3-Day Holiday Traffic Deaths Mount to 429

Total Barely Exceeds Number of Lives Lost on Normal Weekend

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents killed 429 persons throughout the nation during the 78-hour weekend of Memorial Day.

The deaths occurred between 6 p.m. Thursday and midnight
Sunday, local times.
The weekend toll was only slightly more than an actual nonholiday weekend tally in mid-May this year.

It was within the bracket of the National Safety Council's estimate of 410 to 490 traffic deaths.

Nevertheless, the fatal record was a high for a three-day Memorial Day period.

The previous record was 371 in 1954. Probably, safety experts said, a great increase in the number of cars in use, and in miles traveled, accounted for last weekend's total.

SUNDAY WORST

The heaviest toll was Sunday as millions of motorists jammed highways headed for home after outings.

Reports indicate nearly 150 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the final 24 hours of the holiday period.

Traffic fatalities during the holiday period compared to 418 traffic deaths during a non-holiday weekend of 78 hours, from 6 p.m. Thursday, May 14 to midnight Sunday, May 17.

The Associated Press survey for the non-holiday period also showed 23 deaths in boating accidents and 73 persons drowned, a total of 414.

BOATING TOLL

Boating deaths during the holiday period totaled 18 while 41 persons drowned.

The record high traffic death toll for any Memorial Day holiday period was 462 in a four-day observance in 1961.

Last Memorial Day was a one-day observance and there were 159 deaths on the highway.

June Scheduled for Chilly Start; Showers Due

June is getting off to a chilly start.

For the next five days, temperatures will average about 10 degrees below the normal high of 75 and low of 56.

Precipitation will total one to three-tenths of an inch in occasional periods of mostly light showers.

The low before 8 this morning sagged to 48. By 2 p.m. it had struggled to 68.

A SOLDIER'S SALUTE — A volley of rifle fire crackled over Pontiac Saturday as the Memorial Day Parade ended with an invocation and placing of a wreath at the foot of the Civil War monument at Oakland and Saginaw. Thus Pontiac remembered her dead in several wars for freedom.

Thousands in Area Honor War Dead

Saturday thousands in the Pontiac area paused to remember why many have fought and died for this nation.

Whether watching the parade in Pontiac, visiting the cemetery, enjoying a family outing or "taking it easy" around home, people generally did what they wanted to do.

Those who paid for this freedom with their lives were honored by the community that didn't forget. It was Memorial Day.

Flags were raised proudly over the marching columns up Saginaw Street.
Joining public officials in the parade were veterans, military units, mothers of slain heroes, colorful bands and pretty drum majorettes.

HUSH FELL
A hush fell on the ranks and many spectators as they reached the Civil War monument.

Here an invocation was given by Army Reserve Chaplain Lt.
Col. Francis A. Zimmerman of Pontiac's 33rd Infantry Battalion.

Honorary Parade Marshal
Fred C. Wilkins, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, placed a wreath at the foot of the monument. The simple but fitting tribute ended with the sounding of taps.

The solemn notes were repeated later over the veterans section at Perry Mount Cemetery, where many assembled to place flowers on the graves of loved ones.

Navy mothers cast their wreaths on the waters in a traditional ceremony.

The flowers caught the sunshine of a perfect spring day —
a day to remember.

Court Upsets Ruling on Bible Reading

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court overturned today a Florida court decision that upheld Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in Miami public schools.

The tribunal cited its 1963 decision in a similar case from Abington Township in Pennsylvania.

In the Abington case, and also in a case from Maryland, the Supreme Court, last year, held that required Bible reading and prayer exercises are unconstitutional.

2-Car Crash Ups Fatalities

Three Persons Killed in Troy Accident

Three victims were added to Oakland County's traffic fatality record as a result of a two-car crash in Troy Saturday.

Another motorist died of carbon monoxide poisoning in Commerce Township yesterday.

Killed in the Troy collision were Mr. and Mrs. Emory D. Atkins, 1725 E.
South Blvd., Avon Township, and 29-year-old Nancy Vincel of Warren.

Atkins, 22, was southbound on Dequindre when he was crushed into the side of a car driven by Ronald V. Ryskewicz, 24, of Detroit.

Police said Ryskewicz was westbound on Waukegan and ran through the stop sign at high speed. Miss Vincel was a passenger in Ryskewicz's car.

The girl died about three hours after the mishap in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, a few minutes after the death of Atkins' wife Doris, 17.
Atkins was dead on arrival at the hospital.

Admitted to William Beaumont as a result of the crash were Elizabeth Antosiewicz, 18, of Detroit and Ronald Tychan-ski, 23, of Warren. Both were passengers in the Ryskewicz vehicle.

They are reported in satisfactory condition.

Reported in fair condition are Charles Gibson, 19, of Sterling Township, a passenger in Atkins' car. Another of Atkins' car passengers, Terry Summer, 16, of St. Clair was treated at the hospital and released.

Troy police are continuing investigation of the accident.

A Detroit teen-ager, Ronald J.
Poussorek, 16, was asphyxiated while sitting in his car after it got stuck in a mucky area off 14 Mile Road.

When sheriff's deputies arrived at the scene near Haggerty shortly before 9 a.m., the car engine was still running.

Romney Flies to Hillsdale for Plant Survey

State Mediator Sees Possible Solution to Strife at Essex Wire

HILLSDALE (AP) — Gov.
George W. Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley came here today for a first-hand survey of the Essex Wire Corp. plant, where Romney has called out state troops to preserve order in the wake of violence.

Romney's twin-engine plane landed at 11:26 a. m. A National Guard helicopter flew overhead as it touched down.

With Romney, besides Kelley, were State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs, Robert Danhof, the governor's legal advisor, and Dick Mil-man, Romney's press secretary.

The Lansing group was greeted by Mayor C. Aubrey Paul, City Manager Orville Meyer and Police Chief Harold G. Calkins.
The senior National Guard officer on the scene was Col. Leo C. Whitaker.

All were whisked via convoy from the airport to the struck plant, which they entered after a briefing in a trailer set up outside — a troop command post. A later meeting was scheduled in city council chambers.
"I'm sorry to be here under these circumstances," the governor told Mayor Paul.

DECISION DEFENSE

The governor, in a morning press conference, made a new defense of his decision last Thursday to close the Essex plant indefinitely as a result of violence.

"The action was taken because shooting had started on both sides," said Romney.
"Any time shooting starts on both sides, it's time to move in to protect life and property."

He emphasized that the closing of the plant was intended only to eliminate a potential cause of more violence "and not to influence the collective bargaining relationships" of the firm and the union.

Romney's statements came as

Charges of Smear Tactics Close California Campaign

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen.
Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller directed final appeals to the voters today in an explosive windup to California's presidential primary.

Bitter charges of "smear" and "irresponsibility" between the rival camps sharpened the election either way.

65 PER CENT

The primary, which started out as a ho-hum affair, is expected to bring out 65 per cent of the 7,122,724 registered voters. The total includes 4,022,302 Democrats, 2,895,448 Republicans.

The feverish tempo of the closing weeks matched the infighting over who is going to control the two parties in the state.

Rockefeller, who flew to New

Negro Youths Terrorize NY

Bands of Teens Storm
Subway Trains, Ferry

NEW YORK (AP) — Bands of teen- aged Negro marauders, raiding subway trains and a ferry boat, brought terror to normally quiet sections of Brooklyn and lower Manhattan over the weekend.

Early yesterday 20 youths stormed aboard a subway train en route from Coney Island in Brooklyn and terrorized and robbed passengers.

One passenger, Howard Weiner, 16, was struck in the face with a bottle and robbed of his wrist watch and $3.

Another, Nick Phillipide, 54, was cut about the face and eyes.
A third, Harvey Vine, 26, was punched and kicked.

Phillipide's trousers were ripped off and $97 taken from his wallet.

SMASH WINDOWS
The youths, many of them reeking with alcohol, left the train at Kings Highway, Brooklyn, after smashing windows and light bulbs.

They ran to the street, smashed the window of a beauty parlor and stole about $90 from the cash register.

Residents of the district, which is predominantly white, reacted with anger and a street clash was narrowly averted.

Twelve of the youths were arrested.

Less than two hours earlier, two men and two youths cowed
the motorman aboard a subway train near Prospect Park in Laos Regime Seems to Be Falling Apart; Move on Cong Eyed

HONOLULU (AP) — Top U.S. strategists opened secret talks on Communist-plagued Southeast Asia today as the shaky coalition government of Laos appeared to be falling apart.

The virtual pullout of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao from a patched-up coalition with Laotian nationalists and rightists deepened the crisis atmosphere surrounding the talks.

Just about every key American official concerned with Southeast Asia was present for the two-day conference behind closed doors at Pacific Command headquarters overlooking Pearl Harbor.

The final decision maker —
President Johnson — waited in Washington for recommendations that could lead to military pressures against Communist North Viet Nam, source of much of the trouble in Laos and South Viet Nam.

Any decision involving military moves would mark a significant turn in U.S. policy, which so far has avoided such action against North Viet Nam.

It was understood that U.S. officials have been considering seriously a variety of possible pressures, ranging from demonstrations of strength outside North Viet Nam to more direct military moves as a guerrilla counteroffensive.

WIDE SELECTIONS
The conference was expected to explore a wide selection of diplomatic and military questions, including a possible bigger role for the United Nations in Southeast Asia.

Official American quarters now tend to consider the problems of Laos and South Viet Nam in tandem — rather than separately — as targets of the same Communist threat facing all of Southeast Asia.

Since Pathet Lao forces in Laos began a spring push several weeks ago, there has been a noticeable hardening of U.S. official thinking on North Viet Nam.

North Viet Nam is supplying men, arms and equipment to insurgents in both Laos and South
Viet Nam. Looming behind
North Viet Nam is Communist China.

POSSIBLE REACTION
Any decision to act against North Viet Nam would have to take into account possible reactions by Red China.

The United States has been trying to get across the point that it intends to stay in Southeast Asia — that it will never withdraw while nations there want its help.

It also has been trying, through the medium of official statements, to bring home to the North-Vietnamese that they are asking for trouble by continuing to support Communist rebellions in neighboring countries.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said pointedly yesterday that the Pathet Lao drive has been "directed and supported" by North Viet Nam and that North Viet Nam has backed "the campaign of terror in South Viet Nam."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared in a speech recently

Reds Pull Out of Laos Regime

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Communist Pathet Lao severed its last ties today with neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma's regime, burying the fiction of a coalition government uniting all Laotian factions.

The Pathet Lao announced it no longer recognizes Souvanna Phouma as premier. It said the two remaining Pathet Lao Cabinet members, Secretary of State for Public Works Soukongsack and Secretary of State for Economy Khamphoua Tounoum, would leave the capital.

The two officials have stayed with the Polish delegation to the International Control Commission for the past three weeks, claiming their lives were endangered.

The Pathet Lao asked the commission to assist in the departure of the officials.

PRINCE PRISONER

"Prince Souvanna Phouma is now only a prisoner held by the United States and their lackeys," the Pathet Lao said. "Therefore, he no longer holds the title of premier of the legitimate national union government."

withdrawing its remaining government officials from Vientiane, the rightist-controlled administrative capital.

An announcement by the Pathet Lao radio said the Commuthat if Communist onslaughts continued, the outcome could be an expanded war.

There was one other straw in the wind.

Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., said in a recorded interview in Washington yesterday "The Johnson administration's position is to move north and we are preparing to move north."

Laird is a member of the House Appropriations Committee, frequently cut in on government secrets as a guide in voting money.

The Wisconsin congressman said preparations to move north have been going on for several months. He made it clear that he expects any such thrust to be handled by the South Vietnamese with U.S. advice and support.

LODGE PROTESTS

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, arriving with Rusk yesterday from Saigon, bridled when asked about the possibility of carrying the war into North Viet Nam.

"That phase is so big that it means nothing," Lodge said. He implied there was much that could be done against North Viet Nam short of outright military attack.

Police Report Palm, Fingerprint Found

Clues Are Sparse in Teacher Slaying

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The killer of school teacher and church worker Gary Albert Smock ended police today after having left few clues to the Memorial Day weekend slaying.

Smock, 30, Plymouth junior high school teacher and youth worker for the Church of God, was shot to death Friday night or early Saturday and his shoeless body locked in the trunk of his car.

State Police Sgt. Carl Lutz said the killer may have been a hitchhiker or a demented man. The few clues included a palm and fingerprint on the car.

A state trooper came upon the abandoned car Saturday on U.S. 131 about a mile from here. A wrecker was towing it to the Paw Paw post while Smock's wife, Thelma, 29, was at the sheriff's office in Allegan seeking help in locating her husband.

Smock had been shot in the head with a .22 caliber gun, police reported from an autopsy. The autopsy indicated Smock died about 8 a.m. Saturday. He had told his wife he expected to return here in Allegan the night before, driving back the 40 miles from Battle Creek.

KILLED ELSEWHERE?

Sgt. Lutz said the killing may have taken place elsewhere than where the car was found. He said Smock had been dead from 12 to 20 hours when the car was found but that witnesses said the car had been at the scene only about six hours.

Smock's empty wallet lay in the car. Its contents were strewn about.

Neighbors of the Smocks at Plymouth said the couple was quiet and industrious. The children are Cynthia, 4, and Deanna, 6 months.

William Harding, principal of Plymouth West High School where Smock taught, subscribed to the theory that a hitchhiker might have been the slayer.

VICTIM KINDLY

"Gary would be the kind of fellow to pick up a hitchhiker," Harding said. "He was always going out of his way to help people."

Lutz said Smock had bought gasoline at a filling station near Kalamazoo late Friday night on a credit card. He said the car was found less than 10 miles from the filling station but that its recorded mileage was about 100 miles more than was shown at the filling station.

Funeral services for Smock are to be held Wednesday at Riverside Church of God in Livonia, outside Detroit.

Johnson Car Misses Glass; Aides Don't

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson drove under the legal 70-mile-an-hour Texas speed limit this weekend and kept his seat belt fastened for safety.

But unbeknownst to him, he just missed driving over a broken bottle that flattened the tire of a White House staff vehicle two cars behind.

The President was at the wheel of his white Lincoln sedan on a 15-mile trip from his ranch to a church at Fredericksburg, Tex., when the episode happened yesterday.

Mrs. Johnson and 20-year-old daughter Lynda Bird were with him.

According to eyewitnesses, the broken base of a soft drink bottle was lying jagged-edge up on the road, and a staff car traveling behind the Secret Service followup vehicle that escorts Johnson drove over the glass.

BEGAN HISSING

The left front tire of the White House staff car began hissing, and its driver—a Secret Service agent—pulled safely to the side of the road.

Others in that car included a White House communications aide; Dr. James Young, assistant White House physician, and Capt. Cecil Stoughton, official White House photographer.

The President and his family were unaware—until new stories appeared later—that there had been any glass on the road or that the staff vehicle two cars behind had been forced off the road by the flat.

A United Press-International photographer-reporter team in the same motorcade said the President was driving at speeds of 65 to 70 miles an hour, within the legal speed limit.

DREW HEADLINES

On his last visit home to the LBJ ranch, Johnson drew headlines with reports that he had exceeded the Texas speed limit by driving around the countryside at speeds up to 85 or 90 miles an hour.

At the church service in Fredericksburg, the Johnsons heard the Rev. Clifford E. Edge, pastor of Edison Street Methodist Church, talk about racial problems facing his church and the nation.

LODGE SUPPORT

Rockefeller has attracted the support of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's followers, but he has said repeatedly he is not involved in any "stop Goldwater" movement or acting as a front man for other possible contenders.

A Goldwater victory would edge him close to the 655 votes required for the presidential nomination at the national convention in San Francisco next month.

Rockefeller says that if California goes his way, he'll have at least 40 delegates behind him on the first ballot.

The New York governor's followers have drawn fire—and denials—from the Goldwater faction with assertions that right-wingers are backing the senator in a systematic plan to take over control of the state GOP.

Representative's Uncle Is Reported Missing

HOLLAND (AP)—Wright J. Hutchinson, 83, uncle of Rep. Edward F. Hutchinson, R-Mich., and retired Fennville bank president, was reported missing today from a rest home south of here.

State police and sheriff's men said he reportedly walked away from the home Sunday night and disappeared. Authorities believed he was headed toward his family home at Fennville.

Likely Report: Oswald 'Loner'

Expect Probe to Say He Acted on His Own

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Warren Commission's report on President John F. Kennedy's assassination is expected to substantiate the original FBI finding that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, murdered Kennedy.

The commission has completed its basic work and set the end of the month as the target date for a report expected to detail the evidence that Oswald was the assassin and acted alone.

Commission staff groups are drafting separately the segments of what may be a 500-page report. With its supporting documents and testimony, the report is expected to rival in extent and size the massive report of the Pearl Harbor commission after World War II.

LIKELY EVIDENCE

Barring a sensational reversal of information in the next month, officials indicated the report would present evidence to show that:

1. Oswald, the self-taught Marxist, hater of authority and unstable ne'er-do-well, designed and executed the murder without helpers or co-conspirators.
2. Jack Ruby, the night club owner who shot Oswald to death 48 hours later and thus destroyed all hope of getting a confession, had not known Oswald and was not involved in any plot to silence him. Ruby has been sentenced to death for slaying Oswald, and is appealing.
3. No connection can be developed between the assassination of Kennedy and any plot developed in the Soviet Union, Cuba or Mexico. Oswald had visited the Soviet Union and Mexico, and had tried and failed to get Soviet citizenship.

MIND DAMAGED

4. The motive apparently lay in Oswald's embittered and introverted mind. His Russian-born wife said he had become abnormal, and evidence disclosed that his mother had earlier ignored a school physician's recommendation that he be given psychiatric treatment.

City Will Reconsider Street Paving Program

BIRMINGHAM—City commissioners tonight will reconsider action they took last week to initiate a street paving program.

They declared the necessity of paving and improving Bird, Cummings, Davis, Emmons, Humphrey and Smith streets but minutes later decided to reconsider the move.

The hearing on an adjacent special assessment district composed of Catalpa, Cedar and Edgewood was postponed so that both could be considered at the same time.

Approximately 100 persons crowded into the commission chamber for the hearing last week. Many objected to the proposed program.

Moreover, they said there were others not in favor of the plans.

TWO VOTES TAKEN

The 41 vote on the project was followed by another to reconsider the action.

Hearing on the larger assessment district was requested by a petition signed by 22 per cent of the Bird property owners. A property owner in the other district requested a hearing on that area at the same time.

City officials said the program could be undertaken next year if approved.

Brooklyn. They threatened the motorman with a meat cleaver. Police said the four got off at Prospect Park, boarded another train, and threatened passengers with the cleaver.

One passenger, Clifford Remus, 24, pulled the emergency cord as the train rolled into a station. He ran from the car and called police from the cashier's booth. Police got there in time to grab the four.

Last night, five Negro teenagers attacked a white youth on a train in lower Manhattan, beating him and knifing him in the shoulder.

The victim, Michael Sadev, 17, said the five demanded he turn on his pocket radio and give them money—then attacked him before he could comply. He was taken to a hospital where his condition was described as not serious. All five teenagers were arrested.

On Saturday night about 25 youths went wild on a ferry route from Staten Island to Manhattan. Shouting, dancing and terrorizing passengers, they swept food and drinks off the refreshment counter, stole candy and took $90 from the cash register.

COST OF FREEDOM—Those who paid for this nation's freedom with their lives were honored Saturday in Pontiac and elsewhere across the land. Solemn words of tribute are spoken here over veterans' graves in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

In Dispute With China

Russia Hints Final Break Near

MOSCOW (UPI)—Hints by the Russians during the weekend indicated today that the Soviet Union is moving rapidly toward a final break in state and Communist party relations with Communist China. The Kremlin also virtually conceded that the world Communist camp has been shattered irreparably, and that it must concentrate on consolidating a Moscow-led bloc.

Red China, in its continuing campaign to woo African and Asian support for its policies, said yesterday the Soviet Union would be "out of place" at any meeting of Afro-Asian states.

The statement, contained in the official Peking Peoples Daily, referred to Peking's attempts to bar the Russians from participation in the coming top-level conference of African and Asian nations.

Diplomatic sources said the ideological and political struggle between Moscow and Peking for leadership of the Communist movement appeared to have reached the point where a final break is inevitable.

COEXISTENCE

The dispute centers on Peking's rejection of Russia's policy of peaceful coexistence. The Chinese pursue a more militant course.

The Russians hinted over the weekend that they may recall their ambassador from Peking and reduce their embassy to the caretaker level.

The government newspaper Izvestia said the Soviet Union had been compelled to take "political countermeasures" against Albania because that tiny nation had been "cold-bloodedly" egged on by Peking in the political struggle with Russia.

By "political counter measures," the newspaper obviously was referring to the expulsion of Albanian diplomats from the Soviet capital in December, 1961.

MAY DO SAME

Izvestia indicated the Kremlin may do the same with the Chinese.

Earlier this year the Albanians seized embassy property in Tirana that was in the hands of Soviet caretakers.

Izvestia, in referring to the breakup of the once monolithic world Communist camp, said: "Very important processes are now going on in the Socialist commonwealth. It is now a question of restoring the unity and solidarity of fraternal parties and countries."

Senate Civil Rights Debate Enters Possible Climactic Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate enters today what most of its members expect will be the climactic month of the historic 1964 civil rights debate.

Today's session, the 67th on the House-passed civil rights bill, was expected to be low-key, however, because senators are straggling back to the Capitol after a three-day Memorial Day recess.

Starting Tuesday Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield has promised senators opening three hours earlier than usual in a drive to step up the pace of the debate.

Mansfield has said he hopes the Senate can vote on cloture, its debate-limiting procedure, by June 10. This would mean filing of a cloture petition a week from today. A vote must come on the second day after the petition is filed.

If the two-thirds vote needed to invoke cloture and halt the Southern talkathon is available, the bill is expected to be passed soon afterward. The Southerners fighting the measure concede there are ample votes to put it through once debate has been choked off.

Under cloture each senator is limited to one hour of speech time on all issues. However, he could offer any number of amendments. More than 240 now have been introduced.

Cloture has been invoked by the Senate only five times in its history, never on civil rights. Republican Leader Everett M.

Dirksen agrees that the time has come for action but says the cloture vote may have to be deferred until the third week of this month.

He points to a heavy schedule of high school and college commencement speeches by senators next week.

But Dirksen said Sunday in a television interview it might be possible to charter planes to bring his colleagues back quickly from graduation exercises.

Dirksen said "we expect to get the votes to close the debate" when the test comes.

The leaders are relying heavily on a package of amendments they introduced last week to pick up the final votes.

On an average day about one-half million tons of silt are carried down the Colorado River to Lake Mead, the reservoir created by the Hoover Dam.

It Seems to Me . . .

'Democratic Government Best Even With Its Many Faults'

One of the shrewdest and most analytical remarks on government is attributed to Sir WINSTON CHURCHILL who always has been a handy man with an epigram as well as discerning in analysis.

Quoth the famous Britisher:

"Democracy has many faults and only one redeeming feature: It is the best form of government ever devised by man."

You can ponder over this for hours.

Certainly those who live in the world's greatest democracy know first hand of the horrible injustices that are perpetrated by skillful law dodgers. We know that a democracy protects the crooks, the evildoers and the scum of our society too completely too many times. Often it seems as though it were devised to encourage conniving and skulduggery. We forgive, forget and overlook flagrant violations of decency and honor.

AND YET—this is the best.

What's superior?

An autocracy means one man rules with an iron hand and has complete control of everything. History indicates that ultimately this is always used for personal good and gain.

Consider communism.

As someone said the other day: "Communism is merely a handy way to spread poverty evenly." And that has been its unfortunate history. Under communism, all citizens are equal — equally poor. They aren't starving but they lack those many daily essentials and luxuries that land in the laps of American citizens and which we regard as standard and orthodox.

Surely the greatest hope for the future lies in taking the most workable government the world has ever developed and then struggling everlastingly to improve it and make it even more adaptable for the common good of man.

At various times, this republic seems to be in a period of stagnation — or, what's worse — retrogression. There are indications that we're in one right now, considering the general disregard for law, the juvenile situation and the failures to apprehend and convict wanton criminality with swift and sufficient punishment.

But this cannot be viewed as more than a passing phase and the democratic form of government remains "the best devised by man." And remember, this appraisal comes from an intelligent and perceptive man who knows as much about world government as anyone now or in the past.

Expansion Plans . . .

Current statistics indicate Michigan is one of the six states in the Nation that is scheduled for the greatest expansion of independent businesses in the period ahead. The average number of employees is small, but the trend indicates that all employers — large and small — have new confidence in the Wolverine commonwealth. The days of fear and actual decline under "SOAPY" WILLIAMS are at an end.

This is marvelous news.

Confidence has returned.

Hostile measures against man agement plus punitive taxation and bungling management cost Michigan dearly. Industries already here placed their growth in other states and some silently pulled stakes and departed. Michigan became nationally known for lack of industrial progress and its financial upheavals attracted attention beyond the Nation's borders. The current statistics indicate confidence has returned and once again we are completely solvent — glory be.

The other five leaders that rank with Michigan in expansion plans are: Rhode Island, South Dakota, Connecticut, New Jersey and Arkansas.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

This may surprise you. The No. 1 attraction for European tourists is Niagara Falls. . . . Our own Associated Press says the most commonly misspelled word it encounters is "accommodate"—or is it "accommodate"—or maybe "accommodate." . . . A New York paper asked readers whether they wanted BOBBY KENNEDY to move to New York and run for the U. S. Senate from there. Most thumbs were turned down.

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady in the area: Judy Varner. . . . Japan is arising again in another stern battle for JUDY A. U. S. market. This time it's watches. In 1962, she shipped 750,000 over here and last year it was 1.5 million! The lower wage scale is the big factor. Jap photographers were recently tossed out of Swiss factories for too-energetic camera work. . . . Opening night in Gotham — First Critic: "What'd you think of that show?" Second Critic: "I think it stinks." First C.: "I don't believe I liked it that much."

WEST GALLOGLY tells me that the recent tornado touched down in Lake Angelus and drew a waterspout to unbelievable heights and then hurled a 15-foot wave shoreward that washed over the top of his boathouse door. . . . Small Boy: "My dad told me not to drop out of school as he heard they were going to stop making pick-handies and things like that."

Scientists say life as we know it is impossible on Venus as temperatures there approximate 600 degrees and blood (ours) boils at 212. . . . The strawberry news gets better. Not only should the current crop be the finest in memory but it will be one of the largest. No matter what you think of the weather, 1964 has been perfect for strawberries. Department of Cheers and Jeers: The C's — CALVIN WERNER and his gigantic family at GMC Truck and Coach for their tremendous success; the J's — that woman driver that hit the squirrel and left it in death throes, as she sped on.

David Lawrence Says:

Suit Hits One-Newspaper Cities

WASHINGTON — The Department of Justice is seeking the power to decide, in effect, how many newspapers a city may have and who shall be prohibited from owning them.

The Constitution, of course, forbids Congress to pass any law "which shall abridge the freedom of the press."

But a suit just filed against a Cincinnati newspaper is presumably based on the theory that the Supreme Court of the United States may rewrite at will that same Constitution.

Many cities, due to economic exigencies, now have only one newspaper or a morning and afternoon newspaper owned by a single company.

Theoretically, it might appear that each community should have competitive newspapers, and for many years in America this was the case. But over a period of time, more and more of the communities have found themselves served by a single newspaper property.

IN 1945 for instance, out of the 1,345 cities in this country having a daily newspaper, there was more than one ownership in each of only 81 cities.

Today, 1,488 cities and towns have a daily newspaper, and all but 68 communities have a single ownership, whether publishing a morning or afternoon edition or both.

What brought this about? Certainly it was not the wish of the newspaper proprietors themselves, so many of whom, when forced to the wall by economic difficulties, ended up by either extinguishing the property altogether or selling the residual assets to a former competitor.

Why, all of a sudden, should the Department of Justice set itself up as the supervisor of the number of newspaper properties in the United States?

BEHIND SCENES

It is necessary to look behind the scenes, where it will be found that, as usual, politics — the opportunity to curry favor with national labor unions — is largely responsible for the new turn in administration policy.

Labor unions naturally are anxious to preserve jobs, and this objective can be readily understood. But, as newspaper properties under a single ownership in a community have become successful and as population has increased, more jobs have been created.

Newspapers, of course, do not have a monopoly on communication facilities within a city, and even a single ownership doesn't mean monopoly.

Newspapers everywhere face the stiffest competition today not merely for circulation but for the revenues they must derive from advertising in order to keep going.

DIFFERENT CASE

The latest antitrust suit is said to be different from all others.

In this case, the company owning an afternoon newspaper in Cincinnati is accused of monopoly and restraint of trade, because in 1956, it bought control of the stock of the morning newspaper, which is the only other newspaper in the city.

Different managements, different editorial policies and separate printing plants have been maintained ever since, but after eight years, all this is suddenly ignored by the Department of Justice.

Capital Letter:

Exercise Value Shown in Test for Astronauts

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY — WASHINGTON — Recent experiments at the School of Aerospace Medicine in San Antonio suggest that prolonged physical inactivity, rather than weightlessness, is the principal physiological peril during space flights.

This fact should serve as a warning to executives, typists and factory workers who sit all day, and to pampered women who like to loiter over in bed.

Dr. Lawrence E. Lamb, chief of the school's clinical sciences division, devised the simple tests which are revolutionizing thinking on the matter of orbital hazards.

Astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Gordon L. Cooper exhibited instability of blood pressure and pulse rate, increased heart rate and a drop in blood pressure after their orbital flights.

Dr. Lamb believes they were merely suffering "orthostatic intolerance" (difficulty in adjusting to change of position) after prolonged immobility.

PROVED THESIS

To prove his thesis, he chose six healthy airmen at Brooks Air Force Base. Each was weighed, hemoglobin and red cell counts were taken; and then they were strapped to a standard tilt table while he checked their normal adjustment to vertical and horizontal positions.

The next day he placed his subjects in comfortable over-stuffed chairs which were slightly tilted backward. The airmen were then tied to the chairs at chest-level. Both of their legs and one arm were also strapped down.

Except for trips to the bathroom, the men remained in this position for four days. They watched television, ate their normal rations, and slept eight hours each night.

On the fifth morning they were released from their bonds, and the tilt-table procedure was repeated exactly as before their confinement. Dr. Lamb's suspicions were confirmed.

THREE RESPONDED

None of the six subjects had shown any adverse circulatory

The Department of Justice evidently thinks that antitrust laws may be used to bring about a form of commercial suicide. (Copyright, 1964, New York Herald Tribune Syndicate, Inc.)

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Praised

I was a patient at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and found the staff well-trained and willing to make patients comfortable. I was amazed at how often the bed linens are changed. The food was plentiful and good. I don't know if it was intentional but all four of us in one room were nonsmokers and we appreciated this arrangement. The chimes and music from the Community National Bank Building also contributed to our daily enjoyment.

Why do some think they are superior enough to say the Negro needs to raise his standard of living? Some of our living areas aren't so well kept, but the same holds true in some white areas.

As for living on the same level with the white man, aren't we entitled to this from our Creator? What laws must we accept to accomplish our goals—laws made by people or laws which come from God?

California Primary

The Los Angeles Times

California Republicans, long influential in selecting their party's nominee for President, face an unusually crucial decision in the June 2 primary. California holds the key to the nomination.

Only two delegations, those pledged to Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater and to New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, appear on the California ballot. State law does not permit write-ins. Thus, many Republicans, who may prefer another of the distinguished Republican candidates, such as Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, former Vice President Richard Nixon, or Pennsylvania's Gov. William Scranton, cannot express their free choice.

Traditionally, the Times has made its endorsement for President in the Republican primary, and because we deeply believe in the party's principles we have always supported the nominee. The Times has thoughtfully observed the campaigns in California of both Goldwater and Rockefeller. Both of them are

'Problems in Waterford Sign of Growth in Area'

Waterford Township problems are mostly associated with economic and social progress and are reminders that the development of the township and its way of life will always be unfinished business. New challenges and opportunities will continually lie ahead.

To successfully meet these challenges, common sense dictates that we turn to the principles of good government and a township supervisor with the courage and resolution to follow sound fiscal policies.

NOT ADVENTUROUS

Youths Write About Catholic Education

The controversial subject of "Should I send my children to a Catholic school?" has not yet been answered. Why not ask students who go to a parochial school. We at St. Frederick's feel privileged to be able to receive our education at a Catholic school. It has everything that we want to take care of our spiritual, intellectual and moral needs. There are many children who want to come to our school but there is not enough room for teachers.

Although most Catholic schools need more and better equipment that does not hinder our Sisters or lay teachers from doing a marvelous job.

'Johnson Presents Two Faces to Voters'

Lyndon Johnson is the type of politician who could run for the U. S. Senate in Texas on a conservative states rights platform, and at the same time run for vice president on a liberal, big government platform. He has continued to present the same two faces since he has been President.

While he pulls buggies' ears and voters legs, all of Asia is fast approaching communism. While he sets up poverty-stricken families as examples of the need for another federal spending program, he poses as a thrifty millionaire who accepts expensive gifts from government employees.

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Praised

I was a patient at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and found the staff well-trained and willing to make patients comfortable. I was amazed at how often the bed linens are changed. The food was plentiful and good. I don't know if it was intentional but all four of us in one room were nonsmokers and we appreciated this arrangement. The chimes and music from the Community National Bank Building also contributed to our daily enjoyment.

Why do some think they are superior enough to say the Negro needs to raise his standard of living? Some of our living areas aren't so well kept, but the same holds true in some white areas.

Pact Signed on Red-U.S. Prisoners

MOSCOW (UPI)—The United States and the Soviet Union signed a consular convention today giving U.S. officials prompt access to any American citizens detained or arrested in Russia.

Soviet officials in America will have reciprocal rights.

The historic agreement, the first bilateral treaty in 30 years between the Soviet Union and the United States, paved the way for talks on setting up a Soviet consulate in New York, Chicago or San Francisco, and an American consulate in Leningrad.

U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko signed the documents in Spiridonovka Palace, a foreign ministry ceremonial building.

The treaty, hammered out in negotiations that began Sept. 27, must be ratified by the U.S. Senate and will formally come into being upon exchange of instruments of ratification in Washington.

WITHIN 3 DAYS

The agreement provides that U.S. and Soviet officials be informed within three days of the arrest or detention of each other's nationals and may visit and communicate with them within four days.

Soviet authorities in the past have detained Americans for lengthy periods of time.

The most recent example was the arrest last November of Yale University Prof. Frederick C. Barghorn who was held incommunicado in Moscow's Lubyanka Prison for 16 days before being released. The Russians charged him with spying.

At the signing ceremony Kohler said the consular convention would "serve as a code of behavior in our consular relations."

He added: "We must recognize, however, that we have a long way to go before the remaining barriers to free interchange are brought down. I would hope that this convention . . . might serve as a stimulus to an even greater flow of persons, goods and ideas."

Big Strikes Likely -- Labor Magazine

DETROIT (AP)—"Big strikes" are likely in the auto industry this summer unless the car companies and the United Auto Workers come closer together, says the newsletter "Labor Trends."

Publisher Stanley H. Brams, economist and labor scene observer, says in the current edition that the "gaps between the parties are too wide and the attitudes too inflexible for peaceful solutions."

18 Nations Answer Call to Aid Viet Nam Battle

By ROY ESSOVAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—President Johnson's call for more flags to support the war effort in South Viet Nam has brought favorable responses from more than 18 nations, but the United States will continue shouldering an "overwhelming proportion of the burden."

The United States provides 97 per cent of the foreign aid received by the government of South Viet Nam. The aid expected from other countries is not likely to reduce this percentage. It will probably increase.

Officials say responses received so far from other nations range from "encouraging" to "enthusiastic." But most have been in general terms, and discussions are still in the initial stage.

Most of the aid is expected to be economic, technical and medical. It will be aimed at the rural population and tailored to their needs.

DROP IN BUCKET

Officials concede that the aid other countries contribute probably will continue to be a drop in the bucket compared to the U.S. effort. But it may have an important symbolic value.

"It will broaden the base of free world support for the war effort in South Viet Nam and help counter charges that this is an American war," one official said.

The United States maintains about 16,000 military men in South Viet Nam and is pouring $500 million a year into the country in military and economic aid. It has recently promised an additional $125 million.

The next biggest contributor, France, has provided an average of $5 million a year over the last 10 years in economic, technical and cultural aid.

OTHER TOTALS

Contributions of all the other nations combined total less than $10 million a year.

This includes contributions from Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Japan, Nationalist China, West Germany and Great Britain.

New Zealand has offered a noncombat military unit of 25 army engineers to help build roads and bridges. A New Zealand surgical team has been working in central Viet Nam for more than a year and New Zealand has contributed teachers, doctors, medical equipment and capital aid under the Colombo Plan.

South Korea has promised a medical team and a small guerrilla training unit.

CHINA MISSION

Nationalist China has promised to increase the number of experts in its economic and technical mission here from 27 to about 100. It has also offered $500,000 worth of agricultural machinery.

Australia is expected to send more agricultural equipment and possibly military advisers. Prior to President Johnson's call, it had promised 15,000 blankets for victims of Viet Cong attacks, agricultural hand tools, road-making equipment, pumps and para-military equipment such as tents, radios, and barbed wire.

Australia also plans to build a 50-kilowatt broadcasting station and send a surgical team. It maintains 30 military advisers here, training the Vietnamese in jungle warfare, and has built a dairy farm and contributed vehicles and equipment.

Japan has offered new loans and more medical and technical aid, but no figures have been announced. Japan's contributions have included $39 million for World War II reparations and $17 million loan to finance construction of a dam and import of Japanese goods.

WEST GERMANY West Germany also is expected to extend its loan program, which has included $18 million for a chemical plant and $4 million to finance imports from Germany.

Canada, Britain and other members of the Colombo Plan have contributed to educational programs. Britain has a small mission, helping in construction of strategic hamlets and has contributed $1.5 million for dredges.

New Orleans Bids Adieu to Its Streetcars

NEW ORLEANS (U-P)—Shiny new air-conditioned buses operated today in place of ancient street cars on Canal Street—this historic old city's main thoroughfare.

The buses took over yesterday.

Streetcar No. 958, the last trolley in service, rumbled along on its pre-dawn run yesterday with a shrieking, singing crowd aboard.

Everytime it passed a bus, the riders leaned out the streetcar windows to boo and hiss.

FLOWER WREATH

Members of an anti-bus faction, Streetcars Desired, Inc., placed a wreath of gladioli beside the tracks. Its blue ribbon proclaimed, "Canal streetcars. Gone, but not forever."

Selective Buying Urged by King

NEW YORK (U-P)—The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King says selective buying might be a good weapon to gain better jobs for Negroes, and the auto industry might be a good place to start.

King, chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said yesterday he will call a nationwide conference of civil rights leaders on the subject next fall.

"We thought we'd start with the automotive industry . . . going through all the major companies," King said in a New York radio interview. "I think this can be a very effective weapon."

Junior Editors Quiz on MARBLES

LAG LINE
10 FEET ACROSS
SCRAP GLASS
PEPPER MINT STRIPES

PITCH LINE
KNUCKLE DOWN. NO HUNCHING

QUESTION: How are marbles played?

ANSWER: Boys have played marbles since Greek and Roman days and there have been many variations of the game. But American children, today, generally play "ringer."

For this, one marks a circle about 10 feet across. There is a "lag line" and a "pitch line" as our diagram shows.

You put a marble in the center of the circle and arrange a dozen more in the shape of a cross, three on each side of the center. Then the two to six players "lag" for turns by throwing or shooting their large "shooter" marbles from the pitch line toward the lag line.

The nearest shot wins first turn for its owner, the next nearest, next turn and so on. Then the players shoot their "laws," or "monnies" (shooters) at the "migs," "ducks" or "hoodies" (ring marbles) trying to knock these last out of the ring. If you shoot out the most marbles, you win.

Except for lagging for turns, marbles are shot by "knuckling down" — one knuckle touching the ground as the thumb snaps the marble out. You're not supposed to "hust" — raise your hand from the ground or "hunch," which means moving your hand forward.

FOR YOU TO DO: Check your marbles by seeing if you understand these terms: "lofting," arching through the air to hit a marble, "for fair," playing for fun, giving marbles won back; "for keeps" keeping marbles you win; "bowling," rolling a shot.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Unusual Disease Attacks Fingers, Toes

Q — My doctor says I have Raynaud's disease. What causes it and what can be done for it?

A — The cause of Raynaud's disease is unknown. The victims suffer from spasmodic contraction of the small arteries of their fingers, toes.

The attacks may be brought on by emotional stress or exposure to cold. First the fingers become white, then turn purple or blue.

As the spasm relaxes, the blood rushes into the fingers and they become very red. There is no danger of losing the fingers through gangrene.

Lack of vitamin B-6 can be a cause. You should also take special care to protect your hands and feet from the cold. Moving to a warm climate is sometimes advisable.

Women with this disease are sometimes helped by taking estrogens (female hormones) especially if they are nearing the menopause.

Smoking will aggravate your condition. Some victims whose disease is severe and of long standing can get relief after surgical cutting of some of the sympathetic nerve roots as they come out of the spinal column, but the effect is not permanent.

Q — Several years ago after I had an electrocardiogram, my doctor gave me Tetracycline. What are they for?

Will this drug cause any harmful effects or lose its effectiveness when taken for a prolonged period?

A — This drug is given to dilate the arteries in persons who have angina pectoris or coronary heart disease. There are no harmful effects or loss of effectiveness with prolonged use. Anyone who is taking this drug should be checked for glaucoma twice a year.

The drug does not cause glaucoma but when this disease is present the drug will aggravate it.

Q — What causes Sjogren's disease? My tongue is dry and I have no saliva. Is there any cure for this?

A — Sjogren's disease is characterized by dryness of the eyes and mouth and rheumatoid arthritis.

Constipation may also be a problem. The cause is unknown. Methylcellulose eye drops and throat spray help to relieve the dryness and chloroquine may benefit the joint pains, but there is no permanent cure.

Q — After a bad cut for which I had several stitches, my doctor gave me tetracycline for five days. Could this drug cause any side effects?

A — Tetracycline is an antibiotic that is used to prevent

Neighbors Mourn Racer Eddie Sachs

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Race driver Eddie Sachs' neighbors of Clinton Township southwest of here sorrowed over his death in the Indianapolis 500-mile classic.

"It makes you kind of sick," said Robert Beatty, 42, who never gazed about racing until he became Sachs' friend.

At another home 14-year-old Nancy Neal wept.

"The only deaths close to her," said her mother, Mrs. James Neal, "were President Kennedy's and now Eddie's. It has hit her pretty hard."

Mammoth Project Marks Fifth Year

St. Lawrence Seaway: Success or Failure?

By ROBERT COCHNAR
DETROIT (NEA) — Joe McDermott wheeled his cab to a halt at the cement banks of the Detroit River and watched the bulk of an ocean freighter gently touch a pier.

"I guess this sounds silly," McDermott said, "but I never thought I'd see a big ship like that in Detroit."

Residents of 22 major port cities embrace the 8,300-mile coastline of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River may be experiencing the same sensation every time a deep-water ship ties up at their wharves — a sensation for which the St. Lawrence Seaway is wholly responsible.

When the seaway, a joint project of the governments of Canada and the United States, opened for business just five years ago, it was widely hailed as "America's fourth seacoast," "the arrival of a miracle" and

"opening new vistas for every food grower and machine maker between the Alleghenies and the Rocky Mountains."

Has the seaway proven to be a miracle? Has it transformed the economy of the Midwest as the forecasters predicted?

Its critics (and it has many) say, "No — and we always told you so." But the administrator of the American operation declares, "Not yet — but it will give it time."

Joseph H. McCann, from the field office of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp. in Cobo Hall overlooking the Detroit River, explains:

"The seaway is a success. Of course, too much was expected of the waterway too soon. It has already done more for the Midwest than most people realize. But its great potential is still in the future."

The seaway itself is actually a 400-mile-long channel in the St. Lawrence River, extending from Montreal to Lake Ontario.

INLAND VOYAGE

To get to Lake Superior, farthest point west in the 1,800-mile system, a ship must first sail 1,000 miles inland from the Atlantic Ocean to Montreal and then be lifted 602 feet above sea level by seven locks.

According to original estimates, the seaway should have carried 41 million tons of cargo in 1963. It carried only 31 million.

The American sector was expected to pay off its debt to the U. S. Treasury in 50 years; so far, it has paid about $11 million.

This is not even enough to cover the interest rate of 3½ per cent on the loan.

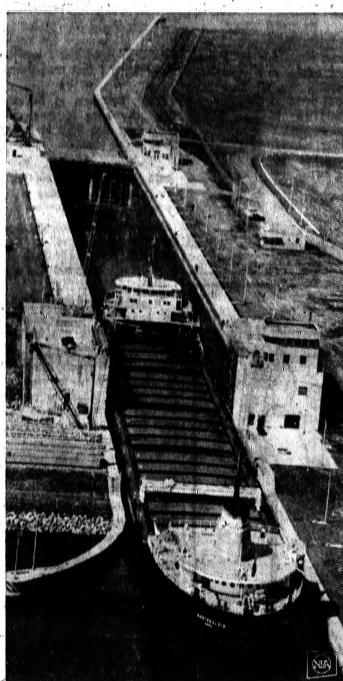

SUGGESTS TOLL HIKE

The Association of American Railroads, whose members compete with the seaway, sees this deficit as a drain on the taxpayer and strongly suggests the waterway raise its tolls and "stop penalizing competing modes of transportation through the present subsidy of subterfuge."

The railroads in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence area, according to the association, are hurting because they can't compete with the seaway.

Five railroads have suffered a 16 per cent drop in freight since the opening of the seaway, say railroad men.

But Cleveland port director William Rogers, who is also chairman of the International

BIG SQUEEZE — A Canadian freighter eases its way through the Eisenhower Lock — a link in the St. Lawrence Seaway system.

Association of Great Lakes Ports, looks at the situation differently.

"A lot of selfish interest in the East and Midwest, mainly the railroads, are not exactly going out of their way to boost the seaway."

"They simply don't — or won't — realize its economic impact. They've been fighting it for years."

"The railroads have got to realize the seaway is here to stay and adjust themselves accordingly. We must have co-operative action."

Carl J. Stettin, executive director of the Detroit — Wayne County Port Commission, also feels the seaway needs more time to prove itself.

"None of the world's best-known canals became an overnight success," he says.

PANAMA CANAL

"It took 42 years for the Panama Canal to increase its traffic from 5 million to 50 million tons."

The Canadian government is even more interested in the seaway's future since it paid about 80 per cent of the $450 million it cost to build.

The seaway owes $12 million in overdue interest payments to the United States, but it owes $65 million to Canada.

Canadians, however, remain optimistic. To encourage shipping, they plan to keep the Welland Canal, the channel which routes ships around Niagara Falls, toll-free.

Since the original legislation provided for a review of tolls after five years, a U. S. Senate Commerce subcommittee is currently looking into the toll structure. A report is expected in July.

McCann and Great Lakes port directors are, to a man, firmly against any increases. They reason: "We're trying to increase shipping and therefore increase receipts. To raise tolls would surely cut back on shipping."

Cleveland's Bill Rogers provides an example of how port cities are already reaping economic benefits from the seaway.

"We've had to rebuild all our facilities. This cost us $12 million, but we regard it as a long-term investment in the future of the American heartland. And we're not doing badly, either."

CARGO INCREASED
"In four years, Cleveland has increased its general cargo from about 60,000 tons to 325,000 tons. We're up 22 per cent from 1962."

The increase at other ports is about the same. And whenever a ton of cargo comes into a port a 16-dollar bill is added to the city's economy."

Administrator McCann points out that the seaway is not yet completed.

"We won't be finished until all of our ports can take ships with drafts up to 27 feet. Right now, we can handle 25½-foot drafts."

COMPLETION BY 1970

The projected completion date McCann estimates, is 1970, when the seaway will be able to handle 50 million tons of cargo a year, or more.

The waterway still has problems to overcome. McCann says "some ports are still lagging in port development and most ports are negligent in promotion. As we develop and grow there is an increased need to tell the world what we have to offer."

Despite the slower-than-anticipated economic impact, some benefits to industry are being felt.

Tom Campbell, publisher of The Iron Age, the journal of the steel industry, says the waterway is partly responsible for the strong position the steel industry now finds itself in.

'EXPAND ORE FLOW'
"The seaway has expanded the flow of iron ore from Canada to Midwest steel plants. And this has caused American steel manufacturers to upgrade and compete strongly with Canadian products."

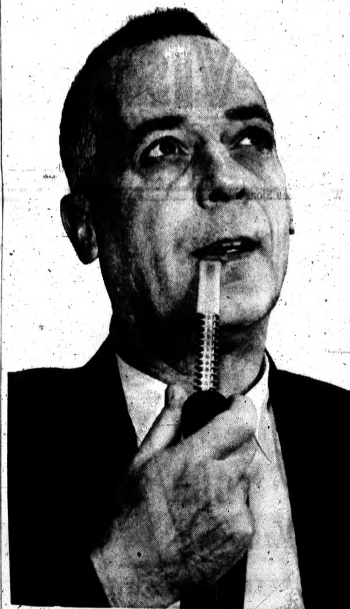

"But more importantly," Campbell adds, "the seaway will, for some time, be the route of low-priced steel into the Midwest from Europe and Asia."

"Later, this trend will change and American steel mills will be invading world markets with competitive prices and top quality."

Because of the warm spring which melted its ice, the seaway opened for navigation this year on April 7 — earliest in history.

The route is closed during the winter. McCann predicts that some 36 million tons will travel the waterway this season, a sure sign that the rosy future depicted by seaway "dreamers" is not too far away.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible To Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special)—A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observation proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is in the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation II®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation II lubricates and smoothes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation II contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation II Ointment or Preparation II Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

With Wisecracks Hears Facts; Then Reacts

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is almost impossible for a newspaper reader to be completely objective. We all have some sort of personal reaction to what we read.

After all, we do not live in a vacuum, although I would like to try that sometime.

Listed below are a few items that I have run across recently. The reader is invited to compare his reactions with those that I experienced when I first read them.

Item: Scientists at Indiana University have found a microbe that ties itself in knots when it gets crowded.

Reaction: Big deal. I've been tying myself in knots for years without attracting any scientific interest whatsoever.

Item: The man who operates the "Tunnel of Love" at the Palisades Amusement Park in New Jersey is named Richard Burton.

Reaction: Big deal. I used to know a woman named Elizabeth Taylor who was a marriage counselor.

Item: The telephone company is getting ready to open a three-city "picturephone" service that enables people to see each other while they are talking long distance.

Reaction: I hope nobody calls Aunt Mert. She's got a phone in her bathroom.

Item: The Agriculture Department has developed an "instant" process for aging rice. Within just a few hours, the rice ages the equivalent of six to 10 months.

Reaction: The same thing happened to me once in Chicago.

Item: Wheel a horse does, a muscular reaction locks its leg joints in place.

Reactions: The same thing happens when I bet on a horse. In fact, I was at a race track in Chicago that time I aged six months in just a few hours.

Items: The latest Sears, Roebuck catalog is said to list "everything from a nine-cent box of tacks to a $6,500 diamond ring."

Reaction: Bet it doesn't list a Montgomery Ward butter churn.

Item: Tests conducted at a Florida country club indicate that golfers can improve their scores by drinking beer before they putt.

Reaction: I'm not surprised.

Shastri Gaining in India Race

Election Is Expected; Opponent Won't Quit

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The battle to succeed the late Prime Minister Nehru appeared today to be swinging heavily in favor of Lal Bahadur Shastri, minister without portfolio. But Shastri's leading challenger refused to give up.

Former Finance Minister Morarji Desai, the No. 2 candidate, said a report that he had withdrawn was "all propaganda from the other side."

It appeared, however, that ranking members of the ruling Congress party were lining up behind Shastri and that he would be elected by acclamation at a party meeting Tuesday.

Party leaders asked party President Kumaraswami Kamaraj to poll leading members and advise which candidate should be elected. He was reported finding a Shastri boom.

MEET OFFICIALS

Kamaraj said which candidate he will propose is far from settled. He said he would meet 300 Congress officials, including Desai, and should have a good idea of how things shaped up by tonight.

The usually well-informed Times of India reported "the field is now clear for the unanimous election" of Shastri.

Desai also said Kamaraj probably will advise the party to elect Shastri.

"He has been in favor of Shastri all along," Desai said, "so I don't think he can give any other verdict."

REFUSED COMMENT

Shastri refused to comment. "What have I to say?" he said to a newsman. "We should all pray to God to give us the wisdom, strength and humility to carry on the traditions of the great man."

Nehru refused to nominate his successor before he died Wednesday, saying it would be undemocratic.

Bolivia Counts Blank Ballots

Expect Indication of Winner's Opposition

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—President Victor Paz Estenssoro, the only candidate, was reelected Sunday, but counting of blank ballots was awaited today for an indication of the strength of his opposition.

With voting mandatory for men over 18 and women over 21, the number of unmarked ballots, as urged by the president's opponents, would indicate Paz' support or lack of it.

About 1 million persons were eligible to vote.

Paz, 56, told supporters at a victory party Sunday night his reelection proved the people want tranquility.

VIOLENCE FLARES

Scattered violence was reported during the election, including a student attack on La Paz headquarters of the National Revolutionary Movement, Paz' party.

Vice President Juan Lechin and former President Hernan Siles began a hunger strike Friday to protest the election. They had called for a mass boycott of voting stations.

A general strike was called Sunday by the leftist Bolivian Tin Miners Federation, which Lechin heads.

Paz changed the Bolivian constitution two years ago so that a president could succeed himself. He served a four-year term 1952-56, then was elected again in 1960.

OPPOSED MILITARY

Elected vice president was Gen. Rene Barrientos Otuño, 45, former air force chief of staff. Paz had opposed selection of a military man for his running mate.

Contests existed for 10 of the 29 senate seats and 36 of the 105 chamber of deputies seats.

Couple Loses Four Children in N.J. Fire

HOPATCONG, N. J. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hennings lay burned and dazed in a hospital room today, the victims of a fire that killed four of their five children and their vacation host.

A priest who sought to console the couple last night said that Hennings, 40, kept repeating, "four of them, all four of them."

The fire struck yesterday in a house in which Mrs. Hennings, her five children, and the owner, Mrs. Theresa Coston, 53, were sleeping.

Mrs. Hennings, 37, managed to flee with her 2-year-old son, William. The other children, ranging in age from 3 to 13, and Mrs. Coston were burned to death in their beds.

Hennings, who was sleeping alone in a nearby cottage, tried with his wife to enter the burning home, but they were driven back by the flames.

Nuclear Physicist Dead

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Leo Szilard, 66, famed nuclear physicist who helped the United States become an atomic power and then later campaigned for peace, died Saturday, apparently of a heart attack. Szilard, who was born in Budapest and came to the United States in 1937, was a former professor of biophysics at the University of Chicago.

Photographers Get Evidence

No Smiles for These Cameras

NEW YORK (NEA) — When the amateur photographer makes a mistake when snapping his relatives in the back yard — well, only a roll of film is wasted. But when James Minor goes behind the camera, thousands of dollars, or even a man's life, can be lost.

Minor is one of 250 shutterbugs who belong to the nation's most exclusive lens fraternity, the Forensic Photographers Committee of the Professional Photographers of America.

These men make their living by recording on film the scene of an accident or crime for possible use as court evidence.

"Things get pretty gruesome at times," said Minor, "but after 11 years in the business (he is 35) you get used to it."

"For example, on the same day I photographed an adult man and a girl about 5 years old."

100 STITCHES

"The man had 100 stitches taken in his face as a result of an accident, and the girl was badly scalded with a tray of hot coffee."

"The court, if negligence is proved, will usually award more to a woman than a man in such cases—the theory being that a girl's marriage chances are hurt."

Most of the time, according to Minor, an evidence photographer (as they are known in the trade) will spend his day shooting a picture of a broken step or sidewalk from many angles.

Often the judge or jury cannot travel to the scene of an accident. Photographs can be important in deciding a lawsuit for negligence.

CALLED BY FIRMS

Most evidence photographers are called into a case by insurance companies or lawyers — either to defend against a suit or to support a claim.

"You run into a lot of funny things in this business," Minor said.

"Many suits are brought by women against hotels and restaurants."

They charge, for example, that they slipped on a wet floor in a women's rest room. So the evidence photographer has to go in there and shoot the location.

UPSETTING EXPERIENCE

"It upsets a lot of women when they chance to walk into a rest room to find a man with a camera prowling around."

Auto accidents are a big part of Minor's business. "You have to show not only the car and the damage, but the relation of the auto to everything else around it."

Sometimes the photographer sits in the seat of a car and shoots through the mirrors to show the visibility of the driver.

NOT ALL ACCEPTED

"Not all courts accept photographs all the time. Some judges feel that grim photos just 'inflammate a jury'."

"But the evidence photo was accepted in an American court in 1859. And 3-D photos were used as far back as the 1880s."

One odd use of evidence photographs took place in Texas.

An insurance company believed that a "lawsuit ring" was at work in a factory — making false accident claims regularly. The company retained the services of a photographer.

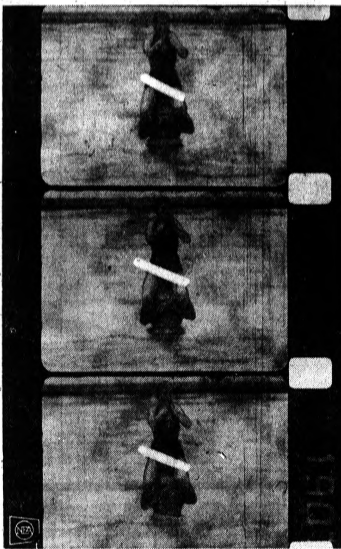

The photographer hired a girl who made friends with one of the claimants; a young man who supposedly was forced to wear a back brace because of an injury.

Then, from a panel truck the photographer secretly shot hundreds of feet of movie film showing the couple roller skating, bowling and cavorting in a swimming pool.

No back brace. No apparent disability. No lawsuit that would stand up well in court.

WATERLOO'S FINE — Man suing for injured back was unaware that evidence photographer had camera trained on him as he capered with a girl in a swimming pool.

Polly's Pointers

Old Needles Useful

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY:—A useful rack for machine bobbins or spools of thread can be made with discarded knitting needles.
Simply slip the bobbins or spools over the end and onto a needle.
Insert the needle into a prepared shoe box with a hole in one end and a corresponding groove in the other end. This tucks neatly into a drawer.

At a glance, you can quickly tell what colors of thread or bobbins are available.

This hint is a "must" for your readers who are camping enthusiasts. Always plan and prepare at home the first meal to be eaten out.

ON YOUR WAY

Store it in your portable ice chest and vacuum bottle and be in your way. While the tent is being raised and the camp prepared, dinner is quickly completed and served.

Camping makes the crowd hungry so I always make lots of cookies ahead and store them in tins. I also bake a type of pound cake that can be eaten as is or later served with pudding on top.

When making a waistband for a skirt, shorts or slacks, cut the belt next to the selvage on the fabric.

Stitch the cut side on the outside of the garment, fold over to the underneath and stitch on the garment, fold over to the underneath and stitch on the outside again as close as possible to the first row of stitching.

This eliminates the bulkiness caused by an extra turn under of material on the back.—JEAN.

ing ideas . . . send them to Americans Starting to Tolerate Horrors

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
How far away from the nearest town was Belsen, the Nazi death camp?

I don't know exactly, but the Nazis built their crematoria far enough away from the homes of their Aryan citizens so that those complacent burghers could not smell the odors, see the barbed wire, hear the screams.

Yet, though the burghers were removed from the reality of the horrors, one question still confronts the civilized West:

"What corruption was it in the soul of the German people that accounted for their tolerance of the horrors?"

Maybe it's no longer an appropriate question.

WATCHING HORRORS

Because in my community within recent weeks, my fellow Americans have taken to watching, unmoved and unmoving, while horrors have taken place before their eyes.

In long Island, they heard the screams of a murder victim but, drawing their curtains over their windows, refused even to summon the police.

A few days later, 12 men turned themselves into "sports" spectators at the rape of a 90 pound girl.

And last Saturday morning, I rode in an ambulance with two children who had experienced beating and rape under the eyes of several unmoving observers.

Do we really think we can command our children's respect by just shaking our heads over these events? That an "Oh

dear, what's the world coming to?" is enough for them?

It isn't! When the world around them starts going crazy, children expect grown-ups to stop it.

If we don't we reveal ourselves to be a little crazy, too.
It is the beginning of madness to become so removed from feeling in ourselves that the pain of others also ceases to exist.

Only when our own feeling has lost all meaning to us can the feelings of others become meaningless, too.

It is then, as the saying goes,
that we start living in a "little world of our own," like the American burghers in Kew Gardens, Long Island.

The emptiness in our eyes as we watch, unmoved and un-moving, outrage done upon other human flesh takes on

'Soft Touch'
for Dishes

Homemakers can be on the lookout for "soft" detergents, according to Georgiane Baker, Michigan State University home economist.

Technically called "biodegradable," these detergents break down faster in sewage treatment and thus help to eliminate the foam which, the industry contends, is not actually harmful but may be objectionable from an esthetic standpoint.

Some soft detergents are beginning to appear on the market now, Miss Baker notes.
The detergent industry has promised full distribution of soft detergents by the end of 1965.

the glaze that is to be seen in the eyes of the insane.

World War II began in the German burghers' "It's not my business" response to the first Nazi street violence.

Long ago I accepted my inability to forgive them, their infamous sin of omission — the omitted feeling and action.

I guess I'd better try a little harder to forgive them. The infamous sin is finding lodgment in my fellow Americans.

Strawberry Glaze
Tops Berries, Custard

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

We hoard recipes!
Mrs. Bernard Johnson is going to be surprised to see her recipe for Strawberry Cream Pie in today's paper.
She gave it to us longer ago than we care to admit.

Anyhow, with strawberry season at hand, this is the time to try her recipe.

Mrs. Johnson is active in a church group and bowls during the winter season.

STRAWBERRY CREAM PIE

By Mrs. Bernard Johnson

Filling:
¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk, scalded
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine sugar, flour,

well. Add scalded milk.
Cook in double boiler until very thick. Just before removing from heat, stir in egg yolks.

Cool and add vanilla.
Pour into baked pie shell.

Cover entire surface of custard with whole fresh strawberries. Top with the following glaze:

Mash 1 cup fresh strawberries, strain and add enough water to make 1 cup of liquid. Add ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1½ teaspoons cornstarch.

Bring to a boil on surface burner, then cook in double boiler for 10 minutes. Cool slightly and pour over raw straw-

Soap Forms Cornerstone

Designers on both sides of the Atlantic agree that soap is the key word for fashion elegance.

Emily Wilkens, honorary director of the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York, and top designer of teen-age fashions, believes that "Ninety per cent of grooming is cleanliness. Clean body, clean clothes, clean hair."

And Madame Genevieve Antoine Dariaux, director of a famous French salon de couture, asserts: "The cornerstone of elegance might be represented by a bar of soap."

Roads: Crowded for Weekend

21 Die in Holiday Accidents

By The Associated Press
Destroying lives at a higher rate than last year, accidents killed 21 persons on Michigan highways during the Memorial Day weekend.

An estimated 3 million cars jammed state roads as the 21 persons died during the 78-hour holiday period.

Last year, 24 persons were killed during a 102-hour Memorial Day weekend.

This year, vehicle smashups took an average of one life every 3 hours, 45 minutes.

Traffic mishaps last year claimed an average of one life every 4 hours, 15 minutes.
The lone bright spot in the weekend death toll was the absence of any deaths by drowning or from boating accidents.

The holiday tabulation of fatalities was kept by The Associated Press from 6 p.m. Thursday until midnight Sunday.

The victims:
Martha Schmidt, 66, of Kenosha, Wis., was killed Sunday when the car in which she was riding collided with another at an intersection two miles south of St. Joseph.

John Phurm, 8, of Ypsilanti was struck by a car and killed Sunday when he ran onto Geddes Road north of Ypsilanti in Washtenaw County.

DIES OF INJURY
John Stanfill, 79, of Paw Paw died Sunday of injuries suffered Friday when the car in which he was riding was struck by an oncoming auto in Antwerp Township of Van Buren County. Police said the other car's front suspension system broke.

Patrick Flynn, 21, of Lansing died Sunday when his car ran off the end of a dead-end road near Roscommon.

Fred E. Johnson, 57, his wife, Dorothy, 54, and Mabel Clark, 55, all of Greenville, were killed Saturday night in a two-car, head-on collision on M91, five miles north of Greenville.

Emory Atkins, 21, of Rochester, his wife, Doris, 19, and Nancy Vinci, 20, of Warren, were killed Saturday night when the Vinci car went through the stop sign in Troy and struck the Atkins auto, police said.

BABY KILLED

A 10-day-old baby, Dennis Jewell of Detroit, was injured fatally Saturday night when the car in which he was riding struck a fire hydrant in Detroit.

William Bell, 35, of Muskegon died Saturday night when his car ran off the road and plunged into the Muskegon River, north of Muskegon.

Lawrence Gipson, 18, of Stockbridge was killed Saturday night when his car ran off an Ingham County road and rolled over.

Mrs. Anna Stein, 74, of Detroit was injured fatally Saturday in a two-car intersection collision in Clinton Township of Macomb County.

PEDESTRIAN HIT

Duane Whalen, 6, of Nankin Township of Detroit area was killed Saturday when hit by a car near his home.

Elva Louise Scholz, 32, of Big Rapids lost her life in a two-car collision Saturday on U.S. 31 near Reed City.

Donald Hudie, of Lexington was killed Saturday in a two-car collision on U.S. 25 four miles south of Lexington.

Ronald J. Keene, 15, of Kalamazoo was killed Friday when a car in which he was a passenger hit a tree near Kalamazoo.

HIT BY TAXI

Glenn Tayse, 2, of Detroit was killed Saturday when struck by a taxicab as he ran from between two parked cars.

Francis Luvers, 39, of Livonia was killed when struck by a truck Friday.

John Deaky, 65, of Howell died Friday of injuries suffered Thursday night when his car ran off U.S. 23 into a ditch.

RECOGNIZED FOR SERVICE — Miss Helen Wattles (right), lifetime resident of Troy, gets a surprise from Mrs. Charles Reeder, executive secretary of the Troy Arts Festival. When University of Michigan Dean Harold Dorr learned Miss Wattles, a retired teacher and U. of M. graduate, was to be honored by the festival committee, he telegraphed congratulations to her and Mrs. Reeder. The theme of this year's festival June 20 and 21 is "The Teacher."

'64 Troy Festival of Arts Gains New Stature, Honors

TROY — The 1964 Troy Arts Festival, with its theme of "The Teacher," is getting recognition from all directions.

Miss Helen Wattles, a lifetime resident of Troy and retired teacher, was honored by the festival committee at a dinner and received congratulations from Dr. Harold Dorr, Dean of the Graduate School at the University of Michigan.

Miss Wattles' brother, Morris, who also shared honors with her as a retired teacher, is treasurer of the Troy Arts Festival.

The Wattles live in the original home built by their great grandfather, who settled in Troy over a century ago and for whom 17 Mile Road was named.

Recognition also is coming in the form of contributions from professional artists who will be displaying their works at the festival.

Glen Michaels, world-famous artist and art teacher at Cranbrook, and his students will display a variety of artistic accomplishments at the festival, scheduled to take place June 20 and 21 at the Troy High School.

DISPLAY PLANNED
Barbara Dorr, well-known artist and wife of Dr. Harold Dorr, will display a collection of her own water colors.

Another accomplished artist, Carolyn Vosburg Hall, of 20730 Kenoway, Birmingham, will submit "A Series of Drawings" . . . informal poses of children and unusual character sketches.

Another teacher-artist from Cranbrook, Mary Rindon, will honor the festival with a treasure from her private art collection.

Festival-goers will have an opportunity to view a famous and valuable painting by Arthur from Massachusetts. Entitled "Landscape," it is a fine example of abstract art.

DOLL COLLECTION
Another unusual collection slated to be on display at the festival will be a private collection of Israeli dolls owned by Sally Fields of Detroit. These dolls, which are extremely valuable works of art, depict the various phases of life in Israel — e.g., dolls representing the Biblical student, the actor, the newsboy, etc.

The collection has been on display at the Detroit Museum of Art for four months during the past year.

Newest star in the galaxy of professional people who will be judging entries for the student talent show the night before the festival opens will be Pat Morris, television weather girl.

Anyone of the general public who is interested in submitting examples of art or craft work for the festival may obtain information on how to do so by contacting Mrs. Deloss Russell, 555-Trinity.

Officers Bar 'Beach Party' at Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK (AP) — Roads into this Lake Michigan resort were sealed off Sunday night after college students began gathering for what apparently was to be a beach party or a series of such.

Police estimated more than 1,000 were on hand and that "several hundred" were turned back at roadblocks set up on public roads by state police of the South Haven post, Allegan County sheriff's deputies and Saugatuck police.

Only residents of the village of 927 were permitted passage into town after the student crowd passed the 1,000 mark.

STORES CLOSED
The roads were closed from 7:30 p.m. to midnight and all wine and beer carry-out stores were ordered closed. There were 10 arrests for disturbance of the peace.

Saugatuck was the scene of a boisterous jazz festival that all but turned into a student riot three years ago.

Police said most of those turned back came from western Michigan schools: Ferris State, Western Michigan, Hope and Kalamazoo. Michigan State, they said, also was represented.

Graduation Dates Set for Avondale

Farewell ceremonies for the 143 seniors graduating from Avondale High School are set for June 7 and 10, with Donald Lonie featured as commencement speaker.

Lonie, who has spoken at some 3,000 school assemblies in United States, Wales, England and Scotland, will discuss "Things I Have Been Taught" at 8 p.m. June 10 in the varsity stadium of the high school.

Baccalaureate service will be June 7 at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Rev. Eric Wehrli, Elmwood Methodist Church, and Rev. William Palmer, United Presbyterian Church, will speak at the service.

Tax Notes Approved

NOTY — The State Municipal Finance Commission has approved $25,000 in tax anticipation notes for Noty Community School District.

AT PRESIDENT'S GRAVE — Oakland County officials recently took a wreath to the grave of the late President Kennedy in behalf of county divers — Superiors Edward Cheyz and White Lake Township places the wreath before the grave. Directly behind Cheyz is Duane Hursfall (left), supervisor of Independence Township, and Neil Staebler, Michigan Democratic congressman-at-large.

Boy Satisfactory After Riding Bike Into Path of Auto
Marvin Lowery, 14, of 2867 Mann, Waterford Township, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital with injuries suffered when his bike collided with a car Saturday in Waterford.

Nellie Vaughn, 5302 Pine Knob, Independence Township, told police she was driving east on Mann at 10:50 a.m. when the boy rode his bike in the path of her car.

Marvin, who suffered a possible broken leg and multiple lacerations, told police he did not know what happened.

SOLEMN SALUTE — Rochester's Civil Air Patrol raised the flag in Mount Avon Cemetery Saturday as a part of Memorial Day ceremonies in the village. The program, which attracted a large crowd, also included a parade, salute to the Civil War dead by the Women's Relief Corps and an address by Oakland County Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn.

Utica School Hopefuls Will Talk

UTICA — A lively "Meeting of the Candidates" seeking school board offices here is expected to draw a large crowd at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Utica High School auditorium.

Each of seven candidates vying for two open four-year posts on the board will present his qualifications and platform in a five-minute talk.

A period during which audience-submitted questions will be answered by the candidates will follow the speeches.

Sponsor of the session is the Citizens Advisory Committee, one of several community organizations taking an active part in the June 8 contest.

Also deep in the midst of what is turning into a community-wide controversy are the Utica Education Association (UEA), the "Watchdog Committee" and the local weekly newspaper, The Utica Sentinel.

The Watchdog Committee, which many say is sponsored by the newspaper, has come out with The Utica Sentinel in favor of candidates William R. Roberts and William E. Grapentine.

Backers of both the candidates are critical of the present school board, its policies and the school administration.

Strongly supporting the board and administration is the UEA.

Although the UEA membership voted against picking, some 25 teachers and parents paraded around offices of The Utica Sentinel for more than an hour Thursday.

CRITICIZED PAPER
Teachers, board members and parents in the area have criticized the newspaper for "hiding the facts" and "one-sided school board reporting."

The Citizens Advisory Committee has urged all school district residents to attend tomorrow's meeting.

In addition to Roberts and Grapentine, seeking to fill the open board offices are incumbent Secretary Paul Olson, incumbent Treasurer Marvin Priests, Robert S. Goodwin, Lawrence A. Gloomis and Elwin J. Matteson.

GOP Women to Hear 2 Congress Hopefuls
WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Two 19th District Congressional candidates will speak at a West Bloomfield Republican Women's Club tea Wednesday afternoon.

James Dickerson and Richard Kuhn will attend the 12:30 p.m. event at the home of Mrs. Dawn Ziegler, 4165 Stoddard. The public is invited.

MAJOR POINTS
Does the candidate have answers to the high teacher turnover rate?
Does the candidate have workable plans to improve the quality of education?

The TAC is urging all teachers to attend Thursday's "Candidates Night." A question-and-answer period will follow the formal presentations.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (P) Tommy Peyton, 5, described his first airplane ride Sunday as "not so good."

He, his brother Robbie, 10, and their father, Bob Peyton, 33, Oklahoma City, were aboard a 1935 bi-plane with pilot Don Ross, 30, and plane owner Lee Devin, 36, when the motor quit.

Ross landed in a wheat field, tearing of the landing gear, shearing a wing and twisting a propeller.

No one was hurt, but Robbie said, "I'm not going to fly anymore."

May Cancel Talks if Troops Not Removed

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (P) — Malaysia threatened today to call off a summit conference in Tokyo next week if Indonesia balks at the withdrawal of Indonesian guerrillas from Malaysian Borneo.

A foreign office spokesman expressed indignation at a weekend Indonesian statement which he said was "a sign that Jakarta does not really want a peaceful settlement of the dispute."

Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman wants at least a token withdrawal of Indonesian forces from the Malaysian states of Sabah and Sarawak before he meets with Indonesian President Sukarno and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal.

The foreign ministers of the three nations are to begin the conference in Tokyo June 8. If they make progress, the government chiefs would join the conference two or three days later.

The tentative agreement on the three-power conference was announced simultaneously in the three capitals Saturday, but the Jakarta statement contained an additional paragraph that said President Sukarno would only allow the withdrawal of guerrillas "in conformity with the progress of the political talks." Malaysia regards this as unacceptable.

SEEK CLARIFICATION

The Malaysian foreign office was expected to seek a clarification of the paragraph to see if it was intended primarily for consumption in Indonesia.

Sukarno has repeatedly vowed to crush Malaysia, and gives no indication of stopping his campaign against the new federation.

He again called today for the removal of British troops from Malaysian Borneo, and oil-rich Brunei, a British Borneo protectorate.

Drivers Leave Indy With Record Money, Times—and Tragedy

A. J. Foyt Nets Top Purse in '500' History

Closed Circuit TV Records Fatal Mishap at Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The USAC racing fraternity began moving its cars and equipment to Milwaukee today for the 100-mile race next Sunday, enriched by the biggest purse ever paid for the Indianapolis 500 but impoverished by the loss of two outstanding drivers in the 48th Memorial Day grind.

Charging A. J. Foyt Jr. and his Old Betsy Offenhauser got the lion's share of $153,650 from the $506,625 total.

The first closed circuit telecast of the Memorial Day event showed veteran Eddie Sachs plowing into the side of rookie Dave MacDonald's ultra-light car and causing a gasoline explosion that killed them both.

The remarkable live television show contributed nothing to the purse, which was only $12,950 more than last year, when Parnelli Jones picked up the previous record winner's share of $148,513.

BROKE EVEN

Anton (Tony) Hulman Jr., Indianapolis Motor Speedway owner, said the closed circuit TV "about broke even" financially but it was considered a success. He said the number of outlets was limited by a shortage of high quality projection equipment.

It should make a substantial contribution to the purse in the future, he added.

The drivers generally got 40 per cent of the gate for risking their lives and expensive specially built cars. They and the owners split about 50-50.

The racing people don't know what proportion they receive from the Speedway take. The crowd, probably a record last Saturday but not disclosed, was estimated from 280,000 up to an unlikely 350,000.

It was a tremendous mass of people at any rate, and a large proportion of it saw the great ball of fire that erupted on the second lap near the upper end of the main straightaway. Many felt the heat and inhaled the smoke as five other cars piled into the inferno and were blasted from the race.

The race was halted and restarted for only the second time since the 500 was inaugurated in 1911. The other stop in 1926 was because of rain.

WASHED OUT

The hard-driving Foyt, three times USAC national champion and the 1961 Memorial Day winner, grunted his supposedly "obsolescent" front-engine Sheraton-Thompson Special into first place on the 35th lap, after the more glamorous new equipment had washed out.

Rodger Ward, twice winner of the event, made the best showing with one of the new rear-engine Fords, taking the $56,925 second money. He was bitterly disappointed, feeling he would have won if he hadn't had to make five pit stops three more than he planned and three more than Foyt needed.

Clark and teammate Dan Gurney, in the new Lotus-Ford, were the victim of imported tires that began shredding chunks of rubber. The rear wheel suspension collapsed on Clark's car as a result of the tire vibration, sending him into the infield grass, and Gurney was called by Lotus builder Colin Chapman of London.

Set for Driver Sachs

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Funeral service for Eddie Sachs Jr., 37-year-old Detroit race driver fatally injured in the Indianapolis 500-mile Memorial Day race Saturday, has been set for Wednesday at 9 a.m. at St. Simon and Jude Roman Catholic Church in Bethlehem, Pa.

Sachs was the son of E. J. Sachs of Greensboro.

Sachs Forecast Death 'Favorite'

By OSCAR FRALEY
NEW YORK (UPI) — Little Eddie Sachs called the shot two years ago.

"In the long run death is the odds-on favorite," he said. "When I win the 500 I'm going to retire."

Eddie was making his eighth try at Indianapolis on Saturday when the "odds-on favorite" caught up to him and rookie driver Dave MacDonald.

He had come close often before a span of more than a dozen years.

Crashes resulted in plastic surgery on his face, three broken ribs and five concussions.

But always the thought of winning at Indianapolis drove the skinny, balding guy from Allentown, Pa., onward.

LOSERS BY SECONDS

He almost caught it at Indianapolis in 1961. Eddie, who was 37-years old last Thursday, was leading with only 10 miles left and his haunting dream almost fulfilled.

But a fire began disintegrating under him and he pulled into the pits for a change. He fidgeted there for 21 seconds and lost to A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., by a fleeting eight seconds.

They tested the tire later under simulated racing conditions and it blew within a half mile.

An outspoken man, Eddie was in and out of hot water on frequent occasions. Once he called Jim Hurtubise "bush" for claiming he had driven 100 instead of 99 miles. When Jimmy Bryan was killed in 1960, Sachs said he shouldn't have come back out of retirement.

Last year, Parnelli Jones slugged Eddie for saying that the Californian should have been black-flagged off the track when he was leading with only a few laps to go because he was spraying oil and endangering other drivers. Eddie posed for photographers, lying on the ground with a black flag in his mouth.

But he knew the odds and he always demanded the best equipment as well as ultra-closest training and preparation.

He had it figured to the foot where he had to start "backing off"; where he had to make his turns, right down to the fact that if he "lost it" at Indianapolis speeds he'd skid 600 feet before he could react.

And he made no bones of the fact that he would retire "when he won the 500."

Little Eddie never got out of his car as the holocaust consumed his dream of victorious retirement.

MORE RACING TRAGEDY—Indianapolis wasn't the only track where tragedy struck the racing world. At Topeka, Kansas, in a stock car race, a pileup of cars caused several drivers to be hospitalized with critical injuries. Mrs. Clyde Ellis is restrained from going near the car where her husband was pinned under the wreckage of his car.

The Watkins Lake Yachting Association began its summer season with races Saturday and Sunday in both the snipe and thistle classes.

The results were the same each day with Glenn Fries and Norm Legwan taking snipe and thistle honors, respectively.

Dave Green was runner-up to Fries each time and Fred Brade gained third place points Sunday.

Ledwan was trailed by Karl Kreitz each day and Jack Berlen was third Sunday. Competition resumes Sunday following the annual Sailors' Breakfast at the Green residence.

TIRE BOMB — Speedway guards and spectators start to disperse as a burning tire shoots through the air like an incendiary bomb. The tire shot off the car of Eddie Sachs in the wake of a crash which involved seven cars on the second lap at Indianapolis Speedway where two drivers, Sachs and Dave MacDonald were killed. A. J. Foyt won the tragic-filled '500' race.

Tigers Conclude May 9½ Off Pace

Chicago Deals Double Defeat

White Sox Complete Sweep of 4 Games

DETROIT (AP) — The merry month of May was anything but that for the Detroit Tigers who slipped 9½ games off the pace with a double setback at the hands of the Chicago White Sox Sunday.

The 5-3 and 8-3 victories recorded by the league-leading White Sox Sunday gave them a sweep of the four-game weekend series, which attracted 45,651.

"I think we have a better club than we have shown so far," said Manager Charlie Dressen. "I sure hope June is better for us."

The Tigers were 11-18 for the month, tumbling six games below the 500 mark and floundering in the second division for much of the time.

SHOULD HIT

"Where can we go for help?" Dressen asked. "I think we can get better because (Al) Kaline should hit better and (Don) Demeter starts hitting, that will help."

But even if the two Tiger outfielders do start to come through, Dressen admits that it unlikely they can pull the team up by themselves.

A reporter remarked that in 22 of the 42 games played to date, the Tigers have scored three or fewer runs.

"That's not too good, is it?" was Dressen's terse remark. Mistakes by the Tigers played a big part in Sunday's two losses.

OPENED DOOR

Dick McAuliffe's error in the fourth inning of the opener started the White Sox on a two-run inning which gave them the lead they never relinquished.

McAuliffe had struck a two-run homer in the second to give Detroit the only lead it was to enjoy all day. Pete Ward hit his third-homer in as many days in the top of the inning for Chicago.

The Tigers twice had men on third but could not bring them in. McAuliffe tripled with one away in the fourth and died there, while Kaline was left stranded after knocking in the Tigers' third run in the fifth.

Mickey Lolich (4-1) lost his third in a row.

In the nightcap, the White Sox got two runs in the second inning off Ed Rakow on Tom McCraw's bases-loaded single.

In the fifth, pitcher Gary Peters singled with two away and Mike Hersbergner was safe credited with a hit when McAuliffe fielded his grounder beset in throwing to second, and was unable to make a play. Don Buford promptly cleared the sacks with a home run.

Tigers Make Shifts in Pitching Corps

DETROIT (AP) — Seven pitchers were involved in a series of changes made by the Tigers over the weekend.

Veteran Frank Lary was sold to the New York Mets on a conditional basis, and Fred Gladding and Denny McLain were recalled from Syracuse.

Jack Hamilton, who had been recalled from the Syracuse club earlier in the month, was placed on the disabled list and will be out for at least 30 days.

Sunday, the Tigers sent Julio Navarro to Syracuse and decided to bring Terry Fox back to Detroit. He had originally been assigned from Knoxville to Syracuse Saturday.

In the other change, minor league pitcher Jim Brown was promoted from Lakeland of the Florida State League to Knoxville.

Lary pitched one inning of shutout ball in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader with the San Francisco Giants.

A warm round of applause greeted Chicago pitcher Don Mossi's appearance on the mound for the White Sox in the first game Sunday.

Mossi wasn't as cordial with the Tigers, however, as he set his former teammates down on one hit in three innings of relief. That hit was a single by Jerry Lumpe.

Dick McAuliffe's error and other mistakes at shortstop prompted one reporter to ask Manager Charlie Dressen if he was considering any change at the position.

"What can I do?" Dressen asked. "He's the best we've got to play the position now. Sure, we've got one player in the minors (Ray Oyler at Syracuse) who can play it well. But we can't leave that club hanging. We'd have to send someone down."

McAuliffe leads the club in errors with 10. On the plus side, he's second on the team in home runs with five and is tied with three others for third in runs batted in with 14.

Complete games don't mean everything.

The Tigers have more complete games than the White Sox, 8-7. But are 9½ games behind Chicago, which has played seven fewer games.

The difference, according to Dressen, is the relief pitching. Foyt Wilhelm, for instance, has relieved in 19 games and has been reached for only 18 hits.

California Primary Foremost of Week's Races in 13 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — California Republicans choose Tuesday between Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in a presidential primary that highlights a week of feverish political activity in 13 states.

In the California contest, the state's 48 Republican nomination votes are at stake. Goldwater backers think victory would make possible his nomination on the first ballot at the GOP convention, which begins six weeks from today.

Those opposed to the Arizona figure a Rockefeller victory would slow down and perhaps stall Goldwater's drive short of the 655 votes needed for nomination.

As for the New York governor, by week's end he could have more than 200 delegates in his quest for the nomination — providing he beats Goldwater in the winner-take-all California contest and picks up a majority of the 82 district delegates, as expected, in Tuesday's New York primary.

PRESS SURVEY

The Associated Press survey of delegates chosen shows this first ballot breakdown based on primary commitments, pledges, instructions and stated preference

Barry Goldwater	318
William W. Scranton	71
Henry Cabot Lodge	44
Nelson A. Rockefeller	41
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	10
Favorable sons	100
Uncommitted	261

Democrats staged intraparty battles over the weekend in two states—setting up a runoff primary June 27 in the North Carolina governor's race and healing a long-time party split in Nebraska.

In the Tar Heel state, former U.S. Dist. Judge Richardson Preyer, running with the unspoken blessing of liberal Gov. Terry Sanford, led a six-man field in Saturday's primary. But he failed to get a majority and will face former Superior Court Judge Dan K. Moore, a moderate with conservative backing who trailed by 24,000 votes.

STRONG THIRD

In Beverly Lake, a staunch segregationist and fiscal conservative, ran a strong third and there were indications he would back Moore. Republicans, holding a rare primary election, named attorney Robert L. Gavin as their candidate for governor. He ran a strong race in losing to Sanford four years ago.

In Nebraska, party officers backed by Gov. Frank Morrison were picked at a state Democratic convention Sunday. It ended a 12-year division between factions led by Morrison and out-going National Committeeman Bernard J. Boyle, who did not seek reelection.

As the California primary neared, state campaign managers for Rockefeller and Goldwater traded "smear" and "irresponsibility" charges.

Appearing on NBC's radio-television program "Meet the Press," former Sen. William F. Knowland accused Rockefeller supporters of using "smear" tactics against the Arizona, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel fired back at what he termed Goldwater's "irresponsibility" in having "changed his position several times in important issues."

PLEDGED SLATES

Slates pledged to Rockefeller and Goldwater are the only ones on the California ballot, and write-in votes are not permitted.

In New York, 20 delegate candidates are backing the senator and five others are uncommitted. But Rockefeller is expected to win about 70 of them. Ten at large delegates will be chosen later by the State Republican Committee.

Also to be elected Tuesday are 14 GOP delegates in South Dakota. A slate favoring Goldwater is opposed by an uncommitted state headed by Gov. Archie Gubbrud. Like California, it's winner take all.

Iowa votes today on nominees for governor, other state offices and seven house seats. Gov. Harold E. Hughes is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for a second term and Atty Gen. Evan Hultman has no Republican gubernatorial primary opposition.

WESTERN STATES

Gubernatorial nominees will be picked in Montana and South

Dakota and senate candidates will be nominated in Montana and Mississippi Tuesday.

Primary elections for House nominees are slated Tuesday in California, New York, South Dakota, Montana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Texas Republicans and Connecticut Democrats choose Senate nominees later in the week.

Over the weekend, Goldwater picked off Mississippi's 13 GOP delegates—as expected.

Some 200 Republican delegates will be named this week, including 10 at-large in the Nebraska state convention today.

Observers will be watching closely Friday and Saturday to see what, if any, effect the California primary has on the GOP delegates to be chosen at state and district conventions in Washington, Colorado and Hawaii. They have a total of 48 votes.

Regardless of the California outcome Goldwater is expected to win most if not all of the 20 Alabama delegates to be chosen Saturday.

Normandy Beach Revisited: a Vet's Sentimental Journey

(EDITOR'S NOTE: On D-Day plus six, Harvey Hudson, then a 1st lieutenant with an artillery battalion, landed on Omaha Beach in the Allied invasion of Nazi-held Europe. Now a member of the Associated Press staff in Paris, he revisits the scenes of battle.)

BY HARVEY HUDSON
OMAHA BEACH, Normandy
(AP) — D-day veterans who make the sentimental trek to the Normandy invasion beaches are gripped by nostalgia and sorrow and thankfulness that they survived. Sometimes they withdraw in confusion, unable to recognize places that once had a life or death importance.

Thousands of American, Canadian, British or French soldiers who took part in the bloody assault on the beaches June 6, 1944, revisited the scene each year. Hundreds are expected to roam over the area, digging deeply into their memories, for the 20th anniversary celebrations this year.

Bernard Rippy, Richmond, Calif., recalling his first trip back to the spot where he landed by glider, said, "The emotional experience really grabbed me. I could almost smell the powder."

Jack Tallerday, Newton, Kan., who landed by parachute, said, "Memory and present-day reality make a startling contrast. It was a three-ring circus when we landed, with ack-ack fire, planes falling, and Germans scattering like chickens. Now it seems odd to see a farmer calmly hoeing his field."

SAVAGE SCARS
The salvage scars of war still disfigure the beaches. Telltale debris of battle litters the sand. Bathing and fishermen sauntering along the beaches ignore the rusty cables, twisted bits of metal and contorted sections of steel roadway matting. Despite cleanup efforts, enough relics remain to set Utah, Omaha, Gold, Juno and Sword beaches permanently apart from such stretches of sand as Miami, Newport or Waikiki that have known only peace.

Massive pillboxes dot the coastline. From some of the ugly snouts of rusted 88mm German guns still point seaward. Hitler boasted his Third Reich would endure 1,000 years. The pillboxes — impossible to destroy

GERMAN BUNKER STANDS — This is a view of what German soldiers saw on June 6, 1944, in the French town of Bernieres-sur-

without damaging nearby buildings, and with no commercial salvage value—could conceivably live out the full term of the fallen dictator's shattered dream.

But the personal landmarks that set the scene apart for most soldiers are gone. Wrecked landing craft on the beaches have been removed. Bombed houses have been razed and new ones appear in their places. Church steeples have been restored, broken walls repaired. The myriad signs of a moving army have disappeared. Two exit roads backed through the bluff at Omaha Beach are now only cowpaths.

Four museums have been established to honor the heroism

ONLY A MEMORY — In this "then and now" sequence, U.S. troops in the above shot march through the streets of Caen in France shortly after the June 6, 1944, invasion. In the same view today, no scars remain of the struggle that raged for the liberation of the continent of Europe.

Opal Crosses Own Path?

Black Cat Has Bad Luck

LOS ANGELES — A black cat named Opal must have crossed her own path recently. She had the bad luck to lose $63,333.33.

That's how much scratch her late mistress bequeathed "for the luxurious care" of Opal.

But other heirs of Amanda O. McHenry agreed in Superior Court that one-third of $250,000 is much more than is needed for the lifetime care even of someone with nine lives and Judge Donald A. O'Dell agreed.

The estate will be divided among Mrs. McHenry's sister, Mildred Foote; a brother, Edwin H. Marshall, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Mrs. Foote will care for Opal.

In the 82nd Airborne Division, recalls "Our glider smashed against a hedge row at the end of a field between 2 a.m. and 3 a.m. We cut away the side of the glider to unload our jeep, dug our way through a big bank to get the jeep on the road, then headed for what we supposed was Ste. Mere Eglise. We heard small arms fire from that direction.

"We moved very carefully through the dark and it took us an hour or more to reach Ste. Mere Eglise. By that time the fighting had stopped. We met some people who said our anti-aircraft unit was at Bicoeville. We headed for there and arrived about 9 a.m. About 80 men out of our battalion of 600 had assembled."

RETURN VISIT

Rippy returned to France in June 1960, as a civilian employee of the U.S. Army. "I went up to the beaches, right after I got back there," he said. "And I've been back three more times. I'm going back for the 20th anniversary and I'm going to take my 9-year-old son along to show him what his old man did in the war."

Lt. Col. Jack Tallerday, now stationed in Paris, made his first trip back to Normandy last May. He jumped with the 82nd Airborne Division and landed near Ste. Mere Eglise.

"You can't go back and not thank your lucky stars," Tallerday said.

FIGHTING FIRE

"Many of the residents were in the square before the church, helping to fight a fire," Renaud said. "The Germans agreed to lift the curfew so we could fight the fire, but the whole garrison in the village was out to guard us," he continued.

"Then the parachutes started falling on the village. One man was caught in the trees and machine-gunned. Others were shot after they hit the ground. One man got caught on the church steeple and hung there for three hours, feigning to be dead, before he was cut down." N.C. He is scheduled to return for the 20th anniversary.

4 Beatles Find Dad's Also Noisy

LONDON (AP)—Twelve girls collapsed. One was rushed to a hospital. Three hundred teenagers tried to storm the theater. The Beatles were back.

After a month's vacation, the quartet of pop singers gave its first return stage show Sunday night.

In the midst of the shouting, fainting and screaming, two fathers of teenage children made almost as much noise as the Beatles.

The Beatles —John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr—were half-way through "Twist and Shout" when Benjamin Smith stood up in the audience and began shouting.

MANAGER CONFRONTED
Smith didn't attract much attention until he stalked up the aisle and encountered the Beatles' manager, Brian Epstein.

"They're like animals and savages," shouted Smith, referring to the audience, "and nobody's trying to control them. It's atrocious and unbelievable."

Smith called his wife and two daughters, Marian, 13, and Linda, 10, from their seats.

"We're leaving," he yelled. "The Smiths were followed by Philip Spanier, his wife and son Michael, 3."

"I didn't come to hear kids screaming," said Spanier. "This is a waste of money and a disgusting exhibition."

Ruby Lawyers, Judge Confer

Jurist Studies Need for Sanity Hearing

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The question of Jack Ruby's mental health will be posed again today as Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown confers with lawyers about a possible sanity hearing for the condemned slayer.

A jury decided last March Ruby, 33, former night club operator, knew right from wrong when he shot Lee Harvey Oswald during a jail transfer Nov. 24.

Oswald had been charged with killing President John F. Kennedy two days earlier.

DEATH SENTENCE
Ruby received the death sentence, but if a sanity trial is held and he is found insane he would be committed to a state mental hospital.

Psychiatric reports made from studies of Ruby were expected to be considered at the meeting in Judge Brown's court chambers.

The defense maintains Ruby should be sent to an institution, but Dist. Atty. Henry M. Wade says psychiatric reports indicate Ruby can be treated in jail or at Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

Wade has acknowledged that Ruby has "deteriorated," both mentally and physically, while jailed since his trial. But the

'Surprise' Backfires

$2,200 Lost in Debris

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In some Los Angeles dump heap, 22 $100 bills lie deep under rubble, irretrievably lost.

Antonio A. Martini told police he had asked his wife to clean up a closet full of old papers, but forgot about one little envelope.

It contained $2,200, receipts from the sale of a piece of property in his native Italy.

"Everything went in the trash. They already collected it. That was a month ago already," Martini said.

"My wife didn't know about it. It was going to be a surprise."

He reported the loss Saturday to the police department. They said garbage is buried with bulldozers.

Martini said he still has not told his wife.

prosecutor says this is fairly common among persons facing the death penalty.

TWO OCCASIONS
On two occasions Ruby has acted erratically in jail.

Recently he banged his head against a cell wall, but suffered only a lump and small cut. Last week he broke a light bulb with a spittoon before being subdued by a jailer.

A county medical officer said after last week's cell incident an examination showed Ruby to be in normal health, although he has lost 10 pounds since the murder conviction.

Striking Cabbies Fight With Athens Police

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — About 2,000 striking taxi drivers scuffled briefly with police in the heart of Athens today.

The strikers overturned three cars and tried to set them afire.

The drivers are in the second day of a strike to protest a government decision to recognize hire cars.

Negro Grad to Attend Alabama

By United Press International

Josephine Powell, one of two Negroes to be graduated with to incident yesterday at previously all-white West End High School in Birmingham, Ala., has been admitted to the University of Alabama, it was reported last night.

The Birmingham Post-Herald said it had learned from the girl's attorney that she has been accepted by the University for the Fall term.

Jefferson Bennett, administrative vice president of the University, said it was the school's policy not to admit on "anyone else's" statements concerning applications or students.

Miss Powell's attorney, Oscar Adams Jr., will hold a news conference this week on her future plans, according to the girl's mother, Mrs. Clarence Powell.

The University admitted two Negroes last under federal court order. Gov. George Wallace attempted to block their entrance by "standing in the school house door."

However, the Negroes, Vivian Malone and James Hood, were admitted after national guardsmen were federalized.

Hood later dropped out. Miss Malone is still attending the school.

Hindu-Moslem Warfare Is Feared

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

Notes from the foreign news

cables:

Officials in London fear that the death of Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru may mean a renewal of the deadly communal warfare between the Hindu majority and Moslem minority.

With Nehru's restraining hand gone, some officials believe Hindu extremist elements are set to move.

The Kashmir issue between Moslem Pakistan and India is now far from settlement.

This dispute and other tension between the two countries and religious set off rioting last winter that killed hundreds.

Without the moderating influence of Nehru, however, events to come may make this fighting seem minor.

India has about 300 million Hindus and 50 million Moslems in a population of 462 million.

In Pakistan, 88 per cent of the 94 million citizens are Moslem and about 6 per cent Hindu.

KHRUSHCHEV'S LINE

The Soviet premier's visit to Scandinavia this month is expected to show a softer side of Soviet policy. Instead of preaching revolution and anti-imperialism as he did in Cairo, Khrushchev probably will adapt his statements to his audience and stress peaceful coexistence with the west.

FRANCE AND SPAIN
French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville's visit to Madrid and talks with Gen. Franco are viewed in Spain as a prestige boost for the Franco regime, once ostracized by the West for its wartime Axis links.

The trip is part of President Charles de Gaulle's campaign to win Spain and Portugal to his side.

It includes support for Spanish membership in NATO and the common market. But market sources expect Holland and Belgium to block any Spanish bid for membership.

On the one hand, they are unfriendly to the Franco government, and on the other, they want to get back at de Gaulle for vetoing British membership last year.

The first high school in the nation opened in May 1820, in Boston.

Ben Bella's Home Hit by Terrorists

ALGIERS (AP) — Two policemen guarding the residence of President Ahmed Ben Bella were wounded last night in an attack by terrorists, the government-controlled newspaper Le Peuple said today.

The newspaper gave no details of the attack, but denounced what it termed "a handful of counterrevolutionary individuals."

An explosion and gunfire were heard last night near Ben Bella's residence, the Villa Joly. It was immediately surrounded by security troops. Police gave no details on what happened or whether any arrests were made.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

You, too, can help put down a threat to freedom

Uncle Sam has had some pretty conscientious help in the "freedom department" over the years.

Some of the best-known contributors were an expert horseman named Revere

... a group of amateur stavedores who made ice tea in Boston Harbor ... and a party of revolutionaries who created an unsplitable nation under the shadow of a cracked bell.

Today the freedom which these patriots won for us is being challenged. And freedom will always need brave men to defend and preserve it. Men and women, like you.

You can do your share toward defending freedom by buying United States Savings Bonds today.

The dollars you invest this way go right to work for your country now, as well as for your future.

How about buying a $50 Savings Bond (the most popular size) next payday? The cost is only $37.50.

Best known for his midnight ride to Lexington, famous patriot Paul Revere also designed the first Continental currency, the first official seal of the Colonies, and the state seal of Massachusetts, still in use today.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. Savings Bonds

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertising. The Treasury Department thanks The Advertising Council and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

Organization Barred From State in 1961

High Court Voids NAACP Ban in Alabama

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today an Alabama court order barring the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from operating in that state.

Justice John M. Harlan delivered the unanimous decision.

In litigation that began in 1956, the Montgomery County (Ala.) Circuit Court on Dec. 29, 1961, permanently enjoined NAACP from conducting intrastate business in the state. The ban was on the ground the NAACP had failed to register as a foreign-out-of-state corporation.

Alabama's Supreme Court on Feb. 28, 1963 affirmed the Circuit Court order, without considering the merits of the case. The State Supreme Court said this was necessary because the NAACP had failed to satisfy rules as to the manner in which law briefs should be assigned of error.

DUE PROCESS

The NAACP appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, contending

it had been deprived of constitutional freedom of association, and due process and equal protection of law.

The state in reply said the NAACP had been given full opportunity to be heard in Alabama courts and now presented nothing of a federal nature for action by the U.S. Supreme Court.

In upholding the NAACP contentions, Harlan said, "The judgment below must be reversed."

He noted that, in view of the long history of the case, the Supreme Court had been asked to formulate a decree for entry in the Alabama courts to assure the NAACP's right to conduct activities in Alabama without further delay.

WITHIN POWERS

Harlan said such a course was within the power of the Supreme Court, but that the high tribunal's justices preferred to follow usual practice and send the case back to the Alabama Supreme Court for entry of a prompt decree.

This decree, said Harlan, must vacate "in all respects the permanent injunction order issued by the Circuit Court of Montgomery County, Ala., and permit the association to take all steps necessary to qualify it to do business in Alabama."

"Should we unhappily be mistaken in our belief that the Supreme Court of Alabama will promptly implement this disposition, leave is given the association to apply to this court for further appropriate relief," Harlan added.

Harlan said that Alabama's attorney general had cited no case, and the Supreme Court had not been able to find a case, in which a foreign-out-of-state corporation was ousted from Alabama for failing to comply with the registration statute.

The justice said the high court thought it was clear that the NAACP may not, under Alabama law, be ousted from the state, "merely for failure to register."

County Waits Election Date

Printers Fix Report on Dates, Districts

Oakland County officials will tell us they know, about revised election dates and new legislative districts — but don't ask them to prove it.

State printing presses are straining to provide full information about the changes, but the mass of material has yet to arrive, said Oakland County Clerk - Register David R. Calhoun.

"We understand that the bill changing the primary date to Sept. 1 allows petitions filed under the old date to be effective," said Calhoun. "But we haven't seen it in black and white."

When this is affirmed, it will mean candidates who already turned in petitions for the Aug. 4 primary will not have to scurry out and get new ones.

Under the Sept. 1 primary date, petitions can be filed until July 14. Under the old plan, the deadline would have been June 16.

County election officials also say the changed primary date will permit precinct delegate candidates, who faced a filing deadline of last Tuesday, to turn in nominating petitions until June 23.

Details about State Senate and House districts under the new legislative reapportionment are likewise up in the air, as is the "Massachusetts ballot" law which will do away with straight party voting, said Calhoun.

Officers Elected for City Memorial Day Association

Pontiac Memorial Day Association has elected Lay D. MacGillis of the Michigan National Guard in Pontiac president effective July 1. He succeeds Robert C. Aditt to the post.

Other officers elected to 12-month terms were Arnold Arndt, vice president; Mrs. Florence McCrae, treasurer; and Mrs. Eva M. Welch, secretary.

Named to the board of trustees were Floyd Loose, Irving Taylor and William Tunney. The association was formed in 1956 by Floyd Cremer, Oakland County Veterans affairs director, who died Wednesday.

Marriage Rate Higher

Falling U.S. Birth Rate Puzzles Experts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The birth rate in America is falling, and officials can't explain why.

The Public Health Service said today all the factors are present for a bumper crop of babies — everything, that is, except the babies.

An estimated 337,000 babies were born during March, the services said, 6,000 less than in March 1963 and the smallest number for any March since 1955.

For the 12-month period ending in March, an estimated 4,087,000 live births were reported — 49,000 fewer than for the one-year period ending the previous March.

"An analysis of two factors closely related to the level of fertility — the marriage rate and the age composition of the female population — sheds no light on the declining trend of the birth rate that has persisted for over two years," the PHS said, adding:

"The marriage rate, which has remained stable over a long period of time, is now showing signs of increase, but it would take some time for this to affect the birth rate."

FAVORABLE LEVEL

"The age composition of the female population, with increasing numbers of women entering the childbearing ages, is also favorable to a higher level of fertility."

But, the PHS said, "fertility indices continued to show a declining trend . . . the general fertility rate, the number of births per 1,000 females aged 15-44 years, was 104, as compared with 107.2 for March 1963."

The service reported an estimated 109,000 marriages during March, up 8,000 over the corresponding 1963 month.

The rate was 6.7 per 1,000 population, up from 6.3. The total for the 12 months ended with March was 1,682,000, up from 1,579,000 in the preceding 12 months, and the rate was 8.9, the highest in at least four years.

During the first three months of this year there were 337,000 in the first quarter of last year, and an increase of more than 10 per cent.

There were about 180,000 deaths during March, 18,000 less than in March 1963, and the death rate was 9.9 per 1,000 population, down 12 per cent from that in March last year.

"In the absence of a nationwide epidemic of influenza, mortality continued well below the level of last year," the service said.

A Pontiac woman was to make a statement to the Oakland County prosecutor today in connection with a fatal shooting Saturday night.

Heard after the shotgun death of Leon Cobb, 44, no known address, is Mrs. Mollie K. Poe, 48, of 308 S. Edith.

Cobb, shot in the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun at 7:30 p.m. died at Pontiac General Hospital five hours later.

Mrs. Poe told Pontiac police that she shot Cobb after she chased him out of the house for beating up her husband, Joseph, 59.

She said Cobb left the house, and when he tried to come back she shot the weapon and fired one shot at him through the front door.

Lots of Time
Saved at Job

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)

Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night, nor sickness stays mail carrier Clarence Linder from his work.

A postman for 37 years, in all that time he has never used a single day of his annual sick leave.

The unused leave can be accumulated from year to year and Linder's total is 2,913 hours, which would amount to nearly a year and a half of five-day weeks.

Examine Emmys
After 2 Boycotts

NEW YORK (AP) — A reappraisal of television's Emmy Award system is in the works after two major networks boycotted last week's ceremonies.

Rod Serling, author and president-elect of the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, said Sunday recent criticisms will be studied and recommendations made.

The American Broadcasting Co. and the Columbia Broadcasting System boycotted the presentations for television work. They criticized the academy's categories, structure and voting procedures.

Lawfords Land Apartment
Peter's Acting Overlooked

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Peter Lawford didn't even have to prove he's not an actor.

He and his wife Pat have found "and been accepted" for a NY apartment: a 14-room duplex on upper Fifth Avenue where there are no barriers against actors and Democrats.

Mrs. Lawford, sister of the late JFK, will knock out a wall and refurbish the place for full occupancy.

We don't think it's wise to dwell on this subject; nevertheless, we hear that Lawford's getting quite a kidding from Sammy Davis about Lawford's failure to land in an apartment on Park Avenue. Sammy merely says, "Our people made it."

There was so much gaiety at Delmonico's at the big party celebrating the success of Carol Burnett's hit, "Fate Out — Fade In," that Jack Cassidy shrank from telling of his own sadness.

His mother was lying ill of cancer in a local hospital. His father, suffering from a coronary condition, could not help him keep track of his mother's condition. He went to see her in the hospital. . . she was in a coma . . . he felt it best to proceed with the show, in which he was excellent.

Adding to Jack's problems (and this was minor) was the fact that his wife Shirley Jones was around with a dark wig . . . and people who saw him kissing a brunette . . . didn't know, naturally, that it was his wife.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Carol Burnett and husband Joe Hamilton ducked out of the plush Delmonico party (after the "Fate Out — Fade In" premiere) to get waffles at Riker's. "I can't just sit around," Carol said. "It's like having a baby."

Miss Bennett was invited to sit with LBJ at the big Democratic affair here. . . The Ed Begleys named the baby Molly (after his latest film, "Unsinkable Molly Brown").

Richard Burton's sister and her husband, visiting here from Wales, flew on to Hollywood. (They're staying at Liza's home there. . . Switch: Sammy Davis Jr. and Billy Daniels visited The Apartment, where Sammy sang "Old Black Magic" and Billy danced. . . London company of "High Spirits" opens in November.

WISH IT SAID THAT: A fellow noted that his vacation plans are taken care of: "My boss tells me when, and my wife tells me where."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "A woman's advice is not worth much, but he who does not heed it is a fool."

EARL'S PEARLS: A young miss explained that just one drink makes her dizzy: "I can't remember whether it's the eighth or ninth."

Hank Grant heard a woman ask the clerk at a perfume counter: "What have you that will compete with three hours of baseball on TV?" That's earl, brother.

News From Around the World

Pro-Reds Routed in N. Katanga

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo

(AP)—Pro-Communist rebel soldiers have been routed from the North Katanga provincial capital of Albertville, held by the rebels for three days.

But 250 miles to the north in Kivu province, heavily armed rebels and spear-carrying warriors ambushed two companies of Congolese commandos. An attack on the key provincial city of Bukavu was feared. The Congolese regular army has suffered 400 casualties in Kivu fighting.

ROME (AP)—Economic difficulties have brought Premier Aldo Moro's coalition government close to a crisis that could result in its fall.

With inflation worsening and foreign exchange resources dwindling, there is considerable opposition among Moro's Christian Democrats to reforms promised the Socialists to get them to join the coalition.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—More than 30 college students were arrested after trying to march on the presidential palace today to press a demand that arrested students be released.

When a police cord blocked their march 650 yards from the palace gates, they scattered leaflets containing their demands.

Another group of students continued a hunger strike they began Saturday. The number of fasting students increased from 40 to 30.

At least 10 students are under arrest in connection with anti-government student demonstrations last month.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Anthony Martinez was what you'd call a good citizen.

He was in a Skid Row bar, April 3 when two men argued, one drew a pistol, killed the second, waved the gun at patrons, and said:

The patrons sat still, staring at their drinks, as the man fled.

Everyone but Martinez, a 31-year-old laborer. He followed the gunman and wrote down a license number as the getaway car sped away.

Detectives arrived. They asked what had happened.

The patrons sat silent. All except Martinez. He gave the police the number and a description of the killer.

MURDER CHARGE

Police arrested Troy Lynch, 38, of nearby Inglewood, and charged him with the murder of 31-year-old Theodore H. Simon.

A few days later Martinez was in the same bar when two men accosted him. One said, "Forget what you saw."

Martinez replied: "I'll never forget that."

Later Martinez was beaten. He identified the men. Police arrested two men they said were ex-convicts, as is Lynch.

Saturday Martinez paid his rent to his landlord at a small, downtown hotel. He was never seen alive again.

Later that day, he was found dead on the railroad tracks in nearby Glendale. A coroner's report said he had been unconscious, but alive, when a train rolled over him.

QUESTIONED MEN

Detectives questioned Lynch who said he wouldn't comment on the death until he had talked to his lawyer. They questioned one of the men charged with assault after Martinez was beaten. He was noncommittal.

The second man was in jail, charged with parole violation. Police said there was no immediate indication of whether Martinez died by accident, murder, or suicide.

Marine Hero Dies at 71

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Lt. Gen. John Taylor Selden, 71, a decorated Marine officer of World War II and the Korean conflict, died Saturday. Selden retired from the Marines in 1955 after 40 years of service. He was born in Richmond.

LONDON (AP)—The Roman Catholic archbishop of Westminster says a woman doctor who operates a birth control clinic was not recognized by the altar priest who gave the woman the sacrament.

Dr. Anne Biezanek, 36, who is defying the Roman Catholic Church by continuing to run the clinic, was not recognized by the altar priest who gave the woman the sacrament.

Dr. Biezanek has been refused communion at her own parish church in Wallasey, Cheshire, each Sunday for the past six months. She had notified Archbishop John Henehan by letter that she would attend a low Mass Sunday at his cathedral.

Fire Kills Five in New York

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A mother and four children died early today when fire swept their single-story frame home in Buffalo's Central Park district.

The father, Charles White, 26, was listed in serious condition at Columbus Hospital with burns over 75 per cent of his body.

Dead are Barbara White, 28; Mark, 4; Kevin, 3; Scott, 2, and a 6-month-old child.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately, but the arson squad was called to investigate, Fire Chief Eugene Bowers said.

Fire officials said all members of the family apparently were asleep when the fire broke out about 2:30 a.m.

Tornado Victims Face Crackdown on Debris

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Laggard property owners of tornado-battered Chesterfield Township face a crackdown if they don't clear away debris.

Dr. Oscar D. Stryker, director of the Macomb County Health Department, said Saturday if the refuse is not cleared away from some properties he will declare the area a health hazard.

McClellan Released

After Stay in Hospital

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., was hospitalized over the weekend, but he was to return to Washington today.

An aide said only that McClellan, 68, suffered from a "flare-up of a chronic condition." He was released from Blount Memorial Hospital in Maryville yesterday.

New GM System Replaces Teletype

DETROIT (AP) — A high speed communications system linking General Motors headquarters here with 1,400 units in the United States and 16 foreign countries went into operation today.

The system is an involved setup of electronic computers and transmitting and receiving machines GM said if surpasses any other comparable system elsewhere except in the communications field itself.

The new system supplants GM's worldwide teletype operation which operated since 1939. The new system can transmit at the rate of 3,000 words a minute and between 10 and 14 million words a day. Teletype handled about one million words daily.

Canada's population has passed the 19 million mark.

Typhoid Epidemic Slows in Scotland

ABERDEEN, Scotland (AP) — The typhoid epidemic that sprang from a supermarket meat slicer appeared today to be leveling off in Aberdeen. Fears the outbreak had spread to the British Navy were quieted.

A British Navy cook and setman from the submarine Rorqual were hospitalized in Glasgow as typhoid suspects but the admiralty reported the two sailors were suffering from gastroenteritis, an intestinal inflammation.

Schools have closed and social life is suspended in Aberdeen, where 209 persons have been hospitalized. There are 100 confirmed cases of the disease, 49 suspects. One woman has died.

Ten new suspects were hospitalized Sunday, the smallest daily admission since the epidemic flared 10 days ago.

"I think there is every likelihood that this outbreak will stop fairly soon," said Aberdeen's health officer, Dr. Ian MacQueen.

The Aberdeen outbreak started through the sale of defective corned beef in a supermarket. The meat slicer used for beef also was used to cut other meats. This spread the disease.

MacQueen said while the situation had improved considerably in Aberdeen, "It is still serious. We must not let up on hygiene precautions and the avoidance of needless travel."

People in Aberdeen have been advised not to leave the city unless absolutely necessary. Those from other areas were warned to stay away.

The city seems only half alive. Concerts, dinners and bridge parties have been called off. Pubs are half empty.

Shopkeepers are taking in only half the usual amount. Only the drugstores were crowded. They reported they couldn't get enough soap, disinfectant, paper towels and nail-meat.

A SOLDIER'S SALUTE — A volley of rifle fire crackled over Pontiac Saturday as the Memorial Day Parade ended with an invocation and placing of a wreath at the foot of the Civil War monument at Oakland and Saginaw. Thus Pontiac remembered her dead in several wars for freedom.

Thousands in Area Honor War Dead

Saturday thousands in the Pontiac area paused to remember why many have fought and died for this nation.

Whether watching the parade in Pontiac, visiting the cemetery, enjoying a family outing or "taking it easy" around home, people generally did what they wanted to do.

Those who paid for this freedom with their lives were honored by the community that didn't forget. It was Memorial Day.

Flags were raised proudly over the marching columns up Saginaw Street.

Joining public officials in the parade were veterans, military units, mothers of slain heroes, colorful bands and pretty drum majorettes.

HUSH FELL

A hush fell on the ranks and many spectators as they reached the Civil War monument.

Here an invocation was given by Army Reserve Chaplain Lt. Col. Francis A. Zimmerman of Pontiac's 333rd Infantry Battalion.

Honorary Parade Marshal Fred C. Wilkins, a veteran of the Spanish-American War, placed a wreath at the foot of the monument. The simple but fitting tribute ended with the sounding of taps.

The solemn notes were repeated later over the veterans' section at Perry Mount Cemetery, where many assembled to place flowers on the graves of loved ones.

Secret SE Asia Talks Start

Holiday Traffic Toll Hits Record, but Death Rate Declines

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

A record number of traffic deaths occurred on the nation's streets and highways during the Memorial Day weekend. But the National Safety Council said today the actual death rate per miles traveled was one of the lowest in years.

A United Press International count showed 421 persons dead in traffic during the holiday period from 6 p.m. Thursday until midnight yesterday.

A breakdown showed:

Traffic 421
Drownings 60
Planes 5
Miscellaneous 73
Total 559

California again led all states in the number of traffic accidents, 36. There were 30 in Texas, 23 in New York and 21 in Michigan and Illinois. Pennsylvania had 19, Oklahoma 16, Ohio 15, and Alabama and Missouri 14 each.

The traffic death count soared well past the previous record of 371 persons killed over a similar Memorial Day holiday period last year. The Safety Council had estimated that between 410 and 490 persons would die during this year's 76-hour holiday.

ACTUAL DEATH RATE

A Safety Council spokesman said the actual death rate per mile this Memorial Day weekend may have been the lowest in years. Motorists this week end drove an estimated 1.6 billion more miles than they did in the 1958 Memorial Day week end, the Council said.

Only four states had perfect safety records for the weekend: Alaska, Delaware, Hawaii and Rhode Island.

The worst tragedy of the holiday weekend happened when six children burned to death in a Memorial Day fire at Midlothian, Va. Four weekending youngsters and a widow died yesterday when flames devoured a cottage at Hopatcong, N.J.

The worst traffic accident happened near Mazie, Okla., on Memorial Day when a two-car crash claimed five lives.

One of the weekend's more bizarre accidents happened last night near Shawnee, Okla., when a low-flying helicopter crashed on a busy highway, striking a car. The pilot was killed but three occupants of the car escaped injury.

RACE DRIVERS

The two most publicized auto deaths happened at Indianapolis, Ind., when Veteran Race car driver Eddie Sachs and Rookie Dave MacDonald died in a fiery crash during the opening moments of the famed 500-mile Memorial Day race.

In a pre-holiday estimate, the Safety Council said 63 million motor vehicles would be on the nation's streets and highways during the weekend. The council estimated holiday motorists traveled 8.5 billion miles this weekend compared with 6.9 billion miles in the previous record year of 1958.

Mrs. Kennedy, 27, entered the hospital Sunday.

1st Agreement in Hillsdale

State Mediator Sets Solution Possibility

LANSING (AP) — In a marathon, 17½-hour session, negotiators today reached first agreements on issues in the violently-plagued Essex Wire Corp. strike at Hillsdale.

"We see the possibility of a solution," State Labor Mediation Board Chairman Malcolm Lovell Jr. said.

The bargainers left the table at 3:30 a.m. after going almost nonstop since 10 a.m. Sunday.

Details of agreements were not disclosed.

The oral agreements were being put in writing today to be submitted to negotiators later, Lovell said.

"We've reached agreement on a large number of issues which previously we have never been able to agree on," said Frank Gallucci, a vice president and general counsel of Essex Wire.

NOT IN WRITING

"We still have nothing that is in writing and signed," said George Gold, international representative of the striking International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE).

The report of initial agreements — the first in the 3-month-old strike — came as National Guardsmen patrolled Hillsdale for the fifth day.

Gov. George W. Romney ordered the plant closed and declared the southeastern Michigan community of 7,600 persons in a "state of public emergency" last Thursday.

He ordered guardsmen to maintain peace after two nights of disturbances which included a near-riot in the stoning of the Hillsdale City Jail. A mob had protested arrest of five persons earlier at the IUE picket line.

Negro Youths Terrorize NY

Bands of Teens Storm Subway Trains, Ferry

NEW YORK (AP) — Bands of teen-aged Negro marauders, riding subway trains and a ferry boat, brought terror to normally quiet sections of Brooklyn and lower Manhattan over the weekend.

Early yesterday 20 youths stormed aboard a subway train en route from Coney Island in Brooklyn and terrorized and robbed passengers.

One passenger, Howard Weiner, 16, was struck in the face with a bottle and robbed of his wrist watch and $3.

Another, Nick Philpade, 54, was out about the face and eyes. A third, Harvey Vine, 26, was punched and kicked.

Philpade's trousers were ripped off and $9 taken from his wallet.

The youths, many of them reeking with alcohol, left the train at Kings Highway, Brooklyn, after smashing windows and light bulbs.

They ran to the street, smashed the window of a heavy parlor and stole about $90 from the cash register.

Residents of the district, which is predominantly white, reacted with anger and a street clash was narrowly averted.

About 40 persons poured out of homes and a bar and began "passing remarks," said detective Raymond Sheerin.

Sheerin continued: "They wanted to do something. It was like they were trying to say to us, 'Let us have them for a little while' or something to that effect."

Sheerin was among officers in 11 cars which sped to the area.

Twelve of the youths were arrested.

Less than two hours earlier, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7) deepened the crisis atmosphere surrounding the talks.

Just about every key American official concerned with Southeast Asia was present for the two-day conference behind closed doors at Pacific Command headquarters overlooking Pearl Harbor.

The final decision maker — President Johnson — waited in Washington for recommendations that could lead to military pressures against Communist North Viet Nam, source of much of the trouble in Laos and South Viet Nam.

Any decision involving military moves would mark a significant turn in U.S. policy, which so far has avoided such action against North Viet Nam.

It was understood that U.S. officials have been considering seriously a variety of possible pressures, ranging from demonstrations of strength outside North Viet Nam to more direct military moves as a guerrilla counter-offensive.

WIDE SELECTIONS

The conference was expected to explore a wide selection of diplomatic and military questions, including a possible bigger role for the United Nations in Southeast Asia.

Official American quarters now tend to consider the problems of Laos and South Viet Nam in tandem — rather than separately — as targets of the same Communist threat facing all of Southeast Asia.

Since Pathet Lao forces in Laos began a spring push several weeks ago, there has been a noticeable hardening of U.S. official thinking on North Viet Nam.

North Viet Nam is supplying men, arms and equipment to insurgents in both Laos and South Viet Nam. Looming behind North Viet Nam is Communist China.

POSSIBLE REACTION

Any decision to act against North Viet Nam would have to take into account possible reactions by Red China.

The United States has been trying to get across the point that it intends to stay in Southeast Asia — that it will never withdraw while nations there want its help.

Reds Pull Out of Laos Regime

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Communist Pathet Lao severed its last ties today with neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma's regime, buying the fiction of a coalition government uniting all Laotian factions.

The Pathet Lao announced it is withdrawing its remaining government officials from Vientiane, the rightist-controlled administrative capital.

LONDON (UPI)—All but 5 of the 14 signatories of the Geneva agreement on Laos will shun the Western-supported meeting to discuss the crisis this week in Vientiane, it was learned today. Only Britain—which proposed the meeting—the United States, Thailand, Canada, and South Viet Nam have agreed to participate in the talks, which are aimed at an immediate ceasefire in Laos.

Observers in Tokyo believe the Pathet Lao, which controls about two-thirds of Laos, may establish a rival government of Communists and dissident neutralists. Reports from Communist-held areas of Laos say former Public Health Minister Kham-souk will head it. Kham-souk, a dissident neutralist, was recently fired by Souvanna Phouma for refusing to return to Vientiane.

through the medium of official statements, to bring home to the North Vietnamese that they are asking for trouble by continuing to support Communist rebellions in neighboring countries.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said pointedly yesterday that the Pathet Lao drive has been "directed and supported" by North Viet Nam and that North Viet Nam has backed "the campaign of terror in South Viet Nam."

Expanded War

Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared in a speech recently that if Communist onslaughts continued, the outcome could be an expanded war.

There was one other straw in the wind.

Hip, Melvin Laird, R- Wis., said in a recorded interview in Washington yesterday "The Johnson administration's position is to move north and we are preparing to move north."

Laird is a member of the House Appropriations Committee, frequently cut in on government secrets as a guide in voting money.

The Wisconsin congressman said preparations to move north have been going on for several months. He made it clear that he expects any such thrust to be handled by the South Vietnamese with U.S. advice and support.

Police Report Palm, Fingerprint Found

Clues Are Sparse in Teacher Slaying

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The killing of a school teacher and church worker Gary Albert Smock eluded police today after having left few clues to the Memorial Day weekend slaying.

Smock, 30, Plymouth junior high school teacher and youth worker for the Church of God, was shot to death Friday night or early Saturday and his shoeless body locked in the trunk of his car.

Johnson Car Misses Glass; Aides Don't

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI)—President Johnson drove under the legal 70-mile-an-hour Texas speed limit this weekend and kept his seat belt fastened for safety.

But unbeknownst to him, he just missed driving over a broken bottle that flattened the tire of a White House staff vehicle two cars behind.

The President was in the wheel of his white Lincoln sedan on a 15-mile trip from his ranch to a church at Fredericksburg, Tex., when the episode happened yesterday.

Mrs. Johnson and 20-year-old daughter Lynda Bird were with him.

According to eyewitnesses, the broken base of a soft drink bottle was lying jagged-edge up on the road, and a staff car traveling behind the Secret Service followup vehicle that escorts Johnson drove over the glass.

BEGAN HISSING

The left front tire of the White House staff car began hissing, and its driver, a Secret Service man, pulled safely to the side of the road.

Others in that car included a White House communications aide; Dr. James Young, assistant White House physician, and Capt. Cecil Stoughton, official White House photographer.

The President and his family were unaware — until news stories appeared later — that there had been any glass on the road or that the staff vehicle two cars behind had been forced off the road by the flat.

DREW HEADLINES

On his last visit home to the LBJ ranch, Johnson drew headlines with reports that he had exceeded the Texas speed limit by driving around the countryside at speeds up to 85 or 90 miles an hour.

A Goldwater victory would edge him close to the 655 votes required for the presidential nomination at the national convention in San Francisco next month.

Likely Report: Oswald 'Loner'

Expect Probe to Say He Acted on His Own

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission's report on President John F. Kennedy's assassination is expected to substantiate the original FBI finding that Lee Harvey Oswald, acting alone, murdered Kennedy.

The commission has completed its basic work and set the end of the month as the target date for a report expected to detail the evidence that Oswald was the assassin and acted alone.

The commission plans to call several more witnesses including Kennedy's widow who will testify at a secret time and place. She was riding in the car with her husband when he was shot in Dallas last Nov. 22.

Commission staff groups are drafting separately the segments of what may be a 500-page report. With its supporting documents and testimony, the report is expected to rival in extent and size the massive report of the Pearl Harbor commission after World War II.

Barring a sensational reversal of information in the next month, officials indicated the report would present evidence to show that:

1. Oswald, the self-taught Marxist, later of authority and unstable ne'er-do-well, designed and executed the murder without helpers or co-conspirators.

2. Jack Ruby, the night club owner who shot Oswald to death 48 hours later and thus destroyed all hope of getting a confession, had not known Oswald and was not involved in any plot to silence him. Ruby has been sentenced to death for slaying Oswald, and is appealing.

3. No connection can be developed between the assassination of Kennedy and any plot developed in the Soviet Union, Cuba or Mexico. Oswald had visited the Soviet Union and Mexico, and had failed to get Soviet citizenship.

MIND DAMAGED

4. The motive apparently lay in Oswald's embittered and impoverished mind. His Russian-born wife said he had become abnormal, and evidence disclosed that his mother had earlier ignored a school physician's recommendation that he be given psychiatric treatment.

Waterford Twp. to Open Road Bids

Bids for the North Lake Angulus Road special assessment blacktopping district will be opened tonight by the Waterford Township Board.

Board members voted to proceed with the assessment district following a public hearing last month.

Also tonight, the board will consider accepting dedication of a private sewer system at Telegraph and Boston to serve a new doughnut shop.

The new sewer is connected to the Pontiac sewer system.

In other business the board will receive a report from Clerk E. M. Fonghorn on bids opened last week for three-year employee fidelity bonds.

Mrs. Johnson to Visit Detroit in June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is to visit Detroit June 24 to address the national convention of the American Home Economics Association.

The Michigan speech was listed among a series of others on the first lady's June calendar which the White House made public Sunday.

City Will Reconsider Street Paving Program

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners tonight will reconsider the action they took last week to initiate a street paving program.

They declared the necessity of paving and improving Bird, Cummings, Davis, Emmons, Humphreys and Smith streets but minutes later decided to reconsider the move.

The hearing on an adjacent special assessment district composed of Catalpa, Cedar and Edgewood was postponed so that both could be considered at the same time.

Approximately 100 persons crowded into the commission chamber for the hearing last week. Many objected to the proposed program.

Moreover, they said there were others not in favor of the plans.

TWO VOTES TAKEN

The 4-1 vote on the project was followed by another to reconsider the action.

Hearing on the larger assessment district was requested by a petition signed by 22 per cent of the Bird property owners. A property owner in the other district requested a hearing on that area at the same time.

City officials said the program could be undertaken next year if approved.

Robert H. Flint, vice president of Flint Ink Corp., has been elected chairman of Kingswood School Cranbrook's board of directors.

Mrs. Hargreaves and Mrs. McLean are Kingswood alumnae and MacArthur is treasurer of Federal-Mogul-Bower Engineering, Inc.

Other board action included the election of three directors, incumbent Carol O. Barton, head of Barton Properties, Inc.

Two men and two youths cowed the motorman aboard a subway train near Prospect Park in Brooklyn. They threatened the motorman with a meat cleaver.

Police said the four got off at Prospect Park, boarded another train, and threatened passengers with the cleaver.

One passenger, Clifford Renaux, 24, pulled the emergency cord as the train rolled into a station. He ran from the car and called police from the cashier's booth. Police got there in time to catch the four.

Last night, five Negro teenagers attacked a white youth on a train in lower Manhattan, beating him and knifing him in the shoulder.

The victim, Michael Sadey, 17, said the five demanded he turn on his pocket radio and give them money—then attacked him before he could comply. He was taken to a hospital where his condition was described as not serious. All five teen-agers were arrested.

Unusual Disease Attacks Fingers, Toes

Q — My doctor says I have Raynaud's disease. What causes it and what can be done for it?

A — The cause of Raynaud's disease is unknown. The victims suffer from spasmodic contraction of the small arteries of their fingers, or toes.

The attacks may be brought on by emotional stress or exposure to cold. First the fingers become white, then turn purple or blue.

As the spasm relaxes, the blood rushes into the fingers and they become very red. There is no danger of losing the fingers through gangrene.

Lack of vitamin B-6 can be a cause. You should also take special care to protect your hands and feet from the cold. Moving your hands and feet in warm climates is sometimes advisable.

Women with this disease are sometimes helped by taking estrogens (female hormones) especially if they are nearing the menopause.

Smoking will aggravate your condition. Some victims whose disease is severe and of long standing can get relief after surgical cutting of some of the sympathetic nerve roots as they come out of the spinal column, but the effect is not permanent.

Q — Several years ago after I had an electrocardiogram, my doctor gave me Tetracycline. What are they for?

Will this drug cause any harmful effects or lose its effectiveness when taken for a prolonged period?

A — This drug is given to dilate the arteries in persons who have angina pectoris or coronary heart disease.

There are no harmful effects or loss of effectiveness with prolonged use. Anyone who is taking this drug should be checked for glaucoma twice a year.

The drug does not cause glaucoma but when this disease is present the drug will aggravate it.

Q — What causes Sjogren's disease? My tongue is dry and I have no saliva. Is there any cure for this?

A — Sjogren's disease is characterized by dryness of the eyes and mouth and rheumatoid arthritis.

Constipation may also be a problem. The cause is unknown. Methylcellulose eye drops and throat spray help to relieve the dryness and chloroquine may benefit the joint pains, but there is no permanent cure.

Q — After a bad cut for which I had several stitches, my doctor gave me tetracycline for five days. Could this drug cause any side effects?

A — Tetracycline is an antibiotic that is used to prevent infection. In some persons it may cause mild nausea or diarrhea.

Mrs. Ed Kennedy Gets Treatment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Doctors reported the wife of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was in good condition today undergoing treatment for a possible complication of pregnancy.

The 27-year-old Joan Kennedy was admitted to Georgetown University Hospital yesterday in a move which her doctor said was designed to prevent a miscarriage.

The doctor, William J. Cusack, said the complication was not connected with a 1963 ailment which caused a miscarriage for Mrs. Kennedy.

The average domestic consumption of water is estimated at 60 gallons per person.

Neighbors Mourn Racer Eddie Sachs

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Race driver Eddie Sachs' neighbors of Clinton Township southwest of here sorrowed over his death in the Indianapolis 500-mile classic.

"It makes you kind of sick," said Robert Beatty, 42, who never cared about racing until he became Sachs' friend.

At another home 14-year-old Nancy Neal wept.

"The only deaths close to her," said her mother, Mrs. James Neal, "were President Kennedy's and now Eddie's. It has hit her pretty hard."

Market Active but Irregular

Higher Trend in Stocks Fades

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly early today. Trading was moderate to active.

Most potential issues showed fractional gains or losses.

The cigarette stocks were slightly higher as a group. Airline, aerospace issues and rails had a higher edge.

Steels, motors, chemicals and nonferrous metals were scrambled.

The list showed a slightly higher trend at the opening but as more issues crossed the tape gainers were pretty evenly matched with losers.

The three-day Memorial Day weekend provided no big surprises which could spur the market one way or another, brokers said.

Chrysler's opening block of 15,000 shares was outstanding.

The stock slipped 3/8 to 47 1/2.

Operating blocks at 87 on 6,400 shares.

On Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1/2 to 306.0.

Prices moved irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Figures after decimal points are eighth of a cent.

Loyalty Oath Nixed by Court

Decision is Reversed for Washington State

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court struck down today two Washington State laws requiring that all state employees take loyalty oaths.

Justice Byron R. White, writing for the court's decision, said the laws were "unconstitutional in their entirety."

Justice Tom C. Clark wrote a dissenting opinion, in which Justice John M. Harlan joined.

The court's vote was 7-2.

About 64 persons employed by the University of Washington in teaching and nonteaching jobs had challenged validity of the state laws.

And even some of the upstarts that usually are plagued by a summer slowdown for vacations or lagging consumer interest in their products or services are saying as June starts that this year's seasonal downturn may be shorter and shallower than customary.

All signs point to a continuing rise in production, employment, profits and plant expansion—the factors that made this spring pleasantly better than anticipated.

One law, enacted in 1955, requires state employees to swear they are not subversive persons, as defined in the law. The other law, enacted in 1951, requires that another oath be taken by teachers.

The signs that point still further ahead also are reassuring. These include factory orders, particularly in machinery and other durable goods, and announcements of business spending plans and surveys of consumer buying intentions.

Personal income totals continue to rise. They are helped by faster take-home pay, by the still upward trend in wage scales, by larger than seasonal

White's majority opinion said the university employees contended before the Supreme Court that the oath requirements, and the statutory provisions on which they were based, were invalid on their face, because their language was unduly vague, uncertain and broad.

White stated: "We agree with this contention and therefore, without reaching the numerous other contentions pressed upon us, confine our consideration to that particular question."

He recalled that the Supreme Court, in 1961, struck down an oath requirement law of another state, Florida, on grounds it lacked "terms susceptible of objective measurement, and a failed to inform as to what the state commanded or forbade."

The Washington state laws required state employees to swear under oath that they are not subversive persons, not Communist party members, and are not knowingly members of any other subversive organization. Persons refusing to take the oath may be discharged.

Business Busting —With Optimism

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Business optimism—sometimes as rare as a day in June—today is busting out all over.

Many industries are again revising upward their earlier estimates. They look for this month to add new strength to a business boom.

Other industries whose earlier estimates—largely tuned to the federal income tax cut—proved optimistic are now pinning their hopes on a bigger-than-usual increase in fall business.

And even some of the upstarts that usually are plagued by a summer slowdown for vacations or lagging consumer interest in their products or services are saying as June starts that this year's seasonal downturn may be shorter and shallower than customary.

increases in employment, by record dividend payments, by growing interest payments on will savings funds.

Much of today's optimism is based on this increased personal income. It is eyed by makers of consumer goods and purveyors of services. It can furnish the wherewithal for the purchase of securities or other investments, and for the down payments on homes or appliances. And it promises the major share of the future markets which corporations are expanding their physical plant to supply.

At the industrial level the June optimism is based not only on current statistics which show the economy continues to expand, but also on the underlying strength.

LABOR STABILITY

These include the relative stability in the last three years of labor costs per unit of output and the recent improvement in profit margins which have been depressed for several years. Business planners also are reassured by the relative moderate level of inventory-to-sales ratios. Because stocks aren't out of line with sales, there's less chance of a bustup from some temporary lull in the business upswing.

But mostly the optimism is feeding on the confidence that everyone else also is showing. Consumer buying of durables is strong, both for autos and appliances, showing that the public feels few qualms. Business spending is increasing, and leading corporations are announcing still larger outlays for new plant or equipment—also based on confidence in the economy's future course.

Contracts for future construction are well ahead of a year ago. Only in the field of home building is there some hesitation.

High Court Voids NAACP Ban in Alabama

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court struck down today an Alabama court order barring the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from operating in that state.

Justice John M. Harlan delivered the unanimous decision.

In litigation that began in 1956, the Montgomery County (Ala.) Circuit Court on Dec. 29, 1961, permanently enjoined NAACP from conducting intrastate business in the state. The ban was on the ground the NAACP had failed to register as a foreign-owned corporation—Alabama's Supreme Court on Feb. 28, 1963 affirmed the Circuit Court order, without considering the merits of the case. The State Supreme Court said this was necessary because the NAACP had failed to satisfy rules as to the manner in which law briefs should state assignments of error.

DUE PROCESS
The NAACP appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, contending

it had been deprived of constitutional freedom of association, and due process and equal protection of law.

The state in reply said the NAACP had been given full opportunity to be heard in Alabama courts and now presented nothing of a federal nature for action by the U.S. Supreme Court.

In upholding the NAACP contentions, Harlan said: "The judgment below must be reversed."

He noted that, in view of the long history of the case, the Supreme Court had been asked to formulate a decree for entry in the Alabama courts to assure the NAACP's right to conduct activities in Alabama without further delay.

WITHIN POWERS
Harlan said such a course was within the power of the Supreme Court, but that the high tribunal's justices preferred to follow usual practice and send the case back to the Alabama Supreme Court for entry of a prompt decree.

This decree, said Harlan, should vacate "in all respects the permanent injunction order issued by the Circuit Court of Montgomery County, Ala., and permit the association to take such steps as may be necessary to comply with the registration statute."

"Should we unapologetically be mistaken in our belief that the Supreme Court of Alabama will promptly implement this decision, leave is given to the state to comply with this court for further appropriate relief," Harlan added.

Harlan said that Alabama's attorney general had cited no case, and the Supreme Court had not been able to find a case, in which a foreign-out-of-state corporation was ousted from Alabama for failing to comply with the registration statute.

The justice said the high court thought it was clear that the NAACP may not, under Alabama law, be ousted from the state "merely for failure to

Printers Fix Report on Dates, Districts

Oakland County officials will tell what they know about revised election dates and legislative districts, but don't ask them to prove it.

State printing presses are straining to provide full information about the changes, but the bulk of material has yet to arrive here, said Oakland County Clerk - Register David R. Calhoun.

"We understand that the bill changing the primary date to Sept. 1 allows petitions filed under the old date to be effective," said Calhoun. "But we haven't seen it in black and white."

When this is affirmed, it will mean candidates who already turned in petitions for the Aug. 4 primary will not have to scurry out and get new ones.

Under the Sept. 1 primary date, petitions can be filed until July 14. Under the old plan, the deadline would have been June 16.

County election officials also say the changed primary date will permit precinct delegates to be elected by June 14, in time for the June 22 election.

Details about State Senate and House districts under the new legislative reapportionment, also, will be in the air, as is the "Massachusetts Ballot" law which will do away with straight party voting, said Calhoun.

Pontiac Memorial Day Association has elected Lt. David A. MacGillis of the Michigan National Guard in Pontiac president effective July 1. He succeeds Robert C. Adair to the post.

Other officers elected to 12-month terms were Arnold Armstrong, vice president; Mrs. Florence McCrae, treasurer; and Mrs. Eva M. Welch, secretary.

Named to the board of trustees were Floyd Lloyd, Irving Taylor and William Tunneyling. The association was formed in 1956 by Floyd Cremer, Oakland County Veterans affairs director, who died Wednesday.

Marriage Rate Higher

Falling U.S. Birth Rate Puzzles Experts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The birth rate in America is falling, and officials can't explain why.

The Public Health Service presents for a bumper crop of babies — everything, that is, except the babies.

For the 12-month period ended in March, an estimated 4,077,000 olive births were reported — 19,000 fewer than for the one-year period ended the previous March.

"An analysis of two factors closely related to the level of fertility — the marriage rate and the age composition of the female population — sheds no light on the declining trend of the birth rate that has persisted for over two years," the PHS said, adding:

3 Hospitalized by Accidents

Weekend traffic accidents hospitalized at least three area residents.

Under intensive care at Pontiac General Hospital is Walter Z. Koski, 52, of 2820 Norton Lawn, Avon Township.

Koski suffered chest, back and head injuries when his car overturned at 1 p.m. Saturday on Walton near Squirrel in Pontiac Township.

At the same hospital in satisfactory condition with multiple facial lacerations is Bessie L. Frisch, 41, of 2131 Paulson, Waterford Township. She was injured yesterday at 2:46 a.m. when her car left Union Lake Road near Morene in White Lake Township.

Clifford E. McConaughay, 24, suffered a concussion yesterday at 1:16 a.m. when his car left Indianwood near Fernhurst in Orion Township and flipped.

He is in good condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Injuries Kill Woman

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Metta Hall, 81, of Hollywood, Calif., died Sunday of injuries suffered last Wednesday when the car in which she was riding collided with another about five miles east of Ypsilanti.

She said Cobb left the house, and when he tried to come back, she got the weapon and fired one shot at him through the front door.

But, the PHS said, "fertility indices continued to show a declining trend — the general fertility rate, the number of births per 1,000 females aged 15-44 years, was 104 as compared with 107.2 for March 1963."

The service reported an esti-

The rate was 6.7 per 1,000 population, up from 6.3. The total for the 12-month ended with March was 1,682,000, up from 1,579,000 in the preceding 12 months, and the rate was 8.9, the highest in at least four years.

Woman to Give Statement in Fatal Shooting

A Pontiac woman was to make a statement to the Oakland County prosecutor today in connection with a fatal shooting Saturday night.

Held after the shooting death of Leon Cobb, 41, no known address, is Mrs. Mozelle K. Poe, 42, of 206 S. Edith.

Cobb, shot in the chest with a 12-gauge shotgun at 7:50 p.m. died at Pontiac General Hospital five hours later.

Mrs. Poe told Pontiac police that she shot Cobb after she chased him out of the house for beating up her husband, Joseph.

She said Cobb left the house, and when he tried to come back, she got the weapon and fired one shot at him through the front door.

But, the PHS said, "fertility indices continued to show a declining trend — the general fertility rate, the number of births per 1,000 females aged 15-44 years, was 104 as compared with 107.2 for March 1963."

The service reported an estimate of 109,000 marriages during March, up 8,000 over the corresponding 1963 month.

The rate was 6.7 per 1,000 population, up from 6.3. The total for the 12-month ended with March was 1,682,000, up from 1,579,000 in the preceding 12 months, and the rate was 8.9, the highest in at least four years.

MARRIAGE SURGE

During the first three months of this year there were 37,000 in the first quarter of last year, and an increase of more than 1 per cent.

There were about 160,000 deaths during March, 18,000 less than in March 1963, and the death rate was 9.9 per 1,000 population, down 12 per cent from that in March last year.

"In the absence of a nationwide epidemic of influenza, mortality continued well below the level of last year," the service said.
