

U.S. Planes Catch N. Viets After Lull

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes swept over North Vietnam immediately after the allied Christmas truce ended and wreaked havoc on Communist convoys trying to complete a massive movement of supplies started under the umbrella of the cease-fire.

U.S. headquarters reported about 100 trucks destroyed or damaged in the heavy strikes which began Christmas night and continued unabated today.

Headquarters reported that Air Force, Navy and Marine jets spotted more than 300 trucks, one of the biggest transport targets of the war.

Planes from two Navy carriers in the Tonkin Gulf reported one convoy of 150 trucks and another of almost 100.

In another strike a ferry carrying eight trucks was blown up and sunk.

SCATTERED ACTIONS

The ground war also resumed after the truce ended at 6 p.m. Christmas night but only scattered actions were reported.

It was believed that the North Vietnamese had started a massive supply effort at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve, when the allied truce began.

In the next 24 hours they were able to move supplies unmolested, but the U.S. recon planes were overhead keeping a close watch.

When the truce ended, the Reds were still on the move and evidently decided to take the chance that full-scale U.S. raids would not resume until dawn today. The U.S. air response was almost immediate, however.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported a total of 118 shooting incidents during their 24-hour cease-fire and blamed all of them on the enemy.

Romney Gives State Children's Gift to S. Viets

DALAT, Vietnam (AP) — Gov. Romney presented $35,000 today contributed by Michigan schoolchildren to make life better for the South Vietnamese.

After spending Christmas Day touring U.S. military camps from Saigon to Da Nang, the Michigan governor flew from Da Nang to this mountain resort.

He presented the $35,000 check to officials of Project Concern, which maintains a hospital and other facilities for Montagnards — mountain tribesmen — and Vietnamese in Dalat.

The money was collected by the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The tribesmen presented Romney with one of their crossbows and arrows and other gifts.

SINGLE RED ROSE

The governor delighted the audience when he presented a single red rose to each of the Montagnard women from a large bouquet of roses he had been given on his arrival.

In a short speech, Romney said: "I see no prospect of any lessening of U.S. determination to assist the Vietnamese in finding an acceptable solution to the Vietnam conflict."

Later he met privately with Vietnamese civilians for an hour-long conversation on U.S.-Vietnamese relations.

He declined to talk about what was discussed at the meeting, as he has about all private conversations on his world tour.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Romney, a candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, hopped across the country by plane and helicopter yesterday, wishing U.S. fighting men a merry Christmas.

He talked to dozens of servicemen, stressing a religious message.

The governor is to leave Vietnam tomorrow after a tour of the Mekong Delta.

Romney returned to Saigon from Dalat and met with Nguyen Van Thieu, then went to see Premier Nguyen Van Loc. Both conversations were private.

Christmas Passes; Work, War and Worry Resume

By The Associated Press

With silent, holy hours of Christmas over, the world went back to work, war and worry today.

American troops in Vietnam, with a hot turkey dinner under their belts, prepared for more clashes with the Vietcong and North Vietnamese. As soon as the 24-hour allied truce ended last night, U.S. warplanes streaked over North Vietnam to attack supply convoys which the U.S. Command said the Communists rushed south during the cease-fire.

Amid the war in Vietnam, enduring crisis in the Middle East and tension along the frontier in South Korea, Christmas 1967 occasioned prayers for peace from Pope Paul VI and many others.

The Pope did not mention Vietnam nor his visit Saturday with President Johnson.

NOT EASY IN WARTIME

In a Christmas radio and television message, Johnson conceded that to say "Merry Christmas" in wartime is not easy.

"But when you think of the bravery of the human spirit—and the power of life to triumph over pain and darkness—you are thankful," he said. "Your own spirits are lifted high; and you say it—and mean it—as I do now: Merry Christmas."

In Vietnam, Michigan Gov. George Romney, who seeks the GOP nomination to oppose Johnson in next fall's election, shook hands with American troops from Saigon to Da Nang and said over and over, "Merry Christmas, fellows, Merry Christmas."

In the Holy Land, the Israelis were in control of Bethlehem for the first time, and only 9,000 pilgrims braved the rain to celebrate Christmas at the birthplace of Christ.

BRITONS TIGHTEN BELTS

The bleak prospect of domestic belittling in Britain to make devaluation a success led Queen Elizabeth to emulate the courage and enterprise displayed by Sir Francis Chichester in his solo sail around the world.

Christmas was merry in the Suez Canal for crews of 14 foreign ships trapped there since the Arab-Israeli war in June.

The seamen from U.S., British, French, West German, Swedish, Bulgarian, Polish and Czechoslovakian ships collaborated on a Christmas tree, set it afloat in an anchored boat, exchanged hearty Christmas visits and feasted on turkey and other delights.

Head-On Crash Fatal to Youth

An Avon Township youth died in Pontiac General Hospital Saturday about two hours after being involved in a head-on collision on Adams Road near Hamlin in Avon Township.

The victim, Robert D. DeLand, 20, of 772 Wilwood, was fatally injured when his small foreign car collided with a pickup truck driven by Scott D. Bechen, 17, of 2336 Oklahoma, Avon Township.

Sheriff deputies said that Bechen had started to pass a car and was unable to get back in his own lane in time to avoid the crash.

400 Flee Gas, Still Celebrate Christmas

Plowing Is Cut for Side Streets

By BOB WISLER

Pontiac residents had best be prepared for some extra shoveling if a severe snowstorm hits the area.

Anything resembling the paralyzing blizzards which stifled the city in February 1965 and again last January will be more of a handicap this winter, according to Joseph E. Neippling, Pontiac director of public works and service.

Neippling said that because of the city's financial problems and the lack of new tax money a number of street cleaning and repairing services will be curtailed or cut back.

Among these is clearing of snow from some 150 miles of local streets.

Other services which will be curtailed during the next fiscal year, he said, are the grading, chloriding and sweeping of local gravel streets.

ALSO DEFERRED

In addition, the city will defer projects which call for crack sealing, seal coating and permanent patching of local streets.

Neippling said division heads in his department had requested $429,000 for the next fiscal year as an "absolute requirement to deliver a minimum level of service."

He said that to produce a balanced budget with the funds expected to be available for 1968 this figure had been reduced to $316,000.

This required reducing services connected with street maintenance up to 90 per cent, he said.

Cold Will Continue

Snow fell during Christmas Eve and Day leaving about 3½ inches on the ground and a network of slippery roads.

The temperature dipped to nine degrees above zero at 8 a.m. today, a new low for the season.

The forecast for tonight is a few more snow flurries and a low between five and 10 above zero.

Today's weather should be partly cloudy and very cold with a high between 18 and 24.

225 TONS OF SALT

The city has had at least five salt trucks in operation since Sunday night. The trucks, which have been salting main streets, have already used about 225 tons of salt, according to a city spokesman.

The Oakland County Road Commission has had some 48 trucks operating throughout the county since Sunday night. The side roads are still in poor condition, a county spokesman said.

The State Highway Commission reported that snow and slippery wet spots would be encountered by motorists all over the state.

Winds today should be westerly between 15 and 20 miles per hour becoming light and southerly tonight.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: 20 today, 10 tonight and 20 tomorrow.

The outlook for tomorrow is partly cloudy and continued cold. Thursday's forecast is sunny but cold.

Quakes in Canada?

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A University of California seismologist said his instruments recorded two earthquakes in the vicinity of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, early today, but Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Victoria said they had no reports of any tremor.

Bob Hope Reporting:

Days Hectic Before Yule

By BOB HOPE

LAI KHE — We had a busy few days before Christmas over here in boomland. Traditionally, you're supposed to have an office party or have the folks over for dinner or go out caroling. It all depends on what your Christmas kick is.

We decided to drop in here Christmas Eve to pay our annual visit to the Big Red One — the mighty 1st Infantry Division.

I first played for this division in Europe in 1943.

I don't know whether it was because they were doing such a great job, or because they're such a great audience, but like a camp follower, I've been chasing them around the world ever since.

Our show site was a clearing in a rubber plantation. And we did a show for 12,000 men.

There were supposed to be 15,000 but 3,000 were committed to an action area. It's not easy to hold an audience around here.

A few moments before Christmas Eve — that's when the truce started, we could still hear the pounding of artillery off in the hills.

A battalion of search-and-destroy groups were out stalking the jungle around us.

You can still hear the clatter of helicopters as they maintain their patrol around our perimeter, looking for uninvited guests.

TRIP TO THAILAND

On Saturday, we flew to northern Thailand to do a show for 5,000 gung-ho pilots, crew chiefs and technicians who have never been heard about. Officially they don't exist.

The mail that comes from home to these men is addressed "shhhhhhhhhhh." They'll never have to join the Foreign Legion to forget . . . nobody is going to remember them.

We met 50, 75, and 100 mission pilots who haven't had their names on paper since they made the yearbook at the Air Force Academy.

VISIT FROM LBJ

If you think war is hell, try winging your way home with a tail full of lead and being listed as a diplomatic secret.

Or, worse yet, having to lie to your wife and try to explain to her that those aren't bullet holes in your leg, they're mosquito bites.

Red China's Silence After Nuclear Blast May Indicate Mishap

TOKYO (AP) — Peking kept king broadcast Monday made silent again today about a re-nor mention of the reported port from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission that the Chinese had set off their seventh Asia. Instead it reviewed the nuclear test explosion Sunday, first six blasts and touted the silence heightened speculation thought of Mao Tse-tung.

The AEC declined to comment on the Chinese silence and said it would stand by its original statement, which reported the location of the blast and said the explosion equalled roughly 20,000 tons of TNT. That would be similar to the first atomic bomb, dropped on Hiroshima in 1945.

Japanese air force planes detected unusual radioactive fallout over Japan Tuesday, but the government said it was not great enough to endanger humans.

Official boasting and reports on the Chinese silence and said of celebrations in the streets followed each of Red China's six previous blasts. But a Radio Pe-

Riot Climaxes Yule Dinner at Ohio Jail

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Christmas dinner at the county jail was followed by a riot that brought out 100 policemen to battle 47 prisoners.

"A group of the prisoners said they were going to spend Christmas night at home," said jailer Elijah Hilton after police received order with the help of tear gas Monday night.

Inmates smashed furniture, tore up bedding and set a fire in a trash can during the three-hour disturbance outside their cells.

No one escaped, and there were no injuries reported.

IN CELL BLOCK

Police armed with shotguns surrounded the Hamilton County courthouse, which houses the jail, while others entered to force the prisoners back into their cells. The trouble was in an area of the cell block outside individual cells.

Because of the damage and lingering effects of the tear gas, the prisoners were transferred to a previously empty cell block. The jail has about 250 prisoners, many of them awaiting transfer to the Ohio State Penitentiary in Columbus.

About 400 persons gathered around the building during the disturbance despite freezing temperatures.

Authorities said the men refused to enter their cells as the lock mechanism on the main cell door jammed after they were returned from dinner.

INMATES JEERED

After police halted the rioting and transferred the inmates to new cells, the prisoners jeered at the policemen, an official said. Police stationed cannon corps units in front of the area.

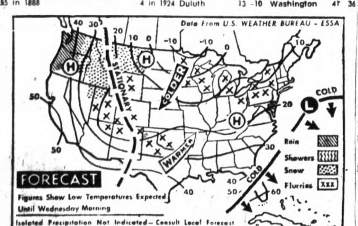

Cincinnati and Hamilton County police along with Ohio state troopers combined to halt the disturbance.

Senate Panel to Investigate Air Strength Yule Traffic Deaths Above Toll for '66

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said today his Senate Preparedness Subcommittee would begin a study of Air Force and Navy tactical air capabilities, including a look at the controversial F-111 warplane.

In a statement issued here, Stennis said the probe would be part of a "through and over-all" look into U.S. ability to wage conventional war. He is at the home in DeKalb where Congress is in recess.

Stennis said the investigation would include a study of aircraft now under development, and of plans for future air power, all with a view toward keeping American tactical forces strong enough to counter the Soviet Union and Communist China.

It was the second investigation Stennis has announced this month. On Dec. 11 he ordered a full-scale inquiry into American strategic weapons and weapons delivery system, both aircraft and missiles. Its purpose, he said, would be to compare the U.S. nuclear striking force with that of the Soviet Union.

PROBE, WAR LINKED

Stennis' announcement linked the investigation closely to the war in Vietnam. He said he thought both China and the Soviet Union were watching the war carefully, and would start trouble in other parts of the world if they thought they could catch the United States unprepared.

"We are forced to spend $25-billion a year and to tie up, in some cases use up, very vital war material, including tactical aircraft," he said. "It is to be expected that while Russia has us over this barrel, it will take full advantage of its opportunity."

Stennis also said that more than 700 American aircraft had been lost over North Vietnam, and that his subcommittee had found four months ago that both the Air Force and Navy were short of pilots.

Lam Bak was believed to have fallen to the North Vietnamese. Military sources said that the post was lightly defended and that all communications from it had ceased.

The two posts were identified as Lam Bak, north of the royal capital of Luang Prabang and Phalan, which is in southern Laos close to the Ho Chi Minh Trail. Communications from the Lao capital of Vientiane said both posts had been attacked by strong forces of North Vietnamese regulars.

Presumably the attacks took place within the past 24 hours, but the messages from Vientiane did not say precisely.

City Gets Parking Project Bid

BIRMINGHAM—The city has received a bid for a proposed construction of an "Auto-five-story, 701-car parking facility-guard" roof at $45,000 and painting that was below original estimate at $23,000.

City Commission acceptance of the total bid of $1,545,000, recommended for tonight's meeting at 8 a.m. city hall.

The base bid was $1,475,900 set for Jan. 8 at 8 p.m. compared to estimates paid Birmingham voters approved construction of the project on Nov. 7. It will be built at Pierce and Brown. The firm submitting the recommended bid was A. J. Etkin Co.

The parking facility is to be paid off from parking meter revenues plus a 10 per cent assessment on adjacent property owners.

Commissioners will also study a recommendation that a new city ordinance be passed to allow for outside water meters.

Officials report that meter reading would be more efficient if outside meters were allowed on more buildings.

It is planned to set a fee of $15 on each installation. At $15 it is recommended that new structures get the outside meters and those homes where entry has been difficult in the past, according to city officials.

Friday night our number one bird, LBJ, landed at nearby Korat and did his best to remedy the situation.

In an informal ceremony — and that's really the word for it — he awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross to a 24-year-old pilot from Bessemer, Ala.

The medal was awarded in an officers' club bar. There were no press present, and the entire visit was shrouded in secrecy.

As if we weren't moving fast enough, they shot us off the deck of the carrier Ranger Friday by catapult and now I know how the eight o'clock local feels leaving Cape Kennedy from a standing stop.

You reach the speed of 130 miles an hour in about 200 feet and you're on your way.

We landed on the Coral Sea and had the reverse treatment when the arresting wires grabbed us at a speed of 120 miles.

That's the equivalent of meeting another car face on the Hollywood Freeway going 60.

When your airplane hits the deck and the cable grabs you at that speed it's wild. I haven't been hooked like that since vaudeville.

Icy Lake Licks Dogs; Rescuers Get Licked, too

Two stray dogs were rescued Christmas morning from the icy waters of Middle Straits Lake by West Bloomfield firemen and police.

Asst. Fire Chief Mel Joritz said Fireman Donald Nelson and Volunteer Bump Westcott used a boat and a rope to reach the two dogs which were reported breaking through 1-inch thick ice some 500 feet out in the lake.

The dogs—a large collie and a Brittany spaniel—reportedly showed their gratitude by licking the firemen's faces all the way back to shore where they then promptly departed.

The men—considerably dampened by their experience—were taken in by neighbors for a Christmas cup of coffee, Joritz said.

New Pontiac Creek Channel Eyed

City commissioners will discuss the possibility of a $6-million project to reclaim the course of the Pontiac Creek at tonight's commission meeting.

Director of Public Works and Service Joseph E. Neippling will make recommendations concerning the possibility of such a project at the meeting.

It has long been recognized that the creek, which acts as a transportation system for storm drainage in the city, is inadequate for the water it must carry, especially during times of heavy rains.

The department of public works experienced difficulty last week with storm outlets and streets flooded in the area of the creek.

Commissioners also will hear a report from City Manager Joseph A. Warren on the status of negotiations between the city and owners of the Crystal Beach housing project.

PURCHASE DESIRED

Commissioners earlier this year indicated they wished to purchase the Crystal Beach housing project.

It is possible—purchase the project then begin relocation of tenants and eventually raise the buildings.

The project was constructed as temporary housing during World War II. The present owners have indicated a desire to sell if terms can be agreed on.

They stated they would sell for 50 per cent of a price to be fixed by three independent appraisals. The appraisals now have been completed.

In other action, the commission is scheduled to:

- Act on the sale of $3 million in tax anticipation notes.
- Pass a resolution calling for stopping of a bus subsidy for American Transport Co.
- Consider additions to the city budget presented last week.

To trim the budget requests, the director said, it was necessary to eliminate provisions for up to 10 per cent of overtime which is regularly paid city workers during severe storms and heavy snowfall.

In the past when snow hit the Department of Public Works would schedule all employees to work on around-the-clock 12-hour shifts until streets were passable.

Neippling said that under the 1968 budget this will still be done for the major streets but not for any local streets.

The city workers would be diverted to local streets only in the event of emergencies, "an immediate threat to life or physical well-being of individual residents," he said.

SUPERVISORS DECISION

Neippling said supervisors would have to determine in each case of a snow clearing request whether the circumstances constituted an emergency and then make a decision to bring snow clearing equipment to a local street.

He admitted this would be time-consuming.

Neippling said not being able to get to a grocery store or work "will not be considered justification for diverting equipment."

"It is fully realized," he said, "that any time the snowfall exceeds four or five inches, there is a distinct possibility that many persons will not be able to leave their homes for extended periods of time."

TWO CRITERIA

He said in making decisions as to what items should be deleted or reduced, two criteria were used:

• Will reduction affect the long-term health and welfare of individuals, or create an immediate hazard?

• Is the service a long-term maintenance function which has its principal value in reducing annual maintenance costs over a period of time?

Neippling said that services which would not create a health, welfare or hazard situation by elimination were reduced and long-term maintenance projects were deleted.

This resulted in the decision to defer crack sealing, seal coating and permanent patching of local streets.

He said constant repair work is needed on Pontiac streets to attempt to stop deterioration. Deferring projects, he said, will accelerate the rate of deterioration so that existing pavements will crack up faster.

MORE COSTLY

Ultimately, the streets will have to be repaired or replaced and this will be more costly, he said.

Neippling said the 90 per cent reduction of grading, chalking and sweeping will not be noticed until summer, then almost painfully.

"We have to constantly keep grading gravel streets to eliminate chukholes and prevent new ones from forming. We won't be able to do that this year."

The dogs—a large collie and a Brittany spaniel—reportedly showed their gratitude by licking the firemen's faces all the way back to shore where they then promptly departed.

The men—considerably dampened by their experience—were taken in by neighbors for a Christmas cup of coffee, Joritz said.

Woman Held in Son's Poisoning

CORDELE, Ga. (UPI) — An attractive 35-year-old housewife faced a hearing today on Oct. 7, Mrs. Gibbs' husband and charges she murdered her teenage son by lacing his coffee with arsenic. Officials also decided to investigate the recent deaths of her husband, two sons and grandson.

Police picked up Mrs. Janie Lou Gibbs, a pleasant widow, so well thought of here that she ran a caretaking service for some 25 children of working mothers.

But Lt. James Perry of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) said he thought officials would have no trouble in getting Mrs. Gibbs bound over to a grand jury at a preliminary hearing today before a justice of the peace.

Mrs. Gibbs, 35 on Christmas Day, was being held at the Deely County Jail at nearby Vienna.

Perry refused to discuss any alleged motive for the death of Roger Gibbs, 19, who is alleged to have died after consuming heavy doses of rat poison in his coffee.

Young Gibbs died Oct. 28 at an Albany, Ga., hospital, only months after the death of his month-old son, Ronnie Edward, lived in the country. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Gibbs moved to Cordele, Ga., where she had purchased an older, "homey" white frame home, remodeled it and began a caretaking service for children of working mothers.

"All died in hospital under a doctor's care," Perry said.

Officials said an autopsy on the 19-year-old Gibbs showed several milligrams of arsenic in the body.

Mrs. Gibbs was arrested Saturday. Authorities said the first death in the family was Jan. 21, 1966, when Mrs. Gibbs' husband, Charles, 40, died at a Cordele hospital.

Nine months later, Marvin Ronald Gibbs, 13, died in Columbus, Ga., and last Jan. 23, Melvin W. Gibbs, 16, another son, died in a Sumter County hospital.

Hanoi Snubs Peace Plan as 'Worn-Out Trickery'

TOKYO (AP) — Charging that American peace proposals always come before a new escalation, North Vietnam has dismissed as "nothing but worn-out tricks" the five-point plan President Johnson advanced Dec. 19 for an end to the war in Vietnam.

If the United States really sought peace, it would halt the bombing of the North unconditionally and withdraw U.S. and other allied forces from South Vietnam, Hanoi's Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan said.

The comment carried the weight of an official government statement. It referred to five points laid down by Johnson in an interview with White House television correspondents:

• Both sides must respect the demilitarized zone separating the two Vietnams.

• The unity of Vietnam must be a matter of negotiation and peaceful adjustments.

• The North Vietnamese must pull their men out of neighboring Laos and stop infiltrating that country.

• There must be a "one-man-one-vote" constitutional government in South Vietnam in control of the 20 per cent of the population which U.S. officials say is living under Communist control.

• The South Vietnamese government and the Vietcong's National Liberation Front should hold informal peace talks.

RED DEMANDS

The North Vietnamese demands for a halt to the bombing and withdrawal of foreign forces are key points in the peace demands the Communists have advanced for several years. The package has been rejected by the United States and its allies.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency quoted President Ho Chi Minh today as saying Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had been compelled to resign to take the blame for U.S. defeats in Vietnam.

The dispatch said Ho spoke at a celebration of the 23rd anniversary of the Vietnam People's Army and Nationwide Resistance Day. The date of the meeting was not given, but it was believed to have been recent.

Ho was quoted as saying that the United States obviously was being defeated in Vietnam.

McNAMARA RESIGNATION

"An evidence," he said, "is that McNamara, one of the chiefs of the aggressive war, has been compelled to give up his post as U.S. defense secretary, thus getting the blame in the place of President Johnson and his accomplices."

McNamara is to become the president of the World Bank.

Ho paid tribute to a 15-year-old Vietcong who he said had killed more than 100 enemy soldiers with booby traps and arrows and two unnamed North Vietnamese pilots who he said had each shot down seven U.S. planes.

Rail Crossing Safeguards on Holly Road Eyed

HOLLY—Currently under consideration by the State Public Utilities Commission is the installation of automatic crossing signals and guard arms at the Cogshall Street crossing on the Grand Trunk Western Railroad.

The village share of the cost is estimated at $25,000 with the railroad paying the other half.

Local officials, asked to appear recently at a state hearing in regard to the matter, contended the crossing problem was not theirs.

Said Attorney Robert A. McKenney, "Cogshall as a dedicated street ends at the railroad right of way. The land involved in the crossing actually belongs to Schwartz Junk Yard and Grinnell's Piano Factory."

He continued, "Since this is not a dedicated street and since there has been no traffic accident there in at least the last five years, we contended the crossing safeguards are not necessary."

NO RELEVANCE?

"However," he continued, "the state said the matter of Cogshall being a private street had no relevance."

The state feels that a new trailer park in Rose Township, located close to the crossing, has brought an increase in traffic, which makes automatic signals advisable.

The village expects to hear of the commission's decision within the next few weeks.

Park Naturalists Are Available for School Assemblies

Naturalists from Stony Creek Metropolitan Park in Washington Township and Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford are available for lectures to school assemblies through March 31.

William F. Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, said that school principals may select from six lecture topics, illustrated with slides or film and covering a 45-minute period, including time for questions.

Two new films this year are "From Nature's Nursery," produced especially for kindergartens through the second grade and "A Winter Walk," for boys and girls from the third through the twelfth grades.

There is also a new slide presentation called "Six-legged Animals," with excellent close-up photographs of insects supplied by Perry Reynolds, a Detroit business executive.

Other topics include "A Vacant Lot," "Michigan Rocks and Soils" and "Around the Corner."

The lectures are free and applications for appointments are available by contacting the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit.

ROCHESTER—Bus drivers for the board of education have ratified unanimously a contract retroactive in part to last Sept. 1.

The new agreement, effective Jan. 1, provides for a salary scale of $2.55 to $3 an hour attainable in four years as opposed to the old $2.45 to $2.70 in six years. Retroactivity was limited to 25 cents an hour. Eight paid holidays were also awarded drivers and full hospitalization benefits for full-time employees. Half-paid insurance was granted half-time employees.

Asst. Supt. Richard Huizenga said the contract would be submitted to the board of education for ratification on Jan. 15.

Construction Is Begun in Troy on a $250,000 Office Building

TROY—Construction has begun on a new two-story brick office building, with an estimated cost of $250,000, for Vare Corp.

It will house the marketing, sales and division management personnel adjacent to Vare's automotive research and engineering building at 2881 Industrial Row.

Vare Corp., with over $100 million in sales, was formed recently through the merger of Republic Industrial Corp. and Valley Mould and Iron Corp.

The new company has six divisions: The Elcon Division, which manufactures complete electrical subsystems and components; the Everlock Division, which manufactures a complete line of engineered fasteners; the Equipment Systems Division, which produces equipment and integrated systems for cargo and bulk material handling, ship building and off-shore exploration.

Others are the Selastomer Division, which manufactures static and dynamic seals for the automotive, appliance and railroad industries; the Uni-Grip Division, which produces a variety of plastic products including energy absorbing devices and decorative trim extrusions; and the Valley Mould and Iron Co. Division.

Dog Sled Racing Set

THOMSONVILLE (UPI)—Crystal Mountain Lodge today announced that a Great Lakes Sled Dog Association meeting has been scheduled for dog sled racing Jan. 6-7.

Between 30 to 40 sleds will be entered from various parts of the United States to compete on the 10-mile course being laid out for the event.

Group Pushes Road Upkeep

HOLLY—A protest group formed to put pressure on the Oakland County Road Commission for purposes of getting better road maintenance has been organized here.

Called WHAR for "Why Have Awful Roads?" the group in its first meeting drew 15 interested residents of the townships of Holly and Rose.

Ben East of Big School Lot Lake Road was named chairman. Mrs. Elinor Seavey is secretary and the remainder of the committee is composed of James Clarke, Leo Boncher, James Patnode, Seeley Tinsman, M. D. Pomeroy, H. E. Conrad, Helen Nemenzki, Donald J. Campbell, J. M. Beasley, Nelson Scott and C. Milton Nelson.

Another meeting to be open to the public will be conducted after the first of the year, East said.

He also pointed out that the condition of the roads was brought to public attention one day last week when school buses were unable to make their normal morning runs because of flooding and pitted roads.

CAUSES LISTED

Prime causes of contention with the Road Commission cited by East involved:

- Alleged incompetent maintenance work.
- Lack of proper supervision.
- Lack of feasible schedule for maintenance.

• Reported lack of funds for road maintenance despite greatly increased tax bills for the residents.

Said East, "We intend to have a member of the Road Commission at our next meeting. We will do anything that needs to be done to get better upkeep on our roads. If we don't get action now, the big problems we have now will be greatly compounded in two to five years."

THE BIGGEST—Construction on Pontiac station, a 345,000-volt bulk power station in the Detroit Edison electric system, is proceeding on schedule. The huge A-frame station towers at 70 feet, the largest in the company's electrical system, can be seen from Waldon Road in Orion Township.

In Orion Township

Major Power Station Is Being Built

ORION TOWNSHIP—Construction of a major bulk power station in the Detroit Edison's new 345,000-volt electric transmission system is proceeding at Joslyn and Waldon roads.

Designated by the company as Pontiac Station, the facility will be partially operative by June and complete in mid-1969.

Under construction since October 1966, the station will be the junction point for three sections of the 345,000-volt system. It will serve as a step-down station to 120,000 volts for subsequent distribution to all of Oakland County including the city of Pontiac.

Edison's accomplishment, in raising its major transmission system from 120,000 volts to 345,000 volts will theoretically increase the capacity of its lines by a factor of nine, said a company spokesman.

The high-powered system is designed to loop the Detroit metropolitan area and run for 128 miles from the St. Clair power plant, west through Pontiac, south to Wayne, and extend on down through Monroe to the Ohio border.

2 MAJOR STATIONS

Pontiac Station is one of two major stations in the system, the other being located in Wayne.

The primary equipment on both sites are breakers, transformers, transmission towers, and switching bus bars.

The station towers are 70 feet tall while the transmission towers rise approximately 130 feet above ground level.

The design of the Pontiac Station, however, is "low profile" with structures, other than towers, at heights of less than 30 feet. The station occupies about 11 acres near the center of more than 70 acres of property, permitting wide yards between the perimeter of the property and the transformer station structures.

Architect Hired for Library Unit

ROME—An architect has been hired to make plans for a $100,000 addition to the Romeo Public Library.

Stewart L. McCallum of Merritt, Cole and McCallum of Farmington has been employed to design the projected new 50-foot addition extending to the west of the present building which is located at 107 Church.

State approval three years ago for a federal grant to assist in constructing the addition is expected to open the doors to outside assistance at this time. The project was shelved then because of time conflicts, according to Mrs. Julianna Dodge, librarian. No amount was set on the grant.

No amount was set on the grant. The current application for federal funds is expected to encompass a third of the building costs. A healthy building fund currently held by the library plus donations from residents is expected to make up the difference.

The library, built in 1910 at a cost of $8,000 with money and plans supplied by the Kezar family which built Kezar Stadium in San Francisco, currently contains about 13,000 volumes, according to Mrs. Dodge.

The World of Orthon Followers Crumbles

COPENHAGEN (UPI) — Since the world was not destroyed by atomic warfare Christmas Eve, the followers of Orthon today turned to the task of building an "energy-free" space motor.

Orthon's followers say he is a cosmic being who communicates with earthlings through a medium.

Borge Jensen, who gave up his job as a mathematics teacher in Borup, a town south of Copenhagen, to supervise the building of a lead-lined shelter there, said Orthon predicted atomic war would break out in Asia and sweep the globe, killing all but one billion persons. The world's population is about 3.3 billion.

Jensen said Orthon's fleet of spaceships would rescue the billion, including several dozen believers in the shelter. Jensen has been unavailable for comment since one second past midnight Sunday — Orthon's deadline.

Cabdriver Knud Weiking, who says he is the Danish telepathic link with Orthon, said doomday is not to come for some time. He announced this at noon Saturday.

Weiking said he got the blueprints from a friend, Aage Jensen, who said Orthon gave them to him.

Schools Aim at Racial Balance

The Press approves the recently announced program of the Pontiac Board of Education looking to racial balance in the local school system.

Admittedly the initial steps of the concept are not the full answer to the endeavor, nor perhaps as extensive as the Negro community would have desired.

But school authorities face many problems in implementing

it. Disparity in racial population from one community to another, effective utilization of the educational plant, and the personal preferences of those involved are factors not easily nor immediately resolved.

However, a start has been made on equitable classroom integration, which time and the well-intentioned efforts of all concerned should move steadily toward ultimate objectives.

Support 'Suspension' Stand of City Fathers

The Press supports the City Commission's recent refusal to suspend two police officers involved in the apprehension of a teen-age suspect in the theft of an automobile.

A week ago, the youth suspected of stealing the car he was driving, was shot by the officers after repeated warnings to surrender as he sought to escape arrest, first in the vehicle and then on foot.

The act was made justifiable in the performance of their duty by City and County law enforcement authorities.

Subsequently, representatives of several local groups appeared before the Commission to demand suspension of the officers pending a coroner's inquest.

Had the Commission, after a week's consideration, bowed to the pressure to which it was subjected, it would have represented a clear abdication of the governing body's responsibility to the law-abiding citizenry of the community and a sell-out of the police department charged with protecting it.

At a time when lawlessness is rampant across the land and lawmen are struggling against odds to contain it, it is of paramount importance that police personnel have the full support of citizens and civil government in apprehending suspects by prescribed procedures.

Congress in Santa Role to Nation's Retirees

Congress put an annual $3.6 billion Christmas present in the collective stocking of 24 million Americans with the largest hike in pension benefits since Social Security was enacted in 1935.

The bill now awaiting presidential signature provides a flat 13 per cent increase in pension benefits for qualifying present and future retirees, with the minimum raised from $44 to $55 a month. The maximum monthly benefit for a retired person rises from $168 to $208 as credits from the raised ceiling on maximum Social Security taxable income become effective.

The legislation that took a year to clear Congress emerged as commendably realistic. It recognizes the increased cost of living that has proved a hardship for so many retired persons living on fixed incomes, while tightening some of the loopholes in other areas of social assistance.

The President's proposals and the Senate version of the bill were more liberal than the bill passed by the House last summer, but would have entailed a series of steep jumps in Social Security payroll taxes to support them. As it is, the taxable income ceiling will rise by $1,200 a year beginning Jan. 1.

The House-Senate conference committee to reconcile the two bills adopted the more conservative House draft with little alteration. On resubmission, the joint bill passed both houses by overwhelming majorities.

At a time when increasing taxes and excessive Federal spending are of mounting concern to Americans, the legislative objectivity reflected by the 1967 amendment to the Social Security Act is reassuring.

Fiscal Year an Increasing Problem

By EDMOND LeBRETON

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON

Everyone knows Jan. 1 is New Year's Day. But the federal government doesn't conduct its money affairs on that basis.

Practically all individual citizens run their affairs, are taxed, keep their books and generally live on the basis of a

Jan. 1-Dec. 31 year.

But, like many state and local governments, Uncle Sam operates July 1-June 30. His bookkeepers aren't welcoming a New Year this season—they're just logging the halfway mark in fiscal year 1968.

This wouldn't matter much if Congress observed the same calendar as the executive branch.

But the lawmakers go along with the general population, starting their sessions in January.

The timing misfit causes increasing trouble. But the chances are something may for the modest financial needs of such a government by July and the fiscal year could get under way with the books nice and tidy.

But when fiscal year 1968 began last July 1, Congress had passed just one of the 13 money bills needed to finance the government. The others were at various stages in the long legislative process. Five had not even cleared the House, where all originate, and legislative action on two was not completed until the last day of a long session, Dec. 15.

In such circumstances, Congress falls back every year on a rickety device called the "continuing resolution." It is a hastily passed authorization for departments whose appropriations are pending to keep on spending at approximately the current rate.

This year the routine approval of continuing resolutions got snarled with a congressional drive to put mandatory spending curbs on the law books.

PAYROLL HELD UP

In the hassle, part of the government payroll, including that of the poverty program, was held up briefly.

If Congress had been appropriating for a year beginning Jan. 1, 1968, instead of July 1, 1967, much trouble would have been avoided. Congress could have saved time, federal budgeting and administration of agencies could have been more orderly.

Proposals have come up to shift the government fiscal year so it coincides with the calendar year.

There is real steam behind the move now. It is supported by key members of the House Government Operations Committee and individual members ranging from liberals to such a powerful fiscal conservative as chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee.

THOROUGH OVERHAUL

The calendar change would not solve all the problems of government budgeting and appropriating, which are admittedly in sore need of a thorough overhaul.

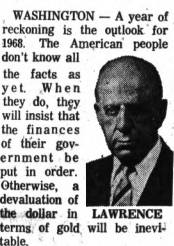

But Congress shies away from sweeping changes and the fiscal year shift—which would involve one-time appropriations for 18 instead of 12 months—appears the step most likely to be taken.

"Don't Look Surprised, Mac, We're Modernizing, Too!"

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — A year of reckoning is the outlook for 1968. The American people don't know all the facts as yet. When they do, they will insist that the finances of their government be put in order. Otherwise, a devaluation of the dollar in terms of gold will be inevitable.

The simple truth is that, in the current fiscal year, the United States government will have spent by next June 30 $100 billion in cash. This represents a steady increase since 1961 — a total rise of more than 80 per cent.

As population grows, it is natural that expenses of government will go up, too. But what is relevant is that the government is subsisting on borrowed money.

It is easy to blame the Vietnam war. Yet the current budget shows that, while there has been a rise of $20 billion in military expenditures over the last seven years, the cash outlay for nonmilitary projects — social welfare — has moved up by $51 billion.

Not only has spending by the federal government increased, but the cost of state and local governments has risen by more than $30 billion.

This means that government expenditures at all levels now amount to about $250 billion a year. The big question is how long this can be carried on largely with borrowed money and with unbalanced budgets.

WEAKNESS IN DOLLAR

Sooner or later, public confidence breaks down. European financiers today see weakness in the dollar as a result of both a deficit in what is called the "balance of payments" in import and export trade and in the huge excess of expenditures over receipts in governmental operations inside the United States.

Federal revenues have grown from $97 billion in 1961 to more than $158 billion, but this has not been enough to balance budgets. In fact, there have been only seven balanced budgets in 38 years.

Other countries are suffering from the same kind of financial instability, and that is why there is worry over the future of the dollar. For if the dollar cannot stand the strain, other currencies, too, will be adversely affected.

The remedy doesn't lie simply in an increase in taxes — although this would help. The problem is more closely related to the task of economizing so that priority will be given to necessities.

CAN BE DEFERRED

Commendable as are some of the projects being undertaken, many can be deferred, because it is not absolutely imperative to carry them out at this time.

Governmental agencies are under a tremendous pressure to spend money for "social welfare." It is politically more difficult to reject such demands than it is to grant them. Politicians realize that votes are to be obtained by a flow of benefits to their constituents.

Someday, however, there has to be an accounting and a priority system established. This is one of the hardest things for the federal government as well as state governments to accomplish.

Will the crisis come in 1968, and will the dollar have to be devalued then?

IMPACT ON DOLLAR

Disinterested analysts abroad are saying that the dollar has a fundamental strength which can be maintained for a long while.

The danger, on the other hand, is that the monetary units in other countries will begin to weaken, and this would in turn have a corresponding impact on the dollar.

Under the circumstances, especially with an election campaign coming up, there will be in 1968 a demand that the government economize. But the chances of doing so will be slim until after the November election.

If the United States can avoid a break in its dollar strength between now and next November, a realistic reconstruction of the budget is going to be necessary.

Bob Considine Says:

Ike's Failure on Russia Called Foible in History

NEW YORK — "If President Eisenhower had been able to go to Russia in 1960 it might well have changed the history of the world," his friend and speech writer Kevin McCann said recently at Shor's.

He must have detected a glazed look.

"I'm serious," the former president of Deafness College of Ohio continued. "He would have absolutely charmed the Russian people. He would have made a great impression on Khrushchev at that time, too. Only great good could have come of the visit."

"He was going to make six television speeches, two in Moscow, two in Leningrad, one in Minsk and one somewhere else. They had all been written."

"The final one in Leningrad would have been the greatest gesture of peace, and plea for peaceful coexistence, of the lot."

Dr. McCann sighed and looked into his beer. "But then that damn Francis Gary Powers got shot down and the trip blew up in Eisenhower's face."

"A tragedy of history."

In a forthcoming TV special, astronaut John Glenn will retrace the steps of Henry Morton Stanley, the explorer-journalist, that led to the finding of Dr. David Livingstone nearly a century ago.

In one sequence Glenn gives off a great start of surprise, and small wonder. It was filmed in Morogoro, Tanzania, through which Stanley passed on one of history's great treks.

Several hundred cartographers are believed to have gone off their rockers trying to locate that place.

The line came out in a lot of papers: "The card-burner was soon on his way to Duranville."

"The card-burner was soon on his way to Duranville."

Several hundred cartographers are believed to have gone off their rockers trying to locate that place.

With the cameras whirling, Glenn stopped at an outdoor market to examine a rack of — of all things — second-hand tuxedos. He reached into one of them to see if it had a label. It did indeed.

The tuxedo in question was from the same store in Houston where Glenn buys his clothes: Leopold, Prince and Rolle.

I'm indebted to the composing room of the Parkersburg (W. Va.) News for a prized contribution to my collection of typographical errors.

In printing a column about what a great vacation spot could be made out of South Vietnam's beaches, if there wasn't a war going on, the line in question came out this way:

"... Those beautiful beaches and (someday perhaps) the hotels, the high-rise apartments and the office buildings to support the industry of a great free port in Southeast Asia."

There's plenty of pot in Southeast Asia, true, but they charge like the dickens for it.

BEST SINCE . . .

"Free pot" is the best since I tried to describe a draft card burner who was on his way to jail. It fancifully and archaically called it "durance vile."

The line came out in a lot of papers: "The card-burner was soon on his way to Duranville."

Comments on Lay Off of City Employees

It is refreshing to see the City Manager has such high regard for the safety of the citizens who gave him a $5,000 raise last year that he is laying off many members of the police and fire departments. Is it true that employees of Lake Street Yard who are being laid off are being taken into the water department where they're not needed? What happens if this flu epidemic continues after these men are laid off? What happens if we have another large fire or more riots? Does the City Manager live in Pontiac?

I've always been proud that I am a graduate of Walled Lake High School but I'm prouder still of this great country of ours. What a shame so few students could cast such a poor reflection on the entire student body.

More Readers Discuss Recent Incident

Reader Davis mentions the callous weighing of Jimmie King's life against the value of an automobile. Not long ago The Pontiac Press carried a story of a young girl who had studied and worked to make her life meaningful and valuable to society, but who was suddenly deprived of the right to complete that life by a youth fleeing police in a stolen car.

I submit that rather than holding life in low regard, the officers were doing just the opposite. It is just possible that if Jimmie King and the youth driving the car that hit the girl's car had been certain that the law would be enforced, both he and the girl would be alive today.

Death Ends Nude Teen's Sword Spree

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI)—A naked teen-ager ran wild with a sword on a residential street yesterday before being shot and killed by police.

One patrolman was slashed by the sword and another wounded by a bullet while trying to subdue Daniel Bruce Brown, 19, Sunnyvale. Brown was hit with four slugs and died about 20 minutes later at a hospital.

A coroner's inquest, including an autopsy, was scheduled this week to examine all aspects of the incident. Police announced they would conduct a separate investigation into Brown's background in hopes of determining what may have prompted his Christmas Day rampage in this community 35 miles south of San Francisco.

Pedestrians ducked for cover when Brown stroled unclothed down a street about a block from his home and swung a four-foot "cavalry style" sword at anyone who came near him. His parents called police.

Patrolmen James Brice and Richard

Malvini responded in separate patrol cars. They remained inside the cars when Brown ran up and slammed the sword against the vehicles and windows.

PARRY BY POLICEMAN

Lt. Glenn Rake arrived in a third car and said Brown thrust the sword inside a window on the driver's side while he dived out the other side of the vehicle. Meanwhile, the two patrolmen left their cars.

Brown then began slashing wildly at Malvini. The patrolman drew his revolver, backed away and fired one warning shot.

Brown lunged at him and nicked his left leg with the sword as Malvini stumbled backward over a knee-high fence and fell to the ground, firing four shots.

Rake fired once. Four slugs hit Brown. Brice was struck in the right side by a bullet from Malvini's gun.

Brice was hospitalized in satisfactory condition. Malvini was treated for the minor wound.

Friend of Greek King Sees His Return to Throne Soon

Brother Charged

Wounded Teen Critical

HORTON (UPI) — A 16-year-old youth hovered in critical condition today following surgery for a shotgun wound in his back. His brother, who capped a Christmas morning argument with the shooting, was charged with felonious assault.

A hospital spokesman said Keith Voyles had improved slightly since undergoing surgery but remains in danger.

After the shooting, Richard Voyles Jr., 18, held his mother, stepbrother, two younger sisters, a uncle and a friend hos- tage, authorities said.

State Police maintained a grim vigil for over an hour outside the Voyles' home in rural southeastern Michigan as they attempted to ease the youth from the house.

"He was standing in the win- dow with a shotgun when we got there," said State Trooper Charles Bohm. "He wanted to make a deal but we told him we wouldn't talk to him until he laid down the gun and let the family out."

Splits Threaten Reds

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
A generation gap and a sharp cleavage between orthodox Communists and intellectuals appears to be damaging the party image in Eastern Europe and to be threatening the political lives of some leaders.

The Russians clearly are worried. Political tensions in the bloc can have wide repercussions, affecting even the regime in Moscow.

The developments raise a question whether, after years of cold war, the idea of containment is being vindicated, in that nature has been permitted to take its course and time to bring its political and economic changes.

A prime example of unrest is Czechoslovakia, ruled by Communists since 1948. Its situation inspired intervention from Moscow by Leonid I. Brezhnev, the party general secretary. He sprang to the aid of President Antonin Novotny who, after 10 years in office, is threatened by internal pressures.

SECRET MEETINGS
In recent months, the Czechoslovak party's central committee has had a whole series of secret meetings, the latest last week. There was a note of urgency about them. But no decisions were announced. Novotny, remains in power. Perhaps Brezhnev's sudden appearance in Prague saved the old Stalinist warhorse.

Ironically Czechoslovakia's economic successes contributed to the party's woes. Incomes have risen but now are outstripping supplies of goods, causing inflationary pressures at a time of demands for higher wages and better standards, along with a hue and cry for economic and political reform.

What happens in Czechoslovakia can be contagious. Economic reform can require political reform. Indeed, voices are being raised in Prague for political reform to come first: an end to the totalitarian authority of high party agencies. Some voices even demand an opposition — though Marxist — second party.

Old-line, orthodox leaders have been fighting back: those with vested interests, men with sinecures, those with good-paying jobs, men who don't want changes which might affect their positions, men who fear change as a matter of course.

LOSING GROUND
They are losing ground. Their most severe headaches are contributed by writers and students.

Orthodox leaders typified by Novotny and Jiri Hendrych, a politburo member, violently resist demands for political and economic reforms put forward by writers and students.

Their troubles began quietly enough with vague resentments, first from the writers who protested official interference with their work, then from students simply protesting inadequate housing conditions. The resistance soon took on a political tinge.

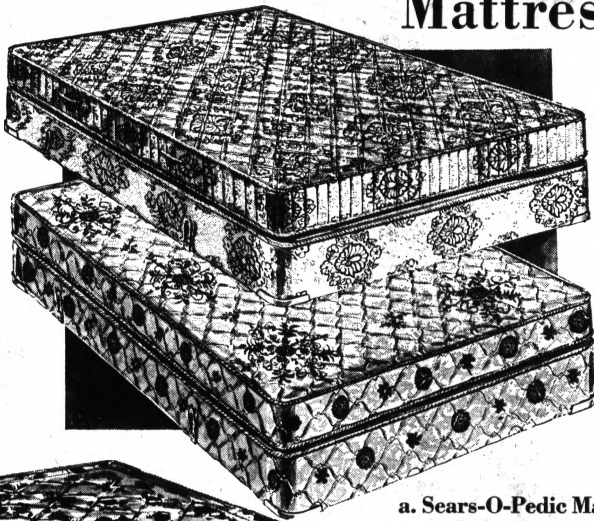

STUDENT PROTESTS
Police used tear gas against students who have been kicking up storms and demanding the right to demonstrate publicly. They, too, attack the party bureaucracy, tired of its cliches and double-talk.

Reports from Yugoslavia, Italy and Germany say the Czech party leaders are alarmed by the pugnacity of a younger generation demanding such things as university autonomy, punishment of police who beat student demonstrators, and accurate reporting of such events in the party press. Even the university's party committee has been in rebellion, condemning the police for actions against the student reform to come first: an end to the totalitarian authority of high party agencies. Some voices even demand an opposition — though Marxist — second party.

Viet Policy Change Urged by Cavanagh

DETROIT (UPI) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh called for a change in the administration's Vietnam policy last night and placed himself squarely on the fence if a convention fight should break out in his party between President Johnson and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

"The President's policy on Vietnam should be changed," said Cavanagh.

He said the candidacy of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., could help change that policy "if McCarthy surprises some people, as I think he will."

But Cavanagh refused to align himself with the Michigan Conference of Concerned Democrats, an antiwar group backing the McCarthy's candidacy.

McCarthy is "performing a most valuable service" by challenging the President on the Vietnam issue, Cavanagh told newsmen on a Public Television Channel 56 interview program.

NO SUPPORT
However, he said he wasn't supporting McCarthy because quality a man for the president is not a serious candidate, dency," said Cavanagh.

Cavanagh said Romney would surprise a lot of people with a good showing in the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries but would fail to win the Republican presidential nomination.

Romney "lacks the temperament or sophistication and it's depth of knowledge that would support McCarthy because quality a man for the president is not a serious candidate, dency," said Cavanagh.

'Probes of Equipment Use to Save Millions for U.S.'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigations by the Senate House Economic Committee and the General Accounting Office of use of government equipment by contractors will result in savings of millions of dollars, Sen. William Proxmire predicted today.

The Wisconsin Democrat, chairman of the joint congressional committee, said it will make public next month a list of defense contractors who "were using government equipment most of the time for their own commercial gain rather than on defense work."

"The government has been losing inestimable millions because of such abuses," Proxmire said in a year-end statement.

"The Pentagon initiated action at year's end to stop the shocking misuse of some of the $15 billion worth of government-owned property in the hands of private contractors uncovered in a GAO study requested by the committee," he said.

New regulations were issued by the Pentagon, said Proxmire, to "halt widespread and costly noncompliance with the vital Truth in Negotiations Act, the taxpayer's only defense against blatant overcharges."

Another committee investigation, he said, resulted in Pentagon action to improve accuracy of records on the Defense Department's $37 billion inventory to avoid unnecessary purchase of items already in stock.

Subzero Cold Stings Midwest

By the Associated Press

A fresh blast of arctic cold stung the nation's midsection today and sent a wave of earmuffs and mittens weather into the South as well.

Temperatures skidded below zero from the Dakotas to the Great Lakes and southward to Iowa and Nebraska. The mercury settled into the frosty 30s from Texas to Georgia.

Light rain and then snow preceded the new cold snap as it rolled eastward out of the Midwest. Rain dampened the coast from New England to Virginia while 1 to 2 inches of snow blanketed the country from lower Michigan to New York and Pennsylvania.

Hazardous driving warnings were in effect for residents of western upstate New York. The Weather Bureau said snow combined with falling temperatures would glaze highways and create slippery spots.

Light snow also dusted the slopes of the Rockies while rain fell in the Pacific Northwest.

Temperatures before dawn ranged down to 11 below zero at International Falls, Minn. Key West, Fla., recorded a balmy 69 degrees.

Mao Is in Good Health as He Reaches 74

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung, Red China's apostle of revolutionary violence and people's war, becomes 74 years old today.

It precedent is followed there will be no official celebrations of the Chinese Communist party chairman's birthday. In the past, thanks to the silence on the subject, there was some doubt as to in which year and month he was born.

Official and unofficial reports from the mainland say that Mao is in good health; reports in 1966 that he was suffering from cancer or heart disease do not appear to have been borne out. Photographs show him clutching a small cigar or cigarette, a sign that he has not given up smoking.

This year Mao has been nearer to active as he was in 1966 when he appeared nine times in Peking's Tien An Men — Gate of Heavenly Peace — square to review an estimated 11 million persons. His big public appearances have been less frequent in 1967, but he frequently turns up to meet foreign delegations, green Red Guards and receive groups engaged in his cultural revolution purge.

His battle to recover the power he lost in 1959 to President Liu Shao-chi and his entourage has shaken China since August 1966. Millions of Chinese are ranged on either side of the con-

After alienating phases of violence and calm, the cultural revolution appears to have moderated, probably a victory for Premier Chou En-lai.

The Swedish Army has developed a new turretless tank with fired automatic gun and equipped for amphibious operations.

Just for Christmas

Liver-Swap Girl Home

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Julie Rodriguez, 23 months, who has spent five months of relative quiet in a hospital since her historic liver transplant, returned to her home Christmas Day and was awed by two family reunions, presents and noisy youngsters.

"She is acting so happy," Julie's mother said.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rodriguez had not been sure if they would be allowed to bring Julie home for Christmas Day. At noon, however, doctors decided to let her make the 120-mile trip from the hospital in Denver to her home, provided she be returned to the hospital by 10 p.m.

In Pueblo, she attended family reunions at both her grandparents' homes. "Julie was entranced by the lights on the Christmas trees," Mrs. Rodriguez said.

Julie also wanted to run outside and play in the snow with the other children, but her parents refused.

Julie has to be doubly careful. She underwent an operation last week for the removal of an abscess from her liver.

The trip was the climax for Julie's holiday season. Mrs. Rodriguez said gifts have been pouring into the hospital from all across the nation. "She got so many things," Mrs. Rodriguez said, "but I think her favorites were the musical toys."

Widower Asks Is it Proper to Have Help?

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a man in my fifties, and live with three teen-age daughters in a private home. My wife died three years ago. Would it be all right if I hire a live-in housekeeper? We have enough space to give her a separate room.

Also, would it be all right to have a female friend of the family visiting us to stay overnight in our home, or must I send her to a motel? —E.V.

Dear Mr. V.: It would not only be all right, but most practical for you to have a live-in housekeeper. The girls need someone to help in the house and to act as chaperone when you are not there.

With three daughters (and possibly a housekeeper) in the house, I see no reason at all why a female friend should not stay with you.

Give her a room on another floor, or at least separated from yours by other rooms, and there could be no possible criticism.

Dear Mrs. Post: I was shocked when I read in your column the term "cleaning lady." You do not designate sex by the term lady or gentleman. The correct form is "cleaning woman." She may be a "lady" but is primarily a woman.—Constance

Dear Constance: There is no one "correct" term for women who do cleaning by the day. Certainly the word "woman" designated her sex; so does the word "lady" but it says much more.

Some "cleaning women" are ladies, some are not. I used the term "cleaning lady" because the woman referred to in the column is a "lady" and I would not think of calling her otherwise.

Father Officiates at Wedding of Joanne Auchard on Friday

With her father, the Rev. Edward Auchard officiating, Wilma Joanne Auchard repeated vows Friday evening with William Mark Seneffsky in Orchard Lake Community Church.

Her hair framed in a Madonna veil trimmed with Alencon lace, the bride was attired in an Empire sheath high-lighted with matching lace. A cascade of bridal roses and Stephanotis made up her bouquet.

Honor attendants for the double ring vows were Mrs. Paul Russell and Davis Cation.

Teacher Tells of Her Objection to Birthday Parties Held in School

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Mrs. Smith proudly writes that she has solved her children's birthday problems by taking ice cream and cake to school and treating the whole class. "The teacher," she says, "cooperates, and there is no fuss, no muss, and no frayed nerves."

For whom? Perhaps not for the mother. But, I am a teacher, and if a mother came to me with such a suggestion I would quickly tell her that I am paid to teach, not to give parties. Furthermore, multiply this scene by 30 or 35, and considerable teaching time is lost.

When I first began to teach and taught in a school that allowed it, I "cooperated" with one of those "no-fuss, no-muss" mothers who brought the birthday party to school. Games were played and the excitement ran high. The mother sat in the back wringing her hands while I tried my best to control the over-stimulated youngsters.

Two children upchucked their hastily gulped refreshments all over the floor. (No fuss, no muss, aye?)

Abby, please tell mothers to give their children's birthday parties at home. Thank you.

PAID TO TEACH

DEAR PAID: Hundreds of teachers share your views and wrote to tell me so. The only teachers who had a kind word to say about the classroom parties were kindergarten teachers. And they qualified their enthusiasm with, "If the mother tidies up the room and leaves it as she found it."

DEAR ABBY: The woman who complained about her husband going to stag parties reminds me of this story:

Two men were in the barber shop getting haircuts. The barber finished with the first and asked, "Would you like a little hair tonic?" The man replied, "Oh, no, my wife might think I've been in a house of ill repute!"

About that time, the second man was finished and the barber asked him if he wanted some hair tonic. He replied,

"Yes, please. MY wife has never been in a house of ill repute."

The point of my story is this: How does a complaining woman know so much? I have never seen a naked woman at a stag party, but I have seen some strippers come pretty close to it in some public bars where women sat in the front rows.

Also, I understand that some women are not averse to going places where they are served by topless waitresses, so what are they complaining about?

ANN ARBOR, MICH.

Speaks Vows
in Evening

The candlelit setting of the Episcopal Church of the Advent was the scene recently of vows uniting Maureen Carol Stretten and William Ray Boroska.

Attended by Mrs. Alan Ryden, the bride was attired in a crepe ensemble, highlighted at the collar and cuffs with crystals.

To cap her elbow length illusion veil, she chose a matching pillbox with crystals and seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was made of two white throated orchids and Stephanotis.

Best man was David Venie with groomsmen Lawrence Price, Marre Stretten and Richard Miller. Ivan J. Stretten III, Mark Boroska and Terry Stretten served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Stretten Jr. of Locklin Lane, West Bloomfield Township and the William Boroskas of Hebert Road, greeted guests at the Elks Temple for dinner.

Combat Insects
With Naphthalene

Household insects and bugs that are swept into a vacuum system often crawl out to again plague the homeowner.

The simple precaution of placing a half-dozen moth balls or one-half cup of naphthalene flakes in the vacuum cleaning bag proves effective in eliminating the problem.

Vapors emitted from naphthalene also eliminate any odors surrounding the vacuum bag.

Polly's Pointers

Rat Odor Lingers

DEAR POLLY — Our house had rats; which the previous owner killed with a commercial product. I had the place exterminated but the scent of dead rats is still here. I do hope some readers can tell me how to eliminate this rat smell.

I am sure it will grow worse during the winter when the house is closed up. Sprays have not helped. — GRACE

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Bonnie that I have successfully used a screwdriver and pliers to remove gripper snaps from garments. Tightly grip the socket or stud half of the snap with the pliers. Use the screwdriver to pry the prong pieces loose. I have even straightened the prong pieces and reused the snaps. — DAVETTA

GIRLS — We might all start to save tubes from various paper products so as to have a supply on hand. Each little gift in the tube could be wrapped separately to prolong the fun for the child.

A nice idea for those gifts some of us like to have on hand for children who come to call during the holidays as they could be fastened to the tree to seem very special and removed when needed. — POLLY

You will receive a dollar if Polly uses your favorite home-making idea, Polly's Problem or solution to a problem. Write Polly in case of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48066.

Shelf Spices
Spark Decor

Polly's note — Bonnie asked for it so here is an answer but, unless time and patience count for little, many of us would do better to buy new snappers (if they are to be reused) as they are very inexpensive.

DEAR POLLY — Last year I mustard, paprika, sage, thyme, poultry seasoning and oregano, according to the Glass Container Manufacturers Association.

Because there is a trend towards storing spices in full view in the kitchen, manufacturers are designing glass jars in elegant and unusual shapes to add to the decor. Colorful spice racks, holding from six to 60 jars, enhance the motif.

NEW YORK (AP) — The most frequently used spices in American kitchens are bay leaf, cayenne, chili, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, curry, ginger, onion powder, paprika, sage, thyme, poultry seasoning and oregano.

Honeymoon in the South

Newlyweds, the Bobby Joe Griders, nee Sandra Anne Gowen, are honeymooning in New Orleans following their wedding Saturday afternoon in First Presbyterian Church.

Prior to their departure, the bridal couple greeted guests at a reception in the First Federal Savings of Oakland.

Attended by Cynthia Gowen, maid of honor, the bride wore a A-line sheath of ivory peau soie, highlighted at the bodice and long sleeves with Alencon lace.

A cluster of rose petals with seed pearl trim secured her shoulder length veil. For her bouquet, she carried a cascading arrangement of white miniature carnations and ivy centered with pink Sweetheart rosebuds.

Sue Lee and Mrs. Jeffrey Shade acted as bridesmaids with William Strode, William Shultz and Donnie Dunbar ushering.

Best man duties were performed by William E. Hambrick III. The bride is the daughter of the Keith Gowens of South Tilden Street.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Marie Grider and Joe W. Grider, both of Russell Springs, Ky.

Speak Vows in Texas

The chapel of Bellaire Methodist Church in Bellaire, Texas, was the setting Friday for the marriage of Betty Jo Fraser and James Harold Westphal.

Parents of the newlyweds are the McDan Frasers of Houston, Tex. and Mrs. Norman A. Hoyt of Louella Street and Raymond J. Westphal of Rochester.

VELVET GOWN

For the evening rite, the bride wore an A-line velvet sheath highlighted at the sleeves with white mink.

A ring of matching white mink crowned the bride's illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of miniature chrysanthemums centered with a corsage of red rosebuds.

Mrs. R. F. Crabb attended her sister as matron of honor with bridesmaids Mrs. Clyde Fitzpatrick and Janet Westphal.

The bridegroom was assisted by his father as best man and ushers Philip Howard and Danny Myers.

Following a reception in the church parlors, the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to Austin, Tex.

Use Houseplants as Area Dividers

Ever thought of dividing space in your home with greenery?

Houseplants can be functional as well as beautiful to look at, the Society of American Florists says, when used at the dramatic focal point in floor to ceiling or eye-level room dividers.

Select plants that don't demand sunlight for survival. Sansevierias, philodendrons, Chinese evergreens, and Trileaf wonders are a few of the foliage plants that do very well in reduced light locations.

Fold laundered curtains in a drawer, so the top and bottom wonders are a few of the foliage plants that do very well in reduced light locations.

Lengthen Dress to Extend Life

When daughter's dress needs the same rickrack to trim lengthening, add a piece of the sleeves, neckline or waist, and same material in the required it will not look like a made-over.

Let the hem out and sew this! If you don't have the same piece around the bottom of the material, insert a width of a dress. Then cover the seam contrasting color in the middle Mrs. Marie Grider and Joe W. with rickrack, adding another of the skirt, adding a belt or row or two for decoration. Use sash of the same.

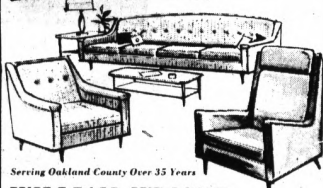

Chrome, glass, vinyl and brass create a youthful, easy-to-keep living room. The color scheme is orange, gold and lemon yellow. Long, lean lines of the thoroughly modern upholstered furniture seem right for young and active people. Selig offers this small-scale furniture in its Symetrix collection. Line available locally.

Rug-Hooking Art Makes Original Wall Hangings

TULAROSA, N.M. (AP) — Mrs. Cyrus R. Bartlett "paints" in wool. She hooks rugs, creating Carrier and Ives type pictures by artful shadings which give perspective and make the finished product so decorative that it usually ends up being hung on the wall rather than being placed on the floor.

Although she is past 80, the artist works five to seven hours a day. She draws her own patterns, which are then sent to a company which enlarges and prints them by a special process on burlap, the material used for the base of all the rugs. She uses all new wool, which she herself cuts and dyes.

One of her most popular pictures is a White Sands scene with yucca in the foreground and mountains in the background. Many of the military personnel stationed at nearby Holloman Air Force Base have purchased these as souvenirs of the Southwest.

Ideal for Dusting

Save any old shaving brush that comes your way. It is just the thing to dust the pleats in lampshades, and its fibers are so soft that it cannot harm the most fragile shade. You will also find it ideal for dusting off small vases and figurines.

Couple Wed on Friday, Travel North

A honeymoon in northern Michigan followed vows Friday evening for Diane Lee Williams and Douglas Ray Ingamells in Saint Stephen Lutheran Church.

Prior to their departure, the bridal couple was honored at a reception given at the First Federal Savings of Oakland.

Assisted by her sister, Nancy, the bride carried a bouquet of Stephanotis, carnations and chrysanthemums centered with an orchid.

She was gown in peau de soi fashioned with a high rise waist and long sleeves. A crown of pearls and lace capped her illusion veil.

Assisting as bridesmaids were Darlene Garchow, Karen Ingamells and Mrs. Lynn Williams with Robert Smith, Ronald Stinson and Jon Williams as ushers. Best man duties were performed by Ronald Reed.

Parents of the bridal couple are Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Williams of East Mansfield Avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Ingamells Jr. of Highland Road, White Lake Township.

Fabric Scraps for Handbag

When you buy woolen yard goods for fall and winter suits and dresses, get enough material for a matching drawstring bag. You'll find that most drawstring bag patterns require about 3/4 yards of 35, 38 or 54-inch material.

From the leftover scraps of the fabric, make a matching small drawstring bag to hold cosmetics or change. You will find this small bag very handy, and it will help you keep your bag much neater.

The small child won't mind having his throat looked at if you hold his tongue down with a small lollipop, instead of a spoon or stick. Of course, give the lollipop to the youngster after you are through looking.

Grandfather Clock Was Dutch

Our grandfather was a Dutchman, as far as clocks go. The tall case pendulum clock we know today as the "Grandfather Clock" was invented by the noted Dutch scientist, Christiaan Huygens.

He was the first to actually apply the pendulum as the controlling element of a timepiece, and the long wooden case was originated to protect the weights and pendulum.

Apparently both Galileo and Leonardo da Vinci had studied the pendulum system and left notes which were only brought to fruition by Huygens in 1656. This invention was greatly inspired by the need for an accurate timekeeper to be used in making astronomical observations.

His friend, Ahasuerus Fromanteel, a Dutch clockmaker, is credited with bringing the tall pendulum clock to England, from low countries' farms or rich burghers' houses.

SIMPLE DESIGN

Early tall case clocks, such as those designed by Fromanteel in his London shop, had square molded tops, in contrast to the acroll and voluted tops we associate with grandfather clocks today. The cases of these early clocks were very simple, usually made of mahogany or pine.

However, at that time Daniel Marot came to England and started to design clocks that were more ornate than others of the period.

It would seem, though, that only the more simple tall case clocks came to America with the Dutch settlers, and that the more ornate versions designed by Marot remained in London.

Naturally, early clockmaking in America was on a hand-crafting basis, but it was in this country that the clock and watch industry began large scale production.

AIDED INDUSTRY

As a matter of fact, expanded production in America had its start with the making of clocks, using the system of interchangeable parts. This revolutionary concept lowered costs and brought prices within the reach of all. Clocks were no longer a luxury.

From the very first, clocks had a certain prestige image in America and the clock industry grew very quickly, particularly in Philadelphia and Connecticut.

The first important Philadelphia clockmaker was Abel Cole, who is credited with making the first tall clock with brass movements in 1682. Peter Stretch and his four sons started making Pennsylvania tall clocks on a fairly large scale.

But in 1780 Thomas Harland started the first "clock factory" in Connecticut, using a dozen or more workmen in constant employ, and he managed to turn out about 40 tall clocks a year.

ONE-DAY

At last Chauncey Jerome revolutionized the industry by introducing the one-day brass clock (brass movement instead of wood). This was inexpensive to make and could be mass-produced.

He was making as many as 500,000 clocks a year and during the 1840's, Jerome's clock company became the largest in the world exporting all over.

From then on, the industry was launched and many prominent names who started manufacturing in the 19th century are still in business today.

But it is amusing to note that the name "Grandfather Clock" is a fairly recent term. The origin of the name can be traced to a song written by Henry Clay Work in 1870, called "Grandfather's Clock."

This song, sung by every school child in the United States since then, is actually responsible for the name of what was originally known as the tall case clock. The same is true of the grandmother, clocks, so called because of a song written in 1878.

The grandmother clock is a smaller version of the grandfather clock, usually about five feet in height. Today there is even a granddaughter clock, which is somewhat smaller than the grandmother.

Steam Used Yarn

When you ravel a knitted garment to salvage the yarn, you can take out the kinks and tired look by placing the yarn in a colander or steamer over hot water until thoroughly damp. Then place the yarn over a chair back and leave until it is thoroughly dry. It will be fluffy and work up as new yarn.

Girl Rifle Champ Sets New Record

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP)—At the age of 15, high school freshman Kathy Killian has set a new women's national rifle shooting record in the kneeling position in the "any sight" outdoor course.

Her triumph came in the Small Bore Regional Position Championship matches at Blue Trail Range, Wallingford, Conn. The five-foot, two-inch, 104-pound lass is not only a rifle champ, but has won awards for her archery prowess also.

New Resolutions Affecting Your Money

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

I don't hold with the theory that there's no use making resolutions for the new year simply because you didn't keep those you made last year. You never know when you're going to hit the jackpot. And '68 promises to be a year when all your winnings at all will be welcome.

Taxes can only go up. The cost of living isn't going down. So any exercise of will power on your part can make the difference in whether or not you break even financially—no small victory these days.

By all means hang onto the old basic resolutions such as Love Thy Neighbor and Hold Thy Temper. But this year, get right down to some practical specifics. Spell 'em out. To get yourself started, you might "shop" from this list of recommended resolutions:

- Think in terms of tax advantages and disadvantages when you buy, sell, borrow or give to charity.
- Keep all papers and records that may conceivably apply to your 1968 tax return. These include such seemingly minor items as receipts for donations, sales tax on your department store charges, cost of uniforms required by a volunteer job, cost of transportation for heavy tools required in earning your living.
- Review your life and health insurance policies. Analyze any duplications in health insurance policies, and determine whether the intent of your life insurance policies is still sound in the light of any major changes that may have occurred since you bought them.
- Analyze HOW you save. Are too many eggs in one basket? Could you diversify your investments to advantage even though your total investment program is no more than modest?
- Settle the old question: "Where does the money go?" Face up to how much you pay for convenience. For instance, in these areas: food, transportation, packaging, personal services, delivery service, clothing (through failure to do any comparison shopping), impromptu rather than planned use of washing machine and dryer, toll telephoning in lieu of letter writing.

SERVAL

QUESTION: Is the serval an animal of prey or a vegetarian?

ANSWER: The serval of the South African forests is a strange-looking creature. Its long, high neck and slender legs rather suggest an antelope. But the sloping back and shorter hind legs remind one of the wolf-like animal called the hyena.

The serval is not a vegetarian antelope or a member of the wolf family. It is a cat. Look carefully at its head and you will realize this. We think of all cats as looking like our domestic cat (upper left), but our tabby is only one member of the large cat family.

Our cats are thought to have descended from the wildcats of Libya which they closely resemble. The early Egyptians tamed these wildcats in order to keep down the mice which were eating their grain.

Our artist has imaginatively shown a domestic tabby wondering why more wildcats don't enjoy the comforts of living with mankind.

The European wildcat is said to have been crossed with the tame Egyptian cat, the combination producing the cats of today. Wildcats like the serval must depend on their hunting ability to live, for, like all cats, they are animals of prey.

Bicycles Spur Frostbite

By Science Service
Bicycles have been implicated as a contributing cause of frost-bitten hands by three Mayo Clinic physicians. Frostbite, although apparently rare, may simply not be reported, they say.

They report the case of a 10-year-old boy who had pushed his bicycle home through deep snow in a temperature of zero degrees. He had worn no gloves or mittens and was outdoors for about 30 minutes.

When he got home the fingers of both hands were white and hard. His father rubbed them and then immersed them in cold water, but swelling and dark-red discoloration of the fingers appeared rapidly, followed by purplish-black discoloration.

The boy lost a fingernail but it grew again. X-ray showed destruction of bone and subsequent growth retardation.

Dr. James E. Wenzl, Edmund C. Burke and Anthony J. Bianco Jr., all of Rochester, Minn., say that this case is similar to five others previously reported.

Cold conduction through bicycle handlebars is a possible aggravating factor, they say in the December issue of American Journal of Diseases of Children.

7 Churches Putting Faith in an Eighth

SEATTLE (AP) — Seven West Seattle churches of different denominations are joining in an effort to keep yet another church from closing its doors because of a lack of money and attendance.

The cooperative effort, led by the Rev. James T. Reynolds, minister of education at Fauntleroy Community Church, is aimed at keeping the High Point Christian Church, near a low-income housing project, alive and growing.

The Rev. Mr. Reynolds' church, five other Protestant churches and a Roman Catholic church are taking part. Five of the participating churches already have pledged $5,000, he said.

A new test which takes only three hours, and is simple and inexpensive, can spot immunity to German measles.

"YOUR HEALTH"
"HEADACHES"

Do you suffer from frequent headaches? Too many people do. Covering them up with aspirin gives only temporary relief.

The underlying problem remains. Chiropractic treatments attempt to get to the cause of the condition, which in many cases; is pressure on the nerves in the spine and neck. Once the nerve pressure is removed, most headaches disappear. If you have lived with this pain over the years, and been told, "It's your nerves, take some aspirin," then give chiropractic a chance. Results measure the merit of anything. Chiropractic claims nothing it has not already accomplished many times.

Pulchritudinous Power

Viet Women Delicate, Tough

By KELLY SMITH
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON—Did you know there is a woman mayor in South Vietnam? That the Vietnamese wife picks up the dinner tab? That they diet to keep slim? That lovelorn columns are big stuff?

This is a country in which not every woman is a refugee, not every woman wears a conical hat and not every housewife lives in a thatched hut with shooting at her doorstep.

Some ride in chauffeur-driven limousines. Some shop at Dior in Paris. Some vacation on the Riviera. Some have their eyes, noses and busts Westernized.

In government and business, as well as within the family circle, their influence is considerable.

HOW ELSE

A province chief, asked if he was corrupt, candidly replied,

Moon Myths Are Dispelled

Truth Revealed by Surveyor Landing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Serious scientists were speculating only recently that:

- The moon might be covered with dust up to a mile deep which surely would swallow up any spacecraft attempting a lunar landing.

- The moon might be made of highly reactive chemicals which would attack and destroy anything made of terrestrial materials.

- Moon dust particles were so heavily charged electrostatically that the topmost ones floated above the surface and would be bound to stick to and smother any human visitors.

- Radar pulses were reflected not from the moon's actual surface but from layers yards deep — a fact which, if true, would fool spacecraft altimeters and make disastrous crash-landings inevitable.

SUCCESSFUL LANDINGS

Thanks to America's surveyors soft-landing program of lunar exploration, now nearing its windup, these dire speculations have been relegated to the category of myth and many a fancied hazard to Apollo astronauts has turned out to be nonexistent.

Since June 1966 four surveyors have made successful touchdowns on lunar "sea" sites separated by as much as 1,000 miles in an equatorial band stretching from the Ocean of Storms on the west to the Sinus Medii, or central bay, in the moon's middle as seen from earth.

They have sent back more than 70,000 television photographs. One worked over the top surface of the lunar soil with a special digging device. Two made chemical and magnetic analyses of moon matter. The results were at once disappointing and heartening — disappointing for those who wanted to believe in the weird and strange; heartening for those who hoped the moon would be safe for Apollo spacecraft scheduled to visit it in 1969 or 1970.

"Yes, of course. How could I support my wife in her fashion otherwise?"

As for the Western beauty influences, Mai Ky, beautiful wife of the vice president, flew to Tokyo under an assumed name to have her eyes widened by cosmetic surgeons. "To make myself beautiful as possible for my husband," she said later.

Three doctors in Saigon specialize in eye-widening and bust-enlarging operations. Girls pay about $125 to have their noses made smaller, about $30 to have the skin at the outer corners of the eyes slit. The doctors do a thriving business.

Western beauty ideas have brought two more changes to a Vietnamese woman's life: brassieres and beauty contests. Both are immensely popular. Black brassieres are preferred, being easily visible under a light weight garment.

TRUE STEREOTYPE

The stereotype Vietnamese woman is a delicate-featured raven-haired girl with a slender waist and doe eyes, wearing a graceful long-sleeved floor-length dress. For once, the stereotype runs true to form.

But her image belies her true nature. Asian women traditionally are pictured by Westerners as passive, docile creatures trained to please men, always in the background saying little.

Tell this to a Vietnamese woman and she'll laugh. She usually remains in the background publicly, but passive she is not. Men say she's tough. She admits she seldom takes "no" for an answer—to anything.

Confucius gets the credit here. Men, Confucius said, should dwell on thought, ethics, literature and philosophy. He decreed the female of the species should deal with matters of less consequences like money, the family, work.

PAYS BILL

It's common, for instance, to see a woman paying a restaurant bill.

As for the Western beauty influences, Mai Ky, beautiful wife of the vice president, flew to Tokyo under an assumed name to have her eyes widened by cosmetic surgeons. "To make myself beautiful as possible for my husband," she said later.

Most women of wealth daily read their horoscope and the advice to the lovelorn column in the local papers. Their families come first, but if they are progressive they take an interest in education and charities for orphans, widows and unwed mothers. They don't mix much with Americans and don't care to.

PEASANT GARB
In rural areas, a woman works in the fields or runs a small shop. The garb of the peasant is black satin slacks and a form-fitting cotton shirt.

In these days of war, women are the road constructors: coats, in the country, and the building of new city structures. They work the pick and shovel wherever it's needed by day, and go home to their families at night.

beauty shops in Saigon as in New York City, and run very well.

The wealthy Vietnamese woman probably speaks French and English, has been schooled abroad and will send her children abroad. She counts calories, frets over her figure, exercises to keep her waistline.

RURAL FASHION — In rural areas of South Vietnam, where the western influence is seen only through the military troops, women work in fields or run small shops, their outfits usually the standard garb of black satin slacks and form-fitting cotton shirts. At this refugee tent city at Lai Thieu, three women work together to make pressed blocks, composed of mud and cement, which will be used to construct permanent hamlets.

Fever May Be TB Sign

By Science Service

It may come as a surprise that tuberculosis is still the most common infection causing FUO (fever of unknown origin) in this country, says Dr. Robert C. Petersdorf, chairman of the department of medicine, University of Washington School of Medicine.

"It should be suspected in every patient with FUO, particularly non-Caucasians including Negroes, American Indians and Filipinos," he warns in the January 1968 issue of Medical Times.

Such patients often have an early form of blood-borne TB infection that has not yet spread to the lungs.

FUO is considered present when the temperature is greater than 101 degrees, when fever is present for two or three weeks and when the diagnosis is not evident after a week of investigation.

Infections cause 40 per cent of cases, and cancerous growths or other tumors cause it in 20 per cent. Collagen vascular diseases account for 15 to 20 per cent. A variety of other diseases are found in 10 per cent; and in 10 per cent, no diagnosis can be made.

Ike: Make Political Donations Deductible

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says political contributions should be made tax deductible so that political parties can continue to raise their own funds through voluntary giving.

Eisenhower also recommends a ceiling on the amount any one person can give, based on a percentage of the donor's adjusted net income.

Writing in the January issue of Reader's Digest, Eisenhower says he disagrees with proposals to finance presidential campaigns from tax money and also make a plan to allow a donor to indicate on his tax return income tax laws to permit whether he wanted $1 of his the taxpayer to treat a modest payment to go to a presidential political gift ... as a deduction.

The first plan, the former president says, "applies compulsion to political giving." The second, which does not allow the donor to designate which party he wants to get his money, "removes the ... right to an indication of party preference," Eisenhower says.

CHOICE A 'MUST'

"I feel strongly that we must continue to raise political funds through voluntary contributions based on choice," says Eisenhower.

"And there is a simple, entirely ethical step ... that would make such a system vastly more workable: a revision of income tax laws to permit a donor to indicate on his tax return income tax laws to permit whether he wanted $1 of his the taxpayer to treat a modest payment to go to a presidential political gift ... as a deduction."

Eisenhower says "all loopholes must be closed" and suggests limiting deductible donations "to, say, one per cent of their financial affairs—all income and all holdings."

The former president admits the parties might get less money from contributions, but urges cutting campaign costs and "all-out community campaigns" to bring in the small donations "to close the gap."

Eisenhower says he is in favor of proposals to eliminate ceilings on expenditures which he says "are so low—now—as to be meaningless."

He recommends reliance on "wide disclosure and publicity to police our system."

Eisenhower also urges that possession of a dangerous "all elected officials, particular, weapon."

Wrong Customer for Gun Vendor

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Robert Miles picked the wrong customers when he offered a 38-caliber revolver for sale on a downtown street corner early Christmas morning, police said. The patrolmen said they arrested the 29-year-old man after he walked up to their cruiser and asked if they wanted to buy the gun. Miles was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon.

Marian Seniors, Alums to Have a Ball Tomorrow

By PATRICIA PALMEAR
"Ye Ole Yuletide Ball" is the theme of the annual Marian High School Senior-Alumnae Christmas dance tomorrow night in the school gymnasium. Jerry Ross and his orchestra will provide the music from 9 p.m. to midnight. Their repertoire includes selections from the Association, the Righteous Brothers, and various movie themes. Fifty-three innately families benefited from the two-week-long Marian-Brother Rice Christmas drive, which ended Friday.

Classrooms worked together to collect toys, food, clothing, and household items. Some classes also provided Christmas trees, turkeys and hams.

Seniors Kathy Anzick, ecclesiastical commissioner; and Mary Wilsher served as Marian chairmen. Faculty adviser was Sister Mary Gae.

Leo Sabatini, head of Brother Rice's social work group, Project '68; and Chris Hussar, both seniors, and Dave Lawson, junior, were Rice chairmen. Brother Joseph A. Grimaldi served as adviser.

DIVISION OF LABOR

Girls added their artistic talents in packing and wrapping the items, while the boys loaded and delivered boxes.

Each Marian class celebrated a Christmas Mass on their "Golden Gift Day."

If you caught the whiff of what seemed to be fresh bread in the corridors recently, it was the National Honor Society's (NHS) bagel sale.

The bagels were sold on order by the NHS for their annual fund-raising project.

Orders totaled 80 dozen, 30 dozen more than the goal set by the NHS.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Money earned from this project will pay for pins, badges, and membership cards and will contribute to a special scholarship fund.

Barb Birchler, chairman of the drive, and Betty Arim and Sue Convery, junior, organized the sale.

Annina Mitchell, a senior, was responsible for publicity.

Country Day Girls Give to Children

By SHARON BERRIDGE
Christmas at Bloomfield Country Day is a special time, a time for giving. The girls send gifts to Hawthorn Center, a rehabilitation center for emotionally disturbed children.

Marilyn Monaghan, chairman of Les Donoueses, and several other girls took the gifts to the center. Later Marilyn, Kit Butcher, Gail Bewick, Gay Caldwell, Nancy Russ and Sharon Berridge were hostesses at the center tea.

The girls were also able to help Altrusa, a professional organization, by wrapping 30 presents for the Children's Village at Oakland.

Christmas is also the time gifts are exchanged and parties held. Mrs. A. A. Norton (Mama) prepared a Christmas feast of turkey and dressing, and Santa Claus made a special trip to distribute gifts to students, teachers and alumni.

N. Farmington Seniors Go Caroling

By ANNE KILLEEN
A pilgrimage to Canterbury Commons was made by North Farmington High's Senior Class Saturday night. Christmas carols told their tale on the two-mile journey.

Jingle bells rang at 6:30 p.m. calling the group of mitted seniors together. Robert Davis directed the yuletide voices, and Christmas Carol Laurie Lentz made sure everyone had music and the cheery spirit.

Senior class president John Khami, lead the '88 class on the trip through neighboring subdivisions. Hot chocolate stops were made as they traveled the streets of Canterbury. The rest was welcomed by sponsors Lynne Chamberlin and Adele Howden.

"I'd like to start a tradition for the senior class to go Christmas caroling each year," explained Robert Davis who planned the party last month.

SPIRIT SPREADS

This is the first year NFH's Christmas spirit has gone beyond the school with a group of students. Davis turned to Khami for organization to make the caroling a senior activity.

"Since the seniors reflect the attitude of the entire school I felt that they could play a big part in exemplifying our Christmas spirit," said Davis.

Raiders Debaters finished their 1967 league season. The Northwest Suburban League Tournament was held Dec. 12 in which North Farmington's varsity, junior varsity and novice teams competed. Junior varsity debaters achieved third place in the league.

File cards and law books became a daily diet for the debaters. Coached by Mrs. Donald Meier the team tackled the topic: Resolved: That Congress should establish uniform regulations on criminal investigation procedures.

TEAM MEMBERS

This year's varsity affirmative team was Bob Hite and Tom Conlon. Terry Davis and Anne Killeen debated varsity negative.

Junior varsity debaters for the affirmative team were Steve Silverman and Jeff Fishman. Mark Rubinstein and Roger Voelkel represented the junior varsity negative viewpoint.

The novice team at NFH consisted of Steven Posen and Edward Heiter.

Debaters have not yet filed away their information. They will participate in the State Finals in Southfield on Jan. 20.

North Farmington High will take part in the annual Bentley Christmas Basketball Tournament for the first time this year. The tournament will be held over the holiday vacation and will involve Redford Union, Southfield, Bentley, Berkley, Farmington and Stevenson high schools.

Girls' Basketball Squads Formed at Kettering

By DONNA FURLONG
The halls of Waterford-Kettering High School are silent, but when school resumes, Jan. 2, so will the activities. Tuesday night W-K's Girl's basketball team will continue with its practice.

The girls meet on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. They were classified junior varsity and varsity by their ability, not by class.

Captain for the varsity is Sue Collins and Rosemary Smith is cocaptain. Virginia Guevara, a W-K teacher, is the sponsor. Junior varsity sponsor is Marjory Donovan, also a teacher.

W-K's Ski Club meets Wednesdays after school with skiing done on the slopes of Mt. Holly. Cost is $1.50 with your own equipment and $3.50 without.

SKIERS' SPONSORS

Sponsors for the skiers are Mrs. Aldo Aperauch, Virginia Guevara and James Tolga, all W-K faculty members.

Thursday, a School Attitude Assembly will be held. Purpose of this meeting is to give the entire student body a chance to "air their views." Student Council is sponsoring the assembly.

Following the basketball game against Walled Lake, Jan. 5 an after-game dance will be held.

The journalism department at Kettering will soon launch a fund drive to purchase an audio-visual recorder. Estimated cost for the machine is $1,500. With the a-v recorder, instant replay would be possible for sports and other extra-curricular activities.

CANDY SALE

A candy drive is being held by members of W-K's Office Education Association (OEA).

OEA is for seniors who have earned enough credits to graduate and do not need the full six hours of classes.

Officers for O.E.A. are Linda Smith, president; Dorothy Saporta, vice-president; Jill Franklin, secretary; Betty Statton, treasurer; and Shelly Aderholdt, publicity director.

Senior Sharon Hellman recently was elected president of the joint Waterford-Kettering and Waterford Township, Health-Related Co-op Club.

Different Touch for Yule Concert at St. Lawrence

By JANICE VAN DEN BROUCK
This year's Christmas Concert at St. Lawrence High was different. The audience was taken back to the Old Testament and shown how the ancient people anticipated the coming of Christ.

The program ended with a typical family celebrating a 1967 Christmas while the choral sang some old favorite Christmas carols.

The St. Lawrence girls' varsity Mustangs were victorious in their first basketball tournament game Sunday.

They will play again in the tournament in an attempt to win a trophy.

St. Lawrence varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders are also in competition for a trophy.

Trophy winners and all stars and honorable mention winners will be announced later.

The senior class Christmas Dance was held Friday. "The Deadwood Stage" provided the music.

Holidays Empty Cranbrook Halls

By MONTY MITZELFIELD
Wednesday, Cranbrook School closed for the Christmas and New Year holidays. The last of the first-term examinations were completed (Cranbrook is on a tri-semester system), and the school was deserted quickly.

There is something eerie about an abandoned school; not so much the lack of students and teachers, but rather the lack of noise.

In the Academic Building, all classrooms were closed and locked, and the drone and buzzing of classes was replaced by a penetrating silence.

The empty, dark halls of the three dormitories (Page, Marquis, and Stevens) were so contradictory to the normal, active dorm life.

Down at the "big gym," rows and rows of ancient, green lockers stood at attention like so many lonely sentinels. In the large, drafty gymnasium itself, only the wind was at play.

Even the vacant parking lot appeared much more spacious than when jammed with cars.

Clarkston Honors Society Initiates

By KATHY MATLOCK
New members for the Clarkston High School branch of the Henry Ford National Honor Society, are Debbie Atwood, Leslie Bell, Chris Birkel, Nancy Chapman, Mark Erikson, Kathy Fancher, Jan Hanson, Anne Lausten, Lennie Lee, Diane Lundy, and John Lynn.

All of new members were honored at an assembly last Wednesday. Kim Beattie, president, led the assembly, and Joan Willis, Leslie Surre, Cheryl Piereson, and Nikki Kratt gave speeches on character, leadership, scholarship, and service.

Lana Moore, vice president, introduced and swore in the new members.

DANCE SLATED

The Journalism class is sponsoring a dance Jan. 5. Proceeds will go toward further development of the newspaper. Linda Munro is sponsor.

Tryouts for the annual water show will be held after school on January 2nd. Dolphins will try out for solos, duets and trios.

This year there will be a senior and a junior trio.

Countries around the world will be the theme, but the title has not yet been chosen.

MESSAGES TO GIs

Mrs. Ruth Mary Scribner's English and French classes and the Senior Girls' Ensemble helped to make the season bright for some soldiers in Vietnam.

They taped songs, messages, and general discussion and sent them to Sgt. Wesley Mitchell.

Some students also sent Christmas cards in hopes of beginning a correspondence.

Leftist Spirit Imbuing Students in Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A new left-the Free University. A number of professors from among the students of the United States have had considerable impact on the students in Berlin. In through speeches or panel appearances. Among them is German-born Herbert Marcuse of the University of California at San Diego, who has been described in some quarters as a primary ideological source for the student movement in Berlin. The dissidents include a group of Americans in Berlin who organized themselves this year to demonstrate against U.S. policy in Vietnam. Some unanswered questions attend the movement, including who pays its bills. By way of explanation, Dutschke has said the Socialist German Students Union, a kind of centerpiece in the new-left array, collects dues and receives private contributions. There has been no public accounting of the money.

Another question has to do with size. Dutschke has estimated the number totally engaged at no more than 15 to 20, with 150 more active. He says these activists can bring into the streets upwards of 4,000 students over a particular issue.

One factor in the rise of Germany's new left was the formation of a new government a year ago by the country's two major political parties, Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger's Christian Democrats and Foreign Minister Willy Brandt's Social Democrats. Extreme Socialists felt they would be swallowed up in this "grand coalition" and many quit the Social Democrats to find their own groupings.

Since then, concern of the West German establishment over the leftist phenomenon has increased. Kiesinger has said he does not want Berlin "ruined."

Nor is there much indication that East German Communists are pleased. "The last thing they could use over there (in East Berlin)," said one Free University source, "is a bunch of our students telling their people to go out and demonstrate against the establishment."

Weather Hurts Crop Control

Federal Planning on Cotton Is Disrupted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crop control officials, like farmers, are finding that the weather can cause the best-laid production plans to go awry. And like the farmer, the officials do not hesitate to complain about the weatherman when too much or too little rain, frosts, winds and other actions of the elements force farm production pattern out of line with official planning.

Such was the case this year with a weather-plagued cotton crop that turned out to be the smallest since 1955 and tossed a monkey wrench into Agriculture Department planning for next year.

Official reaction has come from Undersecretary of Agriculture John A. Schmittler who has direct supervision over government crop-control and production-adjustment programs.

TAKES EXCEPTION
Schmittler has taken sharp exception to news reports concerning the very short cotton crop and the possibility that the government may have to revise provisions of its already announced cotton-control program for 1968. The undersecretary says these news accounts have failed to put the proper amount of blame on the adverse effect this year's weather had on the crop.

There are at least two ways the weather factor can be viewed from the standpoint of its influence on results of government programs.

One, of course, is the position that the government should not be held accountable when the elements turn unfavorable and upset official calculations.

The other is the position that the government can be held accountable because the weather, along with market prospects, is predictable.

Spanish Student Strife Slows for Yule

MADRID (AP) — Spain's restless university students are taking a Christmas break from throwing stones, slopping injustice and name calling. There are no more classes until Jan. 8 for the nation's 90,000-plus collegians.

In recent weeks some have stoned police, massed in public streets, shouted abuse at Gen. Francisco Franco, and conducted classroom strikes despite police clubs and water hoses, arrests, expulsions and military courts-martial.

Focus has been on the University of Madrid and its 32,000 students, but there have been scattered strikes and demonstrations at universities in Barcelona, Salamanca, Seville and Zaragoza, and at Madrid private colleges.

Student unrest in Spain goes back in this era to the early 1950s. Students have given the Franco government one of its more perplexing problems.

LEGAL UNION

Rallying point currently is the demand for a legal student union freed of any government control. But that's only a part of a larger picture of professional firings, crowded classrooms and what students deem inadequate equipment and facilities.

As always in complex Spain, there is an element of politics.

Students have their free union called Sindicato Democrático de Estudiantes, Students' Democratic Union, but the government holds this to be illegal.

Extralegally, students of the Universities of Valencia and Barcelona have voted it power. Thus far, eight of Madrid's schools have approved it.

INFURIATES STUDENTS

University authorities refuse to deal with what they consider an illegal union and this makes the students furious. Another moot point is the dismissal of about 60 university professors and assistants in the last two years for what students describe as political reasons.

Students argue the government wants to prevent Spanish intellectuals from influencing public opinion.

The beautiful University of Madrid campus among the hills on the west side of the city replaced a school destroyed in the 1939 civil war.

New or not, many classes are crowded. Even more frustrating to serious students is what they call a lack of modern equipment and facilities in technical schools.

'RED-INSPIRED'

University officials call the student disturbances Communist inspired.

The rector expelled 16 student delegates of the Political and Economic Sciences School with loss of credits. He has warned students of penalties for those who don't attend classes, with munism seems to be gaining strength. Communist activities are exploiting student frustrations.

Students arrested for taking part in demonstrations and for a mally charged face military courts-martial. One of three students charged with sedition for stoning police and shouting slogans drew a three-year prison term.

Scores of students have been arrested, but most have been released quickly.

NO DOUBT

There appears no doubt there are Communists among the students. Campus observers and students say this isn't wide spread, although a newly formed Chinese branch of communism.

The right wing doesn't approve and some groups such as Defensa Universitaria, University Defense, have used violence to persuade some less conservative students. A U.D. group was beaten by liberals during a recent illegal student assembly.

Radical Socialists and anarchists have little student support and monarchists hold themselves aloof, waiting for the day a king returns in Spain.

"Students argue a lot about politics and they get pretty hot," said one undergraduate, "but only a minority actually belong to a political party. Most of us are too involved in the race for degrees to get into politics."

Ohio Crash Fatal

SUNBURY, Ohio (AP)—Dana H. Browning, 22, Detroit, was killed Monday when his car collided with another auto on U.S. spread, although a newly formed Chinese branch of communism.

Even if you're good all year, what you get from Santa isn't always what you asked for. Like a double-breasted orange cardigan with purple zigzag stripes, when what you wanted was a grey pullover . . . or a clothes brush that matches the other twelve you got . . . or a hat that was meant for the Jolly Green Giant. But if he got it at HHS, just bundle it up and bring it back. We want you to be delighted with everything that comes from HHS, and we'll be happy to exchange the gifts that goofed for something you really like. The Worm Has Turned!

Colorful Male Escapes Drab Cocoon

NEW YORK (AP) — While lately, that is, in the year 1967, to make women notice him, now that his wife is bringing home half the rent money?

He's wearing—Turtlenecks—Men have probably struck their hardest blow in a sense become men, the men, freed of the responsibility of running things... become more flamboyant," British fashion historian James Laver recently told an interviewer.

"Man is trying to get women to notice him," Laver said, "and I don't think his interest in clothing and colognes and so on is necessarily going to make him effeminate."

So what has he been doing his term. But it took his brother, Robert, as well as television personality Johnny Carson and other public figures to practically eliminate the tie altogether by wearing turtlenecks with their dinner jackets.

Though the necktie industry swears it is not choked up over the trend, the turtleneck boom is still booming, not only as stuffed-shirt substitutes but for wear in daytime as well.

FUR COATS

Fur Coats—Virile men are wearing rugged Persian lambs vestige of London's Carnaby Street, disguises a paunch so nicely that it is here to stay.

Colored Shirts—Television, or possibly because double-breastedness accommodates those vests so well, men have started it. Nationally prominent people appearing on camera were asked to wear blue shirts because white bounces light. And since others wanted to look as though they were nationally prominent enough to be asked to be guests on television panels, they wore blue, too. After blue, could yellow, green, or even pink be far behind?

Vests—The mod influence came and went, but the vest, a vestige of London's Carnaby Street, disguises a paunch so nicely that it is here to stay.

Double-Breasted Everything—Just weary of single-breasted-ness, or possibly because double-breastedness accommodates those vests so well, men have started it. Nationally prominent people appearing on camera were asked to wear blue shirts because white bounces light. And since others wanted to look as though they were nationally prominent enough to be asked to be guests on television panels, they wore blue, too. After blue, could yellow, green, or even pink be far behind?

Other Things—Once largely the work uniform of the grease monkey, the jump suit is now leisure wear for the avant-garde.

THE SPARTAN STANDS FOR VALUE.....

..but what is a value?

You have undoubtedly heard the expression, "It takes all kinds of people to make a world." Well, it's true, and no two people are completely alike. There are many people who look alike, but very few think alike. People's tastes, likes, and dislikes are as varied as Michigan weather... and, there are few places where it is quite so evident as it is in what different people consider to be a value at the super market.

Some people value service above everything else. They will shop at the food store that consistently and willingly offers them all the service that they expect, and more. There are many people who value savings more than anything else, and they will shop the food store that is the easiest on their budget.

Still others feel that unlimited selection is the most valuable asset that a food store can have, and they will shop the store that offers the greatest variety in every department.

And, last, but certainly not least, there are those who value the people who work in the store above all else. They shop the store where they can always find a cheerful smile or a friendly conversation from people who don't mind going out of their way to do things your way.

Yes the "SPARTAN stands for VALUE", and value is different things to different people... that's what is so nice about FOODLAND Supermarkets, they've got something for everybody.

And, speaking of values, here's one that's just as delicious as it is timely.....

Soviet Explosions Hit Apartments, Yank's Car

MOSCOW (AP) — Two explosions in the apartment house. One by main for the apartment house; 10 minutes earlier on the opposite side of the Moscow River. The apartment house blew up at about 9:20 p.m., bystanders said. About 100 persons were believed living in the building's 24 apartments two miles southeast of the Kremlin.

Police, troops and barriers blocked off the mass of rubble and torn walls.

HUNDREDS GATHER

Hundreds of Russians gathered this morning to stare as a huge crane worked behind a board fence thrown up overnight. The police and soldiers refused to answer questions and would not allow Western newsmen to enter.

One policeman led a weeping, middle-aged woman behind the fence. Apparently she had lost relatives in the explosion.

"I saw them get a woman and a little girl out alive, but not many could come through that blast," a man said.

Concrete lamp posts were flattened for 100 yards. Windows in surrounding buildings were blown out. Their electricity and water were cut off.

BLOCK OF APARTMENTS

The destroyed building was part of a block of apartments facing Krasnookhlimsky Street, a main traffic artery that circles downtown Moscow. It stood at the end of the Krasnookhlimsky bridge over the Moscow River maintained a blackout on the about 2 miles southeast of the disaster Monday night also, and Kremlin.

Police investigating the bombing of Bradsher's automobile seemed perplexed, and veteran foreign correspondents could not recall an attack like it in Moscow.

Bradsher said he did not believe the bombing was directed against him or his family. He said he assumed someone had picked out a handy foreign car as a target.

The explosion occurred about 25 minutes after Bradsher, his wife, Monica, and their two sons, Keith, 3, and Neal, 2, returned home from a Christmas for non-Communist foreigners.

Finding the apartment building's small parking lot full, Bradsher parked the car in an alley just around the corner from the sentry box of a policeman assigned to the building.

A hole in the snow-covered pavement just under the right front axle indicated that the explosive had been placed on the ground after the car had been driven onto what looked like a clean patch of snow. There was no indication that a bomb had been attached to the car before it was parked.

Navaho Relief Effort Continues

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (UPI)—Satisfied that the southwestern part of the storm-swept Navaho Indian reservation has been taken care of, relief and rescue officials today began concentrating their operations in the hardest-hit northern and central parts of the reservation.

Maj. Mike Wolf of Western Air Rescue Center, Hamilton AFB, Calif., said today's operations would concentrate on the areas in the north and central parts of the reservation which were hardest hit by the eight-day storm which dumped upwards of three feet of snow across north Arizona.

"Tuba City was not hit as hard as the rest of the reservation," he said. "We have cleaned up that area to our satisfaction and to the satisfaction of Indian officials at Window Rock. We are concentrating on the central-north part of the reservation."

In all, more than 350 military and civilian personnel, most of them volunteers, worked to dig the reservation from under its blanket of snow Christmas Day.

Six Air Force C119 planes, manned by Air Force reservists out of Luke AFB near Phoenix, dropped 36 tons of hay to isolated groups of cattle and sheep on the reservation Monday. An Air Force spokesman at Luke said the drops were "precision drops, much like those made in combat situations." The planes were guided to the drop areas by six Navy helicopters.

155 SORTIES

Monday's sorties brought to 155 the total number of hay-lift flights made since the weather cleared last Wednesday. A total of 822 tons of hay have been airlifted to the reservation.

Eight crews were to take off from Luke today to drop another 48 tons of hay.

'S. Viets to Pursue VC Into Cambodia'

PARIS (AP) — South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do said today that if necessary for "self-defense" South Vietnam would pursue Communist forces into Cambodia.

Speaking with newsmen on his arrival from Saigon, Do was asked if "the right of pursuit into Cambodia would be exercised by South Vietnam."

"If it is necessary, yes," he replied. "Our war is a war of self-defense. We would be obliged to do so if the enemy troops use Cambodian territory as a sanctuary and cross the frontier to attack our troops."

"But we have no intention of invading Cambodia, and on the contrary even, we hope very much to have friendly relations with this country. But for our defense we are obliged to follow the enemy if he crosses the frontier. We have responsibilities toward our troops and toward allied troops."

EN ROUTE TO AFRICA
Do said he was stopping only for the day in Paris en route to Africa and dismissed speculation in the conservative newspaper Le Figaro and on the French national radio that he would contact the North Vietnamese legation here.

The North Vietnamese also denied that any meetings were scheduled. A spokesman told a reporter: "You know we don't have anything to do with these people."

But when asked if there was a possibility of meeting representatives from Hanoi in the African capitals he will visit, Do said: "That depends on Hanoi. But Hanoi remains silent."

He said his trip had no political significance, and that he was making it only because he had been invited to attend the inauguration of President William V. S. Tubman of Liberia.

Injured Father, Kin Reunited
Wife, 10 Children Brought to Hospital

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The parents and 10 children of the Robert Woody family were reunited Christmas Day in a Kansas City hospital after 11 weeks of separation in five states. The children are from 2 to 14 years old.

Woody of Nevada, Mo., was injured critically in a 40-foot fall from a water tower on which he was working in Fremont, Mich., Oct. 3.

He suffered skull and arm fractures and chest and brain injuries and is partially paralyzed.

Mrs. Woody sent the children to stay with relatives in Colorado, Tennessee, Missouri and Kansas, and she went to Muskegon, Mich., where Woody was under intensive care in a hospital.

EXTRA VISITING HOURS
"Because he was in such critical condition," Mrs. Woody said, "the hospital let me visit him from 4:30 in the morning until 12:30 at night."

During his 11 weeks in the hospital, people contributed $1,600 in Muskegon and $2,000 in Nevada to help pay medical bills.

Woody was brought to the Kansas City hospital by ambulance plane Dec. 19. A hospital lounge was turned over to the family for the reunion.

Open Occupancy Issue Remains Alive in Michigan Courts

By JIM NICHOLS

LANSING (AP)—Although the Legislature scuttled its open occupancy bill last week, the question of a Negro's right to secure the housing he wants and can afford remains alive in court.

The Michigan Supreme Court has one case, dealing with the authority of the State Civil Rights Commission in the housing field, and a similar confrontation is simmering quietly in Ingham County Circuit Court.

The two legal actions raise these vital questions:

• Is the right to acquire housing a civil right guaranteed by state law or the Michigan Constitution?

• Is the office of a realtor, homebuilder or rental agent a place of public accommodation, where discrimination based on race is forbidden by state law?

• Does the commission, an agency created by the State Constitution, have the power to enforce a ban on bias in the housing field?

Gov. George Romney has asked the Supreme Court to decide one case which could go a long way toward answering those questions. The court may act next month.

That case involves an Oakland County builder and developer who, according to his own testimony, refused to sell a subdivision to a Negro simply because of the prospective purchaser's race.

In that case—involving a complaint by Negro Freeman M. Moore against respondent William J. Pulte—the commission declared it had authority in the case to purchase real property is a civil right guaranteed by the state and U.S. constitutions.

Pulte's attorneys filed legal briefs disputing both claims. Romney asked the Supreme Court to decide who is right, without waiting for action by the Oakland County Circuit Court. The high tribunal took the case, but has not yet announced a verdict.

Meanwhile a similar action—involving a realtor instead of a builder—rests in Ingham County Circuit Court as the three-judge panel which once ruled against the commission waits to see what the Supreme Court is going to do.

The Ingham case involves Realtor Richard C. Clautherty, who testified he refused an East Lansing apartment to Negro William M. Smith "because you are colored."

Essentially the same issues owner must lease or sell private. If the high court rules in favor of the Clautherty case, the commission argues that the right to acquire housing is a guaranteed civil right, that a broker's office is a "place of public accommodation" at which discrimination is outlawed, and that the commission has jurisdiction over cases involving housing.

The Circuit Court has agreed to reconsider its decision—which court's decision is against the commission, lawmakers may be shuffling of votes—as critics of the commission try to pass a bill which would strengthen the commission's power.

On the other hand, if the court's decision is against the commission, lawmakers may be more reluctant than ever to pass legislation which would extend the controversial agency's area of responsibility.

Good News of Past Year Is Drawn From the Worst

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR., Executive Director

National Urban League History will remember 1967 as the year of the most severe riots in the nation's history. The riots which swept the country after the First World War, and even in the last two or three summers look like picnics beside Detroit and Newark.

The situation wasn't helped by press reports which were sensationalistic and neglected to fully explain the justified anger at intolerable living conditions which was at the root of the riots. And it wasn't helped by inept police actions which provoked many riots, or by the irresponsible "burn, baby, burn" crowd who cheered while rioters burned their own neighborhoods.

Many misguided people will look back on the 1967 riots as being an expression of militancy. But what kind of "militancy?" Is it when innocent people are killed in the streets or at their windows?

But too much has already been said about the negative aspects of the year. Despite the violence, the backlash, and the many casualties, 1967 had some positive elements.

Some of these were related to the riots. Perhaps for the first time, white Americans became fully conscious of the hostility and anger in the ghetto. They could no longer bury their heads in newspapers while their commuter trains sped past the ghetto. Now they had to finally see what was really happening.

UGLY BUT HONEST — It wasn't pretty, but it was honest and it was the truth. That's much better than the old hypocrisy which poisoned efforts at change. It's better to have the hate on both sides out in the open where it can be dealt with.

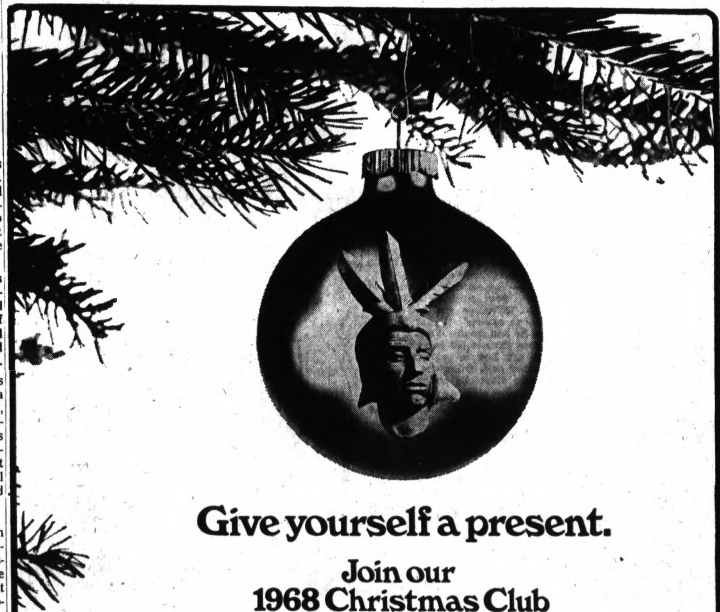

Another positive element was the realization by our top business leaders that the widespread riots threatened the future of our nation, and that they had to help eradicate the slums and poverty which breed discontent.

The Urban Coalition was formed in mid-summer. It's a broad grouping of civil rights, religious, civic, business and labor leaders. Many communities formed their own urban coalitions, and this group will fight for needed legislation and will take steps on open up jobs and housing for minorities.

Some of the measures taken by business leaders are very impressive, especially when measured against indifference of the past. The auto companies went into Detroit's ghetto to hire people who might not otherwise have qualified for jobs. Other companies built plants in the ghetto. The insurance industry pledged a billion dollars in investments in the ghetto.

PRIVATE PULL — With Congress turning its back on social action, it has become more necessary than ever for private interests to pull their weight. A sign of the times is surely the recent speech by Arjay Miller, President of the Ford Motor Co., in which he called for a negative income tax whereby no family would fall below the poverty line.

Another hopeful sign was the election of Carl Stokes as mayor of Cleveland and Richard Hatcher as mayor of Gary. Never before have Negroes been elected to the top positions of such major cities, and they did it with the help of votes from enlightened white citizens.

One of the valuable by-products of membership in the American Contract Bridge League is the monthly bulletin sent to all members. In addition to news of bridge, it carries articles on bidding and play. Here is a hand discussed by Eddie Kantar in the November bulletin.

This is an article on play and since there are nine top tricks at three no-trump, we won't bother to comment on the bidding except to point out that South was trying to get to a slam and that if he had bid a slam in either diamonds or clubs he would have gone down because both suits broke 4-2. Playing at five clubs, South won the heart lead and took stock. One way to make the hand would be to cash the ace of spades, the ace of hearts and the ace-king of diamonds and try to make all clubs on a crossruff. The trouble with that line of play would be that the six of clubs would be likely to get overruffed.

Kantar points out that the winning line of play is to guard against 4-2 breaks in both clubs and diamonds by an unusual safety play. He suggests that after winning the first heart, South should lead a diamond and play low from his own hand.

The defenders could lead any suit. Suppose a second heart. South wins in dummy, leads a club to his hand, ruffs a low diamond, draws trumps and

Navahos Fight to Survive After Storms

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)—The Navahos stood on top of their hogans where snow was inches away.

They flashed mirrors. They waved blankets and bright cloths. They plunged into waist-deep snow to make circles and an occasional S-O-S. Some simply waved their arms at the low-flying helicopters.

The thousands of Navahos stranded last week by vicious snowstorms and roaring winds up to 70 miles per hour needed food for themselves. They wanted hay and feed for their sheep, horses and cattle. They wanted a doctor for their sick. And they needed firewood to stoke pot-bellied stoves in their hogans, the mud and log dwellings which dot the nation's largest Indian reservation.

NEED HELP

"It's definitely bad," said 2nd Lt. Clinton Traylor of the 23rd Aviation Co., Ft. Carson, Colo. "The people definitely need help." "You could spend a week here just looking for them."

"Everytime we saw a hogan, we saw people stopping in the snow and waving at us. I saw at least 50 to 75 mirrors flashing."

WO William Connor, an Army helicopter pilot from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., said he didn't realize "how bad off they are. The majority are in inaccessible areas."

Connor said the Navahos "are a pretty hardy people. None wanted to be evacuated."

"I saw people waving red flags and standing on top of the hogans," Tribal Chairman Raymond Nakai said following an aerial survey of the nearly 16-million-acre Indian reservation. "The roads to the hogans and the corrals were not plowed."

He said Navahos living in isolated areas "haven't gone anywhere since the storm hit. I know of no one who has been in contact with them. I saw red flags and big circles indicating they needed help."

A few days before Mrs. Amy Nez gave birth to twin boys she said she was shoveling snow away from her remote hogan.

"But it always would blow back," she said while recovering at a U.S. Public Health Service hospital at nearby Ft. Defiance. Speaking in Navaho translated for a newsmen by a nurse, Alice Nelson, the mother of five other children said the snow almost came to the top of her hogan.

Mrs. Nez said three of her children shovelled snow so that her sister could reach the hogan a day before the twins, Elroy and Leroy, were born.

Mrs. Nez's sister, and their mother and father, helped deliver the babies Wednesday, about 30 minutes before a mercy helicopter arrived.

LEAVES HOGAN

Mrs. Nez' mother is 79 and her father 86.

She said she left the hogan, about six miles south of Inscription House Trading Post in the reservation's north-central section, "because she was afraid the twins would get cold. We didn't have enough fire wood."

"She was afraid the plane might drop if the plane ran out of gas on the way to Window Rock," Miss Nelson said. It was the first aircraft ride for Mrs. Nez.

Two brothers were found dead in the same area Thursday from the first aircraft ride for Mrs. Nez.

New Tobacco Strains Seen

By Science Service
TOKYO — A tobacco plant produced by Japanese scientists has only half the usual number of chromosomes, promising quicker development of new varieties both of tobacco and other plants.

A low-nicotine tobacco, for example, might be developed within two or three years, instead of the five or six such a development would usually require.

Success in producing a haploid — as a half-chromosome plant is called — eluded researchers until last year, when it was achieved by Indian Air Force Base, Calif., said he didn't realize "how bad off they are. The majority are in inaccessible areas."

New Skates Ruin a Perfect Day

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Santa, the weatherman and city officials all combined to bring 15-year-old Elaine Schmidt just what she wanted for Christmas. Santa brought the ice skates, the weatherman obliged with snow and freezing temperatures, and city crews cleared the skating rink.

But while testing her first pair of skates, Elaine fell and broke her leg. The shiny skates now hang on the back of the closet door while Elaine goes about on crutches.

Swedes Take 2nd Look at Easing of Sex Taboos

STOCKHOLM (AP) — "It is laws which broadly prohibit all publications and pictorial material offensive to 'propriety and decency.' This principle, Justice Ministry officials say, is open to wide interpretation because of changing public attitudes. But 20 pornographic publications have been confiscated this year against none last year."

Social workers estimate that every third bride goes to the altar pregnant. The rates of illegitimacy and venereal disease, and probably those of divorce, are rising. Peddlers of pornography, "porn" as the Swedes have nicknamed it, are becoming bolder all the time. Published estimates put their annual turnover at $8 million to 10 million. Nearly every Stockholm street has shops with windows crammed with booklets and pictures. The portrayal of a naked female no longer seems to be enough. Photos now go into anatomical detail, and show more than one person together in the nude. Clusters of men regularly stare into the windows.

EXTENDED DETAILS
Movies show extended nude sequences and details. Afternoon papers particularly are heavy with sex stories, nude pictures and sex advertisements. Some sample ads: "Homosexual club for men and women"; "Are you looking for uninhibited women eager for sex? You'll find them in the Club." Strings of ads from "professional models" give telephone numbers.

A commission is studying

ASKING PROTEST

"We are asking people to protest against writers and film directors who earn money by stripping bare sexual life, by distortions and by offering women for sale as though they were toys or stimulants," he said. "It isn't only our womanhood which is being defiled by the immorality which is spreading over the land. Now even males are beginning to figure in the photographs."

Is this flood of pornography and open discussion about sexual freedom damaging Swedish youth and the family structure?

Psychologist Aake, Edfeldt says: "During a certain period of youth, pornographic literature and photos are the normal form of sexual experience. In my view, it is a symptom of the fact that sexual instruction in the schools hasn't advanced far enough, that it isn't sufficiently realistic. Instruction is limited too much to books on biology."

Sex education is compulsory from the age of 7. The teaching manual is under review. One issue is what children should be taught about contraceptives.

COMFORT

"There's no doubt our children have much greater freedom in sexual matters than ever before," commented a Swedish father, "but at the same time, if it's a comfort, they also know how to take better care of themselves than ever before."

There was an old tradition in her baby are considered a family. Swedish rural society of getting married only after a child was on the way. Some Swedes say a new tradition is tied to the housing shortage. If a baby is expected, the time on the waiting list can be reduced by a year.

Illegitimate children are officially called "born out of wedlock," with equal rights to adequate care, training and education. The mother has the right to be called "Mrs." and she and

Compared to other European countries, the divorce rate is relatively high—one divorce occurs in every six to seven marriages. Statistics indicate the rate is increasing, but officials emphasize the figures are difficult to interpret.

At the 1967 International Exhibition of Fine Foods some 250,000 persons came to see the array of delicacies provided by 3,000 companies from 64 countries.

DOWNHILL ALL THE WAY by Leonard Woolf (Harcourt, Brace & World, $5.95): An intimate look by the husband of Virginia Woolf at himself, his genius wife and civilization from 1919 to 1939.

It is a discouraging book for an aspiring writer. Woolf reveals that his wife, despite world acclaim for 17 books published after age 30, would have starved without family money. From 1919 to 1924, Virginia's royalties averaged $650 per year.

Even worse was the suffering the sensitive Virginia endured while writing, especially fiction. This anxiety which fed recurring mental illness led to her suicide in 1941.

Even though Virginia's talents, personality and suffering dominate the book, Woolf has much of himself to offer. He feels, as the title suggests, that World War I destroyed western civilization and it has been going to pot ever since.

The book is divided into two parts: Peace In Our Time, O Lord; and Downhill to Hitler. Gloom pervades the pages of Woolf's book. "This erosion of life by death," he says, "began for Virginia and me in the early 1920's and gathered momentum as we went downhill to war and her own death."

TASTE IN AMERICA. An illustrated history of Isidore Ross (Crowell $12.50). The evolution of architecture, home furnishings, fashions in male and female dress, the changes in social customs in the United States from colonial times to the present are presented in this elaborately compiled and illustrated volume of over 300 pages.

"Taste in America" contains a bit of everything from the development of the washing machine to the establishment of luxury hotels such as the Palmer House in Chicago and the Palace Hotel in San Francisco.

Miss Ross is described as having a passion for research as shown by her historical novels and biographies of prominent American women.

In "Taste in America" she has indulged this passion on a grand scale.

Britain's Rigid Class Lines Slowly Dissolving

By LYNN HEINERLING
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — There was a hush and then came a genteel murmur of "Hear, Hear" as Baron Hill of Wivenhoe bent over in the House of Lords to shake hands with the Lord High Chancellor.

Edward James "Ted" Hill, 68-year-old former president of the Amalgamated Society of Boiler-makers, Shipwrights, Blacksmiths and Structural Workers, had just joined the nobility in Britain's upper house with "all the rights, privileges, pre-eminences, immunities and advantages to the degree of baron."

Lord Hill's two sponsors for the occasion, already members of the House of Lords, were Lord Blyton-William Reid Blyton, 68—a former miner, and Lord Poplewell—Ernest Poplewell, 68—a former railway signalman.

Miners, signalmen, boiler-makers in the House of Lords? Earls and viscounts addressing Ted Hill as "the noble lord?" Is Britain's aristocracy coming apart at the seams?

'NOT YET'

The answer would have to be "not yet." There are still 28 dukes, 30 marquesses, 164 earls and countesses, 110 viscounts and nearly 700 barons and baronesses, not to mention two archbishops and 24 bishops, listed among the peers.

Some nobles have fallen upon unhappy days. Death duties and taxes have eroded some great estates. Many lords are in business in the House of Lords to shake hands with the Lord High Chancellor.

There is a movement afoot to limit the right of hereditary peers to sit in the House of Lords. But the voices of those who want to abolish the peerage are few and muted. There are about 900 hereditary peers and 160 life peers, whose titles die with them.

There is a difference between the peerage and the aristocracy. Hill may be a baron, but except for his seat in the House of Lords, he is far from the world of the landed bluebloods.

ARISTOCRACY PERSISTS

Despite the taxes and the death duties which have whittled down the great estates of the 25 hereditary, nonroyal dukes and others, the aristocratic life persists. Perhaps a dozen of the dukes are among the 100 or more millionaires in Britain.

But in modern Britain, heredity is becoming less and less a factor in measuring success. There is a visible stirring in the dukes, 30 marquesses, 164 earls and countesses, 110 viscounts and nearly 700 barons and baronesses, not to mention two arch-class, no longer the largest, is still shrinking.

New measurements have appeared to fix a man's place in British society. This is the result of two world wars, the dissolution of the empire, the new technology, a long period of full employment now temporarily interrupted, an improving educational system and many other factors.

Heredity is no longer the principal yardstick for measuring class membership. Formerly, an Englishman was born into the class his parents inhabited—working, middle or upper—and he usually stayed there.

"The underlying assumption was that everyone's place in the system was fixed, as if by a divine force," says Robert Milner, who recently has published a study of Britain's class system called "The New Classes."

A new class structure, more elastic and democratic, is coming into being, based on "an aristocracy of achievement" rather than birth, he says.

The army, the empire, the monarchy, the Civil Service and the hereditary peerage were the bastions which supported and preserved the sharp divisions in British society in Victorian days and through the reign of George V.

To this day, the crack Guards regiments rarely accept an officer candidate who has not had the gentlemanly background of an English public-private-school. But two world wars with general conscription and the inevitable inroads on the officer class brought a new, more democratic complexion to the army.

The empire drew off more of the public schoolboys to administer and control the colonies. The empire is no more. The top administrative class of Britain's huge and efficient civil service is no longer a closed society for public school boys and graduates of Oxford and Cambridge.

The aristocrats controlled the citadels of power in Britain—the government, the great banks and the land—for generations. Their hold is weakening.

Neither Prime Minister Harold Wilson nor the Conservative opposition leader, Edward Heath, are public schoolboys although both went to Oxford. Nor are Foreign Minister George Brown, or former Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan, graduates of any of the smart schools. Brown is a former union leader.

The job once fixed an Englishman's status in the social hierarchy. The leaders in trade and industry were somehow inferior to doctors and lawyers. Electronics and other technological advances have changed that.

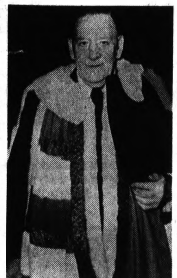

The apprentice who works his way to the top is now more likely to get his due.

and other benefits of the post-war welfare state have evened out some of the social bumps. Sociologists say there is a growing feeling of equality. A long period of full employment strengthened this feeling.

Another force influencing the ending of the class structure is education. Both major political parties now favor a comprehensive school system to challenge the dominance of the prestigious independent schools like Eton, Harrow and Rugby, if not to abolish them.

The present Labor government, committed to a classless society some time in the future, takes a gradualist approach. Some feel that the growing comprehensive school system is its most solid achievement toward this end although there is still much reorganization to be done.

The government emphasizes home ownership and there is progress in this direction. Only 20 per cent of homes are now owned by private landlords, a drop from 30 per cent 10 years ago. Nearly half of British homes are now owned by their occupiers and another 33 per cent by local housing authorities.

Cruise Ships on Rise

America is now on the move where speed and transportation throughout the year.

PROPORTION
This development of the luxury midwinter cruise for the masses is almost in direct proportion to the loss to the passenger traveler on the cold North Atlantic route to Europe.

For example, by the close of 1967, more than 5.5 million passengers will have traveled to Europe but only 400,000 or so will have gone by ship.

Compare this with a 1948 total of 760,000 travelers to Europe, more than 500,000 of whom traveled by ship. Since then, however, the ratio has been more than reversed, and the advent of the supertankers is bound to accelerate the trend.

Flying has, in fact, left relatively little business for the ships in the foggy North Atlantic and in some other oceanic areas as well as attested by the recent sale of the Queen Mary, a ship that was losing $2 million a year offering luxury

But, just as Europe, advertising and leisure helped develop jet air travel to Europe, the Orient and, in fact, all the continents, so did it help make possible the mass cruise business.

Ships that for years traveled the stormy northern oceans began shifting to where the business went in the winter. They headed south, shortly after Christmas and continued in the short season until spring.

SHORTAGE?
It is now the cruise business, once a luxury of the rich, that is keeping passenger travel afloat on the oceans. In fact, a recent study by the Port of New York suggests that perhaps there might even be a shortage of cruise ships.

The port found that, "because of various economic uncertainties in the passenger ship industry, it is likely that there will not be a sufficient supply of passenger ships to meet the projected demand."

The problem arises because of government involvement with shipbuilding. The fear exists, therefore, that foreign governments might not want to help build ships that will be used only, or primarily, for use out of American ports.

Bridge Tragedy Toll Now at 35

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (UPI) — Two more bodies were recovered today from the Ohio River at the spot where the Silver Bridge collapsed 11 days ago.

The known dead toll stood at 35. Fourteen other persons were listed as missing, police said.

The two bodies were recovered from a submerged auto.

The two victims were identified as James O. Pullen, 48, Middleport, Ohio, and Frederick D. Miller, 27, Gallipolis, Ohio.

Miller was a passenger in the vehicle, owned and driven by Pullen.

Three cranes worked throughout Christmas Day salvaging twisted steel beams and slabs of concrete from the submerged wreckage.

Workers took time out to eat a Christmas dinner served by Red Cross volunteers.

The steel and concrete pulled from the river was loaded on barges and taken up a nearby path where the bridge will be re-constructed to determine the cause of the collapse.

Col. William Falk, district engineer for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, who directed recovery operations on the bridge, estimated six million pounds of steel and concrete plunged into the water when the bridge collapsed.

He said with favorable weather conditions the river may be cleared in two weeks.

Hopes High for Year-End Rally

The November price in consumer prices — the tenth straight monthly gain — another signal of inflationary tendencies and helped market sentiment.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 5.317 with industrials up 1.1, railroads up .1 and utilities up .3.

What Really Happened in Tonkin Gulf? Navy Men Tell Story

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once confusing because the destroyers themselves were not certain the controversial Tonkiners were being attacked. The Associated Press last lines and this time prompts a summer interview nearly two congressional inquiry.

The resolution, rushed through Congress 40 months ago after the Johnson administration told of North Vietnamese attacks on two U.S. destroyers, was the basis for America's full scale entry into the Vietnam war.

The debate has been whether President Johnson enlarged on the authority granted by the resolution and questions have been raised since the destroyers really were attacked the night of Aug. 4, 1964.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chief spokesman for the resolution originally and now one of its more severe critics, has ordered his staff to scrutinize logs newly obtained from the Navy with an eye toward holding hearings next month.

QUESTIONS RAISED
Fulbright said in a statement Friday that information his committee had received from "what we believe to be responsible individuals" had raised a number of questions about the Tonkin incidents.

The Defense Department the same day cited what it called conclusive evidence that the destroyers were attacked without provocation and said any suggestion the attacks "did not occur is contrary to the known facts."

A former Navy lieutenant, John White, wrote the New Haven Register and later Fulbright—this month that he had overheard from another ship "confusing radio messages sent at that time by the destroyers—glowing green field on a radar scope.

The Turner Joy said she got the same contacts.

FREAK CONDITION

Radar normally reaches only as far as the horizon but the low overcast that night caused a freak condition called "ducting," which enabled the two destroyers to record the contacts 30 miles away.

Two days before the Aug. 4 incident, the Maddox—routinely patrolling 15 or 16 miles off the North Vietnamese coast—had been attacked in daylight by three North Vietnamese torpedo boats.

Only one bullet hit the Maddox, lodging in a gun structure. She steamed out of the gulf and returned the next day with the Turner Joy astern.

Nothing happened on Aug. 3. The night of Aug. 4, Ens. John M. Leema was on the bridge of the Maddox when "I saw, with my own eyes, five or more high-speed contacts approaching on the surface-search radar." Contacts are sightings that show as pinpoints of light in a round,

When the blips indicated a boat at 8,000 yards, Capt. John Herrick ordered firing of star shells to illuminate the area. Herrick was the commodore of Destroyer Division 192 and he was aboard the Maddox.

"Our next report was 4,000 yards," said Cmdr. Barnhart on the Turner Joy. "That's when I said to commence firing."

A curious thing was happening on the Maddox. Her radar didn't show what the Turner Joy's did.

COULDN'T SEE SHIPS

In the air, Cmdr. Wesley McDonald swooped low time after time. "I honestly could not see any ships on the surface," he said in an interview.

The two ships couldn't see each other because the night was so dark. The shooting and maneuvering for the 2½ hours the incident lasted was strictly by radar.

At one point it appeared the attackers were at her stern, too close for the big guns. Barnard, the Turner Joy skipper, ordered depth charges.

Lt. (jg) John J. Barry III of Pittsburgh, one of her gunnery specialists, saw on radar what he assumed to be a boat closing at high speed.

"The Maddox at that point reported a torpedo in the water," Barry said. "The contact was approximately 4,000 yards out on our port quarter, possibly even closer. At this point we initiated a turn so both the Turner Joy and the Maddox turned."

"Then, I personally spotted the torpedo. The first thing I did was grab the enlisted man next to me, Seaman Larry Litton, to confirm he saw it too. I wanted to make sure he saw it too."

Litton estimated the distance at 50 to 60 yards—"the closest I ever want to see one."

The two men were the only ones interviewed by the Associated Press who claim to have seen the torpedo.

On the Maddox, Mallow continued to call out torpedoes and recalls making 20 or more reports that night.

"They would tell us 'torpedo in the water' and they never would tell us where the torpedo went," said Norman Leavitt of Cashmere, Wash., sealed off in a gun mount.

As the sonar reports multiplied, the bridge on the Maddox began to doubt there could be this many torpedoes. The reports seemed to follow whenever the ship made a sharp turn. "What we were doing, we were getting our own screwbeats very loud," said her captain, Cmdr. Herbert L. Ogier. "It's been my opinion that the first or second time it was actually torpedoes and after that it was the result of our maneuvering."

CHANGES MIND

Ogier, trying to fight a battle against an enemy he could not see and dodging torpedoes he felt weren't there, he later told the Associated Press:

"Evaluating everything that was going on, I was becoming less and less convinced that somebody was there."

But he has changed his mind. "I'm getting now onto dangerous ground because I know they were there," he said. "I know they were there because of classified information which I received."

Commodore Herrick also had doubts during the action, but says they were dissipated when he tracked shells on the radar.

On Aug. 6 the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees met jointly for a briefing by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

PLUGGED BY FULBRIGHT
Fulbright plugged for the resolution.

The Senate approved the resolution 88 to 2. The House passed it 416 to 0.

TURBULENCE TO BLAME?

The sonar contacts could have been caused by the turbulence the ships themselves created; radar contacts by the weather and the torpedo sightings could have been in error. But one item couldn't be explained away: a powerful searchlight.

Cmdr. Barnhart, captain of the Turner Joy, remembers seeing it and so does Lt. Barry. Barry said the attack broke off about that time.

The Navy claimed two enemy torpedo boats presumed sunk. North Vietnam said the whole incident was a fabrication.

President Johnson went on television at 11:35 p.m. Washington time Aug. 4 and outlined what had happened in the gulf.

"Repeated acts of violence against the armed forces of the United States must be met not only with alert defense, but with positive reply," he said. "That reply is being given as I speak to you tonight. Air action is now in execution against gunboats and certain supporting facilities."

Red Wings Play Santa to Visiting Leafs

DETROIT (UPI) — Alex Delvecchio said Detroit was all right until Santa Claus played a trick on the Red Wings and started their hockey game with the Toronto Maple Leafs Christmas night.

The trick was that Detroit, playing to the hilt their role as holiday hosts, practically handed Toronto a 3-1 win Monday night as the slumping Wings slipped to their fifth loss in six games.

DETROIT OUTSET TORONTO 3-1 but the Maple Leafs' Bruce Gamble didn't allow any gift goals, stopping all but one, while the Red Wings' Roy Edwards was helpless on three shots.

"We're allowing too many bad goals," Edwards said. "And it's hurting us."

The 30-year-old rookie netminder was being a little harsh on himself, although one goal was questionable.

The game was decided in 51 seconds, when Toronto scored twice before the Olympia clock had ticked away 1:13 of the final period. The two scores, by Frank Mahovlich and Dave Keon, broke a 1-1 deadlock.

Mahovlich boomed one past Edwards with only 21 seconds elapsed in the third period and the Detroit goalie almost had it despite what appeared to be a bad bounce on the slap shot from just beyond the blue line.

SLIDING SAVE

Then Edwards made a brilliant sliding stop on a breakaway attempt by Keon seconds later, only to see Allen Stanley come up with the puck and feed to

Prior to a scoreless middle period, the Maple Leafs' George Armstrong and the Red Wings' Bruce MacGregor had each scored a goal.

It was a full night of National Hockey League action.

The Chicago Black Hawks kept their two-point grip on first place in the older Eastern Division with a 3-1 win.

Red-hot Stan Mikita scored once and assisted on another goal to take over the NHL scoring leadership in the Hawks' triumph over the Montreal Canadiens.

The Boston Bruins, sticking close in second place behind Chicago, fought to a 6-3 win over the Oakland Seals. It was the fourth contest in which the Bruins have been involved in a full-scale battle.

Fighting broke out on the ice in the third period and Oakland coach Bert Olmstead went after an interfering fan with a hockey stick. A total of 28 minutes in penalties were handed out during the brawl.

Other games had the New York Rangers moving two points ahead of Detroit with a 3-1 win over the Philadelphia Flyers, the Pittsburgh Penguins shading the Los Angeles Kings 4-3 and the St. Louis Blues hand the Minnesota North Stars their third shutout loss after three scoreless wins.

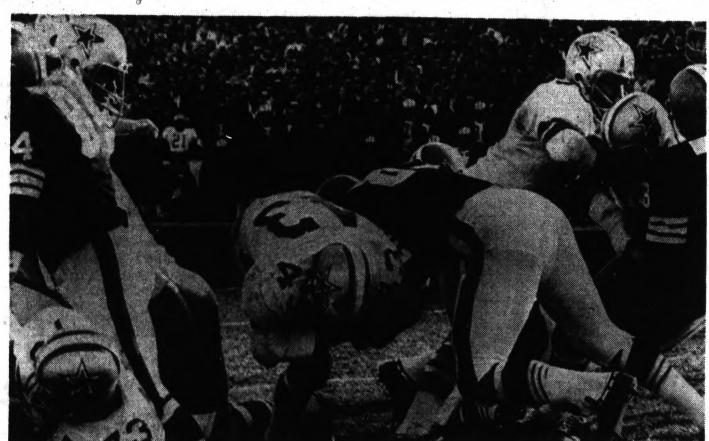

Detroit, only one point out of the Eastern Division's basement, had regulars Howie Young and Paul Henderson out for the contest. Young is recovering from flu virus while Henderson will miss two weeks with a torn muscle in his right shoulder.

The Red Wings are idle until Thursday, when they host the Philadelphia Flyers.

UNDER AND OVER — Don Perkins of the Dallas Cowboys ducks under Cleveland's Johnny Brewer and crosses the goal line in the third quarter of Sunday's National Football League Eastern Division championship. The Cowboys rolled to a 52-14 victory and will meet Green Bay Sunday for the NFL title. The Packers defeated Los Angeles, 27-7, Saturday for the Western Division crown.

NFL, AFL Contests Sunday

Titles at Stake for Grid Pros

By The Associated Press

With 21 other professional football clubs finished for the season, the Green Bay Packers, Dallas Cowboys, Houston Oilers and Oakland Raiders start working today in preparation for Sunday's championship games.

The Packers meet the Cowboys at Green Bay for the National Football League crown in a rematch of last year's title game won by Green Bay 34-27. The Cinderella Oilers, who rose from last place to first in the AFL's Eastern Division, play the Raiders at Oakland.

Only Oakland went into the final week-end of the regular season knowing it would be in a title game next Sunday. The Raiders, who finished their season with a 13-1 record and 10 straight victories by dropping Buffalo 28-21 Sunday, had clinched the AFL's Western crown two weeks ago.

Houston, needing a victory to clinch the Eastern title and eliminate any chance of a playoff against New York, romped to a 41-10 rout of Miami Saturday night. That made the Jets' 42-31 victory over San Diego Sunday meaningless.

Hoyle Granger and Woodie Campbell scored two touchdowns apiece for the fired-up Oilers, who finished last in the Eastern Division in 1966 and weren't expected to do much better this year.

Packers, Cowboys Traveled Same Trail to Grid Crowns

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Coaches Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys and Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers see their teams' 1967 National Football League seasons as much alike.

Both teams won the big one when it had to and met for the second straight year for the NFL championship at Green Bay Sunday.

Coach Blanton Collier, whose Browns were whipped 55-7 by Green Bay during the regular season, said both the Cowboys and the Packers "have great defensive football teams. That is something they don't give Green Bay credit for."

"We had people helping us all season," Landry said after the Cowboys demolished the Cleveland Browns 52-14 Sunday for the Eastern Conference title.

"We didn't have to put it together until this game," he added.

Dallas suffered one bad break Sunday when receiver Pete Gett broke an ankle. The Cowboys have carried only five receivers all season.

Lombardi said the Packers did not have "too much of a challenge all year. It was not that any opponents were bad. It was just that we were always ahead in our division."

"I think we are a lot like Green Bay," Landry said. Both teams have outstanding offenses and defenses and experienced quarterbacks — Don Meredith for Dallas and Bart Starr for Green Bay. The Cowboys have never beaten the Packers in regular season play and lost last year's championship to Green Bay 34-27 in Dallas.

Sunday's title game will be played, in all probability, in freezing Wisconsin weather but Landry does not expect it to bother Meredith, a Texas native.

EASY TO CATCH

"Meredith throws a soft pass, much like Starr, and it will be easy to catch," Landry said.

Bob Hayes, the uncatchable Dallas end, is looking forward to the Packers with intensity.

"I had a lousy game against them last year," he said. "I caught one pass and I fumbled that one — I recovered it but I fumbled all the same."

HAPPY DAY — The grin reflects coach Vince Lombardi's feeling as, and the Packers coach wore the big smile following Saturday's 28-7 Packers' victory over the Rams that gave Green Bay the Western Division championship of the National Football League.

Granger ripped Dolphin defenses for 160 yards in 21 carries and finished the season with 1,194 yards gained rushing, only 22 less than Boston's Jim Nance, who won his second straight rushing crown.

The Jets, who had dropped three straight, snapped out of the slump against San Diego, but it was too late to save the Eastern lead they had held almost all season.

Joe Namath threw four touchdown passes and set a pro passing mark, running his yards for the season to 4,007. He completed 18 of 26 for 343 yards against the Chargers, who finished third in the AFL's Western Division.

EARLY SCORE

The Packers were stung for an early touchdown by Los Angeles but rebounded with a devastating defensive effort that beat the Rams 26-7.

Green Bay had dropped two straight games — one of them to the Rams — but with the NFL's Western crown on the line, the Packers won convincingly.

"We heard that theirs was a better defensive line than ours," said Henry Jordan, one of the Packers' veteran front four. "It gives you something to play for when you're only second best."

Lions' Rookie Farr Collects UPI Award

NEW YORK (UPI) — Marvelous Mel Farr, the foremost of Detroit's "young lions," today was honored as the National Football League's rookie of the year for 1967 by United Press International.

Farr, a slashing runner in the mold of predecessors Gayle Sayers and Johnny Roland, outdistanced defensive tackle Alan Page of Minnesota and teammate Len Barry for the award in voting by 48 NFL writers, three from each league city.

The former UCLA star received 20 votes to 11 for Page.

Louisville Quintet Hoping for Fast Start in Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—Louisville's Cardinals, slow to jell this season despite the torrid scoring of All-American Westley Unseld, hope to get a flying start tonight in the ECAC Holiday college basketball Festival.

The Cardinals, one of the pre-tourney favorites in the 16th annual Madison Square Garden classic, take on LaSalle in the nightcap of an evening double-header that also pairs potent West Virginia with slumping Columbia.

Louisville, defending champion in the tough Missouri Valley Conference, has split its first six games, dropping three of the last four. Unseld, however, has been averaging close to 30 points per game—compared to his 19.9 mark last season.

"He's been quicker and more aggressive than last year," says John Dromo, Louisville's new coach, of the 6-foot-8, 250-pound muscleman. Unseld, teams with 6-3 Butch Beard to give the Cardinals one of the nation's finest scoring combinations.

LaSalle, 5-2, took consolation honors in last week's Boston Garden Christmas Invitational, trimming North Carolina State 68-63 after an opening round loss to Providence.

Cup Victory Near for Aussie Netters in World Action

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Needing only one more victory to win the Davis Cup for the 11th time in the last 13 years, Australia sends the world's top doubles combination, John Newcombe and Tony Roche, into action against Spain Wednesday.

And as if the challengers' problems weren't bad enough, a strained muscle figure to slow up — or perhaps sideline — Luis Arilla, who, with Manuel Santana, represents his country's last, slim hope.

Spanish manager Jaime Barrio said a final decision about Arilla would be made Wednesday before the match which is scheduled for 10:15 p.m. EST Tuesday.

In the opening singles rounds today, Roy Emerson beat Santana 6-4, 6-1 and Newcombe swept past Manuel Orantes 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

Actually it was Emerson's victory in the first match that just about destroyed Spain's chances since the 18-year-old Orantes figured to have little chance against Newcombe, now generally recognized as the top player in amateur tennis.

Leaving Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League will move from the Cotton Bowl to Irving, a city seven miles from downtown Dallas, by 1970, owner Clint Murchison Jr. announced during the week-end.

He said construction of a $15 million stadium, to be built by revenue bonds subscribed by fans, would begin probably in the spring.

Grid Battle Coming Swamis Accept Challenge

Do we accept? You bet we accept the editorial page challenge of matching Seersess Mrs. Wilson against the sports page Swami Spears in picking the bowl games.

The fact that women win the Editorial page football contest more often than men has to be strictly luck.

As our friend St. Nick chortled over the weekend, Ho, Ho, Ho! This should be easy.

We already envision that big juicy T-Bone dinner which is the "steak" in this challenge.

The sports department is confident that our '67 Swami Champion Spears will uphold the dignity of our sportswritten males.

Alumni Spice Up Sugar Bowl Tilt

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Bob Meeboer, President of the University of Wyoming alumni association has challenged W. J. Evans, who heads the Louisiana State University alumni association, to an unusual wager on the outcome of the 1968 Sugar Bowl — which pits the unbeaten Cowboys against LSU.

The alumni groups have bet an LSU football jersey and helmet against a Wyoming football jersey and helmet.

Meeboer wrote to Evans, who accepted, that the jersey from LSU should be numbered to indicate the Tiger score and Wyoming's jersey would carry its score.

"The jerseys and helmets," wrote Meeboer, "will also be accompanied by an appropriately engraved plaque indicating the presentation of the jerseys and helmets, such as: won by Wyo. alumni assn. from L.S.U. alumni assn. in wager on the 1968 Sugar Bowl. Wyo. 38, L.S.U. 0."

Kennedy in Jolly Mood

New Pilot Brings Cheer to A's

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Kennedy is having a great season. This is the season to be jolly. Isn't it? Then nobody is following instructions any better than Bob Kennedy, the new manager of the Oakland A's.

People are going around scratching their heads about what he has to be so jolly about right," says the new Oakland manager, as he's taking over a 10th place ball club and has as much at stake as he signed on to work for Charlie does. By that I mean my family, my future and my livelihood. But I'm not the least bit worried about my relationship with Mr. Finley.

My association with him has been fine. All I know is that he's the man who pays me and I'll give him the best I have in me. I want to be a success. Whether it's for Charlie Finley or anyone else."

TOUGH JOB AHEAD
Bob Kennedy isn't exactly walking into the most enviable job in the world with the A's. All the players were especially fond of his predecessor, Alvin Dark, and showed their resentment when Finley fired him last summer.

Relations between the players and Finley deteriorated so rapidly during one stretch that it no longer was a question of what place the club would finish but whether it would finish at all.

This is pretty much the atmosphere Bob Kennedy is walking into but it doesn't upset him. He also has some headstrong youngsters, with their own ideas when he led the Cubs in 1963, 1964 and part of 1965 and some of those same kids came up with lumps in their throats when Bob Kennedy was let out.

Ron Santo still says, "They don't come much better than Bob Kennedy."

At 47, Kennedy knows this is the job that could make him or break him as far as his managerial future is concerned.

"I did not accept the job immediately," he says. "Something else was pending. When I did accept, Mr. Finley said, 'This is great. I'm sure glad you're going to manage my ball team. But I'm not the least bit worried about my relationship with Mr. Finley. My association with him has been fine. All I know is that he's the man who pays me and I'll give him the best I have in me. I want to be a success. Whether it's for Charlie Finley or anyone else."

Bob Kennedy isn't coming into his new job with many preconceived ideas. He's open-minded, as the saying goes, and he's willing to be shown.

"I don't know too much about the personnel of the ball club," he confesses. "I've been discussing it with Mr. Finley, our scouts and with Luke Appling, who succeeded Alvin Dark and finished out the season. I think we have good pitching with depth and we're fairly strong through the middle although, like most people, we could use a catcher."

"Actually, I'm rather anxious for February to roll around. I look forward to spring training."

Bob Kennedy is more than optimistic.

He doesn't care what people say about Charlie Finley, he ignores them and remains jolly, cheerful and jolly.

One thing you have to say about him. He sure picked the right season for it.

One other thing you have to say: he'll find out.

2 Unbeatens Gain in Poll of College 5's

By the Associated Press
Indiana and Tennessee, another pair of unbeaten teams, moved up just behind high-flying UCLA and Houston Monday in the weekly ratings of The Associated Press' college basketball poll.

UCLA, 5-0, trounced Bradley 100-73 and Notre Dame 114-63 to run its unbeaten streak to 39, tying the second longest winning skein in college history. The Bruins now go gunning for the mark of 60, run up by the San Francisco Dons through 1956.

The Bruins are trailed by Houston's powerhouse, 10-0, Indiana, 6-0, and Tennessee, 4-0. Utah, another unbeaten team, moved into the Top Ten in the No. 7 spot with its 8-0 record.

UCLA received 29 of the 30 first place votes by a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters and 239 points.

Houston, conqueror of Minnesota, Arizona and Nevada Southern during the week, had 263 points, including one first place vote. Points are based on 10 for first, 9 for second, and so on.

MOVED UP
Indiana, fifth a week ago, took over the third spot with 181 points while Tennessee moved up from ninth to fourth with 167 points.

North Carolina, 4-1, now fifth, was idle last week.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. UCLA (1)	29
2. Houston (1)	263
3. Indiana (1)	181
4. Tennessee (1)	167
5. North Carolina (1)	147
6. Kentucky (1)	134
7. Utah (1)	127
8. Baylor (1)	99
9. Vanderbilt (1)	75
10. Oregon (1)	67

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically:

Alabama, Arizona State, Duke, Florida, Kansas, Louisville, Marshall, Memphis, Miami, New Mexico State, Princeton, San Jose State, San Diego State, Santa Clara, St. John's, St. Louis, Texas at El Paso, Toledo, Washington State.

Two Aides Quit Chargers' Staff

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Tom Bass, defensive coordinator for the San Diego Chargers, resigned Sunday following the team's 42-31 loss to the New York Jets.

End coach Harry Johnston also left the staff Sunday. He had submitted his resignation earlier to Charger head Coach Sid Gillman.

Yankees Paced by Eastern QB in 24-0 Verdict

Comeback in Second Half Spurs Colorado Past Miami, 31-21

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — "All-Star games are fun. There's no contact work and the practices are short."

That's what All American tackle Edgar Chandler of Georgia said last week as the South team prepared for the College All-Star game with the North Christmas Day. But it didn't turn out to be fun for the Rebels.

Scoring in every quarter, the South stamped the North 24-0 in an exciting game played before 17,400 fans — the second smallest crowd in the history of the Shrine series for the benefit of crippled children.

Quarterback Greg Landry of Massachusetts led the Yankees on two touchdown drives and the other touchdown came easily after a pass interception by Dennis Coyne dead in South territory.

MOST VALUABLE
Coyne, a quick 190-pounder from Northwestern, won a press box vote as the North's most valuable player after intercepting three passes. A 235-pound defensive end from Tennessee-Martin, Gordon Lambert, was chosen the best of the South.

But the favorite of the crowd was Eldridge Dickey, who passed for 6,541 yards during his career at Tennessee A. I. Dickey's running and passing produced the few exciting moments in the South attack and the fans once protested loudly when he was taken out.

The choice of some pro scouts was Max Anderson, Arizona State running back who gained 98 yards to spark the North ground game.

Landry, outshining Navy's quarterback John Cartwright, directed the North 48 yards to a second period touchdown, and 93 yards to another in the fourth quarter.

He passed two yards to Bob Baltzell of Purdue for the first score and Oscar Reed of Colorado State got the other on a two-yard run.

STOLEN PASS
Dwight Lee of Michigan State ran three yards for a touchdown in the third period after Coyne stole a pass from Mike Livingston of Southern Methodist and returned it 23 yards to the South 11.

Although he could not take the South for a score, Dickey led all passers in yardage with 135 on nine completions in 17 throws. Landry hit eight of 11 for 99 yards.

In the only other weekend bowl game, Colorado outgassed Miami, Fla., 31-21, behind the running and passing of Bob Anderson.

The quarterback shook off an ankle injury, entered the game just before the end of the first half and rallied the Buffs to a 14-7 deficit.

In all, he ran for touchdowns of two and 38 yards, carried 17 times for 108 yards and completed five of 10 passes for 49 more yards.

"Anderson made the option play go," said Miami Coach Charlie Tate.

The rest of the bowl program begins Saturday with two all-star games, the East-West at San Francisco and the Blue-Gray at Montgomery, Ala., the Gator Bowl between Penn State and Florida State and the Sun Bowl between Mississippi and Texas-El Paso.

The incredible speed of Bob Dallas made the difference for Dallas as the Cowboys routed Cleveland 32-14.

Hayes set up two touchdowns with punt returns of 68 and 64 yards and caught an 85-yard scoring bomb from Don Meredith.

Meredith was close to perfect, completing 10 of 12 passes for 112 yards. "He called an excellent game," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "I would have to rate it as good if not better than Bart Starr against Los Angeles."

Louisville Meeting LaSalle in Nightcap

Newmark scored 29 points, however, in the Lions' 71-56 loss to Fordham last Friday night.

"We have trouble handling the big man," Waters said.

The survivors of tonight's twin bill advance to Thursday night's semifinals against the winners of St. John's, N. Y.-Syracuse and Penn State-Boston College games played this afternoon.

The Holiday Festival is the only major tournament that starts today. Others, such as the Los Angeles Classic and the Quaker City at Philadelphia begin Wednesday.

The nation's No. 1 team, UCLA, warmed up for the L.A. tourney by scoring past the 100-point mark for the fourth straight game in a 114-63 victory over Notre Dame.

The three other members of the Top Ten that played last Saturday also won. Second-ranked Houston ran its unbeaten streak to 10 by defeating Nevada Southern 94-85, and Vanderbilt, No. 3, and Kentucky, No. 7, won their Vanderbilt knocked off Oregon 70-58, and Kentucky downed South Carolina 76-66.

OTHER GAMES

In some of the other action, Cincinnati edged Dayton 71-70, Seton Hall beat Wake Forest by the same score, unbeaten Utah won its eighth 99-87 over Denver and California ran its record to 5-0 with an 89-72 decision over Illinois.

It was Utah State 87, Missouri; Stanford 87, Iowa 86; Army 70, Southern Methodist 65; North Texas 65, Arizona 62; Nebraska 82, Wyoming 74; Wichita 90, Michigan State 80; Drake 97, Oklahoma 85; Jacksonville 69, Dartmouth 59 and Memphis State 65, Texas Christian 61.

A. J. Foyt Teaming With Ford in '68

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Jack Bowsher, Springfield's gift to the stock car racing profession, and A. J. Foyt, a Texan who is king of the oval track world, will function as a Ford team on the United States Auto Club circuit next year.

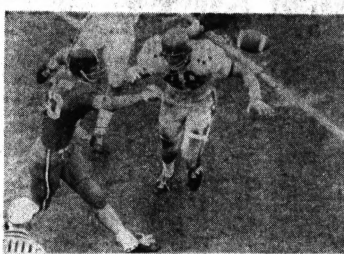

Bowsher said "we're going to maintain a Ford for Foyt next season," and Foyt, from his Houston residence, said, "I'm quite sure I'll be driving one of Bowsher's cars next year. Any way, that's the information I've received from Detroit," Foyt added.

Foyt, an 11-year pro, has won 37 championship events, more than any other driver, living or dead.

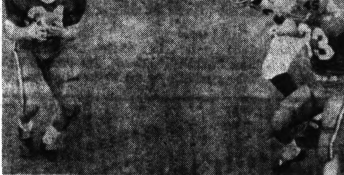

Athlete of the Year

TOKYO (AP) — Keiichi Suzuki, three-time world 500-meter speed skating champion and Japan's hope for an Olympic gold medal at Grenoble, France, in February, has been named Japan's Athlete of the Year by the Yomiuri Shimbun, one of Japan's major newspapers.

ELUSIVE SPARTAN—Dwight Lee (37) of Michigan State attempts to elude two tacklers as he picks up 14 yards in the first period for the North team in the North-South College All-Star game yesterday in Miami, Fla. Closing in for the tackle are Charlie Collins (51) of Auburn and Tommy Tranham of Arkansas. North won, 24-0.

TOUCHDOWN—Greg Landry (35-top) of Massachusetts puts the North squad ahead in the second period in the North-South game in Miami yesterday with this two-yard touchdown pass to Bob Baltzell of Purdue who clutches the ball in end zone (bottom). Pressuring Landry at top is Ed Harmon (48) of Louisville. In endzone with Baltzell is John Wright of Illinois.

Abner Doubleday-- Fraud or Genuine?

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Abner Doubleday was a fraud, says a museum curator who wrote his master's thesis on "Heritage of the American Game, 1840-1875."

John D. Clever, 34, says that contrary to folklore, Doubleday did not invent baseball.

"The game's historians wonder, not so much if Doubleday ever played baseball, but if he actually saw a game," says Clever.

Clever, a walking repository of baseball history, blames A.G. Spaulding, former professional baseball player and founder of the sporting goods company, for perpetuating "the myth of Doubleday."

Clever will have a sports exhibit on display in January at the Oregon Historical Society. He says that Spaulding formed a special committee in 1907 to investigate the origin of the game.

"It seems that someone from Denver wrote the commission that he had seen Doubleday scribbling the rules of baseball in the sand at Cooperstown, N.Y., in 1839 to show a group of youngsters how to play the game," says Clever.

"The special commission appointed by Spaulding jumped at the evidence with little further investigation. Besides, the name Abner Doubleday sounded good for legendary purposes. It had a certain ring to it."

How does Clever think it all started?

"Games with ball, bat and bases have been traced back to Egyptian times," he says. "But research has revealed that something close to the early rules of baseball were first published in relation to a French game called Poisson in the 18th century."

Clever, a sports writer in college, says baseball and football are losing out in their attempts to provide a greater challenge to the spectator and participant. He sees an upsurge in interest in "man-to-man" sports such as soccer and basketball.

The serenity of the free throw line helped San Diego, Philadelphia and Cincinnati to National Basketball Association victories Monday night.

Poul shots made the difference as San Diego topped Los Angeles 104-101, Philadelphia nipped Baltimore 108-105 and Cincinnati downed Seattle 118-112. Wayne Embury made the difference as Boston thumped New York 134-124.

Detroit's Bing Stays on Top in Point Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Balance obviously is the secret for success in the National Basketball Association.

Boston and St. Louis, the Eastern and Western Division leaders respectively, prove that convincingly. Between them, the Celtics and Hawks show only one man among the NBA's top 10 scorers.

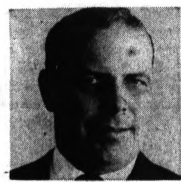

Official league figures released today show Zelmo Beaty, a distant 10th in the scoring race, is the only player from St. Louis to show among the leading point-makers.

Boston's top scorer is Sam Jones, who is 14th in the league. But the Hawks and the Celtics are on top and who can argue with success?

The league's leading scorer is Detroit's Dave Bing, averaging 27.9 points per game. Bing has scored 975 points in 35 games and holds a wide lead over second place Bob Boozer of Chicago, who has scored 827 in 37 games for a 22.4 average.

He pitched in winter ball last year, but after his terrific season on the mound he elected to turn to other matters, especially fun-skunking on slopes from New England to the West Coast.

Walled Lake in Surprise Mat Victory

Walled Lake's wrestlers surprised themselves and a visiting Owosso squad Saturday in capturing a quadrangular match on their own mats.

Owosso, third ranked in the state, came into the match as the clearcut favorite but managed only 69 points to finish third behind Walled Lake (112) and Hazel Park (76). Southfield wound (37) up fourth.

"In all fairness to them (Owosso), they had all the bad luck a team could have," says Walled Lake coach Rick Schneider, who'll take the Vikings into the Oakland County Invitational at Oakland University Thursday and Friday.

The Vikings placed wrestlers in the finals in 11 of 12 events and took five individual titles. Gaining victories for the Vikings in the finals were Tim Russell (103), Ray Buffmeyer (112), Bob Hellner (133), Bob Mott (165) and Greg Wencil (heavyweight).

Hazel Park, also in the tournament at Oakland University, gained three individual champions — Bill Davids (95), Mark Davids (120) and Les Burger (138).

Both Up for Game

No Clouds for Sun Bowl Foes

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — The University of Texas-El Paso football team has had its troubles since accepting a bid to play in Saturday's Sun Bowl against Mississippi, which could turn out to be the biggest problem of all.

First, Coach Bobby Dobbs lost a few players under NCAA junior college transfer rules for post-season games.

One, Volney Murphy, led the team in scoring. Then a surprise snowstorm struck El Paso five days before Dobbs led his players home for Christmas vacations. He never got an outside practice after the storm struck.

But Dobbs says he'll have no problem getting the Miners, 6-2-1, ready for the game.

"We'll be up for the game," said Dobbs. "It's a wonderful opportunity for us. It's a big challenge."

RAINY DAYS

Johnny Vaughn at Mississippi, which formed a 6-3-1 record that included games against four bowl players, was bothered by rainy weather during preholiday practice for the bowl, third oldest in the nation.

"The morale is high," said Vaughn. "They have been working for a purpose. This squad has a great deal of pride and I expect them to perform that way in the Sun Bowl."

The Rebs, members of the rugged Southeastern Conference, are to arrive in El Paso by airplane Wednesday after working out Tuesday at home. Dobbs ordered his players back from the holidays Tuesday.

Quarterback Bruce Newell is the key to the Rebs' offense hitting and fielding which carried the Red Sox to the American League crown and into the seventh game of the World Series.

El Paso, which joins the Western Athletic Conference next year, is a passing team with two American League quarterbacks that shared start: 326, driving in 121 runs, slugging 44 home runs.

Each threw five touchdowns in different games this year. Stevens went on for a career record of 51 touchdown passes, 6,585 and 942 attempts, all NCAA records.

Cobb Award Goes to Carl Yastrzemski

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski, flashy Boston Red Sox outfielder, Saturday was named winner of the first annual Ty Cobb Award given by the Atlanta chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association of America as "baseball's most exciting player."

Yastrzemski, who beat out St. Louis Cardinal pitcher Bob Gibson for the award named for the late "Georgia Peach" of the Detroit Tigers, was chosen for his key to the Rebs' offense hitting and fielding which carried the Red Sox to the American League crown and into the seventh game of the World Series.

The Red Sox are batted over 500 the last two weeks of the series in Boston's winning surge, and he won the American League triple crown by batting .326, driving in 121 runs, slugging 44 home runs.

Sooner Coach Wary of Vols

Attempts to Avoid Firing Up Foe

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Sooners begin practice here today for the New Year's Day Orange Bowl football game with Tennessee, and Coach Chuck Fairbanks is determined not to steam up the Vols.

Tennessee arrives this afternoon.

Both teams have 9-1 records in regular season play. Kickoff for the annual classic is 8 p.m. (EST) as the finals in an all-day round of nationally televised bowl games (NBC).

Fairbanks didn't want to downplay the chances of Tennessee as his team arrived in Miami on Christmas Day.

"Tennessee is a great football team," said the rookie head coach. "And they get even better when they're playing the tougher opponents."

"They might have beat some of the other people we've played, but I was more impressed by their rising to the occasion against such tough, capable opponents as Alabama and LSU," he said.

The Vols defeated Alabama, 24-13, and LSU, 17-14, in back-to-back games.

The Tennessee line is first in Fairbanks' mind, he said. But he was asked also to rate the backfield of the Vols.

"Containing several of them is a tough problem," he said.

"WHAT ADVERTISING DID DO FOR ME!"

Saved your life. The National Safety Council says 600,000 people didn't die, thanks to an advertising campaign on safe driving.

Helped save your forests and parks from fire and destruction, too.

10 billion dollars' worth.

Thanks to "Smoke the Bear."

Wherever there is human need and despair, whenever help must be rallied, advertising is there to light the way.

This has been the contribution of advertisers, advertising agencies, newspapers and other media to the public good. It has been inspired and directed for 25 years by The Advertising Council.

You may not care about advertising, but advertising cares about you.

Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council and the International Newspaper Advertising Executives.

Boxed goods and hanging clothes are part of this woman's selling empire in Miami.

Depending on what you might want, you'll find nothing more enjoyable than open-air marketing, where friends and neighbors come to sell, buy or swap anything from kittens to "cal", a tenderizer for boiling corn kernels.

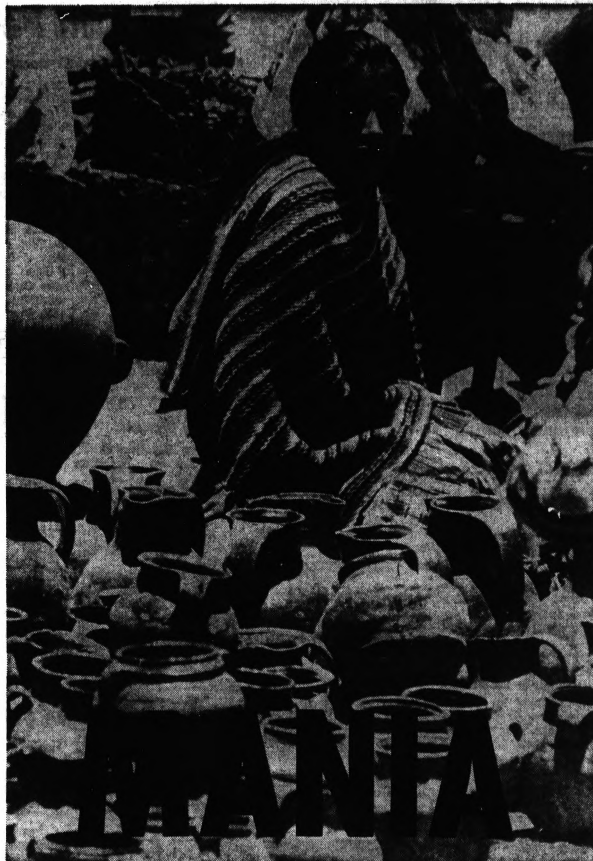

From Paris to Podunk, you get something found nowhere else at a better price. That is, if you can haggle proficiently with the salesman behind the goods.

For all the variation of selling the goods, the theme is still the same: have a good time. Be it the "Swap Meet" in a Miami, Florida, drive-in theater, which takes in 7,000 people per day, or the Mayan market at Chichicastenango, Guatemala, where temporary and permanent stalls jam the town square, it is a pleasant way to spend a day.

Sellers sit back to wait for business, keeping eyes open while tourists, townfolk or rural residents pick, prod and ponder the offerings.

Buyers wander in in seemingly aimless fashion, ears open to a sales pitch, eyes sweeping everything with, hopefully, a professional eye.

When day ends and the stalls close down, the goods are packed for taking home, by a one-year-old car or a one-year-old donkey. You know you've had a new experience in shopping fun at the open-air markets spread over the face of the world.

A young woman sits behind the pottery on sale in Chichicastenango.

Close-up study of television set buyer at work.

A colorful trunk catches the eye of this Guatemalan man.

A little old lady waits for buyers in Miami.

A holy man moves through the town square during market day in Guatemala.

Boy Drowned; Father Rescued

HOUGHTON LAKE (AP)—A 10-year-old Alma boy drowned and his father was rescued Christmas Day as their motorized snow sled plunged through thin ice eight feet of water in Houghton Lake.

The Houghton Lake rescue squad saved a three section rescue ladder out to Maynard Miller, 41, of Alma and pulled him 200 feet to shore, but his son, Roger, sank beneath the ice before rescuers or his father could aid him.

The senior Miller was reported in shock at Grayling hospital where he also was treated for exposure.

State police said radio warnings had been broadcast that the two-inch thick ice was too thin to bear the weight of heavy units, but the Millers apparently did not hear them.

Hippie Startles Congregation

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A bearded hippie startled the congregation attending a Christmas Eve midnight service when he rushed to the front of Grace Episcopal Church and declared, "I am the Spirit of Christmas."

The Rev. Leon C. Balch said the youth, in his early 20s and with full beard and long hair, was a "very sincere young man from a fine family in Virginia, but did not identify him further."

The Rev. Mr. Balch said the service continued after the outburst and that he talked with the youth later.

"I talked with him at great length," he said. "He's not more disturbed than some others in the congregation."

Shock Treatment Keeps Driver Alert

SALINA, Kan. (AP)—Don Dean proposes a shocking solution to keep motorists awake.

Dean, a 56-year-old Salina automobile salesman, has wired his steering wheel so it gives the driver a mild charge of electricity at irregular intervals to prevent him from falling asleep.

"I have used it on several long trips in the past four months," Dean said, "and I haven't had any trouble staying awake."

Yule Visit to GI

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Army Cpl. Dennis Swanson of Warren, Mich., was visited by his family at the Army's Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco on Christmas Day, thanks to generous Californians.

Fearless Forecaster Wilson Makes Annual Predictions

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—That other great writer, Mark Twain, once said that every man is entitled to his favorite brand of insanity.

So here I go—promulgating my Fearless Forecasts for the new year ahead.

Frank Sinatra Jr. will emerge as one of the better singers in 1968.

This I decided from reports received from Las Vegas where his poised and singing style were impressing audiences who hadn't been impressed when he had less experience.

(This F. F. is made without me talking about it to his father who doesn't even know I feel this way.)

Dean Martin will become the king at the Vegas Sands—in fact, he has been for about a year.

Beards and long hair will lose their popularity. Cleanliness will become accepted. It's about time. Uncleanliness was next to ungodliness for too long.

Miniskirts will survive. Girls love them—almost as much as men.

There will be increasing talk of a Rocky-versus-Bobby race in November which would be the costliest election in history.

Informality will increase in dressing and dining, and gals will be permitted to go into restaurants dressed any way at all except topless.

People will be talking about making direct dial phone calls to Europe (already done experimentally).

Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme will have a financial bonanza in their "Golden Rainbow" musical—their personal popularity will overwhelm any criticism.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL
Ethel Merman'll spend New Year's with Eric Palmer, visiting his family in Copenhagen. . . . Dustin Hoffman, co-star of "The Graduate," attended the premiere in a rented tuxedo, first tux he's ever worn. . . . Broadway Buzz: Will Angela Lansbury star in the musical version of "Madwoman of Chailotte"? Elizabeth Taylor's film "Con" was postponed; instead she'll play a prostitute in "Secret Ceremony."

Jolie Gabor wore her busted wrist in a cast covered with sequins, lace and silver lame. . . . At "Henry, Sweet Henry": Dyan Cannon (Mrs. Cary Grant) with Van Rapoport of the Spindletop. . . . Camille Francis returned from 17 days in Vietnam. . . . Peter Lawford, back from Europe, was at Danny's with producer Milt Ebbins; the David Hemmings gave him a big farewell party in London.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: There's a hippie flower girl who wants to be a model, and she's succeeding. Already she's on the cover of a seed catalog.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: That new "truth in packaging" law won't mean a thing unless it applies to women, too.—Pic Lar-mour.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Don't ever question your wife's judgment. After all, she married you." (The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Kenya Student in Oregon Nabs Holdup Suspect

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Si-mon Gatimu, a Portland State College student from Kenya, captured a holdup suspect Monday.

Gatimu, 32, was walking near downtown Portland, when he saw a man running from a small grocery store. The store's owner, David Berz, 58, was calling for help.

The Kenyan caught the man and took him back to the store; Berz said he was the man who took two bottles of wine from him at gunpoint.

Berez called police, who arrested the gunman.

Veteran Santa Turns In Pillow

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP)—A man who has played Santa Claus to three generations of youngsters over the past 50 years has turned in his pillow.

He is Tom Corbally, 67, a justice of the peace. Corbally put on the beard and red suit for the first time in 1917. Through the years he has relied on a set of sleigh bells which were purchased in Fort Benton by his father in 1877.

TEAMING UP—Yesterday's Christmas Day snow brought out the snow shovels for the first time this winter, including those of the Eldridge brothers, Mike (left), 10, and Remis, 8.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eldridge, 349 Oakland.

Cold Will Continue

Snow fell during Christmas Eve and Day leaving about 3½ inches on the ground and a network of slippery roads.

The temperature dipped to nine degrees above zero at 8 a.m. today, a new low for the season.

The forecast for tonight is a few more snow flurries and a low between five and 10 above zero.

Today's weather should be partly cloudy and very cold with a high between 18 and 24.

Crews have been at work clearing city streets, roads and highways since Christmas Eve.

225 TONS OF SALT

The city has had at least five salt trucks in operation since Sunday night. The trucks, which have been salting main streets, have already used about 225 tons of salt, according to a city spokesman.

The Oakland Road Commission has had some 48 trucks operating throughout the county since Sunday night. The side-roads are still in poor condition, a county spokesman said.

The State Highway Commission reported that snow and slippery wet spots would be encountered by motorists all over the state.

Winds today should be westerly between 15 and 20 miles per hour becoming light and southerly tonight.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: 20 today, 10 tonight and 20 tomorrow.

The outlook for tomorrow is partly cloudy and continued cold. Thursday's forecast is sunny but cold.

Quakes in Canada?

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A University of California seismologist said his instruments recorded two earthquakes in the vicinity of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, early today, but Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Victoria said they had no reports of any tremor.

Bob Hope Reporting:

Days Hectic Before Yule

By BOB HOPE

LAI KHE — We had a busy few days before Christmas over here in boomland. Traditionally, you're supposed to have an office party or have the folks over for dinner or go out caroling. It all depends on what your Christmas kick is.

We decided to drop in here Christmas Eve to pay our annual visit to the Big Red One . . . the mighty 1st Infantry Division.

I first played for this division in Europe in 1943.

I don't know whether it was because they were doing such a great job, or because they're such a great audience, but like a camp follower, I've been chomping them around the world ever since.

Our show site was a clearing in a rubber plantation. And we did a show for 12,000 men.

There were supposed to be 15,000 but 3,000 were committed to an action area. It's not easy to hold an audience around here.

A few moments before Christmas Eve — that's when the truce started, we could still hear the pounding of artillery off in the hills.

A battalion of search-and-destroy groups were out stalking the jungle around us.

TRIP TO THAILAND

On Saturday, we flew to northern Thailand to do a show for 5,000 gung-ho pilots, crew chiefs and technicians who have never been heard about. Officially they don't exist.

The mail that comes from home to these men is addressed "skhkhkhkhkh." They'll never have to join the Foreign Legion to forget . . . nobody is going to remember them.

We met 50, 75, and 100 mission pilots who haven't had their names on paper since they made the yearbook at the Air Force Academy.

VISIT FROM LBJ

If you think war is hell, try winging your way home with a tail full of lead and being listed as a diplomatic secret.

Or, worse yet, having to lie to your wife and try to explain to her that those aren't bullet holes in your leg, they're mosquito bites.

U. S. Planes Catch N. Viets After Lull

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes swept over North Vietnam immediately after the allied Christmas truce ended and wreaked havoc on Communist convoys trying to complete a massive movement of supplies started under the umbrella of the cease-fire.

U.S. headquarters reported about 100 trucks destroyed or damaged in the heavy strikes which began Christmas night and continued unabated today.

Headquarters reported that Air Force, Navy and Marine jets spotted more than 300 trucks, one of the biggest transport targets of the war.

Planes from two Navy carriers in the Tonkin Gulf reported one convoy of 150 trucks and another of almost 100.

In another strike a ferry carrying eight trucks was blown up and sunk.

SCATTERED ACTIONS

The ground war also resumed after the truce ended at 6 p.m. Christmas night but only scattered actions were reported.

It was believed that the North Vietnamese had started a massive supply effort at 6 p.m. Christmas Eve, when the allied truce began.

In the next 24 hours they were able to move supplies unmolested, but the U.S. recon planes were overhead keeping a close watch.

When the truce ended, the Reds were still on the move and evidently decided to take the chance that full-scale U.S. raids would not resume until dawn today. The U.S. air response was almost immediate, however.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported a total of 118 shooting incidents during their 24-hour cease-fire and blamed all of them on the enemy.

Christmas Passes; Work, War and Worry Resume

By The Associated Press

With silent, holy hours of Christmas over, the world went back to work, war and worry today.

American troops in Vietnam, with a hot turkey dinner under their belts, prepared for more clashes with the Vietcong and North Vietnamese. As soon as the 24-hour allied truce ended last night, U.S. warplanes streaked over North Vietnam to attack supply convoys which the U.S. Command said the Communists rushed south during the cease-fire.

Amid the war in Vietnam, enduring crisis in the Middle East and tension along the frontier in South Korea, Christmas 1967 occasioned prayers for peace from Pope Paul VI and many others.

The Pope did not mention Vietnam nor his visit Saturday with President Johnson.

NOT EASY IN WARTIME

In a Christmas radio and television message, Johnson conceded that to say "Merry Christmas" in wartime is not easy.

"But when you think of the bravery of the human spirit—and the power of life to triumph over pain and darkness—you are thankful," he said. "Your own spirits are lifted high; and you say hi—and mean it—as I do now: Merry Christmas."

In Vietnam, Michigan Gov. George Romney, who seeks the GOP nomination to oppose Johnson in next fall's election, shook hands with American troops from Saigon to Da Nang and said over and over, "Merry Christmas, fellows, Merry Christmas."

In the Holy Land, the Israelis were in control of Bethlehem for the first time, and only 9,000 pilgrims braved the rain to celebrate Christmas at the birthplace of Christ.

BRITONS TIGHTEN BELTS

The bleak prospect of domestic belt-tightening in Britain to make devaluation a success led Queen Elizabeth to emulate the courage and enterprise displayed by Sir Francis Chichester in his sole sail around the world.

Christmas was merry in the Suez Canal for crews of 14 foreign ships trapped there since the Arab-Israeli war in June.

The seamen from U.S., British, French, West German, Swedish, Bulgarian, Polish and Czechoslovakian ships collaborated on a Christmas tree, set it aloft in an anchored boat, exchanged hearty Christmas visits and feasted on turkey and other delights.

Head-On Crash Fatal to Youth

An Avon Township youth died in Pontiac General Hospital Saturday about two hours after being involved in a head-on collision on Adams Road near Hamilton in Avon Township.

The victim, Robert D. DeLand, 20, of 772 Wilwood, was fatally injured when his small foreign car collided with a pick-up truck driven by Scott D. Bechen, 17, of 2336 Oklahoma, Avon Township.

Sheriff deputies said that Bechen had started to pass a car and was unable to get back in his own lane in time to avoid the crash.

400 Flee Gas, Still Celebrate Christmas

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Four hundred refugees from a chlorine gas scare sang carols in an undecorated gymnasium Christmas Day as a woman and her 2-week-old daughter sat as the centerpiece of a nativity tableau.

Until yesterday afternoon, when the all-clear was posted for 300 families roused from their homes by police late Christmas Eve, the holiday was celebrated with strangers at the gym of Robert E. Lee High School or with friends and relatives.

Almost every home in an 8-by-10 block section four miles southwest of downtown Jacksonville was emptied because dangerous fumes were drifting toward them from 91 fire-ruptured chlorine tanks at a nearby chemical plant.

Two doctors volunteered help—one an eye specialist who treated eyes stinging from the acid gas and the other a general practitioner.

The Rev. Charles King, an interdenominational evangelist, told many among the 400 Christmas refugees, "There will come worse catastrophes than this one. One ought to be ready."

NATIVITY

Rosa Mae Porter, a Negro who lives in the predominantly white neighborhood, and her infant daughter sat at the center of the carolers as King directed.

Meanwhile, at the Apperson Chemical Co., bitter cold thwarted efforts to stem the flow of gas.

Warming temperatures allowed them to finish the work yesterday. All were home last night when the emergency was ended.

Woman Held in Son's Poisoning

CORDELE, Ga. (UPI) — An attractive 35-year-old housewife faced a hearing today on charges she murdered her teenage son by lacing his coffee with arsenic. Officials also decided to investigate the recent deaths of her husband, two sons and grandson.

Police picked up Mrs. Janie Lou Gibbs, a pleasant widow, so well thought of here that she ran a caretaking service for some 25 children of working mothers.

But Lt. James Perry of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) said he thought officials would have no trouble in getting Mrs. Gibbs bound over to a grand jury at a preliminary hearing today before a justice of the peace.

Mrs. Gibbs, 35 on Christmas Day, was being held at the Dooly County Jail at nearby Vienna.

Perry refused to discuss any alleged motive for the death of Roger Gibbs, 19, who is alleged to have died after consuming heavy doses of rat poison in his coffee.

Young Gibbs died Oct. 28 at an Albany, Ga., hospital, only days after the death of his month-old son, Ronnie Edward. Oct. 7, Mrs. Gibbs' husband and two other teen-age sons also died within the past two years, police said.

"All died in hospital under a doctor's care," Perry said.

Officers said an autopsy on the 19-year-old Gibbs showed several milligrams of arsenic in the body.

Mrs. Gibbs was arrested Saturday.

Authorities said the first death in the family was Jan. 21, 1966, when Mrs. Gibbs' husband, Charles, 40, died at a Crodele hospital.

Nine months later, Marvin Ronald Gibbs, 13, died in Columbus, Ga., and last Jan. 23, Melvin W. Gibbs, 16, another son, died in a Sumter County hospital.

Hanoi Snubs Peace Plan as 'Worn-Out Trickery'

TOKYO (AP) — Charging that American peace proposals always come before a new escalation, North Vietnam has dismissed as "nothing but worn-out tricks" the five-point plan President Johnson advanced Dec. 19 for an end to the war in Vietnam.

If the United States really sought peace, it would halt the bombing of the North unconditionally and withdraw U.S. and other allied forces from South Vietnam, Hanoi's Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan said.

The comment carried the weight of an official government statement. It referred to five points laid down by Johnson in an interview with White House television correspondents:

• Both sides must respect the demilitarized zone separating the two Vietnams.

• The unity of Vietnam must be a matter of negotiation and peaceful adjustments.

• The North Vietnamese must pull their men out of neighboring Laos and stop infiltrating that country.

• There must be a "one-man-one-vote" constitutional government in South Vietnam in control of the 20 per cent of the population which U.S. officials say is living under Communist control.

• The South Vietnamese government and the Vietcong's National Liberation Front should hold informal peace talks.

RED DEMANDS

The North Vietnamese demands for a halt to the bombing and withdrawal of foreign forces are key points in the peace demands the Communists have advanced for several years. The package has been rejected by the United States and its allies.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency quoted President Ho Chi Minh today as saying Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had been compelled to resign to take the blame for U.S. defeats in Vietnam.

The dispatch said Ho spoke at a celebration of the 23rd anniversary of the Vietnam People's Army and Nationwide Resistance Day. The date of the meeting was not given, but it was believed to have been recent.

Ho was quoted as saying that the United States obviously was being defeated in Vietnam.

McNAMARA RESIGNATION

"An evidence," he said, "is that McNamara, one of the chiefs of the aggressive war, has been compelled to give up his post as U.S. defense secretary, thus getting the blame in the place of President Johnson and his accomplices."

McNamara is to become the president of the World Bank.

Ho paid tribute to a 15-year-old Vietcong who he said had killed more than 100 enemy soldiers with looky traps and arrows and two unnamed North Vietnamese pilots who he said had each shot down seven U.S. planes.

Playing at five clubs, South won the heart lead and took stock. One way to make the hand would be to cash the ace of spades, the ace of hearts and the ace-king of diamonds and try to make all clubs on a crossruff. A—You aren't allowed to hand your cards to a kibitzer and leave, so you had better try to get out of there. You are to be bad trouble. With a really good partner bid two no-trump to ask him to get out into a minor suit. Otherwise just bid three diamonds and hope.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid two no-trump. West and North pass and East doubles that. What do you do now?
