Egypt Suggests U.N. Form Body to Study Dispute

Rejects Western Plan for International Control of Canal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) — Egypt urged the U.N. Security Council today to establish a "negotiating body of reasonable size" to strive for a peaceful settlement of the Suez Canal crisis.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi, in his first address to the 11-nation council on the canal controversy, at the same time rejected the Anglo-French resolution for U.N. endorsement of the Western plan for international control of the waterway.

Fawzi, speaking in the presence of the U. S., British, French, Soviet, Belgian and Yugoslav foreign ministers, suggested the proposed private talks be guided by the basic principle of "guaranteeing for all and for all time the freedom of navigation in the Suez Canal."

Fawzi carefully left the door open to hush-hush talks on the dispute in a 24-page speech defining Egypt's sovereign rights in the canal. He branded the 15-nation London conference an "ultimatum" and asserted "Egypt's economy is as sound as ever, which is a fact as real and as unshakable as anything can be."

'Threat to Prosperity'

Humphrey Raps Dems 'Easy Way'

DETROIT (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said today the Democrats' record and their campaign promises "are filled with concessions to the easy way which will destroy continuing prosperity."

"They present a glaring contradiction," he said in a speech prepared for the Economic Club of Detroit.

"They cannot be for the principal of sound money and all that it means to continuing prosperity while they are against the things that make sound money."

"The record of their past and their promises for the future are filled with concessions to the easy way which will destroy continuing prosperity . . .

"This is the policy of deliberate inflation and must result in a return to a budget unbalanced by several billion dollars with all of the inflationary pressures that would create."

Humphrey said recent Democratic administrations had deliberately fostered a policy of "wicked inflation" during which, he said, the value of the dollar was cut in half and the cost of living doubled.

He said there is much talk currently of the cost of living has reached a new high, but that in the 1939-52 period "there were 30-yes 30 — separate times when new record highs in the cost of living were set and the cost of things for living rose from $1 to $1.92."

"The cost of these same things today is at a record high at $1.96. But the real point is that of the total increase of 96% cents over the whole period, 92 cents came during the 13 years under the inflationary policies of the previous administration as compared with only 4% cents in nearly four years under the stabilizing policies of the administration now in power."

"They call me 'Give-'em-hell Harry,'" he said. "I don't give 'em hell, I just tell the truth on them and they think it's hell."

Truman charged the Eisenhower administration is a "government by default," in which "nobody takes responsibility."

"They call me 'Give-'em-hell Harry,'" he said. "I don't give 'em hell, I just tell the truth on them and they think it's hell."

Truman had kind words for congressional candidate Paul Sutton, who he said would "do a job you can be proud of" if sent to Washington.

IN DEBT TO PARTY
He repeated remarks made at a Friday night dinner in Detroit, where he said he feels a "debt of gratitude" to the Democratic party.

Accompanied by Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart and Sutton, Truman left South Oakland Democratic headquarters at 10:50 a.m.

1st Game Victor to Face Larsen in 5th Contest

Yanks Favored to Win, Barber Well-Rested as Fair, Cool Day Seen

NEW YORK (INS) — The Dodgers and Yankees began their 1956 world series all over again today with the Yanks calling on the hero of their opening day script, Sal Maglie last Wednesday morale.

Maglie last Wednesday put Brooklyn ahead to stay until yesterday, when the Yankees evened the best-of-seven series at two games apiece with a 6-to-2 victory before 69,705 fans in Yankee Stadium.

Now the 39-year-old cast-off of the Giants and Indians was summoned, with four good days' rest, to work in the enemy's camp and oppose another right-hander in Don Larsen (11-5).

Fair and cool was the forecast for the nationally televised fifth game, with the Yankees favored to win.

Maglie allowed nine hits, walked four and had a year's high of 10 strikeouts when he beat Ford, 6 to 3, eight days after his memorable no-hitter against Philadelphia. In between he pitched the Dodgers into the National League lead to stay.

This was the Barber's fourth series start. He lost to Allie Reynolds in the fourth game of the 1951 series and went seven innings without decision against the Indians two years ago.

Larsen, the September hotshot of the Yankee staff, couldn't hold a 6-0 lead starting the second game at Ebbets Field Friday. He was kayaked and charged with four runs on four walks and a hit in 1 1/2 innings. The big right-hander's only other series appearance was a four-inning start, and defeat, in the fourth game last year.

In that second game, which Don Newcombe started, Don Bessent got credit for the victory, and as result manager Walt Alton will have Bessent available behind Maglie today or if needed behind Newcombe tomorrow.

Tomorrow's game returns to Ebbets Field where the Dodger hitting power is more dangerous with the shorter left field fence.

Total attendance for the four games is now 214,378 with another crowd near 70,000 expected today.

Crash Injuries Fatal in Saturday Collision

Govett H. Edsall, 30, of Bloomfield Township, died Saturday afternoon at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of severe injuries suffered that morning in an auto accident. He was thrown out of his car when it went off the road and struck a tree after glancing off another vehicle.

Police said Edsall apparently drove through a red light at a high rate of speed and lost control.

FPC to Hear Gas Arguments

Panhandle Co. Wants to Stop Service Into Detroit Area

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Federal Power Commission today has agreed to hear arguments by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co., which wants to stop serving Detroit with 125 million cubic feet of natural gas a day.

The FPC also has agreed to allow Panhandle to intervene in a case in which American Louisiana Pipe Line Co., major new supplier of Detroit gas, seeks to expand its capacity for delivering gas.

Panhandle said it would support American Louisiana's expansion in view of its petition to stop serving Detroit.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and its affiliates are charged by Panhandle with monopolizing the Detroit market, and "meddling" in Panhandle's affairs.

Ike Answers Views on Draft

Says Service Under Present Conditions Is Indispensable

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says that selective service is indispensable under present conditions and "loose talk of soon ending the draft" would be construed abroad "as letting down our guard."

Without mentioning Adlai E. Stevenson by name, Eisenhower issued a statement obviously replying to the Democratic presidential campaign slogan that the draft is "wasteful" and "inefficient" and should be ended "at the earliest possible moment consistent with the national safety."

"To call the draft wasteful and to term it a 'Magnet Line,'" Eisenhower said, "evidences either ignorance of our military needs or a willingness to take a chance with our nation's security."

Eisenhower himself took it easy during the weekend as he prepared for his next major broadcast and televised campaign address in Pittsburgh tomorrow night.

Yesterday he attended services and received holy communion at the National Presbyterian Church as part of a worldwide observance of Communion Sunday.

In his draft statement, he said, "The United States is maintaining its military strength to safeguard the American people in their homes, to deter hostile attack at home and abroad, and to encourage the prospect of world peace. This administration is determined to continue that strength."

Tanganyika Agog at Margaret's Visit

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—A deafening chorus of ship's horns and sirens today greeted Princess Margaret — the first member of the British Royal Family ever to visit Tanganyika officially.

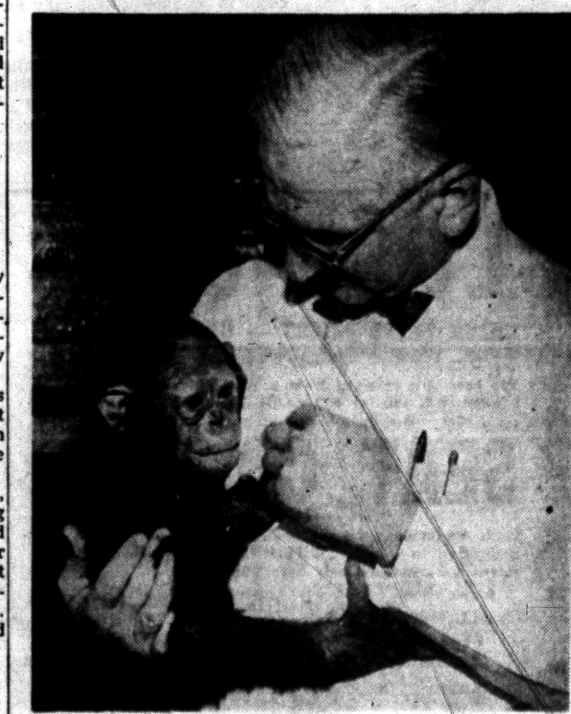

As the princess sailed into Dar es Salaam harbor aboard the royal yacht Britannia, cheers rang out from thousands of people of many races lining the quayside.

Dar es Salaam's European, African, Arab and Indian population all joined in the enthusiastic welcome to the gay, smiling princess.

A colorful sea of Union Jacks waved wildly as she stepped ashore wearing a milky white silk taffeta garden party dress with a full skirt.

Soon after coming ashore, the princess opened the port's new deep-water berthing space by throwing a switch.

Chamberlain Denies Divorce of Iranian Shah

ROME (INS)—A personal chamberlain to beautiful Empress Soraya of Iran denied today her inability to bear a male heir to the throne may lead to her divorce from Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi.

The chamberlain described the report in the London Sunday Dispatch as "utter nonsense."

"I can tell you that their majesties are deeply in love with each other and are a most happy couple," he added.

Soraya is the Shah's second wife. Persons in the royal circle have said the couple is very much in love.

But the Sunday Dispatch claimed that the Shah may be compelled to divorce Soraya because she has not been able to give him a son to succeed to the throne.

Water Heaters Increase in Size

A long-range trend toward larger sizes in household models of automatic gas water heaters in continuing with the record output this year, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

The reasons: Bigger families, ever-growing use of washing machines and dishwashers in the home, and more attention to personal grooming.

Edward R. Martin, GAMA director of marketing and statistics, said the gas water heater industry not only has stepped up sizes of its models but is turning out units that heat water faster than their predecessors. These factors, plus record gas water heater production, all have been necessary to meet an enormous increase in demand for hot water, Martin said.

During the first six months of this year, 26.2 per cent of household water heaters shipped by manufacturers were with tank sizes of 40 gallons or more. In 1947, the corresponding figure was only 9.2 per cent, and in 1952 it was 10 per cent.

At the same time the category of heaters with tank capacity of less than 30 gallons has been declining, from 43.4 per cent in 1947 to 19 per cent of total shipments at the latest tally.

The category of water heaters with 30 or more gallons tank capacity but less than 40 continued to have largest representation. It accounted for 54.8 per cent of shipments in the first half of this year, down slightly from 1952 and 1955 totals, but above the 47.4 per cent of 1947.

Register Opposition to Any National, State
Bills Proposed

LANSING—Formal opposition to "any and all public housing bills proposed either state or nationally" was recorded by Michigan's realtors at their 42nd annual convention held recently in Lansing.

Stewart E. Butts, Michigan Real Estate Association president, said that the realtors have taken this stand through a resolution unanimously passed by the 700 realtors at the convocation.

Text of the resolution follows: "Whereas this State of Michigan and these United States of America have never known such prosperity, and

"Whereas there are 68 million plus people employed in these United States at a gainful occupation, and

"Whereas more people in America own their own homes than at any time in the history of these United States, and

"Whereas there are still a political few who advocate the need for public housing,

"Now therefore be it
"RESOLVED that the M.R.E.A. in convention assembled on this 10th day of September, 1956 unalterably oppose any and all public housing bills proposed either State of Nationally and will register their opposition with their Congressmen, Senators, or the members of the Michigan legislature."

Pumps 5 Shots at Bicycle Thief

UM Student Arrested for His Bang-Up Chase
on Campus

ANN ARBOR (U.S.)—To catch a bicycle thief a University of Michigan student went a-bunting with a loaded pistol. He got the bike after a bang-up chase but got himself arrested too.

Patrolman Walter Hawkins reconstructed events thus:

Student Thomas Engle, 22, reported his bicycle stolen Friday. Yesterday he went looking for the thief with a .45 caliber automatic pistol.

Engle spied someone aboard his bike in the heart of the campus. Yelling at the rider, he opened fire at 200 yards as pedestrians scurried for cover.

CATCHES BIKE

The cyclist zig-zagged around a corner with Engle in pursuit, firing as he ran. Around the corner, Engle found his bike, but no thief. He mounted and rode off.

Police nabbed him five blocks away and held him on charges of carrying a concealed weapon and felonious assault with a deadly weapon.

One of the five bullets fired hit the university museum. The others apparently embedded themselves in trees or the ground. No one was hurt.

Among League of Women Voters meeting set this week are the 1 p.m. No. 1 meeting this afternoon at Mrs. Edward McGlew's home, 203 South Glenary and the meeting tomorrow at 1 at Mrs. Max Miller's home, 7410 Franklin Rd.

Children were being warned from playing in the fill on city playgrounds, ready for fixing ball diamonds. If the wet sand piles collapsed on them, the damp sand would be suffocating, police warned.

VIOLATED provisions of the 1888 Constantinople Convention, guaranteeing freedom of navigation in the Suez Canal.

Without disclosing any specific proposals Fawzi is reported to have brought from Cairo for a negotiated solution of the canal dispute, he suggested creating a negotiating group which would be guided by three basic principles.

They are:

"1. Establishing a system of co-operation between the Egyptian authority operating the Suez Canal and the users of the canal, taking into full consideration the sovereignty and the rights of Egypt and the interests of the users of the canal.

"2. Establishing a system of tolls and charges which guarantees for the users of the canal a fair treatment free from exploitation.

"3. Providing for a reasonable percentage of the revenues of the canal to be allotted especially for improvements."

Fawzi said:

"The principle of guaranteeing for all and for all time the freedom of navigation in the Suez Canal is the most basic among the principles which should guide the work of the negotiating body."

The Day in Birmingham

Report Given Commission on Court Zoning Decision

BIRMINGHAM — A report to city commissioners tonight notes a Supreme Court decision that the city's attempt to restrict the property of the Industrial Land Co., et al. to single family residential use is "unreasonable, confiscatory and unenforceable."

City Manager Harold K. Schone's communication advises commissioners that the city must abide by the decision or be in contempt, and should work with the developer to bring about best possible type of development under the decision.

Commissioners will hear objections to rezoning lots in Quanton Lake Estates from Business A to Business C, and some in Birmingham Hills Subdivision from public property to single family.

Requests have been submitted for a Little League football day solicitation on Oct. 12 and 13, and for a door-to-door cider sale in gallon jugs by the Presbyterian Youth Married Adults.

Other considerations will be a proposed collection, storage and delivery of merchant's flags, retention of auditors for another year, and appraisal of $3,000 of a triangle of property and moving the Birmingham Eccentric building and loading dock on the 3-A Parking Lot site.

Carleton Scott will talk on CAP activities at tomorrow noon's Exchange Club meeting.

Mrs. Anna Haack Stock, 82, was born in Southfield Township on the Haack farm where Northland Center now stands, died at her home, 4738 Thompson, Detroit Saturday. She married the Rev. Adam Stock in 1895.

13 Safe After Hours on Buffeting Barge

SAULT STE. MARIE (INS)—A 300-foot barge carrying 13 seamen was in sheltered waters today after being buffeted in Lake Superior for nine hours by strong winds and high waves.

The unloaded barge Delkote was cast adrift 130 miles Northwest of Sault Ste. Marie yesterday morning when a towline connecting it with the steamer George Hindman parted.

Waves as high as 20 feet and 40-mile winds prevented the Hindman and another vessel, the Capt. C. D. Secord, from reaching the Delkote for several hours.

The Secord finally managed to get a line aboard the barge and towed it to the sheltered waters behind Michipicoten Island.

Heart Specialist First in Series

To Speak at Lecture Held in Memory of Dr. Charles Tolle

Dr. A. C. DeGraff, nationally known New York heart specialist, will be the guest speaker Wednesday night in the first of a series of annual lectures held in memory of former Pontiac physician Dr. Charles B. Tolle.

The lecture, "Some Problems in the Treatment of Congestive Heart Failure," is scheduled for 8 at the McAuley School of Nursing Auditorium, 26 Fulton St.

Dr. DeGraff is professor of therapy at New York University.

The memorial lecture series was requested by Mrs. Tolle who asked that in lieu of flowers, contributions be put in a trust fund to finance the series by prominent physicians. Dr. Tolle died last October.

Sister Mary William, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital administrator, said all doctors from Oakland County and other areas were invited to attend Wednesday's lecture.

Dr. Tolle was director of the hospital's clinical laboratory from 1948 until his death.

Chamberlain Denies Divorce of Iranian Shah

ROME (INS)—A personal chamberlain to beautiful Empress Soraya of Iran denied today her inability to bear a male heir to the throne may lead to her divorce from Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi.

The chamberlain described the report in the London Sunday Dispatch as "utter nonsense."

"I can tell you that their majesties are deeply in love with each other and are a most happy couple," he added.

Soraya is the Shah's second wife. Persons in the royal circle have said the couple is very much in love.

But the Sunday Dispatch claimed that the Shah may be compelled to divorce Soraya because she has not been able to give him a son to succeed to the throne.

The books, along with related visual material, will go on display Tuesday and Wednesday at Longfellow School from 2:30 until 5 p.m. Parents and teachers have been urged to see the 1957 edition of books and aids which will be available during the coming years in the public schools.

Water Heaters Increase in Size

A long-range trend toward larger sizes in household models of automatic gas water heaters in continuing with the record output this year, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

The reasons: Bigger families, ever-growing use of washing machines and dishwashers in the home, and more attention to personal grooming.

Edward R. Martin, GAMA director of marketing and statistics, said the gas water heater industry not only has stepped up sizes of its models but is turning out units that heat water faster than their predecessors. These factors, plus record gas water heater production, all have been necessary to meet an enormous increase in demand for hot water, Martin said.

During the first six months of this year, 26.2 per cent of household water heaters shipped by manufacturers were with tank size of 40 gallons or more. In 1947, the corresponding figure was only 9.2 per cent, and in 1952 it was 10 per cent.

At the same time the category of heaters with tank capacity of less than 30 gallons has been declining, from 43.4 per cent in 1947 to 19 per cent of total shipments at the latest tally.

The category of water heaters with 30 or more gallons tank capacity but less than 40 continued to have largest representation. It accounted for 54.8 per cent of shipments in the first half of this year, down slightly from 1952 and 1953 totals, but above the 47.4 per cent of 1947.

Water heaters with tank size of 55 gallons or more accounted for 1.7 per cent of shipments in the first half of this year. This is a larger portion of the market than previously recorded.

Maud Allen Dies—Shocked World With Her Dancing

LOS ANGELES (U)—Maud Allen, the controversial dancer who shocked the world nearly 50 years ago with her portrayal of a flimsy-clad Salome passionately clutching the papier mache head of John the Baptist, is dead at 76.

Miss Allen, bed-ridden for nearly two years, died yesterday at a rest home.

She created a sensation when in 1908 she appeared at London's Palace Theater clad in diaphanous veils to dance her "Vision of Salome."

She was a pioneer in aesthetic dancing in revealing costume, but was modest compared with today's bubble and fan dancers. She always defended her dances as pure art.

Her dancing career ended in 1938 when she was seriously hurt in an auto accident. She recovered to write an autobiography and to encourage other dancers on their way up.

Miss Allen was born in Toronto Aug. 27, 1880, the daughter of two physicians, Dr. William Allen and Dr. Isabel Hutchinson Allen. The family moved to California when she was a child.

Yugoslavia, Bulgaria Establish Relations

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U)—Marshal Tito's government says it has reached an understanding with neighboring Bulgaria based on equality, mutual respect and noninterference in internal affairs.

The move was described as an establishment of "contacts" between the two Communist countries. It came as Communist delegations flocked to Belgrade in increasing numbers.

The understanding, worked out with a delegation of leading Bulgarian Communists presently visiting Yugoslavia, was considered significant because Yugoslavia has criticized Bulgaria for being slow in modifying the Stalin-era freeze against Tito's regime.

Leaders of the Bulgarian delegation told Yugoslav reporters that Bulgaria believes every Communist party has the right to build socialism in its own way.

Egypt Seeks Study on Canal Problem

violated provisions of the 1888 Constantinople Convention, guaranteeing freedom of navigation in the Suez Canal.

Without disclosing any specific proposals Fawzi is reported to have brought from Cairo for a negotiated solution of the canal dispute, he suggested creating a negotiating group which would be guided by three basic principles.

They are:
"1. Establishing a system of co-operation between the Egyptian authority operating the Suez Canal and the users of the canal, taking into full consideration the sovereignty and the rights of Egypt and the interests of the users of the canal."

"2. Establishing a system of tolls and charges which guarantee for the users of the canal a fair treatment free from exploitation."

"3. Providing for a reasonable percentage of the revenues of the canal to be allotted especially for improvements."

Fawzi said:

"The principle of guaranteeing for all and for all time the freedom of navigation in the Suez Canal is the most basic among the principles which should guide the work of the negotiating body."

The Day in Birmingham

Report Given Commission on Court Zoning Decision

BIRMINGHAM — A report to city commissioners tonight notes a Supreme Court decision that the city's attempt to restrict the property of the Industrial Land Co., et al, to single family residential use is "unreasonable, confiscatory and unenforceable."

City Manager Harold K. Schone's communication advises commissioners that the city must abide by the decision or be in contempt, and should work with the developer to bring about best possible type of development under the decision.

Commissioners will hear objections to rezoning lots in Quanton Lake Estates from Business A to Business C, and some in Birmingham Hills Subdivision from public property to single family.

Requests have been submitted for a Little League football day solicitation on Oct. 12 and 13, and for a door-to-door cider sale in gallon jugs by the Presbyterian Youth Married Adults.

Other considerations will be a proposed collection, storage and delivery of merchant's flags, retention of auditors for another year, and appraisal of $3,020 of a triangle of property and moving the Birmingham Eccentric building and loading dock on the 3-A Parking Lot site.

Carleton Scott will talk on CAP activities at tomorrow noon's Exchange Club meeting.

Among League of Women Voters meeting set this week are the 1 p.m. No. 1 meeting this afternoon at Mrs. Edward McClew's home, 203 South Gilegory and the meeting tomorrow at 1 at Mrs. Max Miller's home, 7410 Franklin Rd.

Children were being warned from playing in the fill on city playgrounds, ready for fixing ball diamonds. If the wet sand piles collapsed on them, the damp sand would be suffocating, police warned.

Rosary will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. at 9 p.m. tonight with burial in Holy Sepulchre.

George Zinky Dies; Headed State FHA

BIRMINGHAM — George W. Zinky, 73, who retired as director of the FHA in Michigan in 1952, died Sunday at William Beaumont Hospital shortly after admittance. He was stricken at his home, 638 Hanna St.

Living here since 1938, he came from Detroit. He was a University of Michigan Law School graduate of 1904. Surviving is a daughter, Martha, of Lapeer.

Service will be Thursday at 11 a.m. at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in White Chapel cemetery.

13 Safe After Hours on Buffeting Barge

SAULT STE. MARIE (INS)—A 300-foot barge carrying 13 seamen was in sheltered waters today after being buffeted in Lake Superior for nine hours by strong winds and high waves.

The unloaded barge Delkote was cast adrift 130 miles Northwest of Sault Ste. Marie yesterday morning when a towline connecting it with the steamer George Hindman parted.

Waves as high as 20 feet and 40-mile winds prevented the Hindman and another vessel, the Capt. C. D. Secord, from reaching the Delkote for several hours.

The Secord finally managed to get a line aboard the barge and towed it to the sheltered waters behind Michipicoten Island.

Truman's Convention Appraisal of Stevenson

As the current political campaign sweeps onward, we are often reminded of Ex-President HARRY S. TRUMAN's candid pronouncement in Chicago.

We refer to his declaration that Adlai Stevenson would have to go through a long period of trial and error in the White House because of his inexperience. This would penalize America.

Mr. Truman was right. It becomes increasingly apparent.

Mr. STEVENSON has made a good, average Governor of Illinois according to the records, but his ineptness for White House tenure shows more clearly as he stumps his way across the country.

We have an expert in Washington, right now.

Why monkey with success?

Mr. Truman admitted in an unguarded moment of utter candor and frankness that Stevenson would be a rookie in national and international government. Nothing that Mr. Stevenson has done or said since then causes any revision of Mr. Truman's estimate. "Give 'em Hell" Harry was right on the ball.

That's unusual. But it happened once.

We accept his verdict as a man who understood and it should be final, absolute and complete.

Yanks Even Series

The sky over Yankee Stadium is bright and sunny once more! Yankee fans are happy again and they have two good reasons to be.

One of those reasons is the stylish eight hit pitching of Whitey Ford on Saturday. This sent the Dodgers back home on the short end of a 5-3 score. The other is the masterful mound job done on Sunday by Oklahoma's Tom Sturdivant.

STURDIVANT was even stungier with base hits than the blond Fox. He turned the Flatbush enemy back with only six hits. So steady and courageous was his pitching that in the Sunday contest ALSTON's men were able to get the ball out of the infield only once in the first five innings.

Meanwhile STENGEL's crew of first class RBI men were giving STURDIVANT a comfortable 6-2 lead. There is no suggestion here that the Dodgers didn't fight back. They fought all the way to the wire. In seven out of nine innings they put their leadoff hitter on base.

The Yankees deserved to win the game that squared the series at two each. Six of their seven hits were used in scoring. They deserve credit too for the spirit and speed with which they rebounded from the depths to which they had been plunged by Brooklyn's capture of the first two games.

The lesson of the four games played so far is that it is a mistake to discount the Yankees' skill afield and their power at the plate. In two well pitched games they already have liquidated the tremendous psychological advantage two victories gave the Dodgers.

What a difference a few base hits can make. And after those first two games the Yankees' series prospects were bleak, indeed. Today it's a whole new series and the Yankees have won another chance to try to recapture the world championship crown they lost to Brooklyn in the 1955 series.

Keego Harbor Mourns Chief Calvin Baxter

Keego Harbor residents are mourning the death of CALVIN C. BAXTER, its Chief of Police who suffered fatal burns in a bowling alley fire recently.

BAXTER was also a member of the fire department and it was primarily in that capacity that he was fighting the fire.

He was trapped inside after entering the front door with a hose. He was rescued through a window, but was burned over his entire body. Several other firemen and bystanders suffered minor burns.

CALVIN BAXTER's death is a reminder that our firemen and policemen are public servants who risk their lives daily in their regular line of duty. There is indeed a hazardous type of service. Keego Harbor residents are paying homage today to a man who gave his life for his community.

The Man About Town

Large Contrasts

Area Voters Show Distinct Variance in Their Politics

Goodfellow: Most any political candidate—according to him.

Oakland County offers some political extremes. For instance, four years ago Birmingham's first precinct cast 1,225 votes for Alger for governor, and gave Williams 463, a ratio of over 20 to one.

On the same day Pontiac's 34th precinct cast 23 votes for Alger and gave Williams 463, a ratio of over 20 to one the other way.

The vote on governor is given as a sample of the contrasts, rather than on president, on account of Eisenhower's popularity, when he swept the county with a plurality of 41,632.

When Michigan State defeated Michigan, 9-0, Saturday, 679 entries in our football contest were eliminated. They were the 625 who picked Michigan to win and the 54 who predicted a tie.

The 1,241 who predicted State would win carry over to next Saturday's game, on which they predict: Southern Methodist, 616; Duke, 605; tie, 20.

A lemon tree with fruit up to the size of grapefruit is growing in the window of Carl S. Voydanoff at his place of business at 126 West Huron St.

An Oakland County city gets national recognition on its integrated police and fire service. I have it direct from Mayor Richard W. Marshall of Oak Park that 10,000 reprints from the current Reader's Digest article on his city's system in that respect have been ordered for local distribution.

Next to the Bible, what do you think is the most widely read book? Through all the years, we're divided among several nominations. But we have it direct from

The American Bible Society that while the Bible continues to be every year's best seller, they wonder if it is the best read book. How about it in your family?

The Autumn foliage display in Pontiac area will continue to be good through this week, and it surely is worth a drive in the country.

A puff ball that weighs 21 pounds was found in a woods near Rochester by Gladstone Fenman of that village. It measures 20 inches in diameter.

His Double Sacrifice

David Lawrence Says:

22nd Amendment Presents Peril

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower has put his finger on one of the real weaknesses of the American constitutional system—the fact the American people, perhaps even in the midst of a nuclear war, cannot continue their commander-in-chief in office if he happens to be finishing a second term during a crisis.

The President says that adoption of the 22nd Amendment which limits a president to two terms "was not wholly wise" and that the United States "ought to be able to choose for its president, anybody it wants, regardless of the number of terms he has served." The 22nd Amendment was adopted by two-thirds of both houses of Congress in March 1947 and after ratification by three-quarters of the states was proclaimed in February 1951.

Eisenhower has never before expressed himself on the subject and did so only because the question was asked by Ed Morgan of the American Broadcasting Co. at a press conference a few days ago as a result of talk in political circles that a president in his second term might lose influence with Congress. Eisenhower thought not and pointed out that the next aspirant would want a president's support for nomination and election. But the weakness arises when a chief executive can no longer hold—not the candidates—but party members in line.

When President Wilson was asked in February 1913 by a congressional committee his views on a proposal for a constitutional amendment limiting a president to a single term of six years, he replied that he believed four years is often too long and sometimes too short. He was not long enough depending on how good the president happened to be and that he hoped some day the American people would establish a system more responsive to the nation's will. Obviously he had in mind a parliamentary system.

The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in talks with friends used to cite the successful experience of Canada under the 11-year tenure of Mackenzie King as prime minister—a service interrupted only twice for brief intervals.

This writer in a dispatch on July 10 last predicted that the matter of a third term would come up in the event of Eisenhower's re-election. Of particular interest now is an unpublished letter written to this correspondent on July 25 last by Rep. James M. Quigley, Democrat, of Pennsylvania, who had just introduced a resolution to repeal the 22nd Amendment. He said:

"I invite your attention to this legislative measure because its introduction was inspired, at least in part, by your recent column suggesting the fairness or the desirability of making an exception to the rule of the 22nd Amendment in the case of President Eisenhower."

"I do not favor a third term for Mr. Eisenhower more than I favored it for Mr. Roosevelt, but I am terribly afraid that the deadening effects of four years of a 'lame duck' president would have on this country are far greater than those that might come from the possibility or even the realization of a president being re-elected for a third term."

Because of the characteristic remissions and relapses it is difficult to gauge the effect of any particular remedy for the silvery scale disease. In my own experience the most effective remedy seemed to be thyroid extract. To day I believe the iodine ration is a safe substitute for thyroid feeding.

What difference does it make in any civilized country whether evidence is obtained through wiretapping or in some other manner? The method does not lessen the crime, does it?

The main thing is that the criminal is caught. If we don't want to catch crooks, why do we have detectives? Why not allow all criminals their freedom unless they voluntarily confess? What rot!

The Duchess of Windsor was rejected as a leader of the British people because she was a divorced woman. Princess Margaret's romance with Peter Townsend was cancelled because of his marital status.

Yet the British wholeheartedly endorse Adlai Stevenson for the Presidency of the United States. Do they, then consider this country a nation inferior to theirs?

Noting your editorial concern with regards to Dr. George Waldbott's research on fluoride poisoning, Pontiac citizens will be pleased to hear some recent additional facts on the same subject.

Nineteen doctors, all members of the Michigan State Medical Society, speaking for its Physicians' Committee Studying Fluoridation, had this to say in a recent news release:

"Committee members said they fully concur with the statement of Dr. Luther R. Leader, president of the Wayne County Medical Society, that Dr. Waldbott's work is 'careful, meticulous, and thorough, and he has produced some important data which warrants earnest consideration and careful evaluation by an open mind.'"

The Wayne Society, after studying Dr. Waldbott's work, no longer endorses fluoridation. In the light of this and other recent developments in professional circles, we can feel happy that Pontiac voters rejected this questionable procedure.

Mildred E. Rutledge

I cannot see how the people of Michigan want to try this crazy idea of putting fluoride in our drinking water when it may be injurious to people's health. Allergic individuals seem to be particularly susceptible. Fluoride is a very toxic chemical.

It may cause irreversible damage to teeth and bones. It may injure the nervous system, kidneys and other tissues. Why, then try to cram this idea down the people's throats when they have already voted it down?

We have highly trained dentists to treat children's teeth. What are they trying to do . . . put those dentists out of business? Why not sell this water in five gallon jars in drug stores, so that those who wish to take a chance can do so. I, for one, and my family want no part of it.

Taxpayer

So Waterford Township is starting a dog training center. How wonderful. Why not just pass a law to keep these beasts at home where they belong? I suggest starting a training center for children, too. Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old he or she will not depart from it.

What has become of the Widower and Widows' acquaintance club, which met every Tuesday night at the Maile Hall on Perkins street?

That club was founded to bring widows and widowers, bachelors and bachelor girls together one evening a week for music, games and dancing. There was a list of all members and their marital standing kept and no married folk except those who had met at the club and later married were allowed to attend.

The club now running on Perkins street has no membership list. Anyone who has 75 cents may attend. Why can't all members of the former WWA get together and have the old club back?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Douse Flame Spouse Carries

Clara says her husband is carrying the torch for his former wife. Many sweethearts do. But you can soon put out such a flame by following the advice below. When people flee into the past, it usually means their present ego isn't being inflated properly. A wife can soon make her husband forget all his former romances if she uses the modern technique.

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-385: Clara B.; aged 24, is confronting the problem which often faces a second wife.

"Dr. Crane, I have a wonderful husband," she began, "but he still thinks about his former wife. 'He married her against the wishes of his family and friends, for he was wildly infatuated with her.'"

"It was during the Korean War. She worked in a tavern and he was sorry for the sordid life she lived."

So he thought he would give her a good home and reform her. But she kept having so many affairs with other men, he finally had to get a divorce.

"That was three years ago. But he still broods about her and sometimes cries because he thinks she may be mistreated. 'Now what can I do? It hurts my pride to have him carrying the torch for his former wife, but if I let on that I am jealous, he may bottle up his feelings. I'd rather get them out of his system so I know what he thinks.'"

TORCH BEARERS

A lot of folks carry such torches for former lovers. But if you second mates want to put out the flames quickly, just make the present and future so pleasant that such dreamers will no longer wish to flee into the yesterdays.

The very fact that anyone dwells in the past, generally proves his present ego is not being adequately inflated by praise and indirect compliments, such as a fervent mate.

Happy marriage often requires histrionic (acting) skill. Shakespeare said all the world's a stage and we are but actors thereon.

So if Shakespeare praised you by saying you are an actor, don't let him down:

HOW TO PREVENT DIVORCE

If you men wish to keep your wives devoted to you all their lives, then learn to verbalize your love. Say it in words.

Pay your mate a sincere compliment every day. Women are more verbal than sexual, so you can hold a wife's love forever by leaning upon her for advice and counsel.

Ask her opinions about your workday problems, instead of clamping up. Even if you don't follow all of her suggestions, encourage her to offer them. The day of the "strong silent man" is past. Such a fellow may lose his wife quickly to another man who learns to talk smoothly. But you wives must realize that the Achilles tendon of your husband's ego is his sexual vigor.

So put on an act. Affect more physical ardor than you feel. For if a wife acts naturally in this realm, she will appear disinterested and frigid to the normal male.

Divorces usually start in the bedroom. To avoid this tragedy, be sure you have the booklet named below. And re-read it on every wedding anniversary.

WORRY FORWARD

Keep your marriage worries pointed forward. Plan to have children and do so early in your marriage.

They help unify the interests of husband and wife. But don't succumb to the pitfall of becoming so parental that you forget your sweetheart role.

Shakespeare expects you actors and actresses to perform many roles. So a successful wife must be pal and playmate, as well as confidant and mother, family treasurer and chief psychologist in her family.

Clara followed the advice below and also got her family started. When the first baby arrived, her husband became so interested in getting home to see it, that he had no time to brood over a former romance.

So send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It helps prevent divorce so give it to all newlyweds, too. Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Can Peppers in Olive Oil for Relish

Soak Hot Ones Overnight in Brine Says Mrs. Pirtle

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We received a request the other day for a recipe telling how to can peppers in olive oil. We think this recipe may be of more general interest and are publishing it for all our readers. Our authority on canning peppers is Mrs. Al Pirtle of Commerce Lake.

Mrs. Pirtle divides her time between an outside job and her home. She loves to garden and is most successful at it. Sewing is a favorite hobby. She also sings in a church choir.

CANNED PEPPERS IN OLIVE OIL

By Mrs. Al Pirtle

If hot peppers are used, soak overnight in a brine made of 1/2 cup table salt (NOT Iodized) to 1 gallon of water. Sweet peppers need not be soaked.

Drain off brine in the morning. Pick peppers in jars and cover with following mixture: for each jar:

- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon olive oil

Make a solution of 2 cups vinegar and 2 cups water. Bring to a boil and pour over peppers. Seal.

The group also discussed plans for the Nov. 9 dance at the Elks Temple. Dance proceeds will benefit the Muscular Dystrophy fund.

Use Ingenuity to Solve Problems

By ANNE KEYWOOD

Ingenuity is a fine thing to have, but unfortunately most of us don't exercise it until our backs are against the wall.

Ideally we ought to go through life solving our problems with ease and skill, but my experience has been that it takes a bad blow before we develop and use our ingenuity.

"I began by being very brave," Sally L. told me, "when we discovered that John's firm was sending him to Venezuela for six months and I could go along with our little boy."

"I thought I'd do some typing at home and make some money and keep busy. I assured John, as I kissed him goodbye, that we'd make out all right."

NOT EASY

"But it wasn't that easy. "First of all, our little house that had seemed so rural and charming with John around, suddenly became just plain lonely."

"We were the kind who said we'd never have our picture window looking into someone else's picture window—and we didn't. We didn't have a neighbor within two miles!"

"I found that nobody wanted me to do typing at home—at least, no one answered my ad."

"Then I began to worry about little Johnny. He was four and really needed other children to play with, yet our budget wouldn't allow for a nursery school."

"Finally, I decided no matter what else we had to go without, I would just have to put Johnny in a nursery school, because I was getting gloomier and lonelier by the day and he deserved some fun."

"I called one of the schools near us—I must have called them a dozen times—but never got an answer. This gave me a good idea."

"Bright and early one morning Johnny and I presented ourselves at the school and talked with the Type at Home.

EXCHANGED LABOR

"I told her I had tried to reach her by phone but no one answered. It turned out that she was so busy and understaffed, she sometimes couldn't answer the phone! I asked her if she could use an extra hand to answer the phone, type, file and do odd jobs. In return for Johnny's tuition, she thought it was a marvelous idea!"

"Now," Sally concludes, "Johnny and I go to school every day and he loves it."

"Also, I've gotten to know a lot of the parents—some of them professional people—and I am getting a good bit of typing to do at home in the evenings when Johnny is asleep and when I'd otherwise be horribly lonely."

This is one more example of ingenuity coming to the fore when the going gets rough! And it's also an example of what a handy skill typing is—if you'll pardon my repeating myself!

If you don't know how to type, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my pamphlet Learning to Type at Home.

MRS. EVERETT LEE WILLIAMS

Martha Ruth Burris Wed to Everett Lee Williams

Before an altar banked with white pompons, chrysanthemums and palms, Martha Ruth Burris became the bride of Everett Lee Williams Saturday evening. The Rev. Hilding Bihl performed the 7:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony in First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Everett Burris of Pingree avenue. Lee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lexie Williams of Baldwin avenue.

For her marriage the bride chose a gown of Italian silk and French lace, featuring a front panel of the lace applied with sequins and seed pearls. The empire bodice, with sabrina neckline, had long lace sleeves that tapered to points at the wrists.

A low-draped sash, tied in a soft bow with tapered steamers, accented the back of the gown and the skirt extended into a chapel train.

A square pillbox headpiece of sequins and seed pearls secured the bride's fingertip veil of illusion and she carried an arrangement of roses and ivy.

ATTENDANTS IN VELVET

Princess style gowns of sapphire blue velvet in ballerina-length were worn by the bridal attendants. Their headpieces were of matching color, and each carried a cascade bouquet of shocking pink chrysanthemums.

Suzanne Lillquist was the bride's maid of honor and Mrs. Carl Fifelet, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Her other attendants were Mrs. John Spears, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Robert Laity.

Jerry Lawrence served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Lowell Satterlee, Carl Christensen and Marvin Caswell.

RECEPTION HELD

When Mrs. Burris received her guests at the reception, held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors, she was wearing a navy blue sheath with pink sequin hat and navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and feathered carnations.

Mrs. Williams chose a gown of mauve satin with matching hat and navy blue accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was also of pink roses and carnations.

Following the wedding trip in Canada the newlyweds will reside on Dwight street.

Educators Report Need for Parent-Teacher Conferences

By MARGARET COLE

Teachers and educators who attended the sixth annual Pontiac Educators Conference at Higgins Lake this weekend returned to their classrooms today inspired to translate School-Home Communications findings into action.

The three-day conference began Friday with a general session that brought together teachers, principals, administrators resource people and PTA representatives.

Purpose of the gathering was to discuss ways in which better communications could be established between parent, teacher and student.

Workshops were held to attempt to determine how our educational program can meet the needs for this communication program; when it can be done; what the effect will be on the school room; and what is expected of the school system.

REPORT-CARD STUDY

An evaluation of the report-card study made in Pontiac schools was also conducted during the workshop method of communication.

Teacher-parent conferences were recognized as a most important means of communication and great stress was placed on the need to anticipate the fears of people so that there would be no misconceptions or misunderstandings.

Dr. Brownell

"We must remember that there are many avenues of communication over which we have no control, and that parents may get slanted information in this way," Dr. Brownell continued.

"For years and years we have tried to use a system in which we have to interpret before we can put it into code. What we mean and the way it is interpreted can make a great difference."

Stressing home-school communications, Dr. Brownell said, "We should utilize the English language more and codes less. I feel it is important to report to parents and to report symptoms."

PARENTS WANT TO KNOW The speaker reminded his listeners to keep in mind that parents want to know whether children are learning things that are essential and that schools were established to assist parents not parents to assist schools.

"Children go through school today because it is compulsory, not knowing the history of public education and its significance to the nation and to them as individuals," Dr. Brownell said.

In concluding, Dr. Brownell said, "It's the little things that go on in a variety of ways that add up to a comprehensive whole that means good working relationships. I think we have underestimated the fact that the child of today is the parent of tomorrow."

Dr. Russell Curtis and Mr. Dolan conducted the final session. Speaking at this session, Dr. Leon S. Waskin, chief of curriculum services, department of public education, said: "If we can allow time for conferences there will be a greater understanding between parents and teachers. Fellowship is a tremendous asset."

Mr. Dolan reminded group members that they needed a constant criticism of their outer evaluation of freedom to communicate with people.

"We have a tremendous job in schools and we should put our ingenuity and imagination to work right now," he said.

Attending the Pontiac Educators Conference for the second year, Dr. Guy Hill of Michigan State University said we must start thinking in terms of what we can do to change our educational program to make adjustments for atomic program. "Ultimately all we can bring the pupil to be is objective; we have not yet matured to the point where we have become objective," he concluded.

The general consensus of the conference was the Pontiac schools are ready for more parent-teacher conferences and are in a position to start an action. School-Home Communications program now.

Even Disc Jockey Becomes Traitor to U. S. Homes

TV Lures Housewives Away From Duties

By PHYLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Ever since television came in, American homes have become gradually grimmer.

The reason, of course, is that housewives have gone and goofed off on the chores because of their fascination for the insidious monster with the glassy eye.

You simply cannot keep a clean house and a clear view of the screen simultaneously; and surveys prove that the little woman has made her decision.

If it's a choice between elbow grease and entertainment, the mistress will take the latter.

The one "white hope" for the preservation of order in the American home has been the disc jockey radio show. Here was a bouncy sort of program that generally kept women on their toes and perking with the duties. (The only exception is brides, whose efficiency tends to drop off sharply during the rendering of sentimental ballads.)

"I always said," said Martin Block, one of the nation's top disc jockeys, "that radio music was a great inspiration to keep a woman on the job. It made her work pleasant. She didn't have to stop to cry or worry or laugh, as she has to if she's watching morning TV shows.

"Yes, I always said as long as they just keep disc jockeys on radio, there will be fewer husbands coming home to unmade beds."

So a couple of weeks ago, Block—utterly untrue to his word—removed the last vestige of hope for a cleaner domestic America by taking his famed 26-year-old radio show, "Make Believe Ballroom," to television.

Now all his fans, who once worked efficiently to the top 25 or so tunes of any given day, presumably are goofing with the rest of the girls and watching with lazy fascination while Martin works.

"It seems to us," we told him sharply, "that you are going back on a personal principle. Why?"

WITHOUT A BLUSH
Dapper, self-possessed Block did not blush.

"I have changed my principle somewhat," he said, "on the basis that women can turn on their television sets and still not watch them. That is, they spent a great deal of money for their television sets, and they want to get a lot of use out of them—but they need not look at them all the time.

"Just a glance now and then is all that is necessary. They still have the music they enjoyed on the radio show, but they have also the comforting feeling that they are not alone—that there is 'presence' encouraging them to keep up the good work."

To rationalize his change of mind, and to keep listeners on the ball, Block opens his show with such homey advice as, "Now don't kidding or crazy!"

His six sponsors sincerely hope that, in so saying, he is either kidding or crazy!

Martin Block says he sincerely hopes that his devoted lady followers are adhering to his advice about not peeking at the screen, because he wants that housework done, by George!

He also tosses in, between records, an occasional "Ah-ah-ah, no keeping now. The kids'll be home from school in a few minutes!"

'Suicide Service' Set Up in Berlin

BERLIN (INS)—Pastors and psychiatrists have set up a new "suicide service" in Berlin.

On the average, two people a day kill themselves in the city.

The new service, similar to organizations in Stockholm, London and Vienna, answers calls at any hour from desperate, would-be suicides.

Agence France Presse reported that the service was decided on at a meeting in Berlin of the Council of the Order of Saint Luke.

The agency said that 12,000 to 13,000 Germans commit suicide each year.

Serum to Use Live Polio Virus

Convicts Agree to Test Vaccine Taken Orally, Developed in Ohio

CINCINNATI (AP)—Tests with Chilocotho Reformatory volunteers will be the first hurdle toward studies in the United States and abroad for a new "live virus" polio vaccine.

That's the report last night by the vaccine developer, Dr. Albert B. Sabin of the University of Cincinnati.

He said that results at the federal institution will have a strong bearing on plans he has made with fellow scientists for steadily widening tests of the vaccine.

Dr. Sabin, professor of research pediatrics at the UC College of Medicine, has championed development of a polio vaccine using a live but harmless virus that can be easily taken by swallowing.

He reported development of a promising "highly attenuated" version of his live virus vaccine last Saturday at a conference here of the Ohio Valley section of the Society for Experimental Biology and Medicine.

The polio researcher emphasized that the new development represents a "distinct" new step, but that it is still undergoing cautious tests.

He said, "It must be pointed out that this merely represents the next step forward in the experimental studies on an oral polio vaccine, rather than a transition to mass immunization."

He said the tests at Chilocotho will be the first with the highly attenuated live virus on humans. And the trials may not start until early 1957. "First we must get the vaccine prepared and tested," he said.

Unions Boost Schreier

Schreier, who joined the AFL's organizing staff in 1937, will direct AFL-CIO organizing in 11 midwestern states, including Michigan.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—
Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.* Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Maglie Makes Encore Against Yanks in 5th Game

NEW YORK (U)—If the World Series continues at the present pace, with neither team able to win on the road, the Brooklyn Dodgers will repeat as world champions—in seven games.

For the first four games the Series has followed the exact pattern of last year's, only in reverse. New York's 6-4 victory yesterday behind the surprisingly strong pitching of Tom Sturdivant plunged the Series into a 2-all deadlock as it moved into the fifth game today.

Sal Maglie, winner of the opener at Ebbets Field, comes back for Brooklyn to face Don Larsen, who couldn't hold a 6-0 lead in the second game, also won by the Dodgers. The Yankees roared back to win the next two, both at Yankee Stadium.

In the 1955 Series, the Yankees won the first two games in their home park and the Dodgers took the next pair at Ebbets Field. The teams continued to win in their home parks until the final game when Johnny Podres broke the string with his brilliant 2-0 victory at Yankee Stadium to bring the first world championship to Brooklyn.

Apparently, a spacious ball park such as Yankee Stadium is not suited to the Dodgers' power.

In sharp contrast, handbox Ebbets Field is made to order for their hitters. Except for Duke Snider and Gil Hodges, the Dodgers' hitters are not real long distance clouters despite their imposing home run record.

In the five Series between the two clubs since 1949, Brooklyn hitters have banged 23 home runs in 15 games at Ebbets Field. In 14 games at Yankee Stadium, they've hit only seven, none this year. Snider, for instance, has hit eight of his 10 homers off the Yankees at Brooklyn. Roy Campanella has hit all four there and Hodges has hit three of his four at friendly Ebbets Field. On the other hand, it hardly has made any difference to the Yankees where they've played, as far as home runs are concerned. They've hit 19 in the stadium and 17 at Ebbets Field in one game loss.

Two home runs were hit yesterday. Mickey Mantle got his second of the Series, a Ruthian 440-footer into the center field bleachers off Ed Roebuck in the sixth inning. Hank Bauer walloped his first in 36 Series games off Don Drysdale in the seventh with one on.

Those runs would have been enough for Sturdivant who held the Dodgers to six hits, walked as many and struck out seven. His biggest strikeout came in the ninth after the Brooks had scored once, and had him on the ropes with the bases full and only one out. Randy Jackson came up as a pinch hitter, representing the tying run and young Tom whiffed him for strikeout No. 7. Jim Gilliam then fled out to end the game.

Overcomes Tension Sturdivant Now Relaxes

NEW YORK (U)—Young Tom Sturdivant had to conquer himself before he could become a conquering World Series pitcher for the New York Yankees.

"The hardest thing I've had to learn is how to relax and take it easy," the tall, good-looking Sooner from Oklahoma City said after hurling the Yankees to a series-leveling 6-2 victory over the Dodgers yesterday.

"I've always been pretty intense and high-strung, Jim Turner (Yankee pitching coach) helped me a lot."

Turner, a drawing Tennesseean, disclaims any credit. "He did it all himself," says Jim. "He's a tension pitcher, but he's whipped his nerves. He's a good pitcher now. Don't tell him cheap."

Fans who watched him beat the Dodgers, pitching out of tight situations and retiring the last two men with the bases loaded, may have noted the 26-year-old Oklahoman's mound eccentricities.

As he bends over to start his windup, he gives his pitching hand a peculiar wiggle, as if shaking off a bunch of pesky ants. It's a gimmick to relax. Occasionally he walks off the mound and strolls absently toward second base. It's to get into the proper mood.

"He may walk almost to the outfield until he feels he's ready, relaxed enough, to pitch to the batter," says Turner. "When he's ready, relaxed enough, to pitch to the batter," says Turner. "When he's ready, relaxed enough, to pitch to the batter," says Turner.

Layne Leads Lions' 3rd Win

BALTIMORE (U)—The 1956 Detroit Lions are not the Lions of 1955. That is obvious, and the 1956 variety currently are leading the Western Division of the National Football League—its only unbeaten team.

The Lions are 2-0 now where they were 0-2 a year ago, and they have met the same two clubs: Green Bay and Baltimore.

George Shaw, did to the Chicago Bears a week earlier.

San Francisco's 33-30 upset of the Los Angeles Rams yesterday left the Lions the only club in the Western Division without a defeat. The 1955 team won only three games while losing nine.

Passing through a Baltimore fog as if by radar, quarterback Bobby Layne led the Lions to a 31-14 triumph Saturday night. In 1955 the Colts won 23-13.

The previous week the Lions whipped Green Bay 20-16, averaging a 29-17 loss in the NFL opener a year previous.

Comparing performances through the first two games, one Detroit sports writer said the 1956 Lions "have looked real good, particularly on defense," while the 1955 club "looked lousy most of the time."

Layne did to the Colts over the weekend what their own passer, Jim Sack, Michigan State left fender, led the Spartans in hitting during 1956. He's only 5 feet 6 and 140 pounds.

Most of the Dodgers refer to him as "that punk .346 hitter," but they fear him as much as any Yankee. Going into today's fifth game, Martin was batting only .367, but two of his four hits were home runs and one was a solid single that broke a 1-all tie in yesterday's 6-2 Yank victory.

"Those Dodgers do make me mad but that makes me play better ball," Billy the Kid said, "and that means better hitting among other things."

NEW YORK (U)—If it were legal to take off his spikes and hit the Brooklyn Dodgers over the head with them, Billy Martin would do just that.

The skinny second baseman of the New York Yankees will do anything... well, almost anything to lick the Brooks, his most hated enemies.

NEW YORK (U)—If it were legal to take off his spikes and hit the Brooklyn Dodgers over the head with them, Billy Martin would do just that.

The skinny second baseman of the New York Yankees will do anything... well, almost anything to lick the Brooks, his most hated enemies.

Most of the Dodgers refer to him as "that punk .346 hitter," but they fear him as much as any Yankee. Going into today's fifth game, Martin was batting only .367, but two of his four hits were home runs and one was a solid single that broke a 1-all tie in yesterday's 6-2 Yank victory.

"Those Dodgers do make me mad but that makes me play better ball," Billy the Kid said, "and that means better hitting among other things."

St. Fred Gains 6-6 Tie

The St. Frederick Rams come close every once in a while, but they still can't win a football game.

Royal Oak St. Mary and the Rams traded touchdowns in the final three minutes of their Suburban Catholic League battle at Royal Oak yesterday and wound up in a 6-6 deadlock.

It marked the 2nd straight year that the Irish and St. Fred fought to a draw, last season's contest ending at 13-13. The tie was the 4th for the Rams during their victory famine and extended their winless string to 29 games.

The two squads packed all of their scoring into a wild finish after getting nowhere for 45 minutes.

St. Mary hit pay-dirt 1st when halfback Paul Smuts intercepted quarterback Tom Derocher's pass in the flat and galloped 35 yards unmolested. The kick for extra point was wide.

St. Fred received the ensuing kickoff and bounced back to tie the score with 1:15 of game time remaining. The touchdown play was a 45-yard pass from Derocher to end Bill Mountain.

Derocher's boot for the conversion was blocked.

The Rams muffed three scoring opportunities in the 1st half. Their furthest penetration was halted on the Irish 12-yard line.

In other NFL games Sunday, St. Benedict downed St. Clement, 21-7, and St. Rita defeated St. James, 13-6. Wyandotte Mr. Carmel handed Shrine a 48-6 shellacking.

Zionists Hear Nixon, Kefauver

Candidates Give Talks on Mideast Problems and Suez Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon said yesterday the promotion of an Israeli-Arab peace is one of the Eisenhower administration's "top priority objectives." Sen. Estes Kefauver said that in the Middle East and elsewhere the administration has "failed . . . to develop any approach to peace in a grand design."

The Republican and Democratic vice presidential candidates spoke at different times before the same group, the national convention of the Zionist Organization of America.

Nixon said U.S. policies in the Middle East should be kept out of partisan politics; Kefauver said those policies allowed Russia to gain a Mideast foothold.

Nixon and Kefauver were both in the capital during respite from their intensive campaigning. Nixon will set out again tomorrow, starting in Texas.

Kefauver leaves today for another week of aerial harrying which will take him 4,000 miles through the East and Middle West.

In his talk to the Zionist group, Nixon said both major parties agree on a need for preservation of Israel's independence.

"I know you will agree with me that for this issue to become a partisan one in the heat of a political campaign will serve neither the interests of Israel or the United States," he said.

Kefauver said that "without

Blaze at Charlevoix Causes $95,000 Ruin

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Losses yesterday were placed at $95,000 after fire destroyed the three-story Sunset Lodge Resort Hotel operated by Mr. and Mrs. William T. Butters at Charlevoix.

Firemen from Charlevoix, Petoskey and East Jordan, aided by Coast Guard personnel and volunteers joined forces Saturday night to prevent the flames from spreading to the Charlevoix business district a block away.

Charlevoix Chief John Curtis said it was the city's worst fire in at least 25 years, but reported no injuries. Winds up to 40 miles an hour off Lake Michigan carried flaming debris up to three blocks from the burning resort. There was no indication as to the origin of the fire.

Curtis said the resort, closed for the season about Labor Day, formerly was a summer home built about 50 years ago. It once was owned by the late R. E. Olds of Lansing and purchased by the Butters couple seven years ago.

Supply and Demand — These hamsters had a good supply of milk available, their owner thought, but he reckoned without the perverse appetites of the pair shown here. They both want the same bottle. The bottle rig became necessary when their mother refused to feed the family of five. The other three then refused to use the device.

Moslems, Hindus Riot Over How to Vote

DACCAR, East Pakistan (AP) — Twenty-four persons, including three leaders of the Moslem League, were injured last night when rival groups advocating joint and separate elections for Hindus and Moslems clashed here.

The government banned public meetings and processions. The Pakistan Parliament is considering whether to have separate or joint election rolls for the nation's two biggest religious communities.

The trouble last night reportedly started when a group favoring the joint system tried to break up a meeting called by advocates of separate voting. Police charged the crowd with clubs to restore order.

Alleged Knife-Wielder Held for Assault

A fight in front of a South Saginaw street restaurant early Sunday resulted in the arrest of an alleged knife-wielder for investigation of felonious assault, Pontiac police said.

Det. Herbert Cooley disarmed and arrested Satorio R. Velez, 27, of 268 S. Paddock St. at 3 a.m. near Orchard Lake Ave.

Velez admitted, Cooley said, stabbing Darrell L. Beasley, 24, of no known address in the left chest and shoulder. Beasley was reported in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Velez' four-inch jack-knife was held as evidence, police said.

The oceanographic vessel, Orca, is now doing research for the University of California. In World War II it was a U.S. Patrol boat in the South Pacific.

Sharply Declined American Labor Party to Dissolve

NEW YORK (INS) — The American Labor Party, which polled 500,000 votes for presidential candidate Henry A. Wallace in 1948 but has declined sharply since then, will be dissolved.

Peter K. Hawley, chairman of the left-wing ALP, which operated only in New York State, indicated yesterday the party's "negligible" assets would be liquidated but were not expected to pay all outstanding bills.

The ALP was formed originally in 1936 to enable non-Democratic voters to vote for President Franklin D. Roosevelt without voting the entire Democratic slate.

However, suspicion of Communist infiltration lost it important labor support in the elections of 1944 and 1948.

In 1954 the party failed to gain a sufficient number of votes to keep its place on the New York State ballot.

Also, that year, the state legislature outlawed the use of the word "American" in the title of a political party in New York State.

Herfurth said the ring did a million-dollar annual business.
