

Commission Mulls Proposals for Renewal Land Use

By BOB WISLER
Varied proposals related to the development of downtown urban renewal land were received by the City Commission last night.

of the Sears store constitutes a "very serious problem" for many reasons.
He alluded that "by reading between the lines" the reader can detect another impact which may be in the offing.

Taylor said the Sears decision will have other results. "Any other department work will certainly think twice before coming in," he said.

management of Sears in Chicago tomorrow to find out these answers.
Other points involved in discussion of the redevelopment problem were advanced by Donald R. Frayer, president of the Citizens Committee for Pontiac's Positive Progress (CCPPP), and Mitchell L. Bacow, a Pontiac attorney, who in a letter to the commission asked for the downtown land for a housing development with some "ancillary" stores.

Frayer, suggested a large committee involving representatives from all segments and organizations should be formed to take action on downtown redevelopment.

He said that lack of decent housing is another but called for a unified approach to all problems at once.
To help solve housing needs he suggested a nonprofit corporation consisting of a unified, citywide, representative group which can implement housing programs.

Dirksen Attacks Doves, Threatens Unity of GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — A slashing attack by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, on critics of President Johnson's war course, threatens to splinter any Republican unity on the Vietnam issue for the 1968 elections.
The Senate GOP leader, who expects to have a guiding hand in drafting the party's platform next year, fired at Republicans and Democrats alike in a desk-pounding, fist-shaking indictment yesterday of those willing to settle for something less than a Communist defeat in Vietnam.
In a blistering exchange with Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee over whether American security is at stake in the conflict, Dirksen trained his guns on recent dovish proposals by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., and his Illinois colleague, Sen. Charles H. Percy.

Dirksen lectured his colleagues for trying, he said, to run the war from the Senate floor. He counseled Johnson's critics not to demean the presidency.
NATION'S PRESTIGE
"You do not demean him in the eyes of the people abroad because when you do, you demean the prestige of this republic," he roared.
Terming the Republican party an umbrella with room for all shades of opinion, Dirksen said criticism should not go so far as to invade the constitutional powers of the President.
Morton has said he will support Dirksen for chairman of the 1968 GOP convention platform committee despite their differences over Vietnam.
But whether other Republicans who have criticized the President will be happy to have a Johnson defender in that position remains to be demonstrated.

NO SQUEAKY SHOFAR HERE — Rabbi Philip Berkowitz of Temple Beth Jacob expects no squeaky notes blown at High Holy services this week. Adam and Ruth Kollin, who learned to blow the shofar without a mouthpiece, will participate in the children's service at 2 p.m. tomorrow. The two youngsters are representatives of some 25 children of the religious school who learned the art of blowing under the direction of Jacob Meyer. Judge and Mrs. Arthur W. Kollin of Avon Township are the children's parents. (See story, Page A-2.)

Girardin Quits Police Post Judge Upholds New State Tax

DETROIT (AP) — Police Commissioner Ray Girardin, whose 4,000-man department was troubled by two years of grand jury probes, a pay dispute and criticism that it moved too slowly during the July riots, today submitted his resignation.
Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh accepted the resignation — effective tomorrow on Girardin's 65th birthday — but said the commissioner would stay on the job until a successor is chosen.
He said several "capable and qualified administrators" are under consideration, but declined to name them.
A city employee must retire at age 65 unless the Pension Board grants an extension.

tension on recommendation of his superior. The board gave Girardin a six-month extension.
Cavanagh, in accepting the resignation with "great regret," attacked the two years of Wayne County grand jury probes which he said had unsettled the department by investigation of police activities.
PAY DISPUTE
Besides the grand jury probes, during which several policemen were indicted and others resigned when association with known criminals was barred, the department was unsettled by a pay dispute.

retire, but that the mayor had asked him to stay on.
There had been published reports since the riots that Cavanagh had become disenchanted with his commissioner and would ask him to quit. Both Girardin and Cavanagh denied the reports.

The constitutionality of Michigan's new state income tax was upheld today in an opinion handed down by Oakland County Circuit Judge William R. Beasley.
The tax, which went into effect Sunday, had been challenged by Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kuhn and one of his clients, the Bruce E. Duke Contracting Co. of Farmington.
Kuhn said he would appeal Beasley's decision to the Michigan Court of Appeals.
In dismissing the case on the request of the state attorney general's office, Beasley, in an eight-page ruling, suggested that Kuhn take steps to secure a referendum election.

News at a Glance

DETROIT (AP) — The federal government reported today an urgent need for Ford parts by the Army and requested the United Auto Workers union and Ford Motor Co. to arrange a supply of these from the strike-bound company's depots.
Ken Bannon, UAW Ford director, said the union will make the manpower needed available.
No TV Time Yet for Romney
LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney said today he is still trying to get national television time to report on his 19-city urban tour and other "matters of national importance." He said he has not yet decided whether to use that time to announce his candidacy for the 1968 presidential nomination — or even whether to run at all.

RAY GIRARDIN

Many policemen reported sick during the summer dispute which resulted in the signing of the city's first labor contract with the force.
Girardin, a former police reporter for the now defunct Detroit Times and later a personal aide of Cavanagh's, also came under fire following Detroit's July racial riot. Some critics said the city police reacted too slowly. Others said they didn't react strongly enough.
Cavanagh said Girardin had indicated early in the summer that he wanted to

Gov. Romney Eyes Open Housing Bill
LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney indicated today he is interested in including open housing legislation in the special fall legislative session.
But, he told a news conference, the shaping of such legislation will have to wait until he hears New Detroit Committee proposals and confers with Republican and Democratic legislative leaders.
He said the New Detroit Committee, a group of prominent Motor City citizens who are coordinating the rebuilding of the city's riot-torn areas, is putting together specific recommendations which should be ready by Oct. 12.

Judge Upholds New State Tax
Kuhn contends, though, that the time and energy involved in getting petitions signed for a referendum would be fruitless since the attorney general's office already has ruled that the tax is not subject to the vote of the people.
ADVISORY RULINGS
During the hearing on the case last week, Beasley indicated that the rulings of the attorney general's office were of an advisory nature and could be tested in court.
"If that's the case," Kuhn, "why did the presidents of the state universities resign as directors of banks shortly after the attorney general ruled that they could not hold both positions because of possible conflicts of interests."

City Income Tax OK Unanimous

City commissioners last night unanimously adopted an income tax ordinance.
The long-discussed tax of 1 per cent for residents and half a per cent for nonresidents is set up to take effect Jan. 1 with tax collections from paychecks beginning after that.
A few persons were on hand to protest the tax and the advisory election held two weeks ago, including Cecil C. Mulholland of 571 Lowell, who last week promised a referendum vote on the tax.
Mullinix reiterated his promise last night.
City commissioners again spoke of pressing needs for new city income and several encouraged Pontiac residents to avoid signing any petitions which would call for the referendum vote.

Job Compromise Rejected
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today rejected, by a 47-42 vote, a cut-down $225-million compromise emergency job proposal as part of the anti-poverty bill. The $925-million plan had been offered as a substitute for a $2.8-billion proposal.
NY Teachers Union Fined
NEW YORK (AP) — The United Federation of Teachers was fined $150,000 today and its president, Albert Shanker, sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $250 for criminal contempt of court in conducting a strike against the city's public school system.

Big Month for Pontiac, GM Truck

A September rise in sales over last year has been reported by Pontiac Motor Division and a near-record number of domestic deliveries reported by GMC Truck and Coach Division.
Martin J. Caserio, vice president of GM and divisional general manager, said the truck division delivered more trucks and coaches in September than in any similar month since 1951.
Deliveries totaled 10,116, a 9.1 per cent increase over September 1966.
This narrowly missed being the best

September in GMC Truck and Coach history, being edged out by 765 units in 1951.
Pontiac Motor sold 63,655 Pontiacs, Tempests and Firebirds last month. John Z. DeLoane, a GM vice president and the division's general manager, said in the final 10 days a total of 45,553 units were sold.
This, he pointed out, compares to 24,500 sales in the same period in 1966. In September a year ago, 47,763 units were sold.

House Panel Shelves Tax-Hike Bill 'Until Spending-Cut Okay'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, threatened by the House for weeks to cut spending or see his tax hike bill go down the drain, now has the ultimatum in black and white.

The tax-writing ways and means committee voted 20 to 10 for a resolution putting aside the bill for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge "until such time as the President and the Congress reach an understanding" on spending cuts.

But the full House narrowly

Negro Wins in Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Negro attorney Carl B. Stokes won the Democratic nomination for mayor of Cleveland in the biggest political upset in the city's history in 26 years. Stokes, 40, told his supporters, "You have vindicated my faith in American democracy."

The personable, 40-year-old state representative faces Seth Taft, grandson of President William Howard Taft, in the Nov. 7 general election.

Stokes had heavy support from the Negro community but also got help from white voters to score his impressive victory in yesterday's primary.

With 900 of the 901 polling places reported, Stokes had 116,000 votes to 92,029 for incumbent Mayor Ralph S. Lochner and 8,543 for Frank P. Celeste.

2 Sentences Suspended in Bribe Case

A former Royal Oak Township official and a Detroit builder received suspended sentences yesterday after pleading guilty to a reduced bribery charge in connection with a grand jury indictment.

Circuit Judge William J. Beer accepted the pleas from Samuel Woodard, 49, of 20853 Garden Lane, Royal Oak Township, and Morris Margulies, president of American Custom Homes, Inc., Detroit.

The pair pleaded guilty to bribery of agents, servants, and deception of their principles, a misdemeanor punishable up to one year in jail.

Oakland County Grand Juror Philip Pratt charged them with bribery and conspiracy in March 1966. He accused Margulies of paying Woodard and three other trustees $1,800 in return for their favorable vote to sell him 22 lots formerly used for wartime housing.

Margulies later developed the property with Woodard.

NO PREVIOUS RECORD In suspending the sentence of Margulies Beer noted that the builder had no previous record, and added that he did not believe that sending him to jail would serve as a deterrent to others because "experience shows there is no deterrent to greed."

Beer said that he took into consideration the fact that Woodard is supporting five children.

Woodard is on probation for another bribery matter in which he accepted $25 to allow the erection of a nonconforming sign at a gas station.

Another bribery charge against Woodard and Margulies involving three lots is still pending.

Trio Honored for Service to Handicapped

Presidential citations for meritorious service were presented yesterday to three members of the staff of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at the Downtown Kiwanis Club meeting.

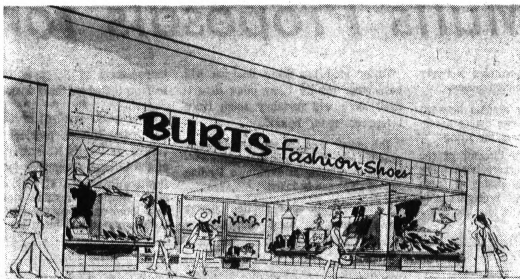

Cited were Charles Dorando, head of the hospital's rehabilitation department, Mrs. Iris Hagen, secretary to the physical medicine department, and Sister Mary Xavier, hospital administrator.

Assistant Administrator Ralph Lownds received Sister Xavier's citation when she was unable to attend the noon luncheon.

Work with the Pontiac Employ the Handicapped Committee was cited in presenting the awards.

The honors were presented by Vincent P. Hippolitus, assistant executive secretary of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Hippolitus was also the main speaker for the Kiwanis Club meeting at Fortino's Steak House, West Wide Track at West Huron.

Architect's Drawing Of Burt's Shoe Store At Pontiac Mall

Burt's Shoes City Commission Sifts Ideas for Renewal Land to Open Store

Burt's Fashion Shoe Store opens tomorrow in the new Fashion corridor at the Pontiac Mall. The new store sells women's shoes, handbags and hosiery. Burt's is the retailer of Stylepide Shoes.

"We have a full collection of shoes for all occasions... casuals, tailored and dressy styles, evening shoes and leisure slippers," said Ronald Ward, store manager.

Ward was formerly assistant to the manager at Baker's Shoe Store in Eastland. He had been with Baker's for nine years.

Burt's is a subsidiary of Edison Brothers, Inc., who also owns Baker Shoe and Chandler Shoe stores chains.

The store interior, approximately 4,340 square feet, has an interior design of brick red accented with shades of green. There are Burt's Shoe stores in more than 50 major U.S. cities.

Plan to End Night Football Still Weighed

A proposal to eliminate night high school football games in the Pontiac School District is still being considered, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent, said today.

School officials met with Police Chief William K. Hanger this week to discuss the chief's proposal following a raucous Saturday night in Pontiac after the Pontiac Central High School football game.

The game was played at Winder Stadium. Afterwards, police received reports of a large gang of teen-agers walking along Oakland throwing stones at cars and molesting other youths.

More than a dozen store windows along Oakland were smashed. When police arrived, there were no evident violators and no arrests were made.

Under consideration by school officials are alternatives of switching night football games to the daytime or limiting attendance by selling tickets beforehand through the schools and keeping the general public out.

School Committee Gives Sex Education Report

BIRMINGHAM — Recommendations on a proposed sex education program for the Birmingham schools were presented to the board of education last night by the home and family life committee under Dr. George Hallow.

The committee, appointed by the board last March, strongly recommended that the schools proceed cautiously with coordinated efforts with parents and church in developing future curriculum additions.

A committee spokesman said, "Development and implementation of the program is dependent upon personnel qualified to handle attitudinal aspects of the program, not merely biological facts."

Other recommendations in the report include appointment of a program coordinator; selection of a community committee to support, direct, and interpret the program back to the community; a concurrent parent program with the K-12 school program; and use of "Home and Family Life" instead of "sex education."

Romney-Kelley Feud Flaring

Highway Dept. Probe Delay Brings Anger

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney today accused Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley of sitting on his hands when investigations of the State Highway Department were sought by Romney.

The charge brought an angry reply from Kelley that Romney "has permitted his political considerations to determine his official actions" in regard to current controversy over highway investigations.

Romney told a news conference today that "there is a need for an objective, unbiased complete investigation" of alleged wrongdoing in past Highway Department administration.

He further said that a recent investigation of the department by Kelley's office "is not complete according to the attorney general's own statement."

Romney, a potential candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, told newsmen that Kelley's investigation was "made by a man who sat on his hands earlier."

The governor said he had sought an investigation of the department as early as 1963 but to no avail.

Kelley in turn charged that Romney "failed to take action when in his inauguration in 1963 and early 1967 to request or suggest for an investigation by this office or any other office."

"The only official investigation by a law enforcement agency of the Highway Department during the Romney administration was initiated by and conducted by the attorney general's office," Kelley said.

Kelley said Romney agreed with the findings of the attorney general's investigation of the Highway Department when they were released last July and had expressed disagreement only in response to recent newspaper articles concerning alleged scandal in the department.

Lapeer Youth Dies in Bike-Car Mishap

A Lapeer youth was struck and killed 7:45 p.m. Monday while riding his bicycle.

He pulled onto M24 just north of Brocker in Lapeer County and was struck by an oncoming car, police said.

Killed instantly was James F. Hackney, 15, of 5067 N. Lapeer.

According to the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department, the driver of the car, William T. Morris of Lapeer, was headed north when he boy apparently pulled onto the highway.

The driver told police he served but not in time.

More Shots Due for Girl Unless Dog Is Found

A 2-year-old Pontiac girl will continue to undergo treatments for rabies unless a dog that bit her severely about the face is found.

The girl's mother, Mrs. Richard Grimaldi, 573 Granada, described the dog that attacked her daughter, Dawn Marie, as a black and white mongrel, "looking like a scottie with long whiskers," and wearing a choke chain.

The child was standing in the front yard of her home when the dog jumped her and knocked her to the ground between 5:30 and 6 p.m. Sunday, according to her mother.

Information on the whereabouts of the dog can be given to the dog warden at the Pontiac police department.

Wilson Aide to Ask Party to Back U.S.

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP)—Fresh from a victory for plans to cure Britain's ailing economy, Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government takes on party dissidents again today. This time the issue is U.S. policies in Vietnam.

Foreign Secretary George Brown was expected to ask the party's convention to reject demands of 14 labor unions that the government stop backing the U.S. conduct of the war. Success could divert attention from Brown's embarrassing public row with news photographers.

A fighting speech by Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan Tuesday won a standing ovation and persuaded the convention to endorse Wilson's wage-price freeze and other stern economic measures that have pushed unemployment to record levels.

The government need not answer to the Labor convention for its policies. But a party endorsement of its position on Vietnam would buoy Wilson's Cabinet, beset recently by a number of hot issues including Britain's bid for Common Market membership.

NOT ENOUGH

Telling a public meeting Tuesday night it was not enough to urge the United States to stop bombing North Vietnam, Brown said, "What I would like to have is some indication from someone I can trust as to what Hanoi would do if the bombing were to stop."

The foreign secretary had landed in trouble Monday night when he protested loudly to newsmen that photographers had been hounding him and his wife. Brown accused the cameramen of trying to match pictures taken of him dancing the Frug aboard the Queen Mary in New York last month.

Sewer Fees System Is Changed in Novi

NOVI — The Village Council has done away with the uniform sewer availability fee and given itself power to set various fees.

The fee had been $300 per property owner. But the costs of installing sewers in the village's 30 square miles vary with such factors as land conditions and nearness to interceptors, said Village Manager Harold Ackley.

The new basis for setting fees is similar to an equalizing factor, he added.

Ackley reported that 8 per cent of the village has sewers.

The council also approved the final plat for the 57 lots of Westridge subdivision. Basney and Smith, Inc., Detroit, is developing the project west of Novi Road and north of Northville.

TO CONTINUE PLANS

The council decided at the meeting to continue with plans to seal-coat roads in Novi Heights subdivisions and near-by parcels.

The decision came after the subdivision's control authority reported that 46 of the 54 people it polled favored the project.

Ackley expects the council to set an assessment district and public hearing dates at the next council meeting Oct. 16.

The estimated cost of the project is $14,525 or $1.11 per front foot, said Ackley.

In other business, the council accepted the resignation of Duane Branch, head of the water and sewer department. Branch had filled that position for about 14 months, said Ackley.

Lapeer Blasts Detroit Water Representative

LAPEER — The Lapeer City Commission has verbally blasted a Detroit Water Board representative and demanded to know why Lapeer County was going to be charged the highest rate for Detroit water.

City Manager Arnold Whitney said that the commission also vehemently opposed the proposed 35-year irrevocable contract with no guarantee against rate increases.

"We are ready to get water elsewhere or distribute it to the rest of the county ourselves, if we have to," said Whitney.

In other action, the commission voted to close the City Hall on Saturdays beginning Nov. 4.

On Nov. 7 Lapeer voters will be asked to pass two bonding issues — one for a $2.5 million Suncrest convalescent home and a $2.5 million addition to the County General Hospital.

A straw vote taken at a local bank recently indicated 54 per cent against the county hospital addition and 65 per cent in favor of the Suncrest proposal.

If the bonding issue for the addition to the hospital is passed residents would be assessed approximately 1.1 mills with the hospital paying an additional 1/2 mill, according to Administrator Coleman Foot.

The additional funds would be put toward furnishing the new nursing third story, adding a new surgical wing and adding beds, as well as expanding the lobby, cafeteria, recovery room and pharmacy.

The Suncrest issue is to build an entirely new home replacing the present outdated one.

Chief of Police in Almont Will Quit Other Job

ALMONT — Police Chief Edward D'Arcy, under fire for holding two jobs, appeared before the Village Council last night and advised them he would give up his other job and remain as full-time village police chief.

Village Manager Eugene King said that D'Arcy said he would give up a nighttime job at the Selfridge Air Force Base disposal plant on Nov. 10.

D'Arcy's salary was increased from $5,800 to $6,200 a year last month when the council also advised him to relinquish the second job which he had held for over a year.

The council wanted the chief to be on call 24 hours a day and gave him until last night to decide on staying or not.

In other action the council passed a resolution to petition the Lapeer County Board of Supervisors to annex 60 acres of land belonging to Leonard Malburg south of the city in Almont Township for a new subdivision.

Birmingham Woman Helps in Abortion Suspects' Arrest

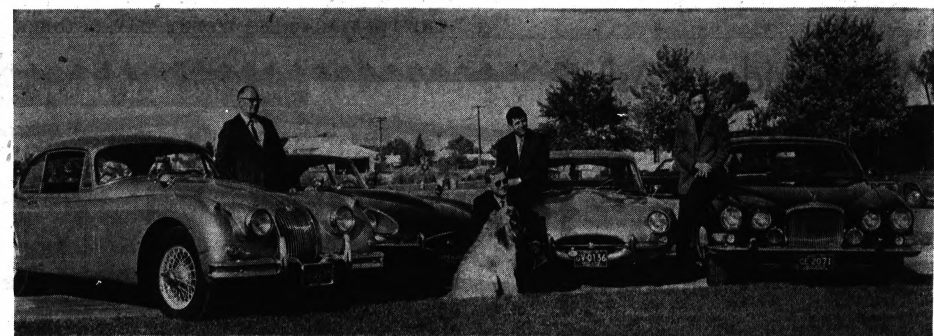

A Birmingham woman expecting her sixth child helped lead police to the arrest of two men charged with conspiracy to commit abortion.

Mrs. Tabelen Drader, 1743 Shipman, received a telephone call about two weeks ago, asking if she wanted to have an abortion, said Birmingham Police Detective Richard Chambers.

Early last week, Mrs. Drader, after discussing the matter with her husband, notified the Birmingham police who investigated the case along with the Michigan State Police.

The State Police Monday arrested Sam Bricker, 52, of Southfield and Hugh McDonald, 70, of Detroit on charges of conspiracy to commit abortion.

Area News

To Farmington's Woodcroft Subdivision Area

Water, Sewer Extension to Start Soon

FARMINGTON — Within about two weeks, the city is expecting to begin work on the extension of water and sewer facilities to the Woodcroft subdivision area, said City Manager John D. Dinan.

Installation of the lines is awaiting the completion of negotiations between the city and the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Woodcroft subdivision and other nearby areas were annexed within the last year from Farmington Township to the city. Some of the former township area received sewer and water service from the county.

Negotiations are attempting to determine which municipality will service which area and how the facilities will be financed, said Dinan.

The city has already received the approval of the State Municipal Finance Commission to issue $124,000 in special assessment bonds and $35,000 in general obligation bonds.

SIDEWALK PROGRAM

After a public hearing, the City Council set a special assessment for the city sidewalk program completed this summer.

The levy was set at 53 cents per square foot.

Also at the meeting, the council authorized the start of engineering plans on asphalt paving, curb and gutter for Cass Court from Fleming west. Residents of that area had requested the project.

The project will be combined with the approval of Alta Loma and Moore Drive. Legal arrangements are expected to be completed this winter, so work can be finished by spring, said Dinan.

SNOWPLOW PURCHASE

Also at the meeting, the council purchased a snowplow for $1,099. This will be added to the five other pieces of snow equipment.

The next meeting of the council was set for Oct. 23, one week later than the regular meeting date.

Join, Urges 4-H as Week's Theme

Now, during National 4-H Week, is a good time to join a local 4-H Club, according to Emil Fimbinger and Richard Brown, Oakland County 4-H extension agents.

"Local clubs are reorganizing for the new year and new clubs are being formed in the county," said the agents.

Young people may choose their individual 4-H projects from more than 50 offered. These range from the traditional beef calf, poultry, gardens, foods and clothing to automotive, career exploration, photography and baby-sitting.

A budding scientist may choose a project in entomology, electricity, or conservation, and there are projects for the young owner of dogs and horses.

Age limits for membership is 9 to 19. "Join 4-H: A World of Opportunity" is the theme for this week's observance.

Lapeer Woman, 45, Killed on U.S. 24 in One-Car Mishap

LAPEER — A Lapeer woman, Mrs. Edna Ruth Case, 45, of 60 Hartley, was dead on arrival at Lapeer General Hospital last night following a single-car accident at 9:12 p.m. on U.S. 24.

A Lapeer County Sheriff's deputy said a witness stated that the victim passed the witness's northbound car on the two-lane highway near Hunter Creek Road at a high rate of speed and lost control when the car apparently ran off the west shoulder.

The car swerved back to the right side of the road, went off that shoulder and rolled four or five times, throwing the Case woman out, Police said.

Jaguar Owners Organize State Sports Car Club

TROY — Michigan's first sports car club exclusively for Jaguar owners had its first organizational meeting in Troy recently.

The new club, believed to be the only one in the states of Michigan, Ohio or Indiana, is called Jaguar Affiliates Group (J. A. G.) of Michigan and is expected to be backed by the national Jaguar Club of America.

One of the four founding members is Robert M. Gubbins of Beverly Hills who also helped found the Waterford Hills road racing circuit northwest of Pontiac.

Gubbins, who owns one of the newer X-KE Jaguars, has been active in racing since 1964.

Joe Mulholland of Royal Oak, who owns two Jaguars — an X-KE coupe and a Mark 10 sedan — has also been active in racing. In 1964 he won the divisional championship for the Sports Car Club of America.

3-D MOVIE

The third founder, Doug Miller of Plymouth, has also raced and once made a 3-D sports car movie with Indianapolis racer Troy Ruttman.

Bob Brash of 5541 Wright, Troy, owns two of the Jaguar cars — a 1959 1968 coupe and an X-KE. Meetings now being held at his home until a meeting place can be decided on.

Brash said that the non-profit club has been formed for the purpose of enabling Jaguar enthusiasts to get together to trade technical advice and obtain help with their cars as well as to participate in sports car and social events.

A local Jaguar dealer has pledged his cooperation, and Jaguar Cars, Inc., of New York has pledged factory representation.

Senior Citizens Get Passes to Avondale School Activities

Avondale Senior High School students have distributed complimentary passes to school activities to all senior citizens of the area.

The free tickets provide for admission to all sports, music and drama programs.

Principal Lowell Ruggles said this is the first year that such a program has been carried out. "It's just a way of showing our appreciation for their past services," he said.

Man New VP of Group for Retarded Children

Harold Bergum of Birmingham was elected vice president of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children at the recent 16th annual meeting in Lansing.

Area residents attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bergum, Mr. and Mrs. Ted B. Ostrowski of Commerce Township and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ladd of White Lake Township.

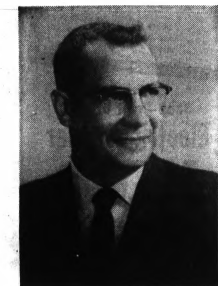

The association unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon Gov. George Romney, the State Legislature and all government departments to continue progressive action for the retarded.

PROMOTED — Oliver J. Avery, Jr., former administrative assistant at Kensington Park near Milford, has been named assistant park superintendent at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville. He will assume his new duties Oct. 16, according to Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Holly-Davisburg JCs Slate Beauty Contest

HOLLY — The Holly-Davisburg Jaycees will hold their annual Junior Miss contest this year on Nov. 11 at the Holly High School.

The Jaycees each year seek an outstanding high school senior who best typifies the ideal American teen-ager. Judging takes into account personality, talent, scholastic achievement and personal appearance.

Fun Continues as Utica Marks Big Anniversary

UTICA — The week-long celebration of the city's 150th anniversary went into its fourth day today with many activities remaining.

Reigning as queen during the festivities is Mrs. Dorothy Kaiser of 4722 Utica Estates, a mother of three, who was crowned queen by Mayor Fred Beck.

Along with her title as queen for a week, Mrs. Kaiser will receive an all-expense paid weekend at a northern Michigan resort later in the year.

On tap for tonight is the final performance of the pageant "One Fifty Plus" held at the Utica High School football field at 8:30.

At 5 p.m. there will be an elementary and junior high children's old-fashioned costume parade down Cass and Auburn. Following that a teen dance and battle of the bands will be held in the parking lot west of the Municipal Building from 7-9 p.m.

Tomorrow will be highlighted by all day special events for senior citizens and a flea market at 2 p.m. next to the post office on Auburn.

Square Dance Club to Host First Meeting

LAKE ORION — The Merry Makers, a square dance club, will host their first meeting of the new season from 9 p.m. to midnight Oct. 14 at Blanche Simms Elementary School, 465 E. Jackson.

Eugene L. Shaw Sr., 139 Draper, Pontiac, program chairman, has invited those interested to attend.

Board of Education President in West Bloomfield Resigns

WEST BLOOMFIELD — The president of the West Bloomfield Board of Education, Don V. Somers, has resigned after three years on the board.

Somers has served as president the past year. In his letter of resignation, he wrote:

"My reason for taking this drastic step can be best explained by the full awareness on my part of the impact that school board affairs is having on my own personal relationship both at home and on the job."

Somers is an engineer at the General Motors Tech Center.

Vice President Leonard Grossman will be filling Somers' place. The board will appoint a new member, said Schools Supt. Leif Hougen.

FORMS APPROVED

The board, has approved the forms to be sent to the State Department of Education for prequalification of bonds. The bonds are for a proposed $4.6-million bond issue election Oct. 30.

Prequalification, or approval, is necessary if the school district expects to borrow from the state school bond loan fund, said the superintendent.

The bond issue is planned to finance a proposed high school to be built on 16 acres across from the West Bloomfield Township Hall on Orchard Lake Road.

The board is also planning to put a 9-mill tax levy renewal before district voters Oct. 30.

The apartment displayed "an elaborate setup for abortion," said the detective. The equipment was confiscated by the State Police, he added.

On Monday the police recorded two telephone calls between Mrs. Drader and persons at a place they identified as Mendota Clinic, 1807 West Seven Mile Road, Detroit, said Chambers.

In the first call which was to the clinic, Mrs. Drader expressed some apprehension about the abortion, said police. The return call from the clinic reportedly instructed Mrs. Drader that no one else could accompany her.

Arrangements were also said to have been made between Mrs. Drader and the clinic that she would be picked up at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

raignment Monday before Farmington Township Justice Byron Walter.

FREE ON BOND

Bricker was freed on $35,000 bond and McDonald on $15,000 bond.

Walter scheduled preliminary examination for both men Oct. 12.

Bricker and McDonald were arrested at 16190 Cumberland, Southfield the address Bricker gave as his home address, said Detective Chambers.

Bricker was about to give a hypodermic shot to a state policewoman, who was taking Mrs. Drader's place, said Chambers. Mrs. Drader's substitute was taken to the apartment by McDonald, police said.

Argentina, Peru Ignore U.S., Will Buy French Arms'

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Latin American nations, overriding objections by the United States, are moving to buy modern arms from Franco, the New York Times reported today.

The most significant sale is for 12 Mirage V fighter-bombers to Peru and the other involves the sale of 50 AMX-30 tanks to Argentina, the newspaper said in a dispatch from Washington.

U.S. diplomats have been applying strenuous pressure on Peru not to buy the supersonic jets out of fear that it might trigger a Latin American arms race, the Times said.

The report quoted U.S. State Department sources as saying conversations still were going on between the U.S. and Peru, but added that Peru already had signed a contract to purchase the planes from Marcel Dassault General Aeronautics, the French aircraft manufacturer.

Cost of the planes is estimated at $20 million, and deliveries are expected to begin within six months to a year. No other air force in Latin America has supersonic military aircraft, the report said.

The sale of the French tanks to Argentina will amount to more than $10 million, the Times said. Although no contract has been signed, the report continued, the Argentine government decided last month to carry out the transaction.

U.S. Needs Rigid Firearm Control

J. EDGAR HOOVER, the greatest crime expert in the world, expresses himself vigorously in the matter of weapons in the hands of criminals.

Mr. Hoover says:
"Each year, thousands of businessmen look up from their work into the menacing muzzle of a gun wielded by a trigger-happy robber. Murderous snipers have waged guerrilla warfare against law enforcement officers in our city streets. In 1963, our President was slain with a mail-order rifle. During the calendar year of 1966 alone, more citizens were killed or assaulted with guns in American streets and homes than were killed in battle during the entire Korean conflict."

"The use of firearms in crime is a major problem in our country today. A firearm continues to be the instrument of death in virtually every murder of a law enforcement officer. Last year, 55 of the 57 victims killed in the line of duty died from gunshot wounds. Since 1960 firearms have been the murder weapons in 96 per cent of the 335 police killings."

"I have publicly stated my view for many years. Better control of firearms is necessary to public welfare. The time for action is here."

"Mail-order firearm purchases should be banned, interstate transportation of firearms controlled, and local registration of weapons required and enforced. The primary thrust against this serious problem must be from the local level, but Federal assistance must strongly complement State legislation. A hardened criminal will obtain a gun regardless of statutes in force, but most authorities agree that controls would make acquisition more difficult."

"Enforced controls at the local level provide the possibility of investigative leads in tracing weapons used in crime. This possibility takes on added significance in view of the nationwide capabilities of the rapidly expanding FBI National Crime Information Center. Some States and jurisdictions have laws which allow courts to impose stiffer penalties for criminals who use firearms. A realistic application of these laws plus the passage of similar legislation in areas where none now exists, together with a mandatory prohibition against suspended sentences in cases involving firearms, would certainly be a strong deterrent."

"There is no doubt in my mind that the easy accessibility of firearms is responsible for many killings, both impulse and premeditated. The statistics are grim and realistic. Strong measures must be taken, and promptly, to protect the public."

Mr. HOOVER you are so right.

Will 'Follow Through' Swing Too Far?

Project Head Start has a popular appeal lacking in other parts of the Federal antipoverty campaign. The idea has a readily understood logic, because it aims to help underprivileged youngsters at the receptive age. Now Head Start has an off-spring, called Follow Through, and that program is likely to have rougher sledding — much of it quite in order.

Whereas Head Start was beamed on remedial education for disadvantaged preschoolers from impoverished or troubled homes, Follow Through will bring enrolled pupils much more than schooling. It will provide health and social services normally the responsibility of parents, with up to half of its eligible students from middle-class families.

Is there a good reason for the school system to assume responsibilities that can be carried best in the home? There is also the problem of these extra services intruding on the fundamental purpose of any school program — to impart knowledge.

Moreover, Follow Through is being promoted as an important experiment in education. Yet the innovation could easily become rigid dogma because of the dangers inherent in most Federal programs.

Local control over public education is more than a hallowed tradition; it encourages a variety of approaches throughout the Nation — experimentation.

With money from Washington paying the bills, men from Washington will want to follow through on Follow Through. And Washington can be pretty far from the classroom.

Local Governments Consider COG

By L. GARY THORNE,
Asst. City Editor — Suburban
Credibility is often a political UFO. Fiction or fact frequently depends on the brand on the hide that is being tried.

The current meat sizzling on the front burner is more formally known as the Southeast Michigan THORNE Council of Governments, affectionately abbreviated to COG or SEMCOG.

COG, according to its advance billing, is to be a voluntary organization of governmental units in a six-county area, beginning on this side of Windsor. Planners think of this region as a metropolitan basin.

The organization was suggested some two years ago. The intent is to provide a vehicle for local governmental cooperation in planning projects affecting large chunks of mutual ground.

Rapid transit systems, roads, sewers, water lines and pollution control are described as appropriate subjects for such cooperation.

COG is not to have legislative or taxing powers. And, should a participating governmental unit tire of all the cooperation, it can withdraw on a 90-day notice.

All governmental units are eligible to join. There is a potential membership of about 350. Annual fees are assessed to finance COG's operations.

It has been ordained that the Council will function by the committee system. If it helps in manufacturing an opinion, Congress, the State Legislature and the County Board of Supervisors operate through committees.

There is some precedent for the COG-type of cooperation. Two organizations — the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission and the Supervisors Inter-County Committee — have been going concerns for some long time. Incidentally, these groups will be no more once COG gets rolling.

Opposition to COG, which is being generated at the ground level in local communities, seems to center on the thought that COG is, or might become, a super government.

While hardly any government is "super," the feeling is that the very six-county size is too big to digest. Proponents don't swallow this line.

Still other foes are scared silly that Detroit and Wayne County will dominate COG. One executive board member claims there is no situation where Wayne County has a majority of votes.

Oakland County, it might as well be known, was the first of six eligible county governments to join COG. Some 150 local units have now joined, according to a tally late last month.

Our county did not join, however, without an hour's discussion of the organization and the $37,000 membership fee for 1968.

Pontiac City officials, meantime, would probably rather forget about COG membership. Asked to join, the City commissioners indicated little enthusiasm and tacked the idea for private discussion. So far the matter hasn't come back to the table for action.

Pontiac, pressed tighter than a grape financially, has the added problem of affording the $3,240 admission charge for COG.

Both The Waterford Township Board and school board have rejected COG membership.

Objections to COG may eventually prove valid, although it is likely that Oakland County may be experiencing an old-fashioned witch hunt.

In any event, there is one "hangup" COG proponents like to point out. Specifically, COG or some similar animal will probably be necessary in the future to obtain certain types of federal aid.

The feds have a fondness for planning things on a regional basis.

If this latter becomes an absolute requirement, COG opposition may melt. Most local governments do have an appetite for federal money.

DMZ Dialogue

David Lawrence Says:

Senators Clarify Record on Viet

WASHINGTON — Members of the Senate are beginning to realize that some of the speeches hitherto made demanding peace in Vietnam are being misconstrued in Southeast Asia as a sign of weakness.

With the approaching presidential contest, the impression has been created that the American people in the midst of a war will vote against their president and in favor of an opposition candidate who presumably favors surrender.

But Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, assistant Republican leader, who recently visited Vietnam, has just made a speech in the Senate depicting the widespread misrepresentation of America's policy in Southeast Asia. He said:

"Domestic American politics does not offer a satisfactory basis for a winning strategy in world affairs. North Vietnam, unable to win a military victory, seeks a political one."

"She counts on our moral paralysis in the face of mounting pressure for peace of almost any kind in connection with next year's elections."

"LASTING FREEDOM"
"I speak both as an American and as a Republican. What this administration does to demonstrate to the Vietnamese, both north and south, that America's commitment is enduring, will have, I sincerely believe, the support of the American people, and surely of this United States Senate."

"America must not sully her commitment to the security of free Asia by groping for a nameless settlement. We seek an end that will leave the people of South Vietnam in lasting freedom and independence."

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, also has spoken out in criticism of those senators who are advocating a virtual retreat in Vietnam. He favors a "firm policy."

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, Democrat, made a proposal in the Senate yesterday which would amount to the making of a truce calling for a halt of military operations or reinforcements by either side after a specific date.

world the good faith of the United States.

If the North Vietnamese did not adhere to the truce immediately, it would make inevitable the use of maximum military power thereafter by the United States and its allies to bring the war to an end.

The position of both political parties is slowly being clarified. The Republican party is by no means in favor of a surrender in Vietnam, and neither is the Democratic party.

There are some senators who believe they are reflecting the sentiment back home in making speeches demanding "peace negotiations."

But they do not take into account that, unless there is a reciprocal action — as President Johnson has outlined — the enemy will construe the whole thing as the beginning of a process of appeasement and surrender.

So the movement on the part of Sen. Dirksen and Kuchel — Republican leaders in the Senate — and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, to deal with the Vietnam problem without political partisanship is a constructive development.

It could discourage the North Vietnamese from seeking to prolong the war until the 1968 election.

Bob Considine Says:

Greek Front Page Yields Interesting News Items

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania — During a brief stopover in Greece, I came across a couple of front-page items in the English language Athens Daily Post which you might find interesting.

The first one, under a single word headline: "Dis-missed," went on to say "Under a royal decree the director (1st class) of the foreign ministry, Mr. B. Alexoulis, has been dismissed, because he was spreading false rumors, regarding nonexistent intentions and energies of the minister for foreign affairs, which were liable to undermine the morale of the personnel."

"In particular, he was spreading falsely that the minister was intending to dismiss employees from the ministry."

To a traveler from America who has become sensitized to Supreme Court and other rulings concerning prejudgment of criminal acts, let us consider still another front page item in the Athens Daily Post. The head is simple: "Murder Trial."

The body of the story is simpler: "On Nov. 1, the trial will commence, at the Athens Criminal Court, of A. Xagris, 38, seaman, who on April 24, 1967, killed with a knife at Sismanoglou Hospital his girl friend, Vaia E. Malli-yanni, 32."

Then there was that winsome item in the Tanzania Standard, also on the front page. It might give pause to our miniskirt generation, though it happened in a land where cannibalism is not unknown.

The head was attention-grabbing: "Mist-Girl Bitten"

And the story perhaps even more so:

"Antonio Silverio, 63, served a three-day jail sentence here for biting a miniskirted girl on the thigh. Silverio said he could not resist the temptation to bite her when the girl crossed her legs beside him on a bus."

Happened on a Friday, too.

Unhappy Signs

France's elections for municipal councilors had something in common with an earlier British ballot to fill a vacant parliamentary seat. Both occasions showed disillusionment with the existing government, and an electoral yearning to rap knuckles.

In France this meant a drift toward the Communist candidates for local boards.

In England, which has a Labor government, it meant a sharp turn to the Conservatives in a district which has usually voted loyally for Labor. And in both instances the trends represented what American politicians like to term "the gut issue."

'Appreciate Cooperation in Mexican Celebration'

The Mexican Patriotic Committee of Pontiac extends appreciation to County, State and Federal officials who attended our flag-raising ceremony commemorating Mexican Independence Day Sept. 15 at the Oakland County Courthouse. We especially extend appreciation to Delos Hamlin who has for three years made it possible for the Mexican flag to fly at the courthouse for a week beside the United States flag, symbolizing two great nations which can live side by side without the need of an iron curtain or barbed wire.

Nothing could serve as better proof of this symbolism than the week's events: the cooperation given authorities at Tijuana in the poisoning case where United States doctors and others helped out, and in the Texas floods when United States and Mexican armies worked together to save lives rather than destroy them.

This is a great example for the world that two nations can live in peace and friendship. Others could if they tried hard enough.

Englishwoman Disagrees With Editorial

As an Englishwoman living in Pontiac, I must comment on your editorial concerning the war in Vietnam. Some Americans gripe too much for resuming their share of the burden of keeping world peace. Europe and Britain have "policed the world, fought their wars and paid their bills" for the past 500 years. So now you complain that Europe does nothing to help in Vietnam. Most of these countries you mention still have large commitments abroad, notably in Africa, the Middle East and Hong Kong. None is large enough or on the sound, sure economical footing of this great land.

In Europe we fought the last two world wars almost alone. Can anyone in America really appreciate what war is like? The soldiers in Vietnam have steak and ice cream for chow. Do you know what the soldiers ate in the mud trenches of the first world war? In Europe in World War II there was nothing to eat but black bread and cabbage for months — not even knowing where you would find your next night's shelter.

I have no solution but the only people losing in this war are the Vietnamese men, women and children. Do not try to pass the responsibilities to the smaller and less influential countries of Europe.

Letter Discusses Our System of Justice

"Some Justice" is apparently unaware of Oakland County's system of justice. The key to harsh punishment is the wealth of the victim in a great majority of cases.

Property takes precedent over people. If you must commit a crime, knife some "insignificant" bystander, but never cast your eyes on the property of the wealthy. And keep in mind the secret "trials" and deals. Or, if you want to go unpunished for a crime, let a child be your victim.

REPLY

The Department of Public Works tells us it is a non-skid paint being used at crosswalks and other places with pedestrian traffic. It's a safety measure to prevent pedestrians from slipping when they step on the metal covers.

Pound Sterling have brought unemployment, higher taxes and sterner wage controls.

In France, prosperity has its usual concomitants of inflation and high prices. In addition, the Gaullist government has imposed economic reforms of its own which hit hardest at chronically underpaid workers.

Higher payroll and social security deductions are not offset in the workers' eyes by the typical extension of President de Gaulle's own brand of paternal socialism. This is an enforced transfer of a percentage of stock in the companies for which they work, from management to employees.

The election of a few additional Communists to local councils does not seem a very direct way of influencing national economic policies; nor did the loss of one seat in Parliament greatly affect Prime Minister Harold Wilson's comfortable majority.

But minor losses such as these are signs of disaffection that democratically elected leaders take into account. They suggest that a change of pace might be in order, if not a revision of tactics.

Won't Knuckle Under to Junta

Greek Publisher Is a Fighter

ATHENS (UPI) — The Greek military junta has its hands full with Helen Vlachou, an outspoken newspaper publisher.

Mrs. Vlachou, 55, has defied the government that took over in the April 21 coup by refusing to bring out her newspapers until censorship is lifted and by stubbornly speaking in her mind.

She was arrested last Thursday and faces trial on charges of "insulting the government."

The charges carry a possible eight year prison sentence, and Mrs. Vlachou's first reaction to the prospect of the trial was "We are going to enjoy ourselves immensely."

"Why are people so excited about it?" the slim, gray-haired publisher asked.

LIFE OF DANGER

"We journalists lead a life of continuous danger. Think of the reporters in Vietnam. I would be more scared being in Vietnam than appearing in court."

Mrs. Vlachou inherited her newspaper business and her convictions about press freedom from her father.

"When I was still a child, my mother used to take me for walks in front of the Averoff Prison in Athens.

"She used to tell me to wave because daddy is in there looking at you," he recalled recently.

PERIOD OF COUPS

It was a period of military coups, and publisher George Vlachou found himself behind bars at regular intervals.

Helen Vlachou went to work for her father when she was 16.

"Publishers were rather poor in those days and all the family had to give a hand," she said.

She helped with accounts and office work.

TRAVELED TO CHINA

She started writing in 1935 when she traveled to China with her first husband, Jack Arvanitidis.

Her second husband is Konstantinos Lountras, who married her in 1951.

"I did not want to write because I was afraid of the comparison with my father. But they insisted and so I had to send my impressions of the trip," she said.

She has been writing ever since, signing her pieces with a capital "E." — for Eleni, the Greek form of Helen.

When George Vlachou died in 1951, she became publisher and editor of the daily Kathimerini, at that time the leading conservative newspaper in Greece.

Planners Discuss Hippie Impact

WASHINGTON (AP) — There wasn't a hippie in sight as some 2,500 planners gathered here this week to discuss the next half century of American life. But the hippie movement was much in evidence.

Speaker after speaker from the list of 65 conference participants dwelt in their talks on the hippies—their meaning and their likely effect on the future of the United States.

Some saw in the withdrawal of the hippies from conventional U.S. culture the first seeds of a massive revolt against a technology explosion the speakers felt threatens to strangle individuality.

Others saw in the jobless, responsibility-rejecting hippies the specter of millions of Americans in a future where computer science will have replaced workers with machines.

IMPACT INDICATED

That the hippies were mentioned at all at the American Institute of Planners' prestigious "The Next 50 Years" conference indicates the impact the movement already has had on U.S. life.

Few speakers who talked of the hippies indicated they felt the movement was anywhere near its peak.

August Heckscher, commissioner of New York's Recreation and Cultural Affairs Administration, warned against dismissing the hippies as merely a fad. He indicated they differ sharply from the goldfish-swallowing collegians of other years.

Heckscher said the hippies may "represent the beginning of a withdrawal from the values and concepts which have dominated the Western world for more than five centuries."

ANTITECHNOLOGICAL MOVE
"They may be the beginning of an antitechnological movement which will slow down the mindless pursuit of technological change carried out for its own sake, without concern for the human values it supposedly concerns."

Carl Oglesby, a self-styled radical activist who lectures at Antioch College, also saw the hippie movement as a revolt against a civilization dominated by technology.

And Oglesby gave this description of the average, middle-class product of the "American dream come true" he said:

the hippie is determined to avoid becoming:

"He has everything the country can offer. He knows how to be educated and how to hold a professional job, how much money he will earn, what kind of house and neighborhood he can expect to live in.

"He will never be hungry or disgraced. Certain tables of social statistics even allow him to predict with impressive accuracy how long he will live, when he will suffer from his first ulcer or heart attack, and when his wife will be unfaithful to him for the first time."

Golfer's Catch

MIAMI (AP) — Basil Blanchard went out for a round of golf and came home with a two-pound fish.

He ran over it with his golf cart after it jumped out of a container in which it was being transported at Miami Lakes Country Club. Blanchard said it was delicious.

Job Maddening? Seek Compensation

CHICAGO (UPI) — If your stress situations that cause mental disturbances, you may have a good chance of collecting workmen's compensation, a psychiatrist said yesterday.

Dr. Alan A. McLean, while addressing a meeting of the Plains, N.Y., predicted increased demands for workmen's compensation stemming from stress situations that cause mental disturbances. McLean, director of the Center for Occupational Mental Health at Cornell University, addressed a meeting of the greater Chicago. Most of his audience represented big business concerns.

"In a broad sense, employers must provide safety from mental as well as physical injury," McLean said.

Heller Predicts Surtax by Jan. 1

Adviser to LBJ Sees
Tax as Aid to Stability

MIDLAND (AP)—Walter Heller, a member of President Johnson's council of economic advisors, predicted Tuesday that Congress would pass Johnson's proposed 10 per cent surcharge, probably by Jan. 1.

Heller, speaking at a news conference after delivering a closed-door speech to a group of Midland business executives, said the tax increase is a "relatively low price to pay" when the nation is faced with higher interest and mortgage rates and higher prices.

He said conditions today are totally different from 1963 when Heller, then a chief economic advisor to the late President John F. Kennedy, backed a tax cut.

"We were $33 billion below production potential, had a rate of 5 1/2 per cent unemployment and were using 80 to 85 per cent of our operating expenses," said Heller. "The impact of the (1963) tax cut boosted income and employment, but not prices."

"Today, we face the problem of how to cool things off. Unless Congress enacts the surtax, brisk (business) expansion threatens to turn into a galloping advance that would make a three per cent rise in consumer price index the very least we could expect by 1968."

Heller said passage of the surcharge package would sharply improve the 1968 economic prospects.

He said a tax hike was needed to maintain economic stability and avoid inflation, to keep interest rates low, maintain fiscal responsibility in government and to "prepare for the post Vietnam economic adjustment."

"Although it may not look in sight, we should prepare for an end to our commitment in Vietnam," he said, emphasizing that he was not making any predictions about the war.

City Shrugs Off GOP Faction's Opposition to Planning Council

Republican conservatives from the 19th District last night opposed a proposed joint planning council put in motion by the City Commission and Pontiac Board of Education.

But the attack was hardly launched from a conservative — not as conservative — as a mild squabble about the Herrington Homeowner Association, 62nd District coordinator for the Republican party, and a member of the bona fide 19th Congressional District Executive Committee.

PERSONAL INTERESTS

Meisner, who said his committee has "no ill feelings at this time" toward the proposed council, said Jones and a group he led were only expressing their personal interests and not the interests of the "real" executive committee cochaired by Joseph Farnum and John Catwright.

He said that committee has recognized by the powerful state Republican convention and was recognized by the powerful state central committee.

Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson, seemingly dismissed the matter for the evening, when he suggested "the problems of the Republican party be ironed out someplace else."

The commission moved on to commission had never heard of other business but comments 1313 E. 60th Street since three from the audience kept cropping of seven persons to comprise up during the four-hour commission meeting.

SURPRISED CITIZEN

L. G. Smith of 365 W. Ironquios, said, he was surprised the commission had never heard of table for passage which leaves no period for public investigation and discussion."

He also questioned whether the council would be a step to abolishing self-rule and whether it would mean elected officials commission jobs full-time salaries.

He also suggested, "If city government has become so complex the commission must consider delegating its authority to new groups, perhaps a better alternative would be to make commission jobs full-time salaries."

who had the right to say they belonged to the 19th District Republican executive committee.

The results are still unclear about the real identity of the executive committee but the conservatives seemingly put no crimp in the City Commission's resolve to pursue formation of the planning council.

Mayor William H. Taylor, at the commission meeting last night, read a statement which affirmed the commission belief that the proposed council will allow for coordinated planning of complex problems, improved citizen participation in that planning and strong local government.

He said the growing complexity involving problems affecting the city and school district necessitates coordinated planning.

VARIED DISCUSSION

Discussion ranged wildly, with UAW Regional Director Ken Morris calling the proposed council a good idea, District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin derisively labeling it a "super-committee" and one citizen tying it in with a murky plot, nationally directed, to take over local government.

Just who would be doing the taking over was not made crystal clear although Arnold Jones, of 472 Linda Vista who claimed to be co-chairman of the 19th District Republican Executive Committee, also claimed that 22 organizations which "peddle and direct a campaign" to eliminate local government are located in common headquarters at 1313 E. 60th, Chicago.

In a question never answered by himself or anyone else, Jones asked, "Were the developers and members of the group proposing the council advised by any consultant, agent or emissary from 1313 E. 60th Street, Chicago?"

His cochairmanship claim was disputed by Charles E. Meisner of 476 Lynch, who said he was among other things a trustee of

City Adopts Income Tax

He said use of a representative advisory committee and the advisory election "involved every segment of the community."

ELECTION INDICATION

In the advisory election 4,682 indicated a preference for a city income tax coupled with a three-mill property tax decrease while 2,606 voters showed a preference for a four-mill property tax hike.

One objector was critical of the advisory election claiming it was not democratic. He said voters had no choice to say they did not want any new city taxes and that since only 25 per cent of the registered voters actually voted it could be presumed that 75 per cent were against the income tax.

Not so, said Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. He said that Pontiac's elections are notoriously low in turnout and that "if we get 30 per cent out we're doing pretty good."

28 PER CENT IN '65

Only 28 per cent voted in the referendum in 1965.

The commission was also asked to schedule a vote on the tax but Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkranz said the commission could not.

State law sets the terms for enacting a city income tax, he said, and the provisions call for a vote only because of petitions requesting a referendum.

Half Are Drinkers

A recent survey in New Jersey, showed that more than half of the motorists involved in fatal accidents in the state had been drinking.

All Dreams but One Fulfilled

Voyage of 'Little Skipper' Ends

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Death has pulled the curtain on the last chapter of "The Little Skipper," which produced some of the finest acting ever seen in Mexico.

The Actors will get no awards. They hated their jobs — but hated even more seeing the drama come to its close.

"The Little Skipper" was 10-year-old Angel Lagunes of Veracruz.

Angel for weeks lived a dream come true for a small boy. He got to fly to Mexico City, and the pilot of the airliner let him play copilot.

He got his nickname because he wanted to be a ship captain. The Mexican Navy "commissioned" him, and presented him with a special gold-braided uniform.

JUST FOR HIM

He was visited by the country's most famous comedians, who put on shows just for him. Mario "Cantinflas" Moreno, Mexico's most famous film star, put on one of his best performances for him.

Mrs. Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, the president's wife, came to chat with him.

He had all the afternoons in the amusement park he wanted. And all the ice cream and candy he could eat.

Angel thought he was getting the VIP treatment for being the outstanding student in his school.

HOLIDAY FOR ILLNESS

He was the outstanding student, but the holiday was for another reason. Angel had incurable cancer of the spine.

An anonymous donor contributed the money "to make all the dreams of his last days come true."

The whole city knew about Angel. His face was on every newspaper front page in town when he arrived.

But nobody let on to Angel. The comedians, the officials, the hotel bellboys and waiters, the shopkeepers, the doctors, the amusement park attendants, the passersby, the people who shared his pew at mass — they knew.

SAW ONLY SMILES

Angel saw only smiles "for the good student."

It was a piece of acting even the professionals found difficult. One comedian finished up his act for Angel with his face turned to the side, to hide the tears.

Angel saw all his dreams come true, but one. He'll never be a ship captain.

He died in his sleep last Saturday, the hospital announced Monday.

FOLK SINGER DIES — Woody Guthrie, 55, the folk singer and guitar player who was known for his ballad, "This Land Is Your Land," died yesterday in Creedmore State Hospital in New York City. He had fought a 15-year bout with Huntington's chorea, a hereditary disease that destroys muscle coordination.

Sino-Indian War Scene Is Revisited

GANGTOK, Sikkim (UPI) — For years it was a strange little cold war.

The Indians on one side bombarded the Communist Chinese with a daily diet of rock 'n' roll music carried via 100-ft speaker across the Nathu-La Pass 15,000 feet up in the Himalayas.

Back via the same device came the propaganda songs of Mao Tse-tung's China. A large portrait of Mao also glared across the line at the Indians.

The wind blows cold and whistles through the pass. It is an inhospitable place and suitable for dying.

Sept. 11 dawned like every other day on Nathu-La. The sun rose over the mountains and began burning away a clammy fog and mist that covered the pass.

BACK TO WORK

A sentry cupped his hand over a forbidden cigarette and an Indian work detail went back to constructing a barbed wire barricade. Only five more yards of fence and the six-mile barricade would be complete. It had the Chinese stewing.

As the 40-man Indian detail was unwinding the last spool of wire, eight Red Chinese soldiers walked up and told them they were on Chinese territory. The Indians ignored them and continued working.

The Chinese inched closer and one lunged at the Indians with a bayoneted rifle. An Indian, unarmed, snatched the weapon and plunged the bayonet into the heel of the Chinese soldier.

A photographer with the Chinese pulled a pistol and fired point blank, dropping the Indian dead. The war was on.

Soviet Feats Recalled

Space Age Marks Decade

MOSCOW (AP) — Ten years ago today a silver ball with four whisker-like antennas became the first manmade object to orbit the earth. It was Sputnik 1, and its launching by the Russians opened the space age.

Since then, the Soviet Union has continued to pioneer major space developments, from launching the first man in space to achieving the first soft landing of an unmanned craft on the moon.

Not far behind, the United States has matched and then surpassed most Soviet feats.

America also has its credit

man's first rendezvous and locking of spaceships in orbit.

Unlike the United States, Russia has apparently gambled on a few giant strides forward, rather than many small, cautious ones.

FIRST MAN IN SPACE.

In 1961 cosmonaut Yuri V. Gagarin rode a Vostok (East) spaceship for one orbit of the earth to become the first man in space.

This feat was followed by five more Vostok flights, the last the 1963 venture of Valentina Nikolayevna-Tereshkova, the world's only woman cosmonaut.

After an unexplained pause of 16 months, the Soviets leaped ahead from one-man shots to the launching of a three-man Voskhod (Sunrise) spacecraft in October 1964.

Instead of repeating this feat, the Russians jumped ahead to another first: the March 1965 space walk in which Alexei A. Leonov left his two-man spaceship and stepped into space for 10 minutes.

2-YEAR HATSUS

The Soviets then waited more than two years before attempting another manned launching.

The long pause suggested they were preparing for another spectacular accomplishment, possibly involving a new generation of spaceships that were bigger, more sophisticated and manned by larger crews.

Whatever was planned, something went wrong.

The Soviets reported only that a new craft, Soyuz 1, crashed after 24 hours of orbiting last April, killing cosmonaut Vladimir M. Komarov.

Russia's unmanned Luna 9 last year became the first spacecraft to land intact on the moon and send television pictures of the moon's surface back to earth.

OTHER VENTURES

Other Soviet space ventures include Mars and Venus probes that were marred by radio failures, successful Molniya (Lightning) communications satellites, launchings of heavy payloads, weather Sputniks and—according to Western military experts—low-orbiting spy in the sky satellites.

The pattern, plus hints from Soviet scientists and cosmonauts, suggest that one next step may be an effort to catch up with the United States in rendezvous and docking.

Another could be the assembling in space of huge research stations orbiting the earth and carrying up to nine-man crews. Also coming may be the launching of an unmanned craft, possibly carrying an animal, that would orbit the moon and return to earth intact, in preparation for landing a man on the moon and bringing him back safely.

Some observers, noting Russia's preference for space spectacles that bring prestige, speculate that the Soviets may even skip the unmanned stage and immediately try to orbit a manned spacecraft around the moon, without landing, and return it to earth.

PRESTIGE BOOST

While the risks would be high the chance for a prestige boost also would be high—or so the argument goes.

From the propaganda point of view, the most obvious time would be just before the Nov. 7 celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

One cosmonaut, Konstantin Feoktistov, has hinted that radical new manned spacecraft may do away with the current system of first-and second-stage carrier rockets that are jettisoned after use. Other cosmo-

Census Questionnaire: All Wet in Some Areas

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Theoretically, you could be fined $100 and sent to jail for six months for refusing to tell the U.S. Census Bureau in 1970 whether you share your shower.

Now I realize that one of the suggested slogans for National Brotherhood Week is "Take a shower with a friend." And I certainly don't want to make it appear that I am knocking togetherness.

Nevertheless, I am inclined to go along with Rep. Jackson E. Betts, R-Ohio, in his complaint that some of the items in the sample questionnaire for the 1970 census could be embarrassing.

Among the questions Betts criticized was H19, which asks: "Do you have a bathtub or shower?"

There are three possible answers, including "yes, but shared with another household."

You can easily see how that answer might be embarrassing particularly if the other household has its own shower.

INVASION OF PRIVACY

Pointing out in a press release that fines and jail sentences may be imposed on persons who refuse to answer census questions, Betts said the proposed 1970 form amounted to an invasion of privacy and governmental harassment.

To this I might add that some of the questions also are difficult if not impossible to answer. Take H2N for example.

It asks: "How do you enter your living quarters?" The alternatives listed are: "a common or public hall; through someone else's living quarters."

That doesn't begin to cover the ways I might enter my living quarters. At least after midnight.

TO BE COMPLETE

To be complete, the questionnaire should include: take off shoes and sneak in back door; softly open kitchen window if back door is locked; if window is locked, climb down chimney.

Or consider H1: "Is there a telephone on which people who live here can be called?"

I couldn't simply answer that question "Yes" or "no," as the questionnaire requires. It depends on whether my two daughters are home.

To me, however, the most shocking inquiry on the sample form is found on page 20. It says: "Please list below all persons who stayed here overnight on Tuesday, April 4, 1967."

In 1970, the date presumably to be advanced.

It so happens that on Tuesday, April 4, 1967, my wife was visiting her mother in Florida. I have already told her I was at home alone, taking a shower.

Is the Census Bureau, through subtle insinuation, now attempting to stir up trouble retroactively? If so, the questionnaire is unconstitutional.

It violates the provision against double jeopardy.

Want Ad Check Lands Big Job

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's new director of public facilities landed the $25,000-a-year post after answering a "blind" classified ad in a newspaper.

The ad called for an engineer with building construction experience. Malcolm E. Dudley, mon or public hall; through someone else's living quarters."

That doesn't begin to cover the ways I might enter my liv-

Gas Tank Foam Averts Aircraft Fires

By SCIENCE SERVICE

Plastic foam in the gas tanks can save many combat aircraft in Vietnam by preventing fuel fires and explosions, Air Force experimenters report.

The polyurethane foam, soon to be installed, will greatly reduce hazards, according to the Air Force Systems Command at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

The foam, which is composed of open cells to permit free flow, "virtually prevents explosion" in case of a direct hit on the fuel tank by machine gun tracer bullets or other incendiaries. It also keeps the fuel from spurting from a ruptured tank.

The Grocery Shopper of Tomorrow to Buy Food With Help of Computer

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

CHICAGO — Those readers who actively dislike grocery shopping have an interesting future in store for them. According to a demonstration we saw today, shopping will be computer controlled.

You will see items on closed circuit TV or merely flip through cards listing the foods. A telephone call or the insertion of a key-punched card in the MRS. ODELL telephone will place your order. Other cards will bring you recipes.

For some of us that will take all the fun out of shopping.

It was ice cream for breakfast at Kellogg's Corners Tuesday morning.

This ice cream was layered with two kinds of pre-sweetened cereal and fruit in a parfait glass. Wonderful idea.

This was a day to see food demonstrations on closed circuit TV. We saw three dishes made with beer prepared by chef Albert Stockli who owns and cooks for Stonehenge Inn in Ridgefield, Conn.

BEER BATTER
His use of a beer batter for fish instead of one made with eggs is interesting; his batter will not absorb the frying oil. More about this next week.

Then at luncheon, Jean Michelet who is a chef with the Campbell Soup Company prepared two dishes we ate for the meal.

The first was Beef Tournedos Zingara which is filet of beef prepared with a flavorful brown sauce, the base of which is canned peachroom gravy.

Dessert was Croquembouche, a pyramid of tiny cream puffs held together with a thick sugar syrup and served with vanilla sauce. Canned vanilla pudding was the Campbell ingredient.

Both dishes were excellent and the chef a handsome and personable Frenchman.

No one has ever been able to explain to my satisfaction why music at a cocktail party or a meal should be so loud that ordinary conversation is all but impossible. We get tired this week, I believe, not so much from all we do (and that's about 43 meetings) but because we are always fighting noise.

One of the noisier meetings was a presentation of today's kind of parties by the 7-Up Company. Today's parties are mod — are psychedelic — are noisy. They're also colorful and gay.

For all 35 years that these food editors' conferences have been held, the Borden Company has been a participant. Tuesday evening they hosted a gala 25th anniversary dinner.

Company officials from all over the country gathered to meet and eat with the women who talk to about 55 million readers through their food pages.

One of the hosts with whom I talked is in the Cracker Jack Division. He volunteered the somewhat startling information that over a million boxes of that peanut and corn confection are produced daily.

There's a committee that does nothing but decide on what prizes go in the boxes. And there are more peanuts in the large box than in the small one.

We had an unusual baked Alaska for dessert. The base was spongecake. Banana nut ice cream with a raspberry sherbet center covered the cake. The meringue was tinted a delicate pink to match the party decorations. The whole dish was served flaming.

Comedy Begins Playhouse Season

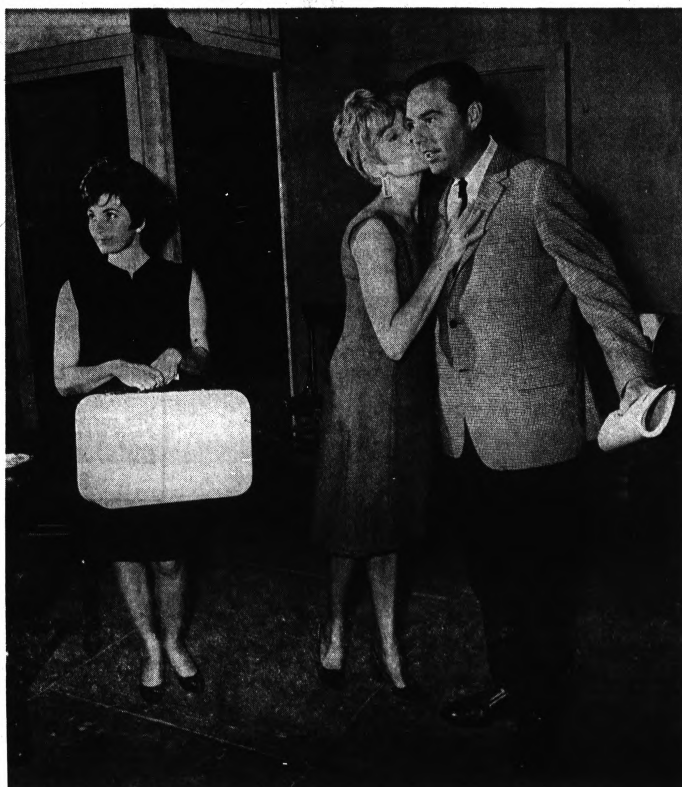

Avon Playhouse opens its new season Oct. 13 with the popular "Mary, Mary," by noted author, Jean Kerr.

Leads will be played by Mrs. Ray deSteiger, Dave Holderness and Mrs. Jack Lawson.

Others in the cast are James Jackson and Duane Utech. Tom King is directing while Mrs. Robert Flannigan handles production. Behind stage are Marge Arsenault, Mrs. Holderness, Ellen Couch, Timothy Cochran, Mrs. Jackson, Philip Trimble and Barbara Crockett.

Performances will take place Oct. 13, 14, 15, 18, 19, 20 and 21. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. with the exception of Sunday which is 7:30 p.m.

Mail orders may be filled by writing to Mrs. V. A. Zink, 1003 Kingstree Court, Rochester, Mich. 48063 or at the box office on East University Drive, Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until noon and from 2 to 5 p.m.

The curtain swings up on a rehearsal of "Mary, Mary" with Avon Players, (from left) Mrs. Ray deSteiger and Mrs. Jack Lawson, both of Fair Oak Drive, Avon Township and Dave Holderness of Northumberland Road also Avon Township. The Jean Kerr comedy opens Oct. 13 in the Avon Playhouse at 8:30 p.m.

What's Yours?

There Are All Kinds of Problems

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Here's the situation: A woman, her daughter and her daughter's boyfriend went to Expo 67. They traveled and lived together in a one bedroom trailer for the entire week that they were at the fair.

The woman is separated from her husband. The daughter and her boyfriend are both over 21, but they are not officially engaged. They are just going together. No marriage plans have been mentioned. What do you think?

EAST LAKE, O.

DEAR EAST LAKE: I think they probably had a wonderful time. Now what's YOUR problem?

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's all right for a little boy, say around four or five years old, to see his mother undressed? I have a friend who thinks it's perfectly all right to let her little boy hang around and watch her dress, from the skin out.

And she thinks nothing of letting him come into the bathroom while she is in the tub. He comes in to ask her questions, or to just sit and visit while he gets his eyes full.

Maybe I am wrong, but I don't approve of this. My friend says it is better to let the boy KNOW than to have him curious. What is your opinion?

DAILY READER: Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I still believe in modesty. A mother shouldn't make a federal case out of it if her four-year-old son were to accidentally catch a glimpse of her in the altogether, but the bathroom door should be LOCKED while Mother is bathing.

Sharon McKim Tells January Bridal Plans

Late January vows are being planned by Sharon R. McKim and Gilbert M. Haas Jr., graduates of Central Michigan University and Ferris State College respectively.

Miss McKim is a member of the Alpha Gamma Delta chapter of Alpha Psi.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Clarence McKim of Sheryl Drive and the late Mr. McKim and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert M. Haas of Grand Rapids.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for seven years, and although we love each other very much, I have one big problem. My husband does not want any children. He told me before we were married that he didn't want a family, but I was sure I could change his mind after we were married a while.

What is wrong with him, Abby. To think this way? He says in his opinion it is a sin to bring children into the kind of world we now have. What can I do?

CHILDLLESS

DEAR CHILDLLESS: Your husband is entitled to his opinion. And since he expressed the same views before you married, you don't have a legitimate complaint. Unless you can change his mind, you will have to remain childless.

DEAR ABBY: About that girl who thought her boyfriend should get a job as a policeman because he was "good with guns." What we need more than people who are "good with guns," are people who are good with people.

M. M., ATLANTA

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Alpha Delta Kappas Founders Day Dinner

Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority will celebrate Area 111 Founders Day with dinner at 6:30 p.m. at Devon Gables on Thursday.

State officers will be guests at the affair, the theme of which will be "Trends in Education."

Children from the Rochester Lutheran School for the deaf will present a program under supervision of their principal, Herman Holste.

Home-Built Harpichord

DELMAR, N.Y. (AP) — When Mrs. Magdalene York, high school music teacher, studied the harpichord, she never dreamed that she would one day play an instrument of her own making. But she now has a harpichord she and a friend constructed from a kit.

Mrs. York and her collaborator, Charles Spencer, finished the project in five months of work after school and on Saturday afternoons. The home-built instrument cost about $300, compared to $1,000 had it been bought finished.

Laurie Dawn Brown Becomes a Bride

St. Luke's Methodist Church, was the setting for the wedding of the Richard Lee Benedicts, nee Laurie Dawn Brown. Following the vows, the newlyweds greeted guests at the Pauline Street home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John A. Katich.

Try Facial Scrub for 'New Look'

Many people fail to realize that the skin is not a solid mass like a blanket but is a multi-layered structure, with parts so small they can only be observed with a microscope, Saunda, Inc., reports.

That is why a special facial scrub with a mildly abrasive action is needed to dig down deep to remove dead skin cells, dust and other accumulations. The result is literally a new face, since a new layer of skin, fresh and clear, has been exposed.

The bridegroom is the son of the Howard A. Benedicts of Elsmere Street.

LACE, ORGANZA

For the evening ceremony, the bride chose a full length gown of Chantilly lace over organza. Her silk illusion veil was held with organza rosettes. The bride's bouquet was made up of white carnations with lilies of the valley.

Another Eden?

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Louis Baggett, 89, has a new twist to the Adam and Eve story. Seventy-plus years ago she threw an apple and clobbered a young fellow plowing in a field. Ashamed to have him see her barefoot, she hid in a tree, but he discovered her within a few minutes. The couple recently celebrated their 70th wedding anniversary.

First Meeting of New Year

Waterford - Clarkston Business and Professional Women's Club met recently at Howe's Lanes for their first dinner and business meeting of the season.

Mrs. Robert DeBarr, president, announced committee chairmanships for the coming year.

Bad Axe will be the site of the District No. 10 Fall meeting on Oct. 15.

PROGRAM

Following the meeting, Mrs. Howard Fitzgerald presented a verbal preview of the scheduled productions of the Meadow Brook Theatre, 1967-68 season.

Mrs. Winston Farmer was a guest at the event.

Yanks Loyal In Furniture Preferences

CHICAGO (UPI) — American furniture-buyers continue to choose styles their ancestors designed in preference to all other styles in wood furniture, the Fine Hardwoods Association reports.

Furniture with a Colonial heritage — Early American, Colonial and Federal — accounts for one-third of the wooden furniture in showrooms today, reports E. Howard Gatewood executive vice president of the hardwoods group.

It is followed in popularity by modern, Italian, Spanish, French and English designs, with English showing a slow but steady growth in sales.

MODERN

Upholstered furniture reverses the top two categories, with modern designs leading, he said.

Walnut, widely used in modern and English furniture, continues to be the leading wood and wood veneer sold, followed by maple, the mainstay of Colonial furniture. The next are the most popular woods cherry, pecan, oak and mahogany.

South Africa had 257,000 visitors in 1966, 13,000 from North America.

Joneses Wed in Double Ring Rite

MRS. JAMES L. JONES

In a double ring ceremony, floor-length princess gown of the former Jennifer June Pike, daughter of the Everette Pikes of Clarkson, became the bride of James Lewis Jones.

The couple exchanged vows Saturday in the Clarkson Methodist Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jake Clark of Waynesboro, Ga., and the late Mr. J. A. Jones.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's cousin, Diana Gorman of Smyrna, Ga., was maid of honor for the candle-light ceremony. The bridegroom's brother, Jesse, of Louisville, Ga., was best man. Richard Gorman, Frank Jones and the bride's brother, Lee, ushered.

The new Mrs. Jones wore a reception at Maurice's followed the ceremony. The newlyweds will make their home in Kennesaw, Ga.

Court Reorganization Plan Unveiled

LANSING (AP)—A House Judiciary subcommittee Tuesday revealed its court reorganization plan—one replacing the justice of the peace with a $20,000-a-year lawyer-judge and the quick-fingered court reporter with a machine.

A compromise bill worked out by the seven-member subcommittee envisions 200 judges in a statewide network of 43 peace at the end of next year, and observers warn that unless they are replaced with a new lower court system, circuit courts will be swamped with traffic cases and other minor offenses.

Holbrook said the bill which took final shape Tuesday represented "the consensus of the subcommittee. However," he added, "no member of the subcommittee agrees entirely with everything in the bill. I think every member will try to amend it one way or the other."

Key provisions of the bill, in the form in which it will start through the House, are these: • A total of 200 district judges, with 32 judges in Wayne County outside Detroit and only two in a five-county area of northeast Lower Michigan.

• Verbatim transcripts of district court proceedings recorded not by the traditional stenographers but by electronic devices.

• Cases appealed to circuit court would be judged on their trial record, not on a new trial with witnesses being called in again.

• District judges would have to be attorneys licensed to practice in Michigan, but juries of fewer than 12 members would be permitted in district court civil cases.

• The state would pay each judge $20,000 a year; the county would be allowed to supplement that salary to a total of $27,500.

• Each county with two or fewer judges would be required to elect at least one, but no more than four, magistrates and pay each no less than $6,000 a year of $25 a day.

• The district judges, sitting as special new small-claims courts, would hear civil cases involving amounts under $300; the judge would be required to try to settle the cases out of court, lawyers would be forbidden to represent clients and the plaintiff would have no right of appeal.

• Cities would receive fines collected for violation of their municipal ordinances; all court costs would go to the counties.

• Both district judges and magistrates would be elected from their districts in nonpartisan contests to four-year terms.

Expected to be the most controversial items when the bill comes up for passage are the requirement that judges be lawyers, the $4 million annual cost to the state, whether the magistrates should be elected or appointed, and what to do about Detroit Recorder's Court.

The bill could be changed to make the counties pay the district judge's entire salary, Holbrook noted. But if it is, he said, "we'll get so much flack from the counties that you can kiss the bill goodbye."

The subcommittee bill as written would not affect Detroit Recorder's Court, Holbrook said he thought some senators might try, in a separate bill, to merge recorder's court with the district court system.

Two-thirds majorities in each house are needed for passage of the court reorganization bill.

Subcommittee members besides Holbrook who drafted the measure were Republicans William Weber of Kalamazoo, Thomas Brown of Lansing and Hal Ziegler of Jackson and Democrats J. Bob Traxler of Bay City, Daniel Cooper of Oak Park and James O'Neill of Saginaw.

Old Liner Leaves Mothballs for Use as Floating Dorm

NEW YORK (AP)—The old liner Exochorda leaves the mothball fleet at Jones Point, N. Y. today to embark on a new role as a floating dormitory for 200 college freshmen.

The 23-year-old passenger-cargo liner, formerly of the American Export Lines, will be towed down the Hudson River to Hoboken, N. J., where it will be used by the Stevens Institute of Technology.

The school was awarded the ship earlier this week by the Maritime Administration for a high bid of $130,301.

A school spokesman explained that this year's class is larger than previous ones, and consequently dormitory space is at a premium.

Judicial districts, being aided in dealing with minor crimes by nonlawyer "magistrates."

Justices of the peace, circuit court commissioners, police courts, municipal courts outside Detroit and the Cadillac recorder's court would be abolished and their functions transferred to the new district courts.

The 200 judges—distributed across the state according to area, population and volume of legal work to be done—would be paid $20,000 each by the state, for an annual total of $4 million.

NEXT WEEK

Rep. Donald Holbrook, R-Clair, Judiciary Committee chairman, said he would introduce the bill next week when the legislature convenes in special session.

Court reorganization is at the top of the legislative agenda. The 1963 State Constitution abolishes the office of justice of the Race to Venus Opens Second Decade of Space Exploration

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The second decade of the space age is being opened this month by a race between an American and a Soviet spacecraft to explore the planet Venus.

See Related Story, Page B-4

The Soviet probe, named Venus 4, got a two-day head start in June and will reach the mysterious, cloud-shrouded planet first, on Oct. 18. America's Mariner 5 will swing by Venus a day later.

The job of the Russian craft remains a secret, and it's anybody's guess if the two spacecraft will work when they get there. Two Soviet probes failed when they reached Venus in 1966.

Mariner 5 will pass within 2,500 miles of the planet and curve around its backside Oct. 19 to measure the density of the murky Venusian atmosphere, study the planet's magnetic forces and look for radiation belts around it.

Little is known about the Russian probe except that it outweighs Mariner 2.433 pounds to 540 pounds and was launched June 12. As of last report, on Sept. 15, the Soviet news agency Tass said it was functioning normally.

PROBE 'SIGNIFICANT'

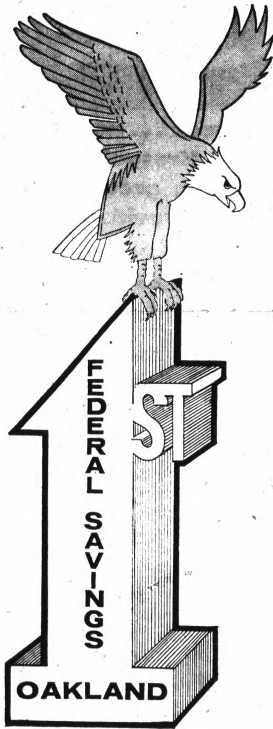

Despite the secrecy, one of the Soviet Nation's leading space experts, Leonid Sedov, told newsmen Sept. 23 in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, that Venus 4 "is significant enough" to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

There has been speculation that Venus 4 may attempt a historic landing on the planet, or at least flash the first close-up pictures of Venus back to earth. Either accomplishment would overshadow Mariner 5's results.

The only successful exploration of the planet to date was achieved by America's Mariner 2 in 1962. It passed 21,594 miles from Venus and reported that the planet appeared too hot and too dry to support earth-type life.

Since then there has been scientific disagreement on Venus' ability to support life. Speculation on what kinds of life Venus may harbor—if it has any at all—has ranged from simple bacteria to advanced creatures cavorting on imagined Venusian plains and seas.

Mariner 5 will not be able to detect life, but scientists say its studies of the planet's atmosphere may throw light on the chances of finding life with later robot landing craft.

Commission Hears Open Housing Support

City commissioners, heading Negro businessmen and a professional women's organization, Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said the commission has decided to take a vote at the regular commission meeting next week to determine whether they will proceed toward an ordinance adoption were clergymen representing four major religious denominations, the principal of Pontiac Central High School, the president of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers in the back room," the mayor (PFT), a club of prominent said.

City Affairs

Commissioners have been mulling information for the past few weeks in attempts to decide whether such an ordinance fits in with the philosophy of government they believe in.

Gov. Romney may ask the State Legislature to effect open housing legislation during the special session which convenes Tuesday.

Under the State Constitution he has the prerogative to decide what the Legislature will deal with during the session.

Taylor said that if the commission decides to move forward with the ordinance, the city law department would have to draft one utilizing parts from other city ordinances.

This proposed ordinance would then be distributed throughout the community for suggestions from all interested persons before final adoption would take place, he said.

CHURCH STATEMENTS

Clergymen reading statements approved nationwide by the Evangelical, Lutheran, Methodist and Roman Catholic churches were Rev. Paul F. Bailey, pastor of the Northeast Community Church; Rev. John Cooperrider, pastor of the Church of the Ascension Lutheran; Rev. Clyde Smith of the First Methodist Church; and Father David Britz, St. Michael's Catholic Church.

Rev. Bailey said Christians have an obligation to work for equal opportunity. Rev. Smith added that "Christians must insist that all people have the right to reside where they wish."

Father Britz emphasized that the Roman Catholic position is clear on the question. "Property right is a basic human right but not without limitations," he said.

"In general, property must be used in such a way as not to hurt the individual or society."

"Sometimes justice crawls, sometimes it leaps. In the field of housing we are crawling," Father Britz said in endorsing an open housing statute.

Garth Errington, principal of Pontiac Central, said there is ample evidence to indicate that de facto housing segregation leads to inferior education.

He said a housing ordinance would help in changing present housing patterns and producing equal educational opportunities.

Mrs. Versa Parsons, president of the PFT, said the teachers' organization is strongly behind an open housing ordinance and turned over to the commission a listing distributed by the Pontiac Education Association.

RENTAL POLICIES

The listing showed teachers where apartments are available and in some instances added notations where the management supposedly followed a "white only" policy.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said that of 11 apartments on the listing, seven were outside Pontiac, and only one of the four complexes in the city was noted as being adverse to renting to Negroes.

Another urging for open housing came from the R.E.M.A. Club, an organization of Negro business and professional men.

The resolution, listing the names of 21 men — including such persons as Dr. Henry L. Jenkins, M. D., president; Dr. Robert R. Turpin, a Pontiac school board member; Charles M. Tucker Jr., a local real estate dealer; and Clarence Barnes, executive vice president of the Pontiac Area Urban League stated:

VIEW OF INEQUITIES

"We are aware of the inequities which exist in the accessibility of decent housing in our community and we fully agree with our young adult leadership that such acts of discrimination hurt not only the individual but the total community."

'Complying With Ordinance'

Junk Dealers Are Defended

Junk dealers in the city have been "making dramatic steps" in coming into compliance with a new regulating ordinance passed this year, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said last night.

Speaking to a complaint that unnecessary debris is found in front of and around some yards, Warren said that complete compliance is expected by spring.

The city manager said it is not easy to completely change some of the methods and operations of the yards but the local dealers have done well.

"Conditions differ markedly from a year ago. They are completely different from three years ago," he said.

The matter came up as the commission considered renewal of licenses. Renewal was unanimously voted.

RENEWALS HELD UP

Warren said the license year ends April 30 but the renewals were held up mainly on the request of District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr., who said he has been battling for better junk yards for three years.

City Affairs

In other action, the commission:

- Reappointed William Satterfield, co-owner of Moote Electrical Contracting Co. and a six-year veteran of the board of electrical examiners, to that board.

- Deferred action on creating a parking district at the rear of 831 W. Huron.

- Agreed to postponement of principal payment on a land contract for 30 acres formerly used as the city sanitary land-fill.

- Agreed to a settlement of a claim against a contracting company which purportedly gave an inferior paint job to two water reservoirs at the water pumping station.

- Received the annual report of the police and fire pension board.

- Issued proclamations honoring the Rev. Verna Dr. 111 Team for receiving in August, for the second year in a row, the national championship for drill teams; and observing during the week of Oct. 1-7 "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week."

- Set a hearing on the proposed extension of a sewer line along a planned extension of Columbia from Cloverlawn to the belt line railroad.

"An infertile soil and an eutrophic lake will produce less crops, while a fertile soil and a eutrophic lake will produce more crops," says the Pennsylvania Health Department in new scientific jargon.

Eutrophication, actually, is the overfertilization of lakes. This means lakes, as they age, fill up with junk, turn into marshes and eventually disappear.

The department is so intrigued with eutrophication that it scheduled six speeches on the subject at a health conference at Pennsylvania State University.

RESIDENTS PROTEST

About 30 residents protested a planning commission recommendation to rezone at the rear of Huron for parking facilities planned for businesses on Huron.

Joseph Davis of 88 Oriole said most were property owners on Oriole and adjacent streets. He said the recommended land would give too much of residential property for parking.

Davis, acting as spokesman, said residents realized the need for parking but felt a 25-foot strip at the rear of Huron would be enough.

The planning commission reportedly recommended a 96-foot strip. Davis asked for a delay until the city planning department could present alternate proposals to all concerned and the commission voted for the two-week delay.

AGREES TO SALE

The city agreed to the sale of the land-fill site in April 1966, $5,000 down and the first payment on the land contract, $17,500 due Oct. 11.

The corporation had asked, however, that the payment be postponed until June and agreed to pay the interest due Oct. 11. Commissioners agreed.

The claim against the General American Transportation Co. was sought September 1966 after the city had to repaint the two reservoirs at a cost of $19,250.

Following many meetings with the attorney for the general contractor and much negotiation, the contractor has moved from the position of no liability to a final offer," Director of Law Sherwin Birnkrant said.

RECOMMENDS OFFER

He recommended accepting the offer, which is one half of the $19,250. Birnkrant recommended the acceptance, he said because to seek full reimbursement through the court, because of legal technicalities, could lead to no recovery.

The city staff estimated that extension of sewer facilities on Columbia will cost about $36,000 with the city to pay $30,000 and the rest assessed against owners.

The extension is part of a development plan which will lead to Columbia Avenue being extended to Telegraph.

In calling for the extension, Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson said it will help over-all development and relieve heavy use of the Baldwin-Walton intersection.

News Sinks in Eutrophic Lake

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Spring this on a farmer and see if it doesn't curdle his cow's milk or cause the rooster to crow at midnight.

"An infertile soil and an eutrophic lake will produce less crops, while a fertile soil and a eutrophic lake will produce more crops," says the Pennsylvania Health Department in new scientific jargon.

U.S. Money Husbandry
Likened to Family Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — An old congressional fiscal hand, Rep. Melvin R. Laird, has a primer for those who get mixed up over the difference between federal appropriations and spending.

He casts Congress in the role of a husband. The executive department, headed by the president, plays the wife with access to the family checkbook.

The Wisconsin Republican put his politically barbed primer in the Congressional Record and sent copies to the President and the Budget Bureau.

CONGRESSIONAL DEPOSITS

He said congressional appropriations "are like deposits in a bank account."

"Whoever deposits it makes that money available to whom ever has the authority to write checks against that account. It's like a husband depositing his pay check into his wife's checking account. He determines how much is available. She determines how much she will spend and when she will spend it."

"Let's assume that the husband is paid on a yearly basis. He gets one check, say for $10,000, in January of a given year . . . If she, the wife, spends at the rate of $1,500 per month, for each of the first three months, a quick calculation will tell her husband that they will be out of funds sometime during the seventh month."

HUSBAND'S CHOICES

When that embarrassing situation is reached, Laird continued, the husband has some limited choices. He can persuade his wife to mend her ways and cut down her spending, he can take the money out of the bank or cancel her authority to write checks, or he might tell the bank not to honor any checks over a stated amount each month.

Congress, Laird said, is "like the sober husband waking to the fact that the executive branch, the spendthrift wife, is buying us all into a fiscal mess."

Laird, a senior member of the appropriation committee, conceded that his illustration was "oversimplified in the interest of clarity."

Committee chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., suggested more simplification.

"If the husband, that's Congress, didn't put the money in the bank in the first place," Mahon told a newsman, "his wife, that's the President, couldn't take it out by writing checks."

Fine Print Tells Souvenir Truth

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Girl Scout leaders here presented Lady Baden-Powell of England a set of spoons with the seal of Kansas on the handle as a souvenir gift of her visit here.

They hoped she didn't notice that the fine print on the back of the spoon handles noted they were "Made in Norway."

Autumn's Hues
to Peak in U. P.

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Tourist Council said Tuesday that the autumn foliage color change is expected to peak this week along Lake Superior in the Upper Peninsula with inland areas close behind.

The best viewing in the northern Lower Peninsula is expected to begin Oct. 7-8 with peak conditions expected in the central Lower Peninsula about mid-October.

The final two weeks of the month will produce the best viewing in southern Lower Michigan, the council predicted.

BISHOP J. PIKE

Controversial Bishop Slates Tuesday Talk

Controversial Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike will speak on "The New Morality" in Birmingham Tuesday.

He will talk at 8 p.m. in Groves High School, 20500 W. 13 Mile Road as part of the Third Annual Contrast Series of Oakland Community College. General admission seats are $1 and reserved $1.25.

Bishop Pike, who recently withdrew his demands for a heresy trial, says he believes he has communicated with his dead son, James Jr., who committed suicide last year at the age of 22.

The bishop has questioned the traditional Christian doctrines of the Trinity, the Virgin Birth and the Divinity of Christ.

A report describing heresy as "anachronistic" was adopted last week by the Episcopal General Convention in Seattle, Wash. Bishop Pike in turn dropped his demand for a hearing on the accusations against him.

RESIDENT THEOLOGIAN
A resigned Episcopal bishop of California, he is now a theologian in residence at the Center for Study of Democratic Institutions in Santa Barbara, Calif.

In his new book, "If This Be Heresy," he argues that the traditional religious "leap of faith" can be minimized and that belief in God can be justified on the basis of "facts plus faith."

Among the "facts" are mystical and psychedelic experiences, extrasensory perception and "telekinetic" experiences.

State Elections Chief Retires

LANSING (AP) — Robert M. Montgomery will retire as director of elections for the Michigan Department of State on Oct. 14, Secretary of State James M. Hare announced Tuesday.

Montgomery, 66, has been elections director for the past 14 years.

Hare praised Montgomery's performance as director, saying that during his tenure the elections staff has more than doubled and responsibilities of the operation have grown.

"School elections have come under the supervision of the division as have other elections-related assignments such as a special census, annexations, and incorporations," Hare said.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

"Hundreds of schools of instruction were held under the auspices of the elections division," Hare said. "Thousands of elections were supervised. Hundreds of canvasses were conducted. Numerous recounts were held."

Before taking over as elections director, Montgomery served 18 years as a justice of the peace in Lansing Township and eight years in the Michigan Legislature, part of the time as House speaker pro-tem.

Hearing Is Held on Judge Choice

WASHINGTON (AP) — A brief hearing, at which no opposition was expressed, was held by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee today on the nomination of Damon J. Keith, 45-year-old Detroit attorney, to be a U.S. district judge for Eastern Michigan.

Keith, a Negro, was nominated by President Johnson to succeed Judge Thomas Thornton, retired.

Griffin Against Halt in Bombing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Too many "arm-chair generals" are trying to direct military strategy in Vietnam, according to Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.

He was asked at a news conference yesterday whether he was switching with senators like Thurston Morton, R-Ky., and Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, to a more dovish stand on the war and whether he endorsed demands for a halt in U.S. bombing.

"Unless we are ready to say we should get out, I can't justify stopping the bombing in the present situation," Griffin said. "The Communist leaders tell us that stopping will not necessarily lead to negotiations."

His opinion might change if circumstances changed, he added. But for the moment he apparently views with concern the growing debate on administration policy.

"There is some danger that the GOP can get into trouble if Republicans play politics with the war in Vietnam — that's the worst kind of politics," he said. "I'm not accusing anyone in particular... I just hope this doesn't go beyond responsible dialogue."

New System Is Mandatory

City Hearing on Courts Near

Revamping Michigan's lower court system will be the principal item facing legislators when they convene at a special session in Lansing Tuesday.

To aid them in deciding how the reorganization will be carried out, a series of public hearings are being held throughout the state to obtain ideas from judges, attorneys and civic officials.

The final meeting will be held in Pontiac Friday in the board of supervisors' auditorium at the county courthouse. Other meetings have been held in Saginaw and Jackson.

Sen. J. Harvey Lodge, R-Waterford Township, vice chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, will conduct the hearing which is scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. and run all day.

An immediate problem confronting legislators is how much the new system will cost the state and local units of government.

HOW MUCH?
"If the state is to collect fees, there is the question of how much of it should be returned to local units of government to defray their expenses," said Lodge, an attorney.

The reorganization was ordered by the State Constitution which abolished the justice of peace court system and circuit court commissioners, both paid through fees from fines.

When the constitution went into effect in 1963 it set a Jan. 1, 1969, deadline for eliminating the positions.

State and local bar association have conducted surveys, but there has been considerable disagreement on the reorganization.

MUNICIPAL COURTS

The recommendation of the Oakland County Bar to retain municipal courts in cities is contrary to the state bar proposal that city courts also be replaced by district courts.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley yesterday cleared one possible hurdle from the path of lower court reorganization, ruling the Legislature has power to abolish the offices of municipal judges during their terms.

Such a judge, Kelley said, would receive no further salary.

Kelley added his accrued retirement benefits could not be impaired.

WELL-ESTABLISHED RULE

"There is a well-established general rule of law which is applicable," Kelley said. "It may be attached to such office opinion."

may be stated that in the absence of constitutional restrictions an office created by the legislature may be abolished by it, and when so abolished the incumbent has no further right to compensation."

Kelley advised the Legislature to "expressly abolish the office, powers, duties and jurisdiction of justices of the peace which requested the attorney general's opinion."

(municipal judge) in affected municipalities."

Changes in some cities' municipal court systems are contemplated in some of the reorganization plans which have been proposed.

Four members of the Legislature's two judiciary committees requested the attorney general's opinion.

Science Award Program Hiked

$10,000 Scholarship Offered for First Time

WASHINGTON — The largest science scholarship in the country — $10,000 — will be awarded for the first time next year as the culmination of the nationwide Science Talent Search.

A grant from the Westinghouse Educational Foundation has enabled Science Service, which conducts the search, not only to increase the top award by $2,500, but to double the number of scholarships to 10.

There will also be two $8,000 scholarships, three $6,000 ones and four $4,000 ones.

The other 30 finalists attending the Science Talent Institute in Washington in late February receive $250 as before, since any sum larger than that makes them ineligible for other scholarships.

Announcement of the stepped-up program was made jointly by Howard S. Kaltenborn of the Westinghouse Educational Foundation and Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Nobel Prize winning chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and president of the board of trustees of Science Service.

GUIDES OF TOMORROW

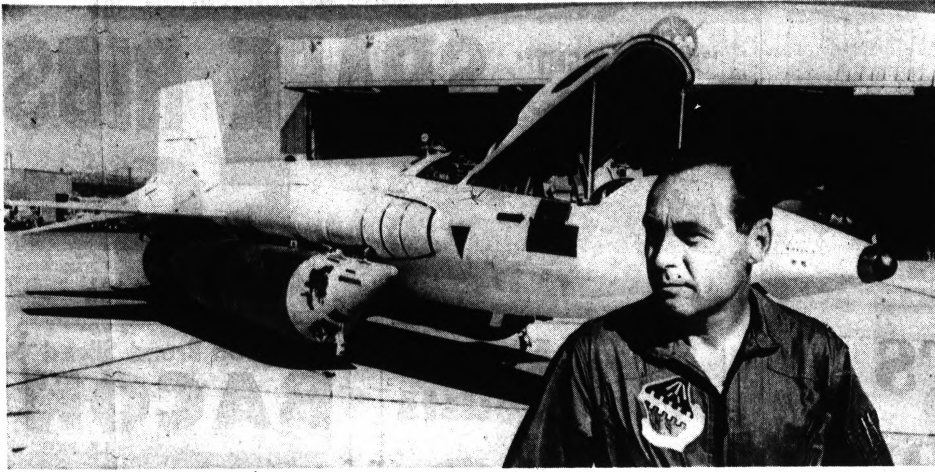

Dr. Seaborg said that since the inception of the Science Talent Search in 1942, "the world has become engulfed in the scientific revolution."

"Our accelerating pace of progress must be guided tomorrow high school students of today. Thus if the leaders of tomorrow are to emerge from the nation's reservoir of young talent, we must discover and inspire their efforts today."

Kaltenborn, who is also vice president of personnel and public affairs of Westinghouse Electric Corp., said that the "spiraling cost of higher education today, coupled with the ever-increasing critical need for scientists, prompted Westinghouse to expand its support of this pioneer program" in which outstanding scientific talent has been identified and encouraged.

WORLD SPEED RECORD SET — Air Force Maj. William J. Knight stands in front of the X15 rocket plane in which he set a new world speed record for winged aircraft yesterday. The rocket ship streaked over Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., at 4,534 miles per hour, beating Knight's old mark by 284 m.p.h. The plane was equipped with two 22-foot pontoonlike tanks suspended from the wings which carried extra fuel to provide increased thrust. The record speed — nearly seven times that of sound — was made possible by adding 13,500 pounds of anhydrous ammonia and liquid oxygen to the plane's fuel load, giving it an extra 60 seconds of engine-burn time. More than 15 tons of fuel in two minutes were consumed as the plane roared up to top speed. Scientists predict the experimental plane will top 5,000 m.p.h. in future tests.

Lobster Makes Elegant Hors d'oeuvres

If your crowd has graduated from the peanut-and-potato chip idea of what goes with liquid refreshment, perhaps a friendly competition of what else to offer has been launched.

It will cease being a contest when you consider this possibility: Nothing can beat rock lobster meat as a dramatic taste treat and hardly anything is easier to present in a dramatic fashion.

If you can boil water you can prepare South African rock lobster tail hors d'oeuvres and canapes. Each tail contains a solid piece of snow-white meat, which can be removed from the shell in a solid piece.

Diced into bite sizes, the meat is ideal for dunking; chopped finely it becomes the base of spreads for crackers or toast. Try these two recipes.

COLD BOILED ROCK LOBSTER
With Mustard Relish Dip
6 (2 to 3 oz.) frozen South Chilli.

African rock lobster tails
1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons pickle relish
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
Drop frozen rock lobster tails into boiling salted water. When water boils, cook for 2 to 3 minutes. Drain immediately, drench with cold water, and cut away under membrane.

Remove meat from shells in one piece, reserving one or two shells for sauce service. Cut each tail into bite-size chunks.

Combine remaining ingredients, and stir until well blended. Chill until ready to serve.

Spoon sauce into reserved rock lobster shells. Serve as a dip with chunks of rock lobster speared with toothpicks. Yield: 1 1/4 cups of sauce.

ROCK LOBSTER SPREAD
3 (2 to 3 oz.) frozen rock lobster tails
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
1/4 cup milk or cream
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
3 tablespoons chopped scallions
2 tablespoons chopped chutney
Salt and paprika
Cook lobster as directed in first recipe. Remove rock lobster meat, and chop very fine.

Mash cream cheese until soft, gradually beat in milk. Stir in eggs, scallions, and chutney.

Stir rock lobster into cream cheese mixture. Season to taste with salt and paprika.

When ready to serve, spread on rounds or oblongs of toast. Garnish with radish slices and sprinkles of paprika. Yield: 2 cups.

LOBSTER TIDBITS — Meat from the South African rock lobster tails is cut into bite-size chunks for dunking or chopped fine for a spread. A doubly good idea for hors d'oeuvres and canapes.

Pour Lemon Syrup on Cake to Glaze and Keep It Moist

Ancient and modern Greeks alike have a special word "for one of their favorite desserts. It's Karithopeta, often referred to in mythology as Honey Cake.

Made with a fairly coarse batter, Honey Cake is spiced with a bit of orange rind. Chopped walnuts provide a nut-like flavor.

The syrup "frosting" is flavored with lemon juice and allowed to soak into the cake while it's still warm to enhance the moist texture.

Home economists point out that an excellent feature of Honey Cake is that it will stay fresh almost a week when stored in the refrigerator.

Karithopeta
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
1/2 cup sugar
3 eggs
1/2 teaspoon finely grated orange rind
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash of ground cloves
2 cups finely chopped walnuts
1/4 cup milk

Cream butter; gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time; add orange rind.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, and cloves. Add walnuts; mix well. Add to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients.

Turn into greased and lightly floured 9-inch square pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until done. Cool on wire rack for 15 minutes.

Cut into square or diamond shape pieces. Pour warm syrup over cake. Makes 16 pieces.

Spread Loaf and Toast

This bread is nice for a small or large group.

Cheese and Parsley Bread
1 loaf (1 pound) French or Vienna bread
1/2 cup butter, soft
1/2 pound Swiss cheese, grated
1/2 cup finely chopped parsley

Cut the bread, all the way through, into 16 diagonal slices. Thoroughly mix together the butter, cheese and parsley; spread over one surface of each slice of bread keeping loaf together.

Wrap loosely in heavy foil and heat in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 20 to 30 minutes or until hot through. Makes 8 servings — 2 slices per portion.

Canned Milk Is Good as Coating

Evaporated milk as it pours from the can, so creamy and rich, is an excellent coating for foods to be breaded and pan-fried or oven-fried. Cutlets, chops, chicken pieces and fish fillets — all may be dipped into evaporated milk then rolled in the breading ingredient.

Fine bread or cracker crumbs, cornflake crumbs or a mixture of flour and cornmeal may be used as preferred.

Sherry Handy as Cooking Aid

When you refer to a "mellow, nutlike seasoner," you may well be talking about sherry. And the sherry might be one of a trio, designed for different tastes . . . the light pale dry, the pleasantly medium or the sweeter, full-bodied cream sherry.

In the cooking department, they may be used interchangeably; easy rule, pick up the bottle that already is open.

From broiled grapefruit and soup-on-the-rocks to glamorous desserts, sherry has a way with food specialties, often contributing flavor so subtle that the guest tastes with a blissful "what's that?" expression.

Borrow a few tricks from restaurants: Present a jigger of sherry with each soup serving or ripe melon slice. Many chefs add a splash of sherry to chicken, shrimp or lobster dishes just as they are removed from the heat.

ALL-IN-ONE TREAT — "Mugs of breakfast" are sure to stimulate appetites. An interesting way to use a variety of ready-to-eat cereals, too. These "breakfast mugs" contain soft ice cream and fresh fruit, layered with two kinds of ready-to-eat cereal. Here we show fresh blueberries, Kellogg's Product 19, fresh silvered pineapple and Kellogg's Puffa Puffa Rice. Assemble "mugs of breakfast" to suit your own family's tastes. These were served at this week's Food Editors Conference in Chicago.

Quick Sweet Bread Full of Strawberries

A sweet biscuit, bursting with strawberry preserves, makes a weekend brunch or any friendly morning coffee break extra special.

For eight biscuits, all you do is sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut in ¼ cup shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Blend in ½ to ¾ cup milk to make a soft dough.

Turn out onto a lightly floured surface and knead gently for 30 seconds. Divide dough into 4 equal portions. Roll out each portion to 6-inch square.

Brush with melted butter. Spread half of square with 2 tablespoons strawberry preserves, leaving about ½-inch

Nuts, Berries

To every three cups pancake batter blend in ½ cup chopped California walnuts and ½ cup of your favorite fresh berries. Cook; fold in half; then fill with sweetened whipped cream and dust with powdered sugar for a light luncheon or dessert treat.

Sprinkle Spice on Fruit Salad

Here is a brand-new look and taste to a favorite salad recipe that combines peaches and cottage cheese — Spiced Cottage Fruit Salad.

Place a peach half, cut side up, on lettuce leaves; place ½ cup cottage cheese in center. Sprinkle with cinnamon and garnish with lemon wedge. Squeeze the lemon over the salad to give it a fresh, tangy flavor.

Ever heat sliced boiled potatoes with real cream? Use heavy cream and just before serving sprinkle with lots of minced parsley.

Fix Wild Punch 'Bowl' to Match Mood of Day

Creativity is "in." With it, comes a whole new colorful world of personalized entertaining — as illustrated by this zany, psychedelic punch bowl introduced by The Seven-Up Company to the nation's food editors at their annual meeting in Chicago.

This is a punch bowl you can't buy. It is the result of an evening's fun with homemade play clay and a plastic paint bucket.

A little imagination transforms the handle of a plain kitchen ladle into a matching punch server of play clay and rick rack. It's a wild idea, and so is the punch.

A flavor base of grape jelly is shimmered with fresh lime slices and whole cloves. Chilled crystal clear 7-Up adds the necessary, light, sparkling touch.

For a polka dot garnish — would be believe floating, frozen miniature marshmallows and blueberries!

PSYCHEDELIC PUNCH

1 jar (10 oz.) grape jelly
1 cup 7-Up
10 whole cloves
1 fresh lime, sliced
½ cup fresh lime juice
4 qts. (128 ozs. total) 7-Up, chilled
Blueberries, frozen
Miniature marshmallows, frozen

Combine first 4 ingredients in sauce pan. Heat to boiling, stirring until jelly is dissolved. Simmer 5 minutes. Cool; strain to remove cloves and lime slices. Add lime juice. Chill thoroughly; just before serving, add 7-Up. Garnish with frozen blueberries and marshmallows.

For "stirrers," thread marshmallows and blueberries on bamboo sticks. Makes about gallon or 36 (4 oz.) servings.

Homemade Play Clay

In a 4 qt. pan, blend thoroughly 3 pkgs. (1 lb. each) baking soda, 1 pkg. (1 lb.) corn starch, 1 qt. cold water and enough food coloring to give color desired. (Takes a large bottle.)

Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly and vigorously. Boil until mixture resembles moist, mashed potatoes. Transfer to waxed paper and cover with moist towel until cool enough to handle.

On waxed paper, roll out to ¼-inch thickness in a rectangle to fit sides of plastic bucket. Press onto bucket; peel off paper; smooth surface with wet hands.

Cover handle of ladle with play clay. Allow to dry thoroughly (at least 1 day). Spray with clear plastic or shellac. Glue on rick rack or other decoration.

Clay can be painted with tempera paints after drying if desired. Decorations can be pressed into clay before drying.

PSYCHEDELIC PUNCH — No punch bowl that will match the mood of your party? Make one with a plastic paint bucket and homemade play clay. Decorate with wild stripes of giant rickrack. Miniature marshmallows are used as garnish.

2 Flavors Fine in Fruit Whip

Rhubarb-Strawberry Whip is a whipped gelatin dessert, but whipped cream is folded into it for a rich, velvety texture. Its distinctive fruit flavor comes from the combination of frozen rhubarb and frozen strawberries.

Rhubarb-Strawberry Whip

1 package (1 pound) frozen rhubarb, defrosted*
1 package (10 ounces) frozen sliced strawberries, defrosted
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup heavy cream, whipped
Drain juice from defrosted frozen fruit into 2-cup measure. Add water to make 1½ cups. Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes.

Put over low heat and stir until gelatin dissolves. Stir gelatin into juice. Stir in fruit. Chill until mixture is almost set.

Beat with a rotary egg beater or mixer until smooth and fluffy. Fold in whipped cream. Spoon into a 1½ quart mold or sherbet glasses. Chill until firm.

Makes 1½ quarts or 6 servings.

Raisin Filling on Nut Bread

Tiny raisin sandwiches are a shapely accompaniment for a cool summer salad.

Blend finely chopped California seedless raisins with softened cream cheese and moisten with milk. Spread on sliced nut bread. Cut into fancy shapes with cookie cutters and top with a sprinkling of chopped fresh mint.

Beans 'n' Fowl

Nice for a change: snap beans, cut in short lengths and cooked only until tender-crisp, added to chicken or turkey salad. If you use the beans, you can omit the usual celery addition.

Ham Sandwich Is Really Different

Those who pine for the taste of pineapple will enjoy a new way to try it — in Pineapple-Ham Rolls that go on a picnic. Eight sliced hamburger rolls are readied for travel by spreading with an unusual mixture (¼ cup soft butter, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, and ½ cup drained, crushed pineapple), then wrapping together in heavy foil.

At mealtime, the foil-wrapped rolls are heated over the coals, four minutes on each side, then filled with sliced, baked or boiled ham.

Cooked frozen green lima beans (the small variety) take to a cream sauce perked up with curry powder.

Slum Job-Experiment Plan Outlined; Cooperating Firms Quiet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration's announcement it will work with private industry in five cities on a $40-million slum dwellers' job experiment finds the companies named apparently knowing little or saying nothing about the project.

Details were announced Tuesday by two Cabinet officers as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was telling the nation's top businessmen at a U.S. Chamber of Commerce meeting about his proposed tax incentives for businesses which build plants and homes in slums.

Kennedy welcomed the President's plan. The administration opposes his.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz and Commerce Secretary Alexander B. Trowbridge said the pilot program will be conducted in Boston, Los Angeles, Chicago, Washington and San Antonio, Tex.

Wirtz and Trowbridge said firms participating will be Borg Warner and Sears Roebuck & Co. in Chicago, Lockheed Aircraft, McDonnell-Douglas Aircraft and Litton Industries in Los Angeles and Avco and New England Electric in Boston.

NO PRIOR NOTICE

In Chicago, a Sears spokesman said the firm wasn't notified of the program until Tuesday but agreed to meet with federal officials.

Mayor Walter Washington of Washington was not informed of the program until Monday, an associate said.

A Borg Warner spokesman said his company had been contacted about the possibility of meetings with federal officials and that while no such meetings have been held yet, the firm is interested in learning more about the project.

There was no comment from McDonnell-Douglas and Litton in Los Angeles, and no officials from Avco or New England Electric in Boston who knew of the program were available.

LOCKHEED APPROVAL

A Lockheed official in Los Angeles said the firm would "be happy to help" and added the company has had its own employee training program for six years.

Under the administration plan, industries locating plants in slums would get government help in insuring against risks. The government would make available surplus federal property and equipment.

At a news conference, Trowbridge said the administration plan was preferable to Kennedy's because "We are trying to achieve the same objective with existing legislation and money."

Kennedy's plan would require new legislation.

TV Picket Line Order Brings Suit by Network

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. has filed a $2-million damage suit against Mel Brandt, president of the AFL-CIO National Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA), which has ordered its members not to cross picket lines of striking ABC technicians.

The suit, filed Tuesday in the New York State Supreme Court, also sought an injunction restraining AFTRA from persuading ABC employees "to violate any employment contract" under threat of facing disciplinary action by the union.

About 1,500 technicians—members of the AFL-CIO National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians (NABET)—have been on strike against the ABC television and radio networks since Sept. 22 in a contract dispute.

RESTRAINING ORDER

In Los Angeles, one of five cities where NABET is on strike and picketing, Superior Court Judge Ralph Nuttall Tuesday granted ABC a temporary restraining order prohibiting AFTRA from refusing to allow its members to cross the picket lines.

Papers in the suit said ABC has a written agreement in Los Angeles with AFTRA that its members will not strike, picket, or boycott the company.

Nuttall scheduled a hearing for next Tuesday. At that time, AFTRA is to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Astronauts Vie for 3 Moon Tickets

By RONALD THOMPSON
SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — U.S. astronauts are in keen if silent competition for the three seats aboard the first moon-bound Apollo spaceship.

Of course, they all want the first lunar footprints to be made by an American, no matter who, and not by a Russian.

But they know that ahead of the first men on the moon is the chance to live forever in history books.

Who will go?
Fairly soon, perhaps within a year, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will pick the three men for the first crew.

OLD, NEW NAMES
The veterans, whose names and exploits are already familiar, stand ready—Cooper, Schirra, Stafford, McDivitt. But three are new names, too — Eisele, Cunningham, Mattingly and others—who may be selected.

Some feel they're very much in the running. Others, either because of health, age or experience, know their chances are slim. In NASA's inner circle, the list has probably already been narrowed so that someone has a pretty good idea who will go.

Astronauts normally shy away from public discussion of the space competition between Russia and the United States. But some talk more freely when it comes to that first moon mission.

"I'd be a liar if I didn't say I wanted to be first," said Air Force Maj. William A. Anders. "Everyone here is probably convinced that he's in good shape to make it. But that's not to say I'd be sorely disappointed if I didn't."

U.S. FIRST
Said Navy Cmdr. Charles A. "Pete" Conrad Jr.: "Sure I'd like to be the first guy but I'd think for damn sure I'd want sort of how do you assign any the U.S. to be first. I don't have body to anything. You know, it begins to influence people personally, pretty closely," he said.

"It's obvious everybody can't be a commander, so you have to pick some people to be commanders and some for the other jobs."

LITTLE DIFFERENCE
"I think that every job on the flight is equally important; you can't fly it without every one of those guys being awfully sharp," Slayton said. "In my opinion, if you were going to rank every man we've got, you would find a very, very small band of difference."

On the first lunar mission, who has which job governs who actually sets foot on the moon's surface. Three make the trip but only the command pilot and lunar module pilot descend to the moon in the smaller spaceship they take along. The third flies the mothership in orbit around the moon until they return.

The astronauts also say they do not know Slayton's formula for recommending. Said one: "If you find out, let me know."

While the first moon mission, lasting about seven days, may be the most glamorous to fly, the spacemen who don't go no doubt will be anxious for the second or third mission.

Women Seen Loosening Girdle of Global Poverty

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — After 19 years in the poor, hungry hinterlands of the globe, Dr. Charles Egger believes he may have at least a partial solution to the problems of underdeveloped nations.

It might be expressed: "Women of the world, unite!" Or something like that.

Egger, the new deputy executive director of the United Nations Children's Fund, doesn't espouse this view in words quite so close to Karl Marx' classic exhortation to the world's workers. And, ever mindful of occasional criticism of UNICEF's work in Communist countries, he stresses that UNICEF is strictly nonpolitical.

On looking back over his career as a UNICEF regional director in the world's blighted areas, Egger is convinced that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. Or most of it.

CHIEF GOALS
UNICEF's chief goals are providing food, medical care and education for the world's children. The work has been most successful through reaching the woman of the house, Egger believes. "The lack of status and education among women in so many underdeveloped countries make it a difficult problem to reach them," he says. "In any country where prices rise, the budget goes up and the economy tightens, social programs get chopped off, and these few programs are the ones that primarily benefit the women."

Women's importance in UNICEF's work, Egger believes, is because of their unique relationship with both the older generation and the younger.

HOPES FOR TRAINING
"What we hope to do more of," he says, "is train professional women who are capable of maintaining a dialogue with their men, at the same time practice their profession and also influence the young generation."

Egger's most recent post was as regional director for south-central Asia, where for six years he was particularly involved with India's education, health, nutrition and welfare problems.

He found there that the most effective approach was to create centers in Indian villages for medical training, nutritional planning, early schooling, agricultural methods and crop selection. These "model villages" were immensely inspiring to people of nearby villages, he says.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOUND WAVES

FASTER THAN SOUND

HI THERE, KBA-FACE!
HI THERE, FLEA-FACE!
WITH A PHONE TRAVELS FASTER STILL HERE SHE COMES!
HERE SHE IS!
INSTANT DELIVERY
COULDN'T WAIT!

QUESTION: Why does a supersonic plane travel slower than telephone sound waves?

ANSWER: The point our correspondent is making is that, since a supersonic plane flies faster than sound, it should arrive in Boston from Englewood, N.J., faster than a phone call between these two places.

The mistake he makes is in thinking that a phone call travels over a telephone wire by using sound waves.

Sound waves, moving about 750 miles an hour, are created as one speaks into a telephone receiver, but these waves are changed at once into electric impulses. The push of this electric energy forces electrons from the atoms of the wire to move and release more electrons.

It is not any individual electron which rips through the wire with the terrific speed of the electric current, close to 186,282 miles a second; it is the above or push which moves with such speed.

Contrast a supersonic plane's speed of perhaps 800 miles an hour with that of the electric current, nearly 186,282 miles a second; and you will have the answer to the question.

In a 1932 tournament all no-trump declarers except Hal went down.

The play at all tables except Hal's started with South winning the spade lead with the queen and knocking out the ace of diamonds.

The queen of spades was told West where the king was but the jack of spades with the king if he really held a guard for the second honor. Therefore each West laid down his ace of spades and collected four quick spade tricks.

When Hal was declarer he won the jack of spades with the king; led a club to dummy's ace and played out the king of diamonds.

West was in with the ace and tried to figure out what Hal was up to. He might just be playing around without the queen of spades, a small spade and no ace of hearts.

Then West considered Hal's reputation for awhile. He knew that Hal was considered to be the best dummy player in the world and a specialist in no-trump play.

Finally West led a heart and Hal had justified his reputation.

Wellesley College alumnae from Birmingham and Detroit areas will hold an all-day conference on "Communism in China and Democracy in India" at Oakland University Nov. 1.

Dr. Philip M. Phibbs, assistant professor of political science at Wellesley College, and Miss Harriet Cornelia Mills, associate professor of Chinese at the University of Michigan, will be the main speakers.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

The late Philip Hal Sims was unquestionably the greatest player in the world in the first days of contract. Like most top-notch players Hal had a fondness for no-trump contracts. He played lots of them and he played them as well as possible.

He would have been better advised to have raised diamonds with today's hand. There is no defense against a five-diamond contract and plenty of defense against three no-trump. So much defense

What do you do now?
A—Bid six clubs. The previous bidding indicates that seven cannot be a sure thing. You bid four no-trump to cover the slight chance that your partner might not hold one ace.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of rebidding two clubs your partner jumps to three clubs. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

BY SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny..."

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): You learn secrets. How you respond is of utmost importance. Be discreet. Don't cast first stone. Emotions are touched. But remember you must face yourself in more detail.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 21): Arguments with friends, partner, close associates accomplish nothing. Best to study various points of view. Remember need for public relations. Do more listening than asserting.

Gemini (May 22-June 21): Conversation with associates, fellow workers. There is much to say and do. Take first step. Expect hand of help, friendship. Caution: You have been too close to the light. Be gracious.

Cancer (June 22-July 22): Where romance is concerned, avoid deception. Send the truth, especially where it affects home. If frank, there is understanding. Otherwise there could be chaos.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): Friends who have suggestions may feel you are too stubborn to listen. Correct this impression. Do not let foolish argument only create emotional turmoil.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Journey indicated, persons in connection with same from relative. Study LEO message. Be versatile. Resist urge of sense of humor. Accept added responsibility. Position is strong.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Some factors appear to crop up on the scene. You must face facts as they actually exist. Do not let your mind be clouded by wishful thinking. Look beyond immediate indications.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Under position accounts personality, ability to succeed in dramatic presentation of originality. Independence. Be aware of originality. Independence. Be aware of originality. Independence. Be aware of originality.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Some who have argued with you now take up under your side. Play your cards close to your chest. It's a good idea to avoid inviting friends. Neutral role seems to be best.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Dispute between yourself and associates is expected. Avoid climbing into the fire. Express yourself. If you let others know what you think, gain and pleasure are indicated.

Marijuana Effects Remain a Mystery

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—Marijuana is no new petal of the flower children. It has been used since 1200 B.C. Yet scientists know less of this drug's potential for harm than they do of LSD, discovered less than half a century ago. They don't know whether marijuana, as smoked in the United States, poses a threat comparable to alcohol, worse than alcohol or less than alcohol.

They don't know whether chronic potheads undergo psychological changes because of marijuana, despite the impression that long-time users seem to be turned inward and lack drive. Finally they don't know whether the weed can be smoked on a now and then basis, as is often the case, with any degree of safety.

There has never been much data on marijuana, and most of what is available is more than 30 years old.

Nurse in Speck Trial Tries Politics

MANILA (UPI)—Corazon Amurao, who survived the massacre of eight nurses in Chicago last year and helped convict the killer, broke her long silence today and said she plans to combine her nursing job in Manila with a political career in her home town.

The 24-year-old Miss Amurao also said she has no intention of returning to Chicago in the immediate future. She has been invited to a ball given in her honor by the Chicago Newspaper Reporters Association and has been awarded a share of the $10,000 reward for the capture and conviction of Richard Franklin Speck.

Her attention, she said, is currently focused on her nursing job at the Far Eastern University in Manila and her political bid for a councilor's seat in her home town in San Luis, Batangas Province, south of Manila.

Miss Amurao, wearing a white nurse's uniform and still outwardly wary of strangers, spoke to this correspondent during a break in her hospital chores. It was one of her rare interviews since she returned home last April after appearing as the star prosecution witness in Speck's trial.

She confirmed that she has entered politics in her home town and that she filed her candidacy for town councilor last Sept. 14, one day before the deadline for registration of candidates in next month's off-year elections in the Philippines. She is running under the opposition liberal party.

GOOD CHANCE

"Do I think I'll win? I don't know. But the political leaders who asked me to run think I have very good chances. I haven't even started to campaign yet. But our town is very small. It has only about 5,000 voters."

Police Feel Too Restricted

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in an eight-part series on crime and its impact on the public and law enforcement.)

By MEL NEWMAN

If the criminal has become fairly certain that he will, somewhere along the line of due process of law, avoid punishment, the weak links in this process must be strengthened.

Law enforcement officials point to recent Supreme Court decisions restricting the latitude of officers on one hand and of lower courts on the other as having created these weaknesses.

Methods of interrogating suspects, gathering evidence and obtaining confessions have been severely limited by these decisions, police believe.

They cite recent cases in which they submit suspects who were freed on the basis of some procedural technicality despite the fact that the burden of evidence was overwhelmingly against them.

The situation has reached the point, in the opinion of William K. Hanger, Pontiac chief of police, at which the rights of the law-abiding citizens of the country are secondary to the rights of suspects.

In his words: "This has had a disastrous effect upon law enforcement and upon the general public."

How might the law enforcement officer better do his job and thus put pressure to bear on criminals?

"Police officers should be permitted to interrogate suspects and criminals in a reasonable manner, without the presence of an attorney being absolutely necessary," said Hanger.

"The only criteria for the admissibility of confessions should be their voluntariness and their accuracy," he said. He added that "The only criteria for the admissibility of evidence should be its reliability and whether it's material to the issue."

To law enforcement agents, it is a simple case of action and reaction:

"The odds have been turned more against the police officer and more in favor of the suspect and the actual criminal, seeing evidence of this, feels more free to commit his crime," one policeman said.

Again, the public suffers the loss.

600-M.P.H. Stroll for Airline Hostess

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Miss Champa Malkani, 24, walked 5 1/2 miles the other day at an average speed of just under 600 miles per hour.

Miss Malkani, an Air India hostess, carried a pedometer during a London - New York flight as part of a company experiment to see how much walking their hostesses do.

On the subsequent return journey to London, Miss Malkani walked only 3 3/4 miles, but it was a late flight and the hostesses did not have to serve drinks or dinner.

'Other Congo' Keeps Out Most Aliens

BRAZZAVILLE, Republic of the Congo (AP) — Only about a half dozen U.S. citizens live here in "the other Congo." They are either missionaries or representatives of the World Health Organization.

This country, once a part of French Equatorial Africa, is differentiated from the adjacent nation across the Congo River, known as the Congo or Kinshasa Congo after its capital, and formerly under Belgian rule.

Washington cut diplomatic relations with the Brazzaville Congo in 1965, and the nearest U.S. embassy is in Kinshasa. It is a late flight and the hostesses did not have to serve drinks or dinner.

ting their entry into Brazzaville. This reporter made the trip in connection with a World Health Organization conference.

Streets CLEAN Well-spaced streets roam over hills and through thick vegetation, swept clean but for the steady rain of leaves. A few are lined with the scribble, "Communism."

Low buildings, some shambling, some modernistic, follow the shore with striking views. One of the tallest is a 12-room hotel being built by the Russians next to their embassy, which is a fenced-off complex the size of a city block.

The Communist Chinese embassy is three stories tall. There is also a North Vietnamese embassy, as well as a Vietnamese restaurant where the food is excellent.

Stores are jammed with goods undreamed of across the river, although Kinshasa is much larger. Brazzaville Congolese appear generally content, though there is a work shortage and prices are high.

DO FALSE TEETH
Rock, Slide or Slip?
Don't live in fear of false teeth loosening, wobbling or dropping just at the wrong time. For more security and more comfort, just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. FASTEETH holds false teeth firmer. Makes eating easier. No nasty, gooey taste. Helps check "denture breath." Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

Bid-Opening on Mott Near

Waterford Board to Meet Tomorrow

Opening of bids for construction of Waterford Township's proposed Mott High School will take place at the board of education's 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

Bids originally were scheduled to be opened last night. The delay resulted when some of the interested contractors requested a two-day extension.

The school district's third high school is to be located on a 8 1/2-acre site at Scott Lake and Pontiac Lake roads.

The building is targeted for partial occupancy by next September and completion by May 1969.

Total estimated cost of the project, according to architects, is $4,046,720, some $69,720 more than was budgeted.

CONSTRUCTION COSTS Construction costs are estimated at $3,008,720.

In other business tomorrow night, the board is expected to pass a resolution in regard to the Nov. 20 millage election in the district.

The board probably will specify how much additional millage will be sought to meet school operational costs in 1969-69 and the following four years.

A report will be given by Associate Supt. M. Barrett Vorce on the 1967 summer study program.

The board also will discuss official fourth Friday enrollment figures in the district.

Rec Dept. Plans Swim Sessions for Women at Y

The Waterford Township Recreation Department will sponsor swimming sessions for women at the Pontiac YMCA starting this month.

Department officials said at least 30 women are needed to sign up for the 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. Thursday sessions.

Reservations must be made at the recreation office, 5640 Wilkins Lake, before Friday.

Cost is 75 cents per person for each session or $2.50 for four sessions.

Tuesday News From Lansing

By the Associated Press

THE GOVERNOR Told an administrative board meeting that he favors a grand jury investigation of former State Highway Department actions and administrations.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL Said he would petition for a grand jury investigation of the State Highway Department "if the governor wants me to," but said he would not do so until he meets with Gov. Romney on the issue.

THE ADMINISTRATIVE BOARD Approved the borrowing of $60 million in short-term notes to ensure the State Treasury will have ready cash later this year.

THE SECRETARY OF STATE Announced the retirement, effective Oct. 14, of State Elections Director Robert B. Montgomery.

Only 120,000 of the 12 billion cases of soft drinks shipped in the U.S. as shown in the 1963 census were the large sized bottles (2 to 32 ounce).

OLD FRIENDS FOES — Elton Howard (right) of the Boston Red Sox and Roger Maris of the St. Louis Cardinals, both former members of the New York Yankees, chat during a workout at Boston's Fenway Park yesterday. The Red Sox and Cards were meeting this afternoon in the first game of the World Series.

Slaughter Sparked St. Louis

Veteran Rivals Recall '46 Series

BOSTON (AP) — Every baseball fan who was out of sleepers at the time remembers the daring dash of Enos Slaughter that enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to beat the Boston Red Sox in the 1946 World Series.

That, however, isn't the first thing recalled by Red Schoendienst and Bobby Doerr, the opposing second basemen in that Series who again are on different sides for the latest clash between St. Louis and Boston.

"We won it," said Schoendienst, the Cardinals manager, replying to the question, "What do you remember best about that Series?"

"Losing it," was the answer from Doerr, Red Sox coach who had just finished hitting grounders to the Boston infielders in their final workout for today's start of the 1967 Series.

Schoendienst selected Bob Gibson, a fireballing right-hander against the Red Sox in the opener.

Jose Santiago, also a right-hander, opposed him, gaining the distinction of being the first Puerto Rican ever to start a Series opener.

EXACT OPPOSITE

The situation this year is the exact opposite of what it was in 1946 when the Cardinals edged Boston four games to three, winning the seventh game as Slaughter raced from first to the plate on Harry Walker's hit to left-center field.

That year the Cardinals, under freshman Manager Eddie Dyer, had to beat Brooklyn in a playoff to win the National League pennant while the Red Sox coasted to the American League crown by 12 games.

This season it was the Red Sox, under first-year manager Dick Williams, who had to win the last two games of the regular season to take the AL pennant while St. Louis breezed by 10½ games.

Schoendienst, however, doesn't see any significance in a team having an easy race or a tough one.

"I don't think either team has an advantage in that way," Schoendienst said. "I don't think the Red Sox are tired."

"They showed that against Minnesota. And now they've had two days rest. That's all you need."

"As for us, after we won it, we just played the same way we had been. We won our last three games so we weren't letting up."

Paper May Tumble Grid Goalposts

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The winning side used to rip down the goalposts by might after a big football victory.

Now it's done more politely through petition.

A petition signed by about 4,000 students, alumni and faculty members of Memphis State University was presented to the city commission Tuesday asking that a goalpost at Memphis Memorial Stadium be given to the University.

It is wanted as a memento of the 27-17 upset victory over Mississippi Sept. 23, the only time in 22 games the Tigers have whipped the Rebels.

Memphis State fans failed to get their souvenir after the game because goalposts these days are made of steel set in concrete. And, besides, there was a sizeable police guard on hand.

The commission took the request under advisement.

McGregor Sparks Red Wings Victory Over Montreal, 4-1

DETROIT (AP) — Forward Bruce McGregor assisted in three goals Tuesday night to lead the Detroit Red Wings to a 4-1 victory over the Montreal Canadiens in Detroit's final exhibition appearance.

Detroit got off to an early lead on goals by Gordie Howe, assisted by McGregor, at the 6:30 mark of the first period.

The Canadiens' Yvan Cournoyer tied the game nearly eight minutes later with a power play goal, but Detroit erupted with two goals at the start of the second period to take the lead.

The second-period goals were scored by Gary Bergman and Floyd Smith. Detroit's final tally was a third-period shot by Paul Henderson.

Detroit's goal tending duties were shared by Roger Crozier, who allowed the sole Montreal goal, and George Gardiner.

Detroit's first regular season game is at Boston Oct. 11. The first home game is against New York Oct. 15.

Cross-Country Record Falls; Hazel Park Keeps Team Title

Mike Koerner of Cranbrook will be trying to regain his record this afternoon in the Class B division of the third annual Oakland University cross-country run.

The Cranbrook ace set the mark of 10:22 last season, but Warren Krueger of Hazel Park turned in a 10:15 clocking yesterday in the Class A part of the invitational in leading his team to the championship.

With Koerner in action, Cranbrook was favored to take 'B' crown today with some strong competition from Detroit St. Anthony and Mayville.

Trotter Sets Record

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Fresh Yankee, a 4-year-old mare, set a world record of 1:57 1/5 for the mile trotting in a time trial at the Lexington trotting track yesterday.

Driven by Sanders Russell, the Hickory Pride product out of Part Yankee beat Spicy Song's old mark of 1:57 3/5.

F-Birds Key Target for 'Pistol Pete'

Pistol Pete Mikolajewski of the Dayton Colts seems to run out of bullets when he goes against Pontiac in the Midwest Football League.

Pete, the most valuable player in the league in 1966, always has a good passing day when the Colts meet Pontiac, but Dayton has been on the short end of the score in key contests.

Last year Pete moved Dayton to a 20-4 lead at Winder Stadium, but Pontiac pulled it out in the final minute to win 26-20 on a last second pass from Tommy Myers, then a Lions' taxi quarterback.

The Lions had representatives in the stands and they were impressed enough to call Pistol Pete into Tiger Stadium when Milt Plam was hurt and Karl Sweetan took over the starting job.

LOADING UP — Ex-Detroit Lions' taxi quarterback Pistol Pete Mikolajewski goes over the strategy plan with Dayton coach Ed McCracken in preparation for Saturday night's game in Pontiac against the Firebirds. Pontiac has been a hex for Pistol Pete.

This summer he was invited back into training camp, but gave way to the Lions' 6th draft choice Tim Jones, who is now with the Firebirds on a taxi status.

Last week, Jones and Pistol Pete went against each other and battled on even terms, but again on a late pass, Pontiac pulled out a 19-13 upset over the favored Colts.

Coch Ed McCracken of Dayton said, "I was a little stunned naturally, I guess we didn't expect Pontiac to be as strong after losing to Mount Clemens that way."

"Now we know what to expect and we'll be ready for them," McCracken added as he plans to bring Dayton into Winder Stadium for a return match Saturday night.

The game is important for both teams in NFL play as a loss either way could eliminate the loser from the race. Currently Dayton is 3-2 and Pontiac 2-2, and they are one game behind Mount Clemens in the last column.

Several Lions' representatives will be in the stands to watch their former and current taxi quarterbacks face each other.

"We have high hopes for Jones," said Lions' general manager Russ Thomas, "playing in Pontiac is good experience for him and Dayton should be a good test for him."

Game time is 7:30 p.m. Saturday and weather permitting, the top crowd of the Firebirds' season is expected.

Writers Change 'Hall' Election

BOSTON (AP) — The Baseball Writers Association of America announced Tuesday that balloting on election to the Hall of Fame will be conducted every year, instead of every two years.

In another change, BBWAA President Bob Addie said that the association will set up a screening committee to hold the annual list of eligibles to a maximum of 40 former stars.

Under BBWAA rules a player must be retired for five years to become eligible for the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The annual balloting will enable Stan Musial, former St. Louis Cardinal star, to be voted into the Hall in 1969, the year he becomes eligible.

Weatherman Smiling for '67 Series Opener

BOSTON (AP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau forecast late Tuesday "favorable conditions" for the World Series opener between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Red Sox today at Fenway Park.

"Skies will be mostly cloudy and temperatures will be in the 60s," the weatherman said.

"There is a chance of light showers late in the day—by which time the game should be well over."

Rescued From Minors, Hughes in Series Start

BOSTON (AP) — "This year made up for beating around the minors all those years," said Dick Hughes, who will pitch Thursday's second game of the 1967 World Series.

The St. Louis righthander, a rookie at 29, played with three minor league teams and, briefly, with the Cardinals in 1966. But this year was a different story. He stuck with the Redbirds from the start and ended the season the team's top winner—16-6—with a 2.68 earned run average.

When asked if he thought six months ago he would be pitching the second game of the World Series against Boston, Hughes smiled and said, "I didn't even know what team I'd be with by the end of the season."

Hughes said he knew a little about some of the Red Sox players. "I faced some of them last year in the minors. I remember Reggie Smith, Mike Andrews and Russ Gibson as good, sound ball players."

MINOR'S CAREER

In a minor league career dating back to 1958 and including stops in 11 towns, Hughes never had a win-loss record to match his first years in the National League.

As for the Red Sox, Hughes said he saw the final innings of Sunday's American League win from Boston on television. "They looked like a real good club," he said.

Hughes added that the close left field fence in Fenway Park doesn't worry him.

"I've pitched in some parks in the minors with pretty short walls," he explained. "They didn't worry me, and this won't be much different."

While most of the Cardinals took the World Series in stride, young Bobby Tolan was awed at the whole thing.

"This is the greatest feeling in the world," he said, "just to play professional baseball is wonderful but the World Series!"

Tolan, who hit 253 in 110 games for the Cardinals in his first full season in the majors, said he played on the same team with Reggie Smith of the Red Sox in Los Angeles.

STAR BOILERMAKER—Purdue University quarterback Mike Phipps is showing signs of the Purdue-Notre Dame game to Prof. Duane Purvis, a member of the Hall of Fame and a former Purdue great. Phipps led the Boilermakers to a 28-21 upset of previously No. 1 ranked Notre Dame last Saturday, and for his efforts, the Associated Press named him Back of the Week.

CALM BEFORE STORM—Pitchers Bob Gibson (left) of the St. Louis Cardinals and Jose Santiago of Boston had ready smiles as they met in Boston's Fenway Park yesterday. The two have drawn the starting assignments for the first game of the World Series today.

Lions' Secondary Working Overtime

What happens when a pro football defensive secondary is at its best against two of the best quarterbacks in the game and is suddenly torn apart by a rookie who had the poorest passing record in the league going into a game?

Extra duty on the practice field.

GAINS WINGS — Jim Hart, a young-looking 23, made the grade Sunday as a pro quarterback in the tough NFL. Hart, a graduate of Southern Illinois, gained AP's Offensive Player of the Week award for his performance in leading St. Louis to a 38-28 upset over the Detroit Lions.

Another passer who was sharp Sunday was Zeke Bratkowski, who will probably start against the Lions this Sunday as Starr was injured in the first quarter against Atlanta.

Bratkowski completed 15 of 26 for 214 yards and two touchdowns and the Lions may find him troublesome in the Sunday contest which can make or break Detroit's hope for the Central division lead.

that's what the Lions gave their secondary yesterday.

The pass defense crew stayed on the field a half hour after the rest of the team went into the locker room.

The Lions' defensive unit was brilliant against Bart Starr of Green Bay and Frank Ryan of Cleveland in the first two games, but last Sunday, baby-faced Jim Hart of the St. Louis Cardinals, a second year quarterback from Southern Illinois connected on 19 of 27 passes for 313 yards to help rout the Lions, 38-28.

His passes were perfect," said Billy Gambrell, who grabbed a 49-yard strike from Hart to score the Cards' last touchdown. "When he gets the time to throw he's deadly."

The 23-year-old signal-caller who had appeared in only one 1966 game, stepped into Johnson's shoes in St. Louis' season opener against New York two weeks ago.

He had four passes intercepted, with three of the thefts resulting in Giant touchdowns as the Cards worked 37-20.

The following Sunday the Cards trimmed Pittsburgh 28-14 on seven field goals by Jim Bakken. Hart ran for a touchdown, but completed only eight of 25 pass attempts.

ZEKE MAY START

Another passer who was sharp Sunday was Zeke Bratkowski, who will probably start against the Lions this Sunday as Starr was injured in the first quarter against Atlanta.

Bratkowski completed 15 of 26 for 214 yards and two touchdowns and the Lions may find him troublesome in the Sunday contest which can make or break Detroit's hope for the Central division lead.

The Lions are 1-1 and the Packers are 2-0 in the division.

Boilermaker Gains Award for Leading Purdue Past Irish

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Mike Phipps of Purdue, son of an Indiana state policeman, is the Associated Press College Football Back of the Week.

He gave Notre Dame defenses the icy stare of a man packing a pistol last Saturday and dropped the nation's No. 1 ranking team 28-21.

Purdue's victory over the Irish was a superb team performance but it wouldn't have come off without the baby-faced novice quarterback.

He completed 14 of 34 passes for 238 yards, two touchdowns and a two-point conversion. He also carried the ball 33 yards in nine rushes.

Phipps, who owns three shotguns for his hobby of quail and rabbit hunting, is 6-foot-3 and weighs 205 pounds.

He's quite a man even when he isn't packing a gun.

Two Pistons on Waivers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tom Van Arsdale and All-American Pistons cut their roster to the maximum of 12 players Tuesday by placing guard Bob Lloyd of Rutgers and reserve forward Bob Hogsett on waivers.

The Pistons, loaded with such backcourt stars as rookie-of-the-year Dave Bing, Eddie Miles and All-American Pistons cut their roster to the maximum of 12 players Tuesday by placing guard Bob Lloyd of Rutgers and reserve forward Bob Hogsett on waivers.

Besides Walker, Coach Dennis Butcher plans to keep four other rookies, including George Carter of St. Bonaventure, Sonny Dove of St. John's, Paul Long of Wake Forest and George Patterson who played with Toledo from 1967-61.

The 27-year-old Patterson, who played for Kansas City in the old American Basketball League, has been playing in a Midwest minor league in recent years. Butcher said he was impressed with the 6-foot-8 Patterson's hustle at both forward and center.

L. Orion Runners in Easy Victory

Lake Orion grabbed five of the top six places yesterday in handing Warren Mott a 17-45 defeat in a cross-country match.

Charles Hopper placed the winners with a time of 11:40, followed by teammates Dave Koebbe (2), Dave Stenquist (3), John Molina (5) and Mike Barrows (6). Norm Strader ran fourth for Mott.

Detroit plans to go with Joe Strawder at center and deal seven-foot Reggie Harding off to the Chicago Bulls Monday, John Tresvant and Patterson would back up Strawder.

Other mainstays on the team are former coach Dave DeBuschere and Terry Diehlinger, back in harness after two years in the Army.

Ron's Roost 11 in 19-0 Victory

Bill Hayward flipped a pair of touchdown passes last night in leading Ron's Roost to a 19-0 victory over Seagram in Pontiac touch football play.

Dennis Diehm picked off both of Hayward's scoring pitches, one for 40 yards and the other 36. Larry Hayward picked up the other tally on an 18-yard run with an interception.

The win left Ron's with a 2-1 mark and Seagram (0-3) still looking for its first win.

In the other game, Sashabaw Products (2½-½) held onto first place by battling Tyson's Tigers (1½-½) to an 0-0 dead game. Ties are scored as a half game won and a half game lost.

PACES DEFENSE — Tackle Frank Burken (left), linebacker Jim Felton (53) and lineman Brian Russell will have the task of spearheading the defense against Romeo Friday night.

Rochester vs. Romeo

Grid Rivalry Resumes

A couple of old foes will be renewing their grid rivalry when Rochester and Romeo lock horns Friday night on the Rochester field.

The two parted ways following the 1962 season, when Rochester jumped the Tri-County League and joined the Oakland A.

The schedule put them together again this season with the breaking up of the Tri-County and Romeo's entry in the Oakland A. Rochester came away with a 26-13 victory in their last meeting in 1962.

Along with renewing old grid ties, the game is also important to both in the league race.

Both teams are 1-1, a game back of Madison (2-0), and the winner can still entertain hopes for a share or all of the title. The loser will be virtually eliminated.

Rochester is still smarting from that 7-6 loss suffered Friday at the hands of Clawson, while Romeo seemed to hit its stride with a 21-0 verdict over Utica.

A big boost for Romeo was the moving of Brad Czajka from fullback to quarterback. He held the signal-calling post last year and was moved to fullback this fall. After a 7-6 win over Lapeer and a 14-6 loss to Avondale, coach Dick Caruso decided to switch Czajka to give the offense a boost.

The move worked. Against Utica last week, Czajka passed and ran well and scored twice.

Avondale (1-1) is still much in the race and the Yellow Jackets will journey to Troy (1-1) Friday evening.

The Yellow Jackets, a much-improved team, lost a squeaker to Madison last week, 19-13, and it will take a big effort to get past Troy.

In other games, Lake Orion (0-3) will entertain Clawson while Madison is a heavy favorite to gain its third league win at Utica.

TOUGH BULLDOGS—This is the way Romeo started the season, with Matt Fritz (front) at halfback, Brad Czajka at fullback and Tom Hosner at quarterback, but the Bulldogs made a switch last week and it paid off. Czajka was moved to the quarterback spot and his running and passing sparked Romeo to an easy 21-0 win over Utica. He'll be in the same role against Rochester Friday night.

Minor League Next

Oxford Ace With Tribe

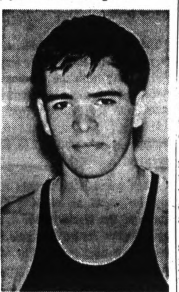

Cleveland Indians' scout Tony Stiel has signed former Oxford High School basketball stand-out Roger Miller to a minor league baseball contract for a modest bonus.

The 6-4, 205-pound Miller participated in football, basketball, baseball and track at Oxford, but his diamond success was concentrated mostly in summer league activity.

He pitched in the Pontiac Class A League in 1966 and briefly in 1967 before joining Big Bill's Sport Shop in Detroit this past summer.

He pitched in a national junior baseball tournament in August. Miller, who is attending Oakland Community College, will report to Reno, Nev., in the California League next spring. He is primarily a right-handed fast ball pitcher.

He was bypassed in last June's baseball draft and signed by Stiel as a free agent.

Casper Raps U.S. Golf

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland per. "Golf is getting too stereotyped in the United States. There is not enough natural terrain for courses and pressure is too great on the players. For $5 million I'd spend the rest of my life playing golf in the British Isles."

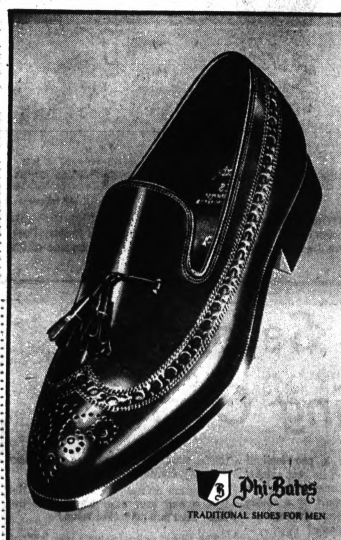

In traditional ceremonies dating back 118 years, according to local legend, Casper led the Alcan. entires through the Alcan. client tures through the accompaniment of drums, flutes and clarinet to hit one ball each of the first tee for various small prizes and points toward larger ones. "I love it all," laughed Cas-per, who tabbed Doug Sanders as the best bet in the Alcan. "because he hits low, accurate drives," shot a two-over-par 74 Tuesday on a rain-soaked St. Andrews course. He has been established as a 9-2 favorite in the tournament which starts Thursday.

THEFTS PAY OFF — Ed Meador of the Los Angeles Rams gained the NFL Defensive Player of the Week award yesterday for his play at the cornerback post against Dallas last Sunday. The veteran intercepted two passes and returned one for a touchdown as the Rams picked up their third straight win.

Wolves Triumph, 24-37

Clarkston posted its 5th cross country win in seven starts by defeating Brighton yesterday 24-37. Paul Bachelor of Brighton was the winner in 11:21 with Bud Mumbower of Clarkston runnerup in 11:42.

'M' Defense Works to Stop Middies

'N' Secondary Has Weakness

QB Vidmer May Test Navy Pass Defense

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Two games haven't made much difference in Michigan's sophomore defense football team.

The Wolverines, who meet Saturday in Michigan Stadium, Sunday, still must depend on a defensive line to pull them through.

The offense, figured to have a strong passing game under senior quarterback Dick Vidmer, has failed to jell in a 10-7 victory over Duke and a 10-0 loss to California.

Coach Bump Elliott said he thinks the advent of complicated, pro-style defenses, coupled with the enormous size of modern defensive linemen, are forcing college football into a more wide-open style of offense, geared to passing.

"Defenses are forcing the issue," said Elliott. "Things have opened up to a wide-open type to throw more."

Dulled by Saturday's 21-7 loss to Rice, Navy coaches searched this week for a solution to the team's biggest problem — lack of a pass defense.

Even in the 23-22 victory over Penn State, the Midshipmen gave up 214 yards passing as the Nittany Lions hit on 18 of 32 attempts.

And Rice quarterback Robert Hailey picked apart the Navy secondary Saturday for 207 yards on 13 completions, two of them for touchdowns.

It was the pass vulnerability which cost the Midshipmen the Rice game and forced the offense to last minute heroics to pull out the Penn State victory.

COHO FEVER — Small craft of every size and shape have been used to fish Lake Michigan near Manistee and Frankfort for coho salmon. The Coast Guard and other law enforcement agencies have urged fishermen to use larger craft, preferably 18-footers, and to become more storm and rough water conscious. Seven anglers died during one storm.

Order Halts Coho Fishing

Blame Anglers for 'Spooking' More Targets Expected in Nearing Duck Season

Streams are Closed by State Officials

LANSING (AP) — Special orders halting fishing in Coho Salmon spawning streams were issued Monday by State Conservation Director Ralph A. MacMullan in a move to ensure a supply of salmon eggs for fall hatchery needs.

MacMullan ordered Bear Creek in Manistee County closed to all fishing as of Saturday and all of the Platte River, Benzie County, except Loon and Platte Lakes, closed as of Oct. 14.

The director said department fisheries workers report that swarms of sportsmen fishing the two streams are "spooking" salmon and thwarting the upstream movements of the fish.

"We are going to permit as liberal a sport fishery as possible without jeopardizing the spawn collections," he said adding that the two streams will be reopened this fall if egg-laying requirements are met.

"If and when we see that our egg-taking operations are progressing well enough, we will allow experimental sport fishing to permit more hook and line action," he said.

MacMullan said suspension of fishing in Bear Creek takes effect one week earlier than in the Platte River because Coho spawning runs are further under way in Bear Creek.

Most of the fish expected to move up the Platte are still concentrated in the river's mouth in Lake Michigan, he said.

Mexico Rules One Firearm

Hunters Restricted in Number Weapons

American hunters planning a combination hunting trip to Mexico this fall had better take along an all-purpose firearm.

The Mexican Government has just announced that hunters entering Mexico on a tourist hunting permit will be allowed to bring in only one firearm.

The Mexican restriction also states that the single gun must have a long barrel and have strictly sporting characteristics. Only 100 cartridges for that gun may be brought in.

According to the federal Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, the new restriction will present difficulties for American hunters who have combined dove hunting and big game hunting on Trips to Mexico.

The new regulation was issued by Mexico's Secretariat of National Defense and is interpreted as a security measure.

The chances are good that duck hunters will find more targets when the season opens Oct. 9 than they did last year.

There is a bigger crop of home-grown birds — mallards, wood ducks and black ducks — which normally make up about 50 per cent of the duck kill in the state.

In addition, diving ducks passing through the state later in the season should be in good supply, possibly outnumbering last fall's totals. These birds usually make up about 30 per cent of the state's duck harvest.

Hunters will open the season at a new starting time—11 a.m. an hour later than in past years because of this year's switch from Eastern Standard Time to Eastern Daylight Time.

But shooting hours will follow the usual sunrise-to-sunset format after the opening day except on southern Michigan's Oct. 20 small game opener when all hunting will be delayed until 11 a.m. throughout the Lower Peninsula.

The shooting timetable for migratory birds is based on Eastern Daylight Time through Oct. 28 and on Eastern Standard Time from Oct. 29 to the end of the goose season on Nov. 30.

Duck hunters will have 40 days, five fewer than last year, with the season running through Nov. 17.

Last year's bag limits of four birds per day and eight in possession will apply again this year.

Spaniel Stars in Debut

Woodcock hunting has been a frustrating many a good woodsman and when a novice dog is doing the spotting, the odds are not favorable for a meal-worthy expedition.

However, Arlen Alexander of 3546 Depue and three hunting companions took a highly rewarding chance Saturday on the state's first early season for woodcock.

Using a two-year-old Brittany Spaniel on her first point-and-retrieve trail under fire, Alexander ventured out with Detroit Wayne Bogich, Jerry Goebel of Ann Arbor and Roscomom High School coach Dick Johske around Lake St. Helen.

Aided by Johske's knowledge of the area and a near-perfect debut by his dog, the foursome bagged their limit of the elusive bird in less than four hours.

Call for Table Netters
Persons interested in playing table tennis with the Pontiac Table Tennis Association this year are urged to attend a meeting tomorrow at 7:45 p.m. at the Pontiac Library. The league is sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

In addition to their 20 kills Saturday, the four men returned Sunday and added 17 more woodcocks, eight partridges and one not-nimble-enough rabbit.

Did you know that a manager once went through two complete World Series using no substitutions — he used no pinch-hitters, no pinch-runners and no relief pitchers in any of the games, and he won both World Series? ... The manager who did was Connie Mack of Philadelphia A's in the 1910 and 1913 World Series.

Who holds the record for hitting the most home runs in World Series play? ... Record is NOT held by Babe Ruth ... It's held by Mickey Vernon, with 18.

Did you know that when the World Series started back in 1903 it had a longer name than it does now? ... When the National and American Leagues agreed for the first time to stage a post-season playoff, they said the play-off would be called the "World Championship Series".

For a few years that was the title that was used but after a while newspapers shortened it, the word "Championship" was dropped, and it became known simply as the "World Series."

I bet you didn't know ... that foresighted motorists, one already buying their snow tires and the smart ones are buying them here. Get set now—remember last November?

Ex-U.S. Agent Discusses Guns

By JOHN E. OSBORN

(EDITOR'S NOTE: John E. Osborn served with the U.S. Secret Service for 25 years, as Agent, Supervising Agent, and Inspector with jurisdiction covering the entire U.S., before his retirement in 1952. During those years, he faced more than 1,000 law violators, many of them armed. He never had to resort to using his personal firearm. He has been an NRA Life Member since 1934. Reprinted by permission, copyright The American Rifleman, September, National Rifle Association. The opinions expressed herein are those of the writer and do not represent any organizational policy.)

My recent experience in attempting to obtain a pistol permit serves to illustrate how anti-firearms legislation can defeat its own purpose.

After retiring from the U. S. Secret Service, my wife and I settled down on a 53-acre estate near Goreville, Ill. The town is small and has no police. A sheriff and his deputy are some 14 miles away.

There was a time when residents of this vicinity would leave doors and windows unlocked when away from home and at night. But the increase in crime these past few years and the escape of several convicts from two nearby penitentiaries have changed all that.

Guns, watchdogs and night yard lights have become commonplace. While crime has not yet created a serious problem in the community, it may become so if the present trend continues.

With these conditions in mind, then, I filed an application by letter with the State Department of Public Safety, asking for a permit to carry a handgun off my own premises.

I gave a clear picture of my background as a law-enforcement officer, pointing out that I could be helpful in saving the life or limb of another in an emergency situation.

A reply was forthcoming from the State Police Headquarters stating, "No division nor Department of the State has the authority to issue any permit to carry a concealed weapon." So, my request was cancelled.

Now, having checked into the gun laws of Illinois, I find that the private citizen cannot carry a gun nor anything that could be used as a weapon concealed upon the person or in his car.

The law-abiding citizen is therefore disarmed and completely at the mercy of the armed law breaker. Being unable to defend oneself as a result of man-made law is eminently unfair and a violation of natural law. It is, moreover, highly discriminatory in favor of the criminal.

The criminal has never before had such chances for success in plying his trade. He has legal advantages heretofore unheard of.

He has easy access to weapons by purchase, theft, loan or self-manufacture. He can scoff at laws applicable to the misuse of guns. He knows that if no officer is in sight, he can safely prey upon the unarmed citizen.

It is highly improbable that guns can ever be kept out of criminals' hands, and many of the anti-gun laws in this respect are wasted effort. There might be some beneficial result if penalties for the misuse of guns were made more severe, but that, too, is open to question.

Anti-gun laws are proving ineffective for the prevention of crime and may be likened to the unworkable laws that were related to Prohibition. Unworkable and unpopular laws prove to be worthless, sometimes being actual breeders of crime.

They are usually enacted through the hue and cry of misguided groups and the urging of misbegotten individuals.

Police and other law-enforcement officers are due no criticism and should receive praise for doing the best they can.

But they are too few in number to cope with the growing crime rate, and cannot be expected to be everywhere at once, preventing violence and property losses from holdups and thefts. Many smaller towns and villages have no police on duty at all.

Murders, kidnappings, rapes, hold-ups and other crimes of violence would become drastically reduced if the law-abiding citizen were permitted to keep and bear arms for defense.

The average armed criminal, aware of what he would be facing, would just about fold up and turn to other pursuits.

Those few of the more daring would continue to take their slimmer chances.

Non-members of the local club are invited to attend with their Sheep Dogs. The show will be judged by an official from Wales.

Trout Planted in Grand River

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Members of the Isaak Walton League have planted 7,000 trout in the Grand River "to keep the Grand on the list of Michigan trout streams."

David Weaver, Department of Conservation fish biologist for the area, issued the permit for the plantings.

While it was not the department's policy to endorse indiscriminate fish-planting, Weaver said, "we are grateful to have a group of private citizens promoting the resources of the magnificent Grand River for recreational use."

Show Is Slated for Sheep Dogs

An Old English Sheep Dog show will be held Saturday at 11:00 a.m. at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Twel, 3114 Casey Road, Metamora.

Time Battle Looms in U. P.

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — At least three of Michigan's Upper Peninsula's 15 counties have indicated they may flout the Federal Uniform Time Act when the state reverts to Standard Time Oct. 29.

The new federal law placed the Lower Peninsula on Eastern Standard Time and the U.P. on Central Standard Time. Clocks were set an hour earlier this summer for daylight saving time but the U.P. remains an hour behind Lower Michigan year-around.

Dickinson County became the first to announce its intention to follow the federal law Monday and its usually dissident townships of Breen, West Branch and Felch indicated they would go along.

Delta, Schoolcraft and Chippewa counties indicated they are considering going on EST which would place them in the same time zone as the Lower Peninsula.

WILL FOLLOW

Several other counties have passed resolutions favoring a return to standard time; but have said they will follow federal law.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley warned the dissident counties last week that they faced possible federal court injunctions if they fail to stay on central zone time as ordered by the U.S. Office of Transportation.

Meanwhile, all state agencies, including the state police, plus taverns and liquor stores will revert to Central Standard Time as of Oct. 29, Kelley said.

New County Unit Eyes Law Enforcement

The recently formed law enforcement committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors met this morning and charted its future course.

In attendance were police officers from most law enforcement agencies in the county.

Subjects discussed were organization of a county morgue, a crime laboratory, mutual-aid pacts and the CHEC-MATE program.

The CHEC-MATE system, in which citizens help police in reporting crime, is in effect in Pontiac, but not elsewhere in the county.

Chairman John S. Slaven said the committee will send out questionnaires to each community law enforcement agency to determine which of the projects discussed should have priority.

Voter Sign-Up Deadline Near in Sylvan Lake

Registration deadline for the Sylvan Lake Nov. 7 election is Friday. The election is to fill the vacancies to be left by two councilmen whose terms are expiring.

The clerk's office will be open from 8:30 to 5:30 p.m. today and tomorrow and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday.

Any person over 21 years of age who has lived in Michigan for more than six months may register to vote.

Anyone who has not voted in the past two years must also register.

Ex-Teacher, Youth Leader, Dies at 72

A memorial service for H. Guy Bevington of Clearwater, Fla., teacher at Pontiac Central High School for 40 years, will be 2 p.m. Tuesday at Bethany Baptist Church. A private committal service will be Tuesday morning with arrangements by Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Bevington, 72, who attended Albion College, received degrees from the University of Michigan.

While teaching at Pontiac Central, he was leader of Hi-Y for 10 years and chairman of the social studies department, and, after retiring planned the social studies at Pontiac Northern High School.

The Pontiac Board of Education honored Bevington when he retired for his service to the youth of Pontiac.

He was a member of Bethany Baptist Church, Pontiac, and Kiwanis Club of Beulah where he served on the youth committee.

Death a Suicide

The death of a 73-year-old Pontiac man yesterday was ruled suicide by police.

Gustave Guenther of 210 Drake was found dead in a car inside his garage, the victim of exhaust fumes, police said.

...especially when you buy your new '68 car

It's great to own a '68!

The new models incorporate more safety features than ever before. And when you finance your car through a credit union, you not only get safety in the car but safety for your family.

Qualified credit union members receive life insurance at no extra cost.

You also save money on low C.U. rates. You see, credit union rates are clear cut. A credit union is in business to help its members. It is owned by its members and there's no point in charging yourself high interest rates. That's why a credit union offers advantages you find nowhere else.

Go ahead. Buy that new '68 you've set your heart on. And for low-cost financing, see your credit union. It's the smartest move a car buyer can make.

For full details, contact the C.U. where you work—or the one in your parish or neighborhood—or write Michigan Credit Union League, P.O. Box 5210, Detroit, Michigan 48235.

Market Posts Moderate Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market posted a moderate gain in active trading early this afternoon.

Advances among individual stocks outpaced declines by a margin of 3 to 2.

The New York Stock Exchange ticker tape lagged during the morning in reporting floor transactions.

Brokers said favorable factors include the House Ways and Means Committee's "postponement" of consideration of the income tax surcharge bill until an understanding is reached with the Senate.

Rubbers, mail order-retails, aircrafts, electronics and oils were mostly higher.

Changes of key issues ranged from fractions to about 3 points.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 1.33 at 925.80 after having been down 2.95 a half hour earlier.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had gained 4.1 to 338.1 with industrials up 1.7, rails off 7 and utilities up 4.

Amphenol declined 2 1/2 to 41 in a delayed opening on a block of 35,000 shares. The issue was the most active stock in the five previous sessions. Amphenol's president said the New York Stock Exchange and the Securities and Exchange Commission to investigate the heavy trading.

Prices advanced on the American Exchange. Fractional gains were made by Dynalene, U.S. Leasing, Ramey Industries, Allied Artists and Lynch. H&B American and Cameo/Amway Records fell about 2 points.

A Falling Star Lands at Feet

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Dorothy McClain could hardly believe her eyes when a falling star dropped at her feet in broad daylight.

She said a deputy sheriff's badge fell from a small plane that flew at low altitude. The inscription showed the badge was issued by the Harris County, (Tex.) Air Patrol. It is being mailed to Harris County officials.

Beatles Shun Yank Offer: $1 Million for Day's Work

LONDON (AP) — The Beatles on producing records and make are not interested in an offer of $1 million for a day's work.

The reason: It would mean appearing personally at the 55,000-seat Shea Stadium in New York.

"We will definitely not accept the offer," said the spokesman. "The money doesn't matter. It is simply impossible to put across in any stadium or hall the kind of music the Beatles are playing these days."

The Beatles' current style has been described as avant garde pop, with mystical Indian overtones.

Director of Zoo Doesn't Blame Chimp for Attack

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Raymond D. Young, Oakland zoo director, knocked down and bitten several times by a 150-pound chimpanzee, declared Tuesday that Teddy, the chimp, can't be blamed.

Young said the fault was his own for upsetting Teddy's normal routine by "entering the chimp's darkened cage Sunday night."

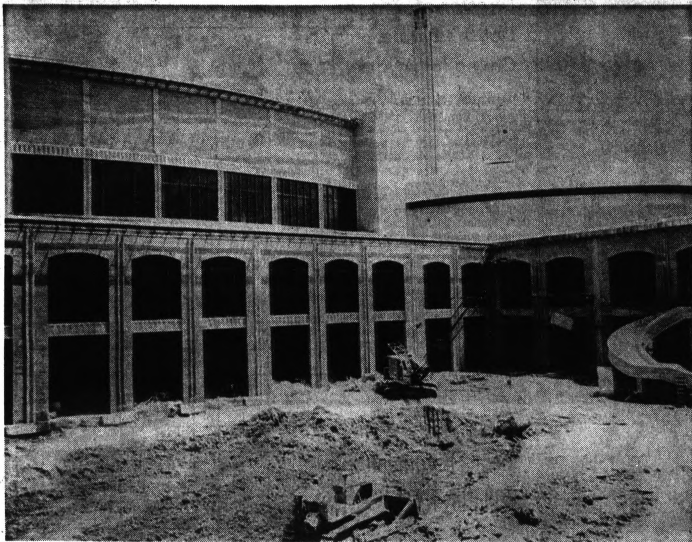

Young, 43, spent four hours in San Leandro Memorial Hospital's operating room afterwards having his wounds sutured. He is now reported in good condition.

On his nightly round of the Knowland Park Zoo cages, Young had noted some blood on the floor of the cage housing Teddy and two younger chimps and had gone in to check.

NEW YORK (AP) — One of Europe's oldest acting companies, the Vienna Burgtheater, visits New York and Los Angeles next spring on its first world tour.

The tour is being sponsored jointly by the Austrian government and the Association for International Theater Exchange.

The company, founded in 1741, will present four plays during a three-week engagement here at City Center beginning March 19, and in a one-week stand at the Alhambra theater in Los Angeles

PREPARING FOR HEMISFAIR—A bulldozer digs an entrance to the grounds of HemisFair '68, an international exposition to mark the 250th anniversary year of San Antonio, Tex. Shown are a domed arena building, theater and the Tower of the Americas in the background.

San Antonio Readies Birthday HemisFair

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—dusty trails, concrete ditches, skeleton-like structural steel and immense holes. Theme structure of the fair is the Tower of the Americas, a concrete and steel spike with a restaurant and observation turn it into a park of swells decks on top. The restaurant will revolve slowly, giving diners an estimated 75 miles of Texas countryside to look at while they eat.

But an around-the-clock construction schedule is expected to turn it into a park of swells decks on top. The restaurant will revolve slowly, giving diners an estimated 75 miles of Texas countryside to look at while they eat.

The "party" is HemisFair '68, an International exposition which will mark the Alamo City's 250th year.

HemisFair, which opens for six months on April 6, already dominates this city of 695,000. Reminders are everywhere—from drawings on the cover of the nearest telephone book to the nearly completed 622-foot Tower of the Americas that soars above all the other buildings in the city and can be seen from miles away.

SITE NEAR ALAMO

The exposition site, two blocks from the Alamo in the heart of downtown, is now 92 acres of Twenty-three governments, including the United States and the states of Arkansas and Texas, have signed on as exhibitors. Texas is sinking $10 million into a permanent structure and the United States is paying out $6.7 million for a two-building exhibition.

Fifteen private or industrial exhibitors are also drawing up plans for HemisFair.

CIVILIZATION THEME

All exhibits will center on the fair's theme, "The Confluence of Civilizations." The concept will pay tribute to the many cultures that helped create America. The fair came to life originally as a "Fair of the Americas", with only North and South America participating. It went international to receive the certification of the Bureau of International Expositions—a requirement for U.S. participation. Funds for HemisFair started with a $4.5-million loan from local banks. Part of this was used to draw in $8 million more in an underwriting campaign among local merchants. Then the federal government put in $12 million in urban renewal funds, used to tip out acres of slum housing to create a fair site.

San Antonio voters approved bond issues of $30 million for a convention center and $5.5 million for the Towers of the Americas.

MAKE OVER PAGES

By BOB WISLER
Varied proposals related to the development of downtown urban renewal land were received by the City Commission last night.
But, in the wake of a Sears Roebuck & Co. decision not to locate a new store there, city officials and interested citizens are not sure what the next steps should be.
Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. said loss of the Sears store constitutes a "very serious problem" for many reasons.

He alluded that "by reading between the lines" the reader can detect another impact which may be in the offing.
Ken Morris, regional director of the United Automobile Workers, was more specific. Morris, in proposing a fresh approach at solving city problems, said the downtown area could lose the Sears store at 154 N. Saginaw.

Taylor said the Sears decision will have other results. "Any other department store will certainly think twice, before coming in," he said.
The mayor said the city should know exactly why Sears management decided not to relocate in downtown Pontiac so that steps can be taken.
Taylor and six other Pontiac citizens are scheduled to meet with the top management of Sears in Chicago tomorrow to find out these answers.

Other points involved in discussion of the redevelopment problem were advanced by Donald R. Frayer, president of the Citizens Committee for Pontiac's Positive Progress (CCPPP), and Mitchell L. Bacow, a Pontiac attorney, who in a letter to the commission, asked for the downtown land for a housing development with some "ancillary" stores.
Frayer, suggested a large committee involving representatives from all segments and organizations should be formed to take action on downtown redevelopment.
Morris, also spoke of the need for broader citizen participation in downtown planning but indicated that the downtown area is only one of many problems.

He said that lack of decent housing is another but called for a unified approach to all problems at once.
To help solve housing needs he suggested a nonprofit corporation consisting of a unified, citywide, representative group which can implement housing programs.

NO SQUEAKY SHOFAR HERE — Rabbi Philip Berkowitz of Temple Beth Jacob expects no squeaky notes blown at High Holy services this week. Adam and Ruth Kollin, who learned to blow the shofar without a mouthpiece, will participate in the children's service at 2 p.m. tomorrow. The two youngsters are representatives of some 25 children of the religious school who learned the art of blowing under the direction of Jacob Meyer. Judge and Mrs. Arthur W. Kollin of Avon Township are the children's parents.

Sunset to Usher In Jewish Year 5728

As the sun sets this evening, Jews all over the world will observe the beginning of the 10 great "Days of Awe" by ushering in the new year — Rosh Hashanah 5728.

One of the most impressive parts of the synagogue service is the blowing of every Sabbath, to summon the people for any important assembly and to call to arms in time of war.

In olden times it was blown from the rooftops to announce the arrival of every Sabbath, to summon the people for any important assembly and to call to arms in time of war.

Now it is seldom heard except at Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur.

This profoundly serious holiday is a time when Jews pray in remembrance of the past and hope for the future. Each individual is called upon to examine his acts in relation to God and his fellow man.

According to ancient tradition, man's fate is written down on Rosh Hashanah and sealed on the last day of the period — Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, which begins this day at sundown on Oct. 13.

Rosh Hashanah is kept for two days. When the Jews all lived in the little land of Palestine, everyone could see the signal fires that were lighted to announce that the new month had been seen. But as they scattered to other countries, because of the difference in time, it was not possible to be sure just when the month had begun, so they kept two days.

Warm Days Due

Hazy days, sunny and warm, will be with the Pontiac area through Friday even though tomorrow is partly cloudy. Temperatures falling into the low 50s tonight will soar into the high 70s tomorrow.

Sixty-three was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had moved up to 80 by 1 p.m.

Cleveland Race Won by Negro

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negro attorney Carl B. Stokes won the Democratic nomination for mayor of Cleveland in the biggest political upset this city has seen in 25 years. Stokes told his supporters, "You have vindicated my faith in American democracy."

The personable, 40-year-old state representative faces Seth Taft, grandson of President William Howard Taft, in the Nov. 7 general election.

Stokes had heavy support from the Negro community but also got help from white voters to score his impressive victory in yesterday's primary.

With 900 of the 901 polling places reported, Stokes had 110,354 votes to 92,029 for incumbent Mayor Ralph S. Locher and 8,543 for Frank P. Celeste.

Stokes won against bitter opposition from the party organization, which appealed to racial sentiment in the closing stages of a heated campaign.

PROMISE OF SUPPORT

Both Locher and Celeste went to Stokes' campaign headquarters to congratulate him amid last night's victory celebration. Locher told newsmen he will support Stokes, and Stokes thanked the mayor for a "gracious" gesture. Stokes also got a congratulatory call from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

HAWKISH EXCHANGE — Republican Sen. Everett Dirksen (left) of Illinois and Thomas Kuchel of California talk in a Capitol corridor yesterday. Kuchel, an observer for the Vietnam elections, repeated in a Senate speech his opposition to a halt in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam without a responding slowdown in the war by Hanoi. Dirksen reaffirmed his support for a firm policy in Vietnam.

City Commission Adopts Income Tax Unanimously

City commissioners last night unanimously adopted an income tax ordinance.

The long-discussed tax of 1 per cent for residents and half a per cent for nonresidents is set up to take effect Jan. 1 with tax collections from paychecks beginning after that.

A few persons were on hand to protest the tax and the advisory election held two weeks ago, including Cecil C. Mullinex of 571 Lowell, who last week promised a referendum vote on the tax.

Mullinex reiterated his promise last night.

City commissioners again spoke of pressing needs for new city income and several encouraged Pontiac residents to avoid signing any petitions which would call for the referendum vote.

REFERENDUM WOULD DELAY

A referendum would most likely delay tax collections until July 1.

According to state election laws about 1,100 valid signatures of electors are needed to force a referendum vote.

The City Commission in 1964 enacted an income tax ordinance but the tax was never collected. A referendum vote was held in March 1965 and voters turned down the tax 6,647 to 2,637.

NEED CALLED CLEAR

Mayor Pro Tem Leslie H. Hudson said the need for city income is clear and stated he hoped the citizens would meet their responsibilities "in making this the type of city we all want it to be."

Hudson noted that $1 million in additional revenue is needed in 1968 to continue the present standard of services because of an expected city employee pay hike package of $50,000 and the end of $500,000 in surplus money saved over previous years.

District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin said the commission had involved the community "to the greatest extent we could" in reaching a decision to enact an income tax.

Romney, Kelley Clash on Roads

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney told Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley in an angry, finger-waving debate yesterday he wants a grand jury investigation of former State Highway Department administrators.

"It is important to make clear that nothing has impugned the character, quality and integrity of the current highway commission," Romney told Kelley.

"If you want me to petition for a grand jury, I'll do it today," Kelley retorted angrily. "But there had better be something in it to support a grand jury."

Kelley has said evidence gathered in an investigation of former highway department administrators did not warrant calling a grand jury.

He disclosed yesterday at a State Administrative Board meeting that his office was continuing criminal investigation of highway administrators. The attorney general said he was "not at liberty" to make public details of the probe.

'POLITICAL SLUSH FUNDS'

Romney added that he felt a grand jury should conduct a "stem to stern" investigation of former highway department officials, checking into their personal finances, including "political slush funds to determine whether any money came from highway or contractor sources."

Girardin Resigns, Effective Thursday

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Police Commissioner Ray Girardin today submitted his resignation, effective tomorrow — his 66th birthday.

Det. Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh accepted the resignation "with great regret" and attacked the two years of Wayne County grand juries which he said had unsettled the Detroit Police Department by its probes of police activities.

Girardin said he would remain on the job until a successor is named.

Flashes

Oakland County Circuit Judge William R. Beasley this morning dismissed a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of Michigan's new state income tax. The suit had been started by Pontiac attorney Richard D. Kahn.

DETROIT (AP) — The federal government reported today an urgent need for Ford parts by the Army and requested the United Auto Workers union and Ford Motor Co. to arrange a supply of these from the strikebound company's depots. Sen. Bannan, UAW Ford director, said the union will make the manpower needed available and will man any depot or plant required to supply defense needs at any time.

Big Month for Pontiac, GM Truck

A September rise in sales over last year has been reported by Pontiac Motor Division and a near-record number of domestic deliveries reported by GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Martin J. Caserio, vice president of GM and divisional general manager, said the truck division delivered more trucks and coaches in September than in any similar month since 1951.

Deliveries totaled 10,116, a 9.1 per cent increase over September 1966.

This narrowly missed being the best

September in GMC Truck and Coach history, being edged out by 765 units in 1951.

Pontiac Motor sold 63,655 Pontiac's Tempests and Firebirds last month.

John Z. DeLoe, a GM vice president and the division's general manager, said in the final 10 days a total of 45,553 units were sold.

This, he pointed out, compares to 24,500 sales in the same period in 1966. In September a year ago, 47,763 units were sold.

Cards Favored as Series Opens

BOSTON (AP) — Fair weather with temperatures in the 60s awaited the 35,875 fans who survived the scramble for seats and standing room at the opening today of the World Series between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Red Sox.

The Cardinals, who won the National League crown easily, were rated an 11-10 favorite to win the game and a 3-2 series favorite over the Red Sox, who won the American League title on the last day of the season.

St. Louis, with nine players who have seen World Series action before, assigned the pitching chores to ace right-hander Bob Gibson, who won 13 games and lost 7 despite being out of action for two months with a broken leg.

Boston, whose only series veterans are late-season acquisitions Elston Howard and Norm Siebern, countered with fast-working right-hander Jose Santiago, holder of a 12-4 record.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said an earlier forecast that there might be afternoon showers was revised when it determined that an approaching front wouldn't bring rain as originally expected. It forecast variable cloudiness, but rated the chances of rain today at "near zero."

TOMORROW'S FORECAST

For the second game tomorrow, the bureau forecast partly cloudy weather with a chance of a late afternoon shower.

WORLD SPEED RECORD SET — Air Force Maj. William J. Knight stands in front of the X15 rocket plane in which he set a new world speed record for winged aircraft yesterday. The rocket ship streaked over Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., at 4,534 miles per hour, beating Knight's old mark by 284 m.p.h. The plane was equipped with two 22-foot pontoons tanks suspended from the wings which carried extra fuel to provide increased thrust. The record speed — nearly seven times that of sound — was made possible by adding 13,500 pounds of anhydrous ammonia and liquid oxygen to the plane's fuel load, giving it an extra 60 seconds of engine-burn time. More than 15 tons of fuel in two minutes were consumed as the plane roared up to, top speed. Scientists predict the experimental plane will top 5,000 m.p.h. in future tests.

ROSE GARDEN CHAT — President Johnson and Eric Hoffer share a soft drink yesterday during a relaxed visit in the White House rose garden. Hoffer, 65-year-old San Francisco longshoreman, author and social philosopher who has written books and essays about social change, was in Washington to speak at the U.S. Foreign Service Institute. The President has always admired Hoffer, according to Press Secretary George Christian.

Slum Job-Experiment Plan Outlined; Cooperating Firms Quiet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration's announcement it will work with private industry in five cities on a $40-million slum dwellers' job experiment finds the companies named apparently knowing little or saying nothing about the project.

Details were announced Tuesday by two Cabinet officers as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was telling the nation's top businessmen at a U.S. Chamber of Commerce meeting about his proposed tax incentives for businesses which build plants and homes in slums.

Kennedy welcomed the President's plan. The administration opposes his.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz and Commerce Secretary Alexander B. Trowbridge said the pilot program will be conducted in Boston, Los Angeles, Chicago, Washington and San Antonio, Tex.

Wirtz and Trowbridge said firms participating will be Borg Warner and Sears Roebuck & Co. in Chicago, Lockheed Aircraft, McDonnell-Douglas Aircraft and Litton Industries in Los Angeles and Avco and New England Electric in Boston.

NO PRIOR NOTICE

In Chicago, a Sears spokesman said the firm wasn't notified of the program until Tuesday but agreed to meet with federal officials.

Mayor Walter Washington of Washington was not informed of the program until Monday, an associate said.

There was no comment from McDonnell-Douglas and Litton in Los Angeles, and no officials from Avco or New England Electric in Boston who knew of the program were available.

LOCKHEED APPROVAL

A Lockheed official in Los Angeles said the firm would "be happy to help" and added the company has had its own employee training program for six years.

Under the administration plan, industries locating plants in slums would get government help in insuring against risks. The government would make available surplus federal property and equipment.

At a news conference, Trowbridge said the administration plan was preferable to Kennedy's because "We are trying to achieve the same objective with existing legislation and money."

Kennedy's plan would require new legislation.

TV Picket Line Order Brings Suit by Network

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Broadcasting Co. has filed a $2-million damage suit against Mel Brandt, president of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA), which has ordered its members not to cross picket lines of striking ABC technicians.

The suit, filed Tuesday in the New York State Supreme Court, also sought an injunction restraining AFTRA from persuading ABC employees "to violate any employment contract" under threat of facing disciplinary action by the union.

About 1,500 technicians—members of the AFL-CIO National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians (NABET)—have been on strike against the ABC television and radio networks since Sept. 22 in a contract dispute.

RESTRAINING ORDER

In Los Angeles, one of five cities where NABET is on strike and picketing, Superior Court Judge Ralph Nutter Tuesday granted ABC a temporary restraining order prohibiting AFTRA from refusing to allow its members to cross the picket lines.

Papers in the suit said ABC has a written agreement in Los Angeles with AFTRA that its members will not strike, picket or boycott the company.

Nutter scheduled a hearing for next Tuesday. At that time, AFTRA is to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Time Battle Looms in U. P.

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — At least three of Michigan's Upper Peninsula's 15 counties have indicated they may flout the Federal Uniform Time Act when the state reverts to Standard Time Oct. 29.

The new federal law placed the Lower Peninsula on Eastern Standard Time and the U.P. on Central Standard Time. Clocks were set an hour earlier this summer for daylight saving time but the U.P. remains an hour behind Lower Michigan year-around.

Dickinson County became the first to announce its intention to follow the federal law Monday and its usually dissident townships of Breen, West Branch and Felch indicated they would go along.

Della, Schoolcraft and Chippewa counties indicated they are considering going on EST which would place them in the same time zone as the Lower Peninsula.

WILL FOLLOW

Several other counties have passed resolutions favoring a return to standard time, but have said they will follow federal law.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley warned the dissident counties last week that they faced possible federal court injunctions if they fail to stay on central zone time as ordered by the U.S. Office of Transportation.

Meanwhile, all state agencies, including the state police, plus taverns and liquor stores will revert to Central Standard Time as of Oct. 29, Kelley said.

New County Unit Eyes Law Enforcement

The recently formed law enforcement committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors met this morning and charted its future course.

In attendance were police officers from most law enforcement agencies in the county.

Subjects discussed were organization of a county morgue, a crime laboratory, mutual-aid pacts and the CHEC-MATE program.

The CHEC-MATE system, in which citizens help police in reporting crime, is in effect in Pontiac, but not elsewhere in the county.

Chairman John S. Slavenis said the committee will send out questionnaires to each community law enforcement agency to determine which of the projects discussed should have priority.

Voter Sign-Up Deadline Near in Sylvan Lake

Registration deadline for the Sylvan Lake Nov. 7 election is Friday. The election is to fill the vacancies to be left by two councilmembers whose terms are expiring.

The clerk's office will be open from 8:30 to 5:30 p.m. today and tomorrow and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday.

Any person over 21 years of age who has lived in Michigan for more than six months may register to vote.

Anyone who has not voted in the past two years must also register.

Ex-Teacher, Youth Leader, Dies at 72

A memorial service for H. Guy Bevington of Clearwater, Fla., teacher at Pontiac Central High School for 40 years, will be 2 p.m. Tuesday at Bethany Baptist Church. A private memorial service will be Tuesday morning with arrangements by Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Bevington, 72, who attended Albion College, received degrees from the University of Michigan.

While teaching at Pontiac Central, he was leader of Hi-Y for 10 years and chairman of the social studies department, and, after retiring planned the social studies at Pontiac Northern High School.

The Pontiac Board of Education honored Bevington when he retired for his service to the youth of Pontiac.

He was a member of Bethany Baptist Church, Pontiac, and Kiwanis Club of Beulah where he served on the youth committee.

Death a Suicide

The death of a 73-year-old Pontiac man yesterday was ruled suicide by police.

Gustave Guenther of 210 Draper was found dead in a car inside his garage, the victim of exhaust fumes, police said.

It pays to be a Credit Union Family

...especially when you buy your new '68 car

It's great to own a '68!

The new models incorporate more safety features than ever before. And when you finance your car through a credit union, you not only get safety in the car but safety for your family. Qualified credit union members receive life insurance at no extra cost.

You also save money on low C.U. rates. You see, credit union rates are clear cut. A credit union is in business to help its members. It is owned by its members and there's no point in charging yourself high interest rates. That's why a credit union offers advantages you find nowhere else.

Go ahead. Buy that new '68 you've set your heart on. And for low-cost financing, see your credit union. It's the smartest move a car buyer can make.

For full details, contact the C.U. where you work—or the one in your parish or neighborhood—or write Michigan Credit Union League, P.O. Box 5210, Detroit, Michigan 48235.
