Heavy Load for House Before Long Holiday

LANSING (AP) — Seven appropriations bills and some 350 other measures now stand between the House and a Thursday recess for the long Memorial Day weekend.

The House convened at 10 a.m. But legislators in the lower chamber have been warned they'll have to cancel plans for weekend speechmaking unless they finish their work.

That threat came last night from majority floor leader George F.

Montgomery, D-Detroit after the House spent nearly four hours debating whether state scholarships should be denied to students found participating in "violent or rebellious activity" within five miles of a college campus.

The basic bill, originally intended to limit student scholarships to four years of undergraduate study, was defeated. It was the only measure voted on by the House last night.

"We must move at a much faster rate than one bill a day," Montgomery warned. He said further delay on bills this week means the death of many other measures.

Under the House's twice-revised schedule, all appropriations bills must pass the house of origin by Thursday. Other measures face a June 6 deadline—one week later.

Included in the appropriations bills which receive first action in the House are:

- A $5.7-million general governmental operations bill, which contains funds for legislators salaries.
- $314.8-million in restricted funds. All but $26 million would go for specified highway projects.

- $278.8-million for social services, not including a $19.2-million supplement for programs this year.

Other House-originated appropriations bills would fund the State Police, National Guard, natural resources and agriculture departments and continue the more than $28.8-million State Employees Retirement Fund.

The 3½-hour debate over scholarships for college students appeared to be waged largely between Democratic liberals and conservatives.

O'Brien and Mrs. Symons periodically have expressed concern over campus violence. An amendment, introduced by Mrs. Symons and added to the elementary and secondary education allocation would require school districts to set penalties for student agitators or face loss of state aid.

Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, praised the amendment. "We're not about to subsidize revolution," he said.

But Rep. Jack Foxon, D-Detroit, said the House "should stop playing ring around the riot. It's all a lot of nonsense."

Rejection of both the bill and the adopted amendment finally came at the urging of Republican Reps. Clifford Smart, Walled Lake, and Roy Spencer, Attica.

Spencer contended there is no evidence to show the proportion of scholarship holders among campus disrupters. "If we really believe there's any relationship," Spencer said, "why don't we just eliminate the program."

Kidnap Suspect Convicted, Sentenced to Life in Prison

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — A praying jury has convicted Gary Steven Krist of the $500,000 ransom kidnapping of coed Barbara Jane Mackle, but spared his life because of elaborate steps taken to keep the victim alive in a buried box.

Krist, 24, who had predicted the death penalty which the state asked, was given a life sentence last night on the jury's recommendation for mercy. Normally a life term may be reviewed for parole in seven years in Georgia.

Jury foreman H. I. Rainwater said deliberations began with a prayer. He disclosed in an interview that the 12 men were divided on whether to impose the death penalty, but finally voted for mercy because "of the effort and precaution he took to see that she (the victim) wasn't killed."

Miss Mackle, a 20-year-old Emory University junior, was buried in an 8-by-2-by-2-foot box for 83 hours after her abduction from a Decatur motel last Dec. 17. The box contained food and tranquilizer-loaded drinking water. It also had a battery-run ventilation system, water pump and small light that burned out after a short time, leaving the girl in total darkness.

TELEPHONED FBI

After the victim's father, land developer Robert F. Mackle of Coral Gables, Fla., paid the ransom, the kidnaper telephoned the FBI with directions to the remote burial spot northeast of Decatur.

Dist. Atty. Richard Bell had presented a massive—and unfocused—array of evidence, eyewitnesses and fingerprints linking Krist to the crime.

"I'm disappointed," Bell said of the verdict.

Krist's two court-appointed lawyers, Mobley Childs and James R. Venable, offered no defense testimony, choosing instead to plead for mercy in final arguments. By foregoing testimony, they were entitled to open and close the final arguments.

'State Pressing Lazaros Probe'

EAST LANSING (AP) — State Police report they are continuing to work with the attorney general's office in an investigation involving reputed Mafia figure Peter Lazaros.

Investigations of allegations made by Lazaros, including accounts of bribery and political payoffs centered around elected officials in southeastern Michigan, are not complete State Police said.

The statement was seen as an answer to Sen. George Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield Township, who claimed over the weekend that State Police had evidence in the cases but were being "muzzled" by the attorney general's office.

The State Police statement said: "If sufficient evidence is gathered and it is felt criminal charges can be processed, steps will be taken to institute criminal action."

"Until investigations processes have been finalized, no attempts at obtaining warrants have been made. Working in cooperation with the attorney general's office, all pertinent information has been made available to responsible parties."

New Secret Viet Talks Reported

PARIS (UPI) — A U.S. diplomat, experienced in secret contacts with North Vietnam, has begun consultations with Allied delegates to the Paris talks, an American delegation spokesman said today.

William H. Sullivan, former U.S. ambassador to Laos, talked with both the American and South Vietnamese delegations the past weekend, the spokesman said.

U.S. officials declined to say what the discussions were about. Sullivan's presence again raised speculation moves might be afoot to establish new contacts with the Communist side away from formal negotiations.

Sullivan arrived in Paris from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) conference in Bangkok, Thailand.

He is now deputy assistant secretary of state for Southeast Asian affairs and was credited with conducting secret contacts in Vietnamese, Laos, leading to last year's peace talks. Vietnam talks that opened in Paris, May 13, 1968.

Secret talks between the United States and North Vietnam have been reported on several occasions since the two nations began public talks to end the Vietnam war.

Showdown on Parochialism Facing Delay Until Fall

LANSING (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee has declined to sponsor a bill granting public tax funds to nonpublic schools, setting the stage for floor action on a resolution calling on the governor to include the issue in his education reform package this fall.

Area Teen Is Held in Stabbing of Girl

ADRIAN (AP) — Randall Owen Larson, 19, an Adrian College sophomore from 1060 Stratford Lane, Bloomfield Hills, is awaiting circuit court action today on a charge of assault with intent to murder an Adrian divorcee.

Larson was bound over under $15,000 bond yesterday by District Judge Yale Kerby in the knife slashing of Janet Irene Gippert, 20, at the home of her parents Sunday night.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Holloway, were quoted by authorities as saying Mrs. Gippert had spent Saturday night with friends in Toledo, Ohio, and that Larson was waiting when she arrived home Sunday night.

The father said he heard a disturbance and found his daughter in a fainting condition outside the front door. She had been slashed across the abdomen, he said, by a knife used in grocery stores to open cartons.

Police said Holloway told them after an ambulance was called he found Larson in the yard and told him to come in and await police, which Larson did.

Mrs. Gippert's condition was reported as fair today at Adrian's Bixby Hospital.

The plan proposed a $100,000 allocation to the State Education Department for parochial "planning purposes" and a State Supreme Court test of the concept of state aid to nonpublic school teachers for teaching nonreligious subjects.

"The votes were not there," said Zoller. "I couldn't support writing a parochialism formula at this late date."

MILLIKEN WANTED SHOWDOWN

Gov. William G. Milliken had wanted a parochialism showdown in the Senate this spring so the issue would not spill over into his special fall session when he plans to overhaul the public education system.

But a drive to petition him to include parochialism on the fall agenda was well under way in both houses, and party leaders said they look for its adoption.

The principal parochial lobby, the Catholic-dominated Michigan Association of Nonpublic Schools (MANS), and House Speaker William A. Ryan said they issued further delay.

"The issue should be resolved by the senate now," said Dr. John F. Choit of Detroit, MANS president. "Little can be gained by postponing the question for another three months, except the closing of more nonpublic schools."

Birmingham Area

Remapping for Schools Is Completed

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Bloomfield Hills School District has completed boundary changes which will affect students at all grade levels throughout the district beginning in September.

The new dividing line for the district's two senior high schools will be Telegraph Road. All students living east of Telegraph will go to Lahser and students west of the road will attend Andover.

Students now attending Andover who live east of Telegraph will be permitted to continue and graduate from Andover. The high school change affects an area bounded by Long Lake Road on the north, Telegraph on the west, 14 Mile on the South and Lahser and the school district boundary on the east.

JUNIOR HIGHS

Junior high changes will affect an area bounded on the north by Square Lake Road, on the west by Telegraph, on the south by Long Lake Road and on the east by Lahser.

Students living in this area, which has been part of the East Hills Junior High district, will attend West Hills Junior High in September.

The expected opening next fall of two new elementary schools created the need for revised attendance areas.

Elementary students living in the Bennington Green, West Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield on the Lakes subdivisions in the far west end of the district will attend the new Lone Pine School at Lone Pine and Middle Belt.

The new Fox Hills School on South Boulevard just east of Opdyke will draw students from an area bounded on the north by South Boulevard, on the east and west by the school district boundary line and on the south by a hypothetical northeast-southwest line.

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission agreed last night to furnish a school crossing guard at Lincoln and Southfield. The commission now provides crossing guards at six locations in the city at a total cost of $6,000, based on a $2.50 per hour salary for the guards.

In other business, the commission authorized expenditure of $9,000 to surface city-owned parking lot at the Bloomfield Art Association facility on Cranbrook at 14 Mile. The Art association will pay the other $3,000.

Echo 2 to Vanish Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Echo 2, the most highly visible of all satellites, will disappear at the end of next week, dropping into the atmosphere and burning up, project engineers predicted today.

Officials at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., set the probable destruction date at June 7 for the 135-foot diameter balloon that was placed in orbit Jan. 25, 1964.

Truck Ruled No Link in Ypsi-Area Killings

DETROIT (AP) — Ann Arbor police have cleared a blue panel truck which they thought might have offered some clues in the death of at least one of five young women murdered in the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor area in the past two years.

Detroit police impounded the truck because they thought "it looked something like" a truck seen near where the body of Maralyn Skelton, 16, was found in March.

Two men riding in the truck were held overnight and released.

Milliken Tours at Pontiac State

Gov. William Milliken toured Pontiac State Hospital yesterday morning. He paid particular attention to those buildings reported in the past to be without heat, electricity or airtight windows in patients' rooms.

The governor said he particularly wanted to see the 8½-year-old section of the hospital where most of the hospital's problems can be found.

Milliken reportedly commented that he thought the section wasn't a favorable atmosphere for mental rehabilitation and said he hoped the conditions would be improved soon.

He also met about 25 "pain-slingers" from the community who volunteered their time—some 800 hours worth—to paint one of the old wards.

COMMENDED FOR EFFORTS

He commended them for their efforts. Milliken's stop at the hospital was described as one in a series of visits to state mental facilities.

Hospital Supt. Dr. Donald Martin hosted the tour, which included Dr. William H. Anderson, director of the state department of mental health, and Rep. Loren Anderson, R-Waterford Township.

Postal Corporation Plan Goes to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today for legislation to convert the Post Office Department into a government-owned, self-sustaining service removed from Cabinet status.

"Traditions die hard and traditional institutions are difficult to abandon," Nixon declared. "But tradition is not substituted for performance, and if our postal system is to meet the expanding needs of the 1970s, we must act now."

The President's proposal was largely based on recommendations submitted by Frederick R. Kappel, head of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's Commission on Postal Organization.

Nixon said his reform, besides removing the post office from the Cabinet, calls for several sweeping changes including:

- Creation of an independent postal service wholly owned by the federal government and administered by a nine-member board of directors.
- New and extensive collective bargaining rights for postal employees.
- Bond financing for major capital improvements, similar to the funding arrangement now held by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

- Establishment of a commission of experts to propose changes in mail classifications and postage rates, subject to review by the seven presidentially appointed members of the nine-member board.

Much of what the President recommended was leaked by congressional sources last week.

WORKABLE SOLUTION

The Kappel recommendations are backed by two of Johnson's postmasters general, Lawrence F. O'Brien and W. Marvin Wainwright.

Blount said he took the Kappel report, along with several other proposals, and welded them together into what he and his top aides considered a workable solution to the perennial postal problem.

He repeatedly emphasized that the Post Office, faced with rising deficits despite numerous rate boosts in recent years, could not economically process its growing annual mail volume under the existing machinery.

His first step in the reorganization came after he had been in office less than a month. At that time, he got Nixon's support for a proposal to remove

Post Office Jobs from the political patronage system. Nixon's bill to implement that plan is pending in Congress.

Scuffle Follows Conviction of 12

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A crowd was carried out of the courtroom singing "We Shall Overcome."

The defendants, including five Roman Catholic clergymen, were on trial for two weeks accused of arson, theft and burglary. The files, stolen Sept. 24, were burned in a park containing a memorial to the dead of World War I.

Judge Larson said he would sentence the 12 on June 6. Maximum penalty is 18 years in prison.

SENTENCING JUNE 6

The judge also cited four defendants for contempt of court because of their behavior during the trial. He fixed sentences ranging from fines of $25 to $50 or five to 10 days in jail.

The defendants dismissed for commission of a crime.

began and made no effort to deny the charges against them. They said they stole and burned the files because they felt a moral obligation to oppose the Vietnam fighting.

The Rev. Anthony J. Mullane, 39, of Boston told the jury in a closing argument that acquittal would be a vote against "the burglary of breaking into peasant huts in Vietnam, arson in the napalming of villages and children, and theft in the stealing of crops through herbicides."

In his instructions to the jury, Judge Larson said: "The law does not recognize political, religious, moral convictions, or some higher law, as justification for commission of a crime."

OCCEO Head Will Tell of Unit's Status

A "State of the Program" address will be given by Thomas W. Fowler Jr., chairman of the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity (OCCEO), at its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at 1 Lafayette.

Fowler will report on various aspects of the OCCEO's war on poverty. Federal approval and funding of most of the projects has remained high.

Also on the agenda are reports on education and on community involvement.

The OCCEO will have five new members appointed by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors: Larry Pernick of Southfield, Mrs. Elaine Seidl and John Rusher of Royal Oak, Jack Hanna of Clawson and Henry J. Pickering of Madison Heights.

Reappointed was James Reid of 7325 Highland, Milford.

Couple Finds 'Good Life' in Bolivia

How do you teach a man to be a plumber who has never seen a toilet? That question illustrates the technological and theoretical problems of Bolivia, experienced firsthand by Charles and Barbara Stewart, former Rochester residents who decided 14 months ago to do their part in changing living conditions of the Latin American nation.

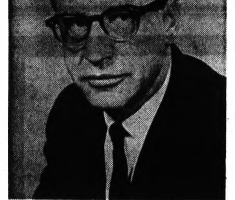

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, 50 and 49, respectively, chucked a familiar American life — plenty of income, nice house in the suburbs and weekend barbecues — to work with Bolivians who had never experienced running water in their homes.

The Stewarts joined the Peace Corps, studied Spanish in total immersion language sessions, learned carpentry, masonry and electronics.

They spent three weeks at Rifle River in Northern Michigan and built bridges and shower units and latrines. Then to Bolivia.

Charles Stewart worked out in the field, and Mrs. Stewart worked as a secretary at Peace Corps headquarters in La Paz. They lived on $120 a month in a La Paz apartment.

For Charles, a Michigan Bell Telephone plant supervisor and

CHARLES STEWART

'FELT LITTLE GUILTY'

"We were concerned with the upheaval — the violent upheaval — of the world. We wanted to do something to change the world. We realize we ourselves cannot change world conditions, but we can certainly help in the total effort."

"I think I felt a little guilty... and that's good," Stewart commented. "Sure, I've earned everything I have. But could I have all that I do if I were a peon?"

"I began with Michigan Bell 33 years ago. I graduated from high school and went to work in the plant department. But I know a black man who graduated in my class with better marks who was put to work as a car washer."

"The world cannot survive in such uneven conditions, such poverty amid such plenty. And the white man cannot reign supreme much longer... You can feel the rumblings so close to home," Stewart said.

The Stewarts are working in a new Peace Corps department, vocational education. The aim is to teach citizens of underdeveloped nations the skills necessary for construction of a better environment. Once the skills are learned, the program is turned over to native administration, Stewart explained.

SLOW PROCESS

"It's a very slow process, teaching the people to change. For example, the farmers attach yokes to the horns of their oxen, losing about 40 per cent of the beast's power. You can't just tell them to attach the yokes to a shoulder harness. The farmers have been using the horns for generations," Stewart explained.

Comparing that unwillingness to change, Stewart pointed out this example:

"Americans are basically mechanically oriented. It's a simple thing to teach Americans to operate an automatic transmission on a car, switching from the floor-mounted stick shift.

"But when you start fooling with an American's religion, or his politics, that's a different matter altogether. Why do you think we have so much controversy in our churches, in our politics? People are just basically opposed to change, no matter how sophisticated," Stewart declared.

Why have Bolivians, specifically, fallen so behind in development of modern technical know-how?

OPPRESSION

"You have to look back at 400 years of oppression. It's only been since 1952 that Bolivia has had a true democracy. Before that, the whites practically enslaved the people. As recently as the early '50s it was an accepted practice for large land owners to beat their servants. The servants had no legal recourse," Stewart explained.

The land holdings have been divided among the Bolivians, the Stewarts said, and there is evident change in their way of life.

"The young particularly can see the necessity to change," Stewart stated. "They can see the necessity of bringing clean water into the home and funneling the dirty water out. They can see the necessity for a sewage system to keep their villages clean and free of vermin. "The exciting thing about our work is that we can see a gradual change... The people are becoming aware of the world around them, especially the young people," Stewart said.

TO RECRUIT STUDENTS

Thursday the Stewarts leave for Chicago, to recruit college students to volunteer for Peace Corps work and more importantly, to persuade trade schools and colleges to adapt educational programs around Peace Corps standards.

The Stewarts are finishing the balance of their two-year commitment to the Peace Corps in Chicago, after which time they will return to Rochester.

Stewart will take up where he left off with Michigan Bell. Perhaps Mrs. Stewart will continue at OU, although she, unlike her husband, is not on a leave of absence.

There will be the suburbs, the easy life, more money than they need and just one other thing:

There will be the service organizations and clubs that will invite the Stewarts to speak on their experiences in the Peace Corps.

Those speeches that are so well received then so quickly forgotten.

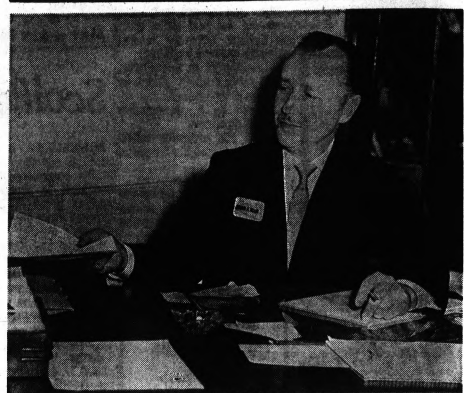

"But maybe we'll change some attitudes. Our lives have been enriched anyway," Mr. Stewart said.

Saeffe: 'We'll Give It Another Try'

Birmingham OEO Plan Said Good Enough to Try Again

By NED ADAMSON

BIRMINGHAM — On paper, Birmingham's recently completed work training program for the hard-core unemployed, in conjunction with the Office of Economic Opportunity, was a failure.

But if it is judged for its humanitarian worth, the program was a success—at least to the point that the OEO and Birmingham officials want to do it again.

Birmingham, which is reportedly the only white suburban community engaged in a job opportunity program for the hard-core unemployed, ran the program from Jan. 15 to May 7.

The participants, three of them black, one Mexican-American and one white, ranged in age from 19 to 22. They worked in maintenance, mechanical and clerical jobs.

The fact that total attendance by the five participants reached only 50 per cent, with three of them failing to finish the 15-week program, prompted John Saeffe, assistant city manager and program coordinator, to say in his final report, "Birmingham's experience with the OEO program was so discouraging that it is not recommended to try the program again."

"After completing the report we began to wonder just how do you determine the element of success in a program like this," said Saeffe later. "We certainly had no gold star of achievement to show for our efforts—work production and attendance-wise."

"But considering that some of the principal objectives were encouraging motivation, overcoming lethargy and giving alienated people a sense of belonging to the working community, we were successful because these goals, in part, were met.

The very fact that some of the youths gained experience in the working world will at least give them a push in the right direction."

ABNORMAL SITUATIONS

Saeffe added that none of the underprivileged participants came from a situation that could even be judged close to normal. One youth was a resident at Pontiac State Hospital; some had "home environment difficulties" one 18-year-old girl had to support her child while her husband served in Vietnam.

For nearly all of the participants, the Birmingham program was the first opportunity to relate to an alien culture on good terms, which, according to Saeffe, may definitely affirm their ability to cope with society and its problems.

OEO Coordinator Stuart House noted that if the OEO trainees did not have characteristics, habits and problems of the chronically unemployed, the Birmingham city supervisors would never have had a chance to deal with some of society's most pressing problems.

"The program was indeed a frustrating experience in that Birmingham personnel put considerable effort and time into the project, but they certainly undoubtedly have a better understanding why the underprivileged and hard-core unemployed have a tough time adjusting to the working world," House said.

FALL EFFORT PLANNED

Saeffe said the City Commission has decided to work with the OEO again in the fall on the program but on a smaller scale (probably two participants) and with the provision that transportation accommodations are provided.

"Based on the knowledge we now have, we have realized that several of the youths in the first program very clearly had serious emotional and environmental problems said Saeffe. "This made it impossible to expect the same type of tangible success that might be expected from persons with less problems."

Troy Purchases 6-Year Study of County's Soil Seven New Cars Being Considered by Supervisors for Police Duty

TROY — Seven police cars were purchased at last night's City Commission meeting, the net bid of $9,884 being awarded to Harold Turner Ford.

Three squad cars will come equipped with air-conditioning and four with high-powered engines for expressway patrol. The bid of $16,909 was whittled with a trade-in allowance on seven cars of $7,125.

In other business, the commission concurred with the Michigan Municipal League's stand against requiring automatic binding arbitration in police and fire union negotiations, as urged by two separate bills pending before the legislature.

Official communication of Troy's opinion on the bills will be forwarded to the city's state senator and representatives.

PARK EQUIPMENT

City Attorney Stanley E. Burke was directed to look into the possibility of requiring subdivision developers to equip park grounds set aside in subdivision plans.

Under current building code provisions, a developer can reduce the size of each home's lot by 10 per cent if he sets aside an equal amount of land for parks.

The ordinance does not presently require, however, that the developer equip the parks with such items as swings and slides.

2 Cyclists Injured in Crashes in Troy

TROY — Two motorcycleists were in William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak today with injuries received in separate accidents yesterday afternoon, according to Troy police.

In satisfaction condition was James A. Cindler, 24, of 4088 Frankton, Troy. His cycle collided with a car driven by Frederick D. Pedder, 41, of 84 E. Newport, Pontiac, at Big Beaver and Frankton at 3:45 p.m., police said.

In satisfaction condition was Dennis F. Luedtke, 24, of Mount Clemens. His cycle collided with a car driven by Mary M. Cameron, 29, of Mount Clemens on Big Beaver east of Rochester Road at 6:30 p.m., police added.

Cindler suffered a concussion and Luedtke cuts and fractures.

In both cases the cyclists were struck when they crossed into the oncoming lane. Both were charged with traffic violations.

A $325,542 survey of Oakland County's soil, which reportedly would lend itself to well-planned development, is being considered by the board of supervisors' local affairs committee.

Members were told yesterday they have until June 30 to initiate such a study before the U.S. Department of Agriculture will increase its charge for such work. The fee now is 58 cents an acre, but after July 1, will rise to 64 cents an acre, according to Robert Halstead, U.S. Soil Conservation Service district director. He said the federal and state governments would each share a third of the cost.

Information that could prevent flooded basements, poor septic situations and foundation problems would come from such a study, soil conservation experts said.

The six-year project would cost the county an estimated $18,000 a year. No action was taken by the committee.

Members will visit the 4-H fairgrounds on Perry Street Monday afternoon with an eye to recommending that develop-

Higbie Hikes Dividend

ROCHESTER — The board of directors of Higbie Manufacturing Co. has increased the regular quarterly dividend from 17 1/2 to 20 cents per share on the $1 par value common stock, payable Aug. 1969, to stockholders of record July 15, 1969.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The township supervisor last night questioned the legality of continuing with procedure for road improvements in Kendallwood Subdivision after learning that costs would be nearly twice the original estimates.

Supervisor Curtis Hall told the township Board engineering estimates submitted last week showed that paving of Kendallwood Drive would cost $42,000.

When the campaign for road improvements began in April 1968, residents were given an estimate of $21,500 as the cost of improving Kendallwood Drive and widening and draining other roads throughout the subdivision.

The Township Board scheduled a hearing of necessity for 7:30 p.m. June 10, when the facts will be presented along with alternate proposals from the ment of a 4-H Youth Center at Davisburg proceed, according to previous board plans.

The planned youth center, given priority by the old board, is being reconsidered in a new capital outlay program being developed by the present board.

LANSING (UPI) — The driver of a busload of school children reaches for the brake pedal and finds, to his shocking surprise, that nothing happens — the bus won't stop.

An unusual development:

Hardly, according to the State Department of Education, which yesterday released the results of a comprehensive survey of school-bus brake problems in Michigan this school year.

The survey turned up 156 bus brake failures in 218 school districts since last September. Injuries to 62 persons were attributed to brake-related accidents.

'HYDROVAC' BRAKES

Most of the failures, the department said, were traced to so-called

"hydrovac" brakes and only a few to air brake systems.

Hydrovac brakes are vacuum-assisted hydraulic brakes similar to "power brakes" on a passenger car, the department said. They are used on all makes of school buses.

School officials participating in the survey recommended the exclusive use of air brakes, low-pressure warning systems, better factory inspection, improved construction materials, better local maintenance of safety installation components in braking systems and larger brakes.

The study showed that in 80 of the brake-failure cases, there had been no indication of prior difficulty, while 42 had a history of earlier trouble. Eleven of the brake failures stemmed from poor maintenance.

The department said the survey was "not intended to provide precise information on the school-bus brake problems but rather to give a general indication of conditions." It said returns were sufficient to indicate a serious problem exists.

The survey results were sent to school superintendents and bus manufacturers. They will be discussed June 20 at a department-sponsored meeting on school bus specification at the Michigan State University.

Among questions to be discussed at the meeting, the department said, is whether air brakes should be required on all school buses with capacity for more than

Project Cost Doubles, Farmington Twp. Finds

Residents must decide at that meeting, at Dunkle Junior High, whether to proceed or to throw out the petitions and accept one of the road commission proposals.

They are: • Improve Kendallwood from 12 Mile to Brandwine at an estimated cost of $50,050. The county would pay one-third of the cost of this project.

• Improve Kendallwood and patch and drain the roads throughout the rest of the subdivision at an estimated cost of $135,350. The county would pay a third of the cost of paving Kendallwood but nothing toward the patching and draining.

• Improve Kendallwood and put a 24-inch bituminous covering on all the roads in the subdivision at an estimated cost of $317,850. The county would pay 50 per cent of this project and the township would pay 10 per cent.

There are 476 homes in the subdivision.

In other business, the board awarded an $81,400 contract to Guyman Construction Co., the lowest of five bidders, for installation of a sanitary sewer on Bond side of Orchard Lake Road from Bond to Wauwatosa.

Topps Discount Stores, which is to begin construction soon on a site 1,000 feet south of 14 Mile, agreed to advance an extra $18,000 to extend the pipe line 920 feet to Pershing.

Hall reported a pay-back agreement will be worked out with Topps, whereby the money for the extension will be returned from connecting fees received in the future from new parties connecting onto the line.

Topps also has indicated a desire to advance the entire construction cost of $81,400 so the bids can be let quickly.

Shelby Firemen Vote to Accept Wage Package

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Members of Fire Fighters Local 1338 voted last night to accept the wage package and retroactive pay settlement offered by the Township Board.

The firemen's action culminates negotiations which began May 20, 1968. Firemen staged a four-hour walkout on May 21.

The salary offer of $9,250 retroactive to Jan. 1 that moved to $9,550 July 1 and to $10,200 a year later gives the fire department wage parity with the police department.

The contract is expected to be signed June 6 subject to the successful negotiation of minor problems including two holidays and contract language, a spokesman for the firemen's union said.

Retrospective pay had been the last major point of disagreement in negotiations with the firemen wanting the retroactive pay made effective to July 1968. The equivalent police scale went into effect Jan. 1.

Saigon Upset at Nixon's Plan

SAIGON (AP) — Growing concern was evident in South Vietnam's parliament and the Saigon press today about President Nixon's call for elections as part of his eight-point Vietnam peace proposal.

In his May 14 Vietnam policy speech, Nixon proposed elections "as soon as possible" after an international body was functioning to supervise a mutual withdrawal of U.S., North Vietnamese and other foreign troops from the South.

The elections would be held under "agreed procedures" and under supervision of the international body. Nixon said the United States is "prepared to accept any government in South Vietnam that results from the free choice of the South Vietnamese people themselves."

A speech by Sen. Tran Van Don today was evidence of the increasing doubts about how the elections proposed by Nixon would conform with government policy and the constitution.

PLANS DIFFER

Don, a prominent lawmaker who as a general helped overthrow President Ngo Dinh Diem in 1963, noted that Nixon's election proposal differs from President Nguyen Van Thieu's statement April 7 that the Vietcong could "enjoy full political rights" under the constitution—meaning they could vote—if they respect the laws.

The constitution mentions nothing about troop withdrawals or an international supervisory body, but it lays down a clear schedule for parliamentary and presidential elections. Half the seats in the Senate will be up for election in late 1970, and the next lower house and presidential elections are scheduled for late 1971. Altering the election dates would require a change in the constitution.

Don told the Senate that the Nixon plan "has aroused much concern among the Vietnamese population."

Another senator, Tran Ngoc Nhuan, said the electoral principles proposed by Nixon "violate the right of self-determination by the South Vietnamese people and therefore should not be accepted."

MANY FEARFUL

Increasing numbers of South Vietnamese officials and observers seem to feel that new elections will be forced on them and that the result will be a coalition government including the Vietcong.

The government's bitter opposition to a coalition government was demonstrated again today when it banned last week's edition of Time magazine after three days on sale. A government spokesman said the May 23 issue "harmed national policy" by advocating a coalition government, and this was also harmful to the fighting spirit of the South Vietnamese armed forces.

Long, who was in the service for about a year, died of wounds he received on a combat mission, the Army said.

Mary, 13, Gordon, 12, Michelle, 8, Lisa, 6, Bradley, 2, and Gail, 10. The Gilliatts live on Weybridge Drive, Bloomfield Township.

Meet Your Neighbors

Fox Hills Green Grows

By BARBARA GRIBBON

Fox Hills Green in Bloomfield Township is a rapidly growing community of gracious Colonial-style homes.

There are a variety of two-story houses, all offering comfortable living space for families with small children. There is a community house available for meetings and a pretty enclosed swimming pool to join.

I was told that a number of clubs have sprung up in Fox Hills Green including bridge groups, a garden club and an enthusiastic new golf group. The residents make good use of their community house for association meetings and general social events as well.

THE JACK SLATERS

The first family I talked to keeps busy in the community and other activities. They are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slater and their two sons, Mark, 9, and Todd, 5.

Slater is executive director of the Southeastern United Republican Fund. His job, especially during election years, keeps Slater pretty busy. Nonetheless, he finds time to be a Little League manager and both he and his wife are on the neighborhood committee for the community pool.

One interesting aspect of dad's work is that he took his family to Washington for the inauguration in January. It was very exciting, Mrs. Slater said, even though they did spend most of the day out in the cold rain.

The Slaters enjoyed a variety of family activities including yard and garden work, water and snow skiing and trips whenever possible.

Right now, the main attraction in the house is Mark's family of Gerbils in an old empty aquarium so everyone can watch their antics. Even the cat spends much time eyeing these little creatures. The Slaters are active in the Christian Science Church in Royal Oak.

THE HOWARD ACKERMANS

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Ackerman came to Fox Hills Green from Indianapolis although their original home is in Chicago. Their family includes three sons, Mark, 10; Scott, 5; and Brett, 2.

Ackerman is a urologist whose office is in the professional building on Woodward Ave. in Pontiac. He is interested in all sports, his wife said, and was a swimming instructor at one time. He enjoys golf and skiing in his free time now.

The family also enjoys music. Dad plays the trumpet and mom and Mark are taking piano lessons. The Ackermans attend First Methodist Church in Birmingham.

THE ROBERT GILLIATT

The next house we visited belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilliatt who moved here six months ago from Dearborn Heights. Their family includes Mary, 13; Gordon, 12; Gail, 10; Michelle, 8; Lisa, 6; Bradley, 2; and Ann Marie, one year old.

Gilliatt, a supervisor for Dickson Tool & Machine Corp., is an avid do-it-yourselfer. Woodworking is a major interest of his, proof of which can be seen in the handsome harvest table and benches he built for the kitchen.

He'll tackle just about anything including building a gas fireplace in the living room. He has also built shelves and some pretty wooden candle holders for the walls. He enjoys playing golf when he has time.

Mrs. Gilliatt is active in the Birmingham-Bloomfield Newcomers Club. The youngsters all are enthusiastic swimmers and Gordon is a baseball player. The Gilliatt family belongs to St. Hugo's Church.

THE THOMAS HAGANS

From Madison Heights came the Thomas Hagan family including three children, Kathy, 11; Kelly, 9, and Sue, 2.

Hagan, who works for Campbell-Ewald Advertising Agency, is another enthusiastic do-it-yourselfer. He also enjoys skiing and just started his three daughters on the sport this year.

Even though it's an all-girl family, the Hagans enjoy playing baseball as a family. Mom and dad like golf and the girls are swimmers. The family is active in the community center and attends St. Hugo's Church.

THE LEO MARTINS

The Leo Martin family moved here from East Detroit.

The children are Christine, 17; Andrea, 15; Mark, 11; Gregg, 8; and David, 2. Christine told me about the family. Her father is in public relations and likes to play golf and fish in his free time. Mrs. Martin belongs to a bridge group at Birmingham Community Center and is decorating the new house.

Christine is interested in sewing and designing clothing. She makes all her own clothes and works part-time at Chudik's in Birmingham where she puts her sewing talents to good use. She spent a year working with a couturier from Alton & Pierce in Grosse Pointe and plans to enter a school of fashion after graduation from high school.

THE ROBERT ZETTELS

From Royal Oak came Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zettel and their four children, Sherry, 10; Michael, 9; Sandra, 8; and Johnny, 2.

Zettel, certified Public Accountant with Russen-Welling & Co., spends his spare time playing softball with the Downtown Professional League. He also manages his son's Little League team.

Activities in the Birmingham-Bloomfield Newcomers Club fill much of Mrs. Zettel's free time. She is a member of the drama group there and is in the cast of The Clown Out West, a children's play recently performed. She also enjoys playing bridge, doing ceramic work and landscaping around her new home. The Zettel family attends St. Hugo's Church.

THE GEORGE JACKSONS

The George Jackson family has been doing some interesting traveling during the past few years. They are originally from Troy and Ferndale but have lived both in Switzerland and more recently in Mexico City where dad was stationed as advertising manager for Chrysler International.

The family, which includes three children, Karen, 18; Brian, 15; and Kathy, 12; visited 24 countries in Europe while living in Switzerland.

The children learned to speak two languages and took up skiing in Switzerland. They've collected many interesting furnishings during their travels including marble tables in Italy, which they actually saw being made for them.

Brian is finishing the school year at the Magnolia School in New Orleans and looks forward to rejoining his family and getting settled here. Kathy's interests include painting and playing the piano and flute-like recorder.

Mrs. Jackson's free time is divided between sewing for her home, bowling and golf. She studied china painting while overseas, but now is mainly concerned with getting settled and reacquainted with old friends.

Everyone I talked with in Fox Hills Green told me they hope to find many new interests and family activities in this growing area. Next week I'll be telling you about some folks in Oakland Heights.

HOW ABOUT THAT? — One of Mark Slater's (left) gerbils looks like it's about to skitter up his arm while brother Todd's has decided that it's nap time. Sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Slater of Weybridge Drive, Bloomfield Township, the boys are avid naturalists. Mark is 9, Todd, 5.

M59 Prospects Grim

We share the concern expressed by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors chairman, CHARLES B. EDWARDS JR., over the protracted timetable for improvement of M59, the sadly-neglected east-west route across northern Oakland County.

True, work is to begin in the fall on a 1.9-mile extension of a five-lane segment of it, from Airport Road west to South Williams Lake Road.

EDWARDS

But after that—what?

Not until the State Highway Department implements its 1973-74 program will engineering and right-of-way acquisition begin on the next stretch, a 4.5-mile continuation from South Williams Lake Road to Bogie Lake Road. Completion date of the project would probably be at least three years away.

But there would still remain a 22-mile bottleneck over which motorists in growing numbers must crawl and fume until M59 joins I-96, the fine freeway that moves traffic speedily and comfortably to the western part of the State.

Apparently, no plans for improvement of this section are in the works.

Since the original widening of a 2½-mile strip of M59, from Elizabeth Lake Road to Airport Road occurred in 1965, it could, by projection, take 56 years to complete modernization of the remaining 28 miles to the junction with I-96—that is, if the State Highway Department can maintain its present snail-like approach to a critical highway need!

Meanwhile, the citizenry of the State's third most populous county will continue to be increasingly plagued and frustrated by motoring over a horse-and-buggy road in a jet age.

The prospect is not only pathetic and ridiculous, but tragic—don't you think?

Battle Buckeye Blackbirds

Scientists at Ohio State University are whistling "Bye, Bye, Blackbird" as they work. But so far their efforts—ranging from hallucinatory drugs to birth control pills—have failed to rid the state of a leading pest.

Blackbirds like to dine on young corn, often eating only enough to spoil the ear. They cost Ohio farmers some $2 million last year. For the entire Nation, the annual damage is around $58 million.

A hallucinatory drug, designed to send the birds winging off on LSD-like "trips," has proved effective in some areas. Blackbirds, like many flocking birds, can be "spooked" by other members of the flock acting abnormally.

A contraceptive chemical which would prevent fertilization of the birds' eggs is another humane measure being studied.

A different approach is the development of corn varieties with husks too tough for the birds to penetrate.

From the bird's-eye view, of course, the feathered creatures are only doing their natural thing. But when man and animal clash over the same goal, the latter's days are numbered, no matter how "humanely" humans solve the problem.

Grass Seen Greener in NY

A tree may grow in Brooklyn but grass grows in Manhattan—though New Yorkers can all day without seeing a single blade.

A new variety of turf grass—Manhattan ryegrass—has been developed from hardy plants plucked out of New York's Central Park by grass researcher C. REED FUNK of Rutgers University.

It's said to be lower-growing, leafier, more attractive and more persistent than other ryegrasses. Thousands of pounds of the seed have already been sold throughout the Nation.

Who would have thought that Manhattan's energetic residents would ever let grass grow under their feet?

Science, Religion Unite to Fight ABM

By DAVID POLING
For Newspaper Enterprise

ASSN. The preachers and the scientists have joined their duels in history. The late 19th century and the beginning of the 20th saw a great deal of tension, name-calling and mistrust between the two traditions. It should never have happened that way but the church was challenged by discovery and Science was curtailed by the theologians.

Evolution still gets some play in the more backward areas of the country. Not in the seminaries. Not in the downtown churches. Not really in the minds of educated Christians who find the truth of God revealed in the laboratory as much as in the library of biblical studies.

In fact, scientific methods have produced exciting results in recent Bible land "digs." Techniques of archaeology have been a real assist to the enlargement of our grasp of the Old Testament world. More science, not less, is the cry.

But nothing has drawn the world of religion and science closer together than the debate over the deployment in the United States of an antiballistic missile system.

ALMOST UNANIMOUS The ABM furor has created almost unanimous criticism from the religious and scientific establishment.

Although each discipline may start from a different premise, they each arrive at a severe statement of condemnation and objection to ABM.

For Instance, Scientific American, a prestigious publication in its field, has devoted more than 26 pages in the past two issues opposing the weapons systems nominated by the Nixon administration.

And when you sort out the terminology, graphs and charts, you come to a conclusion that it could have been written by any of the major churches alarmed over the inclinations of the ABM proposal.

"Any such massive escalation of offensive and defensive armaments could hardly be accomplished in a democracy without strong social and psychological effects."

MORE LIKELY And then add this: "The nation would think more of war, prepare more for war, hate the potential enemy and thereby make war more likely."

That was not written by the Quaker Fellowship for Peace or the Presbyterians for a Non-Violent Society, but by two distinguished scientists—one a key official with IBM and the other a professor at Cornell University!

From the church side of things there has been steady and constant opposition of almost every major denomination in this country against the widening of the arms race and the escalation of ABM proposals.

VOLUME OF MAIL Already people in Washington are commenting on the volume of mail being generated by the obvious concern of the religion-science fraternity.

For almost the first time in this century the two establishments have a common cause and a hot feeling of action is suddenly expanding.

The most powerful missile right now is a letter—your personal note or card to the White House and your congressman.

This is the best indicator of support or opposition. And while you are at it, stamp it with a Love Seal.

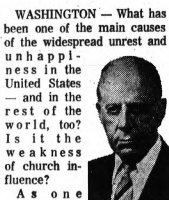

(The Reverend Poling is president of the Christian Herald Association.)

David Lawrence Asks:

Weak Church Aiding Unrest?

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What has been one of the main causes of the widespread unrest and unhappiness in the United States — and in the rest of the world, too? Is it the weakness of church influence?

As one seeks an answer, it seemed incredible to read a UPI dispatch from London last Saturday telling of a formal recommendation that the world churches should support violence if it is the last way to overthrow political and economic tyranny.

This was among the proposals of a six-day consultation on racism held in the British capital by the World Council of Churches.

The document declared that "The church must be willing to be not only an institution of love, but also an institution of action, making inputs into societies to help effect a new balance of power that renders racism impotent."

'LOSING INFLUENCE' But on the very next day, the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, was reported in a UPI dispatch to have said that the church was losing its influence in a troubled world. He declared: "Do we not see the church which we love so much having an impact on the country and the lives of the people so very much less than it ought to be?"

Criticism of our "world society" has often been voiced. In 1959, a book entitled "Power and Morality," written by two eminent professors of sociology — Sorokin and Lunden — decried the observation of the preachings and practices of governments of the 20th century clearly shows and their complete failure in restraining the forces of death and destruction . . . in international and civil wars have made this the bloodiest, most destructive, and most inhuman of the twenty-five centuries."

WHAT'S MISSING? But what has really been missing? Obviously, the teachings of the Bible have not reached into the hearts of many young and old persons, here and abroad, as effectively as necessary if a better world is to be built.

Jesus, according to St. Mark, said: "For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?"

It is not a question of secularism or denomination. All over the world, leaders of religious thought like Buddha, Confucius, Mohammed, as well as Moses and Jesus, have left a legacy worthy of acceptance as a code of living.

Could so many disturbances happen in the United States and various countries abroad if the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount had penetrated more deeply the minds of men, irrespective of age or color or religion? Jesus said, according to St. Luke:

"The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:

Neither shall they say, Lo, here! or, lo, there! for, behold the kingdom of God is within you."

There are millions of people who are trying to live in accordance with what they believe is God's will. But there are minorities which brush aside the experience of the past and fail to seek in their inner selves the guidance from God that can make them better human beings and more and more helpful to each other in a troubled world.

Bob Considine Says:

Majestic Prince Has a Lot at Stake in Belmont

CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Everybody's happy that Majestic Prince, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, will race in the Belmont Stakes after all.

There hasn't been a triple crown winner since the great Citation pulled the hat trick in 1949.

Everybody's happy, except the horse's trainer, Johnny Longden . . . and a few others.

When the startling announcement was made, just after the running of the Preakness that the Prince would not race in the third portion of the Triple Crown — the Belmont — there were groans galore among racing fans.

But Sonny Werblin, the well-known sportsman who owns the best 3-year-old filly in the land, Process Shot, agreed with Majestic Prince's withdrawal.

Werblin wrote his friend Frank McMahon, who bought the unbeaten Majestic Prince as a yearling for a then-record $250,000, as follows:

"We were faced with a similar situation in regard to the Triple Crown for fillies this year. My trainer, Bowes Bond, felt if we entered her in these three races we would be committing her to run too frequently.

WOULDN'T YIELD "Yet there would linger the impression that we were afraid to run her against her challengers. But we have no intention of yielding to that sort of thing.

"If I may liken Process Shot's standing among the fillies to that of Majestic Prince among the colts, I feel that this kind of horse comes along once in a lifetime — and should be fully protected."

Expanding on his theme,

Werblin wrote me a letter, too. In it, he says, "Few people outside of racing realize that the question does not concern the Triple Crown, the owner and the trainer as much as it concerns the condition of the horse."

"Majestic Prince has had a long hard campaign since January. He lost 100 pounds winning the Preakness.

GOOD REASON "I am certain that Frank McMahon and Johnny Longden would want to win the Triple Crown more than anything in the world. But not at the expense of Majestic Prince's breaking down. The colt had only two races as a 2-year-old. There must have been a reason why he was so lightly raced."

But even as Sonny Werblin was writing those words, Frank McMahon decided to run his champion in the Belmont. The pressure on him from the promoters of the ancient classic, and from the public, was, I'd guess, just too much.

It'll be the biggest day Belmont ever had. All hope it won't be the most tragic, too.

More Readers' Opinions on Sex Education

The May 19 article on the Walled Lake schools' sex education program was misleading. The main issue was not the present sex program for fifth and sixth grades, it was a possible future program from kindergarten through 12th grade using material suggested by an organization called Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S.

Concern against this material is due partially to statements made by executive director Dr. Mary Calderone. In Look Magazine, March 8, 1966, she is quoted as saying, when asked "what is your opinion of premarital sex relations among teenagers?" she replied: "What's yours? Nobody from up on high (referring to God) determines this. You determine it . . . I don't believe the old 'thou shalt nots' apply anymore."

What's wrong with a moral approach to any sex education program, based upon the Ten Commandments?

REV. R. V. WARREN, PASTOR
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, WIXOM
VICE-PRESIDENT, WIXOM PTMA

Many attending the meeting concerning sex education in Walled Lake school system felt that it was reported one-sided. Since time began people have known the basic facts, but only by strong moral principles can illegitimacy be prevented. Mrs. Hoppe disputed one man's claim that he didn't want to be classed with animals. That may be the way she wants it, but I consider humans above animals morally, mentally and sexually.

LILLIE SELF

I attended the Walled Lake School Board meeting May 19, and appreciate the school board giving us the opportunity to speak. As a Christian mother I feel children need sex education, but it should be taught with the morals God has given in His word. All films and discussions should have separate classes for boys and girls. I want to know beforehand what material is used and have the opportunity to view this with my children. I will not endorse Sex Information and Education of the U.S. material. I am not a member of any organization, I am guided by and follow only the Lord Jesus Christ.

MRS. JEANNE GOSSETT
1771 PAYSON, WALLED LAKE

Hurrah for Walled Lake residents. I hope that sex education comes to Pontiac. Teachers cannot teach the morals of life or love and respect if they were not taught at home. I'm going to have my first child soon and by the time my child is old enough to go to school, I hope that some of the burden of being a parent is lifted. Parents should take a sex course. I'm sure they don't know all they should about sex.

MRS. MELVIN GRAHAM
30 WILLIAMS

Two Opinions on 'Information Bulletin'

You take the stand that Mr. Whitmer was wrong to make certain statements regarding people that would like to be voted in on board of education seats. I don't think he said anything untrue. It has been made perfectly clear in past months that there are indeed just such "hustlers" active in disrupting meetings and even classes at our schools. Not all candidates fall into this "hustler" classification, regardless of color.

K. ENNIS

Welcomes Honesty of Recent Press Editorial

It was good to read the editorial concerning the Pontiac school district's "Information Bulletin." Although in agreement with the content of the editorial, I am more impressed with the fact that it appeared in The Pontiac Press. I welcome honesty.

MRS. MARY E. PORRITT

'Urge Teen-Age Drivers to Be More Careful'

To the teen-age drivers who tear up and down Pontiac Lake Road between Hospital and Williams Lake Road, who you kids feel better when you find 30 small children in this area. I hope you and your parents wake up before it's too late. I pray that one of my children will not be your first victim.

MRS. KENNETH WOOD

Question and Answer

Did I see right that three separate bills—SB 686, 732 and 735—are proposed to control police activities with a civilian review board? Are these bills sponsored by Senator Coleman Young? Does it take passage of all three to make it a law? Why so many?

EDWARD L. SORENSON
DRAYTON PLAINS

REPLY

All three bills are sponsored by Senator Coleman Young, whose office tells us one is to institute the proposal, one to set regulations and another to fund it. It could become law by passage of only one, but would require amendments for regulations and funding. Senator Young chose to initiate three instead of one requiring amendments.

Question and Answer

I'd like to know if you could help me locate a Stromberg-Carlson dealer or one where I could get a part for my radio.

JOSE E. NAVA
38 E. YPSILANTI

REPLY

We talked to several radio service shops, and they all said those radios have been out of production for some time and it's unlikely you'll find the exact part you need. However, they said many radio-parts are interchangeable, and if you'll take it to a repair shop, they can tell you if another brand can be used in your radio.

Earthy Space Talk Way of the World

By JEAN SAILE

When I was a girl, I hated Joan Flaherty. She lived down the road from us, and Joan Flaherty never walked through mud puddles. Furthermore, Joan never tore her new dress climbing trees. She wouldn't think of sticking out her tongue. She always practiced her piano lesson without being told.

* * *

She was virtue personified — according to my mother.

I thought about Joan this weekend, as the astronauts revealed to the world their all-too-human use of the English language.

And my security blanket—my middle-aged values — lost another patchwork piece.

ALREADY BADLY FRAYED

The blanket was already badly frayed from the college uprisings, the problems of the inner cities, the ABM and Vietnam debates.

I, however, had managed to hold onto a last ragged and somewhat dirty corner during the sex education controversy, and even throughout the great birth control-abortion furor.

* * *

Even most of that is gone now.

Everybody, even me, has got to presume that astronauts sometimes swear and even at times that they are uncouth.

Honestly, you can't imagine an astronaut saying, "Golly gee, folks" when a space capsule goes out of control.

INTERNATIONAL SLIP

But to have their slips featured via the International communications media is something else.

Now, I thought, how am I going to righteously approach my young experimenter on the subject of bad language when he big-blue-eyes me and says, "But, Mom, the astronauts said it."

* * *

My only recourse, of course, will be to tell him he's no astronaut, and promise him a moon trip of his own, via my toe, should he repeat.

But what's his security blanket going to be?

Everybody ought to be entitled to some nice illusions. The one about being beautiful went out the window 20 years ago. The one about being smart got eaten away by age.

ALL-AMERICAN TYPE

But, the one about clean-cut all-American type heroes ought to stay, I thought. And then I remembered Joan. She's probably a very nice person. I don't know. I never got the chance to find out, because she was too good to be true.

N. Viet Charged With DMZ Violations

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. forces were shelled four times Sunday from the buffer zone between North and South Vietnam since the bombing halt last Nov. 1.

The American Command said the bombing of North Vietnam was halted almost seven months ago. The Marines were about 400 yards south of the DMZ when their position was hit by five mortar rounds. A U.S. spokesman said the mortars set off some of the Marines' ammunition, and this apparently caused some of the casualties.

Marine artillery fired back into the DMZ, "silencing the mortar fire," headquarters said, but there was no report of any enemy casualties.

SPEED UP WITHDRAWAL

The same Marine position had been hit by about 10 mortar rounds earlier Sunday and one man was wounded.

"They're trying to increase our casualties to get the people back home up in arms to hurry up our withdrawal," said one spokesman for the U.S. Command. "It's part of their overall strategy."

"They've been stockpiling supplies right across the DMZ like mad since the bombing halt. They've never honored the agreement. They've used the DMZ as a sanctuary and continue to build up fortifications there."

American officials claim that North Vietnam agreed to keep the DMZ free of military action in return for the bombing halt. Hanoi said it made no agreement and that the bombing halt was unconditional.

MASSIVE DRIVE

Although allied intelligence officers say North Vietnam has placed nearly 40,000 troops and tons of supplies along the northern rim of the DMZ, a U.S. spokesman said today he had no reports indicating enemy plans up our withdrawal.

He said the number of incidents of military activity in the zone per week is "pretty constant." But he said that since May 11, when the enemy command suddenly stepped up its rocket and mortar attacks across South Vietnam, there have been 21 such attacks from inside the DMZ. Only three had been reported in the preceding two months.

In a weekly report today, the U.S. Command said that since the bombing halt, American reconnaissance has detected 5,044 "indications of enemy presence or activity" inside the DMZ, including 3,273 in South Vietnam's half and 1,771 in North Vietnam's sector.

Louisiana State Bans SDS Units

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Students for a Democratic Society has been denied charters on all campuses of the Louisiana State University system. The action, which also bars similar "new left" organizations, was approved Monday by the LSU Board of Supervisors.

"Recent events have made it clear that SDS is totally incompatible with the purpose of the modern university," LSU President John Hunter told the board. The record of SDS, he added, shows it "has no respect whatever for academic freedom — or preservation of the rights of others."

2 Whales Flying to NY Aquarium

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — A ton of whale, wrapped in foam rubber, takes off by airliner tonight for New York City.

Marineland of the Pacific is trading two small pilot whales and two striped dolphins to the New York Aquarium for some eastern shark. En route, crewmen will douse the mammals with water.

Birthplace of JFK to Be U.S. Shrine

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — (two-story frame house to the federal government.

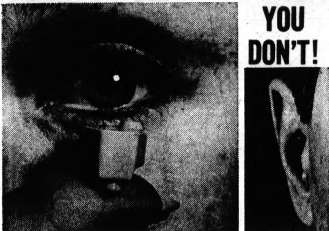

The birthplace of the late President John F. Kennedy will be dedicated a National Historical Site Thursday, the day he would have been 52 years old.

An announcement Monday said Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel will make the dedication and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, the late president's mother, will present the deed to the house.

The Kennedy family lived in the house from 1914 to 1920. The family repurchased it in 1966, and has restored it to its appearance as of 1917, the year of John Kennedy's birth.

Paint was manufactured in the United States as far back as 1692.

Cernan Is 'Our Cosmonaut' to Slovak Kin

VYSOKA NAD KYSCOU, River on the eastern slope of the mountain range that divides Slovakia and Moravia, 250 miles east of Prague. The population of Vysoka is 4,800, predominantly Catholic with a sprinkling of nonbelievers and Communists.

Imrich Cernan, cousin of American astronaut Eugene Cernan, proposed the toast in a darkened room full of Slovaks. The television screen so small it needed a magnifying glass to enlarge the flickering image of Apollo 10 brought from the Pacific by satellite, Eurovision and Czechoslovak TV.

By "our cosmonauts" Imrich meant Eugene A. Cernan, Thomas P. Stafford and John W. Young.

Especially Cernan. The Navy commander is a hero to this town of his forebears and its citizens are hoping he will visit them.

Waiting for the astronauts to be fished out of the ocean, Imrich said: "They're sure to be drinking to each other's health right now. They've got a tape recorder and recordings and spaghetti in there. Surely they must have a bottle of something to drink."

The three astronauts appeared clearly on the screen aboard the recovery ship Princeton a few minutes later. Children in the crowded room said, "There's Cernan on the left. There's Stafford. There's Young."

Imrich, 38, is of the same generation as his 35-year-old second cousin. They are great-grandsons of the late Andrew Cernan of Vysoka.

Two of Andrew's four sons emigrated to America about 1900. One of them was the astronaut's grandfather, Stegan.

"Now more and more people here claim to be related to our Gene," said Imrich.

Three families of Cernan cousins can be found in this town of stucco and log houses lining the meandering Kysuca Imrich once served in the Czechoslovak Air Force and worked for the city government until the Stalinists ousted him in the early 1960s, he said. The father of a daughter 11 and a son 18 months old, he now helps his parents at the family sawmill, working from dawn to dusk.

The sawmill was closed in 1949, when the Communists took over Czechoslovakia, but family members said they were allowed to open it last year during the period of liberalization, provided that 30 per cent of the profits were turned over to the local government.

Another cousin, Mrs. Maria Kubackova, made contact with the American side of the family. Hearing about the astronaut named Cernan, she wrote to the space center 2 1/2 years ago. Since then, she has received letters and Christmas cards from Eugene, his wife, and his father, who died a year ago.

Valedictorian, Salutatorian at Romeo High Announced

Romeo High School's graduating class of 1969 announced its valedictorian and salutatorian recently.

Earning the honor of valedictorian was Ronald Tabar who carried a 3.9 point average for his high school career.

The son of Mrs. Max Tabar of West Gales Street, Romeo, Ronald was a member of the school football team, National Honor Society, Science-Math Club, Varsity "R" Club and Wolverine Boys State and was senior class president.

He plans to attend Michigan Technological University in the fall, pursuing a career in physics.

Charles Seifert is the salutatorian with a 3.8 average. Charles' parents are

Marian Seniors in 'Who's Who'

"Who's Who Among American High School Students," sponsored by Merit Publishing Co., listed nine Marian seniors last month.

Students receiving this honor placed high in national scholarship and awards competition.

Gayle Crick, Suzanne Fox, Kathryn Kehoe, Kathleen O'Rourke, Kathryn Powers, Mary Loneragan, Mary Ann Nelson and Denyse Fox merited awards.

MAY COMPETE

Qualifying seniors may compete for one of 10 $400 scholarships offered by the Merit Publishing Company.

Scores of the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Test (ACT) are judged.

Based on high scores, 500 semifinalists are selected. Merit Publishing then chooses 10 winners and 10 alternates, considering students' financial needs.

"The scholarship awards are intended to offer financial aid to students who require assistance to further their education," Publisher Paul C. Krause noted in a letter sent to the qualifiers.

Students who are not selected as semifinalists are given certificates as honorary awards.

All students listed in "Who's Who" will have their names in an annual publication subscribed to by colleges, universities and libraries.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Seifert of West St. Clair, Romeo.

Also a member of various school activities, Charles plans to attend Kalamazoo College in September. He will study political science.

Sum're Cum Laude at Clarkston

By CONNIE RUSH

With the approach of graduation, 30 Clarkston High School seniors will be honored for their achievements in four years of high school.

Summa cum laude graduates are Mark Cowen and Mike Yarbrough.

JUNIOR HONOR GUARD

During the graduation ceremonies the senior class will be honored by 16 juniors who have been selected as honor guard. The students were chosen by their junior class sponsors, Paul Tugate and Howard Webster.

Selected are George Bennett, Nadine Blackett, Dana Carlson, Debbie Eudis, Jo Gordon, Sue Griffiths, Dan Hallman, Todd Lekander, Lou Lessard, Tammy Mahar, Lynn Norbert, Debbie Peters, Jane Richard, Dennis Storrs, Bill Vascasseno and Steve Warman.

The 14th annual all-school band concert was held Wednesday at the Clarkston High School gymnasium.

Included were performances by the high school varsity band, the junior high school honors band, and various elementary school bands from the Clarkston Community School system.

Directors of the concert were Barton Connors, Joseph Washburn, Mary Conklin and Douglas Doty.

Members recently selected to the Hilltopper (year-book) staff are Sue Elliott, James Klark, Don Lee, Dave

Adelphian Band Awards Given

By PAT EDWARDS

At Adelphian Academy's final concert, several awards were given out.

Two $75 scholarships to Interlochen Music Camp were granted to Sharon Widing, piano, and Lucy Salsbury, clarinet.

The award for the best section of the band was given to the first clarinets, composed of Colleen Kennedy, Diane VanBelle and Linda Patterson, all seniors, and Lucy Salsbury, a junior.

The John Philip Sousa Award, honoring the senior band member voted as most deserving, went to Dianne Erhard.

SENIORS MARCH

At the end of the concert, the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" was played as the seniors marched down, one by one, receiving their certificates from Band Director William Cemer.

At a recent chapel assembly, Roger McFarland, physical education and drivers' training instructor, announced that Adelphian plans to initiate an Industrial Arts program next year.

LePere, Mollie Lynch, Judy McDonald, Doug Peterson, Vickie Quartermore, Casey Smith, Ellen Taylor, Debby Thatcher, Dennis Weeks and Kirk Willard.

Elections Held at Brother Rice

By STEPHEN PALMS

Elections were held this past week for next year's senior, junior and sophomore classes at Brother Rice High School. Seniors elected Tim Mayer, president; Greza Szakacs vice president; Rich Morrison, secretary; and Mark MacGuidwin, treasurer.

Juniors tapped Tim Murphy, president; Keith Birchler vice president; Mike Campeau secretary; and Bill Hayes, treasurer.

SENIOR EXAMS START

Senior exams will be held today, tomorrow and Thursday.

The exams will be given in the gym to seniors who are not carrying at least a B average through the fourth quarter.

Graduation practice for the seniors will be Thursday at 1 p.m. Attendance is mandatory for all.

Brother Rice's yearbook, The Quest, has been received from the printer.

The editor of the '70 Quest, Richard Morrison, has announced Tim Murphy's appointment as assistant editor. Tim will succeed Richard as editor.

Honors Convocation at Mercy

By MARY ANNE MADDEN

The annual Honors Convocation will be held Thursday afternoon.

Awards will be presented from each department to those girls excelling in various fields.

Seniors who have had perfect attendance for four years also will be honored.

Performing Art Club members of Our Lady of Mercy High School recently elected Mary Malone treasurer, Jackie Flannery secretary, Pam Wisne vice president and Patricia Thull president for the 1969-70 school year.

$100 SCHOLARSHIP

Senior Sue LaBelle was recently presented with a $100 scholarship from Mercy's Athletic Association.

Sue, a varsity basketball player and water ballet participant, plans to study at Western Michigan University.

In addition to her activities in athletics, Sue is vice president of the Student Council.

Officers of the Latin club are Mary Cary, consul; Toni Ausum, tribune; C. Jakabowski, quaestor; S. La Porte, scribe; and Dona Tracey, censor.

Merit Scholar at Cranbrook

Alan G. Dowling of Cranbrook School has been accorded one of the highest academic honors by being named a National Merit Scholar.

In his sixth year at the independent college preparatory school for boys, Dowling will attend the University of Michigan on his scholarship.

National Merit Scholars must be outstanding in aptitude, leadership, citizenship and scholarship to achieve this honor. In the competition 73,114 qualified as semifinalists. Of these 1,000 scholars were named by National Merit with another 2,000 on sponsored scholarships.

Three Cranbrook seniors won Chrysler Corp. Fund scholarships. They are Robert L. Dzialo, to the University of Michigan; Scott R. Heath, to Stanford University, and John A. Sinclair, Le Chesnay, France. These scholarships are awarded to sons and daughters of Chrysler employees, or of employees of retail dealerships handling Chrysler products.

NEGRO SCHOLARS

Two other Cranbrook seniors were honored with scholarships from the National Achievement Scholarship Program for outstanding Negro students. They are Frederick L. Blackmon and Edward V. Perrin.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Dowling of Aberdovey Place, Birmingham, Alan has won 11 Reid Writing Awards at the school. He was co-chairman of the recent World Affairs Seminar on "Student Unrest: Revolution or Rebellion?"

This year Dowling was chairman of the weekly political discussion meetings of "Forum." He is a regular contributor to "Tracks," the creative writing magazine.

Dzialo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dzialo, was named to the school's Ruth Arie Klein Memorial Scholarship this year, has won several scholastic writing awards and earned letters in both cross-country and track.

THESPIAN OFFICER

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger J. Heath, Scott was co-chairman of the World Affairs Seminar, has won three scholastic writing awards and two Reid Writing Awards, and is president of the Ergesterton (dramatics) Club.

Sinclair has consistently placed on the school's honor roll, was captain of the cross-country team and has won letters in track. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Sinclair.

Both Blackmon and Perrin came to Cranbrook School from Cass Technical High School, Perrin three years ago and Blackmon a year later.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Blackmon, Fred was manager of the school's baseball team last year. Perrin, son of Mrs. J. M. Perrin, is on the staff of the "Crane," the school's paper, and has won a letter in track.

Milford Adds to Scholarship

By ROSE MAKI

As the end of the second semester draws near at Milford High School, selections are being made for scholarships.

A motion was made for the Student Council to give a $200 scholarship to a senior, with a high scholastic standing, that is in need of financial aid.

This $200 will be added to the $100 given by the League Student Council. The recipient is chosen by a committee of counselors, three teachers and four students.

The senior class of Milford High has chosen June 2 for its skip day.

At 8:30 a.m., a bus will leave to take seniors to Cedar Point in Sandusky, Ohio. The cost of the trip is $10. Students not going on the trip must be in school.

Spirited Ethel Kennedy Bounces Back

(EDITOR'S NOTE — It was a year ago this June 5 when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was slain in the midst of an election victory celebration in California — and Ethel Kennedy began a year of mourning. How has she spent that time and what are her plans now, as she prepares to make her first official public appearance? Here's a look at Ethel Kennedy, widow and mother of 11 children.)

MCLEAN, Va. (AP) — During the year of mourning for her slain husband, it was Ethel Kennedy who kept everyone else's spirits high as she carefully put together the shattered fabric of her life.

A host of friends testify to Ethel's amazing ability to keep the fun and games going at her Hickory Hill home—the way it was when Bobby was there. "It has the same zany quality, with 12 things going on at once," a friend reports.

"But, if she's downbeat, she never let's on," according to columnist Art Buchwald, one of the many friends who also have rallied to help Mrs. Kennedy through a traumatic time.

Ethel Skakel Kennedy was 41 on April 11. This June she would have been celebrating her 19th wedding anniversary.

Instead, she will be ending a year of mourning, making her first official public appearance at the June 7 dedication of D.C. Stadium, renamed Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium for her late husband.

In the year since Sen. Kennedy was assassinated in a Los Angeles hotel in mid-campaign, his widow, Ethel, has immersed herself in the exuberant activities of her brood of 11 children, focusing on being a mother. She has found solace in her family, her religion and in planning projects in her husband's memory.

A devout Roman Catholic, she goes to Mass almost every day. And, at the 5½-acre Kennedy estate, Hickory Hill here she helps with the school car pool and often plays tennis two or three times a day, continuing her lifelong dedication to vigorous sports, including the Kennedy's favorite, touch football.

She still runs the 19-room Georgian house the way one intimate described it—"as a country club for her friends."

Whenever they're in town, friends such as mountain climber James Whitaker, singer Andy Williams and astronaut John Glenn can be found there, among scores of close associates who pop in and out and take the Kennedy children on outings.

CHILDREN BRAVE

Shortly after Sen. Kennedy's death, Ethel told friends "the children are so brave. They have helped me more than they can know."

It was the children, in a typical family conference of their own, who decided they wanted to keep Hickory Hill "as home."

"Old Moms," as Ethel laughingly calls herself, agreed with them—especially since Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, wife and three children, live just 2½ miles down the same road in a new McLean home.

Ethel was expecting her 11th child when her husband was killed. At first, friends reported she was very emotional and upset about it, oppressed by the fact that Bobby would not be there to share the new baby.

Like Jackie, who leaned on Bobby after the assassination of her husband, President John F. Kennedy, Ethel leaned on the last remaining Kennedy brother, Ted. "She and Ted are quite close," a friend commented, "and Ethel is very loyal to him" and heartily approves of his continuing political activities.

When the baby was finally due, an entourage, including Ted and Olympic decathlon champion Rafer Johnson, accompanied Ethel to Georgetown Hospital. Typical of Ethel, she took along five suitcases and a three-speed electric fan, duly noted by reporters who came to check her in too.

The baby was born Dec. 12 — six months after Sen. Kennedy's death. It was a Caesarean delivery, her fifth. The baby was named Rory after her father, Robert Kennedy.

The first thing Ethel did when she left the hospital was to take her baby to Sen. Kennedy's grave in Arlington National Cemetery, an emotional and impulsive gesture.

Her friends say the baby "helped distract Ethel in a way" and she seemed to consider "she lost one person and gained another."

"She bounced back; nothing really defeats her," was the comment of one insider.

"When she talks about Bobby, it's as if he's still alive."

The one item that's been taboo, though, was the trial of Kennedy's slayer, Sirhan B. Sirhan, and his recent conviction by a Los Angeles court.

Life at Hickory Hill had centered about the zestful, handsome, 42-year-old Sen. Kennedy. All of their married life, Ethel had taken her cues from her husband and her life revolved around him, his ideas, his enthusiasms and his friends and projects.

She had always been "Bobby's shadow," a friend said. When he died she became "a tremendous personality" on her own, rising to every occasion. "Just a marvel" and "steadily terrific," was the assessment of one intimate.

The daughter of a self-made millionaire, Ethel grew up in a family of seven children in Connecticut, in an atmosphere of ease, comfort and competitive sports, as did the Kennedys. Ethel died to observe a year of mourning. Except for bright-colored maternity clothes worn at home, she mostly wore the traditional mourning colors of black and white. She even had black and white skiing attire when she took her children on a winter vacation to the Waterville, N.H., ski slopes her husband loved.

Ethel has had the benefit of personal wealth and highly-placed friends to help ease her bereavement. She went off at Eastertime with two of her children for a cruise aboard the Onassis yacht "Christina" with sister-in-law Jackie.

Socially, Ethel has limited herself to attending private dinners at the homes of close friends.

Ethel has been busy with memorials for her late husband. The major one is the Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Foundation set up last October to raise $10 million to "act as a catalytic force" in trying to solve some of the nation's pressing problems.

When it came to discussing the D.C. Stadium dedication, Fred Dutton, close friend and executive director of the RFK Memorial Foundation, said Ethel "was insistent that this not just be a solemn dedication ceremony with a lot of officials."

At her suggestion, the ceremony will include a group of athletes and Washington school children.

Wellocks Return Just in Time for Metropolitan's Opening

By SHIRLEY GRAY

The Edward S. Wellocks of Bloomfield Hills are back from their accustomed extended stay at their home-away-from-home in Honolulu.

"It was a very gay and busy winter," says Irene. "We saw more Birmingham-Bloomfield people there than we would have if we had stayed here. It got to be a game — guessing who would be turning up next."

ATTEND OPERA

The Wellocks aren't wasting any time getting back in step. They were at the opening of Opera Week Monday evening. Before the show, they, along with Mr. and Mrs. Graham John Graham, Dr. and Mrs. Herman Scarney and the Harold Fitzgeralds, were hosted for dinner at the Detroit Club by Dr. and Mrs. Howard Barker.

The same group attended the afterglow supper dance at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Also at the Detroit Club for pre-opera dinner were Mr. and Mrs. J. Philip Moses of Bloomfield Hills, the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Maiullo of Detroit.

Mrs. Moses, by the way, has just learned her father will be decorated by the Italian government at the annual Italian-American Ball at the Whittier Hotel on June 6.

While a good many localities are flocking to Detroit to soak up all the opera they can during the Metropolitan's one-week stay, there will be a few stay-at-homes.

One couple, who shall remain nameless, won't be there because the husband considers opera "an archaic art form, suitable only for Italian peasants."

Another pair goes to the opera every third year, because that's about as often as hubby can sit through the thing — and this isn't their year.

The Oscar Lundins of New York City, former area residents, are in town for a brief, brief visit, staying at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Juvenile Expert Will Give Talk for Federation

The golden gavel annual dinner for member groups of the Pontiac Area Federation of Women's Clubs is scheduled June 9 at 6:30 p.m., in the grand ballroom of the Kingsley Inn.

"What Makes Dennis a Menace," will be the topic of guest speaker, Arthur Ruhl. He is administrative assistant in Juvenile Court of Wayne County. He is also president of Big Brothers.

For reservations, checks payable to the Federation should be sent to Mrs. Robert Bego of Bloomfield Hills or Mrs. Adrian Ish of Woodbine Street by June 6. Mrs. Ivan Schram is general chairman of the event. Assisting her are Julie O'Brien, and Mesdames: Herbert McBride, and Cameron Clark.

The Federation's officers will serve as hostesses.

Wedding Information

Planning your wedding? We want to help you.

Beginning June 9, we must have information about your wedding in our office five days in advance of the ceremony. Information blanks are available in the women's department, or the material may be printed clearly on any large sheet of paper.

Pictures will still be accepted up to three days after the ceremony, but the information must be in our hands ahead of time.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is engaged to be married in November. Well, last week, while looking for bobby pins in her dresser drawer, I came across some little pink pills in a queer-looking pill box. When I asked her what they were, she said "Birth control pills. You know I'm supposed to take them three months before the wedding." (I know she had taken one that day because there was one less than the day before.)

My question is this: "Why is she taking them now when the marriage isn't until November?"

I would throw her fiancé right out on his ear but I'm afraid she'd go with him, and it would break my heart as I love my daughter very much. Every time I look at her fiancé now I get a terrible feeling of hatred. How in the world can I help plan a wedding in November feeling the way I do about him? DISAP.

DEAR MOM: You had better get over your feeling of "hatred." It takes two to tango, and while I do not condone this type dance step before the wedding march, it beats the "Rockabye Baby" waltz.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me what you think of a father who doesn't think he's needed at the hospital when his three-year-old son has his third operation. (Plastic surgery for burns.)

Daddy wasn't there for the first two, either. Mommy went alone and sat in the waiting room for a couple of hours.

My husband says, "What good will it do the boy? I'll come in the evening to see him when he knows I'm there." Am I right or wrong? I feel that my husband should be there? "MOMMY'S HERE!"

DEAR MOMMY: I can't imagine a father who would stay away. But aside from this idiosyncrasy, he may be an adequate husband and parent. Don't push it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old girl who is still single. Sure, I wish I were married, but things haven't worked out that way.

Whenever I visit my married friends, it's always the same old story. They can't understand why a nice girl who is pretty, has a good figure and pleasant personality isn't married. They keep insisting I am too "fussy."

This really hurts me and makes me wonder if maybe I should marry the first man who comes along no matter what he's like or how I feel about him.

I've dated quite a few men. Some fell in love with someone else and others I never seemed to care enough for.

Perhaps if you print this, some of my friends will read it and realize how much they can hurt a girl without meaning to.

STILL SINGLE

DEAR STILL: And to those friends who hurt without meaning to, may I suggest that if you really want to be helpful, keep your eyes open for an eligible man who may fill the bill. The best way for a nice girl to meet a nice man is through mutual friends.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26 years old, have no serious problems, but I need a little advice. My figure is just fine until it comes to my hips. They are way out of proportion to the rest of me. It runs in my family. If I diet, I lose in all the wrong places. I'd like to reduce my hips about 20 inches. But how? HIPPIY

DEAR HIPPIY: If your "fat" is on your hips, if you diet, that is where you'll lose. Rolling on the floor is good exercise, and so is walking — but not to the refrigerator.

Cranbrook Benefit Honors Retired Department Head

Art works by some of the country's outstanding craftsmen are featured in a benefit sale for the Malja Grottel Fund at Cranbrook Art Galleries. The affair, which honors Malja Grottel, retired head of the ceramics department at the school's Academy of Art, will run through June 15.

Miss Grottel headed the department for 28 years before her retirement in 1966. She now lives on the campus.

The sale, which includes a variety of media, will be open from 1-5 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays, except Memorial Day.

Card Players Pose Problem With Smoking

By ELIZABETH L. POST of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a senior citizen, rather limited as far as physical activities are concerned as I have a chronic respiratory condition. My main diversion is getting together two or three times a week for a card game.

However, even this mild diversion presents a problem, as I am allergic to smoke, and I honestly believe there is no worse cause of air pollution than smoking at card tables in a small clubhouse.

I do think that out of consideration for others the addicted smokers might inquire if it bothers any player, and if so, the smoker could try to refrain until it is his turn to be "dummy" and then leave the table and enjoy a smoke. Are there rules of etiquette governing this situation? — Betty

Dear Betty: There is no question but that smokers should ask permission to smoke when there are non-smokers present — especially in close quarters such as around a card table. If they do not, a person who has an allergy, as you do, should speak up and explain his problem.

Your suggestion that the smoker wait until he is dummy to step into another room to smoke is a good one.

When a smoker is a true addict, it is almost as miserable for him to refrain as for you to be subjected to the smoke, so in that case, possibly it is better if you try not to play at the same table at all.

Women's Civil Rights at Stake on the Coast

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Mating Game, Inc., wants to overturn a 36-year-old state law which keeps women from becoming bartenders.

The firm, which operates P.J.'s, a West Hollywood nightclub, filed suit Friday against the state of California, the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, ABC director Edward J. Kirby and Los Angeles County.

It contended the state law, passed in 1933 and amended in 1957, was superseded by the Federal Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits discrimination in hiring on the basis of sex.

The law presently allows women to serve as bartenders only if they or their husband own the tavern.

American Paintings to Go on Display Soon

A selection of Twentieth Century American paintings and watercolors will be exhibited at the J. L. Hudson Gallery June 2 through 30.

Works by Anna M. R. (Grandma) Moses, Ben Shahn, Childe Hassam, Willem deKooning and Alexander Calder are included.

Others are: Larry Zox, John Marin, Walter Murch, Romare Bearden, Leonard Baskin, Lee Gatch and Stuart Davis.

The Gallery on the seventh floor of Hudson's downtown store is open during store hours.

Danger Lies in Common Spray Cans

NEW YORK (UPI) — Maybe women should wear goggles when using hairspray or oven cleaner.

That is, to hear Dr. Alden N. Haffner, tell it. "The executive director of the Optometric Center of New York said in an interview that ingredients in both products have a terrific potential for damaging eyes."

"Hardly a day goes by that we don't have a case of a woman with eyes injured by oven cleaners," he said. "Most contain lye."

Hairspray isn't that lethal but it irritates and can damage the tender covering of the eyes, according to the expert.

Dr. Haffner, also advisory board chairman for the Society for Visual Care, said also that some women hurt their eyelids by pasting on false eyelashes too close to the edge of the lid.

He suggested that the eyelashes be affixed on a bigger flap of the lids to avoid irritation.

Dr. Haffner, a specialist in public administration of health and welfare services, also worries about how the craze for long hair, among male and female teen-agers, obstructs vision when driving.

Gals Earn Own Money

DEAR POLLY—Betty wanted to know how her school organization could make money. I thought she might be interested in how our Camp Fire Girls made money to go to a conference.

First, the girls went to a barbershop and had the shoeshine boy teach them the proper way to clean and shine shoes. They made posters for publicity purposes and got permission from the proper city authorities to shine shoes on a downtown sidewalk.

Each girl had a shoeshine kit, and men, boys and even some women leaned against a wall and put one foot at a time on the kit while one of the girls shined their shoes on her knees on a throw rug. There were no charges, just donations.

Most men gave from 50 cents to a dollar, some gave as much as $5 and one man actually gave $50 and still another gave just a penny. This was something new and different for our town — seeing shoeshine girls all around and polish all over them. It was even put on television.

DEAR POLLY—I am a working housewife who uses every possible short cut and time-saver. It is difficult to open and close shampoo bottles while in the shower, so I put my shampoo in a plastic dishwashing liquid bottle with the snap-open flip-open top. This way the bottle will not break if dropped.

If it tips over, the shampoo will not run out.

When in the kitchen, I eliminate one small clean-up job. While cooking or baking, I save any empty can or box to put the cooking spoons or other implements on to avoid messing up the stove or counter top. When the cooking is finished, I just throw the can or box away.

The oldest and the youngest get together in this five-generation picture. Larry Lee DeLorge Jr. is held by his great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Herman Smaltz of East Walton Boulevard. From left to right, (rear) are Mrs. Gerald De-

Lorge, the baby's grandmother, who lives on East South Boulevard; the father, Larry L. DeLorge of Florence Street, and Mrs. Howard Evans of Woodmere Street, great-grandmother.

Miss Wade Wears Gown of Organza

St. Michael's Catholic Church was the setting Friday for vows uniting Lynette Ann Wade and Raymond Louis Lavoe.

For the late afternoon ceremony, the daughter of the Robert C. Wades of Nelson Street wore an organza gown highlighted with lace bodice and cuffs.

Lisa Wade was maid of honor for her sister with Ronna Lee Newton, Sue Wilson, Mrs. Michael Thornberry, K and Y McLarty and Patricia Lavoe as bridesmaids.

On the esquire side, Hervey Lavoe Jr. was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the senior Hervey Lavoes of Home Street.

Ushers were George Lavoe, Gerald Wade, Michael Thornberry and Gerald Stanton. The newlyweds were feted at the Metropolitan Club.

MRS. RAYMOND LAVOE

Use Wallpaper

Use those leftover rolls of wallpaper for outdoor tablecloths for picnics and informal children's parties. Cut them into strips of the right length to cover the picnic table. Fasten ends of strips with thumbtacks to hold them in place.

There were 494,500 crimes of violence in the U.S. in 1967.

Sorority Unit to Initiate Two

An Initiation dinner honoring two new members, Mrs. Dennis Shearer and Mrs. Ivan Stretten III, will take place at 6:30 p.m. today for members of Beta Theta chapter, Lambda Chi Omega in Jayson's.

Mrs. Melvin Small will act as toastmistress at the event where former members will come as guests.

Vows Held Saturday

St. Paul's United Methodist daisies, white carnations and Church, Rochester, was the ivy.

Wayne Barber of Royal Oak was best man with Michael Bird and James Ruggles as usher.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carole Purdom, the bride wore a silk organza gown with Street and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chantilly lace. She held a Mrs. Peter Hixson of Washington, Mich., are honeymooning at Niagara Falls, Canada.

Prior to their departure they were feted in the church parlors.

Aerosol Spray Protects Fabrics

A new aerosol spray acts as a guard against oily or watery stains on apparel or household fabrics. The manufacturer says the spray can be used on any clean, colorfast fabric to leave an invisible soil repellent.

It is suggested also for convertible car tops, golf bags, tennis racquet covers, canvas shoes or to restore water repellency to rainwear.

"Rare books have a charm of their own," says Rosenberg, who has a special preference for contemporary American poetry and who started collecting books 10 years ago. "Trying to find a rare book is a real challenge," adds his wife.

Sixty per cent of the short-term hospitals in the United States have less than 100 beds.

Reversible Cloth Is All-Occasion

Two easy-care favorites — terrycloth and vinyl — team up in an all-occasion reversible tablecloth. The rough side is for card playing, patio, picnics, and beach.

The slick printed side is for informal meals or children's parties. It is available in many colors and sizes, including round with a zipper and umbrella hole.

Law Optimistic on Dog Racing

Dog racing for Michigan is more possible now than ever before, according to State Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac, co-sponsor of a bill now before the State Legislature.

The greyhound racing bill was sent yesterday to the House floor by the appropriations committee.

Law told The Press today, "It's in the best position it's ever been." Last year a similar bill lost 75-30 in the house. The present legislation would call for permitting a greyhound track in counties over 400,000 population—Oakland, Wayne and Macomb—plus two counties in the Upper Peninsula.

The dog racing would not be allowed to compete with thoroughbred horse racing, however, Law said. He envisions winter racing in enclosed tracks. A firm in Nebraska builds such structures, Law said.

Summertime dog racing would however be allowed in the Upper Peninsula during the tourist season, he proposed. Suggested locations are at the Soo and near the Wisconsin border.

Police to Get New Blue Hue

Waterford Board OKs Changes in Uniforms

Waterford Township's police department will sport a new look in the near future.

The township board last night approved purchase of new uniforms to replace the present gray-brown-charcoal combination.

The new outfits will include french blue trousers, dark blue shirts, light blue ties and Montana (Canadian Mountie style) hats.

Present uniforms will be replaced as they wear out and no cost other than routine replacement expenditures will be incurred.

In other new business, the board authorized drafting on agreement for construction of new sanitary facilities for a township fire hall, tabled motion for purchase of new fire hose and approved a lot split.

STATION NO. 3

The agreement, which will include the township, a private sanitation firm and the Oakland County Department of Public Works, would provide a new sanitary system for fire station No. 3, 3435 Elizabeth Lake.

Firemen at the station have been using temporary facilities since the original system broke down.

A lot split at Supervisor's Plat No. 10, Kemps and Pomeroy, was approved and first notices were given on two proposed rezonings and a proposed ordinance regulating the use of fireworks.

The board's vehicle committee recommended acceptance of specifications proposed by fire officials in reviewing future bids on a new fire truck. Bids will be opened at the June 23 board meeting.

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP

Service for James N. Rickabaugh, 59, of 2460 Hoover will be 11 a.m. Saturday at the Commerce Methodist Church. His body is at the Elton Black Funeral Home, Union Lake.

Mr. Rickabaugh died today. He was a GMC Truck and Coach employee for 35 years and a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Surviving besides his wife, Elvin, are three sons, James Jr. with the Army in Vietnam and Robert and John, both at home; a daughter, Donna Jean at home; two sisters; and a grandchild.

Mrs. Adam Walencik

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Adam (Mary Ann) Walencik, 82, of 3850 Granger died today. Her body is at the Pursley-Gilbert Funeral Home.

Mrs. Walencik was a member of St. Joseph's Church.

Surviving are her husband; three sons, Paul, Stanley and Adam, all of Pontiac; four daughters, Mrs. Vernon Richards of Waterford Township, Mrs. Robert Frasier of Milford, Mrs. Floyd Post of Pontiac and Mrs. Glenn O. Cox of Ortonville; 23 grandchildren; and 11 great grandchildren.

Carl F. Wollanger

LAKE ORION — Service for Carl F. Wollanger, 68, of 34 North Shore will be 1 p.m. Thursday at Allen's Funeral Home with burial in East Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Wollanger died Sunday. He was a retired machine operator at Industrial Machine Inc., Oxford, and a member of the American Legion Charlton-Polans Post 233.

Credit Card Gives His Secret Away

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — He a man presented a clothing store clerk a credit card bearing the name Loral R. Tansey to pay for $73 worth of clothes. The clerk was Tansey's brother Albert. The customer was not Loral.

Police arrested Robert N. Anderson, 23, of Indianapolis on a charge of using a credit card illegally.

NASA's Goal? 'Solar System'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — After the moon, the whole solar system.

That says the director of America's space program, is the long-range goal.

And Dr. Thomas O. Paine, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, believes the conquest of earth's fellow planets will prove to be "reasonably straightforward."

"While the moon has been the focus of our efforts," Paine told a news conference Monday, "the true goal is far more than being the first to land men on the moon, as though it were a celestial Mt. Everest to be climbed."

"The real goal is to develop and demonstrate the capability for interplanetary travel," Paine said the space program was "providing the most exciting possible answer to the age-old question of whether life exists on other planets and the moon and the planets," and Aldrin Jr.

"The answer is yes. Men are working together with modern science and technology can extend the domain of terrestrial life throughout the solar system."

The next step is Apollo 11. Its towering rocket already sits on a pad at Cape Kennedy.

Monday's News of State Leaders in Capsule Form

By The Associated Press THE GOVERNOR

Reappointed Irving B. Feldman as state public administrator. Reappointed Leonard Zimmerman, Lansing, M. Jane Kay, Detroit, Brice D. Maddox, Grand Haven, to the Employment Security Advisory Council.

Was in Detroit to present Wolverine Frontier awards to business and civic leaders in the final ceremony of Michigan week.

Ordered Alko Products, Inc., Holt, to halt "illegal and deceptive advertising practices" within 48 hours or face court action.

Reported a survey shows 218 school districts had 156 school bus brake failures so far this year, and 12 accidents resulted in 62 injuries.

Reported more cases handled in 1968 and more than twice as many opinions written in 1969 after three new appointments raised the number of judges to 12.

Conducted routine business.

Debated but did not approve legislation to deny state scholarships to college students who participate in "violent or disruptive activity" within five miles of a campus.

Record Turnout Seen for LA Mayor Vote

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The biggest turnout of city voters in history was predicted for the runoff election today between Mayor Sam Yorty, seeking a third term, and his Negro challenger, Thomas Bradley.

City Clerk Rex Layton estimated that 70 to 75 per cent of the 1,127,224 registered voters in the nation's third largest municipality would cast ballots in the nonpartisan election.

Both Yorty, 59, and Bradley, 50, are Democrats, but Bradley, a city councilman and former police lieutenant, won the strong backing of Democratic leaders.

Yorty has long been regarded as a maverick by party regulars because of his refusal to support Democratic nominees in past elections. In 1960, Yorty endorsed Richard M. Nixon over John F. Kennedy.

Although Negro voters number only 15 to 20 per cent of the electorate, Bradley led Yorty by 100,000 votes in the primary, which had a field of four.

Polls showed him running well ahead again, but he cautioned his backers against overconfidence.

"You and I know the polls show me in a substantial lead," Bradley said. "But we cannot let down."

Poll hours were 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. PDT.

designed by Salvatore!

After years of designing and controlling the quality of America's most famous $85-$125 suits, Salvatore creates the 69.95 suit that should sell for $100.

Salvatore says:

"Our imported fabrics are equal to and many are superior to cloths used in the $100 and up men's suit."

Salvatore says:

"Our styling is as distinctive and forward-looking as the most innovative men's suits in the country."

Salvatore says:

"Seven of the $100 and up men's suit makers use the same inner canvas we have in our $69.95 suit."

Salvatore says:

"There are details in the $100 suit that add to the price without adding to its appearance or life. We put the significant details in our 69.95 suit."

Salvatore says:

"We use the same shoulder pads found in the $100 and up suit."

Salvatore says:

'Punitive Laws Not Campus Key'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's new commissioner of education, Dr. James E. Allen, says punitive legislation can never solve the problems of campus disruption and violence.

Instead, Allen said in an interview, legislators and educators should seek to achieve changes in curricula and cope with "legitimate student protests and legitimate requests from students for change."

Excerpts from the question-and-answer session:

Q. Do you think the rash of proposals in state legislatures and in Congress for legislation against campus dissidents will be effective in curbing disruption?

A. I can appreciate and understand the concern that Congress and the legislatures have over the disruption and violence which has been taking place on campus. But I simply do not believe that punitive, negative legislation can solve the problem.

LAWS AVAILABLE

Generally, I think there are enough laws already available to us for handling those few students who have violated the laws of the universities and of society.

I am particularly opposed to legislation which would withdraw funds from institutions. Any student found guilty of a crime or of illegal disruption and expelled from an institution would automatically forfeit the right to any federal financial aid to pay for his college education.

I think we ought to begin to think in terms of how we can help colleges and universities achieve changes in curricula; how they can handle legitimate student protests and legitimate requests from students for change. We should also seek to bring about those changes which are so long overdue in our institutions.

I think we could accomplish far more this way than we could through any kind of punitive, negative legislation.

Q. If new federal money becomes available for education during the Nixon Administration, where would you favor spending it?

A. The basic priority in U.S. education is to raise the level of those children who now are caught below minimum levels of competence. This is a critical area. This is why urban education, for example, is so important.

STUDENT AID EXTENSION

In higher education, I think that any additional funds which become available in the immediate future should be used to extend further the student aid program.

Although this has been extended recently, I still think that what is being done is relatively minor in terms of the number of students being reached.

This is probably the most urgent need in higher education financially in the immediate future.

At the same time, farther down the road, we are going to have to face up to the need for aid to educational institutions. If additional aid is concentrated one way or the other, it will narrow opportunities for institutions to maintain quality.

It's not a question of aid to students or to institutions, it's a question of balance. We need to take stock of where we stand on student aid and of how much is needed. After that, we need to look at the fiscal plight of the institutions themselves to find out what they need.

Q. Do you believe that community control and decentralization offer solutions to subpar education in inner city areas, particularly where integration is impossible due to a preponderantly minority enrollment?

A. It is true that in some parts of the country you are not going to be able to desegregate schools in the foreseeable future. In the meantime, we must see that every child gets the best education he can have.

Because a child is in a segregated school is no reason he should not have the best.

In some large school systems you have parents who see their children coming home unable to read at the level expected of them. This is among the problems that centralized school authorities are trying to solve. But parents don't see them getting solved, so they say they should have a control in how the schools are run and in what is taught in them.

LEGITIMATE REQUESTS

These are very legitimate and proper requests on the part of parents. I think every large city should seek to work with parents in devising ways in which there can be meaningful community control.

If this can be worked out and parents given the right to participate in their schools, they will become more responsible. Only when they feel they have no say do they begin to act irresponsibly.

I would favor every large school system seeking ways to decentralize so, that we can have good, healthy school systems.

I want to stress, however, that I believe a child's education is better in an integrated setting. But I don't believe the goal of integration and the goal of community control are in conflict. Many people flee the cities because they don't believe the schools are adequate. If the schools could be improved and the quality of inner city education raised, I think integration would be furthered.

'Grannies for a Democratic Society' in Offing?

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It was only after absorbing an overdose of twaddle concerning the youth of today that I decided to pay a call on Dr. Horace McFeeble, U.S. commissioner of old folks.

"Dr. McFeeble," I said, "what is your overall opinion of the old folks today?"

"I have no hesitation in saying that today's generation of old folks is the finest that America has ever produced," he replied. "The old folks of today are capable, bright and knowledgeable. We could learn a lot from the old folks if we would just bother to listen to them."

I said, "I have heard a lot of wild stories about old folks in Florida living in sin because they would lose part of their Social Security or some such benefit if they got married. Would you care to comment on that?"

NOT CONDONING
"Let me make one thing perfectly clear," McFeeble said. "I am not in any way condoning any hanky-panky that may be going on in Florida, southern California and other retirement centers."

"I remind you, however, that the old folks of today are not necessarily guided by moral standards that existed two or three thousand years ago. Or even two or three hundred years ago."

"I should also point out that these cases involve only a very small percentage of the aged population. The vast majority of old folks are decent, clean-cut, senior citizens."

I said, "Is it not true that when you recently visited a real home you were struck on the head by a 'Home, Sweet Home' wall sampler thrown by a militant octogenarian?"

"I am not denying there have been incidents of that sort," McFeeble said. "but it is terribly unfair to judge all old people by the actions of a few hotbloids."

"By playing up the sensational, you newspapermen are creating a false impression."

I said, "To what do you attribute the rebellious spirit among the old folks of today?"

"I think today's old folks have become disillusioned with today's youth, whom they regard as self-centered, overbearing, superimposed tyrants. So they are seeking to create their own set of values."

"Do you believe they have a valid reason for feeling alienated?"

"Not entirely. Part of it is due to a breakdown in communications, caused by weak batteries in hearing aids. I am convinced, however, that meaningful dialogues are conducted, the old folks can make a worthwhile contribution to our society."

I left Dr. McFeeble's office greatly reassured. When I hear these things said about old people, it almost sounds significant.

Hayes Jones in State 'Hall'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac's Hayes Jones officially took his place last night among the greatest sports figures in Michigan's history.

It was the 15th annual Michigan Sports Hall of Fame banquet held at Cobo Hall, and Jones, along with George Kell and the late Walter O. Briggs, Sr., were the three inductees to take their place among the 63 who have now been enshrined in the state.

On hand for the ceremonies were 16 of the Hall's 29 living members including such names as Fritz Crider, Bennie Oosterbaan, Gordie Howe, Bobby Layne, Doak Walker, Sid Abel, Dutch Clark, Bennie Friedman, Guy Houston, Jean Hoxie, Hal Newhouse, Charley Gehring, Al Watrous, Heinie Manush, Goose Goslin, and Ray Fisher.

Among the speakers was Michigan's senior U.S. senator, Phillip Hart of Oakland County and Mickey Mantle, recently retired star of the New York Yankees.

It was the privilege of this writer to make the introduction of Jones.

Making the introduction speech for

Kell was Hal Middlesworth, publicity director of the Detroit Tigers; and giving the induction talk for the late ex-owner of the Tigers, Walter Briggs was Edgar Hayes, former sports editor of the now-defunct Detroit Times.

In accepting his award, Jones, now the recreation commissioner of New York City, said, "We should always look back for the purpose of seeing whether we could have done better in our endeavors."

"This is the highest honor an amateur athlete can achieve," Jones added, "and for me is my job now of trying to help the young athletes just starting out."

Hayes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jones of Pontiac, along with his wife and son were on hand to watch the enshrinement of the former PCH star.

Ex-PCH track coach Dean Wilson and Dr. Lee Haslinger, represented the Pontiac school system at the event.

Kell, who had never played on a pennant winner in Detroit, called the 1968 season the next best thing. He received his World Series ring as part of the Tigers' TV broadcast team last season.

Spike Briggs, Jr., accepted the plaque for the Briggs family, sole owners of the Tigers for 16 years.

DIFFERENT ANSWERS

In answers to questions directed at some of the past inductees:

"I like the round figure 25. That's how many I'd like to have played in the NFL." . . . Gordie Howe.

"I think what the Lions need is an organizer and a few singers." . . . Doak Walker

"Yes, I'd like to coach a pro football team, if I owned one" . . . Bobby Layne.

"I think Denny McLain has every chance to 30 games. He's on pace with his 1968 number of wins." . . . Hal Newhouse.

"The Tigers are 7 1/2 games off the pace and they have the good hot summer months of July and August to catch up," . . . Charley Gehring.

"My choice as the best young player on the golf tour today would be Tom Weiskopf." . . . Al Watrous.

"Of course I'm not coaching, but I think University of Michigan fans can look ahead to a fine football season this Fall." . . . Benny Oosterbaan.

Master of Ceremonies for the 15th annual event was Frank Slocum former assistant in the baseball commissioner's office.

PROUD FAMILY — The Joneses had plenty to smile about last night. Olympic champion hurdler Hayes (right) was inducted into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame. He is shown with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Jones; his wife, Odeane; and son, Wendell. Hayes is recreation commissioner for the city of New York.

Kettering Loses, 83-35

WTHS Thinclads Sink Rival

There is a bright spot today in an otherwise cloudy track season for Waterford Township.

The Skippers ran away from Waterford Kettering, 83-35, yesterday to up its dual meet record to 6-7-1. Larry Whetstone led the victory with a pair of freests and 12 1/4 points.

Whetstone won the 100 and 220, ran on the winning 880 relay team and placed third in the high jump. Ron Taber of the Skippers also was a double winner. He took both hurdle races.

Although he didn't place first, Steve Kressbach gained eight points for Waterford. He placed second in the long jump and shot put and third in the two hurdle events.

Kettering won four events. State champion Kevin Reabe took the 880 in 2:00.3 and Mike McCaffery and 440. They were on the winning mile relay team.

Drivers Await Friday Classic

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mark Donohue, America's premier road racing driver, tops the field of rookies in cars for Friday's Indianapolis 500.

The rookie tag here, of course, refers only to the lack of previous 500 experience. Grand Prix veteran Graham Hill of Britain was a rookie when he won the 1966 race.

The average age of this year's five rookies is 31. All but Bruce Walkup, 24, are veterans in other racing circles.

Do they feel like rookies here? "You bet I'm a rookie," says George Follmer, 35, of Arcadia, Calif., who is driving his own car. "I don't imagine you can hear that big crowd race day, but I'm sure you feel extra pressure."

SUCCESS

Follmer's background includes success in sports car racing and a victory in the first U.S. Auto Club championship race of this season, a 150-mile event in his native Phoenix, Ariz.

Donohue, who received the Martini and Rossi Driver of the Year award last year, said he was happy about the rain that washed out the scheduled first weekend of 500 qualifying May 17-18.

"I woke up that first morning and looked out the motel window. The stands were full and it was only 8 o'clock. It kind of shook me up."

A week later, more relaxed, he put his Lola, with a turbocharged Offenhauser engine, in the fourth starting spot.

It's the best starting position for a rookie since Mario Andretti won the same spot in 1965.

Donohue, a Brown University graduate, left an engineering job in New Jersey two years ago to begin driving full time. He lives in Media, Pa.

FIRST RACE

He'll be seeing his first Indy race and its crowd of 300,000 from the cockpit of car No. 66.

The Rev. Vernon of New York City gives the Ivy League another representative in this year's rookie class.

Revision, 30, attended Cornell for two years. He's driving a car for Jack Brabham of Australia and starting last in the field of 23.

Tryout for Firebirds

All players interested in trying out for the Pontiac Firebirds of the Midwest Football League are invited to attend a team meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the VFW Post 1370 located at 398 S. Saginaw.

Grosse Pointe Firm Sues NFL

DETROIT (AP) — The president of a suburban Detroit firm, Football Sales, Inc., of Dearborn, says he has filed suit against National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle and 11 NFL teams charging violation of a contract to sell autographed footballs.

George Brooks of Grosse Pointe said the $1 million damage suit was served on NFL owners recently at their last meeting in New York.

Nino Breaks Hand in Losing to 'Tiger'

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger's upset victory over middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti turned slightly sour when it was learned the Italian had suffered a broken right hand. But there were lucrative fights ahead for both winner and loser today.

"I broke the hand in the first round when I hit him high on the head. The pain was terrible," said Benvenuti after dropping a unanimous decision in a 10-round non-title bout with the 39-year-old Bafian at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

"I was a one-handed fighter after that," said Benvenuti, grimacing in pain. Asked why he didn't quit, Nino replied quickly and firmly, "Never. I am a professional fighter."

MEDICAL REPORT

Dr. Edwin Campbell of the New York Athletic Commission said handsome Nino had suffered a complete break of the second metacarpal bone (behind the index finger) of the right hand.

The World Boxing Association's championship committee insists that the 31-year-old champion must defend next against Luis Rodriguez, the WBA's No. 1 contender from Miami.

Rodriguez, a one-time welterweight king, and his manager, Angelo Dundee, saw Tiger, who will be 40 on Aug. 14, completely dominate Benvenuti, who had used his injured right only sparingly.

"We'll wait for him," said Dundee. "We've been waiting a long time. I'm posting a $2,000 forfeit check with the New York Commission."

"I'm sick over it," said Mushky Salow, manager of light heavyweight champion Bob Foster, before the word got out of Nino's broken hand. He had hoped for a lucrative match between the two champions.

A year and two days before, Foster won the light heavy crown by knocking out Giger in the fourth round.

Would Foster fight Tiger again? "Sure, we'll be very happy to do that if the money is right," said Salow.

"He wants a $100,000," said Tiger. "I can't get that kind of money."

The officials had Tiger the winner by the following round scores: referee Tony Perez, 7-2-1; judge Joe Armstrong 6-4-1, and judge Al Berli 6-3-1. The Associated Press had Tiger in front, 7-3.

Fullmer, in his first fight since his loss to Benvenuti in San Remo, Italy, won a split decision over Brazil's Juarez de Lima in the 10-round semifinal.

Golf Day Target Is Julius Boros With 37-35-72

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Julius Boros, the PGA champion, matched par with 37-35-72 in the Round of Champions Monday to set the target score for an estimated 100,000 golfers across the country.

Lee Trevino, the U.S. Open champion, battled Boros on even terms to the 18th hole where he took a triple bogey 7 and finished play with 36-39-75 on the PGA National Golf Club's East Course.

Trevino made the turn 1-up but Boros squared the match on the 12th. Trevino went 1-up again on the 17th where he used a 300-yard tee shot, a 240-yard 5 wood and a pitch to the green to get a birdie 4.

Then the Open champion ran into what he called Mexican trouble. His tee shot landed in a pond. He took the penalty and landed in a second pond, winding up with 7 on the 40-yard par 4 hole.

The amateurs will be playing at their local clubs during the two week period immediately before and after Memorial Day and if they break par for the course, with their handicaps, they will receive souvenir bag tags reading "I beat the champion!"

Each player contributes $1 or more and these funds go to caddy scholarships, turf research, veterans rehabilitation and other golf-related charities.

IT'S DECEIVING — What looks like a knockdown is really a slip by middleweight champion Nino Benvenuti after he missed a punch thrown at Dick Tiger in last night's non-title bout. Tiger may have convinced Benvenuti that the lightweight division is a little too tough by taking a unanimous 10-round decision.

Pro Grid Television Package Approved

NEW YORK (AP) — For a "realistic price" the world of professional football entered prime time television with the announcement that the American Broadcasting Co. had agreed to view 13 regular season games for three years beginning in 1970.

The joint announcement was made Monday night by pro football Commissioner Pete Rozelle and Roone Arledge, president of ABC sports and the commissioner's plush Park Avenue office.

The weekly series, set for Monday nights, will begin on the first Monday of the regular season in 1970. The broadcasts, in color, will be the first contract with a pro sports league for a regular series during prime television time. The series duration will originate at 8:30 or 9 p.m. Eastern time.

Although the amount of money for the package was not discussed, Arledge did say that "the price was realistic. It was priced accordingly."

"Pro football is a great attraction and this association with pro football is in keeping with ABC's pioneering efforts in television sports coverage."

announce the complete television-money package after he meets with NBC and CBS officials to negotiate the remaining Sunday package. Current contracts with the two networks expire after the 1969 season.

CBS now covers the National Football League and NBC telecasts the American League games.

Further speculation is that each NFL club now receives $1.2 million and each AFL team gets between $800,000-900,000 per year under the present pact with the two networks.

It was reported in 1970 all 26 clubs will get more than $1.2 million apiece," Rozelle said.

Rozelle emphasized that the contract covers only 13 regular season games annually. Contracts covering the remaining games of the 26 clubs in the newly realigned pro football league will be negotiated later.

TO BE SHARED

Income from all television will be shared equally by the 26 teams, Rozelle added.

Aaron Reaches New Milestone

ATLANTA (AP) — Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves became the third baseball player in history to hit 500 homers and 500 doubles in his career, when he cracked a double in the first inning against the St. Louis Cardinals Monday night.

Aaron now has 519 home runs and 500 doubles, with Babe Ruth and Ted Williams the only other players to achieve the feat.

Ruth hit 714 homers and 516 doubles, and Williams slammed 521 homers and 525 doubles.

Tryout for Firebirds

All players interested in trying out for the Pontiac Firebirds of the Midwest Football League are invited to attend a team meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the VFW Post 1370 located at 398 S. Saginaw.

Grosse Pointe Firm Sues NFL

Prep Front

By JERE CRAIG

A 34-year-old Detroit Central biology teacher next fall will be Oakland County's first Negro varsity high school coach when Bloomfield Hills Roesper fields the second varsity football team in its history.

Virginia born and educated and highly praised for his ability to relate to youngsters, Walt Cowan will be making his debut as a head coach.

He had a 22-3 mark in four years as junior varsity mentor at Central HS in Detroit where he'll continue as a teacher. Last fall he helped Sid Fox to a 2-4 mark in Roesper's first season of varsity football.

The small Woodward Avenue campus will be presenting its initial senior class next year and some increase in its 15-man football roster is anticipated. Still, the Roughriders will be one of the county's few Class D athletic teams.

Cowan lettered in football, basketball and track at Douglas HS in Virginia before attending the University of Michigan where he won four football letters and a fullback and linebacker, plus played in two post-season bowl games.

EAGER TO GO

While Roesper caters to intellectually gifted students, Cowan is eager to work with them on the football field.

"Surprisingly enough, the idea that these boys don't enjoy a contact sport like football was dispelled last year. Kids can be highly motivated playing an aggressive sport. The parents' interest will develop, too. They react especially when you are winning!"

Changes continue in the ranks of county prep mentors. Coach Arnie Wilson, Pontiac Northern's long-time diamond mentor, is handing up his spikes after the Huskies defend their Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament.

Dave Coatta reportedly is set to leave Bloomfield Hills Lahser and join his brother John, who is the head grid coach at the University of Wisconsin. Dave has had contrasting success in his two seasons as the Knights' football mentor.

No coaches will be hired for the new Rochester Adams HS until an athletic director has been appointed for the entire system. Walled Lake Western also has several berths still unfilled.

Groves continues to seek the right man for its football job in Birmingham. Pontiac Catholic track coach Jim Murray has accepted the job at Royal Oak Shrine.

Ann Arbor Golf Champ

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Ann Arbor High School's Reese Lopucki turned in the lowest medalist score—a sizzling 74—on Monday in the Michigan High School Athletic Association Golf Tournament.

Ann Arbor's four-man team total was 309.

Mason took Class B honors with a team total of 329, while Brookline Columbia Central totaled 346 for the Class C-D championship.

Eighth-Inning Rally Produces Softball Victory

Milber Industries came up with three runs in the eighth inning to check Midget Bar 4-1 in last night's Waterford men's softball.

In another game, Weedon's needed two runs in the fourth to tie Colonial and moved in front in the sixth for a 4-2 victory.

Dick Shell singled, a sacrifice fly, an error and a two-run single by Chuck Robertson put Milber two runs ahead, John Long singled in the final run.

Diane Dilling accounted for Midget's lone run.

Weedon's Jose Villebo got a single to put them ahead in the fourth inning. Bob Hoomequest scored on an infield out to ice the game. Mike Duff posted two hits for Colonial.

Captains After Share of Title

A share of the Wayne-Oakland League baseball championship will be on the line when the Captains of Kettering take on Northville this afternoon in a loop finale.

The Captains, in their first year in the W-O, weren't figured to cause any noise this season but they matured fast and stand only a victory away from the title.

Milford finished the campaign yesterday by knocking off Clarkson, 6-1, and the triumph raised the Redskins' record to 12-2.

Kettering, a 4-0 victor over Bloomfield Hills Andover yesterday, owns an 11-2-1 record, the tie coming in an early-season deadlock with Northville.

Elsewhere yesterday, Mickey Elwood fired a one-hitter at West Bloomfield blanked Clarenceville, 5-0.

FLIPS TWO-HITTER

Milford's Rick Sharpe fanned four and gave Clarkson (5-8) only two hits. Teammate Bob (Clair) led the assault at the plate with a two-run homer and a single. Tom Sitko, Larry Vick and John Stanley also contributed two hits apiece.

Elwood, running his record to 5-3, gave up a leadoff triple in the opening inning with the runner being promptly erased on a squeeze play that failed and then he retired the next 20 batters in order.

FANS THIRTEEN

The hard-throwing Elwood struck out 13 as West Bloomfield raised its record to 6-8. Sophomore Steve Slosson highlighted a four-run second inning with a two-run single.

Dennis Wooster struck out six and hiked his record to 9-2 at Kettering blanked Andover. Steve Lyons and Bobby Earl delivered run-producing singles in Kettering's four-run first frame.

U.S., Soviets to Meet Again

Track Series School Teacher Winner Starts in July

Last Meeting Held Three Years Ago

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The dual track meet series between the United States and the Soviet Union, discontinued in 1966 when the Russians protested U.S. involvement in Vietnam, is on again — the day before America is to land a man on the moon.

The president of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, Al Schoenfeld, in a letter to the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission, said Monday the meet would be held July 18-19 in the Coliseum.

He also said a team made up of British Commonwealth athletes would compete in the meet.

TIMES LISTED

Starting times for the meet were listed as 7 p.m. Friday night and 1 p.m. Saturday with a national television network broadcasting the meet nationally. It will be blacked out in the Los Angeles area.

The Apollo program has the date July 20 marked on its schedule to land a man on the moon and the meet was arranged so it wouldn't clash with that planned event.

The Russian-American track meet series began in 1958 in Moscow. The following year the meet was held in Philadelphia but in 1960, an Olympic year, the meet was cancelled.

In 1961 the meet was held in Moscow, in Palo Alto in 1962, Moscow again in 1963, Los Angeles in 1964 prior to the Tokyo Olympics, and in Kiev, Russia, in 1965.

American men won the first six meets handily, taking the '64 clash by the largest score in the series, 139-97. That crushing defeat forced coaching changes on the Russian team but the Americans, spurred by the victory, performed better than expected at the Olympic games, including Billy Mills' thrilling 5,000-meter victory.

The Russians came back to win the 1965 meet at Kiev, 118-112 but on the eve of the 1966 meet, track experts said the Americans had their best-ever team.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Ann Keerbs, a 28-year-old school teacher from Churubusco, Iowa, won the division one singles on the next-to-last squad to roll Monday in the Women's International Bowling Congress championship tournament.

Mrs. Keerbs, who lives in a small (pop. 650) community where there is no bowling center, rolled games of 228-246 for a total of 649.

A string of six straight strikes and a spare in the tenth frame of her third game enabled the

Three Homers by One Player

Conn's Hank Thomas Pounds Softball

Hank Thomas blasted three home runs and a double last night to lead Conn's to a 10-8 victory over Designers Cabinet in Pontiac recreation soft pitch softball.

Thomas' roundtrippers accounted for five of Conn's rallied from an 8-4 deficit.

MGM erupted for 11 runs in the last of the sixth to overcome Timberlanes, 16-8. Jim Harrington and Dave Wheaton homered for the losers. Moebel and Waskiewicz each had three of MGM's 16 hits.

Sid Gregory's single in the last of the eighth inning drove in the winning run for The Press No. 1 team downed Miracle Lounge, 4-3.

Dave Grubb's Kennels got a two-run homer from Ed Lewis in the top of the seventh to edge The Press No. 2 team, 5-4.

Gary Acker pitched a seven-hitter and collected a double and single to lead J.A. Freeman past Oxford Mattress, 6-1, in the other game.

Angels Switch Hurlers

ANAHEIM (AP) — The California Angels, riding a 10-game losing streak, announced Monday they were optioning right-handed pitcher Rick Clark to Hawaii and recalling pitcher Ken Tatum from the Islanders.

Race Groups List Point Standings

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., leads the NASCAR Grand National point standings with 1,592 following the World 600 at Charlotte Motor Speedway Sunday.

Pearson is chased by Richard Petty, Randleman, N.C., at 1,547 and James Hylton, Inman, S.C., with 1,428.

Elmo Langley, Charlotte, N.C., is fourth with 1,388, followed by Neil Castles, Charlotte, N.C., 1,365; Bobby Isaac, Catawba, N.C., 1,225; and E.J. Trivette, Atlanta, 1,171.

Rounding out the first 10 are John Sears, Ellerbe, N.C., 1,130; Jabe Thomas, Christiansburg, Va., 1,127, and J.D. McDuffie, Sanford, N.C., 1,108.

T.C. Hunt, Atlanta, leads NASCAR grand touring point standings following the Jackson 200 at Jackson, Miss., with 284 points, followed by Frank Sesons, Darlington, S.C., 282; Ken Rush, High Point, N.C., 271; Al Straub, Louisville, 258, and C.B. Gwyn, Marion, Va., 249.

Lee Roy Yarborough, winner of the World 600, increased his season money earnings to $94,040. He is followed by Pearson at $66,230 and Petty at $49,005.

NAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — These are the United States Auto Club standings in the 1969 Indianapolis 500.

1. Lloyd Reddick, White Falls, Tex., 530
2. Wally Dallenbach, East Brunswick, N.J., 490

Ex-Tiger in Form

Gladding Brightens Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros have made an amazing turnaround in mood and much of the credit must go to a big relief pitcher with a crook in the elbow of his pitching arm.

Fred Gladding, the Astros' late innings stopper, has nine saves this season. He has not yielded a run in his last 15 innings and has been scored on only once in 15 appearances.

Seven of Gladding's saves have come this month, during which the Astros have the best won-loss records in the majors. After winning only four of their first 21 games, the Astros have won 21 straight and 17 of their last 21 efforts.

The acquisition of Gladding once appeared to be one of the worst deals the Astros ever made.

The 225-pounder, who will be 33 next month, was acquired from Detroit in the deal that sent Eddie Mathews to the Tigers late in 1967. The next winter, the Astros chose Gladding from a list of available players to complete the deal.

Gladding got in only seven games for the Astros last year, missing virtually the entire season after an elbow operation. He had a 15.75 earned run average.

The husky right-hander faced spring training this season with some uncertainty. But his fears were unfounded. His right arm and his fast ball had regained their strength.

Gladding admits he is surprised the way things are going for him this season.

"Yes, I'm surprised," he said. "I'd say it was debatable if I would ever play again."

When asked about the crook in his elbow, the bespectacled pitcher smiles.

"I can't straighten my arm out, but then I never could," he credits the Astros' surge to said. "But I'll tell you this, it's straighter than it was last year."

"I have never seen his kind of spirit on any team I have been like his teammates, Gladding with before," he said.

may well be the big breakthrough in the paralyzing and often deadly illness.

According to research conducted by Dr. John Stirling Meyer, chairman of the Department of Neurology in the Wayne State University School of Medicine, catheters manipulated into the head will be able to study the effects of drugs on the brain and its blood flow.

precise enough," he said. "By the time we have a sure diagnosis, it is often too late, and many brain cells have died, and the patient is on the road to irreversible, hopeless paralysis or death."

Catheters, flexible tubes less than an eighth of an inch in diameter and of a type similar to those used every day on thousands of heart patients in hundreds of hospitals, are introduced into a vein in one or both arms.

Meyer reported today that catheters will provide quick, early monitoring of the acutely ill stroke patient. Other techniques "are not blood, controls a tiny electric current in the catheter. The electric current supplies a reading.

SLOW DEATH

Meyer noted that although in Michigan a third of the stroke patients in a hospital die within a few days as compared to a fourth of the heart patients, "basically the heart attack is more deadly."

"A great many heart deaths come within minutes or a few hours, while almost no stroke patients die that soon."

A common feeling is, "You can't depend on anything anymore to stand still and be itself. Everything is changing."

But the human mind is a stubborn thing. It won't go on leeching back forever from any one force, including even the force of incessant change. It refuses to be surprised forever, startled forever, glum forever or afraid forever.

Meyer explained that this is because brain cells are rarely entirely deprived of blood. "They may lose a good part of their supply . . . and become paralyzed. This is the cause of temporary paralysis so common in stroke and head injuries," he said.

"Stroke treatment has this time of paralysis to be ef-

Salads For A Buffet Supper

When planning a buffet supper, plan to serve more than one salad and, for certain salads, more than one choice of dressing. Don't overlook what might be considered main dish luncheon salads. They make a fine addition to the buffet. The chicken salad, for example, with a baked ham supper. Even add a fruit salad. Consider tuna salad with roast veal and add a tossed green salad.

The salads here were planned especially for buffet service. They all have party fillip —a touch new and different that makes them distinctive and inviting.

The tuna salad is given an oriental flavor with water chestnuts, ripe olives and pimiento; the chicken salad, a new approach with green olives and green grapes, and a dressing of real mayonnaise and whipped cream. Mixing shredded red cabbage and shredded Western iceberg lettuce is an innovation worth noting.

Oriental Tuna Salad

- 3/4 cup real mayonnaise
- 3 tablespoons light cream
- 1 1/2 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 (7-ounce) cans tuna, drained and broken into chunks
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1/2 cup sliced green pepper
- 1 (5-ounce) can water chestnuts, drained and sliced
- 1/2 cup sliced pitted ripe olives
- 1/4 cup chopped pimiento

Mix real mayonnaise, light cream and vinegar in large bowl until well blended. Add tuna, celery, green pepper, water chestnuts, olives and pimiento. Lightly toss with dressing until well coated. Chill. Serve on shredded western iceberg lettuce. Makes 6 servings.

Harriette's Chicken Salad

- 3 cups cooked, diced chicken
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1/2 cup sliced green grapes
- 1/2 cup sliced olives
- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- Western iceberg lettuce

Mix chicken, celery, sliced grapes and olives. Fold mayonnaise into whipped cream. Lightly mix into chicken mixture. Serve in crisp lettuce cups. Garnish with parsley or additional sliced olives. Makes 4 cups.

Shredded Salad

- 1/4 teaspoon tarragon leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon water
- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup true Italian dressing
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 head western iceberg lettuce, shredded
- 1/2 head red cabbage, shredded
- 2 slices Spanish onion, separated into rings
- 3 hard cooked eggs, quartered

Moisten tarragon with water. Mix until well blended mayonnaise, Italian dressing, lemon juice, milk and tarragon. Toss lettuce with half the dressing and cabbage with remaining dressing. Put lettuce in center of serving bowl surrounded with cabbage. Garnish with onion and eggs. Makes 6 servings.

Blue Cheese Dressing

- 1 cup real mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 1/2 cup crumbled blue cheese
- 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tablespoon light corn syrup
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped (optional)

Mix mayonnaise, cream and cheese. Gradually stir in vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, syrup, salt, pepper and garlic. Chill. Serve with aspic. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Chutney Mayonnaise

- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup chopped chutney
- 2 tablespoons milk

Mix all ingredients until well blended. Chill. Serve with aspic. Makes about 3/4 cup.

Cottage Cheese Dressing

- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup cottage cheese
- 3 tablespoons chopped radish
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 1 teaspoon grated onion
- 1 tablespoon milk or cream
- 1 teaspoon vinegar

Mix all ingredients; reserve a few pieces of radish and pepper for garnish. Chill. Serve with aspic. Makes about 1 cup.

Gribiche Sauce

- 3/4 cup real mayonnaise
- 1 hard cooked egg, finely chopped
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped sweet gherkins
- 1 1/2 teaspoons tarragon vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon finely chopped capers
- 1/2 teaspoon finely chopped scallions
- 1/2 teaspoon finely chopped parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon finely chopped chives
- 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard

Mix all ingredients; reserve a few capers and scallions for garnish. Chill. Serve with aspic. Makes 1 cup.

Fluffy Fruit Dressing

- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1/2 cup real mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon Angelina bitters

Whip cream until stiff peaks form. Fold in mayonnaise, corn syrup and bitters. Chill. Serve with fruit salad. Makes 1 3/4 cups.

Buffet salads include tomato aspic shown with a choice of four dressings, Harriette's Chicken Salad, Oriental Tuna Salad and Shredded Salad.

Salads To Please A Man

A salad to a man is something to go along with the meat—not a meal in itself, yet we've been told that among men there is a new wave of interest in salads. (Could it be coupled with an interest in watching the waistline?)

You're taking a chance when you serve him just an ordinary salad. Learn to make exciting, appetizing salads that he will not only eat but rave about. If he comes home for lunch or likes to eat light on weekends, make salad the main dish. The four salads here are hearty and provocative. Pick any one and serve with confidence.

At the top of the list is Chef's Salad, a popular restaurant salad. In essence, it is a tossed salad, fortified with strips of meat, poultry and cheese, cold cuts and hard cooked eggs. Surely no man could ask for anything more.

The three other salads are all delightful concoctions gleaned from the salads prepared by finalists during the annual National College Queen Pageant.

The St. Louis Salad is a mixture of chunks of western iceberg lettuce leaves, of romaine and croustons and is dressed with a mild-flavored anchovy corn oil dressing. The Mexican Salad is a New Mexico version of Tostadas and the Western Salad (from North Dakota Queen) includes spinach along with the lettuce and chunky slices of sweet Bermuda onion.

Chef's Salad

- 1 clove garlic, thinly sliced
- 1/2 cup corn oil
- 1 cup bread cubes
- 1 1/2 heads western iceberg lettuce
- 1/2 head romaine lettuce
- 1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Few grains pepper
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/4 pound cold meat (chicken, roast beef, salami), cut into strips
- 1/4 pound sharp cheese, cut into strips
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar

Marinate garlic in corn oil several hours. Remove garlic and pour half of the oil into a heavy skillet. Brown bread cubes for croustons. Set aside. Tear enough lettuce into bite-size pieces to measure 1 1/2 quarts and place in large salad bowl. Sprinkle with remaining corn oil, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and grated cheese. Toss lightly until all greens glisten. Sprinkle on vinegar, toss gently. Add about 3/4 of the croustons, meat and cheese slices. Toss lightly; garnish top with remaining meat, cheese and croustons. Serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

St. Louis Salad

- 1 stick celery, sliced
- 1/2 medium onion, sliced
- 1 (2-ounce) can anchovy fillets
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons mustard with horseradish
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon cracked black pepper
- 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- 1 tablespoon light corn syrup
- 3 eggs
- 1 pint corn oil
- 1 large head western iceberg lettuce
- 1/2 cup crisp croustons

Put garlic, celery, and onion into blender. Add anchovy fillets, mustard with horseradish, lemon juice, pepper, monosodium glutamate and corn syrup. Run blender until ingredients are mixed. Add eggs. Blend a few seconds. Add corn oil, 1/2 cup at a time, running blender after each addition. Tear lettuce into bite-size pieces into salad bowl. Sprinkle with croustons. Toss with enough dressing (1/4 to 1/2 cup) to coat. Store remaining dressing in refrigerator for later use. Makes 3 1/2 cups dressing.

Note: To make dressing without blender, mince garlic, celery, onion and anchovy fillets. Mix very thoroughly with a wire whip, adding oil very gradually.

Mexican Salad

- 1 (15 to 16-ounce) can pinto or red kidney beans
- 1/4 cup corn oil
- 4 tortillas
- 2 cups shredded western iceberg lettuce
- 4 slices cooked ham, cut into strips
- 1/4 pound Cheddar cheese, cut into strips
- Ripe olives
- Red and green chili peppers
- Cherry tomatoes
- Topo dressing

Coarsely mash beans with bean liquid in medium size skillet. Stir in 2 tablespoons corn oil. Cook over medium heat, stirring to prevent sticking, until all liquid is absorbed, about 10 minutes; set aside. Heat remaining 2 tablespoons corn oil in skillet over medium heat. Add tortillas; fry until lightly browned on both sides. Drain on absorbent paper. Spread generously with refried beans. Pile lettuce on beans. Arrange alternate strips of ham and cheese on lettuce. Garnish with olives, chili peppers and tomatoes. Serve with Topo Dressing. Makes 4 servings.

Topo Dressing
Mix 2/3 cup corn oil, 1/3 cup wine vinegar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon dark corn syrup, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/8 teaspoon tabasco sauce in bottle or jar. Cover tightly and shake well. Chill. Shake well before serving. Makes 1 cup.

Western Salad

- 1 hard cooked egg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 cup corn oil
- 1/4 cup vinegar
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 head western iceberg lettuce
- 1/2 bunch garden lettuce
- 1/2 pound fresh spinach
- 1 Bermuda onion, sliced

Remove egg yolk and mash with garlic salt. Chop egg white. Blend salt, paprika, pepper and dry mustard into mashed yolk. Add corn oil and vinegar. Beat well. Stir in egg white and parsley. Tear crisp lettuce and spinach into bite size pieces in a large salad bowl. Toss lightly with dressing. Garnish top of salad with extra egg and spike with fresh crisp raw vegetables.

Starting at the top and moving clockwise, salads are Chef's Salad, St. Louis, Mexican and Western Salads.

A Junior Editors Quiz About BIRDS

QUESTION: Where do birds sleep. Why don't they fall off the branches?

ANSWER: Birds are very active and need plenty of rest at night. Few of us see them sleeping, because it would be dangerous for them to sleep in exposed places. They have many enemies.

Birds are expert at hiding. Some sleep in thickets, or in holes in trees; some burrow in leaves. Many sleep high up on branches of tall trees, concealed in the foliage, with their heads tucked under their wings. The soft shoulder feathers make fine pillows.

Birds don't fall off the branches because of an ingenious arrangement of their legs and feet. Each of the toes connects with a kind of cord going up inside the leg and around the joints.

When the bird squats down to sleep (upper left) this cord pulls the toes together, so the bird is securely locked to the branch.

Lakes Study Is Fouled Up by Pollution

DETROIT (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers reports that pollution has fouled a two-year study of Great Lakes pollution. The $8 million study failed to answer the question of whether the dumping of muck dredged from river channels and harbors increases pollution in the Great Lakes.

"The beds of lake and bay areas were found so polluted that additional pollution from dredge disposal could not be detected," the Corps reported.

The pilot study was undertaken in part because of a proposal to dispose of waste materials in diked land areas. Participating in the study were the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration and the State Water Resources Commission, along with the Army engineers.

The Corps insists that the problem of dumping in the open lake is "open to question," and contends that more research is needed.

Officials from the other two agencies, however, agree that the practice of dumping dredgings in deep water is undesirable.

Col. James T. White, Detroit district engineer, said that he believed it would cost too much money to set up diked land areas where polluted materials could be dumped.

Legal Opinion on Bell Slated

A legal opinion on a charge that Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is violating the city ordinance on off-street parking is expected to be submitted to the City Commission at its meeting at 8 tonight at City Hall, East Pike and East Wide Track.

Last week, a lawyer for the Communication Workers of America charged the company was building a $12.5-million addition to its building at Mill and East Huron without regard to the parking needs of some 200 additional workers expected at the facility.

The city's legal department was asked to check agreements and proposals concerning parking in that area of downtown.

Other items on the agenda include several proposals for utility projects.

Algiers Suspect's Disputed Statement Is Heard

MASON (AP) — "I didn't first denied even firing a gun while he was in the Algiers Motel, where I wanted that gun, and he three black teen-agers were slain the night of July 26, 1967."

With those words, a suspended white policeman concluded another statement admitting he shot 19-year-old Aubrey Pollard at his first-degree murder trial Monday telling how he killed a Negro youth during Detroit's 1967 racial riot.

Prosecution witnesses testified that Ronald August, 31, at the time of the shooting, was left behind at the motel by police and National Guardsmen who had raided the building in a search for alleged snipers.

DEFENSE LOSES ROUND

Defense attorneys lost a legal battle earlier to have the statements suppressed on grounds that August had not been advised of his constitutional right to refuse to say anything.

The prosecution called eight witnesses, including Detroit police officers to the stand Monday as the trial moved into its third week. An all-white jury of 13 women and one man is hearing the case.

The testimony of one witness, Lt. Gerald Hallmark, was challenged by the prosecution because it conflicted with a written report he made to his superior officers describing how August decided to change his story about what happened at the motel.

Robert Taylor's Stepson Found Dead in Motel

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (UPI) — Detectives today were investigating the death of actor Robert Taylor's 23-year-old stepson, Michael Thiess, whose body was found in a motel.

Taylor's German-born wife of 15 years, actress Ursula Thiess, found her son dead in his bed yesterday at a motel where he had been staying since his discharge last month from a state mental hospital.

She had gone to the room to take Thiess his weekly supply of medicine. She found a note on the door, in German, in her son's handwriting, telling her to come in and awaken him when she arrived.

A detective said there was no sign of foul play and no death note. A first it was suspected the youth had taken an overdose of drugs, but detectives said later Thiess apparently did not have a large enough supply available for that.

Midland Blackout

MIDLAND (AP) — Downtown Midland had a 79-minute electrical blackout today. A city-owned truck dumping a commercial trash collector at a department store struck a power pole carrying the downtown commercial circuit of Consumers Power Co. The blackout lasted from 6:05 a.m. to 7:24 a.m.

UNESCO Text Quotes Gandhi, Marx Most

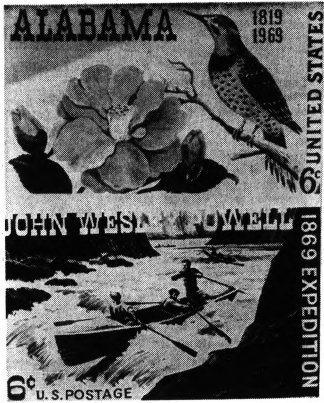

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The fathers of non-violence—Mohandas K. Gandhi and of communism—Karl Marx—are the most quoted thinkers in a book of quotations on human rights published today by the U. N. Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Nineteen of Gandhi's quotations appear in the book and 15 of Marx's. There are two each from George Washington and Woodrow Wilson and one each from Thomas Jefferson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Also in the 591-page book, "The Birthright of Man," are 30 quotations from the Old Testament, eight from the New Testament, 15 from the Koran and 11 from the Talmud.

Milliken to Talk

MARQUETTE (AP) — Gov. William G. Milliken will be the main speaker at Northern Michigan University's commencement Sunday. Milliken also will be one of four persons receiving honorary degrees.

COMMEMORATIVE STAMPS — The Post Office yesterday released these designs for two new six-cent postage stamps. One commemorates Alabama's sesquicentennial, featuring the state flower, the camellia, and the state bird, the yellowhammer. It will be issued Aug. 2 at Huntsville, Ala. The second stamp honors John Wesley Powell, the noted geologist who explored the Colorado River. It will be issued Aug. 1 at Page, Ariz., and features three small boats braving the turbulent river.

After Hallmark testified that August told him he killed Pollard in a struggle over a shotgun, assistant Wayne County prosecutor Avery Weiswasser told the court: "The people declare their intention to impeach this witness."

Impeaching a witness generally means that he is not believed to be telling the truth and can lead to perjury charges. The prosecution has indicated that it believes police were less than enthusiastic about investigating a case where fellow officers may have been involved.

Program Funded

ALMA (AP) — A $100,000 grant from the Mott Foundation will finance the fourth year of an Alma College community education program beginning July 1. The college distributes the money to 26 school districts to aid establishment of education programs for residents.

Heavy Load for House Before Long Holiday

LANSING (AP) — Seven appropriations bills and some 350 other measures now stand between the House and a Thursday recess for the long Memorial Day weekend.

The House convened at 10 a.m.

But legislators in the lower chamber have been warned they'll have to cancel plans for weekend speechmaking unless they finish their work.

That threat came last night from majority floor leader George F.

Montgomery, D-Detroit after the House spent nearly four hours debating whether state scholarships should be denied to students found participating in "violent or rebellious activity" within five miles of a college campus.

The basic bill, originally intended to limit student scholarships to four years of undergraduate study, was defeated. It was the only measure voted on by the House last night.

"We must move at a much faster rate than one bill a day," Montgomery warned. He said further delay on bills this week means the death of many other measures.

Under the House's twice-revised schedule, all appropriations bills must pass the house of origin by Thursday. Other measures face a June 6 deadline—one week later.

Included in the appropriations bills which receive first action in the House are:

- A $5.7-million general governmental operations bill, which contains funds for legislators salaries.
- $314.8-million in restricted funds. All but $26 million would go for specified highway projects.
- $278.8-million for social services, not including a $19.2-million supplement for programs this year.

Kidnap Suspect Convicted, Sentenced to Life in Prison

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — A praying jury has convicted Gary Steven Krist of the $500,000 ransom kidnaping of coed Barbara Jane Mackle, but spared his life because of elaborate steps taken to keep the victim alive in a buried box.

Krist, 24, who had predicted the death penalty which the state asked, was given a life sentence last night on the jury's recommendation for mercy.

Normally a life term may be reviewed for parole in seven years in Georgia.

precaution he took to see that she (the victim) wasn't killed."

Miss Mackle, a 20-year-old Emory University junior, was buried in an 8-by-2-by-2-foot box for 83 hours after her abduction from a Decatur motel last Dec. 17. The box contained food and tranquilizer-loaded drinking water. It also had a battery-run ventilation system, water pump and small light that burned out after a short time, leaving the girl in total darkness.

TELEPHONED FBI

After the victim's father, land developer Robert F. Mackle of Coral Gables, Fla., paid the ransom, the kidnaper telephoned the FBI with directions to the remote burial spot northeast of Decatur.

Dist. Atty. Richard Bell had presented a massive—and unrefuted—array of evidence, eyewitnesses and fingerprints linking Krist to the crime.

"I'm disappointed," Bell said of the verdict.

Krist's two court-appointed lawyers, Mobley Childs and James R. Venable, offered no defense testimony, choosing instead to plead for mercy in final arguments. By foregoing testimony, they were entitled to open and close the final arguments.

Other House-originated appropriations bills would fund the State Police, National Guard, natural resources and agriculture departments and continue the more than $28.8-million State Employees Retirement Fund.

The 2½-hour debate over scholarships for college students appeared to be waged largely between Democratic liberals and conservatives.

O'Brien and Mrs. Symons periodically have expressed concern over campus violence. An amendment, introduced by Mrs. Symons and added to the elementary and secondary education allocation would require school districts to set penalties for student agitators or face loss of state aid.

Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, praised the amendment. "We're not about to subsidize revolution," he said.

But Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, said the House "should stop playing ring around the riot. It's all a lot of nonsense."

Rejection of both the bill and the adopted amendment finally came at the urging of Republican Reps. Clifford Smart, Walled Lake, and Roy Spencer, Attica.

Spencer contended there is no evidence to show the proportion of scholarship holders among campus disrupters. "If we really believe there's any relationship," Spencer said, "why don't we just eliminate the program."

New Secret Viet Talks Reported

PARIS (UPI) — A U.S. diplomat, experienced in secret contacts with North Vietnam, has begun consultations with Allied delegates to the Paris talks, an American delegation spokesman said today.

William H. Sullivan, former U.S. ambassador to Laos, talked with both the American and South Vietnamese delegations the past weekend, the spokesman said.

U.S. officials declined to say what the discussions were about. Sullivan's presence again raised speculation moves might be afoot to establish new contacts with the Communist side away from formal negotiations.

Sullivan arrived in Paris from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) conference in Bangkok, Thailand.

He is now deputy assistant secretary of state for Southeast Asian affairs and was credited with conducting secret contacts in Vietnam, Laos, leading to last year's preliminary Vietnam talks that opened in Paris, May 13, 1968.

Secret talks between the United States and North Vietnam have been reported on several occasions since the two nations began public talks to end the Vietnam war.

Trooper Killed by Holdup Pair

DETROIT (AP) — A young Michigan State Police trooper was shot to death yesterday as he sought to foil a holdup in progress in his apartment building.

Trooper Carl P. Lindberg, 22, was dead on arrival at a northwest Detroit hospital. Authorities said he had been shot in the face, possibly with his own gun.

Police sought two men, one in his 20s and one in his 50s.

Police said Lindberg was called to the apartment by the manager of the building, who said the woman tenant was being held up. The manager said he heard the woman say, "Please don't take our life savings."

"4 OR 5 SHOTS"

Lindberg took his service revolver and went to the apartment. Neighbors said they heard four or five shots fired.

A gun was found on Lindberg's body but his service revolver was missing. An undetermined amount of money was taken.

Showdown on Parochialism Facing Delay Until Fall

LANSING (UPI) — The Senate Appropriations Committee has declined to sponsor a bill granting public tax funds to nonpublic schools, setting the stage for floor action on a resolution calling on the governor to include the issue in his education reform package this fall.

Committee Chairman Charles O. Zoller, R-Benton Harbor, reported yesterday members were not disposed to act favorably on the parochialism compromise hammered out over the weekend.

Sheriff Is Given New Helicopter

The first law enforcement helicopter in the state has been presented to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

Cost of the $47,220 machine, a three-place Enstrom F28A, was shared by several private donors in the county, according to Lt. Donald Kratz, director of the Sheriff's Marine Division.

He credited Martin Caserio, a vice president of General Motors and general manager of CMC Truck and Coach Division, for his work as chairman of a fund-raising effort which involved 15 local businesses. The county contributed $5,000 towards the purchase.

Contributors were Baker Driveway Inc., Hubert Distributors; City Beverage Co., Inc.; New Hudson Sand and Gravel Inc.; National Twist Drill and Tool Co.; Community National Bank; Pontiac State Bank; The Pontiac Press; Tri-Pontiac Insurance Companies; Metes and Powers, Inc.; Sauer and Girard attorneys; Hoffman Packing House; Detroit Edison Co.; Consumers Power Co.; and Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

But a drive to petition him to include parochialism on the fall agenda was well under way in both houses, and party leaders said they look for its adoption.

The principal parochialism lobby, the Catholic-dominated Michigan Association of Non-public Schools (MANS), and House Speaker William A. Ryan said they opposed further delay.

"The issue should be resolved by the end of June," said Dr. John F. Choltz of Detroit, MANS president. "Little be gained by postponing the question for another three months, except the closing of more nonpublic schools."

State Budget Breakdown

LANSING — Legislative appropriations committees yesterday reported out spending bills totaling a record $1.52 billion for the fiscal year beginning July 1, some $11.7 million over Gov. William Milliken's budget recommendations.

Included were the following totals, in millions of dollars:

|                                          | 1968-69 Budget | Milliken Figures | Committee Bills |

Birmingham Area Remapping for Schools Is Completed

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Bloomfield Hills School District has completed boundary changes which will affect students at all grade levels throughout the district beginning in September.

The new dividing line for the district's two senior high schools will be Telegraph Road. All students living east of Telegraph will go to Lahser and students west of the road will attend Andover.

Students now attending Andover who live east of Telegraph will be permitted to continue and graduate from Andover.

The high school change affects an area bounded by Long Lake Road on the north, Telegraph on the west, 14 Mile on the South and Lahser and the school district boundary on the east.

JUNIOR HIGHS

Junior high changes will affect an area bounded on the north by Square Lake Road, on the west by Telegraph, on the south by Long Lake Road and on the east by Lahser.

Students living in this area, which has been part of the East Hills Junior High district, will attend West Hills Junior High in September.

The expected opening next fall of two new elementary schools created the need for revised attendance areas.

Elementary students living in the Bennington Green, West Brookfield Highlands and Bloomfield on the Lakes subdivisions in the far west end of the district will attend the new Lone Pine School at Lone Pine and Middle Belt.

The new Fox Hills School on South Boulevard just east of Opdyke will draw students from an area bounded on the north by South Boulevard, on the east and west by the school district boundary line and on the south by a hypothetical northeast-southwest line.

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission agreed last night to furnish a school crossing guard at Lincoln and Southfield. The commission now provides crossing guards at six locations in the city at a total cost of $6,000, based on a $2.50 per hour salary for the guards.

In other business, the commission authorized expenditure of $9,000 to surface the city-owned parking lot at the Bloomfield Art Association facility on Cranbrook at 14 Mile. The Art Association will pay the other $3,000.

Echo 2 to Vanish Soon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Echo 2, the most highly visible of all satellites, will disappear at the end of next week, dropping into the atmosphere and burning up, project engineers predicted today.

Officials at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., set the probable destruction date at June 7 for the 135-foot diameter balloon that was placed in orbit Jan. 25, 1964.

Truck Refused No Link in Ypsi-Area Killings

DETROIT — Ann Arbor police have cleared a blue panel truck which they thought might have offered some clues in the death of at least one of five young women murdered in the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor area in the past two years.

Detroit police impounded the truck because they thought "it looked something like" a truck seen near where the body of Maralynn Skellon, 16, was found in March.

Two men riding in the truck were held overnight and released.

Milliken Tours Pontiac State Hospital

Gov. William Milliken toured Pontiac State Hospital yesterday morning. He paid particular attention to those buildings reported in the past to be without heat, electricity or airtight windows in patients' rooms.

The governor said he particularly wanted to see the 91-year-old section of the hospital where most of the hospital's problems can be found.

Milliken reportedly commented that he thought the section wasn't a favorable atmosphere for mental rehabilitation and said he hoped the conditions would be improved soon.

He also met about 25 "paint-slingers" from the community who volunteered their time—some 800 hours worth—to paint one of the old wards.

Board Holds Closed Session

Alternative sites and plans for a proposed new Pontiac high school were further studied last night in a closed session of the board of education, as it nears the night of decision on the school site June 5.

A majority of the board present decided not to release any of the information which came out of last night's three-hour meeting, because, they said, it would not be suitable to their purposes.

School Sites, Plans Studied

Information was released to the news media last week after a similar closed study session on plans for the school.

The school board has been reevaluating since March 20 its November decision to build a new high school on Pontiac State Hospital grounds. A 90-day reevaluation period was set by the board in the wake of community dissent over the selected site location.

Some citizens wanted the school built on a center city site, nearer the black community.

Prior to last night's meeting, the board studied plans for new construction at Pontiac Central High School and additions to Northern High School, and sites at Bagley and Orchard Lake, Opdyke and Featherstone, Beaudette Park, the Municipal Golf Course and the present Central High School site.

M59 Prospects Grim

We share the concern expressed by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors chairman, CHARLES B. EDWARDS JR., over the protracted time for improvement of M59, the sadly-neglected east-west route across northern Oakland County.

True, work is to begin in the fall on a 1.9-mile extension of a five-lane segment of it, from Airport Road west to South Williams Lake Road.

EDWARDS

But after that—what? Not until the State Highway Department implements its 1973-74 program will engineering and right-of-way acquisition begin on the next stretch, a 4.5-mile continuation from South Williams Lake Road to Bogie Lake Road. Completion date of the project would probably be at least three years away.

But there would still remain a 22-mile bottleneck over which motorists in growing numbers must crawl and fume until M59 joins I-96, the fine freeway that moves traffic speedily and comfortably to the western part of the State.

Apparently, no plans for improvement of this section are in the works. Since the original widening of a 2½-mile strip of M59, from Elizabeth Lake Road to Airport Road occurred in 1965, it could, by projection, take 56 years to complete modernization of the remaining 28 miles to the junction with I-96—that is, if the State Highway Department can maintain its present snail-like approach to a critical highway need!

Meanwhile, the citizenry of the State's third most populous county will continue to be increasingly plagued and frustrated by motoring over a horse-and-buggy road in a jet age.

The prospect is not only pathetic and ridiculous, but tragic—don't you think?

Battle Buckeye Blackbirds

Scientists at Ohio State University are whistling "Bye, Bye, Blackbird" as they work. But so far their efforts—ranging from hallucinatory drugs to birth control pills—have failed to rid the state of a leading pest.

Blackbirds like to dine on young corn, often eating only enough to spoil the ear. They cost Ohio farmers some $2 million last year. For the entire Nation, the annual damage is around $58 million.

A hallucinatory drug, designed to send the birds winging off on LSD-like "trips," has proved effective in some areas. Blackbirds, like many flocking birds, can be "spooked" by other members of the flock acting abnormally.

A contraceptive chemical which would prevent fertilization of the birds' eggs is another humane measure being studied.

A different approach is the development of corn varieties with husks too tough for the birds to penetrate.

Grass Seen Greener in NY

A tree may grow in Brooklyn but grass grows in Manhattan—though New Yorkers can go all day without seeing a single blade.

A new variety of turf grass—Manhattan ryegrass—has been developed from hardy plants plucked out of New York's Central Park by grass researcher C. REED FUNK of Rutgers University.

It's said to be lower-growing, leafier, more attractive and more persistent than other ryegrasses. Thousands of pounds of the seed have already been sold throughout the Nation.

Who would have thought that Manhattan's energetic residents would ever let grass grow under their feet?

Science, Religion Unite to Fight ABM

By DAVID POLING
For Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.

The preachers and the scientists have had their duels in history. The late 19th century and the beginning of the 20th saw a great deal of tension, name-calling and mistrust. Not in the downtown churches. Not in the minds of educated Christians who find the truth of God revealed in the laboratory as much as in the library of biblical studies.

In fact, scientific methods have produced exciting results in recent Bible hand "digs." Techniques of archaeology have been a real asset to the enlargement of our grasp of the Old Testament world. More science, not less, is the cry.

But nothing has drawn the world of religion and science

closer together than the debate over the deployment in the United States of an antiballistic missile system.

ALMOST UNANIMOUS
The ABM force has created almost unanimous criticism from the religious and scientific establishment.

Although each discipline may start from a different premise, they arrive at a severe statement of condemnation and objection to ABM.

For instance, Scientific American, a prestigious publication in its field, has devoted more than 26 pages in the past two issues opposing the weapons systems nominated by the Nixon administration.

And when you sort out the terminology, graphs and charts, you come to a conclusion that it could have been written by any of the major churches alarmed over the incursions of the ABM proposal.

"Any such massive escalation of offensive and defensive armaments could hardly be accomplished in a democracy without strong social and psychological effects."

MORE LIKELY
And then add this: "The nation would think more of war, prepare more for war, hate the potential

enemy and thereby make war more likely."

That was not written by the Quaker Fellowship for Peace or the Presbyterians for a Non-Violent Society, but by two distinguished scientists—one a key official with IBM and the other a professor at Cornell University!

From the church side of things there has been steady and constant opposition of almost every major denomination in this country against the widening of the arms race and the escalation of ABM proposals.

VOLUME OF MAIL

Already people in Washington are commenting on the volume of mail being generated by the obvious concern of the religion-science fraternity.

For almost the first time in this century the two establishments have a common cause and a hot feeling of action is suddenly expanding.

The most powerful missile right now is a letter—your personal note or card to the White House and your congressional representatives.

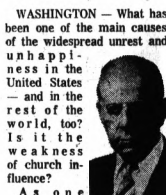

This is the best indicator of support or opposition. And while you are at it, stamp it with a Love Seal.

"Every Time I Open My Mouth I Feel A Warm Breeze On The Back Of My Neck!"

David Lawrence Asks:

Weak Church Aiding Unrest?

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—What has been one of the main causes of the widespread unrest and unhappiness in the United States—and in the rest of the world, too? Is it the weakness of church influence?

As one seeks an answer, it seemed incredible to read a UPI dispatch from London last Saturday telling of a formal recommendation that the world churches should support violence if it is the last way to overthrow political and economic tyranny.

This was among the proposals of a six-day consultation on racism held in the British capital by the World Council of Churches.

The document declared that "The church must be willing to be not only an institution of love, but also an institution of action," making inputs into societies to help effect a new balance of power that renders racism impotent."

'LOSING INFLUENCE'

But on the very next day, the archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Michael Ramsey, was reported in a UPI dispatch to have said that the church was losing its influence in a troubled world. He declared:

"Do we not see the church which we love so much having an impact on the country and the lives of the people so very much less than it ought to be?"

When the startling announcement was made, just after the running of the Preakness that the Prince would not race in the third portion of the Triple Crown—there were groans galore among racing fans.

But Sonny Werblin, the well-known sportsman who owns the best 3-year-old filly in the land, Process Shot, agreed with Majestic Prince's withdrawal.

Werblin wrote his friend Frank McMahon, who bought the unbeaten Majestic Prince as a yearling for a then-record $250,000, as follows: "We were faced with a similar situation in regard to the Triple Crown for filly this year. My trainer, Bowes Bond, felt if we entered her in these three races we would be committing her to run too frequently."

WOULDN'T YIELD

"Yet there would linger the impression that we were afraid to run her against her challengers. But we have no intention of yielding to that sort of thing."

"If I may liken Process Shot's standing amongst the fillies to that of Majestic Prince among the colts, I feel that this kind of horse comes along once in a lifetime—and should be fully protected."

Expanding on his theme, tarianism or denomination. All over the world, leaders of religious thought like Buddha, Confucius, Mohammed, as well as Moses and Jesus, have left a legacy worthy of acceptance as a code of living. Could so many disturbances happen in the United States and various countries abroad if the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount had penetrated more deeply the minds of men, irrespective of age or color or religion? Jesus said, according to St. Luke:

"The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:

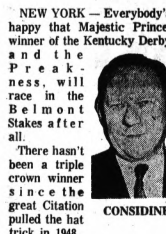

Neither shall they say, lo, here! or, lo, there! for, behold the kingdom of God is within you."

There are millions of people who are trying to live in accordance with what they believe is God's will. But there are minorities which brush aside the experience of the past and fail to seek in their inner selves the guidance from God that can make them better human beings and more and more helpful to each other in a troubled world.

Bob Considine Says:

Majestic Prince Has a Lot at Stake in Belmont

CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—Everybody's happy that Majestic Prince, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, will race in the Belmont Stakes after all.

There hasn't been a triple crown winner since the great Citation pulled the hat trick in 1948.

Everybody's happy, except the horse's trainer, Johnny Longden, and a few others.

When the startling announcement was made, just after the running of the Preakness that the Prince would not race in the third portion of the Triple Crown—there were groans galore among racing fans.

But Sonny Werblin, the well-known sportsman who owns the best 3-year-old filly in the land, Process Shot, agreed with Majestic Prince's withdrawal.

Werblin wrote his friend Frank McMahon, who bought the unbeaten Majestic Prince as a yearling for a then-record $250,000, as follows: "We were faced with a similar situation in regard to the Triple Crown for filly this year. My trainer, Bowes Bond, felt if we entered her in these three races we would be committing her to run too frequently."

WOULDN'T YIELD

"Yet there would linger the impression that we were afraid to run her against her challengers. But we have no intention of yielding to that sort of thing."

Expanding on his theme,

Werblin wrote me a letter, too. In it, he says, "Few people outside of racing realize that the question does not concern the Triple Crown, the owner and the trainer as much as it concerns the condition of the horse."

"Majestic Prince has had a long hard campaign since January. He lost 100 pounds winning the Preakness."

GOOD REASON

I am certain that Frank McMahon and Johnny Longden would want to win the Triple Crown more than anything in the world. But not at the expense of Majestic Prince's breaking down. The colt had only two races as a 2-year-old. There must have been a reason why he was so lightly raced."

But even as Sonny Werblin was writing those words, Frank McMahon decided to run his champion in the Belmont. The pressure on him from the promoters of the ancient classic, and from the public, was, I'd guess, just too much.

It'll be the biggest day Belmont ever had. All hope it won't be the most tragic, too.

'To Terminate Orchestra Is Injustice to Students'

I understand that all teaching of string instruments in the Waterford Township school district will be discontinued as of June 13. I think orchestra should be kept in our school program as orchestra is more important than some other classes they put in our schools. By cutting this class they do a great injustice to young people.

More Readers' Opinions on Sex Education

The May 19 article on the Walled Lake schools' sex education program was misleading. The main issue was not the present sex program for fifth and sixth grades. It was a possible future program for kindergarten through 12th grade using material suggested by an organization called Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S.

Concern against its material is due partially to statements made by executive director Dr. Mary Calderone. In Look Magazine, March 8, 1966, she is quoted as saying, when asked "what is your opinion of premarital sex relations among teenagers?" she replied: "What do you mean? Nobody from up on high (referring to God) determines this. You determine it. I don't believe the old 'thou shalt not's' apply anymore."

What's wrong with a moral approach to any sex education program, based upon the Ten Commandments?

REV. R. V. WARREN, PASTOR
VICE-PRESIDENT, WIXOM PTA

Many attending the meeting concerning sex education in Walled Lake school system felt that it was reported one-sided. Since time began people have known the basic facts, but only by strong moral principles can illegitimacy be prevented. Mrs. Hodges disputed one man's claim that he didn't want to be with children. That may be the way he wants it, but I consider humans above animals morally, mentally and sexually.

LILLIE SELF

I attended the Walled Lake School Board meeting May 19, and appreciate the school board giving us the opportunity to speak. As a Christian mother, I feel I should need sex education, but it should be taught with the morals God has given in His word. All films and discussions should have separate classes for boys and girls. I want to know beforehand what material is used and have the opportunity to view this with my children. I will not endorse Sex Information and Education of the U.S. material. I am not a member of any organization, I am guided by and follow only the Lord Jesus Christ.

1771 PAYSON, WALLED LAKE

Hurrah for Walled Lake residents. I hope that sex education comes to Pontiac. Teachers cannot teach the morals of life or love and respect if they were not taught at home. I'm going to have my first child soon and by the time my child is old enough to go to school, I hope that some of the burden of being a parent is lifted. Parents should take a sex course. I'm sure they don't know all they should about sex.

Two Opinions on 'Information Bulletin'

You take the stand that Mr. Whitmer was wrong to make certain statements regarding people that would like to be voted in on board of education seats. I don't think he said anything untrue. It has been made perfectly clear in past months that there are indeed just such "hustlers" active in disrupting meetings and even classes at our schools. Not all candidates fall into this "hustler" classification, regardless of color.

Welcomes Honesty of Recent Press Editorial

It was good to read the editorial concerning the Pontiac school district's "Information Bulletin." Although in agreement with the content of the editorial, I am more impressed with the fact that it appeared in The Pontiac Press. I welcome honesty.

'Urge Teen-Age Drivers to Be More Careful'

To the teen-age drivers who tear up and down Pontiac Lake Road between Hospital and Williams Lake Road, will you kids feel better when you finally kill someone? School will be out shortly and there are at least 30 small children in this area. I hope you and your parents wake up before it's too late. I pray that one of my children will not be your first victim.

Question and Answer

Did I see right that three separate bills—SB 605, 723 and 725—are proposed to control police activities with a civilian review board? Are these bills sponsored by Senator Coleman Young? Does it take passage of all three to make it a law? Why so many?

EDWARD L. SORENSON

REPLY

All three bills are sponsored by Senator Coleman Young, whose office tells us one is to institute the proposal, one to set regulations and another to fund it. It could become law by passage of only one, but would require amendments for regulations and funding. Senator Young chose to initiate three instead of one requiring amendments.

Question and Answer

I'd like to know if you could help me locate a Stromberg-Carlson dealer or one where I could get a part for my radio.

JOSE E. NAVIA

REPLY

We talked to several radio service shops, and they all said those radios have been out of production for some time and it's unlikely you'll find the exact part you need. However, they said many radio parts are interchangeable, and if you'll take it to a repair shop, they can tell you if another brand can be used in your radio.

U.S., Soviets to Meet Again

Track Series Starts in July

School Teacher Winner of One WIBC Division

Last Meeting Held Three Years Ago

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The dual track meet series between the United States and the Soviet Union, discontinued in 1966 when the Russians protested U.S. involvement in Vietnam, is on again — a day before America is to land a man on the moon.

The president of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union, Al Schofield, in a letter to the Los Angeles Coliseum Commission, said Monday the meet would be held July 18-19 in the Coliseum.

He also said a team made up of British Commonwealth athletes would compete in the meet.

TIMES LISTED

Starting times for the meet were listed as 7 p.m. Friday night and 1 p.m. Saturday with a national television network broadcasting the meet nationally. It will be blacked out in the Los Angeles area.

The Apollo program has the date July 20 marked on its schedule to land a man on the moon and the meet was arranged so it wouldn't clash with that planned event.

The Russian-American track meet series began in 1958 in Moscow. The following year the meet was held in Philadelphia but in 1960, an Olympic year, the meet was cancelled.

In 1961 the meet was held in Moscow, in Palo Alto in 1962, Moscow again in 1963, Los Angeles in 1964 prior to the Tokyo Olympics, and in Kiev, Russia, in 1965.

American men won the first six meets handily, taking the '64 clash by the largest score in the series, 139-97. That crushing forced coaching changes on the Russian team but the Americans, spurred by the victory, performed better than expected at the Olympic games, including Billy Mills' thrilling 5,000-meter victory.

The Russians came back to win the 1965 meet at Kiev, 118-112 but on the eve of the 1966 meet, track experts said to Americans had their best-ever team.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Ann Keerbs, a 28-year-old school teacher from Churdam, N.J., who won the division one singles on the next-to-last squad to roll Monday in the Women's International Bowling Congress championship tournament.

Mrs. Keerbs, who lives in a small (pop. 650) community where there is no bowling center, rolled games of 225-178-246 for a total of 649.

A string of six straight strikes and a spare in the tenth frame of her third game enabled the lowan to pass Barbara Craig of Chatham, N.J., who had taken the lead Sunday with 646.

It was the best series Mrs. Keerbs has ever rolled and she drives 80 miles roundtrip once a week to bowl inbury, Iowa.

Other leaders after the 54-day tournament ended in division one were Joyce Georgeson and Bertha Keeney, Wheatridge, Colo., doubles, 1,205; Janice Pickle, Tucson, Ariz., all events, 1,743, and Bowlerado Lanes, Ft. Collins, Colo., team, 2,719.

Three Homers by One Player

Conn's Hank Thomas Pounds Softball

Hank Thomas blasted three home runs and a double last night to lead Conn's to a 10-3 victory over Designers Clobber in the Los Angeles area club pitch softball.

Thomas' roundtrippers accounted for five rbi's as Conn's rallied from an 8-4 deficit.

MGM erupted for 11 runs in the last of the sixth to overcome Timberlakes, 16-3. Jim Harrington and Dave Wheaton homered for the losers. Moore and Waskiewicz each had three of the 16 hits.

Sid Gregory's single in the last of the eighth inning drove in the winning run as The Press No. 1 team downed Miracle Lounge, 4-3.

Dave Grubb's Kennels got a two-run homer from Ed Lewis in the top of the seventh to edge The Press No. 2 team, 5-4.

Gary Acker pitched a seven-inning and collected a double in the series, 139-97. That crushing forced coaching changes on the Russian team but the Americans, spurred by the victory, performed better than expected at the Olympic games, including Billy Mills' thrilling 5,000-meter victory.

ANAHEIM (AP) — The California Angels, riding a 10-game losing streak, announced Monday they were optioning right-handed pitcher Rick Clark to Hawaii and recalling pitcher Ken Tatum from the Islanders.

Products Unbeaten in Industrial Loop

Imperial Molded Products remained unbeaten in Wallied Lake Industrial Softball last night by downing Copper Mugg, 9-2.

Herb Stultz included a home run among his three hits for Imperial (6-0) and knocked in three runs. Copper Mugg's record is 4-2.

Home runs by Pelletier and Urban sparked Michigan Building Components (3-1) to a 14-2 victory over Haggerty Lumber (2-4). Penny Electrics (5-2) won a forfeit over Kar-Kart (0-5).

Angels Switch Hurlers

Ex-Tiger in Form

Gladding Brightens Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — The Hous-out, but then I never could," he credits the Astros' surge to Fred Gladding, the Astros' late innings stopper, has never saved this season. He has not yielded a run in his last 15 innings and has been scored on only once in 15 appearances.

Seven of Gladding's saves have come this month, during which the Astros have the best win-loss record in the majors. After winning only four of their first 24 games, the Astros have won eight straight and 17 of their last 21 efforts.

The acquisition of Gladding once appeared to be one of the worst deals the Astros ever made.

The 225-pounder, who will be 33 next month, was acquired from Detroit in the deal that sent Eddie Mathews to the Tigers late in 1967. The next winter, the Astros chose Gladding from a list of available players to complete the deal.

Gladding got in only seven games for the Astros last year, missing virtually the entire season after an elbow operation. He had a 15.75 earned run average.

The husky right-hander faced spring training this season with some uncertainty. But his fears were unfounded. His right arm and his fast ball had regained their strength.

Gladding admits he is surprised the way things are going for him this season.

"Yes, I'm surprised," he said. "I'd say it was debatable if I would ever play again."

When asked about the crook in his elbow, the bespectacled pitcher smiles.

No Parochial Action Seen This Week

QUESTION: Where do birds sleep. Why don't they fall off the branches?

ANSWER: Birds are very active and need plenty of rest at night. Few of us see them sleeping, because it would be dangerous for them to sleep in exposed places. They have many enemies.

Birds are expert at hiding. Some sleep in thickets, or in holes in trees; some burrow in leaves. Many sleep high up on branches of tall trees, concealed in the foliage, with their heads tucked under their wings. The soft shoulder feathers make fine pillows.

Birds don't fall off the branches because of an ingenious arrangement of their legs and feet. Each of the toes connects with a kind of cord going up inside the leg and around the joints.

When the bird squats down to sleep (upper left) this cord pulls the toes together, so the bird is securely locked to the branch.

Lakes Study Is Fouled Up by Pollution

DETROIT (AP) — The Army Corps of Engineers reports that pollution has fouled a two-year study of Great Lakes pollution. The $8 million study failed to answer the question of whether the dumping of muck dredged from river channels and harbors increases pollution in the Great Lakes.

"The beds of lake and bay areas were found so polluted that additional pollution from dredge disposal could not be detected," the Corps reported.

The pilot study was undertaken in part because of a proposal to dispose of waste materials in diked land areas. Participating in the study were the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration and the State Water Resources Commission, along with the Army engineers.

The Corps insists that the problem of dumping in the open lake is "open to question," and contends that more research is needed.

Officials from the other two agencies, however, agree that the practice of dumping dredgings in deep water is undesirable.

Col. James T. White, Detroit district engineer, said that he believed it would cost too much money to set up diked land areas where polluted materials could be dumped.

Legal Opinion on Bell Slated

A legal opinion on a charge that Michigan Bell Telephone Co. is violating the city ordinance on off-street parking is expected to be submitted to the City Commission at its meeting at 8 tonight at City Hall, East Pike and East Wide Track.

Last week, a lawyer for the Communication Workers of America charged the company was building a $12.5-million addition to its building at Mill and East Huron without regard to the parking needs of some 200 additional workers expected at the facility.

The city's legal department was asked to check agreements and proposals concerning parking in that area of downtown.

Other items on the agenda include several proposals for utility projects.

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker William Ryan, D-Detroit, said yesterday he does not think there will be any new move this week to revive the issue of state aid for nonpublic schools in the House.

NO PAROCHIAL
"I don't think we'll have time to discuss it," Ryan said. "We haven't had the time to talk to the legislators on their positions."

UNESCO Text Quotes Gandhi; Marx Most

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The fathers of non-violence—Mohandas K. Gandhi and of communism—Karl Marx—are the most quoted thinkers in a book of quotations on human rights published today by the U. N. Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Nineteen of Gandhi's quotations appear in the book and 15 of Marx's. There are two each from George Washington and Woodrow Wilson and one each from Thomas Jefferson and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Milliken to Talk

MARQUETTE (AP) — Gov. William G. Milliken will be the main speaker at Northern Michigan University's commencement Sunday. Milliken also will be one of four persons receiving honorary degrees.

and we don't know whether we have the votes or not."

Ryan said the time to revive parochial would be "when we have the votes to pass it—56 in House and 30 in the Senate."

Passage of an enabling resolution by both Houses could bring back the entire issue anew, Ryan noted.

CLOSINGS SEEN
"The problem won't go away," Ryan said. "If we don't pass it this year, some schools will go out of business. If we wait until 1970 to pass it, it will be too late for them."

The house speaker said both houses probably would like to see the other house handle the issue first.

Ryan said he saw some danger there might not be a fall legislative session to consider the entire area of reform of state school financing.

"The Legislature simply could not formally adjourn," he explained. "Then it would take the leaders of the Legislature to call them back."

'DO-NOTHING' SESSION
There also is a possibility, Ryan said, that any fall session

Midland Blackout

MIDLAND (AP) — Downtown Midland had a 79 - minute electrical blackout today. A city-owned truck dumping a commercial trash collector at a department store struck a power pole carrying the downtown commercial circuit of Consumers Power Co. The blackout lasted from 6:05 a.m. to 7:24 a.m.

might be a "do-nothing session."

There have been "rumors," he said, that some members of the Senate do not want a fall session.

"Some of these people are reflecting their own opinions," Ryan said. "Others might be pressured by public school administrators who are so against aid to nonpublic schools they would be willing to forego the port parochial, or to ask the fall session to work for more aid for public schools."

There still are vehicle bills in the Senate, Ryan noted, to which a parochial measure could be attached.

RESOLUTION OF INTENT
Ryan said he saw no use in the passage by the Legislature of a resolution of intent to support parochial, or to ask the governor's study committee to take it under consideration.

"I'm against such a resolution," he declared. "It is kid stuff and would accomplish nothing."

Ryan reported that about $22 million had been added in committee to bills submitted by Gov. William Milliken on social services and public welfare.

About $10 million of this, he said, was added to direct relief, about $10 million to pay for hospitalization of the needy, about $1 million for services by physicians and some $750,000 "to get low-cost housing off the ground."

About $17 million of the total would come from state funds, he said.

Ryan said the $10 million added for direct relief would ease an added burden on counties if the governor's bills were passed as proposed.

Wayne County would be the major sufferer under the governor's plan, he said.

The $10 million added for hospitalization, he said, would be to pay for added costs caused by eliminating a cutoff period of 20 days for hospitalization.

COMMEMORATIVE STAMPS — The Post Office yesterday released these designs for two new six-cent postage stamps. One commemorates Alabama's sesquicentennial, featuring the state flower, the camellia, and the state bird, the yellowhammer. It will be issued Aug. 2 at Huntsville, Ala. The second stamp honors John Wesley Powell, the noted geologist who explored the Colorado River. It will be issued Aug. 1 at Page, Ariz., and features three small boats braving the turbulent river.
