McCarthy Says Charge Against Army Is True

Senator Quizzed About Blackmail Claims as Probe Nears End

WASHINGTON (A P)—Sen. McCarthy, in possibly the final day of the McCarthy-Army hearings, declared under oath today that "everything" in his charges of "blackmail" and undue interference against Army officials is true.

To questioning by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) about the "truth or falsity" of the McCarthy countercharges in the dispute, McCarthy asserted:

"Senator, everything in this answer, so far as I know, is true." McClellan had observed that one of the McCarthy charges was that Secretary of the Army Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams tried to shield "those who in turn have protected Fifth Amendment Communists."

The Army brought charges against McCarthy and his staff of using "improper means" to obtain preferential treatment for G. David Schine, the committee's unpaid millionaire consultant who was drafted into the Army.

In reply, McCarthy charged that the Army sought to use Schine as a "hostage" to "blackmail" the subcommittee into calling off his investigation of Communist infiltration of the Army's radar laboratories at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

McClellan asked whether McCarthy thought Stevens and Adams knew the Army was "coddling" Communists through failure of the security-loyalty screening board to oust suspected subversives.

McCarthy replied they knew his investigating subcommittee had learned that "consistently, people with Communist records" who had been removed from the Story of Onassis Running in Press

What is the mystery about Aristotelis Socrates Onassis?

He's worth $300,000,000 and he built his fortune from an original stake of $100.

He's involved in a deal over old American ships, which won't be legally settled for another year or two.

He recently bought up Monte Carlo and its Casino, just to get the office space he wanted for his mammoth shipping business.

He is camera and publicity shy, but Joachim Joesten, a New York reporter, recently succeeded in getting a most rare interview with him.

His story starts in the Press today on page 26.

Tuesday Breaks 81-Year Record

Searing Weather to Stay Through Thursday, Friday

Temperatures soaring to the highest June 15 figure in 81 years sent local residents reeling under another hot blast yesterday.

The ever-climbing mercury reached a stifling high of 92 before a late afternoon thunderstorm brought cooler temperatures. The previous high was 90 in 1947.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts another 90-plus day today, and also tomorrow, before possible relief arrives Friday.

The storm, which moved in at 5 p. m., dropped temperatures from 88 to 76 in 25 minutes. A further dip to 70 followed, and after a low of 68 last night, the climb began again this morning.

At 8 a. m. it was 72, and reached 84 at 1 p. m. If today and tomorrow hit the expected high temperatures, it will be the fourth day in a row for figures in the 90s. Similar 90s were recorded June 10 and 12, with at least 88 degrees each day since the beginning of the heat wave June 8.

Yesterday's storm winged in on winds of up to 55 miles per hour. It struck Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township, and heavy rains stopped traffic briefly on Telegraph road and Woodward avenue.

A bolt of lightning struck the beach at Cass Dodge Park No. 4,

No '56 Prediction for Re-election Is Made by Ike

WASHINGTON (U-P)—President Eisenhower said today he is giving no thought now as to whether he will seek re-election in 1956.

The President's remarks regarding 1956 were touched off by a newsman's reminder that Eisenhower's chief aide, Sherman Adams, suggested last week that Eisenhower might not run for the presidency if the Republicans were to lose control of Congress in the elections this fall.

Eisenhower was asked whether such a political development in November might have this effect on his plans.

He paused for a moment, then laughed. Then Eisenhower went on to say that to his best knowledge the matter of what he will do in 1956 never yet has been discussed with him, except perhaps in a facetious manner.

The President said he was not going to make any prediction on that matter. He added, to a round of laughter, that what happens then is sufficient unto the day and the evils thereof.

Bolt of Lightning Crashes Through Home, Misses 2

Mrs. Edwin Genack of Commerce and her daughter, De Anne, 13, had an electrifying experience yesterday that would literally make your hair stand on end.

They were sitting about 10 feet apart in the living room of their home at 3861 Benet Rd. when a bolt of lightning crashed inside through an open front window.

The thunderbolt shot between them, ricocheted through the house shattering plaster and fusing wires, and exited through the roof, tearing a jagged hole and scattering shingles over the yard.

Mother and daughter were uninjured.

Bomb Inventor Doubtful About Oppenheimer

Dr. Teller Wishes He 'Understood' Scientist; Transcript Released

WASHINGTON (A P)—The man credited by many atomic scientists with unlocking the door to the hydrogen bomb says he would feel safer if Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer did not have custody of the nation's vital secrets.

The scientist is Dr. Edward Teller, 46-year-old University of California professor, who said he regards Oppenheimer as a loyal American but questions his wisdom and judgment.

Oppenheimer himself calls Teller the "principal inventor" of the fearful H-bomb.

But even as Dr. Teller expressed some reservations about Oppenheimer, father of the atomic bomb during World War II, many of the key men who worked shoulder to shoulder with him in top secret projects rallied to Oppenheimer's defense.

They say he was a man of complete loyalty, integrity and devotion to his country.

On the other side of the picture, William L. Borden, former executive secretary of the Senate House Atomic Energy committee, described Oppenheimer as "more probably than not an agent of the Soviet Union."

Teller said he regarded Oppenheimer as loyal, but said "I would like to see the vital interests of this country in hands which I understand better, and therefore trust more."

All this conflicting testimony—and a backstage account of the momentous, tortuous development of the H-bomb—was disclosed in the release of the transcript of hearings before a special security board of the Atomic Energy Commission.

The board ruled on May 27 that Oppenheimer was a loyal American and a discreet one. But, in a 2-1 split, it said the famed physicist with the crew haircut was a security risk—not entitled any more Millard said one of his assistants, Walter Taylor, would go to Caro this afternoon to discuss the case with Pros. Atty. Bruce D. White and determine whether prosecution should be started.

Martin said that a shortage was discovered earlier by township officials and that Cargill made a "deposit" of $3,466 to cover the shortage. The state audit showed $2,685 still short, he said.

Bill on Indochina Readied by U.N.

Thailand to Introduce Plan for 'Peace Patrol' on Her Own Territory

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (U-P)—The first draft resolution ever to call for U.N. action on the war in Indochina was readied for introduction today in the Security Council. Russia is expected to veto it when the council finally gets to a vote.

Diplomatic sources said Thailand would introduce the draft, providing for a U.N. "peace patrol" on her own territory.

Polo Sarasin, Thai ambassador to Washington, and U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. were slated to speak in support of the resolution.

As drafted, the resolution would have the council sympathize with Thailand's concern at developments in Southeast Asia, without referring specifically to the war in neighboring Indochina.

It would ask the 14-nation Peace Observation Commission to send a subcommittee of three to five members to Thailand to observe and report on any threats to international peace and security.

To forestall French objections, the resolution would require the peace patrol to ask permission from its parent commission and the council before it could go anywhere outside Thailand.

Forces of the Communist-led Vietminh are now active in all three of the French-allied states of Indochina though most of them are in Viet Nam. Thailand is worried particularly about those in Laos and Cambodia, on her eastern frontier.

3 Citizens to Study Handling of Blaze

BIRMINGHAM — Mayor Charles Renfrew today named three citizens to investigate possible negligence of firemen at a fire which killed three persons Monday.

Appointed to the board of inquiry were: Jonathan M. Ball, president of the Chamber of Commerce and a local businessman; James Spencer, an attorney and chairman of the City Planning Board, and Charles B. Kaff, an engineer.

The first meeting is scheduled after Thursday, when Spencer is expected to return from New York City. Renfrew said the board's purpose is to make "a thorough and conclusive study" of the fire in which Mrs. Maureen Couper, 40, and her two sons, Lawrence, 14, and Thomas Daniel, 12, suffocated.

Several citizens have criticized the fire department's methods at the blaze. Meanwhile, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital aides reported Lawrence W. Cross Sr., 62, was improving and in good condition. Mrs. Couper's father, Cross was visiting the Couper home at 1189 Brookwood at the time of the $50,000 blaze and was rescued by firemen. He lives in Phoenix, Ariz.

Adlai Will Stop in Birmingham

Most Democrats Won't Be Attending Garden Party Thursday

By JEANNE J. LUDTGE

BIRMINGHAM — Most of Birmingham's Democratic Club members won't be attending the Birmingham garden party at which Adlai Stevenson will be honored tomorrow afternoon.

Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, will stop for one hour at the Judy Lane home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Goldstein. The visit will be part of a one-day whirlwind tour of Michigan.

His local visit is being sponsored by Volunteers for Stevenson, an independent group which grew out of the 1952 election campaign. Goldstein is its state chairman.

Oakland County's Democratic chairman, Willis M. Brewer of Pontiac, said today he will not attend, since the "rank and file" of Oakland County Democrats are not invited.

Stevenson's visit to Davison and Detroit, other stops on his tour, have been arranged by the Genesee County and Wayne County Democratic committees.

Brewer said plans for the local affair had been made by Neil Staebler, state Democratic chairman, who did not confer with him. This, he said, is not the usual procedure.

In Detroit, a party spokesman of the State Central Committee stated:

"Mr. Stevenson asked for time to see the people who supported him independently. There are probably hundreds of people throughout Michigan who want to see him, but that would not be possible. Consequently, this time was made available to the Volunteers for Stevenson organization."

Brewer said that several Democratic clubs in the county had by letter to Staebler protested the Birmingham arrangements for Stevenson's visit.

Stevenson is expected to speak briefly on the national economy and unemployment during his stop here from 5:30 to 6:30 p. m. From here he will go to the Wayne County reception at the Masonic Temple in Detroit.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will accompany him on the tour, which will start in Lansing at 9 a. m.

Pontiac Man Is Injured as Auto Turns Over

Robert Atkinson, 33, of 99 Virginia Ave. was treated at St. Joseph Hospital for cuts and bruises Tuesday night after the auto in which he was riding turned over in front of 1755 Square Lake Rd., Bloomfield Township.

The driver, Brent Lee Hart, 22, of 2585 Dixie Hwy., told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he lost control of the car while trying to negotiate a curve. Hart escaped injury.

Old Blenheim bridge across Schoharie creek, at North Blenheim, N. Y., is said to be the world's longest covered single-span wooden bridge, 232 feet long.

Wilmut, of 74 Iroquois Rd., is a member and a past president of the Pontiac Exchange Club and was elected by the State Board of Control during a three-day convention there.

Auto, Trucks Collide, Killing State Couple

LANSING — Leo F. Zimmer, 38, and his wife, Marguerite, 36, were killed last night when their auto collided with two trucks near the couple's home south of the Lansing city limits on US 127.

Lansing County sheriff's officers said the Zimmer car apparently crossed the road in the path of the tanker and a panel truck.

The Zimmermans were the parents of nine children, ranging in age up to 16 years. Zimmer was employed at a Lansing auto factory.

Gasoline truck driver, Duane Hine, 29, of Leslie, was treated for cuts and bruises. The driver of the panel truck, William Overton, 40, of Pontiac, was killed. One of the trucks, a 40-ton gasoline tanker, overturned and spilled its 8,000 gallon cargo on the road. Street 27, of Lansing was uninjured.

'Trudy' Hatches Part of Brood; Bulldozers Wait

SEAFORD, N. Y. — Long Island's famous mama mallard—whose lackadaisical hatching technique has held up a building project for 23 days—finally has brought five offspring into the world.

But things still are far from ducky for builder Louis K. Hirsch. Three unhatched eggs remained today in her nest—right plunk in the spot where Hirsch has been itching to get his bulldozers into action again.

Hirsch suspended construction work on 19 houses rather than disturb the setting of "Trudy," the cutest wild duck he had ever seen.

"Trudy" stuck with the three remaining eggs today. Hirsch said he didn't have too much hope that they were hatchable, but would give "Trudy" a little more time.

"Besides," said Hirsch, "we've got to take the little ones out to learn to swim today." He insisted they were not too young to take to the water in a little pond he had built just for the occasion.

Birmingham School Board Cuts Meeting

BIRMINGHAM — A busy week for school board members caused them to hold only a brief meeting last night.

Following Monday's school election which kept them totaling ballots until after midnight, the board adjourned its regular meeting early and will reconvene to canvass the election results at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Birmingham High School graduation exercises will be attended by the board immediately afterward.

The board approved the purchase of classroom furniture for the Pembroke School, now under construction, at a cost of $4,361.50. Also approved was the purchase of a cyclorama for the Torrey School multi-purpose room and draperies for the Quanton School addition.

A $300 check was accepted from Edwin F. Kurbert, executive secretary of the local YMCA, to be used toward the purchase of a school bus.

May Issue Warrant in Razor Slaying

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said a murder warrant against S. Sgt. Robert King Jr., 37, of Dolomite, Ala., may be approved today after further questioning of witnesses.

King, according to Pontiac Police, admitted slaying to death Mrs. Laura Marshall, 37, of 58 Chapman St., with a razor blade yesterday morning in her home.

Detective Allen D. Noble said the razor blade was found in front of the home after King fled from the house. King, who is on furlough from Sampson Air Force Base, Geneva, N. Y., told police he has been in service for the past 12 years.

Mrs. Marshall, the mother of five children, was dead on arrival to Pontiac General Hospital.

French to Get New Dictionary

Most Complete Work Since 19th Century Being Prepared

PARIS (UP) — Precise Frenchmen, who boast that they have the world's most subtly accurate language, have a new dictionary to help them out of verbal quandaries.

But wordy arguments will have to be confined for the present to the letters AAA to CCC because that is the limited extent of the first 1,100-page volume which retails for $22.

The complete set, which should carry enough sheer weight to stun any expert, will retail for $32.

With the complete French vocabulary running between 40,000 and 50,000 words—covering everything from the most exquisitely delicate compliments to the most annoyingly precise insults—French scholars have long lacked a dictionary comprehensively comparable to the American Webster or the British Oxford.

Crescety Emile Littré, the French equivalent of America's Noah Webster and Britain's Dr. Samuel Johnson, gave Frenchmen a monstrous great dictionary between 1848 and 1872 which has long since fallen behind the verbal times.

The new work, which has kept scholar Paul Robert's nose to the semantic grindstone for several years, updates Littré's efforts with a precision that should help keep combative experts out of future café scuffles over finite and infinite word definitions.

The late Gaut who wants to tell a woman to get out of his life will be able to do so quite authoritatively with the aid of three pages—illustrated by 116 the verb aller (to go).

Should he, however, be seeking happily felicitous phrases of praise, he will find that Robert has provided him with three pages—using adjective beau (fine, pretty, beautiful).

Students Learn Mathematics From Mural

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (INS) — Whenever mathematics students at South Bend Central High School have trouble remembering the history of their subject, they look at it wall.

On the wall is a huge mural, 20 feet long, which depicts the history of mathematics, beginning with the pyramids of Egypt and ending with an atomic explosion.

Students in the classes of Miss Antoinette Semortier contributed $25 for materials and did much of the work of painting the mural and the research which preceded it.

First of the four panels in the history of mathematics shows, in addition to the pyramids, the signs of the Zodiac which are considered as the first crude calendar, and objects in nature having geometric shapes, such as a cobweb, flower, snowflake and a section of a honeycomb.

The second panel depicts the contributions to the advance of mathematics made by the early Greeks and Romans. The third panel shows the machine age with Galileo's falling weights, the Eiffel tower and a suspension bridge.

The fourth panel — and the last one — has a commercial atomic power plant topped by a fission explosion of an atomic bomb.

H-Inventor Doubtful About Oppenheimer

to access to the atomic information he helped store up for 10 years.

Oppenheimer and his attorneys have appealed to the full AEC to overturn this finding. The commission promised a decision this month.

The half-million words of testimony from 40 witnesses ran through the gamut of charges that Oppenheimer had been a contributor and fellow traveler with Communist causes until 1942, that he lied to Army intelligence officers investigating Russian atomic espionage in 1942 and that he opposed an all-out effort to develop the H-bomb as late as 1949.

All this was freely conceded by Oppenheimer, who said he had made mistakes in the past and had once been an "idiot," but carefully guarded the host of secrets "I have had . . . in my head a long time."

And a virtual roll call of former AEC commissioners and top atomic scientists backed up former AEC Chairman Gordon Dean, who described Oppenheimer as one of the few men who can completely demonstrate his loyalty to his country "by his performance . . . a man of complete integrity . . . a very devoted man to his country."

Aside from Oppenheimer and his wife, there were 38 witnesses. Attorneys for Oppenheimer said 25 of them voiced no doubts at all about him.

The most revealing new testimony was the inside version from Dean and other scientists and officials of the pulling and hauling in secret over whether to launch a big H-bomb effort after the Russians exploded an atomic bomb in the fall of 1949, and what happened to that effort. They called the H-bomb "The Super" and "The Gadget."

The picture unfolded was that even after former President Truman ordered the H-bomb project in January 1950, for more than a year the program was stalled and prospects were dismal.

"We never saw anything that really had a chance" of producing a workable bomb, Dean testified, until he called all top scientists together at a meeting at Princeton, N.J., in June 1951. Oppenheimer and several other scientists agreed that original premises about how to build an H-bomb had collapsed and the scientists were worried that the presidential directive could not be carried out.

Dr. J. W. Alvarez, University of California scientist, said Oppenheimer told a Pentagon meeting almost a year after the Truman directive that the H-bomb project "will die a natural death" after Pacific tests planned for 1951 "fail." He quoted Oppenheimer as saying that would be "the natural time to chop the hydrogen bomb program off."

Then, dramatically, in the spring of 1951, Dr. Teller made what was described as a "brilliant discovery" and brought this idea to the desperate June meeting at Princeton.

After two days, Dean said, everybody was convinced the project at last was on the right track and Oppenheimer himself was "enthusiastic . . . almost thrilled."

"That is when it began to roll and it rolled very fast then," Dean said. "I might say that the gadget which we originally thought of in 1949 probably never would work and would have cost in terms of A-bombs a price we could never have paid."

Dumping Ordinance Will Be Carried Out

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners learned from the city manager this week that it is a normal practice for many local residents to dump grass cuttings and other debris either in vacant lots or in the streets.

Since a city ordinance prohibits this, the commission took action to enforce the ordinance and will attempt to put forward an educational program.

It was proposed that a "tactical" police officer be assigned to explain and enforce the ordinance. An ordinance division may be set up within the police department.

The commission will also take steps to see that vacant lots are kept mowed. The city will continue to allow the practice of placing leaves in the street for pickup during the fall, since this is considered the most efficient method.

Tape Your Name in Eyeglass Case

What's in a name may be a case for sore eyes — your own — if you wear glasses. That is, if you don't put a name tape inside your eyeglass case.

Even if your case is monogrammed, it is difficult for the finder to track you down merely from your initials. Besides, he may have neither the time nor the inclination to make the effort.

So for safety's and vision's sake, see to it proper identification — meaning full name and address and possibly even telephone number — are included on the tape. This is the advice of eyesight specialists, who point out hundreds of pairs of glasses are lost each week because of this oversight.

Eyewear should be carried in the safest possible place — handbags for ladies and inside coat pockets for men.

Some women place them in shallow dress or suit pockets. Men often keep eyewear in coat breast pocket or shirt breast pocket. In either case, bending down spills out the eyewear. Some men are inclined to put eyeglasses in back trousers' pockets. Result: badly bent, if not broken, vision aids.

Topic: Pentagon Windows Order: Keep Them Closed

That was 60 days, 8 memoranda and 1,000 words ago.

It seems that on the night of 14 April, at about 2000 hours, G-2 agents found a couple of windows unlocked. (That means about 8 p.m. on April 14. G-2 is Army intelligence, normally concerned with ferreting out information on a foreign power or foiling foreign agents.)

The Pentagon has 7,600 windows. The unlocked ones were in the suite of offices used by H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs. (Hensel's "international security" is high-level stuff, including such things as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.)

Came the night of 28 April, between 2000 and 2130 hours: three more unlocked windows. These were in the press room.

By May 3 (or 3 May) a memo had been issued to the proper authorities, starting out, "Subject: Security Inspection of Pentagon Perimeter," and discussing the matter of the unfastened windows. Instructions were issued to "notify occupants that it is a violation of building security regulations to unlock or open any windows."

Who unlocked 'em? Suspicion pointed first at the corps of window washers. But on 13 May the foreman of the janitorial staff dashed off a memorandum, "Subject: Unlocked Windows." He said the window incident of 14 April couldn't have been his men, because they didn't wash those windows until 15 April. More-side, aimed at "all occupants of the Pentagon"; the subject: open windows; the order: keep 'em closed.

Benefit Dinner Reveals Spirit of Brotherhood

KINGS BEACH, Calif. (AP)—At a community dinner for the benefit of the Methodist church at Kings Beach on Lake Tahoe, the top prize, a handmade lace bedspread, was donated by Julius Gold, a Jew.

It was auctioned off by Jebby Lewis, a member of the Greek Orthodox Church.

It was bought by the Rev. Jim Brennan, a Catholic priest.

And the Methodist church benefited by $236.

Relatives Doubtful About GI's Death

TEXON, Tex. (AP)—A telegram from the Chinese Red Cross, saying a sergeant died of heart disease and "complications," was regarded with skepticism today by his aunt.

The soldier was Sgt. Rufus E. Douglas, 27, one of the 21 U. S. prisoners of war who chose to stay with the Communists after being captured in Korea.

The message received yesterday by his uncle, R. C. Howard of Texon, said Douglas died June 8 in a Chinese hospital of "a rheumatic heart disorder with complications."

Mrs. Howard, who reared Douglas after his mother and father died when he was 10, said, "I think the 'complications' were caused by them—the Reds. I've told my husband many times that boy wouldn't last a year there. And I don't think the others will either."

"If he had ever had heart trouble, we never heard of it, and I think we would have."

"So far as we've known he's never been sick in his life except for the ordinary childhood diseases."

(This is the first of a series of three articles on the fabulous, multi-millionaire shipping magnate, Aristotle Onassis.)

By JOACHIM JOESTEN

Aristotle Socrates Onassis, the surprising international shipping operator whose fortune is reported to be near $300,000,000, isn't half as mysterious as he has been made out to be. Or, at any rate, the mystery that has so long obscured his personality and career is beginning to wear thin.

This reporter talked for two hours with the elusive Greek-Argentine entrepreneur to get the story of a life which has taken him from a Turkish prison, where at the age of 16 he spent two months in daily fear of being hanged for political reasons, to a point where he is one of the world's richest men controlling, with his associates, 90 tankers, freighters and whaling ships.

He turned out to be far more affable and outspoken than ever would have been expected of a man whose reluctance to be interviewed by newspapermen is almost a legend.

Mr. Onassis makes his business headquarters on the ninth floor of an imposing, glassy skyscraper at 655 Madison Avenue when he happens to be in New York.

He has been here a bit longer than usual this time because he is involved in a deep legal struggle with the Federal government.

The interview took place in Mr. Onassis's executive suite in the modern offices of Central American Steamship Agency, Inc., one of the 30-odd shipping and business corporations which he owns or controls around the globe.

He also maintains private residences in New York, Buenos Aires, Montevideo, Paris and Antibes, on the French Riviera among other places. This is one reason why Mr. Onassis is so hard to find for an interview: he's always on the move.

He was just getting set to fly to Europe again to attend the launching of his newest — and biggest — ship, the super-tanker, "King Ibn Saud I." The 47,000-ton vessel was launched June 5 at the Howaldtswerke Shipyard of Hamburg, Germany.

A slightly smaller sister ship, the 45,000-ton "Tina Onassis" — named after the owner's wife — came down the same slipways just under a year ago.

The crisp matter-of-factness and at times jocular forthrightness of Mr. Onassis's manners and statements do not gibe well with the aura of mystery that has been attached to him. This dapper, gray-haired man was headlined in a popular magazine article as "Monte Carlo's Mysterious Millionaire."

One of the first mysteries that Mr. Onassis smilingly cleared up was that of his "improbable forenames." Why did his parents bestow upon the boy born at Smyrna, Turkey, not just one but two of the most celebrated names among the great philosophers of ancient Greece?

"It was a local custom," he explained. "The Greeks of the homeland mostly give to their children Christian church names, but in the colonies on the Anatolian coast of Turkey, they used classic Greek names, to affirm their Hellenic tradition." His father's name was also Socrates, and his mother's, Penelope.

Mr. Onassis quickly destroyed one of the most widely-circulated rumors about him — that of his impecunious origins.

"My father was one of the three most important businessmen in Smyrna (Ismir)," he said, and added that the family had lived in Turkey for several generations.

His father was a wealthy and influential tobacco merchant; he was in politics, too, and there was little love lost between his powerful clan and the Turks.

In 1922, Kemal Ataturk's Nationalists waged successful war on the Greek settlers along the coast. They seized and sacked Smyrna and other predominantly Greek cities on the mainland. More than a million Greeks reportedly died in the massacre; most of the survivors were deported to the homeland of Greece.

The Onassis family was caught in the flaming turmoil. Three uncles of the young Aristotle were hanged by the Turks.

"I saw them hang," he said simply.

His father was to have suffered the same fate, and he himself for that matter. He was then a boy of 16. He and his dad, with the shadow of the noose hanging over them, spent two anxious months in a filthy, jam-packed prison.

Only his mother and his three sisters, then aged 6, 8 and 12, were allowed to proceed to Greece unmolested.

The two men eventually were saved through the good graces of the American Vice-Consul at Smyrna, who intervened in their behalf.

The father was the lone survivor of the elder generation. In addition to the three executed brothers, a fourth had died of strain in the upheaval. A sister and her baby perished in the ruins of a flaming church, in which also 500 other Greek refugees were burned to death.

Such memories may account, in part, for the resourcefulness, aggressiveness and the intense zest for getting the most out of life which are such prominent traits of Onassis's character.

Upon their release from jail, the two surviving male members of the once-numerous Onassis clan of Smyrna followed their womenfolk to Athens. The father went back into the tobacco business, on a small scale, but his drastically reduced earnings were insufficient to provide for his vast flock of dependents — one wife, four widows (his brothers'), four children of his own and seven nephews and nieces.

So the family council decided that the eldest, strongest and most promising of the lot, Aristotle Socrates, should emigrate to foreign parts to seek new opportunities for all.

It took A. S. Onassis less than 30 years to rise from the bottom to the top. In 1923, he was a poor immigrant boy in a foreign country whose language he barely understood. Today he is one of the world's richest men, an international financier who has access to the councils of the great and moves easily among the cosmopolitan smart set.

In some countries his name has become a legend, somewhat akin to that of Santa Claus. In Germany, in particular, he is held in very high esteem.

"Mr. Onassis is our biggest individual foreign customer," Professor Ludwig Erhard, Bonn Minister of Economics, declared not long ago. He had in mind that German shipyards at Hamburg, Bremen and Kiel currently have under construction an estimated $70,000,000 worth of orders from the various Onassis companies.

"Pig" Is a Big Hog

WILLIMANTIC, Conn. (UP) — A trucking concern sent a truck to New Hampshire to move furniture, some chickens and a "pig" to this town. Seemed like a routine job. When they got there, they found the pig was a 1,500-pound hog that required brute strength to corral it in an eight-foot box.

Octogenarian Retains Post as Telegrapher

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP) — Sixty-four years on one job should be enough for any man, but not for James Disney, who is 82.

Disney, a telegrapher for the Delaware & Hudson Railroad, says he doesn't intend to retire — just yet.

He remembers the day in 1901 while working at the railroad's nearby Green Island Plant when he received a message ordering the D. & H. private car to North Creek to pick up the new President, Theodore Roosevelt, following assassination of President McKinley.

MOTOR OIL

It's 10W-30 oil! Covers all grades in one.
Resists thinning due to heat, thickening due to cold.
Perfect for every season, vital every day!

YOU NEED THIS NEW MULTI-RANGE MOTOR OIL EVERY DAY, REGARDLESS OF SEASON, BECAUSE YOUR CAR TRAVELS THROUGH THESE THREE DRIVING RANGES EVERY DAY!

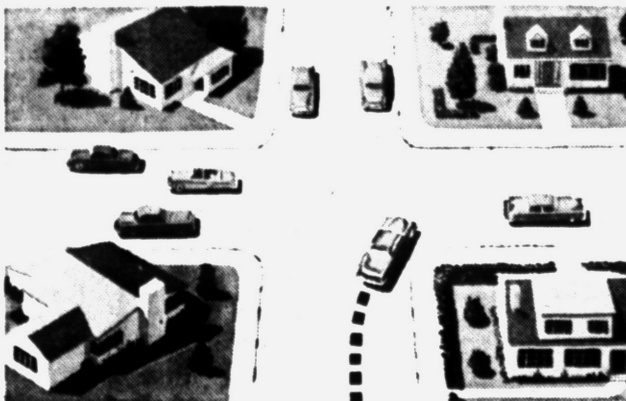

WHEN YOU START YOUR CAR...

YOU NEED THE PERFORMANCE OF A 10W OIL

Most motorists think they need a 10W oil only during winter. This is not true! You need the performance of a 10W oil every time you start your car. Winter, Spring, Summer or Fall, a cold engine will start quicker and is more protected at starting with a light, quick-lubricating, strong 10W oil. The heavier 20 or 30 oils are not best for this job. 10W oil performance is the first great feature of New 5-D Koolumotor Oil 10W-30.

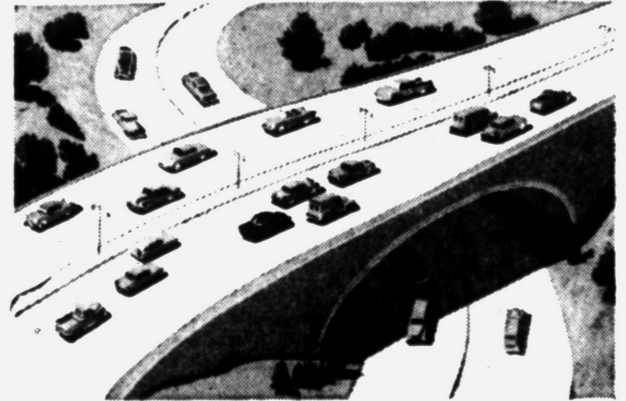

FIVE MINUTES LATER...

YOU NEED THE PERFORMANCE OF A 20 OIL

But now a 10W oil won't give maximum performance! Now you need the performance of a 20 oil... an oil with more body to resist thinning out within a hotter engine. At this point, a lighter 10W oil would slip by top piston rings, burn in the combustion chambers, leaving deposits, and be blown out the exhaust as a complete waste. With New 5-D Koolumotor Oil 10W-30, you have the advantages of a dollar-saving, engine-protecting 20 oil when you need it.

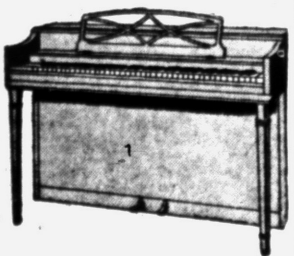

FIFTEEN MINUTES LATER...

YOU NEED THE PERFORMANCE OF A 30 OIL

But now a 20 oil won't give maximum performance! Now you need the performance and protection of a fuller-bodied oil... a 30 oil... an oil that won't thin down during "hot engine" highway driving. Any oil lighter will burn off excessively, increase engine wear — hurting your car and your pocketbook. New 5-D Koolumotor 10W-30 gives you the performance of a 10W oil... a 20 oil... and a 30 oil. Every oil you need every day in one oil!

Commission Defers Action on Sunday Sale Ordinance

Pontiac's City Commissioners deferred action for a week on an ordinance which would prohibit the sale on Sunday of furniture and household appliances, including radio and television sets.

The measure was previously approved on its first reading at an earlier meeting, with only Commissioner Dr. Roy V. Cooley (District 1) voting against it. He favored an agreement among the merchants, which would not make a law necessary.

Last night Dr. Cooley pointed out that commissioners had not yet received a copy of the proposed ordinance, and asked a week's deferment on the matter, until copies could be provided. Carpeting and linoleum were added to the merchandise which may not be sold.

If passed, the ordinance will not apply to "work of necessity and charity" or to persons who observe Saturday as the Sabbath and don't do business on that day.

Also deferred for a week was the annexation of 111 acres of Waterford Township to be used as the site for the proposed county office buildings.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said a legal description of the property, which lies between Telegraph road and the city's West Boulevard boundary, was lacking in the commitment from the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

A hearing on the requested revocation of the food license of the Honey Bee restaurant, 19 W. Pike St., occupied the commissioners for three hours.

Police Chief Herbert W. Straley requested the license issued to Frank G. Monnett be revoked, charging the all night restaurant is a "hangout" and a sore spot, needing much police action to quell fights and disturbances.

A parade of police officer witnesses testified to breaking up numerous fights outside the lunchroom.

Witnesses from a nearby hotel and apartments testified that the shouting and noise outside the restaurant often kept them awake far into the morning.

Patrolman Charles Gale, record custodian of the police department, said Monnett had been arrested seven times for drunk and disorderly conduct in the past three years.

Officers James La Ponsie and Hugh Stimson testified they arrested Monnett while he was drunk inside his restaurant.

Attorney for Monnett requested that the license be restored conditionally, with time to correct the matters complained against. This was denied.

The hearing was adjourned one week to allow witnesses in defense of Monnett to be called.

The commission also confirmed special assessment rolls for the following improvements:

Two inch blacktop pavement on Argyle, from Avon to Roland; on Dismar from Franklin road to Highland; on Dismar from Franklin to Motor; on Hughes from Bagley to Franklin; on Luther from Motor to Franklin; on Nebraska from Woodward to Earlmore; and Crystal Lake drive from Bagley to Franklin road.

Confirmed were special assessment rolls for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on:

California from Franklin to Bagley; on Bonanza from Earlmore to the east line of the subdivision; on Fiddis from Jesse to the east end of the street; on E. Beverly from Joslyn to Fuller; on Irwin from Joslyn to East boulevard; on Second, from Barkell to Fuller; and on First from Joslyn to Barkell.

Engineers' estimates for curb, gutter and drainage on W. Hopkins from Baldwin to Stanley, were accepted, and will be advertised for a hearing June 22.

Similar hearings were called for a sanitary sewer on:

Perry from Arlene to Madison; on Arlene from Perry to First; Madison from Arlene to Fuller; Mansfield from Arlene to Fuller; Tennyson from Arlene to Fuller; Beverly from Arlene to Fuller and First from Arlene to Fuller.

On the same date will be hearings on curb, gutter and drainage on Smith from Josephine to James K Boulevard, and Linden from James K to Smith.

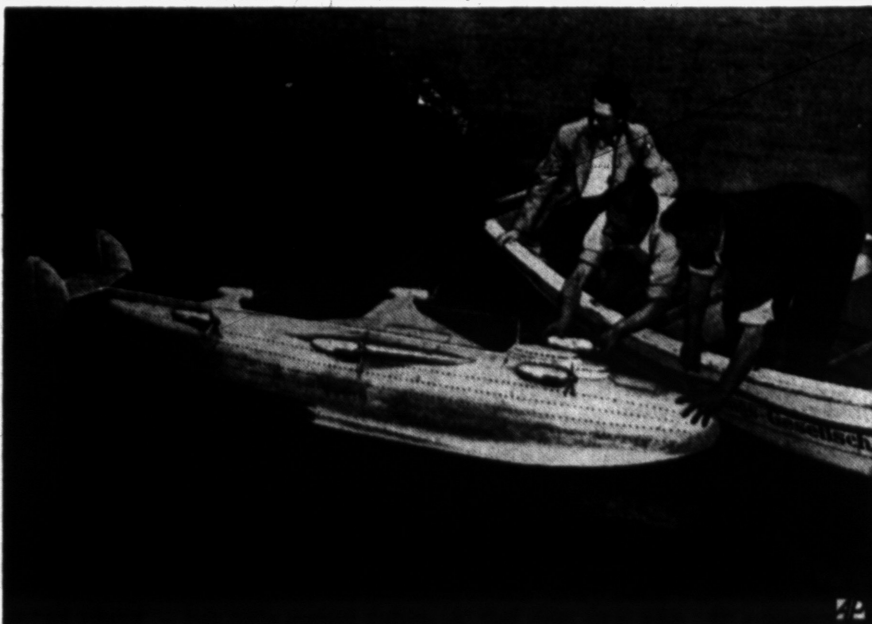

Special assessment rolls for sanitary sewer on Oakland from Cass to Kinney, for trunk storm drain on Bagley from Nevada to California; water main in Corwin Court, and water main in W. Cornell from Baldwin to the west lot line of lot 54 on Bonnie Briar Bush also were confirmed.

Three-Horned Chameleon Added to Zoo Collection

WASHINGTON (UP) — The newest thing in chameleons is a matter of horns, not color.

The Washington Zoo's director, William M. Mann, described the chameleon as a sort of animal with more tongue, tail and claw than it knows what to do with. But the zoo's newest acquisition goes its fellows one better in the horn department. It has three instead of two.

The three-horned chameleon was found in Kenya, Africa.

SUPER WHALE — West Berlin engineer Wilhelm he built could carry some 1,500 passengers and a crew of 180.

New Machine Recovers Lost Processing Gold

SPOKANE, Wash. (UP) — A Spokane man has invented a gold recovery machine that he claims recovers nearly 100 per cent of the fine "flour" gold lost in other processes.

The inventor, Peter L. Gregersen, said his first small machine took 20 years to develop but was successful in tests on the Snake River in Idaho and in Alaska. A new, larger model has been tested in Nevada.

He said his machine makes a recovery of more than 99 per cent. The key recovery medium is a specially processed mercury used on the amalgamation plates.

French Release 575 Vietnam Prisoners

HANOI, Indochina (UP) — The French high command began the return of 575 sick and wounded Vietnam prisoners of war today as token repayment for the Communist release last month of French Union wounded from Dien Bien Phu.

Seventy Vietnam were handed over to Vietnam authorities this afternoon at the little village of Dinh Cau, 30 miles northeast of Hanoi and just inside the edge of rebel-controlled territory.

Seventy more were to be returned later this afternoon and 127 tomorrow at Dinh Cau.

The other prisoners will be released in Central Viet Nam later, probably the last of this week or early next week.

Suffers Chest Injuries, Broken Arm in Accident

2-year-old Clarkston boy, struck by a car Saturday in front of his home, remains on the critical list at Pontiac General Hospital.

Ricky Fugoa, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fugoa of 5790 Flemings Lake Rd., suffered chest injuries, bruises and a broken arm, hospital authorities said.

TODAY'S QUESTION: What's your opinion of Father's Day? WHERE ASKED: (name of Main Street in your town)

THE ANSWERS:

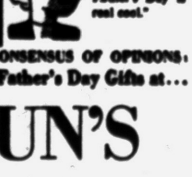

Jimmy Jones, Age 14, "If you ask me, they ought to make Father's Day a whole month. One day isn't enough to honor a guy as important as Dad. I mean, my Dad!"

Mrs. Malone, Age 34, "My 8-year-old son said to me, 'Father's Day is just a day to tell Dad you love him. That's all.'"

Joe Morgan, Age 31, "I sure don't see anyone who has a father to be nice to on Father's Day. You see, mine isn't here any more."

Mary Smith, Age 16, "I think Father's Day is just a day to tell Dad you love him. That's all."

Blind Trained for Operating Switchboards

RENTON, N. J. (UP) — A New Jersey college is pioneering a unique training program designed to turn out switchboard operators with 20-20 "vision" in their fingers. Rider College, the nation's first to conduct a special program for blind operators, has only one student at present.

She is pretty, 18-year-old Joyce Carson, blind since she was eight days old, who studies switchboard, stenotyping and transcription and operates a special braille switchboard power panel for experience.

The switchboard panel is the key to the whole training program. It is a simple device on which incoming and outgoing calls are signalled by little buttons. The buttons pop up and can be felt by hand.

Beside each button is a braille-numbered key. The mate of each key can be felt on the switchboard proper on slots of braille-etched transparent plastic, which also permits use of the board by persons with normal vision.

The apparatus was developed by Albert Trudup, director of military communications engineering at Bell Laboratories, who was inspired by blindness in his own family.

Joyce's teacher, Mrs. John D. Hutchinson, saw in her student the opening of new vistas for blind people everywhere.

"Joyce is a symbol," she said. "When she finishes her course—and she's doing splendidly right now—others will follow. Others will learn that blind people are not necessarily handicapped people."

Cow Has Bull, Heifer

TAZEWELL, Va. (UP) — A cow owned by Mrs. L. C. Mays gave birth to a bull calf and a heifer calf one week apart. Veterinarians said such a multiple birth is rare.

Boy, 16, Holds Up Dad's Gas Station

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — A 16-year-old boy who police said planned and directed the armed robbery of his father and told a 17-year-old friend to "shoot him and get it over with" awaited grand jury action today.

Defective Sgt. Harold Goodman said William Dale Miller admitted arranging the $100 filling station holdup of his father, Herbert Miller, 46. He said Kenneth Mahurin, 17, admitted the holdup. Both youths were held on armed robbery charges.

Miller told police he recognized his son's voice outside the station. Goodman said young Miller confirmed that he told Mahurin: "Put a gun in his belly and keep it there. Don't give him no chance. Shoot him and get it over with."

Jury Duty Welcomed

WEST WARWICK, R. I. (UP) — When former U. S. Sen. Felix Hebert (R-R.I.) was called to serve on a county grand jury, he said he had been looking forward to the "privilege" for years. "I'd helped many a man get out of jury duty, but I never did feel good about it," he added.

Violence Continues at Osaka Silk Mill

TOKYO (UP) — Violence flared again today at a big silk mill struck by a union protesting what it calls company interference in workers' private affairs.

Some 52 persons were injured in a midnight fist and club-swinging battle between pickets and new workers hired by the Ono Silk Spinning Co., Osaka.

It was the second outbreak. A dynamite explosion injured 50 persons yesterday.

Union leaders say company officials opened employees' mail, searched private belongings, forbade workers—many of them teenage girls—to have dates, and split up married couples to promote efficiency on the job.

Japan Landslide Kills 9

FUKUOKA, Japan (UP) — Nine persons were killed and several seriously injured in a landslide that buried four homes in the coal-mining town of Shinen today.

Susan Hayward Trial Recessed

Attorneys for Actress,
Husband Try to Reach
Divorce Settlement

BURBANK, Calif. — While Susan Hayward nursed her upset emotions today, attorneys for the movie queen and her actor husband tried to get together on a settlement of their divorce trial.

The trial took an abrupt recess yesterday afternoon when the actress reported sick after lunch. One of her lawyers said it was an emotional upset; another called it food poisoning. It was both.

Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker recessed the trial until tomorrow morning.

S. S. Hahn, counsel for actor Jess Barker, said that Miss Hayward had offered $100,000 as a settlement but that the offer was turned down because "of certain strings attached."

Barker later explained that the strings included a desire on the part of the actress to pay off the $100,000 as alimony.

"How do you suppose that would make me look?" the actor asked a reporter.

Part of Miss Hayward's emotional distress stemmed, one source reported, from testimony which had her dashing through her rear yard in the nude, chased by a threatening Barker.

She worried about the effect such sensationalism would have on the couple's twin sons and on the moviegoing public. The combination of worry and something she ate brought on the sickness, the friend added.

Although Hahn volunteered news of the reported settlement, Martin Gang, attorney for the actress, said he would predict no settlement at this time.

Frenchman Takes Ear for L'Amour; Police End Joy

PARIS — Pierre Guyon had a girl friend and a lot to say to her, but she was deaf and he too poor to afford even an ear trumpet.

As police tell the story, Pierre called for help one day on another deaf woman friend possessing charitable instincts and a hearing aid.

The lady couldn't help with money, but offered to make up a package of food. While she was busy in the kitchen, Pierre palmed the mechanical ear, valued in France at $185.

Police finally caught up with Pierre, his girl friend and the hearing aid, after two weeks of presumably frequent loving murmurings. A judge last night charged the man with theft and sent him to Sante Prison to await trial.

Driver's 'Bloody' Face Really Paint Covered

PHILADELPHIA — A truck and a station wagon collided in West Philadelphia yesterday.

After some effort, police pulled truck driver Clarence Feltz, 49, from the wreckage and noted his face was covered with what appeared to be a great quantity of blood.

Feltz quickly put their fears to rest. The red fluid on his face was paint used in his sign business.

Educated Mom Refuses to Send 7 Kids to School

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. — A suspended jail sentence of 30 days has been given Mrs. Mary Lincoln Turner, a college graduate and mother of seven children, for refusing to send her children to school.

Mrs. Turner contends she can educate her children at home. Her lawyer stipulated yesterday that facts in a complaint filed last Jan. 8 were true.

Mrs. Turner, formerly a resident of Orange County, Calif., now lives in Yarnell, Ariz. She was convicted previously of failing to send her children to Los Angeles schools and is appealing that case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

She was placed on two years probation yesterday by Municipal Judge C. C. Cravath.

Discuss Dust Bowl Conditions

Soil Experts Say Need
Top Conservation Plan,
Not More Subsidies

AMARILLO, Tex. — Soil experts of six states threatened with dust bowl conditions met today to talk about what to do with "blow land." A spokesman said he wanted to make clear they weren't after government subsidies.

"It will take more than subsidies," declared Waters S. Davis Jr., president of the National Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts.

There appeared to be some thought that the farmer himself—his willingness to cooperate by taking some land out of profitable cultivation—is part of the problem.

Davis, a League City, Tex., man who has been at odds recently with the federal government because of its reorganization of the Soil Conservation Service, did not say so bluntly.

"We are here to draft a program that will attract the cooperation of every individual who makes his livelihood from the soil," Davis said in an interview. "We are not here to ask more government subsidies."

Several views on exactly what is needed came from soil conservation district officers from Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas. The national association headed by Davis sponsored today's meeting but U. S. Department of Agriculture representatives and spokesmen for state governors had a place on the program.

"Lack of cooperation in soil conservation practices has been our greatest obstacle," said Clarence Svedman, national association director from Colorado. "If we can get the kind of program the farmer wants, then he should be willing to cooperate."

Point Barrow Institute Concentrates on Tundra

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Arctic Research Institute has announced that its research laboratory at Point Barrow, Alaska, will place special emphasis henceforth on permafrost studies and studies in oceanography.

Permafrost is the never-thawing tundra of the Arctic regions which make construction in that area particularly difficult.

The laboratory at Point Barrow, northernmost point in Alaska, is the only station in U. S. territory where fundamental research relating to the northern environment can be conducted on a continuous basis.

Cagney Finding Life on Location Not Always Soft

DURANGO, Colo. — James Cagney is finding out that a movie star's life isn't always soft.

Cagney is on location in Durango with Viveca Lindfors, John Derek and Jean Hersholt making Pine-Thomas' "Run For Cover." The stars and about 40 other cast and crew members are living in a motel and every night, after work, they have a barbecued dinner on the lawn.

At the beginning each person including the stars drew to determine their duties for the nightly barbecue. Cagney drew the slip marked "dishwasher," and he insisted on keeping his end of the bargain.

"I'm getting a big kick out of it," Cagney confided, but "I only hope my wife doesn't find out about it."

Farm Sales Reported

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department reported today that farmers received approximately $10,300,000 from sale of farm products during the first five months of this year. This was 4 per cent less than they received in the corresponding period last year.

"You can expect the most raiding in the best melon patch"

You can bet your bottom dollar on it.

Come next year, or the year after that, you'll be seeing on other cars some of the styling features you see in Buick today.

We expect it. It has happened before. And there is good reason for it—popular appeal.

Take, for example, the car model shown here.

We call it a Riviera. Most people call it a "hardtop."

When Buick introduced this body type in 1949, it was a completely new thing. And it was an instant hit.

Today, Buick "hardtops" outsell all other models in the line. It's the styling America has taken to its heart.

So today you find that every major car maker has his own version of this Buick original. (And we can't blame them a bit. They know a good thing when they see it.)

Maybe you've noticed other such borrowings from Buick.

reflected in the styling of other cars—or will be soon.

For you can be sure that the great panoramic windshield first shown by Buick this year will be copied. It's too good to pass up.

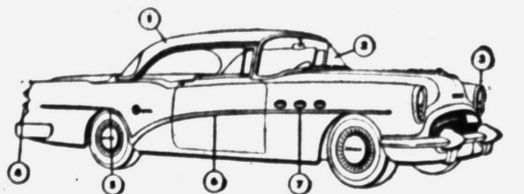

And you can be sure that the full rear-wheel cutout now on every 1954 Buick Riviera and Convertible will show up elsewhere in the future. It's a sports-car touch that hits a really popular note.

We're sure of such things.

We're sure because the tomorrow-styled Buick of today seems to be just what people want. Because Buick sales are soaring. Because Buick now outsells every other car in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

So to you we say—why wait another day to see and drive a new Buick? It's the beauty of the year. It's the buy of the times. And it's a wonderful way to head up the parade.

Drop in this week for a demonstration, won't you?

Some folks even bought copies of these chrome rings to put on jalopies!)
