

The Day in Birmingham

Franklin Library Starts Drive for More Books

BIRMINGHAM — One thousand new books each year for the next two years is the goal of officers of the Franklin Community Library.

A fund drive has already been launched to raise the necessary money for the 1,000 books, a 50 percent increase over the library's regular policy.

The move for more books was prompted by the prospect of colored facilities for the library, which has been operating in one room since 1952.

The library will soon share a new building with the village of offices, recently acquired with the purchase of Village Green by the village.

Six classifications of contributions are being offered by the library, starting with the annual membership of $5.

Sustaining memberships are $15, contributing memberships, $20; patron $100; and sponsors, $500.

With the expanded facilities, the library is preparing to amplify its services by staying open more hours and offering a variety of programs to meet the demands of the increase population.

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Metropolitan Auxiliary of Spirit 9 will meet 8 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Orrin Clark, 591 Catalpa Drive.

The cohostesses will be Mrs. Kenneth Allison, Mrs. Robert Apple, Mrs. Stanley Church and Mrs. Samuel Snell.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will celebrate Church School Day Sunday in recognition of the importance of the church's teaching task.

The special observance will be a reading of the tradition Children's Day program, as it was formerly known.

Using the theme "Followers in His Name" the program will begin with the morning worship at both the 8:30 and 10 a.m. services and will conclude with an open house in the church school.

The service will include the presentation of bibles to those children having completed fourth grade in the church school.

Douglas R. Shaw of 355 Martell Drive, Bloomfield Hills, received a bachelor of science degree in economics at the University of Pennsylvania's 25th commencement exercises held recently in Philadelphia.

Canada to Send Grain to China

Plans to Build Her Own Unloaders; U.S. Within Ban Rights

OTTAWA — Canada is determined to maintain the pace of grain exports to Red China and may manufacture and fly its own unloading equipment to the Chinese mainland to replace machinery which is under U.S. export ban, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker told the house of commons today.

He said the United States is still entitled to apply its ban to American companies within its borders but that Canada is determined nothing will halt shipments of grain to China.

His statement referred to a portable section unloader needed by big tankers in Red China — a machine made only in the United States and denied to tankers under Red China charter for hauling Canadian grain sold to Peking under a multimillion dollar deal.

Diefenbaker said he has been assured that in Ontario Port of Call — a machine made only in the United States and denied to tankers under Red China charter for hauling Canadian grain sold to Peking under a multimillion dollar deal.

He said reports of the incident have been blown out of proportion.

The loss of the U.S. equipment as only tankers — which involves only a few of the many vessels under charter by Red China. The tankers were banned from using the U.S. machinery under the U.S. trading with the Enemy Act.

Scores of tornadoes boiled out of the clouds over Texas Panhandle cities early today. Many residents gave up any thought of going to work, school or basements to escape the peril.

Other residents slept, unaware of the danger.

Two funnels approached Amarillo simultaneously from 20 miles away. But they dissipated before reaching the city of 138,000.

Other Texas towns threatened included Ft. Worth, Dallas, San Antonio, Austin, El Paso, Houston, San Diego, San Jose, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and many others.

However, there were no reports of casualties.

Tractor Traders Eye Castro Note

DETROIT (U) — Leaders of a citizen's movement today said a cable from Fidel Castro giving the latest conditions for further negotiations on swapping 1,300 Cuban invasion prisoners for 500 American tractor.

Castro indicated he still stood by an offer he first made May 17 in such a deal, but his cable described as various as his speeches — hedged on details.

Before replying to Castro, Walter P. Reuther, a co-chairman of Tractors For Freedom, Inc., conferred here with Joseph M. Dodge, a Detroit banker who is treasurer of the group. The conference was delayed until Castro's reply could be translated from Spanish.

Reuther and Dodge also set up phone conferences with Eleanor Roosevelt, honorary chairman of the committee, and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University, who is co-chairman along with Reuther who is president of the United Auto Workers Union.

Castro's willingness to continue negotiations was announced on the Havana radio 12 hours before today's noon deadline given by the committee.

Castro's reply was made public today in Havana together with a Spanish translation of a letter from the American committee.

Castro began by saying the committee "has taken no practical steps to bring the negotiations to an immediate, positive result."

Parolee Pleads Guilty to Safe, Cash Robbery

Danette Holton, a parolee from Commerce Township, Monday pleaded guilty to stealing a safe containing $10,400 in cash and checks from the Farmington County Club.

He was arraigned before Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dandere, who set sentencing, after Holton's background is explored by the Probation Department, 100 State St.

Holton awaits sentencing in the county jail confined there under a $5,000 bond.

The 24-year-old Holton, 922 Dunreath St., turned himself into police May 24 when he learned police were looking for him after fingerprints at the scene of the May 8 robbery were his.

The safe later was recovered from a gravel pit.

Michigan Tech Given Grant for N-Reactor

HOUGHTON (AP)—Michigan Tech has been awarded a $14,500 grant from the Atomic Energy Commission for the purchase of a reactor simulator. The grant will augment two previous AEC grants.

The new equipment is to be installed in space being altered to provide a five-room unit with facilities for nuclear processing, nuclear reaction operation, control and design, for irradiation and for accurate radiation determinations.

Demands an Exam on Stabbing Charge

Accused of stabbing his estranged wife in Beaudette Park, Joe Hughes, 31, of 141 W. South Boulevard, Monday demanded examination on a felonious assault charge before Municipal Judge Cecil McCullum.

Mary L. Hughes, 33, of 45 Pleasant View Drive, told Pontiac police that he forced her into his car Friday, then beat her and stabbed her in the right hand with a knife.

McCallum scheduled the pre-trial hearing for Hughes for June 14. Bond was set at $100.

Wire Insulator Firm Starts Up in Holland

HOLLAND (AP)—Hampson Manufacturing, Inc., a new producer of wire insulators for automotive, furniture and bedding industries, has started operations in Holland.

John C. Hampson, president and founder, said the firm expects ultimately to employ 25 to 30 persons. Hampson is a former vice president of the Falls River & Wire Co. of Detroit.

Wife-Slaying Study Shows Act Inevitable

MONTREAL (AP)—A study of the cases of eight husbands who killed their wives says the slayings were inevitable because each man felt it was the only way to end the relationship. Dr. Bruno Cormier of Montreal told the third World Congress of Psychiatry.

Cormier, associate psychiatrist at Royal Victoria Hospital, said that in each case the couple had been deeply attracted at the start, but that the marriage had become permeated with distrust, jealousy and retaliation.

Cormier studied eight men serving jail terms of from a few years to life for slaying their wives. Despite a variety of circumstances, he said, a similar pattern had developed in each case.

The husband and wife felt from the start that they were in some way interlocked. Then disputes arose followed by separations, reconciliations and infidelity.

To Join Grand Rapids

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Peach Plains School District has voted 192 to 24 to annex Grand Haven. The vote was taken at a meeting of the same question this month. Peach Plains has approximately 228 pupils, 69 of whom now attend Grand Haven Junior and Senior High schools.

Westinghouse Buys
Grand Rapids Firm
GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. today announced purchase of Architectural Systems, Inc., at Grand Rapids and plans to put up a new $10,000 plant. The development was disclosed at a chamber of commerce luncheon.

The electric firm operates a manufacturing-repair plant in Detroit and has sales and engineering offices at Grand Rapids. S. W. Oppenhuizen will continue as president of ASI, the firm he founded in 1938. It will retain its original name under the transaction and operate as a wholly owned Westinghouse subsidiary.

New Clinics to Use Power Leg Braces
GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — New hope for paralyzed children and adults is being held out through plans for a revolutionary clinic designed to aid handicapped upper limbs through use of powered braces.

The clinic, one of the first in the United States, will be opened at Mary Free Bed Children's Hospital, the city's pediatric center in Grand Rapids.

Others will follow at Ann Arbor and Detroit. Mary Free Bed Administrator Glenn C. Williams says four staff members now are attending a university of California seminar, learning to diagnose, fit and train patients for the unique prosthetic aids.

The powered braces are activated by a cylinder of compressed carbon dioxide which the patient carries in a pocket and are used when power is needed to move the wearer's upper limbs.

Residents of this village on Hatties Island off North Carolina celebrate Christmas January 6, the ancient Twelfth Night.

WATERFORD KIDS SERVE — The annual ice cream social to be held from 6 to 7:30 tomorrow night on the lawn of the Denison School in Waterford Township will be served by the school's elementary pupils. In case of inclement weather, the affair will be held inside the building. Julie Hutson (left) serves Mrs. Clair Sherman, while Virginia Clift pours coffee for Mrs. John Mako. All proceeds will be put in the parking lot black-top fund. The public is invited.

Willman Won't Be Here for 1st Day of Centennial

When the June 17-24 Greater Pontiac Centennial opens at the end of next week, City Manager Walter K. Willman won't be here to participate.

The manager said that he would be in Washington, D. C., next Thursday through Sunday, attending the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the International City Managers Association.

Willman will take part in the meeting as chairman of the association's constitutional revision committee and chairman of next year's annual convention. The manager is immediate past president of the association.

Willman said he will be back in Pontiac in time to participate in the many activities of Pride in Pontiac Day on Monday, June 19.

These include the dedication of the Pontiac Public Library and cornerstone laying of the new Civic Center fire hall.

City commissioners and Willman will also attend the opening of the Winner Stadium Spectacle "The Pontiac Story" that night.

Willman will miss riding at the beginning of the big Centennial parade, beginning at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, June 17 in downtown Pontiac. The commissioners will be in the lead cars. He'll also miss the dedication of the Pontiac Municipal Airport Terminal at 1:15 p.m. Sunday, June 18, on Air Progress Day.

Ex-JC Official to Talk to Waterford Eagles

The Waterford Township Eagles will have their annual banquet at 7 p.m. Monday with Paul Baldwin of Howell as guest speaker.

Baldwin is former vice president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, and former president of the Michigan Jaycees.

He was graduated from the University of Michigan, has been chairman of the Republican party in Livingston County, and is a member of the Howell City Planning Commission.

He was voted Howell's "Citizen of the Year" in 1958, and was one of the five "most outstanding young men" in Michigan in 1959.

Adlai Gets Busy in Argentina

To Consider Problems of Country in Various Conferences Today

Buenos Aires (UPI) — Good-will ambassador Adlai Stevenson buckles down to consideration of Argentine problems early today, less than 12 hours after his arrival here on his three-week South American tour.

Stevenson's busy schedule for the day included conferences with President Arturo Frondisi and other government leaders, lunch with U.S. Ambassador Roy R. Robinson and dinner with Foreign Minister Adolfo Maglia.

The first meeting of the day is with Maglia, economy minister Roberto Aleman and economic advisers of the two ministries.

Stevenson, who is acting as a sort of advance man for President Kennedy's proposed "alliance for progress," flew here Tuesday night from Venezuela, where government leaders asked for $350 million in short-term credits.

Innocent Plea Entered in Death of Spouse's Beau

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Donde entered a plea of innocent Monday for Donald Slater, accused of first-degree murder in the May 21 slaying of his wife's boy friend.

Clarence L. Smith, Slater's attorney, requested Chief Assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long to have his client brought to trial sometime during the jury term beginning today. It lasts four weeks.

Slater, 25, of 8618 Saratoga Road, Oak Park, stood mute at his arraignment. Smith waived the reading of the charge against him.

Slater, the father of four, is charged with killing Edward Stoner, a 31-year-old Detroit race track employee, who had been seeing Slater's wife Nancy, 25.

He surrendered 12 hours later.

Communist Postmark Stirs Row in Germany

BERLIN (AP) — A minor cold war skirmish has broken out in divided Germany over a Communist postmark. "Berlin—laupetadt der DDR (Berlin—capital of the German Democratic Republic)." West Berlin postal officials said today this is an assertion Berlin is the capital of the Communist regime, which the West does not recognize.

Letters bearing the postmark are delivered in West Germany, but postal officials are seeking instructions to allow them to return the letters undelivered.

IAPA Wages Permanent Battle for 'Freedom of the Press'

Today North, South and Central America celebrate "Freedom of the Press Day."

It's tremendously important. No other "day" ranks with it.

As this newspaper has said many times, "Freedom of the Press" does not extend special or private privileges to newspapers. The phrase simply means "the freedom of speech". And this refers to YOUR speech and YOUR rights to express YOUR opinion. The Press is merely a symbol. It covers all people everywhere.

Thus "Freedom of the Press Day" affects every living soul. In this hemisphere, several countries lack freedom of the press for dictators always seize newspapers first. They can't afford to have their antics discussed honestly and freely.

The Inter American Press Association is waging a permanent and perpetual battle against the suppression of newspapers and is fighting for the "right to know." That's your right. It's your privilege.

Our Inter American Press Association throws its entire resources, personnel and influence into the everlasting scrap for freedom of expression in the Americas. It never ceases and dictators know it. IAPA is their number one hate. They never forget the unrelenting battle waged against them and their associates.

At times it's discouraging but the IAPA realizes that the support of all peoples everywhere stand squarely behind the move and the unrelenting warfare. CASTRO made efforts for a time to get along with the Cuban newspapers but when he saw they could not be controlled or influenced he took them over, lock, stock and barrel.

Let City's Celebration Be Time of Enjoyment

After months of gently-swelling buildup, we are now in the final stages of our Centennial celebration. For the next three weeks, things are going to be more abnormal than they have been since plans for the giant event were first revealed.

Downtown and nearby centers have looked authentic on the last couple of Friday dress up days, with more and more beads and bonnets, long swishing skirts and dapper derbies at jaunty angles.

The Miss Centennial contest is entering its liveliest stage, and beard contestants are preening their growths constantly. All the fun and fuss hasn't been limited to the geographic boundaries of Pontiac, either. Many of our neighbors have adopted the celebration, as they were asked, and their enthusiasm has not flagged.

It's been lots of fun so far, but the biggest and best is yet to come. The next seventeen days will see the climax of everything that thousands of people have worked toward. For some people, it has been a lot of long hours and busy days and nights. For others, they are just beginning to share in this end of the celebration.

But for all of us, this should be a time of enjoyment, and above all, reflection. Despite the advances of science, it's not likely that more than one or two of us will be around for the next one. Take it all in, it's a wonderful thing.

Freedom went out the window.

Ricardo Castro Beeche, current President of the Inter American Press Association, issued this statement covering today's activities:

"The Inter American Press Association has always maintained that the press can only accomplish its mission if it is free to express its thoughts and opinions born out of firm convictions and ideals. Peace and progress for all peoples are assured only when the press enjoys access to the sources of information and the right to report fully on political and social developments. When the press is free, it helps to make democracy a reality."

"This is also a day in which the free press of the New World should pledge anew to continue the struggle until the press of all countries is in the hands of legitimate owners. On this Freedom Day the democratic press of the Americas rededicates itself to the task of seeking the elimination of all restrictions to freedom of expression from our Hemisphere."

Appears to Be in Program of These Loon Lake Swans

Centennial: What most of us won't be here for the next one, so make the best of it.

That lone swan on Loop Lake, beside the Dixie Highway, just northwest of Pontiac, seemed to have been crushed in the last break up a few weeks ago, and died. The residents of that area like the company of these graceful birds, according to Mrs. Gerald Reed, whose home is on the shore of the lake, have bought a pair of youngsters. They are rapidly becoming accustomed to the lake and its surroundings, and now are building a nest and preparing to set up housekeeping and raising a family.

In the yard of the residence of George Land

While recently visiting in Ohio, one of our whistlers celebrated.

Robert Merwine of Waterford was asked by a four-year-old: "Santa, when will you bring me some toys?" Bob happened to have some toys in his car, and immediately came across.

A handbill put out by McKillip's Grocery, corner of Osmond and Edith Streets, in the days when boneless beefsteak was 15 cents per pound, has been handed me by Alonzo Cottrell of 793 Crittenden St. Boiling beef was 13 cents, pork roast 15 cents and coffee 20 cents.

Quite right are the sentiments expressed in a letter from

Mrs. Elinor Castore of Birmingham, that juvenile delinquency is present because woodshed philosophy is absent.

My correspondent, at Grand Blanc, just a few miles up the Dixie Highway, Roger Dement, sends word of an auction sale in a new form to be held there June 22. The federal government will offer about a million dollars worth of surplus war machinery the bidding to be done by closed circuit television. Viewing points are Columbus, Ohio, and St. Louis, Mo., with about 400 bidders at each place.

Editor's Journey—Part 2

Italy Has Freedom; Egypt, Nasser

By JOHN W. FITZGERALD

Editor, The Pontiac Press

Arriving in Rome, Italy, we immediately felt sort of free since Italy is a Republic in which all major parties participate. Rome was gay and full of visitors.

Economically, it is away ahead of the other two countries we had visited. Yet, Italy has plenty of poverty that it would rather the public did not see.

Northern Italy around Milan is the prosperous part of the country. The southern portion around Rome is less prosperous, according to Giuseppe Pella, a former Prime Minister.

He emphasized that Italy would like more foreign trade with the United States and expressed appreciation for our foreign aid.

Of great concern to the present government are the 6 million registered Communists. In the recent elections they made slight gains in some districts.

The Christian Democratic (Catholic) party, which has about two-thirds of the Italian vote, manages to control the government.

UNWISSE TO OPPOSE

To do business in Italy you go along with the government. Your position would be hindered by opposing the party in power.

The newspapers in Italy are comparatively free, and the natives would certainly lead you to believe that they are friends of the United States.

We visited Naples to see our 6th Fleet and could not help but be impressed with this city which lies stretched out along the shore of the Mediterranean Sea. It's famous for this incomparable position, interesting history and monuments and the beauty of its surroundings.

Naples is the headquarters for the Naval Striking Command Southern Europe. It is a well-established base with a large number of U.S. forces constantly ready to protect us in the event of any Communist outbreak.

We left there after being briefed by Rear Adm. Edward A. Heacock, USN, deputy commander, who explained the far-reaching activities of his command. It is a joint NATO operation and very definitely a strong striking force for that part of the world.

On our next flight, which was from Rome to Cairo, Egypt, I was surprised and pleased to find that the pilot of our TWA plane was John W. Harpster from Southfield, Mich. This gave us a rather warm feeling since all our other airplane crews had been from other countries.

CAIRO DESITUTE

Cairo lies on the River Nile and is surrounded by the desert. It's hot, dry and full of smells. The poverty is absolutely beyond compare.

The Country Parson

A healthy person requires and can use less than one-fourth of a gram of iron a day. One gets this daily ration of iron in 2 ounces of lettuce, 4 ounces of peas, 2 1/2 ounces of oatmeal, 4 ounces of prunes, 1 ounce of egg yolks, or 4 ounces of bread.

Other good sources of iron are: dried beans, wheat, oatmeal, almonds, walnuts, spinach, peaches, dates, dandelion greens. Cabbage, potatoes, pears, apples, and raisins contain iron but less than the other items mentioned.

Secondary anemia is caused by: (1) frequent bleeding, as from peptic ulcer or internal piles or in women from excessive menstrual bleeding or irregular bleeding; (2) frequent or habitual use of drugs which destroy blood corpuscles, such as acetaminol and phenacetin—the pain-killing ingredients in many nostrums; (3) inadequate use of relief headache, neuralgia, aching joints or muscles, backache, fatigue, anxiety, worry.

These drugs never cure anything—they merely deaden consciousness of discomfort.

Signs later, not more than one page or 50 words long pertaining to persons and things will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is to the Pontiac Press-Pontiac, Michigan.

(Copyright 1961)

One type of primary anemia is called pernicious anemia (sometimes aplastic anemia), which can now be controlled, virtually cured, by (1) eating raw liver, (2) hypodermic injections of liver extract or (3) vitamin B12 tablets in courses from time to time when the blood strength gets low enough.

Two other types of anemia may be called primary—first, chlorosis, the green sickness, formerly prevalent in girls, rarely encountered today; and second, hypochromic nutritional deficiency anemia, the gray sickness.

The gray sickness occurs usually in girls who are forthright and plumb discouraged with their complexion, hair, and nails. They need my pamphlet, "The Gray Sickness"—available on request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NEEDS IRON

A woman with that gray look with iron and ascorbic acid (vitamin C) and vitamin B complex every day from now on, to correct her nutritional deficiency. Later she may hold her head clear and hemoglobin (from coloring matter in the blood) at or near par on a less rigid regimen, perhaps.

The truth. The officials were very much against our Congo stand and also our backing the new country of Israel.

Their position with respect to the East and West is not clear. They like to be called neutral. We could not help but notice in visiting a government-owned newspaper that all the equipment was of a Russian make.

Abu Baker, director general of information for the government, tried to give the impression that news was not suppressed.

Right in the room at the time of the interview was a man that two days before had been jailed for 48 hours as a result of a news story in slight disagreement with Nasser policy.

Dr. William Brady Says:

'Gray Sickness' Sufferers Need Assistance of Iron

"I have secondary anemia and have been taking vitamin B12 for 3 1/2 years. Have not noticed any improvement as yet. Should I continue the tablets or try something else?" (D.V.)

"If no improvement in 3 1/2 weeks or at most 2 1/2 months, you will probably notice none in 3 1/2 years or 3 1/2 decades."

Anybody taking vitamin B12 or any other medicine for secondary anemia is like constantly pumping more air into a leaky tire.

Anemia means without blood, lack of blood, insufficient blood, poor blood, weak blood, or "watery" blood.

In some instances, anemia is primary, that is to say due to some fault or failure in the normal blood production or development in the bone marrow, spleen, and liver.

'Americans Lack Courage to Stand Up to Governors'

Isn't it amazing that America does not have a man with courage enough to stand up and tell those loud-mouthed Southern governors: "Listen, mister, regardless of what you think, the federal government is the power in our land, and as such can protect the rights of man by law, regardless of your Jim Crow beliefs?"

Hopes Words Will Awaken Americans

With communism much closer than most people think, maybe this will awaken them.

Communism has no God, no soul, no love of family, no religion, no faith, no golden rule, no sermon, no prayer, no Lord's Prayer, no freedom of worship, nor any of the privileges and advantages which we enjoy under the Constitution and which have brought happiness to our people and have made this country great. Everyone should know these words by heart.

Thank God.

I was born in the wrong generation. I was raised through the depression, spent my young adult years through World War II, got married after the war, found a housing shortage, went through a recession and continued rise in cost of living, and race riots. I think I have a right to bury my head in the sand. And who cares if we're blown off the face of the earth. It wouldn't be such a loss.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Wednesday, June 7, the 158th day of the year with 207 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Venus.

The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1780, Daniel Boone started his exploration of Kentucky.

In 1945, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower took up his duties as president of Columbia University.

In 1778, English man of fashion George Bryan Brummell, known as Beau Brummell, was born.

In 1929, Mary Pickford made her motion picture debut in "The Violin Maker of Cremona."

Thought for today: Dwight Eisenhower said: "As it is an ancient truth that freedom cannot be legislated into existence, so it is no less obvious that freedom cannot be censured into existence."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Summer Church Camps Valuable

With a beloved baby sister.

Next, they should visit friends for a meal and later spend an entire night away from home.

By mid grammar school, they should be used to visiting grandmothers or favorite cousins for possibly a weekend or an entire week.

GO TO CAMP

In the teens, it is splendid preparation for college to spend a full week at a church camp, away from parents.

These church camps are also the main training centers for active church leaders in future years.

For they have specially talented youth leaders who know how to entice teen-agers for altruistic work.

The home pastor each Sunday has a mixed audience of all ages, so he can't stand his reputation just to the teen-agers.

But these camp members have a unified audience, of about the same age and interests. They can thus inspire the young folks to noble choices of careers.

And the teen-agers then go back home as far more active "spark plugs" in their local churches.

The best birthday or Christmas gift you adults can offer a youngster is to thus help him spend a week at a summer church camp.

It would be a boon to America if EVERY child had this great privilege.

Those who attend church summer camps become more mature and more dependable youth.

They gain peace and a wider circle of friends, so they have a more cosmopolitan outlook.

'Follow These Rules to Avoid Accidents'

In better than 10 years of accident free driving over 150,000 miles, even in older cars, I have never had trouble. The reason is simple: avoid high speeds, slow down about of time for cars or abnormal situation that presents a time of hazard. Trying to save time in bad conditions is taboo. If you must, do it in the clear straight road with low wind speed. No appointment is worth forfeiting your tomorrow (or anyone's else).

One other vital point—expect the other driver to be crazy, even though 99 per cent aren't.

Confusion of 50s Slowed Missile Program

By SID MOODY
AP Newsfeature Writer

By 1956 it would have taken a highly skilled birdwatcher to keep track of the various United States missile programs. Some flew. Some never got off the drawing board. There was confusing and costly duplication and interservice rivalry.

In late 1958, then Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson tried to straighten out the confusion by ordering a study of the Army's missile program. Anything over was the Air Force's baby.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris was then in charge of the Army's Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, Ala., where ex-German V2 expert Wernher Von Braun was working.

He felt the Army's Redstone missile, a descendant of the V2, had amply proved the Army's superiority in long range rockets.

Variation of the Redstone were later to orbit our first satellite and shoot up Cmdr. Shepard.

Taking long range missiles away from the Army was like telling a jet airplane firm to start making crop dusters, Von Braun said at the time.

Medaris, now president of Ligon Corp., claims indecision by the government during these years cost great amounts of money and even more precious commodity—time. Decisions were being made, however.

PROPOSALS IGNORED

In 1959, before any satellite, Russian or American, had been fired, Von Braun proposed Project Adam. For an estimated $5 million, he said, the United States could shoot a man into suborbital flight by 1959, almost a duplicate of Shepard's ascent two years later.

"We felt it would have been a hell of a propaganda move," Medaris said.

The Army was unable to get the money. Nor could it get the money in 1964 when Von Braun said his team could orbit a 25-pound satellite "fairly soon" with a Redstone.

On Oct. 3, 1957, Russia fired the starting gun in the space race by orbiting Sputnik I.

President Eisenhower said he wasn't worried "one iota" about the shot's military significance. He said the United States could have done it first if the civilian Vanguard satellite project had not been separated from military missile development.

"A joint effort would have led to the detriment of scientific goals and military progress," he explained. Missiles for defense came before missiles for space.

A year later NASA was formed and given all "scientific and peaceful" space programs.

Roy Johnson, then in charge of the Advance Research Project Agency, recalled recently he argued for weeks with former Budget Director Maurice Stans over working of the act authorizing NASA.

CHOICE OF WORDS

Stans, Johnson said, wanted the bill to state its purpose was to make the United States "a" leading power in space.

"I wanted it to read 'the leading power,'" said Johnson. The Bureau of the Budget argued this would cost billions of dollars, Johnson said, and the United States could not afford it. Stans won.

Then, when NASA proposed a $500-million budget for the 1959 fiscal year, Johnson said, Stans "let the cat out of the bag."

Commenting on Johnson's remarks, Stans says, "It is absurd for anyone to indicate I said we shouldn't have any space appropriations. The budgets which were approved were very substantial."

Johnson also said the Eisenhower administration "had no concept of (space) being a propaganda tool. Even as a military man, (Eisenhower) couldn't see the value of space."

"It always made me so frustrated when all the response you got about a (space) program was 'Gee whiz, isn't that something,'" Stans added.

Said Stans: "The space program was designed to recognize both the scientific value and psychological value of space developments even though it may not have met the extreme views of some advocates of unlimited spending."

As for Eisenhower, he had a "full understanding of all aspects of the program," Stans added.

CONGRESS INQUIRES

Congress has asked some questions about those difficult childhood years of space.

"Isn't it true," inquired Rep. Fulton earlier this year, "that there has been a pattern both in the Truman and Eisenhower administrations that (space research) has been popular and then not so popular?"

Dryden: "There have been fluctuations."

Fulton: "Then you can't point to any one period and say that's where the fault lies?"

Dryden: "No, sir, you do not."

Despite the United States' late start, NASA points out the United States has orbited more than 40 satellites, Russia 13.

United States moonlets have brought back pictures of earth relayed phone messages and begun revolutions in navigation, communications and weather forecasting.

Dryden told Congress he thinks the United States is "ahead" of the Soviet Union in space, but lack of a big booster has kept it from matching the eye-catching spectacles of the Russians.

He thinks we may pull even with Russia by 1965 or 1966. May be an all-out effort could get us on the moon first, perhaps by 1967, NASA associate director Dr. Robert C. Seamans has estimate.

Von Braun said last month "I am convinced we can beat them."

But, NASA chief James Webb reminded Congress "money is not a complete substitute for time."

And Gen. Flickinger figured it would take the United States three and a half to four years fully to duplicate "what was done in terms of Sputnik." Where the Russians may be then is anybody's guess.

Soviets Let Sukarno Stay Inside Kremlin

MOSCOW (U.P.)—Indonesian President Sukarno has been accorded the special privilege of staying in a guest suite inside the Kremlin walls, Tass disclosed today.

The agency said he was visited there Tuesday in honor of his 60th birthday by President Leonid Brezhnev and Premier Khrushchev.

Moscow radio said they gave him a Soviet automobile and a statue of a Soviet sportswoman as birthday gifts.

FLEXIBILITY!

The Daily Newspaper
Is the Flexible Medium for Pinning Down Sales

Newspapers don't tie up the advertiser with rigid time schedules or space limitations that weaken the impact and effectiveness of his message. Newspapers offer creative and physical flexibility. An advertiser can use a two-page spread to tell a detailed story or he can use a smaller space to say what he wants in fewer words, depending on his budget and his strategy. The physical flexibility of newspapers means ads can be scheduled quickly to take care of sudden selling opportunities. The daily newspaper is flexible enough to fit any advertising strategy.

Retailers Want Discount-House Business

(Editor's Note—This discount house with a new merchandising technique, has been making inroads into the sales of the traditional department store. Now the latter has launched a counterattack by adopting the discounters' own technique, what will be the end result? In the following story, readers will find out.)

NEW YORK—A revolution in retailing is under way.

It was brought on by the tremendous success of the discount stores, which sacrifice service and fanciness to sell at lower costs.

Apparently on the theory that "if you can't lick 'em, join 'em," some big department stores and variety chains are being introduced into the discount business.

For a long while the department stores looked down their noses at discount newcomers in confidence that low-priced stacks of goods could never wean away customers who were used to high fashion, good service, credit and delivery.

But the discounters flourished and now there are some 3,000 of them in the country. Their cut-rate prices started into department stores and variety chains.

Latest to get into the act is the giant variety firm, F. W. Woolworth Co., which announced plans to build "the biggest discount chain this country will ever see."

Its first unit will be opened this year.

"It has become evident there is a great deal of customer interest in this direction," said President Robert C. Kirkwood.

CALLED WOOLCO
 Woolworth's discount stores will operate under the name of Woolco Department Stores. Initial locations have not been announced.

Another big variety chain, S. S. Kresge Co., said it is "as far or further along" as anyone in preparations for discount operations but did not elaborate.

Interstate Department Stores, which operates more than 50 units, said it is "in the planning stages" of opening 20 more stores this year and 20 more next year.

It already has opened two on the outskirts of Chicago, and plans two more in Chicago and four in Baltimore, Kalamazoo, Mich., and Hartford, Conn., this year.

First Lady Buys China Antiques in London Shop

LONDON (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy did some early morning shopping for antiques today and then flew off for Athens with her sister and brother-in-law for a nine-day vacation in Greece.

U.S. Ambassador David Bruce and his wife were at the airport to see Mrs. Kennedy take off in a British European Airways Comet jetliner with Prince and Princess Radwail. The plane had a full load of 60 passengers. Before going to the airport, Mrs.

Kennedy spent a half hour poking into the dusty corners of an antique shop.

The attractive wife of President Kennedy wound up buying 10 late 18th Century china ornaments and one early 19th Century picture as presents for her family and friends.

Rebels Killed Priest

ROME (AP)—A Vietnami dispatch of the Fides news service says the rebel Pathet Lao killed the Rev. Vincent L'honoret, a French member of the Oblate Missionary Order, May 11 while he was on his way to Mass at the village of Nam-tum.

James Road, Will Rogers School; Mrs. Donald Smith, Kenilworth Avenue, Emerson School; and Mrs. Ronald Black, Moore Street, Herrington School.

Some 400 officers, chairmen and guests attended the Pontiac Council of Parent-Teacher Association's cer at Madison Junior High School Tuesday evening.

A dinner in the school cafeteria opened the affair. The Greater Pontiac Centennial theme was used in decorations. Many members appeared in old-fashioned costume. George Yansen, principal at Madison, offered the invocation.

After dinner Mrs. George Gray, president of the Council, introduced special guests including Lewis Crew, assistant to the administrator for the Pontiac Board of Education, who extended greetings from his staff.

Other guests were Ruth Ann Kramp, Cynthia Williams and Charlene Wiegert, recipients of scholarships awarded by the council this year; Ruth Bell and Judy Noren, former scholarship winners; and Mrs. Arthur Heiple, outgoing president of the Oakland County Council of PTA.

Mrs. Charles Neldrett, past president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, installed officers of the 33 local units and the following council officers: Mrs. G. A. Yansen, president; Mrs. Thomas Henson, first vice president; Mrs. Howard McConnell, second vice president; Mrs. Sidney Olson, recording secretary; Mrs. William White, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Theodore Figa, treasurer; Mrs. Carl Masters, historian; and Lewis Crew, auditor.

PRESENTS AWARDS
Mrs. Ervin Christie and Mrs. Virgil Everett, council magazine chairmen, presented awards to local chairmen who sold 10 or more subscriptions this year. Special mention was made of state awards presented to Mrs. James Dunning and Mrs. W. M. Tyche, co-chairmen of Owen School's PTA, for the largest increase in subscription sales at this spring's MCPT convention in Detroit.

Mrs. Charles Copperrsmith, program chairman, introduced a community sing of Gay Nineties songs, led by William Coffing, music director at Madison.

Speaker for the program was Brigadier Robert McMahon of the Salvation Army's Eventide Rest Home, Detroit, whose speech was entitled "Gelling Unlimited."

Mrs. Melvin Norberg was a general chairman. Her assistants were Mrs. Raymond Ellsworth, Mrs. Christie and Mrs. Everett, decorations; Mrs. Fred Goines and Mrs. Russell Bell, reservations; Mrs. John Turner, Mrs. Roland Stephenson and Mrs. John Newman, hospitality; and Mrs. Earl Ottesvig, publicity.

Following the meeting, the new executive committee met with Mrs. Gray to approve the program committee's plans for next year's program and to elect delegates at large.

Mrs. Leroy Koch, Parent and Family Life education chairman, was given approval for plans to set up a series of three workshops next season. Josephine Seely, R. N., health chairman, was granted permission to enlarge her committee for assistance with a fluoridation program in the city's schools.

Abby Says Keep Self-Respect

Don't Wait for Him, Dear!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am 19. For the past three years I have been having a love affair with a man 52. He has a business close to my home so it was easy for me to see him every day.

Someone told his wife about us, and he sold out and left town. He didn't even say goodbye.

I know he loves me because we were so happy when we were together.

His wife is just hanging onto him for his money. Young men laugh at me because I am large — 135 pounds. Can you help me?

STILL WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Don't waste your time waiting for a man who belongs to somebody else. Your 32-year-old Romeo took advantage of your youth and loneliness.

Trim your figure down to fighting weight, and fight your way back to a decent life. An ounce of self-respect is worth 135 pounds of excuses.

DEAR ABBY: I am having trouble convincing my boy friend that he cannot run for any office in our trade union (especially president) because he got a dishonorable discharge from the service.

Isn't it true that he cannot vote or run for any office, public or union?

THE GIRL FRIEND

Personal News

The John C. Armstrongs (Janice Horner) of Commerce Lake announce the birth of a daughter, Joy Ellen, May 28 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Grandparents are the Harry C. Horners of Commerce Lake and the William O. Armstrongs of Osceola Drive.

Dr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Friedman (Sonya Kiel) of Kuhn Road announce the birth of a son, Scott David, on May 20.

The maternal and paternal grandparents, both residing in Brooklyn, N.Y., will join other out-of-town and local guests at an open house honoring the infant on July 2 at the Friedman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice M. Collins (Doris Ratz) of West Cornell Avenue are parents of a fourth child, Cathleen JoAnn, born May 21 at Pontiac General Hospital.

The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ratz of Lounsbury Avenue, Mrs. Melvin Blaggett of Hope, N.M., and Lee Collins of Odessa, Tex. Great-grandparents are Mrs. F.C. Collins of Sidney, Tex., and Charlie M. Turnbow of Lamesa, Tex.

A daughter, Karen Ann, was born to the Robert Barrers (Dorothy Cairns) of Holly, May 24, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Nell Cairns of Barker Street, Drayton Plains and the L. C. Barrers of Hudson Avenue.

The birth of a son, Leigh Alan, June 1 at Pontiac General Hospital is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Jack G. Hankins (Regina Jennings) of Fioletta Street, Drayton Plains. Grandparents of the newborn infant are Mrs. George Jennings of Dwight Avenue, Mrs. Lester E. Arnhart of Glendale Avenue and Causby F. Hankins of Mann Road.

Mrs. Harry Haggard of North Johnson Avenue returned by plane from Austin, Tex., where she visited her son and daughter-in-law, Col. and Mrs. Russell Haggard.

She attended the graduation of her granddaughter Bonnie, recipient of a scholarship to a nursing college in Chicago.

The Edward T. Vanderworp and son Michael of West Stratmore Avenue have returned from a two-week vacation with their parents, former Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bigham at Hutchinson, Kan.

They attended the graduation of Mrs. Vanderworp's brother Harry from Hutchinson's Beniah High School. He entered the U.S. Air Force on Sunday and will take his basic training at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, Tex.

Ask Friend What to Do About Gift

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Will you please tell me what you do about returning gifts given at showers or wedding presents by an office group or several friends together?

A: These things should undoubtedly be returned the same as any other gift after the wedding plans fall through, but how does one go about it when a number of people are involved? To whom should it be returned and what would a group do with it?

A: If it is something that can be returned to the store and the money divided amongst them, you should return it to the one in the group that you know the best. But if it is marked with your initials or for some other reason cannot be returned, you ask them what they would like you to do with it and they will probably ask you to keep it.

Q: A friend of mine insists that a lady precedes the gentleman with her into the elevator and out again; whereas I insist just as vehemently that she enters first but he, standing nearer the door, leaves first. Which is right?

A: Both of you are right, depending upon circumstances. She enters first and, when practical for her to do so, leaves first. But when the elevator is crowded so that trying to let her go in front of him would only result in blocking the way for her and possibly others, he should therefore step out quickly and she should follow.

Q: When spending the weekend in someone's house, is it proper to leave the breakfast table in a housecoat, or must one be fully dressed in street clothes?

A: It is going to spend the weekend at my boy friend's house and I want to be sure to do the right thing. Your help on this matter will be greatly appreciated.

A: You should be fully dressed, unless your hostess has definitely told you that you may wear a housecoat to breakfast.

Widowed Women Often Face Breaking Up of Most Friendship

RUTH MILLET

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Since a large percentage of today's wives someday will be widows, the difference of women who still have husbands to women who have lost theirs is hard to understand.

It exists just the same. This column continually receives letters from widows that express pretty much the puzzled disillusionment in the following letter:

"My husband died two years ago. While he was alive we had a close circle of friends, couples we thoroughly enjoyed and entertained from time to time.

"I can truthfully say that we entertained more often than most because we both enjoyed being with old friends and making new ones. We also tried to be especially thoughtful about inviting newcomers to our home.

"I thought we had so many friends and such a well-established place in our community that I would not feel left out of the town's social life when I was left alone.

"But, though our friends rallied around me wonderfully at the time of my husband's death — all but two couples have drifted away in just two years.

"I still am invited to strictly 'female' get-togethers, teas and luncheons, and such. But I'm no longer included in evening parties where there are both men and women.

"I realize that I am now only half a couple — but should that make such a difference to friends of long standing? I wouldn't be writing this letter if this were just my problem.

"But I think what has happened to me happens to most widows — and, somehow it seems unnecessarily unkind. I should have said unnecessary thoughtless, for I am sure that none of the couple who used to be such close friends actually meant to be unkind."

Some words to the wives are in Ruth Millet's booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Norma Soditch is Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints on Front Street, was the setting for candlelight vows of Norma Jean Soditch to Ted J. Dabbs, pledged before Elder Randall Hulse Saturday evening.

Daughter of the Albert T. Matlack of the city, Norma, 24, the bride chose bouquet-crowned while all organs over taffeta. The rodingote-type skirt fell into a chapel sweep.

Her fingertip velling was attached to a pearl teardrop crown and white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid comprised her bouquet.

Shirley Zilewich, maid of honor, wore aqua silk organza over a matching aqua taffeta sheath.

ATTENDEE SISTER
Mrs. Edwin Van Horn attended her sister as bridesmaid with their cousin Gwen Bellamy of Waterford. Their aqua organza frocks were worn over white taffeta. They carried pink carnations.

On the espouse side were Joseph Dabbs, best man and William Dabbs, usher. They are the sons of Mrs. Blanche Dabbs of Augusta Avenue. Also seating guests was James Evans of Waterford.

After a church reception the newlyweds left for the Great Smoky Mountains. They will live on Tubbs Road, Waterford Township.

Mrs. Molnar chose a draped sheath dress of rose silk organza, pink flowered picture hat of straw, and taffeta accessories for her daughter's wedding. The mother of Others playing the piano were Lenora Spencer, Gary West, Pauline Pratt, Ted Haggberg, Nancy Malkin, Suzanne Eschfeld, Peter Pratt, Patricia Hagberg, Cheryl Schmitt, Ann Cogswell, Alice Vaughn and DIAnne Call.

Organ solos were played by Marilyn Cogswell, Ann Cogswell, Jeannette Cogswell, Mike Antrobus, Linda Quye, Sherrill Quye and Lenore Schoonover.

Newlyweds Honeymoon in West

Katherine Groves, LeRoy DeMasellis Wed in Ortonville

Marine Lance Cpl. LeRoy DeMasellis and his bride, the former Katherine Groves left for a honeymoon Sunday morning in St. Anne Church, Ortonville. Vows were pledged before Rev. John J. Hardy.

The newlyweds greeted guests with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Groves and Mr. and Mrs. David DeMasellis at a reception in the Groves home. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones, grandparents of the bride, were hosts at the wedding dinner. All are of Dayton Plains.

Fingertip velling of silk tulle held by a pearl crown, complemented the bride's bouquet of white nylon net over silk tulle. Cultured pearls, a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and English ivy, completed her ensemble.

Honor maid, Yvette A. Pytkieski of Detroit, wore ballerina-length dotted yellow swiss and matching villed headpiece. Her flowers were yellow roses.

Marine Lance Cpl. James Snow of Chicago, stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., performed the duties of best man. Guests were seated by Gordon Smith of Clemons and Roy Hebert of Detroit.

Shoulder corsages of white roses and carnations complemented Mrs. Groves' black and white formal nylon print and the coral lace over taffeta gown worn by the mother of the bridegroom.

The newlyweds will live at Camp Pendleton, where the bridegroom is stationed.

Shower Honors Bride-Elect

Bride-elect Goldie Palatin was feted at a personal shower Sunday given by Mrs. Donald Porter of Mann Road.

Among the guests were Mrs. J. K. Hargraves, Mrs. Carroll Rogers, Mrs. Rose McCready, Mrs. Harold Palatin, Mrs. Lynn Flynn and Mrs. Ralph House.

Others were Mrs. Josephine Cragher, Eleanor Neelins, Diane Crigler, Barbara McDougal and Mrs. Marie Chaffee.

Miss Palatin, daughter of Nick Palatin of Lowell Street and the late Mrs. Palatin, will marry James Hargraves, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hargraves of Alpena Street, June 24 in Detroit.

Try a Shower Bath

Water, water, water — it's the most cooling and refreshing ingredient in the summertime! Take it in a long, cool drink or enjoy it with a swim or a shower, a sail or a bubble bath.

Or put on your bathing suit and take the shower in your own back yard. Any way you take it, you will find that it is a bonus for you and yours as well as for the grass and the flowers. It will revive you!

I think I may already have told you about the time my husband and I lived in a part of the country which has very hot summers. I cannot imagine when the temperature is 114 degrees, or even a few degrees less.

When the thermometer soared, the whole family would go onto a balcony we had, wrapped in sheets, and turn the hole on one another. Soon we would be so cold that we had to go indoors to warm up.

REFRESHING SHOWER
Most women prefer a bathtub and most men like a shower just. However, the shower has special values for everyone during the summer. It was made to order for the busy, hurried but sticky, hot day.

In the first place, it doesn't take long, even when you take time for an all-over massage with warm or hot soapsuds, which you should use, considering the amount of perspiring we do in hot weather. Rinse well and you are on your way, greatly refreshed. Actually, a shower takes less time than it does to cook many vegetables.

Women often pass up the quick and reviving effects of a shower because of their hairdo. However, today almost foolproof protection is available in shower caps. Those with terry cloth linings are especially effective. The elasticized rim fits snugly and the lining absorbs dampness.

SHOWER HEAD
Then, too, the type shower head makes a difference. With the right attachment, you can adjust the flow of water from tingling to a flow as diffused and soft as a mist. Shower heads can be moved down from high to low so that you can wash from the neck and shoulders without wetting your hair and face.

Most of these shower attachments are reasonably priced and some are so inexpensive that they sell for less than a dollar. There is one which attaches to the faucet with a hose and has a rubber shower circle which rests on your shoulders. Even though you prefer tubbing in the winter consider the shower, several a day, in the summer.

This shower cap lets her enjoy the shower without a worry about spoiling her hairdo. Caps with terry cloth linings are especially effective.

Reports of Happenings in Birmingham Society

Have You Tried This? Finish Barbecued Ribs on Your Outdoor Grill

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's cook is a woman whose hobby is cooking. What's more - she wins prizes. Twice in the last month she has received awards from nation-wide contests.

Mrs. William B. Payne has 3 youngsters. In addition to cooking, she loves to cook and to dance. She shares with us her recipe for a barbecue sauce that is not too hot.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS
By Mrs. William B. Payne
3-4 pounds meaty spareribs
2 onions, sliced
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 1/2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon salt

Cut meat into serving pieces. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place in roaster and cover with onions. Mix remaining ingredients together and pour over meat. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours, or until tender. Remove cover and let brown for 15 minutes. Serves six.

Serve the thickened sauce that is left in the pan as gravy.

If you want to eat outside, cook the ribs earlier in the day, but do not brown them the last 15 minutes. Do this on your outdoor grill when you are ready to serve them.

Mrs. Hartman announced her chairmen as follows: Mrs. Robert S. Nelson, civic improvements; Mrs. Mac T. Whitfield, conservation; Mrs. John E. Windlate, education; Mrs. O. H. Lundbeck, extension; Mrs. Parker P. Rockwell, flower show; Mrs. J. Standish Sibbey, horticultural therapy; Mrs. Arthur R. Young, international cooperation; Mrs. William F. Maybury, marketing; Mrs. Robert B. Oliver, membership; Mrs. Verne C. Hampton, notification; Mrs. Glenn H. Griffin, philanthropy; Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, photography; Mrs. Donald D. Bos, program; Mrs. Cecil McCallum, public relations; Mrs. D. B. Eames, scrapbook; Mrs. Robert S. Cantoli, social; Mrs. John H. Patterson, ways and means; Mrs. Robert M. Glein, yearbook; and Mrs. Russell H. Galbraith, memorials.

The first regular meeting of the entire membership will be held Oct. 16 at the Brookside Drive home of Mrs. Verne C. Hampton.

Doctor's Orders

Hospital patients sometimes find that medication and lack of care cause their hair to turn dry, brittle, and dandy. The best remedy is a hair-cut to trim off brittle ends.

Because a relaxing shampoo and clean, well-groomed hair is a potent "tonic" for any woman's morale, one understanding doctor prescribed a 3-hour "pass" - so his patient could leave the hospital to visit her hairdresser.

Eastern PTSA Has Funny Skit to Close Year

Eastern Junior High School's Parent-Teacher-Student Association members attended their final meeting of the school year Tuesday evening.

Cast members for the "A. S. N. School" skit, which was the school's last skit, were Joann Hurlburt as schoolmaster, Mrs. Louis Hartwig as a spelling teacher, Donald DeVoe as a geography teacher, Mrs. A. L. Jesse as a history teacher, and Margaret Scott as an English instructor.

The school's librarian, Lorna Mackellar, who portrayed a student gave a humorous reading. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Don't Put Your Shy Children on Display

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Some time ago the collapse of a love affair induced severe insomnia in a young woman who decided to seek psychotherapy. She announced this most private decision at a big party.

With the loud, cynical and self-mocking bravado that characterized all her social behavior, she toasted herself in a highball crying out, "Drink to me, everybody and my trek into head-shrinking country!"

Ten months later parties had come a conscious strain for her, she was easily embarrassed. She had lost the ability to defend herself with the aggressive wisecracks that had long been her social stock-in-trade.

A crack had been made in the armor of bravado behind which she'd learned to hide her shyness with people.

One day she said to me: "Oh, I'm so happy to be able to be shy again! I was always shy as a little girl but mother, was so afraid I'd be a social dud that she made me ashamed of it. Now I'm being what I always was for the first time in my life."

Shyness toward new people is more natural response in children than self-assurance.

When your small Jimmy runs out to the kitchen instead of remaining in the living room to meet someone new, he is expressing his relationship. He needs time—until familiarity with the stranger has assured him that she's a friend.

RUNNING HIS DEFENSE
When we make fun of him, drag him back to the living room saying, "Come on, don't be so shy," we are ridiculing his natural self-protective equipment. We are refusing him the appropriate response to strangers.

Denied it, Jimmy may develop a secondary response. His shame of his shyness may begin to express itself in "showing off," in efforts to win applause by cute tricks, in attention-attracting conduct that has no likeness whatever to the shy child's spontaneous and sudden decision to give interest to a new person.

Parents troubled by a child's shyness need to ask themselves the question "Am I never shy?" It can be a very upsetting question.

We adults can get destructively detached from consciousness of our own shyness — that natural uncertainty we are bound to feel at the prospect of involving ourselves with people before we know who those people are.

We are so anxious to be masters of our social fate that we don't like to register the strain we feel at the prospect of entertaining our husband's new employer, of giving our first dinner party in a new community.

Yet it is shame of our own shyness that makes us uneasy with Jimmy's.

Plan Musicales Sunday
The 18th annual Michigan Music Festival will be conducted Sunday in the State Fair Coliseum, Detroit. Two performances will be given, at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Called "the largest panorama of piano performance in the world," the festival will feature 260 pianos arranged in giant fan shape, centered by 25 grand pianos and 25 organs.

Francis W. Smith, noted Detroit music educator, will conduct the concert, his 12th festival program.

Nearly every community within a 50-mile radius of Detroit is represented among the 1,683 musicians.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

"The girls in our 4-H group are making gathered skirts and would like to use the gatherer on the machine. How do you measure the length of material to be gathered evenly before applying the waistband? This seems to be quite a job. We will hold up finishing these skirts until we hear from you."

Mrs. D. W.

You must study the directions given with your gathering attachment for your machine. You can adjust it for more or less fullness as desired. I would suggest you make sample stitchings until you have the amount of fullness you like. Now measure another scrap of material about 12" long, do a row of your sample stitching on this. After it has been stitched, measure the length of your gathered sample. In this way, you can judge how wide the skirt fabric should be for the size of your waistline.

Next week we shall go into some step-by-step instructions about gathering skirts without the gathering attachment.

CHECK LOCAL PRICES

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:

"I have been sewing for my family for a long time, everyone thinks I do a good job. Lately, friends have been asking me to sew for them. Can you tell me what to charge for making different types of clothes?"

Mrs. W.T.

A week never goes by without my getting at least one letter like yours. Actually, this is an impossible question to answer.

Your fee would be determined by many factors; the quality of your workmanship, the community where you live, and the income bracket you are serving.

I would suggest that you or anyone interested in getting into this lucrative field, begin by doing alterations. You easily can find out the local prices charged for various jobs by phoning in inquiring. Your reputation, which will build up quickly from satisfied customers, will put you in command of the situation.

There are many women who would pay an unlimited price if they could find a seamstress who was an expert at fitting, a perfectionist in workmanship, and still have a flair for fashion which would be evident in the completed garment.

GET TWENTY QUESTIONS

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:

"I have just noticed your wonderful column in our paper although a friend tells me that it has been in for quite some time. Is there any way I may obtain the back issues I have missed? The questions you have answered seem to be the very ones I have had trouble with."

Mrs. R. McD.

Back issues of a paper usually are available through the circulation department.

Because of the many requests for back copies of Sew Simple, I have selected 20 of the most frequently asked questions from last year, and placed them in a booklet which is available to you. Please send 25 cents and a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Sew Simple and request your copy of "Twenty Questions."

WE ALL LEARN

"Dear Eunice,

"Love your column because I can digest it with each reading. I just finished putting in the most perfect pockets I have ever made in a pair of shorts. When I tried them on, they were much too large at the side seams. How can I take them in without taking out the pockets?"

Mrs. L.B.M.

I guess all of our fans will learn a little lesson at your expense. Always fit at garment FIRST, then make the pockets after the side seams have been adjusted.

You'll just have to take it all apart, fit the garment, and then start over again.

SEWING GLOSSARY:

Myrtle tape. This is a colored tape that is rather thin and will adhere easily to most surfaces. Excellent for marking seam allowances on your sewing machine. Place one color exactly 1/4" from needle for a guide for stay-stitching. Now place another color over this first color, exactly 1/4" from needle as a seam allowance guide.

Perhaps your question can be shared with others. Please send them to Sew Simple in care of this newspaper.

Flare Everywhere

(UPI)—The flare's the thing for fall. Women's Wear Daily reports the trend is picking up speed at markets. There is flare at the back of jackets, worked out in umbrella gored or a diagonally placed capelet. The softened, flare line on skirts gives a new slant to classic clothes.

Stitching Crepe?

Crepe is a fashion fabric this season. If you plan to stitch your own crepe dress, avoid stretching the fabric or flattening the crinkled texture. Home economists at Michigan State University say that crepe tempt to shrink by steam pressing. This may cause excessive shrinkage.

A recent graduate of Cranbrook Academy of Art is Richard Joslin of Fairfax Avenue. He was granted a master of fine arts degree in ceramics. A former instructor in Milwaukee and Wauwatosa, Wis., he was awarded the Benjamin Nardick Purchase Award in 1957 and in 1960, a University of Michigan Art Museum Purchase Award. He received his B.F.A. degree in 1955 from Layton Art School, Milwaukee.

Church Unit Has Meeting

The First Philatelia Class of First Baptist Church met Tuesday in the church parlors, with Mrs. John Howden, hostess for the afternoon.

Mrs. Ira Davis and Mrs. William Carlis gave vocal selections with Mrs. Nelson Sinitz at the piano.

The Rev. V. L. Martin, missionary home on furlough gave an inspirational message concerning his work.

Moms Club Welcomes '61 Officers

A candlelight installation of new officers was the highlight of Tuesday evening's co-operative dinner and business meeting of the Mothers' Club of the Pontiac Boys Club in the clubrooms on Pike Street.

Installing officer Frank Cushman welcomed incoming officers Mrs. Henry Warren, president; Mrs. Jewel Hammett, vice president; Mrs. Darwin Spassky, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter Peters, secretary.

Special recognition was paid past presidents Mrs. Hammett, Mrs. Arthur Longbrake, Mrs. Harold Mackenzie, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Herman Dennis, Mrs. Ford Snyder and Mrs. Clara Richards, honorary members, also received recognition.

Hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Longbrake, Mrs. Edwin Sutherland, Mrs. Warren Byers, Mrs. Peters and Mrs. Jack Nelson.

Outshine 'Cleo'

Tip to toe grooming sessions these days can make you more glamorous than Cleopatra, although she sent around the world for mystic potions and cosmetics.

American women know that, to need to spend only a small fraction of your time primping, pruning, and pampering—because basically all you need for "beauty-at-home" treatments is a liberal amount of soap and water.

A 'Handy' Hint

(NEA)—The best care for hands that poke into garden rands is prevention. Use simple plastic, rubber or cotton gloves. And before you put them on, dig your nails into a soft cake of soap and put cream on your hands.

Graduating From Mercy College

SHARRON LEE DENBY

Three area girls were among 38 seniors graduating from Mercy College June 1.

DONNA IRENE PUDVAN

They were Sharron Lee Denby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman P. Denby of Squirrel Court; Donna Irene Pudvan, East Square Lake Road; and Irene Marie Zoulek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Zoulek of Orchard Lake Road.

Miss Denby, recipient of a B.A. degree, majored in elementary education. Her activities as an undergraduate included membership in the Gonesians, the college dramatic society, Salmagundi, and the athletic association. In her junior and senior years she was president of the Student's National Education Association.

IRENE MARIE ZOULEK

Occupational therapy was the major field of Miss Pudvan who received a B.S. degree. Photographic editor of Outer Echoes, the college newspaper, in her senior year, she was a secretary of the student council and a member of Sigma Tau Delta.

Miss Zoulek, recipient of a B.S. degree in sociology, was active in Salmagundi, the athletic association and Sodality while a student at the college.

Complete Plans for Breakfast This Sunday

The Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club completed plans for a breakfast Sunday at Rotunda Inn Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Randall on Sharon Street, Waterford Township.

Reports on the state convention and the City Federation of Women's Clubs golden gavel dinner were given. Funds have been tagged for the club's hospital fund. Mrs. Fritz Stoddard will open her home on Ottawa Drive for the summer picnic.

Assisting the hostess with dessert were Mrs. M. D. Slapp, Mrs. George Paduck, Mrs. John Dow, Vera Baggett and Mary Eleanor Lockman. Mrs. Harry Locke was a guest.

It's Miss America to the Rescue!

By TOM FALLON
Muskegon Chronicle

MUSKEGON (U) — Miss America to the rescue!

Nancy Anne Fleming, the girl they're calling one of the loveliest and most charming ever to wear the mantle of Miss America, is coming to the aid of Muskegon.

The beaming brunette will be on hand when this industrial and waterfront capital of Western Michigan needs to bounce back from the loss of a $30-million annual pay-off by staging one of the biggest tourist and resort attractions in the Midwest this summer.

For a solid week, June 30 through July 8, Muskegon, through its first annual seaway festival, will try to "play away" its blues.

Rocked by the southern industrial lull — the loss of Borg-Warner's Norga Division (employing nearly 2,000) — and with new industry hard to come by — Greater Muskegon's 150,000 people will turn to their greatest resources to revitalize their morale and stimulate their economy.

These resources are one of the finest natural harbors on the St. Lawrence Seaway and miles of some of the best beaches in the world.

But the hope for success as the city wrings up one of the finest entertainment programs ever packaged for a Michigan summer, is Muskegon County's all-American girl . . . Miss America, herself . . . Nancy Anne. She's coming to add her vitality and appeal to the event.

It was just three months ago that Muskegon was flattened by the Norga announcement. The city already was a federal distressed employment area when the blow fell.

ENTHUSIASM MOUNTS

The idea of the seaway festival emerged from Muskegon's most despairing hours. Business slumped after the Norga announcement. A wave of pessimism swept over the city. But slowly the picture is changing. The enthusiasm which the festival is generating can take a full measure of the credit.

The festival program is impressive . . . aimed at bringing an avalanche of tourist dollars to stimulate business and, at the same time, focus attention on an American community that wants to show the nation it can do something for itself.

Statewide Unit Coming to City

Electrical Inspectors Association to Convene Here Saturday

More than 150 electrical inspectors are expected to converge on Pontiac Saturday to attend a meeting of the Michigan Chapter of the International Association of Electrical Inspectors.

A five-point program at Elks Temple has been arranged by Clayton McCoy, city electrical inspector and chapter chairman, and Paul Henry and Gordon Paul of Consumers Power Co.

Following a social hour from 11 a. m. to noon and luncheon at 12:15 p. m., the meeting proper will get under way at 1:30 p. m. with certificates of appreciation to all past chairmen of the chapter.

There will be movies shown of the disastrous school fire in Chicago, a survey of new codes regarding school fire alarm systems and a panel discussion of fire codes by past chairmen.

During the meeting, there will be a separate program for wives.

The giant promotion will be built around the three-day Miss Michigan pageant, with 48 of Michigan's most beautiful and talented young women vying for the title which carried Nancy on to fame and fortune just a year ago. The contest opens July 4.

There are colorful attractions leading up to the pageant, climaxing with a jazz concert July 3. A Midwest sports car gymkhana and

Put on Probation, Must Pay $150 Court Costs

Probation for two years and $150 court costs were meted out Monday to Frank Chas. 22, of 26784 Hales St., Madison Heights, for the felonious assault upon a woman who was showing him a home that was for sale.

Chas. became enraged and tied Mrs. Betty Daniels up with his belt because he believed her terms "too demanding" for the house, a probation officer said.

He pleaded guilty May 19 and was sentenced by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondoro.

Sentenced for Break-In Placed on Probation

Howard Crook, 26, of 2836 Goodrich St., Ferndale, was sentenced to Jackson Prison Monday for 1 to 5 years by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondoro for the daytime break-in April 5 of a garage. He took a power mower, bicycle and tool box.

He pleaded guilty May 22.

More than 1,100 newspapers and magazines are published on the university and college campuses of the United States, mostly by students.

an aerial fly-in will swell the concert crowd.

Festival events open with a colorful sports night boxing-wrestling classic led by Muskegon's top-ranked lightweight, Kenny Lane; Olympic star, Phil Balaban, and national golden gloves ace, Oscar German (all Muskegon products).

The community's top athletic figures, along with current high school and college stars, will be guests of honor for the show.

A giant yacht program takes the spotlight July 1, followed by an inspirational devotional sunrise service July 2 with ABC newscaster Paul Harvey as speaker.

A rousing Miss Michigan pageant parade is slated July 3 before the jazz concert, and there'll be a coronation ball on July 7 for the new Miss Michigan. An international square dance jamboree will climax the festival July 8.

YACHT RACE

Rounding out the festival will be a main street midway, with the city's downtown area blocked to vehicular traffic, daily fireworks, fishing derbies, goat or goat, parachute drops, sail and motorboat racing events.

Topping the yacht events will be the July 3 start from Muskegon of the Queen's Cup race, matching the biggest sailing boats on the Great Lakes. They'll compete for the oldest fresh water sailing trophy in the world, a cup presented by Queen Victoria.

A beachhead assault by West Michigan Marine Reserve companies will ripen things up along the lakeshore during the festival.

All major events, including the jazz concert and Miss Michigan pageant, are scheduled in Muskegon's new multimillion-dollar L. C. Walker Arena, which has seating capacity for 7,200.

Michigan tourist and resort officials have hailed the seaway festival as the state's finest summer attraction.

Sweet Sour Onions

Serve this as a relish with charcoal-broiled steak: Drain liquid from 1 can small whole onions, add 2 tablespoons each olive oil, vinegar and raisins, 1 tablespoon each brown sugar and catsup, half a bay leaf and a generous dash of MSG. Simmer just until onions are heated through; chill. Add minced parsley just before serving.

The so-called flying fish seen in warmer waters do not actually fly.

Even Bees Work Here

Michigan was 8th in the nation last year in honey production of 9,660,000 pounds worth $1,575,000. Not very impressive in dollar value? Maybe not, but honey is just a by-product. The main value lies in the fact that Michigan's dishes during her lifetime.

138,000 colonies of bees pollinated many of our orchards and field crops. Busy bees make big crops—some honey.

The average American homemaker washes up to 240 tons of Michigan's dishes during her lifetime.

Says 'Foreign Aid Needed Quickly'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — President Kennedy did not answer, in his nationwide TV broadcast, one of the most piercing questions in this country's whole problem of foreign aid.

It was this: Will the United States put pressure on backward and despotic nations to use American aid for the masses of their people up to the point of refusing to take it?

Stories of corruption and the rich getting richer and the poor poorer in countries receiving American aid increase. Kennedy himself in his broadcast Tuesday night acknowledged where this leads when he said:

MUST ASSIST THEM
"If we are not prepared to assist them (the backward governments) in making a better life for their people, then I believe that the prospects for freedom in those areas are uncertain. We must, I believe, assist them if we are determined to meet the Communist invasion."

His broadcast deliberately pitched in a low and somber key, revealed nothing essentially new about his talks in Paris with President de Gaulle and in Vienna with Premier Khrushchev. The heart of his talk dealt with Khrushchev.

GRIM TIMES AHEAD
With this and other danger spots in mind, Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said "the difficult and grim times which confront our country call for patience and determination on the part of all of us."

Echoing this Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, cautioned Americans to be "prepared for a long and continuing period of tension, uncertainty and danger."

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said "we should not minimize the difficulties we will face in the coming months."

NO BED OF ROSES
In short: the future is no bed of roses. It will be a struggle between the West and communism as far into the future as Kennedy can see. There are no short cuts, and there have been no settlements.

2. Kennedy, having put the nation into the mood of realizing the long struggle ahead without any optimism except his personal belief communism won't win, then made a pitch for the continuance of foreign aid.

Every year since 1947, when foreign aid was first proposed, there has been some opposition to it. There is now, when Congress is bucking down to the task of working on a new foreign aid bill.

By handling it the way he did, the first explanation of tough days ahead and then his explanation of how foreign aid is needed to block Red expansion—the President was actually making a pitch for broad public support of aid.

Without American aid, their end will be much sooner. They have nowhere else to turn for support except the United States. The Communists would make short work of them if they moved in and took over.

Everywhere around the globe where reactionary regimes hold power and receive American aid but don't really provide for mass benefits this is the reality.

MUST SHARE WEALTH
Source or later the revolutionary tide sweeping the world will wash them aside! Unless they are willing to share some of their wealth—such as distributing some of their land to the poor—their disarranged. The famous rocking chair had been moved to an obscure corner. The President sat in a straight, cane-backed chair piled with three cushions, presumably to give the cameras more of a view of the chief executive.

The desk was swept relatively bare. About all that remained on it was a small calendar, a green telephone and two books by the President, "Why England Slept" and "Strategy of Peace."

The bookends were decorated with small brass cannons, piles of tiny cannon balls, and little, long-handled swabs, used of old to clean the bore.

The old cannon could kill only a few men. The nuclear weapons of which the President spoke could kill millions.

Honest Talk Wins Much Praise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's crisp description of the bleak realities of a divided world seeking to avoid a nuclear war won praise today from members of Congress.

Following a nationally televised report to the people Tuesday night on his European trip, the young President rode a crest of bipartisan support for the hard tasks he said lie ahead of the West to win an ideological battle with communism.

There was general recognition among Republicans and Democrats that nothing really had been accomplished in Kennedy's informal talks with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna except to put the participants in a position to deal with each other on a first-hand basis.

But even this was recorded as a gain, along with the yet unfulfilled promise of the Soviet leader to work toward the establishment of a "truly neutral government in Laos."

REALIZES PROBLEMS
There was no determining, at the moment, the eventual congressional reaction to Kennedy's appraisal to the American people of support his new concept of foreign aid. His program is geared to lifting the living levels of developing countries he said could only be saved from communism of the free world offers a better way of life.

In Anaheim, Calif., former Vice President Richard M. Nixon described Kennedy's report as an "objective appraisal" and added, "He came back with a deep realization of the problems with which we are confronted."

Nixon told a news conference, "I hope he will give the country a sense of the urgency. You can't do that by telling them they have to sacrifice and then telling them what the country is going to do for them."

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the conference of Republican senators, said that Kennedy had dramatized the responsibility the United States bears to people in developing nations "if we want to build them up in the love of free-

DR. CARL GUSTAV JUNG

Dr. Carl Jung Is Dead at 85

One of Three Founders of Modern Psychiatry Suffers Heart Attack

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—Dr. Carl Gustav Jung, a clergyman's son who became one of the three founders of modern psychiatry, is dead at 85.

The psychologist succumbed to a heart attack Tuesday at his villa in the Zurich suburb of Kusnacht. His health had failed steadily for several weeks.

He had long outlived the other two members of psychiatry's dominant triumvirate—Sigmund Freud and Alfred Adler. Adler died in 1936, Freud in 1939.

STAYS ACTIVE

Despite his advanced age, Jung until the last few weeks had continued to read daily and correspond with disciples and friends in many countries. A few months ago he wrote a scientific paper on dreams.

Jung, whose father was a Swiss minister, was often called a mystic. Critics challenged as unscientific the importance he attributed to religion's influence on the human mind.

An early student of Freud, he broke with the Austrian master's school of psychiatry because of his insistence that nearly all mental troubles stemmed from sexual conflicts in infancy. Jung contended analysis of man's immediate conflicts was more useful in understanding behavior than uncovering the conflicts of childhood.

Lana Back at MGM to Pick Up Pension

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lana Turner is back at MGM to pick up her pension and finish off an association that began in 1935.

Twenty-three years," she exclaimed, "I should be creaking."

She isn't. She is as agile and stunning as ever. Her return to MGM is a sentimental journey, since that is where she grew up and flourished in an era when the studio was the capital of glamour.

She is the sole member of that glittering troupe—Greta, Joan, and she—who is still a top draw in films.

"Those were wonderful times," Lana remarked, "especially the early years and during the war. That was when L. B. Mayer was running the place."

"Then there was a change in administration, and I wasn't too happy. They were making message pictures, and I didn't exactly fit into them."

ONE EACH YEAR

Lana, whose message was somewhat different from what the new studio bosses had in mind, was given a string of 50-50 movies.

"I was so desperate to get out that I would have promised them anything," she recalled. "Finally we agreed that I would do a picture a year for five years at a very low figure."

"That was in 1953, and now I'm doing the first—and last—picture under the deal. Every year I worried that they would pre-empt other pictures I was doing, but they never did. I guess maybe the stockholders finally complained that the studio was losing money by not using me. So here I am."

There she is with Bob Hope in "Bachelor in Paradise," a comedy (what else?) about an author who moves into a San Francisco Valley tract and researches sex habits of the natives. Lana likes working with Bob; her only regret is that she doesn't get some of the laugh lines, too.

There is balm despite the fact she is working at a fraction of her usual take.

"By finishing off the contract, I get to collect what I had left in the MGM pension fund—$92,000," said the country's prettiest pensioner.

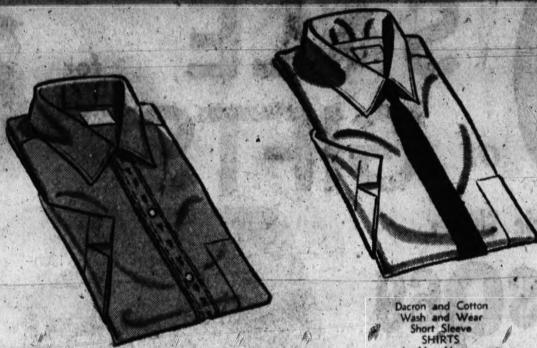

Her impressions on returning to the old lot: "The inactivity is depressing, but I'm pleased to see so many people I worked with still here." She'd be happy to work for MGM as a free-lancer—"at my usual salary, of course."

Mrs. James Walsh Dies at St. Joseph

Mrs. James E. (Marie E.) Walsh, 136 Erie Road, died yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after an illness of several months. She was 58.

Mrs. Walsh was a teacher at Donelson Elementary School and a member of St. Benedict Catholic Church. She was a graduate of the Academy of Our Lady in Chicago, Ill.

Surviving besides her husband are two daughters, Mrs. Charles Lavoue of Pontiac and Mary Anne at home; a grandson; three sisters. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Thursday at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home. Service will be held at 10 a.m. Friday at St. Benedict's Church with burial in Mount Hope Cemetery.

MSU Traffic Safety Work Gets the Ax

By BOB VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Memorial Day weekend — supposed to be a happy, fun-filled holiday — will be remembered only as a time of death and tragedy for the families of the 32 persons killed and the hundreds injured in highway accidents in Michigan.

Gov. Swainson, alarmed by the high toll, ordered the Michigan Safety Commission to analyze the cause of the accidents. He asked efforts to reduce the highway slaughter over the upcoming Fourth of July weekend.

Ironically, there will be still another casualty as of July 1 — the elimination of the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center, created to help prevent highway accidents.

Their provisional figure shows 570 killed on the state highways in the first five months of the year, 62 more than during the same period last year.

WHY, WHY?

Why, when the accident and injury and death toll is climbing higher, is the agency working at trying to prevent this being eliminated?

MSU President John A. Hannah says it was forced because the legislature didn't give the university enough money. Republican legislative leaders said the university was given more than last year and suggested cutting out some of the unsuccessful courses.

"The trustees were confronted with the necessity of choosing between painful alternatives and among values," Hannah said. "The decisions had to be made in the direction of preserving out increasing quality in the undergraduate and graduate programs and in furthering vital research."

The reasoning was, in effect, something has got to go. The Highway Traffic Safety Center was among those getting the ax.

The center received $225,000 in legislative money for the current fiscal year. With its elimination, MSU budget-makers figure a saving of some $200,000 will result.

Some in the department dispute this, noting that most of the 22 academic people employed by the center are on tenure and will be absorbed in some other department. Most will go to the Department of Continuing Education where the same work will be carried on, but in a cramped style.

member bitterly. "We're going to spend billions of dollars to send a man to the moon and back again safely."

"But Michigan apparently can't spend less than half a million a year to help the average driver go from his home to his work and back again in safety."

Center director is Gordon Sheehy, a career man in the work of traffic safety since he graduated from the University of Vermont and worked with the Vermont Highway Patrol.

He became director when a special session of the legislature, meeting in 1955, decided the center was needed and at the same time added 500 state police to help curb the highway toll.

The morale of his workers has slumped to a bottom low since the decision was announced, Sheehy admitted.

"We are all heart sick," he said. "I believe and they believe we have been doing a very necessary work in helping to prevent accidents on our highways. Then we get this."

"We had built up a national reputation in the field and then we are told we aren't wanted. It seems a shame that our work couldn't be given a higher priority at a time when the highway killing and maiming is mounting."

FBI Grads Hear Robert Kennedy

Says He Hopes U. S. Finished With 'Bama Brand of Violence'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy today expressed the hope that the United States will never again see the kind of racial violence which forced him to send a task force of U.S. marshals into Alabama.

In an address delivered at the 67th graduating exercises of the FBI National Academy, Kennedy said:

"We cannot expect that our problems and difficulties in connection with civil rights in the South will be solved without discord and disagreement. But we do have a right to expect that local law enforcement officers will do their jobs at all times; that they will preserve law and order."

Speaking to police officers from across the nation who have just completed the FBI's special training course, the attorney general developed the theme that the roots of justice lie in local law enforcement.

He has charged that police officials at Birmingham and Montgomery were less than diligent in anticipating the bloody mob violence which broke out when white and Negro "freedom riders" tried to test racial segregation practices on interstate bus facilities in Alabama.

Gavin at Ceremonies

SAINT-E-MERE-EGLESE, France (AP) — U.S. Ambassador James M. Gavin, surrounded by veterans of the 505th Airborne Parachute Regiment that he commanded in the World War II D-Day landings, attended ceremonies Tuesday marking the 17th anniversary of the Allied invasion of Normandy.

15 Arrested in NY Hitting South Bias

NEW YORK (AP) — A sit-down demonstration here against Southern theater segregation has ended with the arrest of 15 persons.

"The 15 were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct Tuesday night after they refused to heed police warnings to cease sitting on the sidewalk."

"They said they wanted to be arrested," said one policeman.

Police forcefulness of building guards helped bring an end to the major effort of the demonstrators at the offices of American Broadcasting-Paramount Theaters, Inc.

Four demonstrators had stayed 37 hours in a fourth-floor reception room of the company, hoping to force desegregation of the company's theaters in Austin, Tex., and other Southern communities.

LEMON SOUFFLE WITH STRAWBERRIES—Try a luscious Lemon Souffle for dessert that doesn't collapse when served! It's made with lemon-flavored gelatin and whipped cream—and best of all, it requires no baking. The lemon accent is enhanced by the lemon-lime carbonated beverage used in the recipe.

Collar of Paper Confining Souffle

Corn Muffins
Welcome at Luncheon

A light, high souffle is undoubtedly the most elegant of all desserts. At last, here is a souffle you can serve that is as light as a cloud but has the stamina of a corn muffin. It's a cool, luscious lemon souffle that requires no cooking. Instead, it is made with lemon-flavored gelatin and whipped cream, then chilled in the refrigerator until firm.

This is a souffle that will stay high and light several hours on the serving table, or for that matter, for several days in the refrigerator. Since it can be prepared well in advance, it's perfect to serve at your next party.

The dessert is made with lemon-flavored gelatin dissolved in hot water and lemon-lime carbonated beverage for a distinct flavor lift. The lemon flavor is accentuated by the addition of lemon juice and lemon rind. Serve the Lemon Souffle proudly, but confidently, topped with fresh, bright strawberries.

Lemon Souffle with Strawberries
3 cups boiling water
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 lemon-lime carbonated beverage
1 cup lemon juice
1 cup lemon rind
1 pint (2 cups) heavy cream, whipped
1 pint fresh strawberries, sweetened

Pour boiling water over lemon-flavored gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Stir in lemon-lime carbonated beverage, lemon juice and lemon rind. Chill until almost firm. Beat gelatin until foamy. Fold in cream.

Pour mixture into 1½ quart souffle dish or casserole until one inch from top of dish. Place a 3-inch collar of waxed paper around inside top of souffle dish.

The make waxed paper collar: Cut a length of waxed paper long enough to circle dish. Fold waxed paper in fourths, lengthwise. Bring edges together to form a circle. Circle inside of dish with waxed paper collar so that it extends about two inches above top of dish.

Press remaining lemon mixture into dish. Chill for several hours or until firm. Carefully remove waxed paper. Serve chilled, with sweetened fresh strawberries. Makes 8 servings.

Water Chestnuts Put Crunch in Bean Dish

Green beans, a favorite company vegetable whether they are frozen, canned or fresh, assume even greater airs when prepared with a tangy sauce. A good example is our cream sauce with water chestnuts.

Water chestnuts for years were an important part of Chinese cuisine. Today, however, they are contributing good things to purely American dishes such as this vegetable topping.

A five-ounce can of drained water chestnuts is all that is needed to lend subtle flavor and crunch to the following sauce for green beans. It's excellent on other green vegetables too, of course.

Green Beans Oriental
Cook 1 cup drained water chestnuts in 1 tablespoon butter for 3 minutes. Cook 3 cups french style frozen green beans until barely tender. Drain. Stir in ½ cup dairy sour cream and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add water chestnuts and heat vegetable through over very low heat. Serve at once.

Shrimp Dishes Have Foreign Background

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Staff Writer
How do you like to fix shrimp? We'll settle for a good salad anytime. But if you just put a dish of plain cooked shrimp and a dish of sauce in front of us, we won't lick.

The stores offer a wide variety of shrimp. Your willingness to work and your purse determine which kind you buy. If time is important and you don't care how much you pay per pound, you buy your shrimp cooked, shelled and deveined. If you don't mind a little work, you do your own cooking, shelling and deveining.

Last week we saw those enormous shrimp on sale; but the price was pretty steep. For most dishes smaller ones will do as well.

There aren't too many calories in one shrimp—between 5 and 15, depending on the size. What you serve with this seafood counts up.

If you've thrown the calorie chart out the window and want just good eating, here are 3 new recipes that will fill the bill. The first one is a curled shrimp served over baked bananas.

BANANA SHRIMP CURRY

4 bananas
Melted butter or margarine
4 cups Curry Sauce
1 1/2 cups fresh shrimp, cooked and deveined
3 cups cooked rice

Bake bananas. Brush with butter or lemon juice. Bake 15 to 18 minutes in 375 degree oven (moderate oven). Heat shrimp in Curry Sauce and serve over bananas on hot rice. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Note: Frozen or canned shrimp may be used instead of fresh shrimp. Allow 6 to 10 shrimp, according to size, for each serving. If desired, bananas may be cut into halves or quarters before serving.

*Curry Sauce
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup green pepper
1/2 cup tomato
1/2 cup chili
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup water

Melt butter in saucepan. Combine flour, curry powder, salt and pepper. Gradually add half of the dry ingredients to the melted butter, stirring continuously, to form a smooth paste. Slowly add 1 cup of liquid and stir until smooth. Continue in this manner until all ingredients are combined. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until sauce thickens (about 10 minutes). Makes 4 cups Curry Sauce.

There's nothing particularly new about French fried shrimp, but that's just part of the reason why you have a Tempura party.

Fruit and Macaroni Combine in Salad

NEW YORK (UPI)—Fruit combines with cooked, chilled macaroni in an unusual salad. Cook 2 cups (8 ounces) of elbow macaroni according to package directions until tender. Drain and rinse with cold water.

Drain and combine with 1 medium apple, cored and cut in wedges, 1 medium orange, pared and sliced, 1 (1 1/2-ounce) can of frozen grapefruit sections, thawed and drained, 1/2 cup of chopped salted peanuts and 1/4 cup of french dressing. Toss lightly but thoroughly. Chill. Serves 4 to 6.

party. The other foods dipped in batter and fried in deep fat are sweet potatoes and whole green beans.

Be sure to keep the fat at just the right temperature and cook only a small amount of food at one time. Serve it all white crisp and hot.

TEMPURA

1 1/2 pounds raw shrimp
1 sweet potato
1 pound green beans
1 egg, separated
1/2 cup beer
1/2 cup onion
1/2 cup green pepper
1/2 cup tomato
1/2 cup chili
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup water

Shell and devein shrimp. Peel sweet potatoes and slice crosswise into rounds about 1/4-inch thick. Wash green beans and remove ends; if desired, cut beans in half, crosswise.

To prepare batter, beat egg yolks until light; gradually stir in beer and Tabasco. Mix flour, salt and paprika; mix well. Stir in melted butter. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into batter.

Dip shrimp, sweet potato and green beans, a few pieces at a time into batter, then cook in deep fat heated to 370 degrees until golden. Allow 2 to 3 minutes for shrimp and sweet potatoes, 1 to 2 minutes for green beans. Serve with Tempura Sauce. Yield: 4 main dish servings.

Note: Sprigs of parsley may be cooked with Tempura. Wash and pat dry, dip into batter, then cook in hot fat until crisp and golden.

*Tempura Sauce
1 cup beer or ale
1 cup soy sauce
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon horseradish

Combine all ingredients and serve as dunking sauce for Tempura.

Yield 1 1/2 cups.

Another Oriental style dish is Shrimp with Almonds. This one is a quickie, made with a package of onion soup mix. Instead of rice, this could be served in pasta shells (now available in your frozen food counter).

SHRIMP WITH ALMONDS

1 1/2 pounds shrimp
1 package onion soup mix
1/2 cup almonds
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup water

Shrimp with Almonds
1 1/2 pounds shrimp
1 package onion soup mix
1/2 cup almonds
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup oil
1/2 cup water

In a heavy skillet cook onion and green pepper in butter or margarine until soft. Combine water, milk, soup mix, and curry powder. Add to onion and green pepper. Heat while stirring constantly. Stir in sour cream, almonds and shrimp. Heat thoroughly and serve over rice. Makes 4 servings.

Brush on Dressing to Broil Bananas

Bananas, cut in half lengthwise, brushed with well-seasoned French dressing, then broiled, are an excellent accompaniment to roast pork or poultry. Select red-yellow bananas, or ones which are yellow with green tips. It takes only a few minutes under the broiler—just enough to heat the bananas.

This Fresh Lemon French Dressing is particularly good with bananas. Soak 1 clove crushed garlic in 1 cup salad oil for an hour. Remove garlic and blend in 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard, 1/2 teaspoon celery seed, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 teaspoon minced onion and 1/3 cup fresh lemon juice.

A low-calorie substitute for raspberries and Devonshire cream is frozen raspberries spooned over creamed cottage cheese and served for dessert.

Wrap Corn Around Bacon to Grill

Here are two happy suggestions for treat corn combined with other ingredients. You'll enjoy them after you've been having boiled corn on the cob with butter for a while and feel like a little change on the delicious theme.

Grilled Corn and Bacon

Shuck corn and remove silks. Drop in boiling water to cover, using 1 teaspoon salt to each quart of water. Cover and boil 4 minutes or until almost tender. Remove partially cooked ears from water. Sliver ends of bacon to corn with toothpicks.

Arrange ears on a grill. Grill until bacon is crisp, turning to cook bacon on all sides. Remove bacon from ears and serve with the corn.

Corn and Crab Meat Salad
1 1/2 cups cooked fresh corn, cut off the cob about 4 ears
1/2 cup crab meat
1/2 cup dressing
1/2 cup green peas
1/2 cup water

Marble Chocolate Chiffon

Prepare packaged chocolate chiffon pie filling, adding chopped almonds and few drops almond extract. Cool and swirl whipped cream through chocolate mixture to marble, then pile it into a meringue shell for a luscious dessert.

Frozen Lemonade Gives Tang to Fruit Salad

A pretty fruit salad with zesty lemon dressing works magic on appetites in warm weather. Cut bananas in halves lengthwise and place on lettuce leaf; center with canned fruit cocktail.

Top with lemon dressing made by combining 1/4 cup mayonnaise with 1/4 cup frozen lemonade concentrate. Fold in 1/4 cup heavy cream, whipped, and 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Garnish salads with cherries from fruit cocktail.

In 40 years of married life, the average couple with two children spends about $56,000 for food.

Eichmann Prisoners Turned Cannibal

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Starving prisoners at one of Adolf Eichmann's death camps turned cannibal, a Jewish witness today told the court trying Eichmann for mass murder.

"You mean like cannibals?" Israeli Attorney General Gideon Hausman asked.

"Yes," Bakon replied.

Bakon, who was deported to Auschwitz at the age of 14, told the court that a family of three friends of his was sent to the gas chambers at Auschwitz after Eichmann had promised the wife she could visit her husband in another block of the camp.

Spontaneous Cancer Cures May Hold Key

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Rare and mysterious cases where cancer suddenly disappears may hold the key to immunization against some forms of the disease, says Dr. John W. Cline of San Francisco.

Dr. Cline, president of the American Cancer Society, told newsmen Tuesday that he had prepared from blood of persons who have experienced a spontaneous regression of cancer help regressed victims of the same type of cancer.

Rumors Are Reported of Mozambique Trouble

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Rumors of disturbances in Portugal's East African territory of Mozambique were reported Tuesday by travelers returning from the territory's capital city, Lourenço Marques.

Portugal has been sending heavy reinforcements to Mozambique in recent months while Angola, Portuguese West Africa, has been erupting in violence.

Assassin Harbored Slits His Throat

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—A doctor, who claimed he was forced at gunpoint to shelter the assassins of Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo, died Tuesday night after cutting his own throat, the government reported.

The doctor, Robert Reid Cabral, died in the hospital after surgery failed to save his life. Informants said he was on the operating table for nine hours.

The government said Reid Cabral severed his jugular vein with a penknife a day after he claimed he had been forced to harbor Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, charged with being the chief assassin, and three accomplices. Diaz was shot and killed and a companion wounded Sunday night by security forces, Reid Cabral said hunger drove them into the streets.

Claims Training Sessions for Moore Fight All Right

Boxer Most Unhappy

NEW YORK (AP)—Culio Rinaldi bristled today at talk that he has been something less than a ball of fire in training sessions for his world light heavyweight New York-Massachusetts-Europe version bout Saturday against Archie Moore.

Perhaps he had gone stale?

This brought a scowl to Rinaldi's Roman features.

"I definitely have not gone stale," he expounded through an interpreter. "It is my system. It is a good system. My friends in Rome know I never have had a bad fight."

"I feel very good all over. I simply is that I never look too good in training. I train hard but I do nothing spectacular."

Rinaldi has given up finishing his training chores in the parking lot of a midtown restaurant. He has required to a gym around the corner.

Rinaldi, 26 and handsome, also shrugged off Moore's feared right hand, the one that has put away many an opponent.

"I was not much impressed by Archie's right when I decided him in Italy. In one of the early rounds he landed a solid right on my chin. I was not annoyed."

"Then in the fourth or fifth he landed some left hooks to the body. They tell me I granted after each one of them. I don't recall doing that, but they certainly were no easy tags."

Rinaldi has been sparring with three Americans—Freddie Mack, Randy Sandy and Vince Martinez—to adjust himself to the local style.

"The American style is a lot different from that in Europe," he said. "They punch in the kidneys and the back of the neck. This is against the rules in Europe and it is enforced."

"In the clinches the Americans sometimes use their heads. The referee doesn't seem to bother much if it doesn't appear too serious."

He has mastered these little finer points of boxing in the United States, he indicated.

Reverting to 1959 Pattern

New All-Star Rules Listed

NEW YORK (AP) — The commission's office has set up a new set of ground rules for baseball's two All-Star Games, July 11 at San Francisco and July 13 at Boston.

Reverting to the 1959 pattern, each league will have a 25-man squad at San Francisco. Each will have 28 at Boston. In 1960 each team had 30 players in both games, which were played within a three-day period.

The eight starters, exclusive of pitchers, will be selected by the vote of the players, coaches and managers in each league. The rest of the squad will be picked by the opposing managers, according to the announcement Tuesday.

When it comes time for the second game, the managers pick three additional players. They have to keep the original 25, except for pitchers. Each manager

CIO, Lumber Teams Easy City Winners

CIO Local 594 and Talbott Lumber were easy winners in City Baseball League action Tuesday. A six-run 4th inning featured the CIO's 115-run of Don Nicholas at Joyce Park in a game filled with 14 errors, eight by the losers.

Four different players made two hits apiece to spearhead an 11-hit assault as Talbott drubbed the Oxford Merchants, 10-1, at Winner Field. Joe Gonzales socked three of Oxford's seven hits. Terry Anderson was the winning pitcher.

Tregenza Named Top Bloomfield Athlete

Art Tregenza, a junior, was named the school's outstanding athlete at the annual Bloomfield High Sports Banquet held last night at Bloomfield Hills Junior High. He excelled in football, basketball, track and baseball.

Paul Irvine and Paul Kasameyer were the recipients of two new awards given at the affair sponsored by the Bloomfield Lions Club.

Irvine won the first Robert Douglas Scott Memorial Trophy for contributing the most to a Baron team. Scott was a 1958 Hills grader who died last summer in a skin diving accident. Kasameyer won a Quarterback Club award for being the athlete with the highest scholastic record.

Bliff Jones (football), Mark Miller (baseball), Fred Ewald (golf) and Doug Debo (basketball) won most valuable player honors. Jeff Aldred and Gerry Bergmoser shared the prize in track as did tennis stars Buck Walters and Steve Woolson. All senior athletes received plaques. Letters were given out earlier.

National Football League "Rookie of the Year" Dale Cogdill of the Detroit Lions was guest speaker. Oliver Spencer, his teammate, was master of ceremonies.

Conservation Department Announces Cut in Services

Tight Budget Forces Change in Operations

Fewer Game Wardens, Drop in Parks Patrol Are Forecast

LANSING (AP) — State conservation officers will not be as much in evidence as usual this year.

Not will forest campgrounds be as tidy as in years past. Nor will state parks be as well patrolled and maintained.

Those will be the most noticeable immediate effects of spending cuts ordered for the state conservation program in 1961-62. An "austerity" budget, written by the legislature for state operations in the year.

After weeks of careful planning, state conservation officials have decided just where and how they will trim various operations to live within the spending blueprint mapped out by the legislature.

It was not an easy task. Conservation department accountants figured the budget hole $663,000 short of the $14.6 million needed to maintain all programs at their present level.

Chief reason for the shortage is the three per cent salary increase, plus medical and group insurance benefits, ordered by the state civil service commission for all 31,000 civil service employees.

CUTS MADE

Here, in brief, is how the department will pare its budget. "Forest" campground maintenance will be cut back. Only about 20 per cent of the usual 150-man summer maintenance crew will be hired this year.

Attendance at the annual 100-County Dog Show at Saline last weekend found this out—much to their sorrow.

The 13-year-old Pontiac girl, Lord Valvet, won best in match at the show. There were over 300 dogs entered. The weekend was capped with a victory in novice B obedience with a score of 197.

Pat Armstrong, Linda's 8-year-old sister, placed second in junior handling. The girls' parents are Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Armstrong of 2215 Oakhill.

Other Pontiac handlers in obedience trials were Charles Barnes, golden retriever, 1974; Nadine McKim, pointer, 1914; Mrs. Thomas as Rutherford, American water spaniel, 1954; and Thomas Rutherford, water spaniel, 1945.

LAND PURCHASE

The Pontiac Lake recreation area will be larger by 42 acres if the State Conservation Commission approves purchase of the land.

The commission meets Thursday and Friday at Higgins Lake.

Land under consideration for Pontiac Lake and two other areas in the state can be purchased as part of the development planned under the permit-building program.

The Bald Mountain recreation area near Lake Orion was crowded last Sunday.

SAFETY FIRST

A steady parade of cars down the gravel roads that run through the area caused an almost continual cloud of dust. As the roads narrow to one lane in some places and are very hilly, drivers had to be very alert.

One of the highlights of this year's meeting will be a contest between a team of archers, armed with standard long bows competing against a pistol team.

Other outdoor sports planned are trout fishing, golf at Belleair and Elk Rapids and boating and water skiing.

Solunar Tables

Many area fishermen have been using the Solunar Tables to select the best times to be on their favorite lakes or streams. The table below has been prepared by John Alden Knight and is for the next seven days.

Pontiac Youth Shows Adults How to Win

Linda Armstrong and her German shorthair are short on years but long on experience.

Adults at the annual 100-County Dog Show at Saline last weekend found this out—much to their sorrow.

Lake Trout Sleuths

You'd hardly think of the Great Lakes as a place to detective work, but this is just what a group of biologists and a wildlife detective are doing.

By WENDIE JARVIS

Sault Ste. Marie News

Written For Associated Press

Four years of marine detective work by the Wisconsin Conservation Department at Green Lake may offer valuable guidance when the time comes to restock the Great Lakes with trout.

The main lesson learned in Wisconsin is that lake trout will not survive in the Great Lakes without the spawning characteristics of their environment.

In the case of Green Lake, this lesson proved fatal to trout transplanted there from Lake Michigan. They could not reproduce. They could spawn, but the eggs could not survive.

The majority of trout now held in hatcheries as potential brood fish for restocking the Great Lakes come from Lake Superior. The Green Lake lesson indicates that they can thrive in Lake Michigan and Huron only if their original Superior environment—banks, shoals, deeps, streams—is matched in those lakes.

Green Lake, at 221 feet, is the deepest inland body of water in Wisconsin. It is eight miles long and three miles wide. The lake is big enough and deep enough so that lake trout should be able to live and reproduce there.

Between 1888 and 1944, Wisconsin state authorities planted hundreds of thousands of lake trout fingerlings in the lake. They just seemed to disappear. Fishermen couldn't catch them, and the trout were discontinued after 1944.

Then one day eight years later a skilled fisherman made history. He knew that lake trout must be found deep during the warm months so he put his trolling lure down 90 feet below the surface.

This fisherman began to catch trout that averaged nearly 16 pounds. Soon others learned the secret. More than 700 big trout were taken in Green Lake in the next three months.

But no small fish were caught. This indicated the Green Lake trout were not reproducing.

Most lake trout spawn over rocky rubble in various depths of water. The eggs slip down among crevices in the rock and are protected there from predators.

UNINHIBITED TRAIT

But Green Lake had been stocked with fingerling trout from southern Lake Michigan. Their inherited trait was to spawn over a hard clay bottom in water ranging from 180 to 360 feet deep.

When they matured in Green Lake, they sought a similar bottom, a smooth mixture of sand, silt and clay in 100 feet of water at a place called sugarloaf bar.

Sugarloaf bar was inhabited by hundreds of amphipod mud pupae, a species related to the frog. The mud pupae ate the eggs before they could hatch.

There was a shoreline area nearby of rock rubble where the eggs would have been protected, but there was no way to convince the fish they should spawn there.

Wisconsin authorities did the next best thing. They hauled 210 tons of angular granite rock out on the ice over sugarloaf bar in March of 1955. The rock fell to the bottom when the ice melted. There it formed a rock rubble area two feet thick covering 6,000 square feet.

AMONG ROCKS

Since then divers have found thousands of eggs scattered among the rock rubble and some newly hatched young trout. In time the rock rubble may outlive the mud.

puppies so that Green Lake can reproduce its own trout.

With this lesson in mind, Wisconsin authorities are guarding the Green Lake trout against any possible cross-breeding with other fish. When the time comes to restock Lake Michigan, these may be the only surviving strain of trout that can thrive in the southern part of the lake.

"We consider it important to preserve the so-called 'Lake Michigan strain' even though we do not have definite proof that such a strain exists," said Edward Schenberger, fish management superintendent of the Wisconsin Conservation Department.

"We would rather continue to keep these fish separated without positive proof than to find out in a few years that we should have done so and mixed them with trout from other locations."

OSCODA (AP) — The rare Kirtland's warbler, the famous little songbird which nests only in the jackpine plains of Michigan's northern Lower Peninsula, is the target of an extensive survey now underway.

Through the end of July, this gray and yellow songster will be sought, counted and studied on its nesting grounds, which range from the mouth of the AuSable River westward into the Grayling area and north into portions of Montmorency and Presque Isle Counties.

Purpose of this unique census, taken by Michigan Audubon Society members with the assistance of the Department of Conservation, is to determine the total population of the Kirtland's warbler.

The last survey of the tiny bird was made 10 years ago, in the spring and summer of 1951. Estimates then placed the total number of the Kirtland's warbler at 1,000.

That figure would represent all of the Kirtland's in the world. The bird is found nesting only in Michigan, and then only in certain habitat in the jackpine plains.

Every nest since has been found within 60 miles of Wood's original site.

Mayfield has authored a book on the Kirtland's warbler, published last year by the Cranbrook Society of Science.

Shooting in the 28 gauge division, Thielke broke all 100 clay birds to win the championship. He teamed with Larry Smith of Birmingham to place second in the two-man competition for the all-gauge honors.

Smith won the all-gauge individual championship in a shoot-off with Howard Conter and Chet Crites, both of Detroit, and Birmingham's Bill Brown Jr.

The Conter-Crites team took two-man all-gauge title.

Dr. Jack Want won Class A honors in the all-gauge shoot. The Birmingham shooter won Class B in 28- and 20 gauges.

Al Fruman of Birmingham took Class B for 416 and Mike Renjale of Pontiac won Class D in 20 gauge.

Want and Ralph Zimmerman of Birmingham were Class A champs of the two-man 20 gauge competition.

Conter was the high overall champion, beating three others in a shoot-off: Jack Patton of Detroit took A overall honors.

Royal C. Florence Schmidt, an All-American shooter, won the lady's 410 shoot. Another All-American, Jeanne Shields of Grand Rapids, took top women's honors in the other gauge division.

Estimate Deer Harvest at 76,790 Last Season

Michigan's firearm hunters and archers harvested an estimated 76,790 deer during last fall's regular and special seasons, final results of the Game-Wildlife Department's post card poll indicate.

As expected, last season's kill figure is far below the 1959 kill of 117,200 deer and represents the first drop in hunter take since the season's poor hunting weather and the hold up with the previous two seasons. It tops estimates for each of the seasons from 1954 through 1958 and closely approaches the 1961 figure.

Archery and firearm hunters with the year before. Archery sales fell from 4,650 in 1959 to 3,450, while firearm hunters totaled 61,340, a drop of 7,000.

Back kill slipped from 87,210 in 1959 to 47,000, largely due to the season's poor hunting weather and the marked drop in yearlings which generally make up a large percentage of each fall's harvest.

Hunters in the northern Lower Peninsula brought home 28,040 bucks while those in the Upper Peninsula took 14,950. Another 3,070 bucks were killed in the southern lower peninsula.

"Any deer" permits also experienced a drop in their shooting success. They took an estimated 28,370 antlerless deer and sub-legal bucks, a decline of about 40 per cent from the season before.

Antlerless take totaled 18,840 in the northern Lower Peninsula and 8,430 in the Upper Peninsula. A special 100-County deer census in 20 northern Lower Peninsula, 315; and southern Lower Peninsula, 65.

Archers fared about the same as other hunters, shooting 1,230 deer for their lowest take in recent year. Following is a breakdown of their kill: Upper Peninsula, 280; northern Lower Peninsula, 315; and southern Lower Peninsula, 65.

OCSC Skeeet Ranges Open During Evening

Evening skeet and trap shooting starts today at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club in Waterford.

Two fields are equipped with lights and white clay birds. The ranges will be open from 5:30 to 10 p.m. each Wednesday through the summer.

OCSC summer trap and skeet leagues are preparing to get under way. Officials report there are openings for new shooters.

Coming to Michigan

Michigan will play host to the 14th annual meeting of the Michigan State Park Association June 15-21 at Keweenaw Park Lodge, Copper Harbor, the group's president, Harold C. Mac Swain, announced this week.

Satellite Engineers Invent Lure

Missile Used for Fishing

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (U-P) — Three satellite engineers have come up with a powered missile — for fishing.

The device tosses a bait or lure to the precise spot where you want to fish, they say.

Paul Still, Robert McKirahan and Nick Milavich of Lockheed's missile and space division developed the idea.

"I was fishing one day and got mad when the fish started jumping just out of casting range. By the time we pulled up the anchor and moved the fish were gone," Still explained.

Still said they are working on a plan for a much larger model for use by lifeguards. That one could be sent to the aid of a person in trouble three times faster than a lifeguard could make it swimming, he said.

Flashlight batteries power the 18-ounce device.

The torpedo-shaped unit pulls bait through the water the inventors say.

A flick of the fishing rod kicks on the motor switch. When the device arrives at its destination another flick and the power is shut off. The tow unit floats, the lure of bait settles.

Employees Need Eight Seek Pontiac's Con-Con Seat to Watch Step

Sec. Hodges Says Big Business Must Avoid More Scandals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges today said big business must become more aggressive at keeping employees in line with the anti-trust laws.

He told the Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee that lack of enforcement may be one of the great failures of big business. And he called price fixing a sign of this failure.

"Management of corporate America must assume the responsibility for a more aggressive program of acquainting its own people with its policies, its commitments, and its philosophies," Hodges said.

The secretary's testimony gave the subcommittee the administration's view on what should be done to prevent a recurrence of the recent price-fixing scandals.

In five weeks of hearings, the subcommittee has investigated the circumstances that caused a U.S. district judge in Philadelphia to fine 23 electrical equipment manufacturers and 45 company officials nearly $2 million on charges of meeting illegally to fix prices.

Hodges said he has appointed an advisory council to frame a code of business ethics because "we felt that if something were done there, there might grow up a feeling of distrust in our whole economic system."

The council comprises 25 businessmen, educators, philosophers and religious leaders.

Urges Congress to Lend an Ear to Communities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress was urged today to make special provision for smaller communities in setting up any new cabinet agency on urban affairs and housing.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., made the suggestion to a House government operations subcommittee in endorsing President Kennedy's proposed new Cabinet department.

But Patman recommended adding language to pending legislation to protect the interests and economies of smaller communities.

"If such a department is approved by Congress and the president," he said, "the smaller communities of our nation must have equal status, equal treatment and equal consideration with our large cities."

2 Officials, 4 Firms Fined for Price-Fix

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—U.S. District Judge Carl A. Welman today fined two executives and four corporations a total of $101,000 on price-fixing charges in the sale of electrical resistors to commercial companies and the armed forces.

The executives were Edward W. Butler, vice president of marketing for Speer Carbon Co., St. Marys, Pa., fined $4,000, and George W. Vajer, sales manager, electronics division of Allen-Bresley Co., Milwaukee, $2,000.

Corporations fined were Allen-Bresley, $25,000; Speer Carbon, $25,000; Stackpole Carbon Co., St. Marys, Pa., $20,000; and International Resistance Co., Philadelphia, $15,000.

The individuals and corporations were indicted by a federal grand jury Jan. 18. All pleaded no contest except Butler who pleaded innocent.

To Study Liability of Tavern Owners

LANSING (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Frank Blackford today announced plans for a study of liability insurance for liquor licenses.

Gov. Swainson ordered the insurance department to undertake the study after voting a bill that would have lessened the liability of licensees in personal injury suits involving intoxicated persons.

Blackford said the study would cover the availability of liability insurance coverage for bar and tavern owners as well as the rates they must pay.

He said he hoped it would lead to offering of coverage by a greater number of insurers.

Six Democrats and two Republicans are in the race for Pontiac's constitutional convention seat, the county's 2nd Legislative District.

After July 23, there will remain one Republican and one Democrat who will match political with Sept. 12 to see who will represent the city when the convention opens Oct. 3 in Lansing.

The latest to submit biographies to The Pontiac Press were Democrats T. Boice Purdy, a 42-year-old marketing staff supervisor for Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and George A. Googasian, 35-year-old son-in-law of State Rep. Arthur J. Law and fresh out of law school.

When the deadline for filing nominating petitions had passed yesterday afternoon, the lineup for the Republican July 23 primary showed attorney Raymond L. King, former staff assistant with the GOP county committee, and Robert C. Smith, 43-year-old teacher of government.

VARIED ENTRIES

The Democratic entry list includes a union business agent, a former state representative, a housewife, and an employee of the Ford Tractor & Implement Division in Birmingham, besides Purdy and Googasian.

Dick M. Kirby, 42, a business agent for the Wayne, Macomb, and Oakland Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO, was the first Democrat to toss his hat into the ring. The member of the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees and 1960 candidate for the City Commission lives at 81 N. Edith St.

Now a hardware dealer, Leslie H. Hudson, 38, of 361 Gallaghy Road, put in his nominating petitions last month, settling rumors that the 1958 congressional candidate was jumping back into active politics. He represented Pontiac in the House of Representatives from 1955 through 1958.

Mrs. Gladys Neldrett, a housewife, also will be bidding for the Democratic nomination next month. A resident of 62 Mariva St., Mrs. Neldrett, 54, is immediate past president of the 400-member Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers and a charter member of the League of Women Voters, an original advocate for con-con.

Another Democrat in the primary is Carl O'Brien, a 31-year-old member of the Pontiac Democratic Club who announced along with his candidacy that he'd propose cutting the delegates' $1,000-a-month pay in half if elected. O'Brien lives at 477 E. Montreal St.

Googasian, of 105 E. Troquais Road, is making his first leap into politics, carrying as credentials a degree from the University of Michigan and a law degree received this month from the Northwestern University school of law. He plans to take his bar examination in September, hopeful of a career as a trial lawyer. He graduated in 1954 from Pontiac Central High School.

Pontiac City Affairs

Request Probe of Subdivision

City Engineer James N. Carlisle has been asked to investigate a half-finished subdivision where open sewers and unsightly mounds of dirt exist as hazards to children and nuisances to the neighborhood, according to nearby residents who complained to the City Commission last week.

The complaints were leveled against Featherstone Gardens subdivision on the north side of Featherstone Road on Pontiac's east side.

The builders were identified by Carlisle as Michigan Lumber Co. He said they had started the subdivision some time ago, got as far as erecting one home, "but apparently have lost interest since then."

The subdivision, not yet platted, and its utilities are all private property, making it difficult for the city to take definite steps Carlisle said.

Commissioner John A. Dugan also asked Carlisle to investigate basement flooding in certain sections in Northwest Pontiac.

Commissioners Wesley J. Wood and Robert A. Landry also lamented flooding as a result of last Thursday's heavy rainstorm.

"This was the third time in six years that the basements were flooded," said Dugan.

Dugan and Commissioner Milton R. Henry claimed for an hour on an old argument—Henry's belief that a spending program for recreation centers should be given top priority over such improvements as streets, sewers and the storm drains with which Dugan was concerned last night.

City Attorney William A. Ewart reported that property deals have been completed to extend a pipeline between the existing sewage treatment plant and the new facilities to be built under the Circuit Court order.

On recommendation of City Manager Walter K. Willman, Karl A. Walter was reappointed to a new five-year term on the Housing Commission.

June 13 was set for hearings on major neighborhood improvements.

Included are a combined sewer on Sheffield Avenue, Hollywood to Baldwin, assessed cost $3,088 and city cost $7,430.

On motion of Commissioner Landry, two sidewalk projects were added to the public improvement program. These are on the north side of Willard Street, Post Road to Jennie, and the north side of East Wilson Street, Jessie to Sanford.

Baswood, assessed cost $10,543 and city cost $13,825; curbs and gutters on Woodland Avenue, Dresden to Lakeside and Kinney Road assessed cost $6,334 and city cost $10,889; and a sanitary sewer on the east side of Woodward Avenue, opposite St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, assessed cost $4,271 and city cost $7,430.

He said this would seek continuation past the June 30 deadline for issuance of tax bills of $20 million, from which his group would try again to tack $3½ million onto higher education and $1.4 million onto mental health.

With the balance to go toward the state's $65 million debt.

Considering the defeat of similar measures before the session ended May 12, freshman Sen. Roberts said he is "not too optimistic" of success during the two days left.

He hinted at a special session. Another obstacle to the moderates is the fact that it might be difficult to get two-thirds vote to suspend the rules so the motion may be made since many legislators won't bother to return for the routine two-day adjournment sessions.

He warned that something must be done about the pending deficit.

"Should we go into a new fiscal year with that high a debt and barrel into another recession we'll be in national headlines again for sure," he said.

He said his group would probably caucus tonight or before the start of tomorrow's 10 a.m. session to map strategy.

Police in Jackson, Miss., today awaited Mississippi's first "Freedom ride" when the jells filled with "freedom riders" and more were expected.

No matter how they come, if they are found guilty of disturbing the peace, they can expect stiffer jail sentences and fines.

A spokesman for the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) announced in St. Louis that three Negroes would fly from there to Jackson today to test segregation policies.

Charles R. Gidham, national chairman of CORE, said the purpose of the trip was "to test air port terminal facilities at Jackson to see whether interstate travelers are afforded the same accommodations as everyone else."

City Hospital Sees Summer Slackness

After five busy months, Pontiac General Hospital apparently is now into the summer slack period.

Occupancy only averaged 85 per cent last week, Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, reported today. The occupancy rate had averaged well above the 90 per cent mark the first part of the year.

Euler said he was pleased with the occupancy rate in the new mental health unit. The 25-bed unit has 12 patients now and has averaged six a day since it opened May 15, he said.

Asks New Plan for Foreign Aid

Rusk Is Urging Special Agency With Minimum Strings Attached

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk urged Congress today to create a single agency to handle long-term foreign aid with a minimum number of strings attached.

Rusk told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that he was presenting the administration's new assistance program with an added sense of urgency because of President Kennedy's broadcast report Tuesday night on his trip to Europe.

Rusk also asked for a clear separation between military aid and assistance for economic and social development.

In dollar figures and the rest of the program, Rusk went down the line with the outline presented by Kennedy in his foreign aid message.

Committee Chairman Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., estimated the amount required to carry out the program would be $1.5 billion next year at $4.35 billion.

Rusk laid emphasis on the proposal for authority for the administration to borrow $500 million from the Treasury in the year starting July 1 and an additional $1.5 billion in each of the four following years, for loans on long-term projects.

Auto Future Safe From GEM Cars

ST. LOUIS, MO. (UPI)—Ground effect machines (GEM), those curious vehicles that glide over land on a cushion of compressed air, pose no immediate threat to the automobile, it was reported today.

Two General Motors research laboratories engineers said the GEM is promising for special jobs but isn't feasible now for use in mass transportation.

The two, Charles A. Amann and Jerold W. Scheel, reported to a meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers on an experimental air car GM has developed.

They said it skims over and on water at a four-inch altitude. Pure and air fans driven by 15-horsepower engines produce a continuous sheet of air to propel the GEM.

Its future in mass transportation, the engineers said, would depend on some type of guidance system, such as a special guiding roadway.

Without some form of guidance, the air car would be too tricky to handle in traffic, they said. A gust of wind that wouldn't faze an automobile could wreck a GEM.

more than 50 miles an hour, this same maneuver in a GEM would be a hazardous stunt."

But the engineers said the GEM would be good for special uses, such as in amphibious operation because the air car can travel over land or water with equal ease.

Civil Service Board Draws 2 From Area

A Pontiac attorney who lives in Ferndale, and a Ferndale attorney are among 11 members added to the State Civil Service Commission hearing board for employee grievances.

They are: David C. Pence of 885 W. Oakridge, Ferndale, whose office is in the Pontiac State Bank Building; and Edward H. Jacobson of 636 W. Drayton, Ferndale.

Franklin K. DeWald, state personnel director, said the eight-member board was enlarged partly to enable the board to conduct hearings in cities other than Lansing. Henceforth, he said, they will be held in Detroit and in Western Michigan to accommodate state employees called as witnesses.

With only eight members, he said it is sometimes difficult to assemble the four members required to conduct a hearing.

Demand Withdrawal of Antiviolence Bill

By ALAN CLINE

TOKYO (AP)—Thousands of Socialist-led students and workers kept up demonstrations in Tokyo today, demanding that an antiviolence bill shelved by the government be killed outright.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda was forced into retreat by strong opposition from upper house members of his own Liberal-Democratic party following riots in Tokyo and Kyoto Tuesday night in which 600 or more demonstrators and police were injured.

The prime minister, anxious to quiet discussion before his visit to President Kennedy later this month, abandoned plans to force the measure through the Diet before its session ends Thursday.

The Socialists, Japan's No. 2 party, were not satisfied and demanded that the bill to stamp out political rioting be withdrawn.

Laotian Reds Capture Base; U.S. May Quit Peace Talks

From Our News Wires
Communist-backed rebels, supported by one of the heaviest artillery barrages of the Laotian war, attacked and overran the main base of the government Padone defenses today.

The assault came in violation of the Laotian cease-fire only three days after Soviet Premier Khrushchev agreed with President Kennedy at the Vienna summit session on the "importance" of a cease-fire in Laos.

American officials, denouncing cease-fire violations, capped by the capture of Padone, said the United States is seriously considering quitting the 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos.

Swainson Vetoes Measure Altering Jobless Pay Law

LANSING (AP)—A bill making major changes in the state's unemployment-compensation law lay on the scrapheap today, all but killed by Gov. George W. Swainson's veto. The governor, exercising his veto power for the 14th time, rejected the controversial measure Tuesday. He denounced it as "neither fair to Michigan workers nor Michigan employers."

Sun, Showers to Trade Off for Next 5 Days

Sunshine and showers are predicted for the Pontiac area during the next five days. Showers and thunderstorms with a low of 65 may be expected tonight, the weatherman said.

Thursday's forecast is variable cloudiness and scattered showers and a high of 73. Temperatures will average about 2 degrees below the normal high of 77 and normal low of 57 during the period.

Swainson said critics failed to understand the impact of the proposed bill.

The bill has been represented as one that will avert bankruptcy of our unemployment compensation system, increase benefits to reflect living costs, restore equity to the labor dispute provisions of the law and improve the state's business climate," he said.

"It does none of these things," Supporters will need to muster two-thirds of the members in both Houses of the legislature to override the veto when they return tomorrow for formal adjournment.

Angered Western delegates to the 14-nation Geneva parley called off today's scheduled session. They called their capitals for instructions on whether there was any point in continuing in view of this major violation of the truce proclaimed May 3 and violated repeatedly.

The British delegation issued a statement recalling it had "agreed to attend the conference on the clear understanding that there would be an effective cease-fire throughout the negotiations."

The rebel attack on Padone was well under way while President Kennedy was telling the people of the United States in a TV-radio address from the White House Tuesday night that Laos was the one area which afforded some immediate prospect of accord.

To Vie for 7 County Seats

65 Enter Con-Con Race

29 Candidates File Petitions on Final Day

Field Is Short of Top Names for Oakland's July 25 Primary

By GEORGE TRUMBULL JR.
A field of 65 candidates, generous with lawyers and teachers but sparse of top political names, has cleared the first hurdle in the run for Oakland County's seven constitutional convention seats by filing their nomination petitions.

Twenty-nine waited until yesterday, the last day on which to file with the county clerk to enter the race. The deadline was 4 p.m.

The entry list shows 33 Democrats and 32 Republicans who will, barring any withdrawals or disqualifications, be on the July 25 county primary ballots.

Both are unopposed. Voters then will select a nominee for each party from each of Oakland County's six seats in the House of Representatives. Who will represent the county when the convention convenes in Lansing Oct. 3 will be decided in a general election Sept. 12.

No primary will be necessary for a contest which undoubtedly will steal the thunder from the rest. That is the one for the county's 12th District Senate seat, a prize sought by American Motors President George Romney, an advocate for a convention through his Citizens for Michigan, and Cleveland attorney William A. O'Brien, Democrat defeated in November for state representative. Romney announced as a Republican.

Both are unopposed. The only other unopposed candidate is Asher N. Titchin, a 34-year-old West Bloomfield Township attorney who filed in the Democratic primary for the 3rd District.

SEE HOT CONTEST
While the Democratic nominee is settled in this predominantly Republican district, a hot contest is probably in store for the GOP nomination between six Republicans, including Mrs. Berrien C. Ketchum, former president of the State League of Women Voters, and Henry L. Woodlawn, former mayor of Bloomfield Hills and president of the State Bar of Michigan.

Most of the candidates who seek to help rewrite the state's 1898 constitution are unfamiliar names in county political circles. An exception is 4th District GOP candidate Arthur G. Elliott Jr., county chairman.

Launch Cleanup of S. Saginaw

Campaign to Beautify Street for Centennial Begun by Businessmen

South side businessmen have launched a big cleanup campaign to beautify South Saginaw Street for the June 17-24 Centennial celebration.

Some businessmen were out on South Saginaw Street as early as this morning, trimming weeds as the first phase of an ambitious program launched yesterday at the VFW Hall.

The cleanup moves come as the city puts the final touches to its Centennial preparations. Bunting and other decorations were going up at the City Hall and Public Safety Building.

More than 30 south side merchants at yesterday's meeting decided on the cleanup, paint-up, fix-up move.

The group listed these objectives: "Knock down weeds, pick up the sticks, haul out the junk, slap on the paint, plant the flowers, cut the grass, trim the hedges, wash the windows and light the lights. Everyone get out the broom and pail."

FRASIE MOVE
City commissioners, notified of the move at last night's meeting, had words of praise.

"Many of our out-of-town visitors during the Centennial will be coming into town up Saginaw Street," observed Mayor Philip E. Rowton. "It's good to know that their first impression will be a favorable one."

Mechanics and property owners elsewhere in town are taking similar steps.

Virginia Woman Killed in Crash at Waterford

A Virginia woman was killed last night in a three-car accident in Waterford Township.

Mrs. Letitia Callahan, 77, of Big Stone Gap, Va., died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital four hours after the accident.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Gladys B. Carter, 51, of 2011 Drury Lane, White Lake Township, whom she was visiting.

The accident occurred at 7:45 p.m. at the intersection of Pontiac Lake and Crescent Lake roads.

Mrs. Carter's car collided broadside with one driven by Ted R. Gibson, 35, of 5012 Pontiac Lake Road, Waterford Township.

Mrs. Carter told township police she was traveling north on Crescent Lake Road, and had just begun to cross the intersection after pausing for a stop sign when the cars collided.

Gibson's car, traveling west on Pontiac Lake Road, pushed Mrs. Carter's car into a third auto stopped at the intersection.

His driver, Carol Jo Klopman, 16, of 1559 Easton St., Waterford Township, three young children in the Gibson car, and Mrs. Carter were treated for minor injuries at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Sober President Reports on Trip

In Radio and TV Speech JFK Says Cold War to Run for Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says neither he nor Soviet Premier Khrushchev won a victory over the other at Vienna, but chances of war should be less now that each leader knows better where the other stands.

"Kennedy reported this to the American people Tuesday night in a 25-minute radio-TV speech in which he hailed 'candidly' and publicly" about "a very sober two days" with Khrushchev.

In balance, the President found his first personal meeting with the Soviet leader "immensely useful"—even though, he said, a result was to expose more clearly the prospects of a long-term struggle between East and West.

On specific Cold War issues, Kennedy saw some hope that his Vienna encounter would break the deadlock at the Geneva conference on Laos over Soviet refusal to grant cease-fire inspectors freedom to check violators.

But he said Khrushchev struck a "serious blow" at the lengthy Geneva talks at the lengthly Vienna encounter when he threatened to pull out of the conference on Laos over Soviet refusal to grant cease-fire inspectors freedom to check violators.

SOMMER ON BERLIN
"Our most sober talks," Kennedy added, were on Berlin, where Khrushchev wants to boot out the Western allies. Kennedy said he made clear America is determined to maintain its rights there "at any risk."

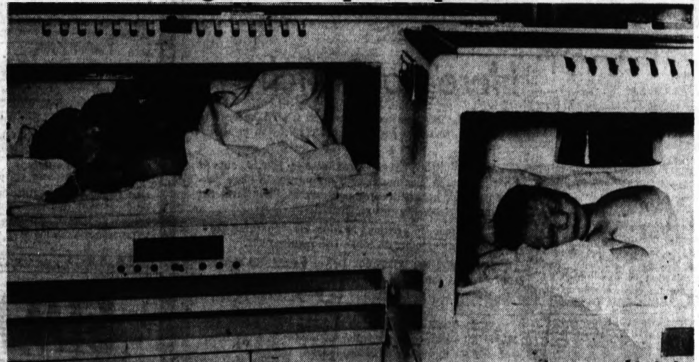

To any who might suspect serious deals, Kennedy added in reporting on his overcast trip: "No advantage or concession was either planned or taken. No new aims were stated in private that have not been stated in public on either side."

"Generally, Mr. Khrushchev did not talk in terms of war," Kennedy said. "He believes the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

The Day in Birmingham

Franklin Library Starts Drive for More Books

BIRMINGHAM — One thousand new books each year for the next two years is the goal of officers of the Franklin Community Library.

A fund drive has already been launched to raise the necessary money for the 1,000 books, a 300 increase over the library's regular policy.

The move for more books was prompted with the prospect of enlarged facilities for the library, which has been operating in one room since 1958.

The library will soon share a new building with the village offices, recently acquired with the purchase of Village Green by the village.

Six classifications of contributions are being offered by the library, starting with the annual membership of $5.

Sustaining memberships are $15; associate memberships, $25; contributing memberships, $50; patron $100; and sponsors, $500.

With the expanded facilities, the library is preparing to amplify its services by staying open more hours and offering a variety of programs to meet the demands of the increase population.

The Birmingham-Bloomfield Metropolitan Auxiliary of Spirit 9 will meet 8 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Orion Clark, 381 Catalpa Drive.

The cohostesses will be Mrs. Kenneth Allison, Mrs. Robert Appel, Mrs. Stanley Church and Mrs. Samuel Sapp.

The Congregational Church of Birmingham will celebrate Church School Day Sunday in recognition of the importance of the church's teaching task.

The special observance will be a departure from the tradition of the Children's Day program, as it was formerly known.

Using the theme "Followers In His Name" the program will begin with the morning worship at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services and will conclude with an open house in the church school.

The service will include the presentation of bibles to those children having completed fourth grade in the church school.

Well, Not Exactly

Here's a Switch

Joe P. Giles was ready to switch from Democrat to Republican to win a constitutional convention berth.

The Southfield real estate broker rushed out of breath into the courthouse with 10 minutes to spare yesterday to file his nominating petitions as a Democrat for the county's 4th Legislative District.

He produced petitions bearing 188 signatures. He needed but 24 more to make the required 222.

Giles, of 29400 Wildbrook Drive, waited. He thought there was a chance some missing petitions would come in before the 4 p.m. deadline for filing. They didn't.

"Can I switch to Republican?" he inquired of Mrs. Mabel M. Child, county election officer. He had the number—184—to qualify as a Republican.

"You circulated as a Democrat," Mrs. Child reminded Giles.

Castro Demands Committee Sifts

DETROIT (UPI)—The American Tractors for Cuba Committee agreed today to consider Fidel Castro's sudden demand that the fund-raisers go to Havana to negotiate the deal.

Premier Castro's demand was aired just 11 hours before today's mid-day deadline set by the U.S. committee for an "official reply" to its original acceptance of the trade which Castro proposed May 17.

A spokesman for the committee in Detroit said, "Premier Castro's insistence is considered to be an official response. We consider the deadline has been met."

A spokesman for Walter Reuther, Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the leading fund-raisers, said the committee was studying Castro's demand, would confer by telephone and hoped to give an answer by tonight.

Mild Weather Reigns Over Most of Nation

By The Associated Press

It was mild in most of the nation today, with some storms and rain, the same general weather pattern of the past few days. Severe thunderstorms broke out during the morning in the Texas Panhandle, with hail, strong winds and rain. The storm belt covered areas from Amarillo to 20 miles north of Sherman, with indications of severe weather in western and south central Oklahoma, extreme northeastern parts of Texas south plains and extreme north central Texas.

Campaign Train on 9-City Tour

'Special' Fighting for Rail Freedoms Visits Pontiac Today

Michigan's top railroad officials did some "freedom riding" through Pontiac this morning in an effort to shake off some past-century shackles of government regulation.

A campaign train, the "Four Freedoms Special," pulled into Pontiac shortly after 9 a.m. at part of a three-day whistle-stop tour of nine cities.

Among those aboard the special were H. A. Sanders of Bloomfield Township, vice president and general manager of Grand Trunk Western Railroad.

A campaign breakfast was served aboard the train during the stop here.

"The railroads are fighting for four freedoms in the interest of providing the most efficient, lowest-cost transportation to the public," according to Sanders. "These are freedom from excessive regulation, freedom from excessive taxation, freedom from subsidized competition and freedom to own and operate other forms of transportation."

The train was draped with bunting and pennants and covered with slogans, in the manner of old-time political campaign trains.

Originating at Detroit's Union station, it visited Lansing and Grand Rapids Monday; Jackson, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo Tuesday; and Pontiac, Flint and Tropic Huron today.

Somber Kennedy Talks of Cold War world will move his way without resort to force. Most of all, he predicted the triumph of communism in the new and less developed countries.

Denying this inevitability of the Communist victory, Kennedy appealed for national support of his $4.8-billion program of foreign aid for the coming year, much of which is earmarked for newly developing nations. "We have no more crucial obligation now," he said.

The youthful President spoke earnestly and somberly and partly without text as he recommended the high spots of his $2.8-billion week's trip to Europe from which he returned Tuesday morning.

During the afternoon, before going on the air at 7 p.m. EDT, he spent 1½ hours briefing congressional leaders at the White House.

"The battle for freedom takes many forms," Kennedy said. "You devote as much assistance is needed as never before."

Kennedy received a standing ovation when he arrived at the field house, where the graduation exercises were held, and again when he was introduced by the academy superintendent, Rear Adm. John F. Davidson.

After his speech, Kennedy handed diplomas to the honor graduates, headed by Jerome F. Smith Jr. of San Diego, Calif., who ranked No. 1 among the 785 receiving degrees.

Only the top 95 had the distinction of receiving their diplomas from the President's hands.

At Annapolis, Md., today, Kennedy told the 1961 graduates of the U. S. Naval Academy they must be prepared for leadership in a troubled world.

"The battle for freedom takes many forms," Kennedy said. "You devote as much assistance is needed as never before."

Kennedy received a standing ovation when he arrived at the field house, where the graduation exercises were held, and again when he was introduced by the academy superintendent, Rear Adm. John F. Davidson.

Parolee Pleads Guilty to Safe, Cash Robbery

Danile Holton, a parolee from Commerce Township, Monday pleaded guilty to stealing a safe containing $10,400 in cash and checks from the Farmington Country Club.

He was arraigned before Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dandrea, who set sentencing, after Holton's background is explored by the Probation Department, for June 10.

Holton awaits sentencing in the county jail confined there under a $5,000 bond.

The 24-year-old Holton, 921 Dunderath St., turned himself into police May 24 when he learned police were looking for him after fingerprints at the scene of the May 8 robbery were his.

The safe later was recovered from a gravel pit.

Michigan Tech Given Grant for N-Reactor

BOUGHTON (AP) — Michigan Tech has been awarded a $14,500 grant from the Atomic Energy Commission for the purchase of a reactor simulator. The grant will augment two previous AEC grants. The new equipment is to be installed in space being altered to provide a five-room unit with facilities for nuclear processing, nuclear reaction operation, control and design, for irradiation and for accurate radiation determinations.

Demands an Exam on Stabbing Charge

Accused of stabbing his estranged wife in Benadette Park, Joe Hughes, 31, of 141 W. South Boulevard, 30 days demanded examination on a felonious assault charge before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Mary L. Hughes, 33, of 45 Pleasant View Drive, told Pontiac police that he forced her into his car Friday, then beat her and stabbed her in the right hand with a knife.

McCallum scheduled the pre-trial hearing for Hughes for June 14. Bond was set at $100.

Wire Insulator Firm Starts Up in Holland

HOLLAND (AP) — Hampton Manufacturing, Inc., a new producer of wire insulators for automotive, furniture and bedding industries, has started operations in Holland.

Wife-Slaying Study Shows Act Inevitable

MONTREAL (AP) — A study of the cases of eight husbands who killed their wives says the slayings were inevitable because each man felt it was the only way to end the relationship. Dr. Brum Cornier of Montreal told the third World Congress of Psychiatry.

Cornier, associate psychiatrist at Royal Victoria Hospital, said that in each case the couple had been deeply attracted at the start, but that the marriage had become permeated with distrust, jealousy and retaliation.

ing jail terms of from a few years to life for slaying their wives. Despite a variety of circumstances, he said, a similar pattern had developed in each case.

The husband and wife fell from the start that they were in some way interlocked. Then disputes arose followed by separations, reconciliations and infidelity.

The installation of board members at Tuesday's annual luncheon of Congregation B'nai Israel was impressive with the presentation of corsages to the jewel ceremony. President Mrs. Sidney Czeizler of Kendry Avenue (at right) congratulates Mrs. Maurice Schluskel of Brookdale Street (center) and Mrs. Michael Davis of Illinois Avenue, incoming board members.

Mrs. Edward Blumeno of Ward Road (at left) joins Mrs. Irving Koper of Menominee Road, installing officer; and Mrs. Joseph Partney of Seventy members and guests of the Congregation B'nai Israel Sisterhood were present for the annual luncheon Tuesday at Alban's Country Cousin.

New board members are Mrs. Alvin Jacobson, Mrs. Edward Blumeno, Mrs. David Saks, Mrs. Michael Davis, Mrs. Joseph Partney and Mrs. Maurice Schluskel. Mrs. David Horowitz, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Milton Rosenbaum, former Pontiac resident and wife of Rabbi Rosenbaum of Temple Immanuel, Oak Park, who reviewed Lillian Hellman's play, "Toys in the Attic." Chairmen for the afternoon were Mrs. Abraham Avdenka and Mrs. Karl Benz.

Rabbi Israel Goodman offered the closing prayer.

Iron Wrong Side

(NEA) — If you "touch up" wash-wear clothes after laundering, always iron on the wrong side to prevent surface shine.

Garden Club President Announces Chairmen

The board of directors of the Pontiac Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association met with the new president, Mrs. William B. Hartman, at her home on Pitt Road for coffee Tuesday morning.

Plans were discussed and it was decided to award the Grace Fitzgerald Memorial scholarship to a deserving student at MVO.

Mrs. Hartman announced her chairmen as follows: Mrs. Robert S. Nelson, civic improvement; Mrs. Mac T. Whitfield, conservation; Mrs. John E. Windiate, education; Mrs. O. H. Lundbeck, extension; Mrs. Parker P. Rockwell, flower show; Mrs. J. Tanshik, horticultural therapy; Mrs. Arthur R. Young, international cooperation; Mrs. William F. Maybury, marketing; Mrs. Robert B. Oliver, membership; Mrs. Verne C. Hampton, notification; Mrs. Glenn H. Griffin, philanthropy; Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, photography; Mrs. Donald D. Bo, program; Mrs. Cecil McCallum, public relations; Mrs. D. B. Eames, scrapbook; Mrs. Robert J. Castell, social; Mrs. John H. Patterson, ways and means; Mrs. Robert M. Glenn.

'Parting' Words

(NEA) — If your nose is longer than you'd prefer, be sure you never part your hair in the center. It will only accentuate the difficulty.

The first regular meeting of the entire membership will be held Oct. 16 at the Brookside Drive home of Mrs. Verne C. Hampton.

Have You Tried This? Finish Barbecued Ribs on Your Outdoor Grill

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's cook is a woman whose hobby is contesting. What's more — she wins prizes. Twice in the last month she has received awards from nation-wide contests.

Mrs. William B. Payne has 3 youngsters. In addition to contesting, she loves to cook and to dance. She shares with us her recipe for a barbecue sauce that is not too hot.

BARBECUED SPARKLES
By Mrs. William B. Payne
2-4 pounds meaty spareribs
3 onions, sliced
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cups barbecue sauce
1 tablespoon salt

1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 cup catsup
1/2 cup water

Cut meat into serving pieces. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place in roaster and cover with onions. Mix remaining ingredients together and pour over meat. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for 1 1/2 hours, or until tender. Remove cover and let brown for 15 minutes. Serves six.

Serve the thickened sauce that is left in the pan as gravy.

If you want to eat outside, cook the ribs earlier in the day, but do not brown them the last 15 minutes. Do this on your outdoor grill when you are ready to serve them.

Doctor's Orders

Hospital patients sometimes find that medication and lack of care cause their hair to turn dry, brittle, and dandy. The best remedy is a hair-cut to trim off brittle ends.

Because a relaxing shampoo and clean, well-groomed hair is a potent "tonic" for any woman's morale, one understanding doctor prescribed a 3-hour "pass" so his patient could leave the hospital to visit her hairdresser.

KNOW FRUSTRATION—These three men said they were often thwarted in their efforts to speed up the United States space program during the difficult years of the middle 50s. They are (from left) Roy Johnson, one-time top Pentagon space planner; Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, retired commander of the Army team that developed the Redstone missile, and rocket expert Werner von Braun.

Curious Drawn by Race Trouble

Break Up White Groups on a Second Night of Unrest in N. Carolina

TRINITY, N.C. (AP)—A trickle of curiosity seekers stood aimlessly in the streets of this wayside community today after a second night of racial unrest threatened trouble.

Highway patrol reinforcements were dispatched Tuesday night after milling crowds of white persons formed, dispersed and regrouped almost without purpose. Officers reported a fire was started in an unmarked Negro elementary school about 12:30 a.m. but was extinguished before any serious damage was done.

A cross, about eight feet high, was burned on the edge of a Negro section. Officers said most of the crowd, young people dressed in shorts and gala summer attire, apparently was drawn to this community of 1,000 five miles south of High Point on the heels of an interracial brawl Monday night. The Monday night fight apparently was touched off after a 6 More Firms Indicted by U.S.

State Company Listed in Price-Fix Suit Over Electrical Gear Cost

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—The government's antitrust division has moved against another segment of the electrical equipment industry, obtaining pre-filing indictments against six leading producers of electronic hardware used by communications and power utilities.

The six firms have sales of $30 million annually, supplying 75 per cent of the transmission equipment used east of the Rocky Mountains on telephone, telegraph and power line poles and underground utility lines.

Spokesmen for three of the firms said they were surprised by the charges.

The indictments, returned Tuesday by a federal grand jury to U. S. Dist. Court Judge Robert E. Tolan, charged that for many years the manufacturers conspired to maintain noncompetitive prices and uniform discounts and to establish noncompetitive distribution practices.

ESPECIALLY HIGH
 The result, the grand jury said, was that the hardware prices were maintained at artificially high levels and "distributions and sales utility companies have been denied the right to receive competitive bids."

Named in the indictments were: Oliver Electrical Manufacturing Co., Battle Creek, Mich.; Utilities Service Co., Allentown, Pa.; McGraw-Edison Co., Elgin, Ill.; Joseph Manufacturing Co., Chicago; A. B. Chance Co., Centerville, Mo.; Hubbard and Co., Chicago.

If convicted, they face possible maximum fines of $50,000.

Waite's Owner, Allied, Reports Earnings Rise

Allied Stores Corp., which owns Waite's Department Store at Saginaw and Huron streets, reported today that net earnings per share for the quarter ending April 30, 1961, were $1.10.

Per-share net on common stock was 17 cents as compared to 8 cents last year. Sales rose slightly less than 1 per cent to $145,823.

However, for the year ending April 30, sales were off a little under 1 per cent at $581,567.34, and net earnings per share were $1.10, a drop of $1.30 to $1.10.

Allied Stores owns an extensive string of department stores including Jerm's in New York and New Jersey, Jordan Marsh in the Boston area, Hertsch's in Kansas City and the Bon Marche stores in a number of cities.

TAKE OVER PAGES Talents of Skaters Outweigh Flaws

By FRED DANZIG
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Maybe it was the presence of Hugh Downs as the announcer for "Summer on Ice—1961," but I detected a definite scientific push behind this annual NBC-TV special last night.

ITEM: Our astronauts, we were told, learned from the spectacular skating of Ronnie Robertson that it is possible to spin at 420 revolutions per minute and suppress dizziness.

ITEM: Peggy Lee dispelled the notion, current in jazz circles, that her voice is mellow and soft. Last night, Miss Lee, attired in shimmering, skin-tight wardrobe, put the torch to "St. Louis Blues" and "Honey, Look Me Over." A few poodles appeared, but the risk did not solve into a giant swimming pool.

ITEM: These were just a few of the unexpected bits of information gleaned from the 21st anniversary special of the "Icecapades" troupe. The greatest reward came, however, at the end, as the closing credits crawled up the TV screen.

I noticed that the unit manager for the program, which was sponsored by the U. S. Figure Skating Association, was a fellow named Lloyd Bookman.

The hour had something for everyone as it skidded along with music ranging from opera—"Tannhauser," "La Traviata"—"Il Trovatore"—to rock 'n' roll. The skating of Ronnie Robertson continues to amaze and delight, as does the slapstick comedy of the Three Bopkins.

Other pros who come up with fresh patterns and stunts are Cathy Machuga, Hans Litta and the team of Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul.

On the demerit side we find the banal chatter forced upon Lawrence and Lee between numbers, the lackluster contributions of the Kirby Stone Four, the static camera work, the out-of-synch pre-recorded songs and the awkward applause scenes that Lee and Lawrence were obliged to smile through.

These amateurish production touches were outweighed by the talents of the skating stars.

Plans New Try to Find Lakes' 1st Sailing Ship

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—A new attempt to find the wreck of the first sailing vessel on the Great Lakes, the Griffin, is planned.

Norman McCready of Indianapolis, a Cheboygan reporter, says he expects to arrive about June 13 to review a search he started last summer.

His cruiser, Panamara, is outfitted for underwater scanning and was used in locating the sunken freighter Bradley in Lake Michigan last year.

The Griffin was lost in a storm in 1857 and is believed to have gone down off Manitowish Island, at the top of Lake Huron in Canadian waters.

Supersonic Airliner May Be First for Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stuart G. Tipton, president of the Air Transport Association, said there is a likelihood that the Soviet Union may become the first country to produce a supersonic transport.

Tipton, writing in the General Electric "Defense Quarterly," a publication of General Electric, Schenectady, N.Y., estimated the cost of developing and manufacturing passenger planes capable of flying three times the speed of sound at from $12 million to $25 million each, or two to five times as much as today's biggest jets.

Tipton said that Great Britain, France and West Germany also are "more than actively interested" in developing and building a supersonic airliner.

Would Do Paar's Show Beside Swimming Pool

By EARL WILSON
 NEW YORK—Groucho Marx—who isn't celebrated for the way he compliments people—really cheered me up the other night as I was digging into the hamburger, when he said, "You look very well."

"Thank you," I bashfully replied. "You," commented Groucho, "don't look as gross as usual."

Groucho wished I'd clear up some things which I'd left unclear. About him ever doing the Jack Paar show if Jack should leave: "I would never do any regular show from New York... I would never do... There's nobody who can do that show as Jack Paar does. He's got a boyish charm; I'm sure a lot of women are stuck on him."

But wouldn't he appear on a Jack Paar replacement occasionally if it should come to that? "Once a week," he said, "if it could be done around my swimming pool in Beverly Hills!"

Groucho, his wife Eden and his children will be vacationing in Honolulu. "How old is Melinda?" Groucho snorted, "to coerce me into taking her to Honolulu!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL
 Jack Barry interviewed a child the other day who said, "My brother has the mumps." Now Jack's running a fever and scared... Frank Sinatra's hoping to snare Bing Crosby for a surprise walk-on in his "Badlands"... Tony Martin lost the caps off his front teeth—$500 worth—during his Waldorf closing... Maximilian Schell gave Nancy Kwan a big birthday party, plus a lighter inscribed "I Love You" in Chinese... The Gower Chapmans are vacationing on a boat, cruising up and down the California coast... EARL'S PEARLS: Many great men come from small towns—but you can't always tell if it was because of ambition or gossip—Ima Washout... TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's a fellow so henpecked, that if he joined a nudist camp his wife would tell him what not to wear... WISH I'D SAID THAT: On TV a horror film is one that is interrupted by six commercials in fifteen minutes... There's now a chain letter for hypochondriacs. Send your symptoms to five friends, and if you're real lucky you start an epidemic. One guy broke the chain and ended up healthy... That's earl, brother.

Ann Arbor Republicans Criticized for Endorsing 3

EAST LANSING (AP)—Ann Arbor Republicans have drawn criticism from the Michigan Association of School Boards for endorsing three candidates for the Ann Arbor School Board.

Directors of the association said Tuesday they had adopted a resolution voicing "apprehension upon any action upon the part of any political group that would seek to alter the traditional nonpartisan conduct of school elections."

Groucho, his wife Eden and his children will be vacationing in Honolulu. "How old is Melinda?" Groucho snorted, "to coerce me into taking her to Honolulu!"

Auto Future Safe From GEM Cars

ST. LOUIS, MO. (UPI) — Ground effect machines (GEM), those curious vehicles that glide over land on a cushion of compressed air, pose no immediate threat to the automobile, it was reported today.

Two General Motors research laboratories engineers said the GEM is promising for special jobs but isn't feasible now for use in mass transportation.

The two, Charles A. Amann and Gerald W. Scheel, reported to a meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers on an experimental air car GM has developed.

They said it skims over and on water at a four-inch altitude. Force and air fans driven by 15-horsepower engines produce a continuous sheet of air to propel the GEM.

Its future in mass transportation, the engineers said, would depend on some type of guidance system, such as a special guiding roadway.

Without some form of guidance, the air car would be too tricky to handle in traffic, they said. A gust of wind that wouldn't faze an automobile could wreck a GEM.

Moreover, they said, "While automobiles routinely pass within a few feet while traveling more than 50 miles an hour, this same maneuver in a GEM would be a hazardous stunt."

But the engineers said the GEM would be good for special uses, such as in amphibious operation because the air car can travel over land or water with equal ease.

Civil Service Board Draws 2 From Area

A Pontiac attorney who lives in Ferndale, and a Ferndale attorney are among 11 members added to the State Civil Service Commission hearing board for employee grievances.

They are: David C. Pence of 885 W. Oakridge, Ferndale, whose office is in the Pontiac State Bank Building; and Edward M. Jacobson of 606 W. Drayton, Ferndale.

Franklin K. DeWald, state personnel director, said the eight-member board was enlarged partly to enable the board to conduct hearings in cities other than Lansing. Henceforth, he said, they will be held in Detroit and in Western Michigan to accommodate state employees called as witnesses.

With only eight members, he said it is sometimes difficult to assemble the four members required to conduct a hearing.

Two Killed in Collision With Carload of Teens

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Two Grand Rapids men were killed early today in the collision of their small foreign auto and a carload of teenage youths at a southwest intersection.

The victims were motorist Howard E. Mead, 37, and his passenger, Clifford M. Fultz, 22.

Police said they were struck at high speed by an auto driven by Roy D. Baker, 18, of Byron Center. Baker and three teen-age companions escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

Demand Withdrawal of Antiviolence Bill

By ALAN CLINE

TOKYO (AP) — Thousands of Socialist students and workers kept up demonstrations in Tokyo today, demanding that an antiviolence bill shelved by the government be killed outright.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda was forced into retreat by strong opposition from upper house members of his own Liberal-Democratic party following riots in Tokyo and Kyoto Tuesday night in which 60 or more demonstrators and police were injured.

The prime minister, anxious to quiet dissension before his visit to President Kennedy later this month, abandoned plans to force the measure through the Diet before its session ends Thursday.

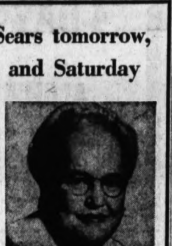

The Socialists, Japan's No. 2 party, were not satisfied and demanded that the bill to stamp out political rioting be withdrawn.

Recorded Heartbeats Reveal Disease Cases
