WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional passage of landmark open-housing legislation has won applause from civil rights leaders along with renewed demands for massive federal attacks on shabby housing and unemployment in riot-prone slums.

A 250-171 House vote yesterday sent to the White House a civil rights bill to outlaw discrimination in the sale or rental of 80 per cent of the nation's housing by 1970.

President Johnson said he would sign it into law as soon as possible.

Passage climaxed an emotional debate in which opponents charged the House capitulated to the Negro rioting.

"I think this bill is symbolic," explained Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La. "Either we move ahead as one people or we move toward a police state."

Ten of the 106 House members from 11 Southern states went along with the bill's supporters in a key 229-195 vote against sending the measure to conference with the Senate, where backers feared the housing provision would be watered down.

When fully effective, Jan. 1, 1970, the discrimination ban would cover all sales and rentals except those involving owners of single-family houses who sell or rent without using a real-estate agent and resident-owners of dwellings with four units or fewer.

The bill also provides protection for civil rights workers and demonstrators from threats and violence when they are engaged in lawful activities.

Sunday Liquor Bill Clears State House

LANSING (AP) — A bill which would put the question of legalizing Sunday liquor sales on the November election ballot squeaked through the House yesterday without a single vote to spare.

Given approval also as the deadline for passing bills approached were two bills to authorize more state school reorganization and one measure creating a property insurance pool for riot-threatened urban areas.

Midnight tonight is currently the Legislature's deadline for passing bills in their house of origin.

In the House, majority Republican leaders indicated they doubted the chamber could clear its three-page calendar without a deadline extension and probably a Good Friday session.

Given 56-52 approval yesterday was the 1968 version of the Sunday liquor bill, a perennial legislative issue. It takes 56 votes to pass a bill in the House.

Romney Orders Emergency End

By The Associated Press

Gov. George Romney today lifted the state of emergency order for Wayne (Detroit) County and those portions of Oakland and Macomb counties which have been included, effective at 11 m.

Under the state of emergency, nightly curfew had prevailed in the Detroit area and gatherings of more than three persons were prohibited. Sale of firearms also was prohibited and bars and theaters were closed.

Two persons were shot dead in looting incidents, one in Detroit and one in Highland Park, and a series of arson fires were attributed to the disturbances.

"We have had our troubles," the governor commented. "But the majority of Michigan citizens — whatever their race, wherever they lived — have acted with restraint and steadiness."

Romney said the National Guard, put into the Detroit area 3,000 strong and another 6,000 mobilized elsewhere in Michigan gradually will be returned to their home bases. He gave no details immediately on demobilization.

MORE PALATABLE

This year's measure contains two provisions designed to make it more palatable — a requirement of voter approval, and an extra charge to liquor licensees to finance programs for treating alcoholics.

The House bill, introduced by Rep. Frank Wierzbicki, D-Detroit, and supported by 40 Democrats and 16 Republicans, would permit any city, village or county to outlaw Sunday liquor by vote of its governing body.

Best Film: 'In the Heat of the Night'

Steiger, Hepburn, Nichols Win Oscars

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — "In the Heat of the Night" won five Oscars, including best-picture acclaim and best-actor honors for Rod Steiger, at the 40th Academy Awards ceremony last night.

Katharine Hepburn, 58, was named 1967's best motion picture actress as a perplexed mother whose daughter plans to marry a Negro in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

Considered: hotter contenders than Hepburn were Faye Dunaway of the explosive "Bonnie and Clyde" and Anne Bancroft, the neurotic who seduces a youth half her age in "The Graduate."

Steiger was acclaimed by Sidney Poitier, the boyfriend taken home to "Dinner" and the Negro costar of Steiger in "Heat" as "probably the greatest actor in the world."

Steiger thanked Poitier for giving him understanding of racial prejudice.

RACIAL PROBLEM IN PLOTS

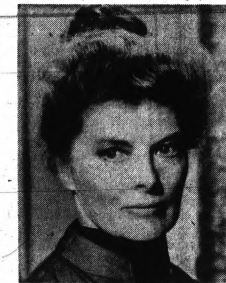

"In the Heat of the Night" and "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" dealt with the racial problem.

Mike Nichols, 37, nominated a year ago for "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?", won this time among directors for "The Graduate."

Supporting honors went to George Kennedy in "Cool Hand Luke" and to

Broadway's Estelle Parsons in "Bonnie and Clyde."

Steiger nosed out Dustin Hoffman, a confused youth in "The Graduate," and Warren Beatty as the ruthless bank robber Clyde Barrow in "Bonnie and Clyde."

Pontiac School Budget Adopted

A $17.9-million preliminary 1968-69 operating budget, including 39 new professional positions, was adopted by the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

The budget will be sent to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board to determine local taxes, but the final budget will not be approved until this summer when teacher salaries and state income are known.

The $17.9-million budget is made up of almost $16.9 million in preliminary estimates and nearly $1 million for staff studies and salary increases.

Three of 29 staff studies presented last night and totaling about $676,000 were approved for next year. Staff studies are possibilities for new personnel, services or programs. The approved ones are:

- $282,500 to hire 39 new instructional personnel to reduce class sizes, as recommended by the Finance Study Council.
- $71,325 to hire nine more special education teachers and buy textbooks and supplies.
- $19,535 for in-service training for instructional personnel and development of instructional guides for Afro-American history.

Thirty-nine new teachers would increase the total number of professional positions to 1,194. The new teachers would also include special teachers for individual help to pupils.

CLASSROOM POSITIONS

A major portion of the 39 positions are made up of classroom teaching positions and remedial reading teachers.

The ratio of professional personnel per 1,000 students would be increased from 47.56 to 48.37. A ratio of 50 professionals has been set as a goal.

Reds Offer Warsaw as Peace Talk Site

MOSCOW (AP) — The official Soviet news agency Tass reported today that North Vietnam has suggested Warsaw as a site for preliminary peace talks with the United States.

Tass said in a dispatch from Hanoi it had learned from reliable sources there that the North Vietnamese government had decided on the Polish capital after the United States refused its first suggestion, Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital.

Tass said: "It is believed in Hanoi's authoritative circles that the U.S. refusal to accept Phnom Penh as the meeting place may be taken to indicate that the United States delays solution of this question.

The Soviet news agency said North Vietnam had received a reply from the United States to its suggestion of Phnom Penh and this had "voiced disagreement."

"This decision by the United States cannot but cause wonder," Tass continued, "because the United States has repeatedly expressed willingness to send its representative to any point on the globe — to establish contacts with a representative of the DRV, Democratic Republic of Vietnam.

The report said North Vietnam, "displaying good will," is ready to start contacts with the American side in any other mutually convenient place and suggested Warsaw.

Tass noted in expressing "wonder" about the U.S. position on Phnom Penh that Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk had agreed to a U.S.-North Vietnamese meeting in his capital and promised "all conditions will be created for it."

The dispatch also denied reports in the West about contacts between American and North Vietnamese representatives in Vietnam.

75 Hopefuls in Masters Tee Off in Sun Today

By BRUNO L. KEARNS Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

AUGUSTA, Ga. — After taking a drenching for the past two days, the lush Augusta National Golf Course welcomed clear and sunny skies with temperatures expected in the high 70s for the 32nd presentation of the famous Masters Golf Championship.

Considered as the opening event on the summer golf tour and one of the "big three" in U.S. golf, along with the U.S. Open and the PGA, the prestigious Masters championship began today with 75 players in the field.

It is the smallest entry list in 10 years and one of the smallest fields in Masters history.

The smallest number of players ever to be invited was 42 in 1942 and the largest number of invitations extended was 110 in 1962.

There were actually 76 invitations this year, but Ramone Sota of Spain withdrew earlier this week because of a hand injury.

Defending champion Gay Brewer, one of the three golfers to break the mystic hold that Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus have had on this golf classic, was a late starter today and surprisingly was not considered a strong choice to repeat this year.

Palmer and Nicklaus have won this tournament seven times between them in the last 10 years, with Gary Player in 1961 and Art Wall taking the 1959 title.

Nicklaus, who has always claimed that the Masters crown "means more to me than any tournament in the world" also said, "I've played in only six tournaments this year, but this is the first tournament for which I can say I am ready."

Reserve Call-Up Is Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford today announced he is calling to active duty about 24,500 Army, Navy and Air Force reservists. About 10,000 will go to South Vietnam.

In his first full-dress news conference, the new defense secretary said that no decision has been made at this time whether to call any additional reservists.

He also said that President Johnson intends at this time to limit U.S. forces in Vietnam to 549,500 — representing an increase of 24,500.

Clifford linked this presidential decision to limit further U.S. deployment to another major decision "to turn over the major effort gradually to the South Vietnamese."

The new Pentagon chief said the 24,500 Army, Navy and Air Force reservists being called to duty for up to 24 months are in some 88 units.

DEPLETED RESERVE

The new call-up, in part to strengthen the depleted strategic reserve of crisis-ready troops in the United States, will bring the reserve mobilization to about 39,000.

School Tax Situation in Waterford Viewed

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a five-part series on the financial problem facing Waterford Township schools. Today's questions directed to Supr. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe deal with taxes.)

Question—When will you stop this cycle of asking for more money every few years?

Answer—Increased state aid or federal funding could halt the periodic pleas for more local taxation for schools. And reform in financing Michigan schools is badly needed. Large inequalities exist among Michigan school districts, and the difficulty communities like Waterford face in trying to finance a reasonably good school program were highlighted in the recent Thomas Study authorized by the Michigan Legislature.

Our present revenue sources have not kept up with the inflationary costs that we have had to face. Increased local property taxes must come at this time to maintain a full program of education.

Q—When are taxes going down instead of up?

A—Frankly, I don't know. A serious recession could mean lower taxes through trimming of school and governmental services, but the depressed economy could make the lower tax a greater personal hardship to many because of unemployment, loss of overtime, etc.

Q—Is there any way to economize rather than raising taxes?

A—There are always ways to economize. It depends on whether economy requires too great a sacrifice of good education.

Since 85 per cent of our total budget goes to committed salaries and wages, major economies would of necessity occur in this budget area. Economy here would mean fewer teachers with larger classes, fewer maintenance people with larger loads and fewer clerical people providing smaller services.

Some economies could be effected in the 15 per cent of the budget after salaries and wages are committed. However, it must be noted that half to one-third of this 15 per cent covers fixed charges such as insurance and utilities.

Economies here would mean the elimination of equipment purchases and replacement, of in-service education, reductions in teaching supplies and materials and cur-

Dem-Backers of Humphrey Enlist Truman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A late-starting organization including former President Harry S. Truman was set up today to win the Democratic presidential nomination for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Truman was listed as an honorary chairman of the "United Democrats for Humphrey" campaign committee.

Formation of the group was announced at a news conference by Sen. Walter F. Mondale from Humphrey's home state of Minnesota.

The committee also included AFL-CIO President George Meany, James A. Farley, former Democratic National Chairman, Govs. Buford Ellington of Tennessee, and William L. Guy of North Dakota, and House Democratic Whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana as well as other present and former members of Congress.

Humphrey, who is viewed as a certain candidate, said last night "I have made up my mind" on the question but would not announce his plans until April 20 or later.

AGAINST REK. MCCARTHY

As a candidate, he would be matched against Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and another Minnesotan, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, in the race for the Democratic nomination.

Unlike Kennedy and McCarthy, who are actively campaigning, Humphrey would be foreclosed from following the Presidential primary route in quest of the nomination. Deadlines for entering primaries have passed in all but two of the states which permit them.

The Humphrey committee established today said its mission was to persuade the Vice President to declare his availability, to work for his nomination and then for his election.

Humphrey was in Winston-Salem, N.C., this morning. In a speech prepared for an audience at Wake Forest College, he did not talk of politics but of the need for all Americans — "white and black, brown and yellow, adult and child" — to join in the cause of justice for all.

Absentee Ballot Deadline Nears

Persons wishing to vote by absentee ballot in Pontiac's general election Monday have until 2 p.m. Saturday to obtain their ballots. City Clerk Olga Barkeley reminded voters today.

Absentee ballots may be used by voters when they expect to be out of town during election days, when they are ill or unable to get to the polls. Persons over 70 also can vote by absentee ballot.

The ballots can be obtained from the city clerk's office. Applications for absentee voters' ballots must be signed by the voter expecting to use them.

House Spurs Millage Change

School Aid Cut Is Killed

LANING (AP) — The House took up the Legislature's $774-million general fund school aid bill today and voted to delete a Senate provision that could have meant higher school taxes in some districts.

The Senate approved the bill yesterday but amended the House version of the complex measure to boost minimum millage requirements for fiscal 1969-70.

The House, however, knocked off the Senate amendment.

The House then sent its compromise version back to the Senate.

Elementary and secondary teachers will develop instructional guidelines for the teaching of Afro-American history under the third staff study passed by the board.

It also provides money for teachers to take a course in the contributions of minority groups and attend conferences on human rights-civil rights.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer explained that the tax allocation board makes its studies of relative needs among school districts, the townships and the county from submitted budgets.

On the basis of these studies the board reaches decisions on division among these three governmental units of the 15-mill constitutional tax limitation.

Bahama Premier Wins

NAASSAU, Bahamas (U) — A landslide election victory gave Premier Lyndon O. Pindling complete power over the Bahama Islands today and left the old white ruling structure of this British colony in ruins.

Pontiac's preliminary operating budget estimates were designed to project the costs of the present level of educational programs and services into 1968-69.

The budget restores cuts of more than $500,000 which were made in the 1967-68 budget to avoid a deficit this June.

William Downes, a long-time overseer of school budgets and former board member, advised the board they should not build up a surplus of funds to sell bonds but that they should pay for construction as they go.

In a rare appearance, he openly wondered what the board of education would do with what he said was a large amount of money from the millage increase and expected funds from the state.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Moses went up on Mt. Sinai and when he came back he had the most important law of the Jewish people — from that time to this — the 10 Commandments. The celebration of the giving of the 10 Commandments is called Shavuoth and it is discussed in the fourth of five articles about the religious festivals of spring.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

On a peak of history, near noon, the world got its canons for character — its keys to civilization.

The instructions came, like lightning, in a desolate environment.

They pointed "a way in the wilderness" of uncertainties, let loose "rivers in the desert" of distress, and amid confusion, as traced in prophetic imagery, lifted up "an ensign for the nations."

"Then let us rejoice!" goes a Jewish hymn celebrating the occasion.

It happened far back in antiquity, and ever since, it has provided the basic pattern of public order, laid down the principles of human integrity and set the "universal standards for organized society."

That landmark event is celebrated on Shavuoth, the Feast of the Weeks, the season of the giving of the decalogue — the 10 Commandments.

"A CANOPY OF SPLENDOR"

"Almighty God, o'er all supreme," the congregation chanted from a prayer of praise, the Akdamuth. "Thrice holy He whose majesty fills earth from end to end... day and night shall be His light, a canopy of splendor."

As an old rabbinic allegory tells it, the divine voice in declaring the great statutes was divided into the 70 tongues then spoken on the earth so that all mankind could receive and understand them.

For God's house is "for all peoples," declares the prophet Isaiah. "Let all the nations gather together, and let the peoples be assembled."

The observance comes late in the springtime sequence of joyful religious holidays, on the eve of summer, seven weeks after the Passover, and by the Hebrew calendar, on the 6th of Sivan, beginning this year at sundown June 2, and extending through the next day.

It also is known as the Feast of the Harvest, since it comes at the time the House Education Committee chairman, said he understood senators would agree to the House changes.

The Senate, rushing to dispose of all Senate-origin bills in time to meet a deadline tomorrow and take a week-long Easter recess, also approved a controversial measure allowing package liquor dealers to operate within 500 feet of a church or school.

Other bills receiving Senate approval would:

- Provide for suspension of licenses of drivers who fail to answer traffic citations or a court summons.

- Boost state scholarship grants to students attending both private and state colleges.

- Authorize a November public referendum on a $100 million bond issue to acquire and develop state recreational facilities.

- Require schools to open on the first Wednesday after Labor Day unless otherwise provided by the local board.

- Limit general property tax assessments to 40 per cent of true cash value.

- Permit state income tax deductions for contributions to institutions of higher education in the state.

- Allow a county clerk to require marriage license applicants to present proof of age.

Guard Released From City Alert

Except for a "modified continuation of the ban on sales of alcoholic beverages," the Pontiac area returned to normal yesterday after tension caused by the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., last Thursday.

Pontiac's Company E of the National Guard, which had been activated as a preparatory move, was released from active duty, according to a guard spokesman.

No local Army reserve units had been alerted or activated.

The week passed without major incidents in the city, according to Capt. Charles Gale, chief of Pontiac detectives. He cited only several minor incidents as possibly having any connection with the King murder.

Police, who had worked overtime hours the previous six days, have returned to normal shifts.

grain reaping is finished in Palestine, and when the first fruits ripen.

The celebration coincides, both in origin and observance, with the Christian Pentecost, marking the divine outpouring of spiritual understanding that revitalized Christ's apostles and started the church.

The two occasions correspond vividly in significance — both commemorating God's gift of guidance.

There's also another general resemblance in that just as followers of Christ were aroused on Pentecost to their obligation to carry on his mission, so the giving of the Commandments bound Israel to raise God's standards among men.

"If you will obey My voice and keep My covenant," came the divine promise to the Israelites, "you shall be My own possession among all peoples... and you shall be to Me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation."

As that Biblical covenant unfolds, God first had bestowed His grace freely in the deliverance from Egyptian slavery, making clear His redemptive power and asking nothing in return, but afterward, the Commandments set man's part in the dim era.

LIGHT IN DIM ERA

The mighty, illuminating code came in a dim era, more than 2,500 years ago, about 1,300 B.C., long before such advanced ideals had even been hinted in the predominant pagan empires of Egypt and Persia.

Historians have puzzled over how such elevated thought could have emanated so early from a comparatively meager, obscure community.

Even when the Biblical record was compiled in its present form, about 900 B.C., Israel remained a rustic, remote spot, totally overshadowed by the showy panoplies of Greece and Rome.

Yet strangely, as subsequent centuries unfolded, the old covenant worked its way, and the Commandments infiltrated the maturing governments and courts of men. Theologians call it one of the mysteries of Israel.

Her people, when the decalogue was first given, were a wandering, homeless lot. They had fled only seven weeks before the old covenant worked its way, and the Commandments infiltrated the maturing governments and courts of men. Theologians call it one of the mysteries of Israel.

Their leader, Moses, in solitude on that height as the morning sun neared noon,

RUEL E. MCPHERSON

Constable Will Run for Sheriff

Hazel Park Constable Ruel E. McPherson announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for the office of Oakland County sheriff in the August primary.

McPherson, 30, of 1729 E. Goulson, is the Democratic nominee in the 1964 election.

An amateur wrestler, McPherson, said that, during his campaign, he will stress education and physical fitness to bring the sheriff's department up to State Police standards.

Further emphasis will be placed on upgrading present jail conditions and establishing youth programs, he said.

"The rising youth crime rate can and should be combated by providing programs of a physical and educational nature for our children," said McPherson, who in 1960 and 1964 qualified for the final Olympic wrestling trials.

EIGHTH YEAR

Now serving his eighth year as constable for the Hazel Park Municipal Corp., McPherson has had specialized training in police procedures at Michigan State University and studied law enforcement at Oakland Community College.

Prior to his Municipal Court duties, McPherson was employed by Consumers Power Co. where he served as a union steward.

He was also head wrestling coach of Cranbrook High School in Bloomfield Hills and the Hazel Park Wrestling Club.

Way Is Pointed for World

in an intense experience depicted by Scripture's graphic Hebrew literary style as thunder, churning clouds, smoke, lightning and a crescendo of trumpets, received the law.

A "crown of glory," the holiday ritual calls it. It is read in synagogue services for the day:

"You shall have no other gods before Me... You shall not make yourselves graven images or... bow down to them... You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain... Remember the sabbath... Honor your father and mother... You shall not kill. You shall not commit adultery. You shall not steal. You shall not bear false witness... You shall not covet..."

Curiously, while some casual notions quibble at the prohibitive nature of some of the laws, legal authorities recognize that specific prohibitions are the most liberating judicial approach, since it restricts only at limited points, leaving the broader areas free.

CONTINUING APPLICATION

The meaning of the principles also takes on continuing application in every age, warning against narrow gods of race, state, wealth or fame, and against reducing the infinite to some small-size image of a benign grandfather, a kind of deity the great statutes long ago called dead.

The classic code, in regard to God's name, doesn't simply refer to cursword, but insists that the divine relationship be taken seriously. The sabbath injunction points to the rhythm of life, to man's need for rest and renewal, as recognized in enlightened labor practices.

Respecting parents brings out the interdependent fabric of living, that a person's development is not in isolation, but involves obligations to teachers, home and others. Not coveting means not begrudging achievement by others, but mutual encouragement of it.

Regarding adultery, the Bible is not prudish about sex, but sees its misuse as personally harmful, and maintains that love includes fidelity. This, however much violated, is the foundation of family life in all stable cultures, including polygamous ones.

The laws against lying, stealing and killing are the bedrock of civic order, with much wider moral implications when such modern evils as starvation deaths are seen as indirectly attributable to the hoarding of the affluent.

BEA Salary Schedule Is Proposed

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Education Association (BEA) has made its initial salary proposal for the 1968-69 school year to the board of education.

The new package, which BEA Executive Secretary Don Cameron contends is "very reasonable," would cost the board $1,255,000.

Richard Zweiback, director of personnel relations and head of the board negotiating team, said he felt the BEA's offer would lead to "a meaningful bargaining," while Supt. of Schools Dr. John B. Smith termed the recent first meeting "encouraging."

The board will present its counterproposal at the next meeting between the teams, scheduled for April 18. Also, the board and BEA will exchange and discuss school calendar proposals.

Birmingham's annual Easter egg hunt, sponsored by the Jaycees, will take place Saturday at Elton Park, located at Elton and E. Lincoln.

More than 60,000 candy eggs will be hidden for the hunt, which will be inaugurated at 1 p.m. by Sniffles, the dancing rabbit.

Marijuana Case Hearing Is Set

Four youths from Farmington Township charged with possession of narcotics stood mute at their arraignment yesterday and were released on $1,000 bond.

Waterford Township Justice Patrick K. Daly set examination for 1:30 p.m. April 24. The four were in a group of eight youths arrested at 1 p.m. Tuesday in a car at Orchard Lake and Northwestern, West Bloomfield Township, by Pontiac State Police.

The other four, two from Farmington Township and two from Birmingham, are below age 16 and their cases were turned over to juvenile authorities.

State Police said they found a water pipe and a substance later identified as marijuana in the car after they stopped it for investigation of a charge of speeding.

The four facing the felony charge were identified as James F. Griswold, 17, of 3247 Bennett Hill; Bruce Barton, 18, of 2885 Lorikay; Gregory A. Warren, 17, of 30183 Club House; and Thomas G. Martila, 17, of 30127 Ravenscroft.

Crossing on Ill-Fated Ferry Is Recalled by Area Couple

The capsizing of the 8,944-ton memories for an area dentist Bloomfield Township, were on the boat March 12 as it made Wellington Harbor, New Zealand, yesterday evoked Campbell, 5650 Crabtree, Christchurch on South Island to Wellington on North Island.

Detroit Budget Aims Up

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit to increase its income Michigan's largest city will tax levy was to come up for discussion today. Included in Cavanagh's budget was a general pay raise for all city employees, an increase in police manpower of more than one-third the size of the record $1.35-billion budget. This budget would be more than one-third the size of the record $1.35-billion budget. Cavanagh said the new budget, $31.6 million above the present spending program, would be financed partly through an increase in the property tax and a doubling of the 1 per cent income tax on residents. A Senate bill to allow

"It was a well-appointed boat," Mrs. Campbell recalls, "and the crew seemed proud of it."

"Cars were carried on the bottom," Mrs. Campbell said, "and there were private rooms with baths, dining rooms and lounges above."

123-M.P.H. WINDS

While the Campbells were on their month's vacation they were scheduled at one point to fly into Wellington, but the landing was diverted to Auckland because of strong winds.

It was winds of up to 123 miles an hour which caused yesterday's sea tragedy claiming at least 46 lives. The ferry with 728 aboard ran aground and capsized in one of the fiercest storms in New Zealand history.

That it happened in Wellington Harbor was hard for Mrs. Campbell to believe.

"That harbor is very well protected. It is shaped almost like a cornucopia," she said.

Bodies of 46 Recovered From Ferry

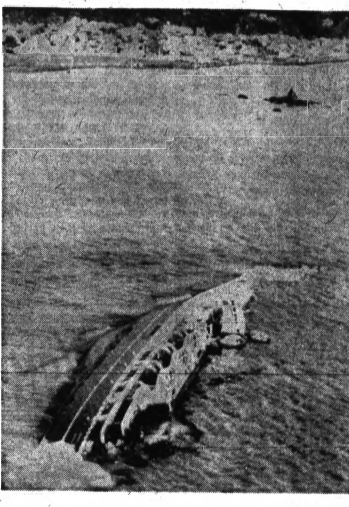

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — Police said today 46 bodies have been recovered from the ferry Wahine and only six persons are still missing. This sharply reduced earlier police estimates that the dead might reach 100 or more, but the police said there might be duplications on their lists of survivors which could increase the number of missing slightly.

The 8,944-ton ocean-going ferry hit a shoal just inside Wellington Harbor Wednesday during one of the worst storms in New Zealand's history and capsized six hours later a mile offshore. A total of 728 persons was aboard, 614 passengers and 114 crew, police said.

Of 106 persons admitted to local hospitals, 31 have been discharged. Only one hospital case, a year-old boy, was reported in serious condition. The others were suffering from shock, exposure or fractures.

WRECKAGE STREWN
The wreckage of a dozen or more lifeboats and life rafts was found strewn from Muritai Bay to Pencarrow Head near the entrance to Wellington Harbor.

Fifty skilled mountaineers spent a cold night in the foothills at the harbor entrance searching for survivors. They thought that stunned passengers coming ashore by raft might have wandered off into the hills. Other searchers concentrated on the shoreline, and boats equipped with spotlights scoured the waters.

DISASTER SCENE — The ocean-going ferryboat Wahine lies on its side just inside Wellington, New Zealand harbor where it rolled over after striking a shoal yesterday. Forty-six of the craft's 728 passengers are known dead, and six are still missing.

Postal Officials Reply to Service Complaints

By JEAN SAILE

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds" — inscription on the Main Post Office, New York City.

The motto belongs to a lot of old concepts which Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson says are no longer in vogue today, and he wishes they were.

"The devotion to duty is not the same.

The newer generation seldom has the same loyalty to the job that the older employees have," said Donaldson.

He was answering citizen complaints made in particular about distribution of mail through the Auburn Heights branch post office.

Citizens there have complained of delayed mail, one case of undelivered mail, smashed packages and irregular delivery hours.

Donaldson doesn't believe the com-

CORRECTIONS POSSIBLE

Some of the complaints are correctable, and some of them aren't, he and Royce Pawloski, Auburn Heights assistant superintendent, agree.

The case of smashed packages is almost unavoidable in this day of mechanized handling.

"A FRAGILE stamp doesn't do a whole lot of good," Donaldson admits.

Sheer volume of packages makes individual handling out of the question. A package must be properly wrapped to withstand rough treatment, the postmaster said.

The undelivered mail April 1 on Ashburnham Road in Pontiac Township was caused by not enough substitutes the authorities reported. Regulated to an 11 1/2-hour day, mail workers can be reprimanded if they exceed the quota, Donaldson said.

The old ratio of one substitute to five postal workers isn't enough, he said.

Donaldson attributed the increase in absenteeism to the Post Office's policy of hiring women and men equally and said that women tend to be absent more often.

He noted, and Pawloski affirmed, that the mail to Ashburnham was delivered shortly after 7 a.m. the next day.

ROAD CONDITIONS CITED

Irregularity in delivery hours was blamed by Pawloski on road conditions.

"A mailman who finds a road impassable — and many are these days — must return the way he came and get the other end of the road at the end of his route," he said.

Pawloski, Donaldson and Clyde T. Smith, the Pontiac Post Office customer relations man, denied that Auburn Heights mail delivery is later than that of Pontiac itself.

"The mail is sorted in Pontiac at the time Pontiac mail is sorted. It goes out to Auburn Heights already bundled for the carriers and is delivered the same day," the three agreed.

"If it were sent directly to Auburn Heights without sorting, there would be a delay," they contended.

Police-Fire Pact Is Still in Works

NOVI TOWNSHIP — Negotiations for a formal agreement between the township and Novi village for police and fire protection haven't made progress lately, reported Township Attorney Emery E. Jacques Jr. before a recent Township Board meeting.

Jacques added that he and the village attorney, Howard I. Bond, haven't met to discuss the subject for several months.

"The township is ready to go ahead," said Township Supervisor Hadley Bachert.

He explained that the Township Board and the Village Council have verbally agreed on an annual fee of $1,800 which the township would pay for village fire and police protection.

In other recent action, the Village Council has set new rates for use of the township park on the south shore of Walled Lake.

DAILY FEE

The daily fee for a trailer or tent is up from $1.50 to $2. The entrance fee for bathing and picnicking is the same at $1 a car or $4 for a seasonal ticket.

The fee hike is to help finance park improvements including installing a different septic system, graveling the roads and laying the park out into separate lots.

The council is accepting bids for blacktopping around the Township Hall.

School Bond Bids Will Be Opened in Oxford Tuesday

OXFORD — Bids for the sale of $2.5 million in construction bonds will be opened at a special meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the board of education office.

The bonds are to build a junior high school and additions to three elementary schools.

The board and cafeteria workers have ratified a new contract giving employees a 15-cent-an-hour increase and raising the minimum wage to $1.50 an hour.

The board changed Precinct 2 for Addison and Dryden voters from Rowland Hall to the Leonard Elementary School in Leonard for the June 10 school election.

Cranbrook Events

Following is a list of special events taking place at the facilities at Cranbrook on Lone Pine Road in Bloomfield Hills.

PLANETARIUM — Regular public demonstrations, Wednesday at 4 p.m. and weekends at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. The topic for the month is "Easter, Moon and the Calendar."

ATOMARIUM — Public demonstration Sunday at 3:30 p.m. or by appointment. Admission 25 cents.

SPECIAL ACTIVITIES — Because of the Easter vacation in many schools, there will be special demonstrations in both the planetarium and atomarium April 15-19.

Planetarium shows will be held at 2:30 p.m. with atomarium demonstrations at 3:30.

ACADEMY OF ART — "Metals: Germany," a display of contemporary German metal design including candlesticks, cutlery, tabernacle doors and pendants, will be exhibited from April 13-May 5. The display is circulated by the Smithsonian Institution.

In addition, a "Four School Art Exhibit," with works by students of Brookside, Cranbrook, Kingswood and the Young People's Art Center, will be shown from April 19-28.

School Official Pacts OK'd

New contracts for administrators in the Huron Valley School District have been approved by the board of education.

The contracts will now be presented to principals, assistant principals and directors. The only salary increases — amounting to 2 per cent — are those the personnel would normally receive after another year of experience, said a district spokesman.

The salary increases amount to an estimated $30,000 rise in expenditures. The district spent about $160,650 this year in salaries for principals, assistant principals and educational directors, according to figures compiled by the board office.

The annual salaries for the administrative group range from $13,028 for the lowest level secondary assistant principal to $16,918 for the highest level secondary school principal.

The board, in other recent action, accepted the resignation of Douglas E. Nichols, principal of Milford Elementary School for the past three years. Nichols said he resigned "to find employment elsewhere."

The post of assistant principal of Highland Junior High School was established by the board. The salary ranges from $12,291 to $15,429.

In previous action, the board added four special education rooms to plans for the Fourth Elementary School.

A go-ahead to design the rooms was given the architectural firm, Richard Prince and Associates, Inc., of Kalamazoo.

Costs of the construction and program operation will be financed by Oakland Schools, said Theodore Cuno, Huron Valley's director of special education.

FINAL PLANS OKAYED

No site has yet been selected for the new school.

The board also okayed final plans by the Prince firm for the additions and renovation of the Highland Junior High School estimated to cost about $300,000.

The project includes:

- Air conditioning for the administration offices.
- Construction of a gym on the south-west side to seat 720 persons.
- Remodeling and expanding existing building to include a student and staff library and conference room.

• Site work including some paving, grading and grass seeding.

The gym is expected to be completed in mid-December. The rest of the work is set for a Sept. 1 completion date.

The resignation of the assistant principal of Milford High School, Kenneth Harper, has been accepted by the Huron Valley board.

Harper, who had held the post since last July, resigned to accept a Mott Foundation Fellowship.

Rochester Educator Gets Statewide Post

ROCHESTER — Richard F. Huizenga, assistant superintendent of schools, has been named president-elect of the Michigan School Business Officials at their recent annual convention in Grand Rapids.

Huizenga has been business administrator of the Rochester system since 1949. A member of the 500-man state organization for 18 years, he has served five years on its board of directors and three years as chairman of its legislative committee.

Fire Destroys Home in Addison Township

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — Fire of undetermined cause last night destroyed a one-story frame summer home valued by its owner at $10,000.

Addison and Oxford firemen — called at 7:30 p.m. — were unable to save the home at George Hebb at 5200 Secord Lake, although a house trailer nearby was removed before it caught fire.

Mrs. Hebb said the home was partially insured.

an additional 2.75 mills yearly in debt retirement.

If all three issues are approved, voters of the district would pay a total of 30.71 mills for schools.

The terms of two board members, Lawrence Abbey and Donald Campbell, will expire at that time and Mundy noted that 4 p.m. May 11 is the deadline for filing nominating petitions for the jobs.

He said forms are available at the board of education offices, 55 Elizabeth.

Walled Lake Program

Smaller Roads to Get Attention

WALLED LAKE — Major roads in this city won't get all the attention and money as far as improvements go.

A program to shape up local roads is being planned. Details will be announced in about two months, said City Manager Royce Downey, who had recently announced the major road fix-up.

The program will probably extend over a 15-year period, Downey said. He said he is not now able to estimate total cost.

The City Council recently approved a priority list for major street improvements. Construction is to start between July 1969 and July 1970 and end in 1978.

The 8 1/2-mile project is estimated to cost $2,354,000. Eighteen per cent of this figure represents rising costs due to inflation, said Downey.

Tentative School Budget OK'd

LAKE ORION — A preliminary budget of $2,312,405 — up $228,000 from last year — has been adopted by the board of education for presentation to the County Tax Allocation Board.

The budget, according to Supt. of Schools Lewis Mundy, will balance if voters on June 10 approve an additional 3.5 mills for operating expenses.

The district is winding up the current year's budget in the black, due to a revision made last January, Mundy said.

He said the 1968-69 increase reflected additional personnel for a growing enrollment, increasing salaries and overall general expenses.

Also on the ballot June 10 is a $4.5-million bond issue for the construction of a new elementary school, additions to present schools and future site acquisition and a $600,000 bond issue for construction of a high school swimming pool.

ADDED 2.75 MILLS

The bonds are expected to cost voters

Poor Mail Service Is Cited as Water Bill Penalty Cause

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Poor mail service is one of the reasons penalties for late payment of water bills have more than doubled, says a township official.

Records show that residents paid $1,600 in fines from September through March, said George Anderson, head of the township water department.

This amount is up about 120 per cent from September 1966 through March 1967, Anderson estimated.

About 50 to 60 water bills each month don't reach the customer or reach him late, claimed Anderson. This is mostly because of "faulty mail service," he said.

A one-day, one-man investigation of the problem revealed some other difficulties.

John P. Loeffler, regional postal service officer from Royal Oak reported he checked the problem March 12 on a request from the township water department.

BILLS HELD TOO LONG

"It was just a mistake," as Loeffler described what had happened. He explained that some carriers held bills too long, waiting for residents to move into vacant homes.

"This was improper and the mail should have been returned to sender within 10 days," he said.

The result was that bills were held past the 15th of the month when they become delinquent if not paid or returned to the township water department.

Fines are levied at 10 per cent of a bill. The average household's bill per quarter is $18.

Loeffler added the carriers were attempting to make it easier for the residents who hadn't moved in.

BILLS TO BE RETURNED

Anderson reported that the post office would return about 20 bills per month, many of them late.

The service investigator explained also that problems arise because water bills are addressed to "occupant" at a certain address.

"If no one's living in the house, where should mail be delivered?"

Anderson claimed that sending bills to "occupant" is the simplest way and standard operating procedure for other area water departments.

"If the bill isn't paid, it can then be put as a lien on the property. Then we can collect the bill by retaining some property taxes," he said.

Loeffler said that another problem is that new, unoccupied homes don't have mailboxes.

Other reasons cited for causing poor service are that the post office isn't notified of street name changes by the township and that new homes often don't have street numbers on them, said Paul Beyett, postmaster of the Keego Harbor post office, one of five that serve the township.

Troy Planners Postpone Hearing on Jet-Blast Screens for Airstrip

TROY — The City Planning Commission has postponed a public hearing on the construction of jet-blast screens for the Jim Robbins Co.'s private airstrip.

City Planner George Peek said the hearing on the conditional use was tabled because none of the principals on the question were present at the recent meeting.

To be considered in the hearing is a request from the company that it be allowed to construct two screens, one at either end of the 4,200-foot runway, which runs from 14 to 15 mile between Stephenson and I-75.

The screens, of corrugated metal, would be seven feet high and 60 feet wide, and would be anchored in concrete, Peek said.

Referred to as "Type E Military Blast Fences," the screens have been proposed by the company to deflect the blast from aircraft motors and "to provide an extra degree of safety," the city planner added.

COMPLAINT RECEIVED

A number of complaints had been received from residents in the area, Peek explained, concerning the backwash from the jets.

In other recent business, the commission gave its approval to a site plan for a sixth auto dealership to be located in the city's "automotive village," located on Maple between Coolidge and Crooks.

The new firm, Harold Turner, Inc., is relocating from Birmingham.

Auburn Heights JCs Slate Annual Easter Egg Hunt Saturday

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Auburn Heights Jaycees will conduct their second annual children's Easter egg hunt at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Avondale Junior High School, 2900 Waukegan.

The hunt will be divided into three sections: preschoolers; kindergarten and first graders; and second, third and fourth graders.

Duane Carr, 3116 Waukegan, program chairman, said a live Easter bunny would be present for the games and awarding of prizes. Gold eggs, meriting special prizes, will be hidden around the grounds.

GETTING LETTERS — Postal officials of the Pontiac and Auburn Heights post offices say they appreciate it when people take the time to write them of complaints with postal service. Protest Bringing Soldiers Home

A protest movement against her son had all the others who in a letter-writing campaign. admitted the troop movement was in violation of existing policies and announced it was considering a "phase-out" plan to bring the veterans back.

The Pentagon announced yesterday that the Army has started rotating back to the U.S. 1,350 paratroopers who were redeployed to Vietnam in late February on an emergency basis.

The men are from the 3rd Brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division that had been stationed at Ft. Bragg, N. C. They were sent to Vietnam during a widespread attack on major cities.

The necessity for sending veterans back was interpreted as revealing a shortage of troops.

A woman in Holly, Mrs. Kenneth Phelps of 1124 Lambert discovered by accident that her son, Michael, 21, was being sent back to the then-secret movement.

Michael has served a solid year of combat, had been wounded and decorated and has only been back in the States nine months.

School Tax Situation Is Viewed

tailment of all but bare minimal maintenance services to name a few areas.

Q—Why should we vote more millage when we have new state and city income taxes, federal taxes are going up and property evaluations have risen in Waterford?

A—Because these tax increases will not solve the problems of the schools. Through the reassessment and growth the school district received approximately $326,000 more in operating funds in 1967-68 than in 1966-67.

By levying the remaining mill of tax authority we raised an additional $127,000.

Because the increased valuation, however, our state aid was reduced approximately $40,000 even though we now have the state income tax.

Although this amounted to a general increase in revenue of $29 a pupil, it was not enough to cover increased enrollment, increased salaries and the generally higher cost of doing business.

Our salaries are low this year as a result. The increase in assessments was known in the spring of 1967 and was used to provide for the added students and increased costs of 1967-68. It postponed the need for a millage increase by one year.

Q—What is the tax rate for Waterford Schools?

A—These rates are applied in Waterford against the state equalized valuation which appears on your tax bills:

For debt for buildings and sites 8.0 mills
For operation (allocated) 8.6 mills
For operation (voted) 15.0 mills

Total 31.6 mills

The voted 15 mills for operation expires in one more year. This must be renewed or the district would have to close its schools.

Q—How much of my property tax bill supports schools?

A—Waterford Schools will receive 71 per cent of the property taxes specified in the tax bills sent out in December. However, one-fourth of these moneys are for construction.

The breakdown on state equalized valuation is as follows:

Waterford Schools 31.60 mills
Waterford Township 4.50 mills
Oakland County 5.65 mills
Oakland Community College 1. mill

Oakland Intermediate Schools 1.70 mills

Total 44.45 mills

Q—How about rising assessments? Some home owners contend that their assessments and come within the next two or three years.

A—There are some helps available to older low-income families now. Soldiers and sailors are entitled to some property tax exemptions. And a part of our state income tax is forgiven to the extent we pay property taxes.

Yet I believe further helps are needed. I am deeply concerned for the fixed-income family in times of inflation. Our current exemptions are too modest and don't even reach some low-income families.

I believe we should collect all or at least half of the school tax in the summer, too; this would help many people. Some of these helps should be part of the solution to the school financing problem which must come within the next two or three years.

Red Hot Pepper!

David Lawrence Says:

Riot Conspiracy Is Suggested

WASHINGTON — Police from one end of the country to the other are baffled by the riots that have swept more than 100 cities and towns during the last few days. Arson, vandalism and looting have occurred in a city simultaneously that previous planning seems to have been involved.

LAWRENCE

Though government authorities say they have no "evidence of a conspiracy," law-enforcement agencies concede that nothing like the orgy of crime and destruction which has emerged in the past week has ever been witnessed in America.

In some respects it resembles guerrilla warfare. The formula has been to provoke disorders in one section of a city, and, when police and firemen move in, the looting and setting of fires with gasoline bombs are promptly started in another section.

The originators of the arson have been able to escape. The assumption now is that the arsonists were ready to start the fires at any time an occasion arose which they could use as an excuse for their action.

What most Americans, both Negro and white, are puzzled about is the renewal of disturbances in places which were thought to have been quieted down.

On Tuesday, arsonists set more than 100 fires to homes and stores in the very same Negro district in Newark, N.J., where the riots occurred last summer. Hundreds were again left homeless, and stores were looted.

The mayor said that "most of the fires were well-planned and well-organized" by arsonists.

Some experts in guerrilla warfare claim that the Communists have always adopted a similar technique in smaller countries.

Nobody in the Department of Justice or in the local police departments, however, has come forth with any charge that there has been foreign intrusion.

The disturbances on many of the college campuses have been regarded as "spontaneous." But it is well known that some students have been subverted by Communist agents and aroused to take rebellious action.

It requires a certain amount of planning to bring about the riots and to set the fires which have caused tens of millions of dollars of damage in the past week.

Few arrests have been based on a charge of conspiracy.

People generally are beginning to suspect that sooner or later facts will become available to confirm that 110 cities in the United States would never have been victimized by arsonists and looters if there had been no concerted effort in certain areas.

Violence can be stimulated by inflammatory speeches. While federal authorities say they have no evidence of a connection between speeches that have threatened disorder and the subsequent disturbances, more and more people are beginning to believe that some agents of subversion have been busily engaged in supplying guns and giving instructions on how to make and use Molotov cocktails.

Various marches and demonstrations have been scheduled and announced for the spring and summer of 1968. A series of disorders far more sensational than any witnessed last year is still expected.

Both federal and state troops have been mobilized in large numbers.

Bob Considine Says:

Days Would Be Trying for King Had He Lived

NEW YORK — Had he lived, these would have been trying days for Martin Luther King.

If his second Memphis march had gotten out of hand as did the first, and if his march on Washington had backfired, he would have reaped a harvest of ridicule and scorn.

But if both had come off well, there would have been no longer any question of his preeminence in the civil rights struggle.

His control of the essentially explosive issue would have been proved under the crossfire of red-necked segregationists and the young Negro criminals who fed and looted like jackals on the periphery of the man's orderly zeal.

Success in Memphis and Washington would have done much to cool the Rap Brown, Stokely Carmichael and others who, because of Dr. King's assassination, have now been given a free ticket to wage civil war in the streets of America.

The spectacle of the nation's capital lying under a pall of smoke from fires set by young Negro vandals shocked not only the country but allies overseas. Nothing like that had happened to Washington since the British sacked the place in the War of 1812.

AWFUL IRONY
The awful irony of these looting and burnings is that the chief sufferers are so often law-abiding, hard-working Negro shopkeepers.

The stores of the ghettos are the first to be struck because they are closest to the core of the emotion.

A life's work, years of sacrifice and savings, go up in smoke at the hands of punks who never had anything in common with the great man, Martin Luther King, who rose from their midst like a messiah.

Martin Luther King should have been laid out in state at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, at the feet of the graven, sorrowing figure of the Emancipator.

It would have been fitting and proper. Hundreds of thousands would have had a last opportunity to bid him farewell and pray that all that was good in him will live on and spread like another and updated Gospel.

There, at Lincoln's feet, he had known his finest hour. There he had proved to all the world what he wanted to prove again this week in Memphis and later in the month in Washington: That Negroes can demonstrate with dignity in the face of often distasteful odds.

He proved it gloriously on Aug. 28, 1963, the day of his still-spine-tingling "I have a dream" speech.

Voice of the People:

Pontiac Resident Recalls Meeting With Dr. King

In a small upstairs room in the Waldron Hotel, ten or 12 local men ate and talked with a distinguished out-of-town guest. That guest was Martin Luther King. He had come to Pontiac to speak at the Trinity Baptist Church and had agreed to meet with the small group to discuss the recently completed Montgomery boycott.

What is a man like who takes upon himself the burden of fighting an entire social system? He was brilliant. His understanding and his reasoning in support of his own ideas were detailed and complete. He was eloquent not only as a platform speaker but as a conversationalist and teacher. He seemed to have complete humility and self-confidence. There was an air of melancholy, perhaps even loneliness about him, and although he had great personal warmth, he rarely smiled.

This great man who saw clearly the evils in our society, and worked to expose them and to stir the conscience of all Americans, accomplished miracles in 12 or 13 short years. His achievements were made in the face of the indifference and apathy of hundreds of millions of people to inequities in employment, education, public accommodations. They were made despite bitter opposition of many toward any attempts to change oppressive discriminatory housing patterns.

May his death reawaken the conscience of all of us, shake us out of our lethargy, strip away our insensitivity and dedicate us to the building of the kind of America for which he died.

More Letters Discuss Dr. King's Death

The brutal, senseless slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. should cause every Christian in this country to search his heart and erase every bit of prejudice. Where there is indifference, replace it with genuine concern and love of Christ died for all people of all races. Why is it that some have to pay such a high price to gain what should be theirs simply because they, too, are Americans? Why should the bravest die for a cause that should not even exist in this country?

It is difficult for me to understand all this because I was never exposed to the evil of prejudice until I came to America. I have seen many of my ideals crumble under the harsh reality of life in a country divided by color lines. I still love America but I find it more difficult to be proud of being an American. This is not just a racial problem, it is a moral one and it cannot be solved as long as so many "good Christians" and other moralists continue to close their hearts and minds to the plight of their fellow Americans.

SUZANNE BISHOP
3296 COOLIDGE HIGHWAY

More than 1900 years ago the Prince of Peace was nailed to a rugged cross where he died an agonizing death. There was darkness over all the earth, the sun was darkened, the veil of the temple was rent. The Roman Empire did not have to call out legions to quell rioting, burning, looting and murder. When Mahatma Gandhi of India, an apostle of non-violence, was murdered in a riotous, looting, burning, murder did not follow his death. The apostles of nonviolence do not incite men to riot. Are there too many in the U.S. always looking for an excuse to create violence? Could be.

IRENE S. MORRIS

As a concerned white citizen, I apologize to the Negro people of the Pontiac area for the way we have treated them. Pontiac is a segregated city with little apparent understanding and contact between the black and white people. Even the death of such a great man as Martin Luther King Jr. will have little effect on race relations unless the white man can overcome his fears and prejudices against the Negro. I admonish my fellow white to stop being afraid of what the black man might do to him and think about what he can do for the black man.

I suggest involving our young people in work projects where they would assist the Negro youth to develop recreational facilities and beautify some of our poorer neighborhoods around the City. "Project Pontiac" is a local organization whose purpose is to teach the Negro and white people to work together on such tasks as painting, cleaning up homes. The project is supported primarily by donations of time, food and equipment and is open to all interested high school and college-age youth.

MICHAEL S. DUGGLEBY

We offer the world peace, liberty and equality. We talk about our great country which gives opportunity to all. We're involved in a war to bring our way of life to another "less fortunate" nation. Our way of life: a man who preached non-violence and equality is shot down, curfew and national guards must protect us from looting, burning and sniping fire. Our nation mourns a great man's passing. Where was that nation when he was alive, when we could have helped him lead the way to nonviolence and equality? Shouldn't we clean up our own back yard before condemning the rest of the world?

Discusses Property Rezoning for Junkyard

The people of Independence Township should know that it was Judge Robert Templin who recommended the rezoning of the Independence Township Board to have property rezoned for the purpose of a junkyard. It is hard to understand why he made this decision after having heard objections from the adjoining property owners, whose properties have now depreciated in valuation. What has become of our civic pride when elected officials can bring such unsightly junkyards into our Township and County in spite of the protests of citizens?

Hasty Shot at Peace Move Backfires

There is something to be said for less than instantaneous communication.

Take the case of Sen. J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT, who right now must be looking rather fondly on the days when news dispatches from Washington were disseminated to the rest of the Nation at stagecoach speed.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and leading critic of the Vietnam war, congratulated the President immediately after his speech in which he announced a limitation of the bombing of North Vietnam.

The next day, when it became apparent that the limitation was not as complete as everyone thought, Fulbright was one of the first to hop on the President and decry his move as "of no consequence." News services carried his flat prediction that it would not lead to peace talks.

Two days after that, of course, Hanoi did respond favorably and FULBRIGHT was forced to admit he had spoken too soon, as he manfully addressed himself to a generous serving of crow.

Perhaps there is a lesson for all of us in what the senator's wife told him: "You talk too much."

Perhaps all of us ought to button up our opinions for the duration of the current period of uncertainty, responding neither with unrealistic enthusiasm nor unwarranted pessimism in reaction to the ups and downs, advances and retreats that almost certainly will accompany the diplomatic maneuvering now under way.

Taxpayers Support Struggling Artists Willy-Nilly

The House is to be commended for having recently axed an authorization for the national arts and humanities endowments from $135 million for two years to $11.2 million for one.

But is also points up, at a time when the Nation is struggling with appallingly high deficits, the utter madness of authorizing ANY Government funds for such purposes.

By what authority does the Federal government assert power to give away the taxpayers' money to poets, novelists, actors and dancers?

In the past fiscal year, the National Endowment for the Arts has given away $10,000 grants each to:

• A poet to complete a new book of poetry;

- A writer to undertake a new book of poetry and a novel;
- A rhymster for production of a new book of poems and a sonnet sequence;
- A linguist to further certain translations from the Italian.

Other grants totaling $110,000 went to 11 novelists who, it may be presumed, were fervently at work incubating "the Great American Novel."

A list of these grants, not only in the arts but also in the humanities, could be much extended. The question has to be raised again and again: What possible business is it of the Federal government, under the Constitution, to use tax funds for these purposes? How can this selective philanthropy be justified?

Russia Adopts 'Capitalistic' Five-Day Week

After 50 years of promises to its citizens, the Soviet Union has caught up in one more respect with those beastly, worker-exploiting capitalists in other countries.

As a present to the people during the celebration of the golden anniversary of the Revolution last year, a five-day week was instituted. Actually, it is a 41-hour week and applies to only 75 per cent of the Russian work force.

Nevertheless, the result has been a mess, according to the official party newspaper Pravda, which charges that the "excessively hasty" changeover has caused waste, confusion and damage to production in many industries.

Though the five-day week has reportedly raised worker morale and increased productivity in general, Pravda laments that numerous factories are loafing along during most of the month, then racing at the end to fulfill production quotas, with accompanying sacrifice of quality.

In some cases, the shortened work week has been nullified by the need for overtime to make up lost output.

Finished goods pile up at Saturday-closed factories and delays in unloading parts and raw materials have been experienced. People have also complained about weekend closing of stores and curtailment of bus, train and other services.

Things will work out, of course — as soon as the bureaucrats who decreed this onset of leisure decide what, where, when and how to tell the lucky Russians to cope with it.

McCarthy Makes Metamorphosis

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON — Two primaries and two candidates ago, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy wryly remarked that his Democratic campaign for the White House was taking "a controlled fall." He doesn't joke about it that way now.

For the Minnesota Democrat has experienced victory, has sampled the prospect that what once seemed a futile gesture could actually lead him to the presidency.

Where once he spoke of an effort to change the course of a Democratic administration on war in Vietnam, now McCarthy talks of making his party's race against former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the front running candidate for the Republican nomination.

The metamorphosis began with New Hampshire's startling primary verdict on March 12: a 42 per cent vote for McCarthy, 20 of 24 Democratic convention votes for him.

The two candidates followed, one in each direction. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., entered the race March 16, and McCarthy has been taunting him ever since as a tardy arrival.

And President Johnson stepped aside on March 31.

Then came McCarthy's April 2 Wisconsin primary landslide, a 57 per cent share of the vote.

Kennedy wasn't on the ballot there, but he will be in Indiana on May 7. And McCarthy has acknowledged the primary tests may prove more difficult to his cause.

But he insists he will wage to the end — the Democratic National Convention in Chicago — the campaign he announced on Nov. 30.

MAJOR SHIFT

And the major shift, from an effort to focus internal Democratic debate on Vietnam policy to one designed to win the White House, already has occurred.

It was, perhaps, best signaled by McCarthy's nationwide television address from Milwaukee on April 1, delivered in his familiar low-key style.

"This effort is really no longer, if it ever was one, which was concerned simply with raising issues," McCarthy said. "It was never just an educational program, although some of the critics of my effort in the early stages suggested that that was really all that it could be.

"This is my role today, this is what I am — a candidate for the nomination of the Democratic Party for the presidency of the United States of America."

'NO NEED'

This was the man who, three months earlier, had said that if Robert Kennedy would challenge Johnson "there would be no need for me to try."

Announcing his own candidacy, McCarthy had acknowledged that Kennedy might prove the ultimate beneficiary. If Kennedy were to step into the campaign, McCarthy had said on Nov. 30, "I don't know whether it would be a question of stepping aside."

"It might be less voluntary than that," he said.

But now, McCarthy says, there is no basis for any joint effort with Kennedy. "I don't know what we have to get together on now," he says. "The President is gone and the policy is changing."

Bell Greeting Is a Reminder

"Directory Assistance" is the new greeting from the operator answering calls from Pontiac area telephone users who dial information.

The change from "information" was made to help reduce requests for telephone numbers readily available in the directory, according to Charles B. Woodhead, local Michigan Bell Telephone Co. public relations manager.

Woodhead said the new greeting will serve to remind callers that the number they want probably is in their recently distributed directory.

On the average, about three out of every four calls to information are for numbers listed in the directory.

"The time spent by an operator looking up and repeating telephone numbers already in the directory should be devoted to helping those people who must call information. People, for instance, who can't read or see well, those who need new numbers not yet printed in the directory, or those calling from a telephone where there might not be a directory.

Nationwide, calls to information have doubled in the past 10 years, while the total for all calls has increased by only 50 per cent. Currently these calls to information constitute about 45 per cent of all operator contacts with phone customers.

Couple Hunts Headstone Art as a Hobby

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Dickran Tashjian have found a lively hobby in visiting graveyards all over New England to add to their extensive collection of funerary art. Using black crayons and pieces of felt, they "rub" headstone designs onto tissue paper.

The couple is interested only in gravestones of the years between 1800 and 1880, a period in which they feel this type of art was a clear and imaginative reflection of the mores of the people, with every carving different.

"After 1880, the symbol on stones became more or less stereotyped with the willow tree and urn-type thing," Tashjian points out.

"Before that the carver's own imagination, the wishes of the family, and the influence of certain symbolic images of inter-related and every headstone is different from every other."

The significance of Mr. and Mrs. Tashjian's research was recognized recently by the Rhode Island Historical Society, which held an exhibition of their Rhode Island headstone rubbings.

Mustang May Have Been Assassin's Getaway Car

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — feet of the doorway to the second-floor rooming house where police said the assassin waited and shot King as he stood on the balcony of a motel across a rear street.

The killer was believed to have walked out of the Main Street entrance to the rooming house, turned south and dropped the murder weapon in front of a business firm next door.

MAN SEEN

Guy Canipe, owner of the shot a week ago today.

Both vehicles were within 100 firm, said he saw the young white man drop the package with Arkansas tags and sped away.

The second Mustang, parked north of the rooming house entrance, also left the scene near the time of the shooting.

Police said they would investigate reports that a supposed police chase in northeast Memphis showed seven calls in 12 minutes from a lieutenant's car in the northeast section of the city have been a decoy to allow the killer to escape.

The lieutenant said Tuesday he did not make the calls. This led to speculation that someone other than police may have sent out two miles southwest of King's motel.

to draw officers away from the escape route.

The Mississippi state line is about 10 miles directly south of the shooting scene, and the bridge leading to Arkansas is about two miles southwest of King's motel.

Although Surprising Gains Possible

China Still Trails in Science

LONDON (UPI) — China set a world record for speed in science in progressing from atom bomb to hydrogen bomb in two years, but it will be a long time before it ranks among the nations blazing new trails in science.

This is the general opinion of four French scientists who, at separate times, have moved freely about China visiting research establishments and talking to professors, and students. A summary of their reports appears this month in Science Journal.

Coupled with the cautious estimate that China is 10 years from the achievements in quantity and quality of a world power is a warning that science in a vast nation of 700 million might explode unpredictably as it scouts among its people for scientific talent.

Prof. Pierre Piganiol cited the case of Prof. Tsai Tzu-Chuan, who was a glass worker when he became interested in electroluminescence and now fashions with his own hands what are probably the most powerful lamps in the world.

The Chinese feat in cutting production of an H-bomb to two years against the seven the United States needed for the same process is another hint of China's potential. And so is the achievement of Prof. Wang of Shanghai University, who in 1965 announced the first total artificial synthesis of a complete protein — insulin.

WOULD BE PRIZE WINNER

"If Prof. Wang were not Chinese, he would certainly be a Nobel Prize winner," Prof. Piganiol said.

The other French scientists were Charles Sadron, a biologist, and Jean Cantacuzene and Georges Ourisson, both chemists.

Piganiol said that in some respects China is scientifically underdeveloped. At the Academy of Agriculture in Peking, he saw rudimentary sowing machines alongside "incredibly sophisticated electronic devices for measuring the acid and base content of soil."

"On the whole," Ourisson commented, "Laboratory equipment leaves much to be desired."

Sadron said most of the Chinese scientific successes so far have been achieved with scanty means but with a great deal of intelligence.

The scientists noted that the older generation of Chinese scientists is apt to have been educated in the United States, Japan or Europe. For example, Dr. Tsien Hsue-shen, who heads the Chinese rocket team, was a professor at the California Institute of Technology.

Working with them is the new generation, which owes nothing to foreign training.

Junior Editors Quiz on PARTRIDGES

QUESTION: What is the difference between the partridge, the quail, and the bobwhite?

ANSWER: These birds are often confused, being differently used in different places. These are all stout-bodied birds related to chickens. The word partridge originated in the Old World.

In our country, two main kinds of bird are called partridge. In southern and some western places, the word means the smaller bird elsewhere called quail or bobwhite. In the northeastern U.S., it means the larger ruffed grouse. We illustrate these two types.

The bobwhite or quail is a most attractive bird whose cheerful call is known to most of us. The plump little bobwhite is the farmer's friend, since it eats mostly weed seed or pestiferous insects.

It is also prized for food and is a favorite game bird. (There are other kinds of quail, such as the handsome California quail, with plumelike feathers on the head.)

The ruffed grouse is a big bird, about 18 inches long. It lives in northern woods. During the mating season, the male makes a drumming sound by vibrating his wings. He elevates the dark feathers around his neck and spreads his handsome tail feathers, putting on the display shown in our picture.

25 Picket IBM Offices

MIDLAND (AP) — About 25 "IBM trade is Red aid," and persons picketed IBM Corp. offices in Midland Wednesday, protesting the proposed sale of IBM computers to Soviet satellite nations.

The group said they were from Young Americans for Freedom and were part of a nationwide YAF demonstration against IBM computer sales to Iron Curtain countries.

The pickets carried signs saying, "Whose side are you on?" to IBM.

A Berkley youth was sentenced yesterday to 2½ to 9 years in the state prison for kidnaping an 8-year-old boy three months ago.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer ordered the prison term for Byron Lee Hoffmeister, 20, of 2327 Bacon.

Hoffmeister also was sentenced to a 2½-to-5-year prison term for aggravated assault.

Shut Hospital Is Sued Again

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — A damage suit filed in Macomb County Circuit Court Wednesday became the fourth brought to trial against Dr. Stanford Stone and the Fairwood Hospital of Warren.

Mrs. Lucille Dischner of Warren filed the suit, which alleges that doctors at the hospital performed unnecessary surgery on her in 1966.

The hospital was closed in the fall of 1966 after 12 staff members were accused by authorities of practicing medicine or nursing without licenses.

Senate Changes Income Tax Law

LANSING (UPI) — Changes in the state's new income tax act were approved Wednesday in a bill passed by the Senate.

The bill allows retroactive exemptions from payments to state pension plans, including university employees. The projected cost to the state of the provision was put between $600,000 to $1 million.

The bill further provides that landlords, on request, give tenants certification of rent paid enabling the tenants to claim deductions. Presently, the landlord is not compelled to do so and can claim the deductions for himself.

"Who's in control?"

Most of us like to feel that we're "in the driver's seat." But what happens when, for one reason or another, we lose control of our experience?

In this public lecture, Charles W. Ferris, an experienced Christian Science practitioner, shows how we can take control of our experience by submitting to the perfect control of God.

In three actual and vivid experiences he tells how health was restored, a business career saved, and human relationships corrected, all when the individuals involved were willing to submit to the perfect will of God.

Admission is free.

Everyone is welcome.

Designers Give Progress Report

Resource Center Setup Told

Pontiac's elementary school Human Resources Center is being designed to focus on individualized education, with new use of classroom space, its designers said last night.

A progress report on planning for the $3.8-million complex, to be built east of city hall and the school administration building, was given to the board of education by Urban Design Associates (UDA) of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The proposed center will serve all the pupils of McConnell, Central and Baldwin schools and parts of Wilson, McCarrall, Twain and Longfellow schools.

Bernard Berkin of UDA, a former principal in Chicago, said a unique aspect of the project would be the approach toward individualized education.

Pontiac School Affairs

He said UDA's preliminary architectural plans would encompass mass education for about 2,200 children and at the same time meet individual needs.

NEW KIND OF ARCHITECTURE

"We are planning a new kind of architecture and use of teaching space," explained Raymond Gindroz of UDA.

Conventional classrooms will be out. Small, flexible classroom areas with lots of open spaces will be in. There would be practically no walls.

The curriculum will be based on free movement of students from one instructional area to another, according to Gindroz.

Gindroz proposed that up-and-down sliding blackboards and book cases that move could be used to convert larger rooms into small class areas. This would eliminate wasted space, he said.

Separate class areas could include spaces for discussion, remedial reading, project work of individual units or study, for example.

MULTILEVEL COMPLEX

It would be a multilevel complex of buildings, rolling with the terrain. Ceiling heights would vary from seven to 14 feet.

Both UDA representatives said discipline problems have been found to be minimal in such an open-space arrangement.

"If a kid sees he's involved in so many activities (in the instructional areas), he'll know he counts," Berkin commented.

Other proposed features are continuous progress of students — no grade levels, with pupils progressing at their own rates — cooperative teaching and a carpeted building.

UDA's proposals have not been adopted by the fire marshal or board of education. The firm is meeting with teachers today to discuss the design.

PURCHASE PLAN SCRAPPED

In other business concerning school facilities, the board tabled a recommendation to purchase a two-classroom transportable unit for Whittier Elementary School because of opposition from the audience.

The board also praised the work of parents and children at Herrington Elementary School for working Sunday to clean up the school, damaged by a $70,000 fire, in order to have it open Monday.

Fees for Summer School Increased for Nonresidents

Out-of-district pupils who attend Pontiac's summer school will be paying higher fees this summer, while principals and teachers will get raises of 50 cents an hour.

The board of education approved these changes last night to reduce an expected summer school deficit of about $9,000.

Pupils residing outside the school district will pay increases of 10 per cent over last year. The new rates are:

- Elementary — $33 for a five-week term.
- Secondary (six weeks) — $27.50 for two hours of instruction; $38.50 for four hours and $55 for six hours.
- Instrumental music —

Fees for school district students remain unchanged.

New salaries will be:

• Junior high school principal — $650 per hour for a five-hour day.

PRESENTED FIGURES

• Teachers — $5.50 per hour. Senior high school teachers who teach more than four hours per day will be paid $6.50 per hour beyond four hours.

Asst. Supt. William Lacy presented figures which showed Pontiac had among the lowest salaries and student fees in 1967.

A deficit of $3,102 was recorded in 1967 with 1,015 students. The deficit was $5,550 in 1966 with 1,157 students.

Concerning another program, a report was heard that 314 preschool children are attending six Head Start centers. Two-thirds of the children are Negroes.

The program, which resumed March 11, will run to June 13. A summer program will be held at four elementary schools.

Relieve Tension of Towel Roller

When tension on the paper towel holder makes it difficult to remove the paper towels without tearing them, you can lessen the tension with a dowel rod run through the towel core.

Use a rod just long enough to spread holder ends slightly, removing some of the pressure. Then you will find that the roller will not tear the paper towels.

Two Principals Are Transferred

Two Pontiac elementary school principals were transferred to other schools for 1968-69 by the board of education last night.

Principalships at five elementary schools are yet to be filled by the school board for next school year.

Lester Gripenberg of Franklin

Elementary School will be principal of Rogers Elementary School and Richard Goodwin of Owens Elementary School will go to the new elementary school next to Lincoln Junior High School.

Schools to get new principals next year are Bagley, Franklin, Central, Irving and Owen.

Principals at these schools are taking a sabbatical leave or are retiring.

In a related item, Terrill Taylor, sixth grade teacher at Frost Elementary School and representative of the Black Educators, asked for a progress report from the board of their March 13 demands that "existing vacancies in the predominantly black schools be filled by competent black administrators."

UNDER CONSIDERATION

Board President Monroe Osmun told him that their demands are being taken under consideration.

In addition, Taylor proposed: "That competent black administrators, who will relate to the positive aspects of blackness, identify with and are accountable to the children and community and will adopt a realistic approach to the education of black children, replace administrators in schools that service a high influx of black children.

"The recruitment and placement of more competent black administrators and teachers in the other schools which will promote a deeper awareness of black people and counteract the racist philosophy of superiority."

In another personnel item, two members of the school board's Board of Canvassers have resigned.

Charles Buck, 2215 Hammond Lake, a Republican, resigned for personal reasons and Leo Zadosko, 2455 Walce, a Democrat, because he is moving out of the district.

Replacements, one from each political party, are expected to be named May 15. The vacant terms expire at the end of 1971.

Superintendent Hit by Black Educators

A half-dozen Pontiac teachers and new personnel in the school in the new Black Educators system," Terrill Taylor, a organization bombarded the board of education last night with questions and reprimands.

Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer. They criticized Whitmer for not letting school out Monday to mourn the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Pontiac schools were closed Tuesday.

As it turned out, most south side schools were closed by noon Monday because Negro teachers either didn't show up for work or trickled out of school in the morning.

"Perhaps we made a few mistakes during this time of crisis," replied Board President Monroe Osmun. "We thought we were doing the right thing."

Whitmer also was charged with announcing Tuesday's closing too late and not making a public statement on the tragedy. Whitmer said he was not invited to make a statement.

WHITE RACISM

"The finding of the Kerner Report, as exemplified by the tragic murder of Dr. Martin Luther King, that white racism is the basic cause of all our ills precipitates us to insist that good published instructional materials in secondary schools. It was the last in a series of three reports.

and new personnel in the school in the new Black Educators system," Terrill Taylor, a

He also recommended that contributions of Negroes be included in all grades and that Jefferson Junior High School not be phased out.

In a related item, the board of education promised that a policy statement requiring that Negro contributions be taught by teachers would be forthcoming.

Dr. Robert Turpin, the lone Negro on the board, said a study guide to be prepared this summer by teachers on Negro history would be an important step.

ON THEIR OWN

"Teachers have been left too much on their own (in teaching about Negroes)," he commented.

The comments came after a report was given on the use of multiethnic instructional materials in secondary schools. It was the last in a series of three reports.

Wesley Maas, director of secondary education, told the board there has been a lack of good published instructional materials in secondary schools. It was the last in a series of three reports.

Rights Bill Called Tribute

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., floor manager and chief strategist of the civil rights bill in the Senate, offered a suggestion to cartoonists Wednesday after the measure was passed by the House.

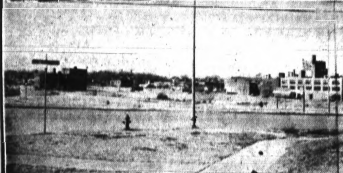

"The symbol of the nation's conscience is dead," Hart said. "But, happily, conscience itself appears alive and well."

CAT POWER — Mechanic Robert Schultz, working under a car owned by Clare Inwood, discovered one catpower had been added to the motors' horsepower. The kitty, a stranger to Inwood, apparently crawled into a cubbyhole back of the headlights for warmth during the night.

Over 800 Dead Reds Found at Khe Sanh

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. military sources say American military patrols probing out of the once-besieged Khe Sanh base have found more than 800 North Vietnamese bodies, most of them unburied.

The sources cited this as an indicator of how badly the Communist troops who once surrounded the outpost suffered from U.S. artillery and air bombing.

They said the 829 bodies found since April 1 represent a preliminary count and that they expect a much higher total after U.S. forces comb the mountainous area.

Many bodies were in mass graves but most were unburied.

SIGN OF BREAKDOWN
This was interpreted by the government sources as a sign the Communists suffered a command breakdown and possibly morale problems toward the end of the more than two-month siege, which was lifted last week.

Military officials disputed the view, expressed in some diplomatic quarters, that the North Vietnamese voluntarily lifted the siege to emphasize Hanoi's willingness to talk peace.

"He was hurt," said one senior military officer of the enemy. The officer contended the Communists were forced by heavy U.S. firepower to give up the siege.

Intelligence sources said the Communists began leaving about March 27 or March 28. President Johnson announced March 31 a limitation on U.S. bombing over North Vietnam as a means of encouraging Hanoi to agree to peace talks.

Officials estimate there are up to 7,000 Communist troops in the Khe Sanh area, compared with an estimated high of 20,000 at the height of the siege.

At least one North Vietnamese division is believed to have pulled back into Laos and a second to have withdrawn over the demilitarized zone into North Vietnam.

There were reports during the siege that the North Vietnamese were building extensive entrenchments and artillery emplacements in the jungle and hills around the isolated Khe Sanh base.

But military authorities said reports of patrols sent out since the siege was lifted do not show evidence of as much digging-in as had been believed.

Cuts in IRS Jobs Called Costly to Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new jobs requested by his service to take on additional 15 deadline and upwards of 3 nation's chief tax collector, says agency over the last five years. The House earlier this week approved an appropriation bill which permits IRS to hire about 1,000 fewer persons than it requested for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

Sheldon S. Cohen, commissioner of Internal Revenue, said the cuts in IRS jobs by Congress in the number cause of the inability of the tax returns by next week's April budget.

Anne Ford Reveals Plans to Remarry

NEW YORK (AP) — Anne McDonnell Ford, former wife of automobile industrialist Henry Ford 2nd, said Wednesday she is engaged to Deane Johnson, a California lawyer.

Mrs. Ford of New York City said a November wedding is planned here.

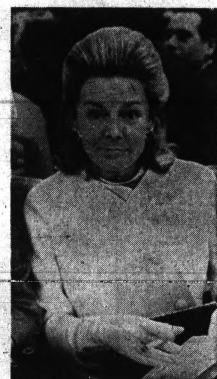

The Fords startled society circles in August, 1963, when they announced a legal separation after 23 years of marriage.

In 1964, Mrs. Ford, a Catholic, divorced Henry Ford in an Idaho divorce court on grounds of mental anguish.

A week later he married Mrs. Maria Cristina Vittore, Austin, an Italian divorcee. Both were immediately excommunicated by the Catholic Church.

By her first marriage Mrs. Ford has three children, Mrs. Charlotte Niarhos, Mrs. Glancario Uzelli and Edsel Ford. Johnson formerly was married to Jane Pendergast of California and has one son, Deane Jr., age 14.

He is a senior partner in the law firm of O'Melveny and Myers, with offices in Los Angeles, Beverly Hills and Paris. The couple plan to live in Bel Air, Calif.

Mrs. Jerome A. Bennett, Bloomfield Hills, models a shift she has made for the May Fair; one booth will be devoted to selling similar dresses. Amusing textured animal wall plaques and gay summer purses are other offerings for the benefit event which is open to the public.

Young Voice of Experience Tells 'It Like It Is Via This Sad Message

By ABGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I teach a class in our high school called "Preparation For Living."

Four years ago, a student brought an item from your column to class. We discussed it, and later it was posted on the bulletin board.

Many students copied it. Abby, teachers and mothers can talk themselves blue in the face, but no one can get through to young people like "one of their own" who has lived through the experience and learned from it.

The letter I refer to was signed "A SORRY SAILOR" and told the sad story of what can happen when teen-agers indulge in sex. I am enclosing that letter with the hope that you will run it again. Thank you.

DEAR ABBY: Over the years I have often wanted to give you a piece of my mind about your old-fashioned attitude towards sex and teen-agers. However, I now know that you were right and I only wish I had listened to you.

A year ago, while still in high school, I started dating a girl two years younger than I. We fell head over heels in love. Our parents were friends and were overjoyed. They gave us complete freedom.

When I would go to her house, her folks would go to bed early so we could be alone. At first we just cuddled on the couch and watched TV.

It was wonderful. We were together, alone, sometimes as often as six nights a week. We started necking a little, and then all the time.

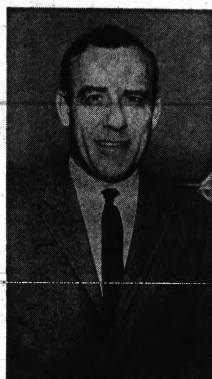

Miss Stein to Wed Joseph H. Kavanagh

Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Stein of Bloomfield Village announce the engagement of their daughter, Justina Mary to Joseph Hayes Kavanagh. Vows are slated for May 8.

Miss Stein is a graduate of Manhattanville College in Purchase, N.Y. She has also studied at the University of Florence, Italy.

Her fiancé, son of Judge and Mrs. Thomas G. Kavanagh of Birmingham, is presently at the University of Michigan where he is working on his doctorate.

His undergraduate studies were taken at Notre Dame University.

Country Fair Atmosphere at All-Day Event

With less than a month before the May fair, the members of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Auxiliary are still completing handmade items for sale.

Mrs. George Stephens and Mrs. John Kleene are cochairmen of the all-day event at the Harsdale Road home of Mrs. Frank Audette.

Weather permitting, the booths will be set up on the lawn with opening set for 10 a.m. Closing time is 5 p.m.

Workshops during the winter at the Bloomfield Hills home of Mrs. Warren H. Eierman have resulted in shifts, table linens, wall hangings, psychedelic flowers and stuffed animals.

Mrs. Joseph Genovesi, chairman of the art booth, is rounding up original paintings, sculpture and other art objects from auxiliary artists and interested outsiders.

All proceeds of the fair go for hospital equipment. The fair is open to the public.

Quite Correct to Stand by in This Way

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a French Canadian who came to this country a few years ago. Having a little difficulty with my English I never got around to learning the words of "The Pledge of Allegiance."

I belong to a club and before every meeting they salute the flag and Pledge Allegiance. I stand up but never say the words. Last week two members said that I should salute the flag and I said as long as I stand and have much respect for the flag, that is all that is needed. What would be the proper thing to do? — Jeanne

Dear Jeanne: You are right. While you are a resident of this country you should show respect for its flag and its customs, but unless you become a citizen you are not expected to pledge allegiance.

Your practice of standing quietly and respectfully is quite correct.

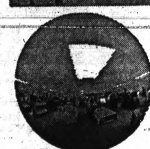

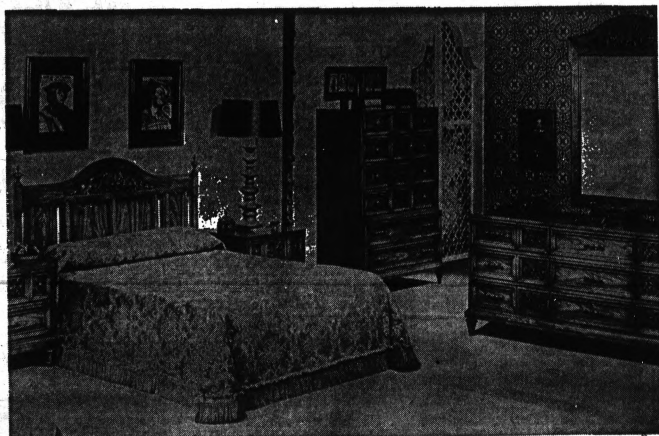

"Etiquette Tips for Teenagers" by Elizabeth L. Post is available to readers of this paper. This booklet will answer many questions for teen-agers and their parents.

To get a copy, send 25 cents in coin to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P. O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Not long ago I wrote a column enjoy radio and television. We concerning the fact that a visit the children and out of husband's retirement calls for town friends each year and they almost as much adjustment by come to see us.

The wife as by her husband. I "When we grew up, we put asked readers to send in their away childish things. When we ideas. These fascinating letters married we promised to forsake are rolling in.

I will print a few of them or other. Now, we are retired and excerpts from them. I wish I each other until death do for could let you read all of them. Here is one:

"Yes, It is different having a man around the house all day, and there are adjustments to be made by both husband and wife. I do not believe that there is any activity or situation that can make a success of retire- ment unless, each thinks in terms of we retiring rather than he retiring.

"Retirement used to be a luxury reserved only for the rich but now we all retire by about trips which are coming choice or otherwise. After hav- ing hurdled all of the ad- justment periods thus far in our marriage we resolved not to bog down on this one. I was always a social community person while he cared more for home and family interests.

"Now, we go out together quite a lot, but I still keep in contact with some of my own friends and activities. We have taken on some new friends in our togetherness and when I go out alone in the afternoons, he does also or relaxes at home.

"Now we can sleep later and enjoy a leisurely breakfast. There is grass to mow and there are flowers to grow. We

Polly's Pointers

Tip on Bedspreads

DEAR POLLY — I am answering Ruby who wants to know how to wash her hand-crocheted bedspread. I wash mine in a cold-water detergent in cold water and then rinse. I drape it over two or three lines and pin the four corners with clip clothespins so the weight is not all in any one place. These lines hold it up very nicely.—C. V. R.

DEAR POLLY — I make a nice rich suds with a mild detergent and lukewarm water and soak my crocheted bedspread in the bathtub until all the dirt is loosened. I get down on my knees and "knead" the spread if it is very soiled. Drain and refill the tub with lukewarm water. Do this several times or until all the suds are removed. Drain and hang on the line without wringing and the spread will look like new.—DORIS

DEAR GIRLS — Some dry crocheted bedspreads in curtain stretchers so there is no shrinkage and the corners dry perfectly straight. When drying on the line, pull the four corners square by stretching several times during the drying period, as this helps prevent shrinkage. Attach clothespins carefully so no marks are left. If the washing is to be done in the machine, I like to soak first and then wash only a few minutes. If the edges are fringed, a stiff brush and wide-toothed comb are good for removing the tangles even though it does seem like a long job.—POLLY

Flush Drain Pipes

According to plumbers, it is a good idea to help clear drains by running very hot water periodically in your water pipes.

Machine oil removes many small scratches from furniture. Just dampen soft cloth with oil and rub over scratches.

At Last--Vinyl Prints for Home Sewers

NEW YORK (PC) — Printed vinyl, the shining fabric of the fashion world, is now available to the home sewer as yardage, which can be purchased at the piece goods section of major department stores. Thus, the woman with nimble fingers and a sewing machine can make her own printed vinyl fashions.

Sleek vinyl with its "wet look" surface has been printed with a great variety of wildly exciting prints, ranging from enormous dots, wild florals, widely spaced broad stripes and narrow tight stripes, animal prints, checks and tatters, and dizzying op art. The fabric has a shiny "wipe clean" surface.

There are two different types, the lighter a plastic coating on a cotton fabric, the heavier a patent vinyl with a cotton knit back.

What is the home sewer going to do with vinyl? According to the American Printed Fabrics Council, many sewers are making rain coats or a rain cape. The more daring women are making sleeveless vinyl dresses.

The young fashionable may sew a short hip-riding skirt or perhaps a pair of bell bottom trousers. Large slouchy rain hats, tote bags, or spats are all part of the printed vinyl story.

FOR HOME

Shining prints are also perfect for the home. Striped vinyl makes an ideal bedspread in a boys room, dotted vinyl can be used as a shower curtain and animal prints as bed covers or pillow cases for the ultra sophisticated.

But printed vinyl, as wildly attractive and as fashionable as it is, does call for a few different sewing techniques. It's not hard at all to sew with vinyl, in fact it's just as easy as sewing with printed cotton, but there are a few points of caution to bear in mind.

The most important thing to remember is not to use pins on the fabric, for pins will pierce the nonporous surface of the vinyl.

Consumers Power Company announces introduction of the first gas range with a self-cleaning oven—the "Manor House" made by Modern Maid, Inc. of Chattanooga, Tenn. In this model, the cleaning feature is in the lower oven. The 90-minute cycle costs less than a nickel per cleaning. All baked on soil is reduced to a powdery ash. Full production is expected in about 90 days.

The choice of necktie patterns by any man can be influenced by the shape of his face. The American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear, Inc., made these suggestions: A man with a long, thin face looks well in polka dots and circular patterns; a man with a round face will appear to be less so if he wears diagonal or vertical stripes.

Political Score: No Runs, No Errors, a Hit

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (AP)—In one public opinion survey President Johnson's approval rating shot up 19 points after he announced he would not be a candidate for reelection.

I haven't seen any post-mortem polls on Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller and George W. Romney, but it may be assumed that they likewise are riding a new crest of popularity.

Winning public favor by withdrawing from the race is nothing new, of course.

The most memorable thing about Calvin Coolidge's term as President was his "I do not choose to run" statement. Had he served a second term he might be totally forgotten by now.

FAMOUS NONELECTION
Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman was never elected to anything. Yet he gained an enduring place in political history by declaring: "If nominated I will not accept; if elected I will not serve."

It does appear, however, that admiration of noncandidates is stronger than ever.

I have noticed that the national regard for the federal lawmaking body usually reaches its peak during those periods when Congress is in adjournment.

County to Go Into Morgue Business Soon
Oakland County is going into the morgue business.

The problem of what to do with dead bodies was decided by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The matter became an issue when it was reported that hospitals were simply refusing to accept bodies for autopsy.

The hospitals in the past had been performing the function on a fee basis. But they claimed their facilities could no longer cope with county cases and they closed the lid on the deal.

Dr. Bernard Berman, county health director, said some 400 autopsies are required yearly in cases of sudden death. Hospitals were charging a $150 fee.

NO EXTRA COST

The County Board of Auditors reported that the county could take over the function without any extra cost.

Plans are to use the facilities at Pontiac State Hospital and details should be worked out in about a month, according to Dr. Berman.

This only will be temporary as a morgue will be located in the new $6.4-million county jail expected to be completed at the County Center at Telegraph and Pontiac Lake sometime in 1970.

Tables Tally Interest Costs

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—A Consumer Credit Calculator developed by two Kansas State University professors is attracting nationwide attention.

Dr. Richard L. D. Morse and Mrs. Albie Rasmussen of the University's Department of Family Economics designed the calculator to find the annual interest percentage rate for consumers who are comparison shopping for credit.

The calculator is a series of simplified actuarial tables presented on a one-page form. It will quickly disclose that a 6 per cent car finance quotation actually totals about 11 per cent for a 12-month contract.

It also helps provide dollar amounts of interest over a given period, even on a sliding percentage interest basis, thus yielding total cost and annual interest rate.

Spokesmen at K-State said the calculator is now being used by credit unions, high schools, colleges and universities.

School Vote Set

GRANDVILLE (AP)—Voters in the Grandville school district will be asked June 10 to approve a 10.75-mill, two-year operating levy which represents renewal of five mills and an additional 5.75 mills.

Harry S. Truman won reelection in 1948 by attacking the "do-nothing 80th Congress." Today that term would be considered complimentary. Tom Dewey was born 20 years too soon.

And if affection for the Supreme Court has not been unanimous in recent years, it can usually win a round of applause by taking a summer recess.

Nor is nonparticipation popularity limited to politics and government. Some of the biggest best-sellers in recent years have been the so-called "non-books."

Certain composers are injecting periods of silence in their musical masterpieces. Which means the luster of Schubert's Unfinished Symphony will eventually be dimmed by some modern composer's unstated symphony.

Within a few years the only sure-fire way to beef up the ratings of a television program will be to take it off the air. A producer may win the New York Drama Critics award by closing a show before it reaches Broadway.

And should you feel the urge to try your hand at fiction, restrain it. By doing so you may become one of the great American novelists.

A Look at TV

Oscars Reflect Race Issue

By RICK DU BROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI). — Hollywood's Oscar telecast, postponed because of Martin Luther King's death, went on Wednesday night, and even the awards reflected the nation's involvement with the racial issue.

Named as the best picture was "In the Heat of the Night," a racially-themed film starring Rod Steiger and Sidney Poitier. In addition, Steiger was named as best actor. And Katharine Hepburn was chosen for best actress, winning in the movie "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner," an in-furthermore, the writing awards went to both "In the Heat of the Night" and "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

Another theme reflected in the nation, violence, was represented in awards to "Bonnie and Clyde." Estelle Parsons was named best supporting actress for her performance in the film. "Bonnie and Clyde," however, was widely felt to be a superior movie cinematically than "In the Heat of the Night," and it is interesting to speculate whether academy voters were making a moral judgment more fitting to the times.

PLEAS EXTENDED
The pleas for brotherhood in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" and "In the Heat of the Night" were also extended in ABC-TV's Oscar broadcast by master of ceremonies Bob Hope and Academy President Gregory Peck. The awards were not turned into a memorial for the slain Dr. King, but both Hope and Peck spoke of him and mentioned the racial problem with feeling, as did Steiger in his acceptance speech. In addition, the post-awards banquet was canceled because of King's murder.

The show itself had more than its share of technical foulups, especially in the sound department, and ran far too long, about a half-hour over schedule. As Hope said: "I've never seen six hours whiz by so fast." The length was two-and-a-half hours, and easily the entertainment highlights were Angela Lansbury singing and dancing "Thoroughly Modern Millie," and Sammy Davis Jr., vocalizing on "SAY TO THE ANIMALS."

It should be noted that the commercials of the sole sponsor, Eastman-Kodak, were in excellent taste, and a model of how to make advertising fit to a specific story.

Herbert Hoover was the first president born west of the Mississippi River.

Employment Hits Record High

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's employment rose to a record high of 75.8 million in March and unemployment declined, but the jobless rate for Negroes continued at more than double the rate for white workers, the Labor Department reports.

The total number of unemployed dipped by 359,000 to 2,323,000 last month, bringing the over-all unemployment rate down from 3.7 to 3.6 per cent of the civilian labor force.

About one-fifth of the total unemployed—415,000—were non-whites, mostly Negroes, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said Wednesday.

While the jobless rate for Negroes dropped three-tenths of 1 per cent to 6.9 per cent, it was still more than twice the white rate of 3.2 per cent, which was service businesses.

Total employment rose about 100,000 to hit the new all-time high mark, the Bureau said.

Weekly earnings for some 45 million workers averaged $104.43, up 38 cents from February, the Bureau said. Virtually all the job gains earlier.

Traffic Ticket Abuse Penalty Approved

LANISING (AP)—Drivers who ignore traffic tickets and skip court appearances could have their licenses suspended under terms of a bill passed by the Senate Wednesday and sent to the House.

The bill, setting up a system similar to one in operation in Illinois, is aimed at removing habitual traffic offenders from the state's highways, said Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson, chief sponsor.

Under the bill, any person who fails to answer a traffic citation or notice to appear in court for a traffic violation would be guilty of a misdemeanor — punishable by a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and $100 fine.

The show itself had more than its share of technical foulups, especially in the sound department, and ran far too long, about a half-hour over schedule. As Hope said: "I've never seen six hours whiz by so fast." The length was two-and-a-half hours, and easily the entertainment highlights were Angela Lansbury singing and dancing "Thoroughly Modern Millie," and Sammy Davis Jr., vocalizing on "SAY TO THE ANIMALS."

Dow Corning Head Keeps Odd Hours

NEW YORK (AP) — William C. Goggin, president of Dow Corning Corp., likes to get out of bed since late last year.

"I have strange working hours," Goggin said in an interview.

"I go to bed early, get up about 2 o'clock, work a couple of hours, go back to bed, then get up again and show up at the office about 7:30 a.m. stay until 6 in the evening or so."

READY LAUGH

Goggin, a quick-moving man with a ready laugh and a firm handshake, took over the presidency of "the world's largest producer of silicones" after 32 years with Dow Chemical Co.

Dow Corning, an international organization with more than 3,500 employees, was founded in 1943 by Dow Chemical and Corning Glass Works.

Goggin, who lives in Midland, Mich., where his firm is headquartered, joined Dow Chemical as a research engineer and had worked his way up to general manager of the firm's plastics department when he was tapped for the Dow Corning presidency.

"I was in plastics all of the time I was with Dow Chemical, and I lived through all of the competitive periods plastics themselves have been through," said Goggin, a holder of four college degrees in the fields of chemistry and physics, electrical engineering and advanced business management.

CHANGES PLANNED

As top manager of Dow Corning, Goggin plans to make changes during his administration — "I guess you expect anybody who moves into a new company to make some changes" — but they will not be abrupt.

"I believe in evolutionary, not revolutionary changes," he said. "Things are moving along quite well now so my changes will come slowly. They will not disrupt the organization."

Goggin said he believed in operating a firm on "the business concept kind of basis" which consists "essentially of dividing a company up into a group of small businesses with each having a profit responsibility of its own."

"This having individual little businesses within one big business forces decisions and responsibilities well down into the organization. This improves productivity and efficiency. It smooths the way for new developments to become commercial more quickly."

AT A PROFIT

"My philosophy is to operate a good, lively business-based on real sound technology — at a profit. We have tremendous strength in technology and we intend to continue to emphasize it."

"This field of silicones is only 25 years old and there is a lot more that can be done. We've got the people that can do it."

Goggin and his wife, Flora, have two children, a married daughter, Mary Lou, and a son, Patrick, 16.

USED TO RACE

"You name it. 'I'm interested,'" he said. "I like sailing, skiing and photography. I used to race powerboats and hydroplanes and fly airplanes, but I gave that up."

"One thing, though, I'm not an ardent golfer."

Open Letter to Pontiac Citizens!

As voters in the City of Pontiac we notice that we have a city election for commissioners next Monday.

We wonder for whom we should vote!

We notice in District 6 a fellow by the name of John Francis Leonard is asking the people to vote for him . . . BUT we also note he has a Police Record of many, many, AND varied violations from 1964 through 1967.

How can we ask our neighbors to vote for such a record?????????????????

He is opposing a man who has lived in Pontiac all his life with NEVER A MARK against his record! That man is Mr. WESELY WOOD!

In our opinion Wes Wood deserves our vote and yours too! Better cast your vote for Wood . . . it will be better for Pontiac and us all.

Hawaii Teamster Scorns 'Goof-Offs'

HONOLULU (AP)—The president of the Teamsters union in Hawaii, Arthur Rutledge, has publicly chastised certain members of his union whom he calls "goof-offs."

Speaking in a union newspaper, Rutledge said there are two kinds of goof-offs. They are: "The worker who takes a day off the job whenever the notion strikes him, for no properly excusable reason."

"And the worker who abuses the state unemployment compensation program."

Survey Findings Reinforce Film Industry's Pessimism

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The of the 136 million Americans film industry is enjoying its an-over 16. Those 25 million film annual euphoria in the wake of the fans each see an average of 39 Academy Awards. But soon the pictures a year.

The film capital has been depressed, mentally as well as economically. The movie unions have been making dire statements about the conditions of the industry, and their leaders have petitioned legislators for help.

But no one in power seems to take the industry's plight seriously. The movies have gone through grim times before and survived.

Times have never been quite so bad. The unions claim 40 per cent unemployment; considering the low state of Hollywood production, their estimate seems correct.

NEVER THIS BAD
"Things have never been this bad," remarked a veteran labor leader. "We took salary cuts during the Depression, but at least we kept on making pictures."

Much has been said and written about the economic stresses that have brought about Hollywood's ills: the rise of labor costs, the crushing overhead of maintaining the big studio plants, foreign subsidies and lower costs that cause film makers to shoot abroad, etc. Such matters are not the entire cause.

The film industry has finally investigated the nature of its audience, and the results offer little comfort to the movie leaders.

Variety has reported on a survey authorized by the Motion Picture Association. The report was submitted to association President Jack Valenti by Daniel Yankelovich and Associates, and it analyzes what Americans go to the movies and how often.

YOUNG AUDIENCE
It should surprise no one that the film audience is young. Almost half of those who attend theaters are between the ages of 16 and 24.

The startling part of the survey is the report that only 26 million Americans can be regarded as frequent moviegoers. That represents only 18 per cent survey run deeper than that. The leaders must ponder whether there is any way to win back the over-30 audience. Or has the industry lost the mature citizens by flooding television with movies? Most of the married folks, if they care about movies at all, seem to be saying, "Why should I bother with getting a sitter and driving to the theater? The movie will be on TV in a year or so."

The report indicated that of the remaining 113 million Americans over 16—

• 41 million never go to the movies.

• 72 million see an average of only 4.2 pictures per year.

BIG DROP

Who are the most frequent filmgoers? According to the survey, most of them are young and single. Film attendance falls precipitously with marriage and age, the movie habit generally being broken by the age of 29.

Such figures offer the film leaders much to be concerned about. Most of those leaders are middle-aged; are they able to cope with such a youthful market?

But the implications of the age.

The vastness of the potential film market was provided by "The Sound of Music," which has attracted more than $100 million on the strength of its sheer entertainment. All the industry has to do is make more films like "Sound of Music." Unfortunately, that doesn't seem to be so easy to accomplish.

Scientists say the ginokg tree grew 100 to 200 million years ago.

Built-in photometer tells you when to shoot. You twist the red knob until you see a bright YES (which means it's okay to shoot), press down the same knob to snap your picture. Your eye never leaves the viewfinder.

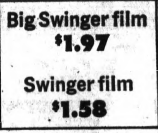

Big Swinger freezes big action. Because it uses Polaroid 3000 speed film, the Big Swinger has a shutter speed of 1/200th of a second. Even with a moving subject (or fidgety photograph) it's tough to blur a picture.

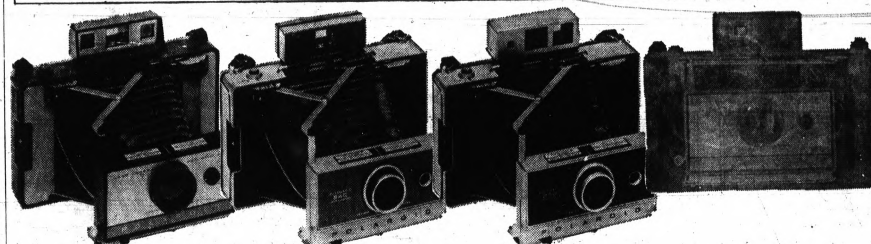

You never have to focus. There's never any focusing. Swing it up and shoot. Pictures in bright sun are sharp from two feet to the horizon.

Inexpensive flash pictures. With the built-in flash, there's a whole new series of surprises. You drop a bulb into the camera. The front of the camera serves as the flash shield.

Morton Salt's Umbrella Girl Has New Look

CHEESY CORN CUSTARD — Here's a new version of scalloped corn. This one uses delicious shoe peg white corn. The topping is a tempting mixture of bread crumbs and shredded Cheddar cheese.

Top With Cheese, Crumbs

Corn Custard for Party

We Americans are gregarious. Individuals who love to entertain. Our homes serve as the hub for many hospitable get-togethers. In fact, statistics show that in a typical week six out of 10 families entertain guests. Little wonder that we're always looking for party recipes to liven our tired menus.

Cheesy Corn Custard features delicately flavored canned shoe peg white corn, a welcome change from other corn custard recipes. This very special corn resembles a cobbler's shoe peg, hence its unusual name.

Your custard deserves a gourmet garnish of buttery bread crumbs and cheese and colorful tomato wedges.

Cheesy Corn Custard
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup evaporated milk
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon parsley flakes
Dash pepper
Two 12-oz. cans vacuum-packed shoe peg white corn, drained
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon butter or margarine, melted
¼ cup dry bread crumbs
1 small tomato, cut into 6 wedges
Combine egg, cornstarch, evaporated milk, onion, salt, parsley flakes, pepper, corn and ¼ cup cheese. Turn into a 10x6-inch baking dish. Combine butter, bread crumbs and remaining cheese. Sprinkle around outside edge of baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from oven.
Arrange tomato wedges in center of casserole; bake an additional 10 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before serving. Yield: 6 servings.

CHICAGO — Unlike Little Orphan Annie, Morton Salt Company's well-known Umbrella Girl has been given a new fashion look. Gone are the pigtail and bows, the yellow anklet socks and the yellow and white dress that had a waistline at the waist. Gone, too, is the yellow-and-white umbrella.

The 1968 version of one of America's two best-known year-olds is making her appearance on the redesigned label of the familiar Morton blue package of table salt.

With a short, wind-blown hairdo and a high-waisted, short (but still yellow) dress, she shares the back panel of the new label with the company's famous slogan "When It Rains It Pours."

From a "routine" advertising presentation came the exchange of ideas which resulted in the first Morton Salt Umbrella Girl and the slogan that is now an American byword.

In 1911, Morton Salt Company had decided to embark on the first national consumer advertising campaign for salt to promote its new product: a later.

Still, it needed something. "Still, it needed something," "planned copy, which read: "Even in rainy weather, it flows freely," was appropriate but too long.

"We need something short and snappy," Sterling Morton remarked. "Suggestions came for 'flows freely,' 'runs freely,' 'pours' and then, finally, the old proverb, 'It never rains but it pours.' When this was vetoed as being too negative, a positive rephrasing resulted in 'When It Rains It Pours.'"

SIX NEW OUTFITS
This is the sixth updating of the Umbrella Girl since she made her debut. She then had long curls in the style of the times and became identified rapidly with Morton's most-familiar consumer salt product. Although there has been a natural reluctance to change her appearance with every new fashion fad, she has not been allowed to become "old-fashioned."

The first change came in the 1920's. By 1935 she was wearing curls of the Shirley Temple variety, so popular at that time. The pigtail appeared in the 1940's and were retained in the last "facelift" in 1956.

Widespread curiosity about her origin and history has prompted thousands of letters over the years. She is so much a part of the daily lives of Americans that many people see a resemblance to a sister, cousin or niece, and they often write and ask the name of the model (there has never been one).

THROUGH THE YEARS—The Morton Salt Umbrella Girl is shown as she has changed through the years. Once again, she is being updated, although she will still have a yellow dress.

CHILI-MUSHROOM SOUP — Combine 1 can (15-oz.) chili with beans; 1 can (14 oz.) tomatoes; 1 can (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms, drained; 1 tablespoon instant minced onion and ¼ teaspoon tabasco sauce. Heat and pour into 4 bowls. Top with grated Cheddar or Parmesan cheese.

PEANUT BUTTER 'N JELLY PIE — Children and dads alike who really go for peanut butter will love this new revelation in a delicious pie made with the new Peanut Butter 'N Jelly. Bound to become a family favorite on your menu, this creamy, rich pie has the flavor of spring and the delicious dazzle of summer.

Dessert Made Like Pecan Pie

If there are peanut butter lovers in your house, you can bet they'll come running with cheers for this delicious peanut butter 'n jelly pie that will perfectly satisfy almost any palate.

It's an old-fashioned pie with a new touch, that will conjure up happy memories for the kids and dad alike.

This golden brown pie has all the flavor of creamy, rich peanut butter, yet is fairly mild due to the addition of the apple raspberry jelly that is swirled in the same jar. This peanut butter and jelly combination is something new.

With the combination of the flaky crust, this pie will make one of the most sought-after dessert favorites to be found anywhere. It has all the flavor of spring and the delicious dazzle of summer.

The pie isn't hard to make either. In fact, it whips up in a jiffy and takes only 45 minutes to bake. It's guaranteed to make you the star mother in the block, not only in the eyes of the youngsters, but also in the eyes of your peanut-butter loving husband.

PEANUT BUTTER 'N JELLY PIE

Filling:
1 cup light or dark corn syrup
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 1/2 cups peanut butter 'n jelly

Blend filling ingredients. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in hot (400 degree) oven for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degree) oven and bake pie 30 to 35 minutes longer. (Filling should appear slightly less set in center than around edge.)

Shell (9-inch):
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cup shortening
3 tablespoons cold water

Mix flour and salt. Cut in shortening with two knives until mixture resembles coarse oatmeal. Sprinkle water over mixture and mix well. Press dough firmly into ball with hands. Pastry should be moist enough to hold together, not sticky.

Place ball of dough on lightly floured surface. Flour rolling pin lightly. Place in center of dough. Roll dough from center to edge with quick, light strokes to a 12-inch circle.

Meat-Filled Pastries

South Americans Like to Eat Them

Empanadas, are delightful ground beef chuck or round, South American style mixed with tomatoes, onion, "sandwiches" or appetizers that green pepper and stuffed olives look like fried pies. They're a bit of that south-of-the-delicious and convenient, made border spicing.

to order for busy North Americans who like distinctive food.

Beef empanadas are wonderful for people in a hurry. They're great served hot or cold, at sit-down meals or eaten on the run—wonderful for tucking into lunch boxes for hurried eating at meal time or packing into a picnic hamper for enjoying on the way to a football game.

And small empanadas are occasional appetizers, just right for serving hot or cold at plain or fancy parties.

The fillings used in empanadas vary from country to country. A popular and inexpensive one is made with

Bacon a Plus

A vegetable with a new twist will have extra appeal to your family. Cook 4 slices of bacon until crisp and remove. Pour off all but about 2 tablespoons of the fat. To this add a can (1 lb.) drained succotash (whole kernel corn and lima beans), 1/2 cup cream and the crumbled bacon. Heat and season to taste with salt and pepper.

Nice luncheon dish: Creamed spinach topped with poached eggs and buttered croutons.

Saute beef in shortening until lightly browned. Add onion, tomato, green pepper and garlic. Cook until onion is tender, stirring often. Add olives and Tabasco sauce; mix.

Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool.

Prepare pie crust mix as directed on package label. Roll dough 1/4 inch thick on lightly floured board. Cut into 5-inch rounds. Spoon 3 tablespoons of meat mixture on each crust to one side of center.

Moisten crust edges, fold each round in half. Seal and flute edges with tines of fork. Place on ungreased baking sheet.

Add water to egg yolk, beat slightly. Brush tops of pastries lightly with egg mixture.

Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) until crust is done and lightly browned, 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 18 large empanadas.

Appetizer Empanadas

Prepare 1/2 of above recipe and change as follows. Cut crust into 3-inch rounds and fill each with a heaping teaspoonful of meat mixture. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) until browned, 10 to 12 minutes. Yield: About 4 dozen appetizer empanadas.

BEEF EMPANADAS — Tempting, crisp Beef Empanadas are great for lunch, supper or late evening buffets. Serve with cream of onion or pumpkin soup and a pretty escarole, tomato and hearts of palm salad. It's good food with a South American flavor.

It's not a diet tuna. It's real tuna. Empress uses only the plumpest filets of white Albacore. We call it skinny tuna because of the way we pack it. Most tuna comes packed in oil. Fatty oil. You can pour off the oil but not the calories. Skinny tuna, packed in water, has only half the calories of the oil soaked kind. And with no oil to disguise the taste Empress has a fresher, more natural flavor. Serve your family a tuna that tastes like tuna. Empress, the skinny tuna. Half the calories of the oil-packed kind. You don't need a weight problem to love it.

Empress, the skinny tuna.

You don't have to be fat to love skinny tuna.

MAPLE TRINITY BREAD — Maple Trinity Bread's unusual form has special significance for the Easter season. Three round portions of dough symbolizing the Trinity form the base of the loaf and are pressed in shaped from twisted strands of dough and arranged on top.

Twisted Dough Cross Decorates Trinity Bread

Fill your holiday house with the most beautiful aroma of all — freshly baked Maple Trinity Bread. The flavor and bouquet of maple syrup are such a delightful addition you'll wonder why it hasn't been used in bread recipes before.

The dough is easy to handle and the baked product so flavorful you will be inspired to create other loaves and designs during the year.

Maple Trinity Bread will disappear all too quickly. No one can resist the attractive loaf with its mellow maple richness.

At any time of the year the use of enriched flour ensures your family of receiving important nutritional benefits — three essential B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, plus the mineral, iron.

Maple Trinity Bread

2 packages yeast
¾ cup warm water
¾ cup maple flavored syrup
½ cup oil
2 teaspoons salt
¾ cup milk, warmed
5 cups sifted enriched flour, about

1 egg
1 egg yolk
1 egg white, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon water
Soften yeast in water.
Measure syrup, oil and salt into large bowl. Stir in milk until well blended. Beat in 2 cups flour until smooth. Blend in yeast, egg and egg yolk. Stir in flour to make a soft dough.

Turn onto lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and satiny, 5 to 8 minutes. Shape into ball and place in lightly greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover and let rise in warm place (80 to 85 degrees) until doubled, about 2½ hours.

Punch down. Divide in fourths; cover and let rest 10 minutes. Shape 3 portions into balls; place on greased baking sheet in cloverleaf design; flatten each to 1 inch high.

Cut remaining dough into fourths; shape each with palms of hands into 20-inch ropes. Twist ropes together in pairs; press ends to seal. Arrange to form cross on cloverleaf, curving ends in semicircles and trucking under cross. Cover and let rise until doubled, about 45 minutes.

Combine egg white and water; brush on loaf. Bake in preheated 350 degree oven 40 to 50 minutes, or until done.

If necessary, cover loosely with foil during baking to prevent excessive browning. Remove from baking sheet immediately after baking.

To Flavor Stew

When making stew, you may want to tie the herb bouquet often called for in a small piece of cheesecloth. Such kitchen staples as celery leaves, parsley sprigs, and bay leaves make a good bouquet.

Grind Meats for Sandwich

Liver sausage or its smoked cousin, brunschweiger, make excellent sandwich spreads, but so does sliced liver.

Spread made with sliced liver, cooked and put through a food chopper, does have different texture from the ready-to-serve product. That creates both variety and interest, says Reba Staggs, home economist.

Beef, pork, lamb or veal liver may be used in the recipe. Make certain it's cooked slowly to maintain its tenderness.

Bacon and chopped hard-cooked eggs add even more nourishment to a meat that's already highly prized for its excellent nutrient values, especially vitamin A, riboflavin, niacin and iron.

Liver Sandwich Spread

3 slices bacon
1 pound sliced liver
1 medium onion, chopped
3 hard-cooked eggs
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup milk
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Cook bacon until crisp but not crumbly. Drain bacon, reserving drippings. Remove membrane from liver. Cook liver and onion slowly in bacon drippings about 10 minutes, turning occasionally to cook evenly.

Put bacon, liver, onion and hard-cooked eggs through food chopper. Add salt, pepper, milk, mayonnaise and Worcestershire sauce. Mix well. Yield: 2 cups.

OLD-TIMERS — Bloomfield Hills resident Charles H. Patterson (second from right) of 232 Harlan was welcomed into the ranks of the retired at a recent luncheon gathering of Ford Motor Co. retirees at Pier 66 resort in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He retired last October as Ford executive vice president — North American Automotive Operations. Chatting with him are (from left) Walker A.

Williams of 11 N. Woodward, Birmingham, retired company vice president and former Lincoln-Mercury Division assistant manager; Lewis D. Cruse of Northville, former company vice president who served as Ford Division general manager; and John Dykstra of 1147 Gleggarry, Bloomfield Township, retired Ford president. All of the men now maintain homes in Florida.

Stokes Message Pays Off

CLEVELAND (AP) — Since the night Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was assassinated, Cleveland Mayor Carl Stokes has gone into the city's Negro areas with one message: Cool it!

Stokes' message has paid off. There have been no racial disturbances in this city, which has about 280,000 Negroes.

As he walked through Negro areas, Stokes and everyone else were conscious of racial disturbances in some of the nation's major cities, where National Guardsmen were sent in to quell the rioting.

A Negro, Stokes went into the heart of the Hough area where five nights of rioting and fire bombing hit Cleveland in 1966. Four Negroes were killed from gunfire there, and National Guardsmen patrolled the streets.

The mayor attended Dr. King's funeral in Atlanta Tuesday and said the first thing Vice President Hubert A. Humphrey told him was, "We are all so proud of your city."

When he returned, Stokes said, "I had mayors, congressmen and senators all commenting on how wonderfully Clevelanders responded during these days of tension."

Stokes sometimes walked into the slum areas, stopping to talk to youths on the streets or in pool rooms. Other times he rode with a detective. He was out and around into the early morning hours.

Stokes, elected last November, said he was proud of the city, and especially the youths, for having avoided disorder.

"The young people apparently really remember and followed Dr. King's admonition: 'The thing is not to burn, baby, burn, but learn, baby, learn,'" Stokes said.

"Even though I'm grateful for having come through this crisis without trouble, the emphasis must not be placed on having kept peace," the mayor continued.

"The emphasis must be placed on using this cooperative concern to proceed forthrightly in attacking the tremendous problems that are the root cause of these crises."

Senate Rejects House Slum-Fund Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has served emphatic notice it wants money to provide summer jobs for needy youths and preschool aid for slum children.

Acting in the wake of civil disorders that lashed many cities — and heeding a member's call for a memorial to Dr. Martin Luther King — the Senate rejected 54 to 24 Wednesday a supplemental money bill from which the House had stripped funds for these programs.

The bipartisan vote, which found 34 Democrats and 20 Republicans aligned to send the bill back to conference with the House, represented a rare revolt against the recommendations of veteran Senate Appropriations Committee members.

Key items in the Senate-House dispute are $75 million for the summer jobs, $25 million for the preschool Head Start program and $91 million for a program of federal aid to school districts with enrollments swollen by children of military personnel and federal employees.

HOUSE SAID NO

The House had allowed nothing for the jobs or for Head Start and only $21 million for the so-called impacted areas program.

Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., manager of the overall measure, predicted the House would not accept any changes. Meanwhile, said Hill, there will be a delay in action on $1.4 billion — not in dispute — to pay increased costs of public assistance for persons on relief and on $28 million in unemployment compensation for federal employees and veterans.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., noted the House acted on the measure a week before last week's slaying of King in Memphis, which touched off urban violence only now subsiding in many cities.

Javits, predicting the House might change its mind in view of those developments, added: "I can't think of a finer memorial to Martin Luther King than for Congress to show that it intends to act against violence by supporting these programs."

"We can demonstrate that Congress intends to act out of a sense of justice and not out of a sense of resentment," Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., a member of the White House advisory commission on riots, argued with Javits that the disputed programs would help cities stave off further racial unrest this year.

Voting against sending the bill now before the Senate, Mansfield said he would not keep senators in session "to give the appearance of urgent action where there is no prospect of action."

Democrat leader Mike Mansfield, responding to demands by some members that the Senate forego the Easter recess to deal with social legislation, said such an action would be a charade.

Noting there is no legislation dealing with big-city problems

LEARN, BABY, LEARN

The Free Press did—with a pioneering study that the President's Riot Commission labelled "brilliant."

Again, the Detroit Free Press went further than its obligation to report just the news. Less than a month after the riots, the Free Press accomplished something that generally takes scholars months and years. It published an exhaustive series of stories detailing the real causes that triggered the disturbance. The President's Commission on Civil Disorders called it a landmark survey. The Free Press and Newsweek magazine were cited by the Commission as the two "brilliant exceptions" to its finding that the news media generally failed to present and analyze to a sufficient extent the basic reasons for the disorders.

Directed by Philip Meyer of the Free Press Washington Bureau, the Detroit survey combined the precision of the political scientist with the speed of a big daily newspaper. Meyer designed the questionnaire and the Urban League of Detroit recruited 25 Negro interviewers, most of them school teachers. They interviewed a random probability sample of 437 Negroes living in the main riot areas of Detroit. The results provided Free Press readers with the most illuminating picture of participants and causes of urban violence ever published.

This is the kind of one-step-further reporting that people have come to expect from the Free Press. And it's been that way since 1831.

Fire-Bombing Suspect Held

A 22-year-old Pontiac man was arrested yesterday in connection with the fire-bombing of a Pontiac service station Tuesday.

Taken into custody about 6:45 p.m. on a warrant charging him with unlawful possession of firebombs and conspiracy to unlawfully possess firebombs was Harry J. Smith of 212 Central.

He is in Oakland County Jail awaiting arraignment scheduled today.

Fireman fought a blaze at the Clack Sunoco Station, 138 Orchard Lake, for more than an hour early Tuesday morning.

Investigation revealed that the fire had been started by a motorist who hurled through a window at the side of the building.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the building and $2,000 to contents.

Lonely Marine Shows Thanks

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Burlan Atkins of the St. Louis suburb of Affton has been writing letters and sending gift packages to a lonely Marine in Vietnam.

The Marine responded with a $500 check and a letter urging Mrs. Atkins, her daughter and a friend to have a night on the town on him.

Mrs. Atkins said she has never met Col. Jon MacPamplin, 21 of Arkansas, but her son, Rocky, served with him at Camp Lejeune, N.C.

MacPamplin's letter began with something sounding like an order to his squad: "Now listen, mom. This is what I want you to do. First off I want you and Peaches and Sugar Plum to go out and have one good time."

Peaches is her daughter Bobby Sue, 20, and Sugar Plum is Gayle Ballard, who also wrote him.

MacPamplin also asked Mrs. Atkins to send 12 pairs of socks. "My squad is hard up for socks," he wrote.

Rocky Atkins is now en route to Vietnam, too.

Windows Hit at City School

Vandals, thought by police to be teen-agers, smashed four large windows at a Pontiac school, it was reported early today.

Investigators said rocks were thrown through windows on the north side of the Jefferson Junior High School building at 600 Motor.

Damage was estimated at more than $300.

Local Rejects Strike Settlement

MUSKEGON (AP) — Efforts to end an eight-week strike by the United Auto Workers union against the Standard Automotive Parts Co. in Muskegon failed Wednesday as members of Local 1441 rejected, 105-13, the firm's latest offer to settle a number of grievances.

The union vote was called following a six-hour bargaining session Tuesday with state mediators. The grievances relate to a 1 1/2-year contract signed last July by the Local's 190 members.

Cafe Owner Dishes Out Side Order of Love

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 38th in a series of 40 articles to be published by The Pontiac Press during Lent telling personal stories of faith in action in the lives of sincere people. Some contributors are famous, others relatively unknown.)

By GLENN KITTNER
Guideposts Roving Editor

The counterman in Bill's Rough Riders luncheonette, in Newark, N.J., placed the hamburger and coke in front of the teen-ager, then came around and took the stool next to the youngster.

"I'm Bill," he said. "I run this place. I'm conducting a survey and I'd like to ask you some questions."

The boy shrugged. "God than they realize. What they need is someone to open their eyes."

Bill calls the process "ventilation," and he has become a master at it.

During the seven years Bill was pastor of Newark's First Reformed Church, he noticed a steady decrease of the younger set among his congregation.

HIGH CRIME RATE

At the same time, police statistics showed that his section of town — the Central Ward — was acquiring one of the country's worst crime rates.

In an effort to reach the youngsters, Bill gave sermons on street corners. He hung around school yards, playing baseball with the kids as he tried to win their confidence and friendship. But he had no luck.

One day in January 1964, Bill stopped for a sandwich in a luncheonette opposite the West Side High School.

Within a few minutes at the counter, he found himself in conversation with a teen-age addict who disclosed that a friend had recently died from an overdose.

HE LISTENED IN

Minutes later, Bill passed the ketchup to a girl who, according to her frantic, whispered conversation with a friend, was afraid she was pregnant. As he was leaving, Bill overheard some boys in a booth boasting about a purse-snatching.

One morning, brooding about experience, the thought struck him that a luncheonette was surely the best place to make contact with youngsters, and he decided to look into the prospects of locating one where he could experiment with an idea that was growing in his mind.

That very day, he was passing West Side High and in the window of the cafe where he had had his sad encounter he saw a sign: FOR SALE.

Before the week was out, Bill Iverson, on borrowed money and with no experience, was owner and operator of the Rough Riders luncheonette, named after the high school's football team.

LOVE TO TALK

He was certain of two things regarding youngsters: They love to eat and they love to talk.

He therefore compiled a questionnaire dealing with civic problems and religious attitudes with which to begin conversations with the kids.

Bill's young customers soon found themselves expressing religious convictions they didn't know they had.

Sometimes an interview lasted a couple of hours, and when Bill suggested evening group discussions at his home the youngsters readily agreed.

By his questions, Bill discovered that, despite their lack of religious experience, the teen-agers had a deep curiosity about religion; they were sincerely interested in learning more about it, eager to have their doubts resolved.

Even those who claimed to be atheists joined the group discussions, to debate at first, then to listen and to learn.

As the groups increased in number, each led by a trained adult, Bill required the members to do something constructive in the community.

A group of addicts, for instance, attend adult seminars, tell their personal stories, then describe the symptoms by which parents can spot a teenager en route to addiction.

WATCHES PAPER

Another group watches the papers for news of some teenager in trouble, makes contact with him, helps as much as possible, then invites him to Bill's for a hamburger — and an interview.

For several months, Bill tried to run the luncheonette while retaining his pastorate, but gradually he discovered that there simply was not time enough for both.

His wife, a school teacher, encouraged him to resign from the church, suggesting that her salary could bridge the family's financial gap until the luncheonette began to show a profit.

His wife, a school teacher, encouraged him to resign from the church, suggesting that her salary could bridge the family's financial gap until the luncheonette began to show a profit.

But no profit appeared. Bill's savings vanished. Organizations to which he appealed for grants turned him down.

TEENS VOLUNTEER

Finally, early in 1965, Bill realized that he would have to close down.

The teen-agers learned of this. They chose a delegation to go to Bill with a plan. They volunteered to work in the luncheonette without pay and they promised to recruit customers from among friends who were lunching elsewhere.

When news got out, people who had doubted that Bill would ever get through to the kids changed their minds.

NO PROFIT

The luncheonette still doesn't show a profit, but Bill Iverson's backers know that the only important profit is the good being done for the youngsters. Church groups around the world have asked advice on starting similar luncheonettes; Bill himself is planning on opening three more.

They will all serve the same menu: Good hamburgers with lots of love on the side.

TOMORROW — Catherine Marshall, editor, tells how a friend's life changed when she set aside on hour every day for an inward search toward self-knowledge, a search that led her to God.

Orion Hurler Blanks Oxford, 5-0

Lake Orion and Clawson of the Oakland-A League, and Northville of the Wayne-Oakland garnered nonleague triumphs Wednesday in baseball outings.

Orion's Dave Scheibel scattered six Oxford hits for a 5-0 win. He fanned 10.

Clawson nipped Lamphere, 2-0, when Larry Niedowicz came in to save the decision for Marty Giolando after a surge of wildness. Starter Dave Frezza struck out six in three innings and allowed the only hit by the Rams (1-1).

Two unearned runs in the sixth inning decided a 2-0 victory in the first round of the 72-hole Rebel Yell Open Golf Tournament.

Both Skelly and the Lions' one run and Ed Bretzloff followed with a grand slam homer to complete a five-run outburst for Lake Orion.

Frank Lettich of Oxford whiffed 12 in the five innings he toiled.

South Lyon (1-2) had runners on first and second with one out in the seventh after Roper, singly, but couldn't move them.

At Oxford, a two-out bases-loaded hunt single brought in

Easy Triumph Evens Record for Rochester

Rochester evened its track record Wednesday by romping past Lake Orion's winless Dragons, 95-23.

The Falcons swept five events and blanked Orion in the mile relay when it had to withdraw its quartet due to an injury.

Two Falcons, sprinter Bob Woodruff and field events center Gary Miller, won a pair of firsts, while Lake Orion (6-2) had only two firsts in all.

Corky Groesbeck won the pole vault and Judd Bankert the high hurdles. The Dragons failed to have two finishers in any event.

Action Picks Up for Fishermen

Steelhead runs on four northwestern Lower Peninsula streams are expected to peak this weekend and early next week.

All indications point to the Platte, Boardman, Bettsie and Crystal rivers as being the best locations. Conservation Department fish men say the runs are peaking on all four streams and "there are a lot of fish in them."

Main runs of the spawning rainbows have passed on the Little and Big Manistee rivers and results are expected to taper off accordingly.

Coho salmon are still being taken from Lake Michigan in the New Buffalo and Benton Harbor-St. Joseph areas, but the weather has been hindering anglers.

The fish are being caught from a half to a mile out from shore by very slow trolling using silver lures fished near the surface.

Warm rains could trigger good smelt runs.

The run is light at Pt. Pelee near Leamington, Ont., and reports now say that the peak will come next week. Light smelt runs continue in the St. Clair River at Port Huron.

Some of the silvery fish have been showing up in streams along the northern shore of Saginaw Bay. If the warm weather holds, strong runs could materialize by early next week.

Dip-netting for suckers on the Rifle River has been slow, but spearing is good in non-trout streams. Hook and line fishing for suckers is good in most Southern Michigan streams.

Perch fishing is picking up along Saginaw Bay. Catches haven't been large, but the perch are running good size. Best locations are the Wallace Cut, north of Bay Port, the fish docks at Bay Port, Fish Pointe and Quanticasee.

Saginaw Bay reopened for muskellunge, pike and walleye fishing today.

Judo Class Set for Women, Men

Judo classes for women and young boys will be held Saturdays at the Pontiac YMCA starting April 20.

Tom Hutchings, president of the sponsoring Pontiac Judo Club, said the sessions will run from seven to 10 weeks. There will be a $10 charge for 'Y' members and a $15 charge for nonmembers.

The women's class will meet from noon to 1 p.m. Beginning boys will be from 10-11 a.m. and advanced boys from 11 a.m. to noon. Don Walker will be the instructor.

Arrangements are being made for a daytime class for men 15 years and older.

Bruins Hoping to Keep Alive in Cup Playoff

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Boston Bruins hope to begin a new impossible dream tonight. The Philadelphia Flyers hope to avoid another nightmare.

The National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs continue tonight on four fronts but the St. Louis Blues and the Flyers went at it Wednesday night like there would be no tomorrow.

The Blues finally won it 3-2 on Larry Keenan's goal at 4:10 of the second sudden-death overtime period. That gave them a 2-1 lead in their best-of-7 West Division semifinals. The teams return to the St. Louis Arena tonight for another go-round.

In the other West series, Los Angeles takes a 2-1 lead against the North Stars at Minnesota.

In the East, Boston, trailing Montreal 3-0 and facing a virtually hopeless task against the division champs, face the Canadiens again in Boston, spurred on by the baseball Red Sox "impossible dream" 1967 pennant against 100-0 odds.

In other East semifinals, the Rangers, winners of the first two games in New York, play the Black Hawks in Chicago.

Wednesday's Fights

NEW YORK—George Quarry, 174½, Puerto Rico, outpointed Leven Round, 173, New York, in a 10-round bout.
HONOLULU—Adrian Pruitt, 141½, Los Angeles, knocked out John Santos, 139½, Honolulu, in the fourth round.
South Korea—Suh Ken-Il, 135, knocked out Roman Branco, 128, Venezuela, in the 12th round.

Capac Rules Roost in Thumb Race

(This is the eighth article in a series discussing the coaches' predictions for the area high school baseball league races. Today, the Southern Thumb League.)

The Chiefs of Capac are favored by their rival coaches to continue their war dance on the Southern Thumb League sports front with a championship in baseball this spring.

Armada and Anchor Bay figure to be close behind Capac and Memphis has expectations of surprising those three. New Haven is another possible contender.

Almont, Dryden and Richmond are considered spotters.

Capac's fortunes will depend upon a strong battery and hoped-for improvement at the plate. Senior right-hander Jim Sanchez is rated as perhaps the best moundman in the league. Two juniors complete the strong battery. Catcher Brad Robinson is a husky six-footer, and pitcher Jim Seidell possesses good control.

YOUNG TEAM
Armada's Tigers will depend on underclassmen mostly, but only last three regulars from last year's squad. They have a solid hitter in infielder Ron Rusk, a junior.

Pitcher Gary Hofer and reliever Connie Reiter both are juniors, too, and help is expected from sophomore hurler Rich Raicki.

Seniors predominate at Anchor Bay, where lanky fourth-year regular Mike Stephenson returns on the hill after winning too. Coach Len Perkins is concerned primarily with improving the Tars' defense.

Almont has 10 returnees but must produce some pitching. The Raiders are a young club with only one senior starter back. That's left fielder Jim Wade.

With John Bacholzky at short and Roger Hunt at third, the left side appears set, and Frank Bacholzky returns in center. Two juniors, Dennis Garner and Tim Reaume, comprise the battery.

Memphis is another veteran team that must improve its fielding. Regulars return in the outfield and catcher Ted Suwalkowski is likely to up last season's .301 batting average. Jim Nolan heads the hill crew.

Mike Falter and John Nolan provide experience in the middle of the defense.

The Southern Thumb race will begin next month.

No 'Chance' for Senators

Twins' Dean Blanks
Washington Nine

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Blanche fired a four-hit shutout as Minnesota silenced Washington 2-0 Wednesday before one of the Twins' biggest fans, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey. Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison tagged bases-empty homers for the Twins' two runs.

SOFT THROW
Humphrey, substituting for President Johnson, arched a soft throw to Senators' coach Nellie Fox to inaugurate the season, then settled back as Chance took complete command.

The 26-game winner gave up only one hit in the first seven innings, a bunt single by Senators' rookie Del Unser. He retired the first nine batters, then set down another 12 straight before being touched for two more hits in the eighth.

The traditional presidential opener was played two days later after an unprecedented postponement as the nation mourned Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Buford Sparks Baltimore Win Over Oakland

BALTIMORE (AP) — Don Buford, given a starting chance after Mark Belanger was called for National Guard duty, started at bat and in the field as Baltimore defeated the Athletics 3-1 in Oakland's American League baseball debut Wednesday.

In his first game as an Oriole, Buford had two hits, scored a first-inning run and prevented an Oakland run in the third with a diving stop behind second on Sal Bando's hit.

Tom Phoebus, with relief help in the eighth from John O'Donoghue and Moe Drabowsky, gained credit for the victory.

Harmon Posts Practice Aces

Weiskopf, the leading money winner on the PGA tour this year with $61,722, is a former Ohio Stater like Nicklaus, and like his Buckeye teammate, he shot a 70 in his final round on the course yesterday.

Weiskopf's power has sports fans saying that he follows Ohio State football coach Woody Hayes' philosophy on the course, "300 yards and a cloud of dust."

The rangy 25-year-old Ohioan says however, he doesn't plan to overpower this famous course.

"I don't think I'll be too aggressive. I'm going to try to keep from three-putting any greens or making silly mistakes."

"I've waited all my life to play in the Masters and it makes me feel good to think people respect my game enough to rate me among the contenders," he said.

Cliff Roberts, longtime overseer of the Masters, rated the chances of the various golfers.

A STRANGER
In regard to Weiskopf "He's strong enough and hits the long ball which are two of the requisites for playing this course well, but his lack of experience in this tournament and being a stranger to the course may affect his game to some extent."

Jacklin, the Redcoat Britisher who would like to wear a Green Coat Sunday evening, has strong support as a possible winner here.

When he won the Jacksonville Open a couple weeks ago, he became the only British pro to win on the American tour and he has tremendous confidence to go with his fine game.

The 23-year-old Britisher teed off at 10:38 with Billy Casper, who just finished 36 holes on Monday to win the Greensboro Open.

"I'm feeling better this year more than ever before and maybe that's the secret," Jacklin said.

SHOOTING WELL
He said he was three under for 11 holes in his practice round Tuesday and five under in his 18 holes yesterday, in which he birdied all of the par-3s.

"The course is playing a little longer because of the rain, but it's in fantastically good shape," said Casper. "I feel my win at Greensboro has given me a certain momentum which hope will carry me through the Masters."

Yancey isn't a newcomer to the PGA tour or to the Masters, and last year he made a strong bid right to the final round, finishing third behind Brewer and Bobby Nichols, four shots behind the winner with 284.

Among the early tee times, Weiskopf went off at 10:03 with George Knudson, Ken Ventur and Bob Charles went out at 11:01.

Soap Box Derby Run on County Schedule

Hey kids! Grab those scrap pieces of lumber, some nuts and bolts and get ready for the 1968 Soap Box Derby.

The first competition since the early 1940's is on tap this year in northern Oakland County. The event is slated for July 20 at the Oakland County Service Center.

The way was paved for the Derby earlier this week at a meeting of officials of the county Parks and Recreation Commission and Chevrolet representatives at the county courthouse.

Sponsoring the event will be the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission, Junior Chamber of Commerce organizations and six area Chevrolet dealers.

Dealers participating in the Derby are Rademacher of Clarkston; Al Hanout of Lake Orion; Grissman of Rochester; Taylor of Walled Lake; Matthews-Hargreaves of Pontiac; and Van Camp of Milford.

RULES READY
The dealers have rule books in stock now, which include instructions for building a car. Boys age 11-15 are eligible for the Derby.

The 1968 Oakland County champion will receive a trophy and $500 savings bond from Chevrolet and an expense-paid trip to Akron, Ohio, to compete in the finals. Some 250 champions from across the country will be on hand for the finals in Akron. At stake there will be $30,000 in college scholarships.

Cleveland Mound Ace Stops Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox new power movement hit an opening day short circuit. But Sox Manager Eddie Stanky shrugged off a two-hit shutout by Cleveland's Sonny Siebert.

Stanky's remodeled array of his eight best hitters fell 9-0 Wednesday before a dismal inaugural crowd of 7,756 which saw an extra-base Indian uprising against starter Joe Horlen and three Sox firemen.

"Siebert simply pitched a fine, strong game and we got hammered," said Stanky, whose power trio of ex-New York Met Tommy Davis, Pete Ward and Ken Boyer produced one futile single in a total of 10 trips. Boyer got one of the two singles off 30-year-old Siebert.

SPECIAL SHOCKS — Navy armored troop carriers now have shipboard shock protection chairs and deck platforms equipped with the outer jacket of the new General Motors energy-absorbing steering column. The jacket minimizes injuries to combat troops when underwater explosions,

The outer jacket, which is the principal energy absorption unit of the automotive column, has been utilized by the Navy in the development of shipboard equipment designed to withstand shock from underwater explosions such as the hidden mines encountered in the Vietnam waterways.

Application of this energy-absorbing principle for shipboard equipment was developed by Frank Whitten, an engineer at the Naval Ship Research and Development Center, near Washington, D. C.

In an automobile collision, he reasoned, the steering column can compress as much as 8 1/4 inches at a controlled rate in the event of an impact. "Why couldn't the compressible section be used as shipboard equipment under seals and decks to protect GIs from damaging 'underwater shock'?" Whitten asked.

According to the center, river patrol boats now in use by troops in Vietnam have been equipped with thousands of shock protection chairs and deck platforms. Each chair and each platform uses eight of the energy-absorbing jackets.

The energy-absorbing steering column, produced by General Motors Saginaw Steering Gear Division, Saginaw, has been standard equipment on all GM cars since the 1967-model introduction.

It was developed in cooperation with the GM Research and Engineering staffs and is the result of more than five years of exhaustive development and testing in the laboratory, at the JACKSON (AP) — Consumers Power Co. of Jackson registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington Wednesday for authority to sell and issue $55 million in first mortgage bonds maturing May 1, 1968.

Approval of the Michigan Public Service Commission and the Federal Power Commission was requested previously.

The bonds will go to finance $194 million in construction and improvement projects next year in 67 counties of the Lower Peninsula, where the company provides natural gas service to 773,000 customers and electric service to more than one million customers.

LBJ Nominates Aide as Postmaster General

WASHINGTON (AP)

President Johnson has moved quickly to replace Postmaster General Lawrence P. O'Brien, first Cabinet casualty of his "lame duck" administration, while making an official the expected appointment of Gen. Creighton W. Abrams as U.S. commander in Vietnam.

BURDEN IS 'TAXING'

in Other Lands, Too

The President told White House newsmen Wednesday he had accepted O'Brien's resignation and had nominated W. Mark

Watson, now presidential appointments secretary, to fill the Cabinet post.

BY JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy taxes, burdened by taxes, and always of the nation's total output of goods and services. Nevertheless, Americans may take some solace in recent studies that show that it is the same pattern prevails all over the world.

This same study, by the First National City Bank of New York, shows the United States and Canada have a tax percentage of 28.2 per cent of gross national product and growing.

NEAR BOTTOM

Still, both countries are near the bottom of the list. Among other percentages are France which is 38.6, Norway 35.8, Netherlands 35.7, Australia 31.5, Germany 31.6, Denmark 31.6, Italy 29.1.

Switzerland, with a percentage of 21.7, and Japan, at 19.3, have less taxation.

Nevertheless, the pain of taxes is perhaps felt more acutely in the United States. Taxes here are direct: the principal source of revenue is from personal and corporate incomes. In other industrialized nations the emphasis is on spending taxes.

Because the burden is heavily on incomes, an increase in the U.S. standard of living is generally accompanied by an increase in the amount that must be set aside for taxes.

HIGHEST IN U.S.

Corporate income taxes in the United States are higher than in any other country. In 1966, U.S. corporate taxes equaled 4.6 per cent of the Gross National Product, compared with 2.3 per cent in Germany and 1.9 in France.

In many European nations the taxes are disguised. They are indirect. The source of revenue generally is from taxes on purchases rather than incomes. In England, for example, taxes recently were raised on the purchase of alcohol, tobacco and gasoline.

Taxes also are levied in Europe on values added to products in the manufacturing process; they are collected from excises on commodities, from customs duties and registrations.

Because of this heavy U.S. concentration on earnings taxes, the First National City Bank of New York, which played an initial role in the tax debates of the early 1960s, now feels that studies are needed to seek a broader federal tax base.

EXPLANATION SOUGHT

One factor that worries the bank is that American corporate taxes, the highest in the world, may damage U.S. efforts to balance its trade with Europe, which does not emphasize corporate income taxes.

An even broader concern also seeks an explanation.

Consider this: In the popular thinking, lower tax levels indicate a society that favors individual initiative, decisions, freedom, free enterprise and economic prosperity. Higher taxes express a society in which the state is more dominant, a state often associated with economic sluggishness and bureaucratic bumbling.

Somewhere in this generalization about taxes and prosperity there seems to be a contradiction. If low taxation leads to economic growth, why have taxes risen sharply during a period of great economic expansion?

There is no simple answer. Instead, there is a big bone there for analysts to gnaw on for many years before digesting.

In Sweden, for example, 1957 taxes were less than 30 per cent of the nation's total output of goods and services. Nevertheless, Americans may take some solace in recent studies that show that it is the same pattern prevails all over the world.

This same study, by the First National City Bank of New York, shows the United States and Canada have a tax percentage of 28.2 per cent of gross national product and growing.

Still, both countries are near the bottom of the list. Among other percentages are France which is 38.6, Norway 35.8, Netherlands 35.7, Australia 31.5, Germany 31.6, Denmark 31.6, Italy 29.1.

Switzerland, with a percentage of 21.7, and Japan, at 19.3, have less taxation.

Nevertheless, the pain of taxes is perhaps felt more acutely in the United States. Taxes here are direct: the principal source of revenue is from personal and corporate incomes. In other industrialized nations the emphasis is on spending taxes.

Because the burden is heavily on incomes, an increase in the U.S. standard of living is generally accompanied by an increase in the amount that must be set aside for taxes.

HIGHEST IN U.S.

Corporate income taxes in the United States are higher than in any other country. In 1966, U.S. corporate taxes equaled 4.6 per cent of the Gross National Product, compared with 2.3 per cent in Germany and 1.9 in France.

In many European nations the taxes are disguised. They are indirect. The source of revenue generally is from taxes on purchases rather than incomes. In England, for example, taxes recently were raised on the purchase of alcohol, tobacco and gasoline.

Taxes also are levied in Europe on values added to products in the manufacturing process; they are collected from excises on commodities, from customs duties and registrations.

Because of this heavy U.S. concentration on earnings taxes, the First National City Bank of New York, which played an initial role in the tax debates of the early 1960s, now feels that studies are needed to seek a broader federal tax base.

EXPLANATION SOUGHT

One factor that worries the bank is that American corporate taxes, the highest in the world, may damage U.S. efforts to balance its trade with Europe, which does not emphasize corporate income taxes.

An even broader concern also seeks an explanation.

Consider this: In the popular thinking, lower tax levels indicate a society that favors individual initiative, decisions, freedom, free enterprise and economic prosperity. Higher taxes express a society in which the state is more dominant, a state often associated with economic sluggishness and bureaucratic bumbling.

Somewhere in this generalization about taxes and prosperity there seems to be a contradiction. If low taxation leads to economic growth, why have taxes risen sharply during a period of great economic expansion?

There is no simple answer. Instead, there is a big bone there for analysts to gnaw on for many years before digesting.

Sen. McCarthy

Responding to sentiment against the war in Vietnam, Minnesota Democratic Senator Eugene J. McCarthy has spoken against President Johnson's policies. A thinking liberal, McCarthy has authored several books in the political vein. McCarthy, a former educator, has said "party unity is not a sufficient excuse for silence." Here are visual highlights in a career during which McCarthy has served his state in both houses of Congress.

Speak for Yourself, Gene

And the Minnesota senator is doing just that after beating the drums in prior years for his colleague, the then-Senator Hubert H. Humphrey. In 1956, above, McCarthy stumped unsuccessfully to get Humphrey nominated as vice-president to run with Adlai Stevenson on the Democratic ticket. He is seen with Stevenson's campaign manager, James Flinnigan. At top right, McCarthy holds Humphrey photo in 1958 when he was cochairman of a Humphrey-for-President campaign—again unsuccessful. McCarthy and McCarthy in 1964, bottom right, were competitors for second place on the Democratic slate after Johnson ruled out any cabinet members. Humphrey won the nomination and the vice-presidency.

SURROUNDED by signs and well-wishers, McCarthy arrives in Minneapolis, Minn., to campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination. He told Minnesota Concerned Democrats the Vietnam war issue "must be taken to the people."

Detroit Police Rescue 17 in House Blaze

DETROIT (AP) — Police awakened four adults and 12 children and led them to safety, then braved smoke and flames to rescue an infant from a house fire in Detroit Wednesday.

Seven officers in a two-car patrol spotted the blaze in the basement of a two-story frame home on the city's East Side.

After leading 16 persons to safety, they were told an infant remained in the home. Plunging through smoke and flames, the officers brought the child out unharmed.

Those rescued are James Pringle, 27, and his three children; Elouise Kelley, 21, and her five children; Patricia Griggs and her four children; and Dorothy Bradford and her one child.

The officers credited with the rescue are Sgt. Geoffrey McDowell and Patrolmen Ira Klinefelter, Terrence DeCausin, Daniel Ellis, Steven Piku, Lester Scitti and Dennis Ellis.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission has announced Edward R. Vaughan is eligible for appointment by President Johnson as South Haven, Mich., postmaster.

Vaughan, now acting postmaster, was the only applicant for a presidential appointment. The job pays $8,846 a year.

5 Kansas City Negroes Die in 2nd Night of Riot

By The Associated Press

Five Negroes died during a second night of racial violence in Kansas City, Mo., but elsewhere there were only scattered and sporadic incidents as the nation's troubled cities edged back toward normalcy.

The deaths raised to 39 the national toll in the wave of rioting and disorders that followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. one week ago today.

Jobless Tags for Four Towns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Boyne City and Manvela have been added to the U.S. Labor Department's April list of cities with "substantial and persistent" unemployment.

The Labor Department also has changed its listing of unemployment in Hancock and Petoskey from substantial to persistent.

The designations reflect current and anticipated unemployment — at least six per cent of the work force. Such areas are thereby qualified for assistance under the Public Works and Economic Development Act, federal procurement programs.

4,791 to Be Given State Scholarships

LANSING (AP) — State scholarship aid will be awarded to 4,791 of the some 31,000 Michigan high school students who sought the awards through competitive examinations this year.

The awards, ranging from $100 to $800 a college academic year, will average about $400 this year compared to a $350 increased last year, reflecting an increased cost in higher education.

The State Board of Education said 19,938 students qualified for the grants.

Actor Guzzles for Art's Sake

COVENTRY, England (AP) — The role calls for a henpecked husband who drowns his woes in beer, and producer Roger Redford ruled out cold tea as a substitute for the real thing.

So 35-year-old actor Peter Needham guzzles seven pints of beer at each performance of "Saturday Night at the Crown." On Saturday, when there is a matinee also, he has to put away 14 pints.

"I drink wine myself," said Needham. "All those pints of beer made me tipsy on stage, but it was authentic, I suppose."

Christine Kaufmann Wins Divorce

Charging "he was very rude to me," Actress Christine Kaufmann, 23, has won an uncontested divorce from actor Tony Curtis.

Curtis, 41, didn't attend the five-minute hearing yesterday in Los Angeles Superior Court. Miss Kaufmann testified that she became nervous and lost weight during the nearly five years they were together. Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

The German-born actress became Curtis' second wife in a ceremony Feb. 8, 1963, at Las Vegas. A separation was announced last November.

Curtis and Miss Kaufmann have two daughters, Allegra, 1, and Alexandra, 3. It was Miss Kaufmann's first marriage.

Curtis has said he plans to marry model Leslie Allen, 24, of Newton, Mass. Friends of the actor say the couple will marry April 20 in Beverly Hills.

The girls—Rachael Elaine, 19, Laura Lynn, 18, and Edna Carolyn, 16—will marry three sailors stationed together on a ship in Long Beach harbor.

The weddings will be performed by Elder James P. Sandefur of the Shiloh Primitive Baptist Church.

"I have no idea how I'm going to perform a quadruple ceremony," Sandefur said yesterday. "I've never done it before."

Gravlin Gets Mandatory Life Sentence

William G. Gravlin of Troy was sentenced to life in prison this morning for first-degree murder in connection with the slaying of all seven members of his family in September 1964.

Immediately following the sentencing, Gravlin's attorney, Joseph L. Hardig Jr., said he would appeal the conviction.

Oakland County Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn imposed the sentence, which is mandatory for the offense under Michigan law.

The law also prohibits a person convicted of first-degree murder to be paroled.

Gravlin, 34, was found guilty by Thorburn following a 3½-week jury trial last month.

'KNEW DIFFERENCE'

He was tried only for the death of his 16-year-old stepdaughter, Judith Ann Bentley, though he was accused of killing his wife, daughter, and four other stepchildren.

Hardig had argued that Gravlin was insane at the time of the crime, but Judge Thorburn, basing his decision on the testimony of three psychiatrists, ruled that Gravlin knew the difference between right and wrong.

He said it was his opinion that though Gravlin suffered a mental disorder he was not insane.

Gravlin had never stood trial because he was committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane in January 1965. He was released last November when he was declared mentally capable of assisting in his own defense.

States Study Transplants

Legal Tangle Seen
5 Bills Already OK'd

CHICAGO (AP)—Lawmakers in a half-dozen states have acted to clear away the legal obstacles that could block transplants of hearts and other organs, a nationwide survey by the Associated Press shows.

Bar associations and medical societies in some other states are studying the subject.

However, the National Academy of Science's new Board of Medicine has urged the nation's surgeons to take a cautious approach in developing heart transplantation techniques.

"The procedure cannot as yet be regarded as an accepted form of therapy, even a heroic one," the board said. "It must be viewed for what it is, a scientific exploration of the unknown."

The board proposed guidelines that would restrict heart transplants to a "relatively small number" of minutely controlled operations performed at only the best qualified institutions and overseen by numerous independent experts.

Some clergymen and other groups, in studying the complex ethical problems of heart transplants, have raised such questions as:

- What determines the time of the donor's death—the cessation of heart or brain action?

- Who will determine among the many persons who need a new healthy heart which ones will receive the relatively few available.

The legislatures have not gone into these questions, and the laws passed or under consideration apply to the transplantation of all internal organs.

6 STATES WEIGH LAWS
Organ transplant bills were taken up by lawmakers this year in Virginia, California, Kansas, South Carolina, Maryland and Oklahoma.

The Virginia General Assembly passed a sweeping law, backed by the Medical Society of Virginia, that would make vital organs of the recently dead available for surgical transplant.

The law, which becomes effective at the end of June, provides that the chief medical examiner or his deputies may release a vital organ from a dead person under their jurisdiction provided:

- A patient is in immediate need for an internal organ as a transplant.

- There is insufficient time to contact the next of kin in order to maintain the health of the organ to be transplanted and no known objection is foreseen from the next of kin.

- The organ removed from the dead person will not interfere with the medical examiner's investigation or autopsy.

The Kansas Legislature adopted a bill providing that any competent person may donate body organs to another person.

Upon death, the person's spouse, adult child or parent—in that order—may donate the dead person's heart or any other body organ if this has been requested by the person before death.

QUESTIONS IN CALIFORNIA

Three bills dealing with organ transplants before lawmakers in California. Several assemblies have urged that a joint assembly committee be appointed to go into such questions as when is a person considered legally dead, or who has the right to authorize the transplant, or what problems will arise if the transplanted organ harms the recipient.

The Maryland Legislature passed a bill which would give the proposed donor of tissues and organs the exclusive right to revoke the decision.

Present law gives the next of kin 72 hours after the proposed donor's death to revoke—too late for useful transplants in most cases.

The South Carolina Senate and the Oklahoma House passed bills designed to remove any implied warranty that blood used in transplants or organs used in transplants are without defect.

The legislation would protect surgeons from legal responsibility in the event of failure of transplanted organs or hepatitis after a blood transfusion.

Surgeons still would be liable for damage suits for negligence or faulty procedures.

Plans for M59 in White Lake, Highland Still Up in Air

While plans have been made for the improvement of a two-mile stretch of M59 in Waterford Township, the timetable for the modernization of the state highway through the remaining portion of western Oakland County remains a question. Lyle Lipp, assistant district construction engineer for the Michigan Highway Department in Pontiac, said today that even long-range planning hasn't been formulated for the 13-mile section through White Lake and Highland townships.

The only programmed project at this time, he said, is the widening of the road to two to five lanes between Airport and Williams Lake roads.

Construction is expected to begin in the summer of 1969 with completion scheduled for December 1970. Engineering estimates place the cost of the project at $850,000.

The road already has been widened from Telegraph to U.S. 23 in Livingston County or completely relocated through the area.

Eventually, the new highway will extend to Mount Clemens. The highway was relocated on the east side of the county, and presently extends from Pontiac to Auburn (Old M59) at a point midway between Rochester and Livernois roads in Avon Township. The human brain contains some 100 billion nerve cells.

Congress Passes Landmark Open-Housing Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional passage of landmark open-housing legislation has won applause from civil rights leaders along with renewed demands for massive federal attacks on shabby housing and unemployment in riot-prone slums.

A 250-171 House vote yesterday sent to the White House a civil rights bill to outlaw discrimination in the sale or rental of 80 per cent of the nation's housing by 1970.

President Johnson said he would sign it into law as soon as possible.

Passage climaxed an emotional debate in which opponents charged the House capitulated to the Negro rioting.

"I think this bill is symbolic," explained Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La. "Either we move ahead as one people or we move toward a police state."

Ten of the 106 House members from 11 Southern states went along with the bill's supporters in a key 228-195 vote against sending the measure to conference with the Senate, where backers feared the housing provision would be watered down.

When fully effective, Jan. 1, 1970, the discrimination ban would cover all sales and rentals except those involving owners of single-family houses who sell or rent without using a real-estate agent and resident-owners of dwellings with four units or fewer.

The bill also provides protection for civil rights workers and demonstrators from threats and violence when they are engaged in lawful activities.

Sunday Liquor Bill Clears State House

LANSING (AP)—A bill which would put the question of legalizing Sunday liquor sales on the November election ballot squeaked through the House yesterday without a single vote to spare.

Given approval also as the deadline for passing bills approached were two bills to authorize more state school reorganization and one measure creating a property insurance pool for riot-threatened urban areas.

Midnight tonight is currently the Legislature's deadline for passing bills in their house of origin.

In the House, majority Republican leaders indicated they doubted the chamber could clear its three-page calendar without a deadline extension and probably a Good Friday session.

New Campaign for Rocky Starts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Encouraged by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's latest pronouncements of presidential availability, Republicans who want the New Yorker nominated for the White House have unleashed a new promotional effort.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky announced formation of a Rockefeller-for-president committee and said it would include a group of political and business leaders prominent in the GOP.

"I have said that I was available if the party wanted me," Rockefeller told a news conference yesterday in a Senate hallway.

The New York governor used that word—available—five times in the encounter.

However, despite the new effort in behalf of Rockefeller, a source close to the New York governor said it's probably too late to stop the march of Richard M. Nixon toward the Republican nomination.

determine local taxes, but the final budget will not be approved until this summer when teacher salaries and state income are known.

The $17.9-million budget is made up of almost $16.9 million in preliminary estimates and nearly $1 million for staff studies and salary increases.

Three of 29 staff studies presented last night and totaling about $50,000 were adopted for next year. Staff studies are possibilities for new personnel, services or programs. The approved ones are:

- $22,500 to hire 39 new instructional personnel to reduce class sizes, as recommended by the Finance Study Council.
- $72,325 to hire nine more special education teachers and buy textbooks and supplies.
- $10,835 for in-service training for instructional personnel and development of instructional guides for Afro-American history.

Thirty-nine new teachers would increase the total number of professional positions to 1,194. The new teachers would also include special teachers for individual help to pupils.

CLASSROOM POSITIONS

A major portion of the 39 positions are made up of classroom teaching positions and remedial reading teachers.

The ratio of professional personnel per 1,000 students would be increased from 47.34 to 48.77. A ratio of 50 professionals, has been set as a goal.

New special education teachers would include three for the emotionally handicapped (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 2)

The House bill, introduced by Rep. Frank Wierzbicki, D-Detroit, and supported by 40 Democrats and 18 Republicans, would permit any city, village or county to outlaw Sunday liquor by vote of its governing body.

Best Film: 'In the Heat of the Night'

Steiger, Hepburn, Nichols Win Oscars

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—"In the Heat of the Night" won five Oscars, including best-picture acclaim and best-actor honors for Rod Steiger, at the 40th Academy Awards ceremony last night.

Katharine Hepburn, 58, was named 1967's best motion picture actress as a perplexed mother whose daughter plans to marry a Negro in "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner."

Considered hotter contenders than Hepburn were Faye Dunaway of the explosive "Bonnie and Clyde" and Anne Bancroft, the neurotic who seduces a youth half her age in "The Graduate."

Steiger was acclaimed by Sidney Poller, the boyfriend taken home to "Dinner," and the Negro costar of Steiger in "Night" as "Probably the greatest actor in the world."

Steiger thanked Poller for giving him understanding of racial prejudice.

RACIAL PROBLEM IN PLOTS

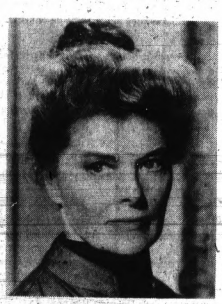

"In the Heat of the Night" and "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" dealt with the racial problem.

Mike Nichols, 47, nominated a year ago for "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?," won this time among directors for "The Graduate."

Broadway's Estelle Parsons in "Bonnie and Clyde."

Steiger nosed out Dustin Hoffman, a confused youth in "The Graduate," and Warren Beatty as the ruthless bank robber Clyde Barrow in "Bonnie and Clyde."

Reds Offer Warsaw as Peace Talk Site

MOSCOW (AP)—The official Soviet news agency Tass reported today that North Vietnam has suggested Warsaw as a site for preliminary peace talks with the United States.

Tass said in a dispatch from Hanoi it had learned from reliable sources there that the North Vietnamese government had decided on the Polish capital after the United States refused its first suggestion, Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital.

Tass said: "It is believed in Hanoi's authoritative circles that the U.S. refused to accept Phnom Penh as the meeting place may be taken to indicate that the United States delays solution of this question.

The Soviet news agency said North Vietnam had received a reply from the United States to its suggestion of Phnom Penh and this had "voiced disagreement."

"This decision by the United States cannot but cause wonder," Tass continued, "because the United States has repeatedly expressed willingness to send its representative to any point on the globe to establish contacts with a representative of the DRV, Democratic Republic of Vietnam."

The report said North Vietnam, "displaying good will," is ready to start contacts with the American side in any other mutually convenient place and suggested Warsaw.

Tass noted in expressing "wonder" about the U.S. position on Phnom Penh that Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk had agreed to a U.S.-North Vietnamese meeting in his capital and promised "all conditions will be created for it."

The dispatch also denied reports in the West about contacts between American and North Vietnamese representatives in Vietnam.

75 Hopefuls in Masters Tee Off in Sun Today

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

AUGUSTA, Ga.—After taking a drizzling for the past two days, the lush Augusta National Golf Course welcomed clear and sunny skies with temperatures expected in the high 70s for the 32nd presentation of the famous Masters Golf Championship.

Considered as the opening event on the summer golf tour and one of the "big three" in U.S. golf, along with the U.S. Open and the PGA, the prestigious Masters championship began today with 75 players in the field.

It is the smallest entry list in 10 years and one of the smallest fields in Masters history.

The smallest number of players ever to be invited was 42 in 1942 and the largest number of invitations extended was 110 in 1962.

Defending champion Gary Brewer, one of the three golfers to break the mystic hold that Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus have had on this golf classic, was a late starter today and surprisingly was not considered a strong choice to repeat this year.

School Tax Situation in Waterford Viewed

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the fourth in a five-part series on the financial problem facing Waterford Township schools. Today's questions directed to Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe deal with taxes.)

Question—When will you stop this cycle of asking for more money every few years?

Answer—Increased state aid or federal funding could half the periodic pleas for more local taxation for schools. And reform in financing Michigan schools is badly needed. Large inequalities exist among Michigan school districts, and the difficulty communities like Waterford face in trying to finance a reasonably good school program were highlighted in the recent Thomas Study authorized by the Michigan Legislature.

Our present revenue sources have not kept up with the inflationary costs that we have had to face. Increased local property taxes must come at this time to maintain a full program of education.

Q—When are taxes going down instead of up?

A—Frankly, I don't know. A serious recession could mean lower taxes through trimming of school and governmental services, but the depressed economy could make the lower tax a greater personal hardship to many because of unemployment, loss of overtime, etc.

Q—Is there any way to economize rather than raising taxes?

A—There are always ways to economize. It depends on whether economy requires too great a sacrifice of good education.

Since 65 per cent of our total budget goes to committed salaries and wages, major economies would of necessity occur in this budget area. Economy here would mean fewer teachers with larger classes, fewer maintenance people with larger loads and fewer clerical people providing smaller services.

Some economies could be effected in the 15 per cent of the budget after salaries and wages are committed. However, it must be noted that half to one-third of this 15 per cent covers fixed charges such as insurance and utilities.

Economies here would mean the elimination of equipment purchases and replacement, of in-service education, reductions in teaching supplies and materials and cur-

Has Wide-Open Convention Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Chairman John M. Bailey is taking the lead in a strong movement among Democratic organization members to avoid precautionary commitments to potential presidential nominees.

If the movement spreads as indicated, the Democrats could wind up in August with the kind of a wide-open convention politicians talk about but which seldom materializes.

Bailey said in a telephone interview that since President Johnson took himself out of consideration he intends to remain "absolutely neutral" in the nomination contest.

"I have a convention to run," he said, "and I am not going to take sides." Bailey indicated he expects to remain national chairman through the convention, after which the nominee usually picks his own man.

It is Bailey's stated intent to have the 44-vote Connecticut delegation, which presumably would have been behind Johnson, go to the Chicago convention uncommitted. He is state chairman as well as national chairman.

STRENGTH DIVIDED

Indications are that Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, and Eugene J. McCarthy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey all will have strength in the delegation and it can be expected to break wide open at the convention.

Only Kennedy and McCarthy have announced as candidates but Humphrey is poised to enter the race after Easter.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., expects to lead a 130-vote Pennsylvania delegation to Chicago under an uncommitted banner. Clark, a candidate for reelection, previously had said he would support Johnson.

Clark is keeping himself neutral in a contest in which the state Democratic organization leaders can be expected to urge delegate candidates previously backing Johnson to swing to Humphrey.

Delegate candidates supporting McCarthy and Kennedy are running in the April 23 Pennsylvania primary and some probably will be elected.

Senate Ups Millage Requirement

Schools Face Aid Cuts

LANSING (AP) — Local school districts with low millage rates today faced the possibility of state school aid cuts in fiscal 1968-70 unless they vote more local taxes.

The Senate passed the House approved, $374-million state school aid bill 28-4 yesterday, but amended the complex measure to boost minimum millage requirements for fiscal 1968-70.

The bill, the first fiscal 1968-69 appropriations bill to receive both House and Senate approval, now goes back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Moses went up on Mt. Sinai and when he came back he had the most important law of the Jewish people — from that time to this — the 10 Commandments. The celebration of the giving of the 10 Commandments is called Shavuoth and it is discussed in the fourth of five articles about the religious festivals of spring.)

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

On a peak of history, near noon, the world got its canons for character—its keys to civilization.

The instructions came, like lightning, in a desolate environment.

They pointed "a way in the wilderness" of uncertainties, let loose "rivers in the desert" of distress, and amid confusion, as traced in prophetic imagery, lifted up "an ensign for the nations."

"Then let us rejoice!" goes a Jewish hymn celebrating the occasion.

It happened far back in antiquity, and ever since, it has provided the basic pattern of public order, laid down the principles of human integrity and set the universal standards for organized society.

That landmark event is celebrated on Shavuoth, the Feast of the Weeks, the season of the giving of the decalogue — the 10 Commandments.

"A CANOPY OF SPLENDOR"

"Almighty God, o'er all supreme," the congregations chant from a prayer of praise, the Akdamuth. "Thrice holy He whose majesty fills earth from end to end, day and night shall be His light, a canopy of splendor."

For God's house is "for all peoples," declares the prophet Isaiah. "Let all the nations gather together, and let the peoples be assembled."

The observance comes late in the springtime sequence of joyful religious holidays, on the eve of summer, seven weeks after the Passover, and by the Hebrew calendar, on the 6th of Sivan, beginning this year at sundown June 2, and extending through the next day.

It also is known as the Feast of the Harvest, since it comes at the time the

The Senate, rushing to dispose of all Senate-origin bills in time to meet a deadline tomorrow and take a week-long Easter recess, also approved a controversial measure allowing package-junk dealers to operate within 500 feet of a church or school.

Other bills receiving Senate approval would:

- Provide for suspension of licenses of drivers who fail to answer traffic citations or a court summons.
- Boost state scholarship grants to students attending both private and state colleges.
- Authorize a November public referendum on a $100 million bond issue to acquire and develop state recreational facilities.
- Require schools to open on the first Wednesday after Labor Day unless otherwise provided by the local board.
- Limit general property tax assessments to 40 per cent of true cash value.
- Permit state income tax deductions for contributions to institutions of higher education in the state.
- Allow a county clerk to require marriage license applicants to present proof of age.

Guard Released From City Alert

Except for a modified continuation of the ban on sales of alcoholic beverages, the Pontiac area returned to normal yesterday after tension caused by the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., last Thursday.

Pontiac's Company E of the National Guard, which had been activated as a preparatory move, was released from active duty, according to a guard spokesman.

No local Army reserve units had been alerted or activated.

The week passed without major incidents in the city, according to Capt. Charles Gale, chief of Pontiac detectives.

He cited only several minor incidents as possibly having any connection with the King murder.

Police, who had worked over-time hours the previous six days, have returned to normal shifts.

Way Is Pointed for World

grain reaping is finished in Palestine, and when the first fruits ripen.

The celebration coincides, both in origin and observance, with the Christian Pentecost, marking the divine outpouring of spiritual understanding that revitalized Christ's apostles and started the church.

The two occasions correspond vividly in significance — both commemorating God's gift of guidance.

There's also another general resemblance in that just as followers of Christ were aroused on Pentecost to their obligation to carry on his mission, so the giving of the Commandments bound Israel to raise God's standards among men.

"If you will obey My voice and keep My covenant," came the divine promise to the Israelites, "you shall be My own possession among all peoples . . . and you shall be to Me a kingdom of priests and a holy nation."

As that Biblical covenant unfolds, God first had bestowed His grace freely in the deliverance from Egyptian slavery; making clear His redemptive support and asking nothing return, but afterward, the Commandments set man's part in the pact.

LIGHT IN DIM ERA

The mighty, illuminating code came in a dim era, more than 3,250 years ago, about 1,300 B.C., long before such advanced ideals had even been hinted in the predominant pagan empires of Egypt and Persia.

Historians have puzzled over how such elevated thought could have emanated so early from a comparatively meager, obscure community.

Even when the Biblical record was compiled in its present form, about 900-600 B.C., Israel remained a rustic, remote spot, totally overshadowed by the showy panoplies of Greece and Rome.

Yet strangely, as subsequent centuries unraveled, the old covenant worked its way, and the Commandments infiltrated the maturing governments and courts of men. Theologians call it one of the mysteries of Israel.

Her people, when the decalogue was first given, were a wandering, homeless lot. They had fled only seven weeks before from slavery under Pharaoh Ramses II, and were encamped in the wilderness of Sinai, beside a mountain of that name.

Their leader, Moses, in solitude on that height as the morning sun neared noon,

RUEL E. McPHERSON

Constable Will Run for Sheriff

Hazel Park Constable Ruel E. McPherson announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for the office of Oakland County sheriff in the August primary.

McPherson, 30, of 1729 E. Goulson was the Democratic nominee in the 1964 election.

An amateur wrestler, McPherson, said that, during his campaign, he will stress education and physical fitness to bring the sheriff's department up to State Police standards.

Further emphasis will be placed on upgrading present jail conditions and establishing youth programs, he said.

"The rising youth crime rate can and should be combated by providing programs of a physical and educational nature for our children," said McPherson, who in 1960 and 1964 qualified for the final Olympic wrestling trials.

EIGHTH YEAR

Now serving his eighth year as constable for the Hazel Park Municipal Court, McPherson has had specialized training in police procedures at Michigan State University and studied law enforcement at Oakland Community College.

Prior to his Municipal Court duties, McPherson was employed by Consumers Power Co. where he served as a union steward.

He was also head wrestling coach of Cranbrook High School in Bloomfield Hills and the Hazel Park Wrestling Club.

In an intense experience depicted by Scripture's graphic Hebrew literary style as thunder, churning clouds, smoke, lightning and a crescendo of trumpets, received the law.

A "crown of glory," the holiday ritual calls it. It is read in synagogue services for the day:

"You shall have no other gods before Me . . . You shall not make yourselves graven images or . . . bow down to them . . . You shall not take the name of the Lord your God in vain . . . Remember the sabbath . . . Honor your father and mother . . . You shall not kill. You shall not commit adultery. You shall not steal. You shall not bear false witness . . . You shall not covet . . ."

Curiously, while some casual notions quibble at the prohibitive nature of some of the laws, legal authorities recognize that specific prohibitions are the most liberating judicial approach, since it restricts only at limited points; leaving the broader areas free.

CONTINUING APPLICATION

The meaning of the principles also takes on continuing application in every age, warning against narrow gods of race, state, wealth or fame, and against reducing the infinite to some small-size image of a being-grandfather, a kind of deity the great statutes long ago called dead.

The classic code, in regard to God's name, doesn't simply refer to cusswords, but insists that the divine relationship be taken seriously. The Sabbath injunction points to the rhythm of life, to man's need for rest and renewal, as recognized in enlightened labor practices.

Respecting parents brings out the interdependent fabric of living, that a person's development is not in isolation, but involves obligations to teachers, home and others. Not coveting means not begrudging achievement by others, but mutual encouragement of it.

Regarding adultery, the Bible is not prudish about sex, but sees its misuse as personally harmful, and maintaining love includes fidelity. This, however, much violated, is the foundation of family life in all stable cultures, including polygamous ones.

The laws against lying, stealing and killing are the bedrock of civic order, with much wider moral implications when such modern evils as starvation deaths are seen as indirectly attributable to the hoarding of the affluent.

BEA Salary Schedule Is Proposed

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Education Association (BEA) has made its initial salary proposal for the 1968-69 school year to the board of education.

The new package, which BEA Executive Secretary Don Cameron contends is "very reasonable," would cost the board $1,255,000.

Richard Zwickback, director of personnel relations and head of the board negotiating team, said he felt the BEA's offer would lead to "a meaningful bargaining," while Superintendent John B. Smith termed the recent first meeting "encouraging."

The board will present its counterproposal at the next meeting between the teams, scheduled for April 18. Also, the board and BEA will exchange and discuss school calendar proposals.

Birmingham's annual Easter egg hunt, sponsored by the Jaycees, will take place Saturday at Elton Park, located at Elton and E. Lincoln.

Marijuana Case Hearing Is Set

Four youths from Farmington Township charged with possession of narcotics stood mute at their arraignment yesterday and were released on $1,000 bond.

Waterford Township Justice Patrick K. Daly set examination for 1:30 p.m. April 24. The four were in a group of eight youths arrested at 1 p.m. Tuesday, in a car at Orchard Lake and Northwestern West Bloomfield Township, by Pontiac State Police.

The other four, two from Farmington Township and two from Birmingham, are below age 16 and their cases were turned over to juvenile authorities.

State Police said they found a water pipe and a substance later identified as marijuana in the car after they stopped it for investigation of a charge of speeding.

The four facing the felony charge were identified as James F. Griswold, 17, of 3247 Bennett Rd., Bruce Barton, 16, of 2850 Loripack; Gregory A. Warren, 17, of 3013 Club House; and Thomas G. Martilla, 17, of 30127 Ravenscroft.

Resource Center Setup Told

Pontiac's elementary school Human Resources Center is being designed to focus on individualized education, with new use of classroom space, its designers said last night.

A progress report on planning for the $3.8-million complex, to be built east of city hall and the school administration building, was given to the board of education by Urban Design Associates (UDA) of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The proposed center will serve all the pupils of McConnell, Central and Baldwin schools and parts of Wilson, McCarrill, Twain and Longfellow schools.

Bernard Berkin of UDA, a former principal in Chicago, said a unique aspect of the project would be the approach toward individualized education.

Pontiac School Affairs

He said UDA's preliminary architectural plans would encompass "mass" education for about 2,200 children and at the same time meet individual needs.

NEW KIND OF ARCHITECTURE

"We are planning a new kind of architecture and use of teaching space," explained Raymond Gindroz of UDA.

Conventional classrooms will be out. Small, flexible classroom areas with lots of open spaces will be in. There would be practically no walls.

The curriculum will be based on free movement of students from one instructional area to another, according to Gindroz.

Gindroz proposed that up-and-down sliding blackboards and book cases that move could be used to convert larger rooms into small class areas. This would eliminate wasted space, he said.

Separate class areas could include spaces for discussion, remedial reading, project work, individual units or study, for example.

MULTILEVEL COMPLEX

It would be a multilevel complex of buildings, rolling with the terrain. Ceiling heights would vary from seven to 14 feet.

Both UDA representatives said discipline problems have been found to be minimal in such an open-space arrangement.

"If a kid sees he's involved in so many activities (in the instructional areas), he'll know he counts," Berkin commented.

Other proposed features are continuous progress of students — no grade levels, with pupils progressing at their own rates — cooperative teaching and a carpeted building.

UDA's proposals have not been adopted by the fire marshal or board of education. The firm is meeting with teachers today to discuss the design.

PURCHASE PLAN SCRAPPED

In other business concerning school facilities, the board tabled a recommendation to purchase a two-classroom transportable unit for Whittier Elementary School because of opposition from the audience.

The board also praised the work of parents and children at Herrington Elementary School for working Sunday to clean up the school, damaged by a $70,000 fire, in order to have it open Monday.

Fees for Summer School Increased for Nonresidents

Out-of-district pupils who attend Pontiac's summer school will be paying higher fees this summer, while principals and teachers will get raises of 50 cents an hour.

The board of education approved these changes last night to reduce an expected summer school deficit of about $9,000.

Pupils residing outside the school district will pay increases of 10 per cent over last year. The new rates are:

- Elementary — $33 for a five-week term.
- Secondary (six weeks) — $27.50 for two hours of instruction; $38.50 for four hours and $55 for six hours.
- Instrumental music —

$9.35 for 3-one hour sessions per week for six weeks.

Fees for school district students remain unchanged.

New salaries will be:

• Senior high school principal — $6.50 per hour for a seven-hour day.

• Junior high school principal — $6.50 per hour for a five-hour day.

• Elementary teaching principal — $66 above the regular summer school teachers' salary.

PRESENTED FIGURES

• Teachers — $5.50 per hour. Senior high school teachers who teach more than four hours per day will be paid $6.50 per hour beyond four hours.

Asst. Supt. William Lacy presented figures which showed Pontiac had among the lowest salaries and student fees in 1967.

A deficit of $3,102 was recorded in 1967 with 1,015 students. The deficit was $5,350 in 1968 with 1,157 students.

Concerning another program, a report was heard that 314 preschool children are attending six Head Start centers. Two-thirds of the children are Negroes.

The program, which resumed March 11, will run to June 13. A summer program will be held at four elementary schools.

Relieve Tension of Towel Roller

When tension on the paper towel holder makes it difficult to remove the paper towels without tearing them, you can lessen the tension with a towel rod run through the towel core.

Use a rod just long enough to spread holder ends slightly, removing some of the pressure. Then you will find that the roller will not tear the paper towels.

Burden Is 'Taxing' in Other Lands, Too

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavily burdened by taxes, and always faced with the prospect of more, Americans may take some solace in recent studies that show the same pattern prevails all over the industrialized world.

The trend to more taxes is strong. In the 10 years through 1968, the burden of the tax burden has increased faster than the economy in every one of the world's largest industrial nations. And most of these economies were growing swiftly.
