Senate OK Sends Civil Rights Bill to Ike

60-15 Vote Ends Lengthy Battle; Filibuster Fails

First Such Law in Over 80 Years; Thurmond Sets New Talk Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first civil rights bill to pass Congress in more than 82 years was on its way to President Eisenhower today.

The Senate completed congressional action on the compromise measure late last night after 39 hours of continuous session, passing it by an overwhelming 60-15 vote. The House had passed the bill last Tuesday.

The end of the months-long battle over civil rights came two hours after Sen. Thurmond D-SC ended a record-setting filibuster against the bill.

Thurmond held the floor for 24 hours and 19 minutes. The previous record was set in 1953 by Sen. Morse D-Ore in an equally futile effort to defeat the submerged all lands bill.

Thurmond's filibuster was a single-handed effort. Other Southerners refrained from joining in because

State Men Vote 'Yes'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan's two U.S. senators, McNamara (D) and Potter (R), both voted for the civil rights bill which was sent to President Eisenhower for his approval last night.

They felt it was fruitless and might boomerang. Final passage of the civil rights measure cleared the way for adjournment of Congress, probably today.

MANY ABSENTEES

On the final roll call, 15 Southerners voted "no." Thirty-seven Republicans and 23 Democrats joined in support of the bill. There were many absentees.

INSERT 14 STATE

The bill provides broad new federal enforcement powers in the field of voting rights, although it does not contain some of the far-ranging provisions originally asked by Eisenhower.

Nevertheless, its passage is an outstanding victory for Eisenhower and for members of both parties who have struggled for years to win action on civil rights.

The political repercussions are certain to be felt for a long time. The key feature of the bill is a provision giving the Justice Department authority to seek federal court injunctions to enforce the right of every citizen to vote, regardless of race or color.

MODIFIED FORM

In its final form, this provision was modified so that persons charged with criminal contempt for violating such injunctions would be granted a jury trial if they were tried first by a judge alone and sentenced to more than 45 days in jail or fined more than $300.

But no jury trials would be authorized in civil contempt cases stemming from voting rights injunctions. Some legislators say the bulk of court orders in voting rights cases could be enforced through civil contempt action.

Civil contempt actions are aimed at obtaining compliance with a court order. Criminal contempt is intended to punish for non-compliance.

End of a Filibuster

Making Rights Bill Work Will Be Major Task for Ike

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — First stumbling block for the Eisenhower administration—as soon as the civil rights bill becomes law—is in setting up the commission to study civil rights problems.

The bill calls for the President to appoint a six-man bipartisan commission to do that. Commission members are subject to approval by the Senate.

Congress Nears Adjournment After 8 Months

Only Two Major Bills Await Action Before Windup of Session

WASHINGTON (INS)—The first session of the 85th Congress is expected to adjourn sine die today with members weary from eight months of law making, speeches and investigations but most of them exalted over passage of the hard-fought civil rights bill.

Only two major bills remain unfinished today, and the House plans to complete action on them in rapid order and send them to the White House.

These are the compromise $3,436,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill and a measure limiting disclosure of FBI information to defendants in federal prosecutions.

The Senate approved these two measures and completed action on an emergency immigration bill late last night at the end of a marathon, 39-hour session—longest of the year.

The flurry of voting came after the Senate passed and sent to the White House the major civil rights legislation as majority Leader Lyndon Johnson cleared the decks of everything but a few minor bills in order to adjourn promptly.

The session, which began last January with attention on President Eisenhower's second inaugural, winds up with the chief executive's expression of "tremendous disappointment" over the record of the Democratic-controlled Congress.

Many of the stormiest issues have been put over until next year. Political figures will squabble in the meantime over whether the accomplishments or failures outweigh each other.

Many of the bills that got in the shuffle will be revived in the second session starting in January.

The Senate approved several thousand appointments, Mr. Eisenhower made, including two cabinet members—Defense Secretary Neil McElroy and Treasury Secretary Robert Anderson. But the nomination of Arnold R. Jones to the Tennessee Valley Authority was left at the post.

Lawmakers investigated a broad field of activity. They pried into nuclear fall-out, organized labor, baseball, cigarettes, the oil industry, Indiana highway scandals, the administration's monetary policies and the use of farm surpluses as an instrument of foreign policy. A number of the probes will be resumed this fall after members of Congress have had belated vacations.

Confidential Trial Awaits Stars for Role of Witness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Confidential magazine libel trial—which so far has heard the names of many celebrities but has seen none of them on the witness stand—resumes today after a one-day recess.

Both sides promise surprise witnesses. Defense Atty. Arthur J. Crowley says he expects to complete calling his witnesses today, but is holding back several "of an interesting nature" to call in rebuttal.

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz would not say whether he intends calling actress Maureen O'Hara but he did say he will call rebuttal witnesses of a "sensational nature."

Miss O'Hara was the subject of a Confidential story asserting that she "cuddled in row 35" of Grauman's Chinese Theater. She has denied the story, saying she was in Europe at the time.

As the trial moves toward conclusion, the jury of six men and women has yet to see a movie star. Pre-trial statements of at-

Meeting Overflows Into Stadium

DRAG STRIP RACERS — More than 300 hot rod enthusiasts and their parents, from all parts of Oakland County and from Detroit, drove into Pontiac last night to hear plans of the Oakland County Timing Assn. for a drag strip in this area. Because of the large turnout, the meeting was held outdoors at the Wisner School instead of at the Oakland County Jail as scheduled.

300 Jam Meeting to Hear Plan for Legal Drag Strip in County

By MAX E. SIMON

From all parts of Oakland County, 300 hotrodders and parents converged on Pontiac last night.

Many drove the cars that they hope to race someday on a drag strip in the Pontiac area. Parents, anxious to learn about the new movement which has so aroused the enthusiasm of their teenage children, were also on hand.

From as far away as Detroit the hotrodders came, to gather as much information as they could about the organization which is fighting for the establishment of legalized drag racing under proper supervision in Oakland County.

And to report back to the hotrod enthusiasts in Detroit how they could best participate in the drag racing program here.

The occasion was another meeting of the Oakland County Timing Assn., a newly organized group of local teenagers and other hotrod fans, which believes in building a drag strip in Oakland County to keep teenagers from racing their cars on the highway.

"I guess you all realize that we've got a lot of competition," President Bill Martin, 21, of Waterford Township, told those present.

He was referring to charges by Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore that drag racing is "dangerous."

"We'll prove sincerity," he asserted, "and when they see that we mean what we say, they'll come over to our side."

Martin warned the youths that it would take only one act of recklessness by a member of the association resulting in an accident to blow up their dream of a strip.

Officers of the group feel that it will be two to three years before the drag strip becomes a reality. The crowd listening to Martin was sitting on the back lawn of Wisner School. Originally, the meeting had been scheduled in a room of the Oakland County Jail. But, early in the evening, it was obvious that there wouldn't be enough room to hold the many of two years beyond May 29, persons who have become interested in the program. Only 80

Big-Three Reply to UAW Chief

Charge Reuther Creates Inflation Smoke-Screen

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

DETROIT—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther stood accused today of trying to cover up inflation and not curb it.

This was the general reaction from the "Big Three" of the automotive industry after Reuther's latest blast at the manufacturers. The UAW chief announced that he has again sought the aid of President Eisenhower in his battle to have Ford, Chrysler and General Motors cut 1958 car prices by $100.

The auto companies responded that Reuther's statement yesterday has not changed his original proposal and again called it an attempt to "smokescreen" the inflation-fanning demands he will make of the auto industry next June.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, in response to requests for comment on Reuther's statement of Thursday, said:

CURTICE REPLIES

"Mr. Reuther's 14-page publicity release re-argues his letter to General Motors to which we replied in detail on Aug. 22, but ignores the constructive suggestion made by General Motors that he announce a willingness to extend the GM-UAW contract for a period of two years beyond May 29, 1958. Such an extension would have

Michigan Fair Opens Today

Giant Parade in Detroit Kicks Off 10-Day Affair for Young and Old

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan State Fair, with competition for farmers, rides for the kiddies and a carnival for all, opened its 10-day stand today.

First was a giant parade through downtown Detroit. Floats, 21 bands, 10 horseback units, seven marching groups and six majorette groups took part.

An estimated 75,000 Wayne County union members marched in the parade from Woodward and Willis past the old city hall. It is the last time the county AFL and CIO groups will march as separate organizations.

The principal speaker after the parade was U.S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich). He also was grand marshal of the parade.

Other speakers were Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, City Council President Louis C. Miriani, United Auto Workers Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey and Andrew McFarlane, president of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor.

The Fairgrounds will open at 9 a.m. daily and close at 10 p.m. The opening hour on weekends is

Some Showers Due Tomorrow and Labor Day

But Area Police Caution 'Play Safe' on Crowded Roads, at Lakes

Summer will take its final fling this Labor Day weekend, with showers expected to dampen local enthusiasm.

The highways, nationally and locally, are expected to hold a record crowd of motorists taking a final weekend vacation and closing summer cottages to return home. The latter group is expected to jam the highways in the late hours of the holiday weekend Monday.

The area weather forecast calls for scattered showers Saturday and Monday with above normal temperatures expected to reach near 80 during the weekend.

The showers are expected to be heavier out-state and in the Upper Peninsula.

The National Safety Council predicts that 420 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the 78-hour holiday weekend from 6 p.m. today to midnight Monday.

CAUTIONS DRIVERS

Council president Ned H. Dearborn urged motorists to show the same caution and cooperation with police that marked the Memorial Day and July 4 weekends. Both holidays produced traffic deaths no worse than normal weekends because of that extra care, Dearborn said.

Locally, Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons said police agencies in the county are primed to equal last year's deathless Labor Day weekend on the highways.

Waterbound Oakland County is also a water safety problem on holiday weekends, and officials joined today in urging that this last swimming outing be a safe one by observance of water safety rules.

EXTRA POLICE

The state's various police agencies have been mobilized to swing into extra duty action late today. National Guardsmen have been assigned to aid State Police and sheriff patrols. Many law enforcement agencies are manning desk jobs with non-uniformed officers to free uniformed men for highway patrol work.

State troopers are beginning 10-hour shifts today for the duration of the weekend.

Labor Day is an official holiday and local merchants, banks and plants will close Monday. Governmental offices—city, county, state and federal—also will close, with the exception of law enforcement agencies.

All are expected to resume normal operation Tuesday at regular hours.

Some essential retailers, including food and drug stores and gasoline service stations, are expected to be open all or part of Monday. They will remain closed Tuesday for an extra day of vacation.

Warmer Weather With Showers, Holiday Outlook

The U. S. Weather Bureau has forecast cloudy skies, but no rain, for this area tonight. The low will range from 58 to 62 degrees.

Scattered showers are due again tomorrow with the mercury expected to rise to a high of 80 to 84.

In an extended weather outlook the U. S. Weather Bureau has reported that temperatures for this area will average nearly five degrees above the normal 78 high and normal 58 low for the next five days. Showers are expected Monday and Tuesday, but the weather man has set aside another fair and warm Sunday.

For those traveling north over the holiday weekend the outlook for eastern upper Michigan is cloudy tonight, low 48 to 53, and scattered showers tomorrow, high 66 to 72. Western upper Michigan will have scattered showers to night, low 52 to 58, and tomorrow will be warmer, high 65 to 72, with scattered showers.

The lowest temperature recorded downtown preceding 8 a.m. was 66. At 1 p.m. the mercury read 72.

Pontiac Lawyer Awaits Verdict

Sept. 12 Ruling Due on Milton Henry Trial for Striking Patrolman

The trial of Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry on a charge of assault and battery ended yesterday with both sides summing up the legal issues involved.

Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum said he would hand down a verdict on Sept. 12 at 9:30 a.m.

Henry, 38, of 34 Crawford St., had admitted during the four-day trial that he struck Patrolman Clarence Smith when the officer attempted to impound his car July 23.

In his summary, Assistant City Attorney Sherwin Birnkant said that no citizen has a right to interfere with an officer who is acting under orders or enforcing the law as he believes it to be.

Attacking Henry's contention that he struck the officer in defense of his property, Birnkant charged, "As an attorney, Mr. Henry knew full well what legal recourse he had to protect his property, without assaulting the officer."

In reviewing his defense, Henry told the court the issue of assault was a minor one compared to the larger issue of civil rights raised by the trial.

He said the police department had no legal authority to seize citizens' cars on the street for alleged parking offenses committed at an earlier date.

He charged that the parking ordinance under which cars are impounded is unconstitutional, being illegal seizure, and the police were not even acting in accordance with the ordinance in impounding his car.

Continue to Investigate Argentine Ship Crash

BUENOS AIRES (U)—Argentine authorities held the Moore-McCormack Lines freighter Mormacsurf in port today, continuing investigation of its collision Tuesday night with an Argentine river steamer. Hope was held for the 94 persons listed as missing after the steamer sank.

The passenger list of the steamer, City of Buenos Aires, did not include children under six. It was feared several such children were aboard and lost, and the toll actually was above 94. There were no casualties on the Mormacsurf.

The river boat's owners blamed the 7,800-ton U. S. vessel for the collision. There was no immediate reply to the charge by Moore-McCormack and the Mormacsurf's captain, Kenneth Sommers of San Francisco, was being held incommunicado by the Argentines.

Why should business meetings, sales meetings and business calls sometimes be planned in consideration of prevailing weather conditions?

We have suggested in an earlier piece that salesmen can profitably take advantage of high pressure periods for making calls and do their "homework" during low pressure periods.

This is true because low pressure automatically affects the nerves by causing dehydration of the tissues. Some people begin to ache and others feel a mental depression. This is not imaginary; it is quite real.

Thus sales meetings, conferences and sales calls could be profitably planned to take place in good weather periods, quite often, when salesmen and prospective buyers are feeling their best. A glance at the weather map will show when high pressure areas (usually fair weather periods) can be expected to arrive in your locality.

Squelch Reports Barkley's Widow, Rayburn to Wed

ST. LOUIS (U)—"For heaven's sake," Mrs. Alben Barkley said last night when she was asked about reports she might marry House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

NBC commentator David Brinkley in a television broadcast said Rayburn, a 75-year-old bachelor, had been squiring the widow of the former vice president "to parties around town and people are enjoying the gossip that we may soon have a wedding here."

"There is nothing at all to it," Mrs. Barkley said when contacted by a Globe-Democrat reporter in Washington.

"Mr. Rayburn is an old, old friend. He was originally a friend of Sen. Barkley, and he has been very, very nice to me since Mr. Barkley died."

"I enjoy his company immensely. And that's that!"

Stabs Father With Arrow

Detroit Youth Flees After Attack in Defense of Mother

DETROIT (INS)—A Detroit man was reported in serious condition today after his son stabbed him in the chest with a steel-tipped arrow.

The victim was identified as John McCallum, 39, of 3904 Fenkell. The son, Hugh (age unknown) fled the house after the incident and is being sought.

Police said another son, John Jr., 15, told them Hugh stabbed his father after McCallum and his wife quarreled.

Young John said his older brother had planned for some time to attack his father if the latter continued to drink and abuse his mother.

Mrs. Nancy McCallum, 40, was too upset to give police any details of the stabbing. Another son, William, 11, also was aroused by the fighting.

The weapon was a 30-inch broad-tipped hunting arrow.

Police said they were told McCallum is a heavy drinker and often abused his wife. They were informed he once blackened both her eyes and on another occasion placed a burning cigarette on her neck.

300 Jam Meeting to Plan Drag Strip

Members of the club would be dropped if they lost their license because of a traffic violation, if they were convicted of reckless driving, or if they received a negative report from the safety committee of the association.

The safety committee would see that all cars owned by members were fit to be safely operated. If the safety committee had to warn a member as much as three times for a safety violation, his name would be brought before the entire group for a vote on whether he should be dropped from the group.

The teenagers also were addressed by a member of the Board of Directors of the Michigan Hotrod Association, Don Houck of Farmington. He said that the Oakland County Timing Assn., if properly organized and following the rules of the sheriff's department, could use the drag strip near New Baltimore.

He pointed out that it had cost the Michigan Hotrod Assn. more than $53,000 to build the strip in New Baltimore.

The local group discussed the possibility of using the already built site until enough money was raised in Oakland County to construct a strip here. It is estimated that the cost would run between $50,000 and $75,000.

Meanwhile, the group plans to launch a drive for new members. Dances and dinners will be major activities of the local drag association.

Charged With Assault, Man Is Bound Over

Emory Cox, 44, of 531 Arthur St., has been bound over to Circuit Court by Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum on a charge of assault.

Cox was charged following the shooting of James M. Brandon, of 220 Branch St., on May 4.

Brandon was in Cox's car when the shooting occurred during a scuffle between Cox and a third man following an argument, police said.

Brandon who was hit in the right foot, has recovered.

NEARING COMPLETION — This is the Pike street and main entrance of the city's new Public Safety Building. Leo J. Heenan, architect for the $375,000 structure, yesterday said the contracting work would be completed within a week. Acting City Manager Lewis M. Wrenn said he expected partial occupancy by the police department by Sept. 15. Besides the police, the building, next to the City Hall, will house two municipal courts and offices, and headquarters for the fire department. (See other pictures on Page 2L)

No Auditing of Books in County Seen Likely

The State is auditing Wayne County's books for the first time in recent years, but almost certainly at the expense of a similar audit in Oakland and at least 18 other counties.

That is the decision of Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski, it was confirmed in Lansing today.

Oakland may have to pay $30,000 or more for an independent outside audit, said Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county Board of Auditors.

County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt declared that he can find no law authorizing the Auditor General's office to skip its audit of Oakland County.

In Lansing, Deputy Auditor General William R. Hart said the situation was "unfortunate," but indicated that no law was being broken.

"We are supposed to audit the books of every county in the state, that's true," he said. "But because we have not been able to audit Wayne County for a long time."

"This year we are determined to audit Wayne. If we don't have enough auditors left to cover all the other counties, that's unfortunate, but we can't help it," Hart said.

Szymanski advised the affected counties to hire outside auditors for the job. Merritt, in turn, suggested that the State come up with the money for an independent audit.

Moore said that published reports earlier today quoting him as estimating the cost at $50,000 were untrue. "I never said that since I don't know how much an audit would cost," said Moore.

"But it probably will cost at least $20,000."

Moore said that the State had already completed at least "a partial" audit of the county's books, since state auditors have already visited the county in February and briefly in July.

The audit in question is of the 1956 books, since final audits are not usually completed until 1½ years after the end of the audit period.

Hill said that more auditors were requested of the legislature this spring, but were turned down.

In Detroit, Charles F. Edgecomb, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Auditors, welcomed the change.

In the past, he said, audits by independent outside firms have been irregular. The last one cost about $80,000, he said.

Manslaughter Case Examination Starts

Examination of James A. McEvers, 24, of 860 Glendale Ave., Waterford Township, charged with manslaughter, began yesterday before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Donald Adams.

McEvers is charged in the death of Henry E. McCurry, 42, of 4975 Inkster Rd., Bloomfield Township, after a head-on collision on M59 Township, June 20. McCurry died July 21.

One of three Pontiac General Hospital doctors who testified yesterday, Dr. Len Bylma said that McCurry's death was due to heart failure, adding that McCurry had heart disease before the accident, and the crash and operations were too much for him.

Examination will continue Sept. 5 in the township hall.

Beatrice M. Keller, Pontiac Nurse, Dies

Beatrice M. Keller, 54, of 6 Green St., died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital.

A practical nurse, she was a member of All Saints Episcopal Church, president of the Oakland County Practical Nurses' Association and the Jefferson Chapter OES.

Miss Keller leaves two sisters and a brother, Mrs. Donald Robinson of Detroit, Mrs. Clifford Fitzgerald and Robert Keller of Lansing.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from the R. G. and G. R. Harris Funeral Home, 14751 W. McNichols Rd., Detroit. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Auto Industry Men Reply to Reuther

a constructive and stabilizing effect on the whole economy.

"It would continue the GM wage formula which provides for cost-of-living adjustments based upon the BLS Consumer Price Index and also for annual increases in wages of 2½ per cent or 6 cents per hour whichever is greater."

"For our part, we reiterate, we will continue to do all in our power to resist inflationary pressures and promote stability."

Ford Motor Co. president, Henry Ford II, accused Reuther of an attempt to "shift the blame for inflation from himself to someone else."

"I think it is unfortunate," Ford said, "that Mr. Reuther chooses to convert a grave national problem into a propaganda platform designed to divert public criticism from himself."

"The public interest is not served by continued irresponsible attacks that are deliberately contrived to create confusion. This latest statement by Mr. Reuther is another desperate attempt on his part to smoke-screen the inflation-fanned demands he will make of the auto companies next June."

President L. L. Colbert of Chrysler said Reuther's statement provided "nothing new."

In Washington, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty made public a letter sent to Reuther Aug. 22 by Gabriel Hauge, economic adviser to the President.

Hauge wrote that Eisenhower had asked him to thank Reuther for his Aug. 16 letter, in which the proposal first was made.

"It would be inappropriate," the letter said, "for the President to express a view on the specific proposals set forth in your letter to the three major automobile producers. He regards the sentiments expressed in your letter, however, as a hopeful augury that a sense of civic responsibility will prevail in the future negotiations between labor and management."

At his news conference last week Eisenhower said he had referred Reuther's proposal to the labor department and his economic advisers for study.

Election News Reported Fairly, Survey Indicates

BOSTON (U)—Most readers think newspapers gave both sides fair play in the 1956 presidential election, according to a survey conducted by two University of Michigan professors.

About two-thirds of the persons questioned by Profs. Dean Baker and Charles Cappel considered the treatment of the parties equal in the newspapers.

The findings, based on questionnaires given to 1,772 voters considered to be representative of the entire adult population in the United States, were used in a discussion at a journalism meeting here yesterday.

To Pay His Share of U.S. Debt

LAMAR, Colo. (U)—Uncle Sam's huge national debt worried Arthur E. Lamper, who died recently at 72.

His will, filed for probate yesterday, gives the government all his U. S. investment bonds.

The retired American Sugar Co. executive said in his will: "I feel a moral obligation for my share of the debt of the United States and this bequest of bonds will in some measure take care of my share of the debt as well as my mother's."

The bequest was estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000.

Miss de Scaffa, the subject of an all-points bulletin here, was reportedly seen at various border States.

"We really want that young lady and have a warrant for her arrest," Ritz said. Miss de Scaffa is under grand jury indictment with other accused defendants in the Confidential trial.

Former Confidential editor Howard Rushmore has testified that Miss de Scaffa offered to have an affair "with anyone in Hollywood" to get scandal stories for the magazine. The Mexican government has ordered her to leave that country.

Producer Mike Todd, whose name also came up in testimony, said yesterday in Provincetown, Mass., that he would like to offer a deposition or testify at the trial but that no one had approached him.

Todd, vacationing on Cape Cod with his wife, actress Elizabeth Taylor, denied that he was an informer for Confidential or that he turned over photographs to the publication.

Albert De Stefano, Confidential's legal adviser, testified Monday that Todd not only helped with the story but supplied photos and the tag line. The story: "How Mike Todd Made a Chump Out of a Movie Mogul."

"Ludicrous, a ridiculous thing," said Todd, adding: "If I had furnished them with photos, I'd have given them a better one than they used."

"There doesn't seem to be any way to defend yourself against these people — unless maybe I could challenge them to an old-fashioned duel."

Take Tiny Victim of Hit-Run Mishap for Operation

Tiny Michael Cassidy, 23-month-old victim of a hit-run accident, last night was taken from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by his parents to University of Pennsylvania Hospital for a delicate operation on his broken jaw.

The child was injured Tuesday afternoon in Avon Township while visiting an aunt. The driver of the car did not stop.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cassidy, residents of Pennsylvania, made an appeal to the driver to come forth and identify himself, before leaving by auto with their son.

"We are certain that Michael was not hit, but ran into the side of a passing car," Mrs. Cassidy said. "Doctors agree if he had been hit, his injuries would have been far worse."

Britain Claims Tops for Aircraft Altitude

LONDON (U)—Britain today claimed a world altitude record for aircraft—70,000 feet.

The Royal Aero Club said the mark was set two days ago by a Canberra bomber, powered by two turbojets and two rocket motors. It was piloted by Michael Randrup, chief test pilot for D. Napier & Son.

The previous record was 65,890 feet, set by a Canberra in 1955.

The Royal Aero Club said the record was subject to confirmation. An unofficial altitude record of 126,000 feet was credited to an American Bell X2 plane, a rocket research ship, at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., in September 1956.

The Day in Birmingham

Area Community House Opening Doors Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM—Tuesday marks the reopening of the 1957-58 season at the Birmingham Community House.

Clubs which, through the summer have suspended activities or have been meeting in different places, will return to the fold for dinner meetings and programs.

House-sponsored activities, including the craft and hobby classes will be getting underway. Myra Showman, registrar, urges early enrollment for the many classes offered.

She stressed again that registration must be made in person and enrollment fees paid in advance.

One of the principal activities of the house will be the Senior Men's Club, entering its second year. The group meets Tuesdays and Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., for recreation, luncheon and visiting.

The outdoor shuffleboard courts are now ready for use, house spokesmen said.

Reports of the past year and plans for the future will be heard when the annual meeting of officials and contributors is held on Oct. 7.

City Treasurer Russell T. Berger announced today that, beginning Sept. 1, taxes due July 1 this year will carry a penalty of ½ of one per cent.

He said, however, that mail payments postmarked before midnight tomorrow will be accepted without penalty.

City Commissioners have approved the plan of night lighting on the ski slope at 14-Mile and Cranbrook Roads.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has indicated its desire to underwrite this expense.

Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning announces the receipt of a check from the Federal Office of Civil Defense in the amount of $4,827.88, in defense matching funds.

Of this amount, $2,293.03 was for the air raid siren system, with the balance going for the DFW radio equipment.

MRS. MAUDE STROHM
Service for Mrs. Maude Strohm, the former Mrs. Herman Kist, 70, will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at Mayview, with burial in Greenwood Cemetery, Birmingham.

Mrs. Strohm died yesterday at Mariette Hospital after a week of illness. Her home for the past 10 years was in Mayview.

She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Lester Allen, Mrs. Hugo Cloutier and Mrs. Samuel Stinson, all of Birmingham, and Mrs. George Davidson, of Troy; 20 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

Birmingham Couple in Fair Condition
A Birmingham couple, injured yesterday in an accident near Saginaw in which three persons were killed, were reported in fair condition today by the Saginaw hospitals to which they were taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hitchcock, of 3300 Burning Bush Rd., had been reported in critical condition after the accident.

Authorities at St. Mary's, where Mrs. Hitchcock, 44, was taken, said that, although she was "fair," her injuries included multiple rib fractures and two fractured ankles.

At St. Luke Hospital, spokesmen refused to give the extent of the injuries to Hitchcock, 48.

Native Rite Honors Dr. Dooley for Friendship, Service to Laos

AMBULANCE SERVICE IN LAOS is a little like this one bringing a native patient to Dr. Dooley's Nam Tha hospital.

By DON DUNHAM
(Last of Four Dispatches)

SAIGON, Viet Nam (NEA) — When the Laos tribesmen working at Dr. Thomas A. Dooley's Nam Tha hospital discovered he is returning to the U. S. on Sept. 1 for several months, they immediately arranged a festive rite called a Buddhist Baci.

When we gathered at the hospital, a cone of flowers three and a half feet high occupied the center of the porch. Around it in silver bowls was fruit and other foods to appease Buddha and the good spirits. It was not food for us.

Dr. Dooley is turning over the hospital and all its supplies and equipment — even his personal equipment — to the Laos government to carry on the work he began in this remote spot five miles from the Red Chinese border. In turn, the government will pay the salaries of the help, buy rice to feed the patients, provide the drugs.

The Baci was to honor Dr. Dooley and to acquire all his "good spirits" for the continued operation of the hospital. It was only one minor evidence of the respect and affection held for Dr. Dooley by these people.

While many persons in Saigon attack Dr. Dooley's book, "Deliver Us From Evil," the only criticism of his "Operation Laos" comes down to this:

"He is doing a good job, but to what purpose? When he leaves, it will end."

Or, "He's just out here to write another book."

Well, he is going to write another book when he comes back to the U. S. this fall. But nobody has to spend many months in such spots as Vang Vieng and Nam Tha to write a book.

And he has well answered the first and what appeared to be a sound criticism. That was done by turning the hospital over to the government with all of his drugs and equipment. Laos already has sent a young medical graduate here to take over. Two new nurses have been sent to replace his two U. S. aides.

NURSES TRAINED

Dr. Dooley has trained his nurses and midwives during these months. When they finished their course, each was presented with a midwife's kit, supplied by CARE, with complete equipment for delivering a baby.

"I have tried to do several things," says Dr. Dooley. "First I tried to make myself expendable. If I have succeeded in that, I have done a good job."

"Also I tried to practice as good medicine as could be done out here with what was available and what these people would accept. I tried to do a job of American public relations. I thought it a good thing for them to see four fine young Americans walking around their village, interested in them and helping them."

"I want Americans to know that this kind of a job can be done by very ordinary guys like we are."

They don't have to be Albert Schweitzers or millionaires. These two Notre Dame boys wrote to me saying they admired what I was doing and they would like to help. They were picked out of dozens who wrote such letters."

John de Vitry, of Bainbridge, Pa., and Bob Waters, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., plan to leave by boat with Dr. Dooley. They are believed to be the first white men ever to go down the Nam Tha River. It will be a dangerous cruise. In Thailand, they will leave the boat and fly to Vientiane. Along the river they will stop at each village and treat the sick until the medicines they are able to carry with them are gone.

Speaking of Dr. Schweitzer, Dr. Dooley plans to visit the great musician, organ-builder, religious leader, philosopher and physician in Africa on his way back to the U. S.

But I can testify to the strongest recommendation any man can get. Two days I walked all around this community with Tom Dooley.

"I have never seen any man short of a president of our country receive such respect, warm friendship and adulation as he received from small children, their parents and the aged grandparents. The children romped with him, sat on his knee, laughed with him."

From porches, windows and dirt path, the parents all made the gracious little bow so typical of this part of the world, with hands held in front in a praying position, and said "Sam Baidde," meaning something like our "good health to you."

Many of the elders address him as "Thanh," a very rare tribute indeed. It means "excellency," a very honorific title here. And you can be sure there will be many more Bacis (Buddhist rite) for "Thanh" Dr. Dooley when he returns to Laos next year.

Maple Pointe Beach Event

Community Fish Fry to Take Place Labor Day

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Elaborate plans for a special Labor Day event will materialize Monday when the Maple Pointe Beach

Improvement Club, Inc. holds a fish fry at the subdivision park at Lower Straits Lake.

To Open Confab With Breakfast

Walled Lake PTA Host to Teachers; Appoint Principals, Aides

WALLED LAKE — Superintendent Clifford H. Smart will greet 200 teachers when the combined PTA groups of the district give a breakfast on Tuesday, Sept. 3 in the cafeteria of the high school.

Smart anticipates an enrollment of 5,500 students when full day classes are held on Thursday, Sept. 5.

After addressing the staff on Tuesday morning, the balance of the two days will be spent by teachers in preparing their rooms and holding conferences.

The Board of Education here has appointed a new administrative assistant, two assistant principals and named elementary school principals for the coming year.

John Williams, administrative assistant, will take over the duties of purchasing and supply, budgeting and accounting.

Assistant principals are Oliver Rose in the Senior High School and Harry Carlson, Junior High School.

New principal for Union Lake and Twin Beach Schools is William Doggett. Berle Dean will take over the post at both Glengary and Wixom Schools.

Other elementary principals in the Walled Lake district are Floyd Chown, Walled Lake; C. G. Scott, Decker; and Max Bart, Commerce School.

Slate School Hours at West Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Schools here will open the 1957-58 school term with a teachers' meeting at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the High School.

Supt. Lelf A. Hougen will have charge of this first meeting and will introduce the 10 new teachers of the district.

Dr. Guy Hill, Director of High School Cooperation, Michigan State University, will address the faculty at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday afternoon.

On Wednesday morning Mrs. Gertrude Ealy, instructional consultant and principal of Roosevelt school will meet with the teachers of the Roosevelt school.

At the same time, Scotch School teachers will meet with Jesse K. Mosher, principal, at the Scotch School. Green School teachers will report to the Green School and principal Donald Weed, will meet with the high school teachers at the high school.

Students in grades 1-12 will report for a full days session on Thursday. Children attending kindergarten will not report until Friday, Sept. 6.

The Chandernagore Journalists' Association has denounced the mayor of that Indian city as "undemocratic and unjust" for barring newsmen from city meetings.

Last year's Labor Day promotion was a huge success and marked the first big venture of the progressive club.

Activity will begin at noon with the serving of fish, barbecue beef and hot dogs. Beverages and ice cream will also be available.

Beginning at 2 p.m. a four-hour series of games will get under way. Persons of all ages will be invited to participate in the contests and prizes will be given to the winners.

The afternoon program will include bubble gum and balloon blowing contests, a shoe scramble, a mother-daughter race, a sponge jump, a stiff-legged race, an egg-throwing contest, a nail-driving contest for women only and a waistsize guessing contest.

Prizes will be awarded to the largest family, to the youngest baby and to the youngest grandmother in attendance.

A talent show featuring residents of the subdivision will begin at 6 p.m. It will be immediately followed by an amateur contest which is open to everyone.

The program will end with a community sing. The public has been invited to attend.

Proceeds from the fish fry will be used to improve the subdivision. Chairman of the event is Clayton Stokes.

Glengary PTA to Give Luncheon for Principal

WALLED LAKE — Executive Board of the Glengary PTA will give a potluck dessert luncheon on Tuesday, honoring Berle Dean, the new principal of the school, and all faculty members.

A tentative program for PTA meetings has been determined. This year the group aims to have programs which will especially interest, inform and entertain fathers as well as mothers. They are particularly concerned with safety. They will show water and boating films, encourage parent participation in some programs, and plan some purely social evenings, according to Mrs. Lily Johnston, publicity chairman for the board.

Mrs. Madge Phillips, savings stamp chairman for the board, will start the sale to children early this year. She will be at the school on Sept. 12 to begin the weekly stamp sales program.

Build Addition to 83-Year-Old Almont Church

ALMONT — Workmen, under the leadership of Dugal Bryce are busy placing the timbers on the new addition to the Congregational Church.

This is the first building project carried on by the church since the main structure was completed in 1874.

The new addition will be used mainly for Sunday School rooms. Charles Lane of Ann Arbor, formerly of Almont, is the architect.

Sixty-six men worked on a recent every-member canvass and $40,000 in cash in pledges were netted for the work.

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT PAPKE

Couple Wed in Rochester, Tour Smoky Mountains

TROY — The Smoky Mountains was the destination of newly-wed Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Charles Papke Saturday, after their marriage in a candlelight service at St. Philip Church, Rochester.

The Rev. Edgar Lucas performed the 7:30 rite.

Mrs. Papke, Peggy Jane Vanderpool before her marriage, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Vanderpool of 155 East Square Lake Rd., Troy and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Papke of 6195 Blackwell.

Wearing a floor-length gown of pure silk and lace and carrying a white orchid on a prayer book, the bride was attended by Mary Lou Godfrey and Norma Patton. Best man for the bridegroom was James Vanderpool, brother of the bride. Ushers were William Papke and Gustave Jr., brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception for the couple was held in American Legion Hall, Rochester.

Upon returning to Michigan, they will reside at 1445 Dorothea Ave., Berkley.

Council OKs Go-Ahead on Rochester Facility

ROCHESTER — Village Manager Robert Slone here has been authorized by the council to obtain costs for a survey and plans on water facilities for Romeo street and Oak Bluff subdivision.

A recent report from George Smith of Ayres Engineers, Ann Arbor, said there was an inadequate supply of water coming through the four inch main to supply the section. He recommended that the line be doubled.

The youth, a June graduate of Avondale High School, was salutatorian of his class.

Sets Aside Sept. 1-8 as Child Safety Week

LANSING (AP) — The week of Sept. 1-8 was proclaimed by Gov. Williams today as Child Safety Week in Michigan as thousands of children across the state prepared to return to the classroom.

"The protection of children of all ages is the responsibility of us all, not just the police, school officials or safety patrols," Williams said.

Westminster Hall, London, was built in 1099.

Junior Editors' ANIMAL QUIZ

QUESTION: Why does a tiger have stripes?

ANSWER: The tiger is one of many animals whose colors blend into their natural background for protection or concealment.

When stalking smaller animals for food, the tiger's stripes blend with the plants and trees of the jungle and enable him to creep up on his prey unnoticed.

The tiger is one of several animals nature has blessed with a built-in camouflage. Some animals actually change their color to fit the season or their environment. The best-known of these is the chameleon, a lizard which alters its color in the twinkling of an eye.

FOR YOU TO DO: Next time you visit a zoo, stop at the reptile house and watch a chameleon change its colors.

(Hedwig E. Garrard of Tyler, Tex., won $10 for this question. Send yours to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper. Tomorrow: How old was Jesus when he preached in the temple?)

New Book Promises Fulfillment of Wishes

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK (INS) — It was a specially called evening church service. The congregation had gathered in larger than average proportions, but the minister looked nonetheless disappointed.

All the people, eager to get to the business at hand, wondered why. "I thank you all for coming tonight," the pastor finally said, "to help us pray for rain to end our terrible drought. But . . . where in the world are your umbrellas?"

This is the gist of the newest do-it-yourself book on the constructing of faith, by Mrs. Bonnie Wise. It comes, hopefully hot off the presses, in the form of an 183-page pep talk. And "It is aglow," as Dr. Norman Vincent Peale writes in a foreword, "with real idea-ism. The kind that soars high because it is rooted in sound realism."

What Mrs. Wise's idea is, is that old adage coined by Tin Pan Alley which says "Wishing can make it so."

The author, a 43-year-old vice president of a multi-million-dollar corporation, says that any man or woman's wish can be brought to reality, but the catch is: The wish cannot be a flimsy business such as a child's wishes are built upon, of fireflies and pink cobwebs.

This wish Mrs. Wise has in mind has got to be a BURNING DESIRE TO DO something that is worthwhile. In other words, if it's a real 18-karat grade-A wish, which truly will benefit its originator and guarantee not to hurt one other soul, then—with a great deal of work—it can come true.

Inspirational as this project obviously is intended to be, it's wondered here whether the world is ready yet to dream up such a wholesome and unselfish type of wish—much less to work for its fulfillment.

NEED EARNEST THINKING

Mrs. Wise suggests earnestly that one find himself a "special wishing place" for thinking about this matter. "There's an island of incentive and an ocean of opportunity right in your own backyard," she maintains, "waiting for the ones who will wish."

But I would like to suggest that, unless the author gives some specifics on what exactly is a grade-A, come-trueable type of wish, there will be confusion, even in the rose arbor. For "dreaming" and "wanting" have become so confused with "wishing" in the mind of man that it seems likely even a young child, scarcely touched by the world-beyond his back yard, would answer Mrs. Wise's gentle question in the following manner: "What do you wish for most, sonny?"

"A millions bucks."

Not so crass but equally earthy, a young woman probably would wish for—"a husband." And a mature man in America automatically would wish for "success."

This is not what Mrs. Wise wants, in her book "Best Wishes, Bonnie Wise." In spite of the fact that she is a successful businesswoman, she apparently attained that position by wishing for much finer things than business promotions and hard, cold cash. She wants the reader to select the most magnificent wish he can conceive, ethically and spiritually, and she'll show him how to work it out.

It occurs to me that the man whose thoughts are that ideal, whose wishes are that selfless, doesn't really need a book to find fulfillment.

Wildebeest is the Dutch name for the gnu, a South African antelope.

This Time Mother Was Wrong Girl Who Has Ring Needn't Delay News of Engagement

By EMILY POST
"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to announce my engagement in the newspaper even though there are no definite plans for the wedding and this is not likely to take place for almost a year? I received my ring for my birthday but my mother thinks it too long ahead to make any public announcement."

Answer: Since wearing your ring will announce the engagement to all of those who know you well, your parents might much better send an announcement to the papers, and add the not at all unusual information that no date has as yet been set for the wedding, or that it will not take place until after the bridegroom finishes his postgraduate work, or whatever the reason for the delay.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I asked a friend, for whom I was best man my wedding. As this friend works a year ago, to be best man at a distant city he regretted his inability to come on that date. I lost no time in asking a relative to serve."

"Now comes a letter from the friend saying he can be here after all and would love to be best man. My cousin was very pleased when I asked him to fill this position and will be terribly disappointed. What to do and how is the question."

Answer: Tell the first friend exactly what you have written me and that now it would be very unfair to spoil your cousin's pleasure, and ask the friend if he will serve as usher instead. You can have extra ushers but not two best men.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and will have both a flower girl and ring bearer in the wedding party. Where are they seated at the wedding reception. Do they have to be seated at the bridal table along with the other members of the bridal party?"

Answer: The flower girl and the ring bearer should be seated at the bridal table only if they can be seated beside a parent or an uncle or aunt who can keep them interested and reasonably quiet.

Cracked Ice Better

Use cracked ice rather than ice cubes in your vacuum insulated container. Spoon it in gently, using a plastic-type utensil. In order to get maximum temperature retention, the glass used in the lining of vacuum insulated bottles is finer than the glass employed in the most expensive crystal. To avoid breakage, it should be handled with care.

Birthday Observed

Ricky Spaysky was honored on his fourth birthday with a party given by his mother, Mrs. Darwin Spaysky at the Spaysky home on South Edith street. Ten guests attended the recent event.

Country Business Takes Planning

By ANNE HEYWOOD
This is the time of year when people return from vacations bound and determined to start a business in the country so that they can live there all year round.

"Living is so much less expensive in the country," one woman writes. "My husband and I are sure we could find some lucrative little business."

It turns out that her husband

Peau de soie on suede, plus sparkle, distinguished approach to the new feeling for understated elegance and refined allure. Handled with this is the important-occasion pump, par excellence for fall '37.

Avoid Middle-Age Slump by Tackling New Things

Woman Who Is Ever Eager to Learn Won't Become Victim of 'Doldrums'

By RUTH MILLETT

"What have you been doing with yourself, lately?" When your friends put that question to you, do you always answer, "Same old routine" or "Nothing very exciting"? They're the only answer a lot of women—especially middle-aged women—have for such a question.

But not Sue. Any time you run into Sue and ask her what she has been up to lately you get an enthusiastic answer.

Last winter she was enrolled in a university class designed to increase reading speed. Sue was all excited over that. "As much as I love to read," she explained, "I figured I might as well learn how to read as rapidly as possible."

This summer Sue is taking swimming lessons. She has been swimming for years, but not with an easy, strong, powerful stroke. Now she is learning to swim all over again.

No telling what Sue will be learning this fall. But something, for sure.

The fact that she is always eager to learn something new makes Sue seem younger and more enthusiastic than most women her age.

The fact that she isn't afraid to do things on her own gives her personality a strength that is lacking in the woman who never dares to do anything alone.

Sue's answer to avoiding the middle-age doldrums is one any woman could follow.

All it takes is the desire to keep learning and the determination not to fall into a dull routine.

To wear with cotton knit shorts: the blouse top. And both in one dark color for a really cool effect. Might be green or dark blue.

has worked in a large company, in a clerical capacity, for over 25 years. She has lived in the city most of her life and would probably be perfectly helpless coping with housekeeping in more than three rooms, especially if the storm broke the electricity and telephone wires.

WOULD IT WORK?

The thought that her husband, with no experience in a business of his own, could dream one up and make a living in the country is plain foolish. It can be done, but it takes a lot of doing, planning, thinking—and saving!

The J's learned that the hard way.

Mr. and Mrs. J fell in love with a charming village in Pennsylvania. They decided to sell their little suburban house and move, lock, stock and barrel.

Mr. J was a commercial artist for a big company, but he was sure he could find something to do, perhaps at an arts or crafts shop. Mrs. J was good at ceramics and felt she could make out nicely selling her own vases and ash trays.

LEARNED HARD WAY
Inside of two years, they realized the move had been a mistake.

Mrs. J wasn't good enough at ceramics to find any market. Her things were frankly amateurish. Mr. J found that just about everybody in the village had an arts and crafts project.

In distress, Mrs. J brushed up her typing and shorthand, which she hadn't used in years, and got a job with one of the doctors in an adjoining city.

After much thought, Mr. J realized what he could do. He was good at lettering and designing signs for businesses.

With practically everybody in town in business, he began to build up a trade.

And now he's lettering cards.

menus, signs, letterheads and all kinds of things. He'll never make a fortune at it, but at least the J's are eating again.

How much better it would have been, if they had gone to the village for vacations, year after year, while saving their money, building capital and getting to know the villagers. They could have saved a lot of heartaches plus a good deal of money!

If you want to go about it the right way, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll send you the names of some good books on making a living in the country. (Copyright 1937)

Boil Spuds Day Before, Then Bake

Mrs. Pearsall Chops Potatoes Fine, Adds Milk and Butter

By JANET ODELL
Haven't you often wished that you could get more dishes prepared the day before a party in order to cut down your work on THE day?

Mrs. A. O. Pearsall's recipe for a potato casserole can be started the previous day and slipped into the oven about an hour before guests arrive.

Because of ill health, Mrs. Pearsall is no longer active in many organizations. She does serve as manager for the apartments her husband has recently built.

CREAMY POTATOES

By Mrs. A. O. Pearsall

1 potato per person to be served
Salt and pepper
Butter or margarine
Milk

Boil potatoes in their jackets the day before. When ready to use, peel and chop fine. Place in a greased casserole. Add salt and pepper, melted butter and milk just to cover. Bake about one hour in a 350-degree oven.

Pre-Treat Vacuum

To get the most efficient use from your vacuum insulated bottle, pre-treat it before filling. For hot foods or liquids, pour very hot tap water (boiling water isn't needed) into the vacuum bottle and let it stand for 3 to 4 minutes. Then empty the water and fill up the bottle with the food or drink. For cold drinks or chilled foods, prepare the vacuum container by filling it with iced water. Let it stand 3 to 4 minutes before emptying the water and refilling with the food or drink.

Show Pioneer in Family Room Furniture Styles

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—The new frontier on the home front is the family room, just the place for the Western style rugged charm.

A collection of family room furniture has been designed to withstand fun and frolic.

Each piece of the light ash furniture, shown at San Francisco's Western Merchandise Mart, incorporated a wagon wheel half of darker alder wood in its design.

Supple plastic upholstery in saddle tones encourages informality and fun. Stitching outlines Western symbols on chair and sofa backs.

A long couch becomes a double bed to turn the recreational center into a guest room. A polished bar with ash plank counter and two tall stools, an easy chair, occasional tables, book shelves and a desk—with the old-fashioned hinged top—complete the group.

Both children and mothers enjoy toys that are safe and washable.

Yanks Send Chisox on Their Way, 2-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Go-Go Chicago White Sox are gone.

They put the heat on New York's slumping Yankees and the champs got hot, sweeping a three-game series and regaining a 6½ game American League lead with a 2-1 victory yesterday. Enos Slaughter's 11th-inning home run and five innings of one-hit shut-out relief by sore-shouldered Whitey Ford did it.

Just 72 hours earlier, the Sox surprisingly were still in the race, a race this Yankee team, rated in the spring as possibly the greatest yet, was supposed to have unofficially wrapped up long before this final week of August.

Going into the set, the White Sox had won six in a row and had their best, righthanders Jim Wilson and Dick Donovan, and southpaw Billy Pierce, rested and ready. The Yankees, their pitching pooped by injuries, had lost five of seven on their final swing through the West.

A sweep would have put the Sox within percentage points of the champs and would have left the two clubs even in the loss column. By being swept the Sox are six games back on the lost side and with 28 games remaining have only eight more left at home. The Yankees have 27 to go, with all but nine at home.

For the sadists, the Yankees' magic number is 22—any combination of New York victories and Chicago defeats totaling 22 gives the Yankees their third consecutive pennant, eighth in nine years.

The Yankee mop up job was one of but three games scheduled in the majors yesterday, all in the AL. Boston swept Detroit in three with a 6-1 finale and Cleveland regained five from Baltimore by beating the Orioles 13-4.

In the NL, where first-place

Milwaukee also has a magic number of 22, the Braves resume play at Cincinnati with a seven-game lead tonight. Second-place Brooklyn is home to New York's Giants. Third-place St. Louis is at Chicago.

The big home run, as much as Yankee trade-mark as ever, and clutch relief pitching swept the White Sox out of contention.

In the opener, it had been Yogi Berra's three-run homer in the eighth, cracking a 6-all tie, and

Bob Turley's relief that won 12-6, who rapped his 16th home run in the third for the first Yankee hit

Bauer's solo homer in the eighth that provided the edge in a 5-4 victory as Turley again came on to save it.

And in the finale, it was Bauer

Delivery Notices Lower Grains

CHICAGO (U) — Grain futures were mostly lower on the board of trade today, influenced mainly by notices of intentions to deliver fairly large amounts of September wheat and corn.

This is the first day for delivery notices for September futures and indications that tenders of the bread and feed grains would be substantial resulted in continued liquidation.

Cash houses reportedly were transferring their hedges from the nearby September wheat contract future, which has been selling at 6 1/2 cent a bushel premium over September.

Corn, which has declined to new lows several times this week, continued downward as liberal delivery notices caused further selling of September for liquidation.

Favorable crop forecasts also were factors in the corn market, with higher temperatures expected to give the crop a needed lift.

Near the end of the first hour new-style wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, Sept. 22.15, corn was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, Sept. 12.20, oats were 1/4 to 1/2 lower, Sept. 6 1/2, soybeans were 1/4 to 1/2 lower, Sept. 22.40, and hard was 5 cents lower to 2 cents higher a hundred pounds Sept. 12.57.

Coleman to Get Honor From Queen Elizabeth

WASHINGTON (INS) — John Coleman, president of Burroughs Corp. of Detroit and former head of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will be among 10 Americans honored by Queen Elizabeth in a ceremony at the British embassy in Washington in October.

He will receive an award as honorary Knight Commander of the Order of the British Empire in recognition for his work in boosting Anglo-American cooperation.

Donald K. Ballman, of Midland, has announced the promotion of Donald K. Ballman to director of sales. He has been general sales manager of the company since 1949. Ballman is a son-in-law of Benjamin Jerome of Pontiac.
