THE WINNER — Diane Girard of Southgate was named Michigan's Junior Miss of 1963 in competition Saturday night at Pontiac Northern High School. The 5-foot, 1-inch Diane will represent the state in the national finals in March.

Southgate Beauty Named Junior Miss

Michigan's Junior Miss for 1963 is a 17-year-old, brown eyed beauty from Southgate.

The pride of the downriver Detroit community is Diane Girard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Girard of 1784 Michigan Boulevard.

Diane won the state title Saturday in all-day competition over 23 other high school seniors, who represented a cross section of Michigan in typifying the ideal American teen-ager.

Nearly 900 persons attended the finals pageant held at Pontiac Northern High School.

Charles Brouillet, chairman of the pageant, sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce said, "There is no doubt this was the best show ever."

The first runner-up in the pageant was Susan Kelly, Detroit's Junior Miss.

She and the second runner-up both are from Oakland County.

LOCAL GIRL SECOND

Pontiac's Junior Miss, Susan Pill, 17, was the second runner-up.

Susan Kelly, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Kelly of 1929 Woodbury Drive, Royal Oak.

Susan Pill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pill of 2401 E. Hammond Lake Drive, Pontiac.

Diane, a senior at Lincoln Park High School, performed in a baton twirling and dance act in the talent portion of the pageant.

For Diane the title meant a $1,000 scholarship to the college of her choice.

She has a B plus average in high school.

She also was awarded a stereo

'Russians Have Heavily Armed Forces in Cuba'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has placed four heavily armed combat groups in Cuba and Soviet pilots there are flying MIG fighters capable of carrying nuclear weapons, says Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The continued presence of Soviet armed forces on the island is a "matter of real concern" to the United States, Rusk said last night. But he hewed to the administration line that the Red forces essentially are defensive in nature.

The best U.S. intelligence guess, Rusk said in a radio and television interview is that there are no nuclear warheads in Cuba.

He added: "We have had some indication from the Soviet Union" that at least portions of the combat forces and missiles "will be removed in due course."

Rusk gave no hint that there is any U.S. deadline for Soviet troop removal from Cuba. He said there has been some "outtraffic" in recent weeks and declared: "It must be our policy that penetration of this hemisphere by a Communist regime from outside is unacceptable to this hemisphere."

MIG fighters have been entering Cuba for many months, Rusk said. He also confirmed reports that Soviet pilots are training Cubans to fly them.

'REAL CONCERN'

Commenting on the Soviet combat groups on the island, Rusk described them as "relatively small" but, nonetheless, "a matter of some real concern."

Several Congress members, primarily Republicans, contend Soviet military power in Cuba is increasing dangerously. The situation was the subject of a Senate inquiry last week and another Senate probe will be held shortly.

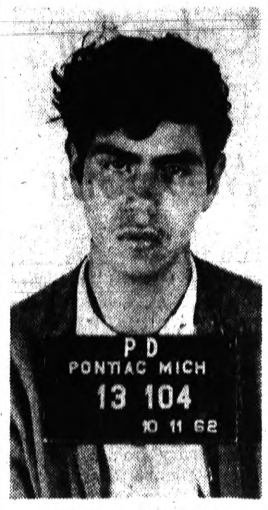
Rusk is to testify today on Soviet military activity in Cuba before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Missing French Sub Turns Up in Atlantic

LONDON (AP) — One of France's largest submarines was reported missing in the North Atlantic today during maneuvers but a British Air Ministry spokesman said a short time later the vessel had surfaced.

The report came 4½ hours after the Requin failed to make her regular noon position report during an exercise with a British naval force.

The British Admiralty had posted the submarine as missing about 350 miles west of Northern Ireland. A widespread air and sea search had been launched.



PAUL A. GONZALES

Hunt Youth From State Prison Camp

Area police today are seeking a 17-year-old Pontiac youth who escaped from the Waterloo State Prison Camp near Jackson last night, kidnaped the camp's athletic director and forced him to drive to Pontiac.

The escapee was identified by police as Paul A. Gonzales, 299 W. Princeton Ave., sentenced to prison for 1½ to 15 years for breaking and entering the South Side Pool Room, 161 South Boulevard, in October, 1962.

★ ★ ★

Gonzales abducted Ralph Heiake, 62, of Grass Lake. Heiake was not harmed.

Heiake was released by Gonzales a few minutes before midnight in the area of Franklin Boulevard and Colorado Street.

Gonzales fled on foot after taking $13 from Heiake's wallet.

Heiake drove to a service station at Square Lake and Telegraph roads where he telephoned the nearest police department, Bloomfield Township.

WAS NEAR DRIVEWAY

The abduction began when Heiake was about to pull into his driveway at home, several miles from the camp.

Heiake told police he felt a pointed object at his neck and was ordered to drive to Pontiac. He was unable to explain how Gonzales got into his car.

Heiake had telephoned his wife from the camp at about 9:30 p.m. to tell her he was on his way home.

★ ★ ★

When Heiake didn't arrive, she called the prison camp and asked if he had been delayed. This was two hours after her husband had telephoned her.

Prison officials said Gonzales was reported missing about 11 p.m. yesterday and had not been seen since shortly before 8 p.m.

A police check of Gonzales' father's home at the Princeton address failed to turn up any evidence of the son's whereabouts.

★ ★ ★

His father said he had not been contacted by his son.

Several other homes of Gonzales' friends were checked to no avail.

Gonzales was sentenced to prison Nov. 27 by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Home in Slain Woman's Neighborhood Lit Up at Night

Guard Against Sniper

Fear Stalks Bloomfield Twp.

By DON FERMOYLE

Frightened Bloomfield Township residents — fearing the return of an unknown sniper who shot and killed a woman there Friday night — are keeping their curtains drawn and homes well lighted outside at night.

Children in the Long Lake - Squirrel roads area of the township are not allowed far from their homes. Police maintain a two-car patrol of the neighborhood.

Police Chief Norman Dehnke said today that no good clues were uncovered over the weekend in the slaying of Mrs. Mary Godfrey, 38-year-old mother of five.

Mrs. Godfrey was shot shortly after 9 p.m. Friday while making coffee in the kitchen of her home at 983 Dursley Road.

THIRD INCIDENT

Township police said a sniper fired into homes in the area with a pellet gun on two occasions in recent weeks. No one was hurt in the other attacks.

Dehnke believes Mrs. Godfrey was shot by a "mentally deranged" boy about 14 years old.

She was struck in the head by a 22-caliber bullet fired through the kitchen window.

Powder burns on the window indicate the killer was standing close to the home when he fired, police said.

Dehnke said about 15 22-caliber rifles and pistols confiscated from homes in the neighborhood were being checked with the fatal bullet today at the state police crime laboratory in Lansing.

Although township police have received several "tips" on the mysterious sniper, Dehnke said there was nothing new on the case today.

Mrs. Walter E. Foraker, whose home at 982 Dursley Road is directly across from the slain woman's residence, said fear is evident in the neighborhood.

★ ★ ★

"It's lit up like Broadway at night," said Mrs. Foraker, explaining that most residents in the area keep outside floodlights turned on all night long.

"Even the children are scared," she added. "My 10-year-old son wouldn't open the drapes in his bedroom when he got up this morning."

Another neighbor, Mrs. Allen Flitcraft, 952 Dursley Road, said she would be "a bit nervous just driving down the street at night."

"He could shoot at a car as well as into your house," she said.

Mrs. Foraker admitted that she was frightened last night as she went out to her garage. "I thought I heard a noise and I went back in the house to get my husband to go out there," she said.

"It seems to me that parents should know if their child is deranged.

"If they know their son is the one who did it," she concluded, "they should be ready to have him taken care of —now that he's done this."

2 Men Ordered to Scat From Clemson Campus

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Police ordered two men off the Clemson College campus today "because they had no business here," as the hour neared for the court-ordered admittance of Negro Harvey Gantt.

Officers said the two men had been under surveillance all night. It was the only sign of disorder on the otherwise quiet campus.

No charges were filed against the two, and officers said they were unarmed but had been overheard engaging in threatening talk.

Uniformed highway patrolmen manned all entrances to the campus, admitting only those persons with credentials.

CLEMSON, S. C. (UPI) — Negro Harvey Gantt arrived on the Clemson College campus today at 1:34 p.m. The campus was quiet.

Earlier, Clemson President Robert C. Edwards said this would be a historic day for South Carolina.

"Whether it's a great day, we'll let the historians say later," he told a new conference crowd of about 150 a few hours before Gantt was to be enrolled.

Dr. Edwards, and almost every South Carolina authority, has made clear the state will oppose Gantt's admittance with a U.S. Supreme Court appeal.

Clemson is obeying a federal court injunction to enroll the 20-year-old architectural student.

South Carolina is the only state which, to this day, had preserved segregation in public schools at all levels.

South Carolina's top police officer—J. P. Storm of the State Law Enforcement Division — described the situation as well in hand as the hour for Gantt's arrival approached.

Strom's civilian-clad SLED agents were augmented by a large number of uniformed state highway patrolmen. He held meetings with his forces Sunday to review their assignments to maintain order.

Slim 'Slats' DeBats Slips Under 300

Meet the "shadow."

William (Slats) DeBats, The Pontiac Press behemoth, slipped under 300 pounds today and now tips the beam at a neat and sylph-like 299¾.

"Shucks," said he. "Substantially, I weigh like other people. There are millions and millions of Americans somewhere in the 200s and I'm just one of 'em.

★ ★ ★

"But don't get me wrong. Just because I knocked off 29 pounds from that original 329 doesn't mean I'm through. I still intend to ease back to the low 200s."

"Oh, it'll take a bit of doing," said the big boy as he patted an ample and substantial paunch. "But, I'll make it. I've got it to give, and the old fight and determination are at work.

"Everybody stand aside."

Auto Maker's Net Income Is $1.46 Billion

Figure for '62 Equal to Increase of $5.10 Per Share

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. today reported record profit for any company for any 12-month period.

The nation's No. 1 auto maker estimated 1962 net income at $1.46 billion equal to $5.10 a share, or up more than 60 per cent from 1961 earnings of $893 million or $3.11 a share.

GM's previous high was $1.189 billion in 1955, the auto industry's best year. That also was the first time any firm ever topped the billion-dollar mark in profits.

★ ★ ★

GM sales last year were estimated at $14.6 billion compared with $11.4 billion in 1961 and the previous high of $12.7 billion in 1960.

RECORD PROFIT

The record one-year profit for a company was $1,428,736,000 earned by American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in the 12 months ended Nov. 30, 1962.

★ ★ ★

That company has not yet released figures for calendar 1962. In 1962 AT&T cleared $1,284,586,000.

Sales of cars and trucks in 1962, the company said, totaled 5,239,000 units, 4 per cent above the previous record year of 1955 and 30 per cent higher than the 4,037,000 units sold in 1961.

Net income is the figure arrived at after money is put aside for taxes and other things. GM said U.S. and foreign taxes for 1962 will total an estimated $1.48 billion compared with $875 million in 1961.

RECORD DIVIDENDS

Dividends last year also were a record amount—$3 a share being paid to holders of common stock.

★ ★ ★

The company said the $850 million in common stock dividends is the largest amount ever paid by an industrial firm.

In 1961, dividends of $2.50 per share were paid on GM common stock. That was GM's previous high.

Earnings per share of common stock last year were $5.10, of which $2.10 of each share was reinvested in the business. The reinvestment compared to 61 cents per share in 1961.

★ ★ ★

That same year GM dividends reached the then record total of $707 million, while earnings per share of common stock were $3.11.

Workers Picket Vegas Test Site

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Office workers went on strike today and established a picket line at the Nevada test site.

The Atomic Energy Commission said other crafts were honoring the line.

The AEC said the pickets could keep a work force of 3,800 to 3,900 persons away from their jobs.

An AEC spokesman said only supervisors entered the main gate at Camp Mercury.

Additional pickets marched in front of the AEC's downtown Las Vegas' office and also picketed outside Reynolds Electrical and Engineering Co.

IN LOS ANGELES

In Los Angeles machinists at Lockheed Aircraft Corp. voted overwhelmingly to approve a new labor contract providing for increased wages, along with vacation and insurance benefits.

★ ★ ★

But the pact, approved at mass meetings throughout the country yesterday, has no union shop clause — the issue that was a chief stumbling block during eight months of intermittent negotiation.

The International Association of Machinists, AFL - CIO, said the three-year contract won the support of 85 per cent of 4,000 members employed at the Burbank plant near here.

About 21,000 members in plants from Hawaii to Cape Canaveral approved contract terms reached in talks that ended at midnight Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Instead of the union shop sought by the union, the company agreed to suggest to new employes that they join the union.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the contract provides that "new employes will be introduced to the shop stewards who shall, on company time, discuss with them the advantages of union membership."

28.3-CENT INCREASE

A spokesman said wage provisions in the contract will give workers increases of 28.3 cents an hours over the three-year period.

Included is an immediate pay hike of five to eight cents hourly, retroactive to last July 23, six to eight cents for 1963 and 6-9 for 1964. Average wage for Lockheed machinists is now $2.88 an hour.

About 1,460 workers will get additional benefits of three to 15 cents hourly because so - called pay inequities under the old contract.

Included in the agreement is a joint union-company plan to sponsor steward training schools on labor law and grievances.

Three - week vacations will be given after 10 years service, instead of 12. Employes will get four weeks vacation after 25 years and all workers will get the Friday after Thanksgiving as a paid holiday.

At the Boeing Co. in Seattle, a Taft-Hartley injunction has delayed for at least 90 days a machinists strike set for last Saturday.

★ ★ ★

A union official there said the Lockheed agreement would not affect negotiations with Boeing.

Common Market Council Weighs Britain's Future

From Our News Wires

BRUSSELS — The European Common Market Council of Ministers gathered today to decide whether to break off negotiations with Britain—a move that would have a major impact on economic relationships in the western world.

A series of top-level meetings among officials of the countries involved was under way this morning in an effort to find some way to keep the talks going.

The long British struggle to enter the Common Market apparently rested precariously in the hands of the West Germans.

They reportedly planned to suggest a compromise that would postpone the decision.

A West German source reported his government would propose passing the problem to the market's executive commission. The commission would report its recommendations in two or three weeks.

WOULD EXAMINE

The nine-member commission would attempt to establish whether it is technically possible to bring Britain into the European Economic Community and whether its membership would work, as de Gaulle claims, to the disadvantage of the present members — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

For membership, Britain needs the unanimous approval of all six.

West German Economic Minister Ludwig Erhard told newsmen the future of Europe as well as West German-French relations were at stake.

"The situation is extraordinarily grave," Erhard said. "The whole situation has serious political consequences."

★ ★ ★

Erhard is the leading candidate to succeed West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer if the aged chancellor retires this fall.

Of the six EEC members, only France is opposed to British membership. West Germany is second only to France in importance in Common Market and European affairs.

OSLO (UPI)—An Oslo newspaper said today French President Charles de Gaulle has offered Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a "grand design" deal including American military withdrawal from Europe in exchange for demilitarization of the Soviet satellites.

"The governments of the Western countries have now been informed of de Gaulle's plans for a European new order and they have reacted with stupifaction," the paper said.

In Paris, French government sources denied the Oslo report. Officials said no such proposal has been made or discussed.

Color Bar Drops for Met's Star

LAUREL, Miss. (AP) — The color bar dropped in Leontyne Price's Mississippi hometown when the renowned soprano gave a benefit concert for the Negro church where she made her first public appearance.

★ ★ ★

She received two standing ovations Sunday from an audience that overflowed into the aisles, onto the stage and into another room where her dazzling voice was piped in.

Negro and white spectators applauded and cheered the 34-year-old daughter of a sawmill worker who became a Metropolitan Opera star.

Miss Price stayed long after the concert signing hundreds of autographs.

PARENTS IN 1ST ROW

"If I am accepted as an artist," she said, "then I have said a great deal for my people. In some minute way, I am trying to speak for a good life for my people."

In the first row were Miss Prices' father, 81, and her mother, 67, a midwife who has helped deliver over 900 babies.

About 2,000 persons flocked from 10 states to hear the concert of operatic arias, hymns and spirituals in the Negro school auditorium. White lawyers, doctors, educators and musicians came from every part of Mississippi—as did many Negroes.

Capt. James Sellers, 41, who patrolled the school with two other officers, said it was the only integrated event he could remember in Laurel in his lifetime—except for one previous performance by Miss Price.

Laurel is a town of 27,000. As a girl, Miss Price sang in the choir and played the piano for the St. Paul Methodist church across the street from her home. Her mother has sung in the choir for 47 years.

Scholle Blasts Romney Attack

Replies to Criticism of Union Publication

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle has blasted Gov. George Romney for what he terms "the misuse of his (Romney's) office to recklessly label everyone who disagrees with him as untruthful."

★ ★ ★

Scholle's criticism was in reply to Romney's attack on Michigan's union publications at the Michigan Press Association meeting in East Lansing Saturday.

Romney, in pledging an all-out campaign for adoption of the proposed new state constitution, charged that the Democratic party opposes the document because of "rule-or-ruin, all-or-nothing veto bloc leadership."

The Republican governor added that union publications in Michigan have been nothing more than an arm of the official Democratic party and that the labor press usually takes the stand that it is not the public press and should be left to pursue what it considers labor's aims.

★ ★ ★

Scholle, in answering Romney's charges yesterday, said the governor "is doing a disservice to efforts toward full and open discussion of the pros and cons of the proposed state constitution by seeking to intimidate with irresponsible attacks on their integrity all who disagree with him."

★ ★ ★

Britain Eyes Borneo Threat

LONDON (AP)—Britain and the Philippines opened talks on Southeast Asia defense problems today against the dark backdrop of a new threat to British North Borneo by Indonesian volunteers.

★ ★ ★

Britain sent a unit trained as parachutists into the protectorate of Brunei, a small territory in North Borneo where an uprising was put down last month, said a military spokesman in Singapore.

★ ★ ★

Reports here said another 2,000 British troops were placed on alert, ready to fly to North Borneo to meet any action by Indonesia. About 3,000 seasoned British troops are there now.

While Indonesia denied that its so-called volunteers are massing on the border area of North Borneo, it sent its army commander on a tour of the frontier of adjoining Indonesian Borneo. He is Maj. Gen. Achmad Jani. North Borneo is composed of the sultanate of Brunei and the territories of Sarawak and North Borneo.

Fights for Life on Golden Gate

Patrolman Needs Help Overcoming Ex-Con

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —California highway patrolman John Halligan stopped his patrol car on the Golden Gate Bridge late Saturday to check on a car parked near the north tower.

★ ★ ★

Two truck operators also had been attracted by the vehicle because cars are not permitted to stop on the scenic span.

Halligan, 39, shook the occupant who appeared to be sleeping. The man got out, handed the officer his wallet, but refused to offer further indentification.

The patrolman began a search of the car and found a loaded 22-caliber pistol and a billy club. The man suddenly bolted toward the bridge railing as though he was going to leap. Halligan pursued him.

★ ★ ★

But the man suddenly spun around, picked Halligan up bodily and forced him to the edge of the chest-high rail. The patrolman struggled for his life as the man tried to push him over into the water 275 feet below.

★ ★ ★

The tow truck operators ran to the officer's assistance, and the three men quickly overcame Halligan's assailant.

"He had me 51 per cent over the edge," the patrolman said. "I thought I was a goner."

His assailant was identified as ex-convict Henry A. Carl, 39, of Santa Clara, Calif. He was booked at San Francisco City Jail on charges of attempted murder, resisting arrest, possession of firearms by an ex-convict — and illegal parking.

Drifts 18 Feet High

Snow Pummels N. Y. Town

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Snow-bound residents of this area east of Lake Ontario girded today for a fresh onslaught of snow and slashing winds while still bucking drifts up to 18 feet high that stranded hundreds of rural families.

★ ★ ★

The second major storm since Wednesday pummeled the city and the rest of Jefferson County yesterday as additional aid arrived to combat the snow emergency declared Saturday by city and county officials.

Highway department crews, augmented by snow - removal equipment from neighboring counties, battled in near-zero temperatures to open roads with a total of about 115 snow-fighting machines.

Winds swirled snow into billowing clouds that reduced visibility and piled drifts on roads almost as fast as plows could open them.

57 INCHES DEEP

Traffic moved in the city and on many roads, but schools here and elsewhere were closed.

Even where the snow had not drifted, the depth was 57 inches.

The weather bureau listed the accumulation here as the highest amount in the nation now, with the exception of mountain communities for which the bureau has no measurements.

Despite travel difficulties, however, one man reported that he drove the 300 miles from New York City to Watertown in 5 hours and 20 minutes yesterday.

Snowstorms and unseasonable cold plagued broad sections over the rest of the nation.

A storm swept into the lower Great Lakes region and along the western slopes of the Appalachians. Heavy snow fell in some areas and strong, westerly winds caused considerable blowing and drifting.

No immediate break in the prolonged spell of cold weather was in sight. The number of weather-related deaths since last mid-week rose to 162.

BELOW ZERO

It was below zero again this morning in most of the upper Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and westward across the northern plains.

The core of the arctic air was over the Mississippi Valley from St. Louis to Duluth, Minn.

Among the coldest spots were Moline, Ill., and Lone Rock, Wis., with 24 below zero. It was the lowest temperature in Moline since Feb. 13, 1905.

Rochester, Minn., reported its 17th consecutive day of below zero readings a record. Des Moines has had 16 straight days of subzero cold.

It was -8 in Louisville, Ky., and the -12 in Chicago beat the record low of -11 for Jan. 28 set in 1885. Evansville, in southern Indiana, reported -15, a record for the date.

The icy air dipped deep into the Southland. It was near zero in parts of Tennessee and readings in the teens chilled central sections of Alabama and Georgia.

Near freezing was reported in northern Florida, with the low 30s reported along the Gulf Coast and up to the 60s in extreme southern Florida. Miami's 66 followed yesterday's high of 85, a record maximum for Jan. 27.

Kremlin Is Delighted by Atlantic Crisis

News Analysis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

PARIS (AP)—The Kremlin was an interested and probably highly delighted spectator today as Western statesmen wrestled with the threat of a deep Atlantic crisis.

At worst, the European Economic Community—Europe's hope for a start toward broad political and economic integration—could be split by the bitter dispute over British membership in the EEC and its common market and France's chair in the North Atlantic Alliance could in effect be vacated, at least for a time.

★ ★ ★

That would be a major triumph for which Nikita Khrushchev would not even have to lift a finger.

At best, the EEC ministers meeting in Brussels will come forward with some formula to prevent a final slamming of the door in Britain's face because of France's opposition to her membership in the Common Market.

CENTERED IN FRANCE

The heart of the crisis is in France, where the lofty figure of President Charles de Gaulle represents a key to Europe's future. Haunting fears of disaster, with which the EEC leaders have lived ever since de Gaulle dropped a bomb in their midst, seem to be moving close to reality.

The gloom over de Gaulle's concept of Europe's future has deepened so much that many diplomats are taking quite seriously the possibility that the French president may make some overture of his own toward the Soviet Union.

Khrushchev, hoping for heavy profits, is not likely to commit Stalin-like mistakes while the West struggles with its own homegrown crisis. He probably will be careful to avoid any Soviet action which could push the Europeans together again. He is not likely to threaten West Berlin or apply pressures elsewhere at this moment, but rather to be discreetly quiet, waiting for the masonry of NATO to begin to give away at a critical point.

DIFFICULT TO CONCEIVE

The prospect of Europe without France is difficult for Europeans to conceive. If this were to come about as the result of the proceedings in Brussels, Khrushchev could triumphantly point out to the Communist world that the Red Chinese were dead wrong.

Khrushchev can tell the Communist world that, Red China notwithstanding, by giving in on Cuba and turning back the specter of nuclear conflict, he threw NATO and Western Europe into confusion and the European community into disorder.

★ ★ ★

In rejecting British entry into the EEC, de Gaulle made known his suspicisions, not only of Britain, but of the United States.

Take the case of Cuba, he seemed to say. The United States challenged Moscow and went to the brink of nuclear war entirely on its own, without consulting France, its ally.

When the United States' own interests are directly at stake, de Gaulle asked will it consider Europe's interests—will it really defend Europe at its own risk?

All manner of pressure has been directed at de Gaulle. Its lack of effectiveness seems to be underscored by the disclosure that the United States is working on plans for a U.S.-European nuclear weapon partnership without France's participation.

West German politicians view with dismay the choice de Gaulle gave the federal republic: France or the United States.

The major West German parties, including Adenauer's Christian Democrats, all favor Britain's entry into the Common Market. All highly value U.S. protection. But they also set high store by French-German friendship.

'Halt Spiral in Health Costs'

DETROIT (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn says he thinks Blue Cross and Blue Shield can and should halt spiraling costs.

He suggested Saturday that the Michigan Medical Service (Blue Shield) take steps to determine the effectiveness of medical staff economy committees in hospitals.

The commissioner says he disagrees with "the school of thought that nothing can be done to combat the sharp increases in utilization and cost of health care."

He said he had some suggestions based on reports by investigators. All of the reports, he said, were in general agreement that public representatives should control Blue Cross. Hospitals now have 21 of the 41 members of the Blue Cross board of trustees.

Cynthia Wales Crowned

Utica Girl Rhubarb Queen

By ROGER SRIGLEY

UTICA — A page became a queen here Saturday.

Utica's lovely Cynthia Wales, who works as a page for a Detroit bank, won top honors in the 1963 Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Queen competition.

A soft-spoken, brown-eyed brunet who "likes rhubarb, but doesn't really love it," Cynthia was chosen queen after judges called back six of the 21 contestants before making their final choice.

Named first maid of honor was Judy VanDenBulke, a senior at St. Lawrence High School, Utica. Judy, 17, is the daughter of Mrs. Lucille VanDeBulke, 15800 18-Mile Road.

Beverly Redluske received the honors as second maid. She is the daughter of Norman Redluske, 19980 25-Mile Road, and an 18-year-old senior at New Haven High School.

PLAYS PIANO, SINGS

The queen, dressed in a green chiffon street-length gown, sang and accompanied herself on the piano during the talent portion of the judging.

She was sponsored by the N. D. Anderson Motor Sales Co. of Utica.

Cynthia and the two honor maids will reign over the eighth annual Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Festival, to be staged Feb. 23 in the American Legion Hall here.

The contest and festival both are sponsored annually by the Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Utica Rotary Club in cooperation with the Macomb County Cooperative Extension Service.

The girls were judged in three categories in Saturday's competition. Emcee Joy Wills, area radio personality, first interviewed each of the entrants. They were dressed in street clothes for this portion of the contest.

TALENT DISPLAY

The audience, which filled the high school auditorium, then saw the girls display their various talents, which ranged from sewing demonstrations to ski instructions.

Finally the beauty of the entrants was emphasized as they appeared individually in formal gowns.

Judges for the event were Val A. Best, E. A. Oppenheim Co., Detroit, Hugh Duran, public relations department, Ford Motor Co.'s Sterling plant; and Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Williams. Williams is in the engineering department of Chevrolet Division.

Robert Miller, manager of the Utica plant, Ford Motor Co., crowned the beautiful queen immediately after her selection.

Cynthia today began the activities which her newly acquired royalty demands, when she appeared on a local radio program.

In addition to other pleasant duties she will appear on television and also offer the governor some of the rhubarb produced in the area.

Pontiac Press Photo

SUGAR SWEET — Cynthia Wales, queen of the 1963 Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Festival, doesn't need sweetening on even the raw rhubarb of her bouquet. The striking brunette, a 1961 graduate of Utica High School, is sweet enough herself to counteract the plant's sourness. Cynthia, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wales, 8261 Canal St., Utica.

Blaze, Water Damage Home

Firemen Battle 4 Hours to Save Area House

ROMEO — Fire and water caused extensive damage to the large remodeled farm home of the Roger N. Toothackers, 1674 32-Mile Road, early last night.

The Romeo and Washington fire departments battled the blaze for about four hours in below-freezing temperatures before bringing it under control.

Romeo Rescue Squad Capt. Gerald Backenstose was treated for smoke inhalation at the Community Hospital and was kept overnight for observation.

The fire was discovered by Toothacker's mother-in-law, Mrs. Adelaide Hoover, 72, who saw smoke through a window about 4:55 p.m.

★ ★ ★

In the house at the time besides Toothacker, 52, and Mrs. Hoover were his wife Greta, 47, and a neighbor, Donald Ginther, 155 Romeo Road.

Rushing outside, they saw smoke billowing out under the roof. Most of the roof was destroyed by the flames, and the upper story was damaged extensively by fire, smoke and water.

The major portion of the damage to the first floor was caused by water. The east wing remained intact.

Toothacker told firemen there was a fire in the fireplace and that the smoke was first seen coming from the chimney area on the roof.

No estimate of damage was immediately available. The damage was covered by insurance.

The Toothacker home is located on a hill, 4½ miles west of Romeo.

Holly Jaycees to Hold Benefit Chicken Fry

HOLLY—A benefit chicken fry will be held today under the sponsorship of the Holly Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Dairee Dynee Restaurant, 507 N. Saginaw St.

Serving will be from 5 to 8:30 p.m. Proceeds will be used for Jaycee-sponsored civic projects.

Residents Get Voice on Village Rezoning

ROCHESTER—Local residents will have the opportunity to voice their opinions on proposed rezoning of the village at a public hearing tonight in the Municipal Building.

Planning consultants Vilican-Leman & Associates of Southfield have been working with the council for the past several months on a new zoning ordinance.

The results of this study will be presented at tonight's 7:30 p.m. meeting.

One of the major changes included in the proposal would outlaw combined residential uses in a business uses district, as well as prohibit business uses in a residential district.

If accepted, this ruling would prohibit the construction of additional "front-yard" business establishments, such as the ones on Main Street.

Continuance of nonconforming uses would be allowed in all the rezoning proposed in the resolution.

Another aspect of the rezoning plans calls for discontinuing construction of "stick-out," or overhanging signs in the business district.

Walnut Street will be zoned for office-type use in the proposed changes, which would include construction of clinics, banks, and general office buildings.

The requirements of sections zoned for multiple - residential will also be discussed tonight.

Under the present zoning, an apartment building could be built on a small lot, according to Village Manager Paul York.

The proposed ruling would create an average maximum density of 12 dwelling units per acre in the multifamily residential districts, according to York.

★ ★ ★

"Other changes included in the ordinance show stricter requirements in all use districts resulting in a healthier and better growth plan," York said today.

Although presently not included in the proposed ordinance, other changes in the business district will be considered later York added.

Will Discuss Rezoning Plan

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — A public hearing on the proposed rezoning of three parcels of land totaling 155 acres is scheduled today at 7:30 p. m. in the township hall.

A zoning change from residential (R1) to recreational is sought for a 100-acre parcel located between M15 and Waterford Hill. A golf course is proposed by the owners of the site.

Rezoning of a 40-acre tract just west of the 100-acre parcel from residential to multiple dwelling (R2) is also slated for discussion at the hearing.

Recreational zoning is sought for a 15-acre piece of property fronting on Walters Lake and presently zoned residential.

The township zoning board, which will conduct the hearing, may call a special meeting following the hearing to act on the proposed changes. The final decision rests with the Township Board.

Expect New Council Fight With Southfield Mayor

SOUTHFIELD — The prospect looms of another fight between Mayor S. James Clarkson and the City Council over assessment procedure at tonight's meeting.

City Assessor Gerald C. Easlick has been asked by the council to appear this evening to explain his request for $3,500 expense money.

For the past year Easlick has been working with the J. M. Cleminshaw firm in the three appraisals of Southfield 26 square miles — two - thirds of which is undeveloped.

Clarkson wanted the council to hire another man to assist Easlick in the posting of land values and the preparation and mailing of 20,000 change - of-assessment notices.

The council refused.

As long ago as last November Easlick notified administrator Donald V. Smith that the assessor's office would have to go on overtime schedule to complete the program.

At last week's council meeting, councilman Alex Perinoff accused Clarkston of trying to raise taxes. Clarkston claimed that this was not so and that in some cases taxes would actually go down.

Clarkson maintains that the council is making a political issue of the matter.

The mayor said this morning the city of Southfield has had an annual land appraisal which is required by law. He also said he expects Easlick will withdraw his request for the $3,500.

Dedication Feb. 24 for School Building

SE Europe Continues to Feel Freeze

LONDON (AP) — Winter's fury continued to lash southeastern Europe today, but elsewhere milder weather brought some relief.

★ ★ ★

However, freezing temperatures at night turned partly thawed snow into ice and made highways more hazardous again. The latest unofficial toll of deaths attributed to the arctic weather rose to more than 400.

FRESH SNOW

Fresh snow was reported in central Greece, along Italy's Adriatic coast and as far south as Bari, and all across Hungary.

Seven inches of snow were reported in cities along Italy's northeast coast. Lake Traimeno, south of Florence, froze over for the second time this century.

★ ★ ★

The Greek air force parachuted medical supplies, food and fodder for livestock to several mountain villages in Macedonia, isolated by snow for a week.

Hungarian authorities reported nearly 29 million cubic yards of snow have fallen on Budapest—twice the normal average. Northern and northeastern winds piled up snow drifts over most of Hungary, blocking many highways.

SUNNY, BUT COLD

Milan and Rome were sunny but temperatures still ranged down to 24 degrees.

The thaw returned to the Netherlands with the temperature expected to reach 37.

★ ★ ★

Milder weather continued in Germany, but the overnight low was 23 degrees. Ice still blocked the Rhine and other rivers.

Temperatures also moderated throughout most of France. In Paris, however, it was still around freezing point.

Snow ceased falling in Austria and the temperatures, ranging from 19 to 26, dropped again. Alpine regions reported a danger of avalanches.

★ ★ ★

The disastrous situation created by heavy weekend snow in East Germany appeared to have improved slightly. East German ADN news agency reported all major railroad lines open again and smaller lines being cleared.

Doctor Takes Unkindest Cut

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — Police say Frank L. McWethy demanded that his own doctor give him the drunkenness test.

The officers obliged.

The doctor certified that McWethy was intoxicated and officers booked the 44-year-old Lancaster man on suspicion of drunken driving.

The doctor charged McWethy $10 for the test, police said.

British Foreign Chief Says de Gaulle Wrong

'Europe Can't Go It Alone'—Lord Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lord Home, British foreign secretary, said today France's conception of a "third force" — Europe by itself — is wrong.

In a copyrighted interview in "U. S. News & World Report," Lord Home said:

"If President de Gaulle feels that there should be European unity excluding America from NATO, then we must differ from him profoundly.

"If he thinks that Europe can carry on either in the military field or, indeed, in any other way without partnership with America, then that, in our view, would be profoundly mistaken.

"Europe by itself, in other words, the conception of a 'third force' — is wrong.

"If we are to meet the Communist challenge, if we are to negotiate with the Communists in order to arrange a modus vivendi (temporary agreement) and if, above all, we are to fertilize the underdeveloped world with well-directed wealth, then it is Europe and America and the Commonwealth that should co-ordinate their policies together. We should not be separated."

QUESTIONED ON SKYBOLT

Lord Home, who was interviewed by the news magazine in London, was asked:

"Was there a good deal of disappointment in Britain as a result of the Nassau agreement to drop the Skybolt missile and to give Britain the Polaris missile system instead?"

" . . . There was no doubt in my mind or in the minds of any of my colleagues, that, from our own point of view in Great Britain, we got the best second-strike weapon that there is in existence and, if need be, we've got independent control of it."

His views on other subjects included:

Red China — "We think it is in the interest of the West to have Red China in the United Nations."

Brussels Common Market negotiations — "If there were to be a breakdown . . . it would have certain economic consequences for ourselves. I would hope sincerely that it would not interfere with the NATO alliance."

★ ★ ★

Cuba-India — "I think that two things have made the Russians think very carefully . . . One is Cuba and the other is the Chinese aggression against India. The image of communism has been tarnished in the eyes of the world . . . ."

Soviets Off Madagascar

TANANARIVE, Malagasy Republic (AP)—President Philibert Tsiranana says that about 15 Soviet ships anchored off Madagascar the first of the year without asking permission. He said they did not fly flags but crewmen handed out Soviet cigarettes to local fishermen.

Station wagons have doubled in number in recent years.

Miami's Sweltering

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—It was 85 degrees in Miami Sunday, the warmest Jan. 27 on Weather Bureau records. The old high was 82 in 1953.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Kennedy's Big Tax Program Faces Many Obstacles

President KENNEDY's tax intentions become a trifle more devious.

Actually, he is proposing a revision rather than a straight reduction. He lists specific retrenchments, but as a concomitant factor he urges limitations on current practices. These would restore nearly $3 billion of the suggested $11-billion reduction.

★ ★ ★

The cut in individual income rates runs rather uniformly: a slash of 30% with all benefits coming over a three-year period. Corporate rates are dropped from 52% to 47%, and there are other specific exemptions and exceptions.

★ ★ ★

However, I'm sure some eliminations that the President proposes will bring howls from very important areas. For example, he would not allow certain deductions which included gifts to schools, colleges and universities, home mortgage interest, medical expenses, local taxes, etc. until the taxpayer had reached 5% of his income and then only beyond that figure.

This will be unpopular.

It belts everyone amidships.

★ ★ ★

The President believes his proposals will put more money in circulation, increase business activity and encourage additional capital investment to provide more jobs.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Press has long contended there should be a general overhaul of the Federal tax program, but this should come from a capable committee that balances all possibilities. One of the most disquieting features of the Kennedy proposals lies in the fact that there are no reductions in our lavish spending program. This can ultimately hamstring the Nation—and some people think we may be on the threshold right now. Our current $300-billion debt persistently increases.

★ ★ ★

This cannot go on forever.

The end must be near.

Congress faces a monumental task in resolving the conflicting theories of the President, our national economists and our leading business and labor leaders.

Another Byrd Needed . . . .

With a 76th birthday just across the horizon and some physical disability asserting itself, it's conceivable that Sen. HARRY F. BYRD, Democrat from Virginia, may not seek another term.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Byrd has long been the taxpayers' champion of economy in government. And what a unique and tremendously welcome role. Basically a stark realist, the gentleman from Virginia says President Kennedy's budget of $98.8 billion actually will run approximately $108 billion when we face the back-door spending. Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and the greatest foe of governmental waste in Congress, Sen. Byrd is currently sponsoring legislation to impose a limit on all government outgo.

★ ★ ★

Admittedly, the loss of this great figure from the Senate chambers would be a serious blow to the taxpayers in all 50 states; but, personally, I see the possibility of a silver lining in this dark cloud.

★ ★ ★

Harry F. Byrd Jr., son of the distinguished Virginian, is a carbon copy of his father in several ways. He is the author of the automatic tax reduction law in Virginia which saved residents from 9% to 21% on income taxes in four successive years. Here's a characteristic that the Nation can greet with enthusiasm and applause.

★ ★ ★

The younger BYRD (and he's a healthy 48), is a newspaper publisher in Winchester, Va., and a long-standing associate of mine on the Board of Directors of the Associated Press. It wouldn't be an overwhelming surprise to see HARRY JR. run for the U. S. Senate in 1964; and if he does, taxpayers everywhere can welcome him with the same acclaim they accorded his father. He is a sound, analytical and extremely capable citizen in his own right. HARRY JR. has never seized his illustrious father's coat tails but has won his spurs purely through personal initiative.

★ ★ ★

Personally, I cheer for that famous and well-established brand of Virginia economy.

There are too few disciples.

The U. S. needs another Byrd.

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Help! Help! Letters bob in from MRS. GEORGE GALE and DON BRAUNAGEL suggesting my 26-letter word is far from the longest in the dictionary. They both submit: "pneumonoultramicroscopicsilicovolcanoconiosis." I hoist the white flag and retreat to a distant corner to lick the wounds. It's in Webster's New International (3rd edition) and means: "a miner's lung disease." . . . . . Chicago's health commissioner says if you're stalled in a car in these storms, don't start walking for help. Patrol cars will find you. Make sure your exhaust pipe is clear and keep a blanket with you.

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it but I'll bet a sugar cookie that Casares won't play any football for the Chicago Bears in 1963. . . . . Overheard in Las Vegas as the stately undraped queens start to parade: Man to wife: "I dunno where to look." Pal across the table: "Ask me, Pete. I really know." . . . . . Purely personal nomination for one of the most attractive young ladies in the area: Diane Girard, crowned Michigan's Junior Miss Saturday night in Pontiac ceremony. . . . .My friend, you're saved. Here's an ad in a Western paper: "Loans—Up to $5 million—With 36 Months to Pay." Who could refuse?

Four members of the Bloomfield Hills Country Club played in the CROSBY golf tournament. One was paired with GARY PLAYER. Invitations are prized highly, and the waiting list runs 5,000. . . . . Wall Street Journal: Weary salesman after 14th pair of shoes: "Pardon me, madam, if I sit down. Your feet are killing me." . . . . . I haven't consulted any of the judges, but many spectators told me that if Pontiac's lovely Junior Miss hadn't been handicapped by an unfortunate hair treatment, she might have won all the marbles in the Miss Junior Miss contest. They say she's a grand gal, anyway . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—our own JC boys for the grand pageant they brought to Pontiac in the statewide contest; the J's—the mercury.

Mind If We Dunk It In Water First?

David Lawrence Says:

Piddling Tax Cut Is No Boon

WASHINGTON—There are 42-million taxpayers who earn between $5,000 and $10,000 a year. How are they going to feel when they learn that the administration's "tax cut" would mean an average saving of about $1.56 a week during the next three years for a married couple with two children?

LAWRENCE

A couple without children would not really fare any better. This could turn out to be a political boomerang if the President's three-year program isn't materially changed.

For, based on a calculation made in an Associated Press dispatch, the total savings on taxes during the next three years for individuals in the $5,000 to $10,000 category are to be surprisingly small.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, with larger and larger deficits in the Federal Treasury, the purchasing power of the dollar tends to become less and less, while prices tend to rise.

It wouldn't take much of an increase in the cost of living for the entire weekly savings in taxes for many taxpayers in several of the income tax brackets to disappear by the time 1965 rolls around.

The Associated Press gave its statistical information to its newspapers from coast to coast last Saturday without arguing the case one way or the other.

Millions of taxpayers will themselves do some figuring and, for the next several months, members of Congress will doubtless be hearing from their many constituents in most of these tax brackets that the proposed cut is a piddling one.

WANTED: CONFIDENCE

Indeed, some voters may come to the conclusion that maybe it would be better for the Administration to let the tax rates and tax rules alone and try to instill the necessary confidence for a business revival.

The dictatorial behavior of the labor union monopoly, for instance, is being ignored by the Administration and Congress.

It seems inevitable that acceptance of demands for higher wages will be compelled by strikes or threats of strikes in the next two or three years because the tax cut will appear to be inadequate.

★ ★ ★

If the Administration, however, had a constructive economic policy, it could boost the gross income of businesses to the point where wage increases would be feasible without any substantial price increases. For it is the volume of business and a higher gross income which are the most important elements that need stimulus in the economy.

Thus, a lot is heard about the expected tax cut for corporations. But it involves very small sums which would hardly stimulate increased expenditures for plant and equipment.

A company, for example, that makes $1 million a year now pays the government 52 per cent, or $520,000, in taxes and retains $480,000.

Under the changes proposed by the Administration, this corporation, three years from now, would have a 47 per cent rate and would be paying the government $470,000. This would mean a saving of about $50,000 on present taxes.

NEED BETTER POLICIES

Wouldn't any corporation prefer to see the present 52 per cent retained if somehow in lieu of it the Administration could pursue economic policies that would allow the corporatioin to make $2 million in gross profit a year, from which the government would get $1.04 million and the company would retain $960,000?

What company wouldn't rather have $960,000 a year under existing rates than only $470,000 under the new rates?

Members of Congress will have to take a careful look at what they are doing on both taxes and deficits if they expect re-election in 1964, and, of course, all this will affect President Kennedy's chances for re-election, too.

(Copyright, 1963)

Bob Considine Says:

Zanuck Isn't Worried About Costly 'Cleopatra'

NEW YORK — Darryl Zanuck, new head of 20th Century-Fox, waved a cigar as big as a baton and said he was not the least bit worried that his company is already $35 million in the hole on "Cleopatra" and will have to spend $20 million advertising its way out of the hole.

CONSIDINE

"It'll make millions for us," Zanuck told us in his office, simultaneously conducting an interview, running the business, and starring in an NBC documentary to be entitled "The Wonderful World of Darryl F. Zanuck." "It's the greatest 'want-to-see' picture of our time. Just one theater in New York has guaranteed us $1.25 million to show it.

"It won't open until June, and there hasn't been a single ad placed. But the theater has thousands of reservations already booked — and at five dollars a ticket."

★ ★ ★

He doubts if there will ever again be a $35-million picture, and judging from the mortality rate of directors and producers on this one he must feel he could have made it for half or a third that much. The brilliant Joe Mankiewicz was sacked, Zanuck said, because "I am the authority."

"But there can't be a small picture any more, as pictures were measured before the war," Zanuck said. "You could make something like an 'It Happened One Night' for $750,000 or thereabouts. Now it would cost $3 million, labor and other costs being what they are.

"Let the foreign companies make the little ones. The reason they all seem so good is that for every one that reaches the screen here, six or seven are tossed in the ashcan."

STORIES FIRST

"One thing is certain. We are going to start buying stories, not stars; fit the players to the picture, not the picture to the players."

He'll have to get along without the girl who was his lot's hottest property, Marilyn Monroe. He, who gave her her first break, ranks her with the greatest stars of all time.

"We're going to do that picture she started, 'Something's Got to Give,' with Doris Day in the role," he said. "We won't use any of the old footage, of course.

"There'll be a place for it in the picture we're doing called 'Marilyn,' a kind of an anthology of her film life from the time I put her in a chorus line, with not a line to speak, until the funeral."

"The nude swim in the pool going to be in it?" we asked.

Zanuck looked at us as if we were some kind of a nut.

"Of course!" he snapped.

Voice of the People:

Believes Legal Voting Age Should Be Raised a Decade

A letter suggested that teen-agers be allowed to vote. Rather than clutter up the polling places with hordes of teen-agers we should raise the legal voting age from 21 to 31. The Constitution indicates the wisdom of more mature men when it directs that to be president a man must be at least 35.

'Meredith's Valor Wasn't in Vain'

The reported departure of courageous Mr. Meredith from the University of Mississippi is in some respects to be regretted but his heroism has not been in vain.

★ ★ ★

The whole legal doctrine that segregated education is unconstitutional rests on the theory it is inherently inferior. Mr. Meredith has in effect declared that, at least under certain circumstances, desegregated education for an unwanted minority is impracticable.

★ ★ ★

The Negro was so mistreated in the past that he has a strong claim to every consideration. The Southern people are also entitled to their rights including their continued identity and traditions.

★ ★ ★

Let us hope the last few months on the Mississippi campus may convince our statesmen that even judge-made law should take some account of fundamental realities.

'Socialized Medicine Just Doesn't Work'

Japan has tried socialized medicine with unsatisfactory results. The doctors are paid such low fees that young people are going into other professions so they can earn better incomes. Doctors in Japan have learned that when the government assumes control it is impossible to improve the treatment of patients.

★ ★ ★

Thus, when we talk about socialized medicine, we do not have to rely upon guesswork to judge its merits. Other nations have tried it. The story is the same in all countries: too much red tape, inferior medical treatment, skyrocketing costs, great increases in the number of government workers and heavier taxes.

★ ★ ★

There will be great pressure for the enactment of some form of government-controlled "compulsory health insurance." Regardless of the terminology they will be trying to impose socialized medicine on the American people.

'Horns Often Used Instead of Brakes'

The Press stated that it is dangerous and probably illegal to drive with a horn that's not working.

Horns were originated to frighten cows and such out of the way. In present traffic, horns are used by many people instead of brakes, which makes another hazard we could well do without. The price of new cars could be reduced a small amount by abolishing horns.

I think of no driving situation in which a horn is necessary except when the driver ahead daydreams at a stoplight after it turns.

Fails to Clarify

The San Diego Union

Buried in the President's State of the Union message was an oblique reference which leaves the hearer puzzled and worried.

Mr. Kennedy said that he was giving the free enterprise system another chance. After outlining his tax cut proposals, without corresponding reductions in government spending, he said:

★ ★ ★

"I do not say that tax reduction and reform is the only way to achieve goals. No doubt a massive increase in federal spending could also create jobs and growth — but, in today's setting, private consumers, employers and investors should be given a full opportunity first."

What happens if the President's program to "get the country moving" as fast as he wants it to move, doesn't work? Will it be blamed on his program, or on the free enterprise system as we know it today?

★ ★ ★

It was, in all, a strange message. It described heavy taxes as drags on the economy; but, at the same time, while proposing to lighten his burden, it called for the same rate of spending on government programs and for a flock of new programs which must be supported by taxation.

When he was running for election he said, "We must prove all over again to a watching world" whether a nation organized and governed like ours can endure.

On the eve of his election he said "I want to be a President who has the confidence of the people, who lets them know what he is doing and where we are going."

★ ★ ★

At this point, Mr. Kennedy might well take us into his confidence on what he means by giving individuals the first opportunity to set things in the order which he feels is necessary.

In a speech to auto workers last year, Mr. Kennedy, in another almost belligerent reference, stated that "I believe it is the business of the President of the United States to concern himself with the general welfare and the public interest."

★ ★ ★

In another speech the President said today's problems "cannot be solved by incantations from the forgotten past."

Clearly, he is impatient with the national progress. From his words we can gather that he also is impatient with our economic system. We are to stumble forward, with the crushing pressure of unpaid debts, like a race horse with too much weight.

Newspaper readers often learn that some of the best pieces they find in print are those in the "Voice of the People," or whatever a newspaper calls its public opinion column.

Many classics have emerged in these expressions of popular opinion. One of the best popped up the other day in the Philadelphia Inquirer:

★ ★ ★

"Yearly I read that the Internal Revenue Service has simplified tax forms so that they can be understood. The following is part of Form 1045 which I am required to fill out for the first time:

" '(Paragraph) C. Recomputation of Tax Liability . . . The amount of the adjustment with respect to the tax is limited to the decrease in such tax as previously determined which results from the net operating loss carryback in computing the tax previously determined. Such decrease must be computed on the basis of the items reflected in the computation of the tax as previously determined. Accordingly, items must be taken into account only to the extent that they were reported in the return, or were reflected in amounts assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, or in amounts which were abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid, prior to the date of filing this application . . .'

"How simplified can one get?"

Astronaut Cooper Doesn't Fit Image

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Leroy Gordon Cooper, like teammate Walter M. Schirra, is candid proof that astronauts really are quite human. This apparently causes concern to the Federal Space Agency.

The result is that you probably will see and hear less of Cooper than any of his five space-going U.S. predecessors.

Gordo Cooper is expected to make America's most ambitious manned rocket flight into space, 22 or more orbits around Earth, in the first week of April.

But on the day he blasts off he may still be what he is today — the nation's least-known astronaut.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has a curtain around Cooper, its latest and potentially most volatile "man of the hours."

It's a matter of "image,", it seems.

"Image," in this sense, refers to the popular concept of the U.S. astronaut —that is, sort of a cross between a grandiose Eagle Scout and Jack Armstrong, with Frank Merriwell and perhaps a dash of a Horatio Alger character thrown in for good measure, a man who endures all sorts of agonies smilingly and unquestioningly.

★ ★ ★

Thus there was much horror and delight — depending on which side of the fence you were sitting — when Wally Schirra stepped free of the "image" once and rapped the Mercury program's "show biz" atmosphere and some of its "boo-boos." He went on to make a perfect six-orbit flight.

NUTS TO GLAMOUR

Schirra knocked some of the comic-book glamour off the Mercury program and demonstrated he was indeed a man, not a robot uttering the old cliches of "A-O.K." and "Everything is go" at every turn.

Gordo Cooper is of the same breed — an individualist who tends to say what he thinks and not what someone thinks he should think. If anything, he leans more in this direction than Schirra.

For instance, Cooper doesn't share astronaut John Glenn's delight in two-mile conditioning runs. One report held that the slender, 35-year-old Air Force captain "believes astronauts should be pilots and not decathlon champions."

And Cooper shares the views of millions of other Americans about physical examinations, the really thorough ones — "extremely unpleasant."

This doesn't fit the NASA "image" — but it doesn't make Cooper any less an astronaut. On the contrary, his is perhaps the fiercest competitive spirit among the astronauts.

Unlike the others, his drive for a flight into space borders at times on seeming desperation.

Outwardly, Gordo Cooper is mild, almost shy. Inside NASA's tight ranks he is a vehement vociferous argument - maker and a bit of a kidder.

★ ★ ★

In fact, had it come down to a "popularity contest," Cooper would never have been selected for the next spaceflight. As it was, he barely got the nod over fellow astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., who made the nation's first manned sub-orbital flight May 5, 1961.

The slender Oklahoman got a major push for the role from Wally Schirra. Gordo Cooper has spent three years of waiting for the chance — and he has the technical ability and know-how to back it up.

But there were still a number within NASA that would have preferred to have seen Cooper grounded for good. And NASA itself is determined to see that he doesn't get any opportunity to do much talking beyond the "party line."

Cooper still comes and goes here — but newsmen cannot officially talk to him. NASA says all of Cooper's talking will be done at the NASA headquarters in Houston — under supervision.

NOTICE TO CITY OF PONTIAC DOG OWNERS

FEE: Up to and including March 1st . . $2.00
After March 1st $3.00

It is necessary that all dog owners in the City of Pontiac produce a certificate that their dog has been vaccinated against rabies, in order to secure a 1963 dog license. Olga Barkeley,
City Clerk

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Shortness of Breath Symptom

Emphysema is a condition in which the air enters the lungs more easily than it is expelled. The deasese is steadily increasing.

This is in part due to the fact that a larger proportion of our population is passing the half century mark when they are more likely to get this ailmet.

BRANDSTADT

A valve - like obstruction in the minute terminal air passages causes a slowly progressive balloon of these air sacs.

In later stages of the disease they may rupture and produce scarring.

Although the exact cause is not known it is seen most commonly in men (10) times more men than women) who smoke more than one pack of cigarettes a day, who have frequent colds and attacks of broncitis, and who live in industrial areas with air pollution.

In the early stages of this insidious process there are no symptoms and the diagnosis can be made only at autopsy when a person has died of something else.

As the disease progresses there is shortness of breath but it comes on so gradualy that most sufferers can't tell exactly how many months or years they had it.

★ ★ ★

Many of them become alarmed and blame their shortness of breath on asthma, overweight, or heart disease.

Because exertion aggravates the shortness of breath they may cut down on their outdoor activity but this is likely to add to their difficulty.

Meanwhile they may develop a cough which does not accomplish its purpose of ridding them of their sputum because the secretions from the lungs are thick and gluey.

Because the air in the lungs is dammed back, the chest may become enlarged, a condition known as barrel chest. And because the lungs are filled with old air that cannot escape, there is less room for fresh air.

As a consequence the blood coursing through the lungs does not pick up enough oxygen to nourish the tissues and in the late stages the face, hands, and feet may assume a bluish tinge and the ends of the fingers may become bulbous.

Since we doctors do not know the exact cause of this disease we do not know how to prevent it and, when much scarring has occurred, the unhealthy lung tissue cannot be replaced by new tissue.

However, much can be done if treatment is started in the early stages. A person with beginning emphysema should report to his doctor whenever a cold or other acute respiratory disease is starting.

KEEP FIT

He will be well advised to give up smoking or, if he can't do this, to smoke less than a pack a day.

He should keep himself physically fit because he will thereby help to ward off other diseases and will recover more readily if he does get sick.

He should give up any occupation that requires him to spend his days in dust or soot-laden air.

Furthermore, his doctor can give him medicines that will loosen the thick mucous secretions in his lungs. Increasing his fluid intake also helps in this process.

Other drugs may be given to help dilate the small bronchial tubes that are obstructing expiration. In the early stages the natural exercise of easy laughter, humming, singing and whistling is beneficial as is walking in the fresh air.

Five Children Die in Blaze at Home

EAST HAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—Fire killed five children ranging in age from three months to six years, in their Long Island home Sunday. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Williams, leaped from a window and escaped with minor injuries.

★ ★ ★

Four of the children were found dead inside the four-room frame bungalow. The fifth child died at a hospital.

Authorities said the blaze apparently was caused by a kerosene heater that exploded.

Your Deduction 'Loopholes' Are My 'Equitable Relief'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — By and large, tax deductions fall into two categories.

WEST

They are classed either as "equitable relief," which includes the deductions I am entitled to, or as "loopholes," which are the deductions granted to someone else.

President Kennedy's tax message last week contained some of each. His proposals for equitable relief were not, however, as extensive as they could have been.

★ ★ ★

I regret that the President did not embrace a bill introduced by Rep. Frank J. Beckern, R-N.Y., to provide a deduction for transportation to and from work.

"In view of the fact that many types of exemptions are allowed to different people, why not for transportation?" Becker asked.

I don't know to whom he was directing the question, but my answer would be "why not indeed?"

★ ★ ★

If such a deduction would cause too sharp a drop in revenur, then perhaps Becker's proposal could be modified to apply only to those who drive to and from work.

For that matter, I wouldn't object if it were restricted to newspapermen who drive to and from work. Or make it just those whose last names begin with "W."

There are a number of other ways that the President's program could, in my view, be improved. Areas in which tax reforms are needed include:

—A tax write-off to cover the cost of repairing small ice crushing machines that children have used for cracking pecans.

—A hair oil depletion allowance. This would permit men with depleting hair to deduct 27½ per cent of the cost of scalp lotions. Its purpose would be to encourage exploration for new antibaldness preparations.

—A home entertainment expense deduction. This would permit couples who entertain in their homes to deduct the cost of new comedy records so that their guests won't have to keep listening to "The First Family" album.

★ ★ ★

—A broadcasting folk song tax. This would require radio stations to pay a tax equal to 200 per cent of the retail price of the record each time they play a folk song over the air.

—Sick pay. This would double the income tax rate for comedians who get paid for telling sick jokes.

—A television program repeat tax. Repeated programs would be taxed an amount equal to the cost of the original production.

★ ★ ★

I am not certain what the economic effect of these tax reforms would be, but if they accomplished the desired purpose they certainly would bring a lot of relief.

Junior Editors Quiz on FEUDALISM

QUESTION: What is the story of feudalism?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: After the strong government of early states such as Rome and the Frankish Empire broke down, invasions by barbarian tribes led to chaos. Small landholders could no longer till their fields in security, so they turned to the powerful nobles with their fighting men.

Small farmers gave lands and services to the lords, and the lords promised to protect them and allow them to live on and work their lands. So came the system of feudalism shown in the large picture. The lord's castle was the center; the farmers' fields radiated around it.

In times of danger all retreated inside the castle, but the farmers had to fight for their lord if so commanded. In feudal days, each man belonged to someone else, or was his "vassal." In the ceremony of "homage," the vassal knelt before his lord, who held his hands inside his own.

Then the vassal swore faithfullness, or "fealty." In (1), the king makes a vassal of a noble, who makes a vassal of a small landowner (2) who then makes a vassal of a "serf" or worker (3).

There were many variations of this. Beginning in the early 800's, feudalism began to vanish. By 1200 A.D. with the revival of trade, central governments became strong again.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Knights in armor played a very important part in feudal times. See if you can find out exactly what this was.

Convicted Spy to Testify in British Probe

LONDON (UPI) — Convicted Soviet spy William John Vassall, the bachelor son of a prominent London clergyman, was summoned to testify in public today before a special tribunal investigating espionage in the British admiralty.

★ ★ ★

Vassall currently is serving 18 years for selling British naval secrets to the Soviets.

He claimed the Russians photographed him committing homosexual acts and blackmailed him into spying.

The slim, 38-year-old former admiralty clerk testified before the espionage tribunal during a secret sessions Dec. 17 for nearly seven hours.

CITE PRIOR KNOWLEDGE

The three-man spy inquiry was set up by the government after news reports said first lord of the admiralty Lord Carrington and other top naval officials knew that a spy was operating within the admiralty for 18 months before Vassall was caught.

★ ★ ★

The tribunal also was instructed by the government to inquire into any breaches of security, neglect of duty by navy personnel and any allegations reflecting on the honor and integrity of naval officials concerned with the case.

State Pair Treats Tradition With New Methods for Success

By The Associated Press

Two Michigan men have come up with a combination of traditional products and new processes to form successful business concerns.

One, J. W. Zarikta of Grand Haven, used a fishing trip pipe dream as the basis for a business so successful he doesn't advertise.

The other, John M. Clark of Greenville, adapted the helicopter to many previously untried uses in the state.

★ ★ ★

A fishing trip pipe dream of two years ago lured mechanical engineer Zarikta from $100-a-day consulting jobs into a hobby which has become his fulltime income.

"I never had any kind of work so satisfying," he says from his office in the new Al Cobb Corp.

The plant name hints at Zarikta's profitable new product — a pipe combining the corn cob with aluminum.

The business was organized two years ago and operated from Zarikta's basement. He moved it last July to the new building where he employs two full-time workers and in summer adds a student employe.

Zarikta says he has all the business he can handle now. He says corn cob still presents a production problem that must be overcome before he can achieve the volume to permit large scale expansion.

He doesn't dare advertise because his 125 accounts now take all the pipes he can produce.

Zarikta sold 15,000 pipes in 1961 and the total for last year should be double. He's still sold out for months ahead.

Advised by his physician in 1935 to give up cigars — his pet smoke — Zarikta became interested in pipes. But, as his pipe collection grew, he found that all bit his tongue and continued to "sludge up."

On a fishing trip he was urged to stop at a country store and buy a corn cob pipe. He did. Zarikta said he found in the corn cob no tongue bite and a pleasant flavor.

NEW COB APPEAL

He now visualized new popularity for the venerable corn cob if it could be glamorized. His background as former chief master mechanic at Whirlpool Corp. and later as consultant on a rocket program for Ingersoll Division of Borg Warner at Kalamazoo turned him to aluminum.

Zarikta purchased a lathe and started making pipe bowls out of aluminum chunks. After turning out 15 different types, he struck upon a design which he believed would appeal to smokers.

The design was tested on pipe-smoking friends. It clicked.

Next Zarikta and an executive friend at Whirlpool polled resources which led to development of an aluminum alloy for the pipe bowl to hold an exterior shine and prevent a green film forming on the interior.

The pipe stems are a tough plastic made at Michigan plastic products in Grand Haven.

The Corn Cob interior for Zarikta's pipes are obtained from Washington, Mo., whose farm areas produce the Collier white corn from which corn cob pipes are fashioned.

Zarikta, a native of Russia, came to the United States as an 11-year-old boy. He was educated in Vermont and moved to the Grand Haven area in 1953 as chief engineer at Anderson - Bolling manufacturing Co.

Hoping to establish a pickup and delivery service — for just about anything up to 800 pounds — Clark set up operations at Greenville Airport with his helicopter.

Starting as a mechanic and learning to fly later, the 34-year-old Wisconsin native says he selected Greenville for its central location.

He's already an old hand at spraying bananas in Ecuador, air lifting oil drilling equipment into hard-to-reach spots in Alaska and South America and flying tourists over the Civil War battlefield at Gettysburg, Pa., a job which kept him busy almost three years.

In addition, Clark, with his whirlybird, has served as a crop duster and as an aerial sling for a daredevil trapeze act.

He says he will continue to book aerial acts because they are most profitable. Renting his service runs about $25 an hour because of maintenance expense-compiled at the rough ratio of one hard aground for every hour alot.

Shopping center promotions and ski resort passenger hauls are rapidly filling his and one Greenville contractor - real estate dealer is interested in using the service for quick client tours of possible new industrial sites.

★ ★ ★

"Places which do not have their own airports nearby have shown great interest in what we can do," says Clark, whose dreams include possible establishment of a helicopter transport network linking Greenville, Charlevoix, Cadillac, Harbor Springs and other communities.

'A Good Man to Run Against'

Williams Talks About Romney, 1964 Race

WASHINGTON (AP)—G. Mennen Williams, Michigan's former six-term Democratic governor, thinks Republican Gov. George Romney would be "a good man to run against" in 1964.

Williams, now assistant secretary of state for African affairs, says Romney, "is a very capable man," adding, however, "I think his work with the constitutional convention wasn't all that it might have been.

"He didn't go through with equal apportionment, and things of that kind, so that disappointed me, frankly, but he has yet to make his record . . ."

★ ★ ★

Williams' comments on the man who last November defeated his successor, former Democratic Gov. John B. Swainson, came yesterday on a program taped for television. He was interviewed by Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa.

To Scott's question as to whether he believes Romney has made "a good start," as governor, Williams replied, "I honestly don't know."

Williams previously has said he is willing to run against Romney in 1964 if President Kennedy considered the governorship more important than his present State Department post.

Michigan State Fair Expects to Top '62 Profit

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan State Fair says it expects in 1963 to top the record profit shown in 1962.

Cass J. Wasung, assistant manager of the fair, said Saturday the 1962 fair showed a surplus of $119,502.

Walter Goodman, general manager, said more favorable dates helped hike both income and attendance.

Predawn Fire Fatal to 2 Indiana Boys

LaGRANGE, Ind. (AP) — Two small brothers died yesterday in a predawn fire which leveled their frame farm dwelling and left only a bedpost erect among the ashes.

★ ★ ★

Their parents and a small sister fled outside in their night clothing into near-zero cold after the 6-year-old girl awakened to find the two-room house engulfed in flames.

Dead are Roger Lee Slabaugh, 5, and John, 3.

The parents and the daughter were hospitalized for treatment of exposure and shock.

The sheriff's office said an overheated coal and wood stove evidently ignited the blaze.

Tax Cuts Will Change Your Calculations

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—If President Kennedy has his way, you'll have to change your way of figuring out your income tax.

★ ★ ★

Put yourself somewhere into the shoes of a typical, mythical family of four: Sidney the clerk, his wife, Gladys the substitute kindergarten teacher, and their two children.

Sidney earned $5,000 in 1962. Gladys earned $2,500. They had no other income other than their wages. So they file a joint income tax return and list what is called their adjusted gross income as $7,500.

★ ★ ★

A family of four has four exemptions, each worth $600. So Sidney and Gladys deduct $2,400 from the adjusted gross income. That dimishes their taxable income to $5,100.

★ ★ ★

Now they must decide how to deduct their expenses. They may take the standard deduction of 10 per cent of their adjusted gross income. That would be $750.

But Sidney and Gladys figure their deductible expenses amount to more than that so they decide to itemize their deductions.

★ ★ ★

First, their medical expenses, including some dental work and some drugs, came to $620 in 1962. Under the law, they may not deduct all this. They may deduct for drugs only the excess over 1 per cent of their adjusted gross income. Then they must add this to their medical bills, and reach a new total. But they can't deduct this new total either. They may deduct only the excess over 3 per cent of their adjusted gross income.

★ ★ ★

Sidney and Gladys, with some painstaking pencil work, figure out that their floor is $300, subtract this from $620, and list $320 as their medical deduction.

★ ★ ★

Then Sidney and Gladys list their other deductions: $450 for interest, including that paid on their home mortgage; $150 for contributions, including their Community Chest fund gift; $500 for state and local taxes, including their sales taxes; and $80 for miscellaneous, including the tuition paid by Gladys for an evening course that will help her get another teaching certificate.

★ ★ ★

The itemized deductions total $1,500. Sidney and Gladys subtract this and arrive at a final taxable income of $3,600.

Under the present rate schedule, their tax is 20 per cent of their taxable income or $720.

For the future, let's make two assumptions: 1. Congress approves Kennedy's proposed tax changes 2. Sidney and Gladys have the same salaries and expenses in 1963, 1964 and 1965.

For 1963, Sidney and Gladys have a new tax rate. They look it up on a government table and find they must pay $370 plus 19 per cent of their taxable income over $2,000.

Since their taxable income was $3,600 (or $1,600 more than $2,000) they must pay $370 plus 19 per cent of $1,600. The total tax is $674, or $46 less than they paid for 1962.

For 1964, Sidney and Gladys have a new problem. Kennedy wants a basic change in itemized deductions to go into effect in 1964. The big change: You can deduct only the excess of expenses over 5 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

★ ★ ★

There is another change. Instead of the complicated formula for medical deductions used in 1962, Sidney and Gladys now may simply use 4 per cent as their floor. In their case, it makes no difference in the medical deduction.

★ ★ ★

As we saw, Sidney and Gladys deducted $1,500 in total itemized expenses for 1962 and 1963. But now they subtract 5 per cent of itemized deductions now total $1,125.

★ ★ ★

This increases their taxable income to $3,975.

Sidney and Gladys now look up their tax rate on the 1964 government table. They find they must pay $310 plus 17 per cent of their taxable income over $2,000.

For them, this means paying $310 plus 17 per cent of $1,975. The total tax is $646, or $28 less than the tax for 1963 and $74 less than the tax for 1962.

For 1965, the year the President wants his new tax rate to take full effect, Sidney and Gladys, with their taxable income of $3,975, look up their tax rate on the 1965 government table.

The table shows them their tax is $280 plus 16 per cent of their taxable income over $2,000: in short, $280 plus 16 per cent of $1,975. So their 1965 tax is $596 or $50 less than their tax for 1964, $78 less than their tax for 1963, and $124 less than their tax for 1962.

Any typical family, by following the example of Sidney and Gladys, may figure out their taxes under the President's proposed changes for 1963, 1964, and 1965.

Of course, since not every typical family has the same taxable their rates will be different.

Circuit Judge Reveals He'll Seek Nomination

MIDLAND (AP) — Circuit Judge Donald E. Holbrook of Clare announced today his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Supreme Court justice.

Holbrook formally notified the Republican State Central Committee he will be a candidate at the party's Grand Rapids convention Feb. 15-16.

While Democratic and Republican conventions nominate candidates, two justices will be elected in April on a nonpartisan ballot.

Farmers Join Program

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—More than five million farmers have joined a savings program begun a year ago, the Farmers' Association said, and have put away more than $40 million.

Down at our friendly neighborhood tavern, a woman stepped on a man's foot, he loudly protested, and she said, "Well, then, why don't you put your foot where it belongs?" The man, a perfect gent, kindly replied, "Don't tempt me, madam!" — Earl Wilson.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
Associated Press Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO—A woman is a person and until she is accepted as simply that — no more, no less — she will be blocked from getting the most out of life, leaders of various fields agreed during a three-day symposium.

The conference at the University of California School of Medicine on the potential of woman wound up Sunday with two panel discussions.

★ ★ ★

What quality must your ideal woman have?

"A sense of proportion, knowing what is important in life," said Dr. Edmund W. Overstreet, gynecologist.

And the ideal man?

"He must think I'm divine," said Marya Mannes, staff writer on the Reporter, who has published novels and collections of essays and satirical verse.

"SECRET WORLD'

"He must create a world I can't see without his creation," Adrienne Koch, University of California history professor, specified.

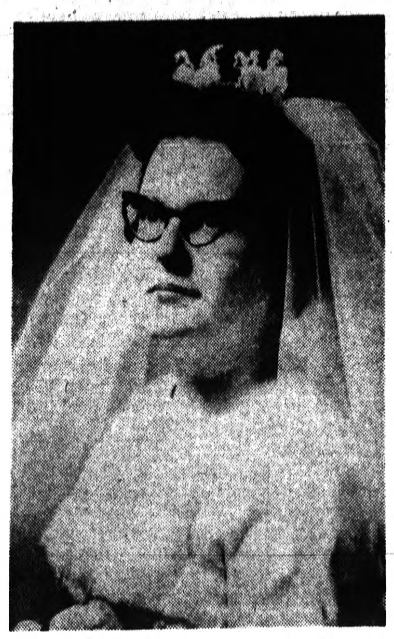
"He must save a secret world for me and be spellbound when I tell him my secret story," said Barbara B. Gunderson, former U.S. civil service commissioner.

Peter Koesterbaum, philosophy professor at San Jose State College, declared that both men and women can move toward fulfillment of their lives only from a solid foundation of individual dignity, "finding in one's self the image of God — and respecting the dignity of others."

Assistant Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson called on women to take a more realistic view of themselves and society.

"Any notion that women are soft, sweet, gentle types is a figment of male imagination," asserted Ethel M. Albert of the Center for Advanced Studies of Behavioral Sciences, Stanford University.

"The mature woman is tough and has to be in any society, including our own," she added.



MRS. ROBERT FRANK KITELEY

Wed Saturday in First Baptist Church were R. Carolyn Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart I. Davis of Mohawk Road and Robert Frank Kiteley, son of the Frank Kiteleys of North Avery Road.

At First Baptist Church

Kiteleys Are Married

First Baptist Church was the setting for a reception following the Saturday vows of R. Carolyn Davis and Robert Frank Kiteley, spoken before Rev. Robert H. Shelton.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Stuart I. Davis of Mohawk Road and the Frank Kiteleys of North Avery Road.

Wearing white satin brocade styled with bateau neckline and a skirt ending in a chapel sweep, the bride carried an open lace heart topped with white hyacinths, roses and feathered carnations. Her bouffant veil was attached to a jeweled Swedish tiara.

TWIN SISTER

Mrs. David Taylor, of Metamora, attended her twin as matron of honor. Their sister, Mrs. Bruce Reh, served as bridesmaid with Betty Mollhagen, Flint and Mrs. Robert Brien, Auburn Heights.

They wore royal blue satin dresses and open-crown headpieces. Pink hyacinths and carnations topped their white fur muffs. Karen Reh was her aunt's flower girl.

★ ★ ★

David Taylor was best man. The bridegroom's brother Paul ushered with Allen Erickson of Chicago, Bruce Reh, Fred Ebey, Robert Brien, and William Crawford and Tedd Bridgman, both of Milford.

CANADIAN HONEYMOON

After a Canadian honeymoon, the couple will live in Huntington, Ind., where Mr. Kiteley is majoring in music at Huntington College.

★ ★ ★

He attended Moody Bible Institute and Wheaton College. His bride was a former student at Northwestern College, Minneapolis.

U. of M. Calls Jose Limon

The University of Michigan Professional Theater Program will present Jose Limon, acclaimed as America's greatest male dancer, with his company, at 8:30 p. m. Feb. 9 in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor.

He will perform the famous "Moor's Pavanne," considered by dance audiences and critics to be his master work.

"Night Spell" by the U. of M. dance department, the second composition in Limon's program, deals with the dreams, emotions and inner world of the sleeper.

Let's Peek Behind Scenes at the Junior Miss Contest

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

Impressions from backstage at the fifth annual Michigan Junior Miss Pageant Saturday at Pontiac Northern High School are extremely hard to convey.

★ ★ ★

They are as many and varied as the 24 contestants themselves. Things are about as hectic as rehearsal for a major Broadway play. In the auditorium girls were rehearsing as technicians worked on lights, sound, staging and props.

At the same time in another part of the high school girls were being interviewed by the judges. Elsewhere, contestants were rehearsing or making last minute adjustments on costumes.

In the music room one girl twirled a baton as she worked on her reading. Another contestant — who was giving a reading for her talent — played the piano.

"I'm so excited I can't even feel the cold. I must have insulated excitement."

Joy Affelt of the Crosswell-Lexington area made this remark in answer to a query about the temperature in the dressing rooms.

★ ★ ★

These rooms were a sprawling mass of clothing, suitcases and assorted bottles.

"Has anyone seen a big, thick, white comb? I just know I'm going to fall. Anyone have some hair spray?" These were some of the remarks heard over the din.

Pageant night finally arrived and the day's grueling routine was replaced with frantic last-minute preparations.

STANDOUT QUALITY

What makes a Michigan Junior Miss contestant? Aside from talent and scholastic ability one thing stands out —all the girls are young ladies.

The evening was climaxed as Susan Pill of Pontiac was named second runner-up.

Susan Kelly of Detroit is first runner-up and Diane Girard of Southgate is Michigan's Junior Miss for 1963.

As the winners stood with the other contestants, remarks of "I just can't believe it's finally over." and "Oh, my feet," were heard.

And a smiling, happy Diane Girard kept repeating, "I can't believe it."

Maple Leafs Pick Officers

Maple Leaf Club elected officers following a luncheon meeting Friday in the Piano Lounge of the Waldron Hotel.

Mrs. Turris McCully is president; Lena Cross, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. May White will handle publicity for the club, composed of Canadian-born women.

Hostesses for the February meeting will be Mrs. Everett Harris and Mrs. Arthur Hoover.

Clean Spills on Marble at Once

Wipe off anything spilled on marble at once—just as you would from a wood furnishing. Occasionally, wash marble surfaces with lukewarm water and a clean cloth. Dry with a chamois or soft dry cloth to prevent spots or streaks.

Patricia Watson Wed

Bride Selects Gown of Faille

Patricia Lee Watson chose a gown of white French faille for her marriage to Richard Johann Orend before Rev. C. George Widdifield, Saturday evening in All Saints Episcopal Church.

★ ★ ★

Alencon lace accented the wide square neckline and elbow-length sleeves.

The bouffant skirt with fan-pleated back swept into a cathedral train. Her veil of imported illusion was attached to an all-pearl crown. She carried white pompons and pale pink roses.

Parents of the couple, the Alfred W. Watsons of Franklin Boulevard and the Michael Orends of Allen Park, received guests in the Rose Kneale Room.

NYLON OVER TAFFETA

Wearing lavender nylon over taffeta, Claudia Ann Rocker of Plymouth was her former college roommate's maid of honor.

Bridesmaids Dianne Louise Hillman and Judith Carol Thiese appeared in aquamarine nylon. All carried colonial bouquets of purple pompons.

Michael H. Orend of Dearborn was best man for his brother and Thomas Watson ushered with Douglas Voydanoff.

★ ★ ★

Leaving for a Chicago honeymoon en route to Kalamazoo where the bridegroom attends Western Michigan University, the bride was wearing a loden green knit suit with bone accessories.

She received her degree from WMU Saturday.

Mrs. Watson chose champagne silk shantung and a flower hat for the wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore brown lace over beige taffeta.

Patricia Lee Watson, daughter of the Alfred W. Watsons of Franklin Boulevard spoke vows with Richard Johann Orend, son of the Michael Orends of Allen Park, Saturday in All Saints Episcopal Church.

MRS. RICHARD JOHANN OREND

Puzzles Bachelor Girl

What's a 'Retread' Got?

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Statistics show that widows and divorcees have a 70 per cent better chance of getting a husband than an unmarried woman. WHY?

ABBY

Why do men want two and three times divorced women? What do these common retreads and warmed-over has-beens have that we respectable never-married girls don't?

BACHELOR GIRL, AGE 32

DEAR BACHELOR GIRL: Respectable, never-married girls are saying "I do" every day. Don't snipe at one who has loved and lost —just because she gets another chance. Some men prefer to do business with old, established firms.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When I had my first child (a boy), my mother-in-law adored him and still does. When I had my second (a little girl) she said she had never seen such a homely baby.

She told me she'd take care of my oldest child any time but not the little girl. I am ashamed to admit this to anyone but you, Abby, but she hates my daughter. She brings gifts for the boy and fusses over him, and ignores the little girl. It hurts me terribly. How can I get her to like my daughter?

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS

DEAR SLEEPLESS: You can't get her to "like" your daughter — but can tell her if she doesn't stop showing favoritism she is not welcome to see either of the children. Perhaps your husband can straighten her out. She's HIS mother.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: The other day my husband and I received an invitation to attend a party at the home of some friends. They said, "Bring your own bottle and we will fix a midnight supper for $2 a couple."

We couldn't go because we had already made other plans, but we were shocked. We are all young-marrieds in our later twenties and most of us are not well-to-do, but when we invite people to our home we expect to feed them. Is this something new?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: "BYOB" (bring your own bottle) parties are not uncommon among young-marrieds, but in my opinion that doesn't make it right. The $2 supper is pure chintz — and I don't mean a slipcover.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LUCKLESS": Learn how to refuse favors. It is a very useful art.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

PERRY PHARMACY'S MEDICAL MIRROR

Better Health Through Knowledge

KIDNEY TRANSPLANTATION

Q. From time to time newspapers carry stories about kidney transplantation. How successful is this operation?

A. Since the first successful human kidney transplant in 1954, at least 23 transplantations have been accomplished between identical twins. We know of one case in which a 23-year-old man has lived for 3½ years after receiving a kidney from his nonidentical twin. In the present state of surgical knowledge, only transplants between twins have a chance. When the donor is not so closely related, the donated kidney may function for a while but it is ultimately "rejected" — that is, it fails to function.

COATED TONGUE

Q. Is a coated tongue a sign of anything?

A. No. It is simply one finding on physical examination that is considered with various other signs and symptoms in order to make a diagnosis. Coated tongue, in itself, is of little significance.

Coopers Speak Vows in Candlelight Wedding

MRS. DAVID L. COOPER

A gold wedding band which belonged to the bride's maternal great - grandmother was used in the candlelight nuptials of Carol Rae Henderson and David Lewis Cooper, Saturday evening in the First Congregational Church. Rev. Malcolm K. Burton officiated.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the bridal couple are the Cleon H. Hendersons of Silver Lake Road and the Lewis H. Coopers of Hudson Street.

White Chantilly lace, embroidered with pearls and sequins, fashioned the bodice and skirt panels for the bride's chapel - length gown of white silk organza. Her bouffant veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of pearls and crystals. She carried white roses and carnations.

MAID OF HONOR

Pamela Edwards, wearing pink taffeta, was maid of honor. She held a bouquet of pink carnations.

Robert L. Bashore performed the duties of best man. Gary Henderson of Holly ushered at his sister's wedding with Randy Currey and Charles Contor.

★ ★ ★

The bride is attending Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing and her husband was graduated from Port Huron Junior College. They will live in Pontiac.

Receiving guests in the Knights of Pythias hall following the ceremony, Mrs. Henderson was wearing champagne lace and a corsage of yellow roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose champagne silk shantung and wore white roses with blue leaves.

Don't Need to Pay for Phone Call

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Last night I attended a committee meeting at the house of one of the members. The meeting lasted much longer than I expected and as it was rather late I asked the hostess if I could use her telephone to call my husband in order to have him pick me up.

I left 10 cents beside the telephone to pay for the call. When the hostess saw this she immediately handed it back to me and said not to insult her by paying for a telephone call.

I was rather embarrassed. Is it not proper to pay for a telephone call made in someone else's house?

A: One does not ordinarily offer payment for a single local telephone call, but it is absolutely required that one pay for a long-distance call.

★ ★ ★

Q: My daughter is going to be married in the morning at a nuptial mass. Instead of having the reception follow the ceremony, she would like an evening reception. Will you please tell me if this is proper?

A: Correctly, the wedding reception should follow immediately after the ceremony. It would be very inconvenient to the wedding guests to have to go home after the ceremony and change into other clothes, watch the clock, dress again in wedding clothes and come back for a reception. And in the case of guests living at a distance, the inconvenience is even greater.

Big Backlog Faces Wave of Dockers

NEW YORK (AP) — More longshoremen streamed back to work today to handle the vast backlog of ships and cargo left by the 34-day dock strike on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Thirteen thousand longshoremen worked at Sunday overtime pay rates yesterday in the port of New York. Similar conditions prevailed in some other ports.

Today's biggest burst of activity was from Morehead City, N. C., down the Atlantic Coast and north up the Gulf Coast to Tampa, Fla.

More longshoremen on that stretch of coast return to work on the day shift.

They also vote on a contract settlement reached yesterday by representatives of management and the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association (ILA).

FOLLOWS FORMULA

Except for the issue of how many men there should be in a work gang, the settlement on the stretch of southern coast was along the lines of the formula drawn up by the mediation board appointed by President Kennedy and accepted in many other ports.

Federal mediator W. A. McAllister said the issue of the size of work gangs would be referred to a U.S. Labor Department study committee. The same decision was made in the negotiations in New York, which traditionally set a pattern for agreements in other ports.

Longshoremen at Miami and Port Everglades, Fla., return to work Saturday, the day following announcement of general settlement of the strike.

Judge Henderson, union negotiating committee chairman in the area, said about 2,000 longshoremen in Tampa and Jacksonville, Fla., Savannah, Ga., and Wilmington, N.C., had stayed off the job until today awaiting final agreement on the regional issues.

Local disputes that had delayed resumption of work in Norfolk, Va., and Mobile, Ala., were settled Saturday.

4 California Teens Killed in Auto Crash

GLENDORA, Calif. (UPI) — Four teen-agers were killed last night when the car in which they were riding crossed over the dividing line, scraped one oncoming vehicle and smashed into a second automobile.

California highway patrol officers said three persons in the second car suffered injuries and were taken to Pomona Community Hospital.

Officers said the driver was 18 years old, and his passengers 16 and 17. The accident occurred near a curve on Arrow Highway near Ben Lomond about five miles south of here.

None of the occupants in the first oncoming car was injured, police said.

Russians' Intolerance for Questioning Cited

CHICAGO (AP) — Former Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield says one great flaw in Russia's educational achievements is "the inability of tyranny to tolerate the truly questioning mind."

Summerfield, postmaster general in the Eisenhower administration, told the graduating class of Illinois Institute of Technology Saturday night that the Soviet regime discourages free inquiry beyond the areas of technology and the physical sciences.

Book's Living Proof of Its Own Content

The book says thefts are increasing because vicitms refuse to prosecute. The book snatcher was released when the library refused to press charges.

Africans Try New Wine

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Deprived of their beer by a brewery workers' strike, Africans are turning to a heady coconut wine called tembo. The hangover crop is large and the Kwale District on the Kenya coast plans to restrict tembo drinking to the hours between 4 and 9 p.m.

Conduct Weekend Workshops

Seek Remedy on Dropouts

A six-week pilot project at Camp Oakland has shown that weekend workshops are "distinctly worthwhile" in helping youngsters who are potential school dropouts.

That's the conclusion of the project's director, Kingsley Montgomery, in a report to be sent this week to school board members and superintendents throughout the county.

After the education leaders have had a chance to study the report, they will be invited to meet with Juvenile Court officials to map an attack on the dropout problem.

★ ★ ★

Studies have shown, County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore said, that the majority of youngsters who come into Juvenile Court branded as "juvenile delinquents" also are school dropouts.

To reduce the "reservoir of social dynamite" represented by school dropouts and juvenile delinquents, Judge Moore suggests an all-out effort to keep youngsters in — and interested in — school.

"The more youngsters we can keep in school," he said, "the more we can keep out of court."

Further use of the workshop plan to help potential dropouts will be among the topics at the meeting, Judge Moore said.

PSYCHOLOGIST APPROVES

"I feel that such a weekend program has tremendous potential in rehabilitating the potential dropout and delinquent," said one psychologist who was quoted in Montgomery's report.

He said it should prevent "boys from reaching such an impasse with themselves" that they want to leave school.

Support from schools for a workshop program also is needed for the program to achieve its potential, the report said.

★ ★ ★

"The gravest concern about the program was the inability of the program administration to induce school people to take an active part in the actual functioning of the program," Montgomery said in the report.

Two pyschologists agreed that many potential dropouts have the ability to do well in school, but lack interest because of hostility toward teachers and the adult world.

Such attitudes in youngsters develop over a period of years and are tied closely to their home environment, one psychologist said.

FUND FINANCING

The pilot project, which began Oct. 5 and was sponsored by the Protective Services Division of the Juvenile Court, was financed by $1,800 from the Mendelson Fund.

In operation from 5 p.m. Fridays until 8 p.m. Saturdays for six consecutive weekends, the program included an auto shop, a crafts workshop, recreation, group counseling, job information talks and psychological testing.

Most of the 12 Waterford Township boys — aged 14 and 15 — who took part in the program, responded enthusiastically to the weekend workshops, the report said.

Especially popular was the auto shop where they could "work with their hands" and see concrete success for their efforts.

★ ★ ★

They showed a renewed interest in school during the program, or at least in the importance of training outside the public school system, the report continued.

On the last night of the program, the boys' offered their own money to help finance the continued operation of the program, one psychologist reported.

'Nonpartisan' Label Stirs County Debate

Differing views on the meaning of "nonpartisan" have touched off a lively dispute over the proposed new state constitution in Oakland County.

Democrats and Republicans disagree on whether nonpartisan groups supporting the document are really nonpartisan.

Democrats have accused the groups of "perpetrating a fraud on the public" by presenting "completely one-sided views" on the new constitution.

★ ★ ★

James M. McNeely, executive assistant to Democratic County Chairman Sander M. Levin, named the Oakland County Non-Partisan Committee for the New Constitution (CNC) as one of the groups.

McNeely charged that most of CNC's leaders were active Republicans and could hardly ument are really nonpartisan.

He said records showed CNC Chairman Henry S. Booth was "a large contributor to Republican campaigns."

DOESN'T REMEMBER

Booth replied today that he did not remember ever contributing to the Republican party.

"If I ever did, it was not very much," he said. "I certainly have never been a large contributor."

Booth added that CNC has "no connection with any partisan business" and has some members who are Democrats.

★ ★ ★

A Republican spokesman said the party has no connection with any nonpartisan groups, adding that Republicans who participate in them do so as individuals and not as party members.

Although the GOP has taken a stand favoring adoption of the new constitution, Republicans say they are not actively promoting its passage.

They accuse Democrats of making a partisan issue of it.

DEMS TO DEFEAT

County Democrats pledged themselves to get out the vote to defeat the document.

McNeely said: "To label their programs as informative and educational and then to refuse to allow a real analysis is fraudulent."

Booth said, however, that the CNC openly presents its program as promoting the constitution and does not pretend to be giving both sides.

McNeely said some chapters of the League of Women Voters and some Parent-Teacher Association groups also were among the organizations Democrats had in mind in their resolution.

McNeely said CNC leaders who are active Republicans were treasurer Charles Mortenson, a GOP candidate for Pontiac Township supervisor, and Mrs. Keith D. King, CNC publicity cochairman who also handles publicity for the Republican County Committee.

The CNC Ways and Means Committee chairman, Richard H. McManus, was active in the campaign of Gov. George Romney, who has consistently urged adoption of the new constitution.

Athlete Allegedly Says He knifed 2 Women

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (UPI) — A husky, star high school athlete, who allegedly admitted hacking two married women to death because of an urge, appears in court today for a 13-month-old slaying.

★ ★ ★

Thomas R. Knott, 17, captain of the Tolman High School football team and a track star, confessed yesterday to the knife slayings of Mrs. Nancy Ann Frenier, 19, and Mrs. Edith Martin, 38, of Attleboro, Mass., police said.

Authorities were to seek a waiver in East Providence Family Court today to have Knott tried as an adult in the slaying of Mrs. Frenier here Dec. 22, 1961.

Mrs. Martin was killed in her home Friday.

Knott, son of a steamfitter, was arrested Saturday night after authorities linked his car to one seen leaving the Martin residence Friday.

"I knew I had to kill someone," Pawtucket police quoted the youth.

"I'm glad you caught me because I would have done it again. All I hope is that they put me away for life."

Ex-Hooverite Dies a Hermit

LOS GATOS, Calif. (AP) — An attorney who retired to live a hermit's life shortly after a college classmate, Herbert Hoover, lost the presidential election in 1932 was found dead in his two-room shack Sunday.

Elisha D. Corbin was found on a mattress that Deputy Coroner Richard Mayne described as "chewed apart by rats and mice. Corbin was in his 80s.

Corbin's brother-in-law, Charles A. Plummer, said that the former lawyer "just up and quit practicing law" when Hoover was voted out of office.

3 Officials Run 1st in Attendance

Three city commissioners tied for the lead in attendance last year, according to the annual report of Pontiac City Clerk Olga Barkeley on commission activities.

District 1 Commissioner Milton R. Henry sported the best "comeback" record.

Mayor pro-tem Winford E. Bottom (Dist. 4), Mayor Robert Landry (Dist. 7) and Henry took top honors. All attended 52 meetings.

Henry finished last in 1961 when he attended 32 sessions.

Comimssioner Wililam H. Taylor Jr. (Dist. 3) attended 49 meetings.

ELECTED IN APRIL

The three other commsisioners as of year's end were elected in April and therefore had lower totals.

Of the new commissioners, Dick M. Kirby (Dist. 6) had the best record, attending 36 meetings.

Commissioner Loy L. Ledford (Dist. 5) was next with 35 and Commissioner Charles H. Harmon (Dist. 2) last with 33.

Some 54 meetings were held, including 51 regular sessions, two adjourned meetings and one organizational meeting.

Informal meetings are not included.

★ ★ ★

The commission spent 86 hours in session acting on 1,046 journal items.

Commissioners adopted 18 ordinances and confirmed 55 special assessment rolls.

Long Talks on NY Strike Bring No Evident Progress

NEW YORK (AP)—A series of city hall mediation meetings recessed at 3:55 a.m. today with no reported progress in attempts to end this city's 52-day-old shutdown of nine major newspapers.

★ ★ ★

The mediation effort, led by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, recessed until midafternoon after three sessions totaling 13½ hours. It followed a 13-hour City Hall negotiation meeting Saturday, also with no progress reported in attempts to end a printers' strike.

The mayor gave orders to both sides not to comment for publication on any issues discussed within the meetings.

"We have an understanding," Wagner said, that we will not discuss substantive issues (with newsmen). We can only talk on procedures."

RETURN AT 3 P.M.

The publishers' representatives, union officials and a federal mediator all left City Hall within minutes of one another and all declined comment on the negotiations.

The publishers said they are scheduled to return to city hall at 3 p.m. Union officials said talks for them were set to start at 4 p.m.

Wagner reported that both sides had made sincere efforts to end the strike by Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union. "Everyone cooperated," he said. He declined comment on whether progress had been made toward reaching a settlement.

★ ★ ★

The talks resumed at noon Sunday.

"We had a long day," said federal mediator Stephen I. Schlossberg. "We're all tired."

Wagner was following the format set by the mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, who intervened in negotiations there to settle strikes that have closed down that city's two daily newspapers for 60 days.

Talks between the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild, AFL-CIO and management of the Plain Dealer and Press & News resume at 2 p.m. in the office of Mayor Ralph S. Locher.

Besides talks with the guild and the independent Teamsters Union, which also is striking the two Cleveland papers, publishers also are negotiating with 10 other unions for new contracts. The contracts of eight of those 10 unions have passed the expiration date and pacts of the other two expire this week.

★ ★ ★

The Cleveland Teamsters negotiations, being held away from City Hall, are reportedly close to a settlement. The Teamsters represent delivery drivers. Working conditions and wages are the main issues in their dispute.

A union security issue has been the stumbling block in reaching agreement on a new contract with the Cleveland Guild, which also is seeking wage increases for editorial and commercial employes. In all, more than 3,000 Cleveland newspaper people are idle due to the strike.

★ ★ ★

The New York dispute has put 20,000 newspaper people out of work.

Walter N. Thayer, New York Herald Tribune president and one of the publishers' negotiators, said in a radio interview taped Friday and broadcast Sunday night that "money is problem No. 1, 2, 3 and 4" in efforts to resolve the dispute here.

Thayer also said that the public stand taken by Bertram A. Powers, president of the printers local, was a major drawback to settlement.

'FAR OUT ON LIMB'

"I think some way has to be found to get Mr. Powers off the limb that he's on," Thayer said. "I think he's on a limb that he's gotten out on by trying to go too far, too fast. I think he realizes this at this point, and I think some means has to be found for him to get back off this (limb)."

The publishers' offer of a $10 weekly package over two years compares to a union demand for a two-year package that management says will cost $37 a week per man, including $18 in wages. Prestrike wages for printers were $141 a week for day work.

Navy Gets Set for Possible Undersea War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy is preparing for the possibility of an undersea war that could be fought during periods of surface peace and atomic stalemate.

Some naval strategists, it was learned today, think that any such war is probably well in the future because of the overwhelming superiority enjoyed by the United States in nuclear-powered submarines.

At present, the U. S. Polaris missile sub fleet is so dominant it can be used as a substitute for nearly 100 Thor and Jupiter missiles being dismantled in Italy, Turkey and Britain, as well as for the canceled Skybolt missiles.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet inferiority in submarines is technical as well as numerical. Navy intelligence has indicated that Russia has no subs that could fire missiles from beneath the surface like the Polaris, and none that could fire missiles more than 350 miles after surfacing.

★ ★ ★

But the Russians recently have been giving increasing evidence that, if they lost several years in the submarine race, they now are more than determined to catch up.

Bassen Gets 'Assist' as Wings Win

Goalie Helps Howe's Tally in 5-3 Win

Detroit Skaters Win Over Bruins in Rare Feat by Goaltender

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings reached into the national Hockey League's bag of rarely seen hockey feats and came up with a shocker—goaltender Hank Bassen's assist on the goal which clinched Detroit's 5-3 victory over Boston last night.

Bassen's assist on the score by Red Wing ironman Gordie Howe was the first awarded to a goalie in Boston in 19 years. But Bassen has turned the trick before—once while playing with Detroit in 1960-61 and also, the previous year in the Western Hockey League.

Bassen's other NHL assist also came on a Howe goal against Boston on March 2, 1961.

The clincher in last night's game came with the score tied at 3-3 and with just over three minutes remaining in the final period.

Bassen set up Howe's scoring play by grabbing the puck near the net and feeding it over to Howe on the right boards. Howe streaked by Bruin defenseman Doug Mohns at the Detroit blue line and then raced in on goalie Ed Johnston with only defenseman Warren Godfrey back.

Godfrey dropped down to block the shot but only helped screen Johnston and Howe drove a rising 20-footer into the net for his 22nd goal of the season and 524th of his long NHL career.

The 5-3 verdict continued the Red Wings' domination over the Bruins who now have a 1-5-3 record against Detroit this year.

The victory, coupled with New York's 4-2 loss to Toronto, fattened the Wings' cushion over the fifth-place Rangers to 14 points.

Montreal, meanwhile, by beating Chicago 3-1 last night, moved to within two points of the league-leading Black Hawks while remaining tied for second place with Toronto.

DIFFERENT STORY

Detroit, twice the victim of third period Boston explosions, had no trouble in final session last night—but the second period was a different story.

The last place Bruins, trailing 1-0 on Alex Delvecchio's first period goal, tied the score after six minutes of the second session. Jerry Toppazzini sparked the Boston rally with the first of his two goals for the night.

Parker MacDonald put the Wings back in front 2-1, only to have Toppazzini tie it again and Johnny Bucyk put Boston in front for the first time at 16:19. The Wings tied it again at 3-all less than a minute later on Val Fonteyne's goal while Boston's Godfrey was in the penalty box.

Norm Ullman added an empty-net insurance goal to ice the victory for Detroit.

Recreation Loops Card Six Contests

Six recreation basketball games are on tap tonight in Pontiac and in Waterford Township.

The most important clashes will find the city's top two Class D quintets in action at Lincoln Junior High School. Unbeaten Jo-Jo's has a 7 p.m. date with Victor Paint which has broken even in two tsarts.

At 8:30 p.m. The Spartans will attempt to improve a 3-1 won - lost log by one victory when the runnerup team collides with winless New Hope Baptist Church.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's Class B division will have an 8:30 o'clock meeting at Pontiac Central between the Colonial Lumber and The Bachelors' Club teams. Preceeding that game will be a clash betwen Local No. 653 and McDonald's Drive In.

Waterford's two games will be at Crary Junior High School. Hoyt Realty will play Don Nicholie Insurance at 7:15 p.m.; and A&W Root Beer will tangle with winless Woodcum Drilling.

Oldtimers With Baseball's Greatest

4 More Join Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — The oldtimers group has four new members in Baseball's Hall of Fame today—outfielders Sam Rice and Elmer Flick and pitchers Eppa (Jeptha) Rixey and John Clarkson. They will be formally inducted at Cooperstown, N.Y. Aug. 5, bringing the total membership to 94.

* * *

Flick, a left-handed hitting outfielder who averaged .315 with the Phillies and Cleveland for 13 year from 1898 to 1910, now is an 87-year-old resident of Warrensville Heights, Ohio.

Clarkson, a right-handed pitcher who won 328 games for Worcester, Chicago, Boston and Cleveland in the National League from 1882 to 1894, died in 1909. He won 53 games for Chicago in 1885 and pitched 622 innings and won 49 for Boston in 1889. Only 12 others have won 300 or more in the majors.

COBB REJECTED

According to legend, Cleveland once turned down a trade proposed by Detroit by which Ty Cobb would have gone to the Indians for Flick who won a batting title with a .306 for Cleveland in 1905 yet missed a title while batting .373 for the Phillies in 1900. He was a fine right fielder with a strong arm. He stole 342 bases.

Rice, a near-miss when he was among those considered by the Baseball Writers' Association, was picked the first time he came under the jurisdiction of the 12-man veterans committee.

* * *

Rice, 72, lives in Ashton, Md. where he commented, "I knew it was coming sometime if I lived long enough.

The record books show Rice, a left-handed batter, hit .322 from 1915 to 1934 with Washington and Cleveland (1934 only). He quit with 2,987 hits, only 13 shy of the fabled 3,000 mark. In three World Series with the Senators he batted .364.

EARLY BANDIT

A speedy base-runner, he wound up with 351 stolen bases.

* * *

Rixey, now 71, lives in Terrace Park, Ohio, not far from the scenes of his greatest triumphs in Cincinnati. From 1912 through 1933 with the Phillies and Reds he won 26 and lost 251 games. Rixey was a tall (6-feet-6 inches) gangling left-hander with a peculiar motion who seldom walked a batter. He won more games than any other National Leaguer until Warren Spahn came along. It is worth noting that he did all this while working for second division clubs.

Defeats Billy Welu in Roll-Off

Dick Weber Wins 2nd All-Star Title

KANSAS CITY (AP)—As Dick Weber, the thin man from St. Louis, cooly made off with his second straight All-Star championship, he left the strong impression he is a match for any man in bowling, including veteran Don Carter.

* * *

Weber whipped big Billy Welu 642-591 in the three-game title roll-off Saturday night and pocketed a winner's check for $15,000.

Earlier in the day, the 33-year-old Indianapolis native beat Welu 3-1 in the 14th round for a big boost toward the title.

Carter of St. Louis, is still considered the greatest performer in bowling. He has won the world invitational six times in seven years and holds four All-Star crowns, in 1957-58 and 1953-54. He was a close third this time.

FEATHERWEIGHT KEGLER

But Weber, the lightest finalist at 125 pounds, has finished 1-2 in the All-Star four times in the past seven tournaments. He was runner-up in 1957 and 1960. The champion said:

"I've never felt better, my finger is fine and I'm all set for the last 16 tournaments for the pro tour, starting in Louisville this week."

Weber played through the 1962 All-Star with a painful finger injury.

Mrs. Marion Ladewig, 48, the famous grandmother from Grand Rapids, Mich., defeated Bobbie Shaler, 33, of Chicago, 586—578 for her eighth All-Star championship, and $5,000.

PINFALL LEADER

Weber is a match for Carter in consistency. The little guy's worst four-game round was 814 and he was over 900 five times. Carter's lowest was 821 but he was over 900 only once. Weber led all finalists in total pinfall, but not in victories, because he ran into some hot opponents early in the finals. Carter was second in pinfall in the finals.

The defeat was a bitter one for Welu, 29-year-old Houston native who captains a St. Louis pro team. He was the qualifying champion with a record 7,202, edging Weber by 55 pins. He was the Petersen point leader with 300-07, just 27 pins ahead of Weber, going into the title roll-off.

* * *

Carter was beaten Saturday, each time 3-1, by a trio of hot opponents — Eddie Jackson, Ted Hoffman and John Powell Jr.—and just missed the roll-off. But he defeated surprising Robbie Robinson of Wilmington, Del., 677-605 for third place, worth $5,000.

Welu still was only 26 pins down entering the last game, but had a washout in the second frame, a 5-7 split in the third and a 3-10 split in the fifth.

Mrs. Ladewig, who barely reached the title roll-off over Joy Abel, had a 5-7 split to start the 10th frame of her last game. With a chance to take it all, Miss Shaler came back with the same split. Betty Kuczynski beat Miss Abel for third. They are Chicago teammates.

Boston's Bench Offers No Relief to NBA Foes

By The Associated Press

Even when high scoring Bill Russell and Bob Cousy are held in check, the Boston Celtics have enough depth to win more than their share of National Basketball Association games.

* * *

Sunday, Russell scored 16 points and Cousy only eight. But, with rookie John Havlicek and veteran Clyde Lovellette leading the way the Celts downed the New York Knickerbockers 123-110.

In other games, Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 105-101, Syracuse beat San Francisco 119-110 and Cincinnati turned back Chicago 143-126.

NEVER RECOVERED

The Celtics led 30-20 at the end of the first period. In the next eight minutes Havlicek and Lovellette accounted for 23 of Boston's 28 points as New York fell behind 58-32. The Knicks never got closer than 13 points thereafter. Havlicek was the game's top scorer with 26 points. Lovellette chimed in with 14. Richie Guerin paced New York with 20.

As if the Knicks didn't have enough trouble, Paul Hogue, their big center, underwent an emergency appendectomy in a New York hospital and will be out for the rest of the season. The Knicks are 12½ games behind Cincinnati, which is in third place in the Eastern Division.

* * *

Dick Barnett sank 12 of 14 field goal attempts to lead the Lakers' attack. The triumph increased Los Angeles' first place lead in the Western Division to eight games over St. Louis. Barnett wound up with 33 points while Elgin Baylor had 30 for the winners. Bob Pettit was high for St. Louis with 34.

Syracuse rallied in the second half to down the Warriors. Syracuse trailed at halftime 51-42, but outscored San Francisco 77-59 in the final two periods. Wilt Chamberlain had 40 points for the Warriors while Hal Greer and Lee Shaffer paced the Nationals' attack with 26 each.

* * *

Oscar Robertson scored 31 for the Royals who had to rally in the second half. The Zephyrs led by one at halftime, but Cincinnati outscored Chicago 32-23 in the third quarter to pull away. Walt Bellamy paced the losers with 39 points.

In Saturday's games, Cincinnati trounced Chicago 142-116 and Syracuse beat San Francisco 116-110.

BUCKEYE WINNERS — A pair of Buckeyes from Pontiac, Bruce Norvell (left) and Ben Donaldson scored impressive victories in their events but to no avail as the Minnesota Gophers upset NCAA champion Ohio State in a swimming meet, 56-49. Norvell won the breastroke and Donaldson the 500 yard freestyle.

'Y' Swimmers Dunk Hurons

Pontiac YMCA swimmers made a clean sweep of three divisions in defeating Port Huron YMCA Saturday night in the local pool.

The Midget swimmers routed the visitors, 69-9 while the Preps won a 57-31 verdict and the Juniors a 52-27 decision.

The Preps, which set five pool records last week, bettered three more in this meet, led by four double winners, John Storrie, John Mason, Steve Yedlin and Carl Hiller.

Mason has a 1:01.7 record in the 100 freestyle and 23.9 in the 40 yard butterfly; Yedlin won the 40 freestyle in 23.4 and invividual medley in 59.4; Hiller set a mark in 40 yard breaststroke in 30.1 and won the diving in 110.3 points and Storrie took the 20 freestyle and 40 backstroke in 10.9 and 30.1 respectively.

DOUBLE WINNERS

Jeff Klann was a double winner in the midget division with a 1:14.6 in the individual medley and the 20 yard backstroke. Greg and Gary Moyer scored wins in the 20 yard freestyle and the 20 yard butterfly, while Jim Gauthier took the 40 freestyle and Jim Lacy the 20 yard breaststroke.

* * *

In the Junior events, Ross Coppersmith won the 40 yard breaststroke and 40 yard butterfly while Frank Yedlin won the individual medley and was part of the winning medley relay team made up of Ed Tuttle, Mike Morrissey, Chris Skillman.

Next Saturday in the Pontiac pool, the YMCA team will swim against the Rochester YMCA division, which is made up primarily of swimmers formerly with the Pontiac teams. The Rochester YMCA team was a winner over Port Huron in the preceding week.

Italians Best on 2-Man Sleds, However . . .

IGLS, Austria (AP) — The Italians, led by dare-devil Eugene Monti, swept the top two places in the two-man World Bobsled Championships but the West Germans are favored to win the four-man event.

The principal reason the Germans are favored?

Monti, a seemingly perennial champion, won't be around.

Monti, a red-haired stocky Italian who switches from bobsledding to deep-sea diving in the summer, did not qualify for the four-man bobs in Italy earlier this month.

He has won eight world bobsled titles, two of them as a pilot of four-man sleds.

The 35-year-old native of Cortina and his brakeman, Sergio Siorpaes, flashed down the 1,500-meter Olympic course to win the World two-man title Sunday with an agregate time for four heats of 4 minutes, 27.04 seconds.

The Italian No. 2 sled, driven by Sergio Zardini with brakeman Romano Bonagura, took second with an aggregate 4:29.98. The British No. 1 sled, with Anthony Nash pilot, made a comeback to the top echelon, finished third and jumped into contention for the four-man title.

Forced Into Playoff

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Margo Michaelis sank putts of 12, 18 and 25 feet in the 36-hole final of the Women's International Four Ball Championship, but a 20-footer on the final hole hit the cup and rolled out, forcing her and teammate Nancy Roth into an 18-hole playoff today.

Swim Duo Score in OSU Loss

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Despite two outstanding efforts by Pontiac swimmers Bruce Norvell and Ben Donaldson, the Minnesota Gophers scored a stunning upset over NCAA champion Ohio State, 56-49, Saturday night.

* * *

A victory in the 400 yard freestyle, the final event in 3:18.3, decided the meet with the Gophers leading 48-45.

Donaldson set a new meet record in the 500 yard freestyle by winning in 5:18.2. With teammate Orrin Nordstrom finishing second, this event pushed the score to 45-39 in favor of the Gophers putting OSU in position of being forced to win the last two events.

Norvell then pulled an upset of his own by defeating NCAA champion of 1962 Virgil Luken. His time in the breastrolke was 2:21.4. This made the count read 48-45 in favor of the Gophers going into the last event.

* * *

Leading the Minnesota triumph was Steve Jackman the top springer in the nation. He won the 50 and 100 freestyle events and anchored the freestyle relay event that clinched the meet.

Donaldson also took part in the 200 freestyle and took second behind Gopher Ralph Allen.

The Pontiac swimmers are both sophomores.

* * *

The loss snapped a nine-meet OSU winning streak and gave the surprising Gophers a 4-0 dual record for the season.

Burke Back on Win Trail

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For Jackie Burke, life may be beginning again—at 40.

★ ★ ★

The one-time boy wonder of professional golf, who will be 40 Tuesday posted his first tournament victory in 18 months Sunday when he outshot fellow Texan Don January in a stretch duel for the San Francisco International Open title.

Burke, playing with a "worn out" left thumb shot full of cortisone and taking command in the clutch with his 30-year-old wooden shafted putter, pulled ahead in the final nine holes and finished with a 4-under-par 67 for a 72-hole score of 276. The first place, the former Masters and PGA champion's first since the Buick Open in July, 1961, was worth $9,000.

TAGGING ALONG

January carded a 71 and totaled 279, taking $4,600 as runner-up. Behind him at 280 came three challengers — George Knudson, Charlie Sifford and Paul Harney—who faded one by one as the two Texans fought it out over Harding Park's treacherous greens and lakeshore-lined fairways.

★ ★ ★

Burke, son of a Fort Worth pro, a golfer at seven and a pro himself at 18, was the whiz of the pro tour a dozen years ago and winner of both the Masters and PGA in 1956. But his participation on the pro circuit has dropped in recent years.

The 160-pounder credited his victory mainly to a marked improvement in his putting, a couple of good drives and the fact that his chronic weak left thumb held up under the strain.

Golfing's Big Three — Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus—were not factors, despite Player's blazing 64 on Sunday's round. The handsome South African's 7-under-par finish was a record for the tournament but gave him no more than a tie for 11th at 283.

★ ★ ★

Palmer slipped to a 74, putting him in a tie for 19th at 285, and Nicklaus was eliminated at the halfway point Friday. The hefty U.S. Open champion, plagued by bursitis of his left hip, failed to score well enough to make the 36-hole cutoff after finishing in the money in 28 straight tourneys since turning pro late in 1961.

2 Drivers Killed in Mishaps

By The Associated Press

Separate accidents took the lives of two race car drivers and seriously burned a third Sunday.

Jim Norwood, 29, of Hialeah, Fla., died in West Palm Beach when his modified stock car plunged over a wall and crushed him.

★ ★ ★

M. D. (Red) Sefton, 27, of Ontario, Calif., was killed when his car slammed into a fence and overturned several times while warming up for a 100-mile sprint car race in Phoenix, Ariz.

Hank Henry, 35, of San Diego, calif., was burned over much of his body when his car caught on fire after flipping end over end four times during the dirt track race in Phoenix.

WHEELS LOCKED

In the race at West Palm Beach, Norwood was traveling 100 miles per hour when he locked wheels with another car on a curve. His car veered off the track and sailed over a wall.

Norwood was running in second place and pushing the leader at the time of the mishap.

Sefton's death was the third on the one mile dirt track at the Phoenix Fairground. Al Keller died there in 1961 and Jack McGrath in 1954.

★ ★ ★

Only last November, a car driven by Elmer George of Indianapolis hurtled into a standing crowd of 300, injuring two persons critically.

For Sefton, the accident was his third in a racing career that spanned about six years. He escaped injury in the other two.

He had just rebuild his car and was to test it under race conditions for the first time.

HIT WALL

Witnesses said his car lost a wheel as it came out of a curve, causing the vehicle to slam into a wall.

For Henry, too, a curve caused the trouble. Running second on the eithth of 100 laps, he lost control of the car and it bounced end over end.

Henry was in satisfacotry condition in a Phoenix hospital Sunday night. Doctors said his burns were third degree, with his hands injured the worst.

Bearcats, Loyola Head for Showdown

By The Associated Press

After triumphs in the season's dream doubleheader, Cincinnati's tenacious Bearcats and the run-and-shoot Ramblers from Loyola of Chicago could be heading for a spectacular climax to the college basketball year—a showdown for the national championship.

Cincinnati, unchallenged as the country's top team, showed its poise and doggedness Saturday night at Chicago Stadium in a 62-53 victory over third-ranked Illinois that stretched the Bearcats' winning streak to 33—15 this season.

In the opener of the double bill before a packed house of 20,687, second-ranked Loyola ran its record to 18-0 by whipping Santa Clara 92-72.

AFTER TITLE

Cincinnati now resumes its drive for the Missouri Valley Conference title and a place in the post-season NCAA tournament, for a shot at an unprecedented third consecutive national crown. Loyola is an excellent bet for an at-large NCAA berth as an indpendent—thus making an eventual meeting between the Bearcats and the Ramblers an event to be anticipated.

★ ★ ★

In another headliner pairing rated teams, fourth-ranked Duke belted sixth-ranked West Virginia 111-71, with Art Heyman scoring 28 for the Blue Devils and Jeff Mullins 27. Sophomore R. D. Craddock again sparked seventh-ranked Georgia Tech to victory, scoring 8 of the Engineers' last 9 points as they downed Tennessee 73-69 and took another step in a bid for their first Southeastern Conference title in 25 years.

★ ★ ★

Niagara, the nation's only other unbeaten major club besides Cincinnati and Loyola, won its ninth with an 82-65 runaway against Youngstown. Elsewhere, other tournament-minded independents enhanced their records.

Utah State nipped Brigham Young 70-67 in a match tied 15 times; Pitt got through Dartmouth's zone defense with a rush in the closing stages and won 70-53 Memphis State dissipated an 18-point lead, fell behind, then fought back for a 71-65 victory over ninth-ranked Mississippi State; Seattle star Eddie Miles led the way with 24 points as the Chieftains beat Loyola of Los Angeles 64-45.

HE COUNTS

Seven-footer Mel Counts netted 27 points and pulled down 19 rebounds, pacing Oregon State over Washington; Penn State rapped Bucknell 90-75; Canisius edged Massachusetts 54-52; and Providence overwhelmed Scranton 101-74.

In other games—Kansas State tripped Oklahoma State 57-55, preventing the Cowboys from tying Colorado for the Big Eight lead; St. Louis stamped itself as Cincinnati's stoutest Missouri Valley challenger, beating Bradley 71-63 and putting added interest in the Billikens' meeting with Cincy next Saturday; eight-ranked Wichita smacked down Air Force 77-45.

★ ★ ★

Auburn kept in the Southeastern scramble, whacking Georgia 73-62; St. Joseph's of Philadelphia got 27 points from Tom Wynne in a 79-70 decision over Rhode Island; and Walt Hazzard scored 32 as UCLA romped against Texas Tech for the second straight night, 103-80.

Illini Admit Cinci Is Best College Foe

CHICAGO (AP) —Cincinnati is the nation's No. 1 team so far as Illinois is concerned but Loyola of Chicago is itching for a crack at the Bearcats.

"They are truly the finest basketball team we've seen this season," said Lllinois coach Harry Combes after his club absorbed a 62-53 defeat in Chicago Stadium before an overflow crowd of 20,687.

★ ★ ★

"We played the kind of game we wanted to play," said Combes. "Cincinnati's defense is all they said it was but it wasn't the defense that beat us. It was our own poor shooting and I mean we missed good shots."

Illinois, which had been averaging 88.6 points a game this season, hit only 18 of 59 shots against the Bearcats for an unbelievably poor 30.5 percentage. Cincinnati wasn't much better with 21 of 58 for 36.2 but knew how to control its lead throughout the game.

Witnessing the match between third-ranked Illinois and Cincinnati was George Ireland who coaches Loyola, the nation's No. 2 team. The undefeated Ramblers made it 18 straight in the first game of the doubleheader with a 92-72 decision over Santa Clara.

Ireland praised Cincinnati but added that he felt his Ramblers could rebound with the Bearcats and "I feel they'd have to run with us. We certainly would like to play them."

★ ★ ★

There is an excellent chance that these two teams will meet in the NCAA tournament which Cincinnati has won the last two years. The Bearcats will qualify for the tournament if they win the Missouri Valley Conference and Loyola appears to be a cinch to receive an at-large bid.

While both Ireland and Combes praised Cincinnati's strong points, Bearcat Coach Ed Jucker didn't think either his club or Illinois played its best.

★ ★ ★

"Maybe it was the huge crowd," said Jucker. "I don't think these kids played before so many people before. I won't say we are a lot better than Illinois, but I think we helped to make them miss a lot of shots. Let's give our kids some credit.

The victory was the 33rd straight for Cincinnati and Jucker said, "This winning streak is starting to pressure us and I think our guys are beginning to feel it."

Batters to See 'High, Hard One'

By The Associated Press

"The high, hard one," chortled the pitchers in anticipation.

"I don't see how it can help," muttered the hitters.

★ ★ ★

Those were the general reactions today to a baseball rules change that enlarged the strike zone to the proportions of pre-1950—from the top of the shoulders to the knees.

The rule, adopted Saturday for the 1963 season, could increase the strike zone by as much as 10 or 12 inches, said Cal Hubbard, supervisor of American League umpires.

NORMAL STANCE

The old rule designated the strike zone as the area "between the armpits and the top of the knees" when the batter assumes his normal stance.

Generally, pitchers greeted the new rule with enthusiasm, batters with much less gusto.

"I'm happy to hear of the change," Milwaukee lefty Warren Spahn said. "It's something that has been needed for some time and it will give the pitchers a fairer strike zone.

★ ★ ★

"It had gotten to where, when the batter went into a crouch, that the top of the strike zone would seem about his belt. Then the batter could take or swing at that pitch about chest-high, just as they wanted. Most hitters are high ball hitters, and it just gave them a chance to pick out the one they wanted.

"Now, this will especially help the pitcher that throws hard—the guy with the high, hard fastball."

CONTROL PITCHES

Both Spahn and New York Yankee ace Whitey Ford said, however, that they thought the change would not have much effect on them personally. Each now concentrates on control and pitching to spots.

"In time it probably will get back to the same old thing," Ford shrugged. "But it will help hard throwers like (Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax.")

Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds, an old pitcher, saw the change benefitting both pitchers and hitters.

"It'll help both," he said. "The pitcher of course, and it may make better hitters of some players. They'll have to learn how to hit those pitches they've been taking—they can't be waiting for the perfect pitch."

Veteran catcher Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees and St. Louis' seven-time National League batting champion Stan Musial adopted a wait and see attitude.

★ ★ ★

"It won't effect the hitters too much," Musial said. "Most players are high ball hitters. It might reduce the base on balls. I think if they really want to help the pitchers, they should widen the plate so pitchers could move the ball around a bit more."

"We'll just have to wait and see," said Berra. "The umpires will have to change their ways, too. It will help the sinkerballers and those pitchers who throw overhand and throw pretty hard. They'll get the high strikes at the shoulders."

Ransom Scores 29 in Ferris Triumph

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

The battle lines have been drawn for Michigan's dramatic small college basketball "game of the year" Saturday afternoon at snowy Houghton.

With temporary bleachers being put up, a sell-out crowd of close to 2,500 is expected to jam Sherman Gym when the state's two small college teams with the finest records — Michigan Tech and Ferris Institute—

Both teams have identical 12-1 records and are riding the crests of 11-game winning streaks.

Tech is idle all week as it prepares for the clash while for Ferris it'll be the second game of a two-game road trip to the north country. Ferris will play Northern Michigan at Mraquette Friday night before driving 100 miles to Houghton for the 2 p.m. Saturday game which will kick off Tech's annual winter carnival.

★ ★ ★

Both clubs won their 12th game Saturday night to highlight a crowded schedule as Ferris topped Soo Tech, 82-66, and Tech beat Northland of Ashland, Wis., 78-65.

Rudy Ransom of Pontiac scored 29 points as Ferris defeated Soo Tech in their annual clash at Sault Ste. Marie which is part of Tech's winter carnival.

Bernie Kilpatrick added 20 points to the Ferris total, while Stan Ojala had 19 and teammate John Jeske 18 for the losers.

Mukingum (Ohio) defeated Adrian 86-72; Miami (Ohio) knocked Western Michigan out of a first place tie in the Mid-American conference with an 89-80 victory; Chicago triumphed over Wayne State 61-42; Concordia (Ill.) beat Hope 80-73; Anderson (Ind.) easily defeated Kalamazoo 84-68, and Indiana Tech routed Olivet 105-53.

SPARTANS WIN

Two of the major colleges, Michigan State and Detroit, gave the state a little to brag about as they came up with upset victories.

MSU edged Minnesota 61-59 in a Big Ten contest, and Detroit bounced St. Bonaventure 78-73.

★ ★ ★

Northern Michigan scored a 97-86 victory over Calvin; Eastern Michigan scored an 88-83 overtime decision over Hillsdale, and Northwood downed Detroit Tech 79-74 in other games.

Guard Bill Massey and center Doug Scheuneman scored 25 and 24 points respectively to lead Michigan Tech's win over Northland. Tech led 38-34 at the half.

Miami's sophomore starters all scored in double figures as they took over second place in the mac with the triumph over Western Michigan.

WMU held an early lead, with Miami going ahead 23-22 with 12 minutes rmeaining in the first half. The winners did not pull ahead for good until late in the game.

Manny Newsome had 22 points for western to lead all scorers while Jeff Gehring and Skip Snow each had 20 for Miami.

The University of Detroit made the most of its free throw opportunities to upset St. Bonaventure

Detroit, outshot 34-31 from the floor, made 16 of 25 free throws while the losers made only 5 of 14.

Terry Page led Detroit with 23 points, while Fred Crawford topped the Bonnies with 23.

Unpredictable is certainly the word to describe the hot-and-cold Michigan State basketball team in this season's scrambled Big Ten race.

The Spartans, who had their hopes of challenging for the championship shattered by last Monday's loss to Iowa in a cold home showing, bounced back to stun Minnesota on the road.

The victory left MSU tied with Minnesota for third place with a 3-2 record. Illinois leads at 4-0 and Indiana is second at 2-0.

McKinley Upset by 18-Year-Old

UCLA Soph Shines in Tennis Tourney

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Charley Pasarell continued his climb towards the top of the national tennis ladder Sunday with a 2-6, 6-3, 6-2 conquest of Allen Fox in the Thunderbird Tennis Tournament.

Pasarell, an 18-year-old UCLA sophomore with a 10th ranking nationally, pulled his second major upset in as many days by beating fourth ranked Fox, former intercollegiate champ.

Saturday Pasarell turned in perhaps the biggest upset of the tourney, ousting the nation's top-ranked amateur, Chuck McKinley, in the semifinal round.

Pasarell, a native of San Juan, Puerto Rico, was seeded fourth behind McKinley, Ham Richardson, and Fox.

Fifth ranked Nancy Richey of Dallas fought off a determined Vickie Palmer of Phoenix 8-6, 8-6 and won the woman's singles title.

Miss Palmer turned in one of the tourney's biggest upsets Saturday with a one-sided win over Karen Susman, second ranked woman player in the nation. Miss Palmer is seventh nationally.

McKinley and Trinity teammate Cliff Buchholz teamed for a hard-fought 15-13, 8-6, 6-1 doubles victory over University of California students Bill Hoogs and Jim McManus in the men's doubles championship.

Rod and Karen Sussman, a husband-wife team, took the mixed doubles championship for the second consecutive year. They defeated Norwegian singles champ Thorvald Moe and Miss Palmer 64, 7-5 in the finals.

Skull Is Odd Trophy

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) —Possibly the oddest trophy in college football is Ye Olde Indian Skull, traditional prize in the annual game between Ohio Wesleyan and Wittenberg universities.

Wittenberg, located at Springfield, Ohio, won the game and the skull this season for the third year in a row. The skull was uncovered in Delaware in 1929 during excavation for Ohio Wesleyan's Selby Field.

Flags Outskate Omaha

OMAHA (AP) — Port Huron's Flags, in last place in the International Hockey League, defeated Omaha, 3-2, last night before a crowd of 2,282.

To Tryout With Tigers

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — The ace relief pitcher of the Mayaguez Indians, Bob Dustal, was voted the most valuable player of the Puerto Rico Winter baseball league Saturday night. Dustal, a Detroit Tiger property, posted an 11-5 won-lost record and a 1.76 earned run average. He's to get a trial with the Tigers this spring.

SKILL TO SPARE by Dick Weber

TANDEM SPARES

Tandem spares look easy, but in this instance appearances are deceptive.

Pins standing in a straight line present the bowler with one of the more difficult shots.

The thing to remember about tandem shots, such as the 2-8, is never to count on the front pin taking out the back one. All too often, the front pin deflects to the side, leaving the other standing. The Sparemaker indicates that the 2 pin should be hit a bit to the right. This is to neutralize the hook most bowlers throw and allow the ball to take out the 8 from the right side.

One of the main causes for a 2-8 leave is a light hit, witn the ball barely hitting the 1 and "diving" so that it takes out the 9. The 5 skips across, hitting the 4, which in turn clears away the 7.

Hit 2 pin a bit to the right.

Start Second Half of Season

Chiefs Sniffing 'Basketball Roses'

By DON VOGEL

Pontiac Central appears ready to make a run for the "basketball roses."

★ ★ ★

And this doesn't necessarily mean the Saginaw Valley Conference championship. Two slips earlier in the season may prove too costly to overcome in league play.

Coach Art Van Ryzin has his sights set higher.

The veteran mentor is eyeing a possible Class A state championship.

★ ★ ★

How can a team with a 5-4 overall mark be considered a challenger for state laurels?

All four losses have been to teams ranked in the top 15 in the state. Arthur Hill (54-46) is second, Flint Central (45-44) is ninth, Grosse Pointe (62-45) is third and Pontiac Northern (62-59) is thirteenth.

The loss to Grosse Pointe is deceiving. The Chiefs fell behind by 10 points in the opening period, but played very respectable ball the rest of the way. It was PCH's opening game and the second for Grosse Pointe.

★ ★ ★

"We are a green team," said Van Ryzin before the season opened, "but I feel we'll come along in the second half."

THREE STRAIGHT

The second half is about to start and the Chiefs apparently have already jelled into a solid team. Since losing to PNH, they have downed four straight valley foes.

★ ★ ★

The 69-49 lacing handed 10th ranked Saginaw Friday proved PCH is going to be a tough nut to crack from now until tournament time.

The addition of senior transfer student Lester Hardiman for the last half should make the Chiefs even stronger.

The 6-4 forward from East Chicago "has looked good" in practice, according to Van Ryzin, but has yet to pull on a game jersey against Saginaw Valley competition. Until then, he said, no real evaluation of Hardiman's potential can be made.

The Chiefs do not play Arthur Hill or Saginaw again this season. But they do invade Flint three times. The first is against Southwestern this Friday.

★ ★ ★

"You know," said Van Ryzin, "playing up at Flint is like waving a red flag at our boys. They like to beat the Flint schools."

Remaining home games are against Bay City Central and Pontiac Northern.

"We have the potential to do something in the state tournament," said the coach. "At the moment it is still potential, but I think the outlook is bright.

"We have good shooters and our defense against Saginaw was very good."

★ ★ ★

The defending state Class A champion Trojans, who fell behind 19-0, will agree with this statement.

'Y' Cage Five Still Unbeaten

Trinity Baptist continues to roll along in the YMCA-Church Basketball League's senior division.

The unbeaten leaders are maintaining their winning form by knocking off the top opponents one after another. John Hurmer's 16 points led Trinity past All Saints Episcopal, 53-34, last Friday in the latest triumph by the first place squad.

The previous week, Trinity handed Macedonia Baptist its first defeat and this Friday night will take on First Congregational Church at 9:45 o'clock. That game will be the windup contest on a four-game card beginning at 6 p.m. in the "Y" gymnasium.

First Congregational moved into a tie with All Saints for third place by edging Central Methodist, 44-36, Friday despite a 21-point burst by the losers' Tom Smith.

Macedonia Baptist stayed a game behind the pace setter with a 47-31 conquest of St. Paul Methodist. Roy Hudson's 15 markers helped push St. Paul into sixth place.

First Baptist took sole possession of fifth by handing winless Oakland Park Methodist a 43-19 setback led by Dennis Burrill's 16 tallies.

Other action this Friday will have St. Paul opening against First Baptist, Macedonia meeting Central at 7:15 p.m. and Oakland Park tangling with All Saints at 8:30 p.m.

In handicap singles action, Edwin Kueffner of Frankenmuth tops the list with 745 followed by John Fitzsimmons of Jackson in second wih 736 and Richard Robinette of Detroit with 712 in third.

The handicap doubles division is led by Reginald Kemp and Max Tetil of Frankenmuth with 1,392.

In the handicap all - events division, Joe Pullman of Port Huron leads with 2,020.

Yang's Vault Highest Yet

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—C. K. Yang, the decathlon star from Formosa, whose best previous mark in competition was 14 feet prised when he pole vaulted a startling 16-3¼.

"I cleared 12 in practice a couple of months ago," he confided after history's highest pole vault Saturday night in the Oregon Invitational meet.

Since the vault was made indoors, it will not be submitted for a world record. Only outdoor performances are considered for world marks.

Yang, latest in a string of athletes to crack the once formidable 16 foot barrier, said he went over 16 feet in practice "but that was with my old pole. I broke it."

★ ★ ★

Since then, he said, he has been using a fiber glass pole, the one with which he soared the highest in history.

The best previous indoor mark was 16-2¼ by Dave Tork at Toronto Friday night.

Pair Lead Skaters Into U. S. Tryouts

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — School teacher Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington, Mass., and young Tom Gray of Bloomington, Minn., today headed America's top speed skating hopefuls into this week's Olympic trials in Minneapolis after winning championships in the national meet Sunday.

Miss Ashworth, 23, became a heavy favorite to win a repeat berth on the U.S. Olympic team for the 1964 Winter Games as she made a shambles of the women's division in the 64th U.S. Outdoor Championships on Lake Como.

Gray, 18-year-old high school senior who has worked his way up as national champion of all five male speed skating divisions, had a tougher time of it, but beat down the field to win his first men's crown.

Other division winners were Neil Blatchford, Northbrook, intermediate boys; Janice Smith, Rochester, N.Y., intermediate girls; Pete Cefalu, West Allis, Wis., junior boys; Susan Blair, Cornwall, N.Y., junior girls; Bill Heinkel, West Allis, juvenile boys; Linda Hernesko, Detroit, juvenile girls; Bob Swanson, Northbrook, midget boys and Peggy Dixon, Champaign, Ill., midget girls.

Greater Challenge

Tidal Wave Enrollment Will Hit Colleges

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

A tidal wave enrollment will hit the colleges in the next two years. We have been warned repeatedly that enrollments will double between 1960 and 1970.

DR. NASON

What has not been understood generally is that half of this 10-year increase in applicants will come in the 1963-64 and 1964-65 academic years!

As a result, colleges and universities are faced with a challenge greater than that immediately following World War II when ex-GI's were entering in droves.

These are elements that make the present problem more difficult:

The flood of students will be without the Federal Aid provided for the GI's.

★ ★ ★

The new applicants will be younger and less determined.

They will lack experience.

They will lack the clearly defined goals of the more mature GI students.

On the positive side there was warning, and preparations are being made to cope with the problem.

MORE MONEY AVAILABLE

State legislatures across the country appropriated $1.8 billion in state tax funds for higher education in 1962-64, a gain of 24.5 per cent over a two-year period.

This compares with an increase of 22.7 per cent in the previous two-year period, 1959-61. State tax appropriations must be compared on a two-year basis, since most state legislatures make biannual appropriations.

These figures were reported by visiting professor M. M. Chambers of the University of Michigan, and published by the Joint Office of Institutional Research, Washington, D. C.

★ ★ ★

The report found that 20 states which operate local community junior colleges had appropriated an additional $81 million to these schools in 1962-64, an increase of about 42 per cent over the total appropriated in the earlier two-year period.

Increases in federal grants, student loans and available scholarships will help absorb some of the financial burden.

Colleges face other problems brought on by the sudden increase in enrollment. After World War II the problem was in housing married students for the first time.

★ ★ ★

The present demand will be for additional dormitory space. The very fact that these students are younger calls for careful supervision.

SMARTER STUDENTS

Admissions officers will do a more careful job of selection. Freshman classes will be smarter.

To meet the challenge of teaching a more highly qualified student body, the professors must revise their grading practices. Grading on the old curve will certainly be unacceptable when students have been so screened that all are capable of passing the courses.

You may obtain a copy of Dr. Nason's "You Can Get Better Grades" booklet by sending $1 to "Better Grades," Box 2160, General Post Offcie, New York.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the advantages of playing a contract with four trumps opposite four is that you can choose the master hand.

JACOBY

East won the first trick with the ace of hearts and shifted to the seven of clubs.

South won with the ace and promptly went wrong. He counted eight top tricks and needed two more for his contract. He should have tried for them by working wtih the diamond suit, but South forgot that he could make dummy the master hand. Accordingly, South cashed his king of hearts, discarding a club from dummy, ruffed a heart, played dummy's king of spades, led another spade to his queen, cashed the king of clubs, and ruffed a club with dummy's nine of spades.

East overruffed and led a heart which South had to ruff.

At this point South finally went after the diamond suit, but time had run out because West came up with a beautiful play. West, counting the hand, realized his partner had started with six hearts, three spades and two clubs. That left him with exactly two diamonds and one of them had to be the king because South had already shown up with 16 points for his opening no-trump.

West played the queen of diamonds! This left South stuck between a rock and a hard place. If he ducked West would cash his last high club. If he went up West would get that club later on.

Survey of Michigan Facilities

State Beginning to Catch Up in Construction of Schools

(Editor's Note: Has construction of new public school facilities kept pace with enrollment growth in Michigan? These and other questions are answered in the following article on public education in Michigan.)

By The Associated Press

Michigan's public schools are beginning to catch up on providing classrooms for a spiraling increase in the number of pupils.

The population explosion during the postwar period of 1946-48 first crowded the elementary schools and now the high schools. Soon the crop of war babies will be moving onto the college level.

A survey made through education writers of Associated Press members shows that some communities have fairly well caught up on building needs, but many districts — particularly new suburban areas — require further expansion.

* * *

Some large cities have been able to finance expansion on a pay-as-you-go basis. Instead of bond issues, they set up building funds from money raised by tax levies and eliminated interest charges.

EXPECT SLACKENING

Most school districts expect a slackening in enrollment increases in the next few years. But all say there has been no overexpansion.

The Bay City Public School System, since 1949, has been replacing obsolete buildings under a pay-as-you-go, four-mill tax program. Twelve schools have been constructed. Four more are to be built within the next two years.

* * *

Bay City Supt. Elwyn J. Bodley said he feels the pay-as-you-go program, which has won national recognition, probably has demonstrated to voters the advantage of such a continuous operation, in which schools have been built at a lower total cost under a moderate tax rate.

Bay City's building program will continue through 1965. Indications are that some additions will be needed. Under the long-range building plan, construction continues at an even gait and is designed to handle the increasing enrollment.

The grade school enrollment increase is leveling off and the pressure will be in the high schools.

Bay City has been involved in a school merger program since January 1961. Twelve rural and suburban districts in the county have merged with the city system and other mergers are in process.

The Saginaw School District is half way through a 10-year 3-mill building fund which provides money for a pay-as-you-go program. A new 17-room elementary school is projected for this year.

And in the future are a new Arthur Hill Technical High School which will replace the present structure, and a new junior high. At least one new elementary school will be needed in the next five years.

IMMEDIATE NEEDS

Saginaw's populous suburban districts have met immediate needs. Within the past five years Saginaw Township, Bridgeport Township, Carrollton Township, Buena Vista Township and Freeland have built new schools.

Buena Vista District plans to submit a $2.5-million bond issue in April. The Shields District is counting on a bond issue some time this spring.

Saginaw School Supt. Charles C. Coulter expects the city to show a gain of 400 to 500 students a year. The suburban townships contemplate further enrollment gains.

Flint has built 15 new schools since 1950 — 12 elementary, two junior highs and one senior high. The city also built 25 major additions to school buildings and 125 primary units.

A primary unit is a Flint innovation which has proved very successful. Each is a one-room residence - type for early elementary grades. It is built at a fraction of the cost of a regular school building classroom.

* * *

The primary units also have these advantages: they are located throughout an elementary district and this cuts down walking distance for small children; the architecture blends with homes of the neighborhood; they can be sold for homes if no longer needed.

All of Flint's school building since 1950 has been pay-as-you-go. The money comes from special millages and is collected in a fund before it is needed.

Flint has two new schools in the planning stage. Bids were opened recently for the city's 39th elementary school, to cost about $600,000. Preliminary plans are being drawn for the city's fourth senior high, to cost $4.5 million.

Flint's enrollment continues to increase but the rate of growth is tapering off.

* * *

Midland's expansion plans are well in hand for the next few years. Construction began recently on a $2.5-million intermediate school. It is being financed through a bond issue approved in 1961.

It will take care of Midland's secondary school needs until about 1967-68. Elementary school needs are being met through a four-year pay-as-you-go program.

NEED REDUCED

The need at Midland has been reduced with construction of a new high school in the Meridian District and the start of a junior-senior high school program being offered in new facilities at Bullock Creek. These students formerly attended Midland schools on a tuition basis.

* * *

The total Midland enrollment appears to continue growing despite a loss of nonresident tuition students and a two-year slight decline in the birth rate in three Midland area.

Jackson's Union School District, which includes the city and portions of two adjoining townships, sees the need for further expansion in the future, but probably not within a decade.

Jackson's second high school is now under construction and is scheduled for opening next September. A junior high school was completed two years ago and an older building was turned over to Jackson Junior College.

* * *

Jackson school board members now feel that the district is well set as far as facilities are concerned. Enrollements have risen steadily in the last few years but now are leveling off.

SECONDARY CROWDING

Grand Rapids started a building program in 1951. It has kept pace with enrollment but there is some crowding on the secondary level now. Two new elementary schools, a new junior high and further planning for a new west side senior high are on schedule.

* * *

Grand Rapids has financed its building program with a special two-mill levy. A bond issue might be needed later, but not now.

Pressure at Grand Rapids seems to be leveling off at the primary level, but the wave of pupils that started 10 years ago is now moving into the high school, creating space problems.

A $10-million program for Muskegon schools started in 1952 will be completed next September. Muskegon High School has not been able to accommodate nonresident students from growing suburban districts indefinitely.

* * *

Three additional high school districts have been created in the area and have built their own plants. Two others are considering similar action.

EXPECT RISE

Kalamazoo city schools expect a rising enrollment up to 1967 followed by a period of almost impercetible decline or a plateau. The Kalamazoo School Board is completing a three-year remodeling program estimated to cost nearly $1.5 million.

Existing structures are being remodeled in line with recommendations from the state fire marshal's office. Kalamazoo's school construction has kept pace with rising enrollments.

* * *

Battle Creek public schools have adequate facilities. School officials have followed a pay-as-you-go policy during the last five years in financing new construction. The district is debt free.

With population growth mostly in adjacent suburbs, Battle Creek schools during the current school year showed a slight enrollment drop. Kellogg Community College, which is operated by the city schools, is growing by leaps and bounds and will need more buildings, although not in the next year or so.

Enrollment in the Lansing School District is expected to continue upwards in the next four to five years and school officials anticipate a need for expansion of classromm facilities.

A millage vote has been set for April to obtain money for at least five and possibly six new elementary buildings.

The school board also is considering a possible bond vote to raise money for a new classroom building at Lansing Community College.

Lansing officials say new facilities constructed in recent years just barely meet enrollment requirements. During the past 10 years the Lansing system has built one new senior high, two new junior highs and six new elementary schools and is now building a public library.

The school system has absorbed seven or eight elementary buildings through annexation.

OAKLAND COUNTY

In Oakland County, the Clawson School Board trimmed $200,000 from a $2.4-million building program rejected in October and will submit it again to the voters. Votes for operating tax increases are scheduled in Berkley and Oak Park. Royal Oak is asking for a $2-million building loan and realignment of tax rates.

* * *

At Pontiac, the school board feels there is need of further expansion of classroom facilities but it is not considering any new bond issues at this time.

Construction for the most part has kept pace with need. Pontiac elementary schools have a slackening enrollment but there is a temporary surge in the junior high.

The Port Huron Area School District has plans for a building program following voter approval Dec. 18 of a $6,576,000 bond issue.

The money wil be used to expand Port Huron Junior College, build a second high school, enlarge the present high school, build one new intermediate school and additions to two elementary schools and five intermediate schools.

* * *

Port Huron area voters also approved continuing an existing 3½-mill tax for operating purposes, and adding to this tax an additional 3½ mills for operations. The money will be used chiefly to raise teacher salaries.

SEE INCREASE

Ann Arbor public school officials estimate there will be an increase in enrollment in the next few years. New facilities are needed and a bond issue would be required. A new high school, in addition to the existing one, is planned.

* * *

Berrien County in southwestern Michigan has experienced a spectacular growth and projected enrollment figures indicate a steady increase to 1980.

The Stevensville Lakeshore District plans to vote on a bond issue Feb. 18 and St. Joseph plans to vote in the spring. Bridgman is about ready to ask voters for funds for a new high school.

Benton Harbor Supt. Albert C. Johnsen predicts a normal increase in enrollment but a slackening growth rate in contrast to the postwar boom. Benton Harbor school facilities are adequate at this time.

* * *

The Grand Haven School Board sees the need of a new junior high and additional grade schools. It anticipates a spring election proposal for a $3.4-million bond issue. Annexation has increased enrollment.

Nine school districts have been annexed to Grand Haven in the last three years.

In Upper Michigan, Marquette School District officials say a continuing increase in enrollment is likely, but immediate classroom needs probably will be met for the current expansion program.

The Escanaba Area School District expects a continuing but not rapid increase in enrollment. The district, which includes the city and three townships, is the largest in area in the state and has a total enrollment of 4,100.

Annexation of the townships was accomplished three years ago. A better program has resulted and a new $3.5-million high school will be opened about Feb. 1.

Replacement of old elementary buildings and an expansion program will be placed before the voters Feb. 18.

In Detroit, school officials expect the present enrollment of 292,000 to increase slightly in the next five years, depending on the number of new families moving into the city and the number of pupils dropping out at the secondary level.

Detroit voters authorized $90 million for new buildings and sites in 1959. This will be spent by 1964. The board plans to submit another multimillion dollar request at the April election this year.

Blue Chips Spotlighted

Record Earnings Boost Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — Record earnings for some blue chip companies helped push the stock market higher early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Gains of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so but most advances were fractional

News of record sales and earnings for General Motors accompanied a gain of nearly a point by the giant of U.S. manufacturing whose stock touched a new historic high of 63¼.

Du Pont also reported record 1962 profits and its stock advanced more than a point.

Similar gains by other high quality issues were spotted through the list, helping to beef up the averages, but scattered losses in various groups gave the advance a somewhat irregular patter.

'ROLLING' ADVANCE

The irregularity of the rise was characteristic of the "rolling" advance of the past six weeks when buyers have switched from group to group and from stock to stock within single groups, brokers said.

The weak sister among automotive issues was Ford which dipped more than a point. Chrysler added a full point while American Motors and Studebaker showed little change.

Although Union Carbide added a fraction, other leading chemicals did little or nothing.

IBM rose more than 4 and Polaroid over 2. Stokeley-Van Camp was down a point after the latest merger rumors cooled off.

Bonds Steady to Shade Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices opened the week's trading unchanged to a shade higher today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities said there were few changes in either intermediate or long maturity sections. Trading was extremely quiet.

Rails and industrials appeared to edge upward while utilities were mixed in early corporate dealings on the New York Stock Exchange.

One of the few changes amounting to a point or more found Northern Pacific Railroad 4½s up 1 at 95. Even the usually volatile convertibles moved narrowly although Lockheed 3¾s gained 5 at 213 at one time.

School Burns in State City

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Fire roared through Central School early today with flames lighting the Grand Haven sky and sparks flying more than 100 feet into the air.

Oldest school building in the city, the three-story wood frame structure houses some 30 classrooms for pupils from kindergarten through grade six. It shared space with Grand Haven Junior High School in a near-downtown block.

The fire apparently broke out about 6:30 a.m.

Observers said a north wind apparently was keeping the blaze away from the junior high school but was carrying sparks over a section of older homes.

2 Red Soldiers Flee

BERLIN (AP)—A sergeant and a corporal of the East German Army escaped to West Berlin during the night, bringing along their weapons, West Berlin police reported today. The uniformed pair came through barbed wire border fortifications in the north of the city.

Urge Increase in Red Trade

Senators Back Cutting W. Europe Troop List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of senators has recommended that the United States consider increasing its nonstrategic trade with the Communist bloc and withdrawing some U. S. troops from western Europe.

★ ★ ★

These recommendations and others were made to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday in a report by a group headed by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont.

The group toured the world's trouble spots last fall at the request of President Kennedy.

The report urged a more realistic U. S. approach to a changing Europe and a greater contribution to the defense of Berlin by the NATO countries.

FEAR ISOLATION

Failing to require western Europe to pay its share of cold war costs might drive this country into another period of isolation, the report said.

Mansfield and Sens. J. Calbet Boggs, R-Del., Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., and former Sen. Benjamin A. Smith, D-Mass., stopped first at Berlin before going to Asia on their survey mission.

Republicans have controlled Congress for 56 years and Democrats 44 years during the past century .

Father on Plane, Wife, 5 Others Die in Car

FLINT (AP) — Minutes after seeing their father off at Flint's Bishop Airport last night, four small children met death along with their mother and a baby sitter in the twisted wreckage of the family car.

Killed in the crash at M21 and Morrish Road in Clayton Township, six miles west of here, were Mrs. Agnes Pobocik, 32, of suburban Mount Morris; her three daughters, Mary, 4, Karen, 3, and Gerry Lee, 2; her son Andrew A., 3 months; and the family baby sitter Shirley Jean Dart, 20, of nearby Swartz Creek.

State police said the Pobocik family was returning from the airport where their father had just boarded a plane for Washington, D. C.

Officers said the father, Albert, is a salesman and apparently was to attend a sales meeting in Washington today.

SLICED IN HALF

The Pobocik car was sheared in half by the other auto, driven by Leonard C. Baldwin, 29, of Breckenridge.

A passenger in the Baldwin car, Leslie Aylsworth, 24, of Owosso, suffered facial cuts and bruises and was reported in fair condition in McLaren Hospital here.

Police said the Pobocik car, driven by Mrs. Pobocik and going north on Morrish Road, apparently went through an M21 stop sign. It was struck broadside by the Baldwin car.

Baldwin and his other passengers, his wife Elizabeth, 31; William Bowen, 24; and his wife Bonnie, 19, of Breckenridge, and Aylsworth's wife Edith, 22, were treated at the hospital and released.

ICY PATTERN — This was the scene on the shore of White Rock Lake in Dallas recently as high winds and subfreezing temperatures combined to form this icy display. Three arctic blasts in 12 days moved into Texas causing closing of freeways in some cities and alarm to the Rio Grande Valley citrus growers. Note the ice-clad picnic table in the far background.

Throat Cleared, Roddy May Outdo Lassie

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — For 20 years Roddy McDowall held the dubious distinction of running a poor third to his famed costars in "Lassie Come Home."

Both Lassie and Elizabeth Taylor went on to greater triumphs.

Roddy, his prominent Adam's apple bobbing in apprehension, went into decline. Perhaps tailspin would be a better word.

But the English-born child star proved his pluck through a series of screen misadvantures to emerge as a broadway star. And prospects are good that he may yet outdistance that jaded old Collie and the estranged Mrs. Eddie Fisher.

At the moment, he is working in two of the most expensive pictures ever filmed, "Cleopatra" and "The Greatest Story Ever Told" — simultaneously. No other actor can make that claim.

Such contemporaries as Freddie Bartholemew, Jackie Serle and Spanky MacFarland have gone by the boards altogether.

★ ★ ★

"It's a very nice feeling to be this busy," McDowall said, still with a trace of his English accent.

He drew cruious stares from other patrons in the restaurant near Desilu Studios where "Greatest Story" is being made. And no wonder.

He wore a scraggly red beard. His unruly hair grew down over his ears and he was loaded down with cameras, a book and a variety of small satchels and bags.

PLAYS MATTHEW

"I'm playing Matthew in 'Greatest Story,'" he attested, by way of explaining his appearance. "But this week I have to shave off the beard, have my hair bleached blond and rush back to Spain for a few days of pick-up shots for 'Cleopatra.'

"Then I have to dash back here and grow my beard again for this part."

The paraphernalia also was explained.

★ ★ ★

"I'm a professional photographer," he said. "So I usually carry this equipment around with me just in case the opportunity arises to take some good pictures."

His shots of Miss Taylor — and he took more than a thousand of the beauty in Rome — have been published in national magazines.

The book proved to be a 25-year-old history of the motion pictures. Almost every page was ink stained with the autographs of great stars, both past and current.

"I'm really a nut about the old-timers," said Roddy from behind his thick spectacles. "When I'm on stage and learn that a big star from the silent era is out in the audience, I get weak in the knees."

He leafed through his book with pride, displaying signatures of hundreds of performers, including Lillian Gish and Ava Gardner when the latter signed her name as Mrs. Mickey Rooney.

★ ★ ★

It was brought to Roddy's attension that Lassie's paw print was missing fromt he book. He said nothing, but his Adam's apple bobbed once or twice.

Nuptial Rumors Stir Over Suzanne, Troy

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Suzanne Pleshette and Troy Donahue are Hollywood's hottest marriage rumor—next to Tony Curtis and Christine Kaufmann.

★ ★ ★

For months, gossip columnists have had the pretty brunette and the blond bobby-sox idol about to sneak off for Lake Tahoe or Las Vegas in a storm of wild rice.

Suzanne, loaded with talent, sex-appeal and a husky voice, isn't denying the impending marriage rumors but she vows there will be nothing sneaky.

"When it happens," says Suzy, "my parents will announce it, there will be embossed invitations and a beautiful white wedding gown."

DESTINED FOR STARDOM

Suzanne, destined for major stardom by such powers as Jack L. Warner and Alfred Hitchcock, doesn't mind being the girl friend of a bobby-sox idol.

"I sometimes get pushed and shoved by screaming females and our first premiere together was terrifying but I think it's kind of nice that other girls find Troy attractive, too.

"I do object, though, when they stamp on my feet."

★ ★ ★

Suzanne and Troy met when they costarred in "Rome Adventure." Warners signed her after that picture. Alfred Hitchcock signed her after "The Birds."

She's the first brunette in recent memory signed by Hitchcock.

It's been a big year for the one time Syracuse University coed. Last year, she was nominated for an Emmy on a "Dr. Kildare" show. MGM expects her to get another one this year for her portrayal of a dope addict on the same show. Tony Curtis chose her for his leading lady in his first production, "40 Pounds of Trouble."

HIT IN BROOKLYN

Warner Bros. has her in "Wall of Noise" with the star roles in "Youngblood Hawke" and "Sex and the Single Girl" coming up.

She's already a star in Brooklyn.

When "Rome Adventure" played there, the Brooklyn Paramount marquee had this message emblazoned: "Suzanne Pleshetts Emerges as a Full-Fledged star."

Manager of the theater was a proud papa—Eugene Pleshette.

Radio Sub Says Godfrey Anxious to Return to TV

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Peter Lind Hayes—back substituting for Arthur Godfrey on radio eight weeks a year—claims that the big redhead is a sweetheart of a guy now, never once irascible . . . and just burning to get back into TV on a regular show.

WILSON

"He always was nice to us"—Pete was speaking of his lovely wife Mary Hearly—"but when I worked for him in '58, I never got to see him . . .

"Now I do. He's lost a lot of weight. He's in great health."

"Really great health?" I asked.

"If you don't think so," exclaimed Peter, "go ask his 83-year-old mother!"

Peter tapes radio interviews at CGS for the Godfrey show and marvels at the change in radio. Once when he was a comic on Dinah Shore radio show, he carried around pages and pages of paper, or script. "Now," he says, "we often work without a scrap of paper!"

Hayes enjoys telling how the late comedian Joe Frisco, his good friend, liked to tell him he fouled up the ether.

★ ★ ★

"Pete, I heard you on that Godfrey spot—and it was p-p-pitiful," stuttered Joe.

"But it's mailbox money, Joe," Hayes answered. "I get paid just to stand by; in short, I get paid to stay off."

"Y-y-y-yeah, well, I heard you—and you sh-sh-should be getting more m-m-m-money to stay off!" exploded Frisco.

David Susskind swears that when Robert Preston and the "All the Way Home" movie company invaded the South, the members of the crew wrought great havoc among the hearts of the Knoxville lovelies. "Thanks to their impact," says Susskind "many a weeping southern belle is still drawling with a northern accent."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Judy Garland came back from her New Orleans rendezvous or reconciliation—or both or neither—with her estranged husband, Sid Luft, and began rehearsing at the St. Regis Roof for her TV special. She wouldn't talk! . . . Somerset Maugham, now 90, is allegedly beginning another novel ("my last"), another "Of Human Bondage," he feels. Kim Novak thinks she should play it (even before he writes it) . . . Guess who met who at Sardi's! Vaughn Meader and Jackie Kennedy's sister, the Princess Radziwill! Vaughn was thrilled . . . By the way, Meader's hassling with a Buffalo promoter who wanted to cancel a "First Family" contract. Meader announced he would show up—and expect to be paid in full . . . Hope Lange's the modern one. While in Europe filming "Love Is a Ball," Hope had dinner with her ex-husband, Don Murray, and his new wife, Betty Johnson.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A little boy stood at the bottom of the escalator, watching the moving hand rail. "Anything wrong?' someone asked. Nope,' the boy said, I'm waitin' for my gum to come back.'" (George Fuermann, Houston Post.)

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "She was wearing one of those upswept hairdos—trouble was, I kept wanting to ask her where she'd swept it up from." (L. S. McCandless).

EARL'S PEARLS: "To be a success," says George Kirby, "you must quickly get ahead—but not a big one."

After hearing a girl singer who claimed to be French, Comic Rip Taylor said, "The only thing French about her was that she had deGaulle to sing" . . . That's earl, brother.

U.S. Expects Answer Soon on N-Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States expects to know within the next week or so whether there is any serious possibility of getting an agreement with the Soviet Union on a nuclear weapons test ban.

Further clues on the chances for a treaty and on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's objectives may be forthcoming with the return from Moscow today of U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler.

Kohler is bringing with him a new message for President Kennedy from the Soviet leader, presumably concerning the current test ban talks. They resume Tuesday in New York, with U.S., Soviet and British negotiators participating.

Khrushchev already has removed a major barrier to serious bargaining by telling Kennedy in an exchange of letters that he would accept two or three on-site inspections a year in the Soviet Union as part of a system to prevent cheating.

The United States and Britain have been asking the Soviet Union to answer a number of questions about how their proposed inspection system would work, such as the amount of free movement the checkers would have.

Soviet officials have been tight-lipped so far.

In a new move to spur the lagging negotiations, Kennedy on Saturday ordered a temporary suspension of underground nuclear testing in Nevada. He coupled this action with a warning that the United States will never again agree to a long unpoliced ban on tests.

"We are maintaining the capability and readiness to resume our test program at any time," the President's statement said.

This declaration no doubt was a reminder to the Soviets that the United States intends not to be caught short again—as it was in September 1961 when the U.S.S.R. broke a three-year unwritten moratorium by resumed testing.

The prospects for a test ban treaty hinge heavily on the issue of underground tests. Blasts in the atmosphere are relatively easy to detect. But without on-the-spot inspection there is no certain way to distinguish between earth shock caused by underground nuclear blasts and those due to earthquakes or other natural causes.

Kennedy's move also possibly was designed to counter Soviet propaganda against the U.S.-British position. The Soviet theme has been that the Soviet Union has cleared the way to agreement but that the West is balking. "Two or three" on-the-spot inspections are a sufficient number, the Communist party newspaper Pravda said over the weekend.

In a radio and television interview Sunday night Secretary of State Dean Rusk reiterated the U.S. view that two or three on-site inspections are not enough. There also must be effective arrangements for policing such an agreement, he said, particularly in the vast Asian land mass.

The Western allies have insisted that eight to 10 inspections are necessary as safeguards against clandestine testing.

Kennedy's announcement that U.S. underground tests are being suspended got a mixed reaction on Capitol Hill.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, said in a statement "it is obvious he is willing to do all he can to cooperate and to bring about a favorable environment for the talks."

Sen. John O. Pastare, D-R.I., chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, said "I'm sure the President knows exactly what he is doing."

The ranking Republican member of the Atomic Committee, Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, said "if the suspension of tests will not adversely affect our security they can be suspended a while." Hickenlooper added, however, that he saw nothing new in the Soviet position.

Another Republican member of the committee, Rep. Craig Hosmer of California, said "the logical extension of this is you can lock up the Pentagon and send the armed forces on vacation for the duration of the test ban talks."

Military Trial of 15 Snarled in France

PARIS (UPI)—A military trial of 15 men accused of trying to assassinate President Charles de Gaulle opened in grim Fort de Vincennes today and promptly became snarled in legal wrangling.

Defense attorneys charged the court was not competent to try the accused and after 10 minutes the session adjourned until this afternoon.

Only one of the defendants was present. Eight others, protesting against the court, refused to leave their prison cells. Six others still are at large and will be tried in absentia.

More than 500 seats in Congress have been held by representatives of minor parties at one time or another.

Missouri Town Without Heat

Broken Line Causes Emergency in Cold

SEDALIA, Mo. (AP)—Most of this city of 25,000 population was without heat today because of a broken gas pipeline, and it was bitterly cold.

The temperature plunged to near zero after the 12-inch line broke late yesterday at the edge of town. A scond break occurred about midnight nine miles west of the city. This also cut off gas to Lamonte, a small town 12 miles west of Sedalia.

An emergency crew of 300 workmen, recruited from all over western Missouri, expected to restore gas service late today. But it would be a tedious process of testing and relighting pilot lights at each of 8,500 connections.

Abut 20 buildings with alternate sources of heat were opened to the public and many persons moved in to escape their cold homes. Others took refuge in nearby towns.

Hospitals switched to standby oil heat and their patients remained comfortable.

All schools, major plants and many retail business firms were to remain closed today.

Police and civil defense workers used 15 mobile radio units to provide help and transportation for the needy.

Mayor L. L. Studer declared a state of emergency, giving the civil defense power to take any required action.

GM Income Tops in History

'Russians Have Heavily Armed Forces in Cuba'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has placed four heavily armed combat groups in Cuba and Soviet pilots there are flying MIG fighters capable of carrying nuclear weapons, says Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The continued presence of Soviet armed forces on the island is a "matter of real concern" to the United States, Rusk said last night. But he hewed to the administration line that the Red forces essentially are defensive in nature.

The best U.S. intelligence guess, Rusk said in a radio and television interview is that there are no nuclear warheads in Cuba.

He added: "We have had some indication from the Soviet Union" that at least portions of the combat forces and missiles "will be removed in due course."

Rusk gave no hint that there is any U.S. deadline for Soviet troop removal from Cuba. He said there has been some "outtraffic" in recent weeks and declared: "It must be our policy that penetration of this hemisphere by a Communist regime from outside is unacceptable to this hemisphere."

★ ★ ★

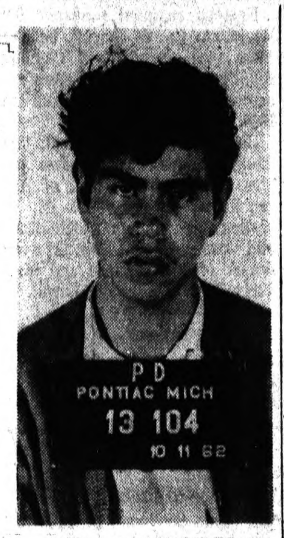
MIG fighters have been entering Cuba for many months, Rusk said. He also confirmed reports that Soviet pilots are training Cubans to fly them.

'REAL CONCERN'

Commenting on the Soviet combat groups on the island, Rusk described them as "relatively small" but, nonetheless, "a matter of some real concern."

Several Congress members, primarily Republicans, contend Soviet military power in Cuba is increasing dangerously. The situation was the subject of a Senate inquiry last week and another Senate probe will be held shortly.

Rusk is to testify today on Soviet military activity in Cuba before the House Foreign Affairs Committee.



PAUL A. GONZALES

Teen Escapee Sought in Area

Area police today are seeking a 17-year-old Pontiac youth who escaped from the Waterloo State Prison Camp near Jackson last night, kidnaped the camp's athletic director and forced him to drive to Pontiac.

The escapee was identified by police as Paul A. Gonzales, 299 W. Princeton Ave., sentenced to prison for 1½ to 15 years for breaking and entering the South Side Pool Room, 161 South Boulevard, in October, 1962.

★ ★ ★

Gonzales abducted Ralph Heiake, 62, of Grass Lake. Heiake was not harmed.

Heiake was released by Gonzales a few minutes before midnight in the area of Franklin Boulevard and Colorado Street.

Gonzales fled on foot after taking $13 from Heiake's wallet.

British Fate in Market Eyed Today

From Our News Wires

BRUSSELS — The European Common Market Council of Ministers gathered today to decide whether to break off negotiations with Britain—a move that would have a major impact on economic relationships in the western world.

A series of top-level meetings among officials of the countries involved was under way this morning in an effort to find some way to keep the talks going.

The long British struggle to enter the Common Market apparently rested precariously in the hands of the West Germans.

They reportedly planned to suggest a compromise that would postpone the decision.

OSLO (UPI)—An Oslo newspaper said today French President Charles de Gaulle has offered Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a "grand design" deal including American military withdrawal from Europe in exchange for demilitarization of the Soviet satellites.

"The governments of the Western countries have now been informed of de Gaulle's plans for a European new order and they have reacted with stupifaction," the paper said.

Home in Slain Woman's Neighborhood Lit Up at Night

Guard Against Sniper

Fear Stalks Bloomfield Twp.

By DON FERMOYLE

Frightened Bloomfield Township residents — fearing the return of an unknown sniper who shot and killed a woman there Friday night — are keeping their curtains drawn and homes well lighted outside at night.

★ ★ ★

Children in the Long Lake - Squirrel roads area of the township are not allowed far from their homes. Police maintain a two-car patrol of the neighborhood.

Police Chief Norman Dehnke said today that no good clues were uncovered over the weekend in the slaying of Mrs. Mary Godfrey, 38-year-old mother of five.

Mrs. Godfrey was shot shortly after 9 p.m. Friday while making coffee in the kitchen of her home at 983 Dursley Road.

THIRD INCIDENT

Township police said a sniper fired into homes in the area with a pellet gun on two occasions in recent weeks. No one was hurt in the other attacks.

Dehnke believes Mrs. Godfrey was shot by a "mentally deranged" boy about 14 years old.

She was struck in the head by a 22-caliber bullet fired through the kitchen window.

Powder burns on the window indicate the killer was standing close to the home when he fired, police said.

Dehnke said about 15 22-caliber rifles and pistols confiscated from homes in the neighborhood were being checked with the fatal bullet today at the state police crime laboratory in Lansing.

Although township police have received several "tips" on the mysterious sniper, Dehnke said there was nothing new on the case today.

Mrs. Walter E. Foraker, whose home at 982 Dursley Road is directly across from the slain woman's residence, said fear is evident in the neighborhood.

LOOKS LIKE BROADWAY

"It's lit up like Broadway at night," said Mrs. Foraker, explaining that most residents in the area keep outside floodlights turned on all night long.

"Even the children are scared," she added. "My 10-year-old son wouldn't open the drapes in his bedroom when he got up this morning."

Another neighbor, Mrs. Allen Flitcraft, 952 Dursley Road, said

No Trouble's Expected as Negro Enrolls Today

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina's top police officer described the situation as well in hand as Clemson College prepared for the enrollment today of its first Negro student.

State Law Enforcement Division agents, in civilian clothes under Chief J. P. Strom, were supplemented by a force of uniformed state highway patrolmen.

Harvey Gantt, 20, the Negro architectural student whose application to transfer from Iowa State University was upheld by federal courts, planned to enroll in the afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Plans called for Gantt to be accompanied to the campus by his father, Christopher Gantt, a civilian mechanic at the Charleston Navy Yard, and Matthew J. Perry, one of Gantt's attorneys.

★ ★ ★

Perry said he understood the party would come under surveillance" as they approached the campus. Asked if this meant protection by SLED agents and highway patrolmen, Perry said "yes."

DAY TO ENROLL

Today was the day for transfer students, such as Gantt, and new students to enroll. Tuesday they will under go orientation and Wednesday they will register for classes, which begin Friday.

These new students number about 140. The college has an enrollment of about 4,300.

The U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals on Jan. 21 directed Clemson to admit Gantt, then denied Clemson's request for a stay pending a U.S. Supreme Court appeal.

Gov. Donald S. Russell, the clergy, and business and civic groups have pledged support to the Clemson administration and called for peace and order.

Slim 'Slats' DeBats Now a Mere 300

Meet the "shadow."

William (Slats) DeBats, Daily Press behemoth slipped under 300 pounds today and now tips the beam at a neat and slyph-like 299¾.

"Shucks," said he. "Substantially, I weigh like other people. There are millions and millions of Americans somewhere in the 200s and I'm just one of 'em.

★ ★ ★

"But don't get me wrong. Just because I knocked off 29 pounds from that original 329 doesn't mean I'm through. I still intend to ease back to the low 200s."

"Oh, it'll take a bit of doing," said the big boy as he patted an ample and substantial paunch. "But, I'll make it. I've got it to give, and the old fight and determination are at work.

Report Sales, Net Greatest in Firm History

$1.46-Billion Returns Beat Previous High in 1955 by $270 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. reported today the largest sales and net income in its history.

GM said its 1962 income is estimated at $1.45 billion. Its previous high net income, in 1955, totaled $1.19 billion, a difference of $270 million.

Sales last year were estimated at $14.6 billion. The previous high was $12.7 billion in 1960.

The company's net income was $566 million more than in 1961, when it totaled $893 million.

Sales last year were $3.2 billion more than the $11.4 billion registerd two years ago.

Sales of cars and trucks in 1962, the company said, totaled 5,239,000 units, 4 per cent above the previous record year of 1955 and 30 per cent higher than the 4,037,000 units sold in 1961.

Net income is the figure arrived at after money is put aside for taxes and other things. GM said U.S. and foreign taxes for 1962 will total an estimated $1.48 billion compared with $875 million in 1961.

RECORD DIVIDENDS

Dividends last year also were a record amount—$3 a share being paid to holders of common stock.

The company said the $850 million in common stock dividends is the largest amount ever paid by an industrial firm.

In 1961, dividends of $2.50 per share were paid on GM common stock. That was GM's previous high.

Earnings per share of common stock last year were $5.10, of which $2.10 of each share was reinvested in the business. The reinvestment compared to 61 cents per share in 1961.

That same year GM dividends reached the then record total of $707 million, while earnings per share of common stock were $3.11.

For the fourth quarter ended last Dec. 31, GM's net income was estimated at $497 million, compared with $364 million for the same period in 1961.

That income amounted to $1.74 a share for the last quarter, wheras it figured out to $1.27 per share in the previous fourth quarter.

Southgate Beauty Named Junior Miss

Michigan's Junior Miss for 1963 is a 17-year-old, brown eyed beauty from Southgate.

The pride of the downriver Detroit community is Diane Girard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Girard of 1784 Michigan Boulevard.

Diane won the state title Saturday in all-day competition over 23 other high school seniors, who represented a cross section of Michigan in typifying the ideal American teen-ager.

Nearly 900 persons attended the finals pageant held at Pontiac Northern High School.

Charles Brouillet, chairman of the pageant, sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce said, "There is no doubt this was the best show ever."

The first runner-up in the pageant was Susan Kelly, Detroit's Junior Miss.

She and the second runner-up both are from Oakland County.

LOCAL GIRL SECOND

Pontiac's Junior Miss, Susan Pill, 17, was the second runner-up.

Susan Kelly, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Kelly of 1929 Woodbury Drive, Royal Oak.

Susan Pill is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pill of 2401 E. Hammond Lake Drive, Pontiac.

Diane, a senior at Lincoln Park High School, performed in a baton twirling and dance act in the talent portion of the pageant.

For Diane the title meant a $1,000 scholarship to the college of her choice.

She has a B plus average in high school.

She also was awarded a stereo

Machinists OK Lockheed Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Machinists at Lockheed Aircraft Corp. voted overwhelmingly to approve a new labor contract providing for increased wages, along with vacation and insurance benefits.

★ ★ ★

But the pact, approved at mass meetings throughout the country yesterday, has no union shop clause — the issue that was a chief stumbling block during eight months of intermittent negotiation.

The International Association of Machinists, AFL - CIO, said the three-year contract won the support of 85 per cent of 4,000 members employed at the Burbank plant near here.

About 21,000 members in plants from Hawaii to Cape Canaveral approved contract terms reached in talks that ended at midnight Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Instead of the union shop sought by the union, the company agreed to suggest to new employes that they join the union.

★ ★ ★

In addition, the contract provides that "new employes will be introduced to the shop stewards who shall, on company time, discuss with them the advantages of union membership."

28.3-CENT INCREASE

A spokesman said wage provisions in the contract will give workers increases of 28.3 cents an hours over the three-year period.

Included is an immediate pay hike of five to eight cents hourly, retroactive to last July 23, six to eight cents for 1963 and 6-9 for 1964. Average wage for Lockheed machinists is now $2.88 an hour.

About 1,460 workers will get additional benefits of three to 15 cents hourly because so - called pay inequities under the old contract.

Included in the agreement is a joint union-company plan to sponsor steward training schools on labor law and grievances.

Three - week vacations will be given after 10 years service, instead of 12. Employes will get four weeks vacation after 25 years and all workers will get the friday after Thanksgiving as a paid holiday.

SET TO STRIKE

In Las Vegas, Nev., Five hundred office workers were set to strike today at the Nevada atomic test site with the hope that other employes won't cross their picket lines.

"We're going to shut the place down," said Frank Morton, international vice president of Office Employes International, AFL-CIO.

The office workers voted Sunday to strike because the AEC ordered their daily subsistence pay cut from $7.50 to $5 with travel pay eliminated.

★ ★ ★

They are employes of the Reynolds Electrical and Engineering Co., Inc., logistics firm for the site.

★ ★ ★

At the Boeing Co. in Seattle, a Taft-Hartley injunction has delayed for at least 90 days a machinists strike set for last Saturday.

★ ★ ★

A union official there said the Lockheed agreement would not affect negotiations with Boeing.

'1962 Most Successful in U.S. Space History'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The past year was the most successful in U.S. space history, President Kennedy told Congress today.

And Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, reported the United States "generated a greater rate of space progress" than Russia.

He said the United States put more than 50 satellite payloads into orbit during the year, compared with 15 for Russia.

The annual reports shed light on secret Air Force activities in space, stating "space capcule recovery is foremost among techniques being developed."

They also disclosed exciting plans for use of weather satellites to track icebergs, spot forest fires, survey ice and snow and even trail clouds of locusts.

INCREASINGLY EVIDENT

Kennedy said that benefits of the peaceful space program, both in its civilian and military aspects, are becoming increasingly evident. He told Congress:

★ ★ ★

"Not only have the horizons of scientific knowledge been lifted, but the resulting international cooperation and worldwide dissemination of knowledge and understanding have strengthened the world image of this country as a force for peace and freedom.

"The economic benefits of our national space program are also revealing themselves at an increasing rate . . . in both numbers and complexity of space projects, the past year was the most successful in our brief but active space history."

Johnson said that "based upon available information, it can be concluded that the records of two countries were closely similar in regard to the ratios of space successes to space failure."

He said that at the end of the year the Russians were still ahead in size and total of weights placed in orbit, in engine thrust and in development of the art of joining vehicles in space.

The president's report outlined weather bureau and National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans to use Tiros weather-watching systems as an operational weather satellite called TOSS (for Tiros Operational Satellite System).

Color Bar Drops for Met's Star

LAUREL, Miss. (AP) — The color bar dropped in Leontyne Price's Mississippi hometown when the renowned soprano gave a benefit concert for the Negro church where she made her first public appearance.

★ ★ ★

She received two standing ovations Sunday from an audience that overflowed into the aisles, onto the stage and into another room where her dazzling voice was piped in.

Negro and white spectators applauded and cheered the 34-year-old daughter of a sawmill worker who became a Metropolitan Opera star.

Miss Price stayed long after the concert signing hundreds of autographs.

PARENTS IN 1ST ROW

"If I am accepted as an artist," she said, "then I have said a great deal for my people. In some minute way. I am trying to speak for a good life for my people."

In the first row were Miss Prices' father, 81, and her mother, 67, a midwife who has helped deliver over 900 babies.

About 2,000 persons flocked from 10 states to hear the concert of operatic arias, hymns and spirituals in the Negro school auditorium. White lawyers, doctors, educators and musicians came from every part of Mississippi—as did many Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Capt. James Sellers, 41, who patrolled the school with two other officers, said it was the only integrated event he could remember in Laurel in his lifetime—except for one previous performance by Miss Price.

Laurel is a town of 27,000. As a girl, Miss Price sang in the choir and played the piano for the St. Paul Methodist church across the street from her home. Her mother has sung in the choir for 47 years.

Scholle Blasts Romney Attack

Replies to Criticism of Union Publication

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle has blasted Gov. George Romney for what he terms "the misuse of his (Romney's) office to recklessly label everyone who disagrees with him as untruthful."

★ ★ ★

Scholle's criticism was in reply to Romney's attack on Michigan's union publications at the Michigan Press Association meeting in East Lansing Saturday.

Romney, in pledging an all-out campaign for adoption of the proposed new state constitution, charged that the Democratic party opposes the document because of "rule-or-ruin, all-or-nothing veto bloc leadership."

The Republican governor added that union publications in Michigan have been nothing more than an arm of the official Democratic party and that the labor press usually takes the stand that it is not the public press and should be left to pursue what it considers labor's aims.

★ ★ ★

Scholle, in answering Romney's charges yesterday, said the governor "is doing a disservice to efforts toward full and open discussion of the pros and cons of the proposed state constitution by seeking to intimidate with irresponsible attacks on their integrity all who disagree with him."

★ ★ ★

Britain Eyes Borneo Threat

LONDON (AP)—Britain and the Philippines opened talks on Southeast Asia defense problems today against the dark backdrop of a new threat to British North Borneo by Indonesian volunteers.

★ ★ ★

Britain sent a unit trained as parachutists into the protectorate of Brunei, a small territory in North Borneo where an uprising was put down last month, said a military spokesman in Singapore.

★ ★ ★

Reports here said another 2,000 British troops were placed on alert, ready to fly to North Borneo to meet any action by Indonesia. About 3,000 seasoned British troops are there now.

★ ★ ★

While Indonesia denied that its so-called volunteers are massing on the border area of North Borneo, it sent its army commander on a tour of the frontier of adjoining Indonesian Borneo. He is Maj. Gen. 'Achmad Jani. North Borneo is composed of the sultanate of Brunei and the territories of Sarawak and North Borneo.

Bloomfield Hills Site Choice for New Church

BIRMINGHAM — A nine-acre site at Cranbrook Road and Woodward Avenue in Bloomfield Hills has been chosen as the location for the new Congregational Church of Birmingham.

Purchase of the site, according to church officials, has been approved by members of the congregation.

The site, which also will be the location of the church's Christian Education facilities, is at the southwest corner of the intersection.

Occupancy of the new building is planned for the fall of 1964.

★ ★ ★

The $350,000 building project started in 1962.

The present Congregational Church has been in its present location at 388 N. Woodward Ave., Birmingham, for 10 years.

In the next few months, the church's design coordinating committee will work with representatives of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, local architects, to complete plans for the new church facilities.

The nine-member commission would attempt to establish whether it is technically possible to bring Britain into the European Economic Community and whether its membership would work, as de Gaulle claims, to the disadvantage of the present members — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Fights for Life on Golden Gate

Patrolman Needs Help Overcoming Ex-Con

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —California highway patrolman John Halligan stopped his patrol car on the Golden Gate Bridge late Saturday to check on a car parked near the north tower.

★ ★ ★

Two truck operators also had been attracted by the vehicle because cars are not permitted to stop on the scenic span.

Halligan, 39, shook the occupant who appeared to be sleeping. The man got out, handed the officer his wallet, but refused to offer further indentification.

The patrolman began a search of the car and found a loaded 22-caliber pistol and a billy club. The man suddenly bolted toward the bridge railing as though he was going to leap. Halligan pursued him.

★ ★ ★

But the man suddenly spun around, picked Halligan up bodily and forced him to the edge of the chest-high rail. The patrolman struggled for his life as the man tried to push him over into the water 275 feet below.

★ ★ ★

The tow truck operators ran to the officer's assistance, and the three men quickly overcame Halligan's assailant.

"He had me 51 per cent over the edge," the patrolman said. "I thought I was a goner."

His assailant was identified as ex-convict Henry A. Carl, 39, of Santa Clara, Calif. He was booked at San Francisco City Jail on charges of attempted murder, resisting arrest, possession of firearms by an ex-convict — and illegal parking.

Snow Pummels N.Y. Town

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — Snow-bound residents of this area east of Lake Ontario girded today for a fresh onslaught of snow and slashing winds while still bucking drifts up to 18 feet high that stranded hundreds of rural families.

★ ★ ★

The second major storm since Wednesday pummeled the city and the rest of Jefferson County yesterday as additional aid arrived to combat the snow emergency declared Saturday by city and county officials.

Highway department crews, augmented by snow -removal equipment from neighboring counties, battled in near-zero temperatures to open roads with a total of about 115 snow-fighting machines.

Winds swirled snow into billowing clouds that reduced visibility and piled drifts on roads almost as fast as plows could open them.

57 INCHES DEEP

Traffic moved in the city and on many roads, but schools here and elsewhere were closed.

Even where the snow had not drifted, the depth was 57 inches.

The weather bureau listed the accumulation here as the highest amount in the nation now, with the exception of mountain communities for which the bureau has no measurements.

Despite travel difficulties, however, one man reported that he drove the 300 miles from New York City to Watertown in 5 hours and 20 minutes yesterday.

Snowstorms and unseasonable cold plagued broad sections over the rest of the nation.

A storm swept into the lower Great Lakes region and along the western slopes of the Appalachians. Heavy snow fell in some areas and strong, westerly winds caused considerable blowing and drifting.

No immediate break in the prolonged spell of cold weather was in sight. The number of weather-related deaths since last midweek rose to 162.

BELOW ZERO

It was below zero again this morning in most of the upper Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and westward across the northern plains.

The core of the arctic air was over the Mississippi Valley from St. Louis to Duluth, Minn.

Among the coldest spots were Moline, Ill., and Lone Rock, Wis., with 24 below zero. It was the lowest temperature in Moline since Feb. 13, 1905.

Rochester, Minn., reported its 17th consecutive day of below zero readings a record. Des Moines has had 16 straight days of subzero cold.

It was -8 in Louisville, Ky., and the -12 in Chicago beat the record low of -11 for Jan. 28 set in 1885. Evansville, in southern Indiana, reported -15, a record for the date.

The icy air dipped deep into the Southland. It was near zero in parts of Tennessee and readings in the teens chilled central sections of Alabama and Georgia.

Near freezing was reported in northern Florida, with the low 30s reported along the Gulf Coast and up to the 60s in extreme southern Florida. Miami's 66 followed yesterday's high of 85, a record maximum for Jan. 27.

his driveway at home, several miles from the camp.

Heiake told police he felt a pointed object at his neck and was ordered to drive to Pontiac. He was unable to explain how Gonzales got into his car.

Heiake had telephoned his wife from the camp at about 9:30 p.m. to tell her he was on his way home.

When Heiake didn't arrive, she called the prison camp and asked if he had been delayed. This was two hours after her husband had telephoned her.

Prison officials said Gonzales was reported missing about 11 p.m. yesterday and had not been seen since shortly before 8 p.m.

A police check of Gonzales' father's home at the Princeton address failed to turn up any evidence of the son's whereabouts.

His father said he had not been contacted by his son.

Several other homes of Gonzales' friends were checked to no avail.

Gonzales was sentenced to prison Nov. 27 by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Long Talks on NY Strike Bring No Evident Progress

NEW YORK (AP)—A series of city hall mediation meetings recessed at 3:55 a.m. today with no reported progress in attempts to end this city's 52-day-old shutdown of nine major newspapers.

★ ★ ★

The mediation effort, led by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, recessed until midafternoon after three sessions totaling 13½ hours. It followed a 13-hour City Hall negotiation meeting Saturday, also with no progress reported in attempts to end a printers' strike.

The mayor gave orders to both sides not to comment for publication on any issues discussed within the meetings.

"We have an understanding," Wagner said, that we will not discuss substantive issues (with newsmen). We can only talk on procedures."

RETURN AT 3 P.M.

The publishers' representatives, union officials and a federal mediator all left City Hall within minutes of one another and all declined comment on the negotiations.

The publishers said they are scheduled to return to city hall at 3 p.m. Union officials said talks for them were set to start at 4 p.m.

Wagner reported that both sides had made sincere efforts to end the strike by Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union. "Everyone cooperated," he said. He declined comment on whether progress had been made toward reaching a settlement.

★ ★ ★

The talks resumed at noon Sunday.

"We had a long day," said federal mediator Stephen I. Schlossberg. "We're all tired."

Wagner was following the format set by the mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, who intervened in negotiations there to settle strikes that have closed down that city's two daily newspapers for 60 days.

Talks between the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild, AFL-CIO and management of the Plain Dealer and Press & News resume at 2 p.m. in the office of Mayor Ralph S. Locher.

Besides talks with the guild and the independent Teamsters Union, which also is striking the two Cleveland papers, publishers also are negotiating with 10 other unions for new contracts. The contracts of eight of those 10 unions have passed the expiration date and pacts of the other two expire this week.

★ ★ ★

The Cleveland Teamsters negotiations, being held away from City Hall, are reportedly close to a settlement. The Teamsters represent delivery drivers. Working conditions and wages are the main issues in their dispute.

A union security issue has been the stumbling block in reaching agreement on a new contract with the Cleveland Guild, which also is seeking wage increases for editorial and commercial employes. In all, more than 3,000 Cleveland newspaper people are idle due to the strike.

★ ★ ★

The New York dispute has put 20,000 newspaper people out of work.

Walter N. Thayer, New York Herald Tribune president and one of the publishers' negotiators, said in a radio interview taped Friday and broadcast Sunday night that "money is problem No. 1, 2, 3 and 4" in efforts to resolve the dispute here.

Thayer also said that the public stand taken by Bertram A. Powers, president of the printers local, was a major drawback to settlement.

'FAR OUT ON LIMB'

"I think some way has to be found to get Mr. Powers off the limb that he's on," Thayer said. "I think he's on a limb that he's gotten out on by trying to go too far, too fast. I think he realizes this at this point, and I think some means has to be found for him to get back off this (limb)."

The publishers' offer of a $10 weekly package over two years compares to a union demand for a two-year package that management says will cost $37 a week per man, including $18 in wages. Prestrike wages for printers were $141 a week for day work.

Navy Gets Set for Possible Undersea War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy is preparing for the possibility of an undersea war that could be fought during periods of surface peace and atomic stalemate.

Some naval strategists, it was learned today, think that any such war is probably well in the future because of the overwhelming superiority enjoyed by the United States in nuclear-powered submarines.

At present, the U. S. Polaris missile sub fleet is so dominant it can be used as a substitute for nearly 100 Thor and Jupiter missiles being dismantled in Italy, Turkey and Britain, as well as for the canceled Skybolt missiles.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet inferiority in submarines is technical as well as numerical. Navy intelligence has indicated that Russia has no subs that could fire missiles from beneath the surface like the Polaris, and none that could fire missiles more than 350 miles after surfacing.

★ ★ ★

But the Russians recently have been giving increasing evidence that, if they lost several years in the submarine race, they now are more than determined to catch up.

Trading Is Active

Auto Profits Stimulate Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market resumed its advance early today under the additional stimulus of record profits and sales for General Motors. Trading was active.

Gains of most key stocks were fractional, and there were scattered losses. The market was continuing a "rolling" advance in which buying has switched from group to group for the past six weeks.

GM touched 63, another historic high, after opening at 62½ on a block of 6,300 shares.

★ ★ ★

The investment quality of the market also was reflected by activity and strength in American Telephone, which rose a point.

Steels were barely higher on balance amid reports that hedge buying against a possible steel strike this summer was spreading slowly.

Other auto shares rose irregularly, Ford losing a fraction, Chrysler gaining about a point and American Motors holding steady.

★ ★ ★

IBM pushed forward more than a point in a renewed recovery drive.

Korvette was in demand, jumping 1⅛ to 32⅞ on a big opener of 20,000 shares.

Prices were irregular and most changes were narrow on the American Stock Exchange. Gainers included Occidental Petroleum, Giannini Controls, and Aurora Plastics. Aerojet-General advanced more than a point.

Kennedy Flies Back From Virginia Weekend

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy returned to the White House by helicopter today after a weekend with his family at his Glen Ora estate near Middleburg.

The President, who went to Middleburg Saturday, returned without his family. Despite frigid temperatures, he carried his overcoat as he walked briskly from the helicopter to his office.

Barbers in France and England performed minor surgery as late as the 18th century.

Cuba Claims Spies Nabbed

Says 2 U. S. Rings Plotted to Kill Raul

HAVANA (UPI) —The Castro government claimed yesterday it had broken up two American spy rings plotting to kill Raul Castro and foment internal uprisings as distraction for a massive invasion.

A government communique charged the espionage networks were operated by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) from Miami and the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay.

The CIA in Washington declined to comment on the report and the Department of Defense said it knew of no CIA operations from Guantanamo.

A large number of persons were arrested and a cache of weapons and explosives buried near the naval base was confiscated, the government said.

NEARLY ALL CUBANS

Those arrested apparently were all Cubans except for four Jamaicans.

The communique said four "main links" with the CIA were among those captured. It gave the names of 12 persons arrested, including two women.

In addition, it said the government seized a list with the names of 36 other persons involved in the plots.

The total number of arrests was not specified, however.

The separate spy networks both operated in Oriente Province at Cuba's eastern end, according to the communique.

It said the immediate objectives of the groups was to "get all available information about movements, the arrival and departure of all ships and the promotion of the activities of the counterrevolutionary bands in the country."

The statement said one band had twice brought arms into Oriente Province.

School Burns in State City

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Fire roared through Central School early today with flames lighting the Grand Haven sky and sparks flying more than 100 feet into the air.

Oldest school building in the city, the three-story wood frame structure houses some 30 classrooms for pupils from kindergarten through grade six. It shared space with Grand Haven Junior High School in a near-downtown block.

The fire apparently broke out about 6:30 a.m.

Observers said a north wind apparently was keeping the blaze away from the junior high school but was carrying sparks over a section of older homes.

2 Red Soldiers Flee

BERLIN (AP)—A sergeant and a corporal of the East German Army escaped to West Berlin during the night, bringing along their weapons, West Berlin police reported today. The uniformed pair came through barbed wire border fortifications in the north of the city.

Urge Increase in Red Trade

Senators Back Cutting W. Europe Troop List

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A group of senators has recommended that the United States consider increasing its nonstrategic trade with the Communist bloc and withdrawing some U. S. troops from western Europe.

★ ★ ★

These recommendations and others were made to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday in a report by a group headed by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont.

The group toured the world's trouble spots last fall at the request of President Kennedy.

The report urged a more realistic U. S. approach to a changing Europe and a greater contribution to the defense of Berlin by the NATO countries.

FEAR ISOLATION

Failing to require western Europe to pay its share of cold war costs might drive this country into another period of isolation, the report said.

Mansfield and Sens. J. Calbet Boggs, R-Del., Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., and former Sen. Benjamin A. Smith, D-Mass., stopped first at Berlin before going to Asia on their survey mission.

Republicans have controlled Congress for 56 years and Democrats 44 years during the past century.

Father on Plane, Wife, 5 Others Die in Car

FLINT (AP) — Minutes after seeing their father off at Flint's Bishop Airport last night, four small children met death along with their mother and a baby sitter in the twisted wreckage of the family car.

★ ★ ★

Killed in the crash at M21 and Morrish Road in Clayton Township, six miles west of here, were Mrs. Agnes Pobocik, 32, of suburban Mount Morris; her three daughters, Mary, 4, Karen, 3, and Gerry Lee, 2; her son Andrew A., 3 months; and the family baby sitter Shirley Jean Dart, 20, of nearby Swartz Creek.

Officers said the father, Albert, is a salesman and apparently was to attend a sales meeting in Washington today.

The Pobocik car was sheared in half by the other auto, driven by Leonard C. Baldwin, 29, of Breckenridge.

A passenger in the Baldwin car, Leslie Aylsworth, 24, of Owosso, suffered facial cuts and bruises and was reported in fair condition in McLaren Hospital here.

Police said the Pobocik car, driven by Mrs. Pobocik and going north on Morrish Road, apparently went through an M21 stop sign. It was struck broadside by the Baldwin car.

Baldwin and his other passengers, his wife Elizabeth, 31; William Bowen, 24; and his wife Bonnie, 19, of Breckenridge, and Aylsworth's wife Edith, 22, were treated at the hospital and released.
