Strike Looms at Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Top negotiators for Ford Motor Co. and the United Auto Workers Union said today they were "less optimistic" than before that a strike can be avoided at Ford by tomorrow's 10 a.m. EST deadline.

Both Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, and Malcolm Denise, and Ford vice president, agreed as they entered a 24-hour, show-down bargaining session there still were issues on the table that could erupt in a strike of Ford's 165,000 production workers.

Reuther expressed most concern in the areas of production standards and working conditions and said there must be some give on the part of the company "or they will stop making cars tomorrow."

Reuther complained some workers aren't given sufficient time for the work assigned them.

Denise said he was "mystified" by Reuther's claim of what amounted to worker exploitation, and added: "There's no basic argument a fellow shouldn't have time to do the job assigned him."

BREAK TIME

Denise also said Ford had offered to increase to 18 minutes from 12 the two daily breaks given workers who have jobs which the union claims "chains them to machines or the grinding monotony of the assembly."

The added 15-minute relief time was won in a new contract Sept. 9 at Chrysler Corp., where the union negotiated an economic package it estimated to be worth 54 cents an hour over the next three years.

Reuther agreed that a new offer from Ford is essentially the Chrysler package, but said there was major disagreement over "dimensions of the money they are willing to allocate to wage inequities."

Reuther also is threatening Chrysler with a strike Friday to win the contract he wants for the company's 7,000 salaried office workers and engineering personnel represented by the UAW.

CONTRACT WON

The contract negotiated at Chrysler covers its hourly rated production, maintenance and parts depot employees, who make up the vast majority of Chrysler's 74,000 union represented personnel.

There still was the possibility of a walkout at a few Chrysler plants where local grievances had not been resolved. At least one local — at Newark, Del. — had petitioned the executive board for strike authorization, and three other locals had unsettled problems.

Crash Blamed on Malfunction in Fuel Pump

Regulating Device Worked Loose; Three Killed, One Serious

A team of investigators concluded unofficially yesterday that Sunday's plane crash in Waterford Township resulted when a pressure regulating device in the craft's fuel pump worked loose.

Three persons were killed in the crash of the single engine plane. Its pilot, Roy S. McPhail of Detroit, was removed from the critical list today at Pontiac General Hospital.

McPhail, who suffered burns over 50 per cent of his body, is now listed in serious condition, a hospital spokesman said.

The investigation of the crash was conducted by a team from the Federal Aviation Agency and the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB).

Jack Harrington, of the CAB's Chicago office, headed the probe.

UNDISCOVERED

He said yesterday that investigators were unable to find the pressure regulator inside the fuel pump.

Investigators concluded that the part had worked loose while the plane was en route from Flint to Detroit.

This led to an explosion in the air while McPhail was attempting an emergency landing at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Harrington indicated that an official report of the accident may not be filed with the Washington CAB office for several days.

WEST OF AIRPORT

McPhail was thrown 40 feet from the wreckage. The bodies of his three passengers were found inside the plane.

Killed were Jeffrey Phillip, 21, 5, his 4-year-old brother, Gregory, and Judy A. Korytkowski, 22, all of Detroit.

Back Green for State's 2nd Spot

Five leading Oakland County Republicans today announced their endorsement of House Speaker Allison Green (R-Mich.) for nomination as lieutenant governor at the Republican State Convention in Detroit Saturday.

Nearly 70 outstanding Michigan business and professional men, farm leaders and public officials, representing all 19 congressional districts, have announced their support for a Romney-Green ticket.

Heading the list in Oakland County are State Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson (Pontiac) and State Rep. William Hayward (Royal Oak).

Henry M. Hogan Jr., former state representative from Birmingham, has also joined the Romney-Green bandwagon, along with George W. Kuhn of Berkley, GOP nominee in the 15th Senatorial District, and Max Hill of Pleasant Ridge, GOP candidate in the 69th Representative District.

Party spokesmen said the rising prevention support for Green is based on the consensus among Republican leadership that a Romney-Green ticket would have the greatest statewide appeal for Michigan voters in the fall election.

Court Enters Innocent Plea; Exam Is Set

Radio Personality, Woman, Car Dealer Murdered Monday

DETROIT (AP) — A balding 275-pound railroad engineer admitted yesterday, police said, that he killed his wife, a well known radio personality and another man for what one detective termed an "obvious" motive.

The man, John H. Frazier, 41, of Detroit was arraigned on three charges of first-degree murder in an unusual Recorder's (Criminal) Court session last night.

His voice breaking at one point, the 5-foot-11-inch Frazier stood mute before Judge John P. Scallan. The judge entered pleas of innocent for Frazier and set Tuesday for examination.

Police said Frazier made the admission after a relative had contradicted part of his account of his whereabouts early Monday.

The bodies of the victims were found Monday at the Detroit School of Announcing and Speech, Inc., on the city's northwest side.

THOSE KILLED

Dead from bullet wounds were Frazier's 40-year-old wife, Dorothy, Pierre Paulin, 51, owner of the school, and Clarence De Potie, 47, a used car dealer.

Mrs. Frazier had been shot seven times, Paulin and De Potie once each.

Assistant Prosecutor Max Silverman said Frazier told him he went to the school looking for his wife and was admitted by Paulin. Silverman quoted Frazier as saying:

"Paulin turned on the light. I saw my wife in the next room with another man. I didn't know this man, Paulin laughed.

SHOVED PAULIN

"I shoved him (Paulin) into the studio and I fired once at him. Then I shot at my wife and the other man. I don't remember how many shots I fired. I do not remember reloading the revolver. I just started firing."

Executive to Be Arraigned in Death of Area Dentist

A 45-year-old Stroh's Brewery executive was to be arraigned in Farmington Municipal Court this afternoon on a charge of first-degree murder in the shooting of a Birmingham dentist last night.

Oakland County Senior Assistant Prosecutor Robert L. Templin said shortly after noon that he would seek a first degree murder charge against Wells S. Herrington, 32777 Grand River, Farmington.

Herrington had admitted shooting Dr. John R. Foster, 330 W. Long Lake, as Foster attempted to enter Herrington's apartment, according to Farmington Police Chief Maurice Foltz.

The shooting, which was witnessed by Herrington's attractive red-haired wife, Betty, took place at 10:58 p.m.

Foster had been dating Mrs. Herrington since March, when she filed divorce proceedings against her husband for "extreme cruelty," according to one of the Herrington's five children, Danielle, 18.

Herrington had moved from the family home at 34011 Grand River, Farmington, early this week. He had taken up residence at the apartment.

PICKED UP HUSBAND

Mrs. Herrington said she had picked up her husband at Detroit Metropolitan airport at 3 p.m. yesterday. The couple was attempting a reconciliation. The couple had eaten dinner, gone to bed and were asleep when Foster arrived.

Mrs. Herrington said the dentist began pounding on the door yelling, "Betty, come out or I'm going to come in there and get you."

Herrington told his wife to call the police. From the second story window she noticed Foster leaving the building.

He went to a car in the parking lot in which Danielle was sleeping, she said.

RETURNED TO CAR

Danielle told police she had come over to the apartment to visit, but didn't go upstairs because she knew her parents were there. She said she returned to her car and went to sleep.

Danielle told police Foster came to the car and demanded a key to the apartment. He grabbed the key and went back up stairs yelling, "I'm going to settle with him once and for all."

There was no indication he was armed, she said. Mrs. Herrington said Foster (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Three-Judge Panel Rules in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A three-judge federal panel today ruled that the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act is unconstitutional as applied to a Birmingham restaurant.

The judges, who expressed their concern over the spread of congressional powers, issued a temporary restraining order against acting U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, prohibiting him from enforcing that section.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said the department will appeal the decision to the Supreme Court.

He said it will ask a stay of the restraining order granted by the three-judge court, pending disposition of the case by the Supreme Court.

The ruling, filed in U.S. District Court here, was in connection with a suit brought by Ollie McClung Sr. and his son, co-owners of Ollie's Barbecue. The McClungs challenged the constitutionality of the law and asked for the temporary injunction.

THE JUDGES

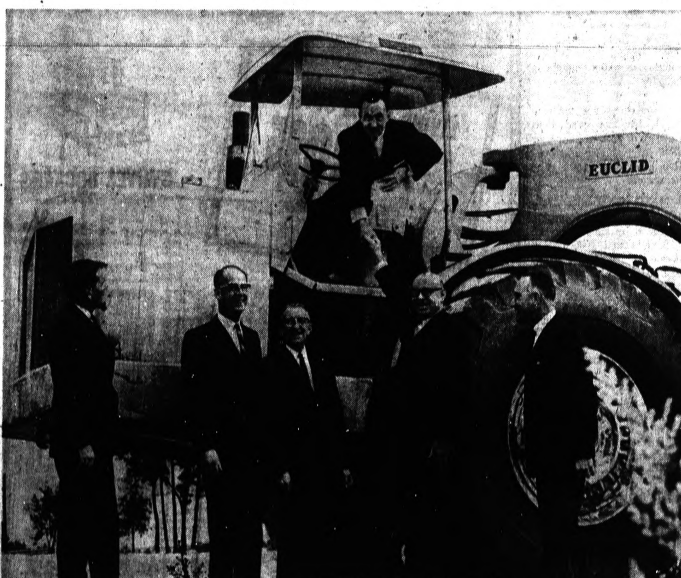

U.S. Dist. Judges Seybourn Lynne and H. H. Grooms of Birmingham and Circuit Judge Walter Gwin of Tuscaloosa, Ala., heard the case Sept. 1 and held it under advisement until today.

The case was the second court test of the law. The ruling was directly counter to the judgment by a similar three-judge panel in Atlanta, Ga., which held that the section was constitutional and that an Atlanta restaurant and others similarly situated came within the scope of law.

Atlanta restaurant owner Lester Maddox has appealed that decision to the U. S. Supreme Court. He closed his business rather than integrate it.

Ex-Latin Chief to Mediate Cyprus Rift

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Galeo Plaza Lasso, husky ex-president of Ecuador and a native New Yorker, has taken the job of U.N. mediator in Cyprus where he has been trying to restore peace for the past four months.

Mediation is a familiar role for the 56-year-old former University of California football player who has done fire-fighting jobs for the United Nations in Lebanon and the Congo.

Since he went to Cyprus as Secretary-General U Thant's special representative last May, Galeo Plaza has played a big part in keeping the bitter dispute between the Turkish and Greek Cypriot factions from exploding into war.

That summer, yesterday he had appointed the Eucadorian to succeed Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland, who died Sept. 9. His new task is to bring the two Cypriot factions to a political settlement.

100,162 Votes Cast in County

Official Figure Tops Previous Primaries

Oakland County electors cast a total of 100,162 votes for the three gubernatorial candidates in the Sept. 1 primary, far exceeding the county's total gubernatorial vote in previous primaries.

The final, official figure was released yesterday after the Oakland County Board of Canvassers wound up its task of canvassing the record-breaking Sept. 1 vote.

The gubernatorial total in the figure which election officials say gives the most accurate indication of how many voters went to the polls in this county.

Election Clerk Mabel Child said the canvass resulted in a few minor changes in unofficial tallies tallied election night, but the previous list of winning candidates remains the same.

No recounts have been called for on the county, state or national level, Mrs. Child said.

CERTIFICATION

Winning township and county nominees and winners on the state level whose districts lie wholly in Oakland County will receive official certification of their nomination from the county clerk, according to Mrs. Child.

Winners in districts which overlap into neighboring counties will be certified by the secretary of state when all canvasses in their districts are complete.

'65 Dodge Features New Coronet Line

Dodge will enter the 1965 model year with a new-sized Coronet line added to its compact and regular sized cars. The new line was unveiled by the Chrysler Corporation today.

The 17 models are divided between the Coronet, Coronet 440 and sporty Coronet 500 series with a range of seven engines from a 225-cubic-inch six-cylinder to a 426-cubic-inch V8, including an economical, light-weight V8.

The new Dodge line will go on display Sept. 25 at Spartan Dodge, Inc., 211 S. Saginaw.

The Coronet measures 204 inches in overall length, 75 inches in width and 58 inches in height. The four corners of the car have been noticeably squared off to take visual advantage of the full width, height and length of the body.

Front end styling features a full-width grille surrounding the dual headlights, a deep wrap-around bumper, narrow ridges along the top sides of the front fenders and a flat hood.

The broad rear deck slopes gradually, and then turns downward at a 90-degree angle to form the deck face. Placed high at the ends of the deck face are the vertically-styled single tail light assemblies.

Hit by Car, Man Dies

A 74-year-old Bloomfield Township man died this morning after being struck by a car in Detroit yesterday.

Spokesmen at Saratoga Hospital said Edward Mueggelburg, 5855 Wing Lake, died shortly after 2 a.m. of injuries sustained in a 4:40 p.m. traffic accident.

Mueggelburg was struck by an automobile while crossing Grand near Fairport, according to Detroit police.

No charges were filed against the driver of the vehicle, Antoinette R. Fontaine, 67, of Fraser.

For the 440 and Coronet 500 two-door hardtops, an optional leather-grained vinyl roof covering in black or white has been compounded for greater weatherability.

The white vinyl has a hard-surface finish to resist soiling.

The automatic control lever is mounted on the steering column in all models except those in the Coronet 500 series.

Danielle had followed Foster up the stairs. She told police she heard two shots. When she arrived at the apartment, Foster was lying in the doorway.

She said she stepped over his body, walked into the room, and walked over to her mother, who was talking to police on the phone.

Danielle told Templin that Foster had taken the revolver away from her in Herrington house at an earlier date.

Hall of Physics Set to Open

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The public will get its first glimpse of Cranbrook Institute of Science's new Hall of Physics at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The new venture for Cranbrook introduces another dimension to the presentation of many of the principles of physics, according to Dr. Robert T. Hatt, institute director.

The hall's uniqueness will be in its simulation of a large laboratory.

On some benches there will be equipment which the visitor must manipulate to experience the phenomena presented. Some will be put into motion by the touch of a switch and others will be presented by members of the instructional staff conducting experiments.

Finishing touches now are being put on the hall in the Skillman Wing for the Physical Sciences.

Against one wall is a 20-foot wide chart of the elements, especially designed with each group from hydrogen to lawrencium color-coded.

A Foucault pendulum demonstrates that the earth is turning on its axis beneath the pendulum swinging freely in space.

Billiard balls rolled on a track illustrate the conservation of momentum.

Energized devices show phenomena of resonance, of spectral patterns of gases, interrelation between magnetism and electricity and the effects of pressure changes.

Growing crystals will be seen in polarized light, and molecular motion and the limits of human perception are demonstrated.

The Atomarium, the institute's science theater for the microcosmos, is adjacent to and part of the larger plan for the exposition of science.

Over 70,000 children visit the science museum in classes each year. The new hall is expected to draw more groups, particularly at the junior high school level.

The hall was planned by Dr. Tureman Altshuler, formerly director of Stockholm's Museum of Technology.

HELPED

Working with him were Dr. emeritus of physics from Eastern Michigan University, and institute staff member Mrs. Edward A. Macholl. Bengt Swenson and others at Skaniahouse Design Associates, Birmingham designed the display units.

Museum hours are 10 a.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Groups can make appointments for earlier hours.

4-Years Without A Sofa?

... Yes, since 1960 when Simms opened the 25 South Furniture Store, we've never carried living room suites, and many of our customers asked us Why? Well, the fact of the matter is that we felt that we couldn't sell higher priced suites because we don't have credit ... and anyone can sell $200 living room suites with credit now the trick is, can Simms sell $250 suites at nearly half price without credit ... we frankly don't know. But, this adv. will prove to us if you folks want quality furniture at less than Credit store prices and are willing to pay cash and carry prices (or use our free layaway at no extra charge) ... true we don't have a fancy store, or free delivery or high credit charges for you, but we do have unusual merchandise at cut prices. Try us the next time you're downtown ... remember Simms Furniture Store at 25 South Saginaw St.

Dixie City Settles 2 Vote Deadlocks

DAPHNE, Ala. (AP) — After two deadlocks by voters, the city council settled the issue. In a recent primary, Vernon E. Andrews and George H. Rains each received 121 votes for a place on the council. In a runoff Tuesday, the count was again a draw with 144 votes each.

Wednesday night the present members of the council broke the deadlock and elected Rains 4-1.

Son, 15, Admits Setting Fire That Killed Parents

MOUNT CARROLL, Ill. (AP) — Richard Gaar, 15, of Milledgeville has been charged with murder and arson after admitting that he started a fire in which his parents died. Robert Puckett, deputy state fire marshal, said Gaar told questioners he emptied a two-gallon can of gasoline outside the bedroom of his sleeping parents a week ago and lit a match.

"He told us he knew he had done something wrong as soon as he lit the gasoline, but something kept urging him on," a coroner's jury originally ruled the deaths accidental, but Puckett reopened the case after digging into the fire ruins and finding a discarded gasoline can.

King Will Wed Dane Princess

Youthful Greek Rulers to Add New Touch of Gaiety

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A teen-age princess and a young king were here Friday to stop a week of gay and regal ceremony made more colorful by the ancient grandeur of this sun-drenched land.

Since last Friday, King Constantine, 24, of Greece, and Denmark's pretty Princess Anne-Marie, 18, have set a fast and foot-aching royal pace.

The highlight of the staggering schedule was the grand state ball at the Athens Royal Palace.

For that party, the foreign guests who included king queens, princes and princesses in large but unassorted numbers, brought in several million dollars worth of jewels, tiaras and handmade gowns.

TIRING EVENTS
The most tiring events of the week, however, must have been the three folkly receptions that King Constantine held at Tatoi Palace 18 miles from Athens.

The receptions were open to all who could make the hot and dusty journey to the palace in its country setting.

The people came on foot, on bicycles, in cars, in buses and even on mules.

They showered the young couple with good wishes, and the couple seemed to like it. But it was rough on the royal flower beds.

FESTIVE OCCASION

Then on Sunday, Constantine and Anne-Marie journeyed to Athens' Panathenian Olympic Stadium with its 70,000 seats open to the public. The occasion was a festival organized by the Greek armed forces.

Beautifully illuminated, the ancient Acropolis loomed above the scene and the party broke up with fireworks and rockets fingering the warm night skies.

The tall, handsome king has both a craving for speed and an eye for beauty.

He chose his "girl from the north" during his sister's wedding in Athens more than two years ago. Anne-Marie, a shy beauty, was a guest at the wedding then of Princess Sophie to Spanish Crown Prince Juan Carlos.

FELL IN LOVE
"I fell in love at the sight of her," Constantine once said. "I had to keep her in Greece."

Anne-Marie felt the same and from then on it was one of change of visits after the death of Constantine's father, King Paul, earlier this year.

Constantine's love for speed started in his teens when his father permitted him to take the wheel of the palace jeep.

ALL ADMIRED HIM

As crown prince he was involved in numerous road accidents — none serious, but Athenians, also lovers of fast cars, admired him as he raced along the city's main avenues with the horn blaring.

When his father died, Constantine immediately ascended the throne. Strict upbringing by his German-born mother, Queen Frederika, and the democratic philosophy of his late father helped him prepare to rule this nation of 8.5 million. He quit fast driving.

Of his decision to become engaged to Anne-Marie he disclosed at the time.

"Our engagement was sudden, not planned beforehand by our parents. It was the first time in my life I took a decision without asking my father."

REMAINED ADAMANT

But Anne-Marie encountered some opposition from her parents. King Frederik and Queen Ingrid urged her to put off the engagement for several years. Anne-Marie remained adamant.

Well-liked in her own country, Anne-Marie has captured the hearts of the Greeks. Her age had a lot to do with it.

Greek men usually marry at a late stage in life due to heavy family commitments. Young married couples are envied and admired.

Anne-Marie, brought up close to her family, is the youngest of three girls. She was reared in the democratic manner typical of Scandinavian royalty. She attended Copenhagen's schools just like any other Dane. She sewed and often designed and made her own clothes.

SOFT-SPOKEN
Anne-Marie has a pleasant, capturing smile and soft-spoken voice.

She also has a love for speed — but on skis. Dances say she has apparently lost interest in her favorite sport since meeting Constantine. Vacationing at the Greek royal family's summer palace on the island of Corfu this summer, she was seen learning the art of sailing.

Constantine, a master at the helm, won a gold medal in the 1960 Rome Olympics in yachting.

The couple will reside in the Athens Royal Palace, a show-place in Athens. Constantine's father moved out of it six years ago because of the high expense of running it. He took his family to Tatoi where he also found the privacy he sought.

Dem Campaigner
Really Gets Around
LEEDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — State Sen. Scott Kelly laughingly admits that part of his defeat in the governor's race of the Democratic primary could be due to campaigning in Alabama rather than Florida.

He had been campaigning with such fervor in North Florida that before he realized it he was shaking hands and asking for votes at a general store across the line in Alabama.

Columbus, on his second visit to South America, observed the natives amusing themselves with a black, heavy ball made from a vegetable gum, but it was not until three centuries later that rubber was brought into commercial use in Europe, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It was a quiet summer evening and Anne Mitchell, her mother and 4-year-old brother were out walking.

"Where is heaven?" the boy asked.

Politicians Must Face Judgment at Election

If this catches you in a philosophical mood, there are a couple of timeless aphorisms that could be tried for size: "Virtue is its own reward," and "It's more blessed to give than to receive."

Down in Ellettsville, Ala., a public spirited man elected mayor eight years ago found the treasury empty and a heap of municipal needs.

He dug $100,000 out of his own pocket and gave the town a waterworks system.

Four years later a grateful citizenry reelected him. Again His Honor dipped into his own resources for another $100,000. This went for municipal automotive equipment and other assorted civic items.

This year at election time, the mayor felt he should step aside, especially since this time there was another candidate for the job. But townspeople insisted that he give them still another chance to show their gratitude.

He gave in and ran again. When the votes were counted it was found the grateful citizens had elected — the other man.

"Everybody loved the mayor," went a story's explanation that highlighted an imbedded facet of human nature, "but it seemed to be the old story of 'what have you done for us lately?'"

Forget About Winter; Enjoy Splendor of Fall

Well, summer's about had it. Or rather, we've about had it.

Soon now, we'll be insulating ourselves from head to foot against the frigid blasts of winter, reactivating the snow shovel, struggling with hard-to-start cars and bracing ourselves for the onset of fuel bills.

But if anything's wrong with this impending picture, there's a bright canvas immediately in front of us. It depicts brilliantly hued autumn complete with Indian Summer, made aromatic by mounds of burning leaves, and the exhilarating nip of the atmosphere.

So let's let winter take care of itself — it will anyway, you know — and revel in the quickening season at hand.

Happy fall, you all.

Honorary Stamps Big Postal Business

The United States Post Office Department creates commemorative stamps as consistently as it does deficits. But in any given year, it seems, authorizations for postal recognition is exceeded by the number of worthy subjects.

By the time honor is paid a complement of Civil War battles, the centennial of a state or some society and lately the 300th anniversary of the original 13 colonies, deserving individuals and noted sons of states are, in the stamp department, licked before they start.

In fairness, however, it should be said that 1963 saw an unusually large number of personal salutes, with AMELIA EARHART, CORDELL HULL, ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, SAM HOUSTON and MONTGOMERY BLAIR given the stamp of approval.

Currently a Congressional effort is afoot for the issuance of a commemorative stamp honoring ERNIE PYLE, the Hoosier war correspondent who was slain by a sniper in World War II.

Says sponsoring GOP Rep. Roudsbush of Indiana: "Ernie was typical of the many fine men and women of the press who have risked life and limb both in war and peace to provide on-the-spot coverage of vital events."

The journalistic profession, which has suffered more than ordinarily from critical slings and arrows in recent times, could well use this expression of appreciation through the honoring of one of its most beloved members.

So far, neither the House Post Office Committee nor the Post Office Department have shown any interest in the proposal.

In case you are wondering who that MONTGOMERY BLAIR was that made last year's postage Hall of Fame, he was postmaster general in LINCOLN's cabinet.

Press' Last Word to Contestants

Yearly Football Contest Holds $500 for Top Scorer

Shortly after the Saturday noon, Sept. 19, deadline for The Press Annual Football Contest, Georgia and Alabama squared, complete with nose and shin guards, will be lining up for the first game of the contest schedule.

What's that? They don't wear 'em anymore? They went out along with ladies' bustles? Well, well, makes us wonder if the five-pards-in-three-downs is still the effective strategy.

Anyway, be sure your entry is on our premises in time to entitle you to a seat for the contest. Each year a goodly number of entries stray in after the kickoff and are disqualified. In case you previously missed the fine print, a pre-deadline POSTMARK on a late entry won't get you through the turnstile.

Having drunk deeply at the football fountain of truth, you check accordingly the winners of the 15 games below. If the fountain were bubbling over with a tie, leave blank the check-boxes of both teams.

Next, paste your entry, which may be on contest form or facsimile, to a card or enclose in envelope, address to the newspaper's FOOTBALL CONTEST and mail or pop into The Press Huron Street drop box. Transmittal of your prediction by telegram or talking horse would be at your own risk.

Everyone, except Press employees and members of their immediate families, is eligible to enter the contest, the winning award for which is a $500 U.S. Savings Bond. Each member of a family may compete, but contestants are limited to one entry each.

Decisions of judges will be final on any questions related to the contest.

This is the final notice on the big event. Progress reports will appear here following each game.

So Who's Nervous?

David Lawrence Says:

South Not Alone in Rights Fight

WASHINGTON — Who really knows today what the phrase civil rights means?

For a while, it looked as if only the people in the South were against integration in the public schools. But now it turns out that measures taken in New York State to correct LAWRENCE racial imbalance are being protested by white parents, who have brought about a boycott which kept a quarter of a million students away from public school classes this week.

The parents are opposed to an edict of the New York City Board of Education, which has favored a plan to transport by bus certain students from one neighborhood to another to bring about a numerical balance of races in the classroom.

Parents in Cleveland are conducting a similar boycott, and all through the North there is a general fear among parents that, sooner or later, other cities will follow the same de facto segregation.

There are many advocates of integration who do not wish to go much farther than what is called a token system, whereby a few Negro children are placed in some of the classrooms of what are essentially all-white schools.

COURT OPINION

But the Supreme Court's opinion plainly emphasizes a belief that all—not just a few—Negro children must have the same opportunities or else the purpose of integration has been fulfilled.

The civil rights act, on the other hand, recently passed by Congress provides that "desegregation shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

This was inserted in an effort to get the bill through Congress, but it is meaningless because Congress has no authority over the assignment of students in public school districts. This is a matter reserved to the states or the courts.

The whole spirit of the Civil Rights act is that only if discrimination occurs through the application of state laws can the federal government really intervene. So, while a pious declaration against a policy of assigning pupils so as to overcome racial imbalance may be politically expedient, it apparently has not been heeded by the authorities in New York State.

ARTIFICIAL ATTEMPTS

The late President Kennedy said he was opposed to artificial attempts to correct "racial imbalance."

Former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, who is the Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate from New York, has just announced that he, too, is against artificial means to correct racial imbalance, and that he opposes transporting school children in buses from one section of the city to another.

Sen. Keating, the Republican

Bob Considine Says:

Medicare Could Become Prime Deception of 1964

NEW YORK—The great deception of the 1960 presidential campaign, as it turned out, was the cry that this nation had fallen behind the Soviet Union in the missile race. We were better off along the line.

Medicare, if it passes, could be remembered in the future as CONSIDINE the prime deception of the 1964 contest. We have a better system than Medicare in operation to care for needy oldsters right now.

The champions of Medicare make it sound so humane and attractive that to express any opposition to it places the dissenter in the position of a kill-joy who hates grandma.

I love grandma. And I know her well enough to know she knows darned well that Medicare would shortchange her and the old man, if they came down with the miseries and had to depend on Washington to act.

One thing Medicare will do without fail if it goes through is take back a goodly portion of the money that is trickling into American pockets as a result of the admirable Kennedy-Johnson tax cut. That money would normally go into the purchase of everything Americans like to buy, from new cars to new babies.

Medicare's proponents swear the program will cost less than $2 billion the first year. The plan's opponents swear the tab will be closer to $4 billion.

GRIM PICTURE

Medicare's backers present a grim picture of the life and times of 50 per cent of the nation's 18,000,000 persons who are 65 and over. The claim is made that half's income is under $2,500; they cannot stand the burden of medical costs which, sooner or later, will hit them.

But, they maintain, all will be rosy if each employee pays a "few" extra dollars a year on his social security bill and the employers, of course, match it.

So in the middle of the campaign in the second most populous state in the union, the candidates of both parties have announced their opposition.

If that did the job, thoroughly, it might be a bearable drain. But there's no chance that Medicare, as now constructed, can do as thorough a job as is already being done via the Kerr-Mills Act and voluntary insurance.

Whichever side is right hardly matters. Once on the books, Medicare is bound to snowball into a labyrinth of costly bureaucracy.

It's a big issue in the current presidential race. In the years to come it could loom larger. "Free" benefits should also be extended to persons younger than 65, a future crop of politicians will surely argue, and after that to an ever-younger age group until Big Brother sits at every bedside, whether we want him in the room or not.

Report on Viet Coup Leader

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A few weeks back I had an hour's private talk with Brig. Gen. Duong Van Duc, commanding general of the Viet Nam Fourth Corps and one of the three prime movers in the weekend seizure of Saigon.

CROMLEY Although the attempted coup was short-lived, Gen. Duc remains a man to watch.

My talk with Gen. Duc was in his headquarters at Can Tho in the far south of Viet Nam, in an area where the Viet Cong have been entrenched for two decades.

I'd made an 85-mile helicopter trip to Can Tho from Saigon with machine guns at both chopper doors because I'd been told Gen. Duc was one of the toughest generals in the Vietnamese army. Four hundred miles of travel through his Fourth Corps area convinced me he also was one of the most aggressive.

His troops were making a good many mistakes. But on orders from topside (Duc) they were using Viet Cong tactics against the Viet Cong. Duc was spending a considerable amount of effort, he said, infiltrating agents into Viet Cong hamlets. He was sending or-

Driving Teacher Replies to Letter Critical of Rule

In response to the letter condemning driver education instructors by Charles E. Haglund, it appears that he is the one who is misinformed. Section 637 of the Michigan Vehicle Code states that bicycles do have certain rights-of-way on streets and roads, being required to obey the same laws as motor vehicles and have the same rights as motor vehicles.

Driver education instructors are obliged to teach rules as set down by the State legislature. If Mr. Haglund does not agree with these laws, his remarks should be directed to our lawmakers rather than the teachers.

Most bicycle riders are youngsters and a good driver considers and adjusts to this fact when he approaches or overtakes a bicycle. This does not excuse a bicyclist from riding his bicycle properly and carefully, but the driver must consider the life most in danger at that time.

Disagree With Writer on Parking Tickets

This is in answer to "Disgusted With Parking Lot Ticketing."

Mr. Nolen complained of an officer giving tickets for cars having their wheels on the yellow line.

How would he, like it if he came out to get in his car one night when the weather was below zero and wasn't able to get in his car due to someone parking over the yellow line? I say thanks to our policemen!

S. GILBERT
DRAYTON PLAINS

This is in regards to the man who wrote complaining about the issuing of tickets when car wheels are on a yellow line. More of these tickets should be given. Maybe then parking lots would have room for more cars. Some people take the space of two cars to park their own.

Supports Tax Cut of LBJ Administration

Senator Goldwater has repeatedly attacked the recent tax reduction sponsored by the Kennedy-Johnson administration and yet, now that the campaign season has arrived, we find the Senator advocating a further 25% reduction.

The Kennedy-Johnson tax cut was planned to stimulate the economy so that we would have increased employment without serious inflation. As a result we are enjoying the longest peacetime boom in history.

Goldwater's plan, which calls for cuts five years in a row, does not and cannot take into account what our economy will be like in the future. What if we have full employment four years from now? An arbitrary tax cut could set off serious spiral of inflation. We have to know what shape our economy is in before we start tinkering with it.

There were some who feared such a move would make Duc a warlord. But warlord or not, his American advisers were sold on him. He'd listen to their ideas. He'd give his officers and officials and the American advisers leeway to try out their own ideas. He encouraged his men to use imagination.

He'd won over a major religious sect to our side and tricked the Viet Cong into some foolish attacks. He was thoroughly sold on the idea that he had a political war to fight against the Reds as well as a military war. He was putting considerable effort into reorganizing the governments of hamlets where the Reds were putting in their hardest lifts.

Duc was worried about one thing: Would the United States stay in this war to the finish or would it get tired and drop out?

"Are the Reds landing a lot of arms and equipment on your coasts?" I asked.

"Yes, they're slipping right through me." He stood up, drew imaginary lines on a map. "You see this island?" he asked. "I hold it. Yet the Reds sneak in from this Cambodian island next to it despite my patrols."

"You see, the patrols go around and around the island on regular schedules. The Reds wait until the patrol has gone by, then they go through."

The answer to this, Duc said, is a complete clouding of the picture. He was sending or-

Sees Danger to Labor Gains

Cavanagh Cuts Loss
on Barry's Views

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh charged yesterday that "Sen. Goldwater and his wrecking crew" have placed in jeopardy gains "which the working man has achieved through years of sweat, effort and determination."

Cavanagh told the AFL-CIO convention that "organized labor is not alone in opposing the presidential aspirations of Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater."

"In fact, in this campaign year, you have often in some rather unusual places, perhaps even among the men you meet at the bargaining table," Cavanagh said.

However, Cavanagh warned that "this election, of all elections, is not an occasion for complacency. Forget the polls... they can be wrong."

Cavanagh said Goldwater Republicans "have advocated a return to a primordial state in social and economic affairs. The gains which the working man has achieved through the years of sweat, effort and determination are in jeopardy."

PRAISES SIDES

Cavanagh praised both sides in successful United Auto Workers contract negotiations with Chrysler Corp. for their "maturity and sense of responsibility" for coming to "a fair settlement."

The Detroit mayor said more than the federal or state governments "the men and women of labor, the people of a community... you are the ones who deserve the real credit for the prosperity of Michigan."

Gov. George Romney and Republicans claim credit for economic gains, while his Democratic opponent, Rep. Neil Stabler, says the Democratic national administration is responsible.

Cavanagh said industry is staying and expanding in Detroit "because of people—skilled, hard-working people who might be lost in a move to a new location miles away."

To Distribute Winnings in N.H. Lottery

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—Gov. John W. King plans to give away almost a million dollars Friday night at a banquet in Manchester—the booty won by 18 ticket holders in the nation's only state lottery.

The sweepstakes commission will play host to the 18 top winners in the 1964 Sweepstakes at the dinner.

Commission Chairman Howell F. Shepard says most of the 18 have already accepted their dinner invitations. These include four winners of $300,000—William Korons of Farmington, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cardone of Glenview, N.Y.; H. and Basil Sargent of Baltimore, Md.; and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Heley of Hyattsville, Md.

Among the six winners of $50,000, those planning to attend the affair include St. D. Kelly of Ridgewood, N.Y.

Red Success in Africa Is Only Limited

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
President Hastings Kamuzu Banda of the new African republic of Malawi is a black nationalist whose name was poison to the white settlers of what then was called Nyasaland.

But when Nyasaland became a free nation and took on the name of Malawi, Banda also turned out to be a man who believed in keeping close ties with the West and with the white settlers who could contribute to Malawi's shaky economy.

It was not surprising then that he also should become a particular target of the Communists.

A measure of these efforts against him came in a sudden Malawi cabinet crisis, which Banda said stemmed from a Red Chinese plot to murder him.

He fired three of his ministers, and others quit. Banda further charged that the Red Chinese, though their headquarters for African subversion in the Tanganyika capital of Dar es Salaam, had offered his deposed foreign minister more than $50 million in return for recognition of Red China.

The possibility exists that Banda overestimated the plot against him as a means of offsetting domestic political difficulties.

But there is no doubt as to both Soviet and Red Chinese efforts to export their divergent brands of communism to the new African nations.

And it is of more than passing interest that despite chaos and a built-in suspicion of the former Western colonial powers, their success so far has been limited.

As of today, not one recognized African regime has declared itself for communism.

A short-lived people's republic in Zanzibar vanished in union with Tanganyika.

Guinea seemed well on the road to communism under Marxist President Sekou Toure after it achieved independence from France in 1958.

Instead Guinea turned out to be a $126-million Soviet mistake. Snowplows arrived instead of tractors, Soviet teachers irritated their Guinea students by an inability to speak French, and Moscow made the further mistake of attempting to dabble in Guinea's internal politics.

The Soviet ambassador was unceremoniously expelled. Today U.S. aid is flowing into Guinea to a Sekou Toure who has shown himself remarkably independent.

BOTH SUSPICIOUS

Despite extensive Soviet aid to both the United Arab Republic and to Algeria, leaders of both of those countries have shown themselves suspicious of domestic Communists.

While neither country can be said to be pro-Western, neither can they be said to have been absorbed into the Communist orbit.

The Chinese have not been particularly successful in their anti-white propaganda line, and both the Chinese and Russians have been hurt by slow delivery of promised aid.

The Sino-Soviet ideological quarrel also has resulted in some confusion among Africans, notably in Mali and Somalia.

Teamsters Hit for Union Aid

Say Tax-Free Funds to Red-Tinged Group

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate investigators charged yesterday that James R. Hoffa led his Teamsters union into "hearty assurances and financial support" for a Communist-dominated labor organization. The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee said in a report that the Teamsters used tax-exempt funds to aid the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union.

The report said the Teamsters lent $100,000 to the union to help in the defense of internal officials charged with internal security violations.

Appearing as a witness before the subcommittee in 1961, Hoffa said the $100,000 was lent that year to help striking members of the Mine-Mill, not for the legal defense fund.

Mine-Mill was expelled from the CIO in 1950 on the ground that it was Communist-dominated.

The Subversive Activities Control Board in 1962 ruled that the union was infiltrated by the Communist party. The reason why the Teamsters provided the loan, the report said, "is not only not apparent legally but suggestive of a drive for power by its leadership."

The subcommittee also reported that the Mine-Mill union spent large sums of its tax-exempt funds to pay for the defense of the convicted officials.

The report recommended stricter Internal Revenue Service checks and legislation calling for public disclosure of funds from union treasuries.

Wedding in Detroit to Be Family Affair

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — It will be a family affair Saturday when Clarence Kimbrough of Detroit, a widow since 1961, weds Frank Graham in Covenant Community Church of Detroit.

Her son, the Rev. William Kimbrough of Centralia, will officiate. Another son will escort her down the aisle, and the bridegroom's two sons will serve as attendants.

Mid-August is blossom time for ragweed. Each weed releases millions of irritating pollen grains into the air.

Ballot Law Is Act 240

LANSING (AP)—When Michigan voters are asked Nov. 3 whether the 1963 legislature's Act 240 should be allowed to stay on the books, that means the Massachusetts ballot law.

Voters will be given this explanation of State Proposal C: "This act eliminates a straight party ticket and requires a separate vote for each candidate voted for and which provides that in general elections, candidates' names shall be grouped under office titles (Massachusetts - type ballot) rather than under party headings (present system)."

Actually, if voters approve the act, they'll still be able to vote a straight ticket—but not with one simple pencil mark or one lever as they'll be able to do this November.

But 'Neither Are Those in D.C.'

Miller Concedes He's No Farm Expert

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller, concedes he is no expert on farm problems. But neither, he says, are the "confused and inept agricultural czars" in Washington.

The Republican vice-presidential candidate singled out Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman by name Wednesday night as he whaled away at the farm policies of President Johnson's Democratic administration.

Miller told a cheering crowd of more than 2,000 at an outdoor rally on the Iowa State Fairgrounds that the administration had "not redeemed a single major pledge" made to farmers in the 1960 presidential campaign.

The speech was calculated to fan discontent in the farming area which most political strategists believe the GOP national ticket must carry if it is to win the November election.

TODAY'S TOUR

Miller's campaign itinerary today called for another appearance in Iowa, after a brief sojourn into the dairy state of Wisconsin. He then plans to move on into Ohio and Illinois.

The New York congressman's farm policy speech here climaxed a day-long flying tour that took him through Nebraska and Kansas in mostly damp weather.

In Topeka, he addressed a GOP luncheon rally that numbered among the guests Alfred

M. Landon, the Republican nominee for president in 1936. Landon said he was certain that Sen. Harry Goldwater would make a better showing this year than he himself did against Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Landon carried only the states of Maine and Vermont.

THINGS IN COMMON

Miller told the Des Moines rally: "Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and I have two things in common. We are both lawyers, and neither of us is a farm expert."

Miller singled out a variety of promises made by Democrats in the 1960 platform, and declared they have failed on all counts.

Among other things, Miller said, crop surpluses have grown, the parity level of farm income has fallen, farm debt and the interest rate on farm loans have climbed and more farmers have been forced out of business.

"The nation's farm people," he said, "want, deserve and must have a better deal than the one imposed from Washington by the confused and inept agricultural czars of this administration."

Named Low Bidder on Airport Work

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Yerington Construction Co. here has been named low bidder, at $34,159, on building a 6,200-foot aircraft taxi strip and terminal apron at Twin City Airport.

Work is to begin Oct. 12 on the project which is the first phase of a $603,000 improvement at the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph airfield.

'WANTS FREEDOM'

"Farm people want both opportunity and freedom — not Freeman. They want to make their own basic management decisions on the farm. They don't want those decisions made in Washington."

Tourists Still Flocking to JFK's Summer Home

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Nothing is changed — outwardly — in this seaside summer resort.

The white shingled cottages gleam in the bright sun. The beaches are sandy, and the sun glitters on the blue waters of Nantucket Sound.

For three years, this was the site of the summer White House when John F. Kennedy was president of the United States.

When he was on Cape Cod for weekends, the Kennedy compound of summer homes, those of former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, the president's, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's, were objects for tourists, but most of them didn't get to see it.

MORE ATTRACTION

Since last November, when the president was assassinated, it has become even more of an attraction.

It began on the Memorial Day weekend. Hundreds of cars, and even hundreds of tourists headed for Hyannis Port — their passengers hoping for a look at "his" house.

After that momentous traffic jam, the town police got tougher.

They retained the command post boxes which the Secret Service had set up at strategic corners a block or so away from the compound, and simply directed traffic away from the area.

BEEN THE RULE

That has been the rule all summer. Irving Avenue, which runs along beside the late president's home, still is barred to auto traffic, and to pedestrians, too, unless they are residents.

Town Police Chief Albert L. Hinkley had cut his special presidential police force from 16 men to eight for this year.

"It wasn't enough," he said. "I'm going to have to ask for the full 16 men again for next summer."

In the past, people came to Hyannis Port hoping to see a president.

A PILGRIMAGE

"Now it's like a pilgrimage," he said. "They just want to stand there and look."

Many of the tourists went to the little Hyannis Port news store, a short block away from the late president's house.

It was here that the Kennedys, as children, went for ice cream cones and for candy. And the current crop of Kennedy said they do the same.

Most of the time the tourists, hanging around to catch a glimpse, don't realize the girl who walked past was Caroline, or one of her cousins.

VISIT CHURCH

Some of the devout go to St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church in nearby Hyannis, where the president attended Mass on Sundays during his Cape Cod weekends. Many of them know he customarily sat in the second pew, left, in a side wing of the church. Most of them just look, say a prayer, and then leave.

Over on the other side of Hyannis is the Yachtman Hotel, which was press headquarters during the Kennedy weekends.

In a back lobby, a sign remains over a door. "Western Union — press room" it says. But the room now is used for showing home movies.

A glassed-in porch where Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, briefed newsmen on the president's activities, now has a small curved bar, and an organ which comes into use for guests at a little grouping of tables during the cocktail hour.

FAT OVERWEIGHT

Available to you without a doctor's prescription, the ODRINEX plan. You must lose up to your money back. One of the basic problems of losing weight is your inability to stick to a planned diet. The ODRINEX plan contains a tiny tablet — one weekly requirement. When you take ODRINEX, you simply don't have the urge for extra portions because ODRINEX depresses your appetite and decreases your desire for food thus making it easier and more comfortable for you to diet. Your weight must come down because as your weight decreases you feel you eat less and lose less. Out of excess fat and live longer. Of course ODRINEX can't do all the work for you alone. But if you really want to cut down on your eating, and lose weight ODRINEX can be a powerful helper. The ODRINEX plan costs $2.50 and is sold on this guarantee: If not satisfied for any reason just return the package. No your druggist and get your full money back. The ODRINEX plan is sold with this guarantee: If you cut your eating and lose weight, you will get your money back.

DRUG CUT RATE DRUG STORES

What effect did it have on business to have a summer White House on Cape Cod, and now to have lost it?

Businessmen are divided on that. Some say they didn't detect any jump in business when Kennedy was elected, nor any particular decline this summer.

Norman Cook, head of the Cape Cod Chamber of Commerce, said it was difficult, if not impossible to measure.

"We're a resort area," he said. "When it is hot in the cities, people flock down here. Then we've had a steady growth in population, both in the number of people who own summer homes, and in the number of year around residents."

Cook said the 1960 U.S. census reports showed there were 26,000 seasonal dwellings on Cape Cod, to 21,000 occupied by year around residents.

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) —

There's plenty of family harmony in the Paul Wenderhahn household, with six of the youngsters playing musical instruments.

but are enthusiastic listeners. Clarence, 21, plays the accordion; Theresa, 18, plays both piano and accordion; 14-year-old Betty and 15-year-old Larry play the guitar; Bobby, 14, blows the trumpet; and 12-year-old Danny is a drummer.

Commander Says U.S. Jets to Act in Viet Nam Defense

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The U.S. Air Force commander in Viet Nam said today his jet fighters would act if Cambodian or any other foreign aircraft commit hostile acts against South Viet Nam.

Maj. Gen. Joseph Moore said in an interview that U.S. pilots and unit commanders were fully briefed on carefully laid-out rules of engagement in case foreign aircraft cross the Vietnamese border.

Moore declined to spell out under just what circumstances U.S. fighters would engage in combat. He said this would let unfriendly forces know how much they might get away with.

Other sources said it could be assumed that if Cambodian jets fired on Vietnamese aircraft or ground positions, U.S. jets would be sent up to defend the government forces.

They added that should Communist Chinese or North Vietnamese planes streak across the border, they could expect immediate engagement. U.S. jet fighters are stationed at Da Nang, 90 miles from North Viet Nam, and 160 miles from Red China's Hainan Island.

WHAT OF ATTACK?

Moore was asked what the Air Force would do if Cambodia's Russian-made Mig jets again cross into Vietnamese air space and attack Vietnamese prop-driven planes as the Vietnamese say they did on Sept. 3.

U. S. Air Force F102s based at Saigo airport were sent up then, but did not make contact.

During a recent Vietnamese Army operation near the Cambodian border, four F102s flew over the area. An American adviser said they were covering fighter-bombers and U.S. Army helicopters supporting the operation.

WILL ASSIST

"If any foreign aircraft commits a hostile act against this country we will assist in the defense of the country."

Meanwhile, the Vietnamese 2nd Marine Battalion, which stormed President Ngo Dinh Diem's palace in the November 1963 coup, claimed to have killed or wounded about 15 Viet Cong guerrillas in an operation yesterday in long an province, 30 miles south of Saigon.

Seeking out two platoons of Viet Cong reported north of Can Duoc along the Oriental River, the Marines and a civil guard company maneuvered through flooded rice fields to box in the guerrillas. They set up an accurate artillery barrage when the Viet Cong units tried to flee across the river.

A popular Marine corporal was killed by a bullet through the head. His buddies retaliated by decapitating three dead Viet Cong, stringing the heads on a pole and forcing a Communist suspect to carry one end of the load.

The Marines, who were advised by Marine Capt. John P. Monahan, 32, of Burlingame, Calif., said the retreating guerrillas carried about 12 other wounded or dead away.

Junior Editors Quiz on DOGS

QUESTION: Why doesn't a dog see color well?

ANSWER: Nature does not give all her gifts to all her animals in equal amounts. A polar bear, for example, could not scurry up a tree like a cat; but the bear is far more at home in the water than a cat.

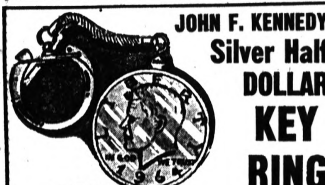

It is true that dogs are considered to be color blind, although they can tell objects apart by the degree of their brightness. But a dog has other extremely developed senses which more than make up for this weakness in his eyesight.

The dog's greatest sense assets, which we illustrate, are his acute hearing and his sense of smell — especially this last. Who hasn't seen a dog raise his muzzle (large so he can smell well) and sniff a breeze with an alert and interested look.

He seems to be smelling the air as we would read a newspaper to find out what's going on. With so many different odors and his sharp hearing to occupy his attention, a dog has little time to worry about whether the color of a flower is yellow or blue.

So don't worry about what your dog may be missing; he's having a wonderful time out of life as it is.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get two pieces of clothing, one of a green color and another of red and show them to a dog, watching what he does—does he seem to be considering the colors? The chances are he'll start sniffing them right away, using his own system of information.

Norstad Urges Nuclear Inspection as Tension-Reducer

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Gen. Lauris Norstad said today that a system of control and inspection on both sides of the Iron Curtain could reduce tensions in Europe without any reductions of weapons or military manpower.

The former supreme Allied commander in Europe also advocated that the United States, Britain and France — the only powers that can supply nuclear weapons for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization — be given authority to decide whether NATO should take nuclear action to resist an enemy.

Norstad's comments were prepared for delivery at the opening of an international symposium, a part of the three-day Mayo centennial celebration. The theme of the symposium is "Man's Adaptation to his Expanding Environment."

He asserted that a continuing "fact-finding" system of control and inspection in Europe could lift the fear of surprise air and ground attack without disturbing the balance of power and establish a foundation for greater understanding and for further action in the disarmament field.

The former NATO commander said every new disarmament proposal has met opposition reflecting fears that any reduction or arms limitation would disturb the existing balance and result in one-sided, dangerous weakness.

Norstad said in his talk and in an interview that he considers reasonable and logical the request of several European nations that they receive an absolute guarantee that some minimum stock of nuclear weapons be made available in an emergency "even if the United States might be inclined to limit its own participation."

MEET OPPOSITION

"Reduction of military manpower, limitations on weapons, the other steps we consider within the subject of disarmament are only means to an end," he said. "We take as our purpose the lifting of the burden of fear, we seek to enhance our security, we aim to guarantee our freedom. In short, our purpose is peace."

Norstad said such an agreement should provide for both mobile ground and aerial inspection and perhaps overlapping radar surveillance which would permit the Western powers to look into the eastern satellites and beyond into the Western Soviet Union.

Under the plan, he said, the Western powers would grant the Soviets a corresponding privilege.

MAJORITY DECISION
He proposed the three Western nuclear powers — the United States, Britain and France — should make on a majority basis the decision for or against nuclear action, without binding a positively dissenting nation to participate.

He said he takes the same position that Europeans "exercise some real measure of influence and control over weapons that are no less essential to their security than to our own."

Norstad, now president of Owen-Corning Fiberglass Corp., said, however, that the 15 NATO countries could not act collectively with sufficient speed in time of great crisis.

WORKING OUT — Keiki, a young porpoise trained to aid scientists at Hawaii's Oceanic Institute, is "walked" around pool during his early school. Keiki responds to an electronic recall signal and returns to scientists after being released at sea.

Obedient Porpoise Reveals New Research Possibility

HONOLULU (AP) — Keiki is a young porpoise and the Pacific is his backyard.

The playful, intelligent animal was one of the brightest youngsters in the school at Hawaii's Oceanic Institute and was singled out for an experiment which frightened it half to death and caused a group of marine researchers to dance a jig.

Keiki was, so to speak, taken off the leash and allowed to roam in the ocean.

It was a breath-holding experiment for the porpoise and for the trainers. After being in several months, Keiki wasn't too enthusiastic about the turbulent Pacific.

'HE'S TERRIFIED'
"He was terrified, scared stiff," said Dr. Kenneth Norris, the institute's vice president.

Keiki was trained first in a tank at the institute, and later in a lagoon. Norris, Taylor Pryor, president of Sea Life Park and of the institute, and Pryor's wife, Karen, park curator, then took the porpoise out to sea.

"We told him to beat it, to get lost, go join his friends," said Pryor. And beat it Keiki did. "He went screaming off along the coast. He was obviously terrified," Norris said.

SETTLED DOWN
But Keiki eventually settled down, made a deep dive, and headed 200 yards out toward the horizon. The group of marine researchers triggered an electronic recall signal, and within seconds Keiki was scratching its back against their small motor boat. Shooed off several times, each time it returned.

Norris and the group were jubilant. They danced a jig and drank a toast in soda pop. Keiki got a fish for obedience.

Norris said the feat was a first in marine history, though he was quick to point out that researchers at Point Mago, Calif., recently let a porpoise go in much the same way. But this one wore a harness and an inflated buoy which prevented it from diving. Keiki was unfettered.

"This is a significant feat. A vast wet world of research is open to us with an animal like this who will roam the Pacific, then return to us. The possibilities are unlimited," Norris said.

OUT LIKE DOG

Eventually, he explained, Keiki will be let out like the dog next door, be encouraged to romp with friends that inhabit the azure-blue waters around Hawaii's rocky shoreline.

The future behavior at this point is a big question mark, however. The researchers don't even know the range of Keiki's recall signal.

And the playful porpoise has another job to do first. It is in an enclosed area in the pen in which the porpoise will undergo speed trials.

No one really knows how fast a porpoise can swim, and the Hawaii Institute people feel Keiki is just the guy to help them find out.

COLLEGE, AT 12? — Sandra Louis Sanborn, 12, of Boulder, Colo., passed college entrance exams at the University of Colorado with strong grades. She received all her schooling from her father in her Boulder home. Sandra was advised against entering college, however, and will enter ninth grade in a private school for girls.

Congo Rebels Issue Warning

BUJUMBURA, Burundi (UPI) — Communist-backed rebels in Uvira, the Congo, have threatened to execute 30 European hostages if the central government continues air raids against the town. Roman Catholic Bishop Daniel Scarlati said yesterday.

Scarlati arrived here from Uvira, which is on the shores of Lake Kivu about 50 miles east of here. He said he and a companion had been sent to deliver the warning.

Uvira fell to Congolese rebels last June. Reports from Leopoldville have said Congolese Army troops are advancing toward the town, apparently in an effort to recapture it.

According to unofficial reports here, Congolese government air raids against Uvira have not been effective.

Nevertheless, Scarlati said, the 30 white prisoners have been tortured after each one. He said the rebels threatened to kill the whites if the raids continued.

Junior Whiz Put Back With Mates

EAU GALLIE, Fla. (AP) — Billy Green, whose IQ at the age of 12 is in the genius category, is going back to grade school after six weeks in college.

Billy finished fifth out of a class of 30 at Brevard County Junior College in a course dealing with the principles of energy, force and motion, meteorology and chemistry.

However, college officials said he was hampered in the solving of physics and chemistry problems by a lack of high school mathematics. That, plus poor penmanship, sent Billy back to his contemporaries.

Billy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Green, were happy he did so well in college but were just as happy to see him return to "normalcy."

SERIES OF TESTS
Billy took the leap from the fifth grade, where he was failing because of boredom, after a series of tests by educators.

The tests showed his IQ was 200-plus — 140 is genius — and that he possessed the mental capabilities of a college freshman and superior reading abilities.

Billy's reading habits include books far beyond his age group, especially on scientific subjects. He can square two-digit numbers in his head.

Woodrow J. Darden, Billy's grade school principal last year, said "the work he is expected to do in the fifth grade is comparable to asking an adult mathematician to play with dolls."

Billy's scientific bent apparently came from his father, an engineer at nearby Cape Kennedy.

'Cuba, Nassau Set Air Link'

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — The Cuban government reportedly is getting ready for daily airline service between Havana and Nassau.

The Bahamian government confirmed Wednesday that a commercial plane was due Monday, but it would not comment on whether any agreement had been worked out for regular flights.

Daily airline service between Cuba and Nassau, 185 miles from Miami, could open a new escape route for thousands of discontented Cuban citizens who are now unable to leave.

Because of the U.S. trade embargo, Cuba presently maintains air links only with Spain and Mexico.

Can Show Siamese Twins

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Two years ago the father of Siamese twin boys was arrested at the National Orange Show here and accused of violating a state law by showing the boys on the midway.

Wesleyan Galyon, father of Rommie and Donnie, then 11, argued he was trying to provide a living for the boys instead of accepting charity. He appealed, and the 4th District Court of Appeals yesterday upheld the right of the father and carnival exhibitors to show the twins for profit.

Galyon and the boys live in Dayton, Ohio. The father was charged with violating an 1873 state law which forbids exhibiting the deformities of another for profit.

The appeals court ruled: "There might be regulation of exhibits of abnormalities, but the prohibition of them was an improper exercise of police power."

It's Von Steuben Day by Order of Romney

LANSING (AP) — Today is Frederick William Von Steuben day in Michigan, by proclamation of Gov. George Romney, and Malta's independence. Pharmacists and cooperative organizations will have their days soon. Von Steuben was a German general who aided the U.S. war for independence.

The cooperatives actually will have 31 days — all of October — and the pharmacists will have seven — the week of Oct. 4.

Ostriches are the world's largest birds. An adult ostrich is almost 8 feet tall, weighs about 300 pounds and can run at speeds up to 30 miles an hour.

On Spanish Freighter

Fidel Claims 'Revenge' Attack by U.S.

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro charged early today that the United States attacked the Spanish freighter Sierra Aranzazu as an "act of revenge" because Spain trades with Cuba.

The Aranzazu was machine-gunned in the Caribbean Sunday night by two unidentified motor launches. Three of the ship's officers were killed and at least 4 others among its crew of 20 were wounded.

A refugee organization announced in Miami Tuesday that its men shot up the Spanish freighter as the first of a series of "attacks without warning on any ship, regardless of nationality, which trades with Cuba."

Castro told newsmen at a Mexican Embassy reception that survivors of the attack said the launches were of a type usually carried by a mother ship like those of which he said "the (U.S.) Central Intelligence Agency has many around Cuba."

The bearded premier said the attack must have been launched from a Caribbean base operated by the CIA.

"Exile groups by themselves couldn't organize such a raid," he said.

In response to questions, Castro said President Johnson might have ordered the attack to show during the current election campaign that his administration is "doing something" about Cuba.

Castro also assailed Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the Republican presidential candidate, saying that he is the American who is "doing most to instigate aggression against Cuba."

He said a ship using a searchlight "made positive identification" of the Sierra Aranzazu an hour before the attack, indicating that the Spanish ship was shot up deliberately.

The premier insisted that the United States must have known who was responsible for the attack because U.S. planes and ships keep track of all ship movements in the Caribbean.

"I think this was an act of revenge because Spain trades with Cuba," he said.

The Mexican Embassy drew a unusual array of Cuban officials.

U.S. Aids in Probe of Incident

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is extending "full cooperation" to Spain in investigating an attack on a Spanish freighter near Cuba Sunday night.

The State Department assured the Spanish ambassador yesterday that there was no evidence the attackers were from U. S. territory.

The captain and two officers of the Sierra Aranzazu were killed, and the ship was left blazing about 60 miles east of Cuba.

The Spanish ambassador, the Marquis Merry del Val, met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk yesterday. He denied a report from Madrid that Spain blamed the United States for the incident.

The State Department said, "Any suggestion that the United States has any responsibility for this incident is wholly rejected."

Robert J. McCleoch, department spokesman, said this country was "doing everything possible" to patrol the Caribbean area to guard against unlawful acts. But, he said, it is a large area which is impossible to patrol minutely.

Survivors of the attack said two "fast boats" left the freighter in flames after raking it with machine gun and cannon fire.

The Cuban armed forces ministry in Havana charged that mercenaries "equipped, paid and directed by the Central Intelligence Agency" carried out the raid.

The State Department said the freighter, which was bound from Spain to Cuba with a cargo of brandy, garlic, toys and textiles, was last seen yesterday entering the Cuban port of Banes. It was being towed by two Cuban boats and still was smoking.

154th anniversary of the uprising which eventually won Mexico freedom from Spain.

The turnout apparently was an acknowledgment of Mexico's refusal to join other new-world nations in breaking relations with the Castro regime.

Western newsmen were leaving the reception when a Castro aide called them back, saying the premier wanted to hold a press conference. It was the first time Castro had sent for Western newsmen in this fashion.

His press-conference remarks elaborated anti-American charges made 24 hours earlier by the armed forces ministry.

Top Italian Red Comes to Aid of Bishop in Need

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Roman Catholic bishop climbed out of a car in front of St. Peter's Basilica Wednesday, thanked the driver and went inside for the daily session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

The driver was Gincario Pajetta, a top official of the Italian Communist party.

The bishop had missed the bus that each day collects members of the council staying on the Janiculum Hill. The bishop decided to hitchhike; Pajetta came along and gave him a lift. Pajetta said his passenger introduced himself as Bishop Francols Abrahà of Asmara, Eritrea.

LOOKING TO FUTURE — Richard Tucker, Metropolitan Opera star, views the Chicago Auditorium design during his visit this week. With him is Mrs. John V. Spachner, chairman of the Auditorium Theater Council, an organization backing renovation of the famed building. Repairs are expected to be complete by autumn of 1965.

Famed Auditorium Due for Restoration

CHICAGO (AP) — For more than two decades, a hall in which some of the world's most famous opera singers were heard has been a virtual tomb.

Signs of new life for the hall, Chicago's famed auditorium on Michigan Avenue, appeared this week as repairs began to the balconies of the 4,000-seat theater. The auditorium, once a world-

Dillon Assails Barry Tax Plan

Binding Cuts Formula Called Unworkable

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon today fired a dart at Sen. Barry Goldwater's tax reduction plan, declaring that it would not be favored by anyone "with the slightest understanding of fiscal affairs and economic events."

The brief, uncharacteristic blast by Dillon was contained in a speech prepared for the National Industrial Conference Board, a business and economic research organization.

Dillon, who describes himself as a liberal Republican, has not been shy about talking about the economic advances of the past four years, but he has never before engaged in campaign rhetoric.

Goldwater, Republican nominee for president, has proposed successive income tax cuts of 5 per cent per year over a five-year period.

Dillon said: "No one with the slightest understanding of fiscal affairs and economic events—with the slightest awareness of how fluid is their current shape, let alone their future course—could countenance the prospect of blindly and irrevocably binding us to annual tax cuts for many years ahead regardless of the future state of the economy."

NO VICE

Then, paraphrasing a Goldwater statement on extremism, Dillon added, "In the conduct of economic policy, moderation is no vice—it is an absolute and virtuous necessity."

"It is that quality, among others, that has accounted not only for the remarkable progress in our domestic economy during the past 3½ years, but also for our satisfactory progress in reducing the deficit in our balance of payments."

Dillon said taxes should be changed only after careful study.

He also defended the record of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson on spending.

LESSER RISE

He said that, except for "unavoidable increases for defense, space and debt service," the federal budget has risen by only $4 billion in the four fiscal years, 1961-1965.

He said in the preceding four years, the civilian budget increased $8 billion.

renowned center of culture, once again will provide the setting for performing artists, if a citizens committee's plans are realized.

The committee, called the Auditorium Theater Council, has raised a third of the $2.5 million required for the theater's restoration. The group includes representatives of Chicago's civil and cultural organizations and is headed by Mrs. John V. Spachner, of suburban Highland Park, herself a musician.

CARNEGIE HALL

The council was heartened by the public response which saved New York's Carnegie Hall from destruction.

The auditorium was designed by Louis Sullivan and Dankmar Adler, renowned Chicago architects, and since its inaugural by President Benjamin Harrison in 1889 has been known for its perfect acoustics and exceptional sight lines.

With the economic hardships of the depression of the early 1930s, the auditorium fell into disuse and subsequent disrepair. The elegant gold tracteries faded and the plaster crumbled. During World War II, it was used as a servicemen's center.

In the mid-1940s, Roosevelt University was founded and took over the building but has not used the decaying auditorium.

'GREATEST ROOM'

Frank Lloyd Wright, a student of Sullivan and later a famous architect himself, termed the auditorium "the greatest room for music and opera in the world—bar none."

Performing artists agreed. John McCormack, the Irish tenor, once said, "I would rather sing in the auditorium than any other hall in the world."

Nellie Melba, the Australian soprano, once said, "I wish I could fold it up and take it with me everywhere, to open it out for every performance I give."

Adelina Patti, sang "Home, Sweet Home" on the occasion of the auditorium's inaugural.

President Harrison was nominated there when the Republican party held its convention in the Auditorium in 1888, before the building was completely finished.

The stage, which will hold 1,000 persons, has supported a lengthy roster of notables, including Caruso, Mary Garden, Ellen Terry, Rudolph Friml, Paderewski, Fritz Kreisler and Gail Curci.

Others included Theodore Roosevelt, George M. Cohan, Florenz Ziegfeld, Sarah Bernhardt and Dwight L. Moody.

Body of Infant Girl Discovered Burned

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The body of an infant girl, about two months old but burned beyond recognition, was discovered Wednesday in a cardboard box in a field near the north-east Grand Rapids city limits.

Dr. George J. Fabianer, Kent County medical examiner, said the body was brought to St. Mary's Hospital for examination. Sheriff's deputies were investigating.

Residents Hit Avon Sewer Plan

AVON TOWNSHIP — Verbal and written opposition have ensured that the battle over the proposed $415,000 Southwest Avon Sewer System will rage into November.

Signatures on petitions presented at a stormy public hearing on the plan Tuesday night are now being counted and checked against township tax rolls.

Under Act 185 of the Michigan Public Act of 1954 as amended, the assessment needed for the sewer trunkline could be kept from going into effect.

To do this 20 per cent or more of the property owners in the assessment area, representing an equal percentage of the property there, would have to sign petitions opposing the assessment.

The only hope for the plan would then be petitions circulated for signatures of persons in the area favoring it.

51 PER CENT
Such petitions would require the signatures of 51 per cent of the property owners representing 51 per cent of the property in the 1,896-acre area.

The hearing itself will be continued on Nov. 10.

By that time, the percentage of valid signatures on opposition petitions will be known, and any attempt to circulate new petitions in favor of the plan will be made following that date.

Signers of opposition petitions objected to the route of the sewer trunkline, which follows natural watercourses rather than roads.

GRAVITY DRAINAGE
The route, laid out by the engineering department of this

Oakland County Department of Public Works, is designed to keep the trunkline at the lowest possible level at all points, thus enabling lateral lines to drain into the trunkline by means of gravity.

Reasons behind the sewer system project were explained at the first part of the hearing by Oscar Boyea, assistant director for the Environmental Health Section of the county health department and by Donald W. Ringler, deputy director of the Department of Public Works.

Boyea cited poor soil drainage characteristics and the high water table in the area as reasons for a sewer system in lieu of septic tanks and the fields.

He said that the sewage being handled presently by septic tanks too often rises to the surface of the ground or winds up in the Sprague Drain, causing a grave health hazard.

OPEN DITCH
The Sprague Drain runs along Auburn Road in a southerly direction towards Troy, and becomes an open ditch near its end.

Boyea said that "moonlight connections" made by individuals and businesses, sometimes illegally, keep the drain filled with raw sewage.

He said that the situation "has bothered us for years, but there is no answer until such time as sewer systems are available."

Ringler covered the technical aspects of the trunkline route and fielded questions on cost to future users of the system.

Although Ringler said that an accurate estimate of cost was impossible without a detailed engineering study of a specific location, he did give the audience an offhand estimate.

"The sewer line would cost about $10 per linear foot, but since it serves both sides of a street, the individual property owner would face a cost of about $5 per front foot of property."

Property owners in the assessment area also face a cost of $116.58 per unit for the trunkline, before lateral lines to their property are planned or installed.

The plan calls for assessment on the basis of 1.7 units per acre, and opponents of the proposal cite this as a prime objection to the plan.

They said that certain property owners would benefit from the plan, since the trunkline would cross their property and open it to development.

On the other hand, they said, those owning six or more acres but whose holdings are too small for development would be forced to pay a high assessment with no hope of getting their money back through development.

There are still others who own enough property that development would be an ideal answer financially, but who do not wish to turn their property over to developers.

FORCED TO CHOOSE

These people are in the position of being forced to choose between payment of a large assessment and developing to get it back or selling outright, according to the opposition.

Mrs. John Chastain, 1921 Livernash, who circulated petitions against the plan, said that the poor drainage characteristics of the soil causes problems with septic tanks in only "a very small part of the total 1,896 acres."

"The majority of the people who would be assessed for this have no problem with septic tank drainage," she said, "and those in the bad areas need a sanitary commission, not a sewer system."

Thus far, opposition has centered on the assessment for the trunkline and the planned route of that line.

MORE DISTRICTS

According to Ringler, further assessment districts would be created to meet the cost of lateral lines from the trunkline to the various areas which would use the system.

A tap-in fee of an estimated $200 would also be involved for property owners once lateral lines were constructed from the trunkline.

Jaycees Set Barbecue

CLARKSTON — Members of the Clarkston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold their third annual chicken barbecue from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday at Clarkston Junior High School.

Jaycees expect to serve 700 dinners with proceeds earmarked for the various community development programs sponsored by the organization.

Cochairmen for the dinner are Bob Brumback and Kelly Burnette. Ron Olliffe has charge of the special carry-out service.

Ticket chairman for the barbecue is Dick Chartier and Barry Breidenbaugh is handling purchasing.

Other dinner chairmen are Pat Nowak, publicity; Don Fox and Don Cameron, serving; and Ralph Kenyon, food preparation.

SYNCOATING SISTERS — One of the special features of the fourth annual Fall Festival to be staged by the Dominican Sisters of St. Joseph Sept. 27 will be performances by the Sisters' Band. Here four of the 40-member musical aggregation rehearse a

17 Parishes Set to Sponsor Annual Fall Festival in Area

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Seventeen parishes in Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin are joining in sponsorship of the fourth annual Fall Festival at the Dominican Sisters Convent Sept. 27.

The convent grounds at 775 W. Draher will be transformed into a gala carnival midway for the event.

Featured attractions planned to appeal to the over 40,000 expected to attend will include the Sisters' Band from the convent and the Keystone Kops comedy team of the Fraternal Order of Police of Warren.

John F. Ivory of White Lake Township will provide wagon and pony rides.

Carnival rides and a number of novelty and game booths will offer entertainment for all ages and items for early Christmas shoppers to order and buy.

For hungry festival-goers, the Knights of Columbus Council No. 4784 of Oxford and Lake Orion will be preparing barbecued beef, kielbasa and sauerkraut sandwiches.

Chairman of the event is John J. Martin, traffic manager, Chrysler Corp.

Cochairmen are Peter L. Bueck, Wayne County sheriff, and John J. Balun of Saffran Engineering, St. Clair Shores.

The trio is directing the work of the participating parishes which include St. Patrick, Union Lake; Our Lady of the Lake, Waterford; St. Benedict, Pontiac; and 14 others from Michigan and the two nearby states.

USE OF PROCEEDS

"Proceeds from the festival will be used to defray the costs of the recently constructed novitiate building which provides dormitories and classrooms for the young sisters, novices and postulants in training.

The expansion was made necessary by the rapid growth of the order, according to Mother Mary Lucille, superior.

The convent is one mile west of M24, just south of Oxford. Signs will point out the location.

Approximately 100 acres will be reserved for free parking.

3 Club Projects to Benefit From Orion Card Party

ORION TOWNSHIP — Three club projects will benefit from the card party planned for 8 p.m. Saturday by the Orion Township branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Proceeds from the public event will go for conservation, civic improvement and the International Farm Youth Exchange program (IFYE).

It will be held in the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building on South Broadway in Lake Orion.

General chairman is Mrs. Thomas Hunt. Other committee chairmen include Mrs. Elmer Kleiber, prizes; Mrs. George Albert Sr., refreshments; and Mrs. Norman Fitch and Mrs. Clarence Arnold, tickets.

3rd Zoning Hearing Set on W. Bloomfield Plans

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A third hearing on rezoning for what could be the township's first multiple-residential community has been scheduled for Tuesday.

Peter Popek is seeking the change to permit development of his property at Mirror Lake, on the south side of Pontiac Trail.

The proposed alteration has been considered at two public hearings and at numerous planning commission meetings since the request was filed in December, 1963, according to Township Supervisor John C. Rehard.

The 36 acres in question now carry the township's highest restrictions for single-family residential areas.

Planners recommended that change be allowed after a hearing on development plans in June and one on rezoning in July.

COUNTY DECLINES

They reinforced their stand when the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee declined giving the proposed action approval.

The county group took no action on the plans in light of objections expressed by neighboring property owners.

Between 30 and 40 residents of both the township and Orchard Lake attended last night's Township Board meeting, at which trustees were asked for final approval of the project.

66 UNITS

Popek's plans call for the construction of 66 apartments in eight buildings.

Rehard commented that although another parcel of property in the township was rezoned for multiple residences, it has not yet been developed.

Meetings Set for Appeals on Zonings

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Property owners who want to appeal zoning classifications now can do so at no charge.

A $35 fee formerly was required of a person who wanted to call a meeting of the zoning board of appeals.

However, the Township Board now has established four regular meetings a year for the appeal group. It will convene on the second Monday of March, June, September and December if there is a need.

Meetings called at other times still will require the fee.

Trustees also have amended the township's new junk and dismantled car ordinance, which became effective Aug. 30.

ADDED WORD

They have added the word "or" after "and" in the section which excludes "duly licensed and operable vehicles or trailers with substantially all main component parts attached."

TO SING IN AREA — The Capellaire Quartet of Lansing will sing in 9:45 and 11 a.m. services Sunday at the Auburn Road Church of the Nazarene, 1825 E. Auburn, Avon Township. The group also will present a concert at 3 p.m. Sunday in the church.

Of Civil Rights Workers

To Eye Indictments in Dixie Deaths

By United Press International
A federal grand jury will consider possible indictments next week in the slaying of three civil rights workers in Mississippi.

Reliable sources said the grand jury would begin its probe Monday in Biloxi. The sources said 120 subpoenas were served on persons in the Philadelphia, Miss., area where the three workers disappeared June 21.

Bodies of the three — Andrew Goodman, 20, Michael Schwerner, 24, both of New York, and Negro James Chaney, 22, of Meridian — were found six weeks later following a massive search by the FBI and military authorities.

Each had been shot.

Federal authorities refused comment on the grand jury report, but the source disclosed the government would seek indictments against as many as nine persons.

SCHOOL BOYCOTT

In New York, a two-day boycott of the nation's largest school system was scheduled to end today. The boycott was touched off by a controversial school board plan to transport students away from neighborhood schools in order to get better racial balance.

Other developments:

JACKSON, Miss. — Church leaders from nine denominations announced formation of a committee to assist in rebuilding Negro churches burned in Mississippi this summer. The group said 22 churches had been damaged or destroyed by arsonists during the civil rights campaign in the state.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — John

Doar, chief assistant of the Justice Department's civil rights division, said in a speech yesterday that the South should be praised for its compliance with the public accommodations section of the civil rights law.

RACIAL RIOTS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — A hearing will be held today for

Joseph Kennedy Visits Edward in Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph P. Kennedy flew from Hyannis Port, Mass., to Boston Wednesday to visit his son, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who is in a hospital recovering from a back injury suffered in a plane crash. The elder Kennedy had a physical check-up while he was at the hospital.

Florence Mobley, a 23-year-old typist who was one of three persons charged with instigating racial riots in North Philadelphia two weeks ago.

ATLANTA — Dr. Martin Luther King's office announced the Negro integration leader would discuss the nation's racial problems with Pope Paul VI during an audience with the Pontiff Friday.

CANTON, Miss. — A Negro church used in Madison County voter registration drives was burned to the ground early today.

Negro leaders said two white men were spotted at the scene shortly before the rural church went up in flames.

Their names were turned over to the FBI. This was the 23rd church in Mississippi to be burned under mysterious circumstances since a stepped-up desegregation drive began at the first of the summer.

Airline Firm Hires Ex-Movie Exec

LOS ANGELES (AP) — American aviation took another step farther from the helmet-and-goggles era today with the employment by Continental Airlines of Elwin B. Michalove, 37.

His job: director of in-flight entertainment services.

Continental said Michalove, a former movie industry executive, will supervise planning of entertainment offered on the line's Los Angeles-Chicago jet flights; first-run movies, and music, classical and popular.

Thaw Out the Old Memory

Remember Life Before Frozen Foods?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — You've got a pretty fair memory if you can look back and remember when —

The only frozen food people ate was ice cream — and they often froze it themselves.

When you had a cold, mother rubbed your chest with a menthol ointment and covered it with a piece of warm flannel.

In winter, children spent half their time scratching themselves because they all wore long woolen underwear.

Wallace Beery was getting rich from pictures that usually ended with him wiping a tear from his eye and saying, "Aw, shucks!"

When you told a fellow a funny story, he'd snap his suspenders with his thumbs to show his appreciation.

COLLECTIONS
Rich kids had stamp collections; poor kids made collections of cigar bands, stripped from stubs they found in the street.

You first learned the evils of gambling by playing marbles for keeps.

All fat men were supposed to be naturally jolly — and not suffering from neuroses that caused them to eat compulsively.

It was a popular parlor sport to try to get messages from the spirit world via ouija boards.

SPRING CLEANING

When a housewife tied a cloth around her head, you knew she was in the throes of spring cleaning.

Men openly took sandwiches to the office in metal lunch boxes instead of hiding them in expensive leather attache cases.

Summer wasn't really summer until the whole family had its first watermelon of the season on the back porch.

Women were esteemed more for the quality of the pies they baked than the style of clothes they wore. A really good cook prided herself on the fact she never served her husband "store bread."

RICHEST KIDS
You could always tell the richest folks in a small town. They had a cast-iron deer on their front lawn. Anybody who worked only half a day on Saturdays was a member of the leisure class.

Grown men who played golf or tennis were regarded as somewhat sissy.

When a young man left home to make his fortune in the city, his father always warned him never to play pool with strangers.

SURPRISE TIP
If you tipped a waitress, she looked surprised. It was seventh heaven to buy your best girl a five-cent cherry soda at the drugstore and drink it with two straws.

Everybody took it for granted that sooner or later he would have to have his tonsils taken out — and probably his appendix, too.

Mothers didn't want their daughters to date a young man if word got around that he had been seen coming out of a burlesque show.

CHEW TOBACCO
Most big league baseball players chewed tobacco. If you wore a straw hat after Labor Day, the neighborhood kids would snatch it off and smash it.

Girls with long curls had a better chance of marrying young.

The biggest financial problem of most small boys was how to raise the money to take a secret course in ventriloquism by mail.

Everybody had heard of Karl Marx and Sigmund Freud, but they weren't sure which was which.

Montana Road Toll Shows 2-Year Dip

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Montana is the only state in the nation to have shown a two-year reduction in its traffic death toll during 1962 and 1963, Gov. Tim Babcock said.

Word from the National Safety Council indicated Montana's closest competitor was Arizona, which recorded two more traffic deaths in 1963 than it had in 1962. A total of 510 persons died on Arizona highways last year.

Montana recorded 229 traffic fatalities in 1963, a drop of 11 per cent from the previous year. In 1962 the decrease was 7 per cent from the year before, with a total of 256 killed.

Nationally, traffic deaths rose 5 per cent in both 1962 and 1963.

There will be 95 million passenger cars registered in the nation by 1976 compared with 68 million today, the American Automobile Association forecasts.

Black-Tie Audience

Roosevelt Mementos on Display, Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — It is just a toy stuffed dog, 16½ inches long, black, wearing a red leather collar and sporting a bobbed left ear.

It used to sit on top of a television set in a cottage called Val Kill in Hyde Park, N.Y.

Today it rested in a showcase in Hammer Galleries on East 57th St. in Manhattan, bearing a discreet tag, No. 911, and awaiting viewing by a black-tie audience tonight which would pay $10 apiece just to come in the doors.

This toy dog, worth maybe a dollar at the most, costs $25 for it was part of the life of Franklin D. and Eleanor Roosevelt and it was made in the image of Fala, probably the best known dog in U.S. history.

BURIAL SPOT

Fala, who became famous at the White House, is buried beside his master and mistress in the rose garden of the Roosevelt family home at Hyde Park.

The galleries' catalog mentions that "head turns, one ear torn, probably torn by Fala."

The toy dog is one of 2,706 pieces of furniture, furnishings and mementoes and 3,509 books that belonged to the first family.

John A. Roosevelt and his sister, Anna Halsted, offered them for display and sale, explaining: "As you know, one is unable today to operate the large homes of the past. These articles are ones for which we have no room."

OUR HOPE

"It is our hope that others will find pleasure in possessing these things, which were a part of the intimate life of my parents and gave so much enjoyment to them."

The admissions tonight and a percentage of the sale will be donated to the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation, set up by federal law last year to foster the former first lady's ideals and activities.

Late Wednesday, as the galleries arranged the exhibit, to be on public view for two weeks beginning Friday, members of the Roosevelt family wandered about the floors. Many selected items to keep in their own families.

Elliott Roosevelt, fourth child of the former president and his wife, chose among other things a blue leather card case, inscribed in gold: "E.R. from F.D.R. on Jan. 30, 1940."

A Roosevelt granddaughter selected a handful of the 162 miniature books once owned by the president, bearing notations in his own hand.

"At least," she remarked, "my kids can pick these things up and look at them."

Many of the items bore the catalog notation NFS — Not For Sale — items like the family coat of arms and the clock of onyx, jade, silver and gold with five sets of hands that show simultaneously the time in London, Berlin, Tokyo, San Francisco and New York.

It was given to the president by Pierre Cartier, the jeweler, as World War II was drawing to a close.

It bears a legend in French: "The hour of victory in the world, in respect to its architect, the President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Rains Flood Towns in Texas

ASHERTON, Tex. (UPI) — Residents of this normally arid town near the Texas - Mexico border today began a massive cleanup of mud and silt washed into their homes from nearly a foot of rain.

The deluge of rain yesterday caused widespread flooding from the northern boundary of the state all the way to the Rio Grande Valley.

Some 500 persons left flooded or threatened homes at Killeen, in central Texas, where an official 5.25 inches of rain fell. Two inches of it fell in 45 minutes.

There were no injuries reported in any of the flooding, but damage was heavy.

CONTAMINATION

Officials feared water mains were contaminated by floodwaters from the Nueces River. Inoculations were scheduled at Asherton and Catarina.

A fireman was washed away in the flood at Killeen. He traveled about 40 yards in the raging torrent before several soldiers from nearby Ft. Hood pulled him out. The force of the water was so great it pulled his trousers off.

Income and Expenses

LANSING (AP) — State Treasurer Sanford Brown reports that income into the state treasury last week totaled $12.2 million. Expenses that week totaled $32.8 million, but the treasury balance at the end of the week stood at $157.96.

Rules Committee Tactics Heat Up Districting Controversy

WASHINGTON (U) — A drive for a constitutional amendment to block reapportionment of state legislatures has added new heat to the smoldering controversy now lying up Congress.

The latest effort is aimed at rushing through an amendment that would wipe out the Supreme Court's recent ruling that both houses of a state legislature must be apportioned on a basis of population.

Another swift strike by Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the House Rules Committee, brings such an amendment before his committee today for expected quick approval that would clear it for a later House vote. It would lie up to the House leaders to determine when the vote came.

BOLD TACTICS

Smith used the same bold tactics last month to override the House leadership and send to the floor a bill that would have taken jurisdiction over state reapportionment away from the federal courts.

That one passed the House but died in the Senate Tuesday. Now Smith plans to make the more difficult attempt for a constitutional amendment, which requires a two-thirds vote.

Smith's weapon is a seldom-used House rule that permits a majority of the Rules Committee to take any bill away from a legislative committee and send it to the House.

His target is the House Judiciary Committee, which was holding hearings on nearly 150 reapportionment proposals until Smith's sudden raid last month snatched one away.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the Judiciary Committee, who blasted the earlier move as an exercise in tyranny by the Rules Committee, announced he wouldn't bother to show up at today's hearing.

"Anything I would say would be as useless as trying to write on water," Celler said. "The majority of the Rules Committee have apparently made up their minds. The decision is already written."

Celler said Smith and his followers were acting in "sheer desperation," and predicted the amendment would be rejected.

The earlier bill affecting the federal courts' jurisdiction won a 218-175 majority in the House, far short of the two-thirds needed for a constitutional amendment. It was soundly defeated in the Senate, 56 to 21.

The Senate would be the big stumbling block for a constitutional amendment.

Efforts to substitute a milder resolution merely expressing "the sense of Congress" that the courts should go slow in ordering reapportionment failed earlier in the week, however, leaving the final outcome of the dispute much in doubt.

Just Simple Pleasures

This Adult Still Makes Own Playthings

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The other day I overheard a group of children discussing their parents.

"The trouble with adults now-a-days is they don't know how to entertain themselves any more," a 10-year-old girl was saying.

"That's correct," agreed one of her playmates. "My parents are miserable unless they have something or somebody to entertain them. They claim they can't think of anything to do by themselves."

A 9-year-old boy said he had noticed that adults seldom make things to play with, the way grown-ups once did.

"They have to buy everything and then they soon get bored with it," he said.

"I think television has ruined them," said the 10-year-old. "It leaves them keyed up and restless. If there's nothing to watch on television, they are at loose ends."

The kiddies may have a point there, but in my case it's a bum rap. I am one adult who still invents most of his own amusements.

Lake when I first moved to Washington, somebody gave me a briefcase for Christmas. I didn't need a briefcase, but I started carrying it around with me anyway.

It gave me a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction. I have about the national capital with an empty briefcase.

I even took it to dinner parties and other social functions.

I would call the hostess aside and ask her to put it in a safe place.

Eventually, the VIP set here switched to attache cases. That spoiled the fun of carrying an empty briefcase, so I began carrying a yard stick instead.

This is not an ordinary two-sided yard stick. It has four sides. One side can be used for measuring things and the other three sides advertise the First National Bank of Baird, Texas.

There is something infinitely enjoyable about going out in the evening, jauntily swinging a yard stick that advertises the First National Bank of Baird, Texas. I particularly enjoy checking it at a hat check stand.

Even more amusing is a picture that I have tacked up behind my desk in the House press gallery. It is a copy of the Mona Lisa, to which has been added a beard and mustache.

I put it up for the benefit of tourists, who frequently wander into the gallery by mistake. It always stops them cold. They stare at the picture a few seconds, then nudge each other and began talking in whispers.

MOST IMPRESSED

I like to think that when they get back home and are asked what impressed them most about the U.S. Capitol, they will say that it was a picture of the Mona Lisa with a beard and mustache.

These are simple pleasures, yes. But they show that adults can still entertain themselves if they really put their minds to it.

On Officer's Scooter

John-John Gets No Ride

NEW YORK (AP) — A polite little boy bowed and said "Good morning" to a policeman in Central Park yesterday morning, but didn't get the ride he wanted on the policeman's motor scooter.

Patrolman Frank Sasek reluctantly told 3-year-old John F. Kennedy Jr. that it was against departmental regulations.

Sasek said Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the president, and her son approached him about 11 a.m.

"She introduced me to her son, saying, 'This is John,'" the policeman continued. "John bowed from the waist and said 'Good morning.'"

Sasek said he asked the former first lady for an autograph and she smiled and said she would trade one for a ride on the scooter for John.

He couldn't swap, but she gave him the autograph anyway.

Hope to Find
Stragglers of World War II

TOKYO (UPI) — A former Japanese Army sergeant who spent 16 years in the jungles of Guam without knowing that World War II had ended will return to the island tomorrow to search for two of his comrades-in-arm.

Buzo Minagawa, one of the two Japanese stragglers found on Guam in 1960, will fly to the Pacific island tomorrow to join in the search for two men believed to be the Japanese who apparently have been hiding in the jungles for the past 19 years.

Minagawa and two officials of the Japanese Health and Welfare Ministry will be joined on Guam by Shinichi Abe, another Health and Welfare Ministry official who went to the island late last month to prepare for the launching of full-scale search activities for the stragglers.

Minagawa and other Japanese team members will remain on Guam for about a month.

NEW RIFLE FOR THE GROUND FORCES?

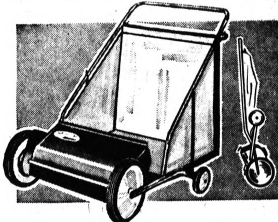

Although the Army's M14 rifle (top) has been used by the troops for only four years, the Army is searching for a newer, lighter, more powerful weapon. High on its list of possible replacements is the AR15 (bottom) manufactured by Colt's Patent Firearms Manufacturing Co. The AR15, now in very limited use in Viet Nam, fires a high-velocity 22-caliber slug, not much larger than a 22-caliber bullet. The M14 uses the larger 30-caliber slug. Tests indicate that the AR15 is remarkably accurate and lethal. Also under test are the AR18, Stoner 63 and the Special Purpose Individual Weapon (which shoots darts and rifle grenades).

Today's News Briefs From Washington

Output of Factories, Mines and Utilities Continues Upswing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Output of the nation's factories, mines and utilities advanced again in August for the 12th consecutive month.

Expectancy High at AMC, More Glamor in '65 Line

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry's shiny 1965 models are waiting offstage for their debut in dealer showrooms next week and nowhere is there more expectancy than at American Motors.

AMC sales sagged during the 1964 model run, while business was booming at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Auto writers, who are concluding three weeks of announcement parties for the new cars, are generally agreed that American Motors cars will be among the more glamorous entries this year.

Traditionally, AMC has striven to provide good basic transportation, but in the over-all, did not quite match the glamor of the Big Three — GM, Ford and Chrysler.

PRETTY SPORTY

This year, however, AMC's said automobile production was a key factor in pushing the industrial production index to 133.5, up 33.5 per cent from the 1957-59 average.

The gain was less than one percentage point from July, but 6 per cent higher than in August 1963.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee has added a reopening of the National Service Life Insurance program to a House-passed bill increasing non-service-connected veterans' pensions.

The pension bill would raise monthly benefits for some of the neediest of the 1,277,000 veterans in the program, primarily World War I veterans. It also would liberalize income limitations governing eligibility. Its cost is estimated at $72 million the first year, increasing to $111 million by the fifth year.

The provision for reopening the insurance program, opposed by the insurance industry, would give an estimated 10 million veterans of World War I and the Korean War a year to take out low-premium policies up to $10,000.

Passed by the Senate six times, the life insurance reopening has always been rejected by the House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee has recommended legislation to require tax-exempt organizations to publish an itemization of all legal fees and expenses.

The subcommittee's 97-page report dealt largely with union funds used for the defense of officers and former officers of the International Union of Mine and Smelter Workers convicted in 1963 for filing false non-Communist affidavits.

The union was expelled from the CIO in 1960 on the ground that it was Communist-dominated and the Subversive Activities Control Board ruled in 1962 that it was Communist-infiltrated.

The subcommittee, criticizing "such outrageous abuses of the tax gift," said the mine-mill union not only drew on its own treasury to defend its officials but received substantial support from the Teamsters Union, the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, and the American Communications Association.

NFO Protest in 2nd Month

Reports of Vandalism in Holdback Area

CHICAGO (UPI) — The National Farmers Organization (NFO) market rebellion entered its second month today amid sporadic reports of vandalism from the 23-state holding area.

Midwest hog prices yesterday reached the lowest ebb since the NFO action began Aug. 9. Prices dropped as much as 50 cents with most losses held to 25 cents. Livestock receipts were generally slightly higher.

The NFO campaign is aimed at beefing up cattle and hog prices by holding livestock from markets in states from Pennsylvania to Wyoming. The organization's goal is minimum contracts with top prices of $32.45 for cattle and $22.75 for hogs.

Police in St. Cloud, Minn., last night held 19 men for unlawful assembly at an NFO demonstration a week ago. They were suspected of dragging trucker Lawrence Woods from his vehicle when he attempted to pick up a load of cattle.

A Clinton, Wis., farmer was scheduled to be arraigned today for criminal damage to two livestock trucks from Illinois. Police said a mower-blade, angle-iron device in the highway damaged tires on the two market-bound trucks.

And, in Schuyler County, Ill., reinforced police patrols kept the peace while authorities investigated three bombings at farm homes Tuesday.

Edward Pool, Rushville, Ill., complained to police yesterday that the windows in his home were shot out after he ordered NFO demonstrators off his property.

Order Fine, Probation in Tax Evasion Case

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A $500 fine and two years probation was ordered Wednesday by U. S. District Court Judge Raymond W. Starr for Bonnie Cohen, 49, of Muskegon on an income tax evasion charge.

Cohen pleaded guilty Sept. 3 to one count of a federal grand jury indictment charging him with filing a false return in 1959 when he paid $887 in income tax while the government said he should have paid $2,520.

British Chief States Policy

Douglas-Home Sees End to Fear of Attack

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Douglas-Home's Conservatives promised today to seek to end the world's aching fear of surprise attack if their party wins the Oct. 15 election.

In an election manifesto, the Conservatives also promised to work with the United States, the Soviet Union and other powers for safe general disarmament and to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

The party pledged, however, to keep Britain's independent nuclear deterrent which it described as a "vital contribution to Britain's diplomacy and defense." The opposition Labor party is pledged to abandon Britain's nuclear weapons.

The manifesto saw a chance for further easing of East-West tensions on such matters as checking the spread of nuclear weapons and establishment of international observation posts to guard against surprise attack. But it warned:

"It would be wrong to raise false hopes, for the Russians are stubborn negotiators and these are difficult matters. But we are determined to maintain the momentum of constructive discussion which has already done much to bring nearer an end to the cold war."

The manifesto stressed that Britain's Conservative government, along with the United States and the Soviet Union, concluded a limited nuclear test ban treaty and agreed to limit production of nuclear materials for military purposes.

BUILD ON PRESENT

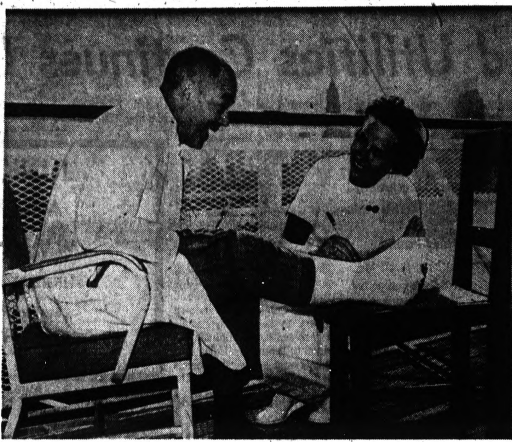

Now, the Conservatives said, the aim must be to build on those earlier gains.

The manifesto said a Conservative government would support an Atlantic partnership made up of the United States and a united Europe.

It explained that membership in the six-nation European Common Market "is not open to us in existing circumstances, and no question of fresh negotiations can arise at present."

But it said the Conservatives would work with Britain's partners in the European Free Trade Association (EFTA), the Council of Europe and Western European Union "for the closest possible relations with the (common market) six consistent with our commonwealth ties."

HAPPY ENDING — Dr. Carl Erickson receives autographs of nurse Ethel Vande Bunte on cast on his leg yesterday as they arrived in New York aboard the floating mercy ship

Hope. The ship returned from a tour of 10 months in Ecuador. Dr. Erickson's leg was broken in a plane crash which killed six in Ecuador. The ship's next stop will be Africa.

Floating Hospital's 4th Trip

Medic Ship Hope Due in Africa

NEW YORK (AP) — A ship called Hope will soon take a prescription of medicine and medical know-how to Africa, where poverty, hunger and disease have left many without hope.

It will be the fourth trip for the floating hospital, staffed by volunteer doctors and nurses.

As a beneficial side effect, it wins friends for America. The ship returned Wednesday from 10 months in Ecuador.

SINCERE BELIEF

"I sincerely believe we have made friends for the United States," said Dorothy Aeschliman of Sacramento, Calif., the chief nurse.

"A tremendous amount has been accomplished in training medical personnel."

Said a medical technician: "We were up to our eyeballs in parasites."

A surgeon reported: "They let their tumors grow to the size of watermelons."

MASH BANANAS

A nurse said: "We have to teach them how to mash bananas to feed their children."

After a few weeks layover to replenish supplies and organize a staff, the big, white ship will leave for Conakry, Guinea, in Africa.

The first expedition was to Indonesia and South Viet Nam in 1960. In 1962 and last year the ship went to Peru. She anchors in a harbor, treats all who can be brought on board and sends medical teams to the interior.

The ship's doctors have performed more than 2,000 major operations, treated more than 150,000 patients, immunized hundreds of thousands of children against a host of infections and trained thousands of inhabitants to carry on the work after the ship leaves.

Contributions to the "People-to-People Health Foundation" finance the ship's operations. Industry has chipped in with drugs and equipment. The government provided an old Navy hospital ship.

Arriving with the ship was one of its former patients, a 12-year-old orphan, Oliviero Mendia, who lived in an Andes mountain village in Ecuador.

He was adopted by a New Jersey couple who fell in love with him when he was brought aboard the ship for treatment of a jaw injury. The couple ran the ship's concessions.

His adoptive mother, Eleanor Codella of Lake Hiawatha, N.J., said: "The first time we saw him, we were attracted to him. He just stood out."

GOP Hopeful Is a 'Winner' in Both Parties

IRONWOOD (AP) — William Johnson, a Republican candidate for the State Legislature, met a Lady Democrat here and, after a chat, she invited him to visit the Democratic headquarters to meet some party workers.

Johnson did, and entered his name for a drawing with a davenport and chair set as the prize.

A couple of weeks later they held the drawing, and guess who won?

The winner, announced at a county-wide Democratic supper, was:

A. William Johnson, Republican candidate for the State Legislature.

Candidates' Forum Resel for Oct. 21

Because of the inability of some of the candidates to attend the citizens political forum planned by the Oakland Citizens League for Sept. 26, the event has been rescheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 21, Chairman George J. Fulkerson announced today.

The second annual forum will be an evening event at Oakland University.

The forum provides a platform from which Oakland County citizens can hear the views of Republican and Democratic candidates for governor, U.S. Senate and House of Representatives.

Selassie Escort Jet Crashes Into Factory

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — An Iranian Air Force jet fighter escorting Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie's plane crashed

today on a factory. One worker was killed, 12 were missing in the fire caused by the crash, and several others were injured. The pilot parachuted to safety. The plane was one of 10 air force jets on escort duty for the emperor's departure after a three-day state visit.

PARIS (AP) — France has been promised its first balanced budget in more than 30 years in 1965.

The budget, approved Wednesday by the French Cabinet, provides a surplus of about $1.12 billion. But Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing said all but about $2.4 million of this would go to cover this year's deficit.

Giscard d'Estaing and Premier Georges Pompidou promised bigger spending on schools, highways, housing and social security, as well as income tax revisions to benefit lower income groups.

HONG KONG (AP) — The Hong Kong government plans to resettle 1.9 million refugees from Communist China in the next 10 years, in the process becoming the landlord of almost half the colony's population. The resettlement will cost more than $280 million, the government announced Thursday.

The government has resettled more than 700,000 refugees in the last 10 years. They are housed in 17 resettlement estates and five low-cost housing projects scattered over Hong Kong Island and the adjoining mainland.

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Thirty persons drowned Sunday when a ferry boat capsized on the Wakya River, in southern Nepal, according to reports reaching Katmandu today.

MANILA (AP) — Remnants of the Communist Huk rebels who tried to overthrow the Philippine government a decade ago now operate a Mafia-like protection racket, the Defense Department says.

The department said Huk commanders, while no longer a threat to national security, have grown prosperous extorting money from victims in Luzon Island's central plain.

"They also raise funds through benefit balls, beauty contests and other money-making gimmicks," the statement said. The rebels reportedly killed 23 persons in central Luzon last year. Most were farmers who refused to be intimidated.

Calvin College Has Largest Enrollment

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Calvin College, reporting its largest enrollment in history with 2,600 students, has scheduled cornerstone laying ceremonies Saturday for its new $1 million physical education building. The previous Calvin enrollment high mark was 2,537 in 1962.

24-Hour Salad Made With Purple Plums

You can do so many good things with fresh purple plums, now in our markets for all-though a time — September into mid-October. These Idaho-grown plums are really Italian plums by way of variety, but are variously called "prune-plums", "blue plums", "sweet plums", and are good enough to be named "sugar plums."

They are the only ones of the prune and plum families which are freestone and they hold their color when cut. These qualities plus their obliging ways of combining with so many other fruits, both fresh and canned, make them perfect for salads of so many varieties.

You will like these purple plums with their silvery dustings in this very special dish which easily doubles for salad and dessert. With a hot bread and a beverage, it makes an excellent salad luncheon.

Luscious Twenty-Four Hour Salad is made up and chilled, as its name implies, for 24 hours in the refrigerator so that its flavors blend to a mellow fruity delight which everyone enjoys.

TWENTY-FOUR HOUR SALAD

Cooked Fruit Dressing
 1 egg
 1/2 cup granulated sugar or honey
 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup orange juice
 1/2 cup pineapple juice OR
 1/2 cup apricot juice
 1/2 cup lemon juice

PLUM SALAD — Luscious Twenty Four Hour Salad is one of the prettiest dishes of the autumn season. Made with fresh purple plums combined with fruits of your choice — both fresh and canned, and a most unusual salad dressing, it is all ready ahead of time, needing only a last-minute gay trimming of fruits with sprigs of mint or watercress tucked in around the sides of the salad. Use your loveliest salad bowl of course!

1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind
 1/2 pint (1 cup) whipping cream
 Using top of double boiler or a heavy saucepan, beat the egg until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually beat in the combined sugar, cornstarch and salt. Then stir in the fruit juices and grated peel. Cook over hot water or very low heat, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat. Cover. Chill.

Then fold in the cream whipped until fairly stiff. In the meantime, prepare fruit.

Salad Mixture
 2 cups fresh Idaho purple plums
 2 cups seedless grapes
 2 cups pineapple tidbits, drained
 1 cup sliced bananas
 1 cup orange segments cut in pieces

2 cups tiny marshmallows OR 16 large marshmallows cut in eighths
 Prepare purple plums by cutting in half lengthwise, zipping out the seed with the point of the paring knife. Cut each half once lengthwise, then once crosswise for neat even pieces.

Using the salad bowl from which you plan to serve (and do choose a most attractive bowl, preferably not wood), lightly combine all of the fruit and the marshmallows. Carefully fold in a liberal amount of the salad dressing so that each piece of fruit and the marshmallows are well coated. (The marshmallows puff up from absorbing some of the dressing.)

Any dressing which is left over may be served with the salad, though it really does not need it. It is a good dressing for other fruit salads too.

Cover the salad bowl with a bowl cover, foil, waxed paper, or transparent wrap. Place in refrigerator to chill at least 24 hours. Just before serving, pretty-up the top of the salad with thin slices of purple plums and drained maraschino cherries. Tuck in sprigs of mint or watercress around the sides. Makes 8 hearty servings.

Ever - so - good served with Parmesan Cheese Squares. For these, trim crusts from a day-old unsliced loaf of sandwich bread. Cut bread in large squares or fingers, as you please. Brush each liberally on all sides with melted butter. Then roll each in grated Parmesan cheese to give a generous coating.

Arrange on a cookie sheet. May be done in the morning. Just before serving time, place in a 350 degree oven to brown and heat through, about 8 minutes. Serve hot.

Economical Brisket Calls for Simmering

Want a menu change? How about beef brisket for dinner? This flavor - rich beef cut, often a featured item on restaurant menus, is too frequently overlooked for family meals.

Simmered with seasonings and colorful vegetables, beef brisket makes an attractive dinner which tastes even better than it looks. Although beef brisket often is called "boiling beef," actually it should be simmered, advises the American Meat Institute.

Foods Taken for Granted Have Long Histories

Next time you brew a cup of coffee, order a dish of ice cream, or pour yourself a refreshing glass of sherry, you may be interested to know there's a longer and more exotic history behind those refreshments than you ever suspected. An old Arab legend has it that the wonders of coffee were first discovered in the third century A. D. by a flock of sheep!

It seems that some monks in the highlands of Abyssinia noticed one night that their flock was friskier than usual after nibbling on the leaves and fruit of an unfamiliar shrub.

Picking some of the ripe cherrylike fruits, the monks chewed the seeds and found that they too felt greatly exhilarated — coffee had been discovered!

Even though coffee originated in the Near East, the Arabs once persecuted people who drank it; the refreshment was then known as an "infidel drink."

But that's no stranger than the fact that King Charles I of England beheaded his French cook for revealing the secret recipe for the King's favorite refreshment — ice cream!

Yes, according to a Chinese tale, was the contribution of a health-conscious emperor named Shen Nung. One day as he was prudently boiling his drinking water, some fragrant leaves from a nearby tree floated into his pot. Shen Nung sniffed, sipped, approved — and pronounced it his cup of tea, circa 2737 B. C.

Beer, reportedly served in two out of three American homes, may date back even further. In fact, some scholars believe that the human race learned to brew from grains before it discovered how to bake bread.

A clay tablet "payroll," dating back 5,000 years to ancient Mesopotamia (modern Iraq), held the names of people entitled to bread and beer for their day's labor.

SPANISH SHERRY
Sherry gets its name from a little Spanish town, Jerez; even today, according to experts, such a famous sherry as Harvey's Bristol Cream sometimes thought to be English, actually comes from this tiny area.

Napoleon, in fact, had trouble getting his men out of Spain, because they didn't want to leave the sherry behind!

Through the ages great men everywhere have sung the praises of sherry. Nineteenth century British author John Ruskin once said, "I consider just and tolerable the drinking of Sherry from dawn to dusk."

Perhaps the most famous refreshment that was first enjoyed in the Americas is chocolate. Europeans became acquainted with it in Mexico, where it was a favorite beverage.

Serve Cheese Potatoes in Green Peppers

The sweet and mild-mannered green pepper has more relatives than the Gilbert and Sullivan here with "His sisters and his cousins, whom he reckons by the dozens, and his aunts!"

Green peppers haven't even a nodding acquaintance with pepper-shaker pepper, but belong to the Capsicum or pod-pepper genus native to tropical America.

Green peppers and their cousins were among the first treasures discovered in the New World by Columbus and the earliest explorers. There were pod peppers in almost infinite variety.

Some were big, some tiny. Red, white, yellow, green or violet in color. Some so sweet-tempered — such as green peppers — that they could be eaten out of hand like fruit.

Other varieties were so hot that today they are used only in medicines. A few decades after the discovery of America all forms of pod peppers known today had been found by explorers, all grown by the Indians.

Peppers of good quality should be fresh, thick-fleshed, firm and of good color. They are green when just mature enough to be good, bright red when completely ripe.

Potato and Cheese Stuffed Green Peppers

6 squatty green peppers
Boiling water
1½ teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon finely chopped garlic
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
3 cups diced, cooked potatoes
1 cup diced processed American cheese
½ cup diced celery
4 strips crisp bacon, crumbled
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ cup soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon bacon drippings
Wash green peppers. Cut a thin slice from the stem end of each and remove seeds. Place in a saucepan with boiling water to cover and 1 teaspoon of the salt. Cover. Bring to boiling point and boil 5 minutes. Remove from water and invert on a tray to drain well.
Fry bacon crisp and drain on absorbent paper. Reserve fat. Sauté onion and garlic in 2 tablespoons of the bacon fat 3 to 4 minutes or until limp. Add next 5 ingredients and spoon into peppers.
Combine bread crumbs and remaining 1 tablespoon bacon drippings. Sprinkle over the tops of peppers. Arrange in a close-fitting casserole. Cover.

Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Remove cover and bake 10 minutes to brown the crumbs. Yield: 6 servings.

Gourmet Beans

Hearty fare for barbecue menus: Empty into a casserole 2 cans (1 lb. each) baked beans. Stir in 1 teaspoon mustard, ¼ teaspoon ginger, ¼ cup honey, 2 tablespoons minced onion, ¼ cup whisky. Cover and heat thoroughly. Great with steak, hamburgers, frankfurters, or whatever you're cooking on the grill!

WITH POTATO AND CHEESE — Green pepper pods make the most attractive and flavorful "pots" for potatoes, grated cheese and crumbled bacon bits — or for any of dozens of other mixtures.

Favorite Asparagus Recipe May Win a Prize for You

For the fifth consecutive year, the New Jersey Asparagus Industry Council will sponsor an asparagus recipe contest to uncover new and unusual ways of serving asparagus.

As a tie-in with the State's three hundredth anniversary celebration, the Council will offer a "Tercentenary Treasure" as first prize, which will consist of 300 jars of assorted New Jersey farm products packed by P. J. Rittler Company, Bridgeton.

Second prize will be 200 jars and third prize 100.

Twenty-five honorable award winners will receive an attractive 8-cup coffee maker.

There is nothing to buy, no labels are necessary, and entries will be welcomed on any kind of paper if legible. The only requirement is that asparagus be an important ingredient, whether fresh, canned, frozen or glass container pack; whole spears or cuts and tips.

Limit is three entries per family and all entries must be postmarked before midnight, September 30, 1964. Address to Asparagus Recipe Contest, Box 366 Millville, N.J.

Plums Good Addition

Pitted and sliced fresh sweet plums are pleasant to add to a flavored-gelatin dessert. The tartness of the plums makes a fine addition to the sweet mold.

Hold Out Salad for Lunch Box

A good manager of time needs to think ahead. Whether it is a single gal, bachelor or a homemaker for several, planning hot meals that have suitable foods to use for the next couple of box lunches is smart thinking. Small variations help to keep the planned leftovers from becoming dull.

If the evening meal salad will travel well in the packed lunch, hold some of the ingredients out before adding the dressing. Pack the salad and dressing ingredients separately in small plastic containers and hold in the refrigerator for the morning assembly line.

Various canned bean salads mellow overnight and taste even better at lunch time. Cabbage salad with different fruits give a crisp texture to most sandwich meals, but keep the dressing off the salad until ready to eat.

A protein packed salad that goes well with cheese sandwiches—

Kidney Bean Salad
1 No. 2 kidney beans
3 eggs hard cooked, peeled and sliced
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons grated onion
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup pickle relish
Drain kidney beans; combine with remaining ingredients, mixing well. Chill one hour or until flavors are blended. Makes 4-5 servings.

Fix Turnovers With Roast and Rich Pastry

Leftover meat tastes so good when it is used this way.

Meat Turnovers
1 cup finely diced leftover roast meat
1/2 cup thick meat gravy
1 can (3 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
2 tablespoons instant onion powder (10 ounces) pie crust mix
Mix together the meat, gravy, mushrooms and onion.

Make up the pastry according to package directions; divide in half, roll out each half into an 8-by-10 inch square, cut each square into four 4-inch squares.

Place a portion of the meat mixture at one side of each square; fold over; press edges together with fork tines to seal; prick top of pastry in several places to vent.

Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve hot. Makes 8 turnovers.

Egg Salad Mix Fills Ham Rolls

When the age-old problem of what to pack for school lunches arises, surprise the small fry with delicious Cheese and Ham Rolls. Stuff slices of boiled ham with a mixture of crushed cheese crackers, hard cooked eggs, minced green pepper and onion, and season with mustard for a zesty tang.

You can roll the ham slices ahead of time, refrigerate until use. They'll stay fresh until noon. You make Cheese and Ham Rolls this way:

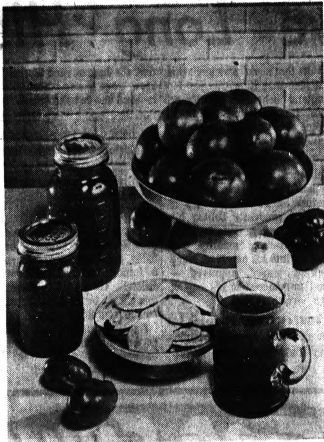

Cheese and Ham Rolls
1 cup coarsely crushed cheese crackers
2 hard cooked eggs, finely sliced
1/2 cup minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 cup commercial mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1/2 cup commercial mayonnaise
With rolling pin crush crackers into coarse crumbs between two sheets of waxed paper. Combine crackers with eggs, green pepper, onion, mayonnaise and mustard. Refrigerate until needed.

Place about 1/4 cup of mixture on a slice of ham and roll up. Secure with wooden picks. Yield: About 2 cups, enough for 8 rolls.

Bologna Curls

If you want to make bologna cups to hold scrambled eggs, do it this way. Choose large bologna slices that are about 1/4 inch thick and cook them in a little butter or margarine in a big skillet until their edges curl.

TOMATO JUICE

Chicken Gumbo and Rice Serves as a Main Dish

A prize winning recipe in the Southern states — and particularly in the rice-producing area of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas — is Chicken Gumbo.

Gumbo as you may know, is a thick rich soup containing okra and frequently shrimp. But Chicken Gumbo, as made in the homes of rice-producing families, uses thick meaty pieces of the poultry with diced smoked ham, tomatoes, green onions and green peppers, as well as okra and seasonings.

And it is always served over hot fluffy rice mounded in individual soup bowls. It is truly a main dish soup when served with herbéd slices of French toast, a green salad and simple dessert.

The rice for service with Gumbos — made with any ingredients — should be hot, fluffy, and tender. And the way to guarantee this ideal situation is to cook regular milled white rice by the easy 1-2-1 method.

For three cups of hot fluffy rice combine 1 cup of the uncooked rice with 2 cups of water and 1 teaspoon salt. Heat to boiling, stir once, cover pan, lower heat and simmer 14 minutes or until all the liquid is absorbed.

Leftover cooked rice can be reheated for service with the Gumbo. Rice is unique in that it never has a leftover taste. Even when reheated it has the fresh, just cooked flavor.

To reheat rice, add 2 tablespoons liquid for each cup of rice. Cook covered, over low heat 4 to 5 minutes.

Chicken Gumbo
1 chicken, about 2 1/2 pounds, cut up
1/2 pound smoked ham, diced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (1 pound, 4 oz.) tomatoes
1 1/2 quarts water
1 pound okra, sliced
1 cup sliced onions
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 small bay leaf
3 teaspoons gumbo file powder
4 cups hot cooked rice
Cook chicken and ham in melted butter until light brown. Add tomatoes, water, okra, onions, green pepper, parsley, salt, pepper and bay leaf. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 1 1/2 hours, or until chicken is tender.

Remove chicken from bones,

Upside-Down Cake

Made With Pears

End a meal on a sweet and lovely note with "Spicy Pear Cake."

Melt 1/4 cup butter or margarine in 9-inch square pan. Stir in 1/2 cup brown sugar and 1/2 teaspoon allspice or cinnamon. Pure, halve and core 2 fresh Bartlett pears; slice crosswise and arrange slices to cover bottom of pan.

Prepare batter for a single-layer yellow cake using mix or own recipe; pour over pears. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Cool 5 minutes; invert on serving plate and remove pan. Serve warm or cold. Makes 8 or 9 servings.

but leave in large pieces. Return meat to soup. Discard bay leaf. Sprinkle gumbo file powder lightly over soup, stirring constantly. Heap hot rice in individual soup bowls. Ladle chicken gumbo over rice. Yields about 3 quarts.

Sweet Style Best Dressing for Fruit

Round, firm red tomatoes, creamy skinned honeydew, sliced flecked with green Cranshaw and chartreuse wrinkled Casaba melons are easily fixed for refreshing salads.

Have you tried dressings with poppy seeds, honey, a fruit concentrate mixed with cream cheese or sour cream, cream replacement and cranberries, citrus and peanuts or chutney to change the salad pace?

Honey Dressing for Fruit Salad
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon celery seeds
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup salad oil
1/4 cup strained honey

Combine all ingredients in a jar and shake well. Refrigerate. To serve: arrange fruits on a bed of Iceberg lettuce. Use fresh berries, cantaloupe, honeydew balls, apple wedges, orange segments and/or avocado slices. Serve with Honey dressing. Makes 1 1/2 cups dressing.

Citrus-Peanut Dressing
2 tablespoons orange juice
1/4 cup peanut butter
1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
1/4 teaspoon grated orange peel

Gradually blend orange juice with peanut butter, mustard and salt. Add sour cream and orange peel. Serve over fresh fruit salad. Makes 1/2 cup.

Freeze Plum Pulp for Winter Use

Too busy to make purple plum relishes, jams, jellies now? Preserve the plums in halves or in the measured amounts of the size pieces called for in recipes. Spread on cookie sheets, freeze, and bag in the quantities needed. Good idea for pies, too.

For Purple Plum Jelly (made this winter!): using 1 quart halved or quartered plums and 1/4 cup cold water, bring to the boiling point, then simmer for 10 minutes only. Allow the juice to drip through a jelly bag. But the chilled juice in jars, allowing 1/4 inch headroom. Place lid on jar. Freeze until there's time for jellymaking.

P.S. The pulp may be put through a food mill and frozen to be used later in the making of jam. Mighty good for plum sherbet and ice cream, whips and soufflés. And the juice, sweetened before going to the freezer or after thawing, makes into many a delicious beverage. Or add sugar and cook to the thick syrup stage for a pancake and waffle topping, to use in homemade ice cream sodas, on sundaes, and the like.

Tomato Relishes to Make at Home

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor

From the telephone calls we've been getting, the good old-fashioned art of canning and pickling is still in style.

This is the time of year you "put up" tomatoes. Isn't that a quaint expression? We suppose it means put them up in jars, because most fruit and canned goods storage areas are down in basements.

Should the thought of canning a bushel of tomatoes be too much for you, try to find one or more neighbors and plan a work fest. You'll get a lot more canning done and enjoy a day of conversation and fellowship. Even mothers of small children can manage this.

From the home economics kitchen of a famous manufacturer of canning jars comes the first two recipes.

If you've never tasted homemade chili sauce, you have a treat in store.

Tomato Juice

Wash, rinse and drain red-ripe tomatoes. Cut out core and blossom end. Do not skin. Cut each tomato in several pieces. Slowly cook (simmer) tomatoes in covered kettle until they are soft, then put them through food mill or press through sieve.

Reheat juice to boiling and pour to within 1/4 inch of the top of home canning jar. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Process quarts and 1 1/2 pint jars 15 minutes, pints 10 minutes, in boiling-water bath canner.

Chili Sauce
4 quarts chopped tomatoes
2 cups chopped onions
1 cup chopped red sweet peppers
1 pod hot pepper
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons salt
1 tablespoon mustard seed
1 tablespoon celery seed
3 tablespoons mixed pickling spices
2 1/2 cups vinegar

Wash and drain vegetables. Scald, core and peel red-ripe tomatoes. Peel onions; remove seed from peppers; chop and measure all vegetables. (You may drain off free liquid to save a little cooking time.)

Mix all ingredients except spices and vinegar. Boil 45 minutes. Add spices (tied in bag). Boil until very thick, then add vinegar and boil until as thick as wanted. (Taste; add more seasoning and sugar if wanted.)

Pour boiling hot sauce into hot fruit jars. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Makes 5-6 pints.

French Garden Relish can be eaten the same day it is made or packed in sterilized jars for future use.

French Garden Relish
2 pounds firm ripe tomatoes
1 green pepper
2 zucchini, cooked, sliced
1/2 cup wine vinegar
1/4 cup salad oil
1 teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon minced onion, instant

Double above recipe, do not pre-cook zucchini. Place all ingredients in pot. Bring mixture to boiling point, but do not boil. Pack into hot sterilized jars to overflowing and seal. Makes 1 quart.

Italian Sweet Relish

1 medium eggplant
4 cups (8 pounds) chopped tomatoes
1 1/2 cups chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup raisins
1 cup vinegar
1/4 cup water
1 teaspoon Tabasco

Do not peel eggplant; chop into cubes (about 4 cups chopped). Place all ingredients in medium size pot. Bring to boil, stirring occasionally, do not boil. Simmer 10 minutes. Seal in hot sterilized jars. YIELD: About 3 pints.

Unusual Duo

Unusual when combined, but compatible in flavor, are strawberries and chocolate! Don't hesitate to serve plain chocolate cake with a strawberry sauce. To glaze the lily, top with whipped cream.

Mrs. Romney Shares Her Family Bean Recipe With Public

Kangaroo tail soup and quail-under-glass are a gourmet's delight but when Michigan's First Lady sets her table the Romneys often dine on Michigan's own good navy beans. When asked for her personal recipes she was ever so pleased to share them.

Long time family favorites, one is an old-fashioned baked bean dish her guests and family enjoys. The other is her special, hearty "bubbly pot" that Governor George Romney compares favorably with the famous bean soups on the daily menus of the U. S. House of Representatives and Senate Restaurants.

Here are Lenore Romney's

bean recipes, published for the first time. You'll find them easy to prepare and mighty delicious eating.

Baked Beans Lenore
2 lbs. dry navy beans
9 cups water
1 lb. salt pork, diced
3 peeled and cored tart apples, cut coarsely

1 onion, chopped
¼ cup brown sugar
½ cup molasses
3 tablespoons dry mustard
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
¼ teaspoon pepper

Soak beans in water overnight. Add salt pork and cook till beans are tender, about 2 hours. Stir in all other ingredients and turn into a bean pot or casserole and bake covered, at 300 degrees, about 6 hours, adding more liquid if necessary to keep beans moist. During last ¼ hour of baking, remove cover to brown salt pork. Makes 12 servings.

Governor Romney's Favorite Soup

1½ cups dry navy beans
6 cups cold water
1 cup onions, chopped
4 oz. salt pork or ham, cubed
½ garlic clove, chopped
2 cups celery, chopped
1 cup carrots, diced
2 whole cloves
2 bay leaves
4 cups beef or chicken stock
Dash of pepper
3 or 4 tablespoons cider vinegar

Cover well with water, and soak several hours, or overnight. Then pour off and measure water, adding enough to make 6 cups. Add beans. Sauté onions, salt pork or ham, and garlic till onions are transparent. Combine with beans, celery, carrots, cloves, bay leaves, stock and pepper in heavy kettle. Cover and simmer about 4 hours or till beans are soft. Add vinegar. Salt and additional pepper may be added if desired. Makes 8-12 servings.

Prepare Touch of Orient With Toothsome Ribs

There's no need to hunt for a fine restaurant to enjoy Polynesian specialties. These popular ribs are easy to prepare and serve at home.

It's hard to believe such a delectable flavor can be achieved with such easy-to-do preparation. The ribs are baked until ever so tender. The result — beautifully browned, flavorful ribs that will be consumed in no time at all! The pineapple and spices complement the pork resulting in a blend of flavors that is truly a taste treat.

A mold of rice, either buttered or curried, served with the ribs adds an interesting Oriental touch to your menu. To carry out the Polynesian theme, try decorating the table with real or artificial Vanda orchids or paper leis and ti leaves.

Polynesian ribs with their very special flavor are fine everyday eating, too. If a vegetable is desired, serve buttered peas with celery slices cooked Oriental style, tender but crisp. And for dessert, serve chilled Mandarin orange segments and almond cookies.

Polynesian Ribs

4 pounds pork spareribs
1 cup brown sugar, packed
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon ginger
¼ cup soy sauce
¼ cup water

1 can (8 ounce) crushed pineapple, undrained (about 1 cup)
¼ cup minced onion
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
½ cup wine or cider vinegar
1 tablespoon shredded orange rind
4 dashes Tabasco sauce

Cut ribs into serving size pieces 3 to 4 ribs wide. Arrange spareribs in shallow roasting pan. Cover pan with aluminum foil; crimp foil tightly to edge of pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 1 hour.

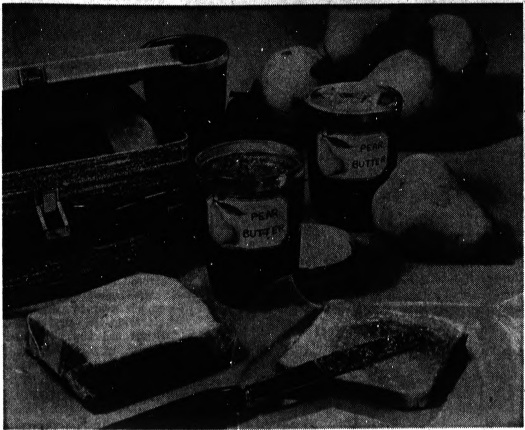

Mix together brown sugar, cornstarch, celery salt and ginger. Stir in remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly. Drain drippings from baking pan.

Brush ribs generously with sauce, turn and spoon remaining sauce over ribs. Cover pan with foil and crimp to edge of pan. Return ribs to oven and bake 30 minutes; remove foil and continue baking until tender and a little brown.

Serve plain or on buttered or curried rice. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

To stretch green peas or snap beans, add finely diced celery. The celery can be cooked with the green vegetable.

PEAR BUTTER — Golden Pear Butter, a sweet investment for school lunch sandwiches later on, is easy to make with today's recipe, which features a short one-minute boil.

For Sandwiches

Pear Butter Is Good

Now that pears are in abundance, it is time to turn some of them into Pear Butter, a sweet, inexpensive investment for school lunch sandwiches. This tasty, easy-to-make spread is spiced just right. Its consistency is perfect, thanks to added pectin and a one-minute boil.

Pear Butter

4½ cups prepared fruit pulp (about 4½ lbs. fully ripe pears)
5½ cups granulated sugar (2 lbs. 6 oz.)
½ cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice (about 1 lemon)
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ to 1 teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon mace
¼ teaspoon cloves

1 box (1½ ounces) powdered fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Peel, pit, and chop or crush about 4½ pounds fully ripe pears. Bring to a boil and simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Put cooked fruit through sieve.

Then make the butter. Measure the sugars and set aside. Measure 4½ cups pulp into a very large saucepan. Add lemon juice, lemon rind, and spices. Add powdered fruit pectin and mix well.

Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in both sugars. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and ladle quickly into glasses. Cover butter at once with ½ inch hot paraffin. Makes about 10 medium glasses.

Cook Corned Beef With Vegetables

Use any leftover corned beef for hash or a sandwich spread.

Corned Beef and Vegetables

4 pounds (about) boneless corned beef brisket
3 quarts cold water
1 tablespoon mixed pickling spices
1 large clove garlic, peeled
8 small potatoes, pared
4 medium carrots, pared
4 serving-size wedges green cabbage

Place corned beef in a kettle with the water — there should be enough to cover; add pickling spices and garlic. Bring to a boil; simmer until tender — 3 to 4 hours.

About 30 minutes before beef is cooked through, add the potatoes and carrots; add cabbage for last 15 minutes of cooking. Drain beef and vegetables; serve hot.

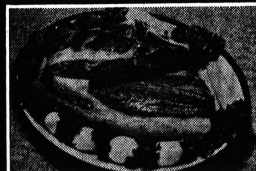

Makes 4 servings of meat and vegetables with some extra servings of the corned beef.

Pair Can't Be in Same Photograph

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My fiancé's parents have been divorced for 20 years. His father had custody of the two sons.

His mother has been married three times and is at present divorced from her third husband. We would like to have a family picture taken at the wedding.

Would it be proper to have both my fiancé's father and mother in the same picture? Also, what about his stepmother?

A: The bridegroom's divorced parents must not be in the same picture.

If you wish a picture with both, you will have to have two separate ones taken, one with the groom's father and stepmother and the other with his father and mother.

Q: On the invitations to our daughter's wedding I noticed that the Mr. was omitted from in front of the bridegroom's name.

I called the printer about it. He informed me that it was improper to use Mr. when the name was followed by Jr.

Is he right about this?

A: Your printer has been misinformed. The suffix Jr. in no way takes the place of Mr.

Q: A boy I went to high school with but whom I haven't seen for several years will return here soon to practice.

When I meet him should I call him by his first name as I used to, or should he be called doctor?

A: When you speak to him or about him to others who are friends of his, you call him by his first name. To everyone else you refer to him and introduce him as Doctor Brown.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Program for the evening was a report from each member on her summer vacation.

Engagement of Miss Gawne Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gawne of East Silverbell Road, Orion Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to Richard Ross DeBolt, son of the Ross DeBolts of East Boulevard South.

The bride-elect, a graduate of McAuley School of Practical Nursing, has set an Oct. 24 altar date in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Lake Orion.

Mrs. Donald Ball of East Silverbell Road honored Miss Gawne at a recent trousseau shower.

Woman Driver Can't Forget Smilin' Man She Nearly Hit

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I pulled out of the parking lot behind a supermarket too quickly, and I almost ran over a man who was walking toward his car with a large sack of groceries.

He dropped the sack and a carton of eggs went ker-plunk! I said, "Oh, I'm so sorry—I hope your wife doesn't break your neck."

He smiled and said, "No harm done, madame, and besides, I have no wife."

I don't know why, but I quickly replied, "That's a coincidence, I have no husband." (I am a widow.)

Then he grinned broadly, revealing the most beautiful even white teeth I've ever seen, and he tipped his hat.

Abby, please don't think I'm crazy, but I haven't been able to get the man's face and voice out of my mind.

I would like to see him again. But how?

LADY IN THE BLUE SEDAN

DEAR LADY: Go back to that supermarket at approximately the same time you met him there.

If he has any interest in seeing you again, I'll bet you see him.

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago I noticed a wall between me and my husband that I could not penetrate.

I don't know when it started, or why, but I could not reach him, so I turned to a single man to talk my problems over with.

It ended up with this man begging me to divorce my husband and marry him. I didn't intend for it to happen this way, Abby, because I think I still love my husband.

The single man is very persistent. I made my mistake when I told him I loved him, but I only did it because I was emotionally upset about my husband.

How do I get out of this mess?

IN A MESS
DEAR IN: Tell the single man that you still love your husband and you regret ever becoming involved with another man.

And if the "wall" between you and your husband is still there, read the handwriting.

on it, and consult your clergyman or marriage counselor for some objective and professional help.

DEAR ABBY: It is appalling how few people know the art of getting along with one's neighbor.

Years ago I found a method that could be used in a variety of situations. A dentist lived next door to us. We each had large, well-cared-for yards.

On week-ends he would rake all his trash in a pile and push it alongside our bordering shrubs.

I retaliated by adding to the pile as much as I could scrape from under my own shrubs, and pushing it directly onto his lawn.

It took only two offenses on my part to cure him.

People who have nervy neighbors could use this method. It could be applied to borrowers who never pay back.

And wives who get a little too cozy with other women's husbands could be taught a lesson by this retaliation trick.

I have used this principle with great success for years and have suffered no loss of friends.

ELIZABETH
DEAR ELIZABETH: Your "eye-for-an-eye and tooth-for-a-tooth" system would run very well—until you ran out of eyes and teeth.

I prefer the "cheek-turn-

Football is very simple.

Just imagine Tommy and Jimmy meeting face to face in the living room. Tommy is trying to get to the cookie jar; Jimmy, to the TV set. They scuffle. Who ever gets to his goal first, scores.

Now, whether Tommy or Jimmy wins doesn't necessarily depend on the ability of each to pass, kick, run or punt or even on his "depth strength."

It could just as well depend on the quality of his socks, the color of the uniform or the "team's" nickname.

In order to fill the many requests for Gray Ladies, the hospital, in conjunction with the Oakland County chapter of the American Red Cross, is conducting a four-week training program for Gray Ladies beginning Oct. 1.

The first session on that date will be held at the Red Cross Headquarters on Franklin Boulevard from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. It will cover a orientation of the Red Cross services, rules and regulations.

Plums Are Surprise When Cake Is Served

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Here's a cake that is good warm or cold, the day it is made or the day after. Time to make it is now when you can get blue plums.

Incidentally, you can freeze these plums simply by washing and stoning them and arranging them on a cookie sheet in the freezer. When they're frozen, store them in plastic bags. Then you can make this cake next winter.

Mrs. Oscar Finland of Upper Straits Lake is our cook. When her husband retired, they bought acreage with lake frontage, built a retirement house and are having fun with a garden.

PLUM SQUARES
By Mrs. Oscar Finland
Blue plums
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup shortening
2 teaspoons lemon juice or 1/2 teaspoon lemon extract

2 eggs
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cut and pit plums and arrange cut side down in greased 11x7x1 1/2 pan. Cream sugar, shortening and lemon. Add eggs and beat well. Sift dry ingredients and add.

There is NO liquid in this recipe.

Four batter over plums. Mix 2 tablespoons sugar with 1 teaspoon cinnamon and sprinkle over batter. Bake 25-30 minutes at 400 degrees. Makes 12 servings.

Serve plain, with cream, whipped cream or ice cream.

BONUS IDEA
Mrs. Finland suggests that Press readers make fresh pear pie now. Make it just like apple pie, using cinnamon or nutmeg for the spice.

Men Are Signed to Staff Third OU Writers' Conference Oct. 3

A number of outstanding male writers have been added to the staff for the third annual Writers' Conference Oct. 3 at Oakland University.

Among these are S.L.A. Marshall, whose nine published books include "Pork Chop Hill," which was made into a motion picture.

Other headliners for the 36-author conference staff are best-selling novelist, John Quirk, and Robert Haugh, director of the University of Michigan Writers' Conference.

Returning as staff members are Pulitzer Prize poet W. D. Snodgrass; Conrad Hilberry, who comes from Kalamazoo College; Carl Hartman, from Michigan State University; and from Wayne State University, novelists Jay McCormick and Richard Werry.

Professional writers, members of The Detroit Women Writers' Club, which cosponsors the conference with OU's division of continuing education, serve for the third year as the nucleus of the staff.

William Rapey, editor-in-chief, The Bobbs Merrill Company, Inc., will be the luncheon speaker on the subject of marketing manuscripts.

Entitling his address "Editing and Editors," he will talk on what editors are looking for, timing, how to submit, and use of literary agents.

Open to both published and aspiring writers, the format of The Writers' Conference is one in which each registrant will have an opportunity to attend four lectures or round table discussions in addition to the luncheon.

Round table discussions, each led by a published author provide opportunity for practicing writers to exchange ideas with each other.

Round tables and lectures will cover the writing of books, magazine articles, short stories, poetry, drama and juvenile works.

Other area writers who will be leading the conference include Vera Henry of Royal Oak; Alison Finpatrick of Birmingham; Dorothy McWood of Bloomfield Hills and Elmer Rose of Royal Oak.

Also heading activities will be Margaret Hillert of Berkeley, Jeanne Duran of Dearborn and Mary Augusta Rodgers of Birmingham.

Reservations for the 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Writers' Conference may be made by calling the division of continuing education at Oakland University.

A fee of $6.75 covers all sessions and a served luncheon. Men are welcome to attend the conference.

The Elmer R. Clarks of Ellwood Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Geraldine Dawn to Charles Delbert Smith, son of the Kester Smiths of Peacock Avenue. A fall wedding in 1965 is being planned.

Uses Coupon Wallet

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—I could never keep track of the coupons I clipped from the paper or that come in the mail until I started to use a discarded wallet.

In the compartment generally used for snapshots, I keep the coupons filed according to products, such as soap coupons, dog food, coffee, and so on.

When I am at the store, I just flip open my coupon wallet and can tell at a glance what products are offering valuable cash redemptions.

In the past year our family has discovered at least 10 products we might never have tried and saved money, too.—Mrs. F. H.

DEAR POLLY—Before reading a magazine, I write "CUT OUT" on the table of contents page. As I go through the magazine and see a recipe or anything else I want to keep, I simply write "page 32" or whatever it might be under my heading.

When the magazine is to be thrown away I simply turn to the list and cut out the pages I am interested in keeping.

After only 10 months of marriage, I am getting to be quite a recipe collector and this method seems easier than any I have tried.—MRS. B. B.

DEAR POLLY—When the little ones get crayon marks on wallpaper, don't run for the strap but erase the marks by lightly rubbing over the crayon with dry soap-filled steel wool pads.—MARY

DEAR POLLY—If your children are invited to a birthday party and one thing or another keeps you from getting out to buy a gift, give a subscription to a comic book or child's magazine.

It is nicer, I think, than just putting some money in an envelope. Make up a verse such as "Happy Birthday and many more, look inside and see what's in store."

Inside the note put a three-months subscription to the magazine and "Aren't you glad you took a look?"—M. E. A.

What Kind of Man Dares to Wear Cologne?

By MIRIAM NEAL
If men occasionally dare to give cigars to ladies, dare a man use cologne?

Is it too effeminate or is it too dangerous—like using two dabs?

Ask a New York taxicab driver.

"When I come home after a tough day, I always head for a shower and a brisk rubdown with my favorite cologne. It relaxes me and makes me feel just great."

Are you going to call a New York taxicab driver a sissy?

Actually he was only doing as the Romans did. For thousands of years, both men and women have used beauty aids and perfumes lavishly.

ESSENCE OF IVY

The Greeks and Romans perfumed their hair and brows with marjoram, their necks and knees with essence of ivy and their arms with mint.

Alexander the Great of Macedonia wore perfumed tunics. Napoleon Bonaparte had a large supply of cologne carried into battle and doused himself liberally with it.

Love of perfumes and cosmetics continued into modern times despite legal efforts to ban their use. In 1936, Harvard college students were fined for parting and powdering their hair.

Now, in 1964, there is an outbreak of men's "Salon" barbershops using the good-looks and styling techniques of good beauty salons.

More and more men are spending larger and larger sums for these services to achieve the good-looks and good-grooming so important to success.

They are developing a taste for fine fragrance, much like they are cultivating a taste for fine food and wine.

SPEND MILLIONS

According to the estimated sales figures issued by Drug Trade news, in 1962 men spent over $80 million for hair grooming products, nearly $53 million for after-shave lotions and $15 million for colognes.

Several perfumers once dedicated to helping women entice men are now producing secret weapons for the male.

Perhaps the question is: do the wives dare let their husbands wear cologne.

Eliminate Any Stale Odor

Vacuum bottles and picnic containers develop a stale odor when closed and not used.

To eliminate it, wash the containers in hot soapy water, then rinse with a solution of soda and warm water.

Rinse in clear hot water. Let bottles air dry before closing.

Plan Ahead to Calculate College Costs

By MARY FEELEY
Money Management Consultant
Years of planning are devoted to getting the children off to college. You anticipate all the major problems and expenses, attend to all the formalities, and try to tie up all the loose ends. The children are packed up and ready to go—and then those little last-minute questions pop up. And even though they may seem incidental, they can make or break the school year; from the student's point of view.

The following letters may reflect some of the family discussion you're involved in at the moment.
Dear Miss Feeley: My daughter is entering college this month. Her room and board and tuition will come to about $3,000. What would be a fair amount to give her for entertainment, since she is going to be near New York City.

We are neither well off nor poverty stricken, but we do intend to watch our pennies. It's no mean trick to send two children away to school on a take home salary of $13,500.

I realize it is very difficult to give definite amounts, but I would just like something to go by. Sometimes I have the feeling we gave our son too much money in undergraduate school, and then there were other times when I thought he didn't have enough. Any help you can give us will be most appreciated.

Dear Mrs. L.: I think you and your daughter can reach an agreement on her entertainment allowance after she's settled at school. How much a college student spends depends a lot on the local campus customs—how often students can go into the city, what the transportation amounts to, what opportunities there are near the school for additional spending.

She can get a pretty good idea of what she'll need from one of the "old girls" at the college and from what plans her own group are making. Then the two of you can work out an expense budget by mail.

There are many interesting

Nadine Ann Erwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Morris of Argyle Avenue, was graduated recently from the Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit.

things to see and do in New York City that cost little or even nothing at all, except for the round-trip fare. Why not just start your daughter out with a little extra—say, $25—and let her give you a letter picture of the situation later?

Of course, you can write to the dean of women at the college, if you like. Without asking her to name a specific sum of money, you can ask for a general idea of customary activities on week-ends and holidays.

You might be interested to know the United States Office of Education estimates that such college items as textbooks, transportation, laundry, recreation, and other incidentals will add $300 to $1,000 to the cost of a year of college.

Dear Miss Feeley: I will be going away to college this month and would like your advice on planning a budget.

My parents are paying my tuition, room, board, and books. I must take care of my other expenses, including transportation home for the holidays. The school is 300 miles away.

I have $350 saved. I plan to use part of the money for clothes, but don't know how much. I need some sort of monthly budget so I can finish the school year without borrowing from my parents. Any advice you can give will be a big help.

S. E., Bellwood, Ill.
Dear S. E.: Figure your bare home for two holidays (Christmas and spring vacation) at a total of $40. This should be a pretty close estimate. So you'll have $310 to cover expenses for clothes, grooming, laundry, snacks, movies, and other recreation.

PLAN-BUDGET

Plan your budget for these items at $8 a week, or about $34 a month. Just how much you should allow for each item is hard to say in advance. Keep a strict account of every cent you spend for the first two or three weeks, and the picture will begin to shape up.

(You can get Mary Feeley's handy Budget Leaflet by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Pre-treat Clothes

With a Shampoo

You can use shampoo for pre-treating stubborn spots before laundering clothes.

Heavily soiled areas, such as the inside of shirt collars, come clean if pre-treated this way before being tossed into the washer.

Lay Out Pieces for Visual Picture

Work of Japanese Artist Will Be Exhibited at OU

A Sunday afternoon tea in the Oakland University art gallery will open an exhibit of paintings by Japanese abstract artist Kichiji Umi.

The artist will be present to meet the public from 3 to 5:30 p.m. in his first one-man show outside the New York City area.

His style is characterized as "action painting" using luminous color and suggesting natural forms as sources. Some of the titles among the 30 oils and watercolors in the show are: "Red Willow Tree," "Ravine" and "Desert's Bloom." Umi studied at the Tokyo University of Arts before coming to this country in 1955. He subsequently studied at the Art Students League in New York and was awarded the Allen Tucker Scholarship for painting in 1957.

IN EXHIBITS

The 33-year-old artist has had paintings in the following, and other, exhibits: "New Talent Group Show" by the Artist Gallery, "Cross Current Show" by the American Federation of Arts, the Martha Jackson Gallery New York Group Show, and the Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts exhibition.

The Umi exhibit will be shown through Oct. 12 in the OU gallery. The gallery will be open from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 2 to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Thimble Will Save 'Pushing' Fingers

Place a thimble over your finger before pushing in thumb tacks with it.

The thimble not only helps anchor the tacks firmly but saves your fingernails and fingertips.

Candlelight Rite Unites Area Pair

A candlelight ceremony in the First Congregational Church, Rochester, marked the recent vows of Janice Elaine Ambrose to Gene A. Heline.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Ambrose of Robert Court and the Joseph A. Helines of West Colgate Avenue.

Alemon lace appliques enhanced the bride's floor-length gown of white peau taffeta worn with bouffant veil and pearl tiara. She carried white roses and ivy.

Honor matron was Mrs. Walter Cooley. Mrs. Dennis Grable and Mrs. John McClure attended as bridesmaids.

With Walter Heline, his brother's best man, were the ushers, Dennis Grable and Richard Ambrose.

Rev. Robert Jacobson officiated at the evening rite.

LONG BICYCLE RIDE — Los Angeles bookstore owner Adrian W. Cannon, 45, and three sons are shown in front of the World's Fair symbol on arrival in New York after a 3,000-mile bicycle trip from their home. They took one look at the fair, then headed straight for a nearby apartment for a well-earned rest. The quartet will buy home later this week.

Vote on Cable Car Over Detroit River

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A Detroit would have to approve as well as Windsor.

Private promoters propose a cable be strung from 266-foot towers on either side of the river. The cars would run about 135 feet overhead.

City Council, approving the proposal in principle, has authorized the citizens' vote.

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — The

'65 Crucial at State's Colleges

SAGINAW (AP) — Competition to get a seat in a college classroom was keen this year. Indications are it will be more so in 1965.

The year 1965 is crucial for Michigan higher education. The crest of the World War II baby crop graduates from high school next June.

Registrars give this advice to high school seniors: Get your application for admission in as early as possible.

"Students must make up their minds earlier next year in applying to a college," said George N. Lauer, registrar at Central Michigan University at Mount Pleasant. "The later they wait the more difficult it will be to get into a college."

BIG INCREASE

Central Michigan had a 30 per cent increase in applications this year and expects another 25 per cent next year.

Ferris State College at Big Rapids had a 31 per cent increase this year and expects a 40 per cent increase next year.

Dr. Victor Spathef, school president, said if Ferris can accommodate the 500-student increase it is planning for 1965, "it will be done with the greatest of ease."

The University of Michigan went up from 9,000 applications to 11,000 this year, and expects another 13,000 next year. Gayle Wilson, assistant registrar, said 80 per cent of all applicants are admissible by the university's standards of a B average in high school.

MISLEADING TERM

The term "qualified student for college" is a misleading term, and can be used only in connection with a specific college. Ferris will admit students with a C average. Michigan wants a C-plus average and students in the top half of the graduating class.

Colleges recognize their selectivity now is high, and don't want to get more selective. They point out there are so many students who qualify for admission.

admission that the time is approaching when the postmark on the letter will determine final placement. It is now at a "first come first serve basis" at CMU and Ferris, officials said.

Spathef said, "We cannot contemplate meeting the increased student demand by applying arbitrary and increasingly stringent demands."

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state school superintendent, said, "If appropriations are commensurate better next year so faculty salaries can be pushed up, then the colleges will be able to take some more students even without classroom additions."

Jupiter is not merely the largest of the planets in the solar system but bigger in mass and volume than all the other planets put together.

PACKED LIKE SARDINES — This is a view of the crowded temporary dormitory at the University of Michigan. Enrollment is up from 9,000 applications to 11,000 and expected to rise to 13,000 next year.

Flying Doctor to End Service by Air

CHICAGO (AP) — A flying doctor from Chicago who commuted 300 miles twice weekly this summer to end a physician shortage in a small town area in east central Illinois has decided "mission accomplished."

Dr. John E. Roche said he will stop part-timing as a country doctor at Allerton, population 282, because Dr. Verdamus McKee has started general practice at Sidell, a town of 614 miles from Allerton. Allerton is 150 miles south of Chicago.

"It looks like she's well settled and will stay, so I'm planning to withdraw soon," Dr. Roche said yesterday. "The only reason I went down there was because they needed a doctor so desperately. Now they have a full-time general practitioner and I don't want to take patients from her."

Dr. Roche, 39-year-old native of Cuba, became the first doctor to serve the area in more than 20 years after responding to an advertisement in the journal of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Roche feels that some unexpected benefit derived from his efforts downstate.

"They lengthened the landing strip from 1,000 to 2,500 feet and now tractor salesmen and others are making landings there," he said. "Everyone seems to feel that the town has picked up a bit."

How was the general health in Allerton, some 35 miles from Danville where the nearest doctor was available?

"Well, based on the more than 70 patients I saw, they hadn't paid much attention to their health unless they became quite ill," Dr. Roche said. "I found a number of cases of high blood pressure, the patients didn't know they had."

What will Dr. Roche do on his days off after he drops his part-time practice?

"Maybe I'll have to get a few rounds of golf before the season ends," he said.

Water Deaths Already Past 1963 Totals

EAST LANSING (AP)—Water accidents already have killed more persons in Michigan this year than they did in all of 1963, state police said Wednesday.

State police provisional figures showed a water death toll of 248 through Sept. 15, compared with 244 for all of last year.

Fewer water deaths, however, are expected now that the warm days of summer are about over.

The water toll this year includes 128 swimmers or waders, 32 boat operators, 31 boat passengers, 25 who fell from bridges or docks, nine who fell through ice, five who died attempting to rescue others, two skin divers, one water skier, one who fell into a caisson and 14 on whom details were not immediately available.

Florida Sand in NY

NEW YORK (AP)—They've moved a Florida beach to New York. Over 20 tons of brilliant sugar-white silica sand from Panama City, Fla., was flown to the World's Fair site to serve as an authentic backdrop for the Florida exhibit's bathing beauties.

Of course, it takes considerable intestinal fortitude to lead the king from king and one against a slam contract, but South had certainly drawn a diagram for West by bidding spades, hearts and Blackwood.

Had South really wanted to use science, he could have bid six spades in any one of several deceptive manners. The simple one would have been to have bid three clubs instead of three hearts and then use Blackwood after his partner jumped to four spades. After this series of bids it would have taken a clairvoyant in the West seat to find the club lead.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You do bid four diamonds and your partner jumps to five spades. What do you do now?

Presidential Timber No Longer Cut From Governors' Ranks

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) It used to be that the best springboard to the White House was the governor's mansion. But apparently no more.

Now it looks as if the route to the presidency goes through Congress, especially in the Senate.

Almost to a man the politicians here see significance in the fact that the 50 states failed again this year to produce a governor capable of more than a futile try for the presidential or vice-presidential nominations of either major party, and some who were viewed as likely candidates refused to run at all.

Many politicians believe that "big government" centralized in Washington hogs the political limelight to an extent that governors have little or no chance any more to make a winning splash in national political waters.

NOT SINCE FDR

Not since Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932 has anyone emerged directly from a governorship — New York's — to win the presidency.

Not since 1953, when the then-Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois did it, has anyone stepped directly from a governor's mansion to capture either the Republican or Democratic presidential nomination. Stevenson was defeated that year as the Democratic standard-bearer and again in 1956.

And not since Republican Calvin Coolidge in 1920 has a governor won the vice presidency. He was governor of Massachusetts, and advanced to the presidency.

This year, of course, it's President Johnson, a former Senate majority leader, heading the Democratic ticket with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota his running mate, while Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona carries the Republican standard with Rep. William E. Miller of New York as his vice-presidential teammate.

FOUR YEARS AGO

Four years ago Sen. John F. Kennedy, D-Mass., won the presidency, and Johnson, then a senator from Texas, took the vice presidency, over the challenge of Republican Richard M. Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge, both former senators.

Nixon was senator from California when he won the vice presidency in 1952 as running mate of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and they were reelected in 1956.

Harry S. Truman was a senator when he was elected vice president in 1944.

Several key Senate figures spoke about the current situation in separate interviews.

MANY FACTORS

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the Senate majority leader, thought there were many factors in Congress members' success and governors' lack of it in seeking top spots on the two parties' tickets.

Mansfield said one element is the fact that governors find themselves so tied up in vital and complex state affairs that they just lack time and opportunity to make a name for themselves on national issues as men of presidential timber.

Mansfield suggested the matter might even get some informal discussion among state executives at their 1965 National Governors' Conference.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., the minority leader, blamed what he called "downgrading of the states" under Democratic national administrations for the governors' showing.

"Ever since Franklin D. Roosevelt," Dirksen said, "there has been an increasing concentration of power in Washington and a downgrading of the states, both in philosophy and practice."

Not all politicians cared to be quoted by name, lest they offend friends.

They discussed, however, whether the modern crop of governors simply lacks what it takes to win the nomination, or blundered, or lost support for other reasons.

A number of them figured that the divorce and remarriage of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York hurt his chances, and that Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania was too late a starter to have a real chance.

POINT TO BOBBY

Those who view a senatorial career as an admirable springboard for the presidency point to Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the late president, in arguing their case.

Few believe that Robert

Kennedy doesn't plan some time later to run for the White House. Mostly, they figure that is why he defied critics' cries of "carpetbagger!" to plunge into the race for the New York Senate seat now held by Republican Kenneth B. Keating.

Kennedy was a registered Massachusetts voter and a

Virginia resident when he entered the New York senatorial race — facts which sparked some hot comment from Keating.

Humphrey Carries Campaign to Arkansas, Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey carries the Johnson-Humphrey campaign flag into the southland today with a thrust into Texas and Arkansas.

The Democratic vice-presidential nominee, the President's top gun, aims to try to keep Texas Johnson's home state safe from Republican vote rustlers.

On the eve of his departure, Humphrey said in a television and radio interview on CBS "Face the Nation:"

He believes Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican candidate, "is manipulating what is developing in Viet Nam for his political purposes."

NO POSTPONEMENT

"We have no intention of pulling out of South Viet Nam," and no decisions involving the war there are being postponed until after the campaign.

He disagrees with the view of Americans for Democratic Action that Cuba should be readmitted to the Organization of American States if it quits its program of subversion and arrives at a position of non-alignment.

"The President of the United States is a man of good health, physically, mentally, morally and politically."

Humphrey took a two-day breather in the capital between campaign trips before heading for the Lone Star state.

NARROW WIN

Texas Republicans elected conservative John Tower to the Senate in 1961 after the late President John F. Kennedy narrowly carried the state with 50.5 per cent of the vote in 1960.

Democrats, although they express confidence Johnson will win Texas, are wary of Goldwater's strength particularly in the southern part of the state.

Humphrey, who helped press the civil rights bill to enactment, scheduled stops today in Wichita Falls, Waco and San Antonio before winging over to Hot Springs, Ark., to spend the night.

Humphrey was invited into Arkansas by Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who set off the first big federal-state showdown over school integration when he opposed dropping racial barriers in Little Rock classrooms in 1957. The governor reportedly is worried by a challenge for his job from Republican Winthrop Rockefeller and has asked help from the national ticket.

Humphrey says he won't make any effort to sidestep the civil rights issue while campaigning in the South but will emphasize, as he puts it, "what Democrats have done for the South and what the South has done for Democrats."

Wasn't It Dainty Menu to Set Before President

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Ever wonder what a president eats when he's the honored guest at a luncheon? Here's the menu President Johnson was to savor when he lunched today with Gov. Edmund G. Brown at the capitol:

California fresh fruit supreme; roast tenderloin of beef au jus; sauteed mushrooms; parisienne potatoes; green beans amandine; fresh rolls; boysenberry cobbler a la mode; coffee.

Airliner Off Empty; 86 Left in London

LONDON (AP) — A 129-seat airliner flew to New York empty today, leaving an assortment of angry Dahlia experts in London.

The British Overseas Airways Britannia should have carried the English Midlands Dahlia Society on a charter flight to the World Dahlia Congress, opening in New York Saturday. BOAC canceled the booking after another airline complained that the charter broke international rules.

"This was a dastardly action by an airline spy," said Philip Damp, president of the Dahlia Society. "Because of a dirty, low-down action, the holidays for 86 people have been destroyed."

Damp explained that his society had advertised to fill vacancies on the plane at $184.40 for the round trip.

"We knew that the charter regulations stipulated that people on the flight should have been members of the society for at least six months," he said.

BACKDATE MEMBERS

"According to our society rules, anyone who joins has his membership automatically backdated to Jan. 1. We felt this would cover the airline requirements."

"This man applied to join the flight but sent no money. Our secretary sent him a letter inviting him to join the society but he never replied. The man never appeared on the passenger list."

Damp said BOAC informed him the man "was a spy from another airline, and because we accepted this one booking, the whole trip has had to be called off."

A BOAC spokesman said the rules for cheap charter flights fixed by the International Air Transport Association (IATA) require that all passengers must be bona fide members of the booking organization for six months.

LIABLE FOR FINE

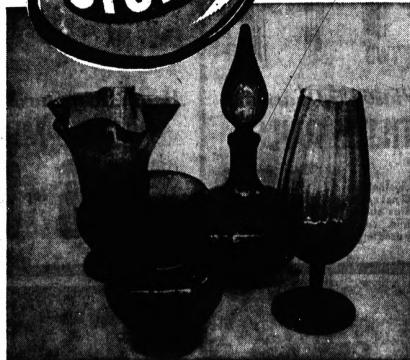

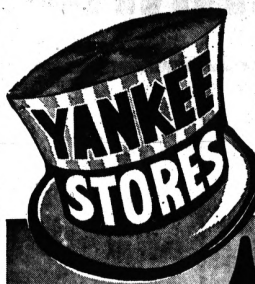

"If the flight had gone on," the spokesman said, "we should have been liable for a $20,000 fine. Even if the nonmember had been withdrawn from the passenger list, the flight could not have gone on. If the rules are broken, six months must elapse before a new contract is drawn up."

BOAC said it would repay the Dahlia Society its $19,600 charter fee. The spokesman said the plane had to fly to New York anyway to work a return flight. "Some of us will try to get to New York independently," Damp said.

Barry Takes Controls of Campaign Plane

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater was at the controls of his chartered American Airlines jet plane yesterday for about a half-hour en route from Knoxville, Tenn., to Memphis, his press secretary disclosed.

Paul F. Wagner explained that the plane is leased from the airline as a private plane and under Federal Aviation Authority regulations Goldwater is permitted, as a licensed pilot, to fly the plane.

PRESS INTERVIEW — Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace listens to a Negro reporter as he is questioned upon arrival in Gary, Ind. Wallace spoke to the Society for the servation of Every American's Right in Hammond, Ind., last night. He aimed his talk, before a crowd of 800, at civil rights issues.

Wallace Lauds Rights Bill Opponents

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, in his first northern foray since Democratic primary time, hailed opponents of the Civil Rights Act last night and said the nation's press "does not tell the truth."

Wallace got a three-minute standing ovation when he started his speech to a group called the Society for the Preservation of Every American's Rights (SPEAR). During the talk, he got his biggest applause for his attack upon the press.

"In the main, they don't tell the truth," Wallace said. "They malign and distort, even about the attitude of the people here. If you don't agree with them, you are a racist, a bigot and immoral."

The southern governor said he was the only person to address the national press club in Washington and not receive a certificate of appreciation.

"I suppose that's because I'm a bad burger," he said. "But I told them they can take their certificate of appreciation and they know what they can do with it."

VISIT HOME

For Wallace, who carried Lake County in Indiana's Democratic presidential primary last May, the trip here was almost a visit "home." "If I'm ever run out of Alabama, I'm coming to Lake County," he said. "This crowd has again shaken the eye teeth of the liberals. I know I'm home here."

Wallace also criticized "liberal left wing bastards" and told his audience that political leaders "had better consider the great section of people which has not been considered."

"Hundreds of thousands of people are going to express themselves about the trend rampant in this country," he said. "What happened on May 4 in Lake County has caused more concern in high places. There are millions of people like yourselves throughout the country, tired of being pushed round by big government."

Wallace said passage of the civil rights bill was an attack on property rights and there "will be many new faces in Congress" to replace supporters of the bill.

"I have spoken from Dartmouth, N. H., to Seattle and there are millions of people like you and when these people have a chance to express themselves they show they are for property rights," he said.

While Wallace spoke in the American Legion Hall, about 50 pickets from the Congress of Racial Equality marched outside with signs that said "Wallace go home" and "Isn't this a shame?"

Confederate flag dish towels, personally autographed by Wallace, were raffled off as door prizes for the audience of about 800 persons.

NY Peddler Is Killed on Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — A street peddler of "dancing" paper dolls was shot to death on Broadway near Times Square Wednesday night, and the gunfire threw the theater and dinner-hour crowd of thousands into turmoil.

Chief of Detectives Philip J. Walsh said the peddler, Clarence Ritchie, 40, was slain by retired police Sgt. Peter Droner, 57, in an argument over the dolls, which Droner called a swindle.

Thousands of persons gathered at the scene of the shooting, on the west side of Broadway between 46th and 47th Sts., shortly after 7 p.m. Hundreds of autos halted and traffic was tied up for several blocks.

Police said Droner maintained a license for his revolver after he retired from the police force five years ago for reasons of disability. He was booked on a homicide charge.

The detective chief said Ritchie was hawking $1 paper dolls which jig when a hidden thread is pulled. Droner was telling passersby that the dolls were a swindle, and he finally broke the thread by which the demonstration doll was made to dance.

Droner was quoted as saying Ritchie then called him an obscene name and punched him, and Droner fired three bullets into Ritchie's chest and abdomen.

Droner has been employed recently as an investigator for a bus company.

But Similarities Appear

Federal Role Splits Romney, Staebler in 2nd Debate

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney and Neil Staebler seemed to agree on everything but the other's views on federal programs in their second official face-to-face encounter of the gubernatorial campaign Wednesday.

The two spoke before the Michigan Municipal League—less than 24 hours after a heated debate at the State AFL-CIO Convention in Grand Rapids.

Democrat Staebler accused Republican Romney of joining Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, in expressing "fear, suspicion and distrust of the government of the United States."

Despite their allegations, even their positions on federal programs sounded similar in many ways.

PARTNERSHIP

"We have established working partnership with the federal government," Romney said. "When our problems are too big to solve alone, we must be ready and willing to cooperate with state or federal programs," Staebler said.

"No matter how you look at it, the Republican governor and the Republican candidate for president are in substantial agreement on this question," he said.

Romney said his administration has done more than preceding Democratic administrations to help the state and its political subdivisions take advantage of federal programs.

"In the last 20 months, there has been a change in policy in Michigan state government," he said. Under previous Democratic administrations "the policy was not to participate in federal programs," he added. The change, he continued, is saving the state millions of dollars a year.

The appearance of the two was in sharp contrast to a debate at the State AFL-CIO Convention Tuesday night.

The union audience was obviously on Staebler's team and unresponsive to Romney. And union delegates let their feelings show in loud catcalls and jeers and scattered applause.

MORE RESTRAINED

The luncheon meeting of city officials from across the state was more restrained. Staebler was received politely while Romney was interrupted four times by applause.

Both candidates stressed a need for a teamwork approach to the handling of state and local problems.

They said the state should take over only when the problem exceeds local resources and that the federal government should take over only when the state cannot cope with the problem.

Romney's opposition to federal programs cost the state $20 million in funds for aid to dependent children of the unemployed, Staebler said.

CITES FEUD

He referred to a feud between Romney and Anthony Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare, over terms of Michigan's enabling legislation. Michigan's participation in the program was delayed a year as a result.

"If it took me a year to get the program," Romney said, "my predecessor had two years. Both my programs complied with the federal rules as they existed at the time."

Among the striking similarities of the two presentations were Staebler's proposal for an office in state government to help local units "take advantage of many state and federal programs available to them," and Romney's proposed commission on intergovernmental relations.

Staebler's office would foster cooperation between local units and work toward agreement on sharing of costs and establishment of values.

STEERING COMMITTEE

Romney's would serve as a steering committee to advise the legislature and executive office "on the increasingly important matters of state and local relationships."

Both said they are enlisted in a war on poverty.

Romney, however, said he proposed the elimination of poverty in Michigan as one of the prime objectives of his administration—devoting the first half of his 1965 inaugural address to the problem.

This, he said, was a year before the administration proposed its program.

The two agreed substantially on the necessity of granting counties home rule in the near future—which is provided for in the new State Constitution—of revising and updating annexation and incorporation laws, of improving aid to education and of easing local tax burdens.

Candidates' Statements on Key Issues

LANSING (AP)—Here are the statements of Republican Gov. George Romney and Democratic Congressman Neil Staebler on key issues as presented to the Michigan Municipal League Wednesday:

Poverty

Romney—"The only way to end poverty—once and for all—is to put people in jobs . . . as it was passed, the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 (the anti-poverty act) represents the greatest single opportunity for the creative exercise of state and local responsibility to meet people's needs since the 1930s . . . in my inaugural address as governor, I set the elimination of poverty as one of the major goals of my administration—long before the federal program was introduced."

Staebler—"The federal war on poverty tries to attack some of the deep-rooted causes of poverty. But no federal war on poverty can be a success unless the states actively join in. And where gaps exist in the federal program, our conscience—if not our pocketbook—dictates that the state supplement federal action."

School Aid

Romney—"The state has increased its school aid $52 million this year. That is not enough—but we have reversed the decline in state aid as compared with local financing. We must find a new formula to get greater equity."

Staebler—"One thing the state can and should do to relieve (the local tax burden) is to raise the percentage of state support for local school districts."

Annexation and Incorporation Romney—"All governmental authorities agree that changes are required in the Michigan laws concerning annexation and new incorporation. In recent legislative session, a bill, largely because of a lack of time, failed in the House. I believe we need an effective law on annexation and incorporation, and I pledge my continued support to such a law."

Staebler—"I believe that Michigan's annexation laws must be updated to make annexation easier—and an excellent study by the league should be the jumping off point."

County Home Rule

Romney—"One of my objectives for next year is to secure the passage of an effective county home rule bill."

Staebler—"We are overdue in legislation to allow counties to initiate home rule if they wish."

Local Taxing Powers

Romney—"Cities need broad, flexible taxing powers and a full exercise of these powers as granted under the new constitution. A joint House-Senate committee is giving serious consideration to restoring some municipal excise tax powers. Another committee is studying the loss to local governments through exemptions from property taxes and the possible gain through industrial expansion encouraged by exemptions. "I am prepared to appoint another group to study exemptions to determine whether they are justified in all instances. I personally am of the impression that they have gone too far."

Staebler—"The most important problem many local governmental units face is raising funds to carry out their responsibilities. For example, property taxes in many districts have reached the point where people have refused to support any further raises. I have pledged to do all in the power of the state to hold the line . . . the state government should assume a larger share of the cost of county welfare programs."

Running Game Will Highlight Valley Contest

Chiefs' Foe Won
SVC Title Last Year,
Has Veterans Back

Bay City Central and Pontiac Central will be playing the running game when they meet at 8 p.m. Friday on the Wolves Stadium turf.

The home team will be attempting to do what it did last year when it came to Pontiac for a 33-0 opening victory that gave BC a running start in the Saginaw Valley Conference title.

The Wolves went from their Wisner Stadium success to 8-1 overall and 7-1 SVC records, good for third ranking in the final Associated Press State Class A prep poll and the league title.

They are favored to win again this season, and if the Purple and Gold repeat, it will mark the first time since 1958 that a valley tilft has managed to stay on top.

That year defending champion BC Central tied for the leader's position.

Pontiac Central, meanwhile, Friday will be running to avoid the bigger, slower Wolves. Coach Paul Dellarba will undoubtedly attempt to make maximum use of the Chiefs' superior speed.

He has a veteran, talented backfield to run the offense. Junior quarterback Jerry Murphy will call the signals.

He can hand off to hard-running Jim Crump, or speed merchants Karl Williams, Jim Gaiter or Ken Seay for the running plays. At ends Murphy will have slender, 6-3 Ed Chas or solidly built Dave Edwards, last year's leading receiver.

But the 36-member squad that will make the trip has to produce some determined blocking and tackling if the PCH warriors are going to break into the win column.

Bay City has size and experience, making coach Elmer Engle's 15th SVC campaign a bright prospect. In 64, 210-pound junior end Dennis Wolkowski has the all-state prospect to provide field leadership. In tackles John Kazayk (5-11, 220 pounds), Dick Warren (6-1, 185 pounds) and Gary Thompson (6-2, 265) he has depth and talent.

Rudy Mikas, 6-0, 220-pound senior center, and "Tiny" Tim Tacey, 220-pound middle guard, give good two-way protection up the middle.

The backfield is led by Rick Lothian, a fine running quarterback, who is backed up by Tom Kennel, a junior who may develop into one of the outstanding players in the BC school's history.

Halfbacks Charles Gourd and Harold Dean are a pair of 140-pounders who lack power and exceptional speed but have the heart and know-how, and fullback will be in the capable hands of returnees Randy Drenberg and Mike O'Farrell.

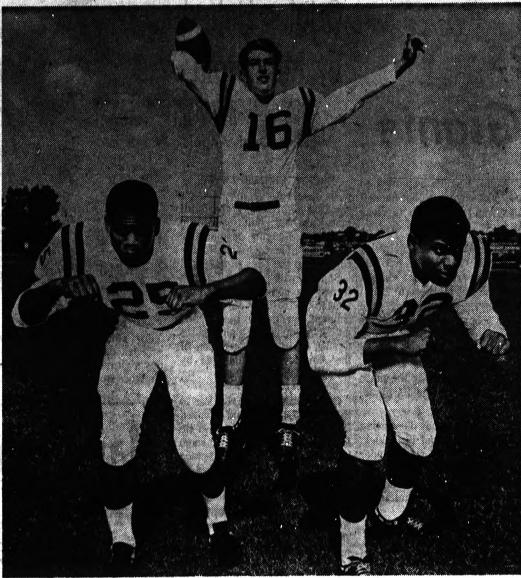

Other SVC games to open the season will have Bay City Handy at Midland and Flint Southwestern at Flint Northern Friday, and Saginaw at Saginaw Arthur Hill Saturday night.

Deadline Nears in Grid Contest

Notice to all football prognosticators:

Clear that jumble of scores from your crystal ball. The deadline for entering the annual Pontiac Press Football Contest is noon Saturday. Entries must be at The Press by that time.

Contest rules and the list of games can be found on the editorial page and also on page F-2.

Falcons Seek to End
Maples' Domination

This could be the year the Falcons at Birmingham Groves earn their wings. And the moment of decision is near at hand. It comes Friday night when the Birds take on Birmingham Seaholm in the 1964 gridiron debut for both squads.

Game time is 8 p.m. and a crowd in excess of 5,000 is expected to witness the city battle. A win for the Falcons would assure them of a successful season since a big part of the campaign is wrapped up in the battle with the Maples.

Groves has come out on the short end of the score in three previous meetings with Seaholm.

Girl Who Switched Events Now Gold Medal Candidate

FREDONIA, Kan. (AP) — An attractive 17-year-old high school senior who is her country's chief hope in the women's Olympic 400 meters hopes to inspire other American girls to take up track.

Janell Smith set an example five months ago by switching to the tough 400 meters from the dashes, where she was certain to make the U.S. Olympic team.

She is now the American record holder in the event with a time of 54.6 seconds. She had never run the event before April 12.

"I think many American girls are capable of running," Janell said. "All they need is coaching and some support to go to the meets. I've been lucky enough to have both."

Meade Smith, her father and coach, said only five women in the world have faster times than Janell — and each one is older. The best is Maria Ilikina of Russia, with a pending world record of 53 seconds.

"The United States had 20 girls in the dashes about three-tenths of a second apart, yet very little in the quarter-mile," he said. "I couldn't understand why the coaches didn't convert these girls to the dashes."

"I told Janell the country needed distance runners, and I was certain she could run the quarter under 55 seconds. She didn't believe it, so I played a trick on her—ran two junior high school boys in a relay against her April 12. She ran a 55.5."

LAST GIRL Janell is probably the last girl you would pick out as a track athlete. She is well dressed, well groomed, 5-foot-7 and 120 pounds, with blonde hair, blue eyes and shapely legs. She is modest about her track accomplishments.

At Fredonia High School she is an excellent student and a football cheerleader. She will take her books and assignments with her Sunday when she joins the U.S. women's Olympic track team in Los Angeles.

St. Germain faltered in the second round however, losing to Don Allen of Rochester, N.Y., 4 and 3.

White Sox Foil Bengal Plans, 4-1

DETROIT (AP) — Losing games to the contending teams was not exactly what Detroit Manager Charlie Dressen had in mind when he said the Tigers would have a lot to say about the American League pennant race.

The Tigers dropped their third game in a row, and third in the last four games with the contenders, when Chicago beat them 4-1 Wednesday. The victory, coupled with Baltimore's 2-1 loss, to Minnesota Tuesday night, enabled the White Sox to climb into a first place tie.

BIT LONGER "You've got to have a bullpen to be a winner," Dressen said. "When you don't have that man in the bullpen you can depend on, you have to go with your starter just a bit longer.

"This club (Chicago) has the bullpen. Those knuckle ball pitchers are pretty hard to hit when they get the ball over the plate."

Eddie Fisher, one of the White Sox's two knuckle ball hurlers, came on in the eighth inning and saved Gary Peters' 18th win Wednesday. The Tigers got only two hits off the slants of Hoyt Wilhelm Tuesday night and Fisher retired the only four men he faced.

BATTING SLUMP Detroit has managed only 16 hits and four runs in its last three games. Dressen, who still thinks New York will win the pennant, said recently-acquired Pedro Ramos will help the Yankees.

"But not as much as Wilhelm or Fisher help Chicago," Dressen continued. "Ramos is a fast ball pitcher and that arm gets a little tired after you've thrown nothing but fast balls."

The Tigers got their only run off Peters in the first inning when Jerry Lumpe singled and went to second on a wild pitch and scored on Don Demeter's single.

They didn't get another hit until George Thomas doubled with two away in the seventh. Singles by Don Wert and Lumpe chased Peters in the eighth.

CHIXOS RALLY Mickey Lolich held the White Sox to two hits through the first six innings—to run his consecutive scoreless inning streak against them to 25 innings—before Chicago rallied.

The White Sox exploded in the seventh inning when Bill Skowron singled, went to third as Pete Ward doubled and scored the tying run on a wild pitch. Jim Landis' single scored Ward and Al Weis also got a hit before the Tigers could get a man out.

Lolich's throwing error on Mike Hershenberger's sacrifice in the ninth inning, to score their final run off Terry Fox.

The loss, which brought Lolich's record to 16-8, was the first suffered by the Detroit left-hander since July 24 when he lost to the Yankees in the second game of a doubleheader.

The Tigers have the day off today but are scheduled to open a three-game weekend series with Cleveland Friday night.

BALL HANDLER — Dick Sweeney is scheduled to be the starting quarterback for Seaholm Friday against Birmingham city rival Groves.

FLANKER — Rick Rowe will be trying to help Groves gain its first football victory over Seaholm Friday. He plays end for the Falcons.

Collects Second Ace

Floyd Miller, 760 Third, Pontiac, scored the second hole-in-one of his career Sunday at Silver Lake Golf Club.

Playing in the Elks' tournament, Miller stroked the ball into the cup with a 9-iron on the No. 8, 125-yard hole. He carded an 89 for the round.

Uncertainties Cloud Opener for Huskies

Coach Dave Schmidt
in Northern Debut;
Colts Have Talent

The 1964 gridiron opener will have the uncertainties of Christmas morning for new Pontiac Northern coach Dave Schmidt.

Schmidt and the inexperienced Huskies have been priming for three weeks for their debut against Troy tomorrow night at Wisner Stadium.

He'll know soon. Game time is 8 p.m.

The meeting will be the second between the two squads. The Huskies romped to an easy 49-12 last year decision and went on to compile a 6-3 record including a runner-up spot in the Inter-Lakes League.

INEXPERIENCE In Schmidt's discussion of the 1964 version of the Huskies, the word "inexperience" inevitably pops up.

A big, beefy line has been built around captain Al Rayner (6-0, 180), a two-year player at guard who will also handle a linebacker post this year.

Other candidates for the guard slots include Jerry Wallies (5-10, 180), Tom Zuck (5-9, 190), who may also see action at center, and Lee Chapa (5-7, 180).

There's a lot of depth at tackle where Larry Dean (5-10, 180), Troy Bell (6-3, 225) and Ed Canady (6-1, 205), are battling for starting berths. Only Dean has experience at the position. Ron Dempsey (6-0, 185) is expected to get the nod at center.

END SLOTS John Samulow (5-11, 170) will get the call at end, along with Ron Rayner (5-9, 150) or Tim Lorenzen (5-8, 143).

The battle for the quarterback slot in the multiple-T offense is wide open. After the berth are Tom Laverdure (5-9, 150), Bill Curtis (5-10, 165) and Bruce Tippin (5-9, 150), who is also expected to see action at halfback.

Running back candidates include Mike Woodruff (5-7, 155) at fullback and halfbacks Mike Samulow (5-11, 175) and John Cojocar (6-0, 170).

Troy has enough offensive talent to give the Huskie defense a stiff workout.

TOP SCORERS Manning the halfback slots in the Troy offense are Ken Holder (6-0, 180) and Jeff Quandt (5-7, 175). Holder led the team in scoring last year with 65 points. Quandt tallied 24.

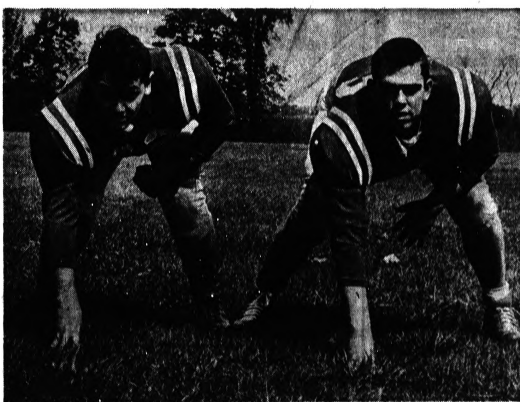

Troy closed the season last year with a 5-3 record, plus a third-place finish in the Oakland A League.

Wings vs. Sawchuk in 1st Exhibition

DETROIT (UPI) — Terry Sawchuk will return to Olympia Stadium in a new uniform to-night, when the Detroit Red Wings host the Toronto Maple Leafs in the Wings' first exhibition game of the season.

Sawchuk, who played for the Wings for 13 seasons before being drafted by the Leafs, is expected to share the Toronto netminding duties with veteran Johnny Bower.

The Wings tuned up for their encounter with the three-time defending Stanley Cup champion Leafs Wednesday with a 90-minute scrimmaged that saw the Whites upset the Reds, 3-1.

Beautiful Day, but No Wind for Cup Race

Yachts Called Back
After Starting; 2nd
Match Set Today

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — No wind, no race and the America's Cup standings remain: Constellation 1, Sovereign 9.

Both the American defender, Constellation, and Britain's challenger, Sovereign, were frustrated by postponement. Constellation was kept from what many expected would have been her second triumph and Sovereign was balked at demonstrating that she was not as pakey as she appeared in her trouncing in the first race Tuesday.

Both may have their chance to prove themselves today in a south or southeastern wind of 10-15 knots, forecast from the weather bureau.

CALM SEAS

A lovely afternoon on Rhode Island Sound Wednesday offered everything anyone but a yachtsman would desire — sun, calm seas, almost hating suit temperatures. But only the slightest of zephyrs played about the 24.3-mile course where Britain's Royal Thames Yacht Club hopes to do something no one has done since Millard Fillmore was president back in 1851, win the America's Cup from the U.S. defender.

Northeast winds of up to 10 knots had been forecast Wednesday for the second race of the best-of-seven series. But they never showed up.

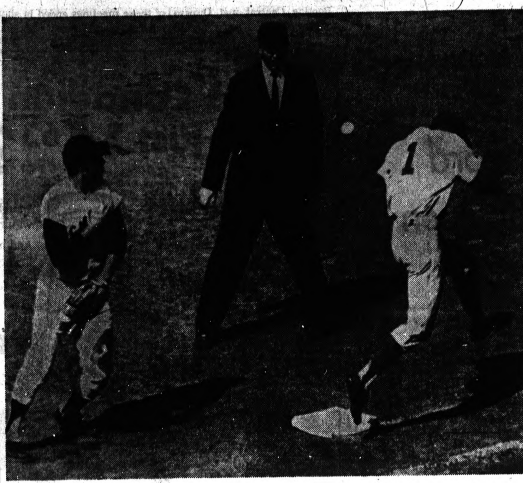

By the time of the scheduled start, gentle puffs of 2-4 knots ruffled the flags of the spectator fleet. But the race committee decided there was not sufficient wind to start the race.

So the two 12-meter yachts lolled around the starting line hoping for a breeze to pick up.

WAITING GAME

The race committee checked with Coast Guard stations in the surrounding area and they all reported 8-10 knot northeastern winds. The waiting game went on.

The British shrugged, said later they thought the committee had done the right thing considering the weather, and went for a practice sail when the wind picked up from the southwest later in the afternoon.

OUCH!!! — Giants first baseman Orlando Cepeda and umpire Ed Sudol watch the ball bounce off the head of Met Charlie Smith as a throw from pitcher Gaylord Perry went astray in a game at San Francisco yesterday. Smith was taken to a hospital for observation but was released and rejoined the team. The Mets won, 4-0.

Dondero Goes to Ferndale

Kimball Tests Walled Lake 11

Pontiac Press Photo

VIKING BACK — Pat Godfrey will be one of the Walled Lake backs that Kimball defenders will have to stop when the Royal Oak team opens its season Friday night on the Vikings' field.

Royal Oak Kimball journeyed to Walled Lake for the non-league contest. Last year the two teams opened the season and Walled Lake won a 27-25 doozybrook.

The defending Inter-Lakes champion lost 27 lettersmen, but there is a hard-core nucleus around which coach Dave Smith is rebuilding. If the quarterbacking situation can be solved, the Vikings should be tough again.

Kimball, of the newly formed Southeastern Michigan Association, has a heavy line and good experience in the backfield.

Another top game Friday will be Ferndale at home against Royal Oak Dondero. The visiting Acorns have fullback Randy Miles ready to turn loose against the Eagle defenses.

ROAD GAME — Farmington, rated a sleeper in the Inter-Lakes, goes to Livonia Bentley. The outcome should indicate Farmington's potential in league play. Berkley, another SEMA team opens at East Detroit. Southfield, another who moved from the I-L to the new league, will test its strength at Detroit Thurston Saturday afternoon.

Walled Lake is banking on some veteran linemen to open holes for a fast backfield.

All-County tackle Roger Ruminsky, 265, anchors the forward wall. Pat Godfrey and Greg Giglio are the experienced ball carriers. Giglio, a 5-5, 131-pound senior, is probably the smallest fullback among Class A schools in the state.

Seniors' Golf Decided

WAUKESHA, Wis. (UPI) — Charlie Johnson, Indianapolis, fired a par 4 on the first sudden death hole Wednesday to nip Frank Molinaro of Madison and win the Central States senior golf championship.

MARSH-DRILLERS COMPANY, N.Y.C. NO PROOF. DISTILLED DRY GIN, DISTILLED FROM AMERICAN GRAIN

Traditional Tilts on Prep Slate

Tradition will be observed on at least three high school gridirons in the northern portion of the county tomorrow night with the 1964 kickoffs at Clarkston, Rochester and Avondale.

Oxford, Utica and Milford will provide the opposition at the respective sites. The schools have been meeting each other in the season opener for at least the past four years.

The Avondale-Milford and Oxford-Clarkston games go back even further. While none of the series is at the break overwhelming dominated its foe.

The Rochester-Utica inaugural has its fifth anniversary tomorrow night and the home standing Falcons have a 3-1 edge. The contest usually produces a lot of scoring.

Only Utica's 13-6 triumph has seen less than five touchdowns registered by the two squads. Last year Rochester prevailed 33-19. The Chieftains' conquest came two years ago.

They may have the warriors to do the job tomorrow. Coach

Bob Dilday has been promoted from the assistant ranks and has a veteran line around which to build this year's Utica eleven.

VETERAN COACH

Coach Gene Konley at Rochester, meanwhile, saw the Falcons ranks depleted by graduation. The dean of county grid mentors, however, has been known to go a long way with less.

The venerable coach has averaged six wins per year for 20 seasons. Although lacking experience at key backfield positions, the Falcons appear strong in the line.

The Clarkston-Oxford tilt pits two co-champions from 1963 — but titlists in different leagues. Clarkston shared the Wayne Oakland crown while Oxford took half of the Tri-County honors.

Clarkston has several top members of the team that took a 6-0 win from the Wildcats last season. Coach Ralph Kenyon has the difficult task, though, of replacing quarterback Dan Craven and end Ken Miskin, the inspirational leaders of that team.

Oxford boss Walt Braun has a similar problem at Oxford, though the backfield candidates offer a speed threat if the line can spring them loose.

Avondale has not scored more than one touchdown in its last three openers with Milford — winning 6-0 two years ago — so coach Dick Bye may get an early indication of the Yellow Jackets' attacking prowess.

Bye, who moved into the job in a last-minute change after serving as assistant coach for several seasons, has hopes for improving last year's 2-7 log.

Five two-year regulars make the prospect of improvement brighter. An improved defense would make the job much easier and it is here that Bye will have to work the hardest. Only two foes were held to less than three touchdowns last year. The Redskins were triumphant 40-0 in last year's opener at home.

Skippers Seek to End Grid Embarrassment

Kettering vs. Orion; Hills Away

When a Class B school whips a Class A squad it proves embarrassing and discouraging to the latter football team.

Even when the smaller school is West Bloomfield, which under Art Paddy makes it a practice to defeat larger "A" opponents, the defeats still aren't easy to accept.

Waterford Township will be favored to gain a measure of revenge Friday night at West Bloomfield Stadium for the licks in its last two football openers.

Meanwhile, Lake Orion and Bloomfield Hills will also have special incentives when they take to the gridiron for widely separated openers.

Hills will show its talents for new coach Bill Tunnicliff in an afternoon visit to Oak Park for a 4 p.m. contest.

Orion's Dragons will make their first efforts under new coach Dale Jessie against Waterford Kettering at 8 p.m. at the Township Stadium.

GOOD RECORD

Coach Art Paddy at West Bloomfield has compiled a 44-10 record in seven years (the eighth best total in the county) and two of those have been 34-20 and 37-13 wins in the season openers with Waterford the past two seasons.

Stu Thorell and the Skippers. Though have hopes of "righting the wrong" Friday night. A big line and experienced backs are part of the reason.

But Paddy isn't concerned about the weight disadvantage facing his team. The Lakers have faced that almost every game the past few seasons.

He and his staff will be taking a close look at the performance of his inexperienced quarterbacks and man - power thin line. Signal caller Greg Hepin-stall could see more duty at guard, while fullback Les Randall may be needed at end.

The Lakers' mentor will also pay close attention to the Hills-Oak Park contest. The traditional West Bloomfield-Bloomfield Hills struggle falls the second week of the season this year.

Hills has been a somewhat slow starting squad previously but this may change under new coach Tunnicliff. The Barons will be favored tomorrow.

Kettering coach Larkin has veteran runners in the backfield but the quarterbacking and the offensive line have to prove themselves under fire.

Last year the Captains managed a slim one-point win over Lake Orion and they'll settle for that again.

New Dragons' mentor Jessie has 16 letter winners to utilize but must find speed and experience for the backfield. Defense was a problem last season and is a strong point for Kettering which will be favored.

Milford Records Win, Sets Invitational Run

Milford prepped for its Invitational Cross Country Run Saturday with a 19-36 triumph over Waterford Township Tuesday on the Kensington Park course.

The winners Dan Veresh led all runners with an 11:04 clocking. Waterford's John Meyer was second in 11:14, followed by four Milford entries.

Pontiac Press Photo

Maples Hold 3-0 Margin Over Groves

a row with a 12-0 decision last year.

Seaholm will go into the game a slight favorite, but Groves has the strength to make it a close game.

The Falcons will field a squad that will look a great deal like the one that captured the Northwest Suburban League crown last year.

A lot of the experience is stacked up along the forward wall with David Woodson (6-0, 200) and Dick Balgorth (6-0, 207) at tackles, Hal Morse (5-6, 165) at guard and Kirk Olson (6-1, 195) at center.

Coach Jim Kinnison is entrusting the signal-calling duties to senior Steve Green (5-6, 155), who saw limited duty last year behind graduated Bill Stephenson.

Two veteran runners operating with Green in the split-T formation backfield will be hard running fullback Tom McKennie a 190-pounder, and halfback Doug Jardine (5-10, 165).

The Maples have veterans at every position except at end, and a lot of talent to back up the starters.

Coach Carl Lemle, who owns a 54-32-4 record in 10 seasons with the Maples, has a solid line built around tackles Mike Garza (6-1, 235) and Dick Rozek (6-2, 210).

Running the Maple attack will be Dick Swaney, (6-0, 180).

Hill Ties Record in Portland Open

PORTLAND (AP) — Dave Hill equalled the Portland Golf Club record Wednesday as he shot a nine-under-par 63 to win top prize of $300 in the pro-amateur match which preceded the $40,000 Portland Open.

Others who have shot 63s at this course are Ben Hogan, Cary Middlecoff, and Billy Casper. Hill had 29-34-63 against par of 35-37-72.

In second place Wednesday was Ken Venturi, the National Open champion, with a 33-33-66.

Tied for third place with 69s were Charlie Sifford, George Archer, Gene Littler and Jerry Edwards.

Hill also won $240 as he led his pro-amateur team to a winning net total of 85.

Hill had four birdies and an eagle on the last six holes he played. He toured the nines in reverse order, shooting the front nine last.

The eagle was on the 523-yard, fifth hole where he dropped a 15-foot putt.

Defending Portland Open champion George Knudson shot a 73.

The 72-hole Portland Open begins today and concludes with 18 holes on Sunday.

Bengals Buy Southpaw From Minor League 9

DETROIT (AP) — Johnny Seale, a 25-year-old left-handed pitcher, was purchased by the Detroit Tigers from their Syracuse farm club of the International League Wednesday.

Seale, 8-3 in 53 appearances with Syracuse, had a 2.68 earned run average.

Middies Seek Right Wind for Penn State Opener

But only a few of them saw action against Penn State. Staubach, who since has blossomed into an All-America quarterback, played only four minutes and that was after the game had turned into a rout.

Staubach, who has a chance to become the first player ever to win the Heisman Trophy as the nation's most outstanding two years in a row, can look for a rough workout in his 1964 opener.

Hardin feels the game will go a long way toward showing whether Navy, which ended the 1963 season with a 9-1 record and No. 2 national ranking, can expect another good year.

The coach told a news conference Wednesday he regards the game as more important than any Navy will play except its traditional season wind-up with Army.

COULD JELL

"Our feeling now is if we can get by a couple of games we could jell into a pretty good ball club," Hardin said. "We can see it coming, but it's not here yet."

The Middies play their second game against William and Mary, a team they have had little trouble with in the past.

Navy's high regard for Penn State as an opening game opponent is heightened by memories of a humiliating 41-7 loss to the Nittany Lions in the Navy opener two years ago.

"When I think back on that game, we thought we were going to beat them," Hardin said. "It was a great awakening . . . It's very difficult to get a squad back from a loss like that."

Week's Heaviest Trading

Steels Pace Vigorous Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels paced the stock market to a vigorous advance early this morning. Trading was the week's heaviest.

Gains of fractions to about a point were made by key stocks.

All four top steelmakers touched new highs for the year. They shaded initial gains, however.

Glowing economic news accompanied the rise — another record for industrial output, forecasts of unbroken economic expansion, a rise in retail sales and plans for greater capital spending.

Many Wall Streeters were back on the job following the Jewish holidays.

Early trading was featured by a parade of big blocks — in blue chips as well as in cheaper issues.

Motors were heavy except for Chrysler, which dipped a point in profit taking on yesterday's 2-point rise. The trend was generally higher among rails, oils, utilities, chemicals, electrical equipments, retails, computer stocks, building materials and rubbers.

ON AMERICAN

Prices rose in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderate. Data-Control Systems rose more than 2, Puerto Rico Telephone close to 2.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U. S. Government bonds continued to advance.

House Unit Okays Funds

Near Billion Dollars to Finance Programs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Funds totaling almost a billion dollars to finance the poverty war, urban mass transit, civil rights and food stamp programs were approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Largest allotment was $750 million to start the administration's antipoverty, or economic opportunity, program. This is $195.5 million less than President Johnson requested.

The committee noted that the program was not approved by Congress as early as the administration had planned and did not need the entire amount for the balance of the fiscal year ending next June 30.

To launch the new urban mass transportation program, the committee approved $75 million of the $225 million requested for grants to public agencies to develop and improve transportation systems. The $50 million denied would have been used for advance financing for fiscal year 1966.

Six separate agencies were allotted $11,088,000 to implement various programs authorized by the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Largest share, $8 million, was earmarked for educational activities administered by the Office of Education.

The new food stamp program, broadened this year to help feed an additional 600,000 needy persons in 60 new areas, was granted an extra $1 million for the balance of the fiscal year. This would augment $15 million appropriated earlier this year and is the entire amount requested.

The committee approved $11,325,000 of the $22,650,000 requested for grants to help finance surveys and urban renewal plans in large and small cities.

All of the allotments are subject to approval of Congress, starting with House action next week.

Romney Says

Paper Strike at Futile Point

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney said early today that negotiations in Detroit's lengthy newspaper strike were at a point of "futility" and indicated he felt two striking unions have caused the latest impasse.

Emerging from a marathon bargaining session, Romney told a pre-dawn news conference that the strike — now in its 65th day — could continue indefinitely.

He held out hope, however, that a break could come if the unions reconsider their refusal to submit the "last offer" of the struck Detroit Free Press and Detroit News to a secret vote of the strikers.

Romney, who interceded again in the bargaining Wednesday night, said he made this suggestion to Local 10 of the Pressmen's Union and Local 13 of the Paper and Plate Handlers Union.

That the afternoon News and morning Free Press' new offer — which Romney did not disclose — be submitted to striking members for a secret vote to be conducted by the State Labor Mediation Board.

He said union representatives rejected the proposal on grounds that their organizations' constitutions require that such secret votes be conducted solely by the unions.

May Extend
Third SessionSeek to Avoid Fourth
Ecumenical Meeting

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The third session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council may be extended past its scheduled November closing to become the final session of the historic assembly, reliable sources said today.

The sources stressed, however, this will depend on how far the 2,500 Roman Catholic prelates get in their discussion and voting by the scheduled Nov. 20 closing date.

The directors of the council — the General Secretariat headed by an Italian archbishop, the council moderating panel of five cardinals and Pope Paul VI were said to favor keeping the council in session if it appears that the remaining work can be finished before Christmas.

The third session was given a closing date in November because an international ecumenical congress, a major Roman Catholic spiritual meeting held every four years in a different city, is to open Nov. 28 in Bombay, India.

500 BISHOPS
The sources said only 500 bishops had signed up to go to Bombay, however, and the absence of 500 bishops would not seriously disrupt continued council work by the remaining 2,000 bishops.

The council fathers were told this week that they must speed up their work and waste no time disposing of the 13 schemata, or topics, still before them.

The key topics, setting the tone of the entire council, deal with the sharing of some papal powers with the church's bishops, a concept that is called collegiality.

The concept is treated in both the schema now before the council fathers, on the nature of the Church, and in the next schema due up on the pastoral duties of bishops.

CHRISTIAN UNITY
After these the council is to take up important schemata on Christian unity, with two added declarations on Catholic-Jewish relations and on religious tolerance, and on revelation, the lay apostolate and the Church in the modern world.

The other seven schemata have been reduced to what are called propositions or resolutions that require no detailed discussion but only votes of acceptance or rejection.

These seven deal with missionary activity, the Oriental (Eastern) Church, the priesthood, the religious, Catholic schools, matrimony as sacrament and seminaries of priestly training.

Get Navy Contract
GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Receipt of a $1.5 million contract to upgrade Navy Aircraft used during reference and bombing systems was announced here Wednesday by the instrument division of Lear Siegler, Inc.

Holden Cook, former officer of a hospital employees' organization and now a Democratic candidate for state representative, claimed that potatoes baked in the hospital kitchen by inmates and personnel and delivered to a steak fry staged by an Ionia County Republican women's group last week.

Cook said he was objecting as "a citizen and a taxpayer." He protested by letter to Franklin K. DeWald, director of the Michigan Civil Service Commission. Cook said use of state employees and facilities "for political purposes" was a violation of civil service rules.

Comedian Joe E. Lewis' opening at the Copacabana (his 24th in years) will be his biggest. Frank Sinatra delayed his return from Rome to New York to fly to London and Madrid. Was that because of Ava? Ethel Merman and Ernie Borgnine are having disagreements over the wedding presents.

David Susskind wants Jack Cassidy for his own TV series thanks to Jack and Tammy Grimes doing so good on a "Mr. Broad" segment. Gretchen Wyler, whose Great Dane is mopping up show prizes, now has bought two gorgeous horses to try that field. Nat ("King") Cole's going to narrate a comedy western with songs ("The Ballad of Cal Ballou") with Jane Fonda, for Columbia. Sort of an "Our Town" western with music.

Capitol's Top Politicos
Are Stars in Earl's Eyes

By EARL WILSON

WASHINGTON — This is now Glamtown, U.S.A. Hollywood's glittering stars don't give me the "Gee-Whiz!" tingle I get when LBJ or Barry Goldwater shoot by... every body's got electionitis now... and even U.S. Senator Pierre Salinger becomes sort of a Washington Cigar Grant or Richard Burton.

But "Lucky Pierre" Salinger got stood up for lunch by Robert Goulet who sang to turn-away crowds at the Shoreham's beautiful outdoor cafe, The Terrace.

Cigar-Smoker Goulet was to lunch with Cigar-Smoker Salinger and me at the Rotunda, and present him with a humidor from the Cigar Smokers of America.

Somehow Goulet learned of the appointment many hours later. He phoned his deepest apologies.

"If I worked nights, I wouldn't get up to have lunch with some damned politician either," Salinger laughed later. "Is that what you consider yourself?" I asked. "It's an awful thing to say but I guess it's true," Salinger replied.

Salinger, slimmed down to 190 through lunching only on black coffee, spoke highly of the personality of his Republican opponent, George Murphy, and added: "I'm not selling him short."

A California woman would salinger she mightn't vote for him due to his cigars. "I wouldn't want you smoking a cigar in my house," she said.

"I've no intention of smoking a cigar in your house," he answered her. "Anyway, how do you know George Murphy isn't a secret cigar smoker?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL
Comedian Joe E. Lewis' opening at the Copacabana (his 24th in years) will be his biggest. Frank Sinatra delayed his return from Rome to New York to fly to London and Madrid. Was that because of Ava? Ethel Merman and Ernie Borgnine are having disagreements over the wedding presents.

David Susskind wants Jack Cassidy for his own TV series thanks to Jack and Tammy Grimes doing so good on a "Mr. Broad" segment. Gretchen Wyler, whose Great Dane is mopping up show prizes, now has bought two gorgeous horses to try that field. Nat ("King") Cole's going to narrate a comedy western with songs ("The Ballad of Cal Ballou") with Jane Fonda, for Columbia. Sort of an "Our Town" western with music.

But Vaccine May Be Only Proof of Cause

Presence of Viruses in Leukemia Viewed as Lead

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer
PHILADELPHIA—There is a bizarre garden of microscopic things in some human leukemia—incurable cancer of the blood. One is a virus, and another a puny, but potent bacteria cell, a researcher said today.

The problem is to decide what they are doing there, whether either caused the cancer, contributed to it, or was just invited in because the biological climate was right.

In the end, it may only be possible to prove that viruses cause some human cancers by vaccinating susceptible persons en masse against the viruses and looking for a subsequent drop in the disease.

So said Dr. Leon Dmochowski of the University of Texas and the M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, Houston, who said the particles spotted in human leukemias and called "virus-like" seem to him to be viruses indeed on close study with the electron microscope.

The bacteria — nicknamed PPLO for pleuropneumonia-like organisms — seem to be around because the biological climate is right.

The bacteria — which are known to cause a kind of pneumonia in humans and animals — have masqueraded as viruses in the past because of their small size, and cause symptoms noted in the side effects of leukemia.

But their presence in leukemia may only occur because the resistance of the patient is so low, Dmochowski told a session of the fifth National Cancer Conference, meeting here in a three-day session.

In fact the PPLO bacteria may only cloud the issue of the real disease, he suggested.

HARBOR VIRUSES

In 18 patients suffering from various kinds of acute leukemia or blood cancer, Dmochowski and his fellow researchers found that all 18 harbored the viruses, he said.

Treated bits of blood from persons suffering from leukemia were formed into pellets roughly the size of a pinhead. They were then sliced — so finely that it takes 400 slices to chop up one cell. These slices were studied under an electron microscope.

Persevering through hundreds of slice-specimens, researchers would go for some time before coming on particles. Then they would find clusters of "virus particles galore," Dmochowski said. So far no one has reported being able to cultivate the virus particles and isolate them. Even if this does prove possible, and if man's nearest cousins — the primates — can be infected to produce leukemia, it would not definitely prove the viruses cause human leukemia. It would make the viruses strongly suspect, Dmochowski said.

Finally, it might be necessary to produce a vaccine, making sure it was harmless, for mass vaccination of susceptible youngsters — with a drop in the leukemia disease rate as the final proof.

BEAR-LY CONCERNED — The presence of an 11-foot Kodiak bear over one's shoulder isn't conducive to good digestion, but 11-year-old Tommy Graybiel and his 9-year-old sister Patti, 185 Oneida, aren't too concerned as they munch candy apples. A trophy of Fred Bear of Grayling, the animal is a museum piece that was temporarily on display at Griswold's Sporting Goods Store at To-Huron Shopping Center and was being moved yesterday when it glided wandered by and temporarily perched on its base.

Green Gets Backing as Romney Second

Five leading Oakland County Republicans today announced their endorsement of House Speaker Allison Green (R-Kingston) for nomination as lieutenant governor at the Republican State Convention in Detroit Saturday.

Nearly 70 outstanding Michigan business and professional men, farm leaders and public officials, representing all 19 congressional districts, have announced their support for a Romney-Green ticket.

Heading the list in Oakland County are State Rep. Lloyd L. Romney (Pontiac) and State Rep. William Hayward (Royal Oak).

Henry M. Hogan Jr., former state representative from Birmingham, has also joined the Romney-Green bandwagon, along with George W. Kuhn of Berkeley, GOP nominee in the 15th Senatorial District, and a Max Hill of Pleasant Ridge, GOP candidate in the 69th Representative District.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — President Johnson, arguing for continued White House control of nuclear weapons, says the United States has taken "every step man can devise to ensure that neither a madman nor a malfunction could trigger nuclear war."

This was Johnson's principal message here yesterday before heading South today to Portland, Ore., to plug for "a new conservatism" and to hail cooperative efforts between public and private power companies.

The President dealt in detail with the nuclear war question in a Seattle address at a hotel dinner sponsored by three area colleges and the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

Although he never once alluded, even indirectly, to Republican rival Barry Goldwater, he apparently felt that on the nuclear topic he had something going for him, since it was his second speech in 10 days to feature the subject.

As he did in Detroit on Labor Day, Johnson said control over nuclear weapons "must be centralized in the hands of the highest and most responsible officer of government — the president of the United States."

GOLDWATER VIEW
Goldwater has contended that some way must be found to turn over control of battlefield nuclear weapons to the multinational command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. NATO's present nuclear stockpile is under American authority.

Johnson chose to overshadow a hands-across-the-border meeting earlier with Canadian Prime Minister Lester Pearson with his H-bomb speech.

Regulating Device Worked Loose; Three Killed, One Serious

A team of investigators concluded unofficially yesterday that Sunday's plane crash in Waterford Township resulted when a pressure regulating device in the craft's fuel pump worked loose.

Three persons were killed in the crash of the single engine plane. Its pilot, Roy S. McPhail of Detroit, was removed from the critical list today at Pontiac General Hospital.

McPhail, who suffered burns over 50 per cent of his body, is now listed in serious condition, a hospital spokesman said.

The investigation of the crash was conducted by a team from the Federal Aviation Agency and the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB).

Jack Harrington, of the CAB's Chicago office, headed the probe.

UNDISCOVERED
He said yesterday that investigators were unable to find the pressure regulator inside the fuel pump.

Investigators concluded that the part had worked loose while the plane was en route from Flint to Detroit.

This led to an explosion in the air while McPhail was attempting an emergency landing at Pontiac Municipal Airport.

Harrington indicated that an official report of the accident may not be filed with the Washington CAB office for several days.

WEST OF AIRPORT
The plane crashed in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area, just west of the airport.

McPhail was thrown 40 feet from the wreckage. The bodies of his three passengers were found inside the plane.

Killed were Jeffrey Phillip, 5, his 4-year-old brother, Gregory, and Judy A. Korylowski, 22, all of Detroit.

Crisis Stage Is Reached in Ford, UAW Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — Contract negotiations between Ford and the United Auto Workers union entered the crisis stage today with a strike deadline only one day away.

Bargainers were prepared to avoid the clock if necessary to avoid a walkout of 125,000 UAW members at Ford plants around the nation.

In announcing that a strike deadline had been set for 10 a.m. EST tomorrow, UAW President Walter Reuther told newsmen that the two sides were still far apart on the non-economic issues of relief time and production standards.

There also was disagreement on the question of wage inequities, he said.

Reuther indicated, however, that the union was ready to accept most of Ford's economic offer, which paralleled the settlement reached at Chrysler last week.

TROUBLE

Potential strike trouble also was brewing at Chrysler, despite the national agreement covering most of the UAW assembly line workers.

There was still the possibility of a walkout at a few plants where local grievances had not been resolved.

In addition, a strike deadline of 10 a.m. tomorrow has been set in contract negotiations for some 7,000 white collar workers in office, clerical and engineering jobs.

Last week's Chrysler settlement — which is expected to set the pattern for the entire auto industry — included an early retirement incentive program, longer vacations, added holidays and assumption by the company of all medical and hospitalization insurance payments.

Section of Bill on Rights Is Ruled Illegal

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A three-judge federal panel today ruled that the public accommodations section of the Civil Rights Act is unconstitutional as applied to a Birmingham restaurant.

The judges, who expressed their concern over the spread of congressional powers, issued a temporary restraining order against acting U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, prohibiting him from enforcing the act.

The ruling, filed in the U.S. District Court here, was in connection with a suit brought by Ollie McClung and his son, co-owners of Ollie's Bar-B-Q. The ruling did not state if the panel considered the public accommodations section unconstitutional as applied to all restaurants.

There was no immediate comment from the Justice Department.

Ex-Ecuador Chief Named as U.N. Cyprus Mediator

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Galo Plaza Lasso, husky ex-president of Ecuador and a native New Yorker, has taken the job of U.N. mediator in Cyprus where he has been trying to restore peace for the past four months.

Mediation is a familiar role for the 58-year-old former University of California football player who has done fire-fighting jobs for the United Nations in

Since he went to Cyprus as Secretary-General U Thant's special representative last May Galo Plaza has played a big part in keeping the bitter dispute between the Turkish and Greek Cypriot factions from exploding into war.

Thant announced yesterday he had appointed the Ecuadorian to succeed Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland, who died Sept. 3. His new task is to bring the two Cypriot factions to a political settlement.

A week after he arrived in Nicosia, he obtained the release of seven Turkish Cypriots held hostage by Greek Cypriots.

In July, when an explosion seemed imminent, Galo Plaza persuaded Greek Cypriot President Makarios to pull his forces back from the "green line" that divides the walled city of Nicosia.

AIDS CEASE-FIRE

The following month the Ecuadorian diplomat was credited with helping bring about a cease-fire between the two Cypriot factions.

Galo Plaza scored his biggest success this week when he helped prod Makarios into lifting the economic blockade of Turkish Cypriot communities that had brought threats of armed intervention from Turkey.

Barry Backs Tax Feedback

Continues Pitch to Southern Democrats

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, urging Southern Democrats to cross the Republican welcome mat, takes his presidential campaign to the Carolinas today after calling for elimination of earmarked federal grants to cities and states.

A whopping, flag-waving crowd of about 25,000 in Montgomery, Ala., last night heard the GOP presidential nominee propose that the federal government should return a share of income taxes to the states.

The Arizona senator said unrestricted grants should go to local and state governments that need them.

He charged the current system of federal aid has made states and communities "subservient to a huge federal bureaucracy with its center in the White House."

He accused President Johnson of telling members of Congress "You vote with me or your project doesn't get built."

VERY PLEASED

Goldwater, stamping the South for the third day, said he was "very pleased, extremely encouraged" by the crowds that have turned out.

He found one waiting in Raleigh late last night. A crowd of several hundred people swarmed around his airplane when it pulled to a stop after the flight from Montgomery.

Goldwater used a yellow bull horn to tell them, "It's wonderful of you to be out this late in the evening."

All day long, Goldwater told Southerners that Democratic Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina had shown "political courage" by switching his allegiance to the GOP.

ON HAND

Goldwater goes to Greenville, S.C., today and expects that Thurmond will be on hand to introduce him.

"I guess he's the ranking Republican," the senator said. Urging other Democrats to take the same path, Goldwater said the South "can no longer find any conservative principles in what is called in Washington the Democratic party."

Showers Possible Throughout Area

Widely scattered showers are forecast for the extreme southern portion of Michigan late tonight and tomorrow with a chance they'll hit the Pontiac area, the weatherman said.

Temperatures are headed for a warming trend with the low tonight 55 to 60. Highs will aim for the mid-70s tomorrow. A Saturday outlook is just about the same.

Fifty-three was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a. m. The 1 p. m. reading was 76.

Court Enters Innocent Plea; Exam Is Set

Radio Personality, Woman, Car Dealer Murdered Monday

DETROIT (AP) — A balding 275-pound railroad engineer admitted yesterday, police said, that he killed his wife, a well known radio personality and another man for what one detective termed an "obvious" motive.

The man, John H. Frazier, 41, of Detroit, was arraigned on three charges of first-degree murder in an unusual Recorder's (Criminal) Court session last night.

His wife breaking at one point, the 5-foot-11-inch Frazier stood mute before Judge John P. Scallen. The judge entered pleas of innocent for Frazier and set Tuesday for examination.

Police said Frazier made the admission after a relative had contradicted part of his account of his whereabouts early Monday.

The bodies of the victims were found Monday at the Detroit Office of Announcing and Speech, Inc., on the city's northwest side.

Dead from bullet wounds were Frazier's 40-year-old wife, Dorothy, Pierre Paulin, 51, owner of the school, and Clarence De Potie, 47, a used car dealer.

Mrs. Frazier had been shot seven times, Paulin and De Potie once each.

Assistant Prosecutor Max Silverman said Frazier told him he went to the school looking for his wife and was admitted by Paulin. Silverman quoted Frazier as saying:

"Paulin turned on the light. I saw my wife in the next room with another man. I didn't know this man, Paulin laughed. 'I showed him (Paulin) into the studio and I fired once at him. Then I shot at my wife and the other man. I don't remember how many shots I fired. I do not remember reloading the revolver. I just started firing.'"

Police said that since the 28-caliber gun was a five-shot weapon, it would have been reloaded during the shootings.

Detectives fixed the time of the slayings at about 5:30 a.m. Monday, basing their estimate on the story related by Frazier's stepmother, Mrs. Madge Lowry of Highland Park.

Silverman said Mrs. Lowry and her invalid husband, Daniel, reported that Frazier had visited their home in the early morning hours, leaving about dawn. The assistant prosecutor said this statement led to the collapse of Frazier's alibi.

Chief of Detectives Thomas R. Cochill said that Frazier had claimed he had been at home Sunday night and early Monday.

BREAK GROUND — With E. M. Estes, vice president of General Motors and Pontiac Motor Division general manager, in the driver's seat, ground was broken yesterday for a new service parts warehouse on Joslyn between Columbia and the Grand Trunk Railroad. Also on hand for the cere-

Sees Danger to Labor Gains

Cavanagh Cuts Lose
on Barry's Views

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh charged yesterday that "Sen. Goldwater and his wrecking crew" have placed in jeopardy gains "which the working man has achieved through years of sweat, effort and determination."

Cavanagh told the AFL-CIO convention that "organized labor is not alone in opposing the presidential aspirations of Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater."

"In fact, in this campaign year you have allies in some rather unusual places, perhaps even among the men you meet at the bargaining table," Cavanagh said.

However, Cavanagh warned that "this election, of all elections, is not an occasion for complacency. Forget the polls... they can be wrong."

Cavanagh said Goldwater Republicans "have advocated a return to a primeval state in social and economic affairs. The gains which the working man has achieved through the years of sweat, effort and determination are in jeopardy."

PRaises Sides

Cavanagh praised both sides in successful United Auto Workers contract negotiations with Chrysler Corp. for their "maturity and sense of responsibility" for coming to "a fair settlement."

The Detroit mayor said worse than the federal or state governments "the men and women of labor, the people of a community... you are the ones who deserve the real credit for the prosperity of Michigan."

Gov. George Romney and Republicans claim credit for economic gains, while his Democratic opponent, Rep. Neil Stabler, says the Democratic national administration is responsible.

Cavanagh said industry is staying and expanding in Detroit "because of people—skilled, hard-working people who might be lost in a move to a new location miles away."

To Distribute Winnings in N.H. Lottery

CONCORD, N. H. (AP)—Gov. John W. King plans to give away almost a million dollars Friday night at a banquet in Manchester—the body won by 18 ticket holders in the nation's only state lottery.

The sweepstakes commission will play host to the 18 winners in the 1964 Sweepstakes at the dinner.

Commission Chairman Howell F. Shepard says most of the 18 have already accepted their dinner invitations. These include four winners of $100,000—William Korona of Flushing, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cardine of Gloversville, N. Y.; H. and Basil Sargent of Baltimore, Md.; and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Healy of Hyattsville, Md. Among the six winners of $50,000, those planning to attend the affair include G. D. Kelly of Ridgewood, N. J.

Roosevelt Mementos on Display, Sale

It used to sit on top of a television set in a cottage called Val Kill in Hyde Park, N.Y.

Today it rested in a showcase in Hammer Galleries on East 57th St. in Manhattan, bearing a discreet tag, No. 911, and awaiting viewing by a black-tie audience tonight which would pay $10 apiece just to come in the doors.

BURIAL SPOT

Fala, who became famous at the White House, is buried beside his master and mistress in the rose garden of the Roosevelt family home at Hyde Park.

The galleries' catalog mentions that "head turns, one ear torn, probably torn by Fala."

OUR HOPE
"It is our hope that others will find pleasure in possessing these things, which were a part of the intimate life of my parents and gave so much enjoyment to them."

The admissions tonight and a percentage of the sale will be donated to the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation, set up by federal law last year to foster the former first lady's ideals and activities.

Late Wednesday, as the galleries arranged the exhibit, to be on public view for two weeks beginning Friday, members of the Roosevelt family wandered about the floors. Many selected items to keep in their own families.

Elliott Roosevelt, fourth child of the former president and his wife, chose among other things a blue leather card case, inscribed in gold: "E.R. from F.D.R. on Jan. 30, 1940."

A Roosevelt granddaughter selected a handful of the 162 miniature books once owned by the president, bearing notations in his own hand.

"At least," she remarked, "my kids can pick these things up and look at them."

Many of the items bore the catalog notation NFS — Not For Sale — items like the family coat of arms and the clock of onyx, jade, silver and gold with five sets of hands that show simultaneously the time in London, Berlin, Tokyo, San Francisco and New York.

It was given to the president by Pierre Cartier, the jeweler, as World War II was drawing to a close.

It bears a legend in French: "The hour of victory in the world, in respect to its architect, the President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Rains Flood Towns in Texas

ASHERTON, Tex. (UPI) — Residents of this normally arid town near the Texas - Mexico border today began a massive cleanup of mud and silt washed into their homes from nearly a foot of rain.

The deluge of rain yesterday

caused widespread flooding from the northern boundary of the state all the way to the Rio Grande Valley.

Some 500 persons left flooded or threatened homes at Killeen, in central Texas, where an official 5.25 inches of rain fell. Two inches of it fell in 15 minutes.

There were no injuries reported in any of the flooding, but damage was heavy.

CONTAMINATION

Officials feared water mains were contaminated by floodwaters from the Nueces River. Inoculations were scheduled at Asherton and Catarina.

A fireman was washed away in the flood at Killeen. He traveled about 40 yards in the raging torrent before several soldiers from nearby Ft. Hood pulled him out. The force of the water was so great it pulled his trousers off.

Income and Expenses

LANSING (AP) — State Treasurer Sanford Brown reports that income into the state treasury last week totaled $12.2 million. Expenses that week totaled $32.8 million, but the treasury balance at the end of the week stood at $157.96.

Plan Ahead to Calculate College Costs

Money Management Consultant

Years of planning are devoted to getting the children off to college. You anticipate all the major problems and expenses, attend to all the formalities, and try to tie up all the loose ends. The children are packed up and ready to go—and then those little last-minute questions pop up. And even though they may seem incidental, they can make or break the school year, from the student's point of view.

The following letters may reflect some of the family discussion you're involved in at the moment:

Dear Miss Feeley: My daughter is entering college this month. Her room and board and tuition will come to about $3,000. What would be a fair amount to give her for entertainment, since she is going to be near New York City.

We are neither well off nor poverty stricken, but we do intend to watch our pennies. It's no mean trick to send two children away to school on a take home salary of $13,500.

I realize it is very difficult to give definite amounts, but I would just like something to go by. Sometimes I have the feeling we gave our son too much money in undergraduate school, and then there were other times when I thought he didn't have enough. Any help you can give will be most appreciated.

Dear Mrs. L.: I think you and your daughter can reach an agreement on her entertainment allowance after she's settled at school. How much a college student spends depends a lot on the local campus customs—how often students can go into the city, what the transportation amounts to, what opportunities

When you finish cutting your garment, lay out the cut-out pieces of the garment on a table so you will have a visual picture of how the assembled garment will look.

Of course, you can write to the dean of women at the college, if you like. Without asking her to name a specific sum of money, you can ask for a general idea of customary activities on week-ends and holidays.

You might be interested to know the United States Office of Education estimates that such college items as textbooks, transportation, laundry, recreation, and other incidentals will add $500 to $1,000 to the cost of a year of college.

Dear Miss Feeley: I will be going away to college this month and would like your advice on planning a budget.

My parents are paying my tuition, room, board, and books. I must take care of my other expenses, including transportation home for the holidays. The school is 300 miles away.

I have $350 saved. I plan to use part of the money for clothes, but don't know how much. I need some sort of monthly budget so I can finish the school year without borrowing from my parents. Any advice you can give will be a big help.

S. E., Bellwood, Ill.

Dear S. E.: Figure your bus fare home for two holidays (Christmas and spring vacations) at a total of $40. This should be a pretty close estimate. So you'll have $310 to cover expenses for clothes, grooming, laundry, snacks, movies, and other recreation.

PLAN BUDGET

Plan your budget for these items at $8 a week, or about $34 a month. Just how much you should allow for each item is hard to say in advance. Keep a strict account of every cent you spend for the first two or three weeks, and the picture will begin to shape up.

(You can get Mary Feeley's handy Budget Leaflet by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)
