U. N. to Accept 22,000 POWs, Set Them Free

Gen. John Hull Rejects India's Condition, Seeks Civilian Status for Men

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The U. N. Command said tonight it will accept from the Indians 22,000 unrepatriated anti-Communist war prisoners—but not on India's condition that they remain prisoners.

Gen. John E. Hull, U. N. commander, wrote the Indian Command that as of Jan. 23 the U. N. will consider the prisoners "entitled to their freedom as civilians."

Hull's letter was the U. N. answer to India's decision to turn back to their captors all unrepatriated war prisoners starting next Wednesday.

However, Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, said it would be an armistice violation if either side changed the status of the POWs.

The Communists were expected to oppose the Indian decision since they want all prisoners kept in neutral custody until a peace conference decides their fate.

The Allies contend that under terms of the armistice all unrepatriated POWs must be liberated as civilians at midnight next Friday.

"For the United Nations Command now to agree to further and indefinitely prolonged captivity of these prisoners of war would negate the very principle of human rights for which so many men of this command have fought and died," Hull wrote.

"Such unjust and unworthy action is intolerable to any free people, and is obviously unthinkable."

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower held a conference with top military and foreign policy advisers today which may have laid out plans for making tactical information on atomic weapons available to other free world nations.

It was also considered possible that the group discussed the President's plan for an international atomic pool to turn the atom to the benefit of mankind.

The meeting included Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, atomic energy Chairman Lewis Strauss, Deputy Defense Secretary Roger M. Kyes, Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and Vice Admiral Arthur C. Davis, director of the Office of Foreign Military Affairs.

Manufacturer Is Sent to Jail

Chicago Man Refuses to Let Government See His Payroll Records

CHICAGO (U.S.) — A small manufacturer, who for two years has refused to show his employment records to the U. S. Labor Department, began serving an indefinite jail sentence yesterday for civil contempt.

Paul C. Fisher, 40, owner of the Fisher Pen Co., was accompanied by his wife and some 75 flag-waving employees and friends when he surrendered to the U. S. Marshal's Office. He carried his 3-month-old daughter, Caroleen.

Fisher, in his two-year dispute with the Wage and Hour Division of the Labor Department, said he had opposed the government demand on constitutional grounds, that it represented an unjustified search and seizure.

Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe's ruling of civil contempt in 1952 was upheld by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals last year. Fisher, who served as his own attorney in the case, made two unsuccessful attempts to obtain a U. S. Supreme Court review of the case.

Dull Skies and Snow Expected for Sunday

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts cloudy skies with occasional snow flurries for the Pontiac area tonight and Sunday.

A low of from 12 to 16 tonight is expected to rise to a high of from 18 to 22 Sunday.

Yesterday, the mercury climbed from a low of 26 to a high of 35 degrees in the city.

At 8 a. m. today the reading was 28, and at 1 p. m. in downtown Pontiac the mercury stood at 30 degrees.

Charge Man With Murder of Wife in Hospital Hearing

A Pontiac hospital ward became a court of law yesterday as a 29-year-old Avon Township man listened to a justice of the peace read a warrant charging him with the Wednesday night slaying of his wife.

About 20 patients, visitors and nurses looked on in silence as Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green bent forward to hear Donald G. Warner of 2645 Emmons, demand examination on a first degree murder charge.

Warner was arraigned in Pontiac General Hospital where he is being treated for a bullet wound in his head. The examination is scheduled for Feb. 2 at Green's office in Rochester.

In a formal statement yesterday to First Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor James G. Hartrick, Warner admitted the shooting. After the shooting he said he left their children, Donna Jean, 3, and Donald Jr., 15 months, at his parents home, then drove about a mile north of Rochester and shot himself.

The bullet is still lodged in his head, as doctors fear that he is not strong enough to undergo surgery at this time. He is under 24-hour police guard at the hospital.

The shooting came to the attention of the police late Thursday morning after Warner came to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Warner of 123 Lysander, Rochester, and admitted the shooting to his father.

Oakland County Sheriff's Detective Mahlon France and Under-sheriff Donald O. Menzies rushed to the young couple's home where they found Mrs. Warner's body.

Later investigation disclosed that on the night of the shooting Warner was served a bill of complaint in a divorce case filed by Mrs. Warner.

Plexiglass Top Features Model

Fiberglass Body Is Used in Special Show Car for New York Exhibit

Long, low and sleek-looking, as befits its name, Pontiac presents as a "car of the future" at the General Motors Motorama for 1954 the Bonneville Special, a competition-type sports car named after the famed Bonneville salt flats in Utah, site of many a motor car test trial.

From the crown of the front fenders, inches above the sleek, low hood, through the plexiglass canopy which covers the passenger compartment to the jet exhaust-like rear deck, this special show car looks its swift, maneuverable self.

It will be on display with the special cars of General Motors and of the other GM Divisions on the floor of the main ballroom in the Waldorf-Astoria, Jan. 21-26.

"We are proud to present this special car, not as an example of what the public might expect to see in our dealers' show rooms next year, but as an example of advanced thinking by Pontiac's designers and engineers which helps explain the constant progress of the automobile industry," R. M. Critchfield, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the Pontiac Motor Division, said in commenting on the Bonneville Special.

Specifications for the Bonneville Special indicate its unusual design. It is 48½ inches high and 158.3 inches long on a 100-inch wheelbase. The body is of fiberglass, finished in metallic red.

Of unusual interest is the transparent plexiglass canopy which encloses the passenger compartment. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Leveling-Off Is Predicted for Unemployment in State

DETROIT (UP)—Michigan's unemployment probably is nearing the leveling-off point for the first quarter of 1954, a spokesman for the State Employment Security Commission said today.

He said another 10,000 workers are expected to be laid off between now and Feb. 15, but other factors indicate the number of unemployed is reaching its peak.

The commission estimated that 167,000 workers in Michigan are now without jobs, compared with 138,000 in mid-December. However, many of those recently laid off held seasonal jobs.

Michigan's auto industry contributed to the initial layoffs late last year, but there now are 11,000 more workers employed in auto plants than on Dec. 15, the spokesman said.

He said much of the current unemployment is the result of seasonal slacks in the building industry, farm work, food processing and traffic on the Great Lakes.

The commission said it received fewer claims for unemployment compensation last week than in the previous week. However, it said fewer claims were filed because the commission office was closed on New Year's Day, resulting in only a four-day work week.

A total of 104,279 claims was filed in Michigan last week, compared with 117,578 in the previous week.

Seek Professional Diamond Thieves in $340,000 Theft

DETROIT (AP)—Police said today professional diamond thieves, who may have trailed their victim from New York, were being sought in a reported $340,000 holdup here yesterday.

"It seems obvious those two men knew exactly what the salesman was carrying and when he would have the jewelry in his room," said Inspector Carl Falk of the holdup bureau.

Anthony Seaton, president of Antoville Galleries of New York and a jewelry salesman, reported the holdup and said he "had a feeling" he had been followed since leaving New York.

He said only two Detroit furriers, both old friends knew of his presence here. He said he had played cards with them since his arrival Monday, and described both as prospective customers.

Seaton said the diamond pieces belonged to Harry Winston, a New York collector.

The pistol-packing bandits got 11 pieces, Seaton said. He had left seven, worth $150,000, in the hotel safe.

Bound and gagged, Seaton said he managed to loosen his bonds sufficiently to jiggle his telephone and attract an operator. A bellboy was sent to investigate.

Seaton said he lost three bracelets, three clips, two necklaces, three rings and a pin, with retail value of $340,000. He said they cost $207,000 wholesale.

Seaton told police the men pushed their way into his room, forced him into a bedroom at gunpoint, taped his mouth and tied him to a chair.

Seaton said he had come to Detroit to visit prospective customers.

Private Firm Will Take Over

New Schedule, Rules Go Into Effect for Joint Pickup Program

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission's decision to contract the garbage and rubbish collection in 1954 will bring some changes for residents beginning Feb. 1.

Previously the city's department of public works collected the rubbish, and a private firm the garbage. In the interest of economy, a joint collection has been decided upon.

According to the DPW Superintendent Robert Kenning, a serious attempt has been made to keep the collection days the same as at present, but some changes had to be made.

As shown on the accompanying map, the area south of Maple and East of Woodward will be collected Monday; north of Maple and east of Woodward, Tuesday; west of Woodward, Wednesday; and between Woodward and Glenhurst, on Wednesday.

Thursday, the area west of Woodward to the Rouge River, between Lincoln and 14-Mile will be served, and Friday, between Maple and Lincoln, west of Woodward. This collection route revision will change the day for approximately one-fourth of the city's homes.

The garbage and rubbish is destined to be destroyed in the Southern Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority's incinerator, being constructed at John R and 12 1/2 Mile Road. This unit will not handle ashes from heating units.

Such ashes must be separated from ordinary rubbish, and placed at the curb in metal containers with handles. They will be picked up by the city, the major portion of the east section of the city on Tuesday, and the west section on Thursday.

A dotted line on the map shows the two areas.

Garbage will still be picked up at the rear door, and rubbish at the curb. Residents may place their wrapped garbage with their rubbish at the curb in approved water-tight, covered metal containers, and avoid an annual charge of $9.36.

Residents wishing to do this should contact the city Water Department, Kenning stated. Another major change in garbage collection is that only one pickup will be made at year round.

Formerly there were two pickups a week of garbage in the summer months. Ordinary household waste paper will be accepted with rubbish, but not newspapers or magazines. Maximum weight of any container and its contents is 60 pounds.

Kenning also reminded residents that collections after Feb. 1 will begin at 7:30 a.m., and not 8 a.m. formerly. Complaints will still be handled through the DPW offices.

Bloomfield Hills School Board members approved final plans for the Wing Lake School addition this week and will receive bids Feb. 3. The $205,000 addition to the elementary school will include four classrooms, a multipurpose room, kitchen, clinic and office space.

At a recent meeting the Council of Church Women changed the title of their organization to the United Church Women of Birmingham, conforming with other groups in the Detroit area.

A hearing has been scheduled by the City Commission Feb. 8 on the vacation of a 10-foot strip between two lots on Willis. Abutting property owner George S. Wiley asked to purchase the strip, but the commission decided it couldn't sell the land.

Approval was given Swanson Assoc., architects, by Bloomfield Hills School Board members this week, to take bids on the sinking of a well for the new high school site. Both a temporary arrangement and a final well, to take care of the complete water supply, was agreed upon.

City Planning Director Robert Boatman, a delegate, suggested the move since the council is considering two members from participating communities.

rea and warned that "We will not sit back and wait until we are sold out."

An official government spokesman later issued a statement modifying the aging president's warning.

Rhee told a news conference that 180 days after the start of preliminary Korea peace talks last Oct. 26 South Korea will be "free to take our own action—good, bad or indifferent."

This would make the deadline April 23.

Rhee reiterated the 180-day warning three times during the news conference. But six hours later Det. Karl Hong Ki, official government spokesman, said the president "did not set a definite deadline of April 26 for Korean unification."

Rhee said that even if a peace conference convenes "I do not expect any great achievement."

Asked about the possibility that no conference will be held, the ROK president replied:

"I think that would automatically relieve my government of the obligation for waiting."

Rhee said he would give Allied and Communist diplomats another month to "settle the time and place for a political (peace) conference."

"I could settle it in three days," he added.

"Then the political conference should begin right away—give it 90 days, that's 180 days in all. After that, something must be done."

"Our brothers are begging and pleading with us to come and help them."

Twice previously Rhee has set deadlines for the peaceful unification of his country. And while he made no threats Saturday, in the past he has threatened to order his 18 American-equipped divisions to march into Communist-held North Korea.

Commie Probe Continues Quiz

In 2nd Day in Boston; 2 Harvard Men Testify to Ex-Membership

BOSTON (U)—Some half dozen witnesses were scheduled to appear today before Sen. Joseph McCarthy's traveling investigating committee today as the Wisconsin Republican's current probe of suspected communism in Massachusetts enters its second day.

McCarthy hinted last night that the witnesses would be General Electric workers. Ten GE employees testified yesterday at a closed session and McCarthy later told newsmen that four of them invoked the Fifth Amendment when asked questions concerning communism.

Two members of the Harvard University faculty testified at yesterday's public committee hearing. Both admitted being former members of the Communist Party but both refused to answer when asked to name their associates in the party.

McCarthy said he planned at "the earliest possible moment" to ask Senate contempt citations against physics Prof. Wendell Furry—a frequent target of the McCarthy probes—and Leon J. Kamin, a $3,200 a year research assistant.

The 47-year-old Furry testified that he was one of a half dozen Communist party members who worked on a top secret radar project at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology during World War II. But he flatly declined to name the others.

Wedding Plans Almost Spoiled by First Wife

A Utica man jailed yesterday on an alimony complaint from his first wife almost missed being at his own wedding today.

James Hunter, 30, of 53180 Van Dyke, was hurriedly released from Oakland County Jail today on $400 bond. He was arrested yesterday on a writ of attachment filed by his first wife charging non-payment of alimony.

This afternoon in Indiana, Hunter plans to wed Mrs. Rita Powell, 28, of Washington, Mich., according to Hunter's brother, Wayne, bridegroom's bestman. This is Mrs. Powell's second marriage also.

"In 30 years of bonding this is the first time I've ever put up bond for a man who was jailed by home wife, so he could attend his own wedding," said the professional bondsman who put up the 1400.

Milford Man Is Hurt in Auto Crash Friday

Protests Use of Site for Cabs

Commissioner Objects to Parking Vehicles at Southfield and Maple

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioner James Allen brought the subject of taxi cabs back before the city lawmakers this week, when he protested the Birmingham Cab Co.'s use of a Southfield and Maple location for parking their vehicles.

Two weeks ago the lawmakers revoked the licenses of five Birmingham Cab Co. cabs, due to their previous unsafe condition. The company purchased four new cabs, and has received 1954 licenses for them.

Officials of the company told the commission at a Dec. 28 hearing on revoking the licenses, that a different parking location would be used.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert said he favored revision of the city ordinance governing cabs, so that the company would be licensed, and not the individual cabs, as at present. The present limit set by the lawmakers is 15 cabs in the city.

Chamber of Commerce executive secretary Charles Mortensen said he had received complaints of lack of cabs over a period of time, and added that he thought the number of cabs inadequate to serve a city without a public transportation system.

Police Chief Ralph Mosley termed a recent test of cab service by his department "very disappointing." His safety inspection in December resulted in the commission revocation of five licenses of the Birmingham Cab Co., although the vehicles passed a final inspection.

They had failed two previous ones, Nov. 12 and Dec. 15.

The lawmakers instructed Mosley to survey whether more than 15 cabs are needed in the city, and also to secure financial statements from the Birmingham Cab Co. and the Veteran's Cab Co.

Plan Guided Missiles at Base in Germany

At Soviet troop concentrations, supply depots and communications centers hundreds of miles back of the lines, if war came.

Aviation and rocket experts consider anything which can be controlled from the ground, or which also takes over its own control through an electronic "brain," a guided missile.

The Matador is about the same size and shape as a conventional fighter. The difference, aside from the missile's self-steering radar and radio system, are these:

1. The Matador needs no takeoff run. It is hurled into the air by a powerful rocket with a thrust of about 40,000 pounds. Two seconds later, with the missile airborne and well on its way, the rocket burns out and a J37 jet engine takes over propulsion.

2. Having no pilot and free of the mass of instruments and controls needed to fly a plane, the Matador can carry a far heavier load than a comparable jet fighter. It is entirely possible that an atomic warhead close to the size used for strategic bombing could be loaded into the Matador.

Measured against the known range of a comparable jet fighter, the Matador presumably has a range well beyond 500 miles—perhaps approaching 1,000 miles.

The Matador's speed, during all of its flight except the final dive at its target, must be assumed as sub-sonic (less than about 700 miles an hour). Thus, it could be vulnerable to some of the newest types of interceptors which have speeds up in the sonic range.

Detroit Held in Jail Pending Examination

A Detroit man demanded examination on a grand larceny charge yesterday and is being held in Oakland County jail today after he failed to post $1,500 bond.

Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy set examination of Nicholas Martinez, 25, of 2674 Montgomery, for Jan. 21.

Martinez is accused of taking a furnace motor and two thermostats from an unfinished home on Bingham just north of Fourteen Mile road in Bloomfield township. The owner is Ladonir Barnes of 19219 Concord, Detroit.

The accused was picked up Wednesday by Detroit police at the request of Bloomfield Township Patrolmen Richard Hoffman and Roy Smith.

Passers-by reported that they saw a strange car at the home and turned in the license number which was traced to Martinez, Hoffman said.

Sunday School Buy Church Organ
DUE WEST, S. C. — Thousands of "Sunday eggs" combined with perseverance to buy an organ for the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church here. The women of the church began an organ fund when the building was erected in 1925. Fund-raising in this small community of modest incomes was not easy.
The women donated to the fund the eggs their hens laid on Sundays. In addition they used all the usual money-raising methods, including ice cream suppers and quilting bees. Twice their savings were wiped out by bank failures. But the women persevered and the organ was installed last Sunday.
Twenty-eight years and $17,000 later, the church installed the organ.

Seek to Repair Lutheran Split

Missouri and Wisconsin Synod Leaders Confer on Points of Contention

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The need to heal a breach that threatens to split two major branches of American Lutheranism brought their synod presidents to a conference table this week.

Dr. John W. Behnken of St. Louis, president of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, met with the Rev. Oscar J. Naumann, St. Paul, president of the Evangelical Joint Synod of Wisconsin and other states.

The top level conference was suggested by Dr. Behnken last October in a plea to a special convention of the Wisconsin synod.

That body charged the Missouri synod with having caused a "break in relations" and discussed ending the Lutheran Synodical Conference, oldest inter-church group in the nation.

However, it put off action until the 1954 Synodical Conference, scheduled for August, after Dr. Behnken requested a delay in which leaders might seek a solution.

The Wisconsin synod charged in detail that the Missouri synod encouraged "religious unionism" in cooperating with "unorthodox church bodies" — that is, permitting joint prayer with persons of different beliefs.

Other criticism by the Wisconsin conference involved the Missouri synod's toleration of Boy Scout and military chaplain activities, which Wisconsin synod opposes.

Missouri is the larger synod, with an announced membership of 1,900,000 persons. Wisconsin synod claims 314,000. Their synodical conference, which includes the smaller Slovak and Norwegian synods, represents about one-third of the country's Lutherans.

Nazarene Activities Show Good Gains

Substantial gains in every phase of international work of the Church of the Nazarene were reported in year-end statistics released today by Dr. S. T. Ludwig, general secretary of the denomination, with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Nearly 30% million, which is a per capita giving of $118.33, the largest in the history of the denomination, was reported.

During 1953 membership climbed to 258,000, a gain of more than 3 per cent. The report also lists 3,826 established churches in the United States, 117 in Canada, and 97 in other world areas, for a total of 4,040. In addition, the church now has 265 missionaries and 1,150 native workers on 25 foreign fields.

Sunday Sermonette

GETTING A FRESH START

There are two ways of getting a fresh start in life.

One is to go in an entirely new direction; it is to adopt different values and standards, to break with old ties, to start in a new type of work, to associate with a different set of companions; in short, to alter drastically the whole pattern of living.

The other way of getting a fresh start is not by setting out in a new direction, but by getting new depth. It is to put into more effective practice the values and standards one already has; it is to discover more satisfaction and fulfillment in the work one already does, in the place one already lives, and with the companions one already has. In a word, it is to make the most of opportunities already at hand.

Two automobile drivers who want to get to Detroit may never arrive—one, because he is on the wrong road, and the longer he drives the further he gets from his destination; the other, because though he is on the right road, his tires cannot get traction on the icy pavement. The one needs to change his direction, the other needs to put on skid-chains.

Similarly, one person may never get what he wants from life because he is traveling on the wrong road, and another may be robbed of satisfaction because he isn't making progress on the right road. The one needs a new direction, the other a new depth.

Methodists Building Korean 'Boys Town'

By Religious News Service
PUNSAN, Korea — An uninhabited island off the coast of Korea is being made into a "boys town" for homeless youth by the Methodist Committee on Relief.

It will be a memorial to William Hamilton Shaw, a Methodist missionary student, who was killed during the Inchon landings while serving as a naval aide to General Douglas MacArthur.

The 400-acre island has been renamed Chin-Woo (True Friend) Island and the first of a series of buildings that eventually will house about 1,000 homeless Korean lads has already been completed on it. Others are expected to be finished as rapidly as supplies can be obtained.

The Korean government has arranged to send to the island boys found on the streets of Seoul, Taegu and Pusan who are without families and have no means of providing their own shelter, clothing, and food.

'Stiffening of Farm Prices Shows Ike Plan Is Right'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman George Aiken (R-Vt.) declared today that stiffening farm prices in the past week are the "best evidence" of the rightness of President Eisenhower's flexible farm price support program.

Aiken said farm prices rose in the wake of the President's Monday farm message to Congress with a resultant boost of one-half of one per cent in the farm index.

The senator began action on Mr. Eisenhower's overall farm program recommendations by introducing a bill to give the Commodity Credit Corporation an additional one and three-fourths billion dollars in borrowing authority for this year.

He said this will be the first farm legislation to be considered by his unit after it hears Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's testimony next week.

Benson is to report on the "agricultural outlook" in a public Senate hearing on Monday.

Aiken emphasized that no new legislation would be necessary to put a flexible support program in effect since the 1949 agricultural act—which becomes automatic—effective again next January upon expiration of the present mandatory support law—carries such provision.

But he told a reporter he will push for enactment of a new flexible support law embodying the most acceptable flexible program Congress can write.

Township Body to Bid for Funds

Wants Federal Help
Clearing Sub-Standard
Units at Oakdale

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—Plans to seek federal aid for the clearance of sub-standard homes in Oakdale Gardens were initiated this week by the Royal Oak Township Board.

The township, which now owns the housing project, will ask $70,140 in government funds as the first payment on plans and actual construction of new homes in the west Eight Mile community. Oakdale Gardens is a former government project.

According to Supervisor George S. Horkey, the request for financial aid will be made to the division of slum clearance and urban development of the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Plans for the proposed project are being drawn up by David S. Greer, Birmingham planning engineer, Horkey said.

If plans are approved the government may bear two-thirds of the cost of construction, with Royal Oak Township paying the balance.

The township is obligated to make the development self-supporting. This is impossible until the sub-standard homes are replaced, declared Horkey.

The plans call for replacement of all sub-standard homes and the construction of single homes, multiple dwelling units, or small industrial buildings on vacant property.

Grain Tester Handles Eight Tons of Wheat Each Year

By BURDETTE ASHLEY
GRAND RAPIDS (A) — Edward J. Pettet of Grand Rapids might well be the subject of one of those riddles popular years ago. It would go something like this:

He is neither farmer, business man, baker nor philanthropist, yet farmers give him more than eight tons of grain a year which he keeps briefly then gives away to somebody else. What is he?

The answer: He is the agricultural stabilization committee's grain tester in 24 Western Michigan counties. He tests corn and wheat samples to see if growers are eligible for federal loans and purchase agreements.

A retired Kent County farmer, Pettet was somewhat surprised when he got around to figuring up how much grain had been brought to him in 3½ pound lots this season for testing. About eight tons.

"That is a lot for anyone's granary or corn crib," he said.

What happens to the grain when Pettet is through testing it? Henry Holly, manager of the committee's office here, explained:

"We can dispose of it in two ways. We can collect it until we have a salable quantity on hand and advertise for bids, or we can give it away to authorized institutions and agencies."

The office prefers the latter course, rather than selling the grain in competition with farmers. It is trying to help through loans.

The Grand Rapids Zoo at John Ball Park gets part of it and conservation officers get the rest to replenish wildlife feeding stations in game preserves.

Caledonia High School poultry students will eat the fruits of their labors here Jan. 19. Some of the broilers they have raised will provide box lunches for a poultry day program.

Last fall a Zeeland hatchery gave the school vocational educational department and the Future Farmers of America chapter 130 chicks as a reward for winning a chicken of tomorrow contest.

The chicks were started in a brooder house given to the students and remodeled by them. The Caledonia farmers elevator gave the youngsters the necessary feed. Each class in the school's agriculture department has had a hand in looking after the chickens. And every week one of the flock was drawn and frozen for the Tuesday exhibit to show the weekly growth and development.

Those remaining, weighing about two and a half pounds, will provide the box lunch attraction.

The Michigan Apple Storage Assn., newly formed to promote the use of storage apples throughout the Middle West, has raised $5,000 for late-season promotion work. Association President Willard Bramer of Belding says an additional $3,000 is in prospect.

The campaign is a followup of what state apple men say is "a successful harvest promotion which has opened up Midwest markets to Michigan apples."

A monument is going to be erected by a Michigan man to a famous bull that died recently in West Virginia.

The bull to be so honored was MW Larry Domino XII, founder of the million dollar Hillcrest Larry line of Hereford cattle. That is the amount estimated his offspring have earned for their owners.

One of his sons, HC Larry Domino XII is currently valued at $210,000, the world's record price.

2 Congressmen Fight Pay Hike

Raise to $20,000 a Year for Solons and Judges Expected to Pass

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress appeared likely today to vote, probably next month, for substantial pay raises for its own members and for federal judges, starting next January.

A protest from Congress' own ranks that the pay already may be too high seemed to represent only a small minority's view.

But a special commission's recommendation that the legislators' annual gross income be hiked to $27,500 may be scaled down to $20,000 or $22,500, still a sizeable boost over the present $15,000.

House Majority Leader Halleck (R-Ind.) predicted that Congress would approve a pay raise, although not necessarily the full amount recommended.

Outspoken opposition to the raise came from Rep. Burdick (R-ND) and Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich.), but neither seemed optimistic about chances for blocking it.

Burdick disagreed with the commission's finding that congressmen are underpaid.

"Most of us are overpaid," he said. "Fifty per cent of the members couldn't make back home what they're getting here. This isn't hard work. We horse around for two months getting started and waste another month finishing up and then we take a vacation for four or five months."

During the six or seven months that Congress actually is in session, Burdick said, "Many members spend little time here, and when we're not in session, many of them travel around the world on junkets paid for by the taxpayers."

Burdick said he wouldn't oppose the boost if there is a roll-call vote, putting members on record publicly. If the raise is made effective not before next year, and if the same percentage of increase is given to the blind, the aged, the crippled and others receiving public assistance.

"Of course, those conditions won't be met," Burdick said. "The fellows who vote for this raise won't get it if it is made effective next year, because they won't be back."

This is a congressional election year—a fact which apparently worries some members who favor the raise.

Hoffman predicted that if Congress raises its own pay, it will encourage other government workers and employees in private industry to demand higher wages.

That, he said, would set off another round of inflation.

Halleck said in an interview he favors a roll-call vote.

There was no publicly-stated congressional opposition to raising the pay of federal judges, also recommended by the commission.

LAUGH AT TROUBLE

by J. Lee Voorhees

One of the most delightful persons I know laughs at trouble. He's a salesman, calls on me regularly and I'm always glad to see him; so are other people too.

His car was completely wrecked in a pea-soup fog; his arm his bandages, laid his cast on my desk, smiled and quipped: "Car was old; needed a new one. My face and arm will heal; I could have had my wife with me. She'd have been through the windshield—I'm lucky." A deep good-natured chuckle filled my office.

Trouble has a habit of perching on the shoulder of him who makes it welcome. Shake off those gremlins with a laugh. Trouble and laughter mix like oil and water; you may have one or the other. Laugh at trouble, free yourself of it and you'll be surprised at the friends you'll make and fun you'll have.

Cellist Reunited With Long Lost Stradivarius

NEW YORK (AP)—Concert cellist Gregor Piatigorsky and an old friend were together again—reunited after a strange combination of circumstances that bridged year and miles.

The old friend is a 1712 Stradivarius cello with which he parted 12 years ago.

Piatigorsky flew in from Los Angeles yesterday to meet his mother-in-law, Baroness Germaine De Rothschild, who came from Europe to restore the valued cello to its owner.

At Idlewild Airport the baroness handed him the instrument, and the giant musician smiled and fingered it fondly.

He had left the cello at the Paris home of the baroness during the war. I was looted by the occupiers along with other Rothschild art treasures.

The art works were recovered, but it was not until two months ago that the cello was discovered. A violin maker in Aachen, Germany, had gained possession of it. The old craftsman studied it, suspicious at the small price he had been asked to pay for it. He soon recognized it as a cello given Piatigorsky by music lovers in Berlin in 1927.

The German wrote Piatigorsky, addressing the letter simply to the cellist, United States—without mentioning city or state. Eventually the letter reached Piatigorsky, who sent photographs and other information to satisfy the violin maker that it was, indeed, the missing cello.

Declining to say what he had paid for its return, Piatigorsky yesterday said the German was "extremely decent" about it.

While chatting with newsmen about the instrument, Piatigorsky mentioned that he was a native of Russia and, mindful of the international situation, commented:

"I think I had better change my name to Pat O'Gorsky."

Amvets Post Elects New Commander

Bemis-Olsen Post 113, Amvets, elected Douglas Logan to command the post for 1954 at an annual election this week.

Also elected to office were: Robert Gilbert, senior vice commander; Charles A. Pote, junior vice commander; Mrs. William Babcock, adjutant; and Virgil Roberts, finance officer.

Installation for Logan, who replaces Robert E. Pote as commander, and other officers, will take place later this month.

A new post home on Oakland Avenue is nearing completion and should be ready for occupancy by this summer, according to Robert Pote who heads the building committee.

Says Race Relations Improving in U. S.

NEW YORK (AP)—United Nations official Dr. Ralph J. Bunche says he has noted improvements in race relations within the United States in the past few years.

Appearing last night on a CBS television program (Ed Murrow show) Bunche, principal director of the U.N. Department of Trusteeship, said numerous forms of discrimination seem to be disappearing.

While Washington, D. C., schools still are segregated, the Negro statesman said, he particularly noted racial progress there in hotel accommodations, public swimming pools and employment agencies.

Big 4 May Agree on Austrian Treaty; Hope Dim to Break Berlin Stalemate

By WARREN BENNETT
AP Newsfeature Writer

When the Big Four foreign ministers meet Jan. 25 in Berlin to take up again the thorny question of peace treaties for Austria and Germany, observers will be hoping for the start, at least, of agreement on a treaty for Austria but see little or no chance of ending the stalemate on Germany.

Reasons for this are implicit in the continuing cold war between East and West. Measured by the scale of power politics, Austria is little and inconsequential in the affairs of Europe but control of Germany is the key to control of the continent.

Russia, these observers believe, will insist on partition of Germany as long as the East-West duel continues. Unless, of course, the Kremlin can maneuver so that all of a united Germany might become a Red satellite.

The stand of the United States, Britain and France is clear and forthright. They insist that reunification of Germany be on the basis of nationwide free elections as the first step toward agreement on a peace treaty.

Russia has a counterproposal which the Allies have repeatedly rejected. It calls for the two rival German governments (the Bonn Republic and the East German People's Republic) to create a provisional regime to negotiate the peace treaty and then arrange for an election afterward.

The West calls this Moscow proposal the cart before the horse. The reasons for the Kremlin's insistence and Allied opposition on this point are obvious. Any really free election would sweep the Communists from power in East Germany and install an all-German government hostile to Moscow and friendly to the West.

The Soviet government has always publicly espoused German unification. It still does but only on its own terms. Those terms do not include the possibility of allowing Germany to become really independent or to align itself with the West.

Look, for a moment, at the real interests of Russia in Germany at the present time.

The Russians now have absolute control over about one third of the country. This is a valuable piece of real estate with a hard working population and a well developed industry. Each year this satellite makes a substantial contribution to the economy of Russia and its bloc of little buffer nations.

There are other considerations besides the economic. To invade West Europe, Russia would have to drive across Germany to the Lowlands and France. To retaliate, the western democratic forces would have to cross Germany and Poland before reaching the Soviet border. Moscow knows, too, that no one launching a drive into the heart of the Soviet Union can do it without the active assistance of German industry, and a large German army.

In this sense it is still true that the Russians—leaders and people alike—fear the Germans despite constant hammering on the propaganda theme of "friendship between the German and Soviet peoples."

So long as Moscow can keep Germany partitioned—with one part wholly under the Communist thumb—it can prevent Germany from acting as a single united power in world affairs.

Furthermore, if Germany ever were reunified, the first thing in the mind of all Germans would be recovery of their eastern territory. Russia sliced an area about the size of the state of Indiana off Germany's eastern border and gave most of it to Poland in compensation for a much bigger slice of Poland the Soviet Union took for itself.

It must be remembered that Russia suffered a severe defeat in the West German elections when Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's policies of friendship with the West were overwhelmingly upheld.

These observers believe that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov is coming to Berlin prepared to hide behind a screen of diplomatic double talk. They think his real purpose will be to destroy western unity in any way he can and, secondly, to try to win approval for a later five-power conference, including Red China.

This assessment is based on the belief that Russia under Premier Georg Malenkov is not basically different than it was under Stalin. The men in the Kremlin did not stop being Communists because Stalin died.

When domination of Europe and eventually the world is no longer a Kremlin objective then, these observers say, will be the time to hope for agreement among the Big Four on the question of Germany.

Family Strike Is Settled—Son Will Get Raise

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The George V. Harrison family is back to normal today.

Harrison settled a four-day strike by his wife and 19-year-old son against his venetian blind factory yesterday. Here's what he did:

Fired his wife from employment at the factory and declared she should return to her status of housewife and mother of six children and promised his son a raise.

The elder Harrison agreed to sign a contract with the AFL Carpenters Union. That will mean a substantial raise for George Jr., who said he couldn't afford to get married on his pay of 75 cents an hour.

Mrs. Harrison, who received no pay for regular work at the factory, remarked to Tom Hathaway, business agent of the union:

"I guess I can't collect my three years' back pay now."

"That is a domestic matter now, lady," Hathaway replied.

George Raft Injures Arm in 2-Car Crash

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor George Raft is in St. John's Hospital for observation after injuring his right arm in an auto accident.

Raft said he was pitched forward last Saturday when his car was struck from behind by another on a freeway between Los Angeles and Pasadena. He said the arm has been numb ever since.

Mackinac Bonds Sold Out Fast

Delivery Held Up Until State Court Litigation Is Settled

NEW YORK (INS)—A spokesunderwriting Straits of Mackinac Bridge bonds, said today it may be Monday before an accounting of yesterday's sales can be made.

Nearly $80,000,000 in four per cent, 40-year revenue bonds were offered yesterday and they moved so fast clerks fell behind in noting their subscription.

Union represents a 160-member group actually underwriting the issue.

Norman S. Downey, Union vice president, said orders came from all types of institutions and individuals. He said the issue was "all sold out" last night.

Downey said the bonds were offered on a "When Issued" basis because of litigation in Michigan courts. The legality of the bonds has been challenged before the Michigan Supreme Court.

Meanwhile, Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the bridge authority said he hopes construction on the five-mile bridge can begin in the spring.

It will include the world's second-longest suspension span.

$2 Million TV Fire Injures 23 Persons

NEW YORK (INS)—Twenty-three persons were injured—five seriously—and two million dollars in new television sets destroyed today in a five-alarm fire that swept through a four-story, block-long warehouse on the New York waterfront.

Twelve firemen and three policemen were hurt when an 80-foot high wall collapsed, burying them in debris. Five of the firefighters were rushed to a local hospital in serious condition.

An official of the CBS-Columbia Co., a subsidiary of the Columbia Broadcasting System, said the blaze destroyed between 3,800 and 4,000 TV sets and 8,000 cabinets. He estimated the loss would set company production back 12 weeks.

The blaze apparently started when a crate which was pushed near a watchmen's kerosene stove ignited and the fire spread rapidly through the three-section warehouse.

Causes of Lung Cancer Still Not Determined

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—More people get lung cancer in New Orleans and St. Louis than in California, and smoking may not definitely be a cause.

That's the word from Dr. David O. Wood of San Francisco, director of the Cancer Research Institute.

In a talk before a cancer seminar here last night, Dr. Wood said scientific evidence of the cancer-causing role of cigarettes is still too inconclusive to accept.

In the middle ages, the lord often had a chair at the head of the table or on a dais beside his bed which served as a seat of authority similar to a throne.
