JAZZ ORCHESTRA PREMIERE TONIGHT

The Oakland University Music Department will present the premier performance of Marv "Doc" Holladay's Jazz Orchestra in concert tonight, September 23 at 8pm in the Varner Recital Hall.

"Doc" Holladay, director of the Jazz Studies Program at Oakland University, has put together a big band consisting of the Detroit area's most notable jazz musicians. Included are the jazz program's instructors (Harold McKinney, Ed Pickens, James Allen, Herbie Williams, Ron English, and Sam Sanders,) local professionals, and some of the jazz program's best students.

This concert will kick-off the department's monthly concert series. Tickets are $3 to the public and $2 for students with an identification card. Tickets are available at the Campus Ticket Office in the Oakland Center and at the door prior to the performance.

For additional information call the Oakland University Music Department at 377-2030.

NEW SMALL BUS TRANSPORTATION SERVICE STARTS

What is a Neotrans? Neotrans is a public demand/responsive small bus transportation program servicing six townships in the northwest section of Oakland County. Hours of service are Monday through Friday 6:30am-6:30pm.

Neotrans will offer standing or subscription orders to guarantee a weekly or monthly ride. Call ahead three hours for a daily scheduled trip and a weekly pre-scheduled trip. Just pick up your phone and call 628-4838. Tell them where you are calling from, where you want to go, and when you want to be there.

Neotrans will provide service to those persons living within the six township areas of: Pontiac, Oakland, Avon, Lake Orion, Oxford, and Addison. For more information, come to Commuter Services, 118 OC or call 377-2020.

ORCHESTRA PLACES OPEN

The Oakland University community, its families, and friends are invited to audition for places in the Oakland University Orchestra for the year, conductor David Daniels said.

Vacancies still exist for string instruments, percussion, and some wind instruments. The orchestra rehearses Monday and Wednesday from 3 to 5pm in room 110 of Varner Hall.

Interested persons please call 377-2041 for additional information.

DEMONT'S PRESENT SEMINAR

Billie and Roger DeMont presented an invited seminar at the National Conference of Professors of Educational Administration which was held August 18-22 in Bozeman, Montana. The title of their presentation was "A Critical Analysis of Accountability and Professional Development." The DeMonts were elected to chair a national interest group on accountability for 1975-76.

GIBLIN AND HIGHTOWER WIN RESEARCH AWARDS

Two new members of Oakland University's Institute of Biological Sciences have each won National Research Awards of $10,000 a year for three years.

The award recipients are Frank J. Giblin, Rochester, and Kenneth R. Hightower, Pontiac. The grants were announced by Venkat N. Reddy, director of OU's Institute of Biological Sciences.

Reddy said the awards were made by the National Eye Institute of the National Institutes of Health following a competition for post doctorate research in health-related fields. The OU institute also receives $6,000 a year to support the research of Giblin and Hightower.

Dr. Giblin is a recent graduate of the State University of New York in Buffalo. He will work in cataract research. Dr. Hightower holds his doctorate from Southern Illinois University, and he will study the electrophysiology of the lens and retina.

OPEN BATCH COMPUTING AVAILABLE FOR STUDENTS

Students who wish to use the Burroughs B5500 computer for courses in which computer time has not been provided may obtain a user code and password from Mrs. Parrish in room 248 Dodge Hall. The student can obtain the computer time free of charge by simply signing his/her name and indicating the course or courses for which the computer will be used.

Only batch runs can be made with these computer funds and no terminal use will be allowed. This open batch computer time should not be used in CIS or other courses in which computer time is normally provided.

GYNECOLOGIST ADDED TO MEDICAL CENTER

The Graham Medical Center announces the addition of a gynecologist to their medical staff. Bernard H. Stern, M.D., an obstetrician-gynecologist, with additional training in fertility and infertility, will see patients on an appointment basis on Tuesday mornings beginning September 9 at the Health Center. Dr. Stern's private practice is located at 1701 Baldwin Road in Pontiac.

SPEAKS AT CONFERENCE

Audrey Marriner, director of specialized programs and of marketing and public relations for continuing education, was a consulting faculty member, and spoke on case studies in external marketing at the second national conference on "Marketing Continuing Higher Education" at Indiana University on August 26-28. She also attended a "Marketing Non-Credit Programs" conference held at the Center for Continuing Education at the University of Chicago in mid-August.

STERN PUBLISHES PAPER

Bob Stern, chemistry, and M. M. Bursey of the University of North Carolina, published a paper jointly in the July issue of Analytical Chemistry entitled "Stereo-specific Reactivity by Ion Cyclotron Resonance Spectrometry: Optimization of Reactivity Differences in Two Isometric Esters."

SYMPOSIUM PRESENTATION

Elinor Waters and Sylvia Fink, continuum center, presented a paper entitled, "Peer Counseling for Older People," Sept. 3 at the 83rd Annual Meeting of the American Psychological Association in Chicago. Their presentation was part of a symposium on group psychotherapeutic approaches which have been found useful in working with older people.

OU HOLDS FIRST FALL COMMENCEMENT

Some 795 students were awarded undergraduate and graduate degrees at Oakland University's fall commencement ceremony last Saturday, September 20.

Under a new program begun at OU this year, students who complete their studies during the fall or winter semesters receive their degrees at the traditional spring commencement. Students who complete their work during the spring or summer sessions are now honored separately in a fall ceremony.

OU President Donald D. O'Dowd and Frederick W. Obear, academic vice president and provost, addressed the graduates at Saturday's program.

SPECIAL HONORS SCHOLARSHIPS TO FRESHMEN

ART GALLERY AWARDED GRANT FOR BICENTENNIAL

The Meadow Brook Art Gallery at Oakland University has received a $17,500 grant from the National Endowment for the Arts to support a bicentennial exhibition.

The exhibit is entitled "Through the Eye of the East: Time of American Independence." It will be on display in November of 1976 as a bicentennial project.

The exhibition includes approximately 50 paintings and prints mainly from the Kobe City Museum of Nanban Art. The theme depicts the way Westerners, including Americans, appeared in the eye of 18th century Japanese artists.

RECEIVE $78,000 GRANT

Jacqueline Scherer and Edward Slawski, sociology, were awarded a National Institute of Education grant of $78,000 for a two and a half year ethnographic study of secondary school students. The grant will be administered through the Pontiac School District Department.

HEALTH STUDY AT HARVARD

Alexander Armbrister, a senior majoring in biology, spent the past summer at Harvard University in the Health Careers Summer Program and has been invited back again for the summer of 1976. The program is designed to encourage students to undertake graduate and professional training in health-related sciences. Armbrister was sponsored by Dr. Egbert W. Henry, biological sciences.

HENRY PRESENTS PAPER

Dr. Egbert W. Henry, biological sciences, presented a paper entitled "Ultrastructural Localization of Polyphenol Oxidase in Chloroplasts of Brassica Napus L. cv. September 18, 1975

Dear friend of Meadow Brook Hall:

The Bi-Centennial Year provides an ideal opportunity for Meadow Brook Hall to undertake a project that has often been requested--the publication of a very special cookbook. For this edition to be a product of Meadow Brook Hall in all senses, it should contain contributions from individuals associated with the Hall and the University--the many persons whose work, time and substance have insured the success of Meadow Brook Hall's programs and preservation.

We hope you will become part of this Bi-Centennial project so that it will be truly representative and perhaps at some time serve as an historical record of sorts.

To be illustrated with photographs of the Hall and its beautiful furnishings, the cook-books will contain a short history of Meadow Brook Hall and feature menus and recipes from Stately Dinners, afterglows and luncheons served in the Hall. In addition to standard recipes, we hope to include ethnic and foreign dishes, low-calorie and natural food recipes, as well as picnic-type foods which many of you have prepared for the Glyndebourne and Festival outings. We would also like to include suggestions you have for favorite wines to be served with recipes you submit.

Please send us one or more of your special recipes, with any comments you feel appropriate, such as special ways of serving it, background of old family recipes, etc. We may not be able to include a recipe from everyone who responds, but we will select as many recipes as possible to fit the scope of the book.

We cannot use recipes that have been published in any copyrighted material. We are including a special form to facilitate your contribution. Please be sure to sign it as you would like your name to appear in the book. So we can complete the Meadow Brook Hall Cookbook with due speed, please send your recipes to reach the Hall by October 31. All proceeds from sale of this book will be used for upkeep and preservation of the Hall.

We are happy to be able to ask you to help with this project. Every effort will be made to insure quality and integrity for the publication, in keeping with Meadow Brook Hall standards. We're sure the finished product will be one you can be proud of.

Sincerely,

Committee:

Jan O'Dowd
Nancy Dewar

Gina Dearth
Debbie McDowell

Margaret Twyman
Corenna Aldrich
