Fugitive Red Diplomat Tells of Espionage

Guarded by U. S. Unit in Japan; Spills Details on Soviet Spy Plot

TOKYO (INS)—A Russian diplomat who took refuge with a special U. S. intelligence unit was revealed today to be spilling secret details of a Far Eastern Soviet spy ring possibly involving several Americans in Japan.

A high-placed source said Yuri A. Rastvorov, missing second secretary of the Soviet Mission in Japan, surrendered himself for asylum to U. S. agents in Tokyo some 10 days ago.

The youthful diplomatic aide was granted "protective custody" after fleeing from his Soviet masters in apparent fear he would be "liquidated" in Russia for having botched some recent espionage jobs.

The informed source said he was giving the U. S. agents detailed information on the personnel and workings of the Soviet spy network in Japan, implicating perhaps some Americans as well as Russians and Japanese Communists.

The informant said there was no certain knowledge as yet that Americans were definitely involved. But it was recalled that Japanese police had "leaked" reports that Rastvorov had been seen in the company of U. S. Air Force men in Japan.

This was believed true despite a previous Air Force denial that any American airmen had been court-martialed for passing secrets to the Russian junior diplomat.

Rastvorov's defection was likened by observers to the case of Igor Gouzenko, code clerk of the Russian Embassy in Ottawa, who in 1945 fled his Soviet masters and gave Canadian authorities the details of an atomic spy ring then in operation in Canada and the United States.

The source of the information regarding Rastvorov's flight to the protecting arms of the U. S. intelligence agency asked that he be not identified either by name or nationality.

He cautioned against anticipating, necessarily, that anything "sensational" would come to light as a result of the young Russian diplomat's disclosures.

Rastvorov disappeared on Sunday, Jan. 24, the day before he had been scheduled — on orders from Moscow — to be flown under "escort" back to the Soviet Union.

It has confirmed, however, that the diplomatic secretary had fled to the custody of a top hush-hush American intelligence unit which has no immediate connection with either the U. S. Embassy in Tokyo or the Far East Command of the U. S. Armed Forces.

When the Soviet mission reported him "missing" on Jan. 25, the Russian spokesman had claimed that Rastvorov was having "mental trouble" and suffered from a "nervous" ailment.

House Approves Aid Vote for Handicapped Children

A ray of hope for the aid of handicapped and exceptional children appeared in Lansing Monday night when the House of Representatives unanimously approved an education plan originally proposed by the Oakland County School superintendents.

Representative William Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) presented the bill. It will enable school districts to cooperatively raise money and educate over 5,000 children in Oakland and Wayne County who now do not have this opportunity.

The proposal will go before the electorate on the November ballot. It has had whiteheated backing from the Parent Teacher Associations of the state and particularly these two counties.

Oakland County Superintendent William J. Emerson, spokesman for the group who initiated the plan, said that one-half million would bring in over $500,000 for Oakland County.

This amount would establish a uniform program and it is defin-

Five Official Groundhogs Forecast a Long Winter

QUARRYVILLE, Pa. (AP)—There was sad news this Groundhog Day for optimists hoping for an early spring. Five different groundhogs, each proclaimed by the finders the "official" weather forecaster, poked noses into the chill Lancaster County air and promptly scurried back into burrows for another nap.

That, announced hibernating Gov. Charles Hess of the Slumbering Lodge of Groundhogs, means six more weeks of winter weather.

The groundhog sighting and the resultant forecast all were part of the annual funfest in this southeastern Pennsylvania area, started nearly a half century ago. The tradition is that when the groundhog sees his shadow more winter is on the way; no shadow and you can count on an early spring.

Hess fixed the official time of the first sighting at 7:38:39 a.m. EST, noting proudly that five separate squads made similar reports within a space of 3 1/2 minutes.

"Entirely due to our adoption of radar, radio and other modern search and reporting gadgets," he said proudly.

In Allentown, the sun broke through and Mr. Groundhog glimpsed his shadow once to add more support to the more-winter forecast. But "unofficial" reports from the Grundson Lodge Numma ains and der Lechau-Groundhog Lodge No. 1—on the Lehigh—said the groundhog was "confused" because of the mildness of the day.

First report, Hess added, came from the squad headed by chief cyberburr Paul Nolt in Sadsbury Township.

Lodge members gathered before dawn, warming themselves around the big potbelled stove in the Quarryville hardware store long operated by George Hensel, founder of the organization.

After searching the fields and woods they returned to the lodge headquarters near here for another experiment, this time projecting a member backward in time to the ice age via an "atomic" device. Honored by the Slumbering Lodge this year was Gen. William Dean, freed last summer by the Communists after years of captivity in Korea.

Regrettably, the organization accepted the resignation of President Eisenhower, elected to membership two years ago.

"We were told," said Hess, "that the President withdrew because he could not possibly be active in all the associations which have welcomed him as a member. Certainly it was no reflection on the lodge."

"We don't deny that this is an underground organization."

The civil arrest order was signed yesterday by Supreme Court Justice James McNally on the strength of a similar one from California courts.

Dulles Rebuffs Molotov's Plan in Stinging Talk

U. S. Delegate Retorts, Denies War Motives at Big 4 Berlin Meet

BERLIN (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles told the Big Four foreign ministers conference today that Soviet bloc and its one-man rule is the real danger to world peace, not the Western defensive alliance.

This was the American statesman's answer to Soviet Minister Molotov's charges that the Western powers are promoting war in trying to unify Germany within the family of European nations.

In stinging language, Dulles hurled Molotov's own words—spoken after the 1939 Nazi-Communist partition of Poland—back at him.

At that time, with Moscow and Berlin in a booty-hungry partnership, Molotov called it "not only senseless but criminal" for the Western nations to war against Hitler.

Molotov, in challenging the Western world's motives about peace now, is just as wrong today as he was then, Dulles asserted.

The secretary led the Western broadside against the Russian as a retort to Molotov's unyielding position yesterday. Molotov had stressed that Russia would settle only for a neutral Germany unable to have any link with the West and saddled with Communist influence.

Said Dulles: "Perhaps Mr. Molotov would admit that he then in 1939 made a mistake — we all make mistakes. That fact should lead us not to be so confident of our judgment that we throw across the table accusations of criminal intent."

Dulles said Molotov had "accused us yesterday of being the enemies of peace."

"The greatest danger to world peace," Dulles said, "lies in the fact that in some cases a vast military establishment can be made to attack by the decision of a single nation, sometimes by the decision of a single man. That is a situation that is understandably terrifying."

He left no doubt that he was talking about the monolithic Soviet regime.

Aid Society Gets Surviving Quads

Parents, Now in Ohio, Ask Children's Group to Care for Babies

LANSING (AP)—The Ingham County branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society has been given temporary custody of the two surviving Van Alstine quadruplets, it revealed today.

The quadruplets received nationwide attention when they were born last Oct. 26 to the then Mrs. June Trollman, 32-year-old divorcee.

The quads found a father and a name when Glenn Van Alstine, husky auto mechanic, married the mother at a hastily arranged bedside wedding ceremony a few days later.

Clinton Justice, executive secretary of the Ingham County branch of the society, said the parents, who are now living in Ohio, asked the society to care for the youngsters.

"At first they wanted to place the children for adoption, but decided to wait for a while to work out some other plan with the society," Justice said.

"The parents want to do the best thing for the children but the move to have them adopted apparently stemmed from desperation and lack of finances to give them the proper care," he said.

The surviving quads, Ronald and Ruth, now slightly more than three months old, weigh five pounds each. Two other infants died shortly after the multiple births.

The infants have been at the Edward W. Sparrow Hospital here since their birth.

Mild Weather Will Continue Here Wednesday

Mild weather with temperatures ranging from 30 to 47 tonight and Wednesday are forecast by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Monday the temperature registered 24 at 8 a.m. climbing to a high of 37 at late afternoon. A snowfall of 3 was registered with snow flurries throughout the day.

At 8 a.m. today the downtown thermometer registered 28 rising to 40 at 2 p.m.

Light rain or snow is forecast for Thursday night and Friday of this week with mild temperatures turning colder on Friday, according to the long range forecast from the weather bureau.

Cold Wave Hits, Europe Shivers

Weatherman Predicting Lower Temperatures for Continent

LONDON (AP)—The worst winter in seven years turned Europe into one vast icebox from the Urals to the Mediterranean today, spread misery among the homeless in the big cities, and covered the play resorts of North Africa with snow.

Trains were stalled. Rivers turned into giant ice ponds. Overworked electric lines broke down. Hundreds of villages were cut off.

The weatherman said even lower temperatures were on the way. Already, more than 45 people have died.

In North Africa, many parts of Morocco had their first snowfall in 35 years. Near Meknes, three feet of snow was reported and the hills around Algiers were ice-capped.

London had its coldest night in seven years with the temperature tumbling to 23 degrees for 12 hours running.

Nearly 100 villages were cut off by snowdrifts in the Italian Highlands. A howling windstorm with gusts of hurricane force lashed at Trieste, injuring at least seven people.

Ship Near Seattle Radios for Tug

SEATTLE (AP)—Coast Guard headquarters said the Canadian passenger liner Prince George radioed early today that it had struck a rock in treacherous Seymour Narrows, but it called only for a tug. It did not send any general SOS.

Seymour Narrows is between Vancouver Island and the Canadian mainland, about 200 miles north of Seattle and 100 miles north of Vancouver, B. C.

The Canadian National Railways liner's call for a tug reduced the acute first fears over her situation. Mackay Radio said the Prince George advised the S. S. Baranoff in the vicinity, there was no need of standing by.

Seymour Narrows is a winding, fast-flowing channel at flood tide, which ordinarily is traveled by vessels only during slack water periods.

The Prince George is a 350-foot liner which plies along the West Coast from Puget Sound to south-east Alaska.

Habel Suggests Compromise to Settle Suit

Would Accept $30,000, Mill Street Frontage, for Contested Land

In a special meeting last night Pontiac City Commission rejected a proposal from Jack Habel Chevrolet Co. for an out-of-court settlement of a dispute over land at 11-49 Parko St.

The city is attempting to condemn the land bought by Habel last August at reported price of $60,000. At the time Pontiac was negotiating to pay $50,000 for the site.

The suit began in Oakland County Circuit Court last week and is now adjourned.

Habel's proposals last night were:

1. The city would acquire title to all property east of the Clinton River (the land in question is bounded on east by Parke street, west by Clinton River, north by Slater apartments and city-owned land to the south).

2. Habel would acquire title to a 60 by 150 foot section of the south portion of the County-City Market.

3. The city would pay $30,000 to Habel, with Habel agreeing to build a retaining wall on line of demarcation in the Market.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he considered the market a "very valuable piece of property." He said the city is renting parking spaces there, besides storing city-owned cars.

About $6,000 is expected in net revenue per year from the building, he stated.

Commissioner Paul A. Kern (District 3) said the condemnation power is "very dangerous unless tempered by justice. When we can arrive at a compromise to permit a man to stay in business I think 60 feet is not too little."

"It's too bad, when you think the implication is to run him out of business, I hope the law is amended whereby you can't cause a man financial loss by taking his property."

Dr. Roy V. Cooley (District 1) said "I don't think there's an implication we're going to run him out of business."

A member of the audience, Maurice Barnett, said "This property is most ideally located for municipal parking. If 60 feet is sold to Jack Habel we take a loss in municipal parking. We're daily losing business without such parking in downtown Pontiac."

Mayor Arthur J. Law (District 4) said he wasn't opposed to selling the market in the future and getting the property on the tax roll (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Heavy, Unexpected Snow Takes Six Lives in State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan's heavy unexpected snowfall Monday figured in the deaths of six residents. Aggravated highway conditions were partly responsible.

Edward Gray, 28, and Preston Crowle, 24, both of Detroit, were killed when their car collided with a truck on US16 at the western outskirts of Grand Rapids. Police said the car failed to stop at an intersection.

Miss Marion Greely, 21, of Cadillac, was killed when her car went out of control and crashed into a truck on US10 near Midland.

Mrs. Sophia Ann Cuthbert, 68, a Coldwater social and civic leader, was killed when her car collided with an auto haulaway truck on US112 near Allen on the southern edge of Hillsdale County.

Police said the truck was trying to pass a school bus.

Mrs. Helen Kaczynski, 76, of Detroit died after shoveling snow in front of her home.

John Harris, 76, of Detroit died after cleaning snow from around his downtown newsstand.

In Findlay, Ohio, James B. Turpin, 49, of Tecumseh, Mich., was killed Monday in a two-car collision on US23 a half mile north of Findlay. Carl Miller, 25, also of Tecumseh, the driver of the car, was taken to Blanchard Valley Hospital in critical condition.

Gay Mardi Gras Time Coming

New Orleans Festival Is Multimillion Dollar March 9 Industry

WASHINGTON — A score of parades and more than 50 balls will enliven New Orleans from now until March 10, as carnival time grips the Crescent City. Shrove Tuesday, or "Fat Tuesday" as Orleanians affectionately call it, will climax the flamboyant Mardi Gras in the Louisiana metropolis. On that day — March 9 — Comus and Rex, Lord of Misrule, will reign as festival kings.

A medieval feast, transplanted from southern Europe by early French colonists, the Mardi Gras has become one of America's best-known municipal entertainments, says the National Geographic Society.

Mardi Gras' exact birthdate is obscure, but masquerade dances in a 10-day pre-Lenten period were popular with delta settlers two centuries ago.

The first organized Mardi Gras street parade occurred on Feb. 27, 1838. Floats were introduced in the 1857 parades. In that year also torches were first used to light the processions.

King Rex made his initial appearance in 1872. Three years later "Fat Tuesday" was made a legal holiday in New Orleans.

It derives its name from an ancient French custom in which a garlanded boar, or fat boar, was paraded through town before being roasted for a village feast.

By 1881 the Mardi Gras parades were attracting 60,000 visitors annually. This year an estimated quarter-of-a-million out-of-towners will invade New Orleans to watch what has been termed "the greatest free show on earth."

Mardi Gras parades are based on historical, legendary and mythological themes. Each parade features some 20 floats — wheeled flat cars 20 feet long and eight feet wide topped with papier-mache creations. Floats and costumes may cost $20,000 or more per parade and are exhibited only once.

Krewes, or private clubs, sponsor the Mardi Gras parades and dances. Today there are more than 60 krewes.

The production of costumes, floats and stage sets had developed into a multimillion dollar home industry in New Orleans. All floats are built in secrecy to prevent revelation of the parade themes.

Check Fingerprints in Robbery Attempt

Fingerprint checks were made yesterday at Crissman's Chevrolet Sales and Service, 735 S. Rochester Rd., Avon Township, by Oakland County sheriff's deputies in an attempt to find the persons who broke into the garage Saturday night.

Kenneth Shearer, head of the records bureau searched for prints there to aid Detectives Lyl Wertz and Elmer McQuern in their hunt for the thieves who partially dismantled a safe and broke into two garage offices.

Entry was forced through a rear door, the detectives said, and a metal cabinet was broken into but nothing was reported missing. The thieves were unable to open the safe.

Did You Sell Your Home, Buy Another? Six Months Is Time Limit to Avoid Tax

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Article 7

Most taxpayers own property of some kind. If you do, and have sold or exchanged any part of it in 1953, you may have a gain to be reported on your Federal income tax return, or a loss which can be used to save tax dollars.

This article explains the rules which permit you to postpone the tax if you sell your home at a profit.

The rules given here do not apply to the sale of merchandise to customers or property used in a trade or business.

If you had one or more of the following three transactions in 1953, read this article carefully.

1. Sale of your home, car, household furnishings, jewelry, or other personal property for MORE than it cost you. If you sold any of these items for less than it cost, you CANNOT deduct the loss.
2. Sale of securities you bought for investment or speculation.
3. Securities or non-business loans which became worthless in 1953.

Any of the above transactions must be reported on the separate Schedule D that comes with the blank returns.

If the transaction involves your residence, you may not have to pay any tax. In other cases, you may be entitled to report a loss that will reduce your tax.

The first step in filling out Schedule D is to determine whether your transaction should be shown under the part marked "Short term capital gains and losses" or under the part for long-term gains and losses.

Here is the rule: A non-business or personal loan which became worthless in 1953 is a short-term capital loss regardless of how long ago you made the loan. The rest of the transactions will be short-term if you held the property for six months or less and the long-term if held for more than six months.

If you sold your residence in 1953, read over the special rules on page 8 of the official instructions. Then check over the following additional information and tips:

The term "residence" includes a house, houseboat, or house trailer. If you live in more than one place it must be your principal residence.

When part of the property is used as your principal residence, and part is used for business purposes or rented out, only the allocated gain on that part of the property used as the principal residence is not taxed.

The gain on the business or rented part of the property must be reported.

For example, if a taxpayer, renting one-third of his residence, sells it for $6,000 profit, he must report one-third of the gain, or $2,000, but need not report $4,000 of the profit if he otherwise complies with the special rules on sale of a residence.

The "selling price of the old residence" is the amount of cash plus notes or other security put up by the purchaser plus any mortgage, trust deed or other indebtedness on the property at the time of the sale which is not paid off as part of the sale.

Commissions and other selling expenses are not deducted in order to arrive at the selling price.

What is the purchase price of the new residence? Include in the purchase price the same items as for sale of an old residence.

Where any part of the new residence is acquired by gift, the value of such part is not included in determining the purchase price of the new residence.

If you claim the benefit of special rules on the sale of your residence, be sure to attach to Schedule D the information asked for in the official instructions.

Even though you haven't purchased a new home by Dec. 31, 1953, if you think you may either buy or build within the required period, you need not report a tax on the profit from the sale of your old residence on your 1953 return.

If it develops that you don't buy or build and occupy a new residence within the specified time, then you must file an amended 1953 tax return and pay a tax on the profit.

Here are some tips to help you fill out Schedule D:

1. After filling in columns 2 and 3 (the date acquired and the date sold) check to make sure all property listed under long-term capital gains and losses was held for more than six months.
2. Put "0" in column 5 (depreciation) unless at some time you rented out the property.

You must show depreciation for any period during which the property was rented. Watch for Article 8 for instructions on how to compute depreciation.

Remember to include in column 6 the cost of any improvements, such as an additional room, front porch or the like. Do not include the cost of repairs and ordinary maintenance such as painting the house. Any cost you include here reduces your taxable gain.

Your cost or other basis, which also goes in column 6, is what you paid for the property if you bought it. If it was inherited, it is the fair market value at the time you acquired the property.

If it was a gift, include whatever it cost the last person who bought it.

Note that if you end up with a capital loss, you cannot show more than $1,000 of it on the Form 1040 even though you file a joint return. If you and your wife each have capital losses, you may save money by filing separate returns.

Each would then get to deduct his capital losses up to $1,000. Work out your tax both ways and use the cheaper method.

The schedule automatically includes only half of any long-term capital gain in taxable income.

This half becomes part of your income taxed at the same rate as your other income until you pass the 52 per cent bracket.

That occurs when your adjusted gross income exceeds $14,000 on an individual return or $28,000 on a joint return. Thereafter, no matter how high your income gets, the tax on the reported capital gain is limited to 52 per cent.

After the separate Schedule D is filled out, transfer either the gain or loss to the small Schedule D on page 2 of Form 1040.

Next—income from rents, royalties, annuities, pensions and other sources.

Many birds have a poor sense of smell. The buzzard depends almost entirely on sight to locate his special diet and the horned owl's favorite dinner is skunk.

THE MOVE TO MODERN LIVING

See why the trend is growing to the 1954 Lincoln

The facts are simple: Lincoln is the one fine car whose sales have more than doubled in two short years.

There are good reasons why this trend keeps growing. The great new Lincoln for 1954 is the most dramatic edition of the car that started the big change in American motorists' ideas about fine cars.

Take, for instance, Lincoln's new styling—from the stunning new grille to the crisp, new rear deck and distinctive new taillights. It is a completely new design—akin to the ground-hugging, functional look found wherever the living is modern. Note, too, how well

Lincoln's new colors and fabrics go with Lincoln's new styling: dramatic new shades in nylons, gabardines, and leathers.

Above all you have incredible performance. Lincoln's world-famous V-8 engine has the new automatic 4-barrel carburetor—gives you superbly controlled action at all times. Add to all this the optional features—power steering, power brakes, the 4-way power seat and electric power window lifts—and driving becomes practically effortless. You'll know what we mean the moment you drive a wonderful new 1954 Lincoln or Lincoln Capri.

Performance proof: Lincoln again won 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th places over all stock cars in the 1,912-mile Mexican Pan-American Road Race.

AFL Asks Ike to Prime Pump

Union Leaders Request Public Works Program to Halt Decline

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL leaders today urged President Eisenhower to trot out pump-priming plans immediately to soothe the nation's lagging economy.

President Eisenhower has said that he has a public works program already drafted to invoke when a depression threatens the country.

The AFL's Executive Council, meeting here to study Eisenhower policies and union problems, said unemployment has grown to the point where public works projects should be taken from the "shelf" and put into immediate effect.

"All the signs indicate we're going down hill," AFL President George Meany told newsmen. "All of the nation's considerable resources won't help us if we don't use them."

AFL Economists gave figures to claim that the 2,360,000 unemployed reported by the government's last census figure is a conservative estimate.

They said that without considering what should have been a normal increase in the work force, the number of jobs has declined from June to January by 3,350,000—or that one out of every 20 persons has lost his job.

Besides a quick start on building public works projects, the AFL council recommended that Congress boost the present 75-cent federal minimum wage to $1.25 an hour.

Other steps recommended: broadening unemployment compensation benefits, increasing federal housing aid to double present home production and extending tax relief to low-income earners.

Reds Offer Houses in Sudeten Villages

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia is offering houses cheap to peasants who will help repopulate deserted villages of the Sudetenland, the mountainous border strip Britain and France gave to Hitler in the 1938 Munich Pact.

Some three million Germans—about three-fourths of the coal and power-producing area's prewar population—were expelled from the Sudeten in 1945 after Czechoslovakia regained it. The government wants to replace them, but Czech workers reportedly fear some new deal between Moscow and the Communist East German government will bring the displaced Germans back.

The Prague newspaper Rude Pravo announced today 2,500 Sudetenland houses have been renovated and can be purchased "for exceptionally low prices with long-term payments." As an added inducement, the government will throw in a cow.

State Troopers Rush New Drug to Two Children

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—State troopers, working in cruiser relays from post to post, rushed a new drug from Detroit to St. Mary's Hospital here to aid two children seriously ill.

The drug, an anti-biotic called chloromycin, was developed by Parke Davis & Co. and arrived Monday afternoon.

The children are Patricia Bennett, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bennett, Grand Rapids, who is suffering from meningitis, and Elizabeth Zehner, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Zehner of Grandville, suffering from a throat infection.

Insurance Salesman Denies Theft Charge

A Pontiac insurance salesman pleaded not guilty yesterday to a charge that he took money for payment of policy premiums from policy holders and converted the money to his own use.

Towfale Madison, 36, of 32 Mathews St., is in Oakland County Jail awaiting examination on the embezzlement charge Thursday. He was unable to supply a $1,500 bond set by Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

Madison is accused of taking $97.50 from policy holders of the Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Association of Omaha and converting this money to his own use in November of last year.

Russians Claim Credit for New Waterproofing

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians have come up with a sure-fire waterproofing system they call "hydrofobization." It's so good, they say, it'll even keep tissue paper dry in a rainstorm and permit you to carry a quart of loose milk home in a paper bag.

The discovery is reported in the newspaper Leningrad Pravda. Scientists at Leningrad University are credited with developing the process.

No details are given except to say the "chemicals used are of a silicious organic character which are cheap and can be produced in large quantities."

The paper claims this is an entirely new waterproofing method. It says that where rubber "mechanically keeps water out, hydrofobization prevents the molecular ties between water and fabric and treated fabric therefore repels water."

This means you could throw your raincoat and rubbers away if you had a suit and shoes treated with the stuff. Paper cups no longer will have to be waxed, water colors can be washed after treatment, and "even the cheapest cottons will repel water as if they were made of rubber," the newspaper says.

The article goes on to say that treated and untreated fabrics are indistinguishable in appearance. The chemical cannot be removed from the fabric either by boiling or chemical detergents.

Legislature Gets Pontiac Armory Bill

Rep. Leann Harrelson (D-Pontiac, today introduced a bill in the Michigan House of Representatives authorizing the state to sell the present Pontiac Armory to the city.

The bill also provides for a state contribution to the building of the new armory.

The amount the state would contribute was not specified.

Warren Hearing Set for Today

Overwhelming Senate Approval Is Predicted for Chief Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's choice of Earl Warren as chief justice of the United States comes up for public scrutiny today amid uncertainty as to whether he may be asked to testify.

The former California governor, who has been serving in the high post for four months under an appointment made while the Senate was in recess, appears certain to win overwhelming Senate approval.

Sen. Langer (R-ND), in charge of the hearing, said he would put it up to the five-member Judiciary subcommittee considering the nomination whether Warren should be asked to appear.

Langer had announced Jan. 16 that Warren "will be asked to appear" before the subcommittee and the full Judiciary Committee. Langer is chairman of both. In an interview today, however, he declined to state his position in advance of the session.

Judiciary Committee staff members said they could find no instance in which a nominee for chief justice had been asked to testify, and only three such cases involving selections for Supreme Court associate justices.

Langer said about 100 communications had been received by the committee in opposition to Warren. He declined to evaluate them. But other senators said at least some of them could be characterized as "crank letters."

No senator has come out in opposition to Warren's appointment.

150 Burials Await Strike Settlement

DETROIT (INS)—Officials of Grand Lawn Cemetery in Detroit revealed today that 150 bodies await burial currently because of a five-month strike of CIO grave diggers.

The strikers demand higher pay. L. U. Everett, secretary-treasurer of the cemetery organization, said nine of the 25 strikers have returned to work and that other workers have been hired. He said,

Pontiac Foundation

Pontiac is fortunate in having what every city needs — an organization that senses the community's needs and is prepared to do something about meeting them.

Such an organization is the Pontiac Foundation at whose first annual meeting WILLIAM W. DONALDSON was re-elected president. Mr. DONALDSON conceived the idea of providing private means through which residents in a position to do so could leave bequests or donate funds to be used for civic improvements.

The Foundation is designed especially to give older residents an easy means of making an effective contribution to Pontiac's future. For example, some persons take out insurance for protection of their families. Later in life when this insurance has served its purpose and if no longer needed, the Foundation could be made the beneficiary.

While the officers and directors know many community needs, they decided some months ago to make a civic auditorium their No. 1 objective.

We urge all persons whose circumstances justify it, to consider a cash gift or bequest to Pontiac Foundation. The high character and business ability of its officers and directors ensure that such funds will be efficiently administered.

Needless Expense

Unless we are badly mistaken there won't be any public clamor for a No. 2 White House.

Yet that is just what has been proposed by the commission which recently reported on Congressional salaries. Besides suggesting that $300,000 be spent to provide the Vice President with an official mansion, the Commission suggested that his salary be raised to $40,000 a year. It also called his expense allowance "inadequate."

Vice-President NIXON's salary now is $30,000 a year and he gets a tax free expense allowance of $10,000. It might be that a good case could be made for a salary boost.

A good argument even could be made for a Vice Presidential mansion if it weren't for the fact that none of the Government's social activities are the responsibility of our second in command.

But with our White House so magnificently equipped to handle such entertainment, a Vice Presidential mansion would be a needless expense.

SCS Shakeup Defended

Secretary of Agriculture BENSON who only a few weeks ago was under heavy fire for his shakeup of the Soil Conservation Service, is in a much happier position today.

If he were that kind of a person he might even adopt an "I told you so" attitude. Instead, writing in the Country Gentleman, the Secretary attributes much of that criticism to legitimate concern over the future of this important Government service.

Target of most of that criticism was the closing of the seven SCS regional offices. This, the Secretary again explains, was a move to streamline the organization and eliminate an intermediate step between the States and Washington.

When the reasons for the move were explained, opposition died down. People began to understand, according to

Mr. BENSON, that none of the essential technical or administrative services formerly provided would be lost.

Strengthened State office staffs of SCS, the article points out, "not only maintain the level and quality of technical supervision, but also provide a place where most of the technicians formerly in the regional offices can be utilized more effectively."

One result of the reorganization is that specialists in agronomy, forestry, biology and range will serve groups of States.

If, as Secretary BENSON contends, the reorganization ensures more efficient soil conservation, criticism of his plan soon may be only a memory.

Help Save Tax Money

Although sales of new automobile license plates are ahead of last year, Secretary of State CLEARY is reminding drivers not to wait for the last minute rush.

In his campaign to speed up sales the Secretary has two goals in mind. One is to save car owners the inconvenience of standing in line for plates. The other is to save the State the several thousand dollars usually paid out for extra help in branch offices.

As of last weekend something over 800,000 plates had been sold. This means that before the February 28 deadline 1,400,000 of the State's 2,200,000 drivers must buy 1954 plates.

We urge all those without the new plates to heed Secretary CLEARY's advice and visit a branch office before the rush begins. This not only will save the individual inconvenience, but help the Department of State cut the cost of this large scale selling operation.

Recall When Special Permission Was Needed for Speed Limit Under 25 m.p.h.

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full names, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Certainly speed limits are necessary for safety. I believe at least 98 per cent of the people driving cars know what a reasonable limit is and are willing to go along with it.

When safe drivers are in a 35 m.p.h. speed zone and know they could go 45 without endangering anyone they wonder who set these speed limits.

Why do taxpayers spend so much for officers, who in turn arrest the same taxpayer for doing something that is not dangerous in public opinion?

Where the speed limits are too slow, you will always see officers patrolling, for they know people will not drive that slow and the officers can make an arrest any time they wish.

At one time the state became so annoyed at low speed limits in small towns that they passed a law that no place could have a speed limit slower than 25 m.p.h. unless given special permission.

My son got a ticket for speeding in a 15 m.p.h. zone. He was going 3 m.p.h. over the speed limit there, but was still well under the limit the state had said was safe. It cost him $50 and time off work.

Says Railroads Operate on Government Subsidy

James Kellner, a retired engineer, naturally would give a biased report for the railroad and an unbiased report was already made which advocated installation of warning bells on all crossings. Hang the expense if a life can be saved and an accident prevented.

The railroads have operated on a government subsidy since World War II. That subsidy was used primarily to pay the stockholders, not to pay railroads a decent pay or provide necessary equipment.

Now a business can't operate without maintaining adequate productive equipment nor should it ask the public to finance its moral obligations. Any agreement signed with the railroad to maintain its crossings by our former commissioners certainly didn't meet with the taxpayers' approval, I'll grant that. If there was one it should be proved illegal for it certainly would not meet with public policy.

I certainly wouldn't ask the public to underwrite any business I enter.

Men With Experience Are Ones Needed, Regardless of 'Side', for Labor Board

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Thought control and the punishing of a man for his previous affiliations or economic beliefs seems to be a bad thing when a "liberal" is the victim, but praiseworthy when the so-called "liberals" themselves want to keep a man out of the government of the United States.

The latest example is the action of the six Democratic members of the Senate Labor Committee who formally recommended in their report to the Senate that the nomination of Albert C. Beeson, as a member of the National Labor Relations Board, be rejected.

The report says frankly that the six Democratic senators "do not question Mr. Beeson's candor, honesty or integrity," but that they do question whether his experience as a spokesman for management in collective bargaining in the past would "color" his judgment.

If adopted as a policy in the Senate, it would mean that no man hereafter could work for the labor board who had ever served a trade union or the management side.

It would mean that an American citizen would be disqualified from holding office and would be adjudged to be devoid of "impartiality" just because he once worked on the management or labor side.

Such a rule would have disqualified Cy Ching, who recently retired as head of the U. S. Conciliation Service and who, prior to his service in the government, was employed as head of the industrial relations division of the U. S. Rubber Co. Yet he did win the confidence of both labor and management.

Carried to its logical conclusion, this discriminatory policy would mean that labor mediators, arbitrators and other personnel could never qualify for service in the government in connection with the labor bureau and board of the government if they previously worked for management or labor.

It is the most dangerous kind of persecution, and the so-called "liberals" who are sponsoring it are plainly violating the basic principle of fairness in their recommendation.

It was the late President Roosevelt — the hero of the "liberals" — who first proclaimed the doctrine of thought control in respect to appointees for government boards and commissions.

In 1933, Roosevelt wrote a letter removing William E. Humphrey from the Federal Trade Commission because, as Roosevelt expressed it, he was sure that Humphrey's decisions "would not go along with" the mind of the President.

This case was carried to the Supreme Court of the United States on a claim for back salary, and, by a unanimous decision, the court held in May 1935 that Humphrey was a member of a "quasi-judicial" commission and therefore could not be removed for any such reason.

The National Labor Relations Board is a "quasi-judicial" commission. In selecting members for it, as is the case with judges on a court, it is a serious thing to say that a man cannot be impartial after he takes the oath to perform judicial duties.

When a man of good character, honesty and integrity comes up for confirmation by the Senate and his previous employment gives him experience in the subject matter, it would seem that all groups would be eager to give him a chance to serve.

But the "liberals" in the Senate are playing politics, and they don't seem to mind the punitive tactics of "thought control" when they are doing the punishing.

The More Calcium in One's Daily Diet, the Less 'Dope' Needed, Says Dr. Brady

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

N. Webster says 'dope' is any preparation, as of opium, used to stupefy.

I don't think of opium particularly as dope, but of such drugs as acetanilide, the sense-deadener in numerous aches and pains, sold to the ninnyhammer public under various names.

There are also the hypnotic-sedative barbiturate group — barbitol, amytal, dial, tyrol, neonal, nopal, orlinal, secobarbital, veronal, luminal, etc.

Less dangerous than the acetanilide mixture or the barbiturates, but by no means as safe for indiscriminate use as many trick specialists would have their glib patients believe, is acetylsalicylic acid, commonly known as aspirin.

In my book aspirin is dope. I have taken perhaps four or five doses of it in my lifetime, but I'd tolerate or endure a headache or other ordinary ache or pain rather than take an aspirin tablet, unless I could sit or lie quietly for at least an hour after taking it.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Positive Attitude Proves Itself in Business Field

Matilda's case shows the value of "packaging" your ideas in the proper kind of words. The positive attitude is far superior to the negative, not just in business alone, but even in medicine. And it has proved itself for 1,900 years in religion.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-314: Matilda M., aged 52, is a heavy set woman who recently entered a shoe shop to purchase a new pair of slippers.

"Dr. Crane," the Manager later informed me, "one of my clerks waited on Matilda. But after he had showed her almost 50 pairs of shoes, he still couldn't fit her properly."

"It was hot and he was not an experienced man, so finally he blurted out, 'Madame, I can't fit you 'cause one of your feet's bigger'n the other!'"

"Well, Dr. Crane, this infuriated Matilda. She almost exploded with hot words and denounced the clerk in no uncertain fashion."

"As she stomped out of the shop, she was so irate, she paused to add a few criticisms to me, but I mollified her."

"I asked her if I might not wait upon her myself, saying I was sure I could find just what she wanted."

"Then I brought out a pair of shoes that were a little more costly than those my clerk had displayed."

"And I completely won her by smiling and saying, 'Why, madame, the only difficulty here is the fact that one of your feet is smaller than the other.'"

"As she left the shop, with this higher priced pair of shoes under her arm, she looked disdainfully at my clerk.

"And when she had departed, he came over and shook his head, perplexed."

"Then he said, 'Boss, I don't get it. For I told her the very same thing that you did.'"

"But he was wrong, for he had told her one of her feet was bigger than the other, whereas I used the positive attitude you recommended in your column and told her one of her feet was smaller."

Moses lived over 1,200 years B.C. And he was a remarkable leader but he was much like Confucius in that he stated things negatively.

Thus, the famous Ten Commandments contain many "Thou shalt nots". Jesus, on the contrary, almost entirely ignored this negative statement of moral laws, and told us, instead, to do positive things like feeding the hungry and healing the sick.

"Thou shalt" typified Christ, whereas "Thou shalt not" was the keynote of both Moses and Confucius.

Please observe what a phenomenal difference this has meant. For Christ's followers spread the precepts of Jesus over a wider area of the world in just 100 years, than Moses's followers had done in 1,200 years.

In fact, within 300 years they had even converted the famous Roman emperor, Constantine the Great.

In modern times, moreover, this positive moral emphasis has proved its superiority even in the very home countries of Buddhism and Confucianism, as well as Hinduism.

Those negative faiths shackled mankind. They also permitted the offering of babies as human sacrifices into the Ganges River, almost till the beginning of this century.

They fettered millions of mankind in eternal bondage in the caste system of India.

But the positive moral precepts of Christianity have freed the minds of men, as well as their hands and feet.

For it builds up, via hospitals and medical missionaries, instead of tearing down.

It educates instead of starving men's minds via "iron curtains". It is basic to our great Republic with its Constitution, which was predicted on that positive Golden Rule.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3 cent stamped addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts. (Copyright, Hopkins Syndicate Inc.)

Death has resulted from a single dose though one person who took about 100 5-grain tablets (probably with suicidal intent) recovered.

After all my experience in country, city and hospital practice and my other vicarious experiences, I marvel at the recklessness of people who resort to dope on the slightest pretext and at the delinquency of doctors who encourage patients in this abuse.

Such doctors, I believe, are to blame for many cases of drug habituation.

Take headache, for instance. Not a just a casual or isolated headache, but the headache habit, frequent or periodic headache, no matter whether it be neuralgic, "migraine" or sick headache (mitigating). The question is what to do about it?

The answer is simple enough if you are simple-minded. Take an aspirin or a dose of acetanilide in pill, tablet, powder or effervescent liquid form.

If one dose doesn't knock it (or you) out, take another, and another until you no longer feel — anything.

Avowedly most of the teachings in the pamphlet are negative — egad, how you poor folks need 'em! — but some are positive such as the one about calcium feeding.

Hundreds of people who have taken my advice about calcium feeding and high calcium diet have ceased having headache.

So I say: The more calcium, the less dope.

This applies not only to headache but also to various other frequent, periodic or chronic aches or pains for the temporary relief of which the sufferer resorts to dope.

Troop Removal Target Is Urged

Sen. Smith Says Date Should Be Set to Help Japan Get Ready

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) proposed today that the United States set a target date for withdrawal of American troops from Japan.
Smith, who heads a Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Far Eastern affairs, said in a report on a trip to Asia last fall that it may be four or five years before all of the United States troops in Japan can be brought home.
"Even so," he said, "I believe there might be some advantage in setting a target date now for that eventuality. Such a target date might accelerate (defensive) action by Japan."

The New Jersey senator said that unless some new markets are opened to the Japanese "we may be faced with an unending dependence of Japan on United States aid or an expansion of Japan's trade with Communist China."
"Both of these are clearly repugnant to our own interest," he declared.
As one who has advocated military aid for the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa, Smith said he believes Formosa may become "a powerful psychological base for a counteroffensive of Chinese democracy."

He said Chiang Kai-shek's forces could not launch any assault on China "without naval, air and logistic support from outside sources," adding:

"While they are growing in strength I think it would be unrealistic for even the most ardent supporters of the Chiang government to expect any all-out attack upon the mainland, at least in the near future."

Smith said he doesn't believe the Communists will start the fighting in Korea again or that President Syngman Rhee of South Korea will engage in any overt act to upset the truce.

Runaway Tank Adds to Woes on Boulevard

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Traffic is bad enough normally on Lakewood boulevard, but when a runaway Army tank got into the act this is what happened:

The 27-ton steel monster swerved into a parking lot yesterday, crushed five automobiles, snapped off a power pole and smashed a steel sign. Then it flattened a mailbox and knocked another sign into a house trailer.

Nobody was injured but W. O. Robert B. Duke, 25, Altadena, was badly shaken up by the time the tank ground to a stop. He told sheriff's deputies the tank went out of control when he swerved to miss an automobile.

Fumes Overcome 23 in Department Store

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fumes overcame 23 clerks and a young girl yesterday at a department store in suburban Fairview Park. Twelve of the women were confined overnight at Bay View Hospital.

Fire Chief Orrie Baumgardner said that apparently carbon monoxide fumes from a heating plant got into the store's air-conditioning system.

Boy Loses Ear Lobe, but Only Temporarily

HOUSTON (AP)—When Mrs. Alice Cookston, a teacher, backed her car over Carol Douglas Fowler, 3, she took him to a hospital as quickly as possible.

At the hospital, it was discovered the boy's ear lobe was missing. Mrs. Cookston raced back, found the ear lobe and gave it to an ambulance driver, who sped to the hospital.

The lobe sewed back on, doctors said Carol probably would be all right.

Greenstreet Estate Valued at $150,000

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—An estate valued at approximately $150,000 was left by English-born actor Sydney Greenstreet, who died two weeks ago at 74, it was disclosed when his will was filed for probate.

The will, dated June 24, 1948, and filed yesterday, provides that Greenstreet's widow Dorothy and his son John, 33, Oakland, Calif., tobacco sales manager, will share the bulk of the estate.

Hog Rustling Charges Filed Against 3 Men

YPSILANTI (INS)—State Police today held three men accused of hog rustling.
The trio, Grady Taylor, 33, Eugene Arnold, 31, and Harold Brown, 31, all of Detroit, were under arrest Sunday in Dearborn when a traffic officer found a dead hog in the trunk of their stolen car.

Troopers said farmers near Ypsilanti reported incidents of rustling for 15 months prior to the trio's capture.

Baseball Star Talks Here During Brotherhood Week

Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodger star, will be guest speaker Feb. 9 at St. George Greek Orthodox Church on Mariva street during a program in observance of Brotherhood Week.

He will appear under the auspices of the Detroit Round Table of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The affair is being sponsored by the host church, Temple Beth Jacob, Newman AME Church and Bethany Baptist Church.

Cooperating in the plans are Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein, and the Revs. Fred R. Tiffany, J. Allen Parker and Soterios Gouvalis.

These four have travelled together in the interest of brotherhood giving programs together in northern New York last summer.

"We have received so much inspiration ourselves from our work together in the spirit of friendship, based upon respect and understanding for each other's convictions, that we thought our laymen too would enjoy the experience of fellowship," they said.

The joint committee from the sponsoring organizations includes: Dr. Irving Gordon, James Rosenthal and George Agree; Wilbur Crawford, Maynard Johnson and Irving Zuehlke; William J. Davis, Edward Vines and Joseph Wheat Jr.; and Ernest Cosmos, William Coulacos and Nicholas Fukiotis.

Bout With Elephant Fatal to Zoo Keeper

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Roger F. (Bob) McGraw, 45, superintendent of Mesker Park Zoo, died Monday night of injuries suffered Jan. 25 when an elephant slammed him against a brick wall.

"Kay," the middle-aged female elephant, killed a 17-year-old handler in 1938.

McGraw, who had cared for the elephant off and on for 20 years, had explained that he apparently frightened her when he slipped and fell while cleaning her cage.

Evansville park officials have given no indication of planning to destroy the elephant. She was bought in 1929 with donations from school children and other residents.

British House Okays Use of Belgian Rifle

LONDON (AP)—The House of Commons by a 34-vote majority last night approved the Conservative government's decision to arm British Tommies with the new .30-caliber Belgian rifle instead of Britain's own .28-caliber weapon.

The 266-232 refusal of a Laborite motion to censure the government ended a long wrangle over the relative worth of the two rifles. The Laborites contended all NATO nations should adopt the British gun as standard equipment.

Gas Suicide Attempt Hurts Three in Blast

NEW YORK (AP)—Kitchen gas turned on by an apparent suicide blew up yesterday, jarring thousands and causing extensive damage in the neighborhood. At least three persons were injured.

David Stewart, 43, a merchant seaman, was found dead. Firemen said jets on a gas range had been left open.
Furniture was blown out of the apartment and windows were smashed in 27 other apartments in the building.

Licensing Division Curbs Bad Drivers

LANSING (AP)—In its first two months of operation, Michigan's new driver licensing division has suspended or revoked the licenses of 943 motorists.

Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary said the penalties were imposed in December and January on motorists with bad driving records.

In addition, 196 other drivers were called in before examiner-supervisors for additional driving instruction. Warning letters were sent to 525 drivers to notify them they were near the citation stage.

Cleary said he expected the number of penalties to increase monthly as the new examining staff builds up experience.

Boy, 15, Dies in Hole Dug With Pal in Levee

BRODERICK, Calif. (AP)—A 15-year-old boy died yesterday in a hole dug in a river levee near his home spelled death for Jerry Crabtree, 15, yesterday.

Jerry and James Townsend dug the hole. Just as they jumped in, the sides caved in. Jerry was covered.

James was buried up to his neck. His cries finally brought aid, but too late to save Jerry, who had suffocated.
James was injured.

4-in-1 Care Kit for Home Coiffures

$1 Buys Beauty Aids for Hair-Do Grooming

Amidst soaring costs of living and looking lovely, the makers of the famed "42" aids for hair grooming have managed to reverse the trend. They have brought out a bargain in hair beauty — and how!

Thanks to them, $1 will buy a complete 4-in-1 hair beauty kit, fitted with all needs for successful home care of modern coiffures, especially those short and "Italian-style" hair do's.

This attractive offer will be good for a limited time only.

Look at all you lucky ladies can get in this convenient kit to make your hair look lovelier and stay that way:

(1) A fine liquid, hair-conditioning cream, with lanolin. It is compounded especially to show curl, bring out your wave, maintain styling and "set" far longer, without those bothersome nightly pin-ups. It's applied easily with the hands, makes the hair lustrous; but remains invisible.

(2) An effective liquid shampoo, lathering type, with natural oils that leave hair and scalp clean, yet unparched. The hair stays pliant and gleaming.

(3) A clever, combination brush-comb, widely useful in modern hair styling, and especially suited for those fetching short-hair "do's" and gamin fashions from bellissima Italia.

This clever gadget has a comb in center, and on either side brushes which can be removed when you wish. This twin-comb brush has been selling separately for as much as twice the cost for the entire kit.

(4) Finally, since hair beauty aids are only as good as the knowledge that guides their use, the kit contains also a simple "hair styling course." This is a guide showing step by step how you at home can achieve any one of seven different hair fashions devised by leading Hollywood stylists for the deliberate purpose of flattering your face.

Literary Club Hears Mrs. Chamberlain

Addicts Coming From Good Families

Members of the Woman's Literary Club were warned of the dangers of narcotics when Mrs. Carl B. Chamberlain, a member of Mayor Albert J. Cobo's committee on the rehabilitation of narcotic addicts, spoke on "Youth and Narcotics."

Mrs. Chamberlain told those gathered at the YWCA that there are 5,000 known addicts in the Detroit area alone. These people, she said, begin by smoking marijuana cigarettes, often on a dare.

"Addicts now are coming from our better families and from locations you would little suspect," said Mrs. Chamberlain.

The second step toward becoming an addict, the speaker pointed out, is when the body rebels and demands something stronger than marijuana. Then these individuals begin using cocaine or the deadly heroin.

The purpose of this committee, the speaker explained, is not to cure addicts, but to prevent the youth from becoming addicts, and to attempt to reach them in the early stages before they have become addicted to the use of narcotics.

Those working in this field are not sure of the "cure" effected through institutional care, Mrs. Chamberlain said, because the

Chanel Style Swishes Back

PARIS (INS) — The fashion world is splitting at its French seams today, waiting to see what beauties—or bombasties—will be previewed next Friday in the comeback collection of prewar style dictator Gabrielle Chanel.

Chanel will re-enter the fashion scene after 15 years with a "new look"—everyone is certain of that.

But just what the "look" will be is a secret hidden behind the red velvet draperies in her redecorated (at a cost of $100,000) salon.

Only Madame Schiaparelli, who was Chanel's arch rival 25 years ago when the House of Chanel was the high-fashion dynasty of Paris, has ventured an opinion.

"Chanel," she quipped, "doesn't need either to work or make money, so she may have something different and definite in mind. At least it will be interesting."

The only thing sure is that they will be extravagantly expensive.

Gabrielle Chanel, whose friends call her "Coco," made the sudden decision to re-enter the fierce style competition a few months ago and immediately and promptly created a furore in fashion circles.

Until 1933, when she closed her clothes house, she had been for two decades the biggest prestige designer in the business. A Chanel label was worth more than its weight in 18-karat gold, and the Chanel imagination was behind almost every successful trend in dressing.

She still wields two sharp weapons for trend-creating: 1) The undimmed power of her name, kept alive by beauty products and the famous "Chanel No. 5" perfume, and 2) The imagination and good taste which is born in an artist, not made.

Her spokesman gave proof of her artistic temperament. When asked whether Chanel will make drastic revisions in existing necklines or hemlines, he snapped: "Nobody temptation and the driving urge is such that it is not easy to combat.

She explained, too, that sellers and peddlers are always on the lookout for those who have had treatment, waiting for that moment when they find disappointment and are unable to resist temptation.

As an example Mrs. Chamberlain said, "As long as things are going well, they will not use narcotics; but the minute they try to get away, the seller is there to encourage them back."

There are means of combating this problem, the speaker pointed out. Parents and adults must keep in touch with their children; help them to have healthy normal group associations, thus discouraging the gangs on street corners which are easy prey for the seller of narcotics.

Mrs. Chamberlain listed the accomplishments of the committee on narcotic rehabilitation, saying that it has increased the penalties of those selling to minors and of those in possession of narcotics.

In the Detroit area narcotics are being studied in the schools, and the committee is responsible for an ordinance which prohibits the sale of gelatin capsules and hypodermic needles without a medical doctor's prescription.

This committee also has established a clinic headed by a psychiatrist and psychiatric social workers which functions under the Detroit Board of Health.

See Changes in Hemlines, Shoulders

New Look Stylings Also Different in Hips, Experts Say

A new look to the "New Look" is expected to be demonstrated at the showings of the fall and winter collections. Hemlines, hips and shoulders are to undergo revolutionary changes according to the fashion wizards and to some exclusive reports from fashion intelligence sources.

These changes have been a long time maturing and are now being whispered round the couillises and corridors of the major Paris houses. This projected new style coincides also with a relaxation in the international scene.

Indeed one might well advance a theory about the generation of new styles, relating the focal points of change, the germinal idea from which a whole new line will spring, to the larger watershed of change and decision in the world of international affairs.

Whether through the fashion minded, dictatorial whim of Christian Dior or Jacques Fath of France, the Countess Visconti or the Fontana sisters of Italy, one thing is sure—the "Haute Couture" is due for a change in the season to come.

A rare opportunity to verify the anticipated revolution in hemlines, hips and shoulders will be accorded to members of the classic fashion tours just announced by Travel & Study of New York City.

This 75-day jaunt will leave New York on June 29 and covers five countries. After a leisurely trip along the fashion conscious French Riviera and a few days in the dream playground of Capri, members will visit the collections in Rome and Florence.

Italy too, through the assembled art treasures of churches, museums and palaces, is the perfect background and illustration of the relationship between art and fashion as well as the history of fashion.

In England the emphasis is on woollens and sport clothes. The fall and winter collections of France's topmost couturiers climax the tour and provide a fitting vantage point from which to summarize a wealth of experience and new insights into fashion in all its aspects.

Elks Sa-Shayers Meet at Temple to Square Dance

William Schmiel was master of ceremonies Friday evening when the Elks Sa-Shay Quadrill Club met in the Elks Temple.

Callers were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McCallister, Bill Spaulding, Burnell McAllister, Bill Moore and John DePauw. Ben D'Arcy of the Hoedowners Club was guest caller.

Guests for the evening included the Howard Bonds, Mr. and Mrs. D'Arcy, the Ray Freeburys, Charles Thornton and Lois Lampier.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fish, the Ralph D'Angelos, Mr. and Mrs. Don Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. James Marsh. The Russell Papes planned the refreshments.

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mary Louise, to Donald M. Weydemeyer are Mr. and Mrs. William G. McLean of Dwight avenue.

The son of the Mack Weydemeyers of Oliver street, Don is a senior at Wayne University where Mary was graduated.

An April 17 wedding is planned.

Ways to 'Make' Storage

Most homemakers literally have to hunt for storage space in their homes.

Because the average small house, even a new one, is never sufficiently supplied with storage facilities, the woman who lives in the home has to exercise great ingenuity in using every available inch of wall space and a lot of space that isn't on walls as well.

The home arts department of one company suggests the following as clever ways in which to "make" storage:

1. Put racks on doors, not necessarily only in the bedroom, although they're useful there, of course. But how about an exposed tier of racks on a door in the living room to hold books and magazines?

2. Waterproof the kitchen work counters with tile so that all the area underneath them may be used for cabinets. This space includes the corners, where you can have shelves that swivel to hold bowls and other utensils.

3. Instead of putting up a decorative screen to separate the living from the dining area of a large room, use room dividers which have both shelf and cabinet space for linens and dishes. The things to be stored may be visible or hidden, and the room divider is both a handsome piece of furniture and a utilitarian item.

4. Try "open" storage in the kitchen. There are many places to hang shelves on which to display your preserves and colorful canned foods. Surface these shelves in easily cleaned material like tile so that they won't be a burden to maintain.

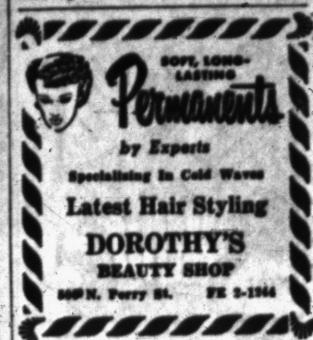

5. No place for cosmetics in the bathroom? Build a vanity counter into a corner. If there isn't space, then get a sturdy and decorative hanging shelf for some

Hubby's Aid to Relative Is Resented

Wife Believes He Spends Too Much Time at Sister's

By EMILY POST

A reader explains: "My husband's sister lives next door to us. Her husband died a year ago but she still maintains the house, alone. Whenever anything has to be done around the house, such as putting up screens, taking them down, or making repairs, she calls upon my husband to do it. "It is not that I don't want him to help his sister, but it seems she always has something that has to be done, and my husband spends most of his free time over there doing things for her. As a result, our own house is often neglected."

"I think she is taking advantage of his good nature and I am really very annoyed over it, but I don't know what to do. I am appealing to you for whatever help you can offer in tactfully dealing with this situation."

Answer: The obvious thing for you to do is to discuss this matter with your husband, and if there is something of importance to do at home, he should explain this to his sister.

On the other hand, if he has nothing to do at home it would be very selfish of him to refuse to help her.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am involved in a question of courtesy which I would like you to settle if you will. The question is: When going through a revolving door, should the man go first so that he may push the door, which is quite heavy, for her?

Answer: She gets in first and he pushes it around to the next compartment where he gets in. From this he can control the speed of the door and quite easily let her out.

Dear Mrs. Post: When a woman wears a corsage pinned on her coat when going to dinner in a restaurant, what does she do with it at the table?

Answer: She takes it off and pins it on her dress. It would serve no purpose hanging on her coat and would risk being buffeted by every person passing.

Handsome accessories will perk up the simplest cotton dress for that winter vacation, and be ready for duty all summer long. Here are two of the newest bags in the sun accessories lineup. At left, open bucket bag in crocheted plastic straw with clear plastic lining and single wide handle. At right, new "muzzle" bag in white cowhide with black trim and shoulder strap. Both designed by Josef.

Work in Evening Solves Problems

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Mary G. is a charming woman in her early 40s, whom I chat with regularly at the meat market. You'd never think, to look at her, that she knew what trouble was. But the other day the butcher, who has served her family for about 30 years, told me her story.

The family had once been very wealthy, but when the father died, they were left with just a little nest egg.

Mary was the only child and had one of those conversational French, music appreciation and china-painting educations. It seemed.

She and her mother moved to a tiny apartment in the same building, pared all their expenses, and found they were still going to run about $15 a week in the red.

Mary was all set to learn typing when the mother had a stroke. Mary would have to stay home to nurse her constantly, leaving no opportunity to earn.

After much trial and error, and considerable heartbreak, this is what Mary worked out: She does all the mending and pressing (on her own premises) for the woman in the apartment next door, who has a job which requires a handbox look—who is all thumbs!

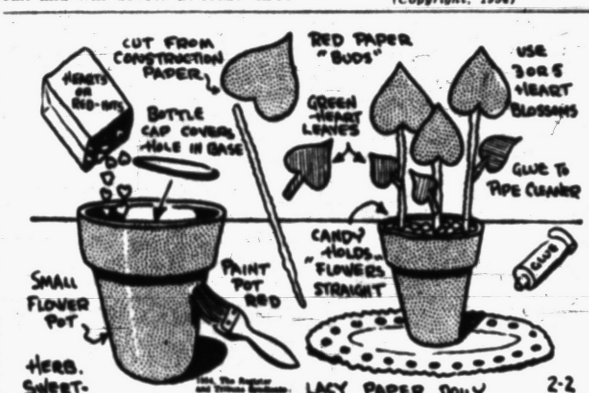

In exchange for that, the neighbor takes care of Mary's mother three nights a week. On those three nights, Mary gives parties at people's homes to introduce kitchenware to their friends.

Her commissions average the $15 a week which she needs, yet she is with her mother all day and never neglects her. This also gives Mary the change, the companionship and social life which she would otherwise miss entirely.

Many women look askance at that kind of selling, but it has been my experience that the friendly, outgoing kind of woman takes to it like duck to water.

Recently I got a letter from a woman who hires such workers, and here is what she has to say: "Our company, a copperware firm, employs women who are sincere, well-groomed, and between the ages of 26 and 45, and who can and will devote at least three

Try It
Hearts 'Grow' in Candy

Have you sent in your idea to win an original Try It for your room? I am waiting to hear from you. Today's winner is Mrs. R. D. Edwards of Rock Hill, S. C. She tells us how to make this Valentine centerpiece and suggests that these would be nice gifts for people who are ill.

You will need a medium-sized flower pot. Wash it well in soap-suds, then when it is dry, paint it a bright red. Glue a bottle cap over the hole in the bottom and fill the pot half full of tissue paper.

Fill the rest of the pot with candy hearts or red dots. Now we will need to make the "flowers." Cut red hearts from construction paper. You will need from three to five hearts, depending on the size of the flower pot. Paste these to the ends of pipe cleaners.

You will also need a green heart leaf for each flower. These should be heart-shaped but should have a little stem. Paste these to the cleaners about half way down. When these are dry, stick the pipe cleaners into the candy.

Ingenious Women Offer Suggestions

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (INS) — Women can think of the strangest uses for household equipment, reports a vacuum cleaner manufacturer.

The Eureka Williams Corp. got a letter from a lady suggesting that a "bug-sucker" be added to standard vacuum cleaner tools. The lady thought such an attachment could be used for sucking away insects that bang themselves to death on ceiling lights.

After that, the company got a query from another housewife whose husband wanted to use her vacuum to pick up night crawlers off the lawn for fishing bait. This lady was worried about whether it would hurt the vacuum.

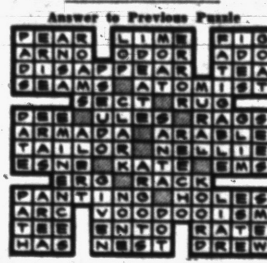

She also asked, "Will it hurt the night crawlers?"

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

A mother complains that many of the teenagers who lounge around her house never get up to offer her a chair when she comes into the living room, and that some of them don't even glance up from a funny book when she speaks to them.

Don't blame the teenagers — blame their parents.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Contented Nature Lover Furnishes Fine Example

More of his patients are sick from boredom than from cancer, heart disease and tuberculosis combined, a general practitioner in a small suburban community told me the other day. "It's the great American disease," the physician declared. "Just about every third adult patient seems to have it. They complain of digestive distress, dizziness, headaches and, of course, vague fears and apprehensions."

"All I can do is give them thorough physical examinations and then lecture them upon the importance of finding something to take up the slack in their lives."

Schopenhauer, the German philosopher who lived a hundred years ago, defined boredom as an awful stagnation of the intellect and noted that "to counteract this miserable feeling men run to trivialities (like gossiping on a doorstep or gazing out of a window)."

The philosopher prescribes as a remedy "the inexhaustible activity of thought" which, according to one of our own philosophers, Ralph Waldo Emerson, is the hardest thing in the world to do, and that, he adds wryly, is why so little of it is done.

I suspect that the first step in overcoming boredom or beginning to think, for that matter, would be to get to a point where you could be happy alone. In this connection comes to mind my friend Edwin Way Teale, naturalist, who leads a wildly exciting life which doesn't need people at all.

Edwin wakes up early on a winter's morning hearing sounds which indicate his house is being peppered by buckshot. He finds that the pods of his wisteria vine are exploding seeds. After an inspection of this interesting natural phenomenon, he spends awhile watching a blue jay carefully weigh six peanuts in a nearby tree.

Then Edwin takes a walk and in the course of it turns over a log and discovers woolly bear caterpillars curled up like curly tiny doughnuts hibernating on beds of moss. A black and white neighborhood cat recognizes his step and runs out to greet him.

He comes upon a gray squirrel

Area Rugs Grow Larger, More Popular for Spring

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

New area rugs for spring will be larger than they started out to be, and a single larger one with smaller ones will be used more often than several small to medium rugs.

More area rugs than ever will be seen in the stores as new spring home furnishings arrive, and new design sparks them to new favor in fashion.

Sketched is an off-white rug that was inspired by the rugs of Morocco, with a diamond design in shades of coral and charcoal or gold and orange.

This is a very new idea in special carpet rayon and cotton rather than the traditional North African wool.

The area rug is a floor decoration, even though it serves practical purposes including its own special job of tying furniture groupings together.

It's usually an island on a broad sweep of floor and should be interesting, but not too much competition for furniture or parquet or tile on the floor.

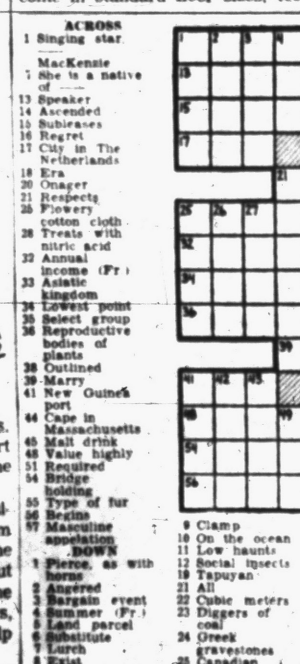

Some of the new area rug designs like this one are also so right for larger rugs that they don't stay in small and medium sizes, but come in standard floor sizes, too.

IF wide hiped—

Avoid the slim, beltless princess. Choose side and back swept skirt fullness, particularly now in the Empire and beltless fashion.

Mrs. W. H.—Moderate skirt fullness beginning below the hips from a waistline seam gives you the fashionable princess look without adding to those wide hips. The wide neckline plus cap sleeves, giving width at the top, also help to minimize hips.

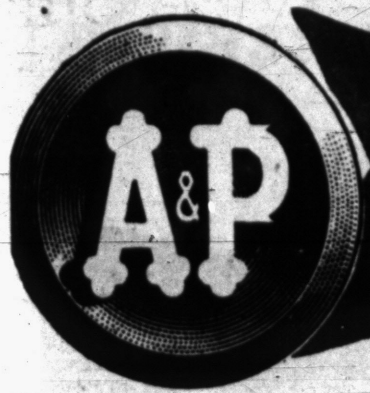

PETUNIA!

Things get so messy When I sew. I hate to start a new project, though

Just wrap cellophane tape around your hand, Petunia, sticky side out, and brush the carpet. Works wonders!

Meet the man who deals in happiness

YOUR HOME BUILDER is a man of many talents — and the end result of the commodity he makes is happiness.

He's a pioneer, in many cases starting with barren land and a fruitful idea. He's a builder of communities, developing whole sub-divisions, complete with shopping centers, schools and playgrounds. He's an economist and financier, with knowledge of price trends in land, materials and labor, constructing homes in salable price ranges. He's an engineer, able to plan homes, streets and communities, capable of selecting materials, devising construction methods, following blue prints. He's an executive, making hundreds of decisions during the planning and construction of a single home, selecting competent subordinates, delegating particular job responsibilities.

He's public relations man, salesman, advertiser, employer, manufacturer, diplomat and good citizen, supporting community improvement projects, assuming civic positions and responsibilities.

The Daily Classified Pages and the Saturday Builders' Section of the Pontiac Press bring you a complete list of homes for sale in Pontiac and Oakland County

But most of all, your home builder is a dealer in happiness — your happiness — because the home he builds brings important comforts of life to you and your family, allows you to raise your children in healthy, happy surroundings, leads to economic security, peace of mind and good citizenship.

Why postpone happiness? Meet your home builder — the man who deals in happiness — through the pages of this newspaper. Check his listings in the real estate and classified sections — and start moving . . . to happiness.

Consider these facts:

- Rents and living costs may rise but mortgage payments on your home do not increase.
- 55 out of every 100 Americans have attained the goal of home-ownership — by looking at the benefits of owning a home, not by postponing a decision because they were unwilling to make relatively minor compromises with an "ideal."
- Buying a home is a sound investment. Your cash equity grows with each mortgage payment. Each improvement you make which contributes to your enjoyment of your home also adds to its value.
- The home owner has a safe harbor against inflationary storms. His money is at work — profitably. During inflationary times cash in the bank loses purchasing power, while real estate rises in worth.
- As a home owner, you will enjoy income tax savings. Your mortgage interest payments and real estate taxes are deductible from Federal — and some state — income tax returns.
- "A home of your own cannot be lost or stolen, nor can it be carried away — it is about the safest investment in the world."

Veteran Counts Playhouse Hits Paddy Chayefsky Has Knack of Intimacy on Living Room Screen NEW YORK—Just as television has created new stars among performers, so it is producing writing stars, and one of the brightest of these is a 30-year-old Purple Heart veteran named Paddy Chayefsky, whose plays have scored one solid hit after another on TV's hour-long dramatic show, Television Playhouse. Recognized by fellow craftsmen as "a real pro," Chayefsky is the author of such memorable Playhouse productions as "Marty," "Holiday Song," "Printer's Measure," "Bachelor Party," "The Big Deal" and "The Sixth Year." Chayefsky has been called one of the few television playwrights who seem to have a firm, clear understanding of the requirements for drama on the living room screen. His plays are not intended to convey a big, broad message. They are fundamentally simple stories, "slices of life," with the emphasis on the realism and characterization. Plot is secondary. That overworked criticism, "lack of intimacy," has never been applied to Chayefsky's work. Chayefsky himself is a short, husky native New Yorker, born and raised in the Bronx. He attended DeWitt Clinton High School, worked in his uncle's print shop after classes, and later enrolled at City College of New York. While in college, he enlisted in the Army and wound up as second gunner in a machine gun squad with the 104th (Timberwolf) Division. A booby trap encountered near Aachen, Germany, gave Chayefsky an earlier writing start than he had anticipated. By way of killing time in an Army hospital in England, he wrote a musical comedy and sent it to a special services officer for consideration. It was presented at the Scala Theater in the West End and was quite a hit. He later worked on "The True Glory," a picture Garson Kanin and Carol Reed did for the Army. After trying his hand at writing television scripts for mystery shows Chayefsky submitted "Holiday Song" to producer Fred Coe and has stuck to writing for "Playhouse" ever since. In his opinion, the Coe organization is "the best production outfit I've ever seen." Chayefsky, who lives and works in a Riverside Drive apartment, sets no tight working schedule for himself. On weekends, he likes to loaf around, take a drive or visit friends. Oddly, he does not spend much time watching television, but admits that of late he has become quite a fan of "Mr. Peepers." As for future projects, the youthful author says he wants to "try everything," including a novel. His goal is to write "something that will stick around awhile." Although he has yet to write a comedy for "Playhouse," Chayefsky insists that to himself everything he writes is, in one way or another, funny. "I'm sitting at the typewriter in the apartment," he says, "and I call my wife in to listen to a line and we both roar. Comes out on television, it's sad." YOUNGEST ILLIAD — Rosewell Burchard Perkins, 27-year-old New York attorney, has been nominated by President Eisenhower to the post of Assistant Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. He is the youngest member of the Eisenhower "team."

Allow Gilliland Time to Appeal

Continuance Is Granted to Give New Attorney Time for Studying Case

LAPEER (AP)—Clayton C. Gilliland received a continuance Monday on his leave to appeal his conviction in the Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens eviction case. Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn granted the continuance on the request of Attorney Leo J. Hoffman. Hoffman asked more time to familiarize himself with the case. A trial transcript is not yet complete.
 Hoffman, son of Congressman Clare Hoffman of Allegan, is now a co-counsel in the defense.
 Gilliland, leader of a group which fought evictions in Lapeer County for failures to pay assessments in an insurance firm's liquidation, is under sentence of 4 1/2 to 5 years in prison.
 He was convicted of conspiracy to obstruct justice in forestalling the attempted eviction of the late Mrs. Stevens from her Clifford farm home June 2, 1952. Later, Mrs. Stevens was evicted bodily.

Announcing a NEW CONTACT LENS RADICALLY DIFFERENT FROM ALL CONTACT LENSES

HORNSTEIN Corneal Contact Lens

We are pleased to announce that at long last, after many years of research, the new HORNSTEIN lens, invented and perfected by Horst Hornstein of Budapest, Hungary, is now being manufactured by us under an exclusive World License, in our own precision laboratories.

A European scientist, who spent years in painstaking research in laboratories in Hungary, England and Germany, has invented (patent pending) an amazing new type of lens, safer and better than glasses. He calls his invention the "Hornstein" lens because it is so constructed that no part of the lens can touch any part of the eye. Millions who could not wear the old type contact lenses because they rested on the central part of the eye, resulting in limited wearing time and annoying discomfort and irritation. They won't even know they are wearing them!

Clinical tests on numerous persons in all walks of life, over long periods of time, give convincing proof that they can wear all day long with complete comfort and that there is no feeling in the eye from them. They are absolutely invisible; dustless; guaranteed unbreakable; and no impressions are required.

FREE DEMONSTRATION! Come in, phone FE 5-9081, or write for FREE BOOKLET. No obligation to purchase. No appointment needed. Colored lenses now available!

Action Expected on Judgeships

House to Get Proposal Creating 30 New Seats in Federal Courts

WASHINGTON (U)—The House is expected to act today or tomorrow on a compromise bill to create 30 new federal judgeships.

Chairman Jonas (R-Ill.) of the House Judiciary Subcommittee that considered the measure told a reporter that, depending upon the legislative business at hand, he may bring up the bill for action late today or tomorrow.

The bill would create three additional circuit court seats—one in the fifth circuit and two in the ninth—and 27 new district court seats. This total of 30 is nine less than would have been provided in a bill passed by the Senate May 5, 1953 and four more than in a bill passed by the House July 30, 1953.

Representatives of the House and Senate agreed on the compromise last week but their agreement must be approved by the House and Senate before it can go to the White House. The House will act first.

In addition to creating the new judgeships, aimed at relieving legal log jams in a number of states, the bill would also make permanent three judgeships that are now temporary—the roving judgeship in Missouri, the judgeship for southern Texas, and the roving judgeship in West Virginia.

The proposed new district seats include one each for eastern Michigan and western Michigan.

Junior Achievement Products Displayed

The eight Junior Achievement firms operated by Pontiac teenagers are displaying their products at an exhibit which opened today at Detroit Historical Museum.

Called "Junior Achievement on Parade," the display highlights observance of Junior Achievement week, Jan. 31 through Feb. 6.

Many local achievers will participate in the program as hosts and hostesses. Three business firms will be shown in operation each day and over 300 products will be displayed.

The "Parade" will be open from 1 to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 1 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

County Deaths

Mrs. Elizabeth Smithingell HOLLY—Service for Mrs. Elizabeth Smithingell, 83, of 100 Cogshell St., will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Bende Funeral Home, with burial in Lakeside Cemetery. She died yesterday.

She is survived by a daughter, Maude, and a son, Clifford, both at home.

Edward Kerton

HOLLY—Funeral arrangements are pending at Dryer Funeral Home for Edward Kerton, 83, of Grange Hall road who died suddenly this morning.

Trailer Camp Appeal Is Ready for Trial

The appeal trial of Clare W. Burke, 50, on charges of operating a trailer camp without a license, was marked ready for trial by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland Monday.

Burke, found guilty of the charge in Pontiac Municipal Court Jan. 7, was sentenced to 90 days in Oakland County Jail and fined $100. He was released on $200 bond after appealing the case to Circuit Court.

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan said Burke paid two $50 fines Dec. 7 when he pleaded guilty to a similar charge and also to a charge of altering plumbing without a permit.

City Sanitarian Charles S. Cohen is the complainant in the latest case.

ING—An all-day workshop dedicated to teacher understanding of reading was held Monday in the Waterford Township High School. All elementary grades, plus the seventh grade, were included. Emphasis was on the importance of teaching reading in all grades because of the different levels of "readiness" among students. Participating in the workshop were, left to right: Mrs. Dorothy Sells, principal of Lambert School, who had charge of working materials and supplies for the program; Mrs. Aliene Scholtz, teacher at Donelson School; Pat Knudsen, Williams Lake school teacher and Dorothy Menghini, new kindergarten teacher at Stringham School.

Westacres Scouts Collect Items for Korean Orphans

WESTACRES — Boy Scouts of Troop 36 are celebrating Boy Scout Week by launching a drive to collect clothing, food and money for more than 200 youngsters living at the Seoul Hospital in Korea.

Pft. Richard Brown, an Eagle Scout and a former member of Troop 36 sparked the drive with his letters relating the plight of the orphans and the attempts he and his buddies have made to care for them.

He told how the men have responded since the bitter winter day when a tiny Korean girl, half-frozen and hungry, cried for food at the rear of the company area. Since then, the soldiers have been gathering up and caring for lost children.

Ranging from 6 to 10 years old. Although the youngsters are housed in the Seoul Hospital, the men of the 328th Communication Reconnaissance Co. have borne the entire cost of food, clothing and housing from their service salaries. They make monthly payday donations, but Brown writes that they now need help.

So Troop 36 has started its drive to collect powdered whole milk, dehydrated foods, clothing, shoes and cash to mail the packages or to buy necessary articles.

The Scouts are asking that donations be brought to the seventh annual dinner to be held at the Westacres Clubhouse Monday when Boy Scout Week will be officially celebrated with a potluck dinner.

J. Marvin Smith Files His Petition

J. Marvin Smith, 35, of 631 E. Tennyson Ave., yesterday filed a nominating petition at city clerk's office naming himself candidate for city commission from District 5.

Ronald C. Hallenbeck is present District 5 commissioner and has not yet filed for re-election. Smith came here in 1936 from Ridgeway, Mo. He worked as claim inspector and head of the claim office of the Grand Trunk Railroad Co. here for nine years before taking a position with Pontiac Motor Division.

Fees on Deeds Total $14,599

Orrin McQuaid Reports County Handled 10,132 Papers in January

Fees for recording 10,132 deeds, mortgages and other papers totaled $14,599 last month, Oakland County Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid said today.

McQuaid said his office income was some $4,000 over the $10,305.40 charged in January, 1953, for recording 10,721 papers. Michigan's Legislature recently raised fees in register of deeds offices across the state.

A few more deeds and mortgages were processed this January than last, McQuaid's report shows.

Deeds filed last month totaled 2,490 for $4,067.25 in fees, as against the 2,456 filed for $2,793.25 in January, 1953. Office workers charged $3,255.75 to process 1,002 mortgages, only a few more than the 986 filed last January for $2,803.

Chattel mortgages were fewer last month, with 4,119 filed for a dollar apiece, compared with last January 4,415 for $2,207.50.

Youth Sunday Is Observed by Milford Church

MILFORD — Thirty-seven members of the Presbyterian Church Junior Choir performed at the Sunday service as Youth Sunday was observed.

Short talks were presented by Milford High School seniors Joyce Morrow, Carol Bradenberry, Jerry Heintzelman and Bettika Van-Sicklestein.

Youth Sunday, observed here each year, gives seniors the opportunity to present their views on religion and what it means to them.

A girls' sextette from the high school also appeared on the program.

Delay Examination in Warner Shooting

The examination of Donald G. Warner, 29, charged with first degree murder in the shooting of his wife, Barbara, 21, Jan. 13, will be held before Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green, Feb. 16.

Originally scheduled for today, the examination was postponed so Warner may sufficiently recover from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head.

Warner said he shot his wife in their Avon Township home at 2645 Emmons, Brooklands Subdivision, and then attempted to commit suicide after being served with divorce papers.

Man Held for Trial in Slaying of Wife

Albert Munson, 28, of 442 Bloomfield Ave., stood mute Monday when arraigned before Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland for the first degree murder of his 33-year-old wife, Gladys, last month.

Judge Holland entered a plea of not guilty for Munson and he was returned to Oakland County Jail to await trial.

Munson is accused of shooting his wife Dec. 29 following a quarrel in their home at 240 Hughes St.

Herman Walton, 38, of 502 Bloomfield Ave., who said he was in the house at the time of the shooting, exchanged shots with Munson as he attempted to flee.

Walton caught Munson after a short chase and Pontiac Police took both men to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment of bullet wounds.

Credit Union Hears McLanahan Speech

WESTACRES — Jack McLanahan of the Michigan Credit Union League was principal speaker at the 19th annual meeting of the Westacres Credit Union Saturday night at the Rotunda Inn.

He was introduced by Albert W. Marble, treasurer of the Westacres group, and an official in Michigan and international credit union organizations.

Marble reported that the local unit has loaned more than $500,000 since its origin and its assets are now nearly $189,000.

The business meeting followed a dinner for 150 members and guests.

No Cause Found for $200,000 Fire

Investigators Suspect Spark From Truck Started Blaze

ROYAL OAK—A search of the remains of the business block which burned at a loss of $200,000 Sunday has failed to disclose the cause of the blaze.

Monday, Det. Glen Tanner and Sgt. Oramel O'Farrell of the State Police arson squad, along with Royal Oak Fire Marshal George Cook, searched through the remains of the blackened buildings on Main street, between Fifth and Sixth.

The investigators established that the fire started in a storage shed containing furniture. But Cook said they were uncertain whether the cause was spontaneous combustion or a spark caused by a truck.

Included in the business places burned were a sports shop, a furniture warehouse, a real estate office and a baby sitting headquarters.

Reuther Pushes Blame on GOP

Claims Party Leaders Cast Brickbats at CIO to Cover Own Failure

DETROIT (AP)—The "real gloom and doom boys," says Walter Reuther, are Republican leaders and the "big boys" behind them, not he and others in the CIO.

Reuther, at a press conference yesterday, hit back at persons he said had been "throwing brickbats at the CIO to cover up for their failure" to remedy the unemployment situation.

"The Republicans," said the CIO president, "are trying to make it look like the CIO and people who insist on action are creating a depression psychologically."

Both Republican national chairman Leonard Hall and speaker of the House Joseph Martin "would have you believe that the people of the CIO are prophets of gloom and doom," Reuther said.

"But the real gloom and doom boys are people like Hall and Martin, and the big boys who financed Martin and his friends into power," Reuther added.

Voicing "unlimited faith in the future of the American economy," Reuther said he had not made a prediction as to how many automobiles would be produced this year.

On the other hand, he said, Chairman Benjamin Fairless of U. S. Steel had forecast a 20 per cent reduction in steel production during the first half of 1954 and General Motors and Ford officials had predicted cuts of 1,500,000 vehicles or so from last year's levels.

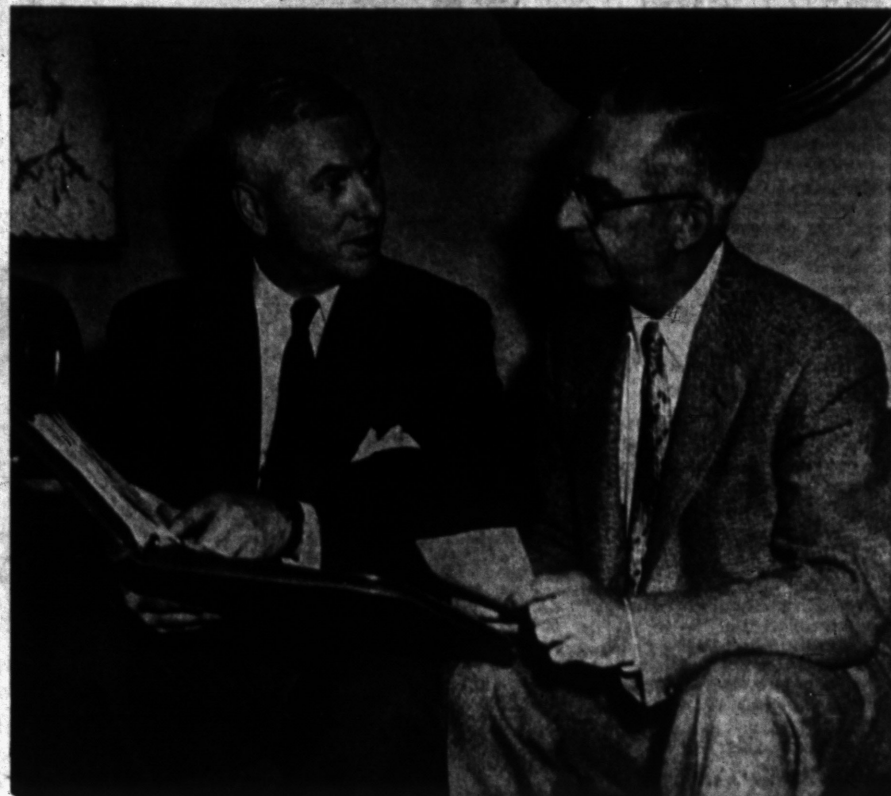

"We must avoid panic on the one hand and a do-nothing policy on the other," Reuther asserted. "It's a matter of dealing honestly with the economic facts."

"It is much easier," he added, "to extinguish the economic fire while it is just a blaze in the basement than to wait until the whole house is on fire."

Reuther repeated his charge that the government's figure of nationwide unemployment—slightly over two million—is inaccurate. The total actually is about three and a half million, he said.

He said he was "happy to see" that General Motors is planning a billion dollar expansion program. But increasing distribution through expanded purchasing power is even more important, he contended.

The auto industry already has the capacity to turn out eight million vehicles a year, he said. So General Motors, instead of adding to the industry's total output, merely will "steal the market from the other companies" through its expansion program, Reuther asserted.

Legislature Gets Proposed Laws

Measures Would Allow Police to Keep Fines, Penalties, Court Costs

Oakland County officials put three hoped-for changes in state laws into the hands of Michigan's Legislature last week.

The three bills, all written by Harry J. Merritt, county corporation counsel, were introduced by local legislators.

If approved, the measures would:

1. Let townships with their own police departments keep money from fines, penalties and court costs;
2. Force Pontiac to call for compulsory vaccination of dogs against rabies to keep its dog licensing privileges;
3. Let Oakland County's circuit courts go on calling one juror for each 400 people even if population tops the 500,000 mark.

The "township fines and fees" bill, an amendment to Act 246 of 1945, was introduced by Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale).

Merritt explained that townships that collect fines and penalties for violations of local ordinances now have to turn them over to the state treasury fund. Court costs go to the county.

Merritt said although Waterford and Royal Oak townships have their own police departments, most still rely on the county sheriff's department for all police work.

The rabies vaccination amendment, is being introduced by Rep. Fred G. Beardsley (R-Orond).

Merritt says a recent decision by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty let Pontiac issue dog licenses to unvaccinated dogs, although the county demanded proof of vaccination.

Michigan's dog law now provides that if a county board of supervisors calls for compulsory vaccination, any city, township or village in that county which licenses its own dogs under the state dog law must follow suit. The amendment would extend this provision to cover cities, villages and townships which have their own dog ordinances, such as Pontiac.

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) introduced the amendment to Michigan's Jurisdiction Act of 1915. The act now lets counties with more than 250,000 people but less than 500,000 call an extra 400 jurors a year, if needed, and one for each 400 people, without a limit. Other counties can call one for each 400 but must not exceed 400 jurors in all. The bill would change the low's 500,000 limit to 750,000, as Oakland County is nearing the 500,000 mark now. The county now has about 1,850 men and women standing by for jury duty each year.

Element No. 99 Added to Roster by Cyclotron

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The roster of the chemical elements was increased by one yesterday with the announcement that element 99, the heaviest ever known, has been produced in the cyclotron.

This is the seventh new element to be added to the top of the list since the beginning of the atomic age. Up to then there had been only 92 known elements.

Element 99, which has no name yet, is not fissionable and so far as is foreseeable now it will have no practical use. Of the seven new elements thus far created, only plutonium now is useful—as the fuel of an atom bomb or an atomic power producer.

No. 99 was made by bombarding Uranium with cores of nitrogen atoms as bullets.

Want to Lose Weight . . . Easy-Like?

Elmer Says Eat Slowly; Wisely Is Important, Too

By ELMER WHEELER Chapter 6

Patting yourself on the back one day suddenly brought forth a formula, which I humbly submit to any human fatty:

Step One: Eat wisely: Before eating anything I must now know how many calories it contains.

My pocket-size Fat Boy's Slide Rule comes in mighty handy here. No guessing. Why guess and gamble?—know!

Step Two: Even though I edit my food, I know, too, that over-eating of even low-calories foods will put on excess weight.

My stomach is shrinking, now that I am eating wisely, and actually I can't eat so much any more.

Step Three: Eat slowly: dogs gulp. They taste with their stomachs, I am told.

Humans taste with their mouths, so the longer the food stays in my mouth the more satisfied I am. It's a swell illusion for fat boys. It also helps prevent the burps.

There is no "magic" to reducing. No spring waters you can bathe in; no elixirs you can drink.

Nothing you eat reduces you. Everything has calories, except three things: coffee, tea and tap water.

It is merely knowing what goes into that helps you to reduce. Just grab a blue pencil and edit out the fattening foods.

Calorie Chart Available at Pontiac Press Lobby

Calorie chart, 3½ by 6 inches, may be obtained free in the lobby of the Pontiac Press, or by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope. Address the Fat Boy's Editor, The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

I used to avoid shrimp, oysters and scallops. Then I suddenly found that each contains only 10 calories. Same as one peanut!

Felons Sent to Bed Sans Peanut Butter

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-two men waiting trial on felony charges at Clark County Jail staged a disturbance at supper-time last night. They wanted peanut butter instead of apple butter with their bread.

Shuman told them, "You'll eat apple butter or nothing."

The prisoners started banging pans, stamping feet and shouting. Shuman called in city police and, an hour from the time the disturbance started, the men were hustled to their cells—without their supper.

Condition of Pope Reported Unchanged

VATICAN CITY (AP)—After a week of treatment for a strengthening stomach condition, Pope Pius XII's condition was reported "unchanged" today.

He passed a quiet and restful night, but the hiccup which has afflicted him since Jan. 26 have not gone completely, according to Vatican sources.

Donald A. Tews Files for City Commission

Donald A. Tews, 32, of 19 Pine Grove Ave., yesterday filed a nominating petition indicating intention to run for city commissioner in District 3.

Present District 3 commissioner is Paul A. Kern, who has not yet announced whether or not he will run for re-election.

An attorney, Tews has been practicing law here since 1950. He received his law degree from the University of Michigan, after serving in the Air Force during World War II.

Six other candidates have filed for city commission posts. Primary election is March 1.

Ground Hog Honors Ground Hogs

Three Inman residents display some of the hogs they've butchered for "Ground-Hog" day.

Specialist Oliver Knackstedt mixes his secret recipe.

For 10 years, members of the Evangelical and Reformed Church at Inman, Kan., and their friends have been celebrating Ground-Hog Day with—of all things—ground hog—or sausage if you will.

Their annual ground hog supper is a proven way to raise money for the year. Men do all the work—chopping, seasoning the sausage, peeling potatoes, making sauerkraut, cooking, dishwashing and waiting on tables.

About 1,500 persons are fed each year and each eats all he wants. Last year 4,300 pounds of sausage were served.

Oliver Knackstedt does all the seasoning and is proud of his secret recipe. One year he hurried all the way from California just to do the job.

People come from all over Western Kansas for the Inman groundhog supper, the same ones attending every year along with many newcomers. Pictures here show typical Inman groundhog supper activities.

Two celebrants grind sausage meat in preparation for the meal.

And a good time was had by all. Some 1,500 persons from all over Kansas annually attend the feast.

City Commission to Debate Filling of City Judgeship

Pontiac City Commission tonight is expected to discuss an appointment to fill the vacant municipal court judgeship until the April 5 election.

The post has been vacant for two months since the death of Charles P. Webster.

Last week local attorney David W. Utley offered to fill the position until the election, although he is not a candidate for the post.

Utley said he was making the move because "appointment of any of the candidates would give that candidate an unfair advantage at the coming election."

Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, who is carrying municipal court duties alone, requested an immediate appointment Dec. 28. He said the court docket was scheduled several months in advance.

Commissioners are also scheduled to hear a report from the city manager and city attorney regarding a recent move by Oakland County Board of Supervisors directing the drain commissioner to stabilize the level of Sylvan Lake.

Last week commissioners expressed fear the project might affect city control of the Clinton River necessary in flood prevention and local sewage disposal. Public hearings are slated on proposed capital improvements including:

Two-inch blacktop paving on Center from Osmun to Cottage.

Curb, gutter, drain and related work on Hwy. from Cottage to Osmun.

Curb, gutter, drainage and miscellaneous work on Strathmore from Baldwin to University.

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on East Rutgers from Baldwin to University.

Sanitary sewer on westerly side of Oakland from Cass to opposite Kinsey.

Trunk storm drain on Bagley from Nevada to California.

Curb, gutter, drain and related work on California from Franklin to Bagley.

A resolution is scheduled authorizing advertising for bids for construction of two-inch blacktop in the 1954 improvement program.

Consideration is expected of recommended changes in constitution and by-laws of the staff of Pontiac General Hospital.

A resolution is slated to waive use of gatekeepers at polling places in the March 1 primary election and April 5 general election.

Commissioners are expected to declare a public necessity for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Bondale from Earlmoor to east line of the subdivision.

Depletion Allowance Opposed by Morse

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oregon's independent Sen. Wayne Morse made it clear last night he stood solidly against the depletion allowance granted oil companies for tax purposes and contended oil companies bribed politicians with large political contributions.

He explained the oil firms are allowed to deduct 27½ per cent from oil properties before figuring the income tax due. Congress has argued many times whether or not the depletion allowance should be continued.

"I know the oil industry has made rather large campaign contributions," Morse said, "but I don't see why the people should have to pay for their bribes."

He spoke at a news conference preceding an address before the Oklahoma City chapter of Americans for Democratic Action.

Course Offered in Real Estate

Sales Technique Topic of Study With U. of M. Extension Service

A course in "Real Estate Sales Techniques" will be offered in Pontiac through the University of Michigan Extension Service in cooperation with Pontiac Real Estate Board.

Classes will begin Feb. 9 at Hotel Waldron. Two sections will be offered, one at 4:30 p. m. and one at 7:30 p. m.

W. Earl Taylor, instructor for the course, said "It is designed to help those taking it, sell more real estate and build up their confidence and power in dealing with people."

"Sales techniques of some of the world's greatest salesmen are studied and applied. Time spent in building sales kits and in drill work on handling customer objections."

"Materials are presented by lectures, discussion, charts, sound slide films and sound motion pictures."

An Ann Arbor real estate man, Taylor is on the staff of the University's business administration school and has had 30 years experience in sales and sales education.

Tuition for the 16-week course is $18. It is one in 13 real estate courses, with completion of eight yielding a certificate in real estate from the extension service.

"If sufficient interest is shown in this course, others in the series probably will be offered here," Taylor said. Interested persons may register by contacting Darwin Catlin at Burton Abstract Co.

Public Hearing Today on Conlin Sales Tax Plan

LANSING (AP)—A public hearing on the "Conlin Plan" to revise the state sales tax diversion amendment was set today in the House for Feb. 18.

The hearing will be held before the Committee on Revision and Amendment of the Constitution. The plan would put the state school aid appropriation on a flat basis by substituting a flat two cents of the sales tax for the school in place of the present one-half-cent and the mandated school aid appropriation.

State Hoping for Big Congressional Vote

By Congressional Quarterly WASHINGTON — While they don't expect to match the record 1952 vote, which was boosted by the added attraction of a Presidential contest, political and civic groups are out to wring every possible ballot from a somewhat reluctant electorate in this year's Congressional races.

All told, 61,551,919 people balloted for one of the White House aspirants in 1952.

Here are the figures on voting, actual and potential, in Michigan for that race and others of 1950 and 1952.

In 1952, those voting for President totaled 2,393,398 in Michigan. Those voting for a Senate nominee numbered 2,821,123, and 2,771,927 cast ballots for nominees for House seats.

These turnouts were higher than in 1950, the last mid-term Congressional election year. Michigan's vote in the 1950 House race was 1,804,678.

The potential vote (those old enough) in Michigan was 4,264,000 in 1952 and 4,107,000 in 1950.

The percentage of the potential vote which actually turned out in the 1952 Presidential election was 65.6. It was 65.0 per cent in the 1952 vote for House seats and 43.9 per cent for House seats in 1950.

In Michigan, 65.3 per cent of the potential voters balloted in the 1952 Senate contest.

For the nation as a whole, 63 per cent of the persons of voting age actually balloted in the 1952 Presidential contest. Nationally, balloting ranged from 58.8 per cent of the potential vote in the 1952 House contests down to 33.8 per cent in the 1950 Senate contests.

Registration figures have not yet been estimated for 1954. In 1952 there were 3,000,000 registered voters in Michigan while the registration total was 3,600,000 in 1950.

The percentage of those registered who actually turned out in the 1952 Presidential election in Michigan was 93.3. It was 92.4 per cent in the 1952 House contests and 50.1 per cent in the 1950 House races.

In Michigan, 94.6 per cent of the registered voters balloted in the 1952 Senate contest.

Nationwide 80.1 per cent of those registered voted in the 1952 Presidential contest. In the Congressional races in 1950 and 1952 the percentage range was from 75.5 per cent in the 1952 House contests to 47.0 per cent in the 1950 Senate contests—low because 15 states had no Senate races.

Levy on TV Boxing Shows Would Help Small Clubs

By JACK HAND
PATERSON, N. J. (AP) — Abe Greene, commissioner of the National Boxing Assn., today proposed a per cent levy on all TV network boxing shows to set up a national fund to help the small clubs.

Greene's idea was an extension of a recent suggestion by Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, or a 2 per cent levy in New York state. Greene would make it a national fund.

New Fives Leap Into Top Ten Cage Rankings

Seattle, Duke, LaSalle Make Appearances in AP Basketball Poll

By BEN OLAN
NEW YORK (AP)—Seattle, Duke and La Salle today swept in among the first 10 teams in the weekly Associated Press basketball poll. Unbeaten Kentucky and Duquesne still ranked one-two.

Kentucky received 27 first-place votes and an aggregate of 798 points as reward for its 13 straight victories from the 97 sports writers and sportscasters who cast their ballots.

Duquesne, which rode to its 18th straight success last night by downing Villanova 70-41, coraled 606 points on the usual 10 for first place, nine for second, etc., basis. The Dukes grabbed 12 votes for first place.

Indiana, 13-1, including last night's 80-71 victory over Louisville remained in third place, with 16 No. 1 ballots.

Western Kentucky, undefeated in 20 starts, broke the fourth-place tie which existed between the Hill-toppers and Oklahoma A&M. Western picked up 603 points (with seven firsts) and the Aggies (17-1) had 547 points—with nine for first place.

But it was the showing of the "newcomers" which turned the rest of the top 10 topsy-turvy — with Oklahoma City, Minnesota and George Washington the victims.

Seattle climbed from 11th to sixth place on the strength of its continued improved play.

Duke (13-4) moved up 12 notches to the No. 8 position.

Up-and-coming La Salle moved from 12th to ninth place, with 165 points and two first-place ballots.

Notre Dame and Holy Cross remained among the first 10, although each lost ground.

The leading teams on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 point basis first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Kentucky (27)	798
2. Duquesne (12)	606
3. Indiana (13)	598
4. Western Kentucky (1)	598
5. Oklahoma A&M (9)	598
6. Seattle (3)	598
7. Notre Dame (10)	598
8. Duke (13)	598
9. La Salle (2)	165
10. Holy Cross (1)	165
11. George Washington (18)	135
12. Minnesota (14)	135
13. Maryland (2)	135
14. Wichita (1)	135
15. Oklahoma City (2)	135

'Home Game' for Pirates

Marquette Fans Hepped Up Over Game Between Red Wings and Prison Inmates

MARQUETTE (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings went to prison today, and hockey fans in this town were all hepped up about it.

A turnout crowd of about 2,000 was expected to jam Marquette prison, to see the Red Wings play the Marquette Prison Pirates.

Parkway Fans Rebel Over Saxton's TKO

NEW YORK (INS) — Third-ranked welterweight Johnny Saxton of New York pounded out a technical knockout victory over France's Mickey Laurent at 1:58 of the 7th round last night, but the referee who stopped the fight needed a police escort to leave the ring.

Referee Ray Miller stopped the bout after the favored Saxton hit the Frenchman with every punch in the book, but the fans on hand at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena disagreed with his action. Police rushed into the ring to escort Miller out of the arena.

Fewer Night Contests Slated in Junior Loop

CHICAGO (UP)—There will be fewer night games in the American League this season.

The 1934 schedule, released today, listed 215 night games, 10 less than were scheduled for 1933. Most of the decrease resulted from the shift of the St. Louis Browns franchise to Baltimore, al-

York state. Greene would make it a national fund.

"The national fund would be managed by the NBA, TV chains, leading promoters and managers," said Greene. "It would be used to pump life and vitality into regularly organized boxing clubs that have fought depressions and tried to keep alive under murderous conditions."

Under Greene's plan, small clubs in all states, not just one, would be helped.

Greene pointed out that TV had made boxing more than ever before, a nationwide business.

"Properly managed, with the help of TV support, the small clubs can revive the sport in many cities and provide the talent that TV will need in the days ahead."

"If they don't come to the rescue, boxing on TV will be discarded by the wealthy sponsors for something else."

A New York committee including representatives of the commission, the International Boxing Club Eastern Parkway and a Syracuse club, already is working on Christenberry's proposal to help the New York clubs.

Race Is Family Affair

MIAMI (UP) — A racing oddity occurred in the 5th race at Hialeah Park Monday when three sons of the stallion, Platter, finished 1-2-3. Harlem Square won the race by three lengths over Platoon, while Boston Platter finished 3rd.

FAMILY MAN—Bobby Thomson, New York Giants' outfielder who was traded to the Milwaukee Braves Monday, and his wife, Elaine, are shown with their 3-month-old daughter, Nancy Beth, at their Staten Island, N. Y., home after the trade was announced. Thomson and another Giant were swapped for four members of the Braves plus cash.

Baseball 'Steams' Richmond

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—Not for some 90 years, we are advised, has the city of Richmond, Va., been as worked up over anything as it is over its forthcoming advent as a member of the triple-A International League.

The bearer of these tidings, a distinguished member of the Richmond literary set named Larry Leonard, says that ticket orders already are flooding the box office from as far as 80 miles out. He is prepared to predict that his city's admittance to the fastest of the minors will prove fully as successful as that of Havana.

"Richmond always has been a good baseball town, even when it was in Class B," said Leonard. "It always made money. Now that our fans are being given an opportunity to see really good ball they are genuinely enthusiastic."

"The man who deserves the most credit for getting us a big-time franchise probably is our mayor,

Brennan, Leahy Confer Today

The Future of Assistant Coaches at Notre Dame Prime Question

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Some insight into the plans of Terry Brennan in his new capacity as Notre Dame football coach may be gained today.

Brennan will appear with retired Frank Leahy at a noon (EST) luncheon and news conference. Prime item up for consideration was the status of the six other Notre Dame assistants.

Feeling was that the choice to stay or not would be left to the assistants themselves.

This was the view of Joe McArdle, who handled the Irish squad when illness forced Leahy's absence for two games last season. McArdle said he "wants to think over" the situation before committing himself. He added:

"We're all happy Terry has the job. I feel deep down in my heart he is going to do a good job. We all have a lot of faith in him."

Howe Retains Hold ON NHL Scoring Lead

MONTREAL (UP)—Detroit right wing Gordie Howe remained the National Hockey League's top scorer today with 54 points, five more than Montreal's Maurice (Rocket) Richard.

Howe boasted 21 goals and 33 assists while Richard had 29 goals and 20 assists in games played through last Sunday. Howe led the league in assists and Richard in goals.

Harty Lamley of Toronto was the best netminder with 80 goals allowed in 47 games for an average of 1.70.

Warm Weather Not Likely to Bother Skiers

Warm weather this week, unless it is prolonged, is unlikely to seriously affect skiing at the Tepee Hill recreation area.

Heavy drifts on the north slopes will stand considerable warmth before thawing. Hills and trails are open to skiers all week.

Tows, however, and the warming shelter are open only on weekends. Five of these mechanical tows operate from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays.

Pontiac Ski Club officials report approximately 700 skiers over last weekend, and a very large group of spectators, particularly Sunday.

Tepee Hill area is located west of Pontiac, 15 miles out M-50 (Highland Road). Ski runs are reached by turning left off M-50 at the park entrance.

Liddle, Antonelli Dealt to Giants, Plus 2 Others

Grimm Wants Bobby to Hit Back of Mathews in Cleanup Spot

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves sliced into the best pitching staff in the National League yesterday to secure the long-distance hitting of the New York Giants' Bobby Thomson in the Braves' second big player trade of the winter.

To get the brilliant, veteran outfielder and second-string catcher Sam Calderone, the Braves had to give up left-handed pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, utility catcher Ebba St. Clair and rookie Billy Klaus, plus an undisclosed amount of cash.

"Bobby Thomson definitely is my left fielder," Braves Manager Charlie Grimm said, adding he plans to have Thomson bat in the cleanup spot.

"I want Bobby to hit behind Eddie Mathews," Grimm explained. "He's got a lot of speed and is a hard man to double. Believe me, that boy won't hit into many double plays. What's more, Thomson hits a long ball and can break up a game at any time with that blow over the fence."

The trade still leaves Grimm with his top pitcher Warren Spahn, and Chet Nichols, Bobby Buhl, Lew Burdette, Joey Jay and Gene Conley. Veterans like Vern Bickford, Jim Wilson and Ernie Johnson are on hand, in addition to rookies Phil Faine and Roy Crone.

Giants Manager Leo Durocher said, "We certainly hated to part with Bobby Thomson." He added that his club made the trade because the Giants needed pitchers.

"We are pretty high on both Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle," he added. "We'll know more about how we stand when spring practice begins."

The 30-year-old Thomson reportedly was sought by the Braves since last September, mainly to give the team a sound No. 4 hitter. He has been a Giant for eight years and his batting average has fluctuated considerably from the high of .315 for a few games in 1946 to a low of .248 in '48. But in the last three years he has been most consistent in the slugging department. In 1951 he had 32 homers, 101 RBIs and a .293 average; in 1952, 24 homers, 108 RBIs and .270; last year, 26 homers, 106 RBIs and .288.

For sustained excitement, few basketball programs could match the Waterford Township Recreation League's card Monday night.

Three games were decided by a total of five points and the 4th was only a 6-point decision. Clarkston Merchants got a scare before marking up their 7th straight victory.

Drayton Drug held an 11-4 1st quarter lead, but the Merchants regained control to lead, 41-39, with one minute left. A quick pair of Drug baskets forced Clarkston to stall for the last half-minute.

Drug's Bob Pickett and Merchants' Percy Moore each had 13 points. Two other games were decided in the final minute. Jerry McKay's basket gave Beattie Motors a 50-48 verdict over Davis Machinery, and a long shot by Jack Hackett gave the Waterford High Faculty a 43-41 edge over Briggs Sports.

McKay had 20 points in the Beattie victory, while Chris Babler had 14 for Davis. Seth Cummings had 11 for WHS, but Bob Walter of Briggs was high with 19.

In the 4th contest, Manny's Ringside overcame a halftime deficit, to down Poole Lumber, 55-49. Dick DeWitt had 19 points for Manny's, Chuck Gillis, 18 for Poole's.

Casey Optimistic Trade for Byrd, Robby Has Strengthened Yanks

By CASEY STENGEL
GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) New York Yankees had a good baseball club last year winning their 5th straight world championship but after the World Series the pitching staff was weakened by the retirement of Johnny Sain and the bench was weakened by the retirement of Johnny Mize.

Yankees, a club that never stands pat, immediately went to work to plug those gaps. A trade with the Athletics brought us pitcher Harry Byrd and 1st baseman Eddie Robinson. Byrd should make up for the loss of Sain. Robinson will give us a good lefthand pinch hitter who can hit the long ball, especially at the Yankee stadium. He also will be available to fill in at 1st base if needed.

Now if Mickey Mantle has fully recovered from his knee operation, Gerry Coleman returns to his great form before he re-joined the Marines and pitcher Tom Morgan, another returning serviceman, picks up where he left off. Yankees should be as strong as last season.

I think we're knee deep in every position. Our 2nd infield of Robinson, Coleman, Miranda and Carey would be regulars on any other team.

I'm not trying to guess in February what will happen in October. But I know this. If nature takes its normal course, and things work out as they should, the Yankees should even be better than they were last year or the year before.

Most improved team in the league, I think, will be the Boston Red Sox. One guy is the reason. He is Ted Williams. Philadelphia is another improved club.

Dean's Baskets Insure Victory for Wayne Five

But Charles Primas Is Pacesetter in Tartars' Win Over Washington

DETROIT (AP) — A guard, recovered from a broken back, dropped in two late field goals to insure a 64-55 basketball win for Wayne University over Washington U. of St. Louis last night.

Wayne's Paul Dean, playing his 1st game of the season since his injury, scored three times in all, but the two baskets bolstered a weakening lead for the Tartars.

Wayne has won 11 of its 14 starts this season, due mostly to the accuracy of forward Charles Primas who led scoring last night with 23 points.

Washington's top scorer was center Bob Krieger with 15. It was Washington's 9th loss in 15 starts.

Wayne's Paul Dean, playing his 1st game of the season since his injury, scored three times in all, but the two baskets bolstered a weakening lead for the Tartars.

Loyola Quint Edges Titans

CHICAGO (AP) — The last seconds of play told the story in Loyola of Chicago's basketball victory over the University of Detroit 67-66 last night.

With three seconds to play, Ralph Goldstein of Detroit sank one of two free throws to tie the score. With one second to go Art Schalk made good on one of two free throws to return Loyola to the lead.

Guy Sparrow, Detroit's 6-foot 5-inch forward, was high man of the night with 20 points.

City Archers Hold Golf Shoot Sunday

Fifty members of the Pontiac Archers braved Sunday's frigid weather to participate in the organization's monthly golf shoot at the Municipal Course.

Top honors in the shoot went to Hannah Hodges (women), Sid Stark (men), Edith Grove (junior girls) and Bill Young (junior boys).

Club's regular monthly meeting will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the CAI building in Waterford.

Six Games Are Played in Boys' Club Circuit

Six games were played over the weekend in Boys' Club basketball leagues. Dave Runyon contributed 26 points to a losing cause as his Bums team lost to St. Mary, 31-36, in Intermediate action.

Another Intermediate game saw the Missifs edge Short Shots, 29-26. Warriors won 33-30 over Jets and Doodmats edged Trojans, 38-27, in overtime in Junior play, while Vikings beat Hot Shots, 19-12, and Hot Rods dumped Chiefs, 26-20, in the Pee Wee division.

Just When Amateur Ranks Find Great Champion, Young Gene Littler Casts Lot With Professionals

By GRANTLAND RICE

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — A few days ago it looked as if a new addition to the Bobby Jones, Jerry Travers, Chick Evans, Francis Ouimet crack amateur contingent had arrived in the person of Gene Littler.

Gene Littler was in the Navy and the best amateur to show up in many years. But Gene, the national amateur champion and a recent sensation in pro competition, has turned professional and is emerging from a Navy uniform.

So the amateurs sink back into their doldrums while the gap between the amateurs and the pros grows still wider. The amateurs are lost again so far as any competition with the pros is concerned.

Littler is a real star. Last summer he won the California Open and the California Amateur title. Only recently he finished one stroke behind Dutch Harrison in the Bing Crosby Tournament with 211, and a few days later he led the pros in the big San Diego Open with a spectacular 274 with 14 under par. He probably would have finished 16 or 18 under par if a deluge hadn't struck the course.

That's moving toward the peak in a hurry and Littler is only 23 years old. He hopes to play in several tournaments, including the Masters and the $35,000 Las Vegas Open later on.

Alex Morrison, a good judge of golf, says Littler was one of the soundest amateurs he has seen in a long time. He has the Hogan temperament, although not as firmly set. He isn't the talkative type.

For a kid of 23 his game is amazing. Nothing seems to bother him. He makes few mistakes, being a fine swinger. Best part of his game is his all-around strength. He is a fine wooden club player and a fine iron expert. He is a high-class putter. This is just about enough to make a first-class golfer.

Many good swingers come along. But few know how to concentrate all the way through. Littler does. Nothing disturbs him when he goes for his pars and birdies. He played the first 36 holes at San Diego without playing a hole over par. All pars and birdies.

It's Time Out!

"Okay, so I committed a foul. You don't need to keep demonstrating how I held my opponent!"

Hoosiers Return to Cage Action, Beat Louisville

Schlundt Collects 29 Points to Spark 80-71 Victory

CHICAGO (U)—Indiana's Hoosiers returned to action last night after a 2-week basketball absence and proved they hadn't lost their eye with a thorough, but rough, victory over Louisville.

Hoosiers took Louisville, beaten only four times in 19 previous games, by an 80-71 score with Don Schlundt popping in 29 points.

Dick White of Indiana and Jim Morgan of Louisville tangled briefly once during the game and two men fouled out. Hoosiers gained the edge by sinking 23 free throws to Louisville's 17.

The game, although a nonconference contest, took the play away from the night's one Big 10 game, in which Michigan State outlasted Northwestern 65-62. Julius McCoy scored 19 points for MSC and Al Ferrari 18. Frank Ehmann topped Northwestern with 23.

Victory enabled the Spartans to hop into 6th place in standings with a record of three wins and four losses.

Indiana, which plays its next conference game Saturday against the Spartans, continues to lead the Big 10 with a 6-0 mark. Hoosiers were idle for two weeks because of semester examinations.

In other Midwest games last night, Loyola of Chicago edged Detroit 67-66 and Arizona whipped Bradley 87-74.

Cleveland Kegler Paces Pin Classic

CHICAGO (U)—An eight-game total of 1,610 gave Bela Balogh of Cleveland the lead after the 1st weekend of play in the $150,000 Petersen Bowling Classic.

Balogh shot games of 213, 216, 230, 193, 186, 176, 192 and 175.

Exactly 160 bowlers from throughout the county took aim Saturday and Sunday at the winner's purse of $10,000, captured last year by Rudy Pugel of Milwaukee with a 1,649 score trailing Balogh was Don Pace, Binghamton, N. Y., 1,522.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY
CASE—Lift Is Deceptive.
Looks Like Wrist Turn—Unless you know the difference between finger-lift for hook spin, and wrist turn, you could be easily deceived

By watching the experts, such as Bud Bomar, Ned Day and Steve Nagy. They look as if they apply turn with a tremendous twist of the wrist, yet it's actually arm lift action they use. You will notice two important things they and all experts do: (1) The arm finishes straight out, in a line between the right shoulder and the right eye, and (2) it comes up freely with swinging motion. As the sketch of Cleveland's former American Bowling Congress doubles king shows, the elbow breaks upward only after the ball has been released. For beginners it's a good idea to forget the arm lift entirely and concentrate on a reaching swing-through for control. The lift will then work into the swing naturally, smoothly, effectively.

ROYALTY

Races, Coronation to Mark Huron Valley Sports Event

With some preliminaries already out of the way, Huron Valley Sports Association is now looking forward to the big windup of the winter, Feb. 12 at Rolladium rink.

On Jan. 23 a party from the association, including this winter's little queen, Merry Lee Mussen, attended the Sheridan Valley Show carnival at Lewiston. The queen's court and Fay Titus, with Huron Valley school principal Wayne H. Francisco comprised the representation at Lewiston.

Highlight of the Feb. 12 affair will be coronation of Queen Merry, 6th grade pupil at Hill Road School. It takes place at 9:45 p.m. at Rolladium where races and figure skating contests will be held earlier in the day. The queen will make a number of achievements awards for association members at this time.

Officials at the coronation are expected to include Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay and Red Kelly, Red Wing hockey stars.

An exhibition of roller skating will also be given by Laurene Anselmy, national senior ladies champion.

Norton Seeking Return to Old 4 Personal Rule

NEW YORK (UP)—Coach Ken Norton of Manhattan College, a member of the National Basketball Rules Committee, will recommend to the group that the game return to four personal fouls as the number for banishment of a player instead of the present five.

Norton said he will make this suggestion, along with several others bearing on the question of fouls, at the committee's annual meeting in Kansas City in March.

Spartans' Five Beats Wildcats

Late Northwestern Rally Repelled as MSC Wins Lone Big 10 Test

EAST LANSING (U)—Michigan State's Spartans fought off a last-quarter rally by Northwestern last night to win the only Big Ten basketball game of the night 65-62.

Northwestern outscored State in every quarter but the 1st. Wildcats handed the Spartans a 11-point lead, then started a drive to catch up.

But State still had a 7-point lead going into the last quarter and Northwestern's whittling tactics only brought it within three when the game ended.

It was the 3rd win for Michigan State in seven conference starts. Wildcats have lost six and won only one.

Wildcat Frank Ehmann took scoring honors with 23 points. Michigan State's forwards Julius McCoy and Al Ferrari got 19 and 18 respectively. State connected with 22 of 64 tries for a .344 average. Northwestern hit with 21 of 59 shots.

Forwards of both squads made the bulk of the scoring. State's forwards tallied 38 points, Northwestern's 37.

No Remuneration

In order to clear up what has been an apparent misunderstanding of the principles of formation of the "new" Forest Lake Country Club, Blaine E. Eynon, one of the movers in the plan has announced: "No person... connected with the development of Forest Lake Country Club as a private club will receive any money or other consideration as a result of his work, or interest in the plan. All members, including originators, Blaine Eynon, Fred Hendren and Howard Neilson, shall pay exactly the same amount for memberships. ... all present officers and directors hold office on a... temporary basis."

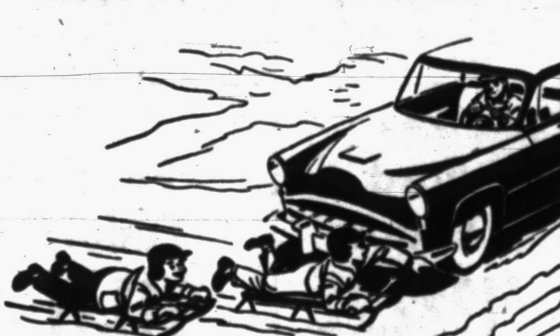

Hilltoppers Are First to Join Field for NIT

NEW YORK (INS)—Powerful Western Kentucky, owner of the nation's longest college basketball victory streak with 20 straight, became the first team today to accept a bid to play in the National Invitation tournament in Madison Square Garden March 6-13.

Rated as the 6th best college team in the nation in the weekly International News Service cage survey, Hilltoppers have played in the NIT seven times but never have won it.

Asa S. Bushnell, NIT spokesman, indicated that he expected Duquesne 2nd ranked team in the nation, to forward its acceptance within 10 days.

Wolverine Thinclads Grab Easy Win in 3-Way Meet

ANN ARBOR (U)—Michigan's Wolverines stacked up 87-13-15 points last night to win their 1st track meet of the year, a triangular meeting with Michigan normal, and Western Michigan.

Normal, closest competitor, got 23 11-15 and Western had 18 2-5.

Michigan runners and field men set five new meet records in winning 10 of the 12 events.

Grant Scruggs, Michigan junior, set a new meet record in the quarter mile, by running the third fastest ever at Yost Field House in 8.3 seconds.

A tie in the pole vault between Michigan's Roger Maugh and Jack Hilberry and Normal's Marland Blum at a meet record of 13-feet, and a 6.3 second 60-yard dash by Western's John Hudson marked the only events the Wolverines didn't win outright.

Wolverine Fritz Nilsson put the shot 52-feet 10 1/4 inches, breaking a meet record he set last year.

Ron Wallingford of Michigan ran a 9:39.7 two-mile for another meet record, and a 22-foot 6-inch broad jump by Michigan's Tom Henricks was still another.

Rochester Seeks 10th Victory This Afternoon

Maples at Walled Lake; Unbeaten Ferndale Club at Royal Oak

With the accent on non-league games tonight, Oakland County's leading prep basketball teams will be out to improve their records.

Best mark is owned by Ferndale, the only unbeaten team in the country. Dales put their 7-0 record on the line at Royal Oak.

Rochester, with a 9-1 slate, are at Cranbrook this afternoon. Cranes are making their 1st start since Jan. 19, when they won their 1st game of the season after six losses.

John Petrakis' Birmingham quintet, with a 7-2 record, travels to Walled Lake for a return engagement. Niles Freeland's crew (4-6), is trying to check a 5-game losing streak.

This contest matches two of Oakland County's foremost point-guards, Maple captain, Don Dorough, is hitting 18.1 points per game for 9 starts, while Don Williams, the Viking ace, is averaging 15.8 for 10 games.

Dorough hit his peak Friday, bagging 34 markers against East Detroit. Williams high-water mark was a 31-point spurge against Waterford earlier in the year.

Around the area, Northville (7-2) entertains South Lyon and Roseville (7-3) faces Mt. Clemens St. Mary. Mountaineers are the only team to conquer Rochester, turning the trick in overtime, 57-54.

In league play, OL St. Mary (8-1) hosts RO St. Mary and War-

6-Woman Jury Hears Cage Stabbing Case

DETROIT (U)—A six-woman jury was expected to get the case against prep cager, Ross DeBoskey's alleged assailants today.

DeBoskey, 17, was beaten and stabbed with an icepick on the street after a high school basketball game the night of Jan. 15.

Accused of assault and battery are Rex Durham and Leslie Wakefield, both 17, and Alonzo Edwards, 18.

On motion of the prosecution, charges against a 4th youth, Donald Coleman, 18, were dismissed yesterday. Testimony failed to link Coleman with the actual beating.

A 16-year-old boy has admitted stabbing DeBoskey. He remains in charge of juvenile authorities.

Ex-Sooner Great Is Miss. State's Coach

STARKVILLE, Miss. (UP)—Darrell Royal, head coach last season at Edmonton in the Canadian Professional Football League will take over the head football job at Mississippi State College here later this month, in time for spring training.

Royal, former All-America on the 1949 championship University of Oklahoma football team, was named head coach of State Monday to succeed Murray Warmath, who last week was named head coach at the University of Minnesota after two seasons here.

Brennan Surprise Choice to Replace Frank Leahy

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame sprang another surprise yesterday with the naming of a 25-year-old assistant football coach, Terry Brennan, to succeed Frank Leahy as head coach.

It had been felt by many that Brennan's age would prevent serious consideration for what is probably the most pressure-packed college coaching job in the country.

Leahy's high opinion of his young assistant was a big factor in the choice.

"Terry is a very talented young man who borders almost on the genius as a coach," Leahy said. "His age is no barrier. Coaching is a young man's game. Terry will make good."

The Brennan appointment was announced only 19 hours after

Leahy, 45, had called it quits, declaring that his health would not allow him to continue.

Prior to the announcement, Leahy had said only that any one of his seven assistants was capable of taking over. These included, in addition to Brennan, the freshman coach; Johnny Lujack, Joe McArdle, Johnny Druze, Walt Ziemba, Bill Earley and Bob McBride.

The university gave Brennan a three-year contract believed to call for $12,000 a year. However, money derived from fringe activities such as radio and television, writing, speaking, endorsements, and other business connections upped Leahy's annual income to over $50,000—some say as high as $70,000.

Despite his youth, Brennan is considered a good bet to fulfill the confidence of Notre Dame authorities in him.

As a 165-pound halfback for

Notre Dame from 1945-1948, he started 30 of 38 games and Leahy considered him his clutch runner—the boy good for three or four yards in tight situations.

He turned down the professional game to coach Mt. Carmel High School in Chicago and it was his record there that prompted Leahy to summon him to South Bend for an assistant's post. At Mt. Carmel, he turned out three consecutive undefeated city champions, an unprecedented accomplishment.

Brennan, sandy-haired and freckle-faced, looks no more than his age. He is quiet and calm and impresses those who know him with his poise.

He is married to his hometown sweetheart from Milwaukee, the former Mary Louise Kelley, and has two children.

He was "thrilled and humbled" at being chosen to succeed Leahy but his new responsibility "does not alarm" him.

ORDERED TO WORK—Edward (Moose) Krause (right), Notre Dame athletic director, gives Terry Brennan (left) his cap, sweatshirt, whistle and ball with orders to turn in a season of wins in the true Notre Dame tradition. Brennan replaced Frank Leahy as head football coach Monday.

Brennan Promises All-Out Effort to Keep Irish 'Up'

SOUTH BEND (INS)—Terry Brennan, newly appointed Notre Dame head football coach, promised supporters of the Fighting Irish today that he would do his utmost to keep Notre Dame football on the high plane it enjoyed under his predecessor, Frank Leahy.

Leahy resigned Sunday because of ill health and Brennan's appointment was announced yesterday by Notre Dame officials.

Brennan said:

"It's going to be tough to follow Coach Leahy. He has been great as a coach and as a leader of men. He has assured me of the utmost cooperation."

"I'm not going to fret about trying to catch up with anybody—just do my best in the job that has been given me."

The 25-year-old Brennan's best has been phenomenally good—both as an All-American player at Notre Dame and as a high school football coach.

The handsome Milwaukee native won a starting post on Leahy's 1945 team as a 17-year-old freshman and there was talk then that when former Irish regulars returned from war service that he might be displaced by the tough competition.

But the fiery Brennan hung onto his left halfback job in stellar fashion.

Terry's biggest thrill occurred against Army in 1947 when he ran back the opening kickoff 97 yards for a Notre Dame touchdown. Notre Dame won the game, 27-7. Brennan scored 21 touchdowns in his four-year collegiate career.

Dodge Is Pace Car for 500-Mile Race

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP)—A 1954 Dodge convertible will be the pace car for the 38th annual running of the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Wilbur Shaw, speedway president, announced the selection of Dodge to pace this year's race at the annual pace car dinner Monday night. Dodge president William C. Newberg will drive the car with Shaw in his usual role of passenger.

Furman's Frank Selvy Shatters Scoring Record

Western Kentucky and Dukes Stay Unbeaten in Monday Action

By BEN PHILGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Furman's Frank Selvy, a 6-foot-3 midget among the basketball giants, today seemed a cinch to lift the major college scoring record so high that even the big boys won't be able to touch it for many seasons to come.

The jump-shot artist from Corbin, Ky., got his hands on the record last night by scoring 25 points in a 70-55 victory over Clemson. This gave him 1,904 for 2½ seasons of play with a dozen games left. The old three-year mark of 1,888 was set by Clyde Lovellette of Kansas in 1952.

Selvy's performance was the highlight of a big night in college basketball as the teams started hitting the boards in earnest after midyear exams.

Western Kentucky and Duquesne both triumphed, bringing them a game closer to the elusive perfect season that no major school has attained since Army did it in 1943-44.

Western beat Bowling Green 94-82 for its 20th straight. Duquesne notched No. 18 at the expense of Villanova 70-41. Indiana's defending NCAA champions won their 13th against a single loss, defeating Louisville 80-71.

Duquesne, ranked second to Kentucky in this week's Associated Press poll, overpowered Villanova with an all-around team effort.

Clutch shooting by Forest Able kept Western Kentucky's streak intact. Bowling Green crept within three points in the third quarter only to have Able hit for six straight points. He got a total of 25 points to 31 for Tom Marshall.

Indiana's battle with Louisville was a rough-and-tumble affair in which Louisville stars John Purdue and Chuck Noble fouled out. Don Schlund hit 13 of 16 free throws and added eight baskets for scoring honors with 29 points.

Bob Pettit of Louisiana State, runner-up to Selvy in the season's scoring race, was held to 15 points as LSU squeezed past Mississippi 53-32 in its sixth straight Southeastern Conference victory.

Parallel Drawn Between Terry and Boudreau

Lou Was Given Tribe Managerial Post at 24, Brennan Is 25

By JOHN BARRINGTON

NEW YORK (INS)—Except for baseball's Lou Boudreau, recent memory recalls no case in sports where one of such tender years as Terry Brennan was measured for such heavy responsibility as confronting the new Notre Dame football coach.

Boudreau, now 36 years of age, is a veteran of 13 seasons as a manager. He became chieftain of the Cleveland Indians at 24, and his name is interjected here for whatever obscure parallel his situation may have to the 25-year-old Brennan's.

Like Terry, the Boudreau appointment drew objections. "Too young," critics said, and there were many times when it seemed they were right. Boudreau's age may have been an asset upon occasion, but by and large it was a handicap.

He won only one pennant, in 1948. And now, a dozen years from where he started, Boudreau is winning recognition for the 1st time as a solidly capable manager rather than a "child prodigy" who did his best thinking with his own bat and glove.

With Brennan, of course, it is different. For one thing, Lou was dealing with players older than himself.

That is something Brennan won't have to worry about. Moreover, there has been a discernible tendency in recent years for college coaches to become younger and younger.

Quick Divorce
Given Ex-QueenNarriman Renounces Little Son, Drops Cash
Demand From Farouk

CAIRO, Egypt, (U) — Beautiful, 20-year-old former Queen Narriman was a quick divorce in a Moslem religious court here today from tubby ex-King Farouk after a month of behind-the-scenes negotiations.

The girl Farouk first saw in 1949 as she shopped for her engagement ring with another man renounced custody of her 2-year-old son, Ahmed Fuad, and also dropped her demand that the ex-King personally pay her monthly alimony of 5,000 Egyptian pounds ($14,400) and a dowry allowance of 10,000 pounds ($28,800).

Instead, her lawyer said, she will ask President Mohamed Naguib's revolutionary government to pay her those moneys out of Farouk's properties in Egypt, which the new regime confiscated when it de-throned and exiled him in July 1952.

Her chances of getting the money appear problematical. Narriman in her divorce suit had charged her husband with adultery, maltreatment, mental cruelty and estrangement. The settlement prevented the airing of any details that may have escaped newspaper reporters who have avidly followed the ex-King's cavortings about Europe with a succession of young women.

Neither the ex-King, whose home in exile is in Italy, nor Narriman, who lives with her family in suburban Heliopolis, was in the packed courtroom today.

After their lawyers presented the agreement renouncing alimony and the child's custody, the judge pronounced the divorce. It was the second such marital severance for Farouk, who will be 34 next month. In 1953 he married the teen-age daughter of an Egyptian diplomat and she became Queen Farida. He divorced her in 1948.

On declaring "psychological war" on motorists who don't act their age when driving, "Look Who's Driving" offers a new insight into the underlying cause of automobile accidents.

In the eight-minute film, bad driving practices—the cause of nine out of 10 highway accidents—are portrayed as the result of the improper attitudes of drivers whose overconfidence lets them drive at dangerous speeds or whose stubbornness leads them to fight for the right of way.

Produced with cartoon animation technique the new motion picture was made for an insurance company. They will make the film available for individual showings on a free loan basis as a part of their public service safety program.

18 Arrested in Iran
Protesting Zahedi

TEHRAN, Iran (U) — Eighteen persons are under arrest for shouting antigovernment slogans at the outset of an election to restore Iran's Senate.

Six other persons were injured in street clashes, largely between zealous followers of ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadeq and Premier Gen. Fazollah Zahedi, when Iranians began the balloting yesterday. The police said they were not involved in the fighting.

Mossadeq dissolved the old Senate 15 months ago in his bid for dictatorial power. Electors are to choose 30 of the new Senate's 60 members. Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi will appoint the other half of the upper house.

George Washington never read his Farewell Address in public. Full of political wisdom and valuable advice, the document was dated Sept. 17, 1796, and first was printed in a Philadelphia newspaper.

Childish Motorists
Hit by New Movie

The nation's motorists are told in a newly-released color movie that drivers who act like children are the major cause of accidents on our highways.

Entitled "Look Who's Driving," the film was given its premier showing recently in New York City.

In declaring "psychological war" on motorists who don't act their age when driving, "Look Who's Driving" offers a new insight into the underlying cause of automobile accidents.

In the eight-minute film, bad driving practices—the cause of nine out of 10 highway accidents—are portrayed as the result of the improper attitudes of drivers whose overconfidence lets them drive at dangerous speeds or whose stubbornness leads them to fight for the right of way.

Produced with cartoon animation technique the new motion picture was made for an insurance company. They will make the film available for individual showings on a free loan basis as a part of their public service safety program.

And so Jo just bided her time while her competitors warbled on all channels. She didn't exactly need the money. She had a regular radio show, and her records continued to sell not only like hotcakes, but like records as well. She had four big hits in 1953, and her current "Make Love to Me" is jiving the juke boxes.

"Besides, I'm lazy," she admitted. She'd just as soon stay home and take care of her year-old Timmy.

But one day her agent came to her with the CBS deal. It was a straight three-year contract with options thereafter. It was too good to pass up.

The present plan calls for a 15-minute show "along the Perry Como-Dinah Shore lines" every Tuesday. It may be expanded to twice weekly since Jo feels her voice wears better with folks if they're exposed to it more often.

Her husband, Paul Weston, who is also a Columbia Records executive, will be in charge of the music, and she's happy to have it in such good hands.

"One of the things I want to concentrate on with our show is the audio," she remarked. "There is not enough good music in TV. The thinking goes back to the early days when the public would look at anything, even a test pattern. The sound part of the show was important, and the music was sluffed off."

"They're still doing it in TV, and I think the public resents it. They want and expect good music with a show. Or else why would they buy so many records?"

Jo Stafford's
Debut on TV
Comes Tonight

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U) — Jo Stafford, the easy-going songbird from Coal-inga, Calif., finally makes her television debut with a new series to-night and she isn't sorry she waited.

Virtually all of the other recording stars rushed into the new medium either on a regular or guest basis. Not red-haired Jo.

"Sure, I had a lot of offers to do guest spots," she admitted between rehearsals for the CBS show, which premieres tonight. "I passed up a lot of money because I didn't think that kind of TV would be good for me."

"I have a different kind of voice from most singers. I can't go out and knock them dead with one number or two. You have to get used to my style."

"TV is something of a monster. You are being seen by a fantastic number of people. If you don't click just right, you can ruin yourself. In two weeks, you can wipe out what you have been building up for 15 years."

Senators to Quiz
Beeson on PlansWant to Clarify Any Possible Industry Job
Tieup Later On

WASHINGTON (U) — Albert C. Beeson, whose nomination to the National Labor Relations Board has stirred Senate controversy, was called today for questioning about any ties he may retain with industry.

Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said in advance of the public hearing by the Senate Labor Committee he "certainly" thinks Beeson, a 47-year-old businessman, will emerge with the full support of all seven committee Republicans. Smith has said the session was arranged so that Beeson might "clarify" his previous testimony.

The committee, on a straight 7-6 party line vote, last week recommended to the Senate that Beeson be confirmed.

Since that vote, Democrats produced information they say contradicts Beeson's testimony that he has no agreement, "oral or written, requiring my return" to the Food Machinery and Chemical Corp. of San Jose, Calif., after a year's service on the NLRB.

Sen. Murray of Montana, senior committee Democrat, has said a press release put out by the company last month speaks of Beeson's "leave of absence" for one year to take the NLRB job.

Ford Production Jumps
Over Last Year's Mark

DETROIT (UP)—Ford Motor Co. was the only member of the auto industry's "big three" to produce more cars and trucks last month than during January of 1953, it was reported today.

Ford said it turned out 185,353 vehicles last month compared with 122,230 during the like period of 1953. Production of Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars and Ford trucks all showed an increase.

General Motors production was down from 273,719 units to 269,657 and Chrysler from 118,568 to 73,565. GM turned out more cars last month than during January of 1953 but truck production was down from 54,476 to 43,350.

Molotov Smooth, Amiable; Acts Ready to Gulp Canary

By PHIL NEWSON
United Press Foreign News Editor

Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov has had the look of a man enjoying himself at the Berlin conference.

It could be the smile of the cat who believes he is about to swallow the canary.

Or it could simply be that the four-power foreign ministers—the United States, Britain, France and Russia—have not yet really gotten down to cases, that the first week was taken up with a jockeying for position which involved neither agreements nor commitments.

Even in the sharp exchanges which developed over his demand for a five-power conference with Red China, he remained surprisingly temperate and impersonal.

He agreed to put off discussion on his proposal for a world disarmament conference.

And he dropped his demand that East and West Germany have representatives at sessions dealing with a peace treaty for Germany.

The formal dinners at which Molotov has entertained and exchanged toasts with the other foreign ministers have suggested a new approach to the West.

And this new approach even has extended to the Western-style press conferences the Russians have been holding. At one of them, Soviet Press Chief F. L. Il'ichev affably told Western correspondents:

"I shall be here to answer questions and we shall see plenty of one another."

But, even so, nothing has occurred yet to make the chances for success of the Berlin foreign ministers' conference greater than before, and, in fact, some of the preliminary discussions have underlined even more sharply some of the basic differences between them.

The West is unalterably committed to free elections which in turn would lead to an all-German government able to negotiate a peace treaty for a unified Germany.

This free Germany would be able to enter any defensive alliance she chose, including membership in the European Defense Community and participation in the European army.

To the latter development especially, Russia is unalterably opposed. In fact, she has made abolition of the EDC one of the prices for a unified Germany.

More than this, however, the first week of the Berlin conference brought into sharp focus two fundamental differences in Eastern and Western thinking.

Russia today still thinks in terms of a helpless, isolated Germany and wants to settle for nothing less.

The Western allies believe any such move simply would be to repeat the errors of Versailles after World War I which paved the way for Hitler and World War II.

The other sharp difference is a global one and came out in Molotov's demand for a five-power conference, including Red China. It was a frank move to bypass and wreck the United Nations, and to place the whole world under the dictates of the five powers.

Scientists believe that insects have existed for about 250 million years.

Money, Checks Taken at Oxbow Lake Pavilion

Thieves took $415.85 in cash and checks Saturday from the Oxbow Lake Dance Pavilion at 9451 Elizabeth Lake Rd., White Lake Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The owner, Jack Silcox, told Detectives Delo Anderson and Leo

Hazen that burglars also took some liquor and half a keg of beer.

Entry was made by smashing a window and forcing a steel bar support from the inside of the door.

The steel barges now being pushed up and down the Mississippi River carry three times the tonnage that steamboats hauled in their heyday about a century ago.

State Ouster Bill Goes to House

Senate Passes Proposal for Removing Officials Who Refuse to Testify

LANSING (AP)—The Senate, ignoring constitutional doubts, has passed legislation to oust public officials who refuse to testify in criminal trials or before grand juries.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) said, however, the measure would not apply to elective state officials or legislators. The bill, as passed and sent to the House, exempts any official whose method of removal is specified in the constitution. That governs elected state officials and legislators, Hutchinson said.

The bill would order the removal of officials who refuse to waive immunity or who stand on constitutional guarantees against self-incrimination in criminal trials or grand jury inquiries. Such an ousted official would be barred from public office for five years.

Sen. Allen S. Blomdy (D-Detroit) asked the sponsor, Sen. Frank Heath (R-Bay City) whether he had obtained an Attorney General's opinion as to the constitutionality of the bill.

"Let's not worry about constitutional matters," Heath retorted. Blomdy said he would not vote for the bill until that question was cleared. All Democrats either voted against the bill or sat silent, plus Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), who had raised the same point earlier. The vote was 23-5.

Eleven senators sponsored a constitutional amendment to take employees of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority and the State Turnpike Authority out from under civil service.

Infidelity Denied by Roosevelt

Confessed to Charges to Pacify Wife, Protect Ex-President

LOS ANGELES (AP)—James Roosevelt, denying his wife's charges that he committed adultery with 12 women, says he was being blackmailed when he signed a letter admitting nine infidelities.

He says he knew the letter to be false but he signed it to keep his wife from suing for divorce in 1945 and thereby adding to his father's burdens as president.

This was the answer given in a prepared statement yesterday by the eldest son of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He said also that he will decide before April 2 whether he will run for Congress in the 26th District. Some Democratic party leaders have suggested he withdraw. April 7 is the final date on which to declare candidacy.

Mrs. Romelle Schneider Roosevelt made the adultery charges in filing suit for separate maintenance last Thursday. The letter was filed with her complaint. A preliminary hearing on her demand for support payments has been set for Friday.

"My wife has chosen to make the most ugly accusation which it is possible to make against any man," Roosevelt's statement said. "Each and every allegation of misconduct by the 12 persons mentioned with me is completely false and without foundation."

Roosevelt offered "an especial apology to the nine women named in the letter signed by him."

"Each and every one of them is completely innocent of any misconduct with me," he said. "The harm which has been done them I can never repair, but I can and do emphasize their innocence, ask their forgiveness and understanding of this unfortunate incident."

From the very beginning, he said, his wife displayed an "unreasonable demand for material security" and developed "an unreasonable fear and jealousy" of his social contacts. The result was "a calculated campaign" to transfer to her all his material assets "and a constant threat to accuse me of imaginary infidelities," he said.

"This pattern reached its climax in the early part of 1945, when I was repeatedly faced with the demand that I acknowledge these imaginary happenings and, as she put it, 'purge my soul,'" his statement said.

"I was given an alternative. She stated that if I once did this she would forever cease these demands and begin our marital life anew. If I did not, she would proceed with a divorce naming all individuals."

State Reds' Trial Is Again Delayed

DETROIT (AP)—The stop and go Smith Act trial of six Michigan Communists experienced its fourth adjournment in recent weeks yesterday when one of the defendants reported ill.

Mrs. Helen A. Winter, one of the six charged with conspiring to teach and advocate the violent overthrow of the government, said she had intestinal flu.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard called off the day's proceedings although Mrs. Winter said she would allow defense attorney Ernest Goodman to represent her.

Earlier the judge himself had a cold, delaying the trial. When he returned, Goodman complained of a cold and got adjournment. Then Mrs. Winter said she had an inflammation of the veins in her leg.

Picard adjourned the trial at that time but had a court physician examine Mrs. Winter and then ordered her back to court. Finally yesterday Mrs. Winter's complaint of the flu brought the proceedings to a halt again.

Kickback Trial to Start Today

U. S. Representative Enters Innocent Plea to All 18 Counts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Bramblett (R-Calif.) was called to trial today in U. S. District Court on charges of falsifying his office payroll in connection with an alleged kickback of $4,036 from two women.

Bramblett, 52, and serving his fourth term in the House, has pleaded innocent to an 18-count indictment returned last June 17. He is accused of falsifying two women as clerks on his congressional payroll to convert their pay to his own use.

Bramblett, a resident of Pacific Grove, Calif., formerly was an educator in the Monterey County public school system.

The law under which he was indicted carries a penalty of up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine on each count.

Five of the counts allege Bramblett made false statements to the House disbursing office in connection with changes in the payroll status of Mrs. Olga Hardaway of Santa Barbara, Calif. Six others charge falsehoods relating to monthly pay checks totaling $736 made out to Mrs. Hardaway.

The other seven counts rise out of $3,300 in checks made out to Mrs. Margaret M. Swanson of Arlington, Va.

Bramblett is accused of listing the two women as clerks in his Capitol Hill office and keeping them on the payroll, knowing they were not clerks. The alleged offenses occurred between June 1950 and April 1951.

When Bramblett was indicted, Atty. Gen. Brownell said the government alleged Mrs. Hardaway endorsed the checks made out to her and returned them to Bramblett.

In the case of Mrs. Swanson, the government charges the checks were credited to her bank account, later withdrawn and then turned over to Bramblett.

Juvenile Delinquents Mar Once-Spotless Records

The 60 were chosen for spotless behavior records.

Nine of the boys later were picked up and returned to custody when they showed up at their homes.

This Cup of Java Cost Even More Than Usual

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—J. A. Montague told police yesterday he prepared a bank deposit slip, counted out $200 and then decided he wanted a cup of coffee before going to the bank.

He put the money on his desk. When he returned from his coffee the money was missing.

Death Cheats Return to Italy After 52 Years

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Giuseppe Bevere's 52 years of scrimping and saving toward the day he retires and returns to his home town of Aprenecia, Italy, ended suddenly yesterday with his lifelong dream almost realized.

Last week 67-year-old Giuseppe, who came to this country as a boy, called a long-time friend, Michael DiNauto and asked him to write a letter to Giuseppe's brothers Matteo and Luigi in Aprenecia.

"I'll be home by Easter," the letter read, "and we'll buy a home and all live together for the rest of our lives."

Yesterday Giuseppe started to work in an automobile plant in nearby Chester. En route he became ill and stopped at the railroad station for a drink of water. As he entered the building, he fell dead.

Police said they found $811 in cash and a bank book showing deposits totaling $4,500 in his pockets.

Egyptians have made mud brick houses for at least 6,000 years.

Lange Stands Mute to Murder Charge

DETROIT (INS)—John P. Lange said by police to have confessed killing steel executive John W. Mattson, stood mute in Detroit Recorder's court Monday to a first-degree murder charge.

Judge John P. O'Hara entered a plea of innocent for Lange and set Feb. 10 for his court examination.

Police said Saturday that Lange confessed to the slaying Jan. 25 and gave jealousy over a woman both men reportedly loved as a motive.

France May Get U. S. Technicians

Will Serve American Built Planes Now in Indochina Theater

By KENNETH UNGERMAN
WASHINGTON (INS)—Diplomatic sources disclosed today that the U. S. has agreed to lend France an undisclosed number of Air Force technicians to service American-built planes in the Indochina War.

The same sources said the first group of air force men may leave for Saigon within a week and that they will work far behind the fighting lines but in U. S. uniforms.

The State Department, however, refused to confirm or deny the report except to say that it is giving "favorable consideration" to a French request for 400 air force mechanics and technicians for the embattled peninsula.

But one source close to the French government said the number to be sent is "much less than the reported 400." He added that their work will be to train French mechanics in the care of U. S. aircrafts being used in the fight against the Communists.

The new plan was revealed as French planes were flying around the clock in renewed bitter fighting in the eight-year-old war.

The French high command reported that some 40,000 Red Vietnamese forces were massing around the French fortress "Dust-bowl" in preparation for another drive into Laos.

A French military communique said the poised forces seem to be aimed at the capital of Laos, Luang Prabang, and the Mekong River bordering Thailand.

Deportation Planned for Jackson Lifer

LANSING (AP)—Ahmed Mohamed, 59, a native of Turkey, was to be released today from Southern Michigan Prison for deportation to Turkey, the state parole board said.

His life sentence for murder was imposed in Detroit July 8, 1924, after his conviction for killing another Turk. The sentence was commuted Dec. 24 by Gov. Williams.
