Hippies Fight Park Use

More Violence in Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — National Guardsmen ringed a stretch of University of California park land today in the wake of a battle between police, hippie squatters, students and others. Fifty persons were injured.

The hippies, claiming use of the land as a "people's park," resisted police ouster attempts yesterday with a barrage of rocks. Police fired into the crowd with tear gas shells and shotguns loaded with birdshot.

An automobile was overturned and burned. Police were bombarded with missiles thrown from roofs. Three were injured, one with a knife wound in the chest.

Many in the crowd were peppered with the tiny birdshot pellets from police shotguns, which drew blood without inflicting serious wounds.

OUTBREAK QUELLED

Police finally quelled the outbreak after cordoning off 18 square blocks and arresting 45 persons.

Asserting the park protest was "a phony issue," Gov. Ronald Reagan called out the guardsmen and ordered a ban on loitering in the city or on the university campus.

The number of troops sent to the scene was described only as "substantial." The trouble started earlier this month after the university announced plans to use its park land for an athletic field and posted no-trespassing signs. Hippies who had frequented the area grabbed the signs and burned them.

FENCING STARTED

On Wednesday, police routed 75 persons from the property and workmen started fencing it in the following day. The hippies tried to prevent erection of the eight-foot fence and were joined soon by students and others as the crowd grew to hundreds.

Patrols were strengthened in the university area after a declaration by a demonstrator that $5 million of University of California property would be destroyed.

Stores in the area were closed.

The injured included two newsmen, Don Wegars of the San Francisco Chronicle and Daryl Lemke of the Los Angeles Times. They were hit by birdshot but not seriously wounded.

Officer Stabbed; Red Negotiators Hit Nixon Proposals Suspect Is Shot Without Rejecting Them as a Whole

By JIM LONG

A rookie Birmingham policeman was stabbed last night after stopping a motorist for a traffic violation. The alleged assailant was shot and wounded by the patrolman.

Under police guard at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, was Ronald E. Swenson, 23, of 5434 Longmeadow, Bloomfield Township.

Listed in serious condition with an abdomen wound, Swenson has been charged with attempted murder.

Birmingham Police Chief Darryl Brustle said Swenson was shot by Patrolman James S. Henry after the officer was stabbed in the chest with a switchblade knife.

Henry, 26, a patrolman for six months, was expected to be released from Beaumont Hospital today.

DRIVING ERRATICALLY

Henry was en route to work about 9:30 p.m. in his own car when he noticed an auto veering erratically, according to Brustle. Henry stopped the driver at Henrietta and Martin across from the (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam and the Vietcong both denounced President Nixon's peace plan today, but neither rejected the plan as a whole.

In fact, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said after the weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks, that the other side gave every indication it would consider the plan.

Nevertheless Hanoi's chief negotiator in Paris, Xuan Thuy, called the plan an attempt to conceal American intentions of continuing aggression in Vietnam.

And Tran Bui Kiem, representative of the National Liberation Front (NLF), said the plan was not a proper response to the problem.

Thuy asserted that the United States is bent "on maintaining its absurd demand and is continuing to intensify the war."

'NEOCOLONIALISM'

He said Nixon's words could not camouflage the essential objectives of the United States — "to achieve neocolonialism in South Vietnam and perpetuate the partition of Vietnam."

Lodge formally presented the Nixon plan as a formula which "can accommodate the various programs" put forward by the other side.

Lodge called for detailed discussions of both the Nixon plan and the 10-point plan submitted a week ago by the NLF.

He quoted the President as saying the U.S. proposals were not offered on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

'FLEXIBILITY'

"We have indicated our willingness to consider other proposals" he added. "We are being flexible and reasonable."

'Ship Will Be Fixed'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The condition of the guided-missile cruiser USS Boston, about which there have been complaints, will be corrected before the ship leaves May 22 for Vietnam, the secretary of the Navy has assured a protesting congressman.

Secretary John H. Chafee told Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, D-N.Y., the 1,200-man cruiser will be ready to sail on schedule.

His statement was mainly a restatement of the Nixon proposals. Like the President's speech, it took a moderate tone and the absence of polemics was notable.

At the same time, the North Vietnamese and NLF representatives, however, made it clear that the two sides still were far apart on major issues — even though the two new initiatives might get the talks off dead center.

In opening the session, North Vietnam's Thuy spoke contemptuously of the Nixon's insistence that the South Vietnamese people should have the right to determine their own destiny.

'UNDER FOOT'

"The truth is," he said, "that for the past 15 years the government of the United States has never ceased to trample under foot the right of the South Vietnamese population to self-determination."

Thuy said the United States seeks to maintain in power "the warlike and corrupt" Saigon government despite demands of the South Vietnamese people for a peace cabinet.

He repeated that the Paris discussions should proceed on the basis of the NLF's 10-point peace formula.

Kiem also stressed that the NLF had repeatedly rejected U.S. proposals for a mutual withdrawal of forces, but his statement was noticeably more moderate than that of Thuy.

partisanship were aimed at doing away with the old war power system (in Pontiac as elsewhere).

"But people are more informed now and aren't likely to fall victim to ward healers and such," he said.

WITHOUT THE EVILS

The proposed system would bring back a greater share of direct community control of the commission without bringing back the evils associated with old-time politics, Oliver asserted.

Under the present setup, the two candidates receiving the most votes in each district, run in the citywide election. A candidate winning in his own district can be defeated by a popular citywide candidate. This has happened, and in 1964 a (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 4)

Tatroe Resigning Post in Waterford

By MEL NEWMAN

Dr. Don O. Tatroe, Waterford Township's superintendent of schools since 1963, last night announced his resignation — effective Aug. 1 — from the school district.

Tatroe revealed at a regular meeting of the township board of education that he has accepted the position of executive director of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

"I have accepted because of the professional advancement the position represents and because I would not have such an opportunity again in the future," he said.

Tatroe said the new job, which will locate him in East Lansing, makes him director of a staff responsible to the elected board of directors of the state association.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAMS

He explained that he will be responsible for organizing and working with committees within the association to develop effective programs of legislation and to help educate board members in understanding their job.

Tatroe became superintendent in Waterford Township after serving as assistant superintendent in the Warren system for nine years.

He previously was a graduate assistant in education administration at Michigan State University and a high school principal in Haslett.

DON O. TATROE

where he will replace the late Dr. Julius Barbour, Tatroe will hold a faculty rank at Michigan State and will teach a class in education administration, he said last night.

SOME REGRETS

Tatroe said he is leaving the Waterford system with some regrets — among them he is leaving behind what he described as "an administrative staff second to none."

He added that he would "like to be here to see Waterford's financial problems through to resolution," but that "one is seldom able to schedule all those (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

State Grant to Allow Start on M59 Widening Project

The State Highway Department granted an appropriation of $655,000 today to begin preliminary engineering and right-of-way acquisition for the widening of a 4.5-mile section of M59 in 1973.

Construction would follow in 1974. The road will be widened to five lanes.

The 4.5-mile stretch extends from just west of Bogie Lake Road easterly to Government officials, police departments and citizen action committees have created considerable pressure in attempting to extract construction commitments from the highway department.

At the same time, the Highway Commission announced a priority date of 1973 for reconstruction of a six-mile strip of Telegraph running through Bloomfield Township. Cost has been set at $6.8 million. The highway will be expanded to eight lanes with a median strip.

Another $1.8 million will be used to widen a nearly two-mile section of US 10 to eight lanes. The project would extend from Square Lake Road to Orchard Lake Road in Bloomfield Township.

Orion Home Fire Burns Boy Badly

A 2½-year-old Orion Township boy is in critical condition today at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, with third-degree burns over 80 per cent of his body, according to doctors' reports.

Louis Granado Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Granado, 36 Moulton, Orion Township, was injured in a home fire last night according to Lake Orion Fire Chief Jack Caylor.

Fire broke out in the kitchen of the Granado home at 7:17 p.m. and was confined to that room. Fire crews of two pumpers extinguished the blaze in 10 minutes but the Granado boy already had been trapped by the flames. No other injuries were incurred and there was no extensive property damage.

Area May Get Rain Tonight

Pontiac area residents may get a soaking tonight.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau, the official forecast looks like this:

TODAY — Partly cloudy and warm, chance of thundershowers late afternoon or evening, -high 75 to 82. Tonight showers and thundershowers likely, low in the 50s.

TOMORROW — Cloudy with showers likely in the forenoon, turning cooler, high 70 to 75.

SUNDAY — Fair and cool. Probabilities of precipitation in per cent are 30 today, 60 tonight, 60 tomorrow.

Fifty-two was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury recorded 81 at 12:30 p.m.

City Charter Drive Launched

By ED BLUNDEN

A petition drive aimed at bringing more voter control of the City Commission was launched at a kickoff dinner at Washington Junior high last night.

The petition will ask for an election to amend the city charter so commissioners would be elected by district, with populations as equal as possible.

The petitions also would bring about other minor changes including lowering the age requirement for commissioner to 25 years and the residency requirement to one year.

Heading the drive is a young attorney, Patrick Oliver, of 51 Cherokee. His petition group is the Pontiac Council of Concerned Citizens (PCCC). The petition is relatively simple and calls for the amendment of specific sections of the existing charter.

NEW CHARTER NEEDED

Oliver explained that perhaps a complete new charter would be called for but that this requires election of a charter commission and other procedures that would carry past the 1970 city election.

"This step is the best we can do for now," he said. The direct representation system is mostly a return to the former system used before a charter amendment in 1964 called for at-large election.

"The objective is to bring back city government responsive to the people," Oliver said. "The reforms which brought about the present system of non-partisanship were aimed at doing away with the old ward power system (in Pontiac as elsewhere)."

"But people are more informed now and aren't likely to fall victim to ward healers and such," he said.

WITHOUT THE EVILS

The proposed system would bring back a greater share of direct community control of the commission without bringing back the evils associated with old-time politics, Oliver asserted.

Curves Thrown at Motorists

COLUMBUS, Ind. (UPI)—Motorists along I-61 near here were greeted by 21 tons of scantily clad brunettes—on paper—today.

The girls, 65,000 of them, were spread across the highway when a truck loaded with centerfolds from Playboy Magazine was rammed by another truck.

The centerfolds featured a simply dressed brunette in a provocative pose. The double page foldouts were scattered for three-fourths of a mile.

May Close Chicago Schools

Teachers Vote on Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Union teachers vote today on whether to stage the first public school strike in the city's history.

A yes vote by a majority of the some 19,000 members of the Chicago Teachers Union would mean a walkout in 523 schools next Thursday.

The classroom stoppage could hold up diplomas needed by high school seniors planning to attend college.

The public school system has 23,000 teachers including those not members of the union.

The strike vote climaxed a six-month dispute with the Board of Education. The union's executive group, by a vote of 327 to 2, urged member approval of a strike call.

In January, the union threatened a walkout but held off and agreed to a tentative contract offered by the Board of Education. Implementing the contract, however, required a substantial increase in state aid, which has not been forthcoming.

Union President John E. Desmond has charged that the board has not worked hard enough with the state legislature to obtain the needed funds.

These are the union demands:

- A commitment from the board that there will be no teacher layoffs in June.
- No cutbacks in 1969 summer school programs.
- No decrease in education programs or equipment.
- Fulfillment of promises made by the board Jan. 20 concerning class sizes, salary adjustments and educational improvements.

- Salary increases of $150 a month for teachers and a 40 per cent increase for school civil service employees, both effective in September.
- Adjustments in salaries for specialists such as teachers of retarded children.
- Certification of full-time substitute teachers with two years of service if they are graduates of an accredited college.

When Henry, who was in uniform, walked up to the car and placed his badge up against the window, the driver backed up and then sped away running several stop signs, Chief Brustle said.

Henry gave chase, stopping the car about 10 blocks away on North Woodward at Harmon.

Brustle said Henry was stabbed when the driver walked up to Henry's car with the knife in his hand and the patrolman attempted to take it away.

OFFICER SHOOT

As his assailant turned to run, Henry fired one shot, hitting Swenson in the lower back.

Police from Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township assisted Birmingham police in looking for the knife at the scene, but it was later discovered that Henry had picked up the knife and taken it with him to the hospital.

FDR's Eldest Son Stabbed in Back in 'Family Quarrel'

From Our News Wires

GENEVA — James Roosevelt, oldest son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was stabbed in the back in a "family quarrel" last night, police reported.

Police today described the wound as serious, but associates of the 61-year-old former congressman reported his condition was good and that he would be discharged from the hospital in the next few days.

2 Slain, 10 Hurt at Ohio Plant

TWINSBURG, Ohio (AP) — An employee at the Chrysler Corp.'s stamping plant shot two fellow workers fatally and wounded 10 others before killing himself.

Sheriff Robert Campbell identified the assailant in the shooting rampage just before midnight last night as Robert K. Smith, 31, of Mogadore, an inspector at the plant.

The other two dead were Sam S. Zuchero, 57, of Alliance, and Vincent Bell, 39, of Cleveland. Two more of the wounded were in critical condition.

Sheriff Campbell said the shifts were changing when Smith arrived at the plant with three guns and started shooting. The firing lasted about 15 minutes.

Williams Schulz of Akron said he was leaving the plant when the assailant, a gun in each hand, shot two men just outside the main entrance to the plant.

"Then he went to a lunchroom about 50 feet from the entrance and started shooting again," Schulz added. "I didn't stick around to see what happened after that."

Charles L. Harris, 64, of Cuyahoga Falls, said he was sitting at a lunch table with five other men when the assailant entered.

"I saw this guy walking up behind the guy sitting across the table from me," said Harris, who was wounded in the hand.

"He shot the man sitting across from me right through the back. I think the bullet that went through him hit me."

write-in candidate defeated both district election winners.

Oliver branded the present system "a hybrid." "I'm sure we could defeat it in a lawsuit, but we prefer to take this route (a city election), he said.

The city's seven districts, established in 1921, show a great disparity in registered voters with some districts having twice as many as others. Totals in 1961 were: District 1 — 4,332; 2 — 4,197; 3 — 2,801; 4 — 5,838; 5 — 7,782; 6 — 2,943; 7 — 4,426.

Yesterday's meeting was more sparsely attended than was expected by PCCC members. However, as Oliver noted, almost all the 30-some present were representative of large groups such as unions, political parties or women's groups.

Only one city commissioner, Robert F. Jackson of district 5 was present. Jackson said he did not necessarily feel that his district was "safe," but pointed out he had already proposed to the City Commission that a charter committee be studied.

Other elected officials present included two county supervisors, George Grba, district 20, and James Mathews, district 19; a school board member, Christopher Brown; and a school board candidate, Harvey Burdick.

Others in the audience included George Goggsian, chairman of the county Democratic party; Don Johnson, president of UAW Local 906 at Fisher Body; and Elbert Hatchett, president of the Pontiac Area NAACP (also serving on the PCCC).

Most of them took bundles of petitions to begin the drive. More petition distributors are being sought. The sheets can be obtained by contacting the PCC office, 51 Cherokee.

About 8,000 signatures are needed, according to Oliver. This provides 20 per cent of the total eligible voters as of 1967 with a wide margin of safety.

For petition signers and circulators, a list of rules was announced by Oliver the legality of (some past petitions have been challenged in the courts). The rules include:

New Offices for Schools Open Monday

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham public schools' new administration building at Chester and Maple will open Monday.

The offices have been located in the 100-year-old Hill Building on Chester. The Hill building will be razed and the area renovated for playground space for the Baldwin Elementary School. Work on this project is expected to be completed by September.

The new administration building, which was authorized by voters in the bonding proposal of October 1966 cost $651,000 based upon bids received in October 1967. Construction began in November.

The 18,000-square foot building will house all of the central office staff which includes 35 secretaries and clerks.

Mrs. Harvey J. Dize, 1055 S. Glenhurst, has been elected chairman of the Birmingham Youth Assistance Committee for the coming year.

Mrs. Dize has been a member of the committee for four years and has been active in numerous charitable and civic programs in the Birmingham area. She succeeds Robert Kelly who has served as chairman since October 1967.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The East Hills High School Band Parents Club is sponsoring a car wash tomorrow from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the school parking lot at 2800-Kensington. The wash fee is $1.

Proceeds will be used to purchase music, musical instruments and miscellaneous supplies for the East Hills bands.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Rolfe W. Hunter has been elected a senior vice president at MacManus, John & Adams Inc. advertising agency.

Hunter will have full responsibility for the agency's corporate broadcast department. He joined the agency in 1964 as vice president and director of programming. Hunter will move here from Connecticut. He has been working in the agency's New York office.

Crockett: Judges Ignore Constitutional Principles

By NED ADAMSON

Judge George W. Crockett Jr. told a Birmingham audience last night that Michigan judges are not practicing in accordance with constitutional principles.

He added that unless democratic principles are practiced soon, racial strife and the rising crime rate will continue.

The controversial Detroit Recorder's Court judge, who has been heavily criticized for alleged leniency in his criminal dispositions, gave the message simple and straight in spelling out the basis for his courtroom philosophy in a packed Holy Name School gymnasium.

"The present system of justice has got to be made relevant to the disillusioned poor people—most of whom who happen to be black—who comprise the vast majority of the cases before criminal courts. We are simply not complying with the dictates of the constitution in the administration of justice," Crockett said.

BORROWS QUOTE

Borrowing a quote from Franklin D. Roosevelt, the judge noted "that a lot of Americans are willing to fight for the Constitution but few of them are willing to actually read it."

Crockett claimed the court's bonding procedure is in direct violation of the Eighth Amendment which guarantees reasonable bail.

"Nearly 65 per cent of the persons brought before me are indigent. Yet their bond is set so high that they never can possibly expect to pay it."

The Detroit judge explained the right of independent judicial power is very limited in Michigan when justice cannot be administered without fear of being reprimanded or removed from the bench.

'GUILTY OF RACISM'

"Why haven't we done something about these courtroom deficiencies? I am afraid we are guilty of a little racism when it comes to administering justice."

"We are a nation of split personalities. You are a product of a tactical society that has imbued in you that the black man is inferior."

The other side of that split is the conflict between the theory and practice of the democratic principles of the constitution.

Crockett said the black man, from day to day, doesn't know what the law is. He can never be certain how the law will be practiced when he is affected.

"A conscious effort has got to be made to overcome these split personalities. Give democracy a chance and you will not have to live in fear of living in fear of racial outbursts," he added.

A crowd of about 300 persons heard Crockett speak. His appearance was sponsored by the Birmingham-Bloomfield Human Relations Council.

No State Funds Marked for Needy in Nursing Homes

LANSING (AP)—Officials say Michigan today has no money specifically allocated to pay D-Flint.

State Social Services Director R. Bernard Houston acknowledged the problem. However, he said the nursing home bills could for a short time be paid through unexpended funds in other sections of his department budget.

But long delay over the bill allocating some $6 million for nursing home costs could create a problem, he said.

The delay is threatened by all Michigan's extra 1968-69 bills is amended, sponsored by Sen. Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids, which won bipartisan support as the senate gave preliminary approval to the bill Thursday.

"As of today, we have no Thursday.

Milliken Stresses Housing

LANSING (UPI) — Mayors from Michigan's big cities will meet in the State Capitol with Gov. William G. Milliken May 27 to discuss state and federal proposals for low-cost housing.

The governor told his weekly news conference yesterday he has been in constant contact with federal housing Secretary George Romney and other governors in planning an attack on the housing shortage.

"I don't want to build false hopes and expectations," Milliken said, "but I'm giving it the highest priority."

Hopefully, Milliken said, some definite steps to construct low-cost living facilities in Michigan discrimination charges "was not taken lightly," the governor said.

It stipulates that the House and Senate would divide capital space to be vacated by the state supreme court.

The bill would provide $194,740 for that move, aimed at providing more capitol office space for lawmakers.

VanderLaan said that the House had been promised the capitol space if it promised to abandon plans to construct temporary office building behind the Capitol. "I don't know who to accuse" of making the deal, he said, but "the Senate was left out in the cold."

"The governor appealed to the House—don't build the out-house," Lane said. "Then he released office space to the Senate." But the House would get the office space, Lane said, "so we don't have that monstrosity stuck in the backyard."

Zollar said he feared VanderLaan's amendment would stir controversy.

"I'm afraid it would be of such argumentative nature that it will delay passage of this bill," he said, urging VanderLaan to "find another vehicle—I'll help you find one."

"I'm sick and tired of this game of musical offices," argued Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson. "We're going to find ourselves with no office. Let's find out who cut the deal and where."

The amendment was adopted. Defeated was another amendment, proposed by Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids, which would have deleted a $500 appropriation to pay Michigan's share of the upcoming celebration marking the 10th anniversary of the St. Lawrence Seaway opening.

"It's pure and simple throwing away of $5,000," Zaagman contended.

"It's not going to bring one more ship into Michigan," he said. The money will be spent there. Big deal."

Michigan is the very heart of the Great Lakes system," said Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor. "In order to promote the seaway we have to participate. We stand to gain a great deal with this tiny investment."

Proponents pointed out that 11 other states will be participating in the celebration. "Michigan should not be a chintzy state," said Sen. John Toepfer, R-Cadillac.

The appropriations bill also includes some $3.7 million for direct relief welfare payments. Houston said the bulk of the supplement, some $3 million, was needed because the $60 clothing allowance payments promised welfare recipients has depleted department funds.

The bill also includes: $90,000 for salaries and staffs of three new state appeals court judges; $660,000 for district courts; $2.6 million for senior citizens tax exemptions and $2 million for social services foster care payments.

Detective Quiet 'Hero of Honesty'

By LOIS FRIEDLAND
FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—"A hero of honesty" well describes Detective Sgt. Earl Teeple, recently acquitted of 12 counts of violating a departmental police code and still the object of controversy.

Teeple, who repeatedly insists "I don't want to bad-mouth anyone," still refuses to outline actual incidents leading to his recent two-week suspension and yearlong probation, even now after the punishment was dismissed following a hearing by a township police board of appeals.

The charges resulted from his telling an Oakland County assistant prosecutor that he had seen two officers beat a prisoner last June. No action has been taken as a result of this.

Despite the subsequent hassle, Teeple's emphasis, "I've never regretted being honest," was relieved that it was out because it has to come. The incident still bothers me."

'BEST FORGOTTEN'

Now the 46-year-old Teeple, a weathered man with sun-bleached hair, says the incident is "best left to die." He added that last August he still hoped that the chief would investigate the matter but that matters were just proceeding slowly. He still kept quiet, "hoping to knock this off and let it drop" throughout the events following his discussion with the assistant prosecutor and up to his hearing.

Teeple never testified. Chief Irving Yakes did, however, and admitted that 10 of the 12 charges could be dropped. All were finally dropped.

Teeple claimed that the strong citizen support he received during the hearing convinced him that he had never been in such a "warm community."

A gratified man, he pointed out that he tried to see as few people as possible during the hearing, but still received innumerable phone calls supporting his stand and offering any help possible.

RELAXING NOW

"I've been a real bear for six months," the father of four admitted, saying that now he was again beginning to relax.

He pointed out that all of his defense work has been done during his own time and with his money — although none of the lawyers involved accepted fees — while most of the prosecution's case was prepared on township time.

He regrets that he wasn't allowed to work those two weeks since he is still catching up.

He reported that many of his fellow policemen have come to him privately — and a few openly — since the hearing to say that "They've been with me but didn't have nerve enough to do it but were glad I did."

A couple of officers are still cool, and

POPULAR MAN

A 13-year veteran of the force, Teeple is a popular man who opens his home and barn for frequent parties and gatherings. Space is always available for youngsters building floats or friends working on their cars.

He has an extensive police library and appears well-versed in law. He hopes to buy books to start a township police library with some funds which have been sent to him by well-wishers. He declined to reveal the amount.

Teeple likens the incident to a fire. In the beginning it can be put out easily, but then it grows into a holocaust. When it dies, the embers remain and he confesses to enjoying the aftermath.

Consolidation Petitions Taken

FARMINGTON — Petitions for consolidation of the entire Farmington area into a home-rule city have been accepted by the State-Boundaries Commission. A decision on when to order the election will be made at the next scheduled commission meeting June 11.

The petitions presented in March had been signed by 2 per cent of the residents in the affected area — Farmington, Farmington Township and the villages of Wood Creek and Quakertown. The commission at its regular meeting earlier this week asked representatives from two area groups at the meeting to submit in writing the reasons why each felt the election should be held at the time they request.

Paul Dietz, attorney for the petitioning group, requested that the election be held in October or November this year.

SPRING '70 VOTE ASKED

Farmington City Manager John Dinan, speaking for the Farmington Governmental Organization Study Committee, requested that the election be held in the spring of 1970. (The study committee is composed of two representatives from each of the four communities).

Dinan commented that the study committee wanted enough time to make an in-depth analysis of the recent Michigan State University survey of the Farmington area. In that study, consolidation of the area was recommended as the most advantageous course for all involved.

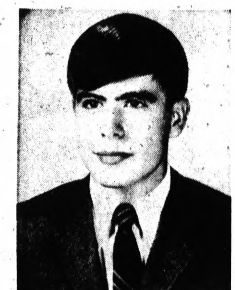

The study committee also wants time to present its findings to the community at a series of meetings prior to an election on consolidation.

A technical question concerning voting procedures revolves around whether the two villages, which still pay township taxes, should be counted independently or as a part of the township vote.

Announces Promotions

BIRMINGHAM — New appointments were announced this week by Ford Motor Co.'s U.S. Tractor and Implement Operations Division based here.

Hugh D. Cotcamp of Latham, N.Y., was named district-dealer relations manager. Edwin S. Hasel, formerly Northeastern District parts and service merchandising manager, will succeed Cotcamp. Charles C. Edie of 528 Ludlow, Rochester, will succeed Hasel in Latham.

DeMOLAY HOST—Tom Wiseman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wiseman of 3015 Newberry, Orion Township, will officiate for the May 24 Chevrolet Degree, sponsored by Lake Orion Chapter, Order of DeMolay. The degree is set for 8 p.m. at the Lake Orion Masonic Temple. Tom is past master counselor of the chapter and was a state representative for two years. He is a 1969 graduate of Orion High School.

Help Promised for Perilous Telegraph Stretch

Bloomfield Township Police Chief Robert L. Snell's office this morning unexpectedly received a telegram from State Highway Commissioner's office stating the department has fixed a construction date of 1973 for the Telegraph widening project.

By NED ADAMSON

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Telegraph is a death road.

In fact, the six-mile stretch of the highway that extends through Bloomfield Township almost defies the motorist to enter its path.

Telegraph has been the scene of numerous and violent accidents, which increase year by year.

LIKE RUNNING GAUNTLET

Or, as one observer who makes the trip every day puts it, "It's like running the gauntlet. One bat of an eyelash and you can be under a truck or in someone's front yard."

Autos, if they're not bumper-to-bumper during the rush hours, are constantly dodging and accelerating to get through hazardous zones — if they are not slowing suddenly to turn into one of the 188 turnoffs along the highway in this township.

Accident possibilities are constant.

Elimination of traffic hazards has long been a struggle for township police and government officials.

"The steady rate of increase in traffic accidents indicates that the six-mile strip of Telegraph in Bloomfield is the most risky and accident-prone stretch of road in the state.

'BLEAK OUTLOOK'

"The day is approaching when Telegraph will be totally unsafe to travel. The current rising accident rates indicate nothing but a bleak outlook for the highway," said Chief Snell.

County Action on Landfills for 2 Townships Postponed

By JEAN SAILE

There will be no county-operated landfills in two area townships, at least not right away anyway.

There was an unexpected last-minute postponement yesterday of action which would have allowed the County Road Commission to begin operation of landfills on county-owned land in Pontiac and Commerce townships.

It had been recommended by the public works committee.

Request for postponement came after letters from both townships opposing landfill operations were read before the full board.

REASON FOR POSTPONEMENT

But the postponement apparently came about because of a reply from Sol Lamerson, road commission chairman, to Board Chairman Charles B. Edwards Jr. in regard to support of legislation which would allow the county to designate the public works department as permanent solid waste disposal agent.

Public Works Committee Chairman Harry Horton gave no reason for the postponement during the meeting, but he later told reporters, "The road commission is too darned independent. We appoint them, set their salaries and receive their (annual) report, and that's all there is to it."

The road commission has recently taken considerable verbal heat from the public works committee as well as from other members of the board of supervisors on a variety of complaints.

There have been suggestions that present commission members be removed, and there was also discussion of support for legislation which would have abolished road commissions entirely.

DISAGREEMENT MAY RESULT

Disagreement between the two bodies may result in elimination of a $400,000 proposed appropriation to the commission in the 1970 budget. The funds would have aided a matching road building program.

Supervisor Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, said he anticipated that road money and the $2 million set aside for the new public service center to house the Department of Public Works and the Drain Commission would be first cut in the county's reduced budget. Preliminary Tax Allocation Board action indicates that the county budget will have to be pared $3.5 million.

Supervisors got into a hassle about fiscal reform as they passed a resolution opposing legislation to end tax exemption for municipal bonds.

Democratic supervisors Dennis Aaron, Huntington Woods, Philip Mastin, Hazel Park, Niles Olson, Orion Township and Lee Walker, Madison Heights, voted against the resolution, over arguments by other board members that such legislation would ultimately increase taxpayers' costs in bonding projects.

Staff Is Shuffled at Troy Schools

TROY — A top-level administrative realignment was decided upon by the board of education in recent action in lieu of an available new superintendent of schools to replace resigning Dr. Rex B. Smith.

Royd Larson, the current assistant superintendent in charge of construction, was named acting superintendent. Larry Hamilton, director of elementary curriculum and special education, becomes assistant superintendent of curriculum and personnel and John Diefenbaker, acting business manager, was named as acting assistant superintendent of finance and business.

Elementary School Principals David Battie (Watkins and Piquette schools) and Ron Stevens (Big Beaver and Hill schools) were designated as special administrative aides for five weeks of the summer to allow the other appointees to take vacation time.

Beattie was also named by the board as acting chief negotiator for teacher and staff negotiations to replace Diefenbaker.

The board has not yet hired a new superintendent of schools. Dr. Smith has reported that he has not as yet found a new position, although his last day as Troy superintendent is May 22.

Summer Program Sign-Up Is Begun

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Registration for the early summer program for elementary school aged pupils in the township is currently under way. The program includes sports, games, arts and crafts, movies and story telling.

Enrollment is limited to 60 pupils for each of four two-week sessions, beginning June 23, July 7, July 21 and Aug. 4. Deadline for registration at the school office is May 23. The fee is $3.50 per session.

Rochester School PTA to Install New Officers

ROCHESTER — The Woodward School PTA will meet Monday to install new officers for the 1969-70 school year. Following the 8 p.m. meeting at the school, several classes will present a musical program.

New officers are Mrs. Frank Richardson, president; Bruce Dodson and John Weamer, father vice presidents; Mrs. Eric Ketelen, mother vice-president; Mrs. Nicholas Stefan, teacher vice president; Mrs. Robert Chase, secretary; and Mrs. Glen Grubbs, treasurer.

cause of many of the accidents," claims Traffic Division Lt. Richard Reuther.

Chief Snell will probably make a decision in the near future regarding a recommendation to the highway department about implementing the no left-turn proposal.

"Certainly we will get a lot of pressure and static from people and the merchants, but this is what we need if anything is to be accomplished toward rectifying the situation," Snell said.

MAY ABOLISH LEFT TURNS

The police department is currently discussing the idea of abolishing all left turns in both directions between Miracle Mile shopping center and Orchard Lake Road.

"We have already discussed this possibility with the 32 merchants involved and to a man they screamed 'it would kill me' if such an ordinance were to be invoked, L.L. Reuther said.

He said that expansion of the highway eight lanes for the entire six-mile duration through the township will be the only way the road could ever begin to handle the traffic it's going to see in the next several years.

Bloomfield Township, for example, has grown from 3,000 to 45,000 persons in 18 years.

It is now estimated that 40,000 vehicles use Telegraph every 24 hour period. The upswing in commercial truck traffic has added considerably to the dilemma.

INTERSECTION COUNTS

Arbitrary counts taken at key intersections for full-hour periods have indicated an average of three trucks passing through the particular intersection every minute.

Lt. Reuther noted that 50 per cent of the accidents on Telegraph are rear-end collisions, which indicates the degree of congestion on the road. Principal accident causes include following too closely; passing without due care and traveling too fast for weather conditions.

Chief Snell explained that stricter enforcement is not a guaranteed deterrent to increased accidents. The department has issued 634 ticket violations since Jan. 1 on Telegraph alone, a 30 per cent increase over last year. However, the accident totals have continued to soar.

The chief explained that when the highway was termed unsound from all engineering aspects in 1965, preliminary plans were drawn, and approved for the expansion of the highway to eight lanes. Cost estimates were placed at $30 million. Right-of-way rights have been taken on nearly all property from 12 Mile to 15 Mile, but that is as far as the project has reached.

Show-O-Ree Set for 1,500 Scouts

HOLLY — Nearly 1,500 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers will participate in the Manito Boy Scout district's annual Show-O-Ree at Groveland Oaks Recreation Area on Grange Hall Road from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The Show-O-Ree will feature many Scouting skills including pioneering, signaling, first aid, crafts, cooking and sailing. Another feature will be a Cub-O-Rama, which will spotlight Cub Scout activities, including Pinewood Derby races.

Sea Explorers will give sailboat rides and music will be provided by the Boy Scout band of Troop 389 of Farmington and the Drum and Bugle Corps of Troop 43, Holly.

About 800 Boy Scouts and Explorers will camp for the entire weekend at the Groveland Oaks site. Webelos Scouts and their fathers also will camp during the weekend.

Army Asked to Eye Rifle Checks at GM

DETROIT (AP) — Rep. Lu have come to public attention cten "N. Nedzi, D-Mich., has thus far.

asked the Department of the Army to review inspection procedures in the manufacture of M-16 rifle at the Hydra-Matic Division of General Motors Corp. in Willow Run near Detroit.

Nedzi said he had received complaints that "required inspection procedures are not being complied with."

In recent years, a number of soldiers in Vietnam complained about the operation of the M-16 rifle. A congressional investigation earlier this year blamed malfunctions of the M-16 on "inadequate inspection procedures" at the Colt Arms Co. plant in Hartford, Conn. Colt also produces the rifle.

RANDOM CHECKS

A spokesman at GM's Hydra-Matic plant said that military inspection specifications were being followed and that only random checks were required on procedures" at the Colt Arms Co. plant in Hartford, Conn. Colt also produces the rifle.

N-Sub Being Repaired Sinks

'Radioactivity Not a Hazard'; None Hurt

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — A $50 million Navy submarine being remodeled at Mare Island Naval Shipyard sank Thursday night into the Napa River. No one was injured.

The Navy said the USS Gultaro was at dock-side for outfitting as a nuclear-powered fast attack submarine when she started to sink bow first in the 34-foot-deep river.

There is no danger of radioactivity, the Navy said, since the nuclear core for the power plant had not yet been installed.

Flooding started in a forward compartment, Navy officers said, and the crew and Mare Island workmen were quickly forced from the craft which was launched here in July 1968.

No cause for the flooding was given immediately.

Workmen and the crew were unable to close hatches quickly since welding lines and air hoses had been pulled through them from the shore.

The 3,500-ton sub sank in five minutes, an official said. Since she is on a tilt, the rear sail fin and the mast remained out of water.

Bystanders said electrical equipment appeared heavily damaged.

In B.C. Wilderness Areas

Survival Camps for Pot Users

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — First-time marijuana offenders in British Columbia are being sent to wilderness camps instead of prison. The results, officials say, are encouraging.

"We use wilderness environment to train them in basic survival, mountain climbing, canoeing, search and rescue, forest fire fighting," says Dr. Malcolm Matheson, 37, assistant director of corrections in British Columbia.

The main goal of the wilderness program, which began last October, is to teach the youths a sense of responsibility to themselves and others—something Matheson says they lack.

The average marijuana user, Matheson says, "can't even look after his own clothing or his bunk. They're dropouts from society and become responsibilities to society, but they are not criminals."

The youths are sent to camps like one on Boulder Bay on Alouette Lake, near Haney in northern British Columbia, 25 miles east of Vancouver.

The four-month program culminates in such tests as surviving several days alone with no rations.

Sometimes drastic measures are used to curb irresponsible tendencies.

"One kid didn't like his rations," Matheson said in an interview. "The instructor just kicked him out of the camp overnight, into the cold."

"He was back the next morning and liked his rations."

At any time there are just 44 youths in the Boulder Bay camp, but the turnover is high—12 in and 12 out every month—so it handles a large proportion of all marijuana offenders.

Matheson says he feels by the time they have passed the wilderness survival course, "we have changed their personalities" and they are ready to return to society.

Merchant Honors

DETROIT (AP) — Quinton Kimble, owner of a Detroit clothing store, receives the "Small Businessman of the Year" award for Michigan from the Small Business Administration at a luncheon today in Detroit.

Cost-Cutting Panel Urged

LANSING (AP) — Concerned over the rising cost of state government, Republican freshmen in the House of Representatives have proposed creation of a joint legislative committee to ferret out programs and services that could be cut or trimmed.

Committee expenses could not exceed $50,000, said Rep. John P. Smeekens, R-Sherwood, who cosponsored the resolution with nine GOP freshmen.

The committee would consist of six representatives and six senators. It would be empowered to subpoena witnesses, administer oaths and examine books and records of any person, partnership, association or corporation, public or private, under the terms of the resolution, Smeekens said.

The committee would make its cost-cutting recommendations during the 1970 legislative session.

Salute Michigan Week

Tomorrow ushers in the 16th annual edition of Michigan Week, the observance of which has done much to showcase the advantages and resources of the Wolverine State across the Country. This year's theme appropriately enough is "Michigan—Land of Hospitality."

Under general chairmanship of DEWEY BARISH, president of Detroit Institute of Technology, with Pontiac's CYLE HASKILL serving as Oakland County chairman, the Week gets under way with Community Pride Day. Locally, it will be observed by an all-day "Cleanup" aimed at selected downtown areas and premises. Organized by the Pontiac Jaycees, the activity will be participated in by hundreds of teen-agers enlisted from the City's Schools.

Many nearby communities are observing the Day in similar fashion.

Sunday is devoted to Spiritual Foundations Day, followed by Our Government Day on Monday. Highlighting it will be the exchange of mayors between various state municipalities. Pontiac's Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. will journey to East Lansing, while his counterpart, Dr. Gordon L. Thomas, will spend the day here.

Birmingham will trade its head of government, CHARLES F. CLIPPERT, for Dowagiac's JAMES E. BURKE.

Other Days follow: Our Heritage Day, Our Livelihood Day, Education Day, Hospitality Day, with the Week winding up Saturday with Our Youth Day.

Throughout the area, schools, civic groups and business organizations will join hands in programming ceremonial and educational events reflecting the significance of each of the Days.

Winter Seal of Holly is given noteworthy recognition by the selection of its Thermal Window as the County's Product of the Year.

As it has in past years, The Press warmly commends the concept of Michigan Week with a salute to the volunteer army of men and women who work throughout the year to make it the outstanding statewide project it has become.

Fortas Resigns in Disgrace

Resignation yesterday of Associate Justice ARTHUR FORTAS from the U.S. Supreme Court spared Congress the clearly-indicated duty of initiating impeachment proceedings against him.

FORTAS

Although scandal is no stranger in both the executive and legislative establishments of the Federal Government during the 180 years of its existence, it has not until now reared its ugly head within the pristine chambers of the U.S. Supreme Court—the third branch of the national government.

But rear its head it did, and FORTAS stood revealed as not only a jurist on the bench of the Country's top tribunal who sold his reputation and that of the Court for personal gain, but in doing so displayed such incredible lack of ethical sensitivity as should have disqualified him for the high office he held.

It was Michigan's Sen. Robert Griffin who a year ago first raised the question of Fortas' integrity when he led the Senate rejection of President Johnson's nomination of the associate justice to succeed Earl Warren as Chief Justice of the United States. Griffin revealed that the appointee had accepted a $15,000 fee from a university for conducting a seminar and that, additionally, his relations with the President had smacked strongly of untenable "cronyism."

At that time, the senator had warned that "only the tip of the iceberg" (of FORTAS' unethical standards) had been revealed.

But the submerged portion surfaced in due course, with the revelation that FORTAS had accepted a $20,000 payment from the Wolfson Family Foundation at a time when Wolfson, a stock speculator, was under investigation by the government, and is now in jail. Other disclosures indicate indiscretion on FORTAS' part in several legal connections prior to his appointment to the Supreme Court.

Fortas' resignation lays to rest but does not atone for what appears to be a most shocking betrayal of public trust.

The Scrolls

Baltimore Sun

The archaeological discovery of the present century—a young science's first century so far—remains the Dead Sea Scrolls.

In the early 1940s, the talk at many a secular dinner table had to do with Qumran caves and Bible times; later, an exhibition of actual unrolled scrolls, circulating among museums, set viewer-count records.

Among a select company of experts, meanwhile, variant wordings for Old Testament passages were suggested, nonbiblical religious works of the first centuries B.C. and A.D. were deciphered and analyzed and new insights into long-ago theological formalism were formulated by some scholars and questioned by others.

The six-day war, and takeover of the Rockefeller Museum in the Jordanian part of Jerusalem, happily damaged neither the patient scholars poring over the ancient texts nor the fragmented swarms of gossamers they have been fitting together.

Throughout, and as before, nothing in the scrolls shakes established religious faith. Jesus continues unmentioned.

The supposition: unproved but ever stronger, is that the monastery owning and writing the scrolls was home to the Essenes, that third sect (alongside Pharisees and Sadducees) mentioned by Roman historians but omitted from the Bible. The Essenes remain entirely outside Christianity.

Hockey

The Vancouver (Can.) Province

Hockey fans, who see plenty of tie games in the regular NHL schedule, will never agree with the U.S. football coach who says a tie game is like kissing your sister.

For the hockey nut the comparison fits a game without a penalty.

Many of them subscribe to the view that rough play and fighting are an inescapable part of hockey. Doubtless quite a few think they are desirable to provide the perfect spectacle.

But hockey doesn't have to be rough to escape boredom. There was plenty of excitement as Montreal Canadiens defeated New York Rangers 4-3 and eliminated them from the Stanley Cup playoffs.

The teams were so busy playing hockey that not many realized they were seeing the first penalty-free Stanley Cup playoff in 18 years.

The tempo and context of the game dictates there will be accidents and penalties in hockey. But the fights and some other incidents in some of the recent playoffs have not been of that nature.

'But What Can I Do?'

David Lawrence Says:

Nixon Puts Viet Policy on Line

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has laid before the world in unmistakable terms the American case in the Vietnam war.

He has made it plain that the United States is not fighting just a little war in Asia or seeking territory or other advantages for itself, but is trying to win conscientiously to find a way to deter future aggression and prevent a bigger war.

Mr. Nixon, moreover, emphasizes that he wants the Vietnam conflict ended permanently, so that the "younger brothers of our soldiers in Vietnam will not have to fight in the future in another Vietnam someplace else in the world."

The President obviously is offering proposals that are not so rigid as to prohibit countersuggestions and modifications. But he does not budge from his fundamental concept that there must be a peace which is guaranteed under some form of international supervision.

Mr. Nixon has indicated clearly that, while the United States is not trying to impose "a purely military solution on the battlefield," it will not consent to any "one-sided withdrawal from Vietnam" or the acceptance of terms that would amount to a "disguised American defeat."

RISK OF MASSACRE

To abandon the people of South Vietnam, he adds, would "risk a massacre that would shock and dismay everyone in the world who values human life."

The President goes even further—he predicts that the long-term hopes for peace in the world would be threatened unless a satisfactory settlement in Vietnam is assured.

He makes it plain that the United States is willing to talk about almost everything, but that "no greater mistake could be made than to confuse flexibility with weakness, or of being reasonable with lack of resolution."

Basically, the President has put greatest weight on the need for some "international supervisory body, acceptable to both sides," which would be created "for the purpose of verifying withdrawals."

'AGREED TIMETABLE'

Such an international authority would begin operating under an "agreed timetable" and would participate in arranging supervised cease-fires in Vietnam. The international commission would also supervise the elections to be held in South Vietnam and would insure that the peace terms are carried out.

The President, in his TV address arguing for a peace settlement, has opened lots of doors, but much depends upon whether the Hanoi government will be persuaded by the Soviet Union that the time has come to end the war and take a step toward world peace.

As might be expected, the first comments from Hanoi, Moscow and Peking are negative. For the Communists have a way of dealing with the public statements of other countries as if they were merely propaganda.

It remains to be seen whether, in the privacy of the negotiations at Paris or in the talks through diplomatic channels, there will be a recognition by the Communists that they are faced now with a major decision, and that the United States is willing to terminate the war on an honorable basis.

The real question is whether President Nixon will win widespread support throughout the world for his demand that there must be international supervision if any settlement reached is to prove effective.

Bob Considine Says:

Fake Priests Are Seen on Red China Mainland

NEW YORK — China's only Roman Catholic cardinal, Paul Yu-pin, recently elevated to the College of Cardinals,

CONSIDINE

Cardinal Yu-pin lives on Taiwan, where he is president of Fu Jen University, which has 3,000 students, about 300 of whom are Catholics.

"A Catholic correspondent friend of mine returned from China recently," the big, hearty Chinese prince of the church told his audience. "He told me that he ran across a Chinese in a priest's outfit walking back and forth in front of an empty Catholic church, reading from his breviary."

"My friend said to him, 'Dominus vobiscum' (The Lord be with you). The man was completely flabbergasted. He had never heard a word of Latin, apparently. He was there in front of the church, dressed like a priest, only for propaganda purposes — to show off in front of foreigners."

The Japanese once put a price on Cardinal Yu-pin's head. When they were driven out of mainland China and Mao Tse-tung's Communists took over, once more a price was put on the robust churchman's head. Presumably, the price has gone up since he became a cardinal.

The Cardinal's dear old friend, Harry Hersfield, believed to have been his first altar boy, asked his Eminence what will happen to Red China when Mao Tse-tung dies.

"I do not wish to say anything unkind about anybody," said the Cardinal. "I speak a word or two in English that escapes me. I cannot find the words. But let me say that if Lin Piao takes charge after Mao Tse-tung passes, China will be in the hands of an even less intelligent man. It will be a case of going from bad to worse."

The Cardinal thinks the Chinese Nationalists will be back on the mainland soon, come hell, high water, Mao and/or Lin Piao. He still believes that China is basically anti-Communist.

There is more to the Cardinal's dream. "I want to visit the tombs of my mother and my father," he said, simply and reverently.

Campaign Against Smut Is Discussed by Readers

Our family of three adult members is behind Chief Hanger's campaign against smut. Although we have no children of our own, we are concerned with the right of parents to raise their children to be clean and decent citizens. True, some experts claim that smut does not harm, but J. Edgar Hoover says it does, and it seems that he is in a much better position to see the over-all picture than any other person. Even if keeping smutty reading off the stands would prevent one crime, or keep one boy out of jail, wouldn't it be worth it?

2380 ROLANDALE, UNION LAKE

I commend the Pontiac police department for the crack down on filthy literature on bookstands, but let us take a look at the sex education in our schools today. This literature is called smut and fiction on bookstands, while the same material is called sex education in our schools. This is surely a sick society.

ANOTHER CONCERNED PARENT

In answer to Rodney Dunn's letter of May 12, why do you think there are sick-minded people running loose with rapings, murders and other filthy thoughts and action in mind? Thank God the police are starting to do something about it. What this country needs is some old-time religion.

'Cutback in Salaries Would Balance Budget'

Teachers, police, firemen, city officials, county officials, state officials—everybody got a big raise, all want another this year, and more next year. Looks like a cutback in salaries would balance the budget everywhere.

More Views Expressed on Sex Education

A recent letter criticized the challenge to Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S. (SIECUS) sex education materials and urged parents to "learn all sides." Most opposition to SIECUS is not against sex education; rather it is opposed to the type of sex education without morality that SIECUS leaders stand for.

4009 HARBOR VISTA, ORCHARD LAKE

There are experts who advocate the sex education program and others like Dr. James Lieberman of the National Institute of Mental Health who claim "too much information about sex can be harmful to children as not enough. Even perfectly accurate information can mislead the mark and be disturbing (or ignored or distorted) if the child is not ready intellectually or emotionally." Dr. William McCrath, a psychiatrist, states, "premature interest in sex is unnatural and will arrest or distort the development of a personality. Sex education should not be foisted on children; should not begin in the grade school."

MRS. NORMAN PARMELEE
722 HAMLIN, ROCHESTER

I don't see any need for further sex education as most schools have fine programs but they are not labeled sex education. I understand California has recently banned SIECUS from its schools.

Comments on Incident Involving Attorney

Sometime ago Milton Henry was barred from Judge Stiel's courtroom because of a remark he made about not being a citizen of the United States. Mr. Henry has strong beliefs and feelings about the racial issues and was probably only expressing his views, not actually renouncing his citizenship. I feel Judge Stiel misinterpreted Mr. Henry's remarks and therefore acted somewhat hastily in his decision to bar Mr. Henry from his courtroom. I've always thought that to give up this right it must be done in a Federal court.

Warns Parents to Watch Teen-Agers' Mail

Parents beware! A group called "White Panthers" is trying to take over the minds of our junior high and high school kids. They demand total freedom and down with anyone who stands in their way—God, parents, police and our entire democratic system. They feel that by offering what our kids "dig"—rock and roll music for excitement and dope to take over their minds—they can destroy America through its youth.

I have been made aware by mail received in our home by our teen-agers. Be on the lookout for mail from Trans-Love Energies, Ann Arbor. The rock and roll group is the MCs whose leader is John Sinclair. We must take an interest in our kids—someone else already has, demanding total freedom without the responsibility it represents.

Question and Answer

I've tried repeatedly to get a job as a cashier in supermarkets, but no one will hire me unless I can operate a cash register. Could you tell me where I can get this training?

REPLY

We called adult education programs, cash register companies, employment offices, and a number of other likely sources but found nothing in this area. Apparently that is generally on-the-job training, and we suggest you keep trying until you find an employer who needs help badly enough to train inexperienced help. Large chains sometimes have their own classes for new help. Perhaps a kind reader-employer will appreciate your diligence enough to offer to teach you. We'll let you know if we get any offers.

Question and Answer

Can they charge a woman who is divorced with back taxes her husband never paid?

BARBARA WHITE

REPLY

You didn't mention what type of tax you refer to, but assuming you mean Federal income tax, Mr. Russell of Internal Revenue Service says a divorced wife is responsible for them if she signed a joint return with her husband before the divorce was final. Otherwise, she is responsible only for taxes on her own income, not for any income of her ex-husband.

Molecules That 'Walk' Synthesized

HARVEY, III. (AP)—Walking molecules — those minute particles that hobble around on one "leg"—have been synthesized by a team of Michigan State University scientists.

Dr. Harold Hart, the leader of the team, said the molecules were produced in the laboratory by shining intense ultraviolet light on ordinary ring-structured molecules and then placing them in an acid solution.

"The walking molecule moves with only one leg," Hart explained. "The leg is a single carbon atom which moves in several different directions around the five-carbon atom ring of the molecule."

The molecules move to different parts of the ring several times a second, Hart said.

What use can be made of the synthetic molecules? Hart told the American Chemical Society, "They are simply interesting and are helping us to understand more about intramolecular changes."

Sisters' Deaths Still Unsolved

DETROIT (UPI)—The killings of twin sisters, knifed to death during an alleged rape attempt 10 months ago, remains unsolved.

Gerald Iovaldi, 18, was freed Wednesday. He was the second of two suspected slayers cleared in the brutal murders of Nora Ann Guiley, 11, and her sister, Deanna, last June 30.

The girls' brother, Dana had testified during examination last August that he let Iovaldi and another boy into the Guiley home to rape the girls.

But on the witness stand in Recorder's Court Wednesday, Dana, 15, admitted that everything he had said about Iovaldi and the other boy was a lie. The murder charge against Iovaldi was then dismissed.

Nora Ann was stabbed to death in the bedroom she and Deanna shared. Deanna, allegedly fleeing her attackers, was found dead between two houses on an adjoining street on the city's east side. She had been stabbed 17 times.

Dana, who was then 14, was committed to a state institution as a juvenile delinquent.

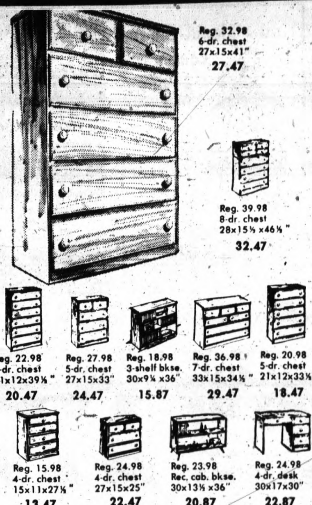

The other boy he named was later acquitted in Juvenile Court and released.

New Attractions

LANSING (AP)—New attractions for tourists visiting Ft. Michilimackinac and Mackinac Island will be open over the Memorial Day weekend, reports the State Department of Natural Resources. Reconstruction of the foundations of a priest's house at Ft. Michilimackinac will be completed. On Mackinac Island, new buildings opened will include the rebuilt post headquarters and a quartermaster's storehouse.

ROTC Blocks SDS Invasion at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — A small but well organized group of Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) cadets at Michigan State University could claim a "military" victory today over the militant Students for a Democratic Society (SDS).

The SDS attempted unsuccessfully Thursday to invade the ROTC headquarters. SDS members for the past week had circulated leaflets saying they would invade the ROTC office to present a set of demands centering on complete removal of ROTC from the campus.

Campus police said an estimated 35 to 40 SDS members retreated from the invasion attempt, driven off after fist fights, pushing and shoving.

Six cadets in plain clothes at first guarded the single unlocked door to Demonstration Hall, the ROTC campus headquarters. SDS members joined by members of the MSU Veterans Club and Varsity Club, STRICTLY STUDENTS.

"It was a strictly student-student confrontation," said a campus police spokesman. "No uniformed officers were present and no arrests were made."

However, Richard Bernitt, campus police chief, said two cadets were torn off his coat during the melee.

One defender of the ROTC headquarters told a Lansing State Journal reporter that a female SDS demonstrator kneed him three times in the groin.

Dr. Walter Adams, acting MSU president, gained use of a microphone for 30 seconds at the demonstration and urged both sides to engage in peaceful dialogue. Adams was in the center of the scuffling for awhile and appeared to have been shoved around a bit but ceremonies next week.

"DECLARATION OF WAR"

Last year, SDS members and supporters ran onto the field during an ROTC field exercise.

British medical representatives report they have found the cause of rheumatoid arthritis and may be on their way to finding a cure by injecting vitamins into affected bone joints.

Campus police said SDS leaders held a strategy meeting Thursday evening and reportedly decided to attempt disavowal of ROTC commissioning ceremonies next week.

House to Sift Podiatrist Claims

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan House yesterday created a special five-member committee to investigate charges that a Detroit foot hospital solicited sex row bums as guinea pigs for training new doctors in surgery.

The charges were made against Civic General Hospital, which specializes in foot surgery, by Dr. David Touchton, a former intern at the hospital. They have been denied by hospital administrators.

Touchton alleged that various activities of the State Board of Registration in Podiatry as well as the hospital, with findings and recommendations submitted to the 1970 Legislature.

The committee was appropriated $2,500 for the inquiry. It will have power to subpoena witnesses and examine the books and records of any person or organization involved in the allegations.

Gov. William G. Milliken, State Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley and the Wayne County prosecutor's office also are conducting investigations into the matter.

Democratic Rep. Matthew McNeely of Detroit, who proposed the legislative probe, will serve as chairman of the investigating committee. Speaker William A. Ryan will name the other members later.

Club Models Airplanes

Members of the Pontiac Model Airplane Club range from ages 6 to 60, and their fascination with the construction of almost perfect replicas of more than 250 airplanes is catching.

A model airplane exhibit this week at The Pontiac Mall sponsored by the Pontiac Model Airplane Club and the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department includes static displays and radio- and wire-controlled models of all sizes.

Most of the planes have been made from kits and painted by club members. Several models were made from scratch.

Model airplane club members will be present at The Mall each evening through Saturday to discuss the hobby.

CONSTRUCTION TIME

Dale Lovett of 411 Elm Hill, Avon Township, a club member, said it takes anywhere from three months to a year to construct a model.

The Pontiac Model Airplane Club organized in 1966, has about 85 members. More than half are under 16 years old.

The club is sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department and meets every other Wednesday. The flying site is on the Pontiac State Hospital grounds on Johnson.

Doctors Are Getting Rich on Medicare

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second of two articles on government health programs.)

By JAMES R. POLK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secret government records list plush Medicare payments ranging as high as $285,866 in a year and a half to one Miami, Fla., osteopath.

Two brothers in New Jersey were paid a combined total of more than $375,000 in the same span for caring for patients in nursing homes they owned.

The Florida and New Jersey doctors topped a nameless list in a report to Congress disclosing 47 physicians were getting $50,000 or more annually from Medicare.

Senate Finance Committee investigators are sifting the list as part of a probe of the $6-billion government program of health care for the elderly.

MEDICAID 'FRAUDS'
Hearings planned this summer also will touch on possible fraud scandals in Medicaid, the companion program for the poor, and will examine the soaring costs of both programs.

Federal officials have insisted on keeping the names of the highest-paid Medicare doctors secret, even from Congress.

However, the Associated Press has learned those at the top of an official report are:

• Dr. M. S. Fox of Miami, Fla., an osteopath who owns a downtown Miami medical clinic and a suburban hospital. He led the nation with the $285,866. Asked why the payments were that high, Dr. Fox responded that he is "probably the hardest-working physician in the country."

• Dr. James J. Rivello of Cherry Hill, N.J., also an osteopath, second in the nation at $199,992 for a year and a half. His brother, Dr. Ben Rivello Jr., received $178,568. The amounts represented the combined payments for a medical staff of six serving the nursing homes they operate in nearby Pennsauken, Mount Laurel and Maple Shade.

Dr. James Rivello said, "The

New Orleans Kills Shoe Shine Ban

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The City Council voted unanimously Thursday to repeal a 40-year-old city law prohibiting commercial shoe shines on Sundays.

City historians said the law was passed sometime in the 1920s, but said there was no record of what prompted it. The law wasn't rigorously enforced.

government asks us to give the lone doctor sees as many as 75 patients a day, sometimes more.

NO WRONGDOING

Medicare investigators have found no wrongdoing by Dr. Fox or Dr. Rivello.

"They have been going through with a fine-tooth comb," said the Miami doctor. "We just have a tremendously heavy workload of Medicare patients."

Fox, 42, trim-looking in a mock turtle-neck sweater, gold slacks and gray sideburns, operates a modernistic, new medical center in an aging neighborhood at the edge of downtown Miami. Aided by a staff of 20 nurses,

Floor Collapses in Church; 150 Fall to Basement

EASLEY, S.C. (AP) — About 150 persons plunged into the basement of a church when the floor collapsed during a funeral service.

Seventeen sustained minor injuries Wednesday and were treated at a hospital.

Tame Goose Chase at N. Dakota Zoo

MINOT, N.D. (AP) — Zoo officials are engaged in a tame goose chase.

Some 21 tame geese swam away from the Roosevelt Park zoo last month during the flooding on the Souris River. The geese have their wings clipped and can't fly.

Zoo officials are asking Minot residents to keep their eyes open for wandering geese now that the floodwaters have receded.

Survey of Boaters

LANSING (AP) — The State Department of Natural Resources is sending questionnaires to 23,000 Michigan boat owners selected at random. Information collected will help the department determine what type of docking, launching and other facilities are needed to best serve the pleasure boaters.

Last year this mountain doctor was paid more than $100,000 under Medicaid in Kentucky.

Another doctor topped him at nearly $120,000. One tiny mountain drugstore—so small a person could almost touch both walls—pulled in nearly $330,000 for prescriptions under Medicaid.

State investigators sent into Appalachia found "unusually large quantities" of drugs, some still unopened, in the mountain shacks. They noted that patients often went to doctors for prescriptions for the common cold or an upset stomach. The report blamed "permissive office procedures" for contributing to the heavy outlay of drugs.

'ASSEMBLY LINE'

The $100,000-a-year doctor—he doesn't want his name used—said he sees 100 to 200 patients a day, so many that he describes his practice as "assembly-line medicine."

He said he is so busy that his office nurse writes many prescriptions for him after he gives her the diagnosis. He also said too.

he sends prescriptions back with relatives occasionally for ailing patients in the hills who can't get to a doctor.

To the mountain doctor, closer attention and more thorough care for some patients would mean turning others away without any place to go.

"What else can I do?" he said.

Most of his patients are destitute, he said. The coal has been stripped from the hills, and the people are left behind.

DRUGS FREE

The doctor admitted he wrote prescriptions for patients for simple colds because the drugs were free to them under Medicaid. If they bought pills off the shelf, they would have to pay out of their pocket.

The doctor gave examples where, he said, six to eight prescriptions might not be unusual for a single patient whose poverty for life brings poor health, her the diagnosis. He also said too.

"Almost every family that comes in has to be worried," he said.

Kentucky is considering steps to place a ceiling on patient visits to a doctor because of the rising costs of its $48-million federal-state program.

HUMAN NATURE

Merritt S. Dietz, the 33-year-old former newsman who heads Kentucky's welfare programs, said, "You can't expect to make something free for a person and not have him get a whole lot of it. That's just human nature."

Dietz said effective controls must be placed on the government medical program before costs skyrocket out of sight.

"There has got to be some sense injected into this program," he said, "or it is going to be just another noble experiment that fails."

Humphrey Enjoying Roles as Prof, Columnist

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey is enjoying his new twin roles of professor and columnist so much he is now a card-carrying member of both the American Association of University Professors and the American Newspaper Guild.

The effervescent Democratic presidential candidate of 1968 used a career night with college journalism students Thursday to talk on teaching, writing, campus violence and just about any other subject that occurred to him or to his listeners.

"Look," he said in mock warning to Roscoe Drummond, Los Angeles Times syndicated columnist who happened by and joined the party. "I'm taking over in the columnist business." Besides writing his own syndicated column, which Humphrey endorsed to any editors who might be listening, the former Minnesota senator is teaching at Macalester College in St. Paul and the University of Minnesota.

Humphrey professed himself fatigued by six hours of lectures and four hours of student interviews at Macalester Thursday, then acted anything but.

WARM WORDS

He had warm words for President Nixon, the man who beat him for the presidency, and old-fashioned to tell me what was starving. Students today elsewhere and added with a lazy in the middle of the game. Humphrey agreed with a running for anything." Humphrey likening the 1968 campaign to a football game: "Some of the best tackles weren't made by the opposition."

He added, "When I see junior storm troopers taking over a campus, I say that it is a dangerous threat to everything freedom means. Violence destroys the meaning of words."

Humphrey said he was all for increased control of non-academic activities by students, "but I do not intend an 18-year-old freshman to tell me what

FBI Turns Film Editor for Iowan's Home Movie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leonard Donah's home movies from Christmas are ready now — the FBI has finished editing the film.

Donah and his wife came to Washington last Christmas to be with their daughter for the holiday and await the birth of their first child.

Donah, a 30-year resident of Fort Dodge, Iowa, used a lot of film in shooting movies of his daughter's home and the area in and around Washington. The movie-making made them the object of a four-month security investigation.

The trouble started innocently when the Donahs and their daughter, Mrs. Larry Handy, went for a drive in the suburban Maryland countryside, hoping the ride on bumpy Route 28 might speed her labor.

FILMED NIKE BASE

They stopped on the road three miles west of Rockville while Donah shot some home movies of the Army's Nike missile base including the white radar dome.

"It looked like a big white golf ball on stilts," said Mrs. Donah.

"You know, when we took the pictures we saw a car parked along the road and we joked that maybe there was a spy in it," she said. "Well it turned out somebody thought we were spies."

The FBI showed up last February at their Iowa home after tracing a license number and talking with Donah's fellow employees at National Gypsum Co. in Fort Dodge.

RETURNS FOR FILM

"He seemed satisfied and said the whole thing would probably be dropped," said Mrs. Donah. But the agent came back several weeks later and asked for the film.

"By then we could have sold anything we wanted to the Russians," Mrs. Donah said.

She told the agent the film had been sent to Mr. and Mrs. Handy in Maryland. At the end of April an agent went to the Handy home and took the film. It was returned 10 days later with the Nike scenes edited out, she said.

MANY FACES—ALL FUNNY—Comedian Arte Johnson for the last two years has been bringing to life a parade of hilarious characters in the TV show, "Laugh-In." He hopes to have his own show eventually.

Arte Johnson of 'Laugh-In'

Ve-ry Int-er-esting and Funny

(EDITOR'S NOTE — That comedian, dressed in a German uniform, who pops in and out of television's "Laugh-In" series is Arte Johnson. He was in the funny business nearly 20 years before his delivery of one line—"ve-ry int-er-esting"—made him one of the most popular comics in television.)

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK — Arte Johnson may not be the tallest man in show business, but the bespectacled elf of the "Laugh-In" regulars is a giant among red-blooded men: he works needlepoint during airplane flights and he doesn't care who sees him.

"Nobody gets giggly because tailors know how to sew," he pointed out. "I have to take a lot of commercial flights and flying is a bore. You — or at least I — can't dig into a book or magazine and I can't sleep. One day my wife was with me and she pulled out her needlepoint and sewed happily all the way to New York. That's how I got started and it makes the time fly."

"Sure, people look at me, but once they've gotten over the shock, they — particularly men passengers — are interested."

Arte, 5 feet 3 and, despite his 40 years, looking like a mischievous teen-ager, burst into the public's consciousness less than two years ago with the first "Laugh-In," an NBC special.

When it became a weekly series in January 1968 he was playing on a regular basis as his leering Nazi soldier with one line: "Ve-ry int-er-esting." It became a national catchphrase. Since then he has appeared on black-and-white shows as a regular basis as a tottering masher, popularly called "the couple of suits made," he said, old lecher "who weekly gets bashed on the head by Ruth money to have it copies."

Buzzi's reticence, and as an earnest little Russian. In all, though, he has appeared in 38 other characterizations that have been shown a few times. Johnson is another of a long string of overnight successes with a long training and waiting period behind him. He has been a comedian-in-waiting for almost 20 years.

"When George (producer George Schlatter) called about an idea he had for Rowan and Martin," said Johnson, "I was doing very well making commercials. I was happy and rich and I didn't want to give it up."

"George told me what he was thinking about, and I thought he must be out of his mind — but it sounded like fun so I said, 'what the hell, I'd do it and be special.'"

Since "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In" jumped immediately to No. 1 position in the Nielsen and remains the most popular weekly show, it has affected the form and substance of the regular variety hours. They've picked up pace, gone in for quick sight gags, one-liners, blackouts — and the imitators, of course, are around.

Johnson, who like most comedians is deadly serious about his job, says he does not think the imitations hurt, but rather enhance the original.

"We have the technique; we have developed the timing," he says. "So we have a big edge." Most of Arte's characters are old friends he has developed during the night club years. When he first pulled Rosencro, his little Russian, out of his trunk, he went to the Salvation Army to find that magnificent malaffited pinstriped suit and a regular basis as a tottering masher, popularly called "the couple of suits made," he said, old lecher "who weekly gets bashed on the head by Ruth money to have it copies."

Junior Editors Quiz on PROFILES

QUESTION: Why were ancient Egyptians always pictured in profile?

ANSWER: There have been several explanations. Some say ancient Egyptian artists were probably trying to draw people to look as much like people as they were able to do. Study the upper left. Doesn't an eye look more like an eye when seen from in front? A nose, however, is very difficult to draw from front view — the Egyptians didn't know how to use realistic shadows, as was discovered later.

Nose, mouth and chin looked most like themselves when drawn from the side, so the Egyptians drew them this way. In the same way, shoulders were drawn from the front, where they look wider. But since legs and feet look more natural seen from the side, the Egyptians used this view in drawing them.

Put these most favorable views of parts of the figure together and you get the Egyptian look in figure drawing. Others feel there is more to the Egyptian style than this. Egyptian art, they say, was meant to emphasize the belief in life after death, and these figures with their calm, monumental fitness look as if they would last forever. (You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Year-book if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Canada, U.S. Far Apart in Paying for Culture

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer

OTTAWA — When it comes to paying for culture, Canada and the United States are far apart.

The problem in both is identical for the performing and visual arts — how to bridge box office income and creative cost.

In the United States the solution is mainly provided by private philanthropy and emergency fund drives. Up here, plugging most of the gap is a government obligation.

A few figures show the contrast: During the next year the Canadian government will spend $9.6 million on painters, dancers, poets, actors and musicians; about 30 cents out of ever $1,000 in the federal budget. Or 47 cents per capita for a 21-million population.

SMALLER U.S. FIGURE

In the same period, if present estimates aren't cut, in Congress, the American government will post $4 1/2 million slightly bigger dollar for comparable purposes. Not the pros and cons of public subsidy — and how to avert establishment pressure on creative freedom of expression. Officials at CC headquarters speak to the point with urban emphasis.

"Make this very clear," says Associate Director Peter Dwyer, "the council doesn't want to take credit for what's been done. It's been done by the artists, and we came at a convenient time to help."

"I don't think it could have been done as fast without our help, but it's not our deal."

RESPONDS: Jean Roberts, supervising aid for theater and dance groups, carefully notes, "This is a body that responds rather than activates; there would be a cutoff point only if we felt that something was artistically shoddy."

Occasionally an aesthetic grant has raised eyebrows — such as $274 for New York demolition artist who axed a grand piano to bits, or a $3,500 allotment to "the town fool" of Vancouver.

"He told funny stories on the law court steps and tried to make people think," Miss Roberts defends. "We decided that the art of being a fool is a very ancient one and that this man was not in any way light in his intention. But it did cause a furor."

The "absolute key" of the arts program, says Dwyer, is the series of individual grants which this year will total $1.7 million.

REWARDS FOR ARTISTS: In the Canadian program about 75 established artists annually receive awards up to $7,000 plus travel costs "for sabbaticals or simply to buy time for them to create."

Other 240 younger citizens win $3,500 bursaries after an assessment process that is "competitive in the real sense of the word." About one in four applicants gets such assistance.

As a buffer against attack and to enhance potential service, the council periodically holds sessions called "soundings." Artists in a particular medium are called together for overnight meetings with officials to get rid of gripes and offer suggestions.

Out of such procedure, a program has evolved of short-term grants up to $1,350 for emergency needs, travel allowances and a fund to buy even oils and canvas for a needy painter.

Professional performing organizations and vocational schools receive most of the other money: $2.6 million divided among 24 theater troupes now serving all 10 provinces; $1.9 million to dance groups; and $500,000 for opera.

ABOUT 25 PCT. Andre Fortier, council treasurer, reports that federal support of music, drama and ballet averages about 25 per cent of operating budgets. Ticket receipts account for approximately another 50 per cent. The balance comes from provincial and municipal grants, finally private supporters.

"Public money," asserts Fortier, "is really your element of growth. If we pulled out, we might as well say we spent all that previous money for nothing because we've built up something that now goes flat."

"I think you're facing the same problem in the United States. You have built up organizations and they may now fall flat if no one comes to rescue them, because private foundations have only limited funds and there's a limit to what they can do."

Officials estimate that two million Canadians buy 4.5 million tickets annually to events performed by council-supported groups, a ratio in proportion to total population far higher than in the States.

Jean Boucher, director of the 21-member council, finds plenty of room, however, for greater appreciation of culture in Canada.

He lists major problems still remaining as development of museums and galleries that "are still in a very primitive stage;" improving the income of all artists; and increasing support by private donors.

CULTURE'S FOSTER PARENTS—The Canada Council is the embodiment of the national political commitment to the arts. In down-to-earth terms, this means a proposed expenditure next year of $9.6 million of public money for painters, dancers, poets, actors and musicians. The three council administrators shown here are (from left), Andre Fortier, treasurer; Jean Roberts, who supervises aid for theater and dance groups; and Associate Director Peter Dwyer.

'Most Victims of Cardiacs Able to Return to Work'

NEW YORK (UPI) — In journal of the American Heart Association. The units are much-needed when "barriers to employment of cardiac patients exist and are worsening."

He blamed the units for their "loss of vigor." They have failed to educate the public and doctors as to rehabilitative possibilities for heart patients and they have neglected research.

"The simple demonstration of capacity for physical work among cardiac patients has had a profound and positive impact on attitudes toward heart disease — in industry, among the medical profession and on the patients themselves."

A unit consists of a heart doctor, a psychiatrist or psychologist, a social worker, and a vocational guidance counselor. It scientifically sizes up the potentials of convalescent heart patients and plans ways of returning them to life's mainstream.

He appealed for a "shoring up" of this rehabilitation setup for heart patients in "Circulation," the technical

PARTY'S OVER — Taking down the decorations after the co-op banquet at Kingsley Inn Wednesday evening are Bloomfield Hills Andover High co-op students (from left) Bill Din, Debby Walker and Judy Lamec. All three are seniors.

Andover Fetes Co-Op Bosses

The 1968-69 Bloomfield Hills Andover co-op students entertained their employers at a dinner at Kingsley Inn Wednesday evening.

Other guests included E. L. Johnson, superintendent of Bloomfield Hills schools; Mrs. Ellen Beauchamp, administrative assistant; M. Edward Sewell, president of the school board; William Tunnick, assistant principal of Andover; and John Brickner, educational consultant, department of education, Lansing.

Theme of the dinner was "Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow." The ballroom was decorated with flowers made by the Co-Op. The balcony scene from "Romeo and Juliet" also was depicted.

The Co-Op's saved money from their earnings on their part-time jobs and took care of all expenses connected with the event. About 115 co-op students and guests were present.

Judy Lamec, president of the Andover Co-Op, was the toastmistress. Entertainment was by the Town Criers, a vocal group from Andover High.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to the employers by Mrs. Betty Dugan, vocational coordinator.

Holly Shows Variety in Hounding Teacher

By MARCIA CLARK

The annual senior variety show was presented by the senior class at Holly High School last Thursday and Friday. Lee Tyler was the student director of a series of skits depicting events of the previous year.

Ronald Hosner, sponsor of the senior class, received an Irish deerhound as a present from the class.

Shag, an eight-month-old, 180-pound dog was presented to Hosner after the Friday night performance of the variety show.

IMPRACITCAL TILL NOW

Hosner had wanted a dog for a number of years, but it was impractical until a few weeks ago when he bought a new house near HHS.

Shag has already caused a stir around Holly. People are just not used to seeing a dog resting his chin on the top of the windshield of a Triumph convertible as it is driven down the street.

The problem of transporting Shag has become a matter for consideration because a Triumph is a small car, and even though Shag is big now "He's just a puppy and still growing," said Hosner.

ADVANCE PURCHASE

Tickets for this banquet must be purchased in advance. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Prom tickets are on sale from members of the junior class and on the stage in the student center during lunch hours.

Tickets are $5 per couple.

The prom will be held in the HHS student center at 8 p.m. May 24.

Student body officers were elected Friday. Tom McKenny was elected president; Garry Adams vice president; Robin Ennis secretary and Connie Jones treasurer.

The HHS school paper, the Round-Up, was distributed to the students Wednesday. It has not been published regularly because of the lack of interest shown by the staff.

Two more papers are scheduled to be put out before the end of the school year.

Dominican Girls en Route to NY

By ANDI BARNES

The weekend started early for 30 seniors at Dominican Academy. For most of the girls, it began at 5 this morning after weeks of anxious preparation as seniors left for their long-awaited trip to New York.

While in New York, the girls will stay at the Taft Hotel. They will be kept busy with tours during their stay.

The girls also will receive free admission to the observation roof at the Empire State Building to be used at any time during their stay. They will visit the United Nations Building for a guided tour and see the Rockettes at Radio City Music Hall.

Tickets have been purchased for the play, "Fiddler on the Roof." Time for shopping and touring museums has been included in the tour.

DUE HOME SUNDAY

The girls will arrive home Sunday evening and will have Monday free from classes to recuperate.

Wednesday classes were shortened so that the clothing class could show off its achievements. Girls modeled their work in a fashion show for the student body.

Choir to Honor Its Director at Oxford Concert

By CAROL PRINCE

The theme of the Oxford High School Choir's spring concert tomorrow evening is "25th Anniversary with Mrs. Dorothy Jean Valentine."

Mrs. Valentine is the choir director.

The junior, high school choir and an alumni choir composed of Mrs. Valentine's students over her 25 years as director will participate with the senior high school choir in the concert.

The high school band will join the choir on "Battle Hymn of the Republic" to close the concert.

CAMP SCHOLARSHIPS

Music scholarships for summer camp will be presented to choir members during intermission.

There is no admission charge for the concert.

Candidates for Student Council officers gave their campaign speeches Monday.

Students running for offices are: Jeanne Nance, secretary; Pam Scott, treasurer; Diane Scott and Dennis Barrett, vice president; and Bill Bleybuck, Denise Wait and George Wilbee, president. Elections will take place next week.

SCIENTISTS HONORED

Science Fair awards were granted students this week.

Winner of the grand prize was Richard Specht for his heart exhibit.

Plaques were given to students whose projects were the best in biology, chemistry and physics. Winner of the biology plaque was Ann Keith, with the chemistry award going to Bob Sinacola and physics to Bob Specht.

Others receiving honors were: Debbie Hadd, Mary Ann Smith, Nadia Chahawa, Pam Smith, Jeanne Nance, Mike Janway, Sharon Dick, Jim Acheson, Penny Houck, Diane Teague and Martha Ricketts.

Groves Says 'Si Si' to Fiesta Espanola

By KIM SEROTA

"El club de espanol tiene el placer de presentar una j Fiesta Espanola!" has greeted students of Wyle E. Groves High School during the morning announcements all this week.

Fiesta Espanola is a presentation of Groves' Spanish Club and classes. It will be held tonight and tomorrow at 8 p.m. Tickets are complimentary but must be reserved.

The program will feature a cultural display of native dances, songs and poetry.

A chorus of 30 students will sing such Spanish tunes as "Guantanamera" and "La Bamba." Soloist Maureen Scully will sing the Spanish language versions of two Beatles songs, "Ayer (Yesterday)" and "Sin Ti (Here, There, and Everywhere)."

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Eduardo Colombo, Groves' foreign exchange student from Argentina and Gustavo Novillo, another Detroit area exchange student will perform several of their native songs.

Gustavo and senior Ken Goldman will provide guitar accompaniment for dance numbers and play several classical and Spanish guitar arrangements.

Six Spanish poems illustrating life and culture will be recited by Penny Blumberg, Eric Borofsky, Sandy Fishburn and Sue Sefansky.

In the planning stage since October, Fiesta has developed into a major production. It was originally intended as a Spanish Club presentation but through a money grant from Groves Student Corps and several fund-raising projects it has become one of the main events on the school's program calendar.

CULTURAL KNOWLEDGE

George Prosper, Spanish instructor and director of Fiesta Espanola, feels that the program is important in introducing some cultural knowledge into the teaching of his Spanish classes.

The production has already been presented at a junior high school in Southfield and the two performances in Groves' Little Theater will culminate the students' work.

On hand for the final show will be Mexican Consulate representative George Aguilar, the Spanish Club's special guest, and an assortment of native Latin American and Spanish visitors.

Two Groves juniors, Patti Barone and Anne Bernardini, will travel and study abroad this summer under a program offered by the American Institute for Foreign Studies.

The two girls will leave for Europe July 23 and travel through London, Brussels, Paris and Milan. Their six-week study program includes a four-week course at the Italian Institute for Foreign Studies in Perugia, Italy.

Along with about 15 other Michigan students they will study Italian culture, history, and language.

Mott Students Nearing Heyday

By GEORGIA ROSEWALL

Antique Village will be the scene of activity tonight as Waterford Mott High School students go on a hayride.

Students are to meet at Waterford Township High School at 7 and return at 11. Price is $2 per person and includes dinner.

The event is sponsored by the sophomore planning committee. Profits will go into the class treasury.

Faculty sponsor of the hayride is Mrs. Clayton Roth, English teacher.

SUNDAY PICNIC

Foreign Exchange Club is having a picnic Sunday from 1-6 p.m. at the home of Ann Edwards.

All members are invited, plus foreign exchange students who attend Waterford Township, Pontiac Northern and Troy High Schools.

The group will enjoy a picnic lunch and play badminton, volleyball and other outdoor games.

Mrs. Clayton Roth is Foreign Exchange Club sponsor.

CHEERLEADING PRACTICE

Girls trying out for cheerleading were practicing after school all this week.

The varsity and junior varsity squads will be chosen by Tuesday.

Squads for next year will consist of six cheerleaders and one alternate.

Faculty cheerleading sponsors are Mrs. Laura Bemis and Stella McKee.

Student Council is planning a dance to be held after Mott's Fun Fair, May 24.

The dance will be from 8-11 p.m. in the Waterford Township High School gym.

Refreshments and a band will be featured.

Chairman of the dance is Mari Lynn Hutson. Profits from the dance and the Fun Fair will go towards the purchasing of carpet for the Media Center in the new building.

W. Bloomfield Showing 'Birdie'

By SHARON CARR

The final performance of West Bloomfield High School's production "Bye Bye, Birdie," directed by Drama Teacher Thomas Smith, will be at 8 tonight in the high school cafeteria. Tickets are available at the door for $1.

Acting in the play are Hal Cowan as Birdie; Todd Lile, Albert; Gail Couch, Rosie; Linda Doering, Helen; Patti Huddy, Nancy; Ellen Couch, Margie; Jann Morrison, Alice; Dick Read, Freddie.

Kym DesJardins, Karl; Bob Shaw, Herby; Barb Swart, Penelope; Sue Alkema, Suzie; Carol Shaw, Kim.

OTHERS IN CAST

Others are Virginia Sleden, Ruth Trunsky, Nancy Goodale, Mike Zerull, Rick Gross, Ken Carevic, Bob Rowan, Sandy Elbing, Cathy Russel, Greg Kjolhede, Dave Burt, George Galayda, Debbie Charlebois and Lynn Hugel.

Dancers in the play are Anne Richards, Chris Barnard, Sena Westjohn.

Julie Burt, Luanne Grossman, Dee Cutcliff, Jan Kevitch and Anne McGuire.

The chorus consists of Kirk Mahnke, Keith Murphy, Lee Beuthien, Diane Shotwell, Laurie Smith, Anne Roper, JoAnne Straus and Bill Feidler.

Since the band's first car wash was so successful members have decided to try it again. Tomorrow from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. the band members will wash cars, inside and out in the high school parking lot for $1.

STAFFS ANNOUNCED

The journalism class has announced its yearbook and newspaper staffs for the 1969-70 school year.

Serving on the Exodous yearbook staff will be: Ruth Sommers, editor; Marg Neubecker, assistant editor; Kirk Mahnke, senior editor; Andi Jahns, underclass editor; Sharon Hamburg, activities editor; Barb Swart, faculty editor; and Lynn Labick, business manager.

On the Anchor News Staff are Barry Grunday, editor; Leslie Parker, news editor; Pat Norgel, feature editor; Larry Brower, sports editor; Sharon Hamburg, copy editor; and Cathy Garrick, business manager. Serving as photographer for both the Exodous and the Anchor will be Fred Roseman, who served as such on this year's staff.

Brandon Helping Slake Gls' Thirst

By MARJORIE WIDMAN

Powdered soft-drink packets for the boys in Vietnam were collected from students at Brandon High School Tuesday by the Student Council.

To further the program, the junior high chorus sang and the high school band played.

In all the Student Council collected over 100 packages and made $60.05.

The junior-senior banquet will be held Saturday in honor of the seniors and will start at 6:30 in the cafeteria.

TOP SCHOLARS — Lake Orion High School students Karen Thompson and Serie Spicer were named the top scholars in their graduating class of 1969. Karen was named valedictorian with a 3.91 average throughout her high school career. Serie earned the salutatorian spot with a 3.88 grade-point average.

WTH Students to Be Honored

By JANICE CRISP

Waterford Township High School's outstanding students will receive recognition to help let them know that all the work was worth it.

Monday the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club will sponsor a Michigan Student Honors Banquet at the CAI building.

Also attending the banquet will be students from two other area schools; about 120 altogether, plus their parents. The banquet is planned to honor not only the students but the state of Michigan as well.

Dr. Harold E. Sponberg, who is president of Eastern Michigan University, will be the featured speaker. Entertainment will also be supplied by the Mason Junior High Chorus.

LEAVE FOR RANCH

The Waterford Township - Domestic Exchange Club will sponsor a paper drive on May 21. Anyone interested in having papers picked up should contact Mrs. N. H. McCandless, cosponsor of the club.

Waterford students will be given one more chance to make the last payment on their yearbook. From May 19-23 money will be collected in homeroom.

Students who fail to finish payment will not receive a yearbook when they are delivered next September, nor will their money be refunded.

Pontiac Catholic Juniors Host Prom

By GERI KLINKHAMER

The junior class of Pontiac Catholic High School sponsored the school's Junior-senior prom last night.

"For One Brief Shining Moment" taken from "Camelot" was the theme of the festivities which were held at Mercy College of Detroit.

The faculty-varsity basketball game was finally played, and the varsity won, 61-58.

The Juniors received their class rings, starting a new tradition at PC. The rings were originally received in the fall of the senior year.

Students had a brief ceremony in the school courtyard at which the rings were blessed and then presented to each student.

A Gay Time Awaiting Novi Seniors at Ranch

By THOM HOLMES

Members of Novi High School's senior class left this morning on their class outing at Gal El Rancho near Gaylord. For seniors who did not go on the trip, today was an official skip day.

The Junior-Senior Prom is next Saturday. Admission is $6 in advance.

Next fall will find Karen at Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College where she plans to major in English. She plans on a career in secondary education.

Salutatorian for Lake Orion's graduating class is Serie Spicer who has a 3.88 grade-point average. Serie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Spicer, Joslyn Road Orion Township.

During her senior year, Serie has served as president of Theatians and Youth For Christ. She is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Last summer, Serie attended the 1968 session of the American Legion Auxiliary Girls' State. In 10th and 11th grades, she held major roles in both all-school plays.

Serie is planning to apply at the Mercy College of Detroit in pursuit of a career in medicine. When she becomes a doctor, she would like a position on the Ship Hope.

STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTS

The Student Council officers for next year are elected. Running unopposed for the presidential office was Mike Baker. Serving with him on the executive board will be Chuck Spencer, vice president; Kathy Hauxwell, secretary; and Pat Clemens, treasurer.

Today is the annual unsupervised yet "legal" Senior Skip Day. The seniors have looked forward to this coveted skip day for a very long time.

Next year's cheerleading squads have been chosen, following some rigid practices and tryouts. The junior varsity cheerleaders next year will be Sandy Carlin, Joann Gawnie, Leslie Harold, Betsy Hauxwell, Kathy Koehn and Cheri Rusch.

The varsity cheerleading squad will consist of Linda Adkins, Barb Alban, Mary Ann Hopkins, Karen Koehn, Kris Kneester and Pat LaLone.

Charles Hopper has been elected president of the National Honor Society. Laurie Crawford is the vice president; Sara Jo Hauser, treasurer; and Pat LaLone, secretary.

The YFC also recently elected its officers for next year. Debbie Shanahan is president; Dennis Crothers, vice president; Joanne Turner, secretary; and Michele Savory, music.

Both teachers will teach at Walled Lake Western next year.

The concert will present both vocal and instrumental music.

"Piano Concerto" by Grieg and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The Concerto will be played by Mrs. Robert Thibideau accompanied by the orchestra. The Battle Hymn will be the finale and will combine all of the vocal groups and the instrumental.

SOUVENIR RECORD

The music department is also offering a souvenir record for all who wish to buy it at $3.68.

The record will be a medley of concerts of this past year.

The Junior-Senior Reception will be held on May 23.

There is just a short time left to buy "The Viking" the school's yearbook and "The Varieties" the supplement to the yearbook before the price goes up.

DRESS CODE

The price of the yearbook is $4 and the price of the "Varieties" is $1.35.

The school board recently approved a modified dress code for high school students allowing pant dresses and bermudas at certain times of the year.

Girls may wear culottes and pant dresses, while both sexes may wear bermudas from May 1 to Oct. 15. No cutoffs will be allowed on anyone at any time.

Girls may not wear slacks, jeans, or shorts, while boys are forbidden to wear T-shirts without a shirt or sweater.

CREATED BY COMMITTEE

The new code was created by the Dialogue Central 1969, a committee of some 24 students, faculty members and administration officials.

Each change from the traditional code of dress was carefully considered and voted on. Changes had to be approved by two of the three groups on the committee before it was accepted.

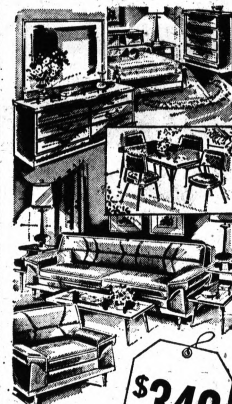

Earlier this year, Central students were allowed to wear anything they wanted to for one week. Afterwards, voting decided what was most desired by the students and was taken into consideration by the committee.

The code will also be upheld at the Western High School opening next fall.

Monster of Loch Ness Defended Against Sub

INVERNESS, Scotland (UPI) — For centuries, Loch Ness has been the monster Nessie's lake and the clan Fraser aims to keep it that way — come hell, the Campbells or a yellow submarine.

Lord Lovat, the Fraser clan chief who led commandos across European beaches in World War II, today piped a call to the defense of the Loch Ness monster against an American-built miniature submarine. He is one of Scotland's major landowners.

"The monster is Scotland's greatest invisible asset," Lord Lovat huffed. "I don't mind the scientific survey going on to try to identify it, but I do object to it being harried and harassed by a submarine."

Lovat is asking Inverness police to enforce national laws which forbid attempts to "molest or hit the monster if it is sighted." He is also rallying clansmen and private landholders on the Loch to stand ready to keep the submarine out of the icy waters.

EN ROUTE TO SCOTLAND

The one-man submarine is en route to Scotland by freighter from Norfolk, Va., to assist the Loch Ness Phenomena Investigation Bureau Ltd. In trying to pin down just what lurks in the peat-clouded waters of Scotland's biggest and deepest freshwater lake.

The submarine is to ply the 750-foot depths using sonar and radar to try to establish the size and shape of the monster. The Loch is too murky for visual sightings under the surface.

If strange readings materialize, the submarine will attempt to nudge up to the monster and pluck out a piece of its flesh with a harpoonlike tool outside the hull.

"We certainly mean Nessie no harm," one investigator on the scientist-led monster-watching team said. "It would be like giving a land animal an injection."

NEED PIECE OF FLESH

The 8-year-old bureau's official "monster-watching season" opens Saturday. The investigation is headed by University of Chicago biochemist Roy Mackal, who has yet to sight the monster himself but suspects it is an overgrown sea cow or giant sea slug — not the sinister and scaly sea serpent in fuzzy photos of the phenomenon.

The bureau has amassed enough solid scientific evidence to be convinced some strange creature inhabits the loch. "What we need is a piece of flesh — that will give us a lot of answers," Mackal said.

The scientific purpose of the submarine did not unnerve Lord Lovat. "I don't know who has given authority for bullying this animal but I am going to find out," he said. "Lord lives at Beaulieu, about 12 miles from the Loch Ness shores."

1969 AGENDA FOR TOMORROW By Stewart L. Udall. Harcourt, Brace, $3.75.

The former secretary of the Interior has written an exhortatory plea for imaginative planning for the future. It will upset some readers, but it will also challenge and inspire others. In short, it is sufficiently bold to be controversial.

Udall reviews the social ferment and racial problems of the past 20 years and concentrates on the "mess" of urban life, expressing approval of the writings of Lewis Mumford and others.

He proposes a nationwide revival at all levels, of urban renovation and rural renewal. He would expand the Model Cities legislation and set up environmental commissions with national, regional, state and local impact.

"We can rebuild our cities," he says, "reconcile our people, eliminate poverty, achieve population balance, and establish a conservation regimen that will provide a life-giving environment if we have leaders willing to propose the bold but practical steps we need to achieve these goals."

MISSION TO HANOI By Harry S. Ashmore and William C. Baggs. Putnam, $6.95.

The Ashmore-Baggs mission developed after these two officials of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, organizing a "Pacem in Terris" meeting, learned that Ho Chi Minh was willing to talk with representatives of the Center.

Acting privately, but with State Department clearance, they visited Hanoi in January

Naturally, this report covers only a segment of the complex relations between the U.S. and North Vietnam, and it will take time for historians to fit it into the developing picture it is ably presented by two journalists of high caliber.

THE SHADOW OF BLOOM (McGraw-Hill, $12.50): A biography of President Warren G. Harding who led H. L. Mencken to say democracy is the theory of government that says the people deserve to get what they want and get it good and hard. Russell sometimes writes with acid, especially in describing the Ohio Gang who bilked Harding and the U.S. Treasury. He masterfully describes an era and paints vivid portraits of such men as Taft, of Ohio "bosses" such as Hanna, Cox and Foraker, of fat Jess Smith who committed suicide in the midst of White House scandal.

But the great portrait, done with sympathy, is of Harding. There is Harding admitting he cannot understand world politics. "There is Harding freeing Eugene V. Debs or telling a scolding woman he does mind having Warren G. Harding insulted but does mind anyone being rude to the Presidents, organizing a 'Pacem in Terris' meeting."

There is Harding struggling with a bishop to avoid signing a pledge never more to drink alcohol. He signed Harding's trouble was that he had too much trouble saying no.

Robert Thom of Birmingham autographs prints of his famous "History of Michigan" paintings Thursday after speaking at the annual awards program of the Pontiac Area United Fund's Women's Division. With him are two young recipients of awards: Martha Killane of Rochester (center), a senior at Oakland University, who is a weekly volunteer at the Boys' Club of Pontiac; and Mrs. Theodore Karla, Winchcombe Drive, Bloomfield Township, a volunteer at the Kenney-Michigan Rehabilitation Center.

Whelan's Hopeful Cincinnati's Music and Theater Comparable

By SHIRLEY GRAY

The Philip G. Whelans of Bloomfield Hills are packing up their 14-year-old daughter, Katie, three Siamese cats, the piano and everything else and moving to Cincinnati after 17 years in this area.

The move, dictated by a new job for the man of the house, will come in late June, after Katie finishes as a freshman at East Hills.

It's reassuring to hear that Cincinnati is known as a city with an especially lively interest in music. Mrs. Whelan, who has accompanied the Birmingham

Musical's choral ensemble for the last eight years, will no doubt find something of interest musically.

Let's hope her husband, whose love is amateur theater, especially the Birmingham Village Players, finds the theater scene active here.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip R. Flanders of Bloomfield Hills will be at the Village Woman's Club's spring formal tomorrow evening, bringing as guests old, old friends from Grosse Pointe, Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Mackintosh.

ACTING IT OUT

Mrs. Flanders, another theater buff, is playing the role of prop man tonight at the Theater Arts annual Men's Night at the Player's Playhouse on East Jefferson, TA, of course, is all female, except for one event each year when husbands, sweethearts, etc. are invited to a performance.

Mrs. Flanders' backstage role will consist of shepherding the refreshments — 60 pounds of meat, 40 loaves of bread, etc. — there safely. More nervewracking than the lead part.

Knight Templars Detroit Commandary No. 1's ladies sewing club is having its spring luncheon next Thursday (May 22) at Plum Hollow Golf Club. The club, which sews and raises money for Booth Memorial Hospital and other worthy causes, was a particular favorite of the late Matilda Wilson.

Among some of the localities planning to attend are Mrs. Frank Howlett, Mrs. Rowe Balmer, Mrs. John Downs, Mrs. Frederick Lorne and Mrs. Clifford Lorne, Mrs. Gertrude Skillman, and the chairman, Mrs. Walter McGoogan of Farmington.

Plan Arts Council for Farmington

Oakland Community College and the Michigan State Council for the Arts are assisting a steering committee which has been formed to develop a Farmington Arts Council. Mrs. Eugene Schoeneich, Farmington branch, American Association of University Women (AAUW) has announced.

The steering committee hopes to coordinate the activities of upwards of 100 clubs and organizations in the Farmington area by establishing a community calendar of activities and encouraging public events and services in the arts and related areas.

All Farmington area persons and organizations interested in such a coordinating group are invited to attend an open meeting at 8 p.m., Monday, in Room J-408 in the Commons Building, OCC Orchard Ridge Campus.

Left Handers Need Not Be That Awkward

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: I am left-handed, and it gets awful hard to act suave and sophisticated when you have to begin each and every meal by behaving like a contortionist just to have the right piece of silver in the correct hand at the correct time.

What is proper: Pick up all the silver that is to be used and put it on the left, or reach across the plate and get the correct utensil as is needed? Can I pick up the water glass and put it on my left, which is where I need it?

I have come to believe that everyone really expects southpaws to be awkward and clumsy. But I am a lost cause. Please help! — Mrs. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: I really do not understand why it is so difficult for a left-handed person to use a standard place setting. After all, right-handed people must reach across to the left to use a butter plate, or to eat salad from that side, and it does not seem to be a problem.

They must also reach across to pick up the fork, which is on the natural side for a left-handed diner. If "lefties" prefer to move the water glass a little toward the left, by all means do so, but would you then put the butter plate over on the right?

Once the silver has been used it is placed on the plate in any case — on whichever side you wish. If left-handed people are taught to use the utensils as they are properly placed, from the time they are children, they will have no more trouble than a right-handed person.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Dear Mrs. Post: My two sisters have invited me out for dinner on my birthday. My friend feels this is in poor taste because we will not have a male escort. What is proper etiquette in this situation? — Cathy

Dear Cathy: "Proper etiquette" as you call it should make life simpler and more pleasant — not restrict and complicate it. Nobody who would criticize you for dining in a nice restaurant with your two sisters on your birthday is living in another world.

OU to Host Highland Competitions on Campus Saturday and Sunday

The Highland Games at Oakland University Saturday and Sunday are expected to draw a crowd of 400 or more during the hours of 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. each day.

Highlighting the two-day affair will be the "March Past" of the massed pipe bands and competitors on the University grounds at 1 p.m. both days.

Patricia Veal, leader of the United Nurses Association heading a mass march of nurses carries a broom and a determined look on arriving at the Royal College of Nursing in London Thursday. The broom was brought because the nurses say "the authorities have been sweeping things under the carpet for so long." Their main complaint is that they're paid so little they're often hungry.

His Ex-Wife's Tactics Put Her in Winner's Circle

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was a bachelor until the age of 56, and all I can say is that some men don't know when they're well off.

"Lena" (I'll call her) kept asking me for money for the track, so I gave it to her. A hundred here, a hundred there. I never kept books on how she came out, all I know is she said she "lost" most of the time.

Well, four years later, Lena sued me for divorce. She didn't have any grounds, but if she'd have got what was coming to her she could have sued me for assault. We settled out of court.

Now it comes out that while we were married Lena squirreled away about $25,000. My lawyer says the money is HERS. I don't know how he figures. Don't you think I'm entitled to that money?

OUTFOXED: So she "outfoxed" you, and "squirreled" away $25,000? Maybe you should have consulted a zoologist? You paid a lawyer for his legal counsel, so if he says it's HERS, 100 to one, it's hers.

DEAR ABBY: If more than one mouse is "mice," isn't more than one spouse "spice"?

DARRELY: More than one spouse is not spice, it is spouses. The noun is bigamy, the adjective—bigamous.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 16. She "goes with" a boy who's a freshman in college close enough for him to come home occasionally for weekends.

I found a half-finished letter written by my daughter. It was in plain sight on her desk, and I was not snooping. From it I learned that she had "tried" marijuana and she was writing to say that the next time he came home she was willing to try marijuana smoking with him. From her letter, I gathered that he has tried it, too.

Abby, I am sick over this and don't know what to do. My daughter is not a wild girl and we've never had any trouble with her. I can't forbid her to see this boy, and I don't want her to know I read that letter. Should I just let nature take its course? Please help me.

NO NAME OR ADDRESS

DEAR NO NAME: You must tell your daughter you read that letter, and urge her to resist "trying" marijuana with her boyfriend. Your plea may be useless, but you can't just "let nature take its course" knowing what's in the air.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Teachers Go to Convention in Dearborn

Xi chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma Society, will host the Alpha Iota State Convention at Dearborn Inn, May 16-18.

Banquet speaker Saturday, for this 31st annual affair, is Dr. Ola B. Hiller, now of Laguna Hills, Calif., coordinator of Project Peru for the Society.

Miss Hiller taught speech and mathematics in Pontiac during the early days of her career in education and began her career in administration as assistant principal of Pontiac Central High School.

The Society (for women teachers) aims:

- To unite women educators in efforts to protect their professional interests;
- To initiate legislation in their interest;
- To endow scholarships for graduate study;
- To develop a program of teacher welfare designed to improve the economic, social and political status of women;
- To inform the membership of current economic, social, political and educational issues;
- To sponsor and support desirable educational legislation;
- To honor women who have given distinctive service in any field of education.

Try to Swish and Swallow

By DR. HOWARD E. KESSLER

"Swish and swallow." This is so important to remember anytime you are unable to brush after eating.

Some time ago I attended a banquet for dentists at a hotel on the west coast. The dinner was to be immediately followed by a long speech by a celebrity.

There was to be no time for the diners to retire to the washroom before the introduction of the speaker.

Nearly every dentist there, as soon as he finished his dessert, picked up his water glass, took a mouthful, unobtrusively swished it thoroughly between his teeth, and swallowed. Most repeated this several times.

"They were following their own advice of 'swish and swallow.'"

This is important to do when it is impossible to brush at the moment because it tends to remove particles of food which usually become lodged on or between the teeth when eating.

Decalcification of tooth enamel, it has been shown, can take place during the eating of practically every food. This is because of what could be termed an "acid bath" of the teeth as a result of the action of bacteria on the carbohydrates which the person is eating.

BRUSH, BRUSH

Now you see how important it is to brush teeth thoroughly after every time you eat, and why we dentists are so insistent on this.

If you cannot brush, this decalcification leading to decay can be stymied to some extent by dislodging the offending food particles with water and the swish and swallow method.

When the need to "swish and swallow" arises, do not feel embarrassed or self-conscious about the action. It can be done quietly and politely.

A new little book containing the latest information to help you in your fight against tooth decay can be yours free of charge by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Howard E. Kessler, The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

Polly's Pointers

Make Easy Feeder

DEAR POLLY Y—A cute and inexpensive bird feeder can be made by using a large pine cone, stem side down, and the openings filled with peanut butter. Use a bright-colored ribbon to tie it to a tree branch outside the window. — MRS. R. W.

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — Is there any way to remove oil from bricks? We have tried many things but all failed to remove four large oil stains from the front of our house. — MARY H.

DEAR POLLY — A regular iron stand tends to slip on the board and never seems to be where one wants it. I bought a small cake cooler and tied it to the large end of my ironing board, where it fits snugly and is large enough for the iron to be placed on it at all times without having to lift or hunt for it.

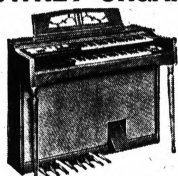

This saves wear and tear on the board cover and has eliminated one of those small irritations of life. — DOROTHY.

DEAR POLLY — We did not have an umbrella stand. I took three large-sized coffee cans and cut the bottom out of two of them. I stacked them with the one with a bottom at the bottom and held them together with two-inch-wide tape.

Next, a pretty paper was used to cover the cans and I put some clear gloss on as extra protection. — TOMMY

DEAR POLLY — A reader wanted to know about dyeing some stay-press levis. I had a pale green pair and used a whole bottle of black liquid dye in a pan, according to directions on the bottle, and the pants came out a deep slate gray, which looks very nice. The boiling did not remove the permanent press in mine. — JUNE

Elinor K. Rose Will Address Annual Affair

The 37th annual breakfast of the Association for Childhood Education will be held Saturday at Ted's Restaurant on Woodward Avenue.

Elinor K. Rose, area poet, will be the speaker. A writer of light verse, Mrs. Rose will base her talk on her experiences as a free lancer under the title of "Telling It Like It Is." Mrs. Rose's newest book is "Rhyme and Reason."

MUSICAL PROGRAM

The Washington Irving School chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Maurice Pelton, will present a program.

Invited guests are Dr. and Mrs. Dana P. Whitner, the William Lucys, the Lewis Crews and the Gerald Whites.

Mrs. Elynn Hodges is chairman of the affair, assisted by Mesdames: Lewis Connell, Marvin Andrew, Evergrace May, Frederick Holmes and Alyce Hagood.

Newcomers Club Installs Officers

Dinner at the Elks Club Wednesday and installation of officers for the coming year around activities of the Newcomers Club.

Mrs. James Wood is the new president. She will be assisted by Mesdames: Gerald Burwell, vice president; Mrs. Ronald Rein, secretary and Mrs. John McKinley, treasurer.

Mrs. Donald Milbourn was honored as a life member, having been associated with the organization for 25 years.

Tell Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sprenger of Carroll Lake Road, Commerce Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne M., to Richard J. Sulla, son of Mrs. Mary Sulla of Walled Lake and the late Mr. Sulla.

The couple will wed Aug. 1.

MRS. JOHN A. POWER

Couple Wed, Go to Hawaii

Mrs. Julia V. Curry, formerly of Canterbury Drive, and Raymond A. Elkins were married recently in United Methodist Church of Lake Orion.

Mrs. Stuart M. Allan attended her mother as matron of honor. Kenneth P. Anthony was best man.

Following a honeymoon trip to the Hawaiian Islands, the newlyweds are residing at his home on Abseguami Trail, Orion Township.

Social Security Aids Auto Victim

PUEBLO, Colo. — Patricia Bauer, 20, formerly of Pueblo and now residing in Glenwood Springs, Colo., has received her first Social Security check under a law which became effective in 1968.

Miss Bauer suffered severe spinal injuries last July in an automobile accident and was paralyzed from the neck down. She is now able to move her hands and legs and is learning to write again. She will receive a Social Security benefit check each month she is unable to work, under the new law which liberalizes requirements for benefits of younger persons.

John A. Power Marries in Spokane Ceremony

Newlyweds, the John Aloysius Curran, of Huntington, Conn., Powers, (nee Patricia Alice Peter Monaghan, William Page) will make their home in Seattle, Wash., following a honeymoon trip to Oregon.

boy-girl leads, Steve Pew and Peg Kropshot. Show time is 9 p.m. to night and Saturday; 7:30 Sunday and 9 on May 23-24. Bill McCall is directing; Kelly Gustafsson is producer; Joan Schmidt, music director and Liz Boyne, choreographer.

Year Draws to End for AAUW Units

Two branches of the American Association of University Women (AAUW) are concluding their year's activities.

On Saturday, the Pontiac branch will hold its annual luncheon at Spring Lake Country Club. Honored guests will be Mrs. George Preese and Faye Donelson for whom the branch named its fellowship funds this year.

Officers of the group are Mrs. Clifford Christensen, president; Mrs. Daniel Skeen and Mrs. Donald Stoughton, vice presidents; Rosamond Haebler and Mrs. John Colishaw secretaries and Mrs. James Knapp, treasurer.

The Union Lake branch will have its annual pollock dinner Thursday at 6 p.m. in the Buffalo Street home of Mrs. James Malin. Cobostes is Mrs. Louis Landry.

The branch will discuss study topics for next year's program with Mrs. Harold Hill as chairman.

At the April meeting, Mrs. Frank Dickie was elected president for a two-year term with Mrs. Harold Estep as secretary.

Any interested college graduate who wishes to attend the dinner and/or join the branch may contact Mrs. Malin. For the Pontiac branch, Mrs. Stoughton may be called.

On June 2 at 8 p.m., the AAUW Inter-Branch Council will meet at the Community Services Building on Franklin Boulevard.

The agenda will include curriculum changes and program suggestions for next year. This council reflects the branches' concerns about racial tensions.

PCH 1919 Grads to Hold Reunion

A 50th anniversary reunion of the 1919 graduating class of Pontiac High School is slated May 24 at Stevens Hall of All Saints Episcopal Church.

Husbands and wives of class members may attend the noon affair, which will include a pollock dinner. Also invited to attend are members of the 1918 and 1920 graduating classes and their spouses.

Plans Marriage

Former Drayton Plains residents, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Davis of Bad Axe announce the engagement of their daughter, Connie Lynn, to Robert C. Bursick. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Bursick of Bad Axe.

The couple is planning to wed Aug. 2.

'Odd Couple' Due at College in Area

"The Odd Couple," a comedy by Neil Simon, will be performed by Michigan Christian College thespians tonight and Saturday night in the college cafeteria in Avon Township. Curtain rises both nights at 8. Admission is $1.75 for adults and $1 for students. Children under six are admitted free.

Leading roles are played by Norman Seiders of Amherst, Ohio, and Bruce Kilmer of Pontiac. The two women in the play are portrayed by Miss Diane Hatcher of Lake Orion and Miss Charlotte Plimcoe of Detroit. Poker players are Mitch Brandon of Martinsville, Ind., Garth Pleasant of Flint, Tony Simion of Troy and Bob Woodroof of Rochester.

Directors are Larry Journey and MOC Prof. Donald Bone.

Panel on Law Enforcement Gets Director

Gerald St. Souver, chief investigator with the Oakland County prosecutor's office, will direct efforts of the county's recently organized 15-man law enforcement committee.

Organized under the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, the committee has until Sept. 1 to come up with plans for improving county-wide law programs.

Some $300 million in federal funds are available to the nation for better law enforcement. Supervisor Dennis Aaron, D-Huntington Woods, told the committee yesterday.

The committee yesterday also named Robert Frye, a Birmingham attorney, head of a special group to study courts and correction and named Royal Oak Police Chief Herman Potts head of a police study group.

Aaron suggested the study might include such items as computerizing county law enforcement information, improvement of training programs at the Oakland Police Academy, and aid for the county's two police tactical units.

The chairman said the federal funds may be spent on any law enforcement program excepting additional building or additional manpower.

'Massacre' Is Set

Teachers Pact

LUDINGTON (AP) — The hiring of teachers for three-year terms is part of a new contract approved recently by the Ludington District Board of Education. The new salary scale runs from $7,000 for the beginning teacher to $12,160 for a teacher with a master's degree and 12 years experience.

And to Aid Cancer

'Pots Pushed' for Fun

Oakland Community College students at the Auburn Hills campus, Pontiac Township, will be "pushing pots" this weekend for fun and for the Michigan Cancer Society, Oakland County Unit.

The event is the second annual toilet bowl race, which will begin at noon Sunday on the campus.

The race is being sponsored by the Auburn Hills Cryonics Club and the slogan this year is "pot pushers get ahead."

Students representing five organizations will push decorated toilet bowls in relays from the campus down Adams to Orion Road and back—a 24-mile round trip.

COLLECTING MONEY

During the race, the students will collect money for the cancer society. Dr. Joseph E. Hill, OCC president, serves as honorary chairman of the Oakland County Unit's 1969 Cancer Crusade.

Prizes will be awarded for the best-decorated toilet bowl, to the group that finishes the race first and to the group collecting the most money.

Following the race, a dance will be held for students at the Auburn Hills campus.

Two Are Hospitalized as Car Hits Tree in Novi

Two young men are in different hospitals recovering from injuries received when their car hit a tree about 1:15 a.m. today in Novi.

A Novi police car on patrol discovered the wrecked auto "wrapped around a tree" on the south side of 10 Mile Road west of Novi, police report.

According to police, two persons had been thrown into different hospitals recovering from injuries received when their car hit a tree about 1:15 a.m. today in Novi.

Three persons injured were taken to Botsford Hospital where the driver, Vernon McCarthy, 21, of 1766 Ashtan, Waller Lake, and John Wolfe, 19, of 58250 Pontiac Trail, South Lyon, were treated and released.

'SATISFACTORY' CONDITION

The third person taken to Botsford, Martin Lyon, 18, of 28323 Hass, South Lyon, is in satisfactory condition with a fractured right leg and ankle and a broken right knee.

Patrolman Jack Grubb, and an ambulance driver used acetylene torches to free Mike White, 20, the fourth occupant of the car. The youth was pinned between the car and tree.

The driver, McCarthy, was ticketed for reckless driving, police said.

Skid marks indicated that the car had been going around 110 mph, police said, although the driver told police that someone forced him off the road at 60 mph.

Music Course Is Slashed in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night topped off a full music course for the 1969-70 school year as part of the austerity planning resulting from recent millage defeats.

In accordance with a superintendent's recommendation, the board eliminated the string orchestral programs in elementary, junior and senior high schools.

Further reflections to the general program cutback came when the board approved five staff reappointments while accepting 12 resignations.

In addition, 15 administrative reappointments were approved.

The board accepted a petition from residents of Wilder Street near Kettering High School calling for the closing of that street's entrance to the school. On the request is pending a board study.

School-Aid Bill Faces a Temporary Obstacle

LANSING (AP) — Only the ghost of parochialism remains to haunt the hall of the Michigan House, but another threat has emerged as a temporary stumbling block to passage of the public school aid bill.

The House was scheduled to meet today at 9 a.m.

Constitutional implications of a hitherto routine parliamentary maneuver have led Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, to hold up final action on the massive public school aid bill, now estimated to be worth $849 million, some $4.4 million more than recommended by Gov. William Milliken.

Ryan said Thursday he is seeking advice from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and other legal experts on whether the bill could be challenged in court if its complete text is not read before a final vote.

PAROCHIAL MOVE

In other developments, Ryan and his parochial lieutenant, J. Robert Traxler, D-Bay City, reintroduced and promptly withdrew a revised parochial amendment that contained no state aid appropriation.

The purpose of that action was twofold: the new draft becomes a matter of public record, printed in the House Journal, and it could be pulled out and attached to a later bill.

For now, Ryan said, parochial backers will try to interest senators in adding a parochial amendment when the upper chamber reconsiders house changes to the bill.

In a daylong session on the bill, the house added $100,000 to $50,000 approved by the senate for tuition rebates to districts which send children elsewhere to attend classes. Another increase was $300,000 to $3.9 million voted earlier for intermediate school districts.

The additions, however, were than matched by rejected spending proposals. Among those were $3 million more for the $41.25 million earmarked for special education of handicapped children, $4 million more than the $26 million now set for transportation, and $20 million on top of $13 million allocated for rebate to districts levying extremely high local operating taxes.

School Hopeful Leaves Race

Charlie J. Harrison Jr. of 85 Gary announced yesterday his withdrawal as candidate for the Pontiac Board of Education in support of incumbent Dr. Robert R. Turpin, vice president of the board.

"My supporters and I believe that it is extremely important not only to our minority community, but to the total school district, that Dr. Turpin be reelected to the board," Harrison said.

"We are faced with many difficult problems ahead," Turpin has the full support of our community, is widely respected throughout the school district, and has demonstrated intelligent, sensitive and dedicated leadership. I urge his reelection," he said.

Besides Dr. Turpin, others contending for the two four-year terms on the board are Mrs. Carole Sweeney, Mrs. Dorothy Furgerson, incumbent Mrs. Lucille Marshall, Dr. Harvey Burdick, Charles E. Meissner and John K. Irwin Jr.

The school district election is June 9.

Gala Celebration Marks Day That Tornado Hit Iowa Town

OELWEIN, Iowa (AP) — This city of 8,000, wrecked a year ago by a tornado, launched a gala celebration of "recovery yesterday and invited the neighbors in.

Mayor Sam Mazzitelli said the anniversary was a "more somber celebration" than the one held in 1968. "Appreciation Days" — was a citywide thank you to those in the area who rushed in to help after the twister hit May 15, 1968.

At Charles City, 50 miles to the northwest, where a twin of the Oelwein tornado created the anniversary was a "more somber celebration" than the one held in 1968. "Appreciation Days" — was a citywide thank you to those in the area who rushed in to help after the twister hit May 15, 1968.

Only an outdoor church service was scheduled, starting at 4:51 p.m.—the time the tornado struck that city of 12,000.

Oelwein citizens observed the anniversary of their tornado by passing a $1.6-million bond to pay for a new junior high school and an elementary school, replacing buildings demolished by the twister.

"Appreciation Days" will be highlighted Saturday by parades, the crowning of "Miss Tornado," a style show and the showing of tornado films.

There will be a 20-ride carnival and a teen-age street dance, as well as free food and drinks.

A printed program lists the towns and municipal officials known to have extended a helping hand in the tornado cleanup.

"We're sure we have missed many towns and cities, groups, organizations and individuals," as we were too busy and too devastated to keep a running account on the spot," said Mazzitelli.

In Charles City, the Rev. Lawrence Carleton, pastor of Central United Methodist church, conducted the memorial service.

"The purpose of the service,"

Eighteen persons were killed — 13 of them in Charles City. Hundreds were injured, and combined property damage was reckoned at $55 million.

Public and private health costs in the United States topped $50 billion in 1967, an overall increase of about 12 percent over the 1966 total.

Some Pages From Album of Memories

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — What an awful world today would be if we had to live in it always.

Fortunately, we don't. For the human mind isn't built to spend much time in the actual present — in the reality of now.

It has two escape hatches, daydreams and memories.

Through daydreams, it flees from today into the future; through memories it flies from the ordeal of today to the consolations of yesterday.

Our daydreams are sugared hopes for a happier tomorrow; our memories are bitter-sweet monuments of what has happened to us in the past. And we need both daydreams and memories to keep from becoming prisoners of today's hard hours.

CROWDED GALLERY

Your own gallery of memories is pretty crowded if you can look back and remember when:

"Life was so innocent that if a stranger smiled and spoke to you, you didn't immediately wonder what he was trying to get from you."

It was hard to drive your car 10 miles in any direction from any town on a rainy day without running the risk of sinking up to hubcaps in mud.

Having a backyard vegetable garden wasn't a hobby in a large family — it was a practical necessity.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

The only times of the year most people stayed up until midnight was on New Year's Eve and when someone was ill.

Folks grumbled that the high cost of living was getting out of hand when the classiest restaurant in town added a hat-check girl to its staff and you had to leave her a dime tip.

Mother explained when she sent you to the bakery to buy day-old bread that it was not only cheaper but it had a firmer crust that was healthier for your gums.

More men chewed tobacco than girls chewed gum.

'REAL' CYNIC

A cynic was a fellow who didn't believe in the almanac's long-range weather forecasts.

A woman used more yards of cloth to make herself a single dress than she now has in her whole wardrobe.

A doctor didn't necessarily need a good bedside manner when he made a house call, but it was expected that he'd pause long enough for a friendly cup of coffee in the kitchen on the way back out to his waiting horse and buggy.

The chief sources of air pollution in America were visitors who insisted on lighting up nickel cigars in the parlor.

Pentagon Plans to Dispose of Poison Gas Prove Ill-Conceived

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Advice from a dozen other federal agencies. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, asked the secretaries of interior and of health, education and welfare to do all they can to eliminate the possibility of disaster. He said risks of leakage "must be eliminated."

After hearing from some of those agencies, subcommittee Chairman Cornelius Gallagher, D-N.J., told a reporter: "I think the first time they were all in one room together was in this hearing room today."

Fraser and fellow members of a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee had just questioned non-Pentagon witnesses in and out of government about the Army's plans for disposing of 27,000 tons of poison gas.

The amount includes 12,322 tons of a nerve gas so potent it reportedly takes only one-fiftieth of a drop on the skin to liquidate a human being in seconds.

"SAFEST WAY"

The subcommittee, which is officially interested in the international implications of dumping the gas at sea, was told by the Army earlier this week that the plan is the safest and most efficient way of handling the job, that every precaution has been taken and that the Pentagon had "sought

State Border Hearing in Fall

LANSING (AP)—A new target date has been set for possible settlement of a more than 130-year old boundary dispute between Michigan and Ohio involving jurisdiction over waters of western Lake Erie.

Rep. Raymond Keheas, D-Monroe, said final testimony in the dispute will be taken at Toledo in September or early October.

Keheas said the actual date of the hearing will be set by Judge Albert Maris of Philadelphia, appointed as a special referee by the U.S. Supreme Court.

"Success would give Michigan jurisdiction over an additional 210 square miles of Lake Erie," Keheas said. "The triangular area in dispute contains many valuable resources including fisheries, bottom lands and minerals in the form of oil and gas," he noted.

The boundary has been disputed between the two states since it was mapped by the Army Corps of Engineers in 1837.

S.D. Town Girds for Invasion of College Students

WHITE, S.D. (AP) — This town's 400 residents are girding for an expected invasion of college students Saturday.

Students from South Dakota State University at Brookings, about 15 miles north of White, have organized a "Whip to White."

A spokesman for the students said plans are to drink beer, have a bonfire, roast weiners, eat watermelons, play a few games and leave. The affair is not being sponsored or promoted by any official campus organization.

Last weekend students from across the nation and Canada invaded Zap, N.J., and did an estimated $5,000 damage before the National Guard was called in to clear the tiny town.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, asked the secretaries of interior and of health, education and welfare to do all they can to eliminate the possibility of disaster. He said risks of leakage "must be eliminated."

"Millions of dollars have been spent in the development of weapons of chemical-biological warfare," Muskie said. "But

A New Silverless Dollar for U.S.? — Las Vegas Is Game

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Officials and gambling men of the Silver State think a new "silver" dollar is a fine idea, even if it's silverless.

"The over-all effect certainly would be beneficial," said Charles Munson of the Nevada

Gaming Industry Association. "I think everybody in the gaming business much prefers U.S. coinage to any kind of a substitute."

When silver prices started upward five years ago, people began hoarding silver dollars and the Treasury stopped minting them.

Most casinos now use $1 privately minted tokens for their slot machines. On busy nights the lines of players wanting to buy or cash in tokens become enormous.

The Treasury Department announced Monday it will seek congressional approval to mint a $1 coin with the left and right sides of the silver of the old cartwheels.

Gov. Paul Laxalt called the announcement "extremely good news" and said, "it could mean a great deal to the state in terms of economic development."

The segment of Nevada's economy most likely to benefit is the legal gambling industry, which last year reported $300 million in profits. It and tourism are the state's biggest money-makers.

"Dollar coins would certainly help our play," says Hank Simpson, general manager of Carson City's Nugget Casino.

"They seemed to want to play more when they had the real dollars," says Rose Bartley, a casino cashier.

Jack Speelman of the Sahara at Las Vegas said he feels the stop at a cashier's window to buy or cash tokens irritates many gamblers and slows up the action.

Nevada became known as the Silver State during the rolling boom days that began in the 1890s. When the top-grade ores now to one of finding enough silver to meet industrial needs. Silver mining again is big business, but no one talks of selling the metal to put in U.S. coins.

A LIGHT MEAL — A weightless menu appears to be floating, and it really will when it reaches its destination in outer space. That's a bite-sized beef sandwich that Barbara Baugh is attempting to pluck from a "galaxy" of main-course foods developed by Swift for America's moon-bound astronauts.

Apollo Plans Dramatic TV Color Show

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Television from space during the Apollo 10 mission will be in color, and it should be one of the most dramatic live shows ever seen.

Astronauts Thomas P. Stafford, John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan pushed hard for months to have a color television camera aboard their spacecraft.

The result is that a 12-pound, $40,000 camera just developed will go to the moon with the astronauts, and they plan to use it a lot.

Astronauts have shown some reluctance to interrupt their busy schedule in space to flash live pictures back to earth, but they have.

QUALITY TO IMPROVE

Apollo 7 provided the first live telecast from space-gripping shots of the spacecraft floating inside the capsule amid their instruments. But the pictures were in black and white, and the shots through the spacecraft window of the earth were poor quality.

The Westinghouse camera developed for Apollo 10 should provide the best quality pictures so far, and in color for the first time.

Stafford says he and his crew won't hesitate to use the camera during their eight-day trip to the moon and around it. He says the view from space is too terrific not to share.

"For all of us who have flown upstairs, the view out the side in living color is just fantastic. It's really hard to describe," he said recently.

STATE OF ART

"There's nothing like being there, and that's why I've pushed for this. Heck, it's within the state of the art. We can do it."

"I think it should be very phenomenal, the views that you'll see, compared to what you've had in the past . . . we hope we can show you some station keeping around the moon," Stafford told newsmen recently.

Eleven live color telecasts from the spacecraft are scheduled during the eight-day mission, but Stafford's idea is to turn the camera on and leave it on when it doesn't interfere with the crew's duties.

Tuition Hikes Put 2 Indiana Schools Among Big 10's Highest

By the Associated Press
Tuition increases going into effect at Indiana and Purdue this fall will put them in the penthouse category among public universities in the Big Ten Conference, according to an Associated Press survey.

But the survey also shows that Indiana's tuition boosts may be a harbinger of similar, but generally smaller, increases in other Big 10 schools before classrooms open in September.

Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois expect tuition to rise $75 to $150 a year.

Purdue's tuition will go up by $300 to a $700 total for residents and $400 to $1,000 for nonresidents, while IU's will rise by $260 to a $650 total for residents and by $440, to $1,490 for out-of-state students.

PRIVATE INSTITUTION

The Associated Press survey did not include Northwestern University in the Big 10. It is a private institution and as such has higher tuition.

Michigan charges $1,540 a year for nonresidents. That's $50 higher than Indiana's will be, but Michigan charges $480 for residents or $170 less than Indiana.

Michigan State has a unique sliding scale tuition, based on each student's ability to pay.

Tuition is set at 1 per cent of a family's income if it falls between $12,300 and $18,400 a year.

MSU tuition for residents ranges between $369 and $552 for three quarters, equivalent to two semesters, and nonresident tuition is a flat $1,200.

'White Hope' Gets Drama's Triple Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — "The Great White Hope" has become the first play in 11 years to capture the triple crown of drama awards.

The drama by Howard Sackler, based on the career of Jack Johnson, the first black heavyweight boxing champion, was named best play of the season Thursday by the New York Drama Critics Circle.

The play previously won the Pulitzer Prize for drama and the Tony award.

"1776," which also won a Tony, took the critics' prize for best musical. It was written by Peter Stone, with music and lyrics by Sherman Edwards.

Man Charged in 4 Killings

CHICAGO (AP) — A Cook County grand jury has charged Frank Kulak, 42, with murdering four persons, including two policemen shot to death at his home when they tried to question him.

Sgt. James Schaffer and Jerome Stubig were shot to death April 14 and an eight-hour gun battle ensued between Kulak and police, ending in his arrest.

Schaffer and Stubig had gone to question Kulak about the bombing of a Goldblatt's department store in which Kathryn O. Lebetter, 65, was killed.

Kulak also was charged in the indictment Thursday with murdering Edward Cummings, 30, who was killed April 12, 1968, when he picked up a bomb near a South Side highway and it exploded.

The grand jury further charged Kulak with attempting to murder four persons July 4, 1968, at a park. They picked up a black powder bomb.

McAuliffe's Ear Tuned Only to White Sox Home Run Pitch

DOUBLE ELEVEN—A pair of No. 11s hit the dust in the fifth inning of last night's game between the Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox. Catcher Bill Freehan slides safely into second base on a steal as Chicago shortstop Luis Aparicio (right) dives in a futile tag attempt. Umpire Nestor Chylak stays up to make the call. The Tigers won, 2-1, in 10 innings.

Majestic Prince Is Jet Speed Ready

BALTIMORE (AP) — Majestic Prince is ready—jet speed ready—for Saturday's Preakness Stakes, the second leg of the Triple Crown.

Frank McMahon's winner of the Kentucky Derby zoomed a half mile over the Pimlico track Thursday morning in 45 seconds, just a fifth of a second off the world record set by Tammin's Jet in a race at Sunland Park in New Mexico earlier this year.

The powerful chestnut ripped off the first quarter in 22.4-5 and three-eighths in 38.4-5. He galloped out five-eighths in 58, a fifth of a second lower than the Pimlico record set by Viantini Bull in the race April 28, 1967.

PRINCE READY

"He is ready as a man can make him," said trainer Johnny Longden, who rode Majestic Prince in the workout and then entered him in the Preakness where he will meet seven other 2-year-olds, including Rokeya Stable's Arts and Letters, the Derby runner-up.

Single in Ninth Spoils McNally's Bid for No-Hitter

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Dave McNally, one pitch away from his first major league no-hitter, says Cesar Tovar ruined the bid on one of his best pitches.

"I was just trying to throw it as hard as I could," said McNally, now 6-0 after a 22-10 season in 1968. "I put everything I had into that pitch."

That was the story of a onehitter.

Tovar, who said he knew he was going to get a hit, lined the low inside-fast ball into centerfield for a clean single with one out in the ninth inning.

ERASED ON DP

Tovar was erased in a double play and the Baltimore Orioles breezed to a 5-0 victory Thursday night as McNally faced only 29 batters and threw but 95 pitches.

"It was a good pitch," said Orioles catcher Andy Etchebarren, who is McNally's road trip roommate. "He threw that ball good."

Etchebarren, despite blooming a two-run triple off Jim Kaat in the second to open the scoring, seemed to be the most dejected Oriole in the dressing about Tovar spoiling the nohitter.

"Dave threw an exceptional stuff tonight," he said, ignoring barbs from other Orioles that he had called the wrong pitch. "I wasn't worried about Rod Carew, Harmon Killebrew or Tony Oliva. I was worried about this guy (Tovar)."

PREDICTS HIT

The cocky Tovar, who boasted he frequently hits safely against the 26-year-old McNally, said he "told my teammates I'm going to hit it off of him."

McNally, who has a 20-2 record since the 1968 All-Star break, retired the first 14 batters he faced until walking Leo Cavanessa in the fifth.

Oliva also drew a base on balls in the

Top Knight, owned by the estate of Steven B. Wilson, winner of the Flamingo and Florida Derby but a disappointing fifth in the Kentucky Derby, also was entered after blowing out a half mile in 46.2-5.

The field, in order of post position, and the jockey assignments:

Top Knight, Manuel Ycaza; Elmdorf's Caption Action, Kenny Knapp; Glenn M. Banker's and Nick Coluccio's Glad's Flame, Robert Wilson; Claiborne Farm's Jay Ray, Earlie Pires; Majestic Prince, Bill Hartack; Arts and Letters, Braulio Baeza; Pelican Stable's Al Hat-tab, Ray Broussard, and Michael Phipps' Greengrass Greene, George Cusimano.

Each will carry 126 pounds for the 1 3/16-mile classic.

Post time is 5:40 p.m., EDT, for the richest of the Triple Crown races which, if all eight start, will have a gross purse of $182,000, with $129,500 to the winner.

The race will be televised from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. by CBS, which also will handle the radio broadcast from 5:30 p.m. until the race ends.

Pimlico officials expect a record crowd of 45,000 and there's no doubt that the magnet is Majestic Prince.

Unbeaten in eight previous races, the powerful son of Raise a Native and grandson of Native Dancer, could become the ninth Triple Crown winner. No one has won the Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes since Citation in 1948.

Classy Detroit Cager Casts Lot With Titans

DETROIT (UPI) — Tom Marsh, leading scorer in Detroit Northern High School basketball history, has decided to enroll at the University of Detroit.

He is now Coach Jim Harding's first recruit.

Marsh is a 6-foot-1 guard who averaged 28 points per game in leading the Eskimos to the Detroit Public League finals, where they were beaten by Mumford.

He was on United Press International's second squad Class A All-State team.

Awaits Big Time Debut

Indy Keeping Rein on Rookie

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — They called him Chargin' Charlie when he was running the high banks of the South's big stock car racing tracks at speeds up to 190 miles per hour earlier this year.

But Charlie Glotzbach isn't exactly charging at Indianapolis. Not yet, that is.

"They won't let me go as fast as I want to yet," said the 31-year-old ex-buildover operator from Georgetown, Ind., after completing the first two laps of his rookie test Thursday at the Speedway.

The solidly built 190-pounder undergoes the third and final phase of his test today, this time under the watchful eye of a corps of veteran Indy drivers.

After that, Charlie hopes to qualify his two-year-old car this weekend for the rich Memorial Day 500.

Under most any other circumstance in racing you wouldn't count Charlie out, rookie or not. But Glotzbach is wheeling a car mounted with a stock block Chevy engine, and power plants of that make aren't exactly on the Indianapolis list of preferred equipment.

"They say you have to have a turbocharged Ford or Offy if you go first class at Indy this year," said Charlie.

"But my Chevy is a good car. So far it has gone as fast as USAC officials would let me go, and I really haven't let it out yet."

Glotzbach, a product of the red clay ovals around Louisville, Ky., is a team-

Tiger Pounces on Relief Pitcher for Tommy John

DETROIT (AP) — Nearly everyone was waiting for Tommy John to stick a fastball in Dick McAuliffe's ear.

But although their now famous feud was not renewed Wednesday night, McAuliffe became the last angry man as he belted a 10th inning homer off reliever Bob Locker to give the Detroit Tigers a 2-1 win over Chicago.

"I think it was a sinker," McAuliffe said of Locker's pitch. "He didn't throw me any fastballs."

Before the blast, the spunky second baseman faced starter John four times without a hit. It was the first time Mac played opposite John since McAuliffe lit after him last year when he thought John was aiming at him. John complained of a shoulder injury after the ensuing fight and McAuliffe was subsequently suspended for five days by American League President Joe Cronin.

Horton Missing as Tigers Head for Minneapolis

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tiger leftfielder Willie Horton, who left the bench in a huff during the Tigers victory over the Chicago White Sox last night, did not accompany the team to Minneapolis in its chartered plane today.

"I have no idea where he is," said Jim Campbell, Tiger general manager.

Manager Mayo Smith also said at the airport he had no idea of Horton's whereabouts today.

Horton, bothered by a recent hitting slump, a couple of fielding lapses and some recent boos from the fans, went to the dressing room during the seventh inning of last night's 2-1 Tiger victory over Chicago in 10 innings.

ON HIS OWN

"He took himself out of the game. He came back into the clubhouse on his own," Manager Smith told newsmen after the game.

The Tigers were slated to open a three-game series with the Twins tonight.

"Some of the guys came in to talk to him but he was just wild... He's got friends on the ballclub who couldn't even talk to him."

Horton led the Tigers in hitting .285 and home runs 36 last year as they won their first pennant and World Series in 23 years. But he has slumped this year at the plate, hitting just 2-13 with four home runs and 13 runs batted in.

He has struck out 34 times.

Horton always has had a special closeness with his fans, particularly children, many of whom show up time and again in the left field stands to cheer their hero.

Only last Sunday he handed his extra baseball glove to one young fan in left during pregame drills and received a loud ovation as he walked back to the dugout.

"I've never had a guy take his uniform off in a game like that before," said a stunned Smith.

Smith said pitching coach Johnny Sain told him about Horton's departure.

"I didn't have time to go into the clubhouse to talk to him and find out what was wrong," Mayo said. "I had to worry about the game."

"I can't read his mind."

BOOED WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday night Horton looked bad as he fell and a single to left went past him for an error. Subsequently he was booed in that game against the White Sox.

ALLOWED FOUR HITS

Wilson allowed just four hits and one run. The run came in the fourth after he walked Pete Ward and Buddy Bradford, then third-string catcher Ed Herrman singled to the rightfield corner. That's how the game stood until Jim Northrup unloaded a solo homer off John in the seventh, his fifth round tripper of the year.

"No, I didn't pitch good," said Wilson, tongue in cheek. "I didn't win did I?"

"I'd rather pitch bad and win."

Wilson, whose record is 1-4, had been bothered by a pulled thigh muscle and his leg was wrapped tightly for the game.

Tiger Manager Mayo Smith said he pulled Wilson after the ninth "because he ran out of gas."

The win gave Detroit two wins in the three-game White Sox series. The Tigers open a three game series tonight at Minneapolis with Denny McLain (5-3) slated to oppose an as yet undetermined Twin pitcher.

Twins' Tovar Ruins Oriole No-Hit Bid

seventh — the only two batters to get more than a two-ball count on McNally.

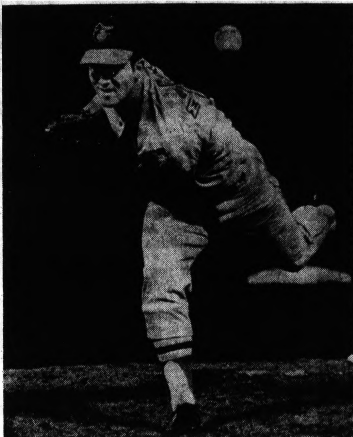

It was Oliva who almost beat out an infield single in the second but, shortstop Mark Belanger scooped up the dribbler just behind the mound and beat Oliva by an instant.

HITS LINER

Oliva also lined out to McNally in the fifth, the pitcher taking the ball off-balance. The Orioles said Belanger could have scooped up the ball and thrown him out anyway.

In the same inning, Rick Renick blooped a liner to second baseman Dave Johnson, but the no-hitter apparently already was showing on McNally.

"I ran to third base to back up the throw-in because I thought it was a hit," he said. "The players ignored me in the dugout but the fans around there sure let me know I had a no-hitter going. They gave me an inkling."

COMES CLOSE—Dave McNally of the Baltimore Orioles fires a pitch against the Minnesota Twins last night. The southpaw hurler came within two outs of chalking up a no-hitter. However, he upped his record to 6-0 with a one-hit verdict over the Twins.

GRAND OPENING

Our Brand New and Beautiful
Pro Shop, Restaurant and Lounge

Silver Lake GOLF CLUB

SILVER LAKE GOLF COURSE, a nine hole, 3,120 yard layout plays to a Par 37 and offers a good variety of challenge. A completely new fully operational drainage system assures accurate fairway play. Tournament designed greens challenge putting ability. Water hazards remind the wary golfer to be cautious . . . sand traps protect the greens. Early bird golfers will find the course open at 7 A.M. on weekdays and 6 A.M. on weekends and holidays.

Come out this week-end and join us in our grand opening celebration. Register with our 'secretaries' and become eligible for worth-while prizes.

FIRST PRIZE: Matched set of Haig (woods and irons)

SECOND PRIZE: Golf bag

With many prizes to follow. You need not be present at the drawing to be eligible to win. Drawing for prizes will begin at 4 P.M. May 18, 1969.

A BEAUTIFUL NEW PLACE TO VISIT

Old Pros Recall Furor Stirred by Title Scrap

CHICAGO (AP)—A couple of the former foes, now fast friends, relieved moments of old fight pros sat around a restaurant table Wednesday and looked back 42 years to the day they fought a controversial long-count world championship bout.

Jack Dempsey, now 73, and Gene Tunney, 72, got together in Chicago, scene of their fight in 1927 when Dempsey unsuccessfully sought to regain his championship title from Tunney.

Reminiscences came easily as the former foes, now fast friends, relieved moments of old fight pros sat around a restaurant table Wednesday and looked back 42 years to the day they fought a controversial long-count world championship bout.

The get-together was the idea of Tunney, a director of the Chicago-based United Insurance company of America, which is observing its 50th anniversary.

"I was coming to Chicago for the celebration and decided to invite Jack," Tunney said. "I called him at his restaurant in New York and he agreed to come along."

Dempsey, still agile, smoked a big cigar and lamented the decline of the fight game and the passing of the great fighters of his time.

Tunney, waving his big hands as he talked, described Dempsey as "a great guy."

"You know, when we fought, we were trying to kill each other," Tunney said of the 1927 bout.

Still ranked after more than 40 years over one fight reporter's published belief that Dempsey was carrying Tunney, the former world champion said:

"If a man is carrying me, I'm a pro, maybe not a good one—I can tell. This fellow Dempsey was trying to kill me in that fight."

Remembering the first time he met Dempsey after their fighting days were over, Tunney said he told Dempsey:

"Jack, fighting is your meter. I'm sorry I never seemed to have the qualities for prize-fighting that you did."

Athletes at Iowa Complain

Big Ten Rejects Aid Boost

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—some contribution to their own The Big Ten Thursday rejected a proposal to add a $15 a month allowance for athletes receiving financial aid.

The proposal, matching an NCAA maximum, was made by the University of Iowa where striking black athletes listed the $15 a month incidental as one of their demands.

Marcus Plant, faculty representative from Michigan and secretary of the faculty group, said the faculty men felt "the student-athletes ought to make another season included a pair on the basis of injuries."

The football players granted the 13 athletes, mainly on the basis of injuries.

Gophers Can Clinch Title

CHICAGO (AP)—Unless the roof falls in, Minnesota should nail down its second straight Big Ten baseball pennant this weekend.

The powerful Gophers have a four-game lead over their nearest pursuer, Michigan, with six games to play before the regular season campaign closes next week.

Minnesota, 11-1, is at Iowa (6-6) for a single game Friday and plays a doubleheader there Saturday. Only the first game of the twin bill will count in the standings.

Doubleheader action today whopped 201 total bases.

from Illinois, defensive halfback Dan Franklin and defensive guard Karl Prazak, and two from Minnesota, linebacker Tom Simon and guard John Walsh.

Also given an extra season was a seven-foot basketball player from Wisconsin, Eino Henrickson, who missed six weeks of school because of a back injury.

Other cases approved: Swimmer Bill Burrell of Indiana; wrestler Phil Henning of Iowa; wrestler Tom Muir, trackman Charles Pollard, gymnast Mark Anthony and soccer player Gary Tiemann, all of Michigan State; wrestler Jim Martin of Minnesota, and swimmer Jeff Jackman of Ohio State.

The main business item, discussion of the conference ban on use of athletic facilities by pro teams, came up at today's joint meeting of the faculty group and the athletic directors.

No small car. No small sale. Nova 4 sale.

Nova 4 Coupe

It makes what you hear about the new little domestic cars sound like small talk.

For a limited time, you can buy a Nova 4 at never-before savings. Any Nova 4 coupe or sedan—equipped with Torque-Drive transmission, pushbutton radio and whitewall tires—all at a sale price.

You save money. And you save a lot of left footwork in the bargain.

That's because Torque-Drive works without clutching—similar to a fully automatic transmission, except that you shift the selector from first to high during acceleration.

At the manufacturer's suggested retail price, it only costs about half what you'd pay for a similar transmission in one of the leading little imports. And now you get it at a sale price.

You also get America's most popular economy car. Which isn't about to let you travel economy class.

The coupe seats five in Yankee-size comfort. The sedan, six. You can carry vacation luggage in the trunk, not little odds and ends.

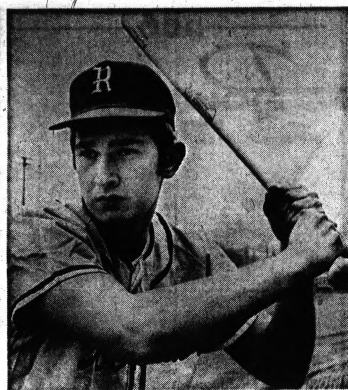

The 111-inch wheelbase and solid weight help you drive sure even in gusty highway winds. So does the wide-tread stability.

Now we ask you. Doesn't Nova sound more like your kind of car than those little cars? Even if your Chevrolet dealer wasn't having his Nova 4 sale? But he is.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

FALCON SLUGGER—When he wasn't confusing the Romeo batters with his pitching deliveries, 6-foot-4 190-pound Stan Babiuk of Rochester was ripping the cover off the ball yesterday in the Falcons' 7-1 Oakland A League victory that extended their winning streak to eight games. Babiuk had three hits, blasting his fourth home run of the season and upping his RBI count to 25.

Stan Babiuk clobbered Romeo yesterday with his bat and arm to give the Falcons' their eighth triumph in a row and a 7-1 log atop the Oakland A League race.

Madison remained second by dumping Utica. Clawson stayed alive with a 1-0 arclight conquest of Lake Orion; and Troy topped Avondale, 8-4, to move into fourth place.

In the Central Suburban race, once-beaten Madison Heights Lamphere blanked Oxford, 12-0, and clashes with pacesetter Chippewa Valley today.

Shaller and Ed Cowger singled leading off. Joyce then fanned one Dragon, got another on a pop up and ended the contest by inducing a fly ball out of the last hitter. He finished with 10 whiffs.

Lamphere pounded 14 hits off two Oxford hurlers and scored in every inning. Neal Fatherree, the winning pitcher, had an RBI-safety in the four-run opening frame. He had three hits in all.

Boat Dragsters

Boat dragsters will put their craft in the water for their season racing opener Sunday at Lake Oxford.

Some 60 drivers and boats are expected to be on hand for the event which is sanctioned by the eastern chapter of the Michigan Dragboat Association.

Qualifications will wind up at noon and eliminations are slated to start at 1 p.m. The lake is located just east of Oxford on Lakeville Road.

Registration in all classes opens at 7 a.m.

Shutouts Help PCH, Skippers, Corsairs

Pontiac Central, Waterford Township and Waterford Mott enjoyed shutout victories yesterday, with the Chiefs and WTHS posting crucial conquests.

PCH swept a double-header at Bay City Central to stay in front of the Saginaw Valley Conference race and drop the Wolves out of the runner-up spot roundly, 9-0 and 12-0.

Waterford gained a share of the Inter-Lakes League lead by blanking Walled Lake Central, 6-0. The win is the Skippers' 17th in 20 starts and knots them at 6-1 with Pontiac Northern.

Mott recorded its second win in two days and climbed to 8-4 over-all with a 3-0 shutout of Detroit Country Day.

CHIEFS' SPARKPLUG

Second-sacker Clyde Dunchan terrorized BC Central's hurling right from the opening pitch. The PCH lead-off and circled the bases as the Wolves misplayed the ball twice.

The slender swinger proceeded to spray six more singles around the Bay City diamond in the twin bill in 10 at bats, driving in four runs and scoring four times.

Rick Hurst had a two-run homer in the opener, Terry Villareal duplicated with Hurst on base in the night cap and he also had a three-bagger in the opener.

Vic Quince doubled home runs in both games and Andy Trevino also had a two-run triple.

Quince scattered five safeties and whiffed eight in the lidlifter to boost his mark to 7-2, and Steve Bass also had a five-hitter in the second game and is 5-1.

Nobody advanced past second base in either game for BC Central.

THREE-HITTER

Steve Golt halted Walled Lake Central (5-9) on three hits—two of them in the fifth inning—as Waterford gained its fifth victory in a row.

Dame Fortune smiled on the Skippers as they bloomed three singles in the second, third and fourth innings to score their first three runs. Frank Ballard and Terry Crawford each belted triples after two of the pop flies dropped in, and Crawford's bloop drove in the other run. He finished with three hits and two RBIs.

Bob Carter's three-hitter and Gerry McNair's two doubles and two runs batted in featured Mott's victory. Roger Strader had two hits, also, and tallied twice for the Corsairs.

Detroit Thurston took command of the Northwest Suburban diamond race yesterday afternoon, blanking North Farmington's winless Raiders while Birmingham Groves blew a 7-5 verdict at Livonia.

Thurston thus moved to the top of the pack with a 6-1 mark. Oak Park, who edged Birmingham Seaholm in a nonleague, 5-0, moved into second place at 6-2 as Groves slipped to 5-2 and third in the standings.

Groves and Oak Park are still awaiting the outcome of a double protest in a game that ended in a 7-0 forfeit win for the Falcons.

Also in South Oakland County, Hazel Park — who shares the Southeast Michigan league lead with Seaholm — rallied for four runs in the last of the seventh to take a 6-5 win over Catholic Central; and Royal Oak Dondero stayed in the Border Cities race with a 3-1 victory over Grosse Pointe South.

EARLY JAM

Steve Kreeger, Thurston sophomore southpaw, escaped from a bases-loaded dilemma in the first inning, to blank NFHS (0-9) on five hits and eight strikeouts.

John Keenan's two-run single in the fifth broke the 0-0 tie.

Groves took a 3-0 lead at Livonia, but wildness and two damaging singles in the second and third innings turned the game around.

Kevin Burke plated the Falcons' two runs in the first. Don Ward stopped the Patriots (2-6) in the last three innings.

Groves (7-2) scored twice in the seventh and had the tying run at second when the game ended.

VARSITY DEBUT

Jack Rubenstein hurled Oak Park past Seaholm. The Maples (5-5) managed only two hits off the junior who was making his varsity debut for Oak Park (12-2).

Jay Cohen's run-producing double and Bob Krupkin's home run broke open the game in the fourth. Cohen added another RBI in the fifth.

Joe Adamski and Rich Prested each drove in runs with a single and Dave Reid stopped Grosse Pointe with three hits as Dondero boosted its record to 4-4 and a 5-3 standing in the BCL Reid fanned nine.

Milford Adds to W-O Lead

| Milford       | 4 | 1 | 0 |
| Clawson       | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| Clarenceville | 1 | 0 | 0 |
| Northville    | 1 | 0 | 0 |

There's no stopping Milford's Redskins.

The county's top-ranked prep nine made it 13 straight and a two-game lead in the Wayne-Oakland League at 9-0 by whipping second-place Kettering, 12-1, Thursday.

Third-place Bloomfield Hills Andover also was a loser, falling 3-1 at Northville where the Mustangs took over 5-0-1 possession of the fourth spot.

Clarkston was upset by Clarenceville, 4-1, and West Bloomfield's Mickey Elwood blanked Brighton, 5-0.

Milford built up an 8-0 lead in the first four innings. The Captains (7-2 in the circuit) couldn't dent the servings of Doug Powers or Rick Sharpe until the seventh inning.

Kevin Dyer's one-out single ended the no-hit bid and Paul Curry followed with a double to snap the shutout try.

DOES DAMAGE

For the winners, Mark Giesler was the key man. He drilled three singles and a triple to drive in three runs. He also scored three times, once on a steal of home, and made several fine plays at shortstop.

Bob Clineard thumped a bases-loaded triple and Larry Vick a two-run double.

Milford stole 10 bases in the contest.

Mike Cotter's bounce off the third baseman's glove in the opening inning was the only thing approaching a hit by Andover against Northville's Fred Holdsworth who recorded the first no-hitter of his career and is 7-1 for the campaign.

Craig Turnbull's run-scoring single in the second and Stan Nierde's circuit clout in the third gave the Mustangs a 2-0 edge.

Two errors and a sacrifice fly by Bob Huessner cut it 2-1, but N'ville rallied it up to two in the sixth and a wild pitch in the sixth.

ENTERS WIN COLUMN

Clarkston lost its share of the fourth spot when previously winless Cville broke a 1-1 tie with three runs in the fourth on a hit batsman, double and two errors.

Rich Porritt drew a bases-loaded walk for the Wolves' (5-5) only RBI.

West Bloomfield scored three quick runs for Elwood on Robin Brennan's two-run double and Larry Bower's single.

Brower also ignited a two-run outburst in the fourth with a safety. Ron Van Gorder drove in the two Lakers with a single. Elwood scattered three hits, fanned 14 and retired the last 10 Brighton hitters in order. The Lakers are 3-7.

South Lyon 9 Tops in Loop

South Lyon rebounded from a rocky opening inning to tally seven runs in the third inning and coast to a 9-5 Southeastern Conference triumph over Dundee Thursday afternoon.

Four errors by the Lions plus two hits and a walk led to a 3-0 lead for Dundee, but the visitors erupted in the third to extend their league perfect mark to 8-0.

Dave Perkins began the decisive rally with a single and capped it with his second safety drive in the final run. Tom Amrhein's bases-loaded triple tied the score and Larry Roper's squeeze bunt plated him and sent South Lyon ahead for good.

The Class A regional track areas top thinclads will be in meet at Waterford Township Clarenceville for a regional in Saturday will feature four instead of at Waterford as they potential individual state were last year.

Pontiac Central is expected to win the WTHS regional without much difficulty. Pontiac Northern and Port Huron appear to be next in line. There are 20 schools entered.

Others are Bloomfield Hills Andover, Clarkston, WTHS Kettering, Grand Blanc, Lake Orion, Lapeer, L'Anse Creuse, Mount Clemens, Port Huron Northern, Rochester, Troy, Utica Stevenson, Utica, and St. Clair Lakeshore, Lakeview and South Lake.

Wayne State's junior varsity diamond squad erupted for five runs in the eighth inning to register a 7-3 decision over Orchard Ridge Thursday afternoon.

Four hits, including a bases-loaded two-bagger, plus two walks and an error handed Wayne State the win which avenges an earlier loss to the Raiders (11-6).

Two walks with the sacks filled handed Orchard Ridge two runs in the second and the two teams battled 2-2, until the Jackson CC tomorrow for a twin bill.

BH Andover, who until Tuesday was the only team to defeat the Wolves in the last three years, dropped Clarkston into second place in the W-O dual matches with a 3-2 win yesterday.

TWO LOSSES
 Clarkston was stunned by Clarenceville, 3-2, Wednesday after suffering its first loss, a nonleague 4-3 decision Tuesday at Lapeer.

Andover's Steve McGraw finished off Clarkston's Dave Kelley, 6-1, to clinch the victory that gave the Barons (11-1) sole possession of first place. They had split their first two sets. McGraw has only lost once all season.

Kirk Beattie continued undefeated for the Wolves; while the Barons swept the doubles with two teams that are 9-0.

Paul Faulkner's two-run triple and a two-run single by Dan Flattery broke open a 2-2 ball game and carried Novi to a 10-2 victory over Whitmore Lake Thursday.

The Wildcats' duo connected in their five-run third inning. Gary Boyer cracked a single and triple for the winners (8-2) to figure in five runs.

Phil McMillan posted his second mound conquest, striking out 10 and getting the final 10 Whitmore batters in order.

Upper Peninsula schools hold their regionals and finals.

SECOND STANDARD
 In addition to the above qualifiers, any contestant who betters the fifth place time in any event of the state finals over the last three years also is eligible to compete in the state meet.

The efforts of Costello, Reabe and Reeves probably would be better if they were pushed in recent weeks. Reabe, who appears capable of breaking the state 800 record of 1:53 hasn't been seriously challenged since Mansfield when he turned 1:54.9.

However, Ken Long of Pontiac Central, who set a Saginaw Valley mark of 1:58 Monday, and Port Huron's Tim Pinnix could applied the pressure to Reabe.

Garcia has cleared 23-6 this spring and possibly could eclipse Hayes Jones' long jump mile will be a closely contested mark -- the second oldest on race with Keith Wattles of the state books. Jones jumped 23-8 1/2 in 1956. The 100 mark of Steve Moffat the favorites.

Dave Anderson of Birmingham Groves will be one of the runners in the spotlight at Clarenceville. He holds the country's top time in the 220 (21.7 on a curve) and the 440 (49.3). He also has run the 100 in 9.9.

Groves and North Farmington are contenders for team Eastern Michigan League dual honors.

Other area schools will be meet season unbeaten. The Chiefs, competing in regionals at War-coached by Roger Shepler, have ren, Anchor Bay and Flint. Class B at Clarenceville and Anchor Bay are scheduled tonight.

PCH has several contenders for individual honors, including Garcia in the dashes, pole vaulter Roger Butler, high jumper Campy Russell, shot-putter John Ray, Larry Moses in the 440 and the 880 relay team.

Jim Wallace fired a 37 yesterday to lead Walled Lake's 199-214 golf victory over Pontiac Northern at Pontiac Municipal course.

Doug Papke shot a 38 for the Vikings who upped their record to 10-2. Rod Moore was medalist for PNH with a 38.

Pancho Shows Temper

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pancho Gonzalez has lost his flaming temper. The 41-year-old tennis master was beaten in his two matches Thursday night in the opening round of the Madison Square Garden Invitational tournament. Any chance of his picking up the record $15,000 first prize money vanished.

Gonzalez bowed 8-5 to Roy Emerson and 8-7 to Dennis Ralston as the eight professionals employed a scoring system devised to shorten matches.

After his defeat by Emerson, Gonzalez faged that he would never again "as long as I live" play in an indoor tournament or under lights. He also let loose a tirade against the scoring method.

In his loss to Ralston, the games were deadlocked at 7-all. Alternating service, he and Ralston played 12 more points and were again deadlocked. On the second run of 12, Ralston won out with seven points. Pancho's five, and Gonzalez proceeded to smash the ball far into the Garden seats before stomping off the court.

Tony Roche of Australia and Rod Laver advanced through their round-robin matches with ease. Roche whipped Ralston 8-3 and Laver toyed with Ray Moore, 8-1. Moore also lost to Fred Stolle, 8-4. Stolle, in turn, was overwhelmed by Marty Riessen, 8-1.

The second stage of the round robin will be played tonight, determining the winners in the two divisions. They will meet Saturday in a regulation best three of five sets for the top money of $15,000.

Badgers, Indiana Favored

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Indoor champion Wisconsin and speed-stacked Indiana, both trying to win for retiring coaches, are expected to hook up in a close battle for the Big Ten outdoor track crown today and Saturday.

Competition on Purdue's rubberized asphalt track began today with the long jump and discus finals and prelims in eight other events. Finals in 16 events will be Saturday afternoon.

Two of 12 returning individual champions perform in the opening session with Michigan's Ira Russell defending in the long jump and Illinois' Jim Brubaker in the discus.

The meet shapes up as a title scrap between Wisconsin and Indiana with a distant battle for third place between defending champion Minnesota, Michigan, Illinois and Ohio State.

Titans Collect Title With 10-0 Golf Log

Pontiac Catholic continued its title collecting for 1968-69 by wrapping up the East Division crown yesterday in golf at Pontiac Municipal's links.

The Titans this school year also have garnered shares of the Northwest Catholic loop's football and basketball titles. They will pursue the Detroit Catholic League golf title Monday afternoon at the Rackham course.

Yesterday Herb Larson's 38 and Roger Novotny's 39 led the PCHS quartet to a 162-191 conquest of Marine City Holy Cross and a 10-0 dual meet record for the school's first year of golf.

Orchard Lake's St. Mary trimmed Grosse Pointe St. Paul, 182-200, at Gowanite with Rick Trzcinski and Greg Stralkowski each posting 45's for the Eagles (6-3) who will meet MC Holy Cross Monday.

'M' Netters Take Commanding Lead

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Defending champion Michigan won all 12 of its matches Thursday and took a commanding lead in the quarterfinals of the Big Ten tennis championships at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

The Wolverines garnered 110 points in the opening day of the three-day tournament, Minnesota second with 74, Wisconsin 64, 6-4, in Thursday's semifinal. The No. 2 singles match of the semifinals today pitted top-seeded Pete Fishback of Michigan against Bill Drake of Minnesota.

Fishback eliminated Chuck Parsons of Indiana, 6-3, 6-2, and John Good of Michigan State, 6-2, 6-3. Drake defeated Chuck Callison of Purdue, 6-1, 6-2.

Other team scores in the quarterfinals: Illinois 69 (fourth place), Iowa 54, Northwestern 51, Wisconsin 47, Michigan only player who has beaten Dell State 32, Purdue 18 and Ohio this year, fell in the quarterfinals.

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

If South had known that trumps were going to break evenly he would have had no trouble making his spade game. He also would have had no trouble if East hadn't found out a way to misdirect South's last trump. East overruled and led a trump. South had no way to keep West from taking the setting trick with the jack of trumps.

South could have made the hand in any number of ways.

and continued by cashing the king. East dropped the deuce and the misdirection had been effected.

South felt that West was likely to hold five hearts for his take-out double and East's lead of the five followed by the three spot showed a doubleton and made the probability a certainty.

South still thought he might make the hand against a 5-2 heart break. He started proceedings by leading the queen of clubs and overtaking with dummy's king in order to get rid of his jack of diamonds on the ace. Then he led a trump. West's ace took the king and West led his last club.

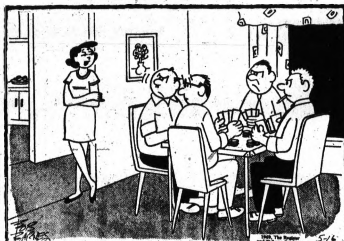

He actually could have made an overtrick after East's heart play at trick two. We blame South a trifle for over-thinking but somehow or other in the backs of our minds we wonder if we might not have been fooled by East's deceptive play. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Today is Friday, May 16, the 136th day of 1969 with 229 to follow.

The moon is new.

The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1865 the treasury department was authorized to manufacture and place in circulation the first five-cent piece to be called the "nickel."

In 1958 Capt. Walter Irwin flew an F-104 starfighter jet at an average speed of just over 1,404 miles an hour, a record.

In 1962 American forces began landing in Thailand to bolster the Asian nation against any spread of fighting from neighboring Laos.

In 1968 the defense department said 562 Americans died in Vietnam during the week ended May 11. It was the highest weekly toll of the war to that time.

Don't Cut Leaves

Bulb Care After Flowering

A little attention now to spring blooming bulbs will make a world of difference in next year's flowering.

Of course, an early starter like the crocus is long gone, but the late-flowering Darwin and breeder tulips have only recently ceased blooming in the Northern states, and all can still be benefited by care now.

Every rule has its exception, and this is one place where it is a mistake to be over-zealous in tidying up your garden, according to the horticulturists at the Green Thumb Tool Company division of Union Fork and Hoe Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Never cut and remove the leaves of any bulb until they have turned yellow and died. All bulbs need their leaves to produce the food which is then stored in the bulbs for next year's leaves and flowers.

EARLIEST

Naturally, the earliest bloomers like crocus, snowdrops, blue scillas, ornithoglossum and grape hyacinths will benefit the least, but, even here, something is gained.

So long as there are still some green leaves you can loosen the surface shallowly (1/2 to 1 inch) with a green thumb hand cultivator.

Then stir in 4 pounds of any bulb food sold for root vegetables in your area per 100 square feet.

LARGER BULBS
Larger bulbs like daffodils and hyacinths will, likewise, benefit by a feeding now. However, with these there is another point to remember.

Don't braid the daffodil leaves or fold them over and put a rubber band around them. If treated this way the leaves are deprived of sunshine and cannot manufacture food properly.

Tulips, on the other hand, do best if not left in the soil after the leaves have yellowed. Dig them up, dry the bulbs in any airy place out of the sun and store in open boxes in a cool cellar until next October.

Left in the soil they might rot. Stored in a warm place, as a garage, the flower buds already formed in the bulbs might be damaged by the heat. Protect from mice.

LOOK BETTER

Finally, to make the bulb areas look better the rest of the growing season either seed out seedlings or sow seeds of any quickgrowing annual flowers you happen to like between the bulbs.

They will come up, bloom and extend the color. A few are alyssum, ageratum, dwarf snapdragons, California poppies and portulacae.

All are likely to reseed themselves for next season.

To Grow Properly

Seeds Need Tilled Soil

Before you even think of planting seeds, think of preparing the soil to receive them. This involves first turning it over with a spade or spading fork. Then the clods of soil are broken by hitting them with the back of a rake.

Finally, the smaller chunks

that result are reduced in size by the rake's tines. Back and forth you rake, as you do so, the soil particles become ever more nearly the size of the seeds you are going to sow.

That and loosening the soil so the roots can grow are the chief reasons for soil preparation. A third is the final leveling, also done with the tines, that means no high spots to dry out, no low ones in which water can settle.

Seeds are not very large, in fact some of them, like those of petunias, are fine as dust. These little bits of life cannot be expected to sprout until they which closely contact the seeds.

PREPARE SOIL—Rake and rake, back and forth until the tines have done their job of making soil particles fine. A satisfactory seed bed, soil fine and level, is good insurance that seeds will sprout promptly and seedlings grow sturdy.

For Businesses

Beautification Book Published

Publication of a practical guide to landscaping and other beautification techniques for business establishments has been announced by the General Federation of Women's Clubs. The Business for Beauty Idea Book, as the unique guide is called, will play a major role in a new GFWC program which is being sponsored by Cities Service Oil Company (CITGO), a subsidiary of Cities Service Company, New York.

The 40-page landscaping book will be distributed to interested businesses by participating GFWC clubs as part of the Business for Beauty program, originally announced last summer.

Through the program, many of the GFWC's 15,000 clubs will be encouraging businessmen to improve the appearance of their properties by utilizing a variety of resources, with the emphasis on landscaping.

RECOGNITION

GFWC clubs will recognize local businesses which institute improvements through the presentation of awards at 8 p.m.

certificates. One business from each community will be eligible for the state competitions, in which bronze medallions will be presented to the winners.

Nationally, six firms will be honored at an awards program scheduled for fall of 1969 in Washington, D.C. Cash grants of $2,000, $1,500 and $1,000 will go to the GFWC clubs sponsoring the top three entries, with the three runners-up receiving $500 each.

"The purpose of the Business for Beauty Idea Book," according to Mrs. Walter Varney Magee, president of the GFWC, "is to stimulate the thinking of businessmen and help them to improve the visual standards of their establishments. There was a real need for a guide to suggest improvements which can be implemented by both large and small firms."

Developed for the program by Cities Service Oil Company, the Idea Book is believed to be the only non-technical guide to landscaping which is specifically concerned with the appearance problems of businesses. It discusses subjects such as the use of screening, street trees, portable and permanent planters, pocket parks and the need for landscaping on parking lots. There is also a chapter on landscape design principles.

Although it is an entirely new publication, the Idea Book was inspired by a service station and landscape manual CITGO published two years ago.

Behind the Business for Beauty program is the belief of the GFWC that business properties must reflect higher standards of design, upkeep and landscaping if the appearance of American communities is to be maintained and improved in this age of rapid urban growth.

"More than anything else," Mrs. Magee said, "there is a need to reintroduce into our business areas the values which only plants can provide — shadows, shade, and the warmth, color and freshness of trees, shrubs and flowers."

Native Orchids on Monthly Agenda

The Michigan Orchid Society will hold its May meeting Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium at 622 W. Lafayette, Detroit.

Berkley member, Chester Karpel, will be the guest speaker. As part of his presentation, he will show slides of orchids native to Michigan.

May 23 a special study group meeting will be held at the home of Dr. T. A. Henneck of the Windsor. The meeting will begin presentation of awards at 8 p.m.

Grow Carnation in Perennial Garden

One of the easiest annuals to grow is the pink, related to the perennial carnation.

There are both single and double-flowered sorts, but the most interesting are those with fringed and feathered petals inspired by a service station and landscape manual CITGO patterns, varying from flower to flower.

Image Important to MacMurray

Racy Films Are Not His Bag

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Supposing, uh—the director said, 'Okay, we're ready for the scene; take your clothes off.' I just wonder how I would react."

Just thinking about it, Fred MacMurray reacted with what seemed to be a blush. He was talking about today's racy movies, and why he isn't appearing in them.

"Oh, they send me scripts now and then, but I couldn't do that sort of thing. I just couldn't," he said earnestly. "I tried it once, in 'The Apartment' (in which he played an office lecher), and that was a disaster, as far as my following was concerned."

"I wouldn't do it again. I guess I've got to preserve the Disney-My Three Sons image."

The Fred MacMurray image remains unchanged. He is reputed to be a poor interview (he isn't), wealthy (he is, but not by Hope-Crosby standards) and parsimonious (could be). At 60 he looks little changed from the years when he was playing in romantic comedies with Claudette Colbert. His hairline is high, but his face is smooth, figure trim.

REMAINED CALM

When I saw him, the season's Emmy nominations had just been released, and he had been overlooked again.

"My wife June (Haver) was upset about it, but I remained calm," he said with a smile. "I told her if they gave an award for 'durability' I might get it some day. 'I've never been nominated for an Oscar, either. The only award I ever got was the 'Popcar,' which I keep in my kitchen at home. It's a golden ear of corn, and I got it for being in the movie that sold the most popcorn in theater lobbies during one year. That was for 'The Shaggy Dog.' But June says I shouldn't mention the Popcar."

The MacMurray television series, "My Three Sons," won another kind of award. It placed No. 14 in the all-season audience ratings. Thus a 10th season for the series was assured.

"And I thought this might have been our last year," MacMurray commented. "NBC put 'The Ghost and Mrs. Muir' opposite us, and their ratings were good in the beginning. I thought to myself, 'Damn it, maybe we should have quit while we were ahead instead of going down with a losing season.'"

ROSE IN RATINGS

But "My Three Sons," like most of the veteran CBS shows, rose in the ratings as viewers became disenchanted with the newer opposition series. "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir" won a bunch of Emmy nominations but lost the rating war. It was canceled by NBC and picked up by ABC for next season.

In earlier seasons of "My Three Sons," MacMurray had to be coaxed to continue. But now he admits he will stick with the series to the end.

"The money is good and the series takes so little time that I can't resist," he said. He shoots all his scenes during the space of a few weeks—he was embarrassed to say how few. The rest of the cast completes the series over a period of months.

MacMurray figures that the addition of trips to the east helped the series' rating this season. For the new season he'll be acquiring a wife and stepdaughter.

You'll run out of things to wash before you run out of hot water.

An electric water heater can keep up with the baths, showers, dishes and laundry that fill up a busy day.

We're so sure that we guarantee it.

You get all the hot water you need. Or you get back the full purchase price plus installation cost. The guarantee is good for one full year. Of course, it must be an Edison-approved water heater.

What is all this hot water going to run you? For a family the size of that in the picture, about $5.03 per month for an 80-gallon water heater in normal use.

And should you need it, Edison gives you No-Charge Repair Service. No charge for electrical operating parts or labor.

These are a few of the good reasons to call Edison, your licensed plumber or appliance dealer about owning an electric water heater. But another important reason is this: at the end of a long day there'll be enough hot water for the most refreshing bath or shower of the day. Yours.

Thumb Men Downhearted

Women Are Garden the Hose These Days

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—According to a survey recently made by a garden supply house, women have largely taken over the job of watering the lawns of America.

Whereas only one lawn in 10 was watered by a woman a decade ago, the current ratio is seven of 10. This is a situation that cries out for analysis.

The garden-supply people, regrettably, are only interested were in the commercial aspects of the survey. One firm, hoping to cash in on the trend, is featuring a 100-foot garden hose as a special for women.

The next step obviously will be to give garden hoses more feminine appeal — pastel colors, floral patterns, latex textures etc.

SOCIOLOGICAL IMPORT
But what of the sociological import of the survey? Does it reflect the new "feminine" style, or does it represent a further unraveling of the basic fabric of our society?

And did the change come about by design or default? Did women demand that they be given a bigger role in lawn watering, or did they simply assume a responsibility that had been abdicated by their husbands?

A layman lacks the expertise, and maybe the energy, to answer these questions. But having raised them, I feel obliged to make a stab at it. It is against my policy to leave questions dangling in midair. In olden days, most lawns were watered by hand, the can be preset to regulate the spray pattern.

Finding the male thumb outmoded, man became downhearted. Instead of watering the lawn after supper, he took to spending his evenings at the bowling alley, where thumbs still perform a useful function.

RARER TODAY
Today, however, genuine hand-watered lawns are almost as rare as handmade cigars. It would appear, then, that the rise of women to a predominant position in lawn breakdown of the family can be connected with the development of a automatic in his thumb. The family, that sprinklers with controls that sprays together stays together.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jaysons

There's no substitute for a good breakfast! Many of us have had breakfast habits. We must try to break them. If you are eating 50, 60, or even 70 percent of the day's food at dinner, then try this experiment: Eat a little more at lunch, a little less at dinner. Go easy on high-calorie desserts, etc.; then make yourself eat your "good breakfast" hungry or not. People who eat a good breakfast work better, think better, react faster, and are altogether happier, more pleasant people.

People who appreciate good food enjoy eating at JAYSON'S, 4195 Dixie Highway at Hatchery Rd., Drayton Plains, 675-7900. You will always receive friendly, courteous service from our charming Jaysons. We specialize in American Food — Steak, Chop, Seafood... Where Dining Pleasure and Hospitality Go Hand in Hand!

HELPFUL HINT: To enjoy the full flavor of fresh fruit, remove from the refrigerator a little ahead of serving so they can warm a bit.

DDT Already Ever-Present

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — Even if DDT were banned all over the world today, it could be too late to avert cataclysmic effects. There are already 700 million pounds of the powerful pesticide in the atmosphere — fish float belly-up in the reeking waters of the Great Lakes, and each person carries within his body a share of the poison.

Conservationists have long sought action against DDT and other persistent pesticides. Now, Secretary Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, DDT in several states and foreign countries, has announced the appointment of a Commission on Pesticides and their Relationship to Environmental Health.

The commission will study the evidence of the "degradability and persistence, and the adequacy of our knowledge of their chronic and acute effects upon human health," and make its recommendations by Nov. 1.

The President's Scientific Advisory Committee in 1963 recommended that, "The accretion of residues in the environment be controlled by orderly reductions in the use of pesticides, and the wide-scale use of persistent pesticides be restricted."

FAR FROM GOAL

The Secretary said that now, some six years later, "we are still too far from the goal."

The commission will be composed of experts, government and private, and will be headed by Dr. Emil Mrak, retiring chancellor of the University of California at Davis.

Since DDT's introduction in World War II as a pesticide suitable for large-scale use, debate over its unrestricted use has produced little insight into what harm it works on human health directly or through contamination of the environment.

Fortas Letter Explains His Connection With Wolfson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here Chief Justice Earl Warren explains his connection with Justice Abe Fortas' letter to jailed financier Louis Wolfson.

Contributions Lost in Polemics

His Career Sketched

WASHINGTON (AP) — The intense controversy that swirled about Justice Abe Fortas in the past year overshadowed his work as a member of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Many legal observers pronounced him one of the court's most independent thinkers who, but for his extrajudicial activities, was on his way to leaving an indelible mark on the course of the nation's law.

He sat on the court only 43 months after President Lyndon B. Johnson talked Arthur J. Goldberg off the bench to become ambassador to the United Nations and replaced him with his old friend, Fortas.

Fortas remained the president's friend and adviser—one of the facets of his career that helped launch the congressional campaign against his 1968 nomination to be chief justice. From that point on, his outside activities came under close scrutiny that tended to blur his legal creativity.

ELOQUENT SPOKESMAN

Fortas quickly became one of the court's most eloquent spokesmen for the rights of minority groups, for the impoverished criminal suspect enmeshed in the coils of law and for the long-ignored juvenile.

Observers classified Fortas as a true blue and predictable liberal, but this complicated mind could not be cast in an easy mold.

For instance, he was at the very conservative end of the court of the Vietnam war, objecting to attempts to have the justices pass on the legality of this country's heavy involvement in a major conflict without a declaration of war from Congress.

In the areas of antitrust and labor law Fortas early parted company from the old liberal position that corporate bigness at least implied some badness. And, while the court was making important advances in the area of the free press, Fortas reflected a deep suspicion of the

Hearing Is Monday on Firemen Firing

HOLLAND (AP) — A hearing has been scheduled for Monday in Ottawa County Circuit Court to show cause why 14 Park Township firemen near Holland should not be rehired. The firemen, all paid volunteers and members of Station No. 2, were fired Tuesday. They had been protesting various regulations imposed by the township Fire Board.

Donald Hann of Holland, attorney for the firemen, said a temporary restraining order was being sought to get the men back on the job until the hearing.

Flag Flying Urged

and announcing his resignation from the court.

I am filing with you this memorandum with respect to my association with the Wolfson Family Foundation, and a statement of the reasons which in my judgment indicate that I should resign in order that the Court may not continue to be subjected to extraneous stress which may adversely affect the performance of its important functions.

As you know, I have delayed issuing a detailed report or announcing my decision until it could first be communicated to the members of the Court. In my judgment, this was the only proper course open to me as an associate justice of this court, because of the court's position as a separate and independent branch of the government under the constitution. Because of the court's recess, this report was not possible until yesterday.

In the spring or summer of 1965, before I was nominated as associate justice of the Supreme Court, my law firm represented New York Shipbuilding Corporation, a company controlled by Mr. Louis T. Wolfson, with respect to various civil claims.

In the spring or summer of 1965, before I was nominated as associate justice of the Supreme Court, my law firm represented New York Shipbuilding Corporation, a company controlled by Mr. Louis T. Wolfson, with respect to various civil claims.

I became a member of the court in October 1965. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Wolfson was in Washington and again conferred with me about the foundation's work and my possible association with it. I again indicated my interest in the foundation's program and in expanding its scope, and we discussed the possibility of my participating in the project on a long-term basis. Because of the nature of the work, there was no conflict between it and my judicial duties. It was then my opinion that the work of the Court would leave me adequate time for the Foundation assignments.

The board of the foundation met in December 1965, and approved, by resolution, an agreement under which I was to perform services for the foundation. It was understood between us that the program in question was a long-range one and that my association would be meaningful only if it were on a long-term basis. The agreement, therefore, contemplated that I would perform continuing services, and, instead of fixing variable compensation from time to time, for work done, it provided that I would receive twenty thousand dollars per year for my life with arrangements for payments to Mrs. Fortas in the event of my death.

In January 1966 I received a check for twenty thousand dollars under the agreement, and began my association with the foundation. In June of that year I attended and participated in a meeting of the Trustees of the Foundation at Jacksonville, Florida. It is my recollection that Mr. Wolfson did not attend the meeting. I went from Jacksonville to his farm at Ocala where I had an overnight visit,

It was understood between us that the program in question was a long-range one and that my association would be meaningful only if it were on a long-term basis. The agreement, therefore, contemplated that I would perform continuing services, and, instead of fixing variable compensation from time to time, for work done, it provided that I would receive twenty thousand dollars per year for my life with arrangements for payments to Mrs. Fortas in the event of my death.

In January 1966 I received a check for twenty thousand dollars under the agreement, and began my association with the foundation. In June of that year I attended and participated in a meeting of the Trustees of the Foundation at Jacksonville, Florida. It is my recollection that Mr. Wolfson did not attend the meeting. I went from Jacksonville to his farm at Ocala where I had an overnight visit, and we discussed the possibility of my participating in the project on a long-term basis. Because of the nature of the work, there was no conflict between it and my judicial duties. It was then my opinion that the work of the Court would leave me adequate time for the Foundation assignments.

The board of the foundation met in December 1965, and approved, by resolution, an agreement under which I was to perform services for the foundation. concerned, the welfare and maximum effectiveness of the Court to perform its critical role in our system of government are factors that are paramount to all others. It is this consideration which prompts my resignation which, I hope, by terminating the public controversy, will permit the court to proceed with its work without the harassment of debate concerning one of its members.

I have written a letter asking President Nixon to accept my resignation, effective as of this date.

I leave the court with the greatest respect and affection for you and my colleagues, and my thanks to all of you and to the staff of the court for your unfailing helpfulness and friendship. I hope that as I return to private life, I shall find opportunities to continue to serve the nation and the cause of justice which this court so ably represents.

Sincerely,
Abe Fortas

Tribal Council Set

DOWAGIAC (AP) — A progress report on the 1795 treaty of the Potawatomi Indians of Indiana and Michigan Inc. is expected to be one of the highlights of the general council meeting here Sunday. The tribe will also award college scholarships to several Potawatomi high school seniors.

Mercerization gives cotton more luster and strength.

Bus Driver Is Charged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bust-tires on the bus lacked tread, and the driver was unfit for driving in the wet weather. Beebe and 21 others were injured. He is free on his own recognizance. The charter bus was owned by Orange Belt Line, of Visalia.

The district attorney's office also accused Beebe of Bakersfield of failing to properly inspect his equipment, claiming year.

The average U.S. voters income is estimated at $10,000 per year.

Less Wheat Seen

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's winter wheat crop now is forecast at 23.86 million bushels, 25 per cent smaller than the 1968 crop. The State Crop Reporting Service said a cut in the acreage planted and sleet and ice damage both reduced the crop potential.

Deaths from emphysema are six times greater for smokers than nonsmokers.

A Look at TV

Reruns Cause Problems

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK—Summer reruns usually are a drag, but occasionally they result in some programming coincidences like Thursday's Shani Wallis festival.

Miss Wallis, a cute British singer, used to be one of Garry Moore's favorite imported guests but since then has been an infrequent visitor on television.

By chance, Miss Wallis was prominent among the guests on the rerun of a "Jonathan Winters Show" on CBS, and immediately thereafter turned up on ABC in "The Tom Jones Show."

Under normal television circumstance, guest stars must guarantee that they will not appear on other prime-time variety shows for short periods before and after the scheduled air date of the show for which they are signed.

GETS COMPLICATED

This, however, gets complicated when warm weather and reruns come, since the repeat shows usually don't follow any particular order.

Jones, the young Welsh singer who is a popular recording star in this country as well as in Britain, was one of ABC's mid-season replacements and his show has been renewed for next season.

The shows, taped in London, have not generated much viewer excitement and their Nielsen ratings—far down on the list—are in a range which would make it a shaky prospect for a second season if ABC did not have so many other problem programs.

He is personable enough, with a fine voice but no talent for the other requirements of a successful variety show host. He is stiff introducing his guests and wooden when exchanging small talk. Fortunately, he doesn't even try to be funny.

TYPICAL SHOW

Thursday night's program a new one, was typical of this past season's output—an assortment of musical guests stars and a guest comedian.

The format has been done to death in other seasons, and Jones is not enough of a television personality to overcome its handicaps.

The week-end's major television activity will be the Apollo 10 flight, scheduled to start about noon EDT Sunday on all three networks. The launching will be the start of a three-man, eight-day trip around the moon and back with occasional TV transmissions from the capsule.

Father of Four Wins Release From the Army

FT. LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) — Harold C. Vennemann was given a hardship discharge by the Army Thursday, one day after he originally was scheduled to leave for Vietnam.

Vennemann, 22, who returned to his wife and four children in Kansas City, said: "I start back to work tomorrow. I feel pretty good about the whole thing."

Vennemann was drafted last Dec. 2 after he failed to fill out forms necessary for a father's deferment. This cut his pay from $600 to about $200 a month. His home, furniture and car were lost to finance companies.

Sen. Thomas Eagleton and Rep. Richard Bolling, Missouri Democrats, heard of the family's plight, and an investigation brought the discharge.

Paula's Now a Dog Watcher Boning Up for 'Fido' Role

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Paula Prentiss, who plays a dog named Fido in an upcoming show called "Art," solemnly believes that some dog food TV commercials are specially tuned so that your dogs will enjoy them and thus influence you into buying that dog biscuit.

"Oh, that's crazy!" says her husband Dick Benjamin who directs her in the play, and Paula says, "Well, I believe it."

But anything's possible, because just a few moments before, the beautiful Paula had got down on all fours and scampered around the floor at the Stage 73 Theater, panting and snorting and acting so much like a dog—her face up on my knees like a poodle—that I was about to pat her on the head and say, "Good doggie."

Paula agreed to play that dog turns into a woman ("It's a very bitchy role") so that she and her husband could continue working together as they did in "Catch 22" and on their own TV show.

"How do you prepare yourself to play a dog?" was a natural question.

"Well, you can watch one for a day. We watched a big sheep dog. They have a life of their own. They have no timing. They look at something much longer than we do. And they keep barking inanimate things all afternoon. They have strange breathing from running around all the time."

"As I walk along the street now, I'm watching people's dogs instead of them."

"You know, since I became a dog," she said, "I'm eating more meat."

"She didn't eat meat for a couple of years," her husband said.

"I had a steak tartar the other day and it was delicious," Paula said.

"No dog food?" we asked.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ann-Margret and Rudolph Nureyev did a frantic tug at the big party for Nureyev and Dame Margot Fonteyn at the Jockey Club; the guests included Ava Gardner, Lauren Bacall, Doris Duke and Pat Lawford. (Ann-Margret returned to L.A., minus a fur coat and jewelry stolen from her hotel room.)

Darryl Zanuck's edict: No press screenings or previews of "Che!"; it premieres May 29 . . . Liz Ashley, estranged from George Peppard, returns to Broadway in "Her Bed, His Couch" . . . Some of the Jet Footballers practiced their fancy footwork at Nephtha discotheque.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Tallulah Bankhead said it: "It's the good girls who keep diaries; the bad girls never have time."

EARL'S PEARLS: A safety belt is a device that most motorists use religiously for about 20 minutes after they pass an accident.

Jackie Kannon described a bore: "He has to hold your lapels to hold your attention." . . . That's earl, brother.

'Chicken Not Meat for Man'

LINCOLN, England (AP)—

Men may be ruining their love life when the get old by eating chicken, says chemist Alan

Long.

Long said an artificial female sex hormone injected into chickens to stunt their sexual growth and make them meatier may have the same effect on men.

"If small amounts of the drug are passed on to humans when they eat chicken, it could have an accumulative effect," said

Long. "It may take years to show itself, but it could turn men into eunuchs."

Big Cone Stolen

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—An ice cream cone has been stolen in Grand Rapids, but the police should be able to spot the one. It's a steel cone, painted yellow and white, and is seven feet high and three feet wide.

Mrs. Jay Rode, whose husband operates a dairy store, said the cone was stolen from in front of the business establishment between 7:30 and 11 a.m.

Hippies Fight Park Use

More Violence in Berkeley

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — National Guardsmen ringed a stretch of University of California park land today in the wake of a battle between police, hippie squatters, students and others. Fifty persons were injured.

The hippies, claiming use of the land as a "people's park," resisted police ouster attempts yesterday with a barrage of rocks. Police fired into the crowd with tear gas shells and shotguns loaded with birdshot.

An automobile was overturned and burned. Police were bombarded with missiles thrown from roofs. Three were injured, one with a knife wound in the chest.

Many in the crowd were peppered with the tiny birdshot pellets from police shotguns, which drew blood without inflicting serious wounds.

OUTBREAK QUELLED

Police finally quelled the outbreak after cordoning off 18 square blocks and arresting 45 persons.

Asserting the park protest was "a phony issue," Gov. Ronald Reagan called out the guardsmen and ordered a ban on loitering in the city or on the university campus.

The number of troops sent to the scene was described only as "substantial." The trouble started earlier this month after the university announced plans to use its park land for an athletic field and posted no-trespassing signs. Hippies who had frequented the area grabbed the signs and burned them.

FENCING STARTED

On Wednesday, police routed 75 persons from the property and workmen started fencing it in the following day.

The hippies tried to prevent erection of the eight-foot fence and were joined soon by students and others as the crowd grew to hundreds.

Patrols were strengthened in the university area after a declaration by a demonstrator that $5-million of University of California property would be destroyed.

Stores in the area were closed.

The injured included two newsmen, Don Wegars of the San Francisco Chronicle and Daryl Lemke of the Los Angeles Times. They were hit by birdshot but not seriously wounded.

Officer Stabbed; Red Negotiators Hit Nixon Proposals Suspect Is Shot Without Rejecting Them as a Whole

By JIM LONG

A rookie Birmingham policeman was stabbed last night after stopping a motorist for a traffic violation. The alleged assailant was shot and wounded by the patrolman.

Under police guard at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, was Ronald E. Swenson, 23, of 5434 Longmeadow, Bloomfield Township.

Listed in serious condition with an abdomen wound, Swenson has been charged with attempted murder.

Birmingham Police Chief Darryl Brustle said Swenson was shot by Patrolman James S. Henry after the officer was stabbed in the chest with a switchblade knife.

Henry, 26, a patrolman for six months, was expected to be released from Beaumont Hospital today.

DRIVING ERRATICALLY

Henry was en route to work about 9:30 p.m. in his own car when he noticed an auto veering erratically, according to Brustle. Henry stopped the driver at Henrietta and Martin across from the (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam and the Vietcong both denounced President Nixon's peace plan today, but neither rejected the plan as a whole.

In fact, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said after the weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks, that the other side gave every indication it would consider the plan.

Nevertheless Hanoi's chief negotiator in Paris, Xuan Thuy, called the plan an attempt to conceal American intentions of continuing aggression in Vietnam.

And Tran Bui Kiem, representative of the National Liberation Front (NLF), said the plan was not a proper response to the problem.

Thuy asserted that the United States is bent "on maintaining its absurd demand and is continuing to intensify the war."

'NEOCOLONIALISM'

He said Nixon's words could not camouflage the essential objectives of the United States — "to achieve neocolonialism in South Vietnam and perpetuate the partition of Vietnam." Lodge formally presented the Nixon plan as a formula which "can accommodate the various programs" put forward by the other side.

Lodge called for detailed discussions of both the Nixon plan and the 10-point plan submitted a week ago by the NLF.

He quoted the President as saying the U.S. proposals were not offered on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

'FLEXIBILITY'

"We have indicated our willingness to consider other proposals," he added. "We are being flexible and reasonable."

'Ship Will Be Fixed'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The condition of the guided-missile cruiser USS Boston, about which there have been complaints, will be corrected before the ship leaves May 22 for Vietnam, the secretary of the Navy has assured a protesting congressman.

Secretary John H. Chafee told Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, D-N.Y., the 1,200-man cruiser will be ready to sail on schedule.

His statement was mainly a restatement of the Nixon proposals. Like the President's speech, it took a moderate tone and the absence of polemics was notable.

The attack of the North Vietnamese and NLF representatives, however, made it clear that the two sides still were far apart on major issues — even though the two new initiatives might get the talks off dead center.

In opening the session, North Vietnamese spokesman contemptuously of Nixon's insistence that the South Vietnamese people should have the right to determine their own destiny.

'UNDER FOOT'

"The truth is," he said, "that for the past 15 years the government of the United States has never ceased to trample under foot the right of the South Vietnamese population to self-determination."

Thuy said the United States seeks to maintain in power "the warlike and corrupt" Saigon government despite demands of the South Vietnamese people for a peace cabinet.

He repeated that in Paris discussions should proceed on the basis of the NLF's 10-point peace formula.

Kiem also stressed that the NLF had repeatedly rejected U.S. proposals for a mutual withdrawal of forces, but his statement was noticeably more moderate than that of Thuy.

City Charter Drive Launched

By ED BLUNDEN

A petition drive aimed at bringing more voter control of the City Commission was launched at a kickoff dinner at Washington Junior high last night.

"The petitions will ask for an election to amend the city charter so commissioners would be elected by district, with populations as equal as possible."

The petitions also would bring about other minor changes including lowering the age requirement for commissioner to 25 years and the residency requirement to one year.

Heading the drive is a young attorney, Patrick Oliver, of 51 Cherokee. His petition group is the Pontiac Council of Concerned Citizens (PCCC). The petition is relatively simple and calls for the amendment of specific sections of the existing charter.

NEW CHARTER NEEDED

Oliver explained that perhaps a complete new charter would be called for but that this requires election of a charter commission and other procedures that would carry past the 1970 city election.

"This step is the best we can do for now," he said. The district representation system is mostly a return to the former system used before a charter amendment in 1964 called for at-large election.

partisanship were aimed at doing away with the old ward power system (in Pontiac as elsewhere)."

"But people are more informed now and aren't likely to fall victim to ward healers and such," he said.

WITHOUT THE EVILS

The proposed system would bring back a greater share of direct community control of the commission without bringing back the evils associated with old-time politics, Oliver asserted.

Under the present setup, the two candidates receiving the most votes in each district run in the citywide election. A candidate winning in his own district can be defeated by a popular citywide candidate. This has happened, and in 1964 a (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 4)

Tatroe Resigning Post in Waterford

By MEL NEWMAN

Dr. Don O. Tatroe, Waterford Township's superintendent of schools since 1963, last night announced his resignation — effective Aug. 1 — from the school district.

Tatroe revealed at a regular meeting of the township board of education that he has accepted the position of executive director of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

"I have accepted because of the professional advancement the position represents and because I would not have such an opportunity again in the future," he said.

Tatroe said the new job, which will locate him in East Lansing, makes him director of a staff responsible to the elected board of directors of the state association.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAMS

He explained that he will be responsible for organizing and working with committees within the association to develop effective programs of legislation and to help educate board members in understanding their job.

Tatroe became superintendent in Waterford Township after serving as assistant superintendent in the Warren system for nine years.

He previously was a graduate assistant in education administration at Michigan State University and a high school principal in Hpslett.

Along with his duties in East Lansing,

DON O. TATROE

where he will replace the late Dr. Julius Barbour, Tatroe will hold a faculty rank at Michigan State and will teach a class in education administration, he said last night.

SOME REGRETS

Tatroe said he is leaving the Waterford system with some regrets — among them he "didn't know what he described as "an administrative staff second to none."

He added that he would "like to be here to see Waterford's financial problems through to resolution," but that "one is seldom able to schedule all those (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

Chrysler Employee Kills 2, Wounds 10 at Ohio Plant

TWINSBURG, Ohio (AP) — An employee at the Chrysler Corp.'s stamping plant shot two fellow workers fatally and wounded 10 others before killing himself.

Sheriff Robert Campbell identified the assailant in the shooting rampage just before midnight last night as Robert K. Smith, 31, of Mogadore, an inspector at the plant.

The other two dead were Sam S. Zuchero, 57, of Alliance, and Vincent Bell, 39, of Cleveland. Two more of the wounded were in critical condition.

Sheriff Campbell said the shifts were changing when Smith arrived at the plant, with three guns and started shooting. The firing lasted about 15 minutes.

SHOT 2 AT ENTRANCE

Williams Schulz of Akron said he was leaving the plant when the assailant, a gun in each hand, shot two men just outside the main entrance to the plant.

"Then he went to a lunchroom about 50 feet from the entrance and started shooting again," Schulz added. "I didn't stick around to see what happened after that."

Charles L. Harris, 64, of Cuyahoga Falls, said he was sitting at a lunch table with five other men when the assailant entered.

Orion Home Fire Burns Boy Badly

A 2½-year-old Orion Township boy is in critical condition today at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, with third-degree burns over 80 per cent of his body, according to doctors' reports.

Louis Granado Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Granado, 36 Mouton, Orion Township, was injured in a home fire last night, according to Lake Orion Fire Chief Jack Caylor.

Fire broke out in the kitchen of the Granado home at 7:17 p.m. and was confined to that room. Fire crews of two pumpers extinguished the blaze in minutes but the Granado boy already had been trapped by the flames. No other injuries were incurred and there was no extensive property damage.

Area May Get Rain Tonight

Pontiac area residents may get a soaking tonight.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau, the official forecast looks like this:

TODAY — Partly cloudy and warm, chance of thundershowers late afternoon or evening, high 75 to 82. Tonight showers and thundershowers likely, low in the 50s.

TOMORROW — Cloudy with showers likely in the forenoon, turning cooler, high 70 to 75.

SUNDAY — Fair and cool. Probabilities of precipitation in per cent are 30 today, 60 tonight, 60 tomorrow.

Fifty-two was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac before 8 a.m. The mercury recorded 81 at 12:30 p.m.

Curves Thrown at Motorists

COLUMBUS, Ind. (UPI)—Motorists along I-65 near here were greeted by 21 tons of scantily clad brunettes—on paper—today.

The girls, 65,000 of them, were spread across the highway when a truck loaded with centerfolds from Playboy Magazine was rammed by another truck.

The centerfolds featured a skimpily dressed brunette in a provocative pose. The double page foldouts were scattered for three-fourths of a mile.

No tickets were issued, but some of the girls were jailed by sheriff's deputies as pinups.

May Close Chicago Schools

Teachers Vote on Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Union teachers vote today on whether to stage the first public school strike in the city's history.

A yes vote by a majority of the some 19,000 members of the Chicago Teachers Union would mean a walkout in 523 schools next Thursday.

The classroom stoppage could hold up diplomas needed by high school seniors planning to attend college.

The public school system has 23,000 teachers including those not members of the union.

The strike vote climaxed a six-month dispute with the Board of Education. The union's executive group, by a vote of 327 to 3, urged member approval of a strike call.

In January, the union threatened a walkout but held off and agreed to a tentative contract offered by the Board of Education. Implementing the contract, however, required a substantial increase in state aid, which has not been forthcoming.

Union President John E. Desmond has charged that the board has not worked hard enough with the state legislature to obtain the needed funds.

These are the union demands:

- A commitments from the board that there will be no teacher layoffs in June.
- No cutbacks in 1969 summer school programs.
- No decrease in education programs or equipment.
- Fulfillment of promises made by Board Jan. 20 concerning class sizes, salary adjustments and educational improvements.

• Salary increases of $150 a month for teachers and a 10 per cent increase for school civil service employees, both effective in September.

• Adjustments in salaries for specialists such as teachers of retarded children.

• Certification of full-time substitute teachers with two years of service if they are graduates of an accredited college.

Officer Knifed; Suspect Is Shot

Birmingham City Hall, which houses police headquarters.

When Henry, who was in uniform, walked up to the car and placed his badge up against the window, the driver backed up and then sped away running several stop signs, Chief Brustle said.

Henry gave chase, stopping the car about 10 blocks away on North Woodward at Harmon.

Brustle said Henry was stabbed when the driver walked up to Henry's car with the knife in his hand.

HENRY and the patrolman attempted to take it away.

OFFICER SHOTS

As his assailant turned to run, Henry fired one shot, hitting Swenson in the lower back.

Police from Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township assisted Birmingham police in looking for the knife at the scene, but it was later discovered that Henry had picked up the knife and taken it with him to the hospital.

Patrick Oliver Explains Petition Drive

Petition Drive Is Launched for City Election Changes

write-in candidate defeated both district election winners.

Oliver branded the present system "a hybrid." "I'm sure we could defeat it in a lawsuit, but we prefer to take this route (a city election), he said.

The city's seven districts, established in 1921, show a great disparity in registered voters with some districts having twice as many as others. Totals in 1961 were: District 1 — 4,332; 2 — 4,190; 3 — 2,801; 4 — 5,838; 5 — 7,782; 6 — 2,943; 7 — 4,426.

REPRESENTED GROUPS

Yesterday's meeting was more sparsely attended than was expected by PCCC members. However, as Oliver noted, almost all the 30-some present were representative of large groups such as unions, political parties or women's groups.

Only one city commissioner, Robert F. Jackson of district 5 was present.

Jackson said he did not necessarily feel that his district was "safe," but pointed out he had already proposed to the City Commission that a charter committee be studied.

Other elected officials present included two county supervisors, George Grba, district 20, and James Mathews, district 19; a school board member, Christopher Brown; and a school board candidate, Howard Burdick.

Others in the audience included George Googason, chairman of the county Democratic party; Don Johnson, president of UAW Local 596 at Fisher Body; and Elbert Hatchett, president of the Pontiac Area NAACP (also serving on the PCCC).

Most of them took bundles of petitions to begin the drive. More petition distributors are being sought. The sheets can be obtained by contacting the PCC office, 51 Cherokee.

About 8,000 signatures are needed, according to Oliver. This provides 20 per cent of the total eligible voters as of 1967 with a wide margin of safety.

FDR's Eldest Son Stabbed in Back in 'Family Quarrel'

From Our News Wires

GENEVA — James Roosevelt, oldest son of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was stabbed in the back in a "family quarrel" last night, police reported.

Police today described the wound as serious, but associates of the 61-year-old former congressman reported his condition was good and that he would be discharged from the hospital in the next few days.

Police first reported that Roosevelt was attacked by "a mentally unbalanced woman" as he strolled near his villa in suburban Vezanaz.

Later, his attorney, Georges Borgeaud, told newsmen: "Mr. Roosevelt told us to make it clear that the person concerned was his wife."

"CLEAR UP THIS FACT"

"Mr. Roosevelt telephoned us from the hospital this morning and asked us to clear up this fact."

A spokesman for Geneva's Surete, the criminal police, said no charges had been brought in the case.

"At this time, it is a medical case," he added with the explanation that a decision by the public prosecutor will be based on the medical findings.

A spokesman for Roosevelt's investment firm here declined to comment on the stabbing, saying: "This is a personal matter."

Mrs. Roosevelt, 52, was taken to a rest home.

She was taken to the cantonal hospital where he underwent emergency surgery. The hospital refused to give any information on his condition.

T. J. police duty officer refused to say who stabbed Roosevelt but said it "was not likely to have serious judicial consequences."

Roosevelt and his third wife, the former Gladys Irene Owens, came to Geneva to live early in 1967 after he became a director of three mutual funds sponsored by Investors Overseas Service and president of the I.O.S. Management Company.

HUBER VARNER

LANSING (UPI) — A senate committee, after 45 minutes of hostile questioning by Sen. Robert J. Huber, yesterday recommended confirmation of Oakland University Chancellor Duward B. Varner as chairman of the Michigan Arts Council.

Huber vowed to try to block Varner's appointment on the Senate floor, though he admitted chances of the effort succeeding were bleak.

"The whole argument involves different philosophies," said the Troy Republican. "He thinks we should take a permissive attitude, and I think this is intolerable."

Varner, 52, was appointed council chairman by Gov. William G. Milliken last March. He has headed Oakland University since its beginning in 1959.

events which affect his professional future."

He listed achievements of which he is proud in at least eight facets during his tenure. These are:

- Upgrading of staff quality.
- Improvement of facilities.
- Strides in finance reform.
- Community-school relations.
- Expansion in curriculum and instructional activities.
- Student relationships.

• Improvement in resolution of personnel problems.

• Development of successful relationships with Michigan colleges and universities.

He said his new position will allow him to continue to serve Waterford in Lansing and to contribute to the direction of all Michigan education.

"Meanwhile I'll continue with the 1969-70 Waterford problems through the next three months," he said.

Crockett: Judges Ignore Constitutional Principles

By NED ADAMSON

Judge George W. Crockett Jr. told a Birmingham audience last night that Michigan judges are not practicing in accordance with constitutional principles.

He added that unless democratic principles are practiced soon, racial strife and the rising crime rate will continue.

The controversial Detroit Records Court judge, who has been heavily criticized for alleged leniency in his criminal dispositions, gave the message simple and straight in spelling out the basis for his courtroom philosophy in a packed Holy Name School gymnasium.

"The present system of justice has got to be made relevant to the disillusioned poor people—most of whom who happen to be black—who comprise the vast majority of the cases before criminal courts. We are simply not complying with the dictates of the constitution in the administration of justice," Crockett said.

BORROWS QUOTE

Borrowing a quote from Franklin D. Roosevelt, the judge noted "that a lot of Americans are willing to fight for the Constitution but few of them are willing to actually read it."

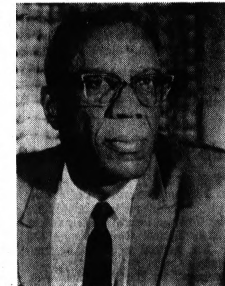

Crockett claimed the court's bonding procedure is in direct violation of the Eighth Amendment which guarantees reasonable bail.

"Nearly 65 per cent of the persons brought before me are indigent. Yet their bond is set so high that they never can possibly expect to pay it."

The Detroit judge explained the right of independent judicial power is very limited in Michigan when justice cannot be administered without fear of being reprimanded or removed from the bench.

'GUILTY OF RACISM'

"Why haven't we done something about these courtroom deficiencies? I am afraid we are guilty of a little racism when it comes to administering justice.

"We are a nation of split personalities. You are a product of a tactical society that has imbued in you that the black man is inferior."

"The other side of that split is the conflict between the theory and practice of the democratic principles of the constitution."

Crockett said the black man, from day to day, doesn't know what the law is. He can never be certain how the law will be practiced when he is affected.

"A conscious effort has got to be made to overcome these split personalities. Give democracy a chance and you will not have to live in fear of living in fear of racial outbursts," he added.

A crowd of about 300 persons heard Crockett speak. His appearance was sponsored by the Birmingham-Bloomfield Human Relations Council.

Birmingham

New Offices for Schools Open Monday

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham public schools' new administration building at Chester and Maple will open Monday.

The offices have been located in the 100-year-old Hill Building on Chester. The Hill building will be razed and the area renovated for playground space for the Baldwin Elementary School. Work on this project is expected to be completed by September.

The new administration building, which was authorized by voters in the bonding proposal of October 1966 lost $651,000 based upon bids received in October 1967. Construction began in November.

The 18,000-square foot building will house all of the central office staff which includes 35 secretaries and clerks.

Mrs. Harvey J. Dize, 1055 S. Glenhurst, has been elected chairman of the Birmingham Youth Assistance Committee for the coming year.

Mrs. Dize has been a member of the committee for four years and has been active in numerous charitable and civic programs in the Birmingham area. She succeeds Robert Kelly who has served as chairman since October 1967.

Detective Quiet 'Hero of Honesty'

By LOIS FRIEDLAND
FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — "A hero of honesty" well describes Detective Sgt. Earl Teeple, recently acquitted of 12 counts of violating a departmental police code and still the object of controversy. Teeple, who repeatedly insists "I don't want to bad-mouth anyone," still refuses to outline actual incidents leading to his recent two-week suspension and yearlong probation, even now after the punishment was dismissed following a hearing by a township police board of appeals.

The charges resulted from his telling an Oakland County assistant prosecutor that he had seen two officers beat a prisoner last June. No action has been taken as a result of this.

Despite the subsequent hassle, Teeple emphasizes, "I've never regretted being honest. I was relieved that it was out because it has to come. The incident still bothers me."

'BEST FORGOTTEN'

Now the 46-year-old Teeple, a weathery man with sun-bleached hair, says the incident is "best left to die." He added that last August he still hoped that the chief would investigate the matter but that matters were just proceeding slowly. He still kept quiet, "hoping to knock this off and let it drop" throughout the events following his discussion with the assistant prosecutor and up to his hearing.

Teeple never testified. Chief Irving Yakes did, however, and admitted that 10 of the 12 charges could be dropped. All were finally dropped.

Teeple claimed that the strong citizen support he received during the hearing convinced him that he had never been in such a "warm community."

A gratified man, he pointed out that he tried to see as few people as possible during the hearing, but still received innumerable phone calls supporting his stand and offering any help possible.

RELAXING NOW

"I've been a real bear for six months," the father of four admitted, saying that now he was again beginning to relax.

He pointed out that all of his defense work has been done during his own time and with his money — although none of the lawyers involved accepted fees — while most of the prosecution's case was prepared on township time.

He regrets that he wasn't allowed to work those two weeks since he is still catching up.

He reported that many of his fellow policemen have come to him privately — and a few openly — since the hearing to say that "They've been with me but didn't have nerve enough to do it but were glad I did."

A couple of officers are still cool, and

POPULAR MAN

A 13-year veteran of the force, Teeple is a popular man who opens his home and barn for frequent parties and gatherings. Space is always available for youngsters building floats or friends working on their cars.

He has an extensive police library and appears well-versed in law. He hopes to buy books to start a township police library with some funds which have been sent to him by well-wishers. He declined to reveal the amount.

Teeple links the incident to a fire. In the beginning it can be put out easily, but then it grows into alcoholism. When it dies, the embers remain and he confesses to enjoying the aftermath.

Area News

Consolidation Petitions Taken

FARMINGTON — Petitions for consolidation of the entire Farmington area into a home-rule city have been accepted by the State Boundaries Commission. A decision on when to order the election will be made at the next scheduled commission meeting June 11.

The petitions presented in March had been signed by 2 per cent of the residents in the affected area — Farmington, Farmington Township and the villages of Wood Creek and Quakertown. The commission at its regular meeting earlier this week asked representatives from two area groups at the meeting to submit in writing the reasons why each feel the election should be held at the time they request.

Paul Dietz, attorney for the petitioning group, requested that the election be held in October or November this year.

SPRING '70 VOTE ASKED

Farmington City Manager John Dinan, speaking for the Farmington Governmental Organization Study Committee, requested that the election be held in the spring of 1970. (The study committee is composed of two representatives from each of the four communities).

Dinan commented that the study committee wanted enough time to make an in-depth analysis of the recent Michigan State University survey of the Farmington area. In that study, consolidation of the area was recommended as the most advantageous course for all involved.

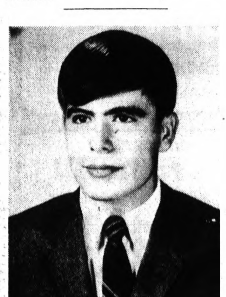

The study committee also wants time to present its findings to the community at a series of meetings prior to an election on consolidation.

A technical question concerning voting procedures revolves around whether the two villages, which still pay township taxes, should be counted independently or as a part of the township vote.

Announces Promotions

BIRMINGHAM — New appointments were announced this week by Ford Motor Co.'s U.S. Tractor and Implement Operations Division based here.

Hugh D. Cotcamp of Latham, N.Y., was named district-dealer relations manager. Edwin S. Hasel, formerly Northeastern District parts and service merchandising manager, will succeed Cotcamp. Charles C. Edie of 528 Ludlow, Rochester, will succeed Hasel in Latham.

DEMOLAY HOST—Tom Wiseman, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Wiseman of 365 Newman, Orion Township, will officiate for the May 24 Chevalier Degree, sponsored by Lake Orion Chapter, Order of Demolay. The degree is set for 8 p.m. at the Lake Orion Masonic Temple. Tom is past master counselor of the chapter and was a state representative for two years. He is a 1969 graduate of Orion High School.

Help Promised for Perilous Telegraph Stretch

Bloomfield Township Police Chief Robert L. Snell's office this morning unexpectedly received a telegram from State Highway Commissioner's office stating the department has fixed a construction date of 1973 for the Telegraph widening project.

By NED ADAMSON

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Telegraph is a death road.

In fact, the six-mile stretch of the highway that extends through Bloomfield Township almost defies the motorist to enter its path.

Telegraph has been the scene of numerous and violent accidents, which increase year by year.

LIKE RUNNING CAUNTLET

Or, as one observer who makes the trip every day puts it, "It's like running the gauntlet. One bat of an eyelash and you can be under a truck or in someone's front yard."

Autos, if they're not bumper-to-bumper during the rush hours, are constantly dodging and accelerating to get through hazardous zones — if they're not slowing suddenly to turn into one of the 186

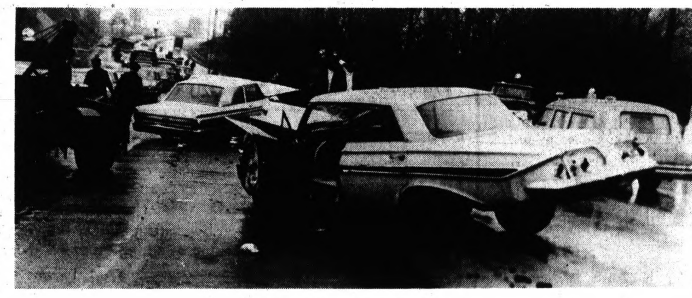

turnoffs along the highway in this township.

Accident possibilities are constant. Elimination of traffic hazards has long been a struggle for township police and government officials.

"The steady rate of increase in traffic accidents indicates that the six-mile stretch of Telegraph in Bloomfield is the most risky and accident-prone stretch of road in the state."

'BLEAK OUTLOOK'

"The day is approaching when Telegraph will be totally unsafe to travel. The current rising accident rates indicate nothing but a bleak outlook for the highway," said Chief Snell.

County Action on Landfills for 2 Townships Postponed

By JEAN SAILE

There will be no county-operated landfills in two area townships, at least not right away anyway.

There was an unexpected last-minute postponement yesterday of action which would have allowed the County Road Commission to begin operation of landfills on county-owned land in Pontiac and Commerce townships.

It had been recommended by the public works committee.

Request for postponement came after letters from both townships opposing landfill operations were read before the full board.

REASON FOR POSTPONEMENT

But the postponement apparently came about because of a reply from Sol Lomerson, road commission chairman, to Board Chairman Charles B. Edwards Jr. in regard to support of legislation which would allow the county to designate the public works department as permanent solid waste disposal agent.

Public Works Committee Chairman Harry Horton gave no reason for the postponement during the meeting, but he later told reporters, "The road commission is too darned independent. We appoint them, set their salaries and receive their (annual) report, and that's all there is to it."

The road commission has recently taken considerable verbal heat from the public works committee as well as from other members of the board of supervisors on a variety of complaints.

There have been suggestions that present commission members be removed, and there was also discussion of support for legislation which would have abolished road commissions entirely.

DISAGREEMENT MAY RESULT

Disagreement between the two bodies may result in elimination of the $400,000 proposed appropriation to the commission in the 1970 budget. The funds would have aided a matching road building program.

Supervisor Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, said he anticipated that road money and the $2 million set aside for the new public service center to house the Department of Public Works and the Drain Commission would be first cut in the county's reduced budget. Preliminary Tax Allocation Board action indicates that the county budget will have to be pared $3.5 million.

Supervisors got into a hassle about fiscal reform as they passed a resolution opposing legislation to end tax exemption for municipal bonds were discussed.

Democratic supervisors Dennis Aaron, Huntington Woods, Philip Mastin, Hazel Park, Niles O'Brien, Orion Township, and Lee Walker, Madison Heights, voted against the resolution, over arguments by other board members that such legislation would ultimately increase taxpayers' costs in bonding projects.

Staff Is Shuffled at Troy Schools

TROY — A top-level administrative realignment was decided upon by the board of education in recent action in lieu of an available new superintendent of schools to replace resigning Dr. Rex B. Smith.

Boyd Larson, the current assistant superintendent in charge of construction, was named acting superintendent. Larry Hamilton, director of elementary curriculum and special education, becomes assistant superintendent of curriculum and personnel and John Diefenbaker, acting business manager, was named as acting assistant superintendent of finance and business.

Elementary School Principals David Battie (Wattles and Poppleton schools) and Ron Stevens (Big Beaver and Hill schools) were designated as special administrative aides for five weeks of the summer to allow the other appointees to take vacation time.

Beattie was also named by the board as acting chief negotiator for teacher and staff negotiations to replace Diefenbaker.

The board has not yet hired a new superintendent of schools. Dr. Smith has reported that he has not as yet found a new position, although his last day as Troy superintendent is May 22.

Summer Program Sign-Up Is Begun

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Registration for the early summer program for elementary school aged pupils in the township is currently under way.

The program includes sports, games, arts and crafts, movies and story telling.

Enrollment is limited to 60 pupils for each of four 2-week sessions, beginning June 23, July 7, July 21 and Aug. 4. Deadline for registration at the school office is May 23. The fee is $8.50 per session.

Rochester School PTA to Install New Officers

ROCHESTER — The Woodward School PTA will meet Monday to install new officers for the 1969-70 school year. Following the 8 p.m. meeting at the school, several classes will present a musical program.

New officers are Mrs. Frank R. Sandson, president; Bruce Hudson and John Weaver, father-vice presidents; Mrs. Eric Eitelsten, mother-vice-president; Mrs. Nicholas Stefan, teacher vice president; Mrs. Robert Chase, secretary, and Mrs. Glen Grubbs, treasurer.

cause of many of the accidents," claims Traffic Division Lt. Richard Reuther.

Chief Snell will probably make a decision in the near future regarding a recommendation to the highway department about implementing the no left-turn proposal.

"Certainly we will get a lot of pressure and static from people and the merchants, but this is what we need if anything is to be accomplished toward rectifying the situation," Snell said.

MAY ABOLISH LEFT TURNS

The police department is currently discussing the idea of abolishing all left turns in both directions between Miracle Mile shopping center and Orchard Lake Road.

"We have already discussed this possibility with the 32 merchants involved and to a man they screamed 'it would kill me' if such an ordinance were to be invoked," Lt. Reuther said.

He said that expansion of the highway eight lanes for the entire six-mile duration through the township will be the only way the road could ever begin to handle the traffic it's going to see in the next years.

Bloomfield Township, for example, has grown from 3,000 to 45,000 persons in 18 years.

It is now estimated that 40,000 vehicles use Telegraph every 24 hour period. The upswing in commercial truck traffic has added considerably to the dilemma.

INTERSECTION COUNTS

Arbitrary counts taken at a key intersection for full-hour periods have indicated an average of three trucks passing through the particular intersection every minute.

Lt. Reuther noted that 50 per cent of the accidents on Telegraph are rear-end collisions, which indicates the degree of congestion on the road. Principal accident causes include following too closely; passing without due care and traveling too fast for weather conditions.

Chief Snell explained that stricter enforcement is not a guaranteed deterrent to increased accidents. The department has issued 634 ticket violations since Jan. 1 on Telegraph alone, a 30 per cent increase over last year. However, the accident totals have continued to soar.

The chief explained that when unbound from all engineering aspects in 1965, preliminary plans were drawn, and approved for the expansion of the highway to eight lanes. Cost estimates were placed at $30 million. Right-of-way rights have been taken on nearly all property from 12 Mile to 15 Mile, but that is as far as the project has reached.

Show-O-Ree Set for 1,500 Scouts

HOLLY — Nearly 1,500 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers will participate in the Manito Boy Scout district's annual Show-O-Ree at the Groveland Oaks Recreation Area on Grange Hall Road from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday.

The Show-O-Ree will feature many Scouting skills including pioneering, signaling, first aid, crafts, cooking and sailing. Another feature will be a Cub-O-Rama, which will spotlight Cub Scout activities, including Pinewood Derby races.

Sea Explorers will give sailboat rides and music will be provided by the Boy Scout band of Troop 389 of Farmington and the Drum and Bugle Corps of Troop 43, Holly.

About 800 Boy Scouts and Explorers will camp for the entire weekend at the Groveland Oaks site. Webelos Scouts and their fathers also will camp during the weekend.

Robert Thom of Birmingham autographs prints of his famous "History of Michigan" paintings Thursday after speaking at the annual awards program of the Pontiac Area United Fund's Women's Division. With him are two young recipients of awards: Martha Killane of Rochester (center), and a senior at Oakland University, who is a weekly volunteer at the Boys' Club of Pontiac; and Mrs. Theodore Karla, Winchcombe Drive, Bloomfield Township, a volunteer at the Kenney-Michigan Rehabilitation Center.

Two of the 21 volunteers serving PAUF agencies get acquainted after the awards luncheon in The Old Mill Restaurant. ## Whelans Hopeful Cincinnati's Music and Theater Comparable

By SHIRLEY GRAY

The Philip G. Whelans of Bloomfield Hills are packing up their 14-year-old daughter, Katie, three Siamese cats, the piano and everything else and moving to Cincinnati after 17 years in this area.

The move, dictated by a new job for the man of the house, will come in late June, after Katie finishes as a freshman at East Hills.

It's reassuring to hear that Cincinnati is known as a city with an especially lively interest in music. Mrs. Whelans, who has accompanied the Birmingham

Musical's choral ensemble for the last eight years, will no doubt find something of interest musically.

Let's hope her husband, whose love is amateur theater, especially the Birmingham Village Players, finds the theater scene active there.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip R. Flanders of Bloomfield Hills will be at the Village Woman's Club's spring formal tomorrow evening, bringing as guests old, old friends from Grosse Pointe, Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Mackintosh.

ACTING IT OUT

Mrs. Flanders, another theater buff, is playing the role of prop man tonight at the Theater Arts annual Men's Night at the Player's Playhouse on East Jefferson. TA, of course, is all female, except for one event each year when husbands, sweethearts, etc. are invited to a performance.

Mrs. Flanders' backstage role will consist of shepherding the refreshments — 60 pounds of meat, 40 loaves of bread, etc. — there safely. More nerve-racking than the lead part.

Knight Templars Detroit Commandery No. 1's ladies sewing group is having its spring luncheon next Thursday (May 22) at Plum Hollow Golf Club. The club, which sews and raises money for Booth Memorial Hospital and other worthy causes, was a particular favorite of the late Matilda Wilson.

Among some of the localities planning to attend are Mrs. Frank Howlett, Mrs. Rowe Balmer, Mrs. John Downs, Mrs. Frederick Lorne and Mrs. Clifford Lorne, Mrs. Gertrude Skillman, and the chairman, Mrs. Walter McGoogan of Farmington.

Plan Arts Council for Farmington

Oakland Community College and the Michigan State Council for the Arts are assisting a steering committee which has been formed to develop a Farmington Arts Council. Mrs. Eugene Schoeneich, Farmington branch, American Association of University Women (AAUW) has announced.

The steering committee hopes to coordinate the activities of upwards of 100 clubs and organizations in the Farmington area by establishing a community calendar of activities and encouraging public events, and services in the arts and related areas.

All Farmington area persons and organizations interested in such a coordinating group are invited to attend an open meeting at 8 p.m., Monday, in Room 3408 in the Commons Building, OCC Orchard Ridge Campus.

Left Handers Need Not Be That Awkward

Of the Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: I am left-handed, and it gets awful hard to act suave and sophisticated when you have to begin each and every meal by behaving like a contortionist just to have the right piece of silver in the correct hand at the correct time.

What is proper: Pick up all the silver that is to be used and put it on the left, or reach across the plate and get the correct utensil as is needed? Can I pick up the water glass and put it on my left, which is where I need it?

I have come to believe that everyone really expects southpaws to be awkward and clumsy. But I am a lost cause. Please help! — Mrs. G.

Dear Mrs. G.: I really do not understand why it is so difficult for a left-handed person to use a standard place setting. After all, right-handed people must reach across to the left to use a butter plate, or to eat salad from that side, and it does not seem to be a problem.

They must also reach across to pick up the fork, which is on the natural side for a left-handed diner. If "lefties" prefer to move the water glass a little toward the left, by all means do so, but would you then put the butter plate over on the right?

Once the silver has been used it is placed on the plate in any case — on whichever side you wish. If left-handed people are taught to use the utensils as they are properly placed, from the time they are children, they will have no more trouble than a right-handed person.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Dear Mrs. Post: My two sisters have invited me out for dinner on my birthday. My friend feels this is in poor taste because we will not have a male escort. What is proper etiquette in this situation? — Cathy

Dear Cathy: "Proper etiquette" as you call it should make life simpler and more pleasant — not restrict and complicate it. Anybody who would criticize you for dining in a nice restaurant with your two sisters on your birthday is living in another world.

OU to Host Highland Competitions Waterford School Chief Leaving Post

The Highland Games at Oakland University Saturday and Sunday are expected to draw a crowd of 400 or more during the hours of 9:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. each day.

Highlighting the two-day affair will be the "March Past" of the massed pipe bands and competitors on the University grounds at 1 p.m. both days.

Patricia Veal, leader of the United Nurses Association heading a mass march of nurses carries a broom and a determined look on arriving at the Royal College of Nursing in London Thursday. The broom was brought because the nurses say "the authorities have been sweeping things under the carpet for so long." Their main complaint is that they're paid so little they're often hungry.

His Ex-Wife's Tactics Put Her in Winner's Circle

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was a bachelor until the age of 56, and all I can say is that some men don't know when they're well off.

"Lena" (I'll call her) kept asking me for money for the track, so I gave it to her. A hundred here, a hundred there. I never kept books on how she came out, all I know is she said she "lost" most of the time.

Well, four years later, Lena sued me for divorce. She didn't have any grounds, but if she'd have said what was coming to her she could have sued me for assault. We settled out of court.

Now it comes out that while we were married Lena squirreled away about $25,000. My lawyer says the money is HERS. I don't know how he figures. Don't you think I'm entitled to that money?

DEAR OUTFOXED: So she "outfoxed" you, and "squirreled" away $25,000? Maybe you should have consulted a zoologist? You paid a lawyer for his legal counsel, so if he says it's HERS, 100 to one, it's hers.

DEAR ABBY: If more than one mouse is "nice," isn't more than one spouse "spice"? DARRLY

DEAR DARRLY: More than one spouse is not spice, it is spouses. The noun is bigamy, the adjective—bigamous.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 16. She "goes with" a boy who's a freshman in a college close enough for him to come home occasionally for weekends.

I found a half-finished letter written by my daughter. It was in plain sight on her desk, and I was not snooping. From it I learned that she had "tried" marijuana and she was writing to say that the next time he came home she was willing to try marijuana smoking with him. From her letter, I gathered that he has tried it, too.

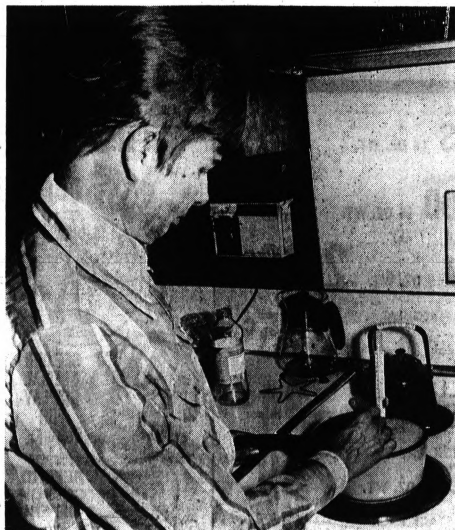

Abby, I am sick over this and don't know what to do. My daughter is not a wild girl and we've never had any trouble with her. I can't forbid her to see this boy, and I don't want her to know I read that letter. Should I just let nature take its course? Please help me.

NO NAME OR ADDRESS

DEAR NO NAME: You must tell your daughter you read that letter, and urge her to resist "trying" marijuana with her boyfriend. Your plea may be useless, but you can't just "let nature take its course" knowing what's in the air.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Contributions Lost in Polemics

His Career Sketched

WASHINGTON (AP) — The intense controversy that swirled about Justice Abe Fortas in the past year overshadowed his work as a member of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Many legal observers pronounced him one of the court's most independent thinkers who, but for his extrajudicial activities, was on his way to leaving an indelible mark on the course of the nation's law.

He sat on the court only 43 months after President Lyndon B. Johnson talked Arthur J. Goldberg off the bench to become ambassador to the United Nations and replaced him with his old friend, Fortas.

Fortas remained the president's friend and adviser—one of the facets of his career that helped launch the congressional campaign against his 1968 nomination to be chief justice. From that point on, his outside activities came under close scrutiny that tended to blur his legal creativity.

ELOQUENT SPOKESMAN

Fortas quickly became one of the court's most eloquent spokesmen for the rights of minority groups, for the impoverished criminal suspect enmeshed in the coils of law and for the long-ignored juvenile.

Observers classified Fortas as a true blue and predictable liberal, but this complicated mind could not be cast in an easy mold.

For instance, he was at the very conservative end of the court of the Vietnam war, objecting to attempts to have the justices pass on the legality of this country's heavy involvement in a major conflict without a declaration of war from Congress.

In the areas of antitrust and libel law Fortas early parted company from the old liberal position that corporate bigness at least implied some badness. And, while the court was making important advances in the area of the free press, Fortas reflected a deep suspicion of the

on Firemen Firing

HOLLAND (AP) — A hearing has been scheduled for Monday in Ottawa County Circuit Court to show cause why 14 Park Township firemen near Holland should not be rehired.

The firemen, all paid volunteers and members of Station No. 2, were fired Tuesday. They had been protesting various regulations imposed by the township fire board.

Donald Hann of Holland, attorney for the firemen, said a temporary restraining order was being sought to get the men back on the job until the hearing.

Flag Flying Urged

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has urged all Michigan citizens to fly the state flag during the annual Michigan Week starting Saturday.

Later in the summer of 1965, and also before my nomination, my firm was retained in connection with some securities problems of Merrill-Chapman and Scott corporation, of which Mr. Wolfson was chairman of the board.

I became acquainted with Mr. Wolfson and he told me about the Wolfson Family Foundation and his hopes and plans for it. He knew that its program—the improvement of community relations and the promotion of racial and religious cooperation—concerned matters to which I had devoted much time and attention.

'I WAS INTERESTED'
Mr. Wolfson stated that he intended to increase the foundation's resources, and he hoped that the foundation might expand its work so as to make unique and basic contributions in its field. As we proceeded in our discussions, Mr. Wolfson suggested that he would like me to participate in and help shape the foundation's program and activities. I told him I was interested in these objectives and that I hoped we would continue our discussions.

I became a member of the court in October 1965. Shortly thereafter, Mr. Wolfson was in Washington and again conferred with me about the foundation's work and my possible association with it. I again indicated my interest in the foundation's program and in expanding its scope, and we discussed the possibility of my participating in the project on a long-term basis. Because of the nature of the work, there was no conflict between it and my judicial duties. It was then my opinion that the work of the Court would leave me adequate time for the Foundation assignments.

The board of the foundation met in December 1965, and approved, by resolution, an agreement under which I was to perform, services for the foundation. It was understood between us that the program in question was a long-range one and that my association would be meaningful only if it were on a long-term basis. The agreement, therefore, contemplated that I would perform continuing services, and, instead of fixing variable compensation from time to time for work done, it provided that I would receive twenty thousand dollars per year for my life with arrangements for payments to Mrs. Fortas in the event of my death.

In January 1966 I received a check for twenty thousand dollars under the agreement, and began my association with the foundation. In June of that year I attended and participated in a meeting of the Trustees of the Foundation at Jacksonville, Florida. It is my recollection that Mr. Wolfson did not attend the meeting. I went from Jacksonville to his farm at Ocala taken place, the services which I had performed should be treated as a contribution to the Foundation. Since becoming a member of the court, I have not, at any time, directly or indirectly, received any "compensation" from Mr. Wolfson or members of his family or any of his associates for advice, assistance or any reason whatever, except the foundation fee which was returned.

RECEIVED MATERIAL
Since I became a member of the court, Mr. Wolfson on occasion would send me material relating to his problems, just as I think he did to many other people, and on several occasions he mentioned them to me, but I have not interceded or taken part in any legal, administrative or judicial matter affecting Mr. Wolfson or anyone associated with him.

It is my opinion, however, that the public controversy relating to my association with the foundation is likely to continue and adversely affect the work and position of the court, absent my resignation. In these circumstances, it seems clear to me that it is not my duty to remain on the court, but rather to resign in the hope that this will enable the court to proceed with its vital work free from extraneous stress.

There has been no wrongdoing on my part. There has been no default in the performance of my judicial duties in accordance with the high standards of the office I hold. So far as I am concerned, the welfare and maximum effectiveness of the Court to perform its critical role in our system of government are factors that are paramount to all others. It is this consideration that prompts my resignation which, I hope, by terminating the public controversy, will permit the court to proceed with its work without the harassment of debate concerning one of its members.

I have written a letter asking President Nixon to accept my resignation, effective as of this date.

I leave the court with the greatest respect and affection for you and my colleagues, and my thanks to all of you and to the staff of the court for your unfailing helpfulness and friendship. I hope that as I return to private life, I shall find opportunities to continue to serve the nation and the cause of justice which this court so ably represents.

Sincerely,
Abe Fortas

Horatio Alger-Like

Born on June 19, 1910, the last of five children of a Jewish cabinet maker who had emigrated to Memphis, Tenn., from England, Fortas followed the ground walked by Horatio Alger heroes at almost as fast a pace. By the time he was 13 he had begun earning money by playing the violin at social events. His love for music stayed with him, and he is known to have chartered airplanes to bring other musicians to his Connecticut summer estate for weekend musicales.

By the age of 32, he was an undersecretary of the interior, had already taught at his Yale law school alma mater.

Fortas blended good fortune with his industry. His biggest break was meeting Johnson in the 1930s. They forged a bond that carried all the way to the White House and the court in the 1960s.

Before going to the court, Fortas, in partnership with two other old New Dealers, Thurmond Arnold and Paul Porter, formed a highly energetic law firm that became one of the three or four major firms in the capital.

$150,000 A YEAR
His private income was said to approach $150,000 a year, and his wife, Carolyn Agger, a tax specialist with the firm, was believed to have earned more than half of that annually.

They bought a quarter-million dollar home in Georgetown, and painted it mustard yellow. They also own a silver Rolls Royce.
