FIVE FEET—This is a piece of the quarter-mile pipe being run between the present Pontiac sewage treatment plant and the new plant under construction. The pipeline, 66 inches in diameter, is being laid in pieces and is nearly completed.

The new plant is scheduled for completion by June 1963. Excavation work at the site is nearly finished and pouring of the concrete floor for aeration tanks is completed.

City Wins Case on Parking Lot

Supreme Court Affirms Legality of Methods Used in Financing

A long legal feud over Pontiac's methods of financing municipal parking lots came to an end today with a State Supreme Court decision in favor of the city.

By a 5-3 decision, the supreme court affirmed the legality of using city funds to finance parking facilities.

The court upheld Circuit Judge William J. Jester's dismissal of a case brought by Joseph Chirco and Donald Ernst against the city and City Manager Walter H. Williams.

The two taxpayers filed suit on behalf of their employer, Sam Solomoni, owner of private parking lots in downtown Pontiac.

CALLED MOVE ILLEGAL
They contended the city illegally allocated $76,322 to make payments on a $600,000 bond issue which paid for parking facilities at Pike and Mill Streets.

The case was filed here in April 1960 and Jester's decision was handed down in December 1960. It was immediately appealed to the supreme court.

Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, speaking for the majority, said that only bond holders could bring suit in the case.

Envoys Beg for Peace

Berlin Biggest Worry to U.N.

Calls on U.N. to Choose Dag's Successor Fast

Rusk Urges Assembly to Pick World Leader as Secretary General

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk called on the U.N. General Assembly today to name "an outstanding world leader" to take over the powers of U.N. secretary general temporarily.

In a statement prepared for a speech he is making here later today, Rusk declared "events cannot permit drift and indecision in the leadership of the United Nations."

He declared that the 90-nation General Assembly "must move rapidly to fill the void" created by the death of Dag Hammarskjöld.

Rusk's statement was released about two hours in advance of its formal delivery at a luncheon meeting of the Foreign Press Association.

The move was obviously aimed at trying to stir up a powerful drive in the United Nations assembly to override Soviet opposition to the appointment of a new U.N. chief executive.

MEETS WITH GRONKYO
Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko discussed the U.N. leadership crisis in a 4 1/2 hour meeting Thursday afternoon. Most of their time, however, was spent on the Berlin crisis.

It appeared following their talks that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev must decide in a week or so whether he is willing to negotiate on a Berlin compromise or intends to push his demands closer to the brink of war.

On the U.N. front of the East-West cold war, Gromyko told Rusk he intends to insist on the appointment of a three-man directorate to take over Hammarskjöld's duties. He is absolutely opposed to any kind of temporary arrangement, diplomats said.

Thus, while the Berlin crisis carries a greater danger of war, the U.N. dispute presents a more immediate and critical Soviet challenge to the United States and the leadership role it seeks to play in the United Nations.

Brain Child of S. E. Knudsen

In trouble because of a sweep to ward smaller, economy auto models—the news hasn't reached Pontiac, where Simon F. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors Corp., runs the Pontiac Motor Division.

"Knudsen's racy Pontiac is the third best-selling car in the country. That means the Pontiac nameplate, which includes the smaller, Tempest, catalyzes all the two-wheel cars except Chevrolet and Ford.

But Pontiac also sells more high-priced cars than any make but Cadillac.

"That makes it the ideal product to aim at the people who want something better than the cheapest, but something cheaper than the best."

Back in the 1920s, Pontiac was put in the GM product lineup to catch the customers graduating from Chevrolet before they could be caught by Dodge, Studebaker, Nash and the like. During the mid-1960s—even while having its largest year-over-year registrations in 1965—Pontiac was fourth in GM sales and sixth in the industry.

STARTED IN 1936
"Knudsen took charge in 1960. The first car completely designed under his direction was the 1960 model. Since then Pontiac has been second at General Motors."

"It was fourth in the industry in 1953, slipped to fifth behind Buick last year, but for the first six months this year—the first year with its Tempest—it held third place. Knudsen is confident that his car will stay in that position for the rest of this year and next, when he expects to sell about a half-million Pontiacs."

"In 1963, he plans to continue the familiar wide-track look and distinctive grille. The Tempest will (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Feikens Resigns Appointment as U.S. District Court Judge

DETROIT (U.P.)—Judge designate John Feikens of the U.S. District Court, Detroit, who interim appointment by President Kennedy, has resigned the U.S. District Court judgeship.

The one-time Republican state chairman of Michigan left office after sending a letter of appreciation for the appointment Thursday to Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Feikens said he is returning to private law practice and will head a newly organized law firm in Detroit.

Opposition of Democrat McNamara to Feikens' appointment stood in the way of U.S. Senate confirmation. The Senate, by tradition, does not confirm such appointments if a senator of the district involved has objection.

McNamara said he would "never consent" to the Feikens appointment despite the fact that it was made by a Democratic President.

U.S. Aid to Push City's Renewal

Special Assist Offered Through Federal Act for Urban Project

Pontiac was certified last July as eligible under the Area Redevelopment Act for special assistance in carrying out its urban renewal program.

The news from Washington was happily received at City Hall where plans are under way to apply for a $650,000 federal grant.

Among other things, the designation means Pontiac will be eligible to receive more federal financial assistance for its urban renewal project.

"The money will be used for construction in the urban renewal area," said City Manager Walter K. Williams.

Administrators haven't decided on the amount yet. Pontiac was one of eight Michigan cities certified. Others were Garden City, Hamtramck, Hazel Park, Highland Park, Lincoln Park, Plymouth and River Rouge.

Ministers Talk as Assembly Opens Debate

Strong Group Leader and Red China Question Next, to German Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.—Diplomats from widely separated parts of the world today appealed for a negotiated settlement of the Berlin crisis as the U.N. General Assembly opened its policy debate.

It quickly became clear that this was the issue which was causing the gravest concern in the 99-nation Assembly.

There also were expressions of anxiety over the situation created in the U.N. secretariat by the death of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Brazilian Foreign Minister Alvaro Arinos de Melo Franco, opening the annual policy debate, expressed hope that President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev would reach a compromise on Berlin.

Japan's Foreign Minister Zenro Kono also said the only way to reach a solution is through negotiations. He backed the Western power contention that the four-power agreement on Berlin continues in effect and cannot be set aside by any one of the powers.

APPEALS FOR PEACE
Hossein Ghods Nakhai, foreign minister of Iran, appealed to the big powers to rule out the use of force.

Mr. Kono, the representative of Brazil and Japan, also urged that the German people be allowed to determine their own future.

Turning to the secretariat question, Kono declared he could not support the Soviet demands for a three-man directorate to replace the secretary general.

Both Kono and Nakhai expressed belief that such a system would paralyze the operations of the United Nations.

Claiming Peace Treaty, Red Chief Says Gently Essential for Germany

MOSCOW (U.P.)—Premier Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union is ready to negotiate any time, any place to insure peace.

But he told Prime Minister Nehru of India in a letter that the Soviet Union would not align nations prepared to bring him and President Kennedy should be part of a wider scheme devised to drawing up a German peace treaty.

The Soviet premier tied the question of a German peace treaty and the situation in West Berlin to universal and complete disarmament. He said these two questions are linked and must be solved simultaneously.

BERLIN (U.P.)—Premier Khrushchev said today that more German would inevitably lead to nuclear world catastrophe.

ADDRESSING MOSCOW
His opening came in a message to the working session of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union. Two hundred delegates from 30 countries are taking part in the East Berlin meeting "for a German peace treaty and the peaceful solution of the Berlin problem."

Khrushchev reiterated his proposal for solution of the German problem — signing of a peace treaty with both parts of a nuclear world catastrophe.

The West, Khrushchev said, is meeting those "peaceful" proposals with hostility and is arming the West German militaries — the worst enemies of peace — with the most modern arms.

Esther Dying; Snow in West

Rockies Covered With 18 Inches; One Pass Closed by Drifts

United Press International
A snow-laden cold front in the West stole the limelight from the East's dying Hurricane Esther on the last day of summer today.
Hurricane Esther, denoted to the level of a tropical storm, was driving out to sea in the Atlantic. The storm left a flash flood threat in New England and 65,000 homes on Long Island still without electricity. But its threat to the United States mainland was long past.
In the West, an invasion of frigid Canadian air had more than 18 inches of snow on parts of the Rockies.

Bearmouth Pass, between Red Lodge and Cooke City, Mont., was closed by drifts up to 12 feet deep. Laramie, Wyo., dug out from a foot of snow.
More snows were reported in parts of Eastern Nevada and Colorado and 40-degree temperatures were pushing into the northern and central plains.

The snows were not considered unusual, even though today was the official finale of summer.
The autumnal equinox, the moment when the sun passes the celestial equator and day and night are of equal length, occurs at precisely 1:51 a.m. (Pomtime) time Saturday.

Power failures were common in four New England states in the wake of the hurricane and at least 35,000 subscribers were without telephone service. Some 3,000 persons fled coastal homes ahead of the storm, among them the two children of President Kennedy.
Up to five inches of rainfall in parts of New England brought a warning of possible flash floods from the U.S. Weather Bureau.
Boston measured 2.74 inches of rain and New York had 1.23 inches. Providence, R.I., reported 4.52 inches of rain in 24 hours and Rumford, Maine had 1.07 inches of rain in six hours Thursday night.

Parking Lot Feud Is Won by the City

nority. Justice Eugene Black said the suit presented a "grave" question that should be argued at a court session.

City Attorney William A. Ewart claimed that sufficient parking space for downtown automobiles is a major problem to business and a significant part of any downtown development program.
In view of the "urgent need," Ewart felt that it was illegal for taxpayers to challenge the use of general tax funds to pay for lot expansion.

In 1956, contending that municipal lots would be unfair competition for his private lots, Stolorow filed a bitter, but unsuccessful fight to keep the city out of the parking lot business.
He forced a referendum election on the issue, but was defeated at the polls.

NEW VALIANTS—The classic grille frame of the new Signet 200 and the new rear end treatment of the deck, fenders and taillights of the Signet 200 sedan have top priority in these two views of the 1962 Valiants. Valiant models for '62 number seven including four-door sedans, two-door sedans and two-door, four-door station wagons in both the V100 and V200 series, and the new Signet, a two-door hardtop.

New Model Distinctly Styled

Valiant Signet Has Bucket Seats

Valiant Signet 200 makes its debut in 1962 reportedly as America's lowest priced hardtop with bucket seats.
Addition of the Valiant Signet 200 expands to seven the number of models Valiant will offer in the lower-price compact class.

The sporty new hardtop, distinctive in styling inside and out, will be displayed in the showrooms of R. & R. Motors, Inc., 724 Oakland Ave., Sept. 28.
C. E. Briggs, vice president of Chrysler Corporation and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, says the new model was designed "to make available at a realistic price the smart sports car interior combined with the popular silhouette of the hardtop."

Although Valiant continues its 170-cubic-inch six as standard engine, the new Super 223 with an aluminum block is optional.
The reduced engine weight, some 45 pounds lighter than the standard engine with cast iron block, increases the car's acceleration ability beyond that due solely to the engine's higher displacement.

Chassis lubrication every 2,000 miles will be unnecessary with the 1962 Valiant. Ten points which required this periodic attention are now pre-lubricated and sealed at the factory.

In addition to the new Valiant Signet 200, there are three Valiant models available in each of the V100 and V200 series. The four-door sedan, the two-door sedan, and the four-door, two-seat station wagon.

Congressmen to Be On Call

Kennedy Tells Leaders He Will Summon Them if Emergency Rises

WASHINGTON (U) — President Kennedy told leaders of both parties today he would contact them promptly if the international situation requires after Congress adjourns.
Republican and Democratic leaders of House and Senate said they would be available in the event of an emergency.

Leaders are aiming for adjournment of Congress Saturday night.
Kennedy called the leaders to breakfast at the White House today before departing on a trip that will take him to the United Nations for a speech on Monday.

Both Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Montana, and Republican Leader Everett S. Dirksen, Illinois, said there was general agreement that the leaders could be contacted within 24 hours. Dirksen added this would apply to all members of Congress except those abroad on assigned missions.

Dirksen told newsmen Kennedy said he would be "quick to contact" the leadership if a situation arises "which would require action or a special session of Congress."

Dirksen said that with the availability of Congress members assured, there was unanimous agreement that the House and Senate could adjourn rather than recess. He and Mansfield both said they were quite confident adjournment could be reached Saturday.

On Sunday morning, Mansfield added.
Kennedy invited the top Democrats of both Senate and House to breakfast before taking off for his summer home at Hyannis Port on Cape Cod.

During the weekend at Hyannis Port, Kennedy will polish his speech for the highest of the United Nations General Assembly Monday.

Asks Congress to Offer Reward in Dog's Death

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., has asked Congress to offer a $50,000 reward for information leading to identification of anyone or criminally responsible for the air crash death of Dag Hammarskjold.

Stratton introduced legislation Monday which would have Congress authorize the reward. He said the United States would not lose sight of the possibility that the death of the United Nations secretary general might have been caused deliberately.

Feel Action Would Not Ease Tension

Most W. Berliners Oppose Moving U.N. There

BERLIN (AP)—The idea of transferring U. N. headquarters to this troubled city leaves most West Berliners cool.

Most people asked about it had no confidence that bringing the world body here from New York would bring peace. Some went as far as to point to the Congo and suggest the U. N. presence in Berlin might lead to more trouble.

BOTH MAKE SUGGESTIONS
Both East and West have floated informal suggestions that the transfer here of the U. N. might be a way out of the impasse over Berlin.

Investia, the official Soviet government newspaper, endorsed the idea this week as worth considering. Premier Khrushchev has indicated he would support the idea if the Western allies quit the city.

NOT VERY REALISTIC
His political rival, Mayor Willy

Brandt of West Berlin, however, thought the project "not very realistic." He insisted any U. N. plan would have to include both West Berlin and the Communist East sector, now sealed off behind a wall.

What does the Berliner-in-the-street think?
Some businessmen thought the stimulus to tourism and the arrival of highly paid diplomats would give the economy a shot in the arm. But most people feared that in the long run the Communists would be able to twist the situation to their advantage.

OPPOSES MOTION
Friedrich Meyer, 29, a local civil servant, said: "If the U. N. comes I will move out. The Soviets will seek the first opportunity of torpedoing the world body and swallowing the whole of Berlin."

Dr. Wilfried Stefan, 32, a post-graduate science lecturer at a Western side Konrad Adenauer, the chancellor of West Germany, has called it "a bold proposal" that might ease tension over Berlin.

Red Morality Is Not Great, but Is the U.S. Brand?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — There is a certain sadness in the air these days and a disquieting doubt about the validity of those comforting truisms of our childhood. Does right really triumph? Does it truly pay to be good?

The breaks seem all to be going lately to the goddess ones in Russia, who hold in their pudgy hands the power of life or death over all of us.

Who put the first satellite in orbit? The Russians. Who first sent a man into space? Why, the Russians. Who is calling the shots in the Berlin crisis? Who profits from the tragic death of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld at this crucial juncture? Into whose hands are Cuba and British Guiana tumbling like overripe plums?

It is discouraging to ponder the patent unfairness of it all. We wallow in self-pity as we kick off all the reasons why we, since we are so morally superior, should be winning the battle for men's minds. For instance:

The Russians scorn the two-party system, and their leaders succeed to power by means of naked force. We Americans believe in the secret ballot and scrupulously clean elections — except in large areas of the Deep South, in certain Chicago wards, in parts of Texas, and a few hundred other isolated spots.

WE UPHOLD THE HOME

The Russians cram several families into one apartment or dwelling, forcing them to share the same kitchen and bathing facilities. We believe in the sanctity of the home, and the privacy of the family unit — except in slum areas within sight of the U.S. Capitol, the Statue of Liberty, the thousands of other quaint American spots.

Members of the Soviet Parliament are more rubber stamps, assembled in Moscow now and then to provide window dressing when Premier Nikita Khrushchev desires to make a speech.

The Russian people are told nothing about how their leaders spend their money. Americans believe that they have a right to all such information about their own elected officials — or do they?

Because of a public outcry against congressional secrecy in money matters, the U.S. Congress reluctantly passed a law last year to take the secret wrappings off congressional spending.

The Senate duly published its report last January, as specified by law. The House of Representatives has finally come out with its report — seven months late — and has stripped from it every scrap of information which could conceivably tip off the most persistent sleuth as to how congressmen spend your tax money.

The reports are supposed to disclose which Congressmen spent how much on a junket to where. Instead, they merely hint that certain unidentified members of the "what-sis" committee went somewhere (destination undisclosed) for the purpose of it (it doesn't say).

Americans boil with righteous indignation when they read of foreign government officials getting rich on bribes, or absconding with government funds, particularly when they have been getting U.S. foreign aid.

Here in the United States, however, we read that former Sen. Earle Clements of Kentucky, who was also a governor of his state, is charged with fraudulent income tax returns for the eight years from 1948 to 1956 during which he held those lofty offices.

Clements, one of Lyndon B. Johnson's top campaign managers during his presidential race last year, had been among the best liked senators on Capitol Hill. The government alleges that he diverted $147,000 of campaign funds to his personal use, and failed to pay taxes on it.

Another Kentuckian, the late "veep" Alben W. Barkley, was also discovered to have feet of clay. After his death five years ago, the government moved to learn that a beloved vice president of the United States had apparently been drastically short-changing Uncle Sam on his income taxes.

There is nothing to be said in favor of Kremlin morality, but even so, we should remember that before we become too self-righteous our own slip is showing.

Math Teachers Ask Why as Well as How

By RALPH HUNNELL

"You cannot teach a man any thing; you can only help him find it within himself."

This comment on education is over 40 years old, stemming from the noted mathematician and astronomer, Galileo. But its truth appears to have stood the test of modern needs — as evidenced by the success of the revised mathematics program in Pontiac city schools.

As the program goes into its third year this fall, William Lacy, coordinator of secondary education, reports that "while the revised program is too new for more than tentative conclusions, there are encouraging signs."

One of these is a tentative conclusion from a comparative study of 1,100 students taught by traditional methods and 1,100 taught by the new method.

"Our studies so far indicate those in the revised program are learning more," Lacy said.

A cofounder of the program, helping teacher Charles Murphy, told the board of education last week.

FOR MEANING

"We do not teach for memorization or mechanization but for meaning and understanding of why rules work as they do."

Flynn's Son Gets OK for Record Contract

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Errol Flynn's son, Sean, won court approval of a recording contract on Thursday.

Superior Court Judge Ben Keenig approved Flynn's contract with Hi-Fi records. He will receive 4½ per cent royalties.

Polish Aristocrat Dies

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Count Jerzy Potocki, 72, former Polish ambassador in Washington and a member of one of the oldest aristocratic families of Poland, died Wednesday.

This fall, a total of 4,552 students—all those in grades seven, eight and nine in junior highs—are being taught for meaning, and officials have enough confidence in the program to plan extending it into grade 10 next year.

Murphy recently showed board members how the teaching was done. Recreating a schoolroom atmosphere in the board's mathematics meeting room at 40 Patterson St., Murphy greatly guided long-graduated members through contrasting examples of teaching a rule the old and new way.

The problem: how do you divide fractions?

In brief, he said that under the old system, the rule was taught and students were told to apply it first in classroom exercises, then in home-work problems. And that was it.

ASKS WHY

Under the revised method, the teacher poses the problem. However, if a student shouts out the stock answer "invert and multiply," the teacher asks "why?"

That is the beginning of a mathematical investigation which does not end until the teacher has prodded students into tracing the creation of the rule by themselves.

Only then is the rule adopted, and the students are told to go ahead and use it, this time with an understanding of "why."

Murphy and his associate, helping teacher Miss Joyce Sweet, have been key people in creating and guiding the program along. According to their boss, coordinator Lacy, they reworked previously written revised mathematics study material for use in Pontiac, they lead workshops for teachers, and visit teachers in classrooms to help in use of the method.

This year, Miss Sweet reports, is the first time students will be the compiled study material. Meanwhile, Lacy said, studies will continue and frequent checks will be made on the effectiveness of a program which well might approach Galileo's dictum that the student find learning within himself.

WEIGHT PROBLEM—Mrs. Connie Danbury, 46, the 217-pound spokeswoman for 40 buxom girls at a beer shampoo factory in London, holds a big mug of beer as she stands beside the girls' weekly ration of beer. The girls threatened to go out on strike after the manager, a teetotaler, asked the girls to list their weekly barrel of free beer. After negotiations, the manager backed down and promised the group would still get a barrel of beer each week.

Hurricane Is Fun

Kennedy Kids Happy

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—children of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kennedy were a danger to the town when Hurricane Esther was a danger to most people but to Peter Lawford, and one child of summer White House the whole thing was a lark.

The President's two children and six of their cousins were whisked from Hyannis Port to nearby Otis Air Force Base on Thursday when Esther posed a threat to the Cape Cod shoreline.

The right youngsters spent the day safely and snugly in one of the permanent buildings at the base after a pre-dawn 15-mile ride in a five-car motorcade of State Police and Secret Service cars.

When Esther dwindled to a tropical storm, the children were driven back to Hyannis Port.

The youthful refugees included Caroline Kennedy, 3½; her brother, John F. Jr., 9 months; two

May Call Walker in Probe of Pentagon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who was ousted from his Army command, may testify at the Senate inquiry into charges the Pentagon has "muzzled" anti-Communist views of military officers.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Special Investigating subcommittee, said he would not rule out an appearance by Walker, who asked Thursday to be heard by the senators.

Stennis said that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Arthur Sylvester, assistant defense secretary for the public affairs, also probably would be called as witnesses.

75 Michigan Lawyers Study 'Basic Anatomy'

LANSING (AP) — "Basic Anatomy for Lawyers" is the title of a 10-lecture course of study now being undertaken by 75 Central Michigan attorneys.

The course, sponsored by the Ingham County Bar and the State Bar, is intended to help lawyers understand better human anatomical problems that might arise in legal cases, spokesmen said.

Miss Ella M. Green

Pontiac's oldest resident was Miss Ella M. Green who passed away Thursday.

But in her full and overflowing life that was only a minor distinction. Her ancestry was in our County's most solid founding stock.

Her father was a pioneer merchant at Farmington when she was born there 103 years ago.

He came to Pontiac 94 years ago, and was a prominent Saginaw Street merchant for 27 years.

Her mother was the scion of Waterford Township's most prominent pioneers.

Miss Green was only nine years old when the family moved to Pontiac, and she's been with us ever since.

When in her teens she began an affiliation with our city's civic life, which increased through several generations.

The entire history of the Pontiac City Library which she pioneered runs concurrent with her life.

For three-quarters of a century she has lived at the same address.

She never failed a community obligation, and never lost the common touch.

Truly a Pontiac pioneer extraordinary has gone to her reward.

The Young Are Losers in Destruction of Club

The price of juvenile delinquency and vandalism is usually paid by the taxpayers, but a recent episode is likely to be felt more by children and teen-agers on Pontiac's north side than by parents.

Recently, a handful of thoughtless youths maliciously destroyed property of the Northside Community Club. In one fling, a small group damaged facilities to the tune of some $300.

These facilities were used by a large number of youths. Last year the club spent nearly $400 putting floodlights in shape for its outdoor ice skating rink at Edison and Montclair streets, according to John Rimoway, former Pontiac mayor and then president of the club.

Vandals broke out 20 floodlights. As if that weren't enough, they smashed every window pane and frame in the clubhouse adjacent to the rink. The special floodlight bulbs alone will cost about $15 each to replace, Ridgway explained.

"It's too bad that a few have to ruin things for so many," Rimoway said. "We are having new bulbs and windows installed, but there are other things we had hoped to buy for the kids with that money that will have to wait now."

The kids are the losers.

As expected, many are mad about the senseless destruction. We wonder if they're mad enough to expose the vandals themselves. Police have investigated the matter, but sometimes the best detectives are the losers.

Use of Kennedy Speech Arouses Good Citizen

This type of brashness and gall is something our Country could well do without.

It seems that the use of tape recorded excerpts from a speech by President John F. Kennedy as part of a radio commercial for a national magazine properly aroused the wrath of at least one good citizen.

He sat right down and wrote to the President to express his indignation.

The White House replied that it fully shared the indignation and that it had made plain to the offending publication the President's reaction to the matter.

It is surprising that anyone need be reminded today that the person of the President, like the flag, is not a subject to be used in advertising copy.

Nov. 23 — Detroit Lions vs. Green Bay Packers.

Nov. 25 — Ohio State vs. Michigan.

Dec. 2 — Army vs. Navy.

Take a pencil and check the teams you think will win. If you feel that any game will be a tie, do not check either team. Write your name and address on the margin.

For other members of your family you can write out the winners. Entries are in the running only as long as they predict correctly.

All entries must be in The Press office by Friday noon, Sept. 28.

Only a few days are left. Don't let $300 get away from you. The best time to make out entries is NOW.

Many good sports are in agreement with one of them.

Randolph Mayford of Bloomfield Hills, in what he calls the "Maria fiasco." With a livelier ball, smaller parks and other changes since the days of the immortal Ruth, it was a poor way to endeavor to create a contest, which failed worse than the actual figures indicate.

Hisself an ardent archery enthusiast, President

Frank Lawrence of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, tells his members that a recent check in the north woods does not indicate good bow and arrow deer hunting.

On request of the contractors, we again repeat that you are welcome to inspect the progress of the work on the great 75 Freeway, but please keep out of the way of the mammoth earth moving machines.

With the passing of Pontiac's oldest resident,

Miss Ella M. Green,

at the age of 103, we wonder who now assumes that distinction. Nominations are in order.

LAWRENCE

Yet we read from the pen of Hans Baldwin, military expert of the New York Times, as he writes from Augsburg in West Germany:

"From high command to private first class, the Army in Europe has been deeply disturbed by the case of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker. Officers of all ranks, particularly the senior ones, deplore the manner in which the case was handled and feel that some fundamental elements of military justice and fair play were violated."

"At the direction of the Pentagon, prior plans to transfer Gen. Walker to a corps command in Texas with promotion to lieutenant general were canceled. Since April, Gen. Walker has been filling a colonel's billet as an assistant operations officer on the staff of Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, commander-in-chief, United States Army Europe, with headquarters at Heidelberg."

ARMY SHOCKED

Baldwin goes on to say that the reasons why many officers and men are dismayed "have nothing to do with the materials Gen. Walker used or things he said in his anti-Communist program."

Indeed, many officers said the general had become "too much of a single-minded zealot in his fight against communism."

But the Army is reported to have been "shocked first, by what it feels is the summary treatment given to a man who is generally regarded as an outstanding leader and soldier."

He made a distinguished record in both World War II and the Korean War, and has been awarded many decorations. Under his leadership, the 28th Infantry Division had come to be regarded as one of the two best divisions in the European area, not in the whole Army.

The original press release from the Pentagon, announcing Gen. Walker's relief and transfer, was couched in such extreme terms that, Baldwin was told, some senior commanders refused to publish it. He felt it was an interference with the normal processes of military law and an interference with the chain of command.

The wording of the release was subsequently altered. But the records of the inspector general's investigation—which, like the minutes of a grand jury hearing, are confidential—were made public by the Pentagon. This is unprecedented.

Gen. Walker was not even given the right to read first transcript of the testimony.

But isn't all this a sign of the utter incompetence of those people in the Kennedy administration who are to deplore the manner in which the case was handled and feel that some fundamental elements of military justice and fair play were violated?

'Place Own Defense Effort Ahead of Foreign Aid'

Foreign aid robs our own defense effort. We cannot survive without the aid of the sky. Yet while U.S. foreign spending totals some $10 billion annually (including $3.2 billion spent by our overseas troops and aid under P.L. 480) we are canceling new bomber programs and we are neglecting to make adequate preparations here at home. The serious international crisis demands that we conserve resources and use our means to maintain our own military and economic strength.

Ministers Are Right, Says Social Worker

The Press editorial on the Episcopal freedom riders and subsequent replies seemed to have stirred much comment.

Social workers are committed to the support of equal rights and opportunities for all. We support Rev. Widdifield's position that assigning the total responsibility for social justice strictly to law enforcement agencies constitutes an evasion of civil responsibility. Police can only act as instruments of constitutional law while moral law has to be enforced by the citizenry. There are some responsibilities that cannot be delegated.

Parents who delegate all responsibilities to the teacher will fail their children. Police cannot change the moral character of people or we wouldn't have criminal repeaters.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Admires Zestful Professor

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE, CASE K-45. Dr. Paul McNeely is a versatile psychology professor at Aubury College.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I wish you could come down and lecture in our students on psychology in the classroom."

Dr. Crane said he had planned to stop off at Aubury College on a lecture tour early this year but his schedule was changed.

So I regretfully informed Dr. McNeely, I'd have to take a raincheck on his gracious invitation.

But he is versatile and what the late Dr. Glenn Frank, President of the University of Wisconsin, could call a "star salesman" in the classroom.

He countered by saying I could make a 30-minute tape recording for his class.

And to get me into action, he even mailed me the tape, asking that I discuss our scientific marriage foundation on this first recording, since his class were vitally interested in this timely topic.

It is not only a clever idea but permits the speaker to address classes year after year on the subject in which he is an authority.

Just look at some of the leading items on his cultural "menu":

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale — "Interviewing or Counseling" — 30 min.

Dr. Dorothy Arnold (U. of Iowa) — "How the Home Affects Mental Health" — 15 min.

Major M. J. (U.S. Army) — "Brainwashing" — 90 min.

Dr. Corbett Thigpen — "The Three Faces of Eve" — 30 min.

Dr. Henry Howell — "Heredity" — 30 min.

Dr. Louis Evans — "Love, Marriage and God" — 30 min.

Dr. T. L. Engle (Indiana U.) — "High School Psychology" — 19 min.

Dr. Orville Walters — "The Psychologist and Christian Faith" — 30 min.

It is a pleasure to salute such an enterprising professor as Dr. McNeely and his colleagues for their use of streamlined methods.

Dr. McNeely reported that my 30-minute recording about the scientific marriage foundation had evoked considerable interest among his classes, as well as those of his colleagues at Aubury, namely, Professors Leon Fisher and Harry Bitt.

Although the SMF has thus far not been aimed at college age folks, we are finding that our applicants are increasing from that group.

ratio begins to run so far toward the female sex that they outnumber our male applicants by at least 3 to 1.

A lovely girl, aged 22 (former campus beauty), was left a widow with an 18-month baby girl. She was married two months ago.

"Dr. Crane," she informed us today, "my marriage has been so perfect I just wonder if we are the exception. Is it just a coincidence or are other married folks as congenial and happy as we are?"

Sen. Hart Plans Tour of Africa

Will Study Problems There With Members of Foreign Relations Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said Thursday he expects to leave Sunday for a four-week trip to Africa to study problems there as a member of a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Africa.

Hart plans to accompany Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., subcommittee chairman. The third member of the group, Sen. Maurice Neuberger, D-Ore., is now in Europe and will join the two in Africa.

Hart told a news conference he expects to conduct a three-day hearing the last week in October as chairman of a Senate Antitrust subcommittee into allegations that deceptive practices are used in packing and labeling grocery items.

Asked about his assessment of action in this session of Congress, Hart said it produced many good pieces of legislation, but left undone much important business including medical care for the aged and a general aid to education measure.

As accomplishments he listed the housing bill, all the funds requested by President Kennedy for defense, pollution control, minimum wage, and the Peace Corps.

Air Force Looks Way Ahead to Materiel Depots in Space

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The medium-one in which the Air Force said today that inter-Force must have a dominating role in planetary space is a military rule.

Gen. B. A. Schriever, chief of the systems command, said the first space weapon—the Intercontinental ballistic missile—eventually will be followed "more quickly than some people realize," by new weapons potentially more destructive.

Passing the Buck Led to Berlin Tragedy

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democrats and the State Department are disputing with Dwight D. Eisenhower and the Republicans the answer to this question:

"Who made the decision permitting the Russians to take Berlin single-handed at the end of World War II?"

It seems odd that neither side has called the best informed and only qualified surviving participant in that decision to relate the circumstances and to assess the blame.

That witness is Sir Winston Churchill. His testimony is in the "Triumph and Tragedy" volume of his history of World War II, pages 466-467.

Reading those pages, it becomes understandable why the didn't summon Churchill to testify in his behalf and why the State Department and the Democrats also overlooked Churchill.

Churchill's account of the colonial Berlin goof does not make the look 'good, nor the Democrats either.

The implication of Churchill's account is that Gen. Eisenhower was ignorant of the political meaning of the windup campaign in Western Europe.

EQUALLY IN DARK
Churchill rates the U.S. joint chiefs as equally ignorant of what the political objectives of that windup campaign should have been.

The job to the Democrats is that Churchill says President Roosevelt in March-April of 1946 was incapable of comprehending or dealing with the political implications of the swift Russian advance westward.

Churchill gives Stalin high marks for understanding these political implications and for taking advantage of exhaustion in Washington and political ignorance in the allied military high command.

The State Department is retreating under pressure of Republican protests from a public statement implying adverse criticism of Eisenhower for failing to go all-out for Berlin in the closing days of the war.

A CHURCHILL CHALLENGE
He holds that the Berlin decision was political; that is, made by the politicians in Washington and London. This, Churchill seems directly to challenge.

As for his own point of view, Churchill quotes in "Triumph and Tragedy," page 467, from a memo he sent to Gen. Eisenhower April 2, 1946:

"I am all the more impressed with the importance of collecting Berlin which well may be open to us. I deem it highly important that we should shake hands with the Russians as far east as possible."

Churchill also warned the general of what he regarded as evidence of the Russian objectives with respect to Berlin.

To FDR on April 1, 1945 — eleven days before FDR's death — Churchill addressed a long message including the following: "Berlin remains of high strategic importance. The Russian armies will no doubt overrun all Austria and enter Vienna. If they also take Berlin will not their impression that they have been the overwhelming contributor to our common victory be unduly imprinted in their minds and may this not lead them into a mood which will raise grave and formidable difficulties in the future?"

Churchill's book has a footnote to that message: "Actually, although I did not realize it, the President's health was now so feeble that it was Gen. Marshall who had to deal with these grave questions."

And that, children, is how we began to lose the peace.

Fishermen's Luck or...
Whale of a Fish-Story?

LUMMI ISLAND, Wash. (AP) — Two Lummi Island gillnet fishermen had some luck they didn't want. They cast their net and caught a whale.

Douglas Nilsen and his father, Matt, fishing from a 30-foot boat, found the 25-foot mammal when they started to haul in. They let it go.

Hundreds of Thousands Asking About CD Shelters

Winston says public interest has gone up tremendously.

"We're planning a campaign of survivals—short questionnaires like 'what would you do in the first 15 seconds?' and their answers on radio," he said.

In Birmingham, Ala., the CD office has been conducting "protection programs" classes. Attendance had averaged 30 to 35 persons but the week after Kennedy's speech, 185 persons showed up.

The majority of people in the two main facts emerging from a UPI survey of civil defense offices from coast to coast.

Russia's resumption of nuclear tests put the final spur to a surge of public anxiety that followed President Kennedy's warning last month about protection and the grim developments in Berlin.

In Los Angeles, for example, there are six 15 x 15 telephone lines into the CD office. The switchboard has been so overrun that plans are being made to install 30 lines.

No figures are available on the number of shelters actually being started there. But in the city of Chicago, only two building permits have been issued for construction of shelters.

And in the building permit office of New York City—with more than 7 million people—there is not a single application for a permit for shelter construction!

There are indications, however, that people are about to do more than think about protecting their families.

CROWDS GREAT
In Philadelphia, a model shelter was built in Fairmount Park with visiting hours 1 to 4 p.m. five days a week. Since the Russian tests started, crowds have become so great the exhibit is open seven days a week.

Defense coordinator Joseph R. Costa says thousands of inquiries have been coming from radio stations who pass on listener requests.

"We're suffering from prosperity but we love it," he said. "We've been trying for years to get our message across. Looks like Khrushchev did it for us."

The survey could not measure families who have started shelters without asking for permits or housewives who have stocked food and water, transistor radios, candles and other essentials in their basements.

However, Cleveland civil defense director John Pokorny believes basement shelters are not the answer because of the danger of the house above catching fire. He is one of those who advocates evacuation of cities.

INTEREST UP

W. A. Weatherford of Jacksonville, Fla., president of the National Civilian Defense Council, says nuclear shelter building firms have "sprung up like mushrooms."

His remarks were borne out by director Don Carleton of Milwaukee who called a meeting of contractors interested in building shelters.

"I expected 50 and got 250," he said.

In Ohio, CD director Loren G.

the possibility of property taxes being increased if shelters are built. U.M. James, CD director, said: "Alabama now has a bill in the legislature which would have some tax relief."

In Los Angeles, N.M., birthplace of the A-bomb, the Atomic Energy Commission has announced it will assign federal shelter space for every family by Jan. 1.

The town of Glendo, Wyo., last week bought a 65 x 400 foot potato storage cellar which it is going to convert in to a shelter for the population of 215.

Adm. A. G. Cook, director of the San Francisco Disaster Council, says there has been a constant stream of people coming to his offices—some 2,000 in the past month.

"They are not panic stricken," he said. "They have a quiet determination not to put up with any foolishness from Russia. They are approving of our government's firm attitude."

The five state headquarters in Denton, Tex., has received requests for half a million copies of pamphlets on family shelters.

This Wallet Theft is a Federal Rap

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Robert Jones, 22, will face a federal judge when he goes to court on a charge of stealing a woman's wallet.

Police said the theft occurred in the local office of the Internal Revenue Service.

The director there said many people also inquired just "what N. Khrushchev intends to do."

You have had your first look at the new "car of cars".

Its name is Cadillac—and its destiny is a place among the most renowned automobiles of our time.

Its new styling is remarkably clean and crisp and graceful—with a look of "rightness" in every line and contour and detail.

Cadillac's new Fleetwood interiors beckon with a jewel-like beauty. There are marvelous new fabrics and leathers . . . and new conveniences on every hand.

Engineering triumphs include independent front and rear braking . . . exclusive new cornering lamps that light your way around turns . . . and a revolutionary three-phase rear lighting system.

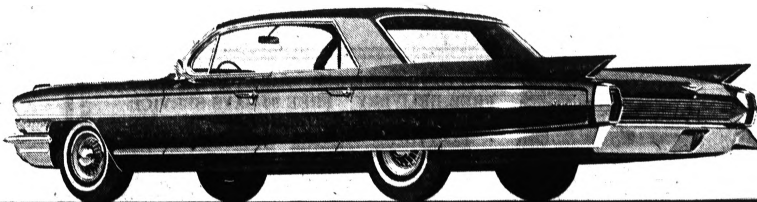

Yet, some of the noblest advances cannot be seen. They must be felt and sensed—performance that is incredibly quiet and smooth and nimble . . . handling ease so great that the mere weight of your hand puts you in command of the road . . . craftsmanship that is so practiced and so precise that the car has become a marvel of construction and a paragon of dependability.

These new Cadillac wonders are evident in each of twelve new body styles—and are available with the widest selection of interiors in Cadillac history.

Even if you have never before considered a Cadillac—you should take a journey in this one.

It's Cadillac for 1962. And we suggest you take another look because you'll be hearing a lot about it.

Says Moderate Membership 15

Hilbert Claims GOP Senate Group Not Just 8 of Traverse City

SCOTTVILLE (UPI) — Sen. Frederic Hilbert, R-Wayland, said today the membership of the so-called "moderate Republican state senate group is not limited to merely eight members.

"In the past session eight was a minimum. At times we number as many as 15," Hilbert wrote in a guest column published in the Mason County Press.

The Traverse City pact, a 14-point program calling for new steps by the State Republican party, was drafted by only eight men, Hilbert agreed. But it embodied the ideas of the other seven senators that sometimes met with the moderates, he said.

By placing the number of moderates at 15, Hilbert indicated only seven other Republican senators stood outside the body.

Hilbert said while the drafters of the pact "agree on one cardinal point," the moderates do not agree on all issues.

Hilbert said the primary principle on which there is common agreement is:

"We believe in facing the problems of Michigan's political and governmental life now and head on. We know of nothing to be gained by ducking, procrastinating or denying that problems exist."

The differences that arise after that, he said, "are not so great as to preclude an honest effort to implement the 14 points."

Con-Con Delegates Must File Expenses

LANSING (UPI) — Secretary of State James M. Hare today emphasized Constitutional Convention delegates must file a report of their election expense accounts if they expect to be seated when the convention meets here Oct. 3.

The Board of State Canvassers is scheduled to meet Monday to certify the returns of the Sept. 12 election, Hare said.

"We anticipate no difficulty in any area but certificates of election will not be sent out to the successful candidates until they have filed their expense accounts," he said.

Until this statement is filed delegates cannot be sworn in, cannot be seated in the convention, and will not be eligible for any delegate privileges, parking permits or pay, Hare said.

Earl Props 'Life Tree', He's Taking No Chances

PENRITH, England (AP) — The Earl of Lonsdale literally propped up his family tree Thursday. Legend has it that when the main bough of a 262-year-old oak on his grounds falls, then the incumbent earl will die. The earl had reinforced it with struts.

"Not that I believe in the legend," said the 38-year-old earl in an interview, "but I'm taking no chances. Anyhow, a tree of such antiquity should be preserved."

Drinking Okay but... Says Episcopalian

DETROIT (AP)—Drinking is not sinful. And no Christian should look down on another for doing it. But there are good reasons for never touching the stuff.

This view was presented at the official position of the Episcopal Church today by one of its specialists, Dr. Dean K. Brooks of Salem, Ore.

"We should realize," he said, "that drinking is not of itself a sin because there is no divine prohibition against it; nor can alcohol, being a gift of God, be said to be evil per se."

However, Dr. Brooks, a member of the church's joint commission on society and alcohol, added that there are several "good reasons for total abstinence," including:

"To help others lest they be harmed by drinking; to insure efficiency; to forego a luxury; for health reasons; or to provide a devotional discipline."

Another move by the Episcopalians forged closer links between Christians of various denominations on opposite sides of the world.

Representatives of the Episcopal Church tentatively offered the head of fellowship to a newly emerging church in distant Oregon, made up of their Anglican brethren, plus Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian.

It is one of several united churches emerging in the Far East, blurring a trail of reunion among groups that still remain divided in the West.

The action came Thursday in the Episcopal general convention's House of Deputies. They voted overwhelmingly, after spirited debate, to extend tentative recognition to the newly forming church.

The Rt. Rev. Lakdina De Mel, bishop of Kurunegala, Ceylon, thanked the delegates for acting to "bind our churches together."

Need Extra School Tax, Shunck Warns Board

William A. Shunck, superintendent of the Waterford Township school system, last night told the Waterford Board of Education that additional funds will be needed for future school operation, and that in his opinion the only source would be additional local taxes.

Schunck added that the school board should give serious consideration to having a special election this school year, preferably in March, for additional millage.

"If the school system continues to operate on the same salary schedule next year as this, it will require a $100,000 increase to meet the teacher payroll," he said.

Schunck explained that in a young system such as Waterford's, automatic pay increases are necessary, and that Waterford's teacher payroll is one of the "very lowest in Oakland County." It should be improved, he said.

In presenting the financial picture, Shunck said that there are no federal funds available; there is little likelihood of any change in monies from the state, and it is impossible to acquire any more funds from the county.

"Consequently, the only source of school revenue left must come locally," he said.

The question of just how much

Grand Trunk Delays Commuter Fare Hike

Railroad commuters between Pontiac and Detroit won't have to pay a fare increase at least until Sept. 25.

Officials of Grand Trunk Western have voluntarily agreed to postpone the hike pending official decision following a public hearing ordered early this month by the Michigan Public Service Commission.

Originally the hike was to take effect Aug. 14.

Woman Wrecks Car Trying to Light Cigarette

Mrs. Richard Ketter may be tempted to quit smoking—at least until her arm gets better.

The 31-year-old Independence Township housewife was lighting a cigarette yesterday when her car crashed into a roadside guardpost and the side of a small bridge near her home.

She told sheriff's deputies she lost control of the wheel in a curve on Saabshaw Road. Her car was traveling an estimated 40 miles an hour when it slammed into the post.

Mrs. Ketter of 9117 Eved Road was alone in the car. Her condition was reported as satisfactory today at Pontiac General Hospital. She suffered a fractured arm.

2 U.S. Soldiers Held 6 Hours by Vopo

BERLIN (AP)—Two American soldiers were detained by Communist East German police on the highway from Berlin to the West, the U.S. Berlin command announced today. The soldiers were released six hours later, after a Soviet officer intervened.

The two enlisted men, in civilian clothes, were detained by the Communists when they were 23 miles out of Berlin Thursday, the Army said.

They were "forced out of their privately owned vehicle, bearing U.S. forces license plates, and taken to a Vopo (people's police) station in Potsdam," the announcement added.

To control certain injurious insects, cranberry bogs are periodically flooded.

He Stole Paintings to Make Big Splash

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Palm fingerprints found in Bright's Springs real estate salesman who home.

Police say admitted he took paint. Ashdown said he had no intention of selling the paintings. could draw attention to myself in the Hollywood bus depot and make a big splash," said the accused.

Edward Henry Ashdown, 29, of Costa Mesa, Calif., led police Thursday night to a bus depot and rented garage where officers found the four art works stolen Sept. 10 from the Bel-Air mansion of industrialist David Bright.

Ashdown arrested last Wednesday, first denied taking the two Picasso, a Modigliani and an Afro. But when the district attorney's office issued a complaint charging him with suspicion of robbery and grand theft, police said he admitted the crime.

Trend Fixes Wasteful Alterations

By GAILE DUGAS
NEW YORK (NEA) — The theory that American women are all tall, slim and rangy is gradually being exploded by reality.

The truth is that the majority of American women don't fit this description at all. For the most part, we're average height, slightly hippy, concerned with weight problems. And with clothes problems.

IT'S A WASTE

We spend several millions each year on alterations. This is sufficient proof that someone somewhere is off in his concept of what the American woman looks like. And it's a great waste of money.

It's heartening to know that some dress, suit and coat houses have taken cognizance of the fact that not all of us are long-stemmed American beauties. For us, they design proportioned clothes. Or, in other words, clothes that really do fit.

These clothes, for women five feet four or under, are streamlined. For the shorter woman can't get away with many of the details that the taller sister can.

Collars, sleeves and even trim are all detailed to her smaller size. Lines are simpler; shoulders are narrow in these garments.

Women's Section

It's Her 'Marriage,' Abby Advises

Don't Rush Your Daughter

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 22. She is not an outstanding beauty, but she is attractive and intelligent. She has turned down a few good proposals of marriage. When I ask her what she is waiting for, she says, "Don't rush me."

Is there any way I can speed up marriage for her? I am 48 and would like to see some grandchildren before I die.

WANTS GRANDCHILDREN
DEAR WANTS: Many grandparents, who have pushed their children into marriage, see more of their grandchildren than they bargained for. (They are raising them).

If you are impatient to see things hatch, settle down on a chicken farm. But don't pressure your daughter to fly the coop.

DEAR ABBY: I love to eat and I look it. I guess you could say that I am just plain FAT! Will jumping rope help me to lose weight?

FAT
DEAR FAT: Yes, if you SKIP desserts!

DEAR ABBY: I found a "strange" bath towel in my laundry. I do not need my washing out, so I was completely baffled as to how it came to be in my house. One night last week my husband and I went out, and we left our child with a sitter. The sitter is a rather quiet high school girl who came well recommended. She asked if I objected if she had her boy friend over while she sat. I agreed, as I trusted her.

Need I draw any pictures? Please warn other women not to be as stupidly big-hearted as I. If a sitter wants to entertain her boy friend, let her entertain him in her own home.

DISGUSTED

My husband developed a bad toothache, so we came home earlier than we intended. It seemed her boy friend was just leaving when we came home. When he saw us he turned scarlet, and left hurriedly. When I went into the bathroom it was all streery, and I found a bath towel just like the one that was left here before.

Q: This past winter I met a young man through a friend of mine who was visiting in this city. I saw him several times during this visit and we had a wonderful time together. When he left, he said that if I ever came to his city, to be sure to look him up. I will be going there shortly and I would like to know if it would be proper to take him at his word and call him, or might this be considered forward. I haven't heard from him since his visit.

A: You might write him the dates of your visit to his city and where you will be staying and tell him if he will be in town during that time you would like to see him again. Then if he really wants to see you, he will telephone and invite you to dinner.

Q: On an ocean liner, when should those who are supposed to be tipped be given their amounts?

A: You tip your dining room steward and the wine steward at the end of your last meal in the dining room and the others a short time before you leave the ship.

Q: For years I have been setting my table with the napkin at the right side of the plate, but I have just been told by a friend that the napkin should be at the left of the plate. Will you please tell me which is correct?

A: At a formally set dinner (or luncheon) table, napkins are on the place plate. If the first course is on the plate, napkins is usually placed at left of plate.

A Glutton for Admiration Can Be 6 or 60

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: You've been writing about praise and children. My 11-year-old is a glutton for it. She has to be told at least six times that you like the way she has straightened some magazines or put away the table silver. Is this insecurity? What would a child psychologist say about a child who has to be told she's done well over and over?

ANSWER: I hope he would tell you that her psychology isn't so awfully different from ours. Parents can beg for praise. I've been up since 3:30, got every body's breakfast, washed the dishes, stripped the beds and there you are, going on 12 years old just lying around doing nothing. When I think of all the sacrifices I've made for you... I've been on my feet all day and they are killing me. If they do not thus seek repetitious admiration for their good works, the answer to a child who demands it is simple. You hug her, and say:

"Listen, You've got to start believing me when I tell you I like the way you've straightened these magazines just as I believe you when you tell me you like one of my marshmallow cakes. Just start believing me, will you?"

But if parents must constantly call attention to their good works then they may become irritated by a similar demand in the child. Because they hate their own dependence on others' value of their actions, they will also resent this dependence in the child. Instead of dealing with it directly, these parents will just stew about it in the same kind of helplessness in which they stew about their own.

As to "security," I don't know what the word means. I can understand how a person will have such a glorious picture of what she ought to be able to do that anything she actually does can't count.

As I understand how such a person would have to bound others for support of the value of her industry, sacrifices and devotion, and that their praise would do her no good at all, dripping through the sieve of her own self-contempt so that her appetite for it would remain forever dissatisfied.

But "security"? What's that? In my lexicon a secure person is a dead person. He has ceased to be able to feel the conflicts which living human beings meet and resolve over and over again in the endless spiral of their own creation.

It is not a word I have much respect for.

Seek Gallery Funds

Plans to dedicate its exhibit gallery to the memory of the late artist Rocco DiMarco were announced today by the Bloomfield Art Association as it launched a campaign to raise $75,000.

The funds will cover the estimated cost of converting the city's former sewage disposal plant at 1316 S. Cadzrock Road into a Birmingham Art Center. A 33-by-60 foot area will be converted into an exhibit gallery, at a cost of approximately $28,000.

The gallery will be called the Rocco DiMarco Exhibit Gallery, in tribute to the late artist. DiMarco was the former art director of a prominent Detroit advertising agency. He lived in Bloomfield Hills.

He was a member of the board of directors of the art association at the time of his sudden death last June at the age of 56.

DiMarco had been an active supporter of the art association and its goals. "The organization's goals are expressed in the plans for the new art center," said Bloomfield Art Association President Robert B. Bender today. "The center is designed to help enrich the community's enjoyment and appreciation of the arts through annual programs of instruction and exhibits."

When the $75,000 remodeling is completed, the art center will contain classrooms for art instruction, lounges and a BAA headquarters office, besides the large exhibition gallery. The center will serve Birmingham and the large area surrounding it.

Announcement of the fund-raising drive was made by Paul N. Averill, chairman of the BAA building fund committee, in a letter to the BAA membership.

Averill said the Rocco DiMarco gallery's 1,980 square

'Lightning' Cake Needs No Frosting

By JANET ODELL.
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Some Pontiac women who were at the same party as your food editor a week or so ago will be happy to see today's recipe. The dessert at luncheon was Blitz Torto and today's recipe is for that delicacy.

The only difference in that Mrs. Hubbard's recipe for Blitz is not a custard one as specified in the original German recipe. It's an interesting variation.

We've known Mrs. Hubbard since she was a teenager. Now she's a pleasant young homemaker with two children. She works in her church guild and belongs to a child study club. Sewing is her hobby.

BLITZ TORTO.
By Mrs. John Hubbard
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
4 egg yolks

6 tablespoons milk
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
pinch of salt

Cream butter or margarine with sugar. Beat in egg yolks. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with milk. Pour into 2 greased 8-inch layer pans.

After cake batter is in pan, beat egg whites stiff, add 1 cup sugar and beat until very stiff but not dry. Spread over unbaked cake and sprinkle with chopped walnuts. Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees.

Put together with following filling:
1 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook first 3 ingredients until thick in double boiler. Remove from heat, add butter and vanilla. Cool before spreading between layers.

Use Dragging Leg Exercise

You Want to Reduce Hips?

Q. Where do you measure when measuring your hips? I am concerned about my lower back bulge. How can I reduce bulges here?

A. When a hip measurement is given, it is the measurement of the lower back hips, the largest part of your hips. Take your measurement there. A bending exercise, in which you run the hands as far down the legs as possible and then "drag" them up again, will help reduce those lower back hip bulges.

Q. "I am a young woman and have dark, heavy hairs growing on my hip. I would like to have these removed permanently but do not know whom to see. I have been told that I can have this hair removed permanently by the electrolysis. Do I see a regular doctor for this?"

A. The hair can be removed permanently. See an electrolysis. Some skin specialists have electrolysis in their offices, or they can recommend one to you.

Q. "I sleep on my stomach. Is this harmful since it flattens the breasts? I am 24 years old and my only pregnancy was seven years ago. I would like to improve my bust."

A. It seems to me that the habit of sleeping on the stomach would detract from the beauty of a bust. It flattens it just as a poorly supported, flattened bra would. You can increase your bust measurement with special exercises.

Q. "Some people say I am overweight. I am 14 years old, 5 feet three inches tall and weigh 103 pounds. Am I overweight—and if so how much should I weigh?"

A. You should weigh about 112 pounds.

Q. "Can a curvature of the spine make one hip higher than the other? If so, what can be done about it?"

A. Yes. Much can be done with corrective exercises. These should be prescribed and supervised by a person trained for this.

Con-Con Group to Hold Caucus

GOP Delegates Plan Preconvention Meeting on Sept. 29

ST. JOSEPH (UPI)—Fifty-odd Republican delegates stood agreed today that they needed a party caucus before the start of the Oct. 3 law-making meeting.

The decision was reached Thursday night at a special con-con meeting following the opening session of the all-Michigan Republican conference.

Republican national committeeman, John B. Martin, Grand Rapids, himself a delegate to the session which will soon begin in Lansing, called the meeting.

George M. Van Puseur, chairman of the state party which will have a 50-45 majority in the session, agreed to set up the meeting in Lansing tentatively for a week from today.

Martin, one of the many GOP members elected over the party's resounding victory in the con-con election, told his fellow delegates that after being out of executive power for such a long time, "We welcome this great responsibility."

Martin said it was the first chance in many years that the Republicans had to assume such responsibility, and he indicated he believed it foreshadowed better days in future elections for the GOP.

"If we can sweep it clean for con-con, we can do it again in '62," he said. "Do you believe that?" he asked and was greeted by wild applause.

Killer of 6 Slain in Hail of Bullets

Sister Among Victims; 3 Also Wounded Before Posse Closes In

GREENWOOD, Miss. (AP)—A crazed Negro accused of killing six persons and wounding three was slain Thursday night by a hail of bullets from a posse.

Sheriff E. R. Dugan said Wiley Crump, 67, was spotlighted on a house porch and cut down when he tried to raise his rifle.

The sheriff said about 125 men were in the posse, formed after Crump went on his shooting spree at Philipp, a delta community 20 miles from Greenwood in the northwest part of the state.

The six dead, all Negroes, included three women, one of them Crump's sister. Two of the wounded were white men, shot as they lifted the dead into an ambulance.

Dugan identified the dead as Mary Suttie, Mandy Griffin, John Trotter, Isaac Truitt, Charles Johnson and Crump's sister, Etie Franklin.

No one had any idea what triggered the violence. Witnesses said Crump set fire to his house and then killed neighbors drawn by the flames.

The white men were members of a construction crew quartered in a railroad car parked on a siding near the scene.

MSUO Scholars Nap in Library

By MAX SIMON

The school year is young but some students at Michigan State University Oakland are making a habit of sleeping in one of their classroom buildings.

And the place where they congregate for academic slumming is the research library of the university's new science-engineering building.

University officials have the facts. They're not, however, spreading any sleepless nights over sleeping students.

The thought of their space-age scholars dreaming away the hours asleep in the third-floor library brings a smile to their faces—and a sigh of relief as well.

The fact of the matter is they planned the whole thing themselves.

A REAL NIGHTMARE

MSUO's administrators were confronted with a real-life nightmare as summer days sped by. That was the problem of dormitory students.

With fall nearing, it became evident that MSUO's first dormitories would not be ready for occupancy in time for the opening of fall classes.

The science-engineering building was decided upon as a temporary home away from home for male residents.

Instead of weighty scientific treatises and shelves, beds which will later be moved to the dorms were installed in the library.

Temporary showers were installed in maintenance and custodial areas.

Faculty offices were taken over by students as study rooms. And a planned faculty lounge is serving as a student lounge, instead.

CELEBS ALSO

The 55 men in the dorm are not the only students in temporary quarters.

Some 28 co-eds have been installed in the large country home at Upland Farms, the 600-acre Addison Township estate of Mr. and Mrs. Knight Webster.

The property once belonged to Charles E. Wilson, former secretary of defense and president of General Motors Corp. It was then known as Windrow Farms.

The university is renting housing facilities there until living quarters on campus are finished.

The "dorm" is 12 miles from campus. Coeds take an MSUO bus to and from campus.

Campus student living quarters will be ready about mid-October, university officials say.

Construction of the dorms began behind schedule because of a delay in authorization of the project by the State Legislature.

Ann Arbor Scoring High Fallout Count

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan School of Public Health said Thursday it has recorded a fallout count of 63.0 micromicrocuries, and increase of 17 micromicrocuries over Wednesday.

The school said the presence of radioactive fallout over the state has increased sharply over the past few weeks. The fallout was 49 micromicrocuries on Sept. 1.

The increase was traced to the step-up of nuclear testing by Russia.

Maritime Unionists Considers Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Masters Mates & Pilots (MMP) on the West Coast, free to strike the Pacific Maritime Association (PMA) at any time, called meetings in all Pacific coast ports today to map their next moves.

The MMP's last union involved in the lengthy national maritime dispute, walked out of talks with ship owners Thursday night in disagreement over a proposed extension of the negotiating period.

The West Coast membership voted last week for a "no contract-no work" policy. Therefore, the union was free to go on strike at midnight Thursday night when an 8-day Taft-Hartley no-strike injunction expired.

New Exchange Students at PCH Hail From New Zealand, Spain

By WADE WILKISON
Through the American Field Service there are two foreign exchange students attending classes at Pontiac Central High School this year.
Diane Dickie from New Zealand, staying with Mary Lou McLaughlin, and Juan Hernandez, living at Jim Nelson's home, are the students being sponsored by the local AFS group.
Diane Dickie hails from Wa-ad, even though she doesn't like root beer or pizza.

Hails from Spain
Juan Hernandez is the 16-year-old male exchange student with four brothers and one sister at his home in Madrid, Spain. Juan thinks the most outstanding thing on arrival in America was "the view of the Statue of Liberty and the big buildings I saw from the ship."
According to Juan school term-rock-and-roll. He has already expressed his preference of short skirts on girls like other American boys.

EXPANDING PROGRAM
These two students are part of an ever expanding program of the American Field Service. Founded in 1915 as a volunteer ambulance corps, it served with the allied forces in both WW I and WW II.
The scholarship program of bringing students to America was founded because the AFS veterans felt that it would be the most effective means of carrying out world understanding and service. Starting with fifty students in 1947, it has grown to 1,847 student participants from 50 countries in 1960.
The American Field Service is a private, non-profit, educational organization. Its purpose is promoting understanding and goodwill among the peoples of the world — by bringing teenage students from abroad to study in American high schools. At the same time, under its American Abroad program, AFS sends U. S. teenagers abroad for a similar experience.

of Madrid, Spain. Diane and Juan are AFS foreign exchange students living with PCH students while pursuing studies here this year. Marilyn went abroad to Bremen, Germany, this summer on the AFS American exchange student program.

The cost of bringing an exchange student to the U. S. for a year is a minimum of $650, paid by the local AFS group. With two foreign exchange students the local AFS at Central has $1,300 plus an estimated $300 more for expenses while here.
PROJECT PROFITS HELP
AFS student members run a mail machine at Central during the lunch hours and some basketball games. Other projects, such as selling official AFS notecards and cookbooks help balance the budget.
Part of the amount needed was raised by a door-to-door sales drive Sept. 16. Some of the $1,800 also came from donations from clubs such as Kiwanis, and from lectures given by the exchange students to women's clubs.
The AFS group at Pontiac Central is starting its fourth year of active participation of sending and receiving students.
Another purpose of the local AFS is to interest more people, especially students in the program. These students who become interested will be selected to go abroad if they meet other requirements.
If a student is 16, has had two years of a foreign language by the end of this school year, and is determined the best from this area, he or she has an excellent chance of becoming the next foreign exchange student from Central to another land.
The AFS is not the only program which students of other lands can come to the U. S. Amelien Gaarman, 18, of Holland who is staying with Sally Hamilton, and 17-year-old, Schille Schloesser of Germany who is staying with the McDowell family are two more students brought over by the Michigan Council of Churches, and are attending classes at Pontiac Central.
Short talks were given by Pat Sugden, a senior and captain of the varsity cheerleaders, and by Jerry Martin, captain of the football team. The student body, in general was bursting with school spirit and get-up-and-go.
Numerous freshmen girls have enthusiastically attended cheerleading try-outs during the past few days for varsity and junior varsity positions. Three lucky girls will be chosen to take their places among the JV's. They will be announced shortly.
Flick Break' Soothes
WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — College examinations are rough at times so William and Mary students are getting what they call a "flick break" at the noon hour. Cartoons are shown especially for them at noon at the campus center. It relaxes them.

Cheerleaders Spark PNH Spirit

By PAMELA MORRIS
Spirit is sparked three-fold at Pontiac Northern High School this week.
The cheerleaders are among these pep boosters. Five varsity and six junior varsity girls make up the pep squad.
The girls help prepare pep assemblies, after game dances, and make colorful posters, in addition to cheering their team on to victory.
Four seniors and one junior make up this year's cheering captain. They are Sharon Fidler, captain; Sharon Wheeler, Kathy Murphy and Susan Jones, seniors; and Sharon Vervey, junior.
JV CHEERING SQUAD
Junior varsity cheerleaders also assist. They are Joan Davis, Rose Kosheba, seniors; Pat Wellman, Lynn Statton and Barb Van Horn, juniors; and Sharon Norheim, sophomore.

One of the main highlights of the past week was the far caravan sponsored by the cheerleaders. Northern fans purchased red and white streamers and pom-poms to decorate the 40 some cars en route to Lake Orion. A State Police escort from the Pontiac post accompanied the group.
Frosty, Northern's canine mascot, does his job, too. Frosty is an Alaskan Husky owned by a former Northern student, Mary Lynn Mann, who graduated last year. Frosty is usually present at sporting events and does his part by barking the team on to victory.

LOVES HIS FANS
Although the crowd's make Frosty nervous, he loves all the attention he gets from Husky fans.

Other organizations are also active around Northern this week. Tryouts for the PNH production of "Live With Father" by Lindsey and Crouse were held Monday. Results were announced Wednesday. Anthony Chetill is the faculty adviser for the Northern Players.
Glenn Cheek's Future Teachers Club is sponsoring a car-wash Saturday at the Standard Service Station on the corner of Opbeke and Pontiac Roads. The car wash will be to raise funds for the club treasury. The wash will continue from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will be 75 cents per car.

Award Honors at Clarkston

17 Students Receive Top Certificates for Performance on Test
By JANET TISCH
Seventeen students at Clarkston Community High School have received certificates for their outstanding performances on the National Educational Development Tests, announces Milford Mason, high school principal.
The Certificates of Educational Development are awarded by the Science Research Association, a Chicago-based firm serving education, industry, and government through applied behavioral sciences to "measure scoring in top quarter of each state's participants, by grade." Recipients of the NEDT Certificates are the following: David L. Smith, Caroline Richmond, Gordon J. Archers, Barbara J. Hagood, Marcelene Fox, David Plympton, Roger W. Pearson, Dennis P. Kriehers, Robert J. Kries, Carol M. Kirsch, Bill M. Jolechum, John W. Gary, Ronald J. Fuesler, David B. DeLongchamp, Dan H. Given, Robert W. Cobb, and Harry J. Champlain.

Prepared and administered by SRA, NEDT practice scores in English, social studies, mathematics, natural sciences, and word usage. Evaluating educational strengths and weaknesses is particularly important at this stage of a student's scholastic career, so that school authorities, parents, and the students themselves may make better decisions about the future, Mr. Mason explains.
With an assembly for tips on good salesmanship the Junior and Senior classes of CHS began their annual magazine sales, Wednesday.
Although seniors have had more experience at selling magazines, juniors will prove rough competition, for it is through magazine sales that both classes earn points toward their Senior Trip in April.
CHS seniors will sponsor their first dance of the school year to night, after the game with Muskegon, 11:30 for admission free. The dance will be at the school, in grades nine through twelve, may dance to top records, played by the school's radio club, the Informers.

U.S. Schools Award 10,500 Doctoral Degrees
WASHINGTON (UPI) — At least 10,500 doctoral degrees were conferred by U.S. colleges and universities during the 1960-61 academic year, according to an estimate of the U.S. Office of Education.
The estimate was based on reports of 13,400 graduate students expected to complete work for doctorates during the year and exceeded the 1960-61 academic year's total of 9,800 students usually fall behind schedule.
The estimate compared with 9,800 such degrees awarded in 1959-60, previous year and 9,800 in 1958-59.

Orion's Seniors, Hoisting 'Sails'

Aiming Toward Quota $2800 Total by Sept. 26 With Magazine Sales

By DIANE MARY WALTER
Lake Orion Seniors are to "sail" through a year full of activities, presently participating in an annual magazine "sale."
The 100 senior students began door-to-door rindling and sales-talk Sept. 12, all striving to reach the proposed quota intake of $2800 by Sept. 26.
Prizes will only be awarded to the two highest sailmen and to a mystery person at the conclusion of the drive.
Seniors eyed wrist watches, transistor radios, clock radios, cameras, and luggage at the recent kick-off assembly. Frank Kowalski, government instructor is supervising the drive.
A portion of the money received will defray senior expenses as senior pictures, invitations and supplement to class dues for graduation caps and gowns.
A variety of 145 magazines will be brought into surrounding homes and offered through the sales of the students.

Kettering Pupils Greeted by Cramped Conditions

By SHERYL LEIGH
The new Waterford Kettering High School opened its doors Monday to approximately 1,250 students.
Waterford Kettering, located on Bender Road, north of John D. Pierce Junior High School, opened one and a half weeks later than was scheduled because the building was not completed.
The north wing is still under construction thus unavailable for use as yet. Classes scheduled to be held in this wing are meeting in the school court, corridors, and cafeteria.
Because the cafeteria is unavailable, the students are prepared at Pierce Junior High School and transferred to the senior high school for serving.
Even though classes were not in session, Waterford Kettering students participated in a pep rally around a bonfire, Sept. 24.

MMPA and Fair Share Agree Pricing Confusing

Two Michigan dairy farmers' associations—which frequently have different opinions on milk-pricing policies—are in complete agreement over the confusion concerning seasonal milk price increases that went into effect Aug. 1.

Officials of both the Michigan Milk Producers Association and the Fair Share Bargaining Association for Michigan Dairy Farmers, Inc., say the actual increase was not as high as reported earlier.

Carl Dobat of 2400 Dutton Road, Oakland Township, treasurer of the Fair Share organization, said yesterday that the increase in his August milk payment represented a raise of only about 20 cents per hundredweight (cwt).

Dobat, whose Fair Share group is seeking representation for dairy farmers from the Teanemish Union, said reports published before August milk payments were received this month implied that farmers would be paid an increase of 50 cents per cwt for milk.

In its monthly magazine, "The Michigan Milk Messenger," the MMPA also challenged statements concerning the increase which covered Southern Michigan Milk markets.

The MMPA publication asserted that the reported 8-cent per cwt increase was inaccurate.

Under the federal order and the price agreements negotiated by the association (MMPA) last January, the price dealers pay for Class 1 (drinking) milk automatically went up 25 cents a hundredweight.

The increase did not show on milk checks until this week when farmers received their payments for August milk.

Jack Barnes, secretary-general manager of the MMPA, estimated that the increase in Class 1 and 2 prices will mean 25 to 30 cents more on Southern Michigan producers' base prices, depending on production and sales trends.

"This is a normal seasonal increase, and counterbalances the seasonal decrease that took place April 1," stated the MMPA publication.

GET CD CERTIFICATES — The oldest and the youngest members of a class of 37 who took a medical training course in Oxford last spring are shown getting their certificates at an awards banquet last night. The youngest was Robert Jaroski, 14, being handed his award by Oxford Civil Defense Director George J. Moore and the oldest, Wendell O. Hill, 59. Mrs. Hill, who also took the course, is an interested onlooker. The affair was held in the Masonic Temple.

CD Unit Meets In Oxford

Talk on Fallout Shelters and Radiation Detection to Be Heard by Council

A talk on fallout shelters and a resume of a training course in radiation detection will highlight tomorrow's weekly meeting of the Northeast Oxford County Civil Defense Council.

The Oxford CD organization will host the council which is slated to meet at 9 a. m. at Oxford High School.

The talk on fallout shelters will be given by Daniel Shanahan, field civil engineer of the Michigan Division of the Portland Cement Association.

He will describe construction of the shelters his association had to display recently at the Michigan State Fair.

Two Oxford men, J. B. McQueen and Harold Titus, will describe the course they took at RADEF School in Battle Creek.

ONLY TWO TRAINED
At a recent meeting of the council it was learned that these two men were the only members trained in radiation detection.

The council is composed of civil defense directors, their deputies and school and church personnel in nine area municipalities.

They are the village of Oxford, Lake Orion and Rochester, the townships of Avon, Oakland, Addison, Orion and Oxford and the city of Troy.

In addition to the talks, a tour of Oxford's CD facilities is planned. The local unit has equipment and sites to set up a 200-bed hospital on a moment's notice in case of emergency.

Oxford CD Director George J. Moore will conduct the tour and report on his unit's activities.

All area architects and builders are invited to attend tomorrow's session, which is the third in a series of 11 scheduled by the new CD council.

May Abandon RO Revamping

Thefts, Not Decrease in Shoppers Behind Meter Revenue Drop

ROYAL OAK (AP)—Royal Oak decided it was time to revamp its central business district when a drop in parking meter receipts indicated shoppers were staying away.

But now the redevelopment plan may be abandoned because the decline in parking meter revenue has been traced to three city employees.

Detective George A. Tender of this Detroit suburb said three employees of Public Works employees have admitted taking between $20,000 and $25,000 from city parking meter collections in the past four years.

George Tubbs, Royal Oak Finance Director, said the thefts dropped parking meter revenues from an average of $30,000 a year to $75,000 last year.

He said the decline had been blamed on a supposed drop in central business district traffic—leading to the plan for revamping and modernizing the area.

Tender said William M. Gavin, 38, John C. Quinn, 27, and Eugene Bremerman, 47, had been arrested and charged with embezzlement.

He quoted Gavin as saying: "At first we just took dimes for coffee. But then it grew until we were taking whole bags of money."

Gavin was foreman of a crew which collects from the meters. Police said they used duplicate keys to open the supposedly tamper-proof steel collection tanks.

State 4-H Club Dairy Judges to Compete in Iowa

EAST LANSING (AP)—The state's four top 4-H Club dairy judges will represent Michigan in the national judging contest Oct. 2 in Waterloo, Iowa, club officials have announced.

The four, who won in the state club show and performed well at the Michigan State Fair, are:

Marilyn Laing, 18, Marshall; William Spike, 18, Owosso; Kirk Curtis, 18, Stockbridge; and Donald Schultz, 17, Richmond.

Four other dairy judges have won a trip to the International Kelly said the argument started in Livestock and Dairy Show in Chicago, where they "complete words" were exchanged.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Aerosol Co. Replacing 'Architect's Horror'

ROCHESTER — A collection of grimy, poorly designed factory buildings here soon will be replaced by a new $100,000 warehouse and manufacturing center for the Rochester Aerosol Corp.

The old structures, once used by the Oakland Foundry and Machine Co., now out of business, are termed "an architect's nightmare" by Jack P. Fisher, consultant for the Rochester Area Development Corp.

Fisher, who will become plant manager for the aerosol canning firm when it begins production later this year, said construction of the new facility will start immediately after the foundry buildings are torn down.

Wolverine Wrecking and Lumber Co., Pontiac, currently is turning the old concrete block and frame structures into heaps of rubble to be carted away by trucks.

While the demolition crew was making kindling wood and broken concrete out of the buildings facing Woodward Avenue, carpenters and plumbers were renovating offices and outfitting a quality control laboratory at the northeast corner of the 3½-acre plant site.

"The demolition work on these old buildings should be completed by the end of the month," said Fisher.

QUALITY CONTROL LAB

"The quality control lab is supposed to be finished and in operation by Oct. 8," he said. "The cost of the new building should be in the neighborhood of $100,000 to $110,000."

Fisher explained that the 80-by-160 foot concrete block structure will be used primarily as a warehouse, but it also will contain the "filling line" where products will be put into the aerosol cans.

General contractor for the work will be a local firm, Frank Rebold and Son Construction Co.

Fisher said the new plant facility here have been designed to be much more attractive than the hodge-podge of old buildings being demolished.

When the plant begins operations about Nov. 1, it is expected to provide employment for about 35 persons.

Police said the chase began on Rochester Road, just north of the Rochester Village limits, when they saw Wuest "drag racing," with a car driven by James Basch, 19, of 245 W. Hamilton Road.

Police said they followed the two cars into Rochester where Wuest failed to stop for a red light on Main Street. He sped through the village at high speeds, continued down W. University Drive and was apprehended on Livermore Road, just north of Walton Boulevard, according to police.

Wuest said the Oakland County Jail, pending his arraignment before Justice Luther C. Green, Basch, who stopped his car at the light, was given a ticket for reckless driving.

Nab Avon Youth After Chase

Police Arrest Boy, 19, for Reckless Driving; To Be Arraigned

AVON TOWNSHIP — A 19-year-old youth who tried to elude police in a car speeding up to 90 miles per hour was arrested last night on a reckless driving charge. Romeo state police said today.

Scheduled for arraignment on the charge today in Avon Township Justice Court was John Wuest, 245 W. Hamilton Road, Pontiac.

Officers said the chase began on Rochester Road, just north of the Rochester Village limits, when they saw Wuest "drag racing," with a car driven by James Basch, 19, of 245 W. Hamilton Road.

Other members of the group are Jack Bennett, Kiwanis president; Bruce Cornell, president of Holly Agency, Inc.; William Fagan, Holly postmaster; Clarence Lester, village councilman; Serley Tanton, Holly Township supervisor; and Leland Wood of the Schwartz Scrap Iron and Metal Co.

Senate Holds Up Du Pont Orders

Gore Wins His Battle to Delay GM Stock Sale for Further Rulings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., appeared today to have won his fight to delay until next year Senate action on legislation to ease the impact of Du Pont's court-enforced disposal of $3 billion in General Motors stock.

Faced with the threat of a prolonged wrangle over the legislation—led by Gore—Senate leaders passed the word they had decided to remove it as an obstacle to adjournment.

Du Pont officials contend that stockholders would suffer up to $2 billion in losses if Du Pont was forced to "dump" on the open market its holdings of $3 billion General Motors shares.

The Supreme Court has ruled in an antitrust case that Du Pont must dispose of its one-fourth interest in GM, valued at about $3 billion, within the next 10 years.

TO EASE THE IMPACT
The Senate fight is over legislation to ease the impact of that court-ordered stock divestiture.

Opponents of the bill charge it is a "private relief bill" for the Du Pont company rather than for individual stockholders.

They argue that it is an attempt to legislate before a Chicago district court is scheduled to rule next month on alternative methods of disposing of the stock.

Du Pont President Crawford H. Greenwalt told the Senate Finance Committee last week, however, that in the absence of relief legislation, 200,000 Du Pont and 800,000 GM stockholders "will be severely punished though they have done no wrong."

In tax parlance, the bill would treat the distribution of stock as a "return of capital" rather than as a dividend distribution.

Matrimonial Shoals for Clooney-Ferrer

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Legal representatives of singer Rosemary Clooney confirmed today she plans to file for divorce from Joe Ferrer, her husband for eight years, and end another of Hollywood's "ideal" marriages.

Mrs. Clooney, 33, was reported to have told friends she had not been getting along with director-producer Ferrer "for a long time."

"This is final," she was reported to have said to the friends.

The Ferrers have five children and have long been considered one of the entertainment world's happiest couples.

Several other apparently ideal Hollywood marriages have gone on the rocks in recent years, including Robert Wagner and Natalie Wood, Glenn Ford and Eleanor Powell and Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds.

State Historical Marker to Be Put in Rest Area

MOUNT PLEASANT, Mo.—The first state historical marker to be placed in a State Highway Dept. freeway safety rest area will be dedicated Saturday near Mount Pleasant.

The marker will be placed in the rest area on the south-bound lane of the new U.S. 27 freeway just miles south of Mount Pleasant.

The marker will tell the history of Michigan's petroleum industry and will include a map showing the location of the major oil and gas fields in the state.

JUNK DEALER EVICTED—This blocking sidewalk full of junk (top) resulted when Ernest Bowden, 67, was evicted from his place of business on Grand River Avenue near downtown Detroit.

At right, workers add to the mountain of stuff, from the store where Bowden had been in business two years. Bowden said, "It's tough here. You can't sell anything on this street."

His landlord, who evicted him because he owed more than $1,200 in back rent, said: "He'll buy anything." With 26 rooms full on a second and third floor, and a basement full, the Public Workers Dept. must wait 24 hours before it can move the collection to a storage yard.

Nude Films Menace to Morals or Harmless Entertainment?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Is the flood of nude movies out of Hollywood a menace to morals?

Or are the films a harmless result of a more broad-minded view of sex in America?

The nudies face formidable opposition from civic officials, a w. officers, club women, churchmen, veterans' groups.

Says the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Devlin, a director of the Catholic Legion of Decency: "The Legion has always condemned nudity in films as indecent and suggestive."

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors has named a committee of film, civic, church and newspaper leaders to seek means to stamp out "junk films."

The chairman, Y. Frank Freeman, admitted he doesn't know what means can be used.

"If this means censorship, I'll fight that," said the industry veteran.

FOUGHT CENSORSHIP
The film industry fought censorship for years and won, thanks to a series of Supreme Court decisions. That's a what deprived law officers of the power to halt the nude films.

Attorney Stanley Fleischman, who has defended films on obscenity charges before the Supreme Court and in several states, argues that freedom of the screen is necessary "to protect what the majority doesn't like."

He added: "It is clear to me that nudity on the screen does no harm. Unreasonable repression."

harmful. These films provide an epidermis, but they were held in outlet. They are mere entertainment, and you can be bored or amused according to your tastes."

Peter DeCenzies, who has produced three nudies, agreed: "They were made for entertainment—adult entertainment. They are not fighting for their lives nowadays, and we've kept a lot of them open."

NOT OBSCENE
Ted Parmore, another nude filmmaker, argued: "Court decisions have proved that nudity per se is not obscene. 'Not Tonight, Henry' is doing business because it is good hokey humor, the kind that people used to get from Ma and Pa Kettle. The nudies are only window-dressing."

Nudity in films is nothing new. Hollywood doubled in it during the '20s until Will Hays was imported to give the industry a much-needed moral tone. Film makers like Cecil B. De Mille and Howard Hughes still tried to display as much as possible of female check by the production code. Shoestring producers have no such restrictions. They have been filming bare babies by the dozens

THE nudies so far have been largely of a comic and peeping-tom nature, rather than erotic. But other films are reportedly being made that deal with sex as well as nudity. They are likely to bring a brand new storm to Hollywood's nude wave.

Study-as-You-Go Method Is Better

By LESLIE J. NABON, E.D.
 Professor of Education,
 University of Southern California

There are two ways to carry on with any course of study. One of these is to postpone study until just before examinations. The other is the study-as-you-go method. The pay-as-you-prospect method has made income tax paying less painful. And the study-as-you-go plan will make study more efficient and much more enjoyable.

First let's examine some of the evils of the put-off-and-cram system:

1. All arguments to the contrary, the cram system of studying ultimately is more time consuming. This is because the total effort necessary to attain a grasp of a subject at a single, prolonged session is much greater than the effort expended in a series of shorter sessions.
2. Class periods are not efficiently used. Taking notes while paying little attention to what you're writing produces no learning.
3. Underlining a vast amount of material in the text distracts from your comprehension of what you are reading. This merely postpones learning which could be better done on the spot.
4. Crumming sessions are mostly uninteresting sessions. So little organization of knowledge takes place that students who use this system often change their majors every two or three semesters to avoid advanced courses. They know their knowledge is not sufficiently well organized to continue study in this field.

POSITIVE APPROACH

Instead of crumming, which is nothing more or less than pushing the scholastic panic button from three to a half-dozen times a year, let us take a more positive approach to learning.

How can we study efficiently? What is systematic study?

1. Systematic study starts with preparation for the final examination early in the semester. Start right out trying to work the new knowledge into a general pattern.
2. Keep struggling with your organization of the subject matter. Periodic summation of the overall plan of the course tends to help refine your thinking about the course. Keep in mind throughout the semester that organized knowledge through its very organization acts as a memory system.

3. An over-all pattern provides an outline for the final review which relieves the student of the worry that he may have neglected to study some major element. You can tell when your review is complete.

THREE-WAY PAYOFF

Rewards from this pattern of study will be generous: The fact that you know more about the course from the very start will make the classes and the course more interesting and therefore more enjoyable.

You will go through the semester with a feeling of adequacy and well being instead of with a kind of guilt feeling fed by apprehensions associated with the wait-and-cram system.

On that night before examination day you can spend a little time pleasantly polishing the ore of knowledge instead of just beginning the long dig for it. You'll sleep better, too.

(Write Dr. Nabon in care of The Pontiac Press. If he cannot reply individually, he will cover in his articles questions of most general interest.)

Organic Vs. Inorganic Which Fertilizer Better?

By EARL ARONSON

We didn't intend to get into the argument about whether organic or inorganic fertilizers are better. We use both with satisfactory results. And each has much to recommend it.

First we should define both varieties. Generally, organic fertilizers are those with an animal or vegetable background. Examples include manure, compost and even limestone.

Inorganic fertilizers are the chemical compounds so common in garden supply stores. They were developed specifically to spur plant growth. Included are ammonium nitrate and superphosphate.

Gardeners who prefer organic types believe that natural materials are best; that they maintain the balance of nature.

Here are some views of those who favor organic fertilizers:

They are less expensive, often free, as in the case of the backyard compost heap. They last longer if mixed well into the soil and thoroughly watered.

They help build the soil and make the ground easier to work. They are less dangerous to plant life because it takes an extremely heavy application close by to burn vegetation.

They are more complete because they contain a little of many needed growth stimulants. They are versatile enough to benefit virtually all plants.

Those who favor chemical fertilizers say:

They work faster. The nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium content is almost always higher than that of an equal weight of organics. You can apply just as much as you want of a specific substance, such as nitrogen, without bothering with other things. They are more convenient and cleaner to handle, apply and store.

Transplant House Plants Into Winter Containers

Many of those house plants you plunked outdoors in clay pots for a summer vacation may have thrived enough to need repotting before you move them indoors for fall and winter enjoyment. They're easy to remove from clay pots into larger clay containers without damage to root structure because clay naturally preserves proper root health.

Place one hand across the top of the clay pot, with plant stem between your fingers. Turn the pot upside down and rap its edge briskly against a wooden table or bench. Both plant and an intact, thriving root ball will drop from the pot.

Don't Let Ground Cover Smother Tree Roots

Aggressive ground-cover plants can cause serious damage to your young trees by "smothering" their roots. Careful gardeners protect their trees by building frames around the trunks and around the foot or more into the ground. Decay-resistant lumber is one of the most popular materials for this use. A thick mulch of crushed rock or peat moss is used to keep out weeds. Year-round beauty can be added to the frame by capping it around the top with six-inch boards faced with a colorful weather-resistant material like ceramic tile.

If You Want Help, Send Tree Doctor All the Facts

Even the most knowing tree doctor needs more than just a sample twig or leaf to tell you what's wrong with an ailing tree, without seeing the patient.

Henry W. Gilbertson, pathologist of the Davey Tree Expert Co., says most home owners send in either insufficient information or the wrong kind to complicate an already difficult task of appraisal. If you write to your expert station or arborist, you're more likely to get a prompt and accurate diagnosis by sending along data covering five critical points.

1. Description of entire tree and its surroundings. Note such things as soil fill, type of soil — sandy, heavy clay or intermediate — pot drainage and similar factors. Attach this information to your specimen.

2. Kind of tree — and be specific about this. Don't just refer to an oak or maple. State whether it is a red or white oak, or a sugar or silver maple.

3. Collect twig or branch specimens from the crown portion showing the disease symptoms. And do not send in dead, dried out specimens — they are worthless.

4. If possible, collect specimens that show a junction of dead and living wood. Frequently, the insect that caused the branch to die or the fungus that caused the leaves to wilt, can be found at these junction points.

5. Send in as much past history of the tree as possible. Key to many tree problems is found in something that happened to the tree or its environment in the past. Careless use of weed killers, for instance, often is the cause of tree disasters.

In sending specimen material, place it in a polyethylene freezer bag and seal tightly. Do not put water in bag before sealing. Bags can be bought at most supermarkets.

Don't Neglect Fall Spraying

Fall spraying is a must to control the population explosion of at least two kinds of scale insects. Magnolia scale and euonymus scale are scourges of the home grounds — a kind of double trouble because they hatch out in two generations. They are best attacked in the crawler stage — in early spring for the first generation and late summer or early fall for the second.

The delicate magnolia tree, renowned for its exquisite blossoms, is sometimes maimed beyond repair by the sap-sucking scale insects. Fortunately, a malathion spray applied in late September provides an effective control. One precaution: apply only on a fairly warm day.

The magnolia scale is easy to detect. The female is large and round and so white it appears dusted with flour. However, spraying is best after the females have shed or have dropped from the tree.

Euonymus scale attacks the lush ground covers vital in many landscaping plans. The euonymus family covers a wide range of valuable vine and shrub varieties, so susceptible to scale population surges it is often necessary to cut the plants to the ground. Pachysandra and hollyhock are also victims.

Young of the second brood of euonymus scale appear the latter part of August and early September. Control is usually had via a single spray application of a combination of DDT and malathion. There is much needless home grounds damage, however, because work-out gardeners too often ignore the infestations.

PROWLING WOLVES — Veteran head coach Elmer Engel watches closely as his Bay City Central backfield starts running a play. Quarterback Bob Schaffer prepares to hand the ball off to halfback Don Randall while fullback Dennis Geno (1) and halfback Bob Linton (2) begin their blocking assignments. The highly-ranked Wolves clash with Pontiac Central here tonight in a Saginaw Valley Conference football game at Wisner Stadium. Kickoff time is 8 p.m.

PCH Meets Wolves Here Tonight

Bay City Boasts Power, Defense

By BILL CORNWELL
Pontiac Central's scouting report on Bay City Central says something like this: "This Bay City squad is typical of the kind that Elmer Engel always puts together. It possesses power, great defense and a balanced attack."

With that analysis offered as a distinct challenge to the PCH coaching staff, the Chiefs were working hard this week in preparation for their first home opener against Bay City tonight at Wisner Stadium at 8 o'clock.

The Chiefs of coach Paul Dellerba are definite underdogs this year in Saginaw Valley Conference competition under the lights at Wisner, but they're used to that role by now.

They also were underdogs two years ago when the Wolfpack paid them a visit and the Chiefs rose up and smacked them down, 12-7, to post a stunning upset triumph.

Bay City retained a year ago as its home grounds by winning PCH, 34-13. Now the Chiefs get another crack at them on Wisner turf.

Engel may have one of his greatest clubs this year and the veteran Bay City monster has coached several times he took the head job there in 1958.

Engel's 11-year record at Bay City is rather phenomenal to say the least. Going into the 1961 season, Engel-coached Wolfpack have won 77 games while losing only 19 and tying 3.

The Wolves opened their new season last Friday at Bay City with a 36-0 rout of Saginaw High in a Valley engagement.

Apparently the Wolves have all the ingredients for another outstanding season. Rated fifth this week in the AP's first class A.

The sparkplug of the Wolves backfield is senior fullback Dennis Geno, a quick-starting 160-pounder who scored four touchdowns against Saginaw. Halfbacks Bob Linton and Don Randall are strong runners and they're supported by catcher Johnny Smith, cousin of Naimon, and Midland transfer Tim Maxwell.

Pointa's hopes for another upset of the Wolves received a severe jolt yesterday when Dellerba revealed that quarterback P.O. Pomeroy may see limited action this evening.

Pomeroy has been plagued by a pulled left ankle all week long and Dellerba said his status tonight was questionable. If Pomeroy is sidelined, quarterback

Jerry Steelsmith Hits 65 for Portland Open Lead

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Three of professional golf's youngest touring players were the center of attention today as the 72-hole Portland Open moved into its second round at the Columbia Edgewater Country Club.

Jerry Steelsmith, was the leader, with a 65-67 score, 132, on the opening round of the opening round after a week of rainy weather.

Just a stroke behind were Dave Hill and Tommy Aaron. Hill, the Denver Open champion, and Aaron, a former University of Florida player, are both 24. Steelsmith, a friendly, slender redhead on his first pro tour, is 25.

Billy Casper, who won this tournament in both 1959 and 1960, was three strokes behind the leader, with a two-under-par 34 on each nine, for a 68.

Hill had matching 33s, and Aaron had 34-32. Steelsmith had birdies on six of the last nine holes to come home with a 30, the day's best nine-hole score.

After today's round, the 121-man field will be cut to the low 10 pros and 10 amateurs. The same amateurs and 60 pros will play in Sunday's final round.

Northern Michigan gridirers are 1-2 in scoring in the NAIA's opening football statistical summary of the season. Junior Wayne Siskler has scored 29 points while senior Eugene Vaisanen hits 24 points.

Pennant-Hungry Reds Play Host to Giants

By The Associated Press
The Cincinnati Reds, their first National League pennant in 21 years almost within grasp, take on the San Francisco Giants tonight at Crosley Field while their fading rivals, the Los Angeles Dodgers, journey to St. Louis to do battle with the Cardinals.

The key number is four. Any combination of Cincinnati victories or Los Angeles defeats makes it all the more certain that the Reds' record is 90-57, 612, and the Dodgers 84-61, 579, or five full games to the rear.

The Dodgers will be the road from now to the end of the season and have a much busier time. It will be played at St. Louis and then the Pirates will be met at Pittsburgh Sept. 25 and 26, the Phillies at Philadelphia Sept. 27 and 28, and the Cubs at Chicago Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

This flurry of action by the Dodgers while the Reds pursue a steady pace comes from the fact Cincinnati has played two more games so far this season. The Reds' record is 90-57, 612, and the Dodgers 84-61, 579, or five full games to the rear.

Lary 'Best' in AL; Detroit Eyes Banks

LOS ANGELES — The best pitcher in the American League, Bob Schefling, will tell you it's not Whitey Ford or Lefty Grove. But attention will be focused on Lary, Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito.

Lary is the best pitcher in the league far and away the best. Schefling has said repeatedly since the season opened and his right hander pitched a one-hitter in his first start.

The statistical evidence documents Schefling's remarks.

Lary will go for victory No. 28 tonight as the Tigers open a three-game series here tonight against the Los Angeles Angels.

Only Ford, with 24, has more than the veteran Detroit hurler. But Ford has failed to finish about half his starts, requiring help from relief ace Arroyo. Lary has 21 complete games, tops in the majors, and he's been pitching with an arm that gives him twinges of pain since mid-season.

The Tigers arrived here with their big left pushed along by trade winds. There were reports Detroit would try to get Ernie Banks from the Chicago Cubs when the league trading season starts in November.

Banks long has been one of the National League's top home run hitters and was one of Schefling's favorites in the three years he managed the Cubs.

While Ernie Fernandez has given the Tigers adequate short-stopping this season, Schefling feels Banks — "It can be had — would make them into strong, or pennant contenders in 1962. That is if the Tigers don't have to work their club to get him."

Schefling is quite satisfied with the nucleus of the current Tigers, many of whom are having their finest seasons.

The quest for individual achievement and Berry Morrall has Gail Cog, right fielder, Jim Gibbons and Hopalong Cassidy.

Again, it will be the Lions' defensive unit which will be given the alien test. Moore and Joe Perry, whom the Colts obtained from San Francisco, make Baltimore more potent on the ground. Perry gained 108 yards himself in the opener as the Colts defeated Los Angeles, 27-24.

Units was shackled with 10 complete games in 22 throws last week but Perry supplied the second ball punch needed to win. The Rams led 24-10 in the second quarter and in the second half the Colts defense stopped Los Angeles cold.

The Lions go into the game in good physical condition. There were no injuries sustained in the Green Bay game. Kickoff is at 1:00 Detroit time and the game will be televised.

Boston Arena Next Stop for Roger in His Bid to Hit 60th Homer

By The Associated Press
Roger Maris' date with destiny is at least a day away.

The New York Yankees' slugger, now shy of matching Babe Ruth's record 60 home runs total of 1957, failed to get the elusive commodity Thursday night as the American League champions left Baltimore under the 154-decision limit set by Commissioner Ford Frick, with seven games in which to match or surpass the Babe on the AL's expanded 162-game program.

The Yankees, like today, move into Boston next for a two-game set Saturday and Sunday, then return home for a pair with the Orioles and a winner-take-all series with the Red Sox.

"I intend to play every game the rest of the season," Jimmie Marts, who hit No. 59 at Baltimore Wednesday night and became the first player in major league history to come that close to Ruth's record.

"I still want to get 60 and 61. Record or not, I want to hit more than Ruth did. It's more than anyone else has. As far as I'm concerned it will be a record."

He didn't get anywhere with Jack Fisher, who brought his record down when he struck out. Maris struck out in the first, hit a home fly to right center in the fourth, grounded out in the seventh and flied to right in the eighth.

Fisher, meanwhile, kept the Yankees using mostly reserves away from the plate except in the eighth when they scored an unearned run, and in the eighth when they came up with two unearned rallies as Bob Lisle pitched a bases-loaded error and Tony Kubek batted a run-out pinch-hit homer.

The Orioles had snuffed a 1-1 tie in the seventh with a four-run inning, against Bill Steiger (13-8), who had allowed but four hits through six innings.

Ken Truckee and off with a walk before Russ Snyder, who was 4-for-4, hit his first home run of the year for a 3-1 Baltimore lead. Russ Hansen singled, moved up on a sacrifice bunt and scored. Brock Robinson's single, May Breeding hit into a force out, alone scored and came around on Jackie Robinson's sacrifice bunt.

The only other AL game, Minnesota beat Washington 6-3 with an 11-hit attack featuring a triple by Harmon Killebrew and homers by Bob Allison and Joe Altobelli. Jack Kratich (10-10) getting the loss.

There will be no games scheduled in the National League.

Ex-Chief Brown State Defense Ace

KANT LANNING (UPI) — A pair of sophomore linebacks, Dan Underwood of Dowagiac and Charley Brown of Pontiac, appeared to have clinched positions for the 1962 season as the Michigan State University after a tough workout yesterday.

Both were high school all-stars in 1960.

Underwood is a 195-pound guard and Brown, who weighs 180, also plays the guard spot. Both are quick and hard hitting to offset any lack of size.

MIU Coach Duffy Daugherty had his top units hanging heads unceremoniously in a two-hour scrimmage aimed at producing top conditioning for the last intersquad scrimmage of the pre-season practice session Saturday.

The Spartans are up against Wisconsin Sept. 20 and much of the scrimmage yesterday was devoted to running Badger plays.

Cincinnati has Bob Purkey (16-1) ready to send against San Francisco's Billy O'Dell (5-5). The honor of being chosen to oppose the New York Yankees in the World Series might be finalized this weekend.

Fifteen two-man teams, headed by top riders from Europe and North and South America, start the long journey to nowhere at 3 p.m. EST. They'll keep going round-and-round until 10 p.m. EST Thursday. The team that covers the most distance on the wooden suzer will be the winner.

Wings Blank Bruins, 3-0; Johnson Gets 2

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (UPI)—The Detroit Red Wings, with the big guy, Gordie Howe, slandering home one of the goals, blanked the Boston Bruins, 3-0, last night in a National Hockey League exhibition.

Allan Johnson slammed in the other two Detroit goals, unassisted in the second period and with help from Norm Ullman and Bill Gadsby in the third period.

Howe's solo shot whizzed past goalie Roger Mason, then headed midway in the first period.

Terry Sawchuk worked the first two periods in the nets for Detroit and had 15 saves. Detroit's goalie, who had completed the shutout with 10 stops for the Red Wings.

ANN ARBOR — Michigan football players will take part in a secret, full-dress scrimmage Saturday at Michigan Stadium.

Rosewall defeated Pancho Segura of Ecuador, 6-4, 6-4 and Hewitt downed Pancho Gonzalez of Los Angeles 6-4, 13-11, 6-3, in a struggle lasting 2 hours, 32 minutes.

After the battle, a decision by the tournament's directors confirmed his desire to retire from big time pro tennis.

"One hundred thousand dollars would not change my mind about retiring," Gonzalez said.

Southern Cal, Tech Battle Tonight

By The Associated Press
Georgia Tech and Southern California, according to most college "football experts," start the weekend's college football activity tonight in that old baseball park, the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The baseball Dodgers have gone Eastward searching for a National League pennant, grumbling that they never should have stayed four years in a football stadium.

Whether Georgia Tech will feel that 60 minutes is too long tonight depends on how far junior quarterback Stan Gann has come after a 20-0 sophomore season that torpedoes his big buildup. The Trojans, uncertain in the line after losing the McNeely brothers, Mike and Marlin, and gigantic tackle Don Ficus, have a bevy of halfbacks that present an improved running game. But their passing offense is still untested.

Elsewhere tonight, Detroit opens its season against Western Michigan, University of the Pacific plays speedy San Jose State, and a winner last week against Brigham Young, Louisville meets Eastern Kentucky and Chattanooga plays Tennessee Tech.

Georgia Tech for a change, has been relegated to the lower reaches of the Southeastern Conference. But this could disappear if Gann, who has shown courage and daring under fire, comes of age. He'll have help from halfbacks Bill Williamson and Chick Grant, plus a solid middle of the line.

Southern Cal, with 23 letters back, may be stronger at tackle according to Coach John McKay, and will get good mileage from halfbacks Jim Bates and Alan Shields.

There is a strong international flavor on Saturday's card as the season begins to pick up steam. However, Iowa and Ohio State, ranked 1-2 in the Associated Press' pre-season poll won't begin until next weekend, nor will Michigan State (No. 5) another Big Ten power.

Third-ranked Alabama will see how strong its souped-up offense is in an SEC battle against Georgia, under Coach John Griffith for the first time. Texas, ranked fourth and a co-favorite with Rice's Owls for the South-west crown, is on the West Coast against weak California.

The Owls have their work cut out for them against defensive giant Louisiana State (No. 5), in a night game. Another SWC team, Texas Christian, wishes it had LSU's defense to fall back on when it takes on John Hadl and Co. in the presence of Kansas' Big Eight Jayhawks at night in Ft. Worth.

The East's top game pits seventh-ranked Penn State against Navy, which is minus its All-American Joe Bellino, and has only two starters back from its Orange Bowl team, Syracuse. (No. 10) another Eastern power, pits All-American back Ernie Davis against Oregon State and its great performer, Terry Baker, on the West Coast.

The day's television game is the opener of a day-night "doubleheader" in Jackson, Miss. There, Mississippi, last year's SEC titlist, plays the 1960 SWC winner, Arkansas (ABC-TV, 3:15 p.m. EST) while at night Texas Tech meets Mississippi State.

A few conference battles are on tap as openers. Duke opens defense of its Atlantic Coast Conference crown at night against South Carolina, Oklahoma State and Iowa State meet in a Big Eight game while Montana and Utah State play a Skyline conference game.

Virginia, which has lost 28 in a row since 1958, tries to snap the string under new coach Bill Elias against William & Mary, while the current winning string, 16 in a row, by New Mexico State gets its second test of the year, against New Mexico.

Rasslers in Walled Lake

St. William's Men's Club is sponsoring a wrestling show Saturday night at Walled Lake High School.

The show will feature a midweight match on the card. Cry Baby McArthur meets Wesley Davis. Joe Smith against Johnny Dynamite Gates. Louis Klein against Count Walcott and the Kid wind up the night.

Starting time is 8 p.m.

City Employees Tourney

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor the first annual City Employees golf tournament to be held on Saturday, Sept. 23, at Pontiac Municipal golf course. Entry fee is $5. All entries must be submitted by Thursday, Sept. 21. City commissioners also are eligible to play in the tourney. For more information, call Municipal, FE 5-1782.

Boxer Quits Fight Charging Butting

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—Light-heavyweight Tom Hudson of Clairton, Pa., walked out of the scheduled eight-round bout. He claimed that Gerarde was butting him and that referee Art McGovern was doing nothing about it.

Paul Sullivan, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission at ringside, immediately suspended Hudson and ordered his purse held up.

Gerarde weighed 174 and Hudson 169.

DRIVING FINISH — Way Wave (2) on the inside rail and Henry T. Adios put on a driving finish in the second division of the Little Brown
Jug race at Delaware, Ohio, Thursday. Way

Wave, driven by Ray Baldwin, won by a neck and became the fourth filly to win a heat in the Brown Jug in 16 years. Henry T. Adios won the third division and was declared the Jug winner.

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — A victim's share was the fourth smallest ever paid in the classic event over Delaware County Fairground's half-mile oval.

Stanley Dancer, 34-year-old driver who has been inhabiting saddles since he was 14, piloted
Henry T. to his conquest.

The champ puffed the sulky as if he didn't know anyone was aboard —and maybe, except for the expert guiding hand, he didn't.
Dancer stands only 5-foot-7 and weighs 130.

This city has become the control center for a campaign aimed at stripping the Amateur Athletic Union of its broad powers of juisdiction over virtually all noncollegiate track and field competition in the United States.

The National Collegiate Track Coaches Association, with officers they suspect on opposition to a response to a lengthy questionnaire concerning AAU conduct of track and field.

"I ask them further to express their support or opposition to the proposed U. S. federation of track coaches to replace the AAU as a sanctioning body."

The questionnaire is the first phase of what could become a full-scale revolt against the AAU, whose policies for handling domestic competition and selecting athletes and coaches for foreign events have been sharply criticized for several years.

Another campaign, aimed at ending AAU control of amateur basketball, is expected to begin soon on the West Coast. The AAU also has sanctioning powers in swimming and several other sports.

The NCTCA charges the AAU with being a "monopoly," and with having "careless, sometimes arrogant disregard" for protocol in its handling of events involving foreign countries and visiting.

The questionnaire was approved by the NCTCA's 13-member executive committee several weeks ago.

At the same time, the committee urged that the proposal to create a new federation to replace the AAU as track and field governing body be marked for presentation at the NCTCA convention in January.

"But I personally feel the response will be overwhelmingly in favor of the new body to replace the AAU."

NCTCA officials say many of the nation's top track stars have sided with them against continued AAU control of track and field competition. Many have signed statements of support.

TV Sports Bill Awaits Signature of the President

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to permit professional sports leagues to sign exclusive contracts with networks for telecasting of games between members awaits President Kennedy's signature today.

The measure passed by a voice vote in the Senate Thursday night is aimed at providing relief for the National Football League. It also applies to the American Football League and professional baseball, basketball and hockey.
The House has passed the bill Monday.

The legislation exempts contracts by professional sports leagues from the antitrust laws.
A Federal Court in Philadelphia ruled earlier this year that a
NFL contract with the Columbia Broadcasting System TV network for exclusive telecasting of NFL games violated the antitrust laws.

What has happened to the foot when it comes to converting extra points in high school football?

Few teams in the Oakland County area, including the Class A schools, employ the kick from placement when it comes to trying for the point after touchdown. Last week's opening contests were good examples of the foot being removed in favor of running or passing plays.

In almost 75 per cent of the games, a kick wasn't attempted. In at least two other games, failure after the first TD meant a running try for the point.

"We have 35 boys on the squad," said one area mentor, "and not one of them can place kick. We have trouble finding someone who can boot the ball to the opposing team's 30-yard line on kickoffs."

Larry Riley, Watford Lake tackle, upheld the kicker's end by booting four of five through the uprights against Redford Union.

Many coaches call a kick attempt after the first TD, but if something goes wrong, they seem to lose confidence in the player's ability to kick. A high school player has a tendency to look up just as his foot is about to meet the ball. This usually is fatal.

The All-Oakland County cross country meet will be run over the Multi-Lakes Conservation Club course Sept. 30.

The meet was moved up to allow county schools to compete in other big meets later in the fall. One of the events will be the 14th annual Dale R. Sprankle Albion College Invitational on Oct. 14. Over 500 high school runners will compete in this event.

Transfers hurt St. Fredrick's football chances this fall more than graduation.

Coches Tom Kennedy reports that six players who would have started for the Rams are now at different schools. Three are at Watford.
Our Lady of the Lakes and one each at Pontiac Northern, Bloomfield Hills and Orionville.

DEFENSIVE STARS
Bob Porritt, sophomore quarterback from Clarkson, was one of the defensive stars in the Britons' opening game victory over Eastern Michigan.

Porritt and senior halfback Bob Smith of Groves, was one of five Huron passes being picked off. The Oakland County gridders are No. 2 quarterback on offense.

Brick Fowler, veteran coach and athletic director at Port Huron High, was honored by that city with a testimonial dinner Thursday night.

Fowler has been directing Big Red athletes for many years.

Second at Flint

Northern Team Downed

Jays, Barons Win

Pontiac Central opened its cross country season Thursday by placing second at Flint Southern League in a triangular meet at Flint.

Art Fowles of the Chiefs was second to Southwestern's Tom Florida who covered the two-mile course in 16:44. The Colts scored 33 points to 45 for PCH and 51 for Bay City Central.

Wilbert Preston of PCH placed third.

Walled Lake, PCH's main opponent, was defeated by Southfield, 23-32. Ed Davis of the host Blue Jays won in 11:01. Chuck Smith of Walled Lake was second.

Waterford tripped Pontiac Northern, 26-30.

Todd Twichell of PNH won the meet with a 11:20 clocking. Dick Foles and Dan Hutchinson, both of Waterford, trailed Twichell across the finish line.

Orchard Lake St. Mary tripped
Oak Park, 25-32, as Les Gaskobell placed first with a time of 11:28.
Paul Yelenyuk of Oak Park was second to the Eaglet runner.

Robert R. (Bob) Smith was first and Tom Hoppegrader second at Bloomfield Hills swept past Clarkson, 21-37. The winning time was 10:17 over a course shorter than the normal two miles.

Priest Does Preaching With His Guitar

OTTAWA, Ontario (AP) — "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord," says the Psalm—and Father Bernard de Brienne does just that.

The guitar-trumming, singing friar from Quebec Province "serves the Lord with gladness" through self-composed, catchy airs on a religious theme that talk to the teenage crowd in their own language.

He has appeared twice on the Montreal Hit Parade, and his sales of records in parts of Quebec top those of other "pop" artists. He is a member of the musical union. The profits on his records go to an education fund for priests and for charity.

The priest, 35, is a member of the order of St. Francis of Assisi.

"St. Francis was called God's troubador in his day," says Father Bernard, inspired by the life of the saint.

ALSO SCULPTOR, PAINTER
Father Bernard plays all string instruments and has a wide musical range. He is also a sculptor and painter and has designed jackets for his own records.

He turned to a contemporary musical idiom as the most practical way of delivering his religious message. The bouncy beat appreciated by teen-agers suits the simplicity of his lyrics in their identification of the Deity with everyday life.

"Preaching appeals to reason—but man is not only mind but body and soul," he said. "If people see a happy man it has a stronger appeal. People should also teach with something they like."

"EXPRESSION OF JOY"
He says his songs, 400 in French and 100 in English, are born the same way as folk songs.

"They are an expression of joys and sorrows and are religious because my way of looking at things is religious."

Father Bernard was born in Montreal of parents who emigrated from France. He entered the Franciscan order at 20.

During his training at university he happened on a story of the life of St. Francis, which decided his future. He also worked briefly in Boston as a dress designer, something he once intended as his life work.

CONDUCTED SWING BAND
He conducted a swing orchestra in college days, and later performed with classical groups. After entering religious orders he obtained his degree from the University of Montreal, and graduated from the Montreal Conservatory of Music and the Montreal Beaux Arts School.

His musical switch to pops happened spontaneously while he was ministering to 200 young workers at Sherbrooke. Knowing of his musical ability, they urged him to perform. But they said they couldn't understand "long-hair stuff," so he mastered the guitar and at the same time discovered another musical gift—his voice.

He's been in demand as a performer ever since.

Committee Asks Con-Con Action

Intermediate Court of Appeals Urged

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's present court system should be revised to include an intermediate court of appeals in the judicial structure, a citizens advisory committee has recommended.

In a report to Gov. Swainson, the committee submitted a proposed new judicial article for the state constitution. The proposal will be presented to the delegates to the forthcoming constitutional convention.

The committee also recommended that probate courts, justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners be eliminated from constitutional status, leaving them to continue in operation as legislative courts.

Retention of the present system of nomination and election of judges at all levels also was urged. The committee said it had considered and rejected proposals that judges be appointed by a select committee of lawyers.

Proponents of the plan had argued that it would remove the judiciary from politics. But the committee observed:

"In reality it means that open political consideration of judges by the public will be supplanted by political consideration of the judicial nominations by a few men in wholly private meetings."

The committee said the present system of election of judges has two strong points:

— It is practically impossible for a candidate to run a competent campaign on a statewide level without some party affiliation or aid in the form of money or campaign machinery.

— The supreme court and the appellate court are policy-making courts in many respects, and with

Woman Faces Kidnap Charge

Decatur Wife, Mother Picked Up Child, Then Released Him

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Margie Craft, 35, a farmwife and the mother of two sons, was held today on a charge of kidnaping a 7-year-old boy and demanding $15,000 for his release.

The boy, Tom Hoff, was released unharmed two hours after he was taken from a Dowagiac school on a ruse Thursday. Two hours later Mrs. Craft was arrested as she approached the release scene.

Sheriff Richard Dool said Mrs. Craft admitted the kidnaping and said she carried it out in hopes of raising funds to pay doctor bills for her cancer-ridden husband, Karl, and "get him off the farm" where they live outside Decatur.

"It was a financial situation," Dool said. "She picked the name of a lawyer James Hoff from the telephone book, then posed as a school census taker to get the boy's name, his school and home-room."

Authorities at the school said a woman, identifying herself as young Hoff's mother, called shortly after 1 p.m. saying she had forgotten a dental appointment for Tom and was sending a friend to pick him up.

Young Tom went outside and got into a car that drove up. His father then got a call from a woman who said she had his son and wanted $15,000 ransom. Police were called.

Shortly thereafter, a State Police cruiser spotted a boy standing at a country service station. It was Tom Hoff. The boy said he had been left there by a woman.

A few minutes later, two cruising sheriffs' deputies saw Mrs. Craft's car approaching the service station and forced her off the road.

Profit Taking Sends Oats, Rye Into Spin

CHICAGO — Profit taking weakened oats and rye futures in initial dealings on the board of trade, but other grains and soybeans were steady to firm.

W. Germany Marks Time During Lame-Duck Period

BY PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
BONN, West Germany (UPI) — Until the middle of next month Germany will be ruled by a lame-duck government capable only of house-cleaning. After that, answers must be sought to some long delayed problems.

The more pressing the Berlin crisis becomes, the more pressing these problems will become.

As of now, the hottest is that the federal republic's next chancellor will be Ludwig Erhard, whose economic genius is credited with Germany's present prosperity, but who is no politician.

After that the name most prominently mentioned is that of Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss.

STRAUSS IS THE MAN

Strauss is the man who has built the West German wehrmacht into the most powerful army in Western Europe and who is regarded as one of the most astute politicians in the Christian Democratic party.

Strauss is one of the few present cabinet ministers who ever dared talk back to the old man, and is regarded as a good possibility for foreign minister in the new lineup.

Now to some of his problems: West Germany's immediate problems arise from the new Soviet pressure on Berlin and Khrushchev's announced intention to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

There remains areas of negotiations.

stepped up conscription and a longer term of service.

The long-range problem springs from the fact that West Germany is aligned firmly with the west both militarily through NATO, and economically through its membership in the West European Common Market.

In the same way, East Germany is tied just as firmly to the Soviet Union.

AREAS OF NEGOTIATIONS

But there remains areas of negotiations.

West Germans as a whole appear resigned to many years of division between East and West even though no West German politician yet has dared to say so.

So the West could live with a separate Soviet treaty with East Germany even while not recognizing it.

The chief problem is the West's free access to Berlin.

Between the East and West zones are strong economic ties which require open communications. The same principle could be a decisive bargaining point when applied to Berlin.

The Adenauer government tentative, but never decisive steps toward an accommodation with Poland over the lost Oder-Neisse territories.

It seems probable the mood of the new government will be more positive.

Peaceful settlement of the problem would go a long way toward cutting the ground from under the Soviet picture of a revenge-seeking Germany.

The forested regions of Canada are exceeded in area only by the forest lands of the U.S. and Brazil.

Con-Con Loser Asks Field Trip (Expenses Paid)

LANSING (U) — At least one person feels no sacrifice is too great if it benefits the constitutional convention, Secretary of State James M. Hare has concluded.

Hare, as a member of the convention preparatory commission, reports he received a letter from a con-con follower pointing out that the last two constitutional conventions were held in Alaska and Hawaii.

The writer volunteered to make an expense-paid field trip to find out on the spot how the constitutions are working and he expressed a preference for Hawaii.

Hare said he replied that he thought it was up to the assembled convention to determine what investigations should be carried out.

The letter was received from a con-con delegate aspirant who lost in the primary, Hare said. Hare said he preferred to withhold the name "to save him a lot of kidding."

Aluminum is said to be among the most abundant of all metal elements found in the earth's crust.

Esther Drags Herself to Sea

Coastal Areas Prepare for Worst but Hurricane Changes Her Mind

By The Associated Press
Hurricane Esther, downgraded to a tropical storm, headed on out to sea today. Her center never touched the American mainland.

The Boston Weather Bureau Thursday night reported she was traveling northeasterly into the Atlantic with a center wind velocity of less than 70 miles per hour.

The Canadian maritime provinces, alerted for any big blow, were told to expect winds of only 40 m.p.h. and a fair amount of rainfall.

Esther inflicted much less damage than expected, and no deaths directly attributable to the storm were reported.

An alert along the entire Eastern Seaboard aided considerably.

WINDS BAD
Most of the damage was caused by high winds which blew down trees and power lines, by high coastal tides, and by flooding due to heavy rainfall.

On Long Island in the New York metropolitan area, electricity was cut off from more than 200,000 homes in Nassau and Suffolk counties. In Suffolk, at the eastern tip of the island, more than 10,000 telephones went dead, and schools were closed. Suffolk police estimated boat damages alone as a million dollars.

New England, remembering the devastating hurricane of 1938, girded for heavy damage. But Esther proved to be a when it appeared she would make her first landfall at Cape Cod.

Elsewhere, there was freezing and snowy weather in sections of the Western mountain region today — the last full day of the summer season. But fairly mild temperatures prevailed in most other parts of the nation.

The cool belt covered sections of the Northern Rockies, with temperatures in the 30s and 40s as far north as Chicago, Detroit and New York, with the 60s extending into New England.

Autumn starts officially at 1:43 a.m. EST Saturday.

Neither was approved before the Democrats came to power with Kennedy's election.

Sen. McNamara called a "lie" a charge of political fees that he made a deal recently with President Kennedy by which he withdrew his objection to the president's $8.8 billion foreign aid bill in order to get Feikens off the bench.

McNamara at one time opposed the bill. He was the only Democrat in the Senate to oppose it.

NATIONAL WEATHER—Generally fair weather is expected Friday night along the Atlantic coast with showers and thunderstorms likely over the Great Lakes. It will be warmer east of the Mississippi and in parts of the Northwest and cooler in the Northern Plains and lakes region.

NEW VALIANTS—The classic grille frame of the new Signet 200 and the new rear end treatment of the deck, fenders and tail-lights of the 200 sedan have put priority in these two views of the 1962 Valiants. Valiant models for '62 number seven including four-door sedans, two-door sedans and two-seat, four-door station wagons, in both the V100 and V200 series, and the new Signet, a two-door hardtop.

New Model Distinctly Styled

Valiant Signet Has Bucket Seats

Valiant Signet 200 makes its debut in 1962 reportedly as America's lowest priced hardtop with bucket seats.

Addition of the Valiant Signet 200 expands to seven the number of models Valiant will offer in the lowest-price compact class.

The sporty new hardtop, distinctive in styling inside and out, will be displayed in the showrooms of R. A. Motors Inc., 225 Oakland Ave., Sept. 25.

C. E. Briggs, vice president of Chrysler Corporation and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division, says the new model was designed "to make available at a realistic price the smart sports car interior combined with the popular silhouette of the hardtop."

Interiors of the 1962 Valiant are all new, featuring subdued colors in combinations tastefully matched. Completely new items include the instrument cluster, the steering wheel, door panel and seat designs, and the upholstery fabrics.

Although Valiant continues its 170-cubic-inch six as standard engine, the new Super 225 with an aluminum block is optional.

The reduced engine weight, some 45 pounds lighter than the standard engine with cast iron block, increases the car's acceleration ability beyond that due solely to the engine's higher displacement.

In addition to the new Valiant Signet 200, there are three Valiant models available in each of the V100 and V200 series. The four-door sedan, the two-door sedan, and the four-door, two-seat station wagon.

Chassis lubrication every 2,000 miles will be unnecessary with the 1962 Valiant. Ten points which required this periodic attention are now pre-lubricated and sealed at the factory.

Congressmen to Be 'On Call'

Kennedy Tells Leaders He Will Summon Them if Emergency Rises

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told leaders of both parties today he would contact them promptly if the international situation requires after Congress adjourns.

Republican and Democratic leaders of House and Senate said they would be available in the event of an emergency.

Leaders are aiming for adjournment of Congress Saturday night.

Kennedy called the leaders to breakfast at the White House just before departing on a trip that will take him to the United Nations for a speech on Monday.

Both Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Montana, and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, said there was general agreement that the leaders could be contacted within 24 hours. Dirksen added this would apply to all members of Congress except those abroad on assigned missions.

Dirksen told newsman Kennedy said he would be "quick to contact the leadership if a situation arises" which would require joint action or a special session of Congress.

Dirksen said that with the availability of Congress members assured, there was unanimous agreement that the House and Senate could adjourn rather than recess.

Dirksen and Mansfield both said they were quite confident adjournment could be reached Saturday.

"Or Sunday morning," Mansfield added.

INVITES TOP DEMS

Kennedy invited the top Democrats of both Senate and House to breakfast before taking off for his summer home at Hyannis Port on Cape Cod.

During the weekend at Hyannis Port, Kennedy will polish the speech he is to deliver to the United Nations General Assembly Monday day.

Argentinian's Channel Swim Makes History

DOVER, England (AP)—Antonio Abertondo, 42, an Argentinian, broke swimming history today. He became the first to swim the English Channel both ways nonstop from England to France and back.

The two-way feat by the chunky, 5-foot-4 swimmer was described as "fantastic." Many of us had believed it was not humanly possible. It said a spokesman for the Channel Swimming Association.

Abertondo started from the Shakespeare Cliff near Dover. He reached France in 18 hours, 50 minutes. He paused only a couple of minutes for a hot drink and to grease himself for the return trip.

When he stepped ashore at Hope Point on the English southern coast he broke into tears as holidaymakers and reporters swarmed a cheer. He had been in the water 41 hours, 5 minutes.

Parking Lot Feud Is Won by the City

speaking for the majority, said that only bond holders could bring suit in the case.

speaking for the dissenting minority, Justice Eugene Black said the suit presented a "grave" question that should be argued at a court trial.

City Attorney William A. Ewart claimed that sufficient parking area in downtown areas is "a major problem to business and a significant part of any downtown development program."

In view of the "urgent need," Ewart felt that it was illegal for taxpayers to challenge the use of general tax funds to pay for lots.

In 1956, contending that municipal lots would be unfair competition for his private lot, Stolorow filed a bitter, but unsuccessful fight to keep the city out of the parking lot business.

He forced a referendum election on the issue, but was defeated at the polls.

Asks Congress to Offer Reward in Dog's Death

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, D-N.Y., has asked Congress to offer a $50,000 reward for information leading to identification of any person or movement which might have been primarily responsible for the air crash death of Dag Hammarskjold.

Stratton introduced legislation Thursday which would have Congress authorize the reward. He said the United States would not lose sight of the possibility that the death of the United Nations secretary general might have been caused deliberately.

Judging From Observation

Parents Love Children Best When They're Children

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?

No parent who loves a child can ever quite forgive it for growing up.

In the next 10 years at least four major league hitters will better Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs in 154 games.

Women who are natural blondes are naturally better-natured than dyed blondes.

People who keep German shepherd dogs as pets are more likely to have hidden inferiority complexes than those who favor dachshunds.

The best possible wife for a man over 30 is an ex-nurse who also has worked for at least five years as an airline hostess.

MOST TROUBLESOME
The most troublesome wife is a former secretary who was strong enough in the office to boss her boss.

There are more good teen-agers in America today than ever before in our history.

The longer an invocation a minister makes, the less gratitude his audience feels toward heaven.

Anyone who gets only what he deserves out of life dies convinced he's been a victim of bad luck.

Our great unspoken quarrel with time is that it inflates our money—and deflates us.

A pretty woman who is near-sighted is more physically alluring to most men than a really lovely woman with 20-50 eyeght.

UNAPPRECIATIVE
Few men who buy modernistic art as a long-term investment appreciate the value or beauty of a free rainbow.

Beware a man whose fingernails are always neatly trimmed and whose shoes are always brightly polished.

It is also unwise to place trust in, or lend money to, a man who brags he never has had a quarrel with his wife—unless he is only two days returned from his honeymoon.

The odds are 1,000-to-1 you'll never make a lifelong friend of any stranger you find interesting at a cocktail party.

No woman who looks better in a $6,000 mink coat than she does in a $15 pair of slacks is entirely happy with her lot in life.

A movie star with true humility is as rare as a person with feathers.

EASIER RAISE
It is always easier to get a raise in salary from a boss who inherited his firm than from an ex-office boy who had to claw his way to the top.

The more sweets you ate as a kid, the more medicine you'll probably take as you grow older—for what is more medicine but the candy of age?

Those who have nothing to count but their calories really don't count in this world.

No career woman, however talented, can do as many different things ably as a successful housewife.

The most interesting shop talk is that of lawyers, doctors, cops and bank robbers. The dullest shop talk is that of bus drivers, lifeguards, professional table tennis players and flagpole sitters.

SECRETARY ANNOYED
Most millionaires who take you to lunch are secretly annoyed if you don't echo their menu choices and eat exactly what they do.

Making money when you're older is never quite as much fun as catching fireflies was when you were younger.

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

We didn't intend to get into the argument about whether organic or inorganic fertilizers are better. We use both with satisfactory results. And each has much to recommend it.

First we should define both varieties. Generally, organic fertilizers are those with an animal or vegetable background. Examples include manure, compost and even limestone.

Inorganic fertilizers are the chemical compounds so common in garden supply stores. They were developed specifically to spur plant growth. Included are ammonium nitrate and superphosphate.

Gardeners who prefer organic types believe that natural materials are best; that they maintain the balance of nature.

Here are some views of those who favor organic fertilizers: They are less expensive, often free, as in the case of the backyard compost heap. They last longer if mixed well into the soil and thoroughly watered.

They are more complete because they contain a little of many needed growth stimulants. They are versatile enough to benefit virtually all plants.

Those who favor chemical fertilizers say: They work faster. The nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium content is almost always higher than that of an equal weight of organics. You can apply just as much as you want of a specific substance, such as nitrogen, without bothering with other things. They are more convenient and cleaner to handle, apply and store.

Transplant House Plants Into Winter Containers

Many of those house plants you plunged outdoors in clay pots for a summer vacation may have thrived enough to need repotting before you move them indoors for fall and winter enjoyment. They're easy to remove from clay pots into larger clay containers without damage to root structure because clay naturally preserves proper root health.

Place one hand across the top of the clay pot, with plant stem between your fingers. Turn the pot upside down and rap its edge briskly against a wooden table or bench. Both plant and an intact, thriving root ball will drop from the pot.
