Crime Investigator Kefauver Is Dead at 60

Trial of White Is Recessed Until Tuesday

Jury to Consider 3 Verdicts in Pontiac Murder Case

Special to The Press

KALAMAZOO — The first-degree murder trial of Adoise White, 22, was recessed yesterday until 9 a.m. Tuesday when final arguments will be heard.

Guilty of first-degree murder, not guilty, or not guilty by reason of insanity, will be the three verdicts considered by the Kalamazoo jury.

White is on trial for the March 16 slaying of Robert A. Greene, comanager of a Kroger store at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer is hearing the case.

The trial started last Tuesday in Kalamazoo Circuit Court after being transferred on a change of venue order from the Oakland County judge.

SOUGHT CHANGE

Defense Attorney Milton R. Henry asked for the change of trial site because of the notoriety of the crime in Oakland County. He said early in the trial that he would seek White's acquittal on grounds of insanity.

★ ★ ★

Codefendant Charles Hodges also 22 and White's nephew, pleaded guilty to the murder charge and waived a jury trial. He testified Thursday and claimed his uncle did all the "cutting" of the victim.

Greene was stabbed 42 times and shot in the head once after he had been forced to open the safe in the supermarket.

Yesterday, two psychiatrists and a Pontiac police detective took the stand for the prosecution.

Both doctors disputed defense claims that White was an epileptic. They said he could be considered sane, competent, and not epileptic.

Defense witnesses had previously said White was an epileptic and suffered from "blackouts and fits."

Then police detective John Williams, who said he took part in the interrogation of White, testified he saw no police brutality. On Thursday, White said he was beaten by police and forced to confess to the crime.

"No one ever put a hand on him," Williams stated. "He was offered food and refused it."

Beer also ordered Hodges to appear Tuesday. However, the judge did not make it clear if he will sentence him before or after the jury is sent into deliberation.

Fourteen jurors have heard the murder trial, but Judge Beer will dismiss two before the jury begins deliberation.

Pontiac's Junior Miss, Susan Pill, has a new title today — Romeo Peach Queen of 1963.

★ ★ ★

The blue-eyed honey blonde won the coveted crown last night over 10 other area beauties in competition staged at the Romeo Youth Center.

Susan, who is 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pill, 2401 E. Hammond Lake, West Bloomfield Township.

As queen she will reign over Romeo's 31st annual Peach Festival Labor Day weekend.

PRESENT PEACHES

To publicize the three-day celebration, she will make numerous public appearances and present peaches to area, state and national dignitaries beginning Tuesday when she will meet Gov. George Romney in Lansing.

Joining Susan in making it a clean sweep for Oakland County in the contest were girls from two neighboring communities chosen as her honor attendants.

First maid of honor is Charlotte Braden, 21, Miss Waterford. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Braden Jr., 1048 Erskine.

★ ★ ★

Named second maid was Norma Geisler, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Geisler, 76 S. Washington, Oxford. She entered the competition as Miss Oxford.

All 11 contestants appeared on stage three times — first in street wear to give a short reading before the standing-room-only audience.

Each girl carried a card with the name of a peach, which was their sole identification during the judging.

FORMAL ATTIRE

They reappeared twice later in formal attire for interviews with master of ceremonies Richard McLean and to answer four questions prepared by the judges.

★ ★ ★

The judges were John Foster, head stylist, Ford and Thunderbird styling, Ford Motor Co.; Jo-Linda Pratt, director of John Robert Powers School, Detroit; Kelly P. Walquist, reporter for the Daily Monitor-Leader, Mount Clemens; and Howard Heldenbrand, Pontiac Press editorial staff writer.

★ ★ ★

The new queen, who plans to enter Michigan State University next month and major in medicine, is no stranger to beauty contests.

As Pontiac's Junior Miss she entered the Michigan Junior Miss contest and was named second runnerup. Later she was picked first runnerup in the State Cherry Queen competition in Traverse City.

★ ★ ★

Besides the busy schedule she faces in the weeks to come publicizing the Peach Festival, Susan also is awaiting word on the date of the Miss Teen Midwest Contest in which she is a semifinalist.

TRIP TO WASHINGTON

Climax of her prefestival activities will be a trip to Washington, D. C., to present peaches to state and national dignitaries there.

Plans are being made to have her present peaches to Vice President Lyndon M. Johnson if he is in town.

★ ★ ★

Other candidates for the crown were Nancy Jilicocur, Miss Algonac; Audene Clark, Miss Romeo; Dale Desy, Miss Utica; Jo Sutton, Miss Ortonville; and Barbara Sue Goodwin of Roseville, Miss Metropolitan Beach.

Also entered were Jacqueline Bondar, Miss Roseville; Beverly Lambert, Miss Armada; and Judy Whipple, Miss Fraser.

Pontiac Charter Lacks Clear Recall Section

City Commission action to suspend City Manager Robert A. Stierer has uncovered a major flaw in the document under which Pontiac is governed.

There is no clear, concise provision in the City Charter for recalling a city commissioner.

Residents opposing the Stierer suspension have been raising questions as to the proper procedure for recalling city commission members.

The answer is simple: File an affidavit demanding a recall and let the city interpret the charter.

Any registered voter in Pontiac may file a signed affidavit stating the name of the commissioner sought to be removed and the grounds for removal.

It's up to the city to determine how many signatures are needed and instruct the applicant.

City Attorney William A. Ewart bluntly admits the charter provision "is a mess."

"The charter was adopted in 1920," Ewart explained. "When the city amended it to establish seven political districts, the chapter on recall was not changed to conform in all respects."

Ewart's opinion is that while a petition recalling any commissioner would probably require signatures of qualified voters on a citywide basis, the actual recall election would take place only in the district from which the commissioner in question was elected.

After the person seeking the recall has filed his affidavit on whom he wants recalled, listing the reasons, the city clerk prepares the petitions and issues them to the applicant.

Petitions must be signed by registered voters equal in number to 25 per cent of the total vote cast in the last general election.

Depending on the city attorney's interpretation, this could range from several hundred to several thousand.

★ ★ ★

In any case, the maximum number of signatures needed would be around 6,200.

Water Change-Over Transpires Smoothly

By DICK SAUNDERS

"Ready, all stations," signaled Water Superintendent Herbert G. Parker into the intercom.

"Stand by," shouted consulting engineer Harold Kelly, "15 . . . 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, ZERO AND GO!"

Plant Supervisor Arthur Hathorn and City Commissioner Dick M. Kirby pushed a button and Detroit water was here.

It was too easy.

The big pump engine started whirring. Slowly it gained momentum and the pump valve indicator struck a steady arc from the "Closed" to the "Open" reading.

★ ★ ★

As predicted, it happened on the stroke of midnight.

At 1 minute and 20 seconds past the 12 o'clock hour, the pump valve hit full open. By this time, Hathorn, who's a 37-year-veteran of the city's water department, was handling the big pump like a mother soothes a baby.

Quickly, Parker began checking with men in the field. All high service wells were off. Then he signaled the Walnut Street Plant.

★ ★ ★

"Station two, do you read me?"

"Loud and clear," a voice answered.

"Did you experience any appreciable fluctuation in pressure?" Parker asked.

"It went down a little; then back up and holding steady," came the reply.

There was a smile on Parker's face as he turned to watch the roaring machine that was pumping 4,500 gallons of Detroit water per minute.

Paper cups were handed out and everyone had a shot of the clearest water you ever saw (if you've lived in Pontiac all your life).

Soon the crews began opening valves throughout the city. Everyone at the new plant on Opdyke relaxed a little.

Suddenly a trouble call came over the radio. Parker listened intently, fearing the worst.

Someone has lost his flashlight.

City Man Dies in Area Crash

Pontiac Woman Victim in Upstate Accident

A Pontiac man was killed in Bloomfield Township early this morning when his car slammed into a pole and tore apart.

Another accident in Cheboygan County yesterday took the life of a Pontiac woman.

The dead are Pedro S. Ortiz, about 36, of 282 Prospect; and Ruth Wheeler, 25, of 5480 Brunswick.

The body of Ortiz was found lying on the shoulder of Telegraph, just south of Quarton, 95 feet from the point of impact. There were no witnesses to the accident.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Township police said that Ortiz apparently was traveling south on Telegraph when his car went out of control and struck the steel sign on the center island.

Parts of the car were strewn nearly 50 feet from the sign. Ortiz had been thrown completely across the northbound lane of traffic. The accident was discovered at 3:28 a.m.

Mrs. Wheeler was killed when the pickup truck she was driving ran off Riggsville Road and struck a tree. She died of a skull fracture.

Her husband, Wallace F., and three children riding in the rear of the truck were injured.

Her body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Army Probing Viet Tot Killing

Child Shot by Misfire of U. S. Copter Gun

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) —The U.S. Army today investigated the killing of a Vietnamese child by an American helicopter gunner whose machine gun accidentally was triggered by an entangled communications cord.

A U.S. military spokesman said the offense could lead to a court martial, but he indicated this was not likely.

The gunner, whose identity was withheld, was hospitalized with shock, the spokesman said.

The accidental strafing in a strategic hamlet north of Saigon also wounded four other persons. None was in critical condition.

The strafing took place Thursday as the villagers were preparing for ceremonies yesterday in which the hamlet was named after outgoing U.S. Ambassador Frederick Nolting Jr. Nolting soon will be replaced by Henry Cabot Lodge.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT

Another unfortunate accident related to the ceremony happened yesterday morning when a Vietnamese girl was struck and injured by a jeep. U. S. military officials said the jeep belonged to the Vietnamese army.

The shooting incident occurred as the U.S. helicopter was bringing supplies into the village, one of many protected hamlets set up by the government as a form of safety against Communist guerrilla attacks.

Artery Rupture Fatal to Noted Dem Senator

Legislator Famed for Coonskin Cap; Sought Presidential Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., a tireless investigator of crime and monopolies and twice a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, died today of a ruptured main heart artery. He was 60.

A tall, soft-spoken, folksy man, he turned the coonskin cap into a personal campaign symbol recognized throughout the nation.

Death came in the predawn hours at Bethesda Naval Hospital while doctors were preparing to operate on an aneurysm, or ballooning, of the aorta, the main blood vessel through which the heart pumps blood into all parts of the body.

The artery ruptured before preparations for the operation could be completed.

Mrs. Kefauver and two of their three daughters, rushing back from a Colorado vacation, landed at Washington airport just about the time the senator died at 3:40 a. m., an aide said.

They had been staying with Tennessee friends at the Cherokee Ranch near Sedalia, Colo.

FOLLOWED SENATE FIGHT

A member of Congress since 1939, Kefauver served five terms in the House before moving to the Senate in 1949. He was re-elected in 1960 to his third Senate term, which would have expired Jan. 3, 1967.

Kefauver had entered the hospital Thursday evening after an active fight on the Senate floor to prevent what he called a giveaway of national resources to private interests.

He was one of a small group of senators who had opposed establishment of the Communications Satellite Corp. as a privately owned organization, and was trying to prevent it from getting free access to nationally financed satellite developments.

Kefauver thought he was suffering from indigestion, aides said, but the ailment later was announced as a mild heart attack.

Further symptoms Friday night led to a diagnosis of "dissecting aneurysm of the wall of the ascending aorta," a statement from his office said, and preparations were started for an operation.

★ ★ ★

Such an operation requires a standby mechanical heart and considerable technical arrangements, and these were being made for an operation about 10 a.m. today, the statement said, but the blood vessel broke and the senator died.

Kefauver had observed his 60th birthday on July 26. The death was announced by his administrative aide, Charles Caldwell.

Bereaved President Kennedy Bids Farewell to Infant Son

From Our News Wires

BOSTON — An anguished President Kennedy bade a touching farewell to his infant son today during a simple graveside service that followed a Mass of the Angels.

★ ★ ★

The Chief Executive remained behind for a moment at the graveside after the actual services were over.

The President walked to the side of the tiny white coffin and, with his head bowed, placed his hand on the top for a moment. After a few seconds, the President followed the other mourners to the waiting cars.

The graveside services took less than 10 minutes and the presidential party then returned to the nearby residence of Richard Cardinal Cushing who said the Mass in his private chapel.

CLOSE MEMBERS

Only close members of the Kennedy family were at the Mass and the graveside services. The burial was in the family plot in suburban Brookline, the town where the President was born.

After the services, the President and his party boarded their helicopter and returned to Cape Cod.

At Otis Air Force Base on Cape Cod, Mrs. Kennedy was reported resting quietly. She was taking the death of the child "very well" according to members of the family.

After reaching Otis, the President and several other members of the family, went immediately to Mrs. Kennedy's bedside.

Mrs. Kennedy's doctor, John W. Walsh, who delivered the premature infant Wednesday, remained with the First Lady at the Otis base hospital while the services were being held in Boston.

Escapes From Rail Car

Gas Hospitalizes 430

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dense clouds of chlorine gas escaping through a broken pipe from a railroad tank car billowed through a densely populated section of Northeast Philadelphia Friday, sending more than 430 persons to hospitals. There were no fatalities.

* * *

Many persons, some vomiting and screaming because of the searing fumes, tried to flee on foot and were overcome. Many of those stricken were unprotected firemen and policemen who went into the area on mercy missions.

* * *

Police said the chlorine, stored in liquid form in the tank car, started escaping when a pipe broke.

The car, a Pennsylvania Railroad tanker, apparently was rammed by another car, investigators said.

PUSHED BY WIND

The leaking chlorine turned to a thick, yellow gas. Heavier than air, it was nudged through the neighborhood by a 10-mile-an-hour wind.

It was the second chlorine gas leak in Eastern Pennsylvania in two weeks. A leaking chlorine valve in a Reading swimming pool sickened 59 bathers July 26.

When unmasked firemen and police rescuers tried to enter the stricken area in Philadelphia, many fell in their tracks. William J. Eckles, deputy fire commissioner, said the gas was very toxic.

The leak started about 1:35 p.m. at the Wonder Chemical Co. the owner, Arnold Lanza, 50, was in his office when he smelled what he immediately recognized as escaping chlorine gas.

"I grabbed a mask I keep just for such emergencies, called for my 15 men to leave the plant and ran outside," he recounted.

SPOTTED BROKEN PIPE

Lanza said after he detected the escaping gas he saw that a 1-inch copper pipe connecting the car and a vat had snapped at both ends. The chlorine was spilling onto the tank car, over the track and into the plant, which makes laundry bleach and detergents.

Shouting warnings as he ran around the plant, he scrambled up an embankment and turned off the valve.

Residents poured from buildings, including mothers carrying crying babies and searching for children at play.

The fumes grazed over a nearby swimming pool. "It burned us like fire," said one little girl, "When we jumped into the water, it hurt even worse."

* * *

Hospital emergency rooms soon were overflowing. About 70 persons were admitted.

A hospital spokesman said the gas victims suffered shortness of breath, chest pains and sore throats.

Six Survive as Plane Is Ditched

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Six U.S. Navy airmen ditched their crippled plane in the storm-tossed Bay of Salerno Friday night with only one engine working—and all came out alive.

* * *

They were not even injured when a U.S. Navy ship picked them up six hours later from a yellow, inflated rubber life raft in which they had battled battering waves for more than six hours.

It was a masterful landing of a crippled Dakota C117 with a flaming motor in seas so bad small rescue craft were driven back to the shelter of ports.

CREW CREDITED

But Lt. Cmdr. Harold Hamilton Kelly of Pensacola, Fla. gave the credit to discipline of his crew and to the USS Altair, Navy supply ship based at Naples.

"Not one of the crew had ever ditched a plane before," Kelly said afterward. "But the discipline could not have been better. There was absolutely no panic."

* * *

U.S. and Italian planes searched for the Dakota for six hours until flares from the bobbing life-raft were sighted. Then the Altair plowed in through the sea storm to pick up the survivors.

"It was a very fast recovery for a night recovery," Kelly told North Atlantic Treaty Organization officers afterward in his report on the rescue.

ROUTINE FLIGHT

A NATO spokesman said that 12 men, four crewmen and eight passengers, were aboard the C117 Dakota when it took off from Capodichino Airport outside Naples on a routine flight to Catania, Sicily. A later communique said eight were aboard the plane. Finally the figure was changed to six.

The Dakota radioed within a hour after takeoff that it was running into trouble. Thunderstorms were brewing in the area when radio contact was lost.

Italian military and commercial vessels, American ships and planes, and helicopters of both nations sought the plane.

Search planes spotted flares near Li Galli islet, about seven miles off the Salerno peninsula south of Naples. Vessels concentrated in that area until the men were picked up.

Mobs Erupt Into Warfare

NEW YORK (UPI) — The struggle between the Gallo and Profaci mobs for control of the Brooklyn rackets erupted into open warfare again yesterday. Two men were fatally shot and a third was wounded.

* * *

Joseph (Joe Bats) Cardiella, 56, who left the Profaci forces in 1961 to join the Gallo mob, was slain early yesterday as he drove his automobile through Brooklyn's Bay Ridge section.

A black car pulled up parallel to Cardiello's vehicle and a volley of shots cut him down.

Passers-by who heard the shots saw the victim slump over the wheel of his car. He had died by the time an ambulance delivered him to a nearby hospital.

* * *

About four hours later and about 50 miles away, near Port Jefferson, Long Island, a similar shooting brought death to Louis Mariani, 26, and serious wounds to Anthony Getch, who was riding in Mariani's car.

HIT BY TRAGEDY—Getting away from it all was the goal for Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Keith and children of Farmington. They planned to use a Chinese junk in a ferry business in the Virgin Islands. Mrs. Keith died before the venture got started.

Family's Dream of New Life Ends With Mother's Death

FARMINGTON — The Lowell Keiths and their two children were planning a new life in the Virgin Islands when they left here less than a month ago.

They were going to operate a ferrying service on a 38-foot Chinese junk. They were going to "get away from it all," they said.

But the unexpected death of Mrs. Keith, 30, Wednesday night brought an end to their plans. Keith, his son David, 8, and daughter Jo Ann, 1, were to fly back to Michigan last night.

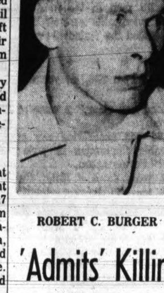
Mrs. Keith died in her sleep. Her husband's uncle, Dr. Kelly Keith of 721 Parkman Drive, Bloomfield Hills, said she had a heart condition which may have been caused by diptheria when she was a child.

The Keiths had planned to travel to St. Croix, southernmost of the Virgin Islands, on their boat. However, a Lake Michigan storm battered the craft and they decided to ship it.

They had flown to the island and were waiting for the boat when Mrs. Keith died.

Dr. Keith said Keith and his children will stay at his home. He did not know whether they would return to their dream in the Virgin Islands.

"'It's a real tragedy," he said.



ROBERT C. BURGER

'Admits' Killing Priest in NY

Youth 'Didn't Know' Victim Was Cleric

NEW YORK (AP)—Police said today a youth with a mental illness record has confessed stabbing to death a priest who befriended him—not knowing that he was a clergyman.

* * *

The youth, Robert Charles Burger, 18, was arrested in neighboring Yonkers, N.Y., his home city, and brought here on charges of homicide and grand larceny. He was accused of taking the priest's automobile and wallet, containing about $100.

The priest, the Rev. Francis J. McShane, 42, of suburban Elmsford, N.Y., was slain Thursday in the upper Manhattan apartment of his sister, who is traveling overseas.

'NO CLERICAL GARB'

Police quoted Burger as saying the priest was wearing slacks and a sports shirt, with no clerical garb, when they met in the Riverdale pizzeria in Yonkers a short time before the slaying.

* * *

They quoted him as saying the priest, learning he was a foster child, invited him to the sister's apartment. They drove there in separate automobiles.

Burger reportedly said an argument developed and that he "blacked out."

Yonkers police termed the slaying senseless.

Yonkers detective Anthony Tocco, who has known Burger for two years and aided in the arrest, said, "He wasn't a bad kid but he had a terrible temper, a very violent nature."

Burger's mother is dead. Although his father is alive, he has been living in a foster home in Yonkers as a ward of the state.

Father McShane, police said, befriended in the youth when they met early Thursday at the Riverdale Pizzeria in Yonkers. They drove in separate cars to the apartment of the priest's sister, who was away on a cruise, and the slaying followed.

New York Chief of Detectives Lawrence J. McKearney quoted Burger as saying he "went berserk and blacked out."

Unworried Over Woes of Seaway

MASSENA, N.Y. (UPI) — The congressional sponsor of the St. Lawrence Seaway Bill said yesterday he was unconcerned by the waterway's financial difficulties because original estimates did not have the operation in the black before 1966.

Former Michigan Rep. George Dondero, who served as Oakland County's congressman from 1933 to 1956, visited the seaway yesterday for the first time since 1958 when the Wiley-Dondero Ship Channel was dedicated to him and former Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., as sponsors of the St. Lawrence Seaway Bill.

Dondero, now 80, said critics of the seaway's financial position failed to consider that the federal government has spent "hundreds of millions of dollars" on the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers without expecting to regain a cent.

As for hopes of someday providing ice-free winter navigation on the seaway, Dondero said that would be a matter of scientific progress, but at present Great Lakes industries "managed very well" with stockpiling during the nonnavigable months.

Dondero conferred with seaway administrator Joseph H. McCann and toured the waterway by tug. He left today for Quebec and to visit villages that were resettled after being inundated in the building of the seaway. He then was scheduled to drive home to Oak Ridge, Mich.

Bullet Hits Window of Billy Sol's House

PECOS, Tex. (UPI)—A 22-calibre rifle bullet struck a window at the home of convicted farm promoter Billie Sol Estes late last night while his brother Billy Frank was visiting him. Neither was injured, police reported today.

* * *

The incident occurred several hours after the federal government had filed a $10.5-million tax claim against the official bankrupt financier who faces a total of 23 years imprisonment on federal and state convictions on fraud and conspiracy charges.

The bullet struck a double-pane window, peneterated the outer pane and fell between the outer and inner pane.

Senate OKs $5.5 Billion for Bigger Space Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has approved spending more than $5.5 billion on the expanding space program.

But some of the earlier allure and excitement of trying to beat Russia to the moon appear to be fading.

By a narrow 37 to 32, Senate leaders beat down a bipartisan effort Friday to slash $307 million from the huge authorization for the current fiscal year. At $5,511,520,400, the authorization is about $200 million below President Kennedy's request, but more than $300 million above the House's figure.

* * *

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, who led the move to cut the authorization back to the $5.2 billion voted by the House, said he had not heard a good reason for rushing a man to the moon by 1970.

EXPRESSES DEBT FEAR

And Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., expressed fear that the national debt may reach the moon before American astronauts do.

But Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., floor manager for the bill and chairman of the Senate Space Committee, and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., insisted the lunar projects would help the United States overtake Russia's superiority in thrust power.

* * *

Their argument carried. On the showdown, 18 Republicans and 14 Democrats voted for the slash. They were beaten by 28 Democrats and 9 Republicans.

In other actions:

—The Senate voted 45 to 21 to retain in the bill $5 million to start building a new National Aeronautics and Space Administration research center.

The President and NASA officials have said the center — expected to cost $35-50 million—would be located in the Boston area.

Plan Big Step for Boys' Club

A proposed Boys' Club for Waterford Township will move a big step forward with the filing of incorporation papers Monday.

Aim of its backers, which have been planning the club for six months is to acquire property and other facilities to set up a recreation program for boys of all ages.

"But it's more than that. It will be a place where boys can go to meet others, learn crafts and hobbies and talk about their problems," said Charles Sitton, 3505 Richmond, one of the club's directors.

* * *

Sitton said formal action on setting up a nine-man board of directors, and establishing the club's policies will be done Aug. 28.

Pointing out Waterford has 7,000 boys which the club could serve, Sitton added "There is no really adequate place in the township for our youth."

Other directors include Richard Goldsworthy, Rudolph Lisac, Arthur Harrison, John Stefanski and Arthur Holmes.

* * *

The club started unofficially this summer by sponsoring a baseball program which enrolled some 200 boys.

'I'm No Chattel'

Bride Wears Black

HARROGATE, England (UPI)—The bride wore black at her wedding to show, she said, that "I'm no chattel."

Schoolteacher Helen Barclay, 22, also broke a string of other conventions yesterday when she married Stephen Fitzpatrick, 24, an engineer, in St. Robert's Roman Catholic Church.

There was no best man; no one gave away the bride. There was no reception and no guest were invited outside their two families.

* * *

And when the new Mrs. Fitzpatrick left after the wedding for France and Italy—"not for a honeymoon, but for a holiday," she insisted—she wore slacks.

Bride and groom both said they were aiming at "a marriage of equals."

"I feel that weddings have become a mixture of superstition, pagan fertility rites and commercialism," said the bride.

Find Thin Clue in Train Holdup

Unusual Handcuffs First Break for Police

LONDON (AP)—A thin clue turned up today in the great train robbery—an unusual pair of handcuffs.

Detectives disclosed that the handcuffs used on the engineer and fireman in the $7-million Glasgow-London mail train holdup Thursday were of a type made by only one firm in Britain.

The company keeps records of all sales, a police spokesman said, "and in a few days we shall be able to track down where and when these handcuffs were sold."

"It could be a very important clue," he added. "Perhaps the biggest break we've had since the robbery."

* * *

A stolen truck discovered in Ranby, about 150 miles north of the robbery, caused a flurry of excitement. At first it was reported that the truck contained empty mailbags. Later a detective said there were no bags aboard and "There's nothing in it for us."

"However, a police officer in Nottinghamshire — the county where the truck was found — insisted there was "some evidence" to connect the truck with the robbery. This apparently consisted of some maps found in the cab.

London police made raids before dawn on homes of known criminals. A massive hunt was also organized in a 30-mile radius of Cheddington, where the train was raided.

The robbery carried out with the boldness and precision of a commando raid, resulted in the posting of a record $728,000 in reward money.

It was hoped the reward, about 10 per cent of the loot, would tempt an informer to come forward with information to put the holdup gang behind bars.

Rusk: U.S. Will Protect Bonn Interests

BONN (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk assured West German leaders today that the United States will protect their interests in any negotiations with Russia.

* * *

Rusk flew to Bonn from Moscow after signing the partial nuclear test-ban treaty and conferring with Soviet Premiere Nikita Khrushchev. He was spending the day in meetings with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other Bonn officials.

Informed sources said Rusk assured the Germans they have no cause to worry about the nuclear test-ban treaty being used to enhance the stature of the East German regime.

Rusk told Adenauer that his visit to Russia included no change by either the United States or the Kremlin on the Berlin dispute.

* * *

He also reported he had insisted to Khrushchev that any further step toward an arrangement for Central Europe must include fresh guarantees for West Berlin, which is encircled by Communist territory.

The secretary of state will leave Bonn for Washington tomorrow.

Senator Kefauver Succumbs at 60

senator serving his third straight six-year term, was as well known for his senate investigations of crime, the drug industry and boxing as he was for his two unsuccessful campaigns for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952 and 1956.

A big, friendly man, he had a wide campaign grin and reached out to shake any hand in sight. His soft voice seemed surprising, coming from his 6-foot-3, 200-pound frame.

"My names is Estes Kefauver," he would say. "I'm running for president of the United States. I hope you'll help me."

Kennedy Praises Energy, Integrity of Dead Solon

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—President Kennedy said today the death of Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., has deprived the nation of "a public servant of energy, integrity and talent."

The Chief Executive, who served beside Kefauver in the Senate before 1961, was notified when he awoke this morning of the Tennesseean's death.

Kennedy issued this statement: "The death of Sen. Estes Kefauver has deprived this nation of one of its most distinguished leaders. Sen. Kefauver was a public servant of energy, integrity and talent.

"His devotion to the public interest and to the welfare of the people of his state and country made him a powerful influence for good in our nation's affairs.

"As a friend and former Senate colleague, I will miss him. Mrs Kennedy joins in sending our condolences to Mrs. Kefauver and his family."

Ferris Bans Freshmen From Using Cars

BIG RAPIDS (UPI)—The Ferris State College Board of Control decided yesterday to ban freshmen from operating cars.

In making the announcement of the first such restriction in the school history, President Victor F. Spathelf said, "Too many students were in the driver's seat who could have been more profitably seated behind study desks in the past."

At EMU Seminar

Teachers Catch Up on Science

YPSILANTI (AP) — Today's elementary school children live in a science-fiction sort of a world in which machines do everything from cooking their meals to molding the earth they live on.

"And yet," says one concerned teacher, "our elementary school science education may be as much as 50 years behind in teaching children about the wonders they already take for granted."

In an effort to upgrade science education, 35 elementary teachers from 13 states recently attended an intensive six-week training program at Eastern Michigan University here.

★ ★ ★

The program was sponsored by the National Science Foundation and took teachers through a wide range of science areas from plant identification to new ore mining techniques.

"Teachers are getting a feel of what they study and are learning how they can inspire their own pupils," said Albert Brown, director of the program.

Brown, dean of EMU's College of Arts and Sciences, said the school became involved in the program as a result of a project operated there in 1959. It expanded in 1961, with foundation backing, and now draws teachers selected from many states.

12-HOUR LECTURES

Participants spent up to 12 hours a day in lectures, and took part in field trips. They studied conservation techniques on farm or went to the Upper Peninsula to view mining techniques.

The 35 were chosen from among nearly 1,000 applicants, Brown said.

★ ★ ★

"It was a tough job to select them. We based final selection on what seemed to be the most potential for leadership in elementary science teaching.

"We're learning as much in a week as we would in a whole semester of usual study," said Mrs. Helen Moore, a Greenville, Miss., teacher.

"When I return home, I'll be working with other teachers to help develop science teaching. And among pupils, I'll be organizing a science club and other activities."

The program-planners and participants hope education eventually will come from programs which will give youngsters a chance to learn about things before they become obsolete or are taken for granted.

Beginning June 17, the teachers spent two weeks on the EMU campus or on area field trips, studying water and land forms, weather, plants and rocks and minerals.

★ ★ ★

Another three weeks, were spent on a series of field trips ranging throughout Michigan and covering the state's geography and land uses.

Then the teachers returned to EMU for more lectures on the impact of urban development, recreation and resource uses.

Shifting Gears a Real Pain in the Neck

KAPUSKASING, Ont. (AP) — The man who walked through the doors of Sensenbrenner Hospital looked like any other — except for the gear shift protruding from both sides of his neck.

★ ★ ★

Half an hour later an emergency operation had removed the nine-inch shaft from the neck of Ronald Bisson, 29, of Kapuskasing. He was off the critical list and resting comfortably Friday. Doctors said the steel shaft just missed the neck arteries.

Bisson was in a car accident Tuesday night. He said everything happened so fast he didn't know how the gear shift pierced his neck or how it snapped off the car.

★ ★ ★

Bisson's wife, a nurse, was on duty at the hospital when he arrived. Of his condition, she says now: "His voice is a little hoarse."

Asks Cigarette Tax Linked to Nicotine

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An American Cancer Society official has proposed a sliding cigarette tax with those containing the most nicotine having the highest levy.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Cuyler Hammond, calling cigarette smoking the main cause of lung cancer in the United States, has said that tobacco manufacturers should be required to list on each pack the amount of nicotine it contains, and the most harmful should be taxed most.

Hammond, the society's statistical research director, spoke at a news conference here.

There is a series of U.S. paper money called "National Bank Notes" which were issued from 1863 to 1935 by thousands of banks throughout the country.

The hearts of the Nation and the world go out to President and Mrs. KENNEDY over the death of their newborn son.

Americans everywhere were kin with the anxious parents during the agonizing hours preceding the end.

★ ★ ★

Needless to say, the medical resoures of the Country were mobilized in the fight to save the baby's life, but fate decreed otherwise.

★ ★ ★

Yet, since sorrow is inexorably a part of life, the pain felt by the couple in the White House will assuredly be borne with the humility and submission worthy of their faith in an omniscient Divinity whose ways must remain unknown to mortal man.

We express our deep condolences to our Chief Executive and First Lady during this time of heartbreak.

Area Welcomes News of Hospital's Expansion

The long-overdue expansion and renovation program for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is welcome news to all area citizens.

Recent word from Washington indicating the approval of a $1.5-million grant prompted Sister Mary Xavier, St. Joe administrator, to publicly reveal the expansion program.

For many years, St. Joseph Hospital has been one of the area's outstanding public institutions. It has contributed immeasurably to the well-being and care of thousands of local citizens.

★ ★ ★

With the steady growth in population, overcrowding has long been a problem, according to the hospital administrator. Also, some of the hospital facilities have become antiquated, and it has been hard to keep pace with the ever-increasing number of patients.

Under the first phase of the expansion program outlined by Sister Xavier, a great deal of the overcrowding will be eliminated along with the complete renovation of the existing hospital.

★ ★ ★

Since all growth indicators point toward continued expansion, this new construction program at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is something for which all citizens should be thankful.

Inadequate Schooling Shows in Mental Exam

Nearly a fourth of all selective service registrants in this country fail their mental examinations.

★ ★ ★

The percentage of failures actually exceeds 30 per cent in 11 states, and bests 50 per cent in two—South Carolina and Mississippi.

The National Committee for Support of the Public Schools reports that in these 11 states, among people 25 years or older, 16.1 per cent had less than five years total schooling.

★ ★ ★

This compares with 8.3 per cent in the entire Nation. The inadequately schooled, in other words, bulk twice as large in percentage terms in the states with the weakest performance in draft mental tests.

The best showing in these tests and the best record in the matter of minimum adequate schooling is found in some of the mountain and Pacific coast states.

Curiously, Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire look good in amount of schooling, but their records in the selective service mental tests are not comparably good.

★ ★ ★

Can we really live comfortably with the knowledge that a quarter of our young men are mentally unqualified to serve in the Country's armed forces?

The National Committee for Support of the Public Schools is dedicated to the proposition that one big remedy for this sad condition is to put more of the citizens' money into the schools to improve their quality.

★ ★ ★

Not to provide a good school system is to save money, but waste tragically our human capital—the resource on which we must depend for our future safety and well-being as a nation and a people.

Countries Refuse to Trust Others

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

MARLOW

WASHINGTON — In this quiet summer more than half way through the 20th Century, nations have so much confidence in one another they act like bank guards waiting for a stick-up.

Skepticism has become an instict for survival, uneasiness a necessity, and suspicion as natural as breathing.

They operate on the theory that what looks good may be bad, what's quiet may be ominous, talk of peace could be a trick, what's true today may be wrong tomorrow.

With some pride President Kennedy Thursday sent the Senate—which is sure to approve—the limited nuclear test-ban treaty signed this week with Russia.

He said:

"This is the first concrete result of 18 years of effort by the United States to impose limits on the nuclear arms race." He hoped, he said, it may lead to even better things.

But there was no wild rejoicing. There was gladness. At least this much progress between the two countries had been made. Yet, even as the two sides talk of other possible agreements, there is constant looking under the bed.

★ ★ ★

Even the most optimistic could not help wondering: Why at this time, but never in the past, was Soviet Premier Khrushchev willing to take this first step which could, but may never at all (and may have the opposite intention) lead to peace?

Khrushchev, with no more illusions about the West than the West has about him, is probably more tormented by concern about his huge Communist neighbor, Red China, than about American missiles.

The Chinese—increasingly dubious about the more affluent Russians, even about the dedication to communism—have been deriding and abusing them for months.

DESCENT FROM LENIN

Both claim direct descent from Lenin but for opposite reasons: The Russians because they say peaceful coexistence is possible and the Chinese because they say it isn't.

This has its own historic hilarity, since Lenin was a man who wore two hats, being different things at different times and never always the same.

Before his Bolsheviks took over Russia, with him in charge, he was a hard-nosed, relentless unyielding, uncompromising revolutionary extremist.

He switched and accommodated himself to necessities once he took charge and was responsible for making communism work. He became a compromiser. But this did not mean he ever lost his dedication to Communist conquest of the world.

He didn't. With him the end was never in question. It was just the means he changed to reach the end. In this sense no one outside Russia and China has any doubts both are Leninists.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

Air Force Maj. Ward Millar found the cross of Christ to be not only his spiritual salvation, but his physical salvation as well.

Forced to bail out of his jet aircraft behind enemy lines during the Korean War, Major Millar was captured. Both ankles were broken and he was placed in a Chinese Communist hospital. His ankles were badly set and when they had healed he was able only to hobble on his toes with the help of sticks.

During the days of convalescence he said that for the first time in his life he learned to pray, adding, ". . . feeling the lack of an air of formality in my relations with God, I decided to make a cross."

With his cross and other meager possessions, he escaped — only to be captured again by a North Korean Army sergeant, a Christian whose family had been tortured by the Chinese Communists.

Upon seeing Millar's cross, he determined that together they would get to South Korea. Ward Millar and Chai-Pill Kim made their way to freedom through faith in the sign of the cross.

Days of All Faiths:

Saint Clare—Patron of Television

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

On Christmas Eve, 1252, Saint Clare lay on her deathbed in San Daminao, two miles from the nearest church, which is in Assisi. Fully conscious, but too weak to travel, Clare miraculously was able to see and hear the Midnight Mass even though it was going on two miles away.

★ ★ ★

Because of this miracle Saint Clare was declared by Pope Pius XII, in 1957, to be the patron saint of television, the benefactress of both TV performers and TV stations.

Certainly TV needs all the help it can get of the kind Saint Clare would be interested in giving, and it is to be hoped that she will be able to bring about some improvements. Her chief fame, however, has nothing to do with any modern electronic gadget.

She is, and forever will be, known as the co-worker of the great Saint Francis, and, with him, the founder of the Order of Poor Ladies, more popularly called the "Poor Clares."

★ ★ ★

Eldest daughter of a Count, Clare was inspired and charmed, as everyone else was, by the happy Francis, and being a girl with a mind of her own, she left her wealth and position and joined the penniless little group that followed him about the countryside.

On Palm Sunday, 1212, Saint Francis received her vows. She must have been about 19 at the time. In another two years she was head of the Convent at San Daminao, and there, 40 years later she attended the Christmas Eve Mass by watching a "telecast" provided especially for her by the Greatest of all Sponsors.

REPOSE OF MARY

Although Aug. 15 is the Feast of the Assumption in the Western church, in the East it is "The Repose of the Blessed Virgin Mary." The two are not the same. "Repose" here means "death." To the Orthodox Christians this is the day Mary died, not the day she went bodily to heaven.

★ ★ ★

The Orthodox believe in the Assumption, but they believe it happened three days later than the Repose. It was, they say, on the third day after her death that the Apostles gathered at Mary's tomb and found her body gone, with only her veil lying where the body had been.

★ ★ ★

Although the Orthodox accept the Assumption of Mary as a fact, they do not hold, as the Roman Catholics do, that one must believe in it in order to be saved. It has, they say, "no redemptive value," that is, it is not an essential Christian dogma. It is simply what one would expect to happen to the body that bore the Lord.

WHY THE SKULL CAP?

The wearing of the skull cap by Orthodox Jews is apparently a very ancient custom. We who come from the various European backgrounds that together make up what is called Western culture, are accustomed to removing our hats as a sign of respect — in church, in homes, to women, to persons of rank, to the flag, and so on. With the Orientals of the Near East, it has always been exactly the opposite. They cover their heads to show respect or subordination, and to pray.

★ ★ ★

Although he originally covered his head probably only during prayers, the pious Jew now wears the skull cap, or a hat, at all times—for are we not always in the presence of God?

Another aspect of this difference between Jewish and Christian custom quite possibly comes from I Corinthians xi:6, where Saint Paul says that a man should uncover his head before God, "for he is the image and glory of God." Paul seems here to be giving an order that the Jewish tradition is to be abandoned by Christians and that the reverse is to become the Christian norm.

Bob Considine Says:

President Only a Father as Baby Battled for Life

CONSIDINE

BOSTON—John Fitzgerald Kennedy, deeply concerned with affairs of state clamoring for attention from all points of the earth, listened Wednesday night for the sound of a baby's tiny wail.

Nothing mattered except that. The message to the Senate, eloquently urging it to ratify the controversial nuclear test ban, could wait. So could enormous fiscal problems, the burden of undeclared war in Viet Nam, the rise of Red China's truculence, the bruising fraction in Korea, the lethargic pace of his legislative program.

★ ★ ★

Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, 4 pounds 10½ ounces, 17 inches long and lying in a plastic incubator designed to simulate his mother's womb, was the most important human being on earth to the most powerful man on earth.

The President must have been comforted by the sight of his child as he stood over him immersed in the anonymity of a doctor's white robe and mask.

When he left the hospital 15 minutes later, lithe and bronzed, this reporter happened to be standing at the entrance, traditional pad and pencil in hand.

The President was nice enough to cut out from his Secret Service guard, put out his hand and say "Hi, Bob. What are you doing up here? Are you on vacation?"

A reporter sometimes has dreams like this. He dreams that he alone has access to a great world figure of the President's stature while envious associates gaze on from behind police lines.

In one's dream there is usually not only exchange of pleasantries but astonishing revelations. Then one rushes to the telephone, calls his paper and says "Stop the presses! I've got a sensational scoop!"

But it doesn't turn out like that. It was just "Hi, Bob. What are you doing up here?" I couldn't answer the question.

I was there because Patrick Bouvier Kennedy was battling a premature birth disease that claims as many as half of its victims in the early hours after they entered this vale of tears.

Voice of the People

'Government Overburdens U.S. Family Incomes'

The number of U.S. families is 46.3 million and every billion the government spends costs $21.66 per family. The House of Representatives appropriates such an amount with only a few minutes or a few hours of consideration. But if each representative had to collect $21.66 from the head of each family in his district for each billion we spend, he would have to do a lot of explaining.

★ ★ ★

The federal budget of $98.8 billion averages $2,133.90 per family, or $177.82 a month. The breadwinner and the housewife, who has to stretch her husband's pay check, should understand the burden the government is putting on the family income.

★ ★ ★

The Senate added a $450-million increase to the House-passed supplemental appropriation for the accelerated public works program, bringing the total to $1.4 billion. But this $1.4 billion averaged $31.07 for each family in America. Three pending New Frontier programs — the omnibus education, urban mass transit, and the youth employment and training program would cost each family $30.54.

Pontiac Press Is Favorite of Subscriber

I have been a Press subscriber for many years and read it from front to back each day.

★ ★ ★

One series I enjoy most is "Background for Living." On Saturday I cast aside the rest of the paper until I have read that section. It is well written, and I love the pictures of the lovely homes.

★ ★ ★

We receive other papers but we enjoy The Pontiac Press most as it is "our paper." News of local interest, fashions, and recipes are interesting to every member of the family.

'Foreign Aid Has Prevented a World War'

Writers who oppose foreign aid make me sick. If we hadn't taken these humanitarian steps, we would have had a world war for those nations would be on Russia's side.

★ ★ ★

Talk against foreign aid comes mainly from die-hard Republicans, who don't know there's a new order of things and a new world. The glories of the past have faded right along with the stand-pat GOP.

'Parents Shouldn't Allow Stone Throwing'

Why do parents allow their children to keep throwing stones? Don't they realize an eye can be lost, let alone other damage that can be done? Maybe they figure Blue Cross can take care of everything — but can it bring back eyesight or take away the hurt? They all need a good "lickin'."

More Criticize City Commission Action

Mayor Landry said in his statement of Aug. 6 that the City Commission would stand on its record at the next general election. Fair enough.

I hereby invite the voters of the City of Pontiac to join me at that election — to turn all of them out of office, except the one who supported Manager Stierer and Chief Koren in this latest hassle.

Admits Rape; Exam Slated

DETROIT (UPI) — An Aug. 16 examination has been set for Norton Silvers, 38, on a charge of kidnaping and rape involving a 6-year-old girl.

★ ★ ★

Silvers, a bachelor, made a formal statement yesterday confessing the attack Wednesday on the little girl who identified him as the man who drove her to a weed-covered lot on the city's Northwest Side and raped her.

Recorder's Court Judge Gerald W. Groat ordered Silvers held on $50,000 bond pending the examination.

Silvers, a World War II veteran who previously served a prison sentence for a sex crime, was picked up yesterday at the home of relatives and was arrested on a tip supplied by a gas station attendant.

★ ★ ★

The attendant, Douglas Brooks, 19, had just finished reading a description of the man police were looking for when Silvers pulled up in his car.

Brooks took down the license number of the car Silvers was driving and notified police.

Baby Boy's Birth Shows Skeptics of Young Couple

OJAI, Calif. (UPI)—The marriage that skeptics predicted would never last was cemented even firmer today with the addition of a baby son to the Ojai home of Bobby and Clara Mims.

★ ★ ★

Back in February of 1956, the skeptics scoffed when Bobby, then 16, and Clara, then 14, were married after Ventura County Superior Court Judge E. Perry Churchill and their parents gave their consent.

★ ★ ★

Earlier this week, Bobby and Clara became parents of a son, Michael Gene.

"The two are still lovebirds," said Clara's mother, Mrs. H. E. Hartwell.

Drop 2 in Peru to Lead Exploration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Americans have been dropped by parachute onto Peru's wild Vilcambamba plateau to spearhead exploration of the uncharted region 10,300 feet high in the Andes mountains.

★ ★ ★

The National Geographic Society, which has joined with the New York Zoological Society to sponsor the expedition, said it received a brief message Friday from the two chutists—G. Brooks Baekeland, 42, and Peter R. Gimbel, 35, both New Yorkers.

★ ★ ★

Baekeland and Gimble hope to find a place that can be used as a landing strip so other members of the party can fly in to the plateau, about 250 miles east of Lima.

Hunter Sits Down, Ruins Safety Mark

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California bow and arrow hunters have lost their spotless safety record. One sat on an arrow.

The department of fish and game reported today that John Curotto, a 20-year-old archer from El Verano had placed some arrows with points up in a socket in the bed of his pickup truck.

★ ★ ★

On the opening day of the coastal archery deer season, he sat on the edge of the pickup and landed on an arrow.

The injury was painful but not serious.

Claim Thais Mass Troops

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Cambodia charged today that neighboring Thailand is massing troops along its frontier in "an open threat of aggression" against the neutralist monarchy.

An Ordinance to Amend Ordinance No. 979 Entitled Licensing and Regulating Open Parking Stations by Adding to Said Ordinance Section 14a.

Adopted August 6, 1963
Effective August 16, 1963

The City of Pontiac Ordains:

Section 1: That Section 14a be added to Ordinance No. 979 Said Section 14a to read as follows:

Section 14a: The licensee shall have an option to install either the barriers in Section 14 or 14a as alternate barriers to those specified in subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of Section 14 and in place thereof each licensee shall cause to be installed on each licensed open parking station as hereinafter provided, the following barriers:

Work With Deaf

Roundings Teach Silent Class

"Our working with the deaf came into reality through God's answer to prayers of our pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Al Kasten," said Mrs. Kenneth Rounding of Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

With her husband she teaches the Silent Sunday School Class for the deaf with sign language at the Faith Baptist Church, Waterford Township.

When Pastor Kasten saw what could be done for the deaf while visiting Calvary Baptist Church in Grand Prairie, Tex., he said he believed God wanted him to start a similar work for the deaf in his own church.

During the Sunday School hour at the Texas church, he found Walter Pittman teaching a Bible class to some 50 deaf persons. He also interpreted sermons and Mrs. Pittman taught singing to the group.

This deaf work was mentioned to the Roundings after a trip to Texas last winter.

Knowing that Mr. Rounding worked with a deaf man in the factory, Pastor Kasten asked the Roundings to include this family in their regular Thursday night visitation calls.

After much prayer, and with the church for five years, and never were we made to feel more welcome than in this home. We were invited to return and we did, this time not quite so frightened.

"We experienced one of the happiest times in our life when paper and pencil for communication the call was completed.

"We had been making calls for we were able to take our Bible and show them the way of salvation," said Mrs. Rounding.

"This also was the night that we learned our first words of sign language," she added.

Mrs. Rounding went on to say she and her husband had written several places for information on how to learn the sign language. They finally located a college for the deaf and obtained their first text book. She said they studied it from cover to cover with their deaf friends' assistance.

Mrs. Rounding said since that time God has opened many ways for them to learn more of the language. They had the privilege of attending a school in Murfreesboro, Tenn. learning more about dactylology. They also learned how to conduct a Sunday School Class for the deaf.

Mr. and Mrs. Rounding are enrolled at a school for the deaf in Flint which they will attend in the fall.

"My husband and I have contacted many families and made many friends. We now have our own Sunday School Class, The Silent Class. These lessons are the same that Pastor Kasten teaches to the Adult Bible Class eash Sunday. As far as we know, we are the only Fundamental Baptist Church in this area having a class for the deaf.

"We welcome any deaf or hard of hearing person to the class, and thank God for this privilege of helping others," she said.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Prepare for '63 Follies

The 1963 High Fever Follies preparations got under way today with a pledge from the chairmen that publicity painted on sidewalks is out this year.

* * *

Cochairmen for the ninth annual presentation are Mrs. Eugene C. Carey and Mrs. William A. Fox.

"Our goal is a show which will benefit Pontiac General Hospital by providing family-type entertainment," the pair stated.

Last year's device of painting promotional slogans on city sidewalks will be discontinued because of adverse public sentiment, they said.

'SHOWTIME' THEME

The theme this year is "Showtime '63". It will be a variety show, centered around music from hit stage musicals of the past decade.

Some 400 persons are involved in the show, either on stage or behind the scenes. This is the only auxiliary project of the year in which public cooperation is solicited.

* * *

The auxiliary has yielded some $75,000 to the hospital in the past nine years. Money was used to acquire equipment which the regular budget did not allow, such as portable respirators and stainless steel cribs.

This year's High Fever Follies will be held Oct. 18 and 19.

Cochairmen for the High Fever Follies, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, will be (from left) Mrs. Eugene C. Carey and Mrs. William A. Fox.

You May Meet Date at Station

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: The country club to which I belong is giving a buffet supper and dance next week. I have invited a girl I have been dating to go with me.

She lives in the city and I live in the suburbs—a distance of about 45 miles.

I would like to know if it is necessary for me to drive all the way into the city to pick her up the night of the dance, or would it be proper to have her come out on the train and meet her at the station?

* * *

A: Considering the distance involved, you may meet her at the station, but after the dance you must either drive her to the city yourself or arrange for friends to take her in their car. You cannot let her go home alone on the train late at night.

Q: My mother is a doctor; my father is not. I would like to know how my mother's name should appear on the invitations. Should it be Mrs. or Dr?.

* * *

A: If she is a practicing physician and known to everyone as Dr. Smith, then your father's and her name together must appear on the invitations as Mr. Henry and Dr. Mary Smith.

If she has given up her practice or if she has always been known socially as Mrs. Henry Smith, then their names would appear as Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith.

Drug Precautions

CHICAGO (UPI) — Pregnant women should not take any drug in the first three months unless it is essential to the preservation of the mother's health, a San Francisco obstetrician said here.

"We do not know and we may never know how many drugs currently in use may affect embryonic development in a small percentage of cases," said Dr. Ernest W. Page at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

It Won't Prevent Aging Feel Soap-Water Clean

There is little or no scientific data to show that facial massage helps prevent the changes that go with aging.

* * *

It is true that vigorous massage may induce a temporary increase in blood flow to the skin, and even produce some swelling by increasing the amount of free fluid in the tissues. However, such a change is certainly not of lasting benefit.

In addition, several so-called facial exercisers or massagers have been developed. The information that is available on these devices does not support the claims made by their manufacturers.

The photographs used in their promotional material are often taken at different magnifications and under different lighting conditions and are not controlled in a scientific manner.

Tiny School Must Close

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — The little Redwood schoolhouse will close its doors forever next year after 103 years of classes.

"We tried so hard to keep our little school open," said Mrs. Kathleen Bray, clerk of the Redwood Elementary School Board. "I think we are one of two single-room schools with eight separate grades and one teacher left in the state."

★ ★ ★

Redwood was founded in 1860 to serve the heavily wooded area east of here, but because of the lack of residential land, the school was unable to draw the required minimum of six students.

The Massachusetts General Assembly in 1647 required every township having 50 householders to provide a teacher and a schoolroom.

London Station Fire Stops 120 Trains

LONDON (AP) — A fire which knocked out the electric signal system in London's Waterloo Station stopped 120 commuter trains last night at the height of the rush hour.

★ ★ ★

The blaze, which broke out in a cable was extinguished in five minutes, but it paralyzed train service for more than an hour while 60,000 homeward-bound suburbanites milled in the big station.

★ ★ ★

Ten trains were taken off today's run as harried rail officials tried to get the line back on schedule.

Chinese Call K a Betrayer

HONG KONG (AP) — The Chinese Communists accused Premier Khrushchev today of betraying world communism and joining the West in hurling "baseless slanders and abuses" at Peking.

The Chinese Communist newspaper Wen Wei Po, keeping up a barrage the Chinese have been firing at Khrushchev with increasing intensity, said:

★ ★ ★

"If the self-styled successor of Lenin has any courage at all it lies in his betrayal of the peoples of the Socialist camp and in his abject capitulation to the imperialists."

Defends Lampoon of Royalty

LONDON (UPI) — Comedian Peter Sellers scoffed today at criticism of "Fool Britannia," a new long-playing record which kids the royal family and the government in the "first family" manner.

"Only a prude could possibly be offended by it," Sellers said.

The record was made in New York by Sellers, Daniel Massey, Anthony Newley and Newley's wife, actress Joan Collins.

Executives of the firm that is issuing the record (Decca) also defended it in principle, although no copies of it have reached London yet.

"We are very jealous of our good name," said William Townsley, a director of the company. "We wouldn't dream of releasing anything that was tasteless. Anyway, we cannot come to a decision until we have heard it."

SERIES OF SKETCHES

The record consists of a series of sketches, including one supposedly set in Buckingham Palace. At one point, a loud hiccup is heard, followed by the queen, impersonated by Sellers, saying: "No. No more cherry brandy, Charles."

Sellers scoffed at the idea it would offend the royal family. "I am quite sure Prince Philip would get a good laugh out of it," he said.

In another skit, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan — also impersonated by Sellers — is heard defending Britain's security services in the House of Commons.

"I can assure you," he said, "there is a very fine secret service operating in Britain. It belongs to the Russians."

Gives 90 Days in Chrysler Suit

Couple Gets Deadline in Pretrial Dispositions

DETROIT (AP) — A Muskegon County Circuit Court judge has given attorneys for William C. Newberg and his wife, Dorothy, 90 days to take pretrial depositions or he will dismiss their case against Chrysler Corp.

Judge Henry Beers said the Newbergs have done "absolutely nothing toward the prosecution of their bill of complaint" since they obtained an injunction against Chrysler Jan. 18, 1961, preventing the company from selling 130,000 of Newberg's Chrysler stock.

While visiting on the Wayne County circuit bench, Judge Beers was assigned the Newberg case.

Beers denied Chrysler motion for dismissal, saying, "While I feel I would be justified in ordering a dismissal of the bill, I hesitate to do so.

★ ★ ★

"It is the natural desire of all judges to afford a plaintiff his day in court even though at times it seems the plaintiff is not deserving of it."

Beers granted Newberg's attorneys 90 days to complete taking depositions from witnesses. He set Oct. 25 for a pretrial conference.

Newberg is suing to set aside certain terms of a settlement made with Chrysler after he resigned as president, June 30, 1960. He agreed to a settlement of $455,000 as a result of what was called his conflict of interests in two supplier firms serving Chrysler while he was an executive.

Record Set for Space Message

PASO ROBLES, Calif. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration claimed yesterday a record for the greatest surface distance ever spanned in communications via a satellite.

The distance was 7,700 miles, between a NASA station near here and a ship off Lagos, Nigeria, via the Syncom 2 communications satellite.

Scientists used both voice and teletype messages to exchange messages for an hour, beginning at 11:43 p.m. Thursday. Syncom 2 at the time was orbiting 22,000 miles above the South Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

The previous distance record was 5,922 miles between Liverpool, England, and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, last spring, via NASA's Relay satellite.

32 Hours in a Can

RICHMOND, Calif. (UP) — Jerry and Willis Cooper, aged 9 and 5, were back home today after hiding for 32 hours — in a garbage can.

Mates Differ

Marriage Complications

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE P-465: Lois L., aged 27, is the program chairman of her women's club.

She had asked me to outline some of the misunderstandings that complicate happy marriage, for I was to address the banquet session where husbands were to be invited, too.

So I explained that women have a poor time sense. They don't watch the clock or pace themselves the way a man does.

DR. CRANE

Maybe that is partly due to the fact they seldom compete in athletics where a stop watch is employed.

But the basic reason is the fact that women always remain emotionally half child, half adult even when they attain maturity.

And children can easily be distracted because they fail to keep in focus a distant goal.

* * *

Men thus tend to look ahead, while women look sideways!

A man tends to travel in a straight line whereas a woman follows a curved or meandering course.

Men are noted, however, for certain glaring faults. First, they are the world's foremost buck-passers. Thus, they try to blame everything on their wives.

* * *

"I can't find my shirt (or tie)," is another common fault of males.

"Why, it is right there in plain sight in the top dresser drawer," his wife may protest.

"No, it isn't, he will loudly argue, so she climbs the stairs and picks it up right where she said it was located.

Sheepishly, her husband mutters some alibi and tries to forget the incident, the sooner, the better!

* * *

Men also prefer sameness whereas women, as well as children, like variety and change.

A man will drive his auto along the same route to his work every day, while his wife will try by-paths and meander along different streets, just for variety.

Although her kitchen may be perfectly arranged as regards efficiency, she may decide a year or so later to remodel it, just to produce a change.

* * *

"Efficiency" is more the male viewpoint whereas "variety" is more typical of the female.

Men tend to have a single track mind and are more bullheaded.

Women will compromise and adapt to altered conditions more readily than men do.

* * *

Men are also more egotistical. Thus, a wife is usually far more willing to adopt a child than is her husband.

And husbands like to project the blame for a childless home upon their wives, though we medics find that men are about 50-50 to blame, as regards sterility.

Males are more interested in things; females, in persons.

Thus, males are usually better in math and science; females, in languages.

Males are more rebellious toward authority; females, more docile.

Men demand quick, direct satisfaction of their basic hungers; while women like to delay or dawdle and take a round-about course.

For further differences, send for my booklet "Sex Differences Between Men and Women," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long, 15 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Customs Inspector Flees to West on Truck He Checks

HELMSTEDT, Germany (UP) — An East German customs inspector fled to West Germany today hiding on the back of a truck he had just inspected.

Customs officials at this West German checkpoint on the 110-mile autobahn to Berlin said the customs man stowed away aboard the truck at Marienborn without his colleagues noticing it.

All trucks moving to and from West Berlin are inspected by East German customs officials at Mafienborn, opposite Helmstedt and at Babelsberg, on entering or leaving West Berlin.

Knowing that once a truck is searched, it will be waved on without further trouble, the 21-year-old inspector decided that this was his chance.

* * *

After giving the truck a thorough check, he jumped aboard and, without the truck driver knowing it, rode to West Germany where he surrendered to West German officials.

Rocket Base? Highway Stop!

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Tourists may think a new American rocket base has sprouted from the sides of Interstate Highway 10 near San Antonio.

But it is just the newest design in Texas highway rest stops.

East of San Antonio is the first "safety rest area" (they used to be called roadside parks) in Texas built to interstate standards.

The park is really two parks—one on each side of the road. On each side, the park stretches 1,200 feet long and 107 feet wide with four bat-wing shaped arbors.

* * *

Each arbor has a fireplace, firewood, an incinerator, a concrete table and benches, and a planter box.

Texas Gives Okay to Mystery Aliens

VANDERPOOL, Tex. (UPI) — Among definitely desirable aliens in Texas are some mysterious sugar maple trees that have established a sizable stand near this Bandera County town in south central Texas.

The trees, which give the Texas landscape a splash of autumn color when the leaves turn, are not supposed to survive anywhere in the Southwest.

Residents of the area do not know the origin of the several hundred trees, which are flourishing in an area in which Spanish oak, sumac and pecan are native.

U. S. to Change Berlin Garrison

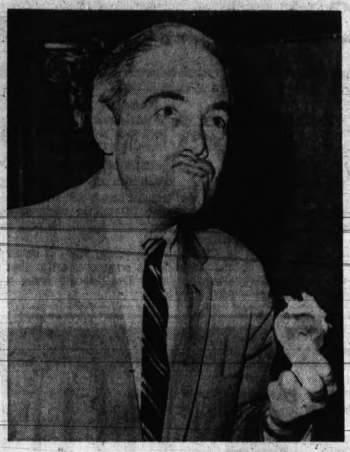
BERLIN (UPI) — The U.S. Army announced today it will reorganize its Berlin garrison this fall to increase its armored strength, firepower and flexibility while reducing troop strength by 600 men.

Thirty M60 tanks — "the best in the world in their ability to destroy enemy tanks"— will replace the 25 earlier-model M48s now in the city and the number of armored personnel carriers on hand will be increased from 15 to 30.

The six howitzers of the garrison's artillery battery will be replaced by self-propelled weapons and the number of machine guns and antitank guns available to the garrison will be increased.

★ ★ ★

The reorganization, beginning Sept. 1, will be a part of the worldwide reorganization of the U.S. Army under the so-called "road" plan, which makes the battalion the basic combat unit instead of the battle group.



NOT MICHIGAN PEACH — From the expression on the face of Pennsylvania Goy. William W. Scranton, it would appear that he had just bitten into a sour peach. Such is not the case, however. Negroes to JFK: Don't Appoint Edwards Judge

DETROIT (AP) — Two Negro groups say they will ask President Kennedy not to nominate Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards to a federal judgeship because of his handling of the Cynthia Scott shooting case.

Miss Scott, 24, who had a record as a prostitute, was shot to death by a policeman July 5. The officer said she slashed him with a knife in resisting arrest. The policeman was exonerated by superiors. Edwards later upheld them. Miss Scott was a Negro.

Edwards, an attorney and former justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, has been reported in line for appointment to the U.S. District Court of Appeals.

★ ★ ★

The Wolverine Bar Association, an organization of Negro lawyers, and the Group on Advanced Leadership, a Negro citizens group, said yesterday they will make the request to President Kennedy.

Girl Talks: Dope Ring Hit in Italy

ROME (UPI) — Italian police moved against an international narcotics ring today on leads developed from information supplied by an American girl under arrest on drug charges.

Authorities identified the girl as Barbara Joan Spark, 22, of Pacific Palisades, Calif., and said she had thousands of dollars worth of marijuana in her suitcase when picked up here last Thursday. The Italian press pictured her as an out-and-out amateur in the illicit drug trade.

"Please don't tell my parents," she was quoted as begging.

Police said that under questioning the California girl supplied them with information that led to the arrest of two men in Rome yesterday.

PICK UP CANADIANS

French police, in a development so far not connected to the arrests in Italy, yesterday picked up two Canadians preparing to leave Paris on separate flights from Orly Airport. Thirteen pounds of heroin were found in their luggage, police said.

Today it was learned that French police, acting on a tip from Canadian authorities, have picked up a suspect believed to have supplied the pair.

The suspect was identified as Roger Coudert, a resident of Paris and the cote d'azur, who was described as "one of the principal drug smugglers in the world."

They said he apparently was part of an international ring bringing drugs from the Middle East to New York and Chicago via Marseilles, Paris, Montreal and Toronto.

Tempers May Flare

Welfare Dept. Boiling

Not only temperatures are rising to the boiling point at Oakland County's Social Welfare Center, Director George Williams has warned a group of county supervisors.

Tempers also threaten to flare over a lack of air conditioning in the building, he told the County Board of Supervisors' Social Welfare Committee.

Temperatures of 100 degrees and more haven't been unusual in the building so far this summer, he said. On five different days, staff members had to be sent home due to the heat, thus curtailing service.

"Our people become particularly alarmed when they read in the paper that the county is considering spending $66,000 for a more sophisticated temperature-control unit at the already air-conditioned courthouse when no relief is being provided here," he said.

A request for air conditioning at the welfare building was turned down this spring by the supervisors' buildings and grounds committee as too costly.

It was estimated then that the air conditioning would have cost between $30,000 and $40,000.

Now, estimates indicate the job could be done either for $31,500 or for approximately $8,000.

The lesser figure would provide relief for only the worst spots in the building through window units

★ ★ ★

The committee directed Williams to prepare a full report of the need for air conditioning so that it can be presented to the buildings and grounds and ways and means committees in the near future.

Hamlin Stresses City-County Approach to Problems

The need for cooperative city-county efforts in tackling area-wide problems was stressed today by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

He was addressing a panel of several hundred city and county officials from throughout the United States gathered at the American Municipal Association's 40th annual congress in Houston, Tex.

"If the problems facing local government are to be solved in a densely populated and vast area, there must be increased inter-governmental relations and closer communications between city and county," said Hamlin.

He said this approach already is being used effectively in Oakland County.

* * *

"Since many of our problems transcended city boundaries, our cities have found that major projects such as drainage, sewage disposal, highway planning, water supply and practically all of our social services could best be provided on a countywide basis through the county government."

He said this has been accomplished because "more and more in recent years the cities have been appointing mayors and members of their city commissions to the county board of supervisors.

"By these appointments the board has become a truly representative body of all units of government in the county.

'NATURALLY FOLLOWS'

"When these units find that they cannot live alone . . . cooperation naturally follows."

Among the accomplishments that have resulted in Oakland County so far, Hamlin listed "hundreds of miles of sewers and water mains that couldn't have otherwise been achieved so economically.

During the past four years, he said, over $74 million has been spent for water and sewer facilities in the county.

Hamlin stated that continued cooperation among units of government here would result in another $90 million worth of improvements within the next few years.

"We believe that this cooperation is bringing about a climate in our area that will assure stability.

He said that another realm in which cooperation must be achieved is in that of seeking to attract new industrial development to provide continuing employment among a growing population.

"By strengthening county government and solving problems on a county basis — that is, by doing the things for local units of government which they cannot effectively or economically do for themselves — and further, by cooperating with our neighboring counties on metropolitan problems of mutual interest, we have in fact a working metropolitan government without the necessity of creating a new governmental structure," declared Hamlin.

Here's a Group of Beautiful Homes Located in Oakland County

background for LIVING

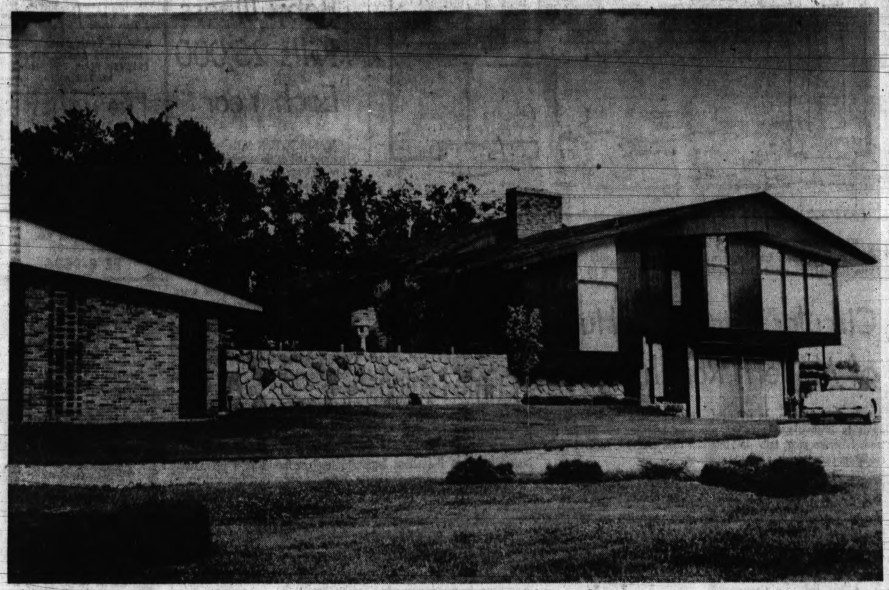
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Rather than devoting an entire page to one home today, we are bringing you a potpourri page of interesting homes in the county.

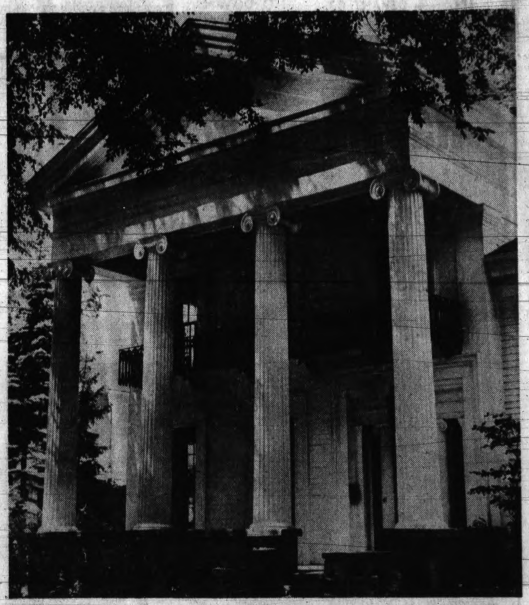
Something old and something new are pictured here along with beautifully landscaped yards. Petunias, brilliant geraniums and other midsummer flowers spark lawns and gardens.

Much thought has gone into the charming homes and grounds pictured here, adding their own special beauty to Oakland County.

Wrought iron decorations are blossoming in many homes —a carry-over from southern homes in bygone years. Beautiful cut stone, too, forms interesting fences, fireplaces and house trim just as it has been doing for hundreds of years.



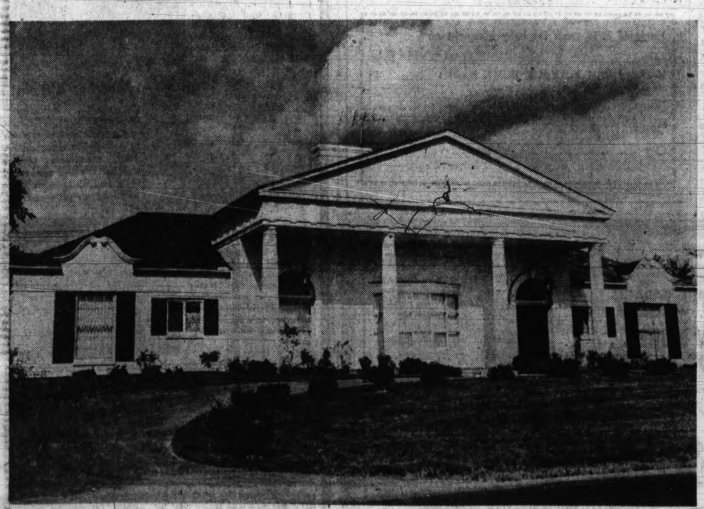
MODERN AS TOMORROW—The Henry J. Eynon house spreads out on the side of a hill on Martell Drive. Ceilings are high, wide and handsome. Back of the cut stone wall is an old-fashioned Japanese garden, and beyond that is a big swimming pool surrounded by a wide patio and landscaped garden. The extensive use of glass window-walls throughout, makes this home a pleasure to live in and a happy place for extensive entertaining. The wide overhangs of redwood serve as a protection to both the house and arriving guests.



CLARKSTON BEAUTY — This magnificent mansion on Clarkston's main street was occupied in 1835, according to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Haupt, the people who live there. The stately columns, wrought iron balcony and cut-stone porch make this one of the finest examples of Greek architecture in the state. Inside, the ceilings are high, and the long, white-spindled stairway leads up to a spacious hall and bedrooms.

COLORFUL ENTRANCE—How did Mrs. C. B. Aske get her pink and white petunias to spill all over the walk leading to the house? Just before she and her husband went on a vacation to Kentucky, she picked every last one of them. "I must have had two bushels of blooms," she said. When the couple returned, there were three times as many flowers.

HAS SWIMMING POOL—This lovely home owned by the Milton Schimpkes is new but reflects some of the beauty found in homes of yesteryear. The double posts at the front entryway are reminiscent of old-type ranch houses, and yet its clean-cut lines indicate modern beauty. A well-tended flower garden is the background for the backyard terrace and swimming pool.



BRAND NEW—In front of the T. C. McGlone home, completed only recently, the glistening white columns are reminiscent of fine Greek architecture. The circular driveway makes a convenient entrance to the beautiful house.

WAS OLD BARN—It's hard to believe that this charming red and white home was once an old cow barn in the heart of Birmingham. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. T. Norville Hubbard, cleaned it up, paneled the walls in pine, installed a fireplace and a tiny streamlined kitchen. A breezeway leads to the little garage, shaped like an old-fashioned salt box.

'Bring Back Pantries - -'

Bring back the old fashioned pantry. . .

Give us master bedrooms large enough for a desk and a lounge chair. . .

Do away with front lawns. . . .

These were among suggestions made by 30 housewives at a clinic on "Home Design and the American Family," held at the National Housing Center in Washington.

Attic Can Be Useful Through Redecoration

An unseen, unused area of the home—the attic—can become a culprit in hot weather, holding heat long into the night.

A good way to overcome this—and gain more living space at the same time—is to enlarge the windows in the attic, letting more air flow through, and at the same time adding floor and wall coverings to make a livable room.

Window sills and areas inside the windows should be covered with a colorful, waterproof ceramic tile so there'll be no damage should a sudden summer rain squall occur while the windows are open.

Baby Illness Kills 25,000 Each Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hyaline membrane disease, which took the life of Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, appears on the death certificates of an estimated 25,000 infants in the United States each year.

Virtually all of them were born prematurely, as was the son of President and Mrs. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Derived from the Greek word "hyalinos," meaning glass, hyaline may be used to describe anything that is glassy in appearance, transparent and homogeneous. Thus, the poet John Milton wrote of "the clear hyaline, the glassy sea."

GLASSY FILM

But to doctors, hyaline refers to a thick, viscous, glassy film that often forms on the inside of a lung or lungs of a premature baby, especially those delivered by Caesarian section as the infant Kennedy was.

The membrane, which may involve an entire lung or only part of it, tends to block or impair the passage of life-supporting oxygen from the lungs into the blood stream.

★ ★ ★

The malady can range from mild to fatal.

In a mild case the patient may recover completely within 24 hours. In a severe case, death can occur anywhere up to about the fourth day after birth.

But, over-all, there is less than a 50-50 chance of survival.

There are 73,000 fewer public school systems in the nation than in 1942. A program of consolidations has reduced the number to about 37,000.

Circular Kitchen Is Hub of Modern Ranch Home

A circular kitchen, as efficient as it is dramatic, serves as a true housekeeping hub in this contemporary ranch and marks the home as one of up-to-the-minute distinction.

The unusual design eliminates wasted corner space and provides the utmost in step-saving ease for the housewife.

Nearly half the circle projects beyond the rear wall of the house and, completely enclosed in glass, permits maximum backyard supervision and allows the work area to be flooded with natural sunlight.

All these practical aspects say nothing about the room's bold and exciting esthetic quality, certainly an important consideration for a housewife. No matter how this kitchen is decorated it will never be dull.

To some extent this is true of the entire house. Its exterior is well proportioned with an eye-catching combination of angles and masses accented through skillful use of materials.

The floor plan is well zoned into formal and sleeping areas and plainly geared to modern living.

Designer of this exceptionally fine home is architect Rudolph A. Matern. The house is number J88 in the House of the Week series.

For all of its interesting and luxurious features the house is well within the medium size category—only 1,450 square feet not counting the single car garage.

Its over-all dimensions are 27 feet 3 inches deep by 72 feet 2 inches wide. Width of the house excluding the garage is 60 feet 1 inch.

The house contains three bedrooms, 1½ baths, living room, family room, foyer, mud room aid service pantry. It has a full basement, but the laundry facilities are on the main level for added convenience.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

Extending from the circular kitchen, as wings, are the family room and the service pantry, a well ordered grouping of the informal and housekeeping facilities.

The family room has a glass wall, its sliding doors leading to a rear terrace. The combination of family room, terrace and protruding kitchen bay is an example of excellent indoor-outdoor integration.

The service pantry provides access both to the dining room and to a nicely organized service area.

★ ★ ★

Mud room and lavatory are convenient to the rear yard and garage workshop as well as the kitchen. The service entry, located here, eliminates a lot of unnecessary traffic through the kitchen.

★ ★ ★

For a one-car family this garage is entirely adequate.

★ ★ ★

Its extra length provides room for a shop and storage bins plus space for tricycles and garden hose and all the other clutter, and has a handy door leading to the backyard as well as direct entry to the house.

The bedroom wing is completely isolated, with closets and the main bath serving as natural sound buffers.

All the bedrooms have at least two closets; the master bedroom has three, all tucked neatly into an extension which serves as a significant feature of the exterior design.

★ ★ ★

The facade of this house is one of quiet elegance, tastefully blending stone with vertical V-groove boards and with interestingly designed built-in planters.

FBI Infiltrates Crime Legions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation has infiltrated the silent legions of the national crime syndicate, a Justice Department source reports.

The undercover informants are "getting more good information now than we've ever gotten before," the source said. "These guys are really getting upset. Everyone is wondering what the next man has said about him."

Through this underground, the source said, the government was able to doublecheck mobster Joseph Valachi's tattling about the wheels within wheels of the syndicate —the "Cosa Nostra."

Valachi, who the government said began sining when he got word in prison that a syndicate death contract has been issued for him, has been hidden away by federal agents to save his life.

First Family Receives State's Sympathy Note

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney sent the following telegram to the President and Mrs. Kennedy yesterday:

"Your loss has brought sorrow to all of the people of Michigan. We extend our deepest sympathy and prayerfully solicit divine solace in your bereavement."

Rose Gardens! Is It Warfare?

By DICK WEST
United Press International

They laughted when I moved into the suburbs and announced my intentions to grow a garden. "He doesn't even know which end of the hoe to use," they said raskishly.

★ ★ ★

But I showed them. I went out and bought myself a gardening book. It was one of the greatest adventures of my life.

WEST

A gardening book is guaranteed to give you more information than you can cope with on every phase of gardening except the one you are interested in.

For instance, the book I purchased was completely silent on the subject of which end of the hoe to use.

But I found that if you follow its instructions to the letter, you don't even need a hoe.

If you have a surveyor's transit, for measuring drainage angles and that sort of thing, and a fully equipped laboratory in your basement, you can get by quite nicely.

Remembering my own bewilderment when first introduced to the complexities of simple home gardening, I felt a twinge of sympathy the other day upon reading an article in Roll Call, the Capitol Hill weekly.

A contributor to the paper, Bernie Yudain, reported that he had acquired a patch with a few rose bushes and had begun reading the garden columns to find out how to take care of them.

"One gathers you either go to chemical warfare school or forget the whole thing," he wrote. "A typical paragraph goes like this:

"Mulch your roses and be sure to guard against thrip, aphids, leaf mould, parasitical fungus, black-winged thyroids, Luxembourg beetles, red spider and widow mites.

"Use a solution of Fledermouserane, two parts to one part Quadziller Killer No. 2, Depriathain and Molerouzath-Quagmyre. Spray every hour for three weeks with a mixture of this, curare powder and phosgene.

"Don't neglect roots; insert Anathoroid Compound No. 3, five gallons per root, and spread surface with mustard gas, cyanide and a commercial solution of strontium 90.

"If this routine treatment fails, the gardener might try napalm treatments. This will burn your rosebushes to the ground, of course, but it's guaranteed to get rid of those pesky insects."

EXAGGERATING?

You think Yudain was exaggerating? Well, the day after his parody appeared, a local garden column carried the following paragraph:

"Repeated spraying may be necessary to control lace bugs effectively. When you see the first signs of injury, begin treatment at once."

★ ★ ★

Malathion gives very good control of lace bugs. Sevin also gives good control. But if you spray with Sevin, better include Dimite or Delthane for spider mite control, because Sevin kills the insects which feed on mites without killing the mites themselves, and the mites can do about as much damage as the lace bugs."

Care Prevents Paint Cracking

Exterior house paint, particularly oil paint, on rare occasions will develop a network of fine hairline cracks running in all directions on the surface film.

This is known as "checking."

★ ★ ★

And it is easy to avoid.

It occurs because the painter probably didn't allow sufficient drying time between applications of two coats.

The undercoat didn't dry and was still elastic when the top coat was applied. The top coat, exposed to the air, dried faster and became hard.

As the wood underneath contracted and expanded, the elastic undercoat moved with it. But the hard, dry top coat couldn't follow.

So the top film cracked, breaking up into small sections.

Do-it-yourself painters are warned to follow carefully the printed directions on the label, use top quality paint, and allow the specified drying time.

FUN IN SUMMER — The tennis table shown here with NBC's entertainers Carol Jean Lewis and Molly Bee is regulation size. When not in use, it folds to a neat mobile unit that requires but little space in a garage or game room. It's mounted on casters and when folded may easily be moved by one person. Just lift up the top when you are ready for a fast game. You will find the table to be handy for large dinners, for laying out your ironing and also for Junior's electric train. Just the thing for church suppers because the tables are easily put up and taken down. To obtain the full-size table tennis pattern No. 319 send $1.00 by currency, check or money order to: Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif.

Plant Your Radishes in Box Near Window

If you have no backyard, try growing radishes on the windowsill. Sprinkle a few seeds on a potful of sterilized soil, then cover with one-quarter inch of earth and keep slightly moist until seeds sprout.

★ ★ ★

Thin to an inch apart. A potful sown weekly will give you a steady supply. They'll do the best in the sun.

Circular bench built around a tree well makes a charming patio accessory. Bench is made of laminated Douglas fir 1 by 3s with angle irons for supports. Brightly colored cushions add accents, comfort.

For Redwood Users Hold Building Contest

Home handymen who enjoy working with redwood have an opportunity to win $1,000 for their design talents.

The award, to be made by Simpson Timber Co., will not be contingent upon the amount of redwood used in the project entered in the competition. Simpson says it can be anything from a planter box, garden furniture, table, bench or even a dog house to a fence, car port or complete home.

Entries will be judged on distinctive design idea, skill of construction and a statement of why redwood was used. The contest closes Sept. 30.

Complete contest rules and a free 32-page idea book showing over 80 uses for which redwood is best suited are available from Simpson Timber Co., 2942C Washington Building, Seattle, Wash.

Mortgaged Homes, Lots Go Up in Valuation

Value of the average home with mortgage insured by the FHA in 1962 was $15,151, an increase of $233 over the typical valuation in 1961. Cost of the lot averaged $2,715, up from $2,513 in 1961.

★ ★ ★

Many other costs of constructing a home, such as installing ceramic tile bathrooms, remained nearly stable due to improved efficiency in the installation processes.

Whether the floor system is conventional or engineered, quality of the lumber is important. Framing elements should be both stable and strong. Properly seasoned lumber provides the ideal balance of stiffness and resiliency. Its stable, uniform sizes prevent floors from squeaking and keep the entire home on a firm, even keel.

Wooden Decks Give Transition

One of the most exciting ideas to come recently from an architect's drawing board is the use of a wood deck as an entrance yard.

Sound kookie? Perhaps, at first thought. But it does make an excellent transition zone between the exterior and interior of the home.

In addition, a wood entrance deck is a fine solution for the home sited on the down side of a steep hill or in such a manner that back and side yards offer no living space. The entrance yard can double as a lounge area.

Using a deck as an entrance yard offers no construction problems. The deck is built at the level of interior floors, or one step below, if desired.

The structural system is the same for this oversize deck as for one of more usual proportions. For such a large area, however, wider boards are preferable for appearance, and Douglas fir two-by-eights are generally specified.

RAIN RUNOFF

Spacing for rain runoff between deck boards should be the minimum eighth inch to permit high-heeled ladies to walk with ease and safety.

★ ★ ★

A decked entrance yard will be heavily traveled, so maintenance is a factor to keep in mind. Generally, it's best not to paint or stain the deck because of heavy foot wear.

A better idea would be to allow the decking to weather naturally and acquire the soft silver patina of time and tempest. One season will see the process well under way, and each successive year will add rich beauty to the wood.

For the sake of eye interest as well as privacy from the street, it's smart to convert the entrance deck to a courtyard with perimeter walls. These can be head-height or tall enough to match the height of house walls.

★ ★ ★

For style, use the same siding lumber and pattern as used for the house. It can be set within conventional fence frames and painted or stained to match the house.

Wide opening gates can be included in the plan to close off the yard at night.

For outdoor atmosphere, a wide variety of plantings can be added to the entrance deck. Planter tubs and boxes do the trick and keep gardening chores to a minimum.

Make flagstones of different sizes and colors by pouring concrete into a wooden mold. Pattern 229, which shows every step in building the mold for flag stones and also gives formulas and directions, is 35 cents. Packet 29 contains this pattern and three other full-size patterns for home improvements, all for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

A PERMANENT SOLUTION to the trash-burner problem is shown here. Pattern 285 lists materials, gives concrete mixing formula, shows steps in making reinforced base, installing grate and keeping block construction true. This pattern is 35 cents. If you also are interested in making yard benches, chairs and tables, you will want to order Pattern Packet No. 60 which is $1.

Colors Identify Pipes

If you have trouble remembering which pipes in your home carry what substance, paint them in the distinctive colors used by industry for pipeline identification. Thus, your water pipes could be painted white or black, your sprinkler system red and your gas pipes yellow or orange. Select your own color for the hot water pipes.

Three-fourths of the nation's pressure treated poles are of southern pine. Chief reason: ease of treatment. With this type of wood, chemical preservatives achieve deep and uniform penetration, thus assuring maximum protection against severe weather exposure.

If you want to overbid a little, that is fine. All you have to do is to play the hand well, and also find the opponents' cards favorably located.

JACOBY

In this connection Arlene Monheim of Steubenville, Ohio, writes, "I don't suppose you approve of my five club bid, but I was playing with a very conservative partner and I felt like overbidding a trifle. I couldn't have overbid too much because I wound up making an extra trick after my opponents each led a trump."

Her play is a good example of giving the cards a chance to be where they should in order to make an optimistic contract.

She noted that she needed to find East with the king of spades and the diamonds well divided if she wanted to make her contract. Hence she won the first trick in dummy and led a low spade.

East rose with the king and led another trump. Now Arlene played the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond in dummy. Then she returned to her own hand by leading a spade to her queen.

The last and most important hurdle was left. Would diamonds break? She led a third diamond and ruffed in dummy. The opponents were kind enough to drop the king and queen for her and now all that was left was mopping up. She discarded her one heart on the ace of spades, returned to her hand by ruffing a heart, played her last trump to pull West's last tooth, and claimed the balance with her remaining three diamonds.

What do you do now?

A—Bid five no-trump. If your partner holds the right cards you want to be in seven.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner bids six diamonds to show one king. What do you do now?

Tigers Work Long, Hard, but Only Gain Split

CHICAGO (AP) — The Detroit Tigers worked long and hard in a twi-night doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox last night, saving a split when Bubba Phillips singled home the winning run in the 10th inning of the second game.

Chicago, whose effort to overtake the league-leading New York Yankees is now desperate, won the first game 2-1 but the Tigers snatched the extra-winning second, 3-1.

The Tigers scored two runs in the 10th-inning rally after two men had been thrown out in attempts to score on other plays. The White Sox infield first trapped Rocky Colavito trying to score from third and then Norm Cash the same way, both on infield grounders.

Otherwise, Colavito had a good night. He hit two home runs, one in each game. They were his 17th and 18th of the season.

For the series' third game today, Detroit's Frank Lary sought his third victory against five defeats. He was opposed by Ray Herbert (10-6).

Starter Hank Aguirre lost the opener last night, his 11th defeat against 10 victories, though permitting only four hits in seven innings.

The Tigers, with Colavito's fourth-inning homer their only punch of any account, were held to three hits by Joel Horlen and Eddie Fisher.

COLLISION

Horlen left in the fourth inning when he was hurt in a collision at first base with Norm Cash. Al Kaline and Phillips got the only other Tiger hits.

The Sox got their first run in the second on a walk, a single and Horlen's one-bagger. They scored the winner in the fourth on Pete Ward's double, a wild pitch and Camilo Carreon's single.

The 1-1 deadlock of the second game—until the tenth—resulted from a tight duel between Mickey Lolich and native Detroiter Dave Debusschere with relief from Jim Brosnan in the eighth.

In regulation play, the only runs came from Colavito's second homer in the second inning and Mike Hershbergers daring base running in the sixth.

Hershberger, on first from a walk, came all the way home on Jim Lemon's single when Don Wert missed Bill Bruton's throw-in at second and the ball rolled to the pitcher's mound.

In the 10th, Wert and Jim Freeman were on base from fielders' choices after Colavito and Cash had been thrown out. Phillips singled to center, scoring Wert, and Frehan also scored when Jim Landis bobbled the ball.

Debusschere, also a Detroit Piston basketball forward, may have to stop working so hard soon.

Debusschere has been ordered to take his army physical in Chicago later this month.

If found fit, the lanky athlete probably would apply for a six-month hitch in order to fulfill his military obligation and be able to play ball, too. The catch is in what sport?

Debusschere might be able to get a military exemption because of his height — which is listed as between 6-5½ and 6-feet-6. The military maximum is 6-6.

PITCHER INJURED—Chicago White Sox pitcher Joel Horlen lies on the ground after colliding at first base with Norm Cash of the Tigers in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader. Lions-Browns Contest May Answer Questions

Part of of the answers to two of the biggest questions in pro football may be produced at Tiger Stadium tonight when the Detroit Lions play the Cleveland Browns in the opening NFL exhibition game for both teams.

★ ★ ★

The questions:

Can the Lions continue winning without the services of star defensive tackle Alex Karras who is suspended?

Can the Browns regain the glory of past years under the direction of Blanton Collier, only the second head coach in the team's history?

For the Browns, it will be the beginning of a new era under Collier, making his pro debut.

Collier was elevated to the top job when Paul Brown was ousted by the owners after making the Browns one of the most successful teams in the history of professional football.

Collier and Lions coach George Wilson both have problems they hope to resolve before the season gets under way next month. Each also is given a good chance to win his division title.

BIG PROBLEM

Collier's big problem could be at quarterback where Jim Ninowski and Frank Ryan are fighting for the starting job. Last season, Ninowski, obtained from the Lions in a swap that brought Detroit quarterback Milt Plum, opened as the No. 1 signal-caller.

But he dislocated his shoulder in the seventh game and Ryan finished the season. Ryan's showing in the last half of the season gave him a shot at the No. 1 job in 1963.

Collier has said he will let Ninowski and Ryan call their own plays. Paul Brown called every play from the bench, sending in a runner on each play to give the quarterback his instructions.

In addition to Ninowski, another Lion player will see a lot of action. He's Ken Webb, a fullback traded to the Browns for defensive tackle Floyd Peters.

Webb will start at halfback alongside fullback Jim Brown, the former Syracuse ace rated one of the finest runners in the history of the game.

Former Pontiac Central gridders Jim Shorter and Walt Beach are expected to see plenty of action in the Browns defensive backfield.

The kickoff is at 8:30.

FACES LIONS—Ken Webb will be back in familiar confines of Tiger Stadium tonight when the Lions meet the Browns, but he won't be wearing the Blue and Silver uniform of the Lions. Webb will start at halfback for Cleveland as the two teams open their exhibition season.

Green, Draper Foes Tough

BENTON HARBOR — Tom Draper of Birmingham and Orchard Lake Country Club's Pete Green face stiff tests as match play started here today in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

They qualified for the match play field of 16 along with Cliff Taylor of Spring Lake and Bud Stevens of Detroit.

Green fired 73 and 80 yesterday for a 72-hole total of 306, one stroke better than Draper who had 74-81 in the final two qualifying rounds.

Green drew medalist Don Voth of Akron in today's first round. Draper's task isn't much easier. He is playing Walker Cupper Dan Sikes of Springdale, Ark.

Stevens, who finished four strokes behind Voth with a 298, plays Tim Holland of New York while Taylor drew Tom Weizkopf of Bedford, Ohio, who deadlocked with Stevens in the qualifying.

In its debut in big time golf Point O'Woods course here hard by Lake Michigan is making a name for itself as a tough layout.

With 72 holes completed and match play at hand, Point O-Woods had yielded only one par score.

Voth, who won the medal Friday with a 10-over par 294, attested to the course's challenge.

"It's the hardest one I've ever played," Voth said.

Voth made his last two qualifying trips over the par-71, 6,943-yard expanse in 72-75 to go with a previous 74-73 as he missed par on four attempts.

★ ★ ★

The Ohioan won the medal by four strokes but his total was the highest in the nine years of the Western Amateur's 72-hole qualification system. The 310 score that permitted qualifying was the highest in the tourney's history. The previous high was 301.

Point O'Woods is only five years old. It was designed by golf course architect Robert Trent Jones. Distances between holes are long, greens are large and the fairways are bordered by woods, putting a premium on accurate driving.

Wally Butts' Libel Trial Recesses After Denial

ATLANTA (UPI) — Wallace Butts was on record today in his $10 million libel suit against the Saturday Evening Post with an emphatic denial that he conspired to rig the 1962 Alabama-Georgia football game.

Butts was the final witness in the gold-draped federal courtroom here before the libel suit hearing recessed for the weekend.

The "round little man" of college football testified for three and a half hours in a sometimes impish, sometimes serious vein.

Part of his appearance put him on the courtroom floor to explain tricky football plays with fancy footwork. He also diagrammed, as three coaches before him have done during the trial, football formations.

Butts looked squarely at the jury, made up of 12 businessmen, when he denied that he gave University of Georgia football secrets to Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant prior to the game last September in which Alabama trounced Georgia, 35-0.

The Post, in an article called "The Story of a College Football Fix," said Butts passed vital information in an attempt to fix the game score.

Butts acknowledged under questioning that he knew and associated with Frank Scobey of Chicago but added that he never knew Scobey made bets.

Swimmer Jastremski Upset

Feet Wet but AAU Records Dry

CHICAGO (AP)—"People think we should set a record every time we get our feet wet, but I think it's a good thing we aren't."

★ ★ ★

That's the view of Jim Counsilman, veteran Indiana University swimming coach whose squad, representing the Indianapolis A.C. is powering its way to the team title of the National AAU Outdoor Men's Swimming and Diving Championships.

★ ★ ★

Conspicuous by their absence are records in the meet, which opened in the new 50-meter Ridgeland Common pool at suburban Oak Park Friday.

After five swimming events out of 14 to be contested in the three-day affair, the only record of sorts was by 17-year-old Don Schollander of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club.

He churned the 400-meter freestyle in 4:17.7, compared to the 4:17.2 meet record set last year by Australia's Murray Rose.

Schollander's effort goes into the AAU books as an American citizen's mark, topping the previous such listing of 4:19.2 by Indiana's Alan Somers in the 1960 Olympics at Rome.

FIVE EVENTS

Schollander is featured in today's schedule of five events. He will try for an AAU mark in the 200 meter freestyle as defending champion.

Robert Windley of Australia set a world record in the event April 21 at Tokyo with 2:00.3. Schollander did an amazing 1:58.8 a week ago on the West Coast and has applied for world recognition of it.

It is unlikely he will come near a record job today.

"This pool is only three feet deep at the shallow end and hinders the turns," said Counsilman in explaining lack of the usual speed in such a meet. "Also, the troughs at the sides are not deep enough to breakup the waves. The boys are swimming against the waves they kick up.

"But maybe it's good thing not to have records. It shows how hard they are to achieve. So many of them are usually set, people get blase about them."

Counsilman's Hoosiers compiled 49½ points to 9½ for second place Vesper Boat Club of Philadelphia in an overwhelming shot at the team crown.

The biggest disappointment, however, was the failure of the Hoosiers' world record-holder, Chet Jastremski, even to qualify for the 100 meter breaststroke, won by 18-year-old Bill Craig, Southern California freshman, in 1:10.2. "The Jet," whose world mark is 1:07.5, offered no alibi.

Other winners included Walt Richardson, 20-year-old math major at the University of Minnesota, with :58.8 in the 100 meter butterfly; defending AAU and world champion Tom Stock, Indianapolis A. C., with 2:12.4 in the 200 meter backstroke; and another Hoosier world record-setter, defending titlist Ted Stickles, with 4:55.0 in the 400 meter individual medley.

Yankees' Houk Suffering From Top Mound Efforts

By The Associated Press

Oh, how Ralph Houk suffers.

First Mickey Mantle gets mangled, then Whitey Ford gets mauled. And the New York Yankees play catch-me-if-you-can with the rest of the American League.

Since Ford was bombed out at Washington and became Houk's latest problem, Stan Williams has pitched a one-hitter, Al Downing a three-hitter, Ralph Terry a six-hitter and Jim Bouton a five-hitter. The opposition has scored two runs—one earned.

It's enough to turn Houk's gray hairs brown.

Bouton came through in a 1-0 victory over the Los Angeles Angels Friday night, recording his 15th triumph and fourth shutout while increasing the Yankees edge to 8½ games over the second-place Chicago White Sox.

The White Sox won the opener of a twi-night doubleheader with Detroit 2-1, but the Tigers stumbled to a 3-1, 10-inning nightcap victory.

Jim Perry's four-hit pitching and a three-homer barrage gave third-place Minnesota a 5-3 decision over Boston and dropped the Red Sox into sixth place with their seventh consecutive defeat. Russ Snyder drove in three runs in Baltimore's 7-1 victory over Washington and Kansas City defeated Cleveland 5-1 behind Moe Drabowsky's three-hitter.

Bouton, now 15-5, got the only run he needed in the second inning when Joe Pepitone singled, moved to third on a single by Elston Howard and raced home on John Blanchard's sacrifice fly. That tagged Don Lee with the loss. The victory was the Yankees fourth straight and sent the Angels down to their fifth consecutive defeat.

Don Mincher, Zoilo Versalles and Rich Rollins provided home run support as Perry brought his record to 9-8 with his first victory in five decisions since June 27. Dick Stuart and Carl Yastrzemski homered for the Red Sox, who were on the way to their 17th loss in 21 games when the Twins broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth on a walk to Earl Battey and Lennie Green's triple.

Second This Week

Alfred Daisley of Waterford posted the second hole-in-one of the week at Clarkston Golf Club yesterday when he aced the 245-yard fifth hole with a two wood. He had a 42 for the round.

Local Water Skier Wins at Regional

Rob Powers of Pontiac hopped a big wave toward a possible national water skiing championship by winning the Midwestern Regional title yesterday at Winona, Minn.

The 16-year-old Pontiac Central student captured the boys' slalom event over 20 other entries from 13 states to qualify for the national championships at Long Beach, Calif., later this month.

En route to his triumph yesterday, Powers made a perfect run at 34 miles per hour, earning his master's rating in the slalom.

Grosse Pointe's Jon Staryk also qualified for the national by taking third place in the boys' event.

Quarterback Len Dawson threw a 14-yard scoring pass to Chris Burford and Curt McClinton raced 73 yards for another touchdown to trigger the Kansas City victory—watched by only 5,721 fans at the Chiefs' new Kansas City home. Tommy Brooker, who won the AFL title for the Chiefs when they were the Dallas Texans last season with his sudden death field goal, booted a 45-yarder and converted once for the other Kansas City points. Buffalo scored on a

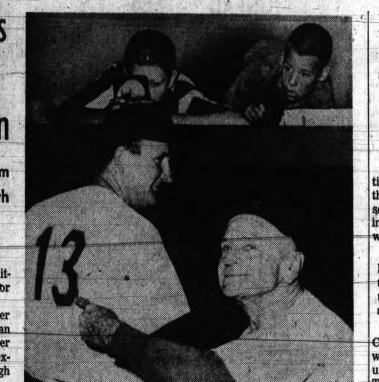
Craig Needs Hitting, Knitting, Hexing to Win

New York Mets Pitcher Breaks Long Loss Skein

Hickman's Grand Slam With Two Out in Ninth Yields 7-3 Triumph



AP Photofax

LUCKY NUMBER—Roger Craig of the Mets, loser of 18 straight, changed from No. 38 to No. 13 for last night's game against the Chicago Cubs. Manager Casey Stengel jokingly points at the number. Jim Hickman kept Craig from tying a losing mark for pitchers by crashing a two-out, three-two pitch against the scoreboard for a grand slam homer in the last of the ninth to give the Mets a 7-3 win.

By The Associated Press

A combination of knitting, hitting and hexing did the job for Roger Craig.

Roger's missus tended to her nervous knitting, Jim Hickman tended to the hitting and Manager Casey Stengel tended to the hexing. The end result was enough to have Craig shortling:

"It's over. Oh, man, it's over."

★ ★ ★

That was the veteran right-hander's grateful comment Friday night after the New York Mets had pulled out a 7-3 victory over Chicago in the last of the ninth, snapping Craig's personal 18-game losing string that stretched back to April 29. The streak equaled the National League record and was within one of the major league mark of 19.

To escape that dubious record, Craig traded his regular uniform number, 38, for No. 13.

His biggest assist came from Hickman, who hit a grand slam homer on a 3-2 pitch with the score tied and two men out in the bottom of the ninth.

Casey got his hand in, too. When Cub relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel was winding up for the climactic 3-2 pitch, Ol' Case gestured wildly in the Met dugout, waving his crossed fingers at the pitcher in the classic baseball sign of "putting on the hex."

And while it was all going on Mrs. Craig sat in the stands, nervously knitting away at a furious rate.

"I knew I couldn't sit still," she said. "I had to have something to occupy me. So I brought my knitting along."

Elsewhere, Cincinnati chased in five unearned runs and beat the first place Los Angeles Dodgers 8-4 while second-place San Francisco blanked Philadelphia 4-0, cutting the Dodger margin to 4½ games. Milwaukee beat St. Louis 6-3 and Pittsburgh and Houston split a doubleheader that lasted more than 7½ hours and ended at 2:30 a.m. Pittsburgh time. The Pirates won the second game, 7-6 in 11 innings after Houston had won 7-6 in 15.

Craig, the victim of seven shutouts and loser of eight one-run decisions in his 20 losses this season, had a 3-2 margin going into the eighth, but a triple by Billy Williams and a sacrifice fly by Ron Santo tied it.

District Titles at Stake

Softball Playoffs Start

District softball playoff action will be in full swing next week with teams from Pontiac and Waterford competing in four classes.

In the Class A district, Pontiac's Arro Realty will meet Spencer Floor Covering in a best-of-three series at the Drayton Plains Park.

The first "A" game will be played Tuesday night, the second contest Wednesday and, if necessary, a third game will be played Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Martin Associates will play Lakeland Pharmacy, the Waterford representative, in the Class B district. The first game will be played at Beaudette Park, Tuesday at 8:30.

The second "B" encounter is scheduled for Wednesday at 8:30 and, if necessary, a third game is set for Thursday.

The Class C district is also scheduled for the Beaudette Park diamond. Pontiac's representative, Town & Country, will play West Side Lanes of Waterford.

All "C" games will begin at 7 p.m. with the first contest Tuesday. The remainder of the schedule follows that of the "B" district.

★ ★ ★

Waterford's A&W Root Beer will play host to the tournament. A&W will meet Pontiac's representative, the Elks, in a two-out-of-three series Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

★ ★ ★

District winners in Class A and D will advance to Flint for state regional play, while "B" and "C" district champs will participate in the regionals at Pontiac.

Four Teams Contend in Baseball Playoff

If Class A playoff action continues in the same vein as during the closing weeks of the regular season, city baseball fans will be in for some exciting play next week.

The post-season playoffs will begin tomorrow night and continue until a Pontiac representative is determined for the state playoffs.

Opening the playoffs will be Cranbrook (12-5) and Huron-Airway (11-6) at 8 p.m. tomorrow under the lights at Jaycee Park. The best-of-three series will resume Tuesday and will be completed Thursday, if necessary.

The Clippers (11-5-1) will tangle with Local 594 (9-7-1) at 8 p.m. Monday, Wednesday, and (if needed) Friday. The two series winners will then start another two-out-of-three tussle next Sunday.

All games are slated for diamond No. 2 at Jaycee Park.

FAVORED

The Clippers and Cranbrook will be favored to reach the finals based on their performances during the regular season against present foes.

Cranbrook handled defending champion Huron-Airway three times, 2-0, 5-3, 2-1, behind the hurling of ace right-hander Larry Demrick.

The Clippers toppled the union nine twice, 8-0 and 10-4.

During the final 14 games of the season, however, the competition was extremely close among all eight league teams. There were seven one-run verdicts, four two-run decisions, one tie, and two games were decided by four-run bulges.

Even the latter two were tight struggles for six innings.

All four playoff contenders have problems. Cranbrook could use offensive help; Huron-Airway is looking for a tighter inner defense and batting help; and the Clippers need to tighten their defense and increase their pitching strength.

★ ★ ★

Local 594 is the hottest team in the league at present but needs additional mound and bench depth.

Local Golfer Loses Match

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Janis Ferraris of San Francisco is the new Western junior girls golf champion.

★ ★ ★

In a battle of 16-year-olds, Miss Ferraris took advantage of poor putting by her opponent and defeated Roberta Albers of Temple Terrace, Fla., 3 and 2, Friday.

★ ★ ★

Feather Frechette of Clarkston let apparent victory slip from her grasp, in the semifinals of the first flight. She held a 2-up lead over Gail Burnell after 15 holes, but lost the next three and was ousted, 1-up.

Harvey's Defeated, 9-4

It was only a matter of time before the big bats of Dearborn caught up with the Harvey's Colonial House pitching staff last night at Beaudette Park.

The visitors almost waited too long, however, before pulling out a 9-4 win in the opening Class AA state recreation softball district contest here.

The eight-inning defeat put the Pontiac city champion with its back to the wall after having things its own way locally most of the season.

HCH must win two games tonight at Beaudette or it can pack up the uniforms for this season.

The task will not be an easy one as Dearborn's ace hurler is Bonnie Jones, one of the top softball pitchers in the country.

"MONSTER"

Jones — whose size and fast ball arouse thoughts of baseball's "Monster" (Dick Radatz) — was not particularly sharp last night but managed to fan 16 batters in eight innings.

He was touched for seven hits and two earned runs (one of those tainted). The burly right-hander retired eight of the last nine batters he faced after the locals tied the score, 4-4, before an enthusiastic crowd.

His teammates did not look impressive at the plate except for Bob Molesky's three singles until the final inning. Then they looked exceptional.

Two triples — one by Molesky — two singles, a walk and a long home run by Dearborn's "Monster" broke the contest wide open. Four of the runs came before anyone was retired.

★ ★ ★

A costly three-base error almost but turned the tables on the winners earlier, however. Trailing 4-2, Harvey's put on base two runners to lead off the sixth.

Catcher Skin Keith then attempted to sacrifice but bunted right to the first basement. With an easy play at third, the first sacker promptly threw the ball into left field.

Both runners scored to tie the game, but Keith fell between second and third and was an easy out. Instead of having the go-ahead run on second with none out, the sacks were empty with one down.

One of Keith's leg had given out on him, and the veteran receiver had to be helped from the diamond.

★ ★ ★

Manager Carl Shell used both his ace pitchers last night in a losing cause and will have to call on them again tonight, most likely. Jones, who pitches almost every night, is certain to be back in action in the 7 p.m. lidlifter or the 8:30 nightcap (or both) for the visitors.

Kefauver's Death Stuns Colleagues

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The death of Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., stunned his colleagues in Congress today. Republicans and Democrats joined in praising his contributions to his state and the country.

The main flag over the Capitol was lowered to half staff in honor of the 60-year-old senator who died early today of a heart attack at the naval hospital in suburban Bethesda, Md.

Flags over some Washington buildings already had been lowered to half staff to mark the death yesterday of President and Mrs. Kennedy's newborn son, Patrick.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said Kefauver's death was "a great loss to his state and his country" and a "deep and personal loss to me."

★ ★ ★

"The Senate has lost one of its most outstanding members," said Mansfield. "He was a crusader and an idealist and his contribution to the betterment and the welfare of the nation will be long remembered."

Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill., said "nothing has so distressed me in a long time" as the news of Kefauver's death. They had differences of opinion, said Dirksen, but "I entertained a high respect and deep affection for him."

Dirksen added, "He made a great contribution to the country and was indeed a crusader with deep convictions."

Senate Democratic whip Hubert H. Humphrey, Minn., said the senator's death is "a great loss to the nation and a very big loss to the Congress; Estes had thousands of friends who will mourn his death."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Albert Gore, Kefauver's fellow Democratic senator from Tennessee, said "a true champion of the people has passed." Citing Kefauver's "unusual, sometimes uncanny, vision and courage," Gore said he "was one of the ablest and most dedicated senators of our time."

Young Men Christian Association "Summer Fun Club" activities ended yesterday after six weeks.

Louisiana Politician Wants to Keep Navy Out of County

By The Associated Press

A south Louisiana political leader says he wants the Plaquemines Parish County Council to declare business in the parish off limits to the Navy in a sort of public accommodations regulation in reverse.

★ ★ ★

Leander H. Perez, 72-year-old political boss and outspoken segregationist, plans to make the recommendation at the next council meeting Aug. 28.

He also suggested Friday that children of personnel at the Naval air station at Belle Chasse be barred from public schools and that civilians stay off the sprawling base five miles south of New Orleans.

NAVY REPLIES

Rear Adm. Charles H. Lyman III, district commandant, said if these suggestions are carried out he is ready to take the matter to court.

The directive which caused the commotion was issued July 26. It authorized the armed services to declare off limits to servicemen any areas where "relentless discrimination persists against Negro servicemen and their families." Base commanders were empowered to make such declarations but only with prior approval of the service secretary concerned.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, a new public accommodations bill was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt.

The bill was described as similar to the Kennedy administration's proposal for banning racial discrimination in stores, hotels, restaurants and other private establishments catering to interstate trade.

Prouty said, however, that its coverage would be broader, that it would apply across the board to all places open to the public.

100 JAILED

At Goldsboro, N.C., about 100 Negroes were jailed during what was described as the largest racial demonstration to date in the city of 35,000.

Negroes resumed protest marches at Williamston, N.C., in the face of a new antipicketing ordinance and about 54 were arrested. At East St. Louis, Ill., a soft drink distributing firm agreed to hire two Negroes after a demonstration in which 20 persons were arrested.

About 50 demonstrators sat down at the entrance to a construction project in Elizabethn N.J., during continuing protests for more jobs for Negroes. Two Negro men were arrested during a brief pushing-shoving melee.

One civil rights demonstrator received minor injuries when he backed against a moving work truck at an apartment construction site in the Queens section of New York. Pickets paraded at a housing project in Manhattan and sit-ins continued at the office of the governor and the mayor.

'CONSTRUCTIVE'

In Washington, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz described as very constructive a meeting between construction industry management and union representatives.

Agreement was reached to meet monthly with Labor Department officials to implement an antibias policy in the enrollment of apprentices.

A federal grand jury at Macon, Ga., returned indictments charging three members of an antisegregation organization at Albany, Ga., with obstructing justice and six others with perjury.

Included were the president and the acting president of the Albany Movement, a biracial group active in the southwest Georgia city where hundreds of demonstrators have been arrested the past two years.

★ ★ ★

Three defendants were charged with obstructing justice by carrying out a conspiracy to picket and boycott a grocery store because the owner as a juror voted against a Negro in a federal civil suit last April. The other six defendants were charged with perjuring themselves before the jury.

House Writers Decide on Tax Revision Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — House writers have now passed judgment on most of President Kennedy's tax revision proposals, though their decision on the major tax cut part of his program still lies ahead.

The Ways and Means Committee has gone at least part way with Kennedy on most of the suggestions he made in the name of reducing inequities and bringing more income under tax so that rates could be cut more deeply.

★ ★ ★

But in terms of revenue, the committee has provided for only about one-third of what Kennedy proposed —about $1 billion, instead of more than $3 billion.

It still is expected to recommend a tax cut approaching Kennedy's net $10 billion-plus proposal. But because it has not broadened the tax base in the way he suggested, it will not be able to recommend the kind of rate reductions he advocated from the present range of 20 to 91 per cent. He proposed 14 to 65, but apparently both the bottom and the top levels, as set by the committee, will have to be higher.

RELIES ON PROVISION

For the offsetting revenue it sought, the administration relied heavily on one provision which never got off the ground in Congress: a proposal to cut down itemized deductions — for local taxes, interest, charity and the like—by allowing only the amount in excess of 5 per cent of a taxpayer's income.

★ ★ ★

The Treasury said this would bring in $2.3 billion a year, more than two-thirds of the total pickup it wanted.

★ ★ ★

This proposal proved almost universally unpopular among the legislators. The closest the committee came to it was to recommend disallowing deductions for state gasoline, liquor and cigarette taxes —although real estate, income and sales taxes still would be deductible. This is tagged for $500 million additional revenue.

PATIENCE

Child training is 99% patience. They need our guidance; it cannot be hurried. There is no shortcut. Patience is vital.

We plan a holiday. Violent winds, heavy rain, floods mock our efforts. Time drags. It seems everything that can go wrong has gone that way; we lean upon the shoulder of patience and it doesn't fail us. The sun shines, the flood conditions disappear and we leave for our holiday in ideal weather.

Dad has his eye on the big job ahead; a new man is appointed. The floor-of-hope is gone; patience builds a new one. The new man fails, dad has the job through merit and goes on to the next one and the next one to the position at the top.

The winding maze of the future is often puzzling. It builds barriers that seem to lead to only one destination—failure; patience points to an easy access. We travel around barriers to a solution. You'll be surprised how many times your goal is closer than you know. I won't attempt to tell you why this is so but it is time after time after time. Force creates force; patience dissolves it.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear son, Jerry Ezell, who passed away August 11, 1962.
Calmly and peacefully he is sleeping,
Sweetest rest that follows pain.
We who love him sadly miss him,
As it dawns this first sad year.
Sadly missed by mother and father, sisters and brother, relatives and friends.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR BEloved husband and father, Vernon W. Knoll who passed away August 10, 1962.
Often a lonely heartache,
And many a silent tear,
But always a beautiful memory,
Of the one we loved so dear!
Sadly missed by wife, children and families.

Eye Successor to MESC Head

Horton Resigns to Get Pay Hike as Assistant

DETROIT (UPI)—The name of Thomas Roumell was mentioned today as the successor to Max M. Horton as head of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC).

Horton, 55, resigned yesterday and will revert to his civil service status as assistant director of the commission.

MESC spokesmen said Roumell's name has come up as a successor to Horton, but it is too early to tell who will assume the $18,000 a year post.

Roumell is the Detroit director of the National Labor Relations Board.

Horton resigned to take the post of deputy director of the commission. His new office, which comes under civil service, means a pay hike of $3,000 a year. His new salary will be $21,000.

Horton is one of the nation's foremost authorities on unemployment insurance. He was chairman of a study commission which drew up the first Michigan Unemployment Act in 1936.

At a meeting yesterday, the MESC passed a unanimous resolution praising Horton's "positive leadership which kept Michigan in the front of administrative agencies for employment security."

Horton called all the commission members together after the meeting and thinked them for their cooperation during his 13 years as director. He also said that he would be glad to be of and assistance to the new director.

Senator Asks Rewards for Cuban Defectors

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, wants the United States to resume a Korean War policy and offer rewards to Russians in Cuba if they will defect to the West.

Recalling that bounties were given to Communist fliers during the conflict if they would go over to the allies, Bennett said yesterday that the U.S. should "renew this offer — of a substantial reward, a job, and a guarantee of asylum—and beam it to Cuba."

Casey vs. Hillbillies

Prize TV Shows to Slug It Out

HOLLYWOOD — In this corner, the champions of the television ratings, those cotton-picking sion ratings, those cotton-picking "Beverly Hillbillies."

THOMAS

And in this corner, the undefeated star of the neuro surgeons, "Ben Casey."

The television trade is anticipating this match with delight. It will be taking place on Wednesday nights at 9, and everyone in the industry will be watching the ratings.

Why are two such popular shows pitted against each other? Obviously ABC thinks its grim doctor can outpoint CBS' cornfed comedy show or it wouldn't have moved "Casey" from his invincible Monday at 10 position.

CHANCE FOR NO. 1

Vincent Edwards, Casey himself, thinks his show has a chance of licking the "Hillbillies," No. 1 in last season's rating.

"We might be able to pick up a whole new audience, coming on an hour earlier," said Edwards. "The Monday spot was too late for a lot of kids and a lot of working people, too. Now we might be able to attract some of them, as well as the younger kids who have watched the Hillbillies."

Judging from the history of "Ben Casey," Edwards optimism is well placed.

"It's a miracle that the show ever went on the air," he said. "Recently I heard the story of how it was put on the schedule with only one minute of time sponsored. On our first show we had 14 promos—the non-paying commercials for other network shows. If sales hadn't picked up, the network could have sustained a loss in the millions.

"Fortunately the show caught on fast. Within three or four weeks we were sold out."

And what is NBC doing? It has refused to abdicate Wednesday night and is coming up with an hour thriller called "Espionage," that will start the same time as Casey and the Hillbillies. It ought to be a good fight.

Cuba Recruiting Volunteer Coffee Harvest Workers

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba is recruiting "volunteer workers" to harvest its forthcoming coffee crop.

The Communist Havana newspaper Hoy reported that in Oriente Province alone 40,000 such laborers are needed for a 45-day harvesting stint.

"The mass organizations have been selecting volunteer workers," said a recent issue of Hoy which reached exiles.

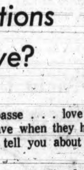
Exiles say such "volunteer work" amounts to forced labor because of coercion used in recruiting.'

Will Future Generations Cease to Fall in Love?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Love is out-of-date . . . passe . . . love is for squares . . . it's something they used to have when they had horses and buggies . . . Mom and Dad could tell you about it, but — not nowadays!

"Love has got to be sort of old-fashioned . . . I'm beginning to see that in the next generation people won't fall in love at all. They'll just have relationships . . ."



WILSON

Shelley Winters delivered this prophecy a few nights ago.

★ ★ ★

"The theme is that love has ceased to exist in our time," Shelley said. "Now most youngsters come from broken homes. Love 'ever after' seems an outmoded idea to them. They don't believe it can happen . . . a life partner that you stay with after your children grow up."

Q. You mean eventually there won't be any marriage at all?

A. Now don't try to get me into that! I'm saying I hope it doesn't happen. Life without love can be very cold and barren and unbeautiful.

Q. You're living in the most sophisticated circle in the world. In your group do you see any successful marriages?

A. Very few. The ones that are, are marvelous. The Fredric Marches. Lunt and Fontanne . . .

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

There'll be two "Barnums" at the World Fair — reminiscent of two "Hot Mikados" at the '39 Fair . . . Teresa Brewer bought into a tulip bulbery in the Netherlands . . . Robert Goulet and Carol Lawrence go directly from their Plaza wedding Aug. 12 to Toronto, where Bob stars at the Canadian National Exposition . . . Maureen O'Sullivan's daughter Mia Farrow got her break as an actress, appearing on "The Doctors".

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Getting up very early Sunday so you can have a nice breakfast with the children, and go to church is a wonderful idea — right up to the moment you're supposed to get out of bed.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "If you think the words 'night' and 'evening' have same meaning, note the different effect they have on a gown." That's earl, brother.

Crime Investigator Kefauver Is Dead at 60

Trial of White Is Recessed Until Tuesday

Jury to Consider 3 Verdicts in Pontiac Murder Case

Special to The Press

KALAMAZOO — The first-degree murder trial of Adoise White, 22, was recessed yesterday until 9 a.m. Tuesday when final arguments will be heard.

Guilty of first-degree murder, not guilty, or not guilty by reason of insanity, will be the three verdicts considered by the Kalamazoo jury.

White is on trial for the March 16 slaying of Robert A. Greene, comanager of a Kroger store at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Roads.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer is hearing the case.

The trial started last Tuesday in Kalamazoo Circuit Court after being transferred on a change of venue order from the Oakland County judge.

SOUGHT CHANGE

Defense Attorney Milton R. Henry asked for the change of trial site because of the notority of the crime in Oakland County. He said early in the trial that he would seek White's acquittal on grounds of insanity.

Codefendant Charles Hodges also 22 and White's nephew, pleaded guilty to the murder charge and waived a jury trial. He testified Thursday and claimed his uncle did all the "cutting" of the victim.

Greene was stabbed 42 times and shot in the head once after he had been forced to open the safe in the supermarket.

Yesterday, two psychiatrists and a Pontiac police detective took the stand for the prosecution.

Both doctors disputed defense claims that White was an epileptic. They said he could be considered sane, competent, and not epileptic.

Defense witnesses had previously said White was an epileptic and suffered from "blackouts and fits."

Then police detective Williams, who said he took part in the interrogation of White, testified he saw no police brutality. On Thursday, White said he was beaten by police and forced to confess to the crime.

"No one ever put a hand on him," Williams stated. "He was offered food and refused it."

Beer also ordered Hodges to appear Tuesday. However, the judge did not make it clear if he will sentence him before or after the jury is sent into deliberation.

Fourteen jurors have heard the murder trial, but Judge Beer will dismiss two before the jury begins deliberation.

PEACHY PICKINGS — Eighteen-year-old Susan Pill, Pontiac's Junior Miss (center), won the Romeo Peach Queen crown last night over 10 other area title-holders. Here she is flanked by her two maids of honor, Charlotte Braden, 21, Miss Waterford, (left) and Norma Geisler, 18, Miss Oxford. The trio will reign over Romeo's 31st annual Peach Festival Labor Day weekend.

Pontiac's Junior Miss

Sue Pill Picked Peach Queen

By LEE OLSON
Area News Editor

Pontiac's Junior Miss, Susan Pill, has a new title today — Romeo Peach Queen of 1963.

★ ★ ★

The blue-eyed honey blonde won the coveted crown last night over 10 other area beauties in competition staged at the Romeo Youth Center.

Susan, who is 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pill, 2401 E. Hammond Lake, West Bloomfield Township.

As queen she will reign over Romeo's 31st annual Peach Festival Labor Day weekend.

PRESENT PEACHES

To publicize the three-day celebration, she will make numerous public appearances and present peaches to area, state and national dignitaries beginning Tuesday when she will meet Gov. George Romney in Lansing.

Joining Susan in making it a clean sweep for Oakland County in the contest were girls from two neighboring communities chosen as her honor attendants.

First maid of honor is Charlotte Braden, 21, Miss Waterford. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Braden Jr., 1048 Erskine.

★ ★ ★

Named second maid was Norma Geisler, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Geisler, 76 S. Washington, Oxford. She entered the competition as Miss Oxford.

All 11 contestants appeared on stage three times — first in street wear to give a short reading before the standing-room-only audience.

Each girl carried a card with the name of a peach, which was their sole identification during the judging.

FORMAL ATTIRE

They reappeared twice later in formal attire for interviews with master of ceremonies Richard McLean and to answer four questions prepared by the judges.

★ ★ ★

The judges were John Foster, head stylist, Ford and Thunderbird styling, Ford Motor Co.; Jo Linda Pratt, director of John Robert Powers School, Detroit; Kelly P. Walquist, reporter for the Daily Monitor-Leader, Mount Clemens; and Howard Heldenbrand, Pontiac Press editorial staff writer.

★ ★ ★

The new queen, who plans to enter Michigan State University next month and major in medicine, is no stranger to beauty contests.

As Pontiac's Junior Miss she entered the Michigan Junior Miss contest and was named second runnerup. Later she was picked first runnerup in the State Cherry Queen competition in Traverse City.

★ ★ ★

Besides the busy schedule she faces in the weeks to come publicizing the Peach Festival, Susan also is awaiting word on the date of the Miss Teen Midwest Contest in which she is a semifinalist.

TRIP TO WASHINGTON

Climax of her prefestival activities will be a trip to Washington, D. C., to present peaches to state and national dignitaries there.

Plans are being made to have her present peaches to Vice President Lyndon M. Johnson if he is in town.

★ ★ ★

Other candidates for the crown were Nancy Jilicocur, Miss Algonac; Audene Clark, Miss Romeo; Dale Desy, Miss Utica; Jo Sutton, Miss Ortonville; and Barbara Sue Goodwin of Roseville, Miss Metropolitan Beach.

★ ★ ★

Also entered were Jacqueline Bondar, Miss Roseville; Beverly Lambert, Miss Armada; and Judy Whipple, Miss Fraser.

Pontiac Charter Lacks Clear Recall Section

City Commission action to suspend City Manager Robert A. Stierer has uncovered a major flaw in the document under which Pontiac is governed.

There is no clear, concise provision in the City Charter for recalling a city commissioner.

Residents opposing the Stierer suspension have been raising questions as to the proper procedure for recalling city commission members.

The answer is simple: File an affidavit demanding a recall and let the city interpret the charter.

Any registered voter in Pontiac may file a signed affidavit asking the name of the commissioner sought to be removed and the grounds for removal.

It's up to the city to determine how many signatures are needed and instruct the applicant.

City Attorney William A. Ewart bluntly admits the charter provision "is a mess."

"The charter was adopted in 1920," Ewart explained. "When the city amended it to establish seven political districts, the chapter on recall was not changed to conform in all respects."

Ewart's opinion is that while a petition recalling any commissioner would probably require signatures of qualified voters on a citywide basis, the actual recall election would take place only in the district from which the commissioner in question was elected.

After the person seeking the recall has filed his affidavit on whom he wants recalled, listing the reasons, the city clerk prepares the petitions and issues them to the applicant.

Petitions must be signed by registered voters equal in number to 25 per cent of the total vote cast in the last general election.

Depending on the city attorney's interpretation, this could range from several hundred to several thousand.

★ ★ ★

In any case, the maximum number of signatures needed would be around 6,200.

Looks Good for a Picnic on Sunday

Been planning a picnic or barbecue?

Following a dip to a low 58 tonight, the mercury will climb to a high of 82 tomorrow.

Skies will become partly cloudy Monday, with slightly warmer weather returning.

★ ★ ★

The wind story today is northnortheast at 10 to 20 m.p.h., diminishing to light, variable tonight and shifting to southeast-south at 5 to 10 m.p.h. Sunday.

Rainfall yesterday morning measured .46 of an inch in downtown Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Fifty-six was the lowest temperature recorded at The Press prior to 8 a. m. By 1 p. m. the downtown area had warmed up to 79.

Water Change-Over Transpires Smoothly

By DICK SAUNDERS

"Ready, all stations," signaled Water Superintendent Herbert G. Parker into the intercom.

"Stand by," shouted consulting engineer Harold Kelly, "15 . . . 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1, ZERO AND GO!"

Plant Supervisor Arthur Hathorn and City Commissioner Dick M. Kirby pushed a button and Detroit water was here.

It was too easy.

The big pump engine started whirring. Slowly it gained momentum and the pump valve indicator struck a steady arc from the "Closed" to the "Open" reading.

★ ★ ★

As predicted, it happened on the stroke of midnight.

At 1 minute and 20 seconds past the 12 o'clock hour, the pump valve hit full open. By this time, Hathorn, who's a 37-year-veteran of the city's water department, was adding the big pump like a mother soothes a baby.

Quickly, Parker began checking with men in the field. All high-service wells were off. Then he signaled the Walnut Street Plant.

★ ★ ★

"Station two, do you read me?"

"Loud and clear," a voice answered.

"Did you experience any appreciable fluctuation in pressure?" Parker asked.

"It went down a little; then back up and holding steady," came the reply.

There was a smile on Parker's face as he turned to watch the roaring machine that was pumping 4,500 gallons of Detroit water per minute.

Paper cups were handed out and everyone had a shot of the clearest water you ever saw (if you've lived in Pontiac all your life).

Soon the crews began opening valves throughout the city. Everyone at the new plant on Opdyke relaxed a little.

Suddenly a trouble call came over the radio. Parker listened intently, fearing the worst.

Someone has lost his flashlight.

A check this morning with Supt. Parker indicated that anticipated problems of rusty water were not materializing.

City Man Dies in Area Crash

Pontiac Woman Victim in Upstate Accident

A Pontiac man was killed in Bloomfield Township early this morning when his car slammed into a pole and tore apart.

Another accident in Cheboygan County yesterday took the life of a Pontiac woman.

The dead are Pedro S. Ortiz, about 36, of 282 Prospect; and Ruth Wheeler, 25, of 5480 Brunswick.

Oakland Highway Toll in '63

Last Year to Date 54

★ ★ ★

The body of Ortiz was found lying on the shoulder of Telegraph, just south of Quarton, 95 feet from the point of impact. There were no witnesses to the accident.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Township police said that Ortiz apparently was traveling south on Telegraph when his car went out of control and struck the steel sign on the center island.

Parts of the car were strewn nearly 50 feet from the sign. Ortiz had been thrown completely across the northbound lane of traffic. The accident was discovered at 3:28 a.m.

Mrs. Wheeler was killed when the pickup truck she was driving ran off Riggsville Road and struck a tree. She died of a skull fracture.

★ ★ ★

Her husband, Wallace F., and three children riding in the rear of the truck were injured.

Her body is at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Army Probing Viet Tot Killing

Child Shot by Misfire of U. S. Copter Gun

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) —The U.S. Army today investigated the killing of a Vietnamese child by an American helicopter gunner whose machine gun accidentally was triggered by an entangled communications cord.

A U.S. military spokesman said the offense could lead to a court martial, but he indicated this was not likely.

The gunner, whose identity was withheld, was hospitalized with shock, the spokesman said.

The accidental strafing in a strategic hamlet north of Saigon also wounded four other persons. None was in critical condition.

The strafing took place Thursday as the villagers were preparing for ceremonies yesterday in which the hamlet was named after outgoing U.S. Ambassador Frederick Nolting Jr. Nolting soon will be replaced by Henry Cabot Lodge.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT

Another unfortunate accident related to the ceremony happened yesterday morning when a Vietnamese girl was struck and injured by a jeep. U. S. military officials said the jeep belonged to the Vietnamese army.

The shooting incident occurred as the U.S. helicopter was bringing supplies into the village, one of many protected hamlets set up by the government as a form of safety against Communist guerrilla attacks.

Artery Rupture Fatal to Noted Dem Senator

Legislator Famed for Coonskin Cap; Sought Presidential Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., a tireless investigator of crime and monopolies and twice a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, died today of a ruptured main heart artery. He was 60.

A tall, soft-spoken, folksy man, he turned the coonskin cap into a personal campaign symbol recognized throughout the nation.

Death came in the predawn hours at Bethesda Naval Hospital while doctors were preparing to operate on an aneurysm, or ballooning, of the aorta, the main blood vessel through which the heart pumps blood into all parts of the body.

The artery ruptured before preparations for the operation could be completed.

Mrs. Kefauver and two of their three daughters, rushing back from a Colorado vacation, landed at Washington airport just about the time the senator died at 3:40 a. m., an aide said.

They had been staying with Tennessee friends at the Cherokee Ranch near Sedalia, Colo.

FOLLOWED SENATE FIGHT

A member of Congress since 1939, Kefauver served five terms in the House before moving to the Senate in 1949. He was re-elected in 1960 to his third Senate term, which would have expired Jan. 3, 1967.

Kefauver had entered the hospital Thursday evening after an active fight on the Senate floor to prevent what he called a give-away of national resources to private interests.

★ ★ ★

He was one of a small group of senators who had opposed establishment of the Communications Satellite Corp. as a privately owned organization, and was trying to prevent it from getting free access to nationally financed satellite developments.

Kefauver thought he was suffering from indigestion, aides said, but the ailment later was announced as a mild heart attack.

Further symptoms Friday night led to a diagnosis of "dissecting aneurysm of the wall of the ascending aorta," a statement from his office said, and preparations were started for an operation.

★ ★ ★

Such an operation requires a standby mechanical heart and considerable technical arrangements, and these were being made for an operation about 10 a.m. today, the statement said, but the blood vesel broke and the senator died.

Kefauver had observed his 60th birthday on July 26. The death was announced by his administrative aide, Charles Cadlwell.

Patrick Bouvier Kennedy Buried in Brief Service

BOSTON (AP)—Little Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, the President's third child who lived less than 40 hours, was buried today in a simple service that lasted less than six minutes.

The infant, born prematurely, was the first to occupy the family plot his grandfather, Joseph P. Kennedy, bought 15 years ago. A Kennedy headstone was already or the grave, in suburban Brookline.

It was in Brookline that the President was born.

★ ★ ★

Earlier, Richard Cardinal Cushing, a long-time friend of the President, said a private Mass of the Angels in the prelate's own chapel.

★ ★ ★

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York attended the mass.

Cardinal Cushing wore white vestments at the mass, unlike a regular funeral mass when black vestments are worn.

'EVERLASTING LIFE'

The mass lasted less than one-half hour. Its main theme was "everlasting life to all children."

★ ★ ★

As the brief service concluded Cardinal Cushing read: "This child shall receive a blessing from the Lord, and mercy from God, his salvation, for this is the race of those who seek the Lord."

There were few people on the streets as the cortege drove at a slow pace to the cemetery 1½ miles away.

After the cardinal said a few prayers at the grave under a canopy, the President left. He went to his helicopter on the grounds of Cardinal Cushing's residence and flew back to Otis Air Force Base, where his wife, Jacqueline, 34, is hospitalized.

★ ★ ★

As if in final salute, the helicopter flew over the cemetery on its way.

Escapes From Rail Car

Gas Hospitalizes 430

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dense clouds of chlorine gas escaping through a broken pipe from a railroad tank car billowed through a densely populated section of Northeast Philadelphia Friday, sending more than 430 persons to hospitals. There were no fatalities.

★ ★ ★

Many persons, some vomiting and screaming because of the searing fumes, tried to flee on foot and were overcome. Many of those stricken were unprotected firemen and policemen who went into the area on mercy missions.

★ ★ ★

Police said the chlorine, stored in liquid form in the tank car, started escaping when a pipe broke.

The car, a Pennsylvania Railroad tanker, apparently was rammed by another car, investigators said.

PUSHED BY WIND

The leaking chlorine turned to a thick, yellow gas. Heavier than air, it was nudged through the neighborhood by a 10-mile-an-hour wind.

It was the second chlorine gas leak in Eastern Pennsylvania in two weeks. A leaking chlorine valve in a Reading swimming pool sickened 59 bathers July 26.

When unmasked firemen and police rescuers tried to enter the stricken area in Philadelphia, many fell in their tracks. William J. Eckles, deputy fire commissioner, said the gas was very toxic.

The leak started about 1:35 p.m. at the Wonder Chemical Co. the owner, Arnold Lanza, 50, was in his office when he smelled what he immediately recognized as escaping chlorine gas.

"I grabbed a mask I keep just for such emergencies, called for my 15 men to leave the plant and ran outside," he recounted.

SPOTTED BROKEN PIPE

Lanza said after he detected the escaping gas he saw that a 1-inch copper pipe connecting the car and a vat had snapped at both ends. The chlorine was spilling onto the tank car, over the track and into the plant, which makes laundry bleach and detergents.

Shouting warnings as he ran around the plant, he scrambled up an embankment and turned off the valve.

Residents poured from buildings, including mothers carrying crying babies and searching for children at play.

The fumes grazed over a nearby swimming pool. "It burned us like fire," said one little girl. "When we jumped into the water, it hurt even worse."

★ ★ ★

Hospital emergency rooms soon were overflowing. About 70 persons were admitted.

A hospital spokesman said the gas victims suffered shortness of breath, chest pains and sore throats.

Six Survive as Plane Is Ditched

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—Six U.S. Navy airmen ditched their crippled plane in the storm-tossed Bay of Salerno Friday night with only one engine working—and all came out alive.

★ ★ ★

They were not even injured when a U.S. Navy ship picked them up six hours later from a yellow, inflated rubber life raft in which they had battled battering waves for more than six hours.

It was a masterful landing of a crippled Dakota C117 with a flaming motor in seas so bad small rescue craft were driven back to the shelter of ports.

CREW CREDITED

But Lt. Cmdr. Harold Hamilton Kelly of Pensacola, Fla. gave the credit to discipline of his crew and to the USS Altair, Navy supply ship based at Naples.

"Not one of the crew had ever ditched a plane before," Kelly said afterward. "But the discipline could not have been better. There was absolutely no panic."

★ ★ ★

U.S. and Italian planes searched for the Dakota for six hours until flares from the bobbing life raft were sighted. Then the Altair plowed in through the sea storm to pick up the survivors.

"It was a very fast recovery for a night recovery," Kelly told North Atlantic Treaty Organization officers afterward in his report on the rescue.

ROUTINE FLIGHT

A NATO spokesman said that 12 men, four crewmen and eight passengers, were aboard the C117 Dakota when it took off from Capodichino Airport outside Naples on a routine flight to Catania, Sicily. A later communique said eight were aboard the plane. Finally the figure was changed to six.

The Dakota radioed within a hour after takeoff that it was running into trouble. Thunderstorms were brewing in the area when radio contact was lost.

Italian military and commercial vessels, American ships and planes, and helicopters of both nations sought the plane.

Search planes spotted flares near Li Galli islet, about seven miles off the Salerno peninsula south of Naples. Vessels concentrated in that area until the men were picked up.

Mobs Erupt Into Warfare

NEW YORK (UPI) — The struggle between the Gallo and Profaci mobs for control of the Brooklyn rackets erupted into open warfare again yesterday. Two men were fatally shot and a third was wounded.

★ ★ ★

Joseph (Joe Bats) Cardiella, 56, who left the Profaci forces in 1961 to join the Gallo mob, was slain early yesterday as he drove his automobile through Brooklyn's Bay Ridge section.

A black car pulled up parallel to Cardiello's vehicle and a volley of shots cut him down.

Passers-by who heard the shots saw the victim slump over the wheel of his car. He had died by the time an ambulance delivered him to a nearby hospital.

★ ★ ★

About four hours later and about 50 miles away, near Port Jefferson, Long Island, a similar shooting brought death to Louis Mariani, 26, and serious wounds to Anthony Getch, who was riding in Mariani's car.

ROBERT C. BURGER

Charge Youth Killed Priest

NY Slaying Termed Senseless by Police

NEW YORK (AP) —Robert Charles Burger, 18, a former mental patient, was charged with murder today in the slaying of a Roman Catholic priest.

Police in suburban Yonkers, where Burger was arrested, termed the slaying senseless. They said the youth offered no motive for the fatal stabbing of the Rev. Francis J. McShane, 42, in the upper Manhattan apartment of the priest's sister.

★ ★ ★

Burger was returned to New York for arraignment.

Yonkers detective Anthony Tocco, who has known Burger for two years and aided in the arrest, said, "He wasn't a bad kid but he had a terrible temper, a very violent nature."

Burger's mother is dead. Although his father is alive, he has been living in a foster home in Yonkers as a ward of the state.

BEFRIENDED YOUTH

Father McShane, police said, befriended in the youth when they met early Thursday at the Riverdale Pizzeria in Yonkers. They drove in separate cars to the apartment of the priest's sister, who was away on a cruise, and the slaying followed.

New York Chief of Detectives Lawrence J. McKearney quoted Burger as saying he "went berserk and blacked out."

★ ★ ★

That was the only explanation given for the two wounds in the priest's chest and one in the back. The death weapon was a steak knife with a five-inch blade.

Some nine hours after the attack, Father McShane's brother, the Rev. Vincent McShane, entered the apartment and found the fully clothed body propped in a sitting position in a closet.

★ ★ ★

Burger's undoing was in driving a stolen car to the Manhattan apartment, leaving it there and driving the victim's auto back to Yonkers.

The 6-foot-2, 165-pound blond youth spent part of last year at Hudson State Mental Hospital, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., Tocco said.

HIT BY TRAGEDY—Getting away from it all was the goal for Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Keith and children of Farmington. They planned to use a Chinese junk in a ferry business in the Virgin Islands. Mrs. Keith died before the venture got started.

Family's Dream of New Life Ends With Mother's Death

FARMINGTON — The Lowell Keiths and their two children were planning a new life in the Virgin Islands when they left here less than a month ago.

They were going to operate a ferrying service on a 38-foot Chinese junk. They were going to "get away from it all," they said.

But the unexpected death of Mrs. Keith, 30, Wednesday night brought an end to their plans. Keith, his son David, 8, and daughter Jo Ann, 1, were to fly back to Michigan last night.

Mrs. Keith died in her sleep. Her husband's uncle, Dr. Kelly Keith of 721 Parkman Drive, Bloomfield Hills, said she had a heart condition which may have been caused by diptheria when she was a child.

The Keiths had planned to travel to St. Croix, southernmost of the Virgin Islands, on their boat. However, a Lake Michigan storm battered the craft and they decided to ship it.

They had flown to the island and were waiting for the boat when Mrs. Keith died.

Dr. Keith said Keith and his children will stay at his home. He did not know whether they would return to their dream in the Virgin Islands.

"It's a real tragedy," he said.

Senate OKs $5.5 Billion for Bigger Space Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has approved spending more than $5.5 billion on the expanding space program.

But some of the earlier allure and excitement of trying to beat Russia to the moon appear to be fading.

By a narrow 37 to 32, Senate leaders beat down a bipartisan effort Friday to slash $307 million from the huge authorization for the current fiscal year. At $5,511,520,400, the authorization is about $200 million below President Kennedy's request, but more than $300 million above the House's figure.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, who led the move to cut the authorization back to the $5.2 billion voted by the House, said he had not heard a good reason for rushing a man to the moon by 1970.

EXPRESSES DEBT FEAR

And Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., expressed fear that the national debt may reach the moon before American astronauts do.

But Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., floor manager for the bill and chairman of the Senate Space Committee, and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., insisted the lunar projects would help the United States overtake Russia's superiority in thrust power.

★ ★ ★

Their argument carried. On the showdown, 18 Republicans and 14 Democrats voted for the slash. They were beaten by 28 Democrats and 9 Republicans.

In other actions:

—The Senate voted 45 to 21 to retain in the bill $5 million to start building a new National Aeronautics and Space Administration research center.

The President and NASA officials have said the center — expected to cost $35-50 million—would be located in the Boston area. Some critics contended the object was to carry out the campaign pledge of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., youngest brother of the President, that he could "do more" for his state.

'NOT YET SELECTED'

However, Anderson insisted Boston has not yet been selected, and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass. a member of the Space Committee, agreed. Anderson said several other sites are under consideration.

★ ★ ★

—The Senate voted 60 to 11 to require the new Communications Satellite Corporation to repay the space agency for any "exclusive benefits" the corporation obtains from government research. A group of Democratic senators had contended that a $44-million authorization for communications research by NASA was a giveaway of taxpayers funds for a private profit monopoly.

The Senate bill now goes back to the House. Members of the two branches probably will be asked to iron out the many differences in the House and Senate versions.

Unworried Over Woes of Seaway

MASSENA, N.Y. (UPI) — The congressional sponsor of the St. Lawrence Seaway Bill said yesterday he was unconcerned by the waterway's financial difficulties because original estimates did not have the operation in the black before 1966.

Former Michigan Rep. George Dondero, who served as Oakland County's congressman from 1933 to 1956, visited the seaway yesterday for the first time since 1958 when the Wiley-Dondero Ship Channel was dedicated to him and former Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., as sponsors of the St. Lawrence Seaway Bill.

Dondero, now 80, said critics of the seaway's financial position failed to consider that the federal government has spent "hundreds of millions of dollars" on the Ohio, Mississippi and Missouri rivers without expecting to regain a cent.

As for hopes of someday providing ice-free winter navigation on the seaway, Dondero said that would be a matter of scientific progress, but at present Great Lakes industries "managed very well" with stockpiling during the nonnavigable months.

Dondero conferred with seaway administrator Joseph H. McCann and toured the waterway by tug. He left today for Quebec and to visit villages that were resettled after being inundated in the building of the seaway. He then was scheduled to drive home to Oak Ridge, Mich.

Claim Estes Owes $10 Million in Taxes

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes, a bankrupt West Texas promoter sentenced to 23 years in prison, has tax problems. The government claims he and his wife owe it $10.5 million.

The Internal Revenue Service filed a $10,530,852.46 tax lien against him Friday.

The claim said demands for payment have been made but the taxes remain unpaid.

Estes, who has been convicted for mail fraud and conspiracy in federal court and swindling in state court, once testified his assets were worth "about $40 million as a going business."

His business assets were sold by creditors on Sept. 22, 1962, for $5.8 million, plus $1.2 million in interests, to Morris D. Jaffe, 40, of San Antonio.

Plan Big Step for Boys' Club

A proposed Boys' Club for Waterford Township will move a big step forward with the filing of incorporation papers Monday.

Aim of its backers, which have been planning the club for six months is to acquire property and other facilities to set up a recreation program for boys of all ages.

"But it's more than that. It will be a place where boys can go to meet others, learn crafts and hobbies and talk about their problems," said Charles Sitton, 3505 Richmond, one of the club's directors.

★ ★ ★

Sitton said formal action on setting up a nine-man board of directors, and establishing the club's policies will be done Aug. 28.

Pointing out Waterford has 7,000 boys which the club could serve, Sitton added "There is no really adequate place in the township for our youth."

Other directors include Richard Goldsworthy, Rudolph Lisac, Arthur Harrison, John Stefanski and Arthur Holmes.

★ ★ ★

The club started unofficially this summer by sponsoring a baseball program which enrolled some 200 boys.

'I'm No Chattel'

Bride Wears Black

HARROGATE, England (UPI)—The bride wore black at her wedding to show, she said, that "I'm no chattel."

Schoolteacher Helen Barclay, 22, also broke a string of other conventions yesterday when she married Stephen Fitzpatrick, 24, an engineer, in St. Robert's Roman Catholic Church.

There was no best man; no one gave away the bride. There was no reception and no guest were invited outside their two families.

★ ★ ★

And when the new Mrs. Fitzpatrick left after the wedding for France and Italy—"not for a honeymoon, but for a holiday," she insisted—she wore slacks.

Bride and groom both said they were aiming at "a marriage of equals."

"I feel that weddings have become a mixture of superstition, pagan fertility rites and commercialism," said the bride.

Rusk Seeks W. German Ban Support

BONN, Germany (AP) — U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today to rally West German support for the limited nuclear test-ban treaty and for the further East-West talks to ease cold war tensions.

★ ★ ★

West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder greeted Rusk here.

Rusk said in an airport statement:

★ ★ ★

"I am delighted to accept the invitation to come here. I am looking forward to the chance to discuss fully the talks in Moscow."

'I'M CONFIDENT'

Referring to next week's debate on the treaty in the U.S. Senate, Rusk added, "I am confident that many questions raised by the treaty will be thoroughly discussed and made matters of record in the Senate discussion."

Rusk added that he was looking forward to seeing Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, and that he regretted his visit will be so short. He is due to leave Sunday morning.

★ ★ ★

Rusk lunched at the home of U.S. Ambassador George C. McGhee, who was his undersecretary in Washington until last spring. McGhee also was host to Schroeder.

★ ★ ★

Rusk's job was to soothe West German fears that the East German Communist regime will begin playing a new and more important role on the international stage. The West Germans say this could come about through the East German Reds signing the limited nuclear pact and participating in other East-West arrangements that may follow.

Raids Staged in Train Holdup

Expect Arrests Soon in $7-Million Robbery

LONDON (UPI) — Scotland Yard's crack "flying squad" staged lightning predawn raids in London's East End slums today in a desperate search for clues to the greatest train robbery in history.

Police sources said detectives expected to make arrests soon in the theft of $7 million from a Glasgow - to - London mail train on Thursday.

But Sir Ronald Howe, former assistant commissioner at Scotland Yard, was quoted by The Daily Express as saying he personally considered the chances of capturing the thieves as "pretty slim." Howe headed the yard's crimination investigation division (CID) for 12 years.

★ ★ ★

". . Because of the antiquated structure of our police force the best CID brains in the country arrived late on the job," he was quoted as saying. The Express said Howe claimed Scotland Yard did not get to the scene until nearly a day after the robbery.

The robbery carried out with the boldness and precision of a commando raid, resulted in the posting of a record $728,000 in reward money.

It was hoped the reward, about 10 per cent of the loot, would tempt an informer to come forward with information to put the holdup gang behind bars. According to reports, between 20 and 30 men staged the theft.

Postmaster General Reginald Bevins hinted last night that three special railroad cars supposed to be theft-proof may have been sabotaged.

"To say the least, it is rather mysterious and coincidental that these three (cars) have broken down," Bevins said. "one went out on June 22 with a 'hot axle,' a second on July 4 with the same trouble and the third on Aug. 1 with a 'flat tire' (damaged wheel)."

Sen. Kefauver Is Dead at 60

senator serving his third straight six-year term, was as well known for his senate investigations of crime, the drug industry and boxing as he was for his two unsuccessful campaigns for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952 and 1956.

A big, friendly man, he had a wide campaign grin and reached out to shake any hand in sight. His soft voice seemed surprising, coming from his 6-foot-3, 200-pound frame.

"My names is Estes Kefauver," he would say. "I'm running for president of the United States. I hope you'll help me."

Many voters seemed to like the Kefauver approach and in 1952 they helped him sweep 14 of the 17 Democratic presidential preferential primaries.

★ ★ ★

At the national convention in Chicago, Kefauver led on the first two ballots, but Adlai E. Stevenson, now U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, overtook him in the third and went to win the nomination. Such powerful party figures as former President Harry S. Truman helped throw the victory to Stevenson.

★ ★ ★

Kefauver tried and lost again to Stevenson for the 1956 nomination, but wound up winning the vice presidential spot on the ticket by defeating a rising young Democratic figure, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Tiny School Must Close

HAYWARD, Calif. (AP) — The little Redwood schoolhouse will close its doors forever next year after 103 years of classes.

"We tried so hard to keep our little school open," said Mrs. Kathleen Bray, clerk of the Redwood Elementary School Board. "I think we are one of two single-room schools with eight separate grades and one teacher left in the state."

★ ★ ★

Redwood was founded in 1860 to serve the heavily wooded area east of here, but because of the lack of residential land, the school was unable to draw the required minimum of six students.

The Massachusetts General Assembly in 1647 required every township having 50 householders to provide a teacher and a schoolroom.

The blaze, which broke out in a cable was extinguished in five minutes, but it paralyzed train service for more than an hour while 60,000 homeward-bound suburbanites milled in the big station.

Chinese Call K a Betrayer

HONG KONG (AP) — The Chinese Communists accused Premier Khrushchev today of betraying world communism and joining the West in hurling "baseless slanders and abuses" at Peking.

The Chinese Communist newspaper Wen Wei Po, keeping up a barrage the Chinese have been firing at Khrushchev with increasing intensity, said:

Defends Lampoon of Royalty

LONDON (UPI) — Comedian Peter Sellers scoffed today at criticism of "Fool Britannia," a new long-playing record which kids the royal family and the government in the "first family" manner.

"Only a prude could possibly be offended by it," Sellers said.

The record was made in New York by Sellers, Daniel Massey, Anthony Newley and Newley's wife, actress Joan Collins.

Executives of the firm that is issuing the record (Decca) also defended it in principle, although no copies of it have reached London yet.

"We are very jealous of our good name," said William Townsley, a director of the company. "We wouldn't dream of releasing anything that was tasteless. Anyway, we cannot come to a decision until we have heard it."

SERIES OF SKETCHES

The record consists of a series of sketches, including one supposedly set in Buckingham Palace. At one point, a loud hiccup is heard, followed by the queen, impersonated by Sellers, saying: "No. No more cherry brandy, Charles."

Sellers scoffed at the idea it would offend the royal family. "I am quite sure Prince Philip would get a good laugh out of it," he said.

In another skit, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan — also impersonated by Sellers — is heard defending Britain's security services in the House of Commons.

"I can assure you," he said, "there is a very fine secret service operating in Britain. It belongs to the Russians."

Engineering Profesor Expires in New Jersey

ENGLEWOOD, N. J. (UPI) — Dr. Arthur W. Hixson, 83, professor emeritus of engineering at Columbia University, died Thursday at the Englewood Hospital of a heart attack.

During World War I, Dr. Hixson worked for the high explosives division of Army Ordnance, and was a technical adviser to the War Claims Board of the War Department. His courses at Columbia were staples of the graduate curriculum.

Gives 90 Days in Chrysler Suit

Couple Gets Deadline in Pretrial Dispositions

DETROIT (AP) — A Muskegon County Circuit Court judge has given attorneys for William C. Newberg and his wife, Dorothy, 90 days to take pretrial depositions or he will dismiss their case against Chrysler Corp.

Judge Henry Beers said the Newbergs have done "absolutely nothing toward the prosecution of their bill of complaint" since they obtained an injunction against Chrysler Jan. 18, 1961, preventing the company from selling 130,000 of Newberg's Chrysler stock.

While visiting on the Wayne County circuit bench, Judge Beers was assigned the Newberg case.

Beers denied Chrysler motion for dismissal, saying, "While I feel I would be justified in ordering a dismissal of the bill, I hesitate to do so.

★ ★ ★

"It is the natural desire of all judges to afford a plaintiff his day in court even though at times it seems the plaintiff is not deserving of it."

Beers granted Newberg's attorneys 90 days to complete taking depositions from witnesses. He set Oct. 25 for a pretrial conference.

Newberg is suing to set aside certain terms of a settlement made with Chrysler after he resigned as president, June 30, 1960. He agreed to a settlement of $455,000 as a result of what was called his conflict of interests in two supplier firms serving Chrysler while he was an executive.

Record Set for Space Message

PASO ROBLES, Calif. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration claimed yesterday a record for the greatest surface distance ever spanned in communications via a satellite.

The distance was 7,700 miles, between a NASA station near here and a ship off Lagos, Nigeria, via the Syncom 2 communications satellite.

Scientists used both voice and teletype messages to exchange messages for an hour, beginning at 11:43 p.m. Thursday. Syncom 2 at the time was orbiting 22,000 miles above the South Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

The previous distance record was 5,922 miles between Liverpool, England, and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, last spring, via NASA's Relay satellite.

Mortgaged Homes, Lots Go Up in Valuation

Value of the average home with mortgage insured by the FHA in 1962 was $15,151, an increase of $233 over the typical valuation in 1961. Cost of the lot averaged $2,715, up from $2,513 in 1961.

Many other costs of constructing a home, such as installing ceramic tile bathrooms, remained nearly stable due to improved efficiency in the installation processes.

Whether the floor system is conventional or engineered, quality of the lumber is important. Framing elements should be both stable and strong. Properly seasoned lumber provides the ideal balance of stiffness and resiliency. Its stable, uniform sizes prevent floors from squeaking and keep the entire home on a firm, even keel.

CHARMING DECK—The right approach to your home might be a wood deck like this, which levels the grade between the street and the front door. This handsome entrance deck of weathered 2-by-4 fir boards is also a perfect lounge spot. The tall windscreens are tongue-and-groove cedar siding in 2-by-4 frame.

Wooden Decks Give Transition

One of the most exciting ideas to come recently from an architect's drawing board is the use of a wood deck as an entrance yard.

Sound kookie? Perhaps, at first thought. But it does make an excellent transition zone between the exterior and interior of the home.

In addition, a wood entrance deck is a fine solution for the home sited on the down side of a steep hill or in such a manner that back and side yards offer no living space. The entrance yard can double as a lounge area.

Using a deck as an entrance yard offers no construction problems. The deck is built at the level of interior floors, or one step below, if desired.

The structural system is the same for this oversize deck as for one of more usual proportions. For such a large area, however, wider boards are preferable for appearance, and Douglas fir two-by-eights are generally specified.

PATTERN 229

RAIN RUNOFF

Spacing for rain runoff between deck boards should be the minimum eighth inch to permit high-heeled ladies to walk with ease and safety.

★ ★ ★

A decked entrance yard will be heavily traveled, so maintenance is a factor to keep in mind. Generally, it's best not to paint or stain the deck because of heavy foot wear.

A better idea would be to allow the decking to weather naturally and acquire the soft silver patina of time and tempest. One season will see the process well under way, and each successive year will add rich beauty to the wood.

For the sake of eye interest as well as privacy from the street, it's smart to convert the entrance deck to a courtyard with perimeter walls. These can be head-height or tall enough to match the height of house walls.

★ ★ ★

For style, use the same siding lumber and pattern as used for the house. It can be set within conventional fence frames and painted or stained to match the house.

Wide opening gates can be included in the plan to close off the yard at night.

For outdoor atmosphere, a wide variety of plantings can be added to the entrance deck. Planter tubs and boxes do the trick and keep gardening chores to a minimum.

Make flagstones of different sizes and colors by pouring concrete into a wooden mold. Pattern 229, which shows every step in building the mold for flag stones and also gives formulas and directions, is 35 cents. Packet 29 contains this pattern and three other full-size patterns for home improvements, all for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Bedford Hills, New York.

Colors Identify Pipes

If you have trouble remembering which pipes in your home carry what substance, paint them in the distinctive colors used by industry for pipeline identification. Thus, your water pipes could be painted white or black, your sprinkler system red and your gas pipes yellow or orange. Select your own color for the hot water pipes.

Three-fourths of the nation's pressure treated poles are of southern pine. Chief reason: ease of treatment. With this type of wood, chemical preservatives achieve deep and uniform penetration, thus assuring maximum protection against severe weather exposure.

TRASH BURNER PATTERN 285

A PERMANENT SOLUTION to the trash-burner problem is shown here. Pattern 285 lists materials, gives concrete mixing formula, shows steps in making reinforced base, installing grate and keeping block construction true. This pattern is 35 cents. If you also are interested in making yard benches, chairs and tables, you will want to order Pattern Packet No. 60 which is $1.

If you want to overbid a little, that is fine. All you have to do is to play the hand well, and also find the opponents' cards favorably located.

JACOBY

In this connection Arlene Monheim of Steubenville, Ohio, writes, "I don't suppose you approve of my five club bid, but I was playing with a very conservative partner and I felt like overbidding a trifle. I couldn't have overbid too much because I wound up making an extra trick after my opponents each led a trump."

Her play is a good example of giving the cards a chance to be where they should in order to make an optimistic contract.

She noted that she needed to find East with the king of spades and the diamonds well divided if she wanted to make her contract. Hence she won the first trick in dummy and led a low spade.

East rose with the king and led another trump. Now Arlene played the ace of diamonds and ruffed a diamond in dummy. Then she returned to her own hand by leading a spade to her queen.

The last and most important hurdle was left. Would diamonds break? She led a third diamond and ruffed in dummy. The opponents were kind enough to drop the king and queen for her and now all that was left was mopping up. She discarded her one heart on the ace of spades, returned to her hand by ruffing a heart, played her last trump to pull West's last tooth, and claimed the balance with her remaining three diamonds.

What do you do now?

A—Bid five no-trump. If your partner holds the right cards you want to be in seven.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner bids six diamonds to show one king. What do you do now?

'64 Pilot Cars Are Assembled

1964 model cars were produced by the automobile industry this week in an overlap of final phasing out of the 1963 models.

Ward's Automotive Reports estimated that new passenger car production this week totaled 41,918, of which 1,600 were 1964 pilot models built by Chrysler Corp., which ended its 1963 model run Aug. 1.

Ford programmed 17,800 cars before phasing out the 1963 model this week, and Chevrolet scheduled 22,300, but they were the only major makers producing the '63 models.

Studebaker continued its production of the Avanti car only. The Lark and Hawk models were phased out in June. American Motors Corp., ended '63 output July 26 and was scheduled to start '64 production next week. Two Ford plants were scheduled to operate today.

Truck production this week was set at 18,156 compared with 26,549 a week ago. Passenger car production last week totaled 102,804 units.
