Incorporation Talk Draws Big Crowd

Panel Discusses Waterford Area Future Growth

More Than 1,000 Attend Session at High School Despite Icy Roads

By JAMES BINDER

The pros and cons of adopting city government in Waterford Township were compared last night by more than a thousand area residents who braved icy roads and streets to hear a panel of experts present their views on incorporation.

Conducted in Waterford Township High School by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the town meeting was the first organized public discussion of the issue, and is expected to be a prelude to a similar future assembly on possible annexation of the area to Pontiac.

Headed by William Shuck, superintendent of township schools, the panel was made up of Louis G. Barry, Waterford Township clerk; Victor J. Lamm, who heads current incorporation efforts in Warren Township; William Brashers, Detroit attorney who drew up Livonia's city charter, and Harry J. Merritt, corporation counsel for Oakland County.

Lamm, a member of the Warren Township Planning Commission, took the affirmative stand on the issue, while Brashers presented points against it. Barry traced Waterford's population growth and resulting problems, and Merritt outlined legal steps involved in filing an incorporation petition.

Lamm told the audience that the city form of government would allow the area greater powers of legislation while preventing division of the area into small units. He also pointed out that a city allows more latitude for planning because of what he termed its freedom from various state re-audience appeals.

Passive through most of the hour-long series of addresses, the listeners applauded following Brashers' analysis of arguments against incorporation.

The attorney pointed out that the vastness of Waterford's 30-square mile area would present unique "complications" of unification. "It is a headache to plan a township of this size and at the same time please everybody," he said.

While acknowledging that city government allows more "powers," Brashers observed that the problem lies in how far such powers are to be extended. If incorporation is approved, he said, citizens will be tempted to ask for many improvements, with a resultant raise in taxes.

Annexation Problem Study Is Proposed

Half a dozen realtors and business men, interested in the development of Pontiac met recently and agreed that the project of annexing Waterford Township presented many and varied problems and that a study by experts, at a reasonable cost, was the only true solution to the many questions presented.

Assembled at the request of Bruce J. Annett, the immediate past president of the Michigan Real Estate Assn., the men included Paul A. Kern, Leslie R. Tripp, Ward E. Partridge, Robert Q. Mahan, Vern K. Archer and Edward A. Malar.

It was felt that the cost of such a study should not be borne by the city of Pontiac alone but should be divided between the township of Waterford, the city of Pontiac and such other communities that may be considered in developing "Greater Pontiac."

Detroit's Auto Production Brings Growth to Area

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of articles on the highway situation conducted from the booklet, "Wagon Roads to Expressways," to be published by the Oakland County Plan Commission.

When Detroit became the center of the nation's auto production after 1905, the era of rapid growth in this area began.

This meant that existing roads and trails had to be improved through surfacing and widening to permit use by autos.

The increase in motor vehicle registrations is one of the best indices of growth in the Oakland-Wayne-Macomb County area.

In 1918 the three-county registration of passenger and commercial vehicles totaled 85,802; in 1928, 518,123; in 1938, 616,767; in 1948, 901,645, and in 1954, 1,325,435.

In 1954, some 48 per cent of all passenger and commercial vehicles registered in Michigan were in the three-county area.

As cars became more reliable, the urban population began to spread along major highways.

Increasing population can be a good thing for this area by providing a greater market for business and industry. But it can also be detrimental unless highway facilities are built to handle the accompanying increase in number of vehicles.

Oakland, Wayne and Macomb County population has shot up more than 400 per cent since 1900. In the boom decade of 1940-50 the region's population grew by 639,151 people in a period when practically no highways were built because funds and materials were devoted by the war effort.

Oakland's population rocketed from 263,956 in 1930 to 395,745 in 1950, a gain of 55.5 per cent. The figure is now over a half million.

In the ten-year period Macomb grew even faster, increasing from 107,614 to 184,943 for a 70.9 per cent jump.

Wayne climbed from 2,015,739 to 2,435,509, a 20.8 per cent hike. The whole region jumped from 2,398,133 to 3,000,613.

Pontiac Official SAE President

G. A. Delaney Follows C. G. A. Rosen as Head of Engineers Society

DETROIT (U) — George A. Delaney, chief engineer of General Motors' Pontiac Motor Division, is the new president of the Society of Automotive Engineers. He was inducted into office at the society's annual business meeting here last night.

Delaney succeeds C. G. A. Rosen, of the Caterpillar Tractor Co.

A graduate of the University of Missouri, Delaney's first automotive post was with the old Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co. in Detroit. He joined Pontiac as an electrical engineer in 1934 and became its chief engineer in 1946.

The Horning medal for outstanding contributions to knowledge of mutual fuel and engine adaptation will be presented tomorrow to Bernard M. Sturgis, of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co.

The medal was awarded to Sturgis for his paper entitled "some concepts of knock and anti-knock action."

Electricity Falters as Hundreds Use Heaters

MIAMI, Fla. (U) — Miamians averted disaster as the city's electric power companies today tried to keep warm.

The temperature dropped to 42 in downtown Miami early this morning, a record for the date, and fell as low as 31 in some outlying farm areas.

Forecasters could promise no break of the cold spell for at least five days, either, as a gentle Atlantic Ocean storm continued to hover off the East Coast. This freakish storm has been pushing polar air all the way down into the tropics.

So many Miamians turned on electric ovens and heaters that Florida Power and Light Co. transformers were overloaded. Power was knocked out in some sections of the city. The shortage of electricity shrunk the pictures on television sets.

Most Miamians keep small oil heaters for use during cold snaps, which ordinarily are brief, and fuel oil dealers were doing a land of office business.

SHORTAGE FEARED

The demand for bottled gas was so great, dealers said there might be a shortage within two days.

Tourists who came to Miami to escape Northern cold were yelling about the weather, but no more than the local residents who had to dig into the mothballs for seldom used overcoats and mufflers.

Camerasman Robert Blair of Atlanta went to the University of Miami to make some campus shots for use on a television show. When he saw students bundled up in overcoats, he dis-

'56 Legislature Opens as GOP Still Has Edge

Williams Will Deliver Message on Thursday Before Joint Assembly

LANSING (U) — The Michigan Legislature, the Republican party's only remaining major political arm, returns to the Capitol at noon today for a new session which could influence the 1956 campaign.

The session is expected to last until April 6.

Gov. Williams will go before the lawmakers in a joint assembly Thursday at 11 a.m. to deliver a "general" message of recommendations setting the Democratic party's legislative and campaign guide for the year.

He will follow up with probably four other supplemental messages later on specific programs.

Republican legislators, who control the Senate by a sizable margin and the house by a hair, will meet Thursday night for dinner with their party's new 44-man campaign committee to discuss political policies for the year.

Gov. Williams will not be able to present his budget recommendations to the lawmakers at the start of the session, but he said in a press conference that he would submit a balanced budget without recommendations for additional taxes.

A CORPORATION TAX?

This will not prevent him, however, from advocating for the eighth straight year a corporation profits tax.

Williams said he would recommend this as a substitute for other consumers taxes, but has refused to explain yet what he proposes.

Republican finance chiefs awaited the budget message skeptically, convinced that Williams will do what he has done in the past years — rigging revenue estimates to show a balanced budget.

The budget and the corporation tax appear to lead a long list of old issues which again will be fought over in this campaign year.

Williams will advocate more marketing and grading aids for agricultural, seeking to build his theme that the Republicans have injured the farmer.

150 MORE POLICE

He will come back with a further highway safety program, including the addition of 150 more state policemen, a compulsory auto inspection program operated through private garages and a return to the two-license plate system.

A year ago almost 60 bills were on file when the Legislature convened. Today there were 17 in the two chambers combined.

Houston Harbor Razed by Fire

Shipyards Damaged Set at $3 Million as Pier, Drydock Burn

HOUSTON (U) — The worst fire in the 40-year history of Port Houston burned a 1,080-foot pier and a 12,500-ton drydock yesterday and caused an estimated three million dollars damage.

The burning drydock broke from its mooring and floated out into the channel and threatened the Houston channel ship traffic.

A three-hour fight by firemen from nine cities and the Coast Guard finally brought the pier blaze under control. The drydock burned itself out about an hour later.

Phillips Lemier, plant manager, said men had been working on the pier with acetylene torches, but that it had not been determined if the torches or some other source started the fire.

NO ONE INJURED

No one was injured in the blaze, but three men came close to being trapped by dense smoke that billowed some 500 feet above the pier. They were rescued by the tugboat Alice Pratt.

Lemier said that the 350-foot drydock was a complete loss and that the fire had done severe damage to the pier. A derrick barge was also damaged.

T. E. McCully Jr. Among Missing Couple Prays for Safety of Dedicated Son-in-Law

A Pontiac woman today told the story of a dedicated couple whose efforts to bring enlightenment and the word of God to uncivilized South American tribesman may have ended in tragedy.

Edward McCully, 28, one of five missionaries feared captured by savage Aucas Indians after a plane wreck in remote Ecuadorian jungles, is married to the former Marilou Hobolth, 27, of Pontiac.

Mrs. McCully's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Hobolth, of 779 May Ct., waited prayerfully today for word that a body seen near the missionary's downed plane was not that of their son-in-law and that he is safe and unharmed.

Mrs. Hobolth related how her daughter, a 1946 graduate of Pontiac High School, met the youthful churchman when he came here to speak at the First Baptist Church in 1950.

Mrs. McCully had obtained a music degree from the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, in 1949. Her husband, of Wauwatosa near Milwaukee, Wis., was a 1949 graduate of Wheaton (Ill.) College.

He then attended the Marquette University Law School for two years before deciding to become a missionary.

MARRIED HERE

The couple was married here June 28, 1951, then traveled to the West Coast where McCully attended the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, completing his studies in 1952.

One Identified as the Husband of Pontiac Girl

Stripped Plane, Body Sighted in Ecuador's Amazon Jungle

QUITO, Ecuador (U) — Planes combed the Amazon jungle today for five Protestant U. S. missionaries believed seized by savage Indians.

Air Force reports of a body lying near their plane's stripped skeleton aroused fear for their lives.

One of the missing men, Edward McCully, 28, of Milwaukee, is the husband of the former Marilou Hobolth, 27, of Pontiac, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Hobolth of 779 May Ct.

A U. S. Army helicopter was dispatched from the Canal Zone today to take part with Air Force planes in the hunt for the men, missing in a remote jungle region of northeastern Ecuador.

The five men flew their small Piper Cub into the bush area last week to do mission work among primitive tribesmen.

They were identified at Nal Sated, Washington Valley, Pa., as Edward McCully, Milwaukee; Peter Fleming, Seattle, Wash.; James Elliot, Portland, Ore.; and Roger Yoderian, Billings, Mont.

The Air Force joined the search after another flying missionary, John Keenan, made a reconnaissance flight over the area and reported seeing the stripped Piper Cub. He said he saw no sign of the missionaries but spotted several Indian canoes heading down the river.

Keenan made his investigation after the mission party radioed it had encountered a group of Indians, then broke radio contact.

Soon after the hunt began, a Quito radio station relayed a message from a U. S. search plane that it had sighted the Piper Cub—stripped of its fabric—and alongside it a body pierced with an Indian lance.

The mission party set up its base about a week ago at Shell Mera, an old company headquarters. Saint first flew McCully and Yoderian to the jungle clearing, then returned to Shell Mera, where his wife had remained to receive communications from the party.

On Saturday, McCully and Yoderian reported friendly contact with the Aucas Indians. Saint took off again Sunday with Elliot and Fleming.

Shortly after landing at the scene Saint transmitted his wife that he would transmit again at 4 p.m. At that time he began sending another message, then broke off to tell of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Extend Deadline on Tax Returns

4th Period Declarations Due by January 16, Office Reminds

An extension to Jan. 16 of the deadline for filing fourth-quarter declarations of 1935 personal income was announced this week by district officials of the Internal Revenue Service.

The move was prompted by the fact that the regular deadline, Jan. 15, falls on Sunday this year.

Required to file declarations will be persons whose joint returns are over $14,000, those with single returns of more than $5,000, and individuals who earn more than $100 above their regular income.

The latter classification affects persons whose extra income above salary or wages exceeds the total amount of money allowed for exemptions, plus $400.

Persons in this category will be allowed to wait until Jan. 31 to make the declaration provided they file their final income tax return on or before that date, Internal Revenue officials point out.

Farmers may avoid meeting the Jan. 16 deadline if they file their final returns on or before Feb. 15.

In issuing a reminder of the deadline, District Director A. M. Meninger made special mention of individuals who will file a declaration for the first time this month because of changes in income or number of exemptions. Declarations are required at the end of each quarter.

Virginia Seeks Quick School Segregation

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Gov. Thomas B. Stanley today asked the Virginia Legislature for prompt action to carry out the first step of a segregated school program.

In an address to the opening session of the 1936 General Assembly, Stanley declared the limited constitutional convention approved in Monday's referendum "should be held as early as practicable."

Voters gave their overwhelming approval to amendment of the state constitution to clear the way for using public funds for a child's private schooling, the No. 1 recommendation of the governor's Commission on Public Education.

The constitutional change is intended to allow for public grants to be used by all children refusing to attend integrated schools or living in localities that may abandon public schools if integration is compulsory.

Michigan Joins Action Against Boxing Guild

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan today joined New York and other states in a police action against the International Boxing Guild.

Floyd Stevens of Grand Rapids, Michigan boxing commissioner, announced he has written New York boxing commissioner Julius T. Helfand of Michigan's stand.

Stevens plans to attend a Friday meeting of the executive board of the National Boxing Assn. (NBA) at Chicago.

"I will there tell Michigan's stand and urge the NBA to join in this or any movement that will preserve the sport's integrity and chase out the evil influences such as have been uncovered," he wrote.

"For years, now," Stevens continued, "Michigan has recognized suspensions of all kinds imposed by New York and every other state commission. We will persist in that. So, if New York bans the Guild and suspends those who do not resign, we will go along and suspend them also."

Pretzels secured their design in the Middle Ages. Their intertwined "arms" were supposed to represent arms folded in supplication.

Pontiac City Affairs

Further Public Hearings Set on Sewer Projects

Public hearings will continue Jan. 31 on construction of $100,000 worth of sanitary sewers in two subdivisions on Pontiac's east side.

Alternate proposals to the engineered plans of the city were suggested at last night's City Commission meeting by a representative of one of the property owners in the area in which the sewers are planned.

The matter was referred to City Manager William E. Williams for further study in preparation for the continued public hearings.

Further action at last night's meeting attended by 18 spectators, saw the Commission accept a deed to be issued to Alphonse J. Stenger for lots located in Hillside Manor. The city attorney was instructed to prepare an agreement to secure necessary deeds for releasing to the Detroit Edison Co. a 60 foot strip of land for boulevard purposes between the east edge of Murphy Park and Reed road.

A resolution was accepted granting firemen holiday pay based on an eight hour day on a rate equivalent to all regular employees working 40 hours a week.

A recommendation of the City Plan Commission that the city proceed to acquire a 60 foot right of way for Bay Street from the north line of Herrington Hills subdivision to Mt. Clemens street, was referred to the city manager for further study.

No action was taken on suggestion of the City Plan Commission that an alternate member of the Zoning Board be appointed to serve on the Board of Appeals.

The $332,252 Pontiac Creek drain project was declared a public necessity by the Commission after which they heard the engineer's estimate of an assessed cost of $36,885.97 and a city cost of $233,366.28 for the sewage system.

A public hearing is expected to be held at next week's meeting on the proposed plan for the north west side of the city.

A resolution was accepted by the Commission authorizing the rezoning from Residential 2 to Residential 3 of the east side of Seneca street between Mt. Clemens street and Perry street, being Lots 14 to 26 and Lots 35 to 37 of A.P. 27.

For the same area, Commissioner John Carey suggested a traffic light be located at Seneca and Mt. Clemens streets. The matter was referred to the city manager and the chief of police for study.

Authorization was granted to the city attorney to prepare an ordinance allowing for the rezoning of Lots 14 to 17 of the Dixie Highway subdivision from Manufacturing 1 to Manufacturing 2.

In other action, the appointment of James M. Stone as the city's fourth process server was confirmed to adjust expiration of terms for all four servers to one date.

The city manager was authorized to purchase Lots 20 and 21 of assessor's plat 131 from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stout and Mae H. Bower respectively.

Sidewalk repairs for the coming year were accepted in the form of a resolution presented to the Commission.

A petition was made a matter of record calling for a sidewalk on the east side of Barkell street from Lenox to Westbrook.

The Commission instructed City Manager William to advise the Miga Investment Corp. that their request for a right of way sign on the south side of Walton boulevard opposite Hollywood avenue was prohibited by an ordinance.

JACK B. HABEL
Jack Habel Named to City Trial Board

Jack B. Habel, former Chevrolet dealer in Pontiac, last night was appointed by the City Commission to the Police and Fire Trial Board.

He will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Stephen J. Cloonan, who resigned recently to move out of the city. Habel will serve a four year term on the board.

Habel took over his late father's automobile dealership in May, 1931. He operated it until it was purchased by the present owners, Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc.

The appointee is presently selling real estate for Leslie R. Tripp.

Wilson, Editors Agree to Hold Periodic Talks
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson and officials of the American Society of Newspaper Editors have agreed to hold periodic discussions on the problems of military and defense information.

Five editors, including ASNE President Kenneth MacDonald of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, lunched with Wilson Tuesday at the Pentagon. After the luncheon MacDonald issued the following statement:

"We had an interesting, informal discussion with Secretary Wilson and his aides on a great many of the problems of information about which the ASNE is always concerned."

MALCOLM S. ALLEN
District Overseer Stated for Speaker

Malcolm S. Allen, district overseer of the Watchtower Society, arrived in Pontiac yesterday to appear as the principal speaker at the three-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses beginning Friday evening in the Senior High School on West Huron Street.

"Fear is sweeping over the present generation," said Allen, "because of the deadly weapons now in the hands of cruel, Godless, ambitious and unpredictable men who are bent on ruling the world. Foreknowing this, Jehovah God has promised and provided safety through this period in man's history. The Bible explains the whole situation."

He will deliver the principal address of the convention on this subject, "Overcoming the Fears of This Generation" at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Allen oversees the activity of Jehovah's Witnesses in several midwest states including Michigan. He is a graduate of the Watchtower Bible School at South Lansing, New York. He traveled extensively in Europe this past summer studying conditions there and attending European conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The new recreation director, Norman Landry, arrived here from Portsmouth, N. H. yesterday, and will attend his first meeting with the recreation board tomorrow night at the municipal building. His office, which he will begin using next week, is in the former fire department wing of the building. His family will join him here when he finds a home.

Aubert Lavastida, Cuban-born son of a Havana city official and a Connecticut school teacher, will be speaker at tomorrow's and Friday's Town Hall at Birmingham theater.

To be introduced Thursday by Mrs. F. G. Garrison and Friday by Mayor Charles Renshaw at the 11 a.m. programs, he will show films, some with sound, and narrate, on "Columbian Cavalcade." A graduate of University of Michigan, he is originator and director of the World Travel and Adventure Series. He specializes in depicting life in little-known spots of Latin America and other lands, and his films have been translated into many languages and shown in 157 countries.

Blood bank of the Women's auxiliary of St. James Episcopal church is Jan. 25 from 2 to 8 p.m. rather than tonight as previously announced. Thirty-three workers are already taking reservations for donors.

Quartermen and Teachers will meet teachers in an open-house program at the school tonight, starting with coffee at 7:30 p.m.

City employees are voting today on whether their retirement system should be revised to coordinate with social security. The city commission approved the plan, which requires a charter change, at a recent meeting and set an April 2 ballot date contingent on today's vote.

Mrs. Sam Williams, who sings under her maiden name, Barbara Gibson, appeared on the Firestone Hour Monday night.

Barry told the audience that expansion has created problems in assuring that new dwellings conform to codes, and in maintaining sanitation, sewage, drainage and water facilities, and roads.

The official said that the area now has more than 37,000 residents, compared with 8,239 in 1930 and about 24,000 in 1950.

The biggest current problem, he asserted, is providing services to dwelling units that were erected before the adoption of codes covering construction.

PROCEDURE OUTLINED
Merritt, in outlining steps necessary to bring about an election on incorporation, stated that signatures of 1 per cent of the area's citizens must first be obtained on a petition and submitted to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

He later cited problems involved in approving a charter.

Following Merritt's address, members of the audience directed questions to individual members of the panel. Most of the queries concerned problems of taxation connected with city government, incorporation procedure and prospects for the area's future growth.

The probability that a similar meeting on annexation to Pontiac will be conducted in the near future was reiterated by Chairman Charles Pappas who said that the Junior Chamber and the Women's Business and Professional Assn. of Waterford, plan to confer with citizens identified with the annexation movement in both areas.

He also predicted that further meetings on both issues would be necessary before formal steps are initiated for incorporation or annexation.

The Day in Birmingham

Planning Board Requests Zoning Law's Reworking

BIRMINGHAM — Geer Associates are to begin steps in revision of the city's zoning ordinance, the city planning board decided last night. City Planner Herbert Herzberg was asked by the board to contact the David Geer firm, hired last fall with revision among jobs in mind, to begin reworking the text.

A study of the annexation policy of the city will be conducted by a committee including Dr. George Marin, Bennett Root and Norman Berry. "Logical" boundaries of the city in the old policies, formed when there were many vacant lots here, will be eyed.

In the Leinbach-Humphrey Woodward Avenue subdivision, the board asked that city commission make the lots adjacent to alley behind the businesses fronting on Woodward kept in the income bungalow bracket, but that other home lots be re-zoned to single family. This will make the 12 homes that the city believes are now two-family illegal and nonconforming with zoning.

Other zoning problems will be heard at the next meeting on Jan. 17.

Though the Elton park skating rink had been expected to open this weekend, city officials and contractors meeting at the park yesterday apparently failed to set a completion date. Officials believe architects, O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, will be able to announce a final date at the Monday commission meeting.

The new recreation director, Norman Landry, arrived here from Portsmouth, N. H. yesterday, and will attend his first meeting with the recreation board tomorrow night at the municipal building. His office, which he will begin using next week, is in the former fire department wing of the building. His family will join him here when he finds a home.

Couple Here Prays for Safety of Kin

At Shandia, McCully and two of the other missing churchmen translated the Quechua language and put it into written form, a project never undertaken before. They then began teaching the Indians to read and write their own language.

Last April the McCullys moved with their children, Stephen, 3, and Michael, 1, to Aranjuna, still in Quechua Indian territory.

Learning of the wild Auca tribe, a group probably never contacted by white men before, McCully and his associates planned a trip to lay the foundation for missionary work among them.

The expedition was launched last week, a landing made and initial friendly contact reported. However, their last message said a group of Indians they had not seen before was approaching.

The McCullys, who planned to make missionary work a life-long vocation, were scheduled to return to Pontiac on furlough in 1937.

CARRY ON FOR A TOUCHDOWN! — That's what John A. Benson, Pontiac chairman of the 1956 March of Dimes, tells Buddy Morgan, 10, as he gives a March of Dimes football to the young polio victim. Buddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morgan, 3137 Fernberry Ct., was stricken with crippling polio in July, 1952. Courage and the will to fight, along with $5,942 from the March of Dimes, helped him progress from respirators to rocking bed, and then to crutches and a brace.

Generous Kentuckians
 LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Some tax-paying Kentuckians aren't up to snuff on their news, or else they're downright generous. In November, voters abolished all taxes on household goods effective Jan. 1. But yesterday, County Tax Commissioner George Trager said 132 of the first 335 property tax returns received in 1956 listed household goods for taxation. He said the tax will not be assessed. About 233 million persons live in North America.

WE BOTH RECEIVED GREAT RESULTS FROM OJIB-WA BITTERS

"Because this famous medicine helped both of us, we are glad of the opportunity to tell you about it" says Mr. & Mrs. C. S. Cornwell, 241 E. Woodland, Ferndale, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Cornwell

started taking it. She had been bothered with her stomach, gall bladder and nerves for some time. She couldn't sleep very well, and was tired and run down all of the time. We both have great faith in roots and herbs, so we followed the directions closely. I can't say exactly how long it took before I was better, but it wasn't too long. The pain and stiffness just slowly went away. My wife too, hasn't been bothered since, and is so full of pep that she is always going around the house just looking for work. She used to have stomach attacks, but now can eat anything without worrying about harmful effects. I walk so much brisker now and even get down on my knees and work in the garden. We can't say enough for OJIB-WA BITTERS, because we are so satisfied with what it's doing for us. It's wonderful how one medicine can do so much good when you give it a chance. We believe that it will help you too."

Man Recovering Suicide Attempt

Texan Amazes Medics After Discharging Bullet Through Head

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A. B. Shoemaker, who has amazed medics by remaining alive more than three days with a bullet hole through his head may recover, his doctor says.

Dr. Boyd Alexander said last night that Shoemaker is showing improvement and "if the man lives a couple of more days, he could be on the road to recovery."

Shoemaker, president of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co., shot himself Saturday night at his palatial estate here. The steel-jacketed bullet penetrated his right temple, went through the brain and came out his left temple. It did not strike the optic or motor nerves and Shoemaker was conscious for a short while after the shooting.

Infection set in and doctors for several days said that death was only a short time away. The 59-year-old insurance com-

many president wrote several suicide notes in which he said he had no money with which to defend himself in the receivership suit against U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co.

Creditors of the defunct combination banking and insurance firm have claimed that their losses may run as high as seven-million dollars.

LARACHE, Spanish Morocco (AP)—France and Spain have agreed on joint action against Riff rebels harassing the French in Morocco.

Lt. Gen. Rafael Garcia Valino, the Spanish high commissioner, and French Resident General Andre Dubois decided at a meeting yesterday their forces would cooperate in suppressing the rebellious tribesmen along their joint frontier.

The four-hour conference in this Spanish sector was the first meeting in three years of the top officials of the two protectorates. Informants said they made progress in reconciling conflicting policies which have caused tension between France and Spain ever since the French threw out Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef in 1953.

Disaster Funds in U.S. Dwindle

Red Cross Head Calling Officials to Decide How to Replenish Reserve

NEW YORK (U-P)—E. Roland Harriman, chairman of the American National Red Cross, called an emergency executive committee meeting for tomorrow to study depletion of Red Cross disaster funds.

Harriman announced that disaster reserves were down to $1,250,000 with the "disaster season" just ahead.

He said the Red Cross spent 19 1/2 million dollars since last August to aid hurricane and flood victims in the northeastern states and is now spending between 7 and 8 million dollars to aid families hit by recent floods in California and Oregon.

This has absorbed the 16 million dollars collected in a special disaster drive last fall plus the 4 million dollars normally allocated by the Red Cross for disaster work, Harriman said. It has also used up most of an eight million dollar disaster reserve fund.

Harriman said it is up to the executive committee of the Board of Governors to determine how to meet the crisis, but he indicated that there would not be another special appeal before the regular Red Cross drive in March.

Dem Sen. Ellender Agrees With GOP

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today the Senate Republican Policy Committee "is just backing me up" by its unanimous vote yesterday calling for speedy action on a new farm program. Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the policy group told newsmen the committee felt that any new legislation should be enacted no later than mid-April if farmers are to count on it for this year's crops.

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview that Republicans "can get a farm bill in a hurry if they just cooperate." He recalled that he has urged that Congress complete work on a farm bill by Feb. 15.

Southfield Board Planning for Future School Sites

Envision Structure in Each Square Mile of District

SOUTHFIELD — Glenn Schoenhals, superintendent of schools, in line with the Southfield School Board's plan to secure a school site in every square mile section of the district, met this week with architects to study sites and plans. The board plans to build in these spots, elementary schools with approximately 13 classrooms, plus other facilities, throughout the district.

Also envisioned is a junior high school in each quarter section of the district. The present junior high school, Southfield 10, will be the fifth in the district.

"If population trends continue as anticipated, it will also be necessary to have another high school in the district," said Schoenhals. "But this, of course, will not be in the near future."

All plans are being furthered in an effort to take children here off half-day sessions. At present all the Southfield first grade level and the eighth graders are on restricted schedules.

Bids on the Bruce School addition will be opened Jan. 25, at a special board meeting. Bids for the Angling Road School addition will be let in several weeks.

The school board recently took out a building permit for construction.
