State Department Accused of Hiding Facts on Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional subcommittee today accused the State Department of "hiding the facts from the American public" by restricting newsmen in South Viet Nam.

The criticism came from the House subcommittee on information, headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif.

"In recent weeks," a report by the subcommittee said, "the American public has been surprised by developments in Viet Nam — developments which have been many months in the making."

The report said "the restrictive U.S. press policy in Viet Nam . . . unquestionably contributed to the lack of information about conditions in Viet Nam which created an international crisis.

"Instead of hiding the facts from the American public," the subcommittee concluded, "the State Department should have done everything possible to expose the true situation to full view."

The subcommittee directed most of its criticism at a cable prepared by Carl T. Rowan, now ambassador to Finland, and sent over the signature of Secretary of State Dean Rusk to the U.S. embassy in Saigon early in 1962.

This cable is still classified although its provisions are no longer in effect. The subcommittee, paraphrasing the language, said it contained these guidelines for handling American news correspondents in Viet Nam:

1. "News stories which criticize the President Ngo Dinh Diem government could not be 'forbidden', but they only increase the difficulties of the U.S. job.

2. "Newsmen should be advised that trifling or thoughtless criticism of the Diem government would make it difficult to maintain cooperation between the United States and Diem."

3. "Newsmen should not be transported on military activities of the type that are likely to result in undesirable stories."

The subcommittee said the cable had been prepared by Rowan, then deputy assistant secretary of state, and described him as "an official with an admitted distrust for the people's right to know."

At a closed hearing of the subcommittee last May 24, Roger Hilsman, assistant secretary of state for far eastern affairs, defended the cable but said there was "sloppy drafting" in it. He said the cable was intended to make it easier for correspondents to get the news in Viet Nam.

Victory in '64, Taylor Is Told

Diem's Military Chief Predicts Guerrilla Fall

BEN CAT, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's acting military chief told Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor today that victory over the Communist guerrillas would be achieved in 1964.

Maj. Gen. Tran Van Don made the prediction in a briefing of the chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff in this guerrilla-threatened town only 30 miles north of Saigon.

Shortly before Taylor's party landed in helicopters at a cemetery outside the town, Vietnamese troops opened with automatic weapons and grenades on a suspected guerrilla emplacement only 200 yards from the cemetery.

"We want to keep their (guerrillas') heads down," a Vietnamese officer said.

Secretary of Defense Robert S McNamara did not make the field trip with Taylor, the last before the two return to Washington to report to President Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Earlier today, McNamara postponed his departure for Washington for 24 hours to give himself more time to work on the top-secret report for the White House.

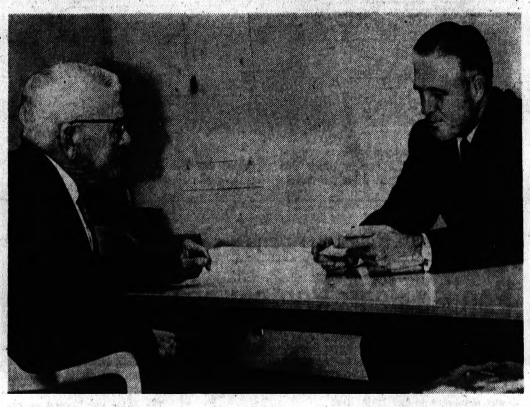

Don made his prediction of victory in a farewell speech to Taylor on behalf of the Vietnamese armed forces. Don later released the text to newsmen.

"We realize that U.S. aid and assistance has reached its ceiling and now is the time to fully realize successfully the objectives of the national campaign plans," Don said.

Don described the war situation as "difficult, but hopeful because our troops are friendly and because there is no internal dissension within our armed forces."

FIRST IN LINE — Orville Powers (left) of 295 Cherokee arrived at the county courthouse half an hour early this morning to become the first in line to see Gov. George Romney at the governor's first in a series of citizen meetings on his tax reform program. Powers, 83, said he told Romney he was "very much sold" on the program.

Most Like Tax Plan

Romney Visits With Residents

By JIM DYGERT

"I told him I thought it was all right," said Orville Powers, 83, of 295 Cherokee.

"I'm very much sold on his program and I wanted to give him my support," said Powers, after a five - minute private talk this morning with Gov. George Romney at the county courthouse.

"I first heard him eight years ago in Detroit and I was impressed with him. I have a lot of confidence in him."

Powers, first to see Romney in the first of governor's whirlwind series of citizen meetings on his controversial tax reform program, was talking about one of the plan's most controversial parts, deferral of property taxes for certain senior citizens.

He was one of four senior citizens who talked with Romney this morning. One of them, Peter Bulla, 73, 5030 Eastview, said he told Romney his program "was no good."

They were among a total of 25 who filed into the county clerk-register's office to see the governor, whose aim is to explain his program to citizens, get their reactions and overcome their objections to win their support.

OTHER VISITORS

Three county school officials were among visitors, as well as five League of Women Voters members, two men from the Pontiac area Chamber of Commerce, a Southfield city councilman and a local beer distributor.

The majority, though some had questions and doubts before seeing Romney, appeared to favor the governor's tax program in general.

Romney got the same impression, he said afterwards.

"Most of them liked my program," he said.

The governor commented that the session "went very well. I was pleased to have the opportunity to talk with this group of interested citizens."

Charles F. Long of 7040 Commerce, Orchard Lake, said he thought the governor's program for senior citizens was "a good deal."

A. F. Wiltgen, 67, of 51 Winona, gave qualified approval. "It's not going to hurt me and it will benefit the state," he said.

Wiltgen would not qualify for relief under the program, which defers until after the owner's death property taxes on senior citizens with less than $2,000 annual income and property assessed at $5,000 or less. Heirs would have to pay the taxes, however.

Bloomfield Hills School Supt. Eugene L. Johnson, Troy School Supt. Rex B. Smith and Bloomfield Hills school board member Merrill O. Bates said they presented Romney with their feeling that his program did not provide needed additional money for schools.

"We want a complete understanding of his program and we want him to have a complete understanding of what we are trying to promote — fine education," said Bates.

★ ★ ★

The three said they were not ready yet to take a stand on the program, however.

LEAGUE OPINION

As spokesman for the League of Women Voters group, Mrs. Robert Williamson of 651 Red Oak, Avon Township, told Romney the league supported most

Church Reform Gets Backing

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A proposed redefinition of the Roman Catholic Church won general endorsement today from the first prelates to speak at the second phase of the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Two cardinals and six bishops took the floor in St. Peter's as the 2,500 council fathers resumed working sessions. Pope Paul VI reopened the council Sunday after a nine-month recess with a strong appeal for reform.

The council press office, summarizing today's three-hour meeting, told newsmen the topic before the assembly—"De Ecclesia," concerning the Church—was accepted by speakers as "a good foundation on which to build."

It was revised during the recess and undoubtedly will be revised further. It will be the main topic before the council's session ending Dec. 4.

The topic, considered the key to all the council's work, proposed a new way for the Roman Catholic Church to look at its structure.

It came up originally at the council's first session last year and was criticized by many fathers as being too juridical and academic and not sufficiently pastoral.

There was criticism that the original draft would not help the cause of Christian unity.

During the recess, a council spokesman said today, 372 proposed corrections and amendments to the first half of the topic were mailed to the Vatican by prelates around the world.

No speakers expressed disapproval of the topic today.

Spokesmen for the council said speeches on the topic in general would end Tuesday, with the full council then taking a vote whether to accept the topic in principle and proceed with detailed discussion.

★ ★ ★

Briefings today at the council press office were the first under a new system designed to make public more information on the council's deliberations.

Stierer Decides Not to Appeal

Pontiac's ex-city manager Robert A. Stierer, said today he will not go to court to win reinstatement.

Stierer said his decision not to further contest his dismissal by the City Commission was reached after "considerable study of the implications for the community, for myself and family, as well as legal aspects."

After reviewing the case with his attorneys, Stierer said, "We reached the conclusion that an appeal, while feasible from a legal point of view, would really not be practical."

★ ★ ★

Stierer said a court fight would be costly, and even if he were to win back his old job, it would mean serving with a dissident majority on the commission.

'ONLY AVENUE'

Stierer said a court appeal had been "the only avenue open."

With that closed, he stated he would not engage in political or other activity to prove his case.

Stierer was suspended as city manager Aug. 5. After five separate nights of hearings, the City Commission fired him Sept. 17.

His attorney, Howard L. Bond, said there "is adequate legal basis" to appeal Stierer's removal and the public hearings to Oakland County Circuit Court.

"Not only did the Commission

Police Query Ex-KKK Man, Segregationist

Past Records Show Both Participated in Other Disturbances

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two white men were placed in city jail early today for further investigation into the series of bombings that have rocked this racially troubled city for several years.

Col. Al Lingo, head of the state highway patrol, said that others picked up in the intensified investigation have been released. He declined to say how many others had been questioned.

Night Warden L. A. Holcomb identified the two being held as R. E. Chamblis, 50, and Charles Cagle, 22, both of Birmingham area.

Chambliss was found innocent in 1949 on a charge of flogging while masked. He has been active in anti-integration efforts. Officers had to restrain Chambliss recently when he engaged in a near brawl with a newsman at a segregation meeting.

KKK MEMBER

Cagle has been affiliated with anti-integration activities, mostly in the Warrior area south of Birmingham. Last summer he was arrested while going to a Ku Klux Klan rally in Tuscaloosa a short time before the University of Alabama was desegregated. State officials identified him as a Klansman and said that he was carrying a weapon.

Both men had been under surveillance by city, county and federal agents. The local law enforcement agencies said that the arrests by the state came as a surprise.

Lingo said the state was conducting its investigation separately from any other police agency.

Twisters Rip Dixie; 3 Dead, 44 Injured

DILLON, S. C. (UPI) — Tornadoes skipped across the Carolinas yesterday, killing three persons, injuring at least 44 and causing damage estimated at nearly three quarters of a million dollars.

Spawned by a weather disturbance that sent twisters dipping into Georgia Saturday, early morning tornadoes were reported yesterday at Dillon, Springfield and Swansea in South Carolina and at Arapahoe, Spring Lake, Ft. Bragg, New Bern and Goldsboro in North Carolina.

It was the worst natural disaster of its kind to hit South Carolina since April of 1944 when 18 persons died in tornadoes. The state's worst twister killed 67 in 1924.

★ ★ ★

Dillon County farm agent D. A. Benton toured a seven-mile swath cut by the tornado yesterday and said at least 2,500 acres of cotton, soybeans and corn either were destroyed or partially wasted.

HOUSES FLATTENED

In addition, five tenant houses were flattened.

About 600 acres of pine woodland was chopped up by the strong winds. There was loss of livestock and many farm buildings were blown away.

A tornado hit the community of Spring Lake, about 12 miles east of Fayetteville, and lifted the roof from a tire recapping plant, overturned a housetrailer and demolished several frame houses.

★ ★ ★

A twister near Arapahoe in Pamlico County, N.C., destroyed several houses and tobacco barns. Sixteen people were asleep in one of the demolished tenant houses and when rescue workers pulled away the debris, three of them were dead.

Jackie to Board Jet for Greece Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy will leave Tuesday night by plane on the first stage of a flight to Greece for a two-week vacation ashore and at sea.

The White House said today that the First Lady will take off from New York's Idlewild Airport at 9:45 p. m. tomorrow on Trans World Airlines Flight 840, en route to Athens.

Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, Pamela Turnure, said Mrs. Kennedy will spend several days in the Nomikos residence near Athens, which she visited in 1961.

Chilly Days Over, at Least for Awhile

Autumn overemphasized its cool character this weekend with temperatures ranging only from 50 to 58 with .05 inches of rain.

The characterization will lessen slightly today and tomorrow with tomorrow's high reaching 72.

For the next five days temperatures will average near the normal highs of 69 and low of 49. Tomorrow and Wednesday will be slightly warmer; Thursday, cooler; Friday and Saturday, warmer.

Precipitation will total less than one-tenth of an inch in showers Thursday and Saturday.

Low temperature before 8 a.m. was 42. By 2 p.m., it had risen to 66.

House Fire Brings Death to Area Boy

Pronounced dead at the fire scene just before noon was Craig DeLongchamp. His sister, Rhonda, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital. Their mother, Mrs. Ronald DeLongchamp, and another child, Michele, 3, were treated at the hospital and released.

Waterford Township Fire Chief Lewis Goff said the fire was confined to the living room after starting in a couch. Mrs. DeLongchamp was in one of the rear bedrooms, and the three children were in the other.

★ ★ ★

Police and firemen are still investigating circumstances of the fire. The alarm was received at 11:25 a.m.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

A prayer service for Craig will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Godhardt Funeral Home, Keego Harbor. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

SEEING DOUBLE — Torchy twins Jeanine and Janice Willockx give Pontiac United Fund commercial chairman Stuart E. Whitfield two smiles of encouragement over this year's campaign goal. Commercial portion of the fund drive, which begins Oct. 15, is $203,469.

UF Commercial Goal $203,469

A record $203,469 commercial division goal in the upcoming Pontiac Area United Fund drive was announced today by Stuart E. Whitfield, division chairman.

In making the goal public, Whitfield said some of the campaign teams were already "hard at work," while others will be kicking off their campaigns this week.

Whitfield said he was confident this year's division goal, which is 10 per cent higher than 1962, would be met or surpassed.

"United Fund agency services directly benefit our community," he said. "I urge the wholehearted support of everyone in the area for this once-a-year giving."

Hoffa: $5-8 Million for Political Uses

DETROIT (UPI) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa said yesterday his union would spend from $5 million to $8 million this year to lobby against antilabor legislation and to elect pro-Teamsters politicians.

Next year, the president of the 1.7-million-member union said, even more money would be spent in the congressional and presidential campaigns.

Hoffa has already endorsed New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as his choice for the GOP presidential candidacy.

He has listed the Kennedy family as his arch-foes in the political world and in the 1962 gave his backing to GOP contender Richard M. Nixon.

The money, Hoffa said, this year would be used to pay 150 full-time Teamster employes, including 10 in Washington, 45 political directors scattered about the nation, 45 "legmen" and 45 secretaries.

Another portion of the sum is being spent to send the wives of Teamsters union members to Washington under the union's "Women to Washington" plan.

Last week 200 wives went to Washington under the plan. The trip cost the union $50,000 in plane fares, meals and hotel bills.

Bills involving minimum wages, medicare, bonding of union officials, missile sites and with congressional representatives by the women, Hoffa said.

GOT OPPORTUNITY

"For the first time, these women got the opportunity to see what goes on in Washington first-hand and from personal observation," Hoffa said.

In Escanaba Saturday where he dedicated a new headquarters building for union Local 328, Hoffa gave his endorsement to Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform plan.

Hoffa also said he approved of Detroit's income tax on residents and nonresidents.

"You can't have something without nothing," he said in reference to state services.

Rights Group Issues Forceful Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Rights Commission—its life in the hands of Congress—came forth today with another batch of tough proposals certain to stir the wrath of Southern congressmen.

★ ★ ★

For the first time in its six-year history, all commission recommendations to Congress and the President were unanimous.

A commission report recommended:

● Reduction of the representation in the House of Representatives for those states where all other efforts fail to eliminate discrimination in voting.

● Enactment of a fair employment practices law for federally assisted employment and employment involving interstate commerce, with a Labor Department administrator having enforcement powers. President Kennedy also proposed this in his most recent civil rights message.

● Refusing impacted area funds for school districts surrounding military bases and other federal installations unless all children within the bounds of the school district are assigned to schools without regard to race. Previous federal efforts in this area have been limited to trying to end discrimination against children of servicemen.

The commission said in its report that the growing protest movement by Negroes "has made it abundantly clear that their century-old patience with second-class citizenship is finally at an end."

It added, "The present conflict has brought about some progress, but it has also created the danger that white and Negro Americans may be driven even further apart and left again with a legacy of hate, fear and mistrust."

CONFLICT CAPTIVE

To some extent, the commission itself is a captive of this conflict. A four-year extension of the commission's life is wrapped into President Kennedy's omnibus civil rights bill, which is still snared in the early stages of congressional action.

The administration is trying to shove through a one-year extension for the commission, which today will officially enter a 60-day period during which it must go out of business.

Valachi to Reveal Details on 'Cosa' Battles for Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate crime probers said today that Joseph Valachi, the vengeful mobster, will reveal the inside details of bloody gang warfare for power and vengeance when he resumes his testimony tomorrow.

Valachi already has acknowledged in hearings before the Senate Investigations subcommittee that he was a killer for a nationwide crime syndicate known as La Cosa Nostra, which he now hopes his testimony will destroy.

He wants to avenge the "kiss of death" he says he received from Vito Genovese, whom he named as Cosa Nostra's "boss of bosses."

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., the subcommittee's chairman, and Jerome Adlerman, its counsel, said Valachi will describe a series of New York gangland murders as he saw them from inside as a "soldier" or rank and file criminal in La Cosa Nostra's ranks.

Diem Names Envoy to Position in the U. S.

TOKYO (AP) — President Ngo Dinh Diem has appointed Do Vang Ly, South Viet Nam's consul general in New Delhi, as new ambassador to the United States, the official Viet Nam press said today.

The Washington post became vacant when Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu's father, Tran Van Chuong, resigned in protest at the Saigon regime's policies and his daughter's utterances on the Buddhist fire suicides.

First of Five Cities on Agenda

Pontiac Hears Romney on Fiscal Reform

Gov. George Romney appeared in Pontiac this morning to kick off phase three of his plan to get Michigan "straightened out." Republicans elsewhere in the state were preparing for the first legislative hearing on his controversial tax program.

Meanwhile, other GOP members were writhing under a court injunction which prevented them from choosing Wayne County's representatives on the party's state central committee.

Pontiac was the first of five cities the governor planned to visit today as he began a six-day campaign to explain his fiscal reform program in meetings with citizens.

As phase three in his program to get Michigan "moving again," it follows his election as governor and adoption of the new state constitution which he championed.

The Senate Taxation Committee, headed by Sen. Clyde Geerlings, R-Holland, will open public hearings tonight at the Kalamazoo Public Library on Romney's tax program.

The committee will hold hearings tomorrow in Grand Rapids, Wednesday in Traverse City and Thursday in Menominee.

ITINERARY

Royal Oak, East Detroit, Hamtramck and Detroit were on Romney's itinerary for the day.

The governor's aim is to convince citizens his income tax-centered program is the answer to the state's longtime budgetary and economic problems.

Succeeding days will see Romney traveling throughout both peninsulas of the state to visit 24 cities in the same type of tour that proved highly successful in luring voter support when he was elected governor and when he was stumping for the new constitution.

The court injunction, issued by Wayne County Circuit Judge James Montante, halted plans to choose GOP State Central members from Wayne County's six Congressional districts.

The order was issued on request of Earle Tinsman, a member of the committee from the 14th district which is the stronghold of Richard Durant, self-styled arch conservative and boss of the 14th.

Tinsman said the meeting, called for Sunday, was a calculated move on the part of GOP State Chairman Arthur G. Elliott, Jr., to oust Durant supporters on the committee. Elliott said Tinsman's charges were "grossly inaccurate."

MOVES FAILED

The presence of Durant in Republican party policies in Michigan has long been a sore spot. Several moves to oust him for his conservative views, one led by Gov. Romney, have failed.

Tinsman also charged that the meeting was called "to eliminate growing rank-and-file enthusiasm for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., for President."

Elliott denied this also.

Montante set Friday as a date for the hearing on the injunction.

Three district and separate groups have voiced opposition to Romney's plan for fiscal reform: The elderly for deferral of property taxes; beer interests for a tax cut that Romney figures would save them $1.5 million annually in specific tax on their product; and Wayne County, specifically Detroit, which says the program won't give Detroit and Wayne County enough money to meet their needs.

Romney has weathered all criticism of his program and indications are that he would press for its adoption as it stands and without any major change suggested by its detractors.

Romney showed how firmly he believes in the value of his program in a recent speech when he said "I think at this time the responsible public officials have to be willing to exercise the leadership to reform our tax structure and if it isn't done properly and if the people don't like it, why let the people kick them out."

tion on the men, nor on results of the questioning. He also declined to definitely link them with the blast at the 16th St. Baptist church Sept. 15 in which four young Negro girls were killed.

★ ★ ★

The two men arrived at the city jail, where some 2,400 Negro demonstrators were held last spring, in a highway patrol car with two troopers. Dressed in sport shirts and slacks, they covered their faces as they were led into the jail.

FIRST ARRESTS

Although the investigations into the bombings—there have been at least 40—had been intensified since the church explosion, these were the first arrests. A tip-off that they were coming came Sunday night in Montgomery from the office of Gov. George C. Wallace.

★ ★ ★

A statement said that "arrests were imminent" in the church bombing. But the actual announcement of the arrests did not specify the church blast. It said:

"State investigators have taken into custody and are holding two persons in connection with the Birmingham bombings. Their identities are being withheld in the interest of the continuing investigation."

The city has had more than 40 bombings since World War II, but the one which nearly destroyed the 16th Street Baptist church was the worst.

ABOUT 20 HURT

About 20 persons were hurt in the blast, which sparked a near riot. Sporadic outbursts of violence continued through the day and night.

Two young Negroes were shot to death — one by police officers and the other as he was riding a bicycle. Two white youths are free on $10,000 bonds in the death of the second Negro.

Birmingham's racial situation was further clouded over the weekend when two prominent Negro leaders —millionaire A. G. Gaston and attorney Arthur D. Shores — took issue with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. over King's threat of renewed demonstrations.

Warrant Sought Against Driver in Bike Death

Waterford Township police will seek a negligent homicide warrant today in connection with a fatal accident yesterday at 7:12 p. m. in front of 317 Cass Lake.

Larry Whaley, 9, of 3816 Hazelett, Waterford Township, was riding his bike south on Cass Lake Road when he was struck by a northbound car driven by John Kelley, 20, of 1580 Bawtree, West Bloomfield Township.

Kelley told police he was passing another car when he saw the boy on the bike. The boy was pronounced dead at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Police said the car was traveling from 45 to 50 miles per hour in a 40-mph zone when the accident occurred. The bike had no light, according to police.

The youngster is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whaley, and a sister, Connie, at home.

Service will be held 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Burial will be in Crescent Hills Cemetery.

Cali Visitors Have 'Ball' at Game

By DICK HANSON

Oakland County's visitors from Colombia, South America, enjoyed a pleasant weekend that included a football game at Michigan State University and a reception-dinner at Oakland University.

They were particularly impressed with band day events when over a thousand musicians in 36 school bands took the field at half time.

Yesterday afternoon they met many of the Oakland University profesors and their wives. Others affiliated with the university were there, including Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, who, along with her late husband, donated the university site.

DINNER IN CENTER

Today it was back to work for the Colombian delegates, here to study social and economic conditions that might be applied to raising living standards in their own country.

They toured the Pontiac Motor Division plants this morning and the Star Cutter Co. in Farmington and National Twist Drill in Rochester this afternoon.

Friday they studied public works projects in the county that included the $40-million 12 Towns storm relief drain now nearing completion.

Tomorrow the delegates will attend the American Public Works Association's convention in Detroit's Cobo Hall and will tour the civic center.

COUNTY METHODS

Wednesday they will spend the entire day at the Oakland County Service Center, studying administrative methods of county government.

Efforts are being made to extend the Colombians' visit here through next Monday so they can witness a meeting of the County Board of Supervisors in the new courthouse auditorium.

The visit to Oakland county is an exchange of a comparable visit by a delegation from here to the Cali region last May.

The exchange has been arranged by the U.S. State Department as part of the Alliance for Progress program.

BROOMFIELD IDEA

The community-to-community approach to raising living conditions in South America originated with U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

So far, the local program has proved highly successful, according to State Department officials.

Within the next few days the Colombians also will tour the Oakland University campus, visit Solidarity House in Detroit, take a boat trip on the Detroit River to observe the skyline and industrial complexes and attend a South Oakland mayors' meeting in Southfield.

They will spend a few days with the State Department in Washington to review what they have learned here that might be useful in their own country.

The group includes Gov. Gustavo Balcazar of the Valle de Cauca Department; Cesar Tulio Delgado, municipal council president in Cali; Hernan Borrero, the region's public utilities manager; Jorge Herrera, a prominent attorney active in Cali civic affairs; and Pedro Caycedo, Cali's planning director.

Victim of Golf Accident Asks $300,000 of City

BIRMINGHAM — A 37-year-old Troy man is making a $300,000 insurance claim against the city in connection with an accident at Springdale Golf Course in which he was blinded in one eye.

Robert Wesler, 6600 Livernois, Troy, reported that his eye was removed following the Aug. 26 accident. He was truck by a golf ball hit by Scott Albers, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton H. Albers, 1839 Sheffield, Wesler said.

The claim is for "pain and suffering, hospital and medical expenses, disfigurement, disability, loss of earnings, past, present and anticipated."

A $100,000 insurance claim will also be filed for Mrs. Wesler for her suffering due to the accident.

CHARGES NEGLIGENCE

Wesler accused the city of negligence in laying the golf course out as it is, permitting "an immature and unqualified boy" to play the course and in failing to properly supervise play and enforce rules.

★ ★ ★

Wesler, a process and sales engineer at Acme Manufacturing Co. of Ferndale, said today he expects to be out of work another three to five weeks.

The first of three fall schools in churchmanship will be held at the First Methodist Church Wednesday evenings beginning this week through Nov. 6.

The school will offer courses for those who are teaching or preparing to teach at any level of the church school as well as those seeking a general course in one of the areas of Christian faith and fellowship.

The school is expected to attract about 300 participants.

Horace B. Barrett

Service for Horace B. Barrett, 73, of 644 Emmons will be 8 p.m. today at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Bainbridge, Ohio.

Mr. Barrett died Saturday after a long illness. He was an agent for the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co., before his retirement in 1959.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, Birmingham Chapter No. 44, F&AM, and the men's club of his church.

Surviving are his wife, Adah; two sons, Warren J. of Clawson and Major John H. Barrett, U.S. Army, stationed in New York; two brothers and five grandchildren.

A. Earl Jones

Service for A. Earl Jones, 60, of 1575 Woodward, Bloomfield Township, will be 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac. Burial will follow in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston.

Mr. Jones died Saturday after an illness of several weeks.

He was an employe of Pontiac Motor Division and a member of the First Baptist Church, Pontiac, and Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 10.

Surviving besides his wife, Bernice, are a son, Ralph of California; three sisters, Mrs. Jay Jensen of Pontiac, Mrs. Roy Aiken of Miami Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Leland Van Horn of Kingston; and two grandchildren.

Some in Favor of Fiscal Reform at Romney Visit points in his program, but favored more flexibility in local option taxes.

For instance, Mrs. Williamson said, the place of work should be able to levy 1 per cent on nonresidents as well as residents until the nonresidents' own cities also levied an income tax. Romney's program now calls for one-half per cent levy on nonresidents.

Max Adams, executive director of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, said he asked Romney about provisions to correct what he termed inequalities in property assessed valuations. Romney told him his program included such provisions, Adams said.

William Archambeau, owner of a local beer distributorship, said he explained how beer wholesalers were hurt by the present beer tax and urged reduction to its former $2.50-per-barrel level. Romney was sympathetic, he said, but gave no promises.

Stierer Decides Not to Appeal

act as complainant, prosecutor and judge," Bond charged, "but some of the members actually bore witness against Mr. Stierer and then voted to remove him.

"The Michigan Supreme Court has held this disqualifies the member from voting. They were neither fair nor impartial in this action."

★ ★ ★

Stierer noted:

"The City of Pontiac is now in the midst of a great capital improvement and development program, which must move forward rapidly.

"If this program falters, the City and its taxpayers will be the losers. I have no desire to interfere with this program through litigation or otherwise."

Stierer said he plans to remain in the Pontiac area. He said he has had offers to undertake municipal consulting work, but has not made a decision.

He said, as he did at the time of his suspension, that he would like to return some day as Pontiac's city manager.

Ben Bella Asks Revolt Guard

Berber Tribesmen Threaten Regime

ALGIERS, (AP) — President Ahmed Ben Bella called on Algerians today to form vigilante committees to help meet an open revolt against his one-man rule.

Ben Bella met late Sunday night with his Cabinet after Berbers in the Greater Kabyli area took to the streets shouting, "Down with Ben Bella!" and an underground group calling itself the Front of Socialist Forces (FFS) proclaimed all-out war against the Ben Bella regime.

★ ★ ★

"All militants and all Algerians should remain vigilant and should organize vigilante committees like last summer until we overcome all these attempts," Ben Bella said in a statement.

AFTER ELECTION

The crisis erupted two weeks after Ben Bella's unopposed election as president and raised serious doubt that he would leave for New York next week as planned. He wants to appeal personally to the United Nations for a massive U.N. program to free Portugal's African colonies and South Africa from white domination.

★

Ben Bella's first move was to remove Greater Kabylia's wartime hero, Col. Mohand Ou El Hadj, as commander of the 7th Military Region for statements approving the opposition. This could provoke a clash between the regime and 10,000 Berber troops serving under Ou El Hadj.

Late Sunday night, government troops manned roadblocks leading to Kabylia, east of Algiers, in an effort to thwart the spread of the revolt.

The demonstrations in Kabylia were sparked by rebellious parliamentary Deputy Hocine Ait Ahmed.

The area is inhabited by two million Berbers constituting one fifth of Algeria's population. During the war for independence, Kabylia was one of the toughest bastions of resistance against France.

Man, 1,000, Found in Cave

CODY, Wyo. (AP)—The well-preserved body of a man thought to be more than 1,000 years old has been found by scientists in a cave near Cody, in northwestern Wyoming.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Harold McCracken, director of the Buffalo Bill Historical Center here, said the mummified body was wrapped in a tanned skin of a mountain sheep. He estimated the man lived about 678, more than eight centuries before Columbus landed in America.

'Food for Peace' Abuse Said Hurting Firms

Congressman Hits Shipment

O'Hara, From Utica, Cites Material Lack

WASHINGTON (AP) —A Michigan congressman said today that abuse of the "Food for Peace" program threatens the existence of an important American industry.

Rep. James G. O'Hara, a Democrat of Utica, said in a prepared House statement that the law authorizing the Food for Peace program is limited to surplus agricultural commodities.

However, he declared, purchases under the law are resulting an artificial shortage of wheat "clears," a basic raw material needed by processing plants in three states employing more than 800 persons.

Products of these plants, he said, are wheat gluten, monosodium glutemate, grain neutral spirits, wheat starch and hydrolyzed vegetable protein.

The processing operations, he added, are conducted by the Hercules Powder Co., Midwest Solvents Co. and National Industrial Products Co. in Michigan, Kansas and Ohio.

When one of the companies attempted recently to purchase "second clears," a byproduct in the production of patent flour, from several large milling concerns, it was told none was available for delivery this month or next, O'Hara said.

U.A.R. SHIPMENTS

"The reason given for the disappearance of second clears from the domestic market was their export in large volume as flour under government programs," he said.

"The present shortage was attributed in particular to large shipments of flour to the United Arab Republic."

He said purchase authorizations for the U.A.R. shipment are so framed as to permit the mills to supply material with a maximum ash—mineral content — above straight run-of-the-mill flour.

"As a consequence," he said, "mills are 'stuffing' most of their supply of clears, not considered to be flour in this country, back into straight-run flour and still complying with the unrealistic mineral content limits of the purchase authorization."

O'Hara contended wheat clears are not in surplus, their export is illegal and the total amount of surplus wheat milled is sharply reduced.

He said he has brought the matter to the Agriculture Department's attention, and unless remedial action is taken, Congress should investigate.

Parade to Start Event

AVON TOWNSHIP — A parade through the heart of Rochester Saturday will herald the opening of Michigan Christian College's annual "Harvest Festival" fair, on the college campus at 800 W. Avon.

* * *

The beat of bass drums from the Rochester and Avondale Senior High School bands will be heard starting at 11 a.m.

* * *

Marching along with the bands will be other units, including flag bearers and even horses and their riders, members of Rochester's Boots and Saddle Club.

Fourteen colorful floats are promised for the parade, all to represent booths at the fair. The Walled Lake Women's Associates of Michigan Christian College will have their "Steak Float" again this year.

* * *

CELEBRITIES

Celebrities participating in the parade include Romeo Peach Queen Susan Pill, who is also Miss Michigan State Fair for 1963; Village President John Boeberitz, and Otis Gatewood, president of the college.

In addition to the police escorts and fire trucks which will catch the eyes of children, 10 different models of the 1964 cars will be shown.

Several antique cars will also start at the north end of town and putt-putt down Main.

* * *

Arriving at the scene of the fair, the crowd will turn its attention to the various booths and activities there.

FEATURED EVENTS

Featured events will include an art booth, displaying student paintings and crafts, and other booths offering baked goods, candy, fruit cake, and hand-painted china.

Pony rides, a husband and wife glass - blowing team, a barber and beauty shop and a wishing well are among other attractions promised.

A queen, to be announced at tomorrow night's meeting of the Women's Associates will reign over the annual event. Proceeds from the fair will be turned over to the college.

* * *

In the past four years, activities sponsored by the associates have provided $98,000 for the college.

Action Awaited on Land-Fill Bid

Farmington Twp. Unit Eyes Permit Request

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Formal action on a request for a permit to begin a sanitary landfill operation is expected from the Township Board tonight.

* * *

After lengthy discussion last week, the board set tonight's special meeting to consider the request of the Munn Contracting Co.

The proposed site is on the George Peacock property, located on Halstead between 10 Mile and 11 Mile roads.

Some residents of the area have objected to the proposal before the board.

* * *

One of the factors playing an important part in the board's discussion is the possibility of an unfavorable court decision should the permit be refused and the company decide to contest the action.

* * *

The township has had bitter experience with such a case in the past when it lost a lawsuit in the Michigan Supreme Court after paying $3,500 to defend itself.

* * *

Weekend Michigan Traffic, Other Accidents Claim 15

From Our News Wires

A Gratiot County man was one of 12 persons killed in Michigan weekend traffic accidents when his car slammed into the side of a freight train near Wheeler, derailing 25 cars and injuring three crewmen.

Three other Michigan residents died in nontraffic accidents to raise the death toll to 15.

John Roberts, rural Wheeler, was killed Saturday night when his car crashed into the train at an unguarded crossing near his home. Police said Roberts was killed instantly.

The three crewmen who were injured were treated and released from a local hospital.

VICTIMS INCLUDE

Jerry Lee Miller, 14, of Highland Park, fatally injured last night after he stepped out of a car on the I-96 freeway near Fowlerville and ran into the path of an oncoming vehicle.

Brighton state police said the boy ran away from home, hitch hiked a ride and asked to be let out on the freeway.

Sam L. Singles, 26, Port Huron, killed early Saturday in a two-car collision on M146.

Gordon Chandler, 32, Flint, dead on arrival at Hurley Hospital after the car in which he was a passenger ran off the road and struck a road sign south of the Genesee County line.

Meta Vratney, 52, Detroit, killed Saturday morning in Detroit when the car in which he was riding was involved in a three car collision on the city's west side.

John L. Lane, 65, Detroit, was struck and killed by a car yesterday when he walked out into traffic in the middle of the block.

Larry C. Whaley, 9, Waterford Township, killed Sunday in Oakland County when he was struck by a car while riding his bicycle.

Those killed in nontraffic accidents were: Carl Stull, 57, Rt. 2, Paw Paw, killed Saturday afternoon while cutting brush with a tractor. He fell off the machine and it passed over him.

Harry C. Hoffman, 32, Wayne, killed Saturday when he was crushed between the tractor and trailer sections of a huge truck. Police said Hoffman slipped and fell.

Charles Thompson, 37, of Drayton Plains was killed by a cave-in yesterday in a well he was digging near Mikado in Alcona County, state police said.

Goff-Payton Rites

Honeymoon Is in Mexico

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A honeymoon trip to Acapulco and Mexico City followed the wedding of Lorene DeLane Payton to Wesley John Goff.

The couple exchanged vows Saturday evening in a double-ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church of Walled Lake.

The bride of 2103 Metzner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gratis P. Payton, 121 Austin, Novi. Mr. and Mrs. Wesley V. Goff of Livonia are parents of the bridegroom.

* * *

Re-embroidered Alencon lace appliques and seed pearls trimmed the bride's taffeta gown. The bodice was styled with a portrait neckline and long, tapered sleeves. A detachable train swept from the full - length dome skirt.

Mrs. Richard Tremper of Novi was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Austin of Walled Lake and Mrs. Donald Hauser of Union Lake.

On the esquire side were Edward Palmer Jr. as best man and Richard Goff, brother of the groom, and Donald Dietrich as ushers. All are of Livonia.

Barbara Tallman Weds Gene Edwin LeGrand

AVON TOWNSHIP—The Troy Methodist Church was the setting for the recent double-ring wedding of Barbara Ann Tallman and Gene Edwin LeGrand.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Tallman 950 Francis, and the Edwin A. LeGrands, 6089 Montclair, Troy.

Connie Churchill of Auburn Heights was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Rebecca Runser of Rochester and Mrs. John McKee of Pontiac.

Serving as best man was David Jones of Hamilton, Ont. The guests were seated by Gerald Tallman, brother of the bride; Robert LeGrand, brother of the bridegroom; and twins Robert and James Tallman of Clinton, cousins of the bride.

JFK Liked West's Reaction to Ike Theme

News Analysis

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is approaching the 1964 presidential campaign with the apparent hope of borrowing a theme from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower: peace and prosperity.

Kennedy test-marketed the peace argument during the Western tour he just completed. He obviously was pleased with the result, particularly because he drew warm response in the Rocky Mountain area where many voters favor the conservative policies of Sen. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican.

* * *

Repeatedly, Kennedy was interrupted by applause as he talked up the limited nuclear test-ban treaty, foreign aid and global involvement — all of which he credited with making brighter the prospects for peace.

TEST REACTION

Unquestionably, this choice of subjects was to determine audience reaction. But these topics also concern Kennedy more deeply than the conservation matters that were the announced focal point of his trip.

Ironically, Kennedy was far less successful in striking sparks with appeals for bigger conservation programs than when he argued for internationalist policies.

* * *

Plugs for local conservation projects drew applause, but audiences rarely responded to talk about conservation in the broader sense.

Prosperity also figured in Kennedy's speeches — usually in connection with his argument that an $11-billion tax cut is vitally needed as antirecession insurance. If a tax cut is enacted before the election, and a recession is avoided, prosperity certainly will be one of Kennedy's major campaign claims.

Thus, the Democratic presidential candidate next year may employ substantially the arguments that Eisenhower used successfully against Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson in 1956.

On the second of five days of speech making, Kennedy began to swing away from conservation and emphasize his contentions that, by shouldering international burdens, the United States is repulsing "the Communist offensive."

This argument was voiced in Montana, at Billings and Great Falls, before Kennedy made it the theme of the trip's major address — an appearance in Salt Lake City's Mormon Tabernacle.

In Salt Lake City, Kennedy twice was interrupted by applause as he saluted the limited nuclear test-ban treaty which Goldwater has opposed. Cheers again halted Kennedy when he defended foreign aid.

Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, was amazed by the reaction. Kennedy obviously was elated.

The trip was just plodding along until Kennedy hit upon the peace question in Montana. Starting there, he seemed much more enthusiastic. He spent increasing amounts of time shaking hands with those who greeted him at airports, auditoriums and stadiums.

If the trip was a dry run for the 1964 campaign, as seems apparent, Kennedy undoubtedly views it as a success.

Gibbon Born at Zoo; Everyone Is Surprised

ST. PAUL (AP)—Surprised officials of the Como Park Zoo reported the zoo's first birth of a gibbon ape Sunday.

"We had no idea," said foreman Richard Dean.

He said the birth, extremely rare in captivity, was discovered by a keeper.

Communists in Cyprus Stand Behind Russia

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Akel, the Cyprus Communist party, published a lengthy statement Sunday aligning itself with Moscow and lashing the Chinese Communist party for its "disruptive anti-Soviet mania."

Akel which commands the support of about a third of the Cyprus electorate, reiterates its aim to turn Cyprus into a Communist state. But, the statement adds, the party will follow "absolutely democratic and peaceful methods."

3,500-Year-Old Town Found in Israel Desert

BEERSHEBA, Israel (AP)—The remains of a 3,500-year-old fortified town in the Negev Desert have been discovered by R. A. Mitchell of Berkeley, Calif., executive director of the Institute for Mediterranean Studies, and Ruth Amiram of the Israel Antiquities Department.

The ancient town, dating back to the Hyksos period—about 1650 to 1580 B.C.—is in the lower area of the Philistine plain along the eastern Mediterranean coast.

Miniature transmitters attached to two grizzly bears in plastic collar, broadcast "beep" signals to scientists as far as five miles away.

'Now There's Talk They'll Pool Their Forces'

It Seems to Me....

Both Russia, U.S. Might Profit Through Joint Moon Efforts

By and large, President KENNEDY's joint moon deal sounds sensible.

Spending upwards of $20 billion for the dubious distinction of landing someone there ahead of the Russians comes under the heading of a fantastic and fearful price to pay for not much. Spain put the initial white man in our immediate world but she hasn't existed since on any lofty pinnacles of supremacy or eminence because of that fact.

★ ★ ★

There's no guarantee that if we pour the whole 20 billion down this nebulous moon hole we'll necessarily place our boy there first. The Soviets are woefully behind us in most important matters but they were first to hurl a man into space. They've burst more and bigger megaton bombs in the outer atmosphere and they whisked a lovely lady around the world before we did.

Yet we've survived.

★ ★ ★

These infamous and humiliating "defeats" haven't despoiled our world picture or international recognition. In the race for practically everything that helps guarantee a better existence for mankind, we've licked the pants off these frenzied outer space characters.

★ ★ ★

Some of our more inherently suspicious brethren are afraid a joint deal with the Russians will result in giving them some inner secrets. Well, don't they face the same hazard? If the double-dyed deceivers volunteer very little and eagerly scrutinize and study everything we produce, there's nothing in the world to prevent us from backing away, rolling up the blueprints and blandly suggesting:

"Now it's your turn."

And if the KHRUSHCHEV minions remain innocent-eyed and uncooperative, the plan can be dropped right there—pronto.

If half a dozen other nations want "in" what's to prevent this from becoming an inter-denominational affair with the best outer space scientists we all possess working together. Remember—we can pick up our own dolls and go home any time we please and any time we don't like the looks or the smell of what's happening. Every sincere, cooperative step we take with the Russians is another advance toward world peace.

★ ★ ★

Abominable Idea....

Fanatics and extremists rarely accomplish much. Some Negro writers and artists are urging a boycott on Christmas shopping in protest against the Birmingham church bombing.

ADAM CLAYTON POWELL, one of the Negroes' handicaps, even wants a boycott of Santa Claus.

What could this accomplish?

★ ★ ★

Primarily, it's doomed because of the utter incongruity. Why should millions of little children be denied the super joys and thrills of Christmas when the refusal accomplishes nothing at all? And why should anyone be denied the right to give loved ones Christmas gifts?

★ ★ ★

'No Atomic Warfare'....

W. D. MAXWELL, well-known journalist and brilliant editor of The Chicago Tribune has just completed a tour of Europe where he visited leading newspaper publishers and foreign correspondents.

We can all be particularly heartened by one statement which he emphasizes primarily:

"Statesmen in Europe believe outside of an act of a maniac or someone acting outside of controlled authority, there will be no atomic warfare in our time.... Khrushchev and his party are satisfied that an atomic war would destroy Western civilization, leaving only the Chinese and Africans as survivors....., The fear of atomic war over Germany seems to be fading in the belief the horrible actualities supersede all."

★ ★ ★

This is especially reassuring from a factual and objective newspaper veteran who isn't swayed by personal desire and wishes. There is a deep-seated conviction in the U.S. along these same lines and it's comforting to find similar conclusion over there.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Maxwell's observations come from a skilled and trained professional. Scores of well-meaning amateurs glibly bring a consensus from abroad, but it is heartening to get this statement from a man with Mr. Maxwell's personal background and his top echelon connections in European newspaper and diplomatic circles.

And in Conclusion....

Real agitation springs up for a bridge or tunnel connecting Britain and the European mainland..... Insider's Newsletter says KENNEDY is interested in supersonic airliners to keep abreast of Europe. It's highly contentious and some say the "booms" make it impractical. Others say the future of aviation lies here. On the drawing boards, these dream boats do 2,000 miles an hour..... Pundits expect "The Man" by IRVING WALLACE, which will be published shortly, to become a controversial book. It's about a Negro who was elected President.

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it but I'll bet a sugar cookie you can't tell the color of your wife's eyes. (Only the first half dozen paid.)....., Trusted scouts advise that Mary Bone deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies..... Dept. of Dubious Driving: that Greyhound bus driver last Tuesday that inched slowly across Square Lake against the light until he was in the middle of the street before the green flashed..... Overheard at an auction: "Sold to that lady with her husband's hand over her mouth."..... Sonny Liston says the thing that worries him about Cassius Clay is how he'll ever get his glove out of that big mouth..... Each year more than 100,000 try to kill themselves and last year 18,999 succeeded.

MARY

Make something of this if you desire: President of the Astrologers Assn. of America says the stars are against both ROCKEFELLER and GOLDWATER for the nomination..... Overheard: "There are so many new shows on TV that if it weren't for the same lousy commercials, I'd be lost."....., When HARRY S. TRUMAN landed in Chicago the other day he was greeted by his favorite dessert: a hefty chocolate sundae..... Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—vote on the nuclear test ban; the J's—the increasing number of feminine wigs.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

David Lawrence Says:

Value of Moon Trip Is Dubious

WASHINGTON — Maybe it's time to stop moon - gazing and re-explore the earth. This could be done by using some of the $40 billion which the administration wants to spend over the next few years in trying to achieve a landing on the moon.

Much of the rapidly growing LAWRENCE population throughout the world could be moved to sparsely settled parts of the globe with such funds. Plainly, many billions of dollars could be more beneficially used on the ground than by ventures 240,000 miles up in outer space.

A large part of the earth's surface is uninhabited, but population is growing in other areas at a rapid pace. Vast regions — like northern Russia and Canada, as well as Alaska, and huge fertile areas in South America and Africa which lie practically unoccupied —could be developed to take care of bigger populations.

Today, for instance, in Argentina and Paraguay, half the population lives in one - fortieth of the territory of these two nations.

Some desert lands in Australia and the middle east could be utilized also if science can find a way to de-salt water cheaply and effectively. This appears to be one of the most urgent projects of the century.

Yet the United States government has spent only $30 million on the whole project. The President warned Congress last year that the water needs of the American people will nearly double by 1980 and will triple by the year 2000. The supply of natural water will be grossly inadequate in a few years.

Certainly there are many problems on earth which are far more in need of attention than an expedition to the moon. In another 36 years, there will be seven billion people in the world — or more than double today's figure.

In the United States alone, many children alive today will be part of a population of 322 million by the turn of the century — 36 years hence — as compared with 190 million today.

An idea of how rapidly the growth has been is to recall that in 1900 the figure was 76 million.

PRESSURES GROW

As population increases all over the globe, pressures will grow for aid of all kinds, and a restless, turbulent world could come into being, especially if not enough food is being produced.

Famine and disease used to check population growth, and sometimes millions of people died from both causes. But the decline in the deaths through epidemics presents a different story today.

In Ceylon, for example, the mortality rate was cut 40 per cent in one year by spraying the island with DDT in an antimalarial campaign.

The real difficulty arises in the distribution of the population. Immigration is bound to become a pressing issue in many countries. From the years 1820 to 1955, about 34 million immigrants came to this country from Europe. But this number is equal now to only about a single year's population growth in Asia.

Bob Considine Says:

Light Chinese Lunch Puts Westerners Under Table

TAIPEI — Come along to the Chinese lunch for Bill Hearst given by James Shen, Chiang Kai-shek's genial information chief. You're due at 12:30 sharp, in Golden Dragon Hall, Grand Hotel. Business suit. will suffice Come empty.

CONSIDINE

First, drinks that any Westerner would recognize, then the march into a dining room that looks like a set from the empress' palace in Samuel Bronston's "55 Days at Peking."

Colonel York Pang apologizes. "Because of your busy schedule we will have only a light Chinese lunch," he says as you are seated.

A waiter appears, brandishing a kind of silver coffee pot, and pours a strong rice wine into the small glass beside your plate. The first of countless toasts begin.

If the person who proposes the toast says something that sounds like "sway-bien" at its conclusion, you take only a sip of the jump steady. But if he says "Gom-bei" that means bottoms up. You drink it all, tough as it is, and show him your empty glass.

We toast everybody in both governments down to the level of Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges and his Chinese counterpart. Then the light lunch begins to unfold, all ten courses, beginning with a large plate of cold pork, chicken and beef garnished with candied walnuts.

INSTANT ATTACK

The first course is placed in the center of the round table and instantly attacked from all sides by probing chopsticks. Before you can uncertainly spear a morsel, your own plate is magically filled.

Li Kuo-ting and Jimmy Wei, who flank you, have as is the custom, selected the pieces they like best and placed them on your plate, not their own.

Then in stunning succession there come fried shrimps, chicken balls with bean sauce, fried cucumber with creamed chicken, fried pigeon in soy sauce, shark fins and crabmeat to be wrapped in a pancake, Peiping (you'll forgive the expression) duck, steamed yellow fish with heads attached and eyes staring unforgivingly at the celebrants, then a steaming hot chicken soup called "four precious soup"; a dish called pork chiao tes and tea in between and during courses.

★ ★ ★

This correspondent, after some difficulty, obtained an exclusive interview with Mr. Hearst in the wake of the light lunch. Asked to comment, the editor said, "It's just like they say about Chinese lunches. Three months after you have one, you're hungry again."

Reader Agrees With Criticism of Press

I sympathize with the lady who claimed The Press didn't do her picture justice. My daughter had her name in the paper for being in school activities and her first and last names were so misspelled her best friends weren't sure. Other names were the same way. I have written a few articles to the Voice of the People and these were so rearranged the point was lost.

I love The Pontiac Press and have been a customer for 25 years, but I do wish they'd get on the ball in aforementioned ways. Please do not sign my name.

Controversy Continues on Race Problems

David Lawrence mentions an incident in Montgomery stating that two white boys were arrested and charged with shooting a Negro. But why is the same type of reporting not made in other instances? The Pontiac Press reported a house broken into and a woman dragged into a field, raped and badly beaten. The article did not say that the woman was white and her attacker was dark. The woman said he was dark. Why are these things not reported? Why does our City Commission try to bar a record of arrests from the public? All should be treated alike and readers are entitled to facts.

★ ★ ★

The public has a right to know who is committing most of the hold-ups, robberies, rapings, knifings and murders in Oakland County and Pontiac. This should help all to be more aware of potential danger and would aid in the apprehension of criminals.

A Forty Year Press Reader

Bravo to Mr. Olds' letter to the Waterford housewife who feels sorry for herself and hates Negroes now that she's been offended twice. I, too, have been offended. In fact, my life was in jeopardy with guns involved. After the initial shock, I asked myself why were these Negroes so full of hate and revenge toward "innocent" white people that they'd grab the opportunity to assault us. I wanted to talk to them about it. Now read the newspapers and you understand.

★ ★ ★

We should all thank God for Negro leaders who hold this hate down and who teach control. The Negroes are not on an easy road, but it is right and they shall reach their destination regardless of ignorant protests.

Mrs. A. H. J.

Mr. Dean Olds stated that when God created man He may not have been white. Did anybody say he was? And he says America can no longer tolerate second class citizenship. If anyone wants to be first class he must act first class. Mr. Olds should watch and listen to people.

★ ★ ★

And furthermore, just who said white people bombed the church down south? Somebody has to keep things stirred up for Luther King and Mr. Khrushchev.

Need Second Steps

The New York Herald-Tribune

Senate ratification of the nuclear test-ban treaty is a victory for the Democrats, the Republicans, the country, and the world — provided it is followed by second steps.

Had the Senate rejected the treaty we would have appeared too suspicious, too faithless, too cynical to co-operate in attempts to slow down the arms race. We would have appeared too cowardly to explore short-of-war rules for the continued contest of wills between the United States and the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

In upholding the treaty the Senate has recognized that all roads to eased tensions are blocked unless we are willing to gamble with a first step. Speaking for the nation, the Senators have said they are ready and willing, if a safe way can be found, to engage in negotiations for a less dangerous world.

★ ★ ★

The treaty opens the door to such negotiations, and they will get under way at "little summit" conferences to be held on the periphery of the United Nations. Secretary Rusk and Lord Home will sound out Foreign Minister Gromyko on whether the Soviet Union is prepared to take the "second step."

There is no reason to be optimistic about an early agreement on that step — or even on what it should be. The Russians are hard negotiators. We have learned this from the countless hours and endless frustrations at the conference table since World War II.

The Russians want to exchange inspectors as an assurance against surprise attack. Our West German allies want us to tie such arrangements to concessions by the Russians which would permit the reunification of Germany.

★ ★ ★

The new stage of bargaining and arguing may go on for months or even years. We may never get to the "second step." But at least we have taken the first one; we have demonstrated our good will and our readiness to go more than half way toward creating a peaceful world. And we have done so without endangering our military defenses.

A Choice

The Memphis Commercial Appeal

Man of the street was overheard saying he had not made his choice of Presidential candidates for 1964, but he added it would surely be some fellow with no brothers.

Use That Belt

The Tulsa Tribune

Seat belts will be standard equipment on most new cars produced in the United States next year . . . Seat belt laws will be in effect in a number of the larger states by next January. . .

"We're not wild about the compulsive angle, but we are strong for seat belts. They have already proved they can save lives . . ."

The problem now becomes one of education. Any business that has installed seat belts in its company cars can testify that they are more sat-upon than used. This makes about as much sense as Russian roulette.

So the message for the new era of motoring is simple: When you find a seat belt in the car, don't just sit there. Fasten it.

Shocking Situation

The Times of Havana (Published in Miami)

The fact that free world nations are still engaged in trading with Fidel Castro's regime is disgraceful, and that the objections fall on deaf ears is shocking.

★ ★ ★

There may be some excuse for overlooking the sale of food and essential consumer goods, but there is not the slightest reason why the shipment of machinery and equipment used to build up the Communist military machine in Cuba should not be emphatically condemned. And such shipments are being made at an increasing rate. Perhaps there are some who can close their eyes to the fact that these materials are used to reduce a people to slavery and permit the strengthening of a brutal police state.

★ ★ ★

But the United States and the Organization of American States, to say nothing of the United Nations, stands for principles that respect the dignity of man and oppose the use of despotic attempts to degrade him. It is high time that we speak out for such principles in forceful and unequivocal terms, and move to take all action to express our disapproval and abhorence.

Cow Gets Moo-ched; Posse Out for Rustlers

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI) — A police posse was looking today for the rustlers who stole a big red automatic cow weighing 900 pounds and standing more than 6 feet tall.

The theft was discovered yesterday when a complaint call came to the New Jersey Automatic Dairy Service, Inc. Two repairmen went to the location of one outdoor milk dispensing machine and found that someone had carried the machine off in broad daylight.

Vote Almost Unanimous

CONAKRY, Guinea (UPI) — Conakry Radio said last night 99.5 per cent of the voters in yesterday's general election approved the single list of candidates presented by President Sekou Toure's Democratic party. Official results have not yet been announced.

Soviets Say Sea Monster Likes Dogs

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has its own sea monster with a taste for hunting dogs, Radio Moscow reported today.

The "Dragon-like creature" lives in Siberia's Lake Labynkyr and "has frequently been seen by local inhabitants."

★ ★ ★

"On one occasion, the monster swallowed a hunter's dog," the broadcaster, a student of biology at Moscow State University said.

He cited monster sightings in the west — including one off Brazil and in Loch Ness — and said an expedition had gone to Lake Labynkyre and will return next month.

In Over-All Cooperation With Russ

Moonshot Deal Is Just U.S. Policy

(EDITOR'S NOTE — President Kennedy's recent suggestion that the United States and the Soviet Union consider a joint expedition to the moon has touched off a flury of reaction and perhaps endangered his new space budget. In the following dispatch, a veteran UPI diplomatic reporter explains the background of Kennedy's proposal.)

By DONALD H. MAY

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is now conducting a "deep probe" of Soviet ideas on space and the moon.

The reasons behind it are as much political as scientific. They have as much to do with the cold war on the ground as with mysteries of the sky.

President Kennedy's proposal in a United Nations speech Sept. 20 for broader U.S.-Soviet space cooperation, perhaps even including a joint expedition to the moon, has caused a week of repercussions here.

Space officials have charged they were not consulted before Kennedy spoke. Congressmen have asked whether Kennedy was abandoning the moon race with Russia. Newsmen have been asking officials: "Did he mean it?"

Much of the week's confusion is cleared away if Kennedy's proposal is viewed as his own advisers view it—as one more part of over-all U.S. foreign policy regarding Russia.

This policy, spelled out by Kennedy in an address at American University here June 10, is to seek out all possible areas of "common interest" with Russia, to seek cooperative agreements as long as they do not reduce U.S. security, and in this way to try to negotiate away some basic roots of the cold war.

POLICY ENCOURAGED

The policy has been pressed on nuclear testing, disarmament, Berlin, Asia, trade, the "hot line" with the Kremlin and various exchange programs.

In all these the effort is to encourage any movement by Russia away from traditional self-imposed isolation dramatized so eloquently by the Iron Curtain.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara both have spoken of signs of a possible historic "evolution" in Russia in this direction.

Launching Americans and Russians together to the moon, or joining capsules and rockets, appear to most officials to be out of the question until the very last stages of any such "evolution."

★ ★ ★

Such cooperation would mean opening Russian military bases to the United States. This country has tried to keep its space program as separate as possible from the military.

But almost everything involved in the Soviet space program — rockets, launch sites, tracking stations, communications, telemetry and radar — are military systems.

FEELING WAY

But in a way that has fascinated U.S. diplomats as well as scientists, the two countries have been cautiously feeling their ways toward more limited forms of space cooperation.

Until two years ago Soviets showed no interest in proposals made through private U.S. scientists for space cooperation. The United States, meanwhile, went ahead with space agreements with many other countries.

The first apparent change in Soviet attitude came Feb. 21, 1962, the day after Lt. Col. John H. Glenn's three-orbit flight. Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev wired President Kennedy offering congratulations and adding unexpectedly: "If our countries pooled their efforts . . . to master the universe, this would be very beneficial."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy seized upon this vague overture. He shot back a wire the same day saying he would write Khrushchev later suggesting some "concrete proposals."

SPACE DEAL

On March 7, 1962, Kennedy wrote the Soviet Premier proposing five limited areas of space cooperation, which did not involve unveiling of Soviet secrecy. He offered to discuss "broader cooperation" later.

Of the race to the moon, Kennedy then said: "The tasks are so challenging, costs so great, and risks to brave men who engage in space exploration so grave that we must in all good conscience try every possibility of sharing these tasks and costs and of minimizing these risks."

Khrushchev replied in a cautious letter, consenting to talks on limited projects, and agreeing to consider going even further. But he added that many things could not be done until the question of disarmament were settled.

There again was the military secrecy problem.

Between March 27, 1962, and last August, Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and Soviet academician A. A. Blagonravov worked out agreement on three limited projects.

They were: Exchange of weather data from independently launched weather satellites; separate launchings of satellites to map the earth's magnetic field, and communications experiments using U.S. Echo II satellite.

AWAIT RUSS REPLY

The United States recently submitted to Russia names of Americans to serve on working groups to put these into operation. It is awaiting a Soviet reply.

During the negotiations Dryden asked Blagonravov if the Soviets were willing to discuss further projects. The Soviet scientist suggested one—research to prevent contamination of planets from space probes.

A meeting was scheduled in Geneva to take up this question. But on the morning of the meeting, the Soviets canceled it.

Then, recently, three extremely tenuous clues came ready to go farther. The first was a letter to Dryden from Sir Bernard Lovell, British radio astronomer, relating a conversation he had had with Soviet scientists in Russia.

The Soviets, Lovell said, did not attempt to speak for their government. But they said a considerable debate was going on in the Soviet scientific world whether it was worthwhile after all to send a man to the moon or whether landing instruments would be better.

★ ★ ★

They also told Lovell they would welcome an international discussion of this point. Dryden replied to Lovell that if the Russians meant this they should have Blagonravov discuss it with him.

Early this month Dryden met Blagonravov at a gathering in New York. Blagonravov said there was such a debate among Russian scientists and they were "thinking" it might be useful to discuss it internationally.

Dryden said that if they reached a decision to let him know.

★ ★ ★

At about the same time, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko told U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler in Moscow that Russia would welcome further space discussions. But it was not clear what kind he meant.

JOINT SITE

It was at this point that Kennedy decided to put his own views on record again in his U.N. speech.

Since then, U.S. Space Administrator James E. Webb has suggested one possible future step—selecting a "joint site for lunar landing and base of exploration," which would apparently not involve joint travel.

The Soviets haven't replied. Kennedy's speech must have given them some difficulty, however, for they still haven't told the Soviet people about it.

He Was Suspicious; Then She Spilled It

LONDON (UPI) — Edward Bailey, 29, was sentenced to six months in jail Saturday for setting fire to a car owned by his former fiance, Anne Serra, 18. He admitted he started the fire because he was jealous of the car.

"He became madly jealous," Miss Serra said later, "and accused me of thinking more of the car than of him. Then came the final row — when I told him I did."

Did New N-Reactor Fire AF Satellite?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A secret satellite — which may employ a new nuclear reactor for power — was launched toward a polar orbit by the Air Force.

It was not revealed whether the space vehicle achieved orbit. The Air Force, in keeping with its policy of secrecy, said only that a satellite employing a Thor-Able-Star rocket combination was fired Saturday.

Observers believe, however, that a compact nuclear reactor, called Snap, was used. A 21-month test of Snap by Atomics International was completed last Feb. 12.

The Atomic Energy Commission called a special news conference for today, and some observers expect word of the nuclear reactor to be released.

The reactor, developed for the AEC, weighs 200 pounds without shielding and is fueled with a uranium-zirconium hydride alloy. It produces three kilowatts of power.

American railroads spent $374,077,000 on track, locomotive parts, machinery and other iron and steel articles in 1962. This was an increase of 12 per cent over the 1961 level.

Expelled Negro in Mississippi Traffic Court

CLEVELAND, Miss. (UPI) — Negro Cleve McDowell, the expelled University of Mississippi student who was convicted last Saturday of carrying a concealed weapon, today faced trial in City Court on two traffic charges.

McDowell, 21, was arrested here yesterday on charges of reckless driving and driving without lights on U.S. Highway 61.

The former law student, who lives at nearby Drew, spent most of yesterday in jail. He was released late in the day on $200 bond which was paid by H. Y. Hackett, a Clarksdale Negro.

★ ★ ★

A police spokesman said the maximum penalty is a $100 fine on each charge.

Potato Record Peeled

FUNTINGTON, England (UPI) —Farmer John Cooke, who claimed a world record last year when he grew 350 pounds of potatoes from six plants, said today he has grown 391 pounds from another six plants this year.

Selfridge Runway Shut Off Repairing

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — A runway at Selfridge Field near here has been closed because a low grade mixture of sand and gravel was used to pave it five years ago.

A resurfacing of the runway, estimated at a cost of $450,000, is now under way.

The runway, closed to use by jets since Aug. 1, is pock-marked and had caused tire blowouts on jets, and loose stones have damaged propellers of the C119 transports.

Heel Wheels Designed for Those Faster Starts?

LONDON (UPI) — A pair of high-heeled shoes with tiny wheels on the heels went on show here today.

Chief to Visit U. N. Unit

OSLO (AP) — Norway's Army chief, Lt. Gen. Paal Frisvold, will visit Norwegian units serving with the United Nations Emergency force in the Gaza Strip next week, the army high command announced.

Diplomats Pin Hopes on Rusk-Gromyko Talks

By LEWIS GULICK
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.S. diplomats believe a meeting Wednesday night between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is the best bet among forthcoming talks for developing new accords between Washington and Moscow.

★ ★ ★

Rusk had a breakfast date with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home this morning. The two join Gromyko tonight at a dinner being given by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant. It was described as a social affair to be attended by quite a few of the foreign leaders here for the General Assembly session.

★ ★ ★

Rusk's private appointment with Gromyko was for dinner Wednesday at the headquarters of the Soviet mission to the U.N.

VARIETY OF TOPICS

U.S. sources said Rusk may explore a considerable variety of U.S.-Soviet projects, ranging from a consular agreement to cooperating in outer space.

★ ★ ★

This week's talks, which will include a Home-Gromyko lunch Tuesday, were about all that emerged from a meeting of the three ministers Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The 2½-hour parley—first high-level East-West session since the Aug. 5 signing of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty — was described as cordial but unproductive of any agreement of substance.

Gromyko was said to have talked about general, complete disarmament philosophically without giving enough details on the Soviet proposal for an exchange of observers for the Western ministers to judge whether it would be acceptable. The observers would guard against surprise attack.

For Rusk and Home, it appeared just as well that Gromyko did not press another Soviet proposal—for a nonaggression pact between the NATO and Warsaw military blocs. The Western allies have not agreed what to do about this plan, which is linked to the Germany-Berlin issue.

Meanwhile, U.S. sources believe there is room for secondary U.S.-Soviet deals on matters of mutual interest.

Trapeze Performer Hurt in 30-Foot Fall

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Francisco Novas, 26, was severely injured last night when he fell 30 feet from a trapeze bar.

★ ★ ★

Officials of the Ringling Brothers circus, said Novas was performing as a member of the Flying Gibsons act, when one of the trapeze wires caught on a hook and jerked Novas from the bar.

★ ★ ★

The performer fell 25-feet below to a safety net and then bounced to the floor. Some 8,000 spectators saw the accident. A Bethesda Hospital spokesman said Novas suffered chest and hip injuries.

Ex-AF Research Chief Is Dead; Served Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)M— Trevor Gardner, 48, controversial chief of Air Force research and development in the Eisenhower administration, died Saturday. Gardner was chairman and president of the Hycon Manufacturing Co., an electronics firm in Pasadena, Calif. He was born in Cardiff, Wales, and became an American citizen in 1937.

10 Victims as Reds Try Train Theft

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Six persons were killed and at least four wounded yesterday when pro-Communist terrorists shot it out with guards during an attempted holdup aboard a crowded excursion train.

★ ★ ★

The terrorists, commandos of the Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN), fled into mountainous country pursued by government troops.

Police later brought five male suspects and five women "material witnesses" into Caracas under arrest. There was no immediate indication whether any of the terrorists remained at large.

The six deaths included two guards who helped stop the holdup and four passengers — an 11-year-old girl, her mother, another woman and a man, all hit by stray bullets.

In another FALN raid yesterday, terrorists disguised as government troops were reported to have walked into police headquarters at Maracay, 70 miles southwest of Caracas, tied up the police and walked out with all the guns and ammunition they could carry. No casualties were reported.

JOIN PASSENGERS

An undetermined number of FALN gunmen apparently boarded the three-car special Sunday excursion train in Caracas and mingled with the 400 passengers bound for the El Encantado picnic area near Los Teques, which is 13 miles south of Caracas.

As the train wound through scenic mountains approaching El Encantado, the gunmen pulled out pistols and submachine guns hidden in picnic baskets and forced engineer Martin Rojas to halt the train in a tunnel.

When the terrorists started to relieve passengers of their money, a gunfight broke out between the FALN commandos and at least six national guardsmen assigned to protect the train.

Nomads Use Old Style

Dental historians report nomadic people from the Arabian desert today brush their teeth the same way their ancestors did back in the fourth century.

They use switches of miswak, a wild bush which contains baking soda.

Highest Army Rate

Kansas has had the highest acceptance rate for men called to military service, with 79.4 per cent approved, according to selective service.

Lack of vitamin A is believed a cause of night blindness.

Junior Editors Quiz on COLLIES

QUESTION: Where did the Collie get his name?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Collies are among the most popular of all dogs, because they are so faithful, alert and intelligent. They seem to have an especial affection for children, and make splendid watch dogs and all around companions.

The breed originated in the Scottish Highlands, where such a dog was called a "coalie" or "coaly."

★ ★ ★

This name is said to have come from the fact that many of the sheep which they were so expert at herding were "coal-black" or at least had black faces, and the "coalies" themselves often had black coats.

★ ★ ★

Their abundant coat of hair was developed to protect them from the cutting winds blowing over the craggy country.

After Queen Victoria expressed admiration for the breed, efforts were made to develop the collie's beauty — and the long nose, heavy neck ruff and variety of coat colors.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Our artist says he made this picture especially for you to color. Put a rich golden brown over the face, ears and neck coming down to the sharp point, and also on shoulders, main body and upper legs. Ruff in front, collar around neck, underparts, and lower parts of legs and tail should be left white.

Sure of British Victory

Laborites Are Playing It Cool

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Notes from the foreign news cables:

NO BOAT-ROCKING

The British Labor party is confident it already has won the next election and now doesn't want to rock the boat.

Therefore, its annual conference this week at Scarborough is expected to be devoid of fireworks unless party mavericks decide to press for clear-cut statements on controversial nuclear and nationalization issues. NEWSOM

Strong elements within the party would like to declare Britain neutral and to abolish altogether Britain's nuclear weapons. These same elements would push nationalization of industry much farther than the present leadership wishes to go.

BRITISH ELECTIONS

They must be held no later than October and June is about the latest date to allow for campaigning and such intangibles as a dip in employment or the national economy — both of which would work against Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservatives.

By June the economy could be expected to pick up again after any winter recession.

LOVE MATCH

After the recent meeting between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Yugoslav President Tito, West German diplomatic observers expect increasing contacts between Yugoslavia and Warsaw Pact nations.

They think a first step may be a visit of a Yugoslav military mission to Moscow.

Poland already has invited Tito to visit Warsaw. Best bet for the next visit seems to be Hungary.

Despite steps taken by Pope Paul to liberalize the Roman Curia, governing central body of the Roman Catholic Church, sources close to the Vatican say conservatives within the church cannot be written off.

The conservatives still make up more than one-third of the church hierarchy and are in a position to block approval on specific subjects as they come up for a vote.

Thus they are in a strong position to tone down what they don't like in the way of liberalization and to force compromises.

★ ★ ★

Pope Paul is moving to decentralize the authority of the Curia, which now is made up mostly of Italians, and delegate greater authority to bishops in their own territories.

SILENT PARTNER

Japanese Premier Hayato Ikeda dismayed many Japanese officials when he offered to mediate the dispute over Malaysia and as a result has been playing it down ever since.

★ ★ ★

Both the Philippines and Indonesia have refused to recognize the new federation, and Indonesia has said it actively will train guerrilla fighters opposed to it.

Since World War II, Japan has tried to steer clear of Asian disputes and Ikeda's offer seemed to violate a traditional role.

Ore Mining Is Verboten by Black Forest Town

MANZENSCHWAND, Germany (AP)—This little Black Forest resort is holding out—successfully—against the atomic age. Geologists are certain high grade uranium ore can be found near here, but Mayor Heinrich Wassmer, supported by tourist interests and nature lovers, has obtained an injunction against a prospecting company that staked out the area.

Tobacco is this nation's fourth largest export crop, with Great Britain the biggest buyer. Exports last year, both leaf and finished products, totaled some $500 million.

Wheat Deal With Russia Now in Kennedy's Hands

WASHINGTON (AP)—The big question of whether to permit the sale of wheat to the Soviet Union lies in the decision basket for President Kennedy, returning to his White House desk today.

Some high officials expect him to say yes.

The Russians have made no formal request to this country. But Soviet negotiators have been talking in Ottawa of deals for American grain. One report mentioned three million tons at $250 million.

Administration officials sounded out Congress last week on feelings about a grain deal with the Soviets. It is understood that there was some outspoken opposition. However, it is reported that the officials considered the burden of congressional sentiment to be in favor of it.

POLICY CHANGE

The government departments involved are expected to recommend a policy change to permit the grain sale when they meet with the President, probably Tuesday.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told newsmen in Cleveland, Ohio, Sunday night that the question would be resolved in a few days.

He said any proposal to sell wheat to the Soviet Union will include a provision forbidding its resale to Cuba.

★ ★ ★

One senator predicted over the weekend that Kennedy would approve the wheat transaction. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said it was up to Kennedy to decide the question on the basis of American self-interest.

"From what I see now, I believe that the President would decide to do it," Javits said in a television interview taped for New York stations.

Javits said it should be a single shot deal and not open the door to general trade with the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

U.S. officials are somewhat mystified as to why the Soviets need to buy so much wheat, when last year they imported very little. Their crop failure this year has been estimated at 10 to 25 per cent.

Lawmakers Irk Kasavubu

Parliament Sent Home for Disobedience

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)— Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu sent Parliament home last night because the lawmakers refused to obey his order to write a constitution for the Congo.

In a radio speech, Kasavubu said the refusal of both houses to discuss the constitution during the past month "would have led straight to the void" if it had been allowed to continue.

The president has summoned the Senate and National Assembly at the end of August in extraordinary session as a constituent assembly. After more than three years of independence, the Congo still has no constitution.

Kasavubu said members of Parliament, instead of discussing the constitution had allowed debate to deteriorate "as a result of confusion deliberately created and astutely maintained."

He said he would shortly call into being a special constitutional commission which "without the intermediary of the defaulting representatives of the people," would write a constitution.

The commission will include central government ministers and provincial authorities, representatives of labor unions, employers and of other groups, he said.

TO BE VOTED

The draft produced by the commission will be submitted to public referendum, Kasavubu said.

The conflict between president and parliament began more than two weeks ago when, instead of meeting together, the two houses met separately and elected their own presidents (speakers).

Testing sandwich recipes for the membership tea of the Pontiac Branch, American Association of University Women, are (from left) Mrs. Frank Voight of South Tilden Street, Mrs. Dan Carmichael of Wenonah Drive and Mrs. Donald LaVire of Wenonah Drive. The tea will be Wednesday at Washington Junior High School.

The Pontiac Branch, American Association of University Women, invites all college graduates to a membership tea Wednesday in Washington Junior High School. The hours are from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

* * *

The AAUW is an organization of more than 154,000 women graduates from accredited colleges. There are 1,514 branches in the United States.

One of the Association's major activities is to foster study programs on international affairs and domestic issues.

GIVE EXPRESSION

A complementary activity is to give expression to the conclusions of such study groups in the form of a legislative program.

The new public awareness of the vital need for more and separate facilities for mentally ill children is evidence of the success of such a study by the Michigan AAUW branches.

* * *

Pontiac AAUW further works to develop a program to enable college women to continue intellectual growth by offering study groups in cultural subjects.

Among these are art appreciation, painting, arts and crafts, books in review, foreign culture, religions of the world and rare books.

This year's study groups are focused in two areas, "The American Family in a Changing World" and "Occident and Orient."

SUSTAINING AIMS

Sustaining aims of the AAUW are to develop and maintain high standards of education, to strengthen fellowship among university women, to influence the solution of social and civil problems and to broaden opportunities for women.

Toward this end, the branches contribute to a fellowship fund to help brilliant American and foreign women scholars continue their education. Last year, 109 awards were made. To be eligible for an award, U.S. women must hold a doctorate degree.

* * *

There are AAUW branches in Union Lake, Rochester and Birmingham. Inquiries may be directed to Mrs. Donald LaVire, membership chairman, or Mrs. Donald McMillen, president.

Also assisting at the tea will be Mrs. R. V. Thurston, Mrs. R. P. Huttenlocher, Mrs. Arthur MacAdams, Mrs. Jacob Bowes.

He's a Mama's Boy

You're Kidding, Lady!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: When I married "M" nine years ago, his mother stood right there at the wedding and cried as though a judge had just sentenced her son to hang. I should have known then that she would never "love me like a daughter," although she used that phrase often enough.

ABBY

Fortunately my husband's boss transferred us out of town soon after we were married. His mother came to visit us, but up until this year we never went to visit her.

When we did, she put our two young sons in a large double bed, while my husband and I were given two Army cots placed at a 90-degree angle in a room with no door! Any advice?

"LIKE A DAUGHTER"

DEAR LIKE: Yes, don't go mountain-climbing with her.

DEAR ABBY: When a man offers a lady a cigarette, what is the proper procedure for lighting it?

Does the man light his cigarette first and then offer the lady a light? Or does he light hers first? I have seen so many men light their own cigarettes first and have wondered why "Ladies First" does not apply here.

* * *

Someone said a man should light his own cigarette first so that the lady doesn't get the first fumes of the match. Is that so?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: "Ladies First" applies here as it does in other instances. I would let the match burn off the "first fumes," then light the lady's cigarette first!

Besides, if it's cancer she wants, what's the hurry?

DEAR ABBY: Please print this and make a lot of guys happy:

"Dear Lost Some Blood:

"I wish you ex-Marines would quit trying to collect glory for doing what a lot of men in the other branches of the service did and took in their stride.

"Come on, now, the war has been over for 18 years. We all had a rough time. Forget it. The rest of us did.

"PACIFIC VETERAN"

DEAR ABBY: I want to let you know that I don't think you are an old fogy for not approving of affection-showing in public.

I am 15 and am going to have a baby in March. I wish my mother had been more strict with me in public and maybe I wouldn't have done so much in private.

Alpha Rho Chapter Has 3 New Members

Conducting the service were Mrs. John Borsvold, Faye M. Donelson, Mrs. Walter Bennett, Mrs. Elmer Thorpe, Mrs. Mary Wagner, Mrs. Tom Metzdorf, Shirley Friedley and Margaret MacKenzie, who organized the chapter and pledged all members.

Officers chosen by the new group are Mrs. Frank Jankie, president; Mrs. Remus Triff, vice president; Mrs. Gordon Poor, recording secretary; Mrs. Cervenak, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Eddythe Jones Hirored, treasurer.

Others were Mrs. O. J. Feiwald, Jr., Sergeant at-arms; Mrs. George C. Cook, historian; Mary Buick, publicity; and Mrs. George Alberts and Mrs. Carl Sutfin, chaplains.

Plans were made to attend the joint Founders Day banquet at Devon Gables Thursday.

The pinafore is back. Shown above are a solid wool flannel version and a transitional wash and wear plaid with pearl snap fasteners. Alumnae Club to Get Together

The North Suburban Alumnae Club of Alpha Gamma Delta will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Hekker in Franklin Oct. 8 at 8 p.m.

* *

Cohostesses for the meeting will be Mrs. Robert Lange and Mrs. William Westcott.

All Alpha Gamma Delta alumnae in the area are invited to attend the meeting.

Rites Unite Miss Lawler, C. Holstein

Rev. Winston Decker officiated at the afternoon nuptials of Sharon Louise Lawler and Carl Gene Holstein Saturday in the Deckerville Bible Church.

John Willis of Pontiac escorted his niece, daughter of Mrs. Daniel T. Lawler of Carsonville and the late Mr. Lawler.

With Karen Holstein, the bridegroom's sister, maid of honor, were Mrs. David McAfee of Applegate and Mrs. Garth Williamson of Deckerville, their sister's bridesmaids.

Fred Pearsall of Milford was best man for his cousin. Guests were seated by Douglas Griffith, Lansing, and Robert Armstrong and James Arterburn.

Mr. Holstein graduated from General Motors Institute, Flint.

The kickoff event is hoped to spur interest of women from all over the metropolitan area who will attend the colorful "Old World Market" presented by the International Institute in mid-November Mrs. Frederick B. Fisk of Birmingham is market chairman.

Mrs. Donald P. Else of Farmington, treasure shop chairman, will accept as admission a choice article, large or small, such as a bit of crystal, costume jewelery, old and new silver or a teacup.

Others who have assisted in planning the tea are Mrs. Donald K. Tyler, Franklin, Mrs. Edward L. Kennedy and Mrs. Forrest J. Hastings.

Area women presiding at the tea service will be Mrs. William H. McGaughey, Mrs. Warren B. Cooksey and Mrs. Harold C. McPike.

Mrs. David Balfour, Mrs. Robert Lapham and Mrs. Adli S. Yener of the area will assist as hostesses.

Miss Lawrence Wed in All Saints Church

Wedding vows were exchanged by Linda Carol Lawrence and Roger Bruce Anthony at a candlelight ceremony Saturday in All Saints Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman J. Lawrence of South Tilden Avenue were hosts at a home reception for their daughter and the son of the Kenneth P. Anthonys of Mt. Clemens Street.

* * *

A gown of white peau de soie with chapel train for the bride featured a long-sleeved basque bodice of Chantilly lace. Soft bows accented lace applique on the skirt. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a floral headband.

She carried white carnations and white roses.

* * *

After a northern honeymoon, the couple will live in Pontiac. The bridegroom plans to complete his studies at Michigan College of Mining and Technology, where he is a member of Theta Tau fraternity.

Shirley Ann Stafford Marries in Miami Rites

The Church of the Visitation in Miami, Fla., was the setting for the recent marriage of Shirley Ann Stafford of Miami and Union Lake to Charles Wendell Thagard.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. W. M. Goode of Miami and W. Jay Stafford of Golfside Drive, who gave her in marriage.

* * *

* * *

With Mrs. Carleen Klaes of Miami, honor matron, were bridesmaid Mrs. M. Stead of Tampa, Mrs. Donald Thagard and Mrs. James Bowman.

Best man was Herbert Davies. The groomsmen were Ronald and Donald Thagard, twin brothers of the bridegroom, sons of the Wendell R. Thagards of Coral Gables, Fla.

Don't Wait Too Long for Letter

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Several weeks ago our daughter became engaged to a prominent man from out-of-state. They plan to be married in the spring of next year. I have not met his parents as yet.

I suggested to my daughter that I write and invite them to our house so that we can get to know each other before the wedding. She has advised me not to do this and said it is up to them to make the first move.

I know this is the conventional procedure but if they don't write, do I sit by and do nothing? It seems senseless to stand on ceremony but my daughter says we will be belittling ourselves if we make the first move. Your opinion, please.

* * *

A: It is true that your daughter's fiance's parents should have called on you, or as they live out of the city, have written to you as soon as the engagement was announced.

However, it may very well be that they are not aware of this convention and rather than permit this oversight to develop into an unpleasant situation, it would not be belittling, as your daughter seems to think, for you to take the initiative and invite them to your house.

Q: A group of girls were invited to spend the day at a friend's house in the country. We arrived about 10 in the morning and left at nine that night. We spent a very enjoyable day.

Some of the girls think we should write a bread-and-butter letter to the hostess. I don't think this is at all necessary. What is your opinion?

* * *

A: As you did not stay overnight, a bread-and-butter letter is not necessary, but it would be very polite to write one after an all day visit.

Hair Styles to Be Shown to Alumnae

The North Suburban Alpha Delta Pi alumnae will meet Wednesday 8 p.m. at the Birmingham Community House.

Hair styling and a wig demonstration by Grace Scalia of Bernards will be featured.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Fred Bigalow and Mrs. Harold Lakin.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. David Miller, a bridge tournament has been organized. Three leagues have been formed, afternoon, evening and a couples league.

Proceeds for the tournament will be used for the philanthropic projects of the sorority.

Thank This 'Busybody' for Giving Her Aid

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR Mrs. Lawrence: A busybody in our church telephoned me to say she had seen our 12-year-old son and two other boys downtown fooling around with a parking meter.

★ ★ ★

When we asked him about it, we found he'd been swimming at the Y. But I know that this nosy woman didn't believe it.

It would be just like her to spread this lie and we want to know how to stop her . . . . .

ANSWER: How can you be so certain she intends to spread it? For that matter, how can you be sure that she intended to harm your child by telling you what she thought she saw him doing?

It's not so easy to keep tabs on what kids are up to today, you know. Once we could set them free on a Saturday afternoon, knowing the worst that could happen to them was falling out of trees or getting chased by Farmer Brown's bull.

★ ★ ★

Now, when Billy goes downtown, we can't know what strange man may invite him to the movies, what roughnecks he may run into in an alley, what temptations may lure him out beyond his depth.

We don't know what part of town his venturesomeness may take him into.

So when a neighbor undertakes to report on these unknown happenings to us, the question is: "Should I get mad—or should I say 'thank you'"

You, if I may say so, are thinking like a mother of 50 years ago—the parent whose world was inhabited by people she'd known all her life, whose hazards were familiar and whose children were fairly experienced in dealing with them.

In those days the neighbor who ran over to tell you that she had seen your son entering Farmer Brown's pasture might be regarded as a "busybody."

But today, is it really such a cinch to mind our parental business without help?

Wouldn't you want to know about it? Would you be likely to know about it if someone didn't tell you?

How about looking at this "busybody" neighbor of yours from the stance of 1963's world—and the not-so-simple, unsuspected dangers to which it exposes our children?

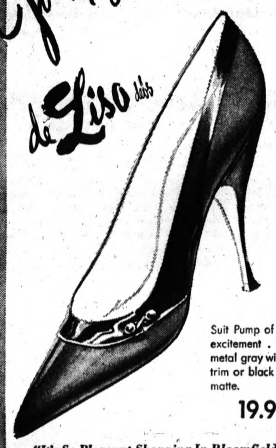

Normal Fabric Fights Flames

Now being extensively tested for several uses is a new flame-resistance treatment that leaves the "feel" of the fabric almost unchanged and holds up well through laundering, U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Oxford 1st Methodist Is Setting for Nuptials

MRS. SAMUEL M. LUCAS

The First Methodist Church, Oxford, was the setting for the vows of Thelma Stewart to Samuel M. Lucas, pledged Saturday evening in a candlelight ceremony.

Daughter of the Lawrence Stewarts of Oxford, the bride appeared in a colonial gown of white net tiers over net. Chantilly lace fashioned her bodice and the back panel of the floor-length skirt.

COLONIAL BOUQUETS

The bridegroom, son of Gerald Lucas of Stanley Avenue and the late Mrs. Lucas, had Clarence H. Smith for best man. Richard Heath, William Dee and Robert Lee were ushers.

DIANNE M. BRADFORD

A November wedding is planned by Dianne Marie Bradford, daughter of the Paul E. Bradfords of Homestead Street, and Michael J. Rooney, son of the Raymond J. Rooneys of Oshawa Circle.

Treat Porcelain Like Glassware

The glass-like surface of porcelain enamel utensils should be treated like glass. If food sticks or burns, pre-soak the piece before washing it with clean hot soap or detergent suds and rinses. Invite Friend in to Rearrange Costumes

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: Not even a skin-diver could dress on what I'm supposed to spend for clothes. My husband has just "reorganized" our budget — his word for paring it down with a meat-ax.

MARY FEELEY

This is so we can pay off some bills, and I agree that's a good idea. But as the wife of a young man on the way up, making $10,000 a year, I feel I should look reasonably smart.

And as we're coming into the fall season, when clothes always cost more, don't you think $400 a year for my clothes is cutting it a bit too fine.

Dear Mrs. T.: Not with what's already in your clothes closet. There must be a reason for this major operation on your allowance! If you've been spending more for clothes these past few years than the budget justified, you've probably got a backlog of fashion staples.

When families set up a logical, working budget, they can allow anywhere from 8 to 15 per cent of their annual take-home pay for clothes.

If your husband is using the low figure — 8 per cent — because he's anxious to get some of those bills paid off, then he's figuring on a $640 expenditure for clothes for the family.

If you're given $400 of that amount, he'll have to do some canny shopping to stay within his own allowance. If he's figuring on 10 per cent of the budget, then you're both sharing equally.

I'd say the time has come to take closet inventory. This is often a cure for that female complaint known as I-haven't-a-thing-to-wear. The treatment goes thusly:

Invite a friend over for the day. Go through all those suits, skirts, blouses, sweaters, dresses. Let her help you re-arrange those outfits.

Or throw the belt away and wear the dress as a shift—with maybe a touch taken in at the side seams. Plan to buy one new jacket for several skirts — the "sportive" look is just everything this season!

Change the neckline of an old dress, take off the collar, and wear an ascot instead.

In other words, what you need at this point is a fresh approach and a critical eye. One's best friend can usually be depended on to supply both — especially the latter.

It's also a good idea to select two or three outfits, put them away in a garment bag, and hang it in the back of the closet. A couple of seasons or so from now, bring these garments into circulation again.

If they have good lines to start with, they'll still have some fashion life left in them. And they'll seem fresh and new. After all, you don't need too many outfits in any one season.

Remember that profusion invites confusion—and that doesn't help any woman to look well dressed.

Believe me, Mrs. T., I'm sympathetic with your desire to look your best for your husband's sake. But keep in mind that a young wife who looks like $20,000 a year doesn't always do her husband a favor, when his bosses and his friends know he's making $10,000.

(You can obtain Mary Feeley's budget suggestion leaflet by sending a self-addressed, stamped long envelope to her in care of The Pontiac Press.)

Husband "too tired" for good times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamos day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

• What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

• Many doctors recommend augmenting the daily diet with nature's remarkable "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ has been established by official U. S. Dept. of Agriculture studies to be the most healthful food known!

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 30 nutrients important to good health, vigor and stamina!

• Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

• Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

• GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is the most healthful food known; (3) Your family will like its nut-like flavor. If you are not satisfied, just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carrollton, Michigan, for full refund.

Columnist Scans His Mail

Working Wives Increasing

By HAL BOYLE

More middle-class wives are now holding jobs outside the home. In more than half the families with income from $7,000 to $15,000 yearly, the wife works at least part of the year.

BOYLE

The average working girl is getting older, too. Half of the 25 million women in the U.S. labor market are over 40.

Here's why so many parents look up to their children these days: young people are about two inches taller than those of 60 years ago.

If Adam and Eve had played bridge in the Garden of Eden, they would still be playing without ever having drawn the same hand twice. It would take 1.75 sextillion years to play all possible bridge hands.

MARRY YOUNG

Men's fingers are approxiately 10 per cent longer and 20 per cent wider than ladies' fingers.

Our quotable notables: "I have no use for a man who lies in bed after nine o'clock in the morning."—Henry R. Luce.

The word "sincere" is said to come from two Latin words, "sina" and "cere," meaning "without wax."

LONGER LIFE?

Remember when it was being predicted that man soon would be able to live 150 to 200 years? Many scientists today doubt this is a possibility in the foreseeable future, but think that better medicine and hygiene will enable more of us to live to be 80.

Comedienne Marion Powers tells about the girl who prayed, "Please, God, make three times two equal seven—'cause that's what I wrote on my exam paper in school."

Many people erroneously believe miracle drugs have solved the problem of tuberculosis, a scourge through the centuries. Actually, it is still one of the most widespread human ills, afflicting some 50 million people throughout the world, and killing 10,000 yearly in the United States alone.

GI PRESIDENTS

Twenty U.S. presidents saw actual military service. But can you name the only four who served in two wars? They are Andrew Jackson, Zachary Taylor, Ulysses S. Grant, and Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Do we as a nation overvalue youth and disparage age too much? Henry Ford once said, "You take all the experience and judgment of men over 50 out of this world and there wouldn't be enough left to run it."

All's Well That Ends Well? Not for Lions in 37-21 Drubbing

SPORTS

Dame Fortune Helps Green Bay Triumph

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Dame Fortune, as fickle as a lady trying to choose a new hat at a bargain counter, rides in the National Football League. The champion Green Bay Packers offer proof, thankfully.

Frustrated much of the way by fumbles, pass interceptions and penalties, the Packers turned a fumble on an attempted handoff into a scoring pass play for the decisive touchdown Sunday in rallying for a 31-20 victory over the Baltimore Colts.

The Packers' big break came on the first play of the fourth quarter with the Colts in front 17-14. Quarterback Bart Starr called on Tom Moore to sweep left end on third down and four yards to go at the Baltimore 35.

Starr and Moore never did get together for the handoff and the ball went bouncing wildly backwards. Starr took off in hot pursuit. He finally corralled the ball at the 45, picked it up—and looked into the grimacing features of a half dozen Colts barreling down on him.

Somehow Starr managed to spot Boyd Dowler all alone near the right sideline at the 25. He lobbed a pass which Dowler hauled in without interference and the tanky flanker back raced the rest of the way.

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota's free wheeling young Vikings blitzed San Francisco with a four-touchdown barrage in the second quarter enroute to a 45-14 smashing of the 49ers Sunday.

In posting their second win of the National Football League season in three games, the Vikings chalked up a team scoring record. The old mark was set in a 42-21 win over Los Angeles two years ago.

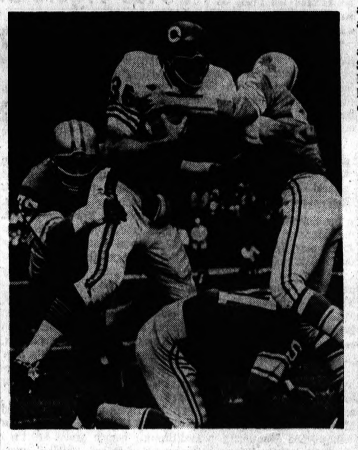

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—The Pittsburgh Steelers mustered a 17 point offensive in the final quarter on the running of Bob Ferguson and the toe of Lou Michaels to deal the St. Louis Cardinals a 23-10 setback Sunday in a National Football League game.

Michaels, who kicked field goals of 21, 40 and 21, also stood out on defense. His recovery of a fumble by Charley Johnson led to the Steelers final touchdown with the stocky Ferguson skirting four yards for the score.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quarterback Y. A. Tittle returned to action Sunday and so did the New York Giants as the defending Eastern champions of the National Football League trounced the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14 before a sellout crowd of 60,671.

Tittle, the balding 36-year old passing star who was sidelined last Sunday as the Giants were blanked by Pittsburgh, tossed three touchdown passes and directed the New York attack almost faultless fashion.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Ryan's passing and Jim Brown's running gave Cleveland a 20-5 victory over Los Angeles Sunday and kept the Browns unbeaten in the infant National Football League season.

Plum Fizzles in 1st Half Aerial Rout

Morrall Again Sparks Detroit's Futile Rally in Last 2 Quarters

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT—What was that guy Shakespeare thinking of when he wrote "All's Well That Ends Well." It certainly wasn't befitting the Detroit Lions yesterday. After all, they did win the second half of their game, 21-2, with a good ending against the Bears at Tiger Stadium.

The Bears changed the title around a bit to All's Well That Starts Well. They humiliated the Lions with 35 points in the first half and then dawdled on this cushion to win 37-21.

What happens now to the Lions who are 1-2 for the season and two big games behind the Bears who are 3-0 atop the Western Division Conference?

One thing may be certain. Milt Plum may switch duties with Earl Morrall when the San Francisco 49ers come to town next Sunday.

Plum, who really hasn't been the same since last Thanksgiving Day, passed for two Chicago Bear touchdowns but completed only three of nine for his own team, the Lions.

EARNS JOB

Morrall, who hadn't started a regular season game all of last season, but was the "winning passer" on four occasions with his relief duties, may have earned his starting assignment yesterday.

Plum was hopeless and the Lions helpless against the passing of Billy Wade who completed 18 of 34 passes for 219 yards and three touchdowns.

Morrall really did better than this as far as yardage goes. He threw only 21 passes and completed eight in the second half for 229 yards and three touchdowns.

But in the pathetic first half, Plum threw nine times and completed five, three to the Lions and two to the Bears.

EASY SCORES

Both Bear interceptions led to touchdowns and a third came after Nick Pietrosante fumbled on the 16.

The Lions failed to take advantage of Larry Ferguson's runback of the opening kickoff to the Bear 47. The attempt for a 48-yard field goal went wide after Morrall fumbled the pass from center.

A five-yard penalty was a big break for the Bears after they took over on the 20. It was third down and one on the 46 when Rick Cassares was stopped for no gain. This would have brought on a punting situation but instead a five-yard penalty made it a first down and from there Wade went into action. He ended the 80-yard drive with an 18-yard touchdown to Angelo Coia.

Another try for a field goal from 45 yards went wide for Walker and the quarter ended 7-0.

The Lions' respectability on defense was torn apart in the 28-point second quarter for the Bears.

Pietrosante fumbled on the 16 and it didn't take Wade long to capitalize. One play in fact. He hit Johnny Morris with a 16-yard

OL St. Mary Shares Parochial Lead

Rompel Romps for 25 Points in 3rd Victory

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Orchard Lake St. Mary survived a second - half aerial barrage Sunday to post a 27-19 win over Waterford Our Lady of Lakes in a Northwest Parochial League game.

The win was the third in succession for the Eaglets who are tied for the league lead with Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows a 33-0 winner over St. Michael Sunday.

Halfback Frank Rompel turned in a 25-point performance to provide the scoring punch for the Eaglets.

The 145-pound Rompel scored a touchdown in every period, and his fourth score came on a 95-yard interception run late in the final stanza which killed a budding OLL drive.

Even in defeat Coach Bob Mineweaser said "It's the best we've looked so far."

"We were slow getting started and our defense lapsed at times," Mineweaser added.

St. Mary took advantage of a short punt and a fumble to push across two first - period scores.

The Eaglets grabbed a 20-yard wind-blown punt by the Lakers' Terry Lilley early in the game and launched a 50-yard drive that ended with Rompel plunging the final yard.

Later in the period, defensive end Larry Bialobrzeski hopped

Musial Ends 22-Year Assault on National League Pitchers

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Man bowed out Sunday with gracious power—a prayer on his lip and two hits off his bat.

Before the 14 inning game in which the St. Louis Cardinals beat Cincinnati 3-2, Stan Musial stood with his head bowed as 27,576 fans gave him one standing ovation after another.

Moving to a battery of microphones before about 50 photographers and television cameramen, Musial said:

"I want to thank God for giving me the talent I have had and the good health I've been blessed with."

Then he proceeded to almost duplicate his first major league game against the then Boston Braves (now Milwaukee) Sept. 17, 1941, when he got two hits, drove in two runs, and helped the Cardinals 3-2, the same victory score as his final game.

FINAL MOMENT

In the sixth, Musial hit a run-scoring single past first base and left the game for a pinch runner.

"We wanted Stan to go out on a good note and that's why we lifted him then," Card Manager Johnny Keane explained. "As it turned out, he left after his second hit, drove in what appeared at the time the winning run. He left in glory as he should have."

Musial, dressed in street clothes after waiting 2½ hours in the club house to say good bye to his teammates, said:

★ ★ ★

"It was a great day and I'm grateful that I was able to do something well in my last game. We won 3-2 in the first game I played with the Cardinals 22 years ago, and we won again today by the same score. I got two hits in my first major league game, and two hits in my last game. You couldn't ask for more."

"It was a pleasure watching you play ball," Maloney said.

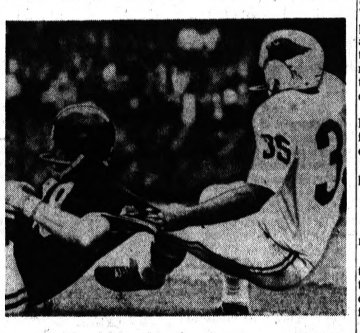

Musial returned the compliment.

Asked if he felt he had ever made an enemy:

"I've gone along in life trying to treat people as I'd like them to treat me. I don't know of any enemies, but I hope they are my friends now."

Among the dignitaries on hand to pay tribute to Musial were St. Louis Mayor Raymond R. Tucker; Missouri Gov. John M. Dalton; American League President Joe Cronin, National League President Warren Giles and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

New York Jets Surprise AFL

By The Associated Press

The sick man of the American Football League is showing distinct signs of life. About the only thing that would delight the men of the AFL more would be an invitation from the NFL to drop in and discuss a playoff game.

The ailing entrant in the new pro league has long been the New York club, which hit a point so low last season that the league had to pay the players, and the players had to walk to work because the bus drivers wanted cash.

One New York newspaper always spelled the team owner's name backwards, and some of the others wouldn't mention the fact that there was an AFL team in town. The fans weren't unhappy —there weren't any. It was so quiet on the field you could hear the halfbacks fumble.

Then came new management, a new coach and a new name, the Jets.

SECOND VICTORY

The next step was spirit, fan enthusiasm and two victories. Now the unfamiliar name of New York tops the standings in the East with a 2-1 mark, the second win having been scored Saturday night 10-7 over the Oakland Raiders.

San Diego stayed on top in the West with the only unbeaten record in the league. The Chargers, 3-0, swamped the Kansas City Chiefs 24-10 Sunday. Denver trimmed Boston 14-10 Sunday, and Houston whipped Buffalo 31-20 Saturday night, in the other games on the weekend card.

Coach Weeb Ewbank's Jets ran their record to 2-1 with the victory over Oaklahoma before an astrounding crowd of 17,936 at the Polo Grounds. The fact that the nickname of the Jets rhymes with that of the baseball Mets who inhabited the same premises may have explained the enthusiasm of the customers.

Anyway, they only had to change one letter on their famous banners.

Cotton Davidson drove the Raiders, 2-2 to the first touchdown scoring himself after a 63-yard drive. The Jets returned the touchdown in less than a minute, with Dick Wood passing to Bake Turner — both former Baltimore Colts under Ewbank — on a 51-yard play. Dick Guesman's 35-yard field goal won for the Jets. The Jets intercepted four passes and the Raiders five to stall other threats.

THREE 'BOMBS'

Old George Blanda brought the Oilers back from a 10-0 deficit with three scoring passes to Charlie Hennigan and Houston led winless Buffalo 28-20 at the half. Blanda's field goal was the only second half scoring, as Buffalo 0-3-1 lost quarterback Jack Kemp with a jammed throwing finger. Rookie Daryle Lamonica played the entire second half.

Eaglet Harriers Blank St. Andrew's Runners

St. Mary's Bill Donahoe led his team to a 15-40 win with a time of 10:53. He was followed by John Dzuiba, Bill Halvangis, Jay Hopkinson and Dennis Hackett.

Gerry Rosol of St. Andrew placed ninth.

Grid Showdown Set for Catholic Teams

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows and Orchard Lake St. Mary, two teams expected to contend for runner-up honors in the circuit, will clash next Sunday with the winner probably taking the title.

Royal Oak St. Mary, the pre-season favorite, has an outside chance of getting back in the race if FOLS defeats the Eaglets Sunday. The Irish have a contest with Sorrows in late October.

All three teams won yesterday. OLSM pinned Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, 27-19; RO St. Mary took Detroit St. Agatha, 13-0; and the Lancers from Farmington walloped St. Michael, 33-0.

The results left Orchard Lake and FOLS tied at 3-0, and the Irish one game back at 2-1. In a non-league encounter Saturday afternoon, St. Frederick was whipped by Grosse Pointe University School, 53-6.

Other results involving area schools Saturday and Sunday saw Royal Oak Dondero top Grosse Pointe, 13-0; Lamphere whip Huron, 19-6; RO Shrine toppled Benedictine, 25-7; Austin Catholic held Birmingham Brother Rice scoreless again, 16-0; and Ferndale St. James won its 18th straight, 13-6.

3RD BLANKING

The defeat of St. Mike by FOLS marked the third straight shutout for the defenses planned by coach Bub Webster. Quarterback Kelly Burke led the attack by sneaking for two touchdowns and passing to Dave Hamilton for a 25-yard score.

St. Frederick's lone six points at GPUS came on a Mike Murphy-to-Marcello Gallardo pass.

Shrine was led by Dennis Bienkowski who ran for two six-pointers and passed to Bob Peltier for another. Only a blocked kick recovered for a touchdown damaged a strong team effort by Brother Rice in the first half, but Austin Catholic punched over a touchdown and safety to salt away the verdict in the second half.

Passing Attack Sparks Lakers to Three TD's

A 15-yard penalty set the Eaglets back to the 50-yard marker, but Rompel carried the ball on two plays to the 18-yard line, and he scooted the finaly 18 yards on an end run to give the Eaglets a 13-0 lead.

The Lakers countered moments later behind the passing of Dave Sonnenburg who sneaked the final yard after a 60-yard march. The big play in the scoring drive was a 42-yard pass quarterback, Wes Borys.

The Eaglets gained a 13-point edge in the third stanza when quarterback Conrad Krogulecki rifled a 15-yard pass to Rompel for six points.

The Lakers closed the gap two minutes later following a razzle-dazzle play that put the ball on the Eaglets three-yard line.

The big play came on a pitch-out from Sonnenburg to Borys who tossed the ball 49 yards to Mike Anderson at the Eaglets 3. Borys picked up the six points on the next play on a burst through the middle.

The Lakers had an opportunity to tie the score early in the fourth quarter after recovering an Eaglet fumble on the St. Mary 48-yard line.

Borys and Sonnenburg passed the team to a first down at the 15, and on the next play, Rompel turned in the defensive gem of the day when he grabbed a pass by Borys at the five-yard line and scampered down the left sideline for the touchdown.

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Lesley treatment nor any other treatment is effective.

FIRED — Former Detroit Tiger assistant coach and recently the manager of the Baltimore Orioles was fired yesterday by the Orioles after the final game of the season. The team finished in 4th place 18½ games beind the New York Yankees. Hitchcok was offered a post in front office.

2nd Victory by McLain Has Tigers Sharing 5th

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Tigers finally won a game in Baltimore Sunday — and it's a good thing they did.

Rookie Dennis McLain scattered 10 hits as the Tigers downed the Orioles 7-3 to finish the season in a fifth-place tie with Cleveland.

It was Detroit's only victory in nine games at Baltimore as the Orioles easily took the season's series, winning 13 of 18 games. Detroit had a 16-2 edge in 1962.

But taking the series from the Tigers and finishing with nine more victories than in 1962 failed to save Oriole manager Billy Hitchcock's job.,

The Orioles announced after the game that Hitchcock had been fired and offered another job in the Baltimore organization. Hitchcock left immediately after the game for his home in Opelika, Ala., without accepting or refusing the offer.

The Tigers moved to a 6-1 lead in the fifth inning as Gates Brown's homer drove in two runs and Bubba Phillips' single and a sacrifice fly by McLain scored two more.

The Orioles got to McLain for their final run in the bottom of the ninth, but the youngster got Jackie Brandt on a fly ball for the final out to pick up his second victory in three decisions.

★

Graduation Near for PCH Eleven

By DON VOGEL

Midland was the latest stop, a 25-7 defeat.

And it has been as tough a route as any Michigan prep squad ever had to travel.

★ ★ ★

The Saginaw Valley Conference plays the best high school football in the state. PCH started the season with one of the greenest teams in the league's history.

And to top it off, the Chiefs have faced three of the top four contenders in as many weeks.

It will become four-for-four Friday when they travel to Flint Central.

Powerful Bay City Central administered the first lessons, 33-0. Arthur Hill picked PCH to start living up to its potential by posting a 34-0 victory. The Chiefs ran into the same thing against Midland.

The Chemics had been anything but impressive while posting a 1-1 record. They finally jelled against the Chiefs.

The PCH line, lightest in the Valley, more than held its own against the much larger Chemics. The defeat can be attributed to inexperience on pass defense and poor tackling on the part of several players.

The mistakes made while defending against aerials can be excused, but not the arm and "grab" tackles.

Midland quarterback Dan Jaster passed to end Ken Rowe for two touchdowns and set up a third with aerials. The fourth Chemic six-pointer came on a 77-yard run by halfback Bill Booth who easily escaped three Chiefs tryiny to pull him down with arm tackles just past the line of scrimmage.

LOUD CHEERING

The Chemics scored in every quarter. PCH fans in the crowd of 800 cheered like the Chiefs had won the game when Ken Seay swept around left end from 13 yards out for the orange and black's first six points of the season.

The first time they had the ball, the Chemics scored. Two passes a 10-yard run by Booth and another of 13 by Jaster moved the ball from the Midland 48 to the Central three.

On the next play, John Collins, a 150-pound halfback, ran over two PCH defenders on the way around left end to the end zone.

Sophomore quarterback Jerry Murphy started the drive by passing 34 yards to end Jan Anderson. Three plays later Murphy ran 13 yards after falling to find a pass receiver open.

Seay carried over on the next play and Dave Houts kicked the extra point.

Until Booth ran for his long TD, the Chiefs had held Midland to 133 yards rushing. Take away the 77-yarder that should have been stopped after a five yard gain and the Chemics would have netted only 54 rushing in the second half.

FIVE OF SIX

Jaster completed five of six first half tosses, but hit only the touchdown to Rowe in five last half tries.

PCH missed one other scoring opportunity. The Chiefs used up 7 minutes and 11 seconds of the second quarter while marching from their nine to the Midland nine before losing out on downs.

End Dave Edwards, tackle Neal Peterson and linebacker John Knox were impressive on defense for PCH. Edwards also made a nice catch of a Murphy pass for 15 yards that kept the second period march going.

Big Job for Howard

NEW YORK (AP)—If there is such a thing as a key man in a World Series, Elston Howard, the durable New York catcher, could be the man in the upcoming post-season struggle between the Yankees and Los Angeles Dodgers.

Attention will be focused on Howard right from the start. Ellie, along with Mickey Mantle, represents the main right-handed power against the Dodgers' left-handed pitching. And this Series shapes up as one southpaw duel after another.

Two of baseball's very best left-handers, the Yankees' Whitey Ford and the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax, will start in Wednesday's opener at Yankee Stadium. Another southpaw duel between Dodger veteran Johnny Podres and Yankee youngster Al Downing is slated for the second game.

The expected 70,000 opening game customers will be watching Howard intently the moment one of the Dodgers' seed demons, notable Maury Wills and Willie Davis, reach base: The pilfering pair have 65 of the team's major league leading total of 123 stolen bases. In contrast, the Yankees have stolen only 41 bases.

NOT CONCERNED

Howard knows all about the Dodger speedboys but if he is concerned he does not show it.

"They're good," he admitted today, "and I'm not making the mistake of underestimating them. But we have some pretty good base stealers in the American League, too, and they don't give me too much trouble.

"I'd have to say that Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox is as good a base stealer as there is in baseball today. Well, Aparicio tried to steal on me five times this season and I got him five times. He stopped trying."

Baseball people say, however, that runners steal bases on the pitcher, not the catcher. If so, the Dodger daredevils will find a real toughie in Ford, who can handle or in baseball. Downing and right-hander Jim Bouton, Manager base runners as well as any pitcher Ralph Houk's other Series starters, are better than average in keeping runners glued to the bases.

The 34-year-old catcher always has hit left-handers better than right-handers. He is hitting .298 against all kinds of pitching but is around .340 against southpaws. Two of his five World Series home runs were hit off Warren Spahn and Jim O'Toole, two of the National League's better left-handers.

The Dodgers may be without the services of their young third baseman, Ken McMullen, for the Series opener. The 21-year-old rookie pulled a hamstring in his left leg last Thursday. If McMullen cannot play, Alston will move Jim Gilliam, his veteran all-purpose infielder, to third and play Dick Tracewski, another youngster, at second.

Crowd Figures Lower for AL

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League, which had another close race, established a baseball attendance record in 1963. The NL drew 13,910,360 and the mark established last season when the circuit expanded to 10 teams.

After Sunday's final games, the NL gate total was 11,382,233 compared to 11,360,159 in 1962.

Government positions pay as high as $446.00 a month to start. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.

Southwestern Foe Easy for Wolverines

By JERE CRAIG

Last year Michigan was on the bottom of the Western Conference football race and never did score more than 17 points in any game, winning two and losing seven (1-6 in the league).

Saturday before 63,659 fans at the university's stadium, the Wolverines scored 21 points in the second quarter en route to a 27-16 triumph over Southern Methodist University.

The first meeting between Michigan and SMU (a Southwest Conference team) saw the Wolverines dominate play for three periods. Then coach Bump Elliott went to his reserves.

The Wolverines' commanding 27-0 lead shrunk quickly to 11 points and the regulars returned to stifle one last threat by the visitors.

POSE THREAT

The winners showed enough offense —driving 99 yards for the first touchdown of the season—to be definitely a threat for most opponents.

Second - string quarterback Frosty Evashevski probably moved up a rung in Elliott's scheme of action. He completed seven of 10 passes for 104 yards and one touchdown. He also displayed good poise and ability to evade charging linemen while looking for receivers.

The expected No. 1 signal caller Bob Timberlake was limited by a sore shoulder to kicking off and extra point booting (he made three).

Oakland County rooters of the Michigan eleven saw two former high school All-County standouts perform well for the winners.

Royal Oak Kimball graduate Dick Ries, a sophomore, was the understudy for O'Donnell. Farmington's Harvey Chapman, a two-year letter winner, saw extensive action also. Both players were used mostly on defense, Ries at an interior line position in the 6-2-2-1 defense and Chapman at left halfback.

★ ★ ★

Chapman carried the ball once offensively for a five-yard gain around right end on the last play of the afternoon. There were 187 high school bands in attendance, and they put on a colorful, musical presentation at halftime.

Bears Whip Detroit, 37-21

ANOTHER STEAL

The first play from scrimmage, a pass intended for Terry Barr bounced off his fingers and into the hands of former U. of Michigan ace, Bennie McRae. From the Lions' 36-yard line, Wade needed five plays. He hit Mike Ditka with a 13 yarder and it was 21-0 as Bob Jencks converted again.

Plum managed to get off four more passes in the quarter, before completing one and having the other intercepted by Rich Petitbone who went 66 yards down the sidelines.

With just 24 seconds left in the half, Wade flipped to Casares who went into the end zone to complete a 25-yard play to make it 35-0.

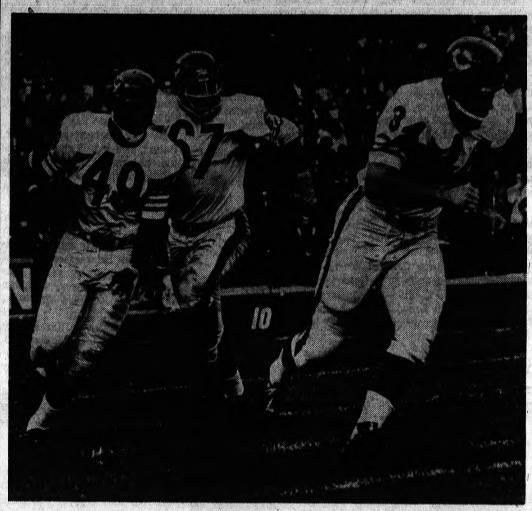

Morrall used the long bomb in the second half to excite the 55,400 fans. He had the ball for three series of plays in the third quarter and completed a 60 yarder to Barr and a 67 yarder to Gail Cogdill for two touchdowns.

In the fourth quarter he also had the ball for three series of plays, connecting with Cogdill on a 37-yard TD and getting hit for a safety on another occasion.

SPECTACULAR

The Cogdill touchdown was spectacular. The Lion end went up with Roosevelt Taylor for the pass. Taylor had the ball, but on the way down Cogdill pulled it away and when he hit the ground with it, the official signalled the touchdown.

The safety came midway in the 4th quarter. Morrall bootlegged the ball from his own 10-yard line when big Doug Atkins hit him. Morrall argued that he was hit in front of the goal line and pushed into the end zone but his beef was to no avail.

'Gamble' on Juday Pays Off for Duffy

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

EAST LANSING — It was a gamble (if we may use the word) but the decision of Michigan State coach Duffy Daugherty to use former All-Oakland County football star Steve Juday, an untested sophomore, paid off Saturday.

Juday, who was the Outstanding Player of Oakland County in 1961, wasn't spectacular but he was impressive enough to at least earn him the starting job against the powerful Southern California Trojans next week.

He completed only six of 18 passes for 67 yards, combining with Tom Krzemienski and Sherm Lewis on a pass and lateral for one touchdown, and going over on a sneak with another.

★ ★ ★

"He called every play," said coach Duffy Daugherty, "and he certainly didn't panic under pressure."

GOOD HELP

Of course Juday received a lot of help, especially from Hawiian fullback Roger Lopes who took the Northville quarterback's handoffs and helped the Spartans to 157 of their 332 yards rushing. One of Lopes' touchdowns was a 76 yard dash right through the middle of the Tar Heel line.

The kicking department of the MSU team also claimed much of honors of victory as Lou Bobich, a 175 pound soccer player from Carnegie, Pa., used the side of his foot to boot four extra points and a 35 yard field goal.

Remembering that the Spartnas whipped North Carolina 38-6 last year and still finished with an overall 5-4 record, Daugherty was first to comment that "we don't have any illusions of being a great team, but it was a pretty good start."

★ ★ ★

North Carolina had little to show offensively, but credit must be given the MSU defense. The Tar Heels netted on 30 yards rushing and just 84 through the air as their heralded passer Junior Edge hit on only 10 of 26 and had three intercepted.

After the game, Daugherty hurriedly raced home so as to watch his next foe, Southern Cal play Oklahoma. The Sooners upset the highly regarded Trojans 17-12.

The game with Southern Cal will be played Friday night because of the conflict with World Series involving the Dodgers on Saturday.

Oklahoma Making Comeback Bid

By The Associated Press

"We still have to improve in a lot of ways," said Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson.

Maybe so, but knocking off the nation's top-ranked college football team should do for a start.

Maybe so, but seven of them are with Big Eight opposition, against whom Wilkinson has a 93-8-2 lifetime mark.

It took Wilkinson about five minutes to overcome his elation after Oklahoma's 17-12 upset of top-ranked and defending National champion Southern California in Los Angeles Saturday, regain his usual air of caution, and begin pointing out Sooner shortcomings.

The victory, which snapped a string of 12 victories for Rose Bowl champion Southern Cal, was the big one on the Oklahoma comeback that started with last year's 8-2 performance. It made Oklahoma, ranked third last week, a prime candidate to succeed the Trojans in the No. 1 spot.

WEEK OFF

Wilkinson now has a week off to prepare his swarming Sooners for a date with old foe Texas, ranked No. 4 nationally before Saturday's 49-7 romp over Texas Tech. The rest of the Oklahoma schedule is against conference competition.

A fine ball control performance, engineered by quarterback Bobby Page, and two clutch runs by Joe Don Looney were the Oklahoma keys. Looney scored one touchdown and set up another, each with a 19-yard gain on a complex reverse play.

Arkansas, No. 8, was the only other ranked team to fall, bowing before Missouri 7-6 when Missouri quarterback Gary Lane put together a 70-yard third period scoring drive.

Second-ranked Alabama made its bid for the No. 1 position with a 28-0 rout of winless Tulane and No. 5 Navy beat William and Mary by the same score. Middie quarterback Roger Staubach had 297 yards rushing and passing for an Academy record.

Wisconsin and Northwestern, a pair of Big Ten powers ranked sixth and seventh in the nation, respectively, had to come from behind to gain their second straight victories. Wisconsin edged Notre Dame 14-9 and Northwestern lost the ball six times on fumbles and interceptions but managed to take Indiana 34-21.

Billy Lothridge threw three touchdown passes, kicked two field goals and three extra points in leading No. 9 Georgia Tech to a 27-0 decision over Clemson. Pittsburgh, sparked by the all-around play of Fred Mazurek, beat stubborn Washington 13-6 to uphold its No. 10 ranking.

WMU Surprised, 30-14; Northwood Finally Wins

By The Associated Press

Western Michigan went down in defeat Saturday to its only non-major football rival this season—Central Michigan —while Northwood Institute posted its first collegiate football victory.

The Central Chippewas whipped the Western Broncos, 30-14, handing them their second loss of the season. Last week Western put up a stiff fight but was eventually ground down 41-0 by Big Ten Wisconsin. Central has evened up its season score at 1-1-1.

Central got off to a fast start and never let up. Chuck Koons scored three times for the Chippewas.

Northwood of Midland routed Olivet College 31-12 in a home game Saturday to end the losing streak that marked its first football season. It was 0-6 last year and 0-2 this season.

Jule Mellon of St Norbert scored all three touchdowns as the visitors downed Hillsdale Saturday night. Doug Bickle scored 11 Hillsdale points on a touchdown a field goal and two extra points.

Hillsdale is 2-1 for the season.

Michigan Tech opened its Northern Intercollegiate Conference season with a 16-14 win over Winona State, at Winona, Minn.

Twice in the first quarter Doug King plunged over from the one-yard line to score for Tech.

The Ferris State Bulldogs splashed through a driving rain to drown Albion 6-0 at Big Rapids. The lone touchdown came on the first play in the second quarter — right after the team honored coach Sam Ketchman for his 10 years at Ferris.

The Kalamazoo Hornets' 12-game winning streak fizzled on a blocked kick and incomplete pass in a 13-12 loss to Eastern Michigan at Kalamazoo Saturday.

Wheaton, Ill., drove in with a last-quarter touchdown for a 19-15 victory over Hope College in a game at Holland Saturday night.

Adrian rolled over Alma 28-0 in a homestand Saturday night. Quarterback Tim Davies scored two touchdowns on short runs to give Adrian a 2-0 season mark and hand Alma its third loss of the young season.

Ex-U.S. Red Chief Browder Now Critic of Communism

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Two FBI agents called on a gray-haired, grandfatherly man recently, a trim little man few persons would notice in casual passing.

★ ★ ★

For two hours they explored his opinions on the background and importance of the Red Chinese-Soviet conflict. They took with them his written analysis of the ideological struggle between Red China and The Soviet Union.

"It was the first friendly contact I ever had with the FBI," said Earl Browder, 72, whose contacts with the FBI have been many.

AP Photofax

THEN AND NOW — Here are two studies of Earl Browder, once Communist party leader in the United States and now a caustic critic of the movement. As he spoke in 1936 (top), he was at the peak of his popularity. Now he relaxes in retirement (bottom) at his Yonkers, N.Y., home.

NAME SYNONOMOUS

To millions of Americans, Browder's name is synonomous with the U. S. Communist party. He joined the party shortly after its formation and guided it for 15 years through the peak of its popularity in this country, the 1930's.

The late Soviet Premier Josef Stalin ordered Browder's ouster as general secretary, the position of power, in 1945 for "revisionism." Expulsion from the party followed .

Revisionism — or "Browderism," as it came to be known internally — consisted of advocating coexistence. Browder argued that neither armed conflict nor cold war was inevitable. He rejected the basic dogma that Communism must destroy capitalism before the world can know peace and social progress.

"Khrushchev occupies today a position on the big issues in the world that I occupied in 1945," Browder said in an interview.

ELABORATING

"When the Chinese accuse him of revisionism they are merely echoing and elaborating the arguments used against me when I was thrown out of the movement.

"They did me a favor when they kicked me out. I have no hard feelings at all. I deliberately provoked it."

Now a caustic critic of communism, Browder characterized the party in the U. S. as a weak nuisance to America.

Kansas-born Browder flew high within communism after he first studied Karl Marx in 1919—while serving a term in Leavenworth Federal Prison for conspiring to obstruct the World War I draft law.

RED BACKGROUND

He knew former Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov and many other top Communists personally, went to China in the 1920s on a two-year Red labor union mission, lived in Moscow for a time, participated in world Communist policy conferences and twice was the Communist candidate for president of the United States.

Three times Browder went to jail—twice for World War I draft charges and once for passport fraud, a four-year term which President Franklin D. Roosevelt commuted after 14 months in 1942.

"I have no regrets about my past," said Browder. "It is a waste of time to think about it in terms of 'what if.'

"I think I had a useful life and certainly a very interesting one. It didn't prevent my sons from finding their natural careers in science in American life, although it did give them a lot of hurdles to get over.

Browder's three sons, all university mathematicians holding doctorates, visit him regularly at the apartment he has occupied for 27 years in Yonkers, a community just north of New York City.

His Russian-born second wife, Raissa, died in 1955 and he shares the apartment with his older brother, Ralph, and the 84-year-old woman who was the sons' nurse.

★ ★ ★

In his tangled marital past, there is a fourth son, his first-born whom Browder says he has not seen for many years. This son, a radio engineer, was born to Browder and his first wife, Gladys, who obtained a divorce for abandonment in Kansas City in 1959, four years after the death of the second wife.

Browder says he lives "a very quiet, retired life." He reads, visits friends, plays chess by mail with an opponent in London, and occasionally fills speaking dates at universities.

PRINCIPAL INTEREST

"My principal interest today is my grandchildren," he said. He has four and expects two more in the spring.

"I don't see anyone connected with the party and I haven't for 17 years," Browder said.

★ ★ ★

"I feel sorry for them, those who are still in. They've been trapped in a blind alley and don't know how to get out.

SOMETHING SAVED

"I hoped until 1949 there might still be something saved in that mess that might contribute to American life. At the time of the Korean War, I came to the conclusion that it was hopeless."

Browder contended that although he wholeheartedly embraced Communist dogma in the 1920s, he devoted his energy to labor and social reforms.

"I think on the whole that the party under my leadership played a very constructive role," Browder said, explaining that he never felt subversive or disloyal.

"We are getting socialism on the installment plan here," Browder said. "Goldwater is correct in saying this. He is only incorrect in opposing it."

★ ★ ★

Viewing communism as a hopeless cause in the industrialized Western nations, Browder said, "I think America is moving in the right direction. "We have a decent society in this country. Poverty is a peripheral problem now which can be overcome by a more thorough development of the American economy, just as the Negro problem depends on the economy for its solution."

The President Slept Here

By The Associated Press

Bing Crosby is trying to sell his $250,000 rambling ranch house outside Palm Springs, Calif., but Bing says the White House asked him to hold up any deal. President Kennedy wanted to use the 5-acre ranch for a weekend's rest during his 11-state tour.

Bing was happy to oblige the President.

"He makes a wonderful tenant," said Crosby. "I don't think it's going to hurt the resale value of the house to say the President slept there."

"There is delicacy in what one can say about a political leader in another country," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk, introducing Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson at a dinner in Cleveland, Ohio.

"When Secretary of Interior (Stewart) Udall was in Soviet Russia recently, Premier Khrushchev told him that he could shake his finger at him if it would help Udall politically back home."

Pearson, who accepted the 1963 Human Relations Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews at the dinner, replied:

"I don't mind the nice things Secretary Rusk has said about me and my country. And I will take the risk of being called a satellite of the United States because Mr. Rusk puts his hand on my shoulder."

Philosopher Bertrand Russell has announced formation of two foundations to develop "international resistance to the threat of nuclear war."

In a statement issued at Penrhyndeaudraeth, Wales, the 91-year-old pacifist leader said the foundations will "develop our own media of communcation — radio, press films, journals" to circumvent what he called opposition of the world press to ban-the-bomb movements.

★ ★ ★

Pope Paul VI granted an unusual private afternoon audience to Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, primate of Poland, as the Vatican Ecumenical Council resumed.

The meeting confirmed the impression that Pope Paul intends to keep in closest contact with the Church's situation behind the Iron Curtain. Cardinal Wyszynski is involved in a struggle with the Communist government of Poland.

"Have you ever seen a black Santa Claus?" asked Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. who is urging a boycott of Christmas buying to protest anti-Negro violence.

★ ★ ★

"You said it, preacher," shouted the congregation at Harlem's Abyssinian Baptist church, where the Democratic congressman is pastor.

Asked later if a boycott would hurt Negro workers, Powell said: "No, there aren't that many of them. And if it does hurt them, let it. Let them pay the price, too."

Rocky Tours Behind Wall, Restates U.S. Support of Berlin

BONN (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who made a brief excursion behind the Iron Curtain yesterday, meets today with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Rockefeller and his wife toured Communist East Berlin for about an hour by car.

* * *

* * *

"I want you to know, as one of the leaders of the opposition party in the United States, that the freedom of Berlin is not a party matter," he said. "The security of Berlin transcends the hange of political tides."

Rockefeller's passage through the Berlin Wall had its lighter side. A young East German customs officer asked him to declare how much money he had in his pocket.

CAREFUL NOTE

"Six hundred dollars," Rockefeller replied. The customs man carefully noted the amount.

The East German official also asked Rockefeller where he lived in the United States. This time Rockefeller also grinned. "Albany, New York," he answered.

U.S. diplomats had hoped to ease Rockefeller's passage into East Berlin. A chauffeur took the party's passports to the Communist control shack to have them checked so they might not have to leave the car.

* * *

The East Germans, however insisted on all the formalities and it took 11 minutes to pass through.

* * *

Three East German police cars attached themselves to the Rockefeller motorcade as it passed through the city in heavy rain. The Rockefellers never left their car.

"It was like coming out of a prison — a prison in which 17 million people are kept," Rockefeller said on his return to West Berlin.

"I was impressed by the desolate dejection of the city and of the people. You see maybe one car every three blocks and almost no people."

* * *

MOSCOW BLAST

"Daring to speak on behalf of the American people, this multimillionaire told West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt that the American people support West Berlin and its connections with the United States," the Moscow statement said.

"Rockefeller also went to the frontier between West Berlin and the capital of the German Democratic Republic where he made hackneyed statements in the cold war spirit against the German Democratic Republic."

Brandt briefed Rockefeller on the Berlin situation and emphasized he considers there is a need for more contacts between the Berliners on both sides of the wall.

* * *

Rockefeller toured the wall and stopped at Bernauerstrasse, stood in silence for a few minutes at the spot where an East German had died trying to escape.

Foreign Actress Eager to Play 1st Comedy

By BOB THOMAS
Ap Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—"I feel as if I'm 55 years old and ready to die," groaned Romy Schneider as she suffered under Los Angeles' hottest weather in eight years.

THOMAS

She appeared her own 25 years of age and vibrant with life, despite the heat that seemed almost to raise steam from the swimming pool outside her elegant, rented home.

* * *

The Viennese-born actress had arrived for her first Hollywood film, "Good Neighbor Sam," with Jack Lemon. It is her first comedy in 30-odd years, and she is looking forward to it.

"Work is fun; I like to work," she said. "It is only the preparation that is boring—the make-up, the hair styles, the costumes. Especially in weather like this."

"I find the comparision of studios here and in Europe is interesting," she said. "Mostly, I like the system here better, although in some instances there is too much organization. But the principal difference is that here the workers seem to care about their responsibilities to you and the production."

* * *

Romy came here as a teen-ager six years ago to help publicize a German film about Queen Victoria which Disney was releasing.

"Then I was with my mother and it was all work," she recalled. "All I saw were press parties, although I did get to Disneyland."

SOPHISTICATED LIFE

She doesn't expect to get to Disneyland this trip. Romy lives a sophisticated life in Paris, where her flame is French actor Alain Delon. She moved to Paris five years ago after achieving fame in German films.

* * *

"I left because they wanted me to go on doing the same things," she said. "No I would like to go back there and make a film, but how could I? I would be stepping down from all I have achieved in the last two years."

"It is sad, what has happened to the film industry in Germany," she said. "It used to be the greatest in the world; it supplied Hollywood with many of its great directors. Now the German industry barely struggles along."

* * *

Romy figures her career started to climb when she met Italian director Luchino Visconti. He launched her on the Paris stage and then in the episodic "Boccaccio 70." Since then she has starred in "The Trial," "The Victors" and "The Cardinal."

The actress seemed unaware that her semi-nude scene in "Boccaccio 70" created a stir in this country.

"I did not consider myself nude," she commented, "There are ways of doing it. At any rate, it was not easy for me. I had never done it before. But sometimes you must, when the scene calls for it and when you are working with a man of taste like Visconti."

"Now too many actresses are doing nude scenes just for sensation," she said. "I would never do that. Never."

Civilian Workers in Federal Posts Down in August

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of civilians employed by the federal government declined during August, probably because many students quit to return to school, a joint congressional committee reported today.

Employment during August totaled 2,515,008. This was a net decrease of 3,849 compared with employment in July which climbed by 9,149 to a total of 2,518,857, according to figures compiled by a joint congressional committee on reduction of non-essential expenditures.

Total federal employment in civilian agencies during August was 1,462,223, a decrease of 4,996 as compared with the July total of 1,467,209.

* * *

Total civilian employment in the military agencies in August was 1,052,785 an increase of 1,137 as compared with 1,051,648 in July.

Time Art Editor Dies; Was Son of Ad Man

NEW YORK (AP)—Bruce Barton Jr., 41, art editor of Time magazine, died Saturday. He was the son of Bruce Barton, honorary chairman of the advertising firm of Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborn and former Republican representative in Congress from Manhattan.

Ohio Publisher Dies of Heart Attack at 62

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—Claude M. Haswell, 62, publisher of the daily Bowling Green Sentinel-Tribune, died Saturday of a heart attack. Haswell had been publisher since the death in 1955 of his father, Alfred, who had headed the newspaper since 1899.

Wants Standards Raised

Adman Praises Newspapers

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (UPI) — The head of one of the nation's largest department stores said today the retailer's most important advertising medium is the newspaper.

The statement was made by David L. Yunich, president of Macy's of New York, in a speech prepared for delivery before the annual executive conference of the Gannett Newspapers.

Yunich, at the same time, called on newspapers to work toward raising advertising standards even higher to make certain readers are protected from half-truths and questionable claims of some businesses.

* * *

"Large retailers cannot afford to depend on the business which comes from people who may walk past their stores. This is even more true of those stores located in remote areas and in regional shopping centers," Yunich said.

GOOD, REAL ADS

". . . Therefore, retailers must invite people — they must attract people to their stores. The most powerful way of doing this for any store is through good and effective advertising in strong, interesting and widely-read newspapers.

"A vital newspaper, from the retail advertiser's point of view, is one which is constantly striving to keep pace with the pattern of living, presenting to its readers a responsible report of news and special interests as well as merchandise news."

Yunich said there was a definite relationship between newspapers and retailing and their contribution to society together is to help society flourish — to grow and prosper.

* * *

"We haven't yet learned how to succeed in retailing without really trying," Yunich said.

"But we have clearly learned certain ways to success — and the one formula that never fails is to advertise the right goods — at the right time — in the right newspaper.

APPRECIATION

"When we had to get along without this energy during the very costly newspaper strike, retailers in New York City — if they didn't already know it — learned how to appreciate and evaluate the force of newspaper advertising."

Yunich said that during the strike, some of the retailers turned to television.

"We concluded that its use has to be limited because it is a very costly medium," he said. "In order to realize a reasonable return, merchandise advertised on television must be quickly identifiable and represent conspicuous value.

* * *

"For this reason, we found that it could be used most effectively in major sales events for such big-ticket merchandise as furniture, floor covering and major appliances.

"We will continue to use television on the basis that two and one make three — it cannot take the place of retailing's dependence on newspaper advertising, but it may be considered as a valuable supplementary medium. The same can be said for radio advertising."

Vivien Leigh Said Suffering From Exhaustion

LONDON (AP) — Actress Vivien Leigh returned home on a stretcher from New York today, and an airline official said she was suffering from nervous exhaustion.

The 49-year-old actress is starring in the Broadway musical "Tovarich," which has closed for a week while it moves to a new theater. Miss Leigh had said earlier she would spend the week in Britain.

She arrived at New York's Idlewild Airport in an ambulance last night, on a stretcher, wrapped in blankets with a heavy white veil over her face. Two companions were with her and newsmen were kept away.

* * *

Jill St. John Certain; This Time, It's Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Friends of Jill St. John say she will seek a divorce Wednesday from Woolworth heir Lance Reventlow.

* * *

The 23-year-old actress reportedly plans to go through with the divorce this time. She filed for separate maintenance last year, but withdrew the suit a month later. It is her second marriage.

Vaccine Goes to Korea

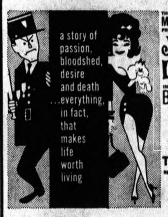

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —The World Health Organization is sending 500,000 doses of cholera vaccine to South Korea for use in combating an outbreak, the United Nations announced.

Now Why Didn't They Stop to Pick It Up?

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Burglars rolled a safe out of the Public Finance Co. office yesterday, stuck it in the trunk of a car and drove away.

Negro Leader Denies Race Forms Bloc in Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

NEGRO VOTING: Negroes do not vote in a bloc, says one of their leaders, Roy Wilkins.

"They'll vote for anybody who will treat them right," Wilkins said Sunday, and added that members of his race favor re-election of President Kennedy because he "is doing something for them."

Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was interviewed on a nonnetwork television program, "Youth Wants to Know."

Of Sen. Barry Goldwater, a possible Republican presidential candidate, Wilkins said there would be "great apprehension" among Negroes if the Arizonan brought into the White House certain views expressed in his book, "The Conscience of a Conservative."

REACTOR: What would happen if a missile-borne nuclear reactor plunged into the sea after a launching failure?

Atomic Energy Commission scientists are going to try a realistic test to find out. They will use a water tank inside a building on the Idaho desert, sometime in November.

A 750-pound reactor will be immersed in the tank and deliberately destroyed while the scientists watch from a test building 1½ miles away.

The test is to help determine whether the world's first satellite using nuclear-powered instruments can be launched as planned next year without any possible hazard to the public.

GOLDWATER: Sen. Barry Goldwater, in an apparent change of mind, has decided to make a speech Oct. 29 in New Hampshire, where the nation's first presidential primary election is scheduled in 1964.

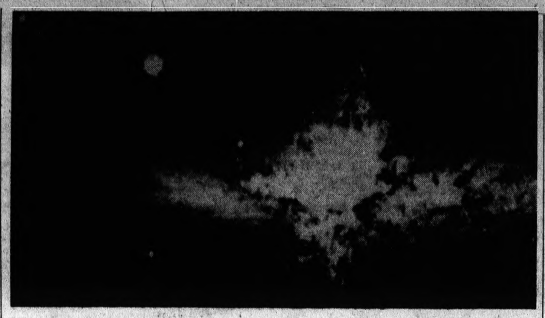

The office of the Arizonan, a possible Republican candidate for president, confirmed Sunday he is "definitely committed" to the speech at the invitation of Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H.

The New Hampshire Sunday News of Manchester said in a copyright story that the Goldwater speech will be at a dinner in Concord, the state capital.

SCHROEDER: West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder says his country would favor an East-West nonaggression treaty after some of the "underlying problems" are successfully dealt with.

Schroeder said the West should first discuss with the Soviets what he called peripheral questions and then move on to the problem of divided Germany.

Schroeder spoke Sunday in a recorded radio-television interview with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y.

SPACE EXPLOSION — The heart of a galaxy, 60 billion miles wide, is shown exploding in this shot from Palomar Observatory in California. The blast was set off 1.5 million years ago and is still going on. Material from the explosion is traveling 20 million miles an hour and has reached 60 billion million miles in space.

30 Days to Better Grades – XIII

Be Active, Questioning Reader

BY THE READING LABORATORY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Unfortunately, many students when they study don't seem to realize that books and television are different; they try to study as though they were watching television.

To make the difference clear, let's take a minute for review.

You'll recall that as we've talked about textbooks, we've stressed the necessity of studying in spurts, of overviewing for the main idea, of trying to get the most out of the maps and graphs, then of dipping deeper and deeper into the text until you're finally down to the smallest details.

This is work; it's an active thinking process.

But when you watch a television set, everything's done for you. There's a picture, sound and generally a light story. You can turn off your brain and let the television do the work.

* * *

Watching television is esssentially a passive process. There's nothing wrong with that. As a matter of fact, it's good to relax that way at times. But don't try to study that way.

Lots of students approach a book passively. They figure that if they have 50 pages of studying to do, all they need do is sit down, turn off their brains, and look at all the words. It just doesn't work. A book isn't a television set.

DIG OUT FACTS

A book can organize material for you but it's up to you to dig the facts out of the pages; you'll have to do the work.

If you work hard and actively, using the techniques we've been discussing — surveying, thinking using the techniques we've been the facts. But if you wait for the facts to come to you . . . well, it'll be a long wait.

The best way to be sure you're reading actively is to develop yourself into a questioning reader. Before you start, quiz yourself: What do you think you know about the topic? What do you expect this chapter to add to your knowledge?

During your first survey, try to answer the questions, Who? What? Where? When? Why? How? On the second survey, ask the same questions, but answer the ones you didn't get the first time around.

By your third chapter survey (the first sentence of each paragraph), you should have particular questions on the chapter to be answered.

* * *

During the rapid reading of the entire text, turn the first sentence of each paragraph into a question — just invert it — and answer it from the body of the paragraph.

And then you're ready for the details — ask yourself which details can you figure out for yourself. Which ones need to be memorized?

BE INVOLVED

It's not really important which questions you ask. (Some students find role playing very effective. If you were the Duke of Wellington, how would you attack Napoleon?)

But is is important that you ask questions, that you're active, involved and thinking.

When you're all finished, you can watch television and turn off your brain again.

8 From Area Lose Licenses

Bad Records Cause Action by Michigan

Eight area motorists recently had their drivers licenses suspended or revoked by the Michigan Department of State.

Ordered to show proof of financial responsibility due to convictions of drunk driving were William J. Nettle, 204 Second, Rochester, and Simon S. Olszewski, 248 N. Winding, Waterford Township.

* * *

Ralph A. Retziaff, 2559 Empire; David W. Sherman, 78 S. Shirley; and Lawrence R. Richards, 22500 King Richard Court, Birmingham.

'Cold War' Hits the Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — There'll be a coolness around the pentagon Tuesday for all the generals and admirals and 27,000 other persons who work there.

The steam plant isn't working.

It broke down with a mechanical failure sometime Saturday night, an officer said. That means no heat, no hot water and no hot food, just cold rations.

They're hoping the steam plant trouble will be over by Tuesday.

Abstract Artist Only 10

BRUSSELS (AP) — Abstract painter Carlito Sgarbi will exhibit 300 of his works in the foyer of the Belgian National Theater beginning Nov. 21. It is considered quite an honor. Carlito is 10 years old.

Doctors Fight to Save Surviving Quadruplet

Red China to Celebrate by Calling Off the Guns

LONDON (UPI) — Communist China will mark its anniversary by refraining from shelling Nationalist forces on the off-shore islands on Oct. 1 and 3, the New China News Agency announced today.

★ ★ ★

This will enable the coastal garrisons to "enjoy this festival," the agency said in a Peking broadcast monitored here.

Bingo Is Taking Over

PRESTON, England (UPI) — George Billington, leader of the 60-year-old Preston Brass Band which gave trumpeter Eddie Calvert his start, said today the band's future was endangered because all the town's rehearsal rooms have been booked up by bingo games.

New Names Given Streets in Africa

★ ★ ★

—Defectors May Vote

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany announced this weekend that all former East Germans, including refugees, living in West Germany may vote by mail in elections Oct. 20. East Germany regards former residents as citizens.

Wolves, lions and tigers seldom fight strenuously among themselves. But many meeker animals like rabbits fight to the death.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

High Blood Pressure's Meaning Explained

To some persons this may be the atomic age of the space age. To others, it is the hypertensive age.

BRANDSTADT

Hypertension (high blood pressure) is increasing, not only in prevalence but also in the number of factors that seem to produce it, or to be closely associated with it.

Certain tumors of the glands of internal recretion, hardening of the arteries, kidney disease, some kinds of brain tumor, and the toxemias that complicate pregnancy (eclampsia, etc.) may cause it. But in the majority of persons whose blood pressureis high, the cause is unknown.

It is a mistake to assume that a high blood pressure reading indicates heart disease or a poor outlook for the future.

A little exertion, a little excitement, or a mild feeling of uneasiness or apprehension will usually send the pressure way above the abitrary normal.

That is why, when your doctor gets a high reading, he is likely to have you rest for a few minutes.

Then, when he takes it again, it will often be found to have returned to normal, or at least to have come down to a lower level.

It has become a popular saying among doctors that the best way to lower your blood pressure is to take it again. When your doctor takes your pressure he will always record two readings.

★ ★ ★

The upper level, the systolic pressure, is that which results from the powerful thrust of blood into your arteries when your heart contracts.

The lower level, the diastolic pressure, is the level to which the pressure falls just before the next heartbeat.

LESS STABLE

Systolic pressure shoots up rapidly with work or excitement and comes down just as rapidly with rest or a return of calm.

The diastolic pressure is much more stable and therefore more important.

When it goes up, it usually stays up, and when it stays up this may be a warning that serious hypertension will develop in time.

★ ★ ★

Many persons whose blood pressure does not come down after a rest are still able to lead active lives and survive to a ripe old age.

HYPERTENSION PROGRESSION

In others the hypertension is progressive and may lead to an early death from malignant hypertension, the insurance companies have no choice but to raise the premiums on all persons with a high or even an unstable blood pressure.

In addition to the factors already mentioned, heredity may play a part in high blood pressure.

Women show a greater tendency to high blood pressure than men, but they seem to tolerate it more readily.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

It is always bad luck when you lose a game or slam because of a bad break in trumps, but it is bad play when you fail to guard against the bad break.

JACOBY

South's six-spade contract was reasonable indeed. He only needed a 3-2 break in trumps and a 5-1 break in clubs to make all 13 tricks. South won the opening heart lead with dummy's ace. He led a trump to his king and a second trump to dummy's queen. East showed out and the fat was in the fire. South could not make his slam any more, in fact he could not even make five-odd. He played two more rounds of trumps in the vain hope that West did not hold a second heart to lead to his partner, but West had that second heart.

South commented that he had guarded against finding four trumps in the East hand. He had done that all right. If East held four trumps he would have been able to finesse against the jack and make all the tricks, but South could have guarded against any 4-1 break.

All he had to do was play his ace and king of trumps. East would have shown out, but South would be in no trouble at all. He would simply have started on the club suit and discarded his two hearts on the second and third club leads. West could have trumped in then or waited while more clubs were played, but the result would have been the same. Whenever West trumped he would have had to let declarer in and the queen of trumps would be an entry for the rest of dummy's clubs.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Tuesday

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Start new month by shaking off lethargy. Pursue unusual methods. Utilize strength on your side. You emerge winner if you take DEFINITE ACTION.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Seek basic changes. Accept suggestions offered by one of opposite sex. Highlight creativity and new ideas. BE THE LEADER. Strive for greater independence.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Home, harmony, domestic adjustment are key points. Please family and act for greater happiness at home. Consideration and simple word of encouragement help. Don't hesitate!

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Fine day if you are realistic. See things as they exist. Avoid self-deception. Good lunar aspect spotlights correspondence, travel, fulfillment of ideals.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 21): You asked for greater opportunity and responsibility. Now, you are on the way! Be sure you are prepared and in proper frame of mind. Have a quiet talk with associate.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Reports vary. You find yourself not knowing which side to believe. Best course is conservative one. Don't become involved and suffer needless embarrassment. FINISH WHAT YOU START.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Check details. Then "break away" toward greater freedom. Romance seems "in the air." You could learn secret of one close to you. Be sympathetic and considerate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21). Favorable lunar aspect highlights love, creative endeavors . . . recognition of what you "really" need. Day for truth, self-understanding, sincerity. Reject FALSE modesty.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Expand. Be versatile and confident. You are attractive, capable of winning your way. Act in assured, amiable manner. New friends can be guideposts to future success.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Attend to details now "in person." Leaving minor tasks to others could be costly mistake. Check routine, directions. Use care while traveling. Be THOROUGH.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Surprises due, including visits. Time to be out-going. Accept invitations. Entertain and be entertained. Avoid extravagance. Stress should be on SIMPLICITY.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Spotlight the UNUSUAL. Encourage associates to be imaginative. Utilize your own sensitivity to detect talent, hidden meanings, opportunities. Cycle continues high.

★ ★ ★

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you are independent, very idealistic . . . as extremely intriguing individual!

★ ★ ★

Dull Day of Trading

Chief Stocks Shrinkle Slightly

NEW YORK (AP) — Blue chips sagged and the stock market declined in dull trading early this afternoon.

Losses of fractions to about a point were the general rule for most key stocks.

* * *

The market was steady at the start but soon began to soften. Prices eroded gradually as the session wore on.

The background of business news and comment seemed unusually bright but some analysts believed that the market might "run counter to business" for a while as consolidation continued.

The trend was lower among motors, rails, aerospace issues, nonferrous metals, drugs, chemicals and airlines. Rubbers and tobaccos were ahead on balance.

* * *

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .5 at 277.3 with industrials off .9, rails off .3 and utilities up .2.

American Smelting was down about 2 and Jersey Standard a full point. Ford and General Motors lost nearly a point each. Chrysler erased an early 1-point gain.

Prices were mixed in moderately active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Area Man Dies in Well Cave-In

Was Digging by Cabin in Alcona County

Charles Thompson, 37, of 3071 Airport, Waterford Township, died yesterday when a well he was digging near his cabin in Alcona County caved in.

Thompson was 20 to 25 feet below the surface when the cave-in occurred at 4:30 p.m. yesterday. The body was recovered at 12:15 a.m. today by volunteer firemen from the area and Alcona County sheriff's deputies.

Rescue workers said Thompson was digging the well with a hand shovel. The sand was being hauled up in a bucket.

★ ★ ★

The cabin is located in Mikado Township, about 40 miles south of Alpena. Thompson had been vacationing there over the weekend with his family, according to sheriff's officers.

The body was taken to Gillies Funeral Home in nearby Lincoln. It will be sent today to the Coats Funeral Home, 3141 Sashabaw, Waterford Township.

3 Face Court in Dope Case

They are John Brown, 20; Donald Holden, 24; and Harry Givens, 34.

The three were bound over to the higher court after waiving a preliminary examination Saturday before Waterford Township Justice Patrick K. Daly.

State police arrested them Friday night on charges of purchasing a cough syrup containing codeine and then signing ficticious names and addresses.

Two other men who were in the car when it was stopped by police on the Dixe — Jerry Williams, 24, and Barry McClendon, 30 — were released by police after questioning.

Givens, Brown and Holden were returned to jail after failing to meet $2,500 bonds each.

Men Trying to Learn How Animals Talk

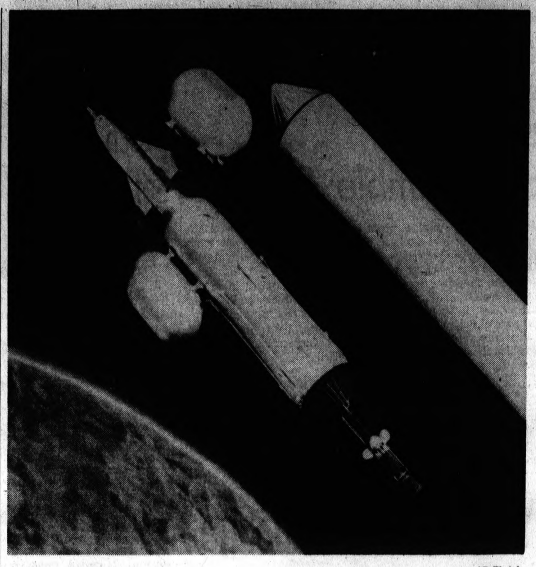

STELLENBOSCH, South Africa (AP)—What animals have to say to each other and how they go about it is being studied by the Department of Nature Conservation here, working with the Bio-Acoustic Institute of the South African National Parks Board.

The Bio - Acoustic Institute records on tape as many animal noises as possible, then edits and classifies the tapes to interpret the noises.

The recordings also are played back to the animals in order to study their reactions.

Observers point out that noise, although the most significant, is not an animal's only means of communication with fellow animals.

Facial expressions and certain body movements and attitudes also probably have meaning.

Gripes in Carson City

They Threw in Sponge

CARSON CITY (AP) — A mass resignation, citing various personal harassments, has cost this Montcalm County community of 1,200 persons its City Council and its one-man police force.

The action followed a special meeting Friday night when the councilmen were persuaded to stay on until a special election could be held. City Attorney Karl Mikko said the earliest date was 45 days off.

Also quitting was Don Struble, Carson City's one-man police force who had been on the job only one month and was the city's fourth police officer in the last two years.

Councilmen said they had been subject to harassment by residents at their homes, on the street and at their business places with complaints ranging from stray dogs, speeding cars and closing hours at the city dump.

Struble also claimed he had received many abusive telephone calls and post cards.

Reverse Bank Run: Poles Put Money In

GM Division Fire Draws Large Crowd

Fire Chief William Van Hulle said the fire apparently was touched off by a small explosion among chemicals stored in the building.

4 Train Crewmen Hurt as Ohio Freight Derails

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Four crewmen were hurt last night, one seriously, when a Detroit, Toledo & Ironton freight train derailed southwest of this Ross County community.

3-Car Crash in Holly Twp. Hurts Woman

A Milford woman was hospitalized last night following a three-car collision at Milford and Holly roads in Holly Township.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Doris E. Berry, 45, of Michigan Center.

Kennedy Finds He's Just Name to Post Office

The White House said the mail finally got through to the President at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

Seven Drown in Canal Crash

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Seven youths were drowned Sunday night when their automobile failed to negotiate a curve, slammed through a steel fence and plunged into a shipping canal.

★ ★ ★

The tangled bodies of six were found inside the car, and a seventh body was raised by divers this morning. The car was raised from the Black Rock Canal by police and fire wreckers after its headlights were seen shining in the water.

The seventh body was identified as that of John Sabadsz, Buffalo.

The other dead, all of Buffalo, were Thomas Lucenti, 19; Thomas Clifford, 17; Richard Zawiscowski, 17; Robert J. Ziolo, 17; Daniel Górski, 17, and John H. Hryhoroic, 16.

Injury Is Possible in Fall From Auto

A 20-year-old Pontiac woman suffered possible pelvic injuries when she fell out of a car traveling south on Baldwin at about 30 miles per hour last night.

★ ★ ★

Joy McCullough, 57 Tregent, was a passenger in a car driven by her brother Larry, 24, when she leaned against the door handle and the door flew open, police said.

★ ★ ★

Fidel: Don't Rely Too Much on Russia

HAVANA (AP)—Cubans appreciate Soviet aid but they must not rely on it too heavily, says Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

He called on his countrymen to work harder so Cuba can cut back on Soviet aid and ease a $100-million balance of payments deficit to the Russians.

★ ★ ★

Castro made the plea in a rambling outdoor address Saturday night in which he again unleashed a broad attack on the United States.

A mysterious explosion interrupted Castro at one point, but the Cuban leader remained unruffled. "Don't worry," he told the throng. "It doesn't matter if it is a bomb."

MONTREAL (AP)—Shippers expressed concern today that shipment of 60 million bushels of Canadian wheat to the Soviet Union may be delayed by a strike threat of stevedores in St. Lawrence River ports.

★ ★ ★

The longshoremen voted Sunday to stop work Friday if there is no agreement in their wage dispute with shipowners.

Members of the International Longshoremen's Association rejected the shippers' offer of a 22-cent-an-hour wage increase over two years. Their present scale is $2.33 an hour plus 29 cents in fringe benefits.

GIESSEN, Germany (AP) — Three members of Communist Germany's Parliament are visiting West Germany for what is described as private contacts with West German politicians.

★ ★ ★

The meeting is believed to be the first between politicians of the two Germanys since the Communists built the Berlin wall more than two years ago.

★ ★ ★

The three were invited by the Liberal Students League, an organization affiliated with the Free Democratic party, coalition partner in Chancellor Adenauer's government.

BREMEN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats have picked up nine seats in the 100-member Bremen State legislature, but the Socialists continue in control of West Germany's smallest state.

The Socialist victory in Sunday's balloting was expected. Led by popular, 76-year-old Wilhelm Kaisen, they have been in control since 1945.

Controllers at Odds on Figures

Detroit Tax Loss Stirs Row

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's city controller and the Michigan State controller disagree over the amount of money Detroit stands to lose in Gov. George Romney's tax reform program.

Each says the other figures wrongly.

State Controller Glenn Allen Jr. said Saturday that Detroit officials had made an error and their estimate of potential revenue losses under Romney's program should have been $7.75 million instead of $10 million.

Detroit Controller Alfred M. Pelham replied that the city would lose at least $9.5 million—$4.25 million because it no longer would be permitted to tax the income of corporations and $5.25 million because it would have to cut in half its 1 per cent tax on income earned in Detroit by non-residents.

Allen said Detroit officials had estimated they would lose $2.25 million in taxes paid by Detroit residents working outside the city — when actually they wouldn't lose a dime from that source.

Detroit, which collects $35 million a year in income taxes, now takes in $4.5 million from residents working outside the city.

"The only way Detroit could lose any of this $4.5 million would be for the cities in which Detroit residents work to enact income taxes of their own," Allen said.

★ ★ ★

Then, under Romney's program, Detroit would have to cut in half its taxes on income earned outside the city by Detroit residents.

If that happened, Pelham said, "then Detroit would lose another $2.25 million, or a total of $11.75 million."

BEATING THE HEAT — With temperatures in downtown Los Angeles soaring over 100 degrees during the weekend, for the fifth straight day, scenes like this were commonplace on Southern California beaches. The weatherman predicted a cooling trend today, with the mercury diving to the 90's.

Down to 93 Degrees

California Cooling Off

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After five days as the hottest spot in the nation, Southern California today slipped, sighing and gasping, back into autumn.

Sunday it was 102 downtown. The predicted high today: 93.

By Tuesday, said the forecaster, the mercury should rise only into the low 80's, about normal for this time of year.

The crack in the blazing September heatwave appeared Sunday night. It came as moist sea air drifted foggily across the coast—driving before it hundreds of city dwellers who had fled bake-oven bedrooms to sleep on the beaches.

AROUND TOWN

Across the city, residents sniffed the cool, marine air, sighed happily, and rummaged for long-discarded bedcovers.

It was the end to the second longest heatwave on record in Southern California. In 1955 the mercury pushed past the 100 mark six days in a row.

For most people, five was enough.

For Elmer E. McClelland, 62, it was one day too long.

He went to sleep Saturday night on the diving board of his backyard swimming pool in Sepulveda, a San Fernando Valley suburb.

Sunday morning his wife, Shirley, found Mm dead, floating in the pool. Police theorized that he had rolled over in his sleep.

In San Diego Edward L. Windgrove, 76, of La Jolla, went for an early morning swim Sunday at Pacific Beach to escape the warmth. A surfboarder found him drowned, a half-hour later.

MINOR MARTYRS

The heat made minor martyrs of millions.

A crowd of 39,345 loyal fans turned out Saturday to watch the University of Southern California lose a 17-12 football game to the Oklahoma Sooners in the 117-degree Memorial Coliseum. Eighty fans were treated for heat prostration.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of students suffered through long hours in sweltering classes. At Hollywood and Van Nuys high schools last week, the pupils revolted. Principals talked the rebellious teen-agers into going back to class.

About half the city's schools closed early Friday. The city school system, after talking to the Weather Bureau, had a forecast of its own: "Back to school."

Lifeguards worked overtime on beaches swept by the 100-degree-plus winds that scorched the city. Six hundred thousand persons, seeking the solace of the 72-degree sea, jammed the Los Angeles County shoreline Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Then the Santa Ana winds—the scorching breezes which blow from the desert to the sea—suddenly stopped. The usual autumnal flow of cool, ocean air flowed in again.

At midnight the mercury in Los Angeles was down to 72—the coolest it had been in almost a week. At midnight the night before it had been 87.

Light Side of the News, Star on Comeback Trail

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — June Allyson weighs 86 pounds these days—in her heavier jewelery, in a new Scassi gown and with her shoes on, maybe 90 pounds. She's so thin that she greets visitors in her hotel suite here saying, gripping her slacks, "Pardon me, if I have to hold my pants up.

WILSON

"I'm beginning to feel better," she says. "I find I can smile again."

Still affected by Dick Powell's death ("Daddy went away on the second of January"), she's nevertheless singing and dancing on the Perry Como TV show, and did the same taping Judy Garland's first show—as she did when a youngster on Broadway.

Joe E. Lewis told Tina Robin and other Copacabana customers: "I've just been to a milk farm —now I know why kids are so nasty. Did you ever try drinking skimmed whisky?"

"Celebrity Corner" — 53rd and Broadway — is throbbing now that Jackie Gleason's taping again. Seen lounging there: Horace McMahon, Frank Fontaine, Danny Dayton. Comic Sid Fields said he and other baldies have adopted a new attitude about baldness: "We're not bald; the rest of the world is hairy." Mrs. Rudy Vallee told 'em at Malmaison that after the honeymoon, she told Rudy, "Either I've grown taller or you've grown shorter." Rudy answered: "I wore elevator shoes when courting you. But now, to hell with 'em."

The Robert Prestons, recently estranged, dined cozily at Danny's Hideaway . . . Art Ford's becoming a producer with American Film Distributors; explains giving up his night radio show, "My bride didn't want me to work nights." Oldtimers Slug It Out

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Henry Gibson, charged with breach of peace, and John Hill, charged with malicious striking, were summoned to police court today.

Patrolman Harry Robinson said he halted a brawl between the two men Sunday at a private home but the two broke away and started the fight again.

Robinson said Gibson, 87, and Hill, 94, were beating each other with walking canes. Gibson was treated for a scalp cut.

Peace Corps Adviser Defended by Shriver

WASHINGTON (UPI) Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., has urged the Peace Corps to remove from its national advisory council a Presbyterian minister who allegedly has a record of past activity with Communist front groups.

But Peace Corps Director R. Sargent Shriver Jr. rejected the request. He said two exhaustive FBI investigations showed "nothing . . . which would indicate this man was a Communist . . . or a fellow traveler."

Previously secret congressional testimony made public today identified the council member as the Rev. James H. Robinson, who also is head of an organization called "Crossroads Africa." The group conducts a student exchange program between the United States and Africa.

Shriver, in an appearance before a House Appropriations subcommittee which Passman heads, acknowledged that Robinson's past activities with front groups had been probed by the FBI before his appointment by President Kennedy.

"Many people in the Negro community at times have been members of organizations which were very strong for civil rights," Shriver said. "Sometimes these organizations contained members who were either extreme left wingers or actual card-carrying Communists . . ."

Shriver said "they have signed statements along with others that sometimes perhaps they shouldn't have signed. But they did do these things all during the 1930s and 1940s and maybe some even in the 1950s.

CALLED EXPERT

Shriver said Robinson was one of the nation's "outstanding experts" on student exchange matters and had been praised by former President Eisenhower for his work.

★ ★ ★

The Peace Corps chief said Robinson's appointment also had been checked out with Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., vice chairman of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, and the late Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Shriver said that after all investigative steps had been taken he was fully satisfied Robinson was not a Communist or fellow traveler.

178 Volunteers in 4,000 Back

Corpsmen Overseas Hailed by Director

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Peace Corps Director R. Sargent Shriver Jr. says that it has been necessary to bring home only 178 volunteers of the 4,000 sent overseas.

Shriver, in testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee made public today, said 26 had to return for medical reasons. Six Peace Corpsemen died in automobile and plane crashes.

In addition, 31 came back for "compassionate reasons," such as a death in the family which required them to take on new burdens of financial support.

Shriver said 115 were "failures" because they couldn't make the personal adjustment. He acknowledged that there were a "couple" of unmarried pregnant women in this group.

★ ★ ★

Shriver added that plans for sending Peace Corps volunteers to Indonesia "are annoying the Communists extraordinarily."

★ ★ ★

"There isn't a day goes by in Indonesia that the Communists are not using columns of newspaper print, which they could use for something else, to denounce the Peace Corps and say that it shouldn't come to Indonesia. The mere arrival or the threat of the arrival of the Peace Corps is causing more consternation over there than anything we have ever done in that country."

333 Negroes Taken in March

Antisegregation Try Fails in S. Carolina

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (UPI) — A singing, chanting crowd of 333 Negroes, some as young as 8 years old, attempted to stage an antisegregation march on the downtown business district yesterday but was arrested four blocks from its goal.

The mass arrests brought to 508 the number of Negroes jailed on disturbing the peace charges during weekend demonstrations.

The demonstrators were taken to a 100-foot square compound behind the county jail for processing. Thirty-four juveniles were released to the custody of their parents.

Other demonstrators were lodged in the county and city jails and about 120 others, including a large number of women, were loaded in buses and taken to the state penitentiary in Columbia, about 40 miles north of here.

Recent demonstrations, protesting segregation practices by downtown merchants, have been directed by the Rev. I. Dequincey Newman of Columbia. Newman, state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), was not arrested yesterday.

HELP POLICE

State Law Enforcement Division (SLED) agents and about 30 state troopers were sent here to help the 29-man police force maintain order.

Once the Negroes were herded willingly into the compound, normally a parking lot surrounded by 12-foot high stone walls, many of them began jumping up and down on top of two automobiles.

Firemen wheeled a fire truck into the compound and trained a water hose on the Negroes, who jumped off the cars and became orderly. The hose was not turned on.

Reports Mark End of Project Mercury

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A summary conference Thursday and Friday will mark the formal end of Project Mercury, a five-year, $358.6 million U.S. manned space-flight program.

About 3,000 scientists and representatives will listen to 17 papers summarizing the results of Project Mercury and hear astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper make a formal report on his 22-orbit mission May 15-16.

Project Mercury was terminated June 12 when James E. Webb, chief of the Civilian Space Agency, said continuation would only delay development of the two-man Gemini program, due to precede the Apollo moon shots.

No Favorite for '64 Race, Ike Claims

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower said yesterday he had no favorites for the GOP presidential nomination and stressed that the party had a "wealth of men" from which to choose a candidate.

At the same time, Eisenhower, in a copyrighted dispatch in the New York Herald Tribune, denied reports that he opposed Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., for the nomination.

However, Eisenhower said he was "unclear on precisely" what Goldwater's present views are. He said that only when candidates mentioned for the nomination "are on record with their current views will the party be in a position to make the most intelligent choice.

★ ★ ★

"I think all Republicans would want to learn more about how he (Goldwater) and each of the other possible candidates would now approach the issues of 1964," he added.

WISH THEM WELL'

"At this point I am neither against nor specifically for any candidate but do wish them all well. I shall not participate in a move to 'stop' any one candidate."

Others he mentioned as possibilities for the nomination were New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, Michigan Gov. George Romney, Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, former Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson and Walter Judd, former congressman from Minnesota.

Law School Librarian Succumbs in Maine

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—Dr. Arthur C. Pulling, 76, librarian of the University of Maine Law School and former Harvard Law School librarian, died Saturday. He also had served as librarian at the University of Minnesota Law School and of the Villanova University Law School. He was born in Watertown, Mass.

Gas Grenade Hits Crowd

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — "Nobody saw anything, it happened so fast. The last thing I remember was that my eyes were blinded. I tried to fight it off. I'm no chicken, but it was too much for me. The next thing I remember was awakening in the hospital."

★ ★ ★

This was how Mrs. Agnes Marie Ray, a 51-year-old nurse from Santa Cruz, Calif., recalled the incident early yesterday when a gas grenade was hurled into a crowd from a slow-moving car.

★ ★ ★

Four women and a man were made unconscious and nauseous by the fumes, but were released after emergency oxygen treatment at a hospital.

★ ★ ★

They were among the group of about 25 near a downtown San Jose theater when the car drove up and the grenade was tossed out. Police still were searching for the assailants.

FIRST IN LINE — Orville Powers (left) of 295 Cherokee arrived at the county courthouse half an hour early this morning to become the first in line to see Gov. George Romney at the governor's first in a series of citizen meetings on his tax reform program. Powers, 83, said he told Romney he was "very much sold" on the program.

State Dept. Slammed by Congress Probers for Lid on Viet News

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional subcommittee today accused the State Department of "hiding the facts from the American public" by restricting newsmen in South Viet Nam.

The criticism came from the House subcommittee on information, headed by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif.

"In recent weeks," a report by the subcommittee said, "the American public has been surprised by developments in Viet Nam — development which have been many months in the making.

The report said "the restrictive U.S. press policy in Viet Nam . . . unquestionably contributed to the lack of information about conditions in Viet Nam which created an international crisis.

EXPOSURE NEEDED

"Instead of hiding the facts from the American public," the subcommittee concluded; "The State Department should have done everything possible to expose the true situation to full view."

The subcommittee directed most of its criticism at a cable prepared by Carl T. Rowan, now ambassador to Finland, and sent over the signature of Secretary of State Dean Rusk to the U.S. embassy in Saigon early in 1962.

This cable is still classified although its provisions are no longer in effect. The subcommittee, paraphrasing the language, said it contained these guidelines for handling American news correspondents in Viet Nam:

★ ★ ★

1. "News stories which criticize the President Ngo Dinh Diem government could not be 'forbidden', but they only increase the difficulties of the U.S. job."

2. "Newsmen should be advised that trifling or thoughtless criticism of the Diem government would make it difficult to maintain cooperation between the United States and Diem."

3. "Newsmen should not be transported on military activities of the type that are likely to result in undesirable stories."

The subcommittee said the cable had been prepared by Rowan, then deputy assistant secretary of state, and described him as "an official with an admitted distrust for the people's right to know."

At a closed hearing of the subcommittee last May 24, Roger Hilsman, assistant secretary of state for far eastern affairs, defended the cable but said there was "sloppy drafting" in it. He said the cable was intended to make it easier for correspondents to get the news in Viet Nam.

Victory in '64, Taylor Is Told

Diem's Military Chief Predicts Guerrilla Fall

BEN CAT, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's acting military chief told Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor today that victory over the Communist guerrillas would be achieved in 1964.

Maj. Gen. Tran Van Don made the prediction in a briefing of the chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff in this guerrilla-threatened town only 30 miles north of Saigon.

Shortly before Taylor's party landed in helicopters at a cemetery outside the town, Vietnamese troops opened with automatic weapons and grenades on a suspected guerrilla emplacement only 200 yards from the cemetery.

"We want to keep their (guerrillas') heads down," a Vietnamese officer said.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara did not make the field trip with Taylor, the last before the two return to Washington to report to President Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Earlier today, McNamara postponed his departure for Washington for 24 hours to give himself more time to work on the top-secret report for the White House.

Don made his prediction of victory in a farewell speech to Taylor on behalf of the Vietnamese armed forces. Don later released the text to newsmen.

AID AT CEILING

"We realize that U.S. aid and assistance has reached its ceiling and now is the time to fully realize successfully the objectives of the national campaign plans," Don said.

Don described the war situation as "difficult, but hoepful because our troops are friendly and because there is no internal dissension within our armed forces."

Most Like Tax Plan

Romney Visits With Residents

By JIM DYGERT

"I told him I thought it was all right," said Orville Powers, 83 of 295 Cherokee.

"I'm very much sold on his program and I wanted to give him my support," said Powers, after a five - minute private talk this morning with Gov. George Romney at the county courthouse.

"I first heard him eight years ago in Detroit and I was impressed with him. I have a lot of confidence in him."

★ ★ ★

Powers, first to see Romney in the first of governor's whirlwind series of citizen meetings on his controversial tax reform program, was talking about one of the plan's most controversial parts, deferral of property taxes for certain senior citizens.

He was one of four senior citizens who talked with Romney this morning. One of them, Peter Bulla, 73, 5030 Eastview, said he told Romney his program "was no good."

They were among a total of 25 who filed into the county clerk-register's office to see the governor, whose aim is to explain his program to citizens, get their reactions and overcome their objections to win their support.

OTHER VISITORS

Three county school officials were among visitors, as well as five League of Women Voter members, two men from the Pontiac area Chamber of Commerce, a Southfild city councilman and a local beer distributor.

The majority, though some had questions and doubts before seeing Romney, appeared to favor the governor's tax program in general.

Romney got the same impression, he said afterwards.

"Most of them liked my program," he said.

★ ★ ★

The governor commented that the session "went very well. I was pleased to have the opportunity to talk with this group of interested citizens."

Charles F. Long of 7040 Commerce, Orchard Lake, said he thought the governor's program for senior citizens was "a good deal."

A. E. Wiltgen, 67, of 51 Winona, gave qualified approval. "It's not going to hurt me and it will benefit the state," he said.

★ ★ ★

Wiltgen would not qualify for relief under the program, which defers until after the owner's death property taxes on senior citizens with less than -2,000 annual income and property assessed at $5,000 or less. Heirs

To Be Queried on Birmingham Race Terror

Others Freed in Probe; It's Not Definite Pair Linked to Church Case

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two white men were placed in city jail early today for further investigation into the series of bombings that have rocked this racially troubled city for several years.

Col. Al Lingo, head of the state highway patrol, said that others picked up in the intensified investigation have been released. He declined to say how many others had been questioned.

Night Warden L. A. Holcomb identified the two being held as R. E. Chambliss, 59, and Charles Cagle, 22, both of Birmingham area.

Chambliss was found innocent in 1949 on a charge of flogging while masked. He has been active in anti-integration activities, mostly in the Warrior area south of Birmingham. Last summer he was arrested while going to a Ku Klux Klan rally in Tuscaloosa a short time before the University of Alabama was desegregated. State officials identified him as a Klansman and said that he was carrying a weapon.

Both men had been under surveilance by city, county and federal agents. The local law enforcement agencies said that the arrests by the state came as a surprise.

Lingo said the state was conducting its investigation separately from any other police agency.

Reform Appeal Made by Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Vatican Ecumenical Council buckled down to work today with a streamlined agenda and hopes of getting some quicker results.

The 2,500 delegates reassembled for a working session under the great dome of St. Peter's Basilica where Pope Paul VI formally reopened the conclave yesterday.

He made a strong appeal for reform of the Roman Catholic Church.

A feeling was evident among the church fathers that the session would move with greater speed and efficiency than the first, which ran from Oct. 11 to Dec. 8 last year. This session will continue until Dec. 4.

A young American bishop summed up this spirit. "I think all the bishops are coming back to this session with a lot more enthusiasm. They know now what is intended and what it is they are trying to do."

He described the first session, convened by the late Pope John XXIII, as "a sort of dry run" where there was bound to be some disorder because of the size of the gathering.

"But we learned from it and I think the council will move much more speedily this time," added the American prelate, who asked to remain unidentified.

In opening the council, Pope Paul said its aims were redefinition and reform of the Catholic Church, restoring Christian unity and closer contact with today's world.

He called the episcopal assembly a council "of invitation, of expectation, of confidence." His clear voice rolled through the hushed basilica and out to a crowd of 50,000 persons in St. Peter's Square as he delivered the 10,000-word address in Latin.

Like Pope John, Pope Paul held the door open for a reuniting of Christians. To the Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox observers seated near him, he said: "We lay no snares. We do not wish to make of our faith an occasion for polemics."

Rights Group Issues Report

Integration Proposals Face Southern Wrath

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Rights Commission—its life in the hands of Congress—came forth today with another batch of tough proposals certain to stir the wrath of Southern congressmen.

★ ★ ★

For the first time in its six-year history, all commission recommendations to Congress and the President were unanimous.

A commission report recommended:

- Reduction of the representation in the House of Representatives for those states where all other efforts fail to eliminate discrimination in voting.
- Enactment of a fair employment practices law for federally assisted employment and employment involving interstate commerce, with a Labor Department administrator having enforcement powers. President Kennedy also proposed this in his most recent civil rights message.

- Refusing impacted area funds for school districts surrounding military bases and other federal installations unless all children within the bounds of the school district are assigned to schools without regard to race. Previous federal efforts in this area have been limited to trying to end discrimination against children of servicemen.

The commission said in its report that the growing protest movement by Negroes "has made it abundantly clear that their century-old patience with second-class citizenship is finally at an end."

It added, "The present conflict has brought about some progress, but it has also created the danger that white and Negro Americans may be driven even further apart and left again with a legacy of hate, fear and mistrust."

CONFLICT CAPTIVE

To some extent, the commission itself is a captive of this conflict. A four-year extension of the commission's life is wrapped into President Kennedy's omnibus civil rights bill, which is still snared in the early stages of congressional action.

★ ★ ★

The administration is trying to shove through a one-year extension for the commission, which today will officially enter a 60-day period during which it must go out of business.

Stierer Decides Not to Appeal

Pontiac's ex-city manager Robert A. Stierer, said today he will not go to court to win reinstatement.

Stierer said his decision not to further contest his dismissal by the City Commission was reached after "considerable study of the implications for the community, for myself and family, as well as legal aspects."

After reviewing the case with his attorneys, Stierer said, "We reached the conclusion that an appeal, while feasible from a legal point of view, would really not be practical."

★ ★ ★

Stierer said a court fight would be costly, and even if he were to win back his old job, it would mean serving with a dissident majority on the commission.

'ONLY AVENUE'

Stierer said a court appeal had been "The only avenue open."

With that closed, he stated

Twisters Rip Dixie; 3 Dead, 44 Injured

DILLON, S. C. (UPI) — Tornadoes skipped across the Carolinas yesterday, killing three persons, injuring at least 44 and causing damage estimated at nearly three quarters of a million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Spawned by a weather disturbance that sent twisters dipping into Georgia Saturday, early morning tornadoes were reported yesterday at Dillon, Springfield and Swansea in South Carolina and at Arapahoe, Spring Lake, Ft. Bragg, New Bern and Goldsboro in North Carolina.

It was the worst natural disaster of its kind to hit South Carolina since April of 1944 when 18 persons died in tornadoes. The state's worst twister killed 67 in 1924.

★ ★ ★

Dillon County farm agent D. A. Benton toured a seven-mile swath cut by the tornado yesterday and said at least 2,500 acres of cotton, soybeans and corn either were destroyed or partially wasted.

HOUSES FLATTENED

In addition, five tenant houses were flattened.

About 600 acres of pine woodland was chopped up by the strong winds. There was loss of livestock and many farm buildings were blown away.

A tornado hit the community of Spring Lake, about 12 miles east of Fayetteville, and lifted the roof from a tire recapping plant, overturned a housetrailer and demolished several frame houses.

★ ★ ★

A twister near Arapahoe in Pamlico County, N.C., destroyed several houses and tobacco barns. Sixteen people were asleep in one of the demolished tenant houses and when rescue workers pulled away the debris, three of them were dead.

House Fire Brings Death to Area Boy

Pronounced dead at the fire scene just before noon was Craig DeLongchamp. His sister, Rhonda, is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital. Their mother, Mrs. Ronald DeLongchamp, and another child, Michele, 3, were treated at the hospital and released.

Waterford Township Fire Chief Lewis Goff said the fire was confined to the living room after starting in a couch. Mrs. DeLongchamp was in one of the rear bedrooms, and the three children were in the other.

★ ★ ★

Police and firemen are still investigating circumstances of the fire. The alarm was received at 11:25 a.m.

A prayer service for Craig will be tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Godhardt Funeral Home, Keego Harbor. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

SEEING DOUBLE — Torchy twins Jeanine and Janice Willockx give Pontiac United Fund commercial chairman Stuart E. Whitfield two smiles of encouragement over this year's campaign goal. Commercial postion of the fund drive, which begins Oct. 15, is $203,469.

Commercial Division Goal Set at $203,469 for UF

A record $203,469 commercial division goal in the upcoming Pontiac Area United Fund drive was announced today by Stuart E. Whitfield, division chairman.

In making the goal public, Whitfield said some of the campaign teams were already "hard at work," while others will be kicking off their campaigns this week.

Whitfield said he was confident this year's division goal, which is 10 per cent higher than 1962, would be met or surpassed.

"United Fund agency services directly benefit our community," he said. "I urge the wholehearted support of everyone in the area for this once-a-year giving."

Chilly Days Over, at Least for Awhile

Autumn overemphasized its cool character this weekend with temperatures ranging only from 50 to 58 with .05 inches of rain.

The characterization will lessen slightly today and tomorrow with tomorrow's high reaching 72.

For the next five days temperatures will average near the normal highs of 69 and low of 49. Tomorrow and Wednesday will be slightly warmer; Thursday, cooler; Friday and Saturday, warmer.

Precipitation will total less than one-tenth of an inch in showers Thursday and Saturday.

Low temperature before 8 a.m. was 32. By 1 p.m., it had risen to 63.

Hoffa: $5-8 Million for Political Uses

DETROIT (UPI) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa said yesterday his union would spend from $5 million to $8 million this year to lobby against antilabor legislation and to elect pro-Teamsters politicians.

Next year, the president of the 1.-million-member union said, even more money would be sepat in the congressional and presidential campaigns.

Hoffa has already endorsed New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller as his choice for the GOP presidential candidacy.

* * *

He has listed the Kennedy family as his arch-foes in the political world and in the 1962 gave his backing to GOP contender Richard M. Nixon.

WOULD BE USED

The money, Hoffa said, this year would be used to pay 150 full-time Teamster employes, including 10 in Washington, 45 political directors scattered about the nation, 45 "legmen" and 45 secretaries.

Another portion of the sum is being spent to send the wives of Teamsters union members to Washington under the union's "Women to Washington" plan.

Last week 200 wives went to Washington under the plan. The trip cost the union $50,000 in plane fares, meals and hotel bills.

Bills involving minimum wages, medicare, bonding of union officials, missile sites and with congressional representatives by the women, Hoffa said.

GOT OPPORTUNITY

"For the first time, these women got the opportunity to see what goes on in Washington firsthand and from personal observation," Hoffa said.

In Escanaba Saturday where he dedicated a new headquarters building for union Local 328 Hoffa gave his endorsement to Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform plan.

Hoffa also said he approved of Detroit's income tax on residents and nonresidents.

"You can't have something without nothing," he said in reference to state services.

Bosch Claims Coup Planned Long Ago

By JOE MCGOWAN JR.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Ex-President Juan Bosch sailed into exile aboard a Dominican navy frigate today after charging the military coup that overthrew him was organized before his inauguration last February.

* * *

A high official source said Bosch would be landed on the French island of Guadaloupe, probably early today. With Bosch aboard the frigate Mella were his wife and Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, a leader of the military junta which removed the president from office Wednesday on charges he was soft on communism and his administration was chaotic.

* * *

Bosch was elected president by an overwhelming vote in the Dominican Republic's first free elections since dictator Rafael L. Trujillo took power more than 30 years ago.

Shortly before he sailed on the Mella Saturday night, the silver-haired ex-president gave a hand-written note to a friend, Miami publisher Francisco Aguirre.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John Bartlow Martin, U.S. ambassador to the Dominican Republic, today was expected to begin giving his views to government officials on the military coup which ousted Dominican President Juan Bosch.

AFTER RETURN

In it he said: "the coup was established technically after my return from Mexico (in mid-September). The coup was organized before my inauguration last February."

Bosch said he had asked Gen. Imbert Barrera and his wife to accompany him aboard the frigate because he distrusted the navy chiefs. He said Imbert Barrera and Gen. Luis Amiama Tio, another leader of the coup, were "the only persons close to the new government that have shown courtesy to me."

* * *

Bosch's ultimate destination was not known, but Puerto Rico appeared a likely exile home. He and Puerto Rican Gov. Luis Munoz Marin are friends.

The civilian provisional government installed by the coup leaders lifted the dusk-to-dawn curfew imposed on the nation. Arrests continued of suspected Communists and others on charges of possessing weapons and participating in disorders.

Authorities released about half of the 500 persons taken into custody.

Bloomfield Hills School Supt. Eugene L. Johnson, Troy School Supt. Rex B. Smith and Bloomfield Hills school board member Merrill O. Bates said they presented Romney with their feeling that his program did not provide needed additional money for schools.

"We want a complete understanding of his program and we want him to have a complete understanding of what we are trying to promote — fine education," said Bates.

* * *

The three said they were not ready yet to take a stand on the program, however.

LEAGUE OPINION

As spokesman for the League of Women Voters group, Mrs. Robert Williamson of 651 Red Oak, Avon Township, told Romney the league supported most points in his program, but favored more flexibility in local option taxes.

For instance, Mrs. Williamson said, the place of work should be able to levy 1 per cent on nonresidents as well as residents until the nonresidents' own cities also levied an income tax. Romney's program now calls for one-half per cent levy on nonresidents.

First of Five Cities on Agenda

Pontiac Hears Romney on Fiscal Reform

Gov. George Romney appeared in Pontiac this morning to kick off phase three of his plan to get Michigan "straightened out." Republicans elsewhere in the state were preparing for the first legislative hearing on his controversial tax program.

Meanwhile, other GOP members were writhing under a court injunction which prevented them from choosing Wayne County's representatives on the party's state central committee.

Pontiac was the first of five cities the governor planned to visit today as he began a six-day campaign to explain his fiscal reform program in meetings with citizens.

As phase three in his program to get Michigan "moving again," it follows his election as governor and adoption of the new state constitution which he championed.

The Senate Taxation Committee, headed by Sen. Clyde Geerlings, R-Holland, will open public hearings tonight at the Kalamazoo Public Library on Romney's tax program.

The committee will hold hearings tomorrow in Grand Rapids, Wednesday in Traverse City and Thursday in Menominee.

ITINERARY

Royal Oak, East Detroit, Hamtramck and Detroit were on Romney's itinerary for the day.

The governor's aim is to convince citizens his income tax-centered program is the answer to the state's longtime budgetary and economic problems.

Succeeding days will see Romney traveling throughout both peninsulas of the state to visit 24 cities in the same type of tour that proved highly successful in luring voter support when he was elected governor and when he was stumping for the new constitution.

The court injunction, issued by Wayne County Circuit Judge James Montante, halted plans to choose GOP State Central members from Wayne County's six Congressional districts.

The order was issued on request of Earle Tinsman, a member of the committee from the 14th district which is the stronghold of Richard Durant, self-styled arch conservative and boss of the 14th.

Tinsman said the meeting, called for Sunday, was a calculated move on the part of GOP State Chairman Arthur G. Elliott, Jr., to oust Durant supporters on the committee. Elliott said Tinsman's charges were "grossly inaccurate."

MOVES FAILED

The presence of Durant in Republican party policies in Michigan has long been a sore spot. Several moves to oust him for his conservative views, one led by Gov. Romney, have failed.

Tinsman also charged that the meeting was called "to eliminate growing rank-and-file enthusiasm for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., for President."

Elliott denied this also.

Montante set Friday as a date for the hearing on the injunction.

Three district and separate groups have voiced opposition to Romney's plan for fiscal reform: The elderly for deferral of property taxes; beer interests for a tax cut that Romney figures would save them $1.5 million annually in specific tax on their product; and Wayne County, specifically Detroit, which says the program won't give Detroit and Wayne County enough money to meet their needs.

Romney has weathered all criticism of his program and indications are that he would press for its adoption as it stands and without any major change suggested by its detractors.

Romney showed how firmly he believes in the value of his program in a recent speech when he said "I think at this time the responsible public officials have to be willing to exercise the leadership to reform our tax structure and if it isn't done properly and if the people don't like it, why let the people kick them out."

tion on the men, nor on results of the questioning. He also declined to definitely link them with the blast at the 16th St. Baptist church Sept. 15 in which four young Negro girls were killed.

* * *

The two men arrived at the city jail, where some 2,400 Negro demonstrators were held last spring in a highway patrol car with two troopers. Dressed in sport shirts and slacks, they covered their faces as they were led into the jail.

FIRST ARRESTS

Although the investigations into the bombings—there have been at least 40—had been intensified since the church explosion, these were the first arrests. A tip-off that they were coming came Sunday night in Montgomery from the office of Gov. George C. Wallace.

* *

A statement said that "arrests were imminent" in the church bombing. But the actual announcement of the arrests did not specify the church blast. It said:

"State investigators have taken into custody and are holding two persons in connection with the Birmingham bombings. Their identities are being withheld in the interest of the continuing investigation."

The city has had more than 40 bombings since World War II, but the one which nearly destroyed the 16th Street Baptist church was the worst.

ABOUT 20 HURT

About 20 persons were hurt in the blast, which sparked a near riot. Sporadic outbursts of violence continued through the day and night.

Two young Negroes were shot to death — one by police officers and the other as he was riding a bicycle. Two white youths are free on $10,000 bonds in the death of the second Negro.

They conferred with leaders of both races last week and planned further talks today.

* * *

Birmingham's racial situation was further clouded over the weekend when two prominent Negro leaders —millionaire A. G. Gaston and attorney Arthur D. Shores — took issue with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. over King's threat of renewed demonstrations.

U. S., Red Heart Experts Trade Cholesterol Data

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Public Health Service (PHS) announced today that U.S. and Soviet heart specialists are exchanging information on cholesterol.

PHS officials said 50 specimens of frozen Russian blood have been received at the National Heat Institute's Heart Study Center in Framingham, Mass. The center will ship about the same amount to the Soviet Union in the near future.

3-Car Crash in Holly Twp. Hurts Woman

A Milford woman was hospitalized last night following a three-car collision at Milford and Holly roads in Holly Township.

She was a passenger in a car driven by Doris E. Berry, 45, of Michigan Center.

4 Train Crewmen Hurt as Ohio Freight Derails

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (UPI) — Four crewmen were hurt last night, one seriously, when a Detroit, Toledo & Ironton freight train derailed southwest of this Ross County community.

Victim of Golf Accident Sues City for $300,000

BIRMINGHAM — A 37-year-old Troy man is making a $300,000 claim against the city in connection with an accident at Springdale Golf Course in which he was blinded in one eye.

Robert Wesler, 6600 Livernois, reported that his eye was removed following the Aug. 26 accident. He was struck by a golf ball hit by Scott Albers, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton H. Albers, 1839 Sheffield, Wesler said.

The claim is for "pain and suffering, hospital and medical expenses, disfigurement, disability, loss of earnings, past, present and anticipated."

A $100,000 insurance claim will also be filed for Mrs. Wesler for her suffering due to the accident.

CHARGES NEGLIGENCE

Wesler accused the city of negligence in laying the golf course out as it is, permitting "an immature and unqualified boy" to play the course and in failing to properly supervise play and enforce rules.

* * *

Wesler, a process and sales engineer at Acme Manufacturing Co. of Ferndale, said today he expects to be out of work another three to five weeks.

The first of three fall schools in churchmanship will be held at the First Methodist Church Wednesday evenings beginning this week through Nov. 6.

The school will offer courses for those who are teaching or preparing to teach at any level of the church school as well as those seeking a general course in one of the areas of Christian faith and fellowship.

Horace B. Barrett

Service for Horace B. Barrett, 73, of 644 Emmons will be 8 p.m. today at Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Bainbridge, Ohio.

Mr. Barrett died Saturday after a long illness. He was an agent for the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co., before his retirement in 1959.

He was a member of the First Methodist Church, Birmingham Chapter No. 44, F&AM, and the men's club of his church.

Surviving are his wife, Adah; two sons, Warren J. of Clawson and Major John H. Barrett, U.S. Army, stationed in New York; two brothers and five grandchildren.

A. Earl Jones

Service for A. Earl Jones, 60, of 1575 Woodward, Bloomfield Township, will be 1:30 p.m. tomorrow at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac. Burial will follow in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston.

Mr. Jones died Saturday after an illness of several weeks.

He was an employe of Pontiac Motor Division and a member of the First Baptist Church, Pontiac, and Pontiac Elks Lodge No. 10.

Stierer Decides Not to Appeal

he would not engage in political or other activity to prove his case.

Stierer was suspended as city manager Aug. 5. After five separate nights of hearings, the City Commission fired him Sept. 17.

* * *

BORE WITNESS

"Not only did the Commission act as complainant, prosecutor and judge," Bond charged, "but some of the members actually bore witness against Mr. Stierer and then voted to remove him.

"The Michigan Supreme Court has held this disqualifies the member from voting. They were neither fair nor impartial in this action."

* * *

Stierer noted:

"The City of Pontiac is now in the midst of a great capital improvement and development program, which must move forward rapidly.

"If this program falters, the City and its taxpayers will be the losers. I have no desire to interfere with this program through litigation or otherwise."

Stierer said he plans to remain in the Pontiac area. He said he has had offers to undertake municipal consulting work, but has not made a decision.

He said, as he did at the time of his suspension, that he would like to return some day as Pontiac's city manager.

Cali Visitors Have Ball on Weekend

By DICK HANSON

Oakland County's visitors from Colombia, South America, enjoyed a pleasant weekend that included a football game at Michigan State University and a reception-dinner at Oakland University.

They were particularly impressed with band day events when over a thousand musicians in 36 school bands took the field at half time.

* * *

Yesterday afternoon they met many of the Oakland University profesors and their wives. Others affiliated with the university were there, including Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, who, along with her late husband, donated the university site.

DINNER IN CENTER

Today it was back to work for the Colombian delegates, here to study social and economic conditions that might be applied to raising living standards in their own country.

They toured the Pontiac Motor Division plants this morning and the Star Cutter Co. in Farmington and National Twist Drill in Rochester this afternoon.

Friday they studied public works projects in the county that included the $40-million 12 Towns storm relief drain now nearing completion.

Tomorrow the delegates will attend the American Public Works Association's convention in Detroit's Cobo Hall and will tour the civic center.

COUNTY METHODS

Wednesday they will spend the entire day at the Oakland County Service Center, studying administrative methods of county government.

Efforts are being made to extend the Colombians' visit here through next Monday so they can witness a meeting of the County Board of Supervisors in the new courthouse auditorium.

The visit to Oakland county is an exchange of a comparable visit by a delegation from here to the Cali region last May.

The exchange has been arranged by the U.S. State Department as part of the Alliance for Progress program.

BROOMFIELD IDEA

The community-to community approach to raising living conditions in South America originated with U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

So far, the local program has proved highly successful, according to State Department officials.

Within the next few days the Colombians also will tour the Oakland University campus, visit Solidarity House in Detroit, take a boat trip on the Detroit River to observe the skyline and industrial complexes and attend a South Oakland mayors' meeting in Southfield.

They will spend a few days with the State Department in Washington to review what they have learned here that might be useful in their own country.

* * *

The group includes Gov. Gustavo Balcazar of the Valle de Cauca Department; Cesar Tulio Delgado, municipal council president in Cali; Hernan Borrero the region's public utilities manager; Jorge Herrera, a prominent attorney active in Cali civic affairs; and Pedro Caycedo Cali's planning director.

A sixth member of the group, Bernardo Garces, director of the power company in the Cali region, is due to arrive here tomorrow or the next day.

Did New N-Reactor Fire AF Satellite?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A secret satellite — which may employ a new nuclear reactor for power — was launched toward a polar orbit by the Air Force.

It was not revealed whether the space vehicle achieved orbit. The Air Force, in keeping with its policy of secrecy, said only that a satellite employing a Thor-Able-Star rocket combination was fired Saturday.

Observers believe, however, that a compact nuclear reactor, called Snap, was used. A 21-month test of Snap by Atomics International was completed last Feb. 12.

The Atomic Energy Commission called a special news conference for today, and some observers expect word of the nuclear reactor to be released.

The reactor, developed for the AEC, weighs 200 pounds without shielding and is fueled with a uranium-zirconium hydride alloy. It produces three kilowatts of power.

American railroads spent $374,077,000 on track, locomotive parts, machinery and other iron and steel articles in 1962. This was an increase of 12 per cent over the 1961 level.

Expelled Negro in Mississippi Traffic Court

CLEVELAND, Miss. (UPI) — Negro Cleve McDowell, the expelled University of Mississippi student who was convicted last Saturday of carrying a concealed weapon, today faced trial in City Court on two traffic charges.

McDowell, 21, was arrested here yesterday on charges of reckless driving and driving without lights on U.S. Highway 61.

The former law student, who lives at nearby Drew, spent most of yesterday in jail. He was released late in the day on $200 bond which was paid by H. Y. Hackett, a Clarksdale Negro.

★ ★ ★

Selfridge Runway Shut Off Repairing

MOUNT CLEMENS (UPI) — A runway at Selfridge Field near here has been closed because a low grade mixture of sand and gravel was used to pave it five years ago.

A resurfacing of the runway, estimated at a cost of $450,000, is now under way.

★ ★ ★

The runway, closed to use by jets since Aug. 1, is pock-marked and had caused tire blowouts on jets, and loose stones have damaged propellers of the CT19 transports.

Diplomats Pin Hopes on Rusk-Gromyko Talks

42TR 6-1—DIPLOMATS WITH HIGHLAND AD
Rusk-Gromyko-bjt

By LEWIS GULICK

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.S. diplomats believe a meeting Wednesday night between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko is the best bet among forthcoming talks for developing new accords between Washington and Moscow.

★ ★ ★

Rusk had a breakfast date with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home this morning. The two join Gromyko tonight at a dinner being given by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant. It was described as a social affair to be attended by quite a few of the foreign leaders here for the General Assembly session.

Rusk's private appointment with Gromyko was for dinner Wednesday at the headquarters of the Soviet mission to the U.N.

VARIETY OF TOPICS

U.S. sources said Rusk may explore a considerable variety of U.S.-Soviet projects, ranging from a consular agreement to cooperating in outer space.

★ ★ ★

This week's talks, which will include a Home-Gromyko luncheon Tuesday, were about all that emerged from a meeting of the three ministers Saturday.

The 2½-hour parley—first high-level East-West session since the Aug. 5 signing of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty — was described as cordial but unproductive of any agreement of substance.

Gromyko was said to have talked about general, complete disarmament philosophically without giving enough details on the Soviet proposal for an exchange of observers for the Western ministers to judge whether it would be acceptable. The observers would guard against surprise attack.

For Rusk and Home, it appeared just as well that Gromyko did not press another Soviet proposal—for a nonaggression pact between the NATO and Warsaw military blocs. The Western allies have not agreed what to do about this plan, which is linked to the Germany-Berlin issue.

Trapeze Performer Hurt in 30-Foot Fall

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Francisco Novas, 26, was severely injured last night when he fell 30 feet from a trapeze bar.

Officials of the Ringling Brothers circus, said Novas was performing as a member of the Flying Gibsons act, when one of the trapeze wires caught on a hook and jerked Novas from the bar.

★ ★ ★

The performer fell 25-feet below to a safety net and then bounced to the floor. Some 8,000 spectators saw the accident. A Bethesda Hospital spokesman said Novas suffered chest and hip injuries.

Ex-AF Research Chief Is Dead; Served Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)— Trevor Gardner, 48, controversial chief of Air Force research and development in the Eisenhower administration, died Saturday. Gardner was chairman and president of the Hycon Manufacturing Co., an electronics firm in Pasadena, Calif. He was born in Cardiff, Wales, and became an American citizen in 1937.

10 Victims as Reds Try Train Theft

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — Six persons were killed and at least four wounded yesterday when pro-Communist terrorists shot it out with guards during an attempted holdup aboard a crowded excursion train.

The terrorists, commandos of the Armed Forces of National Liberation (FALN), fled into mountainous country pursued by government troops.

Police later brought five male suspects and five women "material witnesses" into Caracas under arrest. There was no immediate indication whether any of the terrorists remained at large.

The six deaths included two guards who helped stop the holdup and four passengers — an 11-year-old girl, her mother, another woman and a man, all hit by stray bullets.

In another FALN raid yesterday, terrorists disguised as government troops were reported to have walked into police headquarters at Maracay, 70 miles southwest of Caracas, tied up the police and walked out with all the guns and ammunition they could carry. No casualties were reported.

JOIN PASSENGERS

An undetermined number of FALN gunmen apparently boarded the three-car special Sunday excursion train in Caracas and mingled with the 400 passengers bound for the El Encantado picnic area near Los Teques, which is 13 miles south of Caracas.

As the train wound through scenic mountains approaching El Encantado, the gunmen pulled out pistols and submachine guns hidden in picnic baskets and forced engineer Martin Rojas to halt the train in a tunnel.

When the terrorists started to relieve passengers of their money, a gunfight broke out between the FALN commandos and at least six national guardsmen assigned to protect the train.

Nomads Use Old Style

Dental historians report nomadic people from the Arabian desert today brush their teeth the same way their ancestors did back in the fourth century.

Highest Army Rate

Kansas has had the highest acceptance rate for men called to military service, with 79.4 per cent approved, according to selective service.

Lack of vitamin A is believed a cause of night blindness.

8,000 Shoe Patents

Since the U.S. patent office was established in 1836, it has issued more than 8,000 patents involving refinements in the making of leather shoes.

All's Well That Ends Well? Not for Lions in 37-21 Drubbing

Dame Fortune Helps Green Bay Triumph

Frustrated much of the way by fumbles, pass interceptions and penalties, the Packers turned a fumble on an attempted handoff into a scoring pass play for the decisive touchdown Sunday in rallying for a 31-20 victory over the Baltimore Colts.

The Packers' big break came on the first play of the fourth quarter with the Colts in front 17-14. Quarterback Bart Starr called on Tom Moore to sweep left end on third down and four yards to go at the Baltimore 35.

Starr and Moore never did get together for the handoff and the ball went bouncing wildly backwards. Starr took off in hot pursuit. He finally corralled the ball at the 45, picked it up—and looked into the grimacing features of a half dozen Colts barreling down on him.

Somehow Starr managed to spot Boyd Dowler all alone near the right sideline at the 25. He lobbed a pass which Dowler hauled in without interference and the tanky flanker back raced the rest of the way.

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Minnesota's free wheeling young Vikings blitzed San Francisco with a four-touchdown barrage in the second quarter enroute to a 45-14 smashing of the 49ers Sunday.

In posting their second win of the National Football League season in three games, the Vikings chalked up a team scoring record. The old mark was set in a 42-21 win over Los Angeles two years ago.

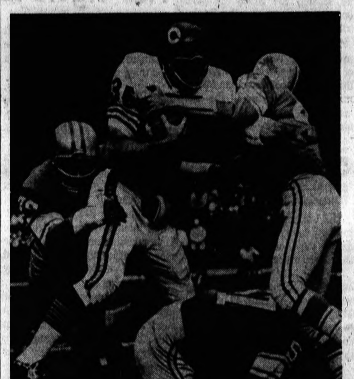

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—The Pittburgh Steelers mustered a 17 point offensive in the final quarter on the running of Bob Ferguson and the toe of Lou Michaels to deal the St. Louis Cardinals a 23-10 setback Sunday in a National Football League game.

Michaels, who kicked field goals of 21, 40 and 21, also stood out on defense. His recovery of a fumble by Charley Johnson led to the Steelers final touchdown with the stocky Ferguson skirting four yards for the score.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quarterback Y. A. Tittle returned to action Sunday and so did the New York Giants as the defending Eastern champions of the National Football League trounced the Philadelphia Eagles 37-14 before a sellout crowd of 60,671.

Tittle, the balding 36-year old passing star who was sidelined last Sunday as the Giants were blanked by Pittsburgh, tossed three touchdown passes and directed the New York attack almost faultless fashion.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Ryan's passing and Jim Brown's running gave Cleveland a 20-6 victory over Los Angeles Sunday and kept the Browns unbeaten in the infant National Football League season.

Plum Fizzles in 1st Half Aerial Rout

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

DETROIT—What was that guy Shakespeare thinking of when he wrote "All's Well That Ends Well." It certainly wasn't befitting the Detroit Lions yesterday. After all, they did win the second half of their game, 21-2, with a good ending against the Bears at Tiger Stadium.

The Bears changed the title around a bit to All's Well That Starts Well. They humiliated the Lions with 35 points in the first half and then dawdled on this cushion to win 37-21.

What happens now to the Lions who are 1-2 for the season and two big games behind the Bears who are 3-0 atop the Western Division Conference?

One thing may be certain. Milt Plum may switch duties with Earl Morrall when the San Francisco 49ers come to town next Sunday.

Plum, who really hasn't been the same since last Thanksgiving Day, passed for two Chicago Bear touchdowns but completed only three of nine for his own team, the Lions.

EARNS JOB

Morrall, who hadn't started a regular season game all of last season, but was the "winning passer" on four occasions with his relief duties, may have earned his starting assignment yesterday.

Plum was hopeless and the Lions helpless against the passing of Billy Wade who completed 18 of 34 passes for 219 yards and three touchdowns.

Morrall really did better than this as far as yardage goes. He threw only 21 passes and completed eight in the second half for 229 yards and three touchdowns.

But in the pathetic first half, Plum threw nine times and completed five, three to the Lions and two to the Bears.

EASY SCORES

Both Bear interceptions led to touchdowns and a third came after Nick Pietrosante fumbled on the 16.

The Lions failed to take advantage of Larry Ferguson's runback of the opening kickoff to the Bear 47. The attempt for a 48-yard field goal went wide after Morrall fumbled the pass from center.

A five-yard penalty was a big break for the Bears after they took over on the 20. It was third down and one on the 46 when Rick Cassares was stopped for no gain. This would have brought on a punting situation but instead a five-yard penalty made it a first down and from there Wade went into action. He ended the 80-yard drive with an 18-yard touchdown to Angelo Cota.

Another try for a field goal from 45 yards went wide for Walker and the quarter ended 7-0.

The Lions' respectability on defense was torn apart in the 28-point second quarter for the Bears.

OL St. Mary Shares Parochial Lead

Rompel Romps for 25 Points in 3rd Victory

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Orchard Lake St. Mary survived a second - half aerial barrage Sunday to post a 27-19 win over Waterford Our Lady of Lakes in a Northwest Parochial League game.

The win was the third in succession for the Eaglets who are tied for the league lead with Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows a 33-0 winner over St. Michael Sunday.

Halfback Frank Rompel turned in a 25-point performance to provide the scoring punch for the Eaglets.

The 145-pound Rompel scored a touchdown in every period, and his fourth score came on a 95-yard interception run late in the final stanza which killed a budding OLL drive.

Even in defeat Coach Bob Mineweaser said "It's the best we've looked so far."

"We were slow getting started and our defense lapsed at times," Mineweaser added.

St. Mary took advantage of a short punt and a fumble to push across two first - period scores.

The Eaglets grabbed a 20-yard wind-blown punt by the Lakers' Terry Lilley early in the game and launched a 50-yard drive that ended with Rompel plunging the final yard.

Musial Ends 22-Year Assault on National League Pitchers

Before the 14 inning game in which the St. Louis Cardinals beat Cincinnati 3-2, Stan Musial stood with his head bowed as 27,576 fans gave him one standing ovation after another.

★ ★ ★

Moving to a battery of microphones before about 50 photographers and television cameramen, Musial said:

"I want to thank God for giving me the talent I have had and the good health I've been blessed with."

Then he proceeded to almost duplicate his first major league game against the then Boston Braves (now Milwaukee) Sept. 17, 1941, when he got two hits, drove in two runs, and helped the Cardinals 3-2, the same victory score as his final game.

FINAL MOMENT

In the sixth, Musial hit a run-scoring single past first base and left the game for a pinch runner.

"We wanted Stan to go out on a good note and that's why we lifted him then," Card Manager Johnny Keane explained. "As it turned out, he left after his second hit, drove in what appeared at the time the winning run. He left in glory as he should have."

Musial, dressed in street clothes after waiting 2½ hours in the club house to say good bye to his teammates, said:

★ ★ ★

"It was a great day and I'm grateful that I was able to do something well in my last game. We won 3-2 in the first game I played with the Cardinals 22 years ago, and we won again today by the same score. I got two hits in my first major league game, and two hits in my last game. You couldn't ask for more."

"It was a pleasure watching you play ball," Maloney said.

Musial returned the compliment.

Asked if he felt he had ever made an enemy:

"I've gone along in life trying to treat people as I'd like them to treat me. I don't know of any enemies, but I hope they are my friends now."

Among the dignitaries on hand to pay tribute to Musial were St. Louis Mayor Raymond R. Tucker; Missouri Gov. John M. Dalton; American League President Joe Cronin, National League President Warren Giles and Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick.

New York Jets Suprise AFL

By The Associated Press

The sick man of the American Football League is showing distinct signs of life. About the only thing that would delight the men of the AFL more would be an invitation from the NFL to drop in and discuss a playoff game.

The ailing entrant in the new pro league has long been the New York club, which hit a point so low last season that the league had to pay the players, and the players had to walk to work because the bus drivers wanted cash.

One New York newspaper always spelled the team owner's name backwards, and some of the others wouldn't mention the fact that there was an AFL team in town. The fans weren't unhappy —there weren't any. It was so quiet on the field you could hear the halfbacks fumble.

Then came new management, a new coach and a new name, the Jets.

SECOND VICTORY

The next step was spirit, fan enthusiasm and two victories. Now the unfamiliar name of New York tops the standings in the East with a 2-1 mark, the second win having been scored Saturday night 10-7 over the Oakland Raiders.

San Diego stayed on top in the West with the only unbeaten record in the league. The Chargers, 3-0, swamped the Kansas City Chiefs 24-10 Sunday. Denver trimmed Boston 14-10 Sunday, and Houston whipped Buffalo 31-20 Saturday night, in the other games on the weekend card.

Coach Weeb Ewbank's Jets ran their record to 2-1 with the victory over Oaklahoma before an astrounding crowd of 17,936 at the Polo Grounds. The fact that the nickname of the Jets rhymes with that of the baseball Mets who inhabited the same premises may have explained the enthusiasm of the customers.

Anyway, they only had to change one letter on their famous banners.

Cotton Davidson drove the Raiders, 2-2 to the first touchdown scoring himself after a 63-yard drive. The Jets returned the touchdown in less than a minute, with Dick Wood passing to Bake Turner — both former Baltimore Colts under Ewbank — on a 51-yard play. Dick Guesman's 35-yard field goal won for the Jets. The Jets intercepted four passes and the Raiders five to stall other threats.

THREE 'BOMBS'

Old George Blanda brought the Oilers back from a 10-0 deficit with three scoring passes to Charlie Hennigan and Houston led winless Buffalo 28-20 at the half. Blanda's field goal was the only second half scoring, as Buffalo 0-3-1 lost quarterback Jack Kemp with a jammed throwing finger. Rookie Daryle Lamonica played the entire second half.

Eaglet Harriers Blank St. Andrew's Runners

St. Mary's Bill Donahoe led his team to a 15-40 win with a time of 10:53. He was followed by John Dzuiba, Bill Halvangis, Jay Hopkinson and Dennis Hackett.

Gerry Rosol of St. Andrew placed ninth.

Michigan Not Destined for Big Ten Cellar, Neither Is MSU

Southwestern Foe Easy for Wolverines

By JERE CRAIG

Last year Michigan was on the bottom of the Western Conference football race and never did score more than 17 points in any game, winning two and losing seven (1-6 in the league).

Saturday before 63,659 fans at the university's stadium, the Wolverines scored 21 points in the second quarter en route to a 27-16 triumph over Southern Methodist University.

The first meeting between Michigan and SMU (a Southwest Conference team) saw the Wolverines dominate play for three periods. Then coach Bump Elliott went to his reserves.

* * *

The Wolverines' commanding 27-0 lead shrunk quickly to 11 points and the regulars returned to stifle one last threat by the visitors.

POSE THREAT

The winners showed enough offense —driving 99 yards for the first touchdown of the season—to be definitely a threat for most opponents.

Second - string quarterback Frosty Evashevski probably moved up a rung in Elliott's scheme of action. He completed seven of 10 passes for 104 yards and one touchdown. He also displayed good poise and ability to evade charging linemen while looking for receivers.

The expected No. 1 signal caller Bob Timberlake was limited by a sore shoulder to kicking off and extra point booting (he made three).

Oakland County rooters of the Michigan eleven saw two former high school All-County standouts perform well for the winners.

Royal Oak Kimball graduate Dick Ries, a sophomore, was the understudy for O'Donnell. Farmington's Harvey Chapman, a two-year letter winner, saw extensive action also. Both players were used mostly on defense. Ries at an interior line position in the 6-2-2-1 defense and Chapman at left halfback.

* * *

Chapman carried the ball once offensively for a five-yard gain around right end on the last play of the afternoon. There were 187 high school bands in attendance, and they put on a colorful, musical presentation at halftime.

The Cogdill touchdown was spectacular. The Lion end went up with Roosevelt Taylor for the pass. Taylor had the ball, but on the way down Cogdill pulled it away and when he hit the ground with it, the official signalled the touchdown.

The safety came midway in the 4th quarter. Morrall bootlegged the ball from his own 10-yard line when big Doug Atkins hit him. Morrall argued that he was hit in front of the goal line and pushed into the end zone but his beef was to no avail.

ANOTHER STEAL

The first play from scrimmage, a pass intended for Terry Barr bounced off his fingers and into the hands of former U. of Michigan ace, Bennie McRae. From the Lions' 36-yard line, Wade needed five plays. He hit Mike Ditka with a 13 yarder and it was 21-0 as Bob Jencks converted again.

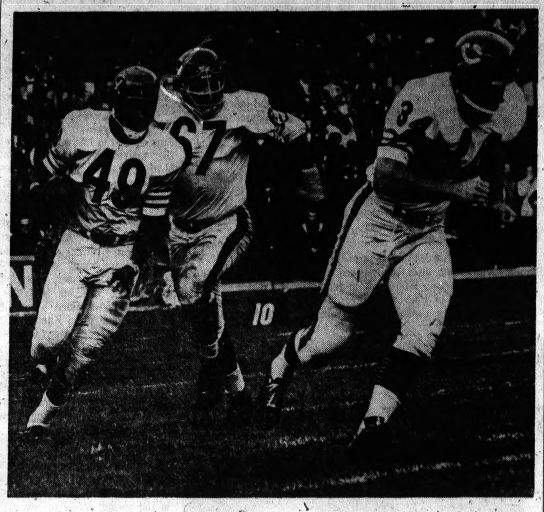

Plum managed to get off four more passes in the quarter, before completing one and having the other intercepted by Rich Petitbone who went 66 yards down the sidelines.

With just 24 seconds left in the half, Wade flipped to Casares who went into the end zone to complete a 25-yard play to make it 35-0.

Morrall used the long bomb in the second half to excite the 55,400 fans. He had the ball for three series of plays in the third quarter and completed a 60 yarder to Barr and a 67 yarder to Gail Cogdill for two touchdowns.

In the fourth quarter he also had the ball for three series of plays, connecting with Cogdill on a 37-yard TD and getting hit for a safety on another occasion.

'Gamble' on Juday Pays Off for Duffy

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

EAST LANSING — It was a gamble (if we may use the word) but the decision of Michigan State coach Duffy Daugherty to use former All-Oakland County football star Steve Juday, an untested sophomore, paid off Saturday.

* * *

Juday, who was the Outstanding Player of Oakland County in 1961, wasn't spectacular but he was impressive enough to at least earn him the starting job against the powerful Southern California Trojans next week.

He completed only six of 18 passes for 67 yards, combining with Tom Krzemienski and Sherm Lewis on a pass and lateral for one touchdown, and going over on a sneak with another.

* * *

"He called every play," said coach Duffy Daugherty, "and he certainly didn't panic under pressure."

GOOD HELP

Of course Juday received a lot of help, especially from Hawiian fullback Roger Lopes who took the Northville quarterback's handoffs and helped the Spartans to 157 of their 332 yards rushing. One of Lopes' touchdowns was a 76 yard dash right through the middle of the Tar Heel line.

The kicking department of the MSU team also claimed much of honors of victory as Lou Bobich, a 175 pound soccer player from Carnegie, Pa., used the side of his foot to boot four extra points and a 35 yard field goal.

Remembering that the Spartnas whipped North Carolina 38-6 last year and still finished with an overall 5-4 record, Daugherty was first to comment that "we don't have any illusions of being a great team, but it was a pretty good start."

* * *

North Carolina had little to show offensively, but credit must be given the MSU defense. The Tar Heels netted on 30 yards rushing and just 84 through the air as their heralded passer Junior Edge hit on only 10 of 26 and had three intercepted.

After the game, Daugherty hurriedly raced home so as to watch his next foe, Southern Cal play Oklahoma. The Sooners upset the highly regarded Trojans 17-12.

The game with Southern Cal will be played Friday night because of the conflict with World Series involving the Dodgers on Saturday.

Oklahoma Making Comeback Bid

By The Associated Press

"We still have to improve in a lot of ways," said Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson.

Maybe so, but knocking off the nation's top-ranked college football team should do for a start.

Maybe so, but seven of them are with Big Eight opposition, against whom Wilkinson has a 93-8-2 lifetime mark.

It took Wilkinson about five minutes to overcome his elation after Oklahoma's 17-12 upset of top-ranked and defending National champion Southern California in Los Angeles Saturday, regain his usual air of caution, and begin pointing out Sooner shortcomings.

The victory, which snapped a string of 12 victories for Rose Bowl champion Southern Cal, was the big one on the Oklahoma comeback that started with last year's 8-2 performance. It made Oklahoma, ranked third last week, a prime candidate to succeed the Trojans in the No. 1 spot.

WEEK OFF

Wilkinson now has a week off to prepare his swarming Sooners for a date with old foe Texas, ranked No. 4 nationally before Saturday's 49-7 romp over Texas Tech. The rest of the Oklahoma schedule is against conference competition.

A fine ball control performance, engineered by quarterback Bobby Page, and two clutch runs by Joe Don Looney were the Oklahoma keys. Looney scored one touchdown and set up another, each with a 19-yard gain on a complex reverse play.

Arkansas, No. 8, was the only other ranked team to fall, bowing before Missouri 7-6 when Missouri quarterback Gary Lane put together a 70-yard third period scoring drive.

Second-ranked Alabama made its bid for the No. 1 position with a 28-0 rout of winless Tulane and No. 5 Navy beat William and Mary by the same score. Middie quarterback Roger Staubach had 297 yards rushing and passing for an Academy record.

Wisconsin and Northwestern, a pair of Big Ten powers ranked sixth and seventh in the nation, respectively, had to come from behind to gain their second straight victories. Wisconsin edged Notre Dame 14-9 and Northwestern lost the ball six times on fumbles and interceptions but managed to take Indiana 34-21.

Billy Lothridge threw three touchdown passes, kicked two field goals and three extra points in leading No. 9 Georgia Tech to a 27-0 decision over Clemson. Pittsburgh, sparked by the all-around play of Fred Mazurek, beat stubborn Washington 13-6 to uphold its No. 10 ranking.

WMU Surprised, 30-14; Northwood Finally Wins

By The Associated Press

Western Michigan went down in defeat Saturday to its only non-major football rival this season—Central Michigan —while Northwood Institute posted its first collegiate football victory.

* * *

The Central Chippewas whipped the Western Broncos, 30-14, handing them their second loss of the season. Last week Western put up a stiff fight but was eventually ground down 41-0 by Big Ten Wisconsin. Central has evened up its season score at 1-1-1.

Central got off to a fast start and never let up. Chuck Koons scored three times for the Chippewas.

Northwood of Midland routed Olivet College 31-12 in a home game Saturday to end the losing streak that marked its first football season. It was 0-6 last year and 0-2 this season.

Jule Mellon of St Norbert scored all three touchdowns as the visitors downed Hillsdale Saturday night. Doug Bickle scored 11 Hillsdale points on a touchdown a field goal and two extra points.

Hillsdale is 2-1 for the season.

Michigan Tech opened its Northern Intercollegiate Conference season with a 16-14 win over Winona State, at Winona, Minn.

Twice in the first quarter Doug King plunged over from the one-yard line to score for Tech.

The Ferris State Bulldogs splashed through a driving rain to drown Albion 6-0 at Big Rapids. The lone touchdown came on the first play in the second quarter — right after the team honored coach Sam Ketchman for his 10 years at Ferris.

* * *

The Kalamazoo Hornets' 12-game winning streak fizzled on a blocked kick and incomplete pass in a 13-12 loss to Eastern Michigan at Kalamazoo Saturday.

Wheaton, Ill., drove in with a last-quarter touchdown for a 19-15 victory over Hope College in a game at Holland Saturday night.

Adrian rolled over Alma 28-0 in a homestand Saturday night. Quarterback Tim Davies scored two touchdowns on short runs to give Adrian a 2-0 season mark and hand Alma its third loss of the young season.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home, Keego Harbor.

Surviving are six daughters, Mrs. Paul Rabaut, Helen M. and Mrs. Thomas McDonnell, all of Union Lake, and Mrs. Carl Moeller of Detroit, Mrs. Robert Austin of Flint and Mrs. Robert Schmidt of Farmington; three sons, Arthur F. of Dearborn and Walter J. and Robert N. of Union Lake; a sister; 47 grandchildren; and 13 great-grandchildren.

Area Man Dies in Well Cave-In

Was Digging by Cabin in Alcona County

Charles Thompson, 37, of 3071 Airport, Waterford Township, died yesterday when a well he was digging near his cabin in Alcona County caved in.

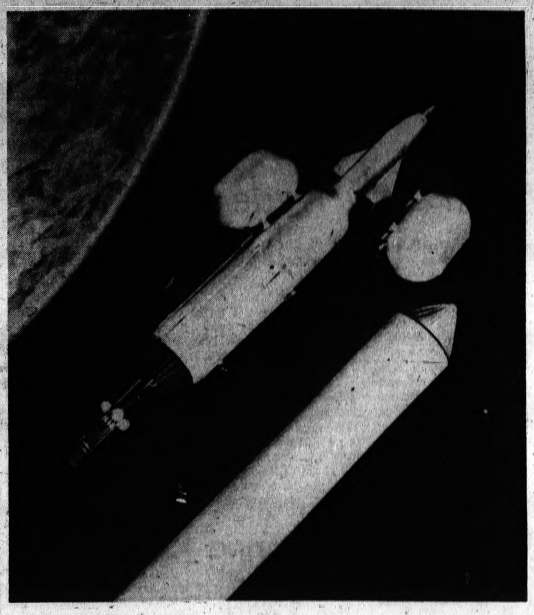

Thompson was 20 to 25 feet below the surface when the cave-in occurred at 4:30 p.m. yesterday. The body was recovered at 12:15 a.m. today by volunteer firemen from the area and Alcona County sheriff's deputies.

Rescue workers said Thompson was digging the well with a hand shovel. The sand was being hauled up in a bucket.

★ ★ ★

The cabin is located in Mikado Township, about 40 miles south of Alpena. Thompson had been vacationing there over the weekend with his family, according to sheriff's officers.

The body was taken to Gillies Funeral Home in nearby Lincoln. It will be sent today to the Coats Funeral Home, 3141 Sashabaw, Waterford Township.

Warrant Sought Against Driver in Bike Death

Waterford Township police will seek a negligent homicide warrant today in connection with a fatal accident yesterday at 7:12 p. m. in front of 317 Cass Lake.

Larry Whaley, 9, of 3816 Hazlett, Waterford Township, was riding his bike south on Cass Lake Road when he was struck by a northbound car driven by John Kelley, 20, of 1580 Bawtree, West Bloomfield Township.

Kelley told police he was passing another car when he saw the boy on the bike. The boy was pronounced dead at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Police said the car was traveling from 45 to 50 miles per hour in a 40-mph zone when the accident occurred. The bike had no light, according to police.

The youngster is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whaley, and a sister, Connie, at home.

Service will be held 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Burial will be in Crescent Hills Cemetery.

Seven Drown in Canal Crash

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Seven youths were drowned Sunday night when their automobile failed to negotiate a curve, slammed through a steel fence and plunged into a shipping canal.

★ ★ ★

The tangled bodies of six were found inside the car, and a seventh body was raised by divers this morning. The car was raised from the Black Rock Canal by police and fire wreckers after its headlights were seen shining in the water.

The seventh body was identified as that of John Sabadsz, Buffalo.

The other dead, all of Buffalo, were Thomas Lucenti, 19; Thomas Clifford, 17; Richard Zawiscowski, 17; Robert J. Ziolo, 17; Daniel Gorski, 17, and John H. Hryhoroic, 16.

Clifford's mother owned the car.

Injury Is Possible in Fall From Auto

A 20-year-old Pontiac woman suffered possible pelvic injuries when she fell out of a car traveling south on Baldwin at about 30 miles per hour last night.

Joy McCullough, 57 Tregent, was a passenger in a car driven by her brother Larry, 24, when she leaned against the door handle and the door flew open, police said.

3 Face Court in Dope Case

Three Saginaw men will be arraigned in Circuit Court next Monday on charges of fraudulently obtaining narcotic drugs.

They are John Brown, 20; Donald Holden, 24; and Harry Givens, 34.

The three were bound over to the higher court after waiving a preliminary examination Saturday before Waterford Township Justice Patrick K. Daly.

★ ★ ★

State police arrested them Friday night on charges of purchasing a cough syrup containing codeine and then signing ficticious names and addresses.

Two other men who were in the car when it was stopped by police on the Dixie — Jerry Williams, 24, and Barry McClendon, 30 — were released by police after questioning.

Givens, Brown and Holden were returned to jail after failing to meet $2,500 bonds each.

Men Trying to Learn How Animals Talk

STELLENBOSCH, South Africa (AP)—What animals have to say to each other and how they go about it is being studied by the Department of Nature Conservation here, working with the Bio-Acoustic Institute of the South African National Parks Board.

The Bio - Acoustic Institute records on tape as many animal noises as possible, then edits and classifies the tapes to interpret the noises.

The recordings also are played back to the animals in order to study their reactions.

Observers point out that noise, although the most significant, is not an animal's only means of communication with fellow animals.

Facial expressions and certain body movements and attitudes also probably have meaning.

Gripes in Carson City

They Threw in Sponge

CARSON CITY (AP) — A mass resignation, citing various personal harassments, has cost this Montcalm County community of 1,200 persons its City Council and its one-man police force.

The action followed a special meeting Friday night when the councilmen were persuaded to stay on until a special election could be held. City Attorney Karl Mikko said the earliest date was 45 days off.

★ ★ ★

ONLY ONE MONTH

Also quitting was Don Struble, Carson City's one-man police force who had been on the job only one month and was the city's fourth police officer in the last two years.

Councilmen said they had been subject to harassment by residents at their homes, on the street and at their business places with complaints ranging from stray dogs, speeding cars and closing hours at the city dump.

★ ★ ★

Struble also claimed he had received many abusive telephone calls and post cards.

GM Division Fire Draws Large Crowd

★ ★ ★

Fire Chief William Van Hulle said the fire apparently was touched off by a small explosion among chemicals stored in the building.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy Finds He's Just Name to Post Office

The White House said the mail finally got through to the President at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

Fidel: Don't Rely Too Much on Russia

HAVANA (AP)—Cubans appreciate Soviet aid but they must not rely on it too heavily, says Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

He called on his countrymen to work harder so Cuba can cut back on Soviet aid and ease a $100-million balance of payments deficit to the Russians.

★ ★ ★

Castro made the plea in a rambling outdoor address Saturday night in which he again unleashed a broad attack on the United States.

A mysterious explosion interrupted Castro at one point, but the Cuban leader remained unruffled. "Don't worry," he told the throng. "It doesn't matter if it is a bomb."

MONTREAL (AP)—Shippers expressed concern today that shipment of 60 million bushels of Canadian wheat to the Soviet Union may be delayed by a strike threat of stevedores in St. Lawrence River ports.

The longshoremen voted Sunday to stop work Friday if there is no agreement in their wage dispute with shipowners.

Members of the International Longshoremen's Association rejected the shippers' offer of a 22-cent-an-hour wage increase over two years. Their present scale is $2.33 an hour plus 29 cents in fringe bnefits.

GIESSEN, Germany (AP) — Three members of Communist Germany's Parliament are visiting West Germany for what is described as private contacts with West German politicians.

The meeting is believed to be the first between politicians of the two Germanys since the Communists built the Berlin wall more than two years ago.

The three were invited by the Liberal Students League, an organization affiliated with the Free Democratic party, coalition partner in Chancellor Adenauer's government.

BREMEN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats have picked up nine seats in the 100-member Bremen State legislature, but the Socialists continue in control of West Germany's smallest state.

The Socialist victory in Sunday's balloting was expected. Led by popular, 76-year-old Wilhelm Kaisen, they have been in control since 1945.

Controllers at Odds on Figures

Detroit Tax Loss Stirs Row

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's city controller and the Michigan State controller disagree over the amount of money Detroit stands to lose in Gov. George Romney's tax reform program.

Each says the other figures wrongly.

State Controller Glenn Allen Jr. said Saturday that Detroit officials had made an error and their estimate of potential revenue losses under Romney's program should have been $7.75 million instead of $10 million.

Detroit Controller Alfred M. Pelham replied that the city would lose at least $9.5 million—$4.25 million because it no longer would be permitted to tax the income of corporations and $5.25 million because it would have to cut in half its 1 per cent tax on income earned in Detroit by non-residents.

Allen said Detroit officials had estimated they would lose $2.25 million in taxes paid by Detroit residents working outside the city — when actually they wouldn't lose a dime from that source.

Detroit, which collects $35 million a year in income taxes, now takes in $4.5 million from residents working outside the city.

"The only way Detroit could lose any of this $4.5 million would be for the cities in which Detroit residents work to enact income taxes of their own." Allen said.

★ ★ ★

Then, under Romney's program, Detroit would have to cut in half its taxes on income earned outside the city by Detroit residents.

★ ★ ★

If that happened, Pelham said, "then Detroit would lose another $2.25 million, or a total of $11.75 million."
