

Hearing Is Set for Tomorrow on City Budget

No Employee Layoffs,
No Raises Provided
in Tentative Total

By DICK SAUNDERS
A $6,879,495 city budget that would neither require a layoff nor provide a pay raise for city employees, will be up for a public hearing at tomorrow's City Commission meeting.

The 1964 budget proposed in November totaled $6,948,234. It would have required a layoff of some 60 employees and disbanding the Youth Assistance Bureau.

It has been cut by $68,739 by commissioners and administrators and is still subject to change before it comes up for adoption at the Jan. 28 commission meeting.

The layoffs are no longer contemplated. The youth bureau is back in.

RECREATION CUT

In their place, the city has substituted major cuts in services, particularly in recreation programs.

Also, rather than lay off personnel, the city will just not fill vacancies in many departments as employees move on to other jobs during the year.

"This has a distinct advantage over layoffs," said City Manager Robert A. Carter. "When a man leaves for another job, you don't have to pay him unemployment compensation."

"In some cases, we can save as much by not filling a vacancy as we can by laying off two employees."

RAISES IN PAY

The budget, as it stands now, provides for normal step increases in employees' salaries as specified in the city pay plan.

However, city employees had asked for across-the-board pay hikes totaling $258,715. This includes a 56-hour work week (about $57,000) asked for by Pontiac firemen.

The budget doesn't allow for these pay hikes. Most employee groups have indicated they'd give up their pay requests to avoid layoffs, according to Carter.

"There is about $80,000 left for contingencies," Carter noted. "It would be dangerous to use this for pay hikes."

It'll Be Warm, Dry for Rest of Week

Though it's soggy today, the rest of the week will be warm and comparatively dry.

Temperatures will average 7 to 10 degrees above the normal high of 33 and low 20.

Saturday will be colder with less than one-quarter of an inch of precipitation expected in showers.

There was just a trace of rain this weekend. The low prior to 8 a.m. today was 42. By 2 p.m. the temperature had dropped to 36.

Psychologist Testifies

Says Ruby's Brain Is Impaired

DALLAS (AP) — A Yale University psychologist testified today that in his opinion Jack Ruby is suffering an impaired functioning of the brain and should have a thorough examination.

Dr. Roy Schafer of the Yale Department of Mental Health testified in Ruby's effort to obtain release on bond while awaiting his trial on a charge of murder in the death of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Dr. Schafer said he examined the 33-year-old night club operator for 9½ hours in late December, giving him a number of standard psychological tests.

His testimony was permitted over objections of state attorneys, who contended it had no bearing in the bond hearing.

ESSENTIAL TESTIMONY

Defense attorney Melvin Belli told the court the testimony was essential to sustain the defense contention that Ruby could not tell right from wrong and lacked "conscious appreciation of what he was doing" when he shot Oswald on Nov. 24 in the basement of Dallas City Jail.

Oswald was being transferred from city jail to county jail. He had been charged with murder in the assassination of President Kennedy on Nov. 22, with murder in the death of Policeman J. D. Tippit the same day and with attempted murder in the wounding of Gov. John Connally of Texas, who was riding with the President.

Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown turned down the objection of the prosecution and allowed Schafer to testify.

Dr. Schafer testified he thought it likely that Ruby might have a disorder known as psychomotor epilepsy.

He said this disorder affects control over impulses and that a frequent characteristic is a victim's "lack of knowledgeability" of what he is doing.

He said there are "not particularly" any outward signs that would show an attack of the disorder is in progress.

Asked what sort of stimulus starts "this explosive mental state," Schafer testified: "It can be set off by strong emotional stimuli."

2 Teens Die in Crashes; Driver Charged in One

A 15-year-old Troy girl who refused to be called "chicken" was killed near Mount Meridian, Ind., yesterday when the car in which she was a passenger smashed broadside into a tree.

Diane Sands, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville K. Sands was bound for California where she was to act as a witness at the wedding of two of the five teen-agers in the car.

With her were 17-year-old J. Rodney Rader of Detroit, driver of the car, Sandi and Steve Mackie, 14 and 13, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie, 1665 Cole, Birmingham, and 13-year-old Cherri Butts, also of Birmingham.

The four teenagers were all injured in the mishap.

One of the dead girl's friends, 14-year-old Diane Kolodziej, 1541 E. Long Lake, Troy, said today she was invited to go, but refused even though the other youths called her "chicken."

She was one of four passengers in a car that ricocheted across Woodward into a tree north of Long Lake Road.

Warns Against Inflation Tied to Price Hikes

Annual Economy Talk
Asks Careful Watch on Wage-Cost Spiral

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson predicted today record-smashing prosperity in 1964 if Congress acts — "not in one or two or three months, but now" — on the $11-billion tax cut.

Without it, Johnson warned the legislators, the rosy picture could become harsh — dashed expectation could turn expansion into recession.

In his first economic report to Congress, the President also cautioned against inflationary price rises.

"A series of specific price increases in recent months — especially in manufactured goods — gives me some cause for concern," he said, although he doesn't anticipate a renewal of the wage-price spiral.

He urged business and labor to continue their "excellent" record of price and cost settlements but said he is setting up an "early warning system" by government agencies to guard against potentially inflationary price and wage increases.

"In the face of a 44 per cent increase in corporate profits in less than three years and the prospect of further increases to come with the tax cut, I see no warrant for inflationary price rises," he declared.

In the economic report to Congress, required annually under the 1946 Employment Act, Johnson pointed with pride at the big steps the country made since 1961 under Democratic administrations.

"Our record $100-billion expansion since early 1961 has carried us past important milestones in the march toward a better life," he said.

HISTORICAL ADVANTAGES

Turning to last year specifically, he said these advances were made for the first time in history:

• The gross national production (GNP) — the total output of goods and services — passed the $600-billion mark by year-end.

• Personal income before tax

Highlights of Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are highlights of President Johnson's economic report to Congress:

THE 1963 RECORD

Gross national product passed the $600 billion level — up $100 billion in less than three years since early 1961.

Personal income reached an average rate per capita of $2,500.

After-tax income of individuals reached $500 billion. Corporate profits reached $50 billion before taxes, $25 billion after taxes.

EXTENT OF THE ADVANCE

Since early 1961, gross national product has risen 16 per cent.

Industrial production is up 23 per cent.

Personal income is up $70 billion — 17 per cent.

PROBLEMS AHEAD

An unemployment rate of 5½ per cent continues to "cast a long shadow over our pride in this achievement" and reminds us that far too much of our precious human potential lies idle.

Men, machines and materials that lie idle today could readily add about $30 billion more to our $600-billion GNP.

Operating rates in manufacturing average 87 per cent of capacity, compared with 92 per cent preferred by business managers.

We need about 2 million new jobs each year.

Judge Denies Move to Drop Hoffa Case

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — A Federal Judge overruled today a request by Teamsters Union President James Hoffa to throw out an indictment accusing him of trying to influence jurors in a previous trial.

Hoffa's lawyer, Harry Berke of Chattanooga, said he learned only last night that unauthorized persons had access to the secret minutes of the Nashville grand jury which returned the indictment against Hoffa and five others.

He did not identify the unauthorized persons.

U. S. Dist. Judge Frank W. Wilson overruled without comment the request to dismiss the indictment, following a 2-hour secret session which began almost as soon as the trial got under way in a heavily guarded courtroom.

He also turned down requests by Hoffa to throw out a controversial list of 200 prospective jurors selected for the trial, and a motion by Chicago insurance executive Allen Dorfman for a separate trial.

The judge had quietly released the previously sealed list of jury panelists as the trial began.

More legal wrangling still left doubt when the actual jury picking will start.

Judge Wilson had just sworn in the first 100 of the special jury panelists when Berke asked that the courtroom be cleared.

PRIVACY REQUESTED

He said he wanted to make several defense motions in private, "because they might be prejudicial to the defendant" in open court.

All six defendants are charged with trying to bribe jurors and prospective jurors in Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville, which ended with the jury deadlocked 7-5 for acquittal.

In addition to Hoffa and Dorfman, those on trial are Nicholas J. Tweel, businessman from Huntington, W. Va.; Larry Campbell, Teamsters business agent at Detroit; Thomas Ewing Parks of Nashville, Campbell's uncle, and Ewing King, recently defeated as local Teamsters president in Nashville.

Johnson Asks Broader Bans on Aggression

Letter to Khrushchev
Includes Requests for
More Berlin Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has called on Soviet Premier Khrushchev to broaden his proposal for a worldwide nonaggression pact to outlaw indirect as well as direct aggression and provide greater security for West Berlin.

In a letter made public today, the President proposed four guidelines for international agreement which he said would be "even broader and stronger" than Khrushchev's proposed ban on the use of force in territorial disputes.

Johnson did not specify Berlin or its access routes across Communist East Germany in his reply to Khrushchev's Dec. 31 message.

Administration officials, however, said he had the Berlin problem in mind in asking agreement to prohibit the use of threat of force to change "arrangements or procedures concerning access to, passage across or practice has established or confirmed such arrangements or procedures."

The President urged Khrushchev to join in taking concrete action both to end the nuclear arms race and bar the spread of nuclear weapons and also to outlaw aggression and subversion.

SPECIFIC TASK

He said that "our task is to work hard and persistently on... specific problems and proposals... instead of confining ourselves to vague declarations of principle that oppose some wars but not all."

This referred, administration officials said, to the statement in Khrushchev's letter (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Stassen After President Post

Minnesota Republican
Launches Fourth Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, the never-say-die man of Republican politics, launched his fourth drive for the presidency today.

Outlining a program entitled "building for peace," the former Minnesota governor told a news conference he would enter the Republican presidential primary in New Hampshire March 10.

He said he also would enter the District of Columbia primary May 5, and the final one in California June 2.

He plans to enter certain other primaries, Stassen said, but did not name them.

UNDER HANDICAP

In New Hampshire, he said, he is under the handicap of "starting late with two heavily financed and thoroughly organized campaigns already under way."

He referred to Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

The newly announced candidate said former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had not pledged his support to him above other Republican candidates, but told him "he believed a number of Republicans should actively enter the race and present their views." He included me within that number.

Resume Tanganyika Revolt

LONDON (AP) — Troops in Tanganyika mutinied twice today. A British destroyer sped to the former East African colony as the situation appeared to be growing worse at nightfall.

Demanding more pay and better living conditions, several hundred troops seized British officers at a barracks five miles north of the capital of Dar es Salaam.

Then they roared into Dar es Salaam in trucks brandishing automatic weapons, captured vital installations and for a time were said to have held moderate President Julius Nyerere.

Twelve hours later, Nyerere went on the radio, announced he had intervened and the mutiny was over.

BROKE OUT AGAIN

This afternoon, Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys arose in the House of Commons in London and said the troops had broken out once more and may have taken control of the capital's airport.

With the situation again deteriorating, Sandys said the destroyer Rhyll with a company of British riflemen had been ordered in and was now offshore to protect the 5,000 British citizens in Tanganyika.

Sandys spoke darkly of the possibility "there may have been other influences at work of which I am not yet aware."

The former British colony of Zanzibar, only 22 miles off the coast of Tanganyika, was taken over Jan. 12 by leftist-inclined African nationalists, who drove the ruling sultan into exile.

Asked if he agreed that Dar es Salaam had become a center of Communist-inspired subversion in East and Central Africa, Sandys replied:

"I did say, already, that I do not know what other influences may be at work in this affair."

Sandys said British nationals in the Tanganyika capital had been advised to remain indoors.

"Our prime consideration is to carry out our first obligation which is to do everything we can in this difficult situation to protect British lives," he declared.

CAUSE OF MUTINY

The minister said the cause of the mutiny appeared to arise from unrest over steps to Africanize the Tanganyikan army and the question of pay.

In all, about 30 British officers were reported seized by the mutineers in the early morning uprising. British officers are in Tanganyika to help train the army. No troops are garrisoned there.

Fortieth Year

Jaycees Observe Anniversary Week

The Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, third oldest in the state, along with 4,900 other chapters in the nation are observing Jaycee Week this week.

The selection of Michigan's Junior Miss on Saturday will highlight the local celebration. The Pontiac Jaycees, celebrating its 40th anniversary, have conducted the state finals for six years.

The pageant, which will have 24 senior high school girls competing for the title, has been sandwiched in between the Jaycees successful campaign to change the method of electing city commissioners and their annual Bosses Night.

Normally, Bosses Night, which features the naming of the area's outstanding young man, is conducted during National Jaycee Week.

PROGRAM DELAYED

Jaycee President Richard Fitzpatrick said, however, that the drive to revise the city charter has made it necessary to delay the program until Feb. 15.

Programs like those already outlined are only a few of the many undertaken by Jaycees in the area.

The Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce has had a full year of projects, with community and youth activities at the top of the list, according to President Jack Cooper.

In August, members conducted a community attitude survey to gather data for future township planning.

Later, they boosted city incorporation and were responsible for getting the issue on the ballot. The proposal, however, was rejected by voters.

In the spring, the Waterford Jaycees stage their major project, a sports and builders show, with proceeds donated to worthy community causes.

Pontiac Jaycees, the largest in the area, with 106 members, sponsored the Waterford organization when it was established, as well as many others in nearby communities.

Fund-raising projects proved successful for Pontiac Jaycees last year. The Detroit Lions inter-squad game in August provided money for a scholarship at Oakland University. The amount has not been determined.

A $1,200 scholarship was provided at the university with money from a Jaycee operated refreshment booth at the Detroit Horse Show.

Each year the Pontiac Jaycees donate $600 to the Boys' Club with revenue from peanut vending machines in local stores.

Youth projects are an important part of the Jaycee activities.

At Easter, hundreds of children hunt for eggs at Jaycee Park, Walton and Joslyn; safety is stressed on Halloween when Jaycees give prizes to children who are home before certain hours; and many underprivileged children are given five dollars at Christmas time to buy gifts for their families.

The Jaycees were co-sponsors with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department of Midget champion football games that saw 28 teams compete in October.

Jaycee Park for years has been high among the Jaycees special projects. About $16,000 has gone into the park for physical improvements.

Lights for the parks are being considered as a future project.

Budget Hearing Set

they may not be able to get through the year. If this happens, we'll need that contingency."

One big hike is some $400,000 which must be budgeted to retire a tax anticipation loan before September. The loan is for urban renewal operating expenses.

It is to be paid back with federal funds which should be available as soon as a new urban renewal budget and plan is approved by federal agencies.

It won't, therefore, have much effect on tax income, unless the federal grant is not approved. Budget increases are found in few departments. There's a $56,424 hike in the fire department budget over last year, due mainly to staffing a new north-side fire station.

The electrical department budget is up $23,799 and street lighting will cost $8,265 more in 1964 with the Perimeter Road open.

Although the recreation budget is at $102,000 compared to $142,500 last year, an additional $22,720 is allotted for operating a new community recreation center at Wessen and Walnut which is slated to open in June.

Budget cuts include $103,000 in maintenance of local streets, $165,000 in public service facilities, $20,000 in the police department, and $32,000 in the library budget.

These departments are all part of the operating budget, which is the major item in the total city budget.

The 1964 operating budget as proposed now stands at $5,877,067, which is about $155,689 more than budgeted for operating expenses last year.

PAID TWO WAYS

Operating expenses are paid partly by tax revenues and partly by revenue from other sources such as fees, sales and services of commodities and income from other governmental agencies.

If and when the federal government forwards money to pay the $400,000 urban renewal loan, that will leave an operating budget of $5,468,067 — about $253,311 less than last year — to be financed by taxes and other revenues.

City officials expect no more in tax revenues this year than last, and current estimates are that income from other sources, including the $400,000 federal urban renewal grant will be about $124,000 less than last year.

Over and above the operating budget are sanitation and waste collection, estimated to cost $316,028 ($51,377 under 1963), a $518,400 capital improvement fund ($3,949 more than last year) and debt retirement at $168,000, about the same as 1963.

FINANCE METHOD

These items are financed from tax millage other than the millage specified for operating expenses.

These items plus the operating appropriation bring the 1964 budget total to $6,879,495, about $110,609 above the 1963 total city budget.

Touch Phones Are Coming

Buttons Eliminate Dialing Each Number

Push-button telephones — on which numbers are tapped out instead of dialed — will become available in four Oakland County communities this year.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co., in making the announcement, said the new type of service known as Touch-Tone will be offered first in Southfield.

It is scheduled for introduction in West Bloomfield Township's Mayfair-6 exchange in July; Birmingham in November and Farmington in December.

According to Michigan Bell President William M. Day, the new telephone signals the most significant advance in the mechanics of calling since the changeover to dial telephones started in 1921.

GRADUAL BASIS

He said the new service will be made available on a gradual, town-by-town basis over the next several years. Eleven other communities in Michigan will receive the new phone in 1964.

With the push-button system, telephone switching apparatus responds to musical tones sent over the lines instead of electric impulses.

Telephone customers will hear the melodious sounds as they touch each button.

The gradual introduction is necessary because major equipment modifications must be made in telephone central offices before the new service can be offered in individual communities. This will not affect the conventional dial signal.

TEN BUTTONS

Ten buttons on the new unit replace the customary disc that contains 10 finger holes.

The buttons are centered on a block of three rows, three buttons to a row. Beneath the three rows is a single button to contact the operator.

Tests have shown it takes only two to five seconds to tap out a telephone number as against eight to 14 seconds with the traditional dial.

The new telephones will be offered for both business and home use as an optional service at a moderate additional monthly charge, according to Day.

Officials Blame Revenge in Gangland-Style Blast

DETROIT (UPI) — Police today claimed revenge spurred a gangland bombing that resulted in critical injuries to alleged Mafia boss Santo Perrone.

Chief of detectives Thomas R. Cochill said Perrone, who was mangled by an explosion yesterday, was an "extortion artist."

"I personally think he knows who did it," Cochill said, and why it was done. When he says he doesn't know who did it, he may have difficulty deciding who among a group might have done it."

Perrone's car was ripped by an explosion as the victim left his car which was parked beside a dry cleaning establishment on the city's East Side. His torn body was thrown from the late model car and he stumbled into the street.

LEG TORN OFF

His right leg had been torn off by the blast and blood poured from cuts and lacerations on his body.

Police said hundreds of suspects were questioned but the only clue was a pair of worn, brown leather gloves found near the wreckage of a car.

Police placed a guard around Perrone's hospital room and only his family and a Catholic passengers in the car were treated for minor injuries and released from the hospital.

The other teen-agers in the accident are Valerie Bolden, 14, of 314 Howard McNeill, and Barbara Milton, 15, of 254 Whittemore.

LOST CONTROL

Police estimated the auto's speed at the time of the accident to be 60 mph. They said Thomas apparently lost control of the northbound vehicle on the curb in front of City and Country School of Bloomfield Hills.

The car, they said, crossed the roadway, striking a sign in its path. It then traveled through some bushes and hit a pine tree.

The auto swerved back onto the pavement to stop crosswise in the two inside lanes of southbound Woodward. In all, the car skidded some 150 feet, according to police.

They indicated that the driver and four passengers were thrown from the car.

QUESTIONING WITNESS

Police are questioning a witness to the 5:30 p.m. accident to determine whether any of the youngsters subsequently were struck by other vehicles.

Laverne Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Williams, was an eighth grade student at Eastern Junior High School, having transferred there from Jefferson Junior High two weeks ago.

LBJ Asks for Bans on Aggression

(Continued From Page One) arguing that wars for territory should be banned by the agreement he proposed but that the ban should not apply to various conflicts which he approved.

Khrushchev called these struggles of colonial peoples for independence and, by implication, at least, any action Red China might decide to take to gain control of Formosa.

FOUR GUIDELINES

Johnson's four guidelines covered these major points:

1. All governments or "regimes"—which would include Red China — "shall abstain from the direct or indirect threat or use of force" to change international boundaries or dividing lines established by international practice, to upset truce agreements, or to alter existing arrangements for access to or administration of areas where the arrangements are established by international agreement or practice.

This first guideline also would ban the use of threat or force by any government to enlarge its control of territory by overthrowing established authority.

2. The prohibition on aggressive action "shall apply regardless of the direct or indirect form which such threat or use of force might take, whether in the form of aggression, subversion, or clandestine supply of arms" and regardless of the reasons given or of any questions of diplomatic recognition or differences in political systems.

U.N. SOLUTIONS

3. The nations involved in any serious dispute "shall seek a solution by peaceful means," including the possibility of action through the United Nations or a regional U.N. agency.

4. The obligations covered in the guideline "would have to be quite generally observed" and would not impair the "inherent right of self-defense," which is recognized by the U.N. charter.

es) reached an average rate of some $2,500 per capita by year-end.

• After-tax income of individuals exceeded $400 billion for the year.

• Corporate profits exceeded $50 billion before taxes and $25 billion after taxes.

• Residential construction passed $25 billion.

• Civilian employment exceeded 70 million for the year.

NOTES INCREASE

Johnson said this $600-billion annual rate the GNP reached in the fourth quarter of 1963 is a 16 per cent increase since 1961.

With the tax cut, he added, GNP should soar to a whopping $623 billion in 1964.

When fully effective in 1965, he asserted, the cut will "send well over $11 billion annually coursing through the arteries of the private economy."

Also on Johnson's list of legislation he wants whipped through were these items, practically all bearing the Kennedy administration label:

1. Higher penalty rates for overtime pay to stimulate new hiring by some industries without resorting to a 35-hour week which he said "would only redistribute work, not expand it."

2. Federal aid to upgrade education, particularly for "the children of the poor, so that they need not follow their parents in poverty."

3. Hospital insurance under Social Security for the aged.

4. Federal aid to cities in modernizing mass transit.

5. Renewal and strengthening of a number of expiring housing laws, including low-rent public housing, renewal of decayed city areas, and special housing for the elderly.

6. Coverage of 2.5 million more workers by the $1.25 minimum wage law, including some 650,000 hotel, motel, restaurant, laundry, dry cleaning and farm-processing workers.

7. A permanent improvement in the duration and benefits of unemployment insurance.

8. A rash of legislation "to lift the forgotten fifth of our nation above the poverty line."

LATER MESSAGE

For this "war on poverty" which Johnson declared in his State of the Union message, the President said he would present details in a later special message to Congress.

He declared: "Americans today enjoy the highest standard of living in the history of mankind. But for nearly a fifth of our fellow citizens, this is a hollow achievement."

"They often live without hope, below minimum standards of decency."

Johnson said the per capita income "of these 35 million men, women and children" was only $590 in 1962, against $1,000 per capita for the nation as a whole.

But, Johnson told the legislators, no single Washington program can do the job. Instead, he said, all the federal, state, local and private programs must work together, and communities must be assisted in developing their own programs.

Government Worth More Than It Owes

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

FEDERAL PROPERTY: The federal government is worth more money than it owes, a congressional committee says.

In its annual report, the House Committee on Government Operations reported Sunday that the government owned $315 billion worth of land and property around the world as of last June 30.

This is $9 billion more than the federal debt at that time. The committee thinks the $315 billion figure is a conservative one.

For example, the 18 acres of White House grounds are listed as worth $1,000. On the open market they would probably bring millions.

The committee noted that most government property is valued at its original cost.

BOYD: President Johnson has given Alan S. Boyd a new one-year term as chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Boyd has been under fire from some New England congressmen for his vote against allowing Northeast Airlines to continue on the New York-Miami run. Boyd cast the decisive vote in the case.

UNTRUE REPORTS

Reports that House Speaker John W. McCormack had protested to the President against renaming Boyd were described as untrue Saturday by Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary.

Robert T. Murphy was named by Johnson to a new one-year term as vice chairman of the CAB.

Utica Refuses School Funds for 3rd Time

Growth Plans Again Vetoed

Personnel Release, Half Days Faced

UTICA — For the third time in seven months, school district voters here have turned thumbs down on a request for funds for school expansion.

Saturday, some 6,300 voters — more than twice the previous record turnout — voted down a $7.5-million bond issue 3,340 to 2,828.

They also rejected a request for a 4-mill, five-year school tax, 3,257 to 3,063.

Saturday's balloting brought to a close an intensive campaign waged by the Citizens School Advisory Committee. Telephone, mail and door-to-door solicitation were included in the committee's efforts to sell the two proposals.

CLASSROOMS TO WAIT

As a result of the election, the administration's plans for 70 new elementary classrooms will have to wait.

Three new elementary schools were to be constructed as well as a 10-room supplementary wing at the new Switzer school.

Now the 30-acre site on Dodge, south of Utica Road, will stand empty for at least a while longer.

A $3.6-million high school, with a capacity of 1,800 students, was to be built had the bond issue passed.

Without new facilities provided by the two proposals, there will be some 600 elementary-age children than there are facilities for next year. This will jump to 1,500 in 1965, according to school officials.

PERSONNEL RELEASE

Some 60 professional school personnel will have to be released due to failure of the issues to pass.

A number of students would have had to go half-day sessions next year regardless of the outcome of Saturday's election.

Schools Supt. Fred M. Atkinson said today the defeat of the two issues means that "hundreds of students will have to go on half-days."

"It's not the board or the administration that have been defeated here, but the children's education," he said.

ONLY THREATS?

"Apparently, the majority of voters think that these things we predicted were only threats."

Atkinson said that he would be able to predict more specific effects of the defeat after the board and administration meet and "reevaluate the entire situation."

Construction Is Under Way on Chrysler Stamping Plant

The largest automotive plant ever built by Chrysler Corporation is under construction in Sterling Township.

Details of the new stamping plant to be erected along Van Dyke between the 15 and 16 mile roads were announced today by Joseph F. Kerigan, vice president and group executive of stamping.

Kerigan said at ground-breaking ceremonies that the new plant will have nearly 2,500,000 square feet, or more than 57 acres of floor space.

When in full operation the new plant will have 3,000 employees on two work shifts with a total annual payroll of approximately $20,000,000.

30 LINES

Kerigan said: "The plant will have 30 lines of stamping presses which will turn out a wide variety of stampings to be used in Chrysler Corporation assembly plants in Michigan, Missouri, Delaware, California and in the company's new Belvidere, Ill., assembly plant."

"The largest presses will weigh 1.3 million pounds and have a stamping force of 2-000 tons. There will be a total of 251 large presses and 155 small presses.

"Just to feed the presses in this plant we will need 2,000 tons of steel every day. The presses will turn out enough finished parts to fill 100 boxcars each 16-hour workday."

The plant will produce car roofs, hoods, quarter panels, trunk lids, floor pans and several hundred other similar types of stampings.

CONTRACT AWARDED

A nearly $10 million contract for fabrication of the 32,000 tons of structural steel to be used in the plant already has been awarded to two Detroit area firms, Whitehead and Kales Co. and the R. C. Mahon Co.

"The one-story main manufacturing building will have more than 2 million square feet of floor space at ground level."

"The plant basement will have nearly 400,000 square feet and the office building will have 67,000 square feet of floor space," Kerigan said.

"All of these figures add up to this one fact: This will be the largest automotive plant ever constructed by Chrysler anywhere in the world."

PILOT PRODUCTION

Kerigan said the first of the thirty major press lines is scheduled to go into pilot production next January.

He added: "This press line will be operating at one end of the plant while construc-

Oxford to Get Details About Sewer Project

OXFORD — The village's proposed sewage system and methods of financing it will be explained to the public at a special meeting Thursday in Oxford Junior High School.

The Village Council is staging the 7:30 session in order to explain, in detail, how the new system will affect the Oxford homeowner, as well as the businessman.

Engineering and financial aspects of the system will be discussed, and audience members will have opportunity to ask questions about the plans.

Village Manager Michael Kilgore has said that although no vote is necessary to go ahead with the $906,460 construction project, it is of such magnitude that the council feels the opinion of Oxford's citizens is necessary.

Ex-Fire Chief Gets New Job

WALLED LAKE — Frank Hamilton, who resigned Thursday as full-time chief of Wall Lake's volunteer fire department, began a new job today.

The 25-year-old father of three told City Manager Frank C. Derby he had accepted a job as draftsman at Modern Engineering Co., Troy, for financial reasons.

Hamilton, 1393 Nolita, has been a fireman for two years and chief for almost a year. He will remain a volunteer.

Derby said there would be no curtailment of service from the 15-man department. Appointment of a temporary fire chief is expected at tomorrow night's City Council meeting.

"We're not hurting. We can go along the way we are," said Derby, commenting that Hamilton's resignation came as a complete surprise to him.

Points to Remember When You Tackle Income Tax

(EDITOR'S NOTE—There are some important changes in the method for filing your tax return on 1963 income. Here, in the first of five special articles, is a rundown of changes and a report on other principal points you should keep in mind.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

Main points in filing your tax return on 1963 income: Deadline—midnight, April 15.

Income—Report only the taxable kind; not the nontaxable, like Social Security payments.

Dividends and Interest—Something new has been added.

Since Jan. 1, 1963 organizations paying you interest or dividends of $10 or more have had to inform the Internal Revenue Service. So be sure to report yours.

Social Security Number—List yours on your return. There's a $5 penalty for failing to do so.

ENCLOSE W-2

W-2 Withholding Statements—These receipts for tax withheld from your 1963 pay must be enclosed with your return.

Return Forms—Generally the choice is between form 1040 and 1040A. Anyone can use 1040. But only people with less than $10,000 income can use 1040A and then only if, in that income, there is not more than $200 in dividends or interest and wages from which tax was not withheld.

Refunds—If too much tax was withheld from your income in 1963, you can get a refund but only by filing a return.

Something new has been added here. Now you can ask for your refund in U.S. Savings Bonds. Or, as in the past, you can get it in cash or have it credited to your estimated tax on 1964 income.

INDICATE CHOICE

You can indicate your choice of any one of the three methods on the bottom of 1040. On 1040A you can choose only a direct refund or bonds. There's no place there to show you want a refund credited to your 1964 estimated tax.

Who must file a return? You must, whether or not you owe tax, if:

1. You were under 65—in this includes children—and had income of $600 or more.
2. You were 65 or over before Jan. 1, 1964 and had income of $1,200 or more.

SELF EMPLOYED

If you were self-employed, you must file a return and pay a Social Security tax of 5.4 per cent on your net income from $400 to $4,800. The net is what's left after deducting business expenses.

Note: This self-employment tax is in addition to the regular income tax you pay, like everyone else.

Even if you're 65 or older, but are self-employed, you must pay the 5.4 per cent Social Security tax on your $400-to-$4,800 income although you may be receiving Social Security payments.

Since there are limits on how much income a person over 65 can earn and still draw Social Security payments, be sure you understand them.

2 BIG HELPS

There are two big helps in making out your return—the instruction sheet and the booklet:

1. IRS sends every taxpayer an instruction sheet with the tax rates, tax tables, and answers to questions.
2. For more detailed information than you find in this series or the instruction sheet, get "Your Federal Income Tax" from the nearest IRS office. It's a 144-page booklet, costs 40 cents, and is very good.

CLAIM DEDUCTIONS

Deductions—Claim all you can to reduce your income before what's left is taxable. Examples: State income taxes, house mortgage interest, state gasoline taxes, charitable contributions.

Everyone, without the need to itemize his deductions or prove he had them, gets a standard deduction of 10 per cent of his income up to a limit of $1,000 for nonbusiness expenses. Example: Charitable contributions, medical bills, interest on the house mortgage.

If your expenses were higher than the standard allows for, then itemize them and claim them in full.

Note this: When married couples file separate returns each is allowed a standard deduction of no more than $500 each.

TRAVEL, ENTERTAINMENT

Deductions for travel and entertainment expenses—Too many people overdid this kind of expense deduction and the government cracked down by tightening the rules on the kind of expenses and the proof. You'd better understand them well.

Exemptions—Everyone filing a return gets a $600 exemption knocked off his income before applying the tax, plus $600 for each dependent. A wife is not a dependent.

If she had no income, you can file your own return, claiming a $600 exemption for her and $600 for yourself. Or, you can file a joint return with the same result: You each claim a $600 exemption.

You can't claim any exemption for your wife if she had any income—no matter how small—unless she files jointly with you.

If she files her own separate return, she claims her own $600 exemption.

TAXABLE INCOME

Some examples of taxable income which must be reported: Wages, salaries, tips, bonuses, commissions, rents, profits from a business, profession or farm; interest on savings accounts, stock dividends, dividends (which are really interest) from savings and loan association, profits from the sale or exchange of property, gambling winnings, severance pay, generally strike benefits paid by unions, income from estates and trusts, prizes for which you did something to win.

Some examples of nontaxable income which doesn't have to be reported: Federal Social Security benefits; veterans benefits from the Veterans Administration to veterans and their families, interest on state and municipal bonds, subsistence and rental allowance to members of the armed forces, public assistance payments to the blind, gifts in money or anything of value for which you performed no service.

unemployment compensation paid by a state, although supplemental employment benefits from a company-financed supplemental employment fund are taxable.

Next: Which tax return form to use.

It Seems to Me . . .

U. S. International Prestige at Stake in Panama Dispute

There's more at stake in Panama than winning a dispute over the canal. Our international prestige is inextricably tied into the package and once more the entire world looks wonderingly in our direction and says in effect:

"Are you backing down?"

"What ARE your plans?"

That's really the essence of the matter and the problem of flag flying and collecting tolls is purely incidental. As Sen. Everett Dirksen says:

"If we crumble after negotiations resume, the reverberation will be heard around the world." The Illinois man is so right. One of the costs of standing on top is the fact you live in a goldfish bowl and the watchers are waiting for you to slip—with many secretly hoping you will.

The whole matter can be succinctly summed up in the now famous phrase originated half a century ago by the founding MACMANUS of MacManus, John and Adams. In a Cadillac advertisement he expatiated on a theme that has since been recognized worldwide in every conceivable manner:

"The penalty of leadership."

Unwittingly, leadership is a stern and uncompromising taskmaster that begets criticism, disagreement and opposition.

Some people who understand the situation are convinced that the United States doesn't even need the Panama Canal any more. Once it was vital to let our Navy cross from one ocean to the other. Those days almost belong with a shining coat of armor and a covered wagon. Others suggest there are several spots definitely superior to Panama for a new canal; and with nuclear power, it's no awe-inspiring assignment.

Most observers believe the Communists are at the bottom of the current to-do. Probably they are. And it's a cinch they're fomenting all the dissension they can on the actual scene and in the balance of the tiny country. That's a part of their tacit recognition of our leadership and they'll try and "exact the penalty," above and beyond all others.

Excellent Reminder . . .

The following from The Chicago Tribune has significance for all cities everywhere:

"Any form of government if not held in constant restraint by the people, will encroach on their liberties."

Every community should paste this in a conspicuous spot in a public square and keep it there forever.

Out of Hand . . .

Recently, I received three duplications and one triplicate in the same post. But that's far from a record. In the late fall my younger son and I received 13 pamphlets that were precisely the same — six addressed to one of us and seven to the other.

It doesn't bother much at The Press. We operate under the ancient rule that if it isn't important enough for the sender to pay first-class postage, it can't be important enough to open.

Voting Age Limit . . .

HARRY TRUMAN has made more friends since he left the White House than he did before.

His pungent, pithy observations on many serious questions have brought smiles from coast to coast. Currently, he was asked whether he believed the voting limit should be lowered to 18.

Quoth the former President: "No, but I'd consider raising it to 24."

The foremost citizen of Independence, Mo., suggests that a whole host shouldn't be allowed in the polling booths even at 24 because of palpable inadequacies.

The only trouble, Mr. Truman, is the fact that a whole host won't deserve the ballot at twice 24 — and how're we going to draw the line?

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

PERRY COMO's TV program on the 23rd is designed to bolster the unhappy Dallas image. . . . A White House luncheon for labor leaders found four Cabinet members hosting tables with the President at the fifth. He was flanked by GEORGE MEANY and WALTER REUTHER. . . .

JIMMY STAHLMAN, publisher of The Nashville Banner introduced me to Mrs. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR in New York last week and she's strictly All-American in her own right. . . . Many people say they're going to stop smoking "without any more ifs, ands or butts."

Scouts tell me Gloria Jean McAmis deserves mention as one of the area's unusually attractive girls.

GLORIA

to whiz past more cars at better than 50 m.p.h. . . . Secret Service men are unhappy at President Johnson's penchant for walking through crowds and shaking hands. To date their objections are fruitless. . . . Mary O'Toole runs a successful New York baby-sitting business and calls herself "The Irish Setter."

A recent home survey discloses that newspapers are the greatest single educational factor by a wide margin. . . . Overheard: "She says she just turned 30, but it must have been a U-turn." . . . More than 70 professors leave Great Britain every year to teach here because of the greater salaries. . . . Rainmakers in Johannesburg sell from $12 to $100. They're rockets with chemical particles that you fire into clouds. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—Pontiac's superb Jaycees; the J's—the Pythian Building which belches black smoke all over this area.

Not On The Table

David Lawrence Says:

French Action Is Snub to U. S.

WASHINGTON — President de Gaulle of France may not fully realize what he is doing, but he is about to take a step which could result in the first serious estrangement between France and the United States in more than a century.

For the Paris government is soon to recognize Communist China.

This is in utter disregard of the position of the United States and of the principles which have caused the government here during more than a decade to refuse to enter into diplomatic relations with Red China.

The prospective action of France will, in effect, tell the world that aggression — which has been specifically denounced in the basic principles of the United Nations charter — now gets a peculiar kind of reward.

The State Department here only a week ago said that French recognition of China would "not be a service" to the United States or to the Atlantic alliance and would enhance China's ability to promote its goal of imposing communism in other countries by any means at hand.

WELCOMES TIES

The Soviet Union, despite its so-called "split" with Red China, has just indicated it will welcome French recognition of the Peking regime.

If there were involved only the fact that the Communist Chinese actually exercise control over a vast territory of the mainland of Asia, there would be less opposition here to diplomatic recognition of the Red China government.

But the Communist Chinese made war on the U. N. troops in Korea from 1950 to 1953, defying the organization which had been set up by the governments of the world to maintain peace.

What President de Gaulle now is saying, in effect, is that, no matter what an aggressor nation does, it can get from the French government full diplomatic recognition.

AIDS AGGRESSORS

This is an encouragement of aggressor states and a disregard of the proponents of moral force, who have felt that the way to secure peace is not by military action but by a concerted world opinion — the support of peoples who favor free governments and a free society.

But President de Gaulle sweeps all this aside and extends his hand to the Red Chinese as if they had committed no crime in world affairs and as if they were eligible to be an ally of France.

The new development has been under discussion in diplomatic circles here for several weeks.

The United States has endeavored to persuade the French government not to recognize Red China, particularly since the U. N. itself has refused to accept Red China into its membership.

TRADING INTERESTS

But evidently there are materialistic interests in France that want to trade with Communist China.

Apparently the French are also seeking some sort of new influence in Southeast Asia, where the next development probably will be proposals by the French government to bring about the "reunification" of what used to be known as French Indochina, but which now is divided into North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

It has been argued that Great Britain has also recognized the Peking government.

But those who make that point forget that the British had recognized Red China early in 1950 — before the Red Chinese aggression in Korea.

The American people have always been friendly to France, but a coolness will undoubtedly arise when it is formally announced that the French government has turned its back on the United States and has embraced the Red Chinese rulers who are responsible for the killing and wounding of more than 135,000 Americans in Korea.

Bob Considine Says:

Remember the Iron Horse? It's a Great Way to Travel

NEW YORK — The weather was vile. And I had to get from Washington to New York. Suddenly, I remembered. There's another way of getting to New York from Washington.

It's called the railroad. If you airplane buffs will just sit down for a moment I'll describe the thrilling new way to get from one place to another.

CONSIDINE

There's this long string of cars, see? But big, Man, big. Up front is a big iron beetle they call a locomotive.

You walk up some steps into one of the cars and, right off, you see they've stolen something from the airlines. They've got seats running the length of the car. Nobody tells you where to sit. You just pick a spot and flop.

They even let you put your suitcase in the overhead rack, too. Guess you fellows know what a hard time any airline stewardess would give you if you tried something like that, eh?

BEGINS TO MOVE

All of a sudden the whole string of cars—must have been a couple blocks long—began to move out of the old depot.

I looked at my watch and was startled to see that the journey had begun at exactly 1:45, the announced time of departure.

As soon as we started moving I realized with a shock that I hadn't fastened my seat belt. The stewardess would be furious at me!

But, get this, my seat didn't have a belt. Looking around wildly, I noticed that none of the other passengers were secured by belts, either. Believe me, it's a frightening feeling, but we got off safely.

SEE THE U.S.A.

I looked through a window that seemed as big as Macy's and Gimbel's combined — after all those years of peeping out of plane windows — and beheld a wondrous sight: the United States of America. Or at least that part of it which stretches from Washington to New York.

It's beautiful, and there it was, big as life, right next to the window — not 30,000 feet beneath the overcast.

A fine looking waiter in a white coat came in and said softly, "The dining car is seven cars forward."

I made my way there where a waiter said he had never heard of any such regulation about serving only two drinks to a customer.

Believe it or not, it happened right here in the good old U.S. of A. Next thing you know they'll be laying tracks clean across the country.

Press Readers Reply to 'Bobby-Soxer'

"Bobby-Soxer's" letter made me sick. Is that her reason for condoning juvenile delinquency? She seems to know right from wrong.

We don't have to pick the dirt from life. Surely she sees some right, but she picks all the wrongs and then blames grownups. She is headed for trouble and will have only herself to blame.

There are good books to read, good movies to see and no one makes us go into a bar with a false ID card. There are innumerable churches. Listen to the minister or priest. Pray to God for a better world and to make you a better person.

We grownups have been wrong to make a fetish of teenagers. We have wrapped their delicate little dispositions and wrongs in cotton batting long enough. If we pray to God to guide and help us and our children we can make a better world. "Bobby-Soxer" must do a little honest thinking. We grownups aren't all to blame.

A Mother

I have read as much on juvenile delinquency as the average adult and parent, but have never read a more realistic appraisal of the problem cause or seen one stated more clearly or succinctly than the "Bobby-Soxer" letter. "Bobby-Soxer" deserves to be complimented for astute observation and the courage to speak out.

J. E. Bruns

"Bobby-Soxer" does not approve of divorce and other shameful vices nor do we. But just as adults should not consider all teen-agers delinquents, neither should she blame all adults.

With knowledge comes responsibility. Teen-agers today are gaining more knowledge at an earlier age. Thinking with an open mind can give wisdom. But you cannot only think of now. To be wise you have to include the past for wisdom in the future.

If you have knowledge enough to know these wrongs why not use it to improve? We can all better the future if we try and learn not to blame past generations.

From a Mother of Five—
One a Teen-Ager

That letter from "Bobby-Soxer" absolutely overwhelms me. She has described the situation to a "T." That letter should be published in newspapers everywhere.

Mrs. S.

We don't hear too much from our youth with the intelligence that "Bobby-Soxer" has shown. Her letter will be quite an influence in at least one family's life.

Appreciative

I have read many articles on teen-agers in The Press and I don't blame them as much as their parents. I live in Waterford Township and know the youngsters well. When you tell them to respect your property they laugh with the answer, "I won't and I don't have to." When you speak to their parents they laugh and say, "Boys will be boys." It's time we educated the parents.

Laws protect the home owner but these same laws hurt the boys' records, which mean everything when they get older.

Parents, respect your children and give them the knowledge to respect other people's property.

More Complain About Trash Collection

This new garbage plan is just about the last straw. The article in The Press is in agreement with most everyone. If there was less extravagance for needless things this could easily be taken care of.

L. S. T.

The new trash pick-up system is not for us. Our trash was to be picked up on Friday. It sat on the curb until late Monday. Worse than this, however, is the fact that our neighbors now pile their trash in front of the house daily. It's there seven days a week and it certainly isn't pretty to look at. Can't something be done?

Disgusted

'Robe Wearing No Sign of Upbringing'

I just read that woman's answer to "Water Man Hater." It's pretty good when one must wear a robe to show one's upbringing. Goodness! Look at all those uncivilized people who wear less than nighties on beaches and even on our streets. Ask the mailmen or milkmen (I'm a part-time milkman) how a grown woman looks in a robe. It doesn't leave much to one's imagination.

Locking doors is an answer but we shouldn't have to lock doors all the time. The uninvited one who enters, be it water man or best friend, is the one who wasn't brought up properly.

Ask About Taxes, Federal Consistency

How can the federal government expect full support of tax laws when tax inequities, such as individuals whose incomes exceed $1 million got away without paying a penny in federal taxes, have been discovered by Sen. Douglas, D-Ill?

If all the special privileges for special interests were eliminated, the tax rate could be cut to a flat 12 per cent for everyone.

George McCart

Where is the consistency and clearness in government? How can LBJ sledgehammer the House into passing a foreign aid bill of $3 billion of our money to fight communism and then allow a rider on it guaranteeing credit for wheat to help communism?

It is this same blundering that has caused some of our government waste and troubles. Had the late President's State Department disallowed Communists and pro-left fellow travelers

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Offers LBJ Suggestion for Aiding Poor

Christ said, "We have the poor with us always." Mr. Johnson said, "Poverty (meaning the poor) must go." He neglected to say where! Just to help him out he could start the ball rolling by giving his vast ranch together with the cattle and oil wells to the poor, thereby setting an example for the rest of us.

'Stop Free Delivery of Red Propaganda'

In a letter to Postmaster General John Gronouski, I appeared for support of H. B. 1843 by Rep. James Utt of California, which would prohibit the United States Post Office from carrying propaganda from Communist countries free of charge. The nation's independent business proprietors supported this measure by a majority of 82 per cent.

Tons of Communist propaganda printed abroad is carried in domestic mails at no charge, and under the administration of President Truman this practice was stopped.

This prohibition continued under President Eisenhower, and was then lifted. The assassin of the President was known to have been engaged in disseminating this material.

'Need Investigation of State Department'

I, with the American people, would like the whole truth about the Kennedy assassination. Judged by its past records — its appeasing policies and its white paper cover-ups, the American people cannot hope to get the truth from the state department.

For this reason I have introduced House Joint Resolution 812 calling for a complete investigation of the state department — with special emphasis to be placed on the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

Congressman John Ashbrook

'Pontiac, Waterford Should Combine'

Shall we join ranks? Shall we be the whole of what our beautiful lake community was geographically centered to be? We have a metropolis and a residential area. We work together and play together. We are the greater Pontiac area.

Pontiac may say we don't want your problems. We want all the GM tax dollars. You from Waterford may say we don't want your decadent residential or business areas. We are upper middle class with good residential tax dollars we pour out willfully. You from Pontiac may say we are different — we have all kinds of necessary services you don't. You from Waterford may say we live by our beautiful lakes by choice.

We have a lot, you have a lot — together. You have no idea how dynamic we could be. Services, fire, water, police — all one system economically and intelligently administered. We could combine brains with brawn, the old with the new and we'd have a Herculean effort. It's time we removed the wall. Let's make one whole — large, dynamic Pontiac. We are like parts of a jigsaw puzzle that a little effort could fit into a whole masterpiece.

British Doom Poison Soil

LONDON (AP)—Thousands of tons of topsoil from fields in Britain's Kent County are to be dumped in the Atlantic because they are overdosed with weed killer. The Ministry of Agriculture ordered the dumping after two

The poison got to the land in fumes from a factory making weed and rat killers. The factory stopped production last year.

2 Men Held in Oil Fraud

Claim $46.5 Million Bilked From Firm

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—The fiscal assets of Anthony DeAngelis and Thomas Lomuscio were to be examined today before Superior Court Judge Robert A. Matthews, who will determine the amount of security to be posted by the men.

They are accused of defrauding the bankrupt Harbor Tank Storage Co., Inc., of West New York of $46.5 million.

DeAngelis and Lomuscio, arrested Friday, were held over the weekend in jail here.

DeAngelis, 48, president of the bankrupt Allied Crude Vegetable Oil Refining Corp. of Bayonne, N.J., was held in lieu of $150,000 bail.

Matthews set bail at $100,000 for Lomuscio, 39, onetime custodian for Harbor Tank.

The arrests were the latest in a series of events following the collapse of DeAngelis' edible oil empire two months ago.

They came as a result of the filing of a $46.5 million civil suit Friday against DeAngelis and Lomuscio by Joseph M. Nolan, trustee for Harbor Tank Storage. The suit accused the pair of making Harbor liable for loans issued on the value of commodities supposedly stored by Allied in Harbor's tanks.

Judge Matthews said it seemed Nolan was charging that "commodities which didn't exist were delivered to tanks which didn't exist."

Bail originally was set at $46.5 million for each man under a law which stipulates a judge may set bail for the amount involved in the suit.

DeAngelis was free on $5,000 bail on charges that he transported false American Express warehousing receipts across state lines. American Express Warehousing was a tank-farm tenant of Allied.

British Waiting in Malaysia for Jungle Enemy to Attack

By CONRAD FINK
Associated Press Writer

IN EASTERN SARAWAK, Malaysia—As twilight approached, the tense order "stand to" was passed quietly along sandbag emplacements surrounding an outpost. Machine guns were loaded and mortars readied to fire.

The most dangerous time of day had come for 60 British soldiers guarding a small airstrip hacked out of the Borneo jungle a few miles from the Malaysian-Indonesian border.

If terrorist bands roaming the jungle were going to attack, they probably come at twilight for a brief fight and then in darkness run for refuge to the Indonesian side.

Lt. Tim Barker, 22, a Sandhurst officer in command of the outpost, took his position in the middle of the defensive line.

EVERYONE READY
A few hundred yards away, 2nd Lt. David Wood moved silently along making sure everyone was ready.

Then, all eyes and ears were turned to the dense jungle.

There was only the incredible symphony of jungle birds and insects. No attack came.

This is the pattern of the undeclared border war the British are fighting. They describe the enemy as Indonesian-led terrorists trying to topple the 4-month-old Malaysian federation.

British officials say the terrorist hard core comprises Chinese who are heavily indoctrinated with communism and well trained in jungle warfare. The leaders are Indonesian Army men, the British say.

DEFEND POSSESSIONS

Britain, defending its former Borneo territories of Sarawak and Sabah under agreement with Malaysia, has scattered outposts along the Indonesian border. Patrols move through the jungle and loyal tribesmen have been formed into an intelligence system.

The British high command has decreed against striking at the terrorists in their own camps and safe havens. No British soldier may enter Indonesian territory nor fire at planes that buzz his position.

Barker's outpost is 50 minutes by air from a major supply base. It would take weeks for a man to march the distance, if he could get through. A weekly air drop of food, ammunition—and beer — is an eagerly awaited event.

His men are Yorkshiremen, as tough and professional as any army men in all of Southeast Asia. All are tired of waiting under the cruel sun for an enemy who may or may not come.

Gov. Scranton Not Pledged to Serve Term

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania denies that he pledged in 1962 to serve out his four-year gubernatorial term.

His denial was contained in a letter to Warren J. Sinsheimer, who opened a national Scranton-for-President headquarters in New York City a week ago. Scranton, mentioned as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, insists he would only accept a draft.

NO PLEDGE

"Although I did not make any pledge to finish my term as governor... I feel very strongly about the desirability of doing this," Scranton's letter read. Scranton's press secretary, Jack L. Conmy, who quoted the governor as saying several times that "I have every intention of sticking to my knitting," said Scranton never had pledged to complete his term.

Fire Hits 2 Houses, Leaving 12 Homeless

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Fire destroyed two homes 1½ miles apart within three hours Sunday, leaving 12 persons homeless. No one was injured. Damage to each home was estimated at $6,000.

Helena Sibley and her two sons escaped from their home in Spring Lake Township after hearing an explosion. The nine-member family of Kenneth Hall was away when fire hit their Crocker Township home.

Next Stop for Phillip Agees Is Uruguay

By MIRIAM NEAL
Two days after a young assistant attache and his wife arrived in Quito, Ecuador, the United States embassy was stoned by an angry mob.
This was Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Agee's introduction to life in diplomatic service.
This fall, the same couple saw Ecuadorians from all economic strata exhibit deep sympathy at the death of President John F. Kennedy.
In the three years between the two events, Janet and Phillip Agee worked, played and served in another culture.

Today they are leaving Pontiac, after a two-week visit with Mrs. Agee's parents, the George Wasserbergers of Illinois Avenue.
They are on leave until Agee assumes his new post at the U.S. embassy in Montevideo, Uruguay in March. Mrs. Agee will join him as soon as the baby, expected next month, is old enough to travel.

NEEDS HER
From Agee's description of the past three years, only half of his Uruguayan post will be filled until she arrives. According to him, her help and even the laughter of their Ecuadorian-born son, Phillip Jr., were an essential part of his mission.

Despite the rocky reception, the Ecuadorians were not generally anti-American.
For Agee, his job was keeping the ambassador informed on internal political developments. For his wife, it meant adjusting to a myriad of new experiences and circumstances.

The house they purchased with their government housing allowance was attractive and comfortable but had no central heating, only fireplaces.

Speech Tells of Schools

The story of education in East and West Berlin was told at the Saturday meeting of Alpha Omicron chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma held at Greenfield's restaurant.
Barbara Kugel, associate professor at the Detroit Institute of Technology spoke on "Contrasts in Education in the Two Berlins."
She observed the two systems during her visit there last summer.
"In West Berlin," Miss Kugel stated, "a more progressive situation exists." Controversy exists about Germany's destiny.
"In East Berlin," she continued, "a strong centralized control exists in a minister of education who leaves no doubt country'. It is located on the northwestern coast of South America on the equator and has about the same population as Florida.

Quito, its capital, is located at a high altitude. The days are warm but the nights, quite cool.
Although the Agees had servants, as was socially expected, Mrs. Agee did her shopping in open air markets.
She worked with the very poor and Indian children in establishing a rehabilitation clinic at the children's hospital.

At other times, her home was the scene of an Ecuadorian cocktail party involving 100 guests. These parties start at 8:30 p.m. and end somewhere between two and four in the morning.
STRENUOUS TIME
Everybody dances. The dances are not waltzes according to Mr. Agee, but the regular South American brand of dancing. He noted that "it gets a little strenuous."

Since both the Agees know Spanish it was fairly easy to become part of Ecuadorian life once they accepted certain facts: they must "spend half of their life shaking hands"; the food was always "a little spicy"; and water always had to be boiled.
Now between assignments, the Agees remember Ecuador as a warm country filled with Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Ray Howard, Mrs. George Tozer, Mrs. S. J. Fil-

All Carpets Susceptible to Stains

Don't be confused by claims that certain fibers in carpeting will not stain.
Tests conducted by the National Institute of Rug Cleaning have proven that stains are easier to remove from some fibers than others, but there is no fiber made which is completely stain proof.
All staining materials which can be and are spilled or brought into contact with carpeting fibers do not have the same affect. Their reaction and ease of removal will vary with each fiber.
Stains which are allowed to remain untouched on carpeting for more than 48 hours may become more difficult to remove.
The longer the time lapse with this type of stain the greater the degree of difficulty in removal until it finally becomes almost impossible to remove the stain completely.
For this reason, give immediate attention to any staining material on your carpeting. Even a professional cleaner will have difficulty removing it six months or a year later. Then it will be too late.

Telephone Bridge Set

The hopes of five college students are pinned on Jan. 29.
On that date the Birmingham University of Michigan Alumnae Association will sponsor their annual telephone scholarship bridge party. The group hopes to earn enough money for five scholarships.
Some 50 homes in the Pontiac, Birmingham, and Bloomfield Hills will be opened for the bridge parties. The affairs will range from simple luncheons to a dinner and bridge party for mixed couples.
Each year the group chooses those students with high scholastic averages who it feels are in financial need and who will profit from their college experiences.
The files of those picked are sent to the University of Michigan for final approval.

Chairman of the party is Mrs. Carl F. Fischer, who will receive winners' names from individual hostesses.
IMPORTED PRIZES
The prizes this year were collected last summer in Europe and the Far East by Mrs. Schmidt. Some of their purchases include elegant leather goods, and beautifully brocaded home accessories.
Those not able to sponsor or participate in one of the many parties are invited to be contributors. Two mystery prizes will be available to all contributors and bridge players.
Anyone wishing to become a hostess, attend a party or be a contributor, may contact Mrs. Fischer or any member of the executive committee.

A number of cocktail parties will precede the dance. Working on arrangements for them are John Albrecht, David Williams, Walter Denison and Steven Stubbs.

For Special People

Save Child's Kisses

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Our son and his wife live a few blocks from us and we are very friendly. They have a precious 22-month-old daughter who is being taught to kiss everyone in sight.
If there are 25 people in the room, the child is dragged around to kiss each one "hello" and "good-bye."
The other day my daughter-in-law stopped by my house for five minutes to borrow something. She had the baby with her and, before they left, she had the baby kiss me and also the television repair man who was there working on my set.

I think it is fine to teach children affection, but shouldn't they be taught to save their kisses for special people?
I would enjoy the child's kisses much more if her mother would leave her alone and let her kiss me because she wanted to, not because she was told to.
What do you think?
GRANDMA
DEAR GRANDMA: I think you are right. But be careful how you tell your daughter-in-law this, or it will be the kiss of death for your friendship.
DEAR ABBY: You gave good advice to the girl who was ashamed of her mother because she spoke broken English.
If you publish my letter, perhaps it will keep others from making the same mistake I made.
While I was working out of the city, my mother came to visit me. I loved her dearly, but she was not educated. She spoke with a heavy accent, and I was ashamed to introduce her to any of my friends.
I let her stay alone in my apartment day after day while I went to work. She busied herself cooking and baking (as only she could bake) for my freezer.

She stayed a month. After my mother left, a girl in our office invited me to a Sunday brunch in honor of her visiting mother.
Well, this girl's mother spoke the same kind of broken English my own mother spoke, but she was sweet and warm and friendly — like my own mother.
Everyone loved her. I realized then how small and selfish I had been; and I promised myself that the NEXT time my mother came to visit me I would make it up to her.
I never got the chance. She died in her sleep a few months later.

Red Velvet Adorns Five Bridesmaids

Five bridesmaids gowned in red velvet attended Kathleen Ruth Lonteen who became Mrs. Richard Allen Nadeau Saturday in St. Benedict Church.
Parents of the couple are the Jacob F. Lonteens of Dover Street and the Edward Nadeaus of Brookdale Avenue.

MRS. R. A. NADEAU

For the noon ceremony performed by Rev. Richard Schoenherr, the bride chose a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. A rhinestone crown secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion.
BRIDAL BOUQUET
Red roses centered her cascade bouquet of white carnations.
With Joan LaBair, maid of honor were bridesmaids Mary Cadwallader, Charrie Mitchell, Nancy Carpenter and the bridegroom's sister Judy.
Their heart-shaped headpieces were red velvet and red carnations rested on their muffs of white angora.
Larry Badger was best man. Seating some 300 guests were Richard Lonteen, Lynn Ballard and William Niennstedt. Dean Lonteen carried the rings.
NORTHERN HONEYMOON
After a reception in Fisher Body Local Union Hall, the couple left for a brief northern honeymoon. They will live in Pontiac.

Mother Sometimes Resents Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: As you sometimes discuss adults' problems with their parents, I hope you will help me. My mother broadcasts anything I do she doesn't like to all the other members of the family.

Several days ago when she was here, I refused to close a front window and asked her to go into the kitchen if she felt cold. The next day my aunt telephoned me to scream at me about my bad treatment of my mother.

Today my brother telephoned to ask me why I liked to upset her. The smallest thing and everybody has to hear about it.

ANSWER: You're not the first child to be resented by his mother.

FEEL RESENTMENT

Most mothers feel resentment at children occasionally. The trouble is, too many of them are afraid to know it.

Such mothers, feeling resentment, dare not think, "Boy, how I dislike this child at this moment! How I resent her refusal to consider my comfort and close the window I want closed!"

No. What such mothers will do is to try and gain as much support as possible for their frightening resentment. As you say, they "broadcast" the action taken by the child who aroused it.

If they can make it sound awful enough, they succeed in arousing resentment at the child in all his relatives.

GREAT COMFORT

This is a great comfort to them. Shared by other members of the family, their own resentment becomes acceptable, a "moral indignation."

You know whether I have described your mother accurately or whether I have not. If you know I am right, what you do with that knowledge is for you to decide.

Sometimes we have to fight a person who mistreats us. We have to fight his mistaken view of us in the hope we can replace it with a truer one.

Sometimes we have to submit to some mistreatment because he gives us other things that make the submission worthwhile.

job working for a man with a bad temper, it's intelligent to hold the job by bearing with his bad temper.

It is equally intelligent to fight a mistaken view of us in a person who is capable of changing it.

But sometimes we find ourselves in situations where neither fighting nor submission get us anywhere.

Then the only alternative left is to walk out of them and detach ourselves from the mistreating person.

Can Wives Afford to Take Extra Job?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

When the statisticians talk about family incomes, they pay special attention to the W-W Family. W-W is for Working Wife—as if there has ever been any other kind! But for the purpose of analyzing family buying habits, working wife means a wife who has a paid job. And according to the records, one out of three married women in the U.S.A. is a W-W.

MARY FEELEY

Whether a married woman with children should get an outside job in order to increase the family income can start an argument any time. In the final analysis, of course, only the wife and her husband can decide whether the family wins or loses by the addition of that second salary.

Like a lot of problems, this one can best be settled by figures, rather than theory. On a practical basis, that is. As for the emotional gain or loss, that's such a personal thing only the wife herself can answer it.

We've all seen varying estimates as to what it costs a married woman to hold an outside job. Some estimates run as high as 40 per cent of her earnings. But if you really want to know, in dollars and cents, what it will cost you, put everything down on paper.

CHART ON COSTS
A leaflet entitled "Can Wives Afford to Work?" is put out by the New York State College of Home Economics, at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. This leaflet is done in chart form, with headings under which you estimate what your job's expenses will be, versus what your homemaking job is really worth—at the going rate of pay.

Incidentally, any woman's ego is bound to get a lift just by looking at what she'd earn by staying home—if she only got paid for it!

Job expenses include taxes; personal expenses such as clothes, transportation, lunches, personal care, office expenses—and you'd better take these seriously if you're job-hunting—parties, gifts, contributions, coffee breaks. Under family expenses for the working-wife are child care, laundry service, meals out, higher shopping costs.

Just to see how the comparative figures would shape up, I asked a married woman in moderate circumstances to fill out the chart according to her own individual reckoning. The prospective job we set at $100 a week salary.

ESTIMATE

Here's her estimate:
Expenses resulting from the job, per week:
Taxes, including income tax, social security, unemployment insurance, etc. $20
Lunches, transportation .. 8
Personal care related to job .. 3
Clothing (including upkeep) .. 8
Office & other expenses on the job .... 2
Family expenses, including child care .... 20
$61

This estimate is based on her continuing to do the family laundry at home. Also, it includes an extra $4 a week she assumes she will spend for family food, since she will be able to spend less time cooking and planning meals. And it allows for $12 a week for care of her child after school hours five days a week. An increase in household expenses accounted for the rest of the family expenses.

That all leaves $39 in spendable cash.

Now for the other side of the picture—what's her home-making worth by the week according to the New York State College of Home Economics. Meal preparation (cooking, table setting, serving) at $2 per hour (the going rate) ..... $56
Dishwashing (from table to sink, range, etc.) at

$1.25 an hour ..... 17.50
Child care (including chauffering, homework help, and physical care at 50c an hour ..... 7.50
Routine house cleaning at $1.25 an hour ..... 6.25
Clothes washing at $1.25 an hour ..... 6.25
Ironing at $1.25 an hour 6.25

MISCELLANEOUS WORK

The chart suggests adding 25 per cent of that total for miscellaneous work—or, in this case, $29. So the grand total for the week is $145.

So—her net yearly income on a paid job is $4,160. The value of her homemaking on a yearly basis is $7,551.44.

Of course, the amount deducted from the weekly paycheck for taxes needn't necessarily run as high as 20 per cent, as estimated in this particular case. When husband and wife file joint income tax returns, the figure varies.

The only thing such as a chart as this can do is help you decide whether an outside job is worthwhile for you—in fact, not in theory. Somebody else's estimate of job expenses won't necessarily match yours. Another thing to keep in mind is that statistics show two-income families spend 25 per cent more for goods and services than do one-income families.

Paper Clips Handy

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I ran short of hooks while hanging some draperies. As a make-do until I could buy some, I bent paper clips in the shape of hooks. They worked just fine and kept the draperies in place until I could shop.—H.M.T.

DEAR POLLY — When I left my car at a garage or service station and had to remove the two car keys from my chain, I was always afraid one would be lost.

Then I hit on the idea of hooking the keys on a metal paper clip, one on each end. This makes a very good temporary key "chain." MRS. L.D.

DEAR POLLY — My 5-year-old never liked to take medicine when he was sick so I made a clock of cardboard with movable hands.

I put it next to a running clock and where he could see both of them. I moved the hands on the cardboard clock to the next medicine-taking time.

When the hands on the two clocks were on the same spot, he knew it was time to call me. Medicine is now taken quite willingly since we make a game of it.—W.F.C.

DEAR POLLY — I have had the bad habit of nail biting and used bright polish, nail strengtheners, etc., all to no avail.

Finally I found a solution. Since most of the nail biting occurs during periods of inactivity with my hands (reading, or watching television), I make a special point of wearing a thin pair of old dress gloves at such times.

This eliminates the subconscious habit of chewing my nails and leaves my hands free to attend to any task at hand.—MRS. P.A.

Why Grow Old?

I have been conducting a small survey, questioning some of the men I knew about which feminine characteristics attract them and which repel them.

While I was given many different answers, a few of them occurred over and over again. These must indicate a more or less universal feeling among men.

Today I will give you a few of these with which to test your man-appeal.

1. Men like women who are good company, vivacious and alive, but they dislike the woman who is the life of the party in a loud way. She makes them feel uncomfortable.

SCREECHY

2. Men are greatly affected by voices. A high or tense and screechy or overloud voice makes them irritable. They love a soft, musical, feminine voice.

3. I did not find a single man who really thinks that slacks are attractive for the ladies.

4. A man is afraid of a woman who is too possessive. He feels smothered and clings to his independence.

5. A man is suspicious of women who talk about other women.

GOOD TIME?

6. Regardless of what some of the books on manners say, a man likes to be told by his date that she enjoyed his companionship and the entertainment he planned for the evening. After all, men are human and are pleased by appreciation just like anyone else.

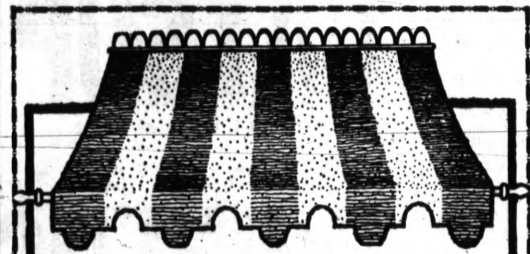

7. Men do not like makeup which is too garish or obvious.

8. Few men like the clinging vine type, but practically all of them like to be allowed to protect and extend small courtesies to the woman they are with. It embarrasses them if she lugs her own suitcases and doesn't wait for them to pull out chairs and open doors for her, or acts in other completely independent ways.

9. Most men dislike extremely long fingernails, especially if they are painted red.

FEEL AT EASE

10. Men like, most of all, the woman who makes them feel comfortable, the one with whom they feel at ease and without strain. They are very susceptible to the woman who is truly interested in them and their happiness and comfort, and shows it. But then, this really applies to everyone.

State Politicos Want Tax-Deductible Party Aid

By The Associated Press
Michigan's Republican and Democratic state chairmen have agreed on one thing: political contributions should be deductible from federal income tax.

Democrat Zolton Ferency and Republican Arthur G. Elliott Jr. said during the weekend they would ask Michigan congressmen to seek legislation allowing deductions of up to $50 for contributions by individuals.

"It is our belief that citizens will support the parties of their choice if they are given sufficient encouragement and inducements to do so," the chairmen said.

"The burden of properly informing and educating voters on both issues and candidates falls to the major political party organizations," they contended.

LBJ LEADS

Meanwhile, polls and politicians were gauging Michigan's popular opinion. The Detroit News said its first poll of 1964 showed President Lyndon B. Johnson would sweep Michigan against any Republican challenger so far seriously discussed if the election were held today.

The News said Gov. George Romney would be one of the strongest Republican challengers, drawing 20.1 per cent of the Michigan vote against 62.5 per cent for Johnson.

In a race against Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 Republican nominee, Johnson would draw 65 per cent of the vote to 20.7 for Nixon, the News said.

Prediction of a "large victory" for Johnson all across the nation came from Democratic National Chairman John M.

Bailey in a Storer Broadcasting Co. taped radio program.

LARGE CITIES

On the same program, Republican Chairman William E. Miller said Republicans can defeat Johnson by concentrating their efforts in large cities—Detroit, Philadelphia, Boston, New York, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis.

Bailey said "delegates to the Republican convention are going to have quite a job" picking a presidential candidate.

"We hear talk about (Gov. William W. Scranton (of Pennsylvania) who comes to Washington, has a press conference to say 'no.' And Romney now says he'll be a favorite son," he said.

Michigan will send 48 delegates to the convention, and eight of them certainly will vote for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater as the GOP's nominee, Richard Durant, Republican chairman of Wayne County's 14th Congressional District, predicted.

WITHSTAND PRESSURE

"The eight I am talking about can withstand the tremendous amount of pressure that can be put on you to change your position," Durant told a rally of about 100 members of the Conservative Federation of Michigan at Lansing Saturday.

A founder of the organization, Charles Harmon of Cassopolis, called the rally "the first step in the federation's plan to try to send a Goldwater delegation from Michigan to San Francisco."

State AFL-CIO President August Scholle accused Romney, meanwhile, of "spending too much time building his national image."

Scholle, speaking at an AFL-CIO "Spotlight on Michigan" conference at Alpena, also blamed Romney for Michigan's failure to pass a minimum wage law last year.

Absence of such a law, he said, is preventing "thousands of the state's lowest income working from receiving that amount of pay needed to meet only the minimum of living standards."

West Nudges East
in AFL Pro Game

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Art Powell's ability to get a couple of steps ahead of a life-long buddy propelled the West to a 27-24 victory over the East and a perfect record in three American Football League All-Star games.

Powell's climactic act came Sunday after the West had driven to the East two in the closing minutes, railing only 24-20 after overcoming a 24-3 halftime deficit. Including an East offside, the West had five tries to get the ball over. The East defense held.

Only 1:29 remained. The East, however, was unable to move and was forced to punt, and the West took over on the East 43.

Only 1:05 remained. Quarterback Cotton Davidson fired a short pass to Lance Alworth. Complete. Davidson fired a short one to Powell, his Oakland teammate. Complete. Davidson finally missed one, then called Powell's play again — on a deep pattern this time. Powell raced full speed into the left corner of the end zone, outdistancing defender Willie West of Buffalo, and hauled in the 25-yard aerial for the winning touchdown.

Only 43 seconds remained. Asked in the dressing room if he knew who was covering him on the play, Powell said: "My buddy — Willie West. We've been playing together since we've been five years old. He never guarded me before. You know, our wives were sitting together out there."

DECISIVE PLAY

Despite the spectacular ending, both Wes Coach Sid Gillman of San Diego and East Coach Mike Holovak of Boston pointed to a 64-yard touchdown run by San Diego's Keith Lincoln in the third quarter as the decisive play in the West's third victory in three All-Star games. "Lincoln's run was the thing that did it," said Gillman. "Lincoln's run—so quick," said Holovak. "A long run so early in the third period. It put them on the scoreboard."

Only Jim Fraser's field goal had put them on the scoreboard until Lincoln's run.

The East had built a 24-3 halftime lead as Boston's Babe Parilli completed 12 of 16 passes for 142 yards and two touchdowns. One went 12 yards to Boston's Larry Garrison and the other three to New York's Bill Mathis. Buffalo's Cookie Gilchrist scored the other TD on a one-yard smash.

Lincoln, voted the outstanding back of the game, then got the West rolling. Tobin Rote of San Diego hit Charger teammate Alworth with a 51-yard pass that set up a five-yard touchdown run by Paul Lowe of San Diego. Another Fraser field goal made it 24-20.

Wins Sailing Race. VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Conquistador, a sloop built on the West Coast to challenge Eastern sailing champions, got off to a good start by winning the St. Petersburg to Venice race.

BUCKET FOR WILT — San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain (dark uniform) got the better of Bill Russell (6) of Boston on this play last night. His move resulted in a field goal for the Warriors but Boston took the victory, 108-105. Watching the All Star centers maneuver are Sam (left) and K. C. Jones of the Celtics.

OSU Knocked Out of Lead by Wolverines

Notre Dame Defeats MSU; Western, U-D Gain Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan was all alone in the Big Ten's top spot and Western Michigan was on a four-game winning streak after a basketball weekend in which out-of-state visitors received harsh treatment.

Michigan bumped Ohio State out of a Big Ten lead share, 82-64, and Western downed Kent State 68-65 in a Mid-American Conference tussle. Detroit whipped Catholic University 92-69. Notre Dame walloped Michigan State 95-80 in non-league contests.

Western's streak started after a team shake-up in which three players were dropped.

Even Wayne State got in it, beating Allegheny 71-62 for its second in a row after 16 straight setbacks. Eastern Michigan trounced Thiel 85-49 in another Presidents' Athletic Conference game.

AHEAD TO STAY

Western Michigan's Manny Newsome, the nation's leading scorer, collected 28 points to lead the Broncos, who are now 7-7 for the season. Ajac Triplett's basket broke an early 20-20 tie and put WMU ahead to stay. Bill Buntin and Cazzie Russell each scored 27 points, while teammate Oliver Darden chipped in 16, to spearhead Michigan's triumph over OSU. Gary Bradds had 27 for OSU, defending Big Ten co-champions.

The victory put Michigan alone in first place with a 3-0 record. Illinois, which was idle, is 2-0 in the Big Ten.

Dick Dzik, the nation's No. 2 rebounder, was hampered by fouls and picked up only one point and eight rebounds in U-D triumph over Catholic U. Dorie Murrey paced the Titans to their eighth victory in 14 starts with 26 points.

Notre Dame halted MSU's string of plus-100 scores on its home court with an air-tight defense in the second half.

SPARTANS RATTLED

The Irish trailed 44-38 at halftime and by as many as 10 points early in the second half before switching to a man-to-man defense that rattled the Spartans.

Don Reed led the Irish with 28 points, but MSU's Pete Gent took game scoring honors with 31.

Central Skier Has Top Time

Walled Lake and West Bloomfield won the team events Saturday in the Mt. Holly High School Ski League although Pontiac Central's Dick Gorman scored a strong win in the boys race.

The Chiefs' skier covered the boys course in a combined time of 36.2, more than 10 seconds ahead of the next entrant. He led PCH to second place in the boys competition.

Mark Karell of Walled Lake finished third to lead the Vikings to first place and five points in the standings.

Kathy Stanker of West Bloomfield led the Lakers to first place in the girls' action by finishing second individually, only ninth-tenths of a second behind Southfield's Fuller who had a combined time of 42.0.

Berkley finished third in the boys and fourth in the girls, Southfield was fourth and second, respectively, Walled Lake took third among the girls, PCH fifth and West Bloomfield was fifth in the boys competition. Lynn Johnston was 9th as the top PCH female finisher.

NY Outskates Detroit Team

Wings Lead Early in 3-1 Setback

Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — The New York Rangers apparently were not impressed with Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk's National Hockey League shutout record as they outskated the Red Wings in a 3-1 victory Sunday night.

Sawchuk recorded his 95th career shutout Saturday night as the Red Wings blanked Montreal 20. The Detroit netminder also has 10 Stanley Cup playoff shutouts.

Boston, after clobbering Toronto 11-0 Saturday night, was forced to settle for a 1-1 tie with Montreal Sunday, while Toronto shut out Chicago 2-0. The Black Hawks defeated New York 6-1 in Saturday's other game.

ONLY GOAL

Doug Barkley's 35-foot shot from the right point midway in the first period gave Detroit its only goal Sunday.

The Rangers, completing a five-game road trip, tied it in the last minute of the opening period when Rod Gilbert beat Sawchuk as three Rangers raced in on the Detroit goalie with only one defenseman in front of him.

Don Marshall put New York ahead to stay at 7:44 of the second period after skating around defenseman Bill Gadsby and going in alone on Sawchuk. Marshall and Earl Ingarfield had breakaway chances earlier in the period, but Sawchuk kicked away both attempts.

Val Fonteyne iced the Rangers' victory in the final period as New York fired 19 shots at the Detroit net.

The Red Wings, meanwhile, sent a total of 36 shots at New York goalie Jacques Plante in the game, but couldn't put the red light on again.

NOW FOUR

At Boston, the Bruins extended their unbeaten streak to four games as Johnny Bucyk scored in the first period.

Gilles Tremblay knotted the score midway in the second period as he knocked in Henri Richard's rebound.

Toronto goalie Don Simmons, the victim of Boston's barrage Saturday night, found a tighter defense in front of him against Chicago as the Maple Leafs blanked the league leaders.

Billy Harris and Ron Stewart scored Toronto's goals in the second period.

The Red Wings meet a team composed of former Detroit players in an exhibition game in Detroit, tonight. They will face Chicago in a matinee contest in Detroit Saturday.

Sawchuk Gained 1st Shutout as Detroit Substitute in '50

DETROIT (AP) — Terry Sawchuk subbed for regular Detroit Red Wings goalie Harry Lumley for seven games during the 1949-50 National Hockey League season and made a big impression. He allowed just 16 goals during that time and gained his first shutout as Detroit beat New York 1-0 on Jan. 15, 1950.

Since that start, Sawchuk has gone on to become one of the greatest goalies in NHL history. He added the coveted career shutout mark to his laurels when he blanked Montreal 2-0 Saturday night.

It marked the 95th regular season shutout for the Detroit netminder, breaking the record of George Hainsworth who toiled 10½ seasons for Toronto and Montreal.

FEWER GAMES

Hainsworth, playing during a period of shorter schedules and under different rules, recorded 22 of those shutouts in a 44-game season of 1928-29. Only 43 goals were scored on him that year.

After the 1950-51 season with Detroit, Sawchuk won the Calder Memorial Trophy as the NHL's outstanding rookie, making him the only player in history to win the rookie award in three professional leagues.

Edged by one goal in the race for the Vezina Trophy that first season, Sawchuk went on to win in three of the next four years and was chosen the league's all-star goaltender in 1950-51, 1951-52, and 1952-53. He was a second team selection four times. He averaged less than two goals a game for five seasons, from 1950-55.

PCH, PNH Tankers Lose Road Meets

Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern swim teams were both on the road over the weekend and both came home losers.

The Chiefs lost 70-35 to Bay City Handy and the Huskies were surprised at Hazel Park, 58-47.

The sophomore-laden PCH swimmers took only two first by Jim Howard in the 40 yard freestyle and Dale Quinn in the diving event.

There were six pool records in the PNH meet, four by Hazel Park. The Parkers' W. Patton set two, in the 200 free in 2:02.1 and in the 100 in 54.3. Bob Basinger in the 100 in record time of 54.0 and Dick Johns in the backstroke in 1:03.9.

As Sawchuk's favorite victims have been the Chicago Black Hawks, whom he has blanked 23 times. He has 19 shutouts against New York, 18 against Boston, 17 against Montreal, 15 against Toronto and three against Detroit while he was in goal for Boston.

Two of those shutouts against

Lillard in All-Star Lead

DALLAS, (AP) — Bill Lillard's hot hand cooled slightly Sunday but he still managed to hang on to the lead in the qualifying rounds at the $100,000 All-Star bowling tournament.

The 37-year-old Dallas fireballer rolled an 841 four-game series in the fourth round of preliminaries, boosting his total for 16 games up to 3,519.

Barring a complete disaster in the fifth round Monday, Lillard is certain to advance to the semifinals Tuesday. The men's field will be sliced to 96 Monday night.

Mike Chiuchilo of Pathogue, N.Y., moved into second place with a 3,507 total, bolstered by Sunday's big 223-246-249-248-966 series.

Detroit were 0-0 affairs. He has been involved in nine other scoreless deadlocks.

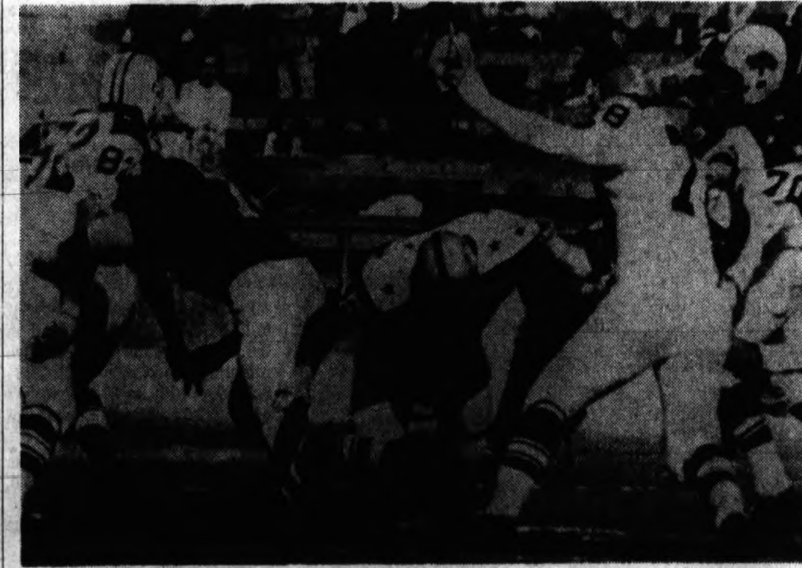

In the 1954-55 season Sawchuk shut out the opposition for 209 minutes and 32 seconds. The streak began at 15-58 of the second period, Nov. 14, and ended Nov. 27 at Montreal when Ken Mosdell scored at 5:30 of the first period.

Jeannette Bopp, 36-year-old housewife from Milwaukee, unleashed a record 258-267-235 — 760 series and swept into first place in the women's competition.

Mrs. Bopp's huge set, which dwarfed the previous record of 713 set by Chicago's Joy Abel last year, gave her a four-day, 12-game total of 2,481.

Defending champion Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., an eight-time titlist, was eliminated after she failed in the preliminaries with a 2,179 total. Low score to qualify was 2,243.

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Conquistador, a sloop built on the West Coast to challenge Eastern sailing champions, got off to a good start by winning the St. Petersburg to Venice race.

MISTAKE CORRECTED — The American Football League's West All Stars had a tough time starting yesterday against a charged up East team. Here guard Wayne Hawkins (65) falls on a fumble by his team to offset one mistake. Eventually the West rallied for a 27-24 victory, holding the East without a point in the second half at San Diego, Calif.

Pistons Give Harding Chance to Play Again

DETROIT (UPI) — Seven-foot Reggie Harding, short on experience but high on promise, has been given a second chance with the desperate Detroit Pistons.

The 21-year-old former Detroit Eastern High All-Stater was reactivated Saturday when the National Basketball Association's board of governors unanimously consented to his return.

Harding had been sitting out a five-month leave of absence without pay after he got involved in a "gun-slinging" incident last July. He was charged with felonious assault during a tavern argument.

Harding maintained it was only a gun-shaped cigar lighter and the case was dismissed.

It was the last in a series of scrapes with the law since his prep school days but Harding claims now to be reformed. During his sabbatical from the Pistons, Harding toured with Goose Tatum's traveling basketball circus.

Although Harding did not play college basketball, the Pistons feel he is promising enough to start building on for the future.

MAY SEE ACTION

Dissatisfied with the pivot play of Bob Ferry and Darrall Imhoff, coach Charley Wolf may call on Harding frequently in the remaining 39 games.

They meet the Lakers in Los Angeles tonight.

Tom Heinshon hit with the first of three quick baskets—the others were by John Havlicek and Bill Russell — to spark the Celtics to a 108-101 lead and an eventual 108-105 victory over San Francisco last night.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Gomer Jones, 49-year-old soft-spoken line specialist who walked in the shadow of Bud Wilkinson for 17 years, was named Oklahoma head football coach Sunday.

Jones' appointment came eight days after Wilkinson resigned as head coach and one day after Wilkinson announced he also was giving up his post as athletic director. Wilkinson is considering running for the U. S. Senate.

Regents' president Glenn Northcutt said the university's athletic council will make a recommendation to the regents later concerning filling the athletic director vacancy. Action may be taken at a regents' meeting Tuesday.

Jones said terms of his contract will be worked out later. The appointment ended a week of strife involving the regents, Wilkinson and the university administration.

When Wilkinson resigned, he recommended Jones as his successor and said later he expected a smooth transition. But the regents balked and decided to go after "the best coach money can buy."

Northcutt said the main objection to Jones, who has developed many All-America linemen was his age. He will be 50 next month.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George C. Wallace spent more than five hours in front of television cameras yesterday helping raise money for the March of Dimes.

Another participant took a telephone call from the governor's children, who said they wanted to contribute $10.

Asked if they wanted someone to pick up the money or if they wanted to mail it, George Jr. said, "Daddy's out there. Get it from him."

The marathon raised $12,700.

7 Die as Car Hits Bridge

Collision in Illinois
Kills Five Children

FREEMONT, Ill. (AP)—Seven persons, including five children, were fatally injured and four others hurt last night when the car in which the 11 were riding crashed into a bridge railing.

Police said a piece of the railing, about 10 inches thick, flew through the windshield and out the back window, leaving the car hanging on the bridge railing.

The accident occurred in fog along a wet rural road, about 10 miles north of Freeport, in Northwestern Illinois.

Police said the dead were members of two families returning from a visit in the Freeport area to their homes in Apple River, Ill., and Shullsburg, Wis.

FOUR CHILDREN

The dead included three young sons and a daughter of Peter Cosgrove, 35, of Apple River, who was reported in critical condition.

Others include Mrs. John Seffrood, about 34, whose husband was driving the car, and her daughter, Lenora, of Shullsburg, and Ronnie Sigafus, 19, also of Shullsburg.

Mrs. Cosgrove, a son, Terry, 3, and Seffrood, 38, were reported in fair condition.

Eight Children Left Orphaned by Road Crash

PITTSFORD, Vt. (AP)—Eight children ranging from 1 to 12 were left orphaned today from a highway collision which killed five persons last night.

Killed were Paul E. Dorey and his wife, Dolores, their daughter, Jana, 4, and two elderly women, Mrs. Selina Seymour, 87, and Mrs. Cordelia Dubuc, 88. All were from South Burlington, Vt.

Six Dorey children — Mary, 12; Dennis, 11; Cheryl, 10; Elise, 9; Lynette, 6, and Trudy, 1 — were being treated at a hospital in Rutland. None was hurt critically.

State police said the 11 persons were returning to South Burlington from a Sunday afternoon visit with friends in Rutland when the Doreys' station wagon-bus collided with a car driven by Arthur V. Flanagan, 39, of Vergennes.

Flanagan suffered a broken leg.

Semester System Is Called Outmoded

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

The semester system, in many ways, is a millstone around the neck of education. Established when we were primarily a rural society needing the students' help with summer harvest, it has long since become outmoded.

Students are no longer needed for farm work and for two summer months are thrown into the labor market. A large majority remains unemployed.

The quarter system would satisfy more closely our present day living. Under the quarter system, with each school period lasting 12 weeks, time off for work or recreation could be staggered throughout the year.

Regular programs, alternating work and school for high school and college students could be greatly increased.

In addition to taking pressure off school building programs, more youths could EARN their education.

For example, programs such as that at Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio:

Since the introduction of a full 12-month operation, Antioch, for all practical purposes, has become two small colleges using one campus, one set of buildings and one faculty.

TWO GROUPS:

The study-plus-work program and the year-round operation enables Antioch to split its student body into two groups.

During the quarter when one group is studying, the other is working at jobs secured by the college in more than 30 states and about 15 foreign countries. At planned intervals the two groups switch places.

The four-quarter calendar does not shorten the Antioch program. Basically a five-year plan, about 20 per cent of Antioch students make it in four years.

The University of California has announced its campuses will, one by one, change to the quarter system.

The tremendous tasks of adjusting courses of study, catalogue, student admissions and degree requirements are already under study.

Change to the quarter system in high schools and junior colleges would have educational advantages in addition to the freer flow of students into the university.

Our system of National holidays, centered as it is about Christmas-New Year, and the Easter seasons, interrupts the school semester just at the wrong times.

Christmas vacation interrupts the learning of a subject. It takes a few days after returning to school in January for a student to get back into the swing of learning.

NOT AT BEST

Just when instructors are presenting materials rapidly the student is not at his best to absorb it. Reviews and final examinations for the semester come all too quickly.

Under the quarter system final examinations would be completed just before the vacation. The student could go home for the holidays free to relax and enjoy them.

The Winter Carnival Bridge tournament in St. Paul, Minn., starts the 30th of this month. As usual it promises to be a bang-up affair and any bridge player who finds himself in that part of the JACOBY country will do well to take in the tournament.

In one of the interesting hands from last year's open pairs, S. J. Widman, who is chairman of this year's tournament committee, played safe for three no-trump and was rewarded with an excellent score when it turned out that a safety play was essential.

After West opened the five of hearts and East played the jack, Mr. Widman decided that the five of hearts was fourth best from a four or five-card suit headed by the ace.

He was going to have to rely

Junior Editors Quiz on TERMITE

SOLDIERS (KING) ROYAL (QUEEN) WORKERS

THE 3 CASTES IN TERMITE SOCIETY

IN AMERICA, TERMITES OFTEN BUILD TALL WOOD

IN AFRICA, THEY BUILD TALL HOUSES

QUESTION: Do termites have queens or kings?

ANSWER: Termites are social insects like ants and bees, but they are more primitive and simple looking. Individuals in a termite colony are of three groups or "castes."

The most important is the royal caste. As you can see by the picture, they have both kings and queens.

The termite king is a much grander individual than the unfortunate male "drone" bee, who only lives a short time. The royal termites live in a central cell in the colony and are cared for by the workers.

Her Royal Majesty the Queen may lay as many as 8,000 eggs a day and do this for a number of years. To guard the colony from outside attack, especially by ants, there is a soldier caste whose members have enormous hard heads and formidable mandibles; some have built-in squirt guns to fire a sticky repellent at the ants.

The worker caste termites are the most numerous, with hard heads but soft white bodies. They burrow through soil or wood and chew off wood or other vegetable material for the other termites.

Termites can digest wood because their stomachs contain protozoa parasites, which turn the wood into sugar. In southern climates, they do a great deal of damage.

FOR YOU TO DO: Inquire as to whether termites are found in your locality. If so, see if you can find some and identify the soldiers and workers. Also try to learn about how to stop termites doing damage.

An undetermined amount of cash and merchandise valued at $330 were reported stolen yesterday in a break-in at Trade Fair, 1108 W. Huron, Waterford Township.

Young Asks Showdown at Ohio Dem Convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young called for a nomination endorsement showdown today with his opponent, Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., at an Ohio Democratic preprimary convention.
Backers of Glenn, who announced for Young's seat Friday urged delegates to bypass the senatorial race in their endorsement of other party candidates in Ohio's May 5 primary election.
But Young, 74, heartened by assurances of support from state organization stalwarts, said he wanted endorsement.
"I would be pleased and proud to have it," he said, adding that he expected to win nomination and reelection after an uphill campaign.
NO CAMPAIGNING
Glenn, 42-year-old space hero, said he would not attend the convention or campaign until his retirement from the Marine Corps goes through, possibly about March 1. He has resigned from the space program.
The handsome hero's widely publicized bid for public office put Democratic leaders previously committed to Young on the spot and generated speculation that a run-away nomination for Glenn might bring him vice presidential consideration.

Dem Delays on Candidacy

Waterford Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin withheld official announcement of his candidacy for the 19th District Congressional race at a dinner Saturday night despite an enthusiastic show of support by Democratic backers.
More than 200 persons attended the Waterford Township Democratic Club's 7th anniversary dinner wearing "I'll Back Seeterlin for Congress" tags.
Seeterlin told the group at the Waterford Eagles Hall on M59 that he would declare his candidacy if Livingston County support appears sufficient.
The prospective candidate indicated that he was well pleased with the support exhibited in Oakland County.
The new congressional district includes most of Oakland County and all of Livingston County.

The state committee and the Ohio Democratic County Chairmen's Association previously agreed to back a delegation pledged directly to President Johnson with Young as second choice under an Ohio statute requiring two selections.
Young was asked if anyone in the national administration had Known Panamanian Leftist Will Negotiate With U.S.

PANAMA (AP)—Panama is sending a left-leaning envoy to Washington to seek to break the U.S.-Panamanian deadlock over the Canal Zone dispute.
Miguel J. Moreno Jr., who took a hard line toward the United States when he was foreign minister in 1959, was briefed Sunday by President Roberto Chiari.
Informed sources said Moreno appointed last week to replace Augusto Guillermo Arango as Panama's representative to the Organization of American States will try to salvage peace efforts that virtually collapsed here between Chiari and President Johnson's special envoy, Edwin M. Martin.
Chiari, who severed diplomatic relations with the United States Jan. 10, has demanded a U.S. pledge to renegotiate the 1903 Canal Zone treaty as his price for resuming relations. President Johnson has agreed to discuss—but not negotiate—the treaty, which gives the United States perpetual control of the Canal Zone.
MAY CALL CONFAB
Sources said that if Moreno fails, Panama might call an emergency meeting of the Western Hemisphere's foreign ministers to discuss its demand.
The Inter-American Peace Commission, an agency of the OAS, scheduled a meeting in Washington today with representatives of the United States and Panama.
Panama's ambassador to the United Nations, Aquilino Boyd, said the perpetual U.S. right to operate the canal must be ended and a time fixed when Panama will take over the waterway.
"The situation there is going to deteriorate more and more if the United States is not going to cooperate," he said on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."
FAIR SHARE
Boyd also called for Panama to get "a fair share of the benefits of the canal." He said the Panamanians must become "true partners with the United States in this enterprise."
Among 400 evacuees aboard the ship Cristobal, which leaves Tuesday for New Orleans, was James Jenkins, 17, a student at Balboa High School who was involved in the flag-raising incident that triggered the riots.

Before Congress

Bitter Fight Ahead for Civil Rights Bill

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the first of three dispatches on the pending civil rights bill, examining the most controversial provisions, with arguments for and against each. Today's dispatch deals with the public accommodations and voting sections.)

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK
WASHINGTON (UPI) — This year, Congress will decide whether the federal government should do more to protect the civil rights of U.S. citizens.

As in both 1957 and 1960, the debate will be long and bitter.

But the outcome is likely to be the same as in the past—a majority of both Democrats and Republicans in the House and Senate will vote for civil rights legislation.

The big question is how strong the final bill will be. Right now, the House Judiciary Committee has ready for action a civil rights bill more sweeping than any since the Civil War Reconstruction.

SOFTENED BILL

Few but its most enthusiastic supporters expect it to go through Congress unsoftened.

No part of the bill is without controversy. But the sections expected to arouse the sharpest dispute would:

• Outlaw discrimination by the operators of certain privately owned business offering shelter, food or amusement to the public.

• Try to guarantee Negroes equal treatment in efforts to register and vote and to speed up federal court lawsuits in these areas.

• Attempt to speed up the process of public school desegregation ordered by the Supreme Court.

• Outlaw job discrimination by both employers and labor unions, and create new federal machinery to police equal employment opportunities.

• End the use of federal funds in the operation of segregated government programs by states and localities.

• Give the Justice Department new powers to file or intervene in civil rights lawsuits in federal courts.

Of all the provisions of the civil rights bill, none has received more attention than the so-called public accommodations section. Here is what it would provide and the arguments for and against it.

Purpose: To establish the right of all persons, regardless of race, color, religion or national origin to patronize specific types of private businesses serving the general public.

Coverage: Hotels, motels and transient lodgings; restaurants, lunch counters, soda fountains and other eating places; gasoline stations; theaters, sports arenas and other public places of entertainment; establishments which include on their premises one of the specified businesses, such as department stores with eating facilities.

TWO CONDITIONS

The named businesses are covered if they meet either of two conditions: Offer service to interstate travelers or buy or sell goods and services that have moved in interstate commerce, or if they practice discrimination under the protection of state or local law or customs, such as enforcement of trespass laws to support racial segregation.

In addition, all establishments are covered where state or local law requires segregation or other discrimination.

Exemptions: Lodgings with five or fewer rooms in which the proprietor is a resident; private clubs or other establishments not open to the general public.

COURT ORDERS

Enforcement: An individual or the Justice Department could file suit for a federal court order to end the discrimination.

Failure to comply with court orders could be punished with fines or imprisonment under contempt proceedings.

Arguments for: Supporters say discrimination in public accommodations is the chief cause of recent Negro protests.

They argue that such discrimination violates the constitutional guarantee of equal protection of the law and disrupts the U. S. economy.

BASIC DEMOCRACY

They contend that it violates the basic principles of democracy, and not only inflicts indignities upon U. S. citizens but also weakens this country's position as leader of the free world.

They point out that 30 states already have enacted similar laws barring discrimination in public accommodations.

Arguments against: Opponents say the provision is unconstitutional and would violate more civil rights than it would guarantee, including that of the property owner to conduct his business as he sees fit.

They argue that previous laws based on the "equal protection" clause of the Constitution were thrown out by the Supreme Court and that the constitutional right of Congress to regulate interstate commerce would not apply to such a provision.

They contend that forcing businessmen to defy local customs will drive them into bankruptcy.

VOTING GUARANTEE

Efforts to enfranchise voteless Negroes were the keystones of the 1957 and 1960 civil rights acts.

The new proposal would seek to bolster and expand those laws. Its provisions, and arguments for and against them follow.

Purpose: To outlaw discriminatory application of literacy tests and other voter standards and to speed up decisions on voting rights suits.

Coverage: presidential and congressional elections only.

BILL PROVISIONS

Provisions: forbid registration officials from using different tests or standards for Negroes than for whites; require literacy tests, if used, to be in writing unless state law permits oral tests and applicant requests; bar disqualification of applicants for making minor clerical errors; establish a legal presumption that a person who has completed the sixth grade is literate unless proven otherwise; direct federal judges to expedite voting cases; and require trial of voting suits by special three-judge federal courts if requested by the Justice Department.

Enforcement: Individual citizens or the Justice Department may file federal court suits seeking injunctions forbidding discriminatory practices, and under previous laws, orders directing they be permitted to register and vote. Penalties for noncompliance with court orders would be under contempt proceedings.

Arguments for: Supporters say Southern voting officials have found loopholes in the 1957 and 1960 laws by giving Negroes more difficult tests than given whites or by disqualifying them on the basis of oral tests that cannot be proven in court to be discriminatory.

CHARGE COURTS

They charge that federal judges in Southern states have allowed voting rights suits to drag on for years and that some judges, sitting alone on cases, have permitted their personal philosophies on racial matters to override the requirements of the law.

Arguments against: Opponents say the section is an unconstitutional invasion of states' rights to determine the voting qualifications of their own citizens.

They contend that the limitation to federal elections would really cover state and local balloting in states where ballots are cast for all types of offices at the same election.

They argue that permitting the Justice Department to demand a three-judge court gives it the advantage of choosing the court that will hear the case, while the defendant would have no such choice.

(Next: The proposed bar on discrimination in employment and efforts to speed up school desegregation.)

Husband
"too tired"
for good times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamos day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

Many leading nutritionists recommend augmenting the daily diet with America's great "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the nutrition-rich, germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ is one of the most healthful foods known.

KRETSCHMER

Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is one of the most healthful foods known; (2) Your family will like the nut-like flavor. If not satisfied, just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carrolton, Mich., for full refund.

Kennedy Sees Bright Prospects for Malaysia Crisis Summit

MANILA (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and President Diosdado Macapagal said today after a three-hour talk that prospects are encouraging for an early summit meeting on the Malaysia crisis.

Kennedy, here on the second leg of his peacemaking tour for President Johnson, briefed Macapagal on results of his talks with Indonesian President Sukarno, who has vowed to smash the new federation.

A statement said Macapagal told Kennedy the Philippines has tried all along to restore Malapindo, the association of Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines which broke apart when Malaysia was formed last September. Although the Philippines also has not recognized Malaysia, he promised to continue his peace efforts.

Kennedy has been urging a three-nation conference to seek a peaceful settlement of the quarrel between Indonesia and Malaysia. Macapagal noted that the Philippines had been seeking the same thing since September.

GOOD CHANCE

Kennedy told newsmen on his arrival from South Korea Sunday night there was a good chance the crisis can be solved.

"Some progress has been made," he said.

Macapagal appeared pleased with his meeting with Kennedy and said it bolstered his hopes for a peaceful solution of the crisis.

Asked whether he will meet soon with Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman, he said, "It looks like it."

DISCUSS TIMETABLE
Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez said Kennedy and Macapagal discussed a tentative timetable for Malaysian conferences but he declined to give details.

The Philippines has refused to recognize Malaysia because of a claim to the Malaysian state of Sabah, formerly British North Borneo. Sukarno claims Malaysia is a British plot to encircle Indonesia.

After his talk with Macapagal, Kennedy visited the Philippine Women's University where

Mother Slashes 2 Sons' Throats; Commits Suicide

MUSKEGON (AP)—A young Muskegon-area mother died Sunday... after apparently slashing her throat and the throats of her two small sons, state police said. The boys were expected to live.

Dead is Avice Bloomberg, 29. Her sons, Kenneth, 4, and Glenn, 2, were taken to Hackley Hospital in Muskegon.

A neighbor called state police to the Bloomberg home just outside Muskegon after, officers said, Mrs. Bloomberg jumped out a window.

he was mobbed by hundreds of screaming students. He gave a brief talk expressing appreciation over the rousing welcome, then joined Macapagal for lunch at the residence of U. S. Ambassador William E. Stevenson.

His wife, Ethel, visited a school for deaf and blind children.

In Jakarta, capital of Indonesia, workers moved to seize the property of the Shell Oil Co. and other British firms but acting President Johannes Leimena called for a halt to all attempts to take over British business interests.

The union of Shell workers said it had taken over the oil firm, the largest British business interest in Indonesia. Signs reading "Property of the Republic of Indonesia" were plastered on Shell's headquarters building in downtown Jakarta and on many vehicles. At noon, however, the building was still being manned by British officers of the company.

Indonesian workers took control of the Unilever Co. this morning, but the British manager said he still considered himself in charge. However, he did not go to the office. Reports from West Java said the large P. and T. Land Co. had been seized by its workers and that British families were staying in their homes.

The joint secretariat of the Workers Union Federation issued a weekend appeal to the government to take over all British firms, including those

Johnson Asks Broader Bans on Aggression

Letter to Khrushchev
More Berlin Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has called on Soviet Premier Khrushchev to broaden his proposal for a worldwide nonaggression pact to outlaw indirect as well as direct aggression and provide greater security for West Berlin.

In a letter made public today, the President proposed four guidelines for international agreement which he said would be "even broader and stronger" than Khrushchev's proposed ban on the use of force in territorial disputes.

Johnson did not specify Berlin or its access routes across Communist East Germany in his reply to Khrushchev's Dec. 31 message.

Administration officials, however, said he had the Berlin problem in mind in asking agreement to prohibit the use or threat of force to change "arrangements or procedures concerning access to, passage across or practice has established or confirmed such arrangements or procedures."

The President urged Khrushchev to join in taking concrete action both to end the nuclear arms race and bar the spread of nuclear weapons and also to outlaw aggression and subversion.

SPECIFIC TASK
He said that "our task is to work hard and persistently on... specific problems and proposals... instead of confining ourselves to vague declarations of principle that oppose some wars but not all."

This referred, administration officials said, to the statement in Khrushchev's letter

Before Commission Tomorrow

Hearing Set for Pontiac Budget

By DICK SAUNDERS

A $6,879,495 city budget that would neither require a layoff nor provide a pay raise for city employees, will be up for a public hearing at tomorrow's City Commission meeting.

The 1964 budget proposed in November totaled $6,948,234. It would have required a layoff of some 60 employees and disbanding the Youth Assistance Bureau.

It has been cut by $68,739 by commissioners and administrators and is still subject to change before it comes up for adoption at the Jan. 28 commission meeting.

The layoffs are no longer contemplated. The youth bureau is back in.

RECREATION CUT

In their place, the city has substituted major cuts in services, particularly in recreation programs.

Also, rather than lay off personnel, the city will just not fill vacancies in many departments as employees move on to other jobs during the year.

"This has a distinct advantage over layoffs," said City Manager Robert A. Carter. "When a man leaves for another job, you don't have to pay him unemployment compensation."

"In some cases, we can save as much by not filling a vacancy as we can by laying off two employees."

RAISES IN PAY

The budget, as it stands now, provides for normal step increases in employees' salaries as specified in the city pay plan.

However, city employees had asked for across-the-board pay hikes totaling $258,715. This includes a 50-hour work week (about $57,000) asked for by Pontiac firemen.

The budget doesn't allow for these pay hikes. Most employee groups have indicated they'd give up their pay requests to

"There is about $80,000 left for contingencies," Carter noted. "It would be dangerous to use this for pay hikes."

MAY BE NEEDED

"Many departments have been cut back to a point where they may not be able to get through the year. If this happens, we'll need that contingency."

One big hike is some $409,000 which must be budgeted to retire a tax anticipation loan before September. The loan is for urban renewal operating expenses.

It is to be paid back with federal funds which should be available as soon as a new urban renewal act is passed. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

2 Teen-Age Girls Killed in Separate Car Crashes

A 15-year-old Troy girl who refused to be called "chicken" was killed near Mount Meridian, Ind. yesterday when the car in which she was a passenger smashed broadside into a tree.

Diane Sands, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville K. Sands, was bound for California where she was to act as a witness at the wedding of two of the five teen-agers in the car.

With her were 17-year-old J. Rodney Rader of Detroit, driver of the car, Sandi and Steve Mackie, 14 and 13, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Mackie, 1665 Cole, Birmingham, and 13-year-old Cherri Butts, also of Birmingham.

The four teenagers were all injured in the mishap.

REFUSED TO GO

One of the dead girl's friends, 14-year-old Diane Koldziej, 1541 E. Long Lake, Troy, said today she was invited to go, but refused even though the other youths called her "chicken."

"Diane (Sands) didn't want to be called chicken," she said. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

A teen-aged Pontiac girl was killed and one of her companions seriously injured when the car in which they were riding ricocheted across Woodward and into a tree in Bloomfield Hills last night.

Fourteen-year-old LaVerne Williams, 500 1/2 S. Padlock, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

David White, 16, of 230 Rockwell, was in critical condition this morning at the hospital. He is being treated for possible head injuries.

Driver of the vehicle, Dennis R. Thomas, 17, is being held in the Oakland County jail for investigation of manslaughter, according to Bloomfield Hills police. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Thomas of 573 Pearl.

Thomas and the two other passengers in the car were treated for minor injuries and released from St. Joseph.

The other teen-agers in the accident are Valerie Bolden, 14, of 314 Howard McNeill, and Barbara. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Urges Block of Inflationary Price Hikes

Annual Economy Talk
Asks Guard Against Wage-Cost Spirals

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson predicted today record-smashing prosperity in 1964 if Congress acts — "not in one or two or three months but now" — on the $11-billion tax cut.

Without it, Johnson warned the legislators, the rosy picture could become harsh — "dashed expectation could turn expansion into recession."

In his first economic report to Congress, the President also cautioned against inflationary price rises.

"A series of specific price increases in recent months — especially in manufactured goods — gives me some cause for concern," he said, although he doesn't anticipate a renewal of the wage-price spiral.

He urged business and labor to continue their "excellent" record of price and cost settlements but said he is setting up an "early warning system" by government agencies to guard against potentially inflationary price and wage increases.

"In the face of a 44 per cent increase in corporate profits in less than three years and the prospect of further increases to come with the tax cut, I see no warrant for inflationary price rises," he declared.

In the economic report to Congress, required annually under the 1946 Employment Act, Johnson pointed with pride at the big steps the country made since 1961 under Democratic administrations.

"Our record $100-billion expansion since early 1961 has carried us past important milestones in the march toward a better life," he said.

HISTORICAL ADVANTAGES

Turning to last year specifically, he said these advances were made for the first time in history:

- The gross national product (GNP) — the total output of goods and services — passed the $600-billion mark by year-end.

- Personal income before tax (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Highlights of Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are highlights of President Johnson's economic report to Congress:

THE 1963 RECORD

Gross national product passed the $600 billion level — up $100 billion in less than three years since early 1961.

Personal income reached an average rate per capita of $2,500.

After-tax income of individuals reached $500 billion. Corporate profits reached $50 billion before taxes, $25 billion after taxes.

EXTENT OF THE ADVANCE

Since early 1961, gross national product has risen 16 per cent.

Industrial production is up 23 per cent.

PROBLEMS AHEAD

An unemployment rate of 5 1/2 per cent continues to "cast a long shadow over our pride in this achievement" and reminds us that far too much of our precious human potential lies idle.

Men, machines and materials that lie idle today could readily add about $30 billion more to our $600-billion GNP.

Operating rates in manufacturing average 87 per cent of capacity, compared with 92 per cent preferred by business managers.

We need about 2 million new jobs each year.

Big 3 Autos Told Prices Should Be Cut

Government Council
Fears Profits Will Spur Wage Demands

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The auto industry's "Big Three" were advised indirectly today to cut prices in advance of this summer's negotiations with the United Auto Workers Union (UAW).

President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers, in their report to the chief executive, did not mention General Motors, Ford or Chrysler by name.

But they called for price reductions in industries with above-average productivity gains and high profits.

Council Chairman Walter W. Heller told reporters at a briefing on the report that the auto industry would fall into that category.

Administration officials have expressed concern privately that UAW President Walter P. Reuther would "go for broke" and demand sizable pay increases from the automakers following a record sales year. UAW contracts expire Aug. 31.

PROFIT PILE-UP

With this apparently in mind, the council said that firms benefiting from sharp productivity increases would tend to pile up profits if wages rose only as fast as the national productivity trend.

Then, in words that could be addressed to the auto industry, the council added:

"Such profits become highly visible to the public and constitute a lure for strongly intensified wage demands. Such circumstances pose a most unattractive dilemma from the viewpoint of the public interest."

"On the one hand, extra increases in wages or fringe benefits might tend to spread to other industries, creating a general cost-push from the wage side."

NO JUSTIFICATION

"On the other hand, there is no justification, on either economic or equity grounds, for distributing above-average gains in productivity exclusively through the profits channel."

"The real way out of this dilemma is for the firms involved to remove its cause by reducing prices," the council said.

The council statement on price reductions appeared first in its 1962 report.

Mafia Suspect Misses Death in Car Blast

DETROIT (AP) — Santo (Sam) Perrone, linked by police to the Mafia, escaped an apparent assassin's attempt on his life yesterday in the bombing of his automobile.

Perrone, 69, a police figure since a young man, was gravely injured. He lost his right leg.

The bomb blast, which shook an East Side neighborhood, shattered Perrone's car. He was flung from the car.

The bomb apparently had been connected to the car ignition and rigged to explode when the ignition key was turned, police said.

Former Detroit Police Commissioner George Edwards identified Perrone at the Washington crime hearings last year as connected with the Mafia or Cosa Nostra in Detroit crime syndicate activities.

Tanganyika Revolt Halted

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) —Tanganyika troops mutinied today but returned to their barracks at the intervention of President Julius Nyerere, he told the nation by radio.

For a few hours, the British feared an African nationalist revolution that only Jan. 20 swept the sultan from his throne in nearby Zanzibar had spread to Tanganyika, one of the most stable of the former British colonies in Africa.

A few hundred Tanganyika soldiers, demanding better pay and living conditions, had held their British officers as hostages for 12 hours. About 30 British officers were reported seized.

Britain has no troops stationed in Tanganyika except for British officers on loan to help train the Tanganyika army.

MISUNDERSTANDING

Nyerere blamed the incident on a misunderstanding, but said it had been settled after he intervened.

Before the mutinous soldiers returned to camp, there were reports of beatings and looting by local Africans who took advantage of the situation.

The mutiny apparently started after soldiers realized they could take advantage of the fact that 150 Tanganyika policemen had been sent to revolt-torn Zanzibar, 22 miles off Tanganyika's coast, at the request of the revolutionary regime there to help maintain order.

They crashed the gates of Nyerere's house overlooking the Indian Ocean and, for a time, held him prisoner, informed sources said.

Informants reported the mutineers also grabbed Vice President Rashidi Kawawa and then started to bring other ministers into the net.

Dar es Salaam — the name means "Haven of Peace"—woke to the sound of shots as the soldiers took over essential services and sealed off the city from the outside world.

NO RESISTANCE

The post office, cable office, banks, the airport and harbor installations were taken over without resistance. As early workers arrived in town everything looked normal—until they were stopped at roadblocks and told to go home.

Other accounts reaching London said some Tanganyikan soldiers objected that there are too many British officers still attached to the army.

Most contact with Dar es Salaam, the Tanganyikan capital, was cut, but the acting British high commissioner, F.S. Miles, reported to the Commonwealth Relations Office in London that there is no danger to British residents.

His brief message eased but did not dispel the concern felt in London for the safety of Britons in the East African country opposite the island of Zanzibar, another British Commonwealth member which experienced revolt this month.

About 50 U.S. government employees plus their dependents also are in Tanganyika. The U.S. Embassy in London received a message that so far as was known, all Americans were safe.

The Americans include some 25 members of the Peace Corps, most of them engaged in a road building project and a teaching program outside the capital.

TRAPPED AT BARRACKS

In the lightning coup, the soldiers trapped their British officers and African noncommissioned officers at barracks five miles north of the city and sped to this capital in trucks.

Fortieth Year

Jaycees Observe Anniversary Week

The Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, third oldest in the state, along with 4,900 other chapters in the nation are observing Jaycee Week this week.

The selection of Michigan's Junior Miss on Saturday will highlight the local celebration. The Pontiac Jaycees, celebrating its 40th anniversary, have conducted the state finals for six years.

The pageant, which will have 24 senior high school girls competing for the title, has been sandwiched in between the Jaycees successful campaign to change the method of electing city commissioners and their annual Bosses Night.

Normally, Bosses Night, which features the naming of the area's outstanding young man, is conducted during National Jaycee Week.

PROGRAM DELAYED

Jaycee President Richard Fitzpatrick said, however, that the drive to revise the city charter has made it necessary to delay the program until Feb. 15.

Programs like those already outlined are only a few of the many undertaken by Jaycees in the area.

The Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce has had a full year of projects, with community and youth activities at the top of the list, according to President Jack Cooper.

In August, members conducted a community attitude survey to gather data for future township planning.

Later, they boosted city incorporation and were responsible for getting the issue on the ballot. The proposal, however, was rejected by voters.

In the spring, the Waterford Jaycees stage their major project, a sports and builders show, with proceeds donated to worthy community causes.

Pontiac Jaycees, the largest in the area, with 106 members, sponsored the Waterford organization when it was established, as well as many others in nearby communities.

Fund-raising projects proved successful for Pontiac Jaycees last year. The Detroit Lions inter-squad game in August provided money for a scholarship at Oakland University. The amount has not been determined.

A $1,200 scholarship was provided at the university with money from a Jaycee operated refreshment booth at the Detroit Horse Show.

Each year the Pontiac Jaycees donate $600 to the Boys' Club with revenue from peanut vending machines in local stores.

Youth projects are an important part of the Jaycee activities.

At Easter, hundreds of children hunt for eggs at Jaycee Park, Walton and Joslyn; safety is stressed on Halloween when Jaycees give prizes to children who are home before certain hours; and many underprivileged children are given five dollars at Christmas time to buy gifts for their families.

The Jaycees were co-sponsors with the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department of Midget champion football games that saw 28 teams compete in October.

Jaycee Park for years has been high among the Jaycees special projects. About $16,000 has gone into the park for physical improvements.

Lights for the parks are being considered as a future project.

Budget Hearing Set

ban renewal budget and plan approved by federal agencies.

It won't, therefore, have much effect on tax income, unless the federal grant is not approved.

SOME INCREASES

Budget increases are found in few departments. There's a $56,424 hike in the fire department budget over last year, due mainly to staffing a new north-side fire station.

The electrical department budget is up $23,799 and street lighting will cost $8,265 more in 1964 with the Perimeter Road open.

Although the recreation budget is at $102,000 compared to $142,500 last year, an additional $22,720 is allotted for operating a new community recreation center at Wessen and Walnut which is slated to open in June.

Budget cuts include $103,000 in maintenance of local streets, $165,000 in public service facilities, $20,000 in the police department, and $32,800 in the library budget.

These departments are all part of the operating budget, which is the major item in the total city budget.

The 1964 operating budget as proposed now stands at $5,877,067, which is about $155,689 more than budgeted for operating expenses last year.

PAID TWO WAYS

Operating expenses are paid partly by tax revenues and partly by revenue from other sources such as fees, sales and services of commodities and income from other governmental agencies.

If and when the federal government forwards money to pay the $409,000 urban renewal loan, that will leave an operating budget of $5,468,067 — about $253,311 less than last year — to be financed by taxes and other revenues.

City officials expect no more in tax revenues this year than last, and current estimates are that income from other sources, including the $409,000 federal urban renewal grant will be about $124,000 less than last year.

Over and above the operating budget are sanitation and waste collection, estimated to cost $316,028 ($51,377 under 1963), a $518,400 capital improvement fund ($3,949 more than last year) and debt retirement at $168,000, about the same as 1963.

FINANCE METHOD

These items are financed from tax millage other than the millage specified for operating expenses.

Touch Phones Are Coming

Buttons Eliminate Dialing Each Number

Push-button telephones — on which numbers are tapped out instead of dialed — will become available in four Oakland County communities this year.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co., in making the announcement, said the new type of service known as Touch-Tone will be offered first in Southfield.

It is scheduled for introduction in West Bloomfield Township's Mayfair-6 exchange in July; Birmingham in November and Farmington in December.

According to Michigan Bell President William M. Day, the new telephone signals the most significant advance in the mechanics of calling since the changeover to dial telephones started in 1921.

He said the new service will be made available on a gradual, town-by-town basis over the next several years. Eleven other communities in Michigan will receive the new phone in 1964.

With the push-button system, telephone switching apparatus responds to musical tones sent over the lines instead of electric impulses.

Telephone customers will hear the melodious sounds as they touch each button.

The gradual introduction is necessary because major equipment modifications must be made in telephone central offices before the new service can be offered in individual communities. This will not affect the conventional dial signal.

TEN BUTTONS

Ten buttons on the new unit replace the customary disc that contains 10 finger holes.

The buttons are centered on a block of three rows, three buttons to a row. Beneath the three rows is a single button to contact the operator.

Tests have shown it takes only two to five seconds to tap out a telephone number as against eight to 14 seconds with the traditional dial.

The new telephones will be offered for both business and home use as an optional service at a moderate additional monthly charge, according to Day.

Bloomfield Hills Adman WSU Board Chairman

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Thomas B. Adams, president of Campbell-Ewald Co., has been named chairman of the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

Adams, 931 W. Harsdale, succeeds Dr. Michael Ference Jr., vice president of Ford Motor Co., who was defeated for reelection to the board.

Wayne Vice President Olin Thomas, 8900 Gale, White Lake Township, was reelected treasurer. Thomas is vice president of business and finance.

Adams, a native of Detroit, received a bachelor's of art degree from WSU in 1941. He has been associated with Campbell-Ewald since the beginning of his advertising career in 1945, after his release from active duty in the Naval Air Corps.

Adams is past president of the WSU Alumni Association and a member of the United Foundation board and the Boy's Committee of Detroit.

He also belongs to the Detroit Adcraft Club, the Detroit Athletic Club, Recess Club, Bloomfield Hills Country Club and the Board of Commerce.

Cranbrook Academy of Art has published a book on the works of architect-designer Eiel Saarinen, who spent the last 25 years of his life on the Bloomfield Hills campus.

During that time Saarinen was designer-architect of four of the six Cranbrook institutions — Cranbrook School for Boys, Cranbrook Academy of Art for graduate art students, Kingswood School Cranbrook for Girls and Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Saarinen, who died in 1950 at the age of 77, served as first president of the art academy.

Entitled "The Saarinen Door," the hard-covered edition has 64 pages with 54 plates depicting the work of the internationally famous architect-designer. It is now available at Cranbrook.

Search for Lost Balloonist Moves South to Mexico

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A huge search spread to Mexico today as scores of planes and ships hunted an adventurous grandmother who vanished high above stormy Catalina Channel in a hot-air balloon.

Red-haired Barbara Keith, 42, disappeared in rain clouds at 10,000 feet some 15 miles from land.

But another storm was approaching from the north. More rain was expected tonight.

Mrs. Keith carried only rudimentary survival gear — an inflatable life preserver, flares, a light. But friends and relatives said she was strong and resourceful.

She was one of eight balloon pilots who took off Saturday to race from Avalon on Santa Catalina Island to mainland California. One fell nearby. Seven left the island as small craft warnings were flying and rain came down. Only one made it to the coast.

Boats rescued the airmen—including actor Cliff Robertson—but Mrs. Keith's onion-shaped balloon went higher than the others, caught a stiff breeze, and outdistanced its escorting boat below.

NO TRACE

A widespread search Sunday found no trace of her at sea. Then balloonists consulted wind reports and decided that at 10,000 feet she might have hit gusts strong enough to push her across the coast near here before her four-hour fuel supply ran out.

Starting at dawn, planes were ordered to search, as far south as Ensenada, Mexico, 70 miles from here, and for a distance of 40 miles inland.

Hopes of finding her safe at sea were growing meager.

A couple at San Clemente said they saw a balloon plummet into the water offshore Sunday afternoon.

If she hit at sea the two big heating-gas tanks which keep the balloon aloft — would float.

The victim, a ninth grader at Troy High school, was to be a witness at the wedding of the Rader youth and the 14-year-old Mackie girl, according to Mount Meridian police.

GIRLS RELEASED

Today the two injured girls were released from Putnam County Hospital. The driver was reported in satisfactory condition with a fractured arm.

The dead girl's mother today called her an "easy-going child — easily led by others."

Mrs. Sands said Diane had never been in any serious trouble and had never run away before.

Indiana State Trooper Keith Young said the teen-ager's car was westbound on U.S. 40, about 30 miles west of Indianapolis, when the accident happened.

The driver lost control of the vehicle while trying to push a puppy which had climbed on his lap and was blocking his view of the road, according to the officer.

The car skidded on wet pavement, went off the road and then crashed into the tree, Young said.

PAUL McNAMARA

Paul McNamara will be the main speaker tomorrow at the annual banquet of the Pontiac Board of Realtors.

McNamara, District Sales Manager for Burroughs Corp., will speak at the 6:30 p. m. banquet in the Pontiac Elks Temple.

Realtors will install their 1964 officers, headed by Philip E. Rowston of 60 Cherokee, new president.

McNamara will discuss "Education for Employment."

LOST CONTROL

Police estimated the auto's speed at the time of the accident to be 60 mph. They said Thomas apparently lost control of the northbound vehicle on the curb in front of City and Country School of Bloomfield Hills.

The car, they said, crossed the parkway, striking a sign in its path. It then traveled through some bushes and hit a pine tree.

The auto swerved back onto the pavement to stop crosswise in the two inside lanes of southbound Woodward. In all, the car skidded some 150 feet, according to police.

They indicated that the driver and four passengers were thrown from the car.

QUESTIONING WITNESS

Police are questioning a witness to the 5:30 p.m. accident to determine whether any of the youngsters subsequently were struck by other vehicles.

Pushes Cut in Taxes

es) reached an average rate of some $2,500 per capita by year-end.

• After-tax income of individuals exceeded $400 billion for the year.

• Corporate profits exceeded $50 billion before taxes and $25 billion after taxes.

• Residential construction passed $25 billion.

• Civilian employment exceeded 70 million for the year.

NOTES INCREASE

Johnson said this $600-billion annual rate the GNP reached in the fourth quarter of 1963 is a 16 per cent increase since 1961.

With the tax cut, he added, GNP passed $600 billion in 1964.

When fully effective in 1965, he asserted, the cut will "send well over $11 billion annually coursing through the arteries of the private economy."

Benefits will be reaped year after year, he said, and will lead "at long last to a balanced budget in a balanced economy at full potential."

Also on Johnson's list of legislation he wants whipped through were these items, practically all bearing the Kennedy administration label:

1. Higher penalty rates for overtime pay to stimulate new hiring by some industries without resorting to a 35-hour week which he said "would only redistribute work, not expand it."

2. Federal aid to upgrade education, particularly for "the children of the poor, so that they need not follow their parents in poverty."

3. Hospital insurance under Social Security for the aged.

4. Federal aid to cities in modernizing mass transit.

5. Renewal and strengthening of a number of expiring housing laws, including low-rent public housing, renewal of decayed city areas, and special housing for the elderly.

6. Coverage of 2.5 million more workers by the $1.25 minimum wage law, including some 650,000 hotel, motel, restaurant, laundry, dry cleaning and farm-processing workers.

7. A permanent improvement in the duration and benefits of unemployment insurance.

8. A rash of legislation "to lift the forgotten fifth of our nation above the poverty line."

LATER MESSAGE

For this "war on poverty" which Johnson declared in his State of the Union message, the President said he would present details in a later special message to Congress.

He declared: "Americans today enjoy the highest standard of living in the history of mankind. But for nearly a fifth of our fellow citizens, this is a hollow achievement."

"They often live without hope, below minimum standards of decency."

Johnson said the per capita income "of these 35 million men, women and children" was only $590 in 1962, against $1,900 per capita for the nation as a whole.

But, Johnson told the legislators, no single Washington program can do the job. Instead, he said, all the federal, state, local and private programs must work together, and communities must be assisted in developing their own programs.

College-Student Ulcers Rise

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Nine million U.S. mothers, including one out of every three who have children under 18, now hold jobs outside the home. The number of working mothers has doubled in the last 15 years.

One study showed a 60 per cent rise in ulcer cases among college students in New Jersey during the last decade as a result of emotional tensions.

In Tokyo, doctors are putting two-way radios in their cars; a new bar has opened that is decorated to resemble a jet liner. Patrons wear flight belts to keep them from falling off the bar stools.

The average U.S. auto has passed its sixth birthday; the average truck is two years older.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—James R. Hoffa says "there never will be a nationwide trucking strike" as a result of the Teamsters Union's new national wage agreement with the transport industry.

LANSING (AP) — Richard Durant, Republican chairman of Wayne County's 14th Congressional District, said today he knows now of eight "firm, hard votes for Goldwater" that will be cast by Michigan's 48 delegates to the GOP national convention at San Francisco.

"The eight I am talking about can withstand the tremendous amount of pressure that can be put on you to change your position," Durant told a rally of about 100 members of the Conservative Federation of Michigan.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night. No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection. In one hemorrhoid case after another — very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration. The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

Offers LBJ Suggestion for Aiding Poor

Christ said, "We have the poor with us always." Mr. Johnson said, "Poverty (meaning the poor) must go." He neglected to say where! Just to help him out he could start the ball rolling by giving his vast ranch together with the cattle and oil wells to the poor, thereby setting an example for the rest of us.

'Stop Free Delivery of Red Propaganda'

In a letter to Postmaster General John Gronouski, I appeared for support of H. B. 1843 by Rep. James Utt of California, which would prohibit the United States Post Office from carrying propaganda from Communist countries free of charge. The nation's independent business proprietors supported this measure by a majority of 82 per cent.

Tons of Communistic propaganda printed abroad is carried in domestic mails at no charge, and under the administration of President Truman this practice was stopped. This prohibition continued under President Eisenhower, and was then lifted. The assassin of the President was known to have been engaged in disseminating this material.

'Need Investigation of State Department'

I, with the American people, would like the whole truth about the Kennedy assassination. Judged by its past records — its appeasing policies and its white paper cover-ups, the American people cannot hope to get the truth from the state department.

For this reason I have introduced House Joint Resolution 812 calling for a complete investigation of the state department — with special emphasis to be placed on the Lee Harvey Oswald case.

'Pontiac, Waterford Should Combine'

Shall we join ranks? Shall we be the whole of what our beautiful lake community was geographically centered to be? We have a metropolis and a residential area. We work together and play together. We are the greater Pontiac area.

Pontiac may say we don't want your problems. We want all the GM tax dollars. You from Waterford may say we don't want your decadent residential or business areas. We are upper middle class with good residential tax dollars we pour out willfully. You from Pontiac may say we are different — we have all kinds of necessary services you don't. You from Waterford may say we live by our beautiful lakes by choice.

We have a lot, you have a lot — together. You have no idea how dynamic we could be. Services, fire, water, police — all one system economically and intelligently administered. We could combine brains with brawn, the old with the new and we'd have a Herculean effort. It's time we removed the wall. Let's make one whole — large, dynamic Pontiac. We are like parts of a jigsaw puzzle that a little effort could fit into a whole masterpiece.

W-W is for Working Wife—as if there has ever been But for the purpose of analyzing family buying habits, working wife means a wife who has a paid job. And according to the records, one out of three married women in the U.S.A. is a W-W.

Whether a married woman with children should get an outside job in order to increase the family income can start an argument any time. In the final analysis, of course, only the wife and her husband can decide whether the family wins or loses by the addition of that second salary.

Like a lot of problems, this one can best be settled by figures, rather than theory. On a practical basis, that is. As for the emotional gain or loss, that's such a personal thing only the wife herself can answer it.

We've all seen varying estimates as to what it costs a married woman to hold an outside job. Some estimates run as high as 40 per cent of her earnings. But if you really want to know, in dollars and cents, what it will cost you, put everything down on paper.

CHART ON COSTS
A leaflet entitled "Can Wives Afford to Work?" is put out by the New York State College of Home Economics, at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. This leaflet is done in chart form, with headings under which you estimate what your job's expenses will be, versus what your homemaking job is really worth—at the going rate of pay.

Incidentally, any woman's ego is bound to get a lift just by looking at what she'd earn by staying home—if she only got paid for it!

Job expenses include taxes; personal expenses such as clothes, transportation, lunches, personal care, office expenses—and you'd better take these seriously if you're job-hunting—parties, gifts, contributions, coffee breaks. Under family expenses for the working-wife are child care, laundry service, meals out, higher shopping costs.

Just to see how the comparative figures would shape up, I asked a married woman in moderate circumstances to fill out the chart according to her own individual reckoning. The prospective job we set at $100 a week salary.

ESTIMATE

Here's her estimate:
Expenses resulting from the job, per week:

Taxes, including income tax, social security, unemployment insurance, etc. $20
Lunches, transportation 8
Personal care related to job 3
Clothing (including upkeep) 8
Office & other expenses on the job 2
Family expenses, including child care 20

This estimate is based on her continuing to do the family laundry at home. Also, it includes an extra $4 a week she assumes she will spend for family food, since she will be able to spend less time cooking and planning meals. And it allows for $12 a week for care of her child after school hours five days a week. An increase in household expenses accounted for the rest of the family expenses.

That all leaves $39 in spendable cash.

Now for the other side of the picture—what's her homemaking worth by the week according to the New York State College of Home Economics. Meal preparation (cooking, table setting, serving) at $2 per hour (the going rate $56
Dishwashing (from table to sink, range, etc.) at

$1.25 an hour 17.50
Child care (including chaffering, homework help, and physical care at 50c an hour 7.50
Routine house cleaning at $1.25 an hour 6.25
Clothes washing at $1.25 an hour 6.25
Ironing at $1.25 an hour 6.25

MISCELLANEOUS WORK

The chart suggests adding 25 per cent of that total for miscellaneous work—or, in this case, $29. So the grand total for the week is $145.

So—her net yearly income on a paid job is $4,160. The value of her homemaking on a yearly basis is $7,551.44.

Of course, the amount deducted from the weekly paycheck for taxes needn't necessarily run as high as 20 per cent, as estimated in this particular case. When husband and wife file joint income tax returns, the figure varies.

The only thing such as a chart as this can do is help you decide whether an outside job is worthwhile for you—in fact, not in theory. Somebody else's estimate of job expenses won't necessarily match yours. Another thing to keep in mind is that statistics show two-income families spend 25 per cent more for goods and services than do one-income families.

Other Factors Involved

Budget Not Entire Story

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The federal government collects more money and pays out more money than shows up in the administrative budget that President Johnson is sending to Congress Tuesday.

That's where much of the confusion arises among taxpayers over budget savings and Treasury deficits.

It is this DAWSON actual cash flow that affects the economy—how much the government actually is taking out of the public's pockets, and how much it is putting back through its purchases, benefit payments of many types, loans, grants and subsidies.

Most shows up in the official budget that Congress is to consider. But a lot doesn't. The total cash receipts have been running around $114 billion, even though the formal budget in both the current and the upcoming fiscal year is held below $100 billion. The deficit in the cash budget has been around $7 billion, although the deficit in the formal budget for the current fiscal year is now estimated at $10 billion.

TOTAL SPENDING

It is this total spending and total collections that determine whether the government is putting in more money than it's taking out, or taking out more than it's putting back.

Government receipts and government spending that don't show in the formal budget include such things as Social Security—taxes on payrolls on the one hand and payment of pensions on the other—unemployment compensation, rail retirement funds, the federal highway program, the premiums paid on veterans' life insurance and the dividends and benefits paid out.

Postwar history has been that in most years the government has put more money into the economy than it has taken out by collections—even when the formal budget showed a surplus. In the last three years, the cash deficit—not the budget one—has totaled $17 billion. The surplus of outflow over inflow is financed by borrowing. That is why the federal debt climbs steadily and the interest on it mounts.

Also baffling many taxpayers is the time lag between what the president proposes and what finally happens. Most people operate their own finances on a calendar year and are taxed that way. But the government's fiscal year starts on July 1. The estimates President Johnson is submitting to Congress are for the next fiscal year starting almost six months hence and will not be proved finally right or wrong for 18 months, or until June 30, 1965.

NOT FIRM

Even the estimates of how this fiscal year are faring can't be firm yet. Example: If Congress passes a tax cut bill retroactive to January 1, receipts for the last six months of the current fiscal year will be lower than if the bill doesn't pass. Congress also has some spending bills to consider, and may well add to, or subtract from, the Treasury's present expectations of outlays between now and June 30, 1964. And, of course, a business boom or a recession can foul up any estimates of future finances.

When the United States is young and its business fairly uncomplicated, it had a fiscal year that followed the calendar one. But as government activities spread, Congress took longer and longer to pass the tax and appropriation bills and many government programs either ground to a halt or were shored up by temporary handouts.

To give Congress more time to act on the president's suggested budget, Congress in 1842 changed the fiscal year.

Formosa Earthquake Kills 110

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Nationalist Chinese and U.S. aid officials today began the slow task of rehabilitating south Formosa areas devastated by an earthquake that killed 110 persons and injured 479, according to press reports. Seven other persons were missing and presumed dead.

No Americans were reported among the casualties.

Unofficial estimates placed the property damage caused by Saturday's quake at millions of dollars, most of it around the southwestern cities of Tainan and Chiayi.

Police reported that 1,758 houses collapsed and 2,671 were badly damaged in the two cities. Fires, apparently started by overturned charcoal stoves, destroyed 124 homes in Chiayi.

SECOND WORST

The quake was the worst to hit the island nation since a tremor Dec. 17, 1941, in which 358 persons were killed.

Buildings in Taipei swayed, but no casualties or major damages were reported in the capital.

Howard L. Parsons, Formosa Director of the U.S. Agency for International Development, scheduled a visit today to the disaster area.

Officials believed the death toll would have been much higher had the quake struck late at night while people were sleeping. The initial 30-second jolt occurred at 8:06 p.m.

He was vice president of the International Vegetarian Union and the World Vegetarian Congress, and honorary president of the Scottish society.

Hearing Due on Ruby Bond

Defense Seeks to Prove Oswald's Guilt

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Ruby, 33, the balding night club operator charged with murdering Lee Harvey Oswald, was due back in court today as defense lawyers sought his release on bond.

How long the hearing will last will depend on whether Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown agrees to a defense request to present evidence it says will prove Oswald the assassin of President John F. Kennedy and the slayer of police officer J. D. Tippit.

If the judge rules that it is pertinent to the issue of whether Ruby should be released on bond, the hearing could last a week since chief defense attorney Melvin Belli has subpoenaed nearly two dozen witnesses.

The current bond hearing is a continuation of one started in late December but recessed because of the Christmas holidays.

NO BOND

Ruby has been held in jail without bond since he shot and killed Oswald before a nationwide television audience Nov. 24 as the accused assassin was being transferred from the city to the county jail.

Oswald's death came less than 48 hours after President Kennedy was assassinated, Gov. John Connally of Texas was wounded, and Tippit was shot to death. Oswald was charged in all three shootings.

Under Texas law a person charged with a crime punishable by death may be held without bond.

In a 30-page petition filed with the court last week, the defense said that the president's assassination, the wounding of Gov. Connally, and the slaying of Tippit "enraged their client to such an extent that their client was temporarily insane."

MUST PROVE

"The defense must prove Oswald was the man who assassinated the president and shot officer Tippit," the petition said.

At the December hearing, Ruby's lawyers sought to show that the case was not a capital one since they contended their client was temporarily insane and that bond should be granted.

At that time, they indicated they were ready to post as much as $100,000 bond to obtain Ruby's release.

UAW Offers to Help Carry GM's Money

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, United Auto Workers president, says his union will try to relieve General Motors Corp. "of those heavy money bags that are breaking their backs."

Reuther's statement Sunday, at the conclusion of the union's two-day northeast regional conference, indicated that the UAW will press this year for substantial wage increases and other benefits from GM and other auto makers.

Reuther told 400 delegates the union would seek a share of what he called the "fabulous and fantastic" profits made by the auto companies last year.

The union's present three-year contracts with GM, Ford and Chrysler expire Aug. 31, and the pact with American Motors on Oct. 15.

REPORTED SURPLUS

Referring to GM's reported surplus of more than $2 billion, Reuther said:

"We can relieve them of those heavy money bags that are breaking their backs. It's all there, waiting, and we will be knocking at their door pretty soon."
