Rescuers Dig Within Few Feet of Trapped Boy

Beds in Halls Tell Tale

Needs Outstrip Hospital Facilities

The Pontiac area's hospital needs have outstripped its existing facilities.

That was the thought behind the new 200-bed addition nearing completion at Pontiac General Hospital.

The same thought is behind the $1,500,000 bond issue that voters are asked to approve Monday to complete and equip the new 200-bed wing.

Pontiac Press Photos

LESS THAN A CENT A DAY — Of the bond issues before voters Monday, $1,500,000 is for completing the Pontiac General Hospital addition and equipping it like the modern hospital room above. The cost to the average taxpayer is shown by Carroll L. Osmun, chairman of the Volunteer Hospital Committee. It's $2.55 a year, or about the price of a carton of cigarettes.

The crowded halls in the present hospital building give testimony to the need for new bed space.

Built 30 years ago to serve a much smaller population, the building is bursting at the seams. It has been operating at a dangerous 110-120 per cent of capacity for several years, packing an average 198 beds into crowded rooms and wards.

More than 20 of the beds regularly fill the hallways.

Meanwhile, the population is zooming towards the 300,000 mark.

Hospital Editorial

The number of potential patients has soared while the amount of facilities has remained stationary.

As the six-floor addition went under construction, the facilities temporarily were cut by about 20 beds.

The addition is planned to bring the available bed space up to about 388.

Hospital officials say that if the addition is not completed now, the area will become overwhelmingly behind in its facilities for medical care. Conservative-minded, they planned the addition for needs that already existed.

★ ★ ★

If the bond issue is turned down, the addition will stop growing but the need will keep on multiplying, they point out.

Another factor has kept on growing throughout the years.

Medical science has improved to the point where more space is necessary if the hospital is to install the latest equipment designed to save lives.

Laboratories, operating rooms, space for technical equipment and the latest therapy methods are planned for the addition.

More bed space for new mothers and a doubled capacity for new babies are planned.

★ ★ ★

Additional bed space will provide 60 nursery cribs, 18 premature bassinets, 72 pediatric beds, a 49-bed gynecology and women's surgery department.

Space in the present building formerly devoted to these functions will then be available for other duties.

When completed, the sixth floor of the total hospital will provide a 96-bed department for medical patients. On the fifth floor will be a 92-bed surgical nursing unit.

New Hole Dug to Save Trapped Lad

CROWD WATCHES — This was the scene today as rescue workers dug a new shaft in an attempt to reach Benjamin Hooper Jr., trapped near his home at Manorville, N. Y.

Youth, 7, Given Little Chance to Stay Alive

Workers Labor for 16 Hours in Well Shaft on Long Island

MANORVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Rescue workers dug rapidly today in an effort to save a 7-year-old boy trapped for more than 16 hours at the bottom of a 24-foot dry well. Sand slides impeded their efforts.

They were only a few feet from him.

Whether the boy, Benjamin Hooper Jr., was alive or dead they did not know. All that could be seen was his red poplin jacket covering his head.

Dr. J. H. Kris, supervising the pumping of oxygen into the well, said "it's possible but very improbable that the boy is still alive."

For hours after he tumbled into the shaft while playing at 7:30 last night, he talked with his father and rescue crews.

Then at 2 o'clock this morning came silence that could have meant sleep — or suffocation.

Hundreds of persons gathered in this central Long Island village to lend a hand in whatever way possible.

SHAFT NARROW

The well shaft was too narrow — three feet in diameter at the top and tapering to a few inches at the bottom — to permit rescuers to descend.

★ ★ ★

A parallel shaft was dug and then a horizontal connecting tunnel was started.

The boy tumbled feet first into the well only five minutes after his father, a truck driver for the Brookhaven Town Highway Department, had finished digging it. There was no water in it.

Hooper had sunk the hole and had hit hard earth at the bottom. He was preparing to get pipe to sink into the hole when the boy, playing with another youth, jumped into the pile of earth beside the hole and slid into the pit.

CALLS FOR HELP

Unable to reach the boy, he called help.

Before long, 400 persons had gathered. Fire departments from Manorville, Eastport, Center Moriches and Riverhead sent rescue equipment and ambulances.

The rescue operation went on through the night under floodlights and then on into the morning.

The father worked with the rescue workers until he collapsed.

Trial Finished on Courthouse

Circuit Judge to Render Decision on Padding of Budget Charges

Have Oakland County budgets been deliberately padded or merely prudently cushioned?

The question loomed at the end of a three-day trial in which the board of supervisors is accused of padding budgets and transferring resultant surpluses to a building fund for a new courthouse.

DECISION IN MONTH

Visiting Circuit Judge Herman Dehnke, of Harrisville, announced he would make his decision in a month.

"If you don't have a surplus at the end of the year," argued County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt, "you don't have good budgeting. Cushioning is good discretion on the part of the county."

The Oakland County Taxpayers' League, which brought suit charging the county raised money indirectly after voters refused extra millage to finance the proposed building, wants the present $1,392,000 building fund equity returned to the people.

★ ★ ★

League attorney Glenn C. Gillespie maintained the county deliberately has underestimated its revenues by $2,238,363 over the past ten years, with the result that property owners have paid more taxes and unbudgeted surpluses have been available for transfer to the building fund.

Gillespie claimed by this method $2,651,741 in excess taxes have been extracted from taxes and partially spent on other buildings since 1946.

The league's case rests mainly on the contention the county has violated a .1 mill limitation on funds taxed or borrowed annually for building purposes.

It says the county has only raised $528,303 by this method since 1946.

The county claims the limitation

Pot-O-Gold Loot Still on the Rise, $800 in Jackpot

Loot is still rising in Pot-O-Gold, following another week with no winner. That means your entry for this week's puzzle can be worth $800 if you select the right numbers and follow all the rules.

Following the rules is more important than some people seem to think. Despite many warnings, 48 entries were disqualified because they were late, and an additional 17 were thrown out because they were mailed in envelopes instead of on the specified postcard. Consequently, 65 possible winners were eliminated without being read by the judges. Don't let this happen to you.

Turn to page 14 for your last chance at this week's puzzle. Answers for last week's puzzle appear on page 10.

Restaurant Owner Finds Shoe Lace Prices Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Restaurateur Sam Bookbinder says an elderly man peddling shoelaces always has managed to be in front of his restaurant when he goes to work, just in time to get a daily dime. But Bookbinder never took the shoelaces.

The other day Sam handed him the dime as usual, and the oldster said:

"I don't like to bring this up, sir, but the laces are now 15 cents."

Hears of Mishap While Working on Switchboard

CENTER MORICHES, N. Y. (INS)—A blonde switchboard operator was on duty shortly after eight o'clock last night at the Center Moriches, Long Island, exchange when the board suddenly lit up.

"Call the Manorville Fire Department . . . tell them to rush to Ryerson Ave."

Dialing quickly, the operator summoned the department to the scene.

A second call came through.

"What happened?" the operator managed to ask.

The caller, a member of the Brookhaven Town Police, replied: "A young boy has been trapped in a 24-foot well."

The operator asked, "What's his name?"

The voice over the line said: "It's the Hooper boy . . . seven years old . . . first name is Benjamin."

That's how operator Betty Hooper, 30, first heard the news of her son's entrapment.

Beck Relative Refuses to Talk

Probers Told Gessert Drew $50,000 From Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Norman Gessert, cousin of Teamsters Union President Dave Beck's wife, today invoked the Fifth Amendment 40 times in 10 minutes in refusing to say whether he realized more than $100,000 from the Teamsters Union.

Gessert, a graying, nervous man, nabbed as a witness after a two-month search, monotonously intoned the Fifth Amendment to a long list of questions by Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

BECK

Kennedy said Gessert drew more than $50,000 in salary and expenses from the Teamsters Union from April, 1954, to March 31, 1957 — a period in which Kennedy said he spent most of his time doing chores for Beck.

BECK

Before that, Kennedy said, Gessert was on the payroll of a local of the Retail Clerks Union which had its headquarters in the Teamsters Building in Seattle. Kennedy said the clerks local was a "captive" group beholden to the Teamsters.

In addition, Kennedy said, Gessert received about $51,000 in "profits" through the Union Merchandising Co., a firm he said specialized in selling things to the Teamsters, including a batch of toy trucks to Teamsters locals all over the country.

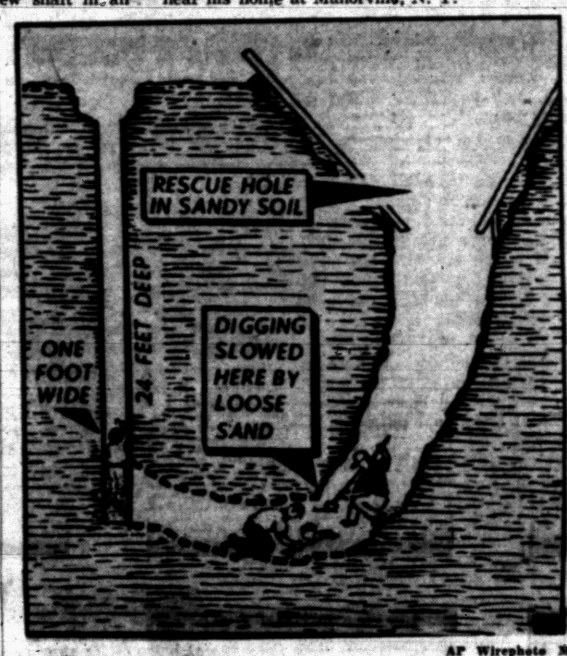

The company also sold the union the furnishings for the Teamsters palatial headquarters building here.

★ ★ ★

Gessert's appearance before the senators was a sort of anticlimax to a go-round yesterday with Beck.

They had planned to question Gessert before their new try at getting information from Beck.

Floods Menace 2 More Areas

Sections of Oklahoma, Kansas Heavily Doused by Torrential Rains

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flood dangers appeared increasing in wide areas of Oklahoma and Kansas today after two days of torrential rains and no indication of an immediate letup in the downpours.

The stormy weather that battered the Plains states again yesterday, hitting hardest in Oklahoma and Kansas after striking areas in Texas, spread into parts of the Mississippi Valley early today.

Thunderstorms, hail and heavy rains were reported. Several funnel clouds were sighted and tornadic winds lashed many areas.

Deaths in tornadoes in Texas and drownings in Oklahoma and Kansas since Wednesday night mounted to 27.

Many streams were reported overflowing and others nearing flood stage in Oklahoma and Kansas. Seven deaths have been attributed to floods in Oklahoma and one in Kansas.

"Very serious" flooding was expected along the middle and lower reaches of the Cimarron River in northern Oklahoma. All communities and residents along the river have been alerted of possible flooding.

Heavy rain in the eastern half of Kansas brought flood warnings from Weather Bureau forecasters. Light to moderate flooding was indicated, they said, after heavy rains over the watershed of the Little Arkansas River, from Sedgwick southward into Wichita.

Much of stormbeaten Texas appeared due for a respite from turbulent weather today with clearing skies across the northern and western parts of the state.

$25 Fines Silence Williams, Mantle; Pitchers Can't

CHICAGO (INS)—Mickey Mantle and Ted Williams—two of the American League's leading sluggers—were fined $25 each today for bat throwing.

Will Harridge, president of the league, slapped the fine on Mantle for throwing his bat in disgust after he struck out during a night game May 10 at Baltimore. The Yanks lost the contest, 4 to 1.

Williams drew his penalty for tossing his bat in a game against Detroit May 15. Williams had hit a single in three tries and when he fouled out again, he angrily threw the stick before a hometown crowd.

Williams currently has nine home runs and Mantle six.

City Hospital Staff Meets Water Cutoff Ingeniously

If you have ever tried managing a household for a day without running water, you might have some small inkling of what is going on at Pontiac General Hospital today.

★ ★ ★

Promptly at 8 a. m. the entire hospital water supply was cut off so lines into the addition can be tapped into the main.

The result could have been total confusion. But advance notice enabled the hospital staff to plan for the emergency with the precision of a military general war plan.

First step was to mobilize the Pontiac Fire Dept. which sent a squad to take up battle stations around the perimeter.

HOOK UP HOSES

These men hooked up a number of fire hoses to street hydrants and brought them into the hospital through windows where they keep giant reserve tanks filled.

Meanwhile, just before zero hour this morning, the hospital staff rushed the patients through their baths and served breakfast, just completing the chores before the water was shut off in the kitchen.

Employes were instructed to bring their lunches and prepare to eat them off paper plates to cut down on dishwashing which will be a big enough problem as is.

★ ★ ★

With the water off, all the patients' breakfast and luncheon china will have to be washed by hand with boiled water.

While the dishes mount up in the "sink," a worse condition pertains in the laundry, where all operations have ceased until tonight.

To further bypass difficulty, the hospital's surgery schedule was rearranged so that no operations will be performed until tomorrow. However, the hospital has made plans to handle any emergency surgery which may arise.

Water Resources Commission Urges Favorable Vote

State Body Backs City Sewage Bond Issue

The state's Water Resources Commission, which once strongly criticized Pontiac for pollution of the Clinton River, is sympathetic with a proposed bond issue for a new sewage treatment plant.

★ ★ ★

"The proposed $2,700,000 bond issue will let Pontiac meet new community development in its northeast and southeast sections," said Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of the commission.

"Furthermore, even if undertaken now, it will be a year or two before the facilities are ready for use, and every year the necessary work is delayed means higher costs to the taxpayer.

"We trust your electorate will be fully informed of this situation. If so, they will vote favorably Monday," said Adams in a letter read to the City Commission recently.

★ ★ ★

Adams recalled that the city had seen the need for a new treatment plant six years ago.

FACILITIES EXPANDED

At that time, the city spent $800,000 expanding facilities of the existing 1920 plant on East boulevard near Featherstone road. The water commission had ordered that expansion and suggested a new plant if East Side development continued.

★ ★ ★

Of the proposal for a new plant, Adams said the water commission is "always anxious to see such matters proceed without 'prodding' legal action."

"For many years, Pontiac's sewage and wastes have been the outstanding problem to be dealt with on the Clinton River.

"Increasing development around and south of the city calls for the best possible control of sewage wastes."

Voters also will ballot on a $1,850,000 bond issue to complete the new addition at Pontiac General Hospital. They will vote on a 1 mill tax increase to finance both projects.

★ ★ ★

The new plant would be located on Opdyke road at the Clinton River.

Forecaster Sees End to Showers

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts that today's occasional showers will end by tomorrow. The low tonight will be near 45.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy with a high near 55.

Temperatures are expected to average seven to nine degrees below the normal 70 high and 49 low for the next five days.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature prior to 8 a.m. was 35. At 2 p.m. the temperature was 49.

Build Reserve Center

JACKSON (AP) — The city commission has given final clearance to build an army reserve training center at an estimated cost of $500,000.

Choir of Graham's Crusade Weaves Spell

NEW YORK (AP) — Seldom has such sound been heard around Broadway.

"It's the spine-tingling vibrancy of thousands of voices blending in lyric gospel hymns."

★ ★ ★

This is an impressive feature of the Billy Graham crusade, which today rolls into its third day in vigorous fettle.

"We heard that singing and decided to go in," explained one of a group of soldiers last night.

The soldiers were among 1,000 people that streamed into Madison Square Garden for the second night of Graham's six - week stand.

★ ★ ★

No telling how many were drawn in by the choir warming up. The soaring tones float out to the street, a rare contrast to the thumping juke boxes in the nearby bars.

Songleader Cliff Barrows slices and slams the air, his body arching, swooping and stretching, as he leads the white-shirted, 1,500-voice choir. The whole congregation frequently joins in.

★ ★ ★

Whatever spell the music weaves, Graham adds to it a persuasive finale after he steps to the microphone.

Last night, when he made his plea for new believers to come forward "and accept Christ as your personal lord, master and savior," approximately 545 people responded.

On the night before, a count of interview cards today showed 704 had taken such a step, although the preliminary estimate was given as only 485. Even that was a record first night number for a Graham crusade.

★ ★ ★

One woman collapsed and died at the outset of the services last night. She was identified as Mrs. Gertrude Mabray, 54, New York City.

Attendance last night fell below the opening turnout, when 18,500 filled the Garden, but Graham said the 13,000 surpassed any second-night crowd at any of his campaigns so far.

★ ★ ★

Nonetheless, it was a huge congregation to which Graham preached, and he unleashed a hard-hitting sermon on sin and its fruits — with special emphasis on sin in New York City.

★ ★ ★

"I'm appalled when I hear of the murders, the rapes, the assaults and robberies that take place in this city — nearly a million crimes committed here last year," he said.

★ ★ ★

But he declared that it wasn't just the criminal lawbreaker who is guilty of sin — but everyone — and all need the cleansing healing of Christ's forgiveness.

★ ★ ★

"You're guilty!" he said, spearing his finger at one section of the crowd after another. "I'm guilty. We're all guilty!" He closed his eyes, raised his hands skyward, and said feelingly: "I stand here tonight and say I, too, am a sinner. I have broken the laws of God."

Boards Gather at Dinner for Discussion of Budget

BIRMINGHAM — Members of Birmingham Recreation Board, School Board and City Commission met for a dinner last night in the high school cafeteria for a recreation summary and budget discussion.

Recreation Director Robert Girardin told the activities of the past year, pointing up changes and modifications in the old program and additional features that have been offered.

Although the recreation program has in the past been mainly slanted toward the youth of the city, Girardin's experiment into the older group has proved successful. In cooperation with the Community House, the Senior Men's Activities have proved very successful, he said.

SANTA WAS SUCCESSFUL

Another successful feature inaugurated in the current fiscal year, the Santa calling service at Christmas proved extremely popular with over 1,000 calls being made.

With the completion of the skating rink at Eton Park and the four natural ice rinks, winter skating program was very well taken care of and attended.

Girardin has proposed several new features for the coming season including an expanded swimming program with the opening of the new pools at the high school and at Derby Junior High. New recreational features such as model planes, marble tournaments and horseshoe league are also on his proposed program.

Like so many other affairs of its kind, the proposed program Girardin would like to initiate is meeting with financial difficulty. The three groups are working closely together in an effort to come up with a plan which will carry the majority of the items suggested but on a curtailed basis so the $110,822 budget can be brought into line.

In speaking of the program school superintendent Dwight B. Ireland complimented Girardin and City Forester Charles Gale for the excellent work they have done in the past year.

"While we can see little or nothing on the proposals which are not good and not needed, including the suggested teen-activities group, we must admit the budget is a little higher than can be handled," Ireland said. "Our recreational program has doubled several times since its inauguration. As the community grows we are faced with the problem of meeting the demands of more people, more facilities and expanded programs. It is our job to figure out a means of doing this without adding any undue tax burden," he said.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham merchants are warned today of a "confidence man" who descended upon the city yesterday. Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist said two calls on the man's activities were reported within three minutes.

He collected $32 at the Wine Shop at 255 Pierce St. when he identified himself as a brother of one of their customers. He borrowed the money on a watch valued at about $7 saying he needed it to pay a repair bill on his automobile.

The second call at the Birmingham Electronics Shop proved fruitless. Holmquist described the man as about 40 years old, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighing about 149. "He's a real smooth talker," Holmquist said "and a real neat dresser. We hope anyone approached by this man will call us immediately.

VINAL J. SNYDER

Service will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. for Vinal J. Snyder, 68, of 628 Woodland Ave. Mr. Snyder died Wednesday at his home after a short illness. He retired four years ago as assistant district manager for the General Electric Apparatus Division where he had been employed for more than 40 years.

A graduate of Purdue University, he was a member of several Detroit clubs including the Engineering Society of Detroit and also a member of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham. He is survived by his wife, Sara and one sister, Mrs. Ralph Vinal of Winchester, Mass.

Burial will be in Louisville, Ky.

Deficit in School Aid Made Up

By a feat of fancy bookkeeping, the Legislature today came up with a method of making up nearly all of the deficit in school aid for the 1956-57 fiscal year.

The House today passed a Senate bill which would advance the payment date on some $24 million due the school districts in August from the primary interest fund.

★ ★ ★

This money will be paid in May along with the final quarterly installment of sales tax revenue due the schools.

★ ★ ★

The primary interest fund is made up of money paid by public utilities, railroads and certain other businesses in lieu of state taxes.

According to Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, the windfall will yield the local school districts enough to bring state aid payments for the fiscal year ending June 30 to within $3 of the $190 per pupil which the Legislature promised.

For Pontiac, the bill would mean an extra $296,000.

Taylor said he would hold up the last payment of sales tax money to see if the bill became law so he could lump both payments together.

The measure was sent to the governor immediately and his speedy approval is expected.

★ ★ ★

Moving up the primary interest fund payment date will not shortchange the schools next year, because the earlier payment date will be retained from now on shifting all future payment up one calendar quarter.

PROBLEM EXISTS

But this maneuver cannot be used again, so the Legislature is still confronted with the problem of raising more school money for next year to meet the demand of education.

The Senate has passed a bill which would raise nearly $23 million a year from a two cent a pack tax on cigarettes and a 2½ per cent excise tax on whisky.

This was combined with a state aid formula of $190 per pupil with a deductible millage of 2¾ outstate and 2½ in Detroit.

AMOUNT SUBTRACTED

The deductible feature means that in Pontiac 2¾ mills per thousand of state equalized valuation would be subtracted from the $190 a pupil payment.

This bill also has been sent to the House, where two Democratic legislators today offered a substitute resolution.

Reps. Edwin A. Fitzpatrick and Michael J. O'Brien, both of Detroit, called for a public vote to amend the state constitution to permit up to two legal sweepstakes in Michigan each year, with profits to go for school aid.

"Morally speaking," Fitzpatrick said," a sweepstakes plan is just as good as a whisky and cigarette tax and would raise all the money the schools need."

The House had earlier approved a whisky and beer tax which would raise $16 million and refused to accept the Senate plan. The two bills are expected to go to a joint committee to iron out the differences.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Several airlines have installed radar weather forecasting equipment in their larger airliners and advertise it as a safety feature which enables pilots to fly around storm clouds and rough weather. The question is often asked how good such equipment really is.

The answer is that it is often highly valuable, though sometimes even radar-equipped airliners can't solve the problems of frontal or rough weather.

Radar is useful in spotting thunderheads at night, allowing pilots to fly around them. It also fulfills the same function in heavy skies in daylight, when dangerous cloud formations are likely to be hidden or concealed behind harmless clouds.

The thunderhead—most dangerous of clouds—carries quantities of water that radar's reflected waves bounce back and show a clear picture of the trouble ahead. Thunderheads are usually just a few miles wide, though sometimes larger, and can be circumvented with the help of radar. They are turbulent, make passengers uncomfortable, and can be dangerous to any aircraft.

★ ★ ★

Pilots can often pick their way through a line of thunderheads, a front or squall line by using and finding the "hole" in the front. But in a solid front, extending back many miles in a general high wind area, flying is likely to be rough in any aircraft. But radar is definitely valuable as a safety and comfort device, even though it does not always guarantee smooth flying.

Economy-Minded Women Finally See Gov. Williams

Oakland County's determined band of economy-minded women finally made it. They secured an audience with Gov. Williams yesterday to voice their protests against higher taxes.

★ ★ ★

But not all of them were there. Of the original 60 who were rebuffed last week by an aide before the governor's door, 14 were admitted yesterday.

Mrs. Peter Popek of Orchard Lake said the women had planned to return to Lansing with 500 recruits to storm Williams' office, but at his request scaled the delegation down.

For 75 minutes the governor discussed taxes and state government.

Mrs. Popek said the housewives want economy at all levels of state government and urged a bipartisan commission to see where "corners could be cut."

ALREADY DONE

Gov. Williams replied that a legislative Little Hoover Commission had already done that job, but most of its recommendations had been ignored by the lawmakers.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Stanley Saunders of Bloomfield Township charged that high taxes are forcing industry to leave Michigan.

This the governor denied, saying more new industry is coming in, or present industry expanding, than is leaving.

No sooner had the delegation left, when newsmen discovered another, smaller Oakland County group roaming the Capitol's corridors and buttonholing legislators to urge higher state support for education.

Mrs. George Chute of Royal Oak said she believed there were many more people in Oakland County who supported her position than those backing the views of the other delegation.

DEARBORN (AP) — A Dearborn Township bartender fought a losing gun battle today with two holdup men who escaped with $2,500 taken from a cash drawer. But Joseph Kaczor, who was shot in the left hand, said the stickup men missed $7,000 he was carrying on his person. Kaczor suffered a three-inch gash on his head when one of the bandits hit him with a gun, knocking him temporarily dizzy. It was after this Kaczor got his own gun and began a fight at a 30-foot range. He thought he might have hit one of the bandits.

Thief Takes Suit, $6 From Commerce Shop

Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported today that sometime between 7 and 10:30 p.m. yesterday someone broke into Byers Antique Shop, 213 Commerce Rd., Commerce Township.

The establishment was ransacked and the thief escaped with a suit and $6 in change.

Trial Finished on Courthouse

has nothing to do with non-tax revenues.

"The state tells the board of supervisors to take care of the county's building needs," said Merritt, "and outside of the .1 mill limitation, it leaves the supervisors on their own.

"The board has found its own way to provide finances and there's no statute that says they should have done otherwise."

NEXT PROBLEM

If the county is ruled to have been over-greedy, Judge Dehnke said the next problem could be phrased this way:

"You can't recover each individual egg after you've scrambled an omelet, but you can take the uneaten portion of the omelet and put it on another table where there are other hungry people."

Judge Dehnke ordered the league to file a brief on the case within 15 days and the county to file its answer within a week after that.

★ ★ ★

The League was given a further week for rebuttal and Judge Dehnke said he would announce his decision afterwards.

The judge minimized the question whether the board's plans to shift the courthouse site from its present downtown location was important in the case.

The board wants the new building in the county service center on the northwest side of Pontiac. The league, which favors the downtown site, says the service center area was improperly annexed to Pontiac, the county seat.

CALLED CONSTITUTIONAL

Judge Dehnke indicated he was satisfied that the proposed site would allow the county's constitutional offices to be within Pontiac, as required by law, regardless whether the disputed area was properly annexed or not.

He concluded the trial in the dingy, basement courtroom of the present 1905 courthouse with this off-the-record observation to the county:

"How much you want or need a new courthouse is immaterial to this case. But I sympathize with you.

★ ★ ★

"This building is just plain awful for a county this size. Why in Harrisville (on Lake Huron in Alcona County), where there are only 500 residents, we've got a brand new courthouse."

An average work week in 1800 consisted of about 84 hours, a sharp contrast to the 40-hour week generally in effect in the U. S. today.

Postmen Get Poetic Tip-Off to Destination

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Postal officials said they received a letter with no formal address, only the following poem written across the envelope:

Hello Uncle Sam; I'm light as a rag,

So please give me a lift in your old mail bag.

Lafayette, Ga., is the end of route,

So when you get there please put me out.

Miss D— L— awaits me there,

And this is her motto: "Please handle with care."

Rescuers Dig Near Boy Trapped in Well

detective reporting the boy's fall to police headquarters and became hysterical. Friends drove her home.

The father first lowered a rope, hoping the boy could grab it and be pulled up. That failed.

Firemen lowered an oxygen hose to a point near the boy's face. "Benny, can you hear me?" the father kept calling. "Move your fingers."

For at least three hours, the boy showed signs of life, either by talking or moving. Then he fell silent.

"If it's God's will, the little fellow is already asleep," the father said.

George Gydish of the Manorville Fire Department spent the night lying on his stomach and shining a flashlight into the well.

"If Ben can see the light, he won't be afraid down there," Gydish explained.

After the oxygen hose had been dropped, firemen lowered a grappling hook, hoping it could be attached to the boy's jacket. That failed.

Then a power shovel began digging a parallel shaft about four feet from the well.

Michael Stiriz, a Patchogue contractor, directed the operation.

The second shaft was 35 feet wide at the top. When it reached a depth of 11 feet the walls began to crumble.

Twelve men working with shovels took over the task. There is clay and wet sand at the top and earth and fine sand at a lower level.

By 5 a.m. the second shaft had reached a depth parallel to the trapped boy. The men then started digging horizontally but cavein blocked them repeatedly. Galvanized pipe 48 inches in diameter was rushed to the pit to serve as a steel tunnel and prevent the caveins.

Relative of Beck Refuses to Answer

But Gessert asked for a day's delay because he had just retained an attorney.

★ ★ ★

Beck took the Fifth Amendment to all questions about his financial affairs, and the session wound up with Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) urging that the Teamsters Union conduct its own probe to see for itself whether Beck should be booted out as the union's president.

★ ★ ★

Gessert was even less communicative than Beck had been.

Kennedy's first question to Gessert was why he'd been removed from the Teamsters payroll on March 31 this year.

★ ★ ★

"I decline to answer under the Fifth Amendment," Gessert said.

That was his answer to every question Kennedy asked thereafter, including queries as to whether he knew Beck, or Beck's wife.

PLEADED 71 TIMES

By the time the hearing ended, 21 minutes after McClellan rapped it to order, the committee count showed that Gessert had taken the Fifth Amendment 71 times.

He even declined to give his name and refused to confirm his address. Carey said Gessert had given his name and address yesterday and said he had since advised Gessert that the address he gave might tend to incriminate him.

McClellan told newsmen that "any further action on Mr. Beck will be deferred until later."

The corpulent Teamsters president invoked the Fifth Amendment for the 210th time yesterday in refusing to state whether he stole $370,000 from union coffers and used his high position to increase his personal wealth.

His face redder than usual from recent sunburn that was peeling, Beck specifically refused to answer each of 52 questions handed to him in typewritten form.

As he prepared to leave the witness stand, McClellan denounced him for "rascality."

Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) berated Beck for joining in "an alliance of big business and big labor, with apparently little regard (for) the rights of union members whose funds were involved."

McClellan agreed with Kennedy's indictment of captains of business who purportedly aided Beck's financial schemes and helped him profit from the investment of union funds.

Happy Family of His Son Dies in Storms

Texan's Life Shattered by Twisters

SILVERTON, Tex. (AP)—Barney Stephens, a sorrow-burdened man of 59, stood silently in front of the tornado-wrecked home where his son Rance, the latter's wife and three children died.

"It was a happy family," he said slowly. "We all lived a happy life."

★ ★ ★

Rance, 27, and his family were also deeply religious. The Rev. Dick Williams, pastor of the Church of Christ, recalled that they had attended a Bible class at the church before the tornado struck Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

Rance led the discussion of the 23rd Psalm.

"He had a wonderful lesson," said the Rev. Mr. Williams. He remembered that Rance had said the Lord is "your shepherd" all the time, in all circumstances.

To County Judge J. W. Lyon Jr. Rance was a hard-working tenant farmer.

"When he worked, he really worked for six full days," said Lyon. "He was not the kind to come into a cafe for coffee in midmorning."

★ ★ ★

"You would see him a lot playing with the kids. He was that kind of person."

★ ★ ★

No one knew for certain how the Rance Stephens family had died when the most deadly tornado in a month of violent Texas weather slashed without warning into this little town in flat, open West Texas range country.

It killed 19 persons and caused property damage estimated at $750,000.

★ ★ ★

The Stephens' home was one of 22 smashed to their foundations. Another was that of Mrs. Stephens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L.V. Vaughn, who lived next door. The Vaughns also were killed.

★ ★ ★

The elder Stephens said his son and family had returned home from church about 9:30 p. m. When their lifeless bodies were found in the debris, Rance was fully clothed. The others were dressed in night clothes.

From these little clues, the father guessed that his son, as was his custom, had stayed up to read the Bible after the others had gone to bed.

★ ★ ★

The two boys, Bruce, who would have been 6 tomorrow, and Allen, a wiry lad of 4, shared one bedroom, he said. Little Rhonda Kay, the 2-year-old daughter, had a bedroom of her own.

"We had all planned on buying Bruce some clothes for his birthday," said the grandfather. "We always did that."

It's Substitute for Love, Psychiatrist Says

Turning to Modern State?

CHICAGO (INS) — A psychiatrist today linked lack of family love with the growth of the modern welfare state.

He suggested those persons who failed to get adequate love or affection from their family may unconsciously look to the state for care.

★ ★ ★

The state thus becomes "an unconscious symbolic subsitute of the family."

Dr. Gerald J. Sarwer-Foner of the Queen Mary Veterans Hospital Department of Psychiatry at Montreal, Canada, in a report to the American Psychiatric Association made these observations based on his experiences with war veterans disability cases.

But he said "underlying psychological factors apply to the ever enlarging areas of the life that are covered by state welfare by social security, industrial pensions and by disability and health insurance schemes."

Dr. Sarwer-Foner said he found some veterans disability cases "tended to perpetuate the symptoms of illness or injury" in order to gain admission to a hospital or clinic.

Once in the hospital, the attention and care the veteran receives from doctors and nurses fill the need for love that goes back to his early childhood experiences.

Dr. Sarwer - Foner emphasized that this seeking for love through hospital care was by no means true of the majority of veterans. However, he said they indicated that social and cultural changes were taking place that would have great affects on political and economic organizations.

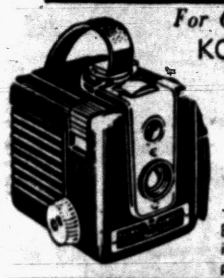

Spots Watch in Window

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP)—Henry Knechtlin was window shopping when he spotted a gold pocket watch he really liked. Police have the watch now. It had been stolen two years ago — from Knechtlin. Police are trying to locate the man who sold the watch to the jewelry store.

Farmers of the U. S. use twice as much petroleum driven power as the total consumed by the total of all the nation's factories and industries.

Is Nixon Just Pawn in '60 Presidential Race?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — A small group of Republican Senators has tipped off Vice President Richard M. Nixon that the White House appears to be "pulling the rug" from under his 1960 presidential ambitions.

The legislators have backed up their claim with what they consider to be imposing evidence. Among the points made by the GOP coterie are these:

1. No sooner had the White House persuaded Nixon to go "all out" in defense of the largest peacetime budget in history—arguing that it must not be cut—then the President said it could be reduced by $1,800,000,000, and "assistant president" Sherman Adams said it could be cut up to two billion dollars. Nixon was not advised in time to get off his unpopular limb.

2. Nixon, after a back-breaking trip through Africa as the President's personal representative, vigorously spearheaded the defense of Ike's $4,400,000,000 foreign aid program, only to have the President recommend a cut of $500,000,000.

3. Presidential assistant Bernard M. Shanley, addressing a closed-door session of House secretaries and assistants the other day, was asked to list Republicans he considered worthy of the presidential nomination in 1960.

Shanley reportedly named Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the President's youngest brother and unofficial advisor, as first choice, and mentioned Nixon only at the bottom of a list of approximately 12 potential candidates.

Nixon, formerly considered an old-guard type Republican, has alienated many of his former supporters by his loyal all-out espousal of Ike's more liberal program.

It is this group of right-wing Republicans that Senate minority leader William F. Knowland of California hopes to capture for his own presidential candidacy in 1960.

If it is true that the White House is now shying away from an espousal of Nixon for the No. 1 spot, the two Californians might well knock each other off during the early balloting, leaving a clear field for a possible darkhorse with presidential backing.

Few will argue with the fact that Nixon, more than any other vice president in American history, has been carrying a heavy load of duties ordinarily borne by the President. Many have assumed that this was an obvious build-up to hand the presidential mantle to Nixon when Ike's current term expires.

In the past, not all vice presidents have so loyally and indefatigably aligned themselves with the President's policies. Nixon, however, has whole-heartedly thrown himself behind every phase of Ike's program.

What now disturbs some of his Capitol Hill friends is the possibility that the cooperation may represent a one-way street.

The group has urged Nixon to demand hereafter that he be appraised—when a sudden shift of policy is in the making—in time to get off the hot-seat himself.

Some Senators feel that the White House may have deliberately assigned to Nixon the unpopular chore of defending the high budget.

'YES' Vote on Monday Helps You Personally

Pontiac voters face a complicated series of ballots on Monday, but the issues are two and they're very simple.

1—Do you want adequate sewers?

2—Do you want the City Hospital completed?

The plain, blunt answer to both of these would seem to be a ringing "YES."

★ ★ ★

You are voting on a personal problem. These services affect YOU.

The number of ballots on the hospital seems to complicate the issue, but they are legally necessary. No one in the City Hall wants to hand you this sheaf of papers, but the law says it shall be that way. Thus, all voters will have to overlook this and concentrate on the main issues.

★ ★ ★

Do we want progress?

Do we want to protect ourselves?

It is difficult to give anything but a "YES" answer to either of these questions. The hospital issue has been discussed in detail. We believe the atmosphere has been clearly outlined and fully explained.

★ ★ ★

Now it's a matter of your own choice. Passing the bond issue means that the average owner of the average home in Pontiac will be asked to pay $2.55 per year to cover his share of the cost. The downtown stores will pay around 15 per cent of the total, and the manufacturing plants will pay around 55 per cent.

YOU ARE GETTING A GREAT BARGAIN.

Where can you spend a dollar and get as much assistance from others? All of the home owners combine and pay about one-fourth of the cost. The remaining three-quarters of the money comes from Pontiac industry and business. Hence, the home owner has about three dollars laid on top of each dollar that he contributes personally.

★ ★ ★

TRULY, THIS IS A DESIRABLE DEAL.

It is difficult to see how anyone could actually WANT the addition to stand idle, empty and unfinished. The Pontiac area would still be woefully short of sufficient hospital services if we finish the job. Can we afford to handicap ourselves further?

★ ★ ★

The matter rests in YOUR hands.

YOU will make the decision.

Do not confuse this with other bond issues or other tax matters, elsewhere. This is a specific thing.

It's the Pontiac General Hospital.

It's YOUR hospital.

The usual fifty per cent vote will not suffice. This time it must be sixty per cent and that's much harder to get. Nearly two out of three people must vote "YES" or the hospital addition will stand empty.

Be one of the two.

Whither Indonesia?

President Sukarno declaring that parliamentary democracy in Indonesia had failed, has just issued an emergency decree establishing "a guided democracy."

A National Council has been formed with power to advise the government with or without its consent. President Sukarno will head the council, appoint and dismiss members and pass on its advice to the cabinet.

★ ★ ★

Last month he abolished government by political parties and set up an "emergency extra-parliamentary cabinet of experts." Three of the members are pro-Communist, if not outright Reds.

When President Sukarno toured Russia last September he received the red carpet treatment. His speeches expressed friendship and mutual interest with the Russia people. An ominous note at the present time is the fact that Klement Voroshilov, chief of state of the Soivet Union, is visiting Indonesia.

★ ★ ★

The ferment there is mainly a demand for more home rule for outlying areas. The authority of the central government in Jakarta, Java, has been rejected by nearly all of the 3,000 islands. Relatively poor but politically powerful Java with its 50 million people needs the production and foreign exchange earnings of the other 30 million inhabitants of the outer states with their many different languages, customs and interests.

★ ★ ★

Indonesia's Communists are very pleased with Sukarno's latest decree. His critics say it is the road to dictatorship and eventual Communism.

David Lawrence Says:

Newsmen Should Obey Government

WASHINGTON — Whenever the press itself engaged in a controversy affecting its own interests, it is important that both sides of the dispute be fully presented. Thus, in the argument that has developed between the Department of State and the press services of the United States about sending news correspondents into Communist China, it is only fair that the position taken by the Secretary of State himself should be widely disseminated so that the public may make up its own mind as to the merits of the issue.

LAWRENCE

Dulles, at his press conference on Tuesday of this week, was asked, for instance, to explain his recent statement that constitutional freedom of the press is really a right to publication of news and not a right to go everywhere to gather news. He replied:

"It has been suggested that by reason of the First Amendment that newspaper people in exercise of the freedom of the press have a right to freely travel everywhere. I merely pointed out that that is not the interpretation of the Constitution which the United States Supreme Court has adopted.

Dulles was asked for citations from court decisions and he gave a number of them, the latest being a 1946 opinion by the Supreme Court of the United States which said:

"The purpose of the Constitution was not to erect the press into a privileged institution, but to protect all persons in their right to print what they will or to utter it."

Turning to the question of passports, Dulles pointed out that the scope of the authority of the State Department to issue or withhold passports now was under study in court cases and that he would be guided by what was finally decided.

"Doesn't your policy," he was asked, "amount to using newsmen as a weapon to force the Red Chinese to do what we want them to do?"

"It is, I think, a policy," replied Dulles, "which is designed to secure respect for American citizens, American lives, and the American passport throughout the world."

POLICY INSTRUMENT

"Is it not true that your policy amounts to making the press — the American press — an instrument of American foreign policy?" was the next question. Here is the reply:

"No. Because our policy applies not only to the American press but to all Americans."

Dulles went on to say that he saw no objection to the use of foreign citizens to gather news in Red China for American press services. There are good newsmen who are citizens of countries which have recognized Red China. Many Canadian and British, Australian and other newsmen are already trusted employes of American press services and are regularly sending reliable news dispatches to the United States from foreign countries. They could, of course, get passports from their own countries to gather news inside Red China.

GET MUCH INFORMATION

Much information is already coming out that way. But much of it isn't printed when it comes out. Thus, in March a group of former Japanese military officers of high rank were in Red China for a month. They interviewed Mao and Chou En-lai. When they came out, they told a sensational story about how these Red Chinese leaders urged the Japanese people to join with the Communist Chinese "to expel" the United States from Asia.

The article, which was put into the congressional proceedings on March 28, had been furnished several days before to the American press services by an American periodical, whose correspondent got the news in Tokyo. But it was not printed in the principal newspapers of the United States, thus indicating that there probably isn't much interest in the news from Red China nowadays despite the protracted discussions here about letting American newsmen enter Red China.

Walker Stone, editor in chief of the Scripps-Howard papers, wrote from Rangoon last month:

"Americans, engaging in academic disputes about free press, over whether U.S. correspondents should roam through Red China, or in disputes involving the principles of free trade, over whether goods should be sold to Iron Curtain countries, cannot know the effect of their words in this part of the world. These are not academic questions here; they are matters of life and death. When someone sneezes in Washington, politicians out here catch cold.

It's a question of whether Red China, shall use American newsmen as "instruments" or whether American newsmen will prefer to abide by their own government's wishes.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Letters Pour In to Support Advice on Health Aids

If only I had more faith in testimonials, I'd launch the biggest, noisiest "clinic" of them all, exclusively for customers with CVD, Rheumatiz, chronic running ear or premature senility.

DR. BRADY

If testimonials were sound evidence, I could announce that there's no need to bother with medical treatment for chronic running ear. All you need is a good pinch (10 grains) of powdered boric acid, dissolved in a fluid once (two tablespoonfuls) of pure medical grain alcohol or, if that is not available with prescription, ordinary rubbing alcohol.

Let the vial or bottle stand in hot water for a few minutes before using. Drop two or three drops of the solution in the ear each night and morning. Do not keep the ear plugged with cotton.

Recently I decided I had better not keep Running Ear and Rheumatiz files any more. They were demoralizing me.

It is not good for even a therapeutic skeptic to receive hundreds of letters from people who declare, perhaps with understandable exaggeration, that the drops promptly cured ear trouble which had persisted despite much treatment for months or years—or that the regimen for rheumatiz (not "arthritis," nor "rheumatism") has enabled them to go back on the job. It is much better for my judgment not to take such testimonials too seriously.

EVIDENCE OF DEGENERATION

In most instances, insidiously developing joint disability of long duration (a year or more) is not inflammation, not infection, and therefore not "arthritis." It is physical degeneration of joint tissues.

Physical degeneration is the consequence of nutritional deficiencies (malnutrition) from early childhood to the present. The chief deficiencies accountable for the degeneration seem to be calcium, vitamin D, iodin and vitamin B-complex.

Now, if you happen to be a victim of rheumatiz—and especially if you are fed up with "promising" new miracle medicines—it can do no harm to send me 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope for the booklet Chronic Joint Disability and the pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

There has been considerable discussion in The Press recently about traffic conditions in Waterford Township, especially on the Dixie. It would be interesting to know the number of traffic accidents that have occurred on the Dixie in Waterford Township since the police force has been reduced and the number for the same period one year ago.

'Blood and Shame on Board's Hands'

The blood and shame our Mayor referred to in his letter is on the hands of the Hospital Board right now. If they had built onto the annex, the hospital would be finished by now, and it would have parking space, instead of asking for $350,000 to build parking facilities and $1.5 million more to finish the hospital.

What will we have after the hospital is built? Maybe 150 rooms more. I hope everyone votes "NO" on May 20. Let the hospital stand half built for a while. Over a thousand homes have been built in Pontiac. Where is all this tax money going?

Tells Why City Doesn't Owe Him

My city owes me nothing. If accounts were balanced at this date, I would be the debtor. Haven't I, all these years, lived within the limits of the city and shared all its benefits? Haven't I had the benefit of its schools and churches? Haven't I had use of its library, park and public places? Haven't I had the protection of its fire, police and health departments? Haven't its people, during all this time, been gathering for me, from the four corners of the earth, food for my table, clothing for my body and material for my home?

Hasn't this city furnished the patronage by which I have succeeded in my business? Hasn't it furnished the best friends in my life, whose ideals have been my inspiration, whose kind words have been my cheer and whose helpfulness has carried me over the greatest difficulties?

What will I give in return? Not simply the taxes which cover so small a part of what I have received. I want to give more. I want, of my own free will, to give enough that I can rightfully say, "This is my city," so that I can take pride in "my city," so that I can take pride in its prosperity and in the honors which come to its citizens. I can do this only by becoming a part of the city, by giving to it generously of myself.

And I might add, by voting "YES" on May 20.

'Aerial Inspection Has Drawbacks'

Our Government has proposed to Russia to set up mutual aerial inspection. Just what could we possibly gain? We have an elaborate radar system to guard against a surprise attack.

Suppose Russia sends a big squadron of inspecting planes. Each "happens" to carry a few atomic or hydrogen bombs, and these bombs just "happen" to fall out over our manufacturers of war material and our leading military air fields. Two might accidently land in Washington and New York respectively.

Would such "happenstances" be out of harmony with the aims and characteristics of the Rusian leaders?

Many have tried to get around the provision which says if the County building is moved from the site, the site will revert to the heirs. None has succeeded. And remember what a howl went up when the drain office was moved. It was moved back to town.

And just what right has our state attorney general to interfere here?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Parents, Be Positive With Children

Scotty's retort is a gem from the field of child psychology. It shows the craving of youngsters for praise to offset the chronic reproof which we shower on them. Don't be a "repressive" parent or teacher, but accentuate the positive and use the "expressive" technique.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-383: Scotty, aged about five, is the older of two boys. His mother attends my Bible Class at St. John's Church in Chicago.

CRANE

Recently I was discussing the positive program which Christ emphasized and urged parents to stress the successes which their children attain, instead of scolding them excessively about their failures.

Then I quoted our great titan in American psychology, namely, Dr. Henry H. Goddard, who warned parents that if a child brings home a spelling paper with 19 of 20 words misspelled, they should:

"Praise the child for that one word which he got right. For his teacher has already checked off all his wrong words and his classmates have already seen his failures.

"So build up his wounded ego by at least giving him a boost for his single success."

Well, after class that morning, Scotty's mother came up to report an incident from their home.

"Dr. Crane, we recently moved into a new apartment," she began. "And I had stacked a large pile of our phonograph records on a chair.

"Soon Scotty came into the kitchen, looking embarrassed, and said: 'I am very sorry, Mother, but I broke one of your records.'

"Well, I told him I appreciated his telling me about it and to be more careful next time.

"But later that same day, Scotty again came up to me and added: 'Mother, I am more sorry than ever, for I broke another record.'

"I must have looked irritated, for he then spoke up eagerly and hopefully, even before I had a chance to reprimand him, and said: 'But look at all those records that I didn't break!'

"So I agreed with him, and I belatedly put the records away, as I should have done earlier."

ACCENTUATE POSITIVE

In rearing or teaching children, we should accentuate the positive!

Praise is far better than reprimand, though the latter is also helpful and should not be eliminated entirely.

★ ★ ★

But many of us irritated parents and teachers, jump all over a child with a severe scolding when we find him in error.

Then we ignore his successes and fail to compliment him adequately.

A 17-year-old boy once asked me to intervene with his parents during the war, so they'd let him join the Air Corps.

And he later confided that the reason he wished to get into the Air Corps was the fact he hoped he'd be shot down in combat and not return home.

When I quizzed him more fully, I found he was maladjusted at home, though his parents were outstanding members of the community and active in church as well as civic affairs.

"Dad never talks to me except when I do something wrong," the boy added. "Then he jumps all over me.

★ ★ ★

"If I bring home an 'A' on my report card, he just grunts. But if it is a 'D', then he blows his top."

It is perfectly proper to correct and reprimand people for their errors, although even here it is wise to employ the "sandwich plan" which involves sandwiching your reproof between two layers of compliments.

But if you are going to criticize the bad, then you also owe it to your children, pupils, parishioners and employes to compliment the good.

It is tragic how we jump on folks about their mistakes but forget their virtues.

Physicians Test Brainwashing

Takes One One-Half Hours to Put Volunteer in Panic Stage

CHICAGO (AP) —A possible time record for "brainwashing" — one hour and 38 minutes—was reported at a national meeting of psychiatrists.

A team of Harvard University psychiatrists brought a volunteer quickly to a state of panic merely by placing him in isolation in an inactivated iron lung. They were studying psychiatric aspects of stress.

Only 5 of 17 medical and dental students volunteers were able to stay in the respirator the full 36 hours the experiment was set to run.

The only stress imposed on the volunteers was the deprival of the usual wide variety of sensations they experienced through sight, hearing and touch.

★ ★ ★

The team consisting of Doctors Donald Wexler, Jack H. Mendleson, P. Herbert Leiderman and Philip Solomon told of the tests in prepared reports at the annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Assn.

One by one the volunteers were placed on their backs in the iron lung in a semidarkened room. The subject could not see any part of his body. His vision was limited to a small section of the ceiling. An attendant sat silently behind him, out of sight, to feed him and attend to his needs.

One volunteer, a 25-year-old unmarried dental student, entered the tank and immediately complained of pain in the neck.

★ ★ ★

Within an hour he was prespiring profusely. He started telling a series of jokes. Then he demanded a drink of water to determine if the observer was still in the room.

Within an hour and 15 minutes he began describing hallucinations.

He dozed off briefly at two hours and awoke complaining of a pain in the left side.

At 7½ hours he wanted to leave the tank, but when the observer asked him if he was acutely uncomfortable he decided "I can stand it."

At 10½ hours he complained, "My left side is gone." Then he fell asleep.

He awoke at 14 hours and 54 minutes and asked in an anxious voice, "Well, to tell you the truth, I'm stuck here. Am I alone?"

★ ★ ★

He fell asleep on the 16th hour, awoke on the 17½ hour and began pounding on the tank. Tears streamed from his eyes and his voice shook. The attendant removed him and spent 15 minutes calming him down.

His experience was typical of the majority.

Mayor Blames U.S. and State for Tax Woes

Mayor William W. Donaldson, in commenting on the forthcoming city election on a hospital bond issue, has urged residents not to blame local sources for their tax troubles.

"The man who earns $10,000 a year and lives in a home assessed for $5,000 would annually pay in taxes about $1,200 in federal income tax, $250 to the state in gas and weight and sales taxes, and only about $200 in local taxes.

"Of this $200, the schools get $100, the county $35, and the city itself about $65. I, too, feel that we are paying out too much in taxes, but I realize where the pressure for economy should be placed — surely not locally where we get so much more for our money.

"Let's be fair and not whip the wrong horse."

Mayor Donaldson's comments were included in a letter to officials of Berrien Springs, in which Donaldson declined to participate in the scheduled Mayor's Exchange Day, part of Michigan Week.

The exchange day is May 20, the date of the city election.

Today's Used Cars Have That New-Car Aroma

Industry Attacks Senses With Scents

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Three years ago on a heady spring morning, a New Jersey showman named St. John Terrell gave birth to what was subsequently referred to as "a stinkin' good idea."

★ ★ ★

He would produce a movie in all dimensions, appealing to the eyes and ears and the overlooked olfactory senses, and would call it "Smell-O-Rama."

St. John's thought was to waft appropriate odors throughout the theater at appropriate times ("suit the smell to the action"), so that customers not only would observe a drama, they would live it—nostrils and all.

If "Smell-O-Rama" was successful in a theater, the producer was ready with a packaged smell-o set to be distributed by mail as an accompaniment to certain of the smellier type TV programs.

★ ★ ★

Well, Terrell did produce this film, and a great many people sniffed at it. As I recall, the movie had a deplorably thin plot, owing to the fact the principals had to be maneuvered around hayfields, by brush fires, into kitchens, etc., in a highly contrived manner.

This was absolutely necessary, as St. John's odors were at the time limited to new mown hay, smoky pine, Chanel No. 5, fresh strawberries and coffee.

IDEA PERISHED

The idea might have been an overwhelming success, in spite of this, but it died. The chief reason was that the theater could not be cleared of one odor before the next odor blew through the ventilators.

This meant that during sweet love scenes (Chanel 5 was the recurring scent to indicate emotion), there often was a smouldering left-over forest fire scent. And so on like that.

Terrell strove desperately to save the situation, I'm told, by blowing fresh ozone to get rid of accumulating smells. But the stark odor of pure air was too clinical in character for most fans, reminding them of oxygen masks.

And some folks felt cheated when it was pointed out that through 50 per cent of the picture there was no smell at all, not even old stagnant air which one is accustomed to getting in a theater.

★ ★ ★

I was reminded of this fiasco last week when it was brought to my attention how many products are being deceitfully scented these days. At least St. John was honest with his synthetic smells, introducing coffee smells to go with coffee, and perfume to go with women.

DISGUISED PRODUCTS

In industry today, the idea is to disguise the product as a horse of a different odor. For instance, it seems there now are "new-car" scents being applied to used cars.

Now, a "new-car" scent is not pleasant particularly; it is hygienic and plastic leathery. But research has proven there is a snob appeal in the odor. Makes a man feel he's bought a '58 model when he's actually driving a '50.

Fertilizer is being scented with mint these days, and ink with fresh fruit smells. Plastic handbags are being made to smell like real good leather, and bank clerks, the up-and-coming ones, are using floral-scented rubber finger-covers to make money take on a sweeter scent. (They are really pushing money these days.)

★ ★ ★

To make hunting pleasant and profitable, there are odors of doe which may be applied to deer hunters' garments. And chinchilla breeders are smelling up their male animals with after-shave lotion to make the little fellas more appealing to their mates. (Girl chinchillas kill boy chinchillas they don't like. It's traditional.)

Getting back to cars, the frantic manufacturers are putting perfume on white sidewalls, to increase sales to ladies. On more masculine black tires, the impregnated odor is "like freshly polished shoes."

Where this nostrilegious trend will end, none knows but the Being who controls the ozone. If the current Smell-O-Rama gets too offensive down here, He may be counted on to blow away the confusion.

Early Speakeasy Queen Leaves Small Estate

NEW YORK (AP)—Belle Livingstone, actress and speakeasy queen during the Roaring 20s who died last Feb. 7 at the age of 92, left an estate valued at less than $1,000.

★ ★ ★

Her will, filed for probate yesterday, listed her both as Belle Livingstone and Belle Hutchins. She had been married four times.

★ ★ ★

Her will set up a trust fund for her grandson, "Chips" Mohler, whose address was given as in care of Edward Mohler of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The balance of her estate went to "my good friend," Woodrow B. Bowne of Red Bank, N. J.

Actress Recuperating

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Maureen O'Hara, 36, is expected to remain in St. John's hospital two or three weeks recuperating from major surgery performed yesterday to correct a spinal disorder.

Divorce Ends Marriage of Actor, Joanne Dru

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dvorce has ended the eight-year marriage during which actress Joanne Dru and actor John Ireland managed to accumulate $53,388.66 in debts.

This total of unpaid income taxes and bills was given Superior Court yesterday when the 34-year-old actress was granted a decree.

A settlement provides that both will pitch in and pay off the bills from proceeds of the sale of their home and from their earnings.

Hal Boyle Says:

Step on the Petrol--It's Quite Cricket

NEW YORK (AP)—If you plan to motor in Great Britain this summer, you will be glad to note one driving restriction from the Victorian past has been relaxed.

It is no longer necessary to hire a man with a red flag to walk before your car if you drive faster than two miles an hour.

Another thing you won't have to fear — police speed traps. As a matter of fact, on the open highway the only speed limit is that provided by common sense.

We have all this on the word of two unusual envoys from the land of the Union Jack.

They are representatives of Britain's two automotive organizations — Inspector Leslie Hockaday of the Automobile Assn. and Inspector Roderick Gibbons of the Royal Automobile Club.

★ ★ ★

The two smartly uniformed inspectors are members of the 3,000-man corps of English "road scouts," hired by the two auto clubs to patrol British highways and help club motorists.

The road scouts give a stiff-armed military salute to all vehicles bearing the club insignia. Strangers on occasion mistake them for traffic cops.

"Now the highway police and road scouts assist each other," said Hockaday. "If we see a fire, we notify them, and if a member car has broken down they often help us fix it."

★ ★ ★

"Yes," said Gibbons, who has a proud walrus mustache. "We also keep an eye out for stolen cars and smash-and-grab men."

A bit of questioning established that smash-and-grab men are petty dastards who paste a piece of paper to a jeweler's window with treacle, then break the glass noiselessly, grab the gems and run. Awful people. Non-English to the core.

The two inspectors agreed that American motorists abroad behave well and observe the rules of the road. They said they never had personally come across an American-driven car involved in an accident in their country.

Other points of polite mutual agreement: London traffic is denser than that of any American city they had seen, and American women drivers are as able at the wheel as men.

Since there are certain language barriers, here is a guide they offer to handle the difference in motoring terminology in the two countries, the English and then American:

Windscreen — windshield, recellulosed — repainted; components—parts; demister — defroster; gearbox — transminssion; bonnet-hood; spanner—wrench; petrol—gas.

One other difference:

"I understand there is a saying over here that you can't fight City Hall," said Hockaday, smiling. "Back home you can. You can go into court in a traffic offense case, and, if you've got a good story, get away with it.

"But if your story isn't really good they charge you even more."

CUBS CARNIVAL — Featured at the Waterford Township Cub Scout carnival to be held from 4 to 8 p. m. Saturday, is the antique museum show, at the Drayton Plains school. Eight-year-old Cub Scout Cecil Caverly is astonished at the attire worn by Mrs. James Hester, Marion Tanner, Mrs. Delvin Tanner and Mrs. Charles Sniffen. The show will also exhibit the History of Oakland County since 1877, old silk quilts, spinning wheels, chairs, and antiques of every description, according to Mrs. Alvin L. Caverly, chairman.

Why are Chevrolet trucks saving more dollars for more owners than any other make?
Chevy's a champion at saving time and money—and truck owners know it! Owners show it, too, when it comes to buying new trucks.
Chevrolet's famous 6 and short-stroke V8's pack plenty of brawn—without the bulk. They pay their way with modern power efficiencies on every job.
Chevrolet Task-Force trucks are designed to be functionally modern—all the way through! They're made to increase your profit payoff via job performance and durability.
The most modern V8 in the business means extra power per pound—and extra money in your pocket! Chevrolet's V8 stroke is the shortest of all leading truck engines. This adds up to longer wear and less repair. High compression ratios, up to 8.0 to 1, make the most of every gallon of gas.
In addition, there's extra forward-viewing area in Chevrolet's big, panoramic windshield. You get extra ventilation and extra cab room besides. Stop in and talk trucks with your Chevrolet dealer soon!

Were Your Answers Like These?

The following are answers and explanations to the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) STILTS. Certainly if one's legs were not sturdy and sure, it would be hard to balance and keep a foothold on STILTS. In Scotland, Kilts are a native costume; Scottish regiments wear them, and good legs have no bearing on whether they are worn or not.

B. (4) LANGUISHED. A rejected suitor is likely to feel Anguished, or suffer mental distress for a while, but that's life! A girl would really feel badly, though, if the suitor LANGUISHED, or pined with grief, because she had turned him down.

C. (6) SCANTY. A large family would find it uncomfortable to be crowded into quarters without enough room for them. A shanty is a crude house, but unless it was SCANTY also, it might serve for a family whose standards were not high.

D. (7) TENDER. The high point of a musical play is usually a love song, a TENDER solo, which may be sung by a Tenor or any other type of voice.

E. (9) PASSIVE. PASSIVE sabotage is so quiet and subtle that it is hard for a police state to track down; machine parts don't quite fit; screws fall out, etc. Massive sabotage is on a large scale, and a police state will use brutal force to stamp it out.

F. (11) SLEDGE. The necessity for mending a broken SLEDGE would delay an exploration party in the Arctic. Sludge is finely broken drift ice, or new sea ice forming in thin crystals—neither as likely to cause delay as broken equipment would surely do.

G. (14) INDOLENCE. If a man is lazy, his wife is entitled to be annoyed with him when he gets fired from his job. Some bosses might regard any backtalk as Insolence, while the worker and his wife would consider it justified.

H. (15) BARELY. Certainly you would need to try harder if your attempts to speak a foreign language were only BARELY understood—hardly understood at all. Fairly means moderately well, which is well enough to suit the average person.

I. (18) SPUTTER. Caught stealing apples, a small boy would be too embarrassed to peak out clearly and would fumble some sort of indistinct explanation. A Stutter is a speech handicap of a more permanent, chronic nature.

J. (20) CORRECTIVE. Although in a crime wave, the community leaders might get together for Collective measures, the basic aim would be CORRECTIVE, to re-establish law and order.

K. (21) GUILE. If a suitor is too bashful to propose, a Smile is hardly enough to get him started. His sweetheart would need a little GUILE, an artful, sly way of introducing the subject.

L. (24) HORRID. Whether the climate was Torrid—hot and dry—or cold and wet, it would be HORRID. Any unpleasant climate may be bad for one's health through the years.

M. (25) FRAGMENT. A small, unfinished episode in the back of his mind gives a skilled novelist a basic idea to build a story on. Whether or not much of the story was a Figment, or pure invention, a FRAGMENT of something specific would be needed as the germ of the novel.

N. (27) A CHURL, peasant or rustic, would most often be seen in an early English kitchen. A Churn for making butter would probably not be used in the busy kitchen with its big fire, but in an outhouse or dairy.

O. (29) TIMED. An awkwardly TIMED request for a raise would only irritate the employer, who, by inference, has his mind on some other problem. A Timid request would not offend anyone, and has no bearing on whether the raise may be deserved.

P. (32) PACIFIC. Peaceful ideas about settling the world's problems are certainly worth listening to. A man who has Prolific, or abundant, ideas on the subject is likely to be just sounding off—there aren't, logically, many ways of settling the problems.

Q. (34) SQUINTING. A youngster with a water pistol who is Squinting at a passerby is probably taking aim. If he is already Squirting his pistol, it's too late for the victim to shy off.

R. (36) MOMENTS. A concert-goer always waits for certain favorite MOMENTS in a familiar, well-loved symphony. These may be only a few short passages rather than some of the relatively long Movements that make up a symphony.

S. (37) CONFIDENCE. Even if a man's Confidants — those to whom he confided secret information—betrayed him, it would still be the CONFIDENCE—the telling of the secret, or the trust in his friends—that would be the root of any trouble such a man got into.

T. (39) CHATTER. Old people's minds are slower, and then often ramble in their CHATTER; it suits their mental pace. A slow-moving Chapter has more to do with one's taste in literature than with age.

Retrial Hearing Set for Convicted Killer

At hearing on a motion for a retrial for convicted killer Howard Wayne Moore is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Monday before Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Moore, 26, is serving a life sentence in State Prison of Southern Michigan for the slaying last July 27 of three-year-old Martha Little, daughter of his next-door Lake Orion neighbor.

Convicted by jury of first-degree murder last Oct. 22, the former furnace repairman claims introduction of a lie detector test during his trial was unconstitutional and the alleged murder weapon, a tire iron, was not produced in court.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today said in rebuttal that the lie test was introduced by Moore's attorney as part of an insanity plea. Ziem will argue against the motion Monday.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

CIRCUS TIME — 5. Terry on the Tight-Wire

The band music stops suddenly — then an excited ruffle of drums. A spotlight cuts a wide path across the arena. High overhead Terry, the tight wire artist, steps into the spotlight's beam and begins her daring act. If it wasn't for the drums, you could probably hear your heart beat — and hers too.

Will she make it? Can she keep her balance with that golden balancing pole? Oh! Look . . . she almost fell. No, she's all right. She has her balance again and is now dancing instead of walking.

Terry is a very young and pretty girl but she's an old hand at making hearts beat in thrilling circus time. She learned how to walk a tight wire before most of us learned how to roller skate or ride a bike. Terry was born in the circus and her acrobat father and aerialist mother started her off on her dazzling career at a very early age — first with a harness, then with a net below and then she was on her own.

Terry is one of the featured acts in our Junior Editors circus. Paste her picture down on cardboard and color her dress a frilly pink, the roses a bright red, and gold for the balancing pole. Cut out the figure carefully and thread it into the guide threads, a thin one at top, a heavier one below, as shown in the small sketch. The upper thread will be hidden by part of the guide pole and Terry will slide gracefully along the lower thread to thrill your circus audience.

(Wesley Burnett, Oil City, Pa. won $10 for this Junior Editors idea. Send yours to this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins. AP Newsfeatures.)

Bob Considine Says:

Graham Manner Surprises Press

NEW YORK (INS) — Billy Graham surprised a good portion of the reporters who covered his opening at Madison Square Garden by his modulated approach.

★ ★ ★

Those who hadn't seen him before expected a cross between Billy Sunday and Oral Roberts. He was more like an ecclesiastical Newbold Morris.

The opening night crowd of 18,500 was remarkable in that this assault on the satanic citadel of Broadway attracted people who would have been just as much at home at a PTA meeting in Scarsdale or Oyster Bay.

There was a good, clean, solid citizen look to those in the seats and those who came forward to repent. The usual Madison Square Garden characters, who could use a little reverence, were nowhere in sight. The Broadway sharpies were out sharping somewhere.

★ ★ ★

The only untoward note of the evening came when, while Billy was exponding Isaiah, some parishioner rolled a photographer for $800 worth of camera equipment. Billy has promised to pray for the thief.

3 H-BOMB POWERS

Britain has joined the H-bomb powers, upping the total to three. The significance is enormous, of course. There will be fresh overtures to her as an ally, by the other two.

★ ★ ★

We have the head start there, of course. But Russia will stop at nothing trying to drive a wedge between us and attempt to win her. The stakes are as high as the weapon is appalling.

The event at Christmas Island makes the warning of Bernard M. Baruch more compelling than ever. It is Mr. Baruch's contention that unless the great powers agree quickly on a puncture-proof system controlling the manufacture and use of such bombs, the smaller nations—some with lesser consciences—will in time create nuclear arsenals of their own.

And then the people of the world will indeed live in hourly dread of little wars capable—in an age of chain reaction—of igniting the world.

Speaking of bombs, a big one was laid on TV when Mickey Rooney was called on to play the late George M. Cohan, according to those who treasure Cohan's memory. Here's a note from John David Griffin:

"When I opened my front door on Nov. 5, 1942, to pick up my morning newspapers, I found the following telegram:

" 'Dear John: Thanks for your fine letter. Hope to be well enough soon to get together with you for another chat. You are still my favorite American boy.' It was signed George M. Cohan.

★ ★ ★

"The wire had been sent the previous night. The morning papers carried the story of his death during the night.

"I hope your kids missed 'Mr. Broadway' on TV last weekend. I wouldn't like them or any youngster to think that what they saw was the life of one of America's greatest citizens and the theater's greatest phenomenon.

★ ★ ★

"George M. Cohan was a soft-spoken man. He was a considerate and charitable person. He was a fine and gifted gentleman.

"He wasn't the rude, crude ass the American public saw on TV. The writers changed the most fabulous success in theater history into a flop.

"They made no mention of the special Congressional Medal President Roosevelt presented to Cohan at the White House in 1940, nor any mention of 'Over There' and 'Grand Old Flag.' I hope the writers are never assigned to do George Washington. They'd make him out a liar and a private.

★ ★ ★

"I've spoken with George M. Cohan Jr., who should have been the technical adviser for the show, and he told me he was not asked one opinion by the producers.

Family Struggles for Months With Septic Tanks

Sanitation Woes Press Oakland

By HAROLD S. COHEN

The vicious merry-go-round of sanitation woes on which a number of Oakland County residents take unwilling rides is illustrated by the Donald M. Garnier family, of 6313 Hermana, Bloomfield Knolls Subdivision, West Bloomfield Township.

Like many other in suburbia they grabbed the brass ring when they purchased a modest GI home 18 months ago and now they feel trapped.

CAN'T LIVE IN HOME

In a sense they are trapped, they have a home they cannot live in, they cannot sell and cannot afford to abandon.

The Garniers, like several other families in the subdivision, unfold a tale of months of struggle with a mal-functioning and non-functioning septic tank.

"You don't know what it's like, to go for weeks without the use of the toilet, without being able to take a bath, without a washing machine, stacking the dishes so a whole day's is done at once to conserve water," Mrs. Garnier said.

CAN'T LIVE THIS WAY

"I have a small boy and we are expecting a baby. I just can't go on living this way any longer," she added.

Her husband told of a Christmas gathering at the home during which the septic tank suddenly backed up through the utility room drain, flooding all the rooms with a foot of raw sewage.

"We have gone as long as five weeks at a stretch without sanitary facilities of any kind, just using a bucket," he said, "and we've stood all we can. I'm going to put up an outhouse in the backyard if I have to."

BUILDER NEVER IN

"We call the builder, but he is never in," Garnier continued. "We have complained to the township, to the Veterans Administration, to the County Health Department, but still no relief."

A check with the agencies he mentioned uncovered no lack of concern, but an inability or unwillingness to do anything.

The township supervisor, Hiland Thatcher said, "We have done everything possible, but people expect too much of their local government. This is a civil matter and those individuals who have a complaint should file a civil suit against their builders."

WORKED FOR MONTHS

The health department spokesman said, "We have been working on that subdivision for months. We have brought about the correction of the systems in almost all of the 15 affected homes. There are a few still not working right, but we are stumped. We don't even know what to suggest. If they want to put up outhouses, it's all right with us, if they are properly installed and maintained."

The township supervisor said he would not permit this in the subdivision.

The Veterans Administration pointed out they had health department approval for each installation and had been after the builder to correct the situation.

ASKED ACTION

"We met early in March with the builder and told him to hire engineers and make soil boring tests to come up with an area in which septic tanks will work," said a VA spokesman.

"To date," he added, "we have heard nothing and have had to send him a telegram in an effort to get in touch with him." The builder's office is in Detroit, so is the VA office.

The firm which developed Bloomfield Knolls is Township Builders and its secretary-treasurer, Herman Schwartz, of Detroit, is generally called "the builder" by the residents.

SPENT THOUSANDS'

Schwartz said his firm had spent "thousands and thousands of dollars" in repairing faulty septic tank systems in the subdivision.

"We have not tried to run out as others might have, but have stuck with it," he added.

Asked what he planned to do for the three homes which still experience "severe difficulty," he replied, "We are not shirking our responsibilities, but we don't intend to be made the goats in this situation.

Township Builders position is as follows: The VA, the local authorities and the county health department are trying to duck their share of the responsibility for the situation.

Not being sanitarians or engineers, the building firm relied on a professional engineering company of high standing to make the tests and engineer the systems. They said the systems would work. The county said the systems would work, and the VA approved the systems. Now they say Township Builders alone is responsible.

When all the authorities involved can get together and produce a workable solution, Township Builders will accept it. Until then they don't intend to waste any more money.

As for the Garniers and their neighbors, no one seemed to know just when, if ever, they would get the type of sanitation most Americans have come to take for granted in the 20th Century.

U.S. Must Not Sit Idly By While North Korea Arms

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

One of the worst mistakes a flaccid world ever made was to play ostrich while Adolf Hitler rearmed Germany during the 1930s.

While the United States was in retirement from world affairs, while France relied on the Maginot Line which may or may not be comparable with today's reliance on atomic deterrence, and while Britain wandered around in her own economic muddle, Hitler set the stage for a new war.

★ ★ ★

The German General Staff was re-established in secret. But everybody knew about the growing divisions of Panzers. They burst into full view in Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Nevertheless, few believed that Hitler would try again where the Kaiser had failed. Indeed, few believed anyone but a madman would precipitate war again while the memory of the destruction and disruption of World War I was still fresh.

But Hitler was a madman, and the designing militarists of Italy and Japan were ready to follow his lead. They thought they could take the world by surprise and divide it between thm.

VIOLATE ARMISTICE

For four years now the Communists have been violating the Korean Armistice by moving modern war materiel, especially Russian-made airplanes, into new North Korean bases.

The allies have made small protest, realizing that protestations were no good unless backed up by a willingness to resume the war. Insofar as the United States is concerned, that would be one of the most unpopular things which could happen.

But now Secretary Dulles has revealed the United States does not intend to sit idly by while the Reds build up the capacity for another attack on the Republic of South Korea, first nation established under the aegis of the United Nations.

DEAD LETTER

The armistice is a dead letter, he says, adding that it did not contemplate the fact that replacing allied arms in Korea on a piece by piece basis, as agreed, would become impossible as the development of new weapons killed off manufacture of the old ones.

"The armistice is more of a dead letter, however, because, like the Versailles Treaty, one side pays no attention to its provisions.

The alternatives open to the United States are to leave her own and allied forces with a popgun defense against modern attack weapons, to restore their strength, or to pull out of Korea.

★ ★ ★

The Reds will scream loudly when the atomic field guns and the guided missile start moving in, just as they are screaming now that the Americans and the Formosans, with their tiny strength, are preparing an attack on the Chinese mainland.

Railroad Opens Research Center

New York Central Plans to Utilize Laboratory in Rebuilding Program

CLEVELAND (INS) — A $1 million railroad technical research center to study the latest discoveries of science, including industrial development of atomic energy, was formally opened Thursday in Cleveland by the New York Central Railroad.

The laboratory, largest of its kind on any railroad, will be the heart and brain of the Central's rebuilding program over the 11,000 mile system, according to President Alfred Perlman.

★ ★ ★

Perlman said that "revolutionary devices are coming out of the laboratory which will permit us to move trains over our tracks faster, safer and more economically."

To mark the research center opening, Technical Director James Wright unveiled a new special fuel oil developed in the laboratory which will be cheaper and more efficient.

Atomic energy for industrial use also plays an important part in laboratory studies. Wright said many phases of the Central's program "will lend themselves readily and handily to atomic research."

Another project being studied at the center is an entirely new type gas turbine engine which can burn powdered coal and which will be installed in one of the system's locomotives in a few weeks for tests.

Seek Circuit Judgeship

BAY CITY (AP) — Six Bay City attorneys — four Democrats and two Republicans — have indicated interest in the new Bay County circuit judgeship just created by the legislature, Democratic County Committee chairman Anthony Bielawski said Thursday. Bielawski said he gave these names to Gov. Williams: Democrats Janet Kinnane, T. George Sternberg, Charles Legatz and Samuel Werener; and Republicans Richard Smith and Municipal Judge Leon R. Dardas.

Joyride in School Bus

MATTAWAN (AP) — Pranksters took a joyride here at the expense of St. Mary's School in Paw Paw. Officer Richard Irons of Lawton said he found the bus, after it had been reported missing, in a back field where it was partly hidden in trees. It was out of gas.

Quick Decision by Doctor, Puppy Hold Off Death

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — His puppy and a split-second decision by the family doctor prolonged the life of a 15-month-old boy after he was pulled seemingly lifeless from a scum-covered fish pond behind his home.

★ ★ ★

But the tot, Stevie Grant, died some eight hours after an emergency operation was performed to restore heartbeat.

★ ★ ★

Stevie was found floating in the pond by neighbors who heard the frantic barking of his dog Ginger, a rust-colored cocker spaniel. the dog was tugging at Stevie's rompers.

The boy was given artificial respiration by his grandmother while an ambulance was called. The doctor who delivered Stevie to Mrs. R. F. Grant immediately made an incision in his chest and massaged his heart until it started beating again. Doctors estimated it had been stopped for about 10 minutes.

★ ★ ★

"We tried to get the owner to cover up that pond," said his grief-stricken mother. "We knew something like this would happen but the lady said she wanted the sun to shine on her lilies."

Report Selwyn Lloyd Through in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Selwyn Lloyd today appeared on his way out as British foreign secretary.

There is no indication, however, of a Cabinet shakeup before fall.

Demands have come from the political left and right for the 52-year-old Lloyd. Many regard him as a "symbol of Suez" they want to forget.

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister Macmillan admittedly is finding the foreign secretary he inherited from Sir Anthony Eden an embarrassment in uniting the various elements in his Conservative party behind a new policy dealing with Egypt — and the Suez Canal.

★ ★ ★

But Macmillan, insisting that history will justify last fall's Suez invasion, has reportedly confided to friends that he has no intention of making anyone a scapegoat.

Although Macmillan is resisting pressure to fire Lloyd immediately, talk in parliamentary lobbies is that he may be eased out — possibly into another Cabinet post — this fall.

'We're Trying to Cut Budget,' Says Aide

NEW YORK (AP) — Budget Director Percival Brundage says the Eisenhower administration will do its best to reduce expenditures "without jeopardizing the nation's strength and defensive power."

Brundage spoke last night at the annual dinner of the Tax Executives Institute, Inc.

He defended President Eisenhower's record 72-billion peacetime budget, saying:

"It is wide of the mark to conclude that the budget was 'irresponsible' or had been carelessly prepared.

"Congressmen, too, have a way of adding local benefits to the budget at the same time they are reducing some remote spending projects."

Plan 25th Peach Fete

Romeo Slates Silver Jubilee

Three-Day Celebration to Be Held Weekend of Labor Day

ROMEO — Elaborate plans are being made by the Romeo Peach Festival Assn. for this year's "Silver Jubilee," 25th anniversary of the festival to be held over Labor Day weekend.

Each activity, during the three-day celebration, will be geared to offering the best in entertainment to the thousands who join the trek to the Macomb County peach center annually for the festival, according to J. A. Farrell, association president.

At a recent meeting of the festival board, Farrell named chairmen of each event leading up to and including the annual celebration.

★ ★ ★

First festival activity will be the Miss Romeo contest to be staged early in June in the Romeo High School auditorium. The winner will represent the village in the Queen's Contest later in the summer.

In addition to Miss Romeo, candidates from 11 neighboring communities will compete for the coveted title.

★ ★ ★

During the interim the Festival publicity float and Romeo High School band will participate in parades and homecomings in nearby towns to advertise the forthcoming celebration.

The engagement of Nella R. Foehlinger of Lake Orion to Fred A. Preiss is being announced by her sister, Maria Foehlinger, also of Lake Orion. The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anton Foehlinger of Germany and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Preiss Sr. of Utica. An October 12 wedding is planned.

John Hunt Chosen as President of Council at Annual Session

The annual meeting and dinner of Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts at Utica Thursday evening was attended by 300.

★ ★ ★

The council's area covers most of Oakland and Macomb Counties, including Pontiac and Mount Clemens. This meeting is the annual get-together of the adults representing the 15,000 boys and others in the work in the council.

John Hunt of Farmington, who has been council commissioner for the past 16 years, was elected president for the coming year.

Other officers chosen included D. B. Eames, F. R. Chapman, R. S. Randolph and R. D. Baker, vice presidents; S. J. Filkins, treasurer, and K. B. Sanderson, commissioner.

★ ★ ★

Under the direction of Ted Pearson, silver beaver awards were given to Roy Plauman, J. E. Ostrander and C. W. Pohly.

DELEGATES NAMED

Delegates to the national convention at Philadelphia in July are R. D. Baker, Joe Haas, S. J. Filkins, Ralph Bennett, A. W. Selden, R. S. Forman, M. G. Schwark, M. A. Case, K. H. Sanderson, R. C. Cummings and C. F. Barck.

★ ★ ★

The guest speaker was Harry D. Hoey, headmaster at Cranbrook School.

Conrad Haak, Pontiac Explorer Scout, was awarded the national medal for outstanding work in conservation, this being the first time it was received by a scout from Clinton Valley Council.

The annual report of Executive Secretary Edward H. Leland showed an increase of 17 per cent in scout membership in the council during the past year, with a total of 206 active units, a gain of 26.

SARAH JANE SOLDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Solden of 9615 Buckingham Dr., Waterford Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sarah Jane to Richard L. Phillips. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burr Phillips of Farmington. A July wedding is planned.

Weather Slows Safety Check

Number of Autos Falls Short of Expectations Due to Cold, Rain

The weather in Pontiac since Monday remained a detriment to the progress of the May Vehicle Inspection program today, the last of the five day volunteer auto check safety campaign.

Rain and colder weather is probably the major factor why only 5,569 autos have gone through the five check lanes set up throughout the city. Committeemen had expected to check 20,000 autos during the 1957 campaign.

Special warning tickets have been issued to 126 motorists whose autos did not pass the safety requirements. They will have 72 hours to repair the defective equipment.

The check lanes are located at Saginaw at Huron streets; Auburn Ave. near E. Boulevard; Montcalm St. in front of Lincoln Junior High School; Johnson St. between State St. and the railroad and Orchard Lake Ave. near Sylvan Court.

★ ★ ★

Weather providing, they will be open today from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Students from four Pontiac high schools' driving classes and members of the Rotary, Optimists, Exchange, Lions, Northside Kiwanis, Civitan, Westside Kiwanis and Kiwanis Clubs are checking the autos with the assistance of Pontiac Police and Pontiac Police Reserves.

The inspection is sponsored yearly by the Traffic and Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, the Pontiac Police and the Pontiac Automobile Dealers' Assn.

Schools Seek Borrowing OK

Waterford Would Issue $250,000 in Tax Notes if Necessity Arises

The Waterford Board of Education last night voted to ask permission of the State Municipal Finance Commission to issue $250,000 in tax anticipation notes to meet current operating expenses.

★ ★ ★

The move was made to avoid financial difficulties if state aid levels for the final quarter of the fiscal year fall too far below budget estimates.

Mrs. Elizabeth Adams, board president, said the notes would be issued only if necessary, depending on what the Legislature does.

In other action, the board made four key appointments for next fall and set the teachers' salary schedule.

Starting pay for teachers was left unchanged, but maximums in all training categories were boosted by $150.

PRINCIPAL NAMED

Mrs. Helen Huested, present principal of the Waterford Center School, was named principal of the new William Beaumont Elementary School now under construction on Elizabeth Lake road.

★ ★ ★

Taking her place at Waterford Center School will be William Aebersold, a teacher at Isaac Crary Junior High.

The present administrative assistant, William Bawden, will be principal of the new Henry R. Schoolcraft School, under construction on Maceday drive.

John Edward Hills, present superintendent of bus maintenance, was named administrative assistant with responsibilities for building and grounds upkeep and transportation activities.

Other business of the board included the approval of the purchasing of $600,000 in U. S. Treasury bills from the building and site fund series No. 1.

The board also approved a driver training course for its summer program, the first in the system's history. A cooperative training program for summer students was adopted as well.

Pontiac Couple Wed 60 Years to Entertain

NORTH BRANCH — Observing their 60th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. William Batchelor of Pontiac will hold open house for their friends at the Deerfield Township Hall on Burnside road from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The couple, who had lived many years in Deerfield and Rich townships, Lapeer County, are parents of two daughters and three sons.

They are, Mrs. John Hutchenson of Drayton Plains, Myrtle Batchelor and Henry of Pontiac, Milton of North Branch and Cecil of Otter Lake. They also have nine grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

7 From Ecorse Freed by Judge

6 Others Held for Trial on Charges of Bribery or Conspiracy

DETROIT (AP) — Two Ecorse councilmen and five others indicted by a one-man grand jury on charges of bribe-taking or gambling conspiracy were freed today by Circuit Judge Frank Fitzgerald.

Judge Fitzgerald ruled the state had insufficient evidence to hold the seven for trial.

Six others, however, were ordered held for trial. Another six, including Mayor William Voisine, will argue later for their freedom before Circuit Judge Robert M. Toms.

Freed by Fitzgerald were: Francis Labadie and Elmer Korn, councilmen in the downriver Detroit suburb; William Jones, city controller; John L. Bader, city personnel director; Walter Chase, city purchasing agent; J. C. Walls, a newspaper owner, and Joseph Kovalchick.

Korn was accused by Circuit Judge Theodore Bohn, sitting as a one-man rackets grand jury, of accepting a $100 bribe in a cinder-dumping contract.

The others freed had been accused of participating in a conspiracy to permit gambling.

West Seeking Arms Cutback

Stassen Says Allies Want Red OK of Partial Disarmament

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, returning from London, said today that Russia and the Western Powers are seriously trying to negotiate a "partial" disarmament agreement providing for a cutback in arms, manpower and defense costs, and for an inspection system.

★ ★ ★

Stassen made clear that the "first step" goal in the U.N. talks is more than simply creating a test zone in which there would be international aerial inspection of Soviet and Western territories.

He said he would report to Secretary of State Dulles in midafternoon but did not know when he would see President Eisenhower or consult with other top officials.

★ ★ ★

Stassen's consultations here are expected to produce important new decsions on U.S. policy for negotiating with the Russians.

The London talks were suspended yesterday until May 27. They involve the United States, Britain, Russia, Canada and France.

★ ★ ★

Stassen said "all five countries are concentrating on an effort to negotiate successfully on what can be described as a partial agreement on limited reduction as a first step."

Food Inspectors List Complaints

Five Warrants Issued Against Local Grocers by State Checkers

The team of seven state food inspectors who checked 29 Pontiac stores with local officers Wednesday and Thursday during a special assignment on weights and measures turned up with five complaints against local grocers.

★ ★ ★

James McCollum, Oakland County food inspector for the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said the inspectors who conducted the two-day program in Pontiac were from surrounding southeastern Michigan counties and with the Division of Foods and Standards of the department.

Purpose of the inspection was to re-weigh food packages for net contents. The program was set up so inspections of a chain of stores were made at the same time.

★ ★ ★

The five warrants issued against local grocers charge two with short weight meat and two with adulterated meat. One store owner is charged with possessing for sale 20 pounds of short weight oleomargarine.

Of the 2,493 packages re-weighed, 2,209 were legitimate and 284 were condemned for short weight.

City Neopolitan Club Slates Installation

The Pontiac Neopolitan Club has scheduled installation of officers and an information meeting for 4 p.m. Sunday, at the Providence Missionary Baptist Church.

★ ★ ★

Principal speaker will be Detroit Circuit Judge Horace w. gillmore. Officers to be installed are Linwood L. Flack Jr., president; Jessie Burrell, vice president; Robert Gales, treasurer, and Marvice Johnson, secretary.

Others are Hubert Price, Dr Roy V. Cooley, Butler Cooper and Victor Woods.

Represetatives of the city commission, planning commission, hospital board, housing commission, Fair Employment Practices Commission, and the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People will speak on their work.

Investigate Collision of Aircraft Carrier

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt leaves today for Norfolk, Va., and a thorough investigation in drydock of damage from a mysterious underwater collision.

★ ★ ★

It appears the only damage was a bent propeller, the Navy said yesterday, but the 51,000-ton ship will go to drydock for a complete check and repairs.

The Navy said planes, a blimp and a destroyer searched the area 30 miles out in the Atlantic from the time of the collision Wednesday morning through yesterday without a clue as to what the carrier hit.

Reports that it could have been a submarine were pretty well discounted by the Navy.

Waterford Loses Another Patrolman

Waterford Township Police Dept. is minus another patrolman with the resignation of Donald Gravlin yesterday.

He has accepted a position with the Bloomfield Township Police Dept.

His resignation reduces the Waterford department to seven patrolmen.

Whether or not Gravlin's job will be filled will be decided by the township board when it meets Monday, according to Elmer Johnson, supervisor.

Pleads His Innocence on Weight Charge

The meat manager at the Wrigley's Stores Inc., 59 S. Saginaw St., pleaded innocent yesterday in Municipal Court when he was accused of selling beef tongues short weight.

John Kozar, 37, of 14261 W. 10 Mile Rd., Oak Park, was released on a personal bond until trial May 22 by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Loose License Plate Leads to Arrest

A loose license plate on a car resulted in the arrest of a 17-year-old Oxford boy accused of stealing a car.

J. B. Burrow, of 1625 Coast Rd., Oxford, waived examination today when he was arraigned before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan and was bound over to Circuit Court to appear May 27.

The youth was returned to the furnish a $500 bond.
furnishe a $500 bond.

★ ★ ★

Sgt. Albert W. Foster Sr., Pontiac Police auto theft detail, said Burrow and a 15-year-old boy admitted they had stolen the auto when they were stopped by state police because of the loose license plate.

Two City Residents Hurt in Highway Accident

Two Pontiac residents were injured in an accident yesterday afternoon at US23 and M59 in Hartland Township, Livingston County, according to state police.

Drivers George Brabant, 62, of 140 W. Howard St. and Harold Gay, 56, of Coleman, collided

Brabant is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, listed as "fair."

His companion, Louise Schroeder, 64, of 805 St. Clair St., was treated and released.

Israeli Cargo to Japan to Use Panama Canal

HAIFA, Israel (AP)—The Israeli-chartered Norwegian freighter Mars sailed last night for the Far East via Panama after Israel decided against sending her through the Suez Canal.

The Mars is carrying 4,000 tons of potash for Japan.

Address PTA Meeting

CINCINNATI (AP)—Four Michigan speakers are listed to address meetings at the 61st annual National Congress of Parents & Teachers Convention Sunday through Tuesday. They include Mrs. Robert J. McBain, president of the Grand Rapids Council of PTAs.

Driver Photograph Bill Gets House Death Blow

LANSING (AP) — House members yesterday dealt a knockout blow to a bill which would authorize testing of a plan to require that motorists affix their photograph to their operator's license.

Vote on the mesure was 54-43, two votes short of passage.

★ ★ ★

Supporters contended the plan would have helped enforcement of traffic laws by allowing easy identification of drivers whose licenses have been suspended or revoked.

Inmates to Get Library

DETROIT (AP) — Women inmates at the Detroit House of Correction who recently complained of lack of recreational facilities, will get a new Detroit Public Library station May 28.

147 West Bloomfield Members

Area Boys' Club to Join National Group in Year

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Boys Club of this township, though in existence some years, still has over one year to go before it becomes a member of the National Boys Club.

The group, however, did become an associate member of the Boys Club of America in October of 1956.

The local club has its start about six years ago at Scotch School, as a hobby club, under the leadership of Clifford Barnes.

As more boys became interested, lack of space and equipment caused them to seek help from interested citizens. They now meet on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, from 7 to 9, at the Roosevelt School in Keego Harbor.

They have a woodworking shop, game room and durin" the past winter, had the use of the Roosevelt gym two nights a week.

PLAN BASEBALL LEAGUE

With baseball season here, they plan on forming a ten-team league with boys from adjoining areas.

In the past season, several of the boys entered a boxing contest at Wisner Stadium.

The 147 members of the club are under the supervision of a 21-man board including:

James Deacon, president; Chester Briggs, the Rev. John Wigle, Charles Leaf and James Bachelor, vice presidents; E. D. Knapp, secretary; C. J. Godhardt, treasurer and Carl Misfeldt, (paid) director.

The boys, who make many useful articles in their wood shop, furnishing much of their own materials, elect periodically, a "Boy of the Month." He is judged by his attendance, work, behavior and sportsmanship.

★ ★ ★

President Deacon, who credits residents Bob Berry, Stoney Lubow, Vernon Edwards and Chet Hunt for much of the club's current success, invited interested persons to visit the club rooms, where supervision and suggestions are always in demand.

Area Medics to Attend Conference in Chicago

Atending the 16th annual conference of the American Society of Group Psycotherapy and Psychodrama today and Saturday in Chicago are members of the Pontiac State Hospital Social Service Department.

$800 Awaiting Right Numbers for Pot-O-Gold

We don't need to tell you all the things you can do with $800, but we will remind you that you may be the recipient of that amount if you can successfully pick the numbers for this week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle. Remember to write the numbers in the squares, not the word answers. Entries are disqualified if puzzle blanks contain words.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No 50 must bear a Tuesday, May 21, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

LeMay — Next Air Force Chief?

(This is the last of three articles providing a closeup of one of the most important figures in America's atomic-age defense.)

By DARRELL GARWOOD

WASHINGTON (INS) — A U.S. president a few years from now is likely to face a knotty problem when he selects a successor to Gen. Thomas D. White as chief of staff of the Air Force. White takes over June 30, and will probably serve until 1961.

Possibly still serving as commander-in-chief of allied forces in Europe in 1961 will be Gen. Lauris Norstad, handsome, debonair West Point graduate whose reputation for brilliance in the Air Force approaches that built up by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther in the Army.

In the Pentagon, presumably still serving as Air Force vice chief of staff, will be the comparatively dour Gen. Curtis LeMay, smoking cigars and saying nothing.

If the President doesn't throw up his hands and pick a third officer, he will find it extremely difficult to choose between Norstad and LeMay on any conventional grounds.

ABOUT SAME AGE

They are approximately the same age — LeMay is about six months older — and both became permanent major generals on the same day, Feb. 19, 1948.

By the complicated system that the military services use for determining rank, Norstad is LeMay's senior by about five months.

On the other hand, LeMay has the more solid combat record and higher decorations. LeMay holds the Distinguished Service Cross, second only to the Congressional Medal of Honor, while Norstad has yet to receive the DSC.

BOTH CANDIDATES

Conceivably, both Norstad and LeMay could hold the top post in the 10 years before they reach retirement age, but this seems unlikely. The impression at the Pentagon is that the question is which of them will succeed White, and that LeMay has the inside track.

One reason for the belief is that deputies or vice chiefs have succeeded chiefs more often than not in top-level changes at the Pentagon in recent years. Another is the growing importance of the vice chief's job.

The upgrading of the vice chief stems from increasingly heavy burden of responsibilities carried by the Joint Chiefs of Staff. This organization is made up of the chiefs of the Army, Navy and Air Force, with a non-voting chairman.

In the early days of military unification, President Eisenhower served as chairman of the joint chiefs while also serving as president of Columbia University, but it is no such part-time operation today. The chiefs meet almost daily, and most of the government's major decisions pass through their hands.

The result has been that operational control of the services has passed more and more to the vice chiefs. LeMay in effect will be running the Air Force, including SAC, which may explain why, to the surprise of many, he is willing to leave his headquarters at Omaha, Neb., to come to the Pentagon this summer.

Since LeMay has always built up a strong personal following in any outfit he has headed, it goes without saying that he will have a goodly share of the support from the Air Force when the time comes for the selection of a new chief. The term is two years, but normally one re-appointment is granted.

SAFE GUESS

It is a pretty safe guess too that by the time the selection is made LeMay's support, even though he is fiercely partisan in favor of SAC today, will be well distributed through the other commands.

For LeMay is aware that his present view is one-sided. When Secretary of State John Foster Dulles went to Omaha for a briefing three years ago, the general cautioned Dulles:

"Don't pay too much attention to me. I'm partisan. It's my job to be."

* * *

Since his responsibility at the Pentagon will be equal to the other commands, including continental air defense and tactical air, it's a good bet that his partisanship will disappear — except when the Air Force becomes involved with the Army or Navy or some other outside organization.

Larry Logsdon Heads Pontiac Lions Club

Larry Logsdon, manager of the B. F. Goodrich store here, has been elected president of the Pontiac Lions club for the coming year. He will take office July 1, succeeding Paul Allison.

Other club officers elected Wednesday are: George Harkless, Wayne McCandless and Philip Wellemeyer, vice presidents; Ray McDonald, William Belaney and William Wright, directors; Robert Radunz, Tail Twister; Vernon Schiller, Lion Tamer; the Rev. Karl Ostberg, chaplain; William Wright, co-chaplain; Tom Kent, secretary and Walter Heaphy, treasurer. Installation night program is scheduled June 12.

6 PHS Students Win Poster Art Prizes

Winners of the 12th annual poster art contest for Pontiac High School students were announced yesterday by Walker & Co., sponsor.

The winners are: Roger Rogers, Loretta Young, George Prell, Mary Cowan, Marvin Cagle and Daniel Johnson.

Rogers received a $25 prize; Young, $15; Prell, $10; and the others $5.

The posters went on display yesterday in the lobby of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Assn., 761 W. Huron St.

Women Reporters Cut Up

By ROSE McKEE

WASHINGTON (INS) — Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon were honor guests last night at a three-act musical, "My Unfair Ladies," written and played by the Women's National Press Club.

The event was the club's annual dinner and stunt party, which revolved about a girl, "Dwighta Eisenhower", who asked for a psychiatrist's help because of a recurrent dream she was the nation's president.

★ ★ ★

The doctor sympathized, "You think you're president and women are running the country — now just tell me all about it."

"Dwighta" then demonstrated her ability to handle a news conference, at which she presented a novel idea of paying off the national debt — the government would go into show business.

Many in the celebrity-studded audience saw themselves lampooned as the administration's talent show went on the road with presidential assistant "Sharmeen Adams" cracking a ringmaster's whip.

TIGHTROPE WALK

"Mama Fostoria Dulles" did an international tightrope walk as a chorus sang, "Mama's on the brink but she won't fall over . . ."

"Happy-Happy E. Stassen" was billed as the "only sword swallower who ever got knifed."

Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, wife of the Defense Secretary who made news this year by standing up for her husband against presidential criticism, was the subject of a skit in which her double sang, "Can't help loving that man of mine."

★ ★ ★

Edgar Eisenhower, who also made headlines by criticizing his presidential brother's budget, was featured as one of a trio of whooping cranes who represented the "last of the GOP old guard."

Mrs. Nixon saw herself portrayed in the women's world as a girl who "made her mind up when she was three she was going to climb to the presidency."

The rumored White House ambitions of two famous Californians — Nixon and Senate GOP Leader William J. Knowland — were lampooned as their doubles sang a duet, "Mutual Aspiration Society."

CONVINCED BY RECEPTION

A White House reception convinced "Dwighta Eisenhower" that she didn't want to snap out of her dreams because "I like this place."

She was assured she had succumbed to the "most prevalent disease in Washington."

The curtain was rung down with all players singing, "It's a great big wonderful town . . . especially when you're in power . . . men of the hour, enjoy it, you may be leaving tomorrow . . . It's a great town, no one wants to leave it."

'I Can't See to Drive'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — An 81-year-old man asked that a traffic ticket he received for going the wrong way on a one-way street be canceled. "My eyesight is so poor I couldn't see the one-way sign," he said.

The Caspian sea has a drainage basin about three-quarters the size drained by the Mississippi river system.

Man Gains Daily on Diet

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Postmaster Fergus McRee was ordered by his physician to reduce his waistline and was placed on a 1,200-colorie-per-day diet last Monday. McRee says he has gained a pound since starting the diet.

Minnesota, North and South Dakota produce about four-fifths of the United States crop of flax seed.

1,252 Left Homeless

HONG KONG (AP) — A 40-minute fire in a squatters' area of Hong Kong's mainland Kowloon area last night destroyed 60 huts and left 1,252 people homeless — approximately 20 per hut.

Sheep have two skins separated by a fat layer. The lower one produces hair while wool grows on the upper one.

Michigan to See Rise in Output of Maple Syrup

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's 1957 maple syrup production is estimated at 70,000 gallons, 8 per cent above last year's output of 65,000 gallons.

The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said the increase came despite a 6 per cent decrease in the number of trees tapped this year, estimated at 281,000 trees.

High costs, the shortage of farm labor and some cutting of maple trees for lumber were main reasons for the lesser number of trees tapped.

The maple sugar season was reported as good, however, from the standpoint of both yield and quality. Sap started running about May 9 and trees were tapped as late as April 6. Weather conditions were reported as about ideal and early continuous sap flows of from 8 to 12 days were reported.

Wearing clothing typical of the country are three missionaries from India, Margot Kvasse whose work is among the aboriginal hill tribe the Bhils; (left to right) Margery Moore, a teacher in a school for missionaries' children; and Gladys Hendrikson, director of a girls' boarding school in East Khandesh. The school includes a home for unwanted children, an elementary school and a training center for Indian teachers. They are shown in the First Baptist Church at the Evangelical Alliance Mission Conference.

Pontiac Press Photos

Typical of the ordinary Pakistani, is the clothing worn by Mrs. Vern W. Rock Jr., (left) Vern Rock Jr. and Rachel Steeves, all missionaries to Pakistan. Mrs. Rock wears the costume worn indoors and Miss Steeves is shown gowned in the burqa, the covering worn by Moslem women in public. Network over the eyes permits just enough sight so the women may walk around. The three are here for the Missionary Conference being held this week in the First Baptist Church.

First Baptist Church Hosts Sessions

Missionaries Attend Convention

Delegates Describe Work Done in Various Locales

67th Annual Evangelical Conference Will Continue Through Sunday

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Pontiac Press Church Editor

Missionaries from all over the world and lay delegates from across the United States have been pouring into Pontiac this week by car, bus, train and plane to attend the 67th annual Evangelical Alliance Mission Conference at the First Baptist Church.

Meetings of general interest are held at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m. each day. All sessions are open to the public, according to Dr. H. H. Savage, pastor of First Baptist Church.

Missionaries Betty Ratzlaff of The Netherlands Antilles, Clara Carlson of Venezuela, Marvin Steffins of Uruguay and Paul J. Pietsch Jr. of Portugal spoke on "Proclaiming the Good News" on Thursday afternoon.

More than 1,100 gathered in the main auditorium last night to hear the Rev. G. Reuben Gustafson of Formosa and the Rev. H. Lawrence Love Jr. of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

"Until 10 years ago, one million tribal people on Formosa were head hunters. The 400 Protestant missionaries are working on their language to put it in written form, and on Christian education for children," said the Rev. Mr. Gustafson.

★ ★ ★

Between programs, we met Dr. Donald R. Morrill, a medical missionary to Zululand. He works among the Zulus, Tangas and Zwazies at the hospital base at Ingwavuma.

SMALL CLINICS

"We are establishing small airstrips in the bush area where we will locate small clinics. A Piper Super-Cub with tandem landing gear will enable us to visit the clinics regularly. The plane will also serve as an ambulance to take patients to the hospital," said Dr. Morrill.

★ ★ ★

From the dispensary mission school, Evelyn Coddington goes out into the bush country of Zululand to call on the women in their homes.

The people live in kraals of one to six huts scattered throughout the bushveld and often hidden from sight," stated Miss Coddington. "The women are kind and invite me into their homes."

The Rev. Donald E. Hoke, president of Japan Christian College in Tokyo, stopped to speak with our group. A missionary from Wheaton, Ill., he said that it was through the efforts of Dr. Savage that the college was started.

★ ★ ★

"In 1952 I was speaking at the Maranatha Bible Conference, of which Dr. Savage was president and founder, and told of the need for a Japanese Christian training school," said President Hoke. "Dr. Savage was present. He came back to Pontiac and raised $4,000 to start the college."

AIDS SERVICEMEN

Another missionary to Japan, the Rev. James M. Beasley of Tuscaloosa, Ala., told us of his work in Yokosuka at the Christian Servicemen's Club. The largest U. S. naval base in the Far East is located there.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. William R. Garfield of Birmingham was anxious to tell us of the 20,000-watt long-wave radio station in Korea.

Its ministry is for Christian programs to be beamed to the Chinese and Russians.

As we reached the back of the sanctuary we met Gladys Hendrikson of Chicago, missionary to Bombay state, East Khandesh, India.

★ ★ ★

She is in charge of a Christian Girls' boarding school under the Indian government. Along with other subjects, the girls are taught sewing and cooking. They speak Marathi, one of India's 200 languages and countless dialects.

ARRANGES MARRIAGES

She is also in charge of the orphanage where she takes the place of parents in arranging marriages.

★ ★ ★

Before leaving India, Miss Hendrikson had the pleasure of seeing the marriage of a girl whom she had raised. When a tiny baby, the girl was found abandoned in a thorn bush by the side of the road and brought to the orphanage.

"I believe India is the place the Lord wants me and I am very happy in my work," Miss Hendrikson told us.

Waiting at the outer door for her husband was a young missionary's wife holding her small daughter. She laughingly told us they had traveled more than 3,500 miles to come to the convention.

★ ★ ★

The interdenominational conference will continue through Sunday.

JEAN M. McLEOD

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon M. McLeod of Old Orchard drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean M. to Charles R. Binder. To be graduated from Bay City Junior College in June, Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Binder of Tawas City. Jean attended Central Michigan College.

Birmingham Bride-Elect Entertained

Margaret Manning Honored at Round of Parties

BIRMINGHAM — Margaret "Sue" Manning has a full calendar of parties still to be given for her before her June 7 marriage to Donald Fresne.

Today Mrs. Clarence K. Patterson and her daughter, Mrs. John Pflug, were hostesses at a luncheon and table top shower for her, and on Saturday Mrs. Cornelius M. Harper and Mrs. Murray S. Kice will entertain at a tea and kitchen shower in Mrs. Kice's home on Glengary road.

On Wednesday Mrs. C. Theron VanDusen will give a luncheon and linen shower for the bride-elect in her home on Bennington drive, and on Sunday morning, May 26, Mr. and Mrs. Whiting Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. David Raymond will be hosts at a breakfast for Miss Manning and Mr. Fresne.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Marshall are planning a cocktail party for May 29 and Mrs. William M. Manning will give the spinster dinner June 4 in her Rochester home.

★ ★ ★

A breakfast will be given at Bloomfield Hills Country Club May 26 by Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar A. P. John to celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Their happy affair will be made more felicitatious by the fact that Mr. and Mrs. John's honor attendants will be present. Mrs. Albert A. Clark of Adams road was her sister's maid of honor and Morgan A. Cartier of Grand Rapids and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., was Mr. John's best man.

A bridesmaid, Mrs. Richard Scott of Grand Rapids, will also represent the original wedding party.

Many other out-of-town guests, many friends and the John's children Mr. and Mrs. Colin John, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Morgan and Mr. and Mrs. Jeremy John, are expected.

GUESTS INVITED

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cole Jr. of Hawthorne road have invited guests for cocktails June 8 preceding a dinner-dance at Orchard Lake Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Hutchins will entertain friends at dinner Saturday evening to celebrate their 11th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins are planning to entertain again the evenings of May 29 and June 1.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Warren W. Russell of Jackson, Tenn., formerly of Birmingham, arrived Tuesday to spend 10 days with Mrs. Marvin G. Kern of Catalpa drive.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Milton G. Wood has arrived from her home in Phoenix, Ariz., to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Genaro A. Florez of Tottenham road.

Most Popular Fashion Designer

Cassini Receives Award

The Chicago Gold Coast Award, for the most popular fashion designer, was presented to Oleg Cassini. Over 700 women cast their ballots overwhelmingly for Cassini at the Ambassador East Hotel in Chicago, giving evidence of the wide acceptance of the "Cassini look" by the American woman.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Cassini, a comparative newcomer to the large-scale fashion production world, has in five years evolved a "Cassini look" identified by a slender and supple silhouette.

Femininity and wearability are the keynotes of his designs. Simplicity of line and unusual use of color attest to the originality of this designer's concepts.

He was the first to recognize the importance of the sophisticated knitted dress for town wear; the empire silhouette was another Cassini creation, and he was one of the first designers to employ striking combinations of black and white for winter wear.

★ ★ ★

The Cassini signature is also marked by interesting and intricate neckline treatments, molded midriffs and well-defined waistlines.

Club Names Mrs. Newill President

Mrs. Robert Newill was elected president of the Sylvan Shores Women's Club at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Louis Livingston on Woodbine drive.

★ ★ ★

Her slate of officers includes Mrs. Walton Adams, vice president; Mrs. William Leigh Jr., secretary, and Mrs. Norman Mack, treasurer.

Mrs. Harry Dernberger, volunteer worker, told of the work being done with the children at Pontiac State Hospital at the Wednesday meeting. The group contributed to the fund for the aid of emotionally disturbed children.

★ ★ ★

A gift was presented to Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel, retiring president. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. James Nye, Mrs. Clare Graham, Mrs. C. I. Humphries and Mrs. Gordon Hayter.

Navy Mothers Meet

Mrs. Frank Riley and Mrs. Mark Kinney reported on the Kalamazoo state convention at the Pontiac Navy Mothers Club meeting Thursday evening. Mrs. Loren B. Palen of South Shirley avenue was hostess for the social and business meeting.

Church Group Meets

Valieta McClelland and Gay Currin were cochairmen of the program at the Monday evening meeting of Deborah Missionary Society of Lakeland United Presbyterian Church. Gerry Spencer was in charge of the social hour.

Sorority Meets at Rowe Home

Marilyn Rowe opened her home on Baldwin road for the Tuesday evening meeting of Phi Alpha Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

★ ★ ★

Plans were completed for the installation of officers to be held May 28. "Marriage" was the subject discussed during the evening by the educational committee.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

"We're happy to be in your church" is what Mrs. Frank Euler, missionary to Japan, is telling Dr. H. H. Savage of the First Baptist Church. Speaking in the Japanese language and wearing native dress, Mrs. Euler is in Pontiac attending the Evangelical Alliance Mission Conference being held this week in First Baptist.

Women's Section

Women's Group Elects Officers

At the Tuesday meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church, Mrs. Lowell Mount was elected president. Mrs. James Vaughan is newly elected vice president; Mrs. John Appleton, secretary, and Mrs. Harold Brown, treasurer.

Mrs. William Hoyt served as program chairman of discussion groups who presented ideas as to the role of the women of the Fellowship. Mrs. Brady Adams also participated in the program.

Lydia Circle members served as hostesses at the social hour.

Omega Mu Sigma Conducts Initiation

Mrs. Raymond Koskela and Mrs. Harold Clifford were formally initiated into Omega Mu Sigma sorority when members met Tuesday evening. Mrs. Harlan Oakes opened her home on Denby drive for the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Plans were completed for the annual May Breakfast being held Sunday at Rotunda Inn. Mrs. John Guenther and Mrs. Robert Reynolds are handling reservations. Arranging decorations for the event are Mrs. Wayne Anable and Mrs. John Jadwin.

Hollywood's Greatest Moments

Stars Still Shine Despite New Financial Practicality

(This is the last of five articles by the "first lady of Hollywood" tracing the glamor, hi-jenks, romance and tragedy from the golden days of three decades ago to the present.)

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Motion Picture Editor

I've often been asked to compare the stars of today with the glamorous yesterdays. I can only say that I do not believe that the talent and temperament that go into the making of a creative artist change with the years. But circumstances most certainly do change.

★ ★ ★

A star of today who does not have a pretty good business head on his or her (or a business manager's) shoulders is liable to find it on the chopping block.

Gone are the carefree days when the powerful film companies paid a pretty girl or a brawny hero a huge salary and then did all their professional thinking for them.

Contracts are few and far between these days. The great majority of top stars are incorporated under their own production banners and releasing through the major companies.

★ ★ ★

The major film companies themselves are undergoing radical changes, bridging their activities between films for the screen and films for television.

TREND TO TELEVISION

Such companies as Warners, 20th Century-Fox, MGM and Columbia are all making films directly for TV and also releasing their backlogs of screen hits with important stars, which are among the highest rating video attractions — proving that motion pictures never lose their popularity.

★ ★ ★

Work has doubled up for the headliners. Stars such as Bob Hope, Frank Sinatra, Ida Lupino alternate between films and TV.

Loretta Young and Jane Wyman practically have abandoned their movie careers for the newer medium of television, but Jane has now announced that she will return to pictures if she finds the right vehicle.

Even stars who have been holdouts and remained faithful to the movies have found that stardom encompasses far more responsibilities than it did 30 years ago.

★ ★ ★

Practically every important player now in the business either heads his own production company or gets a huge percentage of the profits from another producer.

LED BY STEWART

The first star to realize the amount of money that can be made from a percentage deal was Jimmy Stewart, who was sharing in the profits long before any other stars in a deal with Universal International. Tyrone Power did the same with UI and then went on to Columbia.

Jimmy has made more money in the last few years than any other star in Hollywood because of his insistence that he share in the profits of his pictures instead of receiving a salary.

The producing team of Hecht-Hill-Lancaster (Harold Hecht, James Hill and star Burt Lancaster) has been enormously successful even with films that do not star Burt. Their "Marty" won "best picture" honors in the Oscar race last year and they have another winner in "The Bachelor Party."

Alan Ladd, Marilyn Monroe, Frank Sinatra, Kirk Douglas, Gregory Peck and Clark Gable, to name a few, also have their own companies. With all the added responsibilities of selecting and buying stories, casting pictures and obtaining financial backing, there's just not much time these days for the old whoopla.

★ ★ ★

And yet, it is neither true nor fair to give the impression that Hollywood has become dull. Dull? With such newsmakers as Frank Sinatra, Marilyn Monroe, Grace Kelly, Ava Gardner, Lana Turner and gorgeous diamond-dropping Liz Taylor Todd around our locale in the past few years.

PLENTY OF NEWS

Perhaps, "the old order changeth," but not enough to keep Hollywood happenings from being pretty close in interest to Washington and London on the news wires of the world.

★ ★ ★

Two of the most outstanding glamor girls of all screen history are Marilyn Monroe and Grace Kelly, and they couldn't be more diametrically opposed in personality and background.

Grace hails from a Philadelphia family of great wealth, the John Kellys. It might be said that of all the Hollywood "Cinderellas" she is the only one who ever went on to actually win a prince.

Before she met and married Prince Rainier of Monaco, I felt I knew Grace very well. Although she lived quietly during the early days of her career and shunned publicity, she seemed to like me.

★ ★ ★

One day she brought me a mustard seed set in a crystal bangle with the Biblical verse: "If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed you shall say to this mountain, remove from hence hither, and it shall remove, and nothing shall be impossible to you."

Grace changed considerably after she met the prince. The beautiful blonde girl who had achieved screen royalty in Hollywood by winning an Oscar for her moving performance with Bing Crosby in "The Country Girl" seemed eager indeed to give it all up for a life of real royalty in a castle in Monaco.

The story of Marilyn Monroe is the exact opposite. Her background is that of the direst poverty and of foster homes where she spent her childhood.

A great beauty, she is not the natural actress Grace was and she had to study hard and learn the hard way the rudiments of the trade which has lifted her to worldwide fame.

Yes, Marilyn could have been a bright star had she happened along 30 years ago. Until just recently, following her marriage to playwright Arthur Miller, she seemed to have the same kind of wistful insecurity, the same sort of sad bewilderment of life that marked Clara Bow.

★ ★ ★

I knew Marilyn long before the world ever heard of her. She was a frequent guest at Joseph Schenck's home for dinner, as I was. She still has the greatest respect for this kindest of men, one of the wisest the industry has ever produced, and to this day when I talk with her she always sends her love to "Mr. Schenck."

UNHAPPY DAYS

I was close to Marilyn through those unhappy days following the death of Johnny Hyde, the agent who was so in love with her. She was deeply grateful to Johnny, but she could not return the love of the older man.

★ ★ ★

After his death she feared she would be criticized because she hadn't married him as he wished. She told me, "I couldn't marry Johnny because I wasn't in love with him. I loved him. But I wasn't in love with him.

When Marilyn married baseball idol Joe DiMaggio she thought she was in love with him. But this, too, ended in a breakup, principally because, I believe, Joe acted as though he was resentful of her career, and hardly ever took her any place where she would occupy the spotlight.

As of new, she seems very much in love with Arthur Miller and she respects him deeply for his intellect. But I still have the feeling that the final chapter has not yet been written about Marilyn's emotions and her career.

★ ★ ★

And I feel the same way about another turbulent screen queen, Ava Gardner, who has been living in self-imposed exile in Spain because she feels she has "no friends" in Hollywood.

TWO BEAUTIES

No story of the glamour girls of today would be complete without mention of two other outstanding beauties, Kim Novak and Deborah Kerr.

Kim is the only female star who landed on the list of the 10 top box-office stars of 1956.

She's quite a girl, this blonde charmer, with her penchant for lavender clothes, lavender household furnishings, lavender automobiles, and her constantly changing romances, except for the devoted Mac Krim, who remains faithful in the background, no matter who is occupying the foreground.

Cut from an entirely different piece of cloth are actresses such as Deborah Kerr and Eva Marie Saint and other women who seem to be able to juggle enormously successful careers with the equally big job of being happy wives and mothers.

Perhaps the closest thing to Norma Shearer today is Deborah, ladylike, witty, beautiful and refined.

I love her sense of humor. After being invited to a birthday party given in my honor in London last summer — and missing it — she telephoned and said: "I'm sorry I couldn't come to the party for the queen of Hollywood, Louella. I was with the Queen of England."

How could I resist such charming flattery? Deborah had, in all truth, been with Queen Elizabeth. She had been a visitor at the home of William Astor in Cliveden when the Queen dropped by to look at some horses and the lovely Deborah had the great excitement of being presented to the lovely young Queen Elizabeth.

As for the men of today's stardom, they are far less explosive than the John Gilberts and Rudy Valentinos of former years.

Rock Hudson is as simple and uncomplicated as an old shoe. He is, I suppose, the nearest thing to Clark Gable, although Gable is still going strong, and, for my money, is still "king."

I must also add this new mingling of show business, TV and motion pictures has given us the age of the Elvis Presleys, the Pat Boones, the Tommy Sands, Russ Tamblyns and, of course, those darlings of the youthful set, Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher.

Elvis, Eddie, Pat and Tommy, who originated in the world of "pop" records, are now also making movies. Competition from still another field?

Gift lingeries will not only look lovelier this season than ever before. It will also wear better and wash better.

She Should Do Exercises Faithfully

Girl's Hips Need Slimming Down

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "This is the first time I ever have written to a paper for help, and I hope you can and will help me. I am a mess. I have been told that I am cute, no worse and no more. I am 5 feet 4 inches tall my bust measures 34, waist 22 and hips 37 inches.

"I want to get rid of my hips and increase my bust. I am 15 years old. I weigh 117 pounds."

A. Your weight is just about right and your bust and waist measurements are all right, too. Your hips are out of line. If you will do the hip-slimming exercises faithfully you can lose inches in that spot.

Here is one: Lie on your left side and put your right hand on the floor to brace yourself. Lift your right leg up toward the ceiling. Lower leg. Do this 10 times. Then do the same with left leg.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I have pimples and blackheads on my back which are most embarrassing when I wear a formal or a swimsuit. I am 15. What causes these?"

A. At your age the little oil glands are overactive. You probably wash your face carefully several times a day but when taking your baths miss this area on your back. Therefore, the pores become clogged and blackheads form. Later these become infected and form pimples.

Use a drying lotion or alcohol on the pimples and ask your mother to scrub your back for you each day.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I am 15 years old and am very flat chested. My mother says not to worry because I have plenty of time yet to develop but I don't think so. My mother told me to write to you about it."

A. Girls vary as to the time of developing the bust. You do have time yet to do so. Many develop later on. Good nutrition and exercise aid in the growth and development of our body.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Will you give me your opinion on this matter? Some people say that it is all right to take showers during the menstrual period. What do you think?"

A. A warm shower is all right. Avoid chilling such as a cold shower would give you.

Crisp Bacon Adds Flavor to Potatoes

By JANET ODELL

Stuffed baked potatoes are a delicious vegetable to serve at dinner. Mrs. Julius Halda suggests you try her way of preparing them.

Mrs. Halda belongs to an Extension group. She has one young daughter whose interests in ballet dancing and Girl Scouting she shares.

STUFFED BAKED POTATOES
By Mrs. Julius Halda

Bake Idaho potatoes and cut in half lengthwise. Scoop out pulp and mash smooth, adding hot cream for needed moisture.

Crumble two pieces of crisp bacon. Add to mashed potatoes. Add salt, pepper, paprika and butter, also one tablespoon chopped parsley. Beat well.

When mixture is smooth, fill potato shells. Top with grated cheese (medium cheddar is good). Brown in a 350-degree oven about twenty minutes. If top is not sufficiently brown, place under broiler for a few minutes. Serve at once.

PHS Seniors Take Cruise to Mackinac Island

Two hundred Pontiac High School seniors left on their annual senior boat trip to Mackinac Island today at 1:30 p.m.

This year, Redford High School and Pontiac High school are taking the trip together. C. T. Forsman is in charge of the arrangements.

A Greyhound Bus took the group to Detroit where they boarded the S. S. South American about 3:30 p.m. The tourists will arrive at Mackinac Island at noon Saturday.

From 1 to 5 on Saturday afternoon, the group will have free time to visit the various sites.

There will be bicycle and horseback rides available, or tours by horse-drawn buggies, since no cars are allowed on the island.

Amateur programs will be given on the boat by both the schools with prizes given to the best acts. The teacher chaperons will be the judges. They will return to Pontiac Sunday, at 3 p.m.

At a ceremony held over the public address system Monday at PHS, Calvin Mortenson of 69 W. Colgate St. was the recipient of the American Legion prizes for oratory.

For winning first in the district contest held at Royal Oak as the representative of the Cook-Nelson Post, Calvin received a $25 savings bond.

★ ★ ★

For winning first in the zone contest at Northville Calvin was awarded a check for $40 and for placing in the state finals at Ypsilanti Cal received $100 toward his college education.

The presentation was by Cal's coach, Walter R. Smith, speech instructor at PHS.

The subject of Cal's oration was the U. S. Constitution. The Jackson orator who beat Cal in the state contest by the closest of margins won $2,500 in the national contest last week at Portland, Maine.

This is the second time in three years a Pontiac orator has won the district contest. Two years ago the winner was Garth Johnston.

★ ★ ★

At the Projectionists Club meeting recently, at Paul Tremper's house, there was a party held afterward.

Arrangements were made by Susie Looney, chairman, Pat McAllister, Jerry Bodnovich, JoAnne Cargall, and Ted Johnson. Plans were made for the June picnic.

Rex Harris is in charge of the ordering of the club pins and guards. To earn a pin, a student must serve in the club for three semesters; and to earn a guard, a student must serve four semesters.

Due to the anticipated enrollment of approximately 3,072 students next fall, PHS principal Francis Staley has announced a new class-schedule arrangement.

Classes will be conducted in three separate shifts; The first, 7:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; the second, 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.; and the third, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

This schedule will relieve the already crowded conditions in PHS which have resulted from the large enrollment increases of the past few years.

Senior preliminary exams were given this week May 13, 14 and 15. Seniors who pass the preliminary exams, attend class regularly, and do their written work satisfactorily will not have to take a final examination in June.

Several PHS graduating seniors have been recently honored with scholarships to various Michigan schools and colleges: University of Michigan, Michigan State University, and Harper Hospital, Detroit.

The committee on Scholarships at Michigan State University has announced that five PHS seniors have been awarded entrance scholarships. Those chosen this honor include Donald Braunagel, James Clancy, Loretta Young, Roland Williams and Carolyn Rush.

★ ★ ★

The MSU Committee also announced that Judy Campbell is the recipient of the PHS Memorial Scholarship.

Helen Seybert was chosen by the committee as the alternate-at-large; she would thus receive a scholarship if for any reason one of the present recipients would refuse the honor.

Other seniors not receiving scholarships but obtaining valuable recognition for their high school achievement were Janet Wilson, Marcia, Petrie and Richard Singleton.

★ ★ ★

Eight June graduates have been awarded the University of Michigan Regents Alumni Scholarship. Chosen from personal interviews and the results of tests, these students will receive the payment of the U. of M. tuition from the granted scholarship.

Those honored were Judy Elwell, Myra Foines, Carl Helferich, Donald Lovse, Constantine Sousanis, Sharon Troxwell, Sharon Wall and Fred Young.

The Harper Hospital School of Nursing, Detroit, has also announced the selection of two PHS seniors and one January graduate to receive scholarships; Carolyn Leacher, Marilyn Hiscock and Phyllis Verstrate (January graduate.)

Junior Highs Keep Active

Eastern Group to Camp Out

Those that believe nature is the best teacher will find supporters at Eastern Junior High School where eighth graders will be exposed to the lessons of the outdoors for one week, starting Sunday.

The students will camp out at Sleeper State Park, near Caseville, in the fourth annual outdoor education program.

They will receive instruction in such fields as weather forecasting, forestry, game, soil conservation, compass reading and nature appreciation.

In between lessons, the youngsters will take hikes and work around their camp on such necessary projects as kitchen duty, fire building and maintenance and general house cleaning.

"We hope, in addition to their outdoor lessons, to acquaint the students with first hand experiences in democracy," said Edwin N. Rydell, Eastern project director.

In addition to Rydell, the youngsters will be accompanied by Charles Beyette, Inez Owen and Margaret Snyder, of the Eastern faculty; Edward Buck, of Madison Junior High and Mrs. Joe Medrano, of Pontiac High.

AT MADISON

"Music in American Life" will be the theme of the Madison Junior High vocal musical festival, Wednesday May 22.

About 400 students will participate, including the music class of Mrs. Mimi Johnson and William Coffing, plus special groups like the 9-A Chorus and Girls Glee Club.

There will be dance numbers with costumes, to add a spectacular note to the festival.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday night was the Band and Orchestra Concert, The orchestra was directed by Donald Mason and the band by Raymond Fixel.

Thursday morning, the election of student council officers will be held.

★ ★ ★

Work is going on feverishly for "Parisianne Magic," the all-school dance to be held May 31.

AT LINCOLN

Lincolnites had a week of full activity with the return of the 98 Washington, D. C. trippers.

Lt. Clayton Randolph of the Pontiac Traffic Safety Department had two sessions with students who own bicycles: one for instructions in safety and the other in helping to apply for licenses and in granting the licenses.

The Ninth grade Chorus of 61 voices from Washington Junior High presented two excellent assemblies at Lincoln on Friday morning in exchange for the program given at Washington by the Lincolnites several weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Eighty-four delegates have been appointed for the nominating convention to be held on May 23 to select six candidates from the 32 eligible students for the election of school president and vice-president for the fall semester.

The final issue of the Lincoln Log will be out soon with subscriptions now going on sale. Special features are the pictures of faculty and graduating classes with class information and histories.

Judy King, president of the Girls' Service Club, is making plans for the selection of new members for the fall semester. Each room eligible for members presents names of the girls who are deserving in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Mrs. Naomi McVean is club sponsor.

AT WALLED LAKE

Walled Lake Junior High School ninth graders devoted all day Wednesday to considering their future careers. For months the students and their vocations teachers. Mrs. Maybelle Garrett, Howard Chenoweth, and Donn Olin planned the day and lined up the speakers.

An introductory assembly was held with Superintendent Clifford H. Smart introducing the keynote speaker, Albert Holcomb, vice president of the Community National Bank.

After this the students divided into four groups according to the field of their major interests. Because of the number of groups the students will be able to investigate several fields.

St. Michael Holds May Crowning Rite

By JUDY NIEDJELSKI

The annual May Crowning at St. Michael's took place on Wednesday evening. The prefect of the Sodality, Kathleen Heitjan, crowned the statue of Our Blessed Mother, while Patricia Martin, Mary Pruente, Jeannie Haitt, Bartha Fox, and Sharon Daugherty made up her court.

The juniors have their dance, the Twin Spin, scheduled for tonight from 9 to 12. Prizes will be given to the couple dressed most closely alike.

Graduation Nears at High Schools

Thoughts of area high school seniors are turning toward graduation day. Class elections and the choosing of outstanding students are the order of the day.

Guest speaker at the Clarkston High School graduation exercises will be Dr. Carl Henry Gross, professor of education at Michigan State College, East Lansing. The graduation exercises are to be held on June 10 at 8 p.m. For the first time, outdoor exercises are planned at the football stadium this year.

Lola Johnson, valedictorian of the graduating class, has been given the annual award of the Reader's Digest Assn. for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community.

AT ORION

An assembly was held at Lake Orion High School Monday when the triumphant track team presented their regional trophy to James Hoag, principal. The trophy is now in the case in the school hall.

★ ★ ★

Class elections took place Tuesday for next year's classes with the following elected:

Senior Class — Jack Shaeffer, president; Margaret Braid, vice president; Mary Lynn Shoup, secretary; and Sharon Lamothe, treasurer.

Junior Class — Ken Robertson, president; Beth Woodward, vice president; Judy Cudnohufsky, secretary; and Barbara Lustig, treasurer.

The last exchange assembly was presented Tuesday when Avondale presented its program.

The Junior - Senior Prom has about 75 working on the decorations committee converting the gym into a tropical resort, complete with palm trees and a refreshment hut. Invitation to the semi-formal affair is by the juniors and seniors only.

AT AVONDALE

Plans are being made by the Avondale High School Pep Club to send a cheerleader to a summer camp this year. The cheerleader to go will be chosen by the officers of the club, a member at large, and advise rMiss Jacquelin LeBeau.

Awards will be presented at the "powwow," a get-together for all pep club members that have paid. This is a special program in which the members receive awards and their club pins.

The first award will be given to the most outstanding cheerleader of the year.

Second and third awards will be given to the member who has attended the most extra-curricular activities this past year and who has collected the most points.

The fourth award will go to the class who has shown the most class spirit, co-operation, and sportsmanship throughout the school year.

Fred Dustin Dies, State Archeologist

SAGINAW (AP) — Fred Dustin, nationally known archeologist and Michigan expert on Indian lore, died Wednesday. He was 90 and suffered a stroke last month.

★ ★ ★

A self-educated man, Dustin was a recipient of the University of Michigan Regents Citation of Honor for his contribution to Michigan historical and archeological research.

He gave the University of Michigan his collection of some 6,000 relics taken from Saginaw County Indian burial grounds several years ago. And in 1929, under a University of Michigan commission, he established that prehistoric copper mines on Isle Royal had been operated by Indians.

Dustin was a Mason. He was the author of "The Custer Tragedy," a story of General George Custer's last stand. He was a charter member of the Michigan State Archeological Society, the Society for American Archeology and the Michigan Historical Society.

Future Building Plans to Be Dinner Topic

The final meeting of the C. J. Sutton Chapter of the United Presbyterian Men of the church, will be in the form of a potluck supper at 7 p.m., Monday and the ladies have been invited.

★ ★ ★

Following the dinner, the Rev. W. J. Teeuwissen, Jr., will lead a discussion on the future building plans of the local church, and delegates to the National Convention a Green Lake, Wis., Elden Johnson and Dan Williams, will give a report.

Dr. L. G. Rowley, is the retiring president, and John Hazlett, the newly elected president, of the group.

WTHS to Hold Southern Ball

By SANDY WHITE

"Tara" reigns as the theme for the 1957 senior prom to be held at Waterford Township High School tomorrow evening. Seniors are working tonight and tomorrow to erect the planned decorations for the plantation setting.

Programs will be miniature fans of a light blue and silver color to tie in with the southern theme. The expected 350 couples will dance to the music of Fred Netting's Orchestra from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Committees who have headed work on the prom for the past four months are: Barbara Martin, general chairman; Diana Craig, Marge Neubeck, Norma Peschel, decorations; Connie Lewis, favors; Karla Stoddard, programs; Barbara Tallerday, publicity; Frank Seed, refreshments; John Burkhart, band; and Al Petrucci, tickets.

Out of 13 cheerleading finalists, eight were chosen for next year's Varsity Cheerleading Squad. All participated in an assembly and presented cheers and chants May 10.

★ ★ ★

Winners were announced last Monday and are: Carole Moore, captain; Charlene Gaffney, Judy Kent, Janet Kunse, Fran Spencer, Sue Springer, Laura Terry and Jackie Winter.

Performing in the first portion of a musical assembly May 8, was the Girl's Glee Club. They sang selections from "South Pacific," "Oklahoma" and a Spanish score. Phyllis Morse soloed to "I Believe" This was the Girls' Glee Club's premier.

For the latter portion of the assembly, the WTHS Marching Band sat for a while and played "The Irish Washerwoman," two scores from "American Weekend" and the "Waterford Fight Song."

A Cappella Choir and the band will combine to present the annual Spring Music Concert on May 22.

★ ★ ★

Featured will be selections from popular musical shows. Featured vocally will be a duet by Delores Kline and Ken Young. Accompanists are Marilyn Keasey and Margaret Studebaker.

Tuesday, the Student Council Elections Assembly will be held. All the candidates for next year's Student Council offices will be presented to the student body. All presidential and vice presidential candidates must present a speech.

Present senior council members and board members met last week to decide who would be on the slate.

Ronald Shelp, sophomore, won the State Optomist Speech Contest in Grand Rapids May 11.

Winning over 17 contestants from all over Michigan, he will now go to Philadelphia in June for the National Contest, where he will compete against 39 state winners.

★ ★ ★

Ron won a trophy, $50 and an all expense-paid trip to Grand Rapids and Philadelphia.

Future Nurses Club is offering a $50 scholarship to one of its senior members. The applicant must have been previously accepted by a practical or professional school of nursing and must be an all-around good citizen and a member in good standing of the club.

The sum of the scholarship will be deposited in the recipient's name at the school or college which the winner has chosen to attend.

An announcement at the Honors Convocation Assembly will honor the girl winning this scholarship. Selection for the winner of the scholarship will be made by the sponsor of club, senior counselor and assistant principal.

Working on the scholarship committee are: Jo Hurlburt, Florence Liskey and Faye Reynolds.

St. Fred Parents Plan Program

Commencement Is Set for Juniors and Seniors June 6

By MARGARET DRAKE

St. Frederick Junior and Senior Class members will participate in a commencement program, sponsored by their parents, on June 6 in St. Vincent hall.

★ ★ ★

At a meeting held on Monday night Mr. and Mrs. George Drake, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nichols, Mrs. Leona Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bieri and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koenig were elected to be in charge of the event.

On Monday afternoon the Seniors sponsored a moving picture "The Howards of Virginia" for the entire high school. Proceeds went to defray the balance due on the 1957 year book.

Congratulations to our baseball team on its victory Monday afternoon against St. Benedict High School, Highland Park. The score was 3-2. Many members of the student body attended the game. The team has games scheduled with St. Clement, Centerline and St. Mary's High School, Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

And congratulations are also due our golfers recently named regional champs. Under the coaching of Gene Wright, Dick Kast, Ed Kast, Bill Haps and Joe Kellar will seek the state title in Class C at Midland this weekend.

★ ★ ★

These athletes as well as the basketball and football teams will be honored at a banquet on May 23. The girls basketball team will also receive its victory trophy at the annual event.

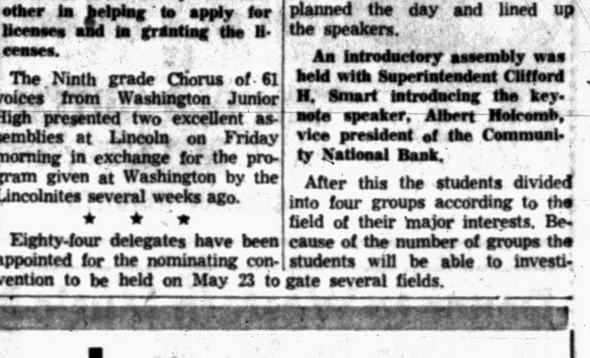

PREPARING FOR FESTIVAL — Clothing class students at St. Frederick School fit costumes on two youngsters who will participate in the school's annual Spring Festival, May 25 and 26, in the parish hall. From left are Pat Doyon, Joe Doyon, Elsie Ann Felice, and Mary Tosto. Tickets to the talent show are available at the school now and at the door on performance nights. Pontiac Press Photo

Hollywood Headlines

Movie Will Take Public on Tour of Little Monaco

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The waiting public will see Monaco, the home of Princess Grace and Prince Rainier, in "Holiday in Monaco" which Jerry Wald will produce for 20th Century-Fox.

The story has nothing to do with the personal life of the royal couple. It's a Norman Krasna yarn about a sailor who wins a ship's pool.

The prize is a trip to Monaco where he meets and falls in love with a movie actress touring the tiny kingdom after attending the Cannes Film Festival. Well, that's just what our Grace did, and look what happened.

Vic Damone is Jerry's choice for the lead and today these two met to discuss details. The film will be made in the style of "Three Coins in the Fountain" and show all the highlights of picturesque Monaco.

This, Jerry says, is why Rainier gave his permission for the filming. Personally, it wouldn't surprise me one bit if Rainier, who is a real bright boy, had his eye on the tourist appeal this would have.

A BID FOR JOAN

A definite bid, director Anthony Mann told me, has gone in to 20th Century-Fox for Joan Collins to play the lead in "God's Little Acre."

"We also talked with Susan Hayward, but she's so in love with her husband I doubt if she'll want to work, although we thought the location in Georgia might appeal to her.

"Erskine Caldwell, the author, who is here, agreed to wait until August if Susan would make the picture, although we had hoped to get started in July."

Mrs. Mann, the former Sarita Montiel, got on the telephone and told me she leaves next week for Spain to make personal appearances with her latest picture, "Rachel Miller." She has been invited by the Spanish government.

Ernie Kovacs telephoned to say au revoir before he went back to New York. He's returning to Hollywood in the fall to make some more pictures for Columbia, and when he does he wants to bring his wife, Edie Adams, and they'll look for a house.

Harry Cohn, who is in New York, where he interviewed William Holden about "The Mark Hellinger Story," will also see Kovacs in the big town and complete final arrangements for Ernie's deal.

Before he left, Ernie spent nearly $5,000 for gifts for the cast and crew of "Operation Madball," and each one had a personal inscription.

The McGuire sisters, Dorothy, Christine and Phyllis, have met Frank Sinatra, and he was all they expected and more. Dorothy told me that as soon as he finished a scene with Kim Novak he came over to talk to them.

New Hybrids Are a Success

Rhododendrons Grow Well All Over, Say Experts

Fascinating new hybrid rhododendrons and colorful new azaleas of one variety or another can be grown successfully practically everywhere in the country except in areas where soils are heavily alkaline.

The plants offer an exciting event in gardening for those who have not tried them.

Once planted and mulched they require very little maintenance after they are established, while they produce spectacular masses of bloom regularly, year after year.

★ ★ ★

Colors range from white and pink through lavender, orange to deep reds. Even in many alkaline soils they can be grown successfully by the addition of peat moss, sulfur, aluminum sulfate or other chemicals to acidify the soil as advised by nurserymen.

There is a wide range of hardiness in both rhododendrons and azaleas according to variety.

Territorially, azaleas can be grown in a wide area. With a little help in acidifying the soil they will flourish even in the alkaline soils of the mid and far west. And they are so beautiful they are worth it.

Select those which are advised for your locality and have been tested for hardiness in this area.

A collection of rhododendrons and azaleas which mature at different heights provide luxurious effect planted along a rear property line, while they also may be used as foundation plants, hedges, or individually, as specimen plants. Some specimen azaleas produce a solid mass of spectacular glooms six feet or more in diameter when they mature.

Many Outdoor Rooms

Outdoor living rooms, or patios are more numerous on home properties than ever before as families generally have taken to daily or weekend living outdoors in recent years, says the American Association of Nurserymen.

Roses Need Little Attention for Results

BY BARBARA JOHNSON
Garden Editor

So much has been written about America's favorite flower, the rose, that it would be nearly impossible to fully cover all of the types, their care and their necessities at once. This article will attempt to give general information on the topic.

★ ★ ★

To insure that new roses will pay off in color and beauty, a little care and attention should be given them two or three months after they have been planted.

Thorough watering regularly is the sure key to success. However, roses do not thrive well if they are left to stand in water. A soaking every few days will bring the best results.

When ordering packaged roses always remember that upon their arrival they should be soaked in water for about an hour before planting. A mound of earth around the plant is recommended. It is also advisable to spray for insects and disease before blooming time.

★ ★ ★

Roses love sun and grow best when planted where they will have the benefits of light at least half the day. They are a surprisingly healthy plant and stand dry weather extremely well. Many of the nation's largest rose growing fields are located where rains are few and far between. In this case, irrigation aids the maturity of the plants.

Also in dry weather, a mulch of peat moss or other organic material is good. This should go to a depth of several inches since it preserves moisture and cools the ground. After mulching, it is only necessary to water about once a week unless there is natural rainfall.

If old flowers are cut back to the strongest leaf joint, the second crop of blooms will be much healthier and more full of color.

For variety, it is recommended that the home owner try some of the newest types as well as the old favorites of roses. With reasonable care they can be profitable plants. Due to the wide range of colors, the flowers may be picked for any occasion, such as table bouquets or corsages.

★ ★ ★

Some of the more beautiful roses are the Golden Showers, a yellow climber, White Bouquet, a sparkling Floribunda that blossoms in heavy clusters throughout the season or the Circus, a yellow multicolor.

Among other species of roses are those that come in coral-orange, coral-shell pink, cherry coral and clear pink. Also added to the list are crimson-red, orchid-pink, apricot pink or a yellow streaked with pink.

Using several of these varieties together in a garden produces abundant color and a beautiful contrasting effect, from a warm soft looking year to a dazzling bright one.

Expert Has Helpful Hints About Common Insects

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Asst. County Agricultural Agent

Poison ivy control is needed around fence lines, summer homes and near favorite wood lots. To many, poison ivy is just another weed that is common in wooded areas. But to many it is a dangerous and miserable ailment.

For those who care, identification is simple, but control is very difficult.

Many of the spray chamicals which are used to control this perennial weed are difficult to apply and not particularly effective.

A new material known as Amino-Triazole is very promising, however. It is absorbed by the leaves and carried down to the roots. An unusual characteristic is that the treated foliage soon turns pure white preceding death.

The material will not seriously contaminate sprayers as long as they are carefully rinsed after using.

Mosquitoes become very common in Oakland County in late May, and each year seem to be larger and more active than before.

To get effective control within an area, each person must cooperate. But where this isn't possible, a little well directed effort can still make a big difference.

Mosquitoes do not do a great deal of traveling or feeding during the daytime and it is during this siesta we can finish them off.

Insecticides which last a week or longer are ideal materials to saturate the common hiding places.

Where mosquitoes are occasionally able to get inside the house, the small insect bomb is extremely effective. Here again a brief spray beneath beds and furniture and dark corners is usually sufficient.

Your Agricultural Extension Agent has a helpful folder on 'Mosquito Control'.

On many occasions the joys of moving from the house to an airy breezeway or summer cottage has such complications as bees, hornets or wasps, already firmly settled.

It has been found that the household insect bomb very effectively comes to the rescue. A rather long single blast from this canister has killed virtually the entire colony.

Sometimes other applications are unnecessary after a day's interval to destroy those not present at the time of the first application.

Clover mites are becoming a more common household pest in Oakland County. These are pests about the size of a blunt pinpoint. They range in color from dark to brownish red and have unusually long front legs.

During the summer they are commonly found on clover, apple, peach, raspberry and forest trees, as well as most shrubbery. These pests usually overwinter as eggs on twigs and branches or crevices of foundations, sidings and window mountings.

Following warm periods in the winter and spring the newly emerged insects occasionally invade dwellings in tremendous numbers. Once these insects are inside the dwellings, control is very difficult. Many can be gathered by using the vacuum cleaner. Any household spray containing Rotenone will kill them if you can hit them with the spray. But the basic control has to be while they are still outside.

Insect Builders Cause Trouble

In late May and June, millions of home builders will go into business for themselves, but the home starts will only spell trouble for the American landscape. For the builders are bagworms, nefarious crawlers that emerge from bags in which they have overwintered as eggs.

They start eating leaves and building their own bags, which they tote around with them all summer as they devour one leaf after another. The bag is constructed of silk-like thread and leaves and is from one to two inches long. Bags vary slightly in appearance, depending upon the kind of leaves from which they are constructed.

With a little teasing, the bagworm will emerge from its do-it-yourself sanctuary. Merely stick a pin or needle into a case and the insect will show why worms leave home.

★ ★ ★

Entomologist F. R. Lancaster, technical adviser of the Davey Tree Expert Co., says they are among treedom's toughest critters. Only strong poison formulations will kill them. An effectively lethal combination is arsenate of lead with nicotine.

The week-end gardener can cook up his own witch's brew for the invaders. The formula: One pound of lead, one-fifth of a pint of nicotine and one-fifth of a quart of Summer oil to 20 gallons of water. This may sound like quite enough for the entire landscape. But the 20 gallons only account for coverage for one comparatively small tree.

Bagworms are distributed from Massachusetts to Florida and west to Texas and will defoliate sycamores, maples, locusts, lindens, arborvitae, juniper, hemlock, larch, pine and other evergreens.

Since there are 500 to 1,000 eggs in each bag, it's a good idea to pick off and burn as many as you can reach before hatching time.

Why Artificial Water?

Besides cellulose and lignin, the wood of a home shade tree may contain a small quantity of starch, fats, sugars, resins, tannins and many other substances and is literally saturated with water, says the National Arborist Association.

The latter is why artificial watering is necessary during prolonged dry spells.

Violas Bloom a Long Time —Are Useful

Violas are a free flowering plant with a long season of bloom. They are becoming rapidly more popular for use in the foreground of the border, in small beds, and in rockeries, where their dwarf spreading habit is welcomed. They continue flowering all summer.

The type of violas also known as "Ladies' Delight" and "None So Pretty" are more hardy than others and if allowed to seed, will carpet a rose or iris bed with a mass of flowers in early May. Their botanical name is Viola Tri-Color which comes from the fact that they are purple, blue and yellow.

Use Nasturtium Leaves for Salad, Sandwiches

Nasturtiums will really grow on soils incapable of supporting any other plants and are most useful on dry, sandy or gravelly banks. The leaves may be used for sandwich fillings and salads and the green seed pods may be used in pickles.

Popularity Growing for Bachelor Buttons

The seeds of Bachelor Buttons germinate in eight days. Anyone can grow the new perfected strain of this popular hardy annual in any garden soil. It has larger flowers with vivid coloring and long wiry stems, making fine cut flowers.

This flower comes in the true cornflower blue, blackish maroon, true pink, deep red, and pure white.

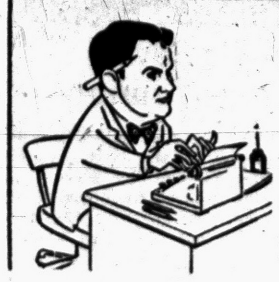

Garlands in Greece Now Bridal Wreath

Spirea is the name of a plant used for garlands in Ancient Greece. The name has continued to this day, says the American Association of Nurserymen. Spirea commonly being called "bridal wreath."

The peach probably is native to China, but it has been in cultivation from earliest times and came into Europe by way of Persia.

Spectator interest in sports such as football, baseball and basketball in the country has grown in leaps and bounds in the past decade.

For the fan, of these three, basketball has jumped the farthest, football next and then baseball.

From participation standpoint, however, since 1946 the trend has been toward individual competitive sports, the fastest growing of which has been archery.

According to the survey of Athletic Institute, outdoor activities of boating and fishing take the top spot of recreation, but for athletic participation the greatest increases after archery were made by bowling and tennis.

★ ★ ★

The most surprising thing is that the smallest gains percentage-wise of the all-age participants were made by football and golf.

A bigger surprise, especially in view of the American sweep in the Olympics, came with the decline in participation in track and field.

All the figures of the survey were based upon general participation in both organized and unorganized activities.

HERE IS GROWTH SINCE 1946:

SPORT	TOTAL U. S. PARTICIPATION 1946	1956	Increase
Boating	20,000,000	28,000,000	40%
Fishing	13,100,000	20,813,000	58%

There were rumors to the effect that Lapeer's Tom Wilson was not planning to follow footsteps of brothers John and Pat to Michigan State and go to Notre Dame instead.

Duffy Daugherty's recent appearance at Lapeer's banquet should have clinched everything for the Spartans.

LEADS MAJORS — Reno Bertoia, Tiger third baseman who says the "happiness pills" he takes may be the answer, now leads the Major Leagues in batting with a .398 average.

Hoeft Gets Assignment Against Yanks

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

'Happiness Pills' May Be Answer

Bertoia's Average Now .398

NEW YORK (AP) — Reno Bertoia says "happiness pills" may have lifted him atop the major league batting standings. But the new Detroit Tiger team physician says he'll have to stay there on his own.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know whether it's the pills or what it is," said the 22-year-old Detroit third baseman whose rise from a .182 hitter last year to a current .398 has been meteoric. "I feel more relaxed and I'm confident. Maybe it's a diet of steady work."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Luther R. Leader recommended to Tiger president Harvey Hansen and general manager John McHale after he was appointed team physician yesterday that the tranquilizing drugs have served their purpose and should be stopped.

★ ★ ★

"I think that within the next two weeks Bertoia should be able to stop using the pills," Dr. Leader said. "Their use should be governed by each individual's case and should be watched closely."

★ ★ ★

"I take two pills a day," Bertoia said. "I don't get any physical or mental reaction but just feel relaxed and calm.

"Maybe it's psychological . . . but it's working."

Bertoia said he started taking the pills when he took over the regular third base spot for the Tigers from Jim Finigan April 20. He said he didn't know if he would continue using them.

★ ★ ★

"Bertoia has been using them as recommended by a physician in Florida who observed him during the training season," Dr. Leader said. "I feel the psychological effect of their use on him has been twice as great as the actual physical effects."

Dr. Leader said Bertoia first was given one pill daily and then two pills of half strength.

Bertoia and pitcher Al Aber are the only Tigers taking the tranquilizing drugs.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Leader says it will take from 5 to 10 years to "establish a true line on the after-effects" the drug will have on Bertoia.

Tiger Southpaw Makes 1st Start Since April 28

Jim Bunning Celebrates Starter's Role With 2-1 Win at Boston

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Hoeft will mark his 25th birthday with his first start in 18 days when the Detroit Tigers meet the New York Yankees tonight at the stadium.

★ ★ ★

The young southpaw, a 20-game winner last season, has been out of action since April 28 with a sore arm.

★ ★ ★

The ailment — an inflamed tendon — has been slow in healing.

It wasn't until last Saturday that Hoeft began throwing batting practice. And although manager Jack Tighe says his work has been "great" there still is no assurance he is ready to start taking his regular turn.

In the 17 2-3 innings Hoeft pitched before his arm gave out, he neither won nor lost a game.

★ ★ ★

If Hoeft doesn't show his old-time vigor, the Tigers and their nine-man pitching staff will go on skating on thin ice.

★ ★ ★

Hopes of beefing up the staff were raised yesterday when Jim Bunning celebrated his elevation from the bullpen with a 2-1 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The slender righthander gave up only five hits in pitching a complete game for the first time since the Tigers first brought him up from Buffalo in 1955.

★ ★ ★

His shutout bid was spoiled in the last half of the ninth inning when Ted Williams' fly ball was lost in the sun.

Williams, who was fanned by Bunning three times in his first three trips to the plate, got a cheap double when Al Kaline was momentarily blinded. The big Boston slugger went to third on an infield out and scored on Jackie Jensen's single.

★ ★ ★

Al Watrous Has Dream of 1917 Coming True

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Al Watrous wasn't mad at the U. S. Navy during World War I, but as a 2nd class seaman in 1917, he always had the dream that someday he would return to the sea, not as a sailor who had to sleep in rocking hammock but as a passnger on a luxury liner.

The first phase of that dream came true only a few years later when he played in the British Open of 1926. "The ship was the Aquatania and it wasn't luxury but I didn't sleep in a hammock," said Watrous.

In 1929 with the Ryder Cup team he crossed the sea for the second time. This trip on the Moritania the accomodations were a little better, but the luxury trip came in 1954 when he again made the trip for the British Open on the luxurious Queen Mary.

Yesterday, Watrous got his itinerary for his 4th trip to European shores to represent the United States in the Teacher's International Golf Match against the British Seniors champ John Burton.

★ ★ ★

"This makes my dreams I used to have aboard the USS President Grant complete," said Watrous.

"All the boys aboard ship used to think I was cracking up when I used to practice my golf swings with a sawed off broom stick from the top deck," he said, "but after I made the Ryder Cup team, they all sent me telegrams." Most of them would read, "Now we know why you were practicing."

The trophy match against Burton will be played over 36 holes at Pollok Golf Club in Glasgow, June 28th. The Oakland Hills pro will arrive in Scotland June 23rd to get in some practice rounds. He will stay over and play in the British Open being held at St. Andrew 45 miles away, July 1-6.

Burton, who is 53, is considered next to Henry Cotton as the best of the British senior players.

Watrous, 58, made a clean sweep of U. S. seniors tourneys. He won the Michigan title by defeating Jim Barfield by one stroke in Lansing last year. Oddly enough, when Watrous won the National title at Dunedin, Florida, earlier this year, he again defeated Jim Barfield by one stroke, 210-211.

Saturday night, members of Oakland Hills Country Club will honor their pro in a dinner celebration.

Hits 99 Points in 3 Games

'The Bird' Flies High With Army Team

(Special to The Press)

ISTANBUL, Turkey—Guy "The Bird" Sparrow, 6-foot-6 cager who made his mark at Pontiac High and at the University of Detroit, is still flying high in basketball circles — this time with the U. S. Army.

★ ★ ★

Sparrow, a member of the powerful U. S. Armed Forces team playing in the International basketball tournament in Istanbul against the best foreign armed forces teams, was the big gun in three games played.

In the three games, Sparrow led his team with 99 points on outbursts of 16, 45 and 38 points respectively, and he has been the leading rebounder in the tournament.

The Americans' latest victory was a 101-63 romp over France which had a team composed mainly of players who defeated the Russians in the 1956 Olympics.

France was considered the top challenger to the Americans in the tourney. In his 45 point outburst, Sparrow made 18 field goals of 38 attempts and added nine free throws. He fouled out with 2 minutes to play.

Strangely, when the U. S. team was selected, Sparrow just made the team behind such ex-collegiate greats as Paul Wilcox, Frank Selvy, Jim Fay, Jim Ahearn, Bob Patterson and Bill Warden.

Sparrow pushed Warden out of his starting position and unleashed his scoring barrage with an assortment of goals, including tip-ins, long push shots and driving baskets.

The oddity about the tournament is that it was delayed one week because of plane difficulties which forced the Americans to return to Rome twice.

The plane was over the Mediterranean when it developed motor trouble and the right engine caught fire. It got back to Rome for repairs and when it took off again the same thing happened forcing another return.

The Americans were scheduled to play Iran and Turkey after the victory over France.

★ ★ ★

Sparrow, when not with the U. S. All-Star team, is a member of the 5th infantry quintet. He was drafted by the New York Knickerbockers of the NBA upon graduation from the University of Detroit. The Knicks still hold his contract.

Tavern Squad Rallies for 6-5 Victory Over Eddie's in Softball

The first extra inning game of the 1957 season topped Thursday night's City League softball activity at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Louie's Tavern tallied once in the bottom of the 8th to score a 6-5 comback victory over Eddie's Bar. Mort Kluesner's single delivered Mike Hanes from 3rd base with the winning run.

The winners spotted Eddie's club a 5-0 lead in the 3rd inning, then tied the count with two runs in the 3rd and three more in the 5th.

Roger Reynolds twirled a steady six-hitter as Birmingham defeated Bicmar Inn, 6-1.

The remainder of the four-game card was abbreviated. Dostal Foundry was clubbed by the Pontiac Police, 11-0, as Burgess and Newman combined to hurl a five-inning three-hit shutout. Pontiac State Hospital walloped Lane's Drive-In, 19-4, in a three-inning encounter. Davis clouted a grand slam homer for the winners.

Day I Remember Most

(One in a series of articles by Detroit Tiger players written especially for The Associated Press and the Press)

By PAUL FOYTACK

DETROIT (AP) — I waited quite a spell for my first Major League pitching victory, so when I got it the victory became quite a thrill.

It was on May 9, 1956, against the Washington Senators in Washington. Before that, I had been with the Tigers for a while during the 1953 season. I had spent all the 1955 season with the club and this was my third start of 1956.

Maybe I wouldn't have gotten so thorough a test in 1956 except that Ned Garver had a sore arm and couldn't pitch. I was a little shaky trying so hard to win that first one. After it was all over — I think the score was 7-3 — I went on and won 14 more games.

Conquering wildness has been my biggest trouble, but Jack Tighe has had a lot of faith in me.

The fact that Jack has had confidence in me forced me to have some faith in myself.

Prep Netters in Second Day of State Test

PHS Wins 2, Loses 1 Match in 1st Round at Cranbrook

Preliminary round of the Class A division of the state schoolboy tennis tourney was completed yesterday. But with threats of bad weather for today Howard Coan, tourney director at Cranbrook school, scene of the A-B tests, was skeptical about getting by the 2nd round. "If rain interferes we'll be all piled up for Saturday's wind-up" he said.

All Class A preliminary singles and doubles were completed yesterday, but the final match, a hot one between Maples' Frank Forshew and Jerry Armstrong (Port Huron) wasn't finished until 7 p.m. Armstrong won, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4. Other close matches included the long doubles battle won by Vern Osterlund, Bob Davis (Royal Oak) over Port Huron's Henry Parkinson, Marty McDoniel, 8-10, 7-6, 6-1.

Only three singles and two doubles werep layed in Class B. Most were set over for today.

Chiefs won two singles, lost a doubles match in their only action yesterday. A full round was ahead for today. Mel White, Gideon Robarge lost to Southfield's Weber, and Beck 6-4, 8-6. Dick Mallory won over Southfield's Symons and George Palian took a default from Gross of Berkley.

Class A singles—
Bill Wiggins (Bhm.) def. George Dillon (Berkley) 6-0, 6-2; Darryl Hastings (PHS) def. Tom Hayden (RO) 6-0, 6-0; John Buckholz (MC) def. Larry DesArneaus (E. Det.) 6-2, 6-0; Bill Pence (RO) def. Gary Reicher (E. Det.) 6-2, 6-0; Jerry Armstrong (PH) def. Frank Forshew (Bhm.) 4-6, 7-5, 6-4; Bob Harder (MC) def. Michael Warren (S'fld.) 6-0, 6-0; Dick Mallory (P) def. Symons (S'fld.) 6-1, 6-3; George Palian (P), won by default from Gross of Berkley.

Class A Doubles—
John Hancocx, Mel Weiner (Berk.) def. William Albee, Dave Sheridan (MC) 6-2, 9-7; Dan Reck, Van Webber (S'fld.) def. Mel White, Gid Robarge (P) 6-4, 8-6; Bob Law, George Morrow (E. Det.) def. Art Smith, John Armstrong (PH) 6-4, 6-3; Bob Dillon, Earl Singer (Berk.) def. John Frazier, Harold Swenson (S'fld.) 6-0, 8-6; Vern Osterlund, Bob Davies (RO) def. Henry Parkinson, Marty McDoniel (MC) 8-10, 7-5, 6-1.

Class B Singles—
Bill McQuillin (Cran.) def. Edward Wesolowski (Pitts.) 6-2, 6-2; Sanford Smith (Oak Park) def. Bob Bake (Northville) 6-1, 6-4; Ron Lickman (Pitts.) def. Vaughan Kraft (Marysville) 6-3, 7-5.

Class B Doubles—
Fred Sechelmer, Robert Schults (Cran.) def. Dan Racsak, Terry Spencer (Pitts.) 6-0, 6-0; Tom Williams, Jim Hammond (Northville) def. David Lipton, Larry Haber (Oak Park) 6-2, 6-4.

Big Weekend for Area Prep Athletes

HOPE TO KEEP IT — Four PHS trackmen, only members of point-getting contingent from the 1956 state championship team on this year's crew poses with the big MHSAA Class A title trophy, which they hope to retain on Saturday. They are, from left—Larry Beamer (half miler), Hudson Ray (high, broad jump), Archie Brooks (440) and Alex Barge (high jump). Ray is the current state high jump champion and holder of the unofficial state mark of 6 feet 5⅞ inches.

By H. GUY MOATS

There appears to be a well-defined opinion among many observers in this area that Pontiac High's defending state track championship team has a good chance of snatching a third successive title this weekend at East Lansing.

Kermit Ambrose, Birmingham's mentor, is among those holding this opinion. He pointed out today that scattered individual threats could help Chiefs where they are not too strong. They could very well apply considerable pressure on such teams as Flint Northern, Saginaw and Bay City rated leading threats to Dean Wilson's crew. Vikings are unquestionably the top challengers, having outscored Pontiac three times this spring.

Should Chiefs win Saturday they would be the 3rd school in MHSAA Class A history to turn the trick more than twice in a row. Saginaw was a 5-straight winner from 1945 to 1949. In the days when Detroit schools were permitted to compete, Northwestern won it four times, 1927-30. Monroe won it twice 1936-37. Flint Northern has won the title twice, 1950 and 1953. Arthur Hill in 1944, is the only other Valley school to have held the crown.

Maples will have a strong squad of nine at the Class A-C meet in East Lansing on Saturday. Class B-D titles are at stake in the Ann Arbor section of the MHSAA championships. Pontiac area has a number of strong contenders in "B".

Besides PHS and Birmingham, Waterford has five, Royal Oak and Berkley have several qualifiers, including Berkley's fine hurdler Myers.

Lake Orion, St. Mary's (OL), Rochester, Cranbrook, Troy, Milford, Auburn Heights, are among contenders in "B." St. Michael's Dan Dropps is the lone Pontiac Class C qualifier (high jump). He was 2nd in the 1956 meet.

Chiefs have about a dozen entries, but will miss Joe Hill, ace sprinter, whose bad back has not responded to treatment. Hudson Ray, unbeaten this spring in the high jump, defends his crown, and is favored to add a new title. He will also be a threat in the broad jump Other members of the champions' squad are Alex Barge, Fred Brooks in the high jump; miler Roger Coates (who set a regional mark at Ypsi last week); half miler Larry Beamer, 440-man Archie Brooks, dash men Dick Keller, Jim Hawkins and Tom Conley, hurdler John Phlegm, 880-man Pete Cox, Mike Hardiman in the shot put. The half-mile relay team also qualified.

Maples have two fine vaulters in Bill McFarlen and Bill Alcorn. Other entries Saturday include the medley relay team (Hunter, Macdonald, Hall, Pew), Gibson in the shot, Stephenson in the high jump, Boyd in the 880.

Bill Cole, hurdler; Vogel, in the 100; Jones, hurdles; Dumbrigue vault and broad jump, and Oakley in the mile represent Skippers.

Cranbrook has one of the largest squads in the "B" division after taking 8 firsts in its regional.

Maples were the biggest Class B winners up to 1950 when they became a Class A school. They held five "B" titles, St. Joseph four. Inkster has held the title the last three years. No area school has held a "C" title, but Bloomfield Hills in Class D won that honor three times in 1938-39 and 1948. Lansing Everett in "C", Covert in "D" are defending champions.

Fast Fields in Links Test

Five area schoolboy links teams today put the finishing touches to their play, preparatory to the big meet of the season — the state high school championships at Midland CC, Saturday.

Three of the teams are in the 15-team Class B division. Only two represent the section in Class A. Pontiac, usually among the qualifiers in its division, fell out of the select list a week ago. Waterford also missed out.

St. Frederick, "C" winner at Flint, Bloomfield Hills and Walled Lake in "B"; Birmingham and Royal Oak Dondero in "A" are the area squads.

Rams have won their division title twice, in 1933-1936. Keego Harbor, was C-D champ in 1945. RO Shrine won the "B" crown twice (1950-1952). Royal Oak led Class A in 1947-1951 and Pontiac won it in 1933-1941. Current champions are (A) Dearborn, (B) Kalamazoo State High and (C-D), Jackson St. Mary.

There are 15 Class B, 13 Class A and seven C-D teams in the finals.

Maples' squad includes No. 1, Pete Jackson, Pete Green, Mike Conroy (son of a golf pro) and Tom McDaniel.

Rams' players are Dick and Ed Kast (brothers), Joe Keller and Bill Haps.

Coach Gene Wright's squad put in a good warmup round, yesterday at Orchard Lake CC, outscoring St. Mary's (OL) 4-1. Bill Haps was the medalist for the round with a 41.

For Bloomfield Hills are Bud Badger, a consistent low shooter, Chuck Farr, Bob Thompson, Bryant Ewing and alternate Jim Fuller.

Flint Scene of Bout

FLINT (AP)—Mickey Crawford, the young Saginaw welterweight who has won nine in a row and 15 of his 16 professional fights, meets former lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith next Thursday night in a 10-round scrap at IMA auditorium.

Hogan Close Behind

Harney's 63 Leads Tourney

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Paul Harney shot the best score of his career, 7-under-par 63, and still started the second round today looking fearfully over his shoulder in the 72-hole Sam Snead golfing festival.

Within striking distance despite Harney's torrid first round yesterday are two old hands long past being scared off easily, Ben Hogan and Snead, and one of the most promising youngsters on this year's professional tour, Billy Casper.

★ ★ ★

Harney, slender 27-year - old from Worchester, Mass. is playing the tourneys more steadily than ever in his third year of traveling around the circuit. But he still is seeking a major triumph.

The former caddy and Holy Cross College golfer tore into the Old White Course from the start and was four ahead of par 34 by the end of the first nine.

★ ★ ★

Hogan gave a striking demonstration of why it's still not time to ever count him out despite his 45 years and slackening of tourney competition.

Chiefs, Saginaw Split 2-0 Tilts

Pontiac got some of its best pitching of the season but it was only good enough for a split of 2-0 verdicts in a Saginaw Valley doubleheader against the 1st place Saginaw nine yesterday.

Terry Zellhart and Walt Honchell combined for a four-hit shutout in the opener. Chuck Johnson, who had three hits, started the winning rally in the 8th with a single. A single by Terry Hayward and a walk loaded the bases before an infield error let in the two deciding markers.

Hayward took the mound in the nightcap and spun a neat three-hitter with nine strikeouts.

Rams, Holly Warm Up for State Golf Tourney

In golf, St. Frederick and Holly warmed up for the state tournament with impressive victories. The Rams whipped Orchard Lake St. Mary by 4-1, while Holly was defeating strong Milford and Clarkston in a triangular battle.

St. Fred ace Bill Haps fired a 41 for medalist honors. Larry Charkowski topped the Eaglets w 44. Holly finished with a 173 score to 184 for Milford and 200 for Clarkston. Ed Targonski of Milford had the meet low of 38. Darrell Kinney fired a 39 for Holly which is now 9-3 for the regular season.

Braves, Lincoln Gain Junior Track Triumphs

Washington conquered Madison, 51-26, and Lincoln shaded Eastern, 42-35, in junior high school dual track meets Thursday afternoon at Wisner Stadium.

The Breaves won seven out of nine events for their 3rd dual triumph in four outings. Their only setback came at the hands of defending champion Jefferson. Washington's Leroy Pritchett heaved the shot 48 feet, 5 inches.

Victory in the 440 relay assured Lincoln's win. Vic Martinez of Eastern won the low hurdles and the shot put. It was Lincoln's 1st dual win of the season.

12-FOOT VAULTER

Birmingham's Bill McFarlen has become one of the top prep vaulters in the state nearing the 13-foot mark regularly. He is a title-threat in Saturday's Class A meet.

Durelle Wins by KO

MONCTON, N.B. (AP)—Canadian lightheavyweight champion Yvon Durelle scored a fifth-round technical knockout over Leo (Nule) Johnson, of Charlotte, N. C. last night.

Kansas Favored in Big Seven Track Tourney

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) —The University of Kansas' Jayhawks open defense of their Big Seven Conference outdoor track and field championship here this afternoon and they are considered a lead-pipe cinch to wrap up their 12th consecutive title.

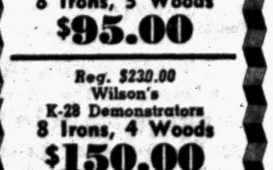

★ ★ ★

Preliminaries in eight events and finals in the discus were on today's program scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. CST.

★ ★ ★

One league standard considered in extreme danger was the discus throw mark of 183 feet, 5 inches set by Olympic champion Al Oerter of Kansas last year. It is Oerter who threatens that mark.

Chisox Win on Phillips' Big Bat

Redlegs Regain NL Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati was back as sole occupant of first place in the National League today and the streaking Chicago White Sox were still leading the American League. But baseball fans were marvelling at Casey Stengel, wily manager of the New York Yankees.

Stengel, the major league's master juggler, proved again last night that he apparently can't do anything wrong on a ball field.

The man with the Midas touch, who maneuvered the Yankees to seven pennants in eight years, outdid himself as the Yanks inflicted the second straight 3-0 shutout on the Kansas City Athletics. Angered because six of his players had been involved in an early morning brawl at a night club, the 67-year-old strategist gave his line-up a wholesale shakeup and every move he made turned out perfect.

★ ★ ★

Despite their fourth consecutive triumph, the Yankees remained a half game behind the White Sox who conquered Washington 8-3 for their fifth consecutive victory. Third baseman Bubba Phillips had a perfect night with a home run, triple and three singles to pace Chicago's 13-hit attack against three pitchers and help Billy Pierce achieve his fifth success against two defeats.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati took a 3-2 decision from the New York Giants to break a first-place tie with Milwaukee, beaten 2-1 by Pittsburgh. St. Louis shut out Philadelphia 5-0 and Brooklyn handed Chicago its eighth straight Wrigley Field defeat without a victory, 3-2.

Cleveland won its second straight extra inning game from Baltimore, winning 4-3 in 10 innings and Detroit edged out Boston 2-1.

Early Wynn won his fourth game of the season although he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the 10th when Jim Busby tripled and Al Smith singled to produce the tie-breaking run with Baltimore. The Indians are 1½ games of fthe pace.

Cincinnati's victory was its 14th in the last 15 games. Frank Robinson, held hitless in his first four times at bat, singled in the winning run with two out in the 10th. A walk issued by relief pitcher Steve Ridzik, and Gus Bell's two-out single set the stage for the winning blow.

Around the Prep Front

By CHUCK ABAIR

A pair of fellows with the familiar names of George Lang and Leroy Parks got clutch hits that produced an extra inning Clarkston win and sent the Wolves soaring into a 1st place tie, Orchard Lake St. Mary stayed in the running for Suburban Catholic honors by beating St. Frederick and Romeo extended its win streak to 10 as baseball again featured the area prep schedule Thursday.

Clarkston's advance was made possible by a 4-3 Holly upset of Milford. Clarenceville blanked Bloomfield Hills by a 6-0 count in the other Wayne - Oakland League game.

The Wolves had to go eight innings to whip last place Brighton, 6-4. An error and walk set up the big singles by Lang and Parks. Key hits by Bob Porritt and Glen Ostrum had tied the contest for Clarkston in the 7th. Dave Gaddis was the winner in relief as Lang slammed four singles.

★ ★ ★

Big George McDaniels bested Dave Lancaster for the Holly victory. The Broncos came from behind twice to deadlock the score and clinched the verdict in the 7th when Phil Tinsman's squeezse bunt chased home Mel Reid who had doubled and moved to 3rd on Joe Rouleau's pinch single.

★ ★ ★

Clarenceville's Wellman whipped winless Bloomfield for the 2nd time with a three-hitter as the Barons left nine men on. Wellman and loser Jim Gerhard combined for 25 strikeouts. The victors top the southern division with 7-1.

★ ★ ★

Excellent relief hurling by Paul Franckowiak gave Orchard Lake its 3rd straight loop win, 8-5. St. Frederick is now 1-2. Royal Oak St. Mary made it 4-0 in the SCL by nipping St. Rita 2-1 with both markers crossing after wild pitches in the 7th. Jerry Laquiar hurled the triumph.

★ ★ ★

St. Michael evened its loop record at 2-2 with an 11-5 thumping of St. Clement as Ken Rogers, Dan Dropps, Joe Schultz, Tom Harding and Chuck Brown each had two hits. Schultz, who had a no-hitter for five frames, was the victor. Harding and Brown had two-run circuits in the 5th.

★ ★ ★

Clawson upset Lake Orion and Roseville tripped Avondale to move into a tie for the lead in the Oakland B. Clawson scored four times in each of the 1st four frames and held on the rest of the way. Jim Smith's strong relief job was wasted for Orion. Roseville's four-run 6th broke up a scoreless mound duel as Dave Mortimer and Stu Hency got key hits. Avondale fought back in the 7th with a trio of its own before Winner Jim Smith could retire the side. Loser Larry Laforge and freshman Otto Janik batted in the Yellowjacket runs.

Yanks Quiet After Copa Fling

NEW YORK (AP) — The proud New York Yankees, embarrassed by an early morning night club brawl involving six of their stars, were maintaining a discrete silence today.

★ ★ ★

Acting either on advice of counsel or orders from Manager Casey Stengel or club officials, the players declined to discuss the Wednesday morning brawl in which a New York delicatessen owner claimed he was slugged by veteran outfielder Hank Bauer.

★ ★ ★

The Yankee dressing room was like a morgue last night after the world champions defeated the Kansas City Athletics 3-0. Two of the sextet had been benched by Stengel in a last-hour shakeup.

Bauer, threatened with a $250,000 law suit by Edwin Jones the delicatessen owner, declined to talk.

The others — Whitey Ford, Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle, Johnny Kucks and Billy Martin — just shook their heads.

Ford, scheduled to start, was benched in favor of Bob Turley. Berra also sat on the bench.

"I didn't use Ford because the whole world knows he was out 'till two in the morning," Stengel said. "If I used him and he got beat, people would wonder what I was doing. Berra has been around long enough to know better. The way he's been hitting (.200) he should have been home getting some rest. Well, he can rest tonight."

★ ★ ★

While admitting he was just as mad at the other members of the club who were helping Martin celebrate his birthday, Stengel added:

"I'm not mad enough to take a chance on losing a ball game and possibly the pennant."

Mantle showed no ill effects. He came up with a homer, a single and two walks. Bauer, dropped to eighth in the batting lineup, drove in the final Yankee run with a single.

★ ★ ★

Kucks is scheduled to pitch tonight against Detroit and Martin has been out of action due to a lame leg.

Meantime, the club stood behind the players. In a statement, the club said: "The Yankees have made a preliminary examination of the facts surrounding Billy Martin's birthday party which was attended by certain players — all with their wives, with the exception of Martin, who is a bachelor —and are convinced that neither Bauer nor any Yankee players struck anyone. Mr. Bauer has engaged counsel of his own and the legal aspects of the matter are in the hands of said counsel."

★ ★ ★

The 40-year-old Jones, a Yankee fan, claims he suffered a fractured nose, broken jaw and arm and body bruises.

"I love Bauer, Martin and all the Yankees," said Jones. "I've been a Yankee fan for years and this incident has disappointed me."

Jones said he would proceed with a civil suit and, if X-rays showed more serious injuries, with criminal action against Bauer, known to hs teammantes as the Bruiser.

THREE-PLY KILLING — The first triple play of the season was executed last night by this trio of New York Yankees against the Kansas City Athletics. Left to right are shortstop Gil McDougald, pitcher Bob Turley and second baseman Bobby Richardson. The Yanks won a 3-0 decision.

Entries Begin for 81st Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — The proprietors of proud old Pimlico began taking official entries today for the 81st running of the Preakness tomorrow, and seven owners lined up to invest another $500 each in hope of taking down some of the $100,000-added prize money.

Ready to be dropped into the entry box in the historic clubhouse of the 87-year - old track were these names:

★ ★ ★

Iron Liege, Calumet Farm's Kentucky Derby winner.

Bold Ruler, the Wheatley Stable star trained by 82-year-old Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons.

Federal Hill, the front - running speedball of Clifford Lussky.

Inswept, the Roslyn Farm nominee who finished second by a length to Bold Ruler in the Preakness Prep last Monday.

Nah Hiss, owned by Mrs. Jules Schwartz.

★ ★ ★

Promised Land, a son of Palestinian and the nominee of trainer Hirsch Jacobs' wife, Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs.

Inside Tract, whose entry took Pimlico officials by such surprise that they had to telephone the Jockey Club in New York for identification of his owners, D.-M. stable.

★ ★ ★

The $500 entry fee was preceded by a $50 nomination charge and must be followed by another $500 starting tab before the 4:45 p.m., EST post-time of the nationally televised—cbs 4:30-5 p.m. EST—race.

The odds-guessers figured Iron Liege would go off as a 4-5 favorite in the mile-and-three sixteenths test, which with the Derby and the Belmont Stakes helps make up the fabled Triple Crown for 3-year-old thoroughbreds.

★ ★ ★

A repeat of his Derby victory would make Iron Liege the sixth Calumet horse to win the Run for the Black-Eyed Susans and would give jockey Willie Hartack his second Preakness score.

Calumet's first winner was Whirlaway in 1941 under Eddie Arcaro, who will be aboard Bold Ruler tomorrow in quest of his sixth triumph in the big race.

Marble Tourney Finals Saturday

Grade School Winners Shoot for City Crown at Wisner Field

Saturday is the day when a city marbles champion will be crowned for the 10th consecutive year.

Champions from Pontiac's elementary schools will assemble at Wisner Field tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock to shoot the mibs for the city title.

Sponsored by The Pontiac Press in cooperation with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, the annual tournament reaches its climax in tomorrow's finals for all school standard-bearers.

This year's tourney is restricted to boys and girls who are under 12 years of age. The playing ring has been narrowed from 10 feet to 8 feet in diameter and competition has been limited to one division only.

There have been midget and junior champs in the past. This time just one champion will be decided.

The winner will be determined by a best-of-5 series. Last year's champs, Bill Davis and John Morton, are ineligible to repeat because of their ages.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner and runner-up by The Pontiac Press.

Church League Slugfests

Slugging dominated Thursday night's four-game program in the Pontiac Church Softball League. K. Voss of Columbia Avenue Baptist slammed two home runs to lead his team to a 14-8 victory over Stone Baptist. In other games, First Baptist beat Salvation Army, 8-3; Church of the Brethren downed Liberty Baptist, 11-8, and First Social Brethren defeated Christian Missionary Alliance, 7-4.

One of the oldest athletes in Michigan State history is service veteran Bill Bisard, a 31-year-old tennis player.

Lapeer Bowmen Slate Contest

METAMORA—The Lapeer County Bowmen are sponsoring an Archery Carp Contest. The entry fee is $1.00 and it must be submitted before Monday to Phyllis E. Bray, 485 Main St., Imlay City.

Three cash prizes will be awarded for the largest carp shot with a bow and arrow. The contest ends May 31.

The three weighing stations are Lapeer, Brian Seaman, 809 Washington St.; Imlay City, Bray's Sports Store, 3rd and Main, and the Caro Conservation Club in Caro.

U.S. Netters Start on Road to 'Cup'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The United States, starting the long road which tennis fans hope will lead to Australia and the Davis Cup Challenge Round in December, opens the American Zone competition today as strong favorite to oust the British West Indies.

★ ★ ★

Vic Seixas, veteran of Davis Cup competition, takes on 23-year-old Peter Phillips in the opening singles match. Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, San Angelo, Tex., southpaw, meets 24-year-old Ian MacDonald in the second. Back in 1953, Bartzen defeated the former Cambridge University student in a Davis Cup match.

★ ★ ★

The doubles will be played Saturday with Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill., pairing with Seixas. The final two singles matches are scheduled for Sunday.

Andy Hebenton will be $1,000 richer before the next hockey season. That's the amount the National Hockey League pays to the player named the winner of the Lady Byng Memorial Trophy.

READ WHAT THIS PONTIAC MAN SAYS:

"I just bought a new 1957 Chevrolet, and I really learned a lesson.

"I was out to find the best deal I could . . . who isn't . . . and so I drove all around checking with these dealers who are making those "big deals." You know the kind I mean, you read about them and hear about them all the time. But I soon learned none of them are giving away anything . . . the difference-price is about the same everywhere.

"Then I checked right here in town with Matthews-Hargreaves . . . and, believe me, I was impressed. They didn't try to give me any double-talk, made no ridiculous claims . . . just treated me courteously and gave me a straight story. And, best of all, they offered me a deal that was as low as anyone else had come up with. Plus they gave me a 3-year guarantee!

"So I bought my new car at Matthews-Hargreaves . . . because I was convinced there's no sense driving miles to find a deal on a Chevrolet, when you get the best deal right here in Pontic at Matthews-Hargreaves . . . and you don't have the inconvenience of driving miles to get new car service checks either!"

Area Athletes Make Mark in Colleges

By BILL CORNWELL

Oakland County can be justifiably proud of its former high school athletes. A review of their athletic accomplishments on the collegiate level merits that pride.

Colleges and universities in nearly every section of the United States have enrolled an Oakland County youth who made his mark here as a high school athlete.

Some of these youths have already achieved great recognition. Others probably will eventually. A few may never make the grade, but they are still having their fling.

BEACH

SYRON

Many of them were granted athletic scholarships because of demonstrated skill in their prep days. The rest took their chances without benefit of scholarship aid.

They can be found in the Ivy League and other Eastern schools; the Big Ten Conference, Notre Dame and other midwestern strongholds. They're also represented in the wheat belt as well as virtually every college and university in Michigan.

Eastern Michigan, Central Michigan and Hillsdale lead all other state colleges in area representation. Michigan State, Michigan, Detroit and Wayne State also are well stocked with county athletes.

Of the myriad number of area hopefuls who have migrated to college, certain ones stand out and must be given special attention. No matter how you look at it, the first and foremost star is Pontiac's Hayes Jones.

From the standpoint of rapid attainment, Jones stands at the head of the class. The 18-year-old track sensation led Pontiac to two straight Class A state titles and, as a freshman, is attracting national attention for his feats at Eastern Michigan.

George Marshall, track coach at the Ypsilanti college, calls Jones a good bet for the 1960 Olympic Games. Although he probably hasn't reached his peak yet, he has already given Indiana ace Milt Campbell all he could handle in the hurdles.

★ ★ ★

He has posted record or near-record times on numerous occasions. His top collegiate performance was recorded May 11 when he won five events in a dual meet against Miami of Ohio.

Pete Dawkins, called "the best athlete at Cranbrook since I've been here" by athletic director Fred Campbell, is gaining stature as a football player at Army.

Looking like anything but a gridder when he reported to the Cranes, Dawkins is now a rugged 200-pounder who may lug a lot of leather for the Cadets next fall.

TRAA

TREAIS

He was running from the 1st string right halfback position when spring drills ended.

Jim Traa, who won all-state honors as an end for Birmingham in 1955, enters the plebe class at the Naval Academy next September, along with Maple teammates Lee Abernethy and George Huffman. All three boys earned football letters at the Bullis Prep School in Silver Springs, Md.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Walt Beach and Phil Officer are making headlines in football and track at Mt. Pleasant. Beach and Jim Podoley formed a potent halfback combination for Central last year. Officer was used sparingly, but should see a lot more action a season hence.

Kerry Keating of Waterford is dividing football and track glory at Ypsilanti while Rod Treais, ex-Pontiac basketball star, broke into the Hurons' starting lineup in his freshman year.

Al Nestor and John Fear, both from Waterford, are plying their gridiron talents at Purdue and Orchard Lake St. Mary's Gerry Leszczynski is doing the same at the U. of D. Bob Casteel, Pontiac gridder, matriculated to Kansas.

★ ★ ★

Gridders Jack Greenlees of Avondale and Charles Schack of Waterford have been letter winners at Alma and Michigan Tech respectively. Pontiac's Walt Poe and Wayne O'Shaughnessy are part of the Hillsdale pigskin picture. Classy halfback Darrell Harper from Royal Oak is highly regarded at Michigan.

Infielder Wally Galba of Oxford is knocking the cover off the ball for Central this spring and ex - Cranbrook catcher George Gary of Pontiac is playing freshman baseball at the University of Pennsylvania.

Lloyd Syron of Pontiac continues to sparkle in varsity golf at Notre Dame while Jack Reynolds of Waterford is playing freshman golf for Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

A few more freshmen trying their luck include John Keller, St. Michael; Peter Hubert and Ron Hummel, Cranbrook; Nick Kamenoff and Dan Potter, Hazel Park; and Norm Pruitt, Fitzgerald.

Other colleges and universities listing county athletes are Adrian, Albion, Kalamazoo, Ferris Institute, Northern Michigan, Western Michigan, Williams (Mass.), Brown, Dartmouth, Princeton, Wheaton (Ill.), Dennison (O.), and Ohio State.

(Tomorrow's article will discuss the college destinations of Oakland County prep athletes who will be graduated from high school this spring.)

'M,' MSU Hold Key to Iowa's Future

CHICAGO (AP)—Iowa, seeking its first Big Ten baseball pennant since 1949, today opens an important three-game schedule on the road as the conference leader with a 5-1 record.

The Hawkeyes have a single game today at Michigan State (3-4) and a doubleheader tomorrow at Michigan (5-3).

Michigan, knocked off twice last week by Illinois, tops the Big Ten in hitting with .295 with Iowa second at .278.

The conference pennant race winds up next weekend.

Awaits Arraignment

Ernest A. Valderas, 24, of 44 W. Wilson St., accused of slashing a man's face May 5 with a linoleum knife so that 36 stitches were required, waived examination Wednesday and was bound over to Circuit Court.

The original charge of assault with intent to murder was reduced to felonious assault.

Valderas was freed on $500 bond by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum until arraignment Monday. He stood mute at his Municipal Court arraignment May 8, and Judge McCallum entered an innocent plea for him.

Good News for Anglers

Controversy Bubbles Over Auto

BONN, Germany (AP)—The sturdy Volkswagen has become an issue in West Germany's election campaign.

The "People's Car" was created by Adolf Hitler's engineers to help fulfill Hitler's promise that every German would have his own car.

★ ★ ★

Originally designed to sell for $240, the first Volkswagens were produced with money contributed by 330,000 Germans, all expecting a car for their contribution.

★ ★ ★

Few got it. The plant was three-fifths destroyed in World War II and contributors lost their money. Some are still fighting in court to get some return.

The Volkswagen works was taken over after the war by the West German government. Within a decade, West Germany has become Europe's No. 1 auto exporter, largely on the Volkswagen's popularity.

★ ★ ★

The Socialists, fighting to unseat Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Chritisan Democratic regime, are campaigning for eventual nationalization of basic industry. They want Volkswagen to continue to be state-owned.

★ ★ ★

Adenauer struck back this week. He said the government would share Volkswagen profits by offering stock to West Germanys "little man." His plan calls for a joint stock company with 60 million marks (14¼ million dollars) in capital, broken into 50 mark ($12) shares.

Only private citizens could buy the stock. No one could hold more than $6,000 worth.

★ ★ ★

"Cheap election propaganda," claimed the Socialists.

★ ★ ★

Foreign economic experts were inclined to think that at least in part the program is a bid for votes against the Socialists' campaign promises of building stronger security for the public.

But behind any political motivation apparently lies an effort to solve a pressing economic problem, one Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard frequently mentions.

★ ★ ★

This is that although business is good, little money is invested in stocks by Germans as a whole. The per capita outlay for stocks here may be the lowest in the Western world.

Most German businesses are operating on borrowed capital, this might spell disaster in the event of a recession, he said.

Another expert said Adenauer likely will have trouble getting his plan through Parliament before the September elections.

"It's going to be pretty difficult to sell stock in a company when no one is absolutely certain who owns it," this observer commented.

Takes Over Midwest

Gordon M. Metcalf, retail group manager for Sears, Roebuck and Co. has been elected vice president in charge of the firm's midwestern territory.

According to Frank S. Lyndall, manager of the Pontiac store, the midwestern territory includes 237 retail stores, including Pontiac, 184 catalog sales offices, and mail order plants in Chicago and Minneapolis.

Wheat Futures Score Gains

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grain futures continued their recovery on the Board of Trade today on buying influenced mostly by further indications of crop damage in the rain-battered Southwest.

Wheat scored gains except in the May delivery, in which trading will end Tuesday. This contract started higher and then slumped.

The May soybean contract also showed weakness. Traders said deliveries on the May contract are running somewhat higher than expected. Corn was firm early on buying influenced by lack of government sales.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ½ higher to ½ lower, May $2.18, new style wheat was ⅜ to ⅝ higher, July $2.10¼, corn was ⅛ higher, to ⅛ lower, May $1.30., oats were ⅜ higher to ½ lower, May 69¼, rye was ¼ higher to ¼ lower, May $1.19, soybeans were ⅝ higher to ¾ lower, May $2.37⅝, and lard was unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.75.

More Acres Burned

LANSING (AP)— Fires spreading through the state's forest and grasslands this spring have damaged more acres to date than the entire damage figure for the 1956 season. The State Conservation Department reported that 4,200 acres have been burned over so far this year compared to 3,420 acres for the entire season in 1956.

Selected Issues Pace Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and selected issues paced the stock market to further gains in heavy early trading today.

Key issues advanced from fractions to a point and specialties rose beyond that range.

The high-speed ticker tape fell behind for two minutes in reporting the rush of buying. Then trading slackened while prices held generally firm.

The market's rise yesterday to its fourth new 1957 high in a week has led to greater optimism among investors, Wall Street sources reported. To the generally bright assortment of news items were added today word of rising store sales and better prospects for the appliance industry.

Lukens Steel was up around 4 points in early dealings, then halved the gain. General Tire rose more than 2. Chrysler also was up about a point. All these issues were actively traded.

Dorothy Collins Wants to Create New TV Personality

Hopes to Tackle Drama, Comedy

Wouldn't Mind Being Next Television Wife of Sid Caesar

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS) — Relations have been strained recently between Marilyn Monroe and her business associate, Milton Green. But never fear, Milton is still much in demand. The lady who wants to hire him the most is Dorothy Collins.

★ ★ ★

Dorothy, who recently struck out of the "Hit Parade," has been having confabs with Greene concerning the possibility of developing a new personality—complete with glamor photos and the whole slinky-but-wholesome bit.

Miss Collins figures it's high time to burn those blouses with the noose-high necklines. She wants to take the plunge. She's also shopping for a number of summer-shots where she won't sing but will have a chance to do drama and comedy roles.

★ ★ ★

Why? Because Dorothy wouldn't mind being Sid Caesar's next "wife," that's why. And if Sid decides he's in the matrimonial market, Dorothy would be a logical — and highly talented — candidate.

Peggy McCay, formerly of the suds opera "Love of Life," will star as a nurse in a forthcoming series by playwright Sidney Kingsley titled "World in White" . . .

TV FOR LAUREN

Lauren Bacall, who hitherto has regarded television as just another piece of furniture, is softening. She tells friends she's interested in doing a spec . . .

Pat Boone and Shirley McClain guest on the June 2 Chevvy show. Shirley's an unpredictable girl with a mercurial sense of humor. The last time she was on, I hear that she ad-libbed in an effort to "break up" the teleprompter . . .

"Circus Time" starring Paul Winchell and Jerry Mahoney, will stay on through the summer on ABC (Thursdays) . . .

Walter Brennan will star in a situation comedy series "The Real McCoys" come October Series will be directed by Sheldon Leonard, producer-director of Danny Thomas' show.

Hal March will replace vacationing Garry Moore on "I've Got a Secret" starting Wednesday, providing that Hal can get time out from his movie chores . . .

SECOND BANANA

Arnold Stang and producer Parke Levy have a series in the works. Stang won't star, however. Levy feels he'll "show to better advantage" in a second-banana role . . .

Dorothy Dandridge, who has given a shapely cold shoulder to TV, will go to France this summer to do a teledrama written especially for her by Jean Cocteau.

★ ★ ★

Cocteau is the French Paddy Chayefsky except he writes about unreal people in unreal situations in unlikely places. And I think that's rather nice for a change . . . .

★ ★ ★

Comedian Jack Carter will also tackle TV in Paris come summer, anyhow that's what his press agent says. Jack plans to commute back-and-forth from New York . . .

Tommy Sands, at 19, Has World on a String

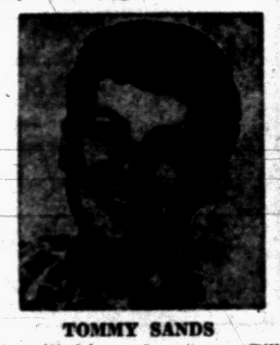

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I feel real ancient today after joining the teenage set and sitting around with Tommy the Tonsil Sands who at 19 has the world on a string.

Slugger'd ordered me to write up Tommy. Not that HE cares for him . . . "It's those crazy girls!"

★ ★ ★

"All rootie," I said in the Tommy Sands lingo.

TOMMY SANDS

Tommy, a Chicago-born, Louisiana and Texas-reared kid who's snatched crooning fame and wealth in three months, wants one more thing — a high school diploma — like Betty Hutton wanted one in Detroit when she was already a star and got it.

I saw "Hep Dee Hootie, Cutie Wootie, You're All Rootie With Me" Tommy dangling a shaving kit on a strap. He came in with his road manager, Bill Lee of Hollywood, who's all of 21.

He sure seemed happy to have a shave. "They say if you have a beard"—the electric razor was humming—"you're a man. I've sure got a beard!" He fingered it proudly.

★ ★ ★

"One editor wants you in a bathing suit," a photog said.

Tommy ran a hand through his fluffy hair. "I never take bathing suit nor guitar pictures. I've been advised by my agents not to." The photog made a call, then reported:

"The editor will be happy to have a light summery outfit." That's the way it's been with Tommy since "Teenage Crush" and "Hep Dee Hootie" were recorded. Whatever he says, goes.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Celeste Holm was tossed over a horse's head in Central Park and landed on her feet . . . Jerry Colonna's recovering from throat surgery . . . Liberace picked up everybody's check at a local restaurant one festive night recently — $1,200 worth . . . Bernard Baruch isn't interfering in the proposed abandonment of his old Public School 69. "Sentiment's wonderful," he says, "but sometimes it interferes with progress" . . . Rita Hayworth's willing to have daughter Yasmin visit the Aga after the school term ends.

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Middle age is when you're willing to get up and give your seat to a lady—and can't."

Caesar Quits TV Contract

NBC Can't Promise 20 Shows Next Year for Comedian

NEW YORK (AP)—Television comedian Sid Caesar and the National Broadcasting Co. announced jointly yesterday that Caesar had terminated his 10-year contract with the network. The agreement had seven years to run.

★ ★ ★

The contract was signed in 1954, with Caesar guaranteed an income of about $100,000 a year. The comedian will finish out the current season of Caesar's Hour which ends May 25.

★ ★ ★

Caesar, 34, said he requested a release from his contract after the network declined to assure him that he would star in 20 one-hour shows during the 1957-58 season.

★ ★ ★

NBC said it had not been able to obtain sponsors for the Caesar show next year and could not afford to sustain it. Production costs for Caesar's current shows were estimated at more than $110,000 each. The network said Caesar asked for no financial settlement.

NBC said Caesar had turned down a suggestion that he curtail his regular program series and star in a minimum and two and possibly four special shows next season.

★ ★ ★

Caesar was reported planning to join Sylvester J. Weaver, former chairman of NBC, in a producing venture involving motion pictures, night clubs, theaters and television.

Marie McDonald Displays Plenty in Night Club Act

RENO (AP)—Curvesome Marie McDonald headlined her first night club show last night with some pretty songs and a display of what she called "elegant sex."

The girl doesn't like to be called "The Body" showed much of it in a flowing, stocking-sheer gown which she described as "nude" in color.

★ ★ ★

It was difficult for the casual first-nighter to distinguish between the color of Marie and the gown.

There were spangles and beads in the appropriate places, however—just like a strip teaser.

"After all," said Marie beforehand, "one has to leave something to the imagination. You know, the full moon is always prettier when there's a wisp of cloud across it."

★ ★ ★

Marie brought a full hand from a Mapes Hotel Skyroom crowd and was called back after the final curtain.

★ ★ ★

Her repertoire of songs, arranged by Hal Borne, included one in five languages—Japanese, Italian, Yiddish, French and English.

Linda Christian, Tyrone Power to Meet Again?

MEXICO CITY, May 17 (AP) — Linda Christian's mother says the actress is coming home and may seek a reconciliation with Tyrone Power, her former husband.

Mrs. Alvarez Amezquita said her daughter had cabled that she would fly home after attending the Madrid services for the Marquis de Portago, who was killed in Italy's Mille Miglia auto race.

Miss Christian and the Spanish sportsman had been linked romantically recently. She flew from Madrid to Paris yesterday.

Mrs. Amezquita said her daughter and Power had remained close friends since their divorce and that the actor now is visiting at her home with his two children by Miss Christian.

2 Youth Groups Plan Car Wash Saturday

Two church youth organizations will be washing cars Saturday to boost the treasury funds.

The youth group of the Oakland Park Methodist Church will be washing cars from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday on the church grounds, 385 E. Montcalm St.

Pauline Herron will be in charge of the refreshment stand. Attending to other arrangements are Judy Thiese, David and Marty Everett.

The proceeds will be used for an outdoor illuminated bulletin board.

Another car wash is scheduled at 10 a.m. Saturday by the Builder Youth Group of Community United Presbyterian Church, on the parking lot at Sashabaw and Monroe Ave., Drayton Plains.

Proceeds will go into the group's Conference Fund.

Capt. Townsend in Hong Kong as Part of Tour

HONG KONG (INS) — Group Capt. Peter Townsend, the ex-RAF flier who loved and lost Princess Margaret, arrived in Hong Kong yesterday after a two-week visit to Red China.

★ ★ ★

The debonair Englishman, who is on a tour of the world, had little to say about his China visit, pointing out to newsmen that he is writing the story for a London newspaper.

★ ★ ★

Townsend answered only one question quickly. Asked if he would be returning to London, he replied:

★ ★ ★

"No. I shall be going back to Belgium in about a year."

He said he would go to Japan next week and two weeks later would leave for Canada.

Thief Gets Wrong Bag

WINTON, England (AP)—A purse-snatcher escaped with Mrs. M.J. Winton's handbag, containing 5 pounds ($14). A bag in her other hand, which the thief missed, held a 250-pound ($700) payroll for workers at her store.

Has Access to "Ten Thousand Bedrooms

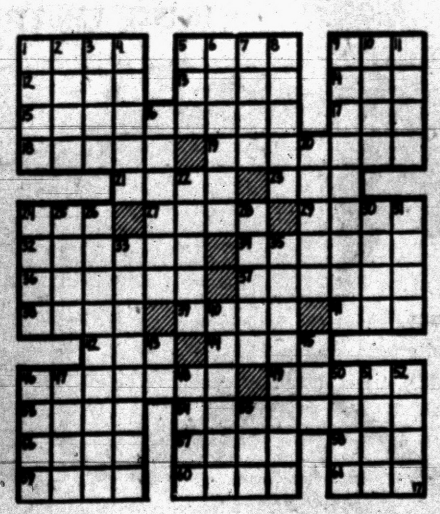

Dean Martin holds the keys to ten thousand bedrooms all over the world in his role as the hotel tycoon in M-G-M's rollicking romantic musical, "Ten Thousand Bedrooms." He also holds the keys to two hearts—those of Anna Maria Alberghetti (upper left) and European star, Eva Bartok, making her Hollywood debut in the new Joe Pasternak production. It was filmed in CinemaScope and color largely on location in Rome, with Dewey Martin, Walter Slezak and Paul Henreid in co-starring roles.

'Fiberscope' Developed by U. of M. Doctors

Device Takes Color Pictures of Stomach

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — University of Michigan doctors, using a newly developed diagnostic instrument called a "fiberscope" have taken the first color picture of the inside of a human stmach.

Technical information on the gastrointestinal instrument was presented yesterday at the annual meeting of the American Gastrointestinal Society.

The "fiberscope" was designed and built by two University of Michigan physicists, C. Wilbur Peters and L. E. Curtiss. The work which led to the successful use of the instrument on a patient was done under the supervision of Dr. Marvin Pollard, director of the University of Michigan Hospital's gastrointestinal research unit.

3-FOOT TUBE

The "fiberscope" is a three-foot long tube with a rib extending the length of the instrument. It houses 40,000 glass fibers. The rib contains a tiny electric wire carrying power to a small floodlight which lights up the area of the inner stomach being observed through the tube.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Pollard said the glass fibers have almost the flexibility of a rope, yet light and image are transferred from one end to the other with the same clarity regardless of the curving and twisting of the tube.

He said this permits the doctor to turn the instrument around in the stomach and the small intestine. Due to its flexibility without impairment of image, the tube can show a patient's stomach from any position.

Dr. Pollard said the "fiberscope" eventually will replace the currently used lucite gastroscope, inasmuch as the latter device does not have the flexibility of the new instrument.

Egypt's Victory on Suez Balances Jordan Defeat

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

In the Jordanian crisis which emerged so swiftly a month ago the Nationalists were trying to promote a firm union with Egypt and Syria. The Communists abetted this situation for their own ends.

Egypt has won a preliminary victory on the Suez Canal dispute —a welcome chapter to balance the fact that she suffered a defeat in Jordan.

★ ★ ★

Arabs favoring Egypt and Syria lost the struggle to overthrow young King Hussein in the desert nation on the eastern side of Israel.

Hussein, 21, confused his enemies and surprised his friends in winning the battle against leftists inside his nation.

The United States gave him an assist by sending the Sixth Fleet into the eastern Mediterranean in a "show the power" display.

★ ★ ★

This was a warning to Russia not to intervene. But it also was a most significant feature of Washington's direct commitment to heavy responsibility in the Middle Eastern cockpit.

FURTHER REBUFF

King Saud of Saudi Arabia gave a further rebuff to Egypt and Syria with his visit to Iraq, the only Arab nation which is a member of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact.

★ ★ ★

This visit is not at all to the liking of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser and his Syrian friends who have been getting arms from the Soviet bloc.

The diverse factions opposing the attempt to undermine the British-educated Hussein were Iraq, Saudi Arabia and Israel.

★ ★ ★

In the latter case, there always was the danger that if fighting began the Israelis would attack not only to protect their borders against a formidable alliance, but also to regain what was lost in the 1948-49 Palestine war.

FAR FROM OVER

The battle for Jordan is far from over, however. The stark fact is that Jordan never has made much economic or cultural sense, being an artificial state created by Britain.

★ ★ ★

Hussein's neighbors—and the distant Uncle Sam—must help Jordan in her existence on an international dole.

Also living on international charity inside Jordan are perhaps a half-million refugees from Palestine. These embittered Arabs always will be a mob threat to Hussein.

These enemies are not only a mob threat. It will be recalled that Hussein's grandfather, Abdullah, was assassinated six years ago while the present king was at his side.

★ ★ ★

If a few trouble-makers start shooting, there could be another dangerous shift in the history of the desert nation.

Plan Atomic Test Blast for Tomorrow

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—Prospects looked much better today for getting the atomic test blast off tomorrow morning after two 24-hour postponements.

★ ★ ★

The Nevada Test Organization said its calculations indicated that wind currents would change enough to make it safe to go ahead with the test of a small nuclear device at 5:05 a. m. Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The second postponement was announced last night when an evaluation of weather data indicated an atomic blast before dawn today would drop radioactive material on Las Vegas, Boulder City and Indian Springs Air Force Base south of the test site.

Gen. Trujillo Re-elected by Dominican Republic

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Gen. Hector B. Trujillo, brother of dictator Rafael Trujillo, has been re-elected president of the Dominican Republic without opposition.

This is Trujillo's second five-year term.

No incidents were reported during the balloting.
