Pontiac School Board Gives Final OK to Building Plan

A shifting school population and growth in student enrollment were cited as the Pontiac Board of Education gave final approval at last night's meeting to a proposed $1.13 million elementary school construction program.

The program was backed unanimously by board members present. One member, Mrs. Lucille Marshall, was absent due to illness and didn't vote.

Richard C. Fell, assistant superintendent in charge of business and staff personnel, said the 1966 program would meet "critical areas" of need within the school district.

Fell noted a growth in school population in the northern and eastern sections of the city and pinpointed a fast rise at Franklin Elementary School, where considerable new housing has gone up the past year.

The proposed construction includes 23 new classrooms, conversion of an orthopedic suite at Mark Twain Elementary, two new libraries and 16 service units.

Fell said the service units would be used to accommodate newly established federal programs and also serve as centers for special services.

Main targets of the building program would be Herrington and Franklin elementary schools. Six new classrooms are proposed at each facility.

The Herrington addition, Fell said, would complete the building as originally planned and would also include a larger, more adequate library.

Franklin — expected to be 65 pupils over capacity this year — will receive three new rooms to accommodate increased enrollment, two rooms allowing for projected additional growth and one room for a special education facility.

Four new classrooms and a library proposed at Emerson Elementary would not only take care of projected enrollments there, Fell said, but would also provide space for increase at nearby Longfellow Elementary.

Approximately 100 pupils are presently being transported from the Broadway-Maxwell-Jordan area in the Emerson district to Longfellow.

Fell said projected enrollment increases at Longfellow would render the transfer program impractical by next year.

Fell also introduced as part of

Fed Up With McNamara?

2 U.S. Admirals Are Quitting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Disagreement with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's views on Pentagon control in shipbuilding programs appeared today to be the reason two Navy admirals who head the Bureau of Ships have asked for retirement.

Rear Adm. William A. Brockett, chief of the bureau, and his deputy, Rear Adm. John A. Curtze, filed their requests for retirement yesterday.

McNamara's official spokesman confirmed the fact that the requests for immediate retirement had been submitted, but declined to say more.

Curtze told a newsman of his action:

"I have good and sufficient personal reasons. I plan to pick up a lot of loose ends that I allowed to slip during my 35 years of Navy service."

He did not elaborate.

But another source in the Pentagon said unhappiness by the two admirals over top civilian management seemed to be a major factor in the retirement requests.

Congressional sources reported that the disagreement also involved McNamara's closing of some shipyards.

These sources said the two admirals are "fed up" and predicted they will speak out as soon as their retirement becomes effective.

Dissatisfaction presumably began developing almost two years ago when the Defense Department and Navy reorganized the Office of Navy Material and decided that the office would be headed by an officer of vice admiral rank.

INTERLOPERS?

This interposed a new, higher-ranking level between the long-established Bureau of Ships, headed by rear admirals, and the top civilian management of the Defense Department.

The Bureau of Ships traditionally had been the office which handled final decisions on what types of ships would be built and where they would be built.

The New York Times reported today that the two admirals had submitted resignations "in protest against the increasing centralization of authority in the Defense Department."

ANSWERS STUDENTS — Sen. Wayne Morse (right), D-Oregon, elaborated on his views on the United Nations to a cluster of students and a few adults who crowded around him after his speech in Bloomfield Township last night. The senator's appearance commemorated the 20th anniversary of the world organization.

Morse: Viet Victory Won't Bring Peace

The United States will win the war in Viet Nam, but the victory will not bring peace to Southeast Asia, Sen. Wayne Morse predicted last night.

The Oregon Democrat, who has served in the U.S. Senate since 1945, addressed some 650 persons at Marian High School in Bloomfield Township.

His appearance before the Oakland County Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations marked the 20th anniversary of the world organization.

Morse said both Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic should have been placed under U. N. trusteeship.

This country's failure to take the problems to the U. N. has impaired the international organization's peace-keeping function, he said.

Also blocking peace efforts is American refusal to consider U. N. membership for Red China, according to Morse.

NO HOPE

"There's no hope of the Viet Cong standing up against the military power of the United States—it's like shooting fish in a barrel," he said.

The senator commented that successful negotiations cannot be conducted at a surrender table.

"Soon we will be negotiating

College Fund Boost Vetoed

A $1.2-million supplemental appropriation bill that would have poured extra money into eight Michigan colleges and universities, including Oakland University, was vetoed today by acting Gov. William G. Milliken.

Two other major appropriation measures—homestead tax relief for senior citizens and disabled veterans—were also killed by Milliken.

The higher education appropriation would have provided funds to make up for unexpected enrollment increases at some of the state's smaller schools, beyond what their budgets could absorb.

Oakland University had anticipated its share of the $1.2 million at $100,000 to $200,000. OU enrollment is up 36 per cent from last year.

★ ★ ★

"It is unsound, in my opinion, to encourage a precedent by which tax dollars, as a matter of policy, follow students into our institutions of higher learning," Milliken said.

THIRD DEFEAT

Milliken's veto was the third defeat for the enrollment incentive bill. Gov. Romney vetoed a similar provision contained in one of the appropriation bills turned out of the spring legislative session.

★ ★ ★

An attempt to override Romney's veto then failed to gain the two-thirds majority needed in the Senate.

★ ★ ★

The current version apparently failed to win either Milliken's or Romney's favor. Milliken's veto reportedly came on instructions from the governor, now on a Far East tour.

Milliken claimed that the killing of the three multimillion-

GM Donates $165,000 to UF

In behalf of its three local plants, General Motors Corp. has contributed $165,000 to the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

Glenn H. Griffin, president of the United Fund, announced the GM gift, which bites a huge chunk out of the 1965 campaign goal of $875,000.

Griffin, who accepted the corporate gift, said GM's donation was 18.9 per cent of the total goal.

He also noted the contribution amounted to a 10 per cent increase over GM's $150,000 Pontiac Area United Fund gift last year.

★ ★ ★

The three GM plant managers made the check presentation. They are John Z. DeLorean, Pontiac Motor Division general manager; Calvin J. Werner, GMC Truck and Coach Division general manager; and Thomas F. Wiethorn, Fisher Body plant manager.

Werner is this year's general campaign chairman.

Meantime, Wiethorn is chairman of the industrial division of the UF drive. The goal for this division has been set at $582,463 this year.

Griffin expressed appreciation of GM's support of the community and said this major contribution would go a long way toward meeting the needs of the 55 agencies served by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

★ ★ ★

"Because our goal of $875,000 is the largest in Pontiac history we still have a long way to go to make this year's campaign a success," Griffin said.

★ ★ ★

He added that private citizens share with industry the responsibility to meet this goal for the common good of the community.

The 18th Pontiac Area campaign was officially begun Oct. 14 with the torch lighting kickoff ceremonies at City Hall. The drive is scheduled to be completed Nov. 4.

FCC Orders Phone Rate Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has ordered an investigation of telephone rates — an action blasted by the board chairman of AT&T as totally unwarranted and unnecessary.

The investigation, announced yesterday by the FCC, will cover almost all the services offered by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The regulatory agency said one of its objectives is to see if it should prescribe maximum charges to the public.

AT&T Board Chairman Frederick R. Kappel fired back in a statement issued in New York: "The action taken today by the FCC is totally unwarranted and unnecessary, and in the final analysis the telephone-using public will be the loser."

JUST AND REASONABLE

Among other things the investigation will determine, the FCC said, is if Bell System's charges are just and reasonable under the Communications Act.

First Snow Flurries Herald Cold Spell

The first snow flurries of the season arrived in the Pontiac area at 8:45 this morning. Temperatures dropped to a new low of 30 at 6 a.m.

Tonight will be clear and cold, the mercury dipping into the high 20s.

Fair and a little warmer is the forecast for tomorrow, highs hitting 52 to 58; and sunny and mild is the outlook for Saturday.

Today's northwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

The temperature in downtown Pontiac at 2 p.m. was 40.

King invited "all civil rights and religious groups whose personnel have been victimized by recent tragedies in the South" to attend the meeting.

Johnson Tells Plan for Space Rendezvous

Crafts Would Have 2-Man Crews; Seek to Make Up Lost Time

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — The United States will attempt a side-by-side orbit by two spaceships, probably in January, President Johnson announced today.

The plan is to launch one spacecraft; follow it as soon as possible with another, perhaps a week later, and have them rendezvous and fly in formation.

Since each craft would have a two-man crew, this would put four American astronauts into space simultaneously.

The purpose of the dual flights would be to make up some of the time lost last week when failure of an Atlas Agena rocket forced postponement of the Gemini 6 flight.

★ ★ ★

Officials at the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, Tex., indicated the two-flight plan would call for Gemini 7 to be launched first and Gemini 6 to be launched 10 days later. There would be no docking exercise, only rendezvous in space.

ACCORDING TO PLANS

The officials indicated Gemini 7 would carry out its scheduled 14-day mission and Gemini 6 would remain in orbit only for its two day flight. Gemini 7 originally was scheduled to be launched Dec. 9.

Johnson made public a memo in which Administrator James E. Webb of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration informed him about the plan.

If all goes well, the two American spaceships would fly in formation as close to each other as possible — "a matter of feet," according to press secretary Bill D. Moyers.

The Soviet Union in 1963 put two manned spaceships into orbit simultaneously but, according to American estimates, they were separated by at least three miles.

HOW IT WORKS

Here is how the American program would work, if NASA scientists can manage it:

Murphy to Pick Chief Deputy

Oakland County Clerk-Register of Deeds John D. Murphy said today that he expected to name a successor to former Chief Deputy Register Helen J. Hoskins in about two weeks.

Mrs. Hoskins, a county employe for 20 years, was fired by Murphy last Monday.

Murphy said that the new chief deputy register probably would be selected from his present staff.

He denied any involvement of politics in the dismissal of Mrs. Hoskins.

★ ★ ★

"It was simply a case that there is room for only one register of deeds," Murphy explained.

2 DISMISSED

He pointed out that only two of his 48 staff members have been dismissed since he took over the office 10 months ago—Mrs. Hoskins and a typist.

Also dismissed were a special assistant to the former Republican clerk-register of deeds and his secretary, but both were advised that they would be replaced before Murphy, a Democrat, took office.

"These two people both were notified by my predecessor," Murphy said.

Mrs. Hoskins' husband, Homer D., who was manager of Pontiac Municipal Airport, died Monday evening. He had suffered heart trouble in recent months.

Mrs. Hoskins discovered his body when she returned home shortly after 6 p.m.

the construction program the proposed purchase of two two-unit portable classroom facilities.

One facility would be erected at Owen Elementary and the other at Wisner Elementary.

The portable rooms were described by Fell as having self-contained heating and plumbing, available in wall-to-wall carpeting and costing about half as much as conventional classrooms.

Each facility would run about $35,000. Fell said the units could be transported to other locations as needed for an estimated cost of $1,500.

Three classrooms and a library are proposed for Rogers Elementary.

Development of construction plans and specifications at Herrington and Rogers will be done by O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates, Inc., and at Emerson and Franklin by Harry M. Denyes Associates, Inc.

Marines Hunting Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marine patrols went on the hunt for the Viet Cong around Da Nang and Chu Lai today after Communist mortars and suicide squads destroyed 19 helicopters and two bombers in simultaneous attacks on the two Marine centers in central Viet Nam.

Another 21 helicopters were damaged. The Marines reported they killed 39 guerrillas and suffered only light casualties during the two attacks just before midnight.

It was the third sabotage raid on the Marine air and infantry complex on the coast of central Viet Nam.

The Communists did the bulk of their damage at Marble Mountain, an air strip two miles across the river from the big Da Nang air base. The attack destroyed or crippled two thirds of the 60 helicopters on the strip.

Seabees there also suffered light casualties from mortar shells. The main Da Nang base was not attacked.

DESTROY PLANES

Two AD4 Skyhawk jet bombers were destroyed at Chu Lai, 52 miles south of Da Nang.

Both airfields came under heavy mortar fire before Viet Cong suicide squads slipped in and attacked the aircraft with demolition charges and rifle fire but most of the damage was apparently caused by the mortars.

Maj. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, commander of Marines in Viet Nam, said several of the damaged helicopters would be flying again today. More than half of the wounded Marines were expected to be back on duty by tonight.

★ ★ ★

The Marines said 37 Viet Cong were killed at or near Marble Mountain and two at Chu Lai.

SUPPORT DUE

Gen. Walt reported a wounded guerrilla who was captured said the Marble Mountain suicide team came in boats down the Da Nang River and 200 or more guerrillas were supposed to back them up.

Walt said a Marine patrol ambushed about 100 Viet Cong near Da Nang a few hours before the guerrilla raid. The Marines killed 15 of the enemy in stand-up fighting. Four Viet Cong were bayoneted to death.

It was believed this was part of the backup force for the later raid.

Walt said he believed the main Da Nang base, with its big jet airport 370 miles northeast of Saigon, was the intended target but the Viet Cong failed to get near it.

★ ★ ★

The main Da Nang air base is "the one that is hurting them," Walt said. "It means something to the people up North. They've never heard of Marble Mountain."

The big Da Nang base is a springboard for U.S. air attacks against North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong.

Extra Money for Colleges Draws Veto dollar measures was necessary to safeguard Michigan's overall fiscal integrity.

Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, a chief supporter of the enrollment incentive bill, said, "There is nothing we can do but introduce it again next year."

The legislature has recessed until Dec. 31, and O'Brien said he foresaw no special sessions being called before that time.

★ ★ ★

O'Brien disagreed with Milliken's reasons for vetoing the three bills and two others.

SHOULD MEET NEEDS

"There is a $135-million surplus and more coming in," said O'Brien. "The needs of citizens should be met with these funds."

Also killed was a measure that would have extended tax relief to senior citizens who rent their property.

It was a companion to an old folks property tax relief bill.

It would have given some 60,000 renters the equivalent to tax relief on the first $2,500 in state equalized valuation on a dwelling with a total valuation of $10,000.

OVER 65

Recipients would have to be over 65 or disabled and have maximum annual income of $5,000.

The bill would have cost the state an estimated $4.5 million to $6.5 million a year.

Third was a veterans' homestead exemption bill. It would have broadened the basic eligibility requirements for veterans' exemptions.

★ ★ ★

Milliken estimated the cost at $4 million a year. Rep. William Harry Thorne, D-Dearborn Heights, had said the bill would cost the state some $2.5 million.

Even though Michigan started the current fiscal year with $135.5 million surplus, some of that extra money would be needed to meet this year's budget, he said.

Next Week Likely

Treasurer Decision Soon

A decision on a new county treasurer will probably be reached next week.

According to county officials whose job it is to appoint a successor to the late Charles A. Sparks, the field of candidates will be narrowed down considerably by that time.

Sparks died Friday while serving in the first year of his 17th consecutive elected term. He had held the post for 33 years.

County Clerk John D. Murphy, one of three county officials who will appoint the successor, said the names of at least 15 persons have been recommended for the job.

"It's surprising how many have university backgrounds in administration," said Murphy.

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson and Probate Judge Donald Adams are the other two, who under state law, are required to appoint a successor.

BOTH DEMOCRATS

Like Murphy, both are Democrats.

With the death of Sparks, a Republican, the Democrats for the first time have an opportunity to control the balance of power among elected county officials.

The other two elected Republican officials are Sheriff Frank Irons and Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

All the candidates for the treasurer's job reportedly are Democrats.

Among those whose names have been placed under consideration are Frank Sierawski, formerly of Ferndale and now director of the vehicle services division of the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing; Waterford Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin; Rep. Arthur E. Law, of Pontiac; and Vance Fouts, Hazel Park manager.

Others are Asst. Prosecutor James Stelt, one-time manager of Otsego; White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz; Mrs. Lucille Marshall of Pontiac who opposed Sparks in the last election; Harold Julian, UAW citizenship representive and a vice chairman of the county Democratic Party; and Farmington attorney John Burke.

Murphy said that in selecting a successor, geography will be taken into consideration since he and Bronson are from South Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

WHITE-MAN RULE

"The day of white-man rule in Asia is over," he said.

The senator criticized the lack of effort to bring Red China into the U. N.

Rather than lining up votes against China, the U.S. should be seeking negotiations for that nation's admission, he said.

Morse urged that this be done while the U.S. still has the majority and before Red China is admitted on her own terms.

The senator said he would oppose Red China's admission as the situation now stands, because the Communist country is violating the U.N. Charter in regards to Formosa, Korea and the imprisonment of nationals from other countries.

Abandoned Baby Put in Foster Home

Two-month-old Dawn Marie Pusey — abandoned Monday at Pontiac General Hospital — was taken to an Oakland County foster home this morning after preliminary hearing yesterday before Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard.

Judge Barnard said the child would remain at the home until more permanent arrangements for her care were determined at a final hearing scheduled Tuesday.

Neither 19-year-old James Pusey nor his wife, Susan, 18 — Dawn Marie's parents — were able to offer a definite plan for the child's care at yesterday's hearing, according to Barnard.

The hearing followed a petition of neglect filed at the juvenile division on behalf of the infant yesterday morning by Pontiac policewoman Mrs. George Caronis.

Tuesday, the parents walked into the Pontiac police station.

LEFT EARLIER

Their daughter had been left 24 hours earlier in the chapel at Pontiac General.

Barnard said that in the disposition of the case he will consider "the best needs of the child without forgetting the parent's rights."

Pusey indicated at the preliminary hearing his job and residence plans were uncertain, according to Barnard. A juvenile division worker has been assigned to the case.

● As soon as Gemini 7 left the launching pad, NASA men would begin preparations to launch Gemini 6—the ship that didn't go up last week—from the same pad as soon, as possible. Much would depend on whether the Gemini 7 launch did serious damage to the pad.

● Assuming all went well up to this point, Gemini 6 and its crew of Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Air Force Maj. Thomas P. Stafford would be put into orbit about seven or eight days after the Gemini 7 launch.

★ ★ ★

● Once both spaceships were in orbit, their crews would try to maneuver them for a formation flight only feet apart. Gemini 6 would stay in orbit only a couple of days.

Armchair Travelers to See Peru

BIRMINGHAM — The Community House will open its 1965-66 travel film series next week with "Three Worlds of Peru."

The color film narrated by Eric Pavel will be shown at 8 p.m. Nov. 5 and 6.

Pavel will introduce armchair travelers to three different phases of Peruvian life — its modern society, its Indian culture and its antiquities.

Located in the middle of South America's west coast, Peru is a country of extremes.

OTHER TOWNS

Also shown in the film are the towns of temperate climate.

Pavel was born into a family of world travelers. His college years were spent in Switzerland and England, when he earned degrees in engineering and economics.

Able to speak six languages, the photographer-narrator concentrates on portraying the people of a country in his travel films.

As in previous years, the Community House will serve a prefilm dinner, featuring foods of the country being shown on the film.

RESERVATIONS

An American menu also is available. Reservations for the 6 p.m. dinner should be made by Nov. 4.

No reservations are necessary for the film program, although tickets can be purchased in advance and at the door.

The Birmingham - Bloomfield Poetry Club has announced a poetry contest open to all residents of Oakland County.

The two categories for judging are light verse and more serious poetry.

There also are three age divisions — up to sixth grade, grades seven through 12 and college-age or older.

Prizes will be awarded in each category and entries will be returned only if accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

Entries should be mailed to Poetry Contest, Birmingham Community House, 380 S. Bates. Additional information is available at the Community House.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A series of four programs, "Exploring Science," for fourth, fifth and sixth graders, will start Nov. 6 at the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

The sessions will be held on four successive Saturdays at 9 and 10:30 a.m.

The subjects to be covered are "The Sun's Family," "Animal Specialties," "Conservation" and "Electromagnetic Energy."

Pontiac School Affairs

Board to Ask Bargaining Agent Vote

The Pontiac Board of Education moved unanimously at its meeting last night to petition the State Labor Mediation Board for holding of an election to determine a bargaining agent for the city's public school teachers.

★ ★ ★

The action was endorsed by representatives of both teacher groups — the Pontiac Education Association (PEA), negotiator of the existing agreement between the board and teachers, and the Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT), an affiliate of the AFL-CIO.

"The sooner the better," said Mrs. Ernest Jackson, PEA president.

The PEA had previously asked the board for outright recognition. "I think we would have had an election in any event," she said.

★ ★ ★

LIKED DECISION

Lynn Westover, head of the PFT, said his group was "quite pleased" with the board decision.

Monroe M. Osmun, board president, described the election as a "fair, democratic process" in determining bargaining rights.

Under terms of Public Act 379 — passed this summer by the state legislature—school boards and a bargaining agent for the teachers must negotiate a written contract spelling out personnel policies, working conditions and salaries.

★ ★ ★

The act provides that any employe group able to show bargaining authorization cards signed by 30 per cent of the employes can petition the labor mediation board to conduct an election.

VOIDED PACT

In effect, the act voided an agreement last Feb. 1 in which the school board had recognized the PEA as bargaining agent for the teachers.

In other business, board members were told that results of tests given third grade pupils last May showed pupils in the Pontiac School District equalled the national norm in reading comprehension and ranked one month below the norm in vocabulary.

Arnold W. Embree, director of pupil personnel and guidance services, presented the results in the second report of a four-part discussion of the school system's elementary reading testing program.

★ ★ ★

Embree said a test of basic skills given to third graders had been compared to normative achievements among pupils across the county.

WIDE RANGE

The city's 27 elementary schools showed a fairly wide range of reading abilities, with one school averaging as much as a full year ahead of the national norm.

Groups from other schools scored nearly a year behind.

Embree pointed out, however, that in some instances pupils of apparent high native intelligence had failed to attain the reading level expected of them.

★ ★ ★

Conversely, in some schools which averaged at the norm or below, pupils' reading achievements outstripped estimates based on previous intelligence tests.

PROBLEMS MET

Teachers from several of the schools told the board of problems faced in upgrading not only reading abilities but general educational achievement among so-called disadvantaged children.

One teacher cited an instance of an elementary girl who had been in four different schools in a period of seven months as her mother moved from home to home.

Another instructor described his pupils — targets of a special reading program — as "bright" and said the school's job is "to channel this talent in the right places."

★ ★ ★

The board formally moved to support a proposed research project to be carried out by William Robertson, Pontiac school district psychologist on leave of absence.

STUDY EFFECT

Robertson, pursuing a full-time graduate program at the University of Michigan, intends to make a study of the effect of segregation on education.

★ ★ ★

He said his work would center on achievements, behavior, motivations and grades as measured in a test group of 240 students at Pontiac Central High School.

Pontiac Central was selected for the project, Robertson said, because of the varied racial makeup of the four junior high schools from which its students come.

Scholarships Given to 873 Newsboys

College scholarships valued at over $342,000 were awarded this year to 873 newspaper boys, according to a survey made by the International Circulation Managers Association.

Results of the survey were announced in Chicago at a recent meeting of the newspaper boy committee of the American Newspaper Publishers Association and I.C.M.A. officials.

The scholarships, awarded by 142 daily newspapers in 96 U. S. and Canadian cities, varied in amount from $100 to $4,000, with the average about $400.

The survey showed that 6,207 former newspaper boys have received over $3.3 million in scholarships, with the greater share of this in the last decade.

★ ★ ★

Sir Winston's Home Is Sold for $287,000

LONDON (UPI) — The mellow brick house where Sir Winston Churchill lived and died was sold today for $287,000 to an unidentified British family trust.

★ ★ ★

Samuel Percival Simpson, acting for the trust, bought No. 28 Hyde Park Gate within four minutes of the start of the auction. His was the second offer after the bidding opened at $280,000.

Crime Squad Is Busy Checking In, Not Up

WARRINGTON, England (UPI)—The new regional crime squad was given its own telephone so members would not be distracted from special tasks by routine police calls.

The first caller asked for the lunch menu. The second wanted a room and the third asked when the bar would close. An investigation showed the number was the same as a local hotel.

Homer D. Hoskins

The untimely death of HOMER D. HOSKINS shocked and saddened a wide circle of friends and business associates.

HOSKINS

Manager of the local airport for nearly a quarter-century and in large measure responsible for its steady development, Mr. HOSKINS was himself one of the first pilots to use the facility.

★ ★ ★

He was recognized as an eminent figure in the aviation field, and in 1961 was named Michigan's "Most Outstanding Airport Manager of the Year." He was also a charter member and later president of the Michigan Association of Airport Managers and a long-time board member of the American Association of Airport Executives.

Prior to assumption of the management of the airport, the native Ohioan engaged in the real estate business in Pontiac and for a time was identified with the Pontiac Motor Division.

Keenly interested in civic affairs, no call on his time or effort in any worthy cause went unanswered.

★ ★ ★

The community suffered a deep loss in the passing of this sterling personality with the friendly smile. He will be long remembered by those privileged to know him.

Excise Tax-Cut Gives Public Pocket Money

So far the $1.7 billion excise cut approved by Congress this year appears to be achieving its objective—that of lowering prices on a broad range of items to stimulate consumer spending.

The President's Council of Economic Advisers has reported that 90 per cent of the excise reductions were being passed onto consumers in August. This was up from 75 per cent in July.

★ ★ ★

Some manufacturers have reduced prices nearly equal to the amount of the excise reduction, others have reduced them only partially. A few have kept their prices the same to retain the tax-cut benefits for themselves.

The Administration is expected to encourage the latter to join the majority. A public list of those holding out on the consumer might be effective in this regard.

★ ★ ★

Even as it stands now, however—and should it continue to stand—this figure of 90 per cent is an impressive and laudable record on the part of American business.

U. S. Backgrounders Heard but Not 'Seen'

Another "national foreign policy conference" is being held today and tomorrow by the State Department. This is the means by which policy-making officials of the Administration brief the news media on issues of foreign policy. But the procedure of the conference worries newsmen.

"The conference," says the State Department, "will be conducted under the background-only ground rule . . . the information presented may be reported, without attribution to the source."

The excuse for this kind of situation is that it permits greater candor on the part of U. S. officials who otherwise might hesitate to speak out.

But the increasing use of "background only" rules in Washington news coverage has made the reporter a partner in a game which does not always meet the requirements of the public's "right to know." Everybody in Washington — and the Kremlin—may know what official made the statement; only the public is left in the dark.

A case in point is the recent statement by an unidentified "high U.S. official" that implied that the United States is now aiming at total military victory in Viet Nam.

Senate Majority Leader MIKE MANSFIELD, D-Mont., on October 19 told the Senate he deplored what he suspected to be a deliberate attempt by some officials to push American policy in Viet Nam off a negotiating track.

★ ★ ★

Many Washington newsmen do know the original source, who happened to be a very high official indeed. But under the background rule for disseminating, reporting lips are sealed.

Regardless, the practice goes on, and 300 editors will serve as uncomfortable accomplices at the State Department conference.

Congress Gripes; Is It Justified?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Congress has come to expect a vacation of two or three months, unlike the rest of the population which considers a job a yearly occupation with perhaps no more than a month off at most.

MARLOW

Thus its moans and groans about fatigue and overwork and the need for rest coming from the Capitol before Congress finally closed up for the year Oct. 23.

The big exception was in 1963 when it stayed until Dec. 30. No peacetime session was ever longer. But in 1964 it quit Oct. 3, in 1962 on Oct. 13, and in 1961 on Sept. 27.

This was a highly productive Congress — President Johnson called it "fabulous" and it was probably the greatest producer in American history —but this very fact raises a question.

Why should such production be so unusual?

It wouldn't be so unusual if Congress generally worked harder, cut out some of the bombast and oratory and stalling and, instead of voting as parties, lined up for or against a piece of legislation on its merits.

FEW DID UTMOST

There have been few Congresses in history which could not have done more than they did.

But it's an unhappy reflection on the congressional process when Congress is most productive only in times of national peril or when prodded, driven and guided by a strong president.

The two most productive peacetime Congresses in this century were in the depression days when President Franklin D. Roosevelt's New Deal was trying to avoid disaster and now under Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, the most experienced of all presidents in the ways of Congress since he spent 25 years there, happens to be a political genius.

OVERWHELMING CONTROL

But even this would not have been enough to get his lead of major legislation approved this year if the Democrats had not won such overwhelming control of Congress.

And even that might not have been enough if Johnson, who has practically no outside recreation except when on his ranch, hadn't worked almost around the clock lining up congressional votes.

Why does Congress have to be pushed into a great performance? Why can't it do the same job on its own? The answer of history seems to be: It is not capable of it by itself. It would be nice to think otherwise but the record speaks for itself.

Voice of the People:

'Quacks and Swindlers Bilk Elderly of Millions'

An 80-year-old man gave a bogus termite control expert $1,790 for ridding his house of termites that were never there. An elderly widow was persuaded twice within three years that her furnace was dangerous and needed replacing — at a cost of $3,847. An 80-year-old woman was induced by a fake bank examiner to withdraw her savings of $3,300 and to turn them over to him.

★ ★ ★

These few examples of the callous exploitation of the aged point up the more incredible aspects of a problem that has been the subject of two Senate committee investigations in the past few years. Reports received by the National Better Business Bureau indicate that the Nation's 18 million elderly citizens are bilked of hundreds of millions of dollars each year by quacks and swindlers who prey on their loneliness, fears, infirmities and financial desperation.

Beware. Beware. Beware. Ask us—or someone you trust.

'Courtesy Is Lacking in American Drivers'

My pet peeve on the highway is the drivers who won't let a lady edge in when there's a line of solid traffic. I stood five minutes the other day before a courteous driver held back long enough for me to slide in—a matter of seconds. They aren't that selfish in Europe.

LETTY L.

Wants Answer on Required Turn Signals

Lonie rightly complained in the Voice of the People about the thoughtless drivers who don't indicate right- and left-hand turns with signals. I agree and I also think they should use their turn signal when they intend to move from one traffic lane to another in traffic.

★ ★ ★

Lonie asked the City Traffic Department whether this isn't required by law. Can't the Pontiac Traffic Division be polite enough to answer him in the Voice of the People?

'Why Won't Employers Give Jobs to Blind?'

I'd like to know why employers in Pontiac and Oakland County won't hire blind people. Why do they keep passing the buck and blaming it on insurance or one of their higher bosses instead of finding jobs in their shops and giving the blind a chance to prove what we can do? Instead, they cast us into the corner and forget about us as human beings. Let us work and help support the community instead of the community supporting us. This is the way most blind people feel.

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ Thinks He Can Ignore Law

WASHINGTON—It may come as a surprise to many people to learn that President Johnson thinks he can ignore a federal law he dislikes, even though specifically directed by Congress to obey it.

LAWRENCE

There would have been no surprise if the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King had said this in his crusade for "civil disobedience." But has a president of the United States the right to disregard an act of Congress setting forth explicitly how public funds shall be spent?

Congress at its recent session passed a bill authorizing $2 billion for various kinds of public-works projects, but stipulated that no money should be used to construct, operate or maintain future water-resource projects costing under $10 million without specific approval of the public works committees of the House and the Senate.

Mr. Johnson takes the position that to obey the provision would diminish the authority and powers of the presidency, and he says this is "repugnant to the Constitution."

★ ★ ★

If Mr. Johnson this week had merely announced that he thought the provision of the present law to be unconstitutional, and if he had instructed the Department of Justice to file a suit and get a court ruling, there would have been no criticism.

DEVIATION

But it certainly is a deviation from the spirit of the Constitution itself for the President to assert the right to choose the laws he will or will not enforce.

Often Congress passes a single law which actually contains anywhere from a dozen to a hundred provisions, each of which could have been a separate statute. This formula is used in order to secure the passage of certain provisions which probably would never get presidential approval if passed as a single measure.

In rejecting the veto procedure that has always been open to a chief executive if he does not like a piece of legislation, Mr. Johnson says: "Absolute legal consistency would require that I veto what is otherwise a sound bill because of this one objectionable provision."

★ ★ ★

What Mr. Johnson could do, however, is to give his support publicly to the adoption of a constitutional amendment often advocated in Congress which would permit a president to veto particular items in any law passed if he found them objectionable. These provisions could then be enacted only after two-thirds of both houses had rejected his veto.

NO RIGHT

Mr. Johnson declares that his "legal advisers" told him that Congress had no right to put such a limitation as it did in the public-works bill.

It would be enlightening if the American people now were told on what basis such legal advice was given, as no precedent has ever been publicized which says that the legislative branch cannot pass any law it pleases designating the exact purposes for which the executive branch is to spend the money.

The Constitution gives Congress the right not only to raise money by levying taxes but to say what shall be done with the money.

★ ★ ★

It certainly is novel, therefore, to read that a president of the United States feels he can decide for himself whether he shall obey a specific provision of a law passed by Congress with respect to the spending of public funds.

This is a startling development in American history.

Capital Letter:

Are Pacifists of Today Reincarnated Warriors?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — A highly unusual "explanation" for today's widespread campus uprisings and juvenile delinquency has been advanced by Dr. Denys Kelsey, an internationally known psychiatrist who currently makes his home in the south of France.

Ruth Montgomery

Through the use of hypnotism on troubled patients, Dr. Kelsey gradually came to believe in reincarnation. In a series of lectures delivered at the "Association for Research and Enlightenment" in Virginia Beach, Va., he made this startling assertion:

Most of those living today who were born since 1941 previously lost their lives as a result of World War I or World War II. Having been reincarnated, they are naturally in revolt against the kind of adult muddling in world affairs which caused their previous deaths in battle.

If perchance Dr. Kelsey's strange hypothesis is correct, it could help to explain the current rash of pacifist demonstrations on college campuses, destruction of draft cards, organized student rallies against our policy in Viet Nam, and juvenile defiance of authority.

Dr. Kelsey's belief in reincarnation evolved after he had led numerous hypnotized patients further and further back into childhood memories, seeking to uncover traumatic experiences that might explain their present mental ills.

★ ★ ★

Some, he discovered, were recounting episodes which allegedly occurred in lands unknown to them in their waking state, and in previous periods of history.

FOUND A WIFE

He began to read all that he could find on the age-old subject of reincarnation. The quest led him eventually to Joan Grant, author of "Winged Pharaoh" and "Life as Carola," books which describe her purported earlier lives. She is now Dr. Kelsey's wife.

She professes to remember how she met death in forty previous incarnations, and says the knowledge had proved helpful in understanding her automatic aversion to certain places, people and things.

Hmmmmmm! Do you suppose that someday a juvenile judge, hearing the case of a rowdy teen-ager who assaulted a cop, will peer at the policeman and ask: "Were you the German soldier who shot and killed this lad during the Battle of Verdun in 1916?"

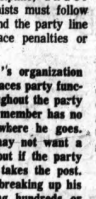
In Washington:

Discipline Is Secret of Success

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In a number of incidents over the past year, it has been evident that a small group of Communists have been able to heavily influence much larger groups into which they have infiltrated.



CROMLEY

This ability of the few to control larger numbers is the direct result of absolute party discipline, under which Communists must follow party orders and the party line precisely or face penalties or expulsion.

The party's organization commission places party functionaries throughout the party apparatus. A member has no control over where he goes. He may or may not want a certain post, but if the party directs it, he takes the post. It may mean breaking up his home, traveling hundreds or thousands of miles, but with the party discipline as it exists, it is the organization commission which has complete control over the party member in this respect.

To enforce this discipline, the Communist party of the United States operates its own "court system."

At the top is the national review (or control) commission. This national body is supplemented by state and local commissions.

The commission is the party's own secret police force. It has been compared to the MVD of the Soviet Union. It combines the functions of the police, the courts and a punishment agency.

The review commission accuses party members when they violate party discipline in any way, it tries them and it metes out punishment to them.

The review commission has also been called the control commission. Having charge of the party's security, it is its job to ferret out FBI (Federal Bureau of Investigation) undercover informants or anybody else in party ranks who may be a threat to party secrecy and the effectiveness of its underground operations.

An "erring" member would probably be first tried by his club or county disciplinary commission. These local "courts" have power to censure publicly or privately, to put a member on probation, to suspend him from party office or to expel him from the party altogether.

There are certain procedures for appeal to higher "courts." But higher party "courts" seldom overturn the decisions of a lower body.

★ ★ ★

"Legal" procedures are seldom used in these "trials." The accused is frequently given no opportunity to present his case. He may suddenly learn he has been "censured" or expelled. Normally the "trials" are secret and no minutes kept. Sometimes the decision is written, sometimes not.

Since there are few written rules, a member can be disciplined for virtually anything the party does not like at the moment, (even for supposedly thinking himself superior to others).

Part of the disciplinary technique is to deliberately keep members nervous, fearful and uncertain—even if they've been completely faithful and obedient. The theory is that this fearful uncertainty tends to keep them from getting out of line. So orders are sometimes deliberately irrational and punishments sometimes deliberately unjust. It adds to the uncertainty.

Indonesian Fight Clouds Future of Pro-Peking Sukarno Aide

By DON HUTH

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno's loss of dictatorial power at the hands of the Indonesian army has cast a shadow over the future of one of this nation's most efficient politicians.

* * *

He is Dr. Subandrio, first deputy premier and concurrently foreign minister, who has been looked upon by many as the potential heir of the ailing, 64-year-old president.

* * *

Subandrio, a man without a political party who has managed to keep himself prominently in the limelight under Sukarno, is under a cloud because of his close association with the Indonesian Communist party—PKI—and its head, D.N. Aidit.

Since the abortive Oct. 1 coup, the army has been systematically rounding up Communists and their supporters and has temporarily suspended the activities of the PKI and its affiliated groups.

BEFORE REBELLION

Before the rebellion, Subandrio's public speeches and statements closely followed the Communist line. He also has been Sukarno's messenger in building up friendlier relations between Indonesia and Communist China.

The Communist Chinese are said to have provided arms to the PKI for use in the coup.

* * *

Subandrio issued brief statements or held impromptu press conferences almost daily before the coup. His comments and speeches always were reported fully in Antara, the Communist-dominated national news agency which the army took over and is purging.

Subandrio's name seldom appears in print now. A Jakarta paper said he told newsmen: "I'm being boycotted."

* * *

Maj. Gen. Achmadi, named information minister by the army, now issues statements after each meeting of Koti, the country's highest policy-making body. Subandrio formerly did most of the talking after the meetings.

A Shrine to Whitman

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The State Conservation Department has named the Whitman-Stafford farm house at Laurel Springs a shrine to the poet Walt Whitman. The house was built in 1790 and was the temporary home of Whitman 80 years later when he was recovering from a severe illness.

'I Guess This Ruins A Beautiful Smile,' The Boy Wrote

Lucky to Be Alive, Says Ambushed GI

By TOM TIEDE

BIEN HOA, Viet Nam (NEA) — Private First Class James Wright tried to talk but his efforts were drowned by the gagging of his own blood.

★ ★ ★

He had been shot through the jaw with a machine gun.

The right side of his face resembled an Early American quilt. Scores of surgical stitches wove discolored patches of flesh together and crimson saliva ran from his gaping, wired mouth.

He had been a handsome kid once. Brush-headed, blue-eyed, fair of complexion. There was a girl back in Dallas, in fact, that thought he was just about the best-looking guy alive.

★ ★ ★

RUINS SMILE

"I guess," he had said when hit, "this ruins my beautiful smile."

Swathed in bloody sheets and clinging to life by a tracheotomy tube which allowed him to breathe through his throat, he wrote down how it happened on a pad of yellow paper. The grammar was faulty. He apologized for that:

"Can you make it out? I'm sorry, I never finished high school."

★ ★ ★

Jim Wright, 18, was a member of Company A when the 1-503 (Airborne) Infantry was assigned to clear out an area in what is called War Zone D — a frightening countryside with the enemy under every rock.

CONG IN TREES

As he wrote it: "We walked into an ambush. They (the Viet Cong) were in the trees and they opened up a 50-caliber machine gun which pinned us down. I was scared real bad.

"After we got organized, we could see they had two 50s and two 30-caliber guns on us. We killed some of them in the trees and then my platoon started after the gun bunkers.

"But they were on a hill and the firepower was too much for us. Four of our guys got it right there. The rest of us stalled. . ."

★ ★ ★

The boy stopped writing and began to choke blood. It ran down his narrow chest before being blotted up with gauze.

COUGHED

It hurt when he coughed, he said. But then it hurt when he didn't cough, too.

"So then we regrouped," he went on, "and made another stab to get on line.

"About then I saw where one of the 30-calibers was positioned and I decided to rush it. I kept low and tried to make a small target, but they zeroed in on me. Next thing I know they hit me in the face with two slugs.

★ ★ ★

"But I didn't black out. I knew exactly what was going on. And that machine gun was still firing up there. So, I just kept moving toward it.

"When I reached them, I dropped a hand grenade in their damn bunker. Our guys told me later I killed five of the people."

By the time they got to Jim Wright, he had caught another bullet — a flesh wound in the side. In sum, he had lost two pints of blood, an undetermined number of teeth, some of his jawbone and part of a lip.

A terrible price.

But with it he purchased five enemy lives and, in part at least, a way out of hell for a company of American infantrymen.

STILL ALIVE

"I ain't so bad off," he indicated. "I think they got maybe a dozen of our guys back there. So maybe I'm even lucky. At least I'm still alive . . ."

★ ★ ★

He started to cough again and squeezed his eyes in pain.

". . . and, anyway, they say plastic surgery ain't too bad now."

Loss of Wife's Love Worth $14,125?

DALLAS (UPI) — A husband seeking a $14,125 damage judgment against the man he says stole his wife's affections is scheduled to appear today in Judge Charles E. Long Jr.'s 134th District Court in Dallas.

Last week a Dallas County jury in Judge Long's court ruled the wife's affections were worth that sum. The wife divorced her husband after being romanced by another man she first met at a series of parties in 1957.

The jury broke the damages down into six categories:

- $1,000 for the loss of his wife as a sexual partner.
- $4,000 for the loss of his wife as a helpmate.
- $625 for doctor's bills for treatment of his wife before the divorce.
- $500 for divorce expenses.
- $2,000 for mental anguish.
- $6,000 for exemplary damages.

The husband had originally sought $151,247 damages. He charged his former wife was wooed by the defendant for seven years and finally got a divorce early this year.

Although the husband contends his then-wife was falsely enticed with overtures of marriage, a marriage between her and the second man—who was also married—never took place.

The second man claimed it was the husband's own fault his wife lost interest in him and their marriage ended in divorce.

GI, 19, 'Grew Up Fast in Viet'

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — It took less than four months in South Viet Nam for an 18-year-old boy from Salisbury to become a 19-year-old man.

"You grow up fast — sometimes a little too fast," Pfc. William Layfield said at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Layfield.

* * *

Although Layfield was shot down twice in helicopters, kidnaped by a terrorist and wounded in action, he said he was anxious to return to the Southeast Asian country soon after the end of his 30-day leave Oct. 30.

That's typical of his attitude, since he volunteered for duty as a helicopter gunner in Viet Nam in the first place.

UNDER FIRE

Layfield arrived in South Viet Nam on June 1. On the same day, he came under fire after U.S. and South Vietnamese troops began an engagement with the Viet Cong about 20 miles north of Saigon.

The crew of Layfield's helicopter ran out of ammunition, landed in a battle zone, withstood enemy fire and picked up trapped and wounded GIs and South Vietnamese troops. For this, Layfield and his crew chief received the Distinguished Flying Cross.

In August, Viet Cong groundfire struck Layfield's machine gun, causing it to explode. He was hospitalized with fragmentation wounds of the hands, arms and legs.

He suffered the wounds near his birthday on Aug. 9. He was awarded the Purple Heart, which he said was "quite a birthday present."

'GREEN NORNET'

For another battle, Layfield and other crewmen received a medal called the "Green Hornet." And for his 170 hours of combat flight duty, he got the Air Medal with two clusters.

Helicopters carrying Layfield twice were downed by enemy ground fire.

The first time the craft was hit as it was flying about 20 feet high and it skidded to the ground. Sniper bullets ricocheted around them. But two more helicopters arrived, giving them support until repairs were finished.

Another time, his helicopter was hit as it was flying at 1,000 feet. The enemy fire hit the tail section, throwing the chopper out of control. Nevertheless, the pilot managed to land safely in a rice paddy.

"Some days, you never get shot at. Other days, all hell breaks loose," Layfield said.

How about the demonstrations here at home against U.S. policy in Viet Nam?

"These demonstrations make us feel like we are fighting without a cause and dying for nothing. I've had too many buddies killed to believe that they were fighting for nothing."

AP Photofax

SEASONED VETERAN—Pfc. William Layfield of Salisbury, Md., looks a bit like a high school student, but he's already a seasoned veteran in the war in Viet Nam. Layfield, who is shown explaining an AP Photofax picture of Viet Nam action, will return to the fighting after a 30-day leave.

Martial Law Reported in Java

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Martial law was today reported proclaimed in central Java to counter widespread sabotage and terrorism.

The army newspaper Berita Yudha said Brig. Gen. Surjo Soempeno, commander of the Diponegoro Division, had decreed a "state of war" (martial law) after widespread subversive activities by "counterrevolutionaries of the Sept. 30" rebel movement.

★ ★ ★

Riots apparently instigated by the Communists wrecked the city of Surakarta last Saturday, the newspaper said.

The Communists have murdered 200 people in east and central Java and kidnaped numerous others, it said.

SEIZED CONTROL

They also seized control of local governments in some areas, raided police posts to get arms, disconnected telephone lines and sabotaged railway and road communications, the newspaper said.

★ ★ ★

Army commandos and units of the Diponegoro Division were reported chasing Communist rebels throughout east and central Java.

The army continued its roundup of Communists in the Jakarta area, and newspapers reported 172 were arrested in the latest sweep.

One newspaper quoted a ranking police officer as saying that security forces discovered documents linking the Communists to the Sept. 30 coup during one of the raids.

The newspaper added that security forces also seized documents revealing espionage activities by the Indonesian Communist party in the state apparatus.

★ ★ ★

Indonesian President Sukarno is opposed to the army's anti-Communist campaign, but so far has not succeeded in curbing it.

★ ★ ★

He met with Communist Chinese Ambassador Yao Chung Ming for the second time in 24 hours Wednesday night and declared that Indonesian-Chinese relations will remain strong and close "despite several slanders" intended to wreck them.

★ ★ ★

Sukarno also indicated he will not drop Subandrio, first deputy premier and foreign minister. Informed sources say there are strong indications the army wants to get rid of Subandrio.

Coin Discovery Feeds Mystery

BANGALORE, India (AP) — More evidence has been uncovered to feed an ancient mystery: How far south in India did Alexander the Great's domain extend after his invasion in 326 B. C.?

Two men helping build a new runway at Bangalore airport uncovered an earthen urn containing 250 silver coins bearing the inscriptions "Augustus Caesar Divine" or "Maxim Pontiff."

Mysore state officials say the coins are 2,000 years old and in ancient times were legal tender in the Roman empire. But how did they get in Bangalore?

This city is in southern India, thousands of miles beyond what historians felt were the limits of Alexander's advance. He is thought to have stopped his armies in distant north India.

Two similar caches of coins have been uncovered in the Bangalore area — in 1908 and 1891.

In all cases, the coins, made of pure silver, were tightly packed in sealed urns.

4-H Leaders to Be Honored

Some 125 Oakland County 4-H leaders will be honored this evening at the annual 4-H Leaders Recognition Banquet.

The affair will be held in the block building at the 4-H Fairgrounds, Perry and Walton, beginning at 7 p.m.

Guest speaker will be Alvaro Aguirre, assistant director of the Department of Agriculture and Education in Mexico.

Aguirre, an International Farm Youth Exchange student, is spending several weeks in Michigan. He is presently the guest of the Vern Whims, 1720 Buell, Oakland Township.

AREA NEWS

★ ★ ★

Toastmaster for the banquet will be Judge Norman R. Barnard of the juvenile division of Oakland County Probate Court, a 16-year 4-H leader.

GIVE AWARDS

In addition to the leaders, over 100 4-H club members will be honored with various county, key club and trip awards.

The top leader awards to be presented will be diamond pins for 20 years of service. They will go to Olive Taylor of 2301 Seymour Lake, Brandon Township; Edith Wiggins of 1640 Middle, Highland Township; and Frank Williamson of 1121 Bielby, Waterford Township.

Pearl pins for 15 years of leadership will go to Marjorie Halsey of 9900 Andersonville, Springfield Township; John Lessiter of 501 Baldwin, Orion Township; Ron Voorheis of 5412 Ormond, White Lake Township; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williamson.

★ ★ ★

10-YEAR PINS

Also receiving 10-year pins will be William Scramlin of 3694 Jossman, Orion Township; Mrs. George Trevethan of 415 Lehigh, Avon Township; and Frank Williamson.

Five-year pins will be presented to 35 leaders and about 75 will be recognized for one year of service.

Judge Barnard will also receive the 4-H Alumni award.

The banquet menu will include roast beef and all the trimmings.

Hearings Set on Rezoning, Code Change

MILFORD — Public hearings on a proposed zoning change and proposed zoning ordinance change will be held by the City Council tonight.

★ ★ ★

At 7:30 p.m. councilmen will hear citizens' opinions on a zoning code amendment which would increase the number of off-street parking spaces required for homes.

The requirement would go from one to two spaces per unit in single-family and trailer park zones and from 1½ to 2¼ in multiple residence zones.

Scheduled for 8 p.m. is a hearing on the rezoning request of John Malpeli, Farmington contractor who wants to build 25 apartment buildings on the north side of Commerce.

★ ★ ★

One eight-unit building now is under construction there. Malpeli is seeking a change from single-family to multiple residential for an additional 11-acre parcel.

More Parking Area in Future?

OXFORD — Off-street parking to help stimulate business may be in the future for the village.

Village Manager Robert W. Smalley said he is waiting for the Chamber of Commerce to form a committee which would decide how much parking is needed and how it would be financed.

The Village Council received a petition from the merchants recently asking that some type of off-street parking program be instituted.

He said the area under discussion centers around the main four corners of the village at Burdick and M-24.

★ ★ ★

Saturday has been officially designated by the Village Council as 'trick-or-treat night.'

The fire department will hold its annual Halloween party for the children starting at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the fire hall.

HARRY LOVE

Church Will Host Special Meetings

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — "A Time of Harvest Blessing" will be the theme of a week of special meetings at the Union Lake Baptist Church, 8390 Commerce.

The series will begin with an 11 a.m. service Sunday. Other programs will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday and 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

★ ★ ★

Harry Love, general director of the Conservative Baptist Association of Michigan, will be the speaker. Directing the music and singing each evening will be Gerald Barkey, gospel tenor and recording artist.

Area Bridge Club Sets Master Point Games

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Mayfair Duplicate Bridge Club will hold master point games tomorrow and Nov. 5.

The games will begin at 8 p.m. in the club's facility above the Norwest Bowling Lanes, 32905 Northwestern Highway.

Kiwanis Club Will Sponsor Three Parties

ROCHESTER — Three Halloween parties sponsored by the Kiwanis Club will be held Saturday night at Central and West junior high schools and at the senior high school.

The Student Council, school administrations and Kiwanis members have cooperated in planning the parties.

Area disc jockeys and musical groups will play dance music and provide entertainment. Awards will also be given for the best costumes.

At the senior high school, activities will start at 8 p.m. and end at 11 p.m. The junior high parties will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Members of the Kiwanis Club and their wives will serve cider and doughnuts at all three locations. On Friday, all elementary schools will also receive doughnuts and cider for classroom parties.

Funds for the project were raised through the sale of flares which will be lighted and placed in front of homes by the residents at 7 p.m. Saturday to light the way for trick-or-treaters.

HEAD TREASURERS — Mrs. Florence Robinson (center), Troy city treasurer, yesterday was installed as president of the Oakland County Association of Township, City and Village Treasurers. With her are Mrs. Elizabeth Hicks of Oak Park, who was named vice president, and Ronald Voorheis of White Lake Township, immediate past president elected to the board of directors. Farmington City Treasurer Mrs. Kathryn D. Cotter (not shown) is the new secretary-treasurer of the group.

Contract Awarded for Sewer Extension

HOLLY — A $20,020 contract has been awarded for the extension of a village sewer line to an apartment complex in Holly Township.

The four apartment buildings, to contain 32 units, now are under construction on the southwest corner of Saginaw and Grange Hall.

Developer Donald H. Wolverton has agreed to pay $10,000 toward the cost of extending the sewer service. The balance will come from village water and sewer funds.

Contractor for the work is the A and J Construction Co. of Livonia, lowest of five bidders.

The project is to be completed within 60 days after the contract is signed.

The sewer line will be extended from the village limits at Hubbell. It will run 1,000 feet north and 640 feet west.

Wolverton's property lies within the 540-acre area which has been proposed for annexation to the village.

Village councilmen are waiting for legal descriptions of the property before continuing consideration of the proposed annexation.

Surveyor John Albright said the descriptions probably will be ready for the council's Nov. 9 meeting.

Jaycees Offer New Course

CLARKSTON—The Dale Carnegie course will be offered to area residents next month under the sponsorship of the Clarkston Jaycees.

★ ★ ★

A free demonstration will be given at 8 p.m. Nov. 17 in the high school cafeteria.

The purpose of the demonstration is to acquaint residents with Dale Carnegie methods in effective speaking, human relations and leadership training.

One of the features, according to chairman Robert Skerratt, will be a demonstration of the memory-training techniques developed by Carnegie.

Educator's Lament: Need More Room

By JANICE KLOUSER

LAKE ORION — Question: What does a school superintendent do when a brand new junior high is filled beyond capacity the day it opens?

Answer: He distributes the load as equitably as possible, then starts planning immediately for the future.

This was the problem faced by School Supt. A. A. Reed when the new junior high school, dedicated last Sunday, opened this fall with 37 more students than its 900-pupil capacity.

"We knew last spring that we were going to be pretty close to capacity," he said, "but we didn't think we would go this high."

★ ★ ★

When plans for the new $1.2-million school were first formulated in 1962, it was estimated that 850 pupils would occupy it when it opened its doors.

TURNED DOWN

However, the $2-million bond issue to build it and the 4 mill tax levy to operate it were turned down by voters in December 1962.

Both propositions were passed in July 1963, but the delay set the whole program back a year.

"Any way you look at it, each year adds nine or 10 rooms," Reed said. "As it was we added four rooms to the preliminary plans."

Reed figures that 250 to 300 new pupils in the schools each year require nine or 10 new classrooms. Last year's enrollment on the fourth Friday of the school year, when the official enrollment count is taken, was 4,127. This year it was 4,384.

EVERY 3 YEARS

At this rate, a new school, containing 30 classrooms is needed every three years.

"Of course, this is just speaking in general terms, and it's sometimes dangerous to do that," Reed said, "but this is what it boils down to."

The Lake Orion School District is in the unenviable position of having a good portion of its 55 square miles slated for potential growth.

★ ★ ★

Three areas in particular — Keatington subdivision, near I-75 and Baldwin; Lakeview Farms just west of the village; and Lonesome Lake on Indianwood Road where 112 acres have been staked out — could prove troublesome to school crystal-ball gazers.

25,000 RESIDENCES

Keatington, a 3,200-acre site, is scheduled to contain more than 25,000 residences in the next 15 years, a figure which school officials must translate into potential pupils.

As it is, enrollment at Carpenter School, which would get Keatington children, is deliberately being kept below capacity "just in case."

With such vague factors as these to work with, how is the future of a school district determined?

"By keeping constant watch on the tempo of the district, reading planning commission reports, watching the valuations of the district, and watching the number of building permits issued," according to Reed.

He said the district will be in trouble in the secondary schools before it will be in the elementary schools.

"We can put more children in the elementary schools but not in the junior and senior high without creating problems," he said. "There just aren't any more rooms to fill in the secondary schools."

Right now there are 821 students in the high school, which has an 850-student capacity. More than 300 will enter the high school next year and only about 250 will be graduated.

★ ★ ★

Present enrollment figures show the problems increasing rather than decreasing over the next few years.

MORE STATISTICS

There are now 312 sixth graders who will be junior high pupils next year. There are 332 fifth graders, 365 fourth graders, 387 third graders, 362 second graders, 389 first graders and 458 kindergartners.

According to Reed, these figures won't change much as the children move through the grades which means that in a very few years, there will be more than 400 pupils in a secondary grade which now contains about 300 pupils.

"We're going to have to add a wing to the high school in the next three or four years," said Reed. "And within the next five years we're going to have to do something with the junior high.

★ ★ ★

"It's a fascinating business," he said, "but it's also heartbreaking.

"You have to try to anticipate all the problems and if everything works out, you're a hero — if it doesn't, you're a dud."

Bike Rider, 9, Killed While Riding on M21

ALMONT (UPI) — Robert Paige, 9, St. Clair, was killed yesterday when he was struck while riding his bicycle on M21 two miles west of here.

Police said the driver of the car was identified as Richard W. Stine, 18, Almont. He said he did not see the youth until it was too late to swerve.

More Survive Heart Surgery

Increased Knowledge Cited as Key Factor

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—More heart and vascular patients are surviving operations today because their surgeons are learning more each year, said Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, chairman of the department of surgery at Baylor University, Houston, Tex.

The American College of Surgeons is less vocal in its expressed opposition to the heart, cancer and stroke program than the American Medical Association, Dr. DeBakey told Science Service.

But he believes that all the doctors and surgeons will support it. He was chairman of the President's commission to report on heart, cancer and stroke, and expects the new regional centers to be successful all over the United States.

He reported to the clinical congress of the ACS here the findings of a study of more than 600 surgical patients whose high blood pressure was so severe that kidney vein, or renovascular operations were performed. Of these 600, 80 per cent are alive and doing reasonably well.

* * *

A long-term follow-up of 421 of these patients from age 1½ to 7, showed that many have survived at least five years. More than 60 per cent were males, and mean age of the group was 50 years. The youngest patient was five years old, the oldest was 74.

ABNORMALITIES

About 20 per cent of the patients had other abnormalities of the blood vessels, including the two neck arteries to the brain, called the carotid arteries.

In the 600 cases of renal artery repair (done by bypass with artificial material) a large percentage regained normal blood pressure without the need for drugs.

The patients were referred to Dr. DeBakey by physicians who were dissatisfied with the progress of the hypertensive patients using drugs. The drugs may have helped for a time, but continued use had produced side effects that were undesirable.

* * *

The relationship of high blood pressure to the kidney arteries has long been known, but it was 1956 before Dr. DeBakey did his first renal artery surgery.

OTHER DISEASES

The idea originated from his experience with other arterial diseases, Dr. DeBakey reminisced.

"I reasoned that if you can restore function to a leg where the artery was blocked, you should be able to restore the function of organs as well."

* * *

His first operation of this kind was on a stroke patient in 1953, who had repeated small strokes. Later Dr. DeBakey turned his attention to the kidney because kidneys were being removed unnecessarily.

The brain functions best when outdoor temperatures average below between 30 and 40 degrees Fahrenheit.

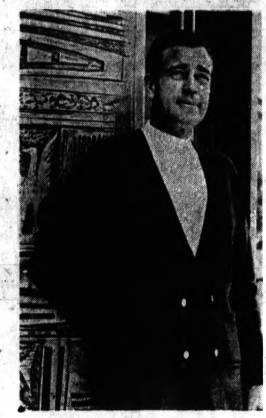
Gals Eyes Watch Duds He Buys



Look for the double-breasted look to make fashion news in men's knitwear this fall. The cardigan shown here in navy is a fine-gauge double-knit of "Dacron" polyester and worsted wool. Features include dolman sleeves, patch pockets and raglan shoulder construction. By Edgeworth.

Linett's sport coat of solid-toned Shetland-woven wool, loomed in America, is tailored with the expert attention to detail. Lapped seams, patch pockets, leather buttons and natural shoulder silhouette add up to tailoring perfection of a classic. The fabric is new in its appearance in solid tones in fall men's wear—here, a rich and unusual deep vicuna shade. A paisley tie, newly dramatic in color and scale completes the fashion look of this sport coat.

Striped snap tabs signify sophisticated dress shirt styling for all seasons. This fashionable model in an easy-care fabric of 65 per cent cotton, features alternating blue and gray pencil line pattern, barrel cuffs. Shirt by Hathaway.

Black velvet lapels and cuffs are decidedly new as are the L-shaped lapels and angled slit pockets on this evening attire from Petrocelli. High-lustre English mohair and worsted is the perfect fabric for comfort and shape-retention. Trousers are trimmed at waist and side seams with a one-inch silk Roman braid. On order locally.

Youngs Fly Out West

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

It's a boy, says proud grandfather, Dr. Donald A. Young of Dunston Road, who has just had a quick look at his first grandchild. Roderic V. Wiley III was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roderic V. Wiley Jr. of Albuquerque, N.M. on Oct. 18. (Mrs. Wiley is the former Lynn Young).

Mrs. Donald A. Young took the first plane available to be with the new parents last week.

Dr. Young was surprised with a weekend ticket by his son, Dr. Donald Young III, who came home for a brief visit from the Azores where he is stationed at the Army Air Force Base Hospital. On temporary leave attending a surgeons' conference in New York, he decided that this was his opportunity to see his nephew.

The surprise was even bigger when grandfather and uncle arrived at the Wiley home.

GOODWILL SALE

Mrs. Harvey A. Fischer, publicity chairman for the Junior Goodwill Industries 18th Annual Antiques Market and Sale, reminds us that the Champagne Preview takes place Nov. 13, from 6:00 to 10:00 p.m. at the Goodwill Industries headquarters in Detroit. Anyone wishing to contribute $10.00 is welcome.

The business days are Nov. 14 through 17. Donation of $1.00 entitles you to entrance at that time.

Mesdames Robert N. Green and Hans Scheiwe in this area are general cochairmen.

Among the many loyal supporters of Goodwill who will be on hand are Gov. and Mrs. George Romney, Mr. and Mrs. George Trumbull (Mrs. Trumbull is a past president who has given years of service to this worthy cause) Mrs. Harry Altick, the present president, and many others.

COUNTRY STORE

Do not overlook their country store, its shelves decorated with items long ago discarded as new ones appeared on the market. Here you will meet Mrs. William H. Bagley Jr.

If you need to rest your weary feet, just step into the delightful dining room where Mesdames Hugh T. Barber and Robert A. Radtke will entice your appetite.

Proceeds from the market and sale will be used to provide rehabilitation services and job training programs for handicapped men and women.

Goodwill has a store on East Pike Street in Pontiac. They gratefully accept your patronage.

Sorority Has Halloween Gala Costume Party

Members and guests arrived in Halloween costumes for Tuesday's meeting of Beta Omega Chapter, Lambda Chi Omega National Sorority.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Richard DeShetler of Lakewood Drive, chapter president, was the group's hostess.

Plans for the state convention in the spring were discussed.

Mrs. Cecil Poppy and Mrs. Ronald Milburn were named cochairmen for the chapter's participation.

Guests included Mrs. David DeShetler, Mrs. Marjorie Schmidt, Mrs. Kenneth Black, Mrs. James Wyrick, Mrs. William Killian, Mrs. Paul Sample, Mrs. Jerry Heykoop, Mrs. Ray Olson and Marlene Whitney.

Man or beast? It will be difficult to tell if the trend toward the "animal look" continues. Jacket's shaggy appearance comes from a deep pile fabric of "Orlon" acrylic. And even the iciest wind will have trouble penetrating the warmth engendered by this lightweight reversible-to-nylon jacket in its dashing gray ombre pattern. By William Barry.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Woman Loves 16-Year-Old and Wants to Wait for Him

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am sure you have never received a problem like this in your entire career.

I am a 24-year-old divorcee, and the mother of two children, ages 5 and 3. I live alone, support myself and up until I met this young man I have lived a very respectable life.

ABBY

The young man I am in love with is 16 years old. He is a nice person and lives at home with his family, who know nothing of this. I am well aware that this is completely wrong, and I make no apologies for it, but I can't help myself.

I love him. I suppose you are wondering how a 24-year-old woman in her right mind could be "in love" with a 16-year-old kid. Believe me, I am sane and am not a tramp.

The problem is that I think I am expecting his child. I don't want to hurt this boy in any way, Abby.

I would die before I would reveal his name. He is much too young to marry, but if I am pregnant, I want to keep the baby in hopes of marrying him later. If this is found out, could I be put in jail and my children taken from me? I would go to a lawyer but I am afraid he might press charges. Help me?

"LOOKS LIKE 17"

DEAR LOOKS: Go to a lawyer. He will protect you and advise you of your rights and obligations. Confide in him and have no fear.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have not been able to find a satisfactory answer to something that has bothered me for a long time. Maybe you can help me.

How does a person know when to tip and when not to?

For instance, the carry-out boys at the supermarket. Do they get paid by the market, or do they expect tips?

How about doormen at swanky restaurants and hotels who do nothing but open the door for you?

I once spent the weekend at the country home of a friend. The maid made my bed and pressed my clothes and I felt that I should have given her something, but I wasn't sure it was proper so I didn't.

Also I tried to tip a hairdresser once and he informed me indignantly that he was the OWNER of the shop and didn't accept tips. Is there any rule to follow?

BEWILDERED

DEAR BEWILDERED: Yes. Common sense. If you assume that almost everyone who serves the public depends on tips, you'll be right. (I happen to dislike this system, but it's true nevertheless.) When in doubt, ask.

Doormen should be tipped if they perform a special service such as hailing a taxi, or handling luggage. All beauty operators should be tipped. (Most shop owners will decline.)

Servants in the home of friends deserve a gratuity for extra service. (It's not expected, but usually appreciated.) If there is a NO TIPPING sign, don't attempt to violate it.

Good Jelly Jars

Empty baby food jars make good containers for homemade jelly. Sterilize and then dry the jars, fill with hot jelly, and put on the lids. If the lids are hot and dry, the jars will seal even without using paraffin.

The Absolute Right to Be One's Self

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My 6-year-old stepson is visiting us. At home with his mother he is allowed to stay in bed until noon.

* * *

Though this upsets my housekeeping schedule, I have not said anything because, as his stepmother, I'm not sure I have the right to ask him to do anything that his mother doesn't ask him to.

I don't want him or my husband to think I am being critical of his mother's training. I want this child to love me. . .

ANSWER: You are not his mother. And in the course of his life, this young stepson of yours is going to have to discover that this world is composed of many different kinds of people, including those who allow 6-year-old boys to stay in bed until noon and those who don't.

If you were sure of your right to be yourself instead of an extension of your husband's ex-wife, your answer would be simple.

* * *

Really certain of your right to be different from her, you could forget it and be so gay and happy in your difference from her that your stepson could find nothing offensive in this difference either.

Instead of hanging around in the mornings, waiting for him to get up, you would run upstairs, remove his bedcovers, put on his socks and shoes for him, dressing as much of him as you could in this drowsy state, making such an entertainment of what you were doing that your difference from his mother would become a delightful experience for him.

An arrogant young sporting coat with the wet look is in sleek black reptile-embossed urethane foam-laminated DuPont nylon. It's a John Goebel design for Aventura, with side-slash flap pockets, saucer-size metal buttons, and a hood lined in black pile of "Orlon" acrylic and "Antron" nylon that folds back to a luscious collar. Lined in nylon taffeta black and white abstract print. About $35.

Symphony May Receive Added Financial Help

Senator Carl W. O'Brien (D-Pontiac) said this week that he is consulting with the management of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra with a view to furnishing state financial aid to the Symphony.

O'Brien said that he is interested in devising a plan of financing which would permit the orchestra to travel to several cities in the State of Michigan each year.

* * *

"This would bring the orchestra," O'Brien said, "to the many people in the State of Michigan who have never had the opportunity to hear the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, one of the World's great symphonies, at first-hand.

"I propose to introduce a bill, if a plan of financing can be worked out that is acceptable to the Symphony's management, which would permit the Symphony to travel to such cities as Grand Rapids, Flint, Traverse City and possibly several other Michigan cities each year.

"This would give the Symphony musicians a couple of weeks' extra work and would be of financial aid to the orchestra."

PLANS

One plan under consideration would appropriate money through a special recreation and cultural events program.

Another might utilize the newly-established Finearts Council appointed by the Governor.

Senator O'Brien said he was considering several plans and consulting with various cultural and musical leaders in connection with the proposed program.

He said he had already discussed the plan for financing the Detroit Symphony trips across the state with Joseph Cardaru, the assistant manager of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

An evaluation of the McCoskry Convocation's Summer Day Camp project will be given to members of the Episcopal Church women of Christ Church Cranbrook at the Tuesday meeting following a noon luncheon.

Those who were directly involved with the program, Rev. E. Dumond Morisseau, Mrs. Mary Reiss, Mrs. Marjorie Early and Wendy Clark will speak.

The morning segment begins at 10 a.m.

Johnsons Attend 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Johnson of Forestal Street have just returned from Bernie, Mo., where they helped to celebrate Mr. Johnson's parents' 50th wedding anniversary. The honored couple are former Pontiac residents.

Mrs. Robert Keller, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Johnson and Clarence Bennett all of Pontiac also attended the event.

Linda Himes Takes Recent Nuptials

A bouffant satin gown was worn by Linda Marie Himes for her recent marriage to Richard Stanley Kornatowski. Rev. G. MacDonald Jones performed the rite in Commerce Methodist Church.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Himes of Andrews Street, Commerce Township, the bride complemented her gown with a white lace train and four-layered bouffant illusion veiling caught by a rhinestone tiara.

She wore a crystal necklace and held an arrangement of carnations with a white orchid.

* * *

ATTENDANTS

Among attendants were Laura Lee Himes, maid of honor, and Mrs. Orlo Insley, Linda Kornatowski, Mrs. Lawrence Albright, Diane Skarritt, Patricia Kornatowski, Cheryl and Sherry Schnueringer. Margaret Thompson was flower girl.

William Caskey attended as best man, with ushers Orlo Insley, Lawrence Albright, Karl Schnueringer, Fred Kornatowski, Albert Kornatowski and Ray Schnueringer. Ring-bearer was Karl Schnueringer Jr.

A reception at Middle Straits Lake Community Center followed the ceremony. The couple will reside on Decker Road.

Mrs. Hendrix Here

Mrs. David E. Hendrix and young son, David Edward, of Fort Campbell, Ky. are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morris of Bataan Drive. Her husband is stationed with the U. S. Army at Fort Campbell.

No Hot Water for Egg Skillet

To clean a skillet in which eggs have been scrambled, fill with cold water and let stand until dishwashing time.

* * *

Empty the water, wipe the pan with a paper towel. Wash, scour if necessary. Never fill pan with hot water to soak, as hot water sets eggs, making removal more difficult.

Volunteers Plan Party for a Jeep

"From Ox Power to Horsepower" is both theme and goal for the dessert and card party planned Tuesday by Pontiac Missionaides, Inc. at St. Perpetua's Church hall, corner of Airport and Elizabeth Lake Roads.

* * *

Mrs. Adrian Magnan, chairman, reports that dessert will be served at 8 p.m. with cards following. Assisting Mrs. Magnan with refreshments will be Mrs. Allen Neville and Mrs. Basil Martus.

VOLUNTEER GROUP

Pontiac Missionaides, located on Myrtle Street, is a group of women volunteers dedicated to mission work. Their main project is support of St. Anthony's Orphanage in Ongole, India and St. Anne's Hospital in the same area.

* * *

Proceeds from the party will go for purchase of a jeep needed by the hospital for treatment of many too ill to travel. Presently calls for medical attention are made by ox cart.

* * *

Mrs. Allen Neville of Boston Avenue is president of the organization. Other officers are: Mrs. Basil Martus, vice president; Mrs. Magnan, second vice president; Mrs. Phillip Schurrer, treasurer; and Mrs. William Bridge, recording secretary.

* * *

Others are: Mrs. Herman Klinck, Mrs. Samuel Lerner, and Mrs. Gertrude Anderson.

Tickets will be available at the door or from any Missionaides member.

Mrs. Adrian Magnan (left), Hickorynut Street, and Mrs. J. P. Shaughnessy, Barnard Street, wonder if this truck would help the orphanage and hospital in India that the Pontiac Missionaides, Inc. assist. Their group is sponsoring a benefit card party Tuesday at St. Perpetua's Church hall to raise funds for a means of transportation other than ox-cart. The party is open to the public.

Parking Expert Is a Non-Driver

FREDERICK, Md. (AP) — Mrs. Marion F. Pomeroy has been parking cars in a parking lot here for 15 years, but has never had a driver's license.

The widow has been the only attendant at a parking lot since her husband died eight years ago.

She came to this community as a bride 55 years ago and has never driven a car in the street, but is considered an expert in parking.

Can't 'Top' This

FOREST PARK, Ill. (AP) — Mrs. Sharon Berryman became so attached to her sports car that, when it wore out, she didn't want to part with it. She had a scrap dealer compress the body flat enough so that she is using a portion of it for a coffee table top in her living room.

MSU Opens Unique Dorm

By Special MSU Correspondent

Four Pontiac area students made Michigan State University history this week when they moved into a new house.

● Jerry Grashoff, a junior majoring in botany, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldemar Grashoff of Kendry Avenue.

● Richard Gorman is a freshman majoring in architecture and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gorman of North Genesee Avenue.

●John and Bill Kimball, advertising senior and no-preference freshman respectively, are the sons of the Clarke Kimballs of Ogemaw Road.

* * *

The four are among the 72 men and women who moved into the new Asher Student Foundation associated housing unit at MSU.

FIRST OF KIND

Following the University plan of co-ed living units, Asher is the first off-campus house of this type.

Prior to this week the men and women, all Christian Scientists, had been living in three separate houses near campus.

* * *

The new building, costing over $1,000,000, will house 98 men and women in separate quarters when filled to capacity.

Students will share a common dining hall, but each section will have its own library and quiet rooms for academic and Christian Science study.

UNIQUE

Asher Student Foundation was started at MSU in 1946 by eight World War II veterans and is the only arrangement of its kind for Christian Scientists on an American campus.

The Asher staff includes a full-time director, Dr. Clayton L. Akin, house parents for the women and a housemother for the men, and two cooks.

Akin takes the Asher position after spending the last four years in Fredonia, N.Y. as superintendent of schools. He has 16 years experience in school administration in New York, Connecticut and Minnesota.

* * *

The foundation is supported by private funds and is not an organization of the Christian Science Church. Akin's job is strictly that of a layman.

Because of its reputation with the University, Asher is the only off-campus living unit allowed to accept college freshmen as members-in-residence.

Area Man Takes Bride

The Belmont Evangelical United Brethren Church, Johnstown, Pa. was the setting for the recent marriage of Nancy Gail Cadman and Lance Cpl. Paul Howard Reams Jr.

* * *

Their parents are the Jonathan K. Cadmans of Johnstown and Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Reams of Boston Street.

The bride will reside in Pontiac while her husband, presently stationed at the Marine Aviation Base, El Toro, Calif. serves his tour of duty overseas.

Handy in Laundry

A large glass jar with a lid is a handy thing in the laundry room. As you empty pockets, put the contents in the jar. Or if a button or snap comes off, also use the jar.

Material Scraps Cover Old Pillows

When you have accumulated several scraps of material from your sewing, make up a new batch of covers for your throw pillows.

Use one material or combine colors. It will give new color to your home at practically no cost and very little labor.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

This week I am bringing you a couple of letters, selected from recent correspondence, which have come to my desk.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I am 50 years old. Because of the correct exercise and diet, my figure is as attractive as ever, and I always had a good one.

* * *

"I realized some time ago that I would have to work at it more as time passed because the weight distribution seemed to be changing; Although I weighed the same, I had little rolls over my girdle and a pad of fat on my abdomen which I had never had before.

"Do most women experience this at middle age or am I unusual? Anyhow I began concentrating on abdominal and waist exercises, and after a few months, had my youthful figure back. I have found, though, that I must make them a part of my daily routine forever in order to hold the line.

"I have a youthful face but I do not seem to be able to do anything about my neck. My face looks 35 or 40 and my neck 55 or 60. They don't match. I must admit that I have not taken facial exercises. Would this help? Please advise me."

First to answer your question about weight distribution. I think that most women have the same experience you have had. There is a change in measurements unless a woman exercises to avoid it.

Bulges and rolls are apt to appear in spots we never had them before even if we have not gained weight, that is, if we do not exercise. Then there is no doubt about it! A woman has to try harder to keep her figure after she has passed early youth.

Many readers have found my exercises for the neck to be most beneficial. Of course daily lubrication is also essential. Posture is important and you might try one of the hormone creams or oils. It is also wise to use a base with a moisturizer.

Try this exercise. Straighten your spine and keep your chin parallel to the floor as you turn your head as far to the right as you can. Turn head back and then to the left as far as you can. Continue turning head and alternating right and left. After a while turn head to right and then look up toward the sky. Turn back. Turn to left and look up. Turn back and continue.

If any of you would like to have my exercises for the neck send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press. Ask for the leaflet "Is Your Chinline a Pain in the Neck?"

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hendrix of North Paddock Street announce the engagement of their daughter Shelba Jean to Richard Lee Stamper, stepson of Alvie Meadows of North Perry Street.

Dean Lowell Eklund shows Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson the certificate given to her from the Division of Continuing Education at Oakland University.

Honors Charter Student

Amidst the many honors bestowed upon Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson during the recent recognition of her 82nd birthday, was a certificate from the Division of Continuing Education acknowledging her charter status as a continuing education student.

Mrs. Wilson enrolled in the first adult evening course conducted at Oakland. The subject was efficient Reading. The course was offered in the fall of 1958, a year before undergraduate classes began.

* * *

The classroom was one of the Meadow Brook estate chicken houses, a building behind what is now Chancellor D. B. Varner's residence. North and South Foundation Halls, the University's first buildings, were under construction.

Mrs. Wilson was one of 50 students in the first course — a registration total which necessitated dividing the class into two sections and perhaps was an omen of the acceptance continuing education courses on a university level would have in this community.

This fall, only seven years later, 1974 students are registered in nearly 100 courses.

Dean Lowell Eklund, who has directed continuing education at Oakland since its beginning, made the presentation of the certificate to Mrs. Wilson at a birthday luncheon attended by the Division's professional staff, each of whom had signed the certificate. The wording ran:

"Oakland University, Division of Continuing Education, presents this certificate of appreciation to Matilda R. Wilson in grateful acknowledgement of her charter status in the continuing education program; her inspirational interest in and support of its many activities; and her remarkable personification of its goals through her vigorous pursuit of personal excellence and her genuine involvement in community leadership."

Regrets Her Marriage

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X422: Sally B., aged 41, presents a shocking case.

DR. CRANE

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she spoke tearfully, "I only wish I could have had the advice you gave Hal about removing the taboo about a next-door neighbor who had grown up like brother and sister.

"For when I was a girl, a wonderful boy lived next door.

"But we had gone to kindergarten and on through school in the same classroom.

"He asked me for dates during high school, but I never felt romantic about him at all.

"Indeed, I used him as a convenient escort but never took him seriously as a boy friend, for he was more like a brother.

"Then I went on to the university where I met another boy who simply thrilled me to death.

"I'd have palpitation of the heart just hearing his voice on the phone.

"If he'd just look at me across the dance floor, my knees would literally tremble and I'd feel as if I would collapse.

* * *

"When he finally asked me for a date, I could hardly speak because I had so many butterflies in my tummy.

"He rushed me off my feet and wanted to elope. But I did insist on his visiting our home one weekend.

"My parents didn't react favorably to him. And my older brother even told me I should break up our romance at once.

"But I couldn't see a single fault in him, for I was electrified by the mere touch of his hand. And his kiss would send me into orbit.

"Well, after a few more months of trying to persuade my parents to accept him, I ran off and eloped.

"It took years before I could get over the electrifying effect of my first infatuation.

DEMANDED MONEY

"Meanwhile, he demanded money, so I had to sell the bonds that my grandmother had left me in her will.

"He gambled and ran around with other women, but I still was his slave.

"He infected me with syphilis and it took a long time before I was cured.

"Meanwhile, I became sterile as a result of the venereal disease.

"We finally lived in little backrooms after my money ran out.

"Then he turned to liquor and often would beat me.

"When my mother was in an auto accident, I couldn't even go to see her at the hospital because my eyes were black and blue and my husband had knocked three of my front teeth out in one of his drunken rages.

"Finally, I woke up — 20 years too late, and got a divorce after he deserted me and had fled to California with a chorus girl.

"Now I am back home and the boy next door, who never married, has told me he has loved me ever since kindergarten.

"He wants to marry me, as he did when we graduated from high school.

"If I had only known then what you told Hal about shattering that taboo that develops between next door neighbors, I could have married this neighbor boy and had children and a happy home.

"So please warn your readers to pick with their heads and then generate love, as you advised Hal to do. Infatuation is not true love!"

Late January vows are planned by Sandra Jean Miller, daughter of the Clark J. Millers of West Seymour Lake Road, Brandon Township, and Jerry Allen Ballard, son of the Rev. and Mrs. R. Kyle Ballard of Ortonville. Her fiance attends Flint Junior College.

Dems Hope Bobby Can Nip GOP Tide in NY Campaigning

NEW YORK (AP) — Democrat Abraham Beame's campaign to become mayor of New York is getting a major assist in the closing days of the tight race from Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

The senator is campaigning in the streets alongside Beame, who faces a strong challenge in next Tuesday's election from Rep. John V. Lindsay, the Republican-Liberal candidate.

Democratic strategists hope the popular Kennedy, 39, can offset the charm of Lindsay — and the lack of an endorsement of Beame's candidacy by President Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Beame, now city comptroller, told a rally Wednesday that a Democratic mayor can do more for the city because he can work better with Sen. Kennedy and President Johnson to get more federal aid. It's a point he has consistently stressed.

'HIS OWN WAY'

The President "does things in his own way," Beame said Wednesday night in his first comment on why Johnson's expected endorsement did not come at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner Tuesday. Johnson sent only his "warm regards."

★ ★ ★

Beame's advisers are counting upon Kennedy to inject some glamor into the Democratic campaign. They concede that Beame, a short, stocky, graying man, doesn't project that sort of image, especially when he shares a platform with Lindsay, tall and handsome at 42, and William F. Buckley, the Conservative party candidate.

★ ★ ★

Buckley, 39, editor of the National Review, has aimed his campaign at defeating Lindsay, charging the the congressman's liberal voting record is a repudiation of traditional Republican principles.

When Buckley announced as a candidate, he said he'd demand a recount if he should be elected in this city where Democrats hold a 4-to-1 registration margin over Republicans.

POLL INDICATION

But now polls indicate that he could get an astonishing 400,000 votes, more than Lindsay is likely to poll on the Liberal party line. This could supply the young Conservative party with the same weapon the Liberal party has long enjoyed — a lever to influence the policies and candidates of the major parties. As the Lindsay caravan moved swiftly through the city Wednesday night, the congressman referred to his opponents as representative of the "forces of corruption, greed, lethargy, negativism, resistance to change and Goldwaterism."

★ ★ ★

Beame, said Lindsay, is the "Rip Van Winkle of City Hall who has been asleep for 20 years." Buckley, he added, came "out of the dark ages."

Lindsay is winding up the most powerful Republican campaign in New York City since the days of the late Fiorello H. LaGuardia.

A FAST PACE

His whirl around the city is similar to the fast production staged by Kennedy when he defeated incumbent Kenneth B. Keating last year for the Senate.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a Democrat, is not seeking a fourth term.

The New York Daily News mayoral straw poll today gave these percentages: Lindsay, 42.3; Beame, 40.1; Buckley, 17.6. The results were based on 11,100 straw votes to date.

The New York Herald Tribune poll, based on 13,970 straw votes to date, today showed these percentages: Beame, 41.8; Lindsay, 37.8; Buckley, 14.0.

Ex-Aide Free in Dixie Killing

Confidant of Georgia Leaders Out on Bond

DECATUR, Ga. (UPI)—A state board member and political confidant of four Georgia governors was free on $10,000 bond today in connection with the slaying of the former husband of one of the board's secretaries.

Police said Walter O. Brooks fired five shots through the door of his apartment yesterday and killed William E. Tisdale, 41. Brooks said Tisdale had shouted threats that he intended to kill him.

Brooks, who was divorced from his wife in June, served as a speech writer and political adviser to former Govs. Eugene and Herman Talmadge, Marvin Griffin and Ernest Vandiver.

His $10,000 bond was signed by Travis B. Stewart, director of the Georgia Democratic party.

Police said Brooks called them after the shooting and surrendered. He spent 12 hours in jail before bond was posted. Authorities said they would present the case to a grand jury in a few weeks.

'NO AFFAIR'

Brooks said Mrs. Paula Tisdale and his former wife, Mrs. Nellie Brooks, both warned him that Tisdale was angry because he believed Brooks was dating Mrs. Tisdale.

Brooks' attorney, Charles Edwards, said "Mr. Brooks' character is above reproach, and there is nothing whatsoever to any insinuations of any affair of any kind."

Detroit Police Now Carrying Walkie-Talkies

DETROIT (AP) — Police in downtown Detroit are carrying new two-way walkie-talkie radios that will eventually be provided for all men on the force.

Policemen carrying the radios are referred to as PREP (personalized radio equipped police). The radios, costing $840 each, enable an officer to contact headquarters or another radio-equipped officer.

Police Commissioner Ray Girardin says he believes the radios will increase the efficiency of policemen. "The police officer will also be afforded a margin of safety never before available," he added.

$12 Million Budget OK'd for Ministry

DETROIT (AP) — The United Church of Christ board of directors Wednesday night approved expenditure of approximately $12 million for 1966 operations of the church's board for homeland ministries.

★ ★ ★

A budget of $6.2 million was approved for work in higher education, evangelism, health and welfare and other fields.

★ ★ ★

A board announcement said another $2 million will represent funds going out in loans from a church building revolving fund and $4 million will be spent for operations in church publications.

★ ★ ★

The $6.2 million budget was described as an increase of approximately $90,000 over the 1965 budget.

Key Proposals Spice Elections in Eight States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 45 proposals, ranging from a billion-dollar plan to fight water pollution in New York to minor proposals relating to county courts, spice next Tuesday's elections in eight states.

Texas voters will decide on 10 constitutional amendments, and New Yorkers on nine plus four statewide propositions. Referenda are also being held Tuesday in Florida, Kentucky, Maine, North Carolina, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Election officials in most states report little apparent voter interest even though the proposals involve hundreds of millions of dollars and affect taxes, schools, highways and medical care. Top election day interest is in the mayoral contest in New York City and governors races in New Jersey and Virginia.

One of the hottest fights is in Ohio over a proposal to raise the state sales tax from 3 to 4 per cent. Education forces sponsored the measure in order to increase state school aid. Opponents include retail merchants and labor unions.

KENTUCKY ISSUE

Kentucky voters will decide the fate of the largest bond issue in the state's history — $176 million of which $139 million would go for highways. The issue may run into trouble as a result of substantial increases in property assessments effective Jan. 1.

Maine voters ballot on six separate bond issues which total $27.5 million, mainly for educational institutions.

Other major monetary proposals include a $300-million highway bond issue in North Carolina and a similar measure in Florida; a Texas proposal to increase state property taxes by five cents per $100 valuation for college construction; and three New York proposals, one a billion-dollar measure to finance a crash program against pollution of rivers and streams, and the other two to extend the state's low-rent housing programs.

A number of the proposals would affect election laws.

A Maine amendment would eliminae voting restrictions on paupers, and New York would call a constitutional convention in April 1967 on legislative reapportionment.

Texas is seeking to extend terms of the governor, other state officials and state representatives from two years to four years, while New York is attempting the same for state assemblymen and senators.

★ ★ ★

The Texas proposal has important political overtones. It would extend the term of Gov. John B. Connally, a Democrat who already has announced his candidacy for reelection, until 1970 when Democratic Sen. Ralph Yarborough's term also ends.

★ ★ ★

Connally and the more liberal Yarborough are sometimes political rivals, and a Connally challenge to Yarborough's Senate seat in 1970 is considered possible.

Wants Flag at Half for Departing Staff

CARSON CITY, Nev. (UPI)— The Nevada Senate yesterday defeated a move to fly the state flag at half-staff while a special reapportionment session is meeting.

Some senators will lose their jobs under reapportionment. So Sen. James Slattery, who sponsored the resolution, said that senators "are assembled together in attendance at their own funerals."

This year marks the golden anniversary of the first transcontinental telephone call across the United States.

Jerk Shows He's Right

MARYSVILLE, Calif. (UPI) — William Zahary of Sacramento was cited by the California Highway Patrol for causing an accident — while explaining to his wife how to prevent one.

Patrolmen said Zahary warned his wife, Sandra, that she didn't keep a firm grip on the steering wheel. To prove his point, he reached over and gave it a jerk.

The car went off U.S. 99 and rammed a tree.

Wants Harder Look at Gas Station Permits

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Giovanni Folcarelli has asked city and town governments to "take a hard look" before granting building permits for gas stations on state roads.

★

Folcarelli said Rhode Island is being "dotted with eyesores" of shut-down and vandalized service stations. And he said new ones are constantly being built.

Michigan Tourism Heading for Record

LANSING (AP)—A completely snowless winter appeared to be the only factor that could prevent the Michigan tourist industry from going over the $1 billion mark this year, Michigan Tourist Council figures indicated today.

Tourist income in record-setting 1964 was $814 million, the council said. And the industry set new records in the spring and summer seasons of 1965—scoring an average 12 per cent gain over a year ago.

Council Director William McGraw said state and local governments also are benefiting from the boom "to the tune of some $70 million in taxes and license fees from this level of tourist spending."

Canada possesses about one-third of the world's fresh water, including 230,000 square miles of inland lakes and rivers.

The 89th Congress—4

Education Benefits Got Hearty Lift

(EDITOR'S NOTE: If it hadn't done so much else besides, the 89th Congress might well be tagged the "Educational Congress." In their first session, the lawmakers passed programs that will profoundly affect the opportunities and future of American youth. This is the fourth of five articles on the achievements of Congress.)

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 89th Congress — pushed, pulled, prodded and cajoled by President Johnson — has planted the seeds of an educational revolution the likes of which this country has never seen.

It brings almost instant benefits to millions of young Americans. Yet, like any revolution, its final assessment must be left to the future.

Even the experts can only guess now what it all will mean.

Much of the new legislation is designed to encourage potential dropouts to stay in school and get the best education they can absorb. Suppose — just to pick a number — it salvages five million such youngsters.

MANY QUESTIONS

How many of those five million will become teachers, doctors, inventors, scientists, engineers, or creative thinkers in the arts and humanities?

What will be the impact on the national economy if those five million, instead of spending useless lives on the welfare rolls, become wage-earning, tax-paying, home-owning, car-buying, contributing members of society?

The legislation will ease the college crush by providing new federal funds for dormitory and classroom construction. At the same time, it may make the crush even more severe by putting a college education within the financial grasp of more thousands of American youth.

Most of the new educational measures are designed primarily for the nation's young people. It will be a rare young American who, at some point in his lifetime, won't or can't derive some good from it.

UNCERTAIN DATE

And on some uncertain date in 1966, an even half of the total U.S. population will be age 25 or under — a factor that makes any estimate a hazardous guess.

The education legislation passed by the first session of the 89th Congress literally has something for everyone.

It spreads its benefits like the morning dew over preschool tots and college graduates, over struggling junior colleges and wealthy universities, over the gifted student and the mentally handicapped, over the children of poverty, the sons and daughters of middle income families and the scions of the rich.

So varied, and yet so all-encompassing, are the programs that conceivably a 3-year-old urchin living in the slums could have Uncle Sam's helping hand at his shoulder for the 26 years it would take before he could hang out his shingle as a practicing M.D.

BEGIN AT START

To begin with the youngest.

For the first time, there is national legislation to strike away the chains of ignorance, poverty and incredible isolation in which millions of American children live.

★ ★ ★

It's called "Operation Head Start."

The idea is to give some semblance of a preschool experience to children so economically and culturally deprived that they are doomed without it.

MANY ENROLLED

There were more than 560,000 children, aged 4 and 5, enrolled in eight-week Head Start programs last summer.

There were 5-year-olds born in Daytona Beach, Fla., who got their first look at the Atlantic Ocean and the broad beach which has made the city famous; children who had their first taste of a fresh tomato, who saw their first movie, who had their first ride on an elevator.

★ ★ ★

In Rockford, Ill., a Head Start teacher passed out crayons. The children, who had never seen a crayon before, began eating them.

These children never held a pencil in their hand, heard a story, saw a magazine or book. They had virtually no vocabulary. Many had never been toilet trained.

Such children are two years behind the average child on the very day they enter first grade. Lost from the beginning, they keep falling farther behind. By the time they have been automatically promoted to the fourth grade, all escape routes are closed.

They are well on the way to becoming hopeless, helpless derelicts in an affluent society.

Operation Head Start is no cure-all. First, it now reaches only a fraction of the children who need its help. Second, there needs to be a follow-up program through at least the first three grades of school.

The program already has been expanded. By the end of next June, it is expected that at least 200,000 children aged 3, 4 and 5, will be in a year-round program. Another 30,000 will have an eight-week program.

MOST URGENT

In the view of many experts, Operation Head Start is the most urgently needed of the new programs, the one with the greatest potential impact.

Will it really work? The final answer probably won't be known until the children involved do or do not drop out of school 10 or 11 years hence.

★ ★ ★

The one great hope of Head Start is that it will break the generations-old vicious circle of deprived children growing up to be deprived parents producing yet another, and bigger, generation of deprived children.

The same hope is held for the $1.3 billion Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. More than $1 billion of the total is to help local school districts strengthen educational programs where there are concentrations of disadvantaged children.

TERMED MIRACLE

This bill has been termed a legislative miracle because it offers help to pupils in private and parochial schools while keeping the purse strings in the hands of public school officials. Many earlier aid-to-education proposals foundered in Congress on this question of separation of church and state.

Here are just a few of the ways local school districts may spend the money: Special classes for the physically handicapped, language laboratories, remedial reading programs, additional etachers, summer school and day camps, and English programs for children who do not speak English.

One acceptable way for parochial school pupils to benefit from these and other programs is through "shared time" schedules, where they attend a public school for only a part of their instruction.

The bill also provides more money for educational research, and for the purchase of textbooks and library books, which parochial schools could use on a loan basis. Another provision is for the establishment of supplementary education centers, open to all children.

'UPWARD BOUND'

"Operation Upward Bound," administered by the Office of Economic Opportunity, is a plan to salvage youths capable of doing college work who have fallen and failed somewhere along the way.

★ ★ ★

One such youth, a delinquent and potential criminal, was brought before a judge in Arlington, Va., early last summer. He could have been sent to a reform school.

★ ★ ★

Instead, after a careful study of his record and background, he was sent to an Upward Bound project at Dartmouth College for the summer. He is now enrolled in a private, prestige prep school in New England, with the school and the government footing the bill, and doing well.

This program, like Head Start, seems certain to grow from its current $25 million budget.

VAST NEW AREAS

The three-year, $2.3 billion program of support for higher education, passed in the waning days of the first session, breaks vast new areas of legislative ground.

★ ★ ★

It includes $70 million a year for three years in federal scholarships for promising, exceptionally needy students; $55 million for one year to help struggling institutions of higher education, with 22 per cent set aside for junior colleges and technical institutes; $50 million a year for three years to help college libraries buy books; a program of government-insured loans, with the government paying part of the interest for students from families with less than $15,000 annual income — this is in addition to the NDEA student loan program; a liberalized work-study program for needy college students; fellowships to help teachers earn higher degrees; a national teacher corps to make specially trained teachers available to low-income areas and doubled expenditures for college construction grants.

Earlier, Congress passed legislation authorizing the expenditure over four years of $787.5 million for the improvement of medical education, including construction and operating grants, student loans and $2,500 annual scholarships.

There is now a loan program for students in trade, technical and business schools. Millions of dollars have been authorized for promoting the humanities and the arts.

NO INDICATION

There is no bookkeeper, no auditor, who can write a profit and loss statement on what President Johnson and the first session of the 89th Congress have accomplished in the field of education legislation.

★ ★ ★

But it's obvious that American youth has opportunities never before available.

AUSSIE CLASSROOM — Donald Holt, who lives on a far outback sheep station, asks his teacher a question over the radio. Brother Malcolm studies his lession.

Schools of the Air

Aussies Learn by Radio

ALICE SPRINGS, Australia (NEA) — How do you educate youngsters scattered sparsely through an area embracing two million square miles in the heart of the Australian continent?

* * *

By radio, of course. And as far back as 1951, the unique Schools of the Air have been transmitting lectures, tests and discussions to thousands of young Australians.

The schools are unique because the students never see a teacher, or use a blackboard, or study together.

The youngsters do not walk to school, or even ride; turning a control knob on their home transceivers puts them in class.

* * *

Mrs. Nancy Barrett, headmistress of the Alice Springs school, presides over just one section of this unusual school. She has about 50 students in classes from kindergarten to the seventh grade.

OPENS AT 10 A.M.

Promptly at 10 each morning Mrs. Barrett says "good morning, children" into the microphone. Each child then greets her in turn and school begins.

The teacher introduces the subject of the lesson she has prepared for the first class, sometimes plays appropriate records or tapes, asks questions and nominates unseen pupils to answer them.

The entire system links more than 600 children to eight radio bases, all similar to Mrs. Barrett's, from which lessons are transmitted.

* * *

The area in which the kids live is equivalent to that of India, Burma and Pakistan combined.

CLASSROOM OF 184

In one area alone, a "classroom" of 184 children covers half a million square miles.

Because the seasons are reversed Down Under, school is held during the summer months of much of the rest of the world, recessing in November for the "summer holidays" and resuming in February.

The subjects taught include speech training, music appreciation, social studies, current affairs, as well as the usual reading, writing and arithmetic.

* * *

The acting out of playlets is done with students picking up their cues from one another, even though the actors cannot see each other and are many miles apart.

TIMETABLE SENT

To enable lessons to be devoted equally to the wide range of ages and grades, a timetable is drawn up for each five-week period and sent to all children. In that way, each pupil knows exactly when his time is due on the air.

Parents see that punctuality is maintained, and the novelty of operating two-way radios helps prevent absenteeism.

All pupils are also enrolled in the correspondence schools of the departments of education of several Australian states.

* * *

Weekly reports are sent by the correspondence school teacher to the School of the Air, and vice versa.

* * *

The 40-week sessions per year go just as smoothly as in any ordinary classroom and, equally important, just as much knowledge is imparted as in the ordinary schools.

South African Is Jailed for False Statements

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Ex-convict Isaac Setshedi was ordered jailed for six months after being found guilty today at Johannesburg Magistrates Court of making a false statement under oath.

Thedefendant's account of his jail experiences — including allegations that prisoners were burned and electrically shocked by guards — was published recently in the Johannesburg Rand Daily Mail.

Camera Angles

Planning for World Trip

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

How much film would you order for a year's picture-taking trip around the world? How would you store it to keep it fresh yet handy? And what about processing?

These problems faced Al Podell, writer and picture editor, and two adventurous companions when they planned and started off on a globe-girdling auto safari, covering some 40 countries and an estimated 40,000 speedometer miles.

The entire trip was to be paid for through photography of the journey by publicizing equipment used and by illustrating stories.

The expedition had two 16mm movie cameras and five 35mm still cameras with lenses ranging from a wide-angle 28mm to a 500mm telephoto.

"We brought 10,000 feet of Kodachrome and 100 rolls of still color films from the U.S.A. where it was cheapest and most reliable," reported Podell.

BOUGHT 300 ROLLS

"But we bought our 300 rolls of black-and-white film in Gibraltar where prices were lower. Most of it was Tri-X and Plus-X film but we also got a quantity of slow Fuji and Adox film for use in the glaring desert sun.

"The major supply of film is stored with packets of calcium chloride to absorb moisture in a huge ice chest which is sealed with insulating tape.

"A working supply of film is carried in small picnic jugs. These are replenished about once a month on a cool night when the big chest is opened.

* * *

ORIGINAL PLAN

"Our original plan was to mail all our exposed film back to the States for processing but it didn't prove practical.

"The pictures had to be identified and since we were on the move, we would not know what results we were getting.

"Now we wait until we reach a big city and look for a recommended professional lab, even if it means waiting two or three weeks. We usually get two-day service at prices that range from 50 cents to $1.50 per roll.

"The results are not as good as can be had in America due to high mineral water content, incomplete washing and sometimes careless handling. But we know what we're working with.

SENT TO N.Y.

"After identifying the contact print sets and negatives separately, they are sent separately by registered mail to our agent in New York.

"He handles the making and distribution of all prints needed after that.

"The Kodachrome still film is mailed directly to Rochester and the movie film goes to a Los Angeles lab.

CAPITAL CITIES

"Our Ektachrome film is saved for capital cities like Paris, Cairo or Signapore where there are reliable processing facilities.

"All the color film reaches our agent eventually and he keeps us posted on what we haven't seen.

"With three people and two tons of supplies jammed into our land cruiser, keeping the cameras handy — but protected — was a problem.

WEREN'T HANDY

"When they were tucked away for safety sake, they weren't handy for grab shots like when a herd of elephants blocked the road in India or when a camel caravan passed our camp site in Libya.

"Now we keep them on top and they get bounced around more but they are in sight. When not in use, they're slipped into a cellophane bag as protection against sand or rain.

"In the Himalayas, they were kept under our coats for body heat so they wouldn't freeze up.

* * *

"In humid, jungle areas we've sprayed the camera bodies with disinfectant to prevent fungus growth."

U. P. Grant Approved

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Economic Opportunity has approved a $92,000 grant for the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Progress (UPCAP) to pay for technical assistance to small businesses, the offices of Sen. Pat McNamara, D - Mich., and Rep. Raymond Clevenger, D-Mich. announce.

Views Prospects With Rusk

LBJ Eyes Visits by Foreign Dignitaries

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, though still leading the quiet life of a convalescent, has begun earnest talks about possible American visits by foreign leaders during the next couple of months.

Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk conferred Wednesday about the scheduling of visits by foreign dignitaries, either at the LBJ Ranch near here or in Washington.

* * *

Johnson aides, while speaking about visits, mentioned only one — the plan for a trip to the United States by West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard. There has been speculation Erhard might come in November.

Joseph Laitin, assistant press secretary, said he did not know whether the Johnson-Rusk discussion also embraced the forthcoming visit of Britain's Princess Margaret or possible trips to this country by President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan and Premier Lal Bahadur Shastri of India.

MIGHT MEET

Although Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowden, are scheduled to be entertained at the White House on Nov. 17, there has been some talk that Johnson might meet with the royal couple at the ranch instead.

Rusk, who spent Tuesday night at the ranch, flew back to Washington with Mrs. Rusk late Wednesday.

* * *

Laitin said Johnson and Rusk had "extended and informal talks" during walks and drives around the 400-acre presidential property.

In addition to talking about visits by foreigners, Laitin said they discussed the Dominican situation, Viet Nam, recent events in Indonesia, foreign policy aspects of next year's legislative program, the forthcoming Algiers conference of unaligned nations and the inter-American conference which Rusk will attend next month in Rio de Janeiro.

* * *

During the afternoon, Johnson signed into law 12 bills. Then the President did some napping and reading.

There was no announced schedule for today.

Dominicans Won't Serve Under Officers of Rebels

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — The Dominican armed forces vowed last night they will fight to the "last drop of blood" rather than serve under officers who deserted to the rebels during the recent revolt.

Four young officers — one each from the army, navy, air force and militarized national police—handed a letter expressing the armed forces' stand to inter-American negotiators. It was signed by hundreds of officers and men.

A copy of the letter was given to UPI.

"We know the provisional president (Hector Garcia Godoy) has offered high military commands to men who deserted our ranks . . .," the letter said.

"(Installation of these men) would signify the consolidation of the Communist victory in the Dominican Republic. We would spill our last drop of blood to keep that from happening."

* * *

The letter was delivered to the three-man team representing the Organization of American States here — Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil and Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador.

CONFIRMED RECEIPT

The OAS men confirmed the receipt of a "communique" from the young officers, but they were reluctant to discuss it.

* * *

Bunker would say only that the negotiators had a "productive meeting" with the officers, who were "quite concerned about their country." Penna said the meeting was "quite friendly."

The reported offer of high commands to rebel officers apparently was part of Garcia's effort to reinstate the deserters in the armed forces. Obviously, if rebel Col. Francisco Caamano Deno — who holds the second highest rank in the Dominican army — returns to duty, he will be assigned to an important post.

The chief commercial crop of Malawi is tea which is grown principally on European-owned plantations.

LBJ, Congress in Minor Clash

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Congress don't see eye-to-eye on what the President considers encroachment into his field, but no serious rupture in executive-legislative relations is expected to result.

The President's views were expressed Tuesday in a strongly worded statement preceding his approval of a $2-billion rivers and harbors bill. The President didn't like a provision that could block appropriations for projects costing less than $10 million unless they were specifically approved by Senate and House Public Works committees.

He reportedly construed it as an effort by a small group of congressmen on those committees to take to themselves the authority to say what projects should proceed, by retaining a veto power over them.

Congressional public works experts took an opposite view. They claimed the provision would expedite progress on smaller projects by not requiring them to be held back for omnibus bills which sometimes are four years apart.

An anonymous but authoritative White House source said there was nothing personal in the President's attitude — that relations between him and the congressional committees were excellent.

Regardless of how well the system has worked out for other projects, the White House source said, "this administration takes a very strong stand on what it considers encroachment."

The President, he said, has no objection to Congress retaining a veto power on public works projects — as it now does on reorganization plans — but does not believe this power should be delegated to congressional committees.

* * *

A House Public Works Committee spokesman said: "What we were trying to do was to speed up work on some of these smaller projects. None of them, large or small, can be financed without authorization for an appropriation. This provision simply would be a delegation by Congress to two of its committees of the power of authorization. We are not going to quarrel with the President over procedure. We will work out some new language that all of us can live with."

Traffic Safety Plan Is in Works

LANSING (AP) — The legislature will be asked next year to tighten up "the loose nut behind the wheel" in an attempt to improve the state's traffic safety record.

Rep. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, said a driver-oriented traffic safety program will be presented to the legislature with the backing of the House speaker's office.

* * *

Lawmakers also may be asked to clamp down on beginning drivers, said Traxler, who was appointed by House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, as a one-man "task force" on traffic safety.

They may be asked to raise the minimum driving age from 16 to 17 years, to put all new drivers through a one-year probationary period, and to require driver education for all license applicants "no matter what their age."

Traxler, who is working with Secretary of State James Hare's office, was instructed to have "the substantive proposals on Kowalski's desk by Nov. 5."

So-called "implied consent" legislation has no chance of getting through the legislature this year," and we have made no promises on compulsory motor vehicle inspection," Traxler said.

Movies Told Story of Events to Come

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Theater owner Arthur D'Anniballe Sr. might have been forewarned when two masked men robbed him at his drive-in theater.

* * *

The theater was playing a double feature: "The Outlaws Is Coming" and "Law of the Lawless."

Transmitter for India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India will get a 1,000-kilowatt Soviet radio transmitter under an agreement signed with the Soviet Union.

Monument at St. Louis Is Finished Today

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The Gateway Arch, symbol of America's thrust across the great western wilderness a century ago, is being completed today with insertion of a 10-ton keystone 630 feet above the Mississippi River.

Some 10,000 persons are expected to witness the placing of the final section, expected to take eight hours.

★ ★ ★

The gleaming stainless steel arch, the nation's tallest monument and one of its most impressive, stands on the site where the westward movement began with Lewis and Clark's exploration and later with wagons moving west.

The arch and the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, of which it is a part, were 32 years in the making. The idea was born during the great depression in the mind of a St. Louis mayor named Bernard Dickmann.

REPLACE SLUMS

Dickmann wanted to replace riverfront slums with a permanent monument to the western pioneers.

The project served to turn St. Louis' face to the future. The whole downtown area is getting a face-lifting. Some $8 million in construction, including a new sports stadium, is under way in the shadow of the arch.

★ ★ ★

Near the foot of the arch remains the first Roman Catholic cathedral west of the Mississippi, and the 126-year-old courthouse where the Dred Scott slavery case, a preamble to the Civil War, was tried.

The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, site of the arch, occupies 80 acres on the riverfront. One of the main features will be a museum of westward expansion beneath the arch. From the museum, visitors will ride in cable cars inside the legs of the arch to an enclosed observation platform at the keystone.

PROJECT COST

The whole project has cost $29 million — three-fourths of it in federal funds — so far and will cost another $8 million before its completion next year. Of this, $6 million is expected to be allocated by Congress and $2 million is expected to come from a St. Louis bond issue.

★ ★ ★

The arch itself is the only structure of its size and shape in the world. The architect, Eero Saarinen, who died in 1961, said it would withstand a tornado and should be there forever.

The arch is concrete and steel and iron with a stainless steel exterior.

The British king George I, who was born and reared in Hanover, Germany, could not understand a word of English.

There were about 3.5 million year, according to an agricul- horses in the United States last tural census.

Little Honor for 'His Honor'

TLAPAN, Mexico (UPI) — Mayor Agustin Orozco hid out in his home here today to escape the attentions of a couple of angry taxpayers. He said he may give up his job.

Orozco said the post of mayor in this small east Mexican town is no political plum. It pays only $4.80 a month—less than the federal minimum for salaried workers—and it isn't safe.

★ ★ ★

"Two townspeople beat me up this week," he said. "When I ordered the police to arrest the assailants, they told me to go to hell.

"Now I have to remain barricaded in my home for fear the two men might be back."

I'd ride a mile for a Smirnoff Martini

DRAW SUSPENSION — Peggy Steward, 8, and her brother, Charles Jr., 13, arrive at their Chester Township, Pa., home yesterday after being suspended for taking their own lunches instead of buying them for 35 cents in the school cafeteria. The school board ruled last month that pupils in the district's two schools be given these choices for lunch: eat at home, pay 35 cents for a cafeteria lunch, carry lunch and eat it in the cafeteria but pay the 35 cents anyway, or be suspended.

Explorers of Moon May Settle Long-Debated Origin Question

WASHINGTON — Astronauts exploring the moon may eventually clear up its mysteries, but astronomers do not yet know how the moon came into being.

Years ago, many scientists believed the moon was a chunk of the earth. Theoretically, it was torn loose billions of years ago, leaving the Pacific Ocean's bed as a scar.

Opinion has now shifted toward the belief that the moon and earth were created separately, the National Geographic says. Then the moon was captured as a satellite by the earth's gravitational pull.

Some astronomers think the capture might have resulted in a fantastic cataclysm. Vast quantities of moon matter may have rained into the earth, according to this theory, making the earth's crust largely of lunar origin — rather than the moon's source.

* * *

G. H. Darwin, son of naturalist Charles Darwin, originally advanced the theory that the moon is a child of the earth. The younger Darwin suggested that the moon was cast off when the original earth-moon mass was still fluid.

THEORY MODIFIED

Darwin's theory was later modified by scientists who suggested that the moon's ejection occurred after the earth-moon mass had cooled enough to have a thin crust.

The ejection would naturally have left a big hole and cracked the remaining crust. Examining the earth, these scientists theorized that the bed of the Pacific was the "scar."

But evidence has mounted against Darwin's theory. The Pacific is only a few miles deep, so it seems unlikely that it could represent the hole left by a body the size of the moon.

* * *

Moreover, marine geologists have found that the Pacific floor is essentially the same as other ocean floors.

TELLING ARGUMENT

The most telling argument against Darwin's theory has come from mathematicians who say that a large mass could not have been whirled off into space and remained intact, as Darwin had supposed.

"The moon is not earth's child," says astronomer Patrick Moore. "In fact, it is best to regard the earth-moon system as a double planet rather than as a planet and satellite, since the moon is much too large to be ranked as an inferior body."

A puzzling fact is the moon's relative fluffiness; it is far less dense than the earth. This suggests that the moon must have been created in an entirely different manner.

Harold C. Urey, a Nobel prize-winning chemist, believes the moon is actually much older than the earth. Writes Dr. Urey: "Its composition is more nearly that of the sun and the original solids in the primitive dust cloud (from which the planets formed)."

* * *

olids in the primitive dust cloud (from which the planets formed.)"

PLANETS FORMED

Originally, Dr. Urey contends, space around the sun teemed with moon-sized bodies. Through collisions, dispersion of the lighter material, and consolidation of what remained, the planets were formed. The moon somehow survived as a relic of an earlier stage. Eventually it was captured by the earth.

* * *

Swedish physicist Hannes Alfven believes that when the moon was captured, it was partly torn asunder by the earth's gravity.

* * *

During the great cataclysm, fragments bombarded what remained of the moon, forming many of the craters that are the moon's most distinctive feature today.

N. J. Road Deaths Up

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Arthur J. Sills says 95 persons were killed in New Jersey traffic accidents last month, the highest September total since 1937. There were 96 fatalities in September 1937.

Thieves Club for Students

ORANGE, Calif. (UPI) — "Thieves Anonymous," a junior high school club which required the stealing of $100 worth of merchandise for initiation, has been uncovered by police.

Officers reported that the club had 22 members among students at Yorba Junior High School. Its existence was discovered when four boys—aged 12 to 14—were taken into custody Monday for attempting to steal a $200 guitar from a music company. A fifth youth escaped.

* * *

Police said the attempted theft climaxed a series of shoplifting incidents.

Club officers bore such titles as "head of thieves and enforcers" and "superior court judge," police said.

UF BANNER — Employes of General Motors Acceptance Corp., Pontiac Mall branch, earned a 100 per cent United Fund banner this week. Branch manager Victor J. Stachler and Betty Eschrich, a GMAC employe, admire the coveted emblem showing participation in the annual fund campaign.

GMAC Gets UF 100 Per Cent Banner

A coveted 100 per cent banner has been run up by General Motors Acceptance Corp., (GMAC) employes, in the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund drive.

GMAC employes achieved two goals this week. In addition to reaching 100 per cent participation, they also qualified for a United Fund plaque award.

Victor J. Stackler, branch manager of the office at 255 N. Telegraph, Waterford Township, and local United Fund firm chairman, reported that contributions of 33 office and field personnel averaged better than an hour's pay per month — the suggested giving standard of the campaign.

The average individual pledge reflected an increase of 41 per cent, $8.56 more than last year.

Firms qualify for the plaque award if 90 per cent of all personnel contribute and the amount raised is equal to at least 65 per cent giving one hour's pay per month.

Committee to Assess Role of School Branch

LANSING (AP)—An advisory committee was asked Wednesday to make an impartial assessment of the future form and function of the Sault Ste. Marie branch of Michigan Technological University.

Committee members met with the State Board of Education to hear what the board wanted in its report, to be submitted by next Jan. 1.

Looking through company records, Stackler discovered that employe gifts totaled $83.70 10 years ago, compared to the current $956.50 total.

BETTER INFORMED

Stackler felt that employes are better informed on United Fund services than in years past.

"Employe meetings, use of the United Fund films, literature and payroll deduction plans are a definite factor in raising giving standards," he noted.

"However, no amount of aids can do the job without the basic cooperation and generosity of the giver."

* * *

The plaque award will be presented to GMAC employes at a formal ceremony in January.

Says Men, Ships on Viet Duty Overextended

Rear Adm. Edward C. Outlaw, recently returned from directing air strikes in Viet Nam, says men and ships are being overextended there.

Ships engaged in the Viet Nam operations have been continuously at-sea for 30 to 60 days, Outlaw told 750 Navy and Marine Corps officers at a Navy Day luncheon yesterday.

Outlaw, commander of the Navy's 7th Fleet Task Force 77, said: "The longest period a ship should be required to stay at sea is about 21 days."

He said the United States doesn't have enough men or ships at present to cut down on the continuous sea duty.

LISTEN TO ADDRESS — Residents gather around a parked car in Rio de Janeiro yesterday to hear Brazil's President Castello Branco announce constitutional changes, in a nationwide radio and television address. The Brazilian government abolished all political parties and gave military courts sweeping powers in the decree.

Brazil Said Calm After Dictatorial Edict

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Brazil was reported calm today and most political leaders were silent after President Humberto Castello Branco dealt himself dictatorial powers.

Some 200 students demonstrated briefly in Rio de Janeiro, but no other unrest was reported after Castello Branco issued the sweeping new law Wednesday.

"We need tranquility for the nation's economic development," he told a radio and television audience.

The decree overriding parts of the constitution came after an all-night debate in which Congress balked at approving the administration's proposed constitutional amendment increasing the scope of federal intervention in Brazil's 22 states.

SLAM LID DOWN

With the measure facing defeat, the military government slammed the lid down.

The decree included these provisions:

—The abolition of all existing political parties;

—Presidential power to declare a state of siege for up to 180 days;

★ ★ ★

—Federal power to intervene in the states;

—Expansion of the Supreme Court from 11 to 16 judges;

—Presidential power to oust federal and local legislators and authority to suspend political rights of any citizen for 10 years.

★ ★ ★

The act also abolished direct election of the president by the people. Instead he will be chosen by Congress before next Oct. 3, and Castello Branco cannot succeed himself.

Justice Minister Juracy Magalhaes repeated a government promise that state governors who were elected earlier this month would be allowed to assume office.

The Brazilian Labor party of leftist ex-President Joao Goulart, who was ousted by a civil-military movement last year, said Castello Branco's decree "mortally assaulted what remains of republican institutions."

OEA Agent for Teachers

OXFORD — The board of education has recognized the Oxford Education Association as sole bargaining agent for teachers in the district.

School Supt. Roger Oberg said that about 90 per cent of the teachers belong to the organization.

★ ★ ★

The district does not have the Federation of Teachers, which in some other districts is also seeking bargaining rights.

Taxpayer Has Heavy Load--to Coin a Phrase

ELY, Nev. (UPI) — Dr. Reed Anderson complained that his tax burden was heavy and then proved it.

He paid his $187.78 property tax bill with 15,003 pennies, 155 nickels, 200 dimes and 40 quarters. The coins weighed 106 pounds.

Officers Are Chosen for Cub Scout Troop

OXFORD — Eugene McNeil of 132 Kintyre, Oxford Township, has been chosen committee chairman of Cub Scout Troop No. 187.

Elected to serve with him were Clifford Grose, assistant cub master; Donald Woodbeck, secretary - treasurer; William Gritzinger, institutional representative; and Robert McMeans and Dareyl Plue, committeemen.

Little Room at Top

NEW DELHI (AP) — Indian climbers who scaled Mt. Everest, the world's highest (29,028 feet) mountain, say the peak has room enough for only four men to stand side by side.

Military Their Line

Girls Take ROTC to Heart

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP)—The uniform of the day for Capt. Bill Week's freshman military science class at Pittsburg State College is khaki, but three students wear black skirts.

★ ★ ★

The Reserve Officers Training Corps on the campus has been invaded by three senior coeds who plan to enter military service after graduation. Since the school could not issue them uniforms, they made their own.

★ ★ ★

"We decided ROTC would help us when we get into Officers Training School," said Mary Hunker, a biology major from Muscotah, Kan.

The other coeds are Linda Searcy, a premedical student from Iola, Kan.; and Kay Courtner, a history major from Olathe, Kan. Each is 21 years old.

PICK TOE NAVY

They have tentatively picked the Navy for their service, but Miss Courtner said, "It depends on which offers the best courses in my field." She wants to do historical research.

"I want to study for a master's degree while in the service and I hope eventually to get into parapsychology," said Miss Hunker.

★ ★ ★

Parapsychology is the study of events not accounted for by natural law, for example, mental telepathy.

★ ★ ★

Miss Searcy wants to become a physician before joining the service and plans to enroll in the University of Kansas Medical School next fall.

SERVICE CAREER

Kay and Mary plan to enlist following graduation in June. They say they plan to make the service a career.

★ ★ ★

"We're happy to have them in the class," said Capt. Weeks. They only monitor the course and get no credit, but "the boys enjoy their presence and the girls seem very interested in the classwork."

★ ★ ★

"We thought having our own uniforms would be appropriate," Miss Hunker said.

"We wear a black skirt and white long-sleeve blouse with a black tie," she said.

Perfect Attendance Adds to His Laurels

LADONIA, Tex. (AP) — Along with letters in football, basketball, baseball and track and scholastic and class honors, Chandler Burnett holds one special award.

When he graduated from high school here, the athlete-scholar was honored for his perfect attendance for 12 years — which adds up to 2,113 days of school.

Medal 20 Years Late; Well, C'est la Guerre

LEMANS, France (UPI)—Albert Malabry is to receive the Croix de Guerre next month — two generations late.

Malabry was wounded while fighting in World War I, but only recently learned he had been cited for the award.

State Hunter Wounded

FENWICK (AP) — George Leonard, 13, of Fenwick was admitted to a Grand Rapids hospital Wednesday with pellet wounds in his face and chest suffered in a pheasant hunting accident.

Man's Left Out When Sympathy's Going Around

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Women get more sympathy in life than men.

BOYLE

This is because they have learned the truth of the saying, "It pays to advertise."

As Henry David Thoreau pointed out early in the last century, most men "lead lives of quiet desperation." This is why their plight gets little general pity.

Women, on the other hand, tend to lead lives of noisy desperation. Thus, they lay claim to more sympathy—and they get it.

COMPLAINS ALOUD

When a woman suffers a loss in life, she announces it and complains aloud about it to high heaven. She is immediately surrounded by solacing friends and neighbors who tell her she must calm down, take it easy, drink some tea, and have something to eat.

When a man suffers a loss, he usually must face his misery alone. He is supposed to take it in Spartan silence, and even his oldest male friends are embarrassed to mention it. He must suffer by himself, and pull himself together with little outside help.

These thoughts are stirred by a rash of articles in women's magazines about what one called "the empty arms syndrome."

This describes the predicament of many a middle-aged mother after her children are grown and flown. She misses her nestlings, and life seems empty and purposeless without them.

SLAVES FOR YEARS

For years she slaved to please and placate them, to admonish and advise them. Now she feels useless, barren and unneeded. "What is there left for me to do?" she asks aloud in her grief.

A thousand psychiatrists rush to her rescue. They pat her on the back, hold a handkerchief to her nose so that she can honk away, tell her she is still vastly important to the world, and made even more beautiful by her Indian summer loss. Well, well, well.

* * *

But what about dear old Dad? Isn't he a victim of "the empty arms syndrome," too. Doesn't he, after the nestlings have winged away, feel depressed at coming home to a house that no longer echoes with the music of his children? Doesn't he feel lonely, lost, and somewhat vague about the importance of his future?

You wouldn't think so from reading the women's magazines. Or the men's magazines either, for that matter. Nobody pays any attention to the emotional deprivation that papa endures. He is supposed to look relieved and happy that the kids are off his back at last. He is expected to go on bringing home the bacon with the same pleasure as before.

HITS A FATHER

But a loss of family responsibility and the need of feeling needed hits a father, actually, as hard as it does a mother. He feels an equal diminishment of his importance, the same vacuum in his heart. But he is supposed to be stoical about it and pretend the problem doesn't exist.

Well, to heck with that dishonesty.

* * *

There is only one young egg-maker in our house. She is only 12 now, but I fearfully foresee the day when she will grow up and fly away with a husband of her very own. And my arms will then be as empty as her mother's.

On that distant wedding hour, my wife will break into tears, and be surrounded at once with consoling guests who will tell her things like, "Look at it this way, Frances, you haven't really lost a daughter—you gained a son."

TOSS ON FLOOR

But what I will do, as soon as the ceremony is over, is to fling myself on the floor and break into loud sobs. And when a curious bystander finally notices me, and asks, "What in the devil are you doing down there?" I will look up and reply:

"Acting like a father really feels. Don't pay any attention to silly old me. It's just my empty arms syndrome."

New Way Detects 'Mono' Fast

By Science Service

CHICAGO—A rapid, accurate method of detecting infectious mononucleosis using the blood cells of horses has been developed in Princeton, N. J.

* * *

The new test, which cuts the time required for diagnosis from hours to minutes, is 98.5 per cent accurate and can be conducted in the doctor's office.

Dr. Stanley Bauer of Princeton Hospital and Miss Gail Hoff, a doctoral candidate at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., developed the method by testing blood cells from several different animals.

The mononucleosis test now most widely used is one involving the tendency of sheep red blood cells to clump together when joined with serum from a patient infected with mononucleosis.

However, results have been wrongly positive, in an estimated 10 per cent to 15 per cent of cases, creating a serious problem because mononucleosis can be confused with such serious diseases as acute leukemia, hepatitis, and forms of meningitis and encephalitis.

AEC to Inspect 85 Sites Seeking Huge A-Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans to send inspection teams to 85 proposed sites for its $340 million atom smasher.

A congressional source said two teams will look over two sites in Maryland today and other teams will be in Idaho and Iowa next week. Eight teams have been formed to do the nationwide job, the source said.

A unique hot, dry, dusty wind from the south called the "ghibl" features Libya's climate. It usually lasts for one to four days at a time in the spring and fall, causing temperatures to increase rapidly even in January to 85 degrees.

Halloween Calls for Witchery in Kitchen

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

With Halloween falling on Sunday, there will be lots of bewitched parties this weekend. You'll want to practice a little witchcraft in the kitchen beforehand.

Witches' brew is a necessity. You can give the youngsters chilled cider, but do try this drink for the adults. We had it in Chicago and I served it recently to an approving group.

Although the original recipe for Wine and Apple Starter calls for chilling the beverage, it is a delicious hot drink. Just let all the ingredients simmer for 15-20 minutes.

Wine And Apple Starter

¼ cup red cinnamon candies
2 cups apple juice or cider
1 (4/5 quart) bottle California red dinner wine or Rose
Ice Cubes
Lime slices and orange wedges

* * *

Simmer cinnamon candies and one cup of the apple juice together, stirring occasionally, until candies are dissolved. Cool and combine with remaining apple juice, wine and ice cubes.

Garnish with lime slices and orange wedges. Makes about eight five-ounce servings.

Three sticks of cinnamon may be substituted for the candies, if desired. Add sugar to taste.

Cat-Face sandwiches will amuse guests of any age. They're the open-face variety.

Bologna Cat-Face Sandwiches

6 ounce package sliced bologna
3 hamburger buns, split
Stuffed olives
Green pepper strips
Pimiento strips

Trim top edge of each slice of bologna to form points for cat's ears. Place one slice of bologna on each hamburger bun half.

Decorate each slice of bologna to resemble cat faces by using slices of stuffed olive for the eyes, green pepper strips for the whiskers, and pimiento pieces for the mouth. Serve open-face, cat-face, of course. Makes 6 sandwiches.

If your party is a dessert affair, here are two recipes that fit the occasion. Neither one calls for any cooking.

Goblin Orange Cups may be a favorite dessert all winter.

Goblin Orange Cups

10 medium-size California oranges
2 3¾ ounce packages whipped dessert mix, vanilla
¼ cup peppermint candies, crushed

* * *

Wash oranges; slice off tops of 8 oranges, leaving ¾ of each orange. Carefully ream out juice, keeping shells intact. Reserve 2 cups of juice and chill. Peel remaining 2 oranges and cut into bite-size pieces to make 1 cup of drained fruit.

Prepare dessert mix, following package directions, using chilled orange juice for liquid. Chill 10 minutes.

Fold orange pieces into pudding and spoon into orange cups. Garnish tops with peppermint candies. Chill until firm, about 2 hours. Makes 8 servings.

The traditional Halloween cat shows up again in our last recipe. Paper cut-outs decorate a chocolate pie, making it resemble a pussycat's face.

Pussycat Pie

Chocolate Cookie Crust:
1½ cups chocolate cookie crumbs
⅓ cup melted butter

Combine cookie crumbs and melted butter; press over bottom and side of a 9-inch pie plate; chill.

Pie Filling:
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups milk
1 6-ounce package (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine gelatine, sugar and salt in saucepan. Stir in milk. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatine dissolves, 3 to 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add chocolate morsels and stir until melted.

Beat with rotary beater until chocolate is blended. Stir in vanilla. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon. Fold in whipped cream.

Turn into prepared pie shell. Chill until firm. Make pussycat face with paper cut-outs. Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

GOBLIN ORANGE CUPS

PUSSYCAT PIE

What's a Sardine?

According to U.S. law the word "sardine" on a can label may describe certain small fish, including sprats, herrings and pilchards. Any small clupeoid (herring - like) fish may be canned as sardines, provided the label also bears the name of the country or state in which the fish are taken and prepared.

Pudding Mix Base of Dessert Sauce

This menu is a little different!

Oxtail and Barley Soup
French Bread Stuffed Celery
Coffee Gelatin Plus Beverage

Coffee Gelatin Plus

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons instant coffee
⅔ cup sugar
3 cups boiling water
Vanilla Fluff

In a medium mixing bowl, soften the gelatin in the cold water. Add coffee powder, sugar and boiling water; stir until dry ingredients and gelatin dissolve. Turn into 8 one-half cup molds; chill untill set. Unmold.

* * *

Serve with Vanilla Fluff: Cook 1 package (3¼ ounces) of vanilla pudding-and-pie filling as directed on package for pudding; cool, stirring often. Fold into ½ cup heavy cream beaten until stiff with 1 tablespoon sugar and ¼ teaspoon vanilla.

To keep a knob of fresh ginger, leave it unpeeled and cover it with sherry. Use a glass jar with a screw-top cover and keep the sherried ginger in the refrigerator. Cut off a slice as needed.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Beef Inside Chuck Roll.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A. It comes from the inside of the chuck or shoulder section, the forequarter of beef. It's a boneless cut, but unlike many similar appearing cuts, it does not need to be tied with cord or string for holding together. One end, pictured to the front, shows the rib eye muscle.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By braising. Brown the meat first in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season, as desired, with salt, pepper, herbs or spices. Add liquid, but not more than ½ cup. This may be water, vegetable juice, beef bouillon or even cider. Cover tightly and cook slowly 3 to 4

Bake Pizzas in Shape of Footballs

Win or lose, appetites are hearty after a cheering afternoon at a football game. Have the gang come back to your house for a quick and hearty snack.

* * *

Individual football pizzas made from a packaged complete pizza mix are ready in a matter of minutes. Stir some canned baked beans into the pizza sauce before spooning over the dough and you'll have a hearty, filling snack.

* * *

Add a dish of assorted relishes and either a cup of hot coffee or a cold drink will please everyone's taste preference. For the dessert choice, some chocolate brownies and cookies or crunchy apples.

Baked Bean Pizza Football

1 pkg. complete pizza with cheese
1 can (1 lb.) baked beans
3 strips bacon

* * *

Grease two cookie sheets. Remove pizza dough mix, can pizza sauce, can of cheese from package. Make a pattern of a football, 6½"x4½". Draw the outline of the football pattern three times on two baking sheets. Preheat oven to 425 degrees.

Prepare dough as directed on package. Divide the dough into six equal parts. Shape each part into the traced football patterns turning up edges about ¼".

Mix together can of pizza sauce and can of baked beans. Cut each strip of bacon in half. Partially fry. Drain on paper toweling.

* * *

Divide sauce equally between the six pieces of dough and garnish each with half strip of bacon. Bake for 20 minutes. Makes six individual pizzas.

Instant Tea Adds Flavor to Dainty Cakes, Cookies

At the annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference in New York last year, The Lipton Kitchens introduced two new tea delights . . . a delicate tea leaf cookie and a flaky pastry filled with apples.

The innovation: instant tea was used as the flavoring ingredient. The result: a magnificent flavor which won nods of approval from the food editors.

* * *

Because of the enthusiasm of the food editors, the home economists at Lipton this year created an entire repertoire of new tea desserts with this mysterious, intriguing flavor.

Here are some of the new recipes which were presented to the food editors this year at The Lipton Golden Key Club.

Marbled Tea Loaves

1 (2 layer) package yellow cake mix
3 tablespoons instant tea powder
1 tablespoon milk

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour two 1½ quart loaf pans. Prepare cake mix as label directs. In medium bowl, dissolve instant tea in milk and blend in half of batter.

Spoon plain and tea mixtures alternately into prepared pans. With spatula or knife, cut through batter in wide zig-zag to give marbled effect. Bake about 45 minutes or until cakes test done. Cool on racks.

Makes 2 loaves. Freeze one to have on hand if desired.

* * *

Sweet Potatea Nut Cookies

6 tablespoons instant tea powder
2 tablespoons milk
½ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups granulated sugar
3 eggs
1 (pound) can sweet potatoes, drained, mashed
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ tablespoon grated lemon rind
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 cup seedless raisins
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons double-acting baking powder

* * *

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Dissolve instant tea in milk. In large bowl with mixer at medium speed, beat butter or margarine and sugar until creamy.

Add eggs, sweet potatoes, salt and tea-milk mixture, then stir in lemon rind, walnuts and raisins.

Sift together four and baking powder and blend into tea-sugar mixture.

Drop by teaspoonful — 2 inches apart — on greased cookie sheet. Bake 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool on rack. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Grind Some Ham for Sandwiches

When there's ham left from a weekend dinner, some of it may be used for lunchbox sandwiches.

Savory Ham Sandwiches

1 cup ground (fine or medium) baked ham, packed down.
⅓ cup mayonnaise
⅓ cup India-type sweet pickle relish, undrained
10 slices buttered bread

In a mixing bowl, thoroughly stir together the ham, mayonnaise and pickle relish. Use as filling for 5 sandwiches made with the buttered bread.

Cut each sandwich into 2 triangles and wrap tightly.

Brown Bread That's Baked Is Unusual

This unorthodox recipe has old-fashioned flavor.

Baked Sweet Brown Bread

1 cup unsifted regular white flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon slat
1 cup unsifted stoneground whole-wheat flour
½ cup dark molasses
¼ cup dark corn syrup
1 cup buttermilk
⅔ cup raisins, rinsed in hot water and drained

On wax paper, thoroughly stir together the white flour, baking soda and salt; add whole-wheat flour and thoroughly stir together.

In a medium mixing bowl, stir together until combined the molasses, corn syrup and buttermilk; add dry ingredients and raisins; stir until ingredients are evenly distributed.

Turn into a greased metal loaf pan (8½x4½x2½ inches). Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean but sticky — about 1¼ hours. Turn out on wire rack; loaf will have crack on top.

Use long serrated knife and sawing motion to slice rather thick while faintly warm—top will be crusty; or place in tightly closed plastic bag and store at room temperature overnight when top will soften and loaf may be thinly sliced.

Shrimp on Picks Covers Cabbage

For a party, you might like to serve cooked shrimp this way. Choose a leafy green cabbage and loosen the outside leaves; fold them back, petal-fashion.

Insert a wooden pick into each shrimp and then force the bottom of the picks into the cabbage. Serve a cocktail sauce so guests can dip the shrimp into it.

BAKED BEAN PIZZA—Just the thing to serve after the game — pizza in football shape. There's nothing to it: all you do is form the pizza dough into oval shape. Adding beans to the pizza mixture makes the dish more hearty.

Rye Sandwich Loaf Is Post Game Tempter

Sometime during the football season you're sure to take a turn at entertaining the gang after the game. This party pigskin is just the ticket for satisfying lusty appetites whetted by the crisp, fresh air.

A hearty multi-decker sandwich loaf, this is one football that won't last long enough to see action on the field. Layers of delicious creamy tuna spread, crunchy chili-flavored kraut, Swiss cheese with mustard and deviled ham with pickle relish are spread generously on rye bread.

The loaf is encased in a rich, smooth cream cheese frosting and laced with strips of pimiento and slices of pimiento-stuffed olives.

Tuna fish is a sandwich filling ever-popular with teenagers. Along with the cheeses and deviled ham it makes a nutritious, protein - rich loaf that not only fills the hollows of hungry guests but keeps them satisfied. Tangy kraut complements these robust flavors and provides an interesting crunchiness.

The football-like loaf makes a good centerpiece for your party table and it's ideal for entertaining because most of the work can be done in advance.

The entire sandwich can be prepared and refrigerated before the game with the exception of the frosting. That should be done no more than an hour before serving to prevent it from drying and cracking.

Tuna Kraut Party Pigskin

1 loaf oval rye bread, unsliced
Butter or margarine, softened
Kraut mixture*
Tuna spread
Watercress or parsley sprigs
Prepared mustard
¼ pound sliced Swiss cheese
Ham spread
3 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
2 to 3 tablespoons light cream
Pimiento strips and olive slices

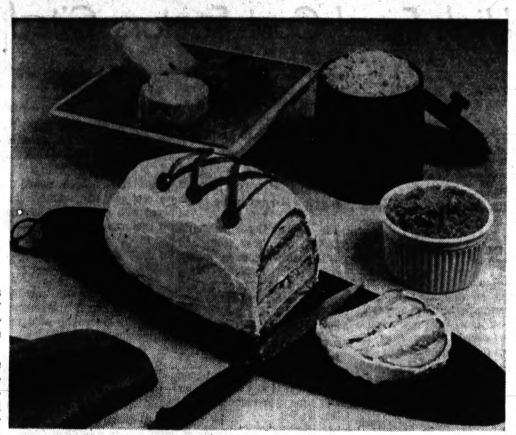
Trim bottom crust from bread; cut loaf lengthwise into five slices. Spread butter on cut surfaces. Fill bottom layer with Kraut mixture (1½ cups drained sauerkraut, 1½ tablespoons chili sauce, 1½ tablespoons mayonnaise, and ¼ teaspoon celery seed, mixed well).

Fill second layer with  Tuna spread (a 6½ to 7 ounce can flaked tuna, drained; two tablespoons chopped green pepper; one tablespoon chopped onion; one tablespoon capers; salt and pepper to taste and ⅓ cup mayonnaise, (mixed well) and watercress.

Spread third layer with mustard, fill with cheese.

Fill fourth layer with  Ham Spread (a 2¼ ounce can deviled ham mixed with one tablespoon drained sweet pickle relish).

Blend cream cheese and cream; frost loaf. Decorate with pimiento strips and olive slices to resemble football laces. Makes one sandwich loaf.



PARTY PIGSKIN — This party pigskin has layers of tuna, kraut, Swiss cheese and deviled ham spread on rye and frosted with cream cheese. It's a hearty, delicious sandwich loaf that's sure to disappear quickly at your after-the-game party.

Cook Cabbage Several Hours With Ham Bone

A big recipe! Leftovers may be refrigerated and reheated.

Oldtime Red Cabbage

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium head (2½ pounds) red cabbage (knife-shredded to make 6 cups)
2 small onions, thinly sliced
2 large cooking apples, pared and thickly sliced
½ cup red currant jelly
1 bay leaf
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup water
½ cup cider vinegar
1 ham bone with some meat and fat left on

In a large kettle, melt the butter; add the remaining ingredients (except the ham bone) and mix together.

Bury the ham bone in the center. Bring to a boil; cover and simmer until cabbage is very tender — about 2 hours. If necessary, boil gently toward end of cooking period to reduce liquid.

Remove bay leaf and ham bone; add salt if necessary. Makes 8 or more servings.

Skillet Fry Rolled Hawaiian Sandwiches

Variation of the ageless theme of ham and cheese is this delectable sandwich, called Haole.

Haole in Hawaiian means "newcomer" and this taste treat certainly is a newcomer to the ever-growing list of good sandwiches.

* * *

Haole was created in the kitchens of United States Stamping Company to demonstrate the practicality of its new Teflon-lined skillets. The sandwich is a tasty combination of chicken, ham and cheese.

It is dipped into egg batter and fried to a golden brown in a colorful skillet.

A glamorous accompaniment for Haole is fried bananas. Split the bananas lengthwise, then fry in the butter left from the sandwich. Just before end of cooking time, top the bananas slices with maple syrup and let it caramelize a bit.

The Teflon-lined skillet will wash clean, of course, with no scrubbing, in warm sudsy water.

Haole

4 slices white bread
4 slices chicken
4 slices ham
4 slices American cheese
1 egg
1 tablespoon milk
Pinch of sugar
Pinch of salt
Butter

Remove crusts from bread. Butter the bread. On each slice of bread place a slice of chicken, ham and cheese. Roll the bread jelly-roll fashion. Slice the bread rolls into three portions.

Mix egg, milk, sugar and salt together. Dip each sandwich slice in the egg mixture. Melt butter until bubbly. Fry sandwiches on all sides until lightly browned and cheese is melted. Makes 4 servings.

Garnish with pineapple slice or fried banana.

Take Your Choice

Modern cooking directions to the contrary, many good cooks believe in pricking the skin of a duck as it is roasting to help the fat drain off. However, some of these cooks say that only the skin over the back and around the tail needs the pricking.

Muffins Have Coconut Taste

Particularly tasty and simple to make are these Team Tempter Muffins made with biscuit mix. The tasty topping features bottled lemon juice and coconut, and the muffins themselves are flavored with fresh bananas. Prepare them the night before and heat just before serving.

Team Tempter Muffins

½ cup sugar
¼ cup bottled lemon juice
½ cup flaked coconut
3 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups biscuit mix
3 tablespoons sugar
1 cup mashed banana (2 large)
2 eggs, beaten
3 tablespoons melted butter

Combine ½ cup sugar and bottled lemon juice in a small saucepan; bring to a boil and boil for 5 minutes. Cool slightly. Combine lemon syrup with coconut and 3 tablespoons melted butter. Divide mixture into twelve 2¾-inch muffin cups.

Combine biscuit mix and sugar; add remaining ingredients and stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Spoon over coconut mixture, filling muffin cups ⅔ full. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 15 minutes or until done. Invert to unmold. Serve warm. Makes 1 dozen.

Watch Syrup

Weight watching? You may want to use pineapple that is canned in light syrup rather than heavy syrup; the former has a fresh taste that is enjoyable "as is" for dessert or coupled with salad greens and cottage cheese for a main-course luncheon salad.

Carrot Stuffing Fills a Flank Steak Roll

It has been said that we eat first with our eyes and then with our tongues. Such being true, good cooks are always on the alert for attractive ways to serve everyday foods.

Here is a recipe for flank steak which glamorizes this always flavorful but not always attractive looking meat. Rolled around golden carrots and then brushed with bottled browning sauce for a rich brown exterior, the steak is cooked in a savory tomato sauce. Serve it with buttered noodles, rice or whipped potatoes.

Flank Steak Rolls

1 flank steak, about 1½ lb.
2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
2 or 3 carrots
2 tablespoons vegetable oil or shortening
½ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon brown sugar
¼ teaspoon basil, crushed
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
Chopped parsley

Trim excess fat from meat. Brush one side with kitchen bouquet and sprinkle with mixture of salt, pepper and nutmeg. Cut off tapered ends of carrots. Arrange carrots end to end along one long edge of the steak; roll as for jelly roll.

Cut roll in 2-inch sections. Brush on all sides with remaining kitchen bouquet. In a large skillet, brown meat on all sides in oil over moderate heat. Add onion, brown sugar, basil and tomato sauce.

Bring to a boil, cover and cook over low heat until meat and carrots are tender, about 1 hour. Remove picks and garnish with chopped parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FLANK STEAK ROLLS—An old favorite—flank steak—comes to the table pre-carved and stuffed with carrots.

AMERICAN ENCAMPMENT — This is part of the tent city that houses the 1st Air Cavalry Division in the An Khe valley of the central Vietnamese highlands. The area covered by the U.S. troops is 32 miles. The camp has been hacked out of the heavy growth that covers the valley area and contains the largest heliport in the world.

Viet Nam Tent City a Landmark of War

AN KHE, South Viet Nam (AP)—It looks a little like a Matthew Brady photo of a civil war tenting ground and a little like a California mining camp, both with science fiction overtones.

Row upon row of pyramid tents stretch in every direction until, like a dwindling mountain range, they merge into carelessly strewn, shorter pup tents.

★ ★ ★

Men with rifles slung over their shoulders, some with jangling mess gear carried in one hand, trudge through powdery dust—or squishing mud.

Above, helicopters speed along. The whack of their blades cause men below to duck involuntarily.

MINES EVIDENT

Invisible but deadly minefields in front of machine-gun pits and slit trenches protected by sandbags.

It is the 32-square-mile position of the 1st Air Cavalry Division in An Khe Valley of the central Vietnamese highlands, adjacent to the old village of An Khe.

★ ★ ★

Until recently it was jungle, controlled by the Viet Cong.

The Viet Cong are gone now, together with most of the jungle. One area of An Khe camp, called "the golf course," is shorn of trees except for one giant banyan, left as a landmark.

KEPT FOR SHADE

The only trees remaining in tent areas were retained for shade.

Large numbers of Viet Cong still lurk around the outskirts of An Khe and the job of rooting them out will fall to the 1st Cavalry.

It will be a rough job and not only because of the fighting ability of the Viet Cong in this area.

The hills ranging up to 100 feet around here are covered with banyan, mahogany and teak trees, heavily vined. The valleys are much the same except for areas where patient Vietnamese peasants have built rice paddies; or where sandy, arid strips of ground mark dried-up river beds.

STEADY BREEZE

The daytime heat would be unbearable except for an almost continual breeze. This time of year, it is usually 102-110. At night, the temperature drops to 45 or 50 and troopers shiver beneath two blankets.

An Khe has a huge heliport—4,300 feet long by 2,000 wide, and it will be made even larger. The space is needed; the 1st Cavalry already has about 450 helicopters and all of the division is not yet in An Khe.

★ ★ ★

About 19,000 men live in 1,400 tents at An Khe. They receive 1,200 tons of supplies each day and consume 700 tons daily, so there is a steady supply buildup to meet the demands of field campaigns.

Looming above the camp is Hon Cong Mountain, a 700-foot peak which commands An Khe Valley.

Booby-Trap Doll Scare Is a Dead Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Defense Department spokesman said yesterday the booby-trapped doll scare is a dead issue and never was a valid one.

The scare developed late last week from a report the Army had sent out an urgent call for people to turn in souvenier dolls sent to them from Viet Nam because of a danger that these dolls might have been booby trapped and thus might be in danger of exploding.

★ ★ ★

Officials said the report was a distortion of an offer by Army officers at Ft. Benning, Ga., to have their explosive experts examine any dolls owners feared might be booby trapped. Various military bases and commands were deluged with inquiries.

The Pentagon spokesman said the scare lasted about 24 hours, until last Saturday evening. By then, he said, authorities had managed to get the word out that there was nothing to fear from the dolls.

Views Differ on Car Worth

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — Johannesburg used car dealers are nothing if not imaginative.

★ ★ ★

One told a prospective customer why a car advertised for sale was so cheap — and swore the story was true.

He called at a house where the car was advertised in roadworthy condition for $14.

"It's in the back," said the woman who answered the door.

★ ★ ★

He came back after a few minutes and told the woman: "There must be some mistake. The only car in the back is worth every cent of $2,800.

NO MISTAKE

"There's no mistake," said the woman. "It's my husband's. Last week he ran off with another woman.

★ ★ ★

"He wrote and told me to sell the car and send him the money."

High Food Cost Factors Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wondering why your grocery bills are so high these days?

★ ★ ★

Government experts say higher food costs all along the line—from farmer to processor to shipper to grocer — are partly to blame.

But, they add, it's still mainly the old textbook law of supply and demand that ultimately rules the supermarket cash register.

A Labor Department spot check of today's supermarket prices in major cities across the nation shows what every housewife already knows from her most recent shopping trip—sky-high meat prices and generally higher costs for many other dinner table staples.

★ ★ ★

But there were some surprising exceptions.

EXAMPLES CITED

Some examples from one major supermarket chain:

Rib end pork roast that cost 24 cents a pound a year ago was more than doubled in price today at 57 cents a pound.

But if you like to daub your meat with catsup, one major brand was selling at exactly the same price as a year ago—23 cents for a 14-ounce bottle.

★ ★ ★

The Labor Department also reported most fresh fruits and vegetables were cheaper than a year ago, despite higher wages paid to U.S. farm laborers who replaced foreign workers this year under a new government policy.

LIVESTOCK SHORTAGE

Continued short supplies of livestock will keep meat and dairy products high in price for some time, government economists predict.

Farmer cut back planting of crops and breeding of livestock when oversupplies keep prices low. Vegetable crops can be adjusted more quickly to supply and demand, but it takes much longer to build up livestock supplies.

Government spokesmen see no sudden dramatic drop in prices but many believe the worst is over.

★ ★ ★

Food costs, which soared 3 per cent over the summer compared with an increase of one per cent annually over the previous five years, should start edging down from peak levels, they believe.

★ ★ ★

But, they emphasize, only the basic law of supply and demand can finally determine what the future holds.

Sewer Project Priority

LANDING (AP) — The Michigan Water Resources Commission was to assign priorities today to local sewage treatment projects eligible for federal aid. The commission has $3.5 million in federal funds to distribute and 59 local requests, totaling $12.3 million.

Viet Protests Involve Only a Few Hard-Core Dissenters

NEW YORK (AP) — Viet Nam protest movements on U.S. college campuses involve only a small hard core of dissenters, top officials of 85 colleges and universities told the Associated Press today.

Put into perspective, members of the protest organization — anti- Viet Nam and antidraft — represent only a minute fraction of the total number of students on each campus.

In most cases the number is fewer than 25 among enrollments of 12,000 and more.

An Associated Pres poll of college officials from coast to coast showed a large number of schools having no organized dissent at all to U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

ANTIDRAFT MOVEMENT

And the antidraft movement involves even fewer students.

"The rank and file of American college students are pretty conservative," said Dr. Hurst R. Anderson, president of American University in Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

"Some like to shock their conservative parents by going home and saying things like 'I've turned Socialist'," he said. "They are sincere about it, but maybe the sincerity is pretty thin."

TEXAS WESTERN

Noting that 500 students among the 7,500 at Texas Western College at El Paso paraded in support of U.S. policy, the president, Dr. Joseph Ray, said: "We think our students show that good citizenship is not new to a college campus. Their responsible voices can be heard above the bawling of a few social dissents."

Dr. Ralph Bursiek, senior vice president of the University of Cincinnati, said he estimates that no more than 20 to 25 of the school's 14,000 day students and 10,000 night students are involved in the protests.

★ ★ ★

"I don't think reports of thousands of students participating gives an accurate picture," he said. "When you divide that by the number of colleges, you wind up with a very minute particle."

At the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, where students were among the 38 persons arrested during a sit-in at the Selective Service office, Richard L. Cutler, vice president for student affairs, said he believed only 100 to 150 students are engaged in anti-Viet Nam activities. The school has an enrollment of 34,453.

RED-INSPIRED?

Asked if he thought the movement is Communist-inspired, Cutler replied: "I think not. However, hard-core Communists — professional Communists — are always attracted to centers of disorder. They are eager to assist in the disruption of order. I do not believe these movements are Communist-dominated, but I dare say there are a few Communists participating in this."

On the Michigan campus, senior Stanley Nadel, 21, of Ann Arbor said he is chairman of the Committee to Aid the Vietnamese. He said about 25 students are selling Viet Cong postage stamps and lapel pins to aid the Communists.

Three organizations promoting protests at Michigan State University at East Lansing are the May 2nd Movement, Students for a Democratic Society and the Humanist Society.

Louis Hekhuis, director of student affairs at MSU, said, "My personal, unofficial estimate of the strength of this entire movement is less than one per cent of the student body — and I'll go even lower if pressed."

MEMBERSHIP ROSTER

"If you look at the membership roster of any of these groups you'll find members of some of the others," he said.

The university has an enrollment of 35,000 students.

Charles McClure, associate dean of students at UCLA, Los Angeles, said, "There are 15 to 20 people who run all the protest groups and are the sole members. They have a very, very small following in terms of their absolute position, but a large following in that people are interested in any issue."

★ ★ ★

McClure said he did not think more than 100 students among the more than 20,000 would be sufficiently dedicated to hold a protest sign or make a speech.

A spokesman for the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, where 12,000 students are enrolled, said there is a W.E.B. DuBois Club that is not sanctioned by the university. It has about eight to 12 members.

FBI DIRECTOR

Last week J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said the clubs are "standing in the forefront of the Communist campaign" for the minds of young people.

★ ★ ★

At Stanford University at Palo Alto, Calif., two protest groups are active, the Medical Aid Committee for Viet Nam and the May 2nd Movement.

"As near as we can tell, about 20 students form the hard core of both groups," said a campus spokesman. He said the majority of Stanford's 11,000 students are in the "middle of the road."

The largest of the protest demonstrations two weeks ago originated at the University of California campus at Berkeley. A university spokesman, who declined to be named, said only about 200 to 300 of the 27,000 students are involved in the movements.

GENERAL BELIEF

"It is the general belief that a not very large percentage of the marchers actually were students," he said.

On the Berkeley campus only two groups have announced public opposition to U.S. involvement in Viet Nam: Viet Nam Day and the May 2nd Movement.

The protest group most frequently named by college officials is the Students for a Democratic Society. At Vanderbilt University at Nashville, the society was dissolved on grounds that it was impossible to carry out the national policies under the Vanderbilt framework.

Jarold Keiffer, assistant to the president of the University of Oregon at Eugene, said only a small percentage of the 12,200 students are involved. "I get the feeling," he said, "we have more faculty than students active in the protest movement."

★ ★ ★

At Washington & Lee University at Lexington, Va., a hand-lettered sign was posted two weeks ago calling for anti-Viet Nam protests.

But no one showed up, and a student leader said, "This sort of thing doesn't have any student support at all."

AP Photofax

PRO AND CON — Signs of the times—supporting and opposing the United States position in Viet Nam—are carried by Manhattan College students at a rally on the school campus in Riverdale, N. Y., yesterday. Some 600 students attending the rally (top) were picketed by approximately 30 others with the opposite views (bottom).

Urges Taking Soldiers Under 17 From Combat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Withdrawal from combat in Viet Nam of all U.S. soldiers under 18 years of age was urged Wednesday by Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich.

★ ★ ★

"Not sending American soldiers into combat until they are 18 years old was the policy during the Korean War and I think the same policy should apply in Viet Nam," Conyers said in a statement.

★ ★ ★

Conyers, who was decorated for combat service in Korea as an Army officer, said he feels that 17 is just too young for someone to fight in a war, "though I admire and respect the courage of the American youths who volunteer at such an early age."

Mark Clark: Step Up Air Strikes on N. Viet

DETROIT (AP)—Gen. Mark Clark, commander of the United Nations forces during the Korean War, Wednesday urged stepped-up bombing of North Viet Nam and, if Red China enters the Viet Nam war, direct attacks on that country.

Clark, who recently returned from Saigon, said the United States should bomb every "remunerative target in North Viet Nam.

Speaking here at a benefit program for a Detroit hospital, Clark said if the Red Chinese entered the Viet Nam war directly, U. S. forces should "go inside China and hit them hard."

Clark said that while there may be no indication U. S. and South Vietnamese forces are winning the war "we are making progress and the balance is now in our favor."

WILL CONTINUE

Clark, 71, said fighting probably will continue for a long time unless the Viet Cong can be persuaded to sit down at the conference table—something he thinks is unlikely "unless they are hurting."

"If we are going to the peace table it is best that we go in a position of strength," Clark said.

★ ★ ★

He said the United States should concentrate more on naval and aerial attacks against the Viet Cong. The Communists, he said, have an almost endless amount of manpower and wouldn't mind spending it.

"But I wouldn't trade one American dead for a thousand Communists," he added.

'FOMENTED BY REDS'

Asked about his reaction to students protesting American involvement in Viet Nam and opposing the draft, Clark said he believed the demonstrations "are fomented by Communists."

These groups are "followed by a lot of long-haired youngsters" who don't want to serve in the military forces, he said.

★ ★ ★

Clark added laws that can be used to investigate and deal with such demonstrators should be enforced.

15,937 Back Viet at MSU

Petitions Are Given to Rep. Chamberlain

LANSING (AP) — A Michigan State University group presented petitions signed by 15,937 supporters of U.S. policy in Viet Nam to Rep. Charles Chamberlain, R-Mich., Wednesday night.

Chamberlain replied: "I'm glad we can show that at Michigan State University, not all the All-Americans are on the football team."

He promised to carry out the group's request to present the petitions to President Johnson. He also said he would write to the commander of U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, describing the petition drive.

Bob Kalberg and Bob Storch of the MSU Veterans Association presented the package of signatures which were gathered in three days last week.

LETTER TO LBJ

With the petitions was a letter to Johnson stating that one aim of the petition drive was to "place the minority groups (protesting U.S. Viet Nam policy) on our campus in the proper perspective."

The two said the signatures were entirely those of students and faculty members at the 35,580 - student university. They said they did not count an additional 100 signatures of other citizens who wanted to go on record in favor of U.S. policy.

Poindexter Slapped for 'Bigoted Appeal'

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan Fair Campaign Practices Commission has condemned as a "bigoted appeal" a letter sent by City Council candidate Thomas L. Poindexter to a number of white Protestant ministers. Poindexter in the letter calls himself "the only white Protestant" among council candidates and asks for his election.

Change May Kill Needles

California Town Fights Highway Switch

NEEDLES, Calif. (AP) — Needles bakes under the blistering sun, a Mojave Desert oasis astride U.S. 66, and waits for word from Washington.

This dot on the map is a city of 5,000 almost completely dependent on wheels. Partly the wheels of Santa Fe trains, which regularly roll through. But mostly the wheels of the 3,300 cars daily on 66, the nation's major southern east-west route.

The town is known to millions of travelers as the only stop of consequence between Kingman, Ariz., 65 miles northeast, and Barstow, Calif., 141 miles west. Townsmen face a problem they say is life or death for many: those auto wheels, or most of them, may be routed away.

★ ★ ★

Plans for Interstate 40, a superversion of U.S. 66, may be changed. Instead of Kingman-Barstow via Needles, a revised route calls for it to go via Searchlight, Nev., a hamlet 45 miles north, population 200. The claimed reason: This would be shorter, and cheaper.

THE RESULT

Result: A boomlet that began with word of the new highway has died aborning.

In Washington, the Bureau of Public Roads limited itself to the following comment:

"The bureau has compiled additional data on the proposed new route and the matter is under consideration."

Needles department store owner Bill Claypool, 43, has compiled with others a 100-page booklet which he says forecasts the effect of a highway loss. He says it would mean bankruptcy for all but five of 29 gas stations, 10 of 19 cafes, 10 of 14 wholesalers, most retailers, and loss of one-third of the city's 1,057 jobs.

Claypool, sparkplug of the group fighting for Needles, makes these arguments: Needles already has a hospital, police and fire protection and other facilities which are slow to come — if ever — to a community which springs up along a new highway.

RECREATION BOOM

He adds that a Needles freeway is a must within 20 years anyway because the Colorado River recreation boom. Needles is the hub for pleasure-seeking water skiers, cruisers, duck hunters, and fishermen.

The federal government has drawn a 187-page recreation and development plan for the river. By 1990 an estimated 85,000 people, compared with the present 15,000, are expected to live permanently between Davis and Parker dams.

The scenery around Needles is stark — bare brown mountains form a jagged rim around one side, outlined against an azure sky — but desert lovers find beauty in it. And nearby is the mighty Colorado, tamed now by dams whose lakes provide wonderful recreation.

Cruel winds can kick dust into every closet and threaten highway travel. Flash floods rip out roads and carry away cars. But these things happen rarely and the usual picture is frame and stucco houses, serene amid the elms. Town talk used to focus on how the bass are biting, the annual speed boat races, the new marine, or who shot what on the new golf course down in Colorado bottomland.

WESTERN DRAMA

Nowadays, talk most often is about the highway. Residents say they can't understand the switch. And, like in many a Far West drama, there's a heavy — Rex Whitton, federal administrator of roads.

This is the background: In 1960 the federal government agreed to route Interstate 40, part of a nationwide network of super roads, through Needles.

And now four projects, including a new bridge across the Colorado, are under construction along the approved route at a cost of $9 million. Another $17 million in projects is in this year's California budget.

In February 1963, Whitton said the Searchlight route should be considered. But in September of that year he reaffirmed the Needles route. Then last April, Whitton said the Searchlight route would again be considered.

PRESENT PATH

Via Needles, the route would conform roughly to the present path of U.S. 66 between Kingman and Barstow, about 200 miles.

Via Searchlight, it would go from Kingman to Wheaton Springs in California near the Nevada border and tie in with Interstate 15, which links Las Vegas and Barstow. This is about 85 miles.

★ ★ ★

Either way the motorist would drive about the same distance.

But Whitton says the Searchlight route due to the Interstate 15 tie-in would save 115 miles of new highway and $30 million.

The Needles folk speak bitterly of the decision, contending Washington has broken its word.

RECEIVED SUPPORT

Needles leaders have gone after, and received, a lot of support.

★ ★ ★

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown has asked President Johnson to intervene and save the road for Needles. All four California and Arizona senators have asked Whitton's boss, Commerce Secretary John T. Connor, to step in. And a host of Arizona and California congressmen, officials of various counties and cities, business leaders and state highway officials have come out in favor of Needles.

★ ★ ★

And what of Searchlight and the state of Nevada? To them it's an unexpected, but welcome, potential bonanza, heading their way without effort.

After Whitton's second Searchlight announcement, Nevada Gov. Grant Sawyer and the state's congressmen endorsed the switch. And the Chamber of Commerce in Las Vegas, 45 miles north of Searchlight, said: "We have nothing to lose and everything to gain."

MANY SMILES

In Searchlight, once a mining boomtown, now home to 200 persons mostly retired, there are smiles all over.

Where the affair of Needles vs. Searchlight will end is anyone's guess.

★ ★ ★

California Highway Engineer J. C. Womack sums it all up with these words: "This is without a doubt the biggest snafu I've seen in this business. It's a dilly."

★ ★ ★

And Needles bakes, and citizens wait, for hoped-for word that Washington has changed its mind again — for them.

FREE ON BAIL—David J. Miller, 22, of Syracuse, N.Y., meets newsmen outside federal court in New York yesterday after pleading innocent to a one-count indictment charging that he destroyed his draft card. Miller was freed on $500 bail, pending trial.

New Yorker Admits He Burned Draft Card; Denies U.S. Charge

NEW YORK (AP) — David J. Miller, 22, publicly admitted yesterday that he burned his draft card, but pleaded innocent of a federal charge that he did.

As he arrived at the courthouse here, the slender, red-haired Miller handed a reporter a typewritten statement attacking the draft, U.S. involvement in Viet Nam and the draft card mutilation law itself.

★ ★ ★

"I affirm my American right to dissent and my own personal right of refusal to participate in war and the preparation for war," the statement said. "I say this as a Christian, a Catholic and an American."

President Johnson signed the law last Aug. 30. It outlaws mutilation of a Selective Service System notification of classification, under maximum penalty of five years in jail and $10,000 fine.

FIRST CHARGED

Miller of Syracuse, N.Y., was the first person charged with violating it—during a Manhattan peace rally on Oct. 15.

Loudly and firmly Miller pleaded "not guilty" after the one-count indictment was read.

★ ★ ★

U.S. District Judge John M. Cannella freed him in $500 bail pending trial.

In the statement handed to the reporter, Miller said:

"First, the piece of paper I burned was in fact my draft card.

PUBLIC EXPRESSION

"I burned it as a public expression of protest and dissent in regard to the recent law of Congress prohibiting such acts, to the Selective Service System in itself, and to the dangerous and self-defeating course of United States policy in Viet Nam."

He denounced the new law as "foolish, biased, and intended only as intimidation," attacked the draft system as "involuntary servitude" and of Viet Nam, said:

"It is my opinion that the United States should discontinue sending additional troops to Viet Nam, that the National Liberation Front be recognized as a primary combatant and party to negotiation, that the bombing of Vietnamese villages be stopped, that a cease-fire and standstill be immediately sought with the National Liberation Front so that the provisions of the 1954 Geneva agreement can hope to be accomplished."

Has a Good Reason to Refuse Viet Service

WATERFORD, Conn. (UPI)— A Cub Scout appearing last night at a Halloween costume party as a beatnik carried a sign of the times.

It read: "I will not go to Viet Nam . . . My mommy won't let me cross the street."

Not Seeking Aid for Cong ---Red Cross

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Red Cross said Wednesday it has no connection with any efforts to collect blood, funds or other relief supplies for Communist North Viet Nam or the Viet Cong.

"We wish to make it clear the American Red Cross is in no way connected with relief activities of this type nor are we associated in any manner with student or other groups which may be engaged in aid programs for North Viet Nam or the Viet Cong," a Red Cross statement said.

However, the agency said it is working with student groups that have expressed a desire to give blood and provide other services in support of U.S. efforts in South Viet Nam.

The statement was issued after the International Red Cross Committee confirmed in Geneva that it has offered to accept medical aid for the Viet Cong from the May 2nd Movement and similar groups in the West.

Joys of Car Cooking Are Manifold

AP Photos

CHECK THE ROAST — Dorothy Crandall, food editor of the Boston Globe, checks tenderness of a roast wrapped in foil and left to cook on the exhaust manifold of her car during a trip. Miss Crandall tried the roasting-while-rolling method pioneered by Norma Bidwell, food editor of the Hamilton (Ont.) Spectator and found it works fine.

The Engine Acts as a Stove; Food Is Ready at Destination

BOSTON (AP) — Chalk one up for women drivers: "We're cooking under the hood of the car. With the youngsters in the back seat and the wheels rolling.

"Forget about the oil, just check the roast," one pioneer chef told her filling station attendant. Sure enough here it was, a foil-wrapped package riding on the exhaust manifold, hottest spot under the hood.

We tried it following the lead of Norma Bidwell, Canadian housewife who's been roasting-while-rolling all summer.

Mrs. Bidwell, food editor of the Hamilton Spectator, said: "My husband scoffed the first time I handed him a three-pound foil-wrapped package of raw meat and said, "We'll cook it under the hood."

* * *

"But 10 minutes later after we arrived at the cottage the six of us were munching happily on hot roast beef sandwiches with tender-crisp onions and seasoned with cook-on sauce."

COOKING RULES

The rules for road cooking: Wrap a two-to-three pound roast, not over two inches thick for a three-hour drive in a large sheet of extra heavy duty foil, fold edges together twice to make a lock seam; use a wire hanger to anchor the meat to the manifold;

Stop halfway to your destination to turn the roast; Don't stop to visit with friends for your roast needs three hours driving time:

Don't try turkey.

"During the early stages of a turkey's cooking, it gets bouncy. It sticks its elbows out and pushes away from the heat. You try to push it back and it sticks a drumstick through the foil."

This means trouble — like grease burning on the manifold.

HUMPHREY CRANKS UP FLAG — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey appears to enjoy his job as he turns a crank to raise the huge flag of the City of Philadelphia at dedication ceremonies for the city's new $18-million Municipal Services Building in the background. With him are the city's mayor, James H. J. Tate (left), and Paul D'Ortona, city council president.

ABANDONED BABY — This tot, found tired, hungry and crying in a skid-row hotel in Vancouver, B.C., fell asleep still clutching his fire-arm in an emergency shelter. Police are seeking the parents.

GENERAL HONORED — Gen. Jacob L. Devers (left) receives the George Catlett Marshall Medal for 1965 from Elvis Stahr, president of the Association of the U.S. Army, at a banquet yesterday in Washington, D.C. Devers, commander of the 6th U.S. Army Group in Europe in World War II, is now chairman of the American Battle Monuments Commission. The award is given annually for outstanding service to the nation.

SEARCH FOR ATTACKERS — Men of the U. S. 1st Cavalry Division, ferried into Plei Me, South Viet Nam by helicopters, move cautiously over the crest of a hill yesterday searching for elements of the Viet Cong force that had kept the outpost under siege for a week.

WOUNDED AMERICAN — M. Sgt. J. D. Brewer of Fayetteville, N. C., a U. S. Special Forces adviser at Minh Thanh (right), rides with Vietnamese wounded to an evacuation area after he suffered a leg wound in an exchange of fire with Viet Cong.

Leaders Have 'Working Lunch'

Rhodesian Talks Continuing

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)— British Prime Minister Harold Wilson met again today with Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith and other prominent leaders in attempts to stave off a unilateral declaration of independence by the white-ruled African colony.

★ ★ ★

Wilson and Smith held an "intensive working lunch" with only British High Commissioner Jack Johnson present, a spokesman said.

They scheduled another round of talks over dinner at Smith's residence. Wilson's entourage and Smith's top aides also were attending.

The British leader met earlier today with the Rhodesian Council of African Chiefs, a group which supports the Smith regime.

Smith also sandwiched in a meeting with his cabinet today.

Wilson met yesterday with Joshua Nkomo and the Rev. Ndabi-Ningi Sithole, the heroes of Rhodesia's 4 million blacks.

Both nationalist leaders were released from detention by Smith's white government for the Wilson talks.

★ ★ ★

Nkomo's arrival in Salisbury touched off a near-riot by a crowd of 1,000 blacks who greeted him with cheers, chants and freedom slogans.

STEP CLOSER

Smith took another rhetorical step toward independence yesterday.

He said Rhodesia was prepared to take "unorthodox action" to maintain the present way of life here in which 220,000 white settlers hold the power of government over the majority blacks.

Smith's reference to "unorthodox action" apparently referred to his threat to declare independence unilaterally without the permission of Wilson, Queen Elizabeth and the British government.

★ ★ ★

Wilson has said such an act would be regarded as an illegal rebellion.

DIFFICULT TASK

The British leader has seen 71 persons since he arrived here Monday with 50 aides for what has been described as the most difficult mission of his career.

Britain, with the support of other Western countries, yesterday appealed to the United Nations not to take any new measures on Rhodesia while Wilson is involved in the negotiations here.

Lord Caradon, the British ambassador to the United Nations, told the trusteeship committee of the general assembly "we seek to avoid a disaster which would have the most serious consequences for Africa.

"It would be a mistake at this time to endeavor to pass another resolution," Caradon said.

Seller of Gun in Student's Death Hunted

DETROIT (AP) — Police began a search Wednesday for the man who sold the gun allegedly used in the fatal shooting of Abdul C. Accra.

At the same time, sympathizers, including fellow students at Wayne State University, started fund collections for Accra's widow and child.

★ ★ ★

One of the groups pledging aid was a Negro Baptist ministers organization.

Accra, 25, engineering student from Lebanon, was shot Sunday night in a parking lot in the university district in an apparent robbery attempt.

TEEN CHARGED

Joseph Roland, 17, service station employe and one of six children in a Negro family on welfare, is charged with first degree murder in Accra's death. An examination is pending to determine if he should be held for trial.

Dr. J. Don Marsh, associate Wayne State dean of students, invited contributions to a fund for Mrs. Helen Accra, 27, the widow, and her daughter, Lila, 3. Mrs. Accra is expecting another child.

★ ★ ★

The Council of Baptist Pastors, a Negro group, announced establishment of a fund to be held in trust for the Accras.

The ministers said they deplored Accra's death and declared "ourselves and our city mutually responsible" for a society that contributes to such acts of violence.

★ ★ ★

Hooker Chemical Corp., where Accra worked, and its employes contributed to a $1,000 donation to Mrs. Accra.

Archbishop Hit for Statement

Urged Christians to Back Military Action

LONDON (AP) — Controversy raged today over the archbishop of Canterbury's suggestion that Christians should support military action against Rhodesia's white settlers if they declare independence without Britain's approval.

Critics ranging from Conservative members of Parliament to the Socialist president of the Methodist Conference, Lord Soper, denounced the suggestion as irresponsible.

The Church of Scotland, with a long history of African missionary work, dissociated itself from the archbishop's views and from a resolution supporting the archbishop passed by the British Council of Churches in Aberdeen.

Salvation Army leaders also dissented.

SPIRITUAL LEADER

The archbishop, Dr. Michael Ramsey, is spiritual leader of the Church of England. Addressing the British Council of Churches on Tuesday, he compared Britain's responsibility to Rhodesia's Africans with its 1939 treaty obligations to Poland.

"This country had its obligations to Poland," he said. "It was necessary to use force in fulfilling them.

"Our country has obligations to Rhodesia. If our government thought it practicable an ddesirable to use force in discharging not a new but a continuing obligation to Rhodesia, then as Christian people, unless we are pacifists, it would be right to say that force should be used.

The council, representing all denominations except the Roman Catholics, voted 60-5 to urge the government "to take whatever measures might be necessary" to establish fully representative government in Rhodesia.

EMBARRASSMENT

There were signs that the archbishop's statement had caused some embarrassment to Prime Minister Harold Wilson, who is now in Rhodesia trying to reach an agreement with the white government assuring ultimate political control for the black majority. Wilson has privately ruled out the use of British troops against the white settlers, most of whom are immigrants from Britain or of British descent.

One high-ranking government member said: "This is a fine time to sing 'Onward, Christian soldiers, shoot your kith and kin.!' "

Publicly, government and Conservative leaders kept silence. But a chorus of protest went up from Conservative backbenchers.

Possibility of Imperfection No Surprise to Auto Heads

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer

DETROIT — The auto industry knows that, in building nine million cars a year, some imperfect autos are bound to slip by.

Every conceivable test involving safety, reliability and quality control is used to guarantee car buyers the best possible product.

★ ★ ★

The simple truth, however, is that, with an average of 15,000 pieces going into each car, a chance for error exists.

Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler president, recently explained it this way:

"All of us in the industry have the problem of being sure that, when our care are delivered, they are 100 per cent mechanically perfect, and, with any mechanical device, occasionally some things get out that are not mechanically perfect."

DON'T LOSE INTEREST

Some people think that the auto makers lose all interest in an auto once it is sold. On the contrary, the various companies go to great lengths making tests to test the soundness of their products.

The various auto divisions generally have been reluctant to discuss shortcomings found in their cars and steps taken to correct them.

Buick division of General Motors is an exception to that type of thinking, for Buick through the years has been forthright in explaining such situations.

A recent case involved some adjustments made in the rear braking system of 500 of the 144,996 Buick Le Sabres built during the 1965 model run. They were part of Buick's over-all model output of 600,148 cars.

One of GM's main advertising themes is that it continually tests its cars on its proving grounds. It was during one of these test programs that an exhaustive 30,000-mile run turned up a Le Sabre with a braking system that was a bit off.

★ ★ ★

The car was shipped to the GM laboratory where the braking setup was torn down piece by piece for microscopic examination. Detailed comparisons finally showed that one gasket was several thousands of an inch thicker than specifications. For the rear braking system as a whole, it meant that the cars with these gaskets posed a problem in that lock nuts attached to the unit might work themselves loose after 25,000 miles or more of driving.

Studies indicated the chances of this happening were slim but Buick officials crosschecked the gasket shipment and found via comparison of serial numbers in computer runs that 500 cars were built last April with the faulty gaskets.

The cars were traced through zone offices and the Buick dealers involved were notified. They in turn notified the customers that the danger factor was minute but that in the interests of over-all safety, Buick wanted to replace the gasket and nuts. The program has been completed.

A Buick spokesman explained, "Every study we made showed that the chances of one of those lock nuts working itself loose was virtually nonexistent but our people decided that, in the interests of maximum safety, they would call the cars in and we did so."

Every auto division encounters some problems in its output, but few were as candid as Buick. It told an interviewer that in the 1964 model run, a few connecting rod defects were found because of an error in the treatment of the steel. In the early V6 engines introduced in 1962, a few were found to have an unusual wear pattern on crankshaft main bearings and journals.

"We fixed these at no cost to our customers with practically all the work done when cars were brought in for routine checkups," the Buick official explained.

Death Claims Top Jazzman

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Earl Bostic, 52, one of America's most-popular alto saxophonists, died today after a brief illness.

The jazz great began his career as a sideman in the orchestras of Lionel Hampton, Cab Calloway and Don Redmon until 1945, when he formed his own band.

Even though Bostic enjoyed considerable success with his band in "live" performances, he was best known as a recording artist for the King label.

Among his best-selling records were instrumental versions of "Flamingo" and "Temptation."

* * *

He reached his peak as a recording star in the middle 1950s. But Bostic also was highly regarded as a composer and arranger. His best-received composition was "Let Me Off Uptown."

PLAYBOY POLL

Bostic was chosen as best alto saxophonist in a Playboy jazz poll.

He was a flashy player with an exceptional technique.

Originally a jazz musician, Bostic became identified later in his career as a rhythm and blues exponent.

* * *

He went into semiretirement until last year when he became an active musician again.

Bostic was born in Tulsa, Okla., on April 25, 1913.

Backs Alibi of Youth in Killing Case

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — An Oregon fishing boat captain's wife today identified Scott Edward Banish, 18, as a crewman who was at sea at the time the youth is accused of killing his career soldier father in a South Bend suburb.

Mrs. Paul Vines, wife of the captain and mother of four children, picked young Banish out of a lineup of 10 youths and testified he was on the boat, with his legs dangling over the rail, when it docked at Newport, Ore., Aug. 24.

The Municipal Court hearing was on a second-degree murder charge filed in the death of Staff Sgt. Edward V. Banish, 49, knifed in his home Aug. 22.

Young Banish disappeared June 3 and showed up in Fort Wayne, Ind., eight days after his father's death.

* * *

Sheriff William J. Locks of St. Joseph County announced last Thursday he had broken the fishing boat alibi and the youth had admitted the killing. Banish's attorneys later announced the boy had renounced the statement.

WHILE MISSING

Banish had said he used the name of Danny McFarland while he was missing.

Mrs. Vines pointed to him and said, "That's the Danny McFarland I knew."

She said she saw him both before and after the tuna-fishing trip and spoke to the boat by radio telephone twice.

French Foreign Minister in Moscow for 5 Days

MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville of France arrived in Moscow today for five days of talks with Soviet leaders.

The Soviet leadership has hailed the visit as opening the way to closer cooperation between this country and France.

3 Suburbs May Join Dearborn

DEARBORN (AP) — Merger of Dearborn and three other Detroit suburbs into Michigan's second largest city was proposed today.

Mayor Orville L. Hubbard of Dearborn and Mayor John L. Canfield of Dearborn Heights said they were arranging for a meeting "soon" with Leo L. Paluch, mayor of Allen Park, and John K. Kessey, mayor of Melvindale.

If the three cities were annexed to Dearborn, a community of 250,000 persons would be created. It would enlarge Dearborn from its 25.3 square miles to a city 47.25 square miles in area.

* * *

"Residents of all three of our immediate neighbors approach me from time to time about the idea of annexing to Dearborn," Hubbard said. "Mayor Canfield agrees that the time seems appropriate for the mayors of all four cities to get together to see what can be worked out."

Such a combination of cities Hubbard said, would create a community with an assessed tax valuation of almost $1 billion.

Population figures for the four communities, according to the 1960 U.S. Census, were Dearborn, 112,007; Dearborn Heights 71,551; Allen Park, 37,052, and Melvindale, 13,089.

A merger could "eliminate costly duplication of overhead and services," Hubbard said.

John Roosevelts End 28 Years of Marriage

JUAREZ, Mexico (UPI)—A Mexican divorce has parted John A. Roosevelt and his wife of 28 years, the former Anne Lindsay Clark of Nahant, Mass.

Roosevelt, 57, is the youngest of former President Franklin D. Roosevelt's five living children. He is a New York investment executive. Judge Lorenzo Holguin of the 1st Civil Court granted the decree last Friday on the basis of incompatibility.

Broomfield, 7 Others Will Make Far East Trip

Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-18th District, and seven other members of a subcommittee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee will leave Washington Nov. 8 for an inspection trip to the Far East.

The trip was scheduled in response to requests from Japan and India for informal exchanges with parliamentarians of those countries.

Broomfield said today the four-week trip will take in many other areas, including Viet Nam, where the subcommittee will meet with U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and officials of that country.

"We will be there to view the military and political situation, but considering what is going on there now we won't be asking for a guided tour," said the Royal Oak congressman.

* * *

Broomfield visited Viet Nam two years ago, just before the assassination of President Ngo Dinh Diem in November, 1963.

OTHER NATIONS

Other countries included in the trip will be Korea, Taiwan, Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

India and Pakistan are the only two countries on the itinerary that Broomfield hasn't visited as the senior Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on the Far East.

Four Republicans and four Democrats, headed by Rep. Clement Zablocki, D-Wisconsin, will make the trip.

* * *

Because of the trip Broomfield said he will be unable to attend a Congressional Conference on Community Growth at Oakland University.

The Nov. 10 program is being cosponsored by Broomfield and Congressman Billie S. Farnum, D-19th District.

Drugstore Robbery Case Adjourned

Preliminary examination for two Pontiac men, charged with the armed robbery of a Waterford Township drugstore, was adjourned yesterday until Monday by Waterford Township Justice Kenneth H. Hempstead.

In custody in Oakland County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bail are James W. Harden, 19, of 301 E. Wilson and James M. Johnson, 19, of 97 Prall.

They are being held in connection with a $493 robbery Oct. 7 of the Thrifty Walgreen Agency Drugstore at 6 S. Telegraph, Waterford Township.

Tuesday, Hempstead dropped charges against two other men previously held in connection with the robbery.

They are Charles L. Hall, 25, of 192 Dellwood and James Faulkner, 18, of 277 Howard McNeil.

Rep. Arthur Law to Attend Confab in Puerto Rico

Rep. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, will be among nine House members who will attend the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders in San Juan, Puerto Rico, next month.

Others in the Michigan delegation will include Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit; Speaker Pro Tem Albert Horrigan, D-Flint; Reps. J. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City; William Harry Thorne, D-Dearborn Heights; F. Charles Raap, D-Muskegon; Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, minority leader; Martin Buth, R-Comstock Park, and Arnell Engstrom, R-Traverse City.

The conference, Nov. 11-13, is the seventh since the group was formed in 1959.

A new synthetic membrane which can resist passage of water while allowing oxygen intake, and dismissal of carbon dioxide may be adapted practically to human gills which will let man breathe under water like a fish, improved heart-lung machines for open heart surgery and "breathing" systems for submarines and underwater experimental stations.

Detroit Will Host Counselors

Seven federal acts, affecting training and employment of youth, will be discussed at the 19th annual conference of the Michigan Counselors Association Monday and Tuesday at Detroit's Statler-Hilton Hotel.

Stanley Ruttenberg, manpower administrator of the U. S. Labor Department, will explain the philosophical basis of the federal programs before an estimated 1,200 school counselors.

Convention sessions will be devoted to individual analysis of the Vocational Education Act, the Economic Opportunity Act, Manpower Developing and Retraining, the National Defense Education Act, the Great Cities Project and the Elementary and Secondary School Act.

Implications of the acts for counselors in rural, suburban and urban schools and community colleges also will be discussed.

* * *

Dr. Robert Williams, Oakland Schools guidance director, will be succeeded as president of the association by Terry Thomas of Clarkston High School.

George Grisdale, Oak Park Schools counselor, is program chairman for the conference.

Governors Impressed by Japan

KUMAMOTO, Japan (AP) — Ten American governors bused through the rolling grassland of Japan's southernmost island today and into this ancient castle city by the sea.

The governors, at the halfway point of a two-week tour as part of the Japan-U.S. Governors' Conference, continued to express delight and amazement at everything they are seeing.

* * *

"I keep trying to find something wrong," said one, "but I can't."

The group is led by Maine's Gov. John Reed and includes Michigan's Gov. George Romney, considered by many a likely Republican presidential candidate in 1968.

SOUTHERN ISLAND

The governors began their tour in Tokyo Oct. 20 and are spending most of their trip on the southern island of Kyushu.

The Japanese governor of each prefecture (state) they visit travels on the bus with them, briefing them on the area.

* * *

Despite a tight schedule that begins at 8 a.m. and often runs until after 9 p.m., all the governors are in high spirits. It is the first time in Japan for many of them.

They are scheduled to fly to Hong Kong Nov. 3 for two days, then on to South Viet Nam.

PARK DRIVE

One of the highlights today was a drive through the Mt. Aso National Park. It included a visit by cable car to the rim of the live and smoking Nakatake volcano.

Romney looked at the rugged yet delicately colored gorges on the sides of the volcano and compared the scene with the southern part of Utah.

* * *

At the foot of the volcano they visited a national youth center.

Friday's schedule calls for the governors to ferry across the Bay of Ariake en route to Nagasaki, site of the second atomic bomb drop of World War II.

Fallout Exposure, Thyroid Ills Tied?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A team of medical researchers has found that schoolchildren in an area of Utah near a nuclear test site may have a relatively high degree of thyroid gland abnormalities.

However, the Public Health Service said in making public the findings yesterday that there was no conclusive proof that the higher radiation in Washington County, Utah, was directly responsible for the thyroid nodules, or lumps.

These conditions could be the tip-off of possible serious problems, including cancer. Officials said among other abnormalities which may be associated with thyroid nodules are goiter and inflammatory diseases of the glands.

Surgeon General William H. Stewart said it was not yet possible to assess the medical significance of the findings "in this preliminary phase" of a long-term investigation of whether there might be a relationship between certain health defects and radiation exposure.

* * *

A panel of doctors examined about 2,000 children between the ages of 10 and 18 in Washington County, which has the highest level of nuclear fallout of any county in the nation. About 1,400 children in Graham County, Ariz., were tested. Graham County's nuclear fallout level is considered about average.

SIMILAR CONDITION

The doctors reported 70 of the Washington County students apparently may have nodules on their thyroid glands while similar conditions were found in 25 of the Arizona students.

Washington County is northeast of the big U. S. underground nuclear test grounds at Jackass Flats, Nev. The current studies are an extension of an investigation started in 1959 of deaths from leukemia — blood cancer — in Utah and Nevada.

The thyroid, located near the larynx, produces hormones that in children particularly have a major influence on growth and development.

* * *

Stewart said much more study is needed before any conclusions can be drawn from the thyroid studies. The 75 students in which nodules are suspected will undergo more extensive testing.

Fire Damages Area Building

A fire, apparently caused by a malfunctioning television set, resulted in an estimated $2,000 damage to a Waterford Township dwelling yesterday afternoon.

Township firemen listed losses as $1,000 to the building and $1,000 to contents.

Located at 5690 Oster, Waterford Township, the two-family dwelling is owned by Maynard Rounding.

Oddsmakers Sticking With Michigan State

AP Photofax

SPARTAN FAVORITES — Two of the most popular personalities on the Michigan State University campus at East Lansing at the moment are head football coach Duffy Daugherty and quarterback Steve Juday of Northville, shown here prior to a practice session yesterday. With Duffy coaching and Steve calling the signals, the Spartans have zoomed to top in the national football rankings. Saturday, No. 1 MSU plays host to Northwestern's Wildcats.

Spartans Meet Northwestern on Home Field

Bowl Fever Spreads at E. Lansing; Crowd of 65,000 Expected

EAST LANSING (AP) —The odds look heavily loaded in favor of Michigan State in the meeting with Northwestern Saturday.

Coach Duffy Daugherty has been wary about the No. 1 ranking given the Spartans, knowing this also makes them the top target for would-be upsetters.

* * *

But there are other things going for MSU in addition to their 6-0 record compared to 3-3 for the Wildcats.

It will be a homecoming with a near-capacity crowd of more than 65,000 to cheer on the local heroes. Most will be students already afflicted with the Rose Bowl fever, dreaming of a trip to Pasadena.

GOOD RECORD

Michigan State has a fine record for homecomings, winning 32, losing 15 and tying two.

Since they entered the Big Ten, the Spartans have won all six games against Northwestern. The Wildcats were winners three times before State entered the conference.

* *

Daugherty will have the advantage of the home bench—able to field as many players as he wants while Northwestern will be restricted to the 38-man traveling squad.

Actually, Daugherty has said he hasn't been able to develop too much depth so far. The coach said he was stuck to mostly using 14 regulars on defense and 13 players on defense, plus kicker Dick Kenney.

Michigan State shouldn't have to worry too much about Wildcat passing—Northwestern tried only two passes last week in its 9-0 blanking of Iowa and completed one.

* * *

On the ground, the Spartans have held opponents to an average of less than 66 yards a game while grinding for an average of 220 yards rushing.

Last year MSU, the 24-6 victor, held Northwestern to minus 16 yards rushing.

Arrows' MFL Lead Is Shaky

MIDWESTERN FOOTBALL LEAGUE Standings

	League W	L	T	Over-All W	L	T
Pontiac Arrows	5	1	0	7	1	0

Lansing All-Stars	3	3	1	4	3	1
Milan Vikings	2	5	0	3	5	0
Flint Blue Devils	1	4	1	3	4	1

Holding a half game lead at the top of the Midwest Football League Race, the Pontiac Arrows will visit a highly improved Flint team Sunday in the last road game of the season.

* * *

The game Sunday in Flint's Atwood Stadium is scheduled to start at 12 Noon.

Next week in the regular season finale at Wisner Stadium, the Arrows will play host to the 1964 MFL champions, the Lansing All-Stars, in what could be a decisive game.

The Dayton Colts, carrying a 4-2 record behind Pontiac's 5-1 league mark, have two road games against Milan and Flint and they will be solid favorites to win both.

Pontiac, however can expect trouble with Lansing, a team which held a 13-6 lead until the last four minutes before the Arrows hit for two TD's to pull it out 18-13 in Lansing a month ago.

* * *

After a week off, coach Lyle Wells thinks the Arrows "might be a little stale."

"Flint has come a long way since the opening game of the season when we beat them 61-0," Wells said, "I hope be-

PCH 11 After Scoring Punch

One question dominates the football picture for Pontiac Central's highly regarded team this week: Have the Chiefs found the cure for their slumping offense during the layoff?

PCH hasn't played since barely salvaging a 6-0 win at Saginaw 13 days ago. That win was the result of a recovered fumble in the end zone during the final eight minutes of play.

The week before, Central escaped with a 6-6 tie against Bay City Handy — the only scar on the PCH record in five starts — by capitalizing on a short punt.

The Chiefs will celebrate Homecoming Friday night against Flint Southwestern, a team that PCH has only one win against in five starts. The Colts were the only team to beat PCH when it caught fire in the final five games last season.

Southwestern is 2-4 this season, the wins coming in its last two starts (against Handy, 10-6, and Saginaw, 21-13).

"We'll have our hands full," PCH mentor Paul Dellerba said Tuesday. "They are much improved from the beginning of the year."

This contrasts with Central who romped over its first three foes, then mysteriously lost its offensive punch. The coaches have been stressing blocking fundamentals in recent drills in an effort to correct the diminishing score power.

"We've had some good practices this week. We hope Homecoming might give them a little incentive," Dellerba added.

Fullback Buck Yancey and quarterback Dennis Bergeron, who likes to throw, are the top threats for the Colts.

PCH will go with Jerry Murphy at quarterback, Ken Seay at fullback, and halfbacks Art Wiggins and Karl Williams. Seay doubles as a linebacker and defensive unit captain.

The Chiefs will interchange ends very likely, Tom Howard, a standout on defense, will alternate with Herb Mullen on offense, and a similar story exists at left end where punter Bob Boyce and Jim Shorters (another defensive ace) will divide the offensive duties.

The offensive and defensive lines will remain in tact; PCH has been very fortunate to date in avoiding serious personnel losses due to injuries.

Dellerba also has extensive running depth in the backfield. He can insert shifty Walter Horton and Don Lavalais, or hard driving Ben Williams and Bruce Turpin to rest the regulars who also double as defensive backfield performers.

Bill Buntin Aids Pistons

BALTIMORE (AP) — Rookie Bill Buntin sank four free throws in the last 20 seconds in preserving a 108-107 victory for the Detroit Pistons in their National Basketball Association game with the Baltimore Bullets Wednesday night.

* * *

The Pistons' triumph, a come-from-behind affair in the last two minutes, brought Detroit up from last place in the Western Division after a 24-hour stay. The Bullets sank back into the cellar.

TOP SCORING

Buntin, the Michigan All-America, topped Detroit in scoring with 25 points on seven field goals and 11 free throws. Player-coach Dave De Busschere scored 21.

Winning its second in five games, the Pistons blew a 14-point lead and had to scramble to win. Detroit lost to Baltimore at Detroit Tuesday night 117-98 when the Pistons missed half their 40 free throws.

Detroit led 22-8 at one time Wednesday night but fell behind 65-60 in he third period.

Cup Champ Montreal Posts Third Decision

By The Associated Press

Montreal's Stanley Cup champion Canadiens have picked up right where they left off last spring and their quick start in the early stages of the National Hockey League season has been helped by the continued renaissance of star center Jean Beliveau.

Beliveau's third goal of the season sunk the new York Rangers 4-3 Wednesday night at Montreal.

In the only other NHL game playede, Toronto scored its first goals of the season after suffering successive shutouts in its first two games, and edged Boston 2-1.

KEY PLAYER

It was Beliveau whose sensational goal scoring and playmaking keyed the Candiens to their seven game Stanley Cup triumph over the Chicago Black Hawks last spring.

Big Jean had been something of a disappointment until the final two months when a late spurt helped him reach 20 goals for the season. He scored eight more in the playoffs.

The 34-year-old center has sparked Montreal's three straight triumphs. It was his power play goal with less than six minutes remaining that beat the Rangers.

New York's Earl Ingarfield was off for faceoff interference when Beliveau converted passes from Dick Duff and Bobby Rousseau for the winning goal. Rousseau alse picked up an assist on Henri Richard's goal and leads NHL scorers with eight points in Montreal's three games.

* * *

New York had battled from behind tying the game three times. After J. C. Tremblay had sent the Canadiens ahead 3-2 early in the final session, Doug Robinson clicked for New York, tying it with 12½ minutes remaining.

But Ingarfield's penalty left the Rangers short-handed at 12:55 and 1:33 later, Beliveau hit.

Ron Ellis' 50-foot slap shot snapped the Maple Leafs' scoring famine that had stretched through six periods against Chicago and Detroit.

* * *

The Toronto forward took a pass from Frank Mahovlich at the blue line and rifled a waist-high shot that broke off rookie goalie Gerry Cheevers glove and into Boston's net.

Mahovlich made it 2-0 in the second period before ex-Maple Leaf Ron Stewart scored for the Bruins.

Boston turned it on in the final 20 minutes, pressing for the tying goal but Toronto goalie Terry Sawchuk held the Bruins off. On one charge, Boston's Reg Fleming had an open net but fired over the top.

Roger Crozier Better; Club Duels Hawks

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, happy to hear that goalie Roger Crozier feels much better, return to action tonight.

Chicago's Blackhawks, who ousted the regular season champion Wings from the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs last year, are the foes. It is the new season's first meeting of the teams.

Crozier, a star as a rookie last season, returned from another visit with the doctors and reported his stomach was much improved.

A specialist at Henry Ford Hospital said Crozier could depart somewhat from his previously strict diet and also gave him new medication. The young goalie's pancreas had been acting up.

First stricken two months ago, Crozier has been in touch with the doctors ever since.

The Wings and Hawks both will be playing their third NHL game tonight. Chicago, with Bobby Hull hot on goal, won both its two prior games. Detroit split its pair.

St. James Back Romps Into County Scoring Lead

A four-touchdown performance by halfback Don Slivatz of Ferndale St. James carried the speedster to the top of the list in the Oakland County scoring race.

Slivatz' four jaunts to paydirt upped his point total to 68, seven ahead of Bloomfield Hills' Dick Kraatz.

Halfback Ted Simmons of Southfield, last week's leader, failed to score Friday evening and plunged to sixth place with 50 points.

Mark Phalen of Holly holds down third place with 60 markers and Bob French of St. Michael is fourth with 53.

* * *

In the Saginaw Valley Conference, Bay City Central's Lon Miller continues to set the pace with 64 points, although he has missed two of the Wolves' six games.

Dryden's Tom Kline (66) and Tom Orlowsky of Utica (54) are running one-two in the area scoring race.

BRAVES INVADE ATLANTA — The first contingent of baseball's Braves who will represent Atlanta in the National League arrived in the city yesterday. Among the first to arrive at the city's new $18 million stadium were (left to right) third baseman Eddie Matthews; president John McHale; Eddie Glennon, official of the Atlanta Crackers, a minor league club; and pitching coach Whitlow Wyatt, who signed to assist the pitchers for the ninth straight year.

He defeated Lew Butra, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., 150-79 in five innings and Frank McGowan of Brooklyn, 150-20 in four innings. Earlier, Butra had defeated McGowan 150-62 in six innings.

Gary Player 9-Under in 9 'Down Under'

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — Gary Player of South Africa shot a sizzling 11-under-par 62 and clipped four strokes off the Kooyonga course record in the first round of the Australian Open Golf Championship today.

Player, the U.S. Open champion, fashioned a nine-under-par 28 on the outgoing nine. The score is believed to be a world record for nine holes in open title play.

Jack Nicklaus of Columbus, Ohio, was ready to tee off when Player's nine - hole total was posted. "I have never seen anything like it," Nicklaus exclaimed.

Player carded a 34 for the last nine holes to wind up with the 62. He and seven others had held the previous course record of 66.

cause of that score we don't take them too lightly."

Wells fears the team could be looking ahead to Lansing knowing the capital city team could be strong enough to hurt Pontiac's title chances.

Should the Arrows lose and the league thrown into a first place tie, the two teams would be declared co-champions, but a flip of the coin would decide which team would play in the Midwest Football League All-Star championship game which is now scheduled for Wisner Stadium, Saturday night November 13th.

This game would pit the winner of the league against the All-Star team from the other league members.

Trading Cards Keep Shuffling

Latest Deal Sends Three to Phillies

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The St. Louis Cards have traded or sold almost half their team that won the National League pennant and a seven-game World Series victory over the New York Yankees only 13 months ago.

Wednesday's six-player deal in which first baseman Bill White, shortstop Dick Groat and catcher Bob Uecker moved to Philadelphia brought to 12 the number of 1964 Cardinals no longer with the club.

The others are third baseman Ken Boyer, recently traded to the New York Mets; outfielders Charley James and Carl Warwick and pitchers Roger Craig, Mike Cuellar, Bob Humphreys, Gordon Richardson, Barney Schultz and Ron Taylor.

The members of the 1964 champions still with St. Louis are catcher Tim McCarver; infielders Julian Javier, Dal Maxvill, Jerry Buchek and Ed Spiezio; outfielders Curt Flood, Bob Skinner, Lou Brock, and Mike Shannon and pitchers Bob Gibson, Ray Sadecki, Curt Simmons and Ray Washburn.

Dodgers, Twins Dividing Rich World Series Pot

NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Koufax, Maury Wills and all other full-time Los Angeles Dodgers pocketed $10,297.43 for winning the 1965 World Series and the Minnesota Twins collected $6,634.36 for each losing share.

* * *

Although the total gate receipts of $2,975,041.60 set a record, the winning share was only the fourth highest since the American and National Leagues decided on a post-season championship playoff back in 1903.

The record for the most money earned by a winning player was set in 1963 when each Dodger received $12,794 in Los Angeles' four-game sweep over the New York Yankees. The 72,000 capacity at Yankee Stadium helped account for that.

CASH AWARDS

In announcing the financial figures Wednesday, Commissioner Ford Frick pointed out that each of the World Series participants divided their spoils in 35 shares and also dished out several cash awards.

* * *

The Twins' losing figure also was well below the record of $7,874.32 earned by each Yankee in 1963.

Both the Dodgers and Twins, however, came out much richer than the participants in the 1964 World Series, when the winning St. Louis Cards got $8,622.19 each and the losing Yankees received $5,309.29 apiece.

* * *

Five teams in each league shared in the total players' pool of $885,612.21. The Chicago White Sox' full share for second place in the American League come to $1,873.52 as compared to the San Francisco Giants' $1,856.31. The Giants finished second in the National League.

Pittsburgh's Pirates got $1,245.91 each and Baltimore's Orioles $1,183.07 for finishing third. Fourth place full share money amounted to $627.87 for each member of the Cincinnati Reds and $618.51 for each Detroit Tiger.

The Milwaukee Braves received $263.06 and the Cleveland Indians $240.99 for finishing fifth.

U. S. Jumpers Well in Front

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Equestrian team continued its domination of the international jumping competitions in the second day of the 82nd National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden.

Miss Kathy Kusner, astride Unusual, won the MacKay Memorial Challenge Trophy. It was the third victory for the Americans in the three held thus far during the show. The way the U.S. riders are going they may make a clean sweep of the entire 12 international jumping events.

Bill Steinkraus, captain of the U.S. team, finished second to Miss Kusner. The veteran internationalist might have won the event had not his mount, Snow Bound, knocked off a pole at the sixth and next to last barrier.

The United States leads with 54 points. Mexico is next with eight and Great Britain and Canada each have two. Argentina has failed to score thus far.

Individually, Miss Kusner leads with 22 points with Steinkraus holding the runner-up spot with 20. Frank Chapot, also of the United States, follows with 10. Mexico's de Las Heras has eight.

Egad! Major Hoople Sees Nebraska to Fall

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
The First Flanker Back

Egad, friends, I have a couple of big surprises for you this week.

We have it on no less an authority than Hannibal Wottaburp, our regular correspondent from the "Show Me" state, that Dan Devine's Missouri lads are ready for their premier performance of the year.

Possessors of a 4-1-1 record, the Tigers — hak-kaff — are primed to put the quietus on the rambunctious Nebraska Cornhuskers.

The Hoople System foresees a Missouri victory by a 21-10 margin.

Our second surprise of the day is almost as startling. Ole Miss, suffering through a mediocre season with three victories and a like number of defeats, will shock Southeastern Conference followers by edging powerful Louisiana State.

I forecast a 15-13 triumph for the Rebels—kaf-kaf!

These predictions may amaze some of you, but, dear readers, that's what's in the cards—harumph!

Now go on with the forecast.

Baseball Still Lacks a Czar

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ford Frick expressed his disappointment today over the failure of baseball owners to pick his successor as commissioner of baseball.

"I was disappointed that the owners didn't come up with somebody at the Chicago meeting last week, but I didn't want them to be stampeded into a decision and I'm glad they didn't allow that to happen," said Frick, who is completing 15 years of service as commissioner and nearly five decades of devotion to baseball.

"I'll be very disappointed if they don't come up with somebody at the Miami meeting in December," Frick continued.

"I feel, however, that they will get the job done this time. I feel certain they are going to come up with the man. I'm hoping I can turn over the job to a new man by late January.

Of course, if they choose somebody outside of baseball, he is going to have to have a little more time to get acquainted with the job.

"I don't propose to be a lame duck commissioner forever," Frick said. "But you don't just thumb your nose at a business you've been in for more than 40 years."

★ ★ ★

Frick, who will be 71 years old Dec. 19, agreed with the owners' new legislation to support the commissioner.

COMPLEX JOB

"The whole concept of the commissioner's office has changed since I took over the job," Frick admitted. "The administrative part of the game has become much more complex and involved than it ever was before.

"For the past 10 years the commissioner's office has been doing the job with four people, which the owners now figure will take 10. And, they're right," he said.

Listening to Frick talk, an observer got the feeling that the commissioner has a very good idea who will be selected to take his place. And his conversation seemed to point to a man not directly connected with baseball.

Among the more prominent "outside" men being considered are G. Keith Funston, the president of the New York Stock Exchange; Gen. Curtis LeMay, a former chief of staff of the Air Force; Eugene M. Zuckert, a former secretary of the Air Force; Mayor Robert Wagner of New York, former New York Sen. Kenneth Keating, and Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Byron Whizzer White.

Enos Slaughter competed in 10 All-Star games.

Locate Bodies of Grid Scouts

MONTROSE, Calif. (AP) —A Western (Calif.) State College assistant football coach from Michigan and three companions were found dead Wednesday in their wrecked plane 20 miles east of here.

Garth Yorton, 22, of Otisville, Mich., a graduate assistant, was one of the victims.

The plane, a single-engine craft, had been missing since Oct. 18 on a scouting trip by Yorton and two other Western State assistant coaches.

Also killed in the crash were James Novak of Toledo, Ohio, and Bob Busia of Pueblo, Calif., both 22, and the pilot, Vince Noice of Gunnison.

The coaches were on their way back to Gunnison after scouting a football game at Silver City, N.M. A U.S. Forest Service ranger found the wreckage five miles up Cimarron Creek.

Walled Lake Thinclad Prepares for Regional

Walled Lake's Jim Lindler warmed up for his qualifying bid Saturday in the state regional cross country run with a 10:12 timing yesterday as the Vikings defeated Dearborn, 20-37.

It was the final dual meet for Walled Lake and left it with a 6-1-1 mark. Trailing Lindler for the Vikings was Don Colpitts and Dearborn's Greg Holda took third.

Other finishers for the winners were Mike Fuller, Gene Small and Don Schoenberger. They were fourth, sixth and seventh, respectively.

Hills to Bid for W-O Title Tomorrow

Milford Eleven in Last Stand at Bloomfield

With two games remaining, Bloomfield Hills finds itself in the driver's seat in the battle for the Wayne-Oakland League football championship.

The Barons have at least half of the title tucked away, and if they can win one of the two remaining games, they will pick up the school's first outright title. The Barons shared the crown with West Bloomfield in 1962.

The Barons are 5-0 in league competition, 6-0 over-all, they entertain second-place Milford (3-2) tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 in a Homecoming outing.

Beyond Milford is Holly, the Barons foe in the season finale.

* * *

The Hills - Milford contest shapes up as a offense vs. defense battle — the Barons' offense versus the defense of the Redskins.

OFFENSE SHARP

In six outings the Barons have rolled up 170 points, and the defense has also shown its class, giving up only 38 markers, a little more than a touchdown a game.

* * *

Milford's defenders have posted three shutouts in six outings and allowed the opposition 39 points.

Other W-O games tomorrow find Holly (2-2-1) at Clarenceville (2-3), Northville (2-2-1) at West Bloomfield (2-3) and Brighton (1-4) at Clarkston (2-3).

Pontiac Press Photo

GOOD SIGN — The only football game won by Avondale this season was at Lake Orion and that was the last game played by center Dave Rice. He'll return to the lineup tomorrow night against Rochester for the first time since being injured five weeks ago, and the Yellow Jackets hope it's a good omen.

Falcons Dominate Avon

A losing habit developed during the past six seasons will succomb to the "lucky number seven" if Avondale has its way tomorrow night against invading Rochester.

It was 1958 when the Yellow Jackets last defeated the Rochester football varsity and that was a slim 7-6 victory.

Since then, the Falcons have rolled up six straight wins in convincing fashion. Avondale hopes the seventh try Friday will be lucky for it and not the visitors.

Although the records of the two teams are not impressive—1-4 for Avondale, 2-3 for Rochester — each can derive extra satisfaction with a win over the near-by rival.

Rochester has been improving both offensively and defensively the past three weeks since coach Gene Konley changed to a prop-type attack and several injured players returned.

IMPROVEMENT

Avondale's defense has improved, but injuries are forcing the coach Dick Bye to make offensive changes.

Rochester, meanwhile, has a set backfield of passer Jim Ball, flanker back Jim Burton, and running backs Ty Gill, Dave Schultz and Mike Martin. The latter two alternate.

In other Oakland A League games, Lake Orion will visit Troy, Clawson will travel to Warren Cousino, and Fitzgerald will go to Madison.

The championship will probably be decided in the Madison-Fitzgerald encounter. Both are unbeaten in league play with two games still remaining.

Almont, Dryden Set for Battle in Thumb Loop

Almont is preparing another ambush for Dryden's high flying football Cardinals Friday, but the Raiders may find themselves without their ace triggerman.

Harry Hoffner, one of the most feared halfbacks in the Southern Thumb Conference, is a doubtful starter for Almont. He was the player who led a Raider uprising that knocked Dryden from the ranks of the unbeaten last season, 26-6.

* * *

The Cardinals don't have an unblemished record this time. They lost their first game to Mayville, but since then they have rolled over five straight league foes to clinch at least a share of the crown.

A victory over Almont would mean the outright championship.

Six other Raiders who either missed last week's Armada game because of injuries or were hurt during the contest are expected to be ready Friday.

COACH CONFIDENT

Even without Hoffner, Briggs feels Almont "definitely has a chance."

Although Dryden plays its games on the Almont field, this will be the Raiders' home tilt.

The records really don't mean too much when these two schools collide in athletics. Almont (3-2-1) and Dryden are only eight miles apart and the rivalry has always been strong.

What means "style" and "comfort"?
THE ST. ROQUE WORSTED SUIT
by Hart Schaffner & Marx
Style is defined in the iridescent look of these pure wool worsted suitings with their compound colorings and lustrous highlights. Style is evident, too, in the cut of the suit—the advance-fashion look of HS&M's Monaco Collection. Comfort is defined in the easy, natural feel of HS&M tailoring and the assurance that the well-dressed look (and feeling) you buy you keep. For the best idea of what style and comfort mean, stop in and try on an HS&M St. Roque Suit. from $95.00

NIBBLE IN FREEDOM—A small Cuban boy leans out of a bus window and nibbles on a cracker in Key West, Fla., yesterday. He's watching other refugees line up to get on the bus for a trip to Miami. The boy was among the more than 100 Cubans who made the water crossing from Camarioca, Cuba, to Key West yesterday.

Diesel Motors in Shabby Fishing Boats

Peaceful Arab Village Refuge for Gold Smugglers

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — From shore, the scene looks timeless and tranquil — a graceful Arab dhow drifting on the blue of the Arabian Sea, its curved sail arching.

But beneath the teakwood decks are powerful twin Diesel engines capable of driving the ship along at 20 knots, and hidden in the cargo is a fortune in gold bars.

* * *

The boat is a smuggler, part of the network that makes the Middle East a major pipeline in illicit gold trade.

The center of the industry at the moment—the center changes from time to time as customs regulations alter and red tape mounts — is a sunscorched lit sheikdom on the coast of Arabia called Dubai.

DUSTY VILLAGE

Dubai was a dusty village of a few thousand lethargic Arabs, squeezing out an existence from fishing or from the dwindling profits of pearl diving. Now it is a boom town of about 65,000 with paved roads, street lighting, busy merchants.

Many of the shabby-looking fishing boats bobbing in its harbor are high-powered smugglers. Their destinations are usually India, Pakistan or Iran.

* * *

Estimates say Dubai now has a fleet of 80 or 90 of the disguised sailboats, each with a highly disciplined crew, and sometimes carrying half a million dollars worth of gold per trip.

While gold is controlled in many countries, it is free in others, and the trading in Dubai is legal.

MEMBER BANKS

Most of the sales are handled through the sheikdom's banks—the First National City Bank of New York, the British Bank of the Middle East, and the National Bank of Dubai — authorities report.

The business becomes illicit when the bullion is taken across a border.

* * *

In restricted countries such as India, Pakistan, Iran, or Far Eastern or African nations, where people have more confidence in gold than in their own currency, smuggling profits are high.

It sells for twice the world price, set by the U. S. government at $35 an ounce.

RESERVES RAISED

Smuggled gold seized by Indian customs officers has been banked to raise the country's reserves by about $33 million.

The gold comes in disks the size of poker chips and weighing 3½ ounces. One is worth $132, including freight and insurance, and is easy to conceal in a sailor's canvas vest.

* * *

Moslem pilgrims to the holy city of Mecca in neighboring Saudi Arabia often buy gold the size of a fingernail to smuggle home.

"You slip one inside your shoe or tape it under your armpit and you double your money," said one Beirut expert.

BANK ROLE

The banks act as consignees, meaning the shipper in London still owns the bullion and the bank sells it for him at a specified price.

* * *

"The payment comes in later, in all sorts of forms — telegraphic remittances from Hong Kong or Beirut, or travelers' checks," said the Beirut source.

Beirut plays only a passing role in the gold trade, although the city's 100-odd banks are authorized to deal in bullion.

Flint Hospital Rejects Request by Osteopaths

FLINT (AP) — The board of managers of Hurley Hospital Wednesday rejected a request by the Genesee County Osteopathic Association to admit osteopathic physicians to practice in the hospital. A board spokesman said deterioration of patient care and decline of revenue were feared.

It cost American motorists an estimated $600 million to park their vehicles last year — not counting parking ticket fines.

Foreign News Commentary

Exodus Indicates More Cuban Failure

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Nothing could stem the panicky flight of those first 1,000 Cuban refugees.

NEWSOM

Fidel Castro miraculously had opened the door, but to those from whom faith long since had departed, he still could change his mind.

And so, despite Presidents Johnson's plea that their exodus from Communist Cuba be an orderly one and that they wait until agreements could be worked out, they risked death in overcrowded small boats to cross the choppy Florida Straits for freedom in the United States.

Those first arrivals — their number in the end may swell to 50,000 — demonstrated both the poverty of the Castro philosophy and of the island he promised to turn into a Communist paradise.

* * *

Each carried but one suitcase. All other property had been signed over to the state.

ANSWERED RELUCTANTLY

They answered questions reluctantly, and glanced about them when they did. For in Cuba talk can be one of the worst crimes of all.

UPI correspondent Matthew T. Kenny, observing the flow of these Cuban self-exiles, declared it to be "about the worst I've seen."

"Things," he said, "really must be fouled up down there."

* * *

It was not meant as a cold description of tragedy, but rather as a sample statement of fact and it added another mystery to the deepening mysteries of the Castro regime. Just what was Castro's real purpose in permitting such exposure of the failure of his regime?

PREVIOUS POLICY

Under previous policy, he had sent his Russian-built MIGs out to machine gun the small boats carrying those attempting to escape Cuba.

From Kenny, UPI Latin American editor Francis L. McCarthy and State Department correspondent Stewart Hensley in Washington came this consensus:

- An attempt to embarrass the United States which can scarcely refuse shelter but now must add to the $200 million it already has spent in care and resettlement of Cuban refugees.
- It gives him some relief from the growing unrest of a people ill-housed and ill-fed.
- He takes a page from the book of other Iron-Curtain nations, ridding himself of the aged and the nonproducing while retaining those physically fit for his army and for bringing in the crops.
- He can use the sudden exodus to spot-check the loyalties of his own government office holders.
- Or, as top administration officials in Washington are said to believe, he really means it when he says he wishes to rid the country of "counterrevolutionaries."

In a land of approximately 6.5 million people, more than 350,000 already have fled Cuba, 270,000 of them to the United States. Adding an ironic touch to Castro's announcement that others were free to go was the fact that it came on the anniversary of the Committees for the Defense of the Revolution, the neighborhood spy system.

GUEVARA'S ABSENCE

It was in that same speech that Castro promised soon to explain the long absence of the missing Ernesto (Che) Guevara, next to Fidel and Raoul Castro the leading revolutionary of them all.

* * *

Guevara's whereabouts remains a mystery and generally it is assumed he is dead. But no mystery is the continuing failure of Castro's Cuba.

Nearly $12 million has been spent so far on designing, developing and producing pressure suits for astronauts.

Stock Market Irregular

AT&T Drops to a New Low

NEW YORK (AP) — American Telephone dropped to a new low as the stock market turned irregular early this afternoon. Trading was active.

AT&T, delayed slightly by an accumulation of sell orders, was reacting to news that the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) would investigate its interstate rates and meanwhile authorized state regulatory bodies to order rate reductions of up to $75 million a year.

"Telephone" stock sank well over a point, making a new low for the year.

The over-all market was nudging further into record ground in early trading but other blue chips began to weaken in the afternoon. General Motors sank about 2 points. Standard Oil (New Jersey) was off a fraction.

BIGGEST STOCKS

AT&T, GM and Jersey are the biggest stocks on the New York Stock Exchange and their losses cast a damper on the list which has been rising to record peaks the last two sessions.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .82 at 958.68.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 354.8 with industrials up 1.1, rails up .3 and utilities unchanged.

Prices were mixed in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate and U.S. Treasury bonds were mostly unchanged.

By JACOBY AND SON

Our old friend, Hard Luck Joe is back with us again. This time he lost two finesses and a no-trump game.

JACOBY

Here is his tale of woe:

"Sixteen points opposite 11 with every suit stopped twice would mean a slam for some people. For me this means down one at three no-trump. Things started out nicely, too. West opened the jack of spades and I took my queen. Then I tried the diamond finesse only to have East pop up with the king.

"A spade came back. I ducked once, but had to win the next spade. I ran off my diamonds and then had to try the club finesse. It lost too and two spade tricks set me."

Joe had his usual hard luck. Both finesses were wrong. He also had thrown game and rubber out the window.

Joe had to win the first spade lead. Then he should have stopped to think before trying the diamond finesse. If he had gone through this process he would have realized that West was far more likely to hold the long spades than East and that it behooved him to keep West from getting the lead after spades were established.

Then Joe could have gone over to dummy with a heart and taken the club finesse. It would have lost, but Joe could duck one round of spades, win the next spade and lose the diamond finesse.

East would be in but without a spade to lead to his partner. Joe wound wind up making four no-trump instead of going down at three.

♠♥♦♣ CARD Sense ♠♥♦♣

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ Q J 2 ♥ A J 6 5 4 ♦ 3 2 ♣ 6 5 4
What do you do?

A—Bid five spades only. You have shown spade support and your ace of hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner rebids to three no-trump over your three-spade response. What do you do now?

Teen Will Get Life in Detroit Slaying

DETROIT (AP) — A jury Wednesday convicted 18-year-old Ivory Thomas of first-degree murder in the robbery-slaying of another youth. Thomas must go to prison for life.

Police said the victim, Michael Railsback, 18, a high school student who turned over the earnings of his car-wash job to help pay the family bills, was stabbed to death March 30 while on his way home with groceries.

The Recorder's Court jury of four women and eight men reached its verdict after a little more than an hour's deliberation.

No Problem for Donkey

LUBUSKI, Yugoslavia (AP) — Simun Kolakaric, 80, a farmer, lost his 16-year-old donkey in the hills. Later, Simun's grandson, a taxi driver, thought he recognized the animal at a nearby village.

Ante Medic, another farmer, said the donkey belonged to him.

While a court argument went on, villagers led the donkey to a crossroads between the two farms and turned the animal loose. The donkey ambled straight to Simun's stable. The court ruled Simun the owner and ordered Ante to pay trial costs.

Word Power to Success—16

Don't Be Trapped by 'All, Every, Each'

By the Reading Laboratory, Inc.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 16th in a 30-part series entitled "The Word Power to Success." The series is designed to help bring improvement in spelling, grammar and vocabulary.)

Written for NA
Special Services
Every man to his taste, I say
And every rule has its role to play.
With every always use his, her, its.
And save grammarians needless fits.

"Every member of the Giants have their hearts set on meeting the Chicago Bears next winter."

That is a television sportscaster talking, a man whose knowledge of the attitude of the New York Giants football squad may get him an A-plus, but knowledge of grammar is zero-minus.

During political conventions when radio and television put forward their best brains, this rule takes a pitiful beating:

"Every delegate from the 50 states of the Union has their minds made up at this point in the proceedings." This observation is a little better, grammatically, than the sportscaster's, so give him zero-plus.

Our rhyme states the rule and gives two examples, the first two lines are the examples, and the third line is the rule.

Look at it this way, and the wisdom of the rule becomes clear. What word can you always supply after every? Single. Every (single) is singular. The word everyone even contains the word one. Now let us reconstruct what the sportscaster said:

"Every member (singular so far) of the Giants have (first mistake: should be has) their (second mistake: should be his) hearts (third mistake: one heart to a customer, so it should be heart) . . ." The rest of the sentence is fine. The whole sentence should now read: "Every member of the Giants has his heart set on meeting the Chicago Bears next winter."

EVERY DELEGATE

And that political commentator should have said, "Every delegate from the 50 states of the Union has his mind made up."

In general, the word all the the word every mean the same thing. To be precise, however, the word all stresses the group, the collectivity; the word every stresses every single one that makes up the group.

Even here, however, you can be trapped. Most people know the opening line of Caesar's military diary, his Gallic Wars: "All Gaul is divided into three parts." In this case the word all is singular because it modifies a singular noun, Gaul. But you have most certainly have heard the likes of "All California have their eyes on their favorite son" (three mistakes). It should, be, as you know, "All California has its eyes on its favorite son."

★ ★ ★

A word, before we sum up this very simple rule, about television and radio broadcasters. It is only natural that these talented men will make a grammatical slip now and then. When they slip, it is invariably when they are talking without a script.

CONTINUAL WATCH

Newspapermen don't appear to slip, and that is because their material goes through editors and rewrite men who are on continual watch against spelling, grammatical and other kinds of errors. Radio and television people don't slip either after editors have gone over the script carefully before air time.

Getting back to the homework, however, the easiest way to avoid this most common of all grammatical pitfalls is to memorize the verse above.

Simply remember that every means each one of the whole. Is is singular, and so every other part of the sentence that depends on every or refers back to every must be singular.

A QUIZ

And, while you're at it, watch your use of each and all as you check the following sentences for errors:

1. Each of the girls, as they entered the auditorium, have their eyes peeled for Elvis.
2. All the men have their cards against their chests.
3. Every member of the "Jolly Coeds" should their lungs out at our games.

Answers

1. Each of the girls, as she enters the auditorium, has her eyes peeled for Elvis. 2. There is nothing wrong with the way this second sentence is written. 3. Every member of the "Jolly Coeds" shouts her lungs out during our games . . .

A Junior Editors Quiz About BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

QUESTION: What did Benjamin Franklin do besides experiment with electricity?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Benjamin Franklin gave the science of electricity a great boost when, in 1752 he flew a kite in a thunderstorm and found that electricity from lightning would run down the wire (1).

Franklin also invented the lightning rod. The electrical terms, battery, armature, condenser, were created by him.

Besides his electrical discoveries, Franklin made many other contributions to humanity. Starting as a poor printer, he became a successful publisher and influenced his readers toward ideas of truth, honesty and hard work.

A public-spirited man, he worked to organize a fire department in Philadelphia, establish a hospital, founded a library (3) and a university (4).

His useful inventions included an iron stove, which heated better than did a fireplace, and bifocal glasses (2) with a section at the bottom which allowed close reading.

Americans, however, remember best the noble part Benjamin Franklin played in the days when the United States became a nation.

He helped draft the Declaration of Independence and acted as one of its signers.

Franklin, as minister to France, arranged for gifts and loans without which America could probably not have achieved independence.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Our article has not nearly enough space to list Franklin's achievements. Read a longer one in a history book or encyclopedia so that you will really appreciate this remarkable man.

James Roosevelt Predicts U.N. to Admit Red China

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, predicts that Red China someday will be admitted to the United Nations.

Roosevelt, 57, U.S. representative to the U.N. Economic and Social Council, spoke Wednesday night at a program sponsored by the Iowa Governor's United Nations Committee. After the talk he answered questions.

Roosevelt, former congressman from California, said it would be a mistake to admit the Chinese Communists until they discontinue aggression but on the other hand, "We recognize that disarmament is impossible unless they are working with you."

Roosevelt said he hopes that a way can be found to bring China in under "proper conditions of dignity."

The Fifth Rose is not on the bottle.

It's in the bottle.

Where it counts.

The Fifth Rose is the great new taste of Four Roses. It's what distillers have been trying to find since they started distilling: it's what Four Roses has found: a way to make whiskey taste good. Not just lighter or smoother or milder, and not blander. But good. Truly good. The kind of whiskey taste you don't just say you like—but you really do like.

(Note: see how reasonable a good-tasting whiskey can be. The fact is, Four Roses doesn't cost any more any more.)

Suggestion: pick up Four Roses in the handsome new bottle. See what's in it for you.

You are hereby notified that on November 22, 1965 at 4:00 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, pursuant to action of your Board of Directors, a special meeting of the stockholders of your bank will be held at your bank's main Office, 20 N. Saginaw St., Pontiac, Michigan, to consider and vote upon the following proposals and such matters incidental thereto which properly may come before that meeting:

(1) To ratify, confirm and adopt the Agreement of Merger heretofore entered into on behalf of your bank (pursuant to authorization of its Board of Directors) dated September 2, 1965, whereby your bank will merge into Pontiac State Bank pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of Section 104 of the Michigan Financial Institutions Act, as amended, subject to the approval of the Commissioner of Banking of the State of Michigan, and to the consent of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

(2) To authorize the Board of Directors of your bank to take such action and give such authorization to the officers of your bank as said Board of Directors may deem necessary or advisable in order to determine whether the conditions precedent to the completion of such Agreement of Merger have been satisfied, and to take such other and further action and give such other and further authorizations to the officers of your bank as said Board of Directors may deem necessary or advisable in order to carry out any provisions of such Agreement of Merger.

(3) To transact such other business incidental to the foregoing proposals as may properly come before such meeting or any adjournment or adjournments thereof.

The Board of Directors has fixed the close of business on October 22, 1965, as the record date for determination of stockholders entitled to notice of the Special Meeting.

By order of the Board of Directors.

ROBERT L. JONES
Executive Vice President and Cashier

World News Roundup

Over 100 Die in Fierce Burma Storms

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — At least 100 persons have been killed and thousands left homeless by cyclonic storms and torrential rains lashing central Burma during the past two days, official reports said today.

★ ★ ★

The reports said the highest casualties were among women and children.

★ ★ ★

Troops and civilian volunteers were mobilized for rescue work. Social service workers were rushed to the area with food and medical supplies.

In the Toungoo district, 150 miles north of Rangoon, 22 villages were devastated by the Sittang River. In the village of Gwethonbin, seven survivors were reported out of more than 100 inhabitants.

★ ★ ★

The rains flooded hundreds of thousands of acres of rice ready for harvest.

ROME (AP) — The controversial bill to deny government subsidies to commercial sexy films won final parliamentary approval Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

The Chamber of Deputies gave the bill a last vote of acceptnce. It had cleared the Senate earlier in the month.

★ ★ ★

The bill now needs only the signature of President Giuseppe Saragat and publication in the official gazette to become law.

★ ★ ★

Differences over the bill had threatened to bring down Premier Aldo Moro's government four months ago. The bill was revised to satisfy a majority in Parliament which contended that in its original form it opened the way to political censorship.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's national police are planning to form a 1,500-man special force to crush Communist infiltrators from North Korea.

The group will be made up of policemen specially trained in antiguerrilla warfare.

★ ★ ★

Divided into 50 platoons, the special force will be assigned to mountain paths through which North Korean agents are known to infiltrate, police sources said.

Communist subversive activities have increased sharply in recent months. In two raids earlier this week, five South Koreans including one army officer were killed near the Korean armistice border.

Burn Patients Better Treated

Methods Improved for Care of Victims

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., — Burn patients have a better chance of survival today than they did two years ago, a panel of experts told the Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons here.

★ ★ ★

Col. John A. Moncrief of the U.S. Army Medical Corps, Fort Sam Houston, Texas, has found this improvement partly in the procedure he uses as a treatment, which is spreading a cream known as sulfamylon on the burned area immediately following the usual cleaning of the burn wound.

Dr. Moncrief emphasized shaving as part of the cleansing procedure. Any hair in a burn wound can cause trouble, he said. Sulfamylon is made by the Sterling Drug Co.

Dr. Carl A. Moyer of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo. uses silver nitrate to cover the wound following the cleansing. However neither of these medications is sufficient to enable badly burned persons to recover.

★ ★ ★

"Meticulous attention to detail, including the control of invasive infections, is necessary if a burn patient is to survive," Dr. Moyer said.

HARD WORK

"Hard work by an entire cadre is required. This means one nurse, with relief, around the clock; ward helpers and orderlies; and a physician available within five minutes. Blood tests three times a day and practical biochemists are needed also."

Pseudomonas is the most dangerous problem. It causes invasive infections that can be fatal. Even if pseudomanas is excluded, however, other organisms will take its place, Dr. Moncrief warned.

Both Dr. Moyer and Dr. Moncrief use a protective covering to keep burn patients warm. Dr. Moncrief uses a "cradle" of loose sheets not touching the patient.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Moyer used two dry sheets and a light blanket over his burn patients. In either case, warmth is needed by the victims. They can take room temperatures of 96 degrees, and humidity that would make a clothed person drip with perspiration.

OLD METHODS

Dr. Moyer, who was moderator of the panel, said that most hospitals in the U.S. are using old treatment methods for burns.

They either expose the patient or use a "standard" occlusive dressing, made up of a lot of gauze wrapped around the burned parts.

Engineers Probing Site of London Plane Crash

LONDON (UPI) — Works Ministry engineers today examined the runway at London Airport, where a British Vanguard airliner crashed yesterday, killing all 36 persons aboard.

At the same time, crews were clearing away the wreckage and a spokesman said it was hoped the job would be finished later today.

Flight schedules have not been affected by the crash. Other runways are being used.

Student Dies in Fire

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Fire at an Ithaca college fraternity house early today took the life of one student and sent four others to the hospital, one in critical condition. About 20 others escaped.

U.S. Snubs Soviet Offer on Resuming Arms Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. sources today brushed off a Soviet offer to resume the Geneva disarmament talks on terms that would ban creation of a NATO nuclear force. The Americans said the Soviet proposal was one-sided and unacceptable.

Moscow called on the General Assembly's main political committee Wednesday to support and refer to the Geneva Disarmament Committee a proposed Soviet treaty designed to block creation of a nuclear fleet under auspices of the Atlantic alliance.

U.S. sources said the new Soviet resolution showed no softening of the Soviet stand on how to check the spread of nuclear weapons. They said it seemed to be an attempt to strengthen the Soviet bargaining position in Geneva with U.N. endorsement of Moscow's treaty draft.

The United States has submitted to the political committee a resolution also calling for resumption of the Geneva talks. But it asks that both the U.S. and Soviet treaty proposals be used as a basis for discussion.

BACK TO GENEVA

William C. Foster, chief U.S. disarmament negotiator, told the 117-nation Political Committee Wednesday that, because of its size, no meaningful agreement on the nuclear weapons question could be reached by it. For this reason, he said, the talks should be returned to Geneva's 17-nation group as soon as possible.

Foster denied Soviet charges that the U.S. treaty draft contains loopholes that will allow nuclear arms to fall into the hands of West Germany, a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But he added that the Atlantic alliance had reason to be anxious over defense matters.

India continued its boycott of Security Council debate on the Indian-Pakistani conflict despite private appeals that it return to the council chamber.

In the General Assembly's trusteeship committee, British Minister of State Lord Caradon urged the shelving of a resolution calling on Britain to use military force to protect the rights of Rhodesia's black majority.

Caradon said Britain is doing all in its power to prevent Rhodesia's white minority from declaring independence unilaterally. He said approval at this stage of a resolution calling for military force "would be a mistake."

TRAFFIC STOPPER — This Los Angeles traffic stopper — the brainchild of garage manager Lou Estrada — is merely a dummy upended in the engine of a car. Estrada said he did it to attract business and laughs, but he notes that police have already received two calls reporting a "dead mechanic."

Laser Light Camera Is U-M Brainchild

CHICAGO (UPI) — Three-dimensional motion pictures and television may someday be as commonplace as your old box camera.

So said University of Michigan scientists who are displaying a radically different camera, using laser light, at the National Electronics Conference.

The camera, which has no lenses, is the brainchild of Emmett N. Leith and Juris Upatnieks, staff members at the university's Institute of Science and Technology. They said their methods mark the first radical change in photography in 100 years.

In ordinary photography, an image is recorded on light sensitive film. In laser photography, the scientists said, the light waves themselves are recorded.

* * *

Reflecting light waves from an object are captured on a glass plate and the result is a negative of specks, blobs and whorls called a hologram. It contains everything an ordinary photographic negative would and more because it is three-dimensional.

LASER BEAM

When a laser beam is shone through the glass plate negative, the hologram releases the captured waves and a three-dimensional picture is seen.

At the NEC exhibit, long lines of scientists saw a chess board with five men, a toy railroad scene and a model of an army tank. The objects were really back at the university's laboratory in Ann Arbor.

Leith and Upatnieks said "applications that come to mind immediately are television and motion pictures.

"It is possible in principle to produce a hologram television system," they said. However, today's television equipment is not adequate and each receiver would have to contain a laser light, they said.

HIGH PRICE

"The potential is great but the price is still quite high," they said.

Each object photographed must be illuminated by a laser light and to this date only small objects, about a foot square, can be photographed. Each glass plate costs about $3 and the laser equipment used by the university about $8,000.

The wave-front reconstruction process used by the Michigan scientists was discovered by Dennis Gabor of the Imperial College of Science and Technology in London in 1947.

Leith refined the process 10 years ago and began using laser light with it in 1960. He now directs a staff of 22 specialists working on the process at the Michigan laboratory.

Educators to Gather for Confab

Teachers and administrators from Pontiac's public schools will be among 20,000 educators attending next week's regional conference of the Michigan Education Association.

The conference will be held at Detroit's Cobo Hall next Thursday and Friday—while students at Oakland County public schools get a two-day vacation.

Heading the local contingent will be Mrs. Ernest Jackson, newly appointed president of the Pontiac Education Association.

William J. Lacy, assistant superintendent of instruction and pupil personnel, will chair a discussion of problems faced by first-year teachers in classroom control and management.

* * *

Assisting Lacy will be Arnold Embree, director of guidance and pupil personnel, Dr. Lee Haslinger, director of physical education and Victor M. Lindquist, director of secondary education.

* * *

TO HEAD GROUP

B. C. Van Koughnett, principal at McConnell Elementary School, will head a group meeting on the subject of instructional services.

Panel speakers include Margaret H. Scott, audio-visual consultant, Mrs. Orville A. Gauthier, head elementary librarian and Edwin Rydell, science specialist.

Keynote speaker at the conference's general session Friday will be Dr. Leroy G. Augenstein, professor and chairman of the department of biophysics at Michigan State University.

Miniature Pension

MACERATA, Italy (AP) — Pierina Bernardi, 72, is believed to receive the smallest pension in Italy. She gets 120 lire (20 cents) a year for having worked in a state tobacco factory back in the 1920s. That is about the price of one soft drink in Italy today.

S.C. Klan Boss Mum on Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators grilled Grand Dragon Robert E. Scoggin of South Carolina today about an alleged Ku Klux Klan unit known as "The Underground," trained in the use of explosives and firearms.

* * *

But Scroggin gave the House Committee on Un-American Activities no information except his name. He cited protection of the Fifth and other amendments to the Constitution more than 100 times in refusing to answer questions.

Scoggin was asked if, to explain the relatively small size of the Klan in his state, he hadn't said "you were purposely keeping the organization small, under strict discipline, with a view of going underground if necessary."

Scoggin declined to answer this and other questions from Donald T. Appell, chief investigator for the committee.

He was asked also if he gave his approval when the Cherokee Sportsman Club, a Klan unit, disbanded and formed an organization called "The Underground."

5 Decrees Proclaimed by Pope and Council

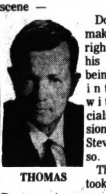
Director Seeks to Prevent TV Cuts of 'Place in Sun'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene —



THOMAS

Does a movie maker have the right to prevent his work from being cut and interspersed with commercials on television? George Stevens thinks so.

This week he took on NBC, Paramount, sponsors, ad agencies, et al, to prevent his classic "A Place in the Sun" from being "disjointed and dismembered" on television. The movie is scheduled for "Saturday Night at the Movies" this season, but Stevens hopes to prevent it.

* * *

Stevens called a news conference to announce his suit. He told of watching "Stalag 17" on NBC last Saturday and he enumerated in detail the 42 commercials during the show. "Each was a story in itself," said the director.

'PLACE IN SUN'

"'A Place in the Sun' was designed like a symphony," he declared, adding that it couldn't possibly be appreciated with 42 interruptions.

* * *

What are his chances? Otto Preminger sued to prevent showing of "Anatomy of a Murder" on three ABC stations. A New York Supreme Court justice refused to stop the showings but said a trial could determine whether the film could be cut on television.

* * *

Richard Burton is astounded, and just a bit proud, of the way his ex-wife Syil Burton Christopher has become the darling of the "In" crowd of New York. The reason: Sybil's hostessing of the city's swingingest discotheque, Arthur's.

* * *

"Why, her table at Arthur's is the most favored spot in all of New York," said Burton. "Customers call on the telephone to make sure Sybil is there before they come to Arthur's."

CLUB INVESTOR

Burton, who is an investor in the nightclub, said his former wife had offers to open Arthur's in Chicago, Denver, San Francisco, Hollywood and elsewhere. "I advised her against it," he remarked. "She would be spending most of her life in airplanes."

Storm signals are reported over "Big Valley." It's said that the old pro Barbara Stanwyck is getting fed up with the delaying tactics of young Lee Majors, who wants scenes done his way, or not at all.

* * *

Robert Vaughn is battling THRUSH on "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." but that's nothing to what he would face if he carries out his present plan to play "Hamlet" in London.

* * *

"Yes, I know I face the distinct possibility of being blasted by the critics," he admits. "No American has played Hamlet in London since John Barrymore, and even he was grudgingly praised. I realize it's chancy, but it's a challenge."

BRITISH CAST

Vaughn has an offer for a four- or six-week run in the West End, to be followed by a taping of "Hamlet" to appear on the BBC. He would be appearing with an all-British cast.

The actor's television sidekick, David McCallum, himself a graduate of the London stage, has his own reaction to Vaughn's plan. Said McCallum: "We should have you committed."

Dispute Future of Mercenaries

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) — The Congo's civilian and military leaders today disputed the future of the hired white soldiers who crushed the rebellion in the north Congo.

President Joseph Kasavubu said early this week that "the mercenaries would be sent home."

On his return last night from the African summit conference in Accra, he said only "those people hired in the framework of technical assistance agreement with friendly powers" would be kept.

Most of the mercenaries commanded by Lt. Col. Mike Hoare are from South Africa and Rhodesia, and the Congo has no technical assistance pacts with those governments.

* * *

According to Kasavubu's statement, these men apparently would be sent home.

Premier Evariste Kimba, in a statement yesterday, said that "mercenaries attached to the army" would not be sent home. This would include Hoare's 250-500 commandos.

The army commander, Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, in an interview published today, said that anyone under his command would remain there.

"There is no question," he said, "that the Congolese government would separate itself from the mercenaries who serve in the ranks of the Congolese national army."

* * *

But he left in doubt the status of foreigners in the Katangan gendarmerie formed by ex-Premier Moise Tshombe during the secession of Katanga Province.

Wife Divorces Vince Edwards

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Vince Edwards, television's Dr. Ben Casey, was divorced yesterday by actress Kathy Kersh, who is expecting their first child in five months.

Superior Judge Roger Alton Pfaff granted the divorce to Miss Kersh, 23, and ordered Edwards, 36, to pay $1,500 monthly alimony for one year as well as $300 monthly child support and medical costs for the baby.

The couple was married last June 13. They separated Aug. 6, but reconciled in September. On Oct. 12, the couple separated again and she filed for divorce Oct. 17.

Miss Kersh testified Edwards was "very neglectful and not interested in the marriage."

Despite efforts at diversification, coffee still comprises more than 50 per cent of Guatemala's exports.

Reds Confronted Defector, Says U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department says Hungari an diplomat Laszlo Szabo has stated his request to defect to the United States in a confrontation with Hungary's charge d'affaires in Washington, Janos Radvanyi.

An American official was present at the meeting, Robert McCloskey, State Department press officer, said Wednesday. McCloskey did not say when the confrontation took place and said Szabo's request for asylum is still under consideration.

Goring by Pet Deer Fatal to Farmer, 67

MACOMB, Ill. (AP) — Leo Parrish, 67, a farmer, died today of a goring inflicted by a 200-pound, 10-point buck deer which he had raised from a bottle-fed fawn.

A peacock flew into the deer's pen Tuesday. Parrish went in after it. The deer attacked him, inflicting many deep slashes. Faye Shryack, a neighbor, had to shoot the 2-year-old deer before he could rescue Parrish from the pen.

NEW YORK (UPI) — A police department testimonial dinner is usually a dull kind of thing, with the embarrassed guest of honor trying to look modest while his superiors stand up and drone on about what a great guy good ol' Sam was.

* * *

The testimonial for a retiring sergeant at a Queens precinct followed the script up to a point, including speeches by a captain and two sergeants.

Then the festivities were brightened by the appearance of Miss Mary Rooney, who is blonde and has eyes of hazel.

Miss Rooney, with 38-27-37 statistics and the nickname "The Million Dollar Baby," is no girl to just stand there and be admired.

* * *

She sings and dances and little bits of her clothing flutter to the stage and that was what was happening at the Long Island Hofbrau to the cheers and applause of 300 policemen early yesterday while the four-piece band played "You Stepped Out of a Dream."

BRINGS FRIEND

The festivities were made even more festive when the cops learned Miss Rooney had brought along a friend — off-duty belly dancer Anita Ventura.

Here is where the happy tale takes on its sad note.

While 300 armed, eagle-eyed, vigilant sleuths kept careful watch on the Misses Rooney and Ventura — a cat-footed burglar slunk into the dressing room and back out again — taking $20 belonging to Miss Rooney and the lace panties of Miss Ventura.

* * *

After the dastardly deed was discovered, the 300 police milled about in confusion and dismay while Miss Ventura, still in costume, joined the Million Dollar Baby in a taxi for the ride home.

* * *

"You'd think," sighed Miss Rooney as the cab roared off, "that a working girl would be safe with all those cops around."

Brigitte Bardot Is Eyed as Lawrence's TV Saver

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The prospect that Brigitte Bardot might save Steve Lawrence's TV show from cancellation is one of today's very best rumors. Producer George Schlatter denies there's been even a murmur from CBS about cancellation. Nevertheless, if there had been—and there ain't been, like I'm a telling yuh! — how could they cancel when Steve had lined up a very, very big first, with BB and Jeanne Moreau set up to be itnerviewed on camera for Steve's Dec. 27 show?

WILSON

Everybody'd want to see that, and Steve could sell it as a special to the whole world. He's planning to go to Paris, if he can slip away from you know whom, to interview BB in advance about the interview he's going to do eventually. During all this talk of a Bardot interview, you can be sure that Steve isn't throwing in the . . . uh . . . towel.

Dean Martin has been unmoved by Jerry Lewis' admissions of causing their breakup, and Dean's friends say he would want a more personal confession before reconciling publicly.

The response from you wonderful readers to our National Be-Kind-to-Your-Wife Week has been so enormous that National Chairman Howard Teichmann decrees that the observance be postponed until after the NYC election so he can give it the benefit of his entire talent. The new date is Nov. 8-13.

Torture Death Hearing Is Set

Mother of 7, Youth Charged in Murder

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)— A hearing on a charge of murder has been set for Monday for the 37-year-old mother of seven children and a high school freshman in the sadistic torture-slaying of a 16-year-old girl here.

Police expressed horror and disbelief at the cruelty of the torture and murder for which there was no apparent motive. They charged that all but the youngest of the children of Mrs. Gertrude Wright participated.

The police said a 15-year-old neighborhood boy, Richard Hobbs, joined in the burning and beating of Sylvia Marie Likens at the behest of the older woman.

The tale of torture was related, police said, by the sister of the dead girl, Jennie, 15, who is partially crippled by polio.

Jennie said her sister had been abused over a period of more than two weeks. She said she had been afraid to report the assaults for fear of also becoming a victim.

According to police, the parents of the victim, Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Likens, left Sylvia and Jennie with Mrs. Wright while the parents ran a concession at a carnival in Florida.

About two or three weeks ago, authorities said, the torture of Sylvia began. On one occasion, police added, the girl was bound and gagged and thrown into a tub of water.

Police said several of Mrs. Wright's children, who range in age from 17 to 1½ years old, admitted that all but the youngest had taken turns in recent days in beating the girl and burning her body with cigarettes.

Sen. Dirksen Is Preparing January Assault on Johnson Administration

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen is busy these days loading his long rifles for a fresh assault in January on the Johnson administration he alternately plagues and comforts.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Republican leader, who will turn 70 on Jan. 4, emerged from the first half of the 89th Congress as the Senate's most influential member. He expects to take up in the second session where he left off in the first.

Dirksen's first task will involve a new effort to prevent Senate passage of a House-approved bill to outlaw state bans on the union shop. This is legislation President Johnson wanted.

His second, and perhaps more difficult task, will be to try to line up the necessary two-thirds support for Senate passage of a proposed constitutional amendment to permit voters to apportion one house of their state legislatures on factors other than the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote decision.

PUBLIC STAND

Johnson hasn't taken a public stand on this, but Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, operating under White House guidance, fought it in the last session.

His close relationship with the President has permitted Dirksen to play the alternate roles of political dragon and bedside comforter to the Democratic administration.

★ ★ ★

While he was whacking away at some of the Johnson domestic proposals and smoothing the way for others, Dirksen has stood solidly behind Johnson on Viet Nam. He upheld the President's hand when many Republicans were firing off blasts at the chief executive's conduct of the war.

The voting rights bill, a landmark of the Johnson administration's accomplishments in Congress, was written in the Republican leader's office. Where no one else could have succeeded, he provided the necessary votes to kill of a filibuster against it.

MOUNTED FILIBUSTER

Yet he turned around and mounted a filibuster that succeeded in shelving the union shop legislation.

In his latest role as a political dragon, the former baker boy from Pekin, Ill., took on 33-year-old Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and vanquished him.

★ ★ ★

Dirksen's opposition to the Kennedy-sponsored appointment of Francis X. Morrissey, an old associate of the Kennedy family, as a federal judge in Massachusetts was not an operation that the Illinois senator relished.

A bust of the late President John F. Kennedy occupies a prominent niche in Dirksen's Capitol office. He talks about the assassinated president with a catch in his throat.

★ ★ ★

"I like all the Kennedys," he says, "but that boy Jack really was a favorite of mine."

Kennedy's action in asking the Senate to return the nomination to the judiciary committee's shelf probably averted a narrow defeat.

Thieves Take Liking to Parked Car Idea

COLUMBUS, Ind. (AP) — Police thought they had a clever idea when they left an unoccupied old model police car alongside of US41 here to fool motorists into slowing down.

★ ★ ★

The idea backfired. Thieves stripped the car of its license plate, a $200 siren and its official markings.

School Building Plan OK'd

A shifting school population and growth in student enrollment were cited as the Pontiac Board of Education gave final approval at last night's meeting to a proposed $1.13 million elementary school construction program.

The program was backed unanimously by board members present. One member, Mrs. Lucille Marshall, was absent due to illness and didn't vote.

Richard C. Fell, assistant superintendent in charge of business and staff personnel, said the 1966 program would meet "critical areas" of need within the school district.

Fell noted a growth in school population in the northern and eastern sections of the city and pinpointed a fast rise at Franklin Elementary School, where considerable new housing has gone up the past year.

★ ★

The proposed construction includes 23 new classrooms, conversion of an orthopedic suite at Mark Twain Elementary, two new libraries and 16 service units.

Fell said the service units would be used to accommodate newly established federal programs and also serve as centers for special services.

Main targets of the building program would be Herrington and Franklin elementary schools. Six new classrooms are proposed at each facility.

The Herrington addition, Fell said, would complete the building as originally planned and would also include a larger, more adequate library.

★ ★

Franklin — expected to be 65 pupils over capacity this year— will receive three new rooms to accommodate increased enrollment, two rooms allowing for projected additional growth and one room for a special education facility.

Four new classrooms and a library proposed at Emerson Elementary would not only take care of projected enrollments there, Fell said, but would also provide space for increase at nearby Longfellow Elementary.

Approximately 100 pupils are presently being transported from the Broadway-Maxwell-Jordan area in the Emerson district to Longfellow.

Fell said projected enrollment increases at Longfellow would render the transfer program impractical by next year.

Order Phone Rate Check; AT&T Chief Blasts Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has ordered an investigation of telephone rates—an action blasted by the board chairman of AT&T as totally unwarranted and unnecessary.

The investigation, announced yesterday by the FCC, will cover almost all the services offered by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The regulatory agency said one of its objectives is to see if it should prescribe maximum charges to the public.

AT&T Board Chairman Frederick R. Kappel fired back in a statement issued in New York: "The action taken today by the FCC is totally unwarranted and unnecessary, and in the final analysis the telephone-using public will be the loser.

"The energies of the many telephone people required to work on a case like this could be better expended to help keep our economy growing."

★ ★ ★

The commission ordered the investigation — it said it will set a date later for hearings in Washington — after studying an AT&T report on costs and earnings.

JUST AND REASONABLE

Among other things the investigation will determine, the FCC said, is if Bell System's charges are just and reasonable under the Communications Act.

In his statement Kappel said: "Without resorting to such a painfully slow and costly investigation, the commission over the years has effected rate reductions which

S. C. Klan Boss Mum on Group

Testimony Sought on 'Violence-Prone' Unit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional probers, pursuing reports of a mysterious Klan group called "the Underground," got no help today from Robert E. Scoggin, grand dragon of the South Carolina Klan.

Scoggin, appearing before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, declined to give more than his name. And he refused even to say if it had originally been spelled Scoggins. There was no explanation of the question about the extra "s."

Committee Chairman Edwin S. Willis, D-La., said the secret Klan group known as the Underground had special training in acts of violence.

Chief investigator Donald T. Appell said members trained themselves in use of explosives and rifles, and "are advocates of violence."

U-M Regent's Role Suspect, Say 2 Dems

LANSING (AP) — Two House members said yesterday "there appears to be a substantial conflict of interest in the relationship of Regent Eugene Power to the University of Michigan and University Microfilms Inc."

★ ★ ★

The statement was made by Reps. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, chairman of the higher-education subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee, and George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, a subcommittee member.

Faxon asked Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley to investigate the question and determine whether Power has violated conflict of interest laws and whether the university has violated the law in its dealing with University Microfilms.

The Michigan Daily, the student newspaper, said last week Power's University Microfilms had violated university copyright regulations in filming documents in the U-M library.

Yanks Hunt Viet Cong Attackers

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marine patrols went on the hunt for the Viet Cong around Da Nang and Chu Lai today after Communist mortars and suicide squads destroyed 19 helicopters and two bombers in simultaneous attacks on the two Marine centers in central Viet Nam.

Another 21 helicopters were damaged. The Marines reported they killed 39 guerrillas and suffered only light casualties during the two attacks just before midnight.

It was the third sabotage raid on the Marine air and infantry complex on the coast of central Viet Nam.

The Communists did the bulk of their damage at Marble Mountain, an air strip two miles across the river from the big Da Nang air base. The attack destroyed or crippled two thirds of the 60 helicopters on the strip.

★ ★ ★

Seabees there also suffered light casualties from mortar shells. The main Da Nang base was not attacked.

DESTROY PLANES

Two AD4 Skyhawk jet bombers were destroyed at Chu Lai, 52 miles south of Da Nang.

Both airfields came under heavy mortar fire before Viet Cong suicide squads slipped in and attacked the aircraft with demolition charges and rifle fire but most of the damage was apparently caused by the mortars.

Morse: Viet Victory Won't Bring Peace

The United States will win the war in Viet Nam, but the victory will not bring peace to Southeast Asia, Sen. Wayne Morse predicted last night.

The Oregon Democrat, who has served in the U.S. Senate since 1945, addressed some 650 persons at Marian High School in Bloomfield Township.

His appearance before the Oakland County Chapter of the American Association for the United Nations marked the 20th anniversary of the world organization.

Morse said both Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic should have been placed under U. N. trusteeship.

This country's failure to take the problems to the U. N. has impaired the international organization's peace-keeping function, he said.

★ ★ ★

Also blocking peace efforts is American refusal to consider U. N. membership for Red China, according to Morse.

NO HOPE

"There's no hope of the Viet Cong standing up against the military power of the United States—it's like shooting fish in a barrel," he said.

★ ★ ★

The senator commented that successful negotiations cannot be conducted at a surrender table.

"Soon we will be negotiating at a surrender table," he said. "We will win every military

18.9 Per Cent of Total Goal

GM Donates $165,000 to UF

In behalf of its three local plants, General Motors Corp. has contributed $165,000 to the 1965 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign, it was announced today.

★ ★ ★

Glenn H. Griffin, president of the United Fund, announced the GM gift, which bites a huge chunk out of the 1965 campaign goal of $875,000.

Griffin, who accepted the corporate gift, said GM's donation was 18.9 per cent of the total goal.

He also noted the contribution amounted to a 10 per cent increase over GM's $150,000 Pontiac Area United Fund gift last year.

★ ★ ★

The three GM plant managers made the check presentation. They are John Z. DeLorean, Pontiac general manager; Calvin J. Werner, GMC Truck and Coach Division general manager; and Thomas F. Wiethorn, Fisher Body plant manager.

Werner is this year's general campaign chairman.

Meantime, Wiethorn is chairman of the industrial division of the UF drive. The goal for this division has been set at $582,463 this year.

Griffin expressed appreciation of GM's support of the community and said this major contribution would go a long way toward meeting the needs of the 55 agencies served by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

★ ★ ★

"Because our goal of $875,000 is the largest in Pontiac history we still have a long way to go to make this year's campaign a success," Griffin said.

★ ★ ★

He added that private citizens share with industry the responsibility to meet this goal for the common good of the community.

The 18th Pontiac Area campaign was officially begun Oct. 14 with the torch lighting kickoff ceremonies at City Hall. The drive is scheduled to be completed Nov. 4.

Castro Halts Boat Exodus

Coast Guard Gears for Rush Before Airlift

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro halted small boat sailings as of midnight tonight—in advance of a refugee airlift—and the Coast Guard geared to help hundreds of Cubans expected to rush embarkation before the deadline.

"They are on their way," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Waves 10 feet high were reported in the Florida Straits which separate Cuba from the United States.

Castro's move was a prelude to a U. S.-Cuban agreement to fly 3,000 to 4,000 refugees a month to the United States.

Gustavo Hidalgo, captain of a 23-foot boat, arrived here today and said: "The Castro officials wanted to send out all boats that wanted to go, regardless of the weather."

"We radioed the Coast Guard to take off our women, children and old people; 11 were transferred to a Coast Guard vessel 20 miles from Cuba," he said.

Four refugees and four crewmen stayed on board.

The announcement cutting off the Camarioca exodus came after a meeting between Castro and Emil Stadelhofer, the Swiss ambassador to Havana. The Swiss represent U.S. interests in Cuba.

County Treasurer to Be Named Soon

A decision on a new county treasurer will probably be reached next week.

According to county officials whose job it is to appoint a successor to the late Charles A. Sparks, the field of candidates will be narrowed down considerably by that time.

Sparks died Friday while serving in the first year of his 17th consecutive elected term. He had held the post for 33 years.

County Clerk John D. Murphy, one of three county officials who will appoint the successor, said the names of at least 15 persons have been recommended for the job.

"It's surprising how many have university backgrounds in administration," said Murphy.

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson and Probate Judge Donald Adams are the other two, who under state law, are required to appoint a successor.

BOTH DEMOCRATS

Like Murphy, both are Democrats.

With the death of Sparks, a Republican, the Democrats for the first time have an opportunity to control the balance of power among elected county officials.

The other two elected Republican officials are Sheriff Frank Irons and Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

All the candidates for the treasurer's job reportedly are Democrats.

Among those whose names have been placed under consideration are Frank Sierawski, formerly of Ferndale and now director of the vehicle services division of the Secretary of

Snow Flurries Herald Chill

The first snow flurries of the season arrived in the Pontiac area at 8:45 this morning. Temperatures dropped to a new low of 30 at 6 a.m.

Tonight will be clear and cold, the mercury dipping into the high 20s.

Fair and a little warmer, is the forecast for tomorrow, highs hitting 52 to 58; and sunny and mild is the outlook for Saturday.

Today's northwesterly winds at 19 to 20 miles per hour will diminish tonight.

The temperature in downtown Pontiac at 1 p.m. was 34.

Murphy to Pick Chief Deputy

Helen Hoskins Fired; With County 20 Years

Oakland County Clerk-Register of Deeds John D. Murphy said today that he expected to name a successor to former Chief Deputy Register Helen J. Hoskins in about two weeks.

Mrs. Hoskins, a county employe for 20 years, was fired by Murphy last Monday.

Murphy said that the new chief deputy register probably would be selected from his present staff.

He denied any involvement of politics in the dismissal of Mrs. Hoskins.

★ ★ ★

"It was simply a case that there is room for only one register of deeds," Murphy explained.

2 DISMISSED

He pointed out that only two of his 48 staff members have been dismissed since he took over the office 10 months ago—Mrs. Hoskins and a typist.

Also dismissed were a special assistant to the former Republican clerk-register of deeds and his secretary, but both were advised that they would be replaced before Murphy, a Democrat, took office.

"These two people both were notified by my predecessor," Murphy said.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hoskins' husband, Homer D., who was manager of Pontiac Municipal Airport, died Monday evening. He had suffered heart trouble in recent months.

Mrs. Hoskins discovered his body when she returned home shortly after 6 p.m.

WHITE-MAN RULE

"The day of white-man rule in Asia is over," he said.

The senator criticized the lack of effort to bring Red China into the U.N.

Rather than lining up votes against China, the U.S. should be seeking negotiations for that nation's admission, he said.

★ ★ ★

Morse urged that this be done while the U.S. still has the majority and before Red China is admitted on her own terms.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Fair weather is expected tonight over most of the nation except for light showers over the northern Rockies and coastal regions of the Pacific Northwest. Some snow flurries are expected near the lower Great Lakes. It will be cooler in the Pacific Northwest and the northeast third of the nation; little change elsewhere.

Fed Up With McNamara?

2 Admirals Quitting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Disagreement with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's views on Pentagon control in shipbuilding programs appeared today to be the reason two Navy admirals who head the Bureau of Ships have asked for retirement.

Rear Adm. William A. Brockett, chief of the bureau, and his deputy, Rear Adm. John A. Curtze, filed their requests for retirement yesterday.

McNamara's official spokesman confirmed the fact that the requests for immediate retirement had been submitted, but declined to say more.

Curtze told a newsman of his action:

"I have good and sufficient personal reasons. I plan to pick up a lot of loose ends that I allowed to slip during my 35 years of Navy service."

★ ★ ★

He did not elaborate.

MAJOR FACTOR

But another source in the Pentagon said unhappiness by the two admirals over top civilian management seemed to be a major factor in the retirement requests.

Congressional sources reported that the disagreement also involved McNamara's closing of some shipyards.

These sources said the two admirals are "fed up" and predicted they will speak out as soon as their retirement becomes effective.

★ ★ ★

Dissatisfaction presumably began developing almost two years ago when the Defense Department and Navy reorganized the Office of Navy Material and decided that the office would be headed by an officer of vice admiral rank.

INTERLOPERS?

This interposed a new, higher-ranking level between the long-established Bureau of Ships, headed by rear admirals, and the top civilian management of the Defense Department.

The Bureau of Ships traditionally had been the office which handled final decisions on what types of ships would be built and where they would be built.

The New York Times reported today that the two admirals had submitted resignations "in protest against the increasing centralization of authority in the Defense Department."

Neither Brockett, 51, nor Curtze, 54, would have reached the mandatory retirement age of 50 years for some time.

Retiring at 75 per cent of full pay with their length of service, the two admirals would be entitled to retirement pay of about $12,000 a year each.

2 Guard Units in Area Get Back-Up Call

Two area units are among the 27 Michigan Army National Guard units named today as part of a national back-up force for the Regular Army.

Area units included are Pontiac's Co. B and Lapeer's Co. C, both of the 2nd Battalion, 125th Infantry.

The Pontiac unit is a 143-man rifle company, while the Lapeer group is a 36-man weapons platoon.

Acting Gov. William Milliken announced that the units would form a brigade in a Selected Reserve Force (SRF) being organized nationwide to fill a time gap created by an increase in Regular Army forces for the Viet Nam crisis.

★ ★ ★

All the selected units are to be brought up to wartime strength and supplied with up-to-date equipment in case of a call to active duty.

Stepped up weekly and weekend drill periods are also planned beginning Nov. 15 to place the men at their peak readiness. Annual summer training sessions will probably be in June instead of July next year.

★ ★ ★

Nationally, the buildup calls for training 150,000 selected Army National Guard and Reserve units.

Yanks Hunt Cong Raiders

Nam, said several of the damaged helicopters would be flying again today. More than half of the wounded Marines were expected to be back on duty by tonight.

★ ★ ★

The Marines said 37 Viet Cong were killed at or near Marble Mountain and two at Chu Lai.

SUPPORT DUE

Gen. Walt reported a wounded guerrilla who was captured said the Marble Mountain suicide team came in boats down the Da Nang River and 200 or more guerrillas were supposed to back them up.

Walt said a Marine patrol ambushed about 100 Viet Cong near Da Nang a few hours before the guerrilla raid. The Marines killed 15 of the enemy in stand-up fighting. Four Viet Cong were bayoneted to death.

It was believed this was part of the backup force for the later raid.

Walt said he believed the main Da Nang base, with its big jet airport 370 miles northeast of Saigon, was the intended target but the Viet Cong failed to ge near it.

'ONE THAT HURTS'

The main Da Nang air base is "the one that is hurting them," Walt said. "It means something to the people up North. They've never heard of Marble Mountain."

The big Da Nang base is a springboard for U.S. air attacks against North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong.

In a previous attack, a small Viet Cong squad infiltrated the main base at Da Nang July 1, killed one U.S. air policeman, destroyed three planes and damaged three others.

★ ★ ★

On Aug. 5, guerrillas destroyed part of a fuel storage complex near Da Nang.

RAIDS PREDICTED

U.S. military strategists maintain that no foolproof defense exists against such infiltration. They have predicted more sabotage raids as the Viet Cong try to show that small guerrilla bands can strike at will and embarrass the superior U.S. forces.

Nearly 25,000 U.S. Marines were in South Viet Nam when the Viet Cong hit Marine facilities in the Da Nang area last July.

About 40,000 Marines are in the country now and the defense perimeter around Da Nang has been strengthened with increased patrolling, both day and night.

Killing Suspect Is Bound Over

A 17-year-old youth charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal stabbing Oct. 16 of an 80-year-old Farmington Township widow was bound over to Circuit Court today for arraignment Nov. 10.

William D. Sleeper of 20819 Pearl, Farmington Township, was returned to the Oakland County Jail without bond following a preliminary examination this morning before Farmington Township Justice Byron D. Walter.

Sleeper, who was arrested Oct. 18, told police he killed Mrs. Ethel Van Wicklin, according to State Police detectives.

Mrs. Van Wicklin, who lived alone next door to the defendant at 20809 Pearl, was found dead in her living room. Investigators said she had been stabbed "at least" 10 times.

A knife-like letter opener believed to be the murder weapon was found in the victim's back yard the morning after her death.

Others are Asst. Prosecutor James Stelt, one-time manager of Otsego; White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz; Mrs. Lucille Marshall of Pontiac who opposed Sparks in the last election; Harold Julian, UAW citizenship representive and a vice chairman of the county Democratic Party; and Farmington attorney John Burke.

Murphy said that in selecting a successor, geography will be taken into consideration since he and Bronson are from South Oakland County.

Abandoned Baby Put in Foster Home

Two-month-old Dawn Marie Pusey — abandoned Monday at Pontiac General Hospital — was taken to an Oakland County foster home this morning after preliminary hearing yesterday before Probate Judge Norman R. Barnard.

Judge Barnard said the child would remain at the home until more permanent arrangements for her care were determined at a final hearing scheduled Tuesday.

Neither 19-year-old James Pusey nor his wife, Susan, 18 — Dawn Marie's parents — were able to offer a definite plan for the child's care at yesterday's hearing, according to Barnard.

The hearing followed a petition of neglect filed at the juvenile policewoman Mrs. Georgnile division on behalf of the infant yesterday morning by Pontiac policewoman Mrs. George Caronis.

★ ★ ★

Tuesday, the parents walked into the Pontiac police station.

LEFT EARLIER

Their daughter had been left 24 hours earlier in the chapel at Pontiac General.

★ ★ ★

Barnard said that in the disposition of the case he will consider "the best needs of the child without forgetting the parent's rights."

Pusey indicated at the preliminary hearing his job and residence plans were uncertain, according to Barnard. A Juvenile division worker has been assigned to the case.

FCC to Check Phone Rates

now amount to savings of about $1 billion annually to the American public.

"The latest reduction of $100 million was made only a few months ago, and interstate telephone rates today are 22 per cent below the levels of 1940."

The investigation will cover almost all the services AT&T offers. This includes regular and private line telephone service, private line telegraph service and all other services except the teletypewriter exchange TWX and TELPAX. Those are the subjects of separate investigations.

The revenue requirements of the Bell System and the basis on which the system determines the requirements will be decided by the investigation, the FCC said.

Also to be decided, the commission said, is whether Bell's charges will "subject any person or class of persons to unjust or unreasonable discrimination, or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any person, class or persons or locality to undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage."

Armchair Travelers to See Peru

BIRMINGHAM — The Community House will open its 1965-66 travel film series next week with "Three Worlds of Peru."

The color film narrated by Eric Pavel will be shown at 8 p.m. Nov. 5 and 6.

Pavel will introduce armchair travelers to three different phases of Peruvian life — its modern society, its Indian culture and its antiquities.

Located in the middle of South America's west coast, Peru is a country of extremes.

★ ★ ★

Its barren, icy highlands are in strong contrast to its impenetrable jungles.

OTHER TOWNS

Also shown in the film are the towns of temperate climate.

Pavel was born into a family of world travelers. His college years were spent in Switzerland and England, when he earned degrees in engineering and economics.

Able to speak six languages, the photographer-narrator concentrates on portraying the people of a country in his travel films.

As in previous years, the Community House will serve a prefilm dinner, featuring foods of the country being shown on film.

RESERVATIONS

An American menu also is available. Reservations for the 6 p.m. dinner should be made by Nov. 4.

No reservations are necessary for the film program, although tickets can be purchased in advance and at the door.

The Birmingham - Bloomfield Poetry Club has announced a poetry contest open to all residents of Oakland County.

The two categories for judging are light verse and more serious poetry.

There also are three age divisions — up to sixth grade, grades seven through 12 and college-age or older.

Prizes will be awarded in each category and entries will be returned only if accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

★ ★ ★

Entries should be mailed to Poetry Contest, Birmingham Community House, 380 S. Bates. Additional information is available at the Community House.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — A series of four programs, "Exploring Science;" for fourth, fifth and sixth graders, will start Nov. 6 at the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

The sessions will be held on four successive Saturdays at 9 and 10:30 a.m.

The subjects to be covered are "The Sun's Family," "Animal Specialties," "Conservation" and "Electromagnetic Energy."

Underground N-Blast Due Today in Aleutians

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — Scientists, thwarted once by the weather, hope today to set off an 80-kiloton underground thermonuclear explosion on this bleak Aleutian island.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

This week I am bringing you a couple of letters, selected from recent correspondence, which have come to my desk.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I am 50 years old. Because of the correct exercise and diet, my figure is as attractive as ever, and I always had a good one.

★ ★ ★

"I realized some time ago that I would have to work at it more as time passed because the weight distribution seemed to be changing. Although I weighed the same, I had little rolls over my girdle and a pad of fat on my abdomen which I had never had before.

"Do most women experience this at middle age or am I unusual? Anyhow I began concentrating on abdominal and waist exercises, and after a few months, had my youthful figure back. I have found, though, that I must make them a part of my daily routine forever in order to hold the line.

"I have a youthful face but I do not seem to be able to do anything about my neck. My face looks 35 or 40 and my neck 55 or 60. They don't match. I must admit that I have not taken facial exercises. Would this help? Please advise me."

First to answer your question about weight distribution. I think that most women have the same experience you have had. There is a change in measurements unless a woman exercises to avoid it.

Bulges and rolls are apt to appear in spots we never had them before even if we have not gained weight, that is, if we do not exercise. Then there is no doubt about it! A woman has to try harder to keep her figure after she has passed early youth.

Many readers have found my exercises for the neck to be most beneficial. Of course daily lubrication is also essential. Posture is important and you might try one of the hormone creams or oils. It is also wise to use a base with a moisturizer.

Try this exercise. Straighten your spine and keep your chin parallel to the floor as you turn your head as far to the right as you can. Turn head back and then to the left as far as you can. Continue turning head and alternating right and left. After a while turn head to right and then look up toward the sky. Turn back. Turn to left and look up. Turn back and continue.

If any of you would like to have my exercises for the neck send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for them to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press. Ask for the leaflet "Is Your Chinline a Pain in the Neck?"

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hendrix of North Paddock Street announce the engagement of their daughter Shelba Jean to Richard Lee Stamper, stepson of Alvie Meadows of North Perry Street.

MRS. ALFRED G. WILSON

OU Continuing Education Honors Charter Student

Amidst the many honors bestowed upon Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson during the recent recognition of her 82nd birthday, was a certificate from the Division of Continuing Education acknowledging her charter status as a continuing education student.

Mrs. Wilson enrolled in the first adult evening course conducted at Oakland. The subject was efficient Reading. The course was offered in the fall of 1958, a year before undergraduate classes began.

★ ★ ★

The classroom was one of the Meadow Brook estate chicken houses, a building behind what is now Chancellor D. B. Varner's residence. North and South Foundation Halls, the University's first buildings, were under construction.

Mrs. Wilson was one of 50 students in the first course — a registration total which necessitated dividing the class into two sections and perhaps was an omen of the acceptance continuing education courses on a university level would have in this community.

This fall, only seven years later, 1974 students are registered in nearly 100 courses.

Dean Lowell Eklund, who has directed continuing education at Oakland since its beginning, made the presentation of the certificate to Mrs. Wilson at a birthday luncheon attended by the Division's professional staff, each of whom had signed the certificate. The wording ran:

"Oakland University, Division of Continuing Education, presents this certificate of appreciation to Matilda R. Wilson in grateful acknowledgement of her charter status in the continuing education program; her inspirational interest in and support of its many activities; and her remarkable personification of its goals through her vigorous pursuit of personal excellence and her genuine involvement in community leadership."

Regrets Her Marriage

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X422: Sally B., aged 41, presents a shocking case.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she spoke tearfully, "I only wish I could have had the advice you gave Hal about removing the taboo about a next-door neighbor who had grown up like brother and sister.

DR. CRANE

"For when I was a girl, a wonderful boy lived next door.

"But we had gone to kindergarten and on through school in the same classroom.

"He asked me for dates during high school, but I never felt romantic about him at all.

"Indeed, I used him as a convenient escort but never took him seriously as a boy friend, for he was more like a brother.

"Then I went on to the university where I met another boy who simply thrilled me to death.

"I'd have palpitation of the heart just hearing his voice on the phone.

"If he'd just look at me across the dance floor, my knees would literally tremble and I'd feel as if I would collapse.

★ ★ ★

"When he finally asked me for a date, I could hardly speak because I had so many butterflies in my tummy.

"He rushed me off my feet and wanted to elope. But I did insist on his visiting our home one weekend.

"My parents didn't react favorably to him. And my older brother even told me I should break up our romance at once.

"But I couldn't see a single fault in him, for I was electrified by the mere touch of his hand. And his kiss would send me into orbit.

"Well, after a few more months of trying to persuade my parents to accept him, I ran off and eloped.

"It took years before I could get over the electrifying effect of my first infatuation.

DEMANDED MONEY

"Meanwhile, he demanded money, so I had to sell the bonds that my grandmother had left me in her will.

"He gambled and ran around with other women, but I still was his slave.

"He infected me with syphilis and it took a long time before I was cured.

"Meanwhile, I became sterile as a result of the venereal disease.

"We finally lived in little backrooms after my money ran out.

"Then he turned to liquor and often would beat me.

"When my mother was in an auto accident, I couldn't even go to see her at the hospital because my eyes were black and blue and my husband had knocked three of my front teeth out in one of his drunken rages.

"Finally, I woke up — 20 years too late, and got a divorce after he deserted me and had fled to California with a chorus girl.

"Now I am back home and the boy next door, who never married, has told me he has loved me ever since kindergarten.

"He wants to marry me, as he did when we graduated from high school.

"If I had only known then what you told Hal about shattering that taboo that develops between next door neighbors, I could have married this neighbor boy and had children and a happy home.

"So please warn your readers to pick with their heads and then generate love, as you advised Hal to do. Infatuation is not true love!"

Late January vows are planned by Sandra Jean Miller, daughter of the Clark J. Millers of West Seymour Lake Road, Brandon Township, and Jerry Allen Ballard, son of the Rev. and Mrs. R. Kyle Ballard of Ortonville. Her fiance attends Flint Junior College.

Monument at St. Louis Is Finished Today

AP Photofax

READY FOR LAST STONE—The 630-foot tall Gateway Arch at St. Louis, Mo., stands ready for insertion of the eight-foot wide keystone section today. The arch, looking over the Mississippi to Illinois, symbolizes the westward march of the nation.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The Gateway Arch, symbol of America's thrust across the great western wilderness a century ago, is being completed today with insertion of a 10-ton keystone 630 feet above the Mississippi River.

Some 10,000 persons are expected to witness the placing of the final section, expected to take eight hours.

★ ★ ★

The gleaming stainless steel arch, the nation's tallest monument and one of its most impressive, stands on the site where the westward movement began with Lewis and Clark's exploration and later with wagons moving west.

The arch and the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, of which it is a part, were 32 years in the making. The idea was born during the great depression in the mind of a St. Louis mayor named Bernard Dickmann.

REPLACE SLUMS

Dickmann wanted to replace riverfront slums with a permanent monument to the western pioneers.

The project served to turn St. Louis' face to the future. The whole downtown area is getting a face-lifting. Some $8 million in construction, including a new sports stadium, is under way in the shadow of the arch.

★ ★ ★

Near the foot of the arch remains the first Roman Catholic cathedral west of the Mississippi, and the 126-year-old courthouse where the Dred Scott slavery case, a preamble to the Civil War, was tried.

The Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, site of the arch, occupies 80 acres on the riverfront. One of the main features will be a museum of westward expansion beneath the arch. From the museum, visitors will ride in cable cars inside the legs of the arch to an enclosed observation platform at the keystone.

PROJECT COST

The whole project has cost $29 million — three-fourths of it in federal funds — so far and will cost another $8 million before its completion next year. Of this, $6 million is expected to be allocated by Congress and $2 million is expected to come from a St. Louis bond issue.

★ ★ ★

The arch itself is the only structure of its size and shape in the world. The architect, Eero Saarinen, who died in 1961, said it would withstand a tornado and should be there forever.

The arch is concrete and steel and iron with a stainless steel exterior.

There were about 3.5 million horses in the United States last year, according to an agricultural census.

The British king George I, who was born and reared in Hanover, Germany, could not understand a word of English.

Little Honor for 'His Honor'

TILAPAN, Mexico (UPI) — Mayor Agustin Orozco hid out in his home here today to escape the attentions of a couple of angry taxpayers. He said he may give up his job.

Orozco said the post of mayor in this small east Mexican town is no political plum. It pays only $4.80 a month—less than the federal minimum for salaried workers—and it isn't safe.

★ ★ ★

"Two townspeople beat me up this week," he said. "When I ordered the police to arrest the assailants, they told me to go to hell.

"Now I have to remain barricaded in my home for fear the two men might be back."

"THE PONTIAC PRESS IS EASY TO READ"

"Further, The Press is enjoyable and wonderfully newsy!

We get world news and details the way we like and full reports from the Associated Press, United Press International and Special writers, too.

State news 'hot off the wire' from the capitol and major centers . . . Again . . . The Pontiac Press gets news from the hamlets, too, and I know many of the towns and areas.

And local news!

The Press is tops.

Further, The Pontiac Press is a 'clean' newspaper—all ways. A nice 'airy' arrangement of type and pictures appeals to everyone."

"Compare The Pontiac Press with others —ANY other.

Quickly you see . . . The Pontiac Press IS easy to read.

I know where to find my favorite columns, stories, fashions, recipes and even the advertising for various types of stores and the want ads.

You will agree, The Pontiac Press is easy to read."

Trading Is Active

Mart Higher in Record Area

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market nudged further into record high ground early today despite weakness in American Telephone. Trading was active.

AT&T sank ⅝ to 66¼ on a delayed opening block of 32,000 shares following overnight news that the Federal Communications Commission would investigate its rates.

* * *

Western Union, the communications rival of AT&T, responded by jumping more than a point.

Profit-taking left many sections of the list scrambled.

GAINS SCORED

Gains of a point were scored by Zenith, Boeing, Air Reduction, IBM, Eastern Air Lines and United Airlines. Fairchild Camera added a couple of points.

U.S. Steel held firm while Bethlehem and General Motors lost fractions.

* * *

Standard Oil (New Jersey) was unchanged after 1¾ Wednesday on a report of lower earnings. Other leading oils did little.

OPENING BLOCKS

Opening blocks included:

Electric & Musical Industries, up ⅛ at 4¾ on 12,000 shares; and Douglas Aircraft, up ½ at 60 on 5,000.

Wednesday, the Associated Press Average of 60 stocks rose 1.7 to 354.3, a new high.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.
