From Our News Wires

Michigan's incoming and outgoing governors took initial steps today toward the changeover of administrations in Lansing.

Gov.-Elect George Romney invited members of the State Administrative Board and members-elect of the Legislature to meet with him separately tomorrow.

Gov. John B. Swainson, in a move to aid the Republican administration that will succeed him on Jan. 1, offered to name a Romney nominee state controller.

The office, which manages state budget planning, will be vacant after Dec. 1 when the resignation of Ira Polley, a Democrat, takes effect.

Invitations to a breakfast meeting in Lansing were sent to T. John Lesinski, lieutenant governor; James Hare, secretary of state; Frank Kelley, attorney general; Sanford Brown, treasurer; and Billie Farnum, auditor general, all re-elected Tuesday.

Invitations also went to John Mackie, highway commissioner, and Lynn Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction. All are Democrats.

Most of the board members indicated definite plans to attend. Kelley, Farnum, Mackie and Hare said they would be there.

Brown said he would "try to attend, if I am in Lansing. I had planned to be out of the city but some other things have come up also which may keep me here and I will be at the meeting if I am here."

LESINSKI UNCERTAIN

Lesinski said he doubted whether he would be able to attend. "I have been postponing a number of business matters until after the election and am now trying to get them cleaned up so I can take a short vacation," he said.

World Mourns Mrs. Roosevelt

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

She Was Venerated by Common, Great

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tributes from the high and low of the world flowed into New York today at the news of the death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's widow, Eleanor.

Seldom in American history has the wife of a great political figure risen to the heights of Mrs. Roosevelt, and seldom have they been as well liked and respected.

The President of the United States shared his grief with the world.

"One of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene," said President Kennedy in a statement issued from the White House.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev expressed sadness at Mrs. Roosevelt's death in a cable to her family from Moscow.

"With a feeling of deep sadness, we learned of the death of your mother, Eleanor Roosevelt," he said.

A New York taxi driver, Richard A. Ebbitt of Brooklyn, said he had taken a picture of Mrs. Roosevelt four years ago when she rode in his taxi.

"She was a regular woman," he said. "I sent her the picture, and she signed it and returned it to me. She also sent a warm letter. She always had time for people."

Among political leaders, Republicans joined Democrats in hailing the woman who was the widow of a Democratic president and the niece of Republican President Theodore Roosevelt.

Former President Herbert Hoover, who was defeated by Mrs. Roosevelt's husband in 1932, described her as "a lady of fine courage and great devotion to her country."

FRAZER W. STAMAN

Fill Vacancy on Road Board

Ex-Novi Official Staman Gets Post

Former Novi Township Supervisor Frazer W. Staman was named a Oakland County Road Commissioner yesterday by the county board of supervisors.

Staman, 58, had resigned his township post to be eligible for the $10,000 position. His six-year term begins Jan. 1.

A vacancy has existed on the three-man commission since the July death of Road Commission chairman Hiland M. Thatcher. Staman also was nominated to fill the vacancy from Nov. 15 to Jan. 1, but the move failed.

One of five candidates for the post, Staman resigned as Novi Township supervisor Monday. He was selected by board members after four ballots.

Ralph A. Main, who Tuesday was elected to the post of county surveyor ran second in the balloting. Main's surveyor office was eliminated by county voters Tuesday.

UF Nears Goal, Only 2 Pct. Off

The Pontiac area United Fund drive is within 2 per cent of its goal.

The sudden spurt from a 65-per-cent position only this Monday is due largely to employes of Pontiac Motor Division.

They pledged $170,181.20 or 111 per cent of their quota, 1962 UF Chairman Fred V. Haggard announced today.

This gives the drive a total of $692,149 in receipts. The goal is $706,125.

"The Pontiac Motor employes' pledge is the largest they have made to the fund," said Industrial Division Chairman Ted Bloom today.

"Buell Starr, our UF plant Chairman and his campaign leaders deserve great credit for these outstanding results. It was through their efforts that over 12,300 employes participated."

Bloom said the Industrial Division has now raised $497,467 or 100 per cent of quota.

Bruce Annett, Commercial Division chairman, reported $147,641.73 or 77.5 per cent of his quota.

The chapter plans group, headed by C. F. Brown, has reached 80.9 per cent of its $115,919.50 goal with $93,830.67.

Jack Brannack and his small teams groups have collected $9,042.60 or 82.5 per cent of their $10,955.49 quota.

Dave Ewalt reported government units had turned in $9,099.25 or 51.1 per cent of their $17,804.70 goal.

Dr. Michael Kozonis, division vice chairman for the professional group, announced Professional II had reported 101.1 per cent of its goal, with $9,697.54 pledged. He said Professional I had reached only 55.6 per cent of its goal, with $10,894.72.

William Lacy, vice chairman for the education group, said Pontiac schools had pledged $11,889.32 or 95 per cent of the $12,446.21 quota.

Waterford reported in with $3,187.03 or 77.9 per cent of its goal, Lacy said.

Landry Fights 'Townhouse'

Planning Commission Agrees With Mayor

Mayor Robert Landry last night warded off what he saw as a threat to the city's plans for residential development in urban renewal areas.

Before the city planning commission was a request to rezone some 30 acres for a proposed 200-unit "townhouse" cooperative housing development on Pontiac's East Side.

"I'm certainly not going to recommend this be approved," the mayor said, "when I know urban renewal parcels will be available for multiple-family dwellings in the near future."

Landry, ex-officio member of the planning board, offered a motion to deny the rezoning request. The planning commission went along with it.

The $2-million development was proposed last month by Standard Building Products Co., of Detroit, for an area near East Boulevard bounded by Tasmania and Michigan Avenues and the Clinton River.

Action was adjourned until last night's meeting on the developer's request to rezone the Residential-1 parcel to Residential-3.

The recommendation to deny the request will be presented to the City Commission next Tuesday.

A debate developed last night between commissioners and the property developers.

Contact Between Navy, Reds Is 'Highly Possible' Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — A contact between U. S. Navy ships and Russian vessels carrying missiles from Cuba is "highly possible" soon, a Defense Department spokesman said today.

He said there had been no contact as of this morning, but added:

"Our ships are on station. Obviously, when the Soviet ships depart, there will be a contact."

The spokesman said details are being worked out on just how the U. S. Navy patrols will satisfy themselves that the Russian ships are carrying away from Cuba the missiles the United States has demanded Russia remove from that country.

It is not yet clear whether there will be actual boarding and a first-hand look at the cargoes of the Russian ships.

Asked how many missiles the United States believes will be withdrawn, the spokesman said: "We'll certainly be looking for a minimum of 40 missiles."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev told newsmen in Moscow yesterday that 40 Soviet rockets had been dismantled in Cuba and probably were on their way back to Russia.

When a reporter asked whether the inspection of outgoing Communist ships would mean a change in the U. S. blockade aimed at keeping offensive weapons from entering Cuba, the spokesman said, "Certainly, the quarantine is not at an end."

He also said that aerial photo reconnaissance over Cuba is continuing, but he was unable to tell what more recent surveillance photographs have shown about progress in dismantling missile bases in Cuba.

DOESN'T KNOW STATUS

As for the more than 20 IL28 jet bombers which Russia sent into Cuba, the spokesman said he does not know their status and is "not free to discuss" this matter.

Questions have been raised as to whether the Russians have agreed to pull out these bombers, as well as the missiles. The U. S. position is that the bombers are offensive weapons and that they, too, must go.

Ex-First Lady Is Dead at 78 in New York

Dies of Complicated Form of Anemia in Manhattan Apartment

NEW YORK (AP) — The world joined the United States today in mourning the death of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, a truly beloved former First Lady.

Eleanor Roosevelt, often times as controversial a person as her late husband, died last night in her Manhattan apartment.

The 78-year-old widow of the nation's 32nd president and niece of the 26th president had suffered from what the family described as "a complicated type of anemia" for two and a half years.

Her health failed rapidly during the last six weeks, accelerated by non-contagious tuberculosis which was not proved until Oct. 25.

Her physicians, expecting heart failure, were with her at the end, along with three of her five living children.

Two sons were en route by plane from distant points in the nation. Nineteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive her.

"One of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene," said President Kennedy. "Her loss will be deeply felt by all those who admired her tireless idealism or benefited from her good works and counsel."

Leaders of the nation and the world joined in expressing sorrow and loss.

"I have lost an inspiration," said U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, the only person outside of the family invited to visit Mrs. Roosevelt during the final weeks of her illness.

"She would rather light candles than curse the darkness," Stevenson said, "and her glow has warmed the world."

Private funeral services will be held at St. James Episcopal Church in Hyde Park, N.Y., north of New York City on the Hudson River, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

BESIDE FDR

She will be buried in the rose garden of the family estate at Hyde Park, beside her husband, "in accordance with the joint wishes," the family said.

His simple gravestone already bears her name and the year of her birth, 1884.

"Those at the interment service, in addition to family, will include representatives from the U.S. government, the United Nations, and the state of New York, as well as close friends of Mrs. Roosevelt," the announcement said.

President Kennedy will attend. So will former President Harry S. Truman and his wife.

Auditor General Told to Mind Own Business

County business is not state business, the board maintained.

Convicted of Swindling

Estes' Sentence: 8 Years

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A jury convicted bankrupt promoter Billie Sol Estes of swindling and set his sentence at eight years in the State Penitentiary Wednesday.

The verdict, reached after the 11 men and one woman deliberated 2 hours and 8 minutes, ended a 17-day trial on state charges growing out of a transaction involving a mortgage on liquid fertilizer tanks. The state said the tanks did not exist.

Estes, 37, faces state antitrust charges accusing him of fixing the price of liquid fertilizer. Also pending against him are federal charges of fraud, conspiracy and perjury in connection with $22 million in loans obtained on fertilizer tanks.

It was the first conviction for Estes since his multimillion dollar complex of liquid fertilizer tank mortgage deals, cotton allotment transfers and grain storage collapsed last spring.

Estes' jaw muscles tightened as he heard the decision but he remained impassive. His attractive blonde wife Patsy blinked hard to keep back tears.

BILLIE SOL ESTES

'Asked for comment on the verdict, Estes replied: "What can you say?"

Estes was accused of inducing Pecos farmer T. J. Wilson to sign a $94,500 mortgage on nonexistent liquid fertilizer tanks.

Prosecutors claimed Estes, his own credit exhausted, paid rental bonuses and got farmers to contract for nonexistent tanks, leased the tanks from them and agreed to pay monthly rentals matching payments due on the mortgages.

The defense claimed he merely paid a bonus for borrowing credit.

Estes remained free under $20,000 bond pending a motion for a new trial, promised within 10 days by defense lawyer John D. Cofer. Altogether, kinsmen have posted $140,000 bonds for Estes on state and federal charges.

Both Parties Trying to Cheer Over Congress

Loss Not Bad for Dems; GOP Isn't Discouraged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and Republicans alike found something to cheer about today in the make-up of the new 88th Congress that will convene on Jan. 9.

For the Democrats, the big talking point was that they had not suffered the big losses that usually befall the party in power in an off-year election.

President Kennedy said in a statement issued by the White House that he was heartened by the outcome of Tuesday's elections and was certain Congress would meet its responsibilities "in a progressive and vigorous manner."

Another Story Is on Page A-6

NOT DISCOURAGED

Republicans failed to make the gains they had hoped for in congressional races, but the GOP national chairman, William E. Miller, said he did not see in this "in any way an endorsement of the New Frontier and its programs."

The new line-up in the Senate will be 68 Democrats and 32 Republicans. The Democratic majority to the highest peak since they won 69 seats in the 1938 election. They had a 64-36 margin in the outgoing Congress.

In the House, where 435 seats were at stake, the Democrats captured 259 and the Republicans 176, for a hefty Democratic majority of 83.

In the last race decided, only today, Democratic Rep. Ralph J. Rivers finally won out in Alaska over the challenge of Lowell Thomas Jr., son of the lecturer and author.

Even so, the Democratic majority will be less than it was in the 87th Congress when there were 437 house seats and the Democrats held 263 and the Republicans 174.

Two seats were wiped out by reapportionment. The Democrats, in effect, absorbed the loss of these seats and in addition had suffered a net loss of four seats to the Republicans.

EYES GAINS

A White House spokesman contrasted these GOP inroads in the House with what he said was an average loss of 49 House seats by Democratic administrations in midterm elections in the past.

He also said that the average loss in the Senate for the party in power has been seven or eight seats since World War I, with the exception of 1934 when Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal was riding high.

While the administration gained strength in the Senate, it was there that it needed help the least. In the House, where Kennedy's proposals most frequently fell afoul of opposition from Republicans and Southern Democrats, the GOP whittled down the Democratic majority.

Over-all, the complexion of Congress does not appear to have been changed much although there will be 10 new senators and 58 new members of the House. In neither party were the top leaders unseated.

The last two Senate races to be decided were the re-election of Democrats Lister Hill of Alabama and Ernest Gruening of Alaska.

will buy all the land you can deliver in the next two years for multiple family dwellings under the FHA 221-D3 program."

Developments insured by FHA under the 221-D3 program allow for a low 3¼ per cent interest rate on mortgages, low down payment and low monthly rent.

Referring to the city's investment in urban renewal, Landry said, "We're not going to buy land in one area and then build in another."

City Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, a planning board member, objected on grounds that "people will never own homes in the development. They'll be owned by the co-op and if tenants move out we'll be stuck with an empty housing development."

Brown replied that "these would be the last homes to be vacated in that area. Other substandard dwellings in your district would be vacated first."

Other planning commissioners expressed the feeling that the area should be used for single-family dwellings.

The owner of the land, however, said he'd tried to sell it for that purpose for many years and "there's just no market for single-family dwellings in Pontiac."

The site is vacant and lies near the proposed right-of-way for the East Huron Street extension to the M59 freeway.

Peiping Renews Attack on India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Chinese Communists have launched fresh attacks at the eastern end of the Himalayan battle line, the Indian Defense Ministry announced today. The action broke a lull of more than a week.

The fighting was at Walong, 15 miles from the Burma border, with the Communists making five shooting strikes in the past two days.

A defense spokesman also reported an Indian patrol clashed with the Red Chinese outside Chang, near the monastery town of Towang.

Towang, just east of the Bhutan border, was captured by the Chinese more than a week ago.

Some 850 miles to the northwest, the Red Chinese continued a military buildup near the strategic front line Indian airport of Chushul in Ladakh.

AS DEFIANCE GROWS

The Red Chinese attacks came Indian defiance grew against Peiping overtures for a deal.

Parliament cheered Prime Minister Nehru as he declared the Indian people will drive the "expansionist, imperialist-minded" Red Chinese invaders from "the sacred soil of India, no matter how long and hard the struggle may be."

"No self-respecting country that loves its freedom and integrity can possibly submit to this challenge," Nehru told the crowded chamber. "Certainly not India."

His defiant statement in effect rejected a new Chinese offer to withdraw from the territory it has occupied on the Northeast Border if India would give up the Ladakh area adjoining Kashmir and Tibet in the Northwest. India rejected a similar swap in 1959.

CONFIRMS AIM

Peiping's offer confirmed what many observers have felt was the Chinese aim in the last five years of border encroachment—to make Ladakh a secure connecting route between Tibet and western Chinese province of Sinkiang. The Chinese have already built a road between Tibet and Sinkiang across Ladakh.

Nehru warned Parliament the fight against the "massive Chinese invasion" was not going to end soon—"We may have to face this for a number of years."

Outside Parliament 3,000 persons demonstrated with banners reading "No negotiations with China."

of our responsibilities as public officials," Romney said.

"The purpose of Friday's meeting will be to indicate that I am ready and willing to place certain partisan differences aside for the good of the entire state, and to invite in the members of the State Administrative Board with which I will serve to do the same."

Romney also has invited Republican members-elect of the incoming Legislature to meet with him 10:30 a.m.

Asked at a news conference if he had any plans to fill the controller's post on a short-term basis, Swainson said, "Mr. Romney will make an appointment in this area."

He said if the Republican governor-elect desired to name his choice "that would be fine with me. I will not appoint a man for one month unless he is acceptable to Mr. Romney."

A prepared statement issued by the governor said, "This administration is desirous of cooperating fully with Mr. Romney to effect the orderly transfer of governmental responsibilities."

At the news conference the governor also said he hoped to take his wife on a vacation, perhaps to Florida, beginning tomorrow.

Asked about his political future, specifically about the possibility of an appointment in Washington, D.C., Swainson smilingly asked in return, "What appointment?"

He offered no apologies for his loss.

"I lost the election . . . the party didn't lose it. I leave this office with a real sense of accomplishment," Swainson said, adding "I have no apologies, and no regrets."

Defeat of Millage to Shut Ohio Schools

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Defeat of a four-mill operating levy in Tuesday's election prompted the Oregon Board of Education to vote 4-1 last night to close schools indefinitely Nov. 26.

The levy, which would yield an estimated $513,000 a year, lost by 48 votes. Board members said the money was necessary to keep schools operating.

The board also called for a special election on the levy for Dec. 6.

Supervisors Rap Farnum

justifiable expense accounts and overpayment of the chairman of the board of supervisors as well as the County Board of Auditors paying what he termed excessive mileage rates.

Farnum directed the officials involved to reimburse the full amount to the county, and ordered the board of auditors to see that the money was paid back.

In answer to Farnum's report, the board of supervisors yesterday adopted a ways and means committee resolution which states in part:

"Of concern to your committee is the growing tendency, as indicated by this recent state report, for the state to attempt to dictate to the county and to the board of supervisors in areas of policy and administration . . . "

The resolution asserts that these areas "are reserved in the (Michigan) constitution for the county supervisors and the board of county auditors."

Therefore, the supervisors agreed, the county board of auditors was acting within its authority when it deemed those items questioned by the auditor general were actually reasonable expenses to the county.

The items included:

Noon meals for supervisors when they are required to stay over for an afternoon or all day session.

Paying their chairman $25 per diem instead of the same $10 paid to regular members.

And allowing supervisors multiple per diem pay where they also serve as members of drainage or public works boards and when these bodies meet on the same day as board of supervisors or committee proceedings.

The resolution didn't answer charges against County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry. He was accused of excessively charging the county in submitting expense accounts.

Barry has maintained that all of his expenses were justified. He accused Farnum of attempting to discredit him in the eyes of county voters at election time.

Farnum, a Democrat, denied the report was politically motivated, although it was used as campaign ammunition by Democratic opponents of Republican incumbents here.

County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard, who played a major role in preparing the adopted resolution, said he and the auditors were still analyzing the noncriminal charges against Barry before answering them.

The resolution also took newspaper reporters to task for not having reported the auditor general's report in fuller detail.

"This report has been widely reported in the press, but these reports have failed to clearly set forth the helpful suggestions which were made by the auditor general," according to the resolution, "and have generally not mentioned the fact that the auditor general found that funds were properly handled by the county treasurer and the county board of auditors, and the various other county departments which have had occasion to handle public funds."

Hearing Set on Rezoning Request

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A public hearing is scheduled Dec. 3 to air views on a request to rezone property on Woodward Avenue near Manor Road for construction of a $1.8 million restaurant-motel.

Al Green Enterprises, Inc., and Motel Management Co., both of Detroit, are seeking to have the property on the east side of Woodward between Manor and Big Beaver roads rezoned.

They want it changed from its present office building classification to a business use.

The Bloomfield Township Planning Commission has rejected another petition which asked that about 10 acres of property on Manor Road to the rear of the proposed motel-restaurant development be changed from single-family residential to a multiple dwelling zone.

The Rouge Manor Improvement Association, an organization of property owners in the neighborhood, strongly opposed the multiple dwelling zoning.

The association also is against plans for development of the motel-restaurant.

Developers of the project have been turned down earlier this year in attempts to have the property rezoned.

However, the two Detroit firms learned, when their petition was rejected last month by the township Board of Trustees, that their architects had submitted incorrect plans.

The plans have been changed and will be presented in their revised form at the public hearing next month.

Lovell Lawrence Jr., director of Advanced Projects Organization for Chrysler Corp., will be the featured speaker at this month's meeting of the Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Lawrence's speech, "Through the Looking Glass of Research Into Space," will be presented at the 12:30 p.m. luncheon-meeting Wednesday at the Birmingham Community House.

Dr. Willard E. Givens, past executive secretary of the National Education Association, will be guest speaker at the Bloomfield Hills Education Association Wednesday.

Dr. Givens will speak following an association smorgasbord dinner at 6 p.m. in Bloomfield Hills High School.

H. Cameron Clark

Service for H. Cameron Clark, 64, of 850 N. Adams Road, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Mr. Clark, a retired Chrysler Corp. engineer, died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a short illness.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham, the Clarkston Masonic Lodge and the Lost Lake Woods Club of Lincoln.

Surviving besides his wife Orrel are two daughters, Mrs. John G. Vickers of Southfield and Mrs. James P. Owens Jr. of Hamden, Conn.; a son, Robert C. of Birmingham; and seven grandchildren.

U. N. Peace Force Proposed by India

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —India Wednesday proposed a United Nations peace force strong enough to stamp out the threat of war following a disarmament agreement.

India's Arthur S. Lall said the United Nations must be strengthened militarily to become "an effective peacekeeping body."

Without such a peace force, he added, "the process of disarmament cannot be supplemented as it should be."

Lall spoke as the 110-nation political committee of the general assembly continued debate on general and complete disarmament.

The thylacine or marcupial wolf is confined to Tasmania and is now almost extinct.

Detroit's Negro Vote Goes to Swainson

DETROIT (AP) — The Negro vote in Detroit went mostly for Democratic Gov. Swainson, as expected, dividing itself in income groups.

Swainson scored heavier in the lower income groups and did less well in others on the basis of the vote in 13 key precincts.

Swainson won from 85 to 90 per cent of the vote in eight precincts of the middle and lower income areas but his margin was less than 4 to 1 in five Negro residential areas of upper income families.

Detroit has an estimated 180,000 Negro voters.

A comparison with Negro voting in past elections was not available.

British Are Elegant

MASSACHUSETTS VICTOR — Endicott (Chub) Peabody and his wife Toni are tired but happy as returns indicated he was elected Democratic governor of Massachusetts. Peabody defeated Gov. John A. Volpe, the Republican incumbent.

Peabody's In by a Hair in Massachusetts Race

BOSTON (UPI) — Democratic underdog Endicott (Chub) Peabody weathered an avalanche of late counted rural votes to defeat GOP Gov. John A. Volpe in the closest gubernatorial race in Massachusetts history.

Complete unofficial returns gave Peabody, a former all-American football player at Harvard, a 4,859 vote margin of victory in the more than 2 million votes cast.

A recount appeared possible. All ballot boxes have been impounded by state troopers.

The final vote was Peabody 1,051,140, Volpe 1,047,081.

Volpe, who said last night he still was somewhat confident of victory was to meet today with aides to determine whether to call for a recount.

"If I'm beaten, I'm beaten," Volpe said.

He indicated that if Peabody's margin of victory was "substantial" he would not request a recount.

Volpe had conceded to his opponent at dawn yesterday when Peabody had a 100,000 vote lead.

But a late strong surge of Republican votes, mostly from small towns always late in reporting, gave the election a cliff-hanger finish.

BIG CITIES HELP

Peabody had rolled up his lead on a Democratic tide from the big cities which swept the President's brother, Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, to victory over George Cabot Lodge in the race for the U.S. Senate seat.

When it became evident that the outcome still was in doubt, Secretary of State Kevin H. White ordered state troopers to impound the ballot boxes.

Mansfield, with about 8,000 voters, was the last town to complete its count last night. White supervised the tally.

Romney Hailed by GOP Chief

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Republican state chairman and national committeeman issued statements lauding the election of George Romney as governor of Michigan.

National committeeman John B. Martin called the victory "a milestone for Michigan."

"We can begin now to build an unbeatable record which will demonstrate what a Republican legislature working with a Republican governor can do," Martin added.

State Chairman George M. Vanderpursem said "Romney will work in closest harmony with the State Legislature, administrative branches of government and with the entire citizenry to solve the state's problems."

Both party officials also cited the Supreme Court victory of Michael D. O'Hara. Martin said O'Hara's election "will greatly strengthen the State Supreme Court and help to insure fair and impartial considerations of judicial issues of importance to Michigan."

Senior Senator Hayden Leaves Naval Hospital

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., 85, oldest member of the Senate, celebrated his latest election victory yesterday by leaving Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Hayden was reported completely recovered from the virus infection that had hospitalized him since Oct. 25. Hayden has been a member of Congress for 51 years.

Miners Come Up With New Bushy-Browed Champion

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coal miners have come up with another bushy-browed labor union chief to worry the mine owners.

W. A. (Tony) Boyle is touring the coal fields and rousing the miners for something. The operators suspect it may be them. Four years have gone by since John L. Lewis, now officially retired, got the miners their last pay raise.

BACKGROUND — SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

Boyle is 58. He has a fine set of red eyebrows and a folksy sort of speech. He can't compare, of course, in either department with his mentor, labor's oldtime blood and thunder expert, Lewis, now 82.

STILL AROUND

Lewis is still around, still active as president emeritus of the United Mine Workers Union, privately prodding Boyle along. Actually Boyle is the UMW's No. 2 man as vice president. But he's operating like No. 1 since President Tom Kennedy, at 75, has been ailing for some time.

Coal labor relations, at least with the major industry producers, have been serenely peaceful since the last industrywide strike in 1960.

There have been constant troubles with small mine operators, particularly in eastern Kentucky and eastern Tennessee, who have balked at paying the 40-cent a ton welfare royalty in the face of slack demand and declining prices. The UMW welfare fund, in turn, has had to reduce pensions and take steps to dispose of a chain of mine area hospitals.

Among other UMW troubles are the fact that nonunion coal production has risen from 20 to 27 per cent of the total and that union membership has continued to dwindle until it now is only 160,000.

STILL IN CHARGE

Although nominally in retirement, Lewis is reported still the man in charge of the UMW while putting Boyle forward as the man he wants the industry to deal with.

Thus, when coal operators received a hot missive from Boyle, carrying an underline saying the contents were attested to by Lewis, the industry sat up and took notice.

Boyle said in about as many words that if the coal operators went ahead with plans to put diesel-powered equipment in coal mines they would have a strike on their hands.

The background is this: The operators say diesel equipment would save them a lot of money. Present electric-powered equipment requires expensive wiring, connections, transformers, etc. The UMW, maintaining diesel fumes and combustion would only add to underground mining hazards, refused even to talk with the industry and Bureau of Mines about running safety tests.

UNION ADAMANT

It is clear the UMW is adamant because diesels run on that hated competitive fuel, oil, whereas electricity is primarily produced from coal.

Boyle, who hails from Billings, Mont., is telling the coal miners they had better be alert to defend their union because of danger of depression, "union haters," and restrictive labor laws. He poohpoohs atomic power and says coal is "the fuel of the future."

Like Lewis, Boyle is not exactly enamored by politicians as he made clear in a Labor Day speech at Jenkins, Ky., when he criticized the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations with equal fervor.

Bandits Kill 18 in Raid on Village in Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Bandits killed 18 persons in a recent attack on a village near Popayan, capital of the department of Cauca.

The dead included three soldiers. Authorities said the bandits belonged to a gang once headed by a notorious criminal named "Trigger" who was killed recently.

MSU Science Center Gets Education Grant

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State University Science and Research Center has received a $284,000 grant from the National Science Foundation to improve general science teaching in secondary schools.

The money will be used to train 45 science teachers from grades seven through 11 during the 1963-64 academic year.

Steel, Auto Industries an Economic Paradox

With the over-all economy of the United States established on a plateau of relative prosperity, the steel industry shows unmistakable signs of distress. But, paradoxically, one of its biggest customers, the automotive industry—with which the fortunes of Pontiac are so closely identified—is enjoying continuous upsurge.

How did steel get this way?

The main reason for the doldrums is the Country's low rate of industrial growth. When neither factories are built nor new production machinery purchased, the demand declines commensurably.

A second cause is the battering that U. S. production has taken from overseas competition and the increasing use of alternative materials such as aluminum, plastics, glass and concrete.

Third, steadily rising costs and inability to raise prices—so dramatized last spring—have of course contributed to the gloom of operating statements.

A final factor has been the slowness of the domestic steel industry with its established plant to keep pace with scientific and technological progress. At the same time, foreign facilities, largely rebuilt after World War II, have forged ahead and are reaping the benefits of modernity.

These influences had their origin many years ago and explain why annual production, with capacity upped to 1.6 million tons, has leveled off at around one million tons for the past five years.

The steel companies, however, are not taking it lying down. Expressing complete confidence in the soundness of the product and the future of the industry, the two top-ranking producers have committed $400 million between them for this year alone to catch up with the modernization parade.

Additionally, developing projections of lesser producers will bring the total to $1 billion. Moreover, this figure represents only immediate capital outlay, with the contemplated complete rejuvenation of the industry running to several billions of dollars.

To their great credit, the leaders of the steel industry are just as rugged as the product.

Russians Come Forth With Surprise Entry

Sooner or later, they keep saying at the Laurel, Md., race course, the Russians are going to pick up all the marbles. That would mean, in translation, winning the $70,000 first place money in the $125,000 Washington International handicap.

The race this year is to be run on Monday, Nov. 12, inasmuch as Veterans Day, the usual occasion for the feature, falls on Sunday. Typical of the Russians, who are apparently fond of surprises—or preoccupied with other matters—they waited until Nov. 1 to announce that they would send an entry.

That means that this year's renewal welcomes horses from Japan, West Germany, France, England, Italy, Canada, Venezuela, Peru and the Soviet Union, plus three from the United States.

The race thus will be more international than ever. The previous peak representation was in 1959, when there were entries from nine nations.

This is the fifth consecutive appearance of Russian horses in the International. The best showing was in 1960, when Zabeg finished third and Zadorny fourth.

The Russian Union has been showing increased interest in international racing. Last year, three Russian horses were sent to the Aintree Grand National at Liverpool, England. And from all outward appearances, the Russian riders don't appear to be trying to make propaganda.

As the London Daily Mail observed: "What seems to be only dimly appreciated is that this is a plucky enterprise on the part of a number of Russian individuals —we should applaud what is in fact a genuine sporting effort and wish them luck."

We can't help but concur, yet our enthusiasm is somewhat reserved.

Former Local Minister Enjoys Spiritual Visits

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

The MAT has a warm letter from

Rev. William H. Marbach

Pastor Emeritus of our First Presbyterian Church, and now residing in Bensenville, Ill., in which some interesting history is related about Omena, Mich., and the church where he has preached for 34 consecutive summers.

The 104-year-old building was built principally for the Indians by

Rev. Peter Daugherty

and was until recently called The Indian Church of Omena. The bell on the church was made of an amalgam of metal including copper pennies given by the copper-colored Chippewa Indian children.

Now, says my friend, they've run out of Indians! No parishoners of that race near enough to attend. But the influx of summer visitors (15 states were represented the first Sunday) along with local residents assure large and devoted congregations.

We congratulate the cleric on this long and fine record of community service, and wish him many, many more enjoyable and rewarding summers.

A newsy conversation with

of Walled Lake. Confirming that nothing has been more capricious the past year than the flora of this section, she said that the Amaryllis bulbs she set last February bloomed on schedule around Easter. After transplanting them for the summer, she dug 'em up for retirement to winter quarters—and danged (the expletive is the MAT's, not hers) if a couple didn't bloom again . . . one bloom being about eight inches across. Guess the blooming things just don't know when to quit blooming!

The lady also reported that while driving with her husband near Howell, they saw flying a V-formation of birds, which she spotted as geese. Husband said nope—Cranes. And that, readers, is one difference of opinion your columnist is staying out of.

A final observation had to do with the litter often seen along Michigan's beautiful highways as compared with the tidiness of the Kansas Turnpike observed along a 280-mile stretch from K. C. to Wichita.

Don't Let The Right Hand Know!—

David Lawrence Says:

Business Glad JFK Lost His Wish

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy did not get his wish. He campaigned harder than any other chief executive in history to get an increased majority of his party in both houses of Congress, but the voters did not grant his request.

LAWRENCE

The coalition of conservative Republicans and Democrats, therefore, remains in control of both houses. Radicalism is checked again. Business can breathe easier.

For, if the Democrats had made substantial gains in both houses of Congress, the stock market would have broken badly and there would have been predictions of a deeper recession in 1963 than now is anticipated.

All the talk of "net gains" — by mathematically putting together the Senate and House victories of the Democrats—doesn't alter the fact that it needs only a coalition in one house to block radical legislation.

Gov. Rockefeller of New York, who won re-election, may be President Kennedy's opponent now that former Vice President Nixon is out of the running.

But, to get the nomination, Rockefeller will have to convince the conservatives who dominate the Republican party that he is basically a conservative on business and fiscal matters. The Republicans may consider this more important than anything else.

There is, however, always the possibility of a third party made up of conservatives from both the Republican and Democratic parties, and this could mess up the picture for the Republicans and assure the re-election of President Kennedy.

LOST CONSERVATIVES

In California, Nixon lost largely because he failed to win the full support of the conservative Republicans. Many didn't go to the polls.

Looking across the country at the congressional contests, it is evident that Democrats in many areas had a difficult time getting re-elected. Majorities were considerably reduced in many places.

In Alabama, for instance, the Democrat, Sen. Hill, won by a narrow margin. In a big state like Illinois, Sen. Dirksen, the Republican minority leader, won out, and Kentucky again returned a Republican senator. The Democratic victory in New Hampshire was due to a factional fight inside the Republican party.

It is true that in Indiana Sen. Capehart, of the conservative school, lost, but here the labor-union vote is all-powerful.

It is significant that the popular Abraham Ribicoff, Democrat, had a relatively small margin of victory in Connecticut in his race for the Senate, and that Sen. Joseph Clark, Democrat, in Pennsylvania didn't have as easy a victory as he did before.

Gains made by the Republicans in the South this week had some relationship to the antiadministration feeling of the public over the Mississippi controversy and may be a forerunner of trouble for Mr. Kennedy in the next presidential election, as there may be a "states' rights" ticket that will draw electoral votes from him.

The Republicans now have 11 seats in the House of Representatives from Southern states — the highest proportion in nearly 100 years.

The minority groups played a decisive part in the big states.

Sen. Javits of New York, Republican, and Edward Kennedy, Democrat, in Massachusetts owe their large margins to the big vote of such minority groups.

For, all other things being equal, there are many voters who are influenced by the fact that the candidate happens to be of the same religion as their own.

These are not pleasant matters to discuss, but in practical politics they are discussed every day — and one hears that Gov. Brown in California benefited by a large vote in that category.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Diets for 'This, That' Are Strictly for Birds

Once when I was an intern, one of my classmates, already in practice, called our professor of surgery in consultation, and the professor invited me to go along for the ride, a hundred miles down state.

At a farmhouse we found a youth with appendicitis. I gave the anesthetic, my classmate assisted and the professor operated in the kitchen, successfully. The professor's fee was modest, although it seemed fabulous to me — my pay as intern was $10 a month.

DR. BRADY

But what impressed me most was the professor's instruction to the patient's mother — precisely how to prepare chicken jelly to be fed, in teaspoonful doses, beginning next morning, gradually increased from hour to hour . . . I thought it was wonderful, and apparently the patient's family and relatives did, too.

A few years later I paid a visit to a doctor who had been in practice about six years. He took me along on some of his calls. He, too, made an impression on his patients and on me, checking off lists of foods each patient might and might not eat. Everybody took it all quite seriously.

Darn it, right there I began to fear I would never attain success in practice. I was right. I never did. That, I want you all to understand clearly, is the reason why I took up this health column racket. It is easy to tell the truth or not to pretend I know when actually I don't.

Now comes a promotion manager who asks me to name a book that gives information on special diets for persons suffering with diverticulitis or ulcers.

CLOSE SHAVE

I was about to reply in my usual manner — you know me, folks — when I took a second look at the man's letterhead and discovered — whew, that was a close shave — that he is promotion manager of a newspaper that prints my column.

So I doned my Dr. Jekyll disguise and replied that I know of no such book or books, at least nothing published in the past 40 years. I observed that when I was bellyaching with what the doctor believed to be diverticulitis some three or four years ago, had some doctor suggested a diet I would have been amused.

There'll be more or less protest from oldtimers, I expect, but in my opinion, lists of foods which the patient "may eat" and "may not eat" are for the birds.

Rocky, Romney, Scranton:

Personality Party Is Winning One

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American electorate's demonstrated disdain for party labels in Tuesday's election indicates Republicans may need a personality-plus candidate in 1964.

It just happened in the balloting that the Republicans who won the big ones are just that type. They have the kind of fresh, voter appeal that is credited with helping make John F. Kennedy a hairline winner in 1960. And no one is doubting that the President will seek re-election in another two years.

The GOP stars in an otherwise confusing and somewhat frustrating election that ended in almost a numerical dead heat in congressional and gubernatorial contests were

ROCKEFELLER

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, an omnivorous blintze-consuming, hand-shaking, back-clapping campaigner who is mentally quick on his feet and knows the ways of television. By getting himself re-elected by nearly half a million votes Rockefeller leaped to the top of the heap of Kennedy's potential GOP rivals.

ROMNEY

Gov.-elect George Romney of Michigan, an indefatigable campaigner who charmed some union votes away from the Democrats to win his race in a key state. Possibly somewhat less liberal than Rockefeller, he may attract support from party conservatives who look on the New York governor as too inclined to the welfare state to suit them.

SCRANTON

Gov.-elect William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, a very wealthy man just getting his feet wet in bigtime politics. He is a handsome, all-smiles candidate who can be a tough campaigner if the occasion demands it.

In the second line, as prospective material for a vice presidential nomination, two young GOP crusaders came to the front.

The central performer in the GOP's greatest disappointment, the failure to attain the governorship of California, was Richard M. Nixon, familiar again in bitter defeat.

Nixon bowed out of politics with a denunciation of the press and the acerbic comment: "You won't have Nixon to kick around any longer."

Nixon had sought through the force of his personality, his ability as a polished debater and his experience in television to overcome Gov. Edmund G. Brown in a state with a wide bulge in Democratic registrations. He lost.

Despite his penchant for provincialism and his difficulties with syntax, Brown proved himself an artist at pressing palms, slapping backs and chucking chins. He won.

Just how little attention Californians paid to party labels was demonstrated when they re-elected Brown and at the same time gave a new six-year term to the Senate deputy Republican leader, Thomas H. Kuchel.

In Michigan, Romney's victory was accompanied by the election of a Democratic lieutenant governor and a Democratic congressman-at-large.

Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy was the shining star of the Democratic lineup. He won by a landslide the seat that his eldest brother gave up in 1960 to become President.

TED KENNEDY

Ted Kennedy's run appeared to have pulled Endicott (Chub) Peabody to victory over Republican Gov. John A. Volpe. In the complete count of about 2.1 million ballots, Peabody had a 9,000 lead. Volpe talked of a recount.

The contest in Rhode Island was considerably closer. With about 6,000 absentee ballots yet to be counted, Democratic Gov. John A. Notte had a 46-vote edge over his Republican opponent, John H. Chaffee.

Voice of the People:

'Prime Minister Ben Bella Took U.S. for a Ride'

The President held a reception at the White House in honor of the Algerian Prime Minister Ahmed Ben Bella. He was given the 21-gun salute reserved for the chiefs of state and Kennedy praised Ben Bella, calling him "a great patriot" and made plans for further United States aid to Algeria.

Only 24 hours later another 21-gun salute announced the arrival of Ben Bella at Havana where he was greeted by Fidel Castro. Workers were ordered to line up along the streets through which the foreign dignitary would pass, plus 16,000 soldiers and militia members.

Castro said: "To make this visit when the powerful Yankee empire is using the threat of blackmail, bribery, criminal trade and economic blockade in an effort to make our revolution surrender through hunger . . . is an act of courage on your part, Mr. Prime Minister."

Ben Bella praised the Castro regime for its "extraordinary advance and progress in the face of the maneuvers of enemy forces" and said: "In my country we celebrated your victory as if it were a national triumph."

Kennedy was certainly suckered once more.

I have just read the recent editorial in which you refer to Fidel Castro as a "bearded bum," and a "minor league nut."

V. K. Khrishna Menon has been a power in Indian foreign military and U.N. affairs for a long time. A champion of Red China in the United Nations, he orientated Indian policy toward the Soviet bloc so effectively that his country has often been a leader of the left-leaning neutrals.

Now the Chinese Communists, whom he has nurtured, invaded Khrishna Menon's India. He had troops deployed against Pakistan and against Katanga that could have fought the Red Chinese. His front line defenses crumbled and public indignation forced Premier Nehru to fire Menon.

Bullfights in Spain Thrive on Tourists

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MADRID (AP) — Nearly 10 million foreign visitors came to Spain this year, and they saw a lot of bullfighting.

For years the bullfights have been losing out to soccer as Spain's favorite sport. Though soccer is still ahead, this year the trend was back to the bullring, a popular sport in Spain for more than 300 years.

BACKGROUND — IP SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

Nearly half the foreign tourists saw the bulls this season. They poured an estimated 400 million pesetas, or more than $6.5 million, into the till.

Bullfight performers and impresarios admit that without the tourist patronage bullfighting would be farther behind soccer as a popular drawing card.

ARE EXPENSIVE

The big reason is that bullfights in Spain are expensive.

A Spaniard may pay 30 pesatas —50 cents—for a soccer ticket. For a similar seat at the bullfights he must produce 50-75 pesetas. That is the better part of a day's pay for many Spanish workers.

The season just closed was one of the best, from the standpoint of the number of programs and patronage, in the history of bullfights. Possibly it was the worst for the number of major bullfighters who lost decisions to the bulls and ended up in hospitals.

Bullfighting has attracted such tourist support in Spain that in some rings—especially those of Mallorca and San Feliz de Guixols in Gerona—the entire area seems reserved for outsiders.

In recent years soccer outstripped bullfighting by a wide margin as a national sports attraction. Sports experts estimate the total attendance at Spanish soccer matches once reached the figure of 12 million per season. They figure that in the last three seasons this patronage dropped to around 9 million admissions. The draw at bullfights, estimated at 4 million per year in 1959, went up to around 6.5 million this year.

As a money-maker, both for producers and participants, bullfights are still tops.

Experts estimate the top rank of Spanish bullfighters had take home pay of around $125,000 each this year, with many youngsters doing almost as well. Spain's top football stars make only a fraction of that amount.

Voters Return Judge, 95, to Post 4 Years

BEULAH (AP) — Benzie County claims it has the nation's oldest public official with the re-election of 95-year-old M. G. Paul to a four-year term as Circuit Court commissioner.

Paul, still actively engaged in his law practice after 69 years, looks forward to completing his new term in office. He said, however, that he has no definite plans for his political future after the term expires.

A Branch County native born July 3, 1867, Paul was a University of Michigan law school graduate in 1893. He entered practice at Lake Ann, moved later to Thompsonville and, in 1917, came to stay in Beulah.

He is married and has one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Busbee of Tulsa, Okla., from an earlier marriage.

4 Birchers Lose in House Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four members of the ultraconservative John Birch Society — including two congressmen — have been defeated in voting for the House of Representatives.

Reps. John Rousselot and Edgar W. Hiestand of California, who disclosed their Birch membership when the society first became the target of national interest last year, lost out Tuesday in their re-election attempts.

Another Birch Society member in California, H. L. (Bill) Richardson, who was seeking to represent a new congressional district, was also defeated.

And Jack Seale, a Texas member of the Society, was defeated in his effort to unseat the Democratic incumbent, Rep. Walter Rogers.

To Speak on Cuba Before Area Lawyers

Former president of the American Bar Association, Charles S. Rhyne, a Washington, D.C., attorney, will speak on "What Follows Cuba—Law or Force?" before Oakland and Macomb County lawyers at a 7 p.m. dinner tomorrow at Michigan State University Oakland.

Rhyne, who has a nationwide reputation as an expert on international law, stressed the "rule of law" as an alternative to force in international affairs during his presidency of the A.B.A. in 1958-59.

Occasion of the dinner is the end of a four-week course of instruction in the revised court rules that will go into effect in Michigan courts Jan. 1. The course attracted a large number of attorneys.

Gonzales, 19, and Raul Ybarra, both of Mercedes, Tex., were walking across a street when a car bore down on them.

Why Not Make Voting More Interesting?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When my wife and I voted for the first time in our lives last Tuesday, it opened up whole new worlds for us. We didn't realize what we had been missing.

It is true that the ballot in our district was rather skimpy. We only had two congressional candidates and three amendments to vote for or against.

But if a voter is energetic enough, he doesn't have to confine himself to what is on the ballot. He has at his disposal a relatively neglected instrument of political power — the write-in.

The write-in can make every voter a ballot box virtuoso, enabling him to expand not only the field of candidates but the range of offices as well.

OTHERS INTERESTING

Originally, my wife and I only intended to write in names for president. We were torn between Tom Dewey and Williams Jennings Bryan.

But as we were driving to the polls, my wife remarked that the governor's race in California was more interesting than our local contest for Congress.

"Why don't we vote in that one, too?" she suggested.

"Good idea," I said.

Then we fell to musing over the fact that people are always saying they wouldn't vote for so-and-so for dogcatcher.

We decided it would be a nice switch to draw up a list of so-and-sos that we would vote for dogcatcher.

You would be surprised how many qualified dogcatchers you can name if you put your mind to it.

We believe that in a democracy a voter should feel free to vote for dogcatcher whether it is on the ballot or not.

"While I'm at it," I told my wife. "I think I'll write in a vote for Soviet premier. I've always felt that it should be an elective position."

"Splendid," my wife said. "I've always regretted that I was born too late to vote for Elbridge Gerry for vice president in 1812. I think I'll write that in."

These little extras helped to make our first ballot a memorable one. And yet, when we left the polls, neither of us had a sense of complete fulfillment.

I felt an emptiness over not getting to vote to admit "Shoeless Joe" Jackson to the baseball Hall of Fame.

My wife was discontent over not voting an Academy Award for Nelson Eddy for his performance in "Girl of the Golden West."

Presidents Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt were fifth cousins and FDR's mother was a third cousin of President Grant.

'Cubans 100 Miles From Naval Base'

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The existence of a combat-ready military installation at a point about 100 miles northwest of the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo was disclosed by Havana Radio Wednesday.

A broadcast said the well-known Cuban ballerina, Alicia Alonso, visited the "combat trenches" in the Holguin area. She gave books to the troops and discussed the ballet with them, said the radio.

Asks More Letters for Asbury Book

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A Methodist clergyman is hoping to receive a batch of letters written nearly 150 years ago.

The letters were penned by Bishop Francis Asbury, leader of early American Methodism, who came to this country in 1771 and died in 1816.

Dr. J. Manning Potts, editor of the Upper Room, a daily devotional guide, has edited one volume of 375 Asbury letters, which was published in 1958.

After the book appeared, he began receiving other letters and now hopes to accumulate enough for a second Asbury volume.

Fire losses have increased 6 per cent for the first three months of 1962 over the first three months of 1961.

Railroad Crew Has Luxuries in Bunk Car

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (UPI) — A "home away from home" is no idle boast of a railroad signal construction crew working out of this midwestern city.

Crew members are luxuriating in such innovations to usual bunk car living as forced air heating, latex foam rubber mattresses and electric blankets, shower facilities and aluminum windows.

Topping off the homey comforts of the completely refurbished bunk car is a recreation room at one end, complete with lounging chairs, television set and writing desks.

In line with its policy of providing comfortable quarters for its much - traveled signal forces, the railroad is equipping other erstwhile Pullman cars with similar conveniences for all crews.

Lethal F105 Gets New Role—Unarmed

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (UPI) — The Air Force's lethal F105 fighter-bomber, built by Republic Aviation here, has been assigned a new and critical cold war role—unarmed.

The 1400-mile-an-hour jet that is capable of carrying atomic and hydrogen bombs will be the new vehicle of the Air Force's official aerial demonstration team, the Thunderbirds.

It will be the aerobatic team's first performance in a Mach 2 (twice the speed of sound) jet.

Organized in 1953, the Thunderbirds have performed in some 750 air shows before 50 million spectators in 50 states and 29 foreign nations.

Couple Caught Looting Vending Machines

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —Police Wednesday night caught a girl, 19, and a man, 40, they said had used homemade slugs to loot vending machines of $700 worth of cigarettes, food, nylon stockings and other items.

The girl told police she had made the slugs, using techniques she had learned as a dentist's assistant making false teeth.

'Let's Go to Key West'

Most People Enjoy Being on the Brink of Disaster

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — People enjoy being slightly terrified.

They rather like being on the brink of disaster, as long as they're certain they won't fall in.

This becomes apparent as you hear the the city of Key West is expecting a tourist boom, now that the Cuban crisis has somewhat eased.

"I think we will have a lot of sight-seers who want to see the city that is only 90 miles from Havana," a local businessman is quoted.

"Visitors to Europe all want to go to Berlin and see the Wall, don't they?"

True. And the majority of people also like violence on their television, horror in their movies.

When an awesome accident takes place on the highway, it always draws a curious clucking crowd of spectators who stopped, not to be of assistance, but to gape at the disaster with macabre self-satisfaction: How terrible! What a tragedy! Don't I feel good because it didn't happen to me!

Alfred Hitchcock, master of the suspense drama, once told me that he'd tried to analyze the people's love of fear and discovered we're all sadists practically from birth.

The first game a mother plays with her baby is "Boo!" Baby loves it because, Hitchcock theorized, he is genuinely momentarily terrified.

And the feeling of security and safety which follows the moment of terror is such a wonderfully pleasurable sensation, it is well worth the scare.

After "Boo" came roller-coasters (I won't fall off — but I COULD) and hot rods (it couldn't happen to me — but then it MIGHT).

"From childhood on," said Hitchcock, leering, "we want to have one toe in the pool of danger. . ."

So Key West should do very well. It's fun to put your foot in the pool, knowing that the mean little fish is 90 miles offshore and the real man - eating monster has swum away to other waters.

Speaking of monsters, one called "Aldous" (after Aldous Huxley, author of "Brave New World") has been devised at the University of Nebraska.

"Aldous" is an electronic computer with a personality.

According to the monster's maker, Dr. John C. Loehlin, he is "a very simple personality — but he can profit from experience, or learn. He can forget, love, fear and be angry."

The computer's emotional reaction depends both on his (its) current mood (which is a persistence of emotions left over from the immediately preceding situation) and his memories of what happened in related situations in the past.

"On the basis of his emotional reaction, Aldous acts. His repertoire of behaviors is modest: He may approach positively, attack, or withdraw. Or he may do nothing at all, or exhibit signs of mild or severe conflict.

"In each case, he prints a number symbolizing that behavior."

Dr. Loehlin, who calls his invention useful in the study of personality behavior and also "good, clean fun," says Aldous has some shortcomings.

"Worst of all, perhaps, is his lack of initiative. Secondly, Aldous lacks an unconscious."

At first, hearing about Aldous, we were worried. As if a good man isn't already hard enough to find, we thought . . . now they're going to automate love.

But when you come right down to it, we're probably temporarily safe from mechanical mates. It'll be many June moons before "9-9-9-9-9" ever replaces "I love you."

Spacious Brazil Half-Continent

WASHINGTON — One of every two South Americans lives in Brazil, whose territory covers almost half the continent.

Most of Brazil's 74 million people prefer to live on the crowded seaboard. But their nation is a land of the frontier, according to National Geographic.

An untamed wilderness of rain forest, swamp, and high savanna beckons pioneers with the promise of land to be taken and wealth to be gained.

During a 10,000-mile journey through Brazil, industrial surge, economic struggle, and rugged pride was found.

There was the lady whose tax form said: "Do not write in this space: for official use only." She wrote across the space: "I am a Brazilian, I am vaccinated, and I write where I please."

BRASILIA GROWING

The national government is run from two centers — the carnival city of Rio de Janeiro and construction-noisy Brasilia. The new federal capital on the Goias plateau is now occupied by more government workers and their families and 60,000 construction workers.

As apartments become available, more civil servants are moving in, reluctantly. Says the article in the spirit of a Carioca: "Prices were high in Brasilia. And who would leave Rio unless he absolutely had to?"

On the other hand, where else would a hotel build a luxury swimming pool for a charity fashion show in 48 hours? Construction in Brasilia goes on night and day.

Sounds of concrete mixers and hammers echo in many parts of Brazil. Skyscrapers soar above old cities. Wide highways ribbon populated areas.

Traffic is heavy on the new roads, for Brazil is South America's prime automobile manufacturer. A total of 145,632 vehicles, largely made with native materials and manpower, rolled off the assembly lines last year.

LOTS OF COFFEE

Brazil produces an array of other commodities — 37 per cent of all coffee consumed in the world, rubber, sugar, hides, nuts, and rosewood oil, to name a few. And, of course, jute for coffee bags.

There is still a lot of coffee in Brazil — too much perhaps. Surplus beans sometimes go up in smoke. All coffee offered for sale is bought by the government if no one else bids.

Progress may be the new way of life in Brazil, but it does not come overnight. Inflation is the chief topic of conversation; slumps in the coffee market and Brasilia's cost are largely blamed.

To make ends meet, some Brazilians must rely on friends or second and third jobs.

Convict Donates $10 to Centennial Drive

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — A popular fund drive to aid the West Virginia centennial celebration has received one bit of unexpected support.

A prisoner in the State Penitentiary here sent Gov. W. W. Barron $10 to help centennial planners.

Officials said the unnamed convict, serving a term for breaking and entering, probably won't be out in time to participate in the Mountain State's 100th birthday celebration next year.

Junior Editors Quiz on CATS

QUESTION: Why do cats purr when eating and being petted?

ANSWER: "Because we're contented and happy," answers the cat in our picture, but we may still ask "Why purr about it?" Purring is one of the many signals animals give about their feelings. These signals are useful.

Purring says: "I'm well fed and contented; you can tell it by my purring and when I rub against your legs and lift up my tail with a little crook at the top."

The cat's purring sound is produced by the cords which animals have in the back of the throat and which vibrate when air passes over them. If a cat yowls, the cords tighten up.

When a cat is feeling happy, its cords are loose and relaxed and the passing air vibrates them to make a soft, contented sound. Even large cats, such as lions, can purr.

The lion's voice cords are large, so he can also roar and frighten his prey. His purr is said to be more like a deep growl.

FOR YOU TO DO: Stretch a rubber band between your thumb and forefinger. Then brush the fingers of your other hand over it. You will get a sound which will at least remind you of the cat's purr, and you will be producing it in somewhat the same way.

Marshall Gets National Guard

LANSING (AP) — The transfer of the Battle Creek Army National Guard unit to Marshall effective Dec. 1 was announced today by Maj. Gen. Ronald D. McDonald, state adjutant general.

Move of the unit climaxes several years of negotiations on armory sites and feuding between the two cities, the county and the state military establishment.

The Company B, 107th Ordnance Battalion, will be moved to the new county seat because of several factors, McDonald said.

He listed these as:

—Difficulty in maintaining the 106-man unit at its present base with authorized strength. The unit, he said, has to compete for the manpower in the area with other reserve units including the air national guard detail at Kellogg Field.

—The unit has been living in high-cost quarters while some five years of effort to get local contributions to a site and financial support for an armory have failed.

Start Marquette Bypass Valued at $2 Million

LANSING (AP) — Work has started on the first contract for the $2-million Marquette bypass, the State Highway Department announced.

The first project is a $349,028 overpass to carry railroad tracks over new U. S. 41 and M28 at the west city limits.

MSU Couples Okay Booze, but Bid Loses

EAST LANSING (AP) — East Lansing will remain dry although married students at Michigan State University want it wet.

Voters turned out in record numbers Tuesday to reject 4,924 to 2,999 a proposal to repeal a 55-year old section of the city charter forbidding bars or the sale of packaged liquor.

The lone precinct voting for liquor contains a large MSU housing project occupied mostly by married students. The vote there was 149 to 139 for liquor.

The East Lansing chamber of Commerce had urged allowing liquor sales in the city, claiming it would help business.

Key university spokesmen asked for a dry vote, saying students should not be exposed to nearby bars and stores selling liquor.

Set Confab on Education

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some 125 Michigan college representatives are expected to attend the 16th annual conference on higher education at the University of Michigan Nov. 27-28.

The conference, sponsored by the Committee on College Relations and the Michigan College Association, will emphasize the use of programed learning machines and other auto-instructional methods from the viewpoint of the classroom teacher, the university said.

Shy Girl Became Honored Mrs. Roosevelt

Own Life Really Began Following Death of FDR

(Editor's Note—A lifetime of service ended Wednesday night with the death of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. An Associated Press writer who knew her well through much of her career traces the emergence of a shy, awkward girl into a woman honored around the world in this, the first of three articles.)

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — When Anna Eleanor Roosevelt left the White House in 1945, it was with the feeling that for the first time in more than four decades, she was on her own.

Her husband, one of the nation's most dynamic presidents, was dead. Her children were grown. Would she, like so many presidents' widows, retire to obscurity? Not Eleanor Roosevelt. In many ways, her own life was just beginning.

Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. Tells of Mother's Death

Until her fatal illness, ending with her death Wednesday night, she knew few quiet moments. She traveled endlessly, constantly backed causes, many of them controversial, and spoke her mind with eloquence and forthrightness.

Her love of the controversial led her, in her late seventies, to spark a swap of tractors for prisoners of Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro, and a New York City political reform movement, and to entertain Soviet Premier Khrushchev at Hyde Park on his shoe-pounding visit to the United Nations.

'HAVE TO TALK'

"We have to face the fact that either all of us are going to die together or we are going to learn to live together—and if we live together we have to talk," she said.

And talk she did, and listen, in all parts of the world.

She once reflected on her life before the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt:

"In my early married years, pattern of my life had been largely my mother-in-law's pattern. Later it was the children and Franklin who made the pattern. When I went to Washington I felt sure I would be able to use opportunities which came to me to help Franklin gain the objectives he cared about—but the work would be his work and the pattern his pattern."

NEW PATTERN

In the post-White House days, the new pattern emerged as Mrs. Roosevelt could, at long last, use "my own mind and abilities for my own aims," about which she had been thinking since the last of her five children had gone off to boarding school. Curiously enough, however, the new pattern was much like the old pattern, except that in this later phase her life was dedicated to the world. The sphere of influence of Mrs. Roosevelt broadened progressively from her family to her state, to her nation. In her work for the United Nations, she hews a unique niche for herself as a world citizen which derived only partially from the position her husband held for so long.

Once when she was first lady, Mrs. Roosevelt was asked what she looked forward to most when she left the White House.

"Freedom from public notice, she replied.

Actually, she received almost as much public notice—and certainly more international acclaim—as a private citizen, but by that time she had learned to live with it and accept it gracefully.

BUSY SCHEDULE

Well into her seventies, Mrs. Roosevelt carried a schedule of lectures, speeches writing, correspondence, trips, junkets, appearances, conferences and interviews which would have sent the ordinary citizen running for tranquilizers. She thrived on it.

The bedrock on which her active life was constructed was, of course, a rugged constitution, excellent health and fantastic vitality.

But inherited energy and ability to get along nicely on four hours sleep do not explain the force which drove her. Her adult life was dominated by a need to serve.

"The feeling that I was useful," she once wrote, "was perhaps the greatest joy I experienced."

The blossoming of a painfully shy, awkward and downright plain child into the poised, apparently serene and handsome older woman was summed up by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. as a "triumph of character, a sheer and terrifying act of will." Her childhood was neither happy nor secure. Orphaned at 10, she was brought up by a strict grandmother, packed off to an exclusive English girls' school and then pushed reluctantly through the proper "coming out" rites mandatory for young women in the financial and social strata of the Roosevelts.

BROUGHT PROBLEM

In 1904, when she was 20, this niece of President Theodore Roosevelt married her fifth cousin once removed. While her marriage brought her a sense of security she sorely missed, it also brought the problem of living with and handling her dominating mother-in-law, Sarah Delano Roosevelt. It took self-control to avoid conflict with this strong-willed woman who not only enjoyed holding the purse strings but who wanted to run the lives of her only son and his growing family.

The result of this disciplining experience with the senior Mrs. Roosevelt was that President Roosevelt had an almost exaggerated determination not to interfere in his children's lives, and Mrs. Roosevelt kept so clear of interference that she sometimes worried that her daughters-in-law might think she was not interested in them at all.

Mrs. Roosevelt went to Washington as First Lady with specialized training as an official's and a politician's wife. Franklin Roosevelt had been crippled by polio before he was elected governor of New York, and it was as the governor's lady that Mrs. Roosevelt elected herself as his eyes and ears.

Friend's Death Saddens JFK

Says Mrs. Roosevelt Has Been Inspiration

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, mourning the death of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, said "one of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene."

"Since the day I entered this office," said Kennedy, "she has been both an inspiration and a friend; and my wife and I always looked forward to her visits to the White House to which she always lent such grace and charm."

TO ATTEND FUNERAL

The White House announced that Kennedy would attend the funeral of the former first lady Saturday at Hyde Park where the wartime president is buried.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Kennedy did not always see eye-to-eye politically. In 1960 she supported Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination and suggested that Kennedy be his running mate.

The vice presidency, she said, would give Kennedy "the opportunity to grow and to learn."

After the convention she said she was "not too well" satisfied with the Democratic ticket of Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson but promised to work for it.

The President was notified of Mrs. Roosevelt's death in a telephone call from her son, Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., about 10 minutes before the public announcement.

Mrs. Roosevelt was the second former first lady to die within a year. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the World War I president, died Dec. 28 at the age of 89.

Orientals Get Idaho Rights

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A 52-year-old constitutional restriction that gave Idaho a unique but unwanted distinction was removed by the state's voters Tuesday.

They approved by a vote of 123,542 to 41,206 an amendment that repealed a constitutional provision barring naturalized citizens of oriental descent from voting, holding civil office or serving as jurors.

Idaho was the only state exercising such discrimination.

Women Outvote Men

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time, women outvoted men in Detroit Tuesday, casting 50.11 per cent of the 627,798 ballots.

British Train Robbed of $22,400 by Gang

LONDON (AP) — A gang of masked men robbed a train during the height of the morning rush hour today and got away with about 8,000 pounds ($22,400).

The raiders pulled the emergency cord as the train was approaching suburban West Drayton. Then they overpowered the brakeman and took cash boxes believed to contain wages.

Police said there were seven or eight members of the gang.

The United Presbyterian mission board has borrowed a second $5 million dollars from the New York Life Insurance Co. to help finance new churches. The previous loan aided 130 churches in 31 states in getting started.

Thug's Face Is Found in Photographic Prints

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police had it easier than usual today in seeking the holdup man who robbed photographer Vincent Armas, 53.

Armas said the bandit first posed for some photographs for his mother and then slugged and robbed him. Police made prints of the robber from Armas' negatives.

Military Food Getting Better

New 'Ration-Dense' a Breakthrough

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The Indian fighter had his parched corn and dried venison, the World War II soldier had his "K" ration and the American soldier of the future will have "Ration-Dense."

Military men agree that veterans of World War II and Korea will greet the news of a "breakthrough" in concentrated foods with something less than enthusiasm.

They report however, that the complaints voiced about dehydrated eggs, compressed meats and the old "K" and "C" rations have been virtually nonexistent in tests of the new "Ration - Dense" foods which are expected to be widely used by military units by 1965.

Rear Adm. Joel D. Parks of the Navy Supply Center here defines "Ration-Dense" as foods which have been processed to eliminate waste, reduce bulk and, where possible, reduce the need for refrigeration.

Standard food items such as potatoes, onions, bacon, eggs, milk and coffee required to feed 100 men for 30 days would weigh 3,332 pounds and require 551 cubic feet of storage room.

Parks said comparable Ration-Dense foods would weigh 220 pounds, need only 28 cubic feet for storage and would not require refrigeration.

The admiral said there were very few complaints when a complete "Ration-Dense" meal was served to Marines at nearby Camp Pendleton recently.

The menu included barbecued beef, turkey, whipped potatoes, Chinese fried rice, vegetables, salad and chocolate cream pie.

Extends Warm Welcome

WARMINSTER, England (UPI) — Every visitor to the Marquess of Bath's 100-room home this winter will get a free glass of sherry. The marquess said today it was to keep them warm.

Alert Banker Spots Robber on the Street

DETROIT (AP) — Ronald Levack, 22, a teller at a downtown branch of Detroit Bank and Trust Co., was walking along a busy street yesterday when he saw a face that looked familiar.

Levack pointed out the man to a policeman.

As a result, Max M. Feeney of Chicago faces arraignment in Federal Court today on a charge of robbing Levack of $2,100 Oct. 3 after passing a note over the bank counter.

Police said Feeney admitted robbing Levack and also robbing two other Detroit banks, one in Lansing and a fifth in Milwaukee for a total haul of $13,460.

Pledge Made by State Dems

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, Democratic leader in the House of the State Legislature, said yesterday "Democratic legislators have pledged their efforts to the achievement of a progressive legislative program for Michigan."

"We will fulfill this pledge and will work for a progressive program," Kowalski said in a statement.

"During the 1961 and 1962 legislative sessions, Democratic legislators worked closely with Gov. Swainson," Kowalski said. "We will work constructively with the administration of Republican George Romney if his administration holds to the promises made in his campaign."

Walter Reuther Tells of Loss of a Friend

DETROIT (UPD) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union, said today he was saddened by the death of Eleanor Roosevelt.

"I have lost a close and dear friend," he said, "and the world has lost a great and gracious lady who lived a life of dedication and devotion to her fellow man."

What Was So Good About Good Old Days?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody says it was different in the old days.

What were the old days really like? Well, they are at least a part of you if you can recall when:

BOYLE

A dime-a-dance girl didn't mind two for a nickel If you were a fancy stepper.

The customer was always right. If he failed to return, his absence had a threat of importance.

No kid who wanted to get into the circus free could ever agree on how many buckets of water it took to fill an elephant.

A boy remembered his last enjoyment by where he had parked his chewing gum. It was always on the immaculate underside of a piece of dining room or living room furniture.

You learned about women by studying the mail order catalog pictures of what they could wear in winter to keep themselves warm.

CORN KINDNESS

The man with the largest family of marriageable daughters in the neighborhood usually had the largest front porch and the darkest back yard—in which he sometimes later grew prize vegetables.

One of the most distinguished forms of individual charity was to confide to the other person your own solution of how to deal with foot corns.

When chicken was served, someone at the table was bound to observe, "I'm pure Southern—I simply can't enjoy it unless I hold it in my hands."

You could always cheap date a homely girl by playfully telling your mutual fortune by her freckles: "This loves me, this loves me not . . ."

Everybody predicted the lady who played the piano at the silent movies would make her mark in the musical world. She was so sensitive to moods.

Kaiser Wilhelm was held by some to have exemplified the full depths of human depravity. Others disagreed.

The height of male sophistication was to say, "Never chase a girl. They're like street cars. Wait a few moments and there'll be another one along."

Ice cream came in only three flavors. If you couldn't enjoy chocolate, vanilla or strawberry — well, you had to take the apple pie and cheese for dessert.

REAL CUT-UPS

College boys and hoboes rode box cars from New York and California to harvest Kansas wheat.

One way to rate the wealth of a family was to count the number of appendectomy scars among its survivors. If you could afford a doctor and hadn't been operated on for appendicitis, the question arose as to whether you had put your fate in the hands of a quack.

Only the rich drank orange juice except to cloak the taste of castor oil.

For less than the price of present stamps, the postman came twice daily — not once — to your door to deliver the mail. This enabled a kid taking a correspondence course in ventriloquism to learn to throw his voice doubly quicker and at less cost than he can today.

A cult held that if you chewed milk 15 times before swallowing it would improve your digestion.

Everyone confidently predicted science would free man—not burden him with fresh fears.

Those were the old days. Remember?

TERRACINA, Italy (AP)—An Italian underwater swimmer, Maurizio Sarra, author of a book entitled, "My Friend The Shark," recently died of injuries suffered when he was attacked by a shark.

Phone Firm Cut Off

Hello, Anyone There!

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — One of the world's biggest manufacturers of telephones, the Ericsson Telephone Co., admitted for a week its main switchboard hasn't had contact with the outside world.

A company engineer explained that the board is a new model, and all the small screws were a fraction of an inch too large. A team of mechanics is still replacing the screws.

The company is convinced the new model will ultimately be a success on the international market. The firm said it had similar trouble with the old type when it was first installed and now it's used all over the world.

Change in Fining

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Fines for overparking here have been reduced from $1 to 50 cents. However, officers will place a second ticket on cars found parked overtime on any subsequent checkup.

JFK Does OK at Polls Compared With Others

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Compared with previous midterm house races, members of President Kennedy's party fared better than those of five of the previous six presidents.

The one president who surpassed the performance of Kennedy's party in yesterday's balloting was Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

In the last 50 years since the House has been at approximately its present size, there have been 12 off-year elections.

Here is the record of how the president's party fared in winning House seats in those previous elections:

House Seats	Year	President	House Seats	Year	President
322	1934	Roosevelt	222	1942	Roosevelt
262	1938	Roosevelt	218 (x)	1930	Hoover
259*	1962	Kennedy	203	1954	Eisenhower
237	1925	Coolidge	191	1918	Wilson
234	1950	Truman	188	1946	Truman

xThis was a bare majority; however, by the time Congress met, so many Republicans had died that Democrats were in the majority and organized the House.

GOP Era Is Over in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's election ended a once highriding Republican era and brought prospects of a complete reshaping of the state's political make-up.

Richard M. Nixon's retirement by the voters wrote off the last of the Republican Big 4 that once commanded national attention.

Many factors contributed to Nixon's downfall, but the returns re-electing Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown were decisive.

Here's how it stood today in nearly complete returns from 31,148 of 31,820 precincts: Brown 2,921,030; Nixon 2,591,029.

The results solidified Democratic control of the big state and confronted the Republicans with an almost certain scramble to take over the GOP state organization.

Brown will have the strongest majority his party has ever had in both houses of the legislature. Democrats also won a 25-13 share of the newly-enlarged congressional delegation. They retained all their incumbents in state office.

The Republicans will be forced to start all over again.

Gone from the scene are Earl Warren, three-time governor who has been on the U.S. Supreme Court since 1953; former Sen. William F. Knowland, unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1958; former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, another 1958 election casualty; and now Nixon.

There's every expectation that conservative Assemblyman Joseph C. Shell of Los Angeles will challenge party moderates who have managed to hold the GOP state machinery with Nixon's help.

Shell, 43, polled over 600,000 votes in losing the Republican gubernatorial nomination to the former vice president in June. As a condition to supporting Nixon, he insisted on partial control of the 1964 delegation to the GOP national convention.

'Nuisance Tax Cut Beer Sales'

Brewers Assn. Charges Decline in Jobs, Too

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Brewers Association charged yesterday that a nuisance tax imposed on beer last July had caused a sharp decline in beer sales and employment in the industry.

Frank P. Parker, president and executive secretary of the association, said "several hundred workers have lost or will soon lose their jobs at Michigan breweries."

He expressed hope the incoming legislature "soon will recognize the situation and take it upon themselves to rescind the exorbitant tax."

Beer, liquor and cigarettes were included in the package of so-called nuisance taxes approved by the State Legislature last May after failure to agree on an income tax or other statewide tax proposals.

Parker said in a press release the beer sales were 9 per cent below a year ago.

He said the old tax of $1.25 a barrel was increased to $6.61 in the new tax. Consumers ultimately paid an additional 39 per cent tax boost on a case of beer and five cents a bottle additional tax at bars and taverns, he said.

Steddy Pair Wed at 72; Why Rush Into Things?

CANTERBURY, England (UPI) — George Steddy and Lucy Bottle were married yesterday — 54 years after they became engaged.

The couple, now 72, said they drifted apart after their engagement, and did it over again last year when they met again.

Proclaims Thanksgiving Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 22, as Thanksgiving Day and has urged all Americans to observe it "with reverence and with humility."

In his proclamation yesterday, the President said "Let us renew the spirit of the Pilgrims at the first Thanksgiving, lonely in an inscrutable wilderness, facing the dark unknown with a faith borne of their dedication to God and a fortitude drawn from their sense that all men were brothers."

Our Louie Could 'Project' Winners, Too

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — This is no outright knock at the priceless electronic gear the TV networks rolled into their studios Tuesday night, nor a blast against the various wizards who manned them and interpreted their blinking lights to mean that Dirksen was doing good in Carbondale, Ill.

It was an impressive array, a good deal more impressive than the accumulation of lights, wires, the Strategic Air Command has at its headquarters near Omaha, to warn of impending thermonuclear attack.

But, after all, the networks have more money than SAC.

We had a different system in the old days around INS. Our combination IBM, Univac and RCA 501 electric brain was a fine guy named Louie Alwell.

We didn't have a Victory Desk or a DEW Line or a Political Profile. Just Louie, mainly.

HEY, LOU!

Louie would sit there at his table, toying with a soggy paper cup of coffee, until somebody who was writing the running story would call across the newsroom, "Hey, Lou, how about another projection?"

Our triple-threat would shuffle a few leafs of wire copy for, say 30 seconds, take a slug of coffee and call back, "With two per cent of the districts reporting, Dewey's a lead-pipe cinch in Vermont."

He never missed.

When it would all be over, and the last hurrah had sounded, Louie would take a fellow out for a drink, too. Did RCA 501 ever spring? Ever see an IBM or a Univac reach for a tab?

During one stage of the returns on TV Chet Huntley of NBC faded out and Ed Morgan of ABC came on. Two wires had crossed somewhere in the bowels of the machines, either NBC's or ABC's or AT & T's.

"We seem to have had another network on," Chet said, on returning to the screen. "Well, good luck."

Things like that never happened around unwired INS. Louie would never let an AP or UP fellow in our shop, though he was quite civil to them after hours.

It was good TV coverage all around, and so loaded with commercials that American viewers must have lost a composite 10-million pounds of weight getting up from comfortable chairs to turn down the double volume of the messages about coffee, tea, cars, gas, cold pills, laxatives and other basic needs of the nation at this hour when it showed the world that democracy works.

The success of the TV shows might bring about a wrenching change, however. Who can say with any certainty that the Teleprompter people might not step in, in 1964, and put it exclusively into theaters — like the Liston-Patterson fight?

TAKES ITS TOLL

The campaign took its toll near the end, as candidates and their champions worked themselves to the bone.

Dick Nixon, winding up his exhausting campaign against Pat Brown, faced the TV camera and with a determined jut to his jaw said, "And when I become president of California — I mean Governor of the United States — I mean . . ."

Paul Schrivane, New York City council president, in a big final send-off to Democratic senatorial candidate James Donovan, referred to him as "my very good friend Jim Burns."

The veteran Democratic war horse, Herbert Lehman, had a bewildering word for Robert Morgenthau in a final rally.

"I say send the best man to the governor's mansion in Albany," the former governor and senator said with great vigor. "Send Robert Montgomery!"

The voters couldn't find the movie star's name on the ballot, so they re-elected Rockefeller.

California Speeds Count of Ballots

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Twenty-four hours after the last polls closed, virtually all of the nearly 6 million votes cast in California's election Tuesday were counted and reported.

The polls in San Francisco closed at 8 p.m. Tuesday night. By 8 p.m. Wednesday night, all but 672 of the state's far-flung 31,620 precincts had been tallied.

By contrast, in the 1960 election, it was Thursday after the week following the voting before Richard M. Nixon won California from John F. Kennedy.

One county, Kern, used an electronic vote tabulator as an experiment in Tuesday's election. It counted more than 92,000 ballots in six hours and 50 minutes.

Dick Nixon, Angry at Press, Holds His 'Last' Conference

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Richard M. Nixon, as angry and distraught as he has ever been in public, met reporters in what he called his final news conference—and accused segments of the press of failing utterly to give him a fair shake.

Newsmen thought the Republican gubernatorial candidate had called the conference Wednesday to concede victory to Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown. Nixon did that, but he kept talking.

"As I leave you," Nixon told reporters coldly, "I want you to know just how much you're going to be missed.

"You won't have Nixon to kick around any more because, gentlemen, this is my last press conference."

Nixon was endorsed by some 75 per cent of the California daily newspapers that took sides in the turbulent gubernatorial campaign. But he said many of his statements had been ignored by the press.

"I have no complaints about the press coverage," Nixon said early in his statement. But it turned out he had plenty.

Samples!

SAMPLES!

"I am proud of the fact I defended my opponent's patriotism. You gentlemen didn't report it, but I am proud that I did that.

"As I leave the press, all I can say is this: For 16 years, ever since the (Alger) Hiss case, you've had a lot of fun, you've had an opportunity to attack me and I think I have given as good as I can take.

"It was carried right up to the last day (of the campaign). I made a talk on television, a talk in which I made a flub.

"I said I was running for governor of the United States. The Los Angeles Times dutifully reported that. Mr. Brown the last day made a flub. He said 'I hope everybody wins, that you vote the straight Democratic ticket, including Sen. Kuchel (a Republican).' The Los Angeles Times did not record it.

(The Times endorsed Nixon.)

"And I can only say thank God for television and radio for keeping the newspapers a little more honest.

"Among the great newspapers in this country that people say I should be concerned about are the New York Post, the Milwaukee Journal and the Fresno and the Sacramento Bee.

IN THE FUTURE!

"I would hope that in the future, as a result of this campaign, that perhaps they (the newspapers) would try, at least simply, to see what both candidates say is reported, that, if they have questions, to ask the same questions of the other candidate.

"I hope that what I have said today will at least make television, radio and the press first recognize the great responsibility they have to report all the news and, second, to recognize that they have a right and a responsibility, if they are against a candidate—give him the shaft.

"But also recognize, if they give him the shaft—put one lonely reporter on the campaign who will report what the candidate says, now and then. Thank you, gentlemen, and good day."

The former vice president made it clear his indictment was not directed at all reporters.

PRAISES GREENBERG

"There is one reporter here," he said, "who has religiously, when he was covering me—and, incidentally, this is no reflection on the others because some of you, you know, weren't bothered. One reporter, Carl Greenberg—he's the only reporter on the (Los Angeles) Times that fits this thing, who wrote every word that I said—wrote it fairly, wrote it objectively.

"I don't mean that others didn't have a right to do it differently, but Carl, despite whatever feelings he had, felt that he had an obligation to report the facts as he saw them."

Nixon also defended the right of editorial expression:

"I can only say that the great metropolitan newspapers in this field have a right to take any position they want to on the editorial page. But on the other news page they also have a right to have reporters cover—men who have strong feelings—whether they're for or against a candidate, but the responsibility also is to put a few Greenbergs on a candidate they happen to be against.

ASKS FOR TRUTH

"Whether they are against him on the editorial page, or just philosophically, deep down a fellow who at least will report what the man said. That's all anybody can ask."

Gov. Brown said his campaign received "very fair coverage."

"The press has treated me fairly," Brown said. "I'm almost afraid to say that because my opponent might say this is evidence of special treatment (from the press).

BROWN COMMENTS

Of Nixon's news conference, Brown said: "I think Mr. Nixon took the defeat a little bit hard. In retrospect, he'll feel differently."

At his news conference, Nixon said this of his future:

"Well, my plans are to go home. I've got to get acquainted with my family again. My plans, incidentally, are, from a political standpoint, of course, to take a holiday. It will be a long holiday.

"I don't say this with any sadness. I couldn't feel, frankly, more proud of my staff for the campaign they helped me to put on."

Publisher Otis Chandler of the Los Angeles Times said his paper has supported Nixon in all his campaigns and "we continue today to believe that he was the best qualified candidate for governor, as we said in our endorsement editorial of Oct. 21."

The Sacramento and Fresno Bees, two other papers mentioned by Nixon, are members of the McClatchy group. Myron V. DePew, assistant to the McClatchy editor, said: "We can't make any comment. We'd like to know what in the world he was getting at."

Norman E. Isaacs, executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, said:

EDITOR SPEAKS UP

"Mr. Nixon seems to make the necessary distinction between editorial endorsement and news coverage. On this we agree. We agree that newspapers ought to take editorial positions. We agree that they should report what a candidate has to say. This is what we have done—report what the candidates have had to say, including untruths they have had to say about our newspapers."

Nixon headquarters in Los Angeles provided The Associated Press with a list of about 45 daily California newspapers that endorsed Nixon. A Nixon aide said several papers probably had been omitted from the list, which was prepared from memory. Brown headquarters provided a list of a dozen pro Brown papers and said it also had probably overlooked several.

Major dailies endorsing Nixon included the Los Angeles Times, San Francisco Chronicle, Oakland Tribune, San Diego Union, San Diego Tribune, Sacramento Union, Hollywood Citizen-News, San Jose Mercury-News and Riverside Press-Enterprise.

Major dailies endorsing Brown included the San Francisco Examiner, San Francisco News-Call Bulletin, Long Beach Independent and Press-Telegram, Sacramento Bee, Fresno Bee, San Bernardino Sun and Santa Barbara News-Press.

Nixon acquired a reputation of aloofness among some newsmen during his unsuccessful campaign for the presidency in 1960. A Nixon aide said privately during the California primary election campaign this year that the former vice president was aware of this situation and intended to conduct himself so that it would not be a problem again.

Nixon made what many felt was a conscientious effort to avoid the problem when he invited interviews during the general election campaign.

A reporter who traveled with Nixon during the campaign said Nixon often made a special effort to talk with newsmen on campaign buses and planes.

CONCEDES DEFEAT — Former Vice President Richard Nixon presented these expressions in Beverly Hills, Calif., yesterday as he conceded defeat in his campaign for the California governorship and made an angry denunciation of the press. He told a large group of newsmen bitterly: "You won't have Nixon to kick around any longer."

FCC Asking Radio, TV About Election

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's radio and television stations soon will be asked by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to answer in detail how they handled the political broadcasts during the 1962 primary and election campaigns.

The FCC notified the stations yesterday that they would soon receive questionnaires. They were advised to "retain all records pertaining to political broadcasts."

Sultan Sad as Bottom Drops Out of Clove Market

By LYNN HEINZERLING

ZANZIBAR (AP)—Anybody with a bright idea for increasing the consumption of cloves should get in touch with his highness the sultan, Seyyid Sir Abdulla Bin Khalifer, royal palace, Beit El-Ajaib Square, Zanzibar.

BACKGROUND — SPECIAL REPORT — OF THE NEWS

The sultan's realm, which encompasses the tiny islands of Zanzibar and Pemba off East Africa, has 4.5 million clove trees and supplies eight of every 10 cloves in the world.

The bottom has dropped out of that market. The huge warehouses of the Zanzibar Clove Growers Association are piled high with 22,000 tons of cloves—a two-year backlog.

The sweet, spicy smell of cloves gives the narrow streets and crowded bazaars of Zanzibar an oriental flavor, but the aroma is turning sour for the merchants.

THE SULTAN

SAD NEWS

At association headquarters, where the trade is controlled, they tell you sadly that Indonesia bought 8,000 tons of cloves in 1960, but only 3,000 in 1961. The 1962 figures look even worse. A ton of cloves is worth about $750 on the world market.

India's purchases have dropped from 2,500 tons to 500 tons. India and Indonesia traditionally are bulwarks of the clove market. In the past, they have taken about 90 per cent of the world supply.

The United States still buys about 1,000 tons a year. Most of it goes into spiced meats and other foods and, in the form of clove oil, into toothpaste, soaps, hard candy and ice cream.

Indonesians grind up the cloves and mix the powder with tobacco to make a cigarette with a sharp taste and odor. Clove growers here say somewhat petulantly that Indonesia has been buying so many Soviet MIGs and other military hardware that Zanzibar cloves have become a luxury.

In India, cloves are popular as a food spice and even more prized by devotees of the betel nut. They wrap a betel nut in a leaf along with a clove and enjoy the sharp flavor for hours.

The sultan is interested in the trade for a number of reasons. It provides a living for a good many of his subjects. It normally provides a third of all government revenue in the form of export taxes.

One of his ancestors, Seyyid Said Bin Sultan, who reigned from 1804 to 1856, is credited with starting the clove industry in Zanzibar. He advised his people to plant many clove trees. The idea was popular since the tree requires practically no cultivation and no pruning.

The clove which you see stuck in the ham is the unopened flower bud of the clove tree. The buds are picked by hand when they begin to turn pink and are almost ready to open. For the huge crop of 1957, more than 40,000 Africans came over from the mainland to help.

In seeking new markets for the pungent little buds, such products as clove-scented insecticides, clove-flavored apple and prune juices, deodorants, clove-flavored chocolate and an insect repellant have been produced. Because they do repel insects, clove buds are being woven into coat hangers and sold in London.

Man Dies of Injuries, Struck by Truck Oct. 2

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph Karnas, 75, of Detroit died yesterday of injuries suffered Oct. 2 when he was struck by a truck backing from a driveway at Kirby and Russell.

The truck driver, Benjamin B. Sarver, 54, of Flint was ticketed at the time of the accident for backing without safe observation. Police said he will be recalled for further questioning.

Tiny Bearings Major Advance

Will Play Vital Role in Space Probes

FULLERTON, Calif. (UPI) —A Southern California research and development organization has developed a miniature ball bearing which weighs only 1/1,000,000th of an ounce and is designed for motors almost invisible to the naked eye.

Scientists at SUMICS say this is only the beginning. They say they expect to develop parts for even smaller motors.

Developer James Pelle of Laguna Beach, Calif., said development of the tiny ball bearing is a major breakthrough in miniaturization and microanalysis which must be employed on all kinds of devices to be used in space and electronics industries.

While the ball bearings have not yet been used, except in SUMICS laboratories, Pelle said there are big applications for the tiny items.

He said microscopic wound and assembled motors already have been made in several aerospace laboratories.

SPACE GREASE

"Because they are not affected by the high vacuum conditions of outer space, they are ideal for use as bearings and 'space grease' in satellite equipment," Pelle said.

Pelle, a former research specialist in the physics department of Hughes Aircraft Co., said that under conditions of high vacuum such as occur in outer space ordinary greases evaporate or freeze solid.

Much research was required to determine the type of metal to be used in these tiny bearings. The scientists settled for silver.

"When nickel salt crystals are made very small their colors change," Pelle said. "A nickel salt that is ordinarily red will turn green when made into tiny crystals."

He said other metals that could be used are stainless steel, platinum and white gold.

Treed Angora Feline Frustrates Rescuers

WELLINGTON, Kan. (AP) — Tommy, a white Angora cat, has a mind of his own.

He ran up a tree at his home to escape a dog. He refused all appeals to come down and spent all night and part of the next day in the tree.

His owner finally called the fire department for help.

"The minute we started to raise the ladder the cat backed right down the tree," said a fireman.

Pontiac Press Photo

"My home in Turkey is right there." Dr. Arsho Bartevian, Pontiac State Hospital (center), points out to Mrs. William J. Emerson, West Iroquois Road (right), as Mrs. C. G. Widdifield, Ottawa Drive, looks on. Dr. Bartevian will be the principal speaker at the World Fellowship dinner meeting of the Pontiac YWCA Nov. 15 at 6:30 p.m. in the Oakland Center of Michigan State University Oakland.

Dr. Arsho Bartevian, staff physician at Pontiac State Hospital, will be the speaker at a joint membership-world fellowship meeting of the Pontiac YWCA Nov. 15.

Scheduled for Michigan State University Oakland Student center, the meeting will be preceded by dinner at 6:30 p.m.

CHANGED PLANS

Dr. Bartevian, who is also a dentist and a psychiatrist, was born and brought up in Turkey. In 1955 she was prepared to accept a year's scholarship at a German university. But through the serving as guide for a month for a group of about 60 American "goodwill ambassadors" touring Turkey, she changed her plans and came to the United States instead.

After postgraduate training in Binghamton, New York, she had a year's internship at Detroit Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Bartevian is married to a German, Dr. Rolf K. Sachau, also on the staff of the state hospital.

On Tuesday, Dr. Bartevian and Mrs Jaroslava Cerny, whose husband is also a state hospital doctor, were entertained at tea at the YWCA by the chairman of the membership committee, Mrs. William Emerson, and the chairman of the world fellowship committee, Mrs. George Widdifield. Officers of the board of directors were other guests.

Dr. Bartevian's topic next Thursday will be "Turkey Today". She will speak of the contrasting conditions in Turkey's cosmopolitan cities, such as Istanbul and Ankara, and in the primitive interior villages.

The YWCA in Turkey is celebrating its 50th birthday this year. Under the direction of its American executive director it conducts classes for the native girls. Dr. Bartevian spent one summer studying English at the YWCA camp near the Sea of Marmara.

So successful have these classes been that last year the Turkish government recognized its work by issuing certificates of graduation from the ministry of education to the girls completing the business courses.

Dinner reservations for Nov. 15 must be made at the YWCA by Monday. The event is open to the public and any who wish to attend only the lecture may do so.

Can't Have It Both Ways—Abby

Wants Him to Quit Cards but Just When He's Losing

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband started to gamble a few years ago. He used to win big so it was no problem.

Lately he is betting heavy and now his losses are more than we can afford. Should I set a limit on how much he can gamble?

ABBY

I hate to make him quit entirely because it is his only relaxation. I've heard that gambling is a sickness. If it is, what is the cure?

GAMBLER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You can't have it both ways. If you accept a man's winnings, you can't complain when he gambles away the grocery money.

Gambling can indeed become a sickness.

Write to Gamblers Anonymous, P. O. Box 17173, Los Angeles 17, Calif., for helpful information. (It's free.)

DEAR ABBY: I have always known that my nose was not my best feature but I don't thing about it until someone gets me off in a corner and asks, "How come you don't get your nose fixed?"

I have seen worse noses than mine and don't give it a second thought if the person's personality is pleasing. But what do you say to people who ask questions like that?

NOSE BETTER

DEAR NOSE: Tell them you don't need to have it fixed because it still runs all right. P. S. The only reason one should consider cosmetic surgery is to please himself.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell your readers that there is a simple way to have one's keys returned in case of loss without foolishly tagging keys with one's own name and address, thus risking burglary or car theft.

Tag the keys with the telephone number of a close friend or relative. The person whose number is on the keys can then arrange to return the keys to their owner.

PAUL, THE BRONX

DEAR ABBY: The woman signed "NEAT AND CLEAN" — who hesitated to marry a man who did manual labor because he might come home in greasy overalls — can have my husband. He is always neat and clean. He is handsome, seldom sober, has no character and he treats me like a slob. He works in an office. I have never seen him with a speck of dirt on him.

After work (I work out, too) I do the housework and the gardening. My husband is so neat and clean that if I ask him to carry out the garbage he goes pale. I'm not kidding. I'd welcome the sight of dirty, greasy overalls on my husband.

At least it would mean he had been doing something to justify his existence. I would be proud to say that my husband was a "common laborer." It would make him sound like a real man.

Drive Car if Public's Been Told

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My fiance, who lives on the same street as I do, just recently bought a new car. He goes to business during the day and does not use the car.

I drive but do not have a car of my own. My fiance has told me that any time I want to use his car I may do so. In fact, he has given me an extra set of keys.

My mother thinks it would be wrong for me to use his car and that I will bring unpleasant criticism upon myself if I do. I can't see why. May I have your opinion, please?

A: If your engagement has been announced, there can be no criticism of your using your fiance's car.

Q: My husband and I received an invitation to a wedding worded as follows:

The honour of your presence
at the marriage of Miss Anne Jones
to
Mr. Henry Smith
etc.

R.S.V.P. is engraved in the lower left corner. Will you please tell me how to answer this invitation?

Mr. and Mrs. James Brown accept with pleasure (or regret that they are unable to accept) the kind invitation to the marriage of
to
Mr. Henry Smith
on Saturday,
the tenth of November

Send your answer to the bride unless there is some other address under R.S.V.P.

Q. Will you please tell me when it is necessary, and when not, for a gentleman to rise for a lady?

A: A gentleman always rises when a lady comes into the room. In public places, men do not jump up for every strange woman who happens to approach. But if any woman addresses a remark to him, a gentleman stands as he answers her. In a restaurant, when a lady bows to him, a gentleman merely makes the gesture of rising by getting up half way from his chair and at the same time bowing. Then he sits down again.

After appetizers at the South Tilden Avenue home of Mrs. Leslie Langford, the group went to Mrs. Donald Weddles' home on Inverness Lane for the rest of their meal. Dinner chairman was Mrs. E. W. Watchpocket.

Guests for the evening included Mrs. John Salow, Mrs. David Glass and Mrs. Roy Linn.

Plans were made for the auxiliary to assist the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Junior Miss Contest Nov. 24. Holiday charity plans also were discussed.

Glamorous little jackets will dress up a skirt or sheath for after-five occasions. At the left the button-down jacket uses a floral sheer fabric in gold or combinations with gold; it's completely lined. The rayon jacket at the right has a matching sleeveless shell, both in shimmering gold or silver. Use the jacket to glamorize a sheath or the shell alone with an evening skirt. Both are by Glentex and are available locally.

Get Weary Keeping Slim

By MRS. BEULA B. MARBLE
Past President,
American Dietetic Association

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — Women love to ride hobby horses. When it comes to food, what a ride we've had on our pet mounts.

Remember when we stuffed our children with spinach and ourselves with bran? Nowadays we are getting a little weary of the struggling ride to slim down with formula diets, especially to stay slim.

"We're hep though with polyunsaturates, dashing off on some daring canters. "Pull in the reins of this young colt," the experts in nutrition, the scientists themselves, would tell us.

This colt may be one, but only one, of a span of horses in nutrition. For actually, there are sixty horses in the span, each an essential nutrient and all of them pull together in really good nutrition.

LIVELY LISTENING

Riding one horse off on a tangent of nutrition provided some lively listening for professional dietitians at the annual meeting of the American Dietetic Association in Miami Beach, Fla., recently.

Among New York society women the current favorite as reported by Dr. Schulte and Professor Munves of New York University is that soil depletion causes malnutrition.

To be sure, poor soil does reduce the amount of food it yields, but the soil itself has very little effect on the quality of food. Whether it's a Winesap or a Delicious makes much more difference in an apple than the soil it grows on.

Her figure - conscious friends, Dr. Margaret Ohlson said, still disdain potatoes and breads but never pass up the lemon pie. Dr. Ohlson's friends in Iowa are no different from the rest of us.

EAT LESS SPUDS

According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture food consumption studies, we are eating less potatoes and grain foods in this country than we did 25 years ago. We still eat about the same amount of sugar and fats, but more animal foods.

Yankees making a meal in Florida of just a tossed green salad, a roll and a glass of iced tea had the visiting dietitians peering at the salad for "pieces of chicken or cheese or some good protein food.

It wasn't there. And why not? "Don't need as much protein in a warm climate," was the answer.

The fact is that a Yankee has the same protein needs whether he takes his body to Alaska or Florida, or just plain stays home.

COSTLY EXCURSIONS

Vitamin hobbyhorses have enticed us on glamorous and expensive excursions. It's been a long ride from the days of eating yeast cakes and hoping grey hair would turn brown again — there are easier ways to do it now —to more sophisticated capsules and foods fortified with vitamins.

There have been some accidents too on the vitamin ride, especially from overdosage of vitamin D in children. If a little bit is good, more is NOT better.

This is true of vitamins and other nutrients too. enough is enough.

It is easy for Americans to get the vitamins they need just by choosing a good variety of foods which are available in any grocery store. Vitamin supplements belong in the physician's province to be used when there is a need for them.

JUST ONE FACET

Polyunsaturated fatty acids are just one facet of the fat picture and fats are only one of the factors implicated in heart disease.

A cautious ride with oils and the new margarines may be acceptable for some people while the scientists discover all of the pieces of the puzzle and put them together.

Meanwhile remember that margarine has just as many calories as butter.

Panhellenic Members Work on Birthday Kits

Mrs. Enar West of North Hammond Lake Drive opened her home to the Pontiac City Panhellenic Monday evening. Cohostesses were Mrs. John Irwin Jr. and Mrs. John Collison.

Instead of the usual program, members assembled birthday kits for the children attending the school at the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children on South Telegraph Road. Mrs. Raymond Wilhelm and Betsy Carnall are philanthropic co-chairmen.

Proceeds from a silent auction conducted by JoAnn VanTassel, ways and means chairman, were tagged for the Panhellenic scholarship fund.

Rosamond Haeberle, president, will attend the Institute on Organizational Leadership, Saturday, at Michigan State University Oakland, with Mrs. William Belaney, Mrs. William Kish, Mrs. Francis Webster and Miss Van Tassel.

Mrs. C. S. Packard was welcomed as a new member.

Fox and Hounds Inn, Bloomfield Hills, will be the setting for the annual Christmas dinner at 7 p.m. Dec. 3.

Any area woman who is a member of a national college sorority is eligible for membership in Pontiac City Panhellenic and may attend a meeting by calling the president.

Re-hang, Damp

Draperies which do not require ironing may be re-hung while still slightly damp after laundering. Just stretch the edges and seams, and finish drying on the rod. Spread newspapers or towels on the window-sills and floor to catch any minor drips.

Church Groups Meet

The Van Lierop - Morain Group of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Herman Reeder on West Hopkins Avenue.

Mrs. Walter Napersky gave devotions from the study of Romans.

Lucille McBain Group also gathered Monday evening with Mrs. Howard Tanner of Orchard Lake. Audrey Linkeman gave devotions from the Book of Romans and Mrs. Leonard Spiegel presented the program on "Christian Helps."

The Eleanor Creswell Group met recently in the Dorcas Room of the church with Mrs. Ethel Powley, hostess. Mrs. Omar MacNutt of Neome Drive opened her home to the Peg Creswell Group.

Featured swimmers will be Gus Stager, team and Olympic coach, 1960; Richard Kimball, national champion and diving coach; and Ed Bartasch, national backstroke champion, 100 and 200 yard race.

Comedy acts, diving competitions and racing will make up the program.

Serving on the PTSA steering committee are Mrs. Willis Schnekenburger, Mrs. Harol Beebe and Gary Mihalek.

Idea's a 'Bell-Ringer'

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — To find out how early my husband returns home after a night out with the boys, I pin a bell to the end of the sheet on his side of the bed. When he wearily climbs in, the bell wakes me.

A. R.

DEAR GIRLS — Of course, your only reason for doing this would be the assurance that hubby had a good time. If any other motives were lurking in the back of A. R.'s mind . . . but I am sure they were not.

DEAR POLLY — Here is one for the motorist. When oven mitts wear thin and the heat comes through, launder and keep them in the car.

They are excellent for keeping the windshield clear on nasty days when it fogs up. By the time they are ready for this chore, the stiffness has gone and it is even possible to drive with one on.

MRS. D. O.

DEAR POLLY — If your television set has rabbit ears and you have picture trouble, improve the picture by wrapping the rabbit ears with aluminum foil.

GIRLS — With due respect to my television repairman (who says it is the bunk) television reception is often better with foil wrapped "ears." I have used them for a long time.

Teens Not Surrendering World to N-War

BY EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

American young people aren't throwing up their hands and saying, "What's the use?"

Just before the Cuban Crisis they still felt that something definitely could be done in this nuclear age to insure peace.

Questioning 1,250 teen-agers across the country, we learned without surprise that three out of four have often thought of the possibility of nuclear war.

But what came as an eye-opener was the conviction expressed by 57 per cent of the survey group that each as an individual could do something to insure peace.

What's more, 44 per cent had plans to take some action, even though in many instances these were not too clearly defined.

The Peace Corps seems to have impressed many as an ideal instrument for working toward peace — and giving young people a chance to take part in that work.

WOULD SEEK LEADERSHIP

Kathly Slusser, 16, of Sadsburyville, Pa., for example, mentioned the Peace Corps in saying:

"For one thing we can avoid issues such as the recent crisis at Ole Miss.

This provides our enemies with good propaganda against us. Secondly, although we cannot all belong to the Peace Corps, it is a wonderful organization and can certainly help to insure peace."

Many others thought that at the very least they should seek out and support capable and responsible leaders. Simon Kufta, 15, of Jersey City, N. J., expressed this by saying the answer was to "vote wisely in the elections."

Albert Bendure, 17, of Kansas City, Mo., advised, "Elect capable leaders."

Melodie Lynn, 17, of Miami, Fla., thought the answer was to "remain faithful and loyal to my country."

And Paul Swenson, 17, of Aurora, Ill., commented that his contribution as an individual would be to "Work for the moral and scientific well-being of our country."

TEACHING, SPEAKING

Here are what some others plan:

"Advocate peace through teaching and or public speaking" — Linda Crosson, 16, Downingtown, Pa.

"I am going to study to become a medical missionary and help others understand each other through God" — Sandy Speigner, 16, Tucson, Ariz.

"Talk to and make friends with people from other countries with whom we have poor relationships, such as Russia and China"—Judy Donovan, 17, Rochester, N. Y.

"If it's not too late by then, I expect to go to Europe and do everything I possibly can to further democracy and peace" — Hay Beaird, 15, Oklahoma City, Okla.

DOUBT NUCLEAR WAR

While the great majority say they think often of the possibility of a nuclear war, most of them, 54 per cent, do not believe it will ever happen. At least, not before they are 40.

Those thinking there might be war mentioned the rise of Communist China and the armaments race.

"I think that the Chinese will invade Russia trying to have complete control over Communism," said Jack Ywan, 15, of Charleston, S. C. "As to whether the U.S. will get dragged into it, I wouldn't know."

But the majority simply could not conceive of a nuclear war.

"Mankind can't be that stupid," said George Lish, 18, of Sparks, Nev.

Wash Cloth Often

Nylon fleece dust cloths perform like magnets to draw dust into their deep pile finish. The magnetic pull is strongest when the duster is clean, so it needs to be washed often.

Zeta Eta Unit Fetes Pledges

Zeta Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held a pledge party at the home of Mrs. Clifford Wilcox Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Harry Winn of Bloomfield Hills was guest, and Mrs. John Ward was cohostess.

Parents, Teens Out of Touch, Expert Says

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Today's parents are badly out of touch with their teen-aged children, says a University of Michigan psychologist.

Dr. Richard L. Cutler, speaking at the 33rd annual Parent Education Institute here yesterday, said rapid changes in society, science and technology are partially responsible. People growing up in different frameworks tend to be frozen into different attitudes, he said.

The teen-aged population, in effect, has a split personality, he told a group of parents. For example, he said, 53 per cent of Detroit males between 16 and 20 years of age are neither in school nor working, and in Los Angeles County, Calif., illigitimacy has increased 195 per cent in the last five years.

"At the same time, one sees young people with a serious and mature approach to world problems within these same age groups," he added.

The split personality results, in part, from the growth of mass communications and increased mobility. Mass communications bring diverse views on modes of behavior to the children, and mobility helps call the values received at home into question early in life, Cutler said.

Midterm Grind On at U. of M.

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

An air of gloom has set over the University of Michigan campus as students have been burning the midnight oil to prepare for the round of midterm examinations which begin this week.

The academic calendar has been moved ahead one week this year in preparation for the trimester system which is scheduled tentatively to begin in August. The traditional "semester break" in January has been virtually eliminated as registration for the spring semester will immediately follow final examinations.

Even during exam periods, however, it is difficult to find a Michigan student studying on Saturday night. Saturday is the night of concerts, plays and fraternity parties, and there is enough entertainment variety offered to please everyone.

Last Saturday Hill Auditorium was filled to capacity for the 11th annual joint concert of the University of Michigan and University of Wisconsin men's glee clubs. Traditionally the Glee Club invites the men's glee club of the college whose football team played that afternoon to sing the first half of the concert in the evening.

For the last section of the program, the two glee clubs combined to sing the representive alma mater songs of both universities.

The U. of M. Glee Club has made many concert tours during the past few years, including a Pacific Coast tour last summer when they appeared on nationwide television with Dinah Shore. A trip to Europe is being planned tentatively for this summer.

Singing in the Glee Club this year is Gary Relyea of Rosedale Drive, a sophomore in premedicine. Junior Don Cole of Orchard Lake is also a member of the Glee Club and sings with the Friars, a double quartet of Glee Club members.

Attending the Glee Club concert with their dates were Carol Ann Riley of Illinois Avenue and Charlotte Johnson of Ogemaw Road. Carol Wargelin of Voorheis Road and Kathy O'Brien of Pingree Street were escorted to the concert by their fathers who were on campus for Dads' Day at Mosher Hall.

On Saturday night, the various houses of the men's quadrangles have open houses, allowing the men to entertain their dates at small parties in their rooms. A record dance also is presented in the house lounge, where refreshments are served by the housemother.

Reeves House of South Quadrangle sponsored an open house last Saturday evening and many couples attended after the Glee Club concert. Among the students present at this affair were freshman Mark Berg of Middlebelt Road, Bruce Coleman of West Iroquois Road and sophomore Doug Anderson also of West Iroquois Road. All three are enrolled in the College of Engineering.

One Woman to Be New in Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Only one new woman member will serve in the 88th Congress. She is Mrs. Frank R. Reid Jr., an Illinois Republican. She beat Democrat Stanley H. Cowan for the state's 15th District House seat.

* * *

Mrs. Reid will serve with 10 other women who were returned to House seats they already held and with two women Senators whose seats were not up for election this year.

Rep. Gracie Pfost, D-Idaho, who gave up her house seat to run for the Senate, did not quite make it. Incumbent Republican Sen. Len B. Jordan reclaimed the Idaho seat by a narrow margin.

Twenty women, a record high, served in the 87th Congress, two in the Senate and 18 in the House. two women senators — Demo- Only 10 of the women House members sought re-election.

They all made it. Terms of the crat Maurine B. Neuberger of Oregon and Republican Margaret Chase Smith of Maine — do not expire until 1967.

Incumbent women house members who will be on the job again in the new Congress are Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, dean of the distaff lawmakers with 22 years service; Catherine May, R-Wash.; Julia Butler Hansen, D-Wash.; Elizabeth Kee, D-W. Va.; Edith Green, D-Ore.; Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich.; Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo.; Edna Kelly, R-N.Y.; Katharine St. George, R-N.Y. and Florence Dwyer, R-N.J.

Mrs. Charlotte Reid (above), 51, is the only woman of 17 candidates of her sex to survive the elections. A Republican, Mrs. Reid of Aurora, Ill., will represent the 15th District. She is mother of four children.

Last year 1,729 Norwegians emigrated — 88 per cent to the United States and nine per cent to Canada.

Competition a Help

Join Group to Reduce

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many of my readers write asking me about different reducing groups. Many have inquired about TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensible). This is an organization with national headquarters in Milwaukee.

My readers say, "They are a group with state and national conventions and are a boon to anyone with a serious overweight problem. This is patterned after Alcoholics Anonymous but has a magazine from headquarters with encouraging news from other fatties all over the country.

"If we gain we pay 25 cents per pound, and wear a bib with a pig on it and have to sing a 'pig song.' If we don't lose we wear a bib with a turtle on it and pay a 10-cent fine. The one who loses most during the week years a jeweled crown and is queen. The second biggest loser is princess and she also wears a crown.

"I have lost 35 pounds this year and have another 30 to go, but I have complete confidence that I can do it with the help of my fellow club members.

"When one has been unhappy with oneself for years because of being so fat, you can't imagine the thrill of being crowned queen for the first time!"

This is evidence that misery loves company but it is more than that. Having folks to talk with who are just as interested in losing weight as you are, comparing notes, and a certain amount of competition, all make you try harder.

Then too, the technique of penalties and rewards is most effective. The way it's worked out in this group sounds like a gay hilarious time, also.

If you missed my Trick and Treat Diet which ran recently and which gives you a loss of about 5 pounds in a week, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for that booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fool That Counselor

Try It... You Can Do It

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE N-470: William M., aged 18, is a cousin of mine.

When Mrs. Crane and I were first married, he would drop in for a visit.

But he would then sit around literally for hours without saying more than a single word.

Maybe he would nod his head or utter an "uh-huh" but that was all.

Former President Calvin Coolige was loquacious compared to my cousin.

But William wanted to earn money during vacation. It was the depth of the depression and jobs were not easy to find.

So William finally linked up with an organization that sold kitchen products, door to door.

This is actually the most extrovertive task in the world, the greatest introvert you could ever meet.

So the usual vocational guidance counselor would have vetoed William's choice.

TOP SALESMAN

Then he started house-to-house selling. And within 10 days he was top salesman in his crew of a dozen.

Before the end of the month, he was highest man of the 80 in the entire Chicago territory.

And soon he led the entire national sales force!

We didn't fully realize the transformation in William till our daughter Judy was born.

William then visited our house and sat down beside Mrs. Crane's bed. Soon he launched on two hours of rapid-fire conversation till we hardly could get in a word.

Mrs. Crane couldn't believe her ears, nor could I.

For we were witnessing the complete transformation of a sphinx-like, untalkative fellow into a glib speaker who seemed poised and sure of himself.

Since then, William has gone on into two other fields of national selling and now is sales manager for a professional product in the Middle West, and its top salesman in the entire U.S.A.

In citing William's case, I want you teen-agers to realize that there are no obstacles to your success if you have determination, plus a good brain, and if you then learn the proper sales talk.

Human engineering labs and vocational guidance counselors may veto a certain job for you, but you can still become outstandingly successful there at —IF.

And that big "IF.", means IF you have the will to win!

True enough, we usually urge introverts to select introvertive tasks, such as chemical engineering, accounting, and similar occupations where you deal primarily with things instead of people.

But you can still cross-up your vocational guidance counselor, if you have the will to do so.

However, it is generally helpful to analyze your assets and liabilities.

Then pick a job for which you are already qualified. But select one that offers a constructive service to mankind — not one that cheats or harms the buyer!

But conversational skill can soon be acquired, as William's case proves, so don't stay out of the sales field because you are now tongue-tied.

Send for my "Vocational Guidance Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c. It also contains a successful "Letter of Application for a Job," which you may adapt to your own needs.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

He Shoots the Deer—You Cook It

TARGET FOR PARTY GIVERS — The hunter's bag, venison or pheasant, becomes a star catch for gourmet dinners when special seasoning, special cooking techniques, add spirited flavor. Fruity Cumberland sauce lends taste contrast; frosty green grapes garnish the platter.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

It's that time again—the mighty hunters are about to go forth into the north woods and come back with a deer. This will make some women who don't like venison very unhappy.

To these gals who have to cook the meat, whether or no, we would offer a few words of encouragement.

Your hunter has to do a good job of cleaning his deer at once. But you can make it taste better by removing every bit of fat before you cook it. The fat has the wild taste many do not like. You replace this fat with strips of bacon or salt pork when you roast the venison.

If you are unsure of the age of meat, treat it as a pot roast and cook it in moist heat. You can marinate it for an hour first in French dressing.

Here is a recipe for oven roasting. This recipe also suggests marinating the meat, this time in red wine.

Roast Venison

1 cup water
1 onion, sliced
2 carrots, sliced
1 teaspoon whole peppercorns
1 bay leaf
6 or 7 pounds venison (rump or saddle)
4 to 6 slices salt pork or bacon

Combine water, onion, carrots, peppercorns and bay leaf. cook 15 minutes. Add wine and pour hot over meat. Let stand in refrigerator overnight or up to 3 days, turning meat occasionally.

Remove meat from marinade, wipe dry. Lay bacon or salt pork over top. Roast in a preheated oven (350 F.) 1½ hours.

Drain vegetables from marinade and place in pan along with meat. Baste meat with marinade, return to oven and roast about 1 hour longer, basting occasionally with marinade. Venison should be rare. Garnish platter with clusters of green grapes. Serve with Cumberland Sauce.

Cumberland Sauce

In a small saucepan combine ¼ cup of marinade, strained, 1 cup currant jelly, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon ginger, 2 tablespoons Scotch Whisky. Heat until smooth, stirring occasionally.

Last week we saw buffalo advertised on the window of a butcher shop. When we were out west a few years ago, we had delicious roast buffalo. The restaurant where we ate at Mt. Rushmore also served buffaloburgers.

Should you get a buffalo roast, treat it this way:

Wipe carefully, rub with salt, pepper and flour and place on a rack in an open pan. Cook at 480 degrees to sear the outside and develop flavor.

Reduce heat to 250 degrees and cook until meat thermometer inserted in the center of the roast registers 140-180 degrees. Remove roast at the lower temperature if you like it rare; at the higher for well done. It will take 25 minutes per pound for rare meat.

Don't be alarmed if you are faced with elk meat. Make a casserole out of it.

Cut meat into one-inch squares. Cut up three onions and chili peppers, some celery and parsley.

Heat 3 tablespoons olive oil in a heavy pan and cook the vegetables in it 3-4 minutes. Add meat and ½ cup sherry wine. Add salt and pepper and a bit of oregano. Let cook slowly.

When meat begins to turn white, add 2 cans solid pack tomatoes and 4-5 potatoes cut into inch cubes. Add the same amount of chopped carrots. Simmer covered 1½ to 2 hours. Thicken gravy before serving.

FOR CABBAGE — Golden Cheese Sauce provides delicious finishing touch to these wedges of cabbage that are hot from the saucepan.

Crisp Cabbage Cheese Sauced

Treat cabbage gently and it will reward you and your family in flavor and nutrition. It is rich in vitamin C. Slice it with a very sharp knife. If the leaves are bruised in cutting, some of the vitamin C is lost. Also, cook only for a short time.

Cabbage With Cheese Sauce

2-pound head cabbage
1-inch boiling water in saucepan
1 teaspoon salt
Golden Cheese Sauce

Remove outside leaves of cabbage and cut head into 6 wedges. Place in saucepan with boiling water and 1 teaspoon of salt. Bring to boiling point, uncovered, and boil 5 minutes. Cover and continue cooking 10 minutes or until crisp-tender. Sprinkle with additional salt and black pepper to taste. Serve hot with Golden Cheese Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Golden Cheese Sauce

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
3 egg yolks, beaten
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
¾ cup grated sharp American cheese
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
¾ teaspoon salt to taste

Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Remove from heat and blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk. Cook over low heat until slightly thickened. Combine egg yolks and lemon juice and mix with the sauce. Heat 1 minute. Stir in cheese, black pepper and salt. Serve over cooked hot vegetables. Makes 1½ cups.

Note: The amount of salt depends upon the flavor of the cheese.

Soup Mix Becomes Rich Cream Sauce

The most recurring problem facing the average homemaker today is a perennial one: what to do with left-overs. Or to be more specific, what else can she do with left-overs? It takes a little ingenuity to figure that one out.

Herewith one simple solution to the problem of left-over chicken. A famous test kitchen suggests this tasty casserole combining slices of white meat with fresh mushrooms in a wonderfully creamy sauce made in a jiffy with an envelope of country-style potato soup mix.

Soup mixes, famous for their secondary uses in cooking, are a boon to any homemaker trying to do something different with left-overs. In this instance, the potato soup mix not only gives added flavor and nourishment but becomes, quite simply and ingeniously, the rich creamy sauce that is the base of this casserole.

Chicken Supreme Casserole

5 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ pound fresh mushrooms, washed, stemmed and quartered
1 envelope potato soup mix
2 cups milk
1 cup light cream
2 cups cooked white chicken meat cut in ½ inch pieces
1 cup fresh bread crumbs

In a skillet, melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine and saute mushroom slices until tender and browned. Empty soup mix into a saucepan; slowly stir in milk and light cream. Heat just to boiling, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add sauteed mushrooms and chicken pieces. Pour into a 1½ quart casserole or individual baking dishes.

Melt remaining butter or margarine and thoroughly combine with bread crumbs. Sprinkle on top of chicken-potato mixture, bake in a 350 degree oven for 25-30 minutes. Makes 4-5 servings.

Crunchy Cereal Crust Enfolds Ice Cream

Every young boy or girl in all honesty looks forward to a birthday party mostly with gleeful anticipation of the birthday presents. For the guests it's the games and prizes and the inevitable ice cream and cake.

The ice cream and cake ritual, sometimes a low point of the party, can be the most fun, most talked about event of the party. Baking a foil-wrapped favor in each cupcake may do the trick. Or something as simple as planting a plastic flower in ice cream cups and studding the surface with peanuts may do it.

Some children thrill to ice cream cones with a choice of ice cream, while others might get a bang out of turning the crank of an old fashioned ice cream freezer. Make-your-own sundaes go over big, but with little children requires careful supervision to avoid spills and spots on party clothes.

One of the happiest ideas to come along in many a party day is this crunchy ice cream cake made with an array of things all boys and girls like — a mixture of peanut butter, crispy rice cereal and corn syrup, pressed into a tube pan and frozen; the center filled with ice cream then covered with more of the crunchy mixture and frozen.

It's as good excuse as any to have a party. Why wait for a birthday? This crunchy cake will be the hit of the party!

Ice Cream Crunch Cake

1 cup light or dark corn syrup
1 cup creamy or chunk style peanut butter
6 cups crisp rice cereal
1 quart ice cream

Blend corn syrup and peanut butter. Add cereal and stir until well coated. Press about ⅔ of the mixture into 9-inch tube cake pan, covering bottom and sides. Fill with ice cream. Cover with remaining ⅓ of the mixture. Serve immediately or wrap and freeze until needed.

Fall Waldorf Salad Made With Grapes

Grape Waldorf salad with hot cheese biscuits or buttered rolls makes a main-dish salad for lunch or supper. Combine 1½ cups of seedless grapes with 2 cups of diced unpeeled apples, 1 tablespoon of fresh lemon juice, ½ teaspoon of sugar, 1 cup of thinly sliced celery, ¼ cup each of chopped nuts and mayonnaise, and mix lightly.

Serve on head lettuce. Garnish with small clusters of grapes. Serves 6.

Sausage and Grape Kabobs Exciting

Cut two packages of smokee links (small smoked sausages) into pieces one inch long.

Arrange the smokee links on skewers alternately with white seedless grapes. Broil over hot charcoal, turning frequently until links are heated through and lightly browned.

One of the best "do it yourself" hors d'oeuvres invented recently.

Dried Beef Spread

Ever chop dried beef fine and add it to cream cheese for a cracker spread? Season the cream cheese with a little onion juice and white pepper if you like.

Experts Have Poked Apples for Firmness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You who poke apples at the supermarket to see if they are firm are wasting your time.

Apples that go through federal-state inspection, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture, already have been "poked" — by inspectors. They press the apples gently with their thumbs or, in borderline cases, use a mechanical plunger to check firmness.

Americans Eat Less but Gain Weight

NEW YORK (UPI) — A "typical" American eats about 1,465 pounds of food a year, or 85 pounds less than he did 20 years ago, says a grocery trade publication.

According to Progressive Grocer, eating habits also have changed considerably — per capita meat, poultry and fish consumption jumped from 144 pounds in 1940 to 179 pounds by 1960. Conversely, potato consumption dropped from 136 pounds to 108 pounds per person during the same period.

The average American ate about 50 pounds less flour and cereal products in 1960 than he did in 1940, but increased his milk consumption by 10 per cent, and egg consumption, by 5 per cent. Coffee, tea, cocoa, sugar and syrup consumption remain about the same.

Use Root as Anchor

When par-boiling or boiling onions that are to be stuffed, leave the root ends untrimmed during preliminary peeling so that the onions will stay whole.

SENATE ELECTION RESULTS — The map shows U.S. Senate election results at a glance: 25 Democrats and 14 Republicans elected in 36 states. The new line-up in the Senate will be 68 Democrats and 32 Republicans. This lifts the Democratic majority to the highest peak since they won 69 seats in the 1938 election. They had a 64-36 margin in the outgoing Congress.

Staebler to Go Easy While in Washington

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's first congressman-at-large in 50 years says he knows his job won't last more than two years and will act accordingly when he goes to Washington.

Neil Staebler, Democratic national committeeman who was elected to the post in Tuesday's election, said yesterday,

"I won't try to become a specialist on any legislative subject such as other congressman do. I know I won't be there long enough to work up through the congressional seniority system to a post of importance."

Before Staebler's two-year term ends, the State Legislature is expected to reapportion Michigan's congressional districts to provide 19 instead of 18 and make election of a congressman-at-large unnecessary.

Staebler said he intends to be a representative of the Kennedy administration in Michigan as much as a representative of Michigan in Washington.

He plans to pool his Washington staff with the staffs of the state's Democratic senators, Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart, and operate as part of a three-man team.

The congressman-at-large plans make frequent trips by plane between his Ann Arbor home and Washington. He has been making weekly trips to the University of Massachusetts to teach politics there.

Most World Press Sees JFK Triumph

LONDON (UPI) — Most of the world's press today viewed the results of Tuesday's U.S. elections as a major triumph for President Kennedy but said he may not be able to translate this into effective legislative action.

Many newspapers considered the defeat of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his race for governor of California as an event as important as Kennedy's victory.

For the record, there was little official comment. Government sources in several countries said privately, however, that Kennedy's victory will give him a stronger, freer hand in dealing with world affairs.

The principal officials who did comment were Presidents Joao Goulart of Brazil and Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines and Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin.

Goulart said the victory of America's "young, dynamic President" was "an expressive manifestation of the vitality of U.S. democracy."

Macapagal said the election was unlikely to have any effect on America's "bipartisan" policy toward the Philippines.

"I am very impressed by the extraordinary success of President Kennedy's party," Brandt said. "The President will be able to carry out the tasks to which he is obligated with strengthened authority."

APPREHENSIVE

Other residents of the Soviet-surrounded German city, although encouraged by the election results, were apprehensive about the prospects of new Communist efforts to force the Western allies out of Berlin.

The first Communist comment on the election results came from Warsaw, whose newspapers displayed an uncommon lack of unanimity in their editorial views.

The party organ Trybuna Ludu said the American voters were primarily interested in "matters of internal policy," while the union organ Glos Pracy said it was Kennedy's handling of the Cuba crisis that chiefly affected the decision.

The official Polish agency PAP said the outcome was "to a greater degree a defeat for the Republicans than a success for the Democrats."

Pete Swainson Breathes Easy . . . Job's Safe

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. John B. Swainson called home yesterday after the returns showed he had lost his bid for re-election.

"Well, we lost, son," Swainson told Peter, 12.

Peter has been working as page for Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski.

"Did T. John lose too?" Peter asked.

"No, T. John won," the governor replied.

"Well, anyway my job is safe," Peter said.

Scholle Tells People:

'Romney'll Clobber You'

DETROIT (AP)—August (Gus) Scholle, political arch foe of Gov-Elect George Romney, said yesterday of Romney's election:

"Starting January first, you (the people) are going to get clobbered."

Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO, said the "Republican party-big business forces will be in complete control of the governorship and both houses of the legislature."

The union leader said this situation would "give the Republicans total responsibility and no longer permit them to blame their failures on a Democratic governor."

Scholle added the union had kept a record of all campaign promises made by Romney.

"We know these promises to be inconsistent with the attitude of the Republican members of both houses as well as the Republican party's big business financial sponsors. We shall watch with deep concern what happens to these promises," Scholle added in an interview.

Swainson Sleeps Late

Romney Getting Busy on Job

DETROIT (AP) — Gov.-elect George Romney was up and about after only two hours sleep yesterday, busily making plans for his administration which will take over direction of Michigan next January.

One of his first acts on the day after election, in which he swept to victory over Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson, was to hold a news conference.

AT NEWS CONFERENCE

There he fielded a variety of questions ranging from whether he was going to take a post-campaign vacation to what his connection is now with American Motors, whose presidency he resigned last February to make the race for governor.

On the vacation subject, he said he would take a few days off to rest up after the long campaign, but he gave no details.

On AMC, he pointed out that while he resigned the presidency, he is still a director and vice chairman of the board. But he added that he will reduce his responsibilities with AMC before taking office as governor.

Gov. Swainson, the defeated incumbent, had one consolation yesterday. He got a nice long sleep in a downtown hotel (the Henrose) while Romney was up bright and early.

"I'm relieved. I can live like a human being for a while," the governor told newsmen.

Swainson said, "I have no apologies or regrets for my administration. We did what was right and the people will realize it."

He had a bit of advice for Romney:

"He should get a lot of rest, because he is going to find out it's not an easy job. He's going to learn a lot of things of which he now has no conception."

Romney for Winner

Handshakes Pay Off for Romney

DETROIT (AP) — A study of Tuesday's election returns that put Republican George Romney in the governor's chair by a majority of more than 78,000 shows that his "people to people" campaigning in the Detroit metropolitan area paid off.

In beating Democratic incumbent Gov. John B. Swainson, Romney made a slight dent in the party's Detroit bastion and heavy inroads in outlying suburban communities.

Swainson carried Detroit by a majority of 206,872, or 67 per cent of the vote, compared with 69 per cent two years. Heavily populated Negro districts appeared to have given the customary lopsided margins to the Democratic nominee.

Romney, however, carried one Detroit ward — the 22nd in the northwest section of the city — by some 5,000 votes. Swainson took the ward in 1960 by a margin of 7,000.

IN WAYNE COUNTY

In Wayne County as a whole, Romney did much better than the Republican candidate, Paul D. Bagwell, did in 1960 in whittling down the Democratic majority.

Swainson carried Wayne County this year by a majority of 217,045. Two years ago Wayne County went for Swainson by a whopping 332,655 majority.

Romney's showing was spectacular in the suburban communities outside Detroit in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Policital observers had a ready explanation for this. They figured many suburban voters were unhappy with Swainson because he vetoed the Bowman bill which the legislature passed to prevent Detroit from levying its new city income tax on suburbanites who work in Detroit.

These suburban communities have been carrying on a campaign to write into the state constitution a provision to prohibit such a tax as applied to nonresidents.

IN OAKLAND COUNTY

Oakland County gave Romney a majority of 53,000 compared with Bagwell's 34,000 in 1960. In Macomb County, Swainson's majority of 38,000 two years ago was trimmed to 12,500 this year.

Romney's erosion of Democratic strength in Wayne County gave him the city of Dearborn by a slim margin of 67 votes. But in 1960 Swainson carried Dearborn by 5,000.

In outstate Michigan, Romney's margins were only slightly higher than the Republican candidate's two years ago. Democrats showed increases in a few outstate communities over 1960.

U. S. Spends $5 Million on India Arms Airlift

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has spent about $5 million so far on the airlift of arms to India for use in its border fighting against Red China, it was learned yesterday.

Officials pointed out that the relatively small operation could be expanded into a major effort.

CREAMY BAKED HALIBUT — Fresh or frozen halibut comes to the table with a creamy vegetable sauce. Today's cook doesn't have to fuss over the stove to make cream sauce. For this recipe she uses a can of cream of vegetable soup.

Halibut Bakes in Cream Soup

One of the nicest characteristics of today's homemaker is that she is more receptive to new ideas than her mother and grandmother were. Because the modern woman has more responsibilities both in the home and the community, she is constantly seeking new ways to reduce the time and effort spent on housework. Convenience foods have done so much to alleviate her cooking problems.

Gone are the days when fish on the menu meant painstaking scaling and cleaning. Now a wide variety of species are sold already cleaned, and cut into easy to handy fillets, steaks, sticks, squares and rectangles. Halibut steaks are a good example of the fishing industry's efforts to supply homemakers with easy-to-prepare foods.

A century ago, halibut for dinner was out of the question for most cooks because the size of the fish made it too difficult to handle. But now, ready-to-cook fresh and frozen halibut steaks are available all over the country for speedy dinners.

Baked Halibut
With Creamy Vegetables

Plan on two pounds of halibut steaks for four servings. If halibut is frozen, let stand at room temperature for half an hour. Preheat oven at 425 degrees. Line a shallow baking dish with aluminum foil and arrange steaks on foil. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Spread half of one can of undiluted cream of vegetable soup on the fish. Bake 10 to 15 minutes. Turn and spread fish with remainder of soup. Bake another 10 to 15 minutes, until fish flakes easily with a fork. Serve with lemon wedges and parsley.

French Fried Peppers

Frying onion rings? Add some green pepper rings! Prepare the green pepper and onion the same way: dip in seasoned flour, then in milk; drain slightly, dip in the seasoned flour once more and fry in deep fat that's been heated to 375 degrees.

Orange Candy Similar to Turkish Jellies

Orange Candy is an intriguing sweet. For 50 ¾-inch squares, blend 2 ounces of unflavored gelatin, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup water and a dash of salt. Bring to a boil, stirring until gelatin dissolves, then simmer for 20 minutes. Remove from heat. Mix in ½ cup thawed orange juice concentrate and a few drops of orange food coloring.

Let chill until slightly thickened. Fold in ⅓ cup chopped nuts and ½ cup seeded grapes. Pour into a chilled 8x4-inch pan and chill until firm. To serve, loosen edges with a wet knife, cut into squares and roll in confectioners sugar.

Ever sprinkle bits of crisply cooked bacon over green lima beans?

Look for Pork Features and Buys in Grapes

Pork supplies are back to normal and this is the season for the down-trend in pork prices. A slight decline in wholesale beef prices is reflected in some retail cuts from the frontquarter. Apples, increasing citrus supplies, and cranberries are fruits in largest supply.

Brussels sprouts, cabbage, carrots, white and sweet potatoes, and dry onions are fresh vegetables in abundance. Many stores are focusing attention on canned fruit cocktail and dry beans, and a variety of frozen vegetables and pies.

Hog marketings are increasing seasonally bringing a larger volume of pork cuts. As a result of lower wholesale prices, particularly for pork loins, shoppers will find the loin cuts and smoked pork items receiving special store emphasis this week.

Pork production will probably be slightly less than a year earlier for the rest of this year. The number of pigs born last spring was 2 per cent less than in the spring of 1961, and these are now moving to market. It is unlikely that retail pork prices will decline below year ago levels.

Looking for the better beef values? Then check cuts from the frontquarter including the blade, arm, and English roasts from the chuck, steaks from the blade area of the chuck, and rib steaks. Ground beef is the thrifty beef buy.

A slight decrease in wholesale lamb prices is passed along to shoppers as features in some stores this week.

Notice that fryer and turkey prices remain about as they have been. Most turkeys range from 39 to 55 cents per pound for frozen ready-to-cook birds.

Besides apples, citrus and cranberries, shoppers will find good supplies of Emperor grape quality the best ever. The stems are strong, the berries are crisp, and the color is good and bright.

LOTS OF APPLES

Over 6 million bushels of Michigan apples are now in controlled atmosphere storage. This assures you of orchard fresh apples during the spring of next year.

Florida reports a record crop of oranges estimated at 118.7 million boxes. The state's grapefruit crop is also large. The last of the Navel oranges are being gathered, and the Parson Brown variety is now the bulk of the shipments.

November is the peak season for Brussels sprouts. Broccoli supplies will be about as they were last month. Cauliflower supplies decrease slightly during November.

Those who like fresh mushrooms will be pleased to find the lower than usual prices this week. Supplies are about as large as during any time of the year and prices are about as low.

Heavier supplies of vine-ripe tomatoes, sweet potatoes, and spinach are attractively priced in many stores.

Fruit cocktail, peaches, plums, tomato juice, and all kinds of dry beans are canned foods given store emphasis. Many vegetables, pies and grape juice are among the frozen items to check.

It is expected that canned food sales will be more general in November than in any recent year. There is much more canned corn than can be moved without special effort and canned green bean supplies are larger than a year ago.

Brief Cooking Only for Creole Flounder

Many famous Creole dishes originated during the period when Louisiana was under Spanish rule. Jambalaya is one of these; another is Flounder a la Espagnol. This simple yet delicious dish depends for its goodness on the use of top-quality Spanish olive oil.

For each pound of flounder fillets, use 1 egg, beaten to a froth. First sprinkle the fish with salt, dip in the beaten egg, then drop into olive oil, using ½ to ¾ cup olive oil in a heavy skillet, heating the oil until it starts to smoke.

Cook the fish in sizzling oil just three minutes on each side or until delicately browned. Serve garnished with lemon slices and fried parsley.

Basil Had Other Uses in Ancient Times

American men may want to take a cue from the findings of researchers. They advise that many years ago it was the custom for an Italian suitor to appear before his girl (and some still do) with a sprig of basil in his hair or hat to signify his intentions of marriage.

Today basil is a favorite flavoring for tomato dishes, egg dishes, green salads.

Try Canned Hominy in Autumn Casserole

Hominy Fluff is a deliciously different kind of casserole. It is an excellent make-ahead-of-time dish that is a change from the usual starchy vegetables and has a delightful corn flavor. Mash the drained hominy or put it in the blender to make it smooth. The seasonings — onion, swiss cheese, cream and salt — are mild and yet point up the natural corn taste.

Because the texture is so smooth, top the casserole with crumbs of crushed bite-size toasted corn cereal that have been seasoned with butter and celery salt.

Serve is with nearly any kind of meal, but its heartiness and easy preparation make it especially good for informal suppers on cool autumn evenings. For instance, after you and the family have spent the afternoon raking leaves, everyone is famished and really too tired for anything but a very informal supper.

Open a can of green beans and season them with butter and a bit of dill weed. Wrap a piece of Canadian-style bacon in foil and heat it with the Hominy Fluff. Serve some carrot and celery sticks for salad. For dessert, pass a bowl of cold, crisp and juicy apples.

Hominy Fluff

2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon and 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 cups (1 lb. 4 oz. can) hominy, drained and mashed*
½ cup heavy cream
½ cup finely shredded swiss cheese
½ teaspoon salt
1¾ cups bite size toaster corn cereal crushed to 1 cup
¼ teaspoon celery salt

Heat oven to moderate (375 degrees). Butter a shallow 1½-quart baking dish. Cook onion in 1 tablespoon butter until tender. Combine with hominy, cream, cheese and salt. Mix thoroughly. Spoon into baking dish. Combine cereal crumbs, 2 tablespoons butter and celery salt. Sprinkle over casserole. Bake 30 minutes or until browned. Yield: 4-6 servings.

*Or, if preferred, hominy may be left whole.

TWO-TONED BREAD — Calico batter bread has all the flavor of old-fashioned bread, plus the convenience of the no-knead batter method of mixing. Checkerboard effect on exterior of loaf is achieved by alternating dark and light batters.

Calico Batter Bread

1¼ cups warm water
1 package yeast, active dry or compressed
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons margarine
3 cups unsifted flour
½ cup whole wheat flour melted margarine

Measure warm water into large warm mixing bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add sugar, salt, margarine and 2 cups flour.

Beat 2 minutes at medium speed on mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl frequently.

Pour half of batter into a second bowl. With wooden spoon, stir remaining cup flour into half the batter; beat until smooth. To the remaining half of batter, stir in whole wheat flour; beat until smooth.

Cover both bowls; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 40 minutes.

Stir each batter down by beating about 25 strokes. Spoon small amounts of light and dark batters alternately into greased 9 x 5 x 3-inch (Batter will be sticky).

Smooth out top of loaf by flouring hand and patting into shape. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 40 minutes.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F). 45-50 minutes, or until done. Remove from pan and brush with melted margarine.

Real, Artificial Smoke Permitted in Meats

The use of smoke flavorings and artificial smoke flavorings is now permitted in the processing of certain federally inspected meat products under an amendment to the Federal Meat Inspection regulations, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports. "Smoke flavorings" consist of the safe, soluble ingredients in smoke. "Artificial smoke flavorings" include these ingredients plus spice extracts and other flavorings.

A couple of teaspoons of caraway seed is about right to add to a one-pound can of sauerkraut.

Let Kiddies Try Hand at Cookies

Here's a candy-like cookie that's easy to make.

Fig Noodle Cookies

¾ cup chopped dried figs
½ cup honey
1 cup chunk peanut butter
½ cup evaporated milk (undiluted)
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons flour
1 3-oz. can chow mein noodles

Mix all ingredients except noodles. Fold in noodles. Chill 30 minutes. Drop by spoon on greased cookie sheet. Bake at 325 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes.

Prunes Get De-Wrinkled Before Meeting Public

NEW YORK (UPI) — They're ironing out the prune's wrinkles.

The last step before packaging consists of a hot water bath and steaming which restores as much as 30 per cent of the fruit's original moisture content. As a result, there's hardly a wrinkle left when the prunes head for market.

Bake Autumn Pears in Spicy Orange Syrup

Adds a flavorful nippyness to fall weather meals. Place pared and cored pear quarters in a baking dish. Mix together 1 cup thawed orange juice concentrate, ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 small stick cinnamon, 4 whole cloves, a dash of ground mace and one of salt. Bring to a boil and pour over pears.

* * *

Cover dish and bake 20-30 minutes at 350 degrees F. Remove cover and bake 10 minutes more or until pears are tender. Let pears cool in pan. Serve chilled but not cold.

Foil-Wrap Pot Roast, Bake With Soup

With the advent of autumn, homemakers everywhere plan heartier, more robust meals for their families. High on the list of main dishes is an old favorite, pot roast.

Here is a marvelous recipe for cooking it in a new way. For ease of preparation, this pot roast can't be beaten. For one thing, no pre-browning or braising is necessary.

The spectacular flavor comes from using an envelope each of tomato soup mix and mushroom soup mix. They are combined in a cup of water and spread over the beef. Then the meat is securely wrapped in foil and roasted slowly for about three and a half hours.

When done, the foil is opened and there is the perfectly cooked roast simmering in its own richly-flavored, build-in gravy. For company, you might want to add the gourmet touch, a few tablespoons red wine in the sauce.

Pot Roast With Tomato-Mushroom Sauce

1 4-pound pot roast of beef (lean chuck, rump or round)
Heavy duty aluminum foil
1 envelope tomato soup mix
1 envelope mushroom soup mix
1 cup water
2-3 tablespoons red wine (optional)

Place roast in center of large sheet of aluminum foil. Combine soup mixes and water; then spread on meat. Close foil using drug store wrap. (Overlap long ends of foil 3 inches on top of roast and close opposite ends by folding them up tightly.) Place wrapped meat in a shallow pan and roast in a 325 degree oven for 3½ hours or until fork tender.

To serve, open foil and remove meat to a serving platter. Pour sauce into a serving dish and skim off excess fat. For a gourmet touch stir in 2-3 tablespoons of red wine. Makes 8-10 servings, with 2½ cups of sauce.

Keep Bacon Fat

Save that bacon fat and use it for frying slices of mush cut from cooked cornmeal that's been refrigerated in a loaf pan. Use the standard recipe for cooking the cornmeal but dip the slices in flour before frying. When you cook bacon, do so over very low heat so the rendered fat will be white and suitable for frying.

Orangeade takes to a spiking of lemon and a dash of grenadine.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

You, too, can help put down a threat to freedom

Uncle Sam has had some pretty conscientious help in the "freedom department" over the years.

Some of the best-known contributors were an expert horseman named Revere . . . a group of amateur stevedores who made iced tea in Boston Harbor . . . and a party of revolutionaries who created an unsplittable nation under the shadow of a cracked bell.

Today the freedom which those patriots won for us is being challenged. And freedom will always need brave men to defend and preserve it. Men and women, like you.

You can do your share toward defending freedom by buying United States Savings Bonds today. The dollars you invest this way go right to work for your country now, as well as for your future.

U.S. Farm Policy Lambasted

Bureau Official Speaks in State

Banquet Guests Hear Criticism of Freeman

EAST LANSING—(AP) — A top official of the American Farm Bureau Federation sharply criticized federal farm policies and the U.S. secretary of agriculture at the annual meeting of the State Farm Bureau here last night.

Roger Fleming of Washington, D.C., secretary-treasurer of the Farm Bureau, spoke at the awards banquet of the state organization. About 950 Farm Bureau members and guests attended, prompting State Farm Bureau President Walter Wightman to call it "the biggest banquet we've ever had."

Fleming aimed verbal haymakers at current federal farm policies and Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

The farm official said "the hope of gain and the fear of loss" provides incentive for private enterprise. But when the government seems to promise to take away losses, he went on, they can undermine the private enterprise system.

Fleming quoted remarks made by President Kennedy pledging the preservation of a free market, then added chidingly, "He should read that speech at a cabinet meeting sometime."

Fleming, himself a lobbyist in Washington, was sharply critical of what he called lobbying activities by Secretary Freeman during the last session of Congress.

Freeman, he said, was misusing executive power, for the power to make laws is vested in Congress, and the power to carry them out is what the administrator should be doing.

MORE CRITICAL

Fleming said the wheat referendum vote last summer showed that farmers were becoming more critical of the governmental market controls.

To back his claim that Farm Bureau policies are "politically feasible," Fleming cited the election Tuesday of 20 House Democrats who had sided with the farm bureau on three key votes in Congress.

Fleming also criticized the National Farmers Organization's so-called "holding action," saying the NFO plan to hold back goods from the market until a certain price is met is "not consistent with the free market system."

Some 700 voting delegates to the state meeting are scheduled to discuss the vote on policy proposals today and tomorrow.

PLAN "FLIGHT" — Preparing for their simulated plane trip to missions throughout the world from St. John Lutheran Church, Rochester, are (from left), 4th graders Tommy Hilgendorf, Dale Bauer and Philip Devries. Ervin Bauer points to the plane's first stop. The "flights" will depart from the church from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday during St. John's "Mission Emphasis Week" which also will feature displays and exhibits throughout the church and school.

Mission Trip 'Flights' Set

Church in Rochester Readies Displays

ROCHESTER —The congregation and guests of St. John Lutheran Church will "fly" around the world in simulated visits to world-wide church missions next week.

The church's seven days of "mission emphasis" is scheduled to commence Sunday with the congregation attending the Lutheran Hour Rally services in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday "flights" will be available to church mission areas, leaving from St. John's fellowship hall.

The hall will be converted into a replica of an air-terminal waiting room and the school lobby into a plane interior, simulating a flight to the church's mission fields around the world.

Displays and exhibits of the church's home and world missions will be offered in the school auditorium.

The school corridor will be filled with displays including illustrations of church agency activities in social work, youth work and television missions.

Guided tours will be offered every 15 minutes from 6:30 to 10 p.m. excluding a period from 8 to 9:30 p.m. when special church speakers from the mission department will be presented.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Unit Hopes to Settle Long Lake Dredging

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—The president of the Long Lake General Council said today he believes his group still can come to terms with the firm which has threatened to discontinue dredging work on Long Lake.

The council, an organization of Long Lake area property owners, signed a contract in May 1961, with the Waterways Control and Development Co. to deepen the lake and clean its beaches.

However, the Lansing-based firm had told council officers that it was suspending dredging operations and would consider its obligations terminated unless its $85,000 contract could be renegotiated before Nov. 1.

Attorney Philip E. Rowston, former Pontiac mayor, told council members at a recent public meeting that the company appeared to be in violation of its contract.

But council president John L. Hyland, 8895 Van Gordon Road, said today that "our intention is not to start a suit immediately."

"I still feel sincerely that the project will be completed without taking legal action against the company," Hyland said.

The president of the citizens' group said the company apparently is losing money on the project.

"I am expecting a letter from the company's attorneys outlining their position on the contract," he explained.

"I believe the problem was due to inadequate pricing on the project.

After receiving the company's letter, Hyland said he expects to meet with company representatives within two weeks to discuss the contract.

Hyland said at the public meeting that the company had not completed all the work for which it had been paid.

Council representatives say the Lansing firm has completed about two-thirds of its dredging work and only about 30 per cent of its beach cleaning on the lake in the northeast corner of Commerce Township.

Two Injured in Crash at Rochester Road

Driver of the other car was Gerald Rehe, 22, of Detroit. He was treated and released from the same hospital. Rehe told Troy Police that Miss VanDuyn, going north, crossed into his path on the southbound lane. Miss VanDuyn said she couldn't remember the accident.

Police are continuing their investigation of the collision.

Residency Law to Affect Walled Lake Manager

WALLED LAKE — City Clerk Mrs. Shirley J. Ryden said today that the next city manager hired here must live in Walled Lake.

The City Council Tuesday night defeated a motion which would have required all municipal employes to live in the city.

However, Mrs. Ryden today explained that the motion does not affect the status of the city manager. He is required to reside in Walled Lake under the terms of the city charter.

The clerk clarified the issue after reporting yesterday that the defeated residency rule would affect all city employes.

An amendment to the city charter would be necessary to change the residency rule for a city manager here.

The clerk also said today that the council has rescinded a motion which would have refunded some $10,000 in excess tax money to taxpayers here.

The council has established a new public improvement fund into which the excess taxes collected over the past several years have been placed.

City officials agreed that refunding the tax money, collected over the last few years, would pose several problems.

One of the major problems would be to determine who would be eligible to receive the refunds and another concerned the added expense to the city of returning the taxes.

Lake Orion Church to Greet Minister

LAKE ORION — Rev. C. Frank Mills will asume his duties as new minister of the First Baptist Church here Sunday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Mills come from the Springwells Avenue Baptist Church in Detroit, where they completed seven years of service. They have two sons, David, at home, and Larry, who with his wife Brenda is attending Eastern Michigan University, at Ypsilanti.

The congregation has planned a reception for next Tuesday evening at 7:30 to welcome their new pastor, his wife, and son David, to the community. A special program has been arranged and all friends of the church have been invited to attend.

Peiping Shouts Against U.S.

TOKYO (UPI) — One of the biggest "Hate America" campaigns since the Korean War was under way yesterday in Communist China, with propaganda attacks on the United States for blockading Cuba and supplying weapons to India.

Radio Peiping said more than two million persons, including 13 Americans living in Peiping, "angrily shook their fist at U.S. imperialism" yesterday in the fifth day of mass demonstrations supporting Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

It said the Americans shouted "Go, go, to Guantanamo."

The radio also made what appeared to be a challenge to Russia to prove its leadership of the communist camp by defending Cuba.

"If the serious war provocations of U. S. imperialism are not smashed, if Kennedy's policy of blackmail and intimidation is allowed to succeed, U. S. imperialism will become even more unscrupulous in doing what it pleases," it said.

Dual Tests Spread Cloud Seen Afar

WASHINGTON (AP)—A double-barreled experiment was lofted high over the Wallops Island, Va., space testing station yesterday morning. It spread a vast pink and yellow vapor cloud visible for hundreds of miles.

The tests, which involved two launchings within minutes, were conducted to check on electron density and temperatures, and wind and diffusion rates in the upper atmosphere, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said.

A pokesman said both tests were successful.

The tests were carried out by NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center and the Geophysics Corp. of America, Bedford, Mass.

Thailand Beats the High Cost of Movie Production

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

SAN FRANCISCO — Festival notes:

Thailand has found a new way to beat the high cost of movie production. It's doubtful if other film industries will adopt the plan, however.

THOMAS

"Embrace of Fate," the Thailand entry in the San Francisco Film Festival, was presented as it is performed in its native land. Produced silent in 16mm—standard movies are 35mm—it nevertheless had dialogue spoken by live actors.

A Thai husband - wife acting team spoke all the voices, young and old, over a microphone at the theater. They also created all sound effects.

Prince Yukola, a film producer who is a member of the royal family, said that a thousand actors are employed in Thailand to provide live dialogue not only for the native films, but to dub imported movies.

RUSSIANS REPORT

The Russian delegates reported that the most popular American releases in their country have been "12 Angry Men," "Marty," "Roman Holiday" and "Magnificent Seven." "On the Beach" was popular among the film makers who saw it, but didn't get a general release. "The Old Man and the Sea" was a dud, as it was here.

Until this year's film festival, I had never heard an American audience hiss. Festival goers adopted the European custom for an American-made short purporting to present a tender love vignette.

It proved to be banal, amateurish and eminently hissable. It's not a bad custom at all; at least it gives a victimized audience a chance to fight back.

A distinct change in the Soviet delegation can be noted. Two years ago the Soviet representatives appeared bushy-haired and in rumpled double-breasted suits. This year they were well-clipped and wore some of the sharpest Ivy League duds this side of Madison Ave.

"Sun and Shadow" is an interesting entry from Bulgaria, not because of its dramatic values, which are slight, but because of its skill as a propaganda piece. "America the Unexpected" is a friendly, though not always complimentary, view of the United States by Frenchman Francois Reichenbach.

"Disorder" is another first-rate Italian panorama of the depravity of modern life. Director Franco Brusati explores avenues untouched by "La Dolce Vita," employing an all-star cast.

"Ivan's Childhood" is a fine Russian war film, akin to "Ballad of a Soldier," which won the San Francisco Festival prize in 1960. It is a tender tale of a 12-year-old boy who scouts for front-line troops.

Founder, Ex-Head of Glass Firm Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—William Edward Levis, 71, a founder and retired president and board chairman of the Owens Illinois Glass Co., was found dead yesterday at a Manhattan hotel, the Carlton House.

Death apparently was due to natural causes.

The industrialist, who made his home at Perrysburg, Ohio, had continued as a director of the Toledo-based company following retirement as board chairman in 1950.

Levis has been staying at Carlton House with his wife, the former Margaret Harris, and had been conducting his business affairs from the offices of Owens-Corning Fiberglass Co.

A new chemical treatment is said to make woolen garments resist wrinkles as well as the synthetics.

Kettering Aims for Second Upset Over Waterford

Teams Clash This Friday on Gridiron

Captains Won First Meeting Last Year by 13-12 Score

Can Kettering do it again?

This is the question that is foremost in the minds of Waterford Township football fans this week.

They are thinking about Friday night's clash between Township High and the Captains at 8:00.

These fans remember what happened last year when the rivals met for the first time on the gridiron. It was the first game of the season and the first grid contest for Kettering which was completed just in time for school to start.

The new school had drawn its pupils from Waterford High. This meant former teammates opposed each other. The Skippers were heavy favorites. The new school won, 13-12. It was Kettering's only victory of the season.

The Captains are coached by former Waterford High and Hillsdale College Little All-America tackle Jim Larkin. The Captains have posted three wins and a tie this season.

SKIPPERS 4-3

Waterford has a 4-3 record and was a challenger for the Inter-Lakes championship until the final two league games.

The Skippers, directed by Stu Thorell, will go into the contest favored for the second straight year.

No one needs to remind them of last year's upset.

They are primed for revenge. The Captains are just as fired up.

The schools have met three common foes. Waterford lost to Walled Lake 18-7, and Pontiac Northern 18-13, and defeated Lapeer 24-14. Kettering lost to Walled Lake 7-0, Northern 19-0, and Lapeer 13-0.

Kettering's greatest offensive showing in the school's two-year grid history came last Friday when the Captains posted 34 points against outmanned Oxford. The previous high was 21 in the victory over Cranbrook.

Backs Earl Hook and Bill Haviland are the ball carrying threats for the Captains. Tackle Tom Campbell and guard Chuck Haviland. The third Haviland brother, halfback Jim, scored two TDs against Oxford.

Waterford has shown far more offensive punch than the Captains.

Dave Patterson, Andy Straka and George Irwin lead the line.

PRESS TROPHY

This game is the second leg in the competition for The Pontiac Press All-Sports trophy between the schools. Waterford won it last spring, but Kettering holds a 50-point lead this fall because of two cross country victories over the Skippers.

Fifty points are awarded for each sport and divided according to the number of times the schools meet in one sport.

Pontiac Press Photo

Pietrosante Feels He's Being Bypassed

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

SAN FRANCISCO — Fullback Nick Pietrosante has an answer for the critics who are asking "where's the Lions' offense?" And, "whats wrong with Nick Pietrosante?"

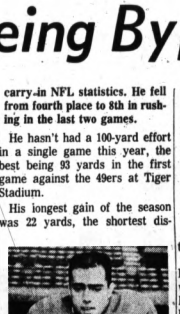
"Give me the ball a little more often and I think I might be able to answer both questions at the same time," returned the Lions' heavy running machine.

For the first time this year, Pietrosante has dropped below an average of four yards per carry in NFL statistics. He fell from fourth place to 8th in rushing in the last two games.

He hasn't had a 100-yard effort in a single game this year, the best being 93 yards in the first game against the 49ers at Tiger Stadium.

His longest gain of the season was 22 yards, the shortest distance of any of the league's top gainers.



NICK PIETROSANTE

"If you carry 20 times a game like Taylor or Brown you'll expect to get a good breakaway once in awhile," said Pietrosante, "but if I carry 12 times in a game, that's high for me."

WASN'T USED

Pietrosante pointed to several recent third down situations that have failed because of a pass call or a running play in which he wasn't used.

His reference wasn't specific but it was obvious he referred to the LA Ram game Sunday in which the Lions made four cracks at the gaol line from the one yard line and failed. Ken Webb went in for Pietrosante and tried twice; Earl Morrall then tried and Tommy Watkins tried from just one foot and all failed in the touchdown attempt.

Of course, there were many who thought Morrall's dive was good.

In the defensive credits for the Lions, they lead in total defense with 1668 yards, in first downs allowed, only 98; in first downs allowed rushing, only 37; in net rushing given up, 641 and in opponents' average per rush, only 3.1 yards per try.

In pro ball, a team is expected to get over 100 yards rushing. The Lions have held six of their opponents thus far to less than 100 yards, and a total of only 37 in the last two games.

"We better not swallow all these statistics about our defense," said coach George Wilson after Wednesday's practice, "these 49ers have been crucified publicly and we may be fighting for our lives Sunday."

USSR Cagers Carry Stigma Into Tour

NEW YORK (UPI) — A visiting Russian team, anxious to erase the "stigma" of being the world's second best basketball power, opens an eight-game tour tonight against a United States men's squad at Madison Square Garden.

The Soviet delegation also includes a women's team, which meets Nashville Business College, Amateur Athletic Union champion, in the first game of a doubleheader.

Spandarayn stressed that his goal may be realized sooner than many think as he pointed to a pair of towering six-foot, 11 inch centers — Anzor Lezava and Vasiliy Okioniak.

In three previous series with the U. S., two of them held in Russia, the Soviets have managed to win only two of 24 games. Red Star women have fared much better, copping 12 of the 20 games played against the U.S.

The American men's team, with all its players benefiting by college and A.A.U. experience, has seven members of the Phillips Oilers, two from the Akron Goodyear Wingfoots and one each from the Denver Truckers, the U. S. Army and the U. S. Marine Corps.

Teams Win, Tie in International Hockey League

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS — Port Huron broke into the victory column in the new International Hockey League season last night with a 4-2 defeat of Minneapolis.

Ken Gribbon broke his mates out of a 2-2 tie with a goal at 17:09 of the third period and Jerry Moore hit an open net in the final minute for the double clincher while the home club was trying desperately to catch up.

Port Huron now is 1-3, Minneapolis 2-2.

Muskegon Zephyrs and the Omaha Knights battled to a 3-3 tie in overtime.

All the scoring was in the first two periods and neither team could score in the 10-minute sudden death overtime period.

Wagman Testifies Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Admitted basketball briber Aaron Wagman is scheduled to return to the witness stand for the third day today in the trial of Jack Molinas, former Columbia University and professional player.

Wagman testified Wednesday that he was with Molinas when arrangements were made for a Bowling Green (Ohio) player to dump a game against Michigan State.

Molinas, 30, is charged with bribing Billy Reed of Bowling Green, with conspiracy in an attempted fix of 25 games during the 1959-60 season and with subornation of perjury.

$500 PAID

Wagman testified that he and Molinas and two others went to Toledo, Ohio, in December of 1959. While in Toledo, he said, Molinas arranged for Reed to dump his team's game with Michigan State at East Lansing on Dec. 3. Wagman said $500 was paid to Reed and $500 to a teammate, Tom Faientano. The deal, Wagman said, was that Michigan State would win by seven points or more. The final score was Michigan State 96, Bowling Green 67.

PCH Big Hurdle for Southwestern

Last week's respite from the gridiron wars may be just the tonic Pontiac Central's Chiefs need to fulfill their spoiler role against a tough Flint Southwestern team at 8 p.m. Saturday in Flint's Atwood Stadium.

Coach Paul Dellerba announced Wednesday that only center Bill Church would miss the game due to injuries. A succession of injuries incurred in the 35-7 bombing by Saginaw two weeks ago has cleared up and the squad's morale is good.

"Our practices this week have been the best in quite a while," the coach commented.

The Chiefs will enter the important contest (for Southwestern, Midland and Bay City Central) with an everything-to-gain and nothing-to-lose attitude. A PCH victory will kill the last chance the homesters have to tie Midland for the Saginaw Valley crown.

TITLE AT STAKE

By winning, the Colts can tie Midland and possibly Bay City Central with a 6-2 mark in the league. BC Central will tangle with Bay City Handy Friday. Midland has already finished its league competition and can win the title outright should Southwestern and BC Central lose this weekend.

PCH is 2-4-1 this season and will play its only non-league game next weekend against intra-city foe Pontiac Northern. Flint Southwestern has one non-league victory included in its 6-2 overall mark.

The Colts are sparked by Mike Cleary, a hard running fullback who has tallied nine touchdowns this season. Coach Dick Leach prefers to use a strong running attack and PCH has been working hard in practice on its defense which has allowed nine touchdowns in the last two games.

Dellerba is hoping the Chiefs' offensive line can spring running backs Tom Lewis, Charley Humphrey, Jesse Hodges and David Lawrence for gains inside the Southwestern defensive ends.

"They pursue real well," Dellerba said yesterday. "Fast backs have a hard time rounding their ends."

Comparative scores for the two teams are not enlightening. PCH's two wins were 28-6 over Saginaw Arthur Hill and 20-14 over Flint Northern, plus a 7-7 tie with Flint Central. Southwestern dropped a 19-7 contest to Flint Central and defeated Flint Northern 14-6 and Arthur Hill 14-0.

Both teams dropped 19-point losses to Bay City Handy, although the Chiefs did manage to score a touchdown against the Wildcats which Southwestern couldn't duplicate. The Colts topped Saginaw, 14-6. Last year's struggle went to PCH, 14-7.

HIGH STEPPER — Bill Haviland has been Kettering's leading ball carrier and scorer. One of the three Havilands on the team, Bill has scored 36 points. The Captains play Waterford Friday.

Singer Cherry Winner in Pro Golfing Debut

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—"As long as I'm going to play, I might as well try to earn some money," said crooner Don Cherry, whose amateur golfing feats equal his singing ability.

The Wichita Falls, Tex., product made his first appearance as a golf pro Wednesday and collected $216.67.

Cherry fired a 6-under par 66 to share first prize money with two other pros in the Pro-Am preliminary to today's $17,500 Cajun Classic invitational. John Barnum of Blythefield, Mich., and Jerry Pittman of Tulsa, tied with Cherry for first.

AAU, NCAA Meeting in Washington

Propose U.S. Olympic Team Truce

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. government has proposed a "truce" in the sports war between the national AAU and the NCAA that would allow the best American athletes to compete in the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo, it was learned today.

One source insisted that the truce, which would last until Nov. 1, 1964, has been agreed upon after a high-level meeting in Washington within the past month.

However, Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU Amateur Athletic Union), while admitting that the truce had been "proposed," said agreement had not been reached but indicated it still is under consideration.

At stake in the dispute between the AAU and the NCAA (National Collegiate Athletic Association) is control of amateur sports competition in this country.

Caught in the middle of the dispute, U. S. athletes currently face being outlawed by one group or the other — with possible loss of their amateur certification to compete in the '64 Olympic Games.

At this time, the AAU is recognized by the various international federations which rule the various sports as the governing body of amateur athletics in the United States. The AAU is the only body now empowered to certify U. S. athletes for international competition, such as the Olympic games.

DOUBLE THREAT

However, the NCAA, lashing out at the AAU's conduct of sports, has recently moved to set up national federations in track, basketball, baseball, and gymnastics. The AAU has threatened to outlaw athletes who compete in non-AAU sanctioned meets; the NCAA has similarly threatened to outlaw athletes who compete in events not sanctioned by the federations.

Wings Can Shatter NHL Mark Tonight

MONTREAL (UPI) — If the Detroit Red Wings are to challenge the National Hockey League's best mark for a quick getaway they will have to do it tonight against the Montreal Canadiens, holders of the record.

Montreal, last year's NHL champion, stands as a roadblock to the Wings' record hopes.

Detroit is unbeaten in 10 games on eight victories and two ties. The Canadiens hold the league mark of 14 of 11 wins and three ties set in 1943-44.

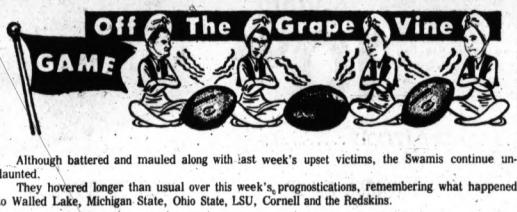
Tonight's game is the first of six straight road contests for Sid Abel's first place redshirts. From here they will travel to Boston, New York, Chicago, Toronto and back to Boston before returning home Thanksgiving night to face Montreal at Olympia.

Parker MacDonald and Alex Delvecchio of the Wings are tied with Montreal's Henri Richard for the NHL scoring lead. Each has 13 points. MacDonald has scored eight goals and five assists, Richard six goals and seven assists and Delvecchio three goals and 10 setups.

Gordie Howe of Detroit ranks in a four-way tie for fifth place in league scoring on five goals and six assists for 11 points.

TOP GOALIE

Terry Sawchuk, the Wings' 32-year-old goalie, has allowed only 13 goals in 10 games for a 1.30 goals-against average. Sawchuk has three shutouts this year.



Although battered and mauled along with last week's upset victims, the Swamis continue undaunted.

They hovered longer than usual over this week's prognostications, remembering what happened to Walled Lake, Michigan State, Ohio State, LSU, Cornell and the Redskins.

Swami Craig increased his lead and this appears to have made him even more confident that West Virginia would upset Penn St. and Avondale topple Rochester.

The other three Association members haven't forgotten what his beloved Mountaineers did to Pitt.

Tigers Pound Tokyo Stars

4 Homers, 19 Hits Bring 13-8 Win

TOKYO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers blasted four home runs among their 19 hits today and beat the Tokyo All-Stars 13-8 in an exhibition baseball game called in the top of the ninth inning because of darkness.

A crowd of 15,000 saw the touring American League club open fire in the first inning with a two-run homer by Norm Cash and a bases-empty homer by Al Kaline.

Despite the fast start, the Tigers fell behind and were trailing 6-5 going into the eighth, when a six-run outburst sewed it up. Chico Fernandez highlighted the late rally with a three-run homer and Bubba Morton connected with none on.

GAME CALLED

Detroit had scored twice more in the ninth before play was halted.

The All-Stars collected 11 hits, including three homers.

The Tigers now have won six, lost two and tied one on their 17-game tour of Japan.

Northville Scoring Ace May Cop County Honors

Jeff Barth is the leader in the Oakland County individual scoring race with a week to go but his position atop the point pile may be challenged by Northville scoring whizz Joe Hay.

It was Hay's 22 points that led Northville in a 60-6 rout over Clarkston Friday night and Hay, with one game to go, is the only one within scoring distance of the leader.

Northville meets Howell Friday and the contest may be the deciding factor in determining this year's scoring champ.

A dislocated knee in the Royal Oak Shrine-Birmingham Groves game knocked Chuck Lowther from his season-long monopoly of the top two positions.

Lowther had led four out of seven times and just before his accident Saturday he had earned his 15th TD for his present 90 point total, two behind the week's leader.

ONE TO GO

Everyone but five in the top 21 have hung up their jerseys for the 1962 season. Hay is in the fourth spot two touchdowns and a conversion behind Barth.

Also with a game to go are Bary Wheeler of Oxford and Tom Mitzelfeld, Rochester back, who are 11th and 12th, respectively, with 54 and 50 points.

Brodie Burton is third with 80 after holding down that position four times and given leader once.

Hay is followed by Roger Stewart of Bloomfield Hills with 78 and Dale LaPrairie from St. James is next sporting 73.

West Bloomfield star Dave Helmreich is 7th with 71 after a season of fluctuating from first to last.

A touchdown scored against St. Rita Sunday gave Dave Ottman, Waterford OLL back, six more points for a total 70 and a berth right behind Helmreich.

Jim Acitelli, North Farmington halfback, Tom Swiss, one of Hay's teammates and Lee Keiser of Waterford, each still have a chance to move up in the standings from their respective 13th, 14th and 21st billets.

AREA RACE

In the area race Romeo back John Hanley has one game in which to overcome a 20 point deficiency to take the lead held now by New Haven's John Mack with 93.

Armada back John Murnen follows Hanley with 66. John Stanislou and Bob Lintz for Capac and Brown City each are tied with 54 behind Murnen.

Bird Language

Birds sometimes learn each other's languages. In France, the rook, carrion crow, and jackdaw spend the winter in mixed flocks where they learn to respond to one another's calls. But American eastern crows, members of the same species, do not understand the cries of others of their kind living in a different area.

COURT COLLISION — Boston's Bob Cousy comes down on the shoulder of Cincinnati's Adrian Smith as he passes back to Tom Heinsohn (15) in the third period last night. Oscar Robertson (14) led all scorers with 42 points but the Celtics won the NBA game, 106-105.

Pistons Again Seek First Win

From Our News Wires

The Detroit Pistons will try to remember what victory tastes like tonight when they meet the Cincinnati Royals at Convention Arena in a National Basketball Association game.

The Pistons are 0-7 while the Royals have split six games in the loop's eastern division. Detroit occupies the fifth and final spot in the western circuit.

It will be the first meeting between the two teams since Detroit eliminated the Royals, 3 games to 1, in the post-season playoffs last year.

Old pro Bob Cousy, now in his last season with the Boston Celtics, still has that knack of getting the points when they count.

Cousy dropped in a field goal and a free throw in the last 11 seconds last night for the key points in Boston's 106-105 National Basketball Association triumph over Cincinnati. Los Angeles swept past San Francisco 132-108 and New York handed St. Louis its first home loss of the season, 122-112 in the other games.

TIE-BREAKER

The 34-year-old Cousy, who has signed to coach Boston College next season, hit from the field with 11 seconds left, breaking a 103-103 tie at Cincinnati. He added another point on a free throw five seconds later, then the Royals came rushing back.

Oscar Robertson, who finished with 42 points, flashed down the court and sank a basket, pulling the Royals to within one point. Bob Boozer stole the ball from Boston, but missed a jump shot at the buzzer.

Cousy finished with 17 points, second to the Celtics Sam Jones, with 23.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bill Pace of Kansas City rolled six game blocks of 1,311 and 1,283 Wednesday to lead 96 qualifiers into the quarter-finals of the Professional Bowlers Association Tournament.

Pace, who overcame the affects of polio in his childhood to become one of the highest average bowlers in the nation, has a total 5,235 for the 24 games so far. His average is 218 plus.

In second place is Don Ellis of Houston with 5,148. He is followed by Dick Hoover, St. Louis, 5,123; Billy Welu, St. Louis, 5,114; Buzz Fazio, Detroit, 5,109; George Howard, Detroit, 5,098; John King, Chicago, 5,083; Ray Bluth, St. Louis, 5,074, and Ray Orf, St. Louis 5,061.

CARTER TRAILS

Don Carter of St. Louis, the pre-tournament favorite, shot 4,971 over the 24 game group and entered the quarter-finals in 32nd place.

The 96 survivors will shoot six games Thursday afternoon before the field is cut to 48 for six more games at night.

The high 24 scorers will then go into a 25 game head-to-head session starting Friday.

Avon-Falcons, Kimball-Oaks Will Clash

Farmington Schools to Meet First Time in Friday Action

Ferndale can wrap up the Eastern Michigan League championship Friday by defeating Hazel Park.

Two old rivalries and a new one also highlight the grid menu.

Kimball and Dondero clash in Royal Oak, Rochester hosts Avondale and North Farmington takes on Farmington for the first time.

Southfield travels to Birmingham Seaholm for the traditional closing game between the schools. Fenton goes to Holly in the renewal of another big rivalry.

Lapeer is at Lake Orion, Flint Bentley plays at Oxford, Utica is at Romeo, Howell goes to Northville and Birmingham Groves hosts Brother Rice.

The Farmington and Groves games will be in the afternoon.

Ferndale has clinched a share of the championship and only needs to clip Hazel Park to take it all. The game will be at Ferndale.

Hazel Park knocked the Eagles out of the championship with a major upset last season. The Vikings don't appear to have enough manpower to cope with Ferndale.

FALCONS FAVORED

Rochester is a heavy favorite to whip Avondale. Although the Falcons have not posted an impressive record, but they have shown more offensive punch than the Yellow Jackets.

Farmington has staged a gridiron comeback this season. If this hadn't happened, North Farmington probably would have been favored.

The new school is playing its first full varsity schedule and surprised by placing third in the Tri-River League. There is no senior class, that comes next year, meaning the entire team will be back in 1963.

Southfield has yet to win a game. And the outlook against Seaholm is for another defeat.

The Maples probably will be more interested in the Ferndale-Hazel Park clash because a Viking upset would give Seaholm a tie for the EML crown. Even this isn't expected to help Southfield.

Utica is favored to hand Romeo its second loss and Lapeer is being given the nod over Lake Orion. The Oxford-Flint Bentley clash is rated a tossup.

Fenton is expected to continue its dominance of the last few years over Holly. Groves and Brother Rice are rated even.

All other teams have finished their schedules with the exception of Pontiac Northern which is idle this week. The Huskies play Pontiac Central in the only area game next week.

Largest, Artificial Lake

Lake Kariba in Africa's Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland will be the largest man-made lake in the Western World by 1963. Created by a dam across the Zambesi River, Kariba will cover 2,000 square miles and hold four times as much water as Lake Mead, the United States' largest artificial body of water.

Hoople Balloon Burst by Political Hot Air

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Pigskin Prophet

Egad, friends, my football forecasts have experienced some rough going, due to the oratorical winds generated by the political candidates.

A football not only bounces funny. It sails rather weirdly when caught in a warm updraft.

With the hot air campaign temporarily abated following the election, I feel more than ordinarily confident about the selections for Nov. 10.

One of the most interesting clashes brings together the bloody but unbowed Illinois and Michigan elevens in Ann Arbor. I predict a thrilling 16-14 triumph for Pete Elliott's Illini over the Michigan lads coached by his b r o t h e r, Bump! One might say it will be a bumpy day for the Wolverines — heh-heh!

Never a person to shy away from a difficult assignment, I have devoted much of my time to diagnosing Kansas-Nebraska and Duke-Maryland meetings.

Despite much evidence to the contrary, your humble correspondent unhesitatingly gives you Kansas to repel highly rated Nebraska and Maryland to surprise the Blue Devils. Both contests will be decided by identical 21-14 scores — har-rumph!

Go on with the forecast:

'Dixie' Begins New Job

MILWAUKEE (UPI) —Former major league hitting star Fred "Dixie" Walker moves into Milwaukee today to start his new job as a coach with the Braves.

Key Tilt Could Be Real Starmaker

CHICAGO (AP) — It takes a pressure game to jell an All-America candidate, and Saturday's meeting between top-ranked Northwestern and amazing Wisconsin could be a real star maker.

The Big Ten football campaign suddenly has developed into a cliff-hanger affair, but if there is any key contest it is the Madison, Wis., joust between pacesetting Northwestern (4-0) and runnerup Wisconsin (3-1).

As far as the Associated Press Midwest All-America screening board is concerned, this game could prove a clincher for any of more than a half-dozen talented candidates.

KEY PLAYERS

Already established as prime All-America prospects are the rival quarterbacks in the big Madison mix, Northwestern's Tommy (Gun) Myers and Wisconsin's Ron (Handy Vandy) Vanderkelen.

But there are other Wildcat and Badger standouts, already cited by the midwest board, who could make a lot of All-America hay in Saturday's crucial Big Ten battle.

These include towering end Pat Richter, guard Jim Schenk and tackle Roger Pillath of Wisconsin, and guard Jack Cvercko, tackle Joe Szczecko and flanker back Paul Flatley of Northwestern.

Big Ten statistics have set the stage for a show not only between Myers and Vanderkelen, but also ace receivers Flatley and Richter.

CURRENT LEADER

Myers is the current Big Ten passing leader with 57 hits on 92 tosses for 779 yards and 8 touchdowns. Vanderkelen, runnerup in passing with 49 out of 85 for 611 yards and 5 TD's, leads the Big Ten in total offense with 741 yards against Myers' net of 707. The non-running Wildcat star has lost 72 yards rushing.

Flatley and Richter rate one-two as the Big Ten's best receivers. Flatley has snagged 22 tosses for 299 yards and Richter 21 for 273 yards, each in 4 league games.

Both Richter and Cvercko have been hobbled this week, Cvercko seriously enough to be a doubtful starter. However, Wildcat Coach Ara Parseghian has hopes the talented Cvercko may have "another miracle" and play as well against Wisconsin as he did in Northwestern's upset of Ohio State.

The midwest board gave strong support to three stars from losing teams, including halfback Marv Woodson of Indiana, halfback Larry Ferguson of Iowa and center Rich Butkus of Illinois.

Meanwhile, the board continued to keep high on its All-America checklist such season-long stars as tackles Bobby Bell and Carl Eller of Minnesota; fullback George Saimes of Michigan State, and tackle Don Brumm of Purdue.

Hurricane Eyes Still Centered on NY Bowl

NEW YORK (AP)—The report that the University of Miami is not interested in playing in the Gotham Bowl football game here next month is not true, says Bob Curran, the bowl's executive director. As a matter of fact, the reverse is true.

"I had a call from Andy Gustafson (Miami coach) this morning," Curran told reporters in a press conference Wednesday. "And he said there is no place his players would rather come to than New York.

"I think we have a good chance of getting them."

On Tuesday, the Florida grapevine reported that Miami President Henry King Stanford flatly rejected the invitation.

But Only in Practice Rounds

Snead Shatters Par

SAN ISIDRO, Argentina (AP)—Sixty-eight top professional golfers from 34 countries open fire today in the 10th annual Canada Cup and international tournament, with the United States favored for both the team and individual titles.

Sam Snead, as hot or hotter than the weather, is favored to defend successfully the individual crown he won last year at Puerto Rico with a record 72-hole total of 272.

"It will take a 272 to win here," Snead said after his first tune-up, bothered slightly by a pinched nerve in his left foot—that might possibly cause trouble later—Snead pleased the crowds and himself with scores of 66, 64, and 67 in three practice rounds over the par 70, 6,476-yard Jockey Club course here.

SLIGHTLY RUSTY

Arnold Palmer, considered the world's best golfer, is teamed with Snead to try and bring the United States its third consecutive Canada Cup. But Palmer's game seems rusty after a three-week vacation.

Palmer described his play in practice rounds as "stinky golf." His long irons were erratic and his putts didn't drop.

The tricky greens—some call them "bouncy"—seem to hold the answer as to who will win. Even Snead confessed:

"Two footers are going to be rough to make."

FIFTH PAIR

The U.S. team is in the fifth pair today with Japan's Tadashi Kitta and Torakichi Nakamura. First off was the host team, Argentina, which could provide the hoped for surprise by the thousands expected to watch the matches through Sunday.

Argentina won the first Canada Cup in 1953. Veteran Roberto De Vincenzo is back to lead Argentina and he is turning in sub-par rounds along with teammate Fidel Deluca.

Others are hot, too.

Dais Rees of Wales shot a 67 Wednesday, Christy O'Connor of Ireland scored 68, and Egypt's Cherif Said posted a 67.

South Africa's Gary Player, still sharp from his Australian Open victory at Adelaide a few days ago, says he is ready. Australia's Kel Nagle and Peter Thomson, twice winners of the Canada Cup, have been going well.

Snead, eating ice cream while still chewing his gum, gave his prediction:

"You might classify the top ones as the United States, Australia, South Africa—and I guess—the Argentines. But you gotta wait a few days to be sure."

Spartan Soccer Squad Bids for NCAA Berth

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan State soccer team goes against St. Louis University at St. Louis, Mo., Saturday with the right to represent the midwest in the NCAA tourney at stake.

Both teams have won eight but St. Louis also has a tie with Notre Dame on its record. Even a tie would give the Spartan booters the better record and entry into the national soccer tournament.

Johnny Bower Is 38 Today

Oldest NHL Goalie at End of Line?

By The Associated Press

Has Johnny Bower, the oldest goalie in the National Hockey League, finally reached the end of the line with the Toronto Maple Leafs?

Leaf Coach Punch Imlach isn't talking, but there are some indications Old John may have some reasons for worry on this, his 38th birthday.

"I'm not exactly sure what my plans are," Imlach said Wednesday night after substitute goalie Don Simmons helped the Leafs break a slump with a 5-1 victory over New York. Boston tied Chicago 3-3 in the only other game scheduled.

SOUTHPAW

Simmons, a lanky lefty who once played regularly for the Boston Bruins, was summoned from Rochester after the Leafs had lost four of their last five games, including a 7-3 affair to Detroit. Bower gave up 25 goals in the string.

Simmons, latest in a series of NHL goalies to wear a mask, turned in a solid performance for the Leafs, missing a shutout only on Andy Hebenton's third period goal.

"Sure, he played well," Imlach commented, "but he had a lot of help."

The reference was to Toronto's vicious checking which kept the Rangers off balance all night. Simmons was called on to make only 19 saves. So overwhelming was the Leaf play that in the middle period New York got off only four shots on goal, despite enjoying a one man advantage for a two minute stretch.

JUST A REST

"I'd just planned on giving John a rest," Imlach said, making no reference to the old adage that you don't break up a winning combination.

There was little doubt which way the game was going after Billy Harris accounted for first and second period goals. Frank Mahovlich added another before the middle period was over.

New York got one back, but markers by George Armstrong and Kent Douglas made it a rout and brought on a series of organized, chanted jeers from the balcony at New York's Madison Square Garden.

At Chicago, Boston veteran Johnny Bucyk rammed in the tying goal against Chicago with only seven seconds left. Boston's Ted Green was in the penalty box and the Bruins had pulled their goalie in favor of another attacker when Bucyk got the equalizer.

The goal came at the expense of Denis Dejordy, who took over the Chicago nets for Glenn Hall. Hall was forced to leave a game for the first time in his 8-year NHL career covering 551 games midway through the first period. He complained of a pinched nerve in his back.

Ab McDonald gave the Hawks a 3-2 lead with less than five minutes to go, setting the stage for Bucyk's tying marker. Earlier Chicago goals were scored by Len Lunde and Ken Wharram, while Murray Oliver and Cliff Pennington scored for Boston.

Detroit is at Montreal in the only game scheduled tonight.

Washington Talks May Change Wynn

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Early Wynn, just one baseball victory away from the magic number of 300, is dickering with Washington Senator officials for a coaching or front office position.

However, the burly pitcher indicated he may go for No. 300, "depending on who I go to work for."

Wynn said he worked out an agreement with the Chicago White Sox before the end of the season and "got everything I wanted."

However, he said he has conferred with Senator officials several times since then and may do so again later this week. "We've done some talking, but nothing was accomplished."

"I don't want it to appear I don't want to play for the Sox," he said, "But I want a chance to make a deal for myself for a better position." He was given permission to dicker.

7 Remain With 'Sally' for First AA Season

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—The South Atlantic Baseball League, preparing for its first season as a class AA league, found itself today with two big vacancies.

Franchises from Greenville, S.C., and Norfolk-Portsmouth, Va., were returned Wednesday by their owners. The withdrawals leave the loop, known as the Sally, with seven teams lined up for the 1963 season.

MSU-Purdue Game Dulled by Upsets

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Fans who watched Michigan State beat Indiana, 26-8 and Purdue eat up Michigan 37-0 couldn't see how anybody could stop either the Spartans or Boilermakers in the remainder of this season.

That seemed to calf for a stand-off in their nationally televised game at East Lansing Saturday.

Now that Michigan State has been beaten 28-7 by Minnesota and Purdue 14-10 by an Illinois team that had lost 15 straight games, the handicapping business gets tougher — and it hardly was an exact science to begin with.

Purdue-Michigan State games generally have been wild ones, anyway. The Boilermakers blocked a conversion kick last year to gain a 7-6 victory. Nobody around either school will ever forget Purdue's 6-0 victory in 1953 that clipped a 28-game Spartan string or the 29-13 game that spoiled an otherwise perfect record for MSU in 1957.

Purdue started out this season with the idea of alternating three units. After a 10-7 upset by Miami of Ohio, coach Jack Mollenkopf went to two units. Now, he says the second unit has played better than the first unit for two weeks. So there undoubtedly will be some changes made this week.

NO REMINDER

The Spartans won't need to be reminded that Purdue itself has one of the Big Ten's best throwers in junior Ron Digravio, who has connected with seven touchdown passes this season. It has its traditional crop of good fullbacks, notably Roy Walker, Tom Yakubowski and Gene Donaldson — all bigger than some tackles.

Purdue also has more halfback speed than usual in sophomores Charles King and Tom Fugate, junior Tom Boris and senior Tom Bloom.

Ontario's highest point above sea level is 2,183 feet, near Alva, 50 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie.

Illini Showing Confidence

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Illinois' coach Pete Elliott will lead a football team against his brother Bump, at Michigan Saturday that is in good shape physically and sharpened mentally with renewed confidence after a resounding 14-10 victory over Purdue.

Pete was given a vote of confidence by the Illini Athletic Association board of directors just two days prior to invading Purdue as a 21-point underdog and pulling an upset that snapped a 15-game losing streak.

Meanwhile, brother Bump was losing his fourth straight Big Ten game to Wisconsin 34-12. The dozen points were the first the Wolverines had scored in conference play this season after being blanked by Michigan State, Purdue and Minnesota.

So, now that Michigan has overcome a goal line frustration and Illinois has broken a victory drought, the props are set for the brother-coached teams to meet for the third time.

Bump's Wolverines defeated Pete's Illini 8-7 in 1960 and 38-6 last year.

"When you play well, you find yourself believing you can do things — and you do them," said Pete of the Purdue triumph. "The upset did not happen overnight or in one week's time. We progressed into it. If we had not been improving day by day, week by week since the 51-15 loss to Ohio State, we would not have won. We started to come of age in that Ohio game."

IMPROVED PASSING

Much of the Illini progress can be attributed to improvement of quarterback Mike Taliaferro and such pass-receivers as Thurman Walker, who grabbed 4 for 90 yards and a touchdown against Purdue, Ken Zimmerman and Jim Warren. Taliaferro hit on 10 out of 25 shots for 199 yards in the Purdue game and now has a record of 50-134 for 769 yards and 3 TD's.

The aerial arm has been supplemented also by improved running by Taliaferro himself and backs Warren, Zimmerman, Mike Summers and Davie Pike. The leader is Zimmerman, a senior, with 159 yards in 34 carries. A newcomer to the first unit adds speed. He is Trenton Jackson, a Rochester, N. Y. sophomore who is co-holder of the national prep 100-yard dash mark of :09.4.

Another factor in the Purdue victory was the play of sophomore center and linebacker Dick Butkus, who returned to duty from the injury list and made 11 tackles.

Thedar Loses Pass Lead

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Western Michigan's Roger Theder has lost his Mid-American Conference passing lead.

Theder fell behind Bob Hamlin of Marshall last weekend. The Bronco quarterback has completed 38 of 73 attempts for one touchdown and 478 yards in five MAC games. In the same number of conference games, Hamlin has hit on 46 of 102 for three touchdowns and 508 yards.

Many Negroes Elected to Posts in Number of States

By The Associated Press

Negroes scored major political gains in Tuesday's elections across the nation. Two were elected to statewide offices for the first time in Massachusetts and Connecticut.

In New York State, however, where a Negro was nominated by a major party for a statewide office for the first time, he went down to defeat along with most of his running mates.

Elsewhere, Georgia elected its first Negro state senator in 92 years.

In Pennsylvania, 10 Negroes—nine from Philadelphia and one from Pittsburgh, and all Democrats—were re-elected to the state House of Representatives. One Philadelphia Negro, Democrat Robert N. C. Nix, was re-elected congressman.

Negroes didn't fare well in Ohio. Colorado and Oklahoma. A Negro ran for a state office in each of those states and each lost.

Edward W. Brooke, who says, "Hardly anyone even, mentions I'm a Negro anymore; I think it's progress," was elected attorney general of Massachusetts. His opponent, white, was Democrat Frances E. Kelly, former lieutenant governor and onetime attorney general. He was the only Republican elected this time in an otherwise Democratic sweep of statewide offices.

'NO CRANK MAIL'

"I didn't hear one racial epithet during the whole campaign," said the 43-year-old Washington, D.C., native who lives in Roxbury, a Boston suburb, with his wife and two children.

"I didn't even receive any crank mail. And I don't think I was asked more than five questions on civil rights in the last two months."

Both major parties in Connecticut nominated Negroes for state treasurer, and so one was sure to win. He was Democrat Gerald A. Lamb, 37, a dental technician and a three-term Waterbury city alderman, who beat Republican William D. Graham, a successful Hartford lawyer.

Edward R. Dudley, a Negro running for attorney general on the Democratic ticket in New York State, lost to incumbent Republican Louis J. Lefkowitz.

Dudley is borough president of Manhattan, one of five boroughs of New York City. Within Manhattan, Negro Congressman Adam Clayton Powell Jr., a Democrat, won re-election in his Harlem district.

GEORGIA SENATOR

In Fulton County, Ga., Leroy R. Johnston, Negro Democrat, defeated T. M. Alexander, Negro Republican, to become the first Negro state senator in Georgia since the days of Reconstruction.

Another Negro candidate for state senator from Fulton County, Atlanta, Republican Rod Harris, lost to Democrat Oby T. Brewer Sr., white.

Negro Republican Leodis Harris was beaten in his try to oust four-term Democratic U.S. Rep. Charles A. Vanik in Ohio's 21st District, the Cleveland area.

Also beaten was Negro Robert Rhone, who ran 19th in a race for state representatives in Denver, Colo. The top 17 were elected.

In a state legislative battle in Oklahoma, Negro Edward M. Porter, a Republican, was defeated by Democratic incumbent Bryce Baggett.

Mrs. Charles E. White, a Negro school board member in Houston, Tex., was re-elected over five opponents. But in a New Orleans, La., school board election, Negro Theodore George ran last of all candidates.

The only Negro candidate in Arkansas also lost. He was Dr. William H. Townsend, an optometrist, who ran second in a three-man race for a post on the city board of directors in Little Rock.

A Negro won a congressional seat in California's 21st District in Los Angeles County against a Negro opponent, and three Negroes were elected to the California State Assembly, also in all-Negro contests.

Nikita May Be Switching to Soft-Sell Approach

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev evidently is revising his diplomatic strategy to bring it into line with his nuclear weapons retreat from Cuba.

This may mean that he is dropping plans for an early showdown with the United States, Britain and France over the future of West Berlin.

It may also mean that the main Soviet emphasis in the next few months will be on a peace offensive, as developed in a variety of East-West negotiations, rather than on threats and pressures designed to achieve Kremlin purposes by brandishing Soviet power.

These are speculative conclusions suggested by remarks which the Soviet leader made Wednesday to reporters whom he met at a reception at Moscow. Authorities here noted that his tone was on the whole conciliatory and in accord with his published letters to President Kennedy when the Cuban missile crisis was at its height 10 days ago.

News Analysis

SUMMIT STATEMENT

Perhaps the one remark he made which is of most interest to officials in Washington was "I was never in favor of a summit meeting" with President Kennedy.

Reports of this remark were read here in the context of what most officials now believe to have been one of Khrushchev's principal purposes and possibly his main design in putting nuclear missiles into Cuba in the first place.

The belief that such a plan did in fact exist arises out of the timing of various Khrushchev maneuvers which pointed to an early effort on his part to force a Berlin showdown and, in that connection, to have a summit meeting with Kennedy. The assumption here is that he planned to use the Soviet build-up as a surprise move aimed at gaining U.S. concessions on Berlin.

Ever since Khrushchev's hand was called on his Cuba gambit and he chose to back down rather than face the grave dangers of a military conflict that could spread into a great nuclear war, U.S. officials have been watching for signs which would indicate Khrushchev's future strategy.

It was for this reason that his remarks at the Kremlin reception Wednesday attracted extraordinary interest here. "A hard policy is not always best," Khrushchev said. "In the conduct of foreign policy flexibility is necessary."

He also said that the world had been "on the edge of the precipice of thermonuclear war" and he added that the Soviet Union had "accepted a compromise."

"To avoid a similar crisis," he said, "we must show more reason and restraint. We will have to clear away the debris that causes all kinds of disagreements."

Authorities here said that one lesson of the Cuban crisis for Khrushchev seems to be clear and that is that he now knows the United States was willing to fight to defend interests which it considered vital to its national security.

He must therefore consider that in view of the long and firm commitments to the defense of West Berlin the United States would not be less firm in meeting a Soviet challenge there than it was in meeting the Soviet challenge in Cuba.

Population 'Big Ten'

The world's "big ten" in order of population are China, India, U.S.S.R., U.S.A., Japan, Pakistan, Indonesia, Brazil, West Germany and United Kingdom. By 1980, these nations are expected to add more than another billion persons to the world population.

15,000 Italian Residents Told to Move Out

PISTICCI, Italy (UPI) —This southern Italian community of 15,000 persons has been ordered by presidential decree to become a "ghost town."

The death warrant came for Pisticci, perched high on a hill overlooking fertile farm land, because landslides have made it unsafe.

The first recorded slide came in 1688 and killed 400 persons. As the centuries passed, more and more rock and soil slipped out from under the town, taking houses and streets with it.

Whole areas of the town have been condemned as unsafe. In the past 10 years millions of lire have been spent on attempts to prop up the town. Geologists, however said all their work was in vain.

Until now the people of Pisticci have defied the scientists' verdict. As their houses collapsed they would move to another part of town and build again.

The presidential decree means they will have to move to homes in the plain.

Osteopath Waives Exam on Charges

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Osteopathic physician Maurice R. Lee waived examination in police court yesterday on charges of performing an abortion and conspiracy to perform such an operation. The charges cite separate cases.

Dr. Lee, 40, was held to Superior Court under total bond of $12,000.

He was arrested yesterday on a warrant alleging he conspired to perform an illegal operation on an 18-year-old girl. State police said the operation was not performed.

An earlier warrant cited him for alleged performance of an abortion on a 20-year-old woman last August.

New Look Arrives in Book's Colors

NEW YORK (UPI) — Scientific, religious and school text books are getting a new look. No longer are they restricted to dull greens, browns, blues, blacks and other somber shades, according to Robert H. Wessman, president of J. F. Tapley Co., book manufacturers.

* * *

"Making a scientific book or a school or college text inviting in appearance has a psychological effect that induces reading or study," Wessman said. "There's something about the appearance of a dull-looking volume that makes one reluctant to open it."

Seeking to Insure Present Boundaries

The Greater Waterford Community Council voted Tuesday night to circulate petitions that would insure no change in present boundaries of Waterford Township for at least 90 days.

GWCC President Mrs. Edmund L. Windeler explained the action was taken as a safeguard against rumored fragmentation of the area that could disrupt a study now in progress by a Township Board-appointed incorporation study committee.

A minimum of 500 signatures must be obtained and filed with the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, Mrs. Windeler said.

In other business the Community Betterment Organization voted to urge that the Township Board participate in the federal accelerated public works program now under study by the governing unit.

Seventh Straight Lossless Day

Stock Mart Advances Again

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed against heavy odds to score another advance in fast trading early this afternoon.

The market stood at the peak of seven straight sessions without a loss, including six sharp advances, and many in Wall Street felt the list was due for a "correction."

After moving unevenly at the start, however, stocks nudged even higher, helped by insistent investment and speculative demand in selected issues.

The advance was a ragged one, with a number of blue chips falling by the wayside. The ticker tape lagged for a spell as prices, in general, moved higher.

Nothing much in the way of over-all news was on hand to account for the rise, brokers said.

Motors, tobaccos, oils, electrical equipments, aerospace issues, rubbers and mail order-retails were mostly higher.

Steels, utilities, nonferrous metals, and rails were mixed. Most of the leading chemicals were on the upside, with the notable exception of du Pont which dropped a point.

* * *

Prices were mixed in slow trading on the American Stock Exchange. Louisiana Land was up about 2 points.

Bond Marts Make Small Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The bond markets made some small gains in early trading today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government issues quoted long maturities unchanged to up 2/32 and intermediates unchanged to 1/32 higher. Volume was light.

Corporate changes were small and scattered in trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Rails were the most active section and showed the most gainers. A few utilities added fractions while industrials were narrowly mixed.

Don't Push Her Too Far

Tempers Rise as Britain Faces 'Market' Problems

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As each new problem arises in the incredibly complex negotiations for British entry into the European Common Market, so also do tempers rise.

So it has been in the last few days that even those most ardently hopeful for eventual success of the negotiations have been warning that Britain can be pushed too far and that the negotiations can fail, much to the future misfortune of Europe.

"It would," said a conservative member of parliament, "be a tragedy if over-clever European negotiators betrayed the true interests of Europe and handed the Kremlin a gigantic consolation prize for Cuba."

At the moment, difficulties center upon British efforts to protect commonwealth exports from the temperature zones, and in the differences between British and European systems of protection for agriculture.

COMMON MARKET

Still to be negotiated is the status of Common Market imports of tropical goods because commonwealth interests extend around the globe and into every climate.

And this is of special interest to the United States, the pledged protector of Latin American economies dependent upon sales of coffee or sugar or meat.

But even these hurdles still represent only the beginning.

There remain such questions as the use of metric or decimal systems, the problem of taxes and wages, rights of investment, the free flow of labor and transport and convertibility of currencies.

Beyond all this is the headlong rush of the present Common Market membership — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg — to complete their economic integration ahead of the 1970 deadline and to open the way even more quickly to political integration as well.

PROBLEMS FORSEEN

Each year chopped off the original schedule increases Britain's problems.

However, these all are problems that were foreseen in some degree. The pace of world events brings others.

One such event was the development of the Cuban crisis.

It brought new realization to the nations of Western Europe as to Britain for the need of the strongest Europe with a voice of its own independent of the two great nuclear powers, the United States and the U.S.S.R.

It also brought a new demand that Europe no longer should be dependent upon the United States for its nuclear defenses.

It strengthened the hand of President Caries de Gaulle who has insisted upon developing France's nuclear capabilities over United States objections.

Britain already is a recognized nuclear power but so far has adhered to her agreement with the United States not to exchange nuclear know-how with have-not nations, including France.

* * *

It is recognized now that a Britain closely aligned politically and economically with Europe scarcely could continue such a policy, and, indeed, would be required to work closely with France. It is a bargaining card for Britain, but for the United States it will require a review of its whole nuclear policy.

Burglar Bam-Boozled by Bottle on the Job

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) — Police nudged Dennis Lee Corbett, 31, and told him he had fallen asleep on the job.

A doctor's office employe found Corbett snoozing in front of an open safe, burglar tools scattered around.

"I guess I just had too much out of that bottle," Corbett told an arresting officer.

Driver Gets the Bird but He Still Delivers

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — E. A. Baalman of Menlo, Kan., investigated a suspicious chirping in the rear of his cattle truck at a cross country stop.

Underneath the frame he found a nest with three little robins. Baalman left the nestlings intact and continued on to Menlo where he expected mother robin would be waiting.

Installations Grow on Keys

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Soldiers continued today to beef up military installations strung along the Florida Keys facing the coast of Cuba. Jet fighter planes flew over the Florida Straits around the clock.

Installations supporting the build-up at Key West, site of a big Navy and air station only 90 miles from Havana, continued to spring up. Troops guarded them behind barbed wire barricades.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

BY OSWALD JACOBY

Recent columns have stressed finding the best play. Today we have a different problem.

JACOBY

South is in six no-trump and wants to find a play that will guarantee his contract against any possible distribution of East-West cards.

Plays of this type are called "safety plays."

The key suit is clubs. South has eight tricks in the other three suits and needs four club tricks for his contract. If everything goes well he may make five club tricks, but he wants to be sure of four.

He can do this by leading a low club from his hand and playing the queen from dummy. Of course, he doesn't play the queen if West produces the king. In that case he takes the trick with the ace.

The only danger is finding four missing clubs in one hand. Suppose West holds them? East shows out and South leads a low club from dummy to his nine spot. West wins the trick with the ten and later on South comes back to his hand and finesses against him.

Suppose East holds all four clubs? West will show out on the first club lead and East will win with his king. Later South will have a proven finesse against East's ten spot.

Mall UF Drive Called Success

Firms anJ Employes Contribute $9,500

The Pontiac Mall has completed its first Torch Drive as a separate unit of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

The Mall unit drive was highly successful, according to William Crick, manager of Hudson's Budget store; and UF chairman for the Mall Chapter Plan Group.

Firm and employe contributions totaled more than $9,500 from the 43 stores now operating in the Mall. That figure is expected to go over $10,000 when final returns are compiled.

"It was a big job but generally speaking the cooperation was good," Crick said.

He noted that over 60 per cent of the stores received 100 percent participation from their employes.

Crick completed the Mall campaign in five weeks, one week before the end of the areawide campaign.

In addition to business and employe gifts, Robert L. Wittbolt, Mall manager, and L. N. Gillian, Montgomery Ward store manager and president of the Pontiac Mall Merchants Association, have designated coins collected from the fountain during the campaign to the Women's campaign effort.

The fountain, center of interest and popular meeting place, has inspired hundreds of shoppers to toss coins into the pool.

Since the beginning of the drive, $111 has been taken from the pool to be returned to the community through UF services supported by the drive.

Still in Running for Presidential Nomination

Margin Loss Hurt Rocky—Not Critically

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's inability to win as big as his supporters had hoped over weak opposition damaged but did not destroy his chance to be his party's 1964 presidential nominee.

After all, he was re-elected. Rocky still has a 1964 chance only because any governor of New York State is a presidential possibility unless he has two heads.

Republican George Romney, who said he would not be a candidate, was projected into the presidential picture by being elected governor of Michigan.

Republican William W. Scranton was elected governor of Pennsylvania. He's another 1964 possibility. The two big states long had strayed from their Republican moorings and now may be coming back. That appears to be the best Republican election news.

Next best was a modest increase in southern Republicans elected to the House of Representatives. This stimulated a party spokesman to declaim that the future of the Republican party lies in the South. There was scattering but important evidence that the South moved a little yesterday toward a two-party system.

If so, this is a clear gain for those with the greatest stake in yesterday's polling — the people of the United States.

Balancing one thing against another and skipping most of the fine print, the Democratic party won yesterday's election. The results of the polling were eggscrambled — Democrats taking office in Vermont and New Hampshire, a Republican elected governor of Oklahoma.

DEMS HOLD OWN

But give or take a very few seats, the Democrats held their own in the House of Representatives in this off-year election. An average minority party House gain in an off-year election would be roughly 40 to 50 seats. The Republicans needed 44 gains to become the House majority. They didn't come close.

The foregoing, however, is expressed in terms of party labels which have increasingly been losing their significance. On many domestic issues in the 87th Congress, the Republican minority teamed with a conservative minority of Southern Democrats to lick the new frontiersmen.

The administration is better off in the Senate where the Democratic gain may be as many as four seats. If so the new Senate would be: Democrats, 68; Republicans 32.

Star billing must go to President Kennedy. He made an unusual, almost unprecedented, off-year campaign effort. He also almost took the political campaign off page one with developments in the Cuban missile crisis.

If his party won yesterday, so did Kennedy win. Marginal congressional Democrats — hence sisters between conservatives and liberals — will not forget that Kennedy had a big influence in the 1962 elections.

In terms of Republican presidential politics, Romney, Rockefeller and Scranton will figure in all speculation. Only Scranton, of the three, has a solid party background. Win or lose, Richard M. Nixon took himself out of the 1964 nomination.

Romney also said he would not be available but not so loudly.

Scranton has good reason to hope. Rockefeller is a loner — he consistently has argued that JFK can be licked in 1964. And Rocky is willing to try. Willing? Anxious!

October Higher for Chicken Pox

Reports of some communicable diseases in Oakland County stayed on a plateau in October, but with a few increases over September.

Leading the list, as usual, were chicken pox, measles and mumps.

Of these, chicken pox showed the largest increase in the number of new cases. Sixty-two were reported in October, eight in September, and 58 in October of last year.

For measles, the count was 25, 41 and 80; while for mumps the count was 50, 11 and 62.

Impetigo, an inflammatory skin disease, was reported with 25 new cases in October against only one case reported in September. Last year's October count was 22.

Mononucleosis also showed an increase. There were 16 new cases reported last month, only three in September, and only one in October 1961.

Salmonella, associated with acute intestinal tract inflammation, showed seven new cases reported in October, against one in September and none in October of last year.

Other disease counts in October were: Scarlet fever, 15; hepatitis, 18; rheumatic fever, 6; rubella, 3; pneumonia, 1; meningitis, 3; influenza, 1; encephalitis, 1; whooping cough, 4.

To Sell $5.4 Million Supervisors Okay Sewer Bonds

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday pledged its full faith and credit behind the sale of $5.4 million in bonds to help finance construction of the $6.9-million Dequindre Interceptor sewer in the southeastern part of the county.

At the same time, supervisors approved a resolution to accept a federal grant for the difference. They authorized Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry to accept a second federal grant of nearly $1.4-million when it's offered.

The bond issue will be reduced accordingly, Barry said.

The first grant is under the Water Pollution Act.

The second, under the new Public Works Acceleration Act, has been approved in Washington, according to Barry, but the money has not been offered officially by the federal government yet.

Barry requested the backing for the bond sales to finance the local share of the sewer project. The bonds will be retired by local assessments and connection charges levied by the 14 municipalities involved.

Supervisors also approved a final contract with the 14 communities for construction of the sanitary sewer interceptor.

Construction of the sewer is scheduled to begin Jan. 1 and to be completed 15 months later.

The second federal grant would reduce the cost of the project for the 14 municipalities to about 50 per cent of the total cost.

The 14 are Birmingham, Berkley, Beverly Hills, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township, Southfield and Troy.

In other action, the supervisors approved a resolution authorizing the Board of Auditors to negotiate with the Downtown Pontiac Business Association on the temporary use of the old courthouse site at Huron and Saginaw streets for a parking lot.

Pontiac City Commissioners informally recommended the property be leased to the merchants group for a lot for free parking, saying the city preferred not to consider purchasing the site at this time.

The resolution called for an agreement for six months at a rental of $1 for that period.

The board also approved a buildings and grounds committee resolution to allocate a site for the proposed children's village at the County Service Center.

Plans are being prepared to centralize all county juvenile facilities in a village complex.

The general site approved by the board lies between Telegraph and Watkins Lake roads.

The board designated the county health director, Dr. John D. Monroe, agent to apply for federal funds toward a proposed new South Oakland Health Center.

A site for the center, to cost an estimated $600,000, hasn't been decided yet. The board of directors at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak is considering offering the county a free site on the hospital grounds.

NEXT TEN YEARS

Supervisors also authorized the County Board of Auditors to spend $2,000 for a study of space needs for county departments and institutions which might be anticipated for the next 10 years.

The study will be conducted by Dr. L. L. Friedland of Wayne State University.

In other action, the board of supervisor directed the county clerk to send a letter to President Kennedy voicing county support of his "firm and courageous action" in the Cuban crisis.

Polio Shots Urged by Health Official

DETROIT (UPI) — Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Wayne County Health Commissioner, yesterday urged citizens, particularly in out county areas, to get polio shots if not already innoculated.

Recent reports of single cases of paralytic polio in the areas of Wayne and Huron Townships prompted Molner's action.

"Less than three weeks ago we issued a report on a 97 per cent decrease in the incidence of polio since the advent of the Salk vaccine in 1955," he said.

"We want to emphasize that polio can be kept in check only if we take advantage of the Salk vaccine."

That's a Hole-in-One You Don't See Often

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Bob Marshall of Palmetto teed off on the 325-yard 10th hole on the Palmetto Pines Golf Course and scored a hole in one recently.

The ball hit a tree about 140 yards out, bounced to the left and rolled 100 yards into the cup on the 14th green.

Quiet Group Outshines Vocal Ones

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — A unique test of group behavior conducted recently on the Berkeley Campus of the University of California revealed "quiet" students out performed "vocal" students.

Four test groups from "very vocal" to "very quiet" were assigned to test and evaluate a pamphlet and make a report recommending ways to improve it.

The evaluations were evaluated and the work of the two "quiet" groups was ranked first.

The "vocal" students, it appeared had been unable to work as a team and the "very vocal" group failed because no one read the entire report before it was submitted.

The results indicated that fast-speaking members needed a leader to hold them back until sound decisions were reached and help evaluate the integrated product.

Among the "quiet" groups a few began to assume active leadership roles. They had been more critical of their own efforts.

Wash Hair in Mayonnaise? Latin Quarter Beauty Does

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Some people think Broadway's a kooky place, which is all wrong of course.

For example, now, here's something from Broadway that's very sensible.

Yes, I've a beauty secret for all of you girls . . . Latin Quarter lovely Nora Alexis washes her hair in mayonnaise.

WILSON

"Many women use a vinegar rinse . . . or a little oil . . . or egg. Mayonnaise has all three. Why not a mayonnaise hair wash?" says Nora.

Nora's a stunningly shapely Beverly Hills brunet who's got the mayonnaise commercial all figured out: "Does your hair have that rich, tangy, tasty, succulent flavor? Wash it with Miraculous Mayonnaise—you'll taste the difference."

Nora's a girl to whom strange things happen.

"A man gave me this corduroy raincoat on the subway," she said, in a coat three sizes too large.

"I guess my skirt was too high. He kept saying 'Don't do that.' He took off his coat, he put it across my knees . . . and left.

"I've had," Nora continued, "32 accidents. People can't seem to drive when I'm around.

"I was with Oscar Levant's daughter Marcia. She was driving without a license, and was under age. We hit a tree. Her father was very angry. It was a 1929 Cadillac, and he was very attached to it."

That's all except for Nora's pet snakes, one of which she called "Slimey," he was so sweet. Slimey used to get in the cookie jar, so her mother said, "Slimey goes or I go."

Nora asked me to be very careful about how I wrote this story. "Don't, give people the idea," she warned, "that I'm some kind of a nut."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: California reports increasing illiteracy, and Ima Washout figures the reason some kids aren't in school is that they're waiting to cross the street.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Some of those young singers who sing with feeling must be feeling pretty bad.—Jack Herbert.

EARL'S PEARLS: A really good salesman is one who can make his wife sympathize with the girl who lost her compact in his car."

Modern girls are sensitive about not knowing how to cook. One gal got upset when someone told her you don't open an egg with a can-opener . . . That's earl, brother.

Theater Finds Bardot Is Better Propaganda

NOTTINGHAM, England (UPI)— The manager of The Moulin Rouge movie theater said he has withdrawn "The Berlin Wall," an East German movie praising Communist rule, after three days because of poor attendance.

It was replaced by a Brigitte Bardot film.

Airliner Seats Are Expensive

Double Units Cost More Than $1,700

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Among the items of air transportation taken for granted is the airliner seat you sit in.

It shouldn't be. It is one of the most ingenious, strongest, carefully-maintained and expensive components that go into a modern transport.

EXPENSIVE SEATS

A two-seat unit that goes into the first class sections of Boeing, Douglas and Convair jetliners costs more than $1,700.

The three-abreast units used in coach sections carry a $2,150 price tag. Which means the average jet transport contains about $85,000 worth of seats — or more than an entire airliner cost 30 years ago.

Why so expensive? Design cost is one reason. An airliner seat is supposed to be equally comfortable for a 250-pound man or a 100-pound woman, an achievement which involves hundreds of experimental contours.

HAS THICK PADDING

Construction is another reason for the high price tag. A jetliner seat contains more than 30 pounds of plastic foam padding, so thick that it has enough buoyancy to serve as an emergency life preserver.

The chrome steel frame is built to absorb a deceleration force nine times that of gravity — not much less than the "G-force" absorbency of the seats used by the astronauts.

Seat covers are a combination of wool and synthetic fibers chemically treated to be flame-resistant —and the fibers have been tested to eliminate any possibility that they might cause skin irritation or provoke allergies.

No Complaints Made on Votes

Committee Fails to Find Any Infractions

DETROIT (AP) — The controversial Committee for Honest Elections made no complaint of any fraudulent voting in Detroit Tuesday.

Challengers for the committee — given birth barely a week before election day — served at numerous polling places but failed to send any infraction report to the group's downtown hotel headquarters.

On other grounds, however, George J. Abrams of New York, chief investigator for the committee, was displeased.

Abrams, under a Democratic-sought court order limiting his activities, charged his volunteer challengers had been intimidated.

Abrams also said his ranks of an estimated 500 to 600 challengers, hired at $20 each, were infiltrated by persons opposed to the committee's purposes.

The New Yorker, a representative of the Honest Ballot Association of that city, had been under orders by Wayne County Circuit judge to refrain from any acts to "intimidate, coerce or frustrate" qualified voters "by challenge or otherwise."

Democratic state chairman John J. Collins secured the court order by complaining the committee sent a misleading letter to 160,000 Detroit voters.

The court order was directed against Abrams alone.

Abrams said he would make a report to the committee chairman, Walker L. Cisler, president of the Detroit Edison Co., after he has made a study of written reports of workers. He said this might take several weeks.

Montrose to Be Towed Into Ecorse

DETROIT (AP) — Step No. 2 in the salvaging of the British motorship Montrose was to get under way this week when she is towed to a berth at the Nicholson Terminal Co. in suburban Ecorse.

The Montrose, sunk July 30 when she collided with a barge near the Ambassador Bridge, was afloat in the Detroit River today, although still listing at a 15-degree angle.

Salvagers from the Merritt-Chapman Co., who raised the sunken ship, will fulfill their part of the contract when the Montrose is dry, tight, afloat and tied at a dock. That should happen this week.

After some preliminary work on the hull at the Ecorse yard, the Montrose will be towed to Montreal for final repairs. This will have to be done soon, as the St. Lawrence River generally is iced in by mid-December.

Tate was trapped on top of the viaduct and unable to get out of the path of the train.

New Star Romney Rehearses for Lansing Role

MAKE OVER PAGES

DETROIT (UPI)—Governor-elect George Romney today asked to meet tomorrow with members of the Democratic-controlled adminstrative board and the Republican-controlled legislature who will serve with him for the next two years.

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's political scene found one curtain going up and another going down today — and the spectators wondering what happens next.

The curtain was going up on a relative newcomer to politics, automaker George Romney, who became governor-elect by defeating Gov. Swainson with a 78,000-plus plurality in Tuesday's election.

In defeating Swainson, Romney became the first Republican in 14 years to capture the executive seat which went to G. Mennen Williams in 1948 and remained in Democratic control ever since.

While the spotlight shifted to Romney, the curtain was going down on the 37-year-old Swainson, legless veteran of World War II former lieutenant governor and two-time winner of a seat in the State Senate.

What the future holds for both men, only time will tell. But they had one thing in common today—a desire to get away from the pressure of politics for a while, relax and recuperate from one of the most strenuous campaigns in Michigan history.

When he assumes the governorship next New Year's day, Romney will be in an interesting position that gives him a Republican-controlled legislature with which to work out his program.

But at the same time he will be surrounded by Democrats in the executive branch. All seven other members of the State Administrative Board—sometimes called the "Governor's cabinet" —will be of the opposing party.

These will be Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, Secretary of State James Hare, Attorney General Frank Kelley, Auditor General Billie Farnum and State Treasurer Sanford Brown.

Romney told newsmen he would do all in his power to get cooperation from the board when he moves into the governor's chair.

GENERAL CONTROL

The board, which meets with the governor twice a month, is charged by law with "general supervisory control over the functions and activities of all administ-

U. S. to Check Cuba-to-Russia Ships for Arms

Navy Looks for Proof That Vessels Hauling Soviet Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) —Blockading U.S. Navy ships were ready to check homeward bound Soviet vessels today for proof that they are hauling Red missiles from Cuba.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev said Wednesday that 40 Soviet rockets had been dismantled in Cuba and probaby were on their way back to the Soviet Union.

The pentagon said Wednesday night that arrangements were being made with Soviet representatives for the Navy to check on the number of dismantled missiles aboard the homeward-bound Soviet ships.

In announcing that the first contact would be made today, Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, indicated no specific hour.

And he declined comment when a newsman asked if the Red Cross would play a part in the inspection procedure.

The administration has insisted on international verification of the denuclearization of Cuba.

DIRECTED TO EXCHANGE

Asked Wednesday if the arrangement for a Navy check of the missiles removal was considered satisfactory, Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, called attention to the last exchange of messages between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

In his Oct. 27 message to Khrushchev, Kennedy said he understood the Soviets to have agreed to remove offensive weapons systems from Cuba "under appropriate United Nations observation and supervision."

There has been talk since of the Red Cross filling this role.

UF Two Pct. Short of Goal

The Pontiac area United Fund drive is within 2 per cent of its goal.

The sudden spurt from a 66-per-cent position only this Monday is due largely to employes of the Pontiac Motor Division.

They pledged $170,181.20 or 111 per cent of their quota, 1962 UF Chairman Fred V. Haggard announced today.

This gives the drive a total of $692,149 in receipts. The goal is $706,125.

"The Pontiac Motor employes' pledge is the largest they have made to the fund," said Industrial Division Chairman Ted Bloom today.

"Buell Starr, our UF plant Chairman and his campaign leaders deserve great credit for these outstanding results. It was through their efforts that over 12,300 employes participated."

Bloom said the Industrial Division has now raised $497,467 or 106 per cent of quota.

Bruce Annett, Commercial Division chairman, reported $147,641.73 or 77.5 per cent of his quota.

The chapter plans group, headed by C. F. Brown, has reached 80.9 per cent of its $115,919.50 goal with $93,830.67.

Jack Brannack and his small teams groups have collected $9,042.60 or 82.5 per cent of their $10,955.49 quota.

Dave Ewalt reported government units had turned in $9,099.25 or 51.1 per cent of their $17,804.70 goal.

Dr. Michael Kozonis, division vice chairman for the professional group, announced Professional II had reported 101.1 per cent of its goal, with $9,697.54 pledged. He said Professional I had reached only 55.6 per cent of its goal, with $10,894.72.

William Lacy, vice chairman for the education group, said Pontiac schools had pledged $11,889.32 or 95 per cent of the $12,446.21 quota.

Waterford reported in with $3,187.03 or 77.9 per cent of its goal, Lacy said.

Convicted of Swindling

Estes Gets 8 Years in Prison

BILLIE SOL ESTES

By FINIS MOTHERSHEAD

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A jury convicted bankrupt promoter Billie Sol Estes of swindling and set his sentence at eight years in the State Penitentiary Wednesday.

The verdict, reached after the 11 men and one woman deliberated 2 hours and 8 minutes, ended a 17-day trial on state charges growing out of a transaction involving a mortgage on liquid fertilizer tanks. The state said the tanks did not exist.

Estes, 37, faces state antitrust charges accusing him of fixing the price of liquid fertilizer. Also pending against him are federal charges of fraud, conspiracy and perjury in connection with $22 million in loans obtained on fertilizer tanks.

It was the first conviction for Estes since his multimillion dollar complex of liquid fertilizer tank mortgage deals, cotton allotment transfers and grain storage collapsed last spring.

Estes' jaw muscles tightened as he heard the decision but he remained impassive. His attractive blonde wife Patsy blinked hard to keep back tears.

Asked for comment on the verdict, Estes replied: "What can you say?"

Estes was accused of inducing Pecos farmer T. J. Wilson to sign a $94,500 mortgage on nonexistent liquid fertilizer tanks.

Prosecutors claimed Estes, his own credit exhausted, paid rental bonuses and got farmers to contract for nonexistent tanks, leased the tanks from them and agreed to pay monthly rentals matching payments due on the mortgages.

The defense claimed he merely paid a bonus for borrowing credit.

Estes remained free under $20,000 bond pending a motion for a new trial, promised within 10 days by defense lawyer John D. Cofer. Altogether, kinsmen have posted $140,000 bonds for Estes on state and federal charges.

Landry Fights 'Townhouse'

Planning Commission Agrees With Mayor

Mayor Robert Landry last night warded off what he saw as a threat to the city's plans for residential development in urban renewal areas.

Before the city planning commission was a request to rezone some 50 acres for a proposed 200-unit "townhouse" cooperative housing development on Pontiac's East Side.

"I'm certainly not going to recommend this be approved," the mayor said, "when I know urban renewal parcels will be available for multiple-family dwellings in the near future."

He offered a motion to deny the rezoning request. The planning commission went along with it.

The $2-million development was proposed last month by Standard Building Products Co., of Detroit, for an area near East Boulevard bounded by Tasmania and Michigan Avenues and the Clinton River.

Action was adjouned until last night's meeting on the developer's request to rezone the Residential-1 parcel to Residential-3.

The recommendation to deny the request will be presented to the City Commission next Tuesday.

A debate developed last night between commissioners and the property developers.

Auditor General Told to Mind Own Business

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday told State Aud. Gen. Billie S. Farnum to mind his own business.

County business is not state business, the board maintained.

Supervisors took this stand in their answer to a recent auditor general's report of an examination of county records and accounts.

Farnum, in his report, charged county officials with illegally collecting $11,073 from the county during a period from January 1960 to July 1962.

The money was collected on the basis of what Farnum called unjustifiable expense accounts and overpayment of the chairman of the board of supervisors as well as the County Board of Auditors

Dem Leader Eleanor Dies at Her Home

Former First Lady a National Figure in Own Right

NEW YORK (AP) — The world joined the United States today in mourning the death of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, a truly beloved former First Lady.

Eleanor Roosevelt, often times as controversial a person as her late husband, died last night in her Manhattan apartment.

The 78-year-old widow of the nation's 32nd president and niece of the 26th president had suffered from what the family described as "a complicated type of anemia" for two and a half years.

Her health failed rapidly during the last six weeks, accelerated by non-contagious tuberculosis which was not proved until Oct. 25.

Her physicians, expecting heart failure, were with her at the end, along with three of her five living children.

Two sons were en route by plane from distant points in the nation. Nineteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive her.

"One of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene," said President Kennedy. "Her loss will be deeply felt by all those who admired her tireless idealism or benefitted from her good works and counsel."

Leaders of the nation and the world joined in expressing sorrow and loss.

"I have lost an inspiration," said U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, the only person outside of the family invited to visit Mrs. Roosevelt during the final weeks of her illness.

"She would rather light candles than curse the darkness," Stevenson said, "and her glow has warmed the world."

Private funeral services will be held at St. James Episcopal Church in Hyde Park, N.Y., north of New York City on the Hudson River, at 2 p.m. Saturday.

BESIDE FDR

She will be buried in the rose garden of the family estate at Hyde Park, beside her husband, "in accordance with the joint wishes," the family said.

His simple gravestone already bears her name and the year of her birth, 1884.

"Those at the interment service, in addition to family, will include representatives from the U.S. government, the United Nations, and the state of New York, as well as close friends of Mrs. Roosevelt," the announcement said.

President Kennedy will attend. So will former President Harry S. Truman and his wife.

PLAN MEMORIAL

A memorial service at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City is being planned for sometime within the next two weeks.

She Was Venerated by Common, Great

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tributes from the high and low of the world flowed into New York today at the news of the death of Franklin Delano Roosevelt's widow, Eleanor.

Seldom in American history has the wife of a great political figure risen to the heights of Mrs. Roosevelt, and seldom have them been as well liked and respected.

The President of the United States shared his grief with the world.

"One of the great ladies in the history of this country has passed from the scene," said President Kennedy in a statement issued from the White House.

A New York taxi driver, Richard A. Ebbitt of Brooklyn, said he had taken a picture of Mrs. Roosevelt four years ago when she rode in his taxi.

"She was a regular woman," he said, "I sent her the picture, and she signed it and returned it to me. She also sent a warm letter. She always had time for people."

Among political leaders, Republicans joined Democrats in hailing the woman who was the widow of a Democratic president and the niece of Republican President Theodore Roosevelt.

Former President Herbert Hoover, who was defeated by Mrs. Roosevelt's husband in 1932, described her as "a lady of fine courage and great devotion to her country."

RUSK SPEAKS

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said "few have ever lived so fully or given so much to others."

President Adolfo Lopez Mateos of Mexico described the grief felt over Mrs. Roosevelt's death as "universal."

Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker described her as "one of the great women of her generation and a great humanitarian."

In Ottawa, Canada, Lester B. Pearson, who was president of the U.N. General Assembly when Mrs. Roosevelt was a delegate, said:

"She was one of the great women of our time, and her contribution toward progress in her own country was only equaled by her contribution to all good international causes."

In London, which Mrs. Roosevelt visited as First Lady in 1942, at the height of the blitz, the British Press Association said:

"Probably no other woman in American history entered the lives of so many other women as intimately as she did."

Ex-Novi Official Staman Gets Post

Former Novi Township Supervisor Frazer W. Staman was named a Oakland County Road Commissioner yesterday by the county board of supervisors.

Staman, 58, had resigned his township post to be eligible for the $10,000 position. His six-year term begins Jan. 1.

A vacancy has existed on the three-man commission since the July death of Road Commission chairman Hiland M. Thatcher. Staman also was nominated to fill the vacancy from Nov. 15 to Jan. 1, but the move failed.

One of five candidates for the post, Staman resigned as Novi Township supervisor Monday. He was selected by board members after four ballots.

Both Parties Trying to Cheer Over Congress

Loss Not Bad for Dems; GOP Isn't Discouraged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic progressive and vigorous mancrats and Republicans alike found something to cheer about today in the make-up of the new 88th Congress that will convene on Jan. 9.

For the Democrats, the big talking point was that they had not suffered the big losses that usually befall the party in power in an off-year election.

President Kennedy said in a statement issued by the White House that he was heartened by the outcome of Tuesday's elections and was certain Congress would meet its responsibilities "in

Another Story Is on Page A-6

NOT DISCOURAGED

Republicans failed to make the gains they had hoped for in congressional races, but the GOP national chairman, William E. Miller, said he did not see in this "in any way an endorsement of the New Frontier and its programs."

The new line-up in the Senate will be 68 Democrats and 32 Republicans. The Democratic majority to the highest peak since they won 69 seats in the 1938 election. They had a 64-36 margin in the outgoing Congress.

In the House, where 435 seats were at stake this year, the Democrats captured 258 and the Republicans 176 and the Democrats were leading in one undecided race in Alaska. If the Democrats win this, they will have a hefty majority of 83.

Even so, the Democratic majority will be less than it was in the 87th Congress when there were 437 house seats and the Democrats held 263 and the Republicans 174.

Two seats were wiped out by reapportionment. The Democrats, in effect, absorbed the loss of these seats and in addition had suffered a net loss of four seats to the Republicans.

EYES GAINS

A White House spokesman contrasted these GOP inroads in the House with what he said was an average loss of 49 House seats by Democratic administrations in midterm elections in the past.

He also said that the average loss in the Senate for the party in power has been seven or eight seats since World War I, with the exception of 1934 when Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal was riding high.

While the administration gained strength in the Senate, it was there that it needed help the least. In the House, where Kennedy's proposals most frequently fell afoul of opposition from Republicans and Southern Democrats, the GOP whittled down the Democratic majority.

Over-all, the complexion of Congress does not appear to have been changed much although there will be 10 new senators and 58 new members of the House. In neither party were the top leaders unseated.

The last two Senate races to be decided were the re-election of Democrats Lister Hill of Alabama and Ernest Gruening of Alaska.

multiple family dwellings under the FHA 221-D3 program."

Developments insured by FHA under the 221-D3 program allows for a low 3¼ per cent interest rate on mortgages, low down payment and low monthly rent.

Referring to the city's investment in urban renewal, Landry said, "We're not going to buy land in one area and then build in another."

said, "We're not going to buy

City Commissioner Loy L. Ledford, a planning board member, objected on grounds that "people will never own homes in the development. They'll be owned by the co-op and if tenants move out we'll be stuck with an empty housing development."

Brown replied that "these would be the last homes to be vacated in that area. Other substandard dwellings in your district would be vacated first."

Other planning commissioners expressed the feeling that the area should be used for single-family dwellings.

The owner of the land, however, said he'd tried to sell it for that purpose for many years and "there's just no market for single-family dwellings in Pontiac."

The site is vacant and lies near the proposed right-of-way for the East Huron Street extension to the M59 freeway.

Peiping Renews Attack on India

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Chinese Communists have launched fresh attacks at the eastern end of the Himalayan battle line, the Indian Defense Ministry announced today. The action broke a lull of more than a week.

The fighting was at Walong, 15 miles from the Burma border, with the Communists making five shooting strikes in the past two days.

A defense spokesman also reported an Indian patrol clashed with the Red Chinese outside Chang, near the monastery town of Towang.

Towang, just east of the Bhutan border, was captured by the Chinese more than a week ago.

Some 850 miles to the northwest, the Red Chinese continued a military buildup near the strategic front line Indian airport of Chushul in Ladakh.

AS DEFIANCE GROWS

The Red Chinese attacks came Indian defiance grew against Peiping overtures for a deal.

Parliament cheered Prime Minister Nehru as he declared the Indian people will drive the "expansionist, imperialist-minded" Red Chinese invaders from "the sacred soil of India, no matter how long and hard the struggle may be."

"No self-respecting country that loves its freedom and integrity can possibly submit to this challenge," Nehru told the crowded chamber. "Certainly not India."

His defiant statement in effect rejected a new Chinese offer to withdraw from the territory it has occupied on the Northeast Border if India would give up the Ladakh area adjoining Kashmir and Tibet in the Northwest. India rejected a similar swap in 1959.

CONFIRMS AIM

Peiping's offer confirmed what many observers have felt was the Chinese aim in the last five years of border encroachment—to make Ladakh a secure connecting route between Tibet and western Chinese province of Sinkiang. The Chinese have already built a road between Tibet and Sinkiang across Ladakh.

Nehru warned Parliament the fight against the "massive Chinese invasion" was not going to end soon—"We may have to face this for a number of years."

Outside Parliament 3,000 persons demonstrated with banners reading "No negotiations with China."

Ex-Novi Official Named to Road Job

ton G. Lilly of Ferndale, Richard J. Morel of Berkley and John B. Huhn of Berkley.

The salary is now $7,500 per year, but was increased for the new term.

Supervisors also re-elected John C. Austin to a three-term on the Board of Auditors and to a one-year term as chairman of the Board of Auditors.

Carlos Richardson, a Democrat, and Sally Dixon and Hope Gorman, both Republicans, were re-elected to two-year terms on the Canvassing Board.

Other re-appointments approved at the meeting were John A. MacDonald to the Social Welfare Board for three years; Delos Hamlin and John G. Semann to three-year terms on the Board of Public Works; Albert Weber to the T. B. Board of Trustees for three years, and Don R. MacDonald to the Department of Veterans Affairs for three years.

Four were reappointed to the county's planning commission for three-year terms. They were Main, J. Roberts, F. Swanson, James F. Spence and Howard Canfield.

Supervisors also reaffirmed the appointments of Norman R. Barnard as corporation counsel, John E. Madole as county civil defense director and Dr. Frank R. Bates as dog warden.

Defeat of Millage to Shut Ohio Schools

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Defeat of a four-mill operating levy in Tuesday's election prompted the Oregon Board of Education to vote 4-1 last night to close schools indefinitely Nov. 26.

The levy, which would yield an estimated $513,000 a year, lost by 48 votes. Board members said the money was necessary to keep schools operating.

The board also called for a special election on the levy for Dec. 6.

Naval Base Commander Object to Impression

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Women visitors have been making an impression on the naval training center here so its commander yesterday barred female visitors wearing shorts, slacks, capri pants and pedal pushers.

Capt. Donald Thomas explained, "This is a military base with a high proportion of young men. These boys are highly impressionable."

paying what he termed excessive mileage rates.

Farnum directed the officials involved to reimburse the full amount to the county, and ordered the board of auditors to see that the money was paid back.

In answer to Farnum's report, the board of supervisors yesterday adopted a ways and means committee resolution which states in part:

"Of concern to your committee is the growing tendency, as indicated by this recent state report, for the state to attempt to dictate to the county and to the board of supervisors in areas of policy and administration . . ."

The resolution asserts that these areas "are reserved in the (Michigan) constitution for the county supervisors and the board of county auditors."

Therefore, the supervisors agreed, the county board of auditors was acting within its authority when it deemed those items questioned by the auditor general were actually reasonable expenses to the county.

The items included:

Noon meals for supervisors when they are required to stay over for an afternoon or all day session.

Paying their chairman $25 per diem instead of the same $10 paid to regular members.

And allowing supervisors multiple per diem pay where they also serve as members of drainage or public works boards and when these bodies meet on the same day as board of supervisors or committee proceedings.

The resolution didn't answer charges against County Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry. He was accused of excessively charging the county in submitting expense accounts.

Barry has maintained that all of his expenses were justified. He accused Farnum of attempting to discredit him in the eyes of county voters at election time.

Farnum, a Democrat, denied the report was politically motivated, although it was used as campaign ammunition by Democratic opponents of Republican incumbents here.

County Corporation Counsel Norman R. Barnard, who played a major role in preparing the adopted resolution, said he and the auditors were still analyzing the noncriminal charges against Barry before answering them.

The resolution also took newspaper reporters to task for not having reported the auditor general's report in fuller detail.

"This report has been widely reported in the press, but these reports have failed to clearly set forth the helpful suggestions which were made by the auditor general," according to the resolution, "and have generally not mentioned the fact that the auditor general found that funds were properly handled by the county treasurer and the county board of auditors, and the various other county departments which have had occasion to handle public funds."

State Road Death Toll

EAST LANSING (AP)—Traffic accidents have killed 1,325 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,302.

Hearing Set on Rezoning Request

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A public hearing is scheduled Dec.3 to air views on a request to rezone property on Woodward Avenue near Manor Road for construction of a $1.8 million restaurant-motel.

Al Green Enterprises, Inc., and Motel Management Co., both of Detroit, are seeking to have the property on the east side of Woodward between Manor and Big Beaver roads rezoned.

They want it changed from its present office building classification to a business use.

The Bloomfield Township Planning Commission has rejected another petition which asked that about 10 acres of property on Manor Road to the rear of the proposed motel-restaurant development be changed from single-family residential to a multiple dwelling zone.

The Rouge Manor Improvement Association, an organization of property owners in the neighborhood, strongly opposed the multiple dwelling zoning.

The association also is against plans for development of the motel-restaurant.

Developers of the project have been turned down earlier this year in attempts to have the property rezoned.

However, the two Detroit firms learned, when their petition was rejected last month by the township Board of Trustees, that their architects had submitted incorrect plans.

The plans have been changed and will be presented in their revised form at the public hearing next month.

Lovell Lawrence Jr., director of Advanced Projects Organization for Chrysler Corp., will be the featured speaker at this month's meeting of the Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Lawrence's speech, "Through the Looking Glass of Research Into Space," will be presented at the 12:30 p.m. luncheon-meeting Wednesday at the Birmingham Community House.

He has been associated with Chrysler Corp. missile activities since 1953 and with rocket development since he formed the first commercial enterprise in the rocket field in 1941.

Dr. Willard E. Givens, past executive secretary of the National Education Association, will be guest speaker at the Bloomfield Hills Education Association Wednesday.

Dr. Givens will speak following an association smorgasbord dinner at 6 p.m. in Bloomfield Hills High School.

H. CAMERON CLARK

Service for H. Cameron Clark, 64, of 850 N. Adams Road, will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

Mr. Clark, a retired Chrysler Corp. engineer, died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a short illness.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham, the Clarkston Masonic Lodge and the Lost Lake Woods Club of Lincoln.

Surviving besides his wife Orrel are two daughters, Mrs. John G. Vickers of Southfield and Mrs. James P. Owens Jr. of Hamden, Conn.; a son, Robert C. of Birmingham; and seven grandchildren.

Romney Eyes Role in State

trative departments, boards, commissions and officers of the state and of all state institutions."

"I will do everything in my power to merit cooperation from the ad board," Romney declared.

The former president of American Motors said he had no plans at present to meet with Swainson.

Romney pointed out that one of the early responsibilities of a new governor is to submit a budget to the legislature. Budget preparations, he said, have been underway for the coming fiscal year since last June.

The governor-elect said he hoped to be able to take a couple of weeks off sometime before the inauguration. He is expected to spend the time in Mexico City.

His first important move, Romney said, probably would be to determine what specific preparation and planning must be undertaken before he assumes office.

Romney, who still is a director and vice president of American Motors, said he expected there would be "a lessening of ties" with the firm in the near future.

The election results, he said point toward a strong Republican party based on citizen participation.

Polly's Pointers

Idea's a 'Bell-Ringer'

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — To find out how early my husband returns home after a night out with the boys, I pin a bell to the end of the sheet on his side of the bed. When he wearily climbs in, the bell wakes me.

A. R.

DEAR GIRLS — Of course, your only reason for doing this would be the assurance that hubby had a good time. If any other motives were lurking in the back of A. R.'s mind . . . but I am sure they were not.

DEAR POLLY — Here is one for the motorist. When oven mitts wear thin and the heat comes through, launder and keep them in the car.

They are excellent for keeping the windshield clear on nasty days when it fogs up. By the time they are ready for this chore, the stiffness has gone and it is even possible to drive with one on.

MRS. D. O.

DEAR POLLY — If your television set has rabbit ears and you have picture trouble, improve the picture by wrapping the rabbit ears with aluminum foil.

GIRLS — With due respect to my television repairman (who says it is the bunk) television reception is often better with foil wrapped "ears." I have used them for a long time.

Teens Not Surrendering World to N-War

BY EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

American young people aren't throwing up their hands and saying, "What's the use?"

Just before the Cuban Crisis, they still felt that something definitely could be done in this nuclear age to insure peace.

Questioning 1,250 teen-agers across the country, we learned without surprise that three out of four have often thought of the possibility of nuclear war.

But what came as an eye-opener was the conviction expressed by 57 per cent of the survey group that each as an individual could do something to insure peace.

What's more, 44 per cent had plans to take some action, even though in many instances these were not too clearly defined.

The Peace Corps seems to have impressed many as an ideal instrument for working toward peace — and giving young people a chance to take part in that work.

WOULD SEEK LEADERSHIP

Kathly Slusser, 16, of Sadsburyville, Pa., for example, mentioned the Peace Corps in saying:

"For one thing we can avoid issues such as the recent crisis at Ole Miss.

This provides our enemies with good propaganda against us. Secondly, although we cannot all belong to the Peace Corps, it is a wonderful organization and can certainly help to insure peace."

Many others thought that at the very least they should seek out and support capable and responsible leaders. Simon Kufta, 15, of Jersey City, N. J., expressed this by saying the answer was to "vote wisely in the elections."

Albert Bendure, 17, of Kansas City, Mo., advised, "Elect capable leaders."

Melodie Lynn, 17, of Miami, Fla., thought the answer was to "remain faithful and loyal to my country."

And Paul Swenson, 17, of Aurora, Ill., commented that his contribution as an individual would be to "Work for the moral and scientific well-being of our country."

TEACHING, SPEAKING

Here are what some others plan:

"Advocate peace through teaching and or public speaking" — Linda Crosson, 16, Downingtown, Pa.

"I am going to study to become a medical missionary and help others understand each other through God" — Sandy Speigner, 16, Tucson, Ariz.

"Talk to and make friends with people from other countries with whom we have poor relationships, such as Russia and China"—Judy Donovan, 17, Rochester, N. Y.

"If it's not too late by then, I expect to go to Europe and do everything I possibly can to further democracy and peace" — Hay Beaird, 15, Oklahoma City, Okla.

DOUBT NUCLEAR WAR

While the great majority say they think often of the possibility of a nuclear war, most of them, 54 per cent, do not believe it will ever happen. At least, not before they are 40.

Those thinking there might be war mentioned the rise of Communist China and the armaments race.

"I think that the Chinese will invade Russia trying to have complete control over Communism," said Jack Ywan, 15, of Charleston, S. C. "As to whether the U.S. will get dragged into it, I wouldn't know."

But the majority simply could not conceive of a nuclear war.

"Mankind can't be that stupid," said George Lish, 18, of Sparks, Nev.

Wash Cloth Often

Nylon fleece dust cloths perform like magnets to draw dust into their deep pile finish. The magnetic pull is strongest when the duster is clean, so it needs to be washed often.

Zeta Eta Unit Fetes Pledges

Zeta Eta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held a pledge party at the home of Mrs. Clifford Wilcox Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Harry Winn of Bloomfield Hills was guest, and Mrs. John Ward was cohostess.

President Mrs. James Anthony reported on the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority state convention Oct. 19-21 in Flint.

Parents, Teens Out of Touch, Expert Says

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Today's parents are badly out of touch with their teen-aged children, says a University of Michigan psychologist.

Dr. Richard L. Cutler, speaking at the 33rd annual Parent Education Institute here yesterday, said rapid changes in society, science and technology are partially responsible. People growing up in different frameworks tend to be frozen into different attitudes, he said.

The teen-aged population, in effect, has a split personality, he told a group of parents. For example, he said, 53 per cent of Detroit males between 16 and 20 years of age are neither in school nor working, and in Los Angeles County, Calif., illigitimacy has increased 195 per cent in the last five years.

"At the same time, one sees young people with a serious and mature approach to world problems within these same age groups," he added.

The split personality results, in part, from the growth of mass communications and increased mobility. Mass communications of behavior to the children, and mobility helps call the values received at home into question early in life, Cutler said.

Kettering Aims for Second Upset Over Waterford

Teams Clash This Friday on Gridiron

Captains Won First Meeting Last Year by 13-12 Score

Can Kettering do it again?

This is the question that is foremost in the minds of Waterford Township football fans this week.

They are thinking about Friday night's clash between Township High and the Captains at 8:00.

These fans remember what happened last year when the rivals met for the first time on the gridiron. It was the first game of the season and the first grid contest for Kettering which was completed just in time for school to start.

The new school had drawn its pupils from Waterford High. This meant former teammates opposed each other. The Skippers were heavy favorites. The new school won, 13-12. It was Kettering's only victory of the season.

The Captains are coached by former Waterford High and Hillsdale College. Little All-America tackle Jim Larkin. The Captains have posted three wins and a tie this season.

SKIPPERS 4-3

Waterford has a 4-3 record and was a challenger for the Inter-Lakes championship until the final two league games.

The Skippers, directed by Stu Thorell, will go into the contest favored for the second straight year.

No one needs to remind them of last year's upset.

They are primed for revenge. The Captains are just as fired up.

The schools have met three common foes. Waterford lost to Walled Lake 18-7, and Pontiac Northern 18-13, and defeated Lapeer 24-14. Kettering lost to Walled Lake 7-0, Northern 19-0, and Lapeer 13-0.

Kettering's greatest offensive showing in the school's two-year grid history came last Friday when the Captains posted 34 points against outmanned Oxford. The previous high was 21 in the victory over Cranbrook.

* * *

Backs Earl Hook and Bill Haviland are the ball carrying threats for the Captains. Tackle Tom Campbell and guard Chuck Haviland. The third Haviland brother, halfback Jim, scored two TDs against Oxford.

Waterford has shown far more offensive punch than the Captains.

Dave Patterson, Andy Straka and George Irwin lead the line.

PRESS TROPHY

This game is the second leg in the competition for The Pontiac Press All-Sports trophy between the schools. Waterford won it last spring, but Kettering holds a 50-point lead this fall because of two cross country victories over the Skippers.

Fifty points are awarded for each sport and divided according to the number of times the schools meet in one sport.

Pontiac Press Photo

Pietrosante Feels He's Being Bypassed

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

SAN FRANCISCO — Fullback Nick Pietrosante has an answer for the critics who are asking "where's the Lions' offense?" And, "whats wrong with Nick Pietrosante?"

"Give me the ball a little more often and I think I might be able to answer both questions at the same time," returned the Lions' heavy running machine.

For the first time this year, Pietrosante has dropped below an average of four yards per carry in NFL statistics. He fell from fourth place to 8th in rushing in the last two games.

He hasn't had a 100-yard effort in a single game this year, the best being 93 yards in the first game against the 49ers at Tiger Stadium.

His longest gain of the season was 22 yards, the shortest distance of any of the league's top gainers.

NICK PIETROSANTE

"If you carry 20 times a game I carry 12 times in a game, that's high for me."

WASN'T USED

Pietrosante pointed to several recent third down situations that have failed because of a pass call or a running play in which he wasn't used,

His reference wasn't specific like Taylor or Brown you're bound to get a good breakaway once in awhile," said Pietrosante, "but if but it was obvious he referred to the LA Ram game Sunday in which the Lions made four cracks at the goal line from the one yard line and failed. Ken Webb went in for Pietrosante and tried twice; Earl Morrall then tried and Tommy Watkins tried from just one foot and all failed in the touchdown attempt.

Of course, there were many who thought Morrall's dive was good.

In the defensive credits for the Lions, they lead in total defense with 1568 yards, in first downs allowed, only 98; in first downs allowed rushing, only 37; in net rushing given up, 641 and in opponents' average per rush, only 3.1 yards per try.

In pro ball, a team is expected to get over 100 yards rushing. The Lions have held six of their opponents thus far to less than 100 yards, and a total of only 37 in the last two games.

* * *

"We better not swallow all these statistics about our defense," said coach George Wilson after Wednesday's practice, "these 49ers have been crucified publicly and we may be fighting for our lives Sunday."

PCH Big Hurdle for Southwestern

Last week's respite from the gridiron wars may be just the tonic Pontiac Central's Chiefs need to fulfill their spoiler role against a tough Flint Southwestern team at 8 p.m. Saturday in Flint's Atwood Stadium.

* * *

Coach Paul Dellerba announced Wednesday that only center Bill Church would miss the game due to injuries. A succession of injuries incurred in the 35-7 bombing by Saginaw two weeks ago has cleared up and the squad's morale is good.

"Our practices this week have been the best in quite a while," the coach commented.

The Chiefs will enter the important contest (for Southwestern, Midland and Bay City Central) with an everything-to-gain and nothing-to-lose attitude. A PCH victory will kill the last chance the homesters have to tie Midland for the Saginaw Valley crown.

TITLE AT STAKE

By winning, the Colts can tie Midland and possibly Bay City Central with a 6-2 mark in the league. BC Central will tangle with Bay City Handy Friday. Midland has already finished its league competition and can win the title outright should Southwestern and BC Central lose this weekend.

PCH is 2-4-1 this season and will play its only non-league game next weekend against intra-city foe Pontiac Northern. Flint Southwestern has one non-league victory included in its 6-2 overall mark.

The Colts are sparked by Mike Cleary, a hard running fullback who has tallied nine touchdowns this season. Coach Dick Leach prefers to use a strong running attack and PCH has been working hard in practice on its defense which has allowed nine touchdowns in the last two games.

Dellerba is hoping the Chiefs' offensive line can spring running backs Tom Lewis, Charley Humphrey, Jesse Hodges and David Lawrence for gains inside the Southwestern defensive ends.

"They pursue real well," Dellerba said yesterday. "Fast backs have a hard time rounding their ends."

Comparative scores for the two teams are not enlightening. PCH's two wins were 39-6 over Saginaw Arthur Hill and 20-14 over Flint Northern, plus a 7-7 tie with Flint Central. Southwestern dropped a 19-7 contest to Flint Central and defeated Flint Northern 14-6 and Arthur Hill 14-0.

Both teams dropped 19-point losses to Bay City Handy, although the Chiefs did manage to score a touchdown against the Wildcats which Southwestern couldn't duplicate. The Colts topped Saginaw, 14-6. Last year's struggle went to PCH, 14-7.

HIGH STEPPER — Bill Haviland has been Kettering's leading ball carrier and scorer. One of the three Havilands on the team, Bill has scored 36 points. The Captains play Waterford Friday.

Singer Cherry Winner in Pro Golfing Debut

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—"As long as I'm going to play, I might as well try to earn some money," said crooner Don Cherry, whose amateur golfing feats equal his singing ability.

The Wichita Falls, Tex., product made his first appearance as a golf pro Wednesday and collected $216.67.

Cherry fired a 6-under par 66 to share first prize money with two other pros in the Pro-Am preliminary to today's $17,500 Cajun Classic invitational. John Barnum of Blythefield, Mich., and Jerry Pittman of Tulsa, tied with Cherry for first.

USSR Cagers Carry Stigma Into Tour

NEW YORK (UPI) — A visiting Russian team, anxious to erase the "stigma" of being the world's second best basketball power, opens an eight-game tour tonight against a United States men's squad at Madison Square Garden.

The Soviet delegation also includes a women's team, which meets Nashville Business College, Amateur Athletic Union champion, in the first game of a doubleheader.

Spandarayn stressed that his goal may be realized sooner than many think as he pointed to a pair of towering six-foot, 11 inch centers — Anzor Lezava and Vasiliy Okioniak.

In three previous series with the U. S., two of them held in Russia, the Soviets have managed to win only two of 24 games. Red Star women have fared much better, copping 12 of the 20 games played against the U.S.

The American men's team, with all its players benefiting by college and A.A.U. experience, has seven members of the Phillips Oilers, two from the Akron Goodyear Wingfoots and one each from the Denver Truckers, the U. S. Army and the U. S. Marine Corps.

Teams Win, Tie in International Hockey League

By The Associated Press

MINNEAPOLIS — Port Huron broke into the victory column in the new International Hockey League season last night with a 4-2 defeat of Minneapolis.

Ken Gribbon broke his mates out of a 2-2 tie with a goal at 17:09 of the third period and Jerry Moore hit an open net in the final minute for the double clincher while the home club was trying desperately to catch up.

Port Huron now is 1-3, Minneapolis 2-2.

Muskegon Zephyrs and the Omaha Knights battled to a 3-3 tie in overtime.

All the scoring was in the first two periods and neither team could score in the 10-minute sudden death overtime period.

Wagman Testifies Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Admitted basketball briber Aaron Wagman is scheduled to return to the witness stand for the third day today in the trial of Jack Molinas, former Columbia University and professional player.

Wagman testified Wednesday that he was with Molinas when arrangements were made for a Bowling Green (Ohio) player to dump a game against Michigan State.

Molinas, 30, is charged with bribing Billy Reed of Bowling Green, with conspiracy in an attempted fix of 25 games during the 1959-60 season and with subornation of perjury.

$500 PAID

Wagman testified that he and Molinas and two others went to Toledo, Ohio, in December of 1959. While in Toledo, he said, Molinas arranged for Reed to dump his team's game with Michigan State at East Lansing on Dec. 3. Wagman said $500 was paid to Reed and $500 to a teammate, Tom Falentano. The deal, Wagman said, was that Michigan State would win by seven points or more. The final score was Michigan State 96, Bowling Green 67.

Off The Grape Vine

Although battered and mauled along with last week's upset victims, the Swamis continue undaunted.

They hovered longer than usual over this week's prognostications, remembering what happened to Walled Lake, Michigan State, Ohio State, LSU, Cornell and the Redskins.

Swami Craig increased his lead and this appears to have made him even more confident that West Virginia would upset Penn St. and Avondale topple Rochester.

The other three Association members haven't forgotten what his beloved Mountaineers did to Pitt.

AAU, NCAA Meeting in Washington

Propose U.S. Olympic Team Truce

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. government has proposed a "truce" in the sports war between the national AAU and the NCAA that would allow the best American athletes to compete in the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo, it was learned today.

One source insisted that the truce, which would last until Nov. 1, 1964, has been agreed upon after a high-level meeting in Washington within the past month.

However, Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU Amateur Athletic Union), while admitting that the truce had been "proposed," said agreement had not been reached but indicated it still is under consideration.

At stake in the dispute between the AAU and the NCAA (National Collegiate Athletic Association) is control of amateur sports competition in this country.

Caught in the middle of the dispute, U. S. athletes currently face being outlawed by one group or the other — with possible loss of their amateur certification to compete in the '64 Olympic Games.

At this time, the AAU is recognized by the various international federations which rule the various sports as the governing body of amateur athletics in the United States. The AAU is the only body now empowered to certify U. S. athletes for international competition, such as the Olympic games.

DOUBLE THREAT

However, the NCAA, lashing out at the AAU's conduct of sports, has recently moved to set up national federations in track, basketball, baseball, and gymnastics. The AAU has threatened to outlaw athletes who compete in non-AAU sanctioned meets; the NCAA has similarly threatened to outlaw athletes who compete in events not sanctioned by the federations.

Wings Can Shatter NHL Mark Tonight

MONTREAL (UPI) — If the Detroit Red Wings are to challenge the National Hockey League's best mark for a quick getaway they will have to do it tonight against the Montreal Canadiens, holders of the record.

Montreal, last year's NHL champion, stands as a roadblock to the Wings' record hopes.

Detroit is unbeaten in 10 games on eight victories and two ties. The Canadiens hold the league mark of 14 of 11 wins and three ties set in 1943-44.

Tonight's game is the first of six straight road contests for Sid Abel's first place redshirts. From here they will travel to Boston, New York, Chicago, Toronto and back to Boston before returning home Thanksgiving night to face Montreal at Olympia.

Parker MacDonald and Alex Delvecchio of the Wings are tied with Montreal's Henri Richard for the NHL scoring lead. Each has 13 points. MacDonald has scored eight goals and five assists, Richard six goals and seven assists and Delvecchio three goals and 10 setups.

Gordie Howe of Detroit ranks in a four-way tie for fifth place in league scoring on five goals and six assists for 11 points.

TOP GOALIE

Terry Sawchuk, the Wings' 32-year-old goalie, has allowed only 13 goals in 10 games for a 1.30 goals-against average. Sawchuk has three shutouts this year.

STRIKING LADIES

"I blame tight skirts"

Knee Bend

Written for NEA

One of the most common faults of the woman bowler is the failure to bend her knee during the slide, release and follow through.

I generally blame tight skirts for this. In order to enjoy bowling proper bowling fundamentals, and bowl with some effectiveness you must come dressed for the purpose. Skirt manufacturers have been able to design many attractive outfits with the active bowler in mind.

A kick pleat in the back, and front as well as both sides is the most popular style and also the most helpful in retaining propriety.

Tigers Pound Tokyo Stars

4 Homers, 19 Hits Bring 13-8 Win

TOKYO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers blasted four home runs among their 19 hits today and beat the Tokyo All-Stars 13-8 in an exhibition baseball game called in the top of the ninth inning because of darkness.

A crowd of 15,000 saw the touring American League club open fire in the first inning with a two-run homer by Norm Cash and a bases-empty homer by Al Kaline.

Despite the fast start, the Tigers fell behind and were trailing 6-5 going into the eighth, when a six-run outburst sewed it up. Chico Fernandez highlighted the late rally with a three-run homer and Bubba Morton connected with none on.

GAME CALLED

Detroit had scored twice more in the ninth before play was halted.

The All-Stars collected 11 hits, including three homers.

The Tigers now have won six, lost two and tied one on their 17-game tour of Japan.

Mart Edges Toward Last High

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly in moderate trading early today as it nudged close to its August recovery high in the Dow Jones Industrial Average.

Wall Streeters were cautious as the market stood at the crest of seven straight sessions without a loss, including six sharp advances.

Many brokers felt a "correction" in stock prices was overdue but the list in early trading showed, if anything, a slight tendency to the upside.

Mall Of Drive Called Success

Firms and Employes Contribute $9,500

The Pontiac Mall has completed its first Torch Drive as a separate unit of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

The Mall unit drive was highly successful, according to William Crick, manager of Hudson's Budget store; and UF chairman for the Mall Chapter Plan Group.

Firm and employe contributions totaled more than $9,500 from the 43 stores now operating in the Mall. That figure is expected to go over $10,000 when final returns are compiled.

"It was a big job but generally speaking the cooperation was good," Crick said.

He noted that over 60 per cent of the stores received 100 percent participation from their employes.

Crick completed the Mall campaign in five weeks, one week before the end of the areawide campaign.

In addition to business and employe gifts, Robert L. Wittbolt, Mall manager, and L. N. Gillian, Montgomery Ward store manager and president of the Pontiac Mall Merchants Association, have designated coins collected from the fountain during the campaign to the Women's campaign effort.

The fountain, center of interest and popular meeting place, has inspired hundreds of shoppers to toss coins into the pool.

Since the beginning of the drive, $111 has been taken from the pool to be returned to the community through UF services supported by the drive.

Still in Running for Presidential Nomination

Margin Loss Hurt Rocky,—Not Critically

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's inability to win as big as his supporters had hoped over weak opposition damaged but did not destroy his chance to be his party's 1964 presidential nominee.

After all, he was re-elected. Rocky still has a 1964 chance only because any governor of New York State is a presidential possibility unless he has two heads.

Republican George Romney, who said he would not be a candidate, was projected into the presidential picture by being elected governor of Michigan.

Republican William W. Scranton was elected governor of Pennsylvania. He's another 1964 possibility. The two big states long had strayed from their Republican moorings and now may be coming back. That appears to be the best Republican election news.

Next best was a modest increase in southern Republicans elected to the House of Representatives. This stimulated a party spokesman to declaim that the future of the Republican party lies in the South. There was scattering but important evidence that the South moved a little yesterday toward a two-party system.

If so, this is a clear gain for those with the greatest stake in yesterday's polling — the people of the United States.

Balancing one thing against another and skipping most of the fine print, the Democratic party won yesterday's election. The results of the polling were eggscrambled — Democrats taking office in Vermont and New Hampshire, a Republican elected governor of Oklahoma.

DEMS HOLD OWN

But give or take a very few seats, the Democrats held their own in the House of Representatives in this off-year election. An average minority party House gain in an off-year election would be roughly 40 to 50 seats. The Republicans needed 44 gains to become the House majority. They didn't come close.

The foregoing, however, is expressed in terms of party labels which have increasingly been losing their significance. On many domestic issues in the 87th Congress, the Republican minority teamed with a conservative minority of Southern Democrats to lick the new frontiersmen.

The administration is better off in the Senate where the Democratic gain may be as many as four seats. If so the new Senate would be: Democrats, 68; Republicans 32.

Star billing must go to President Kennedy. He made an unusual, almost unprecedented, off-year campaign effort. He also almost took the political campaign off page one with developments in the Cuban missile crisis.

If his party won yesterday, so did Kennedy win. Marginal congressional Democrats — fence sitters between conservatives and liberals — will not forget that Kennedy had a big influence in the 1962 elections.

In terms of Republican presidential politics, Romney, Rockefeller and Scranton will figure in all speculation. Only Scranton, of the three, has a solid party background. Win or lose, Richard M. Nixon took himself out of the 1964 nomination.

Romney also said he would not be available but not so loudly.

Scranton has good reason to hope. Rockefeller is a loner — he consistently has argued that JFK can be licked in 1964. And Rocky is willing to try. Willing? Anxious!

Reports of some communicable diseases in Oakland County stayed on a plateau in October, but with a few increases over September.

Leading the list, as usual, were chicken pox, measles and mumps.

Of these, chicken pox showed the largest increase in the number of new cases. Sixty-two were reported in October, eight in September, and 58 in October of last year.

For measles, the count was 25, 41 and 80; while for mumps the count was 50, 11 and 62.

Impetigo, an inflammatory skin disease, was reported with 25 new cases in October against only one case reported in September. Last year's October count was 22.

Mononucleosis also showed an increase. There were 16 new cases reported last month, only three in September, and only one in October 1961.

Salmonella, associated with acute intestinal tract inflammation, showed seven new cases reported in October, against one in September and none in October of last year.

To Sell $5.4 Million

Supervisors Okay Sewer Bonds

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday pledged its full faith and credit behind the sale of $5.4 million in bonds to help finance construction of the $6.9-million Dequindre Interceptor sewer in the southeastern part of the county.

At the same time, supervisors approved a resolution to accept a federal grant for the difference. They authorized Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry to accept a second federal grant of nearly $1.4-million when it's offered.

The bond issue will be reduced accordingly, Barry said.

The first grant is under the Water Pollution Act.

The second, under the new Public Works Acceleration Act, has been approved in Washington, according to Barry, but the money has not been offered officially by the federal government yet.

Barry requested the backing for the bond sales to finance the local share of the sewer project. The bonds will be retired by local assessments and connection charges levied by the 14 municipalities involved.

Supervisors also approved a final contract with the 14 communities for construction of the sanitary sewer interceptor.

Construction of the sewer is scheduled to begin Jan. 1 and to be completed 15 months later.

The second federal grant would reduce the cost of the project for the 14 municipalities to about 50 per cent of the total cost.

The 14 are Birmingham, Berkley, Beverly Hills, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township, Southfield and Troy.

In other action, the supervisors approved a resolution authorizing the Board of Auditors to negotiate with the Downtown Pontiac Business Association on the temporary use of the old courthouse site at Huron and Saginaw streets for a parking lot.

Pontiac City Commissioners informally recommended the property be leased to the merchants group for a lot for free parking, saying the city preferred not to consider purchasing the site at this time.

The resolution called for an agreement for six months at a rental of $1 for that period.

The board also approved a buildings and grounds committee resolution to allocate a site for the proposed children's village at the County Service Center.

Plans are being prepared to centralize all county juvenile facilities in a village complex.

The general site approved by the board lies between Telegraph and Watkins Lake roads.

The board designated the county health director, Dr. John D. Monroe, agent to apply for federal funds toward a proposed new South Oakland Health Center.

A site for the center, to cost an estimated $600,000, hasn't been decided yet. The board of directors at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak is considering offering the county a free site on the hospital grounds.

NEXT TEN YEARS

Supervisors also authorized the County Board of Auditors to spend $2,000 for a study of space needs for county departments and institutions which might be anticipated for the next 10 years.

The study will be conducted by Dr. L. L. Friedland of Wayne State University.

In other action, the board of supervisor directed the county clerk to send a letter to President Kennedy voicing county support of his "firm and courageous action" in the Cuban crisis.

Mall Of Drive Called Success

Firms and Employes Contribute $9,500

The Pontiac Mall has completed its first Torch Drive as a separate unit of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

The Mall unit drive was highly successful, according to William Crick, manager of Hudson's Budget store; and UF chairman for the Mall Chapter Plan Group.

Firm and employe contributions totaled more than $9,500 from the 43 stores now operating in the Mall. That figure is expected to go over $10,000 when final returns are compiled.

"It was a big job but generally speaking the cooperation was good," Crick said.

He noted that over 60 per cent of the stores received 100 percent participation from their employes.

Crick completed the Mall campaign in five weeks, one week before the end of the areawide campaign.

In addition to business and employe gifts, Robert L. Wittbolt, Mall manager, and L. N. Gillian, Montgomery Ward store manager and president of the Pontiac Mall Merchants Association, have designated coins collected from the fountain during the campaign to the Women's campaign effort.

The fountain, center of interest and popular meeting place, has inspired hundreds of shoppers to toss coins into the pool.

Since the beginning of the drive, $111 has been taken from the pool to be returned to the community through UF services supported by the drive.

Still in Running for Presidential Nomination

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's inability to win as big as his supporters had hoped over weak opposition damaged but did not destroy his chance to be his party's 1964 presidential nominee.

After all, he was re-elected.

Rocky still has a 1964 chance only because any governor of New York State is a presidential possibility unless he has two heads.

Republican George Romney, who said he would not be a candidate, was projected into the presidential picture by being elected governor of Michigan.

Republican William W. Scranton was elected governor of Pennsylvania. He's another 1964 possibility. The two big states long had strayed from their Republican moorings and now may be coming back. That appears to be the best Republican election news.

Next best was a modest increase in southern Republicans elected to the House of Representatives. This stimulated a party spokesman to declaim that the future of the Republican party lies in the South. There was scattering but important evidence that the South moved a little yesterday toward a two-party system.

If so, this is a clear gain for those with the greatest stake in yesterday's polling — the people of the United States.

Balancing one thing against another and skipping most of the fine print, the Democratic party won yesterday's election. The results of the polling were egg-scrambled — Democrats taking office in Vermont and New Hampshire, a Republican elected governor of Oklahoma.

DEMS HOLD OWN

But give or take a very few seats, the Democrats held their own in the House of Representatives in this off-year election. An average minority party House gain in an off-year election would be roughly 40 to 50 seats. The Republicans needed 44 gains to become the House majority. They didn't come close.

The foregoing, however, is expressed in terms of party labels which have increasingly been losing their significance. On many domestic issues in the 87th Congress, the Republican minority teamed with a conservative minority of Southern Democrats to lick the new frontiersmen.

The administration is better off in the Senate where the Democratic gain may be as many as four seats. If so the new Senate would be: Democrats, 68; Republicans 32.

Star billing must go to President Kennedy. He made an unusual, almost unprecedented, off-year campaign effort. He also almost took the political campaign off page one with developments in the Cuban missile crisis.

If his party won yesterday, so did Kennedy win. Marginal congressional Democrats — fence sitters between conservatives and liberals — will not forget that Kennedy had a big influence in the 1962 elections.

In terms of Republican presidential politics, Romney, Rockefeller and Scranton will figure in all speculation. Only Scranton, of the three, has a solid party background. Win or lose, Richard M. Nixon took himself out of the 1964 nomination.

Romney also said he would not be available but not so loudly.

Scranton has good reason to hope. Rockefeller is a loner — he consistently has argued that JFK can be licked in 1964. And Rocky is willing to try. Willing? Anxious!

To Sell $5.4 Million

Supervisors Okay Sewer Bonds

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday pledged its full faith and credit behind the sale of $5.4 million in bonds to help finance construction of the $6.9-million Dequindre Interceptor sewer in the southeastern part of the county.

At the same time, supervisors approved a resolution to accept a federal grant for the difference. They authorized Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry to accept a second federal grant of nearly $1.4-million when it's offered.

The bond issue will be reduced accordingly, Barry said.

The first grant is under the Water Pollution Act.

The second, under the new Public Works Acceleration Act, has been approved in Washington, according to Barry, but the money has not been offered officially by the federal government yet.

Barry requested the backing for the bond sales to finance the local share of the sewer project. The bonds will be retired by local assessments and connection charges levied by the 14 municipalities involved.

Supervisors also approved a final contract with the 14 communities for construction of the sanitary sewer interceptor.

Construction of the sewer is scheduled to begin Jan. 1 and to be completed 15 months later.

The second federal grant would reduce the cost of the project for the 14 municipalities to about 50 per cent of the total cost.

The 14 are Birmingham, Berkley, Beverly Hills, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township, Southfield and Troy.

In other action, the supervisors approved a resolution authorizing the Board of Auditors to negotiate with the Downtown Pontiac Business Association on the temporary use of the old courthouse site at Huron and Saginaw streets for a parking lot.

Pontiac City Commissioners informally recommended the property be leased to the merchants group for a lot for free parking, saying the city preferred not to consider purchasing the site at this time.

The resolution called for an agreement for six months at a rental of $1 for that period.

The board also approved a buildings and grounds committee resolution to allocate a site for the proposed children's village at the County Service Center.

Plans are being prepared to centralize all county juvenile facilities in a village complex.

The general site approved by the board lies between Telegraph and Watkins Lake roads.

The board designated the county health director, Dr. John D. Monroe, agent to apply for federal funds toward a proposed new South Oakland Health Center.

A site for the center, to cost an estimated $600,000, hasn't been decided yet. The board of directors at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak is considering offering the county a free site on the hospital grounds.

NEXT TEN YEARS

Supervisors also authorized the County Board of Auditors to spend $2,000 for a study of space needs for county departments and institutions which might be anticipated for the next 10 years.

The study will be conducted by Dr. L. L. Friedland of Wayne State University.

In other action, the board of supervisor directed the county clerk to send a letter to President Kennedy voicing county support of his "firm and courageous action" in the Cuban crisis.
