Ike Reveals 50-Star Flag

It's Official: Hawaii's a State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hawaii, the jewel—like chain of islands 2,400 miles west of the mainland, has brought the United States of America to an even 50.

Using a dozen pens to sign his name, President Eisenhower proclaimed its statehood Friday. It was the second time in less than a year that he performed such a historic duty — Alaska became a state Jan. 3.

As Hawaii followed Alaska into the union, the President also signed an executive order fixing the design of the 50-star flag. With a twinkle, he remarked that he's running out of ideas for flag designs.

The new flag, which becomes official next July 4, has the same 13 red and white stripes. But its square field in the upper left corner has nine rows of stars, arranged in staggered fashion with six and five-star rows alternating.

"All 49 states will join in welcoming the new one—Hawaii—to this union," the President said more solemnly. "We will wish for her prosperity, security, happiness, and a growing closer relationship with all of the other states.

"We know that she is ready to do her part to make this union a stronger nation—a stronger people than it was before because of her presence as a full sister to the other 49 states.

"So all of us say to her, Good luck."

The president began signing the documents at 4:03 p.m. Washington time. The black and white plastic pens he used were distributed to some of those present as souvenirs. The new flag, its silken folds shining, was unfurled.

Edward Johnston, secretary of Hawaii, rushed to an open telephone in the next room at the White House to give the news to Gov.-elect William F. Quinn, who was waiting in Honolulu's Iolani Palace.

It was 10:16 a.m. Hawaii time. "Ladies and gentlemen," Quinn told the gathering in his office, "Hawaii is now a state." He then was sworn in as the state's first governor.

People went about their business on the palm-lined streets of Honolulu. There were no public celebrations.

At the White House ceremony Sen.-elect Oren E. Long and Rep.-elect Daniel K. Inouye were among the honored guests. Sen.-elect Hiram Fong took part in Honolulu ceremonies.

Senator Pleased by Labor Action

Goldwater Encouraged by Compromise Ideas on Federal Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) said today House-Senate labor conferees have put together some compromise provisions that are better than the originals in either the House or Senate bills.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater, a member of the conference committee, cited the section requiring employers and labor consultants to file certain reports as one improvement.

★ ★ ★

The Senate voted somewhat stricter requirements than those provided in the House bill. The conferees reached agreement on compromise language late yesterday.

Goldwater, who generally likes the House bill better, declined to give the details of the compromise but said "we're all happy with it."

He and Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), chief sponsor of the Senate bill, both said they were hopeful the conference would agree on the more thorny issues next week.

NOT GIVING GROUND

But Goldwater, appearing on a Florida television program with Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla), gave no sign that he was willing to give any ground.

★ ★ ★

"We must retain a prohibition against secondary boycotts. We must retain the prohibition against blackmail picketing. And I think we've got to protect the states in the 'no man's land' area and give them the right to try cases the National Labor Relations Board will not handle because they don't touch on interstate commerce," he said.

These are the three disputed provisions which are most likely to cause a conference deadlock.

Goldwater said he would give the conference until Tuesday afternoon to resolve some of the conflicts.

★ ★ ★

If no headway is made by then, he plans to take the matter back to the floor and ask the Senate to instruct the confrees on how to break the deadlock.

Khrushchev Will Star on U.S. Video

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American public will get at least one good television view of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in action during his 12-day tour of the United States.

It was learned last night that Khrushchev will make a major address and engage in a no-holds-barred question and answer session with reporters at the National Press Club here Sept. 16.

The entire affair will be carried throughout the nation on television and radio by the major networks, which have offered up to two hours air time for the proceedings.

Arrangements for Khrushchev's first formal meeting with the press were worked out at meetings yesterday of State Department officials with various media representatives.

In another development, officials said they expected to release today a skeleton schedule for Khrushchev's visit, which begins in Washington Sept. 15.

The initial schedule probably will list only the cities he will visit, together with the dates, leaving details to be filled in later.

It was already known that the Soviet Premier, after three days in Washington, will go to New York City. He is scheduled to address the United Nations General Assembly Sept. 18.

Ike a Healthy Man, Says Dr. Paul White

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—"He is quite a healthy man," said heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White of President Eisenhower Friday.

Dr. White said he has not been asked to examine the President before Eisenhower's planned trip to Europe.

"I probably wasn't asked because the President has been so well," he said in an interview.

What Heat Wave?

DETROIT (AP)—Jack Mullane was the envy of his neighborhood his week while battling a current heat wave. Mullane climbed up to his roof Thursday night pulling a garden hose. He rigged up his oscillating sprinkler and turned it on. The watering down process reduced temperatures inside the house by several degrees.

Springfield Man Killed in Crash; Boy Drowns

U. S. 10 Collision Also Injures Detroiter; Tot Dies in Water Trough

A head-on collision on U. S. 10 took the life of a Springfield Township man early today and a two-year-old boy drowned on an Independence Township farm last night.

Dead are Zollie Brandenberg, 52, of 8945 Clarridge Rd., and John Lee Irelan, of 3981 Bird Rd.

Brandenberg was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Skid marks indicated that Brardenberg's northbound auto veered over the center line and smashed into a southbound car driven by Allen D. Hoeg, 27, of 3672 Gilbert, Detroit, according to Pontiac State Trooper Gerald Tafel.

Hoeg was reported in satisfactory condition at the same hospital after undergoing surgery for multiple cuts of the head and leg.

Both men were alone.

After the impact, Tafel reported, Hoeg's car skidded 69 feet and the other vehicle went 175 feet.

Tafel said the cars were total wrecks. The accident occurred at 12:15 a.m. just north of M87 in Groveland Township.

The Irelan boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard H. Irelan, drowned in a tank-type water trough at the rear of his home.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said there were no witnesses to the accident.

The tot had gone to the barn to watch his father tend to the cows, said Detective Sgt. Leo Hazen.

About a half hour later his father noticed his son was no longer in the barn and told the boy's sister to go look for him.

The sister, Lenda, 9, found her brother floating in the water trough deputies said. The water was 2½ feet deep. The tank was six feet in diameter.

The Clarkston Fire Department was called but an inhalator failed to revive the boy. He was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac Prevette.

COOLING ON CASS — Attractive 16-year-old Judy Leaf of Keego Harbor enjoys the waters of Cass Lake as the sun continues to cook the Pontiac area. The heat wave continues to fry Pontiac today.

For the fourth-straight day, the temperature will be a sizzling 93 degrees.

The uncomfortable climate will continue through Sunday.

The forecast is warm and humid today.

It will be partly cloudy with scattered showers and thunderstorms today and tonight. Winds will be southwest at 7-12 m.p.h.

The low tonight will be 73.

At least, it won't be over 90. A high of 87 is the prediction for Sunday.

The low then is expected to be 60 degrees.

PARKS, BEACHES INVADED

Oakland County's parks and beaches were invaded early this morning by thousands of bathers.

The weatherman is hopeful about next week.

It will be generally fair and cool on Monday.

Last year on this date the highest the mercury got was 74 degrees.

In 1936, it was 101 degrees!

The low for this date was in 1923 when the mercury dipped to a chilly 45 (wouldn't that be nice?).

Some relief was expected last night when rains doused the Pontiac area. But the showers just raised the humidity, adding to the acute discomfort.

MSUO Official Would Do Away With Diplomas

(Editor's Note: This is the first of two articles on the continuing education program at Michigan State University Oakland.)

By MAX E. SIMON

Dr. Lowell R. Eklund of Michigan State University Oakland has no use for college graduations and diplomas.

Director of MSUO's continuing education program, Eklund would like to see America's institutions of higher learning eliminate sheepskins and commencement exercises.

"In awarding degrees," Eklund declared, "universities are remiss in their responsibilities. For, once they graduate, students feel they have it made intellectually."

The university administrator wants to prevent the appearance of this pattern at the nation's newest university.

"Perhaps the greatest contribution that a university can make is in showing the student how little he actually knows," Eklund declared.

He hopes he can convince MSUO alumni and other adults in Oakland and Macomb counties to continue their education through life.

OFFER 16 CLASSES

When MSUO opens next month, 16 evening courses will be available to adults through the continuing education program. All are noncredit.

"Until recent years," Eklund said, "the peculiar notion existed that education was something only for growing children and youth. We had supposed that the purpose of education was to 'prepare' youth to live and make a living.

"To be sure, that is true—but we were also nurtured in the belief that adults stop learning at the ripe old age of 25. We thought that adults, generally, stopped reading books, stopped developing new skills and hobbies, and stopped creative activities that would tax their mental powers.

"We assumed that they settled down into certain prescribed patterns for adult living and inwardly breathed a sigh of relief that their diploma-seeking days were over."

★ ★ ★

Since World War II, Eklund said, a revolution in education has taken place.

"Education is now looked upon as a life-long journey—not a destination," he explained.

50 MILLION ADULTS

Eklund pointed out that the Eisenhower Committee on Education Beyond High School estimates that upward of 50 million persons in the United States who are not full-time students are participating in adult education courses each year.

While traditionally universities

Learns Facts of Life

VENICE, Calif. (UPI)—Albert A. Tammer, 31, learned the hard way yesterday that, when women are involved, it's sometimes the better part of valor not to try to break up a fight.

Tammer, a dishwasher, told police that when he tried to act as a peacemaker, two scuffling women beat him into semi-consciousness and took his cigarette lighter and his wallet containing $5.

Buick Shooting for 20 Pct. Gain

Return to Massive Look May Herald New Era of Popularity

FLINT (UPI)—Buick hopes to sell 20 per cent more cars in 1960 than it did this year by returning to the massive features which won it popularity in the past, Buick General Manager Edward D. Rollert said yesterday.

"Our goal is to win back for Buick the position of prestige it once enjoyed in the medium-priced market," he told reporters gathered for a preview of the new Buick line.

"With the product we have for 1960, I am confident we will give a good account of ourselves. Certainly we can sell 20 per cent more cars in 1960 than we did this year."

Rollert indicated he would make several sharp breaks with the policies set down by his predecessor, Edward Ragsdale, at the beginning of the 1959 model year.

First, he emphasized the massive qualities of the car while only a year ago Ragsdale abandoned massiveness in favor of fleetness. Then he revealed Buick would offer three two-tone combinations while a year ago Ragsdale announced Buick would emphasize solid colors during 1959, although this policy was changed before the year was out.

While details of the new Buick were off the record until Oct. 8 when the new cars go on sale, Rollert revealed it would have a concave grille and the headlights will be placed side by side instead of on a slant in an effort to give the car a more massive look.

Paneling on the car is sculptured in another effort to give it a massive appearance and the rear, canted fins are rounded at the tops this year.

Ventiports, a Buick trademark for many years during the early 1950s, will again be used as a mark of identification in 1960.

In one respect, Rollert carried out a policy established last year to an even greater degree. Last year Ragsdale ordered chrome trim on the Buick reduced and this year's Buick has even less chrome than its predecessor.

They pronounced their vows in a country church on a gentle knoll, within sight of the bride's family home.

Mrs. Rockefeller and Anne Marie's father, Kristian Rasmussen, retired grocer and fish merchant, sat together near the altar on the right side.

The high spot in the ritual came when the Rev. Olav Gautestad, vicar of Sogne parish church, asked the young couple, in turn, whether they would take each other as man and wife. Then he said: "Now give each other your hand on that."

MAN AND WIFE

"You have promised each other that you will live in matrimony," he said solemnly, "and have confessed it before God and man and given your hand on it, and I now proclaim that you are man and wife. In the name of the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost."

Fifteen minutes earlier Gov. Rockefeller entered the church escorting Anne Marie's mother. Mrs. Rockefeller entered a moment after with Steven.

Then, on the stroke of four,

Little Relief Seen as U.S. Swelters On

By United Press International

Most of the nation today sought someplace cool to spend a weekend that shaped up as the hottest and most humid of the summer.

The Weather Bureau forecast little relief from the wave of muggy heat which has sent the "discomfort index" soaring to new highs.

The Chicago Weather Bureau yesterday noted the city's 95-degree temperature and 48 per cent humidity and came up with a discomfort index of 85—the highest of the year.

Washington, D. C., also reported a 95. Newark, N.J., had a 96, New York baked in 93-degree heat, Dallas had a 91, and Detroit and Kansas City both reported 90-degree readings.

Columbus, Ohio, sizzled under its eighth day of 90-plus weather. And 93-degree temperature in nearby Lorain, Ohio, was blamed for the death of Michael J. Dombrowski Jr., 14, who died a few hours after practicing football in the roaring heat.

Violent local thunderstorms broke the heat wave throughout the midlands.

Frankfort, Mich., was hit with a 5.5 downpour and showers last night brought 1.15 inches to Milwaukee in a half-hour deluge.

Other rainfalls over an inch were reported at Mason City, Iowa, Long Rock, Wis., and Flint, Mich.

New Slots Ease Hospital Parking

Pontiac General Doctors Will Get 30-Stall Lot; Give Employes 68 Spots

Officials have acted to ease the parking problem for Pontiac General Hospital employes and doctors.

A 30-stall parking lot for doctors is expected to open this coming week at the corner of Seminole and Huron streets.

The lot was blacktopped by the city at a cost of $5,000, to be paid back out of the treasury of the hospital's medical staff.

The parking lot plus 22 on-street spots reserved for doctors' use only should relieve parking difficulties for doctors "somewhat, but not fully," said Harold B. Euler, hospital director.

Thursday, the city set aside 68 stalls in the new, 214-stall municipal lot south of the hospital for use by hospital employes.

Ten-hour meters were installed, at a rate of a nickel an hour — the same rate in effect in the rest of the lot.

City Manager Walter K. Willman has warned, however, that the 10-hour arrangement may have to end when the hospital's east wing is completed and there are more visitors to the hospital.

Euler said that employe parking presents the most difficult problem.

"Some of our women employes have to park so far away that at the end of the afternoon shift they must be driven to their cars."

The medical staff has acted to provide parking for the hospital's 25-member house staff of resident physicians and interns.

Staff doctors have rented an empty lot for parking next to the interns' quarters on W. Huron, between Seminole and Oneida road.

Householders in the hospital area have complained many times to the City Commission about hospital employe cars being parked all day in front of their homes, sometimes blocking driveways.

Gets His Answer

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Harry E. Henson, 27, heard that police were looking for him, so he dropped down to headquarters to find out why.

Is Romney Candidate for State Governor?

LANSING (AP) — More than a few Lansing politicoes believe George Romney is running for Governor whether he thinks he is or not.

Speculation buzzed this week over possible entry of the American Motors Corp. president in the 1960 Republican primary despite his disclaimer of any intention to run.

It was the second time in two months that he captured wholesale public attention. In June, Romney scored heavily with his proposal for organizing a citizens for Michigan committee to study the state's economic and industrial needs.

Democrats and Republicans alike viewed both of Romney's recent moves as reflecting uncanny political finesse and timing, whether intended or not.

"What is he, a Republican or a Democrat?" asked Sen. Frank Beadle of St. Clair, GOP majority leader.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland) dismissed Romney as a king of know-nothing in things governmental but got burned in criticizing the American Motors head as a man who moved his business out of the state.

Romney quickly reminded Francis that his company employs about 5,000 persons in Michigan and expanded its operations here during the last year at the expense of American Motors employment in Illinois and Wisconsin.

Less critical GOP lawmakers in the House, while careful not to identify themselves with any political move Romney might make, see in him a type ideally suited to capture the public imagination as a candidate.

There is a growing hunch around the capital that in 1960 voters will be ripe for a change, that an attractive newcomer on the political scene—yet a man of established public reputation — could sweep them off their feet in a whirlwind courtship.

MSUO Official Opposes Diplomas

have concentrated upon the educational needs of youth, in recent years they have become increasingly aware that they have an even larger role in the teaching of adults, he said.

"We have come to the conclusion that no level of our formal schooling can adequately educate a person for the whole of life in our complex world society," Eklund said.

"This is a world chiefly controlled by adults—not by young people. The decision-making element of our population is the 75,000,000 mature adults considerably removed from the ivy-covered classrooms. These are the people that make the crucial decisions bearing on our survival."

Eklund said it was impossible for universities to educate students for the problems they will encounter 5 to 10 years in the future.

DON'T KNOW PROBLEMS

"We don't even know what the problems will be—to say nothing of the answers," he argued.

"By the same token, our decision-making adults cannot exercise their responsibilities widely based upon an education already obsolete," Eklund said.

"The answer, of course, is continuing education throughout one's lifetime. An adult's success and happiness, in his crucial roles of life—those of worker, parent and citizen—will correlate directly with the extent and quality of his continuing education."

The adult education program at MSUO will not be an adjunct or an extra-curricular activity of the new institution. Adult education will have equal status among the university's principal objectives, Eklund said.

Adult courses will help the students to discover how to adjust to many things of which young people have only a dim perception.

"It is said that we cannot teach an old dog new tricks, but the facts are there are some tricks that only an old dog can learn,"

Remove Lilly as Supervisor

7-Year Veteran Isn't Renamed for Opposing Mayor in Election

A running feud, capped during last spring's city election in Ferndale, has brought about the removal of seven-year veteran Supervisor Clayton G. Lilly from the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Another change on the 83-member Board took place when William K. Kiser, an Oak Park supervisor for 3½ years, resigned because of business reasons. He was replaced by Abraham S. Bricker of 21970 Marlow St., and president of the Oak Park School Board.

Although he said he held no grudge for being removed from his job, Lilly, 40, said he believed he wasn't reappointed because he backed Sidney Hill, who opposed Ferndale Mayor Bruce D. Garbutt for re-election in the spring.

Lilly said he refused to take down one of Hill's campaign posters from his Royal Oak gas station when asked by Garbutt.

Garbutt, a Republican, readily admitted that this led to Lilly's dismissal as a supervisor. Lilly is a Democrat and had served as chairman of the Board's Drain Committee. He was also a member of Board of Public Works.

"He saw fit to back my opponent," Garbutt said. "I told him during the election that as a supervisor, and under our city charter, I didn't think he should have been taking an active part in the election."

Lilly will be replaced on the Board by Hugh Charteris of 822 E. Bennett St.

Four GM Division Heads Don't Fear Compact Cars

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — One week of 1960 auto previews has now passed and the question as to who will get hurt by the sales of the new compact cars remains unanswered.

In turn this week James Roche of Cadillac, Jack Wolfram of Oldsmobile, Semon Knudsen of Pontiac and Ed Rollert of Buick have said: "Not I."

Wolfram, Knudsen and Rollert, general managers of General Motors' three medium price lines, steadfastly insisted that buyers who want something a little better will stick to the medium price field.

Wolfram cited what he called the first sales increase in the field since 1955. Knudsen, with his hot-selling 1959 model breaking records, said he felt the Pontiac image is now firmly established.

And Rollert, who inherited the slumping Buick line, said last night: "Certainly we should be able to sell 20 per cent more cars in 1960 than this year."

2 IMPORT MODELS

Knudsen and Rollert also are responsible for two import models made abroad by General Motors—the Vauxhall and the Opel.

Knudsen said Pontiac will sell 18,000 to 20,000 Vauxhalls this year and expects to hit about the same figure in 1960.

Rollert forecast the import market would suffer most from the new compact cars of the big three but added that demand exceeds supply, as far as Opel is concerned and that he certainly expects "no surplus" of Opels next year.

From the four preview showings it is apparent that General Motors expects the over-all 1960 car market to reach some 6,900,000 cars, up about 10 per cent from 1959.

Roche and Knudsen, the only two who gave breakdowns, suggested the import market would suffer a loss of some 100,000 units over the expected 1959 total of 600,000.

General Motors' compact car entry is the Corvair, by Chevrolet. Ed Cole, Chevrolet general manager, will have a chance to give his views on the market when he holds his model preview Sept. 10.

Girls to Have New Facilities

Move Camp Fire House

The house the Pontiac Camp Fire Girls bought from the Board of Education for $1,000 has been moved to Camp Oweki on Gulick Lake near Clarkston.

The 24 by 76-foot building, once used as a classroom by McConnell School, was cut in two pieces for ease of moving by Marion and Young House Moving Co.

It will provide the first year-around structure for eating, sleeping and recreation at the girls camp. The building will be attached to a 20 by 24-foot kitchen already at the site.

More than $6,000 has been spent to put the new facility in top shape.

The money was allocated from a trust fund set up by the Camp Fire Girls and the Civitan Club of Pontiac, according to the club president, Richard Jarvis.

Smithsonian Snubs Nose of Durante

Durante said yesterday he had received word that the institute won't accept a plaster cast of his famed proboscis.

"I took 'em at their word. Everything was done in good fate (Faith). But now they don't want Durante's nose to get inta da act," said the comedian, flapping his arms in exasperation as he described a proposal that a plaster cast be made of the nose as an addition to the institution's anthropology exhibit.

Big Budget Cut Appears Certain

Congress Has Passed All Money Bill but Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both branches of Congress now have passed 15 of the 16 money bills for the current financial year, and the goal of a fair-sized budget cut appears to be in sight.

The Senate cleared a $1,428,178,700 military construction measure Friday, its 15th fiscal 1960 appropriations bill, and now has only the foreign aid bill to debate. The House has acted on all 16.

Thirteen of the 16 measures actually have been sent to the White House. On these an over-all reduction of 235 million dollars below President Eisenhower's requests has been achieved.

But the biggest cut of all is almost certain to be made on foreign aid. When this measure and the two money bills still being worked on by Senate-House conferees reach the White House, the reduction is expected to exceed a billion dollars. It may reach almost a billion and a half.

The House claimed a cut of a $1,244,000,000 in its action on the foreign aid bill, although some legislators charged this was achieves partly through legerdemain with figures.

These sources contend that the budget figure of $3,436,277,000 used by the House as Eisenhower's request for foreign aid is too high, and that thus the cut is overstated.

Decide to Delay School Opening

Three St. Clair County Districts Will Wait for State Aid Bill

PORT HURON (AP)—Three St. Clair County school districts have voted to delay the opening of classes until the Legislature enacts a state school aid bill.

The three are Kimball Township, Port Huron Township and Fort Gratiot. Some 4,600 children will be affected. The districts all are located near Port Huron.

The school boards said summer vacation will be postponed next June to make up the lost time. Under Michigan law the academic year consists of 180 days of classes.

The boards said the action last night was taken because of lack of funds, resentment over being forced to borrow money and pay interest charges only to have to close down later when the temporary funds run out and resentment at having to ask teachers to wait for delayed pay.

Three other county school boards Capac, Marine City and St. Clair, will decide Monday night whether to open on schedule.

The state legislature currently is deadlocked on the school aid issue.

One legislative conference committee failed to agree this week on a compromise between the House demand for a school aid formula based on $210 a pupil and the Senate's figure of $200 a pupil.

The school districts are among 27 all outside of Port Huron which belong to the St. Clair County School Board Assn.

The association favors the House school aid formula and has criticized two Republican senators on the conference committee for failing to accept the higher figure.

They are Sens. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair) and Arthur A. Dehmel (R-Unionville).

Last Civil War Veteran Still on Critical List

Doctors Friday night reported no change in the condition of Walter W. Williams, 116. His daughter Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, said the old soldier has been taking liquid nourishment but "he's been asleep" since early Thursday.

Detroit Police Call Truce

Tomato 'War' Ends

DETROIT (AP)—A truce has been reached in the tomato plant war waged by members of the Detroit Police Homicide and Holdup Bureaus.

The battle began when Maurice Coble, Holdup Bureau Detective, lugged a tomato plant given him by a friend to the office. The friend said he didn't believe Coble could raise the plant at police headquarters and said he would pay $5 for every ripe tomato.

Coble placed the plant on the window ledge outside the Holdup Bureau. But the sun didn't hit it there so Coble took it across the hall to the Homicide Bureau which has a sunny exposure. The plant thrived in its new location and Coble decided to bring it back to his office. But the Homicide officers said they took care of the plant so it belonged to them.

★ ★ ★

One of Coble's men climbed on a roof adjoining the Homicide Bureau window and snatched the plant. But when the Holdup officers weren't looking the Homicide men snatched it back. The snatching went on for some time.

Finally a truce was reached. The plant will remain on the Homicide window ledge but both bureaus will share the ripened tomatoes—if any.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission Will Study Business District Plans

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission at its meeting Monday night will study plans for both long and short range development of the central business district as prepared by the newly-organized Development Committee.

The development committee has proposed that the city hire a permanent planning employe for two years to study business development; a planning consultant at $100 a month to consult with the city planner on business development; and that the estimated $17,500 for the two programs be paid by the benefited property owners in the central business district at a rate of $4 for each $1,000 assessed valuation.

The CBDDC also requests that the city establish a fund for collection of the contributions.

After a study of traffic conditions and a recommendation by City Manager L. R. Gare, the Commission will request the State Highway Dept. to install a traffic light at Woodward avenue and Quarton road.

District Traffic Engineer Samuel J. Levine admits that a signal placed at this corner would not allow a progressive traffic flow, but he says Birmingham has an obligation to motorists using Quarton and Big Beaver roads.

According to City Engineer G. R. Serenbetz, errors have been found in the city plat of the property on the south side of Maple avenue between Adams road and Elm street.

Since the city lacked sufficient right-of-way on this property the area has been replated. The replat will be reviewed by the commission Monday night.

FRANCIS J. JANKIE

Service for Francis J. Jankie, 49, of 18156 Locherbie St. will be held at 9:30 a.m. Monday at Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Church, Birmingham. Burial will follow at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery. Rosary will be recited at 9 p.m. at the Jankie residence.

Mr. Jankie died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital after a long illness.

He was the owner and operator of the Automatic Tool Co., Detroit.

Surviving are his wife, Irene; two daughters, Wanda and Barbara, and one son, Francis J. Jr., all at home.

Mrs. Rockefeller, tall, slim and blue eyed, wore a black silk street-length dress with a velvet panel in the skirt and a bolero jacket.

Mrs. Rasmussen's costume was a printed cotton pique street-length dress in mauve and white. She wore a large mauve hat.

The six ushers, Rodman and Michael Rockefeller, brothers of Steven; his best man, Jerry Riggs of Omaha, Neb., and three former schoolmates, stood on the right.

Anne Marie's sister, Thorhild, acting as her maid of honor, and her bridesmaids, five girlhood friends, stood on the other side.

Nearly 170 invited guests and spectators sat on the wooden benches on both sides of the aisle. Among them was Trygve Lie, former secretary general of the United Nations. In the gallery were five newspaper correspondents.

Pastor Gautestad told the young couple: "Your example shows that real love, which is from God, breaks down all the social and conventional barriers amongst us. To build a good home is perhaps the greatest of all arts."

Turning to Steven, 23, the pastor said: "You, Steven Rockefeller, take with you into your new home a good inheritance."

To Anne Marie 23, he said: "We will thank you for being a good ambassador for Norway, and we hope you will be a good member of the Rockefeller family and a useful citizen of your new, great country."

Steven and Anne Marie will fly to New York Sunday for a honeymoon in the United States.

An hour before the ceremony a gardener was still busy improving on a bridal arch. He hung several strings of red roses down from the main arch, with bunches of sweet peas in the middle. These flowers got stuck in the umbrellas of guests hurrying through the gates.

When Anne Marie arrived, there was slight suspicion of the sun breaking through the overcast. Anne Marie and her father stood in a car which had its sun roof drawn back. She waved happily.

Buick Expects '60 Sales Surge

disclosed by Rollert included a new instrument panel which is made adjustable to suit the height of the driver by reflecting it into an adjustable mirror, and a new transverse muffler which promises longer muffler life and most of the characteristics of two mufflers wrapped into one.

Although he admitted American-built compact cars would be an "unknown factor" this year, he said he did not expect them to have any effect on the Buick market.

"Our schedule calls for production of 111,000 cars by the end of December," he said, "bringing Buick's total output for 1959 to 272,000 cars compared with output of 257,000 in 1958."

Typhoon Lashes Southern Formosa

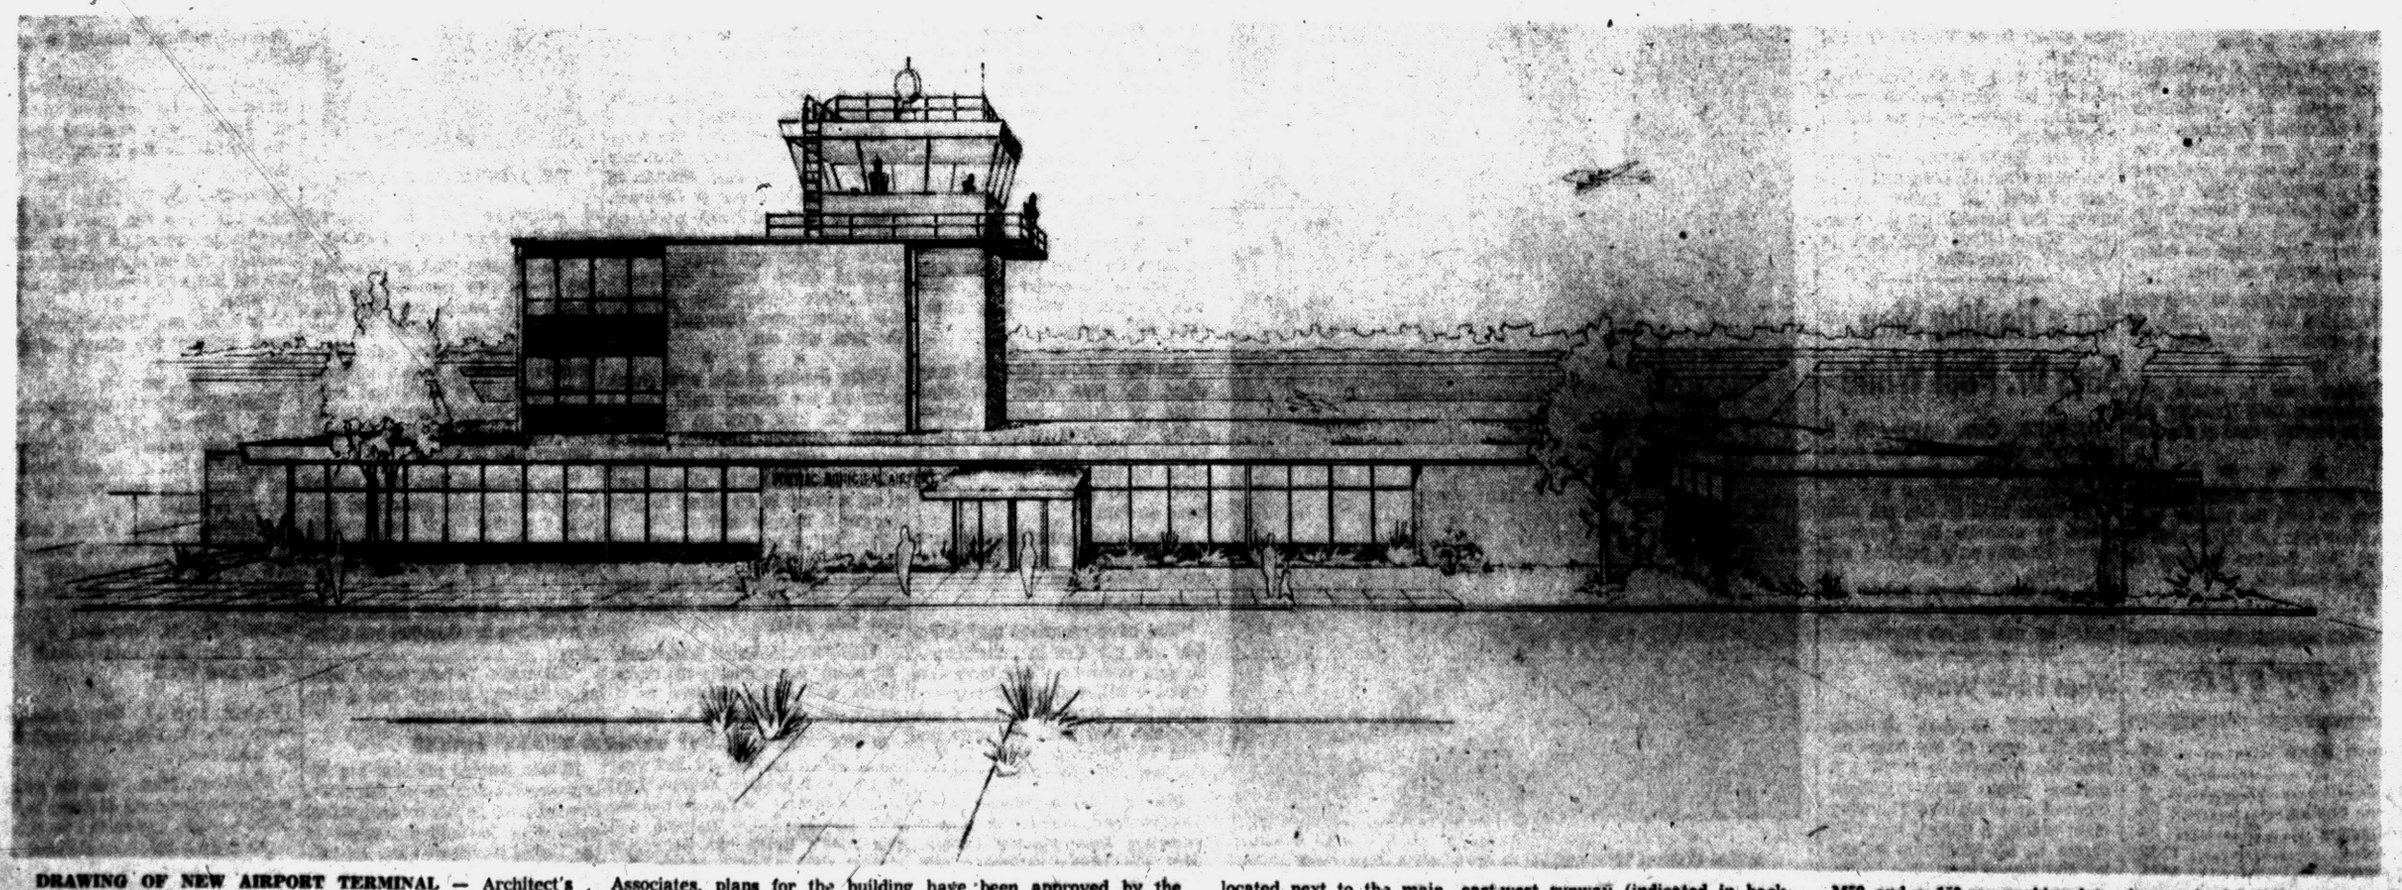

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Strong winds and heavy rain lashed southern Formosa today as typhoon Iris passed south of this island and roared toward the Red China mainland.

The tropical storm, with 75-mile-an-hour winds, thundered into the East China Sea and headed for the Communist seaport of Swatow, between Quemoy and Hong Kong.

Honor U. of M. Botanist

MONTREAL (AP) — The University of Montreal has conferred honoray degrees of five botanists attending the nonith International Botanical Congress here.

They included Dr. Stanley A. Cain, head of the conservation department at the University of Michigan.

DRAWING OF NEW AIRPORT TERMINAL — Architect's drawing of the proposed $300,000 terminal and tower for Pontiac Municipal Airport shows the three-story tower sitting atop the one-story terminal area. Prepared by William C. Zimmerman Associates, plans for the building have been approved by the federal government, which will split the construction costs with city and state. The new building is tentatively scheduled for construction this fall with completion next summer. It will be located next to the main, east-west runway (indicated in background), 300 yards north of Highland road (M59) and halfway between Airport and Williams Lake roads. Another $90,000 is to be spent on such outside features as an entrance road from M59 and a 150-car parking lot. Approval of building plans culminates almost two years of preparation for a terminal building and tower that will make it feasible for regularly scheduled commercial airlines to use the airport.

Top Scientists in Get-Together

Cyrus Eaton Sponsoring Meeting of Communist, Free World Delegates

PUGWASH, N.S. (UPI)—Canadian-born Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton will sponsor a week-long meeting of 25 of the world's leading scientists at his "thinkers" lodge near this quiet Nova Scotia community starting Monday.

A delegation of scientists from both sides of the iron and bamboo curtians will discuss the dangers to mankind of biological and chemical warfare.

The meeting will be one of a series of non-offical get-togethers which were initiated by Eaton in 1957.

The Pugwash Continuing Committee, under the chairmanship of Lord Bertrand Russell, the famed English philosopher and mathematician, has announced that the purpose of the conference is to examine the potentialities of "biological and chemical warfare, both as weapons of mass destruction and as factors in increasing international tension through the possibility of smaller countries being capable of producing such weapons."

Members of the committee will include top scientific minds from the United States, the United Kingdom and Russia.

The delegates are identified with such noted institutions as Great Britain's Cambridge University, the University of Illinois, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, John Hopkins University, and the Soviet Academy of Sciences.

The scientists present at the meeting will be from countries containing about 60 per cent of the world's population.

OPTIMISTS DONATE SHELTER — This shelter is the latest addition to the facilities at Camp Oakland. It was donated by the Pontiac Optimist Luncheon Club in ceremonies held at the camp Thursday. The shelter was a project headed by last year's club president, Buhl Burt, who made the presentation to Bill Mathis, camp director. Materials for the new shelter and construction costs totaled $4,500. The shelter will be used as an arts and crafts center and is an ideal setting for movies after dark.

UAW Labels Probe 'Political Witchhunt'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The current investigation of the United Auto Workers is a "political witchhunt" to kick off re-election campaigns of two Republican senators, the union charged Friday.

Curtis replied "This is an inquiry for facts, and the facts developed can speak for themselves." Mundt said "When the facts are in it will be the appropriate time to say whether the practices disclosed are proper."

★ ★ ★

Conway said the two senators were running the Senate committee's probe of the UAW and other committee members were in the dark as to what was coming next.

He said the charges being aired against Richard T. Gosser, UAW international vice president, were a rehash of stale allegations raised 10 years ago and proved unfounded. Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said they were unsubstantiated when the committee looked into them a year and a half ago, Conway added.

Conway and Rauh called a news conference late Friday, saying this was the only way they could get the union's side before the public.

The committee had just recessed until next Wednesday what has been billed as a preliminary investigation of the UAW.

The main witness Friday was Jesse F. Motsinger of Detroit, who said he was fired as a UAW union organizer in 1955 ostensibly because he got into a fist fight with another union official.

But Motsinger said he felt his dismissal "was a direct result of my attempting to expose what I thought was corruption at the international level, waste of money and failure to conform with the Reuther administration."

He said Gosser had directed organizers to submit false reports to the union's Detroit headquarters to show there was no need to cut the staff as a result of a union economy drive. Motsinger said these false reports stuck in his craw.

Conway and Rauh said Motsinger was disgruntled because he was fired and that his charges were untrue. They said in 20 months as an organizer Motsinger hadn't organized a single plant for the UAW.

Navy Dropping Jet Seaplanes

'Technical Difficulties' Crush $441-Million Job of Construction

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Navy has called a halt to production of the jet-powered SeaMaster, blaming "unforeseen technical difficulties."

In ordering an end to the 441-million dollar production program, the Navy cut back on five of the seaplanes that were to have been built by the Martin Co. here. Nine months ago it curtained the project by 10 out of the original 24 ordered.

Now, the Navy is debating what use it will make of the nine already built. It expects to recover some 72 million dollars from the program.

The 600 mile - an - hour, four-engine P6M SeaMaster is able to cruise at 40,000 feet and can perform low-level mine-laying missions as well. Its chief missions are reconnaissance and minelaying.

Two SeaMasters were lost in test flights, in December 1955 and November 1956.

50th Governor Takes His Oath

'We've Come of Age,' Says William Quinn as Hawaii Becomes State

"On this historic day I have a profound joy and sober realization of my own responsibilities. I share the rejoicing of all the people of Hawaii over a victory that was made possible by the devoted support of our friends everywhere.

"With statehood, we have come of age. We have the wonderful opportunity to build our island state into America's showcase of democracy in the Pacific and Asian world.

"We face a future as the Aloha State that can be glorious if we harness and guide the dynamic forces at work in our community to the equal benefit of all the people of all the islands of the great State of Hawaii.

"We are prepared to meet these challenges."

Hawaii's First Legislature Has a Miracle to Perform

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaii's first state Legislature convenes nine days from now with an assignment to perform a minor miracle.

It must cram the more than 80 agencies of the old territorial government into not more than 20 state departments.

As a territory, the Hawaii government spread out as the needs of the moment demanded. The result was a profusion of boards and commissions.

The state constitution, framed nine years ago, gave the legislators the chore of finding a way to combine these units into a modern pattern of government.

The job will be made no easier by the fact that Republicans won control of the 25-seat Senate in the last election while Democrats retained control of the 51-seat House.

Some of the powerful old commissions are expected to fight hard to keep their authority. A number of them have been operating with their own funds, beyond the control of the territorial governor.

One thing the legislators won't have to worry about is money. A tax surplus of 10 million dollars is predicted for the current fiscal year.

See Oil Boom Near Allegan

May Have Discovered New Strike Larger Than Overisel Field

ALLEGAN (AP) — An oil and natural gas boom possibly exceeding the famed Overisel field nearby was predicted today as the result of a new strike in Heath Township of Allegan County.

Conservation Department geologist Robert Breed said a deep test by Lloyd C. Green may have uncovered a gas field many times larger than the Overisel site sold two years ago to Consumers Power Co. for more than 14 million dollars.

Allegan drilling contractors Boone Cook and Elkin Palmer opened the new well Thursday after two previous unsuccessful attempts to reach oil and gas formations earlier in the week.

The Conservation Department has posted danger signs around the site between Allegan and Hamilton as gas flows from the well at a yet undetermined rate.

Cook and Palmer said the well taps three different pay zones. They claim it will be a profitable oil producer as well as a large gas supply.

Most private land in the area has been leased, but Cook said plans are afoot to petition the federal government to conduct an auction of drilling permits on thousands of acres of nearby Allegan state forest land.

The federal government retained mineral rights when the land was turned over to the state in 1940.

Liquor Sales in Michigan Soar This Year

LANSING (UPI)—Liquor sales in Michigan are running nearly 3.5 million dollars above those of last year, the liquor control commission reports.

★ ★ ★

The commission said sales for the first seven months of 1959 totaled $85,667,245 compared to $82,244,225 for the first seven months of 1958.

★ ★ ★

July of this year was ahead of the corresponding month last year by only a few thousand dollars however. For last month, sales totaled $13,124,992, compared to $13,084,816 for July 1958.

Their Wedding Takes the Cake for Confusion

GLASGOW, Scotland (UPI)—Rosemary Gray, 22, was married just before midnight last night to James Waddell, 31, despite such stern parental opposition her father kidnaped her from a church yesterday afternoon, leaving Waddell at the altar.

The marriage finally took place in the home of Magnes Grant, the best man, after a day of confusion that threw the church into an uproar and caused one bridesmaid to faint in terror.

Waddell charged that Rosemary's father was in the car that took her away from the church after a young man jumped out and seized her.

"Before the car drove off with Rosemary, I saw that her father was inside," he said. "We made no attempt to chase the car. Then we went back to Magnes' home and were here when word came through that Rosemary was with her parents at the police station."

Both Waddell and his bride refused to comment on how they settled the family dispute, believed caused by his Protestant church membership and his wife's Catholic.

Gov. Rockefeller Hints Steven to Enter Politics

Asked whether Steven has any interest in politics, Rockefeller said:

"There's no question that Steve likes people. That's always the first step. You know he campaigned with me all through the election in New York State. But I doubt that he's got anything like that on his mind right now."

Today is Steven's wedding day.

Settles Drowning Suit for $10,000 Out of Court

DETROIT (AP) — A $250,000 suit filed against Wayne County by the father of a boy who drowned in a drainage ditch in suburban Allen Park has been settled for $10,000.

Danny Cassette, 8, fell into the ditch in April, 1958. His death followed a protest by Allen Park to the Wayne County Road Commission that the ditch was dangerous.

Wilfred Cassette, the boy's father, agreed to the out of court settlement yesterday.

Extends U. S. Borders

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii is the United States' southernmost state. As a result of Hawaiian statehood, U.S. borders have been thrust 2,400 miles southwest into the Pacific. Hawaii's northernmost island lies south of Florida's southernmost tip.

8 From Pontiac Law Fraternity to Attend Confab

About eight representatives from the Pontiac Senate of the Delta Theta Phi law fraternity plan to attend its biennial convention to be held in Detroit, Aug. 30-Sept. 2.

Principal speakers will be George A. Bushnell, former chief justice of the Michigan State Supreme Court, Karl E. Scott, executive vice president of the Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., and Frederick J. Stuck, federal power commissioner.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The silence barrier has been broken for Jefferson Thomas, the only Negro among 1,400 white students at Central High School.

"Lately it has begun feeling more friendly inside," Thomas said Friday at the end of the first full week of classes. He had walked out of school alongside a white boy. They appeared to be chatting amiably.

Thomas said he had known the white youth in 1957, when Thomas and eight other Negroes attended Central through a cordon of federal troops.

It was the first time a white student had spoken to him outside of school, he said. Other white students paid them no attention.

A paradox! To get more give more.

It's so easy to criticize; when we do we tighten up generous impulses and get criticism in return. Give that same person kindness and kindness is what we get in return.

Go anywhere—cafe, store, service station, stranger on the road, make a sarcastic remark; eyes will flash, voice will blast; our remark will come bouncing back like an echo. A waitress has a hard job smoothing tempers of demanding, hungry people, expects a sharp remark and when we pay her a compliment she responds with willing acquiescence. We ask a service station attendant for directions; to frame that question with a compliment, about himself or station, city or surroundings will bring a smile of appreciation. Courtesy pays big dividends.

Ike to Study With Allies Policy Toward Russia

President EISENHOWER's coming visit to Western Europe should assure those nations that the United States has no intention of entering into bilateral negotiations with Russia.

★ ★ ★

As West Germany is the country most directly concerned in the Berlin and German question, it is fitting that the President talk first with Chancellor Adenauer. West Germans must be assured that no vital interest of theirs is going to suffer in the talks with Khrushchev. On the other hand, President Eisenhower must insist that no obstacles be thrown in the way of free discussions with the Soviet Premier.

★ ★ ★

In Paris Mr. EISENHOWER will meet with President DE GAULLE who wants the United States to share its atomic secrets with France. He doesn't like the way the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is run and thinks France now should be regarded as a great power. DE GAULLE himself has some notion of going to see KHRUSHCHEV.

The President will also talk with Italian Premier SEGNI and Foreign Minister PELLA in Paris. Other NATO members may be included. To save time a single conference of leaders of these countries was at first proposed, but the idea proved impractical.

Conference with Prime Minister Macmillan in London shouldn't be so difficult as the prime minister visited Moscow earlier this year and Khrushchev accompanied by Bulganin was in Britain some two years ago. The United States and the United Kingdom see almost eye to eye. They will continue to stand firm and to defy Russia but are willing to discuss differences.

Highway Building Tax Okayed by Committee

Three days after it had voted against a temporary increase in the gasoline tax, the House Ways and Means Committee reluctantly reversed itself.

For months Congress stubbornly opposed President Eisenhower's recommendation of a 1.5 cent tax rise for five years and the Administration was just as opposed to deficit financing. The Committee now suggests an increase of one cent a gallon for 22 months and thereafter diverting half of the auto parts tax to highway funds.

By June 30, 1961, when the increase is due to expire, the highway trust fund will begin to receive the benefit of the auto parts tax diversion estimated at $2.5 billion over a three year period.

★ ★ ★

If the committee's compromise is accepted, Federal fund allocations to the states will amount to $1.8 billion by fiscal 1961 and $2 billion in 1962, about $600 million short of the $4.4 billion planned for the two years. In the meantime the highway program will have to be stretched out somewhat. Only 4,700 miles of the 41,000 mile interstate system have been built so far.

★ ★ ★

Previously the committee had proposed a billion dollar bond issue accompanied by a diversion of excise taxes needed for Federal budget balancing, and a reduction in appropriations for roads. This would have added huge interest charges.

The President's persistence in holding out for a pay-as-you-go program will have won decisively if Congress enacts the proposal and that seems likely. The highway program should not be allowed to falter.

Army Draft Quotas Ask for Extra Men Next Month

Heat: What is rapidly getting no better.

Pontiac army draft boards are asked to send 69 men in September, this being the largest monthly quota in two years. It is over twice the monthly average for a long period.

While the city's board quota is only 16, that of the out county board is 53. The induction date for the city men is Sept. 9, and that for the out county men is Sept. 14.

While enlistments have taken care of a good part of the monthly quotas, increasing employment has brought about a decline in the number of men entering the enlisted ranks. Changes in Washington procedure also are a factor in the situation.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The choral finale of the Ninth Symphony swelled:

"Do the millions, His creation,
Seek Him in the Heights above.
Brothers! Brothers! . . ."

There was a roar of applause. Yet, the composer could not hear it, for he was deaf. Beethoven started to lose his hearing when he was 30, before he had completed his First Symphony. Driven nearly to despair, he wrote: "It is . . . for an artist more difficult than for any one else." Yet, loving his art, he refused to surrender — "I will take fate by the throat; it shall not wholly overcome me" — and went on to compose his greatest works, though deaf!

During periods of emotional stress he was accustomed to write prayers, such as:

"Spirit of Spirits, who spreading Thyself through all space and through endless time . . . from chaos didst Thou command eternal order to arise . . . What moved Thee to manifest Thy power and boundless goodness? . . . Wisdom beyond measure! . . . Oh, direct my mind! . . . Oh, raise it up from this grievous depth."

Massa Candida Honors Martyrs

By Dr. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sunday is called Massa Candida, which means White Mass, but it doesn't mean the kind of Mass you would expect. It has to do not with a church service but with a white mass of lime.

★ ★ ★

In the year 258 in the town of Utica, twenty-five miles from Carthage, the pagan governor, according to legend, rounded up 300 Christians and gave them an appalling and impossible choice.

He had a limekiln fired up to a raging heat and some incense smoking quietly beside it. "Choose one" he said to the unlucky 300. "Either offer incense to Jupiter or be thrown into that lime."

The Christians didn't even bother to answer him. As one man they threw themselves into the kiln. In a flash they were, of course, part of the molten white mass of lime. "Wherefore" says the ancient poet Prudentius, "this white-robed company earned for itself the name of the white mass."

Scholars are unimpressed with Prudentius's poetic fancy. They say Massa Candida is the name of a place—White Farm, and that a good many anonymous martyrs are buried there. This day is in their honor, but it is not known how many of them there were, nor is there any evidence that all died at once or in any such dramatic fashion.

In other words the story about the limekiln is a good one, but Prudentius made it all up.

Of King Louis of France the historian Gibbon said he was "a king, a soldier, and a man," to which the church added "and a saint."

Louis, "good King Wenceslas," and some others have managed it, but it is not easy to be both a king and a saint. Power tends to corrupt a man, not to develop piety.

In 1226, when he was only twelve years old, Louis came to the throne of France, and from then on he stood out from both his era and his position. In a time when human life was cheap, Louis soon had a reputation for mercy and justice for all. In a time when kings were cruel and arrogant, Louis was monarch of personal simplicity and warm humanity.

The poor came unafraid to his gates at meal times, and often their king waited on them himself. He kept lists of the needy in all his provinces and regularly sent them relief. He washed the feet of beggers and even ministered personally to lepers.

In France, as in all other European countries, there was constant warring between the nobles, each of whom had his own army. Peasants suffered under this constant strife, in which their services were conscripted and their farming neglected, and kings ordinarily made a great deal of money out of it by playing one nobleman against another. But not Louis. He saw himself only as the peacemaker between the factions and the protector of the peasants who were caught in between.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Try These Three Steps for Relief of Canker Sores

I used to have canker sores quite often. I found that in my case it was caused by eating celery. I stopped eating celery and have had no trouble since. Thought this might help others.

DR. BRADY

Ans. — Thank you. I can't see the connection. I told what little I know about Canker and Cold Sores in the piece released for publication here Thursday, June 25. For relief of canker sores I advise:

1. No tooth brushing.

2. Gentle rinsing of the mouth with lukewarm boric acid solution — teaspoonful to the pint. If this is not agreeable use warm soapy water, swished around and between the teeth, before and after food.

3. Touch the sore with mild (2 per cent) tincture of iodine once a day.

Why does my grandson, almost five years old, dislike milk? During pregnancy his mother drank a quart of milk every day. Would this affect his appetite for milk? (J. H. S.)

Ans. — Every expectant mother should drink a quart of milk every day. Perhaps the boy has observed his elders' dislikes. Perhaps he has been pampered with sweetened flavored drinks in place of milk. Perhaps the milk offered him is less palatable than Grade A Raw from Bang-tested, Tuberculin-tested herd. Or perhaps the boy gets too much candy, ice cream, cookies and the like between meals or within an hour of mealtime, which satiates him enough to make milk uninteresting.

What causes a person to see rainbows around lights, and when outdoors say it's smoggy when others say it is clear and bright? (J.H.A.)

Ans. — The first explanation that occurs to me is glaucoma, a hardening of the eyeball. But don't wonder and daily — consult the oculist your doctor recommends.

I use aluminum cooking utensils. A friend tells me many harmful qualities such as aluminum poisoning . . . (Mrs. T. P.)

Ans. — It is unsurpassed by any other cooking ware, so far as health is concerned.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Churches Must Remain Functional

"Architecture is frozen music," said Goethe, but a live-wire church should not be a frigid place. A lot of arty folks and ritsy celrgymen may dislike this case today, but I am giving you true psychological facts. And psychology is more important than architecture in producing a productive church the ritzier the church edifice, the fewer conversions therein.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, could you please offer some challenging ideas?" he began.

DR. CRANE

"For example, is it smarter to spend $1,000,000 on a single ornate church or split that million among 10 smaller church buildings?"

Modern architects have produced some beautiful church edifices, so I wish to commend them for their genius.

★ ★ ★

But we must never become so enamoured of even the most ornate architectural creation that we forget "function" is the proper purpose of every church edifice.

Recently I attended the dedication of a very beautiful new church in Chicago.

Thus, he appeared as a blur, so he lost part of his effectiveness in the pulpit!

Had that church been built in the old-fashioned crescent or semi-circular pattern, his face would never have been more than 50 feet away from any member of the congregation.

Indeed, eye doctors fit patients for 30 to 50 feet distances, so the people with bi-focals are looking at a foggy, fuzzy face when they sit more than 50 feet from the man in the pulpit.

TV VS. RADIO

On TV are the singers hidden from sight when a glee club performs?

Not on your life, for the sight of performers adds to the interest value of the sound they produce. Yet modern churches are also hiding the choirs in recessed alcoves along the side of the pulpit.

"We don't want worshipers distracted by seeing the singers," some clergy will argue.

With just as much logic, why not hide the preacher, too, so his face is invisible?

This modern trend to hide the singer is a reversal of good psychology and, in effect, would be like forcing TV back into the mold of radio.

Other things being equal, sight PLUS sound is more effective than sound alone!

Furthermore, the inspirational value of kindly faces in the choir, whether wrinkled and motherly, or young and eager, adds a great deal to the enjoyment of the worshipers and their inspiration.

It is thus violating good psychology to hide the choir. In fact, it isn't even smart to robe the choir or the clergyman, for this costs both a lot of helpful eye-catching value.

No wonder parishioners go to sleep when soporific speakers and unseen musicians strip away the visual appeal of TV to invisible radio.

A speaker can more easily sway an audience when it is seated in a crescent-shaped auditorium than in a rectangular sanctuary, so preachers have a much harder job working a crowd up to the proper climax in a rectangular auditorium.

Animated listening and "conversions" are the true test of a vital church, not the million-dollar architecture, so beware about sinking a million dollars into one swanky edifice when it would attract far more kids to Sunday School if invested in 10 churches at $100,000 apiece.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Says Youth Must Demand What Parents Fought For

Are you high school and college young people going to let unemployment happen to you? In spite of our lackadaisical Governors, Senators and Congressmen who appear to be very well paid for a group of do-nothings, you young folks must become acquainted with the U. S. Constitution, and in it is freedom to work.

★ ★ ★

If that right is taken away, you're not free. What has caused as much distress as unions? True, men make more money, but also pay five times more for everything they buy, and at the call of Reuther, Hoffa or Beck, you just don't work.

★ ★ ★

So, young folks, as your parents fought for freedom, you must demand it.

An Oldster

'Child Isn't Stunted Without Television'

There are homes with growing families that exist each day, very happily, without looking once toward a TV screen to give them entertainment, knowledge or horror. Not once in the past two year, after our big tube blew in the back of our TV, have the offspring wakened at night crying, "give us back our TV, you mean parent."

★ ★ ★

They've played outside, inside, learned their lessons in school better and are with us, the parents, at night in the front room. They don't seem stunted at all. Long before that tube conveniently blew, they were becoming bored with Mickey Mouse and the cartoons.

★ ★ ★

TV columnist Mr. Ewald declared in his Swan Song exit that this medium is falling down badly by landsliding us with garbage. Many knew this a long time ago.

Yank-Killer Lary's Honeymoon Over?

Well, I see the two great Yankee killers, Lary and Mossi, got mussed up a bit this time. It's my prediction that the honeymoon Lary has been having with the Yankees is all over.

★ ★ ★

I've been saying all along that if the Yanks would look his pitches over and quit swinging at everything he threw in there, he'd be just an ordinary pitcher. Maybe I shouldn't have told old Casy about that, but I was kinda fed up with all this braggadocio about this feller, Lary.

★ ★ ★

Now I hope the Tigers start playing ball and forget the Yankees. Shucks, they ain't so hot, anyway. Everybody beats 'em now-a-days.

'Who Would Teach Complicated Math?'

I see Pontiac schools are considering giving up trying to teach algebra and trigonometry, at which the record isn't too good, and concentrating on such things as differential equations.

★ ★ ★

Might I request an announcement of the number of the teaching staff who hold college credits in this subject and are thereby qualified to teach it? My guess is that the total number is less than one-half of one per cent of his teaching staff in the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

Im I'm right, another attempt should be made to improve the present mathematical curriculum.

Hopes Oldsters Can Get More Surplus

I take four elderly people each month to get their surplus food and each time they're disappointed at what's handed to them. This time it was taken way out near the infirmary, so they didn't think it was worthwhile going for the little they get.

★ ★ ★

I feel sorry for the old people that have so little to live on. I'm trying to help those I can with what I have and as the Lord lays them on my heart and lets me see the need.

★ ★ ★

Winter is coming on and they'll have fuel to buy. Their surplus should be increased in winter months. Maybe this letter will touch the hearts of those who are in charge of this surplus.

Mrs. Chris Christopherson

'Wrestling Brutality Should Be Stopped'

Why do they allow some of those men to wrestle? Maybe it's part fake, but what would they do if one of them would kill another wrestler? We love wrestling, when it's in good, clean fun, but to have such brutality isn't needed.

Standke a Sterling Starling Startler

Birds and Man Battling for Survival

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP)—"The Bird Man" claims to be a sterling starling startler, but in the two times he's been up to bat here he's fouled out.

If he manages to chase the starlings out of town he'll get $4,000, but if he doesn't improve pretty soon all he'll get is the bird.

AP Wirephoto

BRING ON THE STARLINGS—Some folks love birds. Some hate 'em. Either way, most must tolerate 'em. Not so with Otto Standke, 71, who's trying to make some money running birds out of town. The town in this case is Mount Vernon, N.Y., which has offered the Great Bend, Kan., resident $4,000 to permanently evict the pests. The starlings are teasing, however. They've left town twice under "The Bird Man's" influence, only to return a few hours later.

He has two things in his favor—sterling references and a lot of confidence. And you have to admit he puts on a great show.

His name is Otto Standke, and he's a 71-year-old, bespectacled Kansan. For two nights now he's walked the streets here, wearing a red plaid cap and puffing on a cigar. He carries two aluminum pancake flippers, which he clangs together, and he has a chime around his neck, which he sounds when he isn't banging away with the flippers. He also wears a silver tie clip, with "The Bird Man" engraved on it.

His five-page contract with the city will net him $4,000 if he drives the birds from two neighborhoods. The fee will be paid in installments over a year, but only if the birds stay away.

The starlings have plagued this area for 10 years, appearing by the thousands in August. All efforts to get rid of them so far have failed.

Friday night they were back, and so was he. The starlings left again, but this time they took up positions about a block away.

Standke says he'll try for about a week, and he's sure his system will work. He says it has never failed.

★ ★ ★

He claims to have bamboozled upwards of half a million starlings in his time. He has never killed one of them, he added.

He said he started 10 years ago, by chasing the starlings from the park in his home town, Great Bend, Kan.

Tobacco Tycoon Seeks 3rd Divorce

DARIEN, Ga. (UPI)—Tobacco Millionaire Richard J. Reynolds, whose two previous mariages cost him five million dollars in settlements, filed for divorce from his third wife, it was revealed yesterday.

Charging mental cruelty, Reynolds instituted proceedings Thursday in McIntosh County Superior Court here against the former Muriel Marston of Toronto.

Mrs. Reynolds, 40, and also twice-married, conferred in New York yesterday with her husband's attorneys.

They were married in Miami Aug. 8, 1952, just a day after Reynolds' divorce from Marianne O'Brien Reynolds which resulted in a two million dollar settlement.

Reynolds' first wife, the former Mrs. Elizabeth Dillard, got three million dollars following her 1946 divorce.

He has six children by his former wives, but none by the present Mrs. Reynolds.

Reynolds, 53, lives alone on his own island, Sapello, off the Georgia coast.

Diggs was Michigan's first Negro congressman when first elected in 1954. He was re-elected

'Agitated Water' Cuts Ice Damage to His Docks

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (UPI) — An Otsego Lake boatsman thinks he has found a way to save docks from the damaging effects of frozen water next winter.

Alfred M. Engelmann of Cooperstown has designed a system which agitates the water during sub-freezing temperatures and thus keeps ice from forming.

Because Otsego Lake is generally frozen in the winter and because of the expense and bother of dismantling and removing his dock, Engelmann went to work on a system to keep the dock area free of ice.

He said his rig works on the theory that an agitated lake, like a fast flowing brook, will not freeze.

The agitation is provided by an air compressor run by a five-horsepower electric motor. The compressor pumps air through perforated galvanized pipes which extend the length of his 450-foot dock.

Lawyers Objected to It

Lincoln Bust Is Gone

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the corridor of the new Los Angeles County courthouse, there stood a heroic bust of Abraham Lincoln, brooding in bronze.

The lawyers kicked it out.

The 300-pound bust is the creation of Dr. Emil Seletz, a Beverly Hills brain surgeon who has done portrait sculpturing about 20 years. His work has won five first prizes in West Coast art shows.

When the 24-million-dollar courthouse was built, the bust was installed in the main corridor. But before long the Los Angeles Bar Assn. complained because:

Dr. Seletz occasionally testifies in injury cases involving his patients. On several occasions, he has been identified in court as the creator of the Lincoln bust. Some attorneys felt this identification might affect the decisions of juries.

"They thought," the doctor said, "that if the jury knew I made the Lincoln they would think me more capable in my field of surgery."

University of Miami Is Left $3 Million

MIAMI — (UPI) — The will of Otto G. Richter, former Pittsburgh accountant-electrical engineer, left the University of Miami an estimated $3,000,000, it was revealed here Friday.

The gift was classed as the university's largest single endowment.

PARIS (AP)—President Eisenhower's schedule for his two-day visit to Paris allows plenty of time for private talks with President Charles de Gaulle.

There will also be a state dinner, a ceremony at the tomb of France's unknown soldier at the Arch of Triumph — a must for important visitors — and a reception at the Hotel de Ville where Paris city fathers will give him the French equivalent of the keys to the city.

Eisenhower's jet plane is due to land at Le Bourget Airport at 11 a.m. Sept. 2. De Gaulle will be on hand with an honor guard.

The boy, Glen Sampson, was examined by a psychiatrist yesterday and then ordered held in jail at Petersburg for a hearing Monday.

Glen, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Orval Sampson of Hart, Mich., was taken by sheriff's deputies to Godfrey, Ill., for an examination by Dr. Goves Smith.

Getting a little practice at putting on the paint are James Moyer of West Iroquois road, left, and Jeannette Wright of Chippewa road. Members of Youth Fellowship of Central Methodist Church, James and Jeannette will leave with a group of 14 young people and four counselors for volunteer work at Judson Collins Methodist Camp near Onsted Sunday.

William Poffenberger of Fernbarry street discusses the Central Methodist youth camp project with Mrs. John L. Flood as he irons a shirt for next week's volunteer work at Judson Collins Methodist Camp near Onsted. Mrs. Flood of East Hammond Lake road will be a counselor for the group.

MRS. THOMAS W. CROSS

Barbara Jeanne Calhoun Wed This Afternoon

Baskets of white gladiola and white chrysanthemums and altar vases of white roses banked the altar of Central Methodist Church for the wedding this afternoon of Barbara Jeanne Calhoun and Thomas Ward Cross. Dr. Milton H. Bank officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Calhoun of Spokane drive and Mr. and Mrs. Milo J. Cross of North Hammond Lake drive.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza over silk taffeta with a Chantilly lace bodice accented with seed pearls and borealis sequins. The Sweetheart neckline was scalloped as were the short sleeves. The organza skirt featured appliques of lace trimmed with pearls and a pouffe in the back blended into a chapel train. A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried a chapel bouquet of stephanotis, white roses and feathered carnations with trailing ivy.

Mrs. Ronald W. Geiger was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John R. Ensworth, Vivian Kathleen Calhoun, another of the bride's sisters; and Lee Patterson. Monita Lee Calhoun was junior bridesmaid for her sister.

All were dressed alike in white nylon organza dresses embroidered with blue and worn with blue taffeta underskirts. The square necklines were outlined with blue embroidered scallops and the blue taffeta cummerbunds tied in bows in the back. Blue bows held their nylon tulle veils.

★ ★ ★

Constance Strait was flower girl. She was dressed in a floor length white organza dress with a crown of daisies in her hair. She and the bridesmaids carried a white basket filled with white snapdragons and blue daisies.

★ ★ ★

Ringbearer was Noyce Strait III.

A reception was held at Forest Lake Country Club. The bride has selected a cotton tweed sheath dress with red accessories and the rose corsage from her bridal bouquet for her going away outfit. The couple will live in Ann Arbor where the bridegroom is attending University of Michigan, following a honeymoon through the New England States, Niagara Falls and Cape Cod. The bride attended Eastern Michigan University.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Calhoun wore a petal pink sheath of silk linen with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Cross was dressed in a champagne color Italian silk sheath and matching accessories. Both had brown cymbidum orchid corsages.

Do Work for Church

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Thousands of young people are foregoing vacations this summer to work as volunteers on church sponsored projects because they want to do something to make the world brighter and better.

These young people of all faiths are paying their own way. They will work hard for a week to two months, either with no pay at all or only enough to cover expenses. Enrolled in work camps or youth caravans, groups will do everything from repairing buildings, to caring for children.

Fourteen members of Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship of Central Methodist Church and their counselors will leave Sunday for Judson Collins Camp near Onsted for a week's work.

★ ★ ★

Included in the group will be Karen McClellan, Jean Carson, Sandra Briney, Susan Putnam, Jeannette Wright, Kay Cline, Dorothy Boardman, James Moyer, Tom Murphy and Robert Kibbie.

Others will be Don Balmer, Warren Gooch, William Poffenberger; counselors, the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel J. Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Flood.

★ ★ ★

"The service project at Central is the outgrowth of the vision of one of Central's young people, Gail Sedrick, who took a bus caravan tour of Methodist church projects three years ago, the Rev. Mr. Wallace said.

ENCOURAGED PROJECT

"Upon her return she encouraged the group to start working toward a project for the summer of 1957 with the result that 17 young people and counselors spent a week at Henderson Settlement in the mountains of Kentucky."

Central youth raised funds to cover transportation and food expenses this year by serving a series of dinners. The Wesleyan Guild added a donation.

Morning devotions are being prepared by Kay Cline and evening vespers will be led by Tom Murphy, president of the group.

The group is helping rural churches and missions throughout the Southwest in repair and building projects.

BUILDING CENTER

At a Congregational Christian Work Camp in North Dakota, young people are building an Indian Camp Center. Another group is building a road in the Ozark Mountains in Missouri.

More than 100 different groups sponsor sizable work camps around the world.

The United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization coordinates the international work activities of 40,000 young people every summer.

Young people are paying their fares to build a vocational school in Korea to help Okinawan refugees harvest their rice crops in Bolivia and to build roads at Yuquiyu, Puerto Rico.

The Rev. Mr. Wallace, associate pastor of Central Methodist Church said "The work is a rewarding experience for young people. They have the joy of doing for others. Theirs is an enriching fellowship as they work, play and worship together."

Protect Hairdo; Look Pretty, Too

Real "date-night" beaucatchers are some Jacquard nylon lace scarves shaped to protect a hair-do flatteringly —and to drape around the wearer's neck.

They are also easy to keep date-bright by laundering in soap or detergent suds. What's more, they require no ironing —and cost less than a dollar.

Just Eat the Snack Carefully

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My girl friend and I will be taking an overnight train trip soon to another city. We will travel by coach. She suggested that we take some sandwiches from home to eat on the train rather than go into the dining car where the food is quite expensive. Much as I would like to save this extra money, I do not feel that it would be proper to do as she suggests. Will you please give me your opinion.

* * *

Answer: If you eat with care and allow no bits of food or even crumbs to fall onto the seats or floor of the coach, there will be nothing improper in bringing and eating your sandwiches.

Dear Mrs. Post: I believe you have said that when buttering vegetables on your plate they may be buttered with the fork only—not at any time with the knife. When the butter is on an individual plate, how is the butter to be transferred from the plate to the vegetables? Do you mean that the fork is used to cut off a portion of the butter on the butter plate and then transferred to the vegetables?

Answer: If we must be mincingly correct, we put the right amount of butter on our plate near the potato with our butter knife, then we lift the butter with the fork to the top of the potato and mash it with the fork. I have to write this because it is a rule that we must not take a knife and smooth the butter over the potato. Of course it is correct to use a knife to butter corn on the cob. But the real tabu is for potato, this prohibition must have begun as a protest against a smeary-bladed meat knife, otherwise I agree it does seem too much fuss about nothing.

Dear Mrs. Post: Must a friend's fiance, who is a stranger to me, be invited to my wedding and reception. In other words, would it be wrong to invite her and not him?

* * *

'Handy' Work

Tea picking is usually done by hand — a woman's hand. The only part of the tea bush that is processed comes from the first two leaves and a bud on each twig.

Give Her Cold Shoulder . . . Abby

She Hates His Empty Sleeve

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A year ago, due to an old infection, it was necessary to have my left arm amputated close to the shoulder. I quickly adjusted to my loss until recently.

ABBY

I became reacquainted with an old friend (now a divorcee) who insisted she'd be glad to let me escort her places. She assured me that my having only one arm made absolutely no difference to her. I have taken her out several times and enjoy her company.

Now she persists in telling me that my "empty sleeve" is conspicuous although she knows that I can't wear an artificial arm. I am losing confidence in myself. Should I continue to see her?

"EMPTY SLEEVE"

DEAR SIR: Your "empty sleeve" isn't nearly the handicap that this woman's empty head is. Drop her.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am another one of those poor saps whose love life has gone to pot since my wife put a television set in our bedroom. Can you tell me how to get back in the act again. NEGLECTED

DEAR NEGLECTED: They say one picture is worth ten thousand words. Don't you believe it! A few well-chosen words spoken softly and at the right moment beats any picture. Try it!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Everyone knows that a sitter has no right to invite boy-friends over without the consent of her employer. But, has the EMPLOYER the right to let the baby-sitter have boys over without the consent of the baby sitter's MOTHER?

I found out that my 16-year-old daughter was entertaining boys at her babysitting job who were not allowed to come to our home. I am not trying to excuse my daughter. But don't you think the lady she sits for should have checked with me before letting my daughter entertain boys in her home? After all, my daughter is only 16 and she still needs a little supervision.

IRATE MOTHR

DEAR MOTHER: What good is a sitter who needs a sitter to make sure she isn't being sat with by undesirables? If you feel that your daughter needs "supervision" (and she obviously does) you shouldn't allow her to "sit" with other people's children.

* * *

DEAR ABBY. I am going with a young man who lives with his Grandma. She raised him because both his parents are dead.

He has asked me to marry him, I said yes. Now he tells me that he is expecting to have his Grandma live with us after we are married. I have heard that a third party is no good for a married couple. Should I call the whole thing off and look for somebody without a Grandma or should I take her in? She has nowhere else to go. GERTIE

DEAR GERTIE: If you have any second thoughts about whether to "take in" his Grandma, do yourself (and the young man) a favor and call off the marriage. Bear in mind this "Grandma' raised the boy. If you really loved him, there would be no thought of "looking for someone without a Grandma."

* * *

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

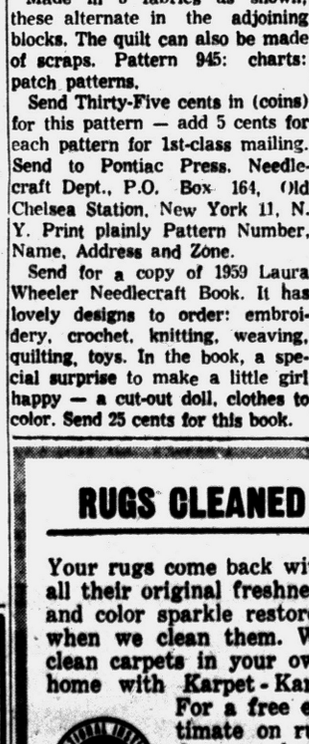

Shower Given for Pontiac Bride-Elect

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

Vera Maxwell

1387

Vera Maxwell originated the suit that has been copied by some of the most touted names in fashion — and this is it in all its greatness. The hipbone length jacket is double breasted with one flaped pocket and a wide collar that is notched and set away from the neckline. Minute stitching outlines both. The skirt is really something special, box pleated but with a trick at the waistline, where they are double folded to add more swing. Camel hair, gun club checks or any other kind of checks, serge, flannel, worsted, mens' wear weaves are all excellent. From this size chart select the one size best for you.

8	33	23	34	16½
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼

Size 12 requires 4⅞ yards of 54 inch fabric (without nap) for jacket and skirt and 1¾ yards of 39 inch material for lining.

To order Pattern No. 1387, state size, send $1.00.

Rev. James H. Luther to Start Church in Florida

The Rev. James H. Luther, pastor of Silvercrest Baptist Church, will leave with his family on Labor Day for Boynton Beach, Fla. near West Palm Beach to start a new church.

When the Rev. Mr. Luther came here in 1949, the congregation was worshiping in a small basement with an average attendance of 35.

During his pastorate the church was completed and the membership increased to 250.

An architect now is drawing plans for an addition to the building. A fund of more than $10,000 has already been raised for the project.

In 1955 the Rev. Mr. Luther was chosen to serve as an active delegate to the Seventh World Congress on Evangelism in San Paulo, Brazil.

On the return trip he visited missionaries in Venezuela supported by the Silvercrest Church.

Rev. J. W. Bristah to Speak Sunday

Speaking Sunday morning at the First Methodist Church will be the Rev. James W. Bristah, director of the board of Christian social relations, Detroit Methodist Conference.

"How Big Is My God" will be his topic.

A graduate of Albion College, he received his theological degrees from Chicago Theological Seminary and Colgate — Rochester Divinity School.

The guest minister has served at a Quaker work camp in Tennessee, taken livestock to Europe after the war, served pastorates and given three years as co-dean of a Methodist Youth Interracial Camp.

The Rev. Mt. Bristah has served in the department of public affairs of the Detroit Council of Churches and on the general board of social and economic relations of the Methodist Church as well as the Michigan Council of Churches.

Congregation to Hear Student

Young People to Discuss Sacred Music at Youth Fellowship Meeting

"Love Is a Many Splendid Thing" will be the theme of the Sunday sermon by Edward Prophet at the United Presbyterian Church of Auburn Heights.

Mr. Prophet, a middler at the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary, is assisting this summer at the Josyln Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

At the youth fellowship meeting at 6 p.m., the group will listen to and discuss sacred music. Milton Patrick will be adult leader and Sharel Isanhart, youth leader.

Tuesday evening the committee arranging the junior church program will meet with Wayne Rose, chairman.

Hopes to Expand Exchange Setup

Council of Churches Wants to Include More African Students

The possibility of expanding the National Council of Churches' exchange program for theological students to include more from African seminaries is being looked into this summer.

His survey will take him to Nigeria, Ghana, the Belgian Congo, French Equatorial Africa, the Union of South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, Kenya, Madagascar, Ethiopia and Egypt. In Nigeria, he will also attend the conference of World University Service, the international organization which assists needy and deserving students.

The exchange program was set up after World War II to bring theological students here from overseas and to send U.S. students to foreign seminaries to broaden their theological and professional training. Fifty to 60 English-speaking students a year have come to this country since the program began.

The council now hopes to expand it to bring more students here, not only from Africa but from countries in the Far East and South America, who will return home to establish ministries of teaching and healing for their people.

Society to Provide Ministry for Seamen

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Lutheran Service Society of Northern Ohio is providing a special ministry for seamen sailing the recently opened St. Lawrence Seaway.

A chaplain, the Rev. Bernhard Loeschen of Thomasboro, Ill., holds services aboard the deep-water ships in port, counsels seamen and arranges shore leave recreation.

The Rev. Mr. Loeschen is particularly well fitted to serve visiting seamen from foreign lands. He speaks English, German, Swedish, French, Spanish and Dutch.

'Methodist Men's Hour' to Enter Eighth Season

CHICAGO (AP) — The Methodist Board of Lay Activities is making plans to send its successful "Methodist Men's Hour" into its eighth broadcasting season.

"We are quite sure from the response we are now getting that the 1959-60 season will set a new record for the number of stations using the program," says director Dr. Don Calame.

Air-Conditioning Raises Attendance at Church

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 8,000 American church buildings are air-conditioned, the Carrier Corp. reports. And it's helping to bring more people into church, too.

One church in New Orleans reports a 44 per cent increase in attendance since air-conditioning was installed.

COMMON RELIGIOUS TEACHINGS NOT ENDORSED BY THE BIBLE

Last week, I made an appeal to the clear thinking Bible believers and readers of this reading public to either produce passages of scripture which state emphatically and conclusively that men today are saved by "Faith only" or GIVE UP the doctrine. In this article I want to further expose this unsupported, unscriptural doctrine. The expression "Faith only" appears in the Bible once and here it reads. "ye see then how that by works a man is justified and not by faith only" Jas. 2:24. The Bible says, "not by Faith only." What group of men will bring the curse of Heaven upon themselves by TAKING OUT the word NOT? Only the dishonest, rebellious child of the devil would also add the word ONLY to Rom. 5:1. The Bible says "Therefore being justified by faith" but does not say. "Therefore being justified by faith 'only'"

On the past Sunday evening a local preacher stated one of the prominent doctrines of his church was that of Salvation by Faith Alone, but allow me to inform him as well as the readers of this article that this may well be "one of the prominent doctrines of his church" but is not a prominent doctrine of the Bible. He labored long and hard to prove this false doctrine by the Bible, but he failed miserably. He also stated, and I quote, "Christ says, 'we are saved by mercy.' But friends, if we are saved by MERCY, then we are not saved by FAITH alone. This preacher also stated we are saved by Faith and even this Faith is a gift. So actually there is nothing to do. Such a statement is quite different from that of the Lord who said:

1. He that doeth the will of my Father. Matt. 7:21.
2. Why call ye me Lord, Lord and do not . . . . Lk. 6:46.
3. Blessed are they that do His commandments. Rev. 22:14.
4. He that doeth Righteousness is Righteous. I Jno. 3:7.

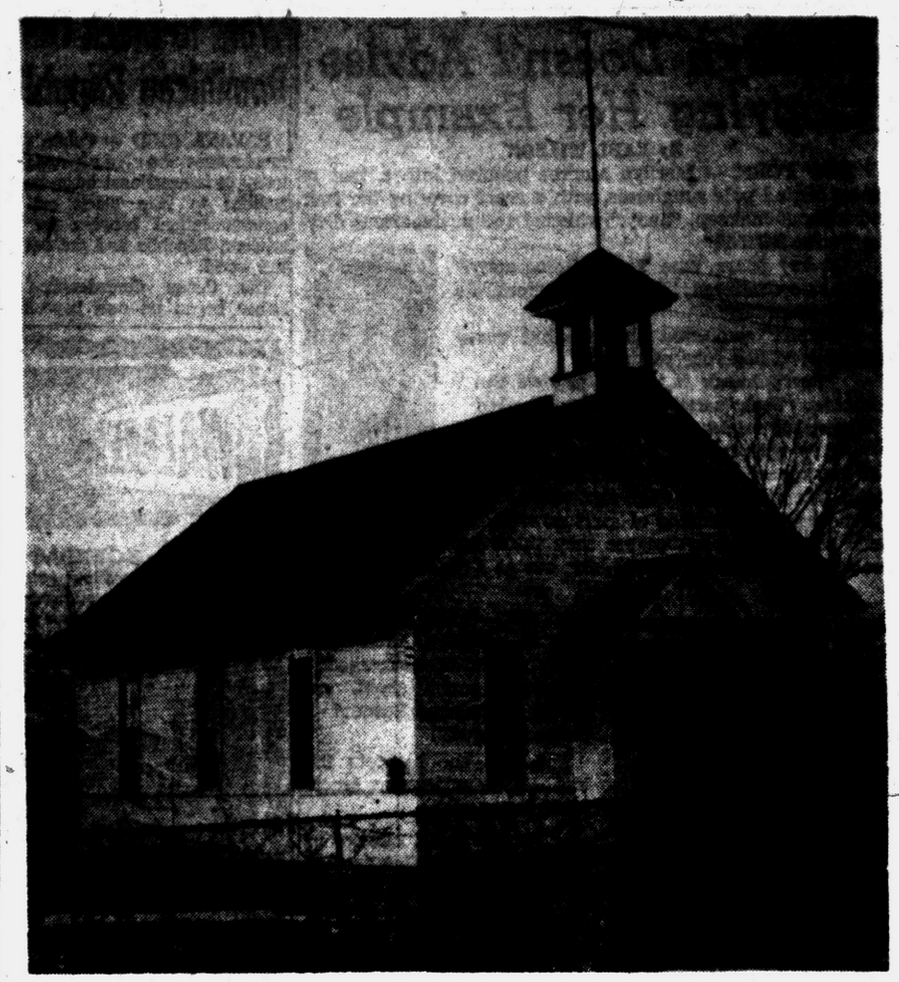

These passages are often cited to prove salvation by Faith Alone, Jno. 3:16, Jno. 3:36, Jno. 5:24, Eph. 2:8, 9, Acts 16:31, but friends, these alone prove salvation by faith but they do not prove salvation by faith alone. The efforts of men to prove this false doctrine from such passages is an example of the sophistry employed to deceive the innocent and turn them from the word of God.

Friends salvation is attributed to a number of things: faith, grace, mercy baptism, the blood of Christ and others and to take any one of these to the exclusion of all the others is to be guilty of failing to "Handle aright the word of truth."

We should remember that "a proposition setting forth a truth must not be supposed to exclude everything not contained in that truth as false; but only excludes everything that is opposed to that truth. A proposition setting forth the fact that "man lives by breathing does not exclude eating, sleeping or taking of exercise" (Estes). Yes, friends, the Bible endorses the doctrine of salvation by faith but it does not endorse the doctrine of salvation by faith 'alone.'

BELIEVETH THOU THIS?

Film Slated at Sunny Vale

Award-Winning Picture Based on Novel Written by Dr. Bob Jones

The film, "Wine or Morning," will be shown at 7:30 tonight at Sunny Vale Chapel, 5311 Pontiac Lake Rd.

Awards of the foundation include producer of the year, best film, best directing and best acting. The judging took place at a recent International Film Festival in Cannes, France.

The two-hour photoplay is a fanciful dramatization of the life of Barabbas, the man on whose cross Jesus Christ was crucified.

Young people of Sunny Vale attending camp this summer include Dorothy Solberg and Rosemary Bugsby at Camp Michawana; LeeAnn Phillippe and Ruth Parker at Pontiac Girls Camp; and Carol Snyder, Julie Holmes and Clarence Campbell at Youth for Christ Camp at Winona Lake.

The offeratory solo, "The Prayer Perfect," by Oley Speaks, will be sung by Mrs. Gene Crockett at both services.

Minister's Son Slated to Speak at Central

Roger Gibson, a student at Lincoln Bible Institute and son of the Rev. and Mrs. Gerald W. Gibson, will speak at the morning service Sunday at Central Christian Church. Ann McFarland of Joliet, Ill., and Roger will sing a duet during the worship hour.

"The Modern Nehushtans" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. Gibson, pastor, at the 7 p.m. service.

North East Community to Break Ground Sunday

The ground-breaking ceremony for the new church building of North East Community on Mt. Clemens at Featherstone road is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Officiating will be the Rev. N. C. Liesemer, east district superintendent of the Michigan Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The visiting pastor will also preach at the 11 a.m. service in the multi-purpose room at Herrington School on Bay street.

The building of contemporary architecture will contain a chapel seating 150 and Sunday School and Fellowship facilities for 250.

Aalsburgh Construction Co. of Grand Rapids have been chosen as engineers and builders. Present plans call for parking, grading and landscaping. As the congregation grows two additional buildings will be included.

Dr. F. H. Olert to Speak at Kirk

Former Detroit Pastor Preaching Sunday for Dr. Harold C. DeWindt

Preaching at the Kirk in the Hills Sunday will be the Rev. Dr. Frederick H. Olert, pastor of Central Presbyterian Church in Kansas City.

While in Detroit, he was a member of the Wayne County Board of Institutions and president of the Detroit Council of Churches.

A graduate of Hope College, Dr. Olert received an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Alma College.

Dr. Harold C. DeWindt, minister at the Kirk, is vacationing this month.

Rev. Ray M. Hardy to Fill Pulpit at Congregational

The Rev. Ray M. Hardy, a retired Congregational minister, and interim pastor for the past five months at First Congregational Church in Rochester, will preach at 9:30 Sunday morning at the First Congregational Church. His sermon will be "What Jesus Thought."

City Teachers Send Three to Convention

The Pontiac Federation of Teachers, Local 417, had three delegates at the 43rd Annual Convention of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers in Minneapolis, Minn. The convention ended yesterday.

The local representatives were Eldon C. Rosegart, 3007 Lansdowne, Drayton Plains, president of Local 417 and instrumental music teacher at Northern High School; Mrs. Dorris Smail, 167 Oneida Rd., past president of Local 417 and teacher at Longfellow School and John Kienert, 71 Lorberta Lane, teacher at Franklin Road School.

Convention topics included needs and methods of public education for the space age, better salaries and working conditions for teachers and union techniques, including collective bargaining.

Approximately 1,000 from all over the country attended the convention.

Copper Output at Standstill

Four Major Producers Struck Over Wages and Fringe Benefits

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The nation's copper industry was at a virtual standstill today with an estimated 30,500 workers idle in 11 states.

★ ★ ★

The International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers Friday struck the last of the industry's Big Four, the American Smelting and Refining Co.

The union previously struck Kennecott Copper Corp., the Anaconda Co. and Phelps-Dodge Corp. in that order.

Union negotiating teams have been seeking wage increases and fringe benefits in new contracts to replace three-year pacts which expired June 30.

The union is seeking a 15-cent hourly wage increase to apply to present wages that average about $2.50 an hour. Fringe benefits sought by the Union would raise the package to about 45 cents an hour.

Vaccine May Fight Syphilis

U. of M. Researchers' Protein Extract Proves 50 Per Cent Effective

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A vaccine which may make humans immune to syphilis, a disease that now afflicts one American in every 90, is under development by University of Michigan medical center researchers.

A protein vaccine developed by Dr. Albert N. Wheeler has proved 50 per cent effective in immunizing laboratory animals against the dissease. It has not been tested yet on human beings.

Wheeler has worked with the vaccine for more than a year. He feels future refinements may produce even higher levels of protection against syphilis and thus open the way to world-wide immunization against a half dozen other syphilis-like diseases.

Backed by a three-year research grant from the U.S. Public Health Service, Wheeler began a new approach to conquering the one-cell, corkscrew-shaped syphilis bacteria. He gathered large quantities of the bacteria, destroyed them by mechanical means and extracted fractions of proteins and carbohydrates.

His tests showed the protein fraction can provide complete immunization for 10 per cent of the test animals and promote strong resistance in an additional 40 per cent.

Although modern drugs can destroy syphilis once an infection sets in, Wheeler explained, medical science does not have a vaccine that will ward off the initial infection. Nor do human beings have any natural immunity to the disease, he said.

Have to Repair Tower, Too Costly Otherwise

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—The belltower on City Hall is in for a facelifting because, it has been determined, it would cost too much to tear it down.

A spokesman said it would cost $90,000 to remove the upper 40 feet of the granite tower, but would cost only $17,000 to remodel and repair it. The tower has no bell anyway.

Marilyn Doesn't Advise Copying Her Example

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Marilyn Monroe bounced into a taxi recently behind pale sunglasses, with a scarf covering her hair, and without makeup. "Lady," whistled the unchivalrous driver, "you're BUILT!"

WILSON

"In my spare time I do photography," the hackie chattered. "I think you should do a nude calendar."

"WHAT!" protested the coy but curvy customer. "I beg your pardon!"

"Don't knock it, lady," argued the cabbie. "Look what it did for Marilyn Monroe. It might do the same for you."

Aglow with health, happiness, beauty — and sex appeal — Marilyn told me that story in an interview a few days ago, adding that she hopes the hundreds of girls now posing nude aren't doing so because they think it's a guarantee to success. Or because they're taking her as a "sexample."

MARILYN

Mariyln—again active after her miscarriage, and once more hopeful of motherhood—expressed doubt about ever "doing a Brigitte Bardot" in pictures, herself.

Not that she respects B.B. less . . . she respects us American men more.

. . . "No, it's not a change of attitude" — Marilyn trotted in from her kitchen to bring me an ice cube — "I just would want these girls to be aware of what they're doing."

Now she was on the floor, but sitting up on her knees. "There was a starlet who was being taken advantage of," she said.

"I told her 'You don't need to do that.' She said 'But look at you!'

"She didn't understand," Marilyn frowned. "I had to take care of bills . . . it was to eat . . . and for just room and board . . . or going back to work in a factory . . ."

"I had signed a fake name, and the photographer had told me I would never be recognized."

"I just say"—she rolled her eyes toward the ceiling "that the girl who thinks this is going to make her a success will be disappointed and disillusioned. There isn't any short cut. You may have to work harder to overcome it."

"I'm trying to change all my ways," she said, batting her eyes, when I congratulated her on only being 20 minutes late . . . and when I asked what bad habits, she coquettishly replied: "You don't want me to tell ALL my bad habits, do you?"

"Let me think over my bad habits and call you tomorrow," she pleaded.

You're not going to believe this, but she called me next day, right on time, too.

"About my bad habits!" Marilyn began. "One thing I must do is be absolutely organized in my work and life and then I'll always be on time."

"Oh yes, and I'm sort of on a diet."

"Don't do a thing about the figure, baby," the reporter was thinking, but just then Marilyn had another idea. "About the nude posing," she said, "there's not really any money in it. Just the $50 that saved my life." . . . That's earl, brother.

Will Live on Madeira

Batista Not Settled Yet

LISBON, Portugal (UPI)—Former Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista does not have a new home yet, his spokesman said today.

Florencio Guerra, diplomatic aide to the exiled Batista, said the general would look for a place to live after he gets to the island of Madeira.

The Portuguese government granted Batista permission to live on Madeira and he arrived here Thursday from the Dominican Republic with a retinue of 15.

Guerra said Batista had given up politics completely and just wanted to get away and rest.

He said he expected Mrs. Batist and their five children would fly here from Florida in a week or so and meet her husband either here or on Maderia.

He said Batista had not decided how long he would stay on the island but it would be "for some time, at any rate."

Want to Black Out Dominican Republic

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuban communications workers appealed today to international labor organizations to help black out all communications between the Dominican Republic and the rest of the world.

The Cuban Confederation of Labor began its own boycott of messages to the neighboring Caribbean country yesterday in protest against the "infamous dictatorship of Gen. Rafael Trujillo."

It asked the government to suspend communications officially. And then launched the unprecedented move to isolate Ciudad Trujillo.

Diplomatic relations between the two countries were broken off six weeks ago. They had grown steadily worse since former Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista fled to the Dominican Republic Jan. 1. He flew to Portugal yesterday.

Helps Police in Chase

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—When three teenagers stole Joseph Hallinan's 1958 model auto he drove to the police station in the family's second car and picked up two detectives. Together, they tracked down the stolen vehicle in 15 minutes.

Became Grandparents Twice in Same Day

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Mamon became grandparents twice in the same day and no twins were involved.

Their daughter Judith (Mrs. Donald Marohn), gave birth to a daughter a few hours before another daughter, Carolyn (Mrs. Paul Nikischer), gave birth to a son.

Mothers' March on Polio Slated Tuesday Night

The National Foundation has set its sights on a $70,000 goal for its emergency campaign to be kicked off Tuesday night with a Mother's March.

A relatively large number of polio cases for the past two years, and 250 active cases have caused the National Foundation to seek new funds to carry it through the rest of the year.

The Mother's March, the second of the year, will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. The first march was held in January as part of the regular campaign.

All of Oakland County will be canvassed Tuesday night by area representatives. Cochairmen for Pontiac are Mrs. Stanley Boyd of 780 Collier Rd. and Mrs. Roland P. Stephison of 92 Henderson St.

At a later date other special appeals will be held in certain parts of the county.

Will Advise Repeal of Flint Petitions

FLINT (AP) — City Clerk Lloyd S. Hendon said Friday he will recommend City Council rejection of petitions circulated for repeal or for a referendum on two Flint ordinances covering city water and sewage rates.

The petitions, circulated by the Taxpayers Protective League, were improperly executed and lacked sufficient valid signatures, Hendon said.

Franchise Talk Is Major Topic

Hunt Says Application in New Grid Loop May Be Made by Buffalo

DALLAS (AP)—A meeting of the American Football League, which in 1960 becomes a rival of the aged National Football League opened here today with franchises the major topic.

Although the meeting was called by Lamar Hunt, the wealthy young Dallas oil man, to adopt a constitution and make plans for the circuit's first draft, there was talk that an application for a franchise might be made by Buffalo.

Seattle also is trying to qualify for a spot in the league and has until Sept. 13 to do it. That city must obtain use of the University of Washington stadium.

Hunt admitted that Seattle and Buffalo might be admitted to make it an eight-club league. He said Buffalo interests might be represented at the meeting but didn't say who the person would be.

Harry Wismer, the sportscaster, is here representing the New York franchise and he said his partners in the venture included two Texans, Nash Dowdle and D. E. O'Shaughnessy of Midland. Both are oil men.

The six charter members of the league are Dallas, Houston, Minneapolis-St. Paul, New York, Los Angeles and Denver.

Lead Increased to 2½

Giants Dump Phillies Twice

By The Associated Press

Its been an odd season of success for Johnny Antonelli, San Francisco's lefty ace who was upset by "lousy fly balls," and who cant beat Milwaukee, yet is closing in on 20 victories for the first time in three years.

Since losing two in a row three weeks ago (beaten by those fly balls that went for homers in the Giants' windy home park), Antonelli has won three of four decisions while San Francisco has jumped into the National League lead.

The southpaw veteran, helping the Giants to a pennant with 21 victories in 1954 and winning 20 in 1956, tied Milwaukee's Lew Burdette for the major league lead with his 17th victory last night. He did it with an eight-hitter that put the opener away as San Francisco moved 2½ games ahead with a 6-0 and 10-6 twi-night doubleheader sweep at Philadelphia,

Second-place Los Angeles defeated Pittsburgh 6-5, but the third-place Braves fell five games behind when their game with the Chicago Cubs was rained out. Cincinnati defeated St. Louis 2-1.

Antonelli, tops in the majors with six shutouts in '54, tied Milwaukee's Warren Spahn for the NL lead with his fourth—third over the Phillies, a club he's whipped nine times out of 10 in the past two seasons. He's beaten every club this year except the Braves, the only bunch to beat him twice, and he put away a 4-1 record against the last-place Phils by swatting his first 1959 home run.

Singles by Jackie Brandt and Orlando Cepeda, dropped Robin Roberts (11-13) in the first inning. The Giants then made it a breeze for Anty (17-7) with three in the sixth, two on Daryl Spencer's double. An error and Brandt's triple made it 5-0 in the seventh.

Young Mike McCormick (11-10) clipped the Phils a fifth time without defeat in the second game. He allowed only three hits, one Wally Post's 18th homer, but needed Stu Miller's relief after giving up his fifth walk in the seventh. The Giants got this one with seven runs in the fourth on five hits—including doubles by Cepeda and Willie Kirkland, and Ed Bressoud's triple—plus a wild pitch. Ray Semproch (3-10) lost it.

The Dodgers came from behind with four runs in the seventh against Ron Kline (8-12), then scored the clincher in the ninth when the Bucs missed a double-play on a bases-loaded grounder by pinch hitter Carl Furillo. Rookie Ron Fairly's fourth homer gave Los Angeles its first run in the fifth after the Pirates had taken a 2-0 lead.

Left-hander Johnny Podres (11-7) won it, but needed a three-way save by Stan Williams, Chuck Churn and Sandy Koufax after being lifted for a pinch hitter. The Pirates scored twice in th ninth and had the tying run on third when second baseman Charlie Neal stabbed Smoky Burgess' liner for the final out.

The Braves, jolted earlier in the day with news that Wes Covington is lost for the season because of an ankle injury, were trailing 1-0 to the Cubs when the rain came in the third inning.

Reds' rookie Jay Hook (3-3) gave up a first-inning homer by Joe Cunningham, then blanked the Cards the rest of the way on four hits. He also singled and scored the winning run on Gus Bell's single off Larry Jackson (10-12) in the fifth.

Paul Fires 2-0 Shutout Aided by Home Run

No. 22 for Kaline All That's Needed in Fast Game

DETROIT (AP)—Paul Foytack was so sick all day yesterday that he didn't know until game time whether he could go out and pitch.

But he refused to tell manager Jimmie Dykes about his upset stomach. "I had a tough enough time getting into the Major Leagues," Foytack explained later after he blanked the Boston Red Sox 2-0 on just four hits. I'm not going to miss a pitching turn if I can get out to the mound."

The shutout was only the sixth for the Detroit Tiger pitching staff this season. Foytack has two of them. He gave the Red Sox three hits in the first two innings. The only other safety was Marty Keough's double in the sixth.

The game was completed in an hour and 52 minutes, the shortest game of the season at Briggs Stadium.

"I either lose 'em quick or win 'em quick," Foytack joked. "You know, sometimes, I'm not out there long enough to work up a decent sweat."

Al Kaline provided all the batting support Foytack needed for his 12th triumph. Kaline's 22nd home run, coming in the third inning behind a walk to Harvey Kuenn, gave the Tigers their only runs of the evening.

★ ★ ★

Detroit collected four hits off starter Bill Monbouquette, who went the first seven innings, and two more off reliever Nelson Chittum in the eighth.

Kuenn had half the Tigers hits, breaking out of a 1-for-11 slump with a double, two singles and a walk for a perfect night at the plate.

Foytack struck out the side in the third inning, retired two batters on strikes in the fifth and got pinch hitters Gary Geiger and Ted Williams on swinging third strikes in the eighth.

The strong-throwing righthander is coming on just as he did at the close of last season. At that time, Bill Norman said Foytack was the American League's best pitcher in the last six weeks of the campaign.

Not long ago Dykes was disgusted with Foytack's work and in a heart-to-heart chat suggested that the pitcher rely more on his fast ball and less on a slow curve. Since then Foytack has won two in a row.

"There's no sense in a guy like Foytack worrying about slow curves and changeups," Dykes explained. "He has a good, live arm and an exceptionally good fast ball. Why not use it? Go to the other stuff later on, when the fast ball loses some of its zip."

Today, the Red Sox were scheduled to make their final appearance of the season here. They had lefty Frank Baumann set to oppose Detroit's ace southpaw, Don Mossi.

Assault on Records Starts at Chicago Thursday

CHICAGO (AP)—The head coaches of Uncle Sam's male track and field and swimming teams called their squads "tremendous" today and said they expected records to be shattered in every direction in th Pan-American games.

★ ★ ★

Both Chick Werner of Penn State, the athletic chieftain, and Charles McCaffree Jr. of Michigan State, the swimming top kick, predicted a huge harvest of gold medals for the U. S. in the third Western Hemisphere sports show Aug. 27 - Sept. 7.

"Our swim team is the greatest ever assembled by the United States," said McCaffree. "I think every Pan-American record will be broken."

"Probably the greatest team ever put together," was Werner's comment about his mighty squad. "Most of the Pan-American records will be broken."

The competition among the United States entries will be fierce. Almost to a man they're aiming for gold medals here and a foot-in-the-door for the 1960 Olympic team.

The swimmers are headed by recent world record breakers Mike Troy (butterfly) and Frank McKinney (backstroke) of Indiana, and 18-year-old Alan Somers, the Indianapolis schoolboy who posted the second fastest 1,500 meters ever.

The track and fielders include three 1955 Pan-American champs in 400 meter hurdler Josh Culbreath, shot putter Parry O'Brien and hammer thrower Bob Backus; and seven 1956 Olympic gold medalists in O'Brien, hurdlers Lee Calhoun and Glenn Davis, discus thrower Al Oerter, hammer thrower Harold Connally, high jumper Charlie Dumas and broadjumper Greg Bell.

And then of course, there are such greats as Pontiac, Mich., hurdler Hayes Jones; Ray Norton, the triple sprint gold medalist against the Russians, pole vaulter Don Bragg and a horde of other speed demons and muscle men.

The U. S. representatives will be underdogs in at least three track and field events. However, Brazil's Adehemar Ferreira Da Silva, the Pan-American and Olympic champion, is rated the class of the hop, step and jump field. Argentina's Oswaldo Suarez, the 5,000 and 10,000 meter champion at the 1955 Pan-American games at Mexico City, is favored to score another double slam.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ever wish you could drop that fishing fly right out there . . . yeah, over there just behind that rock?

Jon Tarantino of San Francisco can.

He won the fly accuracy event yesterday at the 51st annual tournament and convention of the National Assn. of Angling & Casting Clubs here, scoring 100 out of a possible 100 points.

Giants Need 'Streak' to Sew Up the Title

Bespectacled Bill Ridgney sat in the manager's corner of the visiting clubhouse at Connie Mack Stadium last night, talking about the National League pennant race.

Rigney was talkative. Why not? His cup runneth over. The Giants had just taken two from Philadelphia and picked up half a game on the runnerup Los Angeles Dodgers. The Giants lead by 2½.

At what pace will the Giants have to play to cop the flag? Rigney thought a minute, then observed:

"I'd say we have to win 90 games to clinch. Let's see. We've got 32 left, that would be 20-12 to the end. That would be .625 ball."

"This is going to be close down to the wire. We need a little streak to sew it up. You know, we haven't won more than four in a row all reason."

"That's right, but I am not talking about that kind of streak."

Rigney asserted that the Giants had been lucky in recent days.

"When we lost, so did the Dodgers and Milwaukee.

"And let me say here that the Braves aren't dead," commented Rigney.

Rigney also pointed out the Giants had only two games left with the defending champion Braves, now five full games behind with time running out. "We have six with the Dodgers and they're real tough on us," he said.

The San Francisco manager, playing the diplomat to the limit, added:

"And don't forget these other clubs, especially those battling for first division spots. They're all tough. Defeats by second division clubs count the same as those by first division teams.

"I don't want to sound like I'm reading from the book of quotes," he said, "but we've got to play them one at a time and worry about them one at a time."

Final Set Today at Trans-Miss.

Beman and Nicklaus Match Opposite Styles in 1st Meeting

Deane Beman of Silver Spring, Md., whose precision style carried him to this year's British Amateur title, hooks up with defending Trans - Mississippi champion Jackie Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, in their first face - to - face meeting.

It should be a duel of golfing opposites, matching the conservative steadiness of the 21-year-old Beman against Nicklaus' bold, go-for-broke blasting.

The 19 - year - old defending champ was a slight favorite over his U.S. Walker Cup teammate in the 36-hole match at Woodhill Country Club.

Nicklaus reached the finals yesterday by fighting off Jim Nordine of Duluth, Minn., 1-up in in a quarter-final match and then trounced another Minnesota veteran, Neil Croonquist of Minneapolis, 6 and 5, in the afternoon round.

Beman uncorked four birdies on the back nine to defeat Tommy Nelson of Green Bay, Wis., 2 and 1 in the morning and knocked off Denver's Gary Wright 4 and 3 in the semifinals.

In yesterday's other quarter-finals Croonquist defeated Bob Meiering of Roswell, N.M., 1-up and Wright defeated Bill Foote Jr. of San Anna, Calif., 4 and 3.

Local Teams Rained Out in Softball Tournament

Harrison's Grill and Spencer Floor Covering, the Pontiac-Waterford area's last hopes for state softball honors, were rained out last night in scheduled Class C district action at Memorial Park in Mt. Clemens.

The two local teams will try to stay alive again tonight. Spencer meets Howell at 6:30 p.m. and Harrison's faces Royal Oak at 8 o'clock. Each team has lost one game in the double elimination event.

Castoff Harshman Hurls Shutout

By The Associated Press

Jack Harshman, unable to hold jobs with two clubs because he couldn't win, now is Cleveland's surprise crutch, giving the Indians the left - handed pitching Herb Score was supposed to deliver in their run for the American League pennant.

Harshman's the veteran whose bad back led to a "damaged goods" squawk by Baltimore after a 1957 winter deal with the Chicago White Sox. But he stuck with the Orioles and won 12 last year, three of them shutouts.

This season, his back still corseted, Harshman was 0-6 and the Birds traded him to Boston for Billy Hoeft. He won two for the Red Sox, then lost three and they sold him to second-place Cleveland.

Now, with Cleveland scrambling to catch the White Sox, Harshman suddenly has won two, saved one and lost none—figuring in half of the Indians' six victories in their last 11 games.

The big southpaw, 32, won his second last night, blanking Baltimore on three singles for a 5-0 decision that gave the Injuns a three-game streak and left 'em within 2½ games of Chicago.

New York belted Kansas City 9-7, and Detroit beat Boston 2-0 on Paul Foytack's four-hitter and Al Kaline's two-run homer.

With Score winless in seven starts since July 3 and passed over in pitching rotation, Harshman made his second start with Cleveland and came through with his second complete game. Now 4-9, he didn't walk a man and struck out five while giving up the singles to Bob Nieman in the first, pinch-hitter Al Pilarcik in the sixth and Brooks Robinson in the eighth.

The Indians, rebounding from a four - game skid, beat Skinny Brown, (8-7) for the first time in six decisions over two years with a four-run first inning. Two-run doubles by Jim Baxes and George Strickland did it, and Baxes, with eight RBI in the last four games, then doubled and scored the final run on Woody Held's single in the third.

The Yankees blew 2-0 and 5-3 leads and finally needed Ryne Duren's save after the A's scored one in the ninth. With one out and the bases loaded, Duren struck out Joe DeMaestri and got Roger Maris on a foul. Hec Lopez had four hits, one his 18th homer, and Yogi Berra singled home a pair in a clinching three-run sixth inning for the Yankees and Duke Maas (12-6). Rip Coleman (2-10) lost it in relief after Dick Williams' solo homer had given him a 5-5 tie in the fifth.

Meet on London Bus

Dempsey, Ingo Talk Fight

LONDON (UPI)—World heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson met former champ Jack Dempsey on a London bus today to start discussions about the Swedish boxer's future fight plans.

Dempsey flew into London from New York with two associates. Johansson flew down from the northern England town of Morecambe.

Johansson was sitting in an airport bus waiting to be taken to a plane bound for Copenhagen and Gothenburg, his home town, when Dempsey dashed from the Trans-Atlantic terminal and boarded the same bus.

He plopped down in the seat next to Johansson.

"Have a piece of seaside rock (hard candy)," said Johansson calmly.

Dempsey said he was ready to give the Swede a full accounting for his fight with Patterson last June and to draw up a new contract for the return bout.

The meeting on the bus was a complete surprise. Neither man knew the other would be on it.

Goalby One-Stroke Leader

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Rugged Bob Goalby, unanimously voted "Freshman of the Year" in 1958, held a one-stroke lead when a trimmed field of 63 pros and 11 amateurs teed off in the third round of the $22,000 Rubber City Open.

The 28-year-old Crystal River, Fla., belter carded his second successive 69 yesterday for a 132 total to grab undisputed possession of first place.

Goalby, who hasn't won a tourney this season, although he has collected $15,000 in 11 previous events, has fired 13 birdies and three bogeys during the first 36 holes.

Close on his heels is Gardner Dickinson, West Palm Beach, Fla., who shot a six-under-par 65 for a 133 total. The blistering 65 was the lowest round of the tourney as the pros continued their assault on par.

Lion All-Stars Debut Tonight

Pietrosante, 4 Linemen Will Play at Akron

Rote to Take Starting Turn Against Browns in 3rd Exhibition

AKRON, Ohio — Coach George Wilson plans to continue experimenting with rookie players tonight when the Detroit Lions meet the Cleveland Browns in their third exhibition game of the summer.

Wilson said yesterday he plans to use four rookie guards in the Lions' offensive lineup. The four were with the College All-Stars and have trained with the Lions only since last Monday. Wilson said he is anxious to see what Mike Rabold, Bob Grottkau, Harry Jacobs and Phil Blazer can do.

"We have to know how much help we can expect from these new men," Wilson said, "so we'll throw them against the Browns and see what happens."

Nick Pietrosante, the Lions' new fullback from Notre Dame, also will make his debut against the Browns.

Wilson also indicated Tobin Rote will make his first start as quarterback against coach Paul Brown's crew. Rote has turned in outstanding practice performances this week in training.

Except for the four rookies and Pietrosante, Wilson plans to make greater use of veterans than he did in Detroit's first two exhibition games.

The Lions thus far have turned in a 20-20 tie with the Los Angeles Rams and a 21-19 loss to the Chicago Cardinals on the pre-season trail.

Colts and 'Skins Win

By The Associated Press

Those "Six Tons of Fun" are pretty serious characters — especially if the other teams got the ball.

Off the field, Baltimore's behemoth defensive lineman are a bunch of jovial, good-natured guys, but once they step on the gridiron the Six Tons are pretty heavy-handed.

Previously tagged the "Savage Six"—which may be more accurate—Art Donovan, Gene Lipscomb, Odell Braase, Don Joyce, form an almost impregnable defense for the National Football League champion Colts.

The veteran crew has not allowed a touchdown in the Colts' two exhibition games this season. Last week, they bear-hugged the College All-Stars in a 29-0 Baltimore victory.

JOHNNY O. OVER—Fullback Johnny Olszewski of the Washington Redskins rams through left guard for two yards and a touchdown in the 2nd quarter of an exhibition game with the Los Angeles Rams last night at Los Angeles. He scored standing up. Washington won the contest, 23-21.

And, last night against the New York Giants only Pat Summerall's field goal interfered with the Six Tons' fun as the Colts romped 28-3 over the team they edged for the NFL title last year in a sudden death playoff.

In the night's only other game, Eddie LeBaron led Washington to a 23-21 Victory over Los Angeles. The games drew 140,888 fans, 85,888 at Los Angeles and 55,000 at Dallas.

★ ★ ★

Sunday Green Bay is at San Francisco.

The Six Tons put on so much pressure that five Giant passes were picked off to set up three Baltimore touchdowns. The Colts went ahead to stay in the first period when quarterback Johnny Unitas fired one of his three touchdown passes, a six-incher to end Ray Berry.

Summerall's 19-yard boot in the second period made it 7-3 at the half, but the spirited Colts rocked the Giants' touted defense for three Td' in the third stanza. Unitas pitched to end Jim Mutscheller for 30 and 21 yard scores and shook Lenny Moore loose on a 44-yard scamper.

The actual margin of victory for the Redskins was a safety, scored when Ralph Felton nailed the Rams' Jon Arnett in the end zone for the first score of the game.

LeBaron, however, was the prime mover in the Redskin attack. The little quarterback, who had completed all 11 of his passes in the Skins' opening exhibition, connected with 15 of 23 this time for 264 yards and one touchdown. Johnny Olszewski scored the other TDs on short plunges.

LeBaron's opposite number, Ram signal-caller Billy Wade, ran into tough luck. Although he completed 11 of 14 tosses for one touchdown, two scoring aerials to Del Shofner for 59 and 50 yards were nullified by penalties.

Pontiac Hydro Racer Wins Hot Race at Cincy

Pontiac hydroplane racing pilot Hank Ball last weekend threw the Ohio Valley Power Boat regatta at Cincinnati into a bit of confusion when he won the 48-class hydro race with a great performance under unusual circumstances.

★ ★ ★

Ball, off in front, missed the first of three turn buoys. He was forced to make a complete turn, go back to clear the marker and try to make up lost distance, which he did at some 80-miles-per-hour, moving from fifth to win by a boat's length. He also won a rerun of the second heat after a "flip" and explosion of another boat halted the first trial. Ball stayed in front all the way.

Buchholz and Olmedo in Doubles Semifinals

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — The hour is fast approaching when U.S. Davis Cup Captain Perry Jones must pick a doubles partner for Alex Olmedo in the coming Challenge Round defense.

Both were in action today on opposite ends of the semifinal draw at the National Doubles Tennis Championships.

The importance of Jones' selection can be seen in the fact that only 14 times in the 46-year history of the Davis Cup has a team lost the doubles but won the silverware.

Buchholz and Olmedo pulled themselves together to defeat crafty Billy Talbert and Ens. John Lesch 3-6, 6-4, 6-4 yesterday in a men's quarter-final.

Afterward when Buchholz was congradulated for playing well he replied: "I can play better."

"I've said all along Alex and I are the logical doubles team for the Davis Cup and I'm even more convinced of it now. I'm sure we can do a good job. After we won the National Indoor doubles, Alex and I didn't do very well. Remember, I'm playing much better now. I'd say I'm playing the best tennis of my life right now. I haven't lost a match in over a month."

The other semifinal sent England's Ann Haydon and Angela Mortimer against Maria Bueno of Brazil and Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif.

Junior Softball Loop Winners Lose in Playoffs

Bethune in Class E and the Wilson Rams in "F" won league honors in the 1st year of organized junior softball here but were eliminated this week in playoffs.

★ ★ ★

The Parks & Recreation Department presented trophies to each boy on the winning teams. Players taking part in the program were 15 years old and under.

Nickels Wins International Lightning Title

DETROIT (AP) — Herm Nickels of Fenton, Mich., failed to finish first in any of five events, but piled up 239 points and won the International Lightning Class Sailboat Championships which ended yesterday. Nickels is a builder of the speedy craft.

Nickels nosed out Tom Allen of Buffalo, N.Y., who held the overall point lead after the first four races. Allen, seeking an unprecedented third championship, finished with 235 points.

In third place were Erik and Aexel Schmidt, 20-year-old twins from Rio De Janeiro, with 224 points.

Carter Ford of Riverside, Conn., captured the President's Trophy. He finished first in three of his five races.

Nickels, 44, will represent the U.S. in lightning class races at the Pan-American meet in Chicago Aug. 28. His winning point total in the three-day championships here was amassed by three second-place finishes, and 11th and a 14th.

Avon All-Stars Clash Monday

The Avondale Church Softball League will climax its 1959 season with an All-Star game Monday at 8 p.m. at North Side Park. The game will be extended to nine innings to allow most of the players to take part.

Each half of the regular season loop will be represented by teams.

Mack Series Starts

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Trenton, N.J., scored seven runs in the first inning and went on to a 9-0 victory over Rock Island, Ill., Friday in the opening round of the first annual Connie Mack Baseball World Series.

Tulsa defeated Portland, Ore. 7-4 in the other game played.

Top Ex-Saginaw Valley Backs With Titan Frosh

University of Detroit's freshman football team, with the largest number of Saginaw Valley Conference prep stars on its roster in many years, will play four games this fall according to frosh coach Jim Leary.

The Titan yearlings will have three of the top backs in the SVC last year on the squad including Jerry Gross, quarterback from Bay City and halfbacks Ron Watkins and Arth Thrash of Flint Central.

The schedule:

Oct. 22—Bowling Green frosh at U. of D. frosh, 3:00 p.m.
Oct. 29—Eastern Michigan frosh at U. of D. frosh, 3:00 p.m.
Nov. 5—U. of D. frosh at Central Michigan frosh.
Nov. 12—U. of D. frosh at Western Michigan frosh.

Storm Damages Wide State Area

Lightning Sets Homes Afire; Trees, Wires Are Knocked Down

By The Associated Press

Violent thunder and electrical storms slashed through much of Michigan Friday, knocking down tree limbs and wires, setting homes afire and flooding basements.

A severe electrical storm whipped the Flint area and lightning struck several buildings. One bolt set fire to the James Terrence home in Flint Township. Firemen managed to save the house but damage was estimated at $2,500.

Heavy flooding also hit the area, dumping water into many basements and making numerous streets impassable.

Detroit's east side was hit by a wind and rain storm. Wires were knocked down and numerous tree limbs felled. It rained heavily on the city's west side but no damage was reported.

In the Detroit suburb of Lincoln Park, lightning struck the John Glodan home and caused an estimated $4,000 damage. Lightning also knocked out several Lincoln Park traffic signals and snarled traffic.

In Allen Park and Ecorse, traffic was fouled when wind and lightning knocked tree limbs and wires across several roads.

An electrical transformer in Taylor Township was hit by lightning and about 100 homes were without electrical power for three hours.

Heavy rain caused a sewer excavation to cave in East Detroit and flooded several streets, slowing traffic.

A lightning bolt hit the roof of the Frank Alexander home in Roseville, setting a minor fire and knocking a two-inch hole in the roof.

Manistee reported the heaviest rainstorm in city history. Nearly five inches fell during a 12-hour period Friday, flooding basements and stalling automobiles.

HELLO OUT THERE — Every week for the past 11 years, Mrs. Elizabeth Barzditis, who is blind, has sent her greetings to the Great Lakes cruiser South America. Here she prepares to pull the switch on her electric horn and give the customary toots to the passing vessel. The signal is the ship's only scheduled call on its regular voyage. With Mrs. Barzditis is her mother, Mrs. Fanny Boggs, and Lester Witte, a neighbor.

Upholds Conviction of U. of M. Professor

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The U. S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals has upheld the contempt of Congress conviction of a University of Michigan professor who refused to answer the questions of a House un-American activities subcommittee.

Professor Horace C. Davis, 33, told the subcommittee in May, 1954 it had no right to inquire into his political beliefs.

The court refused yesterday to alter his six-month sentence to federal prison and a $200 fine. They were imposed in August 1957 by Judge W. Wallace Kent of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Davis refused to answer 26 questions before the subcommittee. Some of the questions dealt with his undergraduate activities at Harvard University and the publication of a pamphlet attacking the House committee's investigations.

★ ★ ★

He also refused to say if he had been or was a communist party member.

Adlai Says Visit Called Nikita Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson, back from Europe, says the pending exchange of visits between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is regarded abroad as a "great achievement" for the Soviet leader.

He reiterated that he was not a candidate for the presidency in 1960.

On the forthcoming Eisenhower-Khrushchev meetings, he said he detected in Europe "some anxiety about secret diplomacy, but I am sure the President's visit to Europe will relieve that anxiety."

"Mr. Khrushchev has a lot to learn about the real America and the peaceful, friendly, humble people who hate war and love peace and want to live and let live," Stevenson said.

At Houghton Rendezvous

Blind Woman Greets Ship

HOUGHTON (AP) — A small, middle-aged blind woman and the Great Lakes cruiser South American have had their own special weekly rendezvous here for the past 11 years.

★ ★ ★

Once a week during the non-winter months, Mrs. Elizabeth Bardzitis, blind for more than a dozen years, walks to the edge of the Portage Waterway Canal to greet the ship as it passes through.

As neighbors gather to watch the weekly meeting, Mrs. Bardzitis pulls the switch on her electric horn that blows three long and two short toots to the passing ship. The South American echoes her call with several blasts on its powerful horn.

Mrs. Bardzitis got a special treat yesterday when she met the ship's captain, Harold Nelson. They promised to continue their weekly communication via whistle.

★ ★ ★

The ship's signal here has become its only scheduled call between the start and finish of its regular Great Lakes voyage. On the rare occasions during the years when Mrs. Bardzitis was unable to greet the craft, she always found a substitute to take her place.

House Passes Food-Stamp Bill for U.S. Needy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill to provide needy families with government stamps good for free food at their local grocery.

Republicans warned that President Eisenhower might veto the legislation if it ever reached his desk.

The House voted 232 to 127 yesterday to add the billion-dollar food stamp plan to an administration-backed bill which would extend for another year the government's program for disposing of farm surpluses overseas. The chamber then approved the broadened measure 305 to 53.

Republicans warned of a possible veto even though the disputed amendment merely would authorize and not require the agriculture secretary to put the food stamp plan into operation.

Plush Weekend Out for Officers

Air Force Official Tells House Trips as Guests of Martin Co. to Stop

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high Air Force official promises its officers will accept no more invitations from a big aircraft company to spend weekends at a plush club in the Bahama Islands.

Asst. Air Force Secretary Philip B Taylor conceded to House investigators Friday it "didn't look good" for Pentagon officers to be the guests of the Martin Co. on these outings.

Martin is one of the biggest aircraft and missile manufacturers. One of its officials last week told the investigating subcommittee about inviting officers to expense-paid weekends at the Eleutheria Club in the Bahamas.

"I know the Air Force will take steps to see this thing is not continued," Taylor said.

Dems Want GOP to Help Finance 1960 Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Democrats want Republicans to help finance the 1960 Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles. The idea got a cool reception from a Republican leader.

Former Navy Secretary Dan Kimball, who heads a new convention finance committee, said Friday that Republicans will be asked to contribute "as a civic duty."

Republican National Committeeman Ed Shattuck commented:

"There is no longer any reason for the citizens generally and Republicans in particular to join in the financial support. It is now their (the Democrats') affair and a partisan political one at that."

ABC Executive Dies of Blood Disease

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Earl J. Hudson, 67, vice president of American Broadcasting Co. and former motion picture producer and executive, died of a blood disease yesterday.

Funeral service will be conducted in Beverly Hills, Calif., Monday.

Hudson was a newspaper reporter for the Elgin, Ill., Daily News, the Chicago City News Bureau and the Associated Press before entering show business.

In 1920 he joined the publicity department of First National Pictures and became executive assistant to the general manager. In 1922 he moved to Hollywood upon appointment as general manager of production for first national.

He joined Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer as a producer in 1928. He became director of publicity for United Detroit Theaters Corp. in 1934 and then president. He headed united until the merger of United Paramount Theaters, Inc. and American Broadcasting Co. in 1953.

He was vice president in charge of ABC's western division until 1958, when he took over special projects.

Hudson is survived by his wife, Lena of Beverly Hills; three daughters, Mrs. Margaret Staelin, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. Dorothy Washburn, Lake Luke, N.C., and Mrs. Pearl Sheldrick, Asheville, N.C.

Warren Auto Smashup Kills Utica Tot; Other Fatality in Indiana

By The Associated Press

One-month-old Louise Smutek of Utica was killed when a car driven by her mother, Mrs. Delores Smutek, was involved in a two-car collision in Warren. Mrs. Smutek and four others suffered minor injuries.

Mrs. Bernice M. Harrigan, 57, of Highland Park died in a two-car crash on the Northern Indiana Toll Road, one mile east of Elkhart, Ind.

Three other persons were killed in the collision and three were injured.

The other dead were identified as Agnes A. Wolfert, 44, Fostoria, Ohio; Carl A. Freditz, 56; and his wife Thelma, 49, of Tiffin, Ohio.

Hundreds of Kin Honor Pioneer of Mormons

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Several hundred descendants of Mormon pioneer Charles C. Rich gathered here today to honor the 150th anniversary of his birth. There are some 2,500 in the family's unofficial badge. A grandson, 81-year-old lawyer Benjamin L. Rich, says "It's been worn at one time or another by every member of the family."

Polygamist Rich, who lived less than four-score years, married six wives and fathered 51 children. Two years ago, the last family census placed his living descendants at 2,489. There have been more since.

Haiti to Repair Rift With Church

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — President Francois Duvalier has moved to patch up his differences with Roman Catholic Church leaders.

The president suspended an order Friday for the arrest of the Catholic archbishop of Port au Prince, Msgr. Francois Poirier, after the Vatican had warned Haitian officials they faced excommunication from the church if the order were carried out.

The government ordered the arrest Thursday after the archbishop had criticized the government for expelling two French priests, the Rev. Etienne Grinenberger and the Rev. Joseph Arreo, for "reasons of internal security."

FOR A COUPLE — This ranch home of Mojave buff Norman brick was built by Thomas W. Turner with the help of a nephew, Wilbur Pyles, and Turner's son-in-law, Guy Coleman, both of Pontiac. Located on Oxley street in Waterford Township, the house is 80 by 28 and is set on a lot 165 by 235 feet. The Turners moved in a year ago last December. The house was started May first of that year.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderwerp

Your Neighbor's House

Turner Home Result of Own Hard Labor

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We've heard all sorts of reasons for building a new house, but this one is really original. Thomas Turner of Oxley street says he made a bed and dresser, then had to build a house to put them in.

The bedroom set is made of black walnut shipped from Mr. Turner's home in Missouri. He still has enough to make a double chest of drawers. The wood is beautiful and the workmanship professional.

Except for the masonry and plumbing, all the work on the Turner home was done by the owner, his nephew and his son-in-law. The latter and his wife (Ramona Turner Coleman) did all the interior painting. The Turners moved from Ogemaw road to their new home in Waterford Township a year ago last December.

Three colors are used throughout the house—brown, pink and turquoise. Mrs. Turner planned the color schemes. She has used hooked rugs on the bare oak floors.

In the living room the walls are painted a rosy brown which looks very pink in daylight. Draperies are white with aqua, brown, gold and pink designs. At one end of the room is the buff brick fireplace.

FIREPLACE DOOR

Instead of a fan or a plant to cover it in summer, it has what looks like a birch door. Actually, it is a board with a frame behind that fits right into the fireplace opening. In the winter, this prevents wind from whistling down the chimney into the room. The mantel is birch; the hearth marble.

All the tables in the living room are marble-topped mahogany. The Turners' daughter has handpainted all the lamps, many of the accessories and much of Mrs. Turner's china. She and her father made all the lamps in the house.

In the hall we mentioned above there is an exquisite crystal chandelier the Turners got from an old home in Detroit. A tall Victorian clock is set into a wall niche.

The table in the dining room is a cherry drop-leaf, made in Kentucky. The cherry chairs have seats covered in aqua and turquoise satin striped fabric. The large cherry cupboard is a reproduction. Floor and walls are the same as the living room. The draperies are the same as the living room ones, except that the colors are reversed.

All appliances, the double sink and the hood over the range are coppertone. Cupboards are birch. Counter tops are turquoise. Curtains are white with turquoise and brown flowers.

Beyond the peninsula counter is the breakfast room. Here the end wall is tan. There is storage in the counter which on this side is paneled in solid birch.

VICTORIAN LAMP

Chairs around the maple plastic-topped table have cushions made of the same material as the curtains. Above the table is an old, old ceiling light fixture. Made of copper and milk glass, it has pink roses on the bowl and crystal drops hanging from it.

There is a laundry room off the breakfast room. Another door leads to the garage. A third door goes to the basement and to the den-sewing room.

We have already mentioned the black walnut furniture in the guest room. In this room the walls are aqua. The spread is white taffeta, quilted in gold thread; the skirt is plain white taffeta. Over in the corner is a Victorian arm chair with green and beige striped upholstery.

Even the bathroom has hand-painted light switches. Ramona Coleman also made the tiles above the tub. These are white which contrasts nicely with the turquoise like wall. Wall fixtures and floor are pink.

Often people are discouraged after their house is built because it didn't turn out the way they had wanted it. Not so the Turners. With the exception of the bathroom medicine chest (which seemed to us perfectly adequate), there isn't anything in the Turner home that displeases them. And, says the lady of the house, it's easy to take care of, too.

MOTHER'S APARTMENT — Planned for a widow who had come to live with her daughter, this one-room apartment contains many of Mother's most cherished possessions. The stately old bed serves as a natural focus for the room and is enclosed with the same material as used for draperies. The valance attached to the ceiling accentuates height. The modern looking floor is linoleum tile in a parquet pattern, a striking background for the oriental rug. Kitchen and bathroom units are beyond the bed.

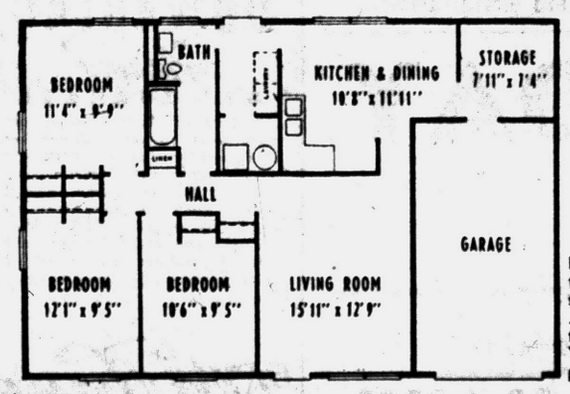

CUSTOM MADE — This bed and dresser were designed and made by Thomas W. Turner from wood cut many years ago at his home in Missouri. There is still enough for a double chest of drawers. The plain white bedspread, quilted in gold, sets off the beauty of the wood. Short curtains and the lamp shade are of matching material, a brown and pink printed cotton. Walls are aqua.

Make Synthetic Mink

Easy to Decipher Lumber Code

For example: "B&Btr., S2S&CM EV1S."

While this may sound like some new code our G-3 people have developed to fox the Russians, it's actually the technical term for a certain grade and pattern of wood paneling. (Translated literally, it means "B and Better Grade, Surfaced 2 Sides and Center Matched, edge V one side.")

The product isn't as ominous as the term would connote. The quality of this particular grade is refined, while the pattern makes it just as easy to work as the nomenclature is difficult for the layman to decipher.

Technical terms are in truth a kind of code; series of abbreviations which, like shorthand, tell the professional designer a lot in a hurry. To do a good journeyman's job with lumber, however, the amateur does not need a deciphering machine. He can safely limit his own vocabulary to a few key categories and facts, and let his lumber dealer serve as his translator.

The Southern Pine Association says the amateur should know that there are structural grades, designated by numbers, and finish grades, known by letters.

He should also know that for any major structural use, such as vertical 2 x 4s in a wall structure, no lower than a No. 2 structural grade should be used.

A simple description of the project you have in mind, plus a rough sketch or lay-out, helps the dealer estimate your lumber needs. When he offers you a choice of grades and patterns, it's wise to remember that the cost range covering the various qualities of lumber is narrow.

Even in large quantities, the better grades add only a few dollars to your bill, while their superior performance, easier workability and better lasting qualities, more than offset the slight extra cost. Moreover, the use of a good grade is all-essential to any major lumber construction.

FULL MEASURE

The time to be economy conscious is when the matter of measurements comes up. There are certain size standards by which professional design work is governed, and even though you are an amateur you are entitled to sizes just as full as those delineated in architects specifications. So whatever type of material you buy, be sure it meets the "dressed American Lumber Standard." This is important since you pay for lumber by the board foot.

★ ★ ★

Your lumber will stay full size if it is also "dry." Properly seasoned, "pre-shrunk" material is your best assurance against future shrinkage problems that could impair the efficiency of your project. A state of dryness is also the real clue to permanence in wood.

Color-Key Kitchen to Happier Living

Your kitchen should be an attractive and friendly room that lightens chores and activities that go on there.

An inexpensive and practical way for making your kitchen a living part of your home is to use colorful, cheerful paints in a harmonizing scheme.

Modern decorator - approved enamels are available for the home decorator in a variety of colors that will complement the present hues in your kitchen. If you have wood cabinets and prefer a natural grained wood, there are stain finishes that accent and complement the true character of the cabinet wood.

Fixing Up Home Great for the Nerves

Psychiatrists say that our tensions multiply when we lose or deny channels of external expression and our attentions are redirected toward ourselves.

So it seems that the more self-expression we can exercise in the decor of our homes, the better off we will be psychologically.

Today's homemakers seem to be in tune with this theory. More and more of them are taking advantage of versatile building materials to "put more of themselves" into the colors, textures and patterns that surround them in their own homes.

Modernizing Home Will Pay Off When Selling

Selling a home, which a few years ago was considered a once-in-a-lifetime experience, has become a more frequent occurrence for the average homeowning family.

Among the factors responsible for the high turnover rate are the desire of couples to "trade up" to bigger homes as their bankrolls and families grow; the frequent transfer of employes to plants or offices in other states by large companies; and the growing interest on the part of older couples to move from houses that have become too big for them.

If you plan putting your home up for sale one of these years, consider the following modernizing projects that will increase a home's eventual resale value while providing more enjoyable living in the meantime.

The projects include:

1. Modernizing the kitchen to include attractive easy-to-reach wall cabinets; refrigerator-freezer, wall oven, exhaust fan, etc.

2. Adding another bathroom if house has only one. Most new homes today contain 1½ or more baths.

3. Finishing a basement or attic to provide a family recreation room. This is a must in most new homes being built. You can cut costs by doing part of the job yourself and using easy-to-install materials like pre-painted fiberboard planks and decorative ceiling tiles.

4. Reroofing with Ranchline shingles whose extra-wide tabs help give homes that modern long, low look. Light-colored or white asphalt shingles are most popular with home buyers toda. and do a better job of reflecting sun's rays.

5. Replacing old siding with siding that is easy to maintain and does not require periodic painting —such as asbestos - cement siding shingles.

6. Adding closet space where possible — under basement stairs, behind garage, in attic or basement.

7. Installing air conditioning. Be sure beforehand that there is sufficient insulation in walls and ceilings to keep heating and cooling costs at a minimum. If installing central air - conditioning is not feasible, make use of room air conditioners and attic exhaust fan.

Greater modernizing savings can be obtained by doing more than one improvement at a time—such as combining reroofing and residing jobs.

Questions and Answers

Question: I have taken off the old varnish from a bureau and now intend to stain it a mahogany color to match some other furniture. I would like to use regular oil stain. What is the best way to lighten the stain, since the furniture to be matched is a very light mahogany?

Answer: First of all, be sure you get a light mahogany stain. Secondly, thin it with turpentine. This by itself will lighten the color. Third, after applying the stain, wipe it off immediately.

By taking these three steps, you will find that you have left a very, very light mahogany color on the wood. If it is a little too light, apply another coat — again wiping it off at once. Continue this procedure until the stain is the proper shade. This method takes a little longer, but insures you against making the first coat too dark.

Question: My brother and I have finished an extra room — all except the hanging of the door. We intend to put up a regular panel door. Can you tell us something about the location of the hinges? How many inches from the bottom should the lower one be? And how many inches from the top should the upper one be?

Answer: Carpenters usually do it this way: the door is placed in the frame, wedged in just the way it will be when hung. The bottom edge of the lower butt hinge is marked in line with the top edge of the lower rail of the door.

Gives Roof a Lift

Some architects have found it effective to apply wood siding in a series of "V's" around triangular windows. Not only does this provide a striking home interior, but it also establishes an uplifted look to the flat roof with which many contemporary homes are equipped. The roof looks uptilted at both ends, like a jet aeroplane wing, although its surface is actually straight.

Dutch Doors Available Ready for Installation

The Dutch-style panel door, popular because it comes in two sections that permit the top half to be opened while the bottom half remains closed, can be obtained ready to install from building material dealers.

A do-it-yourselfer who is handy with tools can make his own Dutch-style door by obtaining a stock panel door of ponderosa pine and cutting it in half.

Kids Will Love Screened House

★ ★ ★

Sixteen panels two feet wide and six feet high are needed. Half are screens, half 3/16" tempered hardboard for the corners.

Each hardboard panel is given a lumber perimeter of 1x2's on edge. This framing, to form the four corners, will interlock and be held by stove bolts and nuts.

Screening is stretched across the framework and fastened on the lumber sides with a stapler. All individual panels are joined by means of stove bolts and nuts, one inserted at one foot above grade and the other one foot below the top.

One or two of the screen sections should be hinged so they'll be doors.

Prime and paint the wood and "Masonite" parts. The screening provides an unobtrusive means of supervision, as well as ventilation.

For a basic plan on construction of a playhouse by the component construction method, write for free drawing No. AE-313-1, addressing a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill.

Walk in Sandy Soil to Cure Foot Trouble

A large per centage of the population suffers from foot disorders of one sort or another, according to Dr. Alec C. Levin who says that most foot problems would be cured if everyone could walk barefoot in sandy soil.

Wood floors in homes, office buildings and factories would do much to alleviate these problems, said the doctor, for wood flooring is resilient and forms a cushion which absorbs the shock incurred by a person's skeletal system in walking.

Both Douglas fir and west coast hemlock are rated as top flooring lumber, are relatively inexpensive, and are prized for their beauty of coloring and grain, as well as their durability.

By DAVID L. BOWEN

Even if you have no more intention of buying a house than volunteering for the first flight to the moon, this home plan is worth looking over.

It's so cool and refreshing, it's a pleasure just to think about.

Consider the swimming pool in the backyard—doesn't that beat fighting traffic to a crowded beach or lake?

Notice the reception foyer and and the "grand staircase" leading four wide, inviting steps up to the 24-foot long living room. wouldn't that make entertaining a pleasure?

And the rest of the house lives up to the early glamorous promise; the efficient kitchen with a dinette on a balcony overlooking the family room; the dining room off the foot of the living room, and only steps away from a roofed outdoor lounge connecting house with garage; three good-sized bedrooms and a big double - lavatory bath upstairs (with an optional fourth bedroom downstairs); a combination dressing room and mud room handy to the swimming pool terrace.

The most surprising thing of all about X-72 in the House of the Week series is that Architect Rudolph Matern put all this luxury in a four-level split that has only 1,208 square feet of area in the living and bedroom levels. The entrance level adds another 572 square feet of finished space.

Noting the exploding popularity of swimming pools, Architect Matern set out to design this home around that new element in American life. He held the size of the house down because of a conviction that if 70,000 swimming pools are being built this year in the United States, the "luxury" of a private pool is no longer associated with a mansion-like home.

"I set out to make available, through conscientious design, a home suited to a modest income," he says. "The idea was to bring luxurious living to 'middle America.' "

He points out that a swimming pool is no longer the expense it once was, and need not overly strain the pocketbook. "A pool of this size is available from $1,500 to $5,000," he adds, "depending on the type chosen and equipment." It could be built either while the house is being constructed or installed later.

Big double entrance doors open on the "Hollywood style" reception foyer, which covers 90 square feet. Straight through is the family room, with the pool terrace beyond its glass doors.

The living room-dining room "L" stretches to the left of the foyer. A 14-foot bow window dominates one living room wall and a fireplace another.

Kitchen is handy inside the "L" formed by these two rooms. It has easy access to the higher of the two rear terraces and the separate garage. Visual control over the entire rear area and and the family room is possible from the kitchen.

On the entrance level off the family room is a lavatory with shower, the laundry and pool dressing room, and an optional fourth bedroom or study.

The main sleeping section is up nine steps from the living level. Each of the three upper bedrooms has two or more closets and there is a large linen closet off the bath.

Build Cottage Shipshape Way

The usual locale for a summer house is a beach or woodland close to a body of water, and in such an atmosphere nothing could be more appropriate than a dwelling that exudes some of the flavor of the frigate.

This doesn't mean you have to duplicate "Old Ironsides." But there are many simple means of construction whereby you can endow your beach house with a distinctive nautical touch, while retaining all the comforts of a good modern home.

Five or six arches of glued laminated Southern Pine wil developed a very strong framework for a fairly large sized house. Since the curve of the arches describes the cross-section of the dwelling, the entire interior has a vaulted look with sloping wall and ceiling surfaces —like an inverted ship's hull.

The building, and the nautical impact, can be completed with standard Southern Pine lumber. For the roof, this would involve two inch thicknesses of "decking" applied directly to the beams. Horizontal paneling on the interior and horizontal siding on the exterior add the final touch.

In the fine fashion of the sturdy planking of a ship's hull, the wood paneling would follow the curving contours of the arches on the outer walls of all rooms. With both the arches and roof decking exposed on the underside, the interior assumes the aura of the heavy beam and timber constructed ship's cabin.

The only difference is that instead of tar and creosote, exquisite finishes bring out the beauty and warmth of the exposed wood structure of your beach house, in the best modern . . tradition.

To further enhance this "seaworthy" impression, you might devise your windows in circular, porthole fashion. On the interior, copper appliances are logical companion pieces for the natural gold of the Southern Pine paneling, and nothing is more appropriate than copper lamps fashioned in the famous form of ship's lanterns.

FHA Plan Offers Protection Factors

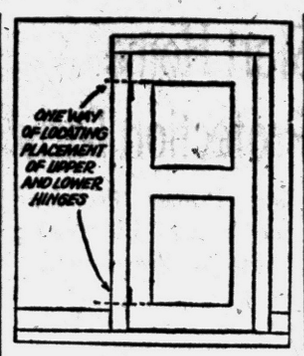

Any home worth buying should be a lot more than a mere shelter. It should have good design, sound construction, good protective and colorful coatings of paint on the exterior and interior and suitable equipment for modern living.

When you buy a home under the FHA plan, the FHA inspects the property for compliance with its minimum property standards, and you have the protection afforded by FHA's analysis of your entire transaction.

You can get detailed information about this plan from lending institutions that make FHA-insured mortgage loans.

Homemakers Decide

Experienced salesmen report that, when it comes to home decorating, three out of four women exercise their personal wishes with little or no influence from their husbands. That's a key reason why manufacturers of building materials place great emphasis on producing colors and patterns with lasting appeal to the woman of the house.

But this method is not mandatory. Some persons prefer to place the hinges an inch or two closer together. Others use three hinges, one in the center, especially when hanging a heavy door.

Question: I expect to put down a layer of concrete in our backyard some time this summer. There is a large tree in the center of the yard. How close to the base of the tree can the concrete be placed?

Answer: This is a tough one to answer, because a lot depends on how old the tree is, what kind of tree, etc. The closer the concrete is to the base of the tree, the more chance there is that, at some later time, the roots will raise or crack the concrete.

If no part of the concrete is within two feet of the tree, you are not likely to have any trouble for many years.

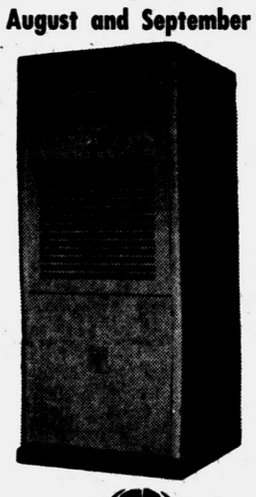

Typical New Home Sells at Nearly $14,000

The returns for the first six months of 1959 are pouring in and they show the typical new house being built this year selling at nearly $14,000.

Very few of these homes have less than three bedrooms and most of the houses are one-story with more than one bath. There is also greater use of quality materials such as asphalt shingles, rock wool insulation and gypsum wallboard.

Orientation of House Affects Air Conditioning

When a new air-conditioned house is constructed, its builders can save hundreds of dollars on the cost of cooling equipment by placing the house properly on the lot.

Dozens of scientific studies have shown conclusively that proper orientation is one of the leading factors in low-cost air conditioning, both in original cost for equipment and in season-to-season operating expense.

When used in conjunction with thick mineral wool insulation, the right roof design and material, carefully-selected windows, and shading in the right places, orientation may be the deciding factor in whether the home owner can or can't afford air conditioning.

1. Broad sides of the house should face north and south.

2. Garage, porch or utility room should be on the west end of the house to take the brunt of the late afternoon sun.

3. The roof should have wide overhangs to provide shade for walls and windows, and should be constructed to permit adequate ventilation of air in the attic. White or light-color asphalt shingles will reflect much of the sun's heat without gleam or glare.

4. The south wall is the best place for large windows. The summer sun is high in midday, and the roof overhang keeps sun off south windows.

5. Shade trees are most effective on the east and west sides to block low sun in morning and late afternoon.

6. Shrubbery, high fences, and trellises placed at the west end of the house will be a further buffer to the late afternoon sun.

Equally important to proper orientation in an economical air-conditioning system is thick mineral wool insulation. Research shows that a 6-inch thickness of mineral wool in the ceiling, at least 3 inches in walls, and 2 inches in exposed floors cuts the heat gain in a house so much that smaller, less-costly cooling equipment can be used. A further savings is realized in the low-cost operation of the smaller system.

Want Bigger Room?

Warm colors, or the darker values of all colors, tend to make a room look smaller; cool colors and lighter values have the opposite effect. Remembering this basic rule can help you make the correct color choice for the carpets and rugs in your home.

Builders Keep Prices Stable Despite Labor

Home builders in most parts of the country today are keeping their prices stable in spite of rising labor costs by applying cost saving methods they've learned over the years—methods that actually save construction dollars without sacrificing quality.

Dee Clary, president of the Roofing Contractors' Association of Southern California, says one example of this lies in the choice of roofing material.

"The applied cost of an asphalt shingle roof compared with the applied cost of a roof of other material permitts a tract builder to save $10 or more for every 100 square feet of roof area."

★ ★ ★

This savings adds up to $160 or $175 for an average-sized house, giving the builder money to add more space, to install a luxury appliance such as an automatic electric dishwasher, or to simply pass on as a cash savings to the purchaser.

★ ★ ★

In terms of space, $160 permits a tract builder to enlarge a house by 40 or 50 extra square feet of "bare footage"—builders' terminology for living space that does not require plumbing or mechanical equipment.

Start Home Protection Early

Get Homes Prepared for Winter by Taking These 4 Precautions

It's too late to protect your home from a hurricane, tornado, or other violent windstorm after storm warnings are posted.

This is why home owners all over the country are taking advantage of the late-summer lull in chores to get their houses ready for the rough weather of fall and winter.

What can you do to protect your home from wind damage? Here are some suggestions from leading insurance companies:

1. Inspect the outside of the house carefully for such things as lose shutters, siding and gutters, and doors and windows that do not close tightly. Ripped loose in a high wind, any one of them can become a dangerous missile.
2. Inspect trees and shrubs and remove all dead or dying limbs. Dead or weakened trees should be cut down.
3. Check bird houses, TV antennas, outside lighting accessories, clothes drying racks, and lawn furniture to be sure they can't be torn loose by violent tio furniture, flower pots and the winds. Likhtweight lawn and palike should be taken inside when a windstorm is approaching.
4. Look carefully at your roof. If it is old and shabby, or if any of the roofing material is loose or uneven, call in a reliable roofing contractor for a professional inspection. This is an essential precaution, because roofing material torn away by wind exposes the interior of the house and its contents to rain.

Some other precautionary measures you can take include having flashlights or laterns handy, an emergency supply of water and foodstuffs and a portable cooking stove or supply of charcoal.

Here Are Tips for Refinishing Old Furniture

When the old paint on a piece of furniture has become rough or worn out, be sure to follow carefully the steps for refinishing it. Know the different types of varnish and paint removers and the correct method of application.

Apply the remover to a small area of the furniture surface and let stand — about 20 minutes in most cases — until the finish is soft enough to remove with a putty knife and steel wool. After removing all the old coating, wash the piece of furniture with mineral spirits of turpentine.

Dry thoroughly, then apply your priming coat. Sand very lightly after drying, and then paint on your finish coat.

Emergency Repair

Strictly in the emergency repair department: if silvering on back of a mirror is chilling off, cover exposed area with aluminum foil and tape in place. It won't fool anyone, but it will make the blemish less noticeable.

LIFE TERMER: Carroll Berres stands behind a Braillewriter he has mastered.

Prison Inmate Helps the Blind

Certified as a Braille Transcriber, Murderer Fills His Free Time

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP) — A life termer at the Iowa State Penitentiary is the first man in Iowa to be certified by the Library of Congress as a braille transcriber of books for the blind.

Carroll Berres, 43, convicted of murder 20 years ago, spends all his free evenings transcribing books into braille. He is sighted.

There are a number of women certified as braillists in Iowa, but Berres is the lone man. He was introduced to the braille system last year by Mrs. Alvin Kirsner, head of the Braille Transcribing Division of the Iowa Commission for the Blind.

Berres finished a normal 14-week Braille training course in just eight weeks, then produced a 50-page manuscript which was submitted to the Library of Congress, and on which work certficate is based.

Berres works seven days a week in the prison pharmacy and gives up all his recreation periods to work as a clerk in the inmate canteen.

Each week he attends an advanced mutual-improvement class, a group-therapy class, a social-improvement class, and teaches an elementary class in mutual improvement.

On free evenings, he works at his Braillewriter, when not teaching other inmates how to transcribe books into braille.

Paint Job May Aid Capsule Catching Work

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — A little paint may be all that's needed to give the Air Force a better chance of catching a parachuting satellite nose capsule.

Data from the satellites Discoverer V and VI indicates they got too cold for their power batteries to operate, the Ballistic Missile Dvision said Friday.

The batteries are supposed to start a radio homing device which would guide planes to the falling capsule. The planes would try to snag the capsule's parachute with a trapeze device.

Missile division officials said the answer to proper temperature control may be in painting geometric designs with light-absorbing paint on the outside of the satellite. The paint would absorb the sun's rays and raise the satellite's temperature to a point at which the batteries would operate.

Cat, Set in His Ways, Disapproves of TV Set

BUDD LAKE, N. J. (AP)—Viewing television and reading newspapers has become increasingly difficult for Mrs. John Barthomae. Remi, her Siamese cat, disapproves.

"He'll stalk around the house pouting if I watch television," Mrs. Bartholomae says. "And if I persist, he takes a swipe at me with his claw."

★ ★ ★

When she tries to read a newspaper, Remi jumps into her lap and settles himself on the paper, she says. But then Remi has a right to be rather set in his ways. He's 20 years old which, according to one theory, makes him 140 in cat years.

Bethany Baptist to Hear Director

Pastor, Young People to Attend Assembly at Lake Louise

The Rev. Edward Goodman, director of church extension for the Detroit Baptist Association of American Baptist Churches, will speak at the 8:45 and 11 a.m. services Sunday at Bethany Baptist Church.

A graduate of the University of Redlands, he received his master's degree from Stanford University and theological degree from Colgate-Rochester Divinity School.

He has served pastorates in Calais, Maine; Pasadena, Calif., and Seattle, Wash.

Dr. Joseph I. Chapman will be one of the directors next week at the Senior High and Old Youth Baptist Assembly at Camp Louise in Northern Michigan.

Young people going to the camp include Sue and Toni Leoni, Carol Lewis, Jim Miller, Mary Foren, Andrea Allen, Ronald Boyce, Deanna Relyea, Diane Wieniewski and Daren Antolich.

Mrs. Joyce Martin will be a camp leader.

The annual inspirational retreat for all officers and leaders of Bethany will be held from 4 to 8 p.m. on Sept. 12. Dr. Warren Cole of Detroit will be the speaker.

Burglars Lifted Safe Through Store's Roof

They broke a small hole in the store wall, hooked a cable from the winch to the safe and then yanked the safe through the wall and lifted it aboard the truck.

U. of Portland to Initiate New 'Family Plan'

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A family plan that could mean free tuition for some will be started at the University of Portland this fall.

If several members of one family attended the university at the same time, you would pay full tuition, the second two-thirds and the third student only one-third. Additional members of the family would get free tuition.

Father Kenna said the plan is predicated upon a family experiencing hardships in sending more than one person to school at the same time.

Doctor's Efforts Provide Hospital With Museum

CHICAGO (AP)—Swedish Covenant Hospital has a new health-science museum, the gift of a physician who spent 10 years compiling the exhibits and models.

The museum is the gift of Dr. J. B. McCormick, pathologist and laboratory director at the hospital. He values the collection at $10,000.

Dr. McCormick made or directed the production of two films, about 50 plastic models and about 500 illustrations.

The exhibits will be used as teaching aids for physicians and nurses.

Stand Pat Demand Means Steel Pay Cut–MacDonald

NEW YORK (AP) — Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald says the new record cost-of-living index shows that the steel industry, by asking workers to freeze wages, was actually asking them to take a pay cut.

McDonald made his statement Friday. Despite several rumors of settlement, it appeared both sides weren't much closer together than when the strike began, 39 days ago

McDonald, who has been out of negotiations for two weeks, comes back on Wednesday.

The steel industry claims that in refusing to grant wage demands of the union it is holding the line against inflation. The union claims wage increases for steelworkers has traditionally followed inflation—not caused it.

McDonald, who has been out of the steel talks because he said he felt they weren't making any progress, cited the announcement of a record cost-of-living index:

"It is significant," he said, "that the peak figure made public today has come after a full year period when regular steelworker wage rates have not increased in the slightest.

In Pittsburgh, a union statement said that the cost of living increase in just the past few months would require an increase of two cents an hour just to restore steel wages to last year's levels, in terms of purchasing power.

The union seeks a 15-cent hourly package increase for each year of any new contract. Wage rates before the strike average $3.11 an hour.

Orchard Lake Church Chicken Dinner Set

ORCHARD LAKE — Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church here will hold its annual family-style chicken dinner Sunday in the parish hall. Serving will begin at noon, not at 6 p.m. as was announced yesterday.

Proceeds from the event will go toward a new classroom of the parish school, according to Mrs. Francis J. Presto, chairman of the dinner. She is being assisted by Mrs. Richard Drake and Mrs. Thomas Sanders.

The classrooms will be open for public viewing after the dinner which will be served by members of the Altar Society of the church.

Manufacturers Bank Opens Area Branch

Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit has opened its 29th office at 1012-16 N. Hunter Blvd., Bloomfield Township.

Red China Leaders End 2-Month Parley

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China's top leaders have emerged from two months of secret conferences. Important announcements concerning China's economic policies are expected to follow.

Head of state Liu Shao-chi, Premier Chou En-lai and three other prominent Communists showed up at a dinner yesterday in Peiping for visiting North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

It was the first time since June 25 that any of the top brass (except for foreign minister Chen Yi) had been reported in the official Communist press as having stepped into public view.

There seems little doubt the Communist party's politburo, the most powerful group in China, has been holding highly important meetings during the past two months. The top leaders were absent from several normally important functions last month—a good indication they were out of town.

The chief topic likely was the economic plight of China, made worse this year by devastating floods and droughts. Already production targets have been readjusted and lower level officials criticized for mismanagement.

The politburo is believed to have been drafting a more detailed plan for running the people's communes which to date have fallen short of the successes Mao Tse-tung predicted.

Japan, Outer Mongolia Sign Trade Agreements

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan International Trade Promotion Assn. (JITPA) reported today it has signed a million-dollar trade agreement with Communist Outer Mongolia.

It is the first trade pact signed between the two countries since the end of World War II.

Payments of goods by both countries will be made in U.S. dollars through the Moscow Narodny Bank in London.

★ ★ ★

News in Brief

Thieves broke into Russ' Service Station, 3198 Auburn Rd., Pontiac Township, ransacked the office and stole about $15 cash yesterday, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Someone broke into his junk yard at 1500 N. Perry St., Fred Carpenter reported to Pontiac Police yesterday. It has not been determined what was taken.

Local Speedway to Rock Tonight in Benefit Show

Rock 'n' roll fans in the Pontiac area will be wearing their swingingest rocker panels tonight at the Dragway Rock to be held at the M59 Speedway, three miles west of Pontiac Municipal Airport on M59.

Headlining the show will be the Ski Brothers, Rockets, and Dualtones. The association will also have its top cars on display.

Former School Chief in Ann Arbor, Niles Dies

Haisley, 72, served as superintendent of public schools in Niles from 1917 to 1924 and held the same position in Ann Arbor from 1924 until his retirement in 1953. Funeral service will be held Sunday.

'I Was Just Sitting on This Track...'

These Birds Need Faster Ears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pigeons on the track, alack, are tearing holes in the Air Force's hypersonic research program at Holloman, N.M.

So are quails on the rails, not to mention doves, meadow larks, and other "light weight birds."

The avian threat to aviation and space progress was disclosed Friday in a report from the Air Research and Development Command headquarters at Andrews Air Force Base, Md.

Scientists at Holloman Air Force Base have been firing sleds down a seven-mile track at 3,000 miles an hour and better to find out what happens to things and people moving faster than sound.

Unhappily, the seven miles of fine perching opportunity was too much for the birds to resist. The result on occasion has been "unbelievable damage" to the sleds plus quite believable damage to the birds.

The birds are innocent both as vandals and victims. They can't hear sleds approaching faster than sound and so can't get out of the way in time.

The scientists, therefore, have wired the track with recordings of machine-gun blasts, thunderclaps and the cries of hungry hawks, all amplified by loudspeakers spaced along the rails.

According to test Supervisor R. C. Rethmel, "We have just started this method of trying to scare the birds away and the results have not yet been proven."

But such a sled ended a run down the 35,000-foot track at 3,000 miles an hour with a jagged 10-inch hole in the quarter-inch steel of its nose cone where some luckless pigeon made contact.

A quail tore open the bolted seams of the half-inch sheeting on a heavier sled making an 850-mile-an-hour dash over the course. The steel prow of a sled speeding at 2,850 miles an hour suffered a four-inch rupture upon collision with a dove or some other bird.

LIKE TORNADO

Lt. Col. Donald H. Vleck, chief of the test track division of the Air Force Missile Development Center, drew a parallel between what goes on between bird and sled at Holloman and the "high velocity impact" effects frequently noted after tornadoes or hurricanes.

Straws in such winds may pierce the trunks of trees. This and the havoc wrought by the birds at Holloman point up an expected hazard of the forthcoming age of space travel.

"Grain-sized meteorites moving through space at near-ultimate velocities," Vleck said, "could tear apart the solid steel of a missile or a spacecraft."

AP Wirephoto

BIRD SABOTAGE—They weren't hired by an enemy, but birds at Holloman Air Force Base near Alamogordo, N.M. are putting kinks in the AF's hypersonic research program. For example, a tiny bird put this hole in a 212-pound quarter-inch thick steel rocket sled. The sled moves faster than sound. Birds sitting on the sled track don't hear it approaching and—pow!

William Palmer Claims Michigan Business Can Absorb $18 Million Levy

LANSING (AP)—William Palmer, executive secretary of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Michigan, said today he thought Michigan, said today he thought Michigan business and industry could absorb an additional 18 million dollars in taxes.

Palmer, a former Democratic state senator and member of the Senate Tax Committee which wrote the present sales tax law, replied to a questionnaire sent out by Sen. Clyde R. Geerlings (R-Holland) asking for tax coment.

Palmer said he differed with George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., in that he favored a permanent solution of the business tax issue rather than a temporary one.

He said 77 responded they thought business and industry should not be burdened with higher taxes, 18 said they felt new levies could be absorbed and 13 were non-committal.

Merritt D. Hill, chairman of the ambassadors executive committee and general manager of the Ford Motor Co. tractor and implement division wrote Geerlings:

"The mere threat of a further increase in Michigan business taxes has given our competitive states still more ammunition and has thus made our selling job more difficult."

Tax Hearing Set for Monday

Business Groups Urge Members to Voice Views in Lansing

LANSING (AP)—The drive of Michigan business and industry leaders against any new taxes on business will reach a climax Monday at a legislative hearing in the Senate chamber.

One spokesman said as many as 200 might show up.

The session of the Senate Taxation Committee comes just three days in advance of the next huddle of Senate-House bargainers seeking to resolve the gruelling legislative deadlock on a new revenue program.

If they come up with a proposed answer, the Senate and House will meet in full force Friday to vote on it.

Tax conferees are struggling with the question of whether to put new or increased levies on business, and if so, how.

Democrats are demanding 11 million dollars in business taxes, to be applied in such a way as to let the added burden fall almost exclusively on profitable enterprises.

Republicans and Democrats already have agreed on a core for the final settlement, a 120 million dollar increase in the use (sales) tax.

The Greater Detroit Board of Commerce and the Michigan Manufacturers Assn. were urging a large turnout.

Willis Hall, general manager of the Detroit Board, mentioned the 200 figure. J. H. Creighton, lobbyist for the Manufacturers, said he would be "gratified but astounded" if a big crowd showed up.

Paralytic Polio Hits Year's High in State

LANSING (AP) — The State Health Department reported 11 cases of paralytic polio were found in Michigan this week—the highest weekly total so far this year.

So far this year, 41 paralytic polio cases have been reported. There were 111 during the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

The week's count included four in Shiawassee County, three in Detroit, two in Macomb County and one each in Genesee and Ingham counties.

Business Notes

Dean Coffin, 1775 N. Woodward Ave., has been named vice president in charge of programmed operations of the Jam Handy Co., Detroit.

Coffin, a member of the Jam Handy staff from 1936-50, returns to the company after eight years as an executive in motion pictures and meeting programs for industries.

He began with Jam Handy as a field representative and later served as a project supervisor, planner and writer.

Vice president of Restrick Lumber Co., William C. Restrick Jr. of 401 N. Glengarry Rd., Bloomfield Township, has been appointed chairman for the materials handling program of National Retail Lumber Dealers Assn.'s Expositio to b held in Cleveland Nov. 14-17.

Restrick's program will help demonstrate the greater economy of using machines instead of muscles to move unitized loads of lumber and other heavy building materials.

Old Sir Thomas Tells He's Wed Secretary, 27

Sir Thomas, conductor of the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra, is as irascible as ever whether performing or expounding his views on things and people. Friends described his bride as a tranquilizing influence who may finally tame him. She is his third wife.

★ ★ ★

"Sir Thomas Beecham and Miss S. Hudson.

With white beard flashing, eyes twinkling, Sir Thomas has a high regard for himself.

"I will not be called the greatest musician ever," he once said. "On the other hand, I'm a damned sight better than any foreigner."

Beecham's first wife was Utica Welles, daughter of a New York place in 1903 and ended in divorce in 1943.

That same year he married Betty Humby of London, a well-known concert pianist. She died last September of a heart attack.

Caddies Picket Club

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (UPI)—Nine young caddies picketed the country club here seeking a straight fee of one dollar for each nine holes. They were getting 75 cents for the first nine and 50 cents for the second.

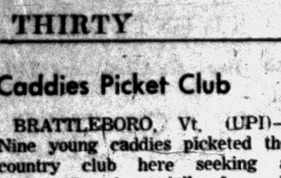

About one-half the states with civil service systems have adopted the practice since 1937.

'Antsville,' Cries Kookie at Chicago Reception

The singing and acting star smiled, waved and blew kisses to his teenage flock, described as the largest crowd ever to greet an entertainer at the airport.

They showered Kookie with a barrage of combs—a reminder of his TV hair-combing routine role on 77 Sunset Strip. The bobby sox set was rewarded.

"But enough of this Kookie - talk. This isn't how I, Edward J. Byrnes, really talk. I like to do it for the teenagers because I think each new generation usually finds something all its own.

★ ★ ★

"Jive-talk gives the boys and girls of today something private and personal through which they can communicate with one another — to be outside the adult world which surrounds them."

At least one unidentified bystander was less than impressed with Kookie, for a raw egg sailed his way. The egg missed its target and splashed a reporter.

Dr. Dooley Back in U.S. for Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — A young doctor who operates a hospital in Laos and has treated thousands of Chinese Communist refugees, is back in this country to undergo treatment for cancer.

Dr. Thomas Dooley, 32, left by plane Friday night for St. Louis, Mo., to see his mother and enter a hospital for treatment of a sarcoma of the left chest.

Dooley, a former Navy medical officer, has been in charge of a three-building hospital at Muong Sing in northern Laos, five miles from the Chinese Red frontier. He said that 14,000 refugees crossed from Red China into Laos last year.

But this year, he added, not one refugee has crossed in three months.

Scoutmasters Pooped After Week-Long Hike

HONOLULU (AP)—A group of Boy Scouts who took a week-long hike around the island of Oahu did fine—but their scoutmasters were just plain pooped.

The boys made 22 miles the first day, then covered 12 to 16 miles a day for the rest of the week. Says Scoutmaster Alfred Oliverira, one of the two scoutmasters who circled the island on foot:

Defeat Wasn't Censable

Judge Had Supporter

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — Superior Judge Rudolph J. Daley knew he had at least one avid supporter when he opened court to start his judicial career. In the courtroom was his 84-year-old father, a deputy sheriff.

OCEA Code of Ethics

We employ qualified personnel to assure proper service. No student shall be passed off as a technician.
We issue a 90-day parts guarantee.
We maintain an adequate data library.
We avoid trick advertising which is unfair to the public and other service companies.
We render service as fast as possible in keeping with local conditions.
We install only such parts and tubes as are really necessary. We use only new parts and tubes of a quality at least equal to original equipment.
We service sets in the home whenever possible.
