Birmingham Teacher Slain

Husband Held; Knife Wound Proves Fatal

Man Found in Daze, Says He Took Dose of Pills

A Birmingham man, James D. Shepherd, 36, was held today for investigation of the fatal stabbing last night of his wife of five months.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Shepherd, a 42-year-old schoolteacher, was found by police in the living room of her home at 1509 Pierce St.

Police, answering a domestic trouble call, discovered Shepherd slumped in a kitchen chair, in a daze apparently caused by tranquilizers.

The woman, stabbed in the back with a hunting knife Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley said, was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital.

Shepherd began making a formal statement today at the Oakland County prosecutor's office. In it, he denied knowledge of any events from the time he went to bed at 9:30 until he found himself downstairs with his wife lying on the floor.

Shepherd will continue to be held on an open charge, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said, until we "have uncovered more facts."

There is no reason at present, Ziem said, to suspect anyone else in the crime.

He was unable to give a coherent statement last night, Moxley said, and was taken as a police prisoner to Beaumont hospital, where his stomach was pumped out.

IN A DAZE

Moxley said Shepherd was in a dazed condition and had been taking the tranquilizing pills in order to "sober up."

When police arrived at the fashionable two-story brick home Moxley said, Shepherd was found seated at the kitchen table with a telephone in his hands, saying:

"I've got to get an ambulance, my wife's sick."

When shown his wife's crumpled form, Shepherd collapsed. Police quoted him as later saying he could remember nothing that happened after 9 p.m., an hour and a half before officers reached the home.

Moxley said the slaying apparently followed a domestic argument.

Mrs. Shepherd's two teenage daughters by a previous marriage had been upstairs in their bedroom and told of hearing sounds of a violent quarrel.

Adenauer, Ike Propose Big 4 Disarmament Talks

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today that a Big Four foreign ministers meeting might be "appropriate" if a first-step disarmament agreement is reached with Russia.

A communique issued by the two leaders after three days of conferences said that "the United States will consult with the French and British governments regarding this matter."

The two leaders agreed that if an initial disarmament pact succeeds it "should be followed within a reasonable time by a comprehensive disarmament agreement which must necessarily presuppose a prior solution of the problem of German reunification."

Eisenhower stressed in the communique "that any measures for disarmament applicable to Europe would be accepted by the U.S. only with the approval of the NATO allies."

The President also assured the Chancellor that "the U.S. does not intend to take any action in the field of disarmament which would prejudice the reunification of Germany."

★ ★ ★

Furthermore, he said that the U.S. "would consult with the German federal government closely on all matters affecting Germany arising in the disarmament negotiations."

MAIN OBJECTIVE

This assurance by the chief executive was Adenauer's main goal in coming to Washington.

The subject of disarmament was the main one in the 1,000-word communique, issued after Adenauer met for 45 minutes with Eisenhower at the White House.

On the matter of a Big Four meeting, the communique said that such a conference would discuss the "reunification of Germany."

Auto Workers to Have Long Holiday Weekend

Thousands of Pontiac automotive workers will get a long Memorial Day weekend, a check of General Motors plants shows.

Both GMC Truck and Coach and Pontiac Motors will close Wednesday night and reopen Monday morning.

At Fisher Body plant, the situation is more complicated. A spokesman said the assembly lines will close down Tuesday night giving the workers a five-day holiday, while part of the fabricating department will close Wednesday night.

Some skilled workers will be called in Friday.

GMC Truck Division Gets Army Contract

Another Government contract, $453,584 for two and one-half ton stake body GMC trucks, has been received from the Ordnance Tank-Automotive Command.

Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division made the announcement today.

The new contract supplements one awarded last week for 5-ton highway truck-tractors in the amount of $1,562,894. Both are for the Army.

The two and one-half ton trucks are powered by 302-cubic-inch engines of 160 horsepower.

Judge Denies Rail Injunction

Hartrick Blocks Move by Residents Opposing New Switch Yard

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday denied nine Pontiac residents a temporary injunction blocking the proposed $700,000 Grand Trunk railroad switch yard.

The residents claim the yard would endanger school children, violate zoning and be a neighborhood nuisance.

They are seeking court orders to prevent the railroad from locating the yard on its proposed site, south of Walton boulevard and west of Baldwin avenue, and to restrain the city from issuing a building permit.

City Attorney William A. Ewart maintained zoning restrictions do not specifically prohibit the project.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac attorney Robert Hodge, the residents' counsel, said he intends to take the case to Circuit Court trial.

Cloudy and Warmer Is Weather Outlook

The weather outlook for Pontiac and vicinity is cloudy and warmer tonight, with a low of 51 to 55 degrees.

Partly cloudy and warmer with scattered showers likely, high of 71 to 75, is tomorrow's forecast. Tomorrow night will be partly cloudy and cooler with a low of 46 to 50.

Lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 40. At 2 p.m. the mercury read 63.

Work Started on Great Lakes Channel Project

Army Chief Brucker Keynotes Program at Amherstburg, Ont.

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., (INS) — A $136 million project that will open the Great Lakes to vessels of the seven seas was launched today with a dynamite blast set off in the Detroit River near Amherstburg, Ont.

Start of work on deepening the Great Lakes' connecting channels as part of the St. Lawrence Seaway project was witnessed by some 1,500 guests, including Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker and Paul Martin, Canadian minister of national health and welfare.

The program calls for the deepening of channels between Lakes Erie and Huron, Huron and Michigan and Huron and Superior to around 30 feet. The channels now are 21 to 25 feet deep.

When completed, they will accommodate any ocean-going vessel using the seaway and the Welland Canal.

The massive digging job requires the removal of about 44 million cubic yards of earth and rock — equivalent to the excavation of over 200,000 medium-sized house basements.

★ ★ ★

The program, scheduled for completion in 1963, will be carried on without interrupting the flow of lakes traffic — one vessel every 15 minutes day and night.

'FINAL ASSAULT'

Secretary Brucker called the inauguration site "the place where the final assault is being begun upon the barriers to the free flow of water-borne trade among the ports of the Great Lakes and those of the seven seas."

★ ★ ★

He said U. S.-Canadian cooperation in developing the seaway "has been part of the glorious history of fruitful peace between our two countries."

Brucker pointed out the lakes impound about half of all fresh water on earth and are an "unmatched marine super-highway."

Conceding that foreign trade expected to come overseas into the lakes through the seaway is important, the secretary stressed the lakes themselves "are basically a great inland waterway."

★ ★ ★

Martin observed that "the deepening of these channels is symbolic of the deepening in the warm friendship that exists between the United States and Canada."

ANOTHER MILESTONE

Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, wrote in a brochure tracing channel developments:

"The groundbreaking marks another milestone in the evolution of the Great Lakes from a wilderness route for Indian canoes and pioneer sailing ships to the world's most important inland-ocean highway."

Nuclear Device Set Off Today

Test Series Start at Nevada Site

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — The United States exploded a brilliant device into the desert darkness today, opening its summer series of Nevada tests.

The 10-kiloton device flared an unearthly light over the test center. A tremendous mushroom cloud erupted into the predawn sky. Shot time was 4:55 a.m.

The rising cloud blended at its base against low-hanging blue clouds on the northern horizon.

The top of the cloud coiled and boiled into the sky and drifted away from its stem.

The first faint rays of the sun capped the soaring mass with a creamy mantle. Below the cloud cap the familiar dirty brown mushroom stem held firm and then began to lose its shape.

Spectacular as was the explosion, it was small compared with other tests carried out here during the five years the United States has tested atomic weapons on the Nevada desert.

The power of today's device is equal to the energy of 10,000 tons of TNT. This is about half the size of bombs which destroyed the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in World War II. Bombs of more than 20 kilotons have been tested here.

As the blast went off from atop a 500-foot tower at Yucca Flat 70 miles northwest of Las Vegas, 31 aircraft streaked into the radioactive field to photograph the mushroom cloud and to track its path as the light wind carried it away.

In observation posts ringing the test site were 200 military personnel. The test was witnessed by newsmen from a site 11 miles away.

This explosion, delayed since May 16 by adverse winds was intended to provide the Atomic Energy Commission with information on radiation measurements, flash effects, and fallout.

The entire series, which will continue until Sept. 1 and will include more than 15 shots, is designed "to attain new knowledge important to the defense of the United States and the free world."

★ ★ ★

The fireball of today's device did not touch the desert floor beneath the disintegrated steel tower. This eliminated the great mass

Oldest Senator T. F. Green, 89, Is 'Symbol of Youth'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senators young and old continued to marvel today at "ageless" Sen. Theodore F. Green, the "gay, sprightly man" who is the oldest person ever to serve in Congress.

Praise from both parties mounted as the 89-year-old Rhode Island Democrat approached the day he has set aside to commemorate his longevity—Memorial Day.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson said Green is "ageless," a man "to whom the passage of the years merely represents an accumulation of milestones."

He added: "He is proving that he is the master of time—and not its slave."

He said: "I don't notice much difference in myself than when I came here 20 years ago. I've enjoyed it—not because I've always won—I've sometimes lost, but because I enjoy a fight."

The youngest member of the Senate, Frank Church of Idaho, said Green was "as young in heart" as any man in the Senate and a symbol of "the spirit of youth."

Article on School Aid Appears on Page 19

The second in a series of four articles on problems of state aid to schools appears today on page 19. Written by Pontiac Press school writer Harold S. Cohen, it details the progress a statewide committee headed by Louis Schimmel of Pontiac is making in attempting to bring some order to payment of school aid.

High Valuation Boosts Revenue, Says Willman

Commission to Make Final Action on Issue at Tonight's Meeting

Pontiac will hold to its steady $13.70 tax rate for the fourth consecutive year following action by the City Commission tonight.

Commissioners are expected to fix this rate for $1,000 of assessed valuation, based on a city valuation for 1957 of $254,141,800.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the continuation of the tax rate was possible because Pontiac's valuation was some four million dollars higher than estimated in the city's 1957 budget.

The increase will bring in $56,872.32 more in taxes, Willman declared, Commissioners will determine at tonight's weekly meeting where this money will be allocated.

Based on the assessed valuation, the city will receive $3,481,742.66 in property taxes payable in July. This is of a total budget of $5,381,779.

CONFIRM SHARE

In other action this evening, Willman will confirm the city's share for the completion of the Orchard Lake — Telegraph road underpass, and the nearby Clinton River bridge, from bids received from the State Highway Dept.

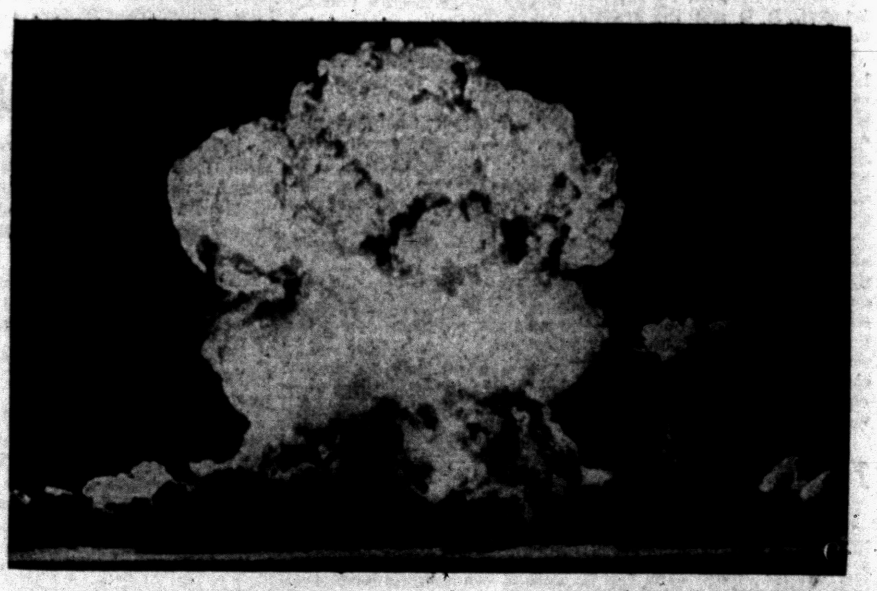

Commissioners will also hear tabulation of bids for concrete paving of Columbia avenue from Baldwin to Stanley and for Featherstone avenue from East boulevard to the city's east limits. Bids were received yesterday.

Also holding a spot on a 13-point agenda are four public hearings concerning the following public improvement projects:

For intention to construct a combined sewer on the south side of Columbia avenue from Baldwin to Hollywood, and on a special assessment roll for a combined sewer on the north side of Kennett road from Fairview to approximately 572 feet west of the west line of assessor's plat 144.

For intention to construct pavement, curb, gutter, and related work on Columbia avenue from Baldwin to Stanley, and intention to construct curb, gutter, and related work on New York avenue from Baldwin to University.

Fireball Forms After Blast

NEW ATOMIC TESTS BEGIN — A huge ball of fire, about 900 feet in diameter, takes shape a moment after the Atomic Energy Commission exploded a nuclear device in Nevada today to begin a new series of tests. This picture was taken 11 miles from the explosion, set off from a 500-foot tower.

3 Americans Reach British 4th Round

FORMBY, England (AP) — Three Americans, Dale Morey, Gene Andrews and Jimmy McHale, reached the fourth round of the British Amateur Golf championship today but a fourth favored American, Frank Strafaci, was knocked out in the third round by Alan Bussell, a 20-year-old Scot.

Strafaci, 41-year-old Miami Beach insurance man playing in his eighth British Amateur, was eliminated 4 and 2 by the young Scot who had beaten another American, Lt. Bob Magee of Boston, in the third round this morning.

McHale, former American Walker Cup player from Philadelphia, took a hard-fought third round match from Franco Bevione of Italy, one up.

Hospital Board Seeks $436,000

A money-seeking Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees last night turned its attention to its number one concern: Where to get $436,000?

Seven members of the 11-member board heard several recommendations as to how to secure emergency funds so that $436,403 in purchase orders would not be canceled.

Although needing more than an additional one million dollars, board members focused their efforts first on the $436,000-plus, according to William P. Babcock, chairman of the board.

"It's going to be a terrific struggle to get it," Babcock admitted, "and everybody (board members) recognizes the problem."

MEMBERS HUDDLED

Members huddled last evening at the hospital in one of their first efforts following the May 20 defeat of the $1,850,000 hospital bond issue.

More meetings are planned, Babcock said, including a joint session with the City Commission.

One of two suggestions put forth last night was the possibility of securing more federal or state financial aid through the State Office of Hospital Survey and Construction. Babcock said he was "optimistic" this was possible—"at least for a portion of the funds."

★ ★ ★

The hospital had ordered the $436,000 worth of laundry, kitchen, X-ray, sterilization and refrigeration equipment before Pontiac voters gave a loud "No" to the bond issue.

"One of the companies is asking for its money already," the chairman said.

A second proposal aired was that a corporation might be formed to purchase this equipment and in turn lease it to the hospital. This was a suggestion of Harold S. Goldberg, board treasurer, to Babcock.

"This would be similar to some of the big corporations owning the rolling equipment of most railroads," Babcock said.

The hospital would pay for the leasing through "funded depreciation" yearly, he added.

Between the two proposals, this received the warmest reception of the two, Babcock said. He emphasized that no decision was reached last night.

★ ★ ★

Architect Leo J. Heenan appeared before the members to stress that none of the previously ordered equipment should be deleted.

★ ★ ★

Asked about how the remainder of the money for the furnishing of the hospital was to be raised, Babcock said: "Our major concern immediately is the $436,000."

Rickenbacker Looks Into the Future

Planes to Span Atlantic in Two Hours

DETROIT (AP) — Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker says that within the next 50 years "the airplane will truly become the Angel of Peace he intended it to be."

Rickenbacker, chairman of the board of Eastern Airlines, outlined his predictions for the next half century in the air in a speech yesterday before the Economic Club of Detroit.

"With aviation's development in the hands of men of good will, we have, for the first time in the long history of man, the one instrument which can forever eliminate the barriers of time and distance, of ignorance and misunderstanding which, since time began, have set men apart from, and against each other," he said.

"In terms of human relationships, these advances in aviation mean that the world will grow progressively smaller.

"Then people of all nationalities will have within their own hands the means of meeting and understanding all people and for eliminating the petty hates and jealousies which breed wars."

Rickenbacker said aviation will advance further and faster in the next 10 years than it has in the past 25.

He said nuclear-powered guided missiles will reach speeds of 25,000 miles an hour and will locate their targets with acoustical devices as yet undeveloped.

He said commercial transports will be flying the Atlantic in less than two hours and the Pacific in about four hours. Space ships will carry 1,500 to 2,000 passengers at up to 5,000 miles per hour.

—"In fact," he said, "space ships in the year 2007 will be semi-self-sustaining planets in themselves."

No Chance of Getting Full Defense Budget

Ike Bows to House Mood

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower today reluctantly accepted the judgment of Republican leaders that there is no chance of the House restoring more than 350 million dollars to his trimmed-down defense budget.

★ ★ ★

The House begins voting today on the GOP moves to put back less than one-third of the $1,200,000,000 Eisenhower has asked be restored to the budget which was slashed $2,500,000,000 by the House Appropriations Committee.

The GOP congressional leaders discussed the situation with the President at their weekly legislative conference at the White House shortly before the House resumed debate on the money bill.

Asked whether Eisenhower was accepting the judgment of the GOP leadership that there is no point in trying to get more than 350 million dollars restored in the House, Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts replied:

"He's got to—there's no alternative."

Martin added that Eisenhower was not "happy" with the situation. He said: "He thinks we should have the $1,200,000,000 restored and I think so too. But we've got to face realities."

The President is still hopeful that the Senate will give back more of the money. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California emphasized that Eisenhower has not changed "in the slightest" his position that the $1,200,000,000 is needed.

Knowland who has opposed the administration in backing some other budget cuts, said he favors restoring funds to the defense budget which "relate directly to the muscle of our armed forces."

Waterford OKs Sewer Contract

Work to Begin June 17 on Completion of Project at Sylvan Shores

Waterford Township officials breathed a sigh of relief at last night's meeting as steps were taken to eliminate the "number one headache" of board members.

The township board authorized the signing of a contract with the Seymour Weissman sewer construction company to finish the troublesome Sylvan Shores Subdivision sewer project. It will be subject to legal opinion, members said.

The project had popped up before the board often after the first builder, Joseph Mancinelli, was forced to stop work on the job due to bad soil conditions, inclement weather, and inadequate equipment.

Residents continued to appear before the board seeking completion of the work. "The subdivision sewer problem had gradually become the number one headache for board members," Supervisor Elmer Johnson said.

Weissman assured officials he would assume Mancinelli's obligations with the exception of civil damages that might result from the incomplete job.

He told a group of subdivision representatives that he intended to get the work done "as quickly and thoroughly as possible." Work is scheduled to begin June 17.

Steelers Sign Gilmer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers today signed Harry Gilmer, a Detroit Lions quarterback, as backfield coach. He replaces Bill Dudley, whose resignation was announced yesterday.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What is a Beaufort number and why do weather experts refer to winds as up to Beaufort No. 4 velocity, etc?

The Beaufort system of measuring wind velocity is a system worked out many, many years ago by a British Admiral, Sir Francis Beaufort. It is still the system used by most weather officials.

The Beaufort numbers begin with 1, which is a one to three knot wind, and continue up to 12, which is a wind above 65 knots in velocity. A wind of Beaufort number 8, for example, is a fresh gale with winds up to 40 knots. Number 4 means moderate wind between 11 and 16 knots.

The Beaufort arrow, used on weather maps and charts, denotes the velocity of wind according to the number of barbs attached. A circle which represents the head of the arrow indicates clear or cloudy weather. If the inside of the small circle is clear, the weather is clear, if it is half blacked-in, the sky is partly cloudy, etc.

Policemen Back Complaint by 2

Officers' Association Is Angry Over Changing of Leave Days

The Pontiac Police Officers' Association has voted to try to get Herbert C. Cooley, their president, and James L. Carr, their treasurer, out of hot water by giving them a vote of confidence and "if necessary, file a formal grievance against Chief of Police Herbert W. Straley."

A special meeting was held last night to discuss the recommendations to the newly formed police and fire civil service board which had been drawn up by a committee of the association.

Because of recent restrictions and changes of orders issued by Straley, Cooley and Carr could not attend the meeting. They were on duty.

The recommendations had been requested by the local civil service commission since they had not been concerned with regulating police activities previously. Police were granted civil service in the April election.

One recommendation questioned the qualifications of present higher-ranked officers and requested the board set up examinations on a competitive basis for these positions since the present officers had not taken exams.

Straley has recinded a previous order allowing police to be excused from duty to attend meetings, special functions and athletic events. He claimed the privileges have been abused.

Straley denied that the leave days of the two men were changed to prevent them from attending the meetings. He said they were routine changes necessary to keep the platoons at sufficient strength, to meet their obligation to the public.

The association had charged that the shift of personnel was designed to keep the two officers from the sessions.

Straley added that the promotions protested by the officers were provisional, pending certification after passing a test.

Sick Souls Seeking Out Graham

NEW YORK (AP)—"Troubled souls" of fast-paced New York City—night club dancers, stage actors and desk-chained career men—are seeking out Billy Graham these days to bare their tales of frustration.

★ ★ ★

"They're sick inside," Graham said.

They catch him at many times, at many places, and they grab his arm, and start pouring out their stories. He's found them waiting outside his hotel room, or they snag him in a lobby or corridor.

Each is a case history in human disillusionment, and they form a poignant sidelight to Graham's New York crusade, where thousands are listening to his advice nightly—16,500 of them last night at Madison Square Garden.

Graham insists their names be kept confidential, but will describe their plights in a general way. Here are a few:

1. A bartender was held up, tied and threatened with death if he moved. While he lay there, frightened, a noon radio program told of the "Morning Bible Hour" Graham is conducting in a Times Square auditorium. The bartender showed up there next morning and "accepted Christ as his savior."

2. A leading male actor telephoned Graham, said he felt as if his success was leading nowhere, and wanted help. Graham agreed to have dinner with him. They talked, Graham prayed with him. Graham said he believed the actor is moving toward a "newer, fuller life" with God.

3. A calypso dancer, in the middle of the night, called the Graham offices and said she was going to murder her husband. She was persuaded to change her plans, and ended up promising to go to Graham's meeting next night.

In his sermon last night, Graham used Exodus 20:1-5, concerning the First Commandment: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." It was the first of a series of Graham sermons on the commandments.

At the end of the service, 529 persons came forward in response to Graham's plea to "commit and surrender all" to Christ. This raised the total of such decisions to 8,242 in 12 nights.

Beck Receives Jury Subpoena

Summoned to Appear June 17 Before Seattle Labor Probers

SEATTLE (AP)— Dave Beck, president of the huge Teamsters Union, yesterday was subpoenaed to appear before a King County—Seattle—grand jury called to probe the operations of the labor organization.

Beck, who took liberal advantage of the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination during two appearances before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee in Washington, D. C., was directed to come before the grand jury June 17.

The grand jury was called last March after Senate committee testimony indicated there had been a possible misuse of Teamster funds by union officers.

The subpoena was served on Beck at the plush Lake Washington home the Teamsters Union maintains for him. Beck, in shirt-sleeves, answered the knock of grand jury investigators and accepted the subpoena, commenting: "Okay, this is it. That's fine, I've got to go now. Here comes the press."

★ ★ ★

When newsmen rang the doorbell moments later, a woman appeared and said: "Mr. Beck is tied up in conference. He won't be meeting anyone today."

Cohen Discloses He's Romantic About Stripper

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Mickey Cohen may not be very chummy these days with the Los Angeles Police Department but he disclosed that he has a new girl friend, 22-year-old stripper Arleen Stevens.

★ ★ ★

Cohen, former gambling czar turned flower shop owner, went to court yesterday to ask for additional time to enter his plea to a traffic charge which Mickey terms "a roust." The judge granted a continuance until June 3.

He said:

"I'm legitimate now, but I'm still human, ain't I."

★ ★ ★

Cohen also took the occasion to disavow any connection with a retraction offered by the American Broadcasting Company for things Mickey said about Los Angeles Police Chief William Parker on a national television show.

Motorist Spots Mail Truck Fire at Rochester

ROCHESTER — Douglas Warden of Vassar, driver of a through U.S. Mail Truck en route to Vassar, was stopped by a passing motorist at Second and Main Sts., here at 1:35 a.m. today.

The motorist, Ervin Froelich, of 5475 Sheldon Township, told Warden that there was smoke coming out of the rear of his mail truck.

Rochester police called the Rochester Fire Department and started unloading the contents of the smoking truck. Among the baggage were several cases of baby chicks and ducks, which were suffocated.

Part of the load was saved, while a portion was watersoaked and charred. The damaged mail is being sorted and dried at the Rochester Post Office.

Warden continued his trip. Fire Chief George Ross said defective wires in the truck probably caused the fire.

HACKENSACK, N.J. (INS) — Psychiatrists okayed confessed rape-slayer Ronald P. Marrone, 18, as a "fine boy" in 1953, his heart-broken father declared today.

The six weeks of mental tests of the Bible-toting youth followed his release on charges of molesting two eight-year-old girls in Lodi, N.J.

The disconsolate father, Paul Marrone Sr., 51, of Fairlawn, an engineer at the Bendix Aviation Corporation, described his son as a "split personality," who is "better off dead."

Meanwhile, Ronald found comfort in his ever-present Bible as he sat in a cell in the Bergen County Jail in Hackensack awaiting hearing on June 7 on the murder charge.

His victim, attractive 15-year-old Ruth Starr Zeitler, whose almost nude body was found May 23 near a Paramus, N.J., lovers' lane, was buried in the blue nylon gown she wanted as her "next party dress."

'A FINE BOY'

Ronald's mother, Peggy, 41, said doctors at Menlo Park, a state mental institution, had told her her son "is a fine boy—he doesn't belong here."

Alert Deputies Nab Fugitives

Put 2 and 2 Together, Officers Arrest Trio Wanted in Chicago

Alertness and a bit of second guessing by two Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies led to the arrest yesterday of three men wanted by the Chicago police.

While on patrol at approximately 5:30 a.m., Deputies Thurman Sauvage and Lyle Walmsley were forced off U.S.-10 about a mile south of Davisburg Rd. by a large tanker-truck which crossed the double yellow line on a curve in passing a car.

Sauvage and Walmsley turned around with the intention of chasing the truck, but ended up following the car it had passed, on the hunch that the truck driver must have had a good reason for so obviously breaking the law.

It became evident that he had plenty of reason, and may have been attempting to attract their attention, said Sauvage, as the car was swerving from one lane to another.

PULL CAR OVER

They pulled the car over and questioned the three men. Upon searching the car they found a .38 caliber revolver and a straight razor.

The driver, Thomas Barnett, 18, of Chicago, who had no driver's license, admitted that he and his companions, Vitale Scruggs and Joe Barnett, both 18 and also of Chicago, had stolen the car and gun.

The three told deputies they had beaten and robbed a Chicago man of $20 and then taken his car. Scruggs admitted stealing the gun from a market and firing two shots in a Chicago gang fight last weekend. They are now being held at the Oakland County Jail for Chicago police who confirmed the charges.

News Flash

LANSING (AP) — Gus Harrison, state corrections director, today said Edward O'Boyle, assistant deputy warden at the Marquette Prison, has been suspended for accepting gifts from inmates and relatives of inmates. "He seemed to feel it was all right, but we didn't," said Harrison. Harrison said O'Boyle accepted such gifts from prisoners as wallets, pocketbooks and a coffee table made in the crafts department; and money, liquor and clothing from the relatives of inmates.

of radioactive dirt which in past tests has been sucked into the air.

LESS FALLOUT

As a result, the Nevada Test Organization said that fallout in the area surrounding the test site would be minimized.

As the mushroom cloud lost its shape and drifted lazily over the Nevada wastelands, helicopters buzzed over the landscape taking radioactivity readings. Ground test personnel moved quickly in to check instruments.

As usual, the AEC gave no indication of the nature of the device being tested.

The eastern sky paled into a light blue as time for the detonation approached. Then clouds hung over the mountains rimming the test site.

A light atop a 500-foot tower glinted through the waning darkness like a low hanging star.

NATO OBSERVERS

The 14 observers from North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations and Civil Defense representatives clustered on a sloping hillside to watch the test for which they had been waiting more than two weeks.

On the rocky side of News Nob, photographers deployed behind their cameras and below them news reporters spotted themselves about the observation area.

This was the 46th shot fired from this testing ground since the United States began its series of atom experiments in 1951.

This shot was delayed longer than any previous test because of the adverse winds.

The AEC had announced that it intended to make this the safest of all test series as far as fallout was concerned.

There have been demands from some nations for an end to testing of atomic and hydrogen weapons by the major powers.

Birmingham Man Held in Wife's Death

gate, they found their mother in a pool of blood.

The two girls telephoned a relative who summoned police.

Police theorized that the argument and slaying may have come about because Mrs. Shepherd was threatening to leave her husband.

Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist said the Shepherds had married in January and apparently have had "quite a bit of family trouble" since then.

Mrs. Shepherd for the last year had taught a domestic science course at Barnum Junior High School, which her daughter Janet attends.

Both Shepherd and his wife have been previously married and divorced. Shepherd, identified as a son of C. George Shepherd, a well-known commercial artist who died several months ago, had been laid off last week as a salesman for a Detroit abrasives firm.

Moxley quoted Shepherd as saying that before he went to bed at 9 p.m., his wife had given him a tranquilizing pill.

Later she woke him up once, Moxley further quoted the man, to give him several pills, which the dead woman described as vitamin pills.

Shepherd admitted in his statement, Ziem said, that he had several drinks yesterday.

He had consumed a few before going to Detroit, where he learned he was dismissed from his job, one on the return trip, and a few more before going to bed.

He denied that he was drunk, however, Ziem said.

Shepherd was wearing pajamas, when police arrived.

When her body was found, police said, Mrs. Shepherd was wearing a tan coat, indicating she may have been trying to leave home.

The Day in Birmingham

Approve Maple Widening, Lower Assessment Rate

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners last night approved a special assessment district for the paving and widening of E. Maple avenue from Hunter boulevard to Adams road.

Reconsidering their former approval of an 85 per cent assessment against property owners, they lowered the rate to 75 per cent which brings the cost to approximately $4.19 per front foot.

Commissioners made it clear that this percentage is not a permanent basis. They are considering a formula which will direct their action on future and "arterial" street construction.

Considerable time was spent last night between John Chiera Co. and realtors and city commissioners on the future development of a parcel of land in the Indian Village subdivision.

The property lies in such a position that difficulty will be experienced in constructing homes and not have them face the rear of other properties. The question of cutting a street through the area would put any future building in violation of the city's zoning ordinance requiring a 16 foot minimum rear yard.

Chiera and city officials will continue their study of the section to see what future development plans can be made.

June 17 has been set as the date of the public hearing to determine the necessity of a sewer to relieve flooding conditions at the home of T. H. Guething, 581 Lake Park Dr.

An existing sewer is continually clogging and creating flood conditions on the Guething driveway and garage. The sewer is old and of low grade tile and has proven unsatisfactory for use.

Mrs. James F. Murphy Jr., 1319 Dorchester appeared before commissioners last night asking what could be done in the problem of dogs running loose in the area.

Mrs. Murphy said she had been dissatisfied with her contacts with the police and the dog wardens since the dogs in question are still running at large.

She was informed that she could sign a complaint against the dogs' owners if she so desired. Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley promised better action by the department since Mrs. Murphy cited considerable yard damage suffered at her home.

Recently assuming the position of organist at the First Baptist Church here is Dr. John Randolph Phelps, who received his Doctor of Philosophy degree at the Detroit Institute of Musical Art.

He is a past president of the Michigan Composers' Club, chairman of American Music on the State Board of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. He is a member of the Board of Directors of Pro Musica, Detroit and an associate conductor of the Detroit Schoolmen's Chorus.

During his services with the church Dr. Phelps will work with Charles L. Holtz, choir director and the Sanctuary Choir.

Postal Cuts Due on July 1

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower warns that postal services will have to be "substantially curtailed" on July 1 unless Congress promptly approves more money.

The President said he would soon make a request for supplemental funds as he signed the $3,884,927,000 treasury-post office appropriation bill yesterday.

The Post Office Department's $3,192,000,000 share was 58 million dollars less than requested by the President and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Eisenhower signed the bill shortly after the postmaster general warned that services would be "drastically curtailed" if more funds were not forthcoming.

He claimed "100 per cent" support from the President in his threat to eliminate Saturday mail deliveries, close post offices on that day and reduce the volume of mail handled.

This is the same cutback he ordered for one weekend in March to pry extra funds from Congress for the period up to June 30.

Summerfield said the President would seek an extra 140 million dollars in his supplemental request to Congress.

Too Costly to Build on Orchard Lake Avenue

Army Abandons Training Site

Army officials have abandoned plans to build a long-awaited Reserve Training Center on Orchard Lake avenue, due to excessive costs.

★ ★ ★

But Col. William H. Fowler, deputy chief of staff of the Michigan Military District in Detroit, said "hurried efforts were being made to find another suitable site in Pontiac."

The original site across from Beaudette Park proved unsatisfactory, Col. Fowler said, because an additional $33,000 would be needed to construct footings for the $320,000 building.

This was necessary because the area once was a city sanitary fill.

Army and city officials have recently surveyed five other alternate areas for the building. Engineer crews were expected to test several sites for suitability.

★ ★ ★

Dropping the Orchard Lake avenue five-acre site will cause a six-month delay in construction plans, Col. Fowler said.

It was another setback as Army officials struggled to bring the building from the drawing board to construction stage.

A 50-year lease approved last May for the first site proved to be in violation of a Supreme Court ruling which said Pontiac could not donate the land to the government.

The city then granted a six-month option for the Orchard Lake plot.

The new structure is slated to provide classroom facilities for some 400 local reservists presently being trained in cramped quarters at 37 W. Lawrence St.

Trial Set for June 4

Howard J. Ackerman, 36, of 230 N. Chestnut St., Lansing, was released on a $500 bond and ordered to appear for trial June 4, after pleading innocent yesterday to drunk driving before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle.

Schools Sell Building Bonds

City to Get $2.7 Million to Finance Construction During Fiscal Year

The Pontiac Board of Education last night sold $2.7 million in bonds to help finance its building program during the next fiscal year.

The sole bidder was First of Michigan Corp. and Associates which took the issue at an average interest rate of 3.2656.

The interest is the highest the Pontiac schools have paid to sell bonds, but was still below the current national average for such issues.

A spokesman for the purchasing group said the Federal Reserve Board's tight money policy was driving the cost of money up steadily.

ACCEPT RETIREMENT

The board also accepted "with deep regret" the retirement of Assistant Superintendent J. Cecil Cox after 31 years of service.

Although he will officially retire June 30, Cox accepted an offer to stay on until the needed teachers are hired for fall or until Sept. 1, whichever is sooner.

In other action, the board adopted a policy under which anyone living in the school district who is eligible to attend Pontiac Public Schools can take driver training offered by the system. This opens the course to parochial school students and youngsters under 18 who have dropped out of school.

★ ★ ★

The board at a previous special meeting issued a notice of school board election for June 10. The four candidates are William H. Anderson, Lloyd R. Ludy, Robert B. Oliver and Louis H. Schimmel.

Security for You

Forced to Retire? You May Get Checks

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

If you're forced to retire, you should visit the nearest state employment security office to see whether you're eligible for unemployment payments.

Probably you are if you:

1. Register for work at the employment office and ask for the payments.

2. Worked in a job which was covered by your state's unemployment insurance law. (Most jobs are covered).

3. You have had a certain amount of pay for work in covered jobs in a specified period during the year or two before you were forced to retire.

4. Are able to work and are ready and willing to take a suitable job if one is offered.

ELIGIBLE ANYWAY

And, in most states and the District of Columbia, you're eligible even though you may be drawing old age Social Security payments.

In only one state — West Virginia — are you completely barred from unemployment payments because you're getting Social Security.

Here's a list of the states which allow you to collect old age Social Security payments and still collect unemployment insurance:

★ ★ ★

Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Hampshire.

New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

In the following states, your social security payments will count against any unemployment payments you might be eligible to receive:

COUNT AGAINST

Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon and Texas.

Just how Social Security might count against you in these states depends on your state's unemployment insurance program. In some, your Social Security check will be deducted from the amount of your unemployment payments and you'll receive the difference. In others, you'll get the difference plus a few dollars a week more.

How much your payments will be depends on the law in your state and the wages you received while you were working. The most you can get will range from $24 to $36. The least you can get will range from $3 to $17 a week. You may also be eligible for an allowance for your dependents.

In most states, the length of time you can collect the money depends on your previous job, your earnings and the law in your state. The time can vary from four to 30 weeks.

You must file your claim for payments at the state department office nearest you. In many towns, where there is no permanent employment office, you can file your claim on certain days with a part-time representative of a nearby office.

If you get a full-time job after you file for payments, you're not entitled to payments. But, if you fail to find a job within a certain time — usually a week — after you file, your payments will begin the following week. They'll continue until you find a job or run out of eligibility.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Congress to Tell Story of Atomic Fall-Out Dangers

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional committee begins today an effort to put together the story of atomic fall-out dangers in language the ordinary citizen can understand.

★ ★ ★

This was the announced objective of a Joint Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee which called Dr. Charles L. Dunham, head of the Atomic Energy Commission Division of Biology and Medicine. Dunham was the first listed witness in a projected monthlong series of hearings.

Fears that fall-out from H-bomb tests may endanger present and future generations have stirred world-ranging controversy and put steam behind the international disarmament drive.

★ ★ ★

AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss questioned yesterday on radio and television, said the United States is taking adequate precautions against radioactive fall-out harming the population. He said he has no fear of any such danger.

★ ★ ★

Asked if the fall-out danger would increase if nations other than the United States, Russia and Britain began nuclear tests, Strauss said he hopes a world disarmament agreement will be achieved before any more countries can get in position to make nuclear weapons.

Motorist Pleads Innocent

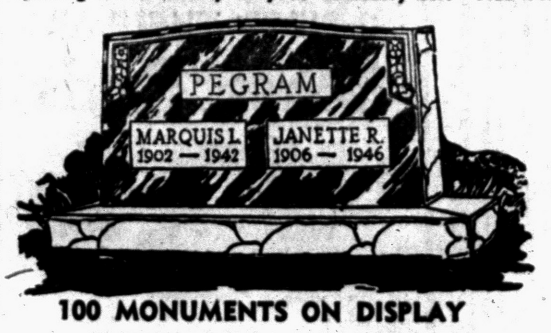

After furnishing $500 bond, James E. Hayes, 43, of 330 Highland St., was freed until trial June 6. Hayes pleaded innocent to a reckless driving charge before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum yesterday.

New Orleans, situated on the Mississippi river, is actually 107 miles from the river's outlet into the Gulf.

Have you tried Marathon's NEW DOUBLE-BARRELED BONUS?

TWO ADVANCED NEW GASOLINES!

New MARATHON SUPER-M

Highest octane in Marathon history for full power in highest compression engines. (Up to and including 10 to 1 compression ratios.)

Specially refined for quicker starting, faster pickup and power, power, power!

IT'S TOMORROW'S GASOLINE TODAY!

New MARATHON MILE-maker

Extra power for extra miles at regular price!

Gives premium performance in all cars with standard-compression engines. Due to high-concentrate refining, MILE-maker produces more "mile-making" energy units than ordinary gasolines.

• • •

There is one reason these are the finest gasolines in all Marathon history. It is our philosophy of gasoline refining. Briefly, this is it:

We apply each of the 105 steps in the complex refining process with but one object—to provide in greatest measure that which you, the motorist, want in a gasoline—mileage, power and performance.

Nothing known to the petroleum industry has been overlooked in providing you with the two finest gasolines we have ever produced—one of which is the very best you can buy for your car. Drive in to your Marathon dealer today and let your car decide!

Trapped 2 Days in Mine's Depths

Man Lost in Deserted Shaft Tells Rescuers He Put Faith in God

HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Trapped in the lonely depths of an abandoned mine, 50-year-old Cantrell Owens put his faith in God and sat down to pray.

He had walked into the shaft Saturday, looking for scrap copper. As he wound his way through, his miner's light went out.

★ ★ ★

"I began groping my way through the mine," he said. "The more I walked the more confused I became."

That's when he decided to pray and hope for the best.

Thanks to a sharp-eyed search party that spotted tobacco grains and some footprints, Owens was rescued from the pit yesterday.

His only complaints were of mild hunger and a cough.

After his wife notified authorities he was missing Sunday, the search party was organized.

They explored more than a mile of the pit Sunday, but bad air forced them to give up.

They returned with oxygen masks yesterday and found Owens about a mile and a half from the entrance.

★ ★ ★

Postman Faces Charge for Unloading Mail Bag

UNION, N.J. (AP) — A mailman who allegedly believed in putting extra loads of mail to rest in Hollywood cemetery was arrested by postal inspectors here yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Albert Mueller, 28, dumped circulars, magazines and postcards from his sack on three occasions when the load was especially heavy, the inspectors said.

★ ★ ★

They quoted Mueller as saying, "I failed to deliver the mail only on days when it was heavy." He was charged with destruction of mail.

Hardwood forests cover more than half of eastern Paraguay.

Hal Boyle Says:

Army Trains for Atomic Warfare

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — Here on vast rolling plains where it trained some of its greatest military heroes, the U. S. Army is engaging in mock battles of a new kind of war—atomic war.

The experiments going on here would amaze some of those past cavalry heroes—"Jeb" Stuart, George Custer, George Patton and Jonathan Wainwright.

The experiments are also a bit confusing to some of the present heroes here—infantrymen, tankmen and artillerymen trying to puzzle out the role of ground forces on an atomic battlefield.

Enthusiasm and morale are high among the soldiers of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division, "The Big Red One," which was picked to lead the Army's new pentomic organization.

The division, now led by Maj. Gen. David H. Buchanan of Marion, Va., an officer with a fine combat and staff record, still has on its rolls 26 veterans from the World War II, during which it was in action 443 days and took more than 100,000 prisoners.

The division has been streamlined down from a peak of 17,500 men to about 13,000. Its three regiments, under the new pentomic organization, have been succeeded by five heavily supported battle groups.

Some of the oldtimers wept openly a few months ago during a colorful ceremony at which the colors of the division's three famous old regiments—the 16th, 18th, and 26th—were struck, perhaps forever. Those regiments had fought all the way from Algiers to the Elbe, and 43,743 men had served under them. Half had been wounded, 4,325 had died.

Recently a public demonstration of the new tactics was put on before a group of impressed Kansas editors by troops commanded by Col. Howard B. St. Clair of Beckley, W. Va. The visitors were flown to the scene in helicopters, which seem to have taken over many of the jeep's roles in the new army.

A sudden cloud sullenly mushroomed from a small hill, symbolizing an atomic explosion launched against the entrenched enemy. After a heavy bombardment by artillery and mortar shell, the scattered tanks and Doughboys began to converge on the objective.

Flickers of red flame flared in the distance. Under the immemorial sun, sweating tiny figures of men moved forward in the immemorial way of infantry — running again — little dots of purpose on the immense uncaring earth.

In half an hour a signal flare streaked a wavering signal of colored smoke up from the green and brown hill—the most welcome news in war: "Objective taken!"

Will the new pentomic organization work so well if there should come a real war again? No one can tell. Today everything is experimental.

GM to Stay in Michigan but Expansions Won't

In a current exchange of letters, President HARLOW H. CURTICE of General Motors established two points clearly.

First, he declares flatly that General Motors is not "moving out of Michigan."

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, he cites statistics to show that the Michigan tax rate on industry is so much higher than the rates in surrounding states that many expansion operations have been placed outside of the Wolverine commonwealth.

That means jobs.

Michigan wants them.

★ ★ ★

The people of Pontiac are anxious to have all future work in connection with our three GM plants right here. We are opposed to tax measures that make other locations more attractive. GM plants are paying more than half of the Pontiac City taxes right this minute. If they need further plant operations, we are tremendously anxious to see that these jobs are located HERE.

★ ★ ★

We look with dark disfavor on ANY state taxation that tends to drive jobs and employment away. It is up to the Governor to guide his state so that costs are no more here than they are in other prosperous commonwealths.

That's his job.

The voters insist on that.

★ ★ ★

Michigan doesn't want to totter along behind other states because our tax structure is inferior or because our costs are out of line with sister states.

Governor Rules Wisely in Case of Adopted Hildy

Governor LEROY COLLINS of Florida has ruled wisely in the current case of the adopted baby and the suit of the mother.

Six-year-old HILDY was born of an unwed Catholic girl and she was adopted within the first two weeks of her life by Jewish parents. Now, after the lapse of six years, the mother still protests because of religious differences.

This is poppycock.

Love comes first.

★ ★ ★

We don't care whether the mother was Catholic, Methodist, Episcopalian or Mohammedan. She gave up her child immediately upon its birth. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis, Jewish, adopted the youngster immediately and Hildy has known six years of love, affection and parental care. That is the main consideration. Everything else is purely secondary and the Governor's ruling in a packed courtroom was received with cheers and shouts.

★ ★ ★

What of the youngster?

Where in this wide world can she be as well off as she is with the foster parents that have cared for her the first six years of her life?

Incidentally, the ELLISES left the courtroom for the airport and reached home just in time to see the youngster "graduated" from the first grade. And — just to make this a super triumph in real life, little HILDY ranked at the top of her class.

Our Economy Requires Business of All Sizes

To keep pace with our fast growing population, economists anticipate that within the next 20 years the Nation will need 40 per cent more business capacity and employ 20 million more people.

The present net gain of over 1,000 new businesses a week for a total of 4.25 million in the United States is the result of innovation and creation, says a Du Pont company employe magazine. A survey by this publication showed new enterprises springing up everywhere in the wake of large companies and "new ideas, new good and services fathering new firms."

Large numbers of small firms are established as a direct result of research and development work carried on by large companies. They, in turn, depend on small ones for conversion, service, parts, distribution and other needs.

★ ★ ★

These facts should help dispel the myth that large companies drive out small business and destroy all opportunities. Large firms are better equipped to undertake big projects and small firms develop special types of service to fill particular needs. Thus they are mutually dependent.

Our economy provides opportunities for small as well as large businesses with benefit to all parts of the country.

David Lawrence Says:

Congress Forgets About 'Cold War'

WASHINGTON — There ought to be a daily "communique" on the way the "Cold War" is going—its victories and defeats. This is how the "communique" could be written today:

1. Victory for the Communists in Formosa: The Anti-American demonstrations there were "definitely organized" in advance of the riots. American officials in Formosa now say the activity may have been inspired by Chinese political elements on the island anxious to make a deal with Communist China. It was a "natural" for the Communists to try to inflame the Chinese on Formosa over the acquittal of an American soldier who killed a Chinese prowler outside his home.

LAWRENCE

2. Victory for the Communists in the United States: Demands are being heard that American forces be withdrawn from overseas "to save money." For several years now Moscow and Peiping have been behind that strategy. The idea is being taken up now in the American Congress, where cuts in the budget may force the withdrawal of at least one army division from overseas and possibly more.

The Air Force and Navy of the United States will also be weakened. This is good news for Moscow.

3. Victory for the Communists in America: A drive is on to cause America and Britain, respectively, to stop the testing of nuclear weapons even without any agreement in advance that the Soviets will stop their tests.

This crusade has been going on for several years now—helped by millions of dollars being spent in propaganda by the Soviets to influence and dupe the American and British peoples and particularly the American Congress. British Prime Minister Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Lloyd have publicly denounced the scheme as Communist in origin, but Americans are not yet fully alerted to it.

4. Victory for the United States against the Communists: The Middle Eastern situation, where the starting of a world war has been averted, is now becoming favorable to the American viewpoint. Cyrus Sulzberger, widely known as a traveling correspondent for the "New York Times," who has been studying the Middle East and has been critical of the State Department's policy in the past, says in a Paris dispatch:

WORKING WELL

"So far, our new Middle Eastern policy seems to be working remarkably well. In varying degrees all the Arab states but Egypt and Syria indicate appreciation of the Eisenhower Doctrine or at least of its intentions. Israel welcomes its pacifying effect. Moscow is visibly displeased.

"Secretary Dulles, who earned a full measure of blame for past American ineptitude in the area, deserves equal credit for the speed with which he has managed to stabilize an unpromising situation. Much, indeed, remains to be done before any permanent benefits can be measured. But we appear to have captured the initiative."

The same dispatch says that it "is apparent that Syria's hostile government is weakening and Egypt's is nervously conscious of its isolation."

★ ★ ★

Yet only last February the skeptics were criticizing the Eisenhower Doctrine and many members of Congress voted reluctantly for it, believing it would not do much good.

Now the critics are silent. Interest has turned away from the achievement of peace in the Middle East, and all eyes are on the Federal budget in Congress. The change in the Middle East, however, has been truly sensational.

Even many of the British and French who thought it would have been better to "finish the fight" at Suez now realize that this would have meant endless guerrilla warfare and a multiplicity of situations like those that have caused the British so much anguish and expense in Cyprus and the French such a headache in Algeria.

MANY DEFEATS

America could encounter many defeats in the "Cold War" if it doesn't keep up its efforts to offset the propaganda of the Communists, which, incidentally, is very intensive inside Britain and France, working constantly with "left wing" elements.

LI'L ONES

"Pop plays golf; you play canasta. This is my hobby."

Dr. William Brady Says:

It's About Time to Scrap Internal Lubrication Idea

"You pointed out that continued use of mineral oil for constipation impairs nutrition because mineral oil interferes with absorption of vitamins and minerals from food. Suppose the individual in need of an "internal lubricant" has a peptic ulcer. Could he use flaxseeds, and if not, what substitute?" (R. A.)

"In your booklet Chronic Joint Disability (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) you recommend two tablespoonsfuls of cod liver oil daily for rheumatiz, but you do not explain that it lubricates the joints . . ." (H. L. W.)

Mineral oil was popularized as a remedy for constipation first by Arbuthnot Lane back in horse-and-buggy days. This London surgeon took a very dim view indeed of the human colon (large bowel).

He proposed, as a means of curing or preventing ailments too gloomerous to mention here, not just the conversion of the colon to a semi-colon, but the formidable operation called colectomy — removal of the entire colon.

Let me now say that mucus, the secretion of the lining of the intestinal tube, is the only "lubricant" the intestine needs. It keeps the lining moist, soft and pliable. No oil can serve the purpose.

The correspondent R. A. asks about flaxseeds as a substitute for mineral oil as "internal lubricant." In The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I recommend from a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful of unground flaxseeds daily instead of physic. This approximates the natural "internal lubricant."

H. L. W.'s reminder that I do not explain in the rheumatiz booklet that cod liver oil lubricates the joints is true. When I was writing Chronic Joint Disability, the notion that joints need oiling had scarcely ever occurred in queries from readers.

But now there seems to be some concern about it, stimulated, perhaps, by some fancy set forth in a charlatan's book about "arthritis." I recommend cod liver oil for rheumatiz because it is an excellent source of two nutritional elements which are essential to prevent, retard, or reverse physical degeneration in joint tissues, namely iodin and vitamin D.

Any kind of oil—animal, vegetable, or mineral—in a joint would be equivalent to a foreign body in the joint.

The only lubricant a joint requires is a drop or two of serum, a clear, watery fluid secreted by the joint lining.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Peace Time Veteran Tells Unemployment Situation

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

What is a person just released from service supposed to do to support himself? Because I went on active duty after Jan. 31, 1955, I have no claim to the mustering out pay of $300. If that were all, I'd have no complaint, but I have found that I and all others who have been protecting your country for the past few years cannot even claim unemployment pay.

We have families to support and food isn't given away. I don't want a pat on the back or pity. I want results. This may not help me or others now in the same position, but do something for those in the future. It's time to do something for peacetime protectors. You've now been told of our position; now tell us what you're going to do about it.

'Let's Pay Ted to Visit Pontiac'

I see Ted Williams is accused of shooting three dozen pigeons that were messing up the Boston ball park. Some of the silly Bostonians are indignant about it. Let's pay Ted fare out to Pontiac from Detroit the next time Boston's here, buy him the shells and let him have a field day on pigeons around the Pontiac Courthouse.

Urges Opposition of Atomic Treaty

To quote a great and much-abused American patriot, the late Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, "Offering to share our atomic wealth is in a class with the Chicago Police Department offering to share its pistols and sub-machine guns with the Dillinger mob." We must oppose the ratification of this treaty.

Robert B. Dresser
Providence, R.I.

U.S. Economy Is Discussed

As I sit and look about the world affairs, I see the demand of labor unions for higher pay each year, and I think of times past when men worked 8 or 10 hours for less than they make in an hour now. They still demand more and consequently prices are going up. Politicians get higher and higher salaries. Government spends billions making destructive weapons and keeps scientists and inventors busy inventing even more destructive weapons. And, of course, we must give aid to our allies. So long as we aid them, they're our friends. How much did we give Russia, and what did we get for it?

Congress might cut their own salaries and a lot of investigating trips, which are mostly for their own pleasure. A few jobs like $16,000-per-year doormen might be cut. Taxpayers are beginning to realize this spending can't go on forever. We're headed for a depression or revolution, and believe me, it's no pleasure for old folks trying to live at such high costs. Eisenhower promised to cut taxes, but they went sky high.

'Pontiac Won't Pay, Why Should GM?'

I'm inclined to disagree with "Ol' Herb" about the City hospital. Because Pontiac voters voted against the hospital issue, it is my belief that they either don't want a hospital or don't want to pay for finishing one. Therefore, if Pontiac won't finance the finishing of it, why should General Motors?

I have enjoyed working the Pot-O-Gold contest, as that has always been one of my hobbies, but when they give two words as clues to an answer and one of the words is a synonym for the other, I can't see any fair play in that.

While some of the clues and explanations may seem remote occasionally, this is necessary; otherwise it would be no contest. As for fairness, everyone must work with the same clues, so each contestant has as much chance of winning as any other.)

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Psychology Has Role in Restaurant

Molly is a living gem and actually makes the chef's concoctions taste much better. For a grim or sourpuss waiter can take the edge off the most expert chef's products. So study this case record carefully to pick up the proper restaurant psychology. It applies to other sales people who "front" before the public.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-392: Molly D., aged 27, is a waitress in Detroit.

"Dr. Crane, I want you to have lunch with me," Dr. John Ross insisted. "And I wish you'd pay attention to the waitress.

CRANE

"I think you'll relish seeing a real saleswoman. She fulfills all the rules of a topnotch psychologist. Just wait and see."

So I looked forward to my luncheon with double interest. And Molly lived up to expectations.

She was as busy as a bee when we entered, but she smiled across at us and gave us a little wave of the hand.

Salesmen, please note that fact! For a good "front" man or woman always gives some cordial evidence of recognition to the strangers or new patrons, even though fully occupied serving earlier customers.

As Molly headed back to get the food for the people at the next table, she greeted us with a cheery "Hello, I'll be with you in a moment," and then handed each of us a menu card.

Soon she was back to take our orders.

"Dr. Ross, we have your favorite today," she began, "and it is delicious, so I presume you'll want the pot roast."

Then she turned to me.

"If you wish a man-sized luncheon, I can recommend the pot roast," she added enthusiastically.

Molly served more people than other waitresses around us, because she organized her efforts efficiently.

She wouldn't run back to the serving counter for coffee or butter without picking up some of our empty dishes or those at the adjacent tables.

RESTAURANT PSYCHOLOGY

And when she brought our dessert, she smilingly asked us to come back again, and then laid the check on the table.

During rush hour restaurant traffic, many waitresses fail to give the customer the check with the dessert course.

Sometimes the diners are in a hurry, so it is irritating to waste several minutes waiting for the bill after the meal is finished.

In my own case, for example, I have often been irked by this type of inefficiency.

Sometimes I have even put on my coat and hat and walked over to the cashier's counter, only then to have the waiter or waitress come out of the kitchen and belatedly rush over to the cashier to add the items on the check.

A good waiter or waitress is not only efficient in serving many tables but is also fast in arithmetic.

As soon as a meal is served, the checks should be tallied and available to the patrons.

Some waitresses stand around chatting with their co-workers and then must be called to the cashier's counter as mentioned above.

But even such faults can be forgiven if the waitress is a smiling, cheery person who makes the patrons feel at home.

Our first sociable event in earliest childhood consists of being brought to the dinner table. We sit in our high chairs, surrounded by other jolly human beings.

So a cheerful human environment actually makes food taste better. A talented chef can have his concoctions partly spoiled by a sourpuss waiter!

So learn to smile routinely at all customers. Greet the newcomers even though you are fully preoccupied with earlier clients.

A good waitress is a glorified "mother" to lonely diners and can spell the difference between success or failure for her restaurant.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Harry P. Sutton, Auctioneer, Dies

Lake Orion Man, 63, Was Lifelong Resident of Oakland County

Harry P. Sutton, 63, well known Oakland County auctioneer, died suddenly Sunday morning in his Lake Orion home.

Best known for his salvaging of barns and buildings, he also bought standing timber on occasion, conducted horse sales and trades in the late 1900's, a used car business in Pontiac in the 20's, and during the depression went to St. Louis for carloads of mules which he sold here.

Mr. Sutton was born in Milford, Oct. 16, 1895, and had lived in several locations in the Pontiac-Orion area.

He leaves his wife, the former Goldie Mervyn, and daughter Judy Ann, who live at home. His son Robert preceded him in death by only a few months.

★ ★ ★

Other survivors are his brothers Neil of Pontiac, Theodore of Los Gatos, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Celia Quinnell, of San Jose, Calif.

His funeral will be from Donelson-Johns Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Dr. H. H. Savage of the First Baptist Church will officiate. Interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

President Plans on Dairy Herd After Retiring

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower disclosed today he is planning a small dairy herd at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm to provide the family's milk supply when he retires to private life.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Thye (R-Minn) told newsmen about the President's plans after giving Eisenhower pedigree papers on a gift Holstein heifer.

The calf actually arrived in Gettysburg Friday. The papers were brought to the White House today by Thye and Minnesota Dairy Princess Barbara Jean Bossus of Brainerd, Minn.

★ ★ ★

Miss Bossus holds the title of Princess Kay of the Milky Way, bestowed by the Minnesota Dairy Industries Committee which gave the cow to the President.

Eisenhower already has a herd of Black Angus beef cattle, but up to now has not gone in for raising dairy animals.

Junior Editors Quiz on MOUND BUILDERS

QUESTION: Who were the mound builders?

ANSWER: The mound builders were Stone Age people who lived on this continent thousands of years ago and probably were prehistoric ancestors of the Indians.

They made weapons of stone, wood, bone and animal horns. They left no written records, but did leave behind thousands of enormous mounds of earth.

Some of these mounds were fortified enclosures or perhaps permanent dwellings; others were religious symbols shaped like huge birds, animals and reptiles. The most famous of these strange mounds is "The Great Serpent" in Adams County, Ohio. Shaped like a long, slithering snake, it is 1,348 feet long, 30 feet wide and 5 feet high, with huge open jaws which measure 75 feet across.

The mound builders roamed North America from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Rockies to the Atlantic, but they were found mostly in the valleys of the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here is a youth laying the foundation for a gigantic snake mound. Color, paste down, cut inside solid line of corner panel, fold back on dash line and the drawing will stand up.

School Puts Out Study on Aging

Aids Elder Americans Prepare for Retirement, Events in Later Life

ANN ARBOR (INS) — The University of Michigan Division of Gerontology has announced publication of a new study-discussion program on "Aging in the Modern World."

The study, financed by the fund for adult education now provides middle-aged Americans with a practical means of helping themselves prepare for retirement and other events in middle and later life.

★ ★ ★

Reading material for the program includes nine essays by nationally-known experts in problems related to aging.

Audio-visual aids, a book of selected readings and guides for discussion group leaders and participants are available at nominal cost from the U-M Division of Gerontology.

In general, the new program follows the pattern of "Jefferson and Our Times," World Affairs Are Your Affairs," and the anthropological "Ways of Mankind," earlier discussion programs financed by the fund.

★ ★ ★

"Aging in the Modern World" is designed for use by small groups. These may be self-organized or part of programs sponsored by high schools, universities, colleges, public libraries, service clubs, labor unions, day centers and other educational organizations.

Material included in the new program has already been tested by a dozen groups in California, Iowa, Indiana and Michigan.

Duplicate Cities Cause Confusion for Greek Couple

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Dimaratos Tchaco of Alexandria, Egypt, feel that American cities are somewhat confusing, especially when two of them have the same name.

★ ★ ★

The Greek couple arrived here last night by air. Tchaco told reporters he meant to go to Rochester, Minn., where he hoped to have his stomach ulcers cured at the Mayo Clinic.

But it all turned out for the best. He met a Greek-born doctor who assured him he could get just as good medical care here. Tchaco has decided to stay.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Tchaco commented: "It's so confusing to have so many cities with the same name. I don't understand it."

Older Boy Takes $907 Entrusted to Youth, 15

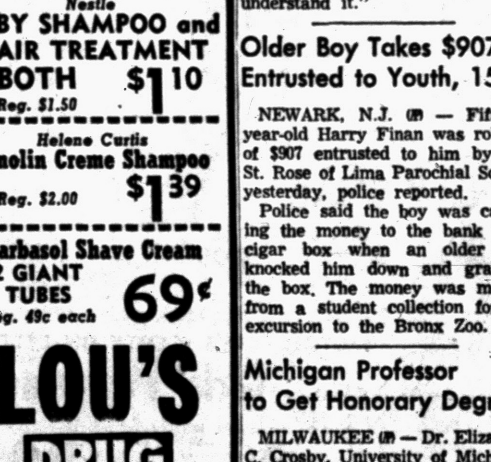

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Harry Finan was robbed of $907 entrusted to him by the St. Rose of Lima Parochial School yesterday, police reported.

Police said the boy was carrying the money to the bank in a cigar box when an older boy knocked him down and grabbed the box. The money was mostly from a student collection for an excursion to the Bronx Zoo.

It's Meaning Now Touches Most Everyone . . .

When Memorial Day was instituted, it set apart a day for the memory of our nation's heroes who had fallen in our defense. Following the Civil War, the long period of peace made fewer the families affected.

Today, almost every family has those who have been members of our Armed Forces. Memorial Day means much to everyone of them — it affects us all. Honor all on this day set apart for that purpose — for your loved ones as well as others.

But Chanteuse Longs to Reconquer New York

Hildegarde Delays Her Homecoming

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — For well over a decade, in New York's swankiest clubs for people who eat dinner and call it "supper" (understate it and you're chic, dear), the orchestra was wont to swing its strings into a famed theme song called "Darling, Je Vous Aime Beaucoup."

★ ★ ★

This was the signal the elegant crowd was waiting for—indicating that behind the pompous palmettos, gay as a schoolgirl in a gold lame gown, the headiest of chanteuses was ready to swoop upon them.

The women would smile self-consciously, and the men at ringside stuck out their chests—prepared to have their peaked lapels tweaked. And then, an ecstatic male voice inevitably boomed out across the dim expectancy of the Persian Room, the Maisonette, or the Cotillion Room:

"And now, ladies and gentlemen, we are proud to present—(pause for chills)—the incomparable Hildegarde."

★ ★ ★

For a girl from Milwaukee, who calls herself a "Wisconsin chantootsie," this was pretty good going. Not everybody loved Hildegarde's professional style—she was too hearty for Russian playwrights and Manhattan cynics—but nobody questioned that she was incomparable.

LOADED WITH ENERGY

A luscious, sugar-coated confection was Hildegarde, loaded with quick energy, wonderful for tired (businessmen's) blood.

★ ★ ★

"Everything was going beautifully but then I decided something," said the lady vitamin today, after whooshing back into New York from two years of touring the rest of the country. "It's best to stay away awhile and come back when they miss you."

So that explains what has seemed to her fans like an extra-long vacation from their fair-haired girl. "I haven't been loafing on any beaches, I can tell you," she said.

"I've been spending the last 10 months trying to—shall we say—conquer new territory. It's been fun, singing from Mexico City to New Orleans, and just about everywhere else you can think of."

New York's clubs would gladly welcome back to their spotlights Miss Hildegarde Loretta Sell of Wisconsin but she's not ready for that yet.

"I'm going to make a few television appearances, interviewing personalities for 'The Blue Army'—that's a Catholic organization dedicated to fighting communism and propagating devotion to our Lady of Fatima—and then I leave for St. Louis and the gay supper club life again.

STRANGE SCHEDULE

"Isn't life strange? From St. Louis I go to Kansas City to play the lead in 'Can-Can', and then to Cleveland where I'll play long-hair piano with the Cleveland Symphony."

★ ★ ★

But, Hildegarde, don't you think New York misses you? Don't you want to come back?

"Do I! But not yet, not quite yet." She sighs, as in "Darling, Je Vous Aime Beaucoup."

"There are wonderful prospects for television which have almost been completed, but I have promised not to divulge any details. When—well, and if—everything happens as I hope, I will live in New York.

★ ★ ★

"For 23 years I have been roaming, and now I long to take roots, to get my lovely furniture, lovely paintings, my Steinway piano, my collection of 200 madonnas—all out of storage.

LOVES NEW YORK

"I'm a homebody at heart, but I haven't had a home since I left Milwaukee, really. Now it is quite, quite close to being certain. And New York will be my home, I love it so."

★ ★ ★

Even if television plans shouldn't come through, Hildegarde could afford to retire. She has saved. She also has an oil well in Oklahoma "that is pumping for me."

She wouldn't retire though. Couldn't possibly. "I was so lucky," she said, "to be born with vitality, and I would die of wilt and stagnate if I had to stop singing."

She lives on her strong religious faith, health foods and vitamins and a love of spotlights.

Besides, that oil well could never bubble as profitably as its owner.

North Viet Nam Law Outlaws Speculation

HONG KONG (AP) — Hanoi radio announced today North Viet Nam has decreed a new law prohibiting speculation and hoarding. Violators will be liable to a month to five years imprisonment, the broadcast said.

★ ★ ★

The official newspaper Nhan Dan hailed the new law, saying it "will help check acts of sabotage against the restoration and development of the national economy."

★ ★ ★

"Since the second half of 1956, speculation and hoarding of goods—the negative aspect of a capitalist way of doing business—has considerably affected production and construction, the life of various strata of the people, and the legitimate interests of honest industrialists and traders," the paper added.

Hawaii produces 70 per cent of the world's pineapple.

Now—a simple guide tells you which grade of gasoline your car needs_ to give you all the power and mileage built into your engine without paying for octanes you don't need!

Today, you—like millions of other motorists—may be puzzled about the number of different grades of gasoline being sold—and trying to decide just which grade your car needs.

To clarify this situation, Socony Mobil engineers have developed a simple Mobilgas Grade Guide that quickly tells you whether your particular car needs our highest octane gasoline—Mobilgas Special—or Mobilgas R at regular price. You'll find this guide at your friendly Mobil dealer's—and reproduced here.

This year both our grades have been boosted again in octane. Mobilgas Special fully meets the power requirements of 1957 high-compression cars.

Mobilgas R today is equal in octane to the premium fuels of just a few years ago—can actually be used by 1 out of every 3 car owners now buying premium-priced gasoline!

Both grades contain MC4 . . . an exclusive additive formula that improves engine efficiency and saves gasoline four ways!

* * *

We sincerely believe that if you follow this guide, you will get all the power and mileage built into your engine—without paying for gasoline octanes your car doesn't need. See your friendly Mobil dealer.

U.S. Plans to Shoot Up 6 Satellites Into Outer Space

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States plans to shoot up six satellites during the International Geophysical Year. Each will be geared to seek out specific new facts about things in space that affect the way we live.

The first one has a window to look at the sun, and microphones to hear and count thousands of meteors the size of dust specks. Or horribly bigger, puncturing ones to endanger future space travelers.

Instruments for this first satellite are about perfected, a visit to the Naval Research Laboratory shows. Here the complete satellite balls are being assembled.

Congress has granted 39 million dollars so far for the U. S. part of IGY global studies. About half is going for satellites.

The Department of Defense is in charge of developing and shooting the rockets to raise the moon. This involves indirect costs for the Navy, Air Force and Army. Universities also are spending funds designing map satellite instruments.

★ ★ ★

Even if the total satellite cost were 51 million, that still figures to a nickel a citizen for each satellite, or 30 cents for the set of six.

So far, four different groups of experiments are planned, explains Dr. Homer E. Newell Jr., science program coordinator for Project Vanguard.

Group 1: Experiments will study rays from the sun, meteors, density of air in space, temperatures and pressures there, and shape of the earth.

Group 2: Cosmic rays and meteors.

Group 3: Magnetic fields around the earth, and air density.

Group 4: How much energy and heat come into and from the earth; or else a study of clouds over the earth to aid in weather predictions. Which study will be chosen is yet undecided.

Due to weight limits, each satellite can be rigged only for one group of studies. If the first shot fails, an identical moon will be fired again. If that fails, the third shot will be rigged for Group 2 experiments, and so on.

The Group 1 satellite will have a special window in its shell to look at the sun. It will measure and report the intensity of a particular kind of ultraviolet or suntan rays which are all soaked up by our own thick atmosphere and never reach the earth.

These rays exert a controlling influence on long-range radio communications on earth, and probably on climate trends too. They might be pretty lethal to space travelers.

Space is full of tiny meteors. One estimate is that 1,000 tons of dust from "shooting stars" falls on earth daily. The dust perhaps helps ionize or electrify our upper air, could provide seeds for raindrop formation.

Four microphones inside the first moon will count these hits, broadcasting the interstellar score back to earth. Tiny ones won't puncture the shell. Two gas chambers in the moon will indicate any meteors that do puncture the shell.

Temperatures inside and outside the moon will be measured and reported. The moon will also tell about air density and shape of the earth.

The Group 2 moon will have different gizzards, rigged to count how many cosmic rays it runs into, and where. It will store the cosmic ray count on a miniature tape recorder, and broadcast the knowledge when it passes over strategically located receiving stations on the earth below.

(Tomorrow: A moon that wears a hat.)

Accused of Killing Classmate

Boy Always Carries Bible

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP)—What kind of boy is Ronald Marrone, the 18-year-old boy accused of slaying Ruth Starr Zeitler, a classmate?

He is the son of devout parents—parents so concerned with their children that they held a family prayer meeting asking that the girl's slayer be found.

★ ★ ★

He is a boy active in church life—a Bible-carrying youth who wanted to be a missionary, who sang in a church choir, who participated in a Bible club, who occasionally taught Sunday School in the Second Reformed Church, Lodi, and who went to hear Billy Graham in Madison Square Garden only hours after Ruth was strangled.

★ ★ ★

He is an athletic youngster—a member of the Fair Lawn High School track team, a golfer.

He is a son who had comradeship with his father—only last Saturday, after the girl's death, he played nine holes of golf with his dad, Paul Marrone Senior, 51.

He is a son whom his parents considered trustworthy, helpful and dutiful.

He is a polite, quiet boy, a bit slow in his schoolwork.

He is a youngster who once went hunting and, his father says, was so sensitive that he couldn't bring himself to shoot a bird or small animal.

He is a babysitter "who loved children," his father says. "He used to mind the neighbors' kids."

But the thin-faced youth with burning dark eyes also was a boy suspected of a personality quirk, according to police records.

★ ★ ★

He once was picked up and questioned in the molesting of two young girls. The charges were dismissed, although his father said the boy spent four or five weeks at the Menlo Park State Diagnostic Center.

Sunday he was accused of slaying Miss Zeitler. Authorities said he signed a statement admitting that he strangled the girl.

33 Complete YMCA Course in Lifesaving

Thirty-three persons have completed lifesaving courses offered by the Pontiac YMCA recently.

Twenty-eight passed senior lifesaving requirements and five passed junior lifesaving requisites.

The course, consisting of 16 hours of instruction, included personal safety, non-swimming and swimming assists, approaches and tows, defensive tactics, equipment rescues, resuscitative methods and other techniques. A written and practical examination completed the course.

YMCA leader-examiners Bernard Walters, Fred Honeycutt and Arthur Mann report graduates of the YMCA senior lifesaving course are "fully qualified to guard any waterfront beach, or swimming pool. The course is recognized nationally in the field of aquatics."

Catholic Women Attend Breakfast

Mrs. Clarence A. Chapman of Berkley was guest speaker at the May Breakfast sponsored by the League of Catholic Women. The annual breakfast was served Sunday following a Mass celebrated by the Rev. Thompson Marcero at St. Vincent de Paul Church.

Mrs. Chapman, past president of the National Council of Catholic Women, Northwestern Deanery, chose "Walking the Queen's Highway" as her topic.

She told of the obligation of Catholic laywomen to assist in Catholic action and public activities. She believes that ". . . patriotism and piety should be integrated into the daily lives of the Catholic woman."

Mrs. Arthur Crawford, president of the league gave the welcome at the affair held in the League Building.

Mrs. William B. Dean reported on the annual membership drive and Mrs. W. J. Hinds reported on the number of cancer pads made this past year by her committee.

A report was also heard from Mrs. Carl Brown, chairman of the Big Sister committee. She told of their visits to the Oakland County Convalescent Home. May Ann Englehard provided piano background music.

2 Sportswear Designers Win Top Awards for '57

Sydney Wragge, Bill Atkinson Named for Their Distinctive Creations

Sydney Wragge of B. H. Wragge and Bill Atkinson of Glen of Michigan last night were named winners of the American Sportswear Design Awards 1957.

★ ★ ★

Wragge joins the Sportswear hall of fame as winner of the sporting look award "to the women's sportswear designer, who by his or her creation of a distinctive mood has continuously contributed to the American sporting look."

Wragge's clothes are noted for their chiseled perfection, exquisite tailoring and absence of frills. He believes a woman's figure should be smartly revealed, never concealed, by what she wears.

Since he sees the American woman as an essentially outdoor type, he clothes her in good tweeds, fine prints and unusual colors.

Atkinson took top honors as the designer of the year, given "to the sportswear designer who, during the past year, has made the most significant contribution to American sportswear through a specific collection, ideal or innovation.

STYLES SEPARATES

Atkinson, famous as a designer of coordinated separates, was trained as an architect and he combines the precise standards of the building trades with a cracker-barrel atmosphere in his designs of women's clothes.

★ ★ ★

His man-tailored sports shorts, slacks, skirts, shirts are precision cut and finished and made of fabrics that wear well and are easy to care for.

A recent issue of Sports Illustrated said of his clothes: "They have a New England look about them, chiefly because of the quiet calico prints he likes to use, and a certain modesty in design.

Republican Club Hears Mr. Elliott

Arthur G. Elliott, newly elected chairman of Oakland County Republican Club, was speaker at the Monday meeting of Pontiac Republican Women's Club held at Adah Shelly Library.

★ ★ ★

"Volunteer political organizations that are in evidence at national campaign time have a tendency to disintegrate," the speaker stated.

"The zeal and enthusiasm which women's groups maintain for political work are the main contributing forces behind fine party programs. Thus, women represent a vital force in politics."

Plans were made for a tea on June 24 honoring former Congressman George A. Dondero. Sarah VanHoosen Jones will open her Rochester home for the affair.

★ ★ ★

Guests at the Monday meeting were Laura Hunter and Harriet Ratliff. Mrs. Frank MacGregor, Mrs. William Holthusen and Mrs. R. P. Olmstead served on the refreshment committee.

Examinations Held for Beta Sigma Phi

Mrs. Robert Dodd and Mrs. William Roualet, sponsors, conducted the examinations for Beta Sigma Phi sorority when members of Phi Alpha Kappa Chapter met recently at the home of Maureen Clark in Clarkston.

Plans were completed for a picnic and for the installation of officers to be held at the next meeting.

Alpha Sigma Nu Sorority Holds May Breakfast

Mrs. Howard Looney reviewed the history and activities of Alpha Sigma Nu Sorority at the May breakfast held Sunday at May Fair in Farmington.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Albert E. Kohn who also read selections from "Silver Strands" by Harry E. Brainard.

Arranging the annual affair were Mrs. Hazel Ellicott, Mrs. W. T. Huntley, Mrs. Floyd Compton and Mrs. Kohn.

Mrs. Robert Waugh, Howard Looney, Lamar Pepple, Iva Senters, T. P. Robertson and Albert E. Kohn were guests at the breakfast.

St. John Lutheran Ladies Aid Meets

Mrs. Hans Mickhelsen, Mrs. Thomas Casey and Mrs. John Berglund were hostesses at the recent luncheon meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of St. John Lutheran Church.

Plans were completed for a money-making project to be held June 8 and for a luncheon on June 27 with Mrs. Ercell Kohlhaas serving as general chairman.

Two Foods Called for in Salad

Mrs. Walls Softens Cheese With Juice From Canned Fruit

BY JANET ODELL

Frozen fruit salad is delicious to serve on warm days. This recipe from Mrs. Willard S. Walls of Dixie Lake is so simple that it can be made in a jiffy.

Mrs. Walls loves to garden and does all the work in her large yard. She is a devoted church worker, spending much time in Sunday School work. For a hobby she likes to do oil painting.

FROZEN FRUIT SALAD
By Mrs. Willard S. Walls

1 package (6 ounces) cream cheese
1 can (No. 2) fruit cocktail

Drain fruit cocktail and use some of the juice to soften the cream cheese. When it is of paste consistency, add the fruit. Pour into a refrigerator tray and freeze firm. Cut in squares and serve on lettuce. Serves 4 to 6.

Proteins Become More and More Important

Good Nutrition Will Prolong Youth

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Yesterday I wrote about nutrition and the terrific effect it can have on your looks, your health, your personality and your happiness — and this is an understatement.

What is known now about nutrition and the part it plays in our lives, and what they are learning every day are two of the most exciting things on the modern scene.

I wish that they had known 10 years ago what they know now! I would expect to be as young at 70 as I am at my age, which is quite a lot less than that. My only comfort is that I have taken advantage of what they knew, while they researched and I lived.

Actually the tenets of good nutrition are quite simple, as outlined by the government of the United States during the war. The emphasis in certain matters has changed some.

* * *

Proteins seem more and more important. The protein foods are meat, milk, eggs, fish, fowl, cheese, plus some important vegetable proteins. Of course for some time now vitamins have been dramatically emphasized, and with good reason.

You will get a lot of your essential vitamins in your protein foods, in whole grain products, in citrus fruits and fruit juices and in your fresh fruits and vegetables. The yellow and green leafy vegetables are highlighted and are beauty and health measures.

CUT FATS LOW

The trend also is to cut fats low in the diet. We need some fat but the average diet has too much. In fact you will have to resort to unusual measures if you eat a low-fat diet.

You will have to broil, bake or boil rather than fry foods. You will have to substitute fresh fruit for rich pastry, as a habit. You will learn to cook your vegetables without water or cook them dry—meaning that you do not pour all the vitamins down the sink, with the water you pour off.

I will bet that you don't want to be so extreme that you can never enjoy a gourmet's meal—with lovely sauces and whatever. I know I am not so extreme.

BUT as a general habit in your daily living you and I will receive great benefits from taking to our menus some of the things they now know about nutrition.

Tomorrow: "These Tricks for the Tall Girl De-emphasize Height."

Florida Trip Follows Lauer - Nichols Wedding

ROBERT G. WADDELL

Robert G. Waddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Waddell of Cherokee road, will graduate June 8 from Cranbrook School. He was a member of the Pre-med Club and the United World Federalists.

Elisabeth Anne Nichols and Robert Joseph Lauer exchanged their wedding vows at First Presbyterian Church, Ann Arbor. The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and Cupioni silk for the ceremony.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Studley Gray of Saline are parents of the bride, and Robert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Lauer of Bloomfield Hills.

Chantilly lace fashioned the bodice and a lace peplum on the full skirt of Cupioni silk which cascaded into a chapel train. A fingertip veil of illusion fell from her Juliette cap of lace. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis.

Coral gowns of nylon georgette were worn by Mrs. Samuel M. Gerber of Bound Brook, N.J., Mrs. Clarence E. Stephenson of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Ralph E. Hillman of Midland, sisters of the bride and Jane Marie Lauer of Bloomfield Hills, sister of the bridegroom.

Colin R. Fisher of Troy was best man and ushers were Clarence E. Stephenson of Ann Arbor, Frederick B. Johnson and Bruce A. McCormick of Blissfield.

Mrs. Gray wore gray nylon georgette with a corsage of rose cymbidium orchids for her daughter's May 18 wedding and Mrs. Lauer chose dark green nylon georgette with a corsage of mauve cymbidium orchids.

Following the reception held in the church parlors, the couple left for a Florida honeymoon.

For traveling, the bride changed to a navy and white gin check silk ensemble with red and white accessories.

First Methodist Church Circles Hold Meetings

Circles of First Methodist Church gathered during the week for business and social meetings. Mrs. George Hevel was hostess for a cooperative dinner held by members of Rhoda Circle.

Mrs. Perc Parson opened her home on Illinois avenue to members of Leah Circle for a cooperative luncheon meeting.

Members of Joanne Circle met at Hotel Waldron for luncheon, and Mary Circle gathered at the home of Mrs. LaVerne Cox on East Fourth avenue for an evening meeting.

Following luncheon at Devon Gables, members of Lois Circle held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. F. L. Ward on West Huron street.

Grief Brings Her Talent to Light

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Murder will out, as the old say-g goes, but I'm beginning to be-eve that talent will, too.

★ ★ ★

You can keep it hidden, or fail to se it—or, in some cases, just plain ot know you have it—but eventu-lly, it does come out.

I thought of that the other day when I was visiting a friend for the weekend.

We went to church on Sunday nd, after services, joined the con-regation for coffee and cakes in he fellowship hall downstairs.

★ ★ ★

Sveral ladies carried the re-reshments around on big trays, he prettiest you ever saw.

HARMING DESIGNS

They were oblong, about the size f those ordinary ugly tin trays ou usually see at such large func-ions or in big cafeterias. But these ere beautiful. They were painted n dark colors and had charming esigns.

★ ★ ★

Naturally, I asked about them nd heard an interesting story.

They were decorated by one of the church members, Mrs. F., a widow who had been left with a very small income.

"It was really very sad," my friend told me, "because she and her husband were very close. They never had any childrn.

★ ★ ★

"He was a teacher, so she devoted her time to helping him with his papers, and with a textbook he had written. They were together so much that his death was a terrible loss. It was months before she went anywhere.

VOLUNTER WORKER

"We all tried to get her interested in something. Finally she volunteered to help with the monthly church suppers.

"They're huge affairs, and we always need people to help serve refreshments. So she agreed.

"She was always very nice, but she was very shy. It was an effort for her to mix with the people and pass the rolls and coffee, but she persisted.

"One day," my friend concluded, "Mrs. F. called and asked me—she and I were always pretty friendly—if I thought it was alright for her to decorate the trays a little.

"She said they were so ugly that something should be done about them. I said I was sure the church would love it, but I remember wondering how in the world she planned to do it.

★ ★ ★

"She had read up on this subject, so she did a beautiful job on the trays. They were so lovely, in fact, that we all ordered some from her. And now the gift shop in town carries them, too.

SPECIAL ORDERS

"She'll make them to order in special designs—you know, a sketch of your pet dog, your house or a silhouette of a child.

★ ★ ★

"We were all so pleased and surprised—but, to tell you the truth, Mrs. F. was more surpsied at her talent than we were!"

Most of us have some hidden ability, just waiting to be evoked.

If you don't know what yours is, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press and I'll send you Pointers to Finding Your Basic Interest.

Awareness of Middle Age Strikes at Odd Moments

Woman Feels Her Years When Hubby Omits Whistle, Says She Looks 'Nice'

By RUTH MILLETT

A middle-aged woman doesn't feel her age all the time.

The awareness of being middle-aged strikes her at odd moments. Like —

When she goes shopping for a new dress for herself—and comes home with two for her teen-age daughter instead.

★ ★ ★

When her husband, who used to whistle when she came out dressed for a party, says with gentle courtesy about her newest cocktail dress, "It's a nice dress and you look nice in it."

When a pert, young beauty operator says, "You know you're getting quite a lot of gray in your hair."

When an eager saleswoman tries to sell her a hat on the plea that it is "youthful."

★ ★ ★

When she meets a friend she hasn't seen in 20 years and is startled by how old the friend looks.

HUNT FOR GLASSES

When she starts to thread a needle or look up a telephone number and has to hunt her glasses first.

When she goes to a dance and the young bandleader after taking a look at the crowd plays the popular songs of their youth.

When her children discover a picture of her taken at 18 and say incredulously: "Mom, is that really you?"

When she is hurrying through a store and catches a glimpse of a tired, middle-aged shopper and realizes she is looking in a mirror.

It is only at such odd moments as these that a middle-aged woman actually feels middle-aged.

Nice Girls Don't Park With Beaus

By EMILY POST

The first letter in today's mail explains: "I am the mother of two teenaged daughters and I don't mind telling you that it is no easy task bringing them up to behave properly when so many of their friends do all sorts of seemingly reckless things.

"For example, when I tell them that nice girls don't park and pet in dark cars, I am told that I am old-fashioned and that this behavior is generally accepted by the world of today. I am sure a word from you on the cheapness of this behavior will do more than anything I can say to them."

Answer: I agree with you 100 per cent. The really nicest, most highly thought of girls do not park in dark cars. Such behavior is very cheapening.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I bought a wedding present for a friend and as she received a duplicate, I suggested she change mine for something else, which she did. In its place she selected a much more expensive item. I would like to know if I am expected to pay the difference?"

Answer: No, you cannot be expected to pay more than the cost of the present you gave her. If the one she selected to replace it is more expensive, she is responsible for the difference.

Spring's the Time to Think of Barbecues

Sugar 'n' spice 'n' everything nice go into this good barbecue sauce recipe. Use it for your first-of-the-season barbecued chicken, whether you're cooking indoors or out. Combine 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed tomato soup, ¼ cup sweet pickle relish, ¼ cup chopped onion, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 1 tablespoon vinegar, and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce. Simmer until onions are cooked and flavors are blended. Makes about 1½ cups of sauce.

For barbecued chicken, brown 1 cut-up frying chicken (2 packages frozen chicken parts) in 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add the sauce ingredients; cover and simmer about 1 hour or until chicken is done. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

The only sure way to tell whether a steak is done is to cut a slit in it.

PINEAPPLE CHEESE BREAD — The combination of sharp cheese and crushed pineapple makes this quick bread one with a very special flavor. Making it is done in the same way as muffins. Like all quick breads, it tastes better and slices easier the second

Florida Oranges OK in Spring

Valencias, the seedless, sweet and juicy all-purpose Florida orange, and delicious late-season grapefruit, both so abundant and popular during the spring, are the victims of a trick of Mother Nature.

Weather conditions have caused citrus trees to speed up their production of green chlorophyll necessary to the development of next season's crop. The tree can't channel the chemical just to new leaves and limbs, so fully ripened fruit on the tree gets regreened. This process affects the skin only—the mature sweet fruit inside stays golden.

Oranges and grapefruit ripen completely on the tree and strict regulations prevent any unripe citrus from finding its way to market. Fruit purchased now has been ripening on the tree a year.

Florida's usually cheerful and sunny oranges and grapefruit are worried about their beauty marks. They know the regreening process is a sign of spring and new growth but they're afraid people will shun them because of their hue.

We want our play to have a happy ending and think it will. Since flavor, quality, and vitamin C content are not impaired by regreening, we're sure that once people are aware of nature's quirk and have tried the fruit donned in its spring finery, its popularity will continue to soar.

Lamb Can Be Company Fare

When was the last time you served lamb to your family and guests? If you are like most of us, it's probably been a long time. Except as chops, lamb just doesn't seem to get as much attention as beef, pork, and even veal.

★ ★ ★

Lamb, however, can be turned into a real dinner treat. For example, lamb shanks are economical, and combined with a flavorful sauce they will add zest and variety to your menu. Try this easy recipe for barbecued lamb shanks.

Barbecued Lamb Shanks

4 lamb shanks
2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup sliced onion
1 cup catsup
1 cup water
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
½ cup vinegar
¼ cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons dry mustard

Brown lamb shanks in shortening in a heavy skillet. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over lamb shanks. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) or simmer on top of range 1¾ hours or until tender.

★ ★ ★

Baste sauce over shanks two or three times during cooking period. Uncover and continue cooking for 15 minutes. Serve hot. Yield: 4 servings.

Spanish Soup Is Good Cold Fare

An icy soup is refreshing fare on a warm spring day.

Blend 3 tomatoes, 1 pimiento, 2 slices enriched yeast-raised bread, and 2 ounces olive oil in a food blender to smooth consistency. Add ice water to thin as desired. Season to taste with salt, pepper and lemon juice. Strain.

Rub chilled soup plates with garlic. Add soup and top with tiny croutons made by sauteeing small cubes of enriched yeast-raised bread in butter until browned.

Choose bottom or top round when you are planning to braise beef.

Loaf Combines Cheese, Fruit

Pineapple Cheese Bread is an "extra" that will fit into every eating occasion from lunch box to party fare. The ingredients in this brand new recipe are that popular salad combination of pineapple and cheese. Chopped walnuts give added good flavor and crunchiness.

Served morning, noon or night, Pineapple Cheese Bread will add a touch of eating luxury to the simplest of menus. It's extra good toasted for breakfast, delicious with a salad luncheon or a late snack after bridge or TV.

★ ★ ★

The technique for making Pineapple Cheese Bread is the same as for muffins. It's fast, sure in the making and stays delicious and moist for a long time.

Pineapple Cheese Bread

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 large egg
½ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
½ cup chopped walnuts

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt. Stir crushed pineapple and shortening into lightly beaten egg. Add dry mixture to egg and pineapple. Stir quickly until all is moistened. Lightly stir in cheese and walnuts.

Turn into greased loaf pan (9x5x3-inches). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 hour, or until browned and cooked completely through in the center. (Use 325 degrees F. for glass loaf pan.) Cool completely before cutting. Flavors are better next day.

The jumbo package of semi-sweet chocolate morsels (12 ounces) is enough for two batches or 100 chocolate chip cookies.

Rennet Desserts Help Regain Slim-Jane Lines

Imagine, dessert on your low calorie diet—not fruit—but a tasty milk dessert with a topping! You can do it when the dessert is a rennet-custard.

This light, nourishing dessert furnishes just about 100 calories, with topping. That's less than any starch thickened milk dessert or even a dish of ice cream.

You'll like rennet-custards — they taste so good. They're naturally sweetened and are delicate in texture (the rennet enzyme—not starch — thickens the milk). And, you have 7 wonderful flavors to choose from—that's real variety!

Keep this recipe handy and don't forget to try the toppings that are suggested.

'Skim' Rennet Custards

2 cups skim milk
1 package rennet powder

Set out 4 or 5 dessert dishes. Warm milk slowly to lukewarm, not hot (110 degrees). Test a drop from a spoon on inside of wrist as you would test milk in baby's bottle. Then remove from heat at once. Empty package contents into milk—stir until dissolved, not over 1 minute. Pour at once while still liquid. Let set undisturbed 10 minutes until firm. Then chill.

Just before serving, garnish with a small amount of one of the following toppings, depending on the dessert flavor: Multicolored sugar, grated nutmeg, unsweetened applesauce, banana slices, orange slices or peach slices.

To use nonfat dry milk, reconstitute as directed on package. If firmer dessert is desired, add 2-3 extra tablespoons milk powder.

Veal rump, loin and shoulder are all suitable for oven roasting.

Make Your Chef's Salad With Chicken or Turkey

Lunching in town? Chances are you'd order the chef's salad bowl, impressive with crisp fresh greens, tomatoes, cucumbers and big chunks of chicken or turkey. At home, such a salad is still a happy choice.

Make use of the canned boned chicken or turkey on your pantry shelf. Combine a can (5 ounces) of boned chicken or turkey with ¼ cup of tart French dressing. Allow to stand about 5 minutes. Then lightly toss with your other salad ingredients. For 4 servings, you might use half a head of iceberg lettuce (cut in bite-size pieces), half a cucumber (thinly sliced), one medium tomato (cut in bite-size pieces), and 4 slices of crisp bacon (crumbled). Season to taste with salt and black pepper. Makes 4 servings.

Cook rice in milk if you want it to be creamy and have extra nutrients. Nice served with thawed frozen raspberries.

Rich smooth scrambled eggs result when you add a couple of tablespoons of cream for each egg.

Bring on Hot Gingerbread, Crown With Applesauce

For gingerbread and applesauce is an old time dessert that still brings delight to man, woman and child . . . and probably always will. It's a dessert so homey and delicious it fits in anywhere . . . the children's lunch, family dinner, as a guest dessert, a late evening snack or between meal treat.

These days it is one of the easiest desserts to make. Simply use a mix to achieve gingerbread that does you proud—high, light and moist. For the applesauce all you need is a jar or can of your favorite brand, and know you can count on lively zest and good consistency.

Delicious variations on the gingerbread-applesauce theme are practically endless. Here, for instance, are six . . . and you can doubtless think of many others.

Gingerbread With Applesauce

Prepare gingerbread from your favorite gingerbread mix, according to directions on the package. Serve in any of the following six ways:

1. Gingerbread cooled topped with warm canned applesauce; or warm gingerbread with chilled applesauce.

2. Combine 2 cups canned applesauce, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind. Chill, spread over gingerbread squares, and top with hard sauce.

3. Blend crushed peppermint candies (or chocolate bits) into canned applesauce and spoon over warm gingerbread.

4. Whip ½ cup heavy cream, fold into 2 cups of sweetened canned applesauce. As an extra touch, if you wish, sprinkle this gingerbread topping with slivered almonds.

5. Combine canned applesauce and shredded moist coconut and serve over warm gingerbread.

6. Split squares of gingerbread. Spread lower half with nutmeg canned applesauce. Replace top and cover with applesauce. Finish with a flourish of whipped cream.

Chop, Cut, Shred: Job Is Easier If Tool Is Right

EAST LANSING — Cookies with that "added touch" need not be time-consuming. Here are some short cuts recommended by Michigan State University foods specialists.

Cut seedless raisins for full flavor and sweetness. Plump them by washing and spreading in a shallow pan; cover and heat in a 350 degree oven until they puff. Dip the grinder in hot water before grinding so the raisins won't stick.

To cut dates, figs, gumdrops and marshmallows, dip your scissors in hot water.

Snip long shreds of coconut with a scissors; short shreds seem to blend into the dough more easily. To tint coconut, soak in milk or water (half as much liquid as coconut) with a few drops of vegetable coloring. Drain on a paper towel.

A French knife is best for chopping nuts. Hold the point against the cutting board and chop crisply through the nuts, swinging the handle in a quarter circle. To sliver nuts, cut them with a very sharp knife while they are still moist and warm after blanching.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Rolled Lamb Breast.

Q. Where does it come from and how is it identified?

A. Comes from the breast section of the animal and contains alternating layers of fat and lean. After removing rib ends and breast bone, it is made into a small roll.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting or braising. It is roasted in a slow oven (300 degrees), allowing 30 to 35 minutes per pound; or it is braised slowly on top of the range for 1½ to 2½ hours.

Tabasco Enlivens Sauce

Among the green signs of Spring is fresh asparagus. And to make this vegetable even better, serve it with Quick Tabasco Hollandaise sauce. Combine until smooth ¼ cup evaporated milk, 1-3 cup mayonnaise, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon lemon or lime juice, and 1-16 teaspoon Tabasco. Heat gently, stirring constantly, but do not boil. This gives ½ cup sauce.

America's Leaders Are People Who Know

In government, in industry and business, the need for college-educated men and women is greater than ever before. Disciplined minds are our greatest asset in an increasingly complex world.

All of us have a vital stake in our colleges and universities. Today these institutions are doing their utmost to meet the growing demand for educated manpower. But they are handicapped by lack of funds.

More money is needed to expand facilities, bring faculty salaries up to an adequate standard and provide a sound education for the millions of young people who want and deserve it.

As a practical measure to protect your own future and the future of the nation, help the colleges or universities of your choice—now! The returns will be greater than you think.

If you want to know what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

HAWAIIAN PUNCH

An island boy refreshed himself with a fruit punch of the tropics. Travelers were enchanted with his taste-treat of Hawaii. Now your grocer features the very same refreshment—ready made. Rosy-red and fragrant as hibiscus in the moonlight, Hawaiian Punch will please you and you'll come back for more.

Blend Ice Cream, Juice and Sherbet for Punch

Punch recipes are more than ever in demand at this season when parties always call for a frosty beverage. To make a delicious punch for any festive occasion, try this:

In a large mixing bowl, place seven cups of chilled pineapple juice, one pint of orange sherbet and one and one-half pints of vanilla ice cream. With an electric or hand beater, beat until well blended. Pour into a punch bowl and gently stir in 3 cups of chilled ginger ale. (Makes 24 punch-cup servings.)

Braise Pork Chops

If you're going to pan-cook pork chops, braise them. This means the chops are browned, and then cooked covered with a small amount of liquid until tender . . . about 45 minutes to an hour depending on thickness of the chops.

About 250,000 persons in the U.S. process and deliver dairy products.

Molasses Makes Glaze

Apply a molasses-mustard glaze to cooked corned beef as a taste inspiration. Just combine equal parts of unsulphured molasses and prepared mustard (¼ cup of each) and brush on top of the cooked beef. Bake the meat a half hour in slow oven (325 degrees F.), brushing occasionally with remaining glaze.

Dust With Flavor Salt

Plentiful broilers are a must on any cook's Spring menus, whether they're broiled, fried or baked. To insure maximum natural flavor, regardless of how you cook them, shake MSG on flesh side of broilers and a little over the skin side 15 to 20 minutes before cooking. Allow one teaspoon MSG per chicken.

Mint Sauce Tops Pie

For a company dessert treat, fill a baked 9-inch pie shell (pastry or graham cracker) with a quart of vanilla ice cream and top with Minted Pineapple Sauce. To make sauce, combine one (9-oz.) can of pineapple tidbits, ½ cup light corn syrup, ¼ teaspoon of mint extract and 2 drops of green food coloring. Blend well. Chill. Makes 1½ cups of sauce.

Like generous helpings of vegetables? Buy a pound of potatoes for two servings; a pound and a half of green peas for two; a pound of spinach or tomatoes for two.

If white blouses could talk, they'd say—

ROMAN BLEACH is . . .

BEST for NYLON

WHITE NYLON, rayon, dacron lingerie and blouses are whiter white when you wash them with Roman Bleach. Roman Bleach is softized which makes it extra gentle on fine fabrics. Follow easy directions on the label.

ROMAN BLEACH gives extra benefits without extra work. It whitens, removes stains—and is sanitizes.

State's Urgent Problem

Group Would Study School Financing

(Editor's Note: This is the second of four articles on a study of school financing problems in Michigan.)

By HAROLD S. COHEN

Michigan's crazy quilt of school finances is long overdue for study and revision.

To this end, an Interim Committee made up of 20 representatives of the larger school districts in the state was formed in January, 1956 at Pontiac.

To head it, Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Pontiac School Board, was chosen.

Its function, as the committee itself has defined it, is to persuade the state legislature to appoint and finance a statewide committee of 70, representing top leaders in education, industry, labor, farming and other major segments.

2 PURPOSES

The larger committee would have two purposes:

1. To develop a program of state finance uniquely and flexibly suited to Michigan's changing educational needs.

2. To establish formulas simple enough to be understood by the taxpayers.

To do this job, the study committee would be given two years and a budget of roughly $300,000. With the money they would hire a director and a research staff and pay for expert consultants, office space, clerical help, business equipment and other expenses.

★ ★ ★

The committee itself would be broken down into seven subcommittees, each with an assigned area to cover. These are: Taxation, assessment, equalization, district organization, education program, physical plant, and state, intermediate and local control.

The study committee of 70 would be composed as follows:

Ten from business and industry, 10 from labor, 4 from county boards of supervisors, 10 from the Interim Committee, 4 from farm groups, 8 from the legislature, and 1 from the governor.

In addition, there would be 19 professional members from the state's colleges and universities, state superintendent's office, teacher's organizations, PTA, and related groups.

BALL ROLLING

To start the ball rolling, the Interim Committee has been at work for more than a year in drafting a booklet which sets forth in detail what the study committee is for, what it will do and how it will do it.

The Interim Committee has been negotiating with a small group of state senators to win recognition from the legislature.

To this purpose, Senators Behmel, Hutchinson, Andrews, Beadle and Porter have introduced a concurrent resolution in the Senate (No. 56) which would give official status to the Interim Committee and its project.

★ ★ ★

The resolution would establish a special committee of the legislature — four members from each house — with the following powers:

1. To designate a special agent to receive and spend gifts and donations to support the Interim Committee.

2. To appoint a study committee of up to 70 members and to work with the Interim Committee.

TAKE TESTIMONY

3. To subpoena witnesses and records and take testimony under oath from anyone involved in committee business.

★ ★ ★

The resolution also empowers the study committee to staff itself and do the needed research which will form a basis for a report on the schools to the legislature in 1959.

★ ★ ★

The range of this study committee would be enormous. Any investigation of the financing and operating of schools must, of necessity, lead to a questioning of the state's whole financial structure.

Republicans Seek to Restore Budget Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—With some promised help from Democrats, House Republican leaders sought today to restore about 323 million dollars of a 2½-billion-dollar cut in new defense appropriations.

That would give President Eisenhower a 25 per cent victory in his effort to add $1,200,000,000 to the amount recommended by the House Appropriations Committee. He said that amount of the slash would "cut directly into defense."

★ ★ ★

He has said the other $1,300,000,000 cut from his request represents only a bookkeeping operation, and his administration "will try to live with" it.

★ ★ ★

The GOP Policy Committee, composed of 30 of the party's top House members, agreed yesterday to back amendments adding the 323 million dollars. Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts predicted the drive would succeed if the party chiefs could woo some Democrats to their cause.

The amendments would give the Army an extra 98 million dollars, the Navy an extra 50 millions and the Air Force an additional 175 millions.

Some Republicans, Martin said, favored bigger increases while others wanted smaller restorations. He predicted that most, but not all, Republicans in the House would support the Policy Committee's position.

Some Democrats indicated they would go along with someofthe would go along with some of the Republican proposals. Among them was Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee.

But Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the Appropriations Committee told the House after the GOP meeting that "there's too much money in this bill and too much is being spent the wrong way." He was particularly critical of a 300-million-dollar allotment to start building an atomic-powered attack carrier which, Cannon contended, "wouldn't be afloat two hours after war was declared."

★ ★ ★

The committee, in recommending $33,541,225,000 for the Defense Department, cut $2,586,775,000 from Eisenhower requests.

★ ★ ★

If the House approves all the amendments recommended by the Republican committee, the Army would get $7,337,425,000 plus authority to transfer 400 million dollars from some of its unused balances; the Navy would receive $9,851,355,000, plus 190 millions in transferred funds, and the Air Force $15,976,720,000. That would leave these reductions from total funds requested by the President: Army $1,127,575,000, Navy $635,645,000, and Air Force $494,280,000.

Peter Townsend Mobbed in Japan by Bobbysoxers

TOKYO (INS) — Peter Townsend, Royal Air Force hero who wooed but lost British Princess Margaret, arrived in Tokyo Sunday night to find himself surrounded by a giggling mob of Japanese bobbysoxers.

★ ★ ★

Townsend, tall and tanned and a youthful-looking 41, autographed newspaper pictures of himself when they were presented by the girls but then cried:

"Let me alone so I can see Japan."

He said he plans to remain in Japan until June 6 and then will fly to Honolulu. He is on a world tour.

Missile Developed for Attack Planes

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Martin Co. announced today development of the Bullpup, a new air-to-surface missile designed for use by light attack planes against such targets as tanks and truck convoys.

★ ★ ★

Developed by Martin and the Navy, the Bullpup is about 11 feet long and weighs 600 pounds. It is to be suitable for both carrier-based Navy operations and shore-based Marine Corps use.

Vice Adm. William V. Davis Jr. deputy chief of naval operations for air, outlined development of the Bullpup today in a speech at Kansas City, Mo.

Rossellini to Be More Discreet

He'll Give Up Quarters Adjoining Mrs. Gupta While in India

BOMBAY (AP)—Roberto Rossellini and his pretty Bengali script writer reportedly have decided not to live so close to each other.

Count Vittorio Lavison, the Italian consul, indicated Rossellini plans to be more discreet in his relations with Mrs. Sonali Das Gupta, whose kin have been raising a cry over the reported romance.

As a start, Lavison hinted, they will give up their adjoining quarters in Bombay's Taj Mahal Hotel.

Lavison discounted reports the Italian producer, husband of actress Ingrid Bergman, has been given a week to get out of India.

"I expect Rossellini will complete his film shooting schedule before he leaves," he said.

Rossellini has gone to Poona to do some more documentary films for the Indian government. He has repeatedly insisted he and Sonali have only a business arrangement and has denied reports he plans to divorce Miss Bergman, who is in Paris.

A relative of Mrs. Das Gupta commented: "Rossellini led Sonali up the garden path and now probably will leave her in the lurch."

Sonali, 28-year-old mother of two, left home nearly a month ago to be near Rossellini. She asserted she would never return to her husband, Hari Das Gupta, an Indian movie director.

A spokesman for India's Home Ministry said the government is still debating whether it should extend Rossellini's visa so he can finish his film series.

Michigan Full of Contrast

By DENIS N. HAWKER
Visiting Australian Journalist

(Parts of this article are extracts from stories written for Australian newspapers on Michigan's north country.)

A great pile of more than 1,000,000 tons of concrete and steel . . . narrow ponds on which float each day thousands of tons of iron ore . . . a small piece of land on which the horse has defied this age of mechanization . . . a rolling countryside in some aspects similar to Australia, in others vastly different . . . a vast network of lakes and rivers . . . and roads choked with sport fishermen and tourists.

HAWKER

These are some of my impressions after an 800-mile trip through northern Michigan at the weekend.

MIGHTY BRIDGE

That pile of concrete and steel is the mighty Mackinac Bridge and the narrow ponds, the locks of the Soo — two of the man-made wonders of the world.

What the bridge will mean to Michigan is still a matter of contention. Its value will not be known until well after its scheduled opening day on November 1. But as a feat of bridge engineering it is probably unparalleled.

The importance of the St. Marys Falls Canal at Sault Ste. Marie to the nation's economy can be established by statistics which almost defy a visitor's comprehension.

IRON ORE

Eighty-five per cent of the nation's iron ore passes through these locks which have a freight tonnage during the eight-month season surpassing the combined totals of the Suez and Panama canals in a year.

These engineering projects epitomize modern America. Yet it is characteristic that within a few miles — on Mackinac Island — Americans have defied automation. It remaining one of the few places in the United States where the horse is king.

The contrast between the Mackinac Bridge project and the horse-drawn vehicles of Mackinac Island — only a few miles away — is striking.

SIMILAR TO AUSTRALIA

The rolling countryside has many similarities to parts of Australia.

But the smaller farms, the large barns, the greener pasture, and the almost total absence of sheep point to some of the rural differences.

Australian properties are much larger, farmhouses are farther apart, and large barns are unnecessary because stock runs in the open in the winter.

I did not see a rabbit in all the 800 miles and instead of kangaroos on the roadside, I saw deer.

One small animal — a porcupine — put on an impromptu performance for me by climbing a tree. Australia has porcupines, but they are smaller, with shorter legs and cannot climb, but they can burrow at great speed. They live on ants.

Beautiful northern Michigan must have been even more impressive in the days when tall timber grew in its forest land. The smaller second growth, only now coming into leaf, bears little resemblance to the big evergreen eucalypt trees growing in Australia's vast heavily timbered areas.

★ ★ ★

It is a surprise to learn that Michigan, whose name is world-known as an automobile producer, is nationally known as a tourist state. The aptness of the "Water Wonderland" title is apparent in the north.

Man and native have made Michigan a land of infinite variety.

Philadelphia Police Train 10 'Meter Maids'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A class of 10 women began training yesterday as "meter maids," with a police superintendent taking care of the legal instruction and a fashion expert on hand to provide the feminine touch.

★ ★ ★

The meter maids will go on duty next Monday enforcing the city's parking regulations. If the system works out as hoped, more will be hired, says Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons.

New Yorker Raised Status of Foot Treatment

Sprightly Doctor, 99, Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Maurice J. Lewi, 99, a sprightly physician devoted to cigars, whisky and the human foot, died yesterday at his hotel apartment.

Lewi was founder and president of the New York College of Podiatry. He was credited with almost singlehandedly raising podiatry — the treatment of foot ailments — to professional status.

Lewi had been confined to his apartment after suffering a broken arm last November. But he continued to run the affairs of the college.

Only last year he explained why he would not consider retirement.

"Who ever heard about anyone retiring at 98?" he asked. "It's too late for that."

PLAYED POKER

Even in his later years, Lewi continued his custom of staying up late, attending the theater and opera and playing poker with friends into the small hours of the morning.

He smoked 12 to 14 cigars a day until a doctor recently talked him into cutting down to 8. He drank whisky regularly. He once said with a twinkle in his blue eyes:

"I do as I please and I never waste energy resisting temptation."

Born in Albany, N. Y., Lewi received his medical degree from Albany Medical College. He first began thinking about feet and their ailments in 1876. His father had had foot trouble for years.

WINS APPROVAL

Lewi campaigned for establishment of podiatry courses in schools and colleges. He won approval of legislation licensing podiatrists.

He hammered away at the vanity which, he said, contributed to foot disorders affecting 75 per cent of Americans; fought against high heels, narrow shoes and ill-fitting stockings.

Lewi wore bulldog-toed, high-laced black boots all his life.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Leo Herz, New Rochelle, N. Y.; a sister, Miss Alice Lewi, Albany; three grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Fact Is, It's Hayfever Time

7 Million Sneeze, Sniffle — Gesundheit! No Joke!

NEW YORK (NEA) — For the seven million Americans who measure time in handkerchiefs, it's hayfever season again — and nothing to sneeze at.

★ ★ ★

Allergies, including hayfever, rank with heart disease and mental illness at the top of the nation's chronic ailment list.

★ ★ ★

But while most disease is seriously publicized, hayfever and its sufferers are taken with laughter amid the wheezing. Even the man behind the handkerchief isn't sure what it's all about. To wit:

Q. I didldt have this bess till I was 25. How cub?

★ ★ ★

A. According to the Aremican Foundation for Allergic Diseases, hayfever can spring up in anybody's life at any time. It seems to depend on whether there is a history of allergies in your family.

Q. Baybe it'll go away subtibe.

A. It can disappear. According to one of our leading allergists, Dr. A. H. Fineman, treatment can "make you practically well." Of course the allergy can reappear, perhaps in another form. Medicine makes no promise.

★ ★ ★

Q. No probise? Thed why bother to spend the budey?

A. Because uncontrolled hayfever can lead directly to asthma. At best asthma is debilitating. At worst it is fatal.

★ ★ ★

Q. Okay. What kide of treatbedt is there?

A. Sometimes it's simply a matter of removing the allergen. If you're allergic to cats, get rid of your cat. In one recorded instance, a fellow discovered it was his wife . . .

Q. Oh boy!

A. . . . using a certain kind of cosmetic. She had to change. But for hayfever sufferers, the villain is airborne pollen, dust or mold. The worst seasons for these folks are mid-May and mid-August to mid-September.

Q. That sounds like be.

A. For you there is a course of desensitizing injections—a series of shots to build your resistance to pollen and other allergens.

Q. I hate deedles. How about all those pills?

★ ★ ★

A. They're effective, too, up to a point. You see, medicine does not know exactly what causes hayfever. Doctors assume it is the reaction between the pollen and your own anti-bodies that secrete something which produces the irritating symptoms.

Q. Dever bide that. What about the pills?

A. There are several kinds of pills. The most commonly known are the anti-histamines which seem to neutralize the secretion. In addition to the hazardous side-effects they may produce (like drowsiness), they tend to build a tolerance to themselves in your body, according to a leading endocrinologist. It is for this reason you find an anti-histamine Pyribenzamine being made today with a stimulant added.

★ ★ ★

But the best solution of all is an ocean voyage from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15. There's no pollen at sea.

Q. You're a real cobedlad.

Says Clean H-Bomb Can't Be Achieved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee was told yesterday by Alvin C. Graves, the scientist who bosses U.S. weapons testing, that there is no such thing as a "clean" hydrogen bomb.

This is scientific slang for a bomb that would produce no potentially harmful radioactive substances to circulate in the air and sooner or later fall to earth. President Eisenhower and others have spoken of progress toward a clean bomb.

Graves said "cleaner" might be a more accurate word.

He said he has received probably a greater dose of radiation than anyone now living in the United States. But he added he has recovered from ill effects and fathered two children who he said show no signs of having been adversely affected by his exposure.

Graves referred to an accident in the Los Alamos, N.M. laboratory in 1946 in which a coworker was fatally injured and seven other persons, including himself, were exposed to radiation.

McKeldin Back After 5 Weeks in Europe, Africa

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland returned home yesterday from a five-week trip to Europe and Africa.

While in Africa, McKeldin received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the University of Liberia and a decoration from the Liberian government.

"I also was made a chief of the Hedo Hodo tribe, which entitles me to 100 wives," the governor said. "I don't know what I'm going to do about that."

Editor on Probation for Attacking Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Russell J. Burton, story editor for a Hollywood studio, has been placed on probation five years for an assault on his former wife, Pamela Joan Burton.

★ ★ ★

Burton, 36, was arrested in West Los Angeles last Jan. 13 after assertedly trying to stab his 26-year-old wife with a screwdriver and to hold her in a gutter filled with rain water. Mrs. Burton, daughter of writer F. Hugh Herbert, subsequently got their marriage annulled.

Judge Allen T. Lynch ordered Burton to pay a $400 fine as a condition of his probation, to compensate his ex-wife for injuries suffered in the attack and to submit to psychiatric treatment.

Bob Considine Says:

Ike, Wainwright Snap Back Like Generals

NEW YORK (INS)—The manner in which the President suddenly remembered he was a general, and began telling Congress and the rest of us what must be done about the budget, instead of benignly asking us, recalls an episode in the post-war life of Gen. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright.

"Call me Skinny and I'll call you Bob," Wainwright said the day we started his book of reminiscences about Bataan, Corregidor, Gen. MacArthur's departure, his surrender, terrible captivity, and release. "It'll save a lot of formal fol-de-rol," suggested the wonderful old cavalryman with an informal wave of the arm.

So it was Skinny and Bob, and things couldn't have been easier in the name-calling line until a couple of weeks later Skinny got around to the point that the King Features Syndicate articles and the book depend on—the beatings he suffered at the hands of his captors.

"It started one night when I had to go to the latrine," old Skinny said, beginning to shake a little at the memory as we sat with him on his porch at Ashland (W. Va.) General Hospital—which had been and since is Greenbrier. "As I walked back to the plank that was my bed a young Japanese sentry beckoned to me to come over to him. I did so. I didn't have a hat on so couldn't salute him, as was the rule. So I bowed, as I had to."

'HE SLAPPED ME'

"As I straightened up after the bow he suddenly slapped me in the face with his open hand, as hard as he could swing. I'm a man who stands six-three, but with beri-beri and plain starvation I was down to just over 120 pounds.

"The slap rocked me, but I was determined not to fall in front of that fellow. He hit me four more times. And when I remained standing he closed his fist and hit me on the jaw. I fell at his feet, and if I live to be a thousand years old I'll never have a lower moment."

We wept silently as he haltingly told the story. In the unbearable silence that followed, I said, "Dear Lord, dear Lord, that's terrible, Skinny."

HAD CHANGED

Wainwright suddenly had changed, as, let us say, Gen. Eisenhower has changed.

He had been slouching informally in his chair as he talked. Now he sat up with his back as straight as a sword. He took a fresh handkerchief from his shirt pocket, dusted his tears, blew a thunderous blast through his nose.

"Mr. Considine," said the man who had insisted on "Bob," and on his own nickname, "I'll tell you what went through my mind as I lay there in the dirt." His voice had changed, and now it was the voice he had learned at West Point and the voice of command which had kept men fighting against overwhelming odds. "I'll tell you what went through my mind," he repeated. "A private should never strike a general."

"You bet your sweet life, General, sir," I said, impressed by the ring of authority that had taken hold of him.

On some points, at least, Congress seems to be saying the same thing, after calling him Ike and carrying familiarity to the point of rebellion if not contempt.

OLDEST U. S. SENATOR — Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) poses with a cake in his Capitol Hill office as he marks the occasion of becoming the oldest man ever to serve in the U. S. Congress. Turning 89 years, 7 months and 26 days in age, Green topped the record held by Rep. Charles M. Stedman of North Carolina who died in office on Sept. 23, 1930. Sen. Green hopes to be serving in the Senate at age 100.

State Bill to Aid 6-County Group

Governor Due to Sign Measure Allowing Area Unit to Receive Grants

Gov. Williams is expected soon to sign into effect legislation that would be a financial boon to the Supervisors Inter-County Committee.

It would specifically authorize the six-county group to receive funds and grants from individuals, foundations and the state.

"We have been legally receiving funds in the past, but this bill would spell out our right to do so," explained Gerard A. Pochman, executive secretary.

As a result, he said, the agency would be more attractive to contributors.

The inter-county committee is the first in the state and is made up of representatives from Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe Counties.

Other counties would be authorized by the bill to associate together on problems of mutual interest.

Seven members of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors are on the committee. Two new members this year are Fred W. Smith of Royal Oak, who is assigned to the recreation of subcommittee, and John G. Semann of Berkley, sewage and waste disposal subcommittee.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, has been re-elected vice chairman of the inter-county group.

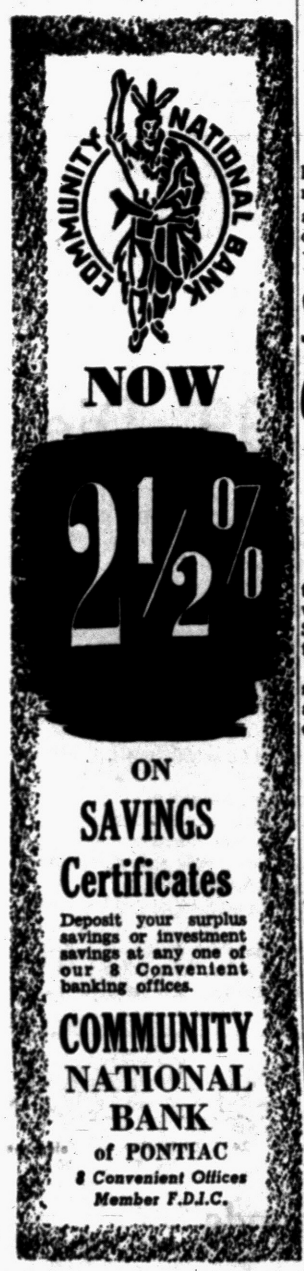

Others serving are David Levinson, of Birmingham, chairman of Oakland's inter-county relations committee; Howard K. Kelley, of Royal Oak, water subcommittee; Hiland M. Thatcher, of West Bloomfield Township, roads; and W. Raymond Ransom, of Pontiac, ports.

Sentenced to 9 Days

Stewart A. Bost, 9595 Rustic Circle, was ordered committed to the Oakland County Jail for nine days yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum after pleading guilty to a charge of driving a motorcycle recklessly. He failed to pay a $35 fine.

About 2,000 tons of ore must be processed to produce 27 tons of nickel.

Low first cost with concrete

To take full advantage of the Federal aid road bargain for the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways, the pavement must be superior concrete . . . which usually costs no more to build.

Don't be misled. Where lower cost is reported for other pavement, it was designed for lighter loads and shorter life, or extra cost of subbase preparation was not reported in the paving cost.

Wet or dry, concrete highways are safer: The gritty surface helps prevent skids, gives better traction. Concrete means easier driving, too, because its smooth surface eliminates jarring bumps and dangerous ruts.

Ford's Lady Flies Away but Film Doesn't Show It

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Yes, that's just how it happened," said Jack Ford, who is technical adviser on the film, "The Lady Takes A Flyer," based on his own experiences.

Jeff Chandler and Lana Turner play a married couple who operate a plane delivery service, flying aircraft to all parts of the world. The conflict arises when she has a baby and decides she wants to settle down as a housewife. The picture ends with the issue left up to the audience.

With Jack Ford and his wife, the dispute ended in divorce.

★ ★ ★

"We never had a fight," he declared. "We just split up over the one issue. She wanted to be a mother and make a home. I thought she should be a flier. We couldn't resolve it, so she got a divorce two years ago."

★ ★ ★

Jack is a dark-haired, handsome pipe smoker who looks younger than his 39 years. He grew up in Los Angeles, where his father was superintendent of schools, with a passion for flying. He started flying in 1936 and flew in the service during the war.

With his wife, who had flown transatlantic deliveries during the war, he founded an aircraft delivery service. Their marriage went smoothly for a few years, though they were often at opposite ends of the world.

★ ★ ★

Then the baby came. Mrs. Ford paled on the international gadding-about and sought the home life. That's when their marriage conked out.

★ ★ ★

Jack is still sold on the business.

"If you like to get around and see places, this is the life," he said.

"For instance, we might have to send a crew to Toronto to make a plane delivery to Australia," he cited. "It would be too expensive to ship the crew right home again. So maybe they'd take a plane from Australia to Algiers. Then they might make a delivery to Italy and then to Denmark.

"It might be five months before they get home again. But think of the places they have seen!"

Salathiel Honored by Waterford High; Elkins Cited as Journalist

For the first time in the history of Waterford High School, a senior took both top honors in the annual honors convocation assembly.

Accepting an award as Outstanding Senior Citizen and the Andrew Miceli Outstanding Senior Athlete award was Lyndon Salathiel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel, 534 South Shore Drive.

Chosen as outstanding senior journalist was Jean Marie Elkins, 1886 Elsmere St., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elkins.

Barbara Hutchings, daughter of Mrs. Margery Hutchings, 27 Ramona Terrace, received a Junior Chamber of Commerce scholarship and recognition for outstanding achievements in speech.

SPEECH HIGHLIGHT

Another highlight of the program was the speech "Optimism—The Indispensable Asset" by Ronald Shelp, state winner of the Optimist contest.

Awards and recognition were also given for students who won scholarships, who had been on the honor roll every marking period, and who had participated in debate, speech, band, vocal music, journalism, cheerleading or sports.

Those who had helped as hall monitors, or assistant librarians, with staging and lighting, and with audio-visual aids were also given recognition.

Senate to Vote on Housing Bill

Bipartisan Compromise Seen as Large Slash Appears Unlikely

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate starts voting today on the omnibus 1957 housing bill with both Democrats and Republicans predicting a compromise measure will result.

* * *

Some Republicans and a few Democrats planned to join in an effort to cut the $2,850,000,000 total down to the $1,025,000,000 asked by President Eisenhower in his fiscal 1958 budget for housing.

But this move, sponsored by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and backed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va), appeared likely to be stalled by a bipartisan compromise drive.

Under the proposed compromise the bill sent to the floor by the Banking Committee would be cut back in some respects, liberalized in others.

Leaders hoped to get the bill passed by the Senate tonight and into conference with the House, which already has acted on its version of the annual housing legislation.

Sheep Bears 6 Lambs

DARTMOUTH, England (AP) — A sheep gave birth to six lambs on a farm at Blackawton, near Dartmouth, England—believed to be the biggest multiple birth recorded for sheep. Three of the lambs were born dead. The three others and the ewe are reported "doing fine."

Maples' 378 Wins Press Tournament

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac Press 6th Invitational Golf tournament championship yesterday was returned to Birmingham, for the 4th time.

The sharp-shooting Maple contingent turned in a record 378 medal card to spread-eagle the field of a dozen schools. Pontiac surprised even its coach, Johnny Maturo, with a good 2nd place 398. Royal Oak was 3rd and the defending champions, Waterford finished away down, just back of Holly, with 464.

Battling chilly temperatures and early rain squalls, Carl Lemle's squad played consistently with all but one member of the team under 80.

Pete Green led the winners with a 2-over par 71. Able assistance was provided by Pete Jackson and Mike Conroy's 74, Warren Sumner's 79 and Ted Murray's 80.

While the Maples were taking all Class A honors (Green was tourney and Class A medalist), St. Frederick's Dick Kast stole the show with an ace on No. 11 (No. 2 on the South nine of the Municipal Course).

Dick was in a threesome with Green, and Kinney of Holly. He banged a four-iron shot to the carpet and the ball made a bee-line for the cup. The hole is a 219-yard, par 3.

The hole-in-one is the first in the six years of the tournament. It was the 2nd ace for Kast, who holed out a tee shot four years ago. The one-shotter helped give Dick a 36 for the round, 79 for the 18 holes.

Bloomfield Hills, paced by Bud Badger as B-C medalist led the Class B group with 449. Badger compiled a 77.

Threat of bad weather kept Brighton's team at home.

Birmingham will have possession for the next year of the handsome rotating championship trophy. A fine plaque was also awarded as a permanent trophy for the new champions. Medals went to Green and Badger, and each member of the title-winning team will receive medals.

Here's how the teams finished:

CLASS A—Birmingham 378; Pontiac 398; Royal Oak 408; Waterford 464.

CLASS B—Bloomfield Hills 449; Royal Oak Shrine 450; Holly 462; Clawson 469; Rochester 477; Fitzgerald 490; Avondale 538.

CLASS C—St. Frederick (only C entry), 451, would be 3rd in B-C classification.

Medalist Cards:

PAR OUT	434	433	445—34
Green out	433	544	435—37
Badger out	444	444	557—41
PAR IN	334	354	544—35-80
Green in	334	353	544—34-71
Badger in	344	354	644—36-77

Championship team cards—(Birmingham)—Green 37-34—71, Pete Jackson 35-39—74, Mike Conroy 38-36—74, Ted Murray 41-39—80, Warren Sumner 39-40—79, total 378.

Other team cards:

Pontiac—Dick Whitmer 37-42—79, Jerry Martin 38-44—82, Dick Singleton 45-43—88 Sam Coleman 39-37—76, Nick Shorter 36-37—74; Royal Oak—Don Ross 40-41-81, Dick Calihan 42-42—84, Rick Bere 39-42—81, Dallas Allen 42-39—81, Larry White 38-43—81; Waterford—Dennis Alden 54-46—100, James Devine 53-49—102, Doug Hales 46-43—89, Chuck Canterbury 39-46—85, Dick Shell 47-47—94; Bloomfield Hills—Bud Badger 41-36—77, Jim Fuller 48-46—85, Jim Kearney 48-45—93, Bryant Ewing 49-46—95, Bob Thompson 45-44—89; Shrine — Colin Campbell 45-39—84, Frank Byron 46-45—91, John Howting 43-46—89, Pete Plajole 45-44—89, Ed Dupke 45-42—87.

Holly—Darrel Kinney 49-39—88, Glenn Gormett 44-46—90, Rollie Harmes 39-42—81, Melvin Kramer 53-44—97, Tom Hadley 58-51—109; Clawson—Russ Porteus 41-38—79, Larry Lomakos 50-49—99, Bob McKee 45-52—97, Victor Cencich 58-51—109, Dale Hill 44-41—85; Rochester—Tom Leach 51-49—100, Larry Beaupre 43-39—82, Terry Stone 54-54—108, Tom Moorehead 47-42—89, Grahame Hartung 50-48—98; Fitzgerald—Don Inda 50-46—96, Ron LaVerne 53-47—99, Bill Piashnik 44-42—86, Jerry Sheysekich 48-50—98, Bob Collins 51-50—101; Avondale—Terry Van Orman 72-51—123, Ernie Farrar 46-44—90, Tom Greenless 63-55—118, Fred Hyten 52-47—109, Charles Denison 50-48—98; St. Frederick—Ed Kast 41-40—81, Joe Keller 43-41—84, Dick Kast 43-36—79, Chuck Deschaine 47-53—89, Frank Palopoli 56-57—113.

FIRST TOURNEY ACE — Here's Dick Kast, St. Frederick high golfer, showing how he carded the first hole-in-one in the Pontiac Press Invitational golf tourney. Kast's ace came on the South nine's 2nd hole, as Dick began his final round. It helped give him a 36 for the round and a 18-hole total of 79. Flag shows the hole as No. 11, a 213-yard par three.

FOUR TIME WINNERS — A well-balanced Birmingham high golf team yesterday afternoon emerged a four-time winner in the Pontiac Press Prep Invitational golf tourney. Paced by Pete Green's 2-over par 71, Carl Lemle's team fired a winning 378 over Pontiac Municipal Golf Course. PHS Chiefs were runnersup with 398. Birmingham also won this tourney in 1953-54-55. A meeting pertaining to Junior and Little League softball in Waterford Township is scheduled tonight by the Waterford Township Recreation Department at the Community Center at 7:30. All prospective managers and coaches are invited to attend.

★ ★ ★

The women's City League softball team previously known as GMC will be called the West Side Merchants from now on. GMC is not sponsoring any city league softball or baseball team this year. The Birmingham team, captained by Roger Reynolds, is still looking for a sponsor.

★ ★ ★

Today's City League baseball game between Griff's Grill and the Michigan Giants will be played at Jaycee Park instead of Wisner Field. Pontiac High is using the Wisner diamond at the 5:30 p.m. starting time.

★ ★ ★

Six golf tournaments have been scheduled this summer at City Municipal Golf Course by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department. The men's 18-hole best-ball journey on June 15 opens the slate.

★ ★ ★

One of the outstanding prep pitching performances turned in around this area this spring was a no-hitter by Lakeville's Don Creger over Lapeer. He fanned 20 of a possible 21 batters and batted in one of his team's two runs. The only other out was an infield pop-up. Two men reached base on walks and another on an error.

★ ★ ★

In setting a new Interstate League and Cranbrook record in the 880 recently, Crane Fred Lavery broke a mark that had stood since 1939. The best previous time had been 2:08.3 set by Ron Estes, also of Cranbrook. Lavery covered the course in 2:01.9.

★ ★ ★

Johnny Walker has become the 1st Walled Lake High athlete to be selected the outstanding senior by the faculty and the top athlete by the coaches in the same year. The Boston native was presented a watch by that city's Rotary Club for his accomplishments. He has starred in football, basketball and baseball, served as president of his class and the Inter-Lakes Student Council, and has been a steady member of the honor roll.

★ ★ ★

Opponents of the New York football Giants will be happy to know that Roosevelt Grier, six-foot-five, 261-pound all-league tackle is in military service.

★ ★ ★

Sonny Grandelius (MSU) and "Bumps" Elliott (U. of M.) will speak on football, Joel Mason (Wayne) will discuss basketball and Elmer Swanson (U. of M.) is scheduled to talk about track as guests of the Farmington High all sports banquet tonight.

★ ★ ★

Kahla Key won the feature $2,500 free-for-all trot and Shanraven took the $1,800 feature B pace at Northville Downs last night. Kahla Key paid $3.00 to win. Shanraven paid $6.20.

★ ★ ★

Three former Lapeer County prep pitching stars have been doing well in college ball this spring. Leroy Millis of Lapeer has won some low-hit contests for Central Michigan, Fran Reagan has been the ace of the U. of Detroit staff and North Branch's Dick Griffin has been the Michigan State relief specialist. Dick's best effort was a 4-3 triumph over Notre Dame. His brother Jack is an outfielder on the Spartan Frosh nine.

Herb Score Leaves Hospital for Rest

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pitcher Herb Score, who suffered an eye injury when hit by a line drive, leaves Lakeside Hospital today and will go to the home of an uncle in Hagerstown, Md., for further recuperation.

★ ★ ★

The uncle, Arthur Flood, is sending a plane here to take the Cleveland Indians' million-dollar southpaw to Maryland.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Charles Thomas, Cleveland eye specialist, says he is pleased the way the pitcher's injured eye has been mending but it will be some time before the exact extent of the effect on Score's vision, if any, is known. The damage was diagnosed as a swollen retina.

SEEKS QUEEN ROLE — Pontiac's candidate for the role of state roller skating championships queen is personable Sharon Moore, 17, above. Sharon is a St. Michael student. She will represent Rolladium rink, site of the big tourney, starting Wednesday and running through Sunday. More than 500 entries are expected.

Exhibition for Lions

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions will meet the Pittsburgh Steelers in an exhibition game in Buffalo, Sept. 8, prior to the opening of the National Football League season.

The 1957 Michigan State Relays attracted more than 300 athletes from 19 colleges and universities.

Coach Aims for Season's Sweep

NEW YORK (AP)—Cornell's Stork Sanford is only one victory away from his first unbeaten season in 21 years and he wants to complete the sweep the hard way—against Washington's all-winning Huskies in the Intercollegiate Rowing Assn. championships, June 22.

"I certainly hope that the NCAA will reconsider and let Washington come east," said the towering coach, a Washington alumnus. "Without them it takes interest away from the IRA."

★ ★ ★

Cornell and Washington are the only remaining unbeaten eights in the country. Cornell has whipped all of the Eastern IRA entrants, some several times. Washington has cleaned up the West Coast.

Tee Shot Is Male Edge

NEW YORK (AP)—The only advantage a top man golfer has over a top woman golfer, says fetching Marlene Bauer Hagge, is a booming shot off the tee.

"Give me a fairway lie adjacent to that of Ben Hogan or Cary Middlecoff and I think I can play them even to the green and into the cup," said the 23-year-old queen of the lady links pros.

"I am not speaking just for myself. I think once you take out the tee shot, on which most men are about 30 yards longer, the ladies play just as good, if not better, golf.

"In fact, I think women are better at chipping and putting because, lacking power, they're constantly having to get down in two from off the green."

Marlene, now playing for the River Lake Club in Dallas, Tex., was a brief visitor in town yesterday en route to the women's round robin tournament at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club in Virginia Beach, Va., starting Wednesday.

Marlene, winner of eight tournaments and top prize money among the ladies last year, said Hogan always had been a sort of ideal to her since she started swinging a club at the age of six. She'd dearly love to test her man-versus-woman theory in an actual match.

Jeffcoat, Logan Deny Any Blows Landed in Fight

MILWAUKEE (AP)—To hear the players tell it, last night's fight between Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves and Hal Jeffcoat of Cincinnati was a typical baseball brawl — no punches were thrown.

Only Manager Birdie Tebbetts of Cincinnati would say he saw a punch land in the 10th inning of the Redlegs-Braves' game.

The two combatants and those nearest the point of contact, third base, didn't feel or see any flailing fists. They apparently remembered that the National League office looks askance at this sort of thing.

Indy Drivers Hunt 'Grooves'

Take Final Practice Laps

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Drivers ran carburetion tests and sought the "grooves" at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway today in final practice laps before the 500-mile race on Memorial Day.

★ ★ ★

The two-and-one-half-mile track will be closed for cleaning tomorrow. Thirty-three cars will roar into a flying start of the long race Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Co-favorites among the men who ought to know are Troy Ruttman, Lynwood, Calif., 1952 winner, and Pat O'Connor, North Vernon, Ind. They received four votes each last night in a poll of members in the Champion 100 Mile an Hour Club.

The club is composed of drivers who have finished the "500" at average speeds of 100 miles an hour or more.

★ ★ ★

The drivers cast two votes each for Sam Hanks, Pacific Palisades, Calif.; Jimmy Bryan, Phoenix, Ariz., and Johnny Thomson, Boyertown, Ohio; one vote each to Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., Jim Rathmann, Miami, Jimmy Daywalt, Indianapolis, Roger Ward, Los Angeles, Red Agabashian, Walnut Creek, Calif., and Andy Linden, Indianapolis.

★ ★ ★

Three drivers who qualified for the club in last year's race were inducted into the club. They were Dick Rathmann, Trenton, N.Y., fifth; Bob Veith, Oakland, Calif., seventh and "rookie of the year," and Ward, eighth.

The club has 48 living members. Thirty others have died, mostly in racing accidents. Sixteen of Thursday's 33 starters are club members.

★ ★ ★

The club presented a plaque to Gene "Stony" Stonecipher of Perfect Circle Corp., Hagerstown, Ind., for the greatest contribution to racing during the past year.

Bethea Earns Split Verdict

NEW YORK (AP) — If Wayne Bethea's punch was half as strong as his chin, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson would have plenty to worry about.

★ ★ ★

The New York truck loader sampled Paul Andrews' hardest wallops — and the Buffalo longshoreman can clout with the best—and came on to gain a split decision in a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena last night.

★ ★ ★

Bethea, 24, who has never been stopped, was staggered in the second and seventh rounds but came raging back each time.

The chunky New Yorker, using his 11-pound weight edge— 201½ to 190¼ — to good advantage, wore down the thin-legged, 6-13 Andrews with his swarming attack.

Alma 9 Loses on Eve of NCAA Tournament

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Alma lost its second baseball game of the season 5-3 to the University of Detroit yesterday on the eve of the district 4 NCAA playoffs.

★ ★ ★

Alma was to meet Notre Dame today in the opener of the double elimination tourney.

The Scots defeat in yesterday's windup of regular season play left them with a 15-4 record.

Other teams competing in today's playoffs at Western Michigan University are Northwestern, the Big Ten champion and Western Michigan, Mid-American Conference champion.

Healey Named Coach of NYU Track Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph F. Healey, assistant coach since 1948, was named head track and field coach at New York University today to succeed Emil Von Elling.

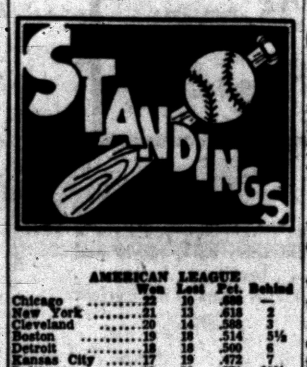

★ ★ ★

Von Elling, who served in the post for 44 years, retires Aug. 31. The announcement was made by Victor Obeck, athletic director, at the weekly track writers' luncheon.

$250,000 Soccer Player

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The River Platte soccer team champion of Argentina — today sold star left inside forward Enrique Omar Sivori to Juventus of Italy for $250,000, the highest price in history for a soccer player.

In addition, Juventus will have to pay Sivori $50,000 personally.

ANNE: It certainly is beautiful . . . from any angle!

BETTY: But what I like best is the wonderful feeling I get when I'm driving. Heavenly comfort! And the things they're doing with colors and fabrics these days! Honestly, I feel just like a queen!

ANNE: You should! I'm not trying to pry, but I'll bet it cost a king's ransom.

BETTY: Wouldn't you be surprised! It cost a lot less than we expected. And, Ed says it will cost less in the long run, too, because an Olds holds its value.

ANNE: Leave it to you to have your cake and eat it, too!

BETTY: And why not? Ed, bless his practical streak, wanted an Olds for its extra value and the Rocket Engine. So, who am I to say "no" to the prettiest thing on wheels? You ought to pass the word along to John!

Press to Conduct Poll for 1957 All-Star Game

Sports fans in the Pontiac area will have the opportunity this year to vote for the 1957 American and National League All-Star teams.

The Pontiac Press will conduct the local poll and tabulate area ballots for Major League Commissioner Ford Frick.

Voting will be done nationally by the sports fans for all positions on both all-star teams except for the pitchers who will be chosen by the All-Star game managers.

Balloting will begin next Monday, June 3rd, and votes must be submitted on the ballot which will be printed in the Press.

All ballots must be in to the Press sports department by noon Tuesday, June 25th, so as to report final tabulations to the commissioner's office by June 27th.

The 1957 All-Star game will be played July 9th in St. Louis.

Tigers Snap Slump to Win, 11-5

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Hit Famine Ends as Key Players Batter Indians

Foytack Relief Victor Despite 2 Wertz HR's; Tighe, House Ejected

DETROIT (AP) — The long-sleeping Detroit Tiger bats have come into at least a temporary awakening.

The four players charged with the heavy responsibilities of the Tiger hitting attack played a vital part in last night's 11-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians before 24,862 chilled spectators at Briggs Stadium.

The club's four .300 hitters of 1956—Harvey Kuenn, Charlie Maxwell, Al Kaline and Ray Boone—finally got together in a combined assault that paid off in the victory that left the Tigers only one-half game out of the American League's 1st division.

Kuenn broke an 0-or-23 batting slump with two ringing singles in his first two turns. He scored the Tigers' first run and batted in the second.

★ ★ ★

Maxwell drove in a pair of runs with a double and a triple and scored two others. Kaline started the Tigers' winning rally with a seventh inning double and batted in a run. Boone, switching to third base for the first time this season, was nothing short of spectacular afield and was even more of an asset at the plate. The 33-year-old veteran had a three-run home run and a single in four official trips and scored two runs.

Even another shabby pitching performance by 21-game winner Frank Lary and the club's first heave-hos of the campaign didn't dim the victory. Lary lasted less than six innings, allowing six hits and three runs. And manager Jack Tighe and catcher Frank House were ejected by plate umpire John Rice for protesting a pitch to Indian pinch hitter Eddie Robinson in the seventh inning.

Tighe and House objected, though in more elaborate terms than will be noted here, to the umpire's call. It must be said in Rice's defense that he ejected both House and the manager with a minimum of haggling.

The Tigers won because Early Wynn, a 20-game winner last year for the Indians as a starter, was erratic as a reliefer.

Wynn worked only one inning—the seventh—and came in with the clubs tied 5-5. After retiring two batters, Wynn gave up a double to Kaline and three walks—then a bunt single to Frank Bolling and a two-run single to Paul Foytack, currently the best-hitting pitcher in the major league.

That made it 9-5 but the Tigers added two more in the eighth on a double by Earl Torgeson, a triple by Maxwell and Kaline's sacrifice fly.

Cincy Plays Like Champ

Redlegs Down Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winning on the road and hanging on to pocket extra-inning games may not guarantee Cincinnati a pennant—but it doesn't figure to hurt the Redlegs any, either.

The Redlegs, looking more and more like champs, combined those two knacks to finally knock off Milwaukee's slipping Braves last night, twice shrugging off blown leads for an explosive, five-run 10th inning that produced an 11-6 victory.

★ ★ ★

It was the first of the season for Cincinnati against the Braves—who had beaten the Redlegs seven in a row, counting one at the tail end of last season — and it stretched Cincy's winning streak on the road to 15 games, two shy of the major league record hung up by the 1917 New York Giants.

The St. Louis Cardinals, with Stan Musial 3-for-5, belted Chicago's Cubs 6-2 in the only other game scheduled. New York and Pittsburgh were idle.

★ ★ ★

In the American, the pesky Kansas City Athletics thumped first place Chicago 7-1, trimming the walloped Boston 17-8, and Detroit White Sox' lead to two games. The second place New York Yankees walloped Boston 17-8, and Detroit pushed Cleveland into third 11-5. Washington defeated Baltimore 3-2 in 11 innings in completing a game suspended April 21, then shelled the Orioles 10-6 in a regularly scheduled contest.

★ ★ ★

Musial's eighth home run, with a man on, capped a four-run Cardinal fifth that broke a 1-all deadlock and helped The Man up his NL-leading bat average to .371.

Orchard Lake St. Mary took a comfortable 10-point lead into the final events of the Catholic League Invitational track meet at the U. of D. Stadium today following a strong showing in the field event finals. St. Michael of Pontiac ranks 5th.

In baseball action, Chuck McIlrath's two-run triple in the 7th gave Pontiac a 3-2 verdict over Flint Northern, Walled Lake tripped Van Dyke, 5-1, Rochester and Roseville won.

Orchard Lake compiled 19½ points in Monday's opening day of the track meet by taking one 1st outright and placing two men in a three-way tie for another in the four events held.

★ ★ ★

The Eaglets had a hand in two of the three records set yesterday. Joe Waluk established one with his shot put heave of 48 feet, 7½ inches. Chet Wajda and Pete Madelans matched Mike Pyne in the pole vault at a height of 11 feet, six inches. Larry Zionek of St. Joseph set the other mark with a broad jump of 20 feet, nine inches.

Stan Koper ranked 3rd in the shot put, Andy Zanbrzychi finished in a 6-way tie for 4th in the high jump and Chet Wajda was 3rd in the broad jump for other OLSM points.

St. Michael topped six schools in team scoring with 7½ points. Dan Dropps had a 2nd in the high jump, Paul Plourde deadlocked for 4th in the pole vault and 4th in the high jump and Chuck Brown was 5th in the broad jump.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac finished its Saginaw Valley League baseball slate in 4th place with a 4-6 record and sets its overall mark at 8-7 as Bud Hayward hurled the triumph.

Larry Dion smashed a three-run home run in the 7th to put the Walled Lake victory on ice. Dick Gotham hurled a two-hitter losing a shutout on an unearned run. The Vikings finished 4-6 in the Inter-Lakes loop.

★ ★ ★

Handyman Dave Peters, who do everything but sell tickets at Rochester, flipped his 4th victory in five decisions as the Falcons whipped Utica last night, 8-4. Rochester has won five and lost three with one to play.

Roseville Sophomore Tom Killop flipped his 2nd straight no-hitter as the Wildcats defeated Clintondale, 5-0, in the opener of the Macomb County tournament at Fraser last night. He fanned 19 and missed a perfect game due to one walk. Roseville will play in the semifinals Friday.

Tigers Down to 25; Send Lee to SA Club

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Tigers were down to the 25-player limit today when they sent rookie right-hander Don Lee on 24-hour recall to Birmingham in the Southern Association.

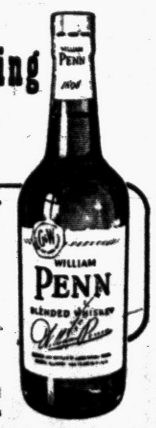

Lee, son of former Chicago White Sox pitching great Thornton Lee, had won one game and lost two this season. He had pitched 33⅔ innings, walked 14, struck out 19 and had a 4.54 earned run average.

Gene Mauch, Boston second baseman, hit .348 for Los Angeles in 1956.

Art Schult, Cincinnati rookie outfielder, hit 15 home runs and batted .306 for Seattle in 1956.

Tales of Transfer Denied

National League Meets Amid Welter of Rumors

CHICAGO (AP)—Directors of the National League, meeting today six weeks earlier than scheduled, were surrounded by a welter of rumors all of which were tagged by official denials.

★ ★ ★

One report was that a three-way switch of franchises was in prospect, shifting the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles, the New York Giants to San Francisco, and the Cincinnati Redlegs to New York.

★ ★ ★

Commissioner Ford Frick has put a gag on any public discussions by major league officials regarding franchise transfers. But this didn't prevent strong denials.

"No request has been made by any club to move any franchise anywhere at any time," said Warren Giles, National League president.

General Manager Gabe Paul of Cincinnati added: "I would not dignify such rumors by even commenting on them."

It was reported television and broadcast contracts for the three clubs in their new sites already had been approved.

To this, Paul replied: "If this is true, someone besides Mr. Crosley (Powell Crosley Jr., president of the Redlegs) and myself must have signed the contracts for the Redlegs. And only we two are authorized to sign such agreements."

Although possible franchise changes are not on the agenda, Giles said that if any club wishes to bring up such a switch it could be considered if all other teams were willing to discuss it.

The American League meeting and joint session of both leagues have been summoned by Frick for July 8, the day preceding the All-Star game.

Detroiter Winner of Top WIBC Honor

DAYTON (AP) — Anita Cantaline of Detroit, a former national all-star champion, repeated the trick this year to become champion in the all-events of the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament.

Eleanore Towles of Peoria, Ill., is the winner of the singles event and Nellie Vella and Jeannette Grzelak of Rockford, Ill., are champions in the doubles event.

Winners were announced last night as the tournament ended. It began April 11.

U.S. Woman Advances in French Net Event

PARIS (AP)—Darlene Hard wants to make her third and last tour on the European tennis circuit something to remember, and she hopes that her power strokes do right by her.

Miss Hard, of Montebello, Calif., today meets Viera Puzejova of Czechoslovakia in the quarter-finals of the women's singles in the French International Tennis Tournament.

McHale, Strafaci in 2nd Round

FORMBY, England (AP) — Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia and Frank Strafaci of Miami Beach, top American entries in the upper half of the draw, easily won their second round matches in the British Amateur golf championship today.

★ ★ ★

McHale, former U.S. Walker Cup player, routed Lt. Col. W. B. J. Armstrong of England, 7 and 6, on the windswept 6,803-yard Formby links. Strafaci, shooting the front nine in one-under-par 35, defeated Cecil Beamish of Ireland, former British Walker Cupper, 3 and 2.

One other American, Lt. Bob Magee of Boston, a serviceman stationed in Germany, was eliminated by Alan F. Bussell, 20-year-old Scottish sharpshooter, 4 and 3.

Strafaci and Bussell met in the third round this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Other Americans winning second round matches included John Selby of Rye N. Y. and Gene Andrews of Los Angeles. Both had received first round byes. Selby beat Peter Grant Jr. of Phoenix Ariz., one up, and Andrews eliminated England's Peter Clark 2 and 1.

Only eleven Americans were left in the tournament when play began today. A cold wind sweeping in from the Irish Sea brought an overcast and made playing conditions unpleasant.

Walker Cup golfer Dale Morey, one of the 11 had an excellent chance today of reaching the fourth round after playing only one match.

Morey had a first round bye in opening play yesterday. Today he set off in the second round against England's little known Ernest Crimes.

Victory in that match would pit Morey against Kenya's D. T. Dobie who is through to the third round after a bye and the scratching of his second round opponent. But nobody at Formby has seen the Kenya golfer and it seemed highly doubtful if he would arrive in time for the third round.

Many golfers think the British championship organizers should follow the lead of the United States Golf Association to stop players getting such advantages.

Bob Roos of San Francisco, who also had a first round bye, said that in the United States other players were called in if some of the original entries scratched. He thought it was a much better system. Many British golfers agreed with him.

The championship started yesterday with 25 American challengers in 187-player field. Fourteen of them were knocked out.

When today's play ends with the completion of third round matches, the entire field will have been reduced to 32.

Among first round victors were Lt. Gene Eyler of Olean, N. Y., Frank Hendrich of Albany, Ga., Robert Staats of Bloomington, Ind., and Master Sgt. Harold Ridgely of Havergord, Pa.

HEAVE-HO FOR TIGHE — Plate umpire John Rice motions Detroit Tigers manager Jack Tighe out of the game last night as Tighe protests a call of a pitch to Cleveland Indians pinch hitter Eddie Robinson in seventh inning. Catcher Frank House was ejected from the game at the same time, the first time this season that the Tiger manager or a player were tossed out of a contest. Detroit won 11-5.

Jewelers, Jets Play 7-7 Tie in City League Tilt

Shaw's Jewelers must be a frustrated team today.

The Jewelers were on the long end of a 7-3 score in last night's City League game at Wisner Field when their opponents, the Pontiac Jets, came to the plate in the 6th inning.

So what happened? The Jets tallied three times in the 6th stanza and once in the 7th to tie the count, then the umpires intervened and stopped play because of darkness.

Result? A 7-7 tie.

Shaw's outhit the Jets, 15 to 10, but an error and a hit batsman aided the Jet cause in the three-run 6th and Judge Booker wound up the fruitless struggle with a booming home run to tie the score in the 7th.

Herman Bishop started on the mound for the Jewelers and gave way to Steve Kebler in the 6th. Octave LeDuff was the Jets' starting hurler, with Charley Kinard coming on in the 6th to finish up.

Shaw's Terry Thomas collected three hits and Ben Roberson also made three for the Jets. Several other players had two hits apiece in the wild battle.

Hughes All-America

Larry Hughes, Walled Lake basketball star, has been named to the Sports Writers' High School All-America team it was learned today by school officials. He was one of 50 players selected in the country. Twenty members of the group will be selected to play in the East-West game in Kansas June 14.

WASHINGTON (INS) — California-owned Silk Byrd upset two highly-regarded, unbeaten three-year-old pacers to win the $27,500 William E. Miller Memorial last night at Rosecroft race track in nearby Maryland.

Old, New Pains Confront Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The same old headaches, plus some new pains in the neck, have saddled the Milwaukee Braves with a slump and the front office with a problem.

★ ★ ★

Where to get the player help the club so badly needs right now and how much to surrender are the questions occupying John Quinn, general manager, and Manager Fred Haney these days of floundering and frustration.

Left field, a sore spot for the last few years, remains the No. 1 headache. Second base, apparently solved this spring by the spirited play of Danny O'Connell, again is in the doubtful category.

Add to these front line deficiencies, one of the weakest benches in the National League, a blow-hot, blow-cold bullpen, and the inability of the hitters and pitchers to have good days together and it's not surprising that a recession has set in, but good.

Janks Hurls 3-Hit Shutout

A three-hit shutout by Wayne Janks of Welden-Thrifty and Drayton Drug's defensive collapse while losing to Lakeland Pharmacy featured Monday night's Waterford League softball card at Drayton Plains.

Janks struck out eight and walked only one as Welden-Thrifty blanked White Brothers, 5-0. Dearborn sparked the winner's six-hit attack with two safeties in three attempts.

Drayton Drug committed 10 errors and Lakeland Pharmacy added a 12-hit assault to score a lopsided 16-2 victory. Lamberton made three hits in three tries for Lakeland.

White Brothers and Emmanuel Baptist will clash in tonight's league game at 8 o'clock.

Special cameras like this new high-speed Hulcher "70", designed to take rapid-sequence photos of guided-missile launchings, were used to record tests. Electrically operated, the Hulcher "70" shoots 20 pictures a second.

THEY'RE OFF! Here's the start of a grueling hill-climb test. All three low-priced trucks were lined up at the bottom of a test grade equal to the steepest hill in San Francisco. At flag drop, test drivers floor gas pedals . . . the Dodge Power Giant leaps out in front.

Actual road tests . . . like the one photographed at the right . . . prove beyond question that Dodge Power Giants outclass all competition. This rugged hill climb is just one of a whole string of tests comparing all three low-priced trucks.

See certified test results of the entire series—actual unretouched photographs—at your own local Dodge dealer's. These tests, plus 15 minutes behind the wheel, will demonstrate to you that today's Dodge Power Giants lead the low-priced three in every measure by which you judge a truck.

You get the most V-8 power of the low-priced three . . . up to 232 horsepower. This gives you snappier performance to save valuable trip time . . . extra power to take steep climbs with less engine strain. And Dodge gives you extra payload capacity, too. For instance, the test pick-up shown hauls as much as 27% more than the other two low-priced makes.

Check today's low Dodge prices. You'll find eleven Power Giant models, in the low-tonnage field alone, that are actually the lowest priced of the low-priced three. Why not see for yourself? Your dealer will gladly bring a Dodge right to your door.

DODGE THE WINNER BY FIVE LENGTHS—and still gaining! The Dodge Power Giant outdistanced both truck "C" and truck "F" from the start. This is just one of a complete series of actual road tests that prove Dodge the outstanding leader of the low-priced three.

Reynolds Outduels Helisek

Bill Allen's 8th-inning double broke up an airtight pitching duel and gave Birmingham a 1-0 overtime victory over Stadium Inn last night at Beaudette Park in the top City League softball attraction.

Birmingham's Roger Reynolds and John Helisek of Stadium battled each other through seven scoreless innings to send the game into overtime.

After Reynolds retired Stadium in its half of the 8th, Jerry Beck started Birmingham's winning effort with a lead-off single. He was sacrificed to 2nd from where he scored on Allen's two-base blast.

Reynolds gave up only three hits and fanned 13 batters. Helisek was touched for five safeties while whiffing five.

In games at North Side Park, Skip Baribeau twirled a three-hitter as Drive-In Cleaners defeated Pontiac Select-à-Drink, 5-2, and Richard's Tavern outslugged Louie's Tavern, 10-8.

Shaw's Jewelers continued their shutout string the easy way, gaining a 7-0 forfeit victory over Bicmar Inn, Shaw's record is now 5-0.

Expect More Than 500 in State Roller Tourney

For the first time since 1952 Pontiac will be the site for a Michigan roller skating championship tournament. This year's event will take place at Rolladium Rink, beginning Memorial Day and running four days through June 1-2.

Bert Anselmy, tournament director, says the field will include 500 or more speed, relays, figure skaters, pairs, four, dance teams and individuals in approximately 145 events, covering many clases and divisions.

Defending champions in many divisions will be in action. They include the American champion junior fours (Rickie Martins, Sue Welch, Charles Parker and Nita Steward). They will skate this time in the intermediate division.

Detroit, Ann Arbor, Dearborn, Mt. Clemens, Flint, Saginaw, Hillsdale, Lansing, Fairhaven, Royal Oak, Clawson and probably Midland will send entries. There will be 70 from Pontiac area alone. The area skaters will compete in some 150 events, Anselmy says.

The six classes for competition include diaper class (under six), juveniles, junior novices, intermediates and seniors.

Among other top area skaters in the lists will be Lewis Parker and Mary Alice Clouse (in senior events); Jack Horner (in senior figures); Cecilia Darimont (junior girls figures); Mary Jo McBrearty (freestyle); Dorene Pokorny, 10 years old (juvenile figures).

Trophies and medals will be awarded 1-2-3 places in all divisions.

★ ★ ★

A state queen will be selected May 30, and one of the candidates is Rolladium's Sharon Moore, 17-year-old St. Michael student.

What Is Kaline Worth?

KANSAS CITY (AP)—How much is Al Kaline worth? Benched in a batting slump he was worth $700,000 to owner Arnold Johnson of the Kansas City Athletics who was asked the question yesterday.

Last night the young Detroit outfielder hit a double in Detroit's 11-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians. And what that does to Kaline's going rate is anybody's guess.

★ ★ ★

Johnson said in an interview that he offered $450,000 for Kaline last fall during a talk with former Tiger president Spike Briggs. "You're not serious," Briggs replied. "I certainly am," declared Johnson. "Accept the offer and I'll give you a check right now," he said. Needless to say, Briggs didn't accept.

Kaline's batting average of .275 is a far cry from the .340 with which he led the American League in 1955. But Johnson figures Kaline has established himself as a great ball player and would add to the Kansas City gate.

Bob Bowman, Philadelphia right fielder, hit 19 homers and batted .277 for Miami, Fla., last season. He drove in 79 runs.

Teleran Is Now Over $100,000 in Earnings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's another member of the "earned over $100,000" club today, and George D. Widener is the happy owner.

His 3-year-old filly Teleran made the grade at Jamaica yesterday, and also made those of the 20,348 who backed her as happy as Widener with a $4.90 payoff. The $3,900 she collected boosted her total over the $100,000 mark in seemingly easy fashion.

MONDAY'S STARS

HITTING — Jim Lemon, Senators, cracked an 11th inning home run to beat Orioles 3-2 in completion of April 21 suspended game, then drove in four runs with a homer and sacrifice fly in 10-6 victory in regularly scheduled game.

Day I Remember Most

(Eleventh in a series of articles written especially for The Associated Press and the Press by Detroit Tiger players.)

DETROIT (AP) — I waited seven years for my first big league victory and the thrill I got when I finally won it is the high point of my career so far.

There have been other games I have pitched better but the first one means most to me. It was my second start of the 1955 season. In my first one I was pretty wild against Washington and didn't stay around very long.

Next time out we faced Boston and my control was pretty good. I think I only walked two or three batters. We won the game 3-2 when Al Kaline got a hit to right field in the last of the ninth inning to score the winning run.

The Red Sox got a run early and another run in the seventh to tie the game when Jackie Jensen hit a high fly to left center near the flagpole to drive in a run. It would have been a home run if the wind hadn't been blowing in. A pitcher always appreciates a wind blowing in from the outfield and the wind that day saved my first major league pitching win.

Summer Cruise Planned

Some 180 Pontiac area men are getting things in ship-shape order for the June 7-10 Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce summer cruise.

And according to John W. Hirlinger, chamber manager, there are reservations open for some 20 more. They may be made at the chamber office in the Waldron Hotel.

★ ★ ★

The S. S. South American has been chartered especially for chamber members and their guests for this, the first summer cruise.

"The trip will afford the 200 businessmen a chance to get together for an entire weekend on board ship for plenty of fun and relaxation," Hirlinger explained.

Stops are planned for Mackinac Island and Charlevoix during the four-day jaunt upon the Great Lakes. Murray D. Von Wagoner, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, has invited members to view progress on the new Mackinac Bridge during the lay-over at Mackinac.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac public schools, has been named "Commodore" for the cruise.

Mother Tells Judge Off, Warns of Judgment Day

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — A Tampa mother, angered by Judge L. A. Grayson's treatment of her son, gave him a lecture in Criminal Court yesterday.

"God will pass judgment on you some day," she said.

★ ★ ★

Grayson did not dispute that point, but declared, "I will handle the passing of judgment down here until God intervenes."

The son, John J. Richards, 19, had pleaded guilty to burglary. Grayson ordered a presentence probation investigation.

★ ★ ★

Apparently the mother, whose name was not learned, was disturbed because Grayson ordered the son held in jail while the investigation is being made.

'Treble-Aires' of Royal Oak Win Contest

DETROIT (AP) — Women barbershop singers from Royal Oak and Toronto, Ont., won the northern regional competition of Sweet Adelines, Inc.

The Treble-Aires of Royal Oak was first in the quartet division while the Toronto chapter won in the chorus division.

The Yankee Misses, also of Royal Oak and the Canadian Choralaires of Orillia, Ont., were second and third respectively in the quartet division. Lansing was second in the chorus competition and Jackson third.

Some 300 members from 10 chapters took part in the contest Saturday. Sweet Adelines, Inc., is the women's counterpart of the male Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.

Waterford Acts on Street Lights

Board Allows Special Assessment for Lots in Williams Lake Area

Formal action was taken by Waterford Township board members on street lighting in two subdivisions at a meeting last night.

★ ★ ★

A special assessment in the Williams Lake estates district and in Ingamell's Acres Subdivision for the lighting of 48 lots was approved by board members.

Nine street lights will be installed and each lot owner will be assessed $5.52 a year. A hearing was held Friday, and no objections were raised at the meeting, the board claimed.

Following an established policy, the township has agreed to pay 1-10 of the annual operation cost which will be $295.

CHECK PLANS

Other business of the board included the authorization of Clerk James Seeterlin to check architectural plans for a 24x30 cement block building to house township-owned cemetery equipment, at the Crescent Hills Cemetery on Hatchery road.

★ ★ ★

Five zoning changes have been approved by the township zoning board, the Oakland County Planning Commission, and the Oakland County Co-ordinating Committee. They are now before the township board, and members plan to investigate each of the areas this week.

Grains Record Small Gains

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures opened with fractional gains on the board of trade today. Some buying appeared in all pits.

Traders said the upturn in part was technical reaction after the sharp losses of the last three sessions. Soybeans were aided somewhat by early strength in soybean oil.

Canadian Dollar Hits 24-Year High Rate

NEW YORK (AP) — The Canadian dollar set a 24-year high when it closed at $1.04 29-32 in U. S. dollars here yesterday this was up 1-16th of a cent from last Friday's close.

The Canadian dollar now is only 23-32 of a cent below its all-time high of $1.05⅝ reached in mid-November, 1933, just before the United States abandoned the gold standard.

Foreign exchange dealers attributed the high premium to steady demand for funds nn the U. S. capital markets by Canadian industry. Financing floated here must be changed into Canadian currency before it can be used north of the border. Resultant demand for Canadian dollars pushes up its price in relation to the U. S. dollar.

Five Cases Sentenced in Possession of Beer

Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle passed sentence on five cases concerning the illegal possession and sale of beer yesterday. Robert L. Allen, 18, of 21777 Negaunee St., Detroit; Robert A. Hoot, 17, of 5715 Belton St., Garden City; and Lloyd G. Zimmerman, 19, of 33546 Rhonswood St., Farmington, all pleaded guilty to being minors in possession of beer and were fined $25 each.

★ ★ ★

Howard G. Keech, 24, of Williamsburg, pleaded guilty to furnishing beer to minors, as did Garvin S. Bradshaw, 29, of 23061 Tulane St., Farmington.

Keech paid a fine of $25 and Bradshaw was sentenced to 10 days in the Oakland County Jail after failing to pay $20.10 in fines plus $4.90 costs. Bradshaw also waived examination, was committed to jail with a bond set at $500, and was turned over to circuit court for a June 3 arraignment on charges of violating the state financial responsibility law.

Aircrafts, Oils Recoup Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircrafts and some oils recouped initial losses but the stock market remained lower on average early this afternoon.

The losses among key stocks still ran from fractions to around a point or so while there were wider moves among selected issues

★ ★ ★

In early trading the market was resuming the sharp downward trend of yesterday when the market took its worst setback since Feb. 11. Aircrafts, adversely affected by disarmament negotiations and budget cuts, were still lower at the start but they recovered smartly. Oils trimmed some losses.

White Motor Buys All Assets of Reo

CLEVELAND (AP) — White Motor Co. of Cleveland has purchased the assets of Reo Motors, Inc., of Lansing, Mich.

The deal, announced yesterday, involved an undisclosed amount of cash paid to Bohn Aluminum & Brass Corp. of Detroit, which controlled Reo stock. It will give White two million more square feet of manufacturing space to add to the nearly three million now occupied by its plants.

Robert F. Black, chairman of White Motor Co., said Reo would be operated as a separate division under direction of John C. Tooker as general manager.

Black said his company has expansion plans for Reo, which will continue with general offices and manufacturing in Lansing.

Influenza Toll Hits 185

MANILA (AP)— Influenza deaths in the Philippines now total 185, most of them children or old people. The epidemic sweeping East and Southeast Asia has spread through most of the Philippine Islands.

Thousands Homeless but Floods Receding

DALLAS (AP)—Cloudbursts dumped up to 8 inches of rain on scattered parts of Texas yesterday, but major flooding appeared to be subsiding in many sections of the Southwest.

Thousands of persons remained homeless, however, in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas as rivers and streams continued to overflow or run near bankful from earlier torrential rains.

Some of the 2,100 persons driven out by the flooding Trinity River in Dallas hoped to return to their homes today. In nearby Fort Worth, where 4,000 fled the surging river during the weekend, water began receding in all areas.

The flood victims were not expected to be able to return before the end of the week, however. The river was receding slowly.

The Arkansas River continued to cause damage. Gov. Orval Fabus of Arkansas said he would appeal for federal aid.

The Arkansas spilled over low-lying farms from Fort Smith 150 miles eastward to Little Rock. Crest forecasts were revised upward a foot or two. Civil defense estimated 1,000 persons have been evacuated, mainly in North Little Rock and including the 400 persons comprising the population of Moffett, Okla., just across the river from Fort Smith.

Flash flooding hit sections of south Texas after the torrential rains yesterday. Hundreds were chased from their homes at San Antonio temporarily when nearly 4 inches of rain sent creeks spilling out of their banks. Roads were closed for an hour on all approaches to the city.

Up to 8 inches of rain fell in the area around Uvalde, Tex., home of former Vice President Garner. Uvalde is 75 miles southwest of San Antonio.

The Medina River was up seven to eight feet in the same area. The Comal River was up eight feet at New Braunfels north of San Antonio and the Guadalupe west of San Antonio was expected to rise to 16 or 18 feet today.

In West Texas, a 3-inch downpour caused some minor flooding at Wellman near the Texas-New Mexico border.

Will Attend Truman Library Dedication

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt are among those expected to attend the dedication of the Truman Library July 6, former President Harry S. Truman said yesterday.

Government leaders will be among the speakers.

★ ★ ★

Asked if the White House would be represented, Truman replied: "For that answer you'll have to ask the White House. No one can speak for the man in the White House."

★ ★ ★

Truman said Chief Justice Earl Warren will give the dedicatory address.

The 1¾-million-dollar library building in nearby Independence, Mo., Truman's home, will be turned over to the federal government.

Staffers Chosen for Publications

Future Editors Named for Journalism Projects at Pontiac High

Editors and staff members of major Pontiac High School student publications for next year were revealed last night at the annual publications banquet.

Honored were those who have been active this year in editorial and business affairs of the Tomahawk, Quiver, Epistolae Scholae, the Science Journal and the Print Shop, with their advisors.

Host was the Ottawa Chapter of the Quill and Scroll Society, honor society for high school journalists.

Editor of the Tomahawk, school newspaper, next year will be Harry VanMatre, with Sarah Metherington as associate editor.

Editor of Quiver, high school yearbook, will be Emmanuel Williams. Assistant editors are Krista Kaasik and Ann Pirochta.

QUIVER STAFF

For the Quiver—Joyce Reynolds, Richard Elsholz, Sharon Freeman, Rhoda Goldberg, Sharon Warren, Jane Arnold, Phyllis Peters, Sue Whitfield, Delores Shea, Marjorie Moran, Doris Reed, Sue Rhew, Stephen Lewis, Santhy Annas, Marie Hickey and Shirley Hause.

Two summer scholarships for high school journalists to Michigan State University have been awarded by The Pontiac Press. Robert B. Tarr, Press managing editor, announced the MSU scholarships this summer will go to Janet Ohanesian and Emmanuel Williams.

Charles Williams, Tomahawk sports editor, was toastmaster for last night's dinner.

The Senior Girls' Ensemble sang; a duet was sung by Vickie Vandecar and Kenneth Bogard, and a solo by Jane Austin. Staff selections were announced by retiring editors: Pat Zielke and Sharon Holland for the Tomahawk, and Lynda McCurdy and Jane Austin for the Quiver.

Faculty advisors who have supervised the student activities during the past year spoke briefly. They were, for the Tomahawk, Robert Beauchamp; Print Shop, Theodore Carlson; Epistolae Scholae, Iama C. Hook; Quiver, Mrs. Charles Fournier, and Science Journal, John Youngpeter.

'Lousy Jobs' Louse Up Gunman's Life

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police are seeking a melancholy gunman who complained so much about his bad luck his prospective victim escaped with $1,000.

Cornelius McKenna, a driver-collector for a vending machine company, said the man slid into his truck while he was parked in downtown Philadelphia after a collection yesterday. Pulling a gun, the intruder demanded McKenna open a money box in the rear of the truck. McKenna said he told a white lie that he didn't have the key to the box, which contained $1,000.

"You sure?" the desperado asked plaintively.

McKenna replied he was real sure. The man forced him at gunpoint to drive around the city for almost two hours. He complained about his hard luck all the while. With a final wail that this was another "lousy job," the gunman told McKenna to let him off in North Philadelphia and disappeared.

London Equals Jungle

LONDON—On her arrival back in Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, after a trip to England, Miss Parsons, a British missionary, had this to say: "It is as dangerous to cross a pedestrian crossing in London as it is to cycle through the jungle in twilight in Malaya."

Judge Impeached by Florida House

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Circuit Judge George E. Holt was impeached yesterday by the Florida House, which approved an investigating committee's report that the Miami judge had brought "his court into scandal and disrepute" and was no longer fit to serve as a jurist.

★ ★ ★

The vote to impeach was 65-25. Holt, 54, has served as circuit judge for 16 years. He is disqualified from his judicial duties pending the outcome of his trial by Florida Senate.

★ ★ ★

House impeachment has the effect of a grand jury indictment. The Senate trial is expected to begin in about a month.

★ ★ ★

The committee, which investigated Holt for seven weeks, charged that he accepted favors and borrowed money from attorneys practicing before him, permitted his personal relationships with individuals to influence his judicial appointments and the allowance of fees and violated the code of ethics governing judges.

Seek 'Sniper' at Washington

State Police Believe Offender Not Malicious; Bullets Miss Several

WASHINGTON—State Police of the Romeo Post reported no new evidence today which might lead to the arrest of a 'sniper' or target shooter who has been terrorizing the nearby community of Washington.

Two weekend shooting incidents in which one shot narrowly missed two children at play and another cracked the windshield of a car in which a father and his teen-aged daughter were riding, set off the investigation.

Two incidents occurred in the area around Pilgrim and Coronado streets last Saturday. Similar incidents were reported less than two weeks ago in which dogs were shot and bullets narrowly missed several residents of this north Macomb County village.

"We don't believe it is some one with malicious intent, but rather careless use of firearms," Corp. Bernard Grace of the Romeo Post said today.

"We had no shooting complaints yesterday," he went on, "and we may not get any until next weekend.

Construction Company Reports 3 Break-Ins

The Schurrer Construction Co., 2431 Pontiac Rd., Pontiac Township, reported to Pontiac Police Monday that office and plumbing shacks at three of their present construction sites had been broken into and looted.

Thieves escaped with three Skilsaws valued at $135 each, and numerous other tools.

The shanties located at 1425 Joslyn Rd., 541 Bay St., and 640 Kennett Rd. were entered sometime between 4 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Monday.

Waterford's Free Library Struggles to Keep Going

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Of Our Waterford Bureau

A small group of Waterford Township women are determined to keep their library in operation, regardless of newly developed setbacks.

Because the Waterford Township library is not tax supported, the state has discontinued supplying more than 100 children's books semi-annually, according to Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, librarian.

This has made a big dent in the available literature, Mrs. Valentine said. "Children's books are our biggest turnover, of which we have the smallest amount," she added.

So far, the Waterford Township library, located in one corner of the Community Activities Inc. Building, has been sponsored, supported and controlled by the Waterford Book club.

A VOLUNTEER PROJECT

All help has been strictly volunteer, and there has been no financial help from any governmental agency, according to Mrs. Valentine.

Some 5,000 volumes of reading material line the shelves of the township library, and all have been donated by various organizations and indivuduals. There are more than 2,000 cards on file at the present time.

Each Wednesday members of the Book club spend the day repairing and sorting out free-loaned books of Waterford Township residents.

This week, a $100 cash contribution from the Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary was given to the library. This money is earmarked for children's books only, and Mrs. William Shunck and Mrs. Valentine have been appointed to select modern reading material, as well as some of the classics for the youngsters.

Chicago is the nation's largest railway center and it is the principal terminal for 22 trunk railway lines.

Police Probe Cause of Formosa Riots

TAIPEI (INS) — Chinese Nationalist security police, investigating anti-American riots on Formosa, continued their questioning today of 70 demonstrators arrested last Friday in an attempt to determine what, if any, planning preceded the disturbances.

National authorities said a few — one or two — of those arrested have backgrounds linked to Communism.

These authories said they were not prepared at the present stage of their investigation to say whether Communist influence was definitely a factor in the riots during which the U.S. Embassy was wrecked and 11 Americans injured.

Among those arrested were six men described as ringleaders. They were the ones who, with a Nationalist flag in hand, stripped the Star and Stripes from the flagpole in the Embassy compound. Then they ran up the Nationalist emblem of the Chiang Kai-shek regime.

After the weekend, there were no incidents and it was expected that the emergency would be declared ended within a short time.

Bodies of 5 Japanese Found Drifting in Boat

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — The bodies of four men and a woman—all Japanese—were found today in a lifeboat drifting about 12 miles of the coast of central Japan.

The five were believed to be from a small cargo ship which disappeared May 20 en route from Nagoya to Tokochi. Seven persons were aboard, including the wife of a deckhand.

Drunk Driver Fined

Francis M. Connelly, 34, of 196 Main St., Romeo, pleaded guilty to drunk driving yesterday and was fined $100 plus $4.90 costs by Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF DONald L. Gotz who passed away May 28, 1956.
Not dead to us who loved him,
Not lost but gone before;
He lives with us in memory
And shall forever more.
Sadly missed by brother Bob & Margaret.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved son, Donald L. Gotz, who passed away one year ago, May 28, 1956.
Treasured memories no one can steal,
Death is a heartache no one can seal;
The shock sudden, the pain severe,
Little we thought that death was near.
Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our eyes shed many tears;
God only knows, son, how we miss you dear.
As this ends the first sad year.
Sadly missed by your loving Mother and Father.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ALfred Roy McMillan who passed away May 28, 1945.
Not dead to us who loved him,
Not lost but gone before:
He lives with us in memory,
And shall forever more.
Sadly missed by Wife and Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY mother, Anna Mae Kelly, who passed away a year ago today.
God knows how much I miss her,
Never shall her memory fade;
Loving thoughts shall ever wander,
To the spot where she is laid.
Willa B. Tennant and the Richard Kelly family

Like to Try Latest Fad: Diet Through Hypnosis?

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Dig the newest day to reduce—by hypnosis!

My gorgeous mother-in-law has a friend in Philadelphia who says, "It's uncanny how it works. Our doctor by hypnosis implants the idea we will not want to eat potatoes or pastries. We haven't been able to since March."

An overweight girl in the family who formerly ate candy or cake after school now has celery or carrots.

★ ★ ★

"We're still under hypnotic treatment because the suggestion wears off," she reports, "but we're reducing with little effort and no medication."

Dr. Albert Schweitzer's great American friend, Marion Mill Preminger, much-booked lecturer in the U.S. just now, asked a cab driver the other day: "Where are we?" When Diet Queen Is Tempted, She Takes Little Bite

CINCINNATI (INS) — Misshelen Gernenz of Markham, Ill., is the new queen of organized dieting.

She won out at the national tops convention for the feat of dropping from 395 pounds in one year's time to 199.

Tops stands for "take off pounds sensibly."

By reducing weight, Miss Gernenz became employable and she landed a job as a cook in a restaurant.

What does she do about the personal hazard of her job? When the temptation gets too strong, she said, "I just take a little bite."

Mystery Writer Will Be Adviser

2 New Western Series Are Now Being Filmed in Kenab, Utah

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS)—Famed mystery writer Erle Stanley Gardner founded the "Court of Last Resort" which has freed many men imprisoned for crimes they did not commit. Beginning in October, NBC will dramatize these real-life stories on Friday nights.

Gardner will not appear in the series, but will act as technical adviser along with his friend and fellow court member, detective Raymond Schindler. . .

Out in Kenab, Utah, two Western series are being filmed; both should be interesting, for want of an apter word. One is "Lone Woman," featuring Kathryn Grayson as an Indian lass.

Show is described as being "the female counterpart of 'Broken Arrow,'" and the second stars Errol Flynn in a drama with the unlikely title "Without Incident."

Vic Damone takes over the Godfrey Wednesday night spot in July.

I heard that both Jackie Loughery and Lana Turner have nixed offers to do commercials. Jackie is quoted as saying it's not "dignified," and Lana turned down a $25,000 bid to do one auto commercial . . . and that's an extremely dignified sum.

Walt Disney figures he has a hero who'll even top Davy Crockett's popularity — fictional character out of the 1800s named "Andy Burnett." Disney will devote six full-hour shows to Andy's exploits . . . more than he gave to Davy.

Diana Barrymore has her own TV series signed, sealed and to be delivered for September viewing. . .

Talented Andy Griffith guests on "I've Got a Secret" Wednesday.

Mary Margaret McBride returns from a European vacation the end of this month to sign contracts for a TV series, a radio series and assorted commercials. . .

TONIGHT'S TROUBLES

The situation with NBC's "Tonight" opus is shakier than ever. Emcee Jack Lescoulie is going to return to the "Today" show next month when Dave Garroway takes an eight-week vacation.

One columnist has given notice he is quitting "Tonight" because of "other plans." NBC hasn't signed a replacement for Lescoulie yet.

Despite protests from Martha Raye and her ex-husband and manager Nick Condos, Studio One's production "The Mother Bit" — allegedly patterned on Martha's relationship with her daughter—will be seen via CBS June 10. The network denies there has been any "rewrite" job. . .

Margaret O'Brien will play "Juliet" to John Barrymore Jr.'s "Romeo" in an upcoming Pasadena Playhouse production. If the balcony bit goes okay in California, they'll do it on TV this fall. . .

Place for a unique playground was arranged by a group of parents in Covington, Va. and officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway. Old No. 701 locomotive was about to be dismantled after 850,000 miles. Instead, it now sits quietly in Covington so children can play "running trains."

What is Happening

Will Beeson is telling the story. He lives on the Box P Ranch in Easter Valley in frontier Colorado with Joe and Sarah Pardee. They took him in, a homeless, hungry kid, seven years back. Will having the deepest affection for the Pardees, is distressed by the bitterness between Joe and his wife, Sarah, who has lived in a wheel chair since an accident. Joe resists Sarah's efforts to curb his aggressiveness against persons who challenge his domination of Easter Valley and particularly against settlers who try to claim land there.

On this morning Will is riding with Joe Pardee and Gene Dillingham, another of Joe's cowhands. Gene idolizes Joe and hates Sarah because of her bitterness toward Joe. The three men are headed for trouble at Carlton, where young Al Beam has talked of a showdown with Joe. The rancher stops briefly at the house of a neighbor, Kathy Morgan, while Will and Gene go on into Carlton. They find a group of newcomer farmers encamped there, awaiting the duel expectantly. Will suddenly realizes that Beam has been hired to kill Joe, the principal obstacle to new settlement in the valley. Dillingham, enraged, orders the campers to clear out of town in an hour. Then Al Beam appears . . .

Chapter 2

Al Beam grinned at Gene Dillingham and me. "Pardee send a couple of boys to do a man's job?"

Dillingham stiffened and got red in the face. I said quickly, "He'll be along."

Beam shrugged, insolent. He went past us toward the hotel. Dillingham swung around to watch him, his hand on gun butt. I said, "Ease up, Gene." But he kept his hand on his gun, staring at Beam's back.

★ ★ ★

From the doorway Art Delaney said: "Will's right, Gene. Shooting a man in the back isn't Joe Pardee's way."

"That devil!" Dillingham said. "That long-tongued devil!"

Beam was inside the hotel then, and Dillingham dropped his hand. Delaney said: "He claims he's killed twelve men. Pardee will make thirteen. If he does down Pardee, he'll come after you two."

I couldn't figure Delaney out. Most of his customers at his general store were ranchers, but he acted as if he'd just as soon see the farmers take the valley as not. He was a short, fat man, almost bald. He'd been in Carlton a long time, and he was honest enough, I guess, but I didn't trust him. Now I wondered what the farmers and Beam had said to him before Dillingham and I rode into town.

★ ★ ★

Something was up, I thought. I'd tell Joe about it on our way home. He'd made it plain to the townsmen that they could be loyal to the ranchers or get out of the valley. To Joe Pardee an issue like that was always simple. He never let it get complicated.

Because neither Dillingham nor I wanted to discuss the possibility of Beam smoking Joe down, we said nothing.

Delaney asked, "Where's Pardee?"

"He'll be along," I said.

"He stopped by Kathy Morgan's," Dillingham put in.

Delaney smirked.

Dillingham lunged at him, a fist swinging up from his knee, but Delaney jumped back and jerked a small pistol out of a back pocket.

"Just like Pardee, ain't you?" Delaney said. "Think you can roll over everybody. Well, you're going to learn you can't. Now get out of here!"

Even a stubborn man like Dillingham doesn't argue with a gun that's lined on his heart. We crossed the street to the livery stable.

★ ★ ★

"Wait'll I tell Joe about Delaney," Dillingham said. "He won't do no more trading with that devil."

"Don't tell him till it's over," I said.

He gave me a questioning look and let the matter go. Then I heard Joe's horse on the bridge.

A moment later he reined up and dismounted, looking at me. I said, "He's in the hotel."

He nodded, drew his gun, and checked it. Dillingham said: "When we got here there was five plow pushers sitting in front of the store. We gave 'em an hour. If they ain't gone by then, we'll make 'em run so fast their heels will be smoking before they get to Arkansas.

Joe acted as if he didn't hear. He eased his gun back into the holster, glancing toward the hotel. I had seen the same thing happen before — maybe not in the identical manner, but almost.

I put a hand on his arm. "Joe, let me and Gene handle this. Beam's not fighting for himself. He's got no stake—"

"No."

Joe pulled away, affronted by what I had said: then I met his gaze squarely, and I saw a shadow of fear in his eyes that I had never seen there before.

He stepped around the horses into the street, and in that same instant Al Beam left the hotel. They faced each other, Joe with the advantage of the sun at his back. They moved slowly, the light very sharp on the gray dust. Joe's shadow moved ahead of him, Beam's behind him.

I saw Beam's face, his features filled with savage hatred that belonged in the jungle, not here on the dusty street of Carlton. He enjoyed the seesaw with death. Joe didn't. Then I wasn't sure of that. Maybe killing grew on a man; and Joe had changed from the husband Sarah had married.

Fear grew in me until I was panicky. I whispered, "He overmatched himself, Gene." Dillingham cursed, and pulled his gun, and that was when Beam started his draw.

Joe was as fast as he had ever been, but he wasn't fast enough. MORE MORE MORE MORE There was no question about who fired first. Joe was hammered back on his heels, his shot the result of muscular contraction; then he went down. Dillingham bawled a great yell and ran toward Beam, shooting as he ran. Behind me the liveryman, Slim Reardon, whispered, "By God, he got Joe!"

I started toward where Joe lay, hearing the slamming explosions of Dillingham's gun. Beam may have got off another shot. I'm not sure. He was in the dust before I reached Joe, but still Dillingham wasn't satisfied. He stood over Beam and fired and fired again until his gun was empty. Afterward I heard every bullet had gone into the man's body, five of them.

★ ★ ★

I knelt beside Joe. Blood showed at the corners of his mouth, then trickled down both sides of his chin. He said, "Will."

"I'm here, Joe."

"Take care of Kathy. I didn't do much for her. Never figured on cashing in. Take care of her, Will."

I said nothing, for I was thinking of Sarah. I loved her as much as I loved Joe. She had looked out for me from the first. Patched my clothes. Nursed me when I was sick. Read aloud to me. Saw that I had something hot to eat if I got in late. Things like that. She must hate Kathy . . .

Tears ran down my face, for this was the moment when the sun was going down. I thought it wasn't really happening. It had to be a horrible nightmare.

"Will." Joe's right hand came up to feel my face. "Will, are you there? I can't see."

"I'm here."

"Promise me."

I could no nothing else. "I promise," I said.

★ ★ ★

He died then, his hands turning and going slack in the dust, the palms upward. His head jerked, dropping sideways to rest on one cheek. I got up and looked at Dillingham, who was mouthing one curse after another.

"Them farmers," he said. "I'll kill 'em!"

"We gave them an hour." I turned and saw Reardon. "Harness up a team and hook up a rig. We'll take him home."

I wondered what Sarah would do now. And Kathy, what would she do? I didn't see her when we drove past her house a few minutes later, Dillingham riding beside the rig, my horse tied behind.

Once I looked back and saw a dust cloud in the air below town. The farmers were on their way out of the valley, and I was glad. If they had stayed, Gene Dillingham would have killed them.

Everyone in the valley came to Joe's funeral, even Kathy Morgan. She stood by herself, away from the others, crying all through the service. Sarah, sitting in her wheel chair at the graveside, didn't shed a tear. I couldn't tell by looking at her whether she felt sorrow or not.

Dillingham looked stunned. I suppose I did, too. I was surprised to find I didn't feel intense grief, although I'm sure my emotions were not like Sarah's. I had loved Joe Pardee; I had respected him; yet he wasn't a man whose death brought piercing sorrow.

I thought about that as the preacher talked, searching my heart and feeling a little guilty. Joe couldn't have been censured for any of his killings. The men who had come here had known the risks they were taking. Unlike the farmers who hired Al Beam, Joe had never dodged an obligation by hiring someone else to take his place.

★ ★ ★

I kept turning over in my mind the discovery I'd made about Joe. With all of his virtues, he lacked one important quality: Pity. I'd never given it a thought while he was alive, but now I realized he'd been a hard, driving man suffering from an overpowering sense of duty. Looking back across the years I'd lived here and worked with him, I couldn't remember a time when he had shown genuine sympathy for another man's trouble.

I was aware that the service was over when Gene Dillingham came to me and said, "Tell the ranchers I want to see them before they go, Will."

I told them, eleven men ranging from Alec Dodson, whose Anchor was the biggest spread in the country, on down to the little ten-cow poverty outfits in the arid south half of the valley. As I walked beside Dodson toward the corrals, I saw that Dillingham had escorted Kathy to her rig.

I glanced toward the house just as Dogbone was pusing Sarah's chair up the ramp beside the steps. She had completely ignored Kathy, but that, I told myself, was exactly what Kathy must have expected.

Dodson walked along, his head down, and presently he said: "It'll be real bad now. There ain't a man in the valley who can do what Joe done."

★ ★ ★

"That's right," I said.

We walked across the dusty yard to where the other ranchers stood, the air still and hot, the sun swinging down toward the Sangre de Cristo range. Then Dillingham came striding toward us with his rolling, bowlegged walk.

"I won't take more'n a minute boys," he said. "Just seemed to me we'd best decide something while we're together. It ain't no secret that Joe was reponsible for this valley being what it is. Soon as the farmers hear they don't have to buck him no more, they'll be back here by the hundreds."

"I don't think so," Dodson said. "Not till spring anyhow."

Dillingham glowered at him. Though Dodson wasn't an aggressive man, the fact that he owned the Anchor made him important, and Dillingham couldn't very well ignore him. Gene said: "I figger we can't take no chances. I ain't a owner, but I reckon the widow'll ask me to rod this outfit, seeing as I've been here a long time and know the way Joe operated; but that ain't the point. Joe done a job. The least we can do is to go on doing it. He was president of the Easter Valley Cattlemen's association as long as I've been around here. Well, we'd better get another one before something happens."

He looked at the men in front of him, but none of them said what he expected to hear, that he would make a good president. There was an awkward silence. Finally Dodson said: "Looks to me like you're out of line, Gene. The constitution and by-laws says the president has got to be an owner. Maybe you'd better buy the Box P from Mrs. Pardee." He cleared his throat, and then added, "We'll meet the first Saturday night of October in the schoolhouse.

He walked toward his rig, calling to his wife. The rest of them scattered in a matter of seconds, Dillingham and I were the only ones left. He was red in the face and hurt.

"They'll need me before they're done! They'll find out." He swung around and walked toward the house.

I went into the bunkhouse and sat down. I rolled and smoked a cigarette, and stared at the log walls and the potbellied stove. Then I wondered if I would stay on. I didn't want to leave Sarah, but I didn't think I could work for Dillingham. He'd be overbearing as well as stubborn; he'd make a show if he had to kill me and Dogbone to do it. I'd wait a few days and see how it went.

★ ★ ★

Someone came in and I glanced up. It was Ben Sawhill, the Canon City lawyer who handled Joe's legal work, a big, rawboned man who looked more like a farmer than like a lawyer. He was smart and honest, and Joe had always trusted him. Sawhill would do right by Sarah, I thought.

He looked down at me for a moment. He said, "We're reading the will tonight. I've got to get back to Canon City tomorrow. I want you to fetch Kathy Morgan. She's named in the will."

I stood up. "You're crazy, Ben! She wouldn't step into this house. Sarah wouldn't let her through the door if she did come."

"Sarah will let her," he said heavily. "I've asked her. I don't know how you stood on Joe's family trouble, but as far as I'm concerned he never deserved a woman as good as Sarah! But somebody's got to get Kathy here, or at least ask her and hope she won't come."

"All right," I said. "I'll go."

I saddled up and rode to Carlton, wondering about what Sawhill had said. Hed done Joe's legal work and taken his money, but apparently he'd hated him all the time. He was as much on Sarah's side as Dogbone was. I wasn't sure why.

Then I began thinking about Gene Dillingham and how he disliked Sarah. He'd give her a bad time. If she left everything in his hands, they'd get along, but I didn't think she would. I knew I'd have to stay. I'd swallow my pride a dozen times a day. I'd take things off Dillingham I'd never take off any other man; when I remembered the things Sarah had done for me, staying on the Box P was little enough to do for her.

Kathy opened the door the instant I knocked. She motioned toward a chair, her eyes red and swollen. I glanced around the room. Everything was neat and clean.

"How will you make out, Kathy?" I asked.

She was a large woman, but shapely, with a pleasant voice and a friendly manner that made her liked by the men. She could do a good many thing well, including playing poker. I'd heard some grumbling about that, and the price of her liquor. She was the kind who'd always make out.

★ ★ ★

"I'll get along," she said, finally.

"Ben Sawhill sent me to tell you he's reading the will tonight," I said. "You're supposed to be there."

She tipped her head back and looked at me, and the hope that she'd say No vanished at once.

She said: "Thank you, Will. I'll be there."

Zsa Zsa's Child to Make Debut in Video Play

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor's 9-year-old daughter Francesca has joined the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists and announced she'll concentrate on serious drama — "real heavy stuff."

★ ★ ★

Francesca, accompanied yesterday by her mother when she signed papers making her a member of the union, will get her first part Thursday. She'll appear in a TV play with Zsa Zsa and will have a speaking part consisting of one line.

"We don't know what it will be yet," Zsa Zsa said.

"But it is a very important part," Francesca insisted. "It's a birthday party scene, I know that —very dramatic."

In Correcting Labor, Management Abuses

Mitchell to Play Key Role

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Whatever the government may decide to do to correct the labor and management abuses shown up by the Senate rackets investigation, a key role is sure to be played by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

He is President Eisenhower's right-hand man and chief adviser in the field af labor relations.

Mitchell, a former personnel relations expert, is the liaison man between the administration and organized labor. Moreover, the administration's recommendations to Congress for labor legislation are largely cleared through him, and appointments to government posts dealing with labor first get his okay.

To a large degree, he is the administration so far as labor is concerned. While he sometimes differs with Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks on matters involving labor, all indications are that he has the last word on what goes.

Right now, Mitchell, who came to his Cabinet post in 1953, is supervising a study which is being made by the Labor Department as to what legislation should be recommended by the administration to Congress to correct conditions revealed in the Senate Rackets Committee investigation.

CALL FOR DISCLOSURE

It is fairly certain that the recommendations will call for full public disclosure of trade union financial and related operations, with authority to conduct investigations to see that such reports tell the truth. Mitchell believes in this.

It is equally certain there will be no recommendations for a national "right-to-work" law, or for laws subjecting trade unions to the anti-trust statutes, or anything else which Mitchell thinks would be anti-labor in character.

Before taking the labor post, Mitchell had held various jobs relating to manpower, pay problems, and the like, in the Pentagon. A native of New Jersey, he was too poor to go to college. He made his own way, and has held high-paid industrial relations jobs with New York's R. H. Macy and Co. and Bloomingdale Bros.

Mitchell is married to the former Isabelle Nulton, whom he married in 1923. They have a daughter, Elizabeth, 16.

PILE REMEDY

If You Have Bleeding Piles

If you have tried all kinds of ointments, suppositories, injections, prescriptions, treatments, etc. with little or no relief, medical science has now developed a marvelous, simple, pleasant home treatment called RECTORAL. Usually in just a few days bleeding starts to disappear and usually in a few days more it is completely gone along with any accompanying irritation and soreness. Piles have begun to shrink. RECTORAL has been used successfully by thousands of former sufferers who have had no further trouble, even years afterward. Many have been advised only an operation could help them. Most drug stores now have RECTORAL. No prescription necessary.
