High Winds Batter Area; Snow, Cold Hits Midwest

Glass Broken, Utility Lines Are Blown Down

Two inches of snow and colder weather forecast here

Winds of gale force lashed the Pontiac area today, causing extensive damage to electrical power lines, smashing large plate glass windows and uprooting trees.

Although the U.S. Weather Bureau reported no tornadoes were headed for Michigan, winds up to 60 miles an hour raked the area for several hours after striking shortly after 8 a. m.

Forecasters at Lansing's Weather Bureau said the barometer had dropped to a reading of 28.82, the second lowest on record. The reading is a general indication of windstorms.

At least two inches of snow are expected to follow colder temperatures tonight, according to reports. In Pontiac, Detroit Edison Co. spokesmen reported "extensive" electrical wire damage in a large area around Elizabeth Lake, where primary lines were ripped down by the gale.

Hundreds of phone calls jammed the company switchboard. All available manpower was dispatched to the damage area. Consumers Power Co. officials said damage reports in the city were light. A few lead-in wires were down, they said, but no primary lines were damaged.

Power lines were also reported down on Walton boulevard near Drayton Plains, along Lone Pine road and E. Long Lake road in Bloomfield Hills.

Large plate glass windows were smashed in the downtown area.

Two were blown in at the Good-year Service store at 30 S. Cass Ave. Employees at the Jacobson's Hudson store, at 58 W. Pike St., said a show window was smashed along with one at the Corwin Lumber and Coal Co., at 177 S. Cass.

Sixth A-Blast Set Off Today

Flash Seen in Frisco; 2,000 Marines Taking Part in Maneuvers

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—An atomic bomb burst with a brilliant golden flash on the Nevada Desert before dawn today as 2,000 Marines staged a dress rehearsal for nuclear warfare.

Atomic scientists triggered the bomb atop a 500-foot steel tower at 5:05 a. m. (Pst) in the sixth test of the current series of nuclear weapons experiments on the Nevada firing range.

A force of 1,500 Marines stood by 10 miles from the tower ready to move in aboard helicopters to attack an "enemy" armored task force, while another 500 Marines watched the blast from trenches 3,500 yards away.

They were to join the larger force in the mock attack after dangerous radioactivity clears away.

The flash of the blast was seen clearly in San Francisco, 500 miles northwest of the test site, and in Los Angeles, 300 miles to the southwest.

From Las Vegas, 70 miles south of the firing range, it appeared to be one of the largest detonations of the current series.

The bomb burst in a golden flash that faded into an orange fireball and then sent the familiar mushroom-shaped cloud shooting skyward.

Court Injunction Sought by Anti-Turnpike Group

A group fighting the proposed $154,000,000 Flat Rock-Saginaw turnpike apparently was loaded today for battle in the courts.

Claiming a subscribed legal fund of $1,600, the Citizens Protective Assn. of Michigan said it would go to court for an injunction against the Michigan Turnpike Authority.

The injunction would be sought within 24 hours after the authority announces the turnpike route.

Recently, in pleading to the public to hold off criticism until the actual route is determined upon, the authority said it would have an announcement on or about April 1.

The anti-toll road group, which began with organization in Bloomfield Township, laid its court fight plans at a meeting last night. The group claims to represent 12,000 residents who would be affected by the turnpike.

Robert Vander Kloot, association president, said the fight would be carried out both in the courts and the legislature.

Vander Kloot said the $1,600 was raised to pay attorneys. He said attorneys are ready in Pontiac, Detroit and Lansing to go to court for injunctive action.

To a question from the floor as to the grounds on which an injunction would be sought Vander Kloot said "I don't know. We'll have to leave that up to the lawyers."

Anti-Fluoridation Group Holds Meeting Tonight

Several physicians and dentists will appear on a panel at a public meeting in the Pontiac High School auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight.

Tornado, Flood Damage Strikes Central States

Heavy Snow Reported in Central States; Storms Hit Ohio

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A wild spring snowstorm lashed the central section of the nation today.

Winds with gusts up to 40 m.p.h. churned the flakes into blinding clouds in Chicago. Transportation was slowed there and motor vehicle traffic was reduced to a cautious crawl.

Chicago's Midway Airport was closed temporarily.

A fall of three inches was forecast for Chicago. A freezing rain already had put a dangerous coating on the streets.

The snow piled up in most of Illinois. The fall measured four inches at Peoria, five at Quincy and eight at Moline.

Several roads were blocked in northern and central Illinois. Schools were closed in the Canton area.

A wave of freezing cold moved in behind the snow—on the second day of spring.

The snow front stretched from Arkansas northward to the Great Lakes and it pushed eastward.

Storm deaths—most of them in traffic—numbered six. Included were four in Nebraska and two in Kansas.

Floyd Diamond Is Found Sane

Youth Slayer Ordered Held for Trial After Hearing Today

Judge George B. Hartwick this morning ordered the youth who confessed slaying 9-year-old Kathleen McLaughlin "held for trial for homicide" after a sanity hearing in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Pontiac psychiatrists Dr. L. Jerome Fink and Dr. Ivan A. LaCore said they examined Floyd Diamond, 16, on March 16.

Both men said in their opinion Diamond is sane, knows the difference between right and wrong, is capable of understanding the court proceeding against him and of helping in his defense.

The accused stood mute when arraigned on a first degree murder charge March 4 and Judge Hartwick entered an innocent plea for him. Trial will be scheduled sometime after May 1, said Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Diamond, of 3245 Nottingham Knoll, Farmington Township, told police he stabbed and stoned the popular girl to death Feb. 17 at a pond near her home at 2943 Gilchrist.

"In my opinion," Dr. Fink said today, "the boy was not mentally defective... this boy knows right from wrong and has the proper feeling about right and wrong."

Diamond, Fink stated, is bothered by "a disorder of emotion, not intellect." The youth reacts to frustrations with "uncontrollable rage," the psychiatrist stated.

"At times of this rage he would be unconcerned about the difference between right and wrong."

Dr. LaCore said, "The boy has no delusions or hallucinations. I could not say that Floyd was insane." The youth seemed to get mad easily, LaCore explained, and is subject to "temper tantrums." Diamond will await trial in Oakland County Jail.

Walter White, NAACP Chief, Succumbs at 61

Negro Rights Champion Spearheaded the Battle Against Segregation

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter White, 61, ardent champion of Negro rights, died last night after a life devoted to improving the lot of colored people. He suffered a heart attack.

His career was climaxed by the Supreme Court's ban against segregation in public schools last year. He had been a determined fighter against segregation and despite ill health had been in the front ranks of those pressing the anti-segregation suit.

Since 1931 he had been executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. He offered to resign because of illness in 1949 but the resignation was not accepted.

He died at his home. By his bedside was his second wife Poppy Cannon White, a white woman and food editor of House Beautiful magazine.

White himself was fair-skinned, blond and blue-eyed. He was not recognizable as a Negro but insisted that he was one. It has been estimated that his blood was one 64th Negro.

White once explained that his father's death inspired his crusade for the rights of Negroes. He said his father, an Atlanta postman, "died because of neglect, after an injury, caused by his being a colored man."

In 1918, at the age of 25, he joined the staff of the NAACP as an assistant secretary.

He tackled Negro problems with vast energy and became a bitter and caustic foe of white supremacy. Gov. Herman Tamm of Georgia denounced him as a "professional agitator."

White was a graduate of Atlanta University and did postgraduate work there in sociology and economics.

NAACP President Arthur Spingarn, said White's leadership had developed the association "from a small society into its present position as the nation's largest civil rights organization."

In 1934 President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed White to the Advisory Council for the Virgin Islands. This was one of numerous honors and official appointments given him.

Two Are Injured in Pontiac Area During Storm

At least two persons were injured as gusts of 60-m.p.h. wind swooped into the Pontiac area today, causing scores of persons to seek shelter from the gale's fury.

David Atkinson, 24, of Detroit, was struck on the head by the roof of a small tool shed near a Detroit Edison Co. substation under construction in Troy Township.

A construction worker, Atkinson was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

In downtown Pontiac, Mrs. Lottie Shebella, a 55-year-old housewife, was swept off her feet in front of the Pontiac State Bank Building and suffered a knee injury.

Mrs. Shebella, of 318 E. Columbia, told St. Joseph attendants she was on the way to her doctor's office in the building when the wind knocked her down.

Pushes 10 Pct. U. S. Pay Raise

Dem Senator Predicts Passage; House Vote Rebuffs Ike

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-Me.) said today "it looks as if we have enough votes" in the Senate to pass a 10 per cent pay raise for 1½ million federal employees.

The Senate may start debate this afternoon on the first of the bills, covering 500,000 postal workers. Next will come a similar pay measure for the one million classified civil service workers.

The House yesterday gave the Eisenhower administration a rebuff by voting overwhelmingly, 302-120, against calling up a 7½ per cent average postal pay raise bill under a rule banning any amendment.

Such a rule had been sought by administration leaders and Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) to head off floor moves for a bigger raise. The rule required a two-thirds vote; it got little more than one-third.

The bill would have given a minimum 6 per cent boost to all postal employees; those in higher paid jobs would have received more so that the average would have been 7½ per cent.

House members supporting a bigger raise said they were certain another try would be made.

President Eisenhower hinted strongly he would veto any increase higher than contained in the Murray bill—an estimated 150 million dollars a year. The Johnston bill would cost about 220 million dollars.

4 Fired Aides Defy Hubbard

Return to Their Jobs Despite Dismissal by Dearborn Mayor

DEARBORN (INS)—Three assistant city attorneys, part of the entire six-man legal staff fired by Mayor Orville Hubbard yesterday, defied the mayor and returned to their jobs today.

A fourth, Frank C. McCann, was not personally present when the mayor discharged the staff en masse. He was also at work.

However, Corporation Counsel Dale H. Fillmore and B. Ward Smith, his deputy, stayed away from Dearborn City Hall.

Hubbard refused to discuss the situation. Fillmore said the mayor dismissed them when they refused to alter a legal opinion to the mayor's wishes. Today, Civil Service Director Leo Dougher said Hubbard couldn't fire the assistant attorneys anyway. Only Fillmore, the department head, has that power, Dougher said.

The incident stemmed from a ruling against a recent Dearborn Council action to place two controversial amendment proposals on the April 4 ballot, despite objections all the way up to the State Supreme Court.

One amendment involves a raise in pay to $24,500 for Hubbard, the other an outdated, wartime speeding restriction.

Fillmore said his staff felt put to an advisory basis, would subject the courts to ridicule and subject City Clerk Myron H. Stevens to a possible contempt citation.

Immunization Plans Complete

Elementary Schools Pledge Cooperation in Vaccination Program

Plans for the expected immunization of some 31,000 Oakland County school children with a Salk-type polio vaccine were completed at a meeting of representatives of several participating health organizations at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital last month.

(See additional details on page 17)

Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, told those present that all elementary schools in the county have been contacted.

The schools have pledged full cooperation in helping to set up clinics for the three-shot series when a go-ahead is received from the vaccine evaluation unit at Ann Arbor, Dr. Monroe said.

Dr. F. M. Adams of Birmingham, chairman of the polio committee of the Oakland County Medical Society, reported member physicians would volunteer their services to staff the clinics.

Others who reported on phases of the preparations were Dr. C. P. Michael of Birmingham, chairman of the public health committee of the medical society; Mrs. Howard W. Riemann of Birmingham, volunteer chairman, and local representatives of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Three Boys Admit Stealing Eight Cars

Three juvenile boys, seized in a stolen auto last night by Pontiac police, admitted today they had stolen eight cars in the past few days here.

The youths were arrested on Chandler avenue near Parkhurst street by police who noticed a broken window in the car.

Aged 13, 14 and 15, the youths told Sgt. Henry O. Hoyt, head of juvenile bureau, they had taken eight cars from various sections in the city. The boys said they had learned how to start the auto without keys.

Hoyt said the boys would be turned over to other juvenile authorities.

Statue of F.D.R. in London Square Gets Traitor Tag

LONDON (AP)—"Traitor of Yalta" was scrawled in red paint across the base of a statue of President Roosevelt in London's Grosvenor Square early today.

The defacement was believed the work of an Englishman angered by the disclosure in the Yalta conference papers released in Washington last week that Roosevelt suggested handing over Hong Kong to China.

The towering bronze statue in a small park opposite the U. S. Embassy was erected out of funds contributed by thousands of Britons. It was unveiled by Mrs. Roosevelt March 12, 1948.

Ministry of Works officials sent out men to scrub off the paint.

There was an echo of Yalta in Parliament, too. Prime Minister Churchill was called upon to give firm assurances that Britain has never considered—and never will consider—ceding Hong Kong to China.

Sir Ian Horobin, a conservative who was a Japanese prisoner in World War II, asked Churchill to tell the House of Commons Thursday that Britain has "never entertained and will in no circumstances entertain any such suggestion from whatever quarter."

Claims Remon Mistrusted Aide

Witness Tells Feelings of Slain Panama Chief Toward Successor

PANAMA (AP)—A highly placed witness testified last night that assassinated President Jose Antonio Remon mistrusted Jose Ramon Guizado, his successor in the presidency. Guizado is on trial as an accomplice in Remon's slaying.

The wealthy 56-year-old ex-President pleaded innocent as his trial opened yesterday before the National Assembly sitting as a court of justice. The Assembly prosecuted for called for a guilty verdict which could send Guizado to prison for as much as 10 years.

First vice president and foreign minister in Remon's Cabinet, Guizado was sworn in as president a few hours after Remon was cut down by machine-gun fire Jan. 2. He was impeached by the Assembly Jan. 16 and ordered to stand trial after a 43-year-old lawyer, Ruben Miro, confessed the slaying and said it was done with Guizado's full knowledge. Miro later repudiated his confession.

Asked by Assembly President Ernesto Estenoz how he pleaded to the charge, Guizado rose from his chair, faced the President and said in a voice that carried to the galleries without the aid of loudspeakers:

"I declare myself innocent."

Two Hurt, 5 Escape in Crash at Milford

MILFORD—Two people were seriously injured last night in an accident on West Huron street. A car driven by Duane Reno, 23, of 123 Round Lake Rd., failed to make a curve, and smashed into a taxi, according to police.

Driver of the taxi was Calvin Woodward, 54, of North Milford road, who was uninjured.

Injured were a passenger in the car, Ruby Neff of 274 S. Milford Rd., with head and leg injuries; and Reno, who suffered chest and head injuries. Both were taken to Pontiac General Hospital by Milford police.

Although Reno's car was completely demolished, four seventeen-year-old passengers emerged unscathed. They are Edgar Perkins of 1745 Pershing Dr., Gene Woodward, of 6750 Mather Dr., Marlene French of 9543 Mandon Lake Dr., and Jerry Noel, 605 Alberta Dr.

Detroit Area Barbers Favor Higher Prices

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit area barbers voted unofficially last night in favor of an increase in haircut prices.

A poll was taken of the 260 barbers who attended a meeting of Local 532 of the AFL Barbers and Beauticians Union.

About two-thirds of them favored a 25-cent increase from $1.30 to $1.55 on weekdays. Most of the others voted for a 10-cent boost. Only four favored no increase. Union officials said the poll would be used for study by the union's negotiating committee.

being uprooted and limbs torn off. City Public Works Dept. carpenters battled gales atop the main fire station as a section of the roof began ripping away. Crews also repaired several traffic signal lights loosened by the winds.

Similar conditions prevailed all over the southern portion of the state.

In Detroit, trees were blown down in several areas and ropes were strung outside many buildings as marquees and signs swayed dangerously in the gusts.

Power lines were reported down in Blaisfield where electricity was off for an hour.

Hundreds of residents in low-land areas along Anchor Bay near Port Huron were marooned when waters were driven from the bay inland by the tempest. Floodwaters ranged from a foot to three feet there.

State police said the water covered an area eight to 10 miles long and about three miles inland. Police said it was complicated removing some of them as the water was not too deep for cars.

Shortly after noon 75 families had been evacuated by the police, but 150 families still were waiting for relief. The Red Cross had set up an evacuation shelter.

Three coast guardsmen were stranded on the Peche Island Light in Lake St. Clair when their small boat forced them to take refuge amidst 5-foot high waves. They later were rescued by a 40-foot coast guard cutter.

A near disaster was averted at the Bluewater Bridge at Port Huron when winds flipped a house trailer and a pickup truck pulling it off the bridge roadway, hurling it against the bridge rail.

Had the rail not held, the trailer and truck would have plunged into the St. Clair River far below. Michigan Bell, reporting only scattered damage here, said 13 toll circuits were out of order in Hillsdale and surrounding areas.

Hamtramck and Grosse Pointe residents reported winds of "terrific force." The Wayne County Road Patrol reported trees and utility poles blown down throughout the county.

In Ann Arbor, near gale force winds knocked out electrical power in the area around the University of Michigan stadium and in Clinton.

Tonight's low here is expected to range between 23 and 27 degrees, with a high tomorrow of 36-40. Yesterday in downtown Pontiac, the mercury climbed to a high of 52 after a low of 38.

Today the thermometer plunged from a 52-degree high at 8 a. m. to 28 degrees by 1 p. m.

Auto Buildup Near New High

Inventories May Pass Record of 607,275 Units Set Last May

DETROIT (AP)—New automobiles in dealers' hands and en route to them from the factory rose to 550,281 on March 1. Automotive News reported Monday.

A month earlier, revised tabulations show, the field stocks totaled 462,673.

The trade paper said: "Before the current buildup has run its course, it is expected inventories will surpass the record 607,275 units of last May. However, cheery sales forecast have taken the sting out of that possibility."

"With an unprecedented winter sales performance, dealers thus far this year have kept the new car stock pile below 1954 levels. Last March cars on the field totaled 573,122."

"But record production rates are due to overcome this difference." In addition to preparing for the high level turnover that normally accompanies the advent of spring, factories are spurred by other incentives.

"It would take a large selection of cars to meet the expected demand, particularly in view of the fact that one of the main influences in luring prospects to the showroom is the implied offer of a custom-equipped car. Color choices and optional equipment abound as never before."

Pat Clams Up on Recent Past

Finishes Testimony by Using 5th Amendment to Duck Questions

NEW YORK (AP)—Former call girl Pat Ward, the state's star wit in the Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke trial, ended five days of intimate testimony with refusal to answer questions about her sex life in recent years.

The slim, dark-haired young woman had told about sex experiences before she met Jelke and about her life as a call girl after going to live with him. However, when the defense yesterday asked about her later life, she sought the protection of the Fifth Amendment.

She ducked the questions by saying any answers "might tend to degrade or disgrace me." Judge Francis L. Valente ruled she did not have to respond.

After she was finally dismissed from the witness stand, Miss Ward told newsmen outside the courtroom: "I'm very happy it's over. It has been an ordeal."

Her lawyer said she plans to stay in New York. She has a fiance, he said, and "hopes to marry and raise a family."

Neither he nor Miss Ward, 21, would name the fiance.

Jelke, 25 and heir to an oil-marine fortune, is on trial for a second time on charges that he induced Miss Ward to live the life of a prostitute and tried to do the same with another girl, Marguerite Cordova, now 25.

He was convicted on these counts in 1953, but that trial was upset by an appeals court because the judge had closed the courtroom during presentation of the state's case.

A long series of questions about a man identified only as Emanuel Trujillo also brought no answer from Miss Ward. She declined to say whether she knew him, had lived with him, was married to him or had asked him to deny any sex relations with her.

After Miss Ward declined to talk about Trujillo in court, a reporter questioned a man of that name who belongs to a motorcycle club that Miss Ward joined recently.

Trujillo, 24, also known as Manny Coyle, said he met Miss Ward last June when she asked him to give her a ride on his motorcycle. "We became good friends," he said. "I've continued to go with her ever since. We've been very friendly."

Trujillo said he is proud of his part Apache Indian blood, and on his leather motorcycle jacket he wears his favorite nickname, "Co-chise," after an Apache chief.

He said he first met Miss Ward outside a Manhattan restaurant "where the wheelers used to get together."

He said Miss Ward later lent him $150 for a down payment on a new cycle, and he paid her back.

sin. Rhinelander had six inches today on top of the eight inches which accumulated Sunday and Monday. Appleton had 10 1/2 inches overnight. The fall measured four to six inches in other cities in northeastern and central Wisconsin.

Virtually all schools in the northeastern, central and southeastern regions of Wisconsin were closed because of impassable roads.

West of the Mississippi skies cleared. Davenport, Iowa, had eight inches of snow on the ground.

Farm agents said the heavy snow cover in Missouri and Kansas would be very beneficial to crops.

Winds up to 85 miles an hour lashed Ohio today, killing at least one man, ripping off roofs and smashing plate glass and power lines across the state.

Hailstorms accompanied the gales which swept into the state on the leading edge of a cold wave and moved into Western Pennsylvania.

The Pittsburgh weather bureau warned residents to be on the alert for a tornado which ripped into the Massillon, Ohio, area, wrecking heavy damage to homes and business places, but causing no deaths or serious injuries.

Pellets of hail three-eighths of an inch in diameter peppered Youngstown. A Cincinnati greenhouse was destroyed and a 100-foot chimney of a business firm leaned precariously, forcing a number of residents to evacuate their homes.

The roof of the old Columbus Post Office building ripped off and pedestrians were hustled off down town sidewalks as plate glass windows crashed into the street.

In Cleveland, the front of a downtown building was ripped off, leaving four floors exposed to the wind.

Heavy snow warnings were issued for Wisconsin, Northern Illinois and Upper Michigan.

A blanket of new snow ranging in depth from just a trace to eight inches already covers the area from Northwestern Oklahoma and Arkansas across southeastern Oklahoma, most of Missouri, Northwestern Illinois, southeastern Iowa and Southwestern Wisconsin.

Chautau, Kas., had eight inches on the ground; Kansas City five inches; Quincy, Ill., six and Madison, Wis., two inches.

Blizzard conditions were forecast in Montana, with two to five inches of snow.

Elsewhere, rain and drizzle covered most of the eastern third of the nation, which yesterday was hit by a mixture of tornadoes, high winds and floods that caused one death, four injuries and heavy property damage.

Sixty-mile-an-hour winds and rain lashed the Shreveport, La., area, wrecking several homes, uprooting trees and causing the death of Frank H. Page of Minden, who was killed when his taxicab collided with a truck in the blinding rain.

The Little River was approaching flood stage in Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Senate Refuses to Let Williams Appoint Judge

The Republican-controlled State Senate refused again yesterday to let Gov. Williams appoint a fourth circuit judge for Oakland County.

The upper chamber turned down a House amendment, supported by all Oakland's state representatives, to have the jurist appointed to start Jan. 1 next year and serve until the November election.

Previously, the Senate passed the fourth-judge bill, but stipulated he wait to be elected. The House wrote the appointment provision in.

Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) pleaded with the chamber that "this matter transcends politics—Oakland County is the only county which the state court administrators says needs another judge now because the three present judges are carrying the heaviest load in the state."

The bill will probably go to a House-Senate conference committee.

OK Green Fee Increase at Springdale Golf Links

BIRMINGHAM — A change in green fees for the 1955 season at the city's Springdale Park, was approved last night at a City Commission meeting. Newly added is a season membership for $25, entitling the card holder to use the nine-hole course as often as he wishes.

Rather than the $3 fee charged last year, which permitted a person three free rounds of golf, identification cards will be issued for $1. There will be no free rounds, but the card will be used by those paying the daily fee each time they play.

Slightly increased rates call for a $1 charge on week days and $1.50 on weekends and holidays. The charge permits the player as many rounds of golf as desired during the same day. There will be a 50-cent charge after 6 p. m.

Under the junior program for 8 to 12 year olds, a 35 cent fee will be charged those playing Monday and Thursday mornings.

Lawmakers moved onto discussion of improved lighting and a new electric service for Baldwin Library, and approved a $2,000 appropriation which will represent two thirds of the costs. Friends of the Baldwin Library group are contributing $700 toward the lighting project.

A $250 appropriation was approved for improving the Ground Observer Corps Post atop Baldwin School.

Discussions on the proposed Wilts street realignment and possible rezoning of a portion of the Porritt property now zoned for business, will be taken up at a joint session of the commission and Planning Board tonight.

At their meeting at 8 tonight Torrey School PTA members will hear Dr. Harold F. Powell, associate professor of educational psychology at Wayne University, talk on juvenile delinquency. Powell serves on the youth committee of the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Franklin Council on Community Services.

Oakland County Children's Home will be visited by the Junior League Musicals at 7 tonight. A program of singing, dancing and piano playing to popular music will be presented.

Past Matrons, Chapter 230, OES.

met for a dessert luncheon and business meeting today with Mrs. Jack Gibson, of Bannaville.

Firemen extinguished an early-morning blaze in the garage of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Licht's home at 210 Chesterfield. Damage, including scorched interior walls and storm sash and cracked windows, was estimated at $200. Officials said the blaze was caused when hot ashes ignited unburned papers in a refuse can.

William A. Kindley

Service for William A. Kindley, 30, a broker with Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis in Detroit, will be at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery. Mr. Kindley, of 616 Kennesaw, died suddenly today.

Besides his widow, Grace, he is survived by one daughter, Joanna at home; and two sons, Lt. William Ernest of the U. S. Navy and John Webster.

Herbert Buckner Scholarship Goes to Paul Dodyk

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Herbert Richard Buckner Scholarship, a new Cranbrook School memorial scholarship, has been awarded Paul Dodyk of Hamtramck. Headmaster Harry D. Hoyce has announced.

Funds for the scholarship were made available through Buckner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Buckner of Pontiac, his widow, friends and local organizations. A 1943 graduate of Cranbrook, Buckner died last year.

Dodyk is a member of the national Cum Laude Society and plans to enter Harvard University this fall.

Williams OKs Hunter Bans in 2 Townships

LANSING (AP)—Legislative bills prohibiting hunting with firearms in Southfield and Bloomfield townships of Oakland county, subject to local referendum, were signed into law by Gov. Williams today. Williams also approved a bill repealing the special law governing the Albion city school district and allowing it to operate under the general school code.

Leahy Recalls Yalta

NEW YORK (INS) — Few men knew more about what went on at Yalta than Fleet Admiral William D. Leahy, F.D.R.'s personal chief of staff. A look at his memoirs, "I Was There" (Whittlesey House) is rewarding at this time.

On the question of Poland, so soon to be betrayed: "Roosevelt handed me a copy (of the foreign ministers' compromise report on the new Polish government). I saw the now-familiar phrases such as 'strong, free, independent and democratic Poland,' 'universal suffrage,' 'secret ballot,' and so on. . . I handed the paper back to Roosevelt and said, 'Mr. President, this is so elastic that the Russians can stretch it all the way from Yalta to Washington without ever technically breaking it.'

"The President replied, 'I know, Bill — I know it. But it's the best I can do for Poland at this time.' The compromise report was approved."

Leahy left Yalta with grave mistake note of a number of extenuating circumstances, rather than denounce Roosevelt as a fool. He makes four points:

1. "Russia was our ally, and up to June 1944 took the full force of the German army.

2. "Fears expressed by many, some in high places, that Russia would make a separate peace with Germany, particularly when we were unable to mount a second front in 1943, had proved unfounded. Russia had kept every military agreement made before that time.

3. "Stalin had shown a conciliatory attitude on the United Nations, on giving France a voice in the control council of Germany, and in agreeing to reorganization of the Polish and Yugoslav governments.

4. "I personally did not feel that Russian participation in the Japanese war was necessary. The Army did. Roosevelt sided with the Army."

Leahy left Yalta with grave misgivings. The enthusiasm of the big three to kill the German military leaders as "war criminals" and dismember Germany did not sit well with the old professional.

"The agreement to destroy Germany militarily would make Russia the dominant power in Europe," he wrote in his diary. "That in itself, in my opinion, carries a certainty of future international disagreements."

One of the foremost proponents of the "Wheat-to-Russia" movement is a well-to-do Philadelphia investment broker, Joseph L. O'Brien. His ads in financial papers read:

"Russian agriculture is bankrupt. The Russian people are hungry and their leaders are confused and divided. Now is the time to demonstrate what we mean when we talk about peace and our friendship for the Russian people apart from their leaders. Let us take it upon ourselves to feed the Russian people . . . transform the flour of America into the flour of peace. Ship millions of sacks of flour to Russia. Each sack will have the impact of a guided missile on the Iron Curtain."

The man who sent me a clipping of the ad wrote across it, "How silly can one get?"

The lads who play the hoodlums in Metro's sizzling "Blackboard Jungle"—and a terrifying lot they are, on screen—the million to one shots, cinemawise, Rafael Campos and Danny Dennis were plucked out of high school with no camera experience. Vic Morrow, a teenage Cagney, borrowed carfare to get to New York from New Hampshire for an interview and test. Dan Terranova was a Western Union boy. Sidney Poitier, who gives an Academy Award performance in the picture, had played in "Cry, the Beloved Country," but little else.

They bring new and fierce impact to the screen, in a movie of enormous significance and timeliness.

Memoirs Tell of Poland's Betrayal

Acquit Woman of Witchcraft

Sister of Revolutionary Cleared of Charge by Guatemalan Court

GUATEMALA (U)—Olga Monzon, sister of an exiled rival of President Carlos Castillo Armas, has been cleared of charges she practiced witchcraft against the President.

A court dismissed the complaints against Miss Monzon and her maid yesterday. The two women were arrested Saturday.

Police accused Miss Monzon of placing a small rag doll — representing Castillo Armas — in a jar containing a thick liquid, pieces of garlic, onion, tomato and buckshot. After sticking pins into the doll's head, they asserted she sent her maid to bury the jar in the cemetery.

Both women denied the accusations. The maid charged she had been beaten by police after her arrest. Miss Monzon, a schoolteacher, also complained against police treatment.

Miss Monzon said the charges were an attack on her brother Col. Elfigo Monzon, who was at one time a member of Castillo Armas' ruling junta. Exiled after an abortive coup early this year.

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY

No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways — they're setting up bigger sales than ever before in history — tapping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" in total national sales.

$2267⁸⁸ * makes it yours
—delivered and ready to roll

WE keep coming across a good many people who still are surprised when they see the low delivered price of the Buick shown here.

They're surprised because they know that this price is just about what a lot of the smaller cars are asking—if not more.

But that's just the point.

What's making the 1955 Buick the hottest one in all Buick sales history is the simple fact that its low delivered price buys so much more automobile.

Much more automobile when it comes to the lift and life of great V8 power—Buick power in record might.

Much more automobile when it comes to style and size and room and ride steadiness — and the integrity of construction that comes of Buick building.

Much more, too, when it comes to matching your motoring needs to the simple practicality of your budget — because Buick offers you a stunning choice in just about every price class...

Like the rock-bottom-priced SPECIAL — the high-powered CENTURY — the extra-spacious SUPER — the magnificent and custom-built ROADMASTER. Each is a Buick through and through — and each is a big reason why Buick sales are soaring as never before.

Why not drop in on us this week and see how much your new-car dollars can really buy—in thrills and fun and comfort and deep satisfaction—when you buy Buick.

DID YOU KNOW—

- ★ — that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 188 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- ★ — that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three best-known smaller cars?
- ★ — that the Buick SPECIAL includes as standard equipment at no extra cost a long list of items usually charged for as "extras" by other cars—items such as direction signals, automatic lighting of glove compartment, variable speed windshield wipers with vacuum booster, and so on?
- ★ — that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

*Local delivered price of the 2-door, 4-passenger Buick SPECIAL Sedan, Model 48, illustrated. Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster . . . $81.70; Radio & Antenna . . . $92.50.

Looks to Future

Air Hostess Rejects Mink

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (U)—Ever hear of a pretty girl turning down a free mink coat?

Well, Jeanne Strouse did—and there were no strings attached to the offer.

Jeanne, who yearned during her school days to grow up and have sextuplets, is blue-eyed, has light brown hair, and is growing on 22. She is an airline stewardess, typical of hundreds of American working girls who prefer life up among the fleecy clouds to a sedate office job.

On a recent flight the passengers included a middle-aged couple. The wife had two mink coats, and both she and her husband seemed weary of lugging the extra one around. They asked Miss Strouse if, please, wouldn't she accept it as a present.

At first Jeanne thought they were joking, but they insisted. She thought it over, thanked them—and shook her head no. The husband was amazed by her refusal.

Shelbyville Rennel User Lost 18 lbs. Wins Health

Many Rennel users in the sunshine days of life are richly rewarded for their choice of a quality product. As a reducing aid and as a tonic Rennel is giving splendid results. "Since I have been taking Rennel Concentrate I have lost weight and feel so much better," writes Mrs. Edw. Leonard, Shelbyville, Mich. "I weighed 212 lbs. and now have reduced my weight by 18 lbs. I am 72 years old and will keep right on taking Rennel since it is helping me so much."

Make liquid Rennel work for you.

"Why?" she asked. "Every girl wants a mink coat. I don't understand you."

"Well, if I have a mink coat now," Jeanne told her, "what would there be left for me to want 10 years from now?"

Jeanne has logged 1,000 hours in the air flying between here and Montreal for Colonial Airlines, which has operated nearly 25 years without a passenger fatality. She has found an airplane cabin a wonderful place to study human nature.

"People show their real personality while traveling," she said. "And it doesn't take you long to find out that most people are pretty nice."

"Men who travel regularly make the best passengers. They are rarely unreasonable, and are appreciative of anything you do for them."

"One passenger always brings a candy bar for the stewardess. Another shows up with a box of candy for the crew, then goes to sleep. Many people are so used to tipping everybody that they offer the stewardess a tip—usually $1 or $2. Of course we don't accept it. One hosiery manufacturer always asks the name of the stewardess and mails her a pair of nylon stockings."

"Few people get airsick any more. It usually is caused by nervousness, and few people are nervous about flying any more."

"Children are the most troublesome passengers, especially if they are with their parents. But a child traveling by himself is always perfectly well behaved."

Jeanne is amazed at the amount of air lore many passengers acquire. One little old lady, told there would be a slight delay before takeoff, looked out the window and asked:

"Is there a hydraulic leak on the No. 3 engine?" There was.

Stewardesses earn from $325 to $400 a month or more, including expenses. They must be 21 years old, weigh no more than 130 pounds, and be between 5 feet 2 and 5 feet 6—and they can't wear glasses. There is a rule, unwritten but observed by most airlines, against hiring married women, divorcees or widows with children. It's a career for single girls.

Wolves are only a minor hazard to stewardesses.

"They don't average more than one to a plane," said Jeanne, smiling. "Some salesmen simply can't quit trying to sell themselves. You'd think being up in the air would improve their line, but it doesn't. How do you tell an airplane wolf? Like you do on the ground—by his leer."

The average stewardess quits in less than two years. In four out of five cases it's to get married.

"Most of them don't marry pilots," said Jeanne, "and for a very good reason—the pilots already have wives. And they don't usually meet their future husbands while flying. Stewardesses don't often date passengers. It isn't a very good policy—generally speaking."

Jeanne herself has most of her dates with a mechanic, and a lucky young man he is.

This is particularly true because she has lowered one of her early marital goals.

"I used to want to have sextuplets, because it had never been done," Jeanne confided, "but now I think I'd be satisfied to have three or four children—one at a time."

Cadillac

Take It Easy!

Sure you're out in the country—in a state-restricted area. And that powerful Cadillac engine is itching your throttle toe.

But don't do it!

That isn't the purpose of this engine.

It was created to give you phenomenal bursts of speed when you need them.

It was created to give your Cadillac the long life and freedom from repairs that come when your engine "loafs" at the normal driving speeds.

And it was created to give you the confidence that is yours only when you know you are master of every driving situation.

So don't use that tremendous power to dominate the highway—or to embarrass a fellow motorist.

In fact, a good rule for owners of the 1955 Cadillac might very well read: "Be last away when the light turns green. Remember: it's not how fast, but how wonderful!"

And how wonderful it is!

Let's say you are trying to go from one climate to another in a single day. Is it four hundred—six hundred miles?

Just follow the laws of the states you cross and drive until you are ready for bed.

What about getting tired? To the average Cadillac driver, it just doesn't happen!

Mile for mile—hundred for hundred—there just wasn't ever another car like this.

That's why we say: Don't try to prove anything in a hundred feet. Prove it, rather, in a hundred miles—or in five times as many—or in half a dozen years.

Of course, the foregoing message is addressed to the person who has already purchased his Cadillac.

But we also have a message for those who still have that delightful experience in store.

Come in and drive the car. That's when an hour will prove something. It will prove you're missing out on the finest motor car performance of all time.

Yalta Report's Release Serves Useful Purpose

This newspaper does not share the view of those who believe the Yalta record should not have been released.

In the wake of that release certain pertinent facts stand out. One's individual reaction to the publication almost certainly is affected by his political beliefs.

Also, the record reveals nothing that hasn't been known in greater or less detail for several years. Our own view is that publication can serve a useful purpose by putting "the mistakes" made at Yalta into proper historical perspective.

In considering those mistakes it is essential to remember the war situation at the time of the conference, February, 1945. Although foredoomed to defeat, both Germany and Japan still were fighting with a desperation that promised to prolong the war indefinitely. Russia's armies were within 30 miles of Berlin while ours, delayed by the Battle of the Bulge, were just beginning the invasion of Germany.

In the Pacific we had reached Manila and our military chiefs believed conquest of the Japanese mainland would cost many casualties and take 18 months. For these reasons they urged President Roosevelt to pressure Russia into the war against Japan although it was known the atomic bomb would be ready by August.

These are the factors behind the decisions of FDR and Churchill to pay Stalin a heavy price in concessions for entering the Pacific war and to prevent him from making a separate peace with Hitler.

Looking back, it is apparent that if Stalin had lived up to his agreements, the mistakes at Yalta would stand today in a different light. Time has shown that the world would be a better place if Stalin had honored his pledges and permitted democratic regimes in liberated European and Asian countries. The West's biggest mistake at Yalta was in believing Stalin would do what he said.

Time also has shown that Stalin was able to continue capitalizing on the mistakes at Yalta because of a grave defect in the West's policy. That, of course, was our one-sided disarmament. Many experts consider that this even more than Yalta enabled Russia to win its dominant position in Europe and Asia.

The truth is that the record of Yalta has provided politicians with less ammunition than some of them expected. Nonetheless, it has provided the actual record and it's a safe guess that it will continue to be a subject of partisan dispute for many months to come.

Even now there is a clamor for U. S. repudiation of these agreements. One can only ask—what good would that do us now?

Citizens League Urges Greater Use of Probation

This newspaper believes the Oakland Citizens League is on sound ground in urging greater use by the courts of probation and more probation officers for Oakland County.

Needless to say, great care must be used in selecting the cases warranting probation. Dangerous psychopaths must be kept in prison where they will not endanger society. But in many cases, particularly first offenders, probation seems logical.

The issue is of special current interest because Michigan's Department of Corrections has asked the Legislature for funds to employ 25 additional probation officers. Four of these new officials would serve in Oakland and increase the probation staff here to six, or about one-half the number favored by the National Probation and Parole Association.

Another fact lending urgency to the corrections department's plea is the record number of inmates at the State Prison of Southern Michigan. As of March 5, it was 6,604 or 34 more than at the time of the disastrous riot blamed on overcrowding.

There is no contention that Oakland Circuit judges haven't made good use of the probation system. Last year, in fact, probation was ordered in 58 per cent or in 233 of 401 felony cases.

Moreover, only 10 per cent failed to make good during the probation period. The association, however, urges that the statewide average of 50 per cent placed on probation should be increased to approximately 75 per cent.

Supervising a probationer or a parolee is far cheaper than maintaining him in State prison. In addition, he remains in society, supporting his family and making financial restitution for his crime.

These considerations seem to us ample to warrant Legislative appropriation of the funds needed for the additional probation officers. However, if the money isn't forthcoming, the Board of Supervisors should consider the Citizens League request that the County Board provide the necessary funds and facilities.

Deer Are Plentiful

Even Invading Pontiac City; Actions Not Always Welcome

Braggart: A person who opens his mouth and puts his feet in it.

"Ingratitude in the extreme," are the words of Lyndon Nunn of Lake Orion, who phones that a pair of deer which he has been feeding all winter, now are browsing on his strawberry plants, ignoring the dry food which he puts out for them. Writing from Flint,

Bernard Smithingale says he had to drive his car off the pavement the other night in dodging four deer on Oakland Ave. in Pontiac, near the overhead railroad bridge. In an Oakland County state park at Kent Lake, Superintendent

David Laidlaw estimates that the deer population has passed the 100 mark. The deer are also running rampant in Texas, according to

Bruce Wilson of Pontiac, the son of

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wilson of 74 Allee Ave. Now a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force, Bruce also is studying law at night school in San Antonio. On his way home the other evening he ran into a herd of deer, killing two and injuring a number of others, and badly damaging his car.

Missing the Bonanzagram prize by only one word,

Mrs. James Hogarth of 6506 Alden Drive, Green Lake, feels that she should have stuck by her first hunch. She had it "meat" but changed it to "heat," when the first proved to be correct. She made the change because it seemed like a more grammatical setup, even though the story had talked of a full meal, which implies meat.

First to report the croaking of frogs is Andrew Way who heard them early in the morning of the first day of spring, near his home at Pontiac Lake.

Perpetual Commotion

James Marlow Says:

Walter White's Optimism Spurred Fight for Negro

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter White could have "crossed the line" and passed himself off as a white man. He looked like one. But he chose to stay a Negro and fight for Negroes.

Like Socrates, he had been a gadfly on the conscience of the nation. Heart attacks slowed him down in recent years. Before that his energy was endless. He was a man on a lifelong crusade: the advancement of his race.

He dressed well, he was witty, quick, emotional and, this writer thought, so optimistic that he sometimes blinded himself to realities. But he lived to see much of his optimism justified.

As executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), he became one of the most effective forces in American history for the progress of Negroes.

If ever a man died in the hour of triumph, it was White. He died last night at 61 of a heart attack, 10 months after the Supreme Court had outlawed segregation in the nation's public schools, North and South.

White, as a Negro boy in Atlanta, was horrified by race riots he saw. In this country a few Negro intellectuals have looked to communism to bring the advancement they wanted.

White, like the vast majority of his people, put his faith in a democratic society. He worked the hard way: to end segregation and discrimination by legal means, not by violent means.

He lectured and wrote on racial problems. He worked to push the political parties into plugging for civil rights. He endlessly protested discrimination, particularly in the government. He lived to see segregation ended in the armed forces.

For more than a quarter of a century he testified before congressional committees and lobbied to get civil rights laws through Congress. His poorest luck was in Congress. Southern senators could always filibuster civil rights bills to death.

Years ago the NAACP learned it could make more progress through the courts—in getting decisions against segregation and discrimination. The NAACP increasingly

Says Mothers of Today Spend Too Much Time Primping; Neglect Their Children

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer requests that the letter be omitted to his nature.

Today we talk God, preach God, but we are not living God. An example of this is juvenile delinquency. If we were truly living God, would that be the problem it is today?

Mothers are constantly reminded via magazines, TV and radio to keep themselves attractive. For whom? For their husbands, the father of their children. If they don't, they stand the chance of losing them to some other beguiling woman who has nothing else to do.

Thus, some of the mothers of today neglect their true task, of the full time job of being a mother first. Too many make the mistake that the time devoted to the children is secondary.

The mother of yesterday had a well-rounded figure, a face that was beautiful with the love she felt for her husband and children. She wore a clean, although perhaps a little too stiffly starched house dress, protected with an apron.

She didn't need to worry about soiling a "latest creation" nor of smearing her mascara when holding a crying child. The true mother thinks of soothing her child, and making him feel secure.

We are all guilty of putting too much value on earthly materials and letting God's true gifts to us go unheeded. No mother needs to worry about all these earthly glimmers to retain her husband if both learn the true meaning of their love and life here on earth.

Earth Probably Just One of Millions of Planets Inhabited by Human Beings

Spiritual callisthenics are as vital as muscular callisthenics, so study this case most carefully; then compare it with the follow-up tomorrow. You can also discuss these ideas in church on Sunday, for they are in no way contrary to Christianity, but simply amplify our view of the hereafter.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case N-380: Walter L., aged 48, asked me to address a large picnic crowd during the autumn.

It was a beautiful, starry night, so I asked the audience to look upward at the sky.

"You can see about 3,000 stars with the unaided eye," I began, "but there are billions of them."

"Our sun is also a star, considered to be about average in size. So billions of those stars up there are probably just like our sun in that each may be surrounded by 8 or 10 planets."

"We can't see those planets, since planets don't generate their own light, as do stars."

"But if our sun has 9 planets, of which one is perfectly adapted for animal life and vegetation, then it is certainly plausible to assume that other stars like our sun may likewise have one inhabitable planet among their 8 to 10 satellites."

"In fact, recently a scientist estimated that there are at least 100,000,000 planets of distant suns which are either inhabited or at least inhabitable."

"I view them as God's cosmic classrooms. Since God likes action instead of stagnation, He probably placed us here on earth to let us grow in our mental and spiritual personality."

"But he may have placed others of his children on distant inhabitable planets. God may thus be comparing their progress with our own."

"And don't let bizarre comic books scare you concerning the appearance of the inhabitants on those other planets. For I feel that our human anatomy is best adapted for our manifold duties."

A lobster's claw hand, for example, would not permit us to play the piano, and one eye, as in a Cyclops, would lack our superior 3-D vision.

"Besides, the Bible says we were made in God's own image, so if he has other children on distant planets in his vast universe, they, too, will probably resemble us."

"Moreover, scientific laws, as of mathematics, are not restricted to earth, alone, for two plus two will make four anywhere. And a triangle contains 180 degrees on any planet."

"But some changes may exist on different planets. For example, if one distant planet were occupied only by Chinese and another

Pontiac who is against taking any kind of medication, he should be respected—that is his right and privilege. Each person is the boss of his own body and soul unless he is an idiot.

Friendship Is Love in Action, Says Reader

Friendship, is a manifestation of brotherhood as brotherhood is a manifestation of love and so friendship is love in action. We can fathom the depth of the ocean but we cannot fathom the depth of friendship for friendship is rooted in the soul and who can measure the soul?

Friendship always knows its place—it never intrudes, yet it stands ever ready to heed every call from a fellow-creature in need.

Friendship is Divinity in man; changeless, indestructible and eternal. "The same yesterday, today and forever." Verily, friendship is "A pearl of great price."

Teenage Gang Wars Not the Answer

Teenagers, what are you thinking of having gang wars, knifings, beatings, and God only knows what next? It's about time the people of this town heard what you think. This one letter isn't any good unless you back it up.

Anyone who is interested in finding out why gang wars are started just needs to be downtown and see the teenagers hanging around the corners and girls not over 15, painted up with enough makeup to cover five people.

Don't give the people who have said "I told you so, teenagers are bad" the satisfaction of seeing it in print. I'm not a teenager but I'm with you all the way. Let's make the people eat those words (but on a friendly basis.)

Fight for what you believe in but fight fairly, the answer doesn't lie in gang wars.

No One Escapes Effects of Physical Degeneration

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
 The very idea of degeneration, even physical degeneration, as clearly distinguished from moral or intellectual depravity, is unpleasant, particularly the suggestion that it can happen to you.

After all, young'uns, it's not sensible to try to ignore the facts of life. When you get along towards middle age—and it is for you to decide when that will be—you'll be degenerating, all right.

Degeneration comes to all men and women past 40. Demonstrable degeneration, that is, scientifically degeneration begins the moment physical growth and development reaches the pinnacle of perfection, which for most women is about the age of 25 and for most men about the age of 23.

For 15 or twenty years after the pinnacle, the man or woman may seem, look or feel in top condition, but it can't be so. It is the way of all life to grow and develop up to the pinnacle and immediately thereafter, like a rose, or a racehorse, begin to decline. The medical dictionary defines (physical) degeneration as a "retrogressive pathological change in cells or tissues in consequence of which the functional power is lost"—but the functional power is just impaired, not lost.

As we have been trying to tell you in many pieces, a fair part of which were printed, I hope, in my belief, reached from long study of the subject, that Oakland County's "Mr. Democrat," Jimmie Lynch, that it would be a nice gesture on the part of his national administration to either use some of that loose cash right here and build us a new county building or at least furnish one-half of the cost.

His answer to my suggestion showed he had some few doubts of his own administration: "A very good suggestion, but too sensible to get any attention in Washington."

Above all Jimmie was fiercely American. How I would love to see him back again in his prime and facing some of those, "I stand on the Fifth Amendment" boys and girls on the witness stand.

Butler Attacks Ike on Yalta Release

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler told a party rally last night:

"It's frightening to not have President Eisenhower know what's going on around him."
He said presidential aides erred when they announced President Eisenhower hadn't authorized release of the Yalta papers, or ever read them.

Speaking at a Jefferson-Jackson dinner, he recalled Eisenhower in 1953 asked Congress to repudiate the Yalta pact.

Secretary of State Dulles' sudden release of the papers last week brought adverse reaction from American allies, he said, and "the responsibility rests upon the President."

Tots' Beanies Eliminate Starling Problem for AF

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—They tell this one about Maj. Gen. Clements McMullen (Ret), former commanding general at Kelly Air Force Base.

When starlings persisted in landing on air surfaces of B36 bombers, solving them and creating "drag," the general ordered children's beanie caps fixed on parked bombers' tail sections. Their whirling propellers frightened the birds away.

Gen. Carter Offers Asylum to Anyone

tary Armistice Commission that the Allies would grant political asylum to anyone who wanted it, "even to anyone in this room." Angered by Communist charges that the Allies had violated the demilitarized zone, the U.S. General rejected the accusations as "utter fabrications."

He said a witness produced by the Communists expressed a desire for asylum. But, he said, the Communists agreed to turn him over only after the Allies signed a receipt which "included a lot of trumped-up charges."

He asked the Communists to stop "your constant attempt to make the armistice commission serve your propaganda and your aims."

Former School Dentist Says:

Tooth Decay Brings Pain, Poorer General Health

Importance of a good set of teeth, free from cavities, was discussed today by Dr. P. B. Jones in an interview.

Dr. Jones served as a dentist in the Pontiac public schools after organizing a dental clinic in the school system in 1922. He is a past president of both the Oakland County Dental Society and the Oakland County Public Health Association.

"Having served as full time dentist in Pontiac schools for 15 years I had the opportunity of checking thousands and thousands of children's teeth," said Dr. Jones. Following through from year to year I could see the tremendous importance of saving children's teeth. Those teeth were put there for a specific purpose.

"According to nature, deciduous teeth (baby teeth) are shed at different ages up until the child is approximately 12 years of age. If deciduous teeth are allowed to decay to the point of extraction, before the proper time of shedding, with no prevention or correction, the child is bound for pain, infection, ill health, abnormal mouth, and finally extraction.

"premature extraction of deciduous teeth leads to an abnormal mouth, ineffective chewing, staggering and crooked teeth. On the other hand, one should not be misled into thinking children have only deciduous teeth through the ages of 2 to 12 years.

"Permanent teeth start to appear from five years on. There are permanent teeth scattered in different parts of the mouth. They belong to the second set and the child should retain them on through the ages of 20-30-50 years if given proper treatment.

"For instance the six year molars belong to the permanent set. They appear between the ages of five and seven years and are very important.

"They are four in number, two above and two below, appearing just behind the last deciduous molar. They are the keystone to the dental arch. Practically all permanent teeth are directed and guided in proper alignment by them. Therefore, we owe it to our children to do whatever is possible to give them a good, sound, solid set of teeth, meeting perfectly, and a normal mouth.

"Always remember, good looking teeth are a mark of beauty. But what is far more important, a good set of teeth is vitally important to a person's general health. If teeth are missing, or do not meet properly so that food is not chewed thoroughly, a person gets much less nutrition from his food.

"Scientific experiments have been conducted regarding fluoridation of water and have proven it to be of great benefit, with no ill effects. I think it will be a great step forward to saving the teeth of our boys and girls."

Slot Machines Getting Scarce

Only 8 Operators Buy Federal Stamps This Year in Michigan

DETROIT (UP) — State and local police are waging such effective anti-slot machine warfare that only eight persons dared buy federal tax stamps for "one-armed bandits" in Michigan during the current fiscal year. It was disclosed today.

M. E. Swanson, chief of the returns processing branch of the Internal Revenue Service, said the number of slot machine registrations was getting progressively lower each year.

He said 11 slots were registered in Michigan in 1953-54 and 17 during the 1952-53 fiscal year, which begins on July 1.

Swanson explained that slot machines are illegal in the eyes of state authorities. However, he said there is nothing in federal law which makes them illegal if they are properly registered.

For $250, a person can buy a slot machine stamp and register the machine. Then he doesn't have to worry about being bothered by the "feds."

But State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs said in East Lansing that buying a federal tax stamp is "just asking for trouble."

"Our department makes periodic checks with federal authorities to see if any new slot registrations have been made," Childs said. "Whenever we find a new one, we immediately notify the local police in the area and they crack down."

"Slot machines are getting more and more scarce in Michigan," Childs added. "They usually get knocked off on sight."

Swanson said some persons, fearful of federal authorities, buy the $250 stamp and then go ahead and operate the registered slot machine in hopes that it doesn't come to the attention of state and local police.

Firemen Quit in Tiff

WOLCOTT, Vt. (UP)—The 14 members of the Wolcott volunteer fire department have quit in a tiff and put their 1924 pumper on sale for $500. They explained they asked the town meeting for a $500 appropriation March 1 and got nothing. They notified the 766 townspeople that if they have a fire they can telephone their alarm to Morrisville, seven miles west, or Hardwick, six miles east.

Most Powerful Car at its Price!

Come in and try the sensational performance of Pontiac's 200-HP Strato-Streak V-8!

If all the talk about horsepower has left you confused, let this one simple fact set you straight.

Model for model, the sensational all-new Pontiac Strato-Streak V-8 delivers more horsepower per dollar than any other car in its field.

And that fact holds good whether you specify the four-barrel carburetor—a low-cost option that puts 200 eager horsepower under Pontiac's handsome hood—or the regular 180-horsepower Strato-Streak V-8.

Either way, we promise you thrilling action like you've never known before! The Strato-Streak V-8 engine, part and parcel of every Pontiac at every price, produces performance as fresh and exciting as Pontiac's future-fashioned beauty—with traditional Pontiac dependability and the greatest economy in Pontiac history. If high power and brilliant performance are your prime concerns, here's the car to command—a car that puts more horsepower at your instant call for every single dollar you invest.

But Pontiac's extra value doesn't stop with power. Pontiac gives you the exclusive distinction of future-fashioned Twin-Streak styling and Vogue Two-Tone colors. Its Shock-Proof chassis, wide-stance rear springs, long 122" or 124" wheelbase, recirculating ball steering and bigger brakes provide the comfort and handling ease you would expect to find in America's most costly cars.

Come in soon and road-test the difference you get with Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 performance, and you'll see why Pontiac sales are at an all-time high!

You can buy a big, powerful Pontiac for less than many models of the lowest-priced cars and much less than stripped, economy models of higher-priced makes!

Look high and low... and you'll go

When Auto Hits Train in Race With CruiserCOLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two young couples tried to outrace a police car early today but they didn't get away.A train hit their car at a crossing and carried it 200 feet. All four were killed.One couple was thrown from the car while the other boy and girl were trapped inside.Dead were Arnold Ray Castle, 18; Victor Lee Sykes, 17; Susan
Carroll, about 21; and Roberts
Ann Pugh, 19, all of Columbus.Police in neighboring Bexley said they stopped their car last night for running a red light. They said one of the girls was driving but had no license. The car followed a police cruiser part way to the police station, then suddenly swung away at an intersection and disappeared.Bexley Patrolman Reed Davidson said he spotted the car later parked on a dim street with lights out. It roared off as he approached.
He chased it into Columbus and was about a block and a half behind when it was rammed by the westbound Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train.Three of the victims died instantly. Castle lived about 2½ hours.Price Support Vote Postponed by HouseWASHINGTON (AP)—A House vote on a bipartisan move to junk the administration's flexible system of farm price supports has been put off until mid-April.House action had been scheduled for tomorrow, but Chairman Cool-ey (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee decided yesterday to postpone the test. Coolley is a leader of house forces seeking return to the high, rigid support system which was voted out last year.Rep. Albert (D-Okla.), assistant Democratic leader, said the delay was caused by the crowded legislative calendar this week and by an insufficient time to get House Rules Committee clearance for the bill. But administration supporters viewed the delay as a sign of weakness among the opposition.

Now Who's Disorderly?

OMAHA (AP)—Police raided the home of Anthony Washington and hauled him to jail on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. He was released on bond the next day, but was soon back at headquarters.
Burglars, he told police, entered his home while he was jailed and took a pistol, clothing and his television set.Harvest of Souls Greatest—BillyHundreds Answer Call for Converts on First Night of CrusadeGLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—Billy Graham's all-Scotland religious crusade got off to a flying start last night. The harvest of souls from the 13,000 persons jamming four-acre Kelvin Hall was the greatest ever, the American evangelist said.Hundreds responded to Graham's pleas to make "decisions for Christ" and filed off into a side room for a private word with the evangelist. No exact check could be made on the number, but Graham said he had never had such a reaction at an evangelical meeting.Almost all the Protestant religious notables of Scotland appeared on the platform for the opening of Graham's six-week salvation drive. There was no sign of the dissensions which some had feared.
And the reaction when he asked for "decisions" stilled the fears of some clergymen that reserved Scots would not respond to his type of evangelism.Graham told his audience that through their souls they would live to be a million years old."You feed your body, brush your hair, put on makeup and wear clothes," he said, "and it's all for the body which dies like grass withers. But for the soul, which goes on and on, you do so little."Female's Fury fury of her scorn will cost Mrs.

Mary Eleanor Gauthier, 28, a total of $386.Municipal Judge Clark M. Olmstead presented Mrs. Gauthier with a bill for that amount yesterday after police testified she:

1. Drove an automobile while intoxicated (fine $125).
2. Tore the uniform of one of

3. Kicked up a rumpus when po-

4. Tore out the plumbing in her costs $156).

Mrs. Gauthier, mother of three children, also drew a two-day jail sentence.

Road Manners Lessen Chance of Accidents

Mind your motor manners and you never can be accused of being a despotic driver or a rude dude of the road.

Even more important, you'll greatly decrease your chances of becoming "an accident going somewhere to happen."

If you don't want to qualify as an automobile autocrat or a boorish bumper-bender, you might make the following your code of the road:

1. Don't cheat at a red light or a stop sign any more than you would at a game of cards.
2. Share the road instead of usurping the right of way from other cars and pedestrians.
3. Never use your horn to threaten or scold, but as a warning device in emergencies.
4. Politely dim your lights when meeting other cars at night.
5. Park so as not to use up other parking spaces or impede the movement of other cars.
6. Be considerate by driving at reasonable speeds.
7. Always signal your desire to stop, pull out or turn.
8. Be orderly by always keeping to the right, except when turning or passing.

Adherence to such etiquette of the road should prove a challenge to every woman interested in traffic safety.

Kidskin Treated by New Process

Easter shoppers who like leather gloves to accent their new Spring ensemble are in for a pleasant surprise. There is a record-breaking assortment around in new colors and treatments to coordinate with this Spring's casual and dress-up fashions.

On the scene is fashion's perennial favorite, kidskin—but with a difference. This year it is treated with a brand-new process that makes it gossamer-thin and luxuriously silky to the touch.

The new leather is particularly effective in white—and new gloves in this group show dressmaker treatment with fine tufts, clockwork and trapunto embroidery.

The very short white glove retains top place in popularity. However, the newer 4-button and 6-button length is growing in importance.

It is particularly suited for wearing with the new three-quarters sleeve or smartly crushed over the stylishly new long, tight sleeve of current fashion.

Doctor Explains What Winter Does to Hands

CHICAGO (INS) — A winter wonderland may be pretty, but what the weather does to the hands of the lady of the house definitely isn't pretty at all.

Dr. Matthew J. Brunner, of Northwestern University, says winter's coldness seems to be responsible for the start of most cases of "housewives' hands."

Dr. Brunner explains that such irritants as soaps, detergents, dust, solvents and other materials that the housewife handles every day would not be so much of a problem if her hands were not chapped by winter weather.

The doctor was able to start cases of housewives' eczema by soaking the hands of volunteers in a detergent solution. But, he found this reaction only happens in the winter.

He said that these same women did not suffer skin outbreaks when they soaked their hands during the summer time.

Tiny cracks in the outer skin of the hands in winter apparently are the trouble. Dr. Brunner pointed out that the irritants quickly gain entrance through the small cuts seen on the hands in winter-time dried out, chapped skin.

Sarah Van Hoosen Jones Speaks to Republicans

Sarah Van Hoosen Jones was guest speaker at the Monday gathering of the Waterford Republican Women's Club at Old Mill Tavern.

The speaker who is a Republican candidate for re-election to a third term on the Michigan State Board of Agriculture said that township officers are "the beginning, the seed of American government."

Continuing, Miss Jones said that the people in the State of Michigan have an opportunity to do what only a few states can do. "Your educational boards are in your hands. You elect your state board of agriculture, and you elect the regents of the University of Michigan."

"You are permitted to say who is going to govern your institutions that have to do with your children," Miss Jones explained that when boards are not elected and when parties change, all board members are swept out and appointed by the new party.

Miss Jones who has served two six-year terms on the MSC board is the second woman in 32 years to become president of the governing boards of state universities.

Mrs. Lynn D. Allen, president of the club introduced Waterford Township Supervisor Lloyd Anderson who spoke briefly, and other county officers and candidates.

Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Bert Norton, first president of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County.

Mrs. Norton introduced the speaker. Also speaking briefly were County Clerk Lynn D. Allen and Don White.

Superdumps Will Hit All Some Time

But Gloom Means Emotional Outlet, It Will Blow Over

No one knows why everything seems to get under a woman's skin at once. She struggles along for months and then suddenly one night, her husband comes home to a scene of emotional chaos.

His wife is huddled in the middle of an unmade bed, her eyes puffy and red, her nose running. The kitchen is dark and cold. The kids are heaven knows where. The carpet is unwet, the marketing undone, the dry cleaning still in a spotted heap by the marketing list.

Generally, if the wise husband will search, he can find a woman's magazine underneath the heap of bedclothes.

It's open to a luscious color picture of a smiling wife in a tasteful home, her husband dressed in a hand-knit sweater, her kids immaculate, playing with some clever toy mother has whipped up.

And mother just couldn't take it any more. She wishes she had the time, the energy and the wits to be beautiful, competent and wise. She feels the situation is hopeless.

She has no will power for a diet, no time for thousands of beauty preparations. She feels she's old without ever having been young.

And every word that she reads makes her feel grimmer. The wrinkles advance and she's done nothing. She fears they'll be worse tomorrow.

It should interest women who are familiar with these superdumps to know that they are our emotional outlet. We weep, gnash teeth and feel everything is utterly hopeless for a day or two. But we do not get ulcers, the shakes or become alcoholics, because we're able to have these outbursts.

In their own way, they help us to be beautiful, though we're scarcely charming during them. Those of us who get the glooms don't get hard worry lines, pursed lips, the tense attitudes.

For, now and then, we break loose in a fearful siege of blues that cleans up all our grievances at once. We crawl into our unmade beds, let our husbands put the children to bed. The next day, all is fine.

Only our husbands are baffled.

Mrs. Allen Entertains Sorority

Mrs. Richard Allen opened her home on Monterey boulevard Monday evening to 13 members of Zeta Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. Mrs. Jack Tee of South Gate, Calif., was a guest.

Mrs. Richard Zumbrennen spoke to the members about hobbies and displayed and explained insignias and medals of the armed forces. Also taking part in the program was Marjorie Courtney whose subject was Connoisseurs. She showed illustrations of collector's items and displayed several reproductions of works of art.

An election of officers was held preceding the serving of refreshments by the hostess.

Jeannie Simpson of Gladstone place and Mrs. Eugene Russell of Orchard Lake road. The affair will take place at Chieftain Hall with dancing beginning at 9 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door Saturday evening.

Use Steel Pails for Waste Cans

Waste baskets, particularly those in dens and workshops, sometimes take such a severe beating in normal use that they don't last as long as expected.

One solution is to decorate galvanized steel pails with paint and decals and use them for waste receptacles.

Steel pails of course, are much more durable than most waste baskets and will give almost indefinite service.

Moreover, since the pails are leakproof, they can be used to carry water for extinguishing small fires. They have handles for easy carrying.

District 4 Solo Festival Held at PHS

More than 700 voices were heard throughout the halls of Pontiac High School Saturday when the annual solo and Ensemble Festival was held.

Mrs. Lee Valentine, district chairman revealed that students from schools included in District Four were among those participating. These schools include all those in the southern part of the state.

The purpose of the festival is to encourage students and to help them to improve themselves in singing.

Pontiac school participants appeared under the direction of George Putnam while Helen Davis is director of music at Waterford Township High School.

Adjudicators were Haydn Morgan of Michigan State Normal College; Glen Kieper, Cass Technical High School, Detroit; Margaret VanderHart, Alma College; Robert Hoffelt, Michigan State Normal College, and Harold Tolman.

Mrs. C. D. Welden Entertains Group

Mrs. Charles D. Welden was hostess in her Illinois avenue home for the Monday meeting of Alpha Delta Chapter of Psi Chi Sorority.

April 25 is the date chosen for the annual violet luncheon to be held at Dearborn Inn.

Clean Car's Inside

If you're going to trade the car this year for a new one for your motorized vacation, it's a good idea to give it a housewife cleaning inside as well as out. It may help you get a better price.

Fiberglas Drapery New

NEW YORK (INS) — Picture windows can make a room look "pretty as a picture"—particularly if bedecked with the proper drapes.

Not only are these windows beautified by drapery, but the windows also serve as a display case for drapes the housewife wants to show off.

Anyone interested in hanging synthetic fiber drapes across a wide window might be attracted to some of the latest fiberglas designs.

One is a horizontally fabric-stripped sheer with bands of heavier texture. Interspersed with loosely-woven bands. Like most sheers it can either be hung by itself or as an overlay for a solid color drape of heavier fabric, and is available in pastel tints.

MELBA VINCENT

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Vincent of Meadow avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Melba to Glenn Hastings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hastings of Whittemore street.

People who want a splashy sort of print might be intrigued by a pattern of large fern sprays which run diagonally across the drape. They are available in smart color mixtures like browns, greens and rust or pink, turquoise and blue.

Clean Shutter With Brush Attachment

Shutters are mighty popular interior decoration today for both windows and interior doors. But they are dust catchers.

The best gimmick for getting the dust out of those unmovable slatted wood strips is the brush attachment of the vacuum.

Walter W. Vandien Speaks on 'Water Wonderland'

Walter W. Vandien, educational consultant for the Michigan Conservation Department, presented the program for the Pontiac Branch of the National Farm and Garden Club Monday.

Members gathered at the Williams Lake home of Mrs. William Hartman.

Mr. Vandien introduced by Mrs. C. K. Patterson, program chairman, showed a movie entitled "Michigan Water Wonderland."

The speaker prefaced the showing by saying, "There is no substitute for water, the most necessary commodity," and he added, "to give an example of its immense usage—Grand Rapids uses 117 gallons per person per day; Detroit uses 132 gallons, and Pontiac uses 158 gallons per day."

Even with Michigan's 11,000 lakes, the longest shore line of water in any state, there are local problems of water shortage, the speaker noted.

Commentator for the picture was Mort Neff who told of the recreation facilities made by water as the pictures depicted the fun of fishing, water skiing, canoeing and the beauty of shore line drives.

At the close of the movie, Mr. Vandien stated that 15,800,000 people spent an average of one night in such activities last year.

President Mrs. Arthur Selden announced that Miss Laura Efferts and Mrs. D. R. Wilson, instrumental in the founding of the Pontiac Branch of National Farm and Garden Club were made honorary members.

Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald has been selected by the state organization as marketing chairman. Mrs. William F. Maybury is local chairman.

A class in flower arrangement will be taught in the late spring by Mrs. R. E. Gegoux, and the organization will have a benefit party to pay for flowering trees to beautify the city.

Mrs. Selden also announced two flower shows of interest including the Michigan Flower and Garden to be held at the State Fair grounds March 26 through April 3, and another in association with the Detroit Garden Center to be held April 17 to May 1.

A tea followed the meeting with Mrs. Selden presiding. The social committee consisted of Mrs. T. Edward Nelson, Mrs. Paul Connolly, Mrs. George Crane, Mrs. E. L. Page, Mrs. Clarence Nephler, Mrs. Ross Thompson, Mrs. Harold Van Hallen and Mrs. Henry Gaudier Jr.

Amusing Stunt for Dividing Large Group Gets Festivities Under Way

Woodward Gives Helpful Suggestions for Planning Freshman Class Party

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Our freshman class is planning a big party — there will be nearly 100 guests. What we need is an idea or two for games that can be played by such a large group. Can you help us make it quite a party?"

A group that large can be unwieldy unless you organize. It's too easy for the indifferent ones to sit it out while the rest of the party is being entertained.

I think it's easier to split the large group into smaller ones, and put them against each other in competitions, or let them play different games.

The trick is to have an amusing stunt for dividing up the large group. And here's one you could use.

Say you want to divide your 100 guests into ten groups of ten each. Write out on slips of paper five things and, on five more slips write their opposites. For instance: asleep, awake; North Pole, South Pole; sweet, sour.

On ten more slips write the names of five famous heroines and their heroes. On ten more the names of well-known baseball players and their teams. Famous ships and their lines. Famous television stars and the product their program advertises. Famous books and their authors. You see what I mean.

Then put all the slips well mixed up in a bowl and have your guests divide by and draw a slip. Various categories can then be assembled in different parts of the room and you have your small groups ready to play. Collect the slips if you'd like to use the stunt over again later in the evening.

Once divided, you can stage relay races. Pack ten suitcases with weird and wonderful costumes — full skirts, crazy hats, rubber boots, jackets.

Maybe Depression Would Be Lesson to Smug Kids

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Nobody wants another depression—but sometimes I think we may need just a small dip to teach our young that they can't keep on forever getting something for nothing.

Before fathers and mothers begin to denounce me as a spinster disparager of their children, I wish quickly to align myself with the school that considers parents and other adults in most instances as guilty as boys and girls when the latter are discovered in sharp practices.

Two instances I've recently heard first-hand indicate that there's some toughening of attitude—at least on the part of adults who aren't parents. There was the friend who, in a spirit of neighborhood last summer, hired an ambitious teenager to mow the small lawn of her country place—and fired him quickly when she discovered he was charging her for six hours' work while ripping through the chore in a fast 45 minutes.

Then on a recent weekend, a warm-hearted partisan of youth named Helen fell for the proposition of two 14-year-olds armed with buckets and cloths, who were soliciting car-waxing jobs.

The pair went to work with great energy and Helen beamed sentimentally—but when she came to inspect their labor the car, alas, looked as though it has broken out into a combination of measles and mildew.

Helen said firmly that she would pay only when the defects were remedied. The boys muttered, kicked bluestone in the driveway and finally promised

The first player on each team must dash to the suitcase at some distance away, don the costume, pick up the suitcase and gallop back to the next player, take off the costume, pack it away and fasten the suitcase. The next in line repeats the performance. There should be a winner.

For another relay start an orange at the head of the line and insist that it be passed down the line without benefit of hands. Shoulders, chins elbows are fair — no hands.

Then give everybody a hairpin to clutch in the teeth and use to pass a marshmallow down the line. If it falls on the floor only the hairpin can be used to pick it up.

The whole group can play these games together, then you can set them to playing different games separately. Shouting Geography: a blind-folded free-for-all feed the face game where contestants try to lift popcorn from a bowl with a teaspoon and feed their opponents; "horses have feathers;" combine two or three groups to play "three deep". Then get the whole gang together in a rousing Grand March when it will be time for the eats.

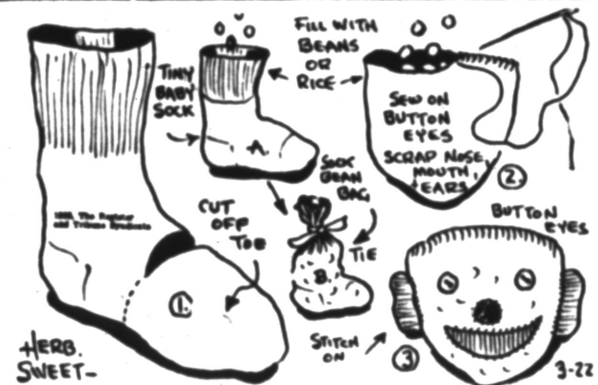

grudgingly to do more polishing in the morning.

Unluckily for them, the sterner member of the household was at home when they arrived around noon next day. He watched grimly as the workers repaired to the garage, turned on the car radio at top volume, fussed around with cloths for a time five minutes and then appeared, hands out, for their money. When the outraged patron protested, they asked pertly, "What do you expect for $10?"

"It seems," said the car owner bitterly, "that I'll be thankful if only I can see my car looking as well as it did before you kids went to work on it. Tell me, were you offering $10 worth of a wax job or a $10 wax job?"

"We needed money," said the salesman of the outfit sullenly, "and we thought this was a good way to make it. As it turns out, polishing cars is too much work. We're not going to do it any more."

They finally got their money but

Try It Play With Beanbag Sock

We have had several different kinds of beanbags in Try It, but here are easy-to-make ones.

If you look at today's drawing you will see two ways of beanbag making. The first way is to fill one old baby sock with beans, then tie it securely at the top with a ribbon. You may want to take one or two stitches through the bow to keep it tied.

The other way is just as easy. Cut the toe off a large sock. Make this cutting several inches back. Use yarn to make over and over stitches, and just before you close the top, fill the bag with beans. You add ears, nose and mouth. How about buttons for the eyes? You can turn a waste basket into a target. See how many times you can make the bag go into the basket.

Black Angus bulls were first imported into the United States from Scotland in 1873.

There's a sparkle in fashion's eye this spring—the sparkle of white pique. It's cool, crisp and clean looking. This fill-in loop embroidery that marches down the accessory is made of birdseye pique that accents the neckline of open throated suits and dresses. Jaunty reverses are etched in the dickey beneath a perky pique bow.

everybody was unhappy and Helen was cautioned not to encourage youthful enterprise again.

I said, "Why didn't you bring the parents into it?" The lawn-owning friend said that in her case they had been brought in—and nothing had happened. Helen shrugged and murmured, "What's the use?"

Well, I think it should be of some use to point out the fallacy of the fast buck and shoddy work, to both the boys and their parents!

Desire for Pretty Things Led Woman to Good Job

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Last Christmas, many women took sales jobs at department stores, just to make some extra cash for presents. And, increasingly, I've been hearing of interesting jobs which came as a natural outgrowth of this temporary work.

Mrs. K. is a typical example. Mrs. K. had never had a job before, because she was busy at home, taking care of a big family.

"But this year," she told me, "the youngest got married, and it was a terrific change. Just Joe and me, alone, and Joe will be retiring in two years. I'm afraid we both felt quite useless."

"First thing we did was to sell the big house and take a small apartment. But, in a way, that was even worse; at first, anyway. I went crazy with time on my hands."

"Then I began to worry. What would we do when Joe retired? Just sit and stare at each other? We wouldn't have enough money to really travel. We'd have little more than enough to cover the bare necessities. Certainly, a job for me was indicated."

"So I went to our local department store for a temporary sales job. They desperately needed help, so they took me, even though I'd had no experience."

"They put me in the closet accessories shop. I just loved it. They had the most beautiful things, and, of course, luxuries like that make wonderful presents. I got very familiar with our stock, and made suggestions to customers, and I made an excellent sales record."

"One day a customer came in who had been in many times before, and we got chatting. She told me that she and her husband were about to start a fancy shop, specializing in closet accessories, and had been looking for a good salesman they could hire. She asked if I'd be interested, after the present job was over."

"Would I be interested? I was tickled to death!"

"I've been at the closet store since February first, and it is ideal. The hours are easy, the work is fun, and every penny I make goes to our retirement fund!"

Propriety of Trip Told by Behavior

Different Decks for Cabins and Good Conduct Will Help

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter asks: "Would it be proper for two men and two women (all in their thirties) to go on a cruise together?"

The four of us have known each other for a very long time and often go out together although there is no romantic interest between any of us.

We two girls will naturally occupy a cabin together and the two men another cabin. Would it add to the propriety any if the cabins were on different decks?

Answer: Unless your behavior invites it, I do not think there will be any criticism of you four going on a cruise under the circumstances you describe particularly that of occupying cabins on different decks.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married at an eleven o'clock nuptial mass and all the men in the wedding party, including the bride's father, will wear striped trousers and cutaway coats.

I would like to know if the bridegroom's father must necessarily wear these same clothes? If not, what is the correct thing for him to wear.

Answer: The bridegroom's father has no part in the wedding ceremony and therefore need not wear the same clothes as the men in the bridal party. If he prefers to, he may either wear the less formal black sack coat with striped trousers or else a plain navy blue or oxford grey business suit.

Dear Mrs. Post: For my birthday, which was last week, I received a very handsome present from an acquaintance from whom I would rather not accept anything for personal reasons.

Does etiquette demand that I keep this present and acknowledge it with a thank-you note, or could I possibly return it to her?

Answer: Even feeling as you do, you cannot possibly refuse to accept the present if it was sent you with kind intentions on the part of the giver.

Right Way to Rid Home of Termites

By HUBBARD COBB

Termites are pretty famous for the amount of damage they do to woodwork in buildings. They are even more famous as a means for an unscrupulous person to get an uninformed homeowner to part with a big parcel of cash.

Just as soon as the weather gets a little warmer the termites will start swarming and so will a bunch of boys who have found that all they have to do to get rich is to tell a homeowner that termites are eating up his house and if he doesn't do something quick it will fall down around his ears.

The next thing he knows he's paid them a nice sum of money, they have dumped a few buckets of dark colored water about the place and have left town with his money. The termites, if there were any to begin with, are naturally, still around.

Few homes, if any, ever fall down because of termites. That doesn't mean that they are good things to have nor that they can't do a lot of damage to a house—they can and do.

But no man or woman, just looking at the exterior of a house can say for sure that it's infested with termites. It takes a bit of hunting to determine the size of the infestation.

So be careful of anyone who says your house has termites unless he has spent several hours doing some heavy investigation work.

Be equally careful about someone who will make you a special offer on an extermination job or who wants to rush the job through in a hurry.

In every community, or almost every community, there are qualified firms who can tell you whether or not your home is infested with termites and who will, if you do have termites, undertake to get rid of them along approved methods.

But space in a corner, where one wall is a window wall, is often quite bare. It's not the spot for the chairs that make up a conversation group with the sofa — too near the window.

The desk, however, benefits from nearness to the window. There's plenty of light, and the person using the desk has his back to the glass. One end of the desk is set flush with the wall, so the sofa, covering part of its length, helps to cut down its bulk.

The Life of Christ—14

Jesus Asks Men to Suffer for Him

(Yesterday Bishop Sheen discussed Christ's delivery of what is generally known as His Sermon on the Mount, or the "Beatitudes." Bishop Sheen told the latter and starts out with an analysis of the first three. To be "poor in spirit" is to be conscious of one's spiritual poverty. "Patience is necessary as opposed to anger, resentment and retaliation. For those who mourn," Christ looks upon sorrow as darkness that heralds the dawn.)

By BISHOP FULTON J. SHEEN

Those who hunger and thirst: They are those who so yearn for holiness, which is abandonment to the Will of God in all things, that they would die rather than commit a single sin. The hunger and thirst here are not physical, but spiritual; it is not just an inner dissatisfaction with human prescriptions, but rather a yearning to attain holiness and righteousness which is conformity to the Will of God.

Swine are satisfied with husks, but not the soul of immortal man. It is the desire of holiness that is blessed; the achievement and perfection of it is on God's side. We receive holiness, but we do not create it. All the cups of earth of which we drink are empty, as regards the thirst of the soul. Only God can fill both the cup and him who drinks.

The merciful: The merciful pardon others and obtain pardon; because they need mercy, they show it; while hating the sin, they love the sinner and say: "Father, forgive." Selfishness is hell; mercy is heaven. The world gives back as a mirror what we put into it.

As we show mercy, we receive it; as we forgive others, we receive forgiveness of our sins from God. We do not assume that we will receive mercy because we show it, but rather, because we have received forgiveness of our sins from God, we will be forgiving others. Mercy is a consequence, not the cause of receiving God's Mercy. Our mercy then becomes the effort to redeem, but this cannot be done without sacrifice, as the Life of Christ reveals.

The clean of heart: The pure of heart are those who control all lusts, not as a denial of love, but as a guarding of it until the body can be used as God wills it to be used. The "seeing of God" which is the privilege of the pure, does not mean with human eyes, but with the eye of the spirit. Carnal lusts are at enmity with the spirit. Bad behaviour keeps as many from seeing God as does ignorance.

Under the slavery of sex, a mind sees nothing straight. As clouds hide the sun, so habits of an unclean mind hide God. Impurity is a cataract on the eye of the soul. There is a reciprocity between sight and seeing the heavens, between a clean heart and seeing God.

Believes H-Bomb Has Ended Wars

PASADENA, Calif. (U. S. — Nobel Prize scientist Linus Pauling said yesterday the H-bomb has done away with major wars forever.

He said atomic and hydrogen bomb tests should now be halted because all radioactive particles from such tests are dangerous.

The famed chemist predicted at a news conference:

"The growing consciousness that a world war would mean worldwide destruction, perhaps the end of civilization, will surely now lead to permanent peace."

He conceded the possibility of hostilities in some sectors but said, "If we can keep putting off atomic war for another year or five years, the chances are none will occur."

Of radioactive fallout from atomic tests, he said:

"All radiation is deleterious in some way. There is no accurate information on how much radioactivity can be absorbed over a long period of time. For some people even a very small dosage can be too much and constitutes a real hazard."

The peace-makers: Peace is not the absence of war, but the tranquility of order. Order is the subordination of senses to reason, body to soul; reason to faith, the whole personality to God. Peace is not automatic; it is made. He is no peace-maker who has no scourge in his hands against evil, whose love does not hate sin, and who is incapable of righteous indignation. Peace is based not on expediency, but on justice. The peacemaker must fight without ever ceasing to be love.

Such peace is first not in nations, but in souls. A peaceful world comes not by legislation but by inner regeneration. Only he who has the peace of God in his own soul, can give it to others. God hates "peace" in those who are destined for war, and we are all destined for war against sin and evil. Those who make such peace shall be the children of God, the Prince of Peace.

The eighth beatitude about the persecuted, is the summary of the preceding seven. The persecuted are those who know that to follow Christ is to be hated; dogs will say they are dirty; goats will say they are smelly; wolves will accuse them of stealth. But abuse, scourges, jails, blood-martyrdoms, all these must be accepted as a blessing which bears witness to Christ. The Preacher on the Mount is not summoning men to ease and comfort, but to suffering for His Name's sake.

In these beatitudes, Our Lord takes those eight flimsy catch-words in the world: "Security," "Revenge," "Laughter," "Popularity," "Getting even," "Sex," "Armed Might," and "Comfort" and turns them upside down. To those who say: "Strike it rich," He says: "Blessed are the poor in spirit." To those who say: "Don't let him get away with it," He says: "Blessed are the patient."

To those who say: "Laugh and the world laughs with you," He says: "Blessed are those who mourn." To those who say: "Never restrain your instincts," he says: "Blessed are the clean of heart." To those who say: "Become popular by flattery," He says: "Blessed are you when men revile you and persecute you." To those who say: "In time of peace, prepare for war," He says: "Blessed are the peace-makers."

Cumberland River Due to Crest Today 7 Feet Above Danger Point

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (U. S. — The flooding Cumberland River, swollen with the area's heaviest rainfall in 30 years, was expected to crest today at 47 feet, seven feet above flood level.

National Guard, Red Cross and civil defense personnel assisted hundreds to evacuate homes.

Creeks and rivers went on a rampage yesterday after a down-pour that totaled up to 7½ inches in 24 hours. More rain was forecast today, but in comparatively harmless amounts.

One flood victim was reported here. Ten-year-old Sandra Jane Burch was swept to her death while playing in a swift-running drainage ditch.

Winds and thunderstorms struck several areas.

A spokesman for the Tennessee Valley Authority said most dams in the system have a full power pool for the first time in two years.

In neighboring northeast Mississippi, about 100 families were left homeless by a 10-inch rainfall that swelled creeks at flooded low-lying areas at Tupelo. The rains came in the wake of a tornado which leveled a garage, a filling station, a building and slightly injured one man.

Oakland County Pointing Way for Spring Salk Polio Vaccinations

Oakland County is leading the way for Michigan in preparing for this spring's projected vaccination of school children against polio.

In an Associated Press rundown on preparations being made for the mass immunizations with Salk polio vaccine—dependent upon final reports on last year's tests—Oakland County was well ahead of all other Michigan counties in laying the groundwork for the huge project.

Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director who is supervising preparations here, said today that within a few weeks his organization will be ready to function on short notice.

"Our plans are now far enough advanced," Dr. Monroe stated, "that we will be ready to start setting up vaccination clinics as soon as the report (now being prepared by a University of Michigan evaluation team) is released."

Volunteer workers under Mrs. Howard Rieman of Birmingham today began putting together materials first and second grade pupils will take home to their parents on Monday.

Each envelope contains a letter explaining the projected polio vaccinations, a folder giving pertinent facts on polio, and a parental request form. Parents who desire the shots for their children should fill out and sign these forms, which the children will return to their schools.

Some 35-40,000 of the forms will be distributed, and Dr. Monroe estimates about 31,000 will be returned with signatures. Clinics will be set up as soon as the final report is released, and children whose parents have signed the forms will be scheduled for vaccinations.

Parents of children who participated in last year's tests should also sign the forms, Dr. Monroe pointed out, since it will not be known until the report is issued which children got the vaccine and which received a control substance.

"When we have all these forms back," Dr. Monroe said, "we'll be ready to start the vaccine program as soon as we get the go-ahead signal from the UM report."

"Members of the county medical society are ready to staff the clinics, the schools have all pledged their cooperation, and very little remains to be done."

"Mrs. Rieman's volunteers will begin packaging supplies for the clinics next week, and all the preparatory work should be finished well before the report is released."

Two Generals Prominent in Peress Case Appearing Before Senate Investigators

WASHINGTON (INS)—Two generals who played a part in events that led up to the honorable discharge of Maj. Irving M. Peress appear today before Senate investigators.

Scheduled to testify before the Senate Investigations subcommittee are Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, a former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania, and Maj. Gen. M. G. White.

Strickler was a member, and White was chairman, of the Army personnel board that recommended on Nov. 26, 1952, that Peress be separated from active duty within 90 days.

The Elmhurst, L. I., dentist had been commissioned a captain almost 14 months before and had been promoted to major late in October, 1952, although he refused three times to complete loyalty forms.

According to a chart prepared under direction of subcommittee chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy, the board's recommendation started through channels Nov. 25, 1952, five days after it was made.

Youth Slayer Writes Poetry in Jail Cell

And I'll pray to God
His light I'll see,
For his is the light
That will set me free.

These lines were taken from one of several poems penned by confessed 16-year-old killer Floyd Diamond in Oakland County Jail as he awaits trial on a first degree murder charge. He today stood expressionless as he heard two psychiatrists declare him sane in circuit court.

The youth, who repeatedly knifed and pounded 9-year-old Kathy McLaughlin's head with a rock Feb. 17, had been said by authorities to have a mental age of a "feeble-minded person or a moron." Others had said the youth was not sane.

Today's decision was based on a tedious procedure by two psychiatrists, Drs. L. Jerome Fink and Ivan A. LaCore, both ap-

He Tells Soggy Tale

DALLAS (P)—Mrs. Minnie Keese reported hearing screams shortly after seeing a boy on a Trinity River dam. Officers dragged for the body but found none. They did find a 12-year-old who hadn't been to school. At his home they found soggy wet clothes. On no, he said, he hadn't been fishing. Those clothes got wet Sunday, when there was no school.

pointed by Circuit Judge George B. Hartick to make the tests.

Had Diamond really been insane or was the youth rational when he killed the pretty girl and left her lying in a semi-frozen pond near her home?

Sheriff Frank W. Irons had maintained the youth was not insane, after many consultations with Diamond. Irons had contended the youth lacked religious training, a moral outlook, kindness and love.

For the past several weeks, Irons played a "father-role" with the youth. After a 2-hour session with the young killer, Irons one day walked out of Diamond's cell with the following verse:

Of years gone by, of tears and strife
I never did know
What's wrong, what was right.

Then I heard your voice
Like a thrill on high,
And I surely thought
It came from the sky.

And I hope you remember
These words of mine
For I'll always remember
That yours were so kind.

And when God rewards you
I'll be filled with joy,
For the good things you did
For a mixed up boy.

Said Irons:
"They think this boy is a moron."

Dog Ordinance Tops Agenda

City Schedules Action Tonight

New Law Will Prohibit Pets Running Loose at Any Time

Final action is slated by the City Commission tonight on a new ordinance prohibiting owners from letting their dogs run loose at any time during the year.

Action also is scheduled on rezoning all but certain sections of Glenwood Estates Subdivision to residential.

In other business, the Commission is set to hear a report from City Manager Walter K. Willman on a resolution drawn up by the Pontiac Police Officers Assn. regarding new shift schedules and departmental rules.

Action is slated on two package beer and wine license transfer requests. One is an address shift from 64 to 22 E. Kennett Rd., the other an ownership change at 111 E. Huron St.

Two reports are due from City Attorney William A. Ewart. The first concerns a disclaimer of interest for a portion of North Saginaw street which dates back to the original plat of the city drawn up by Col. Stephen Mack.

The second acknowledges acceptance of Palmer drive, formerly a private road.

Re-appointment of two City Plan Commission members is slated, along with a public hearing on vacating portions of Grace avenue and Fuller street in assessor's plat 102.

The Commission is to consider approval of a North Side Community Club request to hold a festival in Oakland Park July 2, 3 and 4 and to have a fireworks display on the 4th.

Also to receive attention is a petition for curb, gutter, drainage and blacktop on West Ypsilanti from Carlisle to Stanley, and a communication concerning the exchange of mayors between Pontiac and Fife Lake, a small city near Traverse City.

Resolutions declaring public necessity for sewers, drains, curb and gutter and pavement work at several sites are scheduled for consideration.

Youth Put on Probation in Non-Fatal Shooting

A Ferndale youth, who pleaded guilty March 15 to the non-fatal shooting of his father-in-law, Jan. 2, was placed on three years probation and assessed $200 court costs yesterday by Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland.

James Ward, 19, of 3433 Dods Ct., had admitted shooting Lawrence Strobel, 49, of 1030 LeRoy, during a struggle over a .22 rifle. Ward told police the discharge was accidental. Strobel insisted the youth pulled the trigger when he intervened in an argument between the Wards.

PRIDE OF BOYS' CLUB—James Cartier, 17, of 16 S. Sanford St., was honored before a throng of 600 persons last night at the annual Pontiac Boys' Club Father-Son Banquet. He is shown receiving congratulations from Executive Director William V. Coulacos.

Pontiac High School Senior Is Named 'Boy-of-the-Year' at Annual Dinner

A tall, 17-year-old Pontiac High School senior, who has won recognition for combating juvenile delinquency here, was given a 5-minute ovation by 600 persons last night after he was named the Boy-of-the-Year of Pontiac Boys' Club.

James Cartier, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cartier of 10 S. Sanford St., was awarded the 11th annual award here by William V. Coulacos, the club's executive director at the club's annual father-son banquet.

"It is an appropriate and timely selection," said Coulacos, as he presented the award. "We are proud that the honor is going to a youth who has participated in youth programs which have been aimed at fighting juvenile delinquency in Pontiac."

Twelve-year-old Robert Robarja, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Robarja of 277 Osmin St., also was honored with one of the top awards. The youngster won the Outstanding Athlete Award over hundreds of other contestants.

A member of the club for the past eight years, Jim established himself "as a leader, a good worker, and as a civic minded boy who is interested in his community," said Coulacos.

"A youth who has always tried to help other boys in trouble, he has been instructing other youngsters at the Boys' Club to enjoy a healthy youthful life."

He is an active member in the Pontiac High senior class and has organized several movements in Pontiac aimed at decreasing juvenile delinquency.

Others winning awards last night were Bruce Baker, 17, outstanding senior member; Delbert Zimmer, 14, outstanding boy in the printing department; Earl Brown, 14, outstanding boy in the wood and machine shop; Leo Kennedy, 15, outstanding boy in the games room; Larry McCarty, 13, outstanding boy in the library; James Skinner, 15, outstanding baseball player; Joe Barron, 17, outstanding basketball player; Thomas McGuigan, 16, most improved athlete.

Coulacos said the criteria used in selecting boys for the awards was based on the high standard of loyalty, honesty and highly developed ability the youths have shown at the club in the past year.

Continuing the week's celebration, the club will hold a pet show this evening when the Oakland County Sportsman's Club will offer awards for the best and most unusual pets.

Find Cancer Growth in 8-Week-Old Tot

CHICAGO (INS)—An eight-week-old baby was found to have cancer in Chicago.

An exploratory operation yesterday at the Illinois Research and Educational Hospital showed that Nydea Marie Day is suffering from a malignant liver tumor.

The infant was flown from Alaska, where her father, Leo, is serving with the U. S. Coast Guard, to determine the nature of a large mass in her abdomen.

Physicians said they would treat the girl with X-rays until April 10, when Day leaves for his new assignment at Long Beach, Calif. A university spokesman said Nydea's cancer probably originated in her adrenal glands.

Pontiac's New City Directory Being Delivered

Latest Edition Lists 50,985 Names, Area Businesses

What's in a name? Or rather, what's in a book in the way of names when the book happens to be a city directory? The 1953 Pontiac name-book, just off the press and being delivered to subscribers comes up with the answer.

The new edition is a handy volume listing 50,985 names of adults (18 years of age and over) and business places in Pontiac, Auburn Heights, Keego Harbor and Sylvan Lake City. The above-mentioned count considers the combined names of man and wife as only one name, the publishers pointed out, and it presents an increase of 500 names over the 1952 record, they said.

Special features of the directory include the designations of tenant-owned and rented homes, marital status, wives' names and heads of households; the listing of telephone numbers; a numerical telephone guide; and a short story of Pontiac, contributed by the Chamber of Commerce.

The classified department of the new directory reveals that this city now has 424 distinct varieties of business and professional endeavor, which are catalogued from "Abstracters" to "Yarns." Here the old mingles with the new—like "Blacksmiths" and "Carpet Weavers" on the one hand, "Baby Sitters" and "Televisions" on the other.

The city directory is not just a local record for local use. It gets around nationally, for each edition is distributed to replace the former edition in free-reference Directory Libraries maintained at Chambers of Commerce in other cities.

This is a special service administered by the Association of North American Directory Publishers and helps to acquaint outsiders with this city and its people and products.

Has Aunt Penelope moved recently and have you misplaced her address? The chances are good you can find the address in the collection of out-of-town directories maintained by the publishers at the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce offices. Current directories for cities in Michigan and adjoining states are available there for free use of the public.

Link Parole Officer to Baby Black Mart

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—A veteran woman parole officer is accused of threatening a mother with return to prison to force her to give up her baby for black market adoption.

She is accused of using the same threat to extort several thousand dollars from women parolees.

Dep. Atty. Gen. Richard H. Perry said dismissal proceedings by the State Personnel Board also charge that Miss Frances J. Sullivan, 47, forced one woman parolee to get a divorce.

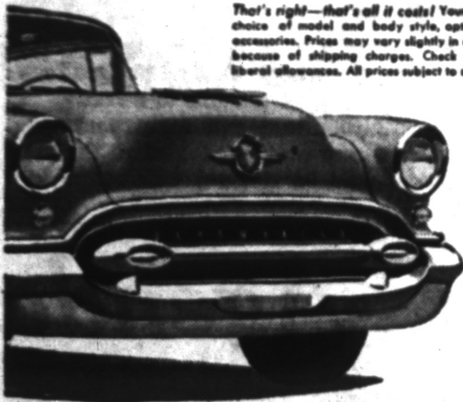

Miss Sullivan denied the accusations. No criminal complaint was filed against her.

Waving his hat like a cowboy, Jack, a guide at the Rainy Lake District of Ontario, hangs on while the swimming moose carries him through the water. Then they reached shore, Jack dismounted and the surprised animal sped away into the forest, never knowing who the hitchhiker was.

Family Income

a Year or More; Rise Noted Since War

WASHINGTON (U)—Some 41 per cent of the nation's families have incomes of $5,000 a year or more, and 55 per cent get $4,000 or more yearly, the Commerce Department said today.

A big upward switch in family income since the war was reported in a new study of family finances. It said that since 1947 the number of families living on less than $4,000 a year has shrunk by 20 per cent, while the number of families with more than $4,000 has increased by 70 per cent.

Families with $10,000 or more increased by 100 per cent, and their total income before taxes has grown from 36 billion dollars a year to 70 billions.

The number of families with incomes between $10,000 and $15,000 was greater (2,300,000) than the number in either the $8,000-$9,000 (2,000,000) or the $9,000-$10,000 (1,300,000) brackets.

The study was based on income tax reports for 1953. But the Commerce Department said there had been little change since then in family income patterns.

The report said the average non-farm family had an income of $6,300, compared with $3,460 for the farm family.

Boy Late for School,

PASADENA, Calif. (U)—Here is why 11-year-old Robert Allen was 30 minutes late for school yesterday:

On his way to school he found a pair of handcuffs and snapped them on. He found he couldn't reach the attached key to unlock them. He returned home, where his father John W. Allen tried to unlock the cuffs but broke off the key. Father and son sought out a locksmith. He freed Robert's hands by using a hacksaw, but by that time classes had started.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

LET'S HAVE A PICNIC
Three Merry Picnickers

Everyone should help to set the picnic in order—and Sue, John and Betty are doing their part. Sue brings a thermos bottle of lemonade and Betty has a basket filled with home-made cookies. John has picked up some small sticks of wood to help build a fire.

You can set this cut-out near the one you made yesterday so you will have the complete picture of a picnic by the end of the week.

Give the three picnickers brightly colored clothes, perhaps a red dress for Sue and a yellow one for Betty. Paste the picture on stiff paper and cut it out carefully along the outside dark lines.

Fold the two side panels and the three bottom tabs forward along the dotted lines. Then the figure will stand up as in the small drawing and Sue, John and Betty can hurry to the picnic.

Tomorrow: The feast is on.

The book is reported to relate experiences of 30 American and British soldiers captured in Korea.

New Car Is All Feminine

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK (INS) — A remarkable number of cowardly males on the highways still fear — indeed flee, their tail-lights quivering behind them — the presence of a woman driver.

This, of course, is nonsense. Not to mention prejudicial and indicative of an over-active imagination. Just give any of these male smarties the blindfold test, and I'll give odds that nine out of 10 wouldn't know what (which sex, that is) hit them.

However, the obsession does exist and therefore must be faced practically.

One of our largest motor car companies in Detroit, I'm delighted to announce, is coming out this spring with a cutie-pie car that may go far toward easing the tension, and may pave the road to a permanent solving of the problem.

It is a "Hers" auto, made especially for "The Woman." It is a car the color of pink champagne on the outside, with three other variations of the shade—from soft mercurchrome to deep iodine—in its leather interior. It has, the Dodge people say poetically, distinctively feminine appointments such as built-in raincoats and umbrellas to match the upholstery, a personalized V-8 engine, extremely intimate piston replacements and the words "La Femme" written in lady-like gold script on either fender.

In other words, it is a car a guy can take aim at—or tactically divert from—at a distance of up to four or five traffic lights.

It has the added advantage of 183 horsepower engine and power steering which will enable the little ladies to veer out and zoom ahead of frightened fellow motorists with alacrity.

This should sharply improve one factor of the -she road play that many men hate most: the agonizing period when a woman approaches a man from the rear and the traffic pattern slows as he trembling waits for her to make her move and be away.

There are those who will contend, I am sure, that just being able to spot a woman as a woman when she is approaching on the highway is not enough. As one cynical friend remarked, "When you meet a tiger in the street, it is well to be able to differentiate between a wild beast and a friendly alley cat. But will sheer observation save your life?"

My answer to that is, that it is not woman's driving—but man's panic when he sees woman's driving—that causes traffic troubles. And now, when the pink chassis appears prettily on the horizon, there is little excuse for man to go into sudden shock; there is now plenty of time for preparations. Time to plan strategy, steady nerves, be alert and ready for quick action, before the ice cream car is actually confronted.

There have been earlier attempts to make the distinction between women and men on the road. The U.S. Rubber Co. made a weak gesture by turning out slate blue, light chocolate and green tires, for example. Packard came out with printed linen upholstery. Jaguar made a chromolium-plated engine so a lady wouldn't be embarrassed if caught with her hood up on the road. Buick, and maybe others, introduced mink seats.

Bingo Advocates Plan New Legalizing Try

LANSING (UP) — Supporters of charity bingo sought information today to determine how much support could be expected for a new try at legalizing "bingo and raffles."

The Michigan Association of Non-Profit Charitable Organizations said it plans to make a survey of public sentiment.

A constitutional amendment to legalize charity lotteries, including bingo, was rejected by voters last fall.

Youths Sentenced for Three Breakins

Two 18-year-old youths, who had pleaded guilty to three breakins, were sentenced yesterday by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Robert Isaacs, of Royal Oak, received from 1 to 15 years in Jackson state prison, while Clifford Morlan, of Waterford Township, was placed on three years probation and assessed $250 court costs.

The pair, with two accomplices already sentenced, admitted breaking into a Waterford hardware, an Independence Township lumber firm and a Berkley grocery. Morlan will spend the first 60 days in Oakland County Jail.

Police, Firemen Get Pay Raise

Waterford OKs Annual Boosts of $150 to $550 With $4,350 to Start

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Salaries of the police and fire department employees were raised and equalized by the township board of trustees last night.

Firemen, who previously received less than the police officers, gained an approximate $550 boost, and the police were awarded an approximate $150 pay hike.

The new salary range for both departments is $4,350 to start; $4,500 after a six-month probationary period, and $4,750 at the end of the first year.

Raises on this basis, it was pointed out, are made at the discretion of the police and fire chiefs and are not automatic.

During the meeting, other department employees' salaries were discussed and final action on raises for the several positions was delayed for further study.

A proposed plat for Colgate subdivision at Pontiac Lake and Scott Lake roads received temporary approval and final approval was given a replat of the Ramseyer subdivision No. 1 at M59 and Irwin Drive.

James B. Boaz was appointed insurance agent of record for the township.

Postpone Hearing on Carver Issue

On the request of a defense attorney, the Oakland County Circuit Court hearing on a requested recall election in the George Washington Carver district of Royal Oak Township was postponed yesterday.

All three circuit judges sat together on the hearing, and Judge George B. Hartwick said this would be the last postponement in the case, which has seen several others.

A March 31 date was set to take up the hearing again.

The petition seeking the recall election to unseat school board members Mrs. Loretta Baker and Chester Carter was filed by school board member James E. Harrison.

Harrison heads a group which claims to be seeking reforms in the management and running of the school district, torn by violence since its formation in 1945.

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Hair Styling to Fit Your Face will be the topic of the Murray Sisters, Pontiac Beauticians, at a meeting of the Fashion Your Figure Club, scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday in Waterford High School.

ATTEND PLAN SESSION—More than 50 representatives of farm organizations of Oakland County attended a Rural Planning meeting yesterday in Pontiac, and reviewed the program of the Oakland County office of the Michigan State College Extension Service. Gathered to complete last minute plans before the conference got under way were

County Agricultural Agent Lyle Abel, Ralph Norvell of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, which co-sponsored the event, Dr. Paul Miller of Michigan State College, and Milford Township Supervisor Howard J. Reid, representing the Farm Bureau. Dr. Miller addressed the group on the topic, "Challenge of Extension Service."

To Aid Parents of Delinquents

Detroit Judge Planning Night School Classes to Combat Problem

DETROIT—A Detroit probate judge today announced plans to start night school classes next month for parents of actual and potential delinquent children.

"Some parents who have children before my court will be required to attend," said Judge Nathan J. Kaufman, sitting in Juvenile Court.

"Others with problem children are invited," he added. "None need fear any identifying stigma or publicity."

"This program is undertaken because we have determined that about 75 per cent of today's juvenile delinquency may be the fault of parents, through lack of understanding, knowledge of problems or education. We wish to make up for this lack."

Judge Kaufman said he was particularly alarmed about the number of youths who carry knives. He said he would work for an amendment to the state juvenile code and for a city ordinance to carry knives, except Boy Scouts in uniform.

The judge said parents of any boy found with a knife automatically will be required to appear in his court and to attend night school.

"Juvenile crimes involving weapons and violence are increasing, and this is the only way to stop it," said the judge.

Oakland's First Woman Rural Mail Carrier Dies

The first woman to carry mail on a rural route in Oakland County, and the second in the United States, died yesterday afternoon at the age of 86.

Mrs. Harriet C. Gott, a West Bloomfield Township resident all her life, carried mail by horse and buggy over a star route between Pontiac, Commerce and Four Towns more than 50 years ago.

She was born March 28, 1868 in West Bloomfield, the daughter of William and Rebecca Harris Coulter, and attended Green School there.

While still a young lady, she became a substitute mail carrier for her father, who first had the route. After his death, she carried the mail for 10 years.

William Harrison of 395 West Huron Street, who was superintendent of mails for the Pontiac post office then, today recalled "the lady on the star route at that time" although he couldn't remember her name.

Mr. Harrison said the year was about 1890. The post office was located on the corner of Pike and Saginaw Streets and later relocated on West Lawrence.

The lady mail carrier was married to Alfred Gott, who preceded her in death.

Mrs. Gott was a member of the Pine Lake Cemetery Association and was a Gleaners officer for 25 years.

She died at 3:45 p.m. yesterday after a year and a half of illness, in Bloomfield Hospital. She had made her home at 3446 Walnut Lake Road, in West Bloomfield Township.

Negligent Homicide Brings Probation

Richard W. Thomas, 20, of 30500 Burbank, Farmington, yesterday was placed on two years probation and assessed $500 court costs after admitting to negligent homicide March 14 in Circuit Court.

Thomas' car was involved in an accident at Twelve Mile road near Northwestern Highway Nov. 3, 1953, which resulted in the death of three persons.

A hill which obstructed the view and other factors making it difficult for Thomas to avoid the accident were reason for the light sentence, said Judge H. Russel Holland.

Detroit on Probation

Robert C. Kimberly, 49, of 1141 Merrick, Detroit, was placed on three years probation and ordered to make $617 restitution yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Kimberly admitted March 16 destroying property in a home at 27551 Northwestern Hwy. last Nov. 13 from which he was evicted the day before.

Committee Plans Talks on Housing Ordinance in Pontiac Township

The Pontiac Township Citizens Committee will meet Thursday to discuss an appeal by the Township Board of a housing ordinance voided Oct. 31, 1953, by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

The meeting, with all township residents and interested outsiders invited, is slated for the fire hall at Opdyke and Pontiac roads at 8 p.m., according to Freeman L. Clark, committee chairman.

The ordinance adopted July 27, 1951, required owners of substandard homes to bring them to par within six months. The standards were set up in the ordinance, said Clark.

Owners of house trailers, not located in licensed parks, were required to "make them over into permanent homes, or leave," Clark stated.

"The ordinance was too severe," he stated, "and would have worked an undue hardship on a number of residents."

Judge Holland voided it, Clark explained, and township attorney Robert W. Hodge appealed. The case is scheduled for a Supreme Court hearing April 4, but the citizens committee has asked an adjournment.

"We think a less harsh measure could be worked out which would not force some persons now taking care of themselves to go on relief."

Would Finance 40-Room School

3.5 Mill Tax Increase Would Pay for Structure on 42-Acre Site

MILFORD—Electorors of the Huron Valley School District face a $1,250,000 bond issue for a new high school at the polls today.

Condemnation proceedings have been authorized to secure a 42-acre site between Milford and Highland, in the event the bond issue is approved.

Voters at the June board of education election will have a hand in naming the proposed structure. Whether to continue the name "Milford High School" or change it to "Huron Valley High School" will be on the ballot at that time.

If approved and constructed, the new high school would release 22 rooms in the present high school, easing the pressure of crowded elementary grades, according to school officials.

Included in the plans for the proposed high school is a gymnasium of 1,700 seating capacity.

Due to higher income because of increased valuations, the $650,000 bond issue voted Sept. 29, 1952, will be paid off April 1, 1958, instead of 1964 as originally planned.

According to school officials, the 3.5 mills would be levied in 1955, 1956 and 1957. Beginning with 1958 the total debt retirement millage would drop from 13.5 mills to 8.

Retired Official at Farmington, Isaac Bond Dies

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—A former Farmington Township supervisor, Isaac Bond, 78, of 30005 Orchard Lake Rd., died Monday at his home following a two-month illness.

Mr. Bond had lived on his present farm since 1893. He had served as township treasurer, as Oakland County road commissioner, and was active in the building of the county tuberculosis sanatorium, contagious hospital, infirmary and the county jail.

A school officer for over 40 years, he also was a life member of Farmington Masonic Lodge, and the Order of the Eastern Star, and a member of the Commandery, Consistory and Moslem Shrine.

He and his wife, the former Charlotte Wolfe, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Nov. 21, 1900.

Surviving, besides his widow, are two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Morris of Farmington, Mrs. Mildred Allen of Grosse Pointe; two sons, Howard of Pontiac, Dr. Floyd of Claremont, Calif.; a brother, Fred of South Bend, Wash.; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday from the Spencer Heene Funeral Home, with burial in North Farmington Cemetery.

Slate Home Club Leaders Classes in Four Districts

Lessons on cleaning rugs, upholstery and other materials will continue through next Tuesday by Oakland County Home Demonstrators Frieda Bennett and Mary Hixon.

Demonstrations are for leaders of area home demonstration groups and will be held from 9:30 a.m. to noon under the following schedule:

22 Killed, 17 Hurt in Italian Mine Blast

SPOLETO, Italy—An explosion nearly 1,000 feet deep in a lignite coal mine today killed 22 miners and injured 17 others. First reports said none were trapped in the workings.

The blast occurred in a mine at Morgnano di Spoleto, a hamlet near this city about 65 miles northeast of Rome. Apparently caused by accumulated coal gas, it smashed through the tunnels at 6 a.m., just as the day's second shift was starting to work.

The injured, some in serious condition, were rushed to a hospital here.

Royal Oak OKs Vickers Sewer

Will Offer Facilities to Troy Plant Regardless of Annexation

ROYAL OAK—The Royal Oak City Commission last night approved allowing the Vickers Corp. of Detroit to use the Royal Oak sewage facilities whether the Vickers property in Troy Township is annexed to Royal Oak or not.

Permission to extend water facilities will require an approval from Detroit, where Royal Oak gets its water.

Currently a three-way tug of war is on concerning the proposed $2,000,000 Vickers plant at the southwest corner of Crooks and Maple roads in Troy Township.

The Chamber of Commerce in Royal Oak is circulating petitions to have the land annexed to Royal Oak.

Residents of Troy have filed incorporation petitions for the township, including the proposed 76-acre plant site. This move was made to prevent the loss of the valuable tax base the industry will provide.

The city of Clawson also has its eye on the tax revenue of the land.

TO CUT DEBT—The Waterford branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association is sponsoring a spring fashion show Wednesday to raise funds for paying the mortgage on the Waterford Community Activities building. Given by Alvin's of Pontiac, the show will begin at 8 p.m. in the CAI building. Here Mrs. F. S. Jennings, center, chairman of the event, adjusts the cuff on a dress being modeled by Mrs. Bengt Pulls of Pontiac, as Viria Lee Landon of Lake Orion looks on. The youngster will do a novelty dance at the show.

DUMPED ON ROAD—Alert police work by two West Bloomfield Township police officers located the man who dumped the load of rubbish partially blocking Drake Road Saturday, leading to his conviction for violation of the township ordinance forbidding dumping rubbish on a road. Officers R. G. Helgemo and C. C. Baxter traced a license plate in the rubbish to find the man responsible. He is currently spending 30 days in Oakland County Jail.

License Plate Clue in Pile of Rubble Leads Township Police to Detrouiter

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A little police junk-collecting led a Detrouiter to a term in the Oakland County Jail yesterday.

Called to investigate a pile of rubbish on Drake Road north of Maple, officers R. G. Helgemo and C. C. Baxter found a pile of debris—oil cans, gaskets, rags, which appeared to have come from a gas station.

A check into the ownership of an expired commercial license plate found in the junk, led the officers to Roy Bell.

Gas station owner at 32581 Northwestern Highway, Farmington Township, Roy Bell, pointed out the man who he had paid to haul his trash away.

Arrested, Detroit junkman

Willie Bee Wells admitted dumping the load. He pleaded guilty before Justice Elmer C. Dieterle, and was sentenced to $100 or 30 days in jail. Wells chose the jail term.

Atom Sub Cruise Impresses Solons

By Sen. Albert Gore
WASHINGTON (U)—How deep the Nautilus can dive is a secret. But there is no secret that I had nervous twinges as she plunged downward in excess of 300 feet. How fast she will race through the dark, briny depths is also a secret. But it was the thrill of a lifetime to break all previous records in this respect as the midnight hour approached.

Slaying Suspect Tries Suicide

Doctor Charged With Oklahoma Murder of Wife, 3 Children

HENDERSON, Tenn. (U)—A socially prominent Oklahoma heart specialist, en route from here to face charges of murdering his wife and three children at his McAlester, Okla., home, failed in what his escorting officer called a suicide attempt near Memphis. Dr. Ben T. Galbraith, 36, was arrested here yesterday at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. E. Galbraith, widow of a former circuit judge. He waived extradition and was turned over to Sheriff D. E. Sanders of McAlester.

The arrest climaxed a three-day investigation of the fire that damaged the Galbraith home in McAlester Thursday morning. The bodies of Mrs. Kitty Galbraith, 35, a native of Bells, Tenn., and the three children, Frank 7, Jere 5, and Sarah Ann 4, were found on the second floor.

A few hours after his arrest and departure for Oklahoma by automobile, officers said, Galbraith leaped from the car and rolled under an oncoming auto near Moscow, Tenn. Sheriff Sanders said he was driving about 40 miles an hour at the time and the oncoming car was traveling about 60 miles an hour. The doctor was untouched by the car.

The fright, which I frankly admit, and the exhilaration, which I shall not forget, were only aspects of an enlightening, enjoyable, and inspiring experience.

The food that we ate was cooked by atomic power. The water that we drank was distilled from ocean water by atomic energy. The submarine was not only driven but lighted, heated and air-conditioned by atomic energy. In fact, all power for all purposes was exclusively nuclear in origin.

We boarded the submarine about 2 p.m. at New London, Conn., and almost immediately the Nautilus started down the Thames River. We wrapped ourselves in Navy jackets to stay on deck until we reached open waters.

After a late lunch of sandwiches and coffee, the committee broke up into parties of two or three to inspect the vessel. Each of us carefully placed upon the lapel of his coat instruments to test radioactivity.

Upon entering the reactor room, I noticed Sen. Pastore (D-RI) taking a quick glance at his. Of course I am sure it was entirely out of curiosity. I looked at mine too, even though I had previously sneaked a glance. The gauge ranged from zero to 300. At no time did my gauge register more than two points. Sen. Anderson's (D-NM) gauge registered highest after the tour, standing at 10 points. One may easily absorb 200 points on a warm sunny day. The atomic reactor was, of course, the center of interest. We were mere inches from lethal, deadly radioactivity. Yet, we could harmlessly place our hands upon this still, warm, but quiet source of enormous power.

I could feel its thrust upon the submarine's propeller, as if thousands and thousands of horses were racing and surging in unison. After the reactor, we visited other compartments. The living quarters of the crew are better, we were told, than on any other submarine. We saw the tower, the control room, the torpedo compartment.

After about 2½ hours of thorough and detailed inspection, we returned to the central compartment to exchange views, josh each other about our nervousness, and ask more questions of Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, who is entitled to more credit than any other person for the Nautilus.

The ranking naval officers took their turns in presiding over three sittings at the dinner table where we were served delicious atomically cooked turkey.

After dinner the real shakedown maneuvers of the Nautilus began. Now that his guests had become thoroughly conditioned for it, as he thought, the captain ordered the Nautilus put through her paces.

The throttle was opened. The propeller surged and we excitedly watched the dials as we went faster—down, down, down, down. Then up; then down. Straight ahead, full power.

After we had been submerged for hours, I asked Adm. Rickover how many days the Nautilus could proceed under water at full speed. "Indefinitely," he answered. "Long enough to go the distance around the world and the answer would still be 'indefinite.'"

The significance of this may be measured by the fact that an orthodox submarine can travel full speed under water for only about an hour.

"We need never

Mrs. Hrabovsky and Michael John.

The five operators who worked to locate Mr. Hrabovsky: Shirley Petersen, Katherine Linderman, Theda Walter, Genevieve Jacobs, Marlene Chase.

These words appeared in a letter Michigan Bell received recently from Mrs. Michael Hrabovsky: "We need never feel alone as long as you have women on duty who are kind and helpful."

Here's why she wrote the letter: One day last summer as Mrs. Hrabovsky worked in the kitchen she heard her 6-year-old son, Michael John, scream in pain outside. He had caught his hand in the belt of the electric pump.

While a neighbor telephoned to alert the doctor and hospital, she sped Michael John to Greenville, where his badly injured hand was successfully treated.

Later, at home, Mrs. Hrabovsky placed a person-to-person Long Distance call to her husband. She thought Mr. Hrabovsky was working that day in St. Paul, Minnesota.

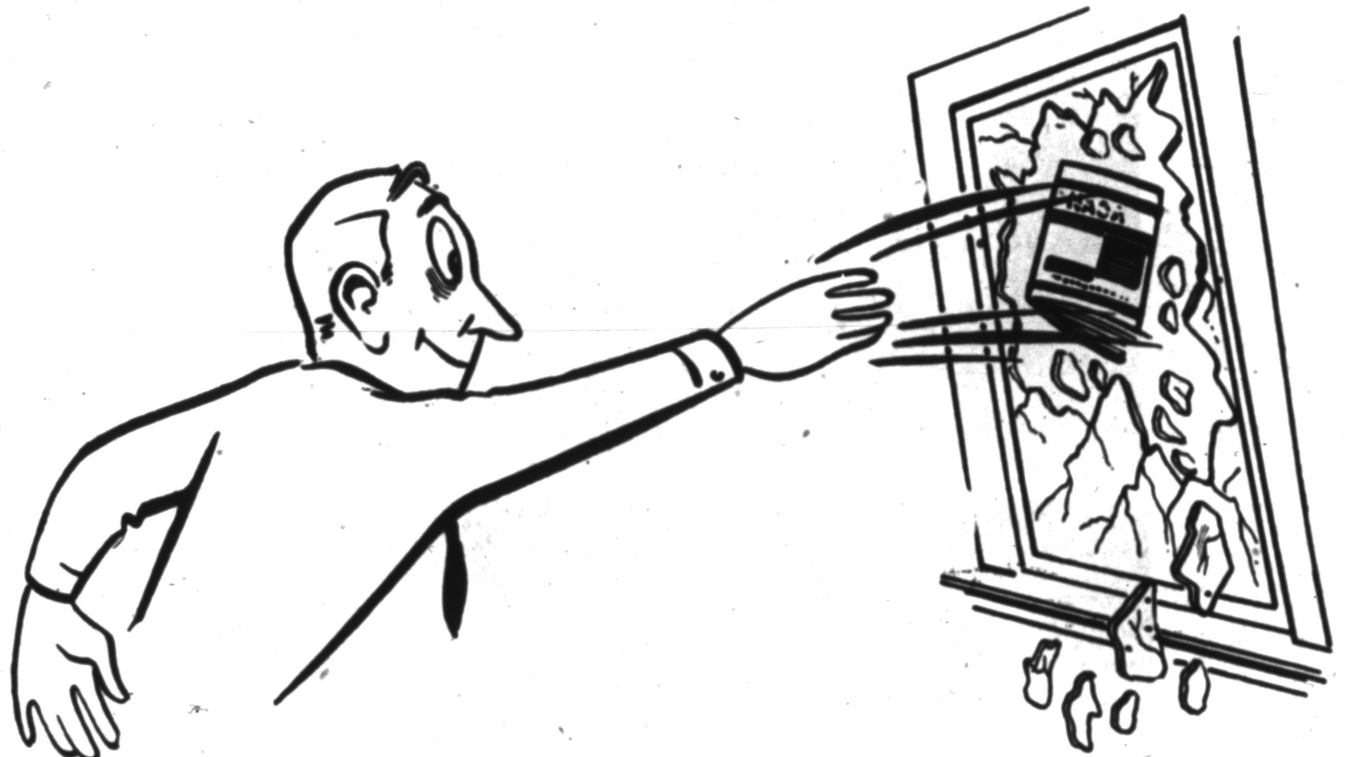

He had left there, but the operator was told he might be in another Minnesota city. But he was not there either. And so it went until, thanks to the persistence and patience of five operators, who called 12 different places to locate him, Mrs. Hrabovsky finally heard her husband's reassuring voice from Wells, Minnesota. The cost to the Hrabovskys? Just $2.42.

Cagers Help Troy's Future

By JACK SAYLOR

Troy's trip to the semi-finals of the state high school basketball tournament may well be the making of the young school's athletic future.

The Colts' success has given a tremendous boost to basketball interest and coach Peyton Goodwin a hopeful the incentive will carry over into other sports as well. Troy has enjoyed a rapid rise to cage success.

Goodwin, who moved on from basketball jobs at Kalamazoo State High and Milford, Ind., to Log Cabin High in Troy Township took the job when Troy was consolidated in 1950.

His first team won 3 of 17 games without benefit of a gym in which to practice. With a sparkling new gymnasium, the team split 18 games in each of the next two years. Last year, a very good Troy team posted a 13-3 record and won the league title before losing to Warren in the first game of the tournament.

This year's team started slowly losing 4 of its first 6 games. Following a 4-game winning streak, the Colts hit the low point of the season, hitting only 15 per cent of its shots in a 54-30 loss to Roseville, which went on to the Oakland-B Conference championship.

Goodwin pin-pointed this defeat as the turning point of the campaign.

"I gave the boys quite a talking to after that one," Goodwin reflected. "From there on we began to gain poise and the team started to realize its potential and improved, getting better, game by game."

The Colts concluded the regular season with 5 wins in a row, but finished 2nd to Roseville in league play. A resounding 52-38 victory over Utica in the opening tournament game was the impetus that carried the Troy club to district and regional titles, before bowing to the hot-shooting Buchanan team in last Friday's semi-finals at East Lansing.

Goodwin faces a big rebuilding chore next season since sophomore guard Sim Acton is the lone regular returning.

Top scorer Jack Acton departs along with sparkplug Jim Murdoch, Rex Moore and Floyd Bailey. Only Bill Swinson of the first-line subs will be back and the Colt reserve team was labeled "mediocre."

The incentive carried over from Troy's tournament success this season may ease Goodwin's task. Clarkson, which like Troy lost its league championship, joined the Colt reserve team was labeled the Colts in making the best tournament showing of Oakland County's 31 basketball playing schools. Dom Mauti's Wolves swept through 5 tourney games before losing to Troy in the regional finals.

St. Michael's was the county's top Class C team. The Pontiac parochials won the Suburban Catholic and district tourney titles before bowing in regional play to St. Bernard's. Bob Mine-weaver's Shamrocks wound up with a 16-3 record.

Best Class B county records were by Milford (16-3), Shrine (16-3), Orchard Lake St. Mary (15-3) and Clarkson (17-4). The outstanding Class A teams were Birmingham (14-2) and Southfield (13-5).

In addition to St. Mike's and Roseville, league champs were Southfield (Inter-Lakes), Milford (Wayne-Oakland), Birmingham (Eastern Michigan), Imlay City (South Central), Almont (Southern Thumb) and Utica and South Lake (Bi-County co-champs).

On the Bright Side!

14 Returning Lettermen Make PHS Track Coach Schloerke Very Happy

By H. GUY MOATS

Now, with the formal arrival of spring on the books, sports activities at Pontiac High School will take on a new look.

For some weeks there has been considerable agitation among ambitious baseball, tennis, golf and track hopefuls. But the most definite moves have been within the circle of track and field athletes.

Just waiting until basketball coach Art Van Ryn's good cage squad had completed its season, the track crew now is speeding up its conditioning. And, from the showings made up there in PHS gymnasium there's a dogged good track team in the making for this spring.

Track mentor Wally Schloerke is very happy over the size of his returning letterman contingent. He has some 14 letter winners from the 1954 squad, including hurdler Willie Wilson, dash man Freeman Watkins, hurdler and high jumper Hayes Jones, quarter-milers Norris Jackson, Charlie Robinson and James Shorter. Then there are Walt King, cager, who won 1st place last year in the Valley undergratue meet at 5 feet 10 inches; "Red" Taylor, in the high jump, also in the broad jump and low hurdles; Marv Cagle, another jumper who did 5-8 last year.

Schloerke believes he may have a 12-foot vaulter in George Thrasher, who cleared 11-9 in the '54 undergrad meet for a new record. Ted Munger can help in this event, also.

The shot is the Chiefs' weakest event, Schloerke says. Herb Butler is the best at present, with around 45 feet. "We're up against some very good shot putters in the Valley, this year," Wally says.

"We're pretty well fixed with some good boys in the distances," Schloerke remarked the other day. "With Johnny James, the basketball players, who placed in state meets the last two years and has school record time of 2:02 for the half-mile, we should get some points here. James is a late season runner, runs just good enough to beat his competition." Other half-milers include Rod Treas, junior cager, who came fast at end of last season and Len Briscoe, a senior, one of several hard-working runners that get out voluntarily at 7:30 each morning for training runs. These boys are not lettermen, but may earn their awards this year.

Bill Douglas, No. 1 cross-country runner the last two years, a junior, may beat the current school mark of 4:38 for the mile this spring. Hard plunger Bill Imboden is another miler with a lot of promise, Schloerke reports.

Schloerke believes the quarter-mile may be the team's strongest event this year. Several boys are capable of clipping Jack Richards' 32.5. In this group, Jackson is rated highly, only Logan of Flint Northern looks a pre-season better. Robinson recently broke the PHS indoor mark for the 22-lap track.

Detroit Meets Maple Leafs in Opening Battle

Adams Says Detroit Is in Top Condition for Game on Olympia Ice

DETROIT (AP)—Despite a sizzling streak of nine straight victories to wind up the regular season, the Detroit Red Wings insist there will be no letdown in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Playoffs get under way in Olympia Stadium tonight with the Red Wings meeting the Toronto Maple Leafs in the opening game of their best-of-seven semifinal series.

The other semifinal set also gets started in Montreal, with the crest-fallen Canadiens, still groggy after Sunday's savage beating in Detroit, facing the Boston Bruins.

"We're fresher than ever," boomed general manager Jack Adams when asked if he thought his Red Wings would suffer a letdown in the playoffs.

"We have no injuries and we're ready for the Maple Leafs," Adams said. "We're in better shape for the playoffs this year than for any of the others in the past."

Red Wings reached their peak Sunday night when they humiliated the Canadiens 6-0 in Olympia to win their 7th straight National Hockey League title. It climaxed the greatest finish in the history of the league.

Red Wings are in near-perfect physical shape as they start defense of the Stanley Cup title they won from Montreal last spring. The only casualty is Capt. Ted Lindsay, and he proved there's nothing too serious about his bruised right shoulder when he scored three goals Sunday night.

Toronto will be forced to play the entire playoffs without its star defenseman, Tim Horton. The brilliant backliner suffered a broken leg and jaw late in the season.

This is the 15th time these teams have met in Stanley Cup competition. Toronto has won eight previous series to Detroit's six. Half of the Red Wings' victories have been in the last three years, and they're heavy favorites to make it four in a row.

Annual Pin Test Set for Pontiac Motor Bowlers

Third annual Pontiac Motor bowling tournament will be held over 2 weekends at Pontiac Recreation Center in team, doubles and singles, sanctioned by both the ABC and WIBC, will begin April 2.

Tourney is open to all employees of Pontiac Motor Division in good standing with bowling's sanctioning organizations. A handicap affair, the figures will be 70 per cent of the difference between a bowler's mean average and 200. Ladies will receive 80 per cent, mixed doubles' teams, 75 per cent.

Further information concerning the event may be had by contacting tourney director Charles E. Morris, 223 Whittemore St., Pontiac, or department 745, plant 14 (afternoons).

Gloria Ingersall Heads Independent Ladies Loop

Officers for the 1955-56 bowling season were elected recently for the Independent Ladies League. Gloria Ingersoll was named president. Others include: vice president Beulah Brown; secretary, Pat Connell; treasurer, Phyllis Stockton and sergeant-at-arms, Mary Wood.

Cronin in Dark Bosox Still Uncertain if Williams Will Sign

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Baseball's most tantalizing question remained pop fly high today with the spring training season three weeks old and opening day less than a month away.

Is Ted Williams going to play left field for the Boston Red Sox or is he going to keep his one-acted but never repeated promise to retire to his fishing tackle business in Florida?

Sox General Manager Joe Cronin said Monday:

"There is absolutely no change in the Williams situation from what it was three weeks ago."

Three weeks ago, Cronin said he didn't know if his 36-year-old batting star would be on hand for the 1955 season.

The Sox' new manager, Mike Higgins, held a news conference Monday and spiced reports that Williams will sign Wednesday. He told Boston sportswriters "you fellows will be the first to know."

Higgins classified the failure of Williams to report as a "disappointment" but, he added, "Ted has never said that he would be here so you can't count his absence as a loss."

"I haven't given up the hope that Williams will eventually decide to play another year," Higgins added. "But time is running out. I must get a lineup ready to open the season."

Higgins said Faye Throneberry, a slick fielder but light hitter just out of the Army, is "definitely leading in the race for the left-field job" which will be vacant if Williams sticks to his retirement.

Jaguar Ruled as Winner of Race at Sebring

Eight Days Required to Determine Outcome of 12-Hour Test

NEW YORK (AP)—It took 12 hours to run the race and eight days to determine the winner, but Briggs Cunningham's D-type British Jaguar finally was ruled the first place car in the March 13 Florida International Grand Prix.

A special contest board of the American Automobile Assn. ruled in favor of the Jaguar Monday night, denying a protest by Allen Guiberson, the Dallas oilman who was sure his Ferrari had won.

The AAA board, headed by Acting Chairman William Smyth, held a full hearing into the protest and finally decided Cunningham's Jaguar had completed the 946-mile grind 25.4 seconds ahead of the Ferrari.

Cunningham, a West Palm Beach, Fla., millionaire who had won the 12-hour race in 1953 and 1954, had claimed earlier that his Jaguar, driven by Phil Walters and Mike Hawthorne, an English driver, was at least a lap "and a few minutes" ahead of the Ferrari. Walters, general manager of Cunningham's West Palm Beach auto car factory, said "nobody passed me who was in the running," while he drove the final two hours of the race.

Guiberson, however, had argued his drivers, Carroll Shelby of Dallas and Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., had won by more than three minutes.

The Ferrari was announced as the leader just a few minutes before the finish of the race, run at Sebring, Fla., from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. But at the end, Timor Joe Lane said the Jaguar had won "but only 10 seconds separated the two cars."

In the resulting confusion, Guiberson protested the decision which made Cunningham's entry the provisional winner. Cunningham, in turn, protested the decision that made Guiberson's Ferrari the winner of the secondary, handicap standings.

The board Monday night dismissed Cunningham's protest and upheld the Ferrari as the handicap winner.

Pro Basketball Sets Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics, hottest shooting team in the National Basketball Assn., and the Syracuse Nationals, the pennant winners in the Eastern Division, clash in the first game of the best-of-five playoffs at Syracuse and Fort Wayne's Pistons engage the Minneapolis Lakers at Indianapolis in the second game of the Western Division playoffs tonight.

Boston qualified to meet Syracuse for the right to face the Western Division playoff winner for the NBA championship by defeating the New York Knickerbockers two games to one.

Misnamed Wiffi Bests Lesser in N-S Amateur

Miss Smith Is Winner Over Seattle Golfer, 3-2, in Finals

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—If ever a girl was misnamed that girl is Wiffi Smith.

Richard S. Tufts, U.S. Golf Assn. official and head of Pinehurst, Inc., which conducts the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament here, called attention to the misnomer after the sturdy 18-year-old from La Canada, Calif., had trimmed Pat Lesser of Seattle, 3 and 2, in the finals of the 53rd tournament Monday.

"Wiffi," said Tufts, "you need a new name. You never whiff." She wasn't guilty of any whiffing during the 6-day tournament run.

The treckled youngster from the coast isn't sure of the origin of her nickname which has replaced her given name, Margaret, but she is sure of her game.

Her victory over Miss Lesser was Wiffi's third in as many years. Wiffi upset her Seattle University student rival in each of the last two National Amateur tournaments. Two years ago, at 16, Wiffi went to the semifinals before Mary Lena Faulk, the eventual champion, eliminated her. Last year Barbara Romack had to stop Wiffi in the quarter-finals en route to the title.

Last summer Wiffi won the U.S. GA. Junior title. Now she has her eye on the National Women's event, set for Charlotte, N.C., in August.

Bonus Rule to Last Full Game

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Basketball Rules Committee once again has changed cage regulations, bringing varied comment from the men who have to put them into effect.

The committee came up with these two major alterations Monday:

1. The bonus free throw rule will apply to the full paying time of a game. It permits a second free throw if the first one is made. The bonus toss was used in the past season but did not apply in the last three minutes of a game; all fouls in the three minutes were two-shot violations.

2. Free throw lanes will be widened from six to 12 feet. Coach Bebe Lee of Colorado said he liked both changes but LaSalle's Ken Loeffler said he didn't like "any part" of the wider lanes—rule.

'Y' Cage Playoffs Reach Final Stage

Semi-final playoffs in the Pontiac YMCA intramural basketball league were held last night with the Seminary team facing Trade School, 74-38, and YMCA moving up by forfeit over the Triangles.

Gerald Spangler led the Seminary to its victory with 22 points. Donald Ritter had 14 for Trade School.

In High School League action, Avondale Hi-Y took 2nd place in the National Division standings by downing Waterford Hi-Y 34-29. Sam Sheehy had 15 points for Avon, Jack Reynolds had 14 for the losers.

Pontiac Netters Play in National Tourney

Two Pontiac girls took part in the national table tennis junior girls tournament over the weekend, and experienced some highly interesting competition.

Ellen Tiffany was eliminated in the 2nd round, by the defending champion, Charlene Christman of New York, 21-10, 21-18, 21-12. Carol Ann Ryan lost in the 1st round to Carol Lechty of South Bend, Ind., who won last year's Michigan Open title at Boys' Club here.

The girls flew to Syracuse, N. Y. for the tourney as guests of their PTTA sponsors, Pontiac Varnish and Furtney Drug respectively.

East's 5 Victor in All-Star Tilt

Ricketts Voted Game's Outstanding Player — Gola Is 'Stabilizer'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The East coasted to its first victory over the West, 90-77, Monday night with a balanced scoring attack led by two All-Americans in the fourth annual East-West Shrine Basketball game.

Dick Ricketts, Duquesne University's All-American, got 19 points and was voted the outstanding player.

A three-time All-American, Tom Gola of LaSalle, got only 10 points as he played the role of stabilizer. Little Lester Lane of Oklahoma grabbed individual scoring honors with 23 points for the West.

Joe Barron was named outstanding basketball player.

Tom McGuigan 16, was chosen most improved athlete of the year.

Women Set to Continue American Domination of Pan-Am Games; McCormick Paces U.S. Divers

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The girls took over today where the boys left off for the United States and they promised to continue Uncle Sam's domination of the Pan-American Games.

Main event of the waning 1955 pre-Olympic program for 22 North and South American countries was the three-meter dive.

Leading the United States into the competition was Pat McCormick, the California girl who owns all the diving crowns worth owning.

Methodical power and well-conditioned numerical strength were the answers to the U.S. display of mastery to date in the games.

United States 925, Argentina, 413½, Mexico 256½.

In swimming and diving, the mar-ko sport left on the 18-game agenda, the scoreboard listed:

United States 47, Argentina 28, Mexico 25.

The United States won three boxing championships out of the five divisions in which it sent qualifiers last night, while Argentina won the team championship. The United States was second.

Uncle Sam threw another knockout punch yesterday when an underdog foursome of Frank McKinney Jr., Fred Maguire, Buddy Wharke and Clarke Scholes whipped a favored Argentina team in the 400-meter medley relay.

The time was 4:29.1 and it was a brilliant team victory. High schooler McKinney from Indianapolis led off for a slim lead in the backstroke, Maguire, from Maplewood, N. J., held his own in the breaststroke. Baarcke, husky ex-North Carolinian, gained a fair lead and Scholes, the 1952 Olympic record setter in the 100 freestyle, won going away.

In boxing, Orville Pitts, of Milwaukee, knocked out Miguel Safatle Ali, Chile, in the third round, to win the middleweight title.

Other U.S. winners were Paul Wright, Flint, Mich., by decision over Raul Tovar, Venezuela, light middleweights (136 pounds), and Joey Dorando, Lyndhurst, N. J., with a decision over Nicolas Stingriani, Argentina, welterweights.

The losers were bantamweight War Yee, Youngstown, Ohio, to Salvador Jesus Enriquez, Venezuela, and Willie Morton, Kansas City, to Carlos Rivero Fernandez, Argentina, light welterweights (140 pounds).

Frank Lary Bids for Spot as Tiger Regular

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It was a couple of weeks ago that Bucky Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers, said, "I'm looking for this kid Frank Lary to take his turn as a starting pitcher this year." And Bucky's been taking

Lary, like a few other youngsters in the Tigers' Lakeland, Fla., camp, is one of those "maybes" in Detroit's hopes for the first division this season. He's not a big guy, only 5-11, but he packs 180 pounds and he appears to be strong.

Thus far, Lary has worked 11 innings for the Tigers, more than any other hurler in camp. He's up from Buffalo, where he had a 15-11 record last season, including a seven-inning no-hitter, before winding up the year with the Tigers at 0-0.

Harris figures that Lary, whose brother Al is trying to hang on with the Chicago Cubs, and perhaps lefty Bob Miller, a 19-year-old, should be able to take their turn with the likes of Ned Garver, Al Aber, Steve Gromek and Billy Hoelt. If so, the Tigers would have some pitching depth to support a pretty set lineup that lagged just one game out of fourth place last season.

Lary gave up just one hit—and a run—in his first three innings against Boston. But next time out, he was tagged for six runs in three frames by Kansas City.

Yesterday, however, he popped back to blank Baltimore through five innings. Two other rookies, Paul Foytack and Babe Birrer, continued the whitewash and Detroit won 4-0.

It was the Tigers' fifth victory in 12 spring decisions and first shutout.

The Milwaukee Braves defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-2 yesterday. Andy Pafko, Billy Bruton and Joe Adcock uncorked homers to boost the Braves atop the grapefruit standings with an 8-4 record.

The Cleveland Indians beat the New York Giants 3-2. Al Rosen's two-run single in the ninth broke up a 1-1 tie.

The Indians, incidentally, also came up with a signed contract from Bobby Avila, the Tribe's holdout batting champion. Avila finally consented to the same contract he snubbed last week, reportedly calling for $27,000 and possibly $2,000 in bonuses. He got about $18,000 last season.

Johnny Temple singled home the winning run with two out in the ninth as Pittsburgh lost 4-3.

St. Louis not only lost to Philadelphia 3-2, but rookie first baseman Joe Cunningham was beaten by Tom Casagrande. X-rays failed to disclose a fracture, but Cunningham will be lost for two or three days.

The New York Yankees, finally warming up at the plate, clubbed the Brooklyn Dodgers 19-8 with Bill Skowron and Bob Cerv each getting four hits. Don Zimmer had three hits, including a home run, for the Yankees, but by the fourth inning, the Yanks had an 11-3 lead off Russ Meyer and Pete Wojcik. Ewell Blackwell started for New York and was wild, walking seven.

Dayton Boxer Next Opponent for Linscott

Gene Linscott, colorful Pontiac middleweight, will return to the scene of his only professional defeat on Thursday night, March 24, to meet Eddie Troy in a special four round bout.

Jack Stein of the Capitol City Boxing Club who is promoting Lansing's first boxing show in more than a year in cooperation with Motor City Fights Promoter Julius Piazza, announced the signing.

The bout will be one of six to be held at Pruden Auditorium.

Stein said that Linscott was to have met the rugged Jasper Hall of Detroit in a scheduled March 22 show, but that show was cancelled when the Auditorium was made available for the March 24 date.

Troy, a Dayton, Ohio, Golden Gloves champion in 1950, has a more impressive record than Hall and is expected to provide a real battle for the popular Linscott.

The Ohioan won his first six pro fights before moving to Michigan. He went into voluntary retirement for a time and resumed his career last year. He now has a 11 won and three lost record.

Linscott lost to Allie Gronik in his last Lansing appearance.

Shindorf in Dual Bid

Russ Shindorf, former St. Michael's High School athlete, is a candidate for 2 spring sports teams at Adrian College this year. The ex-Shamrock, a freshman, is out for both track and golf. John Antico, Royal Oak senior, is a member of the Bulldog baseball team.

Aussies Have Successor to John Landy in Colorful Distance Star, Stephens

MELBOURNE — Australian track fanatics, saddened by the retirement of Miracle Miller John Landy, have found a new idol in Dave Stephens, the "Flying Milkman" of Melbourne, who runs barefoot and turns out strings of sensational times like a butcher producing sausages.

Stephens, an "unknown" only five months ago, isn't threatening Landy's 3:58 world record for the mile. He runs longer distances.

But he resembles Landy in many ways and Aussies are confident that the 24-year-old milkman will climb to the same athletic heights.

Like Landy, Dave is a complete athletic fanatic who covers enormous distances by himself and trains without a coach. Again like Landy, he can perform sensationally on bad tracks, in shocking weather and with virtually no competition.

But unlike the serious-minded Landy, Stephens has abundant natural color, a carefree, happy-go-lucky nature. He's a born showman and an outspoken critic of official bungling. The crowds love him.

Stephens first drew real attention Jan. 13, when he set new Australian records for five and six miles in a Victorian selection trial. Racing on a grass surface, he was timed in 24:01.5 for five miles and 28:38 for six miles, cutting 48.2 seconds off the old 6-mile record.

His best personal six miles before then had been "about 32 minutes" and actually he seldom had lasted the distance. Since that time he has broken the 2-mile and 3-mile national records.

Marbara Hammett Holds 3 Leads in PWBA's Tourney

Several changes in leaders among the various divisions of the 22nd annual Pontiac Women's Bowling association's tournament at the Colonial lanes in Utica were effected in the 3rd weekend of activity.

Marbara Hammett of Pontiac has accumulated three leading scores, taking the actual top game of 233, the tourney series (hdcp) with 608 and the all-events (hdcp) with 1838.

Hazel Clark of Oxford fired the best actual series, a fine 595, and also grabbed the actual all-events total of 1612.

Elizabeth Robinson of Pontiac rolled a 280 with handicap, to top the individual game (hdcp) division. She also teamed with Pat McGinnis of Pontiac to take the doubles lead with 1310, and 529.

Bernice Lavoy of Milford had 684-263 in singles.

Leaders at end of 3rd week:

Teams—Schick Appliance (LO) 3111-1681; Engle's Chevrolet (Otis) 2818; Sportman's Inc (Wash) 2930; Fleet Carriers (Pont) 2927; Ward's (Pont) 2918.

21 different 1955 cars in gruelling Mobilgas Economy Run average

21.56 Miles Per Gallon with Mobilgas Special

Toughest Course in Mobilgas Economy Run History

Starting from Los Angeles, contestants in the Mobilgas Economy Run were required to travel the tortuous route selected by the American Automobile Association, through the extremes of conditions likely to be encountered in 12 months of ordinary driving. Within the run from California to Colorado Springs the cars went from a low of 218 feet below sea level to a high of 9382 feet at La Veta Pass—encountered over 100 miles of restricted city driving—competed in extreme desert heat and freezing mountain cold.

Here is dramatic proof of the amazing mileage that can be obtained with cars kept in top shape and carefully driven—powered by gasoline from the Mobilgas pumps.

Here is convincing evidence of the extraordinary performance and economy possible when your gasoline is powered two ways—with high octane and the three gas-saving additives known as "Mobil Power Compound."

Here is a graphic demonstration that if your car has a modern, high-compression engine and, like all those competing, automatic transmission, you can have maximum power and greater mileage for your gasoline dollar—more miles per gallon—with Mobilgas Special.

Add to all this the advantages of New Mobiloil Special—the all-weather motor oil—that has increased gasoline mileage up to 23%—and you can see why you should stop at the sign of the Flying Red Horse.

Fill up at the Mobilgas pumps. You'll be way ahead of past performances in power—and economy!

Bette Davis Returns to Play Role of Queen
By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—The queen is back, so naturally I had to pay homage to her.

I'm speaking of Bette Davis, who long reigned over dramatic films until her voluntary exile to Maine. Perhaps the greatest and most consistent actress ever developed by the movies, she is back in Hollywood for a brief stay.

Fittingly enough, she is playing a regal role in "Sir Walter Raleigh." As she was in "The Private Lives of Elizabeth and Essex" with Errol Flynn in 1939, she is Queen Bess again. But this time the queen is portrayed older, more better and haggish.

Bette has never given a hoot for glamor, and she is throwing caution to the winds in "Raleigh." When I saw her on the set, she was wearing virtually no makeup, so that her face had a washed-out look. Her hairline had been shaved back three inches and a red wig placed atop her head.

She is even submitting to a shock scene in which she'll show her head to be completely bald. No, she isn't carrying reality so far as to shave all her locks. It will be accomplished by makeup magic.

Bette is being well paid for her trouble. It's reported she's getting $25,000 a week for a minimum of three weeks, plus $25,000 weekly if her role runs overtime. I'd be surprised if that isn't a record for movie pay.

Bette will stay over to present the award for the best actor at the Academy Awards next week. Then she'll hustle back to her home in Portland, Me.

"Now that I've begun again," she said, "I expect I'll be coming back for pictures more often. It wasn't easy to start in again after three years away."

Russia Repeats Threat to Unify Satellite Arms

LONDON (U)—Russia has repeated her three-month-old threat to form a unified Communist military command for Eastern Europe if West German rearmament is ratified.

In a Moscow radio broadcast, the Soviet Foreign Ministry announced last night that the Russians and their seven East European allies had held new talks in connection with their Dec. 2 pledge to draw up their own mutual security treaty if the West approves the Paris agreements.

American officials in Washington viewed the new Soviet announcement as a further propaganda effort to quicken French opposition to West German rearmament. The French National Assembly has approved the arms treaties but the upper house takes them up Wednesday.

Debbie's Mother Going to England as Chaperon

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Martha Raye—over the heartbreak of her marriage bustup—now expects to divorce Ed Begley in Las Vegas. Other girls'll have June weddings, but for Martha it looks like a June divorce.

Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher'll fly to England Saturday Mar. 26—with Debbie's mother going along as chaperone.

Jackie Gleason came back to town long enough to ask whatever happened to all the tall showgirls (5-10 and up). He wants 'em for his new "Mardi Gras" TV film, but you can't hardly get 'em that tall no more.

TODAY'S WORST FUN: Lib-erace's due in town and Sonja Henie has ice for nobody else . . . One of our favorite actresses, Margaret Hayes (wife of Herbert Bayard Swope Jr.) plays the sassy, sexy school-ma'm in the movie "Blackboard Jungle" . . . Have a smile: "He was as white as white-on-white."

Bishop Sheen said it: "Nowadays everything in the home is controlled by a switch but the children."

Bob Crosby relates in Red-book that when he was six, he found a $5 bill and took it to his big brother Bing, who was 15. Bing said, "We go 50-50 on everything, don't we?"—got it changed, gave Bob two silver dollars, and kept three for himself, according to Bob, who adds: "Bing's been ahead ever since."

Peter Lind Hayes said at a dinner for Ike, "I have a right to be here because we were in the same Army together."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Glamour doll Anita Ekberg'll come from Hollywood to be queen of the Art Students League Dream Ball Apr. 1 . . . Howard Hughes and a party of 30 staying in Miami have the town mystified about his next "important announcement." . . . Lilo the French star of "Can-Can" has been offered several B-way shows, but she says "They're all too clean."

Marlon Brando's gal, Josanne Marianni, says her chats with ex-boxer Mike Sands aren't romantic at all . . . Xavier Cugat and Abbe Lane drew 2,000 to their Roseland mambo madness which is the hottest thing in the country . . . Oscar G. Heinemann, one of the greatest camera doctors, brags that he takes the world's worst pictures, and friends say he's right.

Maestro Art Mooney and his gal, Darlene Guidryk, have both hit it—he with his record "Honey Babe," she as a model suddenly wooed by two movie companies.

Darlene's in "New Orleans Uncensored" (due at the Palace) which also exhibits Helene Stanton.

Squirrel on Whirl Nips Into Trouble

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (U)—A squirrel on a whirl had things hopping yesterday on the West Side.

Henry P. Copenhaver said within a few minutes the squirrel scratched one woman on the arm, bit a neighbor woman on the head and arm, then scampered across the street and sank his fangs in a woman's leg.

While the women hustled off to a hospital for tetanus shots, Copenhaver called police. An officer, borrowing Copenhaver's rifle, shot Billy as he sat in a nearby tree.

Copenhaver said he'd ship the dead pet off to the State Health Department for a rabies test, but added, "I don't think he was rabid—just playful and all the excitement made him angry."

Film Actors Unhorsed

Cool off that Hot Rod —It's "KID STUFF!"

The mark of an expert driver is neither his speed nor his souped up car.

Leading sports car champions agree that the public highway is no place for the "hot-rodder".

They rate the show-off as an immature person who threatens himself and others, strains his engine, and tortures his tires. His thoughtless driving is "kid stuff" that he may not live to outgrow.

Solons Want to Aid Careless Race Fans

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U)—The Senate wants to help careless horse players who throw away winning pari-mutuel tickets.

It approved and sent to the Assembly yesterday a bill by Sen. Harry Parkman (R-Woodside) requiring that all tickets have printed on them all the situations under which the ticket is cashable.

For example, show tickets would state that the holder can collect if the horse comes in first or second as well as third.

Parkman said fans throw away about $30,000 in cashable tickets each year because they don't understand.

Men's Health Is Extreme

By MARGARET LATROBE

They say that men are more inclined to hypochondria than women. Shouldn't they have said men are a little more inclined to both extremes of health than the ladies?

It seems to me that men are either awfully well or awfully ill. There doesn't appear to be any middle ground. You never hear a man say he has a "slight headache." His head, if aching at all, is "splitting wide open" and you are hovering around with aspirin, fizz water and ice packs.

And in fine fettle, a man doesn't relax with a weekend of cultural pursuit—reading or sewing or listening to records. He's out holding hammers from the front lawn, hustling over 36 holes of golf, skipping through some fast sets of tennis or pushing the car down the street to start the motor.

Dr. C. Ward Crampton, a New York specialist in geriatrics (a branch of medicine which gets interested in you when silver threads outnumber the gold), is disturbed about man's inhumanity to himself. He maintains that men should quit trying to prove that they are only boys, that they can still stand on their heads as well as Junior, that they can still take 25-mile hikes as well as young Marines in boot camp, and all those masculine feats of bravado.

They try to prove to the world and themselves that they are big, strong men — when really they needn't bother. We'll take their word for it, and in doing so we'll have them around a good while longer. There isn't anything sissy, fellows, in having yearly checkups with the doctor. Just baring your chest for his stethoscope isn't going to give you heart trouble. Just saying "Ah" won't make your tonsils grow back. Just easing up on strenuous exercise isn't going to make an old man of you.

But just mention making a will to a man and he thinks the undertaker is hiding in the shrubbery. Just mention a checkup with the doctor, and he is sure he's been exposed to smallpox and you just don't want to say so. Just mention vitamin pills as a sensible routine and his feelings are injured. "What are you trying to do? Make an invalid out of me?"

But ask him how the party was last night—and man! Bring out the tomato juice and bromides. He may be physically fit, but he's also fit to be tied with that headache. "Why don't you do something, dear? I'm dying!"

Wintry Weather Spurs Grains

CHICAGO (P) — A return to wintry weather in the Midwest helped create a good demand for feed grain on the Board of Trade today.

Corn was up a couple cents at one time and oats followed the yellow grain, although somewhat reluctantly. Wheat started out firm with the rest of the market. Old crop soybean contracts were strong.

This was the last day of trading in March grain futures. Any contracts remaining open at the close have to be settled by delivery of the cash commodity.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 1 cent higher, March $2.19 1/4; corn 1/4 to 1 cent higher, March $1.44 1/4; oats 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher, March $1.03 1/4; soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher, March $2.60 1/4; and land 20 to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.25.

Finally Finds 'Perfect' Role

Television Comedian to Get Lead in Remake of 'The Lady Eve'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — So now little, crew hair-cut George Gobel is becoming a movie star.

It was bound to happen because you can't hardly find comedians like George no more.

Every studio in Hollywood launched open Gobel-warfare after his appearance last October on TV's Diamond Jubilee of Lights show, on which he explained the intricacies of an electronic brain. He prefaced his remarks with:

"I'm just a common man, I'm about as common as you can get and stay sober. But I didn't come up here to be made sport of."

The film contracts tossed at him following this appearance were fabulous.

"Sign here," studio bosses said, "and we'll dream up a story for you."

But George and his manager, David O'Malley, played it smart. "Find a story we like," they replied, "and then we'll talk contract."

The stories, hastily written, piled up higher than the fan mail in the offices George and O'Malley share in a building at the corner of Hollywood and Vine.

All of these were turned down with the same explanation:

"It doesn't fit George's personality."

At Paramount, production boss Don Hartman had an idea. He remembered the studio's 1941 movie hit, "The Lady Eve," in which Henry Fonda played a shy millionaire who becomes involved with a couple of cheating cheaters, gamblers Charles Coburn and Barbara Stanwyck, on a transatlantic liner.

"This movie," said Don, "should have been made the first time with George Gobel."

He invited George and his manager to see the picture, explaining he'd like to rewrite it a little and remake it, with George in the Fonda role and Paramount sharing with George in the profits.

George and Manager O'Malley looked at the movie. Hartman knew it was a deal as soon as the lights went up. George was beaming.

"You can't hardly find stories like this no more," he laughed.

That was two months ago. Just the other day the contract was signed. Nothing—not even a big studio like Paramount—can rush Gobel and his manager. As George says:

"I'm too young to go to the cemetery on the dead run."

Paramount will cast two important stars with Gobel in the film which goes into production in July for release this winter.

The "let's-not-rush-into-this" way in which George and O'Malley faced the big movie look was typical of them. They never move until things are "just right" for George. They've been operating that way ever since they teamed up 10 years ago in Chicago.

Before he launched his own TV show last September, 29 scripts were written and rejected by Gobel and O'Malley. And even on the first show, Gobel wasn't convinced he was on the right track. His opening line was:

"Well, this is the show. It's not the greatest show on earth but it might keep you from getting out of here. This is a sort of you might call it a comedy show—and if you don't, we're through."

Getting laughs has been George Gobel's business only since 1944, when he was a first lieutenant in the Air Force, training B-26 pilots at Frederick, Okla. He was "drafted" into many entertainment programs and started telling stories related to him by fellow officers.

For eight years before the war, he was a singer and guitar player—Little George Gobel—on radio's National Barn Dance program. He also toured with the radio station WLS Barn Dance Revue and played kid roles on the Tom Mix radio show from Chicago. His best line, he recalls, was "I'll hold your horse, Tom."

Singing soprano with his church choir on WLS started it all while he was dreaming of becoming a professional ball player.

But after the war, George convinced O'Malley, a Chicago theatrical agent, that he was a comedian. O'Malley booked him on a USO Show in Chicago, into small midwest night clubs, and finally he played the most successful supper clubs in the country, from New York to Los Angeles.

But it took television—first as a guest star on 1953's Saturday Night Review—to win him overnight fame.

So there you are.

Wants Meeting of Big Powers

Sen. George Says Hope of Talks Could Cause Russia to Keep Peace

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today he believes the prospect of a meeting of big power chiefs might cause the Soviets to "do their best" to restrain Red China from attacking Formosa.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview he fears the Chinese Communists soon may attack outposts of the Chinese Nationalist bastion.

"I believe if Russia thought she could get a conference of the big powers she would do her best to restrain the Red Chinese," he said.

He has expressed in the past some doubt about Moscow's ability to control Peking's actions.

George made it clear he spoke for himself alone in proposing a meeting of the heads of the major nations without imposing advance conditions on the Russians.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), expressed opposition last night to the idea of any four-power conference now, saying in a speech at Charlotte, N.C.: "There is no purpose of attempting a four-power conference unless we know what the objectives are."

Eisenhower has said he was willing to confer on world peace at any time but has specified that the Russians first must show sincerity by their actions.

Bomber Escapees Are Coming to U.S.

MUNICH, Germany, (U)—Two Romanian air force officers who fled to the West in a commandeered bomber three years ago left by air today for new homes in America.

After their arrival in New York tomorrow, they will go to Cleveland, Ohio, to join Romanian friends who preceded them to America.

The men are Dimitru Piturka, 43, a pilot, and Dr. Ioan Bucur, 31, a flight surgeon. They seized an obsolete bomber March 3, 1952, at Tecuci, Romania, and landed near Belgrade, Yugoslavia, when their fuel ran out. Later they came to West Germany.

Boy Shoots Cop Arresting Mom

Wounds Officer Who Was Seizing Woman for Bad Checks

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—A 17-year-old boy was charged today with shooting a policeman who tried to arrest his mother for passing bad checks. The boy used a .38 revolver his mother had given him for his birthday, police said.

Both the boy, Frank Lutz, and his mother Mrs. Antoinette Lutz, 45, were held on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder. Mrs. Lutz was also charged with passing bad checks.

Policeman L. E. Anderson, 30, was shot three times, in an arm,

Sailor, Sea Cook Battle Furiously Over Dull Menu

BOSTON (U)—A ship's cook was jailed and a crewman was hospitalized today as a result of what police said was a furious shipboard battle over the merits of eight straight days of frankfurts and beans.

The cook, James F. Copeland, 29, of New York, was charged with assault with intent to murder.

John Chatman, also 29, suffered a knife wound on his body. He was reported in fair condition at a hospital.

Police Sgt. John Ward said the men got involved in battle aboard the American Export Line's SS Eschiquier when Chatman went to the galley to complain that he was tired of eating frankfurts and beans every day for eight days.

under the other arm and in the back. He pulled his own gun and fired twice as the boy and his mother ran through the Edison Center business district.

The pair was captured after a chase by Wesley Johnson, 22-year-old University of Miami student from Memphis, Tenn.

Police said Mrs. Lutz told them they came to Miami from Brooklyn, N.Y., last August and had been living on worthless checks. She said she had written nearly 100 in New York and New Jersey, scattering them along the way to Florida.

Given Prison Sentence
James Perry, 18, of Detroit, received from 1½ to 4 years in Jackson state prison yesterday when he appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartwick. Perry pleaded guilty March 14 to stealing a man's jacket from a Northland Center store in Southfield Township March 5.
