And It's Only the Beginning . . .

Pontiac Press Photo

THE START—Postmaster William W. Donaldson and postal employe Frank O. Hart, 49 E. Beverly St., start processing the first batches of Christmas mail at the main post office, 735 W. Huron St. During the next two weeks over 6 million packages and letters will be handled by the office. Postal employes will be on their toes to handle the flood of mail.

'Mail 'Em Yesterday!'

Get Going With Cards

Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson has his battle cry for the next two weeks: "Mail 'em yesterday!"

Last year's 10-day Christmas rush accounted for over 6 million pieces of mail — more than half a million cards and packages a day.

★ ★ ★

Donaldson expects this year's deluge to be even greater. It begins this week.

To handle the load, the post office will have an additional 170 temporary employes to beef up its 286-man staff. Applications for the work were opened on Nov. 1. The supply of applications lasted about 45 minutes.

Since the main delay in mail processing is in the sorting and handling of the pieces, the extra employes will be used mostly at the post office. According to Donaldson, additional mail carriers aren't much use because of their inexperience with the routes.

Carriers are prohibited by law from carrying over 35 pounds in their pouches so they'll probably make some overtime runs, Donaldson said.

MAIL THIS WEEK

He urged that continental U.S. mail be posted before Friday to have a good chance of arriving in time for Christmas.

Other words of advice from the postmaster are:

1—Separate bundles of cards into OUT OF TOWN and LOCAL delivery packets. Tapes with these labels are available from the post office or carriers. The process saves sorting time and speeds delivery.

2—Buy plenty of stamps when the post office isn't crowded (best times are before 10 a.m. or between 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.)

3—Sending Christmas cards by first class mail insures forwarding or return of misaddressed cards. The extra penny is a good investment. Also keep Christmas card lists up to date.

4—Valuable Christmas packages should be insured because of the relatively higher risk in the heavy-volume period. As stacks of packages pile up, loss and physical damage increase. Mark delicate gifts "FRAGILE" and foodstuffs "PERISHABLE." Pack all gifts securely. Last year half a million packages in the U.S. were not delivered due to bad packing.

★ ★ ★

5—Use combination mail where a letter or message (other than a gift tag) is enclosed inside a Christmas package.

6—Address all mail clearly and correctly: Full name and address with postal zone numbers and return address.

★ ★ ★

The main post office will be open regular hours (8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.) on weekdays. Saturdays before Christmas it will be open until noon for regular business, and until 5:30 for stamps and parcel post. This Sunday only the main office will be open for stamps and parcel post from 1 p.m. until 5.

No mail will be delivered Dec. 24 or 25 except special deliveries, perishables and Christmas gift parcels.

Pay of Factory Workers Hits Record in November

WASHINGTON (AP) — Average earnings of factory workers set an all-time record last month, the Labor Department announced today. The work-week averaged 40 hours and 36 minutes—highest in two years.

The department's analysis of the preliminary job figures announced last week showed that payroll employment, at 55.1 million in November, equalled the all-time record set a month earlier.

"With all the returns now in for November, the story is a pretty good one," said the department's manpower director, Seymour Wolfbein.

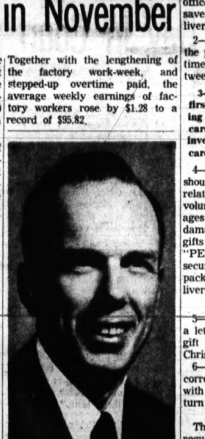

At 6.1 per cent of the civilian labor force, the unemployment rate is almost halfway back from the recession peak of 7 per cent to the pre-recession low of 5 per cent, Wolfbein told a news conference.

The drop in joblessness has been slower than in previous postwar recoveries.

If the unemployment rate remains at 6.1 per cent, there will be 4.1 million unemployed this month, up slightly from November's 3.99 million.

January will see 4.9 million jobless, and February 5 million because of purely seasonal factors.

Average hourly earnings in November climbed to a record $2.36. Together with the lengthening of the factory work-week, and stepped-up overtime paid, the average weekly earnings of factory workers rose by $1.28 to a record of $95.82.

JOHN W. HIRLINGER

C. of C. Losing Its Manager

John W. Hirlinger Submits Resignation; Held Post Since '56

Manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce since 1956, John W. Hirlinger submitted his resignation to the chamber's board of directors at its December meeting Monday afternoon.

The board accepted Hirlinger's resignation "with regret." It will take effect March 1, 1962, "or at an earlier date if requested by the manager," said Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, board president.

"Although my decision to resign is purely voluntary, it is with deep regret that I take this action," Hirlinger said.

"In leaving, I wish the very best of success in the future activities of our chamber. My association with the chamber has been the most rewarding of my life," he said.

In accepting the resignation, Whitmer said, "The board of directors wishes to publicly thank and commend Mr. Hirlinger for his service to the chamber and community, and to wish him well in the years ahead."

Hirlinger, 51, was assistant manager from 1953 to 1956 and has been active in various local organizations including Pontiac YMCA and Family Service of Oakland County.

India Gets Accused

Study Shows Influence of Newspapers

Results of the most comprehensive study ever made of the daily newspaper's reading public were presented in Detroit today to leading manufacturers and advertising agencies.

Chief among the hundreds of significant findings was that the newspaper reaches every segment of the American public, with its heaviest concentration among the higher-income, better-educated, more influential people; and that the newspaper plays an intimate part in the personal lives of readers at all social levels.

An audience of approximately 500 saw a presentation of highlights from the study entitled "The Newspaper and Its Reading Public," shown by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association. The Detroit Chapter of the American Association of Newspaper Representatives was co-host.

The survey was conducted in consultation with the Advertising Research Foundation by the Audits

Japanese Police Break Up Plot to Slay Ikeda

Rightists Didn't Think Prime Minister Could Prevent Red Revolution

TOKYO (AP) — Police today claimed to have smashed an ultrarightist plot to assassinate Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and other leading members of Japan's pro-American government. Thirteen men were arrested and weapons and uniforms seized in predawn raids.

★ ★ ★

Police said the conspirators planned mass murder because they felt Ikeda's government was incapable of preventing a Communist revolution in Japan.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said a Japanese industrialist apparently financed the plot.

Arrests are 90 per cent complete, police said, and an attempt is being made to learn if there is "a man behind the scenes."

SPURRED BY ROK REVOLT

Daikichi Imoto, chief of public safety, said the conspirators apparently were given a spur by the success of the South Korean military junta that took over the Seoul government in May.

★ ★ ★

Unconfirmed reports circulated that the plan called for attempts on the life of Ikeda and 16 Cabinet members and bomb attacks on police headquarters, the giant leftist Sohyo labor union and Communist party headquarters.

Officials said the 13, who included a prewar general, tried to win over members of the nation's 240,000-man self-defense force but failed.

★ ★ ★

Police raiders in Tokyo and at various places on the island of Kyushu in southern Japan seized rifles, gas masks, swords, helmets and work uniforms of the type worn by the self-defense service.

The plotters hid their activities behind a study group known as the Society for Japanese History, led and financed by Toyosaku Kawanami, 59, president of Nichinan and Kawanami Industrial Co. Three hundred helmets and 150 gas masks were found in his Tokyo home.

★ ★ ★

A top leader of the group was Tokutaro Sakurai, 64, a former lieutenant general in the pre-World War II imperial army. Another member was Taku Mikami, 56, a former lieutenant in the imperial navy who served 13 years in prison in connection with the 1932 assassination of Prime Minister Tsuyoshi Inukai. Mikami now is president of Eiko Industrial Co. in Tokyo.

★ ★ ★

Police said they learned of the plot in September and mapped an earlier crackdown. Plans leaked and the raids were called off.

★ ★ ★

Ikeda showed no outward concern over the plot. He walked in his garden as usual after awakening today and later attended a routine Cabinet meeting.

A witness said an unidentified auto and the car driven by Jackson appeared to be playing "fender tag" just before the accident occurred at 10:45 p.m.

Horace O. Blakenship, 28, Roseville, who is suspected of being the driver of the unidentified car, is being held for investigation of leaving the scene of a fatal auto accident.

The car which left the accident scene was passed on the right side by Jackson's auto which then went out of control and collided head-on with one driven by Joseph C. Baleda, 69, 5235 Howe St., Utica, according to the witness.

Baleda and a passenger in Jackson's car, Paul Richardson, 21, 783 Colebrook St., Troy, are reported in serious condition at the hospital.

A third occupant of Jackson's car, John W. Plunkett, 21, 5375 Wright St., Troy, and Baleda's son Peter, 16, who was in his father's auto, are in fair condition.

Russians Hope to Try Official for His 'Crimes'

Letter to U.S. Amidst Lights, Cameras Called Propaganda by Bonn

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman denounced Soviet charges against West German Gen. Adolf Heusinger today as "crude and ludicrous propaganda" aimed at disrupting the NATO allies on the eve of their Paris ministerial meeting.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union demanded today that the United States surrender West German Gen. Adolf Heusinger, chairman of the permanent North Atlantic Treaty Organization military committee, for trial in Moscow on charges of war crimes in World War II.

The Soviets made the demand in a note to the United States and publicized it before cameras and lights at a big news conference. The demand was made on the United States because the NATO committee normally sits in Washington.

Michael Kharlamov, Foreign Ministry press director, when asked why the Soviets were bringing up charges against Heusinger now, said an extraordinary compulsion had just finished investigating the case. But later he said the part Heusinger had played in the war had been known for years.

In Bonn, the West German government said "this is just another Soviet propaganda move." The government said it cleared Heusinger long ago and the Soviet charges were false. Similar comment came from NATO military sources in Paris.

MAKE NO COMMENT

Heusinger, a man who shuns the limelight, made no immediate comment. He is in Paris for a NATO meeting.

To observers it seemed likely the Soviet note was for the purpose of disturbing relations among the Western Allies and was another form of attack on

Liberty Isle Statue In Midst of Muddle

WASHINGTON (AP)—A quiet, gentlemanly squabble is rippling on Capitol Hill over whether a New Yorker should continue to represent Liberty Island.

A New Jersey representative claims it should be part of his domain.

Caught midstream in the dispute is the 12-acre island in New York Harbor from which the Statue of Liberty lifts its torch.

Rep. Leonard Farbstein, D-N.Y., who represents the area of the famous Lower Manhattan skyline, also officially represents Liberty Island. He can point out chapter and verse in the law books to support his claim.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., says this shouldn't be.

ON JERSEY TAX ROLLS

After all, he says, Liberty Island—formerly Bedloe's Island—actually is within the city limits of Jersey City and is carried on its tax rolls.

Besides, he argues, Liberty Island is closer to* New Jersey than it is to New York and its utilities come from the Garden State.

What is Farbstein's reaction to this?

★ ★ ★

"He's a very nice fellow and I like him," the New Yorker said of Gallagher. "But we're not giving up the Gateway to the New World so easily."

★ ★ ★

Farbstein said the Statue of Liberty has always been in his district, still is and will remain there.

As far as votes go, Liberty Island is insignificant. Gallagher said 13 people who maintain the island and statue live there. But its prestige value is immeasurable.

'No, No, Caroline, You May See the Tree Later'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like any other 4-year-old, Caroline Kennedy gets excited about Christmas and Christmas trees.

Reporters on a tour of White House yuletide decorations today saw President Kennedy and Caroline pop out of a side door in the main entrance hall. Caroline made a beeline for the Blue Room where the Christmas tree stands.

"Not now, Caroline, later," said the President, catching his daughter by the arm.

"Why, Daddy?" asked Caroline as she was whisked through another door for the morning walk to her father's office.

The Christmas tree she was so eager to see is worth waiting for. It is an 18-foot tall, perfectly shaped balsam fir, located in the center of the oval Blue Room. A many-pointed star on top is about a foot below the ceiling.

AFL-CIO Aims at $1.50 Hourly

Resolution Urges $1.25 in 1962 With No Delay to Law's '63 Date

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs today set $1.50 an hour as organized labor's new goal for the federal minimum wages.

A policy statement cleared by the resolutions committee for expected approval by the AFL-CIO convention also urged Congress to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 immediately instead of in 1963.

As part of President Kennedy's program, Congress earlier this year raised the required pay level for about 25 million workers engaged in interstate commerce from $1 to $1.15 per hour, with the proviso the minimum should go to $1.25 in September 1963.

The AFL-CIO resolution says that as soon as the $1.25 figure becomes effective, it will shoot for another boost to $1.50.

Connally Quitting Navy Post; Texan Tapped as Successor

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — John B. Connally, President Kennedy's first secretary of the Navy, will leave his post Dec. 20, come back to Texas and run for governor.

He disclosed his decision Monday. The President appointed Fred Korth, a Fort Worth banker to succeed Conally as civilian head of the Navy.

Connally, 44, is a Fort Worth attorney. As a friend and confidant of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn, he long has been a background power in Texas politics. His move promised a scramble for Democratic party leadership in the state.

In Korth, 52, Kennedy picked another Democrat known to associates as "a cool veteran of Washington politics."

Last June 2 Korth became an aide to Secretary of the Army Elviss S. Stahr Jr., primarily responsible for liaison with civilians on Army policy and missions.

ASSISTANT ARMY CHIEF

Also a lawyer, Korth served with the Air Transport Command in World War II, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was named deputy counsellor for the Army in 1951 and served as assistant secretary of the Army in 1952-53.

Korth received the Army's outstanding civilian service award in 1959. He was appointed a director of the Panama Canal Co. this year.

President Kennedy considered Korth for secretary of the Army but he declined. He said the Defense Department should not have two men from the same city in key posts, as would have been the case with Connally running Navy.

"That situation, of course, has changed now," Korth said. "I feel this is a tremendous challenge and presents an opportunity to do a job which is extremely important."

Connally has been a campaign manager or consultant for Johnson since the Vice President first ran for U.S. Representative in 1937.

Disclose Results of Newspaper Study

& Surveys Co. It was also reviewed by an advisory council of leading newspaper reasearch men. Financing of the study was provided by six major Canadian newsprint manufacturers, comprising the Newsprint Information Committee.

'FIRST SUCCESSFUL TRY'

Charles T. Lipscomb Jr., president of the Bureau, and Dr. Leo Bogart, vice president for marketing, planning and research, delivered the presentation.

This is the first successful attempt, Lipscomb said, to measure the full scope of a major communication medium through all of its individual vehicles.

The threefold objective of the research, he added, was: to provide an accurate description of the true pattern of newspaper reading behavior; to describe the role daily newspapers play in the lives of people as citizens and consumers; to measure the full dimensions of the daily newspaper as a national advertising medium.

Among the many significant facts about the daily newspaper's readers uncovered by the study are these:

Of the 54,000,000 households in continental United States, 86.4 per cent read at least one newspaper on an average weekday; 80.4 per cent of homes buy and read at least one paper each day; and another 6 per cent read one or more papers on a pass-along basis.

Four out of five adults (21 and over) and 72 per cent of the country's 15,000,000 individuals between the ages of 15 and 20 read a newspaper on any given weekday. In the course of a five-day period, 88 per cent of adults read a newspaper on one or more days.

Total newspaper reading by adults on every weekend are 125,500,000 and by the teen-agers, another 12,750,000.

In households owning two or more cars and planning to purchase a new car in the next 12 months, average weekday readership is 97 per cent. In one-car households planning such purchases the figure is 89 per cent. Prospective purchasers consult newspaper ads on cars more than do non-prospects.

Seventy-one per cent of the time, the newspaper reaches the reader by means of regular home delivery—by newspaperboy usually, and by mail. In 25 per cent of the cases, the newspaper is bought at a store, a newsstand, or a self-service rack.

"This regular pattern of home delivery," Dr. Bogart commented, "provides the basic context for the social role of newspapers as a family medium."

* * *

Two-thirds of the people have a habitual time for reading the newspaper. It takes place at every time of the day. However, the newspaper is not normally read in a single sitting. The typical reader picks up and looks into his paper 2.4 times each weekday.

DO MORE THAN READ

Regarding the actual use of the newspaper, the study reveals that apparently Americans do more than just read it. They actively use it in a number of ways: 53 per cent report they have clipped some item other than advertising out of the paper in the past three months; 27 per cent still have the clipping at home; 18 per cent have sent or passed along a recent clipping to someone else; 28 per cent have clipped advertisements, and 15 per cent recall buying the product.

Newspaper reading is about as high in the suburbs as it is in the metropolitan areas, where it ranges from 89 to 93 per cent.

People were asked to describe how they would feel if they had to get along without television and without newspapers. The response, "I would feel quite lost without it," was selected by 49 per cent in the case of newspapers, and by 28 per cent in the case of television.

IMPORTANT INSTITUTION

The newspaper emerges from the study as an important hometown institution with which the public comes into intimate contact in a variety of ways: 43 per cent have visited the paper's office or plant; 45 per cent have placed classified ads; 23 per cent have written or phoned the newspaper for information; 8 per cent have written letters to the editor.

"The companies which have underwritten this research," said Lipscomb, "have made an outstanding contribution to accurate measurement of the daily newspaper's full dimensions. Advertisers, agencies, and newspapers will all benefit from this forward-looking effort."

Member companies of the Newsprint Information Committee are: Abitibi Power & Paper Company, Ltd.; Anglo-Canadian Pulp & Paper Mills, Ltd.; Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company, Ltd.; Donnaconna Paper Company; MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River, Ltd.; and St. Lawrence Corporation, Ltd.

* * *

The project involved a probability sample of 4,826 interviews with individuals 15 years of age and older, representing 2,449 households drawn from 622 sampling points.

Planes Hit U.N. at Elisabethville

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP)—Katanga mortar crews rained explosives on U.N. headquarters here in the night and information Minister Albert Nyembo told newsmen he believed it is now abandoned. Fresh Katanga troops moved in from the north today to reinforce the garrison of this secessionist capital.

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Unidentified aircraft attacked Elisabethville Airport four times before dawn today, dropping 26 bombs without damaging U.N. installations, the U.N. command announced.

The U.N. headquarters in the Katanga capital also came under heavy attack during the night, the U.N. spokesman said, from Katangan mortar batteries located on a ridge west of the headquarters building.

The spokesman said he did not know the origin or type of the aircraft that attacked the airport or if more than one plane made the attack. Bombs were dropped over a five-hour period, beginning at midnight.

* * *

Two Indian Gurkha troops were killed and one wounded in the attack on the U.N. headquarters, the United Nations announced. It said this brought U.N. casualties in the Katanga operation to 10 dead, 37 wounded and 13 missing.

Katangan casualties are unknown, but Gen. Sean McKeown, the Irish commander of U.N. forces in the Congo, estimated them at 50 to 60 dead.

GUARD EUROPEANS

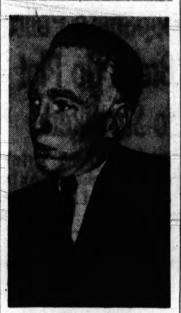

Ten Europeans—most of them mercenary soldiers—were flown to Leopoldville today from Elisabethville under tight guard. The United Nations said they had been taken prisoner during the last week of fighting in Katanga and would be interrogated here to determine their nationalities and roles in the fighting.

The United Nations declined specific comment on statements made in the British House of Commons Monday suggesting that the United Nations had refused to negotiate with Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

"The U.N. is always ready to achieve a peaceful settlement of this problem," the spokesman said. "We were trying to do so last week when we were forced into military action."

He said the previous cease-fire signed by the United Nations and Tshombe "had been broken in practically every clause by the Katangans." The United Nations, he added, had observed this agreement carefully.

The U.S. Air Force denied reports broadcast by the French radio station in Brazzaville that two U.S. Globemasters were damaged in Monday night's attack on the Elisabethville airport.

Judge George Edwards Accepts Appointment as Detroit Commissioner

DETROIT (AP) — Supreme Court Justice George Edwards today accepted the post of police commissioner of the city of Detroit.

The 47-year-old jurist announced his acceptance of the $20,500-a-year job at a joint news conference with the man who gave it to him, young Mayor-elect Jerome P. Cavanagh.

Edwards, who has spent six years on the high bench at Lansing, said he was leaving the court with regrets.

"I love the law," he said. "This is not an easy thing to do."

Edwards will take office as commissioner Jan. 3. He said he will serve out the remainder of his supreme court duties this month.

As Detroit's police commissioner, Edwards will head a 4,500-man force entrusted with law enforcement in the nation's fifth largest city.

The judge said he regarded his new assignment in public service as a "tremendous challenge."

Extension of the law's coverage to 16 million additional workers was also urged. Many such workers, the resolution said, "are paid excessively low wages and work excessive hours." The law requires overtime pay for hours worked beyond 40 a week.

This and other resolutions called for a drive both by legislation and in labor contract negotiations with employers to accomplish a reduction in the present 40-hour week.

Other developments at the 12.5-million member AFL-CIO's biennial convention included:

STILL SCRAPPING

Feuding building trades and industrial unions stood as far apart as ever in negotiating a peace formula for labor's internal wars. The building trades rejected a disputes settlement formula favored by Walter Reuther. It was indicated that AFL-CIO President George Meany was siding with the building trades and preparing for an open convention break with Reuther.

Differences over civil rights policies also appeared about to reach a boiling point. A. Philip Randolph, Negro union leader, readied an appeal to convention delegates to cancel a two-month-old statement of censure from fellow AFL-CIO leaders that accused Randolph of stirring up racial prejudices among workers.

Warning: Stay Off Thin Ice on Lakes

Tragic drownings which occurred just before Christmas in both 1959 and 1960 should serve as grim reminders for area residents this time of year, warned Sheriff Frank W. Irons today.

"This is a critical time of year and we can expect fatal water accidents unless people stay off ponds and lakes in Oakland County," Irons said.

Recent weather conditions have coated ponds with ice and frozen the edges of lakes. But it is still too treacherous to venture out on them; the sheriff noted.

Just one year ago yesterday the body of a skin diver was found on the bottom of Green Lake in West Bloomfield Township. The victim, 27-year-old James Clark of Fraser, the father of two children, drowned when his breathing apparatus froze up below the lake's surface.

* * *

On Dec. 13, 1959, two brothers, aged 6 and 4 years old, drowned when they fell through thin ice at a pond near their home in the county.

* * *

Neither accident is a pleasant memory, Irons said, but they illustrate what can happen when children — or parents — take chances on partially frozen lakes and ponds.

Eichmann Hears Complete Ruling

Israeli Court Finishes Reading Blanket Verdict of Guilty

JERUSALEM (AP) — The special Israeli court concluded reading its judgment on Adolf Eichmann today with a summary finding the former Gestapo colonel guilty of all 15 counts of an indictment handed down last April.

* * *

The summation, preceded by detailed examination of Eichmann's role in the extermination of six million Jews in Europe, was a blanket verdict of guilty. The maximum penalty under a special Israeli law is death.

OUTLINED DETAILS

The three-man court convicted Eichmann Monday of capital crimes against the Jews, then proceeded to outline its views on the details.

The conclusion supported every claim that Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner placed against Eichmann after the former SS officer was captured in Argentina, flown here, interrogated, indicted and then tried.

At no time during the long reading did the judges say a good word for Eichmann and there was no evidence of mitigation in the entire 100,000-word judgment.

ISRAEL CHARGES

The counts charged Eichmann with joining the Nazi conspiracy to exterminate the Jews as a race, killing non-Jews as part of the forced labor program in Poland, contributing his help to the murder of Gypsies in the Hitler racial plan, helping to round up the children of Lidice in revenge for the assassination of Gestapo chief Reinhard Heydrich, plundering Jewish property and deliberately joining the Nazi SS, security police and Gestapo and full support of all such activities.

* * *

The defendant himself sat as though locked in the frozen pose of a statue. He heard over two days one judge after another destroy his defense that he was of an unimportant cog in a big wheel and replace it with blanket conviction of Eichmann as a giant in a giant conspiracy.

Cummings, Clarkson Named to New Posts

The board of directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland named R. C. Cummings to the newly-created position of board chairman at its regular meeting last night.

Cummings of 205 E. Iroquois Road, had been president of the association since its inception in 1934.

Succeeding him as president of the association is James Clarkson of 3111 S. Jude Drive, Waterford Township.

Clarkson has been a member of the board for nine years. He was formerly executive vice president and secretary.

* * *

Vern McMaster was elected senior vice president and secretary. McMaster, of 76 S. Paddock St., was formerly vice president of the board.

Other promotions included James M. Rahl of 4640 Oak Vista Drive, Waterford Township, to vice president; Ronald N. Facer of 193 Beach St., to assistant vice president; and Warren D. Newton of 641 Second St., to assistant treasurer.

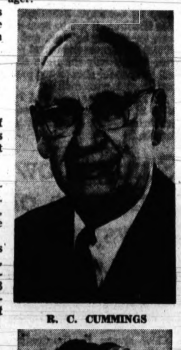

Leroy Hartman of 194 S. Tilden St., was named branch manager. He had been acting branch manager.

Hope to Name Successor to Getsinger in 2 Weeks

BIRMINGHAM — The appointment of a successor to Gordon Getsinger who resigned from the Bloomfield Township Board may be made within two weeks, Supervisor Arno Hulet said today.

Getsinger, who announced his leave two weeks ago, resigned the post he held nearly five years to take a job in New York. His resignation was accepted by the board last night.

He also has resigned his post on the Republican State Central Committee.

So far there are 12 candidates seeking the appointment, according to Hulet.

"Each of them will be screened by the board before a decision is made," he added. "The selection of one of them will be difficult because there are many of high caliber backgrounds."

WOULDN'T REVEAL NAMES

Hulet said he would not divulge the names of the candidates until they were interviewed and the field narrowed down by the board.

The decision would probably be made, he said, at the Dec. 29 board meeting.

In other action last night the board accepted petitions for the construction of sanitary sewers in two subdivisions and portion of another.

The sewers will be built in Brookside Hills, north of Long Lake and east of Telegraph; and Devon Gables, Telegraph and Long Lake roads. The latter project includes several lots in Devon Hills.

The Brookside project would cost an estimated $31,000 and the Gables improvement, $25,800. Property owners in both subdivisions would be assessed the cost of the projects.

Increased membership in the Bloomfield 4-H Club has made it necessary to divide it into junior and senior groups, with officers for each unit.

Senior officers for the coming year are Kristine Simonson, president; Rickiann Hoxie, vice president; Barbara Hillier, secretary; and Douglas Norland, treasurer.

Marilyn Hillier was named president of the junior group. Other officers of the junior division will be elected at the January meeting of the club.

* * *

The Men's fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold a "Father and Son Christmas Banquet" Dec. 19 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the church.

* * *

Prior to the 6:45 p.m. dinner, movies will be shown. Following dinner there will be a 15-minute carol sing-along, led by Paul Nicely.

A feature attraction of the evening will be the appearance of Romig, the magicina.

Donald Conrad, chairman of the Men's Fellowship, has suggested that any man not having a son can "adopt" one for the occasion from Camp Oakland.

Blue Law Causes Red Faces

Santa Has Day in Court

PENNDEL, Pa. (AP) — Santa Claus was haled into court, accused of breaking a law 167 years old, but almost before anyone could say "Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer" he was free as the north wind again.

The judge — a squire, or justice of the peace, really — who all along acted as if someone had mislaid the Christmas spirit, apologized Monday night to the ruddy defendant for all the fuss.

Santa, in the genial person of Earl Steger, 58, was arrested Sunday as he was listening to the kids pour out their holiday wishes at Buch's Discount Market.

Police Chief William Riempp and Sgt. Norman Rigby told him he was playing hob with the blue laws, which forbid the sale of nonessentials on Sunday.

But to get Santa on that rap, since he was selling nothing, the authorities had to invoke the bluer code of 1794 rather than the revised version of 1959. Under the old, old law it is unlawful to be gainfully employed on Sunday.

Said Riempp: "The old blue law has never been repealed, and I have the option of making an arrest under either or both of these laws."

Four of St. Nick's helpers were cited on the same charge. Their cases are pending.

Agitation for a crackdown on blue law violators has been coming from a Bucks County ethical business practices committee. A spokesman for this group commented ruefully however, that arresting Santa was more than had been bargained for, "making us look like Scrooges."

As Santa, arrayed in red suit and white whiskers, stood at the bar of justice, with his missus alongside him, Squire William Oettinger, 58, said: "This is very embarrassing."

The squire went on: "I've never had anything like this in my court before. Having Santa Claus arraigned, I mean. It is most upsetting."

SANTA ONLY SMILED

Santa just stood silent, smiling wide, now and then folding Mrs. Santa's hand in his own.

His lawyer did the talking: "Your honor, my client should not be here. Plainly, he is without guilt or guile. What crime is he charged with? I'll tell you — simply wanting to do good for children. Heinous, isn't it?"

After listening to both prosecution and defense, the squire hastened to say: "It gives me great honor to discharge this defendant. This is the last place Santa Claus belongs. Everybody knows Santa gives, that he doesn't take." He shook hands with Santa and wife.

Steger, who has been Santa to thousands of children at the store in the last three years, is a building superintendent.

* * *

"I have a great love for children," he said, "and I'd probably play Santa even if I didn't get paid for it. The happiness of the kids is pay enough."

Nikita Lets the Idea Leak Out

Better Come Up and See Me, Mr. Kennedy

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

From Geneva and Paris lately Communist sources have been "leaking" the word that Nikita Khrushchev has given up the idea of an early four-power meeting on Germany and now prefers direct talks with the United States instead.

This may account for the comparatively mild Moscow reaction to President Kennedy's interview with the editor of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and for the fact that Soviet officials, while remaining highly critical of Western policy, have refrained from direct attacks on the President personally.

Soviet newspapers have been suggesting that a Kennedy visit to Russia might be worthwhile.

The Soviet sources who have been suggesting that Khrushchev has abandoned the idea of a four-power meeting, also have suggested that there are other areas aside from Berlin that might be discussed.

REDS SWITCHING

Specifically, they mention disarmament and Southeast Asia.

The switch in Soviet thinking, according to these sources, springs from the belief that French President Charles de Gaulle will continue to veto early East-West talks on Berlin and that for the sake of NATO unity the United States and Britain will go along with De Gaulle.

Under these circumstances, they say, Khrushchev will go ahead with his plan to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany.

On Kennedy's side, the President already has admitted that the goal of a reunified Germany is impossible without Russian agreement.

The question of a separate Russian treaty with East Germany then becomes almost academic.

The rub would come if Khrushchev attempts to carry out his threat to turn over to the East Germans control of access routes to West Berlin.

* * *

The Russians have ridiculed a Kennedy suggestion that some sort of International control might be set up to insure access to West Berlin via the autobahn.

MIGHT BE ARRANGED

At the same time, they have continued to dangle before the West a vague suggestion that some sort of guarantees might be written into the East German treaty, providing it also is recognized by the West.

Ostensibly, a Khrushchev-Kennedy meeting in Moscow might be arranged so as to avoid the Berlin question.

Practically, it would seem impossible since only last weekend Secretary of State Dean Rusk reiterated that the United States still regards Germany as the world's No. 1 problem.

Disarmament must be ruled out so long as the Soviets insist upon disarmament in advance of ironclad controls.

* * *

It might be that there could be some discussion of Southeast Asia. Agreement there would be worthless without similar agreements from Red China — a circumstance which seems most unlikely.

* * *

This is the reeling-in period of Khrushchev's yo-yo diplomacy, a seeming retreat from self-generated crisis to comparative calm.

* * *

But whatever the current attitude, it must be remembered that Khrushchev is not a man who easily abandons goals — which ultimately is to get U.S. forces out of Europe.

Sen. Russell Urges Atmospheric N-Tests

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., says he is so concerned over whether U.S. nuclear weapons actually will work that he wants testing resumed in the atmosphere.

"We don't know, actually, if an intercontinental ballistic missile will work with an atomic warhead," he said Monday. "We've never tried one."

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, spoke to Columbus civic club members during celebration of "Dick Russell Day."

Zoo Kills Bears, Sends Steaks to Ionia Prison

LANSING (AP)—Two black bears at Lansing's Potter Park Zoo were destroyed as surplus Monday when zoo officials were unable to find them another home.

The 2-year-old bears, Blackie and Sue, were killed humanely by anesthetic, Ted Downey, park manager, said. The meat will be sent to the Michigan training unit, medium security prison of Ionia, to be served to inmates as bear steaks.

A third bear, Bo, an 8-year-old, was transferred to the Cusino Wildlife Experiment Station operated by the State Conservation Department.

* * *

Downey said their covered pit home was sinking through its foundations and could not be repaired. No other zoos could be found to take the bears, which are in common supply, he said.

Downey said the bears could not be returned to the wilds as they no longer feared man.

Driver Stands Mute in Accident Case

Arraigned on a charge of manslaughter yesterday before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, James B. Walker of Pontiac stood mute.

* * *

Walker, 26, of 514 Emerson Ave., is accused of being the driver of a car which struck another Oct. 22 as it was parked on the side of a road in Waterford Township. The accident caused the death of a 16-year-old boy in the parked car, which had run out of gas.

* * *

No date was set for Walker's trial. His $2,500 bond was continued.

Short Weights to Be Watched

Swainson Asks State Department to Protect Food Customer

LANSING (AP)—More store inspections, stricter enforcement of pure food laws and a study of corrective new legislation in the field have been asked by Gov. Swainson.

In a letter to the State Agriculture Department, the governor said recent disclosures of practices by some unscrupulous food retailers have made it mandatory that the department intensify efforts to protect the consumer.

Increasingly keen competition for the housewife's food dollar has led some retailers and packers to unscrupulous and illegal practices, Swainson said.

"Short weights and adulteration not only defraud the consumer but also present unfair competition to the honest merchant," the governor said.

* * *

Swainson also suggested that housewives can become an important task force in a drive to stop food cheating by watching for it, particularly in the field of short weights.

* * *

The governor said he has come to these conclusions after studying reports and discussions on the matter.

1—The occurrence of short weights in prepackaged meats has increased about 40 per cent during the past year.

2—Michigan courts assess penalties that are inadequate in relation to the seriousness of violations, under both the weights and measures law and the meat statutes.

American Consumers to Have Few Problems in 1962

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — You may have plenty of problems in 1962—as an American citizen in a troubled world, as a harried taxpayer, as a competition-beset businessman, a job hunter—but few as a consumer.

The outlook is for 1962 to start off with plenty of goods and capacity to produce more, and with personal incomes rising slowly—but faster than the cost of living.

Here's what the majority of business economists see ahead for your job and pay, the price of food and homes, your spending plans for autos and appliances, and your reckoning with the tax collectors.

JOBS—More of them but still not enough.

Wage scales will rise, but moderately, with unions shifting the stress to getting security guarantees because of the still high total of the unemployed. The new year may be scarcely better than 1961 for the young and unskilled and the older worker whose particular skill has been outdated. But total employment should rise, even if a growing labor force keeps many on the jobless lists.

INCOMES — The average up only a little but the total showing a nice gain.

That's because more persons will be employed many at higher wages or longer work weeks. Too, interest rates are rising, so that income from savings and investment will be higher.

Corporate profits are on the upbeat, and many shareholders will get higher dividend payments. The rapid rate of rise in service fees and charges in recent years is expected to slow down in 1962 but still to fatten some incomes.

If you belong to the lucky groups, those getting higher pay, interest, dividends and fees, your increased income should more than offset the slow rise in prices.

LIVING COSTS — Still creeping higher without a real inflationary spurt.

The threat of inflation can be glimpsed in the wings: A U.S. Treasury deficit, greater demand for goods, slowly rising labor costs.

But holding it off stage, especially in the first half of 1962, will be abundant supplies of most things and surplus capacity to provide still more, along with keen competition among domestic producers and a steadily rising volume of cheaper foreign goods.

A year from now, the economists say, the cost of living index should be 1 to 1.5 per cent higher than today, but with bargains still to be found.

FOOD — Prices on a seasonal seesaw without much change for the year.

The usual spring rise in food prices should, weather permitting, be reversed by fall. A growing population will mean higher consumption, and fatter incomes will mean more demand for expensive products. Weather will affect individual crops, but abundance of over-all supplies is a pretty sure bet.

HOUSES — More to rise than in 1961 but financing costs higher.

Builders see the increase in demand in 1962 coming from growing families seeking larger homes or from better-heeled families buying more expensive homes.

The forecast is for nearly 1.5 million housing unit starts, a gain of 8 per cent over 1961. Terms for getting government guarantees of mortgages have been relaxed, which means more families can afford the monthly payments, and more can buy better homes.

Mortgage money will be plentiful at the start of the year, but a general rise in interest charges is forecast.

APPLIANCES — Rising demand foreshadows end of the price cutting.

Household gadget makers say the new year will find sales volume healthier and the revival of home building will help still more. Competition has brought new models as well as lower prices and the consumer is showing interest again. But the supply is ample and much as they'd like to, neither manufacturerers nor dealers can sweeten profit margins much by raising prices.

AUTOS — More buyers than in 1961 with all price grades getting a better play.

Prices have risen but little on the models, and in some cases not at all. The compacts are expected to increase their share of the market bit more.

Auto dealers, however, think sales of standard models over 1961 — and motorists are noted for their fickle tastes.

Tire makers are talking about the need for higher prices. So are gasoline refiners, but stiff competition and abundant supplies keep gas prices leaning toward the weak side.

SERVICES — You'll use more and spend more on them.

Many companies are busily perfecting ways of taking the work out of living and of doing things for you that you may not as yet even know you want. Fees, fares, rates and other service prices seem sure to rise still higher, if at a reduced incline.

Consumers are expected to allot a sizable portion of their incomes to the conveniences as well as to medical care, recreation, travel, personal appearance and the like.

TAXES — Rising at some levels but held in check by 1962's being an election year.

Climbing federal spending dims hopes of any real tax rate cutbacks, although some adjustments are proposed. State and local governments will be pressured for more servicing of rising populations, and will be beset by increasing labor costs of present services. If interest charges rise as expected, borrowing will become a less alluring out and higher taxes will look more inevitable.

Add it all up—1962 starts out as a consumer's year still, but then—

If the business upturn gathers momentum the final half of the year could see the producer back on more even terms.

If the business upturn proves unexpectedly short-lived, the consumer will fare about the same as he has for many months now, through recession and recovery.

FLINT (AP)—Richard G. Nowland, 22, of Flint, kissed his girl and wrecked his auto. Genesee County Sheriff's deputies said Nowland admitted that he leaned over to kiss his girl friend, lost control of his car Sunday and hit a light pole. Nowland and Mary Moulton, 21, also of Flint, suffered minor injuries.

Congo Natives Confused by Some of Our Actions

With Tanganyika becoming the 29th free African nation the problems of the Congo are increasing day by day. Some recent actions of ours make it difficult for many of the natives to understand our position.

★ ★ ★

While the United Nations' mission in the area is not clearly understood by many of the natives, we seem to add to the confusion.

Just recently, plainly marked U.S. aircraft were used to ferry U.N. troops and equipment from Leopoldville to Elisabethville, capital of rebellious Katanga Province.

★ ★ ★

Actions such as this are hard for the natives of Katanga to figure out. In the first place, many don't know what all the shooting is about, and secondly, they don't know who is for whom.

This is understandable. When they see our U.S. Air Force planes in this remote area taking part in the fight against Katanga they can't help but draw the conclusion that the United States is at war against them.

★ ★ ★

Prior to last Thursday U.S. aircraft had only been used for ferrying troops from Europe and other areas. They had not been used internally in the Congo. Now this pattern is upset.

The muddle in the African countries, and our part in it seems to grow daily. Where will it end?

★ ★ ★

It would seem that it was about time to reappraise our U.S.-U.N. policy. The natives are not the only ones confused. So are we.

Newspapers Comment on Kennedy's Speech

Several London papers refer editorially to President KENNEDY's recent speech, according to British Information Services.

The Financial Times says that the battle is now on in the West for a more flexible and up-to-date tariff policy. President KENNEDY's speech marked an important turning point:

"For some time the President has very much wanted to increase his power to negotiate over United States tariffs when the Reciprocal Trade Act runs out next summer. But, faced as he is by strong protectionist pressures, he has had to tread warily. The President's speech urging freer trade shows his realism on economic affairs, and his confidence that he will be able to handle a fairly unpopular issue."

The Guardian (Liberal) says President KENNEDY's clarion call for a new American trade initiative was scarcely calculated to enlist American public opinion behind the policy outlined by Mr. GEORGE BALL in Paris last month. His speech must be judged as the opening salvo in a political campaign rather than as an exposition of the details of policy. The Guardian goes on:

"The President's speech was designed to present trade liberalism as part of the defense of the free world against communism and to allay the suspicions of protectionists and isolationists. He remarked that we can use tariffs to cushion adjustment — which sounds like a concession to the protectionists; and, as a concession to the liberals, he declared that he did not propose the establishment of a rich man's trading community. It is too soon to tell whether the President will succeed in winning Congressional support for his policies."

The Times (Independent) congratulates President KENNEDY on his campaign for freer trade and says his decision is a brave one as he was elected only by a narrow majority and his relatively moderate program was too liberal for Congress. President KENNEDY, The Times believes, is risking a severe domestic battle when the need is for unity. On the other hand, the paper says, the dividing line between the protectionists and the free traders does not run strictly between parties and it will focus the country's attention on an issue which is healthier than Berlin.

ONE of few activities in which Communist and free nations are presently about evenly matched is that of waging family quarrels.

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. and U.N. in a Bit of Trouble

WASHINGTON — Those who at times envisage the United Nations as a sort of supersate are getting considerable satisfaction out of the military operation of the U.N. which is supported by this country.

LAWRENCE

For there is an intervention in the Congo's internal affairs today with the excuse that the U.N. is obligated to "restore order" when requested to do so by a central government involved in that disorder.

Great Britain has been reluctant to allow its bombs to be shipped to the Congo for the U.N. forces to use. There have been a lot of conferences held and euphemistic statements issued contending the U.N. is merely fulfilling the request of the central Congolese government.

But the whole Congo is in a state of disorder and the very request on which the U.N. is acting came from the late Patrice Lumumba, who was ousted and then assassinated.

In the face of such a confused situation, it seems hypocritical for the U.N. to claim that it has a legal right to go into the Congo. It may have a paper record of such a request, but it is ignoring the will of a large bloc of people in the Congo's richest province.

★ ★ ★

The present activities of the U.N. are based on a resolution adopted by the Security Council on Feb. 21, 1961. France and the Soviet Union abstained from voting. The U.N. command was authorized to use force, if necessary, to prevent a civil war in the Congo.

ANY CIVIL WAR

Presumably the U.N. Security Council majority could, with the consent and even with the inspiration of the Soviet Union, call some day for U.N. forces to prevent "civil war" in Hungary, Rumania, Czechoslovakia and the other satellite states as long as the Soviet-controlled government in each of these countries requested it.

The right of a people to determine for themselves—by arms, if necessary—what form of government they should set up has long been recognized in democratic countries as worthy.

But today, if the political alignments inside the U.N. favor the existing government against which a justified revolution might be directed, then presumably the entire military strength of those U.N. members which wish to contribute to such a venture can be mobilized.

★ ★ ★

The United States is in a rather difficult situation. If the U.N. had been in existence in 1776 and the British government had made a formal request for military help, maybe the American Revolution wouldn't have succeeded.

The right of peoples to choose their own form of government has always been supported by the United States. It has never used force—openly at least—to assist any government suffering from an internal disorder.

TO PROTECT CITIZENS

Wherever the United States has intervened in Latin America as a rule, it has done so to protect the lives and properties of American citizens and not to interfere with the right of the people to establish any regime they wish.

Not long ago the United States was on the verge of intervening in Cuba but never made public the legal basis for its contemplated action, though it did have plenty of legal right to land troops to protect American citizens and their properties.

Less than a month ago, also, the United States sent its fleet to cruise off the shores of the Dominican Republic with the idea of landing a military expedition or using naval aviation units to aid the constituted government if it made a request for such help.

The Country Parson

"What the world needs is to have principles and ideas grow in power at the rate bombs have."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Why Use Old-Time Iodine? Mild Tincture Doesn't Sting

Formerly, standard tincture of iodine (official in the United States Pharmacupoeia) contained 7 per cent of iodine, 5 per cent of potassium iodide and 82 per cent of alcohol by volume.

Forty years ago, a milder tincture was introduced into the USP. It is called "Mild Tincture of Iodine" (Tinctura Iodi Mitis, USP) and contains 1 per cent of iodine and 2.3 per cent of sodium iodide dissolved in diluted alcohol.

DR. BRADY

Mild Tincture of Iodine is an efficient wound disinfectant for popular use. It is superior for this purpose to any other wound disinfectant available to the public, in my judgment. It is the only first aid disinfectant I'd want in my medicine cupboard.

The old-time tincture of iodine did smart for a moment when applied to a cut, scratch or other small wound. But only for a moment.

Mild Tincture of Iodine scarcely smarts at all. So this is not a good reason for using some other first aid disinfectant as a substitute for Mild Tincture of Iodine.

Even such a sensitive thing as a canker sore in the mouth doesn't smart enough to matter when touched with Mild Tincture of Iodine and glycerine, mixed half and half. To apply it, moisten a wisp of cotton wound on the end of a toothpick with the mixture and touch the sore with it, just once daily.

Then avoid toothbrushing and use, before and after food, a mouth wash of either plain soap and water or a solution of about a teaspoonful of boric acid in half a pint of boiled water — a spoonful or two of this is enough to use each time.

Druggists have small vials of Mild Tincture of Iodine — dark brown glass, with a glass or plastic dropper or rod fixed in the stopper. This makes it easy to drop a single drop of the liquid on the wound without touching the wound. After such application of Mild Tincture of Iodine, cover the wound against infection by applying a coat of flexible collodion or by applying a band-aid.

Certainly iodine applied to the unbroken skin is not absorbed through the skin, so it has no effect on bones, joints, muscles, glands or other structure under the skin. This applies not only to iodine but to anything else rubbed on or applied to the unbroken skin.

COUNTER-IRRITANT

We had, and our patients in the old days must have had, a notion that a coat of iodine on an inflamed or swollen joint was a good "counter-irritant," whatever that may have signified. The principle of "counter-irritation," whether by iodine, hot liniment, blisters, acupuncture or actual cautery, is that it takes the patient's attention off his primary ailment for a while.

Now if you stick around, you'll find I am not a therapeutic nihilist. As we get on with this course in home medicine, many of my favorite remedies shall be interspersed in the blah.

It isn't all blah, at that, for, after all, the mere recipe or formula for a remedy you prepare or compound yourself (if you have the gumption) would not be of much use without detailed instructions as to when and how to use it.

Peter Edson Says: Things Jumping

Playing Musical Chairs at Capital

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Latin America is the most dangerous area in the world today, in the off-the-record opinion of one of the senior European ambassadors in Washington.

This gives it priority over Berlin, the Near and Middle East, Southeast Asia and Africa, any one or all of which have been considered major crisis areas up to now.

The new man who is apparently going to be top thinker and planner for Latin America—and for the assorted underdeveloped headaches in Africa and Asia as well — is Chester Bowles.

He chartered a sailboat as soon as he was sworn in as adviser to the President on these areas and went for a cruise in the Caribbean, to get away from Washington.

This is neither an inspection trip nor is it a pleasure cruise. It is Bowles's standard operating procedure.

★ ★ ★

When things get too complicated, he goes off in a corner someplace to figure them out. He'll be back in mid-December. And if he is still in form, he'll be full of ideas and rarin' to go.

The word is that he will then move out of the State Department and into the Executive Office Building, across a narrow street from the White House side door.

Whether he will be there just to write memos or whether he will be given some authority to get the Alliance for Progress moving in time to do any good remains to be seen.

This recalls that at the start of the Kennedy administration, there was a special adviser on Latin-American affairs by the name of Adolph Berle hanging around. Things didn't work out under him. He isn't here any more.

MOVED OVER

The man who was his busy little helper in the White House, 29-year-old Richard N. Goodwin — who has never worked in Latin America and knows none of its languages — has been moved over to the State Department as deputy assistant secretary for Latin-American affairs.

He succeeds Wymberley DeR. Coerr, who is being shipped off someplace as an ambassador. He is an experienced diplomatic hand who held Latin-American affairs together for six months while the White House was conducting a search for someone to run them.

The man finally picked was Robert F. Woodward. Adlai Stevenson is supposed to have "discovered" Ambassador Woodward, serving in Santiago, Chile.

This was during Stevenson's swing around South America for the President. Stevenson recommended that Woodward be made the assistant secretary of state for Latin America, and he was.

★ ★ ★

But the talk among Foreign Service officers around State is that if matters in Latin America continue to get progressively worse, Woodward will be made the fall guy. Then look out for young Mr. Goodwin.

★ ★ ★

A case might be made that since the professional diplomats haven't done too well in steering U. S. relations with Latin America for lo, these many years, some new blood and new ideas are needed.

The two people in line would seem to be either Deputy Assistant Secretary Goodwin, or Ambassador Bowles. The latter will no longer be a State Department official, but a member of the Policy Planning Staff, by virtue of his office. How much weight he will be able to throw around is not clear.

DOING A RETAKE

When the complicated switch of White House assistants into the State Department and vice versa was first announced, the feeling was that it would strengthen Secretary of State Dean Rusk's hand. But many people in Washington are now beginning to do a retake on this.

Career Foreign Service officers, who ran things high, wide and handsome during the Eisenhower administration are now being farmed outside the country or shifted to minor jobs in State.

★ ★ ★

Deputy Undersecretary for Political Affairs U. Alexis Johnson and Assistant Secretary for European Affairs Foy D. Kohler are the exceptions. Political appointees now hold nearly all the top jobs and the White House is running the show.

Voice of the People:

'Too Bad State Department Supports Action of U.N.'

The right of free determination is violated by the United Nations in its aggression against Katanga.

★ ★ ★

It is regrettable that our State Department should sanction and support this action. President Moise Tshombe is a Christian, an anti-Communist and friendly toward the Western powers.

★ ★ ★

I fully expected the international socialistic world order (U. N.) to impose itself in this manner, but I find it difficult to reconcile our State Department's attitude toward other people's freedom and independence.

I hope time doesn't prove this to be another State Department blunder!

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — There's only one unknown remaining about President Kennedy's interview last month with a Soviet newsman.

What effect, if any, did it have on the Russian people or, rather, the Russian people who read it?

There's no doubt about the effect on the Soviet leadership, which would have been predictable anyway, since Kennedy pictured a peaceful America confronted with a trouble-making Russia.

RIPPED VIEWS

The leadership, through its controlled press, ripped Kennedy's views apart. The interview was printed in full in Izvestia, the Russian government newspaper.

But Izvestia, in a country of 220 million people, has a circulation estimated at 4 to 5 million.

If the Kennedy interview made a good impression on some of them, the leadership has sought to offset it. Even if the impression on all who read it was excellent, there isn't much they can do or say.

★ ★ ★

Since Kennedy's views are not going to appear at much length very often when they are critical of Russia, this interview can hardly be considered of much impact in the long run.

Even if the final score shows no hit, no runs and no errors—if nothing was won and nothing lost—the interview was at least on both sides one more effort in their long-winded propaganda war.

Report No. 2 on Kennedy

Things Still Tough in W. Virginia Despite President's Aid

Report on Kennedy II, 2 gals

Editor's Note — West Virginia has played a special part in the fortunes of John F. Kennedy. Here he won a pivotal political battle. Here he also encountered, in stark outline, the biggest domestic problem that he would face as president. A reporter revisits the state for this second of five articles examining the Kennedy record.

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — No state can match West Virginia in its impact on the eventful political life of John F. Kennedy.

Here Kennedy spent a month last year slugging it out in a tough presidential primary.

★ ★ ★

Here he scored what he himself calls his most important victory in his race for nomination.

★ ★ ★

Here he learned how prosperity and hard times can coexist.

Here he was so impressed with the problems caused by automation that to this day he seems to use a special tone when he refers to the economic lessons he picked up first hand in West Virginia.

IF I'M PRESIDENT

Here, in a battle of promises with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., he firmly vowed things would be better if he became president.

"I take the commitments which I have made in this state very seriously," Kennedy told West Virginia voters.

It has been 19 months since Kennedy so diligently toured this state, trying to convince audiences—sometimes large and enthusiastic, sometimes as small as a dozen mildly interested spectators—that he should be in the White House.

★ ★ ★

For 11 months he has been President.

To find out how he's done on his promises, let's retrace a campaign trip.

In May 1960, Kennedy, his voice almost gone from excessive speechmaking, left booming, prosperous Charleston, crossed the Kanawha River and went up famed Cabin Creek, where coal is everything.

TIMES TOUGH

Kennedy went as far as Eskdale, arriving at a politically opportune moment for a man preaching a doctrine of economic revival. Times were so rough the company store had closed that day, for keeps.

Fortunately, Slim Robertson, the longtime manager of the company store, is still around. He has moved down the road a piece, where he manages the state liquor dispensary.

Robertson, an early Kennedy supporter, retains his old enthusiasm.

"I'm convinced," he said, "that things are going to get better."

★ ★ ★

He recited some of the things Kennedy has helped bring to West Virginia: New factories are opening or are being planned, food stamps for the poor are in use, a public works program has been started, a big interstate highway has been announced.

"What worries me are the young people," he went on. "What is going to happen to them? Used to be, they went into the mines automatically. Now only one thing can happen at the mines. They need fewer and fewer men."

Cross the road and the railroad tracks that follow Cabin Creek. Here, as it has for almost 49 years, stands the N. A. Nehman Grocery.

NOT SO CHEERFUL

Mrs. Nehman isn't so cheerful about the results Kennedy has obtained. Business has steadily dropped.

"You should have seen this place right after the war," she said. "Charleston depended on us then. City buses every two hours. Now all those vacant homes. And these are such good people. It's a shame really."

★ ★ ★

The three Nehman boys have solved their problem by migrating to Washington to work for the government. While most of the nation grew, West Virginia lost 145,151 residents between 1950 and 1960.

A 19-year-old hitchhiker, picked up on the way back to town, shows how tough the problem is. He seemed like a bright youngster, but, no, he had never held a job.

"To tell you the truth, I haven't looked too hard," he said. "The mines are about blowed out."

He dropped out of school in the ninth grade.

IN CONTRAST

Now drive to the fine residential area in the hills of South Charleston. Lights from a cluster of industrial plants in the valley shine eerily but spectacularly through a haze of chemical fumes. Despite this activity, some of these factories, by using automation, get the same job done with fewer men.

Now, to complete the confusion, let's drop in at the state capital.

A couple of examples will show how serious this problem is: Around 300,000 persons are entitled to surplus food. More than half of the McDowell County residents are entitled to some form of relief. McDowell, in the heart of the coal country, is trying out the food stamp idea.

In the state Bureau of Labor the word is that things are picking up, that those who draw unemployment insurance have fallen from a high of 45,537 in February to 17,657 in October.

Cheering as this may be, one bleak fact remains. Many unemployed West Virginians don't have this insurance—and one worker out of 10 still has no job.

LOOKING FOR ANSWERS

In the words of Miles Stanley of the AFL-CIO: "More basic answers to the state's problems of chronic and persistent unemployment must be found."

Throughout his campaign Kennedy stressed that a sturdy economic growth was essential if this nation was to come up with 25,000 new jobs it needs each week for the next 10 years.

★ ★ ★

"How is it going to be possible," candidate Kennedy asked, "for this country to maintain full employment with a low rate of economic growth, especially at a time when machines are taking jobs of men? I would consider that to be the No. 1 domestic problem which the next president of the United States will have to meet."

Those around the President say a start has been made.

And in a speech at Trenton, N.J., Kennedy insisted America is on the move again.

But a nation's economic health is incredibly complex, involving everything from gold reserves to interest rates to inflation.

Politicians tend to read and twist these signs to their own purposes.

IT RUNS 50 - 50

But on one statistic they all agree: More people are working, but, because more jobs are needed, the rate of unemployment has not changed much, though some improvement was noted in November.

As Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg put it: "We have a stubborn and continuing unemployment problem. I wish to reaffirm the determination of the Kennedy administration to reduce this unemployment problem to manageable proportions. We shall continue vigorously to pursue our objectives of a higher rate of economic growth."

For John F. Kennedy, it's still his No. 1 domestic problem.

What is a HIEROGLYPH?

A hieroglyph is a character in the picture writing of ancient Egyptians and other ancient peoples.

The study of hieroglyphics is one part of the study of archaeology, a science that not only helps us to understand the development of past civilizations but, in so doing, helps us to a better understanding of modern civilization. Unfortunately many potential archaeologists may never study this important science because they may never go to college. Already some of our colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Powers Goofed, Wilber Brucker Tells Attorneys

Former Secretary of the Army in the Eisenhower administration Wilber M. Brucker, yesterday found fault with U2 pilot Gary Powers in discussing the nation's readiness before the Oakland County Bar Association.

★ ★ ★

Brucker, now a Detroit attorney, said this country's preparedness "is much greater than the average person knows." We're ahead of Russia, he said.

The former Michigan governor criticized Lt. Powers, now imprisoned in Moscow, for failing in his mission and not destroying himself and his highly secret plane when it came down in Russia in May of 1960.

"He was not the Nathan Hale type of fighter who said he regretted he had but one life to give for his country," Brucker told about 60 attorneys at the noon luncheon at the Elks Temple.

Relocation of M59 Plan Before City Commission

Resolutions approving the proposed relocation of M59 and salary increases for Pontiac's two municipal judges and court clerk will be up for approval at tonight's City Commission meeting.

The resolution on M59 relocation involves official approval from commissioners of the proposed route laid out by city planners and the Michigan State Highway Department for M59 east of the planned loop road:

This is necessary before Highway Department officials can proceed with plans for the M59 extension. The loop is to have three direct links to the I-75 freeway bypassing Pontiac to the east and north.

The M59 extension—East Huron Street—will be one link and the only one planned as a limited access major thoroughfare.

★ ★ ★

Its proposed route would extend northeast from Douglas Street to the vicinity of Tasmania and then east to East Boulevard where it becomes a freeway.

PLAN PARKWAY

It is expected the Huron Street extension will be developed as an attractive parkway, utilizing the Clinton River and abutting open urban space. It would remove the M59 designation from Auburn Road.

Other resolutions will call for annual salary hikes of about $2,500 for each Municipal Court judge to $12,500 and a hike of some $1,300 annually for the court clerk, who gets $6,200.

In other business, an ordinance to rezone eight lots on the northeast corner of Cass Avenue and Wisner Street will be up for final approval.

Public hearings will be held on special assessment rolls for the collection of unpaid weed cutting bills for 1961 and for construction of a storm drain on Emiry, Hollister and Crittenden streets.

The proposed vacating of a portion of Gilmour Drive and the city's plans for a water main in Palmer Drive will also be up for public hearing.

Loses Try to Get High Court Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Borg-Warner Corp. has lost an attempt to get a U.S. Supreme Court ruling in its dispute with York-Shipley, Inc., over use of the name "York" on heating equipment.

The Supreme Court, in refusing to rule, left standing a Chicago Circuit Court of Appeals decision.

★ ★ ★

The Appeals Court held a U.S. District Court award of $2.28 million damages to York-Shipley was unsupported by the evidence offered and it ordered the lower court to recompute the damages. The higher court also reversed an order for an accounting of Borg-Warner profits and directed that an injunction against B-W's use of the name "York" be limited only to air furnaces and oil conversion heaters.

Debby Writes Note Once More to Nikita

HULL, Mass. (AP)—Debby Sable, 11, is continuing her campaign for peace through direct appeal to Soviet Premier Khrushchev, according to her mother, Norma Sable.

Mrs. Sable said she learned Monday Norma has addressed a second letter to the Soviet leader reading:

"Dear Mr. Khrushchev:

"We are coming to a time of year in my country when everyone says, 'Peace on earth, good will to men.'

"Do you know that I was born in October, 1950? I have known nothing but war and the threat of war in my lifetime.

"I know I speak for all the children in my country when I say our President wants nothing but peace for his children and country.

AS A GRANDFATHER:

"As a grandfather, Mr. Khrushchev, do you want to see your grandchildren, and children all over the world, go back to living in underground caves like prehistoric cavemen? It is up to you, Mr. Khrushchev.

"You could give the children of the world the greatest present of their lives if you would just let us know by some sign or word that you want peace. Then peace on earth, good will to men, would really mean something."

Debby attracted attention last October with a letter to Khrushchev expressing fear bomb fallout might harm her baby sister.

Ike to Expand Michigan Visit

Accepts Invitation of MSU President to Speak on Campus

LANSING (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has decided to expand his visit to Michigan Wednesday into a double-header.

★ ★ ★

Originally scheduled to appear only before the constitutional convention, Eisenhower accepted an invitation Monday from John A. Hannah, Michigan State University president, to speak to students and faculty on the campus.

Some 60 state and city police officers and sheriff's deputies have been assigned to handle the crowds and form a security guard for Eisenhower from the time he steps off a private plane at the Capitol City Airport at about 9:30 a.m. until he leaves at about 2 p.m.

The former president's schedule calls for about an hour with the convention delegates, during which he will answer questions about federal-state relationships and other constitutional problems.

His appearance will be broadcast live on television and radio.

Because of space limitations and security precautions, the general public will be barred from the convention hall during the Eisenhower visit.

Better make him learn that second speech, Lucy . . . he's going to need it in a hurry! In fact, the way people are buying Falcons (last month was the hottest November in Ford history!) public speaking could become his life-long career! People love Falcon. They've already bought a million of 'em—more than twice as many cars as most other compacts have sold. And today, they're buying more Falcons than ever . . . because Falcon has more than ever to offer! Today's Falcon gives you an improved version of the famous Falcon Six—the engine that set a new record for a Six or Eight in the 25-year history of the Mobilgas Economy Run! Today's Falcon goes 6,000 miles between oil changes. You also get a bigger choice of models: there are 13 different Falcons . . . different except for the dependability that's standard in every quality-built Falcon. But best of all—for you—is the one thing about Falcon that hasn't changed. The very first Falcon was America's lowest-priced* 6-passenger car. So is today's.

Walker Slates Civilian Debut

Ex-General Expected to Deny Army Charges in Dallas Talk Tonight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Edwin A. Walker, 51, who resigned his major general's commission after the Army reprimanded him in a dispute over political education of his troops, makes his first public address as a civilian here tonight.

Walker indicated at a news conference Saturday he will defend himself against the Army's accusations that he criticized former high government officials and tried to influence the voting of his soldiers.

FIRST IN SERIES

The speech in the 11,000-seat Dallas Memorial Auditorium is the first of a series planned by Walker.

* * *

As a result of the Army investigation, Walker was reprimanded and relieved of his command of the 24th Infantry Division in Europe. He was reassigned to the Pacific theater and then resigned.

* * *

At his news conference, Walker declared: "I have been charged with nothing and found guilty of nothing and have been punished for nothing."

Boy Confesses Arson

SAGINAW (AP)—A 12-year-old with an arson record was quoted by officers Monday as confessing to setting a warehouse fire Nov. 4, 1960. Saginaw County Sheriff Clarence A. Kackmeister said the boy, who was arrested Thursday after he admitted burning down a barn, claimed he started the $116,000 blaze at the William J. Meuhlenbech warehouse.

Group Sets Up Bachelor Quarters

UP Students Eat Well by Rod and Gun

HOUGHTON (AP) — Six enterprising Michigan Tech students are helping to earn their way through college by proving that it is still possible to "live off the fruit of the land."

Because of their success at hunting, fishing and farming, they are eating like kings for $1.70 apiece a week.

They have set up bachelor quarters in a large apartment in Houghton with the intention of supplying their own food during their junior and senior years at Michigan Tech.

The student-sportsmen are Albert H. Caron, Bloomer, Wis.; Richard S. Geiss, Irma, Wis.; John M. Gogin, Genesee Depot, Wis.; James R. Gosz, Menasha, Wis.; John R. Herbst, Escanaba, and L. Kent Johnson, Gladstone.

Johnson is majoring in mechanical engineering. The other five are forestry majors.

HUNTED AS BOYS

As natives of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and Northern Wisconsin, the six boys have hunted since they were old enough to carry a gun in the woods.

They met at Michigan Tech and later decided to take advantage of the college's ideal location in an area which prides itself on being a sportsman's paradise. One of the first acquisitions for the enterprise was a 10-cubic-foot freezer.

The game bagged by the six hunters thus far includes three bucks, three black bears, the largest of which weighed 312 pounds, a dozen ducks, some 40 partridge, squirrels from Wisconsin and pheasant from South Dakota.

The freezer was already well-supplied with smelt, trout, bass, pike and pan fish from a summer of fishing.

The license fees for hunting and fishing in both Michigan and Wisconsin have cost the six a total of $149 so far. All Michigan Tech students may legally hunt in Michigan with resident licenses.

GREW VEGETABLES

This past summer Caron spent his spare time growing fruits and vegetables on his family's farm in Wisconsin. He donated 800 pounds of potatoes, 100 head of cabbage, a gunny sack of popcorn, carrots, cucumbers, onions, tomatoes, beans and other vegetables, much of which they froze and canned for the winter.

* * *

Managing hunting trips and a full schedule of classes has presented problems at times.

However, Kent Johnson reports that he has been able to keep up with his mechanical engineering courses and the five foresters find it to their advantage to study together.

Cooperation is the key of the success of this enterprise. The boys take turns with the cooking and other housework.

With a good supply of wild game cook books, they have experimented with many unusual dishes and have found such dplicacies as smoked bear meat exceptionally good.

With winter approaching they are looking forward to ice fishing and are planning to try a technique, new to them, netting lawyers, an eel-like fish, which is said to be excellent smoked.

Rabbit hunting will also be a favorite past-time.

Abby Says: Up to Parents

Moral Code Learned at Home Long Before College Years

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently visited our daughter at the State University. We were amazed at the freedom these college girls are given. After their freshman year they have almost no supervision.

No wonder so many of our young people get into trouble. Is this the new trend? What is wrong with our universities?

MOTHER OF SOPHOMORE

DEAR MOTHER: Nothing is wrong with our universities. It's our homes. A child comes to the university with the moral code and set of values he has learned at home.

ABBY

One should not expect an academic institution to do the job that should have been done by parents years before.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A man in our office is the world's biggest heel. He's the type who will make time with a girl in the evening and talk about it the next day.

He is now trying to con a sweet little 22-year-old farm girl into letting him drive her home for the Christmas holidays. It's a 500-mile trip, which I'm sure he doesn't intend to make in one day. This little kid started working here in June and might accept his offer in order to save the plane fare. Who should wise up the girl? Or should someone tell the boss? Don't suggest talking to the man. He thinks he's a gift to women.

IN THE OFFICE

DEAR IN: A kiss-and-tell reputation gets around an office fast. Either the girl doesn't know better (in which case YOU should tell her) or she isn't the "sweet kid" you think she is.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law used to make a very delicious cake. There was NO flour in it, but she used a half cup of meal. It was the best cake I ever tasted. Everyone wanted the recipe but she never gave it out. She carried it in her head.

Well, she died, may the Lord rest her soul, and she took the recipe with her. I can't find a recipe like it anywhere. It stood as high as an angel cake and she folded the egg whites and yolks in separately. Can you or any of your readers help me?

MRS. L.

DEAR MRS. L.: I think I have your recipe. Send me your name and a self-addressed stamped envelope and it's yours.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: After a six-month engagement, Bob (24) and I (21) want to get married. We want a simple wedding with only our folks and a few close friends present. We see no reason to wait until next spring, which is what my mother wants us to do. She wants to put on a big, showy wedding with a gown and veil, and have a big wedding reception. Dad hasn't the money to pay for it, and is in debt right now, but Mom says I would get it all back in shower and wedding gifts. Abby, I know my relatives and their gifts wouldn't total half of what the wedding would cost. I hate to disappoint my mother, but I would rather not have my folks go to all that expense for something that doesn't mean anything to me. Please help me decide.

MARRYING FOR LOVE

DEAR MARRYING: Your judgment is sound. Your Mom may want to do right by you, but she is wrong. Do it your way.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have had so much advice from friends and relatives that I am more confused than ever. I am a 36-year-old widow. I've been going with a 45-year-old, well-to-do, attractive bachelor for a year. He wants to marry me, but here is my problem:

My sons (11 and 13) do not like this man. In fact, they hate him. When he comes to the house, the boys run off and "hide" so they won't have to say hello to him. He knows the boys don't like him, but he doesn't make an issue of it. He says if we marry, the boys will be sent to boarding school because he hasn't the patience to be a father to them. Abby, I really love this man, but I love my boys, too. Can you help a confused mother choose between the man she loves and her own flesh and blood?

TORN

DEAR TORN: The instincts of your sons are probably a more dependable evaluation of this man's worth than your own feelings. If you were to marry him, your "love" might wither faster than your bridal bouquet, knowing that you had sent your sons away to have him. Think it over.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO HOME-SICK: You are married to a VERY sick man. Tell him that he either goes for psychiatric help or you will not continue to live like a prisoner in your own home.

★ ★ ★

Everybody's got a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Have You Tried This?

Candied Cherry Jewels Stud Christmas Fudge

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. Harley Alkire promised us her recipe for Christmas fudge way back last spring. It's a colorful candy, full of bright red and green cherries.

★ ★ ★

Ill health has curtailed Mrs. Alkire's PTA activities in the past few months. That, plus homemaking and a social club, keeps her leisure time occupied.

WHITE CHRISTMAS FUDGE
By Mrs. Harley Alkire

¾ cup undiluted evaporated milk
¾ cup water
3 cups granulated sugar
3 tablespoons butter
¾ cup marshmallow fluff
½ teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup each red and green candied cherries, cut
½ cup walnuts, cut

Mix milk, water and sugar and boil until syrup makes a soft ball in cold water. Set off the heat for a few minutes. Add butter and mix. Stir in marshmallow fluff, vanilla, cherries and nuts.

Stir thoroughly for a few more minutes until mixture thickens a little. Pour onto buttered cookie sheet. Let set and cut into squares.

Stepmother Deserves Attention

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: My mother is not living. About two years ago my father remarried. This marriage has never seemed to cause any complications until this moment of my planning for my wedding.

Suddenly my mother's people feel that the invitations should not include my stepmother's name. I thought if your own mother was not living it was all right. Please give me your opinion.

A: Your mother's family is quite wrong. In fact, it would be very cruel to your stepmother to omit her name. The wording would be "his daughter" instead of "their daughter."

★ ★ ★

Q: My mother and father-in-law will soon celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. However, as both are in poor health it will be impossible to give a party of any kind for them.

I thought it would be nice if all their friends remembered them on this day by sending greeting cards, which I am sure will please them very much. In other words, have a "shower of cards." Is such an idea possible, and if so, how can I go about suggesting it?

A: Your idea is excellent and the best way to suggest it, would be to telephone your plan to their friends whom you know best, and ask them to spread the idea to others.

★ ★ ★

Q: I have been invited to a shower for a mother-to-be. Will you please tell me what type of gift I should bring. Should it be something personal for the mother-to-be or something for her expected baby?

A: Your gift should be something for her expected baby.

They will be presented with toys collected at last Saturday's Toy Dance held in Oakland Center.

JUST A DELEGATE

"We want to make sure that the children understand the jolly fat man looking like Santa Claus is not really Mr. Claus," said Norman Prady, publications director today. "He is merely James Drummond, a junior from Almont, who has been sent in Mr. Claus' stead."

Entertainment will include ballet dancing by Sondra Forsyth a sophomore from Detroit, and modern dancing by the "Orchesis" dance group of MSUO.

Chairman of the AWS committee organizing the toy drive is Karen Gullett, a junior of Dick Street, Pontiac.

He Is What He Thinks He Is

Child's Self-Image Can Stand in His Way

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Once, when she was seven years old Mrs. Carole W. cried out, "You're mean!" to her mother.

The accusation burst out of her when mama slapped her baby brother for crying. All day she had felt irritation gathering in mama.

Frightened for her little brother, she wanted to protect him against its full explosion. She succeeded. She attracted the irritation to herself; but as it turned on her, it flamed into the violence of which she'd been afraid.

Mama whipped her severely with a hairbrush and confined her, mealless to her room until the next day.

During this experience a resolve formed in Mrs. W. As she submitted helplessly to the whipping, she thought:

"Never will I impose on anyone as mama is imposing on me. Never must anyone hate me as I now hate mama for overpowering me."

BOBBY Is BOSS

This resolve profoundly felt and now unremembered accounts for Mrs. W's submissive treatment of her 4-year-old son.

Tonight as his bedtime neared, she resorted to all the child guidance books' suggestions for preparing children to sleep.

Mr. W was denied TV lest it "excite" Bobby. She warned the child of his approaching bedtime at the recommended intervals. To create a friendly atmosphere, she read him a story. But before she finished it, he scrambled down from her lap and ran downstairs.

In the end, his disgusted father had to carry him kicking and squiming up to bed, and Mrs. W, standing at the bottom of the stairs aware of her husband's disgust, for a moment became conscious of the strange paralysis that always overwhelms her when she confronts another will that opposes hers.

Such emotional paralysis is often due to just such a resolve as was formed in Mrs. W. by her mother's severe and unreasonable aggression.

* * *

Even as I write this I know that it will disturb some of my readers. Let's welcome the uneasiness. It may be the beginning of recollection, of some recovered memory of that intense childhood experience with adult aggression that sent us into such recoil from all aggression that we have outlawed even its mildest forms in ourselves.

* * *

It may mean that we are remembering ourselves as a person who wanted her opposing feelings respected. It may mean that we are getting ready to recal that forgotten halte of aggression and to understand what we fear to arouse in Bobby by opposing his bedtime wishes.

We may be getting ready to perceive the difference between carrying a little boy to bed and beating him with a hairbrush.

Campus at Ann Arbor Soon Will Be Deserted

By SHARON WARREN

Soon the campus at Ann Arbor will be deserted except for the colored lights and tinsel placed there for the Christmas season.

Dec. 16 marks the official beginning of the University of Michigan holiday recess, and only a few students remain to see Christmas on the "diag."

* * *

Singing at the university hasn't been all Christmas music. Musket (Michigan Union Show Koeds Too) presented an original fantasy on the voyage of Columbus, written by a Saginaw student, Jack O'Brien. The musical comedy, "Land Ho!" was a farce of that famous journey.

Jody Wilford, 91 N. Main in Clarkston, was cochairman of the promotions committee. She's a sophomore in the school of architecture and design.

Closely following Musket's performance was Handel's "Messiah," presented by the University Symphony Orchestra and the University Choral Union. A highlight of the presentation was a trumpet solo by Don Tison, 2887 Pontiac Road, a senior in the school of music. Don toured Russia with the University of Michigan Symphony Band.

"HMS PINAFORE"

The Gilbert and Sullivan Society joined in the musical fete with their offering of "HMS Pinafore," Dec. 6-9. Steve Taylor, a junior in the college of literature, science and the arts, portrayed Bill Bobstay, a boatswain. Steve lives at 1251 Woodward in Birmingham.

* * *

The society, as the only University of Michigan touring theatrical group, will present performances in Detroit's Rackham Auditorium, Friday at 8:30 p.m.; at Wayne Memorial School, Jan. 6, and at Trenton High School, Jan. 13.

The sounds of music will be continued by the University Choir which will sing Thursday at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor. The Christmas program's main selection will be "Magnificat" by Hovhaness. Marilyn Vernon and your reporter will participate. Marilyn is a sophomore in the school of music and lives at 158 W. Rundell in Pontiac.

Look for Scarves in a Gay Array

(UPI) Scarves will be billowing in spring breezes, New York designers promise. Scarves are tied, babushka-fashion, around the head.

* * *

Long, slim rectangles of scarves tie high on the neck, when suits and coats are collarless. Some designers like cowpoke style handkerchief scarves in colors coordinated with the costume.

Try a Bath 'Pillow'

If you think that towels are just for drying, you're not collecting their bonus as bath "pillows."

Next time you take a bath, just fold up a clean fluffy towel and place it against the tub, in back of your head. It will serve as a soft cushion while you relax and revive in the warm soapsuds.

Take Care in Cleaning That Spot

Drycleaners are often asked if there isn't some single solvent that would be a universal spot removal agent. Their answer has to be that there isn't, unfortunately. Besides, if there were a single solvent that would remove everything, where would they keep it? It would eat through its container.

BE CAREFUL

Seriously, though, the National Institute of Drycleaning cautions against rash attempts at spot removal — either at home or anywhere else. All too often the unwary amateur botches the job so badly even the most skilled of spotters using an array of tools, can't repair the damage.

* * *

* * *

The Institute's advice: brush the spot off lightly and get the garment to your drycleaner as soon as you can. Time has a way of making even temporary spots permanent.

* *

The cleaning experts explain there are so many different kinds of spots and stains and such a variety of fabrics, dyes and finishes that the resulting combination of possibilities is limitless. It takes a skilled professional to get the spots out satisfactorily. And even he can't succeed in every instance. Sometimes "knowing when to stop working on it" is the most important bit of knowledge a spotter can apply.

Start Pattern for a Healthy Body in Teens

(NEA)—In your teen years, start working for a beautiful figure. These are the years when the pattern is set for the future.

If you are careless about the way you carry yourself, if you don't exercise and never walk if you can help it, resign yourself to lumps and bumps in your 20s, 30s and beyond.

WALK A MILE

So start a blueprint now. Walk a minimum of a mile a day. Wear comfortable, flat-heeled shoes, walk briskly.

Touch your toes 30 times each morning and keep your knees straight while you do it. If you have a particular figure problem, do a spot exercise to get rid of it.

* * *

If you don't know how to ride a bicycle, learn. Dance during the winter months and swim at an indoor pool. Take advantage of every possible chance to develop a lithe, sleek, healthy body.

Three to mix-match happily every school day. Pop-over-top and skirt are sew-easy, and so gay in plaid or checks with simple, white cotton blouse.

N. Y. Teen-Ager Offers Operas on 'Small Scale'

Gilbert Youth Service

Artists who "paint" pictures with bits of broken glass and twists of copper wire will look with favor on a teen-ager who's experimenting with similar offbeat materials in opera sets.

* * *

Seventeen-year-old John Dew, of Brooklyn, N.Y., uses bits of scouring pads for trees and chess pawns for performers when he stages his one-man showings of famous operas.

To make his creative work even more difficult, his stage is no larger than the traditional puppet stage.

STARK EFFECTS

Looking for bold new ways to create the stark effects he wants, John helps himself to anything he finds around the house. It may be bathroom tiles or wires from his father's radio that he needs for his props. His understanding parents look with respect on all these activities, since they hope with John that in due time his advanced theories may win him a place in professional opera staging.

* *

By now, John is able to produce 27 operas since he began his work in 1957. Music is supplied by phonograph records, the "performers" are moved from place to place by steel wires, and the audience is made up of relatives and neighbors who swarm in to see Tristan and Isolde done in a way the Met would fail to recognize.

John has entered Pratt Institute, where he will concentrate on theatrical staging.

Clean Diamond Is Larger Appearing

Do you know that diamonds have an affinity for grease? And that the cleaner the diamond, the larger it appears to be? This information comes from diamond expert Mrs Gladys Hannaford, who recommends washing diamonds often in a concentrated solution of detergent in hot water.

Soak diamond jewelry in this sudsy solution, rinse it under running water, then dry and polish it with ordinary dress-packing tissue paper. Mrs. Hannaford advises avoiding lanolin-treated cleansing tissues and silicone-treated eyeglass tissues which leave a film on diamonds.

Most arms and ammunition obtained from Europe by the American colonists during the Revolution were shipped through the Dutch West Indies island of St. Eustatius.

'There Are No Short Cover Gals'

(Gilbert Youth Service)

Tall, skinny teen-agers who slump to conceal the fact they're heads above the crowd and chunky teen-agers who stare at their feet hoping the world won't notice they're not good-looking, are selling themselves short.

★ ★ ★

If they'd pull themselves up straight, says Eileen Ford, operator of a top-flight model agency in New York, their poor points would be overlooked and their erect posture immediately admired.

Mrs. Ford, who says there is no such things as a good model with bad posture, notices immediately the walk of the would-be aspirants for cover girl. And usually it's excellent.

BOOK'S BEST

Walking with a book on the head is still the best recipe for good posture, Mrs. Ford says. Just five minutes a day will do wonders, even if at first the teen-ager feels he's separated from his feet.

Another trick for the student and others leading a desk life is to stop work and slide both hands behind the shoulders and as far down the shoulder blades as possible, keeping elbows bent. Immediately the back straightens, the unwelcome bump at the back of the neck disappears, and with it goes muscle fatigue.

PROUD OF HEIGHT

Tall teen-agers in particular should take comfort from Mrs. Ford's work with a battery of beauties. Her models are five feet seven or five feet eight, and look even taller because they must stay skinny for the camera. Their good posture shows the world they're proud of being tall. And why not? Says Mrs. Ford: "There are no short cover girls."

★ ★ ★

Slumping to her connotes laziness. Conversely, a straight back is a habit, which once acquired in the teens will remain for the rest of life.

But Don't Grow Old

And Now You Have Time

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is nothing which makes life so exciting, so vital and so deeply satisfying, as being needed! In order to be happy everyone must be needed by at least one person, one cause or one dream.

★ ★ ★

The feeling of not being needed is one of the main reasons for frustration at middle age, and deterioration and depression in older years.

I know this to be true because of the thousands of letters I receive each year from women in both age groups and because of interviews with experts in the fields of physical, mental and emotional health.

Also, the experimentation, studies and projects which these experts have conducted have pinpointed the importance of being needed.

★ ★ ★

Let's think today of the middle-aged woman who has been busy for years rearing children, as well as being a wife and a housekeeper. She was needed not once a day but practically every hour in the day.

★ ★ ★

It was difficult for her to find time to read an uninterrupted paragraph, to have a few minutes alone, to manicure her nails, much less to pursue any personal interest or talents or hobbies she might enjoy.

★ ★ ★

She thought, "When the children are grown I will have time for these other things." Then what happens? Before she knows it the children do grow up and leave home. Instead of seizing upon the ensuing years with excitement and anticipation, too often the woman in this situation is engulfed with restlessness and bewilderment, a feeling of deflation, and often boredom and poor health. She feels that she is no longer needed!

HAPPY CHANGE

Habit is strong and sudden leisure requires adjustment and a change to a new way of life. However, this can be an extremely happy change. After life has been beating a woman over the head for years, one might suppose that it would feel good when it lets up a bit.

At this period there will be more time in which to enjoy your husband and develop interests which of necessity lay dormant for a long while.

Lure these interests out of your subconscious—and your husband out of his office! Don't get the idea that you are not needed just because the constant demands on your time have lessened.

★

If you would like to have my leaflet, "How to Overcome Loneliness and Self-Consciousness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 59. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Middle age may bring frustrations from a feeling of not being needed, according to Josephine Lowman in today's "Why Grow Old" column. "Don't get the idea that you are not needed just because the constant demands on your time have lessened," advises Mrs. Lowman.

Velvet Is Deceptive This Year

It Won't Crush, Spot, and Often Can Be Washed

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK (NEA) — No fabric has ever quite captured the air of ladylike fragility that velvet can lend. But in 1961, this fragility is deceptive. For modern boulevard velvet is rugged.

These new velvets are crush-resistant, spot-refusing and, in some cases, machine-washable and drip-dry. They're elegant by evening and hardy in the daytime. They are, in fact, all that any girl could ask for.

COLORFUL

This winter, they come in glowing colors that suggest all the subtle shading of precious jewels. Blue, gold, emerald green, ruby red, moss, magenta and even navy. Black? Of course.

The velvet touch is one that makes any woman feel pampered. It's part of the holiday whirl in the very same sense that holly and eggnog belong. But it's good well after the holidays, deep into the winter months.

In winter, 1961, velvet goes to dinner, to the theater, to a ball, to weddings. It can visit a matinee with the girls, travel the globe or lounge in a boudoir by a cozy fire. It appears in late day dresses, cocktail and dinner dresses, sleek pants and at-home hostess gowns.

Edwardian ladies, beautiful in velvet, knew a thing or two about getting gentlemen to send violets. Modern women are equally adept at rating corsages. But they wouldn't dream of letting their men see them toss an apparently fragile velvet dress into the automatic washer! Yet, if the velvet dress you buy is so tagged, that's just what you may safely do with it!

Put Practical Gifts on Your Yule List

BY RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Well, I've been going through the Christmas gift catalogues and here are my suggestions (subject to last-minute changes, of course).

For the hardworking housewife whose husband's homecoming question is invariably, "What have you been doing with yourself all day?"—a pedometer.

(One glance at the pedometer and her husband will KNOW what she's been doing—chasing a toddler, hanging out the wash, mopping floors, hiking through supermarkets and so on.)

For the 15-year-old girl whose personal life holds at least one major crisis daily—a world globe. (To remind her that City High isn't the whole, wide world.)

For the bashful boy who has trouble getting up courage to ask a girl for a date—electric socks. (They're guaranteed against the wearer's getting cold feet.)

For any mother of young children—a transistorized horn that amplifies a speaker's voice so that it can be heard clearly up to 2,000 ft. (That ought to help in calling the kids in to dinner.)

FOR TODDLERS

For any member of the high chair crowd—a bar buoy. (Designed to keep a glass from tipping over when a boat rocks, it ought to be just dandy to hold a milk glass, too—and thereby save an awful lot of mopping up.)

For the suburban housewife—a poncho with an attached foot. (This ought to be the perfect cover-up for the housewife who claims she hasn't time to take the curlers out of her hair or get out of her jeans and into a dress before setting out for the nearest shopping center.)

For the woman who loves junk jewelry—a tackle box. (It's the only thing big enough to hold all the "lures" owned by a woman who can't resist adding to her junk jewelry collection every time she walks through a department store.)

It's easy to learn "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millett Reader Service, care of The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Mrs. Lowell Gets the Zaniest Mail

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK — Born in a pullman, Juliet Lowell has been on the move ever since.

"My stay at Vassar was the longest I was ever in one place," says Mrs. Lowell who swears she never went to school at all before that.

Nevertheless, the postman manages to keep up with her changes of address, each day dumping at her doorstep many bagsfull of the zaniest mail in the world.

Mrs. Lowell has been in the unique and profitable business of publishing unintentionally funny faux pas letters so long that everybody everywhere now automatically readdresses his looney correspondence to her.

However, this author of nine popular "Dear Sir" books, (compilations of letters and cartoons) hasn't always found the researching to be this easy. In the past professional men were reluctant to permit their names to be used until Mrs. Lowell had first obtained letters from some celebrated persons in their fields.

"When I was writing my 'Dear Doctor' book, I had to hop aboard a cruise ship carrying a bunch of doctors to a convention in the Caribbean. By the time we docked, I had them all begging to be in my book, though," laughs the tiny vivacious grandmother. "Oh I adore my racket."

The idea for the "racket" came to her when, as a member of a charity organization, Mrs. Lowell received a check for $30. With it was a letter that read, "Pardon me for not signing this, but I want this gift to be anonymous."

DATED COFFEE

"After that I wrote to some coffee companies. Only one company forwarded a letter from a lady who protested against such a thing as dated coffee because dates and coffee do not mix. But all manufacturers sent me samples of their coffee. So I wrote to automobile agencies, but they only sent me funny letters."

Mrs. Lowell's first collection was "Dumbelles Lettres" a side-splitting success in 1933. Since then she has raked the files of Congressmen, draftboards, judges, movie stars and businessmen until they now automatically send her the material.

Of course, the autobiography she is contemplating writing may be called "Dear Me."

★ ★ ★

Twice widowed Mrs. Lowell boasts of husbands who were extremely cooperative about her fame. Both changed their names to hers after their marriages because a Hollywood studio she was under contract to thought things would be less confusing that way.

Juliet Lowell's first husband was a brassiere manufacturer, the second a rabbi.

"My first used to joke about being in a very uplifting business, and my second used to say it quite seriously," she says this time with a tinge of sadness to her ceaseless humor.

VERY FUNNY BUSINESS

Are some of the letters in her book purely the inventions of gag-writing publicity seekers? Miss Lowell is ready for that question pulling a sheaf of letters from her constant companion, a manila folder. "People that write letters beat anything gag writers could think up. Listen to some of these: 'Dear Sir; Can a girl grow up to be a governor, or does she have to be a governess?'

"'Sir; Your Louis 4X bed is too short. I wonder if the king-sized one, your Louis XV, would do instead.'

"'Dear Teacher; Please excuse Arnold's mistakes. I always help him to get the answers wrong.'"

★ ★ ★

"Oh, I just adore this racket," Mrs. Lowell exclaims again, folding up her day's postal prizes to store for future publication.

County Supervisor Units 'Kick Around' Center

Official Tackled Short of CD Goal

By DICK HANSON

Various committees of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors are engaged in a political football series that can be called the county civil defense communications center finals.

The series opened last August when the board tossed the ball onto the field with instructions to proceed with plans for the emergency operations center.

Enthusiastic Oak Park Supervisor Charles E. Cardon, chairman of the civil defense committee, deftly scooped up the ball and made for the goal posts.

He was brought down somewhere short of the 50-yard line yesterday when he asked the ways and means committee for $30,000 to keep the ball in play.

Quarterback David Levinson, Birmingham supervisor and chairman of the ways and means committee, evidently felt the pace was too fast.

★ ★ ★

They went into a huddle — the ways and means, civil defense and buildings and grounds committees — with Levinson calling the signals over Cardon's objections.

Cardon was compelled to center the ball to Levinson who handed it off to Southfield Supervisor Hugh Dohany, of buildings and grounds.

ELECTS TO PUNT

Dohany elected to punt. He booted the ball into the sidelines, thus stalling the game for time.

His play came in the form of a motion to hold off on giving the civil defense committee the $30,000 so that an architect could draw up final plans for the communications center, until the Intercounty Supervisors Committee comes up with its recommendations for a six-county civil defense plan.

Since Levinson is chairman of the Intercounty committee he now has control of Oakland County's ball in that other game.

Cardon, limping but still game, called the latest play "procrastination." He said he could bring the ball back into play here Dec. 19, when the county board of supervisors meets, by asking for a roll-call vote from the floor.

★ ★

But his initial fears that holding up the local game further would jeopardize $100,000 in matching federal funds earmarked for the project here were quelled by county corporation counsel Norman Barnard.

Barnard remarked that he had been in touch with U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) who assured him that the funds would remain intact.

The federal government currently is drawing up new rules for the game in changing civil defense policies.

'SHOULD WAIT'

A consensus among those present at yesterday's meeting of the committees was that the county should wait until federal policy was firm before spending any more money locally.

★ ★

Board of Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamlin, recently returned from Washington, D. C., said it would be two years before the federal government approached the problem of specifications for area communications centers as it first must evaluate which buildings across the nation could be used as fallout shelters in case of nuclear attack and proceed from there with determining what else is required.

The survey of existing buildings is expected to be completed by next fall, said Hamlin.

India's population is gaining at a rate of about five million a year.

Urges OAS to Lift Dominican Sanctions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Guatemala asked the Organization of American States Monday night to lift all sanctions against the Dominican Republic.

The Guatemalan note to Ambassador Alberto Zuleta Angel of Colombia, president of the OAS Council, said there no longer is any reason to consider the Dominican Republic "a threat to the peace and security" of the hemisphere.

Sanctions were imposed in August 1960. The Dominican government of slain dictator Rafael Trujillo was found to be involved in an attempt to assassinate Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt.

To Survey St. Joseph Hospital's Needs

The Detroit Province of the Sisters of Mercy today announced it had hired James A. Hamilton Associates, of Minneapolis, to make a survey of future plant needs at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac.

The announcement was made by Mother Mary Justine, head of the Detroit province. She indicated the Sisters of Mercy is ready to proceed with whatever expansion is recommended in the firm's survey.

Directing the study will be Fred A. McNamara, a senior associate with the national hospital consultants.

McNamara, speaking to doctors and administrators at the hospital yesterday, said there would be two major parts to the study.

'DETERMINE FUTURE ROLE'

"First, we want to make a comprehensive study of the Pontiac area and determine the future role St. Joseph Hospital will play in serving the area.

"Then we will determine what kind of program of modernizing and enlarging the hospital's facilities will best handle future needs."

McNamara estimated it would take three months to determine future goals. He indicated definite plans for expansion should be drawn up before next summer.

The Hamilton firm has done many major hospital studies throughout the nation and completed a management study for Pontiac General Hospital five years ago.

Car-Train Crash Injures 2 Men

Victims Are Reported in Fair Condition After Wixom Collision

Nelson suffered a fractured arm and lacerations of the face, hands and arms. Moore still was being X-rayed this afternoon and the extent of his injuries were undetermined.

★ ★ ★

The engineer of the Grand Trunk freight train, C. E. Zimmerman, 1528 Harger St., Pontiac, told Wixom police Moore's car apparently skidded through the stop sign at the crossing and struck the rear of the engine.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred about 9:45 a. m.

Nelson and Moore were unconscious and unable to make statements to the police at the scene.

★ ★ ★

The car was hurled about 25 feet after the impact, overturned and landed upright in a ditch next to the tracks.

School Receives Scholarship List

American Legion Post Presents Avondale High an Education Handbook

The American Legion's education and scholarship handbook, "Need a Lift?" has been presented to Avondale High School by Hill Gazette Post No. 143 of Auburn Heights, Gerald R. Hill, post commander, announced today.

★ ★ ★

The revised publication for the 1961-62 school year contains information about hundreds of college and vocational scholarships for qualified high school students of the Avondale area.

★ ★ ★

It is recognized as one of the most complete sources of career and scholarship information in the United States, Hill said.

★ ★ ★

He mentioned in particular the Junior GI Bill which provides up to $110 a month for four years of educational help for sons and daughters of veterans who lost their lives as a result of military service.

Over half of the young people eligible for this help have failed to apply, Hill said.

He added that the handbook does not limit its listings to children of veterans but contains scholarships and educational aids available to all students.

★ ★ ★

The post commander said that experience has proved that plans for higher education should be made during the student's sophomore year in high school.

Lake Orion OK's Employe Raises

LAKE ORION — The Village Council authorized pay raises last night for all nonelected village employes.

★ ★ ★

Department of Public Works employes will get an 18-cent-an-hour raise, effective on the Jan. 8 payroll. Police department patrolmen and radio operators will get a 15-cent boost. Salaries of the chief of police and police sergeant will be raised 24 and 20 cents an hour respectively.

Council President Irvine J. Unger said that the pay hikes were to bring the salaries to prevailing rates. The men are employes of long standing who have shown themselves to be good workers and they deserve a raise, he said.

In other business last night, the council authorized issuing $75,000 in motor vehicle bonds to finance the resurfacing of three of the village main streets.

NO SPECIAL ASSESSMENT

The bond issue will not involve a special assessment and will be financed out of state highway tax refunds, Unger said.

Streets to be paved with asphalt are Flint Street from the railroad tracks to the eastern village limit; Atwater Street from Broadway to the Paint Creek bridge and Broadway Street from Jackson Street to the railroad tracks.

The improvements will start when the bonds are sold and the village plans are approved by state engineers, Unger said.

The council also agreed to hood parking meters during the Christmas shopping season at the request of village merchants. The merchants in turn have agreed to see that the two-hour time limit is not abused.

Avondale Students Will Tour Airport

The Avondale Junior High School Student Council is sponsoring a trip to Pontiac Municipal Airport tomorrow morning for its members and staff members of the school paper, the "Bumblebee."

★ ★ ★

North Central Airlines is providing a 26-passenger DC3 and is arranging the airport tour, weather permitting. Student Council Advisor Herbert Pinner and Mrs. Charlotte Johnson, sponsor of the school paper, will be chaperons.

Usurpation of Right Feared

Home Rule Proposal Hit

Affiliates of the Citizens Research Council in Pontiac have attacked the county home rule proposal adopted by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, stating it would usurp the "traditional" right of the people to determine their own form of self-government locally.

★ ★ ★

The group, known as Civic Research, Inc., made it clear yesterday it was not opposed to home rule for Oakland County. But it takes exception to the proposed manner of drawing up a home rule charter.

The board of supervisors would be able to make amendments to the charter later without submitting these to any public vote, the council said.

As adopted, the proposal would authorize the board of supervisors to draft a proposed charter—which would be to county government what a constitution is to the state—and then submit it to a vote of the people.

GROUP'S PROTEST

"This violates an almost universally accepted principle that the basic structure of a charter should come from the people who traditionally elect a charter commission to draw up the fundamental law . . ," the Civic Research people stated in a letter that arrived, at county corporation counsel Norman R. Barnard's office yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Barnard noted that the board made itself responsible for drafting a proposed charter when it adopted the proposal seeking a provision in a new state constitution that would permit county home rule.

However, he explained that if the constitutional convention decides to include such a provision, the board of supervisors would then ask the local voters if they approved home rule for Oakland County and at the same time offer a general plan on the ballot for voters to decide on.

Once a general plan is approved, then the board could frame a county home rule charter for subsequent approval or disapproval of the voters, he said.

Board of Supervisors Chairman Delos Hamlin said that the framing of a proposed charter could be made the responsibility of a special committee appointed by the board, drawing members that represent varied public interests.

Barnard added that it was not the intent of the home rule proposal to enable the board of supervisors to amend a charter, once adopted, without voters' approval.

'HAVE TO BE CHANGED'

"If that is the way it is interpreted by the con-con local government committee, then it will have to be changed," he said.

Hamlin, Barnard and Berkley Supervisor John G. Semann, chairman of the board's legislative committee, are to present the home rule proposal to the con-con committee in Lansing tomorrow.

Following is the text of the proposal:

"The governing body of any county by a ⅔ majority vote of the membership shall have power and authority to frame, adopt and amend a county charter. The legislature shall provide by general law the procedures necessary and incident thereto. No county charter shall be framed or adopted until approval therefor is granted prior thereto by a 60 per cent majority vote of county electors on the question.

"Notwithstanding any other provisions of the constitution respecting the form of county government or elected county officers, each county charter shall provide the form of government for the county and shall determine the question of the election or appointment and the manner thereof, of all county charter officers:

"Provided, that each county charter shall comply with constitutional provisions respecting judges of courts of record and with legislative enactments pursuant to the constitution; and further provided, that each county charter shall provide for the initiative, the referendum, and the recall, and shall subject the levy and collection of taxes to constitutional limitations with respect thereto.

"Each county charter shall provide for the exercise by the county and its charter officers of all powers, duties, and functions with respect to the administration and execution of general state services and functions by the county and its officers acting as an instrumentality, agency or arm of state government, as now or hereafter imposed by general law.

★ ★ ★

"Any county which does not frame and adopt a county charter under the provisions of this section shall continue to be governed as otherwise provided by the constitution, by general law or local act."

Waiting Line for Students

EAST LANSING (AP) — There is a waiting list of Lansing-area families willing to host foreign students at Michigan State University over the Christmas holidays. So far, a committee reported, 224 foreign students have been assigned to host families in the Lansing area. Another 43 families wanted to entertain students but their requests could not be filled.

Ginn Must Quit Dems for Post in Southfield

SOUTHFIELD — James M. Ginn will have to resign as Oakland County Democratic chairman if he accepts the post of Southfield city attorney.

The Southfield City Council agreed last night to hire the 33-year-old Ginn, if he would divest himself of all political affiliation within 30 days.

Ginn, county chairman since August of 1960, said he hadn't read the council's resolution and wouldn't decide whether to relinquish his political post until he does.

His term of office would start Jan. 1.

In addition to appointing Ginn, Mayor S. James Clarkson also gave Gerald Easlick his job back as city assessor even though Clarkson has repeatedly claimed that Easlick was "incapable" of handling the duties of the post.

The council was not 100 per cent behind the mayor in the two appointments.

In the case of Ginn, Councilman John J. Hollywood and O. David Edwards turned the appointment down. Hollywood pointed out that according to the charter any post held by any member of city government must be nonpartisan.

'NOT THE MAN'

Hollywood said he felt Ginn, with his political background, was not the man to hold the job of city attorney which is the highest paid position in the city.

Ginn is to receive $15,000 a year at the rate of $1,250 a month in advance with additional compensation.

Edwards was the only dissenting vote in the appointment of Easlick. He demanded to know "when all of this was cooked up."

Councilmen Alex Perinoff told Edwards that if he took time to attend Saturday's meetings he would know what was going on.

Ginn, who also is attorney for Franklin Village, must according to the contract, drawn up by Perinoff, an attorney, relinquish his post there and devote his time exclusively to Southfield.

WAS EXPECTED

The appointment of Ginn had been expected with the resignation yesterday of City Atty. James C. Allen. Allen held the post for almost four years.

His resignation becomes effective Dec. 31.

★ ★ ★

Allen said he was just carrying out his intention he first stated last spring when he said he would quit after the city election.

The council, in another action, scheduled a public hearing Jan. 17 on the respreading of assessment rolls found in error recently.

The hearing will be held at Southfield No. 10 School or at Lederle Elementary School, depending on the interest shown in the notices that will be sent to property owners involved.

Some 39 assessment district's total project cost, determined by former City Administrator Robert J. McNutt, have been discovered during an audit to be in many cases underestimated, resulting in a loss to the city.

NEWS OF THE AREA

At Farmington Board Meeting

Agents Smash Stills in Springfield Area

Federal Treasury agents and Pontiac state police today smashed illegal moonshine stills and arrested four persons in a raid on a Springfield Township home.

State police said they found about 16 gallons of moonshine and a homemade, wood-burning still capable of producing from 35 to 40 gallons of illegal liquor per week.

Charged with operating an illegal still were the owner of the home at 12955 Schindler Road, Joseph Nickson, 58; his wife Clara, 49; William Lacey, 34; and George A. James, 52. All gave the Schindler Road address as their residence.

All but Mrs. Nickson were to be arraigned today in Federal Court in Detroit. Mrs. Nickson was not taken into custody, but she will be arraigned later, state police said.

Woman Cashier Admits Embezzling $185,000

HILLSIDE, N.J. (AP)—A woman cashier of a loan company who has admitted embezzling about $185,000 says she spent the money foolishly and doesn't have a penny left.

Miss Theresa Barrasso, 29, of Belleville, an $82.50-per-week employe of the Hillside Loan Co., told police Monday she had taken from $200 to $1,000 weekly from loan collections during the past five years.

Moms Petition for School Bus

By JIM LONG

FARMINGTON — A sympathetic but unrelenting Farmington school board listened last night to a group of mothers protest the lack of school bus service.

At the end of the one-sided, hour-and-a-half discussion, the board again agreed to review the situation involving 39 children at the Isaac Bond Elementary School, but indicated there would be no change in the present school bus policy.

The board tabled the matter for reconsideration at its Jan. 8 meeting.

About 10 of the mothers who had kept their children home three days during the last week in November attended the meeting last night to file a formal complaint.

A TRAFFIC HAZARD

The parents, all of whom live in the Orchard Lake-13 Mile road area, claim there is a traffic hazard for the youngsters at the main intersection.

★ ★ ★

Clifford, however, said that traffic situation in the area has been investigated three times in the last year and a half by school board members and their consensus shows that traffic on Greening Street, the major walking route for children in the area, did not seem heavy enough to reschedule bus service down the gravel road.

The mothers, led by Mrs. Frank Sanders of 28530 Greening St. and her next door neighbor, Mrs. Albert Brown, told the board it "wasn't fair" to make a decision since the board members had only checked the condition on several occasions, whereas the parents are confronted with the problem daily.

One board member, Mrs. Wendell Brown, did admit that during her on-the-spot check of the area near the school, she did discover that children on the way to classes were faced with a problem when they got to an entrance-exit drive of a supermarket across from the school.

She said that cars going in and out of the drive made walking there hazardous for children.

The parents asked that if the school board only rescheduled two more stops for buses when traveling south on Orchard Lake Road the problem would be solved since it would keep the children from walking along narrow Greening Street.

A petition with 36 signatures of residents not directly affected by the problem but still concerned was presented to the board.

Troy Commission Urges Aide for CD Director

TROY — In an attempt to straighten out the tangle of civil defense records and rosters, the City Commission last night requested Mayor Robert J. Huber to appoint Eugene Reilly as administrative assistant to CD Director Clarence F. Long.

★ ★ ★

Reilly, who lives at 6081 Glyndenbourne Road, will be responsible to Long for keeping adequate records of civil defense activities and personnel.

Reilly is a retired fire chief from Detroit and has had civil defense experience, Huber said.

★ ★ ★

After defeating a motion to replace Long as director with city manager David E. Firestone, the commission settled on Reilly's appointment.

LONG UNDER FIRE

In recent months, Long has been under fire from members of the commission for allegedly failing to keep adequate or accurate records of CD training and for moves the mayor has described as beyond the director's authority.

Reilly's appointment will take effect when Huber submits it in writing to the commission.

The commission awarded the contract for a 4-inch construction pump to the Michigan Tractor & Machine Co., of Detroit for their bid of $573 for a Marlow pump. The equipment will be used to keep excavations dry.

Also awarded last night was a contract for the water main connection at 15-Mile Road and Dequindre to the Yeager-Paulick Co. of Madison Heights. The firm's low bid for the connection to the Detroit water main was $15,137.

The commission set the date for its next regular meeting for Dec. 26, as the scheduled date would have been Christmas Day.

Waterford Twp. Board Tables Most Business

Most of the business on last night's Waterford Township Board agenda was tabled for further study.

The possibility of the township having a revised used car lot ordinance was tabled.

Although the board discussed endowments for the township cemetery, no definite action was taken.

The project of acquiring five new mobile two-way radios also was tabled for the Jan. 8 meeting.

★ ★ ★

Several residents from the Kempf Street area were present urging the township board to proceed with establishing a special assessment district for blacktopping their street. Estimated cost of the project is $25,000.

RESIDENTS PROTEST

A group of Hospital Road residents, headed by Alfred Means, again were present protesting the acquiring of 27 feet of their property to the Oakland County Road Commission.

Some 10 years ago, the township was partially divided into supervisor plats for easier assessing. Before the plats could be approved by the Planning Commission, they had to be OK'd by the Oakland County Road Commission.

The only possible way for this to come into being was for the township roads to be widened.

Now, residents living on Hospital Road between Elizabeth Lake and Cooley Lake roads have one description of their land and the Register of Deeds has another.

Attorney Mandel was authorized by the board to contact the auditor general and try to settle the controversy without court action. The same condition exists all over the township, according to Clerk James E. Seeterlin.

Benson Claims Dems Soft on Communists

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson says the Kennedy administration is "very weak and very soft in dealing with the Communist threat."

The Utah Republican, speaking at the Project Alert seminar on anticommunism Monday night said the Jenner Committee wared in 1953 that communism had penetrated all levels of U.S. government.

"Eight years have passed since that warning was given but the American people have not yet insisted upon the housecleaning which is so long overdue," he said.

The Jenner committee to which Benson referred was the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, headed then by Sen. William E. Jenner, R.-Ind.

Reject Bond Issue for School Building

MADISON HEIGHTS — Voters in the Madison Heights School District yesterday rejected a bond issue for new construction and a seven-mill operating tax.

The proposed $1.3-million bond issue, which would have been used to finance construction of 40 elementary classrooms and a 10-room high school addition, was turned down with a vote of 628 to 534.

The millage proposal was defeated 622 to 513.

Today, voters in the Lamphere School District of Madison Heights will decide the proposed continuation of five operating mills and the addition of another five mills.

Again Castro Warns of Cuba's Power

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro predicted again Monday night that any force attempting to invade Cuba would be smashed promptly.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban prime minister addressed a group of 8,000 peasant girls who had completed a six-month dressmaking course.

★ ★ ★

He made no comment on the resolution by the Panama National Assembly urging a break in diplomatic relations with Cuba. Nor did he mention an incident Monday in which Cuban militiamen opened fire on a group of persons trying to enter the grounds of Ecuador's embassy here. Three persons were reported killed and four wounded. Foreign Minister Francisco Acosta Yepez of Ecuador said the victims were Cubans seeking asylum in the embassy.

Chevalier Makes Plans for Partial Retirement

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Maurice Chevalier, at 73, and in what he calls "my autumn years"—is going to retire—but only from the stage.

WILSON

"I can improve a lot on TV and the screen and maybe on records, but I've done as good as I can on the stage," he just told me. "I've done 62 years on the stage—so I'm no quitter."

Chevalier revealed his policy of "being different" in an effort "to be better" at an El Morocco party heralding the Feb. 11 NBC TV show, "The Broadway or Lerner and Loewe," in which he'll star.

A couple of big movies each year, a few big TV shows, will satisfy him, and he'll refuse offers from all over the world to do his one-man stage show (he did the last one in San Francisco in 1960).

"I see," I said. "You're afraid of . . ." (I was probably going to say something about age.)

Chevalier, the gay boulevardier, drew himself up, tilted his chin and—figuretively if not actually — his straw hat. "I am afraid of NOTHING!" he announced proudly. "I'm trying to be intelligent. I'm always thinking of Gene Tunney, who was the world's champion and retired. I'm just trying to imitate Gene Tunney!"

Romney Asks Help of His CFM Group

DETROIT (AP) — The chairman of Citizens For Michigan, organized as a nonpartisan group, has asked its board of directors to discuss his possible partisan gubernatorial candidacy. He is George Romney, president of American Motors Corp.

Romney told CFM board members in a letter he would like to have the benefit of their wisdom before making a decision on whether he will become a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

He urged directors to attend a regular board meeting scheduled at 10 a.m. Saturday at the University of Michigan Dearborn Center.

★ ★ ★

Romney announced two weeks ago he was considering entering the race for governor on the Republican ticket. He said he would make a final decision by Feb. 10, several days after the annual meeting of his auto company's shareholders.

Court Drops Murder Charge

Prosecutor Says Laws Different Now in Case of Cecil Edgil

A murder charge against a 37-year-old Royal Oak man was dropped in Circuit Court yesterday.

Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he couldn't prove beyond a reasonable doubt that it wasn't "an irresistible impulse" that drove Cecil Edgil, 37, to beat a barbership porter to death in April 1956 with a baseball bat.

Edgil, who was ruled insane by three psychiatrists after the killing of Lenver Norris, 51, was to be released from the county jail today, Taylor said.

Edgil spent more than five years in the Ionia State Hospital.

"To bring this case to court, considering the changes in the law which have taken place since 1956, involving not only the question whether the man knew right from wrong, but also the question of irresistible impulse, would probably be nothing more than an added expense to the county," Taylor said.

"It would also be difficult to ask a jury to return a verdict beyond a reasonable doubt," he told Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Judge Adams signed the order dismissing the first-degree murder warrant against Edgil.

Urges Halaby Be Cited in Plane Accident

WASHINGTON (AP)—An inspector for the Federal Aviation Agency has recommended that his chief, FAA Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby, be cited for careless operation of a plane.

Halaby was at the controls of the agency's new million-dollar Gruman Gulfstream transport and was taxing it toward a take-off slot at Washington's National Airport Nov. 9 when the plane brushed the wingtip of a parked United Airlines Viscount which was waiting permission to take off.

No one was injured but the collision shattered a running light on the FAA Gulfstream and damaged the Viscount's wingtip. The United flight was delayed about an hour.

At the time, Halaby was leaving for Richmond, Va., to direct the investigation of the Imperial Airlines crash there.

Taylor Picks New Assistant

Montague R. Hunt, 34, Will Take Position of Anthony Renne

Prosecutor George F. Taylor today announced the appointment of Montague R. Hunt as a new assistant prosecutor, effective Jan. 1.

He previously spent nine years as a school teacher in Clawson, Holly and near Traverse City.

★ ★ ★

The father of three children received his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan and his law degree from the Wayne State University Law School.

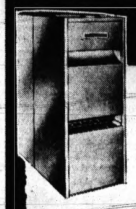

Since November of 1960 Hunt has been an attorney with the adoption department of the Oakland County Probate and Juvenile Courts.

Taylor said Hunt, 34, of 1405 Northway St., Ferndale, will succeed Anthony Renne who resigned last week because of "inadequate" pay.

He will receive $6,500 a year.

DeBusschere Sets Mark in U-D Triumph

Munson Scores 23

DETROIT—Harrison Munson finally came into his own for the University of Detroit Monday night.

The 6-3 junior forward from Pontiac dropped in 23 points, his highest single game output for the Titans, as U-D dumped Xavier, 88-73.

Dave DeBusschere set a new career scoring record and contributed 35 points for Titans who had to stage a second half rally to win.

The game was witnessed by 4,639 spectators in the U-D Memorial Building.

DeBusschere's final field goal, the last of the game and his 13th, gave him a University of Detroit career total of 593. The old career field goal record of 583 was set in 1955-57 by Bill Ebben.

For the season, Detroit now is 4-1; Xavier 2-2.

The Ohio Musketeers started with a rush, and looked in the first eleven minutes that they might make a runaway of it. They led 10-2 at one point, 14-6 at another, and were ahead 41-38 at halftime.

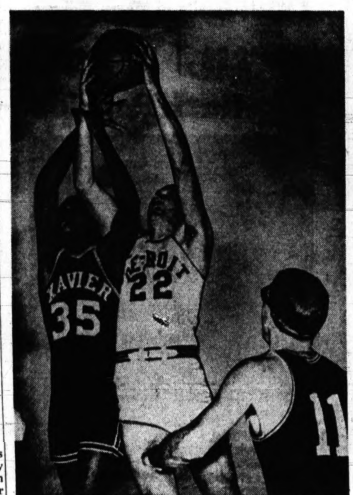

But Detroit, with DeBusschere and Munson, former Pontiac Central star, leading the way, banged in 62 per cent of their second-half shots and won going away.

Xavier hit an average of only 40 per cent of its shots from the floor, compared with a 52 over-all percentage for Detroit.

DeBusschere put the Titans ahead to stay, 45-45, three minutes after the final half got under way.

BIG NIGHT — Harrison Munson, former Pontiac Central star, scored 23 points Monday night to help University of Detroit down Xavier.

MICHIGAN WINS

ANN ARBOR (AP) — John Oosterbaan, a 6-5 transfer student playing his first season at Michigan, led the Wolverines out of a struggling first half wilderness to a 74-63 victory over Denver last night.

Oosterbaan paced the Wolverines with 27 points on 12 baskets and three free throws. His three field goal splurge just before the half closed Michigan to a one-point deficit at 32-31.

The Big Ten team's Tom Cole tied it at 32-all with 20 seconds gone in the half and Michigan never again trailed.

PALMER HIGH

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — Ferris Institute whipped Central Michigan 59-47 last night and hung up its third straight victory in as many basketball encounters this season. Central's record now is 1-3.

Ferris' Toy Palmer, of Ferndale, scored 21 points and Bernard Kilpatrick got 14. Central's Ken Van Dyke got 16 and Bob Cornelius 11.

Ferris will be idle until Dec. 28-29 when it competes in Flint's Christmas tournament.

Mahovlich Ties Howe in Points

Bathgate and Provost Continue 1-2 in NHL Points

MONTREAL (AP)—Big Frank Mahovlich of the Toronto Maple Leafs moved into the upper bracket of the National Hockey League individual scoring race last week while the leaders were being stifled for the second week in a row.

The Leafs' 23-year-old left winger pinked up six points—one goal and five assists—in three games and moved into a fourth-place tie with Detroit's Gordie Howe. Each has 28 points on 12 goals and 16 assists, official statistics revealed today.

Mahovlich, third in last season's scoring race, was in 12th place a week ago.

Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers still is on top with 37 points on 11 goals and 26 assists. Bathgate got only one goal and one assist in three games but widened his lead over runner-up Claude Provost of Montreal to five points. Provost, with 17 goals and 15 assists, was shut out in three games last week.

Ailing Johnny Bower of Toronto held on to his lead in the race for the Vezina Trophy—awarded to the goalie who plays the most games for the team that allows the fewest goals.

Skorich Claims Films Show TD Clincher Illegal

Says Officials Missed Two Big Penalties on New York

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Nick Skorich of the Philadelphia Eagles says game films show the final touchdown by the New York Giants which beat the Eagles 28-24 last Sunday should have been ruled incomplete because Del Shofner "didn't come down with both feet in bounds."

★ ★ ★

Skorich and his staff Monday viewed the game Sunday which assured the Giants of a tie for the championship of the Eastern Conference of the National Football League. The Giants need only to beat Cleveland to gain the title.

ONE FOOT IN

Referring to the third-down, 11-yard touchdown pass from Charlie Conerly to Shofner which climaxed a 61-yard drive Skorich said:

"Shofner jumped for the ball and came down with his left foot in bounds and his right foot out of bounds. The pictures clearly show that he didn't come down with both feet in bounds. It shouldn't have been a touchdown."

★ ★ ★

Skorich said that if the officials had seen it that way, the Giants would almost certainly have been forced to settle for a field goal "and it would have been a 24-24 tie."

At the same time, Skorich said, the camera failed to catch the action on two key penalties which the Eagles contested.

PENALTY HURT

One of the penalties involved offensive interference charged to Tommy McDonald which nullified a pass completion to the Giants' 2-yard line. The second involved the roughing-the-kicker charge against Leo Sugar, which, instead of giving the Eagles possession on their own 41 allowed the Giants to retain control on their 39 and march to the final TD.

★ ★ ★

Sugar and the Eagles had claimed that Giants' punter Don Chandler put on an act. Nocera said, "Chandler actually ran into me."

★ ★ ★

In the first case the cameraman followed the long pass. In the second instance he followed the long punt. As far as the infractions were concerned the films proved nothing.

Sleep Difficult for Davis

Top Pro Choice Gets Called Day and Night

Syracuse Team Faces Miami Eleven Saturday in Liberty Bowl

★ ★ ★

Davis, an All-America halfback and scoring leader of the Syracuse team, has missed several practices in order to receive the trophy and other honors.

"They call him at all hours of the day or night," Schwartzwalder said. The calls presumably include pro football offers, since Davis was a first-round draft choice by both pro leagues.

"I hope they let him alone in Philadelphia before the game," Schwartzwalder said.

★ ★ ★

Davis will be Schwartzwalder's main weapon against the passing of Miami's George Mira and the Hurricanes' rugged interior line in the game Saturday.

But Syracuse also has an aerial attack of its own, featuring the tosses of Dave Sarette to two tall ends, 6-2 John Mackey and 6-3 Walt Sweeney, and to Davis.

Miami is a "well coached ball club and as tough as any we've met this year," Schwartzwalder said.

★ ★ ★

Both teams have 7-3 records for the season. Miami lost three games while Mira, a sensational sophomore quarterback, was out with injuries. Syracuse lost to Penn State, Maryland and Notre Dame in the controversial field-goal game.

Turns Down 'Plenty' To Sign With Bears

CHICAGO (AP)—"There was a knock on my hotel room door around midnight, I opened it and a guy came in and pulled out his billfold. I saw $1,000 on top of a wad. It was the most money I ever saw in my life. He said to sign and it was mine, I didn't."

★ ★ ★

Clyde Brock of Utah State, a 6-foot-6-inch, 280-pound tackle, says this bit of intrigue happened to him last Friday night in New York.

Brock said a "small fellow called Ray (Ray) Geraci, as it turned out, a talent scout of the Houston Oilers) entered my room."

RELATES INCIDENT

This is what Ray did, according to Brock, a B major in criminology at Utah State.

"He came in and opened his wallet. I saw a wad, and I think a $1,000 bill was on top. He said: 'Sign with the Oilers and all this is yours.' I told him to get out. I wanted to play in the National Football League. He left. There was no pressure. No contract. Just money. Never saw so much.

He did tell me there might be legal steps if I didn't sign. But the NFL had said the same thing."

★ ★ ★

Brock, in a news conference called by the Bears, said he signed a contract at an undisclosed sum with George Halas' of the NFL club Monday.

Brock denied he signed with the Bears last week. His coach, John Ralston, had his doubts. He withdrew him from Saturday's Gotham Bowl game in New York, which Baylor won 24-9.

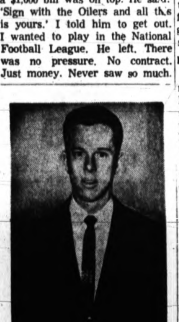

★ ★ ★

Brock said: "Fifteen minutes before the game—and I was fully dressed and ready to play—Coach Ralston told me in the locker room that he had heard I had signed with the Bears and, therefore, was ineligible to play in the game. I told him I hadn't signed, but he said he didn't want to take any chance of having to forfeit the game by using an ineligible player and that I had better stay out. I did.

HAD AGREED

"I had made a verbal commitment to sign with the Bears to Fido Murphy, whom I had known since a kid. I always knew I wanted to play in the National Football League and, although I was willing to listen to offers of the American Football League, I was surprised at their approach of knocking on my door and opening up a billfold.

"But I didn't sign until after the Gotham Bowl."

Baylor Scores 52 in Triumph

By The Associated Press

Hey, fellas. With all of this talk about the scoring feats of Wilt Chamberlain, don't forget about Elgin Baylor. He's doing a mighty fair job on his own.

Monday night, for instance, he scored 52 points as his Los Angeles Lakers bombed St. Louis 132-119 in a National Basketball Association Western Division game. And in the past six games he's scored exactly 300 points for a not to be pooh-poohed 50-points per game average.

★ ★ ★

But you don't measure Baylor's effectiveness in scoring figures alone. He's sparked his team to a seven-game winning streak, a 22-7 record and a 5½ game edge in the Western Division.

Cincinnati, in second place in the West, didn't lose any ground Monday night as the Big O, Oscar Robertson, scored 32 points, had 20 assists and 15 rebounds in leading the Royals to a 133-117 victory over the Chicago Packers. There was no other NBA action.

LA Rams Revolting Against Back Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Those disgusted fans who said the Los Angeles Rams are revolting were right—on two counts.

Everybody knew about the Rams' revolting record—4 victories in 13 National Football League games. Now it develops the club has some players rebelling against backfield coach Hampton Pool and, in some cases, against each other.

Writers close to the club say at least a couple of players want to be traded unless head coach Bob Waterfield gets rid of Pool—who was fired as head coach of the Rams in 1954.

★ ★ ★

These players think Pool has, in effect, taken over as head man and Waterfield is merely a figurehead. They complain further that Pool is a martinet and the offense he teaches is antiquated.

Tackle Frank Varrichione and fullback Joe Marconi are among those who think Waterfield has depended too much on Pool.

Halfback Jo Arnett is among those who have spoken out against certain members of the team.

"More guys are unhappy than just a few," Arnett said Monday. "We need to get rid of about 10 ballplayers on this club who are not NFL players. I want to play with guys who give their all every week.

"Everybody wants to win. But there are guys who give 100 per cent to win and others who coast and hope they win."

Waterfield had this to say about the criticism of Pool:

"I do not plan any staff changes at present. This is a subject you have to think about for some time. You can't decide at once."

Pool had no comment.

Bearcats Edge Drake by One Point

Coach Almost Beats Own Cagers

By The Associated Press

An exuberant coach whose sideline enthusiasm has helped fire his team to the nation's longest college basketball winning streak almost brought the string to an end Monday night by his sideline fervor.

★ ★ ★

Cincinnati's Ed Jucker cost his Bearcats two points and it turned out they almost made the difference. It took a brilliant display of defense and shooting in the closing minutes to bring the Bearcats a 60-59 triumph over Drake for their 26th straight victory.

Cincinnati, currently ranked second nationally and the defending NCAA champion, was behind 28-27 at the half. The one point deficit stemmed from a technical foul called on Jucker for an over-enthusiastic protest of an official's decision. Dave Reed had cashed it in.

MOVED AHEAD

Drake swept ahead by ten, 52-42, with five minutes left. Cincinnati cut the margin with a basket then another technical was called on Jucker. Again Drake converted, this one by Billy Hahn with 4:09 left.

But the fiery, quick-handed Bearcats then staged their whirlwind finish, outscoring the Bulldogs 16-6 down the stretch. In that drive, Larry Shingleton made two interceptions while Tony Yates and Paul Hogue made one apiece. And all four steals resulted in baskets. Hogue dumped in another shot with 41 seconds remaining for a 58-57 lead, and clinched it with two free throws at the 11-second mark.

P.S. Drake coach Maurice John also was called on a technical, but Ron Bonham missed on the foul try for the Bearcats.

Sixth-ranked Purdue was upended by Wichita 71-68, while seventh-ranked Duke smothered Clemson 89-66 in an Atlantic Coast Conference rout.

Two outside gunners, 5-10 Ernie Moore and 5-11 Lanny Vaneman, did the job against Purdue by clicking on 10 of 16 shots from the field. All-America Terry Dischinger totaled 36 points for the losing Boilermakers.

FOURTH WIN

Duke's Blue Devils won their fourth in a row, pulling away from Clemson early and building up a 16-point lead by halftime. Art Heyman was high for Duke with 26 points.

Tom Bolyard's scoring spurt in the closing minutes carried Indiana over North Carolina 76-70. Ernie Wilhoit broke the final tie in the close game with a pair of free throws for the Hoosiers, then Bolyard put it away with six more points.

Kentucky overcame a full court press with some fancy shooting and got a 30-point performance out of sophomore star Cotton Nash in an 86-77 decision over St. Louis.

Crane Skaters Win

The Cranbrook hockey team won its 2nd straight since an opening setback by nipping Lakeview 6-5 featuring a hat trick by John Billesdon. Paul Davock, Tom Cooper and Dave Schultz also scored. The Cranes blew a 3-0 early lead but took command again later.

Triandos Asks to Be Traded

Gus Seeks Change

BALTIMORE (AP) — Gus Triandos, slugging catcher of the Baltimore Orioles, said today he wished to be traded to another club before the start of another baseball season.

★ ★ ★

The 31-year-old catcher, an American Leagie all-star selection in 1958 and 1959, said his desire to be dealt off had nothing to do with the Baltimore club, or anyone personally.

"It's just that I feel that a change would be best for all concerned," he said in an interview with sports writer Jim Elliot of the Baltimore Sun.

TELLS BOSS

"I've asked Lee MacPhail, Oriole president) to trade me," Elliot quoted Triandos in today's editions. "If I'm not traded by the inter-league deadline (midnight Friday), I would have to say that I'll be greatly disappointed."

Triandos cited Memorial Stadium, Baltimore's spacious home park with the fences 380 feet away in left and right-center, as one reason for requesting a change.

"My limited abilities are not suited to the stadium and its long fences," Gus said. "I've never liked the park here, and never have felt that it was to my advantage to play here."

POWER HITTER

Triandos also contended the famed Oriole pitching staff, with its flame-throwing youngsters and knuckle-balling veterans, "is the hardest to catch of any I've ever been with."

"You take a beating when you regularly catch pitchers like (Chuck) Estrada, (Steve) Barber, (Hoyt) Wilhelm and (Skinny) Brown," he said. "And yet, you're still expected to have a good year at the plate."

Triandos, obtained in the multi-player trade of 1954 which sent Baltimore pitchers Bob Turley and Don Larsen to the New York Yankees, led the Orioles for five consecutive years in home runs and runs batted in. First baseman Jim Gentile assumed the club lead in both departments the past two seasons.

★ ★ ★

"I've talked to a couple of clubs about Gus," MacPhail said, "but the chances of making a deal involving him are extremely remote. We would have to get back in return a first-string catcher, and there are not too many clubs so fixed to make such a deal."

★ ★ ★

About 10 days ago, MacPhail denied that he had made a deal that would send Triandos and infielder Marv Breeding to the Los Angeles Dodgers in exchange for catcher John Roseboro and infielder Charley Neal.

PNH, Skipper Wrestlers Start Seasons Tonight

The wrestling teams of Pontiac Northern and Waterford open their respective seasons tonight.

Coach Bill Willson's Huskies will debut at home against Royal Oak Dondero.

Waterford will also start out at home. The Skippers will host top rival Kettering. The Captains got under way last week and were victims of a sound trouncing by the PNH reserves.

Dave Hoppman of Iowa State moved the football almost a mile —1,638 yards — to win the individual offense honors among the major college players for 1961. He gained 920 rushing and 718 passing making him the nearest thing to a "one man gang" the college sport has seen in 20 years. He trailed Jerry Gross of Detroit until the latter was injured. Pat McCarthy of Holly Cross was 2nd with 1,509.

★ ★ ★

Gene Leek, Los Angeles Angel 3rd baseman, has been recalled to active military service for up to one year as a reservist. He is the 3rd player to leave LA.

★ ★ ★

Wisconsin passing star Ron Miller has signed with the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL. He finished 3rd in the nation among major colleges in total offense with 1,449 yards.

★ ★ ★

Michigan harness racing fans will have 182 nights to watch the pacers and trotters at four state tracks next year. State racing commissioner Edgar Hayes said yesterday the season would start April 19 and continue through Nov. 17. Hazel Park will get things rolling running 50 nights, Northville goes 42 beginning June 18, Wolverine will operate from Aug. 6 through Oct. 2 and Jackson from Oct. 3 on.

★ ★ ★

Coaches stay in the news. Jim Owens, who steered the Washington Huskies to Rose Bowl victories in 1959 and 1960, had his contract extended five more years. Monday ending talk that he might move to a Southwest school. Nick Nicholson resigned yesterday after six years as head man at Abilene Christian.

Clarkston at Oxford; Cranbrook Tests Brother Rice

PNH Battles Lakers Tonight

Pontiac Northern meets an old nemesis tonight.

The Huskies travel the short distance to Keego Harbor for a non-league game with West Bloomfield. The junior varsity contest is at 6:30.

★ ★ ★

Only a handful of games involving county quintets is slated tonight. Clarkston goes to Oxford Hazel Park plays at Southfield, Berkley travels to Ferndale, South Lyon is at Ypsilanti Lincoln, Warren Lincoln goes to Clawson, Brother Rice entertains Cranbrook and Dearborn Haston is at Country Day.

Area games have Utica opening its season at Romeo, Lapeer playing at Flint Kearsley, Imlay City traveling to Deckerville, East Detroit going to Grosse Pointe and Centerline is at Fitzgerald.

All are non-leaguers.

West Bloomfield usually gives Northern plenty of trouble. Two years ago the Lakers were among the non-league teams to beat PNH. The Huskies won all their Inter-Lakes contests that season.

LOSING CAUSE

Last year West Bloomfield gave a good PNH five trouble before losing.

Both squads are inexperienced this time. The Lakers, however, have been unbeaten in their two games while Northern has a 1-1 record.

Northern's lineup probably will be Dave Shields at center, Larry and Gary Hayward at forwards, Wayne Daniels and Rick Fisher at the guards.

Bill Eliason, Dave Helmreich, Mike Paddy, Dan Greig and Bob Laitinen are the probable starters for West Bloomfield.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston turned in a good performance against heavily favored Northville before losing Friday night. Chuck Funk and Mike Applegate are the big scoring threats for the Wolves.

Oxford, loser of two straight, showed improvement against Waterford Kettering, and if the Wolves are down slightly, coach Duane Cain's team could notch win No. 1.

Ferndale left the Southfield Blue Jays gasping Friday but this shouldn't happen against Hazel Park. The Vikings are rebuilding and must be rated slight underdogs.

Ferndale should take Berkley in stride.

UTICA FAVORED

Romeo will carry a 1-1 mark into its game with Utica. On paper, the Chieftains appear to have too much balance for Romeo, but the advantage of playing two games may help the Bulldogs.

South Lyon hasn't played since Nov. 28 and this layoff could hamper the Yellow Jackets at Ypsilanti. Brother Rice will be playing its first varsity game against Cranbrook. The Cranes are favored.

Clawson is expected to slip past Warren Lincoln and Fitzgerald should handle Centerline. Imlay will be after its third victory without a loss.

Courts Kept Busy Monday

City Five Hits 107 Points

Monday night was a busy one on the city basketball front with six games played in Parks & Recreation leagues and three in the YMCA Senior Men's loop.

Newman AME, Clarkston, First Church of Nazarene, New Hope, North Woodward Heating and 300 Bowl all won Parks contests.

The Newman cagers blasted Newingham 107-55. Five players were in double figures led by Dennis Diehm with 36, Jerry Williams 24 and Bob Trotter 22. Jim McDonald swished 23 in defeat.

Bob Mills led ten Clarkston pointgetters with 15 in a 70-40 rout of CIO. Tom Dabbs scored 15 for the union. Nazarene nipped Beardslee Truck 61-60 in a tight National League affair. Bob Sutton's 24 and Harold Rose with 18 provided the big spark. Gary Acker garnered 19 for Beardslee.

New Hope was a 56-42 conqueror of Paublo's Raiders featuring a 20-point night for Charley Rollins. Mike Marcum tallied 16 in the losing cause.

North Woodward kept holding off rallies and finally edged the Elks, 70-67. Larry Douglas rung up 19 points and Amos Bailey 16 to highlight the victory. At Manley hit 19 for Elks. 300 bombed Buckner Finance, 91-58. It was easy after a 41-21 halftime lead. Felix Brooks canned 20, Rod Treais 18 and Larry Peet 17 to head the pack.

At the "Y" the Blues opened up a 20-5 lead and went on to crush the Reds, 59-37. R. Wells of the Blues and opponent B. Davis each had 22. Perry Park outscored St. Paul Methodist 30-20 with Lovell matching the loser's output. The report on the Eagles-United Brethren game was incomplete.

Lakeland Cagers to Open Defense of Title Tonight

Lakeland Pharmacy will begin defense of its Class A title tonight, at Crary Junior High when it meets Leonard Oil in the opening action of the 1961-62 Waterford Township Recreation Department men's basketball leagues.

The game will begin at 7:15 p.m.

In the Class B lid-lifter tonight, Hoyt Realty takes on Johnson & Anderson at 8:30.

Five teams are entered in the "A" loop, while seven squads will battle it out this winter in "B".

The remainder of the first week's schedule:

Wednesday (at Pierce Jr. High): 6:45 p.m. Nesbitt's vs. Don Nicholie Ins. (B); 8:00, Steve's Market vs. Tim's Barber Shop (A); 9:15, O'Neil Realty vs. Tripp Contractors (B).

Thursday (at Crary): 7:15, Lakeland Pharmacy vs. Spencer Floor Covering (A); 8:30, Hoyt Realty vs. Cliff Miller's team (B).

Spahn ERA Champ of NL Third Time

CINCINNATI (AP) — Warren Spahn of Milwaukee won the National League earned run championship, had the most complete games and was the co-leader in victories and shutouts, the official 1961 pitching records disclosed today.

★ ★ ★

It is the third ERA title for the peerless Braves' left-hander, who yielded 88 earned runs in 263 innings for a 3.01 average. He also finished on top in 1947 and 1953. With 21 complete games, it was also the seventh time he led in that department.

Spahn won 21 games, including four shutouts. These totals were matched by Joey Jay, ace right-hander of the pennant-winning Cincinnati Reds. Spahn lost 13 games and Jay 10.

★ ★ ★

Spahn also extended two records, the major league mark of most times winning 20 or more games by a left-handed pitcher and the National League standard of most shutouts by a southpaw. He now has 12 twenty-game winning seasons and 55 shutouts.

Stock Trading Is Heavy

Blue Chips Push Market Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—Blue chip leadership continued to push a churning stock market higher early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Gains of fractions to about a point predominated among key stocks amid a minority of moderate losers.

★ ★ ★

New highs for American Telephone, General Motors and Standard Oil (New Jersey) continued to give evidence of the solid investment demand which has characterized the market of the past two sessions.

CONFIDENCE BOOSTED

Confidence was bolstered by a government prediction of increased business spending for new plant and equipment, by the rise of weekly steel output to a 19-month high and by the spurt of retail sales in November to a seasonally adjusted record.

Rails lagged behind the parade, trading unchanged to lower for the most part. Big Three motors, steels, oils, coppers, electrical equipments, drugs and utilities made progress.

The ticker tape was late repeatedly in heavy dealings.

NEW ADMISSIONS

A feature was the admission to dealings on the New York Stock Exchange of the Unilever issues, representing one of the largest groups of associated companies in the world. Each opened on 100-share blocks, then Unilever N. V., the Dutch company, sold on 6,000 shares at 52⅞, and Unilever Ltd., the British company, sold on 15,000 shares at 27¼.

★ ★ ★

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange in heavy trading. Occidental Petroleum dropped more than 2 and Steel Parts Co. and Electronic Specialty more than a point. Mead Johnson rose a couple of points in light dealings.

U.S. Bonds Head Down

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. government bond prices fell while corporates were mixed at the start of trading today.

★ ★ ★

Over the counter dealers in treasury securities quoted long bonds off 4-32 and intermediates down 2-32 in light transactions.

Among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange rails trailed off a bit while industrials headed upward. Utilities were uneven. There were practically no changes amounting to a full point or more outside the convertible section. Most issues traded at unchanged prices.

Fractional gainers included: Texas & Pacific Railroad 3⅞s at 68¼, Spiegal 5¼s at 101⅜ at AT&T 5s at 106¼. Off fractions were: Pacific Telephone & Telegraph 4⅝s at 98½, Household finance 4⅝s at 100⅛ and Wabash 4¼s at 69½.

Among convertibles Bethlehem Steel 3¼s added 2 at 145.

New Triumphs to Be Displayed

TR4 to Make Debut in Pontiac Showroom Thursday

A new line of Triumph sports cars will go on display in an equally new setting in Pontiac Thursday at the grand opening of Superior Auto Sales and Service, 550 Oakland Ave.

★ ★ ★

Anthony O. Grimaldi Jr. of 3511 Levee St., Waterford Township, owner of the Standard-Triumph Motor Co. dealership here, said the new Triumph TR-4 will be unveiled at the grand opening.

The TR4 has several major improvements over its companion, the TR3, which Grimaldi says is the top selling imported sports car in the country.

The latest series in the Triumph line has higher horsepower and torque ratings than its predecessor in addition to a wider wheel track of 49 inches and roll-up windows.

★ ★ ★

The car has been restyled, both inside and out, to give it a different appearance than the TR3. All four forward gears in the transmission are now synchromesh.

Grimaldi, who operated a used car dealership in Pontiac for three years before starting his imported car showroom, said service facilities and staff have been increased to handle buyers of new cars.

Superior Auto Sales will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. on opening day and on all Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays in the future.

★ ★ ★

Showroom hours will be from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Fridays.

McCormick Resigns; Exchange Stays Calm

NEW YORK (AP) — Traders on the American Stock Exchange reacted calmly today in the wake of the resignation of its president, Edward T. McCormick.

Prices were mixed with gains and losses on key issues ranging from a few cents a share to around $1.

TRADING ACTIVE

Trading was active with 480,000 shares changing hands in the first hour, compared with 590,000 in the like period Monday.

McCormick, head of the nation's No. 2 stock exchange since 1951, resigned Monday. Stepping out with him was Michael E. Mooney, general counsel.

The exchange, under investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission and a committee of its own members, said only that McCormick and Mooney felt that because of recent publicity it was in the best interests of the exchange that they resign.

Gustave Levy, chairman of the A&E's nine-man investigating committee, commented: "We think the board of governors acted properly in accepting the resignations."

While there had been speculation that McCormick had been under pressure, an SEC spokesman said in Washington: "The SEC was not consulted by the authorities of the exchange with respect to the resignations of Messrs. McCormick and Mooney, nor did it request or otherwise suggest their resignations."

Joseph F. Reilly, chairman of the exchange's board of governors, took over as president pro tem.

The exchange was rocked last May when the SEC suspended a father and son team of specialists, Jerry and Gerard Re, on charges of manipulating stock prices and controlling the flow of securities into the market.

The commission charged that the Res were responsible for illegal sale of $10 million worth of stock. The father and son were arrested and now are free on bond.

The Re case led to an investigation of the ASE by the SEC. The inquiry has been broadened by congressional authorization to embrace all securities markets.

McCormick, 50, was born in Phoenix, Ariz., and later lived in Tucson, Ariz. He earned degrees at the University of Arizona, University of California and Duke University.

He joined the SEC in 1934 as a securities analyst. He became assistant chief accountant, assistant director and in 1949 a commissioner through appointment by President Harry S. Truman.

As the exchange's third paid president, he received $75,000 under a contract that still had three years to go.

Reilly has been a member of the exchange 31 years and was serving his third term as chairman of the board of governors.

'Broach' Promotes Rochester Resident

A Rochester man who began at Detroit Broach and Machine Co. as a tool crib attendant has been named to the Rochester firm's board of directors.

Martin C. Cook started with the company 20 years ago and last held the position of manager of manufacturing. He lives with his wife and three children at 135 Rockdale St.

Among positions held by Cook were those of field service engineer, assistant day superintendent, superintendent and general superintendent.

RUGGIERO COOK

The firm appointed a new chief engineer, Frank J. Ruggiero of Detroit. Ruggiero attended Wayne University and served for nearly 10 years in several Detroit plants before joining Detroit Broach in 1953. He is married and has one daughter. He last was manufacturing supervisor.

Power Failure Occurs at Old County Building

Oakland County government business was disrupted periodically this morning while maintenance men repaired electrical wiring in the old county building at 1 Lafayette St. in Pontiac.

Worn-out wiring and switches were blamed for a power failure in the building that started shortly after 5 p.m. yesterday when the offices were closed for the day. Repairmen said the trouble was taken care of "temporarily at least" when power was returned at 10 a.m.

The telephone switchboard also was knocked out of commission, interfering with calls this morning.

Ford Acquires Philco Today

Exchanges One Share for 4.5 to the Electronic Firm's Shareholders

DETROIT (AP) — Philco Corp. is a subsidiary of the Ford Motor Co. today. The automaker acquired the electronics and appliance manufacturer in a deal involving an estimated $145 million Monday.

★ ★ ★

Ford gave an estimated $100 million worth of Ford stock and assumed $45 million in Philco debts. Stockholders get one Ford share for each four and a half Philco shares they held.

Ford closed at 114½ and Philco at 25¼ on the New York Stock Exchange Monday. Ford was down $1 from its top; Philco down 25 cents.

The acquisition of Philco was Ford's second of the year in the automotive supplier field. Earlier Ford acquired the trade name "Autolite" and a major portion of the battery and sparkplug manufacturing facilities of Electric Autolite Co. in Toledo.

★ ★ ★

Some 80 per cent of Philco's current production is in electronics, but it also manufactures radios, television sets, refrigerators, freezers, washers and dryers.

Irving A. Duffy, 85 Manor Road, Birmingham, a member of the Ford board of directors and vice president-general products, became chairman of the Philco board.

Charles E. Beck, director of Ford's business planning office, was named Philco president.

Appliance-Food Plan Draws Ire

Philco Tells of Charges Relying on Groceries; Legality Doubted

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philco Corp. has unveiled some details of a plan whereby a consumer can pay for appliances in part through regular weekly purchases at grocery supermarkets.

Philco calls it an "instant dividend plan." A customer signs, let's say, for a food freezer and agrees to the usual time-payment sales contract with normal finance charges. If he wants to use the "instant dividend plan" he can do so without additional charges.

The monthly payments under the "instant" plan are reduced in relation to the amount of food and other goods purchased at participating stores.

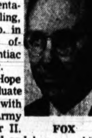

There is a graduated scale under which the member gets a $2.20 credit for $40 worth of food purchases in a month, up to $10 credit for $182 in purchases.

★ ★ ★

The announcement drew immediate fire from a Chicago appliance firm, which said the plan spells financial ruin for appliance dealers and distributors. R. C. Connell, vice president of Eureka Williams Co., Chicago, said he also doubted the legality of the plan and said he had seen instances of food prices being padded in some stores offering it.

MINIMUM TILT—Independent four wheel suspension allows the Pontiac Tempest to take sharp bumps and dips in road surfaces with minimum tilt and sway as illustrated by this engineering demonstration. With wheel raised 6 inches the body remains virtually level due to the car's unique suspension and swing-axle arrangement. Roadability and passenger comfort is further achieved in the Tempest by placing the engine in front and the transmission at the rear to obtain ideal weight distribution.

"WE Can Bury You, Mr. K'

Visit to SAC Headquarters Would Stun Russia's Chief

Editor's Note — This is the last of a series of eight articles on the West's nuclear capability. Bob Considine traveled extensively to four foreign countries and to U.S. bases for a first-hand report.

By BOB CONSIDINE

STRATEGIC AIR COMMAND HQ., Omaha, Neb. — It is a pity security regulations prohibit Gen. Thomas S. Power, realistic-minded commander-in-chief of SAC, Offutt AFB, from inviting Nikita Khrushchev to visit the sights and wonders of this overwhelmingly mighty deterrent force. The Russian dictator could only be stunned and stupefied by what he would be shown, if such a trip were possible.

If Mr. K had accompanied this reporter today he would have seen and heard things bound to give reflective pause to the most arrant bomb-rattler.

General Power has a pair of steel-blue eyes that can look through walls. He had just briefed and conferred with a number of SAC combat crews, and clearly he liked what he had seen.

★ ★ ★

"These crews are men this country can be proud of," he said in his positive way. "They're dedicated men, and I stress the word men.

"We don't have boys anymore. Boys just can't stand the 74 hour work week the crews have been putting in since we went on 50 per cent alert status. That's a damned hard duty week.

"We can take it, though, because we're stabilized now. We're down to the pros."

MOVES WITH TIMES

SAC moves with the times. As the Soviet threat grows and problems are created, SAC meets these challenges with new concepts, weapons and tactics. Here are some of the more striking changes in the past few years of the cold war:

—Gen. Power heads up the Joint Strategic Target Planning Staff. It has pinpointed every major and minor target in the Soviet Union, the satellites and Red China.

The 100-man staff apportions responsibility for retaliatory bombing among the U.S. services and NATO allies.

★ ★ ★

—For the past year SAC has maintained airborne command posts, jet tankers outfitted to serve as headquarters if an enemy H-bomb knocked out the rugged deeply-dug regular HQ here and its alternates elsewhere.

—New training techniques have made virtually every mission a potential retaliation thrust. Efficiency of crews has jumped 400 per cent.

—SAC no longer bases squadrons of bombers overseas. Its new Reflex Program has streamlined and strengthened the advance base posture.

CONTACT ALERT

Rotational B4T's fly into an overseas base from a states-side base, ready to fight on arrival, and for the next two weeks are on constant alert with bombs aboard.

As the solid fuel Minuteman ICBM moves into SAC's inventory it brings with it revolutionary changes. A handful of men, perhaps only two or three, will be able to care for each of these silo'd thermonuclear-tipped missiles. And fire them in 32 seconds.

—In its relentless war on minutes and seconds, SAC has refined the dispersion and take-off procedures of its bomber force to a degree beyond the comprehension of even outstanding airmen of World War II and the Korean conflict. Operation MITO (Minimum Interval Take-off) hurls bombers into the air with the density of a bird flock taking wing.

★ ★ ★

If Mr. K were persona grata around the premises today he would have been taken into the heavily guarded underground command post in which the defense of Western civilization would be directed.

LEAVES IMPRESSION

It is an experience that leaves a deep impression. The ramp that leads to it appears cut through the core of a vast subterranean block of granite. It has its own power plant, own wells, and—in effect—hangs suspended below the earth, to cushion any nuclear blow.

In the high-ceilinged map and chart room closed-circuit color TV cameras cruised about the floor, their lenses trained on the ever-changing information sent to the charts.

Lt. Col. Wesley G. Kille took us in tow, now, and moved to a complex of consoles to demonstrate advances that make SAC more powerful than ever.

★ ★ ★

He picked up a phone, touched a button, and said, "Dropkick to Looking Glass. Report, over."

There was a second or two of static in the loud speakers overhead. Then, loud and clear, "Looking Glass to Dropkick. We are at 33,000 proceeding north about 90 miles from Offutt . . ." Looking Glass was the airborne command post then on duty.

Col. Kille walked a few steps to the phone that Mr. K has heard so much about and never seen. It is the famous "red telephone," the we stood, below the Nebraska plain, most important telephone in the world.

It sits on its cradle on the side of a large console.

SOUNDS 'ALARM'

The colonel lifted the red phone, pushed a red button, and instantly every clustered bulb on the console lighted up. A fluttering beep-beep-beep-beep sound filled the room, just as it was filling every SAC command post in the world.

★

It is the "go to war" sound.

"This is a maintenance test," Kille said into the red phone. "Respond."

In the space of less than five seconds, every light on the console blinked off. An incredibly far-flung complex of missile and manned bomber bases had responded in a 20th of a minute.

He moved us along to the magic panel known as BMEWS, for Ballistic Missile Early Warning System. Its beams, reaching across the top of the world from Alaska to Greenland, extended into the North American Air Defense Command and into the room in which we stood, below the Nebraska plain.

The "chart" shows the North Atlantic continent from pole to Mexico.

★ ★ ★

The images of planes appeared superimposed on the picture. Any Soviet ICBM that would rise from the Russian land mass would be directed by BMEWS in a matter of seconds, and it would be flashed into the vortex of calculators at SAC and show its face on this screen. Retaliation would commence immediately.

COULD BE ON WAY

Mr. K would have been interested to have it confirmed to him today that General Power can order his entire manned bomber force into the air and head it for its predetermined targets while the President of the United States, the secretary of defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff are deliberating whether to go to war.

The bombers would fly to designated points on the way to their targets. If no "go" signal was then flashed to a bomber, it would turn back.

If the "go" did come, it would be flashed in the form of a code divided into three parts. Three members of the crew would then open small sealed envelopes which they carry on all simulated missions and compare their part of the code to that which was flashed.

★ ★ ★

All of which is just a part of the elaborate system which makes virtually impossible any unilateral bombardment by a single crew or missile launching group. Only the Congress can declare war, and the war it might declare would commit only American arms.

★ ★ ★

Our allies could join or refrain, as their governments saw fit. But it seems incomprehensible that they could avoid engagement in any war such as Mr. K boasts he can wage and which the U.S. could respond to with such holocaustic effect.

GOLDBERG HONORED — Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg (center) holds an oil lamp, described as being 1,800 years old, presented to him at the United Jewish Appeal's annual award dinner in New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Monday night. Presenting the lamp is Joseph Meyerhoff of Baltimore, general chairman of the UJA. At right, Leonard Ratner of Cleveland, who also was honored, holds modern silver menorah which was presented to him. Goldberg was cited for his public service; Ratner for his leadership.

'Black Nativity' Like Gold

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic

NEW YORK — That joyous sound is "Black Nativity."

The place is the 41st Street Theater.

The excitement is golden and contagious.

★ ★ ★

With song and dance, the production which opened Monday night is retelling the story of Christmas. Poet Langston Hughes adds fervent phrases of ethnic idiom to the gospel narrative. The all-Negro cast responds with a blend of simple rapture and rhythmic radiance.

Two small choral groups dominate—Marjorie Williams and the Stars of Faith, and Professor Alex Bradford's singers. Every chorister gets a chance to shine alone briefly, but the two leaders are especially notable in the tumbling medley of spirituals, traditional carols and new melodies.

Miss Williams, small and stout, soars with effortless abandon. Bradford, a minister of the Greater Abyssinian Church in Newark, N. J., is robust and inventive.

LIKE REVIVAL MEETING

Four songs of the 27 on the program are by Bradford, with "Said I Wasn't Gonna Tell Nobody" the most enthusiastically cheered by an audience that exhibited revival meeting fervor.

In the first half of the program, several simply choreographed dances are mixed with word and music in enacting the humble manger birth. The latter half, subtitled "The Word Is Spread" takes place in a church of today where belief is happy and clear.

The dance sectors are performed by Clive Thompson, Cleo Quitman, Henrietta Waddy and Carl Ford. Howard Sanders serves as the narrator, and Princess Stewart is touching in two soprano solos.

The setting and the mood of "Black Nativity" are unaffected and unadorned.

The result, is a supertreat for holiday theatergoers. "Black Nativity" is scheduled for four weeks only. It could become an annual splendor.

Santa and the Flying Shoes

Copyright 1961

By LUCRECE BEALE (AP)

SYNOPSIS: King Ferdinand of Polydora writes a letter to Santa Claus asking finances to help in ridding his kingdom of the monstrous Ipswitch that has been terrorizing the people. But the Minister of Science tears the letter up!

CHAPTER EIGHT

While all was confusion and terror in Ferdinand's Kingdom of Polydora, things were quite different in far away Santa Land.

There, on a snowy afternoon, Santa Claus sat in his favorite rocking chair beside a glowing fire and dozed. He was dreaming he was at a party with the Queen of Fairies and she had just accepted his invitation to waltz. At this point, Mrs. Santa burst into the room and shook him by the shoulder.

"A fine thing!" she exclaimed. "Here you sit dozing away when there is such a short time until Christmas and goodness knows how much work there is to be done!"

Santa shook his head vigorously. "I wasn't sleeping, my dear. I was thinking."

"Thinking what?" asked Mrs. Santa suspiciously.

"Thinking of a new toy," said Santa.

"Oh, bosh! You were sleeping and your snores were so loud I was afraid you would cause my cake to fall."

"Cake?" said Santa licking his lips. "What kind of cake, my dear?"

"Pineapple Upside Down Cake," said Mrs. Santa. "And you'll not have a bit unless you wake up and get to work."

"But I think best when I'm asleep," said Santa. "In fact, some of my best toys have come from dreams. The perpetually spinning top, for instance, came after I dreamed I was on a merry-go-round and couldn't get off. And once I dreamed I was falling through space and when I woke I made that umbrella parachute that was so popular two years ago."

"Well," said Mrs. Santa, "What toy were you dreaming of this time?"

Santa remembered the beautiful fairy queen he had been about to dance with. "Well — uh —" he faltered, puffing furiously at his pipe, "Well —"

There was a knock at the front door and Santa, rescued in the nick of time, jumped to open it. Patrick Tweedleknees, the oldest dwarf in Santa Land, entered, dragging behind him a tiny red-headed fairy who carried a handkerchief-sized bag on his back.

"This creature insists he has to see you," said Tweedleknees crossly. "I've told him he can have five minutes and no more because you are very, very busy."

"Come in," said Santa warmly. "What can I do for you?"

The tiny fairy crossed to the fire, staggering under the weight of the bag on his back.

"I've come from the Kingdom of Polydora where strange things have been going on," he said. "I happen to be the crumb man at the palace there and —"

"Crumb man? What's that?" asked Santa.

"Speak up!" snapped Tweedleknees. "Hurry on with it!"

"I collect the crumbs dropped in the kitchen. That way I feed the fairies in the town," said the little fellow, trying to say all he had to say in one breath. "Well, lately someone else — I don't know who — has been getting the crumbs first and things have been very hard. So last night I decided to look for crumbs in some of the other rooms in the palace because I thought perhaps the King was making sandwiches somewhere else the way he sometimes does — and in one of the offices I didn't find any crumbs but I did find this."

* * *

Breathless with his long speech, the little fellow opened his bag and all the pieces of King Ferdinand's letter fell at Santa's feet.

"A puzzle!" exclaimed Tweedleknees angrily. "You came all the way here to bother Santa with a puzzle?"

* * *

But Santa was on his hands and knees fitting the bits of paper together. When it was all in one piece he read it slowly, and then he read it again and then he got to his feet and said:

"This is a predicament! I shall have to go at once!"

Santa dozed in his favorite rocking chair before a glowing fire.

NOTICE OF SALE OF $3,710,000 PRELIMINARY LOAN NOTES OF CITY OF PONTIAC, MICHIGAN.

Sealed proposals will be received by the above-identified local public body corporate (hereinafter called the "Local Public Agency") at City Hall, No. 6 S. Parke Street in the City of Pontiac, Michigan, until, and publicly opened at one o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on December 21, 1961 for the purchase of $3,710,000 of notes of the Local Public Agency to be known as "Preliminary Loan Notes (Third Series)," being issued to aid in financing its Urban Renewal Project, designated Project No. Mich. R-26. The United States of America, acting by and through the Housing and Home Finance Agency, has agreed to make a loan under Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1450 et seq.), to the Local Public Agency to assist the latter in undertaking and carrying out such Project. By authority of said Act and with the agreement of the Local Public Agency, the said Notes are to be unconditionally secured as to the payment of both principal and interest by the United States of America. The full faith and credit of the United States will be pledged to such payment under an unqualified payment agreement endorsed on each of the Notes. Under said Act, such agreement is required to be construed by all officers of the United States separate and apart from said loan agreement and is incontestable in the hands of a bearer thereof.

The Notes will be dated January 23, 1962, will be payable to bearer on July 27, 1962, will bear interest from their date to their maturity at the rate or rates per annum fixed in the proposal or proposals accepted for the purchase of such Notes, will be issued in such denominations, and both principal and interest thereof will be payable at such incorporated Bank having trust powers or incorporated Trust Company, as the purchaser designates in the proposal. Such Bank or Trust Company must be a member of the Federal Reserve System, or of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and must have an unimpaired capital and surplus of not less than the aggregate principal amount of Notes designated in the proposal or proposals submitted by the purchaser; provided, however, that such unimpaired capital and surplus need not exceed One Million Dollars. The Notes will provide that they are not valid until after such Bank or Trust Company has signed the agreement appearing on each Note, to act as paying agent. The Notes will be transmitted to such Bank or Trust Company for delivery to the purchaser upon receipt and disbursement by such Bank or Trust Company of the purchase price thereof in accordance with instructions from the Local Public Agency. After taking delivery of the Notes, the purchaser shall obtain the signature of such Bank or Trust Company upon the Notes as aforesaid. All fees or charges, if any, of such Bank or Trust Company shall be paid by such purchaser.

Said Notes will be special obligations of the Local Public Agency and will be secured by a requisition agreement between the Local Public Agency and the United States of America under the terms of which agreement the United States of America agrees to lend the Local Public Agency prior to the maturity of said Notes an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest of all said Notes and agrees to cause so much of the proceeds of such loan as shall be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest upon any of said Notes to be deposited at the respective Bank or Trust Company at which said Notes are payable for the benefit of the holder or holders thereof. Under the proceedings authorizing said Notes, the proceeds of such loan payment will be irrevocably pledged first to the payment, at maturity, of the principal of and interest on said Notes.

The validity of the Preliminary Loan Notes and of said requisition agreement will be approved by Messrs. Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip, 800 First National Building, Detroit 26, Michigan, and such attorney's opinion will be furnished to the successful purchaser without charge.

All proposals for the purchase of said Notes shall be submitted in a form approved by the Local Public Agency and shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Local Public Agency, which should be marked on the outside "Proposal for Preliminary Loan Notes." Copies of such form of proposal may be obtained from the Local Public Agency at the address indicated above. Proposals may be submitted subject to completion pursuant to telegraphic instructions which must be received by the Local Public Agency at or before the time above specified for the opening of proposals. In view of certain statutory and policy limitations, no award of the Notes will be made at an interest rate per annum which is not less than Four and Five Eighths per centum (4⅝%).

Proposals may be for all or any part of the Notes, and separate proposals will be required for each part of said Notes for which a separate interest rate is bid. Said Notes will be awarded at the lowest interest rate or rates offered in the proposals, without reference to premium; provided, however, that, as among proposals specifying the same lowest interest rate, award will be made on the basis of the highest premium per dollar principal amount of Notes specified in such proposals. No bid for less than $50,000 principal amount of said Notes or for less than par and accrued interest (which interest shall be computed on a 360-day basis) will be entertained, and the Local Public Agency reserves the right to award to any bidder all or any part of the Notes which such bidder offers to purchase in his proposal, upon the basis of such proposal; provided, that if less than $50,000 principal amount of Notes is to be awarded to any bidder, such bidder will be relieved of the obligation to purchase such Notes upon written notice to the Local Public Agency within two days after notification of such proposed award. If only a part of the Notes bid for in a proposal are awarded by the Local Public Agency, the premium, if any, offered in such proposal shall be prorated, and said Notes will be issued in denominations in the order of the lowest denominations specified in such proposal; provided that one Note may be issued in a smaller denomination than is otherwise specified. The further right is reserved to reject any or all proposals.

Section 103 (g) of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1453), provides as follows: "Obligations, including interest thereon, issued by local public agencies for projects assisted pursuant to this title, and income derived by such agencies from such projects, shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States." In the event that prior to the delivery of any of the Notes the successful bidder therefor the income received by private holders from obligations of the same type and character shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal income tax law hereafter enacted, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase said Notes.

Liberty Isle Statue In Midst of Muddle

WASHINGTON (AP)—A quiet, gentlemanly squabble is rippling on Capitol Hill over whether a New Yorker should continue to represent Liberty Island.

A New Jersey representative claims it should be part of his domain.

Caught midstream in the dispute is the 12-acre island in New York Harbor from which the Statue of Liberty lifts its torch.

Rep. Leonard Farbstein, D-N.Y., who represents the area of the famous Lower Manhattan skyline, also officially represents Liberty Island. He can point out chapter and verse in the law books to support his claim.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., says this shouldn't be.

ON JERSEY TAX ROLLS

After all, he says, Liberty Island—formerly Bedloe's Island—actually is within the city limits of Jersey City and is carried on its tax rolls.

Besides, he argues, Liberty Island is closer to New Jersey than it is to New York and its utilities come from the Garden State.

What is Farbstein's reaction to this?

★ ★ ★

"He's a very nice fellow and I like him," the New Yorker said of Gallagher. "But we're not giving up the Gateway to the New World so easily."

★ ★ ★

Farbstein said the Statue of Liberty has always been in his district, still is and will remain there.

As far as votes go, Liberty Island is insignificant. Gallagher said 13 people who maintain the island and statue live there. But its prestige value is immeasurable.

Japanese Police Break Up Plot to Slay Ikeda

Rightists Didn't Think Prime Minister Could Prevent Red Revolution

TOKYO (AP) — Police today claimed to have smashed an ultrarightist plot to assassinate Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and other leading members of Japan's pro-American government. Thirteen men were arrested and weapons and uniforms seized in predawn raids.

★ ★ ★

Police said the conspirators planned mass murder because they felt Ikeda's government was incapable of preventing a Communist revolution in Japan.

Authorities said a Japanese industrialist apparently financed the plot

Arrests are 90 per cent complete, police said, and an attempt is being made to learn if there is "a man behind the scenes."

SPURRED BY ROK REVOLT

Daikichi Imoto, chief of public safety, said the conspirators apparently were given a spur by the success of the South Korean military junta that took over the Seoul government in May.

★ ★ ★

Unconfirmed reports circulated that the plan called for attempts on the life of Ikeda and 16 Cabinet members and bomb attacks on police headquarters, the giant leftist Sohyo labor union and Communist party headquarters.

Officials said the 13, who included a prewar general, tried to win over members of the nation's 240,000-man self-defense force but failed.

★ ★ ★

Police raiders in Tokyo and at various places on the island of Kyushu in southern Japan seized rifles, gas masks, swords, helmets and work uniforms of the type worn by the self-defense service.

The plotters hid their activities behind a study group known as the Society for Japanese History, led and financed by Toyosaku Kawanami, 59, president of Nichinan and Kawanami Industrial Co. Three hundred helmets and 150 gas masks were found in his Tokyo home.

A top leader of the group was Tokutaro Sakurai, 64, a former lieutenant general in the pre-World War II imperial army. Another member was Taku Mikami, 56, a former lieutenant in the imperial navy who served 13 years in prison in connection with the 1932 assassination of Prime Minister Tsuyoshi Inukai. Mikami now is president of Eiko Industrial Co. in Tokyo.

★ ★ ★

Police said they learned of the plot in September and mapped an earlier crackdown. Plans leaked and the raids were called off.

★ ★ ★

Ikeda showed no outward concern over the plot. He walked in his garden as usual after awakening today and later attended a routine Cabinet meeting.

And It's Only the Beginning . . .

Urges Halaby Be Cited in Plane Accident

WASHINGTON (AP)—An inspector for the Federal Aviation Agency has recommended that his chief, FAA Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby, be cited for careless operation of a plane.

Halaby was at the controls of the agency's new million-dollar Gruman Gulfstream transport and was taxiing it toward a take-off slot at Washington's National Airport Nov. 9 when the plane brushed the wingtip of a parked United Airlines Viscount which was waiting permission to take off.

No one was injured but the collision shattered a running light on the FAA Gulfstream and damaged the Viscount's wingtip. The United flight was delayed about an hour.

At the time, Halaby was leaving for Richmond, Va., to direct the investigation of the Imperial Airlines crash there.

Soviets Demand U.S. Surrender NATO Officer

Russians Want to Try World War II Leader in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union demanded today that the United States surrender West German Gen. Adolf Heusinger, chairman of the permanent North Atlantic Treaty Organization military committee, for trial in Moscow on charges of war crimes in World War II.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets made the demand in a note to the United States and publicized it before cameras and lights at a big news conference. The demand was made on the United States because the NATO committee normally sits in Washington.

Michael Kharlamov, Foreign Ministry press director, when asked why the Soviets were bringing up charges against Heusinger now, said an extraordinary commission had just finished investigating the case. But later he said the part Heusinger had played in the war had been known for years.

In Bonn, the West German government said "this is just another Soviet propaganda move." The government said it cleared Heusinger long ago and the Soviet charges were false. Similar comment came from NATO military sources in Paris.

MAKE NO COMMENT

Heusinger, a man who shuns the limelight, made no immediate comment. He is in Paris for a NATO meeting.

To observers it seemed likely the Soviet note was for the purpose of disturbing relations among the Western Allies and was another form of attack on West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government.

A fixed piece of the Soviet argument for a free, demilitarized city in West Berlin is the charge that the West German government is dominated by militarists and ex-Nazis.

★ ★ ★

On display at the Foreign Ministry news conference were numerous documents and maps, which officials said had been captured in Germany, showing alleged plans among others for the invasion of England and the treatment of the people under a Nazi occupation regime.

★ ★ ★

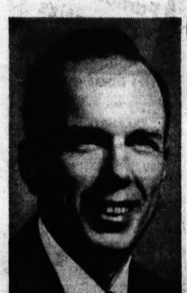

Heusinger was chief of the operations division of the German general staff during World War II and was at Hitler's side when a conspirator's bomb exploded at a conference on July 20, 1944.

★ ★ ★

Heusinger, who was wounded, had known of the plot but did not take part. The Nazis arrested him, held him for two months, then released him but did not return him to active duty.

Belgian Planes Collide

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Two Belgian air force C119 cargo planes collided in the air and crashed in flames today near Brussels, killing all 13 men in the two craft, the defense ministry reported. A spokesman said there were five crew members in each plane, plus three military passengers.

JOHN W. HIRLINGER

C. of C. Losing Its Manager

John N. Hirlinger Submits Resignation; Held Post Since '56

Manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce since 1956, John W. Hirlinger submitted his resignation to the chamber's board of directors at its December meeting Monday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The board accepted Hirlinger's resignation "with regret." It will take effect March 1, 1962, "or at an earlier date if requested by the manager," said Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, board president.

"Although my decision to resign is purely voluntary, it is with deep regret that I take this action," Hirlinger said.

"In leaving, I wish the very best of success in the future activities of our chamber. My association with the chamber has been the most rewarding of my life," he said.

★ ★ ★

In accepting the resignation, Whitmer said, "The board of directors wishes to publicly thank and commend Mr. Hirlinger for his service to the chamber and community, and to wish him well in the years ahead."

Hirlinger, 39, was assistant manager for 1953 to 1956 and has been active in various local organizations including Pontiac YMCA and Family Service of Oakland County.

Study Shows Influence of Newspapers

Results of the most comprehensive study ever made of the daily newspaper's reading public were presented in Detroit today to leading manufacturers and advertising agencies.

Chief among the hundreds of significant findings was that the newspaper reaches every segment of the American public, with its heaviest concentration among the higher-income, better-educated, more influential people; and that the newspaper plays an intimate part in the personal lives of readers at all social levels.

An audience of approximately 800 saw a presentation of highlights from the study entitled "The Newspaper and Its Reading Public," shown by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association. The Detroit Chapter of the American Association of Newspaper Representatives was co-host.

The survey was conducted in consultation with the Advertising Research Foundation by the Audits & Surveys Co. It was also reviewed by an advisory council of leading newspaper reasearch men. Financing of the study was provided by six major Canadian newsprint manufacturers, comprising the Newsprint Information Committee.

'FIRST SUCCESSFUL TRY'

Charles T. Lipscomb Jr., president of the Bureau, and Dr. Leo Bogart, vice president for marketing planning and research, delivered the presentation.

This is the first successful attempt, Lipscomb said, to mea-

More Snow Flurries Headed This Way

More snow flurries are on their way tonight the U.S. Weather Bureau reports. Tonight's low is expected to drop to 24.

A few snow flurries also are forecast for Wednesday, the high reaching near 32. Temperatures will warm up a little Thursday and skies will be fair.

Morning southeasterly winds at 5 miles per hour will shift to west to northwest at 20 to 30 m.p.m. late this afternoon. Winds will be northwesterly tonight and Wednesday at 15 to 25 miles.

The lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 22. The thermometer registered 41 at 1 p.m.

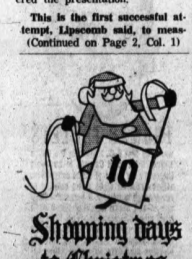

Lodge's Brother Lashes at Dem Foreign Policy

LANSING (AP)—Democratic foreign policy was strongly criticized here Monday night by John D. Lodge, brother of Henry Cabot Lodge, the vice presidential running mate of Richard M. Nixon last fall.

Lodge, former ambassador to Spain and former governor of Connecticut, spoke at a Republican fund-raising dinner. The Republican speaker said President Kennedy had failed in his promise to restore U.S. prestige.

India Gets Accused

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The Portuguese government accused India Monday night of "constant provocations" and of sending terrorists "equipped with arms of the type used by the Indian army" into Portugal's tiny Goa enclave on the west coast of India.

'Mail 'Em Yesterday!'

Get Going With Cards

Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson has his battle cry for the next two weeks: "Mail 'em yesterday!"

Last year's 10-day Christmas rush accounted for over 6 million pieces of mail — more than half a million cards and packages a day.

Donaldson expects this year's deluge to be even greater. It begins this week.

To handle the load, the post office will have an additional 170 temporary employes to beef up its 285-man staff. Applications for the work were opened on Nov. 1. The supply of applications lasted about 45 minutes.

Since the main delay in mail processing is in the sorting and handling of the pieces, the extra employes will be used mostly at the post office. According to Donaldson, additional mail carriers aren't much use because of their inexperience with the routes.

★

Carriers are prohibited by law from carrying over 35 pounds in their pouches so they'll probably make some overtime runs, Donaldson said.

MAIL THIS WEEK

He urged that continental U.S. mail be posted before Friday to have a good chance of arriving in time for Christmas.

Other words of advice from the postmaster are:

1—Separate bundles of cards into OUT OF TOWN and LOCAL delivery packets. Tapes with these labels are available from the post office or carriers. The process saves sorting time and speeds delivery.

2—Buy plenty of stamps when the post office isn't crowded (best times are before 10 a.m. or between 1:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.)

3—Sending Christmas cards by first class mail insures forwarding or return of misaddressed cards. The extra penny is a good investment. Also keep Christmas card lists up to date.

4—Valuable Christmas packages should be insured because of the relatively higher risk in the heavy-volume period. As stacks of packages pile up, loss and physical damage increase. Mark delicate gifts "FRAGILE" and foodstuffs "PERISHABLE." Pack all gifts securely. Last year half a million packages in the U.S. were not delivered due to bad packing.

★ ★ ★

5—Use combination mail where a letter or message (other than a gift tag) is enclosed inside a Christmas package.

6—Address all mail clearly and correctly: Full name and address with postal zone numbers and return address.

★ ★ ★

The main post office will be open regular hours (8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.) on weekdays. Saturdays before Christmas it will be open until noon for regular business, and until 5:30 for stamps and parcel post. This Sunday only the main office will be open for stamps and parcel post from 1 p.m. until 5.

No mail will be delivered Dec. 24 or 25 except special deliveries, perishables and Christmas gift parcels.

A witness said an unidentified auto and the car driven by Jackson appeared to be playing "fender tag" just before the accident occurred at 10:45 p.m.

Horace O. Blakenship, 26, Roseville, who is suspected of being the driver of the unidentified car, is being held for investigation of leaving the scene of a fatal auto accident.

The car which left the accident scene was passed on the right side by Jackson's auto which then went out of control and collided head-on with one driven by Joseph C. Baleda, 69, 5235 Howe St., Utica, according to the witness.

Baleda and a passenger in Jackson's car, Paul Richardson, 21, 783 Colebroke St., Troy, are reported in serious condition at the hospital.

A third occupant of Jackson's car, John W. Plunkett, 21, 5375 Wright St., Troy, and Baleda's son Peter, 16, who was in his father's auto, are in fair condition.

Fellow Texan Named to Connally's Post

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—John B. Connally, President Kennedy's first secretary of the Navy, will leave his post Dec. 20, come back to Texas and run for governor. He disclosed his decision Monday. The President appointed Fred Korth, a Fort Worth banker to succeed Connally as civilian head of the Navy.

Connally, 44, is a Fort Worth attorney. As a friend and confidant of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn, he long has been a background power in Texas politics. His move promised a scramble for Democratic party leadership in the state.

In Korth, 52, Kennedy picked another Democrat known to associates as "a cool veteran of Washington politics."

Last June 2 Korth became an aide to Secretary of the Army Elvis S. Stahr Jr., primrily responsible for liaison with civilians on Army policy and missions.

ASSISTANT ARMY CHIEF

Also a lawyer, Korth served with the Air Transport Command in World War II, attaining the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was named deputy counsellor for the Army in 1951 and served as assistant secretary of the Army in 1952-53.

Korth received the Army's outstanding civilian service award in 1959. He was appointed a di-

Blue Law Causes Red Faces

Santa Has Day in Court

PENNDEL, Pa. (AP) — Santa Claus was haled into court, accused of breaking a law 167 years old, but almost before anyone could say "Rudolph nosed Reindeer" he was free as the north wind again.

The judge — a squire, or justice of the peace, really — who all along acted as if someone had mislaid the Christmas spirit, apologized Monday night to the ruddy defendant for all the fuss.

Santa, in the genial person of Earl Steger, 58, was arrested Sunday as he was listening to the kids pour out their holiday wishes at Buch's Discount Market.

Police Chief William Riempp and Sgt. Norman Rigby told him he was playing hob with the blue laws, which forbid the sale of nonessentials on Sunday.

But to get Santa on that rap, since he was selling nothing, the authorities had to invoke the bluer code of 1794 rather than the revised version of 1959. Under the old, old law it is unlawful to be gainfully employed on Sunday.

Said Riempp: "The old blue

AFL-CIO Aims at $1.50 Hourly

Resolution Urges $1.25 in 1962 With No Delay to Law's '63 Date

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO chiefs today set $1.50 an hour as organized labor's new goal for the federal minimum wages.

A policy statement cleared by the resolutions committee for expected approval by the AFL-CIO convention also urged Congress to raise the minimum wage to $1.25 immediately instead of in 1963.

As part of President Kennedy's program, Congress earlier this year raised the required pay level for about 25 million workers engaged in interstate commerce from $1 to $1.15 per hour, with the proviso the minimum should go to $1.25 in September 1963.

The AFL-CIO resolution says that as soon as the $1.25 figure becomes effective, it will shoot for another boost to $1.50.

"The need of America's working poor for fair labor standards," the resolution said, "has by no means been fully met."

URGES EXTENSION

Extension of the law's coverage to 16 million additional workers was also urged. Many such workers, the resolution said, "are paid excessively low wages and work excessive hours." The law requires overtime pay for hours worked beyond 40 a week.

★ ★ ★

This and other resolutions called for a drive both by legislation and in labor contract negotiations with employers to accomplish a reduction in the present 40-hour week.

Other developments at the 12.5-million member AFL-CIO's biennial convention included:

STILL SCRAPPING

Feuding building trades and industrial unions stood as far apart as ever in negotiating a peace formula for labor's internal wars. The building trades rejected a disputes settlement formula favored by Walter Reuther. It was indicated that AFL-CIO President George Meany was siding with the building trades and preparing for an open convention break with Reuther.

Differences over civil rights policies also appeared about to reach a boiling point. A. Philip Randolph, Negro union leader, readied an appeal to convention delegates to cancel a two-month-old statement of censure from fellow AFL-CIO leaders that accused Randolph of stirring up racial prejudices among workers.

ure the full scope of a major communication medium through all of its individual vehicles.

The threefold objective of the research, he added, was: to provide an accurate description of the true pattern of newspaper reading behavior; to describe the role daily newspapers play in the lives of people as citizens and consumers; to measure the full dimensions of the daily newspaper as a national advertising medium.

★ ★ ★

Among the many significant facts about the daily newspaper's readers uncovered by the study are these:

Of the 54,000,000 households in continental United States, 86.4 per cent read at least one newspaper on an average weekday; 80.4 per cent of homes buy and read at least one paper each day; and another 6 per cent read one or more papers on a pass-along basis.

Four out of five adults (21 and over) and 72 per cent of the country's 13,000,000 individuals between the ages of 15 and 20 read a newspaper on any given weekday. In the course of a five-day period, 88 per cent of adults read a newspaper on one or more days.

Total newspaper readings by adults on every weekend are 125,500,000 and by the teen-agers, another 12,750,000.

READERSHIP HIGH

In households owning two or more cars and planning to purchase a new car in the next 12 months, average weekday readership is 97 per cent. In one-car households planning such purchases the figure is 89 per cent. Prospective purchasers consult newspaper ads on cars more than do non-prospects.

Seventy-one per cent of the time, the newspaper reaches the reader by means of regular home delivery—by newspaperboy usually, and by mail. In 25 per cent of the cases, the newspaper is bought at a store, a newsstand, or a self-service rack.

★ ★ ★

Two-thirds of the people have a habitual time for reading the newspaper. It takes place at every time of the day. However, the newspaper is not normally read in a single sitting. The typical reader picks up and looks into his paper 2.4 times each weekday.

DO MORE THAN READ

Regarding the actual use of the newspaper, the study reveals that apparently Americans do more than just read it. They actively use it in a number of ways: 53 per cent report they have clipped some item other than advertising out of the paper in the past three months; 27 per cent still have the clipping at home; 18 per cent have sent or passed along a recent clipping to someone else; 28 per cent have clipped advertisements, and 15 per cent recall buying the product.

Newspaper reading is about as high in the suburbs as it is in the metropolitan areas, where it ranges from 89 to 93 per cent.

People were asked to describe how they would feel if they had to get along without television and without newspapers. The response, "I would feel quite lost without it," was selected by 49 per cent in the case of newspapers, and by 28 per cent in the case of television.

IMPORTANT INSTITUTION

The newspaper emerges from the study as an important hometown institution with which the public comes into intimate contact in a variety of ways: 43 per cent have visited the paper's office or plant; 45 per cent have placed classified ads; 23 per cent have written or phoned the newspaper for information; 8 per cent have written letters to the editor.

"The companies which have underwritten this research," said Lipscomb, "have made an outstanding contribution to accurate measurement of the daily newspaper's full dimensions. Advertisers, agencies, and newspapers will all benefit from this forward-looking effort."

Member companies of the Newspaper Information Committee are: Abitibi Power & Paper Company, Ltd.; Anglo-Canadian Pulp & Paper Mills, Ltd.; Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company, Ltd.; Donnacona Paper Company; MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River, Ltd.; and St. Lawrence Corporation, Ltd.

Planes Hit U.N. at Elisabethville

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Unidentified aircraft attacked Elisabethville Airport four times before dawn today, dropping 26 bombs without damaging U.N. installations, the U.N. command announced.

The U.N. headquarters in the Katanga capital also came under heavy attack during the night, the U.N. spokesman said, from Katangan mortar batteries located on a ridge west of the headquarters building.

The spokesman said he did not know the origin or type of the aircraft that attacked the airport or if more than one plane made the attack. Bombs were dropped over a five-hour period, beginning at midnight.

★ ★ ★

Two Indian Gurkha troops were killed and one wounded in the attack on the U.N. headquarters, the United Nations announced. It said this brought U.N. casualties in the Katanga operation to 10 dead, 37 wounded and 13 missing.

Katangan casualties are unknown, but Gen. Sean McKeown, the Irish commander of U.N. forces in the Congo, estimated them at 59 to 60 dead.

GUARD EUROPEANS

Ten Europeans—most of them mercenary soldiers—were flown to Leopoldville today from Elisabethville under tight guard. The United Nations said they had been taken prisoner during the last week of fighting in Katanga and would be interrogated here to determine their nationalities and roles in the fighting.

The United Nations declined specific comment on statements made in the British House of Commons Monday suggesting that the United Nations had refused to negotiate with Katanga President Moise Tshombe.

"The U.N. is always ready to achieve a peaceful settlement of this problem," the spokesman said. "We were trying to do so last week when we were forced into military action."

★ ★ ★

He said the previous cease-fire signed by the United Nations and Tshombe "had been broken in practically every clause by the Katangans." The United Nations, he added, had observed this agreement carefully.

The U.S. Air Force denied reports broadcast by the French radio station in Brazzaville that two U.S. Globemasters were damaged in Monday night's attack on the Elisabethville airport.

Ike to Expand Michigan Visit

Accepts Invitation of MSU President to Speak on Campus

LANSING (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has decided to expand his visit to Michigan Wednesday into a double-header.

Originally scheduled to appear only before the constitutional convention, Eisenhower accepted an invitation Monday from John A. Hannah, Michigan State University president, to speak to students and faculty on the campus.

Some 60 state and city police officers and sheriff's deputies have been assigned to handle the crowds and form a security guard for Eisenhower from the time he steps off a private plane at the Capitol City Airport at about 9:30 a.m. until he leaves at about 2 p.m.

The former president's schedule calls for about an hour with the convention delegates, during which he will answer questions about federal-state relationships and other constitutional problems.

His appearance will be broadcast live on television and radio.

Because of space limitations and security precautions, the general public will be barred from the convention hall during the Eisenhower visit.

To Sentence 4 for Assault on Commerce Man

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams will sentence four young men Dec. 27 after they pleaded guilty yesterday to aggravated assault.

Admitting they forced a 21-year-old Commerce Township man to run nude down a country road a month ago, were: Donald R. Rose, 18, of 49150 Pontiac Trail, Wixom; William E. Smith, 20, 208 Endwell St., Thomas D. Teddy, 18, of 28515 Beck Road, and Parley Trusty, 21, of 1576 Ladd Road, all of Commerce Township.

Roger E. Swoverland, 21, of 3132 Fisher Road, told sheriff's deputies the four dragged him from his home, beat him and forced him to run down the road in an effort to extort money from him. They took 68 cents, he said.

Rose and Trusty are free on $750 bonds while Smith and Teddy are in the county jail awaiting sentence.

Big 4 Ministers 'Get Nowhere'

Signs Appears Allies Question Leadership of United States

PARIS (AP) — The Western Big Four foreign ministers pursued their efforts to tighten unity on Berlin today amid signs the European Allies are sharply questioning the kind of leadership the United States is giving the Western alliance.

Diplomatic sources said the four ministers had gotten nowhere near a common policy on the issue of whether and under what circumstances the West should enter negotiations with the Soviet Union on Berlin.

The same informants said Washington's line on the complex Congo problem has produced a bitter taste in London and Paris.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and his British, French and West German colleagues met for slightly more than two hours in the Quai d'Orsay to talk about Berlin. Delegation spokesmen declined to indicate what developed. One conference source said no important progress was made.

Romney Asks Help of His CFM Group

DETROIT (AP) — The chairman of Citizens For Michigan, organized as a nonpartisan group, has asked its board of directors to discuss his possible partisan gubernatorial candidacy. He is George Romney, president of American Motors Corp.

Romney told CFM board members in a letter he would like to have the benefit of their wisdom before making a decision on whether he will become a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor next year.

He urged directors to attend a regular board meeting scheduled at 10 a.m. Saturday at the University of Michigan Dearborn Center.

Romney announced two weeks ago he was considering entering the race for governor on the Republican ticket. He said he would make a final decision by Feb. 10, several days after the annual meeting of his auto company's shareholders.

Eichmann Hears Complete Ruling

Israeli Court Finishes Reading Blanket Verdict of Guilty

JERUSALEM (AP) — The special Israeli court concluded reading its judgment on Adolf Eichmann today with a summary finding the former Gestapo colonel guilty of all 15 counts of an indictment handed down last April.

★ ★ ★

The summation, preceded by detailed examination of Eichmann's role in the extermination of six million Jews in Europe, was a blanket verdict of guilty. The maximum penalty under a special Israeli law is death.

OUTLINED DETAILS

The three-man court convicted Eichmann Monday of capital crimes against the Jews, then proceeded to outline its views on the details.

The conclusion supported every claim that Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner placed against Eichmann after the former SS officer was captured in Argentina, flown here, interrogated, indicted and then tried.

★ ★ ★

At no time during the long reading did the judges say a good word for Eichmann and there was no evidence of mitigation in the entire 100,000-word judgment.

ISRAEL CHARGES

The counts charged Eichmann with joining the Nazi conspiracy to exterminate the Jews as a race, killing non-Jews as part of the forced labor program in Poland, contributing his help to the murder of Gypsies in the Hitler racial plan, helping to round up the children of Lidice in revenge for the assassination of Gestapo chief Reinhard Heydrich, plundering Jewish property and deliberately joining the Nazi SS, security police and Gestapo and full support of all such activities.

★ ★ ★

The defendant himself sat as though locked in the frozen pose of a statue. He heard over two days one judge after another destroy his defense that he was of an unimportant cog in a big wheel and replace it with blanket conviction of Eichmann as a giant in a giant conspiracy.

Cummings, Clarkson Named to New Posts

The board of directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland named R. C. Cummings to the newly-created position of board chairman at its regular meeting last night.

Woman Cashier Admits Embezzling $185,000

HILLSIDE, N.J. (AP)—A woman cashier of a loan company who has admitted embezzling about $185,000 says she spent the money foolishly and doesn't have a penny left.

The Day in Birmingham

Hope to Name Successor to Getsinger in 2 Weeks

BIRMINGHAM — The appointment of a successor to Gordon Getsinger who resigned from the Bloomfield Township Board may be made within two weeks, Supervisor Arno Hulet said today.

★ ★ ★

Getsinger, who announced his leave two weeks ago, resigned the post he held nearly five years to take a job in New York. His resignation was accepted by the board last night.

He also has resigned his post on the Republican State Central Committee.

So far their are 12 candidates seeking the appointment, according to Hulet.

"Each of them will be screened by the board before a decision is made," he added. "The selection of one of them will be difficult because there are many of high caliber backgrounds."

WOULDN'T REVEAL NAMES

Hulet said he would not divulge the names of the candidates until they were interviewed and the field narrowed down by the board.

The decision would probably be made, he said, at the Dec. 26 board meeting.

In other action last night the board accepted petitions for the construction of sanitary sewers in two subdivisions and portion of another.

The sewers will be built in Brookside Hills, north of Long Lake and east of Telegraph; and Devon Gables, Telegraph and Long Lake roads. The latter project includes several lots in Devon Hills.

★ ★ ★

The Brookside project would cost an estimated $31,000 and the Gables improvement, $25,800. Property owners in both subdivisions would be assessed the cost of the projects.

Increased membership in the Bloomfield 4-H Club has made it necessary to divide it into junior and senior groups, with officers for each unit.

Senior officers for the coming year are Kristine Simonson, president; Stickman Hoxie, vice president; Barbara Hillier, secretary; and Douglas Noriand, treasurer.

Marilyn Hillier was named president of the junior group. Other officers of the junior division will be elected at the January meeting of the club.

The Men's fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold a "Father and Son Christmas Banquet" Dec. 19 from 6 to 9 p.m. at the church.

★ ★ ★

Prior to the 6:45 p.m. dinner, movies will be shown. Following dinner there will be a 15-minute carol sing-along, led by Paul Nicely.

A feature attraction of the evening will be the appearance of Kenig, the magician.

Donald Conrad, chairman of the Men's Fellowship, has suggested that any man not having a son can "adopt" one for the occasion from Camp Oakland.

law has never been repealed, and I have the option of making an arrest under either or both of these laws."

Four of St. Nick's helpers were cited on the same charge. Their cases are pending.

★ ★ ★

Agitation for a crackdown on blue law violators has been coming from a Bucks County ethical practices committee. A spokesman for this group that arresting Santa was more than had been bargained for, "making us look like Scrooges."

As Santa, arrayed in red suit and white whiskers, stood at the bar of justice, with his missus alongside him, Squire William Oettinger, 38, said: "This is very embarrassing."

The squire went on: "I've never had anything like this in my court before. Having Santa Claus arraigned, I mean. It is most upsetting."

SANTA ONLY SMILED

Santa just stood silent, smiling wide, now and then folding Mrs. Santa's hand in his own.

His lawyer did the talking: "Your honor, my client should not be here. Plainly, he is without guilt or guile. What crime is he charged with? I'll tell you — simply wanting to do good for children. Heinous, isn't it?"

After listening to both prosecution and defense, the squire hastened to say: "I gives me great honor to discharge this defendant. This is the last place Santa Claus belongs. Everybody knows Santa gives, that he doesn't take." He shook hands with Santa and wife.

Steger, who has been Santa to thousands of children at the store in the last three years, is a building superintendent.

★ ★ ★

"I have a great love for children," he said, "and I'd probably play Santa even if I didn't get paid for it. The happiness of the kids is pay enough."

President Kennedy considered Korth for secretary of the Army but he declined. He said the Defense Department should not have two men from the same city in key posts, as would have been the case with Connally running Navy.

Warning: Stay Off Thin Ice on Lakes

Tragic drownings which occurred just before Christmas in both 1959 and 1960 should serve as grim reminders for area residents this time of year, warned Sheriff Frank W. Irons today.

"This is a critical time of year and we can expect fatal water accidents unless people stay off ponds and lakes in Oakland County," Irons said.

Recent weather conditions have coated ponds with ice and frozen the edges of lakes. But it is still too treacherous to venture out on them, the sheriff noted.

Just one year ago yesterday the body of a skin diver was found on the bottom of Green Lake in West Bloomfield Township. The victim, 27-year-old James Clark of Fraser, the father of two children, drowned when his breathing apparatus froze up below the lake's surface.

★ ★ ★

On Dec. 13, 1959, two brothers, aged 6 and 4 years old, drowned when they fell through thin ice at a pond near their home in the county.

★ ★ ★

Neither accident is a pleasant memory, Irons said, but they illustrate what can happen when children — or parents — take chances on partially frozen lakes and ponds.

Powers Goofed, Wilber Brucker Tells Attorneys

Former Secretary of the Army in the Eisenhower administration, Wilber M. Brucker, yesterday found fault with U2 pilot Gary Powers in discussing the nation's readiness before the Oakland County Bar Association.

★ ★ ★

Brucker, now a Detroit attorney, said this country's preparedness "is much greater than the average person knows." We're ahead of Russia, he said.

The former Michigan governor criticized Lt. Powers, now imprisoned in Moscow, for failing in his mission and not destroying himself and his highly secret plane when it came down in Russia in May of 1960.

"He was not the Nathan Hale type of fighter who said he regretted he had but one life to give for his country," Brucker told about 60 attorneys at the noon luncheon at the Elks Temple.

Relocation of M59 Plan Before City Commission

Resolutions approving the proposed relocation of M59 and salary increases for Pontia's two municipal judges and court clerk will be up for approval at tonight's City Commission meeting.

The resolution on M59 relocation involves official approval from commissioners of the proposed route laid out by city planners and the Michigan State Highway Department for M59 east of the planned loop road.

This is necessary before Highway Department officials can proceed with plans for the M59 extension. The loop is to have three direct links to the I-75 freeway bypassing Pontiac to the east and north.

The M59 extension—East Huron Street—will be one link, and the only one planned as a limited access major thoroughfare.

★ ★ ★

Its proposed route would extend northeast from Douglas Street to the vicinity of Tasmania and then east to East Boulevard where it becomes a freeway.

PLAN PARKWAY

It is expected the Huron Street extension will be developed as an attractive parkway, utilizing the Clinton River and abutting open urban space. It would remove the M59 designation from Auburn Road.

Other resolutions will call for annual salary hikes of about $3,500 for each Municipal Court judge to $12,500 and a hike of some $1,300 annually for the court clerk, who gets $6,200.

In other business, an ordinance to rezone eight lots on the northeast corner of Cass Avenue and Wisner Street will be up for final approval.

Public hearings will be held on special assessment rolls for the collection of unpaid weed cutting bills for 1961 and for construction of a storm drain on Emiry, Hollister and Crittenden streets.

The proposed vacating of a portion of Gilmour Drive and the city's plans for a water main in Palmer Drive will also be up for public hearing.

Jumping to Conclusions

This Is Positive Thinking

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:

Fat women are more generous than skinny women—at least to panhandlers. They are more likely to fall for a hard luck story.

I never trust a man who is too fond of those gooey cocktail canapes. Any man who can really enjoy that kind of food must have a deficiency of judgment or character in more important matters.

★ ★ ★

Nurses make the worst of all hospital patients, because they know how much a doctor doesn't know—and suspect some of the things he thinks he does know.

★ ★ ★

I never intend to name a cat in my will until, when I have a fever, one of them spends a sleepless night putting its paw to my forehead to take my temperature.

★ ★ ★

A boy gets a deeper thrill out of learning to make a shrill whistle through his teeth than a man does the day his bank account tops a million dollars.

★ ★ ★

The great virtue of much modern art is this: It gives as much pleasure to a blind person as to one who can see.

★ ★ ★

The least impressive executives to me are the ones who, when you phone them, have secretaries who invariably demand, "Who's calling, please?" What difference does it make who's calling? They're either there or they're not there.

★ ★ ★

You're a real married veteran if, no matter what your wife says to you, you figure she's picking on you.

★ ★ ★

No man has a really happy life who has to start every morning off by taking bicarbonate of soda or a fizz tablet in water.

★ ★ ★

Whenever I meet anyone who is a chronic good loser, I don't particularly admire him. I think he's merely punchy from defeat—and ought to get out of the game for a while, no matter what the game is.

★ ★ ★

It isn't true that no one ever said a memorable thing at a party after midnight. But for every memorable remark a man makes at that hour, he usually spends two days wishing he had said something less memorable.

★ ★ ★

You hear a lot of jokes about the waiter who puts his thumb in the soup, but in all my life I have never seen this happen. Nor can I recall ever seeing a waiter spill hot soup on a patron.

★ ★ ★

The most annoying borrower in the office isn't the one who asks you for money. It's the one who is always fresh out of both cigarettes and matches. A man who runs out of cigarettes ought to at least have a match in his pocket.

★ ★ ★

Few things make a man feel more like a public benefactor than giving away a two-bit cigar to someone who really appreciates it.

★ ★ ★

I instinctively like a man who wears a vest and carries an old-fashioned pocket watch in it. They give him an air of sturdy independence, a disdain of the opinion of the mob.

★ ★ ★

You're middle-aged if you have to make two trips to the front door to fetch in your big Sunday newspaper.

A man who never does anything to excess in public always raises the suspicion in others that he is practicing a secret vice of some kind.

4 Governors Endorse Community Shelters

NEW YORK (AP)—The governors of New York, California, Washington and Florida have endorsed a proposed federal program of aid for community fallout shelters and other civil defense measures.

★ ★ ★

While withholding specific comment until the federal plan is finally approved and announced by the President, the governors expressed pleasure Monday that the program "will emphasize ways in which the federal government can help state and local organizations in the construction and stocking of community shelters and strengthen the standard programs of warning, radiological monitoring, training, education and family shelters."

Runs Beer Joint 'to Make Money for Her Church'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—When Octavia Jones, 53, of Pittsburgh went before Judge William F. Cercone Monday on charges of operating a speakeasy, he asked her why she allegedly had sold beer and liquor illegally.

"The church needed an organ, and I wanted to make some money to buy one," she explained.

Judge Cercone fined her $300 and ordered her to pay costs.

Ginn Must Quit Dems for Post in Southfield

SOUTHFIELD — James M. Ginn will have to resign as Oakland County Democratic chairman if he accepts the post of Southfield city attorney.

The Southfield City Council agreed last night to hire the 33-year-old Ginn, if he would divest himself of all political affiliation within 30 days.

Ginn, county chairman since August of 1960, said he hadn't read the council's resolution and wouldn't decide whether to relinquish his political post until he does.

His term of office would start Jan. 1.

In addition to appointing Ginn, Mayor S. James Clarkson also gave Gerald Easlick his job back as city assessor even though Clarkson has repeatedly claimed that Easlick was "incapable" of handling the duties of the post.

★

The council was not 100 per cent behind the mayor in the two appointments.

In the case of Ginn, Councilman John J. Hollywood and O. David Edwards turned the appointment down. Hollywood pointed out that according to the charter any post held by any member of city government must be nonpartisan.

'NOT THE MAN'

Hollywood said he felt Ginn, with his political background, was not the man to hold the job of city attorney which is the highest paid position in the city.

Ginn is to receive $15,000 a year at the rate of $1,250 a month in advance with additional compensation.

Edwards was the only dissenting vote in the appointment of Easlick. He demanded to know "when all of this was cooked up."

Councilmen Alex Perinoff told Edwards that if he took time to attend Saturday's meetings he would know what was going on.

Ginn, who also is attorney for Franklin Village, must according to the contract, drawn up by Perinoff, an attorney, relinquish his post there and devote his time exclusively to Southfield.

WAS EXPECTED

The appointment of Ginn had been expected with the resignation yesterday of City Atty. James C. Allen. Allen held the post for almost four years.

His resignation becomes effective Dec. 31.

★ ★ ★

Allen said he was just carrying out his intention he first stated last spring when he said he would quit after the city election.

The council, in another action, scheduled a public hearing Jan. 17 on the respreading of assessment rolls found in error recently.

The hearing will be held at Southfield No. 10 School or at Lederle Elementary School, depending on the interest shown in the notices that will be sent to property owners involved.

Some 39 assessment district's total project cost, determined by former City Administrator Robert J. McNutt, have been discovered during an audit to be in many cases underestimated, resulting in a loss to the city.

NEWS OF THE AREA

At Farmington Board Meeting

Moms Petition for School Bus

By JIM LONG

FARMINGTON — A sympathetic but unrelenting Farmington school board listened last night to a group of mothers protest the lack of school bus service.

At the end of the one-sided, hour-and-a-half discussion, the board again agreed to review the situation involving 39 children at the Isaac Bond Elementary School, but indicated there would be no change in the present school bus policy.

The board tabled the matter for reconsideration at its Jan. 8 meeting.

About 10 of the mothers who had kept their children home three days during the last week in November attended the meeting last night to file a formal complaint.

Leland Clifford, board president, explained to them the school district policy of not busing children unless they live a mile and a half from school or there is safety factor involved.

A TRAFFIC HAZARD

The parents, all of whom live in the Orchard Lake-13 Mile road area, claim there is a traffic hazard for the youngsters at the main intersection.

★ ★

Clifford, however, said that traffic situation in the area has been investigated three times in the last year and a half by school board members and their consensus shows that traffic on Greening Street, the major walking route for children in the area, did not seem heavy enough to reschedule bus service down the gravel road.

The mothers, led by Mrs. Frank Sanders of 28530 Greening St. and her next door neighbor, Mrs. Albert Brown, told the board it "wasn't fair" to make a decision since the board members had only checked the condition on several occasions, whereas the parents are confronted with the problem daily.

One board member, Mrs. Wendell Brown, did admit that during her on-the-spot check of the area near the school, she did discover that children on the way to classes were faced with a problem when they got to an entrance-exit drive of a supermarket across from the school.

★ ★ ★

She said that cars going in and out of the drive made walking there hazardous for children.

The parents asked that if the school board only rescheduled two more stops for buses when traveling south on Orchard Lake Road the problem would be solved since it would keep the children from walking along narrow Greening Street.

A petition with 36 signatures of residents not directly affected by the problem but still concerned was presented to the board.

School Receives Scholarship List

American Legion Post Presents Avondale High an Education Handbook

The American Legion's education and scholarship handbook, "Need a Lift?" has been presented to Avondale High School by Hill Gazette Post No. 143 of Auburn Heights, Gerald R. Hill, post commander, announced today.

★ ★ ★

The revised publication for the 1961-62 school year contains information about hundreds of college and vocational scholarships for qualified high school students of the Avondale area.

It is recognized as one of the most complete sources of career and scholarship information in the United States, Hill said.

He mentioned in particular the Junior GI Bill which provides up to $110 a month for four years of educational help for sons and daughters of veterans who lost their lives as a result of military service.

Over half of the young people eligible for this help have failed to apply, Hill said.

He added that the handbook does not limit its listings to children of veterans but contains scholarships and educational aids available to all students.

★ ★ ★

The post commander said that experience has proved that plans for higher education should be made during the student's sophomore year in high school.

★

Michigan has produced at least one-half of the nation's red tart cherry crop during each of the past 10 years.

Troy Commission Urges Aide for CD Director

TROY — In an attempt to straighten out the tangle of civil defense records and rosters, the City Commission last night requested Mayor Robert J. Huber to appoint Eugene Reilly as administrative assistant to CD Director Clarence F. Long.

★ ★ ★

Reilly, who lives at 6081 Glyndenbourne Road, will be responsible to Long for keeping adequate records of civil defense activities and personnel.

Reilly is a retired fire chief from Detroit and has had civil defense experience, Huber said.

★ ★ ★

After defeating a motion to replace Long as director with city manager David E. Firestone, the commission settled on Reilly's appointment.

LONG UNDER FIRE

In recent months, Long has been under fire from members of the commission for allegedly failing to keep adequate or accurate records of CD training and for moves the mayor has described as beyond the director's authority.

Reilly's appointment will take effect when Huber submits it in writing to the commission.

The commission awarded the contract for a 4-inch construction pump to the Michigan Tractor & Machine Co., of Detroit for their bid of $573 for a Marlow pump. The equipment will be used to keep excavations dry.

Also awarded last night was a contract for the water main connection at 15-Mile Road and Dequindre to the Yeager-Paulick Co. of Madison Heights. The firm's low bid for the connection to the Detroit water main was $15,137.

The commission set the date for its next regular meeting for Dec. 26, as the scheduled date would have been Christmas Day.

Electric Train Returned to Boy

Brakeman Brings Back Toy Which Was Carried Away on NYC Caboose

BAY CITY (AP) — "I didn't think I'd ever get it back," said 12-year-old Bill Toland as he got back his train-riding electric train Monday.

★ ★ ★

It was returned by Edward Ebel, a New York Central brakeman who watched Saturday as Bill ran as fast as he could trying to catch a freight train moving through Bay City.

Bill, try as he might, couldn't catch the train in the three blocks he chased it. Ebel shortly found out why the boy had been running so hard.

On the rear platform of the caboose was a package, and in the package was an electric train.

★ ★ ★

Ebel and his wife contacted two schools in the Bay City area where the boy had been seen chasing Ebel's freight.

Bill shyly admitted the electric train was his, after word spread it was waiting for its owner.

Bill said the train was given him by a friend "who hardly ever used it."

★ ★ ★

He was en route with it down the railroad tracks when suddenly he tripped and his packaged train went flying, landing on the caboose platform.

Lake Orion OK's Employe Raises

LAKE ORION — The Village Council authorized pay raises last night for all nonelected village employes.

★ ★ ★

Department of Public Works employes will get an 18-cent-an-hour raise, effective on the Jan. 8 payroll. Police department patrolmen and radio operators will get a 15-cent boost. Salaries of the chief of police and police sergeant will be raised 24 and 20 cents an hour respectively.

Council President Irvine J. Unger said that the pay hikes were to bring the salaries to prevailing rates. The men are employes of long standing who have shown themselves to be good workers and they deserve a raise, he said.

In other business last night, the council authorized issuing $75,000 in motor vehicle bonds to finance the resurfacing of three of the village main streets.

NO SPECIAL ASSESSMENT

The bond issue will not involve a special assessment and will be financed out of state highway tax refunds, Unger said.

Streets to be paved with asphalt are Flint Street from the railroad tracks to the eastern village limit; Atwater Street from Broadway to the Paint Creek bridge and Broadway Street from Jackson Street to the railroad tracks.

The improvements will start when the bonds are sold and the village plans are approved by state engineers, Unger said.

The council also agreed to hood parking meters during the Christmas shopping season at the request of village merchants. The merchants in turn have agreed to see that the two-hour time limit is not abused.

Again Castro Warns of Cuba's Power

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro predicted again Monday night that any force attempting to invade Cuba would be smashed promptly.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban prime minister addressed a group of 8,000 peasant girls who had completed a six-month dressmaking course.

★ ★ ★

He made no comment on the resolution by the Panama National Assembly urging a break in diplomatic relations with Cuba. Nor did he mention an incident Monday in which Cuban militiamen opened fire on a group of persons trying to enter the grounds of Ecuador's embassy here. Three persons were reported killed and four wounded. Foreign Minister Fraxicco Acosta Yepes of Ecuador said the victims were Cubans seeking asylum in the embassy.

Chevalier Makes Plans for Partial Retirement

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Maurice Chevalier, at 73, and in what he calls "my autumn years"—is going to retire—but only from the stage.

WILSON

"I can improve a lot on TV and the screen and maybe on records, but I've done as good as I can on the stage," he just told me. "I've done 62 years on the stage—so I'm no quitter."

Chevalier revealed his policy of "being different" in an effort "to be better" at an El Morocco party heralding the Feb. 11 NBC TV show, "The Broadway or Lerner and Loewe," in which he'll star.

A couple of big movies each year, a few big TV shows, will satisfy him, and he'll refuse offers from all over the world to do his one-man stage show (he did the last one in San Francisco in 1960).

"I see," I said. "You're afraid of . . ." (I was probably going to say something about age.)

Chevalier, the gay boulevardier, drew himself up, tilted his chin and—figuretively if not actually — hiS straw hat. "I am afraid of NOTHING!" he announced proudly. "I'm trying to be intelligent. I'm always thinking of Gene Tunney, who was the world's champion and retired. I'm just trying to imitate Gene Tunney!"

Two Are Jailed After Wild Ride

Others Plead Innocent of Malicious Destruction to Saginaw Property

SAGINAW (AP)—Two youths were in jail today and two awaited trial following an early morning automobile ride over nearly 70 lawns in residential areas.

★ ★ ★

Wayne T. Seymour, 19, of Saginaw was sentenced to 90 days in jail Monday by Justice Guy Crowell after the youth admitted driving the car during the wild ride early Sunday.

Seymour pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and malicious destruction of property.

A passenger in the car, Conrad Forster, 19, Saginaw, was fined $30 and sentenced to 10 days in jail after he pleaded guilty to malicious destruction.

Two other Saginaw youths, Carl Nieman and Michael Gutowski, both 19, were freed on $500 bonds after pleading innocent to malicious destruction.

Authorities said they received 69 complaints following the episode from residents of suburban Lathrop Park in Saginaw Township and adjacent residential areas in Saginaw.

Children's Hospital Planned in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Plans for a new 320-bed, $7.5-million children's hospital were disclosed here Monday night.

Dr. Hugo V. Hullerman, hospital vice president, said the new building would be located in Detroit's proposed medical center, in the area where Harper, Women's and Grace hospitals now are located and to which Wayne State University plans to move its medical school.

Dr. Hullerman said a completion date of mid-1965 had been set and that the Metropolitan Detroit Building Fund had allocated $1.84 million toward the new hospital. Additional funds will be sought through a private campaign.

Blood Vessels Change Under Hypnotic State

CHICAGO (UPI) — An Albany, N.Y., optometrist today reported on what he said was the first evidence that hypnosis produces physical changes in the body.

Dr. Irving Vics said he found hypnosis caused a contraction of the small blood vessels bordering the iris or colored portion of the eye, while blood vessels in the whites of the eye expanded. The changes result in bloodshot eyes under hypnosis.

"If there are changes in the blood vessels in the eye, it is reasonable to assume that there are similar changes in subepidermal areas throughout the body," Vics said in a prepared paper. He addressed the annual meeting of the American Academy of Optometry.

He predicted that further research into the physical changes seemingly induced by hypnosis might lead to the use of hypnosis in treating an increasing number of ailments.

VISION CHANGES

In his own field, he said, he found most patients were significantly less astigmatic or nearsighted under hypnosis. "At least one badly near-sighted patient who ordinarily needed glasses had 20-30 vision under hypnosis," he said.

★ ★ ★

Vics said he also found hypnosis useful in fitting contact lenses and correcting cross-eyes.

★ ★ ★

He said the American Society of Clinical Hypnosis was looking into his findings with a view to applying them to the reduction of body swellings.

★ ★ ★

Vics emphasized that, so far as he could determine, the physical changes induced by hypnosis lasted only through the hypnotic state.

Blue Chips Lead the Way

Stock Market Moves Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to move higher early today under the same kind of blue chip leadership that has boosted it for the past two sessions. Trading was heavy.

American Telephone was at another new high. Along with Jersey Standard, Royal Dutch and General Motors, AT&L gained a fraction. Early blocks were sizable.

Gains were mainly fractional. Scattered losses showed profit taking in some recent gainers.

The spotlight was focused on the admission to trading of the Unilever Stocks, representing one of the largest groups of associated companies in the world. Both opened on 100 share trades, then the Netherlands Co., Unilever, N.V., sold on 6,000 shares at 52⅞ and the British firm, Unilever, Ltd., sold at 27¼ on 15,000 shares, the same as their opening.

Big three motors were all up fractionally. Leading oils and coppers improved. Steels were uneven, U.S. Steel and Republic dropping fractions while Jones & Laughlin rose slightly.

Great Western financial dropped about 3. Sears Roebusk gained more than a point. American Tobacco was off a point on profit taking.

★ ★ ★

Priced were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Mead Johnson (ex dividend) was up a couple of points. Other gainers included Edo Corp. "A," Cubic Corp. and Kawecki Chemical. Among losers were local electronics, New Jersey Zinc and Tampa Electric.

Two Men Injured as Car Hits Train

Two men were injured at 9:45 a.m. today when their car collided with a freight train at Beck Road and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad crossing in Wixom.

Rushed to Pontiac General Hospital following the accident were the driver of the car, Robert Moore, 23, 2448 Potter Road, Wixom, and Arthur Nelson, about 21, of Buno Road, Milford Township.

The conditions of the two men was still not known by 11 a.m. Hospital authorities said they were being examined and the extent of their injuries had not been determined.

The engineer of the Grand Trunk freight train, G. E. Zimmerman, 1528 Harger St., Pontiac, said Moore's car skidded past the stop sign at the railroad crossing and struck the rear wheels of the engine.

Trading Stamps Booming

NEW YORK (UPI) — Trading stamps will continue to increase their influence in U.S. purchasing, according to Printers' Ink magazine. The advertising weekly said sales of stamps to retailers should reach $750 million this year and could top $1 billion by 1965.

New Triumphs to Be Displayed

TR4 to Make Debut in Pontiac Showroom Thursday

A new line of Triumph sports cars will go on display in an equally new setting in Pontiac Thursday at the grand opening of Superior Auto Sales and Service, 550 Oakland Ave.

★ ★ ★

Anthony O. Grimaldi Jr. of 3511 Levee St., Waterford Township, owner of the Standard-Triumph Motor Co. dealership here, said the new Triumph TR-4 will be unveiled at the grand opening.

The TR4 has several major improvements over its companion, the TR3, which Grimaldi says is the top selling imported sports car in the country.

The latest series in the Triumph line has higher horsepower and torque ratings than its predecessor in addition to a wider wheel track of 49 inches and roll-up windows.

★ ★ ★

The car has been restyled, both inside and out, to give it a different appearance than the TR3. All four forward gears in the transmission are now synchromesh.

Grimaldi, who operated a used car dealership in Pontiac for three years before starting his imported car showroom, said service facilities and staff have been increased to handle buyers of new cars.

Superior Auto Sales will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. on opening day and on all Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays in the future.

★ ★ ★

Showroom hours will be from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Fridays.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Borg-Warner Corp. has lost an attempt to get a U.S. Supreme Court ruling in its dispute with York-Shipley, Inc., over use of the name "York" on heating equipment.

The Supreme Court, in refusing to rule, left standing a Chicago Circuit Court of Appeals decision.

McCormick Quits Stock Presidency

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street was surprised today by the latest development in the American resignation of President Edward T. McCormick.

McCormick, head of the nation's No. 2 stock exchange since 1951, resigned Monday. Stepping out with him was Michael E. Mooney, general counsel.

The exchange, under investigation by the Securities and Exchange Commission and a committee of its own members, said only that McCormick and Mooney felt that because of recent publicity it was in the best interests of the exchange that they resign.

Gustave Levy, chairman of the A&E's nine-man investigating committee, commented: "We think the board of governors acted properly in accepting the resignations."

While there had been speculation that McCormick had been under pressure, an SEC spokesman said in Washington: "The SEC was not consulted by the authorities of the exchange with respect to the resignations of Messrs. McCormick and Mooney, nor did it request or otherwise suggest their resignations."

Joseph F. Reilly, chairman of the exchange's board of governors, took over as president pro tem.

The exchange was rocked last May when the SEC suspended a father and son team of specialists, Jerry and Gerard Re, on charges of manipulating stock prices and controlling the flow of securities into the market.

The commission charged that the Res were responsible for illegal sale of $10 million worth of stock. The father and son were arrested and now are free on bond.

The Re case led to an investigation of the ASE by the SEC. The inquiry has been broadened by congressional authorization to embrace all securities markets.

McCormick, 50, was born in Phoenix, Ariz., and later lived in Tucson, Ariz. He earned degrees at the University of Arizona, University of California and Duke University.

He joined the SEC in 1934 as a securities analyst. He became assistant chief accountant, assistant director and in 1949 a commissioner through appointment by President Harry S. Truman.

As the exchange's third paid president, he received $75,000 under a contract that still had three years to go.

Reilly has been a member of the exchange 31 years and was serving his third term as chairman of the board of governors.

DETROIT (AP) — Philco Corp. is a subsidiary of the Ford Motor Co. today. The automaker acquired the electronics and appliance manufacturer in a deal involving an estimated $145 million Monday.

Ford gave an estimated $100 million worth of Ford stock and assumed $45 million in Philco debts. Stockholders get one Ford share for each four and a half Philco shares they held.

Ford closed at 114½ and Philco at 25¼ on the New York Stock Exchange Monday. Ford was down $1 from its top; Philco down 25 cents.

The acquisition of Philco was Ford's second of the year in the automotive supplier field. Earlier Ford acquired the trade name "Autolite" and a major portion of the battery and sparkplug manufacturing facilities of Electric Autolite Co. in Toledo.

Some 80 per cent of Philco's current production is in electronics, but it also manufactures radios, television sets, refrigerators, freezers, washers and dryers.

Irving A. Duffy, 85 Manor Road, Birmingham, a member of the Ford board of directors and vice president-general products, became chairman of the Philco board.

Charles E. Beck, director of Ford's business planning office, was named Philco president.

Appliance-Food Plan Draws Ire

Philco Tells of Charges Depending on Groceries Legality Doubted

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Philco Corp. has unveiled some details of a plan whereby a consumer can pay for appliances in part through regular weekly purchases at grocery supermarkets.

★ ★ ★

Philco calls it an "instant dividend plan." A customer signs, let's say, for a food freezer and agrees to the usual time-payment sales contract with normal finance charges. If he wants to use the "instant dividend plan" he agrees to some additional charges.

The monthly payments under the "instant" plan are reduced in relation to the amount of food and other goods purchased at participating stores.

There is a graduated scale under which the member gets a $2.20 credit for $40 worth of food purchases in a month, up to $10 credit for $182 in purchases.

The announcement drew immediate fire from a Chicago appliance firm, which said the plan spells financial ruin for appliance dealers and distributors. R. C. Connell, vice president of Eureka Williams Co., Chicago, said he also doubted the legality of the plan and said he had seen instances of food prices being padded in some stores offering it.

MINIMUM TILT—Independent four wheel suspension allows the Pontiac Tempest to take sharp bumps and dips in road surfaces with minimum tilt and sway as illustrated by this engineering demonstration. With wheel raised 6 inches the body remains virtually level due to the car's unique suspension and swing-axle arrangement. Roadability and passenger comfort is further achieved in the Tempest by placing the engine in front and the transmission at the rear to obtain ideal weight distribution.
