160-Mile Gales, Rains Lash Tokyo Area

From Our News Wires

TOKYO — The worst typhoon in 24 years lashed the Tokyo area with 160-mile winds and the heaviest rains in the city's history early today, taking a toll that authorities feared may amount to as many as 1,600 dead.

At latest reports, 303 persons were known dead, 1,286 were officially "missing"—with little hope that more than a few would ever be seen alive again—and 1,943 were injured. Record 16- to 20-inch rains left nearly 400,000 persons homeless.

The howling storm struck its most devastating blow at the Izu Peninsula, 75 miles southwest of Tokyo, where the rain-swollen Kano River roared through 10 cities and villages, killing at least 148 persons and carrying some 1,200 away.

Rescuers near the mouth of the raging river snatched about 100 persons from its dirty brown waters, but there was little doubt that most of the 1,121 still missing were carried far out to sea.

Almost a half million houses were flooded and 30,000 acres of rice paddies ruined.

The known casualty toll was expected to rise as communications with the disaster areas were fully restored.

A half dozen villages on the scenic Izu Peninsula 70 miles below Tokyo were struck by 100-mile-an-hour winds and raging floods. Newspaper reports said 80 bodies were recovered from the swollen Kano River and 600 were missing. Police confirmed at least 38 killed in that area.

Entire families were reported buried alive in landslides.

In Tokyo, drenched by a record 15½-inch rainfall, police said 23 persons were killed and 14 missing. Four were electrocuted by broken power lines.

Firemen, troops and volunteer rescue crews were dispatched from Mishima and Numazu to the Izu Peninsula. Tokyo's police and firemen worked around the clock and troops were mobilized to mop up damage. U. S. military crews worked with them.

Medical teams were organized in seven major hospitals and 13 health centers, and tetanus vaccine was prepared for 180,000 shots. The Water Bureau issued a warning that city reservoirs

5-Cent Postage Penalty Deferred Until Feb. 1

The 5-cent postage due penalty on unpaid or insufficiently prepaid mail has been deferred again until Feb. 1, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced yesterday.

This action was taken to permit further study by the Post Office Department and to avoid possible confusion during the holiday mail season.

The penalty, previously had been suspended to Oct. 31 following the new postal rates which went into effect Aug. 1.

Extensive Study on Baby Babbling Bursts Bubble

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Two college professors who did research on baby babbling say sounds that resemble "Ma Ma" mean discomfort.

It means mother should come running. A change may be in order, or it's dinnertime.

The University of Louisville psychologists did extensive research on the subject, even inquiring of foreigners.

In any language, "Ma Ma" means the same, they wrote in the current issue of Psychological Reports.

Mental Health Plans Rejected

State Agency Refuses to Act on Proposals of Probate Judges

The State Mental Health Commission yesterday turned thumbs down on proposals made by a committee of Michigan probate judges seeking to find beds for some 500 persons waiting admission to mental institutions.

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, chairman of the committee, said members were "uniformly disgusted" after the five-member commission announced no steps will be taken until January when the State Legislature convenes.

At that time, the commission told Judge Moore, the State Department of Mental Health would ask for an additional $18,600,000 so that 1,080 vacant beds could be put in use. Judge Moore said the present department appropriation for 1958-59 is already 62 million dollars.

He said he would now appeal directly to Gov. Williams and legislators "so that steps be taken now and not in the future."

The committee of judges presented a survey showing 960 vacant beds in the state, and urging an appeal to the State Administrative Board to appropriate money so that these beds could be filled by those on the waiting list.

If this wouldn't work, Judge Moore said, the committee would have requested the current Legislature to be called back in session to provide the needed money.

"But they refused to do anything about this pressing emergency matter," the judge said in returning to Pontiac. The meeting before the commission was held in Lansing Friday afternoon.

"They said there always has been a waiting list and always will," Judge Moore commented.

President Taps Retired General for Adams' Job

Wilton Persons to Take Post as Chief Assistant in White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today appointed retired Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons as his chief assistant to succeed Sherman Adams.

Persons, 62, has been serving as deputy assistant to the President.

The White House said Eisenhower also intends later to appoint a deputy to Persons. The title will be chosen later.

Eisenhower also named Bryce N. Harlow as deputy assistant to the President for congressional affairs, a new title. Harlow is now a special assistant to Persons for congressional affairs.

Rounding out the new White House top command is the already announced selection of Robert Merriam, former assistant budget director, as deputy assistant to the President for interdepartmental affairs.

Persons' appointment came six days after Adams announced he would resign.

Adams, Eisenhower's right-hand man during most of his time in office, quit under fire, announcing his decision in a dramatic TV-radio broadcast.

Adams' relations with his good friend, Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, had been investigated by a House committee and there were demands from Republicans that Adams get out.

Vanguard Fails to Orbit, Burns Coming Back

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department said today the Navy Vanguard satellite fired yesterday did not go into orbit and burned up flying in the earth's atmosphere.

A brief announcement said: "The vanguard IGY satellite vehicle lanuched yesterday failed to achieve an altitude or velocity adequate to place it in its projected orbit.

"After one or at most a limited number of passes around the earth at very low altitude, the vehicle reentered the earth's atmosphere and was consumed by friction.

New City Post Office Is Dedicated Today

Another memorable event in Pontiac's 97 years as a city was written into history this afternoon with the dedication of the city's new post office on West Huron street.

Sunny skies welcomed citizens and guests as Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield delivered the dedication address outside the $850,000 building.

Giving the invocation from the speaker's platform was Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of the Central Methodist Church. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the Rev. Thompson Marcero, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church, presented the benediction.

Prior to the dedication program, music was furnished by the Pontiac Central High School band. Open house was held in the post office after the ceremony.

Official acceptance of the new building marks the start of postal service here from a building devoted exclusively to the service.

Since 1929, postal facilities were housed in the Federal Building at East Huron street and Perry. Other federal agencies, such as armed service recruiting offices, agriculture and extension services, shared quarters there.

Soon after Summerfield's address, the new post office was the scene of an open house.

Robert C. Miller, acting Pontiac postmaster, and Stuart E. Whitfield, co-chairmen of the committee which arranged the ceremonies, said 40,000 invitations were mailed.

On the invitation list were many officials from the Chicago regional office of the U.S. Post Office Dept. under which the new Pontiac office will function.

Also invited were Ralph T. Wills, Summerfield's deputy executive assistant, Earl A. Barnhart, regional installation manager for this region, and Arnie Betts, assistant regional operations director.

Summerfield and his party were escorted to the new office at 735 W. Huron St. by Oakland County Sheriff deputies who met the Summerfield car at the Oakland-Genesee County line on Dixie Highway.

A caravan of about 20 cars, including "mailsters" and mail trucks, joined with the deputies in leading the Summerfield party to the building.

Master of ceremonies for the day was John A. Riley, president of the chamber.

In addition to local citizens, postal employes from many parts of the state were here for today's ceremony. The state division of the National Association of Letter Carriers has scheduled a dinner this evening at First Congregational Church. The event was sponsored by the Pontiac Branch of the association. Earl A. Barnhart, regional installation manager for the Post Office Department will speak at this evening's banquet.

GM Sees Strike Inevitable if UAW Won't Back Down

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT—General Motors Corp., hamstrung by local strikes throughout the nation, appeared ready today to settle for a nationwide strike by the United Auto Workers Union.

GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton, chief negotiator for the world's largest auto company, said his firm "will not go beyond the Ford settlement in any agreement with the union."

It was perhaps the strongest stand taken by any company in talks with the union to date and came in the wake of repeated statements by UAW President Walter P. Reuther that GM and Chrysler would have to give more than Ford to reach an agreemnt.

"If the union refuses to trim its demands in line with the Ford agreemnt, we may have trouble," Seaton said. "But we already have trouble from widespread local strikes so the threat of a national strike is an empty thing to us."

The UAW is scheduled to strike GM plants throughout the nation if an agreement is not reached before 10 a.m. (EST) Tuesday.

Reuther said the union was not asking for more economic gains from GM but "there are certain

Towering Tides Smash Into Evacuated Resort Area Near Wilmington

WILMINGTON, N. C. (UPI) — Hurricane Helene flogged the North Carolina lowlands with winds close to 125 miles an hour today, flooding beaches and knocking out communications. But the storm center stubbornly stayed offshore and swung to the northeast.

Rolling up ominously from the southeast was an even mightier tempest, Ilsa, which had generated into a 140-mile an hour giant in the open Atlantic northeast of Puerto Rico.

Raging surf and towering tides ushered Helene into the playground coast south of Wilmington where almost all exposed areas had been evacuated during the night.

Gusts up to 120 miles an hour were clocked by the Frying Pan Shoals Lightship off Cape Fear 40 miles south of the port of Wilmington. The main Atlantic Coast Highway, U.S. 17, was flooded and one drawbridge was blown open and jammed.

At 11 a.m. (Pontiac time) the Miami Weather Bureau placed the storm center 50 miles south of Wilmington. It was now moving to the northeast, a decided shift from its steady northwest bearing 24 hours earlier.

"The expected course and speed of Hurricane Helene will move the center along the southeast coast of North Carolina passing near Cape Hatteras at midnight," the advisory said.

Gordon Dunn, chief forecaster, said the eye or calm center of the storm was about 10 miles off Cape Fear, a sharply jutting promonotory below Wilmington.

He said the center might stay offshore or that if it did move inland it would cross only the Hatteras area because the North Carolina coast falls back northwestward from that point.

Whatever its course, the teeming Norfolk shipping area and Chesapeake Bay some 100 miles north of Hatteras appeared in for a stiff blow.

Damage reports began mounting during the morning—roofs blown off beach houses at Kure Beach, power poles and lines down in many areas, planking ripped off the boardwalk at Carolina Beach, fishing piers badly damaged in the Myrtle Beach area.

The hurricane was accompanied by driving rain, whipped to froth by the winds. Georgetown south of Myrtle Beach had 2.5 inches.

The Weather Bureau warned that tides would continue to rise 7 to 10 feet above normal and probably higher in some spots between Myrtle Beach and Hatteras during the day.

Civil Defense authorities said the evacuation of danger zones on the beaches was orderly in most cases, but in some instances they had to threaten forcible evacuation. No arrests were reported.

Old Couple Won't Leave Goat Island

If need be, said the hermit couple—both in their 80s—they could sit out Hurricane Helene in their dugout cave or in "one of our big friendly trees."

Although the mile-long island is less than six feet above water at its highest point, the Holloways weren't worried. "God is going to take care of us all right," they said.

The island has been home for the Holloways and their herd of goats for many years.

NBC to Probe '21' Charges

2nd Contestant Claims He Received Answers in Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co. says it will launch an immediate investigation into charges by a second former contestant on the quiz show "21" that the program was fixed.

Artist James Snodgrass, 35, said yesterday he had received answers in advance and was told when to miss after a series of matches with Hank Bloomgarden, a $92,500 winner. Snodgrass took home $4,000.

NBC said, "This comes as a complete surprise to us. We had absolutely no knowledge of it." The network added it would undertake a "prompt and thorough investigation of the charges."

Jack Barry and Dan Enright, coproducers of the program, declined comment.

Snodgras stold reporters he made the charges to Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan's office and to a grand jury investigating quiz shows. He added he would have let the matter lie if he had not been subpoenaed.

Bloomgarden also appeared before the grand jury, but refused to comment publicly.

Herbert Stempel, another former "21" contestant, charged recently he was coached on answers and told when to miss questions as he compiled winnings of $49,000 on the show.

Cooler but Pleasant Is Weekend Outlook

Partly cloudy and continued cool is the weather outlook for the Pontiac area tonight with the low near 48. Today's northwest winds will decrease tonight increasing tomorrow at 10-16 miles an hour.

Cooler temperatures will continue Sunday with the high reaching around 70. The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts Monday will be fair and a little warmer.

Fifty-four was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury rose to 70 at 1 p.m.

History Compiled by Postal Worker

Pontiac Post Office Was First in Oakland County

(Editor's Note: George C. Stenson is employed in the finance section of the Pontiac Post Office, and has been employed in the local office since Jan. 1, 1929. He is president of the Pontiac Metropolitan Club. As a hobby he has compiled a history of the Post Office in Pontiac, devoting many hours in research. The Press prints herewith a condensed version of this history.)

By GEORGE C. STENSON

On the 12th day of January in 1819, Gov. Lewis Cass issued a proclamation fixing the tentative boundaries of Oakland County.

The old Indian Trail from Detroit to Saginaw crossed the Clinton River midway between Water Street and Orchard Lake Avenue, and as this point was the logical location for a settlement, this became the site of the future city of Pontiac.

As might be expected, the first post offices established in Oakland County were located in the two townships into which Oakland County was first divided, these being Oakland and Bloomfield; the Pontiac office in Oakland Township and the Bloomfield office in Bloomfield Township.

For many years it was believed that the first post office to be established in Oakland County was that of Bloomfield, now Birmingham. Such was the record obtained from the Post Office Dept. by the Michigan Historical Society.

In the fall of 1950, however, it was discovered from material in the National Archives in Washington, that the post office at Pontiac, and not at Bloomfield, was the first to be established in Oakland County.

Filed away in the archives is the record showing the establishment of the post office in Pontiac on May 1, 1820, almost one year prior to the establishment of the Bloomfield (now Birmingham) post office.

The first postmaster at Pontiac was George Throop. Very little is known about him while he held the post.

None of the records of the Pontiac post office even include his name, and many history books even list Dr. Olmstead Chamberlain as the first postmaster of Pontiac.

Certain it is that Dr. Chamberlain succeeded Throop as the postmaster on Nov. 30, 1822, which had been given as the date of the establishment of the Pontiac post office until the discovery of additional information referred to here. Chamberlain, who came here in 1821, was a prominent businessman in Pontiac for many years.

By 1836 mail was being carried on horseback twice a week between Detroit and Pontiac. When Pontiac was finally incorporated as a village in 1837, the population had increased only slightly over the 330 persons shown in the 1820 census.

In April of 1840 the great fire wiped out the entire business district of Pontiac. No mention is made in history books of the loss of the post office, so evidently it was located on some side street not reached by the flames.

In 1841 it required 12 days to get news from Washington, and in that year the first stage line between Pontiac and Flint was established.

By 1877, five mails were being received in Pontiac daily, only one mail being transported by stage, the rest coming by railroad.

It is also recorded that the post office was then conveniently "fitted up," there being 189 lock boxes and 660 call boxes available.

Early in the morning of March 20, 1877, burglars broke into the post office, blew open the safe, and carried away about $125 in currency and change as well as all the private papers. The explosion in cracking the safe set fire to books and papers and mail in the office, destroying a great deal of it.

Available records mention the post office as being on the present site of the Strand theater but it is believed that prior to that time it was located on the north side of East Lawrence Street near Perry, and prior to that about where Central Fire Station still stands.

When the office moved to Saginaw and Pike, the force grew from three to seven; in 1895 the office moved to 69 N. Saginaw St. and two more employes were added. By 1899 the wandering post office

Kiwanians List Travel Series

Announcement of numbers on the Pontiac Kiwanis entertainment series for the coming fall and winter is made today.

Seven programs of lectures and pictures on travel and adventure have been scheduled, starting Nov. 4 and concluding March 31.

All will be on Tuesday evenings, at 8 p.m. in Central High School Auditorium. Course tickets sell for $5, and club officials stress that no single admission tickets will be available. No seats are reserved.

Ralph Norvell is general chairman of the project with Ralph Wigent as co-chairman. Profits from the course are used by the club in support of youth activities in and around Pontiac.

Nov. 4 — Curtis Nagel, "Song of Switzerland."

Dec. 9 — Nicol Smith, "Island of the Caribbean."

Jan. 13 — Irving M. Johnson, "Trade Wind Island."

Jan. 27 — Julian Gromer, "The Mighty Amazon."

Feb. 24 — Carl H. Thomsen, "Wonders of Alaska."

All members of the Pontiac Kiwanis Club have tickets available for the course.

1,600 Feared Dead in Tokyo Typhoon

Skies over the city were sunny this afternoon as Ida, named typhoon No. 22 and classified as one of the worst ever to approach the island nation, headed north still packing 50 m.p.h. winds. The Weather Bureau said the typhoon may hit Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island, tonight.

The Coast Guard reported 18 vessels sank in the height of the typhoon and eight more were swept away to sea. Twenty-six seamen were listed among the missing.

Japan's railroad traffic was still tangled by flood damage.

Air traffic resumed at the International Airport.

Some 50,000 householders sought refuge in schools and public buildings.

There were no casualties among Tokyo's American community or among U. S. military personnel.

THEY STOPPED . . . TOO LATE — This "stop" sign at Pike street and Shirley avenue failed to prevent a crash last night. The result was this collision between a city bus and a car which sent two persons to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Mrs. Virginia Heath, 38, of 86 S. Perry St., the driver of the bus, told Pontiac police the car, driven by Roy W. Griffith, 28, of Avon Township, darted in front of her bus at the intersection. Mrs. Heath was treated and released, while David Kershner, 23, of 56 Michigan Ave., a passenger with Griffith, was listed in good condition at the hospital after suffering head lacerations and multiple abrasions. Griffith told police he stopped at sign, let another car go through, and proceeded through himself when his car was struck by the bus.

Virginia Schools Await Decision

Appeals by Warren County and Norfolk officials were carried to a three-judge federal appeals court sitting here in emergency session. Virginia officials, meanwhile, marked time in the segregation crisis while awaiting the court's decision.

Warren County High School, at Front Royal, has been padlocked by the state. A recently enacted Virginia statute gives the governor that right when desegregation is imminent.

Six junior and senior high schools at Norfolk have been ordered to admit 17 Negroes. Opening of the schools has been postponed until Monday, awaiting legal action. If that action upholds immediate integration, the next move is up to the state.

Two Charlottesville schools are closed because of court-ordered integration. But the community there is holding a semblance of classes—white—in private dwellings. Negro schools are running normally.

Norfolk and Warren County already had appealed for a temporary postponement from Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. He refused both. However, he offered to call the full court in emergency session to review both cases.

Sobeloff also refused a year's delay to Charlottesville. He said that he, as a single appellate judge, could not justify postponing a district judge's decision — without exceptional reasons.

Post Office in Pontiac First in Oakland County

was back at 15 East Lawrence St., with 14 employes.

Rural free delivery was established in 1900. In July of 1908 Congress decreed that all horses drawing mail wagons must have 30 days vacation each year.

In June of 1912, the Government purchased the property at the northeast intersection of Huron and Perry Streets, and erected a building at a cost of $80,000. This building was remodeled and enlarged in 1928, doubling its capacity of the building. During the time that remodeling operations were taking place, the post office was temporarily located at 40 Patterson Street, midway between Saginaw Street and Cass Avenue, on the north side of the Street.

The office returned to the enlarged building on Nov. 23, 1929. More employes were added then and at intervals since, until there are now about 275 on the force.

Growth of Pontiac and its suburban area has necessitated opening of branch or contract offices in recent years: In Huron Gardens Aug. 1, 1951; on North Perry St. near Glenwood July 15, 1950 (closed in March of this year); and at Union Lake Jan. 16, 1953.

On Oct. 8, 1955 a post office garage was constructed at 138 West Pike St., for storage and servicing of mail trucks.

Last December the post office added to its equipment the "Mailster" a three-wheeled motor powered vehicle used for combined delivery of mail and parcel post in some areas, where carrier service on foot is not practical.

With opening of the new post office being dedicated today, the Huron Gardens branch was closed (July 26) and the branch equipment and personnel transferred to the downtown office. A contract branch was reopened in the northern part of the city, at Walton and Baldwin.

Herodotus, known as the "Father of History," was the author of several books of history dealing principally with the Greek-Persian Wars, and in writing of the mounted couriers of Xerxes, composed the following:

"Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

This sentence has been very fittingly inscribed on the facade of the New York post office. A great many people believe that this is the motto of the Post Office Department. Such, however, is not the case. But when you take into consideration the unfailing devotion to duty of all postal employees, and the unwritten axiom that "The Mail Must Go Through" regardless of the extremes of weather, be it hot or cold, be it fair or inclement, be the night dark or the day sunny, could you think of a better motto?

Enrollments Cut as MSU Tightens Up

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The recession and a budget cut were blamed today for holding Michigan State University's fall term enrollment to 20,549, down 181 from fall term last year.

The figure includes 952 students enrolled in off-campus extension courses for credit.

Late enrollments may increase the figures slightly, MSU Vice President Tom Hamilton said.

"This is accordance with our enrollment plans," Hamilton said. "Being unable to take more students (because of a one-million-dollar budget cut), our selective admissions policicies were continued and higher academic standards were demanded of students who wished to continue in the university.

"Despite the more optimistic economic outlook, many of our students' families continued to be affected by the recession. More of our students than ever before are seeking part-time jobs, loans and other ways in which they can assume at least a part of the cost of their education."

Vote Is Today in Little Rock

Expect Heavy Turnout for Crucial Referendum on Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Election officials predict a heavy vote in today's crucial referendum on the integration of Little Rock schools.

The ballot offers a choice of allowing Negroes to attend all schools in the Little Rock school district, or restricting them to their own segregated schools.

There are about 42,000 eligible voters, including 8,000 Negroes.

Tension over the election has been rising during the past few days.

Last night Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who closed the city's four high schools two weeks ago in a move to avoid immediate integration, appealed for a heavy turnout at the polls.

He assailed Little Rock factions that have been promoting a vote for integrated schools. But Faubus said he was not trying to influence the election. "The decision is yours," he declared in a locally televised speech. "As your public servant, I will abide by your decision."

A plea for approval of integrated schools was made last night by four of Little Rock's church leaders. They appeared on a televised program sponsored by a women's group that contends the high schools can only be opened if voters approve integration.

Faubus has proposed a private school plan. He said last night that private institutions would not be subject to court rulings and therefore could be operated on a segregated basis.

Trying to Solve China Question

India Is Sounding Out Envoys of Both Sides on Formosa Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —India's veteran mediator V. K. Kirshna Menon has been sounding out delegates from both sides of the Iron Curtain with a plan aimed at breaking the Formosa deadlock.

Informants said Menon, who had played a middle role in helping solve past East-West disagreements at the U. N., wants to make the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu a no-man's land while a political settlement is sought for Formosa.

Under this proposal, the sources said, the Chinese Nationalists would pull their armed forces from the islands, while the Red Chinese would promise not to attempt any landings during negotiations.

The Indians are understood to feel that next Tuesday—when the talks between U. S. and Red Chinese ambassadors resume in Warsaw—will be the critical stage in the bargaining session between the United States and Red China.

The United States has made it pretty clear that if the Warsaw talks break down it will toss the issue before the General Assembly or the Security Council.

Many delegates feel, however, that the East-West bitterness stirred up by such a debate would hamper any settlement. They would prefer to see a good offices commission created to try to work out the problem.

Discover Dynamite, Question Students

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said a railroad maintenance man, Robert Avery, of Davison, found three sticks of dynamite under the water tower located 1000 feet north of Academy Rd., in Holly Township, Friday morning.

Investigators found that about a third of a box of dynamite, or approximately 20 sticks, was missing from the academy's farm office where they were being stored.

Deputies said that anyone at the academy could have taken the dynamite. The sticks seemed to have been "thrown" under the tower rather than placed there for any specific purpose, authorities said.

Gospelaires Celebrating 1st Anniversary Sunday

The Gospelaires, a group of singers from the Macedonia and Messiah Baptist Churches, will celebrate their first anniversary with a special program at 3:30 p.m. Sunday in the Messiah Church at Paddock and Prospect streets.

Coming from Flint to participate will be singing groups "Wilson & Turners," "The Norvnetts" and "The Evangles." The Rev. Roy C. Cummings is pastor of the host church, and Walter Moore, president of The Gospelaires.

The Day in Birmingham

'Y' Young Adults Group Slates October Activities

BIRMINGHAM — An outing, an open house and a party will highlight activities of the Young Adults group of the Birmingham YMCA during October.

The group will meet at 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 5, at the "Y" from where they will leave for Kensington Metropolitan Park and an afternoon of hiking. Supper will be had at a nearby restaurant. Leaders of the event will be Lestor Johnson and George Lyon.

The following Sunday, the club will participate in the dedication and open house from 3 to 6 p.m. at the YMCA. Members will take care of the guest book.

A "Jamaican Party" Friday, Oct. 17, at 8 p.m. at the "Y" will wind up the month's activities.

W. F. Newell, assistant program director at the Metropolitan YMCA will show slides depicting Jamaican life and tell about future "Y" trips.

Refreshments will be served by Jackie Bergey, Arlene Phelps and Adele Youel. Dancing will follow.

All single men and women between the ages of 20 and 40 are invited to join in the group's activities, according to Miss Marion Cannon, chairman.

Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries has announced two evening classes for adults in drawing and painting will begin Oct. 7 and 9.

An advanced class will be started at 8 p.m. Tuesday Oct. 7, and a course for beginners and intermediate students the same time Oct. 9. Sessions will last two hours and continue for 10 weeks, according to Wallace Mitchell, head of the Academy.

Instructor again will be Fred Mitchell. Classes will be held in the library building adjoining the art galleries.

The aim is not to produce professional artists, Mitchell said, but to develop the student's creative potentialities and to enrich his understanding of both contemporary art and art of the past.

Robert McKee

Service for Robert McKee, 67, of 1066 Chapin St., Birmingham, will be held at 1 p.m. Monday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mr. McKee died yesterday at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak following a short illness. He was a partner in the McKee and Larsen service station in Birmingham for the past 15 years.

Surviving are his wife, Elsie, three sisters and two brothers.

Hurricane Helene Heads for Coast

practically cleared the beaches. National Guardsmen were on patrol to prevent looting of vacated stores and homes.

Helene chose almost exactly the "port of entry" as her older sister, Hazel, a storm that caused heavy damage three years ago in the same area. Marks of Hazel's wrath still were apparent.

Long fishing piers here that were washed away by Hazel and later rebuilt were endangered again. The biggest swayed in the winds that were up to 50 miles an hour in gusts by 8 a.m. EST.

The surf was running six feet high here but 12-foot waves were reported further up the coast near Wilmington.

The area where the storm appeared headed was mostly vacant beach and small fishing camps.

About 100 National Guardsmen and local authorities were keeping an eye on waterfront property and another 60 were standing by if needed. All non-official vehicles were turned back by the Highway Patrol 15 miles from Myrtle Beach.

Gov. George Bell Timmerman ordered all highways leading into Myrtle Beach sealed off in a 15-20 mile radius.

Local Civil Defense Chairman E. A. Anthony said the order was to prevent "people from coming in and looting and other people we can't control."

About 100 men, mostly National Guard and local police, patrolled the Myrtle Beach area.

A few persons remained in the front row of dwellings along the beach despite a mandatory evacuation order from the civil defense. High water was regarded as more of a menace than the winds.

BAROMETER LOWER

The Weather Bureau said the barometer reading in the eye of the hurricane was 27.55, well below the 28.70 recorded in 1955's Hurricane Hazel, the worst in this area in recent years.

A huge stretch of waterfront from Savannah to lonely Cape Hatteras, N.C., was warned to evacuate to avoid being cut off from floods.

The hurricane couldn't have arrived at a more critical hour for flooding conditions. With a full moon riding high in the sky and high tide shortly after 6 a.m., Civil Defense expects tides to be higher than at any time since 1893 when a huge tidal wave raked the area with heavy loss of life.

Recalling criticism that Louisiana did not get adequate warning of a hurricane that left more than 500 dead at Cameron in 1957, the forecasters repeatedly warned a full day in advance that Helene was a highly potent storm.

UAW Back Down or It's Strike – GM

He said these matters included inequities in wages paid to workers doing the same jobs in different parts of the country, failure of the company to provide a full week's employment for some of its workers, and a means of providing supplemental unemployment benefits to workers in Ohio and Indiana, where SUB payments are now illegal.

The UAW Chief said GM was the worst offender in the matters of wage inequities and short work weeks and it was the most involved in the SUB payments in Indiana and Ohio because it had more plants in those states.

Seaton repeatedly referred to the "emptiness" of the UAW's strike threat because of the local strikes.

"The strike deadline is a rather empty thing because we have strikes throughout the nation right now," he said. "A national strike would do little to change the situation."

Production statistics appeared to bear him out.

Ward's Automotive Reports, the industry's recognized statistical agency, reported the strikes held production 30 per cent below anticipations in September. It said the industry scheduled production of 195,500 cars but was able to turn out only about 140,000.

With most assembly plants scheduled to close for the second weekend anyway, a total of 85,345 workers were idled by strikes in the United States and Canada at the end of the work shift last night.

Ford, which already has reached an agreement with the union, said all Ford Division assembly plants will close "for at least the next few working days, beginning Monday," because of parts and materials shortages caused by strikes.

The company said the shutdown would idle about 25,000 in addition to the 10,250 workers already idled by strikes over local grievances.

Sets Off Thundershowers

Chill Creeping Southward

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An early autumn chill crept southward across the country today, setting off a belt of thundershower activity from the southern Rockies into New England.

The mercury shriveled to an icy 20 degrees at Fraser, Colo., and temperature drops of 20 to 30 degrees occurred in the Northeast.

A warming trend over the Pacific Northwest was expected to extend eastward into the northern Plains during the day. Except for the band of thundershowers and the squall area along the East Coast, fair skies were much in evidence.

Early morning temperatures in the 40s and 50s across the Northeast compared with readings in the 70s early Friday. Temperatures in the 30s and 40s were common in north central sections.

Heavy rains were associated with the clashing cool and warm air in parts of the South. White Settlement, a suburb of Fort Worth, Tex., was soaked with a 3½-inch downpour in a 90 minute period Friday.

Although rainfall amounts were on the light side in most other thindershower areas, Malden, Mo measured over one inch and Columbus, Ind., over one-half inch.

The rain area extended from the southern Rockies across the lower Mississippi Valley, the Ohio Valley and into the Northeast.

Warm weather persisted in the Southwest and extended into the humid Southeast.

That is the report of Lawrence C. Morehouse, director of the human performance laboratory at UCLA.

Morehouse, president of the Human Factors Society of America, told yesterday at the University of Michigan about tests on UCLA athletes taken just before the "big game."

He said those who felt subpar physically often ended up running for a long touchdown or catching a game-winning pass while the men who were raring to go in the locker room often left all their vim and vigor there.

He explained that some symptoms of sickness and a few types of actual physical illness result from changes in the adrenal system as an individual prepares for tense, competitive activity.

Newsman Reports Typhoon Disaster

As flood waters brought by Typhoon Ida receded from Japan's windlashed Izu Peninsula, Associated Press Correspondent Fred Saito flew over that disaster area in a chartered plane. This is his report.

By FRED SAITO

MISHIMA, Japan (AP) — The beautiful Kano Valley is churned to a sea of mud. Police reported 38 dead and some 600 missing.

The quietly meandering Kano River exploded into a wild, miles-across torrent, smashing against 12 villages. Two were swept away.

Police in the area said Typhoon Ida had brought 23½ inches of rain on the Izu Peninsula, 70 miles below Tokyo. The rain turned the river into a giant scythe.

Six hundred persons sought shelter in a high school in Kamusaka village. It was smashed to splinters and vanished in the torrent. The fate of the 600 has not been established. The village itself has disappeared.

Five miles down the river, Mikado village was swept away. Stone bases of about 10 houses could be seen from the plane.

Hundreds of acres of rice land around the valley have turned into a lake. Farther down the valley, debris and logs cling around those telephone poles left standing.

Enormous amounts of muddy water are still gushing into the Pacific. The ocean was dyed brownish-green for at least 30 miles off the coast.

See British Attempt

Formosa Compromise?

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — British officials are reported advocating a long range, compromise settlement of the Formosa dispute under which Nationalist-held coastal islands eventually would go to Red China.

The British government also was reported today to be advising the United States against bringing the Formosa crisis before the United Nations in the immediate future. London officials were said to believe the best hope for a peaceful settlement lies in diplomatic negotiations rather than U. N. debate.

According to information current in U. S. official quarters, British leaders think the first requirement in any successful negotiation is agreement on a cease fire. On this point British policy supports the stand taken by the United States in talks with the Red Chinese at Warsaw during the past two weeks.

The British were pictured as believing an eventual settlement should provide for yielding the Nationalist-held offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu to the Communists. Formosa itself, they feel, could be put under the mantle of the United Nations through some device such as a U. N. trusteeship.

The result of this kind of settlement could be a line down the middle of the Formosa Strait to separate U. S.-backed Nationalist power and the forces of Communist China.

Such a solution would run contrary to the presently strong positions of both the Chinese Communists and the Chinese Nationalist regime on Formosa.

In the Warsaw talks between U. S. Ambassador Jacob Beam and Red Chinese Envoy Wang Ping-nan, the Communists have demanded not only that Nationalist China get out of the offshore islands but that the United States abandon the Formosa regime.

The Nationalists have demonstrated every intention of holding on to the Quemoy and Matsu Islands at all costs. In the present crisis they have the support of the United States in this determination.

GM Worker Struck by Car at Center

DETROIT (UPI) — A General Motors worker was seriously injured today when struck by a car operated by another GM worker near the GM Technical Center in Warren Township.

Elvin Bomaster, of Berkley, was taken to Saratoga General Hospital in critical condition from a possible skull fracture and other injuries, after being struck by a car driven by Robert Hensley, 29, as he tried to make a left turn into the Technical Center.

At first, it was believed Bomaster was a United Auto Workers union member picketing at the struck Fisher Body division plant at the Technical Center.

Two Family-Sized Models in '59 Oldsmobile Lines

Details of the new 1959 Oldsmobile cars, which include two new family-sized body styles, are being announced this weekend by Jack F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile Division.

Wolfram stated that the 1959 Olds will feature increased passenger and luggage space, two completely new Rocket engines, more responsive power steering, new air-scoop brakes on all four wheels and other engineering and accessory improvements.

The Holiday sport sedan is a four-door family-size car. The two-door Holiday scenicoupe has an entirely new silhouette, with exceptional visibility in all directions. The two new styles will be available throughout the Oldsmobile line.

An extra large, heat-resistant rear window on the Holiday scenicoupe curves high into the roofline for visibility.

Total glass area in all models has been increased up to 36 per cent to give increased visibility in all directions.

For 1959 Oldsmobile is offering 15 body styles in its "88", Super "88" and "98" series. In each series are the Holiday scenicoupe and Holiday sport sedan, a four-door sedan and a convertible. In the "88" series, in addition, there is a two-door sedan and a Fiesta station wagon. The Fiesta is also built in the Super "88" series.

Oldsmobile has developed two new Rocket engines. Both are reported to be smoother and quieter operating with a new cylinder block, longer cylinder bores and new aluminum pistons and more rigid crankshafts.

Equipped with a two-barrel carburetor, the new engine powering the "88" series is rated at 270 horsepower with 390 lb-foot. of torque. The Super "88" and "98" series are powered by a new Rocket with four-barrel carburetion which develops 315 horsepower with 435 lb.-ft. torque.

Wolfram this week announced the following factory list prices for 59 models, excluding federal, state and local taxes, destination and dealer delivery and handling charges:

"88" Series—Celebrity sedan, $2634; Holiday sport sedan, $2739; Holiday scenicoupe, $2687; 2-door sedan, $2574; convertible coupe, $2991; Fiesta (sedan), $3065.

Economic Aide Chosen by Ike

Assistant in Agriculture Department to Replace Hauge as Adviser

By ROBERT BARKDOLL

WASHINGTON (UPI. — President Eisenhower reached into the Agriculture Department Friday for a new personal economic adviser. He chose Don Paarlberg, an assistant secretary and one of the chief architects of administration farm policy.

The 47-year-old Paarlberg, who succeeds Gabriel Hauge in the post, promptly told a news conference he would advise Eisenhower on economic affairs "in the broad sense" and would not be a special pleader for agriculture.

He also said the threat of inflation was considerable and that it was very important to try to check the danger. In that connection, he said he subscribed to the Lincoln philosophy that government should do for the people only what they could not do themselves.

Hauge leaves next Tuesday to become a vice president of the Manufacturers' Trust Company of New York. Paarlberg, a former Purdue University professor, was expected to take over then.

His appointment was the latest in a series of White House staff changes which may have stemmed at least in part from the resignation of Sherman Adams as the President's chief of staff as a result of the Adams-Goldfine case.

Adams still was on the job today and Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he had no word as to when Adams would leave or when a successor would be named. Political experts believe that whoever is chosen may have Adams' title but not his sweeping authority.

Paarlberg, who was born in West Lafayette, Ind., now heads the Agriculture Department's marketing and foreign agriculture branch. Although this was not spelled out, he was expected to play a somewhat more restricted role than did Hauge.

Spare the Rod, Advises Mother of 19 Children

PENGILLY, Minn. (AP)—Have you considered applying the old-fashioned hair brush remedy to where it will do the most good to discipline your children?

Anna la Doux of Pengilly says "Don't."

Mrs. la Doux, 89, owns no degrees in child psychology. She has not read those hundreds of books and pamphlets on how to rear children.

She can stand on the record of her experience as the mother of 19 children, grandmother of 65, great-grandmother of 167, and great-great-grandmother of 2, totaling 243 direct descendants.

Nine of Mrs. la Doux's 19 children are living.

"If you treat them good and trust them," Mrs. la Doux contends, "they will do right by you." She says her own children returned kindness with kindness when they were young and they haven't changed.

Mrs. la Doux was born in Long Prairie, Minn., April 14, 1869. Her husband, George, died 13 years ago.

Average Person Eats 19 Pounds of Lettuce

EAST LANSING (AP)—Here's a statistic for you—the average American consumes about 19 pounds of lettuce a year.

Diet-consciousness has helped raise per person lettuce consumption by nearly one half since before World War II, reports John Carew, extension vegetable crops specialist at Michigan State University.

Carew said lettuce accounts for 16 per cent of the acreage and 20 per cent of farm value among 24 major fresh vegetable crops.

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Grentz had trouble stuffing his letter into the mail box. He was still trying when firemen arrived and told the 70-year-old man the mailbox was across the street from the fire alarm box.

U.S. Agrees to Send India Surplus Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has agreed to provide India with $238,800,000 worth of surplus wheat and other grains to meet an acute food shortage.

The agreement providing for repayment in Indian rupees was signed by Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter and Harishwar Dayal, India's charge d'affaires, at the State Department.

It was the third surplus commodities agreement between the two countries. It brought the total value of U. S. surplus farm products for India to $664,200,000 since August 1956.

Under the agreement the United States will ship 2,800,000 tons of wheat worth 182 million dollars, 100,000 tons of corn at $5,100,000 and 200,000 tons of grain sorghums at 8 million dollars. In addition the U. S. is paying shipping costs of $43,700,000.

Parade Magazine Sold for More Than $10 Million

CHICAGO (UPI) — Marshall Field Jr., president of Field Enterprises, Inc., has announced completion of the sale of Parade Magazine for more than 10 million dollars.

The Sunday supplement magazine was purchased by Plymouth Rock Publications, owned by John Hay Whitney, New York financier and U.S. Ambassador to Great Britain.

You Can Blame Lincoln

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Officially, residents of Michigan are "Michiganites." But they've been known more commonly as "Michiganders" since the days of Abraham Lincoln, who coined that word in an 1848 address to the House of Representatives.

LUCKY FOR YOU?

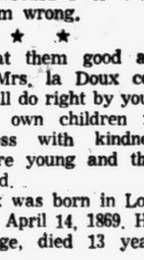

Lots of people are figuring that age 65 will be lucky for them. No more regular duties, time to relax, travel and do a hundred other things. And with enough money to do them. How? First, they have Social Security. Second, they have an easy, sensible plan of saving over the years. This way they need not forfeit their Social Security after 65 by having to work. Life of Virginia has a modern plan to make 65 lucky for you. The cost is less than you would guess. Let me tell you about it.

Reflections

J. L. VOORHEES

FACE THE TRAFFIC

"Face the Traffic" is an admonition for all pedestrians; it has saved many lives and much unhappiness. "Face Your Troubles" is equally wise and sane.

Difficulties are like shadows; the faster we run the faster our shadow follows us; difficulties dodge, may vanish for a minute but always return, sometimes to grotesque shapes, on monstrous, or stretch away seemingly to infinity; it is the same set of difficulties with the same answer, generally simple. To avoid it is only asking for a continuation of an unpleasant situation with pressure building up to explosive proportions. We can't run away from shadows nor avoid a solution to difficulties.

M. E. SIPLE

Face Your Troubles! Try seeing them from the other person's point of view. Be honest with yourself and you'll be honorable with your opponent. He may be right, if he is tell him so. Your trouble will vanish like stars at sunrise.

It Seems to Me . . .

Matthaei Is Responsible if 1964 Olympics Are Held in Detroit

Everyone in this section of the United States owes a tremendous debt of gratitude to FRED C. MATTHAEI.

If the Olympic games are held in Detroit in 1964, the credit goes to him. Almost unaided and alone, FRED has fought this battle for a quarter of a century.

Very, very few people have ever undertaken a personal move in behalf of an entire nation of this magnitude and scrapped it out tenaciously until victory ultimately seemed in sight. The discouragements that have been dropped in Fred's lap would have discouraged a regiment. He has been rebuffed, sidetracked and thrown for a loss, times without number.

BUT HE NEVER QUIT.

The Michigan athletic teams that he has admired so greatly over the years never staged a more courageous battle in all their glorious history, or hung on with as great tenacity and singleness of purpose.

Each four years his bid has faced tremendous and spirited opposition from other cities — and then from other nations.

He has lost to both.

Now Detroit is awarded the call as the U.S. town but this nation still must get the Olympic nod for 1964. If it does, the Olympics will be held at Pontiac's back door.

We vote FRED C. MATTHAEI a Varsity "M" one inch larger than any official campus letter. No undergraduate campus athlete ever won an All-American berth on any athletic team against stouter competition or more insurmountable odds. Here's a fighter that can well serve as an inspiration and symbol to the halfbacks, the pole vaulters, the cross-country men, the left fielders and the whole collegiate menage.

FRED, if they don't let you light that Olympic torch, I'm going to blow it out.

Kennedy-Ives Bill Feeble . . .

This controversial KENNEDY-IVES labor bill may become a more important issue in the current campaign.

Both Republicans and Democrats can embrace it for personal reasons as it twists to suit all purposes. Following the revelation in Congressional investigations into the management of labor unions, a demand arose for a curative measure to help the situation.

Some of this came from labor leaders who are just as anxious to weed out the corrupt and the crooked as anyone else. Another part of the desire came from the union members who want to make sure that elections are honest and the funds of the organizations are put to use for "the good of the order" instead of the good of the individual, including the board and keep of race horses, summer homes and cuddly little redheads stashed away in convenient hideouts.

And probably most importantly, the greatest clamor comes from the great bulk of the population that doesn't belong to unions at all. This largest and most important segment of the population doesn't want dishonesty in government or corruption anywhere.

We all need protection against corrupt officials who are supposed to be spokesmen and pathfinders. The KENNEDY-IVES bill was basically designed to do this. But it was watered down to a feeble copy of the original. Hence, the Legislators could vote in favor of that on the theory that half a loaf's better than none; or they could vote a disgusted "no" with the idea an effective measure would develop in the next session. Our own Representative, WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD voted for it although he said on the House floor it was far from satisfactory. Thus it's a political football which is easy to kick in either direction.

Don't be fooled.
It's a sitting duck.

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Unsubstantiated rumors in newspaper circles in Moscow suggest three highly placed gentlemen in the Russian hierarchy have the Big Finger squarely on them. Watch for "news." . . . . . We seem to have had a goodly share of distance auto plates this summer. Just recently I noted Idaho, Washington, Vermont, Florida (3), Texas, Arizona and North Carolina . . . . . Golfers, have hope. This summer one of the greatest of all the gal players, MARLENE HAGGE, had five (5) putts on one hole in a medal stroke match. It cost her beaucoup bucks for she was only three strokes behind the winner . . . . . THELMA MCKENNA, of Queens (NY), just had her sixth child. Remarkable? It suttinly is. She's twenty years old (and has been married seven years).

In Hamburg (Germany) they've introduced a system of lights which automatically flash red when a car exceeds the speed limit . . . . . Last January Eisenhower's popularity notched a nifty 58. After Sherman Adams, it dove to 51 and now it's back to 57 . . . . . Harry G. Kipke, former Michigan All-American halfback and later coach, was elected Chairman of The Board for Coca Cola in Chicago. He has been very successful in business. I've played a lot of golf with him over the years and he had more 77's than anyone that ever lived . . . . . I'm always intrigued by those cartoons showing two people on a desert island. Apparently the possibilities are endless for they're always funny.

Great Britain's economy is getting a bit jittery for the first time since the war. Pessimists foresee a "significant recession." . . . . . This knocks me for a loop: Georgia farmers total more dough from chickens than from cotton . . . . . It's always the unexpected. Now air officials fear the new high powered jets may be barred from some airports because of their noise . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's —Indiana's football team which isn't too stout or rugged and yet which plays Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota, Iowa, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Navy and others; the J's—EDDIE FISHER and ELIZABETH TAYLOR.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

A well read Bible went to Moscow with Van Cliburn, the young pianist from Texas who, in winning the international Tchaikowsky contest, also won the hearts of thousands of Russians and Americans.

Van received not only technical training from his mother. "He was reared with faith from the cradle up," his father tells me.

The Van Cliburns have daily family devotionals. Before a performance in Buffalo, Van prayed with the conductor that God give them the power to make good music together.

"Without God, what could he do?" his father says. "Van never enters into anything without his faith."

Days of All Faiths

Happy Festival Follows Solemnity

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

On the 15th of Tishri, five days after the Jews' most solemn day, comes the happy nine-day long harvest festival called Sukkoth. There was a time, long ago, when this was the main festival of the year. When anyone said simply "the festival," he meant Sukkoth. It was the big holiday, the first ever celebrated in Solomon's Temple, the one which always drew the largest throngs of pilgrims to Jerusalem.

Sukkoth celebrates the time of year when the ancient Israelites, mostly farmers in those days, gathered in their fruit harvest and then gave thanks to Almighty God. There are scholars who think the Massachusetts Puritans drew their inspiration for our American Thanksgiving from reading about this festival in the Old Testament.

Sukkoth means booths or tabernacles. It refers to the fact that during these nine days it used to be the custom for everyone to move out of his house and live in a small flimsy booth erected in the yard.

City people nowadays, of course, cannot follow this old tradition. Instead, the usual thing now is for the members of a synagogue to build one large booth for the whole congregation. Of course they cannot all live in it, but it stands as a symbol of the family booths they would like to build.

The booth is a fragile framework decorated with vegetables and fruits appropriate to the season. Everyone in the family takes part in the decoration, and a great deal of imagination and artistic talent sometimes goes into it.

The roof is made of leaves and branches, easily seen through. The lesson drawn from the frailty of the structure is that all material things are weak and transient. The roof is left partly open so a man may look up and direct his thoughts toward heaven.

It is not really known how these booths became connected with the festival of harvest thanksgiving. The usual statement about them is that they represent the crude shelters in which the Jews lived during their 40-year migration from Egypt to Palestine. This is somewhat illogical, however, because the flight from Egypt is associated with Passover and not with Sukkoth.

A good guess is that Sukkoth pilgrims in Jerusalem, having no need to worry about bad weather at this time of year, did not bother to find lodgings but lived outdoors in hastily erected shacks of this kind.

St. Jerome, translator of the Vulgate Bible, came to his most important work in a roundabout way. When he started his religious life as a member of an informal community he had no thought of translating the Scriptures.

The community soon broke up, and the chances are Jerome had something to do with that. He was always hard to get along with — a real curmudgeon. He went then to Palestine to live as a hermit, so he had no problems of relationships with other people.

But he did have other problems. He kept seeing beautiful women — dancing girls — in fantasy. To control his imagination he set himself the task of learning the Hebrew language. Born of a well-to-do family, Jerome had had a splendid education and had done exceptionally well with his studies.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Run Around in Circles? Not for This 'Square'

"When people ask me what I do for my skin and I tell them all my beauty aids are applied internally they think I'm a 'square.' The ninny hammers nibble all day on sweet rolls, soda pop, coffee and then spend $15 on some magic Jelly which they think will give them a lovely complexion overnight. (Elsa)."

DR BRADY

Answer — Apparently a "square" is someone with too much sense to keep running around in circles.

". . . In fact, I believe, as do many of the honest men in the profession, that the toothbrush is the initial cause of most gum disease of today . . . (—— D.D.S.)"

Answer—Thank you, Doctor. I regard use of toothbrush and dentrifice as a silly business which encourages the user to think he or she can keep the teeth free from decay without regular inspection, cleaning and treatment by the dentist. Experts estimate there are 30 million morons in this country. I estimate 30 million people seriously believe that "a clean tooth never decays."

"Would thank you to recommend a psychiatrist in—and tell me what price he charges for consultation. (S.V.W.)"

Answer—I regret I have no information concerning fees or costs.

"Is vitamin B-complex fattening? I gained some weight while taking it, and I want to lose weight. (S.B.)"

Answer—No.

"According to this clipping, a certain doctor says the American habit of sleeping with window open is an important cause of 'grippe and respiratory infections by chilling the body when asleep.' As for sleeping in a stuffy bedroom with windows closed—ugh! (Mrs. H.L.M.)"

Answer—If the night air really chills, wear warmer sleeping clothes or use warmer covers. Exclude cold wind by using a window screen of unbleached muslin. There is no scientific evidence that chilling causes or contributes to the development of any respiratory infection.

Factory Wife Is No Slave; She Feels Grateful to GM

After reading the letter protesting being a slave to General Motors, I feel the writer should hang his head in shame.

My husband works for General Motors, and I certainly do not feel we are slaves. He could never hold an executive position (I wonder if the writer of that letter could), but we have a good life as a factory family and feel lucky to live in this area.

We've never known what it is to be cold and hungry. General Motors pays half our Social Security costs and half our hospitalization, which we could not afford to carry as individuals.

That writer forgets that American people have the highest standard of living of any country. We'd be lucky to own a cow in Russia.

Let's start counting our blessings, and stop playing into the hands of the Communists. As for Walter Reuther, where do you think he would be if we didn't have a General Motors? Do you think he would provide for you?

Tells Police Critics to Change Topic

I witnessed a conversation the other day concerning an automobile accident. It seems two men went into a swampy gulley in their car. Luckily, the State Police were a few cars behind.

One officer was probably responsible for saving the life of one of the men in the car. Apparently the man's head was almost covered with swamp water when the officers lifted the auto on one end of it, thus saving the man from drowning. The officer was treated for a back injury.

How about praising the police departments instead of consistently running them down? The average citizen doesn't know about such above emergency procedures and probably wouldn't endanger their own safety such as a policeman does every day.

Why don't some of the big, brave men who run down the police departments try discussing something they know about, such as mowing lawns or putting on storm windows? I'm certain your talents would be appreciated.

Why not let people involved settle their own problems instead of letting a few armchair kibitzers stir up a stew when they don't even know all the ingredients?

Says Layoff Hurts Hospital Function

This is in regards to treatment of patients at Pontiac General Hospital. Until the layoff there of Sept. 20, the service was excellent. After that until I left Sept. 23 it was very poor. The nurses and orderlies are very nice and helpful, doing all they can, but the layoff made them do double duty.

The Commission claims the census is so low they have to cut down on help. If this is so, why are patients on beds in the halls. I've seen seven beds in the hall on fourth floor many times.

This is a disgrace to the City and sure is a hardship on the patients.

'Integration Doesn't End in Marriage'

How can we reason that we're given more rights by our Creator than Negroes? They, as we, were given understanding and free will, and pride in their divine origin, which is the same for whites, blacks, reds, browns or yellows.

The whites and blacks are permitted to marry now and few do. Whites and yellows can marry and few do. Each color, as reason and history tell us, prefers its own and school integration won't change that any more than living in the same city will.

I and my children have friends who are Negroes and Indians and they've proven to be good friends. Marry them? No, justice or desire doesn't demand that. We must treat them as equals in schools, churches and community. We, who are white on the outside must prove we're all white. What's inside counts now and finally.

The Country Parson

"God has little chance to help a fellow unless he is willing to do something for God."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Love Needn't Stop at Middle Age

Martha's case used to be far commoner than it is today, for 50,000,000 Americans now read this column and have learned the true facts. Love has no deadline. So physical charm is not linked to your 45th birthday nor to the presence or absence of a uterus (womb).

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z-330: Martha K., aged 47, is a neurotic wife who has made life miserable for her entire family for several years.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, my mother is abnormally jealous and suspicious of my father," Martha's 25-year-old daughter informed me. "Mother accuses him of outlandish affairs which are absolutely untrue.

"Last Sunday we went to dinner at a restaurant. Mother had a tantrum right there in public, for when Daddy smiled and spoke to the waitress, Mother denounced the girl and then stamped out of the restaurant.

"Dr. Crane, she never used to be jealous and neurotic. Is this the effect of the menopause?"

MENOPAUSE MALARKY

No, it isn't the menopause but Martha's false notions concerning the menopause!

Woman's "change of life" would cause scarcely a ripple of shock if women just knew the true medical facts.

That very phrase "change of life," however, helps convince them that they are "changed" women.

And most of them, ever since Eve, have erroneously imagined the change was for the worse.

"I can't possibly be attractive to my husband," is the usual wail of the old-fashioned menopausal wife.

"I have lost all my physical appeal. I am nothing but a nothing and not a thing at all!"

This melancholy notion produces a whole flock of so-called menopausal symptoms, ranging from hysterical weeping and nagging of the long-suffering husband.

"You don't love me any more," she charges him far into the night.

Other classical symptoms are excessive jealousy, hypersensitiveness to imagined affronts and inattention, plus law suits for separation, as well as vindictive allmony demands.

Nowadays, too, these wives often flee from their fears via alcohol and become chronic drunks, during which times they may have affairs.

LOVE HAS NO DEADLINE

What really disturbs these neurotic menopausal wives is the terror that they can no longer have physical appeal because their womb is not functioning.

This is a silly notion, for the womb is not primarily a "love" organ, anyway, but is comparatively excess baggage as a "maternal" organ, being used maybe only three or four times in 30 years of functioning.

It contributes little more to a woman's sex life than the vermiform appendix contributes to her enjoyment of dinner parties!

The female uterus (womb) can thus be surgically removed because of fibroids and such a woman's husband would not even know the difference in their marriage, unless he were told.

Lack of her womb thus does not disturb her husband, nor would its stoppage of function at the age of 45 have any significant effect on the average wife if she got wise to these medical facts.

Furthermore, it isn't the womb but the sensitive nerve endings in the genitalia that produce erotic excitement, and these nerves are linked to the brain — NOT to the womb!

Your brain and nervous system thus last as long as you live, so never fret any longer about the presence or absence of a uterus.

Millions of wives enjoy marriage far more after the menopause and function as thrilling and thrillable mates till they are 70, 80 and even 90 years of age.

To get further facts, send for the booklet "Menopausal Complexes," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Give it to every wife who is growing jittery or fearful of the 45-mark.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Deaths Elsewhere

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Breckinridge Long, 77, assistant secretary of state during world wars and onetime U. S. ambassador to Italy, died Friday. He held the State Department post during President Woodrow Wilson's administration and again 20 years later. He was ambassador to Italy 1933-36. Long, who had been ill for some time, practiced international law and had taken part in several special diplomatic missions.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Dr. Emil G. Schmidt, 63, member of the medical school faculty of the University of Maryland since 1925 and head of the university's biochemistry department, was found dead in his Baltimore apartment Thursday.

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Claude V. Russell, prominent Lansing physician for 50 years, died at his home Thursday night of a heart ailment. He was 77.

Dr. Russell was former surgery chief for the State Health and Corrections Departments and was a former Lansing city physician. He also served as chief of staff for the St. Lawrence and Edward W. Sparrow Hospitals. He retired from active practice in 1941.

Stout Anti-Red Controls Burma

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Gen. Ne Win, staunchly anti-Communist head of the armed forces, controlled Burma today. He stepped in to halt political feuding that threatened to give Communists the balance of power.

Premier U Nu announced last night that he will resign Oct. 28 so Win can be named premier to arrange free elections.

Win said he will continue Burma's neutral policy in foreign affairs. This little Southeast Asian republic of 19 million persons between Thailand and India has a 1,500-mile border with Red China.

The army seized power early yesterday, moving swiftly to control key points after two days of rumors that a coup was impending. An army communique said the seizure was to preserve law, order and democracy.

After daylong discussions, U Nu announced that Win had accepted his invitation to become premier at a meeting of Parliament in one month.

Win, 48, was deputy premier in 1950 and earlier served as defense minister. He is commander-in-chief of the armed forces, which consist primarily of the army of 60,000 to 80,000 men.

Communists have tried to penetrate and subvert his army, Win has said. "We must fight the Reds tooth and nail."

In a nationwide broadcast asking support for the general, U Nu said:

"We intended to hold general elections in November this year, but we came to realize that (they) could not be free and fair. I invited Gen. Win to make arrangements essential for holding such free elections within six months."

U Nu had scheduled the November elections in hopes of bolstering his government after a split last June in his political party, which has ruled Burma since it won independence from Britain in 1948.

Prepare Conference on Teenage Safety

Plans are under way for a Pontiac area teenage safety conference under the supervision of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Committee and GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Teenagers on the Conference Steering Committee are Carol Fitch, Clarkston High; Larry Edmann, Bloomfield High; Alfred Monetta, Milford High; Mike Flynn, St. Michael High; Tony Hiller; Waterford High; and Harrison Munson, Pontiac Central.

Defense Education Funds Considered

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan could receive nearly $3,720,000 under provisions of the National Defense Education Act if state plans were made to qualify under the act, Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett said today.

Bartlett said the act was "the first time in our history that Congress has given financial aid to great segments of our educational system in a single measure."

He said the act covered elementary, secondary and high education, aid for educational mass media, aid to needy students, aid to university graduate schools and to the State Department of Education.

Bartlett, just returned from a Washington conference with U.S. Commissioner of Education Lawrence G. Derthick, said no funds would be available until the Legislature set up authority to receive the money.

Circuit-Court Bound on Murder Charge

ST. JOHNS (AP) — Vincent Hengesbach, 52, bachelor farmer charged with the bludgeon slaying of his stepmother, has been ordered held for Circuit Court arraignment on an open charge of murder.

The Justice Court preliminary examination lasted two days and was attended by a throng of farm neighbors. The crowd of spectators was such that the examination was moved from Justice Court to Circuit Court chambers.

Justice Alba Wert found probable cause and ordered Hengesbach held without bond for Circuit Court arraignment Oct. 8.

Hengesbach has steadfastly denied that he killed his stepmother, Mrs. Anna Hengesbach, 63-year-old widow.

Gas Station Cooperates as Wayne Cameras Turn

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University's movie studio is located next to a service station.

Whenever the movie makers plan to shoot a film they send someone next door to ask the people in the gas station not to use their hydraulic lift. It seems that the extra electricity needed to operate the lift fouls up the current and the technicians can't run their cameras.

Childhood Education Association Tea Held

The annual fall tea sponsored by the Association for Childhood Education was held Thursday at the Willis School.

Mrs. Harold Muldowney, president, welcomed guests and presented a gift on behalf of the association, to Dorothy Virtues, last year's president and advisor to the 1958-59 executive board.

Program chairman Margaret Wilmot and Nancy Gieger were introduced by Mrs. Muldowney.

DRAMATIZATION GIVEN

A dramatization of the history and philosophy of the organization was given . It also explained the 1957-59 "Plan of Action for Children."

The Association is made up of more than 80,000 persons concerned with the well-being of children from 2 through 12 years of age.

Announcement was made of the annual ACE-sponsored Children's Theater play, "Simple Simon," to be produced by students of Central High School Drama Workshop, Oct. 20-25. The play, to be given for elementary school children, will be directed by Garth Errington.

New Look— Moth Eyes for Depth

The new look of allure for a season of exciting new looks is "moth eyes," launched this fall in several fashion capitals of the world by an international beauty expert.

This fluttery look of lashes, like the wings of a moth, has as one-third inspiration a Marie Laurencin painting, one-third a fey creature from a Vertes drawing, and one-third a Graham Green woman of mystery.

Having interpreted this look, like a painter improvising in front of his canvas, the expert tells you how to achieve it:

For the shadowy, fluttery look of "moth eyes," make-up lids with three light applications of iridescent eye shadow: all neutral: (1) brown, (2) blue and (3) lavender, layered one over the other like overlapping waves. To insure the overlap look, don't rub one color with the other; merely stroke them on. The effect is one of depth and mystery, more than color.

Fringe in Style

Carelessly Clad Women Rush to Pick Up Mail—or Mailman?

"DEAR ABBY: What's wrong with so many women nowadays? Don't they have any modesty or decency at all?

ABBY

My husband comes home from his mail route and tells me he wishes these women with their short shorts and tight jeans would cover up. He says most women answer the door in their bathrobes until noon!

"I was taught to dress up in the morning with shoes, stockings, undergarments and a dress. But then I wasn't interested in tempting strange men who came to my door. I hope some women will read this and take the hint!"

My girl friend lives a few doors away and she came and told me that my 8-year-old boy has been finding out about the birds and the bees with her 5-year-old daughter. Should the kids be punished or what? TWO LOST MOTHERS

DEAR MOTHERS: Punished for a curiosity that is as natural as breathing? Certainly not! Let the children know that you are willing to answer all their questions — and don't act embarrassed or they'll come to regard the subject of "sex" as something wrong and shameful.

DEAR ABBY: I was Uncle Tony to 16 nieces and 24 nephews, but now I am a dirty dog. I have a little grocery store and always let my nieces and nephews have a stick of gum or a piece of licorice, but about a year ago they got to sticking their hands in the cash register and helping themselves to packaged cookies and potato chips and it started to get expensive.

"I warned them in a nice way but when cigarettes started to disappear I watched them all. January 1st, 1958, I sent them each an itemized statement. The total amounted to $101.20 but nobody paid. Instead they don't come near my store and even my sisters and brothers are mad at me. Did I do wrong?"

DEAR UNCLE: If you warned them, and they paid no attention, you did right!

DEAR ABBY: A letter in your column caused me to write what I am about to say. I am 51 years old. I love housework and keep myself busy. I have three married children and they have children of their own. I used to drop everything and run to baby-sit for them. I didn't realize I was neglecting my husband.

"A few things happened around Christmas time that made me realize my children didn't care as much for my happiness as I cared for theirs. I have made up my mind that I have ONE baby to tend, and that is my husband. After 33 years I just woke up."

"DEAR ABBY: This boy was supposed to be my boy friend. He went to the hospital to have his appendix out. He also had his tonsils out He told me he couldn't have any company, so I sent him a 25 cent get-well card. I just found out he had a bunch of kids come and visit him. Should I have it out with him?"

MAD

DEAR MAD: This boy has had enough "out"... Wait till he gets his strength back and then discuss it with him. His visitors probably came on their own.

Denise Beatrice Robins and Ronald Russell Seiber were married this afternoon at Christ Church Cranbrook. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robins of Orchard Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Seiber of Kansas City, Mo.

MRS. RONALD R. SEIBER

Seiber-Robins Nuptials Solemnized at Cranbrook

Christ Church Cranbrook was the scene this afternoon of the wedding of Denise Beatrice Robins and Ronald Russell Seiber.

The Rev. William C. Norvell officiated at the ceremony before 150 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robins of Orchard Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Seiber of Kansas City, Mo.

The bride wore a white silk-mist taffeta gown with appliqued re-embroidered Alencon lace on the bodice extending down the back of the chapel train. Her silk illusion net veil was held by a pearl coronet and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

ATTEND BRIDE

Sally Blanchard of Bloomfield Hills was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. John Rogers of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Arthur Robins of Sioux City, Iowa.

The attendants wore rose-red velveteen dresses with draped satin skirt bands accented by bows at the front and back. They wore matching velvet bands with circular veils and carried bouquets of pale pink roses.

Arthur H. Robins of Sioux City, Iowa, was best man. Ushers were John Rogers and Theodore Watson; both of Bloomfield Hills.

DINNER RECEPTION

A dinner reception was held at Bloomfield Hills Country Club following the ceremony.

The bride selected a green wool suit with brown accessories for her going-away outfit. The newlyweds plan to honeymoon in Santa Barbara, Calif. They will make their home in Pasadena, Calif.

The bride attended Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N. Y. The bridegroom attended Northwestern University.

Explain the Plan to Family

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My sister and her husband will be celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary in a short while and we (the members of her family consisting of two sisters and two brothers) would like to celebrate the occasion by taking them out to dinner and dividing the check amongst us. Would it be proper to ask her husband's family to join us on this occasion and pay for their own dinners?"

Answer: It would I think be a good idea to tell the husband's family of your plan and ask them if they would like to join you and share the expenses.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I plan a large wedding reception in a private club after the ceremony. There will be about 200 guests. I had intended using place cards to seat the guests, but the caterer told me that they are not used at a reception of this size. I think it would be very awkward and cause much confusion among the guests not to be told where to sit. What is your opinion?"

Answer: Seating 200 guests with place cards definitely is not practical. As a rule only three tables are seated with place cards — the bridal table and the parents' two tables. The other guests sit where they find room with friends or relatives of their own.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My boy friend's brother-in-law (his sister's husband) is very ill and not expected to live. I have never met either of them. In the event of death, would it be proper to send flowers or to go to the funeral home to pay my respects even though they are strangers to me?"

Answer: If you had met his sister you would send flowers, but as things are, it will be best to do nothing.

Here's How!

Keep the Vitamins in Your Food

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Today I would like to summarize some of the factors which affect the vitamin content of foods.

1. Do not cook your vegetables too long and use as little water as possible. Greens lose only 25 per cent of their vitamin content when cooked for half an hour, while they lose a great deal more if cooked longer.

2. Vitamin C and many of the B complex vitamins are soluble in water. From 40 to 50 per cent of the vitamin content of canned vegetables is in the canning liquid—therefore, use this as well as the vegetables themselves.

3. Use the outer portions of fruits and vegetables whenever possible.

4. Do not use soda when cooking vegetables, even if it makes them look prettier. This speeds the vitamin loss.

5. Save any water you must pour off vegetables in sealed jars in the refrigerator for use in soups and sauces.

6. Choose vegetables and fruits which are ripe. The riper they are, the higher their vitamin content, so long as the skin has not been bruised or cut.

7. Berries should be used within a few days after their harvest. If they are free from bruising and shipped in refrigeration, they lose little vitamin C in 48 to 72 hours.

8. Whenever possible, bake potatoes and eat the skins. If you must boil them, boil them in their skins.

9. Canned fruit and fruit juices and tomatoes retain their vitamin content better than non-acid foods.

10. Whenever possible we should avoid the highly polished and the fine foods. For instance, polished white rice gives us little but calories. The rice bran and rice germ are wonderful sources of thiamine but they are removed in the milling process. Thus white rice loses about 80 per cent of its vitamin D content. Therefore, it is much better to eat brown rice or converted rice.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Vitamin in Your Diet" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 38 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Press Food Editor Gains Ideas at New York Meet

By JANET ODELL

NEW YORK — As a climax of a typical New England breakfast, the National Biscuit Company served mock apple pie to the food editors Thursday morning.

Sixty-five stories above New York's busy streets at the top of Rockefeller Center we ate dry cereal with maple eggnog, baked corned beef hash centered with an egg and date-filled cornmeal muffins. A haze obscured the view, but the tops of the skyscrapers were visible.

We saw movies of early 20th Century cracker-making plants and then of the newest factory where machines take over all operations.

From New England we were transported to Alaska of the gold rush days. Walls of the hotel room were lined with logs to represent buildings of that time. A trio of real Alaskan husky dogs were the chief attraction on the stage. Descendants of dogs born in the north, these friendly huskies live in New Hampshire and do nothing more strenuous than compete in races.

Evaporated milk and the part it played in the settlement of Alaska was the theme of the program. The sponsors, Carnation Company, took this opportunity to introduce their new canned, condensed baby formula.

OFF TO ITALY

At noon we went to Italy for lunch with the corn products refining people.

Wednesday at General Foods at an after-theater party we sampled cookies and candies made with the new caramel chips.

On the buffet table there was a salad bowl that held enough salad for 300 people! It was the famous Senate salad bowl that has been making the rounds of the country for the past several months. Carved from wood, it's at least five feet across and some 18 or 20 inches tall.

Earlier in the day we listened to a panel of meat experts tell us that meat prices probably won't change too much one way or the other in the near future. They predicted heavier supplies of meat, especially of pork, by 1960. Looks as if we'll still have to be careful planning for the meat course for some time.

James Beard, the jolly and rotund exponent of outdoor cooking, has taken to luxury. He was basting a chicken in an electric rotisserie at Wednesday's demonstration.

This luncheon gave us an opportunity to try every kind of meat that could be cooked on a grill, a hibachi or a rotisserie.

When the Mayflower II landed last year, the captain brought with him a recipe for bread that he had used on board. This was served to us at Wednesday's breakfast. We'll give you the bread recipe later.

In connection with this breakfast a number of companies showed their new products. We saw a machine that takes a dollar bill, delivers the item you select from a panel in front, and makes change. The supermarket of the future will be a gigantic punchboard.

New pry-off caps that press back on easily were in another booth. Paper aprons that would be just the thing for church suppers or waitresses were in still another.

Making Home in Clarkston

Residing in Clarkston are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bray following their Sept. 20 marriage in St. Andrew Episcopal Church.

The bride, the former Jean Hoffman, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Hoffmann of Drayton Plains. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bray of Orlando avenue.

The bride wore a waltz-length gown of taffeta and lace with a cloche headpiece of seed pearls holding a shoulder-length veil. She wore a pearl cross and carried an arrangement of shattered carnations and lilies of the valley on a white prayerbook.

Gail Gibson was maid of honor and Judy Hoffmann, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid. Their gowns were of flocked organdy over taffeta, in blue and orchid respectively, and they carried colonial arrangements of carnations in matching colors.

Melanie Ott from Cleveland was flower girl.

William F. Bray was best man and Bruce Brede and Russell Bennett seated the guests.

Special Talents Bow to Greatest of Gifts

By RUTH MILLETT

"I wish I had some special talent," said a housewife wistfully.

Since the woman who made the remark happens to have in abundance the very talents that once were considered a woman's greatest assets, I was startled by her remark.

Why should a woman who has the knack for turning any house she lives in into a comfortable and charming home, who has a happy and admiring husband, who has healthy well-mannered children, who is a charming hostess, who makes friends easily and keeps them forever, who manages a well-run home and who looks more like a girl than a middle-aged matron think she has no talents?

Just look at all the talents she has. She has a talent for interior decoration that enables her to give a room comfort and beauty and a reflection of her tastes and her family's interests.

She has a talent for showing a man the love and admiration and understanding that makes him a happy husband and proud father.

She has a talent for guiding children into the habits that form character and pleasing personalities.

She has a talent for friendship that benefits her whole family.

She has a talent for organization and planning that makes her an excellent housekeeper.

She has a talent for making the most of herself as a person.

Confident Living

Failure Finds Success by Getting Organized

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I was recently invited to another city to make a speech at a banquet and was advised I would be met at my hotel by the head of this particular organization, who would drive me to to the function.

DR. PEALE

He called me from downstairs at the exact moment I had been told he would call. I went down to meet him and found him most impressive. And I was even more impressed by the way he ran the meeting that evening.

As he drove me back to the hotel, I told him, "You had me come here to make an inspirational speech to your group, but, believe me, you're inspirational enough without importing anyone from outside."

"Well," he said, "if you think I'm inspirational, you should have known me five years ago! When I got out of college, I was going to make myself a million dollars right off and I went out to do it. I found out I couldn't. So I got disgusted. I thought that the only way to get ahead was to do what everybody else was doing."

So, under the mistaken impression that everyone who achieved success "lived it up," he started down a number of dead end roads—liquor, marital difficulties, all sorts of things. "Finally one night," he told me, "I wrapped my car around a telepohne pole and was soon lying on my back in a hospital where I spent six weeks.

"When you haven't anything to do but to look up at the ceiling," he continued, "you start to think. And I thought to myself, I've certainly messed everything up. I started well enough. I got some good grades at school. I had brains and I had connections. I have a good mind and a good body. Yet, here I am—a failure."

When he was able to sit up, his mother came to see him one day and brought him a Bible to read. And he started to read it. Eventually he came to the fourth chapter of Proverbs, where it says in the twenty-third verse, "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." And for some reason this gripped him.

But, what did the Bible mean when it told you to keep your heart with all diligence? He sent for his pastor to find out. The pastor, obviously a wise minister, told him that what is meant by "your heart" is the deep subconscious, the innermost self out of which the personality develops. If you get inwardly organized around God, he said, keeping Him as the center and diligently holding to that, then the issues of life, instead of flowing away from you, will flow to you.

"So," my host continued, "I got organized." Then he used a glorious sentence. "God and I took authority over my life." And I knew what he meant as he said: "I began to stand up to things. I began to control things. Now I am having the time of my life."

His boast was not bravado. It was awareness of one's true nature, based upon humble faith. And, as I go from city to city and place to place, I find that there is nothing more thrilling than meeting and talking with people who have found this to be true.

Out of your heart, out of the depths of the best in you, you too can control the issues of life.

Promotion Day at 9:30 Service

Luther League Host to Eastern Michigan District Youth

A Rally and Promotion day has been scheduled Sunday at Waterford Township's Christ Lutheran Church on Williams Lake road.

Opening the 9:30 a.m. Sunday School service, the Luther League Choir will present several numbers directed by Mrs. John Wiley. A goal of some 500 pupils and teachers has been set for this service.

At 11 a.m. the school staff of 60 members will be installed during the worship service by Rev. Arvid E. Anderson, pastor. The Junior and Senior Choirs will present special anthems.

Beginning at 3 p.m., the Luther League will be hosts to more than 200 youths from churches of the Eastern Michigan District of the Augustana Lutheran Church.

Following the supper hour, Dr. Wilton E. Bergstrand, executive director of the Luther League will speak on his recent world-wide tour.

Rev. Ralph C. Claus to Address School

St. Trinity Lutheran Church will celebrate Rally Day tomorrow with the Rev. Ralph C. Claus, pastor, addressing the entire Sunday School at the 9:45 morning service.

The pastor's talk will be followed by the showing of a Bible story film.

At the 8:30 a.m. worship hour, the lower grades of the Sunday School will sing "I Am Jesus' Little Lamb." The upper classes will sing "Stand Up, Stand Up For Jesus" at the 11 a.m. service.

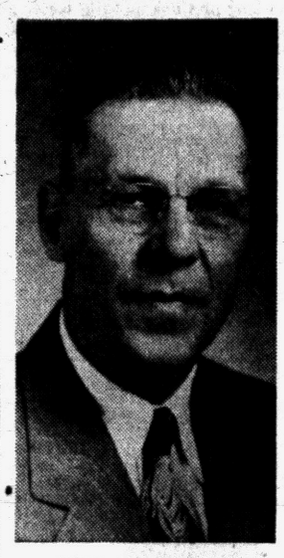

Edwin Barnhart, Sunday School superintendent, announces Promotion Sunday will be Oct. 5 with the teachers of the school consecrated during a service.

Pennsylvania Pastor to Be Guest Preacher

The Rev. Joseph McCoy of Morning Star Baptist Church, Clairton, Pa. will be guest preacher Sunday morning in the Macedonia Baptist Church, 420 Bloomfield Ave.

He will also be speaking at the special services being held at 8 p.m., Sunday through Thursday. The Rev. L. R. Miner, pastor, stated the public has been invited.

Missionaries to Speak Nights at Alliance Church

REV. D. O. WARD

The annual Missionary Convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church, 220 N. Cass Lake Rd. at M59 will be held at 7:30 each night Sunday through Oct. 5 except Saturday.

Missionary work is carried on by the Alliance churches in all aarts of the world in 138 languages with 3,052 trained native workers besides the 822 members of the missionary force.

Voluntary offerings from churches in the United States and Canada amount to $3,000,000. The local church has given $14,000 to the program the last four years.

The Rev. D. O. Ward, returned missionary from Jordan, and Rev. D. I. Jeffrey, msisonary from Viet Nam, will begin their ministry here Monday night.

The Rev. Mr. Ward has been serving among the Arabs, particularly the tribes living in goats-hair tents on the deserts. During world War I, the Wards kept "open house" for men of the Allied Forc at mission headquarters in Jerusalem.

Rev. Jeffrey has completed six terms of service in Indo-China, beginning his work in 1918.

Through the critical years after World War I,I Mr. Jeffrey has led missionaries and national workers in rehabilitation and relief. Recently his work has been with prisoners.

Floyd Miles and Keith Baldwin will participate in the release of 500 helium-filled balloons at Marimont Baptist Church at 11 a.m. on Oct. 11.

The balloons are a part of the preliminary plans for announcing the ninth International Sunday School Contest which begins on Oct. 12 and continues through Nov. 16.

Leslie Hudson, state representative, will take part in the release of another 500 balloons at 3 in the afternoon.

Children in the beginners, primary, and junior departments will see a film, "The Red Sea" during the Sunday School hour tomorrow. They will also be promoted.

Teachers and officers of the church school are having a contest of their own from Oct. 12 to Nov. 16. Points will be given for punctuality, following up on absent children, and calling on new prospects.

Each department will have a "Teacher of the Week Award."

Children's Meetings Slated at Scott Lake

The Rev. Orville J. Windell, pastor, announces a series of children's meetings will be held Monday through Saturday at the Assembly of God Church, 1092 Scott Lake Rd. Sessions will be conducted from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Nellie Whiteside and Barbara Fellows of the Assembly of God Church on Melbourne street will be in charge.

Flash cards will be used and flannelgraph stories told.

Unitarians Break Ground for Area Church Building

A ten-year dream progressed toward reality this week when the Pontiac, Birmingham and Royal Oak members of the Unitarian Church held a groundbreaking ceremony on land surrounding the Cranbrook Foundation corner at Woodward and Lone Pine roads.

The church with now over 200 members began with discussion meetings organized by Albert M. MacCleery and Eugene Hesz in the spring of 1948.

A year later 19 persons became charter members of the Birmingham Unitarian Fellowship, holding services once a month in the Birmingham Community House.

In the fall of 1951, the church school was started in the Apple Orchard School and early in 1952 a part time minister was obtained with services held in the Birmingham YMCA.

In December of 1954 a constitution was adopted and the group became a church. The next month the group moved to the Upton School in Royal Oak.

An active discussion group was formed in Pontiac two years ago for members living in the northern part of the parish. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Salley of Drayton Plains have been members since the early fellowship days.

Audio Visual Conference at 1 P.M. Tuesday

Christian Literature Sales is planning a special Audio Visual Conference for all pastors, youth directors and audio visual directors at 1 p.m. Tuesday in the multi-purpose room of the store, at 39 Oakland Ave.

The Rev. Don Bauter, a specialist in the audio visual field, will be leading the discussion, presenting ideas and answering questions.

According to Floyd P. Miles, manager of the store, emphasis has been on the use of audio visuals in the church in conventions and trade shows this summer as well as denominational and independent publications and conferences.

"We have planned this conference to help churches in this area and surrounding counties to know what is available in audio visuals and how to use them properly," said Miles.

Holy Communion at 1st Free Methodist

Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 11 a.m. service Sunday in the First Free Methodist Church, 501 Mt. Clemens St.

The Rev. Lyal H. Howison will dedicate more than 50 teachers and officers of the Sunday School during the service.

At 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, evangelistic meetings will begin at the church with the Rev. O. R. Tessaro of Pittsburgh, Pa., the preacher. Services to be held each evening will continue through Oct. 12.

New Bethel Baptists to Observe Youth Day

Youth Day will be observed tomorrow in New Bethel Baptist Church beginning at the 9:30 service. The Rev. Clarence L. Crew will speak at the 11 a.m. worship hour.

Young people will conduct their own service at 6 p.m. and at the 7 p.m. service two religious films will be shown, "The Boy, Jesus and the Baptism" and "The Temptation of Jesus." The Rev. Amos G. Johnson stated the public is invited.

EDUCATIONAL UNIT — Members of the Memorial Baptist Church, 351 Prospect St., announce plans of the new educational unit to be built on property purchased at Michigan and Midland streets. If construction can be started by Oct. 1, the architects, John E. Roth & Sons of Birmingham, stated the congregation may worship there Christmas. The unit will be built of tan brick with wood window walls. The covered entrance area will have metal doors, side lighting and glass transom. The partition walls will be of exposed masonry and painted sheetrock and chancel area of brick with natural finish. Asphalt tile will cover the floors throughout. A large fireplace is planned for the youth room where informal gatherings will be held.

Young People Slate Program

Rally - Promotion Day to Be Observed at Both 9:30 and 11 A.M.

The Junior High and Senior High Young people of First Presbyterian Church will begin the fall program at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. "Let's Get Acquainted" will be the theme of the Pioneers' group.

At the Senior High meeting, a skit will be presented by Jerry Powers, Mary Wood, Roger Riley, Jeannette Ohanesian, Ronald Newman and Sally Huntoon.

Karen Burnworth, Jill Miller and Richard Schrach will also take part in the evening activities. Mr. and Mrs. William Olmstead are the sponsors.

Rally-Promotion Day will be observed at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday Schools.

Mrs. Allan H. Monroe will open her home on Cherokee road to the Women's Prayer Group at 9 a.m. Tuesday. At 1:30 p.m. the WCTU will hold a meeting in the church parlor.

The Women's Association will begin the Friday meeting at 10 a.m. with Bible study. A luncheon and afternoon program will follow.

At the early worship service tomorrow, Rev. Galen E. Hershey will preach on "An Effective Christian Education" and at 11 a.m. Dr. William H. Marbach will speak on "The Bitterness of the Cup."

Christian Education Day to Be Observed

Christian Education Sunday will be observed at Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian tomorrow. Mrs. Eva Geisler is superintendent of the church school and Mrs. Betty Brown, her assistant.

Elders Eric Westerberg, Howard Scharfenberg, Charles M. Wright and Mior White will assist the pastor at the two morning services and Shirley Carpenter will sing "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings."

"When Life Tumbles In" will be the theme of the second in a series of seminars scheduled for 8 tomorrow night.

A leader in youth work and training programs, he has spent 19 summers in boys' camp work and youth conferences.

Dr. Leitch earned his Doctor of Philosophy Degree at Cambridge, England. He has been awarded honorary degrees by Muskingum College and Grove City College where he served as dean of men and college pastor for six years.

The annual Kick-off Banquet of the Bible School is scheduled for Monday night in Fellowship Hall with Dr. Leitch, the speaker. The theme is "Building With Christ."

William Coffing will direct community singing with Mrs. Ronald Parsons, the accompanist. Special music will include selections by the Builders' Octet and a solo by R. G. Crites.

In charge of the dinner will be Mr. and Mrs. William Cox with Mrs. Noble Meredith supervising decorations.

Education Day Slated at Auburn Heights

The Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church will observe annual Christian Education Day Sunday with Sunday School pupils promoted to new classes.

A class for young adults will begin tomorrow. Anyone past high school age and through the age of 30, married or single, may join. Grant Graham, a local attorney, will be the teacher.

During the present building program, this new class will meet in the Auburn Heights Community Club on Squirrel road.

The sermon by the Rev. F. William Palmer, pastor, at both worship services will be "Assignment: Educate." At the Youth Fellowship meeting, officers for the coming year will be elected.

'Take Up Thy Cross,' Play by Church School

Under the direction of Mrs. Claude Cook, the church school department will present a play, "Take Up Thy Cross" at the Rally Day service at 9:45 a.m. in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 19 Front St.

Elder Roland Curtis, pastor, will be the speaker at the morning service at 11.

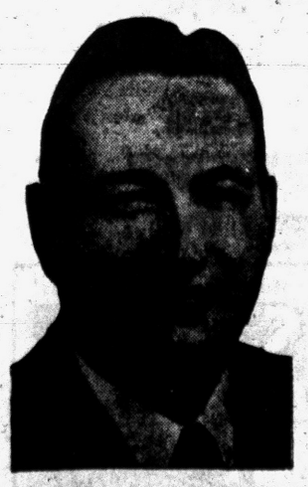

Rev. Henry Wrobbel to Baptize Class Sunday

The Rev. Henry Wrobbel of Calvary Baptist Church will conduct the baptismal service for children and adults at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Donelson Baptist Church, 2227 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

The congregation is currently worshipping in the Waterford Township High School during the construction of the new church at Pontiac Lake and Merry roads.

New Program at St. Andrew

Eight Husband - Wife Teams Take Course to Teach Religion

A fall and winter program filled with religious activity for youth and adults, has been scheduled at St. Andrew Episcopal Church in Waterford Township, according to Rev. Waldo R. Hunt.

Increased secretarial service will allow the church offices to remain open from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily.

A Teacher Training program is under way, with eight husband-and-wife teams among the many volunteers taking the course in instruction of adult and children's classes.

From 1:30 to 9:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 28, a conference will be held relating to religious programs in the church. Diocesan director of Christian Education, Burton Hodgson, will speak on "The Redemptive Task of the Church."

A new director of ministry of music, Ivan Rouse Jr., will become a member of St. Andrew's staff, assuming duties as choir director-organist, Oct. 5. He has a Bachelor of Music from the Conservatory of Music in Chicago, and will be employed at Shrodt Conservatory of Music in Birmingham, during the week.

For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will He withhold from them that walk uprightly.

Oakland Youth Fellowship Rally Tonight at 7:30

The Rev. Oscar Van Impe, founder and director of the Belgium Baptist Mission in Detroit, will be playing his accordion and speaking at the Oakland Youth Fellowship Rally at 7:30 tonight in Christian Temple, 505 Auburn Ave.

The trumpet trio, composed of Dick Rollman of Sunnyvale Chapel, Ron Carpenter of Mandon Lake Church and Glyn Stone of Memorial Baptist Church, will present several numbers.

Tic - Tac - Toe, a Bible contest will be featured between young people of First Church of God and Memorial Baptist.

An attendance award will be given the church with the highest average attendance of young people present. All young people are invited.

WHAT LUTHERANS BELIEVE ABOUT THE LORD'S SUPPER

When a girl promises her hand in marriage, it is an added joy to have an engagement ring as evidence of the happy fact. What a blessing if a jeweler could invent a ring that would guarantee a "till death us do part" marriage!

In the Lord's Supper our Lord has given us something more wonderful, to bind us closely in love to Him and to one another. Christ speaks of Himself as the Bridegroom and of His Church as His Bride. In this Sacrament He gives proof again and again of His love and . . . more marvelous still! . . . here His Body and Blood sustain our love and keep us His forever.

At His last Supper with His disciples our Lord Jesus took bread and wine and as He gave it to them said, "This is My Body, My Blood, given for you for the remission of your sins."

What is the point of it all? Christians show their trust in His death for sins as they follow His directive, "This do in remembrance of Me." They take as their own the forgiveness which His broken Body and shed Blood earned for men when they do this act in faith.

Your Lutheran friends urge you not to miss the blessings of this Sacrament, for here Jesus gives Himself to His followers! It is only by the power of God that the Son of God could come to earth in the form of a Babe . . . and it is by the same power of God that He can come to us with the forms of Bread and Wine.

Will Tour Nation for Year

Broadway Is Last Stop for Julie Harris Play

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Stage star Julie Harris is pulling a switch on Broadway.

She is showing the rest of the country her new play first—Broadway must wait exactly one year. Usually it's the other way around.

The reverse theatrical venture is a season-long series of stands in 19 cities coast to coast of the drama, "The Warm Peninsula," by Joseph Masteroff.

It's a family project. Julie's husband, Manning Gurian, a show business veteran, is the producer. Their 3-year-old son, Peter, will go with them on the tour.

Gurian sais this is why Julie is setting forth:

"We feel that audiences all over are eager for the stage, but there is a paradox.

"People won't go to see a show if the New York critics turn it down. But with a show of any merit you can first play for a long time on the road."

He cites a number of plays which on a brief Broadway tryout did well, but which were barred by a lack of rave reviews from post-Broadway travels.

Miss Harris adds to the explanation:

"I like to work — any actress wants to do almost any part she can. But unless you are in repertory, you have to take what you can get on Broadway."

Besides, she says, she has grown increasingly enamored of the old-style touring which players did before the days of films and jet planes.

"Anyone who performs for the public must have a complete dedication, a complete concentration on what he's doing. The road is conducive to that.

"It takes away from all the advantages and distractions of being in one place for a long time."

7 New Polio Cases Reported in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Seven new cases of polio were reported in Detroit yesterday bringing the Motor City's epidemic case load thus far this year to 469. There have been 12 deaths.

Health Department officials said the new cases represented the lowest daily case load since Sept. 15.

City-County Health Commissioner Joseph G. Molner made no prediction on the end of the current polio outbreak. But the U. S. Public Health Service said the 1958 polio season probably will have reached its peak by the end of th week.

New Yorkers Swelter in 86.3 Degree Heat

NEW YORK (AP) — Summer, which departed officially just last Tuesday, staged a hot comeback yesterday.

The temperature hit a muggy high of 86.3 degrees. It wasn't a record, it just felt like one. The high for the date is 90 degrees, set in 1881.

Governor Lashes Out at GOP

Says Party Is Hurting State Efforts to Bring Business to Michigan

CADILLAC (AP) — Gov. Williams last night accused the Republican Party leadership of hurting state efforts to bring more business to Michigan.

The Democratic governor told a television audience the GOP did this in two ways: Damaging the reputation of the state as a good place to do business, and cutting state appropriations for business promotion.

The Republican legislature, he said, reduced money allotments to the economic development department for use in attracting new industry and to the state tourist council for building up the tourist trade.

"The Republicans have lost confidence in Michigan," he said.

Williams shared the television show with five other Democratic candidates for statewide office.

It was the first major Democratic TV campaign effort on a skimpy TV schedule calling for 17 telecasts, most of them of five or 15 minutes, and including only three programmed statewide.

Two week ago the Governor appeared to a local audience over a Marquette station.

Michigan Republicans still are struggling with television plans. The top GOP candidates have yet to make a TV appearance.

Spokesmen in both parties chiefly blame lack of funds, although some Democratic candidates reportedly are not as enthusiastic about the medium for campaign purposes as they were two and four years ago.

A footnote to the program schedule prepared for Democratic state candidates by Sidney H. Woolner, party campaign director, reads:

"Above programs subject to availability of funds."

Security for You

Wife Must Be 62 to Collect

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From J.H. of Pittsburgh: "You said in a recent column that some dependents of a person getting Social Security disability payments could now start drawing Social Security too. My wife is 46. We have no children and she doesn't work. How much will she be able to get?"

Your wife can't draw Social Security. The wife of a man getting Social Security disability payments can collect Social Security only if she's 62 or over, or caring for dependent children. Since you have no children and your wife is under 62, she can't get Social Security.

From C.L.H. of Colton, Calif.: "I'm a retired barber, 74 years old. I stood behind a barber's chair 47 years. I had to quit in 1953 and take Social Security because my legs wouldn't hold me up any longer. Someone has just told me I can also draw Social Security for being disabled. Is this right?"

No. Disability payments from Social Security are only paid to persons between 50 and 65. And, a person can't draw both Social Security disability payments and Social Security retirement payments.

From E.S.T. of Columbia, Mo.: "As a 70-year-old World War I veteran, I'm getting some compensation from the Veterans Administration for a disability from my service. I now have a heart ailment which has nothing to do with my service. Would it be possible for me to get a VA pension for my heart ailment and also draw the compensation for my service disability?"

No. You can draw one or the other, but not both. If your compensation is less than $78.75 a month — the monthly pension payment for war veterans over 65—I suggest you talk with the nearest VA office about whether you can draw a pension rather than compensation.

From E.P. of Fontana, Calif.: "Are pregnant women eligible to collect unemployment compensation?"

Since the individual states set the qualifications for unemployment compensation, the rules for collecting the compensation very greatly. In general, if you're unemployed, but are unable or work due to pregnacy, you're not entitled to unemployment compensation. This is true in California. You will be eligible to the compensation, however, within a reasonable time after childbirth. Your nearest Employment Security office can give you the exact details.

From Miss M.S.J. of Annapolis, Md.: "I'm crippled and have been taking in sewing to make a little money. Is there any way I can earn eligibility to Social Security payments by this work? I'm 64."

Yes, if you have a profit of $400 a year from the sewing, you're considered self-employed. If you've had a profit of $400 in any of the last three years, you can claim back credit for those years. In any case, you'll have to pay the self-employment tax on your profit. Call your local Internal Revenue or Social Security office about the forms and instructions on how to pay the tax.

Judge Convicts Man of Assault — With Perfume

The perfume salesman was spraying free samples on persons who came into a Pensacola store. One woman didn't like it, and filed charges.

"You can't put anything on other persons unless they want it on them," Municipal Judge William D. Richbourg said yesterday in convicting Lee. He fined him $22 court costs.

From College to Cook to Cowboy for Horton

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — When you see Robert Horton doing the western bit in "Wagon Train," you might find it hard to think he was ever a Broadway cook.

WILSON

"But I was," the handsome lad with all the hair said with a nod and a laugh.

"I used to work at a well-known chain restaurant around B'way and 52d St. It was while I was studying with Lee Strasberg. I was the host and cashier, sort of an usher. One Saturday night I came in as usual.

"The manager said, 'Do you mind being assistant cook tonight? He's sick.'

"That wouldn't be so hard because the assistant cook just handed stuff to the chef. While I was getting on my white hat, the chef came in blind. Oh, was he drunk! So I was promoted from assistant cook to chef.

"I could hear the waiters muttering. 'Saturday night and they got a jerk like this cooking! Everything'll be sent back tonight!'"

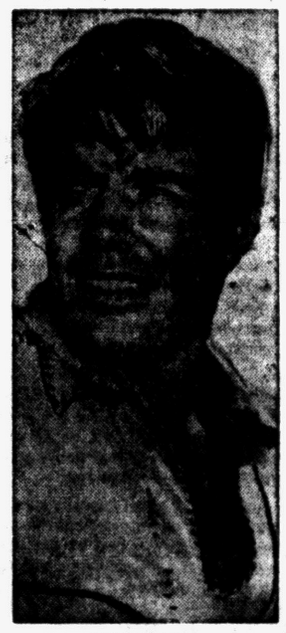

Horton smiled with satisfaction.

"Not one thing came back—including (probably) some of the customers."

"How did you master it so fast?" I asked.

"When the hamburger or whatever it was looked right to me, when it looked done to me, I took it out. I guess that's all there is to it, anyway. I cooked from 9 p.m. to 6 a.m. and then they offered me a job as assistant manager.

"No," he admitted, "they never asked me to cook again."

HORTON

Horton, a Californian, 34 in July, who went to college there and the University of Miami, is not a western fan despite his own success as a western star.

western outfits while touring and doing interviews.

As he was in a business suit, I asked whether he wears "Never!" he said emphatically.

"I've had my arguments with NBC about that. They said I could do the 'Today' show if I'd wear it and otherwise I couldn't. "I didn't do it. I'd feel ridiculous. I don't want to get hung up on westerns.

"Westerns have been good to me," Horton said, with feeling. "Even my mother and father, who didn't want me to be an actor, are kind of proud now when people ask for autographs or when you walk into a new restaurant and the joint is yours.

"But my conclusion is . . . I tend to think . . . that the year after this year will be the last for the westerns. And my plan is to come back to New York and do musical comedy."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Walter Slezak, who visited Monte Carlo, says he had a grand and glorious time. The view was glorious and the trip cost him a grand . . . That's earl, brother.

New Transistor Unit Relays Heart Signal

LAWRENCE, Kan.—A new device that transmits heart sounds and electrocardiograph readings over the telephone has been developed at the University of Kansas Medical Center.

The new apparatus is said to overcome most of the problems that have interfered with telephone consultations between heart specialists.

The device, a 5-pound transistorized unit, is attached directly to the patient by standard lead wires and placed adjacent to the telephone, which picks up the electrocardiograph signal without the use of wire connections.

Ivy Dance Decorations Add Certain Something

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Cash was short. The Phi Kappa Tau decided to use ivy instead of palms to decorate for a South Seas dance.

The six-man committee combed the University of Louisville campus. They found their ivy. It looked lovely twined into garlands for the dance. The affair Saturday night was a roaring success.

Today the whole decoration committee was wearing decorations of its own—Lotion.

They'd collected armloads of poison ivy.

New York City's first subway was opened in October 1904.

JUST IN TIME — Bill Davis, Pontiac Central quarterback, got this forward pass away just in the nick of time last night at Wisner Stadium. A charging Wyandotte gridder barrels into Davis after his release of the pigskin. One of Davis' teammates arrives too late to help him. The Chiefs crushed the Dottes, 40-13, for their 2nd win of the season in as many starts.

PCH Gridders Bomb Wyandotte, 40-13

Douglas' 86-Yard TD Sparks Chiefs to 2nd Victory of Season

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac Central's football team absorbed a harsh 32-7 beating from Wyandotte a year ago at Wisner Stadium in the head coaching debut of Jesse MacLeay.

MacLeay and the Chiefs gained a full measure of revenge for that pasting here Friday night on the same Wisner turf.

Captain Larry Douglas lit the fuse with an 86-yard touchdown dash on the opening kickoff and the fired-up Chiefs then proceeded to touch off an explosion which blew the Dottes into a convincing 40-13 shellacking.

Just like a good captain should, Douglas set an inspirational example for his teammates at the very beginning and there was no denying the Chiefs from then on as they rolled to their 2nd victory of the season in as many games.

Stunned by Douglas' opening bombshell, the Dottes rebounded strongly and tied the score at 7-7 to temporarily make a game of it. But all they could do from there on was score a consolation TD in the waning minutes of the battle after PCH had built its lead to 40-7.

Held to a 14-7 advantage at halftime, the Chiefs blew the contest wide open in the 3rd and 4th quarters with two touchdowns in each period.

The Pontiac attack netted 295 yards on the ground and 111 more through the air on five pass completions in 13 attempts. It was the most explosive and versatile PCH attack witnessed by local football fans in a long time.

And the Chiefs accomplished all of this in the face of a whopping 135 yards in penalties.

All six Pontiac touchdowns were scored on the ground and four players shared the honors. Douglas and Bill Ratcliff tallied two apiece with Harrison Munson and Joe McCauley accounting for the others.

Pontiac had a 7-0 edge after the game was only 16 seconds old. Douglas, 176-pound senior fullback, took the kickoff on the PCH 16, received some key blocks, swung to the outside and behind a wall of blockers tightroped down the eastern sidelines for a TD.

Wyandotte bounced back to knot the count late in the 1st quarter after recovering a punt on the Dotte 20 which had caromed off a Pontiac player. The Dottes drove 80 yards in 12 plays with quarterback Dan Nagy hitting end Bob Malicki for a TD pass covering 15 yards. Terry Grundy's placekick evened the score.

It was all Pontiac Central the rest of the way. The Chiefs seized the lead for keeps midway through the 2nd period by marching 66 yards in only 3 plays with Ratcliff sprinting the final 38 on a slant off tackle.

The Chiefs drove 68 yards for their 3rd TD to start the 2nd half. A 31-yard pass from Munson to Frank Ellison put the ball on the Wyandotte five and Douglas piled over from the one-yard line to make it 21-7.

The first of two pass interceptions by Munson set up Pontiac's 4th touchdown. On the first play following the interception, Ratcliff galloped 42 yards for the counter and the margin reached 27-7.

PCH recovered a fumble on its own 10 and marched the remaining 90 yards to open the 4th quarter scoring. Munson rambled the last seven yards. Munson's 2nd interception set up the Chiefs' final TD with McCauley doing the scoring honors from one yard out.

There was just 1:19 of game time remaining when halfback Tom Gulyas slashed five yards to pay dirt for Wyandotte's consolation TD.

Charley Brown, star guard and linebacker, tallied all four PCH conversions, three from placement and the last one on a run around end when a bad pass from center ruined his chance to kick.

The statistics:

	PCH	W
First downs	14	17
Rushing yardage	295	224
Passing yardage	111	224
Passes	8-13	2-11
Passes intercepted by	2	0
Punts	1-25	4-11.2
Fumbles lost	1	1
Yards penalized	135	40
Pontiac Central	7 7 13 13—40
Wyandotte	7 0 0 6—13

Touchdowns: PCH—Douglas 2 (86, kickoff return, 1; plunge), Ratcliff 2 (38, 42, runs), Munson (7, run), J. McCauley (1, plunge); Wyandotte—Malicki (15, pass from Nagy), Gulyas (5, run). Conversions: PCH—Brown 4 (3 placekicks, 1 run); Wyandotte—Grundy (placekick).

Lapeer Crushes Waterford

By CHUCK ABAIR

It looks like another long season for the Waterford Skippers unless things take a sudden change for the better very soon.

The locals finished 1-6-1 in 1957 and even their staunchest followers were hard put to predict a better finish this term after last night's listless performance in a 34-0 battering by Lapeer.

Coach Dave Freeman's contingent has been held scoreless while allowing 60 points in two starts—both on home soil. And the tough Inter-Lakes wars are still ahead.

Waterford finished with a total of 24 yards gained for the contest, 13 on two pass completions, as compared to 402 by Lapeer.

The score could have gone even higher but for numerous penalties which set the visiting Panthers back a total of 100 yards. One of the Skippers' five first downs was a "gift" on a penalty.

A 52-yard ground march in the 3rd quarter was the only time the losers showed anything of fensively. Fullback Wendy Meyer bore the brunt of that load. The threat halted at the 18.

The Skipper defense was caught flatfooted over and over by the passing of Butch McKillen, the outstanding player on the field. He threw three TD aerials and caught one himself.

Five other Panthers took part in the scoring. Rich Coulter snared two McKillen scoring passes and Ed Marshall one. Bob Stevens rompd 21 yards for the other six-pointer. Stevens, McKillen, Don LeDuc and Gary Kalar all ran extra points.

It was Lapeer's 2nd straight win by a one-sided margin giving the northrners a 60-0 edge over opponents — exactly the opposite of Waterford's record.

The outstanding overall backfield work and strong line play displayed by the Panthers stamp them as the Tri-County League favorites.

Losing coach Freeman had very little to say following the walloping except to agree the situation looks gloomy at WTHS.

"I could only name a few boys there," he said indicating a definite lack of the all-important "desire." "We don't seem to want that football bad enough," was the comment of an assistant.

Meanwhile, Waterford's major foe, Walled Lake, was piling up its 2nd triumph.

The Vikings defeated Howell 19-0 with ace back Frank Fink compiling 13 of the total.

The senior speedster ended a 61-yard drive with a one-yard plunge to break up a scoreless duel in the 2nd period and ran 45 for the other in the 3rd canto.

Fullback Mike Wurst also scored in the 3rd quarter on an 11-yard run. The TD was set up by a 37-yard pass play iwth Bill Havel hitting Kirk Evans.

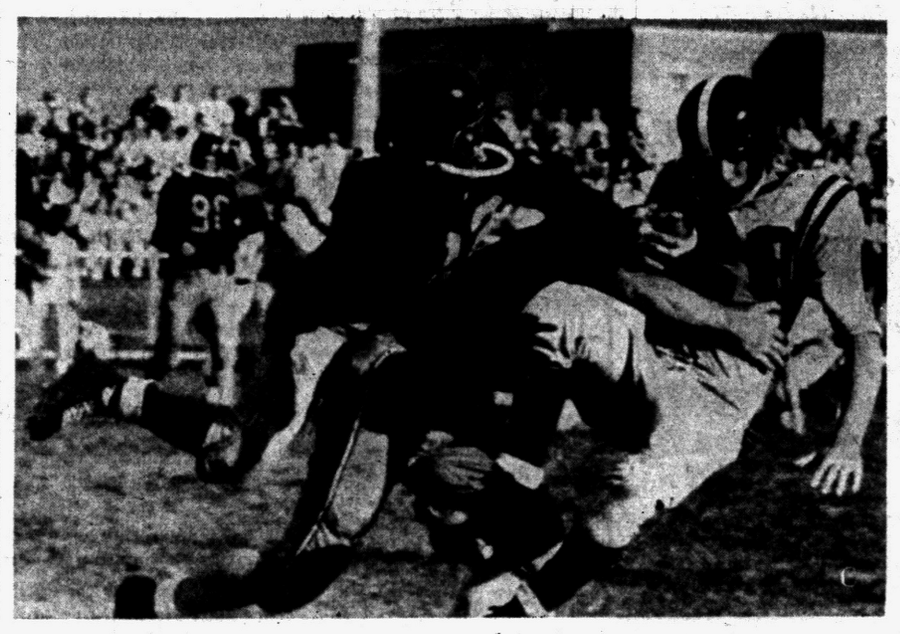

Howell was never inside the Walled Lake 20.

The statistics:

	W	L
First downs	15	15
Rushing yardage	11	260

L.O. Wins, 20-13

Avondale Falls to Romeo, 26-12 in Non-Leaguer

John Schoff Tallies All Three Markers for Dragons

Defending champion Lake Orion started on the right foot in beating Madison 20-13 in an Oakland-B contest on the Dragon gridiron last night.

In another loop contest Clawson trimmed Fitzgerald 12-6 while Troy took a 19-7 decision from L'Anse Creuse and Romeo belted Avondale, 26-12 in a pair of non-league encounters.

Orion broke a 13-13 tie in the third period when John Schoff went 35 yards for his third touchdown of the game. He also added the point.

Schoff went 10 yards in the first quarter and 15 yards in the second stanza for touchdowns. Bud Gouin, who picked up 146 yards offensively, added one of the points.

Terry Gunten scored both Madison tallies on two and eight-yard plunges in the first and third quarters. Leroy Hill converted after the second score.

Clawson's Bill O'Dell went six yards in first quarter and Bill Shodowski went nine yards for Fitzgerald as the teams deadlocked 6-6 for three periods.

In the final quarter, Newt Acton went three yards after Clawson got possession on a Fitzgerald fumble on the 15. Acton failed to run the point.

Fitzgerald threatened in the final minute after a 70 yard march but lost the ball with 30 seconds left on the one-yard line.

Avondale again was a 4th quarter team as the Jackets collected two TD's and missed a third in the final minutes.

Romeo's Charles Peterson went 50 yards on a reverse in the first quarter and Bob Galan went 10 yards in the second quarter to give the Bulldogs a 12-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter Ray Ritter passed 30 yards to Ron Schmidt and Galan converted to make it 19-0.

Avon got two quick scores when Larry Douglas went 30 yards for one and Dick Smith went two yards for the other.

Romeo hit pay dirt in the final seconds after an Avondale gamble failed in trying to run a punt situation. Tom Meyer scored from the five and Galan converted.

Troy and L'Anse Creuse battled 7-7 for a half with Dave Stokes going 66 yards for Troy's first score. He also ran the point.

Stokes then went five yards in the third quarter and Jim Depauw raced 89 yards in the same stanza to wrap up the game.

VICTORY RIDE — Head coach Jesse MacLeay gets a free ride of triumph upon the shoulders of his jubilant Pontiac Central football players following Friday night's 40-13 walloping of Wyandotte at Wisner Stadium. MacLeay looks every bit as happy as his escorts. It was the 2nd victory of the season in as many games for the Chiefs.

Ortonville One-Point Victor

Oxford Rips North Branch

The Oxford Wildcats turned in the best offensive performance by a school grid team since 1954 in handing favored North Branch a 24-6 beating at North Branch last night in the South Central Conference lidlifter.

Four different players tallied TDs in the familiar style of the unbeaten team of four years ago.

Fred Brecht started things by recovering a fumble and going 45 yards in the opening period. Jim Casey made it 12-0 by crashing over from the two. Dick Duncan and Jack Magee each crossed in the final half as did Gene Nietzke for the losers.

Ortonville nipped Hartland 13-12 while Millington was bowing to St. Charles 19-12 in non-league action.

Earl Richardson, who handled all the Blackhawk scoring, fell on a loose ball that had been fumbled and kicked around and into the end zone to pull Ortonville from behind. He took a pass from Pat McNulty for the deciding extra point.

Richardson had scored in the 1st quarter on a 65-yard pass play started by Ted Follis. Follis had a 70-yard TD punt return nullified by a penalty.

Rochester Easy for Farmington

Prepping for their big league opener against defending champion Southfield next week, the Farmington Falcons walloped Rochester to the tune of 38-13 at home yesterday afternoon.

Al LeSage, Mike Agee and Harvey Chapman each scored two touchdowns with the latter adding an extra point to lead the scoring. His 2nd TD was on a 72-yard punt return — the 2nd in as many tilts.

Rochester never entered the point column until the scoreboard read 32-0. Ron Robbins crossed for a TD and added a PAT while Dave Hecht made the other.

Lucadam Paces Keego, Wolves-'Skins Tie

Holly Bows at Northville

Northville High — the Yankees of the Wayne-Oakland League in football — began another title defense last night by roaring from behind in the first quarter to whip top contender Holly 26-6 in the feature game of a full opening night loop program.

Two touchdowns by Larry Nitzel paced the Mustangs to their 2nd straight victory while Holly has the same number of setbacks.

West Bloomfield, looming larger all the time as a team to be reckoned with this season, walloped Clarenceville 33-14, Clarkston and Milford battled to a 13-13 tie and Brighton blanked Bloomfield Hills 13-0 to round out W-O play.

That lone Holly TD was the best Bronco showing of the contest although the losers remained in the thick of things until the final period.

George Coggins garnered the Holly tally from 12 yards out completing an 85-yard march.

Northville, which had been halted on the way to paydirt prior to the Holly score, was not to be denied from then on.

Nitzel deadlocked the issue on a 17-yard dash in the 2nd quarter and a Bob Starnes-to-Bill Walker pass good for 33 yards put Northville ahead to stay at halftime. Nitzel went in from the 38 in the final minute of play following a pass interception and a 23-yard touchdown return by Gary Morgan.

West Bloomfield raced to a 14-0 1st quarter advantage and coasted along from then on as quarterback star John Lucadam had another big night.

The stellar senior passed for three touchdowns, scored one and kicked three extra points. He accounted for 293 yards, 192 rushing, and was described by Clarenceville coach Bill Waters as "terrific on defense."

Dennis Alix, Tom Bell and Barry Johnson were the boys on the receiving end of Lucadam's big aerials. Bell scored the other TD on a 13-yard scamper. Jon Nelson tallied all 14 points for the losers.

Clarkston dominated the statistics but had to be satisifed with a tie. As a matter of fact, Milford might have pulled it out but for a fumbled pass from center on an extra point try. Terry Anderson had booted one earlier but didn't get a chance to repeat.

The see-saw affair saw the host Redskins come from behind twice on six-pointers by John Zeeman and Jim Scheibner, the latter climaxing a 90-yard drive.

Jim Morgan went five and Ron Morgan two for the Clarkston tallies. Don Marsh kicked one point but was short the next time.

Bloomfield Hills gained well through the air but could do little against the huge Brighton defensive unit. The Barons reached the one with a first down late in the contest but two penalties ruined a chance to ruin the shutout.

Maples Beaten, 25-13; Southfield Wins, 22-7

Birmingham and Ferndale, two kingpins in the Eastern Michigan League, ran into trouble against non-league foes last night.

The Maples ran out of gas in the second half in losing a 25-13 decision to rival Royal Oak Dondero, while Southfield outclassed Ferndale 22-7 on the Bluejay gridiron.

Dondero had a 13-0 lead in the first quarter when John Meadows ran back an interception 46 yards. Meadows then scored again on a 10 yard pass from Dean Flippo. Gary Sonnenberg converted.

Birmingham tied it 13-13 at intermission when Ed Busch went 10 and six yards for both scores. The first TD came after a 55 yard march, and the second after a fumbled punt was recovered on the 18. Phil Isbell kicked the point.

In the third quarter LeZotte went two yards and in the fourth quarter Meadows scored his third of the evening after a 66 yard pass play from Flippo. Meadows raced 40 yards after catching the ball.

Southfield geared for its big showdown with Farmington next week with its win over a good Ferndale squad. The Jays scored in the first quarter when Cliff Solberg went 58 yards, and in the second period they added a safety when Jerry Odom hit quarterback Tom Morey in the end zone. It was 8-0 at the half.

After a march of 70 yards Bill Johnson went three yards and Filar converted to make it 15-0 in the 4th quarter.

Morey scored Ferndale's lone TD after the Dales recovered a fumble on the 30. The final tally by Southfield was a one-yard plunge by Jim McDonald as Filar converted.

East Detroit whipped neighbor Roseville 25-18 after trailing 18-13 in final minute, and Royal Oak Kimball clobbered Berkley, 25-0.

Kimball's scores came on 83 and 60 runs by John Holbrook, a 34 yard dash by Dale Sparrow and 10 yards by Jim Shield. Sparrow kicked the point. It was 13-0 at halftime for Kimball.

East Detroit scores came on an interception return of 15 yards by Carl Richter, an 8-yard plunge by Bill Pozzi, a five yard pass from Bill MacGillvray to Dick Ickes and a plunge of one yard by George Harper.

Hammers Halted as Gridders Sleep

EAST LANSING (UPI) — A construction project was delayed on the Michigan State University campus today so two football teams could sleep.

Air hammers used in construction of an addition to MSU Kellogg Center brought protests from California coach Pete Elliott, whose 37-man squad was routed out of bed at 7 a.m. yesterday.

Construction crews promised MSU coach Duffy Daugherty work would not start until 8:30 a.m. today.

Country Day School Wins, Lamphere Loses

Country Day School dedicated a new football field in grand style by blanking Clintondale 12-0 to join Oakland County's top early starters with a 2-0 record. Jim Martin and Jim Kramer scored in the Central Suburban Conference victory.

League rival Madison Lamphere stepped out of loop competition to bow to Grosse Pointe University School 34-6.

Parkers Win, 12-6

Oak Park High outlasted a stubborn Lutheran Western club yesterday to emerge with a 12-6 football victory.

BIG NIGHT — West Bloomfield quarterback John Lucadam put on a one-man offensive show at Clarenceville last night as the Lakers romped 33-14. The senior star passed for three touchdowns, scored one and kicked three extra points. He piled up 293 offensive yards and excelled on defense.

Almont Winner, Dryden Blanked

Defending champion Almont, Brown City and Armada got off to winning starts Friday in the Southern Thumb League football race. New Haven was victorious in non-loop action.

Almont ran its unbeaten string to 18 games with a 21-0 rout of Memphis, Brown City utilized the extra point for a 20-19 triumph over Capac and Armada defeated Dryden, 6-0.

Doug Graham scored twice and Ron Irish tallied the other TD for Brown City while Larry Kalbfleisch, John Kersten and John Zwiernik accounted for Capac's touchdowns. Brown City came from behind to win with conversions by Jerry Snyder and Hawk making the eventual difference.

New Haven broke into the winning column outside of the league with a 19-14 victory over New Baltimore Anchor Bay. Nate Petty scored two New Haven touchdowns on runs of 99 and 22 yards and he passed to Fred Denizer for the other TD, a play covering 70 yards.

When Wyandotte's grid team became lost trying to find Eastern Junior High School, where it dressed for last night's game with Chiefs, the visitors were delayed getting to Wisner field. Game started 15 minutes late.

Ted Meister, Ferndale high's football mentor, was busy looking over the Chiefs last night, scouting for the encounter between the clubs next week, at Ferndale. Ted's team took a licking in the afternoon from Southfield's Bluejays.

For the second time in their illustrious careers Sam Snead and Ben Hogan will team up in competition when they represent the United States in the Canada Cup golf matches in Mexico City, Nov. 20-23.

The New York Knicks of the National Basketball Assn. learned Friday they had lost Mel Hutchins, former Brigham Young star on whom they had been counting this season, because of a recurrence of a knee injury.

The Chicago Cardinals have filed suit in a Chicago Court to break a 1931 agreement with the Chicago Bears which has stymied an attempt by the Cardinals to move from Comiskey Park to Dyche Stadium in Evanston, Ill.

The only woman who ever became a professional baseball scout is dead at age of 76. Mrs. Bessie Largent of McKinney, Texas, died yesterday. She and her late hunband, Roy, scouted for the Chicago White Sox for more than 20 years.

Because of the advance of hurricane Helene, along the Atlantic coast area of South Carolina, the scheduled grid game between The Citadel and George Washington, last night, was cancelled.

Homers, Walks Enable Tribe to Beat Moford, 5-4

Tigers' Hopes for 3rd Fade

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Detroit Tigers need to win under pressure—something they have not done in years—and they need a lot of cooperation from the Washington Senators if they expect to finish higher than fifth place in the American League standings.

The Tigers blew a three-run lead and lost a 5-4 decision last night to the Cleveland Indians.

Two things for which there is no defense—the home run and the base on balls—wrecked Tiger hopes.

Rocky Colavito hit his 40th home run with a man aboard in the fifth inning against Bill Hoeft. Larry Doby cracked a home run in the eighth to tie the contest. In the ninth, Hoeft's successor, Herb Moford, walked the leadoff batter. That cost the Tigers the ball game.

Bob Avila opened the ninth with a walk. He went to third when Vic Power doubled to left. Manager Bill Norman ordered an intentional pass for dangerous Minnie Minoso—and Colavito promptly singled to right, scoring the deciding run.

The loss dumped the once-hopeful Tigers into fifth place—one-half game behind Cleveland and a full game behind the third-place Boston Red Sox. To capture undisputed third place, the Tigers need to sweep their two remaining games in Cleveland—and the lowly Washington Senators must do the same thing against Boston.

Anything but a sweep against Cleveland will leave the Tigers in fifth place for the season—unless the sixth-place Baltimore Orioles can creep up with a couple of victories over New York. The Orioles currently are 1½ games behind the Tigers.

The Indians took the lead with a run in the fifth on Minoso's triple and Randy Jackson's single. Harvey Kuenn put Detroit ahead with a two-run double in the third and the Tigers went into a 4-1 lead after five innings. In the fifth, Frank Bolling hit his 14th home run and three singles produced another tally.

Colavito's home run narrowed the margin to 4-3 in the fifth and routed Hoeft in favor of Moford. It stood that way until Doby's 13th home run that opened the Indians' eighth.

Moford walked himself right out of the ball game in the ninth.

Paul Foytack sought his 15th victory for the Tigers today and was opposed by Cal McLish. The two teams wind up the season Sunday with a single game.

Wisconsing, Georgia Tech, Texas Win Last Night

Air Force Zooms by Titans

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

This is the year, according to the timetable of the U.S. Air Force Academy, that the school goes "almost" big time in college football.

The Academy would like to move in the same circles as Army and Navy, the other two service teams. Since its first class doesn't graduate until next year, the AFA has all its lettermen of last year back.

Under Buck Shaw, the '57 club could do no better than 3-6-1. This year, the schedule has been toughened considerably, but new coach Ben Martin, a Navy graduate, has high hopes for a better season.

His team started operations last night before 20,000 with a smoothly contrived 37-6 triumph over Detroit, another team that hopes to make the step as a major power.

Four other major games were on last night's schedule. Texas defeated Tulane, 21-20, Georgia Tech rebounded against Florida State, 13-3, Wisconsin whipped Miami 20-0 and Denver turned back Utah State, 20-8.

One thing is certain—if anyone is going to stop the Air Force, John Kuenzel and Rich Mayo, a pair of passing fools, will have to be stymied.

Southpaw Kuenzel passed for one touchdown, set up another with a pass and scored once himself on a quarterback sneak.

His understudy, Mayo, passed for two touchdowns in the rout. Both were spectacular plays—one covering 43 yards and the other spanning 31.

Fitting in beautifully with the passing was the running of halfbacks Steve Galios and speedy Mike Quinlan.

The Cadets' longest touchdown play of the night—and the backbreaker that came early in the third period—was a 78-yard run by sophomore fullback Mike Rawlins.

Both Texas and Tulane made two points after their final touchdowns in the final period, but it was a li'l ol' kick in the first period that provided the winning margin for Texas. Bob Lackey, who directed the Texas offensive, provided the sure-foot. The new conversion rule gives a team two points if it elects to pass or run after a touchdown and one point for a kick.

Georgia Tech, beaten last week, had a hard time against underdog Florida State. It appears that the Ramblin' Wrecks won't be in contention for the Southeastern Conference title this year.

Miami couldn't do much against the big Wisconsin line. Dale Hackbart was the big man for Wisconsin. He passed and ran for one touchdown in the first quarter and repeated at the end of the second stanza. That was more than enough for the Big 10 outfit. A crowd of 60,000 saw the game, played in the Orange Bowl.

2 Changes Effected in Harrier Dates

Two cross-country meet dates for Dean Wilson's Pontiac Central High squad were announced today, after a misunderstanding over this week's Wyandotte test, which was not run. The Dots will come here on Oct. 20. They were originally scheduled for Sept. 24.

Because a Saginaw Valley meeting is set for Oct. 7, which Wilson will attend, the scheduled visit here of the Flint Central harriers has been moved up one day to Oct. 6, at Beaudette Park. Indians are rated the big threat for Valley and state crowns this fall.

Other dates for Chief harriers are: Oct. 1, at Royal Oak Dondero; Oct. 10 at Flint Northern; Oct. 13 at Waterford; Oct. 16, Valley meet at Flint Central; Oct. 20 Wyandotte here; Oct. 22, Edsel Ford here; Oct. 25, MHSAA regional; Oct. 27 at Allen Park; Nov. 1, MHSAA state meet.

Burdette, Ford Ready for Series

By United Press International

Bring on the World Series! Lew Burdette and Whitey Ford are as ready as they'll ever be.

The surest tip-off on any pitcher is his control and both Burdette and Ford were letter-perfect in that department last night.

Burdette, posting his 20th victory for the first time in his career, didn't walk a man and struck out eight in pitching Milwaukee's National League champions to a 2-1 triumph over Cincinnati.

Ford was every bit as impressive even though Baltimore beat the American League champion Yankees, 3-2, in 12 innings. The Yankee southpaw, on the shelf with arm trouble most of last month, also issued no walks, struck out six and yielded only one hit during a six-inning turn on the mound.

The one hit off Ford was a first-inning inside-the-park homer by Joe Taylor. Baltimore won the game with two runs in the 12th off reliever Virgil Trucks and the victory stretched an Oriole winning streak to seven games.

Hoyt Wilhelm, making his first start for Baltimore since pitching a no-hitter against the Yankees on Sept. 20, added two hitless frames last night before Ford singled in the third. Wilhelm gave up six hits and struck out nine in nine innings before winning pitcher Billy Loes took over.

Burdette's closest approach to a 20-game season previously was 1956 when he won 19 and lost 10. He also has lost 10 this year. He scattered nine hits last night and gave up his only run in the fifth when the Redlegs pooled three of their hits.

The Braves scored both of their runs off rookie Jim O'Toole, registering the decisive run in the second inning with the aid of an error by third baseman Frank Robinson.

In other National League games, Robin Roberts of the Phillies recorded his 17th victory with a 3-2 decision over the Pirates; the Giants clinched third place with a 4-3 win over the Cardinals, and the Cubs gained a split by winning the nightcap, 2-1, after the Dodgers took the opener, 6-3.

Ted Williams climbed into a tie for the American League batting lead as the Red Sox swept a twi-night twin-bill from the Senators, 6-4 and 3-1; the Indians edged the Tigers, 5-4, and rookie Barry Latman of the White Sox blanked the Athletics, 1-0.

Roberts, salvaging a decent season after a poor start, shut out the Pirates until the ninth when they scored both their runs. Bob Friend was tagged for 11 hits in absorbing his 14th loss. Richie Ashburn took over the N.L. batting lead by collecting two hits and raising his average to .345—one point higher than Willie Mays.

Williams, now batting .323, moved into a tie with teammate Pete Runnels when he collected two hits, including his 24th homer, during the Boston-Washington opener. Ted Lepcio's two-run homer in the sixth inning proved the margin for Ike Delock's 14th victory. Roy Sievers hit his 39th homer for the Senators.

In the nightcap, Bill Renna, filling in for Williams, snapped a 1-1 tie with an eighth inning homer that brought Frank Sullivan his 13th triumph. The two losses stretched Washington's losing streak to 11 games.

The White Sox got a three-hit pitching effort from Latman in their game with the A's. Latman struck out nine and walked only two in gaining his third victory without a defeat. Chicago scored the only run of the game in the sixth off Bob Grim on singles by John Romano and Ron Jackson and John Callison's sacrifice fly.

Baltimore Has Edge in Youth Over Lions' 11

Ameche, Unitas, Moore Give Colts a Potent Backfield

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BALTIMORE — This is the year the Baltimore Colts are supposed to have not only "The Horse" — Alan Ameche, but also the horses to win their first National Football League title.

With a capacity crowd bettering 40,000 expected, these Baltimore "horses" will get the acid test and are favored in the season opener against the defending champions from Detroit in a TV contest tomorrow.

The Lions, who could readily be called a team of "old pros," will have to concede youth to the Colts who are the youngest team in the league.

Detroit's starting offensive unit averages 6 years experience in the NFL per player, with an average age of 28.

Led by quarterback Johnny Unitas, fullback Ameche and halfbacks L. G. Dupre, Lenny Moore and rookie Len Lyles, coach Weeb Ewbank's running attack is strong inside and on the outside.

Lyles, called the "fastest man in football," is a product of Louisville University, also the alma mater of Unitas.

Defensively, a Lion reject, Milt Davis of UCLA, is Baltimore's pass thief. Davis tied for the league lead in pass interceptions last year with Detroit's Jack Christiansen and Pittsburgh's Jack Butler, each grabbing 10.

In his 10 interceptions, however, Davis returned the ball for 285 yards compared to Christiansen's 137 and Butler's 85.

The Lions will have nine rookies making their debut, but only one, Ken Webb of Presbyterian College is figured to be a starter. He will be at halfback along with Gene Gedman or Hopalong Cassady.

Bobby Layne will probably get nod at quarterback with John Henry Johnson at fullback.

The thin end positions will have only Jim Doran and Dave Middleton with experience, backed up by rookies Tom Rychlec and newly acquired Jim Gibbons.

It was announced yesterday that end Steve Junker has joined Jerry Reichow on the injured reserve list and will be out for the season.

The Lions took a 34-14 drubbing in Baltimore last year, but hold a wide edge of nine wins and two losses over Colts in their all-time series.

Game time via television on channel 2 Sunday will be 1:00 p.m.

South Lyon Drops 2nd

A fumble and a blocked kick paved the way for South Lyon's second defeat in as many starts as the Lions blew a 6-0 lead in losing 12-6 to Willow Run Friday night. Milan Obrenovich and Paul Underhill teamed on a 36-yard pass play for the SLHS tally.

BATTLE'S OVER — Cmdr. Graham Mann of Britian's defeated America's Cup challenger Sceptre congratuates Rod Stephens, sail and rigging expert of victorious Columbia in the harbor at Newport, R. I., late yesterday. Columbia won four straight races to retain the 107-year-old America's Cup in this country.

Trojans Seek 2nd Upset

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Southern California aimed to make it two straight upsets in meeting favored Michigan today.

The Wolverines were the question mark of the Big Ten after losing the entire starting line from tackle to tackle from the 1957 club and speedy halfback Jim Pace. Southern Cal pulled one of the season's biggest upsets in whipping Pacific Coast conference favorite Oregon State last week.

A crowd of 72,000 was expected with 12,500 high school musicians taking part in band day highlighted by Meredith Wilson leading 1,075 trombones in the hit song "Seventy-Six Trombones" from his Broadway musical.

MSU Rated Edge on Cal

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State, like a crap shooter looking for a lucky roll, is trying for No. 11 today.

If the Spartan footballers can beat California, it will be the 11th time in a row MSU has outpointed West Coast opponents.

The last time State was beaten by a coast team was in 1949, when Oregon State pulled a 25-20 upset.

Michigan State will field a backfield that never started before. The outfit directed by quarterback Mike Panitch worked as the second team last year.

The foursome of Panitch, Art Johnson, Dean Look and Don Arend did some creditable scoring but only was in when the pressure was off.

The line is manned by burly, well-seasoned veterans and is one of the heaviest in recent years. State will outweigh California 218 pounds to 201 in the forward wall, and have an edge in depth.

California will show off some classy and proven backs. Quarterback Joe Kapp is the expert engineer of the split T attack. Hank Olguin and Jack Hart are sprinter halfbacks and sophomore fullback Bill Patton has been tagged as a natural at the position.

TV Plan Still 'Alive'

DETROIT (UPI) — Promoters of the planned pay-as-you-cheer television broadcast of the Michigan-Michigan State sell-out football game were still hopeful today a closed circuit telecast will be permitted.

C. W. Smith and Associates, said they will try to get an earlier court date, but regardless of that "if the hearing goes in our favor we can still broadcast into the theaters."

State Representative John J. Fiezpatrick of Detroit named the state board of agriculture, the governing body of Michigan State; the University of Michigan's board of regents and three metropolitan Detroit theaters, the Fox, Royal and Wyandotte, as defendants in his suit.

Judge Theodore Bohn set a show-cause hearing for 2 p.m. Oct. 3, the day before the game and issued a temporary restraining order against the sale of tickets or the promotion of the closed-circuit telecast.

Your Dry Cleaner Is No Magician!

When you take clothes to your Dry Cleaner, don't expect him to work miracles! He is only human, and may occasionally make a mistake, which he will be glad to rectify.

But many cases of unsatisfactory dry cleaning are not his fault. Before you expect too much, be sure that—

★ The garments are of sufficiently good quality that they can be dry cleaned without shrinking and without colors fading or running.

★ That cloth-covered buttons and stiffening materials do not contain substances that will stain.

★ That you have not attempted to remove stains with fluids that will injure the fabric, set the stain or cause fading.

★ That your Dry Cleaner is a well-established dependable local businessman.

Your Dry Cleaner will tell you, when he accepts your clothing, just what to expect—but he cannot promise to work miracles.

Reds Use Easy Short-Cut to Lead Commercial Jets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Russia beat the United States to the commercial jet age by a full two years.

But the Reds achieved their victory with an easy short-cut: they merely modified a medium jet bomber revamped its nose, stretched the fuselage and put in seats.

The result was the TU104, a plane that Russia's state airline, Aeroflot, has been flying all over Europe for two years. The TU104 (Aeroflot has an estimated 40 in service) also has made three trips to the United States.

But American aviation experts who have closely examined and flown in the TU104 reported it would never be accepted by U.S. airlines, or even U.S. passengers.

It is under-powered, shortranged and gorges fuel in such mammoth amounts that it would bankrupt an American carrier. Swiss Airline officials who inspected the TU104, with a view to buying a few, said even if the Russians gave the plane away free, no private airline could afford to operate it.

LANDS TOO FAST

The TU104 also lands at 150 miles an hour, too fast for American safety standards. Its brakes also are reported to be inadequate, causing several TU104s to overshoot runways. Its pressurization system is weak; fountain pen leakage is common.

No Western expert has been able to judge the Russian jetliner's safety record. Aeroflot crashes are seldom reported unless foreigners are involved.

Britain actually beat everyone to the jetliner age, starting Comet service in 1952. But the Comets were grounded following several crashes, and Russia introduced jet service in 1956 while most American manufacturers were still in the blueprint stage.

Russia has several turbo-jet and turbo-prop airliners in the testing stage. These are real transports, not modified bombers. And with Aeroflot threatening serious competition in world commercial aviation, experts agree the United States is launching its own jet age none too soon.

Art Museum Sells Surplus Flints, Jars

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Metropolitan Museum of Art held a clearance sale this summer and did a thriving business in such articles as neolithic flints, scarabs, jars found in tombs and fragments of stone and pottery.

The purchasers were adults and children who visited the Museum during its second annual sale of surplus materials that other museums in the country did not want.

The sales have netted the museum about $230,000, with which it bought a painting, an Egyptian cat sculpture and a couple of other important objects.

No Fires Last Week

LANSING (AP) — In a comparatively rare occurence for this time of year, Michigan recorded a perfect week last week in fire prevention on state and private forests and grasslands. So far this year, 1,125 fires have burned over 9,900 acres.

LOOKS LIKE A RANCH HOME — The Edward Beaupre home on Westwind drive at Reed Lake looks like a one story ranch house from the road. What can't be seen is the two-story lake side of the home. Before they moved in, the Beaupres added the carport and the entryway. Th large initial beside the door is effective. Brick and siding form the exterior.

background for LIVING

TO REFLECT THE VIEW — A mirror hung over the sofa in the family room reflects the picture windows and the lake outside. It adds to the brightness and cheerfulness of the room. The floor is an interesting marbleized linoleum. Draperies are made from a green leafy print. Walls are knotty pine. The furniture is maple. This room was added on when the Beaupres bought the house.

SPACIOUS LIVING ROOM — Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Beaupre have enjoyed relaxing like this in their new home since late June. Carpeting is beige tweed. Walls and draperies are light green. The furniture is colonial style with colorful upholstery. The brick fireplace is a simple one with a white mantel and a tile hearth.

Your Neighbor's House

Beaupres Added on to 'New' Home

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

A great big "B" beside the door tells you you are at the right house. The Beaupres live here and everyone's initials are the same: Edward, Ethel, Eric and Emilie. The address is Westwind drive at Reed Lake.

To the Beaupres the house is new. It has has one former owner, but the subdivision is only about four years old. When the Beaupres bought the brick house, they added a carport, an entranceway, a top floor recreation room with a large storage room below. Then they redecorated all the rooms. By moving in the end of June they have had an entire summer in their new house.

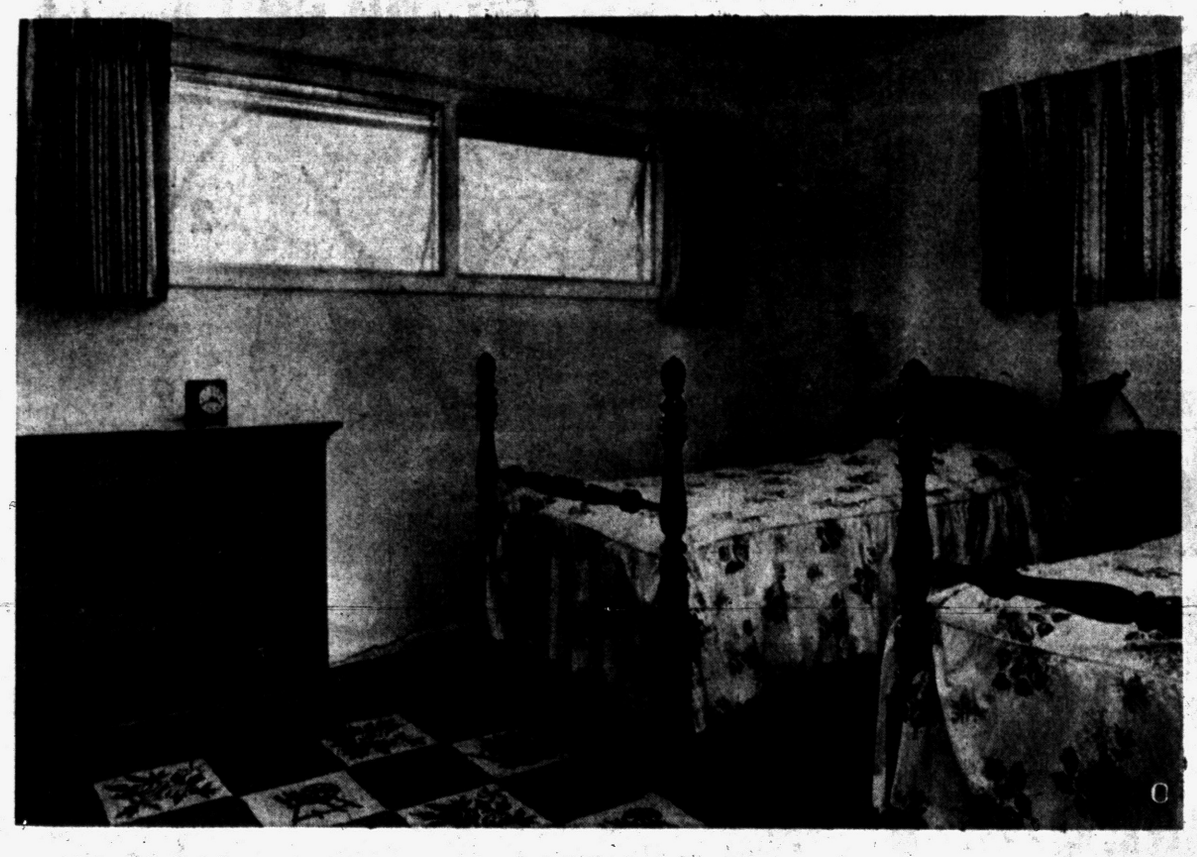

Lake living is not new to the Beaupres. They are former residents of Commerce Lake, moving out there from Detroit. Mrs. Beaupre's still drives to a teaching job in Detroit every day during the school year. Mr. Beaupres' business is almost within stone's throw of the house.

You step into a long narrow kitchen. Right in front of you are the stairs to the ground level. Just around the stairway corner is the door to the living room.

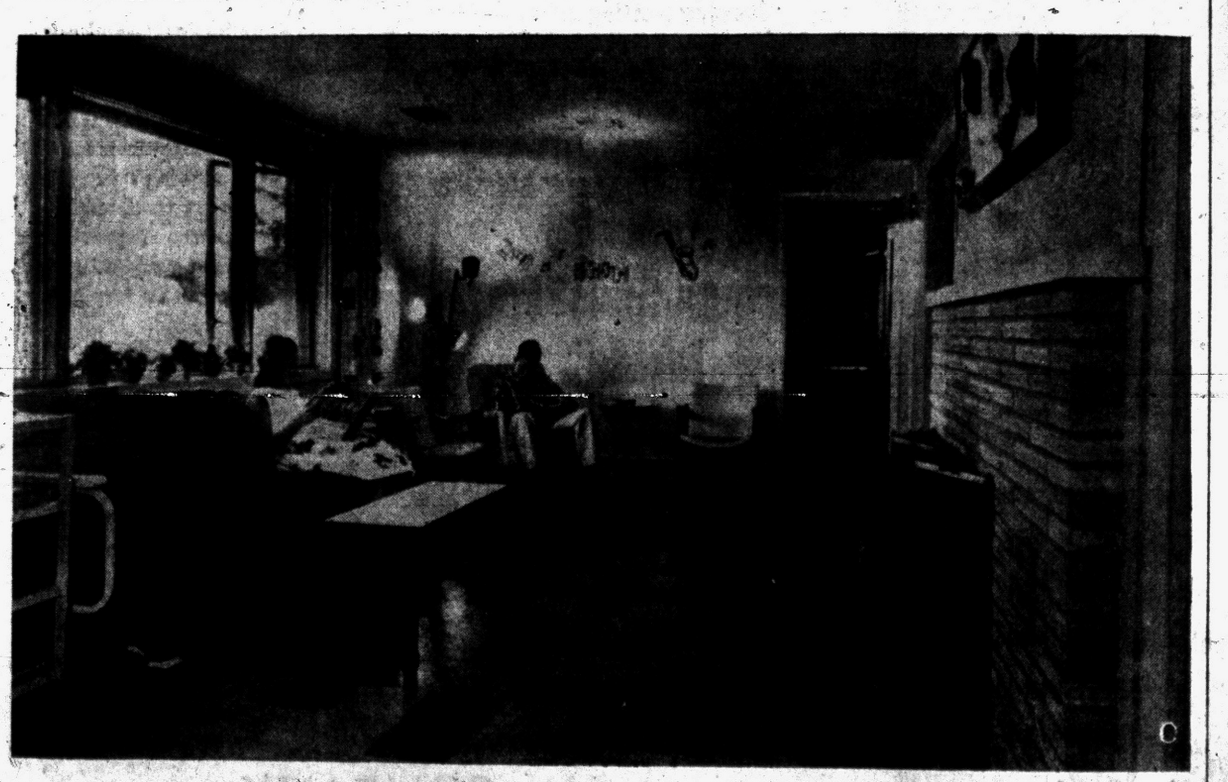

Pebble linoleum covers the floor. Walls on three sides are gray. The fourth wall has pink and yellow paper in a geranium pattern. Below this wall is a long green linolum topped table. Here the Beaupres eat informal meals.

Mr. Beaupre made this

COLONIAL BEDROOM — From the hooked rug on the floor to the pineapple posts on the twin beds, this room is colonial. Chintz was used in the old days so the rose printed spreads with their ruffled edges are in keeping with the style.

THE YOUTH ROOM — Emilou and Rick have their own living room on the ground level of the house. A tile floor and sturdy, but colorful furniture make it a pleasant place for the two to entertain their friends. The corduroy cover on the studio couch is bright red. Musical notes and instruments decorate the plywood wall. Rick's bedroom is the room at the rear.

File or Wheel Will Reshape Screwdriver

QUESTION: We moved into a new house recently. In the process of moving, we came across, believe it or not, 12 screwdrivers that had been accumulated over the years. A couple of them were still in good condition, but most of them had marred tips, which is why they were discarded in the first place. I've been working on them for a couple of days and have gotten off all the rust and grime. Now tell me the best way to restore the tips.

ANSWER: Most old screwdrivers will give many additional years of service with just a few minutes' work. Use an emery wheel or grindstone to bring the tips back to workable shapes. Grind the ends until they are straight across.

The sides should be parallel or nearly so. It's a very simple operation as long as you remember not to make the ends sharp. Blunt ends hold up much longer.

QUESTION: We are having a house built and are trying to save space. We think we can get by with a small kitchen yet we do not want it to interfere with efficiency. Can you tell us how much kitchen space we need?

ANSWER: Different persons mean different things by "efficiency." A minimum of 4-feet clearance in front of each major appliance or work counter is recommended by kitchen specialists. Take it from there.

Turn Off the Current!

When a lightbulb breaks, it's often hard to screw the jagged-edged base out of the socket. A science monthly suggests using an ordinary bar of soap to solve the problem. First make sure the electric current is turned off, then press the soap against the jagged edge. This will grip the base firmly enough so that you can turn it loose merely by turning the soap.

Takes Careful Stirring

It is easier to work with paints and enamels if you stir carefully after the can is opened. Pour off most of the top oil into another can; stir the pigment until it is smooth; then gradually return the oil—stirring meanwhile.

Hide Old Radiators Flank With Shelves

If you like a radiator's heat but not its appearance, it's a simple matter to retain the one and camouflage the other!

In fact, if there's room at one side or both sides of the radiator, you can not only hide the radiator behind an attractive cover but build one or two matching bookcases. Materials needed are some framing lumber and hardboard.

The panel material is used for top, sides and a slatted front of the radiator cover. Of course, the styles of the bookcases and radiator cover match, and they may be painted to present an integrated treatment

For a free plan showing the construction of a radiator cover and matching bookcases, address a postal card to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and request plan No. AE-351.

Less Work With Soap

Sawing and driving screws in hardwood can be made easier with ordinary soap. If you coat both sides of a saw with soap, it will go through the wood faster. Similarly, lubricating screws and nails with soap will prevent the wood from gripping them, and they'll go in with less effort.

Basements Need Proper Lighting

CHICAGO (INS) — Good lighting is as important in your basement as in the living room, particularly if the basement houses a recreation room, laundry, storage space and other separate areas.

Here is what you should have for different basement installations according to the American Home Lighting Institute:

A basement workbench should have a single fluorescent light fixture four feet above the workbench so the do-it-yourselfer can see what he is doing, particularly when power tools are involved.

Many women like to set up a laundry in the basement, and proper lighting helps measuring starch and detergents, prevents accidents and make ironing easier. Choose a 12 to 14-inch wide incandescent fixture or a fluorescent fixture with two 33-inch 25-watt tubes. Mount the fixture four feet above the surface of laundry equipment.

Heating plants require an inexpensive fixture located high enough above furnace or boiler so it doesn't glare in your eyes or graze your head, but does cast light on dials or controls.

A game area with just a table requires only a shielded fixture over the center of the table, but a complete game room should be lit like a standard room in the home.

A storage area, even if seldom used, should have an overhead fixture to make searching easier. Stairs should be lit, with switches at both head and foot. The fuse box should be in a well-lighted spot easily accessible and near an overhead fixture.

Break Wall Monotony With Fireplace Mantle

Many homes with massive brick wall fireplaces lack the convenience and decorativeness of a mantle. The monotone of a brick wall can be offset by the lines of a mantle, thus providing additional charm to the fireplace.

The project is made of 1¼ by 10-inch lumber for the mantle proper; 1¼ by 6-inch lumber for the support, and 1 by 6-inch lumber for the uprights. Lengths for the pieces will vary with the size of the fireplace unit and the height from floor to ceiling.

The support, however, will be 4 inches shorter than the mantle at its curved end. The uprights can either extend from floor to ceiling or be shorter as suggested in the diagram.

Shape the pieces as shown. A compass set with a radius of 5½ inches for the support and 9½ inches for the mantle can be used to inscribe the pattern for the ends. Use a coping saw when cutting the curved ends. Notch the mantle 4 inches and 20 inches from one end, 5½ inches deep, to receive the uprights.

To make the pattern for the upright measure and mark a point 8 inches from the bottom along the leading edge of each upright and a second point along the end, 2 inches from the trailing edge. Connect these points with a curved line, and use a coping saw to cut out the piece.

Assemble the unit by first attaching the support to the wall with cut nails. Be sure the nails are driven into the mortar and not into the brick. Next, with a ¼-inch star drill bore holes in the mortar for expansion anchors in at least three places where the uprights will be located.

Position the uprights marking the location of the anchors on the boards, and drill holes 3½ inches deep with a No. 6 auger bit. Fasten the uprights to the wall. Use a piece of doweling ⅜ inch in diameter to plug the screw holes.

Finally attach the mantle to the support and uprights with 8-penny finishing nails. Hooks or pegs can be attached to the support for the fireplace tools.

Set all exposed nails and fill the holes with wood putty. Round all sharp edges sanding the unit smooth. Finish to harmonize or blend with the surroundings.

Metal Ventilators OK for Existing Homes

It is now possible for you to have metal ventilators installed in existing homes. The Metal Ventilator Institute advises that a variety of shapes and sizes are available to fit any architectural need and may be used with any type of residential construction.

The "do-it-yourselfer" will find these units easy to install and will receive year-in and year-out dividends by the use of the proper size ventilators.

Metal ventilators not only help reduce the heat built up in an attic area during the hot summer months, but also are effective in controlling condensation such as can occur in an unventilated attic during the cold winter months.

A booklet describing the various types of metal ventilators available can be secured without charge from the Metal Ventilator Institute, 22 West Monroe St., Chicago 3, Illinois.

Use Brush Three Ways in Varnishing Floors

When varnishing a floor, brush with the grain of the wood, covering about four or five boards for a distance of about 4 feet. Then without refilling the brush, cross off the surface to catch any places you may have missed. After that, scrape the brush over the edge of the can and lightly straighten out the surface, brushing lengthwise again.

This brushing in three directions spreads the varnish to a uniform full film without danger of runs. The best brush to use is one two inches wide. Keep your brush full to prevent running or sagging.

About 125 different processes are involved in making a wooden lead pencil.

Take Plaster Off Paint With Citric Acid, Water

If you get plaster droppings on paint, here's an easy way to do a good cleaning job. First, gently remove as much of the plaster as possible by lightly scraping, or with steel wool, being careful not to injure the paint or other surfaces.

Next soak the area to be cleaned in a solution prepared of one part citric acid and nine parts water. When the stain is loosened, use rinsed out damp cloths to remove both the stain and the citric acid.

Easy Way to Save Brush

Here's an easy way to keep the bristles of your paint brushes from curling. Clean them thoroughly after painting, wrap a piece of paper around the bristles and secure it, then hang them up to dry. A small hole drilled in the top of the brush handle will make it easier for you to suspend the brush from a nail, a wire hanger or on a piece of string. The brush bristles will dry straight.

LIVING ROOM HUB — An unusually efficient traffic pattern is shown in this floor plan. The living area forms the hub from which traffic routes radiate to all parts of the house, both inside and out.

Terraces, Porches, Patios Surround Ranch Home

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE
AP Newsfeatures

Six outdoor living areas have been deftly linked to form an inviting fresh air border for this autumn offering in the House of The Week series.

The nine-room ranch plan, designated X-25, provides outside activity space for every member of the family. The perimeter areas are arranged so that all can be reached directly from interior rooms.

The result is a traffic pattern with an efficiency seldom achieved in residential designs.

The hub is formed by the living area — dining, living and recreation rooms. Radiating from the hub are traffic routes leading to all parts of the house, both inside and out. The plan is the work of Herman H. York, a New York architect.

The outdoor border includes (1) a covered rear porch, (2) a rear terrace the full width of the house, (3) a corner dining terrace, (4) a side area for a children's supervised play terrace, (5) a "buffer" breezeway, and (6) a partially covered front entrance.

The "buffer" breezeway separates the more formal living areas of the house from the garage and its adjoining man's hideaway room. The latter is an 11 by 19 foot space providing full privacy for the man of the house in his pursuit of hobbies or crafts. The hideaway room is an important interior detail.

This area includes the living room, 15 feet 4 inches by 20 feet 4 inches, and the dining room, 12 by 13 feet 4 inches. Both are at the back overlooking the rear terrace and gardens.

A brick wall fireplace, which is an extension of an indoor barbecue unit in the recreation room-kitchen area, separates the living and dining rooms, assuring privacy and formality to each.

In a separate wing at the right are the sleeping rooms and two baths. There is space for either three or four bedrooms, depending on whether an adult den is wanted.

The master bedroom, 12 by 15 feet, has a private bath with stall shower, four sliding door closets, a twin corner-window arrangement and a separate exit to a rear covered porch.

The two front bedrooms are cross ventilated and have three and two closets, respectively. There is a central hall leading to all rooms and baths. The fourth bedroom (or den) also has a separate exit to the rear porch.

The kitchen, scientifically planned and attractively equipped, overlooks the children's play area. A cook-top range is set on a triangular-shaped island. Storage cabinets are built into the range unit.

The island range, the architect says, "expands the amount of counter top work space and minimizes the housewife's kitchen routine because it separates the areas for preparation, cooking and cleaning."

There is a direct exit from the kitchen to the outdoor dining terrace, and an indoor brick wall barbeque separates the kitchen and the adjoining recreation room.

The kitchen is entered from the breezeway through a small service hall which contains a lavatory, a mud closet and the basement stairway. The laundry room and the heating plant are below in the full basement.

In addition to the outdoor terraces and porches, there is the recreation room, 11 feet 4 inches by 14 feet 4 inches. It can be entered directly from the foyer; it adjoins the kitchen and is only a few steps away from all living and dining areas.

In all there are 15 closets plus the garden tools storage closet off the breezeway and the storage closet in the man's hideaway room. The 19 by 20 foot garage has storage space for two cars.

The man's hideaway room is separated from the main house by the "buffer" breezeway. Generally a man's workshop is located in the basement or in a small section of a garage.

Here, the architect decided to give more importance to the workshop and endow it with a pleasant atmosphere and more privacy. It is fully equipped with work bench, storage closet and abundant wall space for tools and other utility purposes.

THE EXTERIOR

Vertical boards are used around the garage-hideaway area and brick veneer is used at the entrance. Hand split wood shingles are used elsewhere on outside walls. Asphalt shingles are used for the roof. The chimney is of brick.

The breezeway is covered between the kitchen and the garage-hideaway room. Flagstones or slate set in concrete are specified for the outdoor terraces.

Overall dimensions are 62 feet 10 inches by 72 feet 10 inches. The habitable area has 2,048 square feet. The garage and hideaway room have 630 square feet. A minimum lot, 100 by 125 feet, is recommended.

Take Over the Garage for New Family Room

You may be able to build a family room without enlarging your present home. And you won't have to go to the basement, although some mighty fine recreation rooms have been made from waste basement space.

Newest idea for recreation room space is to take over the garage. A dould car garage makes an ideal size family play room. It also has most of the basic ingredients: sound room, studded walls, floor.

If you move the car outdoors, all that's needed in most climates is a car port or roof, and this can be added to the existing garage.

To convert garage into a warm and hospitalb family gathering place is not an overly expensive undertaking. To make it friendly, you will probably want to panel the walls i some lovely, low cost wood like Douglas fir or western red cedar. To keep heat in, better put an isulating board or heavy paper against the studs before the panels are put in place.

You may have to put some 2 x 4s in between the studs horizontally so ynou have a solid nailing surface for the panel boards. You may also want to use a wood decking for the ceiling to carry out the rusticity and hospitality idea. Any of seven ceiling patterns will work just right.

If your concreate floor is cold underfoot, you may wish to install a wood floor directly over the concreate.

Some people have built a fireplace into one wall which really makes this rebuilt garage a thing of charm and beauty. Whether you have a fireplace wall or not, you will most certainly want to build in some shelves or even a buffet for storage and service to guests.

If the fireplace doesn't provide enough heat you can install several different kinds of perimeter heating, or if the garage is close enough to the house, you might even extend a heat line from the main furnace.

To carry out the idea of relaxing charm, if you use wood paneling, you will probably want to finish the wood so that its lovely natural coloring, grain and texture is retained as a decorative motif for the room. In that event, you need only apply a coat of sealer and, after it has dried thoroughly, you can put on coats of lacquer, varnish or plastic. Only be sure that you rub down the wood after each application of sealer or varnish.

Some people may wish to hire a cabinetmaker or finish carpenter to do the woodwork in the remodelled garage, but they certainly could do the finishing themselves if they want to cut costs. Most of the finishing is a combinatelligent handling of the various varnishes and sealers,

Widely recognized as the strongest of structural woods, Southern Pine is used principally for framing and siding—those house parts where physical endurance is allimportant.

An excellent example is a nest of cubes madeof Masonite ¼" "Peg-Board" Panels laced together with plastic clothesline or string. The largest cube should be 12" square, and others should be 11", 10" and 9".

In cutting the "Peg-Board" squares, saw between rows of holes to facilitate lacing. When the cubes are assembled, the sides should bear the weight of the top panel. The panels should be painted with a primer coat and one or two finish coats.

Youngsters will find great delight in using the cubes as chairs, storage boxes or sifters in sand boxes.

Other lace-together projects with "Peg-Board" panels for handy home use include a mending basket, laundry hamper, and wastebasket.

Beaupre Home Has Two Living Rooms

table from the base of some garage doors, the linoleum and a metal rim for the edge. Chairs match, are green with metal frames.

REED LAKE

The living-dining room is large with big picture windows overlooking the lake. Reed Lake was a small, rather swampy lake when the subdivision went in. Bulldozers dug out canals and bays and by now the lake shore is one continuous stretch of green lawn.

Walls are soft green. The carpeting is beige tweed. The floor length draperies match the green of the walls Since three of the four Beaupres have hair that is distinctly auburn in shade, Mrs. Beaupres complemented their coloring in the decorating.

The wall around the gold Roman brick fireplace is papered in a Colonial design paper. This has green figures on a beige background.

There are two maple rockers with colorful upholstery. A third rocker is covered in a brown, green and pink print. A maple cobbler's bench serves as a table between two of the rockers.

Braided and hooked rugs are used as throw rugs throughout the house. Between the living room and kitchen is a crescent shaped "welcome" rug.

COLONIAL FURNITURE

The new family room has a vinyl floor in a marbleized pattern. Walls are light knotty pine. A large mirror over the sofa reflects the lake and seems to bring it inside. Curtains are green with a leafy design.

This room is heated independently so that no new furnace work was necessary. There's an outside door to the garage from this room.

Furniture in here is also maple. The desk has an intersting top, a large old piece of marble. It makes a perfect surface for serving when the Beaupres entertain in this room.

The Beaupres' bedroom has chalk yellow walls (it looked like avocado to us). Curtains are green and gold striped. The rug is hooked. The maple twin beds have rose spattered chintz spreads.

Emilou, who's eleven, has the second main floor bedroom. Her walls are of white. Harlequin chintz in pink, blue, purple and lavender is used for curtains and the bed ruffle. The quilted spread is pink. Furniture is gray. Throw rugs are green.

Because there is no shower in the upstairs bathroom there is no need of a shower curtain. Instead Mrs. Beaupres put up a ruffle over the top of the tub enclosure to match the window curtains. These are striped in brown, tan and white.

Between the kitchen and the bedroom hallway is the television room. This is carpeted in beige. Walls are beige, but the ceiling is blue. Furniture is blond with brown upholstery. The brown draperies have a water scene on them in blue, orange and brown.

Downstairs is the children's living room. Here they can rock 'n' roll or have a pizza party, all without interfering with anyone upstairs. This room opens out onto a cement patio where there is a barbecue grill and a picnic table.

Swimmers come in through this room to the basement shower room.

BRIGHT COLORS

The floor is cortone tile. Walls are plywood with a pickled finish. There are large windows, as this room is on the ground floor. Draperies are beige with a red, black and gold geometric design.

The fireplace is brick like the one upstairs. Over the mantel is a piece of grass cloth framed. On it now are shells, some coral and a couple of artificial fish. The Beaupres plan to change the articles on this bulletin board as the seasons change.

The red corduroy sofa has gold and gray cushions. Musical notes and instruments in black silhouette are mounted on the wall. There are a couple of aqua plastic chairs with black frames.

Fifteen-year-old Rick has his bedroom down on this lower level. His bed is built into the corner. Next to it is a small couch covered in gray with red and gray pillows. The bedspread is red with a gold thread.

Walls are surfwood. Furniture is limed oak. Rick has a black contour chair to relax in. Carpeting and curtains are gray. There are three good-sized closets in this room.

Mr. Beaupre has a good workshop in the basement. In the laundry room the Beaupres intend to put a stove so that meals can be prepared for parties in the children's living room.

Utilize Odd Places in Bath for Storage

Dwarf-type storage counts up to big utilization of dibs and dabs of space. With modern building materials, it's an easy matter to occupy wasted space with storage devices.

Under the lavatory in the bathroom is an ideal, though small, storage space. Frame it with 1x2-inch lumber and cover it with tough, wear-resistant, easy-to-paint hardboard. Add a shelf and a door and you've made a neat storage place for cleansing powder, extra soap bars, cleaning brushes and possibly some linen, as well.

Line the inside with Peg-Board, and the door, too, and you'll double your capacity. Get matching hooks from the lumber yard and hang on them items that otherwise have to be stored out of the bathroom.

A second, shallow medicine cabinet either jutting from the wall about four inches or recessed between wall studs, is another dwarf-type storage unit that will be a joy to the family. Use glass shelves and close the cabinet with Peg-Board or hardboard sliding doors.

Maintenance costs on a jet engine: $120 per hour. On a piston engine: $75 per hour.

Build Bench on Spare Door

A full-fledged work bench usually is a luxury reserved for the homeowner. Yet you can improvise one in an apartment if you have a spare, solid closet door—leading say, into a storage closet.

Using plywood, hinges and a piece of 2 by 6 as a base, the latter secured against the back of the door, make your apartment work bench in much the same way you would make a drop leaf table mounted on a wall.

The top edge of the 2 by 6 base should be placed about 36 inches off the floor and mounted horizontally on the inside of the door with the 6-inch-wide face against the door. The base should be trimmed enough at the sides to permit the door to close.

The plywood bench should be cut the same width of the trimmed base and about 30 inches in depth. Hinge it to the base.

A lightweight, collapsible "horse" completes the apartment work bench. Simply open the closet door, raise the plywood on its hinges and rest it on the horse.

The part of the door above the drop-leaf work bench can be used to hang tools and materials just as if it were the back of a basement work bench.

Good Heating System Fits House, Comfort Needs

A house that looks like a dream home in summer can be a nightmare of discomfort in winter unless it has a good heating system.

Fortunately, the selection of a good heating system is not particularly difficult, but it requires care and thought.

The first rule is don't buy on price alone. Beware of the bid that looks like a bargain. It may include inferior equipment and short cuts in the installation.

Remember, too, that a heating system is a long-time investment. Buy with the idea that you will be living with your heating system for at least 10 years and longer.

The second rule is to know the reputation of your heating contractor. He should be willing to give you names and addresses of customers for whom he has installed heating. The general appearance of his shop and his employes should instill confidence. Your local gas utility or fuel oil supplier can often help you.

Check on the reputation of the manufacturer, too. Alarmed by the number of sub-standard heating systems installed since the war, most manufacturers now issue strong, plainly-worded warranties covering their equipment.

A good heating contractor is always willing to explain why he recommends a particular make of furnace in terms of the way it is built, efficiency, safety and durability.

Finally, remember that no matter how good the furnace, it is no more efficient than the way it is installed. A competent and experienced heating contractor will inspect the house and talk to the owner about his comfort requirements before making recommendations.

One he knows how a house is constructed — the number, size and position of doors and windows, the amount of insulation, and other factors involved in a scientific study of heat loss — he can tell what equipment is needed and how it should be installed.

Installation has been greatly simplified by the development of the factory-engineered heating systems. All parts and fittings are standardized and the furnace is designed to work in harmony with the air distribution system. This takes the guesswork out of installation.

Other points to remember:

1. The furnace and air distribution system should be installed in such a way that summer air conditioning can be added simply and economically. Such planning ahead can save costly alterations in the future and it adds to the re-sale value of your house.

2. Make sure the installer is willing and able to service what he sells.

3. Do your heating shopping early. Breakdowns usually occur during sub-freezing weather.

Has Its Ups and Downs

The expression "raising the roof" dates from the Old West. The roof was built separately from the rest of the house and a man's neighbors would help him lift it onto the house's framework. Then all would join in a party celebrating the event. Today, a roof can be "lowered" by applying "Ranch-line" shingles whose wider tabs blend with a home's long, low look. The party is optional.

Hard Maple Floor Excellent in Kitchen

A new attitude in kitchen floors.

Interior decorators "discover" Northern hard maple for kitchen floors every three or four years. This year is one of them. The maple wood blends beautifully with the new type of wood kitchen cabinets built of maple and birch.

Maple floors are easy on the building budget and never require replacing. Properly finished, they require no scrubbing. Soft brushing will do the trick. And floors of Northern maple are handsome.

Another reminder! The top or finish hardwood floor should not be laid until plastering and cement work are thoroughly dried and woodwork and trim installed. As a final reminder, turn the heat on for at least ten days before you lay hardwood flooring. This precaution applies for either summer or winter.

Match Boards Up First for Beautiful Walls

Do you want a beautiful wood-paneled wall with an exquisite pattern of contrasting grain and texture? Then, here's an idea. Cut your panel boards to exactly fit the wall. Then, lay them out on the floor and carefully select each board so that you have the ideal combination of contrasting boards next to each other.

For best results, you may wish to finish the panel boards before installing. If you use such lovely, tawny-toned woods as western red cedar or Douglas fir, you can use clear lacquers or varnishes to retain their lovely, golden colors.

Only Two Thirds

Less than two-thirds of the cost of a new home today is spent on the home itself, a recent study reveals. The rest is spent for land, fees and other builder's expenses.

45 Million of Diverse Race, Background to Cast Ballots

French Set to Vote on Constitution

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Feature Writer

An estimated 45 million people of widely diverse race and background are expected to go to the polls Sunday in what could be one of the most important votes of our times.

They will be voting "oui" or "non" on a new constitution proposed by Premier Charles de Gaulle as the basic document to govern France's Fifth Republic and its overseas community. It's France's 13th constitution since 1791.

White Parisians, black Senegalese, brown Tahitians all will vote on the same Constitution but the basic point at issue is vastly different overseas than it is in France itself.

To the voter in Metropolitan France, a "oui" vote will mean a strong president; a "non" will mean probable return to the strong but chaotic National Assembly that has plagued France with 25 different governments since World War II.

To the voter overseas, adoption of the constitution will mean more autonomy within the French Community of nations; a rejection will mean outright independence with none of the advantages of economic ties with France.

In revolt-torn Algeria, which the French insist is an integral part of Metropolitan France, the issues are so clouded that no one is quite sure what a vote either way will mean.

The French Union, as the overseas community is called, is made up of 18 territories, four departments, one condominium shared with Britain, two autonomous states held in trust—and Algeria. All are voting except the condominium (New Hebrides) and the trust states (Togo and Cameroons).

All but two of the territories and departments are expected to approve the constitution. Senegal in West Africa and Algeria, scene of the bloody nationalist revolt since November, 1954, are listed as doubtful. But De Gaulle has not committed himself as to whether a "non" vote will mean independence for Algeria.

The chief bait held out for an overseas "oui" vote is continuation of the customs union or tariff-free trade system with France. About two-thirds of the trade of the overseas territories is with France, which in turn carries on about one-fourth of its own trade with the overseas territories. Official France also invests some half a billion dollars a year in development of the Union.

Some of the territories and departments are in America (Martinique, Guadaloupe, Guiana and St. Pierre & Miquelon); some are in the Pacific (New Caledonia and Oceania) but the most important are in Africa.

French Africa occupies more than a third of the continent's nearly 11¾ million square miles. It is nearly 20 times the size of Metropolitan France but its population is slightly less.

FURRY INFANT — The baby squirrel shown above, being fed from a baby bottle by two youngsters, Carolyn, 11, and Marsha, 8, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bertil Cedarleaf, 271 Starr, is a lucky creature. The girls found the "infant" red squirrel on the ground near a big tree from which it apparently had fallen. Says the girls' mother: "We're feeding it on a regular baby formula, every four hours." The girls come home from nearby St. Benedict School at noon to watch the lunch-time feeding.

Urges U.S. Bar Koreans

REXBURG, Idaho (AP) — Korean diplomat Yung Han Choo says the United States should adopt a policy barring Korean students from becoming permanent residents of this country. "We are losing too many of our Korean students from the homeland," he said. Han Choo was here for a talk today before Korean students at Ricks College.

COPE Derides Nixon Tax Plan

Union Committee Says Lower Income Groups Would Carry Burden

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political arm of the AFL-CIO says Vice President Nixon's proposal for a national sales tax appears aimed at a massive transfer of the nation's tax burden to lower income groups.

The big labor organization's Committee on Political Education, commonly known as COPE, makes this charge in a special news-letter denouncing a talk by Nixon before the Harvard Business School Assn. in Boston on Sept. 6.

COPE called the talk bold and brazen.

In his speech, Nixon calld for a 1½ per cent general manufacturers excise tax, or sales tax, to replace what he termed the nation's present hodgepodge of excise taxes. He also proposed a cut in the highest income tax brackets and in corporation levies with the aim, he said, of stimulating production.

COPE's newsletter, made public yesterday, attacked both suggestions as "a repaint job of the same old 'trickle down' theory." It added:

"That means that Nixon believes the rich, bribed with lower taxes for high income individuals and corporations, can be persuaded to build more plants, buy more machinery and 'give jobs,' regardless of whether wage earners and farmers have enough money to buy the products of American factories and farms operating at full capacity."

But They're Bigger

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Five-year-old Jakie Garcia was crossing a street near his home. A car knocked him down. Jakie got up, and another car knocked him down. Again he got up. This time he ran into the side of a parked car and fell. Jakie is in a hospital, recovering from minor cuts and bruises.

4 Top Officials Quit Airtemp

Resignations Believed Part of Reorganization Plans for Company

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — The Chrysler Airtemp Corp., a subsidiary of Chrysler Corp., announced the resignation yesterday of four top officials at its plant here.

The four are Carl E. Buchholzer, president; John F. Knoff, vice president in charge of sales; M. T. Bard, director of branch operations, and R. L. Forsberg, director of marketing.

Company officials did not comment on the resignations, but Bard's resignation was announced "for personal reasons."

It was understood the action is part of a reorganization program and that the company is mapping "a vigorous new sales and product campaign."

It was learned that Paul M. Augenstein of the General Electric in Louisville, Ky., would become president and Joseph B. Ogden of RCA Whirlpool at St. Joseph, Mich., will be named vice president in charge of sales.

The firm, which employes 1,700 persons here, manufactures heating and air conditioning equipment and gunnery and fire control for tanks.

Expect Record Vote on School Bond Issue

UTICA — Voters in the Utica Community School District are expected to turn out in record numbers Monday to decide a proposed $5½-million school bond issue, Fred Atkinson, schools superintendent, said today.

Atkinson and other school officials have been making numerous personal appearances before clubs and organizations in recent weeks to explain the proposed school expansion program.

The bond issue is designed to meet future school needs, resulting from anticipated population growth in the Utica area, the superintendent said. It will cover cost of additional classrooms, schools, sites equipment, and an administration building to house special teachers and administrators.

The alternative, Atkinson said, would be half-day sessions.

Jewish Festival of Tabernacles Opens Sunday

The Jewish Festival of Tabernacles begins at sundown, Sunday. Known in Hebrew as "Sukkot," the holiday commemorates the manner in which the ancient Israelites lived in the desert during their travels from Egyptian bondage towards the Land of Promise. Traditional Jews observe Sukkot for nine days; liberal Jews, for eight.

Sukkot Services will be held at Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake road, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. with a special children's service. Sukkot morning services will also be held on Monday at 10 a.m.

Traditional Sukkot services will be held at Congregation B'nai Israel, 143 Oneida road on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at 6 p.m., and on Monday and Tuesday morning at 7:30. The Junior Congregation will hold a special service at 10 a.m.

Sleeping Sickness Death Toll Climbs

TOKYO (UPI) — the unofficial death toll rose to 2,484 today in the violent sleeping sickness epidemic which has been sweeping Japan and the Republic of Korea.

Japanese health officials listed the dead in Japan at 812. Authorities in Seoul, Korea said at least 1,672 had died of the sickness in that country. Thousands more have been stricken, they said.

Lake Orion Pilot in Crash-Landing Escapes Unhurt

No amount of good luck charms could have brought a Lake Orion pilot more good fortune than he experienced yesterday when forced to crash-land his plane.

State Police reported that Jared Voorhees, 27, of 3280 Kern Rd., had motor trouble while flying his one-engine plane over Bald Mountain Golf Course, in Orion Township.

Voorhees told police he tried to make an emergency landing on the golf course. Completely without power, he misjudged the course and overshot it, police related.

A wing of the plane hit a tree. The aircraft spun around in mid-air and came down on its landing gear.

Police said the landing gear was broken off, windshield broken out, propeller broken off, and the body damaged in several places.

Voorhees stepped from the plane without a scratch.

MRS. EARL L. GRUBER JR.

Making their home in Tempe, Ariz., are newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Gruber Jr. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald B. McAlpin of Yuma, Ariz. Parents of the bridegroom are the Earl L. Grubers of Sweetbriar road, Westacres. He is a graduate of General Motors Institute of Technology and a former student at the University of Michigan. The bride was graduated from the University of Arizona. They were married in a Nuptial High Mass at St. Francis Catholic Church in Yuma.

Unwanted Eggs Refuse to Stay Buried in Yard

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — In preparing an eight-pound female turtle for soup, Floyd H. Hesseltine buried the unused portions, including 34 eggs, in his back yard.

Mrs. Hesseltine yesterday found 31 young turtles, three inchs long crawling around her garden.

The eggs had incubated in the earth and the turtles had clawed their way to the surface.

Lets Woman Sue Bishop of Lansing

FLINT (UPI) — Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth refused yesterday to dismiss a $200,000 damage suit against Bishop Joseph H. Albers of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Lansing.

A Mount Morris woman, Mrs. Mary Downum, was injured in a fall at St. John Viannui Church in Flint. Counsel for Bishop Albers, statutory trustee of the church, urged the suit be dismissed because Mrs. Downum was in a charitable organization, the church, when she was injured.

However, Judge Roth ruled that private charitable organizations are not immune to lawsuits. Many of the charitable organizations are now big businesses, he said.

"If they are to be relieved from negligence, it gives them an opportunity to be careless without redress and in effect put a premium on the neglect of duty," he added.

Wintergreen Oil Drink Fatal to Inkster Child

DETROIT (UPI) — A 2-year-old suburban Inkster girl died in Receiving Hospital yesterday of what doctors said was an undetermined dose of wintergreen oil.

Police said the girl, Queen Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson, apparently drank the oil without her parents knowledge.

Expert Says Space Tests Are Failure

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — A Navy researcher said today Air Force space chamber tests "aren't worth a damn."

Max W. Lund of the Office of Naval Research said the chambers designed to test human reactions in space travel failed to stimulate the psychological stress man will feel in space.

The men inside the test space chambers know they can get out whenever they want in an emergency, he said.

"We just don't know how to reconstruct the situation on the ground," Lund said.

Lund is chairman of a human engineering conference at the University of Michigan and made his statements before a conference meeting.

Because the tests are staged in a laboratory, they lose their value, he said, citing Navy experience with radar scope operators.

Lund said radar observers can maintain a high level of performance for six hours when constantly watched in a laboratory. But he said operators aboard ships, who have less supervision aboard ship must be changed every half hour to obtain maximum efficiency.

The Navy researcher said he knows of no way the stress of space travel can be simulated realistically on earth.

'Cant Stand Each Other' So They Drink, He Says

DENVER (AP)—Dr. Marvin A. Block, chairman of the American Medical Assn. committee on alcoholism, says people are drinking more as a necessary adjunct to conversation.

Among the reasons, Dr. Block says:

"People can't stand each other as people any more."

Dodges Red Shellfire

Big Convoy Reaches Quemoy

By FORREST EDWARDS

QUEMOY (AP) — The biggest and most successful Chinese Nationalist convoy of the offshore islands war reached Quemoy today with supplies for the besieged island.

The Nationalists did not immediately announce the extent of the latest supply mission to push through Communist shellfire. But from a vantage point overlooking Liaolo Beach, at least three or four times as many landing craft as came ashore yesterday could be seen.

A Nationalist military spokesman said 18 amphibious vehicles clambered onto the beach yesterday. Judgng from the capacity of Today's mission might have delivered 150 or 200 tons. That still is less than the Quemoy islands need daily to survive under Communist bombardment. But the Nationalists seem to be gradually building up a capacity to keep the offshore islands supplied.

Alligators and other landing craft cast off from U.S.-escorted Nationalist supply ships standing outside Red artillery range and swarmed to four separate landing areas.

As they came in shells splashed all around them and hit the beach. There was one very near miss which caused a craft to stop for a few seconds.

the alligator craft, their total load could have been up to 54 tons.

Officials said today the latest air drop was successful and there were no reports of damage to the planes. The aerial delivery of badly needed supplies supplemented the landing yesterday of cargo from a blockade-running convoy.

The intensity of Red firing in an effort to stop supplies from reaching the Quemoy group just five miles from Red China was indicated by a communique issued by the Nationalist Defense Ministry in Taipei, Formosa.

It said the mainland artillery rained 12,697 shells on the Quemoys yesterday and 2,974 more up to 5 a.m. today. By Nationalist count, this brings the number of shells hurled at the Quemoys since the current crisis began Aug. 23 to more than 370,000.

Dem Campaign Caravan Busy in Area Tomorrow

Gov. G. Mennen Williams and his campaign caravan will be kept busy tomorrow during a junket through Oakland County.

The Oakland County Democratic Committee, directed by Carlos G. Richardson, has arranged an itinerary for the governor and his party starting at 8:30 and concluding in the evening with stops in Novi, Wixom, Commerce and Farmington.

At noon, the group will enjoy coffee and donuts following an address before a gathering at the Gingellville Community Center, 3575 Baldwin Ave.

Richardson will greet the governor at 8:30 and move to the Villa Inn in Lake Orion for a breakfast. From there the party will journey over to Gingellville.

The remainder of the itinerary includes:

1:30 p.m. — Reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil F. Jaworski, 691 Stanley Ave., Pontiac.

3-5 P.M. — Guest of Richardson at a lawn party at the Richardson home, 2326 Carlos Dr., Waterford Township.

8-9 — At the Commerce Democratic Club for rally.

9:30 — Public invited to the Farmington Democratic Club for a reception for the governor.

Waterford Women Offered Exercises

Waterford Township women from 16 to 60 may participate in a weekly exercising class scheduled to begin September 30 at the Community Activities Center on Williams Lake road.

Each Tuesday night session from 7 to 9 p.m., will be divided into two periods. During the first part of the evening, group practice of basic exercises and mat work will be taught.

Gymnastic games will take up the second part of the class, according to the recreation department's instructor, Mrs. Carol Wolfe.

Because of the limited number of registrations accepted, those interested in the course have been urged to call the recreation department for immediate enrollment.

Church Sets Social Hour

ROCHESTER—The First Congregational Church of Rochester will hold its first fall coffee hour in the church hall following the Sunday morning worship service, chairman Mrs. Lowell Purdom announced. Members of the Board of Deaconesses will serve.

2-Wheelers Beat Cars in Stuttgart

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI) — Two-wheeled vehicles have proved faster than cars in a novel race through Stuttgart's traffic.

A motorcycle, a motor bike, a motor scooter, a small European car and a big American car competed in the event, staged yesterday by a German manufacturing firm.

They were turned loose at 5 p.m. to drive 8½ miles through the center of town at the rush hour. A motorcycle cop was assigned to each contestant to make sure he obeyed all traffic regulations.

First to reach the finish was the motor bike. It took 24 minutes to make the trip.

Just a few seconds later the motorcycle cleared the finish line. A minute later came the motor scooter.

The small car made it in 38 minutes. The American car, dead last, took 40 minutes.

2 Area Men Injured as Their Cars Collide

Two area men were injured last night when the cars they were driving collided at Northwestern Highway and Orchard Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township.

According to Redford State Troopers, the injured men were Robert C. Blackinton, 43, of 1706 Ashtan St., Walled Lake, and Joseph A. Riley, 47, of 3524 Elwood St., Berkley.

Both were taken to William Beaumont Hospital. Riley suffered a possible concussion, fractured jaw, and cuts, and is reported in "fair" condition. Blackinton was treated for minor injuries and released.

Youth Admits Setting Grand Rapids Fires

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Two of the most spectacular fires in Grand Rapids history were solved today, a year to the day after they happened.

Kent County Sheriff Arnold O. Pigorsh said an 18-year-old youth signed a 10-page confession admitting that he and a 26-year-old companion used dynamite to touch off fires at two oil companies that caused an estimated $350,000 damage.

Pigorsh said Thomas W. Kehl said he and the older man set fire to the Cornell Oil Co. to divert police while they burglarized a high school about two miles away and started a fire at the Ver Brugge Oil Co. for vengeance.

Police Probing Two Burglaries and Break-In

Pontiac Police detectives are investigating reports of two burglaries and a break-in in the city yesterday.

The first report came from Edward Bugbee, of 39 McKinley Dr., who told police a thief entered his home through a window and made off with a $100 16-gauge shotgun, and then went to his garage and took an outboard motor valued at $50.

Police investigated a second report but found nothing missing at 40 Clarence St. The complainant, Mrs. Edna Scriber, said the thief entered by kicking in the back door.

Earl Mustonen, of Oak Park, foreman at the Cy Owens auto agency, 147 S. Saginaw St., told police someone entered the agency garage through an unlocked window. Mustonen said an undetermined amount of change was taken from a cigarette vending machine and two soft drink machines.

Stirton Given U. of M. Post

Named Vice President, Director of Dearborn Center by Regents

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The University of Michigan has named Dr. William E. Stirton vice president and director of its Dearborn Center.

The center, made possible by a $6,500,000 grant from the Ford Motor Co., is scheduled to open its doors to students next September.

Stirton has been a U. of M. administrator for two years after serving as a Wayne State University administrator for five years.

His new appointment was made yesterday by U. of M. regents who held their first regular meeting of the school year.

The regents authorized the university to seek $250,000 in federal funds for student loans.

Vice President Wilbur K. Pierpont told the regents the funds probably would be made available under a new government program early next year.

The regents also boosted their student loan program by $200,000, using funds from a grant to the university by the estate of Della Noble of Milford. Pierpont said U. of M. had $1,485,201 set aside for student loans at the end of the fiscal year last January 30.

In other action, the regents accepted gifts and grants totaling $287,000.

They appointed Roger W. Heynes, dean of the college of literature, sciences and the arts, replacing Dean C. E. Odogaard, who resigned to become president of the University of Washington.

Also appointed were an associate dean and two department chairmen in the college of engineering. Glenn V. Edmonson, a faculty member since 1947, was named associate dean.

William G. Dow, faculty member since 1926, became chairman of the department of electrical engineering, succeeding N. S. Attwood, the dean of the college. Wilbur C. Nelson was reappointed chairman of the department of aeronautical engineering.

Allied Bases for Liberty, Says Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says the United States and its allies maintain overseas defense bases for "but one purpose, to defend freedom, to help free men who are fighting to protect freedom."

Eisenhower voiced this view yesterday at the little western Pennsylvania town of Ligonier where he participated in ceremonies commemorating the 200th anniversary of the building of Ft. Ligonier during the French and Indian War.

"Ft. Ligonier reminds us also today that this nation and our allies are maintaining forts in distant lands." The only purpose, he said, "Is to defend freedom."

"We do not seek more territory or any selfish advantage," the President declared. "We stand only for one principle — to help build a permanent peace—a fortress of freedom to which all mankind can repair."

U. of M. Unfazed by Willow Run Drop

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — University of Michigan President Harlan Hatcher says U. of M. is not concerned with the transfer of airlines from university-owned Willow Run Airport to Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

"We're in the education and research business," Hatcher said yesterday.

Several airlines have announced a switch to the terminal closer to Detroit.

U. of M. Vice President Wilber K. Pierpont said the university realizes between $70,000 and $80,000 annually for renting Willow Run.

The university also had its Willow Run research laboratories there, Hatcher said the classified research would continue at its present location even if all the airlines desert to Detroit Metropolitan.

Methodists Will Have Dramatics Workshop

ROCHESTER — The Methodist Conference Workshop on church dramatics will be held Oct. 3, 4 and 5 at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Rochester.

The first of its kind in the Conference, the workshop is open to all young people interested in formal and informal religious dramatics.

Why Not Together?

Ginger Rogers, Astaire to Waltz Apart on TV

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA)—One of the most intriguing aspects of this fall's schedule of TV specials is that Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire will each have a big show—two days apart.

Why didn't the networks have them do one together? That's what everybody's asking.

Ginger's answer is simple and to the point: "We would have loved to do it, but nobody has ever suggested that we do a TV show together—not a soul."

This incredible lack of initiative on the part of TV producers is almost as surprising as the next statement from Ginger:

"And, you know something else? No producer in years has tried to get us for a movie together. I'd love to do another musical with Fred, but the idea has never been suggested. I guess it's such an obvious idea that all the producers figure somebody else is trying, so nobody tries."

Ginger Rogers, still one of Hollywood's reigning beauties, will be making her debut as the proprietress of her own TV show when the full-hour special comes along on Oct. 15, over CBS-TV. She's made many guest appearances, but this will be the first Ginger Rogers Show. (Astaire's, on Oct. 17, will be on NBC-TV.)

This may be the first of many for Ginger. In the works—although contracts are not yet signed—is a deal with NBC-TV, whereby she'd do a half-hour series, live, beginning either in January or next fall. (And one thing she'll do, if this works out, is get Fred Astaire as guest star.)

Miss Rogers, looking blonder than ever and relaxed and sunburned, is pleasantly frank about why this sudden burst of interest in television.

"At the moment," she says, "I'm unmarriad. And I've traveled enough for a while. And I believe there's nothing healthier than hard work."

Her October show, she says, will probably be more in the intimate vein than most of these big, brassy specials. That's because she feels, when she watches shows herself, that intimate TV is better than big spectacles.

"On some of those big ones," she says, "the performer looks like a matchstick."

Since it would be a pity for a woman of her beauty to be reduced to matchstick proportions, most viewers hope her ideas are carried out.

Needless to say, she will do some singing and dancing, although she hasn't done too much of either—save for occasional guest shots—for the past three or four years.

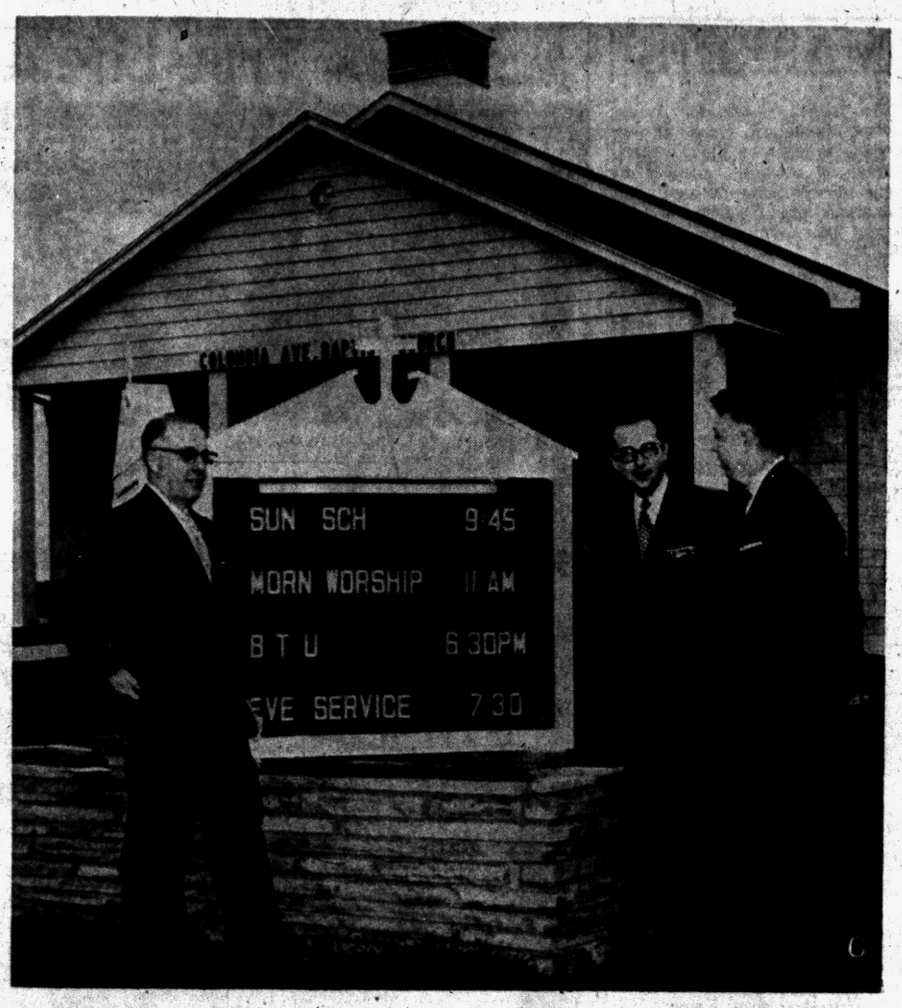

"I'm not concerned, though," she says. "I figure I'm still oiled up."

Belligerent Goat Finds Crime Does Not Pay

ATLANTA (AP) — Temptation proved too much for a brown and white goat. As a result, he landed behind bars.

The animal charged into a man waiting at a trolley stop yesterday. The victim picked himself up and called police.

The goat was hauled off to the Grant Park Zoo.

Folsom Hears Clemency Plea

Governor Ponders Fate of Handyman Doomed to Die Oct. 24

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A 55-year-old Negro handyman who says he never learned the ABC's or held a steady job, awaits word from Gov. James E. Folsom that may save his life.

Jimmy Wilson, whose death sentence for robbing a white woman brought thousands of appeals for mercy from throughout the world, had his clemency hearing before the governor yesterday.

Folsom has strongly indicated he will commute the sentence to life imprisonment. He gave no hint, however, when he will announce his decision.

Wilson himself didn't ask the governor for mercy. He left that up to Fred Gray, a Montgomery Negro attorney who represented him, and his two brothers, Roy and Lemon.

Unless the governor intervenes, Wilson is scheduled to be put to death Oct. 24.

Following yesterday's hearing, the governor said:

"I can assure the people of the world of my compassion for human life. I've always reprieved more than I allowed to go to the chair. I have always tried to see that only the criminally inclined premeditated murderers go to the chair."

Wilson was sentenced to death for robbing Mrs. Estelle Barker, 82, at her home in Marion last year. He took $1.95 in the robbery. Wilson had served two previous sentences for grand larceny.

Mrs. Barker testified that Wilson choked her, tried to rape her and threatened her life.

Hollywood Headlines

Funnyman Gets Laughs by Eying Human Foibles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What makes a funnyman funny?

Take the case of Louis Nye, the hep comic who helps brighten the Steve Allen hour. He is one of those rare comedians who can evoke laughter with the simplest of lines or even his mere appearance on the screen.

Yet he is no life-of-the-party type. Few real comedians are. Here for a couple of Hollywood originations of the Allen show, he discussed comedy with the serious articulation of a Madison Avenue ad man such as he has portrayed on TV.

To Nye, getting laughs is a matter of serious analysis of human foibles. He began early, playing in summer stock and on radio. More often than not, he played an intense juvenile. But the Army made him realize that comedy was his strong suit.

"I was stationed at a camp near a wild town in Missouri," he recalled. "I was in charge of the recreation hall, and I had to make the entertainment good enough to keep the young soldiers from going into town. It was a challenge and I worked hard at it. For the first time, I realized I had the ability to make people laugh."

He got more valuable experience in the Army by touring with "Winged Victory" and entertaining in hospitals. At war's end, he went back to radio and night clubs but with only mediocre success.

Fortunately, the Allen show came along and Nye was raised from merely reliable to a sure-fire laugh-getter with his Gordon Hathaway and other guises.

The question is: Where does he go from here?

"I'm under contract to the Allen show," he remarked, "but it's a strange kind of a contract. They can break it or I can break it any time. I like working with Steve and I hope to continue. I'll be happy to come out to Hollywood when Steve brings the show here next year—if they ask me."

But Nye realizes he can't be second banana forever. One of his great friends is Art Carney, who has broken his own sound barrier as No. 2 comic to Jackie Gleason. Carney scored as a dramatic actor on Broadway last season with "The Rope Dancers." This week he did a superb job as the star of "Harvey" on TV.

Sentences Pair in Rifle Slaying

Judge Orders Terms of 7½ to 25 Years for Murder in Ionia

IONIA (AP) — A Belding mother and her teenage boy friend have been sentenced to 7½-25 year prison terms for second degree murder in the rifle slaying of the woman's husband, 52-year-old Robert McNinch.

Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis imposed the sentences yesterday on Mrs. Marian McNinch, 27, and Larry Fisher, 17. He recommended a minimum term for Mrs. McNinch who was ordered confined at the Detroit House of Correction.

Judge Davis also recommended that the Fisher youth, sentenced to Southern Michigan Prison, be released "at any time after the minimum that the parole board is of the opinion that you are a good risk."

Fisher admitted fatally shooting McNinch last April 12 as the victim slept on a couch in his living room. Mrs. McNinch, mother of six children, admitted she stood by.

McNinch's body was found buried in a shallow, rubble-piled grave near the McNinch home on the outskirts of Belding.

Jimmy Stewart Takes His First Jet Flight

PALMDALE, Calif. (UPI) — Actor Jimmy Stewart, a colonel in the Air Force Reserve, made his first supersonic jet flight yesterday in a Convair TF-102A Delta Dagger.

Stewart, who handled the controls briefly over the Mojave desert while pilot Maj. Tom Hart monitored, termed the 32-minute, 38,000-foot flight "the most amazing flight I've ever made."

State Jobless Cut by Auto Plant Recalls

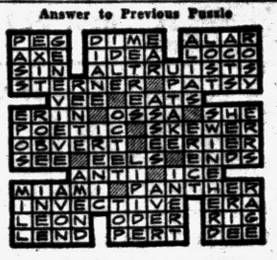

DETROIT (AP)— Auto industry recalls were an important factor in a drop of 83,896 in Michigan unemployment from early in July to September 18.

The Michigan Employment Security Commission said yesterday the state jobless totaled 282,647 on Sept. 18. Unemployment stood at 366,570 early in July. The commission said some 25,000 to 30,000 idle auto workers were recalled in the period.

Grand Rapids MESC office manager Frank Christensen said Kent County unemployment now totals less than 8,000. There were 19,800 unemployed in the county in June.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Arrested for Taking $40 From Home

Arrested by Pontiac Police on a charge of stealing $40 from a home in the city yesterday morning was Harvey S. Bailey of 600 Clarkston Rd., Lake Orion.

Mrs. T. F. Cooke, of 1070 Oakland Ave., told police Bailey entered her home through an unlocked door and snatched her wallet containing the money sitting on a hallway table.

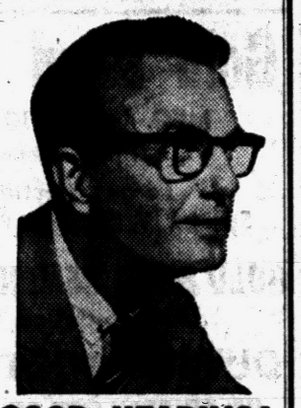

Mrs. Cooke said she and her maid chased Bailey from the house. He was caught by two unidentified citizens a short distance away and held until police arrived. He was charged with larceny from a building.

When the liner Queen Elizabeth docks in New York, it lands up to 2,000 passengers, takes on food for 100,000 meals, and embarks with 2,000 new passengers, all in about two days.

Have a Gas Permit?
IF YOU HAVE YOU WILL BE WISE TO INVESTIGATE THE MARVELOUS NEW BURDETT RADI-HEAT GAS BURNER

- The only gas burner that produces 40% more useable heat from your gas.
- The only new gas burner in 20 years.
- The only burner (including oil) that gives you a constant even heat. Similar to a coal fire with a bed of coals. No more cold rooms or cold shoulders.
- The only burner that pays for itself. "Why not own it?" Gas users are paying for it anyway with Higher Gas Bills. A Burdette will pay you dividends in comfort and fuel savings for the rest of your life.
