon and evening from Florida and the Carolinas westward across the Gulf states and the southern Ohio Valley to the southern and central Rockies.

The same forecast was for the central Plains and the Dakotas.

★ ★ ★

But sunny skies were the rule again in most of the Great Lakes region, the northern Rockies and the Pacific Coast region.

Producer Carried Plans'—Rube Goldberg's

Russians Seize Books

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . and stereo.

Herb Bregstein, a Hollywood producer, had his luggage spot-checked at the airport on a recent trip to Moscow. The Russian customs people seized two books. One, "A Room in Moscow," was returned to him after a short wait, but the other got Bregstein in trouble. A whole corps of customs men and commissars went over the suspected book for more than two hours, while the producer wondered which prison he'd be sent to.

The book was filled with strange looking machines being operated by even stranger looking people. There was little question that some of the Russians frankly suspected Bregstein of trying to spirit into the U.S.S.R. a master plan, with diagrams, to sabotage the land and its product.

Finally, they grudgingly returned the book and let Bregstein enter.

The book was Rube Goldberg's "How to Get the Cotton out of an Aspirin Bottle."

A friend forwards a partial list of celebrated victims of cancer in recent years, and it is breath-taking:

John Foster Dulles, John Jay Hopkins, organizer of General Dynamics, Peggy Hopkins Joyce, Louis B. Mayer, Abe Lyman, Jimmy Dorsey, Edwin C. Hill, Humphrey Bogart, Eric von Stroheim, Bob Zuppke, Adm. Turner Joy, Gen. Lewis Andrew Pick, Isham Jones, Babe Didrikson, B. A. Rolfe, Bob Burns, Ralph De Palma and the great naval historian, Capt. Walter Karig.

There are now 1,000,000 automatic soft-drink machines in the country spread around industrial plants, military establishments, offices, gas stations, schools and even funeral parlors. Coins totaling $570,000,000 poured into them last year, and the trend is upward. They account for about one-quarter of the total pop sales.

We spend annually as much on soft drinks in the United States as it cost us to develop the atomic bomb. If all the carbonation were brought together in a single bomb, it would create a belch that would destroy the world.

How Will Strike Affect Economy?

Senator Thinks Figures Will Shock Americans, Force Early Settlement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas Wednesday called for an estimate from Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson of the total economic impact the steel strike will have in lost wages, corporate income and taxes.

The Democratic leader predicted the answer will shock the average American, and that "the people are going to rise up and say 'let's find a solution' when they hear it."

"The public interest really suggests that we find some way to avoid a long drawn-out impasse that would cost the treasury millions," he said.

In an informal news conference, Johnson said he is asking Anderson for a report on what the loss of wages and corporation income will mean in terms of reduced tax revenues and demands for tax refunds, and what side effects the strike will have on employment and earnings in the railroad, coal mining and other industries.

Johnson said he is deeply concerned about the economic situation in such coal mining states as West Virginia and Kentucky. He said he fears the situation will be aggravated by the steel strike.

Artillery Battalion Plans Aug. 8 Reunion

Former members of the 257th Field Artillery Battalion will hold their sixth annual reunion Saturday, Aug. 8, at the American Legion Building, Lapeer.

Persons planning to attend are requested to notify either Al Walz Jr., 705 N. Main St., or Mel Heath, 96 Coulter Dr., both of Lapeer.

Chow dogs and polar bears are the only animals known to have black tongues.

Need Architect

Time was when most people considered an architect indispensable for large commercial buildings, but far too expensive for single home construction. Nowadays, people are coming to realize that retaining an architect to plan their home is one of the most practical steps they can take.

The shrew, a mouselike creammammal, can consume its own weight in insects every three hours.

Wyandotte Annexation Bill Wins House OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee has approved a bill to permit Wyandotte, Mich., to annex about 90 acres of federal property known as Grassy Island in the Detroit River.

Faces 92nd Operation for Old Radiation Burns

CHICAGO (AP)—He lies there, a wreck of a man after 64 years of pain and 91 operations, one of the first victims of radiation.

He speaks from only half a mouth, and his words were sometimes bitter. The operations also have claimed his left hand, most of his nose, his upper lips and parts of his cheek and jaw.

★ ★ ★

He asks, "Why should I, an innocent individual, have to suffer like this? For 64 years I have known pain."

The white-haired man is Dr. Emil H. Grubbe, 84, credited by medical science with being the first to apply radiation in an attempt to cure cancer.

Saturday, he is scheduled to undergo his 92nd operation for radiation burns and cancer resulting from some of his experiments. Doctors say they probably will have to remove two fingers from his right hand.

Dr. Grubbe gave a rare news conference Wednesday in Swedish Covenant Hospital.

★ ★ ★

"I was the first one burned by radiation," he said. He told of how in 1895, as a physicist, he worked on the manufacture of plutonium vacuum tubes called Crookes tubes, used to rarify gases.

Many times he touched the tubes or brought them near his face, not knowing of the danger. An irritation appeared on his hand, but he didn't know what it was.

Then on Nov. 8, 1895 the discovery of X-rays was announced by Wilhelm Roentgen.

"I know then I had been burned by X rays," Dr. Grubbe said. They were produced in the Crookes tubes. From that day on I protected myself from the rays. But it was too late."

Six months later he had his first operation for radiation burns.

In the meantime, Dr. Grubbe, on Jan. 26, 1896, began treating a woman afflicted with breast cancer by exposing her to X rays. The pain left her shortly. Since then he has instructed more than 7,000 doctors in radiology techniques.

Dr. Grubbe declines the role of a martyr, but admits he would not have conducted his experiments if he could have seen the results.

"No, not with all the misery I've had," he said.

State Legislators Agree on Something . . . Cards

LANSING (UPI)—Republican and Democratic caucus sessions have agreed on a bipartisan project.

Senators of both parties agreed to start a campaign for greeting cards for Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman), who will celebrate his 65th birthday in the university hospital at Ann Arbor Friday.

Andrews suffered a stroke earlier in the session.

He has been keeping track of legislative developments with a tape recorder that plays recordings of the Senate sessions.

Men No Longer Are Adversaries

Women Don't Trust Other Women

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — I have just received a letter from an ungrammatical, but dramatically terse, reader. The reader writes, with simple effectiveness, "I hope you dies."

Now this was not what one would call a typical fan letter, as most really angered column readers dare hope no further than that you lose your job without severance pay.

But in a grisly way it is representative of the mail I lately have received from females who disagree violently with a recent series on "The Trouble With American Men." In it I suggested (quoting numerous authorities) that the female sex may have had some small part in the slow sapping of virility from our once-rugged males.

These letters are 100 per cent from women (the men sent thank-you notes), and they made me feel good. Because they substantiate my theory that many women — perhaps most — basically do not trust other women. They used to, even as recently as the days when mother was a girl, but not in modern mid-century America. They were struggling, then, for their place in the world and their natural adversaries were men.

Now women have overwhelmed men in America. They have more life span, more endurance, more money and more power than men. Now their natural adversaries, instinctively if not consciously, are other women.

Before you girls write in again to tell me about the warm conviviality of the Wednesday afternoon bridge club, please allow me to review some facts about the days when girls were either quiet homebodies or husky conspirators together, determined to break the golden chain which bound them into the slavery of marriage.

It officially started about the Revolutionary Year, 1848, when American feminists gathered at the little town of Seneca Falls for the first "Woman's Rights Convention." While gentler housewives quivered, these ladies vowed that after generations of subservience, they would demand equality between male and female. Queen Victoria, who was ruling by birth rather than inclination, was shocked, called the session "This wicked folly of woman's rights, on which my poor sex is bent . . ."

About this time, Amelia Jenks Bloomer came out in baggy pants with her friendly defeminized feminists, to fight for more lemonade and less booze, more female independence and fewer dishes and children. They were ardent friends in frustration.

Not until the beginning of the 20th century did the feminist movement catch hold on a mass scale. A girl named Anna Edson Taylor became the first person to go over Niagara Falls in the barrel—and, like her, women began swiftly and dizzily to roll.

World War I found women breaking into industry and discovering what it was like — not so difficult after all — to fend for themselves. The depression taught women how to fight for jobs, right along with their men. But it was World War II that spun for the American woman this positoin of unhappy domination and finally finished off her man as the arch rival in her life.

She discovered in those world-shaking years that she could have almost any job she set her cap for. With her new independence and efficiency and wealth, she bought up two-thirds of the U.S. government's bonds, half the country's corporate stock. Men came home from the war, tired and home-loving, and she mothered them and they loved it, and she made all the decisions and they seemed to like that too.

And suddenly the long-fought conquest of man was over. But the woman still had a full head of steam and ambition. Men all at once were too gentle to be competitive, so the only threats to the lady power-driver's peace of mind were members of her own sex.

This is why it'll be some time before we have a lady president. Ladies would prefer that other ladies spend more time in the kitchen.

Ban Ships Carrying South African Goods

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Secretary John Tettegah of the Ghana Trades Union Congress reports ships carrying South African goods will be barred from unloading at ports of this Negro republic in the future.

The ban was described as a protest against the South African government's treatment of Africans.

From its source to its junction with the Mississippi, the Missouri river is 2,945 miles long. Their combined length of 4,200 miles is said to exceed that of any other river system.

That's Earl, Brother (With Apologies)

Memory of Brother Huey Inflames 'Mr. Bangs'

(Although the Earl Long story is as bizarre as any in modern political history, the wildest part may lie ahead, a noted Washington correspondent reports in this final article of a series.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
Special to The Pontiac Press

BATON ROUGE, La.—The terrible-tempered Mr. Bangs of Louisiana cracker-barrel politics is determined to outshine his assassinated brother, "Kingfish" Huey Long, by running for an illegal unprecedented fourth term.

★ ★ ★

Psychiatrists attending Gov. Earl Long privately advise that he will never be able to stand the rigors of a campaign but their irrepressible patient asserts that "they just don't know ol' Earl."

Should the governor go through with his plan to resign in order to circumvent the law forbidding a chief executive of Louisiana to succeed himself, the rough-and-tumble campaign that is sure to follow is bound to make a Harry Truman "give-'em-hell" affair sound like a Sunday school picnic.

Uncle Earl spares no words and no epithets when he cuts loose at any Louisiana politician who dares to oppose him. He knows everybody's skeletons, exactly what their mammies and pappies were up to before them.

Shortly before his confinement in a mental institution as a paranoid schizophrenic, he told a gubernatorial candidate, State Senator W. M. Rainach:

"You had a fine father—one of the best that ever lived. What was his name? Odum, wasn't it? And then you was brought up by a fine man named Rainach, but somewhere along the line you dropped something and you ain't never picked it up."

★ ★ ★

The diatribe was delivered in the most public of all state forums, a joint session of the Legislature.

Long hurled belittling invectives at several other lawmakers and subsequently patted the entire chamber on the head by declaring:

"Huey used to buy the Legislature like a sack of potatoes. Hell, I never bought one in my life. I just rent 'em. It's cheaper that way."

ENVIES HUEY

Earl Long burns with envy for his colorful brother, who was assassinated in the skyscraper state capitol which he built. From the 23rd floor of the 33-floor structure a spotlight gleams down on the bigger-than-lifesize statue of Huey which marks his glorified grave on the capitol lawn.

The state Legislature appropriated $50,000 for the statue after a popular subscription drive brought only $75 frmo a Shreveport "share the wealth" organization. Huey's birthday, Aug. 30, is an official state holiday.

All of this is too much for younger brother Earl, who is determined that he and he alone will be governor as long as he lives. If he can choose his own death scene he wants to die "a bigger martyr" than Huey.

★ ★ ★

One of the governor's pet peeves is Wade O. Martin Jr., secretary of state since 1940, who supported and fought Long by turns. When Earl learned that Martin had declared for the governor's race he told a political rally:

"Martin reminds me of a rabbit leadin' a pack of dogs. After the race the rabbit is plenty glad to get back in his own hole—and that's what Martin will be."

RACKS MAYOR

Another man who provoked the Long wrath by seeking the gubernatorial nomination is mayor De Lessups Morrison of New Orleans. The old man, hitching up his galluses, told grinning onlookers:

"I'd rather beat Morrison than eat any of the finest huckelberry pie my mother ever made. He's the easiest man to make a nut of than anybody I've seen. And may God give the little squirt the power to reform before it's too late. As long as there's an Uncle Earl there'll be no Morrison for governor."

The governor saved some of his choicest words for State Senator William J. Dodd, another gubernatorial hopeful. "He ain't for nobody but big bad Bill Dodd," Long told a Fourth of July rally. "He's the biggest faker on God's green earth."

Long blazed with anger when Dodd retorted adroitly: "You'll never have to stand by your TV set and worry about what Bill Dodd is going to say in front of your children. It makes me sick to see 'deadheads' on the state payroll. I know the deadheads are there because I have to pay the bills."

★ ★ ★

Perhaps the candidate most feared by Long is former Gov. Jimmy Davis, now a radio-TV commentator in New Orleans who established a unique record by turning back to the treasury when he departed office in 1948 thirty million unspent dollars.

LONG NERVOUS

Davis has declared for the gubernatorial nomination but has not yet launched his campaign. Long's nervousness about that competition was perhaps best exemplified by a remark to Mrs. Long, overheard by a follower shortly before his temporary incarceration.

"I'm gonna' run for governor," he shouted to his wife, "and you can vote for Davis and I'll beat the both of you."

Another possible candidate for the governorship is Senator Russell Long, son of the late Huey and a nephew hated by Earl Long since he helped the family spirit the old man away to a mental clinic in Galveston, Tex., last month.

Russell is popular with labor in Louisiana but the stigma of the Long name might prove unhealthy at this particular time. "Uncle Earl" has a definite opinion about the youthful senator, but his colorful invectives on that subject are—alas—unprintable.

The governor also has a quaint but possibly revealing concept of political fitness. He got off a whimsical bit of philosophy on the subject shortly before his incarceration in a mental clinic. To newsmen he declared:

"There's a difference between character and reputation. Reputation is what people think you are and character is what you really are inside. You can be a son-of-gun, but if people think you're all right you're in pretty good shape. But no matter how good you are, if people think you're rotten, you just about might as well give up."

★ ★ ★

Great Grandma Is Hoofing It for 2,000 Miles

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Mrs. Emma Gatewood, 71-year-old great-grandmother of six, stopped here overnight on her trip from Independence, Mo., to Portland, Ore., —on foot.

She bought a new pair of shoes.

★ ★ ★

"People have been trying to scare me out of this for a long time," said Mrs. Gatewood, who lives in Gallipolis, Ohio. "But I haven't had any trouble. I just take things as they come."

She says she is enjoying the trip, making about 25 or 26 miles a day, turning down all offers of rides and staying overnight usually in a motel.

★ ★ ★

She carries some spare clothing, food, water and a blanket in a 14-pound pack. She also carries an umbrella.

Mrs. Gatewood is a widow. She has 11 children, 27 grandchildren and 6 great-grandchildren.

She started the 2,000-mile trek May 4.

one of 7 Big Bests Chevy gives you over any car in its field

You've got more to go on than our say-so: Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED says it this way: ". . . surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." And if you want the thrift of a six, you still get the best of it in a Chevy.

BEST ECONOMY
No doubt about this: a pair of Chevy sixes with Powerglide came in first and second in their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run—getting the best mileage of any full-size car, 22.38 miles per gallon.

BEST BRAKES
Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy outstopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.
*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research

BEST RIDE
A few minutes behind the wheel will leave no doubt about this. MOTOR TREND magazine sums it up this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

BEST TRADE-IN
Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.* Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

Conductor Bernstein's Spirit Catches

'Lennie' Likes Music

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonard Bernstein likes music, so you can't help liking it, too.

In another few weeks he will take his good looks, his youthful bounce, his informal charm and his New York Philharmonic on a 10-week tour of the Near East and Europe. First of 50 concerts in 18 countries will be held Aug. 5 in Athens.

"I love to do what I do," says Bernstein, explaining his enthusiasm.

His spirit is infectious. He smiles on the podium of Carnegie Hall and 2,800 people smile back. He smiles into a camera and millions watching TV feel inclined to smile, too.

Bernstein has succeeded, for many people, in taking the awesome long-hair out of long-hair music. He doesn't cut it down to fit his audience, but cuts away the superficial hindrances to appreciation from which the public traditionally suffers.

A lot of it is due to the fact that he treats his audience in such a familiar way.

The traditional maestro never puts both hands in his pants pockets, lolls over his piano, and condescends to explain; his audiences can take it or leave it. But Lennie, as they call him though he is master, is no stuffy upstage maestro.

At rehearsal he can hop up on a grand piano, let his feet dangle, and explain to a chorus what was good and what wasn't.

He can be severe — "stop talking!" — to a whispering pair of violinists in the back row. But he has not the bark of conductors like Toscanini. He gets what sounds he wants—sometimes with fingers cupped behind an ear to hear better — but he does it the Bernstein way.

His men call up to him, "Lennie, what about this, what about that?" — he is younger than most of the players and they have known him more than 15 years. He cracks a joke with a hard-working pianist. He gloats when a passage comes out all right. "Hey, that wasn't so bad!"

None of this is work, it is play.

After one gruelling final rehearsal, with four public performances still to come, he said: "The Philharmonic never stops. The other things I do I crowd in between, but the Philharmonic is all the time. When I go home I'll have 30 telephone calls — A question about tonight's music, about the opening of my 'Candie' in London, about my 'West Side Story' going on the road, about our tour to Europe and beyond about a program Athens will want changed, or Salzburg."

Mary Queen of Scots, who was beheaded in 1587, was reputed to have a different wig — or "perewyke"—for every day of the year.

Committee Gets Mild Rights Bill

Clears Subcommittee by Narrow Margin Over Vote of Southerners

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate constitutional rights subcommittee Wednesday approved a relatively mild civil rights bill and sent it to an uncertain fate in the parent Judiciary Committee.

The two-part bill, much less sweeping than an eight-point proposal now before the House Judiciary Committee, cleaed by subcommittee by a narrow 4-3 margin. Southerners cast all the dissenting votes.

Chairman Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo) said civil rights proponents hoped the measure could be strengthened, either in the parent committee or on the Senate floor.

Sen. John A. Carroll (D-Colo), another subcommittee member, called the bill a "skeleton" which needs some amendments to "put some meat on its bones."

★ ★ ★

The bill would:

—Extend the life of the President's Civil Rights Commission for another year until Jan. 31, 1961. The commission's constitutionality is now under attack in federal court.

—Require state registrars to preserve and produce on request of the U.S. Attorney General voting records from contests for president and Congress. Government agents would seek access to the records in investigating suspected denials of voting rights.

The subcommittee pigeon-holed a host of more comprehensive civil rights bills, including President Eisenhower's program and one advanced by Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson. The vote on this was 4-2 with Hennings and Carroll dissenting.

There was no certainty even the mild subcommittee bill would get past the full Judiciary Committee, which is headed by Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss), an avowed foe of new civil rights legislation.

Reuther Says Ike Dodging Civil Rights Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter P. Reuther says the Eisenhower administration has been characterized by "nothing but evasion and hesitation" on the civil rights issue.

"When the Supreme Court handed down its historic decision," Reuther said, "that provided an opportunity for courage and leadership from the White House.

"Instead of courage and leadership in the White House, we had a vacuum, and into that vaccum came the Faubuses and the hatemongers."

Reuther, AFL-CIO vice president and head of the United Auto Workers, assailed the administration on civil rights Wednesday in addressing the annual convention of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

He said presidential action is needed to make effective the Supreme Court's decision outlawing segregation in public schools.

He promised that the labor movement will continue to cooperate "until we can get effective and meaningful civil rights legislation that will implement the Supreme Court decision on desegretation of schools."

Stop Clogging Up Your Arteries

By LELORD KORDEL

Installment Four

LELORD KORDEL

Bill Gordon came to me, still half-dazed from the shock he had received.

"The company picked me for the executive training program," he said. "I took the physical and passed it fine until the doctor examined the blood vessels at the back of my eyes. What do you think he found?"

"Atherosclerosis?" I asked.

"But that's an old man's disease," said Bill indignantly. "You know how old I am? Twenty-eight! It doesn't make sense."

Bill had reason for concern over his diagnosis. In atherosclerosis the arteries become thick and clogged with fatty deposits. The blood flow to the heart is cut down, and a heart attack may be imminent.

Atherosclerosis is a killer for many. Survival itself may well depend on a changed way of living.

"Briefly, Bill," I told him, "you're suffering from what is often called a grease-trap disease. You're using your arteries as a grease trap for your body's plumbing system."

★ ★ ★

"Go on," said Bill. "I want to hear about this."

"We begin our lives with blood vessels like smooth elastic, and as resilient as rubber tubing. But each illness and each year of life injures the flexibility and the smoothness of these vessels.

"They used to start showing signs of wear and tear around the age of 35. They became thicker and less elastic, and their smooth walls began to take on deposits of tiny, pinhead-size patches of lime and fat."

"You said used to," said Bill.

"That's right. Clogging of the arteries was formerly considered a badge of many birthdays. But not today. Today, for some men of 35, it's already too late."

AMERICANS SUFFER MOST

"There are two medically cited reasons: our American diets, which are heavy in fats, and our race-the-motor pace of living. That's why Americans suffer most of any peoples from arteriosclerosis and altherosclerosis. That's why our coronaries have become epidemic.

"We allow cholesterol to crystallize because we stop exercising too soon," I continued. "Remember that Dr. Paul Dudley White the prominent heart specialist whose name became well known to use as President Eisenhower's physician said the President's golfing probably kept him from having a heart attack earlier than he did."

"Sure," said Bill, "and before he said that, nearly everybody thought maybe golf was what brought it on."

"We eat too much, sit too much, and exercise too little. We must keep all the fat-forming cholesterol in circulation. We must walk more!"

"Where do people like me—and even younger fellows — get so much of this cholesterol?" asked Bill.

"You eat it in your foods. You eat either too many of the foods containing cholesterol or too many of the fatty foods from which your body can manufacture it."

"Why doesn't some bright young chemist find a way to get rid of cholesterol in the body?" asked Bill.

"Because, paradoxically enough, it's a valuable adjunct to good health. We don't know yet in just how many ways cholesterol is necessary to us. We do know of a few significant functions:

"1. It prevents destruction of red blood cells.

"2. It is important to nerve tissues.

"3. It's partly responsible for the semisolid consistency of living cells."

"Thats' really throwing us a curve," said Bill. "Something that's necessary to health but, like James Whitcomb Riley's goblins, 'Will get you if you don't watch out.' Well, what's the answer? or is there one?"

★ ★ ★

"Yes, Bill there is an answer. There is one substance that seems to protect us from accumulations of cholesterol, that emulsifies the deposits on artery walls. That substance is lecithin."

LECITHIN, THE SAVER

Lecithin, I explained, is found most abundantly in egg yolk; but cheese, butter, and unpasteurized milk contain lecithin in their fat. It is also available in concentrated granular form, and may be purchased at special diet food stores.

★ ★ ★

Almost everything you eat today, whether at home or in a restaurant, contains dangerous amounts of cholesterol — and too little of the lecithin which helps to emulsify the fatty deposits and keep them finely divided so they can circulate through your body.

★ ★ ★

"Have you any idea how many ounces of fat you eat a day?" I asked Bill.

"No," he said, "I never thought much about it."

"The average American consumes at least four and seven-tenths ounces of fat a day. That's a real health hazard, Bill. A potential danger to any man. More than 50 per cent of this fat is visible fat that you could cut out of your diet. Another 30 per cent is hidden fat."

"Where's it hiding?" asked Bill.

"Do you eat much gravy, Bill? Rich sauces, chocolate, cakes, pies, and other pastries."

"Sure," said Bill. "Who doesn't?"

"That," I said, "is just what's wrong—who doesn't? And it's in those very items that the hidden fats are lurking.

"Fat is the only food that can't be broken down into substances soluble in water. That's why your body has such a tough time handling fat, Bill, especially the fatty material we know as cholesterol."

THE DEADLY DEPOSIT

Cholesterol and fats are processed by your digestive tract — like all your food — and passed on into your blood for transport to the tissues for the nourishment of the cells. But something goes wrong.

Through some defect in the process of cell building and cell destruction, in some manner, the cholesterol detaches itself from your bloodstream and settles on the arterial wall.

Thus, as the cholesterol crystallizes, the inner wall of the artery loses its elasticity, grows wrinkled and thick, and the blood has to blood can still pass through the pressure its way through.

For a time a little trickle of clogged artery. But what happens if a moving blood clot, which may form anywhere in the blood stream, gets lodged in one of these tight spots filled up by cholesterol deposits?

The answer to that means the difference between life and death. Your life—or death!

Welfare Measure Gets Same Treatment

School Redistricting Plan Junked; Township Annexation Bill Rejected

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature, clearing the decks for the final throes of the tax struggle, has junked controversial school reorganization, annexation and welfare financing bills.

★ ★ ★

The so-called K-12 plan met its second — and unquestionably its final — defeat when the Senate routed a host school bill to the Education Committee.

The 19 to 11 vote, strictly on party lines put the revived K-12 proposal where a predecessor version smothered to death last month. Republicans backed the move, Democrats opposed it.

The Greene bill, a modification of the Virginia plan for judicial determination of annexation questions, met its Waterloo in the House. It fell 13 votes short of the passage requirement on a 43 to 51 roll call.

Its demise was not unexpected after a steady tattoo of opposition leveled by the Michigan Township Assn.

★ ★ ★

The welfare bill, designed to lighten the expense burden of local governments in support of poor relief, was killed in the Senate. A vote of 18 to 15 sent it to a committee grave.

★ ★ ★

The K-12 plan, strenuously fought by rural and some city schoolmen, and backed by major statewide education organizations, was one of the session's most bitterly disputed propositions outside the sphere of taxes.

It would have set machinery in motion for erasing some 1,650 primary school districts in the next three years, most of them one-room units.

Opponents assailed the procedures involved as "dictatorial" and "fundamentally dangerous." Sens. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains) and Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) led attacking forces.

★ ★ ★

Under the annexation bill, sought by several large outstate cities, a visiting judge would have been called in to make decisions on proposals initiated by city governing bodies.

★ ★ ★

A referendum provision for review of such decisions by voters was liberalized in the House — but not enough to satisfy objectors.

Supporters said it offered the best hope in years for breaking artificial boundary lines around fast-growing cities that have tended to stifle normal development and created "fringe" problems.

The state-local welfare cost sharing proposal, a House graft on an innocuous bill previously approved by the Senate, would have jumped the state's proportion of direct relief costs to 49 per cent. The remaining 51 per cent would have been borne by local communities.

These changes for the present 30-70 ratio would saddle an estimated nine million dollars in additional cost on the state.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, Republican majority leader, said the state budget couldn't stand it and moved to recommit the bill.

★ ★ ★

Seventeen of his Republican colleagues voted with him, but Republican Sens. Lodge, Lewis G. Christman of Ann Arbor and Paul Younger of Lansing broke party ranks to join 12 Democrats in opposition.

Queen, Philip Cruise Away to Nanaimo, B. C.

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Queen Elizabeth and her royal party left here Wednesday night on a leisurely 35-mile cruise to Nanaimo, B.C., and a 2½-day visit to Vancouver Island.

★ ★ ★

The Queen and Prince Philip spent a furiously paced 12 hours at formal appearances in the New Westminster and Vancouver area Wednesday.

Her visit here was capped by her attendance at the civic auditorium, where a capacity crowd turned out for a concert.

AP Writer Ed Creagh Dies in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward F. Creagh, 41, special assignment writer in The Associated Press Washington bureau, died today at Hadley Memorial Hospital.

He had been taken to the hospital last week in critical condition from a liver ailment.

★ ★ ★

Creagh had worked in the AP's Philadelphia, New York and London bureaus before coming to Washington after World War II. He left briefly in 1948 to do free lance work but returned to The AP the following year.

New Zealand's longest river is only 80 miles in length.

Combine Favorite Fruits in Jam

Summer fruits and berries are now ripening in abundance and some of them should be turned into sparkling jellies and flavorful jams. This can be done with no trouble at all when you use recipes based on either liquid or powdered fruit pectin. These modern products assure a perfect, tender jell, and fine fresh fruit flavor with a minimum of cooking.

You should, of course, follow directions exactly for whichever product you use, because all recipes are carefully developed for the correct balance of fruit juice, sugar and pectin. The following recipes for currently plentiful fruits are based on liquid fruit pectin.

Peach Raspberry Jam

4 cups red raspberries
2 pounds ripe peaches
¼ cup lemon juice (2 lemons)
6 cups (2 lbs. 10 oz.) sugar
½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Peel, pit and crush thoroughly about 2 pounds fully ripe peaches. Add enough crushed peaches to raspberries to make 4 cups prepared fruit. Place in a very large saucepan. Squeeze the juice from 2 medium-sized lemons and measure ¼ cup into saucepan with fruit.

Then make the jam. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a FULL ROLLING BOIL, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon.

Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. If jars are used, seal. Makes about 10 medium glasses.

★ ★ ★

Tart red cherries make a delicious jam. Not only is it good on breakfast toast, but it makes a super sundae sauce.

Cherry Jam

4 cups prepared fruit (about 3 lbs. ripe sour cherries)
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Stem and pit about 3 pounds fully ripe sour cherries. Chop fine. Measure 4 cups into a very large saucepan.

Then make the jam. Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a FULL ROLLING BOIL and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon.

Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. If jars are used, seal. Makes about 11 medium glasses.

Note: For a stronger cherry flavor, add a few crushed cherry pits during simmering, or add ¼ teaspoon almond extract before ladling jam.

★ ★ ★

Cherry Jelly

3½ cups juice (about 3 lbs. ripe sour cherries
7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the juice. Stem (do not pit) about 3 pounds fully ripe sour cherries. Crush thoroughly. Add ½ cup water; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 3½ cups into a very large saucepan.

Then make the jelly. Add sugar to juice and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Then bring to a FULL ROLLING BOIL and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 11 medium glasses.

Note: For a stronger cherry flavor, add a few crushed cherry pits during simmering, or add ¼ teaspoon almond extract before pouring jelly.

DOUBLE FAVORITE—Peach and raspberry jam is a special treat, combining as it does two of summer's favorite fruit flavors. Get busy now while the berries are in season and store away some of their goodness for next winter.

Square Ones Save Time

Next time you roll out the biscuit dough, skip the round cutter and make square biscuits, suggest specialists at Michigan State University. It takes only a few strokes of your knife. Square biscuits taste just as good, and they save you some time and energy in the kitchen.

Banana Peanut Butter

Here's a catchy number that's in tune with tea time — Peanut Butter - Banana Sandwiches. With a (2-inch) cookie cutter, cut circles from sliced enriched bread. Spread bread circles with peanut butter and cap each one with a banana slice that's been dipped in orange juice.

Give Bread Mix a New Treatment

An excellent way to give a new mix home treatment.

Orange Prune Bread

1 egg
⅔ cup milk
1 package (10 ounces) oatmeal bread mix
⅔ cup sliced pitted cooked prunes
2 tablespoons sugar
Grated rind of 1 orange
¼ cup finely chopped nuts

Beat egg enough to combine yolk and white; add milk and beat to combine. Add oatmeal bread mix; stir just until combined. Fold in prunes; turn into pan that comes with mix; do not grease pan.

Mix together the sugar, grated orange and nuts; sprinkle over top of loaf. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 45 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Remove bread according to package directions.

Now Apricots Can Be Grown in Michigan

Here's good news for those who like apricots. After 20 years of breeding and selecting work, three new apricot varieties are going into orchards for test production. The new varieties were developed by scientists at the Michigan State University Agriculture Experiment Station.

Again the scientists started with the kind of apricot people like and then developed trees that would produce fruits with that coloring and flavor.

Apricots have never produced much fruit when grown east of the Rocky Mountains; standard varieties do not like humid climates. But the Michigan State scientists worked tirelessly until they developed varieties that produced under Michigan conditions the kind of fruit people want.

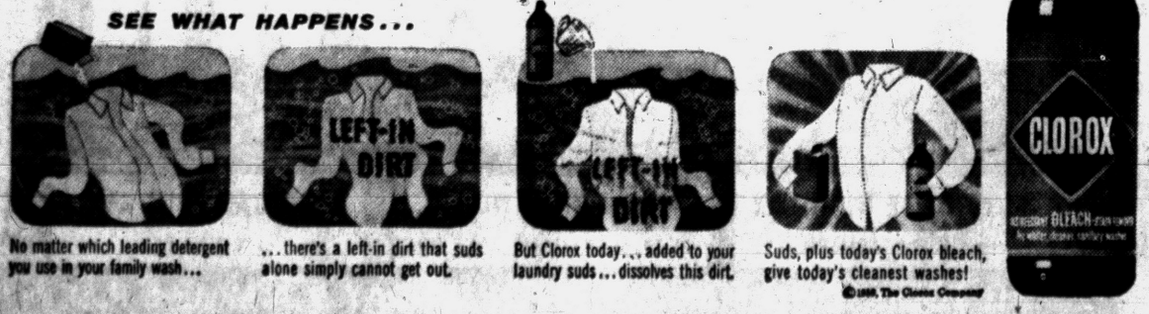

Impressed With Plight

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — Thomas Jackson was so impressed with the evidence presented in his damage suit against the Roen Steamship Co. of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., he asked for and was granted permission to boost his claim from $35,000 to $75,000. The jury awarded him $65,000.

Make a Soup to Mix With Canned Tomato

Use a ham bone in this good sturdy soup.

Wonderful Puree Mongole

Butt-end ham bone, with practically all meat cut off)
1 cup quick-cooking green split peas
1½ quarts water
1 very large carrot (sliced)
2 ribs celery with leafy tops (sliced)
1 large onion (sliced)
½ green pepper (sliced)
2 whole cloves
2 whole allspice
1 bay leaf
2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed tomato soup
¾ cup leftover diced baked ham
Salt
Freshly ground pepper

Put ham bone, split peas, water, carrot, celery, onion, green pepper, cloves, allspice and bay leaf in a kettle. Bring quickly to a boil: reduce heat and simmer, stirring occasionally, until peas are very soft — about 1½ hours. Remove ham bone.

Pour soup and vegetables through fine strainer or food mill, adding the pureed vegetables. Dice any meat on ham bone and add. Cool, cover and refrigerate overnight.

At serving time add condensed tomato soup and diced ham; heat, stirring occasionally; add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 8 to 12 servings. Soup may be thinned with water if desired.

You can roast a leg of lamb on an outdoor spit if you have your meatman bone, roll and tie the meat for you.

We've Been Trying New Products

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Last fall sometime we wrote that there were 85 cake mixes on the market. There must be over a hundred by now. In recent weeks we have received a package of mix that makes a large pound cake and one of a sugar maple cake.

This last one is a delicately flavored cake that is very light. It makes a full 9 by 13 inch pan. We used a plain white icing although the recipe for a maple icing is included in the package.

Two other package mixes that interest us a great deal are mixes to use on an outdoor grill. One contains a biscuit mix, the other a cornbread mix. Both have a foil baking pan and cover and a pan liner. Ours are going on our August camping trip.

Three-ounce plastic wrapped packages of walnuts are proving better for summer keeping than the old type package. These are electronically sealed which makes them air and moisture proof.

The home of the 57 varieties has come out with three new products. One is a barbecue sauce which has a natural smoke flavor. The other sauce is a mustard sauce. Use it right from the bottle (it pours easily) as a dip for raw vegetables, meat or cheese. We like it very well on ham. Mix it with other dressing for salads.

★ ★ ★

From the company's test kitchens comes this dressing recipe to use with fruit salads.

Honey Mustard Cream

2 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon Mustard Sauce
1 cup heavy cream

Combine honey and mustard; whip cream until stiff, but not dry; fold in honey mixture; chill. Serve on fruit salads. Makes 2 cups.

Pontiac has been chosen as a test area for a new wine vinegar. We have been using it for about a week and like the rich flavor it gives salad dressing. Offered as a premium with this vinegar is an imported vinegar cruet.

On the USDA list of Plentiful Foods for July turkeys and plums lead. Turkeys and chickens have become so reasonable that everyone uses them for company entertaining.

If you like poultry cooked on your outdoor grill, here is a suggestion you mey follow. Perhaps you already cook this way.

Cut the fowl into serving pieces. Brush with melted butter or margarine and put on the grill to brown. Turn and continue to baste until fowl is browned all over.

Then wrap in foil and put back on the grill to finish cooking. The foil protects the meat and prevents it from being burned. All the juices are kept in.

★ ★ ★

In conclusion, let's mention eggs. At their present low price they're a better buy than ever for part of your protein food. Use them in lots of ways in your summer meals.

Make the Most of Low Egg Price

Here's a thrifty lift that will pry your meals out of their well-worn rut, and actually save money compared to most of the meals you serve. It's a combination of economical eggs with just a pinch of that magic ingredient called "imagination."

Those are the principal ingredients suggested by home economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who are very egg conscious these days when eggs are selling at the lowest prices since Mother was a girl. (Since 1941, in case you're wondering about Mother's girlhood.)

Here are some samples of imaginative, tasty and nickel-nursing meals, suggested by the egg cheer leaders of the Department of Agriculture:

For example: Have you ever served Egg Nests? For each serving, you need one egg and a slice of toast. Beat egg whites until stiff and form into a nest on the toast.

Drop the yolk of the egg into the center and bake in a moderate oven until the yolk is solid. A salty meat of some kind makes a good companion, so serve with slices of crisp bacon, sausage, or in hot weather, cold luncheon meat.

TOMATO POACHED EGGS: This is easy and tasty. Poach eggs as usual, but instead of water, use tomato juice as the liquid in which the eggs are poached.

EGG AND FISH SALAD: This is an appetizing dish that the family will enjoy especially in the hot weather. Flake salmon or tuna and combine with sliced hard cooked eggs, chopped celery, sweet pickle and diced onion and mix with mayonnaise.

Most Meat Prices Are Tempting to Housewife

The "season's the reason" explains the abundance of fresh produce in stores and farmers' markets. Some foods decrease and others increase in quantity each week. This change in volume is one factor explaining price fluctuations.

PROTEIN FOR THE FAMILY

Pork, beef and poultry are being emphasized in many stores this week.

Unseasonally large pork supplies are expected to be marketed this month. This is expected to keep prices at an unusual low. One wholesaler reports that hogs are 10 dollars per hundred weight lower than a year ago.

If you check pork cuts, you'll find whole ham for as little as 16 to 23 cents a serving. Bacon, sausage and franks are specially marked.

What beef will you buy? Customer interest in chuck roasts is at a low in summer, so price is lower too.

If your family likes savory pot roast in winter, current prices will tempt you to wrap a few for the freezer. If you choose U. S. Choice grade blade chuck, you might use it for broiling now. Of course it will need tendering in a marinade in the refrigerator overnight—and for the greatest tenderness, cook it rare to medium-rare.

Customer demand for steaks helps to hold higher prices for these cuts in summer. When steaks are featured, you may find a difference of 15 to 20 cents a pound for the same grade.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture predicted plenty of turkey in July. The average price of 49 cents a pound means 25 cents a serving for birds weighing 12 pounds or more.

Most fryers are 35 to 49 cents a pound this week depending upon the size, breed, quality, and how they are processed.

Some stores are suggesting duck at 39 to 49 cents a pound. Remember that duck has a larger proportion of bone to meat than other kinds of poultry, so you want a plump one — maybe two.

The price trend is down on eggs. Forty-three to fifty-two cents a dozen for large eggs is 28½ to 35 cents per pound. Small eggs are 25½ to 28½ cents a pound.

VEGETABLE ROUNDUP

That time for homegrown corn has arrived! Of course only light supplies are available, but with shipments from other states prices lowered to 5 and 6 cents an ear this week.

You can tell a good ear of corn by looking. Do the kernels have a bright shiny appearance? Are the kernels well developed to the end of the ear? Do the kernels look plump? If there is any green husk, is it green, crisp and fresh?

Quick cooling and keeping is the secret of sweet garden-like corn flavor. Do your part in keeping this freshness and try to use corn the day you buy it.

Tender squash that you cook with the skin on, are generally 10 cents a pound.

New Michigan potatoes can now be added to growing supplies from other states. Most potatoes are 6 to 9 cents a pound. That's 2 to 3 cents a serving. Boil in their jackets for the most health value.

Outdoor grown tomatoes are fast increasing. You may want to ripen them at room temperature before refrigerating. This will develop color and flavor which never develops if underripe tomatoes are refrigerated.

FRUITS

Bigger supplies are usually coupled with lower prices, so let's check the fruit supply. Watermelons from several states swell the supply. For whole melons you'll pay 3 to 5 cents a pound.

A ripe watermelon will have a creamy yellow color on the underside, not white or greenish-white. Look for a velvety appearance on the outside skin, not a shiny look. The best melons will be evenly shaped and free of defects caused by disease.

Apples and bananas, at about the same price per pound, are just as good choices in summer as in winter.

Plums and grapes become better values, price-wise, as supplies continue to grow.

Early peach varieties are almost finished and late varieties are just ready for picking. You'll find peaches in the same price bracket with apples and bananas.

The raspberry season is going fast. If you have plans to freeze or preserve them, don't delay. The red varieties are about 10 cents more per pint than the black.

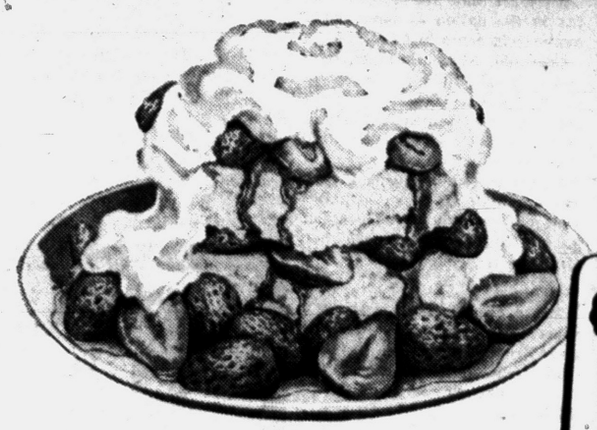

Light supplies of Michigan blueberries are now being harvested. With increasing supplies from New Jersey, you'll find pints ranging from 29 to 39 cents.

Gas Up Buggy in Missouri on Vacation Trip

LANSING (AP) — Fill your tank with gasoline in Missouri if you plan any cross-country traveling this summer, the State Revenue Department tipped today.

★ ★ ★

Missouri has the lowest gas tax in the nation — three cents against six cents in Michigan.

Colorado, North Carolina, Oregon or Virginia are the places to stock up on cigarettes. They are the only states without a cigarette tax — currently five cents in Michigan.

Eighteen states have a higher gas tax than Michigan — about a dozen charging seven cents a gallon. Nine states have a higher cigarette tax.

★ ★ ★

There are 16 states without a sales tax. Only two — Hawaii and Pennsylvania with 3.5 per cent each — charge more than the current three per cent in Michigan.

OKs Pan-American Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill authorizing U. S. membership in the new Inter-American Development Bank. The measure, passed Wednesday 89-3, authorizes appropriations of 450 million dollars to help create the bank to be devoted to economic developments of Latin America on a cooperative basis.

D. C. Home Rule Bill Approved by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to give the District of Columbia its first real home rule since 1874 was passed by the Senate Wednesday and sent to the House.

The bill would allow district residents to elect their own mayor and city council and one nonvoting delegate to the House of Representatives. The capital city now is governed by Congress and a commission appointed by the President.

Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) said passage of such legislation by the Senate is an empty gesture because it always has been defeated in the House over the years.

The average number of shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange during 1958 was 4,877,000,000, of which 15 per cent changed hands in the course of the year.

Clipped just at the hipline, this perky jacket is cut away on a curve in front and is closed with a row of bold white bone buttons. The wide, deep collar adds the look of width on top, so emphasized in current fashions.

Soprano Tells How to Travel

Plan your wardrobe and travel light is the advice of veteran globetrotter Licia Albanese, Metropolitan Opera soprano.

Whether she is planning a long trip or an overnight journey, Miss Albanese says, she "combines everything."

"I pick only one or two colors and use them to complement each other," said the singer. "Thus the shoes and accessories match several costumes."

★ ★ ★

If she is planning an overnight trip, she uses only one slim piece of luggage.

"It will hold all I need," she continued. "Suppose I decide to wear a brown suit. Then I take two pairs of shoes — brown suede and a pair of brown silk for dress. They match my brown and beige silk print for evening. I add my lingerie, my make-up and some jewelry. I take a small hat and carry a top coat, if necessary."

For a longer trip, she'll add a good sized pullman case — preferably one made of magnesium or some light weight metal — containing as many other clothes as she feels she will need. When, however, Miss Albanese travels to Europe by ship, her luggage expands considerably.

"On board ship I change every evening," she said. "But on arrival I leave many of my dresses at the first hotel to be picked up after my tour."

★ ★ ★

She conserves space and avoids wrinkles by lavish use of tissue paper and transparent plastic wrap — either to be used between dresses or around small hats. She also puts the wrap around shoes, gloves, flowers, jewelry and other small articles to keep them fresh. Lingerie is rolled and spaced in hollow spots around the sides of the luggage.

Maybe You Should Play the Drums

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me how we can (if at all) let our next-door neighbors know that their son who is taking trumpet lessons is driving us crazy with his incessant practicing? When the windows were closed during cold weather we couldn't hear it too much but now that the windows have to be open, it is very nerve-racking. Is there anything we can do in a polite way?"

Answer: You might open the subject by asking your neighbors if they would keep their son from practicing between, let us say, two and three o'clock, so that you can have the nap your doctor wants you to take every afternoon.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We have just built a beautiful house and whenever guests come to visit us for the first time, they ask me to show it to them—which of course I am very pleased to do. However, when we get to the kitchen, I never know what to do about introducing the cook.

"I don't think she should be introduced formally, and yet it seems some introduction should be made when she is standing right there. Will you please tell me the proper thing to say in this introduction?"

Answer: If she is busy, you don't interrupt her in what she is doing. But if she looks up, or is at leisure, you might say, "I'm bringing Mrs. Jones in to see your kitchen."

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon in church and a small reception will follow for the immediate families and nearest relatives (about twenty in all). I have been told that at a wedding of this size it would not be proper to wear bridal clothes. Will you please tell me if this is true?"

Answer: It will be entirely proper for you to wear bridal clothes at your wedding even though it is to be a small one.

Bardot's Dressmaker Turns to High Fashion

PARIS (AP) — Brigitte Bardot's dressmaker will launch himself this month as a high fashion designer.

Helped by his pretty brunette wife Zizi, Louis Feraud will open one of the two new houses of this season.

Black-haired, bronzed and handsome, with smoky grey eyes and a witty conversation, Feraud at 39 is modest about himself—"I have an ugly face." But he is boastful of his wife: "She is the best mannequin in the world, and one of the best dressmakers."

Feraud almost wound up wearing an apron. He had entered his father's bakery business at Arles when the war interrupted. During several years as a prisoner of war he learned to design clothes as a pasttime. He wasn't very serious about it until a war wound caused him to look for a less strenuous career than baking.

"I started in a dress house in Arles, then continued in another in Cannes," he explains. He came to Paris in 1952, and for five years has had his own small house on the Faubourg St. Honore. With no pretentions of belonging to the high fashion syndicate, he has dressed Brigitte Bardot for five movies.

Now that he has joined Dior, Lanvin and the rest on the fashion calendar, Feraud says he hopes to "make high fashion styles more wearable."

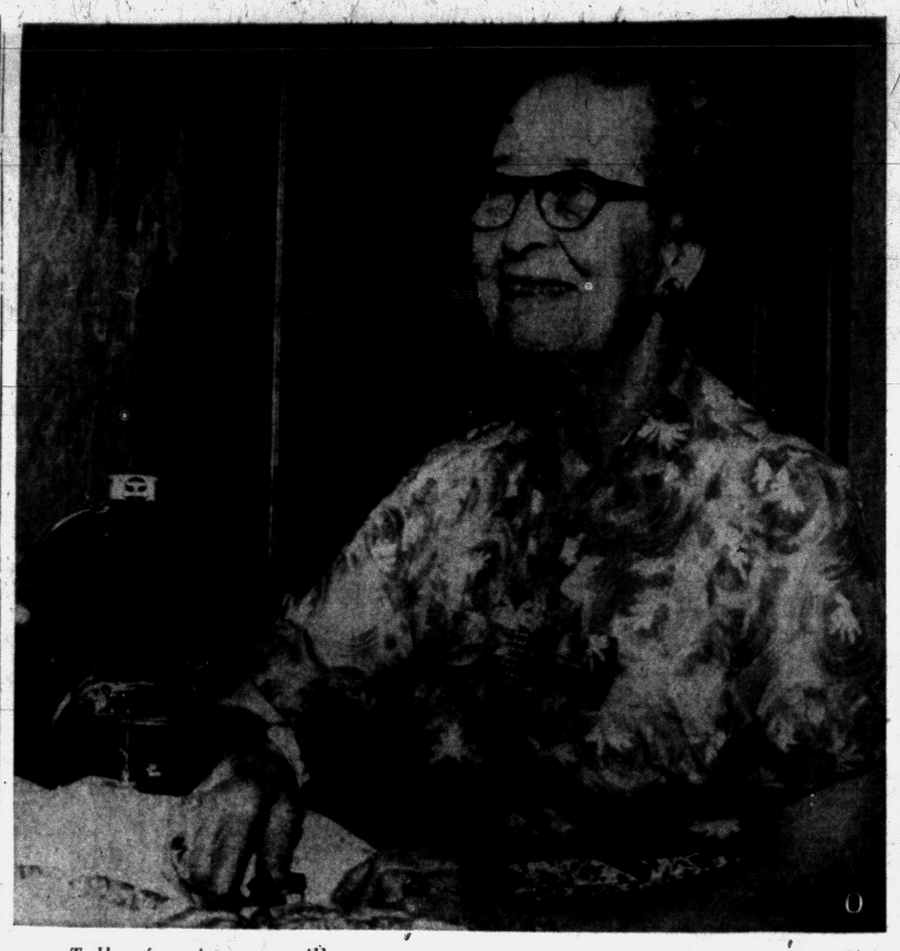

What does he think of his star client? "Bardot is not intelligent, but she has a soul as big as a house," he declares. "I told her that the other day, and she asked, 'Now what do you mean by that?' I said, 'Don't worry about the meaning, it's a compliment.'"

Feraud has had a strong influence on French fashion, for hundreds of young girls copy the pastel gingham dresses he makes for Bardot.

Black and brown are to be the big colors for autumn, he predicts, and skirts will lengthen only slightly for winter. "We're forced to the dark tones," he explains. "It's what we feel. Maybe it has something to do with world events."

The man with a heart of stone should marry a chiseler.

Talk of retirement will get you only a scoff from 81-year-old Mrs. Viola Chapel of Monroe street who has a full time job making slip covers.

Even as her picture is taken, she keeps busy at her sewing machine where she feels most at home.

81 No Age to Retire if Healthy

By MARGARET BROWN

"Life is what we make it." That's the emphatic philosophy of Mrs. Viola Chapel who at 81 is conducting a one-woman upholstery business with the aplomb of any successful firm.

And certainly no one is more entitled to that conviction than this enterprising widow who sent two of her children through college and a third through nursing school on a $20.00 a week salary after her husband's death in the early 1900's. Her eyes grew visibly misty as she told us, "The most predominant thing in my life has been to make good with my children."

As far as Mrs. Chapel is concerned, it's "ridiculous" to retire at 65 if one is in sound health. "Why, then there's nothing to do but think about yourself," she mused during an interview

"When my son finished college, he informed me I wasn't to work anymore," she said. (Mrs. Chapel had been a clerk at Waite's Department Store for many years.) "So, I gave up everything and tried living with my children," she went on, "but I just couldn't stand it. I felt like a pauper living off someone else."

Then one day Mrs. Chapel, always an adroit homemaker, made a slip cover for her daughter's divan. "After the neighbors saw it, one after another asked me to do some work for them, and pretty soon I was in business." A "business" that has been her livelihood for 22 years, we might add. "I've upholstered furniture from Flagstaff, Ariz., to Toronto, Canada," she laughed.

"This work has introduced me to many fine people," she said. "My customers always pick up me and my little sewing machine and return us home at quitting time." She explained that her work involves a lot of exercise. "I'm up and down at least 50 or 60 times as I work pinning and draping material." She can cover a davenport with three cushions in eight hours and a chair in four.

As we chatted Mrs. Chapel handed us an old hand-carved picture frame remarking, "This is something I really prize." Encased in the frame was a personal letter bearing the signature "Mamie Doud Eisenhower." When President and Mrs. Eisenhower moved to Gettysburg, thoughtful Mrs. Chapel crocheted edgings on a pair of pillow cases and sent them to the couple. The First Lady, equally thoughtful, had responded with an affectionate thank you.

By today Mrs. Chapel has arrived in northern Canada where she will stay until Sept. 1 enjoying a long awaited visit with a sister she has not seen for some 25 years and a brother she has seen " . . . for only about 20 minutes since World War I."

Before leaving this amazing woman we inquired about her plans for the future. She answered: "Well, longevity runs in my family. My grandparents lived to be over 100. I expect I'll be making slip covers for quite a while yet."

Fashionettes Pick Heads of Groups

Committee heads were appointed by president Mrs. Edwin Clover at the meeting of Fashionettes club held Tuesday evening at Adah Shelly Library.

★ ★ ★

Delegates to Pontiac Federation of Womens Clubs are Mrs. Forest McDonald and Mrs. Merle Crooks. Mrs. Bernard Stickney is in charge of kitchen detail.

Mrs. Earl Bowers won the trophy for losing the most weight during the week and Mrs. Winbert Bordeaux was last week's winner.

Chairman of the Aug. 25 fashion show is Mrs. Charles Meier. Mrs. Bruce Lemon was welcomed as a new member.

Capture Bride in Different Way Nowadays

The bridal party originated back in the marriage-by-capture days. Loyal tribesmen and close friends of the bridegroom helped him invade enemy territory to capture his bride. While he escaped with her, his friends stayed behind to fight off her relatives. Hence, our ushers and best man.

★ ★ ★

The maid - of - honor and bridesmaids can be traced directly to Saxon England. The oldest woman tended the bride before the wedding, making the bridal wreath, feast decorations and dressing the bride. Earlier, attendants protected the maiden from capture. And in Rome, they acted as witnesses to marriage.

Ring bearers and flower girls symbolized a fruitful union.

Detour Before It's Too Late—Abby

You'll Never Find a Homesite Traveling With Married Man

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an unmarried woman who is in love with a married man. He says he'd marry me tomorrow if he were free, but his wife won't give him a divorce.

ABBY

He lives at home for the sake of appearances. I know he is miserable without me. He swears that one day we will be married.

We've been seeing each other for three years. I am not satisfied with a few stolen hours but I love him too much to give him up. How can I speed up the dovorce?

TIRED OF WAITING

DEAR TIRED: When a married man says, "My wife won't give me a divorce," what he usually means is: "I want a place to light after this rocket ride is over." Most two-timing Romeos don't even ask their wives for a divorce because they really don't want one. You are heading down a dead end street. Get wise and detour while you're still young enough to travel.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: In our church we do not have a "clerical garb" for our ministers. Our pastor always looks nice in the pulpit but he is seen all over town and visiting in the hospitals in a loud sport shirt and rumpled trousers. They are not too clean, either. He is a fine man but it is embarrassing to introduce him to new friends as our pastor when he looks like he's slept in his clothes. We all love him and don't want to hurt him, but we want to be proud of him all the time. Please help us?

ONE OF THE FLOCK

DEAR ONE: A personal friend of your pastor should tell him in a kind and gentle way that a man in his respected position should be more careful of his appearance in public.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am 16 years old and crazy over a boy. He does me dirty but I don't care how dirty he does me. I will always love him. My mother and all my girl friends tell me I am crazy for liking him after he does me like he does.

One day he says he likes me and the next day he asks another girl to go steady. He does that because he knows I will take him back no matter what. Dear Abby, please give me some good advice, but please don't tell me to forget him because I can't.

LOVING HIM

DEAR LOVING: There is no help for girls who love fellows "no matter what." You remind me of the person who enjoys hitting himself over the head because it feels so good when he stops.

Simplicity is still the secret of a well-dressed woman. Even touches such as flowers must be controlled or they tend to overpower the wearer.

Shift Handbag

A revelation of the large handbag era, which is still with us, is what these heavy bags can do to our posture. Most women tend to carry a bag in the same hand day after day. But with the larger, heavier bags, it is wise to shift sides often. This avoids pulling down one shoulder and a resulting lop-sided appearance.

Kids Like a Summer Routine

By RUTH MILLETT

Unless you want summer "vacation" to leave you limp, you had better get busy and work out some kind of routine for your children to replace the routine they are used to during the school year.

Leave them with no routine at all and homelife is going to be completely disorganized and you are going to be a wreck.

Instead of letting them sleep until noon, or each one get up at a different hour wanting breakfast at a different time, set a time for getting up.

If you don't want them to start worrying about what they are going to do all day, make out a weekly list telling what chores each child is supposed to do each day, to use up some of their excess time and energy.

In addition to taking care of their own rooms, they can pitch in and do any number of jobs that you have done through the school year.

They can lend a hand with the yard work, window washing, floor waxing, garage cleaning, etc. And they'll do it without argument if you let them know ahead what you expect them to do and make it clear that the work must be done before they have the neighborhood kids over for a game of baseball, or take off for the swimming pool.

Three months is far too long a time for children who are used to the routine of school to live with no routine at all.

They will be happier, and so will you, if you work out some kind of daily routine for them to follow.

Let children do exactly as they please, day after day, and pretty soon nothing please them.

Ohio Woman Creates Dolls Out of Apples

Apples, regarded by most people as something to eat, are personalities to Mrs. Harold Schell of Huron, Ohio.

While others are munching, Mrs. Schell uses her talented fingers to shape apples into doll likenesses of neighbors or famous personalities. Thus far, she has created 24 dolls, including a barbershop quartet, a newsboy, a doctor, and a couple in nightshirts.

Mrs. Schell dries the apples over heat for a couple of days, then pinches, pokes and molds them into the desired shapes. Apple seeds are painted and used as eyes. Seed pearls are used as teeth, and glasses are made of wire.

Expert Gives Reason for Working Women

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Why do many women continue to work after marriage?

Dr. Kate H. Mueller, Indiana University specialist in the counseling of college women, says it's to help finance the long and expensive American weekend, among other things.

★ ★ ★

Weekend trips, the new car, entertaining, clubs, and all the luxury paraphernalia associated with the pace of modern life make that second check necessary for young people," she said in address here Tuesday.

The Girl Scouts are affiliated with the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts which has 44 member countries.

Dressing Ups the Calories

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

When August rolls around many women are going to wonder why their summer salads and salad luncheons failed to accomplish their mission.

Most women feel that summer is a good time to reduce since less energy is required and the appetite is not so whetted by cold weather. They leave off many of the richer foods.

With an eye on their figure as well as on the weather they eat salads in great quantity. Therefore by now many are puzzled as to why the bulges have not lessened or the waistline of their favorite sheathe not loosened. It wasn't the salads but the dressing you put on them!

One maitred d'hote of a leading New York hotel estimates that an average salad serving is treated with about four tablespoons of dressing. An oil-based dressing has from 60 to 100 calories per tablespoonful. Count it up for yourself.

Salads are wonderful for health because of their vitamin and mineral content. They are splendid on reducing menus for this reason as well as because of the bulk they supply and their low-calorie content, but they can be calorie traps because of the dressing.

I have often given you menus for low-calorie dressings and I have mentioned before that there are good ones available in the markets. I was amazed recently to learn that there is one very pleasant one which has only one calorie to a tablespoon!

So, stick to your salads! Use your inventiveness in creating lovely ones. This is the season when fruits and vegetables are so varied and luxurious. The flowerettes of cauliflower, the crisp leaves of raw spinach, the crunchiness of Chinese cabbage and cucumber slices have a bouquet their own. If you wish to make a salad a bit more sustaining, add slices of chicken and cheese.

Some cooks feel that you cannot cook delightful food withut using much fat and lots of butter. Actually this is not true, and the reducer must remember that the manner in which food is prepared and seasoned makes all the difference in its calorie count.

As an example, fish cooked with white wine and lemon juice has a wonderful flavor. Fish or chicken broiled or poached has a piquant taste when treated to a little soy sauce dressing, and don't forget that herbs are a girl's best friend when she is planning slimming menus which please the taste buds as well as improve the silhouette.

A watchful attitude toward the "trimmings" and the preparation of food is the trick when you have a lot of weight to lose. If you have only a few pounds, you may want my 9-Day Reducing Booklet which gives you a loss of from 5 to 10 pounds in 9 days.

Send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the 9-Day Diet booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

To Punish Leaders in Prison Mine Riot

PETROS, Tenn. (AP) — Convicts who seized three guards and stayed for 32 hours in a Brushy Mountain State Prison coal mine will return to the mine today. Only their eight ringleaders will be punished.

Lack of discipline for the other 86 white and Negro convicts was decided on Wednesday after A. Pat Patterson, assistant state corrections commissioner, heard the prisoners air grievances individually.

The eight ringleaders already had been transferred to the maximum security section of the state penitentiary in Nashville.

The rebels ended their strike Tuesday afternoon and released their hostages unharmed.

Mrs. Roosevelt Raps De Sapio in Italian

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt made what she said was her first public talk in Italian yesterday—a local radio interview opposing Tammany leader Carmine De Sapio.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she had learned the language in school in England as a girl. Arnold Hartley, vice president of the Italian-language station WOV, said her delivery was "grammatically perfect Italian but, like Mrs. Roosevelt's French, delivered in unmistakable American accents."

Sleep Restores Nikita's Vigor

Shows No Signs of Earlier Weariness as He Dispels War Threat

SOSNOWIEC, Poland (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today pledged that the Soviet Union would never start a war against anyone, anywhere at any time.

He told a cheering throng of delegates at a meeting of miners unions in this Silesian industrial town: "I give you our solemn pledge that never, never, never shall we launch any war against any country anywhere at any time."

He said he did not believe capitalist countries would start war either but claimed that was because the "balance of forces" is now overwhelmingly in favor of the Communists.

Khrushchev appeared dynamic and reinvigorated. All signs of weariness that marked his appearance during the first two days of his tour of Poland had disappeared after a night's sleep. He is 66.

Khrushchev spoke without either text or notes in an impromptu address after he canceled a scheduled visit to the Nazi extermination camp at Oswiecim.

"The next war will mean calamity for all humanity," he said, and added he thought capitalists realized this too.

Khrushchev began in conversational tone, discussing his own days as a miner. He could scarcely be heard, but when he said: "Now comrades we come to international affairs," it was as though a charge of electricity ran through him.

Reds to Build a Showpiece

East Germany In for Boom

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The Soviet Union's main political aim in Europe now is becoming clear. It is to set up East Germany as a showpiece Communist state and Moscow's strongest continental ally by 1961.

The Soviets seem determined to obtain by 1961 a settlement dividing Germany indefinitely or reuniting the country but neutralizing it. That apparently is the significance of Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's proposal that the situation in Berlin be frozen by 18 months while a committee of West and East Germans negotiate on reunification.

It is the considered Allied view that Soviet aid meanwhile will boost East German military and economic power in an effort to offset (1) any Allied moves to train and equip West German forces with nuclear weapons and (2) the attraction and power of the booming West German economy.

★ ★ ★

One big problem the Reds have been unable so far to solve is the possibility of an anti-Communist upheaval among the 17 million East Germans.

Ever-haunting fear of uprising lies behind the current Soviet effort to squeeze the Allies out of West Berlin. If Moscow were to succeed, the Reds would have a clear field in which to cancel the magnet which West Berlin is for untold numbers of grumblers and discontended in East Germany.

Allied diplomats have reached these conclusions after close study of Soviet strategy and plans at the foreign ministers' talks here and Soviet actions elsewhere.

Housing Bill Back in Senate After Veto

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate Banking subcommittee starts hearings July 23 on President Eisenhower's veto of the omnibus housing bill.

Eisenhower called the bill extravagant and inflationary when he vetoed it last week.

★ ★ ★

Subcommittee Chairman John J. Sparkman (D-Ala) said he will call as witnesses representatives of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. They will be asked to go over the bill "line by line and to make crystal clear exactly what the President objects to and the reasons for his objections," Sparkman said.

★ ★ ★

After the hearings, Sparkman said, he hopes the subcommittee can determine whether to recommend an attempt to override the President's veto or whether to modify the bill somewhat.

Sparkman called Eisenhower's veto message "not worthy of the place it will take in the official papers of the United States." He added that the veto was "filled with innuendo, half-truths, error by commission and omission."

Have Fun With Novel Popcorn Treats

Bring the space age into the kitchen for the next small-fry party. Here are some recipes and party ideas that are clear out of this world.

Let the youngsters blast off with outer-space sandwiches which combine popcorn, marshmallows, chocolate bits and nuts. They supply the quick energy to put Junior into orbit.

★ ★ ★

There are also satellite sundaes—ice cream served in flying saucers made of popcorn. And, finally, the rocket ship galley provides sputnik poppers—popcorn spheres with candy stick antennae. They serve as party decorations which are eaten before the little guests return to earth. For ease and speed, jars of popcorn-in-oil are recommended.

So stand back, while we blast-off with our space-age party. Ten, nine, eight . . .

Outer-Space Sandwiches

1 9-oz. jar popcorn-in-oil
2 cups miniature marshmallows
1 cup semi-sweet chocolate bits
½ cup salted peanuts or chopped nuts
4 cups light corn syrup
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons salt

Prepare popcorn-in-oil as directed on jar. For easier mixing, prepare the "sandwich" mixture in two batches by placing half the popcorn, marshmallows, chocolate bits and nuts in one big bowl; half in another big bowl.

In a large saucepan, combine remaining ingredients and cook, stirring frequently, until a little of the syrup forms a hard ball in a glass of cold water. Pour about half of syrup over one bowl of popcorn mixture and toss until coated.

Quick-turn popcorn mixture into a greased oblong pan (13"x 9"x2") and use greased hands to press firm and level; mixture must be very firm and compact for cutting. Repeat procedure with remaining popcorn mixture and syrup. When cool, loosen oblongs and turn out on cutting board.

Cut each oblong in half lengthwise, then cut each half into 6 pieces. Make sandwiches by putting 2 pieces together with favorite filling such as peanut butter, jelly, cream cheese, etc. Makes 24 generous sandwiches.

Satellite Sundae

½ 9-oz. jar popcorn-in-oil
1 cup molasses
1 cup corn syrup
1 tablespoon vinegar
Ice cream

Prepare popcorn-in-oil as directed on jar. Turn into large bowl. In a large saucepan, combine and cook remaining ingredients. Cook, stirring several times, until a little of the mixture becomes brittle when dropped in cold water (270 degrees on candy thermometer). Pour over popcorn, tossing until well coated.

★ ★ ★

Quickly press handfuls of the popcorn mixture into greased plates, or individual baking dishes, and use buttered hands to shape and press to dish. Let harden and cool, then loosen and slide out. To serve, place a generous ball of ice cream on each popcorn dish. Makes 6-8 popcorn dishes depending on size plate used for shaping.

★ ★ ★

Sputnik Poppers

2 9-oz. jars popcorn-in-oil
2 cups granulated sugar
1½ cups hot water
1 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla (optional)
Stick candy or colored straws

Prepare pipcorn-in-oil as directed on jar. In large saucepan over low heat, melt granulated sugar, stirring constantly. When sugar turns gold add hot water in a very thin stream, stirring constantly with long-handled spoon. When granulated sugar is dissolved, stir in brown sugar. Cook until a little of the syrup forms a soft ball in glass of cold water. Stir in butter or margarine and vanilla.

Fill a big bowl or large pan with popcorn and pour about ⅓ of the sugar syrup over it. Toss until well-coated. Transfer at once into a greased bowl. With greased hands, press popcorn very firmly so that it takes shape of bowl. Remove popcorn from bowl and you have a half-sphere. Repeat in same bowl with more popcorn and syrup to make other half of sphere.

Spoon a little hot syrup over the flat sides of both halves and press firmly together to make one big round. Complete your "sputnik" by dipping ends of candy sticks in syrup and pushing them at intervals into the popcorn round. Use thread or fine piano wire to encircle and suspend "sputnik" as decoration. There is enough popcorn and syrup left to make a smaller sputnik (in a smaller bowl) plus a little extra for nibbling while you work.

Try Vegetables in Marinade

You'll enjoy these ways of serving garden vegetables in salads or as appetizers:

Pickled Green Beans Espagnole

Whole green beans which have been marinated in a piquant sauce of olive oil and tarragon vinegar are attractive for a salad or an hors d'oeuvres offering. Cover cooked tender young whole green beans with the following mixture: ¾ cup tarragon vinegar, 3 tablespoons Spanish olive oil, 1½ tablespoons sugar, 1½ tablespoons salt and ½ teaspoon freshly ground pepper.

★ ★ ★

To serve, drain beans, arrange bundles of the beans inside rings of thinly sliced sweet onion, then place bundles on crisp salad greens, allowing 1 bundle of beans for each serving. (Canned green beans can be used.)

★ ★ ★

Marinated Cucumber Cubes

Cut peeled cucumbers in small chunks, marinate in olive oil and salt for at least an hour, then roll in finely minced parsley. Serve on toothpicks as an hors d'oeuvres.

★ ★ ★

Pimentos Emillio

The Spanish frequently serve green or red peppers dressed simply with olive oil and salt. Place seeded raw peppers on a shallow pan, cover with olive oil and bake in moderate oven until tender, sprinkling with salt before serving.

To Go With Curries

What accompaniments for chicken, lamb or shrimp curry? We suggest finely-ground peanuts, French-fried onions, chopped plumped raisins, sliced banana, minced gren pepper and freshly-grated coconut for an elegant offering.

SPACE AGE POPCORN — Outer space is no further than the closest youngster's imagination, or the kitchen range. You can put any group of youngsters into orbit around a refreshment table by serving outer-space sandwiches and satellite sundaes. Sputnik poppers add an out-of-this-world touch. For rocket-speed preparation, jars of popcorn-in-oil are recommended.

Coffee Flavors Dieters' Parfait

It's not often that dieters can enjoy lovely, sweet dessert—complete with whipped cream — and know that they're still within their calorie limit. Well, here's a confection that's both low in calories and truly delicious.

★ ★ ★

It's Vanilla Coffee Jelly Parfait, a heavenly dessert with a deep down coffee-vanilla flavor. When it's served with tiny cups of demitasse coffee (no cream, please!), you have a combination that everyone, including those lucky non-dieters, will simply adore.

Vanilla Coffee Jelly Parfait

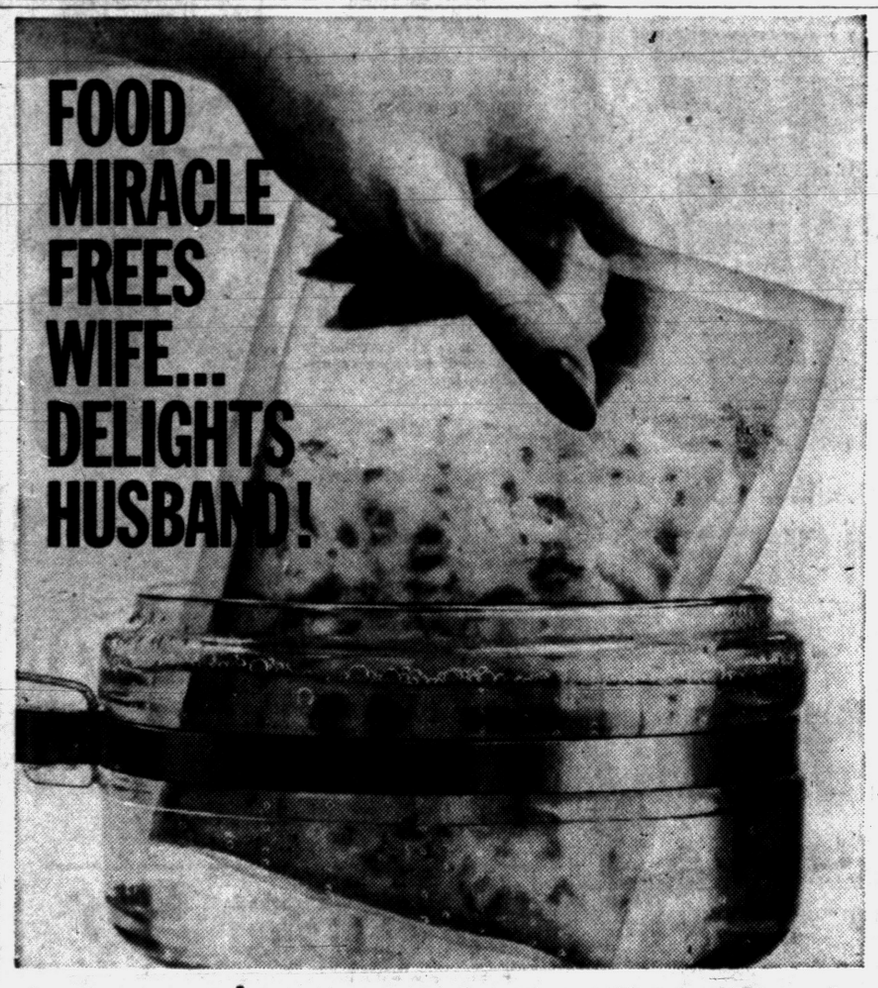

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold strong coffee
2 cups hot strong coffee
½ cup sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 package dessert topping, whipped

Soften gelatine in cold coffee; dissolve in hot coffee. Add sugar; stir until dissolved. Cool and add vanilla. Chill until slightly thickened. Reserve enough whipped topping for garnish.

★ ★ ★

Fold remainder into thickened coffee jelly until a marbled effect is obtained. Spoon into parfait glasses. Garnish with reserve topping. Makes 4 to 6 servings, depending on size of glasses.

Rocky Marciano's plans for a comeback are a big joke. Now a pudgy 36-years, Rocky has to shed about 30 pounds and needs a year to do it.

This would make him another year older and could be as poor a venture as Joe Louis' comeback.

Right now the heavyweight division has a real champion. We had all our money on Ingemar Johansson when he battered Floyd Patterson. We would do it again in the rematch, and even more so if Marciano became the challenger.

Patterson ought to stay in the light heavy class where he really belongs and Marciano should stay in retirement.

THOSE TEMPERAMENTAL GOLF PROS

Many golf pros have been hit with fines in recent tournaments on the state and national level for various reasons, especially for picking up and withdrawing.

During the recent National Open in Mamaroneck, N. Y., the little pro from South Africa, Gary Player, said he thought it was "bad form" to pick up.

He was especially referring to the golfers who did this during the Open but he also considered it a slur to the dignity of pro golf for doing it out of temperament in any tournament.

"I'd never withdraw for any simple or temperamental reason," Player remarked.

If anyone had reason to withdraw during the Open because of the extra day, it was Player. He had plane reservations to England to join his wife and two month old son whom he had never seen.

He was already out of the picture in the Open but he delayed his trip after rain forced an extra day's play.

Pontiac Golfer Lone Michigan Entry in Field

Police Officer Gains Third Round After Two Victories Yesterday

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

DENVER—Wally Smith of Pontiac was one of 16 survivors who moved into the third round of the National Public Links Championship being held in Denver.

The 43-year-old Royal Oak policeman scored a pair of match victories yesterday and was the lone Michigan entry remaining today after two other state publinx players were eliminated.

Defending champion Dan Sikes Jr. of Jacksonville, Fla., led the remaining field but he had to squeeze by two opponents yesterday.

Sikes, failing to play the brand of golf which won him tourney medal honors earlier in the week, edged Al Benefield of Denver 1-up and Marshall Strauss of Highland, Ill., 2 and 1.

His opponent today was Leonard Pietras of Toledo, Ohio.

Smith, who defeated Bob Menary of Northbrook, Ill., 1-up on the 19th hole in his first match, had an easier time of it in the afternoon. He defeated Manuel Quiroz of Tucson, Ariz., 4 and 3.

Today he met Bill Wright of Seattle in the morning.

Other third round tests over the 5,617-yard, par-71 Wellshire Municipal Course sent William McCool of San Francisco against Hugh Farmer of Toledo; Jack Zimmerman of Dayton, Ohio, against Gene Towry of Dallas; Cliff Brown of Cleveland against Frank Campbell of Jacksonville, Fla.; Bill Tindall of Seattle against Don Kristofitz of Fargo, N.D., and Ray Massey of Miami against Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta, Ga.

In his morning match yesterday, Smith was 3-over and 1-down after the front nine, but rallied with a 4-under 32 on the back.

He evened the match with a birdie-3 on 17 and won it on the first extra hole with a drive in the rough, recovery iron to the fairway, short wedge to within 4 feet and the putt for a birdie-4. Menary missed a 6-foot birdie putt.

In beating Quiroz in the afternoon, Smith was even par for his best round thus far. He won six straight holes, 7 through 12 to go 5-up and get control.

★ ★ ★

Other Michigan results yesterday saw Veikko Juhola of Clawson defeat Manual Paolos of Bethlehem, Pa., 3 and 2 in the morning, and then lose to Massey 1-up.

Ed Briegel of Ann Arbor bowed to Jack Omuro of Honolulu 1-up in 19 holes in the morning round.

Sharon Miller Leads State Amateurs

18-Year-Old Upsets Sally

JACKSON — Little Sharon Miller is threatening to take the field apart in the Michigan women's amateur golf tournament.

Marshall's 18-year-old redhead, barely out of high school, ran away from defending champion Sally Sharp of Birmingham in yesterday's quarterfinals 6 and 5 for her second big upset victory.

★ ★ ★

BEATS SALLY—Sharon Miller, 18-year old golf star from Marshall, Michigan, scored a 6 and 5 victory over Sally Sharp, defending champion from Birmingham, in the Women's state amateur golf tournament at Jackson yesterday.

In today's semifinals Sharon, a root beer stand carhop at home, faces Mrs. Lewis Goddard of Detroit, housewife who has two children in college and a daughter the same age as Sharon.

On the eve of their meeting, Mrs. Goddard quipped: "It will be like a mother and daughter match."

★ ★ ★

Sharon shot a one over par 37 on the first nine, going 4 up at that point in ultimately crushing Miss Sharp. Mrs. Goddard defeated Mrs. Edgar Reynolds of Lansing in 21 holes

In today's other semifinal, Mrs. C. U. Wilson of Ann Arbor met Mrs. Dwight Anneaux of St. Joseph. Mrs. Wilson won from Mrs. Harold Marquardt of Mount Clemens 4 and 2. Mrs. Anneaux defeated Mrs. Samuel Gawne of Bloomfield Hills 2 and 1. Mrs. Wilson, 1951 champion, is the only surviving former state titlist.

The Goddard-Reynolds match was the tightest of the tourney to date. Mrs. Goddard, who trailed three times, caught up once with the help of a 50-foot chip shot on the 14th.

★ ★ ★

The two were even at 18 and through the first two extra holes. On the 21st, however, Mrs. Goddard settled matters with a par 3.

But Sharon stole the show again.

The pert youngster upset favored Mrs. Keith Leclair of Ann Arbor, 2 up, in her first match.

Against Miss Sharp, she was even better. Sharon was just two over par for the 13 holes. She was four strokes better than the field. Against Mrs. LeClair she was four over par.

After being even with Miss Sharp on the first two holes, Sharon won five of the next seven. She had a string of pars and a birdie deuce. She lost the 10th to Sally's birdie but closed off the match with pars on the next two holes.

6th Ace at Silver Lake

Silver Lake Golf Club has reported its 6th hole-in-one of the season. The happy golfer is Pontiac's Tony Oliseck, who used an 8-iron to ace the 120-yard 8th hole. Witnesses were his brother, Steve Oliseck, and Steve Keller and Rich Keller. Tony finished the nine-hole round with a 42.

Tigers Drop Another Notch to 6th

Killebrew Raps 31st Homer in Nats' 3-0 Win

Senator Slugger Ahead of Babe Ruth's Pace for Home Runs

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Detroit Tigers are struggling to avert disaster in the wake of their second straight loss to the Washington Senators, 3-0 in a rain-abbreviated five-inning game last night.

The shutout dropped the Bengals into sixth place in the American League.

Homer-hitting Harmon Killebrew smashed his 31st round tripper in the first inning, enough to win the game, as the Tigers succumbed for the 10th time in 12 games since they went into reverse gear.

Helpless before Camilio Pascual, the Tigers got only one hit, a single by Gus Zernial in the fifth inning after the Cuban curveballer had retired 14 men in a row.

Ted Lepcio led off the sixth with a double but heavy rain stopped play shortly thereafter.

The Killebrew homer, which put him ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 rate when Babe hit his record 60 circuit blows, was the 25th of the year off Jim Bunning. The Tiger righthander, losing his seventh game against eight victories, allowed seven blows in the brief battle, including three doubles.

The teams conclude the series with a third night game tonight. Ray Narleski, (4-9) is expected to draw Detroit's pitching assignment against the Senators' Bill Fischer (7-3).

★ ★ ★

Last night's loss dropped the Tigers eight full games off the league pace.

The fact that seventh-place Boston has been coming strong lately makes Detroit's sixth place precarious. Unless they get going again, the Tigers could go home next to last. Four games remain of the road trip. It ends with a three-game set at Baltimore.

The homer by Killebrew, a smash into the left centerfield stands with the bags empty, came in Washington's 85th game of the season. When Ruth set his record, he did not hit his 31st until the New York Yankees' 94th game.

For Bunning it was the 25th homer off him in 22 games. Jim's gopher ball set a Detroit record last year when he allowed 33 homers for the full season.

Rookie Bob Allison's two doubles accounted for the two other Washington scores.

In the third inning Allison doubled home Ken Aspromonte, who also had doubled. In the fifth he doubled home Pascual, who had singled.

TAMING THE TIGERS — Camilo Pascual, Washington curve ball artist, is shown taming the Tigers 3-0 last night on a one hit performance for five innings. It was his 10th win of the season. The game was played in rain and eventually called after a wait of more than an hour. At left, Camilo gets a sign from catcher Hal Naragon and then takes his stretch and follows through with his pitch. The loss shoved the Tigers into 6th place.

Coaching Father Sees Record for Swim Ace

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — A proud father, who's also an astute swimming coach, predicts his 17-year-old daughter can break the world record for the 1,500 meter and mile swim tonight.

He is Weikko L. (Finn) Ruuska. His daughter, Sylvia, has bettered 19 American records at varying distances and stroke and 10 world marks, some of them still pending official approval.

Tonight blonde Sylvia defends her mile title in the opening event of the National AAU women's swim meet in this northern California community. No one doubts she'll do it. The only question seems to be how fast she will swim the distance.

Coach Ruuska, who has charge of the Berkeley YMCA team, a group of girls if you will, says:

"Sylvia is capable of swimming 1,500 meters in under 20 minutes."

The world record for the event is 20:03.1 by a Hollander, J. Koster. Should Sylvia surpass this, she'd also set a record for the comparable 1,650 yards and the slightly longer mile distance.

"Conditions here are ideal," said Ruuska in surveying the Redding pool, a 55-yard outdoor layout. "The water is fast because there are solid lanes so no wash from opposing swimmers and the pool with the water at 72 degrees will be flooded to the brim.

"Sylvia is in good condition and ready for her best effort."

The race will be timed officially at 1,500 meters as well as at the mile finish.

★ ★ ★

Sylvia holds the official American record at 21:26.4 but the best time for the National AAU meet is 22:13.6 by Carolin Murray of Los Angeles two years ago.

The mile freestyle, only event on tonight's program, will be conducted in heats with final results judged on times recorded in the heats.

Twenty girls are listed for the mile with a total of 145 entered for the four-evening meet.

On the program Friday are the one-meter diving, 110-yard freestyle, 220-yard breast stroke, 220-yard backstroke and 440-yard individual medley.

Rec Department Slates Archery Program at PNH

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department is promoting an archery program at Pontiac Northern High School on Tuesday and Thursday evenings starting at 7:00 p.m. for boys and girls 15 years of age and up and adults.

This program will start July 21, and is open to all interested parties wishing to learn how to shoot or to develop their present skills.

Archery equipment including bows, arrows, finger tabs, and arm guards is available for those who require it.

This program will combine both instruction and competition for all those who register at Pontiac Northern High School Recreation Program. Those interested should see Eldon Johnson or Richard Hall. There is no charge for this program.

Tough Foe for Mexican

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mauro Vazquez, a boxoffice favorite from Mexico, faces a stiff test tonight when he fights Paulie Armstead of Los Angeles in a 10-round bout at the Olympic Auditorium.

Boros Leads Tiger Farm Hitters

DETROIT (AP) — Steve Boros is making a strong bid to return to the Detroit Tigers in the unfamiliar role of outfielder.

The Flint resident and ex-Michigan shortstop, who joined the Tigers two years ago as a bonus third baseman, is hitting a handsome .329 for Detroit's Birmingham farm club.

Manager Skeeter Newsome switched Boros to the outfield this season because the Barons were overloaded with infielders. Newsome explained Boros made the move because he has great ability to play anywhere.

Boros gave the Barons the hardest hitting outfield in the Southern Assn. Birmingham won the Double A league's first half pennant and is ahead in the second half. Boros' outfield mates are George Thomas, hitting .280, and George Alusik, hitting .320.

Like Boros, both Thomas and Alusik have had brief flings with the parent Tigers in seasons past, but needed additional seasoning.

Phil Regan and Dave Reed, both Michigan residents, have winning records of Birmingham's pitching staff. Regan, of Wayland, is 5-2. Reed, of Battle Creek, is 4-1.

The only other Tiger Farm affiliate in first place is Montgomery of the Class D Alabama-Florida league. Montgomery's top pitcher is Ron Falkenhagen of Mount Clemens with a 12-4 record.

The Tiger's top farm club—Charleston of the Triple A American Assn.—is in fifth place after winning a pennant last year. Charley Lau of Romulus, who started the season with Detroit, is hitting .277 with the Senators. Tom Yewcis, the old Michigan State quarterback, is hitting .216 with Charleston.

Four of Charleston's pitchers are from Michigan. None has a winning record. Jim Stump of Lansing is 5-9. Bob Bruce of Detroit is 5-8. Hank Aguirre of Dearborn is 2-4. Jerry Davie of Garden City is 1-3.

Both Aguirre and Davie are familiar figures at Briggs Stadium, spending much of this season with the Tigers.

Sawchuk Signs Wing Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Terry Sawchuk, Detroit Red Wing goalie and six times a member of the National Hockey League's all-star team, was signed to a new contract yesterday.

Sawchuk, who holds the NHL record of 76 shutouts, begins his 10th season in the league and his eighth as a Red Wing. The 1959-60 campaign will be his third with Detroit since returning after two seasons with the Boston Bruins.

Terms of his new contract were not disclosed.

The Red Wing veteran began his NHL career with Detroit in 1950 when he was named league rookie of the year. He has three times won the Vezina Trophy for fewest goals allowed.

Stadium Tops Elks to Near League Lead

Stadium Inn moved within half a game of front-running Sno-Bol last night in the City Softball League's American division race with a 6-2 victory over Elks No. 810 at Beaudette Park.

Jake Mazur hurled five-hit ball for Stadium, which utilized four timely hits and four Elk errors to defeat Gary Boe who struck out 14 batters.

Roger Reynolds outpitched Chuck Long as Casa Mia whipped Den's & Herk's, 3-1. Reid's two-run double in the 7th inning broke a 1-1 tie and won the game for Casa Mia. Reynolds fanned 11 and gave up two hits while Long allowed five.

In the only contest at Northside Park, Griff's Grill walloped Rogers Electric, 9-2. Tony Pfeiffer homered for Griff's and Don Plumb twirled a four-hitter.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Putting jitters.

DIAGNOSIS: Mental problem.

TREATMENT: Since golf began, no doubt, golfers have been trying to blame their mistakes on everything but themselves. "Somebody talked (or coughed) just at the time I was hitting a putt," is a frequent complaint.

Many golfers are overly sensitive to outside noises or movements when they are putting. Some, in fact, are just plain nuts on the subject.

The indicated cure here, if you are this type, is to put everything out of your mind except MAKING THE PUTT. Really concentrate on the problem at hand. Never be guilty of looking for an excuse in case you miss a short one.

This may seem hard to do. But if playing professionals can putt—and play other shots, too, for that matter—while crowds are cheering other players quite audibly on other parts of the course, surely the average player doesn't have to be unduly disturbed by a coughing caddy or some other minor noise.

It reported to the joint board of park commissioners appointed by Gov. Price Daniel to consider establishment and supervision of a proposed big league stadium in the Dallas-Tarrant (Fort Worth) County area.

Beverly Hanson Shoots Course Mark in Tuneup

ALLIANCE, Ohio (AP)—Ninety-three of the nation's finest female golfers tee off today for the start of the 72 hole International Open Golf Tournament. Beverly Hanson, who shattered the Alliance Country Club course record in a tuneup yesterday, predicted 283 strokes would win the title.

The blonde Miss Hanson, a touring professional from Indio, Calif., was rated one of the top contenders after firing a two-under par 69 over the 6,253-yard course. It was five strokes better than the former record by Mrs. Zella Bradshaw of the host club.

Mrs. Cova Is WMGA Victor at Pontiac CC

After three straight weekly triumphs in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association, Mrs. Joseph Koss gave up her honors yesterday at Pontiac Country Club following a stiff battle with Mrs. Midge Cova.

Mrs. Koss and Mrs. Cova finished the regulation 18 holes in a tie at 83 with identical scores of 40-43. Then the two ladies waged a sudden-death playoff that went six holes before Mrs. Cova finally won the tournament, her 1st WMGA victory of the year.

They matched pars for five extra holes, then Mrs. Cova gained the decision on the 6th green with another par as Mrs. Koss slipped to a bogey. Mrs. C. L. Zahm took 3rd place in the tourney with 43-42—85.

Seek Pan-Am Talent

Majors Eye Latin Crop

CHICAGO (AP) — Latin-American baseball players today dot numerous major league baseball hosters, and a new crop or rookies may be harvested during the Pan-American Games.

When the call to "play ball" is announced Aug. 28 at Comiskey Park, major league scouts will have their eyes on possible prospects. Wrigley Field also will be a gamesite.

Top amateur talent of eight nations are entered in the baseball competition of the games scheduled Aug. 27 to Sept. 7.

In the 1951 games at Buenos Aires, Cuba won the title; at Mexico City in 1955, it was the Dominican Republic.

The United States team placed second both times.

The roster for the U.S. team for the 1959 games will be decided by the U.S. Olympic baseball committee with college coaches and leading amateur baseball men making recommendations.

Nations indicating they will field teams during the games in Chicago are Columbia, Costa Rica, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and the United States.

★ ★ ★

If eight or more teams enter, they will be divided into two groups. Each plays a single round-robin schedule with each team meeting the other team in its group once. The two top teams in each group then move into round-robin final.

Agree on Driving Plan

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Indianapolis Motor Speedway and the United States Auto Club agreed on a plan Wednesday to have a week of supervised rookie test driving at the big track this summer.

Officials said the driving period will be the first or second week of August. Harlan Fengler, the speedway's chief steward, will be in charge.

Mid-season championships, featuring 15 events, will be held by the quarter mile midget racers Sunday afternoon at the Miracle Mile track, Telegraph and Square Lake roads.

A total of $600 in trophies, donated by the Chrysler Corporation, will be awarded to the champions in the various age groups.

The membership of the Wolverine Race Club for children between four and 15 includes 85 midget cars and 115 drivers. More than 40 per cent of the young drivers hail from the Pontiac area.

The club, a non-profit organization, uses the quarter-mile track Sunday afternoons with time trials at 1:30 p.m. and races at 3:00 p.m.

The younger classes of midget drivers hit speeds around 15 to 25 m.p.h. and the older drivers reach speeds of 25-30 m.p.h.

Some of the favorites for the mid-season championship trophies are Jim Briney of Pontiac in the 12-13 age group; Larry Zelula of Warren in the 13-15 age group, Larry Joe Wallace of Waterford in the 7-9 age group and John Buckboro of Pontiac in the 9-11 age group.

At 2:45 p.m. prior to the start of the races, the midgets between four and six years of age will put on an exhibition. They also compete in the 14th race at 4:45 p.m.

There is no admission or parking charge for spectators. Funds are raised to maintain the track by the sale of programs.

Chuck Honchell outpitched Bob Diamond in another dazzling mound duel as the Pontiac Boys Club nipped Lytell & Colegrove, 1-0. Honchell tripled to open the 3rd inning and scored the game's only run on a sacrifice fly by Joe Gonzales. Honchell allowed five hits, Diamond four.

Detroit's Gail V and VI, Seattle's Thriftway and Thriftway Too, Pay'N Save, Burien, Miss Wahoo, Kol-Roy and Kol-Roy Too and Tacoma's Coral Reef were expected to pull in before nightfall.

Also on hand yesterday were Miss U.S.I. of Detroit, Miss Spokane of nearby Spokane, Wash., Dollar Bill of California and Nitrogen of Delaware.

Hawaii Kai and Miss Buffalo are expected tomorrow.

Green's Single Nets Eagles 7-6 Triumph

Del Green's 6th-inning single scored John Saum from 2nd base and brought the Eagles a 7-6 verdict over the Waterford Merchants in a Waterford League softball game last night at Drayton Plains.

The Merchants outhit the Eagles, 5 to 2, but the winners took full advantage of eight walks and eight errors. Jerry Caldwell was the winning pitcher.

★ ★ ★

Dobski's Bar was outhit by a 10-4 margin, but overcame a 4-0 deficit with the help of a dozen walks to defeat Lotus Lake, 10-8. Dobski hurler Ralph Long aided his own cause with two hits. Dobski's scored the two decisive runs in the 6th without benefit of a hit.

State Net Doubles Teams Do Well

CHICAGO (AP) — Doubles teams from Michigan starred in the National Cly Courts Tennis championships yesterday, offsetting in part defeats in singles play.

★ ★ ★

Other than the setback of Susan Hodgman of Kalamazoo in women's singles and the gerat Peruvian Alex Olmedo's singles victory over Gordon Fleming of Flint, Michigan did well indeed.

★ ★ ★

Wolverine entries won twice in men's doubles and once in the women's doubles, with Susan filling a role in the latter.

★ ★ ★

Susan was winning her greatest honor at about the same time. She was named to the Junior Wightman Cup tennis squad. She thus became a possibility for selection to the U. S. Wightman Cup team that meets Great Britain.

★ ★ ★

In the competition here, Susan paired with Nancy O'Connell of Highland Park, Ill., in a first round doubles victory over Bonnie Barnes of Dayton, Ohio, and Ann Carlier of England, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Susan lost in the second round of singles to Janet Hopps of Seattle, 6-8, 6-3, 6-3.

The Michigan men's doubles victories were in the second round of play.

★ ★ ★

Rudy Hernando of Detroit and Don Russell of Australia won from Ramsey Earnhart of Ventura, Calif., and Paul Palmer of Phoenix, Ariz., 4-6, 6-4, 6-2.

★ ★ ★

Les Dodson of Ann Arbor and David Nelson of Skokie, Ill., defeated John Skogstad of Miami, Fla., and John Powless of Flora, Ill., 3-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Fleming's loss to Olmedo was in straight love sets, 6-0, 6-0.

★ ★ ★

Former University of Michigan player Barry Mackay, No. 2 singles seed behind Olmedo, also had arrived late from Europe, but he advanced only one round yesterday in his initial day here before 19-year-old Larry Nagler of North Hollywood, Calif., upset him 6-4, 6-2.

★ ★ ★

Nagler moved into the round of 16 with a victory over Ron Fisher, Houston, 6-4, 6-4.

★ ★ ★

Nagler moved into the round of fensive style and unending patience to win the tournament in suburban River Forest in 1954 and 1958, brushed aside Mike Green of Miami, 6-2, 6-3. Tut, a 31-year-old sporting goods representative from Dallas, is seeded third.

Art Andrews, 21, former Big Ten champion at the University of Iowa, worked the only other major upset of the day, defeating Buchholz, seeded fourth, 2-6, 6-4, 9-7.

Dodger Hurler Ace of Staff

Drysdale Stops Bucs, 3-0

By The Associated Press

A suddenly settled pitching staff has made a contender out of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and the mainstay of the crew is Don Drysdale—the guy who got 'em started, the guy who's done the job as a starter or reliever, and the guy who's been their stopper.

The Dodgers began their run a month ago, when they were in fifth place. They've won 19 of 29 since and it all began with Drysdale's four-hit shutout over then first-place Milwaukee.

★ ★ ★

The cross-firing right-hander has lost only one since—against that controversial one-hitter by San Francisco's Sam Jones.

Drysdale won his sixth in the Dodger surge last night, stopping their skid at three games with a three-hitter that beat Pittsburgh 3-0 and jumped Los Angeles back into second place in the tight National League race.

The Dodgers again are within one game of the first place Giants, idled by rain, and have a .002 percentage point edge over the Braves, who slipped to third with a 5-2 defeat by the Chicago Cubs.

Cincinnati rapped St. Louis 11-5 in the other NL game.

Drysdale, no better than 12-13 in a disappointing 1958 season, now is 11-6. He retired the first nine in order last night, not giving up a hit until Danny Kravitz singled in the fifth. Dick Groat doubled in the sixth and Dick Stuart singled in the seventh, but Drysdale then went through the last two innings 1-2-3 for his third shutout, and the fifth three-hitter of his four-year career.

★ ★ ★

Drysdale also slapped a two-run double in the seventh against loser Bob Friend, the Pirates' failing ace who has dropped 11 of 15 decisions. The Dodgers tagged him for five of their six hits, scoring their first run in the third inning when Morrie Wills singled, stole second and came home on Charlie Neal's single.

The loss left the Bucs, who could have taken third with a victory, in fourth place, three games behind.

★ ★ ★

Sophomore Glen Hobbie (10-7) pushed his career record to 5-0 over the Braves with a five-hitter. He also singled home the run that clinched it when the Cubs scored twice in the fourth against loser Carl Willey (4-4) for a 3-1 lead.

★ ★ ★

Hank Aaron had two of the Braves' hits, both doubles, scoring one run and driving in the other.

★ ★ ★

Frank Robinson of the Reds took the National League runs-batted-in lead with 85, one more than the Cubs' Ernie Banks, with a two-run homer and a sacrifice fly. The homer, his sixth in six games and fifth in the last four games, gave him a tie for second with Aaron at 24, three back of league leader Ed Mathews of the Braves.

★ ★ ★

Johnny Temple drove in four runs, with a double and sacrifice fly, for the Reds, who had 17 hits —five by Gus Bell. Rookie Jim O'Toole (2-2) won it, with Brooks Lawrence's save. Wilmer Mizell (10-4) was the loser, bowing to back grouble again in the fourth inning.

Jets Trounce Jewelers, 8-0

Rhuska Hurls 4-Hitter; Talbot Gets 17 Blows Routing Nicholie, 12-3

The Pontiac Jets hammered out 11 safeties and breezed to an 8-0 victory over Shaw's Jewelers behind the four-hit pitching of Jack Rhuska in a Class A City League baseball game yesterday at Wisner Field.

The contest was close until the 6th inning when the Jets, nursing a 1-0 lead, exploded against Shaw hurler Dick Cloonan for seven runs on the same number of hits as 11 men batted.

Dick Goldsworthy relieved Cloonan in the hefty 6th stanza, then Dick Covrea took over the mound duties in the 7th frame. Cloonan absorbed the loss. Dave Simmons collected three hits and Fletcher Davis and Gene Cox each made two for the Jets.

In Class B action yesterday at Jaycee Park, Talbott Lumber assaulted two pitchers for 17 hits and a 12-3 rout of Don Nicholie. Jim Lowry scattered six safeties to get credit for the win and the defeat was charged to Greg Meadows.

Oliver Officer and Frank Johnson garnered three hits apiece while Sonny Cruz, DeWayne Shefer, Ken Senter and Lowry each made two safe blows to spark the Talbott attack.

$12.95 TIRES ARE NOT FOR TURNPIKES

READ THE FACTS BEFORE YOU BUY!

• High-speed driving on super highways demands stronger, safer tires than anyone can sell for $12.95.
• B.F.Goodrich makes economy tires that give outstanding service. But they're designed for normal city and country driving, not for long periods at sustained high speeds on turnpikes.
• "Testing" a low-price tire on a turnpike doesn't necessarily make it safe for day-in, day-out performance under bruising, pounding conditions.
• Turnpike tires call for the strongest materials, toughest plies, painstaking design and construction. Risking life and property on anything less is sheer folly. High-speed tires can't be built for $12.95.

They Stopped DiMag

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Starting pitcher Al Smith and reliever Jim Bagby Jr. were the Cleveland Indians pitchers who stopped Joe DiMaggio after he had batted safely in 56 consecutive games. It happened in a night game July 17, 1941.

DIFFERENCE IN SPIKES — Ignor Petrenko, who will compete in the pole vault against the United States this week at Philadelphia's Franklin Field, compares the difference in spikes which started a mild controversy yesterday. The short spikes are for use on macadam runways, and the long spikes for cinder runways. The Russians had the long spikes and plans were to use the macadam runways.

Soviet Decathlon Champ Seeks to Better Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Vasily Kuznetsov, who shattered the world decathlon record only two months ago, said today he is going to try to better his mark in the U.S-Russia track meet this weekend.

"But," said the 27-year-old anatomy and physiology teacher through an interpreter, "I think I'd have a better chance if Rafer Johnson were here."

Johnson and Kuznetsov have been playing sort of a revolving door game in breaking each other's decathlon records—a two-day 10-event test of strength, endurance and all-around track power. First Johnson held the record with 7,985 points. Then Kuznetsov with 8,013. Then Johnson again with 8,302 points. Finally Kuznetsov scored 8,357 in Lenin Stadium, Moscow, May 16-17.

Johnson was injured in an automobile accident last month and had to withdraw from the meet.

"Too bad, too bad," said Kuznetsov, shaking his head. "We can inspire each other. But I'm still going to break the record although I won't predict that I will."

Actually, if he is hot there's no reason why he can't do better. When he scored his 8,357, he tossed the javelin only 213-5½ and was caught in a piddling 5:04.6 for the 1,500 meters. On other occasions, he has tossed the javelin 251-½ and has run the 1,500 in 4:46.

"They are my two weakest events," Kuznetsov said. "So if I want to get way up there I've got to improve them. I don't know just how far you can go in the decathlon or if anyone ever will score 9,000 points. But Johnson and I have been improving little by little."

Kuznetsov is not the stereotype of a Russian athlete. He is olive-skinned with straight black hair, a steady smile and a few words for everyone who care to listen.

"Funny thing," he said, "the only national Soviet record I hold beside the decathlon is the pentathlon.

They Will Meet League-Leading Knights Sunday

Class A Tilt Feature Attraction of Annual City Baseball Show

A star-studded array of Class A City League baseball players have been selected to oppose the league-leading Knights of Columbus this Sunday in the feature attraction of the city's annual Amateur Day program at Jaycee Park.

The Pirates dominate the selections, landing four men on the starting All-Star team, with the Jets and Shaw's Jewelers each placing two.

Representing the Pirates, the city's newest Class A member, will be 1st baseman Bob Lovell, shortstop John Lucadam and outfielders Ed Busch and John Wert.

Jet players on the All-Star roster are 2nd baseman Chet Woodmore and outfielder Gen Cox while the Jewelers will be represented by catcher Jim Berg and 3rd baseman Bud Thomason.

The starting hurler for the All-Stars will be named by manager Alec Billesdon and he will have four talented pitchers as his choices — Herman Bishop of Shaw's, Jim Jones of the Jets, John York of the Pirates and Carl Demerick, also of the Pirates.

An outstanding group of City Leaguers will offer reserve strength from the All-Star bench, including catcher Ed Estes of the Pirates; infielders Louie Seay, Ben Robinson, Dave Simmons and Bud Hayward, all of the Jets; outfielders Daryl McGlashen and Bill Graham, both from Shaw's, and outfielder Al Hayward of the Jets.

★ ★ ★

Assisting Billesdon as All-Star coaches will be the veteran Bishop and Judge Booker of the Jets.

Hal Trott, playing manager for the K. of C. team, will start his mound ace Jerry Taylor against the All-Star aggregation.

His regular lineup will include catcher Ron Kind, 1st baseman Stu Dell, 2nd baseman Ken Burkhrt, shortstop John Fleser, outfielders Alan Barkley, Terry Thomas and Fr. John Rakoczy, and Trott at 3rd base.

The battle between the Knights and the All-Stars will headline Sunday's show, which is co-sponsored by the Pontiac Baseball Federation and the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department. Proceeds go to the Federation for the betterment of baseball in Pontiac. Starting time at Jaycee is 1:30 p.m.

Boston Braves' Wartime Skipper Is Seriously Ill

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Coleman, wartime manager of the Boston Braves who has spent half a century in professional baseball, was seriously ill today at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

The 68 - year - old Milwaukee Braves scout was listed in "poor condition" by the hospital where he was brought after being stricken at his Evansville, Ind., home. Hospital spokesmen refused to discuss the nature of his illness.

Coleman managed the Boston National Leaguers in 1944 and part of 1945. The club finished sixth both seasons.

★ ★ ★

Coleman's major league playing career consisted of part - time catching for Pittsburgh in 1913 and 1914 and a brief appearance with the Cleveland Indians in 1916.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Country Club is a busy place at this time of year. From April through September area golfers jam the course, then wend their way into the clubhouse for that ever-popular visit to the 19th hole.

Until mid-afternoon, Monday was just like any other day at PCC. The usual informal atmosphere prevailed as golfers chatted at their respective tables, mentally shooting par on each hole while they replayed the round.

Then something happened which temporarily interrupted the social gaiety, yet at the same time gladdened the hearts of everyone in the room. Courage, exemplified by a man to its fullest extent, slowly but firmly entered the room and every head turned to see him.

Max Richardson, cane in hand, captured everyone's attention for a few moments as he walked through the PC clubhouse for the first time in countless months to greet and visit with his friends of long-standing.

Courage, determination, a will to live, guts — call it anything you wish — all were 100 per cent present in the form of Max Richardson, a man terribly shaken by tragedy and visibly scarred by its consequences.

It was only last January that Max was horribly burned by an explosion in the garage at his Pontiac home. When he was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, there were grave doubts that he would live.

But Max was no ordinary person in the wake of disaster. He fought back against staggering odds and survived the ordeal. After months of skin-grafting, an expensive operation, Max not too many days ago left St. Joseph.

The man who was not expected to live did exactly that and, bolstered by his cane, walked with sure-footed steps into the PCC clubhouse and appeared as hale and hearty as would be possible under the circumstances.

Max, a longtime Pontiac resident and recognized as one of the area's best golfers for several years, once worked for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Syron at PCC before moving to Edgewood and later following golf pro Jack Hoffmann to Hillcrest.

Understandably thin from his lengthy recuperation, Max stopped at PCC principally to see the Syrons and they, like everybody else in the place, welcomed him with open arms.

★ ★ ★

The Syrons invited him to stay for supper and Max could have ordered anything he wished "on the house" — steak, ham, chicken, all the trimmings, the works!

Can you guess what Max wanted? "Please, Mrs. Syron, may I have one of those delicious hamburg sandwiches you make here," he said. "It's been so long since I've had one of them and I can almost taste it right now." The hamburger was his.

SHORT PUTTS

This week's low net honors in the Women's Silver Lake Golf League went to Mrs. Roland Gegoux, who had 34, followed by Mrs. John McCallum at 35. Mrs. Louie Daniel was the top putter with 15 while Mrs. Elbert Looney and Mrs. Floyd Foren divided blind hole laurels with fives on No. 6.

★ ★ ★

Team leaders in the Elks League at Pontiac CC are: 1st division — Glenn Harding and Cliff Maison; 2nd division — Bob Isgrigg and Rube Wideman; 3rd division — Curt Flath and Charley Speck. Truman and Del Hammett are still pacing the Forging & Socket loop while Jewell Hammett leads the Women's Fairway group.

★ ★ ★

The annual Michigan Elks tournament is scheduled Sunday at the State Elks course in Kalamazoo . . . Jack Phelps, head pro at Kazoo Elks CC, used to live in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Eighteen-hole qualifying rounds are under way today in the annual Birmingham CC Invitational tourney . . . Golf teams from Flint AC Sparkplug and GM Tech Center will battle each other Saturday at PCC . . . Tam O'Shanter's Stewart Bloch won the weekly Junior District event at Lochmoor with a 76 and Dave Hyee of Orchard Lake led the 1st flight with an 82.

GO, GO, GO — Al Benefield of Denver was close, but not close enough with his 12-foot eagle putt on the 18th green in the National Public Links gold tournament at Denver yesterday. The ball stopped about four inches short. He lost out to defending champion Dan Sikes of Jacksonville, Fla.

Target Date for Rematch Sept. 22

Promoter Plans Trip to Sweden to See Ingemar

Yankee Stadium Again Figured as Site Unless Weather Interferes

NEW YORK (UPI) —Promoter Bill Rosensohn revealed today the "target date" for the return Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight is Sept. 22 at Yankee Stadium.

He added that the stadium could accommodate 80,000 for a sellout $3,000,000 gate. The promoter disclosed his plans today while discussing "somewhat exaggerated stories" from Los Angeles earlier in the week. Those stories indicated that the big fight would be held in the City of Angels.

The promoter said today he would fly to Sweden July 24 to form plans with Johansson.

"Let me clear the air right now," declared dark-haired, Lincolnesque Bill. "I hope to stage the Johansson-Patterson fight at Yankee Stadium on Sept. 22, a Tuesday — with rain dates on Sept. 23 and 24. And I can think of nothing that will prevent it."

However, should some obstacle develop — like an ailment or injury to either boxer — and delay the internatinal 15-rounder until October, then he might shift it to Los Angeles or some other city where there would be less of a weather gamble, he admitted.

Southfield, Birmingham Legion Teams Gain Wins

The second half of the Junior American Legion League started yesterday with first half champ Southfield scoring a 5-3 victory over Troy and Royal Oak defeating Milford, 4-1, and Birmingham tripping Clawson 5-3.

Tom Ridley went the distance in pitching a two hitter for Southfield. John Van Brunt had two hits and drove in two runs with a triple.

Troy's three runs came on a homer with two on by Richard Billings in the 4th. Pete Davidson went the route and was Troy's loser.

Van Geison of Birmingham struck out 10 and walked two in giving Clawson seven hits. Rod Ruddy was Birmingham's big hitter with two singles and a triple while Dave McManus was adding a double and single.

Ted Beddard had three hits for Clawson and Tucker was the losing pitcher.

In the game at Milford, John Wischman of Royal Oak tossed a one hitter, giving up the lone hit in the 7th inning. He fanned eight batters.

The Milford run came in the 4th inning on two errors, a walk and fielder's choice.

Milford pitcher Scheuring gave up only four hits, two of those by Bob Lezotte.

Royal Oak scored one in the first inning on two singles, and error and a walk; twice in the third and another in the 6th.

Insurance Golf Tourney Starts

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) —The $25,000 Insurance City Open golf tournament gets underway most people want to remember, today, but its promoters are not enthusiastic.

First, there's the weather. It has been raining here longer than most people want to remember, and the weatherman predicts more for today.

Secondly, there's Tommy Bolt, the Crystal River, Fla., pro who won the Insurance Open in 1954 and the National Open in 1957. It wasn't sure early today whether Bolt would be on hand. The promoters have considered him a pretty important drawing card for the four-day, 72-hole event over the par 35-36—71 course.

Julius Boros, the Mid - Pines, N.C., pro who got his start at Connecticut's Rockledge course, started heading for the top yesterday in the pro-amateur event preceding the open.

Boros fired a four - under - par 33-34—67 and collected $337 in prize money, with the help of four birdies.

49ers Open Camp July 25

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — New coach Howard (Red) Hickey football training camp on July 25 with 30 rookies and 14 veterans including the two top quarterbacks.

★ ★ ★

Indicating he wants to get right down to business, Hickey invited signal callers Y. A. Tittle and John Brodie to take part in the early drills.

St. Mary's College again is the scene of operations for the San Francisco club which opens its pre-season schedule against the Washington Redskins at Kezar Stadium on Aug. 16.

★ ★ ★

Hickey, who succeeded Frankie Albert as head coach, counts heavily on the rookies. He's let veteran linemen Lou Palatella and Bob Toneff go in trades and only yesterday end Gordy Soltau announced his retirement.

After the shakedown for the newcomers, the rest of the veterans report to the camp at Moraga on Aug. 2.

Remedy Sought in High Schools

Why Can't Joe College Write?

By DAVID O. TYSON

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) —Why Johnny can't read is a big problem for some educators. Others are worried because Joe College can't write.

They feel Joe just doesn't get enough drill in putting words together while he's in high school and something should be done about it.

★ ★ ★

High schools in 16 cities throughout the nation this past school year started an experiment designed to ease the problem. Already the program has improved the compositions of some 8,000 students.

The program is based on a simple idea: Housewives with college training and tested ability in correcting themes are hired on a piece-work basis to grade papers.

The work is the sort many mothers like to do. It's stimulating. And it means more money in the family till.

★ ★ ★

English teachers are just as enthusiastic. The fearful chore of correcting up to 200 themes for all her classes, a job estimated to take 33 hours, has been lightened.

IMPROVES WRITING

More writing can be assigned, which means writing is improved.

"You can't learn to write without writing," says Henry Chauncey, president of the Educational Testing Service of Princeton.

The idea of using so-called "lay leaders" to help English teachers popped into Chauncey's head several years ago. But he takes no credit for it.

★ ★ ★

"I had the original idea but ideas are a dime a dozen," he says. "The important thing is the way they're carried out. So the credit should go to Paul Diederich for having conducted the program and the Fund for the Advancement of education for sponsoring it."

Diederich is on the staff of ETS, a nonprofit corporation which conducts educational research and tests for schools, colleges, the government and the professions.

★ ★ ★

The Fund for the Advancement of Education provided $150,000 to develop the program. And Diederich tried it out first during the 1957-58 school year at New Brunswick High School and nearby Bound Brook High School.

A women's page story in the New Brunswick Daily Home News announced the experiment.

110 APPLY

A total of 110 women applied in person in New Brunswick and 67 more in Bound Brook. Others telephoned. Only six readers, plus six substitutes, were to be chosen in New Brunswick.

★ ★ ★

The field was narrowed with the help of ETS and its testing experience. The applicants got a verbal aptitude test, paper-grading test, paper-correction test and wrote a short paper on a choice of topics. The 20 who stood highest were interviewed.

New Brunswick High has a total enrollment of 1,575. About 16 English teachers were assigned lay readers for some, but not all, of their classes. Between 500 and 525 students in grades 10 through 12 thus had the benefit of lay readers.

★ ★ ★

Diederick says homework writing assignments in many schools are down to four or five a year. The teachers can't handle the grading of any more.

Diederick says no feature of the plan is copyrighted and ETS will make test materials available to any other high schools which care to launch such a program.

Kellogg Foundation Plans Aid to Education Schools

BATTLE CREEK (UPI)—The W. K. Kellogg Foundation said Wednesday it will contribute $250,000 a year for five years to help set up a university council for educational administration.

The council, set up to improve education for public school administrators, will have headquarters at Ohio State University. Cooperating in the project and contributing to costs will be 33 other leading universities.

Member schools will pool manpower and finances for research aimed at improving schools of education and their preparation of administrators. The program will include visiting professorships, short term work conferences and sharing of faculty between schools.

Traffic Violations Out of Michigan Still Count Here

LANSING (UPI)—Out-of-state traffic violations count just as much against the driving record as Michigan offenses, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today.

He said reports from out of state jumped to 1,050 last week, probably caused by heavy traffic over the Fourth of July.

"These convictions add to the violator's point record the same as those which occur within Michigan," Hare said. "Many erring drivers get a shock when they find out their speeding convictions in Florida, New York or California are recorded here."

The convictions count against drivers up for license re-examination, he said.

Michigan also sends violation records to other states, Hare said.

Whirlpool Corp. to Add to Plant in St. Joseph

ST. JOSEPH (UPI)—Whirlpool Corp. will build a $370,000 addition to its main plant here, company officials said today. Preliminary construction work on the 40,000-sq foot addition already has started.

Whirlpool said presses now located in Plant No. 4 here will be transferred to the new addition, thus increasing space available at Plant No. 4 for assembly of automatic washers and combination washer-dryer units.

Whirlpool recently announced construction of a $100,000 hangar at the Twin Cities Airport to house a new DC-3 plane the company bought.

Michigan Bell Official Named AT&T Executive

DETROIT (UPI) — Robert F. Landry, who has been with Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for three years, has been appointed an assistant vice president of American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Landry will be in charge of a new market development division for AT&T.

He has been assistant general commercial manager for Michigan Bell since 1958. He formerly was central division commercial superintendent in Saginaw.

Grand Haven State Park Attendance Doubles

GRAND HAVEN (UPI) — Attendance at the Grand Haven State Park has passed the 800,000 mark since Jan. 1, almost double the total a year ago at this time, park officials said today.

Park manager Clare Broad said 97,000 persons visited the park last week, including 18,000 on Saturday and 25,000 on Sunday. The Grand Haven State Park usually leads all other state parks in attendance, with Holland State Park close behind.

Ground doves, the tiniest pigeons around, are believed to mate for life.

Steel Strike Hits Rail's Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved cautiously with prices uneven early today. Trading was active.

Gains and losses of most leading stocks were fractional.

The second day of the nationwide steel strike generated some fears that the strike may be prolonged. At the same time, the strike was regarded by some traders as spoiling the chances of the rails for a test of their 1929 high.

Steels, rails and aircrafts drifted lower.

The omission of a dividend by Douglas Aircraft was a depressant to the latter. Douglas fell 2½ to 45¼ on an opening block of 6,000 shares.

Fractional losses were taken by most other aircrafts.

The nonferrous metals section continued on the upside but by a narrow margin. Miami Copper and American Smelting gained about a point each while other leaders in this group rose fractionally.

Among steels, Jones & Laughlin dropped about a point, Bethlehem eased and U.S. Steel fell a fraction.

The ticker tape was late for a five-minute spell in an active opening.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF PRESTON Hibler who left us July 16, 1944.
When the sun is sinking in the West,
We think of those we love the best,
Although he has gone, beyond heaven's shore,
We still love him more and more,
Sadly missed by son and parents.

USED CAR BUYER'S GUIDE OR
HOW TO GET A HONEY WITHOUT GETTING STUNG

Mysterious noises are a sure sign of future trouble. First, check under the hood, under the dash and in the trunk to make sure there are no little men with hammers or mice with false teeth. Then drive the car over a rough railroad crossing. If it sounds like everything is ready to fall off, take it back to the dealer and tell him there are too many loose connections in the deal. Then head for OLIVER MOTOR SALES where you won't get rattled over our quiet way of doing business.

2 U.S. College Educators Tour Pontiac Motor Plants

Two noted U.S. college educators completed a three-day tour of Pontiac Motor Division plants yesterday.

Observing engineering and production activities were: Harold A. Bolz, dean of the College of Engineering and director of the Engineering Experiment Station at Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio, and Oliver M. Stone, head of the Engineering Drawing Department at Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland.

Bolz and Stone are among a select group of U.S. and Canadian educators attending the 1959 General Motors Conference for College and University Educators in the fields of engineering and physical sciences, July 5-17 at the Technical Center in Warren.

★ ★ ★

Objectives of the annual GM meeting are: to increase visibility of General Motors technical accomplishments; to furnish educators with information useful in their teachings; and to acquaint educators with employment opportunities and training programs in GM for their graduates.

Will Try Youth in City Burglary

Charge Pontiac Twp. 18-Year-Old Broke Into Sandwich Shop

An 18-year-old Pontiac Township youth was bound over to Oakland County Circuit yesterday for trial in the burglary of George's Sandwich Shop on July 5.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Lee Lemmert, of 2040 Richwood St., is being held in Oakland County Jail pending his arraignment Monday.

★ ★ ★

Following his examination in Municipal Court, Judge Maurice E. Finnegan set bond at $1,000.

★ ★ ★

Lemmert and a juvenile, 16, were arrested shortly after three business firms were burglarized the evening of July 5.

★ ★ ★

Lemmert denied any knowledge of the break-ins but admitted to detectives he was with the younger boy all evening.

The juvenile admitted breaking into the three firms—the Perry St. Friendly Market, 1220 N. Perry St.; George's Sandwich Shop, 1018 Joslyn Rd., and the Dairy Queen establishment at 1059 Joslyn Rd.

Lemmert was arrested shortly after the juvenile. Officers said he had been paroled after serving a sentence for burglary.

An inland sea that will stretch 175 miles and cover 1,250,000 acres is being created by the construction of a dam in Kariba Gorge downstream from Victoria Falls in Africa.

Big Atlas Fails to Leave Ground

Engine Fizzle Marks 5th Straight Failure by Important Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The powerful engines of an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile ignited early today but the trouble-plagued rocket failed to get off the ground.

The Atlas remained locked on its pad engulfed in billows of black smoke.

When the countdown reached zero a flash of orange flame burst from the base of the 85-foot missile. It died quickly.

The misfire was the latest in a series of troubles for the Atlas program.

The last five Atlases were failures; four of them exploded shortly after launching.

The Air Force suspended testing of the missile after the last blowup, on June 6. Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy announced later there would be at least a two-month delay in getting the Atlas for troop use. The original plan was to have it operational this month.

The delay also has slowed this nation's man-to-space program.

Find Pontiac Man Guilty

Clifton Clark, 31, of 517 Harvey St., was found guilty of simple larceny yesterday by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Clark was fined $5 and $25 costs. He was accused of stealing two tires from the Don R. McDonald Tire Service store at 370 S. Saginaw St. on July 7.

Arizona Grand Canyon became a national park in 1919.

Condemnation Hearing Set for MSUO Land

A condemnation hearing has been set for Aug. 11 in Oakland County Circuit Court as the county tries to acquire additional private property easements necessary for the Michigan State University Oakland sewage disposal system.

Harold K. Schone, director of the Department of Public Works which will build the system, said owners of three parcels on the south side of Avon road near Livernois in Avon Township have not granted easements and condemnation is necessary.

He said all other easements have been secured.

Purpose of the August hearing, as approved by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, is for owners of the property in question to show cause "why the property should not be taken for easement purposes." The hearing is set for 9 a.m.

Schone said construction on the $500,000 system would begin Monday. He said it would be "close" in trying to complete it before classes begin at MSUO in September.

Arc-Welder Sets Explosion

Drum Blast Injures Boy

A 13-year-old Waterford Township boy was severely injured in an explosion yesterday as he attempted to put the finishing touches to a new raft with an arc-welder.

Taken to Pontiac General Hospital with a broken right leg and second and third degree body burns was Roger Mihay of 4912 Hobson St. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mihay.

The youth had sealed up both ends of three 55-gallon drums which had previously contained synthetic paint thinner. As he side to hold the board platform, side, to hold the board platform, heat from the welder caused the fumes inside the drums to explode.

The boy had been standing at one end of the barrel, and when the end let go, the blast threw him to the ground. At the same time, there was a flash fire, setting his clothing afire.

Roger's brother Robert, 11, who was sitting nearby, narrowly missed being injured.

★ ★ ★

A neighbor living on the next street heard the blast and called Waterford Township Police, firemen and the Coates Ambulance Service.

★ ★ ★

Roger was given first aid and taken to the hospital where his condition was reported as fair today.

Star Market Seems Pretty Well Cornered

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS—I came out here to these burning sands — really the new capital of show business—and found it heating up a little. It got to around 125 degrees down by all the new swimming pools the last few days, then there was a little sandstorm. The Chamber of Commerce was boasting about the climate, and comedian Jackie Miles said, "That's right . . . where you gonna find this kind of climate—unless you dig for it?"

WILSON

Vegas must be paying entertainers—stars, chorus girls and musicians—$300,—000 a week, maybe $500,000. All these are appearing here now: Red Skelton, Lena Horne, Louis Prima and Keely Smith, Milton Berle, Sophie Tucker, Jayne Mansfield, Peggy Lee, Jack Carter, Frankie Laine, the Ames Brothers, Dorothy Collins, Hank Henry, Benny Fields and Blossom Seely, Ed Sullivan, Phil Ford and Mimi Hines, the Paris Lido Show, Roberta Sherwood, Cerbett Monica, Sally Rand, Perez Prado, Dick Contino, Betty George—Wonder how many I forgot?

Cary Grant flew over to woo the beautiful nude German dancer, Sheilah Moser (nickname "Yellowbird") who's famous for her Jayne Mansfield area . . . Frankie Laine said that he's leaving his agents (G.A.C.) "Unless they get a television show for me".

Lili St. Cyr's divorcing Ted Jordan . . . Marie McDonald and bridegroom, Lucille Ball and Buddy Hackett ganged up for Milton Berle's 51st birthday party. Marie was mourning her father who died that day, and was taking the first plane home . . . When Joan Crawford went out with the Benny Goffsteins, Benny toted a bottle of 100 proof vodka for Joan who drinks nothing else.

Trailer Makers to Close Plant

Waterford Concern Set for Move to Factory in St. Louis, Mich.

Officials of the Pontiac Coach House Trailer Company, 4615 Dixie Hwy., Waterford Township, announced today they will close their plant "in the very near future" and move operations to their St. Louis, Mich., factory.

Vice president of the company, Alvin P. Weideman, at St. Louis, said the 150 employes will receive severance pay based on their length of service with the company and will be laid off as soon as present production of some 50 house trailers is completed.

All employes have been notified of the plant's closing.

"Reason for the move," Weideman said, "is because of the lack of many factory facilities and storage space within the township. Officials are very regretful that such a move is necessary."

Arrangements are being made at the St. Louis plant for employment of a portion of the men now working in the Waterford Township factory.

"This move is merely a consolidation of our two Michigan factories," Weideman said. He added that a new plant is in the process of construction at Hutchinson, Kan., but there is no immediate plan to move the St. Louis factory to Kansas.

The local trailer company is negotiating for another factory to lease the Dixie Highway plant, but Weideman declined to reveal the identity of the new firm.

Weideman would not say just how long the Waterford plant would remain open. However, employes estimated that operations would cease within the next two weeks.

State Bans Issuance of Burning Permits

Because the fields and woods are so dry, the Michigan Department of Conservation has banned issuance of burning permits.

This was revealed by the Waterford Township Fire Department, which answered 52 calls for rubbish fires during the first two weeks of July.

The clampdown on burning of any kind resulted from the lack of rainfall last month. Offenders are subject to a fine of from $100 to $500, and a maximum sentence of up to 10 years.

Buys 75 Pct. Equity in Ford Co. of Canada

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced today that it has obtained about 75 per cent of the equity of Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd. through a stock purchase.

★ ★ ★

The company said that as a result of its offer to purchase class A and B shares of the Canadian company stock at $188 a share, it had received tenders for 776,805 shares of the class A stock and tenders for 7,828 of the class B stock. The offer closed yesterday.

Announcement of the offer was made last May 21 and the offer itself was mailed to shareholders June 3.

Chevy Starts Output of Compact Corvair

DETROIT (AP)—Chevrolet has begun limited production of the Corvair, its new smaller and lighter car.

A spokesman for the General Motors division said yesterday that Corvairs produced in the early stage of manufacture will be distributed to dealers for testing and promotional purposes.

The corvair is to be introduced as part of the 1960 Chevrolet line.

The spokesman gave no indication when volume production would start.

Nation's Industrial Output Hits All-Time High in June

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's industrial production boomed to a record high in June.

The Federal Reserve Board reported the total output from mines, mills and factories was 155 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This was 2 points above the revised figure for May.

The recession low was 126 in April 1958, the prerecession high was 146 in February 1957.

Retail sales remained at a record high, 3 per cent higher in the second quarter of the year than in the first quarter and 10 per cent above a year earlier.

The board's monthly report said the output of autos, household durable goods and most types of business equipment continued to expand.

Steel production dropped to 90 per cent of capacity—3 points below the May rate—as operations were affected by the approaching end of the steelworkers' contract. Most of the industry is now being struck by the United Steelworkers.

Foods to Hold Country Carousel Grand Opening

Country Carousel Foods at 1360 South Woodward, between 14 and 15 Mile roads, is holding its grand opening today, tomorrow and Saturday. Mrs. Constance de Cary who was associated with the Normandy Dining Room is the owner and manager.

This combination restaurant and food store is located in the building formerly occupied by Mints. It will be open from 7 a.m. to midnight daily and until 1 a.m. on weekends.

A pancake bar, featuring 12 to 15 kinds of pancakes is an innovation. Two pastry chefs, one Italian, the other Dutch, are preparing bakery products for the restaurant and for the bakery department. In addition there is a candy and ice cream department and a gourmet counter.

Gromyko Gets Summit Terms

Herter Says If Berlin Freedom Guaranteed Leaders Can Meet

From Our News Wires

GENEVA — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Andrei A. Gromyko today that if arrangements can be made here to bar future crises over Berlin and safeguard its freedom the United States is ready to proceed promptly to a summit conference.

Russia lifted partially her cold war veto on secret talks. At the same time she threatened a critical East-West showdown on her Berlin demands which the West fears would surrender all Germany to Communist rule.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd conferred privately for two hours over lunch with Russia's Andrei A. Gromyko at the Soviet villa.

It was the first of a series of scheduled behind-scenes get-togethers between Gromyko and the Western foreign ministers. It indicated Gromyko is ready at last for "coffee cup negotiations" with the Western leaders after a four-day filibuster in which he refused secret talks unless his East German satellite came along, too.

But at the same time, he toughened his stand on Soviet terms for a Berlin truce agreement.

Gromyko warned the West in uncompromising terms that it will get no agreement to end the Berlin crisis unless it accepts Russia's plan for an all-German committee in which the East German Reds would have an equal say with the West Germans.

The West fears such a set-up ultimately would hand over all Germany to Red control.

Car Output to Rise Despite Steel Strike

DETROIT (AP) — The steel strike is not expected to have any effect on automobile assembly operations in the near future, Automotive News said today.

Domestic car output this week is estimated at 127,890 units, compared with 123,117 assemblies last week and 85,533 units produced during the same week of a year ago, the trade paper reported.

Truck output is expected to reach an estimated 27,753 units this week. The figure compares with 25,662 assemblies last week and 16,427 during the week ended July 19 last year.

The report said that Canadian manufactures, with Chrysler Corp. going down for changeovers today, is expected to produce 9,373 vehicles this week compared with 9,776 cars and trucks last week and 8,205 vehicles a year ago.

A breakdown of Canadian operations shows 7,560 cars and 1,813 trucks built this week compared with 7,968 cars and 1,808 trucks last week, the trade paper said. There was no breakdown of last year's figure.

Atlantic Ocean or Atlantic City? It's Hard to Tell

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — There's hardly a dry spot in town. Almost 8 inches of rain have fallen since Tuesday, leaving this resort city on the water almost covered by it.

The record rainfall has left water shin deep in the streets.

Since Tuesday morning a total of 7.5 inches of rain has been measured, 5.43 inches Tuesday and 1.92 inches Wednesday. The end isn't in sight. More rain is predicted today.

The total for July is 14.79 inches, breaking the previous high of 10.22 inches for the entire month of July, set in 1945.
