Cash Crisis Is Crushing Michigan's Creditors

LANSING (AP) — While Michigan sinks deeper into the mire of debt, what of its creditors—the people who repair leaks in state pipes, care for its indigent sick and sell the coal and coffee consumed at institutions?

There are at least 15,000 of them now. Their reactions vary as unpaid bills they submitted, some in March and earlier, climb beyond the six million dollar mark.

A very few have quit doing business with the state, a spot survey disclosed today. Some others, with unpaid bills of their own, are pleading earnestly for money due them.

"I'm just a poor man living up here in the jackpine," said Charles Quick, West Branch farmer. "I can't see why I have to wait six months for money from the state when I can sell to someone else and get cash on the dotted line."

"We've got to eat, we've got to pay taxes. We've got kids to buy shoes for."

Until a few weeks ago, Quick sold Michigan State University pine chips for MSU chicken house floors. The school paid $28 a ton. Quick stopped getting paid. Now he has stopped hauling chips to East Lansing.

Tree Man Co. of Battle Creek, with $10,000 tied up in a $31,000 contract for Dutch Elm disease control at state parks, found its bank credit exhausted, its straits desperate.

An emergency appeal brought token relief in the form of some money on account.

The lengthening list of state creditors now includes some in all 83 counties. The University of Michigan alone has nearly 1,500 outside the state, spread from coast to coast. MSU has about as many.

Who is owed?

So are hardware stores, druggists, office equipment suppliers, utilities, photographers, book dealers—the roster is almost endless.

Pasted on orders is the usual sticker reading, "Payment on this order will be delayed pending a solution of the state's cash crisis. Please advise immediately if you are unable to fill this order."

Gilbert Lee, U. of M. controller, said a small but growing number of suppliers have sent word they "have no choice but to withdraw the privilege of an open account," but would continue to do business on a cash-on-delivery basis.

"One of these is a very large concern," he said. "Still, the number is comparatively small. This hasn't really hurt us yet."

Generally, the hardest hit creditors are the comparative "little fellows" and firms just getting started.

A Lake County weekly newspaper proprietor, who said he acquired ownership six months ago, sent a dun for more than $1,000 owed by the state for delinquent tax descriptions published in March and April.

A Detroit contractor on the new Plymouth State Home and Training School project said his firm, 38 months in business, was threatened with payless paydays for 28 employes unless the state came across with $16,811.

"We beg of you to consider us and our employes," he wrote.

About $500,000 of state warrants held up represent debts of $100 or less. Excluding these creditors, here are some of the amounts due county-by-county.:

Wayne $656,000; Washtenaw $240,000; Marquette $90,000; Kent $89,000; Jackson $43,000; Genesee $85,000; Saginaw $34,000; Muskegon $29,000; Oakland $57,000; Bay $16,000; Calhoun 26,00; Ingham $460,000; and Berrien $12,000.

Long Civic Interest Applauded

Community Council Honors Poole for Good Citizenship

Poole, 31-year-old vice president of F. J. Poole Co., was presented the William W. Donaldson Citizenship Trophy by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, retiring council president.

The council elected a new slate of officers, with the presidency going to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Pontiac superintendent of schools.

It was suggested during the rest of the meeting that the 165 civic, fraternal, labor, industrial, health and welfare organizations in the council weld themselves into a stronger, more active community force.

Poole was selected for his good citizenship over the years, said Judge Adams.

The young hardware and lumber retail executive has a long history of civic and humanitarian interests to his credit.

He is president of the Oakland County Crippled Children's Society and treasurer of the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross.

Poole serves on the board of the Oakland County Historical Foundation and is a member of the Pontiac Historical Commission.

A board member of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Poole is active in the Pontiac Rotary Club and the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He served as adviser for Junior Achievement sponsored by the Rotary Club.

A native of Pontiac, Poole has been a key layman at Central Methodist Church, as a Sunday School teacher, president of the church men's club and fine arts chairman of the building committee.

Whitmer and other new officers will begin two-year terms this fall.

Hoffa Will Respect Court; Labor Legislation Nears

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, said his union will respect a court ruling that the Teamsters must obey reform orders.

He also said he will appeal the ruling.

"We may not like it (the decision) in its entirety but we will respect it just the same," Hoffa said at a Teamsters rally.

"Be assured, though, it's only a matter of time until we file an appeal."

A federal Appeals Court ruled Wednesday in Washington that the much-investigated union must comply with recommendations of the monitors, appointed by a federal judge after Hoffa was elected president of the union in 1957.

The Teamsters president spoke scathingly of the Senate Investigating committee; Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass); Kennedy's brother, Robert, counsel for the committee; and fellow labor leaders Walter Reuther and James Carey.

"Don't believe any of the phony charges of corruption and crime," Hoffa told a cheering crowd of 2,800. "Judge us by what you are earning now compared with what you are earning before the union.

Nothing is going to destroy this union," he said.

Hoffa said that Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and Carey, head of the International Union of Electrical Workers, had criticized him "to divert attention from their own weaknesses.

"We're growing by thousands, while their unions are dwindling rapidly."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects of House action on labor control legislation this session rose sharply today as the House Labor Committee began showdown sessions behind closed doors.

House leaders, reflecting new optimism, appeared convinced a bill of some kind now will come out of committee despite the "forlorn hopes" accorded its chances earlier.

After weeks of hearings, the committee faced the difficult task of reconciling clashing and widely divergent views among its members. These ranged from no legislation at all to enactment of rigid restrictions on union operations.

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) said, however, he expects a compromise will be worked out enabling the House to debate the first major labor bill to reach the floor since passage of the Taft-Hartley act a decade ago.

One of the factors which increased chances of House action was a surprise switch by James R. Hoffa's Teamsters union from its earlier stand against enactment of any labor legislation.

Spokesmen for the Teamsters told the committee on Tuesday they not only favor legislative action, but volunteered their own version of a labor "bill of rights."

As a further conciliatory gesture, the Teamsters agreed to send to the committee by next Monday a draft of their own idea of a bill.

Hunt for Susan Eases as Police Discover Diary

Detroit Girl, 14, Was Desperately Unhappy, May Have Run Away

DETROIT (UPI) — Police eased off today in the search for missing Susan Lawrence, inclined to believe the girl was a runaway.

A diary belonging to the 14-year-old girl was found yesterday. In it, Susan told of hating school, Detroit and living.

Less than 50 officers, including 25 special force patrolmen and six teams of detectives, were still assigned to the search.

At the height of the search, 200 policemen, more than 450 Boy Scouts and scores of volunteers combed the Northwest Side area around her home (at 19467 San Juan).

Susan's diary, written in ink, pencil and purple crayon, was named "Lucy."

The troubled girl, who disappeared last Monday on the way to Mumford High School, wrote that she wanted to leave Detroit.

"I want to move, but mother won't understand," the girl wrote. "I hate living. Sometimes, I think if I'm dead, all this would end."

Susan also said she didn't like Mumford High. One entry began:

"Only eight more days of school. Thank God. Every day is a torture. I wish I went to a private school. Mumford is a snob school."

After he read the diary, senior detective inspector Thomas Cochill ordered the search cut back sharply.

"Further search, as such, is superfluous. The girl is a runaway, or possibly a suicide," he said.

"She's a mixed-up frightened and definitely unhappy child with psychological problems. There's no telling what she'll do."

Solons Hope to Take Friday Off Despite Muddled Finances

LANSING (AP)—The "piggy-back" income tax bill is dead.

The Conlin flat rate income tax plan moved front and center in the House today.

The House Taxation Committee probably will release the proposal next week for a trial run in the lower chamber, said Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), committee chairman and author of the bill.

It is keyed to a two per cent tax on personal income and would net the state about 150 million dollars a year.

Conlin was hopeful some Republicans opposed to a graduated income tax might rally behind his proposal in a last-ditch effort to settle the five-month tax war in the Legislature. Republican leaders, however, scoffed at the idea.

"All income tax bills now have about much chance of becoming law as Liberace has of becoming Marilyn Monroe," quipped Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston), GOP floor leader.

The Senate buckled down today to clearing its calendar of all except House-approved bills, hopeful of quitting the Capitol by nightfall for a long weekend.

The House pushed ahead with the same objective in mind—that of sidestepping any need for the usual Friday morning session.

Leaders in both parties generally agreed the coffin lid was nailed tight on the 146-million-dollar piggy back bill after it mustered only a 54-53 vote yesterday. Fifty-six votes were needed for passage.

Three Democrats bolted party ranks to join Republicans in voting against the bill, which missed passage by a single vote in its first test last week. Reps. S. James Clarkson of Southfield and William Romano of Warren rejected it both times.

The bill would have required individuals to pay the state seven per cent of their federal income tax bills. Corporations would have paid 12 per cent and financial institutions 14 per cent. About 130 million dollars in present business taxes would have been repealed.

Three measures approved and routed to the House would put new controls on commercial driver education schools, stiffen penalties for teenage rowdyism and revise property assessment procedures.

Payrolls Released

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams and his administrative board today released $13,200,000 for state payrolls, two state universities and welfare payments. The payouts will leave only $3,200,000 in the state's general fund to close the fiscal year to June. State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown told the board at a special meeting. Overdue bills on the same date will total nearly 55 million dollars.

'61 Open Golf Tournament to Be Held at Oakland Hills

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MAMARONECK, N.Y. — Oakland Hills Country Club (Oakland County, Michigan) has been awarded the 1961 National Open Golf Championship Tournament, the United States Golf Association announced this morning.

Dates for the tourney will be June 15-17. The 1961 edition of the U.S. Open will tie in perfectly with the city of Pontiac's Centennial celebration.

This marks the fourth time that the Open has been awarded to Oakland Hills where veteran Al Watrous is head pro. Oakland was host in 1924, 1937 and 1951.

In the 59th annual Open Championship which opened today at Winged Foot, Ben Hogan was making a bid for an unprecedented fifth title. He was two under par after 15 holes.

Hogan had three birdies on the front side and moved along three under par after 12 holes until taking a bogey on the 13th.

The four-time champion was listed as one of the top-heavy

Ionia Hospital Says He's Cured

Will Release 'Mad Sniper'

Gary Taylor, the 22-year-old phantom sniper who turned South Oakland County into a shooting gallery in 1957, will be released shortly from Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane as cured.

Before his arrest on Feb. 7, 1957, Taylor went on a rifle rampage which brought him the title, "The Mad Sniper."

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said Taylor now will face criminal charges for assault with intent to commit murder.

ADMITS SHOOTING 3

Taylor admitted shooting three women with a .22 caliber rifle. He fired at more than a dozen others that he missed.

He was found insane and committed to Ionia after a sanity hearing before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

GARY TAYLOR

When sent to Ionia, Taylor said he was "pleased with the outcome."

"It's what I wanted," he explained. "It's all over now but the crying."

Three psychiatrists testified at the time that he was "unable to resist impulses to hurt women."

Taylor himself testified that between the time of his arrest and commitment to Ionia he had such impulses while locked up in the Oakland County Jail.

'GOOD THING I'M LOCKED UP'

It's a good thing I am locked up or I would hurt people," Taylor said.

Taylor shot at women in Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham and Southfield Township the night of his arrest.

He led some 18 police cars

2nd Judgeship Still Possibility

Says Defeated Bill in Lansing Doesn't Hinder County Plans

Defeat of a bill yesterday which would have called for election of a second Oakland County probate judge next year does not hinder plans of the Board of Supervisors for such an addition, Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township) said today.

He said he tacked on an amendment to a Wayne County bill which, if it had been approved, would have meant that Oakland voters in November of 1960 would have actually elected a second probate judge.

However, because of insistence of the Wayne County Board of Auditors, Wayne representatives voted against the larger bill—meaning death also for the Robert's amendment.

Oakland supervisors have decided to submit the question of whether the county should have a second probate judge to voters in the November 1960 election.

If county voters approve the proposal, Gov. Williams would appoint the new jurist, who would take office Jan. 1, 1961.

"The board action will continue to take effect despite my amendment being killed," Roberts said.

Waterford Graduates Told of System's High Standing

Last night's commencement exercises of Waterford Township High School's 335 graduates was marked by the "impressive" and the "unusual."

Impressive was a ceremony held outdoors on the football field, conducted by a faculty robed in academic gowns.

Principal James S. Fry termed the address of the guest speaker "unusual."

Roy A. Larmee, director of the University of Chicago Laboratory School, delivered the commencement address to graduates, some of whom may have been his own former elementary school pupils.

Larmee began his teaching career in Waterford. He was there for six years, first as teacher, then principal of the Covert School and later principal of the high school. He left in 1955 to join the staff of the University of Chicago.

Larmee evaluated Waterford Township from an "outside view." He told the hundreds gathered last night of his high regard for the community he left four years ago.

"Wherever our young people go," said Larmee, "it is likely to be a better place because they are there."

He advised the graduates of the importance of maintaining their values.

"Your values will be your guideposts in the outside world, where your parents and teachers will no longer be to help you."

Herter, Soviet in Showdown

Get Together to Decide if Any Basis Remains for Geneva Talks

GENEVA (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter met with Andrei A. Gromyko today to find out if there is any basis for continuing negotiations for a stopgap Berlin agreement.

Taking the lead for the West in the Big Four negotiations, Herter met with the Soviet foreign minister after consulting with his Western colleagues.

Herter had talked for 30 minutes with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, and Ambassador Wilhelm Grewe of West Germany.

Gromyko showed some signs of willingness to lower his price for ending the Soviet threat to West Berlin temporarily.

Herter was backed solidly by Lloyd and De Murville in a show of Allied unity that may have caused uneasiness in the Communist camp.

Even these hints were a change from yesterday when Gromyko showed not the slightest concern but displayed something that approached impudence over Western military power should the Berlin crisis touch off a war.

New Nose Cone Successfully Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A powerful Thor-Able missile hurled a highly-advanced nose cone 5,500 miles over the Atlantic today, dropping it in the Atlantic near Ascension Island.

Recovery ships and planes began an immediate search for the tiny cone.

The fiery Thor-Able rocket shot from the Cape at 1:44 a.m. EST. More than two hours later the Air Force announced that "preliminary instrumentation data indicates the re-entry test vehicle achieved most of the test objectives. It impacted the nose cone in the South Atlantic ocean near Ascension Island."

The nose cone covered the distance to the impact area in about 30 minutes.

A parachute popped out automatically to ease the package to the water after its blazing re-entry into the earth's atmosphere.

If all went right, the cone would remain suspended under a floating balloon while a small radio transmitter, signal lights and a dye marker pinpointed the location.

Richman Will Head Merchants Group

George Richman, owner of Wiggs Colony Shop, has been elected 1959-1960 president of the Downtown Merchants Assn.

Clifford C. Grovogel was re-elected vice president; Albert W. Holcomb, treasurer, and John W. Hirlinger, secretary.

Grovogel is general manager of Waite's Department Store; Holcomb is a vice president of Community National Bank, and Hirlinger is manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Richman announced that Norman L. Pattison, retiring president of the downtown group, had been named chairman of a special committee to coordinate downtown affairs.

Richman said there are plans for more flower boxes this summer, more Christmas decorations this winter, a bigger fall festival sale and another fall farmer day program.

The association's long-range aim is to beautify downtown Pontiac "and make it the shopping center of the area," Richman said.

SOS Sent Out for Dog That Bit Little Girl

An SOS has been sent out by the Oakland County Health Department to the owner of a young, white, long-haired mongrel dog chained to a bench in Dodge Park No. 4 last Sunday.

The animal bit four-year-old Mary Coulter of 180 N. Winding Dr., Waterford Township, while she was playing with it.

Unless the dog is located and examined by a veterinarian, the little girl will have to undergo a long and painful series of shots as a precautionary measure against rabies, said Dr. John Lambie.

The dog nipped the girl's hand while she was frolicking near the animal. There was no one around the scene at the time.

Dr. Lambie urged the dog's owner to contact the county health department immediately.

Pigs of No Help to Jail Escapee

A 22-year-old Michigan Reformatory walkaway, who hails from Pontiac, dove into a pig pen near Saranac today in an attempt to elude two prison guards, but his efforts went for naught.

Frank Davis, serving two to four years for a larceny in Kent County, walked away from his job at the reformatory disposal plant yesterday.

Two guards, Charles Woodbury and Robert Sullivan, were searching for him near Saranac this morning when they caught a glimpse of Davis diving into the pig pen.

They recaptured him and returned him to the reformatory.

Seek End of Interservice Feud

To Air Top Missile Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's master plan for defense missile development will be presented to the Senate Armed Services Committee Friday in closed session.

No details have been given. The plan is designed, among other things, to settle the vigorous dispute over the relative merits of the Air Force Bomarc missile and the Army Nike-Hercules system. Both are ahtiaircraft missiles.

The Washington Post, quoting what is described as reliable Pentagon sources, said the plan calls for cutting back Bomarc production sharply, trimming the Nike-Hercules program somewhat less, and placing new emphasis on defense against the intercontinental missiles that are replacing aircraft.

The Day in Birmingham

3 Major Programs Remain on Arts Festival Lineup

BIRMINGHAM — Only three major programs remain in the second annual Birmingham Arts Festival ending here Sunday.

"The Bloomingham Eccentrics," staged by St. Dunstan's Guild at the Greek Theater, Cranbrook, has been completely sold out for several days.

Seats are still available for the 8:30 p.m. appearance tomorrow of the Windsor Light Opera Assn. and for the Saturday lecture by Dr. Seymour Ricklin.

Headed by John Watson, the Windsor group will appear at the Community House in "Excerpts From Light Opera."

Dr. Ricklin, from Wayne State University English Department, will lecture on "Modern Literature and the Unconscious." His program will be presented at Baldwin Elementary School gymnasium.

A special weekend feature for children will be presented 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at Clawson Playhouse, 116 W. 14 Mile Rd.

Motion pictures selected for young audiences will include "The Pony" and "Christopher Crumpet" along with other appropriate films.

The artists' market in the Hilly Acres building on W. Maple avenue will close its doors at 8:30 p.m. Saturday. The art display from classes in the school district, which has been sponsored by the Board of Education, will close Friday night.

Mrs. Ernest Jay, publicity director, said this year's program has been exceptionally well attended.

Bloomfield Township today announced a newly-adopted schedule for three of its boards.

The Township Board will meet the second and fourth Mondays in the Town Hall on Telegraph road at 8 p.m. All items for the agenda must be in the office one week in advance.

The Zoning Board will meet the first Monday of the month at 8 p.m. and also has the one-week in advance rule for its agenda.

The model for Marshall Frederick's proposed "Wild Swans" fountain for Shain Park will remain on display at Baldwin Public Library through June 20.

Jeanne Lloyd, librarian, said the displays had been one of the most attractive features during the festival week. Other items include books by Birmingham authors and a noontime concert of recorded music.

The Senior Men's Club will hear a talk by Richard H. Senter when it meets in Community House at noon tomorrow. Senter, a former attorney, joined the FBI in 1942 and is now working in major criminal investigations.

Raymond Reilly will be moderator for the discussion group topic "Stocks and Bonds."

Beware Toxic Plants

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Doctors at the University of Michigan Medical Center say care should be taken from now through August to avoid contact with poisonous plants. These include jimsonweed and nightshades which may be found around yards and along the edges of cleared fields. They contain powerful alkaloid drugs such as belladonna and stropine. Effects of plant poisoning on children can range from mild to fatal.

Communist China is reported to have put its first three television stations on the air during the last half of 1958.

Alley Cat Pet Saves Child From Rattler

CUPERTINO, Calif. (AP) — Mom, an alley cat who turned up at the Pattison home a couple of years ago and stayed on, has become a feline heroine.

She's been bringing an occasional rabbit or gopher—dead, of course—and placing it at the feet of Shawn Pattison, 4.

Wednesday, Shawn heard a rattle while playing in his driveway. He ran to his mother, Clair Pattison.

Mrs. Pattison looked where Shawn pointed. There was Mom, staring at a snake. For five minutes, or so it seemed, Mom toyed with the snake.

Then Mom lunged, grabbed the snake behind the head, shook it violently, and chomped until it ceased to wriggle.

Mrs. Pattison measured the reptile at 16 inches and said it had three rattles.

Defense at Work in Liberace Suit

Paper's Lawyers Try to Prove Columnist's Privilege to Comment

LONDON (UPI) — Attorneys for the Daily Mirror return today to the task of convincing a jury that columnist William Connor had a right to make the statements he did make about pianist Liberace.

Liberace is suing for libel on grounds the statements, written by Connor under the name of "Cassandra," damaged his reputation and hurt his earning capacity.

One statement called him a "winking, sniggering, giggling, snuggling, chromium - plated, scent-impregnated, fruit-flavored heap of mother love." Another called him "the pinnacle of 'maculine, feminine and neuter."

Mirror lawyer Gerald Gardiner contended that Connor had the right to express his opinions, no matter how strong, in print.

"The defense of fair comment is the only reason why there is free speech in this country," Gardiner said. "It is not a special right of newspapers but it is everyone's right to say what they think on any matter of public interest."

Connor denied that he wrote in any implications in his article that Liberace was a homosexual, but he stood by his withering attacks on the pianist's television performance.

He said his reactions were "astonishment and then nausea . . . because of the flamboyant nature of his appearance, the actual spectacle of the man, and then because of the cloying, sickening nature of what he was singing and trying to put across."

Ike's State Legislator Wins Master's Degree

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The man who represents President Eisenhower's district in the Pennsylvania Legislature now feels qualified to advise his famous constituent on international relations.

He is State Rep. Francis Worley. He received his masters degree in international relations at the University of Pennsylvania commencement Wednesday.

"Now I'm through with school," said the 45-year-old Republican. He has three other degrees including a master of law.

Steps Taken to Link Algeria and France

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly took initial steps today toward integration of revolt-torn Algeria with France.

The assembly adopted a bill allowing the French Parliament to approve Algeria's 1960 budget along with the French budget, and passed a measure making Algerian and French currency identical at the termination of fighting in the North African colony.

The 1,200,000 Europeans living in Algeria say they fear they would be overwhelmed by the nine million Moslems if Algeria won any form of autonomy and to prevent this they want the territory integrated with mainland France and its 43 million French.

It will be the second marriage for each. Miss Rush is 30, Cowan is 38.

Finney Issue Matter of Life Or Death

'Fishcal' Crisis Hits West Germans

GENEVA (UPI)—It's been somewhat obscured by the smoke of the government crisis back in their Rhineside capital of Bonn, but the fact remains that the West Germans are having goldfish trouble.

This is one of those stories that will be denied, but . . .

It all started when West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano decided to rent a villa in the Geneva suburb of Veyrier as his residence during the big four conference.

And a goldfish pond.

The pond is stocked, with several dozen gold fish ranging in size from itty bitty to about five inches long.

And they have to be fed.

The first question the West German delegation had to raise was — did the rent for the villa include food for the fish?

Apparently it did not.

That being the case, did the appropriations for paying delegation expenses during the conference cover food for the gold fish in the foreign minister's residence?

The auditors, those nasty men who add up expense accounts, thought not.

Should the delegation then seek an extraordinary and supplementary appropriation to feed the fish?

Government red tape being what it is, it was decided unlikely that such would be arranged before the end of the conference.

Still, the fish could not be allowed to die. Their owner might sue for damages, and then the red tape would really become snarled.

It is not clear, at this writing, who finally shelled out for some fish food.

All that is known is that someone did buy several packages of fish food, and Von Brentano ritually tossed some of it on the waters twice a day.

He even let Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko throw the fish a few crumbs the day the Russians came to call.

"Gromyko treated those fish a lot better than he treats the East Germans," one West German muttered under his breath.

The automobile industry is the nation's largest consumer of nickel for plating purposes.

Warns Heart Patients About Hot Weather

Heart patients, slow down! These words come directly from DONALD S. SMITH, M.D., President of the Michigan Heart Association. Dr. SMITH stated hot weather is a danger sign for some persons with cardiac conditions.

It is easy to understand how any extreme in temperatures causes the body to work harder just to keep the normal functions going.

Mowing the lawn or work in the garden may be too strenuous and precautions should be taken to guard against it in this type of weather. Sit back and enjoy life a little and watch the grass grow.

A person's physical condition is the determining factor as to how much or how little he should do. Health examinations by your family doctor can tell you this.

Dr. SMITH points out that all persons past forty should try and avoid any exceptional exercise. During the hot and humid weather this should be easy for most of us, since the chaise under a tree is quite a beckoning thought.

Heart patients who are on low sodium diets or on a program to reduce body fluids by drugs should talk with their doctors about possible changes in diet and medication during the hot weather period.

If you have certain jobs about the house that must be done, plan your work schedule so they can be done in the cooler period of the day. Then do it in easy stages with frequent rests, not as one hard strenuous chore.

Hot weather can be fun. Let's make it that way.

Is Long's Latest Move a Political Maneuver?

Louisiana's colorful LONG family has made the headlines again. For three decades the LONGS have made political history. Nothing to date has stopped their popularity.

Some years ago Huey Long's dynasty crumpled under bitter and often violent eruptions in its own ranks. Even the slaying of Huey did not apparently hurt the family name.

Last week a new chapter was being written in the history of the LONGS of Louisiana. EARL KEMP LONG, serving his third term as governor, was confined to a mental hospital in Galveston, Texas.

Continuing as in the past to keep the fight within the family, the court commitment was sought by the governor's wife and a Dr. Arthur Long, a cousin. It was agreed to by his nephew, United States Senator Russell Long, the son of Huey.

Like the MARTINS and the McCOYS, this is a feuding family. But it has all the earmarks of a political maneuver. Louisiana has a law that bans successive terms for governors. Some weeks ago the governor stated flatly that he was going to run again and only the Lord or the law would stop him.

Now comes this little mental sickness. He could very well resign for a rest, which the doctors will recommend. Then he could come right back and enter the December 5 gubernatorial primary. A lot of what's going on looks like a sham.

Senator LONG has already addressed a joint session of the Legislature in an attempt to keep the LONG machine intact. The name of LONG is a fighting political issue to reckon with.

Should the governor return in time to qualify and in good health, most observers feel he has the inside track. In any event, a LONG will make the race, since RUSSELL LONG is just offstage.

"THE unmarried are considerably more likely to become mentally unbalanced than the married," say a psychiatrist. Yes, indeed. Every day many of them do—and get married.

"I AM not prepared to evaluate the various ramifications and significance of the situation," says a federal official. Translation: "I don't know what the heck it means."

The Man About Town

The Ore Is Coming

Prediction of Pontiac Man Was Amply Founded

Newspaper: What should be the business of those unknown people who never make a mistake.

of Pontiac knew that barren area like a book. It had a fascination for him that baffled his friends.

He learned that it had unbounded iron deposits that jutted out of the ground and went to unknown depths. He was convinced that its supply was practically unlimited, exceeding that of any other area on earth, and was almost untouched.

Mr. Rand was sure that as the iron ore in the Lake Superior vicinity is near exhaustion, within a few years the supply of our nation's greatest industrial sections would come from Labrador.

With the completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway, he said the direction would be reversed, and that the great boats carrying the ore would no longer come through Lakes Superior and Huron, but would come down the St. Lawrence and through Lakes Ontario and Erie.

It was only a little more than two years ago that he last made that prediction to me. It was better founded, I believe, than even Mr. Rand thought, as the first such cargoes now are on their way in loads of 20,000 tons each.

Again comes that annual suggestion from

of Birmingham, who says if your corn, tomato or other plants are bothered with cut worms, you can keep them away by sticking a metal nail (an old one will do) in the ground next to every plant.

Confidential advices from right here at home in Pontiac are to the effect that an accessory available on some of next year's cars will be a hot dog warmer that plugs into the cigaret lighter socket.

Like all other flowers, peonies are coming into bloom much later than usual this year. But of Bloomfield Hills, reports that she has blossoms that exceed anything she has ever before produced, both in size and beauty.

of Drayton Plains 11 years ago, started a production that now exceeds five bushels.

Next Sunday is Flag Day, and a communication from

"A Patriotic Citizen"

is in absolute accord with our sentiments. He writes, "Most of us are not interested enough in living under the grandest flag that ever was flown to make a showing of it even once a year. Let's make this showing unanimous."

Verbal Orchids to—

Mrs. Deborah Magnum

of Pontiac Lake, 83rd birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Krisley

of Rochester, 43rd wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Griffin

World Pleased at Recovery in U.S.

LONDON — There is a feeling of genuine satisfaction in Europe over the economic trend in the United States. There is a sense of relief not only that America has weathered her recession without resorting to spending sprees but that the favorable effects of America's recovery have been so quickly felt throughout the world.

LAWRENCE

The crusade which President Eisenhower has led to attain a balanced budget has won admiration in economic circles everywhere. Europe's experience with inflation is still recent enough for apprehension to arise when a country as important as the United States appears to be yielding to the doctrine that mere spending of government funds is a panacea for economic ills.

Some British businessmen with whom this correspondent has talked are impressed with the recent tendency of American investors to ask about stocks in European companies. This is a rather surprising development, because of a tendency on the part of Americans for many years to ignore investments in European securities. There is curiosity here as to the probable cause of this trend.

The most plausible answer, of course, is that margins of profit for many American companies will tend to become narrower and narrower as the labor unions inside the United States arbitrarily push costs upward and as the government uninterruptedly takes a 52 per cent share of the profits.

In Britain there are some significant warnings being issued to labor unions that they must watch their step—that they cannot indefinitely continue to press wage demands irrespective of the economic effect on the country as a whole.

It is interesting to note the discussion going on here about the alleged weakness of the American dollar, particularly since so much publicity has been given to the outflow of gold from the United States. Writing in the London Sunday Observer, Alan Day says:

"A great deal too much play has been made recently with the idea of the weakness of the dollar.

"Obviously there is a strong temptation for us in Britain to take pleasure when sterling's international rival is under pressure while sterling is standing well in world esteem. But it would be wise to restrain any tendency to chortle at our friend's misfortunes; if they were really to become serious, the effects on us would be very unpleasant.

"Fortunately there is no reason to think that the dollar is at present under any real pressure. . . .

"Sterling and the dollar must hang together. We cannot hope to let the dollar hang separately. . . .

"As far as the flows of payment sent to and out of the United States are concerned, the current position is one which we should all regard as encouraging. America is playing the role of a good creditor which we have so long demanded of her, by lending abroad and making grants to poor countries. At the same time she is importing on an immense scale because she provides the most prosperous and one of the most wide-open markets in the world."

It isn't often that a British writer commends the United States for its tariff policies, but the same article goes on to say:

"A great deal is heard of American tariffs or import restrictions, but the fact is that her policies are remarkably liberal. Many of her tariffs, particularly on industrial goods, are low by the standards of the advanced industrial countries—as an example, cars pay 10 per cent going into the United States compared with about 20 per cent in Germany and 30 per cent in France and Britain."

It is further pointed out by Day that protection of American manufacturing and industry by quotas is so rare, as to make headline news, whereas Britain and other European countries "still protect many sensitive industries in this way even though there are no longer any real balance-of-payment reasons for doing it."

Despite the alleged weakness of the American dollar, there is an optimism and a buoyancy in world economic affairs today which has not been noted since prewar days. The feeling is that even the smaller countries are beginning to show signs of industrial progress.

Dr. William Brady Says:

The Invisible Capillary—Fact or Medical Fiction?

The smallest blood vessel visible to the naked eye is an arteriole. Arterioles, like the larger arteries, have a wall of three layers. The inner layer or lining is endothelium. The middle layer is smooth or involuntary muscle. The outer layer is fibrous tissue.

DR. BRADY

There are no blood vessels smaller than the arterioles. The smallest veins are venules.

Blood vessels so fine that they are visible only under the microscope are arterioles or venules.

When the blood vessel becomes so fine or narrow that you can't see it under the microscope it's still there, the anatomists aver, and they call it a capillary.

One former professor of anatomy in a Class A medical school informed me that capillaries average 8 twenty-five thousandths of an inch in diameter. Red blood corpuscles are 7½ twenty-five thousandths or 15 fifty-thousandths of an inch in diameter. There are roughly 40 million red corpuscles in each drop of blood, etc. etc.

Now I've thought and thought about this for many years and I can't understand why anatomists physiologists and physicians cling to the hypothesis of capillary vessels carrying blood from the ultimate arterioles to the proximate venules.

No one can demonstrate a capillary vessel. The anatomists draw pictures of capillary vessels. They do not make microphotographs of them. You can't photograph something that isn't there!

It would take quite a while for a drop of blood to get through a capillary only one-fifty-thousandths of an inch wider than the blood corpuscles, wouldn't you think? But, believe it or not, the average time from ultimate arteriole to proximate venule is only four to 8 seconds.

There's no need for capillary vessels. The blood in the capillary bed just seeps or oozes through the tissues, giving all the cells a blood bath so that they may take up the oxygen and nutriment the blood brings and give off the carbon dioxide and other products of metabolism to the blood to take back to the lungs, kidneys, etc. for elimination. Walled capillary vessels would only impede this vital process.

I wouldn't mind the anatomical, physiological and medical prittle-prattle about capillary vessels if anybody could show that man has any use for them.

'Ambulances Must Have Such Special Privileges'

In answer to G.P.R., an ambulance is an emergency vehicle along with fire and police vehicles. It's given certain privileges as to speed and right of way for protection of the public, according to the Michigan Vehicle Code.

The law requires any emergency vehicle to have a flashing or rotating light and a siren or bell to warn of its approach while on emergency runs. As for G.P.R.'s statement, "Tell it to the judge," have you always yielded right of way by pulling off to the side of the road as required by law?

The City Commission has before it a proposed ordinance that would provide a control. It will also do away with speed and efficiency Pontiac people are accustomed to and would necessitate an increase in ambulance rates. It would do away with all emergency calls, increasing chance for loss of life and limb. For your protection, it's necessary that ambulances have these privileges, as it could be you or one of your family we're going after.

'Here's One Man Saving Us Money'

Some people are attacking Defense Secretary McElroy, but I would like to say a word of praise. More than 12 months ago he was voted 30 million dollars for secret defense projects when necessary and now he has given back 28 million to the Government. I say three cheers for anyone that saves us taxpayers some money.

Objects to Letter Condemning Dog

L. Lankshire seems to think the dog that attacked the little boy was very vicious. How can that be when the dog played around children as much as they say?

If L. Lankshire had ever owned a dog he'd know a vicious dog wouldn't play with children. We always had a dog or two and have two now. One of our dogs bit my brother as a child, but it was because he picked up a stick and the dog thought he intended to strike him. Naturally, he defended himself. Probably this boy unintentionally hurt the dog and caused him to attack him.

Anyone who doesn't like animals I wouldn't care to have as a friend, and L. Lankshire gives me that impression.

Wants to Get Rid of Bird-Killing Cats

A letter in the Voice of the People asked if DDT has killed the robins. It may have done so, but I'd also like to tell the writer that cats are about as bad. Dogs don't bother birds, but cats are sneaky, life-long foes of birds and especially young ones. Rid your neighborhood of cats and your robins may return. Persians, Siamese and Angoras are the worst and they are especially deadly at night.

'If We Economize, We Won't Need Tax'

The piggyback graduated state income tax and/or the increase in sales tax would be unnecessary if we had government economy, stopped waste and curtailed some of the services.

The State of Michigan is practically broke and seeking ways of getting more tax dollars to pay current bills, yet they talk of raising legislators' salaries.

People should vote a definite limit on taxation at its present level. We must elect men who are determined to cut and cut more taxes and expenditures to the bone.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

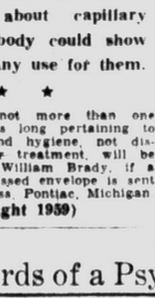

Wives, Beware Sins of Omission

Molly's case is duplicated in millions of homes so every smart wife should scrapbook this case and also send for the sex booklet named below. Even if you aren't now in Molly's dilemma, you better get forwarned. It saves a lot of heartache and even prevents divorce to learn how to handle middle aged husbands.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case B-458: Molly M., aged 39, has a very common marital problem.

"Dr. Crane," she asked during a recent forum discussion following one of my lectures in Ogden, Utah, "I need some advice.

"My husband is at that 'difficult age' in men. He no longer seems to have any interest in me, physically.

"He is caustic and hypercritical. In fact, he really 'nags' at me about everything.

"Nothing I do is ever correct. He seems obsessed with the constant desire to beat down my pride and reduce me to tears.

"His love seems to have turned to ashes. Is there any hope for me to rebuild happiness in my home?"

SNARLING HUSBANDS

Yes, a wife can easily remedy such a situation if she simply takes a detached view for a few weeks and analyzes the problem as a psychiatrist does.

Men, as well as their wives, are all branded at birth with this very significant motto—"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT."

If you wives keep your husbands constantly feeling important, they will love you forever. If, however, you deflate their vanity, especially in the sexual realm, then they grow caustic and snarlish.

"She's deflated me," is their subconscious viewpoint, "so I'll find fault and criticize and generally beat down her ego till she is in tears and thus indicating she feels lower than I do."

"But I never deflated my husband's ego in the sexual realm," Molly protested, sincerely.

But Molly was mistaken, for wives unwittingly deflate their husbands on many occasions without ever realizing that fact.

It is more a wife's sins of omission that cause feuding in her home instead of her sins of commission!

For example, the average wife does not two-time her mate or sneak off to saloons and get drunk in the afternoon while her husband is at work.

No, the average American wife is a respectable person and generally a pretty good cook and mother.

She can even rate an "A" grade in her kitchen department, as well as in the nursery where she functions as a good mother.

She can likewise win an "A" in the living room by entertaining properly for her husband's clients or his boss.

But it is in the bedroom where most wives fail! And they often don't even dream that they are thus driving their husbands away from them.

For their usual errors are thus sins of omission; not of commission.

Men are more vain in the sexual realm than women, for they cannot tolerate the thought they may be platonic mates.

Because their ardor may be three or four times that of their new bride, it begins to scare them when, after 25 years of marriage, their erotic desire dwindles to a 1:1 ratio.

The wife may not even dream of the inner torture her mate is suffering as he grows scared and panicky. And she may unwittingly rebuff his attempts to act young and "kittenish" again, thus driving him into complete impotence.

So send for the booklet, "How to Prevent Impotence in Men," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Molly used its advice to restore her mate to his former devoted self, for it is usually the wife who can best demolish her middleaged husband's secret erotic phobias.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Only Top Man Can Speak for Russia

Geneva Stalemate Proves Point for Nikita

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Nikita Khrushchev has proved his point: that only the top men—the "heavyweights" — can call the shots or really settle anything and that their foreign ministers are only their messenger boys.

The month-old Geneva meeting of the ministers — American, Soviet, British, French — has become almost farcial. Four weeks of talking and nothing accomplished, nothing settled.

Dead-pan Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko can't agree, decide or yield on anything unless his boss, Khrushchev, says so. So far Khrushchev has only told him to be polite, stand still, and keep his mouth open.

The lead on The Associated Press story out of Geneva after Tuesday's session — as fruitless as any which preceded it— was like a pathetic footnote on a shadow dance.

It said: "The Western foreign ministers showed deep concern today that the Geneva conference may collapse unless Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev intervenes quickly to break the deadlock."

That has been true from the beginning. Nobody — certainly not the Western ministers — had any illusion to the contrary. Everything depended on Khrushchev. Gromyko was just his frontman.

The only reason he permitted the ministers' meeting at all was because the West — principally Eisenhower — had insisted on it.

But there had always been an underlying irony in the President's requirements: any concession or agreement by the Soviets at Geneva would actually be a concession by Khrushchev which he could just as well have made at a summit meeting.

Nevertheless, Eisenhower had a point of his own in the two conditions he laid down. It was like telling Khrushchev: if you really mean business, prove it at Geneva before you and I get together; otherwise, I'd just have to hope you meant business.

Yet from the beginning, Khrushchev has created a dilemma for Eisenhower.

A ministers' meeting could as a necessary preliminary to a later summit meeting between Eisenhower and Khrushchev.

Eisenhower actually laid down two conditions for a summit conference. First, the foreign ministers must meet; second, they must show some progress, which would mean agreement, or concessions, on something.

If Khrushchev, who thinks so little of the ministers' meeting, break up without any agreement —Khrushchev could be using it to prove it was a waste of time for anyone but the top men to talk— but that would not necessarily prove he couldn't do business at the summit.

If Khrushchev, who thinks so little of the ministers' meeting, now lets Gromyko make a concession before the ministers break up, it will probably be only to deprive Eisenhower of any argument against meeting him at the summit.

Council Lauds Poole for Good Citizenship

SEEK PROFESSIONAL STAFF

Elected to the board of directors were (three year terms) Judge Adams, Karl W. Bradley, Carroll Osmun, Philip E. Rowston, Mrs. Socrates V. Sekles, Mrs. Floyd H. Smith and David E. Utley; (two-year term) Mrs. Neil Wasserberger; and (one-year terms) Dr. Robert R. Turpin and Clyde R. Haskill.

The council's Ways and Means Committee, headed by Osmun recommended seeking an annual appropriation from the Pontiac Area United Fund to hire a staff of professional social workers for the council.

At present, the council has only $105 on hand, raised through nominal membership fees.

Judge Adams said the council's activities are hampered by the fact that all work is done on a spare-time basis by volunteers.

"We are not accomplishing as much as we should," he said.

The speaker of the evening had some suggestions aimed at the council's program of social and civic action. He was Arnold Gurin, special lecturer on social work at Michigan State University.

Gurin believed the council could accomplish more by limiting itself to social welfare activities, concentrating on such problems as juvenile delinquency, mental health and the aged.

"These are the new focal points of social welfare planning in our day and age," he said.

Welfare planning councils need funds, Gurin reminder, to finance research by professional staffs.

"You also need money to put plans into action. No plan is worth much if it's not put into action," Gurin said.

SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Gurin said that volunteer groups, such as the council, should be concerned with social adjustment as it relates to the entire community.

Volunteer groups have as their province problems that lie beyond the present scope of government and specialized social agencies, he said.

"Groups such as the Pontiac council face an enormous challenge in achieving a better level of social adjustment for the American people," he said.

'Mad Sniper' Cured, Slated for Release

Ziem was notified yesterday of Taylor's impending release by Dr. Perry C. Robertson, medical superintendent at Ionia.

"Taylor has recovered from his psychosis and will no longer be a menace to society," Robertson wrote.

At the time Taylor was committed, Ziem said:

"Should Taylor at some time be found by a court to be restored to sanity, he will still face criminal conviction on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

'NEVER DROP WARRANT'

"We will never drop our warrant."

Taylor will be returned for trial as soon as proper arrangements can be made, Ziem said.

This Theft Justified

SAVANNAH, Ga. (U.P.I.) — James Gordon, 43, who recently escaped from the city prison, was acquitted of a charge of stealing his prison uniform. "You couldn't expect him to walk on the streets without clothes on," ruled Judge George Oliver.

Book Writer's Teen Daughter Returns Home

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) —"Everone has been so wonderful," the wildly happy mother sobbed. "We just can't thank them enough."

Her 19-year-old daughter, Linda Millar, was returning home after a 10-day disappearance climaxed by her father's written appeal to return, distributed to newspapers, radio and TV.

Her parents are mystery writers Kenneth and Margaret Millar. She is the couple's only child. The tall, dark-haired girl is an honor student at the University of California.

A psychiatrist who treated her recently said Linda is haunted by a feeling of guilt—she has been on probation since she killed an 11-year-old boy with her car three years ago.

Armand Girola, a private detective hired by the family, said the girl spent 10 days wandering aimlessly around Reno and northern California gambling resorts. She "just wasn't herself," he added.

He said the girl read the father's appeal and telephoned her mother. The father contacted Girola, who picked up the girl in Reno Tuesday night.

Girola said she was alone, and was overwrought with fears about repercussions at school and at home.

Summer Reading at Library to Begin

Youngsters from the first grade through the sixth can register at the main or branch libraries.

This year's subject will be Americana, said Mrs. John Eddie, children's librarian.

Children in the program will be asked to read 10 books on the United States, Canada, Hawaii and Alaska between July 6 and Aug. 22.

For the youngsters that read all the books, there'll be a party at the Adah Shelley Branch Library.

Pair Falls Off Boat, Drown

Four Others Aboard Fail to See Mishap Laid to Sharp Turn

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — A man and a woman were lost overboard from a 22-foot cabin cruiser on calm Lake St. Clair last night, vanishing unseen by four companions.

The body of Mrs. Alvina Hodnett, 42, of Harrison Township, widowed mother of three children, was recovered.

Lyle J. Root Sr., 31, also of Harrison Township, a salesman and owner of the boat, disappeared with Mrs. Hodnett. A search is under way.

Companions said the two may have fallen off the boat when it made a sharp turn shortly before 7 p.m.

Roy King, 26, of Harrison Township, said Root had given him the wheel and he (Root) and Mrs. Hodnett were sitting in a back seat. King said their absence was first noticed shortly after the turn.

Also aboard the boat were Barbara Duch, 33; Mrs. Vera Joseph, 38, and William Zierniachowski, 22, all of Harrison Township.

Sylvan Sets Cost Charge for Water System Tie-Ins

The Sylvan Lake City Council last night adopted a resolution requiring residents to pay the altual cost of installation rather than a flat fee when tapping into the city's water system.

The new water ordinance amendment provides that the flat installation fee of $100 previously in effect can be increased if the cost comes to more than $100.

"We have experienced considerable loss in some instances, especially when digging is done in the winter, and the city has had to pay everything over the $100 fee," explained David E. Firestone, city manager.

The council also adopted an ordinance regulating weed control on Sylvan Lake. Anyone cutting weeds now must retrieve them.

Firestone also reported that the city's two experimental sites for chemical control of weeds in swimming areas had yielded excellent results.

In other business, the Board of Appeals granted an appeal by James R. Cavalier of 1424 Rosedale St. to retain his garage in its present position although, according to the building code, it is too close to the lot line.

The city also entered in an agreement with Pontiac that the Pontiac Board of Examiners will examine applicants for heating licenses in Sylvan Lake.

The consolidation of bank accounts was discussed and tabled for further consideration. Councilmen also reviewed proposed changes in the city's personnel policy.

Seek Oil Near Albion

ALBION (AP) — A new attempt to find oil in Lee Township, 15 miles northwest of Albion, has begun with setting up of a Lesh Drilling Co. rig on the Floyd Lynn onion farm. An earlier drilling, two miles to the northeast, showed gas, but not oil.

At latest count, there were 266,738 groceries in the United States and their total sales were nearly 33 billion dollars.

'Belt' Accidents on July 4th

CHICAGO (UPI)—The National Safety Council today—almost a month ahead of time—urged motorists to get safety belts for the Fourth of July weekend.

"Keep your safety guard up and keep accidents down," the council warned, noting that an all-time high of 45 million motorists would be on the highways for the three-day holiday.

The council said highways are 25 ot 30 per cent more dangerous during holiday periods than during normal weekends.

"People get a little to carefree simply because it's a holiday. They forget to be cautious. They get 'holiday happy,'" the council said.

Among the council's recommendations for a safe Fourth of July was the obtaining of seat belts.

Conductor in Mood, Stabs Himself in Leg

ROME, N. Y. (UPI)—During a rehersal for a concert, director William Moonan told the civic chorus: "In this phase, you're out of control."

On the downbeat, Moonan stabbed himself in the leg with his baton. A nurse from the soprano section effected first aid and the rehearsal continued.

TV and Newspapers Change One Another

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Larger type for easier reading and bigger and better pictures are being used by some newspapers because of television competition, Karl F. Zeisler, University of Michigan journalism professor, said Wednesday.

Zeisler told an alumni reunion that television's influence also has led newspapers to provide more explanatory material in their news columns "to help readers improve their understanding of current events.

"On the other hand," Zeisler said, "newspaper criticism has made TV sensitive, eliminating some bad taste in commercials and improving the quality of programming somewhat. Newspaper competition also has resulted in gradual improvement of TV news coverage."

While the U. S. spent nearly 45 billion dollars on defense in 1958, the nearest any other NATO member came to that figure was the United Kingdom with slightly more than 4½ billions.

Community Raises Funds for Factory

HOUGHTON (AP) — A group of business and professional men in this Upper Peninsula community has raised $60,000 toward a goal of $100,000 for a new boat factory.

Sponsors said they expect no trouble in raising the remaining $40,000 through subscriptions ranging from $100 to $5,000.

The group, called the Copper Country Industrial Center, plans to lease or buy the building of the Dollar Bay Wire Mill, which closed last March. The shutdown idled 80 persons in Dollar Bay, a community of 700.

The Copper Country group plans to build 16-foot and 18-foot outboard motorboats and small cruisers. Dollar Bay is on the Portage Canal between Keweenaw Bay and Lake Superior.

Pulpwood Someday May Be Piped to Plants

NEW YORK (AP)—Pulpwood to be made into newsprint may some day travel directly from the forests to the paper mills through pipelines, if an experiment by the Pulp and Paper Research Institute of Canada proves feasible.

The Newsprint Information Committee says tests are underway in which pulpwood, reduced to one-inch chips, is powered through a pipeline 500 feet long and eight inches in diameter.

Journey To Love

By Virginia Nielsen

© 1959 by Virginia Nielsen. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Someone tried to enter Kathie's state room during the night. She does not know who, but she suspects that it is one of the group of people she has become acquainted with on the voyage to Hawaii.

CHAPTER XIII

The third night out was balmy, and an atmosphere of languor hung over the ship.

Bea Powers was herself again now, vivacious and charming particularly when she exerted herself for Sam.

It was obvious, to Kathie at least, that Bea was constantly devising subtle ways to throw Leilani and Sam together.

More than once she found herself foiled by what was almost a tacit agreement between Kathie and Alex to avoid being left alone with each other.

But tonight she was momentarily successful when, after dinner, she asked Leilani to go below for her wrap, then in an undertone asked Sam to go with her.

"Do you mind, darling?" Kathie overheard her say. "There's an old man across the passageway who's been obnoxiously attentive, the silly old fool."

Sam rose with polite acquiescense, and Bea turned brightly to Kathie and Alex. "Shall we wait for them out on deck?"

Her heart was beating unevenly as she walked beside Alex and Bea out of the dining salon, with Alex' fingers lightly touching her arm now and then in guidance.

Bea Powers chattered gaily and entertainingly, regaling them with the latest ship's gossip, apparently unaware that they were avoiding each other's eyes and speaking, when they found it necessary to answer her, in strained voices.

The three of them stood at the rail looking down at the moon, incredibly larger now than when they left San Francisco.

'I'D BETTER GO IN'

Bea shivered and said, "Dear me, I should have waited for my wrap! I think I'd better go inside."

"We'll go with you," Alex said.

"No, no!" she said archly. "I wouldn't think of taking you two out of this gorgeous moonlight! I'll just step inside and wait for Leilani." And she was hurrying away.

Alex looked after her with a quizzically lifted eyebrow.

"Has anyone tried to steal your deed lately?" he asked her, his voice light with mockery.

"Not since I took it to the purser," Kathie said, then could have bitten her tongue out for telling him where the deed was.

"Smart girl." He was so obviously making fun of her that she was angered.

She flung at him: "Someone did try my door the first night out, you know." She stole a glance at his shadowed face and said quickly, "And if you try to tell me that it was some drunk who got the wrong door—"

"You took the words right out of my mouth," Alex said drily.

"Oh—!" She turned angrily away from him, but he caught her arm.

"Dance?" he said, a suggestion of laughter in his voice. And only then did she become aware that the musicians had begun playing, and that down at the far end of the deck a few couples were moving dreamily in rhythm.

KATHIE SHOOK

"Afraid?" Alex said softly, as she hesitated. Kathie shook back her dark hair and moved defiantly into his arms.

She was afraid he could hear her heart pounding against her ribs. They danced in a tense silence, too much aware of each other to dance well.

It was a relief when Kathie felt Sam's hand on her arm. "Cut."

Beside him, Leilani was smiling at Alex, and he turned to her with obvious pleasure. Sam put his arm around Kathie and guided her off expertly.

"Kathie, you're trembling!" he said, surprised.

"I'm—chilly," she lied.

Over his shoulder, Kathie watched Leilani and Alex move together in a perfection that betrayed long practice together. And her eyes were dark and troubled.

Eager as Kathie was to see the goal of her dreams, she saw the last morning of the voyage dawn with a faint regret.

The five days just past had been the most memorable of her life, and even the fact that Hawaii was so near could not dim their glamour.

SEE DIAMOND HEAD

Though they had danced late the night before, many of the passengers were on deck shortly afted dawn for their first glimpse of Diamond Head.

A cry went up from the rail when the first faint outlines of blue were discovered. With disappointment, Kathie learned that the point she saw was not the famed Head.

"Any land looks good after five days at sea," Beau Powers said, reproving her impatience.

The mirage grew and deepened and changed color, and eagerly Kathie studied her first sight of the green hills and valleys. Presently she could make out white buildings and a rocky coastline. The ship was moving very slowly now following along the coast.

And then there was Diamond Head, the landmark, presenting its blank, impressive face to the sea.

As they rounded the point, they could see a tug coming to meet them. Strains of Hawaiian music were wafted across the water toward the Lurline, and as the tug neared, the excited passengers could see a number of girls in grass skirts with flowers in their dark hair, and piles of what appeared to be brightly colored flowers.

"The official greeters," Alex observed dryly.

Castro's Sweet Offer Is Rejected by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has rejected Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's offer to let Cuba supply all the sugar this country needs in 1961, it was learned today.

The offer was called preposterous by Sen. Allen Ellender (D-La) when it was announced last Friday.

U.S. officials declined comment, but the rejection was considered certain, since Castro's plan would have put U.S. domestic area producers out of business, disrupted the economy of other nations supplying sugar to the United States, and made the United States completely dependent on imports for sugar requirements.

Cuba normally supplies about three million tons of sugar to the United States. The remainder of annual requirements comes from U.S. producers, the Philippines, the Dominican Republic, Mexico, Peru an other hemisphere nations.

Farmington Asks County Aid

By MARY CELINSKE
Farmington Correspondent

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The township has decided to toss its water problem into the lap of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

At its regular meeting Tuesday the Board passed a resolution requesting that "the county through its Department of Public Works make a study of the township's water problems and submit a solution."

The Board, after five years, still is unable to come up with a satisfactory solution to the problem of supplying water to a six-square-mile "dry" area of the township.

Curtis Hall, township supervisor said, "I am pleased they (the DPW) have consented to study this. It was futile to try and solve the problem on a township level, and the formation of an authority with the City of Farmington (proposed by a former supervisor) would not have been feasible."

Oakland County DPW's Director Harold K. Schone said yesterday "We have some ideas on the township's water situation, but the Board of Public Works will have to authorize us to begin the study."

Schone added that he knew of the township's water problem but had not looked into it closely.

"This is not foreign to us," he said. "We think we know what the answer it, and it involves much more than Farmington Township Any program like this should serve a larger area."

Schone indicated that a water line along Inkster road could serve not only Farmington City and Township but western Southfield, West Bloomfield Township and possibly Waterford Township.

Such a program would be financed at a county rather than a township level, making bonds more attractive and giving a reduced rate of interest.

This would be done much in the same way as the Farmington Interceptor Sewer, Schone stated.

Since August 1954, the Farmington Townhip Board has been trying to bring a water system into a six-square-mile area where a lack of ground water affects almost 2,000 homes with an estimated population of 7,000 to 9,000 persons.

Families living in this area have been forced to carry their drinking water in jugs and cans from gas stations and fire halls. Now four supervisors and five years later, the problem is still unsolved.

Building Drive Reaches $53,110

St. Patrick's Church Is Boosted by Memorial Gift Reservations

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A total of $53,110 in memorial gift reservations to the St. Patrick's Church building fund here has increased greatly the momentum of the parish's recently-announced campaign, according to C. Stanley Freville, general chairman of the drive.

A second training meeting for all workers on the program will be held next Wednesday. The drive opening will be on June 22 in St. Patrick's Church.

The campaign, under the direction of John V. McCarthy and Associates of Detroit, Catholic financial consultants, is being conducted to raise as much as possible of the parish's total need of $218,000 for a permanent church and to liquidate an existing debt.

In commenting on the excellent results to date of the memorial phase, the Rev. Lewis M. Ellis, pastor and honorary chairman of the campaign, said, "I expected the parishioners to cooperate whole-heartedly and to give generously to the fund. Their loyalty and response in the past indicated that such would be the case.

"However, I am most pleasantly surprised by the initial reports from members of the memorial gifts committee," he added.

"My thanks to all workers, who are giving of their time and energy, and to all donors, both parishioners and friends."

Albert G. Small, the team captains chairman, reports that eight teams of men will function during the campaign's general phase. Visitation of all prospects is scheduled to be completed by July 8. Pledges are to be paid during the next 24 months.

Athletic Field Gets Big Boost

Armada Lions Donate $3,000, Bringing Fund to Total of $8,442

ARMADA—A recent donation of $3,000 from the Armada Lions Club has swelled the total now in the Armada Area Lighted Athletic Field Fund to $8,442, a fund spokesman announced today.

This latest contribution assures the ultimate success of the drive to provide a lighted field comparable to those in the neighboring communities of Romeo, Capac and Richmond, its sponsors say.

To establish a lighted athletic field, a plot of land owned by the Armada area school will be used. The field is located west of the Armada Fairgrounds and south of the drive leading to the school.

It is approximately 450 feet long and 240 feet wide, with ample room for a football field and a Little League baseball field on the property.

As soon as plans are completed, the site will be developed. The Detroit Edison Co., has started work on the electrical plans necessary for a project of this type.

Local organizations, business men, the Sportsmen's Club and many individuals have promised to support the project one hundred per cent, officials said.

A Community Committee is now in the process of forming various work groups including light, tiling, water, financing, grading and seeding.

WEIGHT LIFTERS — Winner of a recent weight-shedding contest (18 pounds in 5 weeks), Mrs. H. J. Sansom gets warning looks from organizer of the new club, Mrs. Philip Miller, and Mrs. Gerald Hodge. A Gal's Weighty Woes Bring Club That Grows

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

CLARKSTON — Because a former school teacher thought she was getting a little chubby after she quit teaching, a get-slim club, involving the entire community, is now in operation.

When Clarkston home economics high school teacher Mrs. Philip Miller, of 6695 Eastlawn Ave., resigned her position to keep house, she was a streamlined 120 pounds.

Then with a little more leisure, an appreciative family that joved good food and handy access to the cookie jar, Mrs. Miller felt her 24-inch waistline begin to expand.

After a year, she suddenly discovered she had gained 16 pounds, which "felt like 60."

INCREASE CONTINUES

In spite of the activity of keeping house and rearing two girls and a boy, Mrs. Miller's mid-section continued to increase in circumference.

After talking it over with friends, Mrs. Miller discovered that many women were in the same boat she was — anxious to shed weight in the right places —right now!

So the little high-calorie lunches with the girls became extremely low-calorie get-togethers. They had so much fun sympathizing with each other's hunger pangs, that they decided to share their misery with additional weight carriers.

In the spring, the group placed an advertisement in the paper for a "Get-slim-for-Easter" Club. The response was excellent, and the chubby gals continued the weekly low-calorie noonday luncheon meetings.

Although there was no exercising during these sessions, "we sure talked about it," Mrs. Miller related.

Finally the lunches were eliminated altogether, and the gals got down to the real business of shedding extra heft.

WEEKLY WEIGH-IN

They obtained the approval of the Independence Township Recreation committee to organize, and now weekly weighing-in time is 7:30 to 8 p.m. Thursdays at the high school.

At tonight's session, the newly-organized club of 25 members will vote on official by-laws (after weighing-in) elect officers and plan for the future.

It's anybody's guess what the courageous women will name their club, but it looks like "Good Losers" has the inside track as the winner.

First Group of Air Force Academy Graduates Establishes Initial Tradition

WASHINGTON — The Class of 1959 takes a unique place in the brief annals of the United States Air Force Academy. It is the first to graduate from the four-year-old training school in Colorado.

Bare of ivy and venerable tradition, the counterpart of West Point and Annapolis tops a mesa some ten miles north of Colorado Springs. The pine-and-spruce-clad slopes of Rampart Range, a part of the Rockies, loom high above the airy, ultramodern campus structures.

"The aerie of the Falcons, the quadrangular main complex of Academy buildings, is so new that there are still almost as many construction workers on the campus as students," the June National Geographic Magazine reports.

The first graduating class of Falcons, who are commissioned as second lieutenants, spent three of the four Academy years at Lowry Air Force Base, Denver. It was not until autumn, 1958, that the 1,100-man Cadet Wing moved to the mesa.

'GLASS BATTLESHIPS'

The cadet newspaper Dodo irreverently described the new quarters as "glass battleships afloat in a sea of mud." The Wing, it said, would be issued brown shoes so the mud wouldn't show, and fourth classmen would double time only when the muck was less than two feet deep.

Now the raw look is wearing off. Housing for an eventual campus population of 1,200 staff and faculty families mushrooms in nearby valleys. Hand planted trees and grass hide cattle trails.

They are spectacular above all at night, when the lights within are on and the rectilinear forms glow with soft incandescence against their backdrop of dark mountains.

"Being new has its advantages," Maj. Gen. James E. Briggs, academy superintendent, said, "Nothing binds us to the past. That goes for customs that may have outlived their usefulness, and it certainly goes for teaching methods and curriculum."

The average cadet comes to the fourth, or freshman, class as an unmarried youth 17 to 22 years old. He reports in June, is shorn of all but an inch of his top hair, and draws a Garand M1 rifle.

LEARN TO LEAD

His life is taken over by first classmen, who thus get a refresher course in the merciless but impersonal ordeal of basic training and also learn to lead men.

In the late summer the cadet moves out into the field and then to an Air Force base. He learns the basic arts of field soldiering; helps arm and service real planes; rides with veteran pilots in jets. The youth is permitted to fly a T33 trainer.

In the autumn the field-hardened cadet and his fellow classmen return to the mesa. During the next four years, the Air Force endeavors to turn those boys into well-rounded men with intellectual curiosity and an ability to think for themselves.

Half the courses are in social sciences and humanities. Explained the dean of faculty, Col. Robert F. McDermott:

"We're not producing engineers. The cadet here receives a broad liberal education and a good knowledge of the sciences applicable to his service, which means aeronautics, astronautics, nuclear physics and electronics."

Astronautics joined the curriculum only in 1958 and is exclusively for first classmen. There are no textbooks. Col. Benjamin P. Blasingame, the department head, who served as top Air Force officer on the Titan missile project, is writing them as he goes along.

DESIGN MISSILE

Essential to the curriculum is "airmanship," a major character builder and prime source of cadet career motivation.

This feature of a cadet's training may take him to Eglin Air Force Base in Florida to observe weapons tests; to Martin's missile plant in Denver; to rocket testing grounds in Florida or California.

It may take the cadet on a tour of Allied military installations overseas, or permit him to spend a summer in the Army parachute school at Fort Benning, Ga.

Airmanship also includes the athletic program. Every cadet plays on an intercollegiate or intramural team. Sports run the gamut from judo to skiing.

The Cadet Wing is directly supervised by "AOCs" — air officers commanding. They share the cadets' long hours, their problems, the grief of a boy who flunks out. AOCs are assisted by a hierarchy of cadet officers who are mostly first classmen.

PARENTS MARVEL

Visiting parents always marvel at the efficiency of the cadet-operated "security flight," which produces a student on five minutes' notice or gives his whereabouts if duties detain him.

Though the Academy is brand-new, it has already begun to develop legends—the unexpected football victory, classic escapades.

Officials are still wondering how cadets managed to cram an airplane wing tank into a room not much bigger than the tank and fill it with a ton of water.

New York Has Touch of West

Old Stagecoach Carries Wells College Seniors to Their Graduation

AURORA, N. Y. (UPI)—A century-old stagecoach which once carried passengers, supplies and mail to lonely frontier outposts now provides this upstate New York village with a touch of the old West.

Each spring the young ladies who constitute the graduating class of Wells College are carried in the coach to their baccalaureate service at the village Presbyterian Church.

The well-preserved vehicle, used by the Wells Fargo Company in the days when the only traffic hazards were wild Indians, came to the college in 1926. W. L. Petrikin, of Denver, donated it in honor of his daughter's graduation that year.

Since then, the coach has been put to use twice each year, at graduation and for the annual May procession.

After each trip, the village small fry have their day—they swarm over the coach and horses for the trip back to the "stable," which is a place of honor in the college's art studio.

The original wheels, which saw use on the St. Joseph, Mo.-San Francisco run, are still on the hand-hewn hickory body. The running gear and the sturdy iron work still attest to the material and workmanship that went into the vehicle.

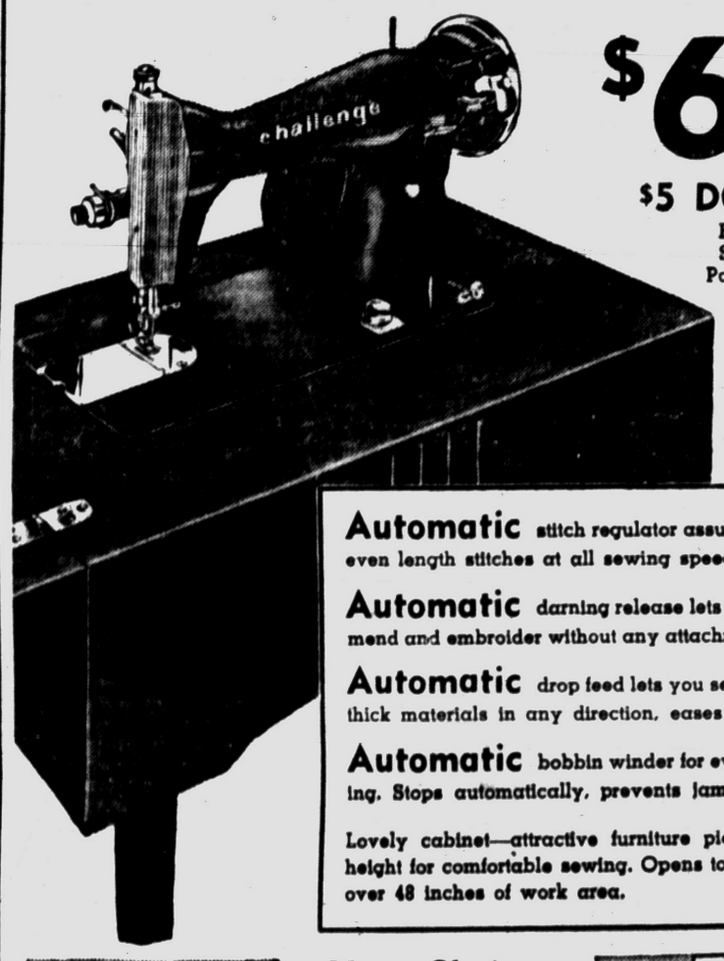

While the presence of a stagecoach on the campus of an Eastern college for women might seem unusual to an outsider, it is accepted here on a par with ivy, quadrangles and old grads.

The college was founded by Henry Wells, the Vermont-born expressman who with William G. Fargo, started the famed line which bore their names.

12-Year-Old Boy Cops Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Tall, slow-speaking Joel Montgomery, 12, of Denver, Colo., today became the first boy in five years to win the National Spelling Bee.

Joel won out over runner-up Robert Crossley, 13, of Center Square, Pa., by correctly spelling "fanfaronade," which had tripped Robert. Joel then correctly spelled "catamaran."

The two boys battled it out through six rounds of tongue-twisting words that make up a speller's nightmare.

The victory for Joel, a seventh grader, came in the 30th round of the two-day bee and after a see-saw battle in which both he and Robert misspelled the same word. —"Vinaigrous." Under the rules of the game, the bee then continued and Joel became the winner.

Youth Paralyzed After Diving Into Swim Hole

MADISON HEIGHTS—A 16-year-old Madison Heights boy, who became paralyzed when he hit bottom in a dive in five feet of water in a swimming hole yesterday afternoon, is fighting for his life in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

James Rhodes of 134 E. Brockton went to Farmer Brown's swimming hole off East 15 Mile road in Warren with a group of boys after final exams at Madison Heights High School.

Rhodes, able to speak but unable to move his arms or legs, was pulled to an island by Gary Deal, 18, of 84 E. Hudson St.

Union Rejects Steel Offer

Firms Would Lift Pay Freeze if Rules Changes Allowed

NEW YORK (AP)—The steel industry has made an overture—quickly rejected by the union—that the industry drop its insistence on a one-year wage freeze if the union would make specific concessions on other contract terms.

That leaves the United Steelworkers of America and the industry still deadlocked less than three weeks from a strike deadline.

The industry proposed eight contract changes which it said would increase efficiency and reduce waste.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator and executive vice president of the U.S. Steel Corp., said union acceptance of the proposals would "generate new economic progress which could be shared by the employes, the stockholders and the public."

Immediately after industry negotiators made the proposal Wednesday, USW President David J. McDonald turned it down and called it "industrial blackmail."

The three-year contract in the industry expires June 30. If no agreement on a new contract is reached by then, 500,000 union members will almost certainly strike in plants that produce 90 per cent of the nation's steel.

Pair Bound Over to Circuit Court in Store Burglary

Two men accused of burglarizing the Western Auto Store, 162 N. Saginaw St., were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday after examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Loran K. Wilson, 27, of 6551 Williams Lake Rd., Waterford Township, and Thomas W. McNamara, 24, of 5116 Drayton St., will be arraigned June 22.

Both men are free under personal bond.

They were arrested the evening of April 13 by Patrolman Robert H. Rood who heard a noise at the rear of the store and, upon investigating, came upon the two men.

Admits Phony Check Scheme

Waterford Man Gives Self Up After Trio Used Defunct Firm

A Waterford Township man who has confessed turning over checks from his defunct service station to two ex-convicts to cash will be arraigned in Oakland County Circuit Court next Monday.

Pontiac Police Detective Robert Emery said that 13 checks totaling at least $1,100 were cashed by the two convicts, believed to have fled to California.

John S. Morris, 20, of 5635 Highland Rd., Waterford Township, told Emery he gave the checks to the convicts after closing down his gas station, the Jack Morris Pure Oil Service, 1540 Elizabeth Lake Rd., late in May.

He said the convicts cashed the checks, with the profit split three ways.

The trio planned to flee to California, but Morris left his accomplices in Texas and returned to Pontiac to turn himself in.

He waived examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan on a charge of issuing no-account checks and is free on personal bond pending arraignment.

Kings Canyon National Park in California was established in 1940.

Joint Group Studies State's Jobless Bill

LANSING (AP) — A travel-weary bill to extend temporary jobless pay benefits to 28,000 Michigan residents heads toward a new destination today — a joint legislative conference committee.

Partisan wrangling has kept the measure shuttling around the Legislature since April 1 when a federal enactment made a 13-week extension possible for states passing enabling legislation.

Yesterday, for the second time in a week, the House refused to go along with Senate amendments to the bill.

The bill was turned down on a 51-52 vote with 56 favorable votes needed for passage.

The affirmative votes all came from Republicans. A pair of Democrats who broke ranks in voting with the GOP for the measure last week stayed in line.

Steel Output Rising

DETROIT (AP)— The Iron Age, metalworking weekly, reported Tuesday steel operations are scheduled to move up one point this week to 96.7 per cent of capacity for an estimated output of 147,100 tons in the Detroit area.

The cliff dwellers who inhabited southern Colorado in the 11th and 12th centuries are credited with domesticating the turkey.

Man With Broken Back Rescued After Two Days

KALAMAZOO (AP)—James Fletcher, 51, of Kalamazoo, his back broken by a falling tree, lay two days on an island in a remote lake 250 miles northeast of Winnipeg, Man., before being rescued.

The story of a storm that brought critical injury to Fletcher, a member of a five-man fishing party, was relayed to friends here.

Fletcher and four companions were on Big Lake in the Lac Seul region when a violent hailstorm drove them to shelter on an uninhabited island. Minutes later a tree snapped, hitting Fletcher and fracturing his back.

One man stayed with Fletcher while the others struck out for their camp and help. Two days later the injured man was picked up by a pontoon plane and flown to a Winnipeg hospital.

Huey's Power Grab Founded State 'Royal Family'

(Huey P. Long introduced Louisiana to a type of government it had never known when he became governor in 1928. Gov Earl K. Long, his younger brother who was confined to a Texas Psychiatric clinic two weeks ago, is the unchallenged master of Huey's inheritance. This second of a three-part series traces their rise to power.)

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—At night a spotlight beams down from the 34-story Louisiana State Capitol on the sunken garden where Huey P. Long lies buried beneath his massive bronze statue.

By day there are flowers and tourists and an occasional unforgetting friend or foe pausing in remembrance of the incredible era when every man was promised he would be king — and one man almost made it.

But night or day Huey's stocky shadow falls across Louisiana, dividing its people as it has for the past 30 years into two hostile, political powerful factions: these who revere the late Kingfish as the best friend the poor man ever had, and those who remember him as a ruthless tyrant, petty, vulgar and vindictive.

This is the house that Huey built. His name, his image, his memory stamped indelibly on the electorate. The resulting Long vs anti-Long alignment of voters provides the state with the South's only equivalent of a thriving two-party system.

When Gov. Earl K. Long, Huey's younger brother, was shot full of sedatives and flown off to a Texas mental clinic after two profane and abusive speeches to the Legislature, Louisiana added another dramatic chapter in the bizarre history of its famous political dynasty.

LAST CHAPTER

Speculation continues that perhaps this is the last chapter, that Earl Long even if he returns to health can never again pick up the pieces of his badly shaken political empire.

But in the past the Longs have shown amazing comeback power. The dynasty survived impeachment, assassination, million-dollar scandals, several reform waves and numerous interfamily battles without losing its emotional tug on the hearts of the people.

First there was Huey, the founder and still patron saint of the dynasty.

The eighth of nine children of a backwoods farmer in the pine lands of Winn Parish, north-central Louisiana, Huey entered public life as a traveling salesman. Glib, ambitious, gifted with folksy philosophy and earthy humor, Huey peddled a kitchen lard door to door, and studied law in his spare time. Sitting out World War I because he "wasn't mad at anybody," he won election to the Railway Commission, promptly became a hero by championing the "little people" in tilts with the Standard Oil Co., the telephone company and major utilities.

By the time he was 30, the minimum age for qualifying, Huey ran for governor, promising free school text books, free trapping, good roads and reduced gas tax. Rain kept his growing uplands following from turning out in the expected numbers, but four years later he swept in on the wings of bigger and better promises.

CAME THROUGH

Huey kept his promises. He came through with the roads, bridges, textbooks, reduced utility rates, and, true to his threats as well as his promises, sent a New Orleans toll bridge company into bankruptcy by building a free bridge.

Less than a year in office, Huey was impeached and tried. The charges included bribery, misappropriation of state funds, removal of school officials for political purposes, violent abuse of citizens and officials, misconduct in public places, lobbying on the floor of the Legislature, and seeking to arrange the murder of J. Y. Sanders Jr., an anti-Long member of the House.

By adroit manipulation of the Legislature, Huey won on all counts and embarked on a ruthless power grab that soon brought the Whole state to heel.

"I used to try to get things done by saying 'please'," he grimly announced "That didn't work and now I'm a dynamiter. I dynamite 'em out of my path."

With the help of the National Guard, the state police and a rubber - stamp Legislature that he boasted he "could buy like a sack of potatoes," the Kingfish reduced the apathetic citizenry to a state of political slavery. Shrewdly, he disguised his dictatorship at first by playing the role of rustic clown, marching with the band at Louisiana State football games, receiving a German admiral in green bits of comic relief that soon wore thin.

GOES TO SENATE

Huey the dynamiter moved on to the U.S. Senate without relinquishing his hold on the state. He ran afoul of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, whom he helped nominate, when his share-the-wealth program, promising every family $4,000 for a home, an automobile and a radio by liquidating all personal fortunes over $3,000,000, boomed him into national prominence. "Every man was a king but no man wore a crown" was the catchy slogan Huey unabashedly lifted from William Jennings Bryan's Cross of Gold speech—and hoped would carry him to the presidency.

Federal income tax inspectors were ready to move in and cut Huey down when an assassin's bullet did the job for them in the marble hallway of the magnificent skyscraper Capitol that Huey built without knowing it was to become his headstone.

Before he died, Huey had a word of advice for his followers: "If those fellows ever try to use the powers I've given them without me to hold them down, they'll all land in the penitentiary."

The warning went unheeded. The following administration, riding the Long dynamite wagon out of control, embarked on a fantastic orgy of kickbacks, deducts, double dips and graft that plundered the state of an estimated 100 million dollars and saw Gov. Richard Leche, President James Monroe Smith of Louisiana State University and several lesser officials go to the penitentiary.

Leche resigned during the midst of a federal investigation, was later indicted on charges of using the mails to defraud and went to a federal penitentiary. Smith got involved in the stock market and went to the state penitentiary for misappropriation of LSU funds.

Remove Last Trace of Hitler's Bunker

BERLIN (AP)—The last visible remains of the bunker in which Adolf Hitler committed suicide are being cleared away.

The last bits of the Reich's chancellory in East Berlin were cleared away last year. But evidence of the bunker remained. This included a massive concrete block, a small concrete tower and a three-yard thick layer of concrete that served as the bunker's roof.

The area will be turned into a park.

Tom Jefferson Tricked by Artist

President Expected 2 Portraits, but Never Received Either

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — The famous painter Gilbert Stuart appears to have pulled a fast one on President Thomas Jefferson.

Stuart, famed for his portraits of George Washington, apparently twice promised and twice failed to give Jefferson the portraits for which he had posed.

A Stuart painting of Jefferson is known to have disappeared in Boston about 1821. Apparently the same painting turned up more than a century later in 1937 in a New York auction gallery in bad condition.

About a decade ago X-ray studies of the painting showed that a second Jefferson painting was on top of the first.

Jefferson apparently made no efforts to collect a long-delayed painting from Stuart. Eventually in 1821, Jefferson received an oil-on-wood panel portrait of himself.

Although Jefferson was evidently led to believe he was receiving the original by Stuart, evidence uncovered by Courtney and Orland Campbell indicates it was merely a copy.

The Campbells say Stuart's reluctant to part with the originals of Jefferson was undoubtedly due to the painter's strained financial situation.

Stuart reportedly didn't wish to part with an original.

Swede Claims You May Soon Pick Baby's Sex

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Within 10 years parents will be able to decide for themselves whether they will have boy or girl babies, says a Swedish geneticist.

Prof. Per Eric Lindahl, speaking at Uppsala Institute of Physiology, said there are several methods of determining sex "but so far none of them has proved entirely dependable."

"Good results have been obtained, though," he said, "and it would not surprise me if all problems are solved within, say, 10 years."

In order to determine the sex of offspring, he said, the spermatozoa must first be split up into those carrying male Y-chromosomes and those with female X-chromosomes. The spermatozoa with the desired sex characteristics are then introduced to the mother by artificial insemination.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two months after he completed editing the sixth edition of a 2,170-page mechanical engineering handbook, Columbia University Prof. Theodore Baumeister found that scientific developments had dated so much of his information he had to start revising.

Flying Priest Dies in Crash

Plane Mishap Kills 4; Fr. Diefenbach Gained Fame in World War II

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The crash of a plane flown by an internationally-known Catholic priest killed him and three members of a Dallas family Wednesday.

The victims: Father Ralph J. Diefenbach, 45; Ray J. Lockwood, 45; his wife, Katherine, 42; and their daughter, Patricia, 11.

Father Diefenbach was a chaplain with the late Gen. George Patton's Third Army in World War II. In 1945, the priest was assigned to return a religious relic, the hand of St. Stephen, to Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary.

Hungarians believed that no harm could come to their country as long as the hand of St. Stephen, their first king, was in their possession. The hand, removed from the royal palace during the war, was found by U.S. soldiers in a warehouse near Salzburg, Austria.

Officers Not Amused by His Laughing Jag

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP) — David Makala, 18, laughed himself into trouble with the police when they stopped his automobile because of general disturbance and horn honking.

He was booked on disorderly conduct charges because of his attitude and derisive laughter which he simply blamed on a laughing jag.

East German Reds Push Hard to Discredit West

GENEVA (AP) — A group of youngsters stood crowded around a stand at a fair ground in East Germany, tossing balls at a line of targets.

The targets were caricatured faces of three West German officials — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano and Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss. Mouths of all three were wide open. The trick was to throw the ball down the throats.

"Shut mouths of warmongers" read the banner.

The stand is part of the Communist propaganda machine working at full blast to convince 17 million East Germans that West Germany and the Western Allies are planning a nuclear war to destroy the German Democratic Republic.

The propaganda draws heavily on German national feeling. Posters and slogans everywhere sneer at Von Brentano's refusal to press for inclusion of German as an official language at the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

East Germany is plastered from end to end with posters, placards and banners.

The main themes are always the same: "Fight for peace. Destroy nuclear warmongers. We demand peace treaty for Germany."

The emphasis on the word peace has an almost hypnotic effect. A discussion with any Red official underlines that the word peace as used in Communist slogans means adherence to Soviet policies. Warmonger means anyone who resists those policies.

The word communism is taboo. The ruling Socialist Unity party was formed by a Communist-Socialist merger. Its policies are an unreconstructed form of Stalinist communism, but its propaganda uses only the word socialism. Badge-wearing party members indignantly object to the term communist.

Party leaders seem exceedingly sensitive to criticism.

Western non-recognition is a particularly sore point, and much is made in official propaganda of the "success of our delegation in Geneva." Communist officials make no secret of their feeling that the admission of East German Foreign Minister Lothar Boltz to the conference — even only as an observer — fulfilled one of their major aims.

The existence of West Berlin as a permanent point of comparison with the Communist system is another sore point. East Germany is the only Communist state whose citizens can freely enter part of the free world. Many Western officials believe the real reason for the whole Communist drive against West Berlin is a desire to close this loophole in the Iron Curtain.

Communist propaganda pours contempt on the capitalist bright lights, wealth and luxury of West Berlin.

One young Communist woman official who returned to East Germany after living in the West as a refugee listed the parking problem among the evils of capitalism.

"You see—that's one problem we don't have here," she said with a straight face as she pointed at an East Berlin street devoid of cars.

Last Pennsy Coaches to Detroit Dropped

DETROIT (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad's last passenger train to Detroit, the Red Arrow, will stop serving the Motor City July 26 because of declining patronage and heavy terminal costs.

The train currently operates from Detroit to Pittsburgh, but starting July 26 it will run between Toledo and Crestline, Ohio, connecting with the General-Trail Blazer for Philadelphia, New York and other Eastern cities.

50,000th Thunderbird Out but Orders Pile Up

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. says it built its 50,000th Thunderbird of the 1959 model year today and still has a backlog of 7,000 orders.

In the 1958 model year Ford built 37,892 of the four-passenger Thunderbirds.

Mine Safety Bill Stays Locked Up in Committee

LANSING (AP) — A last ditch attempt to force the Labor Committee to release a bill setting up a mine safety code has failed by an eyelash in the House.

The bill, introduced last February by 28 Democrats, would set up a division of mine inspectors in the State Labor Department. The inspectors could temporarily shut down mines they found with "imminently dangerous" conditions.

New Company Opens in Pontiac

D. E. Miller Firm Will Handle Colonial Broach Product Lines

A new sales engineering organization has been formed in Pontiac by Don F. Miller, for the past three years manager of Chrysler Corp.'s Mound Road engine plant.

Called the D. E. Miller Co., it will represent the various product lines of Colonial Broach and Machine Co., Detroit, and its divisions in the Pontiac, Flint, Ann Arbor, Jackson, Saginaw and Lansing areas, as well as the northern portion of the Lower Peninsula.

MILLER

Headquarters of the company have been established at 84 Auburn Rd.

Joining Miller, who lives at 5833 Burnham Rd., Bloomfield Hills, in the new venture, are Denes Pataki, formerly assistant chief engineer of Colonial Broach, and John Carpenter, for the past 20 years active in sales and service of metalworking equipment in Michigan and Indiana.

Included in the lines which the new company will handle are Colonial Broaching machines, hydraulic presses and broaches; Colonial-Romulus milling machines and milling heads; broaches produced by Eagle Tool Co. of Iron Mountain, a Colonial Broach affiliate; and the Special Products Division of Colonial Broach and Machine Co.

Of his first major formal entry into the sales engineering field, Miller said:

"In recent years, top management of industrial companies have tended to be staffed more and more with non-technical people.

"Technical selling by suppliers rarely reaches beyond the plant management level today, and plant management has to carry on from there, interpreting technical facts in terms of economic benefits to the company."

Prior to joining Chrysler a number of years ago, Miller was staff manufacturing manager for Motor Products and plant manager for two plants of Houdaille-Hershey Corp.

Comb Fields for Gunman

About 30 state and local police combed the fields in and near Warren early today looking for a gunman who earlier had robbed a Madison Heights bar of $1,800. It was called off when it proved fruitless.

Max Demanski, owner of the Turf Bar, 22005 Dequindre Rd., told Madison Heights police that at closing time a customer asked if he could stay and finish his beer.

Demanski had locked one door when the man pulled a gun and demanded the money from the cash register. After taking the money, the gunman herded Demanski into the back room, just as the cleaning woman entered with her teenage son.

The bandit forced the woman, Mrs. Ann Georgevich, at gunpoint into his car, drove her two blocks north on Dequindre, let her out and told her to "run," police said. Mrs. Georgevich returned to the bar.

In the meantime, Demonski had taken the license number of the gunman's car and called police. Madison Heights Police Chief Robert Richardson said that within 35 minutes the house where the bandit lived was surrounded by 200 police from Warren, Madison Heights, Royal Oak and the Center Line State Police post.

Wife Would Divorce Tennis Star Segura

The former Virginia Spencer Smith of Forest Hills, N.Y., said in court Wednesday that Segura once threatened to spirit the couple's 6-year-old son to Ecuador, her husband's native country. She sought the divorce on grounds of cruelty.

The couple was married in 1947. She said they separated Tuesday.

3 Millionth Car Likely on Monday

DETROIT (AP) — Automotive News predicted today that the nation's automakers will build their three millionth car of the calendar year on Monday.

In 1958 it took them until Oct. 21 to reach the three million mark.

The trade paper said this week's production should run 127,450 cars compared with 125,186 last week and 78,163 in the similar week a year ago.

Truck production will total an estimated 27,690 units this week, a high for the year. Last week 27,202 trucks were built and a year ago this week the industry built 17,304 trucks.

Canadian production for the week was estimated at 9,880 vehicles against 9,789 last week and 10,000 in the similar week of 1958. This week's total will include 7,855 cars and 2,025 trucks.

Serious Heart Attack Hits Ousted Minister

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—A Presbyterian minister dismissed from his pulpit in a dispute having racial overtones is in serious condition today with a heart attack.

Doctors said the Rev. Robert B. McNeill suffered the attack Wednesday night as the result of "the pressure of the past few days."

The 44-year-old minister was dismissed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church here Sunday after months of dissension within the church.

The unrest began shortly after McNeill wrote an article for a magazine in which he advocated a "creative contact between leaders of both races" to ease the South's racial tensions.

Factory Pay at Record High

Purchasing Power Up, Too, but Price Rises Cut Into Gains

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New government data indicated today that the buying power of the average factory worker's pay check reached a new high in May.

The government announced yesterday that earnings of the nation's 16 million factory workers averaged $90.32 a week last month, an all-time peak.

Some government and private economists said the latest boost in wages would help to prop up the economy and ward off future recessions. The average pay of factory workers has been increasing steadily since the end of World War II.

It was about $55 a week 10 years ago and rose to slightly more than $70 by 1954.

The buying power of these wages has also been going up but not so rapidly. Inflation has eaten away some of the wage gain.

With April's weekly pay check, for example, the factory worker could buy goods and services worth about $65 in 1947-49 prices.

"Real" earnings have increased only $12 while dollar income has risen by $35 in the last decade, government figures showed.

Because of recent stability in living costs, buying power of workers wages has been reaching new heights in recent months. Economists calculated that it would take a six-tenths of one per cent jump in consumer prices last month to cancel out the April-May increase in factory earnings.

New Jersey Guard Can't Be Segregated

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey's National Guard can't have a segregated Negro battalion.

There hasn't been a colored unit for many years, but the provision allowing it remained in the law. Wednesday Gov. Robert B. Meyner signed a law repealing that section.

Court May Decide Sanity

Hearing Set for Gov. Long

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Questions of federal and Texas constitutional law are involved in a scheduled sanity hearing for Louisiana's Gov. Earl K. Long, one of his court-appointed attorneys said Wednesday.

Atty. Adrian S. Levy Sr. also said there may be developments before the hearing June 16.

He declined further comment, explaining it was not proper for him to discuss a client's case.

Levy said he and the other two attorneys appointed by Probate Judge Hugh Gibson to represent Long in the hearing may have a statement after a conference with the governor today.

That conference may answer the questions:

1. Whether Long will voluntarily continue treatment. If he does Texas law allows the sanity hearing to be canceled. If he refuses, the hearing must be held to determine whether he is mentally ill and should be committed to a hospital for treatment.

2. If a sanity hearing is held, whether Long will be represented by attorneys the court appointed. Texas law permits him to attend the hearing and to name his own attorneys.

The governor was flown here forcibly May 30 for treatment after a violent outburst before the Louisiana Legislature. After he gave signs of wanting out of the hospital Judge Gibson ordered him committed to John Sealy Hospital at the request of Mrs. Long and the governor's cousin.

Gunner Blasts TV

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP)—Police are looking for a house-breaker who appears to have a sharp dislike for television. Joe S.Noland reported that he and his family returned home from an overnight trip and found somebody had broken into their house and blasted their television set apart with a shotgun.

Boxing Promoter Wasn't Beaten Up

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boxing promoter Jackie Leonard's claim he was beaten by underworld thugs has been branded an "illusion" by the chief of police. But Leonard is standing by his story that he was hit.

Chief William H. Parker said that investigation indicates that the Hollywood Legion Stadium promoter probably suffered a heart attack. He said Leonard has a history of heart attacks, and that he probably blacked out, fell and hit his head on a portable barbecue.

Parker said Leonard no doubt believed, honestly, he had been beaten, for he had been under police guard after reporting threats of mob revenge for his testimony before the California Athletic Commission.

Ike Crusades for Stable Dollar

Cost of Living Rises 108 Pct. in 20 Years; Hospital Costs Tops

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, making a 1959 crusade against inflation, this week stuck a needle in the nation's doctors.

He told them in effect medical services should be kept within reason.

The government's figures show that living costs in general have gone up 108.6 per cent since 1939. Which means: What you could buy for $1 in 1939 would cost you $2.08 today.

In that same time 20-year period the rise in hospital costs eclipsed almost everything else in the various categories which make up the government's total picture of living costs. They went up around 300 per cent.

In those 20 years doctors' fees have climbed 84 per cent. Some of the items in other categories were much higher — in their rise — than doctors' fees, some were lower.

Eisenhower, using his speech to the American Medical Assn. convention in Atlantic City Tuesday night to support the practice of private medicine as against a government medical care program, told the doctors:

"The medical profession, as much as any other, has a vital interest in preventing inflation. Certainly it wants to provide its services for a fee within range of what people can reasonably pay.

"If the time ever comes when large numbers of our citizens turn primarily to the government for assistance in what ought to remain a private arrangement between doctor and patient, then we shall all have suffered a great loss."

Although in the 20 years since 1939 the government's broad category of "medical care" rose just a little less than the general cost of living — 106.1 per cent as compared with 108.6 per cent — there is a big variation in the cost of the items which go into that category.

Here are some other examples of how living costs have risen in the 20 years since 1939:

In that period food costs — as a whole — have zoomed up 149.7 per cent, the biggest single jump in all the major categories which make up the government's living cost index.

Divorce Granted to Wife of Actor Jack Beutel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Jack Beutel's wife got a divorce Wednesday after testifying her husband "no longer wished to be married."

Gloria Bailey Beutel, 29, added: "He would go away with his friends and wouldn't come in until 2 or 3 a.m. He wouldn't tell me where he'd been."

Mrs. Beutel was awarded custody of the couple's 11-year-old daughter, alimony equal to 25 per cent of Beutel's net income and $125 monthly child support.

The couple was married 12 ago.

Pastor Resigns for Improper Acts

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Wednesday night the resignation of Dr. W. S. McBirnie, pastor who admitted and accepted blame for "improper involvement" with a member of the church.

A recommendation from the board of deacons that the resignation of the 39-year-old minister be accepted was approved unanimously by a special meeting of the congregation. More than 1,200 persons jammed the 800-seat church auditorium for the meeting.

At Washington's bustling National Airport, Allied Aviation Fueling counts on its radio-equipped Chevy to get crews and tank trucks to the right planes at just the right time. Aside from occasional time out for the usual service, its Thriftmaster 6-cylinder engine has been running 24 hours a day for the past 9 months!

Once you've got that kind of endurance working you don't worry much about lost job time. Breakdowns go out of style the day your Chevy goes into action.

The fact is, Chevrolet trucks are dead set on dropping the word "downtime" right out of the English language. And they just might, if precision engineering and top-quality materials have anything to say about it. Chevy trucks are put together to stay together—incorporating the most advanced chassis developments, the most efficient 6-cylinder and V8 engine designs. They're built to last, built to keep Chevrolet's hard-earned reputation for reliability flying high.

Sticklers the College Prof Forgot to Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Why? Why? Why:

Do women constantly tug at the tops of their bathing suits at a beach or swimming pool?

Why don't all men wear beards?

Why don't people learn to stop sticking their unlovely noses into the business of other people? My father used to tell about a man out West who lived to a prosperous old age simply by minding his own (censored) business.

Why don't more people look on marriage as an adventure instead of a 20-years-to-life penitentiary sentence?

Why are politicians?

Why are children all poets? Son David remarked the other day that a brief spatter of warm rain was like God sweating. I doubt if even the bishop would take exception to that one.

Why don't cats admit to being cats? Why do they prance like horses, slither like cobras, dangle like monkeys and demand all the privileges of expensive women?

Why is that people, who say they don't have time to read, watch television or go to the movies in their spare time?

Why do Americans, whether they're from Brooklyn or Seattle, seem to speak foreign languages with a Kansas accent?

Why do the doctors who warn you about lung cancer usually smoke more than you do?

Why do people who get you out of bed at 2 a.m. sound as if it's your fault that they dialed a wrong number?

$70 Million Welfare Bill Passed by State House

LANSING (AP)—A $70,283,000 welfare bill — first of the 1959-60 budget measures to clear either chamber of the Legislature — moved into the Senate today after approval in the House.

The bill provides 61 million dollars in grants for direct relief, aid to dependent children and other similar programs. This is about nine millions less than the state welfare bill for the fiscal year ending June 30.

W. J. Maxey, state welfare director, predicted improved business conditions and a corresponding drop in unemployment would cut the welfare load in the year ahead.

Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said fast passage of the bill was needed to sew up 10 million dollars in federal matching monies for the first quarter of the new fiscal year.

MINIMUM OF VOTES

House members, however, produced only the bare minimum number of votes yesterday to give the bill immediate effect.

In addition to welfare grants, the bill provides $1,537,000 for boys vocational schools $1,078,000 for the Girls Training School, $1,092,000 for the Michigan Childrens Institute and $801,000 for the Vocational Education Bureau.

It also continues the 70-30 matching formula for county and state sharing of welfare costs. Wayne County and others hit by high unemployment tried unsuccessfully last year to restore a 50-50 formula. They complained they couldn't afford soaring welfare costs.

The House passed 19 other bills, most of small consequence, in its most productive session of the year. They included measuers to:

Require secret balloting in the election of political party chairmen in Wayne County congressional districts.

Permit cities and state authorities to set up more effective regulations covering admittance of minors to bars, dance halls and other business establishments where liquor is served.

The bill, returned to the Senate for concurrence in amendments, would permit minors to enter such places if accompanied by their parents or guardian.

Raise daily jury fees in police courts and Grand Rapids Municipal Court from $6 to $8.

Allow townships to establish water companies.

Permit female floral designers to work 12-hour days in the three days preceding Christmas, Valentine's Day, Mothers Day and Easter. The current limit is 10 hours.

'Top-Heavy'—Rep. Anderson

Fights State Bureaucracy

As the deadlocked State Legislature began considering many appropriation bills, Anderson, Republican from Waterford Township, said he plans to "dig into" each in search for unnecessary items.

He hopes he will be more successful than he was in his first attempt when he offered one amendment which would have cut about $1,700,000 in state capital improvements, and two others which would have meant trimming $314,105 from the appropriation bill for state social welfare.

Anderson lost in all three tries. Winning out over him was the Republican-controlled House Ways and Means Committee, which, according to Anderson, told him no cuts could be made in appropriations affecting state employes under Civil Service.

PROPOSE REMOVAL

The sophomore representative proposed removing 52 administrators from different county social welfare department payrolls, where Anderson believed the ratio between administrators and employes was "too great."

"I discovered in many instances a ratio of one administrator for every five employes," he said. "Show me an industry with such a ratio."

"This just goes to show the top-heavy bureaucracy we have in the state," Anderson pointed out.

He criticised the "controlling power" the Civil Service Commission has over the Legislature regarding state employes. He cited this year's case where, he said, the Legislature "had no jurisdiction whatsoever" when the commission voted 7 million in pay raises for state employes.

"And this when we are supposedly broke," a critical Anderson added.

"I know I am bucking city hall, and probably won't get far except maybe to bring to the attention of legislators and the general public the control the Commission has," he said.

His aim, he said, is to put a question on the 1960 state ballot to "at least take some of this power away from them (civil service commissioners)."

Pontiac JA Firms Report High Sales

Sixteen Junior Achievement firms from Pontiac sold $5,575 worth of products and services to the public this year, it was announced today.

Cost for materials for these companies amounted to $3,190. They also paid out $1,579 in wages and commissions.

A spokesman said 334 teenage-run Junior Achievement companies in southeastern Michigan this year piled up the most impressive record of sales and profits in the 10-year history of JA throughout the six-county area.

Sixty per cent of all JA company stockholders in southeastern Michigan, the nation's largest JA area, received dividends ranging from four per cent and up.

The imaginative "learn-by-doing" program for high school juniors and seniors operated in 37 states this year.

One-Man Grand Jury Faces Rugged Test

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's one-man grand jury law, the only one in the country, faced a stiff test in the House today.

Foes of the controversial system ripped it from stem to stern yesterday but lacked four votes of passing a bill to repeal it. But they cleared the way for a second vote.

"Courts and law enforcement officers of other states have been shocked when they learn of the Michigan one-man grand jury law," said Rep. Josephine D. Hunsinger (D-Detroit), sponsor of the repealer bill.

"Only in Michigan does a single judge, always a politician before being appointed or elected to his job, have the terrific power to smear his fellow men.

"The one-man grand jury system constitutes a complete infringement on individual rights."

Alas, Poor Yorick Is Right at Home Here

DOVER, N.J. (AP) — What was once the city morgue has become one of the brightest spots in town.

The building, purchased through the efforts of a philanthropic businessman, has been converted into a theater by the Dover little theater group.

Chamber Raps Defense Chief

McElroy Fails to Halt Rivalry Over Missiles, Businessmen Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce said today Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy has virtually ignored his authority to halt "unhealthy and intolerable" rivalry between the armed services over missiles.

The chamber urged Congress to "insist upon full and prompt use of McElroy's power "to curtail multiple development of the same or similar weapons and to eliminate unnecessary overlapping and duplication in a dozen or more support-type activities."

The organization made the recommendation in an 18-page statement to a Senate defense appropriations subcommittee. The chamber asked the subcommittee to go along with House cuts in President Eisenhower's defense budget and to make any further reductions which would not harm defense.

"Congress has barely scratched the surface insofar as savings opportunities are concerned," the statement said.

Nixon, Rocky Get Together

Future Paths Toward Presidency Gives Impact to New York Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two old friends meet in New York today, share ceremonial honors, review the Atlantic Fleet and fly off—perhaps symbolically—in different directions.

Their meeting would be regarded as little more than routine if it weren't for the certainty that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will seek the 1960 GOP presidential nomination and the speculation that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York may make a contest of it.

Ahead of Nixon and Rockefeller were schedules aimed at reaffirming old political associations, making new friends and perhaps influencing people.

Flying to New York, Nixon was to join Rockefeller, Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York City in ceremonies celebrating the 50th anniversary of the discovery of the Hudson River.

Despite the grouping of four potential presidential aspirants, this was listed as a strictly nonpartisan affair. If they aren't exactly in the class of Nixon and Rockefeller as possible contenders, Meyner and Wagner have had mention for the Democratic nomination.

Parting after the ceremonies, Rockefeller will fly to Washington while Nixon takes off for San Francisco.

Following strictly his line that he is interested only in being a good governor, Rockefeller arranged an afternoon meeting with a bipartisan group of New York members of Congress to discuss nonpolitical state problems.

Later Rockefeller will renew old friendships and perhaps add some new ones among fellow members of the Capitol Hill Club, a convivial Republican organization he helped form.

House members who are booming the governor for the 1960 nomination arranged to stay away from his affair in deference to Rockefeller's current aversion toward giving the appearance of being a candidate.

Dead, but Temporarily

JONESVILLE (AP)—State troopers rushed to the scene after a freight train conductor tossed a note to a motorist at a crossing, saying there was a dead body on a strawstack along the track a mile back. On the strawstack, still motionless was 13-year-old Frank Manke, playing a "dead Redskin" in a game of cowboys and Indians with another boy.

Spread between enriched bread slices and dip sandwiches in an egg-milk French toast mixture. Place on a well-greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) for 7 minutes on each side, or until nicely browned. Top with orange marmalade or orange sauce.

Orange Sauce

In a saucepan, blend together 2 tablespoons each of butter (melted) and sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch and ½ teaspoon grated orange rind. Add ½ cup water and bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Continue to cook for an additional 3 minutes. Remove from heat and blend in ¼ cup orange juice. Serve over Orange-Apple French Toast.

To Please the Men

Here's a topper tip for the men in the family! Fold a little lemon rind or instant coffee into whipped cream. Serve on top of frozen individual apple pies . . . which have been baked to a golden brown.

Church Women Publish Cookbook

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

"Last Wednesday a coffee was held in honor of a new cookbook." That is the way an item on the social pages could have read. The women of the Altar Guild of St. Hugo's Church were presenting their new cookbook to the Guild members and then to the public.

Started as a means of encouraging friendships among the members, the cookbook grew and grew. It became a tremendous project. One of the many meetings scheduled for recipe collecting fell on a February day when the roads were at their worst.

Most of the coffees were canceled, but Mrs. Joseph Lacy, chairman of the cookbook committee, did have a few guests. One of them arrived on ice skates!

Mrs. Walter Ruessmann, a talented young homemaker, did all the art work in the book. Her drawings of monks' working with food are delightful.

The book entitled "My Cup Runneth Over" may be obtained from various stores throughout the Bloomfield - Birmingham area or may be ordered by mail from Mrs. Joseph Lacy, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan. Price is $2.50 per copy.

One of the goodies served at the coffee last week was a plate of tiny cream puffs. Mrs. John R. Davis contributed the recipe for the filling.

DAILY SPECIAL

1 jar pimientoes
1 can salted peanuts (the kind without skins)
Salad dressing

Put pimientos and peanuts through food grinder. Mix with salad dressing. Add more if used for a dip. If kept several hours in the refrigerator it will become a lovely orange color.

Mrs. Lacy contributed an interesting recipe for Swiss Steak.

OUR SWISS STEAK

Pound large thick slice round steak with flour, salt and pepper. Place in bottom of roasting pan. Spread with 1 pound bulk sausage and cover with large can tomatoes. Add a little sugar and a little cornstarch blended with water to this. Cover and cook two hours in 350-degree oven. Uncover and cook until tender.

Since this is the strawberry season, Mrs. John R. Evans' recipe for a strawberry dessert will be welcome.

STRAWBERRY AMBROSIA

1½ cup vanilla wafer crumbs
½ cup butter
⅔ cup confectioners sugar
2 eggs
½ cup chopped nuts
½ pint whiping cream
2 cups sliced sweetened berries

Sprinkle ½ cup vanilla crumbs evenly over bottom of 8x8 greased pan. Cream butter and sugar, add eggs. Beat until smooth and fluffy.

Spread mixture over crumbs and sprinkle with nuts. Put berries evenly over nuts. Top berries with whipped cream. Sprinkle remaining crumbs over cream. Chill 6 hours.

IN PRINT AT LAST—The climax of a year's work comes and the cookbook put out by the Altar Guild of St. Hugo's church is finally in print. Admiring the finished book are (left to right) Mrs. Walter Ruessmann who did all the art work in the book; Mrs. Burke Bartlett, Mrs. Charles Wagner, president of the guild, and Mrs. Arthur Chauvin.

Fresh Orange Flavor Pleases

This Orange Charlotte looks like it came right off a French chef's pastry cart with its tassel of whipped cream and flourish of sweet orange cartwheels. Best of all, it tastes like springtime with its delicate orange flavor.

Fresh Orange Charlotte

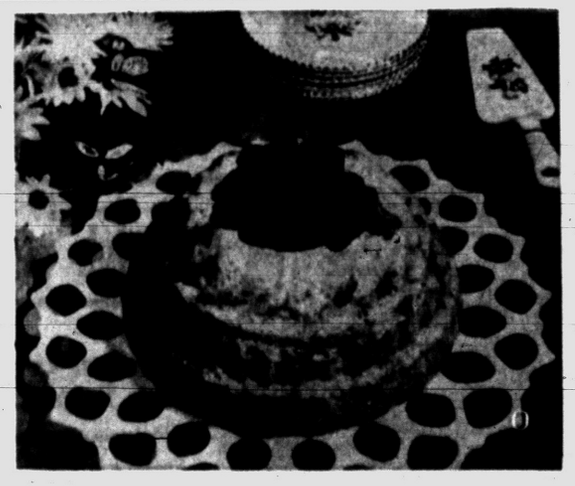

10 to 12 ladyfingers
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¾ cup sugar
1½ cups fresh orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup miniature marshmallows
2 cups California oranges, (4 oranges) cut bite-size
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
¼ teaspoon almond extract
1 California orange, peeled, cut into half cartwheel slices

Arrange ladyfingers that have been split and cut in half around sides and bottom of 9-inch spring form pan to make a solid shell. Combine gelatine with sugar; dissolve in heated orange juice. Add orange peel to gelatine mixture; set aside to cool until the consistency of unbeaten egg whites.

Whip with beater to double volume; fold in marshmallows, orange pieces and two-thirds of the whipped cream to which almond flavoring has been added. Spoon into ladyfinger shell, spreading evenly over surface.

Sherry Deepens in Color

All the Spanish sherry types, the dry finos, nutty amontillados and sweet oloroso or cream sherries, are white wines that darken as they mature in cask, first turning golden, then amber and finally a deep mahogany. The light-colored types are served cool, with or without ice. The English prefer to serve the dark, sweet oloroso sherries just as they come from the bottle. Both ways of serving are correct, although chilling is preferred.

STRAWBERRY PUFF 'N' FLUFF—It looks beautiful. It tastes delicious. And the experts say it is full of vitamins. This gelatin dessert is made with bits of angel food cake, whipping cream and frozen strawberries. Try it for a spring pickup.

Get Your Vitamin C in Delicious Dessert Form

While the butterflies and the bees sip the honey from the flowers, let's enjoy a serving of this Strawberry Puff 'n Fluff. Frozen sliced or halved strawberries combine flavors with whipped cream and fluffy angel cake on the inside-shapely, bright-red frozen whole strawberries decorate the outside and give added piquancy.

Still there's a fuddy-duddy fact about this dessert that we must tell you—it is that the six people who eat it each get more than three-fourths of his daily vitamin C requirement from the frozen strawberries. Who says what's good for you isn't fun to eat!

The facts on the way foods that are frozen retain their vitamin values were obtained in a special research project on frozen foods of the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation. Frozen fruits and vegetables hold their just-picked flavors, colors, and vitamins because they are just-picked when they are frozen.

You will be tearing up a small bakery angel food cake to make this desert—but see what the bits of fluff and the strawberries do together:

Strawberry Puff 'n Fluff

1 10-oz. package frozen sliced or halved strawberries.
1 16-oz. package frozen whole strawberries.
1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water.
½ cup cold water.
1 tablespoon lemon juice.
½ pint whipping cream, whipped
1 8-oz. (small) bakery angel food cake, torn into 1-inch pieces.

Start halved or sliced strawberries defrosting by letting stand at room temperature in unopened package while other ingredients are prepared. Plan defrosting of whole strawberries so they will be just icy and whole when served.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, stirring. Add cold water and lemon juice and stir. Chill until consistency of syrup. Then whip with rotary beater or electric beater until fluffy. Whip cream and fold into mixture. Last, fold in the cake pieces.

Then turn all into a 5½-cup mold and chill until firm. Unmold and serve centered or surrounded with defrosted whole strawberries. (Reserve juice of whole strawberries for punches and other fruit drinks.) Serves six.

FISH BARBECUE — A barbecue to be proud of . . . one that you've not only cooked but caught yourself . . . features pike with a choice of spicy Spanish green olive sauces. The sauces are the perfect accompaniment for any fresh or salt water catch.

Barbecue Fish Outside Serve With Olive Sauces

Are you a Barbecue Bore? Do you always serve the same fare at your outdoor suppers? Well, here's a way to get out of your rut. Next time your husban' has been out fishing and comes back with a corking batch . . . don't divide it up among the neighbors. Keep it yourself and either freeze it until your next scheduled barbecue, or call an emergency meeting of all the friends to whom you owe a dinner and cook the catch on the outdoor grill.

Give guests a choice of sauces . . . good spicy ones and give them an elegant touch of the delicacy you're serving by using Spanish green olives as one of the sauce ingredients. Not only do the olives add to the flavor, but those bright flecks of red from the pimiento stuffing catch the eye of all.

Piquant Pike Sauce

1⅜-ounce package old fashion garlic salad dressing mix
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ cup finely chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
½ cup salad oil
⅓ cup vinegar

Combine all ingredients and cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, to serving temperature. Makes about one cup.

Olive Mayonnaise Sauce

1 cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon onion salt
¼ cup finely chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ teaspoon pepper

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Chill. Serve with broiled pike, as desired. Makes about one cup.

Olive Tomato Sauce

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup finely chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Melt butter or margarine. Add onion and cook until onion is tender. Add remaining ingredients. Cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve with broiled pike, as desired. Makes about 1¼ cups.

A slice of apple placed on a piece of waxed paper in a container of brown sugar will keep the sugar moist and easy to handle. Change the apple as it gets moldy.

Punch Sparkles for Parties

Proms and graduation dances are a main topic of conversation among teenagers this time of year. No doubt the young set at your house has been busy on the phone discussing corsages, dresses and pre-dance parties.

If your young folks are giving a party, plan to serve them a sparkling, tangy fruit punch. Select a recipe like this delicious, pink Promenade Punch and serve it in hollow stemmed glasses instead of punch cups.

This recipe is easy for the teenagers to mix themselves. Apple, cranberry and orange juices are stirred together in a large punch bowl and lemon-lime carbonated beverage is added at serving time. The tangy lemon-lime flavor of the beverage, made from the natural oils of the citrus fruits, is a delicious accent to the sweet juices. The carbonation gives the punch sophistication.

Promenade Punch

2 quarts apple juice
2 pints cranberry juice cocktail
2 cups orange juice
8 7-ounce bottles lemon-lime carbonated beverage.

Chocolate Bits Dot Blond Brownies

Quick and easy to mix, Blond Brownies taste sensational. They're made without shortening.

Sift together 1½ cups sifted enriched flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Beat 3 eggs well. Add 2⅓ cups brown sugar gradually, beating until well mixed. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla extract. Add flour mixture to egg mixture. Add 1 cup chopped nuts.

Pour into well greased 9x13-inch pan. Sprinkle ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces (3-ounces) over batter. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 minutes. Cut in squares. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Diet as Singer Does With Jellied Milk

NEW YORK (UPI)—What dieter isn't tempted by a milkshake? Well, take a tip from singer Frankie Laine — diet ON milkshakes.

Laine puts a package of flavored gelatin into an electric blender and adds 3 cups of skimmed milk. He says the shakes are high in protein and can be served as dessert.

Celery Adds Texture to Cherry Mold

Cherry Salad

1 can (1 pound) red sour pitted cherries (water packed)
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup orange juice
¼ teaspoon red food coloring
1 cup finely diced celery
Salad greens
Mayonnaise-type salad dressing or sour cream

Drain cherries thoroughly, reserving liquid. In a 1-quart saucepan stir together thoroughly the gelatin, sugar and salt. Add reserved cherry liquid.

Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin and sugar are dissolved; remove from heat. Stir in orange juice and food coloring. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Fold in drained cherries and celery. Turn into a 3-cup mold or into 6 indented ½-cup molds; chill until firm. Unmold; garnish with greens and salad dressing. Makes 6 servings.

CLOVED CANNED FRUIT—Highlight meat or fish dishes with Cloved Canned Fruit. This is the sort of dish that goes well on a buffet table anytime. Pungent cloves, sticks of cinnamon and other whole and ground spices give new life to plain fruit.

Try Spicing Canned Fruit

It's often said that one of the greatest joys of cooking with spice is the chance it gives the cook to throw away the rules—to improvise, and create culinary triumphs that will carry her very own signature. Certainly no single spice offers wider scope for this than the dashing clove.

Sweet and pungent with just a hint of tongue-teasing bite, it is a natural enlivener of all bland flavors, including mashed potatoes. It flavor-sparkles meats and adds vibrant depth to baked desserts.

The cook who casts cloves in the unusual role of zesting canned fruits, or poached fresh fruits, will achieve a refreshingly different effect — almost as if she had invented a brand new flavor.

The American Spice Trade Association offers these cloved-fruit ideas to speed you on your road to a reputation for creative cooking.

Cloved Canned Fruit

No. 2 can sliced pineapple
No. 2 can whole apricots
No. 2½ can peach halves
No. 2 can figs
¼ cup maraschino cherries
⅔ cup brown sugar
1 cup cider vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
Four 2-inch sticks whole cinnamon
2 teaspoons whole allspice
2 teaspoons whole cloves

Drain syrup from fruit into a saucepan. Add sugar, vinegar, salt and whole cinnamon. Tie allspice and 1 teaspoon of the cloves in a cheesecloth bag and add to syrup. Heat to boiling point. Boil 5 minutes. Insert a whole clove in each piece of fruit and simmer 15 minutes. DO NOT BOIL. Cool. Remove spice bag. Cover. Chill 24 hours or until ready to use. Yield: 2 quarts.

Spiced Poached Pears

4 large fresh winter pears
1 cup boiling water
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 4-inch stick whole cinnamon
½ teaspoon whole cloves

Wash, peel and cut pears into quarters. Remove cores. Place water, sugar, lemon juice and cinnamon in a saucepan. Tie cloves in a cheese cloth bag and add. Bring to boiling point. Add pears. Cover and cook. Yield: 4 servings.

Spiced Prunes

1 pound dried prunes
Cold water
½ cup sugar
2 cups prune soaking water
¼ cup cider vinegar
1 fresh lemon, sliced
¼ teaspoon whole cloves
¼ teaspoon whole allspice
1 2-inch stick whole cinnamon

Wash prunes and soak overnight in cold water. (If prunes are tenderized, cook according to directions on the package.) Bring sugar, prune water, cider vinegar, lemon slices, and spices (tied in a cheesecloth bag) to boiling point. Boil 2 minutes. Add prunes. Cover and simmer until prunes are tender, 15 to 20 minutes. Remove spice bag. Chill and serve for breakfast, dessert or as a meat accompaniment. Yield: 1 quart.

Spiced Apple and Orange Sauce

4 large tart cooking apples
2 large oranges
½ cup water
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground cloves

Peel, core and slice apples. Place in a saucepan. Peel oranges, cut into sections and add along with water. Cover and cook over medium heat until tender, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in remaining ingredients. Serve.

How About Honey to Candy Sweets

Honey-Orange Sweet Potatoes

6 medium-sized boiled or baked sweet potatoes
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
⅓ cup honey
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
⅓ cup orange juice
½ teaspoon salt

Remove skins from sweet potatoes; cut in half lengthwise. In a 10-inch skillet mix together the butter, honey, orange rind, orange juice and salt; heat. Add sweet potatoes; simmer, basting often and turning once or twice, until syrup is reduced and thickened—about 10 minutes.

Strawberries Approach Peak Season

Warm weather and outdoor activity may have increased your family's appetite, but what have they done to your energy? Are you looking for food that is easy-to-fix and quick-to-serve?

MEATS FOR YOUR CHOOSING—Hamburger, frankfurters and cold cuts may be at the top of your list during warm weather. You'll be paying an average of 12 to 30 cents per serving for these meats. Try to use hamburger within a day after you buy it, suggests the MSU Marketing Agent. Franks and cold cuts should keep a week in your refrigerator.

If you think "nothing could be finer" than fried or barbecued poultry meat, you'll be interested to know that there are good supplies of broilers and turkeys again this week.

Although pork prices are rising, many cuts continue to be economical buys compared to other red meats. The rib-end roast will make a meaty meal of "country-style" barbecue. Steaks, cut from the Boston butt, may be barbecued for about 16 to 20 cents a serving. A portion of smoked ham may be enough for one meal of grilled ham slices and another of cold ham sandwiches or salad.

Bacon continues at lower prices than normal for this time of year.

Lamb prices continue at high retail levels, but the shoulder roast at 55 to 69 cents a pound will stretch far if you use it as shish kabobs or grind it for patties. For extra flavor, wrap the outside edge of lamb patties with a strip of bacon held securely with a pick.

VEGETABLES AND SALADS — The vegetable and salad selection for warm weather meals becomes easier each week. You'll find heavy supplies of spinach, green onions, radishes and greens.

Green bean supplies are increasing as several states are shipping at the same time.

Rains in the south and east have delayed potato harvesting, but at 10 to 12 cents a pound that is only 3 1-3 to 4 cents a serving. And cold potato salad is something you can prepare in the cool of the morning or evening.

Slightly fewer tomatoes and head lettuce may be sold at slightly higher prices in some stores this week.

WHAT'S FOR DESSERT? — If you continue this trend of easy-to-fix food, you'll probably choose fresh fruit dessert. And the number one item on your shopping list will be Michigan strawberries.

Strawberry volume is expected to pick up sharply this week with largest supplies expected in the Benton Harbor area between June 12 and 15. These dates are important for most of the strawberries grown in Michigan come from the southwestern part of the state.

You'll recognize the Robinson strawberry variety. It is large, has a white center and is best for fresh use. The Premier is smaller, is red all the way through and is excellent for fresh use and freezing.

Freezing strawberries? Then a 16 quart case will make 20 to 24 pints frozen. Or if you buy on a smaller scale, two quarts will make three pints frozen.

But if your family doesn't like strawberries every day during the season, you'll want to check other fruits available. You can expect a drop in cantaloupe prices as shipments become heavy. You'll find a variety of prices, due mainly to the size of the melons. The smaller the number advertised, the larger the melon. Numbers tell you how many melons the shipping crate will hold.

Blueberries average about 39 cents a pint and are increasing in supply. Peach and plum offerings are larger this week.

Warmer weather usually reduces egg production, and when this happens, prices advance. Large size eggs and medium size eggs cost about the same when you consider price per pound this week. The large sizes weigh 24 ounces; the medium sizes weigh 21 ounces.

'Brownie' Builds on Linoleum Blocks

Wringer Rolls Out Big Business

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI) — An art teacher built a multi-million-dollar greeting card business on $900, linoleum blocks, and a clothes wringer.

Henrietta Strong, originator of the Brownie cards, was teaching in a private school when a gift shop wanted to sell Christmas cards which her students had made. That gave her the idea for her own business.

But Miss Strong first decided to take a year's leave in Europe to perfect her technique.

"When I came back from Europe, I had only $900, so I had to make a living in a hurry," said Miss Strong, known as "Brownie" to friends and employees.

That year, 1936, she set up shop and housekeeping in a two-room cold water flat, cut designs in linoleum blocks, and printed the cards on a clothes wringer because she couldn't afford a printing machine.

She gave her nickname to the business. "I was very naive and it was only natural."

After a year, she moved to a larger apartment, and kept on moving as her business grew.

But it wasn't all beer and skittles," she said. "I had a bad time during the depression. But I feel now it was the best thing that could have happened. Our growth was very sound — like a good plant, it grew. Nobody was more surprised than I."

Miss Strong, a tall handsome brunette, ran the business on her own for 32 years, eventually employing 150 persons. Last November the firm became affiliated with United Printers and Publishers, so most of the work is done in Dedham, Mass. Only the executive offices, art department and sales department heads are in New York.

The firm makes about 700 items, from Christmas cards and note cards to coasters, napkins, guest towels and wrapping paper. Next in the line will be paper cups, plates and table mats which will be intended for every-day use.

Miss Strong is a native New Yorker with a salting of New England humor and reserve, garnered from living in Providence, R.I. She still writes verses and messages, designs, plans and inspires. She employs six artists — all women, because she feels the business needs a feminine approach.

She keeps an apartment in Manhattan and commutes on weekends to her country home on nine acres in Yorktown Heights, N.Y.

The "nice thing" about the business is her personal following. Miss Strong said. "People from across the country write to tell me how much they like certain cards or to request a reprint," she said.

Mr. Mort designed this shirtwaist dress of geranium print cotton that is as soft as silk. The dress is accented by a wide belt over the full skirt. The long sleeves may be pushed up to three-quarter length.

Told About U. of M. Collection

State Historical Chapter Gathers

Michigan Chapter of National Society, Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America, held its semi-annual meeting in Ann Arbor Tuesday. Luncheon was served in the Vandenburg Room of the Michigan League Building, followed by a business meeting presided over by Mrs. Earl S. Mastick of Milford, state president.

The group was addressed by Dr. Lewis G. VanderVelde, professor of history at the University of Michigan on the subject, "Michigan Historical Collections." Dr. VanderVelde told how the collection was started in 1935 in one room, poorly equipped with little financial help.

At that time Elizabeth Sparks Adams (wife of Judge Clark J. Adams) and A. R. Hooker, two interested students, assisted in securing from alumnae and their families, historical information.

The collection is now housed in four rooms in the Rackham Building and consists of thousands of bound volumes, files, maps, and newspapers covering the early history of Michigan. To be found are such subjects as churches, lumbering, auto industry, farming, medicine, politics and wild life.

Dr. VanderVelde spoke of the gift of funds honoring the late Mrs. Henry B. Joy and Laura Cook of Hillsdale given by the Michigan Chapter.

Members attending from Pontiac were Mrs. E. G. Clark, Mrs. L. Lee Dunlap, Mrs. Harry Going, Mrs. E. V. Howlett, Mrs. Allan H. Monroe and Mrs. Harry B. Chapman.

Child's Spurts of Growth Often Cause Problems

EAST LANSING (AP)—Don't be alarmed if that youngster of yours suddenly starts to shoot up like a weed. Just hope that his mental development keeps up with his body.

Many of those childhood adjustment problems you hear about begin when physical and mental growth fail to keep pace with each other, reports an education expert at Michigan State University.

"Either he will be too big for others of his mental age or he will be too smart for others his size," says Dr. Jean M. LePere.

Analyzing the development data of a group of 66 youths, Dr. LePere concluded:

1. There are two cycles of growth separated by a period of relative inactivity which usually occurs between the ages of 10 and 12.

2. The cycles are characterized by small gains at first, then rapid gains usually around 8 or 9 and again around 14 or 15, then a leveling off.

3. On a group basis, mental growth closely follows physical growth. But, they do not accompany each other in many individual cases.

4. There is a great deal of variation as to the time children go through any particular part of the cycles.

5. There is evidence a similar cycle takes place from birth until the child is six.

Keep Husband at a Distance—Abby

Friend Has Right to Her Illusions

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am about to break off a friendship of long standing with a very good friend of mine because her husband tried to start something with me when she was called out of town to attend her ailing mother. What I want to know is: Should I tell my friend what happened?

ABBY

She's crazy about her husband and I hate to disillusion her. What excuse should I give for ending our friendship if I don't tell her the truth?

OLD FRIEND

DEAR OLD: (and your problem isn't new, either) Any "friend" who would give a wife this kind of news could double for an enemy. Let your friend live with her "illusions," limit your association with her to "daytime get-togethers," and avoid her husband.

DEAR ABBY: In 1954 my husband went to a doctor for a check-up. The doctor told him he needed an operation. My husband never went back. It's been almost five years already and my husband says he never felt better. What do you make of this?

MRS. J.H.

DEAR MRS. J.H.: Either your husband didn't need the operation in the first place — or he still needs it. He should re-check with his doctor at once.

DEAR ABBY: I'll soon be married 16 months and the man I married believes it's the woman's place to make the living. We were married four months when he quit his job and said he had no intention of working any more. I bring home $68.70 a week and he says that's plenty for both of us. He's sleeping when I go to work in the morning and watching TV when I come home at night. I have to get the supper. I am 41 years old and he is 34. He is very kind and loving. Should I overlook his laziness?

HELP WANTED

DEAR HELP: If you are able to "overlook" this kind of laziness you are more generous than most women. You have bought yourself a "kind, loving and lazy man" and who (beside yourself) can say you made a bad bargain?

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a girl I love very much. She is 16 and thinks she is pregnant. I don't know what to do because I am younger than she is and couldn't support her if I did marry her. She is scared to death to tell her folks and I am more so. Is there any possible way for her to find out if she is pregnant without waiting six weeks? She is torturing herself. Please tell us what to do right away.

SERIOUS TROUBLE

DEAR SERIOUS: You must tell your parents at once and she must tell hers. They are your best friends and the only ones who can help you. DO NOT CONSIDER ANY OTHER SOLUTION!

Grande Blitz a la Dior: Models Invade Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—Twelve high-fashion models arrived from Paris yesterday, looking something like a technicolor scene that got mislaid in a black and white movie.

"Look at their eyes," exclaimed a Russian Air Force worker, who couldn't seem to believe what he saw.

The models, including three English girls and an Argentinian, are from the famed house of Dior and will stage twice-daily fashion shows in the Soviet capital beginning tomorrow.

Soviet photographers lined up in full force to catch the girls as they stepped off the plane. Most of the models wore Dior suits and bucket-shaped straw hats over their short hair.

One of the English models, Livia Lamblin, said none of her companions had ever seen Russia before and they all considered the trip "a great adventure."

"We brought our own cosmetics," said Miss Lamblin.

Mrs. Robert Spinner, left, was in charge of the Rhapsody in Pink Luncheon and Bridge Party, the last monthly party for the summer at Forest Lake Country Club. Assisting her at the party held yesterday were Mrs. Alan R. Pfaff, center, and Mrs. George Greig. Mrs. Norman Reeck and Mrs. Albert Chendes also helped with the party.

Looking very cool and fresh despite the heat are Mrs. Richard Norris and Mrs. Wilma Thomas Dickinson as they go into the club house for an afternoon of luncheon and bridge.

Change Is Essential in Good Marriage

By RUTH MILLETT

You June brides are going to read a lot of advice on how to keep your marriage one long honeymoon. Don't believe it.

If you do, you'll soon be unhappily wondering whether it is your fault or your husband's that the honeymoon is over.

Real marriage begins when the honeymoon ends. It's a relationship that constantly changes, and the successful wife is the one who realizes that and doesn't resist change.

Instead of being hurt when her husband becomes absorbed in his work and reaches out for a few interests that don't include her, she gets busy finding some interests of her own.

Instead of expecting her husband to forever think she is perfect, because he did when he married her, she works to earn his approval by learning homemaking skills.

Instead of thinking that he doesn't love her any more because he seems to need other companionship than her own, she gets busy making friends, opens her home to others, and looks for outside interests that can be shared to make life more interesting.

Instead of believing her husband when he tells her he likes her just as she is and never wants her to change, she is smart enough to know that a woman who tries to stay a girl forever would bore a man to death.

It's foolish for any bride to try to make a honeymoon last forever, because honeymoons are brief. They are the beginnings, not goals.

Home Vacation Can Be Fun

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Was it a nervous breakdown or a vacation you had last year? Sometimes we feel more like we had had a nervous breakdown rather than a vacation.

Sometimes the things you did and the things you saw make the real exhaustion of certain vacations worthwhile. However, I think that often folks return home realizing that the trip they took was a mistake.

This may be due to many factors. Perhaps you took your little children with you and found the experience hectic and wearing, with the whole family's nerves on edge most of the time and the children ill part of the time.

Maybe you tried to go too far in too short a time, driving hundreds of miles on too many days. Maybe you spent more money than you could afford and this added a strain to the trip and dulled the pleasure of it. Trips have a way of costing much more than we think they will.

If you have decided to stay at home this year, you probably can have a wonderful time for about one-third the cost of any trip. Many couples who cannot afford competent care for their children for two weeks can afford it for a couple of weekends.

In some town, city or village near you there is a hotel or an Inn to which you could go. For the housewife and or mother nothing could be so restful as this complete relief from household duties. This also gives the husband and wife that important opportunity to rediscover one another as individuals and have carefree fun together.

If you put your mind to it you also will discover that there are many interesting spots nearby. Check with your local Bureau of Commerce and find out if there are any exciting places just around the corner from home.

You might want to go there for only a weekend and devote the week to play activities and relaxation at home.

A couple of weekends away, or even one long weekend, and some extra help with the children and housework and cooking, sunning in the back yard and sleeping as late as one wishes, might be the very best of all vacations.

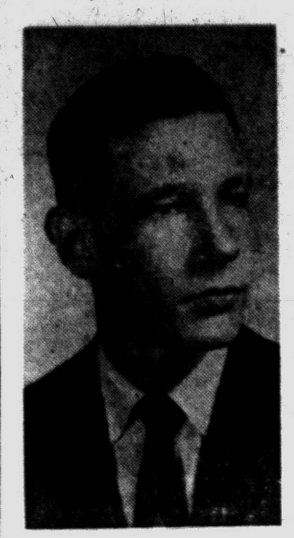

Anyway, whatever you do I hope you have fun!

Tomorrow: "She Wants to 'Look Like Something in a Swim Suit."

You may want to spend a week-end or two of your vacation at a nearby hotel or inn and devote the week days to play activities and relaxation at home.

Ask Any Wife

NEW YORK — Three-fourts of the wives participating in a survey complained that their husbands had been far more gallant about taking them out to dinner before they were married.

Money Gifts Usually Sent to Bride

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently the daughter of a neighbor of mine was married and I was invited to the wedding and reception. Practically all of the guests with the exception of me and a very few others, gave the bride a cash gift.

"After the dinner, the guests presented their envelopes to the bride as they went up to wish her happiness. I have never seen this practice before and wondered if it were proper."

Answer: I have never seen this either, although I have heard that it is customary among some groups. Correctly, when money is given for a wedding present, it should be in the form of a check and sent to the bride beforehand.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When addressing wedding invitations, is it correct to address the outer envelope to Mr. John F. Locke when the full name is not known, or would Mr. John Locke be better form?"

Answer: Although the full name would be correct, if you do not know what the middle name is and he habitually uses the initial, it will be better for you to address his invitation to Mr. John F. Locke.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Very often at business and social functions where my husband is employed, certain tributes are paid him or awards given him and he is asked to rise to receive them. I never know what I should do in such an instance — whether I am to applaud him too or do I assume that we are a unit, and do nothing?"

Answer: You applaud your husband briefly, just as the other guests do.

Vacation Photography: Work or Pleasure?

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — It may seem almost heresy to suggest that a man work on his vacation.

Yet, if he is a sucker for photography, and a man to whom time (and also film) is money, it must be done.

"Anybody who iss going avay, already he should work so he is not wasting his time and his film," said Maria Martel, one of the great art photographers of this country.

"He should give himself an assignment—as if he has a job to execute for a magazine. He should say to himself, 'On this trip I shall take only pictures of reflections.' Or 'This time I shall take only pictures of small children in action.' "

OTHER THINGS

Madame Martel smiled with the openness of an F28 stop.

"He will not take only reflections, or only children of course. While looking at them, he will see other things he cannot resist shooting. But his artistic senses will be organized. His eye will start looking at photographic subjects in more detail.

"Already he will be training his eyes to see like a camera."

It is a purely psychological approach which makes sense for the average man or woman who, on a vacation, tends to snap everything in sight with the wife or kiddies standing stiff and shy—and occasionally headless—in the foreground.

The amateur cameraman's chief hurdle, in becoming a good photographer, is training his eye to capture the unusual angle, the warm expression, the interesting patterns of light and shade.

Madame Martel, who has her own commercial studio and does creative photography for the top U. S. magazines, suggests the following "self-imposed photographic assignments" for vacationers:

1) If going to the shore, particularly, resolve to take pictures reflected in anything—in water, in mirrors, in windowpanes.

2) Snap pictures "looking through things" — doorways, trees, fishnets.

3) Take only children, or dogs, or the faces of old people.

4) Concentrate on pretty women.

This latter suggestion comes naturally to most men; and the expert—one of the most striking examples of such subject matter—elaborates on the art of glamorizing girls.

PAINFUL SCENE

"It is very painful to a woman to see a picture taken of her in the light of the midday sun," said Maria, cringing delicately.

"I do not expect the vacationer to rise at 4:30 in the morning as I often do to get a flattering light on a lady. But I would suggest that he at least spares her the lights of lunchtime, unless he iss very careful to bounce the sun onto her face, rather than off it."

The sun, shining down on the subject, circles the eyes and shades the mouth with the nose, she pointed out.

To protect facial beauty, always use a reflector—a white wall, a light bathtowel, a sheet of paper, even—to bounce the sun onto the ladys face and make her a glamor-girl instead of a gargoyle.

"The camera is the biggest liar in the world," she smiled. "It takes sometimes a picture of a woman that no man who loves her — even likes her — would ever see.

"Because the camera, unlike man, has no heart."

Hollywood Headlines

Filmland's Big Headache: Current Star Shortage

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The film industry's biggest headache is not television nor the sagging box office. It's the star shortage.

That was underlined again with the cancelling of "Bachelor's Baby," which Dick Powell was to produce and direct for 20th Century-Fox. Reason: the studio couldn't find a female star to appear opposite Bing Crosby.

Bing has long had a policy of insisting on strong names to co-star with him.

One of the few times he agreed to be the sole star of a picture was "Man on Fire." It was a flop, and Bing is more firm than ever in his conviction that he should have one or more top names opposite him.

A British movie about Hollywood? It could happen. Robert Kirsch, book editor of the Los Angeles Times, reports interest from an English film company in his new novel, "In the Wrong Rain." The story is about a business manager for film stars who gets involved in a romance with a young acting hopeful.

James Cagney is submerging his Cagneyisms to portray Bull Halsey in "The Gallant Hours." Says he: "I've had to unlearn all the tricks and shortcuts I've collected over the years. The truth is that Halsey is such a direct, nonsense guy that any mannerisms would seem phony."

Was it worth all that? The question will be asked about "The Horse Soldiers," for which John Wayne and William Holden got 1½ million dollars and 40 per cent of the profit. The answer will come when the movie hits the theaters this summer, and it may well be yes.

Business should be excellent for the picture in which John Ford pulls all his old tricks, and a couple of new ones. As a Civil War chase, it is well done. As human drama, it has limitations.

Somoza Wants Full Surrender

Refuses Safe Conduct to Nicaraguan Rebels Who Are Breaking Up

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP)—Nicaragua's government today held out for the unconditional surrender of rebel invaders from Costa Rica after rejecting an offer from 45 of the insurgents to give up if given safe conduct out of the country.

Encouraged by eyewitness reports of rebel disintegration, the commander of Nicaragua's armed forces, Gen. Anastasio Somoza, said he thought the 45 would surrender today. They face trial, with nine-year prison terms the maximum penalty possible.

Two newsmen who visited the rebel band and brought out their spokesman, said 16 of the group refused to give up and marched off into the mountains to continue their defiance of Gen. Somoza and his brother, President Luis Somoza.

According to government reports, the 16 holdouts are the biggest contingent still trying to fight the Somozas. Somoza claims another planeload of about 40 rebels who landed from Costa Rica nearly two weeks ago has been split into groups of twos and threes and is no longer a threat. Rumors of additional invasions have not materialized.

Despite the government claims and the eyewitness report, a Nicaraguan rebel radio heard in Honduras, said insurgents killed 86 Nicaraguan National Guardsmen in fighting for the town of Boaco, some 60 miles northeast of Managua. The broadcast added that newly acquired planes were bringing ammuntion and weapons to the rebels in the Boaco area.

Juvenile Offenses Differ Sharply in Boys, Girls

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — David Bogen, head of the Los Angeles County Juvenile Hall for 16 years, says boys and girls usually are taken into custody for quite different reasons.

"Boys are arrested mainly for offenses against property," he said, "while girls commit offenses against themselves such as defying their parents, sex delinquency and running away."

Insects have no lungs. They breath through tubes running through their bodies.

MTA Is Wishing Charlie Could Get That Nickel

BOSTON (UPI) — Officials of the Metropolitan Transit Authority (MTA) which operates Boston's subways, would love to lay hands on Charlie. They want to give him a nickel.

The MTA can't afford the nickel —it runs a 15-million-dollar deficit annually — but somehow Charlie has to be saved from an eternal subway ride " 'neath the streets of Boston."

The MTA has a problem, because Charlie isn't real. He's a songwriter's brainchild. The song tells how poor Charlie jumped on an MTA train with only a dime in his pocket and can't get off because the fair, paid at the exit, is 15 cents.

The ditty also details Charlie's eating arrangements and this is the crux of the problem. His wife daily visits the Scollay Square station and "hands Charlie a sandwich as the train goes roaring through."

The song recording has become too popular, the transit people feel.

Record lovers apparently fear Charlie will die of starvation on just one sandwich a day. Thousands of sandwiches from all over the nation have been mailed to Charlie, in care of the MTA, in the last two weeks.

The MTA's refrigeration facilities are virtually nil and with the warm weather and bologna and salami and all . . . well, the MTA would just like to find Charlie and give him that nickel.

2 Said Slayers of Mine Owner

Cover-Up of Robbery Claimed as Motive in Tennessee Murder

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — Two men will be charged with murder in the ambush slaying of a coal mine owner, Sheriff Rose Kitts said Wednesday night.

Kitts said 18-year-old George W. Baker had made a full confession. He said the youth told him that Franklin D. Smith shot Jesse Fesler because "he didn't want to stand trial for robbery." Baker said he begged the 22-year-old Smith not to kill Fesler. The slaying occurred Monday.

Kitts said Baker gave this account in the written confession:

He was picked up by Smith shortly before the slaying of Fesler in Lake City.

The two men drove to Clinton, where Baker stole an automobile. They then drove to Lake City, where Smith pulled out a rifle, walked into the woods and shot Fesler from ambush.

"He said he didn't want to stand trial for robbery," the sheriff quoted Baker.

Smith was charged with robbing Fesler of $130 last March. The case is scheduled to go to a grand jury on Monday.

Smith has not been told of Baker's confession, Kitts said. He previously had denied any part in the slaying.

His Grand Opening Became a Smash Hit

SHERMAN OAKS, Calif. (AP)—Attorney Lynn R. Pettler had a grand opening at his new office Wednesday. But he wasn't prepared for the way one old client dropped in on him.

Clara B. Fiske came in through the window, station wagon and all. She said she was parking in front of his office when the throttle stuck and the car went out of control. No one was injured.

Pettler estimated damages at $2,500.

Live Wires Save Life of Tumbling Workman

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — An Edison Company workman fell on 4,000-volt power lines yesterday, but they may have saved his life.

Sigurd T. Myrvold, 42, was working atop a 60-foot power pole when he lost his balance and toppled off. His body landed on the charged line five feet down.

Another workman cut off the power. The victim suffered severe burns over the upper part of his body, but was given a 50-50 chance to live.

Smeekens Wants State to Run Laundry Business

LANSING (AP) — Ever hear of swapping 13 prison buildings for 10 years' free laundry service?

That's what Michigan Senators talked about Tuesday. No bargain was struck.

The proposition was advanced by Sen. John P. Smeekens (R-Coldwater) in discussion of proposals to authorize the state to pay the City of Detroit $2,342,500 for women's division facilities of the City House of Correction.

Why not pay the city in trade? asked Smeekens.

It seems many of the 305 inmates are kept busy handling five million pounds of laundry a year from four city hospitals.

If the state took over, it could more than pay off the mortgage by charging the city five cents a pound, or $250,000 a year, for continuing to provide this service, Smeekens said.

Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit said the city wasn't interested in such a deal, that it needed $500,000 in cash to retire bonds issued to finance some of the construction.

Ryan said for years Detroit "has been playing Santa Claus" to the state, and it was about time this was stopped.

For 35 minutes the rambling argument went on until Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), growing weary in the heat, called for sending the bills to the appropriations committee. His motion carried.

Idaho has more than 20 million acres in national forests.

Fellow Has Hard Time Keeping His Furniture

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Air Force Capt. George F. Miller learned Wednesday he's in the market for new furniture — for the second time in two years.

The Millers lost their furniture two years ago when the moving van was wrecked and burned enroute to Palm Beach Air Force Base in Florida.

Wednesday the couple arrived at Tinker Air Force Base here and Miller reported to the base.

"Captain," a secretary said, "the van bringing your furniture had a wreck and burned. It was a total loss."

Industry economists predict that more than 11 million barrels of crude oil will be processed in the nation's refineries by 1965—double the 1950 rate.

MAMARONECK, N.Y.—Claude Harmon, a familiar name to Oakland County golfers, is counting on his "chickens" to make a strong bid for the National Open title.

This is the nickname he has bestowed on many outstanding pro and amateur golfers he has been credited with developing.

"One of my chicks could win the National Open," Harmon says with confidence even though he will also be among the entries taking a crack at the coveted title.

Some of the chicks to whom he refers are Dick Mayer, Mike Souchak, Jackie Burke, Shelley Mayfield, Otto Greiner, Dave Marr and Jimmy McHale, a veteran Walker Cup player.

They all served their apprenticeship at the famed Winged Foot club and they all know the West Course layout from tree to bunker. They also have the advantage of having the "home" golf fans of Westchester County cheering for them.

But, while Harmon boosts about his chicks, no one is discounting the 42-year-old prof who is regarded as one of the game's finest teachers.

Back in 1940, Harmon was Craig Wood's assistant at Winged Foot, but one of the talents was his voice. He hitched up with a dance band and this was the way he earned his three daily meals.

Those were tough days for Harmon. He did much of his singing in Detroit after putting in an eight-hour shift with an auto parts plant. He became friends with many people in the Pontiac area including including Don Sutherland who was the old pro at Davisburg Golf Club.

When Harmon made his first visit to play a round of golf at Davisburg, Sutherland agreed to play with him. He knew little of Harmon's abilities on the links and thus he started him 2-up in their friendly match.

As it happened, Harmon shot 32-32—64 and the amazed Sutherland was lost for words.

"Look here, young man, what are you doing wasting your time in night clubs and at those one-night dance sessions?" Sutherland asked.

Harmon's name got around Michigan golf circles rapidly. He played in several Michigan tournaments and he became quite prominent when he tied Al Watrous in the Michigan Open in 1942.

He then took the head pro's job at Lochmoor in 1942 and he stayed there until he returned to Winged Foot in 1945 to succeed his ex-teacher Craig Wood.

His competitive career was highlighted by the 1948 victory in the Masters when he posted a 279 to lead the field by five strokes.

Chick Rutan, who was with Harmon at Winged Foot under Wood, and who succeeded him at Lochmoor, is one of the believers in Harmon's chance to win the Open this year.

He's a very prolific person and you can be sure he will go all out in the Open," Rutan commented.

As host pro Harmon automatically qualified as an entry. He is a native of Georgia and does winter pro duties at Seminole Golf Club in Palm Springs, Fla.

But, at Winged Foot where he has guided all of his "chickens" to golf stardom, he is more at home.

It should be quite apparent that the man to beat as the Open starts today is Harmon—the home pro.

Gridder Brodie Seeks Golf Riches

Trying 2 Pro Sports

MAMARONECK, N.Y. — John Brodie thinks pro football and pro golf can mix and right now he has no intention of giving up either one.

"So far there's been no conflict at all," the handsome 23-year-old quarterback of the San Francisco 49ers said Wednesday during a practice round for Thursday's start of the National Open Golf Tournament at Winged Foot.

The fact that the former Stanford All-America qualified for America's prestige golf tournament in his first crack didn't appear to impress him a bit. Neither did the fact that he only took up the game five years ago while attending Stanford and came along fast enough to play in this kind of company.

"There was a golf course available at college so I started to play," he said. Within a year he was a regular on the always-strong, Stanford golf team. In his senior year he played No. 1 much of the time.

"Actually, I'm still not much of a golfer," he said modestly. "Heck, I'm learning something new all the time and I still waste a lot of shots. You have to be a good putter to last in this game. That I know, so I'm working especially on that part.

"But come late summer, I'm going back to the 49ers. I love football and I'm going to keep on playing it as long as I can."

Did that rule out the pro golf tour?

"No," he said, "I'm planning to try the tour next winter as soon as the pro football season is over."

He's had a smattering of it this year, playing at Pebble Beach, and the San Diego, Texas, Tucson, New Orleans, Pensacola and Baton Rouge tournaments.

Although Brodie failed to make the cut in all except Baton Rouge, Bob Rosburg, former Stanford golfer and a tour veteran, thinks Brodie can make it.

"John's a good one," said Rosburg, who has taken Brodie under his wing in the last couple years. "Nothing much bothers him — and that's important in golf. My guess is he will make it. But he's had hardly any experience, not even in the amateurs. But he's coming along real well."

Is there anything from football that has helped him as a golfer Brodie was asked.

"Guess I'd say that being used to crowds is a help," he said. "Concentration is the least of my worries. I hardly know anybody's around."

No Complaints About Course, Just Humidity

59th USGA Tournament Begins 72-Hole Grind at Winged Foot

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MAMARONECK, N.Y. — Unlike the 1958 National Open which brought about a barrage of complaints over the toughening of Southern Hills in Tulsa, the only unpleasant word out of the 59th USGA Championship which started today at Winged Foot Golf Club was directed at the strength-sapping humidity.

A record high of 91 for a June 10th was recorded yesterday and another such day was forecast today as 150 entries began teeing off at 8 a.m.

With the heat getting much of the attention, most of the top pros were in agreement that the famed West Course has been toughened only to a point of providing a fair test with no gimmicks to harass the players.

Surprisingly, one player who had nothing about which to complain was temperamental Tommy Bolt. In fact, Bolt came off the 18th green after a respectable practice round of 69, with his shirt saturated with perspiration, and said, "I like it hot, I play my best."

Bolt, the defending champion who led every round last year at Tulsa to finish with 282 total, was hitting his drives long and straight, which veterans feel will be the main requisite on the par-70 layout.

The heat apparently did not bother a lot of other sub-par shooters in practice yesterday. National Amateur champion Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City fired a 33-32-65, with Gene Littler turning in a 66, and Dow Finsterwald a 68 among the scores reported.

Favorites were a dime a dozen as the first round got under way. Of course, the sentimental favorite is Sam Snead who has won every big title except the Open crown.

Then there is Ben Hogan, the favorite of the "skeptics," who would like to see him set an unprecedented record of winning his 5th title even though they say it can't be done. Age and the tough grind of the Open are the reasons for Hogan skepticism.

Arnold Palmer, the long-ball slugger from Latrobe, Pa., is another choice, but an irritating back ailment has now caused doubts he will be able to do it.

Of course, the circuit's top money winner, Art Wall, another Pennsylvanian, is also among the top candidates, But after being in the money in 35 straight tournaments, Wall himself admits he has hit a slump.

Host pro Claude Harmon, ex-Lochmoor professional, let it be known he has to be considered after turning in a 69 yesterday.

There are also many other top contenders such as Dick Mayer, Mike Souchak and Jackie Burke who received most of their tutoring on the Winged Foot layout.

Even 19-year-old British Amateur champion Deane Beman has to be regarded seriously. Beman is no stranger to Winged Foot. He won a Junior title on the same course a few years back.

Beman defeated Bill Hyndman in the finale of the British Amateur a few weeks ago and the attention he received was evident when he moved off the first tee with Hogan and Mayer in the threesome with a large gallery following.

Among the Michigan golfers, Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills was the first local entry to tee off. He went out in a threesome including Cary Middlecoff and Billy Casper at 10:32 a.m.

Gene Bone's tee-off time was 11:20, with Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile going off at noon and Chick Harbert of Meadowbrook at 12:08.

The course is playing at 3,430 yards out and 3,443 yards coming in for 6,873 total.

According to Harmon, the ultimate winner will be the one who can handle seven real tough holes in every round.

The 442-yard dogleg-to-the left first hole and the 468-yard 9th hole, both par fours, are considered the bogey holes.

Harmon also feels that three par-3 holes—No. 3 at 217 yards, No. 10 at 196 yards and No. 13 at 212 yards—will be disastrous for many players. All require dead-to-the-green shots because of narrow entrances, very deep bunkers and possibility for out-of-bounds shots if over-driven.

Winged Foot officials figure the attendance for the three-day affair could exceed 75,000 easily if weather conditions remain as they have been the past few days.

Tigers Come From Far Back to Win

Kaline Sparks 10-9 Triumph Over Red Sox

Trail Yankees by One Point With Big Series Opening Friday at N.Y.

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers aimed at a series victory over the Boston Red Sox today in their sprint toward the American League leadership.

The Tigers, comeback winners over the Red Sox 10-9 yesterday in a 25-hit slugfest marked by Al Kaline's 4-for-5 day, needed another victory for a rousing start on their Eastern tour.

While Detroit was nudged out of the first division even while winning, the triumph made it 2-1 for the Tigers in the current series. The Yanks, who beat Kansas City, hold fourth place over Detroit by .001 in the percentages. The Tigers and Yanks start private showdown series in New York tomorrow.

Tiger manager Jimmie Dykes, a man who'll take a chance, figured on starting relief man Ray Narleski in today's series finale with Boston. The Cleveland Indians knocked him from the box in his last start April 23.

A five-run rally in the seventh inning when Detroit trailed 6-3 carried the Tigers to yesterday's victory. Nine pitchers, including four for Detroit, took a thumping in three hours of play.

Starter Paul Foytack lasted only five innings for Detroit and the victory was credited to Tom Morgan, who pitched only one inning, the sixth.

Even so, they needed Larry Osborne's third homer of the year and Kaline's fourth hit for a second score in the eighth to make the game safe.

The Red Sox, keeping up with the hitting spirit of things, came back with two runs of their own in the eighth and another in the ninth. With the tieing run on base, Dick Sisler, fourth Tiger pitcher, retired the last man.

Kaline, driving in four runs, hit two doubles and two singles. He singled home Harvey Kuenn for the winning run in the eighth after Osborne's homer. Earlier, in the sixth, he doubled in two runs.

The hitting jamboree included nine doubles, among them two by Rocky Bridges, and three homers. Gary Geiger and Delock hit homers for Boston.

MUSCLE POWER — Minnie Minoso (left) and Billy Martin (right) playfully feel the Rocky Colavito's muscles after the big Cleveland outfielder hit four home runs in a 11-8 win at Baltimore last night. He had 6 RBIs in becoming the eighth player in history to accomplish the feat. Minoso and Martin each had circuit clouts.

'Only Trying to Get Hits'—Rocky

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rocky Colavito in a slump?

You'll get no takers from folks around these parts. Not after witnessing the Cleveland Indians' 25-year-old strong-boy whack four prodigious home runs out of spacious Memorial Stadium last night to tie a Major League record accomplished only seven times previously.

Rocky entered the game with 4 hits in his last 30 times at bat and only one homer during the month of June. When the one-man show was over, Colavito had upped his homer total for the season to 18—one behind American League leader Harmon Killebrew.

Only two other players in Major League history had ever hit four homers in consecutive times at bat in one game. Lou Gehrig, New York Yankee immortal, was the last to do it on June 3, 1932. Bob Lowe of the Boston National League team swatted four on May 30, 1894. Five others hit four in one game but not consecutively with Joe Adcock of Milwaukee the last to do it on July 31, 1954.

"I felt no pressure whatever" a grinning Colavito said after the game as he accepted congratulations from his teammates in the locker room. "I wasn't trying to hit the ball out of the park on any of them, I was only trying to get base hits."

Since Baltimore returned to the Major Leagues in 1954, three homers were the most ever hit out of the park by one club in a single game. Two was the top one-game output by one player.

"There were no flukes," yelled Rocky's teammate Jim Piersall after Cleveland's 11-8 victory. "He deserved every one. The Rock hit them in the toughest park in baseball."

Third inning — a 360-foot drive into the left field bleachers off Jerry Walker with one on. "It was a slider down the middle. I didn't hit it too good."

Frank Lane, voluble Cleveland General Manager, joined the clubhouse well-wishers.

"I had ordered a bunch of tennis rackets for those guys of ours," he said referring to the Indian slump which had seen the team lose nine of 10 games before last night. "But I've canceled Rocky's order."

Will Rocky try for a record fifth straight homer his first time up tomorrow night?

"No, I think I'll bunt," Rocky joked as he finally broke loose from reporters and headed for the showers.

Pistons Extend Olympia Lease

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons today announced completion of negotiations on a new two-year contract for use of Olympia Stadium in Detroit.

"We have extended our lease on Olympia Stadium for two years with renewal options," Fred Zollner, owner of the National Basketball Assn. team, said. "We are pleased to continue Olympia as our home."

The Pistons are scheduled to launch their third NBA season in Detroit in mid-October.

4 Homers for Colavito in Homer 'Graveyard'

By The Associated Press

Maybe you remember last year's All-Star Game. There were power guys aplenty, Banks and Aaron and Mantle, Berra, Mays and Thomas, Jensen and Cerv, Skowron, Williams, Triandos and Kaline yet a record was set when no one got an extra-base hit.

Know what the lowest one-season high is for home runs in a modern major league park? It's 80. And the park is Baltimore's Memorial Stadium.

It's the toughest home run park in the majors. In the five years it has been a big league ballyard, only seven visiting sluggers had hit as many as two home runs in one game there. No one had hit three in one game. Fact is, that was the TEAM record for one game there.

Yet that's where Cleveland's Rocky Colavito tied a major league record last night by becoming the eighth player ever to hit four in one game. He also became only the third to do it with successive shots, tagging drives of 360, 400, 400-plus and 425 feet as the Indians blasted the Orioles out of the AL lead 11-8.

These were his first of the year against the Orioles and they came against three right-handed pitchers. Colavito, a right-handed slugger who should "prefer" lefty pitchers, has hit all but three of his 18 off right-handers.

With Baltimore jolted loose from a deadlock, Chicago's White Sox took a one-game lead in the AL by beating Washington 4-1. New York climbed above .500 for the first time since April 25 by defeating Kansas City 6-4, gaining control of fourth place by one percentage point over Detroit, despite a 10-9 Tiger victory at Boston.

The Indians, who hit only five home runs while losing nine of their previous 10 games, finished with six homers which were good for all but one of their runs. Minnie Minoso and Billy Martin hit the others, the seventh for both.

Early Wynn (8-4) gained his first complete game in five starts for the White Sox, beating the Senators with a five hitter. A hit batter and an error by catcher Hal Naragon allowing Al Smith to score while attempting an inside-the-park homer, gave the Sox two runs in the first inning against Hal Woodeschick (0-1). Killebrew given a "night" by the fans, beat out an infield hit and scored Washington's lone run in the fourth.

Elston Howard's two-run double clinched it for the Yankees as they scored four in the seventh. It was their 11th victory in their last 13 games and third in a row. Art Ditmar (4-4) was the winner against Bud Daley (5-4), who had a strong of four complete-game victories.

D'Amato's Man Ignored

Ingemar Wants No Part of 10 Per Cent Agent

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Ingemar Johansson's "American representative" is in camp, ignored by the Swedish heavyweight but still claiming he has a contract.

Harry Davidow, the man who was hand-picked by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, to be Ingemar's 10 per center, arrived Wednesday.

"I do not care to have anything to do with that man," said Johansson who fights Patterson for the world title June 25 at Yankee Stadium. "He has no business dealings with me. The New York Commission refused to give him a license and therefore our contract is void."

Davidow said he was going to stay until fight time.

"I have a contract to serve as Johansson's manager for any and all his fights in the United States," he said. "It is a five-year pact, extending through 1964. The fact that the New York Athletic Commission refused to grant me a license does not alter the fact that it is a legal document. I am ready, willing and able to fulfill my end of the contract."

Annoyed by Davidow's presence, Johansson said, "Make him pay his regular dollar fee to watch me work out." It was not known whether Davidow paid but he was on hand when Johansson boxed seven rounds yesterday afternoon.

Pair of 2-Hit Shutouts Steal Softball Show

Walt Travis was the first to turn the trick when the Lakeside Royals blanked Elks No. 810 by a 2-0 count. Chuck Long followed suit as Deni's & Herk's whitewashed Casa Mia 3-0. Long struck out 11.

Slugfests prevailed in the other doubleheader with the Sport Shop clubbing 14 hits for a 12-7 victory over Griff's Grill and State Hospital downing the Pontiac Police 11-9.

State Thinclads NCAA Threats

From Our Wire Services

LINCOLN, Neb. — Two crack distance runners from Michigan State and another from Michigan will be among the contestants in the NCAA track and field championships Friday and Saturday.

Bob Lake and Forddy Kennedy, Big Ten mile and two mile champions, respectively, are the MSU boys and Dave Martin, runnerup to Lake, will be carrying Michigan colors.

The loss of two key men have dropped the Wolverines as a contender for team honors.

Making the trip with Martin will be Capt. Mamon Gibson, pole vaulter, hurdler Dick Cephas, Tony Seth, an 880 runner, and broad jumpers Lou Williams and Les Bird.

The entries of Lake and Martin has started meet officials talking about a 4-minute mile since Ed Moran of Penn State, Gail Hogdson of Oklahoma State and Jim Grelle of Oregon are also entered.

One of the reasons Kansas has been given the favorite's nod is that the Jayhawks have two of the six defending champions who will be trying to hang on to their individual titles.

The Kansas champions are broad jumper Ernie Shelby and low hurdler Charlie Tidwell, who holds the American record of 22.7 for the 220 yard barrier race. He set the record in the NCAA meet last year and has equalled it this year.

Other champions defending titles are Elias Gilbert, Winston-Salem, in the high hurdles; Ed Collymore, Villanova, 220-yard dash; Don Stewart, Southern Methodist, high jump; Jim Johnston, Purdue, pole vault.

Two-mile king Alex Henderson of Arizona State also is back but in somewhat of an orphan's role. He can't defend his title because the 3-mile has been substituted for the 2-mile to give the athletes practice for an Olympic and Pan American Games event.

Bad Day for U.S. Netters

BECKENHAM, Eng. (AP)—It was a poor day for American men and a good one for the Russians in the Kent Lawn Tennis Championships Wednesday. However, the strong American women's contingent did well.

Alex Olmedo, the Peruvian star of the U.S. Davis Cup team made a shaky advance into the fourth round, but America's No. 3 player, Barry MacKay, was eliminated.

Olmedo defeated Mark Otway of New Zealand, 6-3, 9-7, while MacKay, from Dayton, Ohio, dropped his third match, Ken Fletcher of Australia, an 18-year-old making his first tennis trip abroad, downed MacKay 6-4, 5-7, 6-3.

Andrei Potanin, an 18-year-old from Russia, eliminated Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., an old timer in international tennis, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3. Olmedo, only American left in the men's singles, meets Potanin in Thursday's quarterfinals.

Another Russian, Sergie Liknachev, defeated Britain's R. F. Condi, 6-3, 7-5.

Excuses could be found for both McKay and Frost. MacKay in the U.S. Air Force, has had little tennis lately.

"Nothing seemed to go right," said MacKay. "This defeat means I will miss a lot of practice that I need."

Woodmore Star for City Champs

Chet's Single in 7th Brings Jets 5-4 Win Over Knights

Chet Woodmore wore the hero's mantle for the Jets yesterday in the Class A City Baseball League.

Woodmore slapped a single in the bottom of the 7th inning to drive home Dave Simmons with the run that pinned a 5-4 defeat on the Knights of Columbus at Wisner Field.

Woodmore's game-winning blow climaxed an uphill fight for the defending city champs, who trailed by a 4-1 score until the 5th inning when they tallied three times to even the count. There were two men out when Woodmore delivered.

Jeers Become Cheers After 4th Home Run

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rocky Colavito made believers out of the Oriole fans—even the hecklers.

The Cleveland outfielder was given a rousing cheer when he took his right field position in the ninth inning last night after hitting his fourth consecutive home run to tie a Major League record. The 25-year-old slugger had been booed earlier in the game by rabid Baltimore fans and one heckler tossed beer on Rocky as he chased down a fly ball hit by Billy Klaus in the second inning.

Colavito said he was "pretty mad" after the beer thrower scored a bullseye.

"But when I took the field in the ninth," Rocky said, "I looked over and there was the same guy waving at me."

Too Many Graduates

There was too much graduation for the Eagles last night as they forfeited to the Arrows in a scheduled Waterford League softball game at Drayton Plains. Seven members of the Eagle squad were taking part in graduation exercises at Waterford High School. In the lone game played, Dobski's Bar made 12 hits and routed the Lotus Lakers, 14-4, with play halted after 5½ innings.

The closing of schools for another season brings us back around to that time of the year when the baseball and sofeball leagues are among the recreation and entertainment highlights of the Pontiac area.

Adult programs have been going for several weeks both here and in Waterford but most of the youngsters have had to be satisfied with practice sessions thus far due to the windup of classes.

Some have jumped the gun by starting in late afternoon or early evening so as not to conflict with school but the majority are still waiting for their first real taste of action.

The American Legion's annual area program gets rolling Sunday with all eight teams taking part. District 18 officials were planning on two Pontiac teams to give the loop of tremendous boost but both dropped out in a reported last-minute move.

John Streit is expecting a record number of entries in his Parks & Recreation junior setup this summer. Some 50 teams are now registered with another virtually in and still more interested.

Practice games for this group will start next week with the regular slate being launched June 22.

Over 150 adults will help keep the various leagues going. "We couldn't do much without the help of these adults," says Streit.

EXTRA INNINGS

Ypsilanti will host Babe Ruth regionals this year . . . Annual prep baseball powers Ferndale and Royal Oak Dondero have not met in four years. Dondero has won the Border Cities crown each of those seasons.

Have you ever seen a third-to-second-to-third double play pulled off. The Crusaders did it in Pee-Wee play the other day. Hot corner man Chucky Hall fired to 2nd on a grounder to force one man and then took a return throw from alert Tommy Thompson to nab a boy trying advance from 2nd on the play . . .

Final Wayne-Oakland records show Jim Paddock of Brighton led the hitters with .531 and Terry Hoy of Milford was the standout hurler with 5-0. Five different boys had two homers, Wade Deal, Northville, topped in triples with four and No. 2 hitter Cliff Simons (.469) of Clarenceville led the pack with five doubles.

Milford was overall champ with 8-2. West Bloomfield and Northville shared south division honors with 7-3, Clarenceville finished 6-4, Bloomfield 4-6, Brighton and Clarkston 3-7 and Holly 2-8. Rounding out the top ten hitters were: John Long .400 and John Lucadam .379 (WB); Bob Porritt (Clark) .360; John Paige .355 (BH); Bob Bergon and Rog Barrett (BH) and Kirchner (BR) .345 and Hoggard (M) .333.

Olympic Leader Is Considering Giving Up Post

Brundage May Drop Out After China Ousting Is Forgotten

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UPI)—International Olympic Committee (IOC) President Avery Brundage said today he might retire from his job once the dust has settled on the controversial ousting of Nationalist China from the IOC.

Brundage's eight-year term will expire next year. The IOC wants him to continue in his job, Chancellor Otto Mayer of Switzerland has said.

But Brundage has his doubts.

"Some personal questions are pressing," said the 71-year-old Chicago businessman. "Besides, I sometimes feel I could do much more for the Olympic movement by retiring from the presidency and writing some books on Olympic philosophy."

Brundage made the statement after two weeks that were marked by a worldwide controversy over the IOC's decision to withdraw recognition from the Nationalist Chinese Olympic Committee until it has changed its name to Formosan Olympic Committee "or something such like."

Although he would not admit it, Brundage seemed to be considerably hurt by the attacks of the U. S. State Department and others on his organization for alleged interference with political problems.

"We have been widely misunderstood," said Brundage.

"All we did was to take exception to the name of the Nationalist Chinese Olympic Committee. That was merely applying our rules and has nothing to do with politics. Nobody can claim that the Formosan Committee really represents Chinese sports. It represents sports on the island of Formosa.

"All we ask is that the Nationalists change their name. Once the name is all right, they are back in (the IOC)."

But Brundage added that a two-day-old proposal by Nationalist Chinese sports authorities to change the name to "Republic of China Olympic Committee" was "unacceptable."

"The word China has got to go," he said.

Basilio, Fullmer to Sign for Title Bout June 27

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer will meet here June 27 to sign contracts for a bout to determine the world middleweight championship.

Arch Hindman of Hagerstown, Ind., executive secretary of the association, said Wednesday that Basilio, Fullmer, promoter Norman Rothschild and managers Johnny DeJohn, Joe Netro and Marv Jenson will meet with the committee.

Hindman said the NBA wants a contract which calls for a defense of the title by the new champion within 90 days. He said committee members probably will require both boxers to post $5,000 certified checks, guaranteeing an early title defense.

Hindman said the contract has been agreed by both contenders, who are former middleweight champions. The title was left vacant when the NBA stripped Sugar Ray Robinson of his crown because he had not defended the title.

The 15-round contest is scheduled for early in August. The site has not been selected, but Hindman pointed out it could not be New York since the New York commission recognized Robinson as the middleweight king.

Indianapolis promoter Al Farb, who staged the Floyd Patterson-Brian London heavyweight title fight here May 1, reportedly is trying to line up the Basilio-Fullmer fight for Indianapolis.

Farb has invited Rothschild of Syracuse, N.Y., to come to co-promote the fight here.

Hindman said the NBA probably will direct Spider Webb, Gustav Scholz and Ace Armstrong to meet to determine which will challenge the winner of the Basilio-Fullmer fight.

Rosewall Rallies for Net Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ken Rosewall rallied last night to beat Ashley Cooper 4-6, 6-2, 6-3 in the fourth annual Masters round robin pro tennis tourney.

It was the second victory against one loss for Rosewall. It was Cooper's fourth straight defeat. The matches attracted a crowd of 1,800 to the Los Angeles Tennis Club.

NEW YORK (AP) — Elliott Burch, who trains Sword Dancer for the Brookmeade Stable, said today he regards the Belmont Stakes as a tossup with Black Hills the horse to beat instead of Royal Orbit.

Sword Dancer finished second in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Florida Derby, three $100,000-plus races, before getting a hundred grander himself. That was in the Metropolitan Handicap May 30, when he whipped older horses at Belmont Park.

Saturday's mile and one half Belmont, considered the toughest of the Derby-Preakness-Belmont Triple Crown races for 3-year-olds, is expected to have six or seven starters. The 91st Belmont is the richest in history, and with seven going, will gross $143,500, with $93,225 to the winner.

Mrs. Halina Braunstein's Royal Orbit, who beat Sword Dancer by four lengths in the Preakness, the King Ranch's Black Hills, and Howard B. Keck's Bagdad, appear to be the tough horses in the Belmont — along with Sword Dancer.

"I guess I fear Black Hills more than Royal Orbit," said the 35-year-old Burch. He won the Peter Pan over Royal Orbit and Bagdad, and he's coming up to this race in good shape. On top of that, Max Hirsch (Black Hills' trainer) has had a lot of experience getting horses ready for the Belmont. And then too, he's got Eddie Arcaro to ride.

"That other horse (Royal Orbit) may be just a little past his peak. We beat him in the Derby, and I don't know why we can't do it in the Belmont. Royal Orbit just took to that deep track at Pimlico in the Preakness, and our horse didn't. It favored that big horse, and our little colt just couldn't handle it. Sure, Royal Orbit beat us very handily, but we won't be at Pimlico Saturday."

Told that the early odds listed Sword Dancer as the even money favorite Saturday, with Royal Orbit 2-1 and Black Hills 4-1, Burch said:

"I dont think that we'll be the favorite. Granted that Willie Shoemaker (his rider) is pretty popular, he's not as popular in New York as Eddie Arcaro. Sure, the fans boo Eddie, but he's a great public favorite. Look back at the Metropolitan Handicap for instance. Everyone said Sword Dancer would be the favorite, but the crowd made Arcaro and Nadir their choice at the mutuel windows."

Loes Accused of Pushing Camera in Photog's Face

BALTIMORE (AP) — A news cameraman said Wednesday Baltimore pitcher Billy Loes pushed his camera into his face Tuesday night during the Oriole-Cleveland Indians game.

John Travieso, reporter-photographer for WBAL-TV, said the incident occurred as he tried to photograph Loes when the pitcher headed for the dugout in the seventh inning.

Loes, taking the mound in relief of Ernie Johnson with the bases loaded and no outs, had just retired the Indians without further damage by getting one to pop up and striking out two others.

Travieso said Loes pushed the camera with his gloved hand and muttered something like, "That's the worst thing you can do." The newsman suffered a small bruise over his eye and a puffed lip in the incident, which some press box observers believed was merely a playful Loes gesture of pushing Travieso's cap over his eyes.

"People down front in the box seats saw what happened and booed him," said Travieso.

He said he "kind of hung around" the Oriole dressing room after the game and Loes, on his way out, patted him lightly on the stomach "as if to say, 'Everything's all right, Buddy!'"

Western Starts NCAA Playoffs

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—The Broncos of Western Michigan University will be making their third appearance in five years in the NCAA baseball championships at Omaha, Neb., tomorrow when they face Oklahoma State University.

Western has sent more teams to the national tourney than any other school in the NCAA fourth district. But the national title has eluded the Broncos on each attempt.

They tied for third in 1952, went to the finals in 1955 to lose the title game to Wake Forest, and last year they again tied for third.

Invitational Golf Event Starts Friday

Stars Visit Pine Lake

By BILL CORNWELL

Jack Geiss and Duke Yager are close business associates for an aluminum company and last year they formed a very profitable golfing partnership to win the Pine Lake Invitational Golf Championship.

Geiss and Yager, both Birmingham residents, are coming back to defend their honors in the 10th annual Pine Lake Invitational tournament which gets under way Friday.

There will be plenty of stiff competition for the Geiss-Yager tandem in this selective drive-alternate tourney, the only one of its kind in the state.

Among the leading challengers will be the team of Bob Babbish and Bill O'Brien. Babbish and partner George Hain were runnersup in last weekend's Dearborn Invitational.

Babbish, one of Michigan's finest amateur golfers for many years, will be making one of his rare tournament appearances. Business pressures have kept the strong Detroit Golf Club star on the sidelines much of the time for the past two years.

Other outstanding team entries include Bud Stevens and Don Mead, Tommy Sheehan and Bud Gould, Jim Funston and Bill Krall, Blaine Eynon and Tommy Shannon Jr., and the father-and-son combination of Tony and Tom Skover, the 1958 qualifying medalists.

Carrying Pontiac's colors into the match play tourney will be Publinx stars Dick DeWitt and Dick Robertson, who went to the quarter-finals of last year's Indianwood Invitational event.

Eighteen-hole qualifying rounds will be completed in all flights today and match play pairings will be announced at tonight's Stag Dinner in the Pine Lake clubhouse. Match play in all flights will begin tomorrow.

Geiss and Yager defeated the Red Run team of Tom Draper and Bob Zinn to win last year's crown. They won't have to worry about Draper in this year's title drive since big Tom is competing in the National Open at Mamaroneck, N.Y.

Pine Lake Country Club's new wing is not yet completed, but a portion of it will be put to use this weekend.

He Should've Stayed at Sea

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Ralph D. Udick, 21, coxswain for the University of California rowing crew, got a five-day sentence Wednesday for speeding.

The sentence left Udick speechless. He was to leave later Wednesday for the rowing regatta at Syracuse.

The youth's predicament was explained to Judge Clare D. Horner.

Judge Horner put the sentence over to Aug. 3 with the remark that if California wins he might cut two days off the penalty.

Maybe Braves 'Goofed' on Conley

By The Associated Press

For all their pitching depth, maybe Milwaukee's Braves made a mistake when they ended Gene Conley's rebellion by peddling the right-hander to Philadelphia.

They've lost seven of their last 12 games, with only three complete games from their staff in that span. And last night they lost their second in a row, 5-2 at St. Louis, reducing their National League lead to one game while Conley was beating Los Angeles 2-1 with a four-hitter.

Conley, who was peddled after an 0-6 season because he refused to quit his winter job with professional basketball's champion Boston Celtics, has lost as many as he's won (3-3), but that's not bad for a pitcher with a last place club. Particularly when two of those losses were by one run, the other by two, and one of his victories was a shutout over his first place ex-mates.

While the Braves continued to stumble, second place San Francisco closed in with an 11-7 victory at Pittsburgh. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-4.

Conley gave up nothing but singles, walked only one and struck out two in a duel with loser Danny McDevitt (3-6) and Clem Labine, who allowed seven hits between them. The Dodgers, put down in order for three innings, scored in the fourth when Junior Gilliam singled and came around on Wally Moon's single and a doubleplay.

The Phillies, who failed to collect on Ray Semproch's four-hitter against the Dodgers the night before wrapped it up for Conley with two runs in the fifth. Joe Koppe, included in the Conley trade, Richie Ashburn and Wally Post singled around a Dodger error for the scores.

The Braves scored in the first two innings on home runs by Hank Aaron (16) and Del Crandall (8), but the Cards came from behind for three unearned runs in the fifth on an error, Manager Solly Hemus' pinch double and two-out two-baggers by Gino Cimoli and Bill White. Bob Rush (4-2) was the loser with reliever Joey Jay giving up two more runs in the seventh on three singles and Joe Cunningham's sacrifice fly.

Alex Kellner (2-1) was the winner with Lindy McDaniel's relief help over the last four frames. They blanked the Braves on six hits over the last seven.

Willie Kirland and Orlando Cepeda homered for the Giants, who cracked six Pirate pitchers for 19 hits. Winless George Witt, just off the disabled list, lost his fifth. Sam Jones (7-5) won his fourth in a row. But after holding the Bucs to five hits and two runs for six innings, needed Stu Miller's relief help in a five-run seventh.

Solo homers by Roy McMillan and Frank Robinson in the last two innings clinched it for the Reds. It was McMillan's eighth, his one-season high, and No. 15 for Robinson, who was 4-for-4 and drove in three runs. Bob Purkey (6-7), who had lost five of his last six decisions, beat the Cubs for the first time since 1955. He allowed only four hits, but gave way to reliever Orlando Pena because of a blistered finger in the eighth. Glen Hobbie (6-6) was the loser for the Cubs, who scored on two-run homers by Sammy Taylor, in the fifth, and Ernie Banks, who hit his 15th in the ninth.

Report Newell Mulling Switch

Washington AD Denies California Coach Has Received Cage Offer

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Pete Newell, coach of California's national champion basketball team, is reported to be seriously considering an offer to succeed resigned Tippy Dye at University of Washington.

Washington Athletic Director George Briggs denied it.

The report came from Bud Foster, sportscaster for television station KTVU-2. Foster has close contacts with both universities.

Newell said he had "feelers" from Washington but no firm offer. He said he hadn't yet given them any consideration.

Newell's Golden Bears have won the Pacific Coast Conference basketball championship three straight years. They climaxed their surprising 1958-59 season by collecting the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. title in Louisville last March.

Dye resigned at Washington to become athletic director at the University of Wichita.

California Athletic Director Greg Englehard said he'd heard the report but had no direct information from Newell or anyone else.

Washington's Briggs said he had asked Newell to recommend a successor to Dye—but had not offered Pete the job.

Michigan End Honored

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Walt Johnson, a football-playing end from Dearborn, has been awarded the Big Ten medal for proficiency in scholarship and athletics. Johnson will graduate Saturday from the University of Michigan. He has maintained a better than "B" average in his four years at Michigan, and also won three varsity letters in football.

Mother's Visit Best Gift

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fans of Harmon Killebrew loaded him up with gifts Wednesday night but the best present of all for the Washington Senator's home run leader was a visit from his mother.

Mrs. H. C. Killebrew took her first airplane ride to travel from Payette, Idaho, to watch her son for the first time in a Major League game.

Harmon knew nothing about it until Mrs. Killebrew walked up to home plate at Griffith Stadium before the Senators' game with the Chicago White Sox, won by the Sox, 4-1.

Killebrew, leading the American League with 19 home runs, already was at the plate — the center of attraction for almost 10,000 spectators. His blonde wife Elaine was with him.

Grill Squad 9-5 Class B Winner

Griff's Grill came from behind to trounce Don Nicholie 9-5 in a Class B City League baseball game yesterday at Jaycee Park.

The Grill club trailed twice in the contest, 4-2 and 5-4, before forging ahead for keeps with two runs in the 4th inning, one in the 6th and two more in the 7th for insurance on Marv Evans' homer with a teammate aboard.

Hart Whips Logart, Wants Title Fight

CHICAGO (AP)—Garnet (Sugar) Hart sat in his dressing room, wiping from his face the blood of his latest ring opponent, and set his sights for his future in boxing.

He wants to meet welterweight champion Don Jordan right away.

"He and I could have a real fine time in the ring. I can whip him," the division's No. 1 contender said last night after winning a bloody, unanimous 10-round decision over Isaac Logart in Chicago Stadium.

Wants to Play Football

Look May Enter Pro Baseball Late in Fall

EAST LANSING, (UPI) — Major League baseball clubs will have to wait until after next football season to get Michigan State's infielder-halfback Dean Look.

"The pressure from scouts is pretty heavy," Look said. "But I know what I want."

A center of interest since he refused a $50,000 bonus offer a year ago, Look, 20, said he would not sign this summer for any amount. Last year's bonus bid was reportedly from the Cleveland Indians, though Look won't say who made the offer.

The 5-11, 180-pound junior said he might sign with a Major League club after football season, thereby forfeiting his final year of college baseball eligibility.

Look was one of MSU's three top hitters with a lusty .346 average, three homeruns, four triples and three doubles this year. He batted in 22 runs and was voted MSU's most valuable player after the season.

A year ago, he played left halfback and was the squad's top ground gainer with a 3.6-yards-per-carry average and top scorer with 24 points.

Golf Honors to Houston for 4th Straight Year

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The University of Houston took both team and individual titles for the fourth straight time in the 21st annual Missouri Valley Conference golf tournament.

Jackie Cupit shot a 72-hole total of 286, two over par, to win the individual championship, one stroke better than Tulsa's Jerry Jones who led through 36 and 54 holes.

Bruins Grab Detroit's Burns

Wings Draft Two Forwards

MONTREAL (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings picked up two more players yesterday in the National Hockey League player draft but lost popular center Charlie Burns.

The Wings acquired Jack McKenzie from Chicago and Gary Aldcorn, a Toronto chattel who was a 37-goal man at Rochester last season.

Barry Cullen was acquired earlier in the annual meeting in a trade with Toronto in which the Wings gave up Johnny Wilson and Frank Roggeveen.

Boston and New York each picked up three players.

Boston drafted goalie Bruce Gamble from the New York Ranger farm system, defenseman Autry Erickson from Chicago and Burns. Then to stay within the league limit of 18 players and two goalies, the Bruins dropped Harry Lumley, veteran goalie.

The Rangers picked up defenseman Irwin Spencer from Montreal and Ian Cushenan from Chicago and forward Brian Cullen from Toronto. They dropped forward Hank Ciesla and Les Colwill and defenseman Jack Bowness.

The clubowners took no official recognition of the row this spring during which referee Red Storey resigned, claiming he had been publicly criticized by President Clarence Campbell for his work in the Toronto-Boston Stanley Cup semifinal.

There appeared to be a general understanding, however, that if Storey wanted to return to his whistle-tooting he would be given a job.

British Meet Chile in Cup Eliminations

LONDON (AP)—The European Zone quarter-finals of the Davis Cup tennis eliminations get under way today with Chile playing Britain at Eastbourne.

The three other quarter-finals begin tomorrow with France playing Romania in Paris, Italy meeting South Africa in Florence and Spain facing Brazil in Barcelonia.

The winner of the European Zone will play the winner of the American Zone Aug. 7-9 at Philadelphia.

Then the winning nation will play the Far Eastern Zone winner Aug. 14-16 in Boston. The challenge round against the United States is set for Forest Hills Aug. 28-30.

Jackie Jensen had hit a slow roller on the play. Detroit won out 10-9.

Over 40 Infants Have Suffocated

Action Taken Against Plastic Bags

By United Press International

A steadily climbing toll of infant deaths prompted widespread action against the otherwise-innocent plastic bag, a United Press International survey showed today.

The survey revealed more than 40 infants have suffocated when they became enwrapped in the bags. The survey also showed the bags have been used for suicide in an ominously increasing numbers.

Practically all the victims have been only a few months old. One of the latest, Danna Clark, 4 months, apparently pulled a bag over his face while he was in his crib at Neptune, N.J., Monday. At about the same time, Bridget Leddington, 3, months, died in Chicago. She was found entangled in a cleaner's bag which apparently had blown on top of her.

In many communities cleaning shops and laundries have voluntarily curtailed use of the plastic wrappings. Some legislatures have considered passing laws restricting them in some manner. The plastics industry has held top-level conferences on the problem.

At New Rochelle, N.Y., Paul Cohen, president of the Technical Tape Corp., one of the world's largest manufacturers of polyethylene film, said his firm was working on a "breathable" plastic bag. This plastic would be full of pinholes. The company said an infant could breathe even if caught in two sheets of it.

The New York State Health Department said that within a month the state's sanitary code will be changed to require a warning to accompany each bag when it is taken home. The New York City Board of Health contemplates some type action next week.

Langdon Williams, a spokesman for the Society of the Plastics Industry, Inc., said the bags were dangerous only when misused. He said reuse is misuse. The bags should be destroyed or discarded out of the reach of children as soon as possible, he said.

The plastic people and the cleaners launched an educational campaign last month. Two million folders warning of the danger have been distributed. Additionally, the manufacturers have conferred with representatives of health agencies, the National Safety Council and the American Medical Association. The education campaign seemed to be the most direct, immediate answer to the problem.

There doesn't seem to be any direct answer to the problem of suicides. The UPI count showed 10 of them, most in the last couple of weeks.

Eugene L. Lehr, chief of the U.S. Public Health Service's Accident Prevention Bureau, said most of the suicide victims pulled the bags over their faces then tied them with draw strings. Lehr noted that such suicides began occurring after dispatches about infant fatalities appeared in newspapers.

So far the Public Health Service has not embarked on a formal education program, but such action may be forthcoming, officials said. The service investigated 10 of the infant deaths and concluded there was "a preponderance of evidence" that the babies were in fact suffocated by the plastic film. Some of the babies suffocated while playing with the bags, others smothered when the bags were used as matress covers.

The Louisiana Legislature adopted a resolution urging use of the plastic bags be stopped, but passed no law making their use illegal.

A bill requiring the bags to be labeled "dangerous" was passed by both houses of the California Legislature and awaits the governor's signature, but a similar measure has been stalled in the North Carolina Legislature.

The Pennsylvania Legislature has received three proposals to prohibit the manufacture or sale of the bags, or to require warning labels. A bill requiring plastic bags to have holes in them failed to pass in the Michigan Legislature. It was in Michigan that two men, 70 and 84, killed themselves within 24 hours by securing bags on their heads.

A bill to ban the bags was introduced in the Illinois Legislature. It provides penalties of up to two years in jail or a fine up to $5,000. The Connecticut Legislature passed a resolution urging parents to keep the bags away from children.

Perforated bags seemed to be one of the possible solutions. Officials of the New Rochelle firm said their new material was being tested by Dr. Emanuel M. Papper, director of anesthesiology service, Columbia University-Presbyterian Hospital at New York.

But the Dollar Cleaners and Laundry of Topeka, Kan., started perforating the plastic film in their own plant. Heavy tacks were placed in a garden hose and the hose was attached to a roller. All the plastic bags were rolled, making perforations about every three-quarters of an inch.

Profit Taking Blunts Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market spurted to the upside early today then ran into some profit taking which blunted the advance. Trading was moderately active.

An exception was Zenith, an extremely volatile stock which jumped more than a point at the opening then slumped, showing a net loss of more than 3.

Aluminums were active as they turned mixed and appeared to be topping out their upward drive of the past couple sessions. Aluminum Ltd. opened unchanged at 33⅞ on a big block of 14,000 shares. Kaiser Aluminum dropped a fraction. Alcoa was firm and Reynolds Metals off about a point after trading unchanged at the start.

Chemicals made solid progress, Du Pont adding 2, Allied more than a point while gains of fractions to about a point were made by American Cyanamid, Eastman Kodak and Union Carbide.

Will Give Big Boost to 1961 Models

Detroit Auto Show to Cost Over $10 Million

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—The auto industry is much like the baseball manager who has one team going, another team coming and still another team on the field.

The automakers are trying their best to unload their 1959 models as the newest things on wheels while putting the finishing touches on campaigns to sell the 1960 models which are ready for production.

The 1961 models are well along the road from drawing board to production line, too.

In this connection it is significant that the industry saw fit to announce this week that it is reviving the National Automobile Show in the fall of 1960.

SHOULD BE WORTHWHILE

This show probably will cost the manufacturers something more than 10 million dollars. They expect it to be worth it in the hoop-la and publicity it generates for the 1961 model cars.

The show, for the first time, will be held in Detroit, home of the auto industry, and will be the first major event for Detroit's new riverfront convention hall which has 7½ acres of exhibition space on one floor.

The National Auto Show first was held in 1900 and was renewed annually through 1940, always in New York City. After World War II the industry waited until 1956 before staging a show, that time in the new Coliseum in New York.

Although you have to pay to get in as usual, the Automobile Manufacturers Association never released attendance figures.

The Coliseum spread the show over four floors and there was some grumbling from the patrons about having to move between floors to see all of the exhibits. The AMA did not return to the Coliseum, saying it could not get the dates it wanted.

Almost any city of at least moderate size has some type of an auto show sponsored by local dealers. The national show is different in that it is sponsored directly by the manufacturers.

PREDICTS 500,000 ATTENDANCE

The charm of such shows escapes many people. But Detroit Mayor Louis Miriani hailed this week's announcement with a prediction that 500,00 viewers would pay their way to see the 1960 show.

The timing of the show—it will run from Oct. 15 through Oct. 23—means that 1961 model cars will be shown to the public earlier than usual.

This fall most of the 1960 models will not be shown before Oct. 15.

The presentation date for a new model is a tricky proposition. The manufacturer has to have his production lines running at a volume sufficient to supply all of his dealers with a representative selection of the new cars.

But he also wants to make as certain as he can that the dealers will have disposed of the previous models prior to the introduction date.

STRICTLY AMERICAN

And, to make it even more of a guessing game, the manufacturer can't afford to leave his dealers without new cars to sell for any lengthy period.

The 1960 show very probably will be strictly an American presentation, despite the continually growing market here for imported cars.

This might be a tipoff that the big U. S. automakers plan to cut down on imports of their own foreign cars once they enter economy car production this fall.

Currently General Motors is importing Opel from Germany and Vauxhall from England; Ford is importing Tannus from Germany and the English Ford; and Chrysler is importing Simca from France.

All three will put smaller American-made cars on the market in the 1960 model year.

UP Leader Is Criticized for Attitude on Tourists

DETROIT (UPI)—The Automobile Club of Michigan criticized Upper Peninsula landlord and Mackinac Bridge Authority chairman Prentiss M. Brown today for indicating that tourists should "send your money but stay home."

In an editorial in the latest Motor News issue entitled "Anatomy of a Paradox," Brown was attacked for chiding Michigan Supreme Court Justice John Voelker, author of "Anatomy of a Murder."

Brown, in a news release, said Voelker was guilty of "lack of foresight" in allowing the book to be filmed in the UP.

The bridge authority chairman, who owns large sections of real estate in the UP and has an interest in a shipping company, was quoted as saying "as soon as the snow melts and the ice is gone, we'll be overrun by this movie-mad mob of motorists." The editorial added:

"Motor News drew first attention to this problem last year in a special issue devoted to the glories of UP travel. We appreciate the UP residents' apprehension about preserving their wilderness," it continued.

"However, the UP has also cried out for tourist revenue, something they badly need to bolster their economy. We doubt that the type of visitor who finds the UP wilderness attractive is the type bent on destroying this feature . . .

"The only major problem, as we see it, is in stamping out the attitude of a minority of UP residents that would almost say 'send your money but stay home.'"

Bookkeeping Service Run by Electronics

Capital Business Service, the first electronic bookkeeping firm in the world, will open an office in Pontiac.

LAND

Jack Land, 543 Valencia St., and Al Flynn (who has not yet relocated here) are the area representatives who hold the Oakland County franchise.

Land will be working through his home address until the office is opened to the public, which he said will be announced in two weeks.

The local representatives will do the initial work on accounts here with Burroughs machinery and send the data for processing to the IBM installation in the Lansing central office.

Ratepayers Appeal Hike for Utility

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan Utility Ratepayers Association has asked the State Supreme Court to set aside the $6,788,485 electric rate hike granted to Consumers Power Co.

The utility, which had asked for a $15,300,000 hike, got the latest increase from the Public Service Commission May 22.

Kalamazoo attorney Edward J. Ryan yesterday asked the state court to give the Ratepayers Association a chance to appeal.

The association said the commission's order should be set aside, claiming the commission was in error in allowing the utility to retain a tax saving of about $1,800,000. The association said any tax saving based on depreciation should benefit ratepayers, not the utility.

Most of the rate increase would be absorbed by residential customers.

Business Notes

John S. Bugas, who lives on Vaughn road at Pembroke drive in Bloomfield Hills has accepted the chairmanship of the Automotive Division of the National Fund for Medical Education.

Bugas is the group vice president of Ford Motor Company. He has also served as campaign chairman, president and board chairman of the United Foundation.

Mammoth Chase Lasts 6 Hours

Bear Felled in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — A hefty black bear, which may have visited nearby Washington last week, was shot to death in metropolitan Baltimore today after a night-long chase by gun-wielding police and startled citizens wearing night clothes.

The bear, no fugitive from a zoo but one that visited the city from its natural habitat, was first spotted las nigh in a city cemetery.

Some 100 policemen, 30 to 40 squad cars, dogs from the police K-9 Corps and crime lab officers armed with high-powered rifles took part in the six-hour chase that followed.

The wily bruin scampered through back alleys, bobbed in and out of traffic, scaled a six-foot fence and even gave his pursuers the slip temporarily at one point.

But the unwelcome visitor, which showed unusual speed and endurance throughout the chase, was no match for pursuing squad cars which finally hemmed it in, knocked it to the street several times and set it up for the kill: A shot in the head from one officer's .38 calibre revolver.

Actually, the bear was hit by several bullets and police estimated they expended 100 rounds in the chase.

"We had everybody in the entire neighborhood up," Police Lt. John Barron said. "Quite frankly, I was very much afraid someone was going to be killed with all those shots."

RELIABLE AND INEXPENSIVE—That's the description given the Martin Mace missile by Maj. Gen. Daniel W. Jenkins of the Tactical Air Command. Jenkins called the sweptwing Mace "the least complex missile in our inventory today" and "economically the most inexpensive missile per dollar per mile, of comparable range, in the Department of Defense." The Mace is shown here being launched from a "simulated shelter" in a test site.

Area Red Cross Workers to Staff Training Session

Three Oakland County Red Cross workers will be on the staff of the organization's national aquatic and small craft school at Whitehall June 14 to June 24.

There will be 150 students and 25 staff members from Michigan and neighboring states attending the annual skills and leadership training session.

Ralph S. Forman, county chairman of first aid, will conduct a seminar on accident prevention and safety in the schools. P. Mark Smith, water safety chairman for the county, will conduct a beginning small craft course.

Mrs. John Herrington, secretary of safety services in the Oakland County Red Cross chapter, will serve as secretary to the school director, Evan Thompson, who is the safety services representative serving Oakland County for the National Red Cross.

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—Police found three cylinder containers and took them to an oil well servicing company to see if they were explosive. They were. The windows of the company were blown out during the test.

Adenauer Foes Unleash Attack

Opposition Parties Hit at Bitter Squabble in Chancellor's Group

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard today faced the first test of their patched-up alliance—a critical onslaught from the opposition parties in Parliament.

The Socialists and Free Democrats planned to exploit the ruling Christian Democrats' bitter party squabble during debate in the Bundestag on the federal budget.

With Adenauer's majority party once more united, there was no chance of the opposition attracting enough votes to overthrow the government on a vote of confidence.

Instead the Socialists and Free Democrats planned to build up a propaganda record for the 1961 election campaign by criticizing the Christian Democratic split resulting from Adenauer's decision to continue as chancellor and not step up to the West German presidency.

Adenauer's official explanation was that a worsening international situation required him to continue at the helm. But privately he was highly critical of Erhard.

Returning from a visit to Washington, Erhard said he would challenge Adenauer's decision and his criticism. The split was patched up Wednesday—at least on the surface.

Negro Coed to Take Stand

Will Tell All White, Male Jury About Rape by Four Men

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI)—A 19-year-old Negro coed from Florida A&M tells to a jury of white men today her story of being raped by four white youths after being abducted and held three hours.

The all-male, all-white jury chosen late yesterday could send the four youths she accuses to the electric chair if it believes her and makes no mercy recommendation.

Although the girl will take the witness stand in a crowded courtroom, state her name and go through the events of the early morning of May 2, her identity cannot be printed under a Florida law protecting rape victims.

Several witnesses were scheduled to precede the girl to the stand. A jury was picked after a long day's session yesterday and Circuit Judge W. May Walker was expected to call a night session tonight and try to finish the trial by the weekend.

No European Vacation for Cornbeef Confucius

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Everybody seems to be going on a European vacation—but Max Asnas, the Pastrami Plato, the Cornbeef Confucius, is going to California instead. "To me, going to Europe is like doing nothing the hard way," says Seventh Avenue's greatest—in fact its only philosopher.

WILSON

"Not that I didn't have a good time when I went last year with Harry Hershfield," says Max, who's converting delicatessen into diamonds. "Every time they got out the red carpet for him, I was on the carpet, too. They gave him a police escort. In Russia the police used to chase me, now I was chasing the police.

"In the gambling places they made me wear a tie. They didn't care if I lost my shirt as long as I had a tie on."

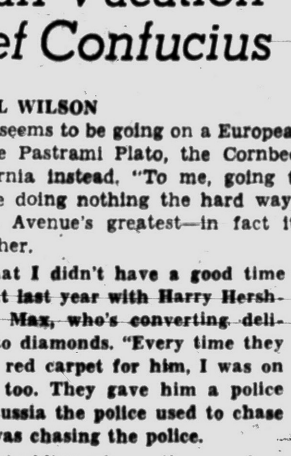

Max took along 20 pounds of salami from his Stage Delicatessen. In one country he ordered some fish for dinner. It wasn't good. Afterward he presented the restaurant owner, a former New Yorker, with a chunk of salami.

"Tell me why," pleaded the grateful restaurateur, "if you had this salami, did you order my fish!"

Max will go to Hollywood—he will also be here making more money to give to Uncle Sam. "At that," says Max, "Uncle Sam's the nicest relative I've got."

"That'll teach 'em to call us a non-adult Western."

Western Penmen in Roundup

OKLAHOMA CITY (NEA)—Are Western fiction and television fare slipping in popularity?

The answer to this question may seem self-evident to the video watcher or reader of paperback books, but it nonetheless will be the subject of earnest debate when the Western Writers of America meet here June 22-25.

This is the sixth annual convention of the men and women who earn their daily bread by creating fictional cowboys or re-creating in history and biography the days of the frontier.

But no stage coaches or covered wagons will bring the writers here. They'll arrive in shiny new cars, flush with pocket money from movie, TV and book sales.

TO DEFINE WESTERN

Several controversies are pending, including the definition of "adult Western." Some Western writers say that an "adult" is a sexed-up version of cowboy antics; others say it's a matter of quality.

The duration of the boom, which has placed many Western writers in healthy income brackets, will be discussed at length.

Frank Gruber, probably the most prolific of the group with two score novels, two score screen plays and two television series to his credit, believes it will last another year at least. Others say that Westerns have had four "booms" in the past 25 years and there has never been a time when a good Western wasn't a good seller.

Authenticity is another subject for argument. One group contends that every item in a Western story should be meticulously correct. Another claims that history is dull and "after all, we're writing fiction." A third group believes that backgrounds can be authentic, but liberties can be taken elsewhere.

Writers from at least 15 states will be here and awards will be given for the best fiction and non-fiction works, short stories, juvenile stories and historical novels.

As perhaps another indication of the decline of the manly West, this year will see the installation of the first woman officer in the history of the organization. She is Peggy Simson Curry of Casper, Wyo., who was elected to the board of trustees.

Navy Official Asks for Moral Training

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A high ranking Navy official told a Wednesday:

Vice Adm. Robert Goldthwaite, chief of naval air training, made the plea at the opening of a two-day moral leadership workshop at Los Alamitos Naval Air Station. The workshop is one of a series being held across the country.

Goldthwaite said a breakdown in moral values is a direct threat to the nation's security.

A Typical Circle Theater Calmly Portrays Addicts

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI) — CBS-TV's Armstrong Circle Theater unraveled a junior-scaled, but fairly effective drama last night in "The Monkey Ride."

Last night's piece — a study of a young couple glued up on benzedrine — showed several fissures: some archaic hip talk ("That'll be real groovy"), a lack of much motivation in its hooked couple, a rather limp finish.

But despite this, "The Monkey Ride" had a chunkful of entries on the credit side: it moved with some celerity, it managed to channel out the agony of the addict with a minimum of wall-scratching and it milked some semi-useful sounds from a backdrop jazz group that included Charlie Shavers and Jo Jones.

SHORT SHOTS: ABC-TV's Music for a Summer Night churned out another reasonably diverting hour last night with tunes by Cole Porter, Jerome Kern, Harold Arlen and Victor Herbert.

One aside, however: when I watch a couple batting out "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" as on last night's show, I find it almost unbearably funny—I suppose it's a hangover from those wonderfully unintentional comic duets between Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald in the movies of the 1930s.

NBC-TVs Jack Paar—with Dave Garroway, Elaine May and Mike Nichols, and Nina Foch on board — turned out one of his most pleasant low-key excursions in recent weeks. Garroway is the kind of guy TV should keep on all day long . . .

THE CHANNEL SWIM: NBC-TV, which has decided to continue its daytime soap, Young Dr. Malone, after June 29, despite a loss of sponsor, has asked the cast to take pay cuts . . . Jack Paar has been offered $150,000 to turn out a package with his NBC-TV gang for a Tuesday night NBC-TV special.

Lorraine Hansberry, author of the current Broadway hit, "Raisin in the Sun," will write an original script for the first of Dore Schary's NBC-TV 90-minute Civil War specials — Schary will produce five shows based on the Civil War in 1961 for the network . . . NBC-TV's Dave King has imported a British singer, Viki Stewart, to guest on his June 17 show.
