U. N. Pauses on Mideast As U. S. Works on Plan

Seek to Effect Israeli Pull-Out by Compromise

Lodge Meets Delegates on Resolution to Be Sent to Assembly Today

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Middle East debate was suspended temporarily today while the United States worked on a compromise plan to get Israeli troops out of Egypt and the Gaza Strip without resort to sanctions.

The 80-nation General Assembly met this morning, but the president, Prince Wan Waithayakon of Thailand, announced that no delegates were ready to speak on the Israeli-Egyptian dispute.

The Assembly went ahead with a long list of routine budgetary questions. It was expected to turn back to the Middle East problem later in the day.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge was busy, meanwhile, consulting with other delegates on a resolution which he hoped to submit to the Assembly within a few hour.

The U.S. proposal was understood to include a provision for placing the Gaza Strip under temporary U.N. administration and for declaring the Gulf of Aqaba open to ships of all nations.

ARAB OPPOSITION

Observers predicted such a plan would run into bitter opposition from the Arab states, which had been counting on American support for their sanctions demand.

Details of the U.S. proposal were not disclosed, but U.S. delegation sources said it probably would contain a number of ideas put forward yesterday by Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson.

The U.S. plan reportedly has two key aims — immediate withdrawal of Israeli troops and insurance that there will be no revival of the previous hostile situation.

The American sources said it would omit the call for sanctions spelled out in an Asian-African resolution now before the Assembly.

Reports were current, however, that the U.S. plan would try to

Troops Called to Curb Disorder

No Hardships for Homes Yet in Tri-State Milk Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—State troopers patrolled highways today in sections of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania to curb further violence in a milk price strike, now in its third day.

Reinforced state police detachments were ordered out as the strike grew in momentum.

The strike thus far has been marked by sporadic outbreaks of gunfire, dynamiting, truck stoppages, picketing, fist fights and milk contamination.

There have been no serious injuries, but several men have been arrested.

A thousand tons of milk have been spilled on the ground or otherwise destroyed as a small group of dairy farmers pressed demands for a higher price for raw milk.

Only an estimated 3,500 of the Tri-state area's 45,000 dairymen supplying the New York City metropolitan milkshed are said to be involved. The strikers are members of the Tri-state Master Dairy Guild.

The Milk Marketing Administration said that about 10 per cent of the metropolitan area's milk supply was withheld yesterday.

It caused no hardship to housewives. Affected were 48 of the area's 381 processing plants, an increase of 17 over the previous day.

The plants normally produce 10 million quarts of milk a day. Withheld yesterday were 2,048,925 pounds of milk, sufficient for almost a million quarts of milk.

City Health Commissioner Leona Baumgartner said it has had "no effect on the fresh milk supply" in the city. She said many dealers were filling their fresh milk needs by diverting milk normally used for cream, condensed milk and ice cream.

Milk to Drop in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The price of milk is expected to drop a penny a quart in Detroit Monday. Samual T. Angott, president of the Detroit Pure Milk Co., said the move is in line with action of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. In taking a voluntary reduction of 45 cents per hundred pounds in the price paid farmers. Angott said he believed 65 other milk distributors in the area would follow his firm's price cut.

King Saud Quells Revolt in Harem by Arab Proverb

CAIRO (INS) — Little Prince Mashhur, the bright-eyed Arabian lad who won America's heart recently, also stirred up a minor revolt among the women of King Saud's household. But the King quelled it with an old Arab proverb.

Saudi Arabian sources said some of the wives of Saud's 24 other sons sent a cable to the king protesting that he left the other boys home when he took Mashhur, a three-year-old who suffers from partial paralysis to America and Egypt.

The King cabled back from Cairo:

"Please read the following Arab proverb:

" 'The favorites among my children are the sick until they get well; the young until they grow older; and those who are away until they return home'."

Property Taxes Said Too High

Realtor Blames Heavy Assessment for Losses on Saginaw Street

Harold L. Blackwood, Pontiac realtor, told the City Commission in a letter last night that assessed valuations and resulting high taxes have caused the "progressive deterioration" of commerial property on South Saginaw street.

"The taxes on this property should be materially reduced, effective immediately," the letter said. It recommended reductions from 10 to 50 per cent in assessed valuations on Saginaw from Huron south to Whittemore and Jackson streets.

Blackwood's letter was referred to the city assessor and the Board of Tax Review which meets next week. "This is a matter that is entirely within the responsibility of the assessor and Board of Review," said City Manager Walter K. Willman.

He added that since the 1920 adoption of the City Charter, property owners have been granted the right to appear before the board to voice any complaints regarding land valuations and taxes.

"Thus far," Blackwood said, "no cognizance has been taken by the city government of the plight of these properties in the form of reductions in land and building assessed valuations with the idea of keeping taxes within the ability to pay out of income. The result is obvious."

City Attorney William A. Ewart said, "The City Commission has no control of assessing property."

Lansing Will Decide on Bus Ownership

LANSING (AP) — Lansing voters will be asked to decide at the April 1 general election between private or public ownership of the city's bus system.

The city council, concerned because the Lansing bus system has been steadily going into the red, decided to ask for an advisory vote on the question.

Voters will be asked if they favor private ownership of the bus system, private ownership with a city subsidy or municipal ownership.

"The people should be informed," commented councilwoman Lucille E. Belen, "that regardless of what choice they make it will require money from the local tax dollar."

Laughter Brought Shot, Murder Jury Is Told

By PETE LOCHBILER

"She laughed at me and I went into a shock — I must have shot her then," said a Rochester man, L. J. Rash on trial today for the first-degree murder of his wife.

Rash, 52, told Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Doty and a two-man, 10-woman jury that his wife had returned to their home, 313 Woodward Ave., early Nov. 26 after a Sunday away from home.

"I think she had been drinking—she usually was drinking. There were some friends with her and they were making noise.

"I ordered them all to clear out. She laughed at me twice. I can't explain the effect it had on me.

"I had the shotgun to threaten them with. My finger tightened like iron on the trigger. I thought later I even had cut my finger."

The woman, Nina Rash, 48, died of a shotgun blast in the abdomen and lower chest.

Rash told defense attorney Wilson B. Severance, of Rochester, that a statement he made after the crime to Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry was not wholly true.

"At that time I would have said anything. I didn't care what happened to me," Rash said. He referred to statements that he had contemplated slaying his wife in the past.

The statement, read today in court by Assistant Prosecutor Walter R. Denison, had Rash saying: "A woman like that is better off dead. She won't be breaking up any more homes."

Trading Stamps Set Off Big Hassle in Canada

TORONTO (AP) — A Canadian Press survey showed today that trading stamps, smaller than the postage variety and usually worth no more than a fifth of a cent, have set off a king-sized controversy in many parts of Canada.

They have figured in a court case in Winnipeg, been discussed in a public forum in Ottawa and attacked by spokesmen for labor, agriculture and consumer groups and the Retail Merchants Association of Canada.

Arnold Rands, general manager of the Retail Merchants Association, estimates that at least 40 per cent of the stamps are never redeemed, "and the trading stamps companies get all the profit of unredeemed stamps."

Speaking to a group of merchants at Chatham, Ont., recently, Rands said the stamps are illegal under the criminal code. His organization has been fighting against them.

"The trading stamp scheme is an insidius device and they (the stamp companies) have always been economic parasites. You get nothing free in this world."

Four persons — two grocers and two stamp company officials — were fined a total of $150 in Winnipeg early this month after pleading guilty to illegally selling and disposing of the stamps. The stamps exhibited in court did not show where they were circulated, as required by Canadian law.

Spokesmen for consumer and labor groups attacked the stamp plan during a public forum at Ottawa Feb. 7 and said the practice should be stopped.

C. Gordon Cushing, executive vice president of the Canadian Labor Congress, contended the scheme tends to increase the price of foodstuffs by between two and three per cent.

He suggested the law regulating such stamps be strengthened.

Witness Claims Teamster Chief Issued Warning

Senators Continue to Investigate Rackets in Northwest Cities

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Portland, Ore., gambler testified today that West Coast Teamsters boss Frank W. Brewster threatened to have him dumped in Lake Washington "with a pair of concrete boots."

James B. Elkins gave the testimony to the Senate committee investigating labor racketeering after Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) disclosed death threats had been made against both Elkins and his brother, Carl Elkins of Arizona.

The witness testified that the threat to throw him into Lake Washington, near Seattle, was delivered after Brewster warned him not to "embarrass two of my boys."

Elkins said Brewster's two proteges were William H. Langley, Democratic district attorney of Multnomah County, Ore., and Clyde C. Crosby, a Teamster organizer.

He said he met with Brewster in Seattle sometime after September 1955 in connection with alleged attempts by Seattle gangsters, in conspiracy with the Teamsters officials, to move in on the Portland underworld.

Elkins quoted Brewster as telling him: "If you embarrass my two boys, you'll find youself wading across Lake Washington with a pair of concrete boots."

'NOTHING SCARES ME'

He said Brewster added: "I make mayors and I break mayors. I make chiefs of police and I break chiefs of police. I've been in jail and out of jail. There's nothing that scares me."

James Elkins testified yesterday that he was involved in gambling and pinball operations and in an underworld move to elect a Portland district attorney. He said his brother is "honest and square" and had no role in any of the activities now under Senate scrutiny.

McClellan declared at the outset of today's hearing:

"On the basis of information this committee has, it is developing the hoodlum and gangster element that has infiltrated into labor and management is challenging the work of this committee with every obstruction and hindrance . . . including violence, threats of violence, and every form of intimidation."

He said James Elkins was the target for anonymous warnings that he would meet a violent end if he continued to testify.

The senator said the FBI has stepped into the case, and is investigating the anonymous telephone calls. He said it was the

Find Livonia Girl, 7, After Frantic Search

LIVONIA (INS)—Weary searchers found a seven-year-old Livonia girl safe today at a neighbor's home.

Little Dinah Tennant, a blonde little girl with a friendly smile, was found at the home of Mrs. Mabel Cotter, 27453 Joy.

Dinah is a friend of Mrs. Cotter's daughter, Patty. The girl was visiting at the Cotter's when the rain kept her from returning home.

Some 65 police and volunteers organized a search of an eight-square-mile area in freezing rain last night after Dinah's father, Francis, reported her missing.

The search continued in freezing rain until 3 a.m. today when the men were sent home to rest.

Buy Auto Plates by Tomorrow!

Midnight Is Deadline; Police to Issue Tickets After Thursday

Midnight tomorrow night is the deadline for purchasing your 1957 license plates.

After that time, police warn that if your car is still sporting that green and white plate, you will be ticketed.

Willis M. Brewer, branch manager of the Pontiac Secretary of State's office, said 6,500 new plates, out of 60,000, remain at the office, 53 N. Parke St.

He reported lines growing longer by the hour as motorists try to beat the deadline.

OPEN TILL 8

Tonight the office will stay open until 8. Tomorrow night, it will remain open until the last person in line receives his plates.

Brewer said that after the midnight deadline, the office would return to normal hours of 9 until 5 weekdays, and 9 until noon on Saturdays.

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert Straley warned that autos found parked on the street without '57 plates are subject to impoundment.

He added: "Both a front and back plate must be properly affixed to the vehicle. Drivers who put a license plate up in back window of their car will also be ticketed."

Lines Grow Long as Plate Deadline Nears

THE ANNUAL RUSH — A line of patient motorists like this one, is a familiar sight this week in front of the Secretary of State's office, 53 N. Parke St., as hundreds seek to beat tomorrow night's deadline for the purchase of 1957 license plates. The office will remain open tonight until 8, and tomorrow night until the last person in line receives plates, according to Willis M. Brewer, branch manager.

Spring? Only a Wish!

Winter Cold Reigns Again

Pontiac's brief flirtation with Miss Spring came to a sudden halt about 7:30 a.m. yesterday, when Poppa Winter reappeared on the scene, bringing with him his two old cronies, High Winds and Freezing Temperatures.

Thoughts of gardening and light clothing vanished quickly as the temperature plummeted from a high of 51 at 2 a.m. Tuesday to a low of 29 at midnight.

The spring interlude, so welcomed here, brought disaster to the Pacific Northwest states as melting snow sent streams pouring over their banks, forcing hundreds to flee and disrupting communications.

Coming up for Pontiac and vicinity is clearing and colder tonight with a low of 18-22 degrees.

Partly cloudy and warmer tomorrow is predicted, with the high forecast of 36-40.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. this morning was 20. The temperature at 2 p.m. was 26.

Halt Increasing Appropriations

Educators Battle Solons Over College Fees, Plans

LANSING (AP) — A tug of war between educators and legislators over tuition fees at publicly supported colleges continued today, with indications that the lawmakers will force an increase.

Doggedly, the college heads resisted mounting pressure by two legislative purse string committees, and agreed yesterday only that "adjustments," not "substantial" increases, are in order.

They spoke at a joint meeting of the Senate Appropriations and the House Ways and Means committee through Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher.

Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, represented presidents of all nine state-supported higher education institutions.

Although the session was arranged strictly to meet the fee issue, the legislators showed their unrest at the prospect of voting millions more dollars for schools in a number of ways, at times using strong words.

MANY SUGGESTIONS

One or another suggested:

Re-examination and redefinition of the scope of higher education, with an aim to holding down expenditures.

Greater utilization of plant facilities.

Higher "tariff walls" against out-of-state students.

Accompaniment of demands for increased state appropriations with proposals on how to raise the extra money required.

Special additional payments by students for courses on such subjects as how to "cook and bake," as distinguished from those deemed "absolutely essential."

It was obvious during the three and one half hour session that dollar signs were whirring through the minds of the lawmakers.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), appropriations committee chairman, had expressed hope beforehand that the presidents would put forth a proposal on the question of increasing fees, and perhaps spell out a schedule they would approve.

When nothing like this showed signs of materializing, Porter said:

"If you don't realize this situation, then the legislature will have to do the job."

With an 18 million dollar increase in higher education costs facing them, the legislators are going on the premise that if the students bear a larger share of school costs — now about 20 per cent — the share coming from the state treasury can be pared down accordingly.

One estimate puts at about 15 million dollars the sum that will be collected in fees this year. Thus, they figure, a 20 to 33 per cent increase would reduce the amount of appropriated funds needed by three to five million dollars.

One thing that appeared to gall the lawmakers, and to which they returned repeatedly, was the disparity in tuition charged out-of-state students by the U. of M. and that charged by Ohio State University.

The U. of M. rate is $470 a year. That of O. S. U. is $600. About 25 per cent of U. of M. students are from other states, many of them in graduate schools.

Perhaps the sharpest questioning came from Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron).

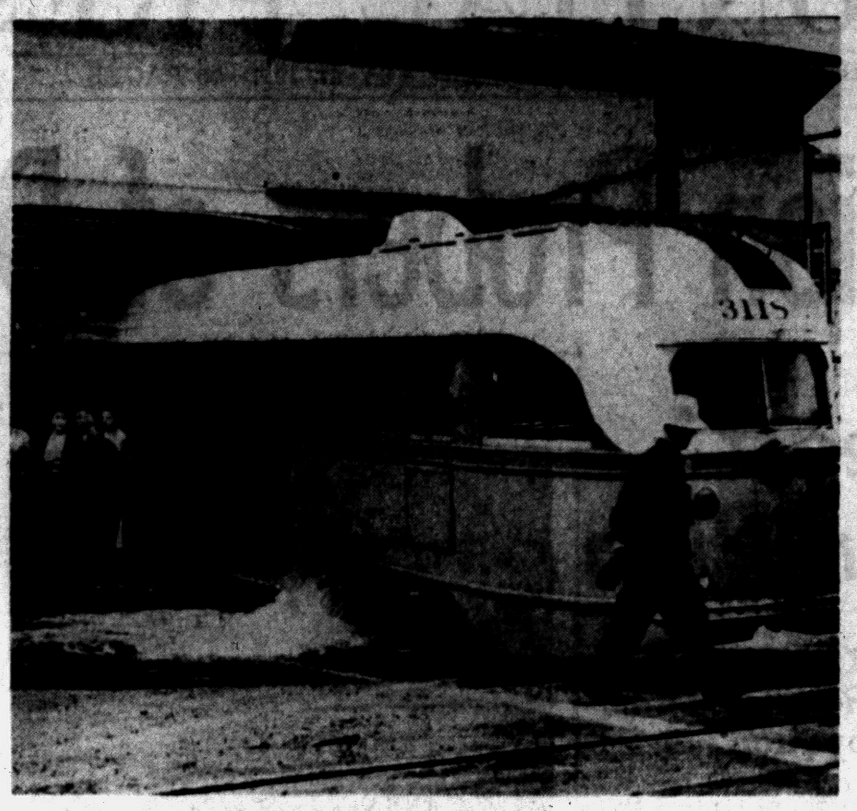

Phillips complained that it appears the U. of M., and perhaps other schools, are not making the best possible utilization of the plant and facilities they already have.

He wondered if "shift work" in laboratories and other expensive facilities might be a partial answer to the cost problem.

Phillips mentioned some persons who had made a high mark in life without the benefit of college training, or much of it.

"William Shakespeare was no dumb bell," he observed.

"These are the things that are going through the minds of a large segment of the people. It's time educators stopped asking for more money and got down to good housekeeping and good business principles," he said.

Pinned Under Car, Clarkston Man Fair

A Clarkston man is fortunate to be alive today, police and hospital spokesmen say, after he was soaked with gasoline while pinned under his car after it turned over on Sunnyside drive near Cecilia Ann road in Independence Township.

William Eugene Wilson, 29, of 5111 Oak Park Dr., told Sheriff's deputies he hit a water hole and lost control of his car. He was thrown from the car and pinned under the automobile for a half hour as gasoline from the broken tank soaked his body.

Wilson's condition is listed as "fair" at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital. He suffered a back injury, gasoline burns, and possible internal injuries. The attending physician, Dr. J. F. Naz, said:

"Wilson was just plain lucky. He was so soaked with gasoline when they brought him into the hospital, that we had to open windows. It's a good thing no one lighted a match along the way."

Hints Preference for 'Thor'

'Only One Missile,' Wilson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson says there will be only one Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile (IRBM). He gave a strong hint yesterday that it will be the Air Force's Thor rather than the Army's Jupiter.

Wilson told a news conference the Army project has been "canceled," but that the Army would continue testing its Jupiter for a time. Parts of the Jupiter might go into the final version of the 1,500-mile range rocket, the defense chief added.

Of the IRBM development program which has brought the Army, Air Force and Navy into competition, Wilson said:

"There is going to be only one, on down the road, not two of them."

In view of the success of the Jupiter and difficulties with the Air Force rocket, some observers wondered why the Jupiter project was canceled. There was no immediate explanation. However, last fall Wilson ruled the Air Force would be the service to use the IRBM, with the Army confined to use of shorter range missiles.

In a speech today Wilson said he believes that America is far ahead of Russia in the scientific race and that this situation is unlikely to change in the foreseeable future.

Wilson said Russia is emphasizing the training of scientists and engineers but that it remains to be seen how effective this will be among the conglomerate peoples that make up the Soviet Union.

Geophysical Year to Be Discussed at Cranbrook

"International Geophysical Year" will be the theme Friday of a day-long science seminar of the world of tomorrow at Cranbrook House, Bloomfield Hills.

Three specialists in their respective fields are slated to speak at the meeting, sponsored by the science departments of Kingswood and Cranbrook schools.

Dr. Helen Prince, associate professor of Astronomy at the MacMath-Hulbert Observatory of the University of Michigan, is the feminine representative in the trio of speakers. Dr. Prince is the only woman member of the Council of the American Astronomical Society and is considered an international authority on solar-terrestial relationships.

Earth satellites will be discussed by J. S. Kirkpatrick, vice president of the Research and Development at Brooks and Perkins, Inc., a firm that makes the artificial moons.

Robert McQuire, chief stylist at the Ford Motor Company will complete the scheduled talks. He will also narrate a new film entitled "The Stylist."

Cranbrook School instructors William Schultz Jr., and Floyd Bunt are in charge of the entire science seminar.

FBI that informed him of the threats to Carl Elkins.

McClellan said: "I believe and hope this committee has the courage in the face of these threats to continue to do its duty."

He added: "Insofar as this committee has any power and insofar as other law enforcement agencies have power and duty, I believe we will exercise it to the limit."

McClellan said Elkins and other witnesses "are performing a patriotic duty to their country comparable to opposing an enemy in time of war."

When Elkins pointed out that his brother was innocent of involvement in racketeering, McClellan replied that innocence meant little to hoodlums.

RESUMES TESTIMONY

The hearing continued with Elkins, an admitted gambler, resuming his testimony about alleged union-underworld operations. He testified yesterday that Seattle vice leaders and Teamsters officials joined forces to elect a "friendly" district attorney in Portland in 1954.

Two prize-winning reporters for the Portland Oregonian, Wallace Turner and William Lambert, also testified that their city was powerless to cope with hoodlums and racketeers "who have risen to prominence and power in the Teamsters Union."

Two men described as big-time Seattle gamblers, Thomas Maloney and Joseph McLaughlin, invoked the Fifth Amendment against self-incrimination when confronted with questions about their activities.

Elkins, however, testified that Maloney intervened in 1954 through Brewster, president of the Western Conference of Teamsters, and the late John Sweeney, Teamsters organizer in Oregon, to get the union to support William Langley for Multnomah County district attorney.

Elkins said the union, although it previously had announced its backing of Langley's opponent, switched its support when Maloney contacted Brewster and Sweeney.

SLOT MACHINES

Elkins said also Maloney, working through Sweeney and Brewster, won permission for him to install slot machines in the Teamsters Labor Temple in Portland.

He testified that he gave $3,600 to the campaign for Langley who, like Elkins himself, Maloney and McLaughlin, is under indictment.

Elkins said he gave about $1,800 directly to Langley and between $1,100 and $1,300 to Maloney.

He testified that Langley had promised to warn him when his gambling establishment might stand in danger of being padlocked.

Elkins said Langley asked after the election what the gambler would require.

The witness said he replied: "Not a h . . . of a lot."

He added that Langley answered: "I'll look after you."

Emergency Force to be deployed along the armistice line and the Gulf of Aqaba, Egyptian agreement not to interfere with freedom of shipping in the gulf, and a U.N. administration to gradually take over from the Israelis in the Gaza Strip.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold circulated a report in the Assembly summarizing his latest talks with Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban.

It disclosed that Eban had inquired whether a U.N. naval patrol might be stationed in the Aqaba Gulf to prevent Egyptian shore guns from resuming their blockade of Israeli ships sailing between the Red Sea and Israel's port of Eilat.

FLIES TO CAPITAL

After talking to Hammarskjold yesterday, Eban flew to Washington to see Secretary of State Dulles. He planned to resume his talks with the secretary general here today.

Meanwhile, in Washington, the White House announced that President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet have extended their talks on U.S.-French relations and plan to confer again tomorrow morning.

No reason was given immediately for the decision to continue the meetings for a third day. The announcement was made following a morning-long discussion between Mr. Eisenhower and Mollet at the White House.

The Day in Birmingham

New Water Ordinance Rules Air-Conditioners

BIRMINGHAM — Citing the most important feature of the new water ordinance is that governing the use and installation of air conditioning equipment. Birmingham commissioners have approved revisions as they now stand.

Air conditioning or other types of cooling machinery will be under rigid control. The superintendent of the water department, has been authorized to not approve any permit where the maximum water consumption shall exceed ten gallons per minute at any period. Persons who have installed systems using above this maximum have been notified of the change and or special charges which they will be expected to comply with.

The new ordinance consolidates the water department bringing it all under the operation of one head. The city manager has appointed the fire chief, Park Smith, to the post of department superintendent.

Other provisions of the ordinance include the installations and maintenance of mains, service pipes, stop boxes, stop cocks and use of the water supplied by the city. Meter jurisdiction will fall under the head of the water department which will also have complete charge of temporary use of water such as that permitted to supply builders. Schedule of costs has been revised to coincide with the additional charge now in effect through the purchase of water from the city of Detroit.

Cupcakes and cookies to be served at the dinner were made by the cubs as a part of earning the Wolf and Bear badges which cub master Norman Miller will present. Den mothers are Den 2 Mrs. Nimrod Quist, Mrs. Charles Bowers and Mrs. Edgeington.

The Issuance of $1,500,000 in school bonds by the City of Birmingham for the local school expansion program was approved yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

The new bond issue is in addition to $5,500,000 previously approved for the ambitious school-building program.

Mrs. Bertha M. Aldrich

Mrs. Aldrich, the mother of Mrs. Louis F. Meier III of Birmingham died Monday in St. Joseph Hospital, Pontiac after a long illness. She was a native of Detroit, a member of the Third Christian Science Church of Detroit and the Woman's City Club.

Other survivors include her husband Edward A. of Detroit, a daughter Mrs. James H. Obey of Pittsburgh and five grandchildren. Private services were held today from Bell Chapel of the Wm. R. Hamilton Co.

Convict Marine Drill Instructors

Sentence Staff Sgt. Rich at Parris Island; Sgt. Jones at Pensacola

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — A bull-voiced Marine staff sergeant was convicted yesterday of assault on a recruit at this basic training post.

A special court-martial sentenced William E. Rich, 23, Canton, N. C., a twice-wounded veteran of Korea, to reduction to the rank of sergeant and a fine of $50 a month for three months.

At the same time, it was learned another drill instructor, Sgt. Clinton L. Jones, Pensacola, Fla., had been tried simultaneously with Rich on charges of mistreating recruits. He was broken to private first class, ordered confined for 30 days and fined $50.

Capt. James F. Mahoney, Marine public information officer, said he had no foreknowledge of the Jones trial, which previously had been announced for "later in the week."

ONE OF 4 ACCUSED

Rich, one of four drill instructos accused of mistreating recruits, was convicted of assault "consummated by a battery" on Pvt. Kenneth Allen Benjamin, New York City.

Originally, he was also accused of striking Pvt. Laverio Glussich, Brooklyn, N.Y., and Pvt. Dominic Tomaro, East Paterson, N.J., and choking Pvt. Gaetona Inglima, North Bergen, N.J.

He denied everything.

As the charges were originally presented, Rich could have received a bad conduct discharge, reduction to private, six months at hard labor and forfeiture of two thirds of his pay—$183.40 a month—during confinement.

Tells of Shooting at Murder Trial

with the dead woman described an evening of drinking leading up to the shooting.

The accused man sat calmly in his chair watching the courtroom proceedings with close interest. He has been held without benefit of bond in Oakland County Jail since the shooting occurred.

Testifying against Rash were Mrs. Evelyn DeLaire, 42; Charles Alverson Jr., 27; Michael Klein, 27, and Russel M. Harvey, 28, all of Rochester.

VISITED TAVERNS

They told of visiting three Rochester taverns Sunday evening in a group that consisted of 10-15 persons including the victim.

Returning, Mrs. DeLaire and Klein testified they had walked with Mrs. Rash to the front porch and were talking, quietly, when Mrs. Rash began opening the front storm door.

"Suddenly the porch light went on," Mrs. DeLaire testified, "and within a matter of seconds the shot was fired.

"First, though, I heard Rash say, 'I've had enough of this.' I thought he was trying to frighten Mrs. Rash.

"Then he shot her and she fell to the porch."

Mrs. DeLaire, a friend of the victim more than ten years, blamed Mrs. Rash's recent drinking on despondency that followed the death of her son, Donald, 23, in an auto accident.

She also admitted her friend had in past years been away from home periodically for "several days" at a time, but denied knowledge Mrs. Rash had ever stayed out all night.

The three men claimed only casual friendship with the dead woman.

Harvey testified he had just arrived at the porch when he saw the barrel of the gun emerge from the door.

Mrs. DeLaire and Alverson testified they drove to Rochester's main street and found an officer, James F. Hurley, who went to the scene.

"Mrs. Rash was still alive, but critical," Hurley said. The victim died before the ambulance arrived.

'Supply Squeeze' on Newsprint to Continue in '57

WASHINGTON (INS) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association told Congress there will be no substantial lessening of the "supply squeeze" on newsprint for the nation's newspapers in 1957.

The report was given to the Senate Commerce Committee by Cranston Williams, general manager of the ANPA, at the opening of public hearings on the newsprint shortage.

Williams calculated that demand for newsprint in 1957 will be 7,150,000 tons, which he said is "exactly balancing with the expected tonnage available."

Sen. Warren Magnuson (D-Wash), committee chairman, joined Williams in emphasizing that there has been a steady increase in newsprint prices, led by boosts from Canadian producers.

Williams testified that since 1946 the base price of newsprint has risen from $68 to $135 per ton.

Magnuson said: "Surely there is some semblance of a cartel arrangement between themselves (Canadian producers) as to price. If this were done in the United States, it might be subject to an anti-trust suit."

He said he hoped later to have Canadian producers or their representatives testify.

Avert Dodge Strike by Agreement Today

DETROIT (AP) — Company and union negotiators reached agreement early today on settlement of issues which threatened to halt assembly operations and idle 100,000 employes at Chrysler Corp.'s Detroit area plants.

A joint statement said all issues involving some 23,000 members of UAW Local 3 at Chrysler's Dodge Main plant were resolved.

At issue in the strike threat were a list of grievances including union charges of a speedup of production standards. The company denied the speedup charge.

HILLSDALE (AP) — The lunch hour was disrupted in Hillsdale Tuesday by a power failure that knocked out water and electric service in the city-owned power plant. The break came during a heavy rainstorm. Service was restored in an hour.

Fire Destroys Icehouse in Waterford Township

An old icehouse next to a grocery store at 5753 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, burned to the ground at 9:30 this morning. Arel Scarobetz is owner of the buildings.

Assistant Fire Chief Louis Goff said he believes that children, using the ice house as a bus shelter, caused the fire. It took an hour for firemen, using two trucks and two tankers, to extinguish the blaze. Scarobetz estimates damages at $300.

French Invest Skill, Cash in Search for Algerian Oil

(Correspondent David Mason hitchhiked across 150 miles of the Sahara Desert to see what the French are doing to extract oil from the parched sand dunes. He is one of the first Americans to visit the project.)

By DAVID MASON

HASSEI MESSAOUD, Algerian Sahara (AP) — Rich, yellow-green crude oil is bubbling out of the sand dune wastes of the Algerian Sahara.

French petroleum engineers believe they have tapped several high-grade pools.

A major oil source of her own would free France of dependency on the Suez Canal.

There are two pressing considerations:

Can the oil be transported economically hundreds of miles ports? Can France hold onto Algeria, deeply torn by a nationalist revolt for nearly 28 months?

Coupled with the heavy expense of transporting drilling equipment is the human problem of man against the merciless heat, knifing sandstorms and water shortage. And the nationalist rebellion has spilled over into the desert, necessitating constant military protection.

But French skill linked with American know-how and equipment have licked most of the technical problems.

Algeria yielded promising flows of oil at three desert points last year. Gas indicating exploitable oil has been found at other locations.

The prize discovery came last August here at Hassi Messaoud, a bleak, rough desert flat, 63 miles southeast of Algiers Hassi Messaoud is virtually isolated except by air or camelback.

Hassi Messaoud's discovery well is the deepest (10,819 feet) and its flow (52 barrels a day) the most abundant of Algerian Sahara wells.

The only living things in sight for miles around the well are an occasional stubborn desert bush or a white-kepied Foreign Legionnaire on guard at a Beau-Geste outpost. Sometimes a camel sways into sight.

New derricks are sprouting on the horizon as drillers attempt to determine the size of the pool tapped by the discovery well.

Until that is known, even the most cautious engineer will not give an estimate of Hassi Messaoud's reserves.

A discovery almost as exciting is this: water, fit for drinking, has been found at depths of only a few hundred feet. It is now being piped throughout the Hassi Messaoud field to supply crews that live in little settlements of bright-colored tents or boxlike wooden houses.

So far there is little but French capital sunk into the Sahara sands. The two biggest companies with total French capital of $77,139,000 hold exploration permits for 170,400 square miles.

American consular officials in Algiers say there is not a penny of American capital in the Sahara oil ventures.

Some French oil officials have taken at face value accusations that American oil interests are supporting the Algerian nationalists with the hope of moving in if France is driven out.

Americans seen in the Sahara are not drilling for oil, but are taking geological soundings to determine likely drilling points. These crews, from the Independent Exploration Co., Houston, Tex., are under French contract, according to the consulate.

The oil discoveries will not be thoroughly tested and confirmed for possibly five years. Meantime the rebellion goes on and on. Perhaps the best France can hope for is a share in the rich yellow-green crude that would not color the Sahara sands but for French enterprise.

Criticize Hungarian City for Changing Names

VIENNA (AP)—A Communist newspaper in Hungary says streets again should be named for Joseph Stalin.

The paper Kisalfoeld criticized the city government of Gyoer, an important industrial city in western Hungary, for having restored street names formerly used "by landowners and capitalists." It added that "it would certainly be a shame not to name a street after Stalin, who — despite his mistakes—doubtless did much good."

All streets and squares in Hungary named after Stalin were renamed during the October anti-Russian revolution.

Hal Boyle Says:

Diamond Arouses Larcenous Urge

NEW YORK (AP) — I stared at a two-million-dollar pear-shaped icicle in my hand, feeling it burn a hole through my palm.

It looked like the fallen, frozen tear of a giantess, a tear that reflected the soft light from a thousand colored candles.

It also looked like a blob of vanilla jelly on fire.

And it gave me, this bright pebble of fortune in my hand, a weird, mixed-up feeling —kind of freezing hot and searing cold at the same time.

"You don't seem very impressed," murmured a disappointed voice that seemed to come from a polar distance. It was the voice of Harry Winston, the noted international dealer in rare ice—the kind of ice one puts in a bank vault instead of a guest's glass.

"I'm impressed,' I said, shaking my mind back into focus. "But for a moment I was afraid it was melting, and you might sue me."

My palm was wet with the honest sweat of dishonest thoughts.

After all, it isn't every day I hold a brand new two-million-dollar diamond — destined to become one of the world's most famous gems — cupped in my grubby paw.

"I suppose this thing has been counted, you must keep pretty good track of it," I mumbled, and, for some reason, fell to thinking of Jesse James, Willie Sutton and Capt. Kidd.

"Look at it!" exclaimed Winston, a short, dark-eyed Napoleon of the hard carbon industry who has sold nearly 200 million dollars in gems in a 40-year career.

Winston, who regards this diamond as his life's masterpiece, says it is unique; that no large diamond—although there are a number larger—in any collection "can equal it in quality and brilliance.

"No, not even the Regent diamond in the Louvre, nor the Cullinan diamond in the Tower of London," he said positively.

The new diamond, as yet unnamed, was cut from a 426-carat South African stone, one in a consignment of 50,000 diamonds that Winston bought in London a year ago for $8,400,000. It cost him $5 in postage to have the 50,000 diamonds flown here by routine airmail in a small cardboard box.

Winston and his staff made 300 lead replicas of the 426-carat stone and studied them for three months figuring the best way to cut it.

It took 10 months—1,400 working hours haunted by the fear of a handslip that would mar a multimillion-dollar beauty—to cut and polish the big stone down to lustrous "Miss Nameless" and two smaller diamonds.

Pear-shaped "Miss Nameless" weighs 128½ carats, or slightly more than nine-tenths of an ounce. Winston himself, borne down by his long ordeal, appears to weigh about 380,800 carats — roughly 170 pounds, give or take a few hundred carats.

"She is more graceful, more lovely, than any woman," he said, "and more brilliant. She has 58 main facets, plus 8? smaller facets around the girdle."

"Is that more facets than a woman has?" I asked.

"I don't know women," said Winston. "I know diamonds."

Could this diamond, by any chance, be for sale?

By one of those surprising coincidences that prove this is a small world after all, it is for sale.

"How can you put a price tag on something priceless?" Winston said. "I really hate to part with it, but I would —for two million dollars."

Public Hearing on Safety Gates

Determine Necessity of Crossing Protection at Saginaw and Wilson

A public hearing will be held March 14 in Lansing to "determine the necessity" of installing safety gates at the railroad crossing at South Saginaw street and Wilson avenue.

Theodore M. Vanderstempel, Pontiac traffic engineer, said the Public Service Commission has called the hearing.

The installation of the gates has been stalemated since the commission ordered Grand Trunk Western Railroad to install them on Jan. 25, 1956.

A conference at the site was held last December between commission, Highway Dept., railroad, and city officials.

"The gates have been deemed necessary by the Highway Dept., Public Service Commission, and the city of Pontiac," Vanderstempel declared.

Vanderstempel has maintained an insistence that the gates "are an absolute necessity."

Fenton Marine Killed by Shot While Hunting

FLINT (AP) — Martin D. Bell, a 19-year-old Marine private home on leave, was killed yesterday in a hunting accident.

State police at Flint said Bell left his suburban Fenton home to go fox hunting alone. He was found dead later in a field by his brother, Donald.

Officers said Bell apparently tried climbing through a barbed wire fence. They said his shotgun discharged, hitting him in the chest.

Justice Brennan Defines '54 Statements on Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Justice William J. Brennan Jr. of the Supreme Court says he favors congressional exposure of Communists but felt in 1954 "We ought to regain our perspective."

That was his reply yesterday to questions from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), who in 1954 was busy investigating Reds as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee. But Brennan testified he had no specific investigating committees in mind when he referred in speeches to "witch hunts" and "barbarism."

Adenauer's Rival a Visitor in U.S.

The head of the Social Democratic party in Germany, Erich Ollenhauer, is in this country on an unofficial visit to make friends and explain his party's stand.

Many think that he has a good chance to be the West German Chancellor after next September's elections. He is the logical candidate to contest the re-election of Chancellor Adenauer.

The Social Democrats favor a general European security system guaranteed by both the United States and Russia in which Germany would be neutral. This, they think, would free West Germany from NATO and East Germany from the Red Warsaw pact. Then the next step could be German reunification.

"Is it not correct for us to inquire whether these military alliances really still serve the intended purpose of maintaining security and peace?" Ollenhauer asked in a New York speech. "The existence of two German armies facing each other as partners or instruments of stronger powers in the background endangers not only the security of our own country but if it continues it also threatens the peace of Europe."

Ollenhauer's party favors abolition of conscription, setting up of a purely professional military establishment and neutralization of West Germany. It also has accused the U. S. of "massive intervention" in German politics.

A major purpose of the visit is to assure our State Department that Ollenhauer's policies do not mean betraying the Western Allies. His party argues that present policies have not worked toward reunification and that its policies would be more effective.

West Germany is probably the most prosperous country in Europe today. That is due not only to the native industry and skill of its people but to U.S. aid, money spent by occupation armies and, up to the present, no outlay for defense.

This country may be dealing with the Social Democrats after the election. Mr. Ollenhauer should be given every opportunity to present his views to our State Department.

Why Not Let Public Decide on Pay-TV?

Pay-as-you-go television has been waging a tremendous battle for the privilege of receiving a trial.

If it were given a fair opportunity to strut its stuff, everyone would have a more accurate idea of its value and whether it should claim a rightful place in the current and future scheme of things.

Perhaps it's a flop.

It may lack merit completely.

But there's only one way to find out and that's to give it a fair and honest trial. Nothing should be condemned unheard in this enlightened age. There have been rumors that the Federal Communications Commission may allow a test run, but with certain restrictions.

Apparently the FCC feels that it has a very hot potato in its lap, but any abortive look-see will prove nothing at all. It won't establish a thing.

The advocates of pay television assert that all top events in America could be piped directly into the home for a very small charge as the total number of listeners would be so great. Its opponents seem to feel that enough great events are offered now, and they come gratis.

Of course, the "free" part is open to challenge. The corny and dreary commercials are increasing and multiplying. Some of them are so pathetic listeners actually cringe at home in the dark. Hence, many viewers may prefer to pay a small charge and see something better and at the same time avoid this unwelcome and often exasperating feature of a splendid art.

If pay-TV is what the people want, they should have the chance to declare themselves. If they find that it's an unnecessary expense and a pain in the neck, they'll declare themselves quickly, freely and without restraint.

That's a habit of the American people.

Why not let them decide?

"Bone comprises 43 per cent of your head's weight," says an anatomist. Say, fellow, let's not get personal.

The Man About Town

Where They Go

Florida Still Is Favorite as Winter Vacation State

Leisure time: Often so expensive that we cannot afford it.

Our people in Pontiac and vicinity seem to be favoring Florida for winter vacation trips. In requests for routing, Auto Club Manager states that the Florida flitters are about in the same proportion as last year, California being next in line, with a scattering few going to other southern states.

Local Greyhound Manager

voices about the same findings, with the addition that some are going the tour way, and visiting several southern states.

Grand Trunk Ticket Agent

William B. Gracey

says quite a few are California bound, but the majority favor Florida. He points out that some people are not aware that Pontiac has good rail service for Chicago connections to all southern and western points, as well as through Detroit.

Another commuter to Pontiac who says he enjoys it at all seasons,

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick drives up from Royal Oak every day.

From a copy of the

Pontiac Weekly Gazette,

issued on Feb. 27, 1889, given me by

Burnaby Saxton

of Drayton Plains, I learn of some retail prices in local stores 68 years ago: bacon, 11c; eggs, 10c; sugar, 4c; coffee, 12c; butter, 10c; calico, 8c; good cigars 2c; tobacco 12c; corn whisky, 75c a gallon.

A Florida road sign tells tourists to

"Keep Florida Green—Bring Money."

Mourning doves are not uncommon in corn fields in winter, according to

of Utica. She fed eight pairs of them in the field near her house last winter, and this year has had several daily visits from another pair.

Another Pontiac professional man who commutes up from Ferndale is whose mileage exactly matches that of MAT who drives down from Holly.

Claiming that his beautiful village of 600 good people, just over the line in Lapeer County, is the safest place in the world to live,

Fire Chief Robert Weingartz

of Dryden tells me that it had no fire losses in 1956. His men made only four local runs, two for grass fires and two for chimney fires, there being no financial loss in any of these cases.

While we know he is making a great start at his new job, our

tells me there's a lot of prestige coming his way in being spoken of as "The man they selected to succeed and gets every endorsement from him."

After a Long, Bleak Winter

David Lawrence Says:

Welfare Costs Bulge Ike's Budget

WASHINGTON — Just why is the federal budget so high? Is Ike becoming New Dealish and a convert to big spending?

The answer to both questions is that, once a commitment is made to a certain line of welfare expenses, the annual outlays grow bigger and bigger. Whether President Eisenhower likes it or not, he has to go along with the programs which have been initiated under previous administrations and which it is almost impossible for him or any future President, politically at least, to abandon.

LAWRENCE

That's the real story of what's back of the high budget. And the lesson to be learned is never to start any new line of commitments, such as federal aid to school construction, unless the American people, with their eyes wide open, realize that this means a constantly increasing expenditure indefinitely and not merely, as has been represented, a temporary plan for "just a few years."

The best way to explain the nature of these older commitments and what they mean in the course of only three years is to examine the expenditures for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954, and note the increases that have been made in those same items for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957.

In this short interval here are some of the increases:

MILITARY COSTS

1. Approximately $2,774,000,000 is the result of increases for military operations and upkeep, military housing and bases, military research, maintenance of reserve forces, including one item of an additional $124,000,000 for pensions for retired military personnel and another increase of $483,000,000 to develop the atom.

2. Another huge addition—$4,042,000,000—has come about primarily because of a $3,696,000,000 increase in pensions for retired workers, widows and orphans, the needy aged, the blind, and the disabled, and a series of items such as $200,000,000 for school construction, and $132,000,000 for medical research.

There is an increase of $17,000,000 for school lunches, which now are to cost $100,000,000 a year, and, if anybody in Congress proposes to cut out this last sum, he will get into trouble politically back home, though everyone knows American parents aren't starving and can afford to pay a few cents a day to the school to prepare hot lunches for their children. Other welfare expenditures of different kinds add up to an increase of $347,000,000 over what was being spent three years ago for the same things.

VETERANS' BENEFITS

3. Now in another category—veterans' benefits—there's a total increase of $591,000,000, and it's hard for Congressmen to vote to cut that down.

4. In the aid given to the farmers, the total is up $455,000,000 over what it was three years ago.

5. In the international programs, diplomatic activities show an increase of $440,000,000, but, even figuring this in and noting that economic aid has come down by $25,000,000 since 1954, it would appear that the net increase for foreign aid is about $415,000,000. 000,000 which the U.S. government will be spending to redeem its previously given notes of that amount to the international monetary fund. Presumably these notes could be floated in the open market and an equal sum collected.

COMMITMENTS UP

What it all adds up to is about $12,500,000,000 more than was being spent three years ago, and a large part of it is directly related to congressional commitments to projects and policies initiated long before the present administration came into power.

This excludes an item of $500,-

The annual expense now grows because prices have risen and costs are higher than ever before. Also, as the population increases, there are more individuals retired, more who are entitled to pensions and more children who attend schools and need free lunches, and so on all along the line.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Here's Enlightening Data on Blackheads, Pimples

"When I was about 14 years old I sent for your pamphlet on Acne, Blackheads and Pimples," writes Mrs. R. F. (Any correspondent may have the pamphlet if he or she provides stamped, self-addressed envelope.) "It did wonders for me. I used to be so self-conscious and sensitive about my face. Now my 11-year old daughter is starting to get these blemishes on her face, and I don't want her to be as miserable a youngster as I was because of my acne." (Mrs. R. G. C.)

BRADY

Fourteen. At fourteen pimples and blackheads are a serious affliction even for a boy. I know because I suffered with acnes at that age.

For a girl it must be far worse. In her early teens a girl's concern about her complexion, in these days of beauty hokum, is apt to go far beyond natural feminine vanity and become a morbid obsession. This accounts for much of the traffic in cosmetic nostrums.

For the enlightenment of misinformed persons and the benefit of young persons with blackheads and pimples it is well to remember that:

BLOOD PURE

1. The blood of a person with acne is as pure as the blood of one without any skin trouble.

2. In my time I have seen and treated a good many cases of syphilis, but I can't recall a case that showed on the face.

3. Oiliness or a moderately greasy state is the normal, healthy and beautiful condition of a young person's skin and not, as so many credulous youngsters imagine, a condition to be combated with solvents or concealed with face powder.

4. Among trick specialists it has lately become the fashion to say cooking and at table, instead of that the use of iodized salt for ordinary salt, "can" cause or aggravate acne. I suppose mice "can" nest in the cat's ear!

FILLS OPENING

5. Blackheads are not due to uncleanliness. A blackhead is an accumulation of sebum (skin oil) filling the opening of a sebaceous follicle—the outlet of a skin oil gland. The whitish sebum mass becomes darkened at the mouth of the follicle by grime or dust.

The "blackhead" is the worm-shaped mass of sebum expressed by gently squeezing the skin between the two index fingers.

6. Skin trouble has as much to do with one's sexual life or habits as lung trouble or joint trouble has.

7. Ordinarily, whether any blackheads or pimples are present or not (most young persons have some at one time or another) the best skin and complexion care is a daily washing with soap and warm water—plain toilet soap—and soft washcloth, and rinsing with tepid or cool water, and drying with soft towel, without too vigorous rubbing or scrubbing, which irritates the skin.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Mother Says Waterford School Buses Unsafe

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Last April an article appeared in The Pontiac Press reporting "School Bus Hits Tree; Six Hurt." The injuries reported as minor were hardly minor to the child who spent two days in the hospital having his broken teeth extracted or to my child who will carry a bump on her forehead for a lifetime.

On the way home from the hospital we stopped at the Waterford School Bus garage and learned that the maintenance of the 29 buses was handled by one mechanic and a garage manager in the daytime and one mechanic at night whose duties included gassing the buses and checking tires.

There was no regular inspection system and repairs were handled on a driver complaint basis.

I intended at the time of this accident to write to The Pontiac Press to inform parents of children using the Waterford Township School Bus System who were unaware that this situation existed but we were asked to go through the proper channels.

We went through these channels to be informed that they felt they had enough help, that the Waterford Township School Bus System was comparable to other school bus systems but they would attempt to improve the situation.

I appeal now to the Pontiac Press to publish my letter as it is evident that no improvement has been made. The buses are breaking down with increasing regularity.

I spent a frantic half-hour yesterday watching for my children to come home from school to learn that the bus had broken down again.

Every break-in is a possible tragedy. Proper inspection would have prevented the kindergarten bus accident.

We are ignoring our responsibilities if we do nothing to remedy this situation. For what purpose do we educate our children if we jeopardize their lives each time they ride these potential death traps?

Likes Orlon Better, Sheep Get Wool

Is Carlotta's waist really 16 and was the bust measurement with chest expanded? Better check, Grandpa. Don't want a battle of the bulges, but was always led to believe the perfect female figure was with the bust and hips 10 inches larger than the waist. Anyway, I'll leave the wool for the sheep. I like orlon better.

Driver Answers Letter on Taxis

In answer to "Rider's" letter about dirty taxicabs, let me ask him how many miles a day he drives his car. Taxis start their day shift at 6 a.m. and do not choose the type of street or road they may wish to go on. If Mr. or Mrs. Rider lives on the muddiest street in town and wishes to call a cab, they expect that cab to come to the door and pick them up. They expect cabs to travel on streets where they themselves say they would not even try to get through.

Another thing, if people would try, the interior of cabs would be cleaner. But no, they kill their cigarette butts on the floor, even though they are just getting out, throw empty packages on the floor, gum wrappers, etc., too lazy to open and close a window. They let their children climb in with wet, muddy feet and up onto the seats they go. If the driver says anything about it, some, not all, mothers are very insulted. Do these same people get into their own cars that way?

A cab travels 10 to 12 hours each shift and most are on the road 24 hours a day, averaging better than 100 miles each shift, all city driving, taking the slush and dirt. The majority of us cab drivers are courteous, careful drivers, and I believe if the records were checked, we would be called the safest drivers in the city.

Old Cab Driver

'Don't Complain—Look at Europe'

I just saw an ad for the new English car that gets 42 miles to the gallon. It does this because the horsepower is 34 on the brakes at 4700 revolutions. This car wouldn't run fast enough to keep out of the way of the bicycles and the kiddy scooters in the United States.

This is part of England's "no gasoline" program. You can't drive 50 miles a week. In France you get 4.5 gallons a week. And yet some people complain in the United States.

Shop Man's Wife Answers Letter

How much does the postman's wife think men in the shop make? She states that shop men make as much in six months as her husband does in twelve.

That is quite an exaggeration. Where people get the idea shop pay is so high I'll never know. My husband makes an average of $4,500 a year (when he isn't laid off.) Believe me, for a family of four, we aren't living the life of Rockefeller.

I suppose she thinks the men in shops just snap their fingers and get a raise. Every raise they ever got was fought and sacrificed for. Maybe the postmen are underpaid, but comparing them with shop workers is ridiculous. The shop worker's wife is struggling just as hard as the postman's to make a living.

Why doesn't her husband go to work in the shop if she thinks they are living in luxury?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Fairy Tale Illustrates Psychology

Ogre was a cruel giant. But a Good Fairy bewitched him. Ogre illustrates a very important psychological truth. For he proves that we can become slaves to good habits as well as bad. "Go through the proper motions and you'll soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions," is the law of psychology you should memorize.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-315: Ogre was a very cruel giant. He towered high above the heads of all the peasants in his country.

And he delighted in killing them as well as wantonly destroying their houses. He would devour their cattle and even resort to cannibalism.

So the entire countryside was in deathly fear of Ogre.

Then a Good Fairy waved her magic wand over Ogre's head as he lay sleeping in his mountain cave.

She bewitched Ogre, though he didn't know it, so that for the next 10 years he would perform only good and kind deeds.

The next day he was hungry so he strode through the forest and came out upon the road on which farmers drove their ox carts to the village market.

It had rained the night before and the dirt road was full of mud holes.

A poor farmer was frantically trying to extricate his cart from the mire when he happened to look up and see Ogre.

Paralyzed with fear, he was entirely speechless. But as Ogre came closer, he fell on the ground, and begged:

"Oh, please eat my oxen but spare my life."

But Ogre reached down and seized his arm. However, Ogre didn't devour him. Instead, he seated the farmer on his ox cart and then lifted the wheel out of the mud.

The peasant was too shocked for words as Ogre sent him onward toward the village, unharmed.

When the farmer later told about his experience, nobody would believe him. But from time to time, other peasants met Ogre.

And each time Ogre would help them in some way, instead of killing them. So the people developed a new attitude toward the giant. They now considered him their helper and defender and friend.

FAIRY MAGIC

Neither Ogre nor the peasants knew what had produced this remarkable change. They didn't realize it was all a result of the Good Fairy.

Ultimately, the king of the realm died, so the people chose Ogre to be their monarch. And he served them faithfully. He was the constant friend of the poor.

But at the end of the 10 years, the Good Fairy returned and during Ogre's sleep at the palace, she again waved her wand over his head, thus removing her magic spell.

The next day Ogre was out in the forest engaging in a royal hunt. As he came upon the dirt road, he saw a peasant farmer mired in a mud hole, almost exactly like the situation of 10 years earlier.

The peasant smiled in delight as Ogre approached, for neither the peasant nor Ogre realized that the Fairy's spell was finished.

Ogre reached down and seized the peasant. And what do you think happened?

Did he dash the farmer's brains upon the axle of the cart and devour him, as had been his custom prior to the onset of the Good Fairy's spell?

No! Ogre was now such a slave to the 10 years of good habits, that he politely lifted the farmer upon the cart and then pulled the cart out of the mire.

For Ogre demonstrated a very fundamental law of psychology, to wit:

"If you go through the proper motion, you'll soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions!"

If we ordinary mortals act polite and use good English and lend our support to moral causes and smile and pay deserved compliments to our companions for much less than Ogre's 10-year spell, then, we, too, shall become slaves to those same good habits.

Thereafter, we'll be happy and popular, in spite of our grumpy former selves!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Quarreling Over Cyprus Greatly Weakens NATO

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The old Cyprus issue has burst forth again in the United Nations, and it is a quarrel that greatly weakens the strength of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Britain and Greece are the main antagonists in this dispute, but Turkey also is a power that must be heard because:

The nation has a large minority population on the island of Cyprus, the island is only about 40 miles off the coast of Turkey and therefore figures very heavily in any Turkish security arrangements.

The controversy over Cyprus is not new. It has been going on for decades, but only after World War II did the case become so acute.

Archbishop Makarios of the Greek Orthodox Church led the drive of the Greek-descended Cypriots for independence of the British, who rule the island as a crown colony.

WANT ANNEXATION

The Greek-descended Cypriots, who make up about four-fifths of the entire population, want so-called "self-determination," which in effect means that they want Greece to annex the island.

The British justify their stand in keeping a commanding voice on the island by saying that Cyprus is a strategic holding, that Britain is acting in behalf of the entire NATO command.

Turks want the British to keep Cyprus. The Turkish leaders point out that Cyprus, in all its history of invasion, never has been ruled by Greece, and they see no reason why the island should be governed by Greece today.

The Turkish argument is based not only on deep feelings about a territory which the Turks themselves once ruled. It is based on genuine fears that Communists may eventually gain control of the island which is practically at the doorstep of the Turkish mainland.

The Turkish position may be summarized in this way:

First of all, the Turks want Britain to keep Cyprus as a crown colony, while granting many autonomous freedoms to the populace.

MINORITY BENEFIT

But, if Greek Cypriots insist on discarding British rule, the Turks says that "self-determination" will have to work also for the benefit of the Turkish minority.

In other words, the entire island never can be annexed by Greece. It will have to partitioned and part of it be ruled by Turkey, which ruled the whole island before it became a British colony.

Glass Wall Shatters, Doctor Carries On

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — A British test pilot broke through the sound barrier yesterday and shattered a glass wall in the operating room at Southport Hospital. Glass and debris showered on a surgeon and seven nurses hunched over an unconscious woman.

Dr. John Campbell was nearing the end of a two-hour operation on the woman.

"I checked the knife in my hand momentarily . . . and then went on," the surgeon said. "Some of the nurses gave a little yell, then carried on as if nothing had happened."

Old Monstrosity? Art Masterpiece? No Peace to Penn

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Is it a shocking eyesore, or a mellowed masterpiece of art? Should it be destroyed, or should it simply be touched up by doting experts?

Such questions revolved today around Philadelphias City Hall, a dollop of gingerbread and offbeat Gothic architecture with William Penn at the top.

More than 400 members of the Citizens Council of City Planning got together and resumed the old argument.

"It's a pretentious monstrosity," huffed one citizen planner.

"Rot!" puffed another. "It's in a class by itself."

The first man hooted back: "That's exactly what I meant."

Mayor Richardson Dilworth reckoned it would cost about 40 million dollars to give the old pile a proper face-lifting, and to his mind it would not be worth that much. Let the Penn Tower stand as a centerpiece for City Hall Square, he said, but replace the huge hall itself with a cluster of new buildings, functional yet nice to look at.

Sydney E. Martin, chairman of the board of the School of Fine Arts, asserted that City Hall "has many of the handsomest rooms of any public building in America," and that less than eight million dollars would be needed to perk up the less ravishing features of the building.

Aiken to Quiz Bruce on Aid

Solon to Question New U.S. Envoy to Germany on 'Weak Report'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said today he is "not going to raise any rumpus" about President Eisenhower's appointment of David K. E. Bruce as ambassador to Germany.

But Aiken said that as a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he intends to question Bruce closely about what the senator called "a weak report" on foreign aid to Latin America.

It was Aiken's public blast at the administration for the nomination of Bruce, a Democratic campaign contributor, that set off Senate debate yesterday on political considerations in diplomatic appointments.

Bruce, a former ambassador to France under the Truman administration, got the endorsement of Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California and Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas. Both predicted the nomination will be confirmed.

Only a Few Spaces Left on City Chamber's Trip to Detroit Meeting

A few reservations still remain for tomorrow night's Congressional Issues Clinic" trip being sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

John W. Hirlinger, Chamber manager, said 24 spaces have been filled, including four high school civics students, who will attend the Detroit meeting as guests of the Chamber.

The clinic is part of a month-long tour of top businessmen from the country who will lead panel discussions on taxes, spending, government competition, wages and labor and present a "climate" for economic growth.

The day's program costs $7. This includes round-trip bus transportation, registration and luncheon.

Buses will leave the City Hall at 8 a.m. and will return by 5:30. The clinic, sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will be held at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

Hospital Budget Wins Approval

Pontiac General Hospital's 1957 budget — totaling $3,895,477, or $869,473 more than last year's — was approved without discussion last night by the City Commission.

What discussion or questions commissioners had concerning the plan, was taken up last Thursday at a joint meeting of the commission and the board of trustees of the hospital.

At that time it was explained by board members that the reason for the increase rested with increased salaries and appropriations for the Pontiac General Annex, the former county contagious hospital, being leased by the city.

Other action last night included instructions to City Manager Walter K. Willman to proceed with the $300 purchase of a lot on the west side of Osmun Lake, and in the Dixieland Subdivision.

A communication from the city engineer explained the purchase would complete a city purchase of most lots in the area.

REQUEST TO REZONE

A request from a building firm that the city rezone some 166 lots in the South Park Subdivision to industrial or light manufacturing was referred to the City Planning Commission.

It was declared a public necessity for a sanitary sewer on the northwest side of Montcalm street from Oakland to Blaine.

Over the objections of Commissioners Floyd P. Miles and Gilbert W. Long, the firm of Metes & Powers, Inc. was granted permission to expand its wholesale beer and wine warehouse at 375 Franklin Rd.

A request from Sarkis P. Schnorkian to transfer a 1956 liquor license at 262 E. Pike St. from Stanley and Robert Roat was approved by the commission.

A right-of-way agreement between the city and The Pontiac Press for the widening and deepening of the Pontiac Creek was accepted. "This is part of the general program to clear the creek from Huron to Deland Court," Willman told the commission.

APPROVES ASSESSMENTS

A special assessment roll—totaling around $4,900—was accepted by commissioners. The roll is for unpaid charges owed the city for its weed-cutting program of private lots last summer.

Willman said some changes would be made, as recommended by the Parks and Recreation Dept. and the city assessor, for next year's program.

Willman, as Civil Defense director for Pontiac, was appointed agent to receive any federal surplus property for CD purposes.

Twelve public hearings were held on special assessment rolls to finance two-inch blacktopping projects in the city this year. No objections were voiced from the audience.

The commission also heard no objections during another 14 hearings on intention to construct other numerous public improvement jobs.

Deferred one week was a move to construct a sidewalk on the south side of Newberry street from Monroe to Murphy. A gentleman asked why Monroe street, instead of Newberry, should not be receiving a sidewalk. Willman said he would investigate the request.

Public hearings were set for next Tuesday on intention to construct the following sidewalks in the city:

On Astor street from Auburn to East Pike; the north side of Kennett road from Stanley to the west line of assessor's plat 144; south side of Liberty street from Dwight to Murphy; south side of Newberry street from Waldo to the west line of lot 104 in the Recreation Park Subdivision; east side of Sanford street from Osmun to the south line of lot 11, assessor's replat of the Osmun Subdivision; and on the north side of Spokane drive from the west line of lot 54 to the east line of lot 15, assessor's plat 109.

Vocal Program by Junior Highs Draws Big Crowd

More than 1,200 eighth graders from Pontiac's Junior High Schools, plus ninth grade vocal music classes, performed to a capacity crowd Tuesday evening at the Pontiac High School gym.

Under the direction of George H. Putnam, supervisor of secondary vocal music, assisted by several music teachers, the group performed a number of choral works. In addition, four dance numbers were presented, accompanied by vocal groups.

Glenn H. Griffin, board of education member, spoke briefly before the program started.

Participating schools and their teachers were: Eastern—Leonard Griffin, Margaret Snyder and Mrs. Florine Tompkins; Jefferson—Mrs. Eleanore Pyles; Lincoln—Sue Eckley, Julius Middledorf and Jerry Smith; Madison—William Coffing and Mimi Taormina; Washington—Faith Cook and Gordon Wilder.

Windy City Gets Shower of Money

CHICAGO (AP) — Gusty winds brought a shower of money—as well as rain showers—on Michigan Avenue yesterday.

The money—$610 in 10s, 20s and a $100 bill—came from the purse of Mrs. Ruby East, 39, as she was walking near the Drake Hotel. She was unaware her purse had opened until a man shouted, "Lady, your money is blowing out!"

Mrs. East frantically ran after the bills, which whipped down sidewalk and gutter and blew across the street in front of buses and cars. Two other women ran to help her. The women, dodging traffic, rounded up $410. The missing money included the $100 bill.

Mrs. East said she had the money in her purse because she intended to pay her life insurance.

Jackson Admits Slaying

DETROIT (AP)—Roland J. Jackson, 51, of Detroit, was bound to Circuit Court yesterday on a first degree murder charge in the slaying of his estranged wife, Helen, 49, in a downtown department (Hudson's) store Feb. 15.

Jackson admitted slaying his wife, who was an employe of the store.

Jackson's son, Brock, a 23-year-old Air Force lieutenant, was a witness against the father. He testified his father had threatened his mother and often beat her.

Background of Blueprints Shows Business Boom

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Well, things certainly seem to be humming.

First, President Eisenhower says the economy is booming as never before, and today comes the national association of blueprint and diazotype coaters to back him up.

The association says that in 1956 its members sold 75 million dollars worth of paper, and that they plan to peddle 85 million this year.

This, the association says, is sure "evidence of the dynamic nature of the general economy."

Big blueprint sales mean everyone is planning big for the future; low blueprint sales, watch out, brother.

Maybe you can't tell a diazotype from a dinosaur, but it plays an important role in your present and future.

A blueprint or a diazotype — we'll struggle to explain the difference later — lurks behind nearly every item we buy or use. Or as the association says:

DRAWING COMES FIRST

"Everything produced starts with a drawing."

The aircraft industry appears to show the least restraint in this respect.

Association experts have figured out, with considerable satisfaction, that 35,000 drawings, and 1¼ million copies, are needed for each 60-passenger commercial airliner.

But all businesses use blueprints and diazotypes like crazy. Now the government — which is great for planning — has stepped in, too. It buys from 10 to 15 per cent of all the paper produced.

It seems odd to recall now that the blueprint has been around only a little more than 100 years. It was invented by Sir John Frederick William Herschel, a famous English astronomer who was the son of another famous English astronomer, Sir Frederick William Herschel.

While Sir John was in college he entered into a compact with a couple of his friends, Dean Peacock and Charles Babbage, "to do their best to leave the world wiser than they found it."

They did, too. The three friends got up a work on differential calculus, and Herschel went on to excel in astronomy and chemistry.

The blueprint had the field to itself until the 1920s when the diazotype process came out of the Netherlands and Germany.

Let's not get too involved — shall we? — in the technical differences between the two. Let's just say the blueprint is a ferroprussiate process that is a negative. That is, the dark comes out light and the light dark, which accounts for those white lines on a blue background.

The diazotype paper, so named because it developed from benzene - derived compounds known as diphonium salts, comes out positive and can be used in colors.

Now three times more diazotype is used than blueprint. Even so, so much blueprint is being used that it, too, is setting records.

So the world moves on, its course well charted on blueprint and diazotype paper. And how they built the pyramids without blueprints we'll never know.

Texas Rep. Cox in Bribe Charge

Solon Authored Bill to Control Naturopaths; $5,000 Involved

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — State Rep. James E. Cox has been charged with agreeing to accept a bribe after a physician complained to state officials that Cox offered to kill a medical bill for $5,000.

Dr. Howard Harmon of San Antonio, president of The Texas Naturalopathic Physician's Assn., said Cox offered to withdraw a bill in the Texas Legislature for that sum. The bill, authored by Cox, would repeal a statute regulating naturopaths and, in effect, would put them out of business in Texas.

Naturopaths use natural therapy rather than drugs or surgery in healing.

Cox surrendered early today in his home town of Conroe, Tex., about 60 miles north of Houston. Bond of $5,000 was posted.

Dr. Harmon said Cox, 36, made the offer to accept the alleged bribe in a conversation with him in a hotel here Feb. 20.

He said he came to Austin to discuss the bill with Cox, 'and he let me know it was 'one of those business deals.'

Carr announced the charge against Cox to Capitol newsmen.

Nehru Keeps Mum on Plane Trouble

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru returned to New Delhi today in an American-made plane. He brushed aside inquiries about his Russian aircraft, which made a forced landing yesterday after one engine caught fire.

Asked what he thought now about the Ilyushin-14 Soviet Premier Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev gave him, Nehru told newsmen:

"It is for the experts to find out what happened in the plane, and I have no opinions about the plane in which I have been traveling the past one and half years."

Actress Asks Divorce

Was Student Too Alert?

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Pity 13-year-old Earl Castle. He promptly reported a fire at the Monroe Junior High School and firemen confined the blaze to one room. Result: school as usual.

Boy's Short Cut Ends Abruptly in Deep Mud

DETROIT (AP) — Paperboy Ward Hummel Jr., 13, took a shortcut through a vacant lot yesterday as he delivered his papers in the rain. He sank to his knees in mud.

Struggling was useless, so he began waving to passing cars. No one stopped. An hour or so later, a man emptying garbage heard his yells. He tried to pull him out, but the youngster just wouldn't budge.

Two policemen were called. All three pulled — to no avail.

Finally, by building plank ramps around Ward, they got in position again, set themselves and pulled. Out came the boy.

His mother delivered the papers.

Driver Flees Car Stalled on RR Track

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William McCroskey was glad he stepped out of his automobile.

The car was hit by a Louisville & Nashville freight a few minutes later while McCroskey vainly tried to flag the train with a handkerchief.

McCroskey's car stalled on the crossing. He got out when the flashing signal lights started.

His car was demolished. McCroskey wasn't hurt.

Bob Considine Says:

1974 Newspaper Tells Strange Tale

NEW YORK (INS) — 'Strawdinary thing happened to yrs. truly the other night as, with faithful hound at heel, deerstalker hat set firmly on head, and cloak making rustling sounds through the murkey mews, I strode my nightly constitutional.

There at my feet, as if fallen abruptly from on high, lay a newspaper. I fetched it to the nearest lamppost, and by its feeble rays saw something which—not comprehended at first—eventually caused eye-popping of the first order.

The newspaper was dated Feb. 28, 1974.

Only the steel of a nerve which won flattering mentions on several fronts, including the Cold Front, restrained and crushed the desire to turn to the racing results, and to the features to see how Wallis Simpson made out.

The eye was forced to read the lead story on page 1, and it must be said to have been revealing. But for cursed luck—a vagrant wind soon snatched the paper from hand and blew it away down Vesey street—I would confound you with it now.

But I cannot forget its words. They are now graven and will be with me when I go to same:

"Stockholm, Feb. 28 — The King of Sweden tonight presented the Nobel Peace Prize to U.S. Secretary of State Abner Q. Fessenden III. Secretary Fessenden, following an American custom that has gained strong root in recent years, awarded the King $38,000, causing his majesty to recall, not without a wistful trace, the day when just the reverse was true.

MEATBALL SANCTIONS

"Mr. Fessenden said that the decision of the Nobel committee was a correct one and, for the time being, at least, his government would not exercise meatball sanctions against Sweden. This threat had caused a cabinet crisis and mutterings in the Bourse only days before.

"In making the presentation, his majesty stated:

" 'Secretary Fessenden crystallized years of groping American foreign policy by proposing and then implementing the Fessenden Plan, which has brought to the world an era of peace it has not known since the Pax Britanica.

" 'It serves no purpose here to dwell at length on the makeup of the Fessenden Plan except to comment that it was the natural culmination of a policy on which the United States had embarked, at first with timidity and later with increasing momentum.

" 'Suffice it to say that Secretary Fessenden refined it to the 'nth degree in his now famous speech before the United States Congress (Riksdag) when he declared that his country had decided to settle the then lingering dispute between Egypt and Israel by buying both countries.

A BIG PARK

" 'The two countries, as every rocket traveler knows, are now one big park. The Aswan Dam, completed only last year, supplies water for the fountains.

" 'Other parks are now under construction in the former Soviet Union, Yugoslavia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Albania, North Korea and Red China—all of them recently purchased and seeded.' "

Jackie Gleason sent Toots Shor, star of the Toots Shor Show (formerly The $64,000 Challenge), a wire reading:

"Good luck, but how are they going to get you into the isolation booth?"

Franco is in the news. Reporter I know flew from London to Madrid once to interview him, but he had just left for Barthelona. "We have, however, arranged for you to interview his brother, " a general said.

"That's like getting Everett Crosby's autograph," the reporter snorted.

Art Collection Sold by Actor Robinson

NEW YORK (AP) — The bulk of actor Edward G. Robinson's art collection has been sold to a New York art firm for more than three million dollars, one of the largest transactions of its kind.

E. Coe Kerr Jr., president of M. Knoedler & Co., century-old international art firm, announced yesterday that the company had bought the Robinson art.

The actual price paid for the 58 paintings and one bronze — which made up all but 14 of the Robinson art works — was not disclosed.

The paintings are predominantly impressionist and post-impressionist. Among them are works of Cezanne, Corot, Gaugin, Gericault, Van Gogh, Matisse, Roualt, Seurat, Toulouse-Leutrec and Renoir.

Robinson, now 63, formed the collection over a 25-year period.

Earth Satellite Will Provide Data for Flight to Moon

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Dr. Lee de Forest, often called the father of modern electronics, sees the artificial earth satellite as a springboard for manned rocket flights to the moon within 50 years.

The famed scientist, speaking in Los Angeles yesterday, said he doubted that atomic powered craft would be used for the flight to the moon.

He pointed out:

"It takes an enormous amount of machinery to get turbine energy out of uranium — even though the weight of the fuel is negligible. The moon rocket most likely will use a solid or liquid type fuel."

Dr. de Forest said that the U.S. artificial "moon" to be fired into space within the next year or two will supply much of the information needed for man to escape the limits of his earth.

He said:

"Doubtless a great many brave scientists will die in the first attempt to reach and to land on the moon. But there always have been enthusiastic people willing to take these risks."

$1,000 May Be Yours for Try at Pot-O-Gold

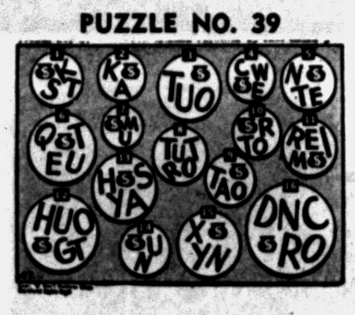

Old Pot-O-Gold is back into the four-figure class, with this week's puzzle offering $1,000 to the person who succeeds in finding the correct solution. Your chances are just as good as the next guy's, so start working now and get your entry in early. Read the rules to find the deadline date . . . a late entry is worse than no entry at all . . . think how you'll feel if you had the right answer, but failed to meet the deadline.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3 To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be acepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 39 must bear a Tuesday, March 5, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6 Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

7th Turncoat Quits Red China

Hawkins Says Russia's Acts in Hungary Incited Desire to Leave

By JOHN RODERICK

HONG KONG (AP)—The youngest American turncoat of the Korean War left Red China today saying he quit the Communist mainland in disgust over the "wanton killing by Russia in Hungary."

Samuel David Hawkins, now 23, declared he had made it plain to the Red Chinese authorities he wanted to leave because of the Soviet Union's action in putting down the Hungarian rebellion last fall. The Oklahoma City youth told reporters the Chinese did not try to stop him.

Hawkins is the seventh to come home of 21 U. S. soldiers who were captured during the Korean fighting and chose to remain with the Communists. One died in China and 13 are still there.

The returnee came from Canton to the border by train and crossed the border railroad bridge on foot. He was met by U. S. Vice Consul S. M. Backe.

Backe questioned him and said he was satisfied the youth had not forfeited his U. S. citizenship. It was expected Hawkins would be given a one-way passport to the United States. His citizenship would have been forfeited automatically if it had been found that he had served in a foreign army, voted in a foreign election, or done similar things. He was dishonorably discharged from the Army in 1954.

Cadets to Get Awards for Completion of Steps in CAP Program

Eleven members of the Pontiac Civil Air Patrol Squadron will be honored tonight for completion of steps in the CAP's Cadet Training and Incentive Program.

The cadets will receive their awards from Major Henry M. Vanderstek of the Air Force, who is CAP Liaison Officer for the Michigan Wing of the Civil Air Patrol.

Cadet 1st Lt. J. Wesley Jennings will receive the highest award for completing all the steps under the old program, according to Capt. Robert F. Turner, commander of the Pontiac squadron.

Others to receive awards include: Pfc. Elizabeth d'Argy, 1st Sgt. Archie Haynes, Pvt. Delmar Benson, Pfc.'s Darrel Lotridge, Paul Powers, James Puglise, Pvt. Bruce Quayle, Cpl. John Fromm, and 1st Lt.'s Richard Rice and Erma M. Turner.

3 RIBBONS

Fromm will receive three ribbons with clusters for completing all six requirements in the new program, Turner said. The other nine have completed two of the six steps.

A movie demonstration by Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and an Air Force film, "Wings for Tomorrow," will be other highlights of the meeting scheduled for 7:15 p.m. at the First Assembly of God Church, 210 N. Perry St.

6 County Leaders to Go to 4-H Meeting

A meeting for Michigan's adult 4-H leaders will take six Oakland County persons to Michigan State University Saturday and Sunday.

More than 300 leaders are expected at the parley which serves as an opportunity to exchange ideas.

Principal speakers will include Dr. John Mount, assistant to the dean of agriculture, Ohio State University; Dr. Paul Miller, director of extension services for Michigan; and Dr. David Guy Powers, associate professor of speech at Queens College, New York City.

Going from Oakland are Mrs. John Lessiter and Leon Storm, Lake Orion; Mrs. M. B. Norland, Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. Glen Johnson, Pontiac Township, and Thurman Bowers and John Campbell, Milford.

Estate Goes to Widow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The widow of pianist Josef Hofmann inherits the bulk of his $81,000 estate. He died Feb. 16. He left a son, Peter, $5,000, but gave only $1 to each of three other children, explaining that trusts had been created for them during his lifetime.

Eban Bears a Double Role With Zeal of Single Purpose

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The winter-long series of crises in the Middle East has — among other things — run up quite a transportation bill for the Israeli government in the United States.

One day its representative to the United Nations, Abba Eban, is dramatically orating before the General Assembly. The next day, its ambassador to the United States, again Abba Eban, is in earnest consultation with Secretary of State Dulles in Washington.

In times of particular stress in the always tense Middle East, Abba Eban has been known to make two round trips between the United Nations headquarters in New York and the U.S. State Department in Washington in a single day.

But the indefatigable Israeli representative has lost neither weight nor sleep and seems to thrive on his double duties. He is accustomed to adversity.

AWKWARD POSITION

When Eban took his seat as Israeli U.N. representative in 1949, the alphabetical arrangement placed him in an awkward position — between the delegates from Iraq and Lebanon.

Then, as now, Israeli and Arabs were not on the friendliest of terms. And Arabs especially didn't like Abba Eban, for in the previous year he had spearheaded Israel's successful struggle for recognition by the United Nations.

As much as the Arabs disliked Eban and what he stood for, they respected him as one of the most eloquent pleaders any country has ever sent to the United Nations.

ABBA EBAN

He is considered a "tough" diplomat who defends his country's actions and policies with vigorous, forceful words. If need be, he can state his case in any of six languages: English, Hebrew, French, German, Arabic or Persian.

Eban was born in Capetown, South Africa, in 1915. His father died when Eban was an infant, and his mother brought him to London.

Eban began early to absorb zionism — being influenced primarily by his mother, who worked as a secretary in the Zionist Office in London.

CAMBRIDGE GRADUATE

In 1938, Eban was graduated from Cambridge University with honors in Oriental languages. He was appointed to the faculty of Pembroke College Cambridge, for research and lecturing in Arabic, Persian and Hebrew literature.

He enlisted in the British Army at the outset of World War II and was assigned as liaison officer between Palestine and Allied Headquarters in Cairo. His job was to secure Jewish volunteers for special and dangerous missions in behalf of the Allied forces in the Near East and Europe.

Eban remained in Jerusalem after the war and did extensive lecturing and writing on languages.

In 1947 he began his diplomatic service with the Israeli government which appointed him liaison officer with the United Nations Special Commission on Palestine. This group secured the vote of the U.N. General Assembly for partition of Palestine and establishment of the state of Israel.

Eban was appointed U.N. representative of the Provisional Government of Israel in 1948. In this capacity he worked long and hard for Israel's election to the United Nations — which came on May 11, 1949. Eban has been Israel's delegate ever since.

The Israeli ambassador is married and has a 7-year-old son. He maintains a home in Washington.

New Skim Milk Recipe Takes Off Weight Fast

By Ruth Whitney

A new "hi-vi" skim milk cocktail that helps you lose weight without feeling tired or suffering hunger pangs, has greatly impressed doctors today.

It's based on the discovery that your overeating of fattening foods can be due to a lack of vital nutrients in your body. To make up for this lack, you eat the foods that make you fat.

To overcome this deficiency, a new high-vitamin powder has been created. It is named Addit because you add it to a glass of skim milk (or water, orange juice or other liquid) and drink it before meals, 3 times a day.

The result is sensational. You lose those hunger pangs, eat less—lose weight fast. Addit actually contains food catalysts that help you "burn" fat away.

Then, as Addit floods your system with a concentration of 13 vitamins, minerals, other nutrients (and as you lose those excess pounds), you quickly lose that overtired feeling, gain in vitality. As Mrs. Evelyn White says: "I'm no longer nervous and listless."

Addit is delicious, too. Get a bottle at any drug store. Results are guaranteed or money back.

FREE BOOKLET, "Now...Reducing Can Be Easy!" Tells all you need to know for safe, fast reducing the Addit way. Contains a large selection of easy, tested reducing recipes, plus calorie information on all common foods. Illustrated. Easily worth 35¢-50¢. Just write Addit, P.O. Senate to Probe Veterans Affairs

Charges Incompetence, Waste, Lax Handling; No Question of Honesty

WASHINGTON (INS) — A probe of the gigantic Veterans Administration that is expected to touch off sizzling political repercussions will shortly be launched on Capitol Hill.

The Senate permanent investigating committee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), is already quietly looking into fast-multiplying charges of "incompetence, inefficiency and waste" in the agency which has the second largest appropriation in government.

Only the Defense Department tops the nearly five billion yearly budget of the Veterans Administration.

A high-ranking committee member disclosed that the group has evidence that taxpayers are being charged five times as much for the administration of the veterans' insurance program as a private insurance firm would allot for comparable administrative costs.

He said the committee has been swamped with complaints that some veterans receive dividend checks far in excess of their due, while other receive none. He added that there are numerous other cases where no record can be found of a deceased veteran's insurance policy, although the ex-serviceman had paid regular premiums until his death.

The senator stressed that the investigation intends "no reflection whatsoever" on the honesty of VA Administrator H. V. Higley. He said the Senate group has no evidence of "thievery or crookedness, but plenty indicating incompetence and waste."

The lawmaker conceded that the committee expects to hear "loud screams" from organized veterans' groups when the investigation gets underway in late March or early April.

Missing Pilot Leaves Evidence He's Alive

SHORT CREEK, Ariz. (AP)—Evidence found in desolate country northwest of the Grand Canyon indicated today that a student pilot missing since Friday is alive after a forced landing.

The man is Mickey Dunbaden, 23, Las Vegas, Nev., a mechanic employed by Bonanza Airlines. He disappeared while on his first cross country solo flight from Las Vegas to St. George, Utah.

Yesterday his light plane and an SOS spelled out in rocks were found in rough terrain near Tuweep, Ariz. A helicopter from Nellis Air Force Base, Las Vegas, landed beside the plane and found a note from Dunbaden.

It said that after a forced landing he was making his way down the nearby Colorado River on foot in search of a road. At dusk search planes spotted a campfire near the river which may have been kindled by Dunbaden.

Tuweep is nearly 50 miles south of here and 110 miles east of Las Vegas.

Kishi Would Visit U.S. for Top-Level Parleys

TOKYO (AP)—Nobusuke Kishi, Japan's new prime minister, says he hopes to visit the United States and Southeast Asia this spring and summer for top-level talks. U.S. officials in Washington said Kishi would be welcome when a mutually acceptable date could be arranged.

Talks in Washington probably would include a review of the security treaty Japan signed with the United States at the end of the occupation. Kishi has said the pact should be "readjusted."

Bill Will Ask Increase in Workmen's Benefits

LANSING (AP)—A bill for a modest increase in workmen's compensation benefits will be filed in the legislature with bipartisan sponsorship, Sen. Leo H. Roy (R-Hancock) said yesterday.

Roy said the measure will call for a raise from 66 2-3 to 70 per cent in the ceiling on weekly payments, as figured on a percentage of salary basis. This feature of the law has been unchanged since its enactment in 1912, the senator said.

Colorado Senate Devises Perfect Dodge

Thank-You Letters May Disappear

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The thought of writing a letter, particularly a note of appreciation for a gift or gaiety received, intrudes upon one's thoughts with all the gloomy irritation of a sneeze in a public library reading room.

You can't fight it. The letter's got to be written. But as you put it off from this day to the next, and from that day to thereafter, what wonderous workings go on in your mind.

It is best, when putting off a thank-you letter, to begin worrying about it on a Monday. This gives you an entire five-day work week in which to rationalize, possibly with some chance of fooling yourself, that you are "just too busy" to pick up a pen.

If this is impossible (say you went to a party on Thursday, and stupidly made it clear to the hostess that you were staying in town for the weekend), more drastic excuses must be concocted in your imaginative little head.

An old dodge is to slice your finger inadvertently while opening a can for Friday night's supper, and some truly fanatical letter-postponers do this bit subconsciously and repeatedly, preferring, deep down, to be writhing than writing.

A less painful ruse to salve one's conscience is to run out of ink and/or notepaper about Saturday night, and be unable, conveniently, to obtain new supplies on Sunday.

People with few imaginative resources sometimes become ill — either from the party itself, or from stewing about the thank-you note to be composed — and this is a grand excuse for postponing the problem.

Still others play it foxy. They telephone a hostess or gift-bequeather and say, "Honey, I've started a dozen letters but I just can't seem to convey on paper just how I feel about . ." This is not approved by either Hoyle or hostesses.

It's all so foolish. There must be an easier way out of this phobia against letter writing. And perhaps the answer comes in a story out of Colorado, where the State Senate has decided — after long deliberation and balloting and debate — not to thank President Eisenhower for a visit he made there last month.

It seems that on Jan. 15 Ike stopped at Pueblo, Colo., to survey a dust-damaged farm area. It was a generous gesture — like taking chicken broth to your neighbor when she's got the grippe.

LETTER OF GRATITUDE

Well, the Colorado House of Representatives decided that it should send a bread and butter note to the President, and it passed the idea over to the Senate.

The Senate, with a Democratic majority, tossed the idea around for awhile — as any of us would — and then finally, more than a month later, voted to turn down the idea.

Rationalizing that Ike was merely doing his duty by visiting Pueblo, they saved themselves the odious task of writing that note.

There are definite possibilities in this idea. By using rigid mental discipline, one may be able to conceive that Jane was merely doing her social duty by throwing that soiree. After all, if Ike can take it . . .

This system, if it does nothing else, will put you, ultimately, in the position of never having to thank anyone for anything again.

Olivet College Head to Take Athens Post

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Raymond B. Blankey, president of Olivet College at Olivet, Mich., has been named president of a Congregational Christian Church girls college in Athens, Greece.

Dr. Blakney is resigning his Olivet College post to take over his new duties in September.

The Greek institution, Orlinda Childs Pierce College for Girls, was founded by the American Board for Foreign Missions of the church in 1923. It has a faculty of 50 Greeks and Americans, and about 550 students.

Installing Radio Units

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A $25,000 two-way radio system linking Kent County Road Commission bases with 35 mobile units is expected to be operating within a month. Commission Secretary Leonard E. Kaufman says the equipment, obtained by shared costs between the county and civil defense, will aid in emergency and disaster calls, besides speeding routine road work.

GOOD TURN DAILY — Combining the Boy Scout Slogan, "Do a Good Turn Daily" with two of the Boy Scout laws, to be loyal and helpful, are two Pontiac boys, Kenny Goff, 11, of 37 Henry Clay and John Boutin, 9, of 20 Henry Clay. Since September, the boys have raised and lowered the American flag in front of the YWCA, 22 Franklin Blvd. Kenny is a member of Scout Troop 7, Bethany Baptist Church; John belongs to Cub Scout Pack 8 of Crofoot School.

Lassie Comes to Empty Home, Then Vanishes

MAYFIELD, Ky. (AP) — Lassie came home. But no one was there. Now she's gone.

Last November Lassie's owners, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Riley, moved from Mayfield to Houston, Tex., and took Lassie along.

Riley returned to his farm here late in November to finish the harvest. While here, he got a letter from his wife saying the dog was missing. Riley later returned to Texas.

Lassie turned up here Saturday after three months and 900 miles.

Neighbors fed the dog, but yesterday she was missing again.

Lassie appeared frightened and lonely after finding no one home, they said.

Dog fanciers say Lassie is probably on her way back to Houston.

Senate Ignores Ike's Resolution

Treat Issue Casually Despite Urgent Appeal From President

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senators are treating President Eisenhower's Middle East program like a sick relative. They drop in casually to look it over and discuss its condition when they have time for a visit.

Eisenhower submitted his program to Congress in person Jan. 5 with a great sense of urgency. But any luster of urgency has been worn off under the take-it-easy handling by the Senate.

Debate on the program began last Tuesday. Many senators expressed a desire to talk on it. But so few showed up, and so few stayed around to listen to those who did talk, that the Democratic and Republican leaders had to bawl them out.

These two — Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, and William Knowland of California for the GOP — pleaded with their fellow senators to get on with the debate under threat of calling off debate and asking for a vote.

The speeches on the Middle East were interrupted by other speeches on such subjects as "A Visit to the Senate by Mr. and Mrs. Rock Hudson"; "Visit to the Senate by High School Students from Rhode Island"; "Welcome Extended to Montana Farmers' Union Caravan"; and "Visit by a Group of State Finalists in Voice of Democracy Contest."

But there is an answer to anyone who challenges the Senate's right to take its time on such an important problem as Eisenhower's program. Sen. Green (D-RI), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, gave the answer on the floor before debate began.

He said Eisenhower — or the executive branch of the government — couldn't expect the Senate to rush through every request made to the lawmakers. He said:

"It is time for the executive branch . . . to recognize that in the field of foreign policy the Senate has never been, and never will be, a rubber stamp."

Seamen Sentenced for Beating Bridges

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — The two San Pedro seamen convicted of simple assault after a brawl with longshore leader Harry Bridges last September have been sentenced to 30 days in Marin County jail.

Superior Judge Thomas F. Keating imposed the sentence on Fred Reppine, 35, and Donald C. Hansen, 23, who beat Bridges in the men's room at Sally Stanford's restaurant in Sausalito.

Defense counsel Guy A. Ciocca argued that the case would have attracted no unusual attention if Bridges had not been involved. The two men are members of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, long a rival of Bridges' International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

AF Cadets Aware of Big Role

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Writer

LOWRY AIR FORCE BASE, Colo. (INS)—The U. S. Air Force cadets are a distinct type.

They look like "the boy next door," but they have their eyes on a definite goal. That goal is to become career officers whose task it will be to defend America in the air-atomic age.

The cadets realize the enormous responsibilities they will face upon graduation. Within the last generation, the world has seen two revolutionary developments — air power and atomic weapons.

"Since Pearl Harbor," says Maj. Gen. Briggs, academy superintendent, "the power of explosives that may be carried by aircraft has increased roughly a million times, pound for pound. At the same time, the speed, range and altitude of aircraft have increased as well, multiplying the problem of directing and intercepting an attacking force.

"Soviet Russia now possesses a growing stockpile of atomic weapons and a growing force of long-range jet bombers. The combination of atomic explosives and the ability to carry them swiftly over great distances confronts this country with the greatest danger it has ever known. We must recognize the danger and face it with wisdom and determination."

America, of course, has air and atomic forces to meet such a challenge. But the nation must have top flight air officers to evolve strategy and meet any situation that may develop.

"Today," say Gen. Briggs, "a single Air Force officer may be called upon to carry out a mission which required the crowds of 1,000 aircraft in World War II. He may have to press home his mission against heavy odds, with no American or other friend within thousands of miles to observe this conduct."

TO EXPAND ENROLLMENT

So now we have the new Academy which was established July 11, 1955, to mould young men for exacting life-time careers as air officers. Congress has authorized a student body of 2,496 cadets.

But it was deemed advisable to start the Academy with small classes and to limit its size while growing. Accordingly, the Academy has been taking in about 300 cadets a year. The cadet wing will not reach its full strength until the early 1960's.

By the fall of 1958 the Academy expects to move from Lowry to a 17,500-acre permanent home now under construction seven miles north of Colorado Springs.

The site is at the foot of the Rampart Range of the Rocky mountains and commands an impressive view of Pike's Peak. A large air strip will be built several miles from the mountains, to the east.

Flying training courses include all of the classroom and in-flight work normally given to Air Force navigators in a year of full-time work. As a result of this training, the cadet graduates with the wings of an Air Force navigator.

In the moral sphere, Academy cadets are guided by their honor code. It states, "We will not lie, cheat, steal, nor tolerate among us those who do."

The government provides cadets — in addition to their education — with food, living quarters, medical and dental care, and recreation facilities. Cadets are also paid $111.15 a month from which they must pay for uniforms, books, and personal necessities.

All cadets engage in athletics in order to maintain a high degree of physical conditioning. Fourteen sports are included in the athletic program.

Everybody concerned at the Academy is confident that here at the USAFA are the making of a splendid corps of air officers who will provide real leadership when — and if — they are called upon to defend their country against any enemy.

Cadillac Plans Schools

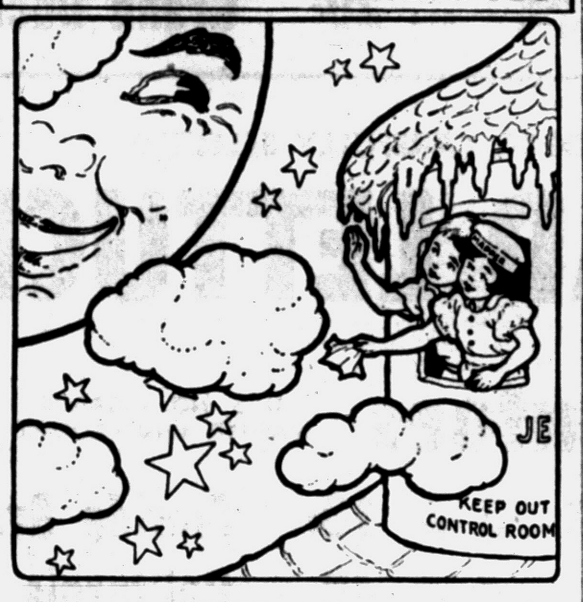

CADILLAC (AP) — The Board of Education has approved architectural designs submitted by a Grand Rapids firm for a $1,200,000 school expansion program to be placed before voters March 5. A bond issue is sought to finance modernization of the junior high school, an elementary school and construction of two new elementary schools and additions to two others.

Crash Kills Detroiter

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Hans B. Press, 59, Detroit, was killed Monday in a two-car collision on Ohio route 70 one mile south of South Charleston.

THE FLYING HOUSE — 3
An Old Friend

As the Flying House climbed higher and higher, Bill and Jill, watching eagerly, spied a settlement of cloud islands covered with castles and bridges, then lost sight of them as the Flying House sped upward. The earth had grown smaller and the stars around them seemed to become larger and larger. They were all sharply pointed and twinkled constantly.

Then a big round silver ball came into view of the Control Room window. "The Moon," they cried. Bill set the controls at "Steady" and both of them leaned out of the window. The big shining face was smiling directly at them. "It's nice of you to visit me" said the Man in the Moon, "Wish I could ask you to tie up and come aboard, but I'm afraid you're in for trouble. You'd better take her down, you're icing up." Bill looked up quickly. Sure enough, there was a row of long sharp icicles hanging from the edge of the Control Tower roof, and they seemed to be getting bigger by the minute.

Bill set the dial for "Down," Jill waved and called "Goodby Mr. Moon — see you soon."

Of course Bill and Jill might have wished for help at this point but the Wishing Well's message had put it squarely up to them — they'd better manage things themselves.

"We're coming to a brand new place," Bill cried suddenly, "Just look at those mountains!"

Color and save this drawing for your Flying House story book.

U.S. Farms Larger and Fewer in Number

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — American farms are getting bigger — and fewer.

Figures furnished by the family economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. place total U. S. farms at 4,700,000 for 1956, a drop of 700,000 from the 5,400,000 reported in 1950.

Today's American farm averages about 250 acres as against acreage of 215 for the average farm of 1950.

Was All Twisted Up; Hard Wrenching Tale

LONDON (INS)—Ronald Mountney's attempt to be masterful with women ended in a complete fiasco.

Seeking to get even with a woman he blamed for the breaking up of his engagement, Mountney broke into the wrong house and hit the wrong woman—a complete stranger—on the head with a wrench. Detectives had no trouble tracing Mountney, who dropped his driver's license as he fled from the house.

Boys Make Good Bus of '37 Model Hearse

DETROIT (AP) — Two 16-year-old high school juniors—Henry Adries and John Dudek—have their own rubber-tire hack.

They bought the 1937 model hearse with a 25-student capacity to transport friends to school parties.

"Girls are a little choosy, though," said Andries. "They'll ride in it to a tobogganing party, but they wouldn't be found dead going in it to church."

New Dairy Co-op May Strike to Stabilize Prices

Plan Interstate Meetings First

No. 1 of Series in Ohio; Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin to Huddle

By LEE WINBORN
Romeo Correspondent

The Action Committee of the new Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn. of Michigan met yesterday in Capac to plan possible strike action aimed at price stabilization in the milk industry.

Members accused the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. of "failing to hold gains, accomplished by leaders of the nine day milk strike last April." Both MMPA members and picketing farmers claimed credit for the resultant price hike from $4.18 to $5 per hundred weight for class 1 (drinking) milk.

The DFCA first plans to hold a series of meetings with farmers in Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin as well as in Michigan "to share common problems and work out equitable solutions" according to organizational director Homer Martin.

Initial meeting will be in Delta, Ohio on Thursday night. This meeting comes on the eve of the end of current agreements between MMPA and the dairies.

Martin said busloads of farmers were leaving from both Capac and Howell and carloads from other parts of the state to attend the Ohio meeting. Farmers from Indiana and Ohio are also expected to be present.

"This is the first time in dairy industry history that any effort has been made to get farmers together on a grass root basis in neighboring states," Martin said.

The DFCA is striking back at MMPA for its periodic announcement that milk prices cannot be raised because if they are milk from some out-state area will "flood" the market.

"We plan to ring Michigan and through agreements stabilize this market," the former UAW-CIO organizer reported.

A meeting is scheduled Friday night in Mason at which time DFCA members "hope to bury the disruptive forces which have sought to split the dairy farmers and defeat their attempt to get a just and fair price for their milk."

The DFCA board of directors has authorized a trip, by Martin and association secretary Sam Bailo, to New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania early next month to see how Michigan dairy farmers can aid striking farmers in those states in their fight for higher prices, for their milk.

Violence is flaring in that section of the country as the Tri-State Master Dairy Farmers Guild is demanding $5.75 per hundred weight for raw milk. The Teamsters Union has ordered drivers not to support the boycott.

The guild was a large contributor in last April's milk strike in Michigan, Martin said. The Rev. John W. Dorney, executive director of the guild and Timothy Shanahan, one of its unit directors walked the picket lines in Michigan last year.

Avondale Seeks Foreign Student for Next Year

AVONDALE — Avondale High School Principal Rosco Crowell announced this week satisfactory progress on the school's attempt to have a foreign exchange student enrolled here next year.

An application has been filed and a home has been approved by the local American Field Service. Final approval from the New York office is now awaited.

Various groups in the community are busy raising funds for the project. Even the students are participatig, with a weekly fund drive being conducted at the school. Mrs. Thurel Riggle, PTSA president, says individual donations may be made to her.

Crowell reports that "the response to this idea has been most favorable," adding, "I want to thank all of the organizations and parents for the offers of money and homes, which are needed to make the program successful."

Addison Church Elects Officers

George Smith Pastor of Area Congregation for Indefinite Period

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — The following officers have been elected to the various departments of the Addison Township Community Church.

The Board of Trustees consists of Mary Baza, Frank Parrott, Jerome Arnold, Roy Bradford and Jossman Arnold. Church clerk is Leah D. Arnold and Blanche Garvin is treasurer.

Mission Circle officers are Leah D. Arnold, president, Mary Baza, treasurer, and Hazel Parrot, secretary.

Jeanne Smith was elected secretary of the Sunday School. The Rev. George R. Smith was given a unanimous call as pastor, to serve indefinitely. He has previously served as pastor from 1947 to 1952.

Among other business transacted was the changing of the church services. The Sunday evening service will be discontinued for the present, but Sunday School will be held at 10 a.m., followed by morning worship at 11 a.m.

Addison Township Community Church is one of the few undenominational, non-sectarian, fundamental churches in this section of the county.

Area Teachers to Meet on Scientific Problems

A newly organized Oakland County Science Teachers Club will have its third meeting at 7:30 tonight at the Waterford Township High School.

Purpose of the group is to stimulate interest in science, learn new techniques used by industry, and discuss problems of the teaching of science to students.

Unrest Remains at Clarkston

Levitsky Quits Township

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP — Jack Levitsky, electrical inspector for this township, turned in his resignation at a special meeting of the township board last night.

Levitsky, who was first asked to resign along with building inspector James Gardiner on Jan. 15, by Supervisor Floyd Andrews, denied "all accusations" made against him.

In his letter of resignation, Levitsky said that there wasn't any cooperation between his department and the board. He also stated that he thought the affairs of the board should run more smoothly.

In regard to the accusations made against Levitsky, Andrews had said that he is "just not doing the job."

Levitsky asked that resignation be effective as of Feb. 26. Board accepted the resignation but requested that he remain on the job until March 2.

After Andrew's first request that the two resign, several like requests at ensuing meetings were met with defeat, and Gardiner still remains on the job.

Gardiner last week opposed Andrews for supervisor on the Republican ticket in the primary election. He polled only 241 votes while Andrews' tabulation was 441, to remain the Republican candidate in the April election.

Levitsky, who ran on the Democratic ticket for justice of the peace, received 44 votes in the primaries.

Series at Orchard Lake

Offer Inquirers' Classes

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian, 5171 Commerce, will offer a series of Inquirers' Classes for persons interested in the meaning of the Christian Faith and Life beginning Sunday at 8 p.m. Classes will continue for seven Sunday evenings. The course will be built around a series of film strips setting forth the teaching of the Protestant Church.

First film strip to be presented on Sunday is entitled "Jesus Christ, Son of God". Other film strips portray the Protestant understanding of "The Bible," "The Presbyterian Heritage", "The Word and the Sacraments", "The Church at Work," and "Take My Life." The Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor, will present these classes.

Children will be baptized at Worship services on Sunday.

Rev. Auchard will preach on the subject "The Image of an Ox". Music will be furnished by William Vander Ven, baritone soloist, and the chancel choir under the direction of Mrs. Norman Smith.

The first Lenten dinner of the church will be Wednesday evening, March 6 at 6:30. Program will include a hymn sing and a film, "Prisoner Triumphant," which tells the story of Sarah Perkins, a Presbyterian missionary in China long imprisoned by the Reds, who was released last year. Hostesses for this event will be the Caroline and Esther Circles of the Women's Assn.

Extensive improvements to the sanctuary at Orchard Lake have been authorized by the Board of Trustees; new furniture will be installed before Easter. This is part of the long range building program of the church.

Dairy Farm Hit by Fire

Barn, Equipment, Shed Ruined in Unexplained South Lyon Blaze

SOUTH LYON — A dairy farm barn (100 by 32 feet) and an adjoining tool shed on the Harold Slaybaugh property at 59709 Ten Mile Rd., just east of here were destroyed by fire yesterday.

About 2,000 bales of hay, 1,000 bales of straw, a large quantity of oats, and all the farm and milking equipment were ruined. A great amount of corn, outside the barn, the silo and milk were saved, however.

Slaybaugh said the barn housed 22 dairy cows, all of which were evacuated. They are now being housed at the Kessler barn, near New Hudson.

The farm owner was in the barn at the time an explosion near a tractor occurred, but the exact cause is still unknown.

Thirty firemen fought the flames for several hours. The estimate of loss has not been determined but Slaybaugh says the building was insured.

Fire in Showroom Ruins Used Cars

ROMEO — Fire caused thousands of dollars worth of damage last night to Garrisons Used Car Show-room on East St. Clair street near the heart of the business district here. Some 18 to 20 cars were inside the building a number of which were destroyed by the flames.

The blaze started in the boiler room, but exact cause of the fire is still undetermined, according to Fire Chief Walter Werth.

Volunteer firemen were successful in confining the blaze to the one building.

Let Bids About April 1

Community Hospital to Be Built in Spring

ROMEO — The proposed Community Hospital to be built on M-53 (Van Dyke) between here and Almont will incorporate the latest developments in hospital design, according to architects of the Detroit firm of Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, Inc.

"It will be a model hospital for its size in the country," they said, "with the patients' comfort and convenience as the central theme."

It will be a one-story, masonry structure covering an estimated area of 24,000 square feet. Estimated cost is $26 per square foot.

The core of the 32-bed hospital is designed to be expandable to 70-80 beds, architects said. An alternate bid will be taken on an additional eight beds before contracts are awarded.

Bids on construction of the new hospital will be let about April 1. "According to our present building schedule, ground breaking ceremonies will be held early in June," Board President David M. Ross said today.

Major features of the hospital will include two large operating rooms, a delivery room which could double as another operating room, obstetrical suite and emergency receiving room with adjacent X-ray room.

Other facilities to be incorporated with be a modern, all-electric kitchen, centrally located supply room, laboratory, pharmacy, large waiting room and lobby.

The staff dining room will serve as a large assembly hall by opening the folding doors into a smaller conference room and library.

The 16 patients' rooms may be converted into double rooms by pulling a curtain between the two beds. Each one will be individually temperature - controlled and have its own piped-in oxygen supply.

Enough money has been pledged to start construction, hospital officials said, but more will be needed to equip the new facility. The foundation plans to study the entire financial picture as soon as bids are let.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Walled Lake and Milford Sessions; Metamora Sale

WALLED LAKE — The Boys Chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Balaam, will be a special attraction at the regular meeting of the Walled Lake Elementary School PTA on Monday. Composed of fourth, fifth, and sixth grade students, the boys will open the meeting in the multi-purpose room at 8 p.m.

During the business meeting the nominating committee will present a slate of officers for the coming year.

Balance of the evening will be spent listening to a symposium with Principal Floyd Chowen as moderator. Taking part will be Nina Kropidloski, elementary supervisor; Mrs. Myrtle Wierenga, Jack Simonton, and Mrs. Marilyn Striffler.

A social hour will follow.

Metamora

The PTA here will hold a bake sale at the Albertson Appliance Shop on Saturday, March 9 at 1 p. m.

Milford

Election of officers for the newly formed Parent-Teacher Student Organization of Milford High School will be held on Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the high school gym. Mrs. Harold Meagher will be the chairman of the evening with Mrs. Mason Tyler serving as secretary pro-tem.

The By-Laws Committee, headed by Ray Neiner, has been working on a report which is expected to be given in detail.

This group received enthusiastic support at its organizational meeting in January and hopes to contribute substantially to the community life in this area.

Metropolitan Bank to Open Utica Branch

UTICA—Roger C. Richards, executive vice-president of Metropolitan Federal Savings has announced the purchase of a farm equipment building at 45520 Van Dyke Ave. here for use as a branch bank.

Interviews are now being held to select personnel, as the new branch will be under a local manager and employes will also be from Utica, according to Richards.

It is anticipated that remodeling will be completed some time in late spring.

John J. Short, previous owner of the farm equipment building, has sold his John Deere Farm Implement franchise to Howard DeLater of Rochester. DeLater will continue in service and sales from the Leonard Malburg farm on Canal road, Utica.

Form Speaker Panel for Subdivisions

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—The subcommittee on public relations of the temporary organization of Subdivision Assns. in Farmington Township has announced that a panel has been organized to provide speakers to subdivision groups desiring a presentation on the proposed league. The person to contact, they announce, is Ray B. Wilcox, GR 4-8193.

Subcommittee members also are in the process of organizing three liaison committees to provide easy communication channels for the answering of questions about the proposed league.

Plan Builders' Show

METAMORA — The annual Lapeer Builders and Homemakers Show will be held at the Lapeer County Center March 7-9. There will be many exhibits showing the latest in modern living, for both city and on the farm. Officials said that more than $1,000 in free merchandise and cash awards will be given at the event.

Lathrup Sights Drain Solution

OK County Payment to Cover Expenses for Sewer Drawings

LATHRUP — A step nearer solution of Lathrup's sewage disposal problem has been made at a special meeting of city council here.

Council approved payment of $6,346 to the County Drain Commission to cover engineering expenses for construction drawings for a sewer to run from Fourteen-Mile Road to Detroit.

Members also appropriated $1,-256 for drawings for a collector sewer that will carry city sewage along the Evans ditch to Eleven-Mile and Evergreen which will later be connected to the Evergreen Interceptor drain system.

Lathrup is presently trying to solve its disposal problem before the state will approve a proposed flood relief sewer system for the city. Lathrup is now in contempt of court for polluting the Rouge River which receives city sewage by way of the Evans Ditch.

A sewer cleaning contract for the cleaning of latteral sewers in Lathrup was awarded by the council to Mike Harabedian of Birmingham.

Proposal of $4,500,000 School Will Be Debated Thursday

The Pontiac Board of Education is set for what it hopes is a hot public meeting Thursday night.

Up for discussion is the new $4,500,000 senior high school now in the advance planning stages.

The PTA of the city's present senior high school has invited the public to take a good look at the plans and hear architects discuss the advantages of the new 1,600-pupil building.

Board members want to air any controversy that has arisen over the building's unusual, contemporary design.

Along with the board, the main architect, Eberle Smith, of Detroit; Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Otto C. Hufzinger, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business and building, will take part in the program at 8:30 p.m. in the present high school auditorium.

Some people have questioned the economy of the low, one-story building, planned for the city's northeast area, Hufzinger said. They are especially skeptical over the center section, where academic classrooms are. Instead of a conventional design, this section is divided into clusters of classrooms built around central courts.

Each cluster is semi-private, but centered near the school library, placed in position of a "nerve-center."

Hufzinger said some people think this would be more expensive to construct than a regular, two-story building.

"We're confident, though, that we've got the facts and figures and a presentation Thursday that will prove not only is our building as inexpensive as a traditional one, it will be better scholastically," Hufzinger said.

INVITE CRITICS

"That's why we want any critics of our plans to come to the meeting. We think we can win him over."

Although the new school is of a design unusual for Pontiac, Hufzinger said, it is in style with almost all of the new high schools being built throughout the nation.

To be erected on a site next to the new Madison Junior High School, off Perry Street, the first 800-pupil section is planned for opening in the fall of 1958.

Construction is expected to begin this spring. Bids will be let, Hufzinger said, when working drawings are completed by the architectural firm. Preliminary plans have been approved by the board.

Meg Acts Gay as Queen and Duke Plan U.S. Visit

Gossips Wonder About New Love in Princess' Life

LONDON (INS) — The gossips are gushing again over the prospect that their "duty before love" princess may be flirting with Cupid again.

For the first time since Margaret's sad public renunciation of Group Capt. Peter Townsend back in October 1955, the girl appears not only to have recaptured her old-time spirit but has gone "madly gay."

While Townsend gets to grips with the jungles on his round-the-world, get - away - from - it-all tour the princess is startling the inhabitants of the Mayfair "jungle" with her sudden return to the gay life.

Full of fun, all smiles and laughter, bubbling over with apparently new-found zest for high life, Meg has launched herself on the town once again.

In one recent period she spent only one night in seven at home at Clarence House. One night with the handsome Lord Plunket, the equally good - looking Mark Longman and accompanied by her lady-in-waiting Miss Iris Peake, Meg zipped off to the National Film Theater to see an American gangster film.

LAUGHING, CLAPPING

The next night she was laughing and clapping happily with her mother and "old faithful" Billy Wallace at the antics of her favorite comedians, the Crazy Gang.

The following night, in a noticeably vivacious mood, she took in Noel Cowards' latest comedy hit, "Nude With Violin."

Within 24 hours, and again accompanied by Billy Wallace, Meg was slipping off her shoes, waving her stockinged feet in the air, clapping her hands, twitching her shapely shoulders to the comic rock 'n' roll film "The Girl Can't Help It."

This was the old gay Margaret, filled with hep and pep, and the gossips goggled and gabbed.

Then, with a smile like that cat that just got neatly away with the cream, Margaret was off for a country weekend with her old friends Lord Rupert and Lady Nevill.

THE BRIGHT LIGHTS

No sooner was she back in London on Monday than with three friends, including Billy Wallace, Margaret was out under the bright lights. This time it was the Fortune Theater and seats in the fifth row to laugh and joke uproariously at the two-man revue, "At the Drop of a Hat."

The gay whirl goes on and Meg again is the dazzling dish with furs and jewels and low decolletage, with smiles and quips and light-hearted abandon.

Naturally the young social set is somewhat excited and curious over the return of the "old Margaret" to the town.

Wealthy, polo-playing Billy Wallace is no longer taken as a serious romantic interest and no new boy friend has appeared in the picture.

But something has obviously come over Margaret all of a sudden, and despite lack of evidence, the gossips are wondering if Cupid may not after all be hovering strategically in the background.

BESS P. ALEXANDER

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Alexander of Worcester, Mass., announce the engagement of their daughter, Bess Alexander of South Marshall street, to Sooren Kachadoorian, son of Mr. and Mrs. Haygas Kachadoorian of Worcester. An August wedding is planned.

University Club Looks at Pictures

Margaret Steward told of her trip to South America and showed colored slides at the Tuesday evening meeting of University of Michigan Alumnae Club.

Mrs. Don S. Brownlee opened her home on East Square Lake road for the cooperative dinner preceding the meeting.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. R. Grant Graham, Mrs. Jay Wagner, Gertrude Overton and Doris Haynes.

A guest of the club was Marilyn Keivit, a junior music student at the University of Michigan who received the club's tuition scholarship for this year.

Sorority Brings Gifts to Patients

Members of Omega Mu Sigma sorority visited patients at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital and gave them small gifts Tuesday evening.

Following the visits, Mrs. John Guenther opened her home on Ostram street for a social hour. Assistant hostess was Mrs. Elmer Lea. Pledging of new members will be held at the next meeting.

Press Offers Advice for Publicity Chairmen

To assist in giving the best possible coverage of club news, members of The Pontiac Press Women's Department have compiled a list of errors made most frequently by publicity chairmen when sending in news items for the women's pages.

Surprising as it may seem, we do receive items with club names misspelled and must rely on our club files or memories for correct spelling.

When reporting, always remember the Five W's — Who, What, When, Where and Why. Our Press style requires the married names of members — that is, Mrs. John Smith or Mrs. J. A. Smith. Only unmarried women or divorcees use their given name, Mrs. Mary Jones or Mary Jones.

When going over copy turned in, we often find the address of the meeting place omitted and frequently there is no name or telephone number given to enable us to call for information quickly.

Here are a few suggestions for good copy:

1. Use one side of paper and write clearly.
2. Print all names if they are not typewritten.
3. Include name and telephone number of publicity chairman.

And for the bride — return wedding blank (which has been mailed to anyone announcing her engagement in The Press) two days before the wedding. Those received more than three days after a wedding will not carry details.

Pictures must be either glossy prints or clear black and white prints. The Press will return all pictures which have return addresses on the back. However, we cannot be responsible for pictures which suffer accidental damage or are lost in the mail.

Elizabeth and Philip Due in America Early This Fall; Prince Indirectly Denounces the Royal Rift Rumors

LONDON (INS)—Prince Philip, who denounced "royal rift" gossip yesterday, will visit the United States this year along with his wife, Queen Elizabeth.

Government row informants said that the trip is all arranged, and the young royal couple probably will arrive in the U.S. early in the fall.

For the first time the Prince, Duke of Edinburgh, has indirectly rejected the published rumors of coolness between himself and the Queen. He got the opportunity at a reception given in his honor by the Lord Mayor and the city of London at Mansion House.

His listeners cheered when he spoke of his "happy family reunion" after a four-month absence on a commonwealth tour.

"It would have been easy," the prince said, "to claim that this journey was all part of a deep-laid scheme, but I am afaid to have to admit that it all came about because I was asked to start off the Olympic games at Melbourne (last November)."

ELIZABETH ABSENT

Since the reception was in honor of Philip, and the Queen's presence would have meant that she took priority, she was not at the luncheon although other women were present.

But the guest list approved by the prince included Lt. Cmdr. Michael Parker, an old friend who accompanied the prince on the trip. The published gossip about the "royal rift" began after Parker resigned as the prince's private secretary because of marital troubles.

Parker was with the prince in the drive to Mansion House.

Outside 1,000 persons cheered the prince upon his arrival.

One onlooker spotted Parker beside Philip and shouted: "We are with you Parker—don't let them bully you."

The glittering audience included Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and leading government and opposition members of Parliament, and the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Philip took note of suggestions that he could have flown back after the Olympic games instead of continuing his tour on the royal yacht Britannia.

LOYAL FRIENDS

"But if I had done that," he said, "I could not have visited several remote communities who are loyal members of the commonwealth."

Queen Elizabeth, who last week ordered that her husband henceforth be titled "prince," added a new honor shortly before the luncheon.

The defense Ministry said that in accord with her wishes the full national anthem, "God Save the Queen," would be played at appearances of her husband.

Previous procedure was to play only six bars of the anthem at appearance of all members of the royal house except the Queen and Queen Mother Elizabeth.

Philip, whose speech was sprinkled with jokes, many at his own expense, said long absences from home on royal duty were to be expected and added "now I am looking forward to visiting the places I didn't get to this time."

NO QUESTION

Informants said there is no question that President Eisenhower has invited the Queen and prince to visit the United States and that the British have accepted.

However, the British were annoyed at the premature Washington "leak," presumably from official sources.

All had been worked out confidentially between the two governments, with the announcement to have been made in April, after the March Bermuda conference between the President and British Prime Minister Macmillan. That conference is aimed to mend Anglo-American relations disrupted by the British invasion of Egypt.

The British wanted to avoid any impression that they were using the royal family to cement relations.

This will be the first visit of a reigning British monarch since the 1939 visit of the late George VI and his Queen, Elizabeth.

The royal couple will visit the Jamestown colony celebrations in Virginia and also Canada during their American tour.

CALLING LADIES WITH FINE HAIR

If you have fine hair you have a problem. Lacking body and bulk makes this texture hard to style in the modern coifs. Fortunately today, there are a few things we can do to minimize the problems presented by limp, fine, thin hair. First, the hair must be in good condition. Healthy, elastic hair holds a hair-do longer and better than damaged hair. Second, a good permanent is a must. Often the problem of fine hair is solved by having permanent waves a little more often . . . say every three months on schedule . . . and fine hair should be set once a week. Third, the hair style must conform to the natural trend. Fine hair will not hold a style contrary to the direction in which the hair grows.

Another important factor is length, this is individual. Some fine hair is better short, and other easier groomed at a longer length. This depends to some degree on the ability of the person to care for her own hair. Let us help you find the right hair style for you!

'Grass Roots Opera, Modern Piano' Discussed

Musicale Group Holds Meeting

Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer was program coordinator for the Tuesday morning meeting of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Workshop. Mrs. James Briney opened her home on East Iroquois road for the morning meeting.

Discussing "Grass Roots Opera and Modern Piano," Mrs. Gaensbauer stated that grass roots operas are written by contemporary composers with the thought in mind of getting down to the subject of every day living and common things in life. These operas are sung in English.

To illustrate, the opera, "Sunday Excursion" was performed by members in costume. Participating were Mrs. Victor Lindquist, Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks, Mrs. Gaensbauer and Mrs. Rebecca Gould. Mrs. H. V. Heldenbrand accompanied at the piano.

Modern piano was illustrated by several members, each introducing her selections with a short descriptive talk.

Piano soloists were Mrs. Briney, playing "Mode Reve" by Albert Dupuis; Mrs. Duane Arnell, "Gavotta Opus 32" by Sergei Prokofieff; Mrs. Willis Lefurgy, "Pastel Prelude" by Eckstein and "La-Mariposa" by Sandoval, and Mrs. Addison Oakley, "En Bateau" by Zeckwer.

MR. and MRS. W. VERPOOTEN

Suzanne Tatro became the bride of Wilbert Verpooten Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church. Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Tatro of Fourth avenue are parents of the bride. Wilbert, of Raeburn street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Verpooten of Fenton.

Suzanne Tatro Repeats Vows in St. Vincent Rite

Baskets of white gladioli, stocks and carnations decorated the altar at St. Vincent de Paul Church Saturday morning for the wedding of Suzanne Tatro and Wilbert Verpooten.

The Rev. Fabian Weber officiated at the 11 o'clock service in the presence of 200 guests.

Suzanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Tatro of Fourth avenue. Wilbert, of Raeburn street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Verpooten of Fenton.

The bridal gown was of lace over satin in a ballerina length. Her headpiece secured a veil of fingertip length and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Bernard Morris and Gail Kowaleski, cousins of the bride, were honor attendants. They wore ballerina-length gowns in pink and blue, respectively. Their flowers were contrasting tinted carnations.

Robert Powers served as Wilbert's best man and Robert Renick was groomsman.

For the reception held in the VFW Hall on Walton boulevard Mrs. Tatro chose a navy blue dress with white and navy blue accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Verpooten selected a light blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The newlyweds will make their home on Raeburn street.

Pleater Tape Aid in Curtain Scallop

A new scalloped pleater tape should make it a cinch for the home seamstress to whip up handsome cafe curtains in a jiffy. The scalloped tape is prestitched.

The right side of the tape is faced to the right side of fabric and is pasted or pinned. The tape is sewn along the top edge of pockets, following the outline for scallops.

The scallops are then cut out to within ¼ inch of stitching. The tape is then turned to the wrong side of the fabric and the bottom edge of the tape is sewn to the fabric.

Fashion Hint

Feeling hippy? Looking hippy? This is the time to trim down hips and thighs with exercise. Picture yourself on the beach next summer and you'll take to exercises eagerly.

Must Leave Before End of Lecture

Woman Criticized for Walking Out in Midst of Talk

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "The other day a friend and I went to a lecture at the town hall. The speaker was a rather notable person and I was very much interested in hearing him speak. The lecture did not start on time and he spoke much longer than I had anticipated.

"As I had to be home at a certain time I couldn't stay any longer and finally got up and left as quietly as possible. My friend thinks I was unforgivably rude for having walked out while he was still speaking and said that having gone to the lecture I should have remained until he had finished. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: It was unfortunate that you had to leave, but if it couldn't be helped because of your obligations at home, there was nothing to do but leave as quickly and quietly as possible. The unusual length of time he spoke was sufficient excuse for your departure.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Could hand lotion be considered an insult as a present? I have a relative who has very chapped hands and I'm going to spend the weekend with her and thought some good hand cream might be a nice gift to take her, but I certainly don't want to hurt her feelings."

Answer: If she ever has talked about how easily her hands chap, then taking something that you know would help would surely show special thought. Otherwise, it would seem better to choose something else.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When 'The Star-Spangled Banner' is sung by a soloist before the opening of a sports event, convention or any such public function, is it proper to applaud when he (or she) has finished singing?"

Answer: While still standing, it is correct to applaud the singer briefly and then sit down.

Beauty Hint

A good, clear mirror and plenty of light are essential for applying make-up. Without both, you fool no one but yourself.

Richard Ernst (left) of Birmingham, president of Michigan State University Club of Oakland County, and Martin Rummel of Birmingham, Alumni Advisory Council member, are shown with an award banner presented to the group. The club, the largest in the nation, received the award on the basis of activities and interests of the alumni group. Activities include alumni meetings, scholarship awards, students loan fund, football movies and excursions, and other alumni and university affairs.

Use Cotton Swabs to Apply Makeup

Use a cotton swab to avoid a harsh look when you are applying makeup.

Dot on cream rouge with one end of the swab, and then blend the rouge into your skin softly with the other end.

You also will find swabs helpful in hiding blemishes, reaching tiny crevices and for other delicate spot applications on your skin.

Aprons may be prettier than ever as seen above. You'll find this one simple to sew; and by adding heart-and-rose motifs embroidered in easy-to-do stitches and pretty colors, you'll be giving it that final touch of beauty.

'Smooooth' Describes This Treat

Mrs. Curtis Starts With Gelatine Base for Cheese Cake

By JANET ODELL

These make-ahead recipes are the ones we like; you do too, don't you? This cheese cake recipe can be made in advance; in fact, it freezes well so that it can be prepared way ahead of time.

Mrs. Russell Curtis, today's cook, has lived in Pontiac a little over a year. The Curtis' have two young daughters. Mrs. Curtis is active in church work, is a Sunday School superintendent.

She likes to sew, to work with ceramics and to read. She is a new member of AAUW.

CHEESE CAKE
By Mrs. Russell Curtis

30 graham crackers
½ cup butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons confectioners sugar
1 package lemon gelatine
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ pint whipping cream

Dissolve gelatine in 1 cup hot water. Let cool to lukewarm. Roll crackers into fine crumbs. Melt butter or margarine, add confectioners sugar and mix well with crumbs.

Press crumbs on the bottom and sides of a 9x13 pan or two 8x8x2 pans, like pie crust.

Combine cheese, 1 cup of sugar and vanilla and cream well. Stir slowly into lukewarm gelatine. Whip cream, add second cup of sugar and mix well. Combine cheese mixture with whipped cream, stirring well. Pour into crumb lined pans. Chill. Serves 16-18.

New Style Girdle Aids Daily Struggle

Foundation manufacturers are helping women win their daily wrestling matches with girdles.

All types of figure-forming garments—brassieres, Bra-lettes, girdles, corselets—today can be found in front-fastening versions. You have your choice of hooks or zipper.

This is by no means a new style, but was reintroduced last year and is currently appealing to an increasing number of women.

If you're buying a dress that's going to need alterations, get an estimate of the cost first. If the price of the alterations is high, the dress may not be worth it.

Beauty Hint

There are two sure ways to a trim figure: sensible diet and regular exercises. But you must make a habit of both if you want the rewards they give.

Students Invited to Nurses' Home

All senior and junior class high school students interested in a nursing career are invited to an open house at the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Unit of the Mercy School of Nursing of Detroit, from 3 to 5 p.m., March 6, in the unit's nurses' home on East Grand boulevard.

Tours of the nurses' home and the nursing demonstration laboratories will be conducted while classes are actually in progress, to give guests a true picture of the training program offered.

Have Perspiration Stains Ever Ruined Your Dress?

New ARRID with Perstop*
Stops Perspiration Stains – Stops Odor
DRAMATIC STEAMBATH TEST SHOWS HOW

This woman was put in a steambath at 104 degrees. ARRID with Perstop* was rubbed into her forehead. Fifteen minutes later . . .

. . . she was dripping with perspiration – but ARRID with Perstop* kept her forehead dry. ARRID will do the same for your underarms, too.

Just rub ARRID in – rub perspiration out. Rub ARRID in – rub odor out. When the cream vanishes you know you're safe even on hot, sticky days.

ARRID with Perstop*, used daily, keeps your clothes safe from ugly stains, keeps your underarms dry, soft and sweet.

ARRID with Perstop* is 1½ times as effective as all leading deodorants tested against perspiration and odor.

So . . . don't be half-safe. Be completely safe. Use new ARRID with Perstop* to be sure. 43¢ plus tax.

Don't Offer Child False Affection

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Reformatories often attach a child's important correspondence to his case record.

Attached to Al's was a letter from his mother. It was addressed to "my angel Honey-boy" and promised to celebrate his 13th birthday with him.

Stapled to it was a card that came after the birthday had arrived and gone. It said something like this: "Don't be mad at Mama for not getting to see you. If I could of, I would of. But even if you are still mad at me, I'm still crazy about my sweetie pie."

Now Al knew his mother wasn't in the least crazy about him. He knew that instead of loving him, she was really delighted to be rid of him. His problem was that he wasn't aware that he knew it.

So one day, just before Christmas, his brave and loyal social worker decided to help him bring this knowledge up into full consciousness.

FACED THE TRUTH

He let Al wait for six hours for the mother who never came to take him home for the holiday. He let him wait, capped, mackinawed and packed during the goodbyes of other children. He let him wait until evening when Al broke down, crying out, "She's a liar. She's a liar. She doesn't want me . . ."

With this truth finally faced, Al was able to withdraw expectation from his mother's false words and begin to invest it in his own effort. It was what he needed to do to stop being a confused, perpetually frustrated child.

Sometimes you and I withdraw affectionate feeling from our children. When we do, instead of pretending this hasn't happened, why don't we say grumblingly, "Go away. Don't bother me. I don't feel a bit loving just now."

Instead of wounding the child, this truthfulness comforts him. He has already sensed our temporary withdrawal of affection.

Though he regrets it, wishing we'd show interest in his crayon picture, his regret is more than balanced by his pleasure in knowing that his intuition is trustworthy—and that when it tells him a person is feeling unloving, that's exactly the way it is.

WEAKEN SELF-TRUST

But when, like Al's mother, we protest affection we do not feel, we undermine the child's self-trust. The false endearments we speak contradict what his intuition tells him.

No longer able to trust his judgment of reality, he becomes uncertain of himself, confused and very angry. And he may begin to express his resentment of our unreliability by delinquent behavior of all kinds.

Soroptimists Hear Rail Representative

William Munce of a railway system spoke before Soroptimist International members Monday evening at Hotel Waldron. Explaining that the first dining car was designed in 1868 by Pullman, who also designed the Pullman car, Mr. Munce told of the many changes from the first railroad cars to the trains of today.

Plans were made to attend a joint meeting of Southern Michigan Soroptimist Clubs Thursday at Devon Gables. Gertrude Huitt, first Soroptimist International president, will speak.

Woman Turns to Anger When She Omits Charm

Pleasing Manner Will Help Her Get What She Wants From Life

By RUTH MILLETT

"Woman learns how to hate in proportion to the rate she forgets how to charm."

Who said that? Never mind, it doesn't really matter. What matters is that you remember it. It will save you much senseless anger. And it is sure to make a more charming woman of you.

Petty anger rarely does anything for a woman but make her face hard, her voice harsh, her words cutting, and her actions often regrettable.

But charm can win a woman most of the things she wants out of life.

Charm helps her make and keep friends. It makes her everyday business dealings more pleasant. It often gives her a decided advantage over the woman who wears a chip on her shoulder.

INFLUENCES FAMILY

Charm helps a woman to influence her family. Charm often helps a mother-in-law to win the love and respect of her daughter-in-law.

It allows a daughter-in-law to stay in the good graces of a mother-in-law, even while gently but firmly refusing to let the mother-in-law interfere in the way she runs her own home.

Charm helps a woman avoid quarrels and smooth over the unpleasantness of others. Charm makes it easy for her to influence others to do as she wishes.

But if a woman isn't willing to put charm to work for her — then she is bound to grow angry often Her lack of charm is sure to turn people against her. It will make her ambitions more difficult to achieve and complicate almost everything she tries to accomplish.

When a woman chooses to go through life without trying to charm, she meets so many frustrations that anger soon becomes a habit.

Next time you find yourself growing angry at another person, repeat those words: "Woman learns how to hate in proportion to the rate she forgets how to charm."

Petite Clothes Fit Only Petite Women

The worst pitfall for petite-size women, those 5'4" or under is the too-youthful dress, according to Andrew Arkin, manufacturer of petite fashions.

"Too many girls with Marilyn Monroe proportions wear Shirley Temple dresses because they happen to fit," says the 6'2" 33-year-old fashion leader, emphasizing the importance of properly proportioned clothes to suit the petite woman's personality as well as her figure.

Comfort, Color, Cut: 3 Cs of Fashion

The three C's of fashion know-how are comfort, color and cut, according to Leonard Arkin, Seventh avenue manufacturer. All three elements are inter-related of course, but each is equally important.

If you're not comfortable in a dress, you look tense and distressed so that nobody's aware of the dress itself, only your discomfort. If the color's wrong, your skin looks unhealthy, your hair and eyes dull and you might just as well be wearing a sack. If the cut is wrong, Arkin concludes, your figure will seem all out of proportion.

For Blemish-Free Complexion

Girls Need a Sound Diet

Young girls worry about their skins more than any other single thing, even boys, judging by the mail sack. And small wonder—a lovely complexion is essential to a pretty face. But as one girl puts it "why is it that just at the age when you're dating, and having a good time blemishes appear. Isn't there anything to prevent skin eruptions?"

The skin is a barometer for the system, physicians tell us. Nervousness can upset it, such as the fluttery butterfly feeling one experiences before examinations. Faulty diet can kick up a mess of blotches. A dirty face is a good breeding ground for bacteria. An unclean powder puff or strongly pigmented foundation may also irritate the skin.

How to care for the skin?

A sound diet is the first requirement for a good complexion. At the first sign of a blotch a doctor should be consulted. He'll make suggestions for the diet, probably including green and yellow vegetables, meat, whole wheat bread, fruit, and perhaps ruling out chocolate, pastry, soda, candies, gravy and other rich foods—fad foods like pizza—until the skin condition clears up. He may even make you give up whole milk and other fats for a while.

The powder puff must be washed frequently. Or use a fresh cotton ball or cotton square as a powder puff each day. Wash your face with a clean warm cloth and good soap. Blot it dry. It is best not to rub a blemished face too hard. If your skin is good, give it a thorough scrubbing morning, noon and night, whipping up a good lather and rinsing it off with tepid water cupped in your hands. Some skin specialists believe that the face should not be washed with a cloth, that it is better to lather with the hands, and then rinse with the hands.

MAKEUP NEXT

Now what about makeup? That's the second question asked by girls with troubled skin.

If the skin is rambunctious, it is best not to use makeup except when absolutely necessary. Even then use a medicated lotion or foundation cream or one suggested by your physician before applying any makeup.

Proper makeup for the average skin goes like this:

Apply foundation cream to the clean skin. Apply a little rouge (if you use it) to the cheekbones. Blend in carefully. Now apply powder, dusting it over the face, rather than rubbing it in. Apply lipstick and blot it with tissue.

Dip a piece of cotton in cold water, squeeze it and brush it lightly over the face. Blot it by patting with tissue. Powder the face lightly, brushing off excess powder gently. This is an excellent makeup for a date, but too much trouble for daytime wear, perhaps.

Follow Plumbing Repair Job With Cleanup

The alert homemaker will make sure to stand by with a pail of hot soap or detergent suds when the plumber removes a sink or washtub waste trap.

When the trap is detached, the plumber will probably shake it to loosen the muck, and will use a flexible wire or a wire-stemmed brush to clean it out.

Then, for sanitary reasons, it should be washed in the hot soap or detergent suds. The upper drain should also be flushed with hot sudsy water into an empty pail before the trap is replaced.

Speechless Visitor Due in Capital

Sri Baba of India Has Kept Silent for 31 Years

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—This talk-happy capital, where discussion and debate grease the wheels of government and chit-chat spins the party-go-round, will have a July visitor who is fluent in six languages, but won't speak a word.

Washingtonians need not feel slighted, however. The visitor, Sri Sadgurn Meher Baba, has kept a voluntary silence for 31 years.

An outstanding spiritual leader of India, Sri Baba will spend four hours receiving friends and disciples at the home of Mrs. James Terry Duce, wife of the vice president of the Arabian American Oil Co.

He will be en route to Myrtle Beach, S. C., where a Meher Center has been dedicated by followers of his philosophy.

Sri Baba has not written anything either, except his signature, since 1923, when he finished an account of his "divine Experience," not to be read until after his death. (Baba communicates by means of an alphabet board.)

GOD'S SILENCE

He has explained his silence: "God has been everlastingly working in silence, unobserved, unheard, except by those who experience His infinite silence. If my silence cannot speak, of what avail would be speeches made by the tongue?"

Baba, who will be on his 10th trip to this country, also expects to visit another center, "Meher Mount" at Ojai, Calif.

Hostess Gwen Cafritz, who has made the world "best-dressed" lists, has found some of her most admired, couturier-designed creations more picturesque than practical.

At a recent shindig she lingered only long enough to say hello to her hosts and their honored guests and to exchange a few pleasantries over a cocktail before taking her leave.

She couldn't sit down to dinner in her dress. Of camelia pink, it had a long, tighly fitted, shirred top and a frou-frou bustle-effect in back which she described as a "bird's nest."

I remember another, a fabulous gown of heavy white satin, created by the American designer Charles James, the voluminous skirt of which stood out so stiffly she could neither dance nor get close enough to a body to shake hands.

Don't Gain Extra Pounds of Fat

Motherhood Needn't Ruin Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women have lovely slim figures until their first child is born. Then they may allow themselves to gain from 10 to 25 pounds of fat each pregnancy.

The wise young woman begins counting calories as soon as she has weaned her baby, and she snaps those stretched abdominal muscles back into place with exercise as soon as her doctor says that it is safe for her to do so.

Her more shortsighted sister may allow the pounds to linger on and the muscles to remain lax until another child is on the way. Probably she gains even more during the second pregnancy, on top of what she gained the first time, and her muscles will be in worse condition.

Of course the best plan is not to gain the extra pounds of fat. It is true that a pregnant woman needs more food because she must nourish her child as well as herself, but that does not mean that she should eat so much that she herself accumulates fatty deposits.

All of the hazards of pregnancy are increased by overweight. While having a baby is safer today than crossing a busy intersection, we should nevertheless give ourselves all of the "breaks." This is one of them. Do not gain weight past that allowed for your pregnancy.

CONSULT DOCTOR

Another is to see a physician as soon as you suspect that you are to have a child. Prenatal care has been an extremely important factor in the tremendous cut in maternal mortality. Even though you feel wonderfully well, put yourself in the hands of a doctor immediately and follow his directions.

The wise young woman snaps those stretched abdominal muscles back into place with exercise as soon as her doctor says it is safe for her to do so.

He probably will want you to take a daily walk unless there is some special reason for not doing so.

Select your physician carefully, not just for his bedside manner but for his training and experience and skill also. Once you do this you need have no fear. With available scientific know-how and modern anesthetics, having a child should be sheer joy.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Care During Pregnancy," which gives you much infomation as to girdles and diet and so forth, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 21. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Four Exercises to Take After Your Pregnancy."

Gold Glitter Continues in Fashion

NEW YORK (INS)—Gold glitter started as a short-term fad a few years ago, and has stayed around to become an old favorite.

When curtains and draperies first came out with shining gold metallic streaks running through them, few people dreamed that this was going to become, and remain, the top style trend.

The lattst window hangings, from sheer casements to heavy boucles, have gold scattered, striped or plaided through them. In some cases the glitter is just barely perceptible in little streaks through a sheer fabric with boucle type stripes in contrasting shades.

In other cases it is a definite stripe, part of such striped patterns as pink on white, turquoise on white or gold on gold.

It can be elegant on a casement that is self-patterned in shiny and dull fortisan diamond pattern. The gold is used in the narrowest possible stripe, alternating three stripes and one on a wide repeat.

Stripes in general, even when they don't have the faintest touch of glitter, also are very much in style this year. Often they are merely suggested, and almost always they are of the same color but a different texture from the remainder of the drape.

Occasionally they are suggested by little shreds of white fabric interspersed at regular intervals.

Dip Belt in Starch to Stiffen Material

For the home dressmaker who finds the making of stiff belts a problem use only material for the belt, then dip into a pure solution of starch.

The belt will be sufficiently stiff. This is a great improvement on leather or buckram lined belts, which are more difficult to make and require dry cleaning, instead of ordinary laundering.

The natural beige raw silk afternoon dress by Branell has a front-tied belt. The neckline tucking is of beige silk chiffon.

College Degrees Aren't Essential

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Do you have to have a home economics degree to get into the food field, a journalism degree to get a reporting job, a psychology degree to be in personnel?

Almost everybody gives lip-service to the idea that you do and many of the help wanted advertisements say so.

But oddly enough, many of the top people I meet in these and other fields don't have the corresponding degrees at all.

How can we account for this? Well, there are several explanations.

First, when you are turned down with the words, "Sorry, we want somebody with a degree in the field," that probably isn't the reason at all.

The real reason may be the impression you made—you don't seem to be interested in the job, your price is too high, your manners are unpleasant or perhaps you're just not their type!

CHANGING MINDS

There was a time when most employers wanted specific degrees, but they have learned a lot and are gradually changing their minds.

They found that the person with the specific degree is often too specialized and lacks the well-rounded education which develops all facets of the mind.

Sometimes the over-trained applicant has an arrogance, a feeling of knowing it all, which makes him incapable of further development.

Sometimes, too, the specialist makes all others with whom he comes in contact feel like ignoramuses.

I thought of this the other day when talking with Helen Worth, who runs a very successful school of cooking.

FUN IN COOKING

Helen's classes are not only designed to teach people to cook beautifully and easily, but also to make it fun. According to Helen, cooking is a cinch and throwing a crepe suzette together is a lark.

This effective, contagious and delightful point of view would be difficult if Helen had spent years and years in home economic studies.

Actually, Helen is an English major, who studied cooking after tucking away her liberal arts courses.

Do please bear these points in mind the next time you hear the old chestnut about the lack of opportunity for anyone without such-and-such a degree.

What the world wants, and what the employer wants, are enthusiasm, intelligence and a good education—which can be got on your own if you can't afford to get it in college!

W. Stark of East Iroquois road. Mrs. H. Guy Moats, not pictured, is also working on the project.

Married Saturday at First Presbyterian Church were Sheena Grubb and Guy Edward Bennett. Mr. and Mrs. David Grubb of Union street are parents of the bride, and Guy is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett of Columbus, Ga., and the late Victor Bennett.

MR. and MRS. GUY E. BENNETT

Sheena Grubb Becomes Bride in Candlelight Rite

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church, Sheena Grubb became the bride of Guy Edward Bennett. The 7:30 o'clock service was attended by 150 guests.

Baskets of white gladioli and pompons decorated the altar for the double-ring ceremony. Dr. William Marbach officiated.

Sheena is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Grubb of Union street and Guy, of Milwaukee, Wis., is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett of Columbus, Ga., and the late Victor Bennett.

The bridal gown was fashioned with a Chantilly lace bodice featuring a Sabrina neckline accented with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The full skirt was of Italian silk with a small bustle and a chapel sweep.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured by a crown of seed pearls. She carried an orchid corsage.

ATTEND BRIDE

Mrs. J. R. Harris of Clarkston was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was of shrimp-colored chiffon in a waltz length. Amina Lennon, Margaret Cunningham and Rose Boyison were bridesmaids. They wore cotillion blue gowns.

Frank Wallace of Milwaukee served as best man. Ushers were David Grubb, brother of the bride, J. R. Harris of Clarkston and Gavin Morrison of Detroit.

Debra Ann Harris of Clarkston, niece of the bride, was flower girl and John David Harris served as ringbearer.

The bridal recital was sung by Margaret Issitt of Clarkston and Mrs. Michael Siano of Drayton Plains.

Following the reception held at Knights of Pythias Hall, the bride changed to a black and white wool suit with matching accessories and an orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The newlyweds are honeymooning in Chicago and will make their home in Milwaukee.

Out-of-town guests attended from the Bronx, N. Y., Milwaukee, Tampa, Fla., and Madison, Mich.

No. 1 Deb of '38 Plans Wedding

NEW YORK (AP) — Brenda Frazier Kelly, No. 1 debutante of New York society in 1938, plans to marry her long-time beau, businessman Robert Chatfield - Taylor.

The engagement was announced yesterday.

It will be the second marriage for both. Mrs. Kelly was divorced a year ago from John Sims (Shipwreck) Kelly and received custody of their 10 - year - old daughter, Victoria.

Chatfield - Taylor recently was divorced by the former Eleanor Bangs.

Both Mrs. Kelly and Chatfield-Taylor come from families prominent in the social register. His father was author Hobart Chatfield - Taylor.

Mrs. Kelly inherited $4,000,000 when she became 21 from the estate of her father, Frank Duff Frazier, grain dealer.

And No Bones About It!

Swimsuit to Get 'Sculptured' Look

ATLANTA (INS) — All women will be buying bathing suits as they buy bras — by cup-size — within three years, according to one swim fashion manufacturer.

Bernie Kort, representing a New York girdle and brassiere manufacturer which went into the swim suit business seven years ago, said at an advance showing in Atlanta:

"The ABC bra construction in swim suits will become a uniform method for fitting women throughout the country within the next three years."

Kort's company (Roxanne) is making swim suits sized by bra cup and size and styled in flattering fashions. He explains:

"Ninety per cent of the time, when you know the bust measurement, the body will conform to definite measurements. This gives better fit to the suit in all parts of the body."

The New Yorker added:

"As much as style in a swim suit, a woman is looking for comfort. She doesn't want any bones sticking her and, on the other hand, she doesn't want to worry about the suit coming off."

The company has used the specific bra size in a rubber fabric to make a suit that will "stay up" without bones.

While emphasizing fit, the manufacturer also has gone in for styling to suit the most fastidious woman.

One strapless suit with half skirt is made in a new rubber fabric which gives the effect of antique silk, in gold, with woven white and black border design top and bottom.

Boy shorts are very important in this line of bathing suits, and Kort says that the trend is toward more boy shorts. At present he estimates the buying is split half and half between half skirts and boys shorts.

In cotton suits, this company still uses the rubber fabric for figure flattery in what is called a "counter-balanced control," with a panel of rubberized material for flattering front and back to accentuate the sculptured bustline.

Several of the suits show up in fabrics that look like cotton but are in reality rubberized materials.

Unusual colors and gradations of tone are used in plaids and stripes, which are put together for the most flattering effect. One suit features regimental stripes in an up - and - down pattern which gives a slenderizing effect blending into the fuller bustline.

Chiefs Stave Off Oak Threat, Win 13th

By H. GUY MOATS

Getting there "fustest with the mostest" certainly paid off again, last night, for Pontiac's high school basketball Chiefs, who dumped an exceedingly stubborn Royal Oak High squad 53-45 on the Oaks' floor.

Victory was Pontiac's 13th in 14 starts, and followed almost the identical pattern of the Flint Northern game, Art Van Ryzin's club won that one only by dint of a terrific first period in which it scored 22 points. In last night's contest Chiefs collected 16 to 6 in the opener, compared to the boys coached by Ed Campbell.

Dave Diehm, sharpshooting Chief backcourt man, kept the PHS five in contention all the way, with a fine output of 25 counters, eight in the big 1st frame. Oaks' big John Kerr almost matched Dave's effort, with a shining 24-point performance. He was dead with his outside push and set shots. Diehm fired 'em in from the corners and then varied his style with several fine driving and layup buckets. He also collected five of six free throw attempts. Dave was the only Chief hitting for double figures, Hudson Ray with eight being the closest of the PHS crew.

After the hot first session, Oaks played Chiefs even, 37 points to an equal total by Pontiac. Where Pontiac had a better than 35 per cent shooting average in the opener they dropped off badly rest of the way to around 25 per cent.

A Pontiac-fan-packed crowd gave lusty support to the Chiefs, who now move into the final contention of the regular season, Friday when they travel to Saginaw for the last SVC and regular schedule tilt.

Bay City Central blasted Handy in a cross-town setto last night 89-64 and Trojans flattened Midland, 84-54.

Kerr's surprising performance was his best of the season, and was a rather unexpected feat for the player himself. Kerr threw them in from all over the court, mostly away outside.

Little Chiefs suffered a rare setback, against the Little Oaks, 23-22, in a wild see-saw finish with the winning point, a free throw being made in the last half minute.

GOT THAT 13th — Pontiac High's cagers indulged in a bit of horseplay after last night's 13th victory at Royal Oak High School. Team managers Eddie Fowkes (2nd from right, and (right) Bruce Bergstrom hold up shirt No. 13 (Terry Zellhart's garment) to point up the locker room celebration. The wild-haired individual in the center is Dick Whitmer. Practically the whole squad got in the act.

From The PRESS BOX

It's hard to believe but Dickie's Service team which dominated team competition for the past five weeks in the Michigan State Elks tourney being held here, ranks only 7th in the regular Elks League. Stadium Inn is the loop pacesetter but is only 8th in the tournament.

A pair of former Pontiac sprinters are doing some fine running at Central Michigan College these days. They are Walter Beach and Phil Officer, both of whom also played football. Beach recently was 2nd in the 60-yard dash against Eastern Michigan and has covered that distance in 6.4 seconds. He once ran the 100 in 9.6 in the service.

Two youngsters named Dennis Smicina and Garth Mellick are burning up the Junior League out at Land-O-Lakes. Smicina has rolled actual games of 232 and 220 and series of 532 and 565. He carries a 142 average. Mellick, with a 139 average, hit a 206 actual and 540 series on the same day and a week later posted a 204 game.

St. Fred Bows to Eaglets

Orchard Lake St. Mary's basketball team continued its mastery of St. Frederick last night with a convincing 53-38 victory on the Orchard Lake court.

St. Fred, handicapped by the absence of regulars Dick Nickerson and Marty Koenig, was never in contention.

The Eaglets methodically rolled up a 22-13 halftime lead over a stone-cold Ram quintet and just coasted through the final two quarters. It was St. Mary's 14th triumph in 15 games.

Pete Madelans and Stan Moniuszko paced the Eagles to their 2nd win of the season against St. Fred with 15 and 13 points respectively. Tom Derocher scored 11 points for the Rams as they dropped their 5th decision in 14 tries.

St. Fred's reserves nudged St. Mary in the preliminary game, 36-35, behind a 12-point effort by Steve Pocs.

Holcomb Calls Big Ten's Aid Policy Unfair

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Stu Holcomb, Northwestern athletic director, says the Big Ten's new athletic aid code is unfair to conference members unless the NCAA could be persuaded to make it nationwide.

The plan grants athletes tuition, room, board and fees according to their needs.

Holcomb said yesterday that numerous persons who had agreed to send their sons to Northwestern have withdrawn such promises, costing the Wildcats at least half a dozen potential football stars.

Northwestern voted against the plan which was passed by the conference last week 6-4.

Close Friday Against Duke

NC Extends Win Streak to 23

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of North Carolina Tar Heels need only to defeat Duke Friday night to complete their regular season undefeated.

Frank McGuire's precisionists, only major unbeaten team, made Wake Forest their 23rd straight victim last night 69-64 after overcoming an 8-point deficit in the second half.

Meanwhile, the see-saw race for individual scoring honors continued unabated. Last Saturday, Grady Wallace of South Carolina was top man. Sunday morning it was Joe Gibbon of Mississippi. Now it's Wallace again.

The Gamecock sharpshooter poured in 39 points to lead his club to a 98-96 triumph over The Citadel. He has scored an average of 30.48 points per game to 30.30 for Gibbon, whose team was idle last night.

Three other teams in the top 10 of The Associated Press poll played last night. Southern Methodist, No. 4, polished off Texas Christian 88-75 to run its record to 20-3, but sixth-ranked UCLA had its Pacific Coast title hopes jolted by Southern California 84-80.

Seattle, No. 5 and a top contender for the National Invitation Tournament in New York next month, clubbed Portland 105-95. Elgin Baylor, the nation's third-ranking scorer, hit for 51 points for Seattle. His average now stands at 30.09.

Notre Dame, which came along with a rush in the second half of the season, won its seventh in a row and 11th in its last 13 starts by crushing Marquette 76-56.

North Carolina was given a king-sized scare by Wake Forest. With just 46 seconds to go, the Deacons led by 64-63. But they couldn't hold their advantage.

Tar Heel ace Lennie Rosenbluth dropped in two free throws and North Carolina was out of the hole. Rosenbluth was high man with 30 points

'Ring' Honors Basilio

NEW YORK (AP) — Carmen Basilio's quick knockout of Johnny Saxton earned the welterweight champion "fighter of the month" laurels today in Ring Ratings and resulted in a shuffle of rankings in the 147-pound division.

Saxton, knocked out in the 2nd round of the title scrap, dropped from top contender to third. Boston's Tony DeMarco, another ex-champion, advanced to the No. 1 berth on the strength of his victory over Gaspar Ortega of Mexico. The Mexican retained his position as second contender.

Joe Miceli of New York dropped from ninth to tenth in an exchange of places with Charley "Tombstone" Smith of Los Angeles.

Wallace "Bud" Smith of Cincinnati was another ex-champion dropped a few notches. Stopped by champion Joe Brown, Smith was demoted in the lightweight rankings from fifth to seventh. Cuba's Orlando Zulueta rose to fifth.

Big Nino Valdes, who has scored six straight victories in Europe, moved back into the heavyweight rankings. He earned the No. 10 spot following his quick kayo of Joe Erskine, the British titleholder, Valdes replaced Wayne Bethea of New York.

Ellsworth "Spider" Webb, the former Olympian who has won 18 straight, was upped from fourth to third among the middleweight contenders. He easily whipped Neal Rivers of Las Vegas in his last outing.

Fine Hockey Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Kenny Mosdell has hung up his skates after 13 years and two months in the National Hockey League. Except for this season when he was with the Chicago Black Hawks, all of his big league career was with the Montreal Canadiens.

Now 34, he seemed to improve as he grew older for he enjoyed his best campaigns during 1953-54 and 1954-55. In 1954 he made the All-Star team. He was born in Montreal.

Tigers Play 1st Exhibition

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tiger rookies got in their first intrasquad game of the season yesterday while the Florida weather threatened to call off their third attempt.

Rain and cold weather had cancelled the other two attempts.

Jack Dittmer and Reno Bertoia, the two third base candidates, shed no light on which would get the job. Playing on opposite teams, they each got one hit — a double.

Billy Hitchcock's Black Sox won 3-1 the eight inning ball game over Don Lund's Striped Sox. Hitchcock's hitters got six hits, but the Striped Sox made only two.

Bob Miller and Bill Harrington pitched hitless ball in their two inning stints for the winners. Don Lee, son of former Tiger Thornton Lee, allowed only one hit in his two inning sting for the losers.

Two Calumet Horses Enter Same Race

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Calumet Farm goes after its fourth stakes triumph in two weeks today with double-barreled entry of Amoret and Miss Arlette in the $30,000 added Black Helen Handicap at Hialeah Park.

The race, limited to fillies and mares, will be at a mile and a furlong and is the richest Florida purse of the winter for female thoroughbreds.

hockey star Broncho Bill Reichart of Winnipeg was on the four-man Sioux golf team that won the 1956 North Central golf title.

HAPPY WARRIORS — Jim Skinner (left) and teammate Dave Diehm peer out of the showers at Royal Oak High locker room after last night's 53-45 win over the Oaks. Victory was No. 13 in 14 starts for Chiefs, and both warriors were very happy over the results. It was the 1st time during the evening Diehm was "cool," the sharpshooting guard hitting for 25 points to top the scoring.

Detroit Still Has 5 Unsigned

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — A honeymooning 20-game winner, three old time veterans, and a 28-year-old outfielder just hitting his stride are the only unsigned Detroit Tigers today.

The regular training season opens Friday — plenty of time for Johnny McHale, director of player personnel, to add the signatures to the "contract signed" list.

In fact McHale figures trouble with only one of the five — 32-year-old outfielder Gil Coan, a veteran of both major leagues, who slipped into the minors last year before the Tigers drafted him.

The others, McHale says, are not posing serious problems. The honeymooner is, of course, left-hander Billy Hoeft. He was married Monday.

Veterans Bob Kennedy and Eddie Robinson, both 36, are still unsigned as is rookie Roy Hawes, who hit .300 last year in Triple A play with Louisville and Charleston.

Hoeft has returned his first contract, and presumably is more concerned with his marriage contract than with baseball offers at the present time. He figures to make a deal with McHale when he gets back from his honeymoon.

The differences between the Tigers and both Robinson and Kennedy are reportedly small. The same goes for Hawes.

Kennedy played in 69 games for the Tigers last year after they obtained him from the Chicago White Sox. He hit a dismal .221, but Tiger manager Jack Tighe is counting on him for needed reserve outfield strength.

Robinson, whose batting average was even more pale last season with Kansas City and the New York Yankees, will bring his lefthanded stance to the Detroit plate in the hopes he can produce clutch power.

In 75 times at bat with both clubs last year, Robinson socked in 23 runs and hit seven homers.

Calgon Rallies to Conquer Merchants in City Action

The Calgon Kids defeated the Pontiac Merchants, 44-41, last night at Jefferson Junior High to move within half a game of front-running Griff's Grill in the National division of the adult City Basketball League.

Calgon overcame a 31-29 deficit with a 4th quarter rally to gain its 8th decision in 12 games. Mort Hetznecker paced the Kids with 19 points. Ron Goyette tallied a dozen for the Merchants.

Stadium Inn's 4th period surge fell one point short as CIO Local 594 posted a 63-62 victory in adult American League play. Felix Brooks topped the winners with 18 points while Stadium's Maurice Stack piled up 23.

Green's P & H recorded its 9th straight win in the Class D National loop with a 56-14 rout of Beedle's Cut-Rate. George Miller scored 15 points for Green's.

Sam Cole and Clarence Reed each made 10 points to lead the Elks to a 40-32 verdict over Home Lunch in another National loop contest. Jerry Andrews made 12 for the losers.

The Blackhawks forfeited to the Northerns in a scheduled International League game.

TONIGHT'S GAMES

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

Manager Paul Richards has been given much of the credit for the general improvement of the Baltimore Orioles over the past two seasons. Last October Richards got a full vote of confidence from the Baltimore management and a two-year extension of his contract through 1959.

(Key: (R) righthanded.)

The Orioles and Tigers are tied 2-2 in the top of the 11th at Detroit. Walt Masterson (R) is pitching for the Tigers. Jim Pyburn starts off with a single. Billy Gardner lines to second baseman Jack Phillips for the first out. But when Phillips throws wild past first in a double play attempt, Pyburn races to second and continues to third base on an overthrow by first baseman Wayne Belardi. Oriole relief pitcher George Zuverink (R) is the next batter with George Kell (R) on deck and Chuck Diering (R) to follow. Zuverink had an 0-for-10 batting record going into this game.

Would you:

a. Put in a lefthanded pinch-hitter for Zuverink?
b. Let Zuverink swing away?
c. Order Zuverink to try a squeeze bunt?
d. Let Pyburn try a steal of home?

Result: — Zuverink swings, scoring Pyburn. Zuverink holds Detroit in the bottom of the 11th and Baltimore wins 3-2 (June 23).

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs will play 13 exhibition games in Tampa during the 1957 spring training season. Cincinnati will train at Plant Field but will play its games at Al Lopez Field, training site of the Chicago White Sox.

NFL May Be Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP) — An official of the National Football League (N F L) says the organization would welcome a congressional investigation.

"I'd be delighted," said NFL Commissioner Bert Bell in Philadelphia.

He made the comment yesterday after Rep. Keating (R-NY) suggested an investigation into football and boxing. Keating, a member of the House anti-trust subcommittee, said the two sports had undergone infiltration by "gamblers and gangsters."

The subcommittee chairman, Rep. Celler (D-NY), said he would be glad to discuss the proposed inquiry with Keating but that a heavy subcommittee schedule might mean the probe could not be conducted this year.

Bell said if Keating "knows anything then he should name names and he should already have reported it to the proper people. We have an ex-FBI agent in all cities where we can to keep a check on things, and we've had no trouble in this game for a long time."

Eleven years ago, several members of the New York Giants were banned from the NFL for alleged dealings with gamblers.

Keating said in an interview he favored an investigation of possible anti-trust aspects of boxing and football, but that any such study would also include "abuses which have plagued these sports."

The latest flurry of congressional interest in sports was prompted by Monday's Supreme Court decision that professional football, unlike baseball, was subject to federal anti-trust statutes.

Elliott Begins New Job at Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP) — "If you can't beat them, join them."

With that quip, Bump Elliott left the Iowa football coaching staff and became a member of the football family at Michigan, where he was once a star halfback.

Since 1952, when Bump became an aide to Forest Evashevski at Iowa, the Hawkeyes have been frustrated by blowing apparently won games on the gridiron to Michigan.

Elliott, at 32 years of age, came "home" to Ann Arbor yesterday with the title of "heir apparent" to head coach Bennie Oosterbaan should he retire.

Those close to Michigan athletic fortunes regard Elliott as "the next head coach" although nobody will officially make such an admission.

But athletic director Fritz Crisler set the rumor mill churning last week when he announced Elliott's appointment.

"Through his work at Oregon State (where he coached from 1949 to 1952) and at Iowa, he has proved himself to be one of the most able young coaching prospects in the game," Crisler said.

Elliott returned to Michigan appearing as trim as he did during 1946 and 1947 when he was a key performer in Crisler's last two power-packed elevens.

Bump will return to Iowa tomorrow to clean up the last details before returning here permanently in about two weeks.

Today he planned conferences with Oosterbaan and the staff and hoped to find spare time to search for a home with his wife, Barbara.

At Baton Rouge

Hebert Tourney Favorite

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The sixth annual $15,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament opens tomorrow with a Louisiana native among the favorites for the first time.

Husky Jay Hebert of Lafayette, former Louisiana State University golfer, is the only professional with two victories on the winter tourney circuit this year.

The 34-year-old Hebert, now playing out of Sanford, Fla., played on the 1947 LSU golf team that won the national collegiate title and the 1948 team that was NCAA runner-up.

Gardner Dickinson, an LSU teammate, also is entered in the tournament.

Top qualifier was Tom Nieporte of Great Nick, N. Y., with a three-under-par 69.

Tourney officials reported a record breaking entry list of 223, but only 150 pofessionals and 10 amateurs will compete in tomorrow's opening round. The top 70 from the Houston Open qualified automatically here.

Wallace Leading College Scorers

By THE ASOCIATED PRESS

South Carolina's Grady Wallace took over the lead and Seattle's Elgin Baylor moved into third place last night in the major college individual scoring race.

Wallace, hitting for 39 points in South Carolina's 98-96 victory over The Citadel, raised his average to 30.48, giving him a .18 of a point lead over runner-up Joe Gibbon of Mississippi who was idle.

Baylor moved up from fourth place as he connected for 51 points to boost his average to 30.09 as Seattle defeated Portland 105-95.

Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain was dropped to fourth place with 29.20 and Chet Forte of Columbia was fifth with 28.95. Neither played last night.

Cards Obtain Wilhelm in Trade

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — The acquisition of relief pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm "makes us a definite pennant threat," Manager Freddie Hutchinson of the St. Louis Cardinals said today.

"It's always nice to get someone who can come in to get a guy out," Hutchinson said. "Wilhelm's that kind of someone. He'll help us where we need help the most."

Wilhelm, 33-year-old knuckleballer, was obtained by the Cards from the New York Giants yesterday in exchange for outfielder-first baseman Whitey Lockman, who had gone to St. Louis from the Giants only last June.

The deal filled a key vacancy for both clubs — giving St. Louis a badly needed righthanded relief pitcher and giving the Giants a first base replacement for Bill White, now in the Army.

It couldn't have pleased Hutchinson more.

"Whitey would have been playing a utility role for us this season," he said, "filling in either in the outfield or at first base as he was needed. Wilhelm figures more in our plans.

"Having him around definitely makes us a pennant threat."

General Manager Frank Lane, who negotiated the deal in a phone conversation with Giants' vice president Chub Feeney in Phoenix Ariz., said Wilhelm notified him last night he would join the Cardinals in about four days.

Wilhelm said he would drive his family from Phoenix to his wife's parents home in Columbus, Ga., then fly on to St. Petersburg.

Lockman left here last night with his family — also by car — to rejoin his former teammates in Phoenix.

He told The Associated Press: "I'm happy because I think it means I'll play regularly at the position I like best (first base). I knew with (Stan) Musial at first and the outfield pretty well set, I'd be no more than a fill in man for the Cards."

Neither player had a successful season in 1956, although lifetime records of each is impressive.

Wilhelm, who had a 42-25 overall record with the Giants, appeared in 64 games last season and figured in 13 decisions, winning four and losing nine.

Lockman, at 30 a 10-year major league veteran, batted an aggregate .260, hitting .249 in 70 games for St. Louis and .272 in 48 games for New York.

Luke Easter, former member of the Cleveland Indians, led the International League in home runs in 1956. He hit 35 for Buffalo.

John Powers, who has had trials with the Pittsburgh Pirates, paced the Southern Assn. in home runs in 1956. He hit 39 for New Orleans.

County Prep Quintets Prosper Tuesday

Tuesday was a prosperous evening for Oakland County high school basketball teams in competition against outside foes.

Walled Lake and Rochester, the county's top Class B powers, came through with easy victories and even downtrodden Southfield rose to the occasion.

Utica gained a vital decision in the Bi-County League and Romeo defeated Fraser, 65-58, to complete last night's limited area schedule.

Walled Lake rolled to its 14th victory in 15 games with a lopsided 66-45 decision over Class A Wayne on the latter's court.

Larry Hughes chalked up 17 points and John Walker added 15 in Walled Lake's easy win over an expected tough opponent. Phil Martinez made 15 points for Wayne.

Rochester breezed to a 73-63 triumph over South Lake on the South Lake floor for its 14th win in 16 starts. The Falcons led all the way by margins of six to a dozen points.

Jim Van Nocker and Dave Peters sparked the Falcons with 24 and 23 points respectively. Rondo Palmer tallied 14 for the losers.

Tom Ridley's two-handed set shot from 40 feet out as the final buzzer sounded handed underdog Southfield a thrilling, 70-68 decision over Livonia Bentley.

Bob Shull scored 24 points for the Jays as they posted their 3rd win in 14 attempts. Ron Gable topped Bentley with 21.

Utica took over 1st place in the hectic Bi-County race with an exciting 42-40 triumph over Warren. Wayne Stewart's field goal with less than a minute to go provided the winning margin. Ken Thompson and Lou Haase led the Chieftains with 13 points apiece.

The victory assured Utica of at least a share of the league title. The defending champions have an 8-2 record while Warren and Center Line are tied for 2nd place with 7-2 marks.

Martinez Wins Over Cuban Kid

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Kid Gavilan, still burning over what he called "another hometown decision," and sharp-shooting Vince Martinez were all set today to sign for a return bout following the Jerseyite's controversial victory over the veteran Cuban.

Martinel, 27-year old, fourth-ranking welterweight contender from nearby Paterson, N. J., won the referee's decision over the 31-year old ex-champ in a close and interesting 10-rounder at the Newark armory last night.

Referee Joe Harrison, the only official under New Jersey rules, awarded the verdict to the pride of Jersey by a 6-3-1 rounds score. Twelve of 18 boxing writers at the ringside thought the Keed won. Four had Vince the winner while two, had it even.

Sophomore Swimmers Pace Michigan's Win

EAST LANSING (AP)—A pair of sophomore swimmers, Cy Hopkins and Dick Hanley, each won three races to help their Michigan team to a 58-47 Big Ten dual meet victory over Michigan State last night.

Hopkins, an Ann Arbor 19-year-old, set three pool and three meet records with his winning performances. Hanley set two meet records. Between them they took 30 of Michigan's points.

Tigers, Maple Leafs to Play Exhibition

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit Tigers announced Tuesday the Bengals will play an exhibition game in Toronto on June 17.

General Manager Spike Briggs said the Tigers will meet the Toronto club of the triple-A International League in a night game at Maple Leaf Stadium.

Carol Heiss Takes Charge in Figure Skating Trials

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A step nearer successful defense of her international figure skating title, vivacious Carol Heiss, 17-year-old Ozone Park, N.Y., schoolgirl, today faced the challenge of two youngsters from Austria.

Blonde Carol took a substantial lead in the women's singles event yesterday by scoring 460.4 points in four compulsory figures with two more scheduled in this second day competition in the World Figure Skating Championships.

The 105-pound perfectionist who won the world title last year and the North American crown two weeks ago rates a strong favorite.

Her closest competitors are Ingrid Wendl, 16, and Hanna Eigel, 17, both from Vienna Ingrid, 1956 European champion, had 443.8 points and Hanna, present queen of European skaters, had 436.9. Both refused to be counted out in their quest for the world crown.

Canada's Carole Jane Pachl followed with 424.9 as the 20 women skaters continued competition with the two required figures today, considered tougher than those which opened five days of competition yesterday.

The first 1957 championship will be decided tonight in the free skating competition for pairs.

Another Prep Cager Piles Up 92 Points

CONFLUENCE, Pa. (AP)—College basketball scouts will be interested to note that Mike Kasnick of Shade-Central City High School tied the unofficial Pennsylvania scholastic scoring record of 92 points in a single game.

The 5-11 senior, who has scored 680 points in 15 games this season, was practically the whole show last night as his team whipped Turkey Foot Valley 107-53 in this Southwestern Pennsylvania community.

Court of Appeals Upholds Sentence

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—An 18-months sentence imposed on Saul House, no address, on a charge of using interstate wire (telephone) in a scheme to defraud a Royal Oak, Mich., man, was upheld Tuesday by the U. S. Court of Appeals, sixth circuit.

House was convicted on April 18, 1956, of inveigling Herman J. Taylor to bet $400 on an alleged fixed horse race. The race purportedly occurred on April 15, 1955 in Toledo.

House, who posed as a former jockey, was convicted and sentenced in U.S. District court in Detroit, by Judge Ralph M. Freeman.

Seven current or past Michigan State athletes took part in the 1956 Olympic games in Melbourne.

Michigan Nation's Top State for Outdoorsmen

LANSING (AP) — Michigan continued its leadership last year as the nation's top state for outdoorsmen, the State Conservation Department reported.

The department said approximately 2,370,000 hunting and fishing licenses were issued in the state during the year, topping all other states in combined sales.

Show Opens Thursday

By H. GUY MOATS

"Bigger and better than ever". That's the tag attached to the annual mid-winter Pontiac Sports Show that swings into action with the Pontiac Motor Retail Store, Mt. Clemens street, at 1 p.m. Thursday. Show runs through Sunday and will be open daily from 1 to 10 p.m.

Many fine exhibits, continuous motion picture entertainment on outdoor subjects, demonstrations of fly and bait-rod casting, pistol and bow and arrow shooting exhibitions are parts of the extensive set of features offered visitors, without charge.

Installation of the scores of exhibits was under way today. They included outboard boats made of wood, fiberglass and ply, motors, all kinds of boating equipment, gadgets, fishing and shooting materials, archery equipment. Water skiing equipment will also be shown.

Ben Hardesty, nationally known flyrod manipulator and Lieut. Lester Coykendall of the State Police will demonstrate their respective skills, with the expert pistol shot stressing safety, something that will also mark the daily demonstrations of use of bows and arrows by Al Tang and Joe Kerr of OCSC.

Al Hilde will have an exhibition of mounted wildlife and OCSC will have a section of the space.

It was expected that the several thousands attendance of last year's show would be upped for the latest exhibition.

WHOOPER — This 18 pound, 40½ inch long northern pike was speared a few days ago by a Pontiac area fisherman, Robert J. Marquis of White Lake, who took the lunker from Fletcher floodwaters, near Hillman. "The fish almost pulled my shoulder out of place" Marquis reported. The battle lasted 15 minutes.

Trout-Fishing in Reverse

By JACK PATTERSON

It rained and blew hard enough yesterday to resemble pretty closely an average opening day. We were almost tempted to give the (temporary) pool in the back yard a whipping just for old times' sake. It would have been the type of foolishness fishermen are perfectly capable of. Particularly trout fishermen.

PATTERSON

After considerable rainy - day contemplation we decided that trout fishermen are not only foolish, which is excusable, but are inclined to do things backward, which is not.

Most evident example of cart before the horse thinking is the almost universal practice of fishing when it's convenient rather than when the time is ripe.

Far worse, however, is the fisherman's own stern-first approach to the tactical problems astream. Take dry flies, for instance. They are practically always tied with the hackle at the eye end of the hook. Since the purpose of the hackle is to make the fly float it would seem sensible to put such flotation gear at the point of greatest weight, over the bend of the hook.

A high and dry fly is desirable; why not tie it so it floats high and dry? Hackle-aft flies get chewed worse by fish than standard flies but so what? A goodly fish is welcome to chew any fly of ours beyond recognition any time he wishes.

Our fisherman is quite apt to move in the stream, if not backward, at least in the wrong direction. The book says to fish dry upstream. It makes more sense to fish dry downstream. The fly is presented to the fish, who's heading into the current, before the leader and line. It is a more natural presentation.

Our recent mention of overlooked possibilities for local shooters in the presence of a fairly good supply of quail in the area brought down the wrath of the Audubon Society upon our noggin in the form of a letter from Mrs. Margaret G. Griebe of Rochester, former secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Audubon Society.

Mrs. Griebe pointed out that quail are useful to farmers, are desirable as songbirds and sometimes have a rough time of it weathering Michigan winters. We agree one hundred per cent and wish only to add, once again, that they also make splendid shooting.

Seek to Pad NHL Lead

Red Wings Play Montreal

The Detroit Red Wings will begin a crucial two game series with the Montreal Canadiens Thursday night at Olympia Stadium. The teams will then move to Montreal for a Saturday contest, which will start the Redshirts off on a six-game road trip.

The two teams will enter Thursday's contest six points apart in the National Hockey League standings, with the Wings leading the Habitants by that margin and one game in hand.

Detroit will be seeking its first victory over Montreal in 1957. The teams have met four times since the new year, with the Canadiens winning two and two ending in ties.

Home ice has prevailed throughout the series, which Montreal leads, four victories to three, with four ties. The Wings won the first three games at Olympia, then came from behind to gain a pair of 3-3 ties in the last two. Conversely, Montreal has won four games and tied two in the Forum. Saturday's game will be the final regular season meeting of the two teams in Monteral.

Despite trailing in the series, the Redshirts have outscored the defending champions, 31 goals to 30. The difference has come from the sticks of Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay. Howe has scored 10 goals and Lindsay eight to dominate the individual scoring in the inter-club series.

Little Henri Richard, whose late goal last Thursday gave his club a 3-3 tie, has been Montreal's principal goal-getter with six. Jean Beliveau and Claude Provost have five goals each.

Syracuse Keeps Gaining Ground

Kerr Hits 30 as Nats Win 120-108 to Pose New Threat in NBA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Center John Kerr has the best night of his three-year pro basketball career and the Syracuse Nationals, once the cellar-dwellers of the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn., today are within a game of second place.

Kerr scored 30 points last night and the Nationals battered the conditionally sold Minneapolis Lakers 120-108. The Nats moved to within a game of the second-place Philadelphia Warriors.

And the Lakers remained tied for third in the Western Division with Rochester, which lost to the Boston Celtics 92-77 in the first game of a doubleheader in Madison Square Garden.

The fourth-place New York Knickerbockers stayed two games behind Syracuse by whipping the St. Louis Hawks 107-76 in the second game.

Racing Driver Named in Suit

DETROIT (AP) — Former Gold Cup boat driver Dan Arena was named co-defendant in a $730,000 damage suit filed in federal court yesterday.

Other defendants in the suit filed by Mrs. Elsie C. Woodzell, 36, of Colonial Beach, VFla., are the Arena Craft Corp., of Miami and Garzel Plastics Industries, Inc., of Fraser, Mich.

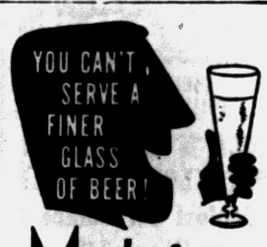

The suit stems from a 1956 boating accident on the Potomac river near Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Woodzell's husband and four other persons drowned when their 20-foot fiber-glass-hulled boat broke up and sank.

The Garzel firm, which manufactured the fiber glass, is charged with negligence in manufacture. Arena is charged with failure to inspect the boat.

Gene Fullmer Baited With $10,000 Offer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Promoter Ben Anolik said today he has offered middleweight champion Gene Fullmer $10,000 or 30 per cent of the gate for a non-title bout here with Wilf Greaves the latter part of March.

Anolik said he made the offer in a wire to Fullmer's manager, Marvin Jenson, at Salt Lake City.

Fullmer won an unanimous 10-round decision from Greaves at Salt Lake City last month.

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Longden's world record of lifetime winners stood at 4,999 today, and the 5,000th appeared as hard to get as his first one 30 years ago.

Longden was entered on four horses at Santa Anita today and his admirers were hoping for "just one more."

The 47-year-old Johnny had six mounts yesterday. He won for No. 4,999 in the first race, but then finished second twice, third twice and fourth in the final race of the day.

Longden's first winner was in 1927 at Salt Lake City on a $300 plater named Hugo K. Asher.

Last September Longden rode No. 4,871 and broke the world record held by Sir Gordon Richards of England.

College Luminaries at MSU Grid Clinic

LANSING (AP) — Chuck Taylor, head coach at Stanford University, and Gomer Jones, line coach at the University of Oklahoma, will be visiting specialists at the Michigan State football coaching clinic May 2-4.

Lou Groza, place-kicking star of the Cleveland Browns, and Bob Stoppert, Midland High School coach, will be others assisting MSU head coach Duffy Daugherty and his aides.

The annual event, held to coincide with the end of Spartan spring football practice, is expected to attract about 600 visiting college and high school coaches from the midwest.

Members of the Michigan State varsity squad will run through plays for demonstration purposes.

Runs Total to 16

Members of a small fox-hunting party from Flint, working the area around Lapeer last weekend got seven, including a female carrying six kits. Charles Wilson got the "seven with one shot" female. Sunday's total ran the winter's total to 16, for this group that shoots frequently over Fred Baucom's lands.

Middleweights Vie in Televised Match

DENVER (AP) — Young and confident Rory Calhoun and the more experienced Charley Cotton clash tonight in a televised contest of middleweights.

The 10-round event will be available to the nation's television screens over ABC at 10 p.m., EST.

Calhoun, who won a decision over Cotton in New York last summer is rated a 3-2 favorite. The boys will take 20 per cent of the gate each plus $4,000 apiece from the TV rights.

Robinson Caused Trade, Lane Says

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Frank Lane, St. Louis Cardinal general manager, says the New York Giants wouldn't have agreed to the Whitey Lockman-Hoyt Wilhelm trade if the Jackie Robinson deal of two months ago hadn't fallen through.

The Giants needed Lockman because of a problem at first base. They expected Robinson, the aging Brooklyn star, to play 100 games at first base for them after announcing the Dec. 13 deal for Robinson in which they gave up pitcher Dick Littlefield and $30,000, Lane said.

The following month, Robinson announced his retirement.

Three Michigan Boxers Win 1st Round Battles

CHICAGO (AP)— Three Michigan fighters won their preliminary bouts last night in first and second round competition for heavier weight classes in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions.

Grand Rapids heavyweight Dick Bantner outpointed Robert McVickers of Toledo to win his first round bout and came back to outpoint Bill Nielsen, of Omaha in his second round bout.

Osee Groom of Detroit knocked out James Powers of Streator, Ill., in his second round heavyweight match after drawing a first round bye.

Another Grand Rapids fighter, Tony Burton, took two 175 pound matches.

Detroiter Rudolph Stringer won his two matches in the 160 pound class.

Tommy Clayton, of Grand Rapids, won his first round 160-pound match, but defaulted his second round fight.

GMC's DF860, rated at 65,000 GCW. It has a 5-speed Synchro-Mesh overdrive transmission, a 2-speed electric-shift rear axle rated at 22,000 lbs., front axle at 11,000 lbs. Heat-treated frame, 72" b.b.c. dimension.

With GMC's new Super-E Diesel
YOU HAUL CHEAPER THAN EVER BEFORE!

TOP HORSEPOWER

Without turbo-charging, it delivers 190 gross h.p. against the runner-up's 170; 173 net h.p. against competition's 157. And that's with the GMC stroking an easy 2000 RPM compared with 2100.

So the GMC moves its 65,000 GCW with ease and speed – no bogging down under its full-rated load.

TOP PERFORMANCE

This new Diesel has 4 exhaust valves per cylinder—large loop ports—swirl-tip injectors. Spent gases are instantly, completely cleared—each charge of perfectly distributed fuel is fully alive with power.

So GMC's Diesel puts out a net torque of 508 foot pounds—compared with 460 for the nearest competitor.

TOP HORSEPOWER SAVINGS

GMC's great Diesel writes off power drain with its new hydraulic fan. This fan coasts when it's not needed—frees up to 10 horsepower for work at the wheels—saves up to 5% on fuel.

TOP MAINTENANCE ECONOMY

This engine, basically, is the beautifully simple design that, for many years, has rung up maintenance records not even approached by any other.

Now, with new power, new fuel efficiency, new operating advantages, the GMC DF860 can be expected to give you the lowest-cost, highest-profit hauls in your history.

Better call for a GMC representative for the full line-up!

5 Times as Big as Present Missile

New Nike Super-Rockets to Guard American Cities

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Army has revealed that atom-tipped guided missiles five times as large as present Nike rockets will soon ring American cities to provide nuclear anti-bomber protection.

The Army announcement said the new anti-aircraft missiles, designated the Nike Hercules, are "undergoing final tests," and "will be in the hands of operational Nike batteries around the country in the relatively near future."

The statement referred only briefly to the nuclear warheads that already have been issued to jet fighter pilots. Such warheads will enable both plane-launched and ground-launched missiles to knock down enemy bombers even if they miss by a half mile.

But the Army said the Nike Hercules "is substantially faster and has a much greater range than the Nike Ajax (the present missile) which has guarded key cities and strategic areas of the country for the past three years.

CITES ADVANTAGES

"Although longer, heavier and more than double the diameter of the Nike Ajax," the Army continued, "the Hercules will have extreme maneuverability at altitudes far in excess of those capable of being reached by Ajax."

A rocket "more than double the diameter" would have four times the volume and weight of its earlier counterpart, even if they were the same length. The Hercules has enough additional length to make it about five times as large.

According to reliable information, the Hercules has a length of 22 feet, or 39 feet including its "booster."

The present Nike is 20 feet long and a foot in diameter, and has a length of 32 feet including its "booster."

Israeli Known for Manners and Her Ability

By International News Service

A recent visitor to the United Nations met Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir for the first time and was deeply impressed by her warmth, ready smile and gentle manners.

"She reminds me of an American school teacher,' he commented, which wasn't strange at all, since that's exactly what Mrs. Meir was at one time.

In those days—during and immediately following the first World War—her name was Mrs. Morris Mabovitz Myerson and she was living in Milwaukee, where her family had settled on arriving in the U.S. from Kiev, Russia, in 1906.

But, in 1921, Mrs Myerson quit the Milwaukee School system and moved to Palestine to start on a career that has made her one of the most important women in the world—a woman whose words and deeds have a vital bearing on the question of war or peace in the Middle East.

ROLE IS ASURED

She is also a womar whose historical role is assured. She was one of the signers of Israel's declaration of independence, and served as the infant state's first minister to Russia, its first woman cabinet member and, of course, its first woman foreign minister.

Mrs. Meir—who changed her name from Myerson last year to make it more Hebraic—has been described as "the motherly type." She is, but she is also the kind of woman who was willing to brave an Arab ambush in 1948 to see Jordanian King Abdullah in his own palace.

The Israeli foreign minister is a short, stocky woman who parts her hair down the middle and usually wears tailored suits She still walks with a heavy swagger, acquired during the years she worked as a pioneer on Palestinian farms after leaving Milwaukee.

She was widowed nearly six years ago. Her daughter lives in an Israeli settlement in the Negev desert. Her son is a well-known cellist in Israel.

Hollywood Headlines

Katharine Cornell Makes Movie Debut in 'Candida'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Katharine Cornell, one of the stage's greatest stars, will make a motion picture debut in Bernard Shaw's "Candida." This was announced by Guthrie McClintic, stage producer and director and Miss Cornell's husband.

McClintic revealed that he has acquired worldwide motion picture rights to the Shaw comedy that is already associated with the name Katharine Cornell, and of course, with McClintic. He, of course, will produce the film version.

Shaw always refused to allow anyone to bring "Candida" to the screen and always said he hoped she would do it. That is one reason I believe that Kit has finally broken down and agreed to make a motion picture.

The plan is to film it this summer in London with a cast of internationally famous performers to co-star with Kit.

Until Jimmy Stewart arrived in New York from South America he didn't know that he had been made a brigadier general by President Eisenhower.

When I telephoned to congratulate him and to say he certainly deserved this promotion for acquitting himself so heroically in World War II, Jimmy said:

"This is a great honor, but I don't know whether I'll ever be able to live down that Gloria (Mrs. Stewart) caught a bigger fish than I did in the Argentine. It weighed 11 pounds and we're having it mounted and sent to California. I suppose I'll have to look at it and constantly be reminded of Gloria's championship."

The pride in Jimmy's voice couldn't help coming through. He said Gloria had flown directly to Los Angeles from Miami, but he went to New York to make appearances with "The Spirit of St. Louis."

YOUNG MARLENE

The wonder woman of our day when it comes to not showing her age is Marlene Dietrich—a grandmother.

I sat ringside at the Sands hotel in Las Vegas where she is appearing and she could easily have passed for 30. In fact, a man back of us leaned over and asked, "How old is Dietrich? We said, "Thirty-five." And he beleived us.

Her selection of songs is much better than the last time she was on the Vegas Strip, and I liked her gown, which wasn't as revealing as the first time.

She told me that she will be in Hollywood when she co-stars with Tyrone Power in the motion picture version of "Witness for the Prosecution," the Agatha Christie play.

Patti Page always had great talent as a singer, but, believe me, she married a real showman in Charlie O'Curran. His staging of her show at the Desert Inn is superb. She is beautifully lighted and looks and sings like an angel as always.

She tells me that she has to leave Charlie again to fulfill another engagement in New York on March 6, and in April she comes to Hollywood to stay.

Hal Wallis was in Vegas with Charlie to see Patti, and you needn't be surprised if she makes a picture for Wallis. He is sold on her.

APARTMENT FOR AVA

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Real estate agents in Hollywood are looking for an apartment for Ava Gardner, who will spend weekends here while she's in Mexico for "The Sun Also Rises."

Not even Marilyn Monroe's closest friends have seen her since her bridegroom, Arthur Miller, was cited for contempt of Congress by the Un-American Activities Committee. She's been sick in bed.

Dinah Shore, at the Flamingo, works very hard and sings tunes chosen by the customers. Dinah's really become a glamor girl.

U-I actress Jane Howard is recovering in Midway Hospital following surgery.

2 Oakland Justices Attend MSU Parley

Two Oakland justices of the peace are participating in the Traffic Law Enforcement Conference now in progress at Michigan State University.

Allen C. Ingle of Farmington Township was a panel member yesterday. Topic was bail and bail forfeiture. Donald E. Adams, Waterford Township justice, was a member at today's session on "Arraigning Adult Violators."

Oakland County Justice Court Coordinator Gerald A. Terrien also is attending the sessions.

The three-day conference is held annually to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas among law enforcement agencies throughout the state.

English Cyclist Turns Jaywalker —Loses 1 Pound

SOUTH-ON-SEA, England (AP)—Arthur McMullen was cycling furiously down the road when the traffic cop suddenly switched the signal to stop.

McMullen, 30, jumped off his bicycle, heaved it over his shoulder and nonchalantly walked across the intersection.

"I'm in a hurry," he explained casually to the protesting cop. "I haven't done anything wrong. Once I pick up my bike, I become a pedestrian."

Prosecutor R. J. Hughes agreed that the cyclist had turned pedestrian, but said he hadn't used the crossing prescribed for those on foot.

The judge fined McMullen one pound ($2.80) for jaywalking.

Hold Man Witness in Ontario Slaying

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Police are holding a 30-year-old steelworker as a material witness in the slaying of a young woman whose battered body was found stuffed under the steps of a central Hamilton house early yesterday.

The man was booked late last night after detectives investigating the slaying of red-haired Jeannie Dean had questioned him for five hours.

Miss Dean, whose age was given variously as "about 30," 29 and 22, was identified by her parents several hours after her body, clad only in panties, was found beneath the steps.

Dr. H. L. Foster, pathologist, said she had probably been dead for 48 hours. She had been the victim of a prolonged beating which fractured her upper jaw and nose and covered her body with welts and cuts. There was no evidence she had been raped, he said.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dean, said she had not lived with them for 10 years and had come home only "off and on."

India imported $274,890 worth of diamonds compared to $211,890 in 1953-55.

Expenditures by foreign military forces in Japan in 1955 accounted for 22 per cent of that country's total receipts in contrast to 26 per cent in the preceding 12 months, Tokyo reports.

Says Teachers' Pay Must Hit $15,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — A University of Illinois professor has stated that "in the long haul" top salaries for high school teachers will have to go to $15,000 a year or higher to get enough instructors into America's classrooms.

Harold C. Hand predicted that "if present trends continue, the teachers shortage will be seriously large."

Grain Deals Only Moderate

CHICAGO (AP) — A slightly earlier trend was uncovered in grains on the board of trade today. Trading was only moderately active and losses did not run as much as a cent.

Hesitancy upon the part of buyers seemed to be based on uncertainty regarding the amount of cash grain which will be delivered on March futures. Notices of intentions to tender grain on futures will be posted tomorrow.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/8 to 5/8 lower, March $2.32¼, corn 3/8 to 5/8 lower, March $1.27⅝, oats ¼ to ½ lower, March 74⅞, rye unchanged to ¾ lower, March $1.35¼, soybeans ⅜ lower to ½ higher, March $2.44, and lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, March $14.65.

Wheat sold off early despite the fact the Agriculture Department announced export allocations of $18,131,000 worth of wheat to Brazil and $5,588,000 worth to Iran. Both sales will be made in exchange for foreign currencies.

Several Stocks Liven Market

NEW YORK (AP) — A few widemoving stocks enlivened an otherwise mixed stock market in quiet early trading today.

Most pivotal issues showed gains or losses of fractions to around a point.

But Boeing, Lukens Steel and High-priced International Business Machines fluctuated more widely.

Boeing was down 1¾ at 50¼ on an opening block of 4,000 shares and later extended its loss to around 4 points. The stock was heavily traded following Defense Secretary Wilson's statement that the government is considering replacing Boeing's B52 bomber with a more modern plane. He said the plane might be replaced by the General Dynamics B-58 "Hustler."

General Dynamics advanced more than a point but its new background also included a proposal by directors for increasing the authorized shares to 30 million from 15 million shares.

Lukens Steel was up 3 at 53½ on an opening block of 3,000 shares, later slicing this gain about in half. IBM, following yesterday's news of its proposed 2-for-1 stock split and big public financing was down 6 at 514 at the opening and later showed a loss of 14 points.

Attorney in Hassle With Police Chief

Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry last night verbally attacked Police Chief Herbert W. Straley at the city commission meeting, for allegedly refusing to grant press cards to personnel of a Negro weekly tabloid newspaper.

Also attacked was Inspector Clark Wheaton, who, Henry charged, ejected him from his office. "He informed me we were not a newspaper," the bureau chief of the Metro charged.

Straley this morning denied "ever seeing the press cards."

"About a week ago," the chief said, "Henry busted into my office, where I was in conference, and hurled uncouth remarks at me." Straley admitted ordering an officer to "escort that man (Henry) out of this office."

The commission instructed Henry to submit a list of reporters needing cards from the paper's managing editor, to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

"The police department has the final say if they will be signed," Willman warned the commission.

First Paint Brushes Were Made of Reeds

CAIRO—The first paint brushes were made from reeds, which grew profusely along the Nile River.

The early Egyptians cut and shredded the reed ends into fibers. Similar brushes were made from the stems of palm leaves. The remains of such brushes are on display in the British Museum in London.

2 in 3 Up; Autos, Steels Down

Many Firms Report Smaller Gains in '56

NEW YORK (AP)—Profits slid in 1956 for some of the big boys in American industry. And although two out of three corporations made more money last year than in 1955, the total for industry as a whole was pulled down by these giants.

So today combined net profits after taxes are running slightly behind in the first reports.

The first 697 corporations to report so far show that taken together their net income is 1.1 per cent behind what the same companies made in 1956. With many more to come—especially some of the big oil companies that are expected to show sizable gains—it's still a horse race.

The declines that pulled the average down were in the auto, steel, electric equipment, and chemical industries, and in nation's railroads.

Auto sales were off. Steel companies came back fast in the final months of the year but couldn't overtake the effects of the summer steel strike. A strike held one big electrical equipment firm's profits down. Some rails were hit hard by the steel strikes. Some chemical firms—like many in other industries—complain that rising costs pared profit margins.

You have to go back to 1952 to find the year-by-year profit changes so close. In that year business managed to squeeze an increase of only one half of one per cent over 1951. The following year it climbed 11 per cent over 1952. There was a slackening in 1954 with profits topping 1953 by 3 per cent. In roaring 1955 corporate profits jumped 32 per cent. Last year, strikes and rising operating costs got in their licks.

The Commerce Department, which reports on earnings before taxes (a different measure) estimates that for all corporations' 1956 gross earnings should come to just under 43½ billion dollars. This would be a gain of 700 million over 1955, a gain of 1.6 per cent.

Of the 697 corporations in The Associated Press sampling, 221 declined from 1955, and 10 operated at a loss, compared with 13 the year before. Combined the 697 had net income of $10,663,833,352, compared with $10,785,867,891 for the same firms in 1955.

By categories: the 447 industrials declined 3.3 per cent; the 130 rails declined by 4.4 per cent; and the 104 utilities increased by 9.4 per cent.

The biggest drops were auto makers by 35.8 per cent and the steels by 10.5 per cent.

FIELD SALES REPRESENTATIVE
PREFABRICATED HOMES

A multiplant manufacturer of competitive prefabricated homes is looking for a representative to sell present accounts and franchise new builder-dealers. Prefer a man with a mortgage or builder sales background although this is not absolutely essential. The man we select will receive complete factory training and extensive assistance, and will have an unusual opportunity to build himself a business that should net him a 5-figure yearly income. Sufficient territory will be assigned to assure a broad market of customers for a really aggressive sale executive who is accustomed to working on his own. The straight commission compensation plan will not deter the man we are looking for as he will be accustomed to working on this type program. Send a complete resume and recent photo, if available to Box 36, Pontiac Press

BOX REPLIES

Explorer Post Meets to Mark Anniversary

Celebrating their third anniversary, members of Explorer Post 66 and their parents held an annual dinner meeting and award ceremony Tuesdey.

King Stetler, unit adviser, was honored for his service to the post by John P. Baxter, retiring chairman of the adult committee.

Infidelity in Homes of U.S. Great Shock

NEW YORK — American wives and husbands are a lot more unfaithful than is commonly supposed declares a feature article in the recent issue of a national magazine.

Recently, says the article, Dr. F. Alexander Magoun, professor or human relations at MIT proved into the how and why of unfaithful husbands and wives, and his findings will come as a shock to a great many people — both men and women.

For example, Dr. Magoun reports that at least 35 per cent of all husbands "step out" on their wives, either frequently or occasionally; and another thirty-five per cent, would like to do so if they felt they could get away with it.

This means roughly that only one husband out of three doesn't bear watching — from a wife's point of view.

However, points out the feature "How Faithful Are American Wives?" philandering is by no means one-sided: investigators from Stanford and MIT found that between 25 and 30 per cent of all American wives either are, or have been, unfaithful to their husbands.

In addition, contrary to popular belief, happily married men and women often get a yen to step out on their mates.

It is also true that many men and women are physically true to their marriage partner, but mentally unfaithful.

Report Six Generals Arrested in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Six generals and an undisclosed number of other military men active during Juan Peron's regime were reported under arrest today on charges of plotting against Argentina's anti-Peron government.

There was no confirmation of the report, which said the government held those arrested largely responsible for the recent nationwide railroad slowdown. The government ended that by putting the railwaymen under military control.

Success of Quiz Pleases Emcee

Says It's Hard to Find Suitable Contestants for the Program

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS)—Jack Barry is one TV quizmaster who admits freely he couldn't answer the questions he hands out.

"I couldn't even make a passing grade on the preliminary tests," grins Barry, who is emcee and coproducer of the hit TV quiz "Twenty One."

This is the show on which Columbia University instructor Charles Van Doren has won $143,000 so far, and Barry explains:

"Five thousand persons have tested for the show, and Van Doren is one of the 40 who passed. With that record, I'm not even going to try the first quiz!"

To try the TV version of blackjack before a nationwide audience, would-be contestants first have to pass a personality interview. then they take a three-hour quiz—363 questions in 108 categories — and only the highest scorers are picked.

ANYBODY WELCOME

"We have a little trouble finding contestants," Barry smiled. "In fact, we'll welcome anybody who wants to try—it's hard getting people of this caliber."

The answers on "Twenty One" are tough, but the game is easy. Barry says he and his partner Dan Enright just took the old American gambling game of blackjack and adapted it for TV.

He added that although he and Enright are $20,000 out of pocket on Van Doren's winnings to date, the advantage is still with "the house" or, in this case, the show producers.

"We guarantee the sponsor that winnings won't exceed $520,000 a year. Although we've lost a little on operating expenses so far, Van Doren couldn't win more than half a million in a year because of the time limit — even with perfect scores. The show time allows only about two games."

Barry, a jovial 6-footer who has two other TV shows, personally doesn't care if "Twenty One" loses him money. He recalls:

"A year ago I was fired from another TV quiz show "The Big Surprise," and I thought I better get out of the business. I used to walk the streets and bang on doors but nobody greeted me with open arms.

BOLSTERED EGO

"Frankly, I worked pretty hard on this show, and I'm tickled it's a success. It not only re-established my faltering ego, but it's a dynamite property for our firm. We've got agencies begging for our shows, networks drooling to get us, and people banging on our door now.

"We may lose some money, but I'm gaining weight from the testimonial banquets!"

School Budget Hits High

DETROIT (AP) — A record budget of $124,262,775 for the Detroit school system has been submitted to the Board of Education by Supt. Samuel M. Brownell.

Motor vehicle users in the United States pay more than 4 billion dollars annually in taxes and road, bridge, tunnel and ferry tolls.

TOO TOUGH FOR HIM — Jack Barry, emcee of "Twenty-One" on NBC-TV Mondays at 9 p. m., admits that he wouldn't be willing to tackle the difficult questions he hands out to his contestants. Barry reports that out of 5,000 applicants tested for the show, only Charles Van Doren and 39 others were accepted.

Lindbergh Was Flying and Missed Premiere

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Rosemary Clooney's expecting again in September — under her and Jose Ferrer's speed-up "family plan," this'll be her third . . . Charles A. Lindbergh didn't see "The Spirit of St. Louis" premier at the Music Hall. I asked Producer Leland Hayward why. "He's flying the ocean tonight," he replied — he meant the Pacific. Lindbergh was off on one of his inspection tours for his employer, Pan-American Airways.

Pepe Romero, the Mexico City columnist who has a one-man show at the Hammer Galleries, was quizzed by Gordon Manning. "What's the most difficult thing about painting?" Manning asked. Pepe shouted, "Selling the pictures!"

Ex-Gov. Shivers of Texas took a friendly ribbing as Fall Guy of the Saints & Sinners. "He's the kind of a Texas politician who can straddle anything but a horse," grinned razzmaster Tex O'Rourke. "I read he might be Ambassador to Mexico, but I don't think they got that much on him." Harry Hershfield claimed that Shivers' kids are like other Texas children: "When they see Santa Claus, they ask, "What can I do for you?"

Jean Kean wore tight-fitting silver pants as we danced at the Rainbow Room after the "St. Louis" preem and some character requested, "Sam You Made the Pants Too Long." Jane met Charles Van Doren who said, "It's great being a celebrity — I had dinner at 21." Jane snorted, "You could have bought it." A bystander asked him how many seats in the Music Hall and he replied 6,604. Wrong! Right answer: 5,984.

Lafayette Pageants to Attract Americans

PARIS — Americans have an added incentive for visiting France in 1957. The year marks the 200th anniversary of the birth of Lafayette, the young French general who fought beside George Washington in the American Revolution. As a tribute to this Franco-American hero, France will observe his bi-centenary with parades, fireworks, fancy-dress balls, displays, receptions and tours.

Paris will be the setting for many Lafayette pageants between May and September. The Garde Republicaine, resplendent in plumed hats, red coats and white breeches, will parade the streets and present arms in from of Lafayette's statue near the Louvre. Glittering receptions will be staged in the old Hotel de Noailles where Marie Antoinette received Lafayette on his return from America.

Scenes from Lafayette's life and the American Revolution will be dramatized in the Musee de l'Armee and in shop windows in the fashion district of Paris. The mayors of 42 American cities named after the famous French general will be on hand for Lafayette Week, June 28 to July 4, in Paris and the Auvergne, his birthplace in the heart of France.

A Japanese teacher in Tokyo, separated from his wife, was arrested for trying to steal a book from a store — "Autobiography of a Wife-Fearer."

1956 Intercity Bus Riders Estimated at 275 Million

WASHINGTON — The sleek, diesel-powered intercity bus is the sole public carrier linking millions of Americans to the rest of the nation. In fact, buses provide the only public transportation to and from more than 40,000 United States communities, says the National Geographic Society.

Some 25,000 highway giants served the travel needs of an estimated 275 million passengers last year. This huge volume makes the bus lines the most heavily patronized of the nation's long-distance carriers.

Only railroads — with short-haul commuter traffic included — top the buses in total passenger traffic.

Bus travel has come a long way in a short time. One of the earliest and now the largest of the intercity companies, began operations during World War I with only five jitneys. Early patrons had to content themselves with dingy terminals, uncertain schedules, and frequent transfers.

Now, however, all is changed and a traveler can board a bus in New York and debark from the same vehicle in San Francisco only 82 hours later.

New developments are revolutionizing highway travel. An increasing number of runs feature chic hostesses who, like their sisters of the air lines, devote themselves to the well-being of their passengers.

Air conditioning is standard equipment. Special panoramic views are afforded by vehicles such as the deck-and-a-half Scenicruiser.

But probably the world's most impressive bus is one company's Golden Eagle — a German-built luxury cruiser running between Dallas and Houston. It is the first of a fleet expected soon to interlace the country. Among the Golden Eagle's features: reserved contour seats, free snacks, background music, washroom facilities, and an observation lounge.

Sgt. Pittman Attends MSU Traffic Conference

Sgt. Medford E. Pittman, Traffic and Safety Bureau of the Pontiac Police, is attending a three-day Traffic Law Enforcement Conference held at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Purpose of this conference, conducted by the Highway Traffic Safety Center and Continuing Education Service of MSU, is to facilitate the interchange of ideas and to evolve new concepts to help all enforcement agencies function more effectively.

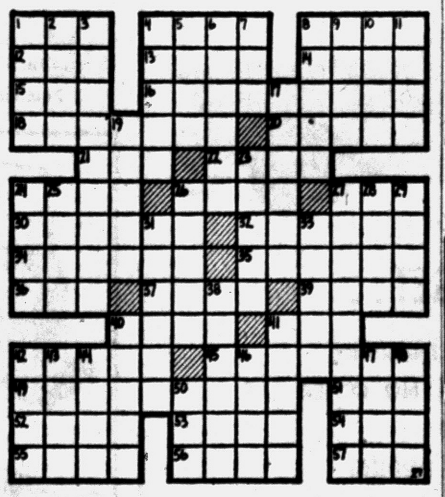

Motor vehicles generate 92 per cent of the U.S. horsepower.

U.S. Coastal Survey Maps Adjacent Waters, Depths

WASHINGTON — Combining expert field work with mass production, the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey turns out what in effect are road maps to the nation's sea frontier.

The Survey "ranges high, wide and deep in search of facts to aid navigators," writes Stuart E. Jones in an article called "Charting Our Sea and Air Lanes," in the National Geographic Magazine.

CHARTS REMARKABLY DETAILED

The survey's primary task is surveying and charting coastal waters of the United States, territories and possessions. Facts, figures and symbols printed on the large sheet maps it sells throughout the country give remarkably detailed information on depths, sea bottom obstructions, and such visible landmarks as villages, chimneys, windmills and oil tanks.

Besides duties inherent in the title, the survey collects information on tides, earthquakes and the earth's magnetism. It prepares aeronautical charts showing radio ranges, beacons and flying hazards.

To do all this, it employs some 2,000 men and women—hydrographers, geodesists, cartographers, engineers, geophysicists and oceanographers. It operates a fleet of six large vessels and many smaller ones.

To see how survey assignments are carried out in the field, Mr. Jones, with geographic photographer J. Baylor Roberts, flew to bleak Cold Bay, Alaska. They joined an Air Photo Mission mapping the Alaska Peninsula and Aleutian Islands.

The operation was an example of governmental cooperation. Since the survey has no aircraft of its own, the Coast Guard supplied plane, pilots and crew for the survey's photographers and photographic navigator.

In the usually fog-bound Alaska region, the geographic observers experienced a rare flying day. At 21,000-foot altitude, with all hands on oxygen, they watched the survey's unique nine-lens camera go into action.

This 750-pound giant, invented by the bureau, gives the biggest, most detailed picture possible. Only the center lens shoots vertically. The others, ranged around it and facing deflecting mirrors, photograph ahead, behind and to the sides. When the film is developed, pictures are reversed. Straightened out, the nine exposures fit into a unit like a jigsaw puzzle. From it, cartographers transfer photographic features to maps.

MODERN DEPTH FINDING

From airborne activities, the geographic team moved on to the surveys' ship Pathfinder, then running a hydrographic survey in the Bering Sea between the peninsula and small, uninhabited Amak Island.

Pathfinder's assignment at the time was depth finding, carried out daily from launches cruising back and forth over specified areas.

Once the job was done by heaving a lead weight attached to a line marked off in feet or fathoms. Now two electronic aids to navigation, the fathometer and Shoran, make it possible to obtain—within seconds—both water-depth reading and the ship's exact latitude and longitude.

The fathometer works by sending a sound signal to the bottom of the sea, and measuring the time it takes to bounce back. Shoran (or short-range aid to navigation) enables a navigator to find his ship's position at the apex of an imaginary triangle between two known shore stations. The distances represented by the two sides of the triangle are calculated by radio-type pulses reflected from the shore stations.

Today, just as it was when Thomas Jefferson founded it 150 years ago, the Coast and Geodetic Survey is a pioneer and a trail blazer."

Deck Material New

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn. —A marine decking material made of fiber glass and a specially formulated plastic is being made by a South Norwalk firm. It is fire-retarded and reportedly stable in a wide temperature range. It comes in both nonslip and smooth surfaces in a variety of colors.

Trips From London So Easy for Tourist!

NEW YORK — Short trips out of London are an easy undertaking. Tourists can leave the city by subway, bus, Thames steamer, train or private car. Buses run by the famous Green Line operate to all London suburbs.

For a few pennies, the Green Line transports travelers to an incredible assortment of places. Among them are: Hatfield House, the mansion where Elizabeth I spent her early years puttering in the garden; Hampton Court, where Henry VIII housed all six of his wives, and Greenwich, where the Royal Naval Museum displays everything from ships to the diamond plume on Lord Nelson's gold-braided hat.

The tourist who wants to roam this scenic suburbia on his own can rent a car in London. A small English model costs $2.80 a day plus 3 cents a mile. Americans can easily obtain ration coupons to buy gasoline. There is virtually no limit on tourist motoring from the coves of Cornwall to the Scottish Highlands.

Reports Loss of 1942

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A letter to the sheriff from Charles F. Wilken of Coachella Valley said he lost a pistol in 1942 but had been too busy to report it until 1956, when the letter was mailed.

Which Most Parked —Cars or Attendant?

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — When Henry Ford made his Model A he probably never dreamed it would be equipped with television, but it has in Hollywood.

Jesse James, 20, is a parking attendant at a night spot. He needed some way to while away the long night hours. So he installed a $115 television set in his Model A Ford, vintage 1928, for which he paid only $5.

James put the TV in the trunk of the car. He hooks it up to the parking lot floodlight system. Now he can pull up an easy chair, open the trunk and watch the late, late show.

"Of course I have to get up every once in a while to park a car or two," he said, "but I try to do that during the commercials."

Women May Register for 'Time-Saver' Class

Oakland County homemakers can still register for the Birmingham "Heart of the Home" classes, to start Monday, according to Mrs. Norma Landon, of Michigan State University, who will conduct the classes for the Michigan Heart Assn.

Designed to show housewives how to save time and energy in their home through work-simplification, there will be four classes, of two hours each, to be held from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Birmingham Community Center, 308 Bates.

The classes are of particular value to women with heart or blood pressure difficulties who have to avoid exertions.

Taxi Bandit Generous

BALTIMORE (AP)—After robbing a city taxi driver of 12 dollars in bills, three men remarked as they jumped from his cab:

"Keep the change, buddy."

"Who Says You Need Costly Shots To Relieve 'Hot Flashes' And Irritation From Change-Of-Life?"

Mrs. A. M., Wetonga, Okla., adds, "Middle age was torture. Had costly shots 3 times a week but got no relief from them. Practically had a nervous breakdown. Then took Pinkham's Tablets. They brought me new happiness, comfort!"

Medical science now offers women new freedom from much of the misery of change-of-life, thanks to an amazing new tablet developed especially to relieve these functionally-caused discomforts. Doctors reported sensational results using this home treatment alone . . . and no expensive injections!

Relief for 8 out of 10 tested!

Irritability, tortured nerves were calmed. Dizziness relieved. Suffocating hot flashes subsided. For woman after woman, a feeling of "well-being" returned!

Unlike aspirin and such "general purpose" remedies, this new tablet is a unique combination of special medicines...acts directly on the cause of these troubles... works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve tense feelings and physical distress that bring unhappiness to so many. Clinical tests prove this.

Now you can get this amazing formula at drugstores without prescription. Ask for "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets". Don't let change-of-life rob you of joy! Get Pinkham's Tablets. Contain blood-building iron. See how fast you can feel your happy self again — without costly shots! (Also liquid Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)
