Waterford School Millage Renewed by 3-1 Margin

Waterford Township School District voters yesterday passed a proposition by almost a 3-1 margin for renewal of the system's 15-mill taxing authority for operation.

The second largest voter turnout in the history of the district renewed the tax through 1983.

Some 6,088 voters cast ballots with 4,471 voting yes and 1,539 no. There were 78 void ballots.

The percentage was 73 yes, 25 no and 2 void.

Yesterday's election was a contrast from the Nov. 20 voting when a record 7,145 voters defeated a proposed 7½-mill property tax increase, 4,881 to 2,188.

CERTIFICATION TONIGHT

The school district's board of canvassers will meet tonight to certify yesterday's voting.

Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe and other school officials were elated over the comfortable margin of victory.

Said Tatroe:

"This was the second largest vote cast in the history of the Waterford School district has been preserved for the next several years.

★ ★ ★

"The whole community can be pleased with this result of the election. While it does not provide for a return of full educational programs for all children or replace the important reductions which have been made in maintenance services, it represents an important first step toward a return to quality educational program.

★ ★ ★

"We owe a debt of thanks to the many citizens who worked so hard to help communicate the issues in this election."

The district could have levied the 15 mills ($15 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) again this December, but needed the approval of voters to assess the tax next year and in the future.

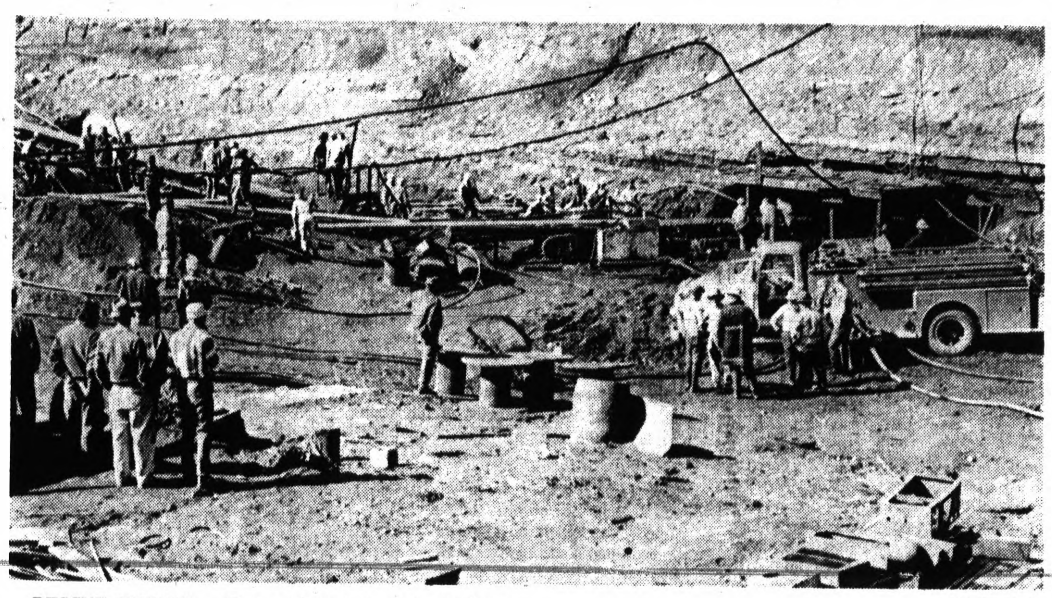
Found by the Walters in a neighbor's yard following a windstorm the young female squirrels eat nuts and a cereal-milk mixture fed by eyedropper. The Walters have built a wooden house for the squirrels and plan to free them.

Divers Rush to Aid Trapped Miners



AP Wirephoto

RESCUE EFFORT — Teams of rescuers run aluminum piping into a flooded mine shaft yesterday at Hominy Falls, W. Va., where 25 coal miners are trapped. The passageway flooded about noon yesterday and trapped some of the miners two miles from the mine's entrance. Rescue efforts are continuing today and skin divers are being sent from Philadelphia to aid the operation.

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — The call went out for skin divers today to aid in the rescue of 25 coal miners trapped inside a two-mile coal shaft by thousands of gallons of water.

The divers were due in from Philadelphia before noon to aid the miners trapped in the low, L-shaped mine shaft since noon yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Surface rescue units, which worked through a night of near freezing temperatures, had made telephone contact with 15 of the entombed men. The other 13 were at the low end of the flooded shaft and had not been heard from since water poured through a mine wall from an adjacent abandoned mine.

The officials hoped the three divers equipped with scuba, self-contained underwater breathing apparatus, could make their way to the miners with air tanks and possibly food.

Rescue directors scored a breakthrough when they lashed plastic tubes containing water, sandwiches and hot coffee to the mine conveyor belt to the 15 trapped nearest the entrance.

The packages went in at 4:44 a.m. and 13 minutes later, the radiotelephone crackled with the word, "We got 'em."

"Those are real happy boys down there," said Southern Mines General Manager Tim Salvati. "They know if we can get food down to them, we'll probably get them out. Their morale is good."

H. E. Sundstrom, president of the Cherry River Coal Co., and now rescue supervisor, said efforts were made during the night to bore an air hole from near the top of the mountain, through 180 feet of earth and rock, to the spot where the men were trapped.

He said this would take about five hours. Another effort was being made to bore through to the men from the rear but Sundstrom said this would take two days to go through 800 feet of mountain.

★ ★ ★

One and a half hours after the first food packages were sent in, blankets and a large oxygen cylinder followed. The items were lashed to the conveyor belt in the same manner as the food packages.

PAUF President, Officers Picked at Annual Meeting

Frederick J. Poole was elected president of the Pontiac Area United Fund at yesterday's annual board meeting. Poole was chairman of last year's PAUF campaign.

★ ★ ★

Other elected officers include Milo Cross, chairman of the board of Pontiac State Bank, vice president; and John W. Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press, secretary-treasurer.

FREDERICK J. POOLE

Seven men were elected to one-year terms on the executive committee. They are Poole, Cross, Fitzgerald, Glen Griffin of Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Bruce Annett of Annett Realtors, Martin Caserio, GM plant city commitee chairman and GMC Truck and Coach division manager, and William Hartman of Hartman, Howlett, Beier & McConnell.

Five new trustees were appointed to the PAUF board. They are D. B. Eames of Eames and Brown Plumbing, James Howlett of Hartman, Howlett, Beier & McConnell, Poole, William D. Thomas of Thomas Furniture, and Mrs. Betty McConner of the UAW Social Security office.

Poole of F. J. Poole Co. has served as campaign chairman, an advance gifts solicitor, former commercial division chairman, and vice president of the PAUF planning committee.

He also has served on the boards of the Michigan Children's Aid Society, Michigan Society for Mental Health, Clinton Valley Council Boy Scouts of America, YMCA, and the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic.

Annett was president for the last three years.

Reuther Elected President of UAW by Acclamation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Nominated with opposition, Walter P. Reuther today was elected by acclamation to his 12th consecutive two-year term as president of the United Auto Workers.

The presidency of the union, which claims 1.6 million members, pays $29,500 a year.

The onetime threat of an opposition candidate to Reuther vanished and there were no announced candidates against the UAW's two vice presidents, Leonard Woodcock and Duane "Pat" Greathouse, or Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey.

The 60-year-old Reuther will be entitled to only the new term and one more as president unless the UAW changes a constitutional amendment adopted two years ago making retirement of officers mandatory at age 65.

Rebels who challenged the Reuther administration leadership were crushed yesterday.

The rebels pushed for election of officers by unionwide referendum, instead of by convention delegates.

They were overwhelmingly defeated by the approximately 3,000 delegates on hand for the union's weeklong convention here.

The Reuther administration supported continuance of election by delegates, chosen by secret ballot in local union voting.

Impure-Drug Study Due

DETROIT (UPI) — An international panel of microbiologists agreed here Monday Sweden's tough regulations against drug contamination were not likely to be adopted in the United States or Britain without further study.

The panel of American, British and Swiss investigators said more must be known about the problems involved.

Derby Winner Disqualified

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dancer's Image, winner of the Kentucky Derby, was drugged before the race, Churchill Downs said today.

★ ★ ★

He will be disqualified, placed last, and all winnings turned over to Calumet Farm, owner of the second-place horse, Forward Pass.

The track said a chemist for the state racing commission reported that an analysis of the urine sample taken from Dancer's Image "contained phenylbutacone and or a derivative thereof." Phenylbutacone is a pain killer and stimulant, the track said.

The track said a thorough investigation is being made of the incident, but declined to elaborate.

FAST FINISH

Dancer's Image, owned by Boston auto dealer Peter Fuller, came from last place Saturday to edge out Forward Pass in the 94th running of the Derby, Francie's Hat was third.

The track said that under Rule 14.06 of the Kentucky racing regulations, "When a sample indicates the presence of such medication, such horse shall not participate in the purse distribution." Under the rules of racing, the wagering on the race is not affected.

It is customary to take a urine sample from the winner after the Derby. A sample is also made of another horse chosen by lot. The second horse tested Saturday was Kentucky Sherry.

N. Korea Holds 'Agents'

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea claimed Tuesday to have captured a band of "U. S. agents" who had slipped across the demilitarized zone before dawn to commit "murder and subversion."

The North Korea Central News Agency said the band was armed with "various lethal weapons." It did not say how many men were captured. By U. S. agents, the Communists presumably meant South Koreans employed by the United States.

After 2-Year Bout With Cancer

Governor of Alabama Dies

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace, 41, whose compassion for the afflicted symbolized her brief career as a public official, died in her sleep today after a two-year battle against cancer.

Her husband, George, whom she succeeded as governor 16 months ago, and her four children were at her bedside in the executive mansion when the end came at 12:34 a.m.

Lt. Gov. Albert Brewer, 39-year-old Decatur, Ala., attorney, became governor the moment she died under Alabama's law of succession.

Mrs Wallace's body was taken to a funeral home in Montgomery less than an hour after her death. There were only a few persons on hand as the hearse moved down the curved drive of the governor's mansion.

Brewer left his home immediately to drive the 185 miles to Montgomery to be with the Wallace family.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Despite the recurring cancer which caused three operations in two years, there was no known evidence that Mrs. Wallace had been stricken with another malignancy since a small tumor was removed from her pelvic wall last Feb. 2.

But there were obvious debilitating aftereffects which tore away her resistance and ultimately left her too weak to fight back. Friends said she weighed only about 65 pounds.

The immediate cause of death was not made known in the official announcement from acting news secretary Ed Ewing. His voice quivering with emotion, Ewing said the governor "lost her gallant fight for life at 12:34 a.m. Tuesday, May 7. She died quietly in her sleep."

Mrs. Wallace died on the day thousands of Alabama voters were preparing to vote in a statewide Democratic primary election in which her husband was almost certain to win the presidential support of the regular Democratic party machinery in his state.

She took office in January 1967 with the promise that her husband would share in major decisions.

The four Wallace children — Mrs. James Parsons, 22; Peggy, 18; George Wallace Jr., 16, and Janie Lee Wallace, 7 — were at their mother's side when she died.

Showers Likely for Pontiac Area

Pontiac area residents may get a drenching tonight or tomorrow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts increasing cloudiness and warmer today with a chance of showers or thundershowers through tomorrow.

Temperatures will continue mild, the low dipping to 44 to 49 tonight. The high is expected to reach into the upper 60s.

Morning winds southeasterly at five to 10 miles per hour will become southeast to south late this afternoon and increase to 12 to 20 miles tonight.

Mostly cloudy and cooler is the outlook for Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Showers or thundershowers may be expected throughout the state today and tomorrow.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 10, tonight 30 and tomorrow 60.

★ ★ ★

A chilly 37 was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury climbed to 60 by 2 p.m.

AEC Will Honor Area GM Exec

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission today announced selection of two American nuclear technologists to receive the AEC's citation for outstanding contributions to the nation's atomic energy program.

Those named are:

Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, 191 Marblehead, Bloomfield Hills, who was the initial director of AEC's Division of Reactor Development, and presently is chairman of the commission's General Advisory Committee. He is also vice president of General Motors Corp.'s research laboratories.

Murray Joslin, Elmwood Park, Ill., retired vice president of the Commonwealth Edison Co., Chicago. The AEC said Joslin "was largely responsible for the successful construction and operation of the Dresden nuclear power station, the world's first privately financed nuclear power plant."

★ ★ ★

The commission credited Dr. Hafstad with having "brought private industry into the reactor field in 1951."

The awards, consisting of a citation and a symbolic medallion, will be presented at a ceremony at the AEC's Argonne National Laboratory near Chicago on July 10.

U.S. Cannot Run Out on S. Viets—Harriman

NEW YORK (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, who leaves for Paris this week to negotiate with the North Vietnamese, said last night the United States cannot run out on the South Vietnamese.

"The United States now has a commitment on which it must make good," President Johnson's 77-year-old special envoy told the second annual Franklin D. Roosevelt Birthday Memorial Award Dinner. "In its simplest form it is to permit the people of South Vietnam to decide their own future without outside interference."

The Americans and the North Vietnamese appeared to hold their preliminary peace talks in the Majestic Hotel in Paris, once a luxury hotel which has also been occupied by Hitler's Gastapo and UNESCO, the U.N. education, scientific and cultural organization.

Some U.S. officials were reported fearful that French university students who have been demonstratng and rioting for the past week over educational conditions would take to the streets on behalf of the Vietnamese Communists if the negotiations are held inside Paris.

★ ★ ★

"No one can foresee clearly the road ahead," Harriman told the dinner audience in New York." It is quite obvious, however, that patience will be required of the people of the United States as well as the negotiators.

'DIFFICULT POSTURE'

"This is a difficult posture for Americans at any time, and particularly during an election year. We must have determination and firmness to achieve our fundamental objective."

Earlier yesterday the former governor of New York and frequent presidential troubleshooter conferred with President Johnson at the White House.

Both the U.S. charge d'affaires in Paris, Woodruff Wallner, and North Vietnamese envoy Mai Van Bo inspected the musty old Majestic yesterday, and U.S. approval of the site was reported soon after.

Bo was reported waiting for Hanoi's approval.

U.S. officials were reported seeking assurances from the French that police would keep all demonstrators away from the Majestic during talks. Student demonstrations against university regulations, inadequate facilities and alleged police brutality have closed the Sorbonne and suburban Nanterre University, and yesterday more than 1,000 students battled police throughout the Latin Quarter. It was the most violent street fighting in recent memory.

The students hurled paving stones, asphalt blocks and chunks of metal at the police, who retaliated with volley after volley of tear gas and smoke grenades. The Red Cross said dozens of students and police were injured.

American Troops Cut Off Vietcong Attack on Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — American tanks and armored personnel carriers joined the new battle of Saigon today, cutting off a Vietcong attack from the southwest in the third day of hard fighting on the city's fringes.

U.S. troops had not been used inside Saigon since they helped smash the Vietcong's lunar new year offensive in February. In the latest assaults, which began Sunday, the Americans have been outside the capital searching the enemy units which might further threaten the city.

U.S. officers believed the enemy thrusts both around Saigon and in South Vietnam's northern sector were aimed at giving the North Vietnamese a bargaining edge when preliminary peace talks with the United States open in Paris this week.

In the north, officers reported one enemy force surrounded near Hue and others withdrawing from around Dong Ha after losing more than 1,000 men in six days of close-quarter fighting.

★ ★ ★

The battle in southest Saigon today began when an estimated 150 Vietcong trying to push into the city attacked a South Vietnamese outpost near the Kinh Doi Canal.

WHY THEY WERE LATE!!—This photo taken by long-range camera from The Press is proof of why many employes in Pontiac were late for work this morning. The tie-up began on the Grand Trunk Western crossing at West Huron at 7:50 a.m. and lasted until 8:59 a.m. Train officials said a broken connection between cars caused the delay. Traffic backed up for about one-half mile and then was shuttled onto side streets.

Disabled Train Jams Traffic in City 1 Hour

Traffic on Pontiac's west side was tied up for over an hour this morning by a breakdown of a Grand Trunk Western Railroad train.

★ ★ ★

The train was stalled starting at 7:50 a.m. and cars were not removed from the area until 8:59 a.m. Ed Hinton, trainmaster of the Pontiac depot, said the delay was caused by a "broken knuckle" — the connection between two cars.

He said the train was 144 cars long (about 1½ miles) and was bound for Battle Creek.

Traffic was badly snarled in the downtown area with cars backing up about one-half mile on West Huron where the street was blocked near Wide Track. Pontiac police rerouted vehicles onto sidestreets to help ease the jam.

★ ★ ★

Hinton said other engines had to be brought up to move the freight cars. He said the "broken knuckle" probably occurred as the large, northbound train braked in the downtown Pontiac area. He said there was a sharp grade in this area due to a change in elevation.

Commissioner Questions Land-Purchasing Policy

BIRMINGHAM—The city's long-standing policy of purchasing land along the Rouge River as flood plain and park area was questioned by a city commissioner during a lengthy discussion last night on the sale of excess property.

Commissioner William E. Roberts criticized the practice when it was learned that the sale of a balance of property purchased as a natural asset would not cover the initial cost of the acquisition.

Depending on how the property is divided, either into two building lots or one and half lots, the price of the strip needed by the city will have cost from $5,000 to $15,000.

The excess property, which the city had to buy to obtain the land they wanted, is located on the east side of Lakeside just south of Redding.

The entire parcel cost the city $41,500. Under one plan, the city believes it can derive about $36,500 for the balance, for a net cost to the city of $5,000, while under the second proposal, it would only realize a return of $25,0000, or a cost of $15,000 to the city for the portion adjacent to the river.

Roberts termed the latter cost to the city as "outrageous."

"Maybe we should completely abandon the project," said Roberts. "We should reassess our position."

He said that the city could be severely criticized for paying the high price for land and then selling off the excess without recouping its original cost.

"It could be costing more than what it's worth," said Roberts.

REPORT ASKED

Rather than immediately advertise for bids on the property, the commission directed the city administration to return with a report on how the property under the second proposal will be offered for sale.

Over a number of years, the city has acquired about 90 per cent of the land along the Rouge River from 14 Mile to 16 Mile roads.

In other business, the commission accepted the recommendation of City Planning Director William R. Brownfield to hold up the issuance of any building permits for the Ann Street Area until after a public hearing June 24 on the rezoning of the area.

★ ★ ★

Brownfield, in a letter to the commission, said that the planning board is nearing the conclusion of the Ann Street study, and that a complete set of recommendations should be available at the meeting next month.

MORATORIUM

Brownfield said that although new construction in the area has been at a minimum the past two years, the board believed that further construction should be curtailed until it has been decided what will be done with the area.

The moratorium on building permits involves the area bounded by Woodward, Lincoln, Purdy, Floyd and Frank streets.

The commission also directed the administration to continue negotiations with the State Highway Department to prohibit left turns at the Hunter-Forest crossover, coupled with the construction of a turnaround in the median just south of the Forest crossover.

City Manager Robert S. Kenning had recommended the immediate closing of the Forst crossover, and the construction of the new crossover.

'WOULD REMOVE HAZARD'

The closing he said would remove the major traffic hazard at the intersection.

The state, he said, has agreed to construct the closing and crossover on a 50-50 cost-sharing basis with the city, but should the closing be delayed there is no assurance when it will again be scheduled by the state nor the percentage of participation.

The commission turned down the recommendation at this time because the closing of the Forest crossover would eliminate a direct east-west route through the city.

Term Extension Voiding Studied

State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said it is too early to tell whether the state will appeal an Oakland County Circuit Court decision voiding a state law that extended the terms of incumbent township officers.

"We'll have to review the decision and decide where to go from there," Kelley said in Lansing yesterday.

Earlier in the day, Judge William J. Beer declared the 1967 law unconstitutional after it was challenged by three Waterford Township residents.

The law provides that township officials elected in 1966 would serve until Nov. 20, 1970, eighteen months longer than the term to which they were elected.

★ ★ ★

The measure would have eliminated a lame duck period affecting township officers, elected in November but who did not take office until the following April.

WATERFORD CHALLENGE

The law was contested in a suit filed against Waterford Township Clerk Arthur J. Salley after he had refused to accept the nominating petitions of three persons eying township posts.

The complainants in the suit were James F. Schell, Patrick K. Daly and Dorothy W. Olsen, Democratic hopefuls for the offices of supervisor, clerk and treasurer.

Salley rejected their petitions on the basis that there was to be no election, primary or general, for township offices this year because of the new state law.

The prospective candidates charged that they had been denied their right to run for public office and that the law denied the right of voters to fill the offices with whom they wanted.

In his ruling Beer gave the township 30 days to decide if it will appeal. If it doesn't, Salley will have to accept the nominating petitions and place the names of the candidates on the ballot.

Douglas Booth, attorney for the township, said it will be up to the township board to decide if the case will be appealed, but that the decision probably won't be made until Judge Beer's order is studied.

News-Romney Ruling Is Near

DETROIT (AP)—Attorneys for the state and The Detroit News huddled today in the chambers of a federal judge before a scheduled hearing on whether to permanently bar Gov. George Romney and a State Senate committee from interferring in the city's 174-day-old newspaper shutdown.

An hour after the hearing was to begin before U.S. Dist. Judge Damon Keith, lawyers for the News and the state attorney general were still meeting behind closed doors with Judge Keith.

The hearing was to determine whether to make permanent a federal injunction, obtained last week by Peter B. Clark, publisher of the News, against further intervention in the labor dispute by Romney and the committee.

Late yesterday, the Senate special subcommittee to investigate the strike voted unanimously to withdraw the subpoena it issued April 29 commanding the appearance of Clark.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Robert Huber, R-Birmingham, committee chairman, said the action was taken on the advice of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

DISSOLVED SUBPOENA

Huber and other members of his committee had threatened to charge Clark with contempt of the Senate for his failure to appear before them.

Keith last Wednesday dissolved the subpoena issued to Clark. A day later, a seven-judge district court panel upheld the decision, saying Clark could not be compelled to appear.

The News and its publsiher contended the purpose of the subpoena was "to carry out a plan to force a settlement of the Detroit newspaper strike in violation of the collective bargaining rights of the plaintiffs."

Tempers of some of the senators were boiling last week when the legal fight was at its height.

A federal process server attempted to deliver to members of the special committee copies of the federal order declaring the subpoena void.

The process server was ejected from the subcommittee room and escorted out of the State Capitol by Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Kenneth Templin.

★ ★ ★

The Senate committee gave no explanation in its resolution for the decision to withdraw the subpoena against Clark. Spokesmen for the attorney general's office also refused to discuss the reason behind the move.

U.S. Investigates Medicare Billings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government is running an extensive check on the claims doctors have made on the number of persons treated under Medicare, it was disclosed today.

★ ★ ★

"There have been a number of allegations" about the accuracy of bills submitted to the government under the program, Welfare Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen told a closed session of a House Appropriations Subcommittee in testimony released today.

★ ★ ★

"We have enough to be very much concerned about it," Cohen said.

"We are now making a very intensive survey of this. Where we have these kinds of allegations — I don't want to say that where a man has submitted these bills they are improper — we feel we ought to look into it very carefully.

Senator 'to Expose Plan for D.C. Riot'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan says he'll expose plans by parties as yet unnamed to turn the Poor People's Campaign in Washington into a riot.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of a Senate investigations subcommittee, said he'll reveal what the panel uncovered about discussions by persons he said plan to move in during the planned nonviolent demonstration and "engage in rioting and battling."

His comments in the Senate came as Congress was considering Monday 26 bills aimed at limiting use of federal property by demonstrators for camp-ins.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is organizing caravans of poor people heading for Washington from Southern towns and cities across the nation.

Lifer From Pontiac Is Freed by Judge

HOWELL (AP) — A 58-year-old Michigan man, who has spent the past 33 years in state prison on a life sentence in conection with the shooting death of his boss in a dispute over a woman, was ordered freed by a judge Monday.

Clarence Frechette, originally from Pontiac, was released by Livingston County Circuit Court Judge Michael Carland on a recommendation by the county prosecutor, Charles B. Gatesman.

★ ★ ★

Gatesman said there were no witnesses available for a new trial for Frechette, which had been ordered by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Police Link Car to City Holdup

Pontiac police said today they have located what is believed to be the getaway car used in the April 30 robbery of $50,000 from two GMTC Credit Union employes.

A light green 1965 Pontiac reported stolen from Detroit the morning of the robbery was found in the General Motors Truck and Coach Division parking lot at West South Boulevard and Howland late yesterday.

Police said the car, which bears stolen license plates, answers the description of the getaway car given by a man who said he witnessed the robbery.

Tests are being run on the vehicle, including dusting for fingerprints, investigators said.

The witness, contacted by police two days after the robbery, told of seeing a lone gunman take the money, contained in a canvas bag, from the employes.

'ENTERED WAITING CAR'

He said the bandit then entered a waiting car, driven by an apparent accomplice.

★ ★ ★

The gunman had waited at a nearby bus stop until the employes returned with the money—intended for the cashing of payroll checks—from the Community National Bank.

★ ★ ★

The robbery took place in a parking lot separating the bank and the credit union, located at 939 Woodward.

New Alabama Governor Pro-Wallace

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The moment Gov. Lurleen Wallace died, a Decatur attorney, Albert Brewer, 39, was projected into the chief executive's office.

As lieutenant governor he succeeded her today under Alabama's laws of succession.

Brewer, who was elected to the legislature at the age of 26 and subsequently became the youngest speaker of the House in Alabama history, had planned to run for governor in 1970, hopefully with the blessing of the Wallace administration.

He served three terms in the House, without a defeat, and in 1966 made a successful statewide race for lieutenant governor.

HE CAN RUN IN '70

Brewer still can—and probably will—run for governor two years from now, and if elected, serve a full four-year term. The constitutional one-term limitation doesn't apply to a governor who inherits the office through the death of his predecessor.

Brewer held the office for part of a day last summer until Mrs. Wallace returned from Houston, Tex., where she had undergone surgery for cancer.

In his four years as House speaker during former Gov. George Wallace's administration and as lieutenant governor and president of the Senate in Mrs. Wallace's term, Brewer went down the line for the Wallace program.

In 1964, he joined nine other democrats on Wallace's slate of unpledged candidates for presidential elector, sworn to withhold Alabama's electoral votes from President Johnson.

GOP CARRIED ALABAMA

Wallace was a candidate for president then; after he withdrew, his elector ticket was all but forgotten and the Republicans rather than the Democrats carried Alabama in the presidential election.

The former governor is running for president again this year, and Brewer again is a candidate for elector, pledged to support Wallace.

Born Oct. 26, 1928 at Bethel Springs, Tenn., the new governor moved to Decatur when he was 7. His father, Dan Brewer, was then and still is a representative of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Brewer got his law degree from the University of Alabama, returned to Decatur to practice law in 1952, and two years later was elected to the House. He was re-elected without opposition in 1958 and 1962 and four years later was elected lieutenant governor.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church of Decatur, the board of directors of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association, and a trustee of the University of South Alabama.

His wife is the former Martha Farmer of Chattanooga, Tenn. They have two daughters, Rebecca Ann, 14, and Beverly Alison, 11.

★ ★ ★

As a legislator and as presiding officer of the House and Senate, Brewer has shown himself to be an articulate speaker and a man of quick wit.

During a Senate filibuster, one member killed time by reading from a rather dull book. Brewer quipped, "The chair hopes the senator can manage to lose the book before he comes to the microphone to speak again."

The one thing no other life insurance company can offer your family is a Mass Mutual agent.

What can he offer you?

Himself. He's unusually good at his job. Four times as many Mass Mutual agents as the industry average hold the Chartered Life Underwriter designation, granted after up to five years of intensive study. Six times as many belong to the Million Dollar Round Table, recognition of superior performance. Four times as many have won the industry's National Quality Award for continuing service to policyholders.

And his company. Mass Mutual agents are backed by an industry leader, one of the 10 largest life insurance companies. Nobody offers sounder yet more progressive coverage. Nobody consistently earns a higher yield on investments, which means lower cost to you.

We could go on. But we think you get the point. If your family is better than average — in your present living standard or in your goals and aspirations — you deserve a better-than-average insurance program. Designed by a Mass Mutual agent.

At Lakeville Cemetery

Addison Gets Tough on Vandals

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — An ordinance which township officials hope will help control a wave of vandalism at Lakeville Cemetery was enacted last night by the township board.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance provides for 90 days in jail or a fine of $100 or both for trespassing and vandalism at the cemetery.

"It prohibits drinking in the cemetery and driving over graves," said Mrs. Erich Kurschat, clerk.

Some 30 people were present in the audience to tell about 15 cars, most of them from southern Oakland County, present in the cemetery last Friday night. A long list of acts of vandalism, allegedly perpetrated by youth from outside the area, was recited.

Officials also decided to put up a six-foot fence around the front of the cemetery.

MEETING AWAITED

The recently formed planning commission is still awaiting word from county planners for a meeting to outline duties, according to Mrs. Kurschat.

The five members of the previous zoning board and four new appointees have been named to the new group.

Richard Young remains as chairman and Dewain Sommers as secretary. Dr. Robert Small, a new appointee, was named vice-chairman.

The planning commission does not become effective until the middle of June, according to township rules.

CLEARING THEM OUT — Sam Gottsman, operator of a car dismantling lot at Taylor and Giddings Roads, Pontiac Township, obeys a court order to clear five acres of his property. The cars are being removed at the rate of 50 a week, according to the order. Gottsman still retains a one-acre parcel which he is licensed to operate as a dismantling lot.

Lapeer County May Get State Reappraisal in '69

LAPEER — Indications are that Lapeer County may be in line for a complete reassessment next year by the State Tax Commission, City Manager Arnold Whitney told the City Commission last night.

Whitney said he had talked with members of the County Board of Equalization and had been informed of the possible reassessment.

However, despite the possibility of a new assessment, the City Commission generally expressed agreement with Commissioner George Farrand, who urged that the city continue its appeal to the state commission.

The appeal, filed last week by City Supervisor Leon En Earl, charges that the city's valuation is not as high as established by the Lapeer County Board of Supervisors.

County Clerk Lyle Stewart said yesterday that the appeal had been dispatched to the state commission.

Whitney had recommended that the city ask for a state judgment on the supervisors' ruling, results of which were made public two weeks ago.

Under that ruling, the supervisors boosted Lapeer's estimate of its own assessed valuation from $15,062,000 to $15,936,000, a hike of about $874,000.

The state requires that each governmental unit assess its valuation at 50 per cent of market value. If the individual unit's assessor does not do so, it is the responsibility of the board of supervisors to raise or lower the assessment to 50 per cent.

The board ruled that only four units were off more than 1 per cent in their assessments: Lapeer, 47.3; Imlay Township, 47.7; North Branch Township, 48.5; and Burnside Township, 48.7.

TOTAL DIFFERENCE

"There was a total of $1.2 million difference between the valuation as assessed throughout the county and the county equalized valuation as determined by the supervisors," Whitney commented in explaining the city's position.

"Eight hundred thousand of that difference was applied to the city of Lapeer," the city manager said.

"I thought that was too much," he added wryly, "especially when there was more growth outside the city than in, on a countywide basis."

Whitney also challenged the board's assertion that most of the townships had assessed near 50 per cent: "I don't think the townships assess as accurately as we do."

Troy Commission Changes Somerset Rezoning Stand

By TOM GRAY

TROY—The City Commission last night began proceedings to change the controversial Somerset North rezoning to single-family.

In so doing, the commission reversed a stand taken Jan. 8, when it approved the rezoning in a split 4-3 vote.

Commissioner Peter Taucher made a motion to schedule a public hearing May 27 on the question, and to refer it to the planning commission for a recommendation by May 23.

Commissioner Glen H. Houghten objected, pointing out that the planning commission would have insufficient time to make a careful study of the proposal.

"I have conferred with the city attorney," Taucher responded, "and he says this must be referred to the planning commission. I'm fully aware that they won't have time to study the matter completely, but I feel that the air must be cleared on this subject."

EFFORT FOLLOWS REPORTS

On the motion, the vote was 6-1, with Houghten opposed.

The renewal of efforts to have the original zoning restored (a similar motion failed at a previous meeting) followed reports last week that the Biltmore Construction Co. is abandoning an Oakland County Circuit Court case pending against the city.

Biltmore won the Jan. 8 rezoning of land north of Big Beaver and east of Coolidge for a proposed expansion of its Somerset apartment complex, located south of Big Beaver.

City residents, however, began a petition drive opposing the zone change. The drive stalled when Biltmore received a court injunction barring action on the petitions, which would have forced the city to repeal the rezoning or submit the question to a public vote.

CHECK FOR HEALTH HAZARD

In other business, the commission directed City Manager Paul York to request the county sanitarian to examine property on Sylvanwood near the Jim Robbins Co.'s Sylvan Glen Golf Course for a possible health hazard.

The Robbins Co. began excavation in the area in 1965. Subsequently, drainage problems were reported by the city engineering department.

After submitting plans to the company for a proper drainage system, the commission passed an ordinance (April 1967) requiring a permit for grading of private property. When the company failed to apply for a permit, a complaint was filed in Municipal Court.

The company was found guilty and fined $100. An appeal to Circuit Court followed. The company then agreed to meet conditions of the city, a permit was issued, and the court charges dropped.

However, city crews have since been expelled three times from the property, DPW Director Richard Graham reported, while attempting to "enforce conditions of the permit."

Commissioner Ben S. Jones suggested that the sanitarian and city engineer inspect the property, adding, "If a health hazard is being caused there, then our attorney will have something to work with."

PTA Initiating Rec Program

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Ealy Elementary School PTA is initiating a summer recreation program to be held at the school from June 24 through Aug. 16.

Registration opens tomorrow. Offered are four two-week sessions at $8 each per child.

The sessions: June 24 to July 5, July 8 to July 19, July 22 to August 2, and August 5 to Aug. 16.

Activities include a variety of sports and games, arts and crafts and a story hour. Movies are planned for bad weather.

Director of the program is Thomas Thompson, a sixth grade teacher at Ealy, who will supervise the sports activities.

OTHER ACTIVITIES

Mrs. Grace Ciotti, a fourth grade teacher at Green Elementary, will handle the other activities.

The nonprofit program was organized by Mrs. Jack Curran, a PTA member; John Evans, PTA incoming president and a patent attorney for General Motors; and Marty Jones, PTA member and a Ford Motor Co. executive. ecutive.

Ealy will be the first elementary in the West Bloomfield School District to hold such a program.

Township Clerk Is Named in W. Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Robert B. DuPree of 7230 Stonebrook was appointed the township's new clerk by the board last night.

A resident of the township nearly six years, she was a candidate for clerk in the 1966 election. Mrs. DuPree said she lost by 114 votes.

The new clerk will take over May 16 from Mrs. Doris O. Leach, whose resignation was accepted by the board in early April.

Mrs. Leach gave personal reasons for her resignation.

The position offers a $10,000 annual salary. The clerk's term tentatively expires in November 1970.

Mrs. DuPree, 37, has been employed as a Kelly Girl the past year.

Several years before that, she was a secretary for Chrysler in the corporate accounting and corporate systems and procedures departments.

She had previously worked as a secretary for Westinghouse in Detroit and Clemson University in South Carolina, her native state.

She graduated from Cecils Business College, South Carolina.

Mrs. DuPree lives with her husband, a Chrysler Corp. executive, and her 10-year-old son.

Imlay Twp. Man Charged in Killing

IMLAY CITY — Elias F. Barron, 25, of Imlay Township was charged yesterday with the murder of Sylvia Ann Langowski, whose body was found in a vacant house near this village a month ago.

Barron was arraigned before Judge Eugene Canhom. He stood mute and requested a court-appointed attorney. He was remanded to St. Clair County Jail without bond.

Barron, a migrant worker living at 25 Graham, was arrested yesterday at his home by officers of the Lapeer State Police post.

Police said Barron, under the alias Lopez, was being sought in a double murder in Wisconsin.

The body of Mrs. Langowski, 28, of St. Clair was found April 4 in a vacant house at 2439 Graham.

A pathologist's examination revealed that she had been dead from two to four months.

Utica Woman to Head Rochester Cooperative Nursery for 1968-69

ROCHESTER — Mrs. Ted Kuhn, 52070 Honeysuckle, Utica, has been elected president of the Rochester Cooperative Nursery for the 1968-69 school year.

She will be assisted by Mrs. Roger Schroeder of Rochester, vice president; Mrs. James Novak of Rochester, secretary; Mrs. Edward Allinger of Utica, treasurer; and Mrs. Thomas Stringer of Pontiac, teacher-church liaison.

The nursery, which meets at St. Luke's Methodist Church, Avon Township, offers a class for 3-year-old children and two classes for 4-year-old children.

Anyone interested in information on enrolling a child for next fall's classes is asked to contact Mrs. Noel Braun, 3261 Vera, Lake Orion.

Two Area School Districts Reduce Millage Requests

Reduced millage requests will face the voters of Rochester and Avondale Community School Districts on June 10.

The Rochester Board of Education last night voted to seek two separate operating millage issues — one a 7-mill renewal and the other a 1.5-mill increase in place of the 4.5-mill increase rejected by voters last week.

The ballot will also contain a request to borrow $1.6 million as opposed to the $2 million requested last week.

tI eliminates $400,000 for an addition to the projected new Rochester Adams Senior High School, but will still provide, if successful, a new elementary school, a new maintenance and storage building, permit the acquiring of additional sites and build an addition to Baldwin School.

★ ★ ★

Schools Supt. Douglas Lund said the reduction in millage will cause some reductions in programs, but he said no specific list was as yet available.

The board last night also accepted bids for construction of the Rochester Adams High School, but no bids will be awarded until next Monday night. Lund said bids were about $300,000 over the amount estimated, but that interest in invested funds should make up the difference.

The district had budgeted $4 million for the school.

In the Avondale school district last night the board voted to go along with a citizens advisory committee recommendation that 7.7 operating mills be sought on the June 10 ballot.

★ ★ ★

Some 75 people were present at the relatively quiet meeting.

VOTE PROMOTION

It was decided that all promotion of the millage vote would be left in the hands of the 25-man citizens' group.

Voters here last February turned down by a 5-to-1 tally a request for 12.7 additional mills. The recommendation of citizens includes provisions for certain cutbacks in services now offered by the schools.

Hearing Thursday on Bid for Bridge to Dawson Island

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A bridge to Dawson Island in White Lake is the subject of a public hearing Thursday at 9 p.m. in the Township Hall.

The State Conservation Department is conducting the hearing. The department has been asked to approve construction of the bridge.

★ ★ ★

Making the request is Mrs. Estelle Dawson, island owner. The Township Board voted against the bridge lase November.

The board's opinion was requested as part of Mrs. Dawson's request to the Conservation Department for permission to build the bridge.

★ ★ ★

At that November meeting, about 45 residents appeared to oppose the bridge plans. The nine who spoke charged the bridge would devaluate their lakeside property and mar the lake's beauty.

Tentative Cuts in Spending Set

IMLAY CITY — The board of education has adopted a list of spending cuts which will be put into effect if voters of this school district fail to approve a millage increase June 10.

★ ★ ★

Residents are scheduled to vote on a proposed 5.5-mill levy for one year.

The cuts, according to Supt. of Schools Bradley Henson, would mean a total saving of $113,000.

The district's deficit is estimated in the neighborhood of $80,000 at the end of this year, Henson added.

★ ★ ★

The cutbacks would be spread throughout the system, with most students affected to some extent.

Among principal changes would be the initiation of half-day sessions for third, fifth and seventh grades; elimination of track and baseball and reduction of football and basketball to varsity league commitments; elimination of journalism; elimination of field trips; and curtailments in physical education and band and vocal music.

Leonard Village Treasurer Killed in Train Mishap

LEONARD — Mrs. Frank (Mary M.) Vore, 69, serving her third term as Leonard village treasurer, was killed yesterday when she walked into the path of a Grand Trunk train at the Elmwood crossing in Leonard.

Oakland Highway Toll in '68

IRC Haven for World's Refugees

Anniversaries are usually happy events. For one organization, however, the beginning of its 35th year means only that the human stupidity, human cruelty and human misery that called it into being in the first place are as abundant as they ever were.

It was in April, 1933, when ADOLF HITLER seized dictatorial power in Germany, that the International Rescue Committee was formed. Among the founders were JOHN DEWEY and ALBERT EINSTEIN, and it represents America's major nonsectarian, privately supported agency in this field. Its mission, as its name implied, was to rescue the persecuted. In the beginning, these were the leading democratic figures in German politics, business, labor, the professions and culture.

After World War II, as the Iron Curtain descended, the IRC responded to appeals from tens of thousands of refugees from Eastern Europe. Close to 200,000 fled from Hungary after the 1956 revolt. Until the Wall was built in 1961, 150,000 refugees a year escaped to West Berlin.

They came also from TRUJILLO'S Dominican Republic, DUVALIER'S Haiti, from the Congo, from Angola, from Laos, from Tibet.

The exodus of refugees from CASTRO'S Cuba started in 1960, is reaching the 400,000-mark and continues at the rate of 50,000 a year. According to IRC chairman LEO CHERNE, a million Cubans are waiting in line.

★ ★ ★

Today, the total world refugee population has passed 16 million, an increase of five million over 1966 and almost double the 1964 figure. Every second person in Hong Kong is a refugee from Red China, or the child of refugees. In South Vietnam, the January offensive of the Vietcong added 500,000 new refugees to two million already in camps.

The 20th century will be known by many labels: The Century of the airplane, of atomic power, of space travel.

But also the century of tyranny, of war and of the refugee.

★ ★ ★

Will there be a need for an organization like the International Rescue Committee 35 years from now? The answer to that will be the real measure of humankind's progress, or of its failure, in the next generation.

A Get Well Wish for Statesman Ike

Now resting in the hospital from a mild heart attack, former President EISENHOWER has the best wishes of all Americans for a speedy recovery.

A dedicated citizen, Ike has devoted his entire life to serving his countrymen. He performed notable service first in the military, then as president and in recent years as a senior statesman.

★ ★ ★

We need the advice and counseling of men like Ike and we're extremely hopeful he will be out of the hospital real soon and back on the golf course for many more years.

Give Columbia 'A' in Quelling Student Rebellion

The forcible removal by police of some 500 kicking, screaming "students" from the embattled halls of Columbia University in New York City may be one of the most salutary events to occur on the collegiate scene in years.

The university authorities must now complete their painful duty by meting out proper and adequate punishment to all those who participated in the seizure of five buildings on the campus and assorted acts of hooliganism.

After that, when the university gets back to the business of dispensing knowledge, the malcontents may find it advisable realistically to assess this and a score of similar outbreaks on campuses around the Nation.

Certainly no group, whether a minority or a majority, no matter how young and impassioned by idealism, can be granted the indulgence of breaking or observing the academic rules as they see fit, of trammeling the rights of teachers and other students, of bringing the operation of a school to a dead halt until they get what they want.

★ ★ ★

Columbia has given notice to the Now Generation that is is not going to be turned into the classic South American model of university by placing itself at the capricious mercy of an explosive, militant minority of budding anarchists.

It is to be hoped that the lesson will not have to be taught over again at any more campuses.

Bobby Is Voicing New Left Slogans

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The humiliation of Columbia University by hoodlums — some of whom were students and some, like Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown, lawless revolutionists — is a very good example of a concept called "participatory democracy."

MOLEY

That is a slogan apparently coined by the New Left. It involves a concept which is explicit in some and implicit in all of Sen. Robert Kennedy's more serious — I cannot say more thoughtful — speeches.

That fancy phrase was the key to the Students for a Democratic Society's Port Huron manifesto in 1962. As is characteristic of the statements of so many half-baked intellectuals, that manifesto was full of 10-dollar words and phrases.

The objective is "decentralization" or "decision making of basic social consequence carried on by public groupings" — those groups being concerned with education, housing, job production and even "police brutality."

★ ★ ★

The point is to demand real power by private groups instead of by legally constituted public servants.

NEW LEFT

Ideas of the New Left get into Kennedy speeches, according to commentators Rowland Evans and Robert Novak, through Pete Hamil, "a radical young journalist and novelist," and Jack Newfield, a leading spirit in the New Left.

And so Kennedy said at Weber State College in Ogden, Utah, "We must return local control to the people themselves. In the last analysis it should be in the cities and towns and villages where the decisions are made, not in Washington."

At Brigham Young University he called for a "new kind of program which places money directly into communities, instead of flowing through an inefficient, overstructured, often tyrannical bureaucracy."

★ ★ ★

In Los Angeles Kennedy told Negroes, "I want the control over your destinies to be decided by the people in Watts, not by those of us who are in Washington."

IN ACTION

So this is "participatory democracy." And we have seen it in action at Columbia University. Three or four hundred students, black and white, entered and occupied the vital spots where the university's government operates much as revolutions in Europe have successfully overthrown governments.

And the negotiations which followed were marked by the endless delaying procedure which is marking the effort of the United States to talk terms with Hanoi. For a long time mediation by faculty committees failed because of the demands of the rebels.

The news of these events which reached me, hundreds of miles from Morningside Heights, was food for some sad reflections. I held the title of professor of public law there for 25 years.

★ ★ ★

The very department of which I was a member was founded by a great student of the Constitution, John W. Burgess. He taught that our constitutional system was at once a pattern of law and a guarantee of liberty. And that there could be no liberty without law.

But "participatory democracy" rejects law and destroys liberty. And it isn't even democracy when a few hundred students deny the right of 10,000 who are trying to get an education.

An Apple For The Teacher

David Lawrence Asks:

Is Reverse Segregation Legal?

WASHINGTON — Is "racial segregation" a violation of the Constitution only when it is demanded by whites, but exempt from any interference when Negroes themselves favor segregation?

LAWRENCE

This is one of the questions now raised as a group of Negro students, after a 36-hour occupation of the business office of Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill., obtained what they term "complete victory." For the university authorities have decided that the Negroes will be entitled to "segregated housing" if they want it.

Up to now, it has been assumed that neither whites nor Negroes are permitted to impose a system of segregated housing.

Federal as well as state authorities have intervened in many cases where members of the Negro race have been excluded from the sale or rental of private property owned by whites as well as from admission to universities and colleges which previously had barred Negro applicants.

Segregated housing theoretically could be maintained by Northwestern University, because it is a private institution.

★ ★ ★

If, however, federal or state funds are made available to any private college or university, the governing authorities here have hitherto reserved the right to withhold such financial assistance until certain "guidelines" imposed by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare barring segregation have been fulfilled.

MAY BE SURPRISE

It may come as a surprise to many people that Negro students insisted upon segregated housing and that a university in the North has decided to give it to those students who desire it. This is what has frequently been called "freedom of choice" not only in housing but in enrollment of students in public schools.

In the case of Northwestern University the authorities have gone even further and are providing Negro students with their own lounge and meeting room.

It has been decided also to establish an advisory council composed solely of Negro members, so as to make sure that the demands of the Negro students are carried out.

Approximately 124 Negroes out of 6,400 students are enrolled at Northwestern University, and virtually all of them participated in the demonstration which closed down the university offices.

So far there has been no comment from the Department of Justice here on the Northwestern University decision to put into effect "segretated housing."

It may be that the officials are searching the records to see whether there are any ways by which such a system can be maintained.

It is not likely, however, that there would be any delay if the students at Northwestern University had insisted on segregated housing for whites only. In that case, federal officials would have been able to invoke precedents of the last few years in which grants of federal funds to a private institution have been ordered to be withheld unless desegregation, instead of segregation, was carried out.

Bob Considine Says:

Modern Student's View Presented at California

BERKELEY, Calif.—Sights and sounds of a great campus in lively ferment:

To begin somewhere, it is probably the most beautiful campus in the world. It climbs a superb green hill, dotted with bewilderingly varied but somehow complementary styles of architecture ranging from ancient Grecian to early Sam Bronston.

CONSIDINE

It is all held in place by 200 varieties of trees, including the first avocado tree planted in California (circa 1879).

Squirrels abound in the eucalyptus grove. Nuts abound on the steps of the main student center. In its centennial year the University of California has 10 Nobel laureates, more than any other university, many bearded and ragged young men, many fetching, long-haired, leggy nymphs, and the sober-sided scholar-types who are in the vast majority of the 27,000 students.

"It's not right to feel a little smug about what happened at Columbia," a pipe-type said at the Faculty Club. "But when we had our rebellion in 1964 the consensus back east in the Ivy League was 'Well, what else could you expect of those California crackpots? They're Johnny-come-latelies.'

STUDENTS' VIEWS

"But none of our kids so much as broke a window, much less held a dean as a hostage or vandalized the president's office."

Now let us move on to a small, convent-plain cell — Room D in the Faculty Club to meet Student President Dick Beahrs, history senior from Palo Alto; Ken Stahl, history senior from New York; Fred Reiner, English senior from the Midwest, and Diane Moreland, political science senior from Santa Clara.

We asked them to outline the thinking of today's student.

"The difference between us is that when you were about our age you went to college because that was the only way you could get a decent job in business," one of the men said.

"We feel we have won our freedom from the business community. We want to serve some useful purpose in life; you wanted to work at IBM. We want to go into the Peace Corps, politics, teaching, government, Vista."

Racial 'Hedge' High in Suburbs

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The nation's suburbs, where fear of Negroes appears to be rising and many citizens are arming themselves, ironically hold the key to any massive breakthrough toward betterment of disadvantaged Negroes' prospects.

BIOSSAT

A high - placed Democrat told this reporter not too long ago that the really huge programs required to provide millions of Negroes with jobs, schools and housing probably will never materialize unless the now dominant numbers of U.S. suburbanites are willing to pay for them in taxes.

This source suggested that the Democratic party, to be consistent, had of necessity to espouse such programs for the disadvantaged. But if suburbanites are not willing to bear the added load, he said, they might turn to the Republicans.

It was pointed out that any wide suburban support for a big breakthrough would likely cause a considerable wrench for millions of people.

These are "lower to middle" middle-class whites, new or nearly new to the suburbs, whose own families have emerged from the very conditions of poverty in central cities which Negroes face today.

★ ★ ★

Having made it out of the morass, first with the aid of New Deal programs and then with a boost from long-continuing postwar prosperity, they are being asked to turn back and share a good part of their new-found gains with the poor who took their place in the cities.

There is not much early sign that many suburbanites are presently in a mood to undertake these fiscal and other burdens.

Word from Congress is that the recent spate of urban Negro riots has enlarged and toughened lawmakers' resistance to heavy federal spending on the racial front.

★ ★ ★

Poll-taker Louis Harris says that samplings show that sympathy for the Negro cause is most pronounced among the most affluent whites. The somewhat - less - well - off white Americans who have been pushing suburban growth to the busting point are often ranged against Negroes.

Even among the affluent, no clear evidence exists of readiness to translate sympathy for the Negroes' plight into acceptance of higher taxes.

Yet, while the outbreaks after Dr. Martin Luther King's assassination seem only to have stiffened attitudes and heightened fears among many white suburbanites and sent some scurrying for guns, some civil rights specialists see glimmers of new hope.

One such is the able Clifford Alexander, head of the President's Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Alexander was impressed by recent accounts of hundreds of New York City area suburbanites coming to Harlem to help clean and restore cluttered, deteriorating blocks of slums.

★ ★ ★

All aside from the obvious interest involved, Alexander seized efforts of this kind as one good way of breaking down barriers between slum dwellers and suburban residents, of shedding mutual fears and hostilities as they get to know each other at close hand.

'We Need Some Action to Clean Up Area Road'

It is again clean-up and fix-up time. I live on Oxbow Lake Road between Cooley Lake and Cedar Island Lake roads. For the past year I have tried to get White Lake Township Supervisor James Reid to have our road cleaned up. It is an eyesore.

★ ★ ★

I understand this road is supposed to be a scenic route but rubbish, beer cans, furniture, etc. are along the side of the road and somebody is dumping rubbish on an empty field near my home. I have asked Mr. Reid to contact the owner and have him put up a gate, but to no avail.

Comments on Condition of Roads in County

The Oakland County Road Commission grades the shoulders of M-59, leaving thousands of stones in the center of the road. The only way the stones find their way back to the shoulders is to be propelled by cars and trucks. It is funny that most of the stones probably never break a windshield or headlight, but my insurance company is losing its sense of humor.

The Oakland County Road Commission has a fine administration building, lots of personnel, excellent garages, vast amounts of equipment, a huge budget and some of the worst roads for miles and miles.

A number of small industries on Haggerty keep German Shepherds for watchdogs. One new industry has kept its dog outside for weeks without provision of shelter. 'Junk Yard Ordinance Should Be Enforced'

I wish to compliment David Graves in his efforts with a group of dedicated citizens to clean up Pontiac Lake Recreation Area to prevent it from being a "junk yard." About two years ago the voters of Highland Township voted in a junk yard ordinance and the township's supervisor ignored enforcing it. The citizens at the annual Township meeting voted and instructed him to take the junk yard ordinance violation to court. Hundreds of junk cars are piled around many gas stations. Parts of these cars are being sold and the rest go up in flames. You can be sure this would not happen if the ordinance were enforced.

Reader Discusses Causes of Depressions

A lady from Drayton Plains blames the Republican party for the depression. The truth is we would have had that depression regardless of who was in power. The country was much like it is today. We were spending money like it was counterfeit. We thought, like today, we never had it so good. Soon the stock market broke and a fine Christian gentleman named Hoover got all the blame. Out of that depression was born Social Security without which, with inflation being created by more and more taxes and unions' excessive demands, we would have a depression that would make the last one seem like a breeze.

Congressman to Air Navy's Dirty Linen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A free-swinging congressman set out today to hang some dirty Navy linen on a public laundry line.

Rep. Joseph Resnick, D-N.Y., launched his unofficial, one-man open hearings into the so-called Arnheiter affair.

The episode formally began March 31, 1966, when a naval officer boarded the USS Vance in waters off Vietnam and informed Lt. Cmdr. Marcus Arnheiter that he no longer was skipper of the destroyer.

Arnheiter, the leadoff witness, had the chance today to pubicly state why he believes his removal was the result of a conspiracy by junior officers.

The Navy, according to a spokesman, relieved the commander because superiors had become aware of what they considered "irregular policies and practices" on his part."

Charges included allegations that Arnheiter endangered his ship by sailing it into unauthorized waters, and that he forced his crew to attend quasi-religious services.

Although its investigations and hearings were closed, the Navy maintains that Arnheiter got his day in court and that service rules and regulations were scrupulously observed.

State High Court Supports Housing Development Unit

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Supreme Court Monday upheld as constitutional the State Housing Development Authority, and ruled that city urban renewal plans are eligible targets of referendum petitions.

The high court also reversed itself on a major workmen's compensation decision, confessing it had made several errors in an earlier decision which rejected a long-standing interpretation of the law.

In three opinions totaling 39 pages, the court unanimously held the two-year-old rousing authority constitutional, but a majority held that two-thirds legislative approval will be needed to vote any state funds to the agency.

Gov. George Romney 15 months ago requested the court to rule on whether the authority —still not in operation—violated the state constitution's ban on letting a corporation borrow on the credit of the state.

CREATED IN '66

The Legislature created the authority in 1966 and authorized it to issue bonds and to provide loans to qualified nonprofit housing corporations and consumer housing cooperatives to stimulate construction of homes for low - and middle - income families.

Justice Thomas Breenan, writing for the supreme court majority, noted the state is not liable for bonds issued by the authority, and so the agency's bonding power does not violate the constitution.

But, Breenan added, legislative action giving the authority money to establish two revolving funds would be a special-purpose act, and under the constitution would require two - thirds majorities in the Legislature.

In another case, seven justices ruled the Kalamazoo city commission acted improperly when it approved an urban renewal project by resolution, rather than by an ordinance which, under the charter, would be subject to referendum.

SUPPORTS PETITIONERS

Several Kalamazoo citizens petitioned for a popular vote on the project, but were refused by the council. Circuit Judge Wade Van Valkenburg ruled in favor of the petitioners, and the Supreme Court agreed.

Justice Theodore Souris wrote, with six justices concurring, that commission action on urban renewal approvals "must be accomplished by ordinance procedures, for it is legislative in its essential features." The high court nullified the Kalamazoo commission's project approval.

The court also confessed it was wrong when it unanimously ruled that a person receiving benefits for loss of part of his body in an on-the-job accident is entitled to a flat two-thirds of his weekly pay, rather than to benefits determined by a schedule in the workmen's compensation act.

Justice Michael O'Hara said the court, in its first ruling, placed too much emphasis on "a grammatical analytical approach," while raising a new issue for the first time on appeal and ignoring the long - time interpretation of the act held by the Workmen's Compensation Appeal Board.

O'Hara wrote, with Justices Souris and Thomas Kavanagh dissenting, that the earlier decision had "drastically changed" administration of the act— a privilege which should have been left to the Legislature.

* * *

"There is no vested right in the continuation of judicial error," O'Hara wrote. "If we have been wrong in our interpretation, we are not only free to, but obligated to, correct that error."

Ignored When You Talk?

Your talk betrays you!

A noted publisher in Chicago reports a simple technique of everyday conversation which can pay you real dividends in social and business advancement and works like magic to give you poise, self-confidence and greater popularity.

According to this publisher, many people do not realize how much they could influence others simply by what they say and how they say it. In business, at social functions, or even in casual conversations, there are ways to make a good impression every time you talk.

To acquaint the readers of this paper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing skill in every day conversation, the publishers have printed full details of their interesting self-training method in a new booklet, "Adventures in Conversation" — mailed free to anyone who requests it. State Tax Take Tops $100 Million

LANSING (AP) — The state collected more than $100.2 million in individual income taxes during the first three months of the year, State Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock reports.

This amount, less one-quarter of the estimated cost of property tax, municipal income tax and renter credit authorized in the Income Tax Act, is being certified for computation of the sum to be shared with local units of government.

★ ★ ★

The estimated one-quarter of these credits is $30.5 million. This leaves $69.7 million, against which the 17 per cent to be returned to the local units of government is applied.

The statute provides that 17 per cent of the net collections after deductions of credits is to be sent to the 83 county treasurers on a per capita basis.

MUNICIPALITIES SHARE

The county treasurer retains one-half for the county's general fund. The remaining one-half is distributed to cities, townships and villages within the county, also on a per capita basis.

The legislative theory in adopting this method of sharing the income tax collections was that it would help hold down local property taxes.

As an example of the amount to be expected, Lock estimated Ingham County would receive about $320,000 from the first quarterly distribution. One-half will go to the county and one-half to the cities, townships and villages. Lansing will receive $87,000 for the quarter and more than $350,000 for the full year, Lock said.

An easy way for the cities, townships and villages to figure how much money they will receive for the first quarter, Lock said, is to estimate that it will be 75 cents for each person counted during the 1960 federal census.

FORMULA LISTED

Multiplying this amount by four will give the approximate total that can be expected for the full year. Counties also can compute how much they will receive by multiplying their 1960 population and same 75 cent figure, Lock added.

Red Cross Vows Effort in Solving Racial Crisis

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The American National Red Cross, known for its disaster aid, is taking a serious look at helping in the nation's racial crisis.

E. Roland Harriman, national chairman, told the 43rd annual convention Monday the board of governors resolved not only to aid victims of riots but to work toward curing the social ills which precede them.

Ramone S. Eaton, Red Cross national vice president, said racial injustice is "maybe the greatest single challenge that our nation has ever faced."

He said it confronts the organization with "one of the greatest opportunities . . . we ever had in the history of the Red Cross."

SOUL-SEARCHING

Eaton said such a crusade will call for soul-searching and imagination by local Red Cross chapters. "It is no longer possible to reach out and hand somebody something in the area of assistance," he said.

★ ★ ★

George J. Vavoulis, former mayor of St. Paul, Minn., emphasized that work that must be done by the Red Cross to bring Negroes and other minority races into its local chapters.

Asserting that he favored such a program, Vavoulis called out to the nearly 800 assembled delegates, "Will the black faces please stand up?"

Three Negro delegates rose.

"Three blacks in a sea of faces," Vavoulis said. "You and I have not been reaching out and inviting the people in the core city areas."

★ ★ ★

The Reg. Mr. William Grimes of Moline, Ill., one of the three Negro delegates, said, "The Red Cross too long has been exclusively in the upper middle class area. We must erase this image, and we must not plan to do it next year. It ought to begin the moment we go home from this conference."

Dinner Delayed?

"FLAVOR SAVER" KEEPS FOOD TABLE-READY FOR HOURS

You'll still be able to smile after your husband calls in late because you know that the dinner you prepared will stay deliciously ready to serve, done to perfection and still piping hot. That's just one of the wonderful things that happen when you have a new gas range. You see, the Cook-and-Hold Oven cooks food to your taste, then automatically turns the oven down and, without further cooking, holds your complete meal serving-warm. Rare meat stays rare, your whole dinner perfect—even for latecomers.

What other magical things can a 1968 Gas range do? Everything from "sensing" the doneness of your roast and shutting off the oven to precision "thinking" that makes every pan automatic!

VP, Bobby Face First Primary Tests Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey face their first 1968 primary tests today in two of five elections around the nation.

The primaries are in Indiana, Ohio, Alabama, Florida and the District of Columbia.

Kennedy's major test is in the Indiana primary against Democratic presidential rival Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy—and Gov. Roger D. Branigin who was expected to get some Humphrey supporters' votes.

In the District of Columbia primary, Humphrey and Kennedy slates are competing for Washington's 23 delegate nominating votes at the Democratic National Convention.

NEW DIPLOMACY

In other political developments:

Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, campaigning in Nebraska for the May 14 primary there, called for a new diplomacy to deal with any future Communist aggression.

★ ★ ★

There should be diplomacy, he said in Omaha, "so that when the freedom of friendly nations is threatened by aggression, we help them fight the war and don't fight the war for them."

In final Indiana campaign bids, Kennedy traveled through northwest industrial sections and McCarthy through Indianapolis. Branigin called estimated large numbers of undecided voters "a good sign" for his candidacy.

'BECOMING MATURE'

Humphrey accentuated the positive at a luncheon in New York City. "I do not believe America is sick," he said. "It is leaving the age of innocence and coming into its maturity."

Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden, 90 — elected Arizona's first U.S. Congressman in 1912—announced he will retire early next year. He has been in Congress nearly 57 years, longer than any other man.

Nixon was unchallenged in Indiana and no write-in votes were permitted. His supporters have fought a Democratic drive for GOP crossover votes to Branigin, which would hurt Nixon's Indiana showing.

In the Kennedy - Humphrey District of Columbia confrontation, there were two slates for Humphrey—one inherited after President Johnson announced he would not run. And there was a Kennedy slate.

In the district's GOP contest, a party delegate slate split between supporters of Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was challenged by a slate weighted in favor of California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who said he is only a favorite-son candidate.

★ ★ ★

The Alabama primary was held in a pall of sorrow following the death earlier in the day of Gov. Lurleen Wallace, who had fought cancer for two years.

Her husband, former Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace, now a third party presidential candidate, was expected to win official endorsement of the regular Democratic party in his state.

Here's Lineup in Today's Primary Votes

By The Associated Press

Here is a summary of top political developments.

The Indiana primary: Democratic presidential rivals Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy in three-way contest with favorite-son Gov. Roger D. Branigin. Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon unopposed.

★ ★ ★

The District of Columbia primary: Kennedy and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey convention delegate slates compete. Two GOP delegate slates include supporters of Nixon, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and California Gov. Ronald Reagan, a favorite-son.

The Ohio primary: Interest centers on Democratic race between incumbent Sen. Frank J. Lausche and former Congressman John J. Gilligan, and on convention delegate selection.

EXPECTED TO WIN

The Alabama Democratic primary: Former Gov. George C. Wallace, third-party presidential candidate, expected to win Alabama's 32 Democratic convention delegates.

★ ★ ★

The Florida primary: Candidates for Senate seat being vacated by Democrat George A. Smathers are former Gov. Leroy Collins and Atty. Gen. Earl Faircloth, Democrats; and U.S. Rep. Edward Gurney and former St. Petersburg Mayor Herman Goldner, Republicans.

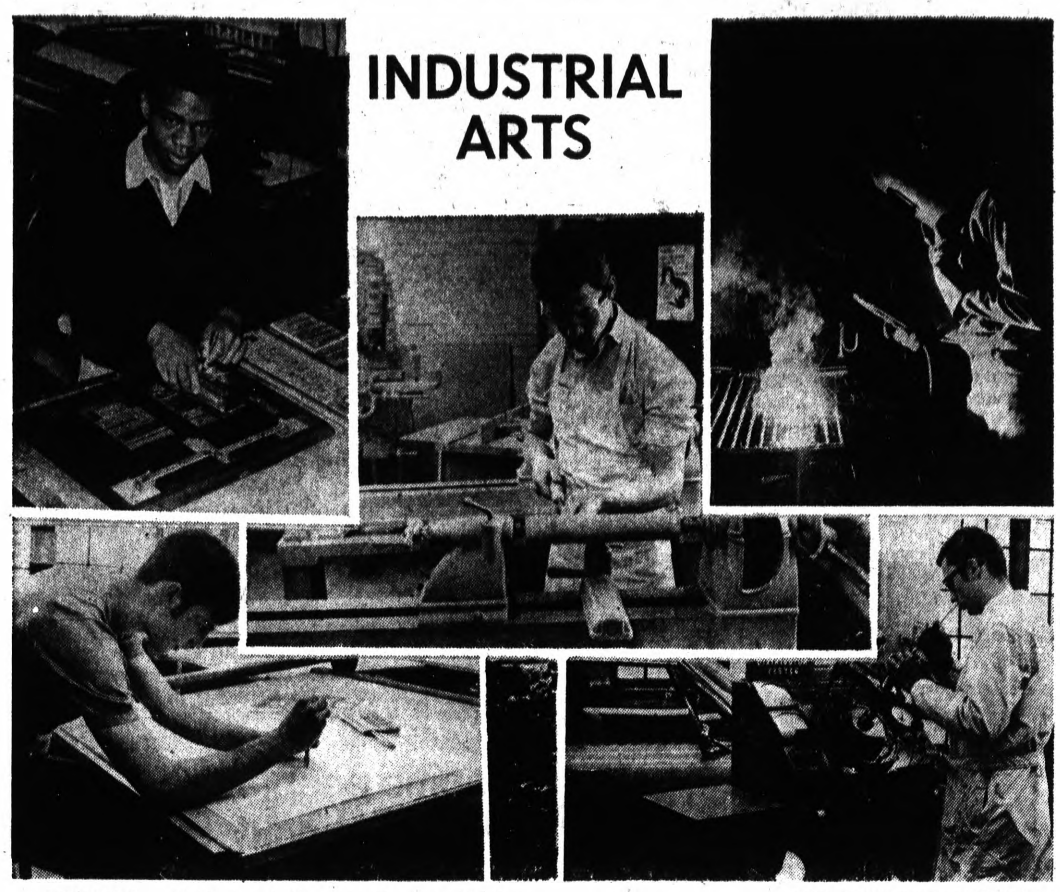
INDUSTRIAL ARTS



Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderworp

MONTAGE — Pointing out the many facets of Pontiac Central High School's industrial arts program are Michael Johnson (upper left), printing; Lenwood Compton (upper right), welding; Mark Veatch (center), pattern making; Perry Slocum (lower left), die designing; and Gerald Beutler, automotive. Ray Lowry is the head of the school's industrial arts department.

PCH Tops in Industrial Arts

By KATHY McCLURE

Pontiac Central High School students have come out on top in industrial arts competitions for years. This tradition is not a matter of chance — it comes from unified curricula, qualified teachers and hard-working students.

★ ★ ★

Ray Lowry, head of the department, says, "the purpose of industrial education is to help prepare a boy for a saleable skill."

Major fields are automotives, drafting, electricity, metal fabrication and printing.

Central offers courses from automotives I through VI. Automotives I and II is recommended for sophomores and is a prerequisite for III, IV, V, and VI, which constitute a day trade program.

★ ★ ★

As instructor Bob Nutter said, "In this course a student is confronted with all kinds of actual automotive mechanical malfunctions. By analyzing and repairing troubles, he will be prepared to assume a job in an automobile repair shop or go on to a higher mechanics school."

DRAFTING EXPLAINED

Drafting is taught by Ray Lowry and Robert Ruch. As Ruch said, "the purpose of the drafting program is to develop draftsmen for industry. Emphasis is placed on tool and die design because this is where the jobs are."

Next year a basic drafting course will be added for sophomores with no junior high drafting experience.

Electronics I through IV is a sequence of course designed to give students a thorough understanding of the modern concepts of electricity and electronics.

Day Trade electronics is offered for students considering a career in this field. Edgar Tedsen is the instructor.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Gardner teaches welding and metal fabrication. Gardner said the metal shop is used six class hours each schoolday, during night school and by adults on Saturday mornings.

Ed Massy, wood shop teacher, said, "We deal with information regarding the importance of wood and wood products in our economy and with the methods used by modern industry in putting wood to work for us.

"Students make exercises and projects which will help them gain experience in the problems inherent in working with wood.

★ ★ ★

"They will also be given experience in working with basic machines used to form wood objects. Emphasis is placed on the part wood plays in industry."

This summer, an offset printing press will be installed for use in the fall. Instructor Dick Larpenter said, "due to the cooperation and efforts of the administration, we're rapidly expanding into the important areas of the graphic arts."

Next year's updated program will offer more industry oriented courses to lessen the transition gap from school to industry.

At Pontiac Central the industrial arts program is not a catchall for misfits — it is a place where a student can acquire, through hard work, a sense of pride and a feeling of accomplishment.

Rochester High Couples to Play 'Dating Game'

By KARIN HEADLEE

After watching the "Dating Game" on television, members of Rochester High School Student Council decided to sponsor their own game.

Four "dating games" will be played Thursday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Tickets may be purchased in the cafeteria.

The four winning couples will either attend a Tiger's baseball game, listen to the Supreme's at the Fisher Theatre, watch "Gone With The Wind" at the Madison or attend a performance at Cinerama.

Members of the Conservation Club are packing their bags and checking the weather as they prepare for a canoe trip this weekend.

★ ★ ★

Students will leave at noon Friday for Prescott, south of Alpena. From Prescott the members will canoe 45 miles down the Rifle River, stopping to set up camp at places of interest.

★ ★ ★

Food for the trip is furnished and cooked by students. According to several canoeists, "planning the menu is half the fun."

Chaperones will be Mr. and Mrs. Henry DeGrendel, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ewald, Mr. and Mrs. Al Lawrence and Dr. and Mrs. Max Mallon.

This year's yearbook has a tentative distribution date of May 29. With individualism as its theme, the Falcon boasts 208 pages, a navy-blue cover with gold psychedelic lettering and contains 11 introductory pages, six division pages and a concluding page.

★ ★ ★

Suzie Oxford, art student, designed the symbol for individualism found throughout the book.

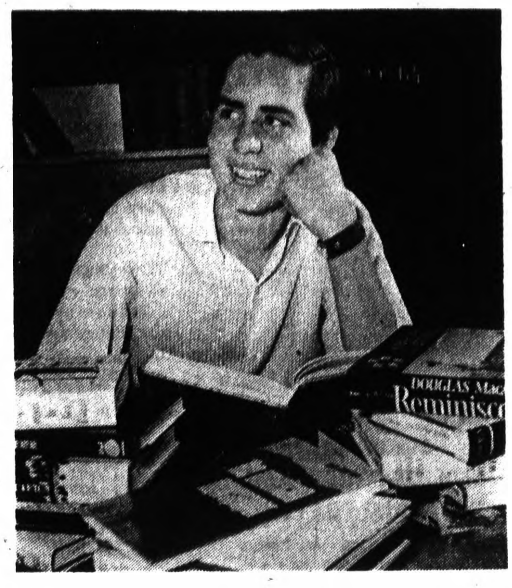
FIRST COME, FIRST SERVE

Faculty sponsor Wilhemina Ribbink decided that students without subscriptions may buy a yearbook on a first come, first serve basis.

The drama classes are preparing for their May Variety Show which will be presented Thursday during the first hour and Friday during the third period. Each show features new performers and diferent acts.

The American Field Service committee of the Student Council has overseen the formation of an International Club which will help raise money to sponsor foreign exchange students.

Roger Francke, Rochester's exchange student from Ceylon, Jon Nugent, Pat Voll, Debbie Burns and Don Blodgett helped form this organization.



FINALS ARE COMING — Brazilian exchange student Joao (John) Baptista Pereira de Almeida Neto tries his hand at cramming for American finals at Lapeer High School. John is staying with the Warren Gerlach family of Lapeer. He will return to Sao Paulo, Brazil, in June.

Young Brazilian Enjoying Stay at Lapeer High School

By SHARON KIEHLER

Joao (John) Baptista Pereira de Almeida Neto thinks blue jeans are the greatest, loves to play pool (a game unknown in Brazil) and misses soccer.

He came to Lapeer High School from Sao Paulo, Brazil, a city of six million that has "south of the border" weather year-round.

When John arrived in Lapeer he saw snow for the first time. "It was beautiful."

While living in the United States John is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Gerlach of 331 North, Lapeer and their two sons, Bradley, 17 and Roger, 14.

In Brazil, Joao has a brother, Eduardo, 19, and a sister, Maria Dulce, 15.

He enjoys the people, country, school and customs of Lapeer and feels that American people are much more polite and formal with each other than are Brazilians.

The diet and eating habits of Brazilians are somewhat the same as ours, John reports. They have a light breakfast of coffee and toast around 9 a.m., a luncheon meal at 1 p.m., and a huge meal at 8 p.m. in the evening.

Their meals are more on the order of a smorgasbord with two kinds of meat, fish, rice, potatoes, salad, baked beans, coffee and dessert.

★ ★ ★

John attends an all-boy school in Sao Paulo and doesn't particularly care for America's coeducational system.

No school functions are held during the week in Sao Paulo as time is devoted purely to academic study. Only on Saturdays do students pursue extracurricular activities such as Student Council meetings, and the school newspaper.

★ ★

John returns home the end of June and he feels that his stay in America has been rewarding.

Kettering Picks Council Officers

By DONNA FURLONG

Student Council elections were held today at Waterford Kettering High.

Seeking the position of president for (1968-69) were Chris Barger, Andrew Golden and Greg Windeler. The main responsibilities are to preside over meetings and appoint committees.

Nancy Hogarth and Bob James were vying for vice president. Topping the list of duties for this office is being in charge of all activities.

Running unopposed for recording-secretary was Missy McGrath. Taking notes at council and board meetings and attending the Wayne-Oakland Council go along with this position.

★ ★ ★

Corresponding secretary candidates were Kathy Graller, Linda McClune and Stephanie Stewart. Duties include taking care of all council correspondence.

2ND GIRL UNOPPOSED

Also unopposed was Marcia Steehler for treasurer. The treasurer is in charge of all council finances.

The first Office Education Association of Michigan Leadership Conference was attended recently by the W-K branch of OEA.

Students participating in the program from W-K were Linda Castle, who gave the invocation, and Shelly Aderholdt, who led the assembly in the Pledge of Allegiance.

★ ★ ★

Participating in impromptu skits were Margaret Muse, Barb Slocki and Betty Statton.

Spring Fair Set at St. Lawrence

By JAN VEN DEN BROUCK

The Spring Thing One will be tomorrow at St. Lawrance High. All classes are sponsoring events to make it an enjoyable day for everyone.

★ ★ ★

Freshmen are in charge of games, including a balloon and dart game, a makeup booth, and a quarter on a bowling pin game.

Sophomores will sell pop and chips and juniors will sponsor a dance and sell pizza.

Seniors are sponsoring contests including a three-legged race, a wheelborrow race and a match box race.

★ ★ ★

Student Council sponsors the event to defray expenses of sending next year's council officers to camp.

Winner of last week's road rally was Jerry Boehmer, first to reach the starting place after stopping at all the check points. Dennis Bachman was his navigator.

Mary Pohutsly drove the car that placed second, with Gail Duncan as the navigator.

Curtain on 'Kismet' Goes Up Friday at NFH; Four Performances Slated

By ANNE KILLEEN

Irresistible Bagdad beckons crowds to ride a magic carpet into the Arabian spell of "Kismet" as the curtain goes up on North Farmington High School's 1968 spring musical Friday evening at 8. Additional performances will be Saturday and May 17 and 18. Tickets are on sale at the door.

Lyrical sounds of a mosqued city will accompany the tale of young lovers, and an enticing Jezebel that beguiles not only a husband but a romantic poet.

Captivating Marsinah (Mary Kay Burr) is the fresh-found love of an Arabian Caliph (Dave Douglas). Lalume (Pam Dawber) dances into the affections of the Wazir (Steve Sauer) and the Poet (Bruce Little).

Lawrence Haver's 43-piece orchestra will provide the tempo for the excitment on stage. Haver, together with James Hunt, vocal director, and Mrs. Eddy Ellegood, choreographer, has directed the "Kismet" production.

The cast of nearly 150 students, chosen from the advanced choir, mixed choir and girls' glee club, reflects an Arabian city reeling with merchants, townspeople, beggars, slave girls, harem dancers, princes, princesses and a council for the chief of police. Student choral director, Janet Greene, prepared vocal arrangements in early March.

DANCE WORKSHOPS

Dancers participated in workshop practices before the final casting cut. Student choreographers Linda Pulgini, Jan Erkert and Linda Oldershaw assisted the adviser in selecting 18 students at NFH to portray warriors, harem girls, princesses and three couples to be dancing at the bazaars.

Backstage is in a constant clatter while hammers, nails, silks, threads, paints and grease sticks put the final touches on redesigning North Farmington's gymnasium and cast members into the days of mystic Arabia.

Stage manager Dan Haller, supervises as well as aids in construction of the sets with his crew, forever clad in "paintin' duds."

Dianne Meier, costume chairman, is putting finishing stitches into the silks and chiffons with the aid of 20 "seamstress-girls."

Other chairmen include Martha Eddy, properties; Tammy Rairigh, makeup; Mary Kay Burr, Tony Garcia and Jan Wier, tickets; Anne Killeen, printed programs and newspaper publicity; and Bob Bayer, community promotion.

Faculty assistance was provided by Mrs. Morton Alger, art department; Adele Howden and Karen Manecke, home economics; June Sulewski, speech; and Richard Scheer, industrial arts.

Pontiac Press Photo by Edward R. Noble

IT'S FATE—The Poet (Bruce Little) isn't about to fight his fate as long as it includes the attention of the Arabian dancer Lalume (Pam Dawber). Bruce and Pam will join fellow students in the North Farmington High School's production of "Kismet." The musical will be presented Friday and Saturday and May 17 and 18 beginning at 8 p.m. in the school's gymnasium.

Glee Clubs Plan Spring Concerts

By TERESA FIASCHETTI

The Sacred Heart and Brother Rice glee clubs will present public spring concerts next Tuesday in Ahrens Auditorium at the Academy of the Sacred Heart and May 18, at Brother Rice High School, both at 8 p.m.

Dr. Armin Grams, head of the Human Development Program at the Merrill-Palmer Institute, recently gave a talk on "Understanding Human Sexuality" at Sacred Heart. The lecture was sponsored jointly by the alumnae and the Janet Stuart Association.

Parents to Meet

By JOHN CALVER

The Seaholm High School administration is holding a PTA meeting tonight for parents of incoming ninth graders.

The annual J-Hop, presented by juniors of the senior class is Saturday at 9 p.m.

For those boys too bashful to ask a girl to J-Hop, a committee of juniors has placed a box in the front lobby where boys may drop in their names and have the committee chose a perfect date for them.

Country Day

By SHARON BERRIDGE

Women in charge of the Flea Market at the Strawberry Festival, requested the mothers of Bloomfield Country Day girls to send white elephant items to school with their daughters.

★ ★ ★

The Strawberry Festival is held to raise money for the scholarship fund.

The girls assist by creating posters for the different booths, selling tickets, making items to sell and relieving mothers as booth hostesses.

Romeo

By LINDA JOHNSON

Recently the Romeo High School Concert Band participated in the State Music Festival at Loy Norrix High School in Kalamazoo.

A first division rating was received. Blue medals will be ordered for band members who participated.

Students recently presented a two-act musical "Check Your Worries."

Among the cast members were Wayne Malburg, Steve Kolman, Pat Tinknell, Don Ritter and Frank Gillette.

Brother Rice

By GARY MILLER

Students of Brother Rice High School are preparing for Friday's Field Day.

It features competitive clash between the freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors in a series of track and field events.

Also included in the competition is the judging of a song, cheer, dress and banner submitted by each class.

This year's Field Day promises to be more competitive than usual because of the first-place tie between the juniors and seniors in the float contest during homecoming weekend last fall.

★ ★ ★

Junior Dave Lawson is in charge of the annual clash.

Clarkston

By TRUDY BEALL

Plans are now under way for a door-to-door selling campaign to be held in salesmanship classes under the supervision of Roger Thompson, business teacher.

The group of 30 students will travel in the vicinity of Clarkston High School, selling a candy assortment.

The students will be graded on the amount of goods they sell, and it will aid in the school's co-op program.

Editors have been chosen for next year's year-book and newspaper staffs. They are Maud Elliot for the yearbook and Claudia Gordon for the newspaper.

Student Government will have an Exchange Day at Northville Thursday.

There will be a band concert tonight in the auditorium at 8.

Marian

By PAT POLMEAR

Marian High School's annual National Honor Society (NHS) inductions were held last Monday in the school gymnasium.

Ninety students were inducted into the society on one of three levels.

Five seniors became newly chartered members. Their names will be inscribed in the national NHS roster. Seniors are Bonnie Christie, Cathy Connors, Peggy Fox, Margaret Hetzel and Chris Schubert.

Juniors Pat Cline, Barb Glynn, Sue Marek and Barb Miller are new probationary members. After one year of probation, they will become chartered members.

★ ★ ★

Thirty sophomores also became probationary members.

Kingswood

By MARY STEWART

The Spring Religious Conference recently took a 'new shape as 40 Kingswood and Cranbrook students spent most of the weekend discussing "self-discovery."

★ ★ ★

The participants traveled to the "Holiday House" in Ortonville where Bob Lewis led the conference in a large group discussion.

★ ★ ★

As Lewis stated, "Self-discovery is difficult to define, but many found that they were being discovered rather than discovering themselves."

Mercy

By MARY ANN MADDEN

Our Lady of Mercy High School's 22nd annual senior banquet will be held at Vladimir's Restaurant, tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. The buffet supper is sponsored by the junior class.

Speakers will be Father H. R. LaBuda, school chaplain; senior class officers Lillian Roumayah, Polly Owen, Irene Patalan and Sue Leone and Student Council officers Marlene Sampson, Pat Cusick, Alice Hughes, and Nancy Orlandoni.

Kris Sornson, junior class president, will be toastmistress.

Editors for Mercy's 1968-69 yearbook have been announced. They are Jeanne Mathieu, editor in chief; Melinda Zaher, copy editor; Noreen Taylor and Karen Zazon, layout editors; and Chris Niedzwiecki, photography editor.

Long-deprived stomachs have suddenly developed insatiable appetites since Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School foods classes have been preparing meals.

Wednesday Gary Saulter and Jim McLaren invited related arts instructor, Mrs. Jo Levett, to a lobster lunch which included cookies made by Ted Evans, who is up and coming in the bakery field.

Dorothy Niemeyer, Randy Crandall and Sue Irving prepared a steak dinner on Thursday for Mrs. Levett.

Milford

By SALLIE QUEEN

Today is the big day for seniors at Milford High School as they begin their 13-hour bus ride to New York City for the class trip.

The boys' home economics class will furnish the box lunches to eat on the bus.

The seniors recently chose the chaperones who will accompany them to New York.

They are Eldon VanSpybrook, principal Wendell Harrison and Mrs. Doris Mitchell, class sponsors, James Lancaster, Brownelee Elliott, Grace Leppala, Diana McBride and Barbara Zeek.

Presents piled high make for an exciting party. Teen-age patients at Fairlawn Center, new children's unit at Pontiac State Hospital, anticipate the contents. Mrs. Margaret Francis, volunteer homemaking instructor and chairman of Monday's party, adds another package. The kitchen shower was given by the Foundation for Mentally Ill Children, Inc.

Volunteers Provide Plenty of TLC

By JANET ODELL
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

Your tax money and mine paid for the new Fairlawn Center at Pontiac State Hospital, the building designed for care and treatment of mentally ill children. Dedicated only a few weeks ago, it is now in use.

But it takes more than dollars to build a good facility. The physical plant is necessary and naturally first. But it also takes thought, skills, imagination, knowledge and heart.

The professionals furnish the first four. We, the people, must contribute the last.

It's groups like the Foundation for Mentally Ill Children, Inc. that give time and money to the children's program.

For the past 15 years, this organizati N, inaugurated by Dr. James M. McHugh, has raised funds for equipment, clothing, special projects, programs for the patients and scholarships for hospital staff training.

★ ★ ★

They have contributed thousands of hours of volunteer service as tutors, sponsors, trip chaperones, recreation workers, seamstresses — in fact, any way that the hospital personnel could use them.

The Foundation holds no regular meetings. Their organization consists of a working board, plus all the volunteers. They are chartered as a Michigan nonprofit corporation and affiliated with Michigan Society for Mental Health.

They always need more volunteers.

SUMMER SLUMP

With Fairlawn Center providing an expanded program, they are finding more areas in which to help.

Right now, they are looking toward summer when there is always a slump in volunteer activity. Mothers whose children are in school nine months of the year can't leave home on a regular basis during the summer months.

Teenage groups with sponsors can be of some help, especially in recreation work.

Adults are needed to help with gardening, tutoring (this goes on 12 months of the year), homemaking classes and clothing repair.

★ ★ ★

One woman is trying to keep up with the latter right now. If any seamstress can help, someone will bring her clothing to be mended and pick it up for return to the children.

Sponsors who can contribute a small sum of money each month are sought; this money goes for allowances for the children who have no family to help them; for field trips in the metropolitan Detroit area; and for those little extras.

Part of the treatment of mental illness is involvement of the outside world. Knowing that some person cares and is willing to give of his time makes a difference in recovery.

PATIENT CARE

The average time spent by young patients in the hospital has been cut from two years to about eight months. Fairlawn Center is currently caring for approximately 160 children, including those in day care.

Treating the mentally ill has come a long way from what it used to be. But the road is by no means perfectly smooth. Help from the general public is needed.

Mrs. Dale O. Miller Jr. of Birmingham is president of the Foundation. Anyone interested in volunteering may contact her or the social service department of PSH.

Shower of Gifts Equips Facilities at New Fairlawn Youth Center

Few brides have had a more complete shower than did the teenage girls of Fairlawn Center at Pontiac State Hospital on Monday.

They have a handsome new homemaking department in the recently opened facility. There's a complete kitchen, dining area and sewing room. Basic appliances are in, but that was all—until Monday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The Foundation for Mentally Ill Children, Inc. gave a kitchen shower that made some of the homemaker guests a bit envious.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to get all this new equipment," was heard again and again as four teen-age patients, Nancy, Judy, Tony and Gail, opened about three dozen gaily wrapped packages.

★ ★ ★

The Foundation itself presented a dozen place settings of china and the same number of place settings of stainless steel flatware.

Individual guests brought utensils, cooky sheets, baking equipment, serving dishes, towels, potholders, place mats, storage utensils, a cookbook and just about anything you can think of for a kitchen.

Cookies had been baked by one homemaking class to supplemement the cakes brought by the Foundation. The girls arranged part of the tea table under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Jones, OTR, head of the homemaking department, Activities of Daily Living (ADL).

HELPERS

Her capable assistants were Mrs. Marcia Whitney who teaches homemaking and Mrs. Margaret Francis, the volunteer from the Foundation who works two days a week in homemaking classes, and was the day's chairman.

All girls have a two-hour class once a week. Some may have additional classes, up to four or five.

Already, the girls have big plans for entertaining hospital personnel and volunteer groups like the Foundation.

After the excitement of Monday's party has died and all the new equipment has been washed and stowed away, plans can be more definite.

But they'll continue to need help, both of time and money.

Teen's Personality Half the Battle in Boy-Girl Dating Relationship

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Everybody says I have a good personality and although I am far from "beautiful," people tell me I am not a bad looking girl, but I am nearly 17 and have never had an honest-to-goodness date. I mean a date that wasn't fixed up by somebody.

ABBY

I wear glasses. Could that be my trouble? Please don't suggest contact lenses because I get sick to my stomach at the thought of sticking something right INTO my eye. I don't want to be an old maid, and wonder if you can help me.

17 AND NO DATES

DEAR 17: Glasses rarely (if ever) have cost a girl her popularity, but they frequently provide a good excuse, which is easily seen through. If you want to be "popular" try to develop the kind of personality other people find attractive. Forget about yourself, and the impression you're creating, and concentrate on making the person you are with glad that he's with you.

DEAR ABBY: Several times in the past you have advised ladies whose bosses become too friendly to seek other employment.

Now, after seven years I find myself in that very situation. I have an excellent job with an excellent salary, but I have recently had "problems" with my boss.

★ ★ ★

I have been interviewed for other positions, all of which would mean a substantial reduction from my present salary. Each prospective employer has asked why I am leaving my present position, which I think is a fair question. So far I have said, "For personal reasons," but this reply always seems to elicit an unfavorable reaction. Abby, what sort of reason should I give?

"CURIOUS" IN D.C.

★ ★ ★

DEAR CURIOUS: "For personal reasons" is both honest and discreet and therefore your best answer. To be more specific would elicit an even more unfavorable reaction. And to lie is foolish.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "UPSET IN NEWARK": For goodness sake, DON'T ask his boss to take him off the road. It won't help. If a man is going to "cheat," he will cheat on his lunch hour.

Winner Asks if Party Can Be Day After

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mrs. Goelz of Finleyville, Pa.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: Our son graduates soon. We have reserved a hall at a club for a graduation party. It will be about 10 or 10:30 at night by the time the ceremony is over. This is what worries us. It will be so late and, since the next day is a work day, we are afraid very few will come or be able to stay. Do you have to have a party the same night they graduate? We thought maybe we could have it the evening after. Also, is it proper to send a name card with the graduation announcements:—Mrs. Goelz

Dear Mrs. Goelz: Don't have your party on graduation night! Graduation celebrations are often, and quite correctly, held a few days after the event.

In answer to your second question—Yes, you should include your son's "name card" or visiting card with the announcement.

OVER-NIGHT VISIT

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper for a young girl to stay over a night or two at her boy friend's house in another state?

—L. McMahon

Dear Mrs. McMahon: It's perfectly proper if the boy's mother personally extends the invitation. Otherwise, NO.

★ ★ ★

"Etiquette Tips for Teenagers" by Elizabeth L. Post is available to readers of this paper. This booklet will answer many questions for teen-agers and their parents.

To get a copy, send 25 cents in coin to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

The Charles A. Griffiths of Signet Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Gloria Carol, to Gary E. Cynowa. He is the son of the Edmund Cynowas of Utica. The couple, graduates of Oakland University, will wed June 15.

MCC Women Slate a Beauty Fair, Tea With Two Sessions

On May 16 between the hours of 1-3 p.m. and 7:30-9 p.m. the Ladies' Associates Organization of Michigan Christian College is sponsoring a beauty fair and tea. The event will take place in the college Gold Room.

Mrs. Austin Davis, Mrs. John Murphy, Judy Phillips, Melinda Skaggs and Mrs. Everett Golden will take part in the beauty plan program.

★ ★ ★

General chairman is Mrs. Fred Alexander with assistants Mrs. Joseph Jones and Mrs. Les Matthews.

The Associates Organization is comprised of over 1200 women from local groups in three states. All activities are held to aid in the financial growth and development of Michigan Christian College.

'Control of Education' AAUW Topic

"Who Shall Control Education?" is the topic selected by Dr. Leroy G. Augenstein for an address before members of the Rochester branch, American Association of University Women.

Dr. Augenstein serves as professor of biophysics at Michigan State University and has been an elected member of the Michigan State Board of Education since 1967.

Since completing work for his Ph. D. degree at the University of Illinois in 1956, Dr. Augenstein has acquired an extensive background as speaker, writer and editor in the fields of science, ethics and education.

ANNUAL EVENT

His appearance will be on the occasion of the annual spring luncheon slated Saturday at 12:15 p.m. in the Gold Room of Oakland University's student center.

Mrs. Robert Shipper is in charge of arrangements for the luncheon. She will be assisted by Mesdames Arthur Even, Edward Goodwin, Joshua Madden, George Martin, Tracey Scholtz and Frank Wendryhoski.

A teen-age patient helps get refreshments ready for the party Monday in the homemaking rooms of Fairlawn Center. With her are Mrs. Thomas Jones OTR, head of the program, "Activities of Daily Living" (center) and Mrs. Marcia Whitney, her assistant. The patients have a complete new kitchen in which to improve their homemaking skills.

Federation of Area Groups Has Membership of 50 Clubs

The Pontiac Area Federation of Women's Clubs now numbers 50 clubs with a membership of over 5,000. The acceptance of two new groups at Monday evening's meeting made a total of 11 joining during the past year. The meeting took place in the Oakland County supervisors' auditorium.

Proceeds from the February concert of Kenneth Jewell Chorale will be given to the Pontiac Creative Arts Center. This was the Federations's annual money making project.

On May 27, the annual Golden Gavel dinner will be held at the Kingsley Inn. Lulah McCully is general chairman of arrangements for the 6:30 p.m. event.

Reservations are to be mailed to Miss McCully, 111 Oneida, Pontiac 48053 by May 24.

"Just for Fun" is the theme of the ice cream social to be sponsored by the Federation June 4 at Central Methodist Church. Mrs. George Mitchell was named chairman. This outdoor event will be open to the public.

★ ★ ★

After annual reports, election of officers was held. Mrs. George Brinkman was re-elected president.

Vice presidents are Mesdames: Richard Jorgenson, Robert Stodgill, E. Cleo Wiley and William J. Dean. Secretaries are Miss McCully and Mrs. Fred Goines.

Mrs. Raymond Peterson was renamed treasurer and Mrs. Meyer Simon is the auditor.

Any organization in the Pontiac area that has been in existence two years may join the Federation.

August Wedding Set

The engagement of their daughter, Charlotte Marie, to Allen Arthur Tharp is announced by Dr. and Mrs. Harold W. Longyear of West Long Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township.

She is a junior at Central Michigan University. Her fiance, son of the Wilber Tharps of Clawson, is a senior at Ferris State College. They will wed Aug. 17.

Tenor Bellinger to Be Soloist for Cranbrook's 'Bach'

Tenor Fred Bellinger, owner of Bellinger Music Studio in Pontiac, will be a soloist with the Kenneth Jewell Choralw at the third annual Bach at Cranbrook festival on May 17 and 18, at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Bellinger received a degree in vocal music from Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark. where he was tenor soloist, and did graduate work at Indiana State Teachers College and Michigan State University.

Six years ago, Bellinger formed the Bell Chorale, which works with Pontiac's Department of Parks and Recreation.

★ ★ ★

Among his solo appearances are performances in Detroit with the Celeste Cole Opera Theatre, the Cantata Academy, and at Tabernacle Baptist Church. In addition to teaching beginning piano and voice, he is tenor soloist at Mariner's Church, Detroit.

Tickets for Bach at Cranbrook are available at Hudson's and Grinnell's. For more information write to Bach at Cranbrook, 650 Cranbrook Road, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan 48013.

★ ★ ★

Tickets are still available for a rehearsal, May 15, at 7:30 p.m., open only to students. Interested groups or individuals should contact Mrs. Mary Silber, 16855 Birchcrest, Detroit, Mich. 48221.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Q. Do you have exercise classes and how can I join one if you do?

A. Many readers ask this question. No, I am sorry to say that I do not have classes at this time. I miss teaching but my column and the letters I receive from readers leave no time for classes.

Q. I am a 14-year-old girl and I have very dry skin. It is so dry that I have small pimples on my legs and arms, and the skin on my face and arms and hands and eyelids is scaly. I am embarrassed because all of my friends have nice smooth skin. What should I do?

A. Skin such as you describe can be due to a vitamin deficiency. Do you eat correctly? I think you should discuss this with your doctor because this kind of epidermis is not normal, especially for one your age.

★ ★ ★

Q. Please tell me which you think is more effective for dryness and wrinkles, lanolin or which have moisturizing elements and oils.

A. One of the creams. .

★ ★ ★

A. I am a nervous wreck! I have been following your diet and I thought that tbs. meant tablespoon, as did tbsp. Now a friend tells me that tbs. means teaspoon. If so I haven't been following the diet correctly.

A.. No, your friend is wrong. Tbs. means tablespoon. Your troubles are over!

A. Sometime ago you published an exercise in the paper for developing the calves. I have done this exercise for several months and my calves have developed very nicely. Can you give an exercise for developing thin ankles or will this be accomplished by continuing to use the same exercise?

A. The exercise for the calves will also help develop the ankles. Continue doing the one where you rise high on your toes and then lower heels to the floor and also do the following one.

Sit on the edge of a chair. Straighten your legs out in front of you, heels resting on the floor. Turn your feet in, trying to touch the soles of the feet. Now turn the feet out. Continue, slowly.

★ ★ ★

Q. My feet are big. What kind of shoe can I wear to make them look smaller?

A. You didn't say whether your feet are especially long or especially wide. If they are long shoes with blunt toes, a square line over the instep, and straps that go across will make your feet appear shorter.

If they are wide just the opposite is true. The toes of your shoes should have more shape, more of a V line over the instep, and no straps are best.

HURLEY-KVORKA

A white linen princess gown was chosen by Janice Kay Kvorka for Saturday vows in Zion Lutheran Church, Holland with Daniel F. Hurley. Parents of the couple are the John Kvorkas of Holland and the Fred Hurleys of Highlander Street, Orion Township. Sally Lamberts was maid of honor with attendants, Susan Kvorka and Kathy Hurley. Donald Hurley performed best man duties with ushers, William Bell, John Pikur, Philip Lewis and Fred Hurley. Before departing on a northern Michigan wedding trip the newlyweds, both students at Western Michigan University, were feted at a reception.

DRAKE-GIDCUMB

First Social Brethren Church was the setting for Saturday vows and reception of Patricia Ann Gidcumb and Wilgus Drake Jr. Their parents are the Chalmer F. Gidcumbs of Cherrylawn Street and the senior Drakes of Orion Road, Orion Township. Rose point French lace over taffeta fashioned an A-line gown for the bride who carried a cascade of white roses and ivy. Mrs. John Sherrod, Jacqueline Gidcumb and Glenn Drake stood as honor attendants for the bridal pair. They will reside in Rochester following a honeymoon trip to the Smokey Mountains. Other members of the bridal party were Mrs. Charles Ebersole, Cynthia Gidcumb, Ruth Drake, Henry Drake, Wilton Morris, John Sherrod and Ronald Morris.

Complement Hair

To make-up the natural way, select rouge and blusher shades that are keyed to your hair color. A light blonde should blush pink. A redhead, peach. Blend cream rouge before powdering to set up the line. Brush on blusher after, and touch up during the day.

PTA Congress Adopts Resolutions

The Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, meeting in Battle Creek last week, adopted a number of resolutions; among them two very important items affecting youth. They are:

"That the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers urge enactment of legislation restricting sources of viewing and reading material undesirable for children and youth."

"That the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers strongly resist all attempts to legalize marijuana, LSD, and all other dangerous and hallucinatory drugs, and further resolve that local units and councils be encouraged to provide all reasonable assistance to local authorities in the promotion of educational programs on the harmful use of drugs."

In other business, Mrs. David J. Love of Royal Oak was elected region D vice president, which includes Pontiac.

A report on the convention will be given at the final meeting of the Pontiac PTA Council this evening in Bethune Elementary School.

Incoming president of the Pontiac Council, Mrs. Willis Schnekenburger, attended the convention. Others from Pontiac were Mrs. Benjamin Shelton, Mrs. Neil Smith and Mrs. Laura McKeever.

Also at tonight's meeting, final plans will be announced for the mass installation of new PTA officers to be held June 4 at Madison Junior High School.

Mrs. Marvin McVicar is general chairman for that event, which will include workshops for new officer and chairmen.

Other workshops for District 7 officers are scheduled for a meeting in Madison Heights on May 16.

The topic for tonight's meeting is "What Is the Self-Concept Program?"

Install President of Rho Chapter

Mrs. Alyce Hagood was installed as president of Rho chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa, in ceremonies at Ted's Restaurant recently.

Mildred Jutkins, state secretary from Mu chapter of Royal Oak, performed the ceremony. Others installed were: Mrs. Walter Sheffield, vice president; E. Cleo Wiley and Mrs. Melvin Boersma, secretaries and Mrs. John Buchanan, treasurer.

Mrs. Boersma was presented with the past president's guard and chain.

Hostesses were Lamont Wertz, Mrs. Ronald Carr and Mrs. Byford Laur.

Return Junk Mail

DEAR POLLY — I am starting a one-woman campaign to cut down on "junk mail," the kind that hits the wastebasket without being opened. Both my sons are now in the armed forces so I am opening their mail, taking out the enclosed postage-paid card or envelope and writing on it, "He has now entered the armed forces so has neither the time nor the money for your excellent publication, insurance, book, etc."

Then I ask that his name be removed from the company's mailing list. This takes little time and will certainly save on someone's postage, paper, etc. I invite you other readers to return those self-addressed, postage-paid cards and ask to be taken off those many mailing lists—M. H. C.

DEAR READERS—I am sure this is a problem common to all of us. It is no surprise that postage rates are going up when our poor postmen have to spend so much time and strength sorting and carrying all that unwanted and unsolicited mail.

One of the greatest bothers to me is the unordered fountain pen with one's name on it, the printed name labels and so on and then the dunning letters that follow when those unordered articles are not paid for even though one has no desire for them. What do you do about those? I am sure many are for worth-while causes but few of us can contribute to all of them. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I searched in vain for an appropriate card to send to one of my child's playmates who was hurt in an accident.

I was about to give up when I had this bright idea. I bought a magic slate paper saver, wrote a get well message on it, signed my preschool child's name and had her take it to her sick friend. These slates cost little more than a card and it furnished some "quiet play" for the child while she was recovering at home. — MRS. L. S.

An Explanation of Ex-Dividend Stock

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

I bought some stock shares recently, but did not receive the dividend which was paid on this stock two days afterward. When I talked to a friend about this, he said that it was because I bought my shares "ex-dividend."

MARY FEELEY

Will you explain what this means, and why, as the owner, I should lose this profit?

C. A. L., Rochester, N.Y.

Dear C.A.L.:

When you buy stock during the "ex-dividend" period, the seller gets the dividends. Actually, he owned it when the dividend was declared, which is usually a matter of weeks before it's paid to stockholders on record on a certain date.

Five business days are allowed for delivery and payment of stock, so you took over these shares during those five "ex-dividend" days. You were not on the record as owner by dividend payment time.

However, you did benefit by a discount you received during the ex-dividend period, reflecting the quarterly dividend payment.

Dear Miss Feeley: I've been telling my husband that during the night, and the three days a week I work, we should lower the thermostat on our furnace and then put it back to 76 degrees when needed.

Everyone in our neighborhood laughs at us for keeping it turned up so high at night But my husband says it will balance itself out — because when it's turned down, it will run so much longer to catch up.

Please let us have your opinion.

Mrs. B. S., Burgettstown, Pa.

Dear Mrs. S.: I'll give you the opinion of a big oil company which services many homes:

If you turn your thermostat down say, four to five degrees at night, you save fuel. It's a worthwhile economy measure.

But if you turn it down more than that — say eight or nine degrees — then the furnace uses so much fuel picking up those degrees next morning, especially in cold, windy weather, — that this operation costs you money.

Dear Mary Feeley: Could you please tell me the cost of feeding a 17-year-old girl on our standard of living? We are husband and wife, early 30s, with a son, 10, and daughter, 9. I'm now spending $40 to $50 a week for food.

The 17-year-old is my sister, whom we are thinking of taking to live with us.

Mrs. W. R., Wilmington, Del.

Dear Mrs. R.: A weekly food allowance for her is estimated by the Department of Agriculture at $10.90 — using the Liberal Plan. This tallies with the standard of meals you're now serving your family.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mary Feeley: My daughter has a mortgage with a bank. Although taxes have risen, my daughter's payments have been the same as when she started to pay.

This doesn't sound on the level to me. What do you think?

Reader, New York City

Dear Reader: I think you're looking for trouble. There can well be a logical explanation to this situation. It could have been that a tax assessment was going up at the time of the purchase and this was included in the original payments.

Certainly you and I can assume here that this is what might have happened, but since the mortgage arrangement has been made for a long-term, why shouldn't your daughter ask the lender to explain their escrow plan in writing?

Lenses Prevent Eye Damage

NEW YORK (WMNS) — Some 500,000 eyeglass wearers suffer serious eye injury at home and in school every year — and about 90 per cent of these injuries could be prevented if these children and adults had been wearing protective eyewear. This is the view of Dr. Arthur H. Keeney, Ophthalmologist-in-chief at the Wills Eye Hospital, Philadelphia.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Keeney explained that protective eyewear is made of toughened, shatter-resistant material that has been heated in a special furnace and then chilled rapidly. To qualify as truly protective, each lens must pass the rigid examination known as the "drop ball test." A steel ball, ⅝ inch in diameter, is dropped from a height of 50 inches onto the lens.

WILL NOT SHATTER

"An ordinary lens would break into needle-sharp fragments under such stress, while a protective lens will pass this stringent test," the eye specialist emphasized.

★ ★ ★

He noted that at his own hospital every lens dispensed is a protective lens. Dr. Keeney said that all children who wear glasses should have these lenses, as well as people in hazardous occupations, those who work with power tools, gardeners, and people who drive or ride in cars frequently.

A RESOLUTION
It's never too late to make a resolution that will protect your health—to clear old prescription drugs out of your medicine closet.
If you are tempted to "try some of this medicine Dr. Doe prescribed last time I saw him," you may be trifling with your well-being. This time the illness might be different, and even more serious if not treated with the right medication. And many drugs become useless after long periods of time.

Red Preferred in Candle Color

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — American women use more red candles than any other color.

★ ★ ★

One manufacturer, reporting the preference, said that after the popular cherry red shade came white, moss green, pink, orange, blue and green — in that order. Blue and yellow are most popular for Mother's Day; yellow and white for Easter.

Pierre Henri, style director for the Saks Fifth Avenue Beauty Salons, believes that curls should be soft, fluffy and on the verge of a wave when worn by a woman. Pierre Henri will be at the Saks Fifth Avenue Salon in Troy during this week.

BRADSHAW-COLLISON

Candlelight vows Saturday in St. James Methodist Church united Debrah Lynn Collison and Robert Bruce Bradshaw. The bride was gowned in an organza cage with peau d'ange accents. Her silk illusion veil fell from a cluster of matching organza petals. Parents of the couple, later feted at a reception in AMVETS Hall, are the Charles F. Collisons of Lenox Street and the Charles Bradshaws of Second Avenue. Bridal attendants with matron of honor, Mrs. Roger Rivard, were Mrs. Charles Khederian, Cynthia Humphrey and Jean Bradshaw. On the esquire side were best man, Richard Bradshaw with ushers, Charles and James Bradshaw and Curtis Collison.

A Survey Report Given Xi Unit

A report on a survey of membership composition was the topic of Xi chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma's May meeting in Eastover School, Bloomfield Hills, recently.

★ ★ ★

The program was conducted by Mrs. Donald Burkland assisted by Mrs. Gordon Barr, Mrs. Ralph Grubb, Marietta Spring, Marla Jackson and Mrs. Robert Boyce.

★ ★ ★

Hostesses were Mesdames John Dicou, Claire Hinckley, Elmer Hnutley and Florence Gullstrand.

A handful of salt, thrown on the coals in the barbecue grill, will lower the flames and deaden the smoke from the broiled meat.

To Wed in June

Mr. and Mrs. Duane D. Freese of Nearbrook Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Carolyn Jean, to John Chandler Woolley, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul V. Woolley of Pleasant Ridge.

★ ★ ★

Challenges Topless Dancer

Mother in College Race

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Cissie Bonini, a mother of seven has declared herself a write-in candidate for president of the Stanford University student body "to put this campaign and election in its proper perspective."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bonini entered the campaign Sunday in the wake of topless dancer Vicky Drake, who startled the campus earlier in the week with campaign posters showing her posed discreetly in the nude.

★ ★ ★

The wife of Charles P. Bonini, associate professor of statistics at the Stanford Graduate School of Business, Mrs. Bonini is a fulltime junior student in history.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bonini says she's urging students to write in "Mom" in the election Tuesday and Wednesday.

A Junior Editors Quiz About MT. ARARAT

QUESTION: Has Mount Ararat ever been found?

ANSWER: This famous mountain is mentioned in the Bible, as part of the story of Noah's Ark, which after the great flood, rested, according to Genesis 8, verse 4, "upon the mountains of Ararat."

The two crests or summits of Ararat were never lost; they still exist. We give an idea of the location on our map. Ararat lies in Turkish territory, between the southern parts of the Black and Caspian Seas. The higher peak of Ararat, called Great Ararat, soars to 16,945 feet.

Many people have been impressed by the fact that Mt. Ararat lies midway between some large areas of water, such as the Black and Caspian Seas, which might have been left by the retreating waters of the flood.

A number of expeditions have climbed the mountain, hoping to find traces of the Ark, but so far without success.

But the story of the animals going in and out of the Ark, two by two, has an endless fascination; and countless artists, including our own, have enjoyed giving their special version of it.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

New Land Acquisition Policy of Supervisors Is Paying Off

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors' new policy in regard to land purchases has confirmed that the most recent acquisition was a bargain, at least in comparison with other purchases.

★ ★ ★

The new policy is for two appraisals to be made before any decision is made on land acquisitions priced over $25,000. The policy was established by the ways and means committee and is to be carried out by the board of auditors.

The last purchase made since the policy was initiated was of about 20 acres in Waterford Township on Watkins Lake, near Pontiac Lake roads, for $150,000. The land belonged to the Evangelical Missionary Church and was used for the yearly Pontiac Holiness Camp Meeting.

Though the land cost would be about $7,000 per acre, the grounds contained several buildings — a large church, mess hall, small 20-unit motel, small home and a recently built brick home valued at about $20,000.

★ ★ ★

Before recommending purchase, the ways and means committee examined two appraisals which estimated the facility could be valued at about $30,000 above the asking price.

OTHER ACQUISITIONS

Other recent land acquisitions have been for the two county airports. Both public officials and private citizens have complained that the price paid was too high — in some cases up to $4,000 per acre for vacant land.

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the board of auditors, explained the new policy on double appraisals includes the ruling that at least one of them has to be by a member of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers. Murphy said the rule was for the "self-protection" of the supervisors.

The last land purchase, in Waterford Township, was for the parks and recreation department which will use the facility for the county park system.

★ ★ ★

Half of the purchase price will be returned to the county in the form of a federal grant for acquisition of open spaces. In the case of land acquisition for airports, as much as 75 per cent can be returned to the county in matching funds from both state and federal sources.

Cleanup to Start

De Gaulle Gets Prestige Boost

He Stands Midway Between Hanoi, U. S.

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle's prestige has been given a powerful boost by the agreement between the United States and North Vietnam to meet in Paris.

★ ★ ★

Although France calls itself an ally of the United States, it stands, at least on the issue of Vietnam, halfway between Hanoi and Washington.

Hanoi would hardly have suggested Paris if the French government had been as close to Washington as the fourth republic was before De Gaulle's return to power in 1958.

Ever since the end of the Algerian War in 1962 freed De Gaulle's hands on foreign policy issues, he has been dabbling in Vietnam and gradually moving away from the U.S. position.

★ ★ ★

The French president finally evolved a policy line in which he stood just between the two sides.

ON THE FENCE

While condemning U.S. involvement and publicly urging the Americans to pull out of the East Asian country, the French leader has never endorsed North Vietnam's line that the national liberation front (Vietcong) be considered the sole representative of South Vietnam.

Officials noted De Gaulle only gradually established diplomatic contacts with North Vietnam, but carefully refrained from full diplomatic recognition of Hanoi.

It was Saigon, and not Paris, that decided to break off relations between South Vietnam and France in 1965 when De Gaulle escalated his denunciations of the South Vietnamese regime's policies.

★ ★ ★

Despite France's rupture with Saigon, South Vietnam maintained a consulate general in Paris.

SHOOK HAND ONCE

Mai Van Bo, the North Vietnamese delegate general, has been unobtrusively seeing foreign ministry officials, and briefly shook De Gaulle's hand at once-a-year Elysee Palace receptions for the diplomatic corps. He has never, however, had a meeting with De Gaulle.

But in his public statements, De Gaulle has been much harsher in denouncing the United States than his actual policy would have led observers to believe.

De Gaulle believes all of Indochina should be neutralized and its neutrality guaranteed by all major powers.

★ ★ ★

DeGaulle believes that Communist China should be a party to any lasting settlement in the region.

LINK WITH THE WEST

He recognized Peking on the premise that having an embassy in mainland China would facilitate an eventual peace arrangement in Asia by maintaining a link between Peking and the West.

Timing Is Most Important

Being Sick Requires Planning

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — I'm trying very hard to put my germs on a time schedule that will coincide with that of my doctor.

If they want to multiply by dividing, or whatever sneaky process they use when they decide to make me miserable, weekends are strictly out. Nobody will pay a bit of attention to them—especially the reluctant visitor with the little black bag—until Monday afternoon at the earliest.

★ ★ ★

For some time now I've had them trained not to act up on Wednesday afternoons, either. That day has long been reserved by my friendly neighborhood practitioner for chasing around the golf course, rather than for chasing bacteria out of my system.

In the past, the best time for me to get sick was 2 p.m. Monday, Thursday or Friday, or from 6 to 8 any night of the week. These were the hours my doctor regularly held open house, and provided I wasn't too weak to struggle to his office, I could be sure of a cure.

IMPATIENT PATIENTS

Then one Tuesday, suffering from a pain in my side, I presented myself and my symptoms on his doorstep at the appointed hour. At 6:15 p.m. I was still waiting outside his waiting room. So were a few other impatient patients.

Somebody at last noticed the small card affixed to the outside of the door. "New office hours," it read, "are from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday."

My pain and I went home and by the time the next set of office hours arrived, it had departed.

Recently my daughter announced that she had a sore throat—so sore, in fact, that she actually requested the services of a physician. It was 8 a.m. when I put in the call to our family doctor—and got his answering service.

After having given my name, address, rank, serial number and the nature of Gay's illness, I was informed that the doctor would call me when he called in.

By noon my daughter's temperature and my temper had both risen alarmingly, and I tried again. The girl at the switchboard reported that the doctor hadn't yet called in.

The streptococci that attack older throats must bear a strong resemblance to the ones that plague little kids, I reasoned. The pediatrician who took care of our youngsters when they were small has an office just a few blocks away from our house. I called him, explained the problem, and he came.

Top Hurling Keeps Scoring Low

Pitchers Ahead of Batters in American League Race

By United Press International

Connie Mack — among others — is supposed to have said that pitching is 75 to 80 per cent of baseball.

But now he'd probably have to say it's more like 99 and 44-100ths per cent of the game.

The pitchers are so far ahead of the hitters that the game is becoming a low-scoring, pitcher-and-catch game like a fast-pitch softball.

★ ★ ★

That was the story in the American League Monday night as the pitchers had another night that's becoming typical of this season.

Just nine days after teammate Tom Phoebus pitched a no hitter, Dave Leonhard threw a one hitter to give the Baltimore Orioles a 4-0 vitory over the Detroit Tigers. Meanwhile, Sam McDowell was breaking Bob Feller's record for strikeouts in consecutive games in Cleveland's 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

Almost in the routine category was Tommy John's three-hitter as the Chicago White Sox edged the California Angels 5-1. And seven pitchers paraded to the mound for both teams and the hitters were futile against all of them as the Oakland A's edged the Minnesota Twins 2-1.

FOURTH PLACE

Bringing back memories of the days when the hitters used to be the stroy of the game was Mickey Mantle, who tagged McDowell for the 522nd homer of this career to take over sole possession of fourth place on the all-time list.

But the rest of the league was a pitching story.

McDowell struck out 14 Yankees — after fanning out 14 on May 1 against Oakland — to give him a two-game total of 30. The pitcher also won his own game with a two-run single off Mel Stottlemyre that capped a three-run rally in the fourth inning and gave Cleveland the triumph.

Mantle's homer came in the first inning with one on and one out and enabled him to surpass Ted Williams' mark of 521. Jimmy Foxx at 534 is his next barrier to third place on the all-time list, which probably will be his pinncale since Willie Mays and Babe Ruth are out of reach.

★ ★ ★

Tommy John was in command all the way as he set down the Angels on three hits to give the White Sox their sixth victory this season. John, 3-0, has won half of them.

Bubba Morton homered off John in the second for the Angels' only run but rookie Bill Melton hit a bases-loaded two-run single in the fourth to put the White Sox ahead to stay.

Reggie Jackson's fourth inning homer snapped a 1-1 tie in the fourth and five pitchers made it stand up as the A's topped the Twins.

Jim Nash had a six-hitter going into the seventh inning when he aggravated a hamstring muscle pull. Four more pitchers, Ed Sprague, Paul Lindblad, Diego Segui and Tony Pierce, paraded to the mound but the Twins only got one more hit in the game. Segui retired Ron Clark with the bases loaded in the eighth to quell the Twins' only serious rally. The Twins, usually a good hitting team, have just 15 hits in their last four games.

Dean Chance pitched for six innings and took the loss although he gave up just three hits.

1-Hitter Pitched by Leonhard in Oriole Win, 4-0

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dave Leonhard, a college graduate and former schoolteacher, rated no better than A-minus for his 4-0, one-hit victory over the Detroit Tigers Monday night.

★ ★ ★

The rookie right-hander of the Baltimore Orioles also issued seven walks and hit two batsmen as his performance fell short of the no-hitter hurled by teammate Tom Phoebus on April 27.

The way the Baltimore pitching staff has been going lately, it takes a one-hitter just to gain attention.

Leonhard's route-going effort was the sixth in a row for the Orioles, tieing a club record set in 1961. Over the past 10 games, the staff has turned in three shutouts and compiled an earned run average of 1.40, with six hits the most given up in any game.

The Orioles have won eight in a row, their longest winning streak since their 1966 pennant-winning year, and 13 of their last 15 to take a 2½-game lead over the second-place Tigers in the American League.

WILD THING

"I know it sounds phoney," Leonhard said, "but I would have been more disappointed losing the shutout than the no-hitter. A no-hitter sounded like such a wild thing."

With two outs in the seventh, Jim Northrup sliced a single to left for the only Detroit hit, connecting with a pitch Leonhard described as a "hanging fast ball."

"Naturally I was disappointed, but I wasn't crushed," the 26-year-old pitcher said.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles, batting .302 while winning eight in a row, collected 11 hits off loser Joe Sparma and his two successors. Dave May drove in two runs with a pair of singles while Dave Johnson had three hits, scoring one run and driving in another.

During the past 10 games, starting with Phoebus' no-hitter, Baltimore has outscored the opposition 53-17.

"We've been getting everything," Manager Hank Bauer said. "The defense plays better when you get good pitching, and we've been getting timely hitting."

NY Jets May Learn Joe Namath Value

NEW YORK (AP) — If Joe Namath was worth $400,000 when he came out of Alabama what is he worth today to the New York Jets?

The Jets will find out soon, if they haven't been told already, just what Namath wants to sign a new term contract with Sonny Werblin and his partners. The original agreement, signed early in 1965, has expired.

As the super glamor star of a team that has fantastic drawing power at Shea Stadium, Namath is in a strong bargaining position. Although he has undergone numerous operations on both knees, his quick right arm represents the Jets' attack.

Werblin talked with Namath during the late winter, shortly after he was released from the hospital. When last heard from Namath was soaking up the sun in Florida.

Fran Tarkenton, the New York Giants' quarterback, also has a little business with the front office before the 1968 season. He finished the second year of a two-year contract originally signed in Minnesota when the '67 season ended.

PRELIMINARY TALKS

There have been preliminary talks between the Scrambler and Well Mara, president of the Giants, but nothing definite has been announced. Tarkenton, too, will come high in his new New York setting.

The pro clubs have been meeting with resistance from the top draftees, many of whom are being represented by agents.

Several No. 1 picks remain unsigned. Many are competing in track, baseball or other spring sports and some hope to remain eligible to compete for the United States in the Olympic Games in Mexico next October.

The big bonus money has disappeared.

On the other hand, the players who were not picked in the early rounds appear to be signing up.

The Oakland Raiders will look at Eldridge Dickey, Tennessee State quarterback, as a wide receiver while he is learning the quarterback plays. Ken Stabler, the "Snake" from Alabama, will get his shot at quarter.

★ ★ ★

As the Raiders already have Daryle Lamonica, 40-year-old George Blanda, Cotton Davidson and taxi squad member Rick Egloff, the quarterbacks will need a special field for workouts.

Montreal Lets St. Louis Have NHL 'Glory'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens feel the St. Louis Blues have "got pride," and Canadien goalie Gump Worsley says "'this is where the glory is."

★ ★ ★

But glory isn't the immediate concern of the Blues. They just want to even the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup championship seven-game series at 1-1 tonight. The Blues lost the first game 3-2 in overtime Sunday. The third and fourth games will be played Thursday and Saturday in Montreal.

Montreal's John Ferguson says the Blues also have something else going for them.

"They've got a lot of fellows who want to beat this organization," Ferguson said. He meant the half-dozen Blues who used to work for the Canadiens.

★ ★ ★

And Coach Toe Blake says the Blues have another plus — "A hot goalkeeper.

LIKE PITCHER

"You get a hot goalkeeper in a seven-game series and it's like having a hot pitcher in the World Series," the Montreal coach said.

Blake also felt compelled to point out something else.

★ ★ ★

"If it hadn't been for the expansion teams Toronto would have been in the playoffs." Blake was referring to Toronto's sad record against the Western Division teams.

Ex-Tomahawk Long Drafted

Phoenix Picks Three Pistons

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons have pulled off the improbable, sneaking a 6-foot-10 center undetected past the noses of two National Basketball Association expansion teams.

The Pistons lost three players Monday in the NBA's draft to fill out the rosters of the new Phoenix and Milwaukee franchises, but none of the three was center Joe Strawder.

★ ★ ★

Rookie guard Paul Long, who played for the Pontiac Tomahawks last winter, was plucked by Phoenix while center George Patterson and forward-center Len Chappell both were selected by Milwaukee.

For certain Detroit had on its seven-man protected list forwards Dave DeBusschere, Happy Hairston and guards Dave Bing, Eddie Miles and Jimmy Walker and the last was a center.

Jim Fox, though inexperienced, had to be protected or he would have been taken for his potential, leaving Strawder among the availables.

Had the Pistons protected Strawder one of the aforementioned names would have gone into the grab bag and no intelligent selector would have overlooked them for the likes of Long, Patterson or Chappell.

AILING BACK

The Detroit front office circulated medical reports of Strawder's ailments as widely as they could, reports that said the former Bradley star could be all done in the NBA.

Surgery on an ailing Strawder back was pronounced successful last week. That injury, along with arthritic knees, forced the Detroit center to miss all or part of several games last season.

The Pistons expressed pleasure over the results of the draft, as well they should. The NBA draft of college players, starting from the second round, begins Wednesday.

Detroit's first choice, Otto Moore of Pan American had his scheduled hernia operation postponed to attend the draft.

NEW YORK (AP) — Players lost by each of the 12 established teams in the National Basketball Association's draft to stock the new Phoenix and Milwaukee clubs:

Baltimore — Roland West, Stan McKenzie, John Egan.
Boston — Wayne Embry, John Jones, Tom Thacker.
Chicago — McCoy McLemore, Craig Spitzer, Dave Schellhase.
Cincinnati — Bob Love, Guy Rodgers, Gary Gray.
Detroit — Paul Long, Len Chappell, George Patterson.
Los Angeles — Gail Goodrich, Dennis Hamilton, John Wetzel.
NEW YORK — Dick Van Arsdale, Emmette Bryant, Neil Johnson.
Philadelphia — Bill Melchionni, Jim Reid, Larry Costello.
San Diego — Dave Barnhill, Jon McGlocklin, Dave Gambee.
Seattle — George Wilson, Bud Olsen, Bob Weiss.
St. Louis — Dick Snyder, Gene Tormohlen, Jay Miller.
San Francisco — Dave Lattin, Fred Hetzel, Bob Warlick.

Newcomer Gets Good Start in Pro-Am Play

Bill Bisdorf, a newcomer to Michigan golf, took the bulk of the prize money in the first weekly Pro-Am Event of the state PGA yesterday at Red Run.

Bisdorf won $271 in prize money as low pro with a 36-34-70 and he teamed with Tommy Cosmos for a best ball tie of 68 with Mac McElmurry and Larry Wilkinson in the pro-pro scoring.

Doug Main of Lochlomond and John Driver of North Hills; and Bill Mattson and Stan Brown of Shenandoah were tied for pro-am honors with 66's.

Mattson took second in prize money wth $199.45.

The Shenandoah pro took a seven on the 372-yard par 4 No. 16 hole at Red Run, but his amateur partner saved the hoel with a par. Mattson had helped with five birdies.

Mike Souchak, Tom Deaton, Tommy Cosmos and Gene Bone all posted 77's on their own ball in the first week's play.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The International Hockey League's board of governors voted Monday to expand to eight teams for next season by granting a franchise to Flint, Mich., if that city has a new arena ready for the season opening.

Another Bout Lost by Cassius to Avoid Imposed Prison Term

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Former world heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay has lost another round in his legal fight to avoid a prison sentence imposed for refusing induction into the Armed Forces.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here Monday upheld Clay's conviction and five-year prison term, rejecting his claims to be a conscientious objector because of being a Black Muslim minister.

★ ★ ★

Clay, who prefers his Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, was convicted on criminal charges by a Federal Court jury in Houston, Tex., last June 20. The judge gave him the maxium sentence — five years behind bars and a $10,000 fine.

Lawyers for Clay, who is free on $5,000 bond, have promised a fight to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Detroit College Team District Golf Winner

DEARBORN HEIGHTS (AP) — Detroit College of Business swept team and individual honors Monday in the District 23 NAIA golf tournament at Warren Valley Golf and Country Club.

Detroit College took first in the team standings with 299 in the 18-hole, best four of five scores match. Ferris State College was second with 316 and Eastern Michigan University was third with 320.

Don Brooks of Detroit College beat Ole Ellstrom, also of Detroit College, in a sudden-death playoff to take medalist honors at 73 on the par-71 course.

Softball Activity Perks

The Rev. Harold Hughes got two big hits and struck out nine batters as Clarkston Appliance defeated Ward Body, 6-3, in Waterford recreation softball last night.

In the other game, Huron Bowl started the season by downing Midget Bar, 9-4 with nine errors in the contest. Bill Cox' two-run single in the 7th was the big hit for Huron while Bil York had three rbi's for the loser.

In Walled Lake softball league action last night, defending champion Penny Manufacturing defeated Big Boy, 14-9, to boost its record to 2-0 helped by a 3-run homer by Danny Voros.

In other games, Wixom won over Kimberly 5-1 on a 3-run blast by Bob Young and Copper Mug pushed its mark to 3-0 by downing Alternate Precision, 4-3. Two games are on tap tonight.

QUARTER-MILER — Dave Marr of Rochester strains as he crosses the finish line first in the 440-yard dash yesterday. The Falcons defeated Troy, 78-40, for their eighth straight track victory.

Pontiac Press Photos

TRIPLE WINNER — Troy ace Lynn Qualmann is shown winning the high hurdles. Three victories by Qualmann couldn't stem the tide and the Colts fell to Rochester. He also won the low hurdles and high jump.

Rochester Sprinter Sets School Record

Speedy senior Bob Woodruff lowered the school standard in the 100-yard dash last night in helping Rochester to a 78-40 track victory over Troy.

The victory was the eighth in a row for the Falcons after a season-opening loss.

Woodruff, who also won the 220-yard dash for the Falcons, covered the 100-yard course in 9.8 seconds, bettering his old school mark by one tenth of a second.

Overshadowed somewhat by Woodruff's record-breaking dash was the performance of Troy's Lynn Qualmann.

★ ★ ★

Qualmann won three events, taking the high hurdles (15.7), the high jump (5-11¼) and the low hurdles (21.4).

Skippers Card Win but Eaglets in Tie

Waterford won and Orchard Lake St. Mary escaped defeat for the first time this season in golfing action yesterday.

The Skippers of Waterford trimmed Pontiac Northern, 202-218, at Pontiac Municipal Course, while OLSM and Royal Oak Shrine battled to a 193-193 standoff at Pontiac Country Club.

Rod Skelton carded a 36 and Randy Berry a 40 to pace Waterford. Tom Thomson (41) and Dave Gentages (42) led PNH.

Ed Valmont posted a 45 for OLSM and Frank Krause led Shrine with a 47.

Ace at Silver Lake

Andy Condon of Pontiac aced the 129-yard, No. 8 at Silver Lake over the weekend with an 8-iron. He carded 38 for the round.

Chiefs Finish in SVC Golf

Pontiac Central ended Saginaw Valley golf play with a 5-1 record by defeating Flint Northern and Bay City Handy in a triangular at White Birch Hills in Bay City. The Chiefs had 392, followed by Flint's 396 and Handy's 401.

★ ★ ★

Co-medalists were Bill Ott of Handy and Jack Morris of Northern with 71's while Norm Runyan had 74 for PCH.

Waterford 9's Split Victories

Skippers Hand Lapeer 4-1 Setback

Waterford schools won, lost and broke even in three baseball contests yesterday.

The Skippers of Waterford Township handed Lapeer a 4-1 setback, Farmington whipped Kettering, 8-6, while Waterford Kettering's reserves downed Mott, 11-2.

Waterford (9-7) pushed across two runs in the sixth on a double by Mike Murphy, a triple by Frank Ballard and Jerry Crawford's single to gain a little breathing room in the game at Lapeer.

Jim Flynn rapped out three hits and drove in three runs as Farmington (1-5) ended a five-game losing streak. Tom Setter knocked in two runs with a triple and Jim Walton singled home a pair to pace the Kettering attack.

Ross Evans rapped a home run, double and single and chased home five runs to spark the Kettering reserves past Mott (4-4).

W-O Baseball Race Is Tightened by Holly

The race for baseball honors in the Wayne-Oakland League tightened a bit yesterday as Holly's Brnocos came up with a big inning and handed Northville its first conference loss of the season, 11-8.

The Broncos (5-3) opened the corral in the fifth inning and sent 10 runs across the plate to break the game open. The setback left Northville with a 7-1 mark.

Milford (6-2) pulled within one game by downing Clarenceville (2-6), 3-2, while Bloomfield Hills Andover (5-3) remained in the running by downing Brighton (2-6), 5-0.

In the other game, a couple of Clarkston (3-5) pitchers combined for a 1-0 shutout of West Bloomfield (2-6).

Trailing 4-1 going into the bottom of the fifth, Holly used Northville errors to push across Northville errors to push across the 10 markers.

CLOUTS HOMER

Jeff Reagan stroked a three-run home run to highlight the inning, while Tom Hayes and winning pitcher Phil Morse delivered two-run singles. Dave Rhoades collected three of Holly's 12 hits, while Morse, Mike Tubbs and Tom Hoeder picked up two apiece.

★ ★ ★

Dennis Primeau rapped a two-run home run to spark the Northville attack.

Milford socred three times in the first two innings and choked off a budding Clarenceville rally in the seventh to preserve the victory.

Dave Dennis tripled and scored on an error in the first to put Milford ahead, 1-0, and Larry Vick belted a home run with Rich Sharp aboard in the second and the losers almost pulled it out in the seventh.

GOOD THROW

Outfileder Bob McFarland cut down a Clarenceville runner at the plate — a run that would have tied the game — and reliefer Bob Clinard fanned the final two batters in the inning.

★ ★ ★

Mike Irving, back in action after recovering from a broken finger, yielded only two hits in pitching Andover past Brighton.

Larry Appleby doubled home one run and then raced home on Bruce Godfrey's single to give Andover a 2-0 lead. Roger Hirchman stole home in the third, Chip Smith singled Appleby home in the fourth and Craig Walsh delivered a sacrifice fly to score the final run in the seventh.

Rich Johnson and Jerry Ostrom combined for a three-hitter as Clarkston whipped West Bloomfield, ruining a one-hit effort by the losers' Curtis Britton.

★ ★ ★

The only run came in the first when Tom Lane walked, stole second and third and scored on an error when the catcher dropped the ball after taking a toss from the shortstop.

By JERE CRAIG

High school track has improved greatly with the development of all-weather running surfaces, inflatable landing pits that are easily stored, fiber glass poles and highly refined timing devices, but the coaches probably are looking for computer aid, too.

The fine art of juggling good athletes among the field events, relay and individual running classes to achieve the maximum number of points in a tight meet can be a problem.

Pontiac Catholic now has a 4-1 record in Detroit Catholic League activity thanks to Mount Clemens St. Mary's inability to master the juggling.

The Titans won their duel meet Sunday, 60-58, when St. Mary unintentionally used an ineligible runner in the final deciding mile relay.

One of the Mount Clemens boys already had been in his maximum number of events when he ran in their "winning" relay squad. PCHS was handed the five points by default and thus claimed the meet.

Freshman Kelly Dean again paced the Titans, remaining undefeated in the high hurdles (:17.6) and jumping 5-6 for first in the high jump. He also was third in the shot put.

CHANGES SCHEDULE

Northern has rescheduled its tennis match with Farmington from Friday to Saturday and athletic director Herc Renda is attempting to do the same in baseball.

★ ★ ★

The diamond switch isn't as easy, though, because of the heavy demand on umpires. If the change is affected, the earlier suspended game between the two teams will be completed prior to the regularly scheduled meeting.

In that one, PNH, has a 4-0 lead and is batting with one man out and a runner at first base in the top of the fourth inning.

Thus the Huskies will have the rare role of batting first while playing on their own diamond. But the normal procedures will apply in the second contest.

★ ★ ★

PNH shortstop Mike Clancy has been accepted at Oakland University where basketball coach Dick Robinson is awaiting the 5-11, 160-pounder as a backcourt prospect next winter.

OU has already had one outstanding athlete from Northern in its brief sports history. Gary Cobb set several records while running cross country and track.

Another former PNH letterwinner in baseball, Ken Mazur, caused some consternation for a Carthage College rival this spring.

With Carthage's Redmen enjoying a 5-2 lead and having the bases loaded and two men out in the fifth inning, Elmhurst College's coach pulled his right-hander hurler in favor of a southpaw as Mazur took his left-handed stance at the plate.

The freshman from Pontiac (who plays with Pass Excavating in the city Class A League) promptly switched to the right side (his natural stance) and lashed a base-clearing double on the third pitch.

★ ★ ★

Mazur is the only switchhitter on Carthage's 17-man varsity roster, much to the chagrin of the Elmhurst mentor.

First Defeat for Top Nine in Northwest

Kimball, Dondero Also Post Baseball Wins in County Slate

Mike McCoy struck out eight and fashioned a three-hitter yesterday as North Farmington handed Wayne John Glenn its first loss in Northwest Suburban League play, 1-0.

North Farmington (2-3) managed only one hit off Glenn's (4-1) Len Anderson, a third-inning single by Scott Jentz that enabled McCoy to score the only run of the game. McCoy raced to third on Jentz' single and then came home on an error by the right-fielder.

In another Northwest game, Livonia Franklin pushed across a run in the 10th to down Oak Park (1-4), 3-2.

In other games, Royal Oak Kimball (4-5) downed Berkley, 6-4, Royal Oak Dondero nipped Highland Park, 6-5, and Novi pushed across a run in the bottom of the ninth to edge Ypsilanti Roosevelt, 3-2.

Fred Shellnut collected a home run, a single and three RBI to pace the Kimball victory. Tom Conlan and Greg Clugston picked up three hits in a losing effort for Berkly.

★ ★ ★

Larry Killebrew doubled home two runs and Dan Erickson singled two more across in the seventh as Dondero came from behind to post its fifth win (5-2).

Doug Earl raced home on a squeeze bunt by Tom VanWagner in the last of the ninth to give Novi (4-1) the victory. Paul Faulkner picked up two safeties for Novi.

★ ★ ★

Cranbrook got a single and double off the bat of Ned Heavenrich for three runs batted in to score a 6-3 triumph over Western Reserve of Cleveland yesterday.

Four singles by Ron Fonda, Heavenrich, Sandy Heavnerich and Bob Mosher accounted for the 4-run first frame.

Walled Lake Little League Opens Season

The Walled Lake Consolidated School District Little League opened its 1968 campaign Sunday with the four games highlighted by the no-hit hurling of 12-year-old Dan Burlingame.

★ ★ ★

The youthful right-hander blanked Commerce Township's Firemen, 1-0, while facing 19 batters — just one over the minimum.

Kirk Emmons, reaching base on a fielder's choice, stole second and raced home on Todd Schneider's single for the only run Burlingame needed.

In other Major League results, the Red Sox downed the Dodgers, 6-1, the Indians nipped the Pirates, 9-8, and the Orioles beat the Lions, 5-1.

In the Minors, the Cardinals downed the Yankees, 5-2, the Red Sox whipped the Dogers, 7-6, and the Orioles blanked the Lions, 15-0.

Berkley Golfer Gets Publinx Top Spot

A 34-37-71 brought Rayme Martin of Berkley the top spot in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association handicap tournament at Rochester Sunday. Pontiac's Glen Vallance was second with a 73.

Sharing the second flight with net scores of 71 were Chuck Thronton, Earl Wilke, Mike Wiegand and Jim Rawlings.

John Weipert led the third flight with a net 66, while Chuck Bologna's net 63 paced the fourth division.

Mays Celebrates Birthday, but Houston Cheers Victory

By the Associated Press

Roy Hofheinz presented Willie Mays with an "Astrodomical" birthday cake, but Denny Lemaster wasn't giving away a thing.

Hofheinz, the Texas-thinking owner of the Houston Astros, helped the Giant slugger celebrate his 37th birthday in the Astrodome Monday night. He gave Mays a cake weighing 569 pounds, one for every one of his career homers.

★ ★ ★

Then the game started and Willie might have been back in the dressing room eating his cake for all the hitting he did. He went 0-for-3 at the plate as Lemaster shackled the Giants and Rusty Staub and his teammates poured it on for a 10-2 Houston victory.

The cake, according to those who did the counting, was eight feet square and contained 3,800 eggs. Hofheinz also gave Mays a couple of gallons of champagne, which he thoughtfully shared with his fellow Giants to drown their post-game sorrows.

In other National League games Monday night, Cincinnati bombed Philadelphia 10-1, Pittsburgh edged Atlanta 2-1 and St. Louis trimmed New York 2-1 in SIX RBI 10 innings.

Staub, spraying hits with abandon, drove in six runs for the Astros with a double and three singles. Gaylord Perry, 2-2, was the victim of seven runs in the first two innings. Lemaster gave up the Giants' only run on Willie McCovey's seventh homer in the eighth.

John Bench broke out of a hitting slump with a homer, a single and a double in the Phillies' lopsided triumph. George Culver went the distance for Philadelphia despite giving up 10 hits. Pete Rose homered and extended his hitting streak for the Reds to 21 games.

Donn Clendenon's two-run homer in the fourth inning, his fourth of the season, gave Pittsburgh the slim margin it needed to beat the Braves. Jim Bunning allowed Atlanta just four hits, but had to leave in the eighth with a twisted ankle. The injury was not believed to be serious.

Lou Brock tripled in the 11th and scored on Orlando Cepeda's single to break up a tight duel between Bob Gibson of the Cards and Tom Seaver of the Mets. Gibson, striking out 11, gave up only three hits and none in the last seven innings. Seaver gave up just three hits after the second.

Maples Net Kimball, 5-2

Birmingham Seaholm knocked Royal Oak Kimball from the ranks of the unbeaten yesterday in high school tennis activity.

The Maples rolled to a 5-2 decision, taking two of the singles matches and all of the doubles events.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

West's one no-trump overcall showed the equivalent of an opening no-trump. North's two-heart bid indicated a poor hand with heart support. With a good hand, North would have doubled. East's three-diamond call was competitive, while South's jump to four hearts was the bid that anyone else would have made.

JACOBY

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the ace. The late Sidney Silodor, who sat South, ruffed the second diamond and led hearts. West won the second heart and returned the suit, and Sidney was in dummy with two tricks lost and two more potential losers.

It would be simple enough to try both black finesses, but Sidney did not even consider that line of play. He simply counted up the points for a 16-18 no-trump and saw that West was marked with both the king of spades and queen of clubs. He had to find some way to eliminate one of those black losers.

One method would be to play his ace and queen of spades. If West held exactly two spades, he would be end-played then and there, but if West held two spades, East would hold five and would probably have bid some number of spades. So the spade play was out.

Only one line that could succeed remained and Sidney adopted it. He played ace, king and nine of clubs. He played the nine because it was just possible that, with an original holding of four clubs, West might decide that East held the jack and duck.

It wasn't likely that West would fall for this play, but it was likely that he didn't hold as many as four clubs.

So Sidney played clubs and, when West took his queen, he had to lead away from his king of spades in order to avoid giving Sidney a ruff and discard.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♠	Dble	Rdble
2 ♣	2 ♠	3 ♣	4 ♠
Pass	Pass	5 ♣	Pass
Pass	5 ♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ A 8 7 6 4 ♥ A 10 5 3 2 ♦ 5 4 ♣ 3

What do you do now?

A—Bid five hearts. This shows some slight slam interest and does not shut out five spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding goes the same way except that East and West bid diamonds not clubs. What do you do over East's five diamond bid?

MOSCOW (UPI)—In World War II Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Britain ordered captured German arms stored for possible use against the Russians, Marshal Ivan Konev, a wartime Soviet hero, said yesterday. Konev contended in his published memoirs German weapons were stored in such a way they could be distributed again to German soldiers.

For Wednesday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Toward evening hours the world seems brighter for you. Earlier there are apt to be misunderstandings at office, with those working for you or serving you. Be receptive, but don't be bullied.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Misunderstanding with children should not be blown out of proportion. After early evening hours much can be settled—but you may have to make concession where expenses are concerned.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Check details before arriving at decision. Tendency is to want to overthrow routine. Wise course dictates that you adhere to regulations. Then balance is obtained, ultimate success shown.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Shake off status quo. Today you can eradicate situation which has been of concern to family. Enjoy fine companionship.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Journey you may have contemplated comes closer to reality. Early today you are concerned with cost, finances, possessions, but this is straightened out through aid of family member.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Cycle continues high, but you must make effort to view persons, situations in more realistic light. Avoid self-deception. The truth can be beneficial, especially today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Heavier responsibility due, but you may also receive greater rewards. Secrets are exposed which benefit you. Accent on ability to convince others of your worth. Success is indicated.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Today you find that persons who opposed you now come over to your side. Be gracious. Avoid an I-told-you-so attitude. Help those who confide in sincere manner. You'll be repaid.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You attract allies, friends—hopes and wishes come closer to reality. Key is to ask for what is really required. Some watch to determine if you can be practical. Show you are capable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Knowledge recently gained can be put to practical use. Express confidence, especially in yourself. Others, including superiors, will follow suit. Key is to control the pace.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Indications point to change and travel, mainly based upon communication. Nothing definite is settled if you are stubborn. Listen to reason—be analytical.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Check financial details. There could be loophole which works against you. If observant, you save money—gain shown also through versatile approach. AQUARIUS individual aids cause.

Sewer Plan Okayed for Mott High School

THE Waterford Township Board last night authorized the township attorney to prepare a resolution adopting a program for providing sanitary sewer service to Waterford Mott High School.

Scheduled to open this fall, the high school is at Pontiac Lake and Scott Lake roads.

The 2,500 feet of eight-inch sewer laterals are to be constructed from Pontiac Lake to the north end of Jeffrey Manor subdivision on Scott Lake Road.

The estimated $46,200 cost for interim service also includes house leads.

★ ★ ★

The school district also would be credited with an estimated $49,650 to future connections.

REZONING BIDS

In other business last night, the board introduced two rezoning requests previously recommended for denial by the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee.

They are proposals to rezone property on M59 at Paulsen from general business (C2) to Multiple dwelling (R2) for apartments and property at Hatchery and Dixie Highway from C2 to extensive business (C3) with special approval for a storage lot for building materials.

★ ★ ★

Also last night, the board approved a request for a lot split in Dixie Trail subdivision.

2 More Parties File Petitions

State Deadline Passes for Spot on the Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's newest political party, the New Politics party, filed for a spot on the Nov. 5 election ballot Monday—and may be running a candidate for president.

Representatives of the New Politics party filed petitions bearing an estimated 18,500 signatures. The minimum number of valid signatures required to get on the ballot is 13,371.

★ ★ ★

Monday, at 5 p.m., was the deadline for a spot on the ballot.

Another late filer Monday afternoon was the Prohibition party, a perennial entry among the minority parties. The antiliquor group filed petitions with 14,474 claimed valid signatures.

PREVIOUSLY ENTRIES

Previously filing were the Socialist Workers and Socialist Labor parties. The American Independent party, pushing former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace for the presidency, filed petitions bearing 32,101 signatures with the secretary of state's office Friday.

An organizer for the New Politics party, Robert Preston, a graduate student at the University of Michigan, said it has strong support among younger voters.

Preston and other backers said the party was antiwar, wants a complete reassessment of U.S. foreign policy and has a strong stand on civil rights. The group calls for giving Negroes political and economic control in their own communities.

The only declared candidate from the new group so far is Bertram Garskof, an assistant professor of psychology at Michigan State University. Garskof, who said he keeps his residence at Ann Arbor, plans to run for Congress from the 2nd Congressional District.

"We hope to have five to eight other candidates for Congress and perhaps a candidate for president," Garskof said.

SURPRISE FOR STOCKHOLDERS — A woman, who identified herself as Evelyn Y. Davis, holds an aluminum dress she wore to the U.S. Steel Corp. annual meeting in Pittsburgh yesterday "to show the competition we are getting from aluminum." She made the presentation more dramatic by standing up halfway through the meeting and removing the dress. Then she presented it to the Board Chairman Roger Blough. She wore another dress underneath.

High Court Rules

State Housing Authority Legal

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Supreme Court Monday upheld the constitutionality of an 18-month-old but as yet largely inoperative law setting up a state housing authority to finance low-cost housing construction.

Though the vote of the eight-man bench was unanimous, seven of the eight justices had reservations about whether certain sections of the 1966 lawn conform to the 1963 State Constitution.

★ ★ ★

Only Justice Theodore Souris was content to say the law meets constitutional tests. He said the other seven went "far beyond" the two specific constitutional questions asked of the court by Gov. George Romney on Jan. 3, 1967.

The majority opinion, written by Justice Thomas Brennan and concurred in by five other justices, answered Romney's questions at length. Joining Brennan were fellow Republicans Harry Kelly, Michael O'Hara, and John Dethmers, the chief justice; and Democrat Eugene Black.

LYING DORMANT

Concurring in the result but differing in detail were Democrats Paul Adams and Thomas Kavanagh. Souris was alone in his opinion, which said he agreed that the law was constitutional but would not comment further on "other constitutional issues considered by my brethren or still lying dormant in the act."

Brennan said the act does not violate a constitutional provision forbidding the state to extend its credit to any person or corporation. He also said the Legislature may appropriate funds to the authority's capital reserve fund, but only by a two-thirds vote.

★ ★ ★

The court's ruling thus apparently opened the way to the full operation of the authority, which has been held up by lack of financing and by the wait for the opinion of the court.

The act provides that the State Housing Development Authority borrow money through general obligation bonds, then lend it out to builders and investors to construct low-cost housing.

STATE MONEY

The court said the bonds sold would not be considered as obligations of the state and that the state housing authority money would not be state money.

A bill containing $3.5 million for the authority next year cleared the House by a bare majority earlier this year and is now being considered by the Senate. It now will apparently require the two-thirds approval of the Senate and repassage by the House with the required majority to meet the court's standards.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Raymond R. Guest has resigned his post as U.S. ambassador to Ireland to participate in the U.S. presidential campaign, according to an embassy spokesman.

Guest, 61, Virginia racehorse breeder, declared himself for Vice President Humphrey H. Humphrey in a recent interview.

The spokesman said last night it was likely that Guest would take an interest in the Virginia campaign and attend the Democratic convention in Chicago in August.

Guest has been stationed in Dublin three years.

Ironic Postscript to 'Message to Garcia'

Seventy years ago the world thrilled to the feat of Lt. Andrew S. Rowan of the U.S. Army who sent word to U.S. command forces in the Spanish-American War that he had successfully delivered his "message to Garcia."

Garcia was Cuban rebel Gen. Calixto Garcia and the message Rowan had delivered to him in his stronghold deep in the Cuban mountains was that the United States had joined him in his war against Spain.

An ironic postscript to that historic incident was written in Richmond, Va., recently when a man was hurt in an accident and rushed to the emergency room of St. Mary's Hospital for treatment.

"What's your name?" asked the nurse who came to his aid.

"Carlos Garcia-Velez," he replied.

"Do you spell 'Garcia' the way it's spelled in 'a message to Garcia'?" she asked.

"Yes. The Garcia who received the message was my great-grandfather," he said.

"Well," said the surprised nurse, Mrs. Regina Rowan Hola, "the man who carried the message to your grandfather was my father's cousin."

UCLA Grid Star Signs for TV Role

Gary Beban, the UCLA quarterback, has not agreed with the Los Angeles Rams on contract terms to play football but meanwhile he has signed to make his television acting debut.

Group to Fete Truman at 84

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Harry S. Truman, who observes his 84th birthday Wednesday, will be honored at a luncheon by friends and admirers as "the man of peace." Truman was born May 8, 1884.

It is uncertain, however, whether the former president will attend the annual affair. He has been staying close to his home in Independence, Mo., except for an occasional morning walk accompanied by a police officer.

★ ★ ★

Henry J. Talge, retired businessman and personal friend of Truman, said it would be a chore for the former president to shake hands with between 200 and 300 persons expected to attend the luncheon.

Fetal Immunization Is Studied

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan State University scientists say they have found evidence that unborn mammals, lambs in this case, are able to produce antibodies against disease and infection.

★ ★ ★

Much remains to be discovered about the mechanisms that fight disease, they add, but it may someday be feasible to immunize fetal mammals—including humans—so they are born with protection against a variety of diseases.

Dr. Marvis Richardson, associate professor of microbiology and public health, reported Monday that she and two colleagues injected organisms into the blood of unborn lambs and triggered production of antibodies that fight the disease Brucellosis, or undulant fever.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Richardson reported her work and that of Drs. Clifford Beck and Davis Clark to the American Society for Microbioloby. Beck is an associate professor of veterinary surgery and medicine and Clark, also a microbiologist, is assistant to MSU's vice president for research development.

★ ★ ★

The researchers succeeded for the first time in stimulating the antibodies in the fetus that react specifically to Brucella antigens, Dr. Richardson said.

Antigens are the substances that cause the body to produce disease-fighting brucellosis.

Until about 10 years ago, Dr. Richardson said, it was believed not sufficiently developed to produce antibodies against disease or infection.

The MSU research on Brucellosis is the first such work on that disease, she said.

Trading Is Active

Mart Continues Upward Move

NEW YORK (AP) — A steady, upward movement was continued by the stock market in active trading early today.

The ticker tape at the New York Stock Exchange lagged as the market advanced.

The Dow Jones industrial average, ahead from the start, was up 5.55 points at 920.08 at noon.

★ ★ ★

The forward trend was attributed in part by brokers to acceptance by the House Ways and Means Committee on a spending limitation plan which opens the way for congressional action on a tax increase. And by the committee chairman's prediction that the measure will pass the house.

★ ★ ★

They also cited a report that the nation's balance of payments deficit for the first quarter of this year dropped sharply as helping the market.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.5 at 329.9, with industrials up 1.9, rails up 1.0, and utilities up .7.

Gains outnumbered losses by better than 2 to 1.

★ ★ ★

Commercial Credit, the most-active stock, was off ● at 44½.

Spending Cut Now at Issue

Congressional Battle Escalates Over Size

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's income tax hike bill, cold-shouldered since last summer by the House Ways and Means Committee, is basking in the relative warmth of the panel's qualified endorsement.

But the congressional fight has escalated over the size of a proposed spending cut tied to the tax boost.

★ ★ ★

Making its first formal decision on the $10 billion income-tax increase request, the committee voted for the hike Monday provided federal spending is cut at least $4 billion.

The House Appropriations Committee had previously recommended this figure and Johnson has said he would accept it, although reluctantly.

'SURRENDER'

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the ways and means committee called the panel's action "a surrender and a capitulation" in the face of White House urgings. The committee's vote for the tax bill was 17 to 6, with 13 Democrats and 4 Republicans supporting it. Byrnes and other Republicans opposed it.

As for the committee's setting a $4 billion minimum in spending reductions, Byrnes said: "That's their weasel out to accept $4 billion. For all practical purposes, $4 billion is now the ceiling as well as the floor for reductions."

★ ★ ★

Byrnes and other Republicans want a $6 billion cut, and the Senate has voted in favor of the larger amount.

Magazine to Sell Less in Try to Make More

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The peculiar economics of magazine publishing is illustrated by the Saturday Evening Post's decision to cut its circulation in half in an attempt to make money.

CUNNIFF

This is a desparate move. In the past seven years the Post has been largely responsible for more than $50 million in losses by its parent, the Curtis Publishing Co.

★ ★ ★

To most people, though, it seems strange that the way to profits is sought in a reduction of circulation. But this isn't the first time the Post has gone in that direction.

In 1964, when its finances were equally distressing, the Post cut the number of issues in half, becoming a biweekly after many years as a weekly—more than 200 if you subscribe to the official Post history.

PRICE INCREASES

In another attempt to get itself on more solid financial footing the publication has been raising its price. As recently as 1959 the Post sold for 15 cents. It went to 20 cents that year, 25 in 1964 and 35 in 1966.

Now, with revenues continuing to fall far short of expenses, the most drastic cut of all is being made. Subscriptions will be sliced from 6.4 million to about three or four million. Why?

Primarily because of growing expenses per copy. Production costs have been increasing. Labor and printing expenses were rising steadily recently. And now postal costs have taken a jump.

As a result, some magazines find themselves in a numbers game. As circulation rises so do costs. If ad revenue cannot keep pace with circulation, a point can be reached where the greater the circulation the greater the financial damage.

COLLAPSED AT PEAK

This situation actually occurred a few years ago when Coronet magazine—unrelated directly to the present publication of the same name—collapsed at the height of its circulation, at what appeared to be the peak of its popularity.

At the time, Coronet was selling low-cost subscriptions, hoping thereby to build a strong mass marketing vehicle for advertisers. But the ads didn't come in fast enough.

Other magazines also dropped out of the numbers game. Some folded and others simply gave up their frantic and costly attempts to show bigger subscription tolls than their competitors.

The Post decision, however, is unique in scope. Nobody seems to recall another publication that cut its circulation in half. But isn't this also going to cut the price that advertisers are willing to pay for space?

TO EMPHASIZE 'QUALITY'

Perhaps, but the Post obviously hopes that the cut won't be drastic. Instead of seeking the largest possible market, the Post intends to emphasize "quality," and quality circulation obtains premium ad rates.

Its intention now is to make the publication a more refined marketing tool for advertisers. It has decided to retreat from mass market competition and to aim its efforts at the wealthiest, best educated readers.

★ ★ ★

It is no secret that advertisers have been grumbling that much of the circulation on which magazine ad rates are based was worthless to them, that it was made up of readers who were not potential customers.

The Post has heeded these complaints and now intends to go into target marketing—aiming at specific buying groups and hoping as a result to enlist the support of previously balky advertisers.

You can't say the Post isn't trying. A magazine that resorts to self-surgery has the instinct to live.

Coverage of Riots Wins Pulitzer Prize

NEW YORK (AP) — Three 1968 Pulitzer Prizes for journalistic excellence have been awarded to members of the Knight Newspaper group.

John S. Knight, editorial director of the Knight Newspapers, was honored Monday for distinguished editorial writing. Eugene Gray Payne of Knight's Charlotte, N.C., Observer, was named the outstanding editorial cartoonist of 1967.

★ ★ ★

The staff of Knight's Detroit Free Press was cited for local reporting of the 1967 Detroit riots and their causes.

In the arts, the Pulitzer Prize for fiction went to William Styron's controversial novel, "The Confessions of Nat Turner."

No award was given for drama.

EXPOSE WINS

The Pulitzer Prize for meritorious public service was won by the Riverside, Calif., Press-Enterprise for its expose of corruption in the courts in connection with the handling of property and estates of an Indian tribe in California.

George F. Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, received the 1968 award for biography for "Memoirs 1925-1950." In 1957 he won in the history category.

The award for a straight news photograph went to Rocco Morabito of the Jacksonville, Fla., Journal. His picture of an unconscious utility lineman being revived by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was captioned, "The Kiss of Life."

Feature news photography was established as a separate category for the first time this year and the prize was won by Toshio Sakai of United Press International. His Vietnam war combat photograph, "Dreams of Better Times" showed a weary American solider asleep in the rain while a buddy kept watch.

The national reporting prize was awarded jointly to Howard James of the Christian Science Monitor for a series of articles on "Crisis in the Courts" and to Nathan "Nick" Kitz of the Des Moines Register.

Kotz was cited for his "reporting of unsanitary conditions in many meat packing plants, which helped insure the passage of Federal Wholesome Meat Act of 1967."

The prize for International Reporting was awarded to Alfred Friendly of the Washington Post for his coverage of the Middle East war in 1967.

J. Anthony Lukas of the New York Times was the prize for local investigative reporting for his account of the life and murder of Linda Fitzpatrick. She was slain with her hippie boyfriend in an East Village tenement boiler room in New York.

'Mortgage Cost Could Hit 10 Pct.'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today 10 per cent mortgage money is a possibility should Congress fail to pass the 10 per cent income tax surcharge he seeks.

Johnson made this statement in signing into law legsilation removing the 6 per cent interest ceiling on mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration and guaranteed by the Veterans Administration.

Rates on FHA and VA mortgages will now find their own level in the market place and Johnson predicted that the higher rates expected—perhaps 6½ half per cent—would make it easier for Americans to finance home purchases.

The President voiced congratulations to the House Ways and Means Committee for its decision to endorse a ten per cent tax increase coupled with a $4 billion cutback in federal spending in the bookkeepingyearthat begins July 1.

Commission to Air Plan for Parking Mall

Parking for downtown Pontiac will be discussed at tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

Commissioners are scheduled to receive a progress report on plans for establishment of a parking mall on Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence.

Target date for instituting the mall parking is May 20.

In a related matter, the commission will receive another progress report on the removal of parking along Huron between the two loops of Wide Track Drive.

★ ★ ★

Under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, Huron is to become a five-lane roadway with the removal of the parking.

TARGET DATE

A target date of May 27 has been suggested for the ban on parking.

As now planned, the new Saginaw Street mall parking would be in effect when the parking meters are removed from Huron, which might eliminate some potential problems, according to a City Hall spokesman.

In other business tonight, a local Youth Opportunities Committee is slated to be organized. The committee, one of several being appointed across the country in various cities, is to coordinate work and recreation opportunities for young people during the summer.

★ ★ ★

Also tonight, it will be recommended to the commission that two city-owned buildings be scheduled for demolition.

DEMOLITION SLATED

The two buildings proposed for demolition are the former water works building south of the Hayes Jones Community Center, which formerly housed the electrical department, and the old incinerator building, East Boulevard and Featherstone, which formerly housed part of the parks and recreation department.

★ ★ ★

The two city departments have moved into the former Consumers Power Co. building on Wessen, which was recently taken over by the city.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — Lately I've been buying utility stocks for their high yield: Detroit Edison, Ohio Edison, Philadelphia Electric, and Duquesne Light. I also own Consumers Power, as I work for this company. I'm considering American Tobacco and Youngstown Sheet & Tube. I hope to take early retirement in 11 years. What are your thoughts on the foregoing?—J. R.

A — I think you hold some excellent electric utilities, two of which — Duquesne and Ohio Edison — may be participants in a new Midwestern eight-member holding company recently proposed. If the companies involved reach an agreement and gain the approval of regulatory agencies, it is expected that revenues would top those of other U.S. power systems.

Since your retirement is set for 1979, I believe you should now change your objective from high yield to strong growth. I strongly urge you to begin a program of long-term investment to enhance your capital and protect yourself against inflation.

Your current holdings and proposed purchases show an average price spread of 9½ points during 1967 and 1968 to date. For the same period a similar number of growth stocks recommended in my column, including American Hospital Supply, Plough, Del Monte, EG&G, and Marshall Field, showed an average price spread of 39 points. You might make a start by dividing your present reserves between Georgia-Pacific and R. H. Macy, both of which offer a promising outlook for continued growth.

★ ★ ★

Q — Please identify the 20 or more U.S. Treasury issues acceptable at par for payment of federal estate taxes. — O.H., D.O.

A — Regretfully lack of space prohibits my doing so, but I am glad to name the five currently quoted at the most favorable discount — below 80 at this time of writing. They are: 3s 1995; 3¼s 1978-83 and 1985; 3½s 1990 and 1998. The rest of the list sell higher because they mature sooner and some coupons are higher.

CWA Prods State Dissidents

LANSING (AP) — An attempt to persuade rebel locals of the Communications Workers of America to return to work for Michigan Bell Telephone Co. was only a partial success Monday.

National officials of the CWA met with local presidents at Lansing to ask them to man their telephone assignments again in accordance with a national agreement reached Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Walter Schaar, CWA district vice president for Michigan, Ohio and a part of Kentucky, recommended to the local presidents that they remove pickets, go back to work and reenter negotiations.

The plea met with rejection from Local 4000 in Detroit, the largest CWA Local in the state.

'NOTHING CHANGED'

Local 4000 strike director Leonard Florkey said nothing happened at the meeting to change the situation of his unit and indicated that picket lines would be up again today at Michigan Bell facilities in Detroit.

Schaar, also a member of the national executive board of the union, said that of the 36 local leaders attending, 23 accepted, three flatly refused and 10 said they would take back the proposal and discuss it with local executive boards and their memberships.

★ ★ ★

A Michigan Bell spokesman in Detroit said he had not been officially informed of the outcome of the Lansing meeting and declined to comment on it.

Local 4000 represents about 5,300 of some 16,000 striking employes in Michigan.

Officials of the local said earlier they would advise their members to ignore the national settlement.

Schaar and other union officials refused to identify the 23 accepting, three refusing and 10 taking the matter under consideration.

One of the leaders reluctant to order his members to return and willing to speak on the record was William Moultrie, president of Local 4016, representing workers in Macomb and Oakland counties and part of St. Clair County.

"We flatly refused the suggestion," he said. "We want a decent contract and will stay on strike until we get it."

NO MORE MEETINGS

Schaar said no similar meetings were scheduled for the immediate future. The next step, he said, should be for the locals to go back to the bargaining table.

"But we are concerned," he commented, "what effect it will have at the bargaining table with some locals still on strike and others going back to work."

In Pontiac the Bell office at East Huron and Mill was still being picketed this morning by members of Local 4090 of the CWA installers unit union. About 30 workers at the office are out on strike along with 23,000 members nationally in the Western Electric division of the Bell System.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac area telephone workers in Local 4012 approved their contract and were reportedly back at work except at the Mill Street office.

The CWA was reportedly requesting the installers to hold another ratification vote today to end the tie-up.

Griffin Calls Nixon GOP Front-Runner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon does not have the Republican presidential nomination locked up but "is way out in the lead," says Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich.

Griffin supported George Romney for the GOP presidential nomination until the Michigan governor withdrew. He did not say whether he now prefers Nixon or Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

★ ★ ★

However, Griffin, one of the 48-man Michigan delegation to the Republican national convention at Miami Aug. 5, told a reporter that Nixon is not only leading nationally for delegates, "but he probably is in the lead in terms of the Michigan delegation."

"It is still a long time between May and August," Griffin said, "and this is a year of unexpected happenings."

"NO PUSHOVER"

Discussing the Republicans' chances of capturing the White House in November, Griffin said, "I think they have a good chance, but it is a long way from a push over."

Helping the Republicans this year, he said, is dissatisfaction with the Johnson Administration, unrest at home, violence in the streets, inflation and the fiscal crisis.

Griffin said he has not talked with Romney, but personally believes the governor would accept a vice presidential place on the ticket if the Republican nominee would ask him.

King Day Sought

EAST LANSING (AP) — The board of directors of the Michigan Education Association has adopted a resolution urging national recognition of the birth date of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. on par with the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. The association is urging that all its 1.1 million members combine efforts to petition state legislators, Congress and the President to enact legislation making Jan. 15 a day of national recognition for the slain civil rights leader.

Three Demand Break-In Exam

Three Detroit men, arrested Sunday in connection with a break-in at an Orion Township home, demanded examination at their arraignment yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering.

In Oakland County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bond set on each by Orion Township Justice of the Peace Helmar Stanaback are Roy Wilkins, 36, John Waller, 29, and Ezell Edwards, 24.

They were arrested after a witness told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that three men had entered a house at 2956 Walmsley after parking a truck nearby.

Deputies said Waller was arrested in front of the home, while Deputy Edward Stout used his dog to track Wilkins to a house under construction and Edwards to a hiding place on Waldon, about a mile away.

★ ★ ★

Preliminary examination for the three was set for May 28.

Sylvan Lake Hears Budget Tomorrow

The annual Sylvan Lake city budget hearing, on a proposed budget of $165,500, is tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the city hall.

Assessments for street improvements also will be discussed at the city council meeting. One plan to be discussed is for a citywide assessment for major street improvements.

Also scheduled for discussion is an extra assessment for people living on specific streets which need to be resurfaced.

Orion Twp. Fire Damages Home

An estimated $5,000 in fire damage occurred yesterday to an Orion Township home owned by Holly King at 4715 Joslyn.

Gingellville and Orion Township firemen fought the blaze for about two hours from 2:30 p.m. yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Damage was confined mainly to the interior of the house, according to Fire Chief Gerald Elmy.

He said an investigation of the cause is now being conducted.

Waterford JCs Elect Officers

Pontiac Div. Employe Is Chosen President

The Waterford Township Jaycees last night elected W. Cecil Stricklin, 31, of 3325 Angelus Drive president for 1968-69.

Married and the father of a son, Stricklin is employed in the labor relations department at Pontiac Motor Division.

Also elected were Richard Cooper, internal vice president; Larry Ettinger, external vice president; Darwin Johnson, ways and means vice president; Michael Halfpenny, recording secretary; Robert Newman, treasurer; and Robert Boomer, corresponding secretary.

Newly elected members of the Jaycees' board of directors are Gregory Neiswonder, Lyle Kitteredge and Jack Hull.

Reelected to the board were Michael Patterson, Ronald Rogers and David Zuehlke.

Immediate past president Charles Wood will serve as chairman of the board.

City Shooting of Woman Being Probed

Pontiac police said today they are investigating a shooting late yesterday in which the victim and a witness told conflicting stories.

Officers went to Pontiac General Hospital to question Marion Guthery, 26, of 110 Vernon, who had been shot once in the right hip about 8 p.m.

She said she was shot from a passing car while getting into an automobile on Branch near Orton, according to police.

However, investigators said a witness told them that another woman—known by the victim—had fired the shot.

★ ★ ★

Police said they found a 25-caliber shell casing in the car in which the victim was reportedly taken to the hospital.

She had been shot with a 25-caliber weapon, officers said.

Meeting Tonight for Those Wishing to Join March

The Oakland County Ministerial Association is to hold a mass meeting at 7 p.m. today for all persons interested in attending the Poor Peoples March in Washington, D. C., on May 15.

The meeting, which also kicks off a fund-raising campaign for trip, will be held at the Mount Calvary Baptist Church, 95 Marivia.

★ ★ ★

Other meetings are scheduled at St. James Baptist Church, 345 Bagley, tomorrow and at East Side Church of God, 343 Irwin, on Thursday.

Rev. Matthew M. Scott, president of the association, said he hopes to have about 89 persons attend the march.

Much of previous laboratory data obtained from studies of white rats may not be dependable as recently it has been discovered that rats emit an odor to other rats which may influence their behavior.

'New Career' Faces Senator From Arizona

WASHINGTON (AP) — "We're both on the brink of new careers," the President said to the senator at his side. "I know there's a need for teachers so I'm going back to where I began. But I wonder if Carl has cased the market for frontier sheriffs."

The audience of 500 laughed, loudly. Carl Hayden smiled, a little ruefully, and Lyndon Johnson returned the same smile.

★ ★ ★

They are fellow Southwesterners, fellow Democrats and friends.

But at that moment, there was something more: The understanding and sadness between two long-time politicians stepping voluntarily from public office.

NOT EASY

Minutes before, Hayden, 90, had announced he would not seek reelection to the Senate from Arizona. After serving on Capitol Hill for 56 years and 78 days—beginning on the day Arizona was admitted to the Union—it was not an easy thing to say.

★ ★ ★

Hayden is not the only Congress member retiring after this year. With him will go Sens. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., Frank Carlson, R-Kan., Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, George Smathers, D-Fla., and Reps. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., and A. S. Herlong Jr. D-Fla.

★ ★ ★

Hayden, who leaves Congress as chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee, made his announcement by reading a two-page mimeographed statement.

He managed the first page without faltering, speaking in a strong, loud voice. He cheerfully recalled his days as sheriff of Arizona's untamed Maricopa County.

★ ★ ★

He chuckled when he recalled that he won his first election with the support of just one weekly newspaper, and said he once went out to campaign and found only one man—an old prospector leading a burro.

One of the most meaningful expressions of love and sympathy at the time of a death is flowers. We know from experience what comfort they bring. A picture of each floral arrangement sent the funeral home, in color, is given to the family following the funeral. This provides a lasting record for the survivors and makes acknowledgement much easier.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR heartfelt thanks and appreciation during the brief illness and death of our dear Husband, Father, Grandfather and Brother, George Callender, to our Neighbors, Friends and Relatives, Rev. Willard Green, General Hospital, Woodside, Local 653, many at Pontiac Motors and Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home. Special thanks to Rev. Boyd Glover, the ladies of the Church of Christ and the staff at St. Joseph's Hospital on 4 West. — Mrs. George Callender and Family.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY of my dear mother, Jennie Nique who passed away May 7th, 1957:
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach,
Sweet to remember, she who was here.
Who has gone away, is just a dear.
Sadly missed by her daughter, Mrs. Verna Miller.

IN LOVING MEMORY of my dear husband, Floyd Dalby who passed away May 7, 1966. Also a dear son, Walter Edward Henderson, who passed away April 7, 1967.
I do not need a special day to bring you to my mind,
For the day I do not think of you is very hard to find.
If all this world were mine to give
I'd give it yes and more
To see the face of my loved ones come smiling through the door.
Since this cannot be
I know God has you in His keeping
But I have you in my heart.
Friends may think the wound is headled
But they so little know the sorrow that is in my heart concealed.
And your memory is a keepsake with which I'll never part.
Sadly missed by his wife and my son's mother, Minnie; grandson and nephew Ronnie; granddaughter and niece Louise Schuster.

He Loves Her ---and Tells

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Where the blue Pacific gently washes the sunny shores of Southern California, everybody knows that Dick Annotico loves Carol Appel.

The trouble is, Carol can't make up her mind. So—

★ ★ ★

Last Wednesday she got a bundle of record albums of love songs in the mail.

On Thursday a bouquet of flowers three feet wide came to the door.

On Friday, a 500-word telegram.

On Saturday, a big newspaper ad.

On Sunday a 13-page love letter.

On Monday, two 30-second radio commercials asking for her hand in marriage.

★ ★ ★

"I'm impressed," says Carol, a 26-year-old divorcee with two children Andy, 3, and Robby, 6. "But, seriously, I haven't made up my mind yet."

Star's Rise to Stage Notice Dates From Philly Collapse

By EARL WILSON

Walter Matthau, Take the Stand! . . .

Hollywood—"Walter, when did you first attract attention on the stage?"

Walter Matthau was sitting in his trailer at 20th Century-Fox where he's starring with Barbra Streisand in "Hello, Dolly!" He was scratching his neck with a comb. His galluses were hanging down.

"I'm vain enough to think I attracted attention when I did a walk-on in 'Anne of the Thousand Days' in 1948 in Philadelphia," he said.

He was playing a courier and was supposed to run on stage breathless, say "I've ridden 30 hours and am dead for sleep. This is for the lady and nobody's to know!"—and then collapse.

"To get in the mood for collapsing," he said WILSON in his slow speech that sometimes becomes a formidable boom, "I did kneebends backstage. I pushed it to 148 kneebends in Philadelphia, with the result that on opening night, I collapsed before I got my speech delivered. The part was cut out. But since they already had a suit made for me, they kept me on as a candelabra bearer."

"You studied acting at the Dramatic Workshop of the New School of Social Research with Tony Curtis . . .?"

"And with Harry Belafonte," Walter replied. "I used to say to Belafonte, 'Harry, you should stick to singing.' He could have said the same thing about me sticking to acting."

"You didn't attract as much attention as Jayne Mansfield in 'Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter'?"

"No, but I will be eternally grateful to playwright George Axelrod. Because he cast a girl in that show named Carol Grace. I kind of liked her so I married her."

A Look at TV

Can't Go? Rent a Critic

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Welcome to 1968. Now you can rent a critic.

The gentleman's name is J. C. Thomas, and he came to the attention of televiewers the other day on NBC's "Today" show.

His function was summed up briefly by host Hugh Downs:

"Very simply, if for some reason you can't attend a cultural event of some kind but you'd like to know what it was all about Mr. J. C. Thomas will go in your place and then he returns to give you a personal critique in your own home."

★ ★ ★

Mr. Thomas was asked what it cost for someone to rent his services as a critic.

"Twenty-five dollars," Mr. Thomas replied.

"Do you get many offers for this kind of work?" the rent-a-critic was asked.

"Oh," he said, "I've had perhaps a couple of dozen phone calls, Barbara. And of those . . . maybe nine people have hired me so far."

A CASE FOR SEAT BELTS — Driver Harold Phipps received only "a little dust on his jacket" when the cab of his truck slammed through a guard rail and dangled over a creek on U.S. 30 west of Omaha yesterday, because he was wearing a seat belt. Phipps said the truck flipped onto its side when he swerved to avoid divider posts on the highway.

Robbery Try Collapses

CLIMAX (AP) — The bank-robbery plans of two teen - age youths didn't get past the teller's window Monday.

★ ★ ★

Police in the southwestern Lower Michigan community of Climax said two youths, armed with a pistol and a sawed-off shotgun walked into the office of the First National Bank of Climax and announced a hold-up.

★ ★ ★

One youth approached a teller and demanded money. Before the teller could press the alarm, the youth fainted.

The unconscious youth was captured on the spot, but his partner fled. According to police, he ran from the bank and went to the home of a stranger. There, police said, he told a man he needed a ride to Fulton, about 15 miles south, because his wife was about to have a baby.

CAPTURED LATER

The man drove the youth to Fulton and, when he returned to Climax, heard of the robbery and called police. The second youth was captured a short time later in the town of Vicksburg, about 10 miles west of Fulton.

Names of the youths have not been released.

U-M Scientist Finds Bacteria

Could Lead to Cure for Boils and Acne

DETROIT (AP) — A University of Michigan scientist reported Monday on a discovery that could influence the treatment—and lead to a cure—of recurrent bacterial infections such as boils and acne.

★ ★ ★

The scientist, Dr. Antonia Brem of the university's School of Public Health, told her findings to the American Society for Microbiology conference in Detroit.

Dr. Brem traced the cause of such repititious infections as acne, boils, habitual abortions and listeriosis to "L-forms" of bacteria hibernating in healthy tissue.

She said these "L-forms" do not cause disease, but under certain conditions they quickly change into disease-causing bacteria. An "L-form" is an apparently harmless bacterium whose cell wall has been destroyed.

★ ★ ★

For her study, Dr. Brem obtained samples of Listeria monocytogenes from diseased patients hospitalized at the University of Michigan Medical Center. The bacterium can cause meningitis, septicemia and abortions in humans.

Dr. Brem first destroyed the cell wall with penicillin and then injected the surviving L - form into mice.

★ ★ ★

Although the L-form still could be detected months later, the mice were unharmed, Dr. Brem explained. But once the L - form was removed from the mouse, she said, it promptly regrew its cell wall and became virulent.

If reinjected into the mouse in its normal, bacterial form, Dr. Brem added, it killed the mouse in three days.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Brem reported that she has devised a new and more reliable technique for culturing L-forms which could provide one means of speeding hospital tests of patients.

Penicillin treatment renders the bacteria harmless, she said, but does not destroy it.

★ ★ ★

"To get a complete cure, physicians will need to destroy the L-form, with antibiotics such as erythromycin or sulfa drugs," she added.

Skin Divers Rush to Trapped Miners

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) — The call went out for skin divers today to aid in the rescue of 25 coal miners trapped inside a two-mile coal shift by thousands of gallons of water.

The divers were due in from Philadelphia before noon to aid the miners trapped in the low, L-shaped mine shaft since noon yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Surface rescue units, which worked through a night of near freezing temperatures, had made telephone contact with 15 of the entombed men. The other 13 were at the low end of the flooded shaft and had not been heard from since water poured through a mine wall from an adjacent abandoned mine.

The officials hoped the three divers equipped with scuba, self-contained underwater breathing apparatus, could make their way to the miners with air tanks and possibly food.

Rescue directors scored a breakthrough when they lashed plastic tubes containing water, sandwiches and hot coffee to the mine conveyor belt to the 15 trapped nearest the entrance.

The packages went in at 4:44 a.m. and 13 minutes later, the radiotelephone crackled with the word, "We got 'em."

"Those are real happy boys down there," said Southern Mines General Manager Tim Salvati. "They know if we can get food down to them, we'll probably get them out. Their morale is good."

H. E. Sundstrom, president of the Cherry River Coal Co., and now rescue supervisor, said efforts were made during the night to bore an air hole from near the top of the mountain, through 180 feet of earth and rock, to the spot where the men were trapped.

He said this would take about five hours. Another effort was being made to bore through to the men from the rear but Sundstrom said this would take two days to go through 800 feet of mountain.

★ ★ ★

One and a half hours after the first food packages were sent in, blankets and a large oxygen cylinder followed. The items were lashed to the conveyor belt in the same manner as the food packages.

IN RADIO CONTACT

Radio contact was maintained with mine foreman Frank Davis throughout the early morning hours and at dawn he reported that he heard the drill working above him.

RESCUE EFFORT — Teams of rescuers run aluminum piping into a flooded mine shaft yesterday at Hominy Falls, W. Va., where 25 coal miners are trapped. The passageway flooded about noon yesterday and trapped some of the miners two miles from the mine's entrance. Rescue efforts are continuing today and skin divers are being sent from Philadelphia to aid the operation.

15 Mills OK'd by Almost 3-1 Margin in Vote

Waterford Township School District voters yesterday passed a proposition by almost a 3-1 margin for renewal of the system's 15-mill taxing authority for operation.

The second largest voter turnout in the history of the district renewed the tax through 1983.

Some 6,088 voters cast ballots with 4,471 voting yes and 1,539 no. There were 78 void ballots.

The percentage wae 74 yes, 24 no and 2 void.

Yesterday's election was a contrast

from the Nov. 20 voting when a record 7,145 voters defeated a proposed 7½-mill property tax increase, 4,881 to 2,188.

CERTIFICATION TONIGHT

The school district's board of canvassers will meet tonight to certify yesterday's voting.

Supt. of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe and other school officials were elated over the comfortable margin of victory.

Said Tatroe:

"This was the second largest vote cast District and the identity of the school district has been preserved for the next several years.

★ ★ ★

"The whole community can be pleased with this result of the election. While it does not provide for a return of full educational program for all children or replace the important reductions which have been made in maintenance services, it represents an important first step toward a return to quality educational program.

★ ★ ★

"We owe a debt of thanks to the many citizens who worked so hard to help communicate the issues in this election."

The district could have levied the 15 mills ($15 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) again this December, but needed the approval of voters to assess the tax next year and in the future.

Lurleen Dies After Bout With Cancer

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace, 41, whose compassion for the afflicted symbolized her brief career as a public official, died in her sleep today after a two-year battle against cancer.

LURLEEN WALLACE

Her husband, George, whom she succeeded as governor 16 months ago, and her four children were at her bedside in the executive mansion when the end came at 12:34 a.m.

Lt. Gov. Albert Brewer, 39-year-old Decatur, Ala., attorney, became governor the moment she died under Alabama's law of succession.

Mrs Wallace's body was taken to a funeral home in Montgomery less than an hour after her death. There were only a few persons on hand as the hearse moved down the curved drive of the governor's mansion.

Brewer left his home immediately to drive the 185 miles to Montgomery to be with the Wallace family.

Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Despite the recurring cancer which caused three operations in two years, there was no known evidence that Mrs.

Wallace had been stricken with another malignancy since a small tumor was removed from her pelvic wall last Feb. 2.

But there were obvious debilitating aftereffects which tore away her resistance and ultimately left her too weak to fight back. Friends said she weighed only about 65 pounds.

★ ★ ★

The immediate cause of death was not made known in the official announcement from acting news secretary Ed Ewing. His voice quivering with emotion, Ewing said the governor "lost her gallant fight for life at 12:34 a.m. Tuesday, May 7. She died quietly in her sleep."

DAY OF PRIMARY

Mrs. Wallace died on the day thousands of Alabama voters were preparing to vote in a statewide Democratic primary election in which her husband was almost certain to win the presidential support of the regular Democratic party machinery in his state.

★ ★ ★

She took office in January 1967 with the promise that her husband would share in major decisions.

★ ★ ★

The four Wallace children — Mrs. James Parsons, 22; Peggy, 18; George Wallace Jr., 16, and Janie Lee Wallace, 7 — were at their mother's side when she died.

Showers Likely in Pontiac Area

Pontiac area residents may get a drenching tonight or tomorrow.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts increasing cloudiness and warmer today with a chance of showers or thundershowers through tomorrow.

Temperatures will continue mild, the low dipping to 44 to 49 tonight. The high is expected to reach into the upper 60s.

Morning winds southeasterly at five to 10 miles per hour will become southeast to south late this afternoon and increase to 12 to 20 miles tonight.

★ ★ ★

Mostly cloudy and cooler is the outlook for Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Showers or thundershowers may be expected throughout the state today and tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 10, tonight 30 and tomorrow 60.

A chilly 37 was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury climbed to 56 by 12:30 p.m.

Impure-Drug Study Due

DETROIT (UPI) — An international panel of microbiologists agreed here Monday Sweden's tough regulations against drug contamination were not likely to be adopted in the United States or Britain without further study.

Vhe panel of American, British and Swiss investigators said more must be known about the problems involved.

N. Korea Holds 'Agents'

TOKYO (AP) — North Korea claimed Tuesday to have captured a band of "U. S. agents" who had slipped across the demilitarized zone before dawn to commit "murder and subversion."

The North Korea Central News Agency said the band was armed with "various lethal weapons." It did not say how many men were captured. By U. S. agents, the Communists presumably meant South Koreans employed by the United States.

Term Extension Voiding Studied

State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said it is too early to tell whether the state will appeal an Oakland County Circuit Court decision voiding a state law that extended the terms of incumbent township officers.

"We'll have to review the decision and decide where to go from there," Kelley said in Lansing yesterday.

Earlier in the day, Judge William J. Beer declared the 1967 law unconstitutional after it was challenged by three Waterford Township residents.

The law provides that township officials elected in 1966 would serve until Nov. 20, 1970, eighteen months longer than the term to which they were elected.

★ ★ ★

The measure would have eliminated a lame duck period affecting township officers, elected in November but who did not take office until the following April.

WATERFORD CHALLENGE

The law was contested in a suit filed against Waterford Township Clerk Arthur J. Salley after he had refused to accept the nominating petitions of three persons eying township posts.

The complaintants in the suit were James F. Schell, Patrick K. Daly and Dorothy W. Olsen, Democratic hopefuls for the offices of supervisor, clerk and treasurer.

Salley rejected their petitions on the basis that there was to be no election, primary or general, for township offices this year because of the new state law.

★ ★ ★

The prospective candidates charged that they had been denied their right to run for public office and that the law denied the right of voters to fill the offices with whom they wanted.

In his ruling Beer gave the township

Reuther Routs UAW Rebels

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Walter P. Reuther, his opposition routed, is up for election today to a 12th two-year term as president of the United Auto Workers union.

The onetime threat of an opposition candidate to Reuther vanished and there were no announced candidates against the UAW's two vice presidents, Leonard Woodcock and Duane "Pat" Greathouse, or Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey.

Reuther has headed for 22 years the once-struggling union which now claims a membership of approximately 1.6 million members in the automobile, aerospace, agricultural implement and allied industries.

It is the largest union within the AFL-CIO, from which Reuther threatens to withdraw it because of differences with George Meany, 73-year-old president of the federation whom Reuther accuses of permitting the labor movement to "vegetate" and of exercising dictatorial rule.

★ ★ ★

The 60-year-old Reuther will be entitled to only the new term and one more as president unless the UAW changes a constitutional amendment adopted two years ago making retirement of officers mandatory at age 65.

REBELS CRUSHED

Rebels who challenged the Reuther administration leadership were crushed yesterday.

The rebels pushed for election of officers by unionwide referendum, instead of by convention delegates.

They were overwhelmingly defeated by the approximately 3,000 delegates on hand for the union's weeklong convention here.

★ ★ ★

The Reuther administration supported continuance of election by delegates, chosen by secret ballot in local union voting.

U.S. Cannot Run Out on S. Viets—Harriman

NEW YORK (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, who leaves for Paris this week to negotiate with the North Vietnamese, said last night the United States cannot run out on the SouthVietnamese.

"The United States now has a commitment on which it must make good," President Johnson's 77-year-old special envoy told the second annual Franklin D. Roosevelt Birthday Memorial Award Dinner. "In its simplest form it is to permit the people of South Vietnam to decide their own future, without outside interference."

The Americans and the North Vietnamese appeared to hold their preliminary peace talks in the Majestic Hotel in Paris, once a luxury hotel which has also been occupied by Hitler's Gastapo and UNESCO, the U.N. education, scientific and cultural organization.

Some U.S. officials were reported fearful that French university students who have been demonstratng and rioting for the past week over educational conditions would take to the streets on behalf of the Vietnamese Communists if the negotiations are held inside Paris.

★ ★ ★

"No one can foresee clearly the road ahead," Harriman told the dinner audience in New York." It is quite obvious, however, that patience will be required of the people of the Unitd States as well as the negotiators.

'DIFFICULT POSTURE'

"This is a difficult posture for Americans at any time, and particularly during an election year. We must have determination and firmness to achieve our fundamental objective."

Earlier yesterday the former governor of New York and frequent presidential troubleshooter conferred with President Johnson at the White House.

Both the U.S. charge d'affaires in Paris, Woodruff Wallner, and North Vietnamese envoy Mai Van Bo inspected the musty old Majestic yesterday, and U.S. approval of the site was reported soon after.

Bo was reported waiting for Hanoi's approval.

U.S. officials were reported seeking assurances from the French that police would keep all demonstrators away from the Majestic during talks. Student demonstrations against university regulations, inadequate facilities and alleged police brutality have closed the Sorbonne and suburban Nanterre University, and yesterday more than 1,000 students battled police throughout the Latin Quarter. It was the most violent street fighting in recent memory.

The students hurled paving stones, asphalt blocks and chunks of metal at the police, who retaliated with volley after volley of tear gas and smoke grenades. The Red Cross said dozens of students and police were injured.

American Troops Cut Off Vietcong Attack on Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — American tanks and armored personnel carriers joined the new battle of Saigon today, cutting off a Vietcong attack from the southwest in the third day of hard fighting on the city's fringes.

U.S. troops had not been used inside Saigon since they helped smash the Vietcong's lunar new year offensive in February. In the latest assaults, which began Sunday, the Americans have been outside the capital searching the enemy units which might further threaten the city.

U.S. officers believed the enemy thrusts both around Saigon and in South Vietnam's northern sector were aimed at giving the North Vietnamese a bargaining edge when preliminary peace talks with the United States open in Paris this week.

In the north, officers reported one enemy force surrounded near Hue and others withdrawing from around Dong Ha after losing more than 1,000 men in six days of close-quarter fighting.

★ ★ ★

The battle in southest Saigon today began when an estimated 150 Vietcong trying to push into the city attacked a South Vietnamese outpost near the Kinh Doi Canal.

Armored personnel carriers from the U.S. 9th Infantry Divison moved in to cut them off. The infantrymen reported killing 35 enemy soldiers, and five Americans were wounded.

The fighting subsided for a time, and the surviving Vietcong made a break for the bridge across the canal and into the city. But a second company of 9th Division armored personnel carriers got to the bridge first and pushed the Vietcong into a factory building.

South Vietnamese rangers took up blocking positions east of the factory, and the American armored force moved in on the trapped Vietcong.

Dixie Senator 'Knows of Plans for a D.C. Riot'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan says he'll expose plans by parties as yet unnamed to turn the Poor People's Campaign in Washington into a riot.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of a Senate investigations subcommittee, said he'll reveal what the panel uncovered about discussions by persons he said plan to move in during the planned nonviolent demonstration and "engage in rioting and battling."

His comments in the Senate came as Congress was considering Monday 26 bills aimed at limiting use of federal property by demonstrators for camp-ins.

The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is organizing caravans of poor people heading for Washington from Southern towns and cities across the nation.

The SCLC has not revealed where the demonstrators will camp while in Washington but reportedly favors building a "shanty town" on the Mall, between the Lincoln Memorial and the Washington Monument.

The first contingent of the Poor People's Campaign is due in Washington Monday. Campagin planners say they expect up to 15,000 demonstrators in the city by May 27.

One congressman, Democrat Alton Lennon of North Carolina, told a House subcommittee Monday he thinks 250,000 people will converge on Washinton.

Edward Weinberg, solcitor of the Interior Department, said existing laws and regulations are ample to deal with the situation.

News-Romney Showdown Near

DETROIT (AP) — A court showdown was expected in Detroit today on the attempt by Gov. George Romney and a Senate subcommittee to lend a hand in settlement of the 174-day-old Detroit newspaper strike.

The helping hand was successfully slapped away through legal action by the Detroit News and Peter B. Clark, its publisher.

Late yesterday, the Senate special subcommittee to investigate the strike voted unanimously to withdraw the subpoena it issued April 29 commanding the appearance of Clark.

Sen. Robert Huber, R-Birmingham, committee chairman, said the action was taken on the advice of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

★ ★ ★

REPRESENTATIVE TO APPEAR

Leon Cohan, Deputy Attorney General, said a representative of Kelley's office would appear to represent the governor and the Senate subcommittee before U.S. District Court Judge Damon Keith.

The hearing was set to determine whether the governor and the Senate subcommittee should be permanently barred from getting involved in attempts to settle the strike.

Keith last Wednesday dissolved the subpoena issued to Clark. A day later, a seven-judge district court panel upheld the decision, saying Clark could not be compelled to appear.

★ ★ ★

The News and its publsiher contended the purpose of the subpoena was "to carry out a plan to force a settlement of the Detroit newspaper strike in violation of the collective bargaining rights of the plaintiffs."

SENATORS ANGRY

Tempers of some of the senators were boiling last week when the legal fight was at its height.

A federal process server attempted to deliver to members of the special committee copies of the federal order declaring the subpoena void.

The process server was ejected from the subcommittee room and escorted out of the State Capital by Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Kenneth Templin.

★ ★ ★

The Senate committee gave no explanation in its resolution for the decision to withdraw the subpoena against Clark. Spokesmen for the attorney general's office also refused to discuss the reason behind the move.

Kelley Studies Rule Voiding State Law

30 days to decide if it will appeal. If it doesn't, Salley will have to accept the nominating petitions and place the names of the candidates on the ballot.

Douglas Booth, attorney for the township, said it will be up to the township board to decide if the case will be appealed, but that the decision probably won't be made until Judge Beer's order is studied.

WHY THEY WERE LATE!!—This photo taken by long-range camera from The Press is proof of why many employes in Pontiac were late for work this morning. The tie-up began on the Grand Trunk Western crossing at West Huron at 7:50 a.m. and lasted until 8:59 a.m. Train officials said a broken connection between cars caused the delay. Traffic backed up for about one-half mile and then was shuttled onto side streets.

Disabled Train Jams Traffic in City 1 Hour

Traffic on Pontiac's west side was tied up for over an hour this morning by a breakdown of a Grand Trunk Western Railroad train.

★ ★ ★

The train was stalled starting at 7:50 a.m. and cars were not removed from the area until 8:59 a.m. Ed Hinton, trainmaster of the Pontiac depot, said the delay was caused by a "broken knuckle" — the connection between two cars.

He said the train was 144 cars long (about 1½ miles) and was bound for Battle Creek.

Traffic was badly snarled in the downtown area with cars backing up about one-half mile on West Huron where the street was blocked near Wide Track. Pontiac police rerouted vehicles onto sidestreets to help ease the jam.

★ ★ ★

Hinton said other engines had to be brought up to move the freight cars. He said the "broken knuckle" probably occurred as the large, northbound train braked in the downtown Pontiac area. He said there was a sharp grade in this area due to a change in elevation.

U.S. Investigates Medicare Billings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government is running an extensive check on the claims doctors have made on the number of persons treated under Medicare, it was disclosed today.

"There have been a number of allegations" about the accuracy of bills submitted to the government under the program, Welfare Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen told a closed session of a House Appropriations Subcommittee in testimony released today.

★ ★ ★

"We have enough to be very much concerned about it," Cohen said.

"We are now making a very intensive survey of this. Where we have these kinds of allegations — I don't want to say that where a man has submitted these bills they are improper — we feel we ought to look into it very carefully.

Police Link Car to City Holdup

Pontiac police said today they have located what is believed to be the getaway car used in the April 30 robbery of $50,000 from two GMTC Credit Union employes.

A light green 1965 Pontiac reported stolen from Detroit the morning of the robbery was found in the General Motors Truck and Coach Division parking lot at West South Boulevard and Howland late yesterday.

Police said the car, which bears stolen license plates, answers the description of the getaway car given by a man who said he witnessed the robbery.

Tests are being run on the vehicle, including dusting for fingerprints, investigators said.

The witness, contacted by police two days after the robbery, told of seeing a lone gunman take the money, contained in a canvas bag, from the employes.

'ENTERED WAITING CAR'

He said the bandit then entered a waiting car, driven by an apparent accomplice.

★ ★ ★

The gunman had waited at a nearby bus stop until the employes returned with the money—intended for the cashing of payroll checks—from the Community National Bank.

★ ★ ★

The robbery took place in a parking lot separating the bank and the credit union, located at 939 Woodward.

Commissioner Questions Land-Purchasing Policy

BIRMINGHAM — the city's long-standing policy of purchasing land along the Rouge River as flood plain and park area was questioned by a city commissioner during a lengthy discussion last night on the sale of excess property.

Commissioner William E. Roberts criticized the practice when it was learned that the sale of a balance of property purchased as a natural asset would not cover the initial cost of the acquisition.

Depending on how the property is divided, either into two building lots or one and half lots, the price of the strip needed by the city will have cost from $5,000 to $15,000.

The excess property, which the city had to buy to obtain the land they wanted, is located on the east side of Lakeside just south of Redding.

The entire parcel cost the city $41,500. Under one plan, the city believes it can derive about $36,500 for the balance, for a net cost to the city of $5,000, while under the second proposal, it would only realize a return of $25,0000, or a cost of $15,000 to the city for the portion adjacent to the river.

Roberts termed the latter cost to the city as "outrageous."

"Maybe we should completely abandon the project," said Roberts. "We should reassess our position."

He said that the city could be severely criticized for paying the high price for land and then selling off the excess without recouping it original cost.

"It could be costing more than what it's worth," said Roberts.

REPORT ASKED

Rather than immediately advertise for bids on the property, the commission directed the city administration to return with a report on how the property under the second proposal will be offered for sale.

Over a number of years, the city has acquired about 90 per cent of the land along the Rouge River from 14 Mile to 16 Mile Roads.

In other business, the commission accepted the recommendation of City Planning Director William R. Brownfield to hold up the issuance of any building permits for the Ann Street Area until after a public hearing June 24 on the rezoning of the area.

★ ★ ★

Brownfield, in a letter to the commission, said that the planning board is nearing the conclusion of the Ann Street study, and that a complete set of recommendations should be available at the meeting next month.

MORITORIUM

Brownfield said that although new construction in the area has been at a minimum the past two years, the board believed that further construction should be curtailed until it has been decided what will be done with the area.

The moritorium on building permits involves the area bounded by Woodward, Lincoln, Purdy, Floyd and Frank streets.

The commission also directed the administration to continue negotiations with the State Highway Department to prohibit left turns at the Hunter-Forest crossover, coupled with the construction of a turnaround in the median just south of the Forest crossover.

City Manager Robert S. Kenning had recommended the immediate closing of the Forst crossover, and the construction of the new crossover.

'WOULD REMOVE HAZARD'

The closing he said would remove the major traffic hazard at the intersection.

The state, he said, has agreed to construct the closing and crossover on a 50-50 cost-sharing basis with the city, but should the closing be delayed there is no assurance when it will again be scheduled by the state nor the percentage of participation.

The commission turned down the recommendation at this time because the closing of the Forst crossover would eliminate a direct east-west route through the city.

Addison Gets Tough on Vandals

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — An ordinance which township officials hope will help control a wave of vandalism at Lakeville Cemetery was enacted last night by the township board.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance provides for 90 days in jail or a fine of $100 or both for trespassing and vandalism at the cemetery.

"It prohibits drinking in the cemetery and driving over graves," said Mrs. Erich Kurschat, clerk.

Some 30 people were present in the audience to tell about 15 cars, most of them from southern Oakland County, present in the cemetery last Friday night. A long list of acts of vandalism, allegedly perpetrated by youth from outside the area, was recited.

Officials also decided to put up a six-foot fence around the front of the cemetery.

MEETING AWAITED

The recently formed planning commission is still awaiting word from county planners for a meeting to outline duties, according to Mrs. Kurschat.

The five members of the previous zoning board and four new appointees have been named to the new group.

Richard Young remains as chairman and Dewain Sommers as secretary. Dr. Robert Small, a new appointee, was named vice-chairman.

The planning commission does not become effective until the middle of June, according to township rules.

Lapeer County May Get State Reappraisal in '69

LAPEER — Indications are that Lapeer County may be in line for a complete reassessment next year by the State Tax Commission, City Manager Arnold Whitney told the City Commission last night.

Whitney said he had talked with members of the County Board of Equalization and had been informed of the possible reassessment.

However, despite the possibility of a new assessment, the City Commission generally expressed agreement with Commissioner George Farrand, who urged that the city continue its appeal to the state commission.

The appeal, filed last week by City Supervisor Leon En Earl, charges that the city's valuation is not as high as established by the Lapeer County Board of Supervisors.

County Clerk Lyle Stewart said yesterday that the appeal had been dispatched to the state commission.

Whitney had recommended that the city ask for a state judgment on the supervisors' ruling, results of which were made public two weeks ago.

Under that ruling, the supervisors boosted Lapeer's estimate of its own assessed valuation from $15,062,000 to $15,936,000, a hike of about $874,000.

The state requires that each governmental unit assess its valuation at 50 per cent of market value. If the individual unit's assessor does not do so, it is the responsibility of the board of supervisors to raise or lower the assessment to 50 per cent.

The board ruled that only four units were off more than 1 per cent in their assessments: Lapeer, 47.3; Imlay Township, 47.7; North Branch Township, 48.5; and Burnside Township, 48.7.

TOTAL DIFFERENCE

"There was a total of $1.2 million difference between the valuation as assessed throughout the county and the county equalized valuation as determined by the supervisors," Whitney commented in explaining the city's position.

"Eight hundred thousand of that difference was applied to the city of Lapeer," the city manager said.

"I thought that was too much," he added wryly, "especially when there was more growth outside the city than in, on a countywide basis."

Whitney also challenged the board's assertion that most of the townships had assessed near 50 per cent: "I don't think the townships assess as accurately as we do."

Troy Commission Changes Somerset Rezoning Stand

By TOM GRAY

TROY—The City Commission last night began proceedings to change the controversial Somerset North rezoning to single-family.

In so doing, the commission reversed a stand taken Jan. 8, when it approved the rezoning in a split 4-3 vote.

Commissioner Peter Taucher made a motion to schedule a public hearing May 27 on the question, and to refer it to the planning commission for a recommendation by May 23.

Commissioner Glen H. Houghten objected, pointing out that the planning commission would have insufficient time to make a careful study of the proposal.

"I have conferred with the city attorney," Taucher responded, "and he says this must be referred to the planning commission. I'm fully aware that they won't have time to study the matter completely, but I feel that the air must be cleared on this subject."

EFFORT FOLLOWS REPORTS

On the motion, the vote was 6-1, with Houghten opposed.

The renewal of efforts to have the original zoning restored (a similar motion failed at a previous meeting) followed reports last week that the Biltmore Construction Co. is abandoning an Oakland County Circuit Court case pending against the city.

Biltmore won the Jan. 8 rezoning of land north of Big Beaver and east of Coolidge for a proposed expansion of its Somerset apartment complex, located south of Big Beaver.

City residents, however, began a petition drive opposing the zone change. The drive stalled when Biltmore received a court injunction barring action on the petitions, which would have forced the city to repeal the rezoning or submit the question to a public vote.

CHECK FOR HEALTH HAZARD

In other business, the commission directed City Manager Paul York to request the county sanitarian to examine property on Sylvanwood near the Jim Robbins Co.'s Sylvan Glen Golf Course for a possible health hazard.

The Robbins Co. began excavation in the area in 1965. Subsequently, drainage problems were reported by the city engineering department.

After submitting plans to the company for a proper drainage system, the commission passed an ordinance (April 1967) requiring a permit for grading of private property. When the company failed to apply for a permit, a complaint was filed in Municipal Court.

The company was found guilty and fined $100. An appeal to Circuit Court followed. The company then agreed to meet conditions of the city, a permit was issued, and the court charges dropped.

However, city crews have since been expelled three times from the property, DPW Director Richard Graham reported, while attempting to "enforce conditions of the permit."

Commissioner Ben S. Jones suggested that the sanitarian and city engineer inspect the property, adding, "If a health hazard is being caused there, then our attorney will have something to work with."

Township Clerk Is Named in W. Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Robert B. DuPree of 7230 Stonebrook was appointed the township's new clerk by the board last night.

A resident of the township nearly six years, she was a candidate for clerk in the 1966 election. Mrs. DuPree said she lost by 114 votes.

The new clerk will take over May 16 from Mrs. Doris O. Leach, whose resignation was accepted by the board in early April.

Mrs. Leach gave personal reasons for her resignation.

The position offers a $10,000 annual salary. The clerk's term tentatively expires in November 1970.

Mrs. DuPree, 37, has been employed as a Kelly Girl the past year.

Several years before that, she was a secretary for Chrysler in the corporate accounting and corporate systems and procedures departments.

She had previously worked as a secretary for Westinghouse in Detroit and Clemson University in South Carolina, her native state.

She graduated from Cecils Business College, South Carolina.

Mrs. DuPree lives with her husband, a Chrysler Corp. executive, and her 10-year-old son.

Imlay Twp. Man Charged in Killing

IMLAY CITY — Elias F. Barron, 25, of Imlay Township was charged yesterday with the murder of Sylvia Ann Langowski, whose body was found in a vacant house near this village a month ago.

Barron was arraigned before Judge Eugene Canhom. He stood mute and requested a court-appointed attorney. He was remanded to St. Clair County Jail without bond.

Barron, a migrant worker living at 25 Graham, was arrested yesterday at his home by officers of the Lapeer State Police post.

Police said Barron, under the alias Lopez, was being sought in a double murder in Wisconsin.

The body of Mrs. Langowski, 28, of St. Clair was found April 4 in a vacant house at 2439 Graham.

A pathologist's examination revealed that she had been dead from two to four months.

Utica Woman to Head Rochester Cooperative Nursery for 1968-69

ROCHESTER — Mrs. Ted Kuhn, 52070 Honeysuckle, Utica, has been elected president of the Rochester Cooperative Nursery for the 1968-69 school year.

She will be assisted by Mrs. Roger Schroeder of Rochester, vice president; Mrs. James Novak of Rochester, secretary; Mrs. Edward Allinger of Utica, treasurer; and Mrs. Thomas Stringer of Pontiac, teacher-church liaison.

The nursery, which meets at St. Luke's Methodist Church, Avon Township, offers a class for 3-year-old children and two classes for 4-year-old children.

Anyone interested in information on enrolling a child for next fall's classes is asked to contact Mrs. Noel Braun, 3261 Vera, Lake Orion.

Two Area School Districts Reduce Millage Requests

Reduced millage requests will face the voters of Rochester and Avondale Community School Districts on June 10.

The Rochester Board of Education last night voted to seek two separate operating millage issues — one a 7-mill renewal and the other a 1.5-mill increase in place of the 4.5-mill increase rejected by voters last week.

The ballot will also contain a request to borrow $1.6 million as opposed to the $2 million requested last week.

tI eliminates $400,000 for an addition to the projected new Rochester Adams Senior High School, but will still provide, if successful, a new elementary school, a new maintenance and storage building, permit the acquiring of additional sites and build an addition to Baldwin School.

★ ★ ★

Schools Supt. Douglas Lund said the reduction in millage will cause some reductions in programs, but he said no specific list was as yet available.

The board last night also accepted bids for construction of the Rochester Adams High School, but no bids will be awarded until next Monday night. Lund said bids were about $300,000 over the amount estimated, but that interest in invested funds should make up the difference.

The district had budgeted $4 million for the school.

In the Avondale school district last night the board voted to go along with a citizens advisory committee recommendation that 7.7 operating mills be sought on the June 10 ballot.

★ ★ ★

Some 75 people were present at the relatively quiet meeting.

VOTE PROMOTION

It was decided that all promotion of the millage vote would be left in the hands of the 25-man citizens' group.

Voters here last February turned down by a 5-to-1 tally a request for 12.7 additional mills. The recommendation of citizens includes provisions for certain cutbacks in services now offered by the schools.

Hearing Thursday on Bid for Bridge to Dawson Island

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — A bridge to Dawson Island in White Lake is the subject of a public hearing Thursday at 9 p.m. in the Township Hall.

The State Conservation Department is conducting the hearing. The department has been asked to approve construction of the bridge.

★ ★ ★

Making the request is Mrs. Estelle Dawson, island owner. The Township Board voted against the bridge lase November.

The board's opinion was requested as part of Mrs. Dawson's request to the Conservation Department for permission to build the bridge.

★ ★ ★

At that November meeting, about 45 residents appeared to oppose the bridge plans. The nine who spoke charged the bridge would devaluate their lakeside property and mar the lake's beauty.

Tentative Cuts in Spending Set

IMLAY CITY — The board of education has adopted a list of spending cuts which will be put into effect if voters of this school district fail to approve a millage increase June 10.

★ ★ ★

Residents are scheduled to vote on a proposed 5.5-mill levy for one year.

The cuts, according to Supt. of Schools Bradley Henson, would mean a total saving of $113,000.

The district's deficit is estimated in the neighborhood of $80,000 at the end of this year, Henson added.

★ ★ ★

The cutbacks would be spread throughout the system, with most students affected to some extent.

Among principal changes would be the initiation of half-day sessions for third, fifth and seventh grades; elimination of track and baseball and reduction of football and basketball to varsity league commitments; elimination of journalism; elimination of field trips; and curtailments in physical education and band and vocal music.

Leonard Village Treasurer Killed in Train Mishap

Top Hurling Keeps Scoring Low

Pitchers Ahead of Batters in American League Race

By United Press International

Connie Mack — among others — is supposed to have said that pitching is 75 to 80 per cent of baseball.

But now he'd probably have to say it's more like 99 and 44-100ths per cent of the game.

The pitchers are so far ahead of the hitters that the game is becoming a low-scoring, pitcher-and-catch game like a fast-pitch softball.

★ ★ ★

That was the story in the American League Monday night as the pitchers had another night that's becoming typical of this season.

Just nine days after teammate Tom Phoebus pitched a no hitter, Dave Leonhard threw a one hitter to give the Baltimore Orioles a 4-0 vitory over the Detroit Tigers. Meanwhile, Sam McDowell was breaking Bob Feller's record for strikeouts in consecutive games in Cleveland's 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees.

Almost in the routine category was Tommy John's three-hitter as the Chicago White Sox edged the California Angels 5-1. And seven pitchers paraded to the mound for both teams and the hitters were futile against all of them as the Oakland A's edged the Minnesota Twins 2-1.

FOURTH PLACE

Bringing back memories of the days when the hitters used to be the stroy of the game was Mickey Mantle, who tagged McDowell for the 522nd homer of this career to take over sole possession of fourth place on the all-time list.

But the rest of the league was a pitching story.

McDowell struck out 14 Yankees — after fanning out 14 on May 1 against Oakland — to give him a two-game total of 30. The pitcher also won his own game with a two-run single off Mel Stottlemyre that capped a three-run rally in the fourth inning and gave Cleveland the triumph.

Mantle's homer came in the first inning with one on and one out and enabled him to surpass Ted Williams' mark of 521. Jimmy Foxx at 534 is his next barrier to third place on the all-time list, which probably will be his pinncale since Willie Mays and Babe Ruth are out of reach.

★ ★ ★

Tommy John was in command all the way as he set down the Angels on three hits to give the White Sox their sixth victory this season. John, 3-0, has won half of them.

Bubba Morton homered off John in the second for the Angels' only run but rookie Bill Metlon hit a bases-loaded two-run single in the fourth to put the White Sox ahead to stay.

Reggie Jackson's fourth inning homer snapped a 1-1 tie in the fourth and five pitchers made it stand up as the A's topped the Twins.

Jim Nash had a six-hitter going into the seventh inning when he aggravated a hamstring muscle pull. Four more pitchers, Ed Sprague, Paul Lindblad, Diego Segui and Tony Pierce, paraded to the mound but the Twins only got one more hit in the game. Segui retired Ron Clark with the bases loaded in the eighth to quell the Twins' only serious rally. The Twins, usually a good hitting team, have just 15 hits in their last four games.

Dean Chance pitched for six innings and took the loss although he gave up just three hits.

Tigers Get Lesson From Schoolteacher

SETS RECORD — Bob Woodruff set a Rochester school record yesterday in the 100-yard dash with a time of 9.8 seconds as the Falcons defeated Troy, 78-40. (Story on Page C-2.)

1-Hitter Pitched by Leonhard in Oriole Win, 4-0

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dave Leonhard, a college graduate and former schoolteacher, rated no better than A-minus for his 4-0, one-hit victory over the Detroit Tigers Monday night.

★ ★ ★

The rookie right-hander of the Baltimore Orioles also issued seven walks and hit two batsmen as his performance fell short of the no-hitter hurled by teammate Tom Phoebus on April 27.

The way the Baltimore pitching staff has been going lately, it takes a one-hitter just to gain attention.

Leonhard's route-going effort was the sixth in a row for the Orioles, tieing a club record set in 1961. Over the past 10 games, the staff has turned in three shutouts and compiled an earned run average of 1.40, with six hits the most given up in any game.

The Orioles have won eight in a row, their longest winning streak since their 1966 pennant-winning year, and 13 of their last 15 to take a 2½-game lead over the second-place Tigers in the American League.

WILD THING

"I know it sounds phoney," Leonhard said, "but I would have been more disappointed losing the shutout than the no-hitter. A no-hitter sounded like such a wild thing."

With two outs in the seventh, Jim Northrup sliced a single to left for the only Detroit hit, connecting with a pitch Leonhard described as a "hanging fast ball."

"Naturally I was disappointed, but I wasn't crushed," the 26-year-old pitcher said.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles, batting .302 while winning eight in a row, collected 11 hits off loser Joe Sparma and his two successors. Dave May drove in two runs with a pair of singles while Dave Johnson had three hits, scoring one run and driving in another.

During the past 10 games, starting with Phoebus' no-hitter, Baltimore has outscored the opposition 53-17.

"We've been getting everything," Manager Hank Bauer said. "The defense plays better when you get good pitching, and we've been getting timely hitting."

NY Jets May Learn Joe Namath Value

NEW YORK (AP) — If Joe Namath was worth $400,000 when he came out of Alabama what is he worth today to the New York Jets?

The Jets will find out soon, if they haven't been told already, just what Namath wants to sign a new term contract with Sonny Werblin and his partners. The original agreement, signed early in 1965, has expired.

As the super glamor star of a team that has fantastic drawing power at Shea Stadium, Namath is in a strong bargaining position. Although he has undergone numerous operations on both knees, his quick right arm represents the Jets' attack.

Werblin talked with Namath during the late winter, shortly after he was released from the hospital. When last heard from Namath was soaking up the sun in Florida.

Fran Tarkenton, the New York Giants' quarterback, also has a little business with the front office before the 1968 season. He finished the second year of a two-year contract originally signed in Minnesota when the '67 season ended.

PRELIMINARY TALKS

There have been preliminary talks between the Scrambler and Well Mara, president of the Giants, but nothing definite has been announced. Tarkenton, too, will come high in his new New York setting.

The pro clubs have been meeting with resistance from the top draftees, many of whom are being represented by agents.

Several No. 1 picks remain unsigned. Many are competing in track, baseball or other spring sports and some hope to remain eligible to compete for the United States in the Olympic Games in Mexico next October.

The big bonus money has disappeared.

On the other hand, the players who were not picked in the early rounds appear to be signing up.

The Oakland Raiders will look at Eldridge Dickey, Tennessee State quarterback, as a wide receiver while he is learning the quarterback plays. Ken Stabler, the "Snake" from Alabama, will get his shot at quarter.

★ ★ ★

As the Raiders already have Daryle Lamonica, 40-year-old George Blanda, Cotton Davidson and taxi squad member Rick Egloff, the quarterbacks will need a special field for workouts.

Montreal Lets St. Louis Have NHL 'Glory'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens feel the St. Louis Blues have "got pride," and Canadien goalie Gump Worsley says "'this is where the glory is."

★ ★ ★

But glory isn't the immediate concern of the Blues. They just want to even the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup championship seven-game series at 1-1 tonight. The Blues lost the first game 3-2 in overtime Sunday. The third and fourth games will be played Thursday and Saturday in Montreal.

Montreal's John Ferguson says the Blues also have something else going for them.

"They've got a lot of fellows who want to beat this organization," Ferguson said. He meant the half-dozen Blues who used to work for the Canadiens.

★ ★ ★

And Coach Toe Blake says the Blues have another plus — "A hot goalkeeper.

LIKE PITCHER

"You get a hot goalkeeper in a seven-game series and it's like having a hot pitcher in the World Series," the Montreal coach said.

Blake also felt compelled to point out something else.

★ ★ ★

"If it hadn't been for the expansion teams Toronto would have been in the playoffs." Blake was referring to Toronto's sad record against the Western Division teams.

Ex-Tomahawk Long Drafted

Phoenix Picks Three Pistons

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons have pulled off the improbable, sneaking a 6-foot-10 center undetected past the noses of two National Basketball Association expansion teams.

The Pistons lost three players Monday in the NBA's draft to fill out the rosters of the new Phoenix and Milwaukee franchises, but none of the three was center Joe Strawder.

★ ★ ★

Rookie guard Paul Long, who played for the Pontiac Tomahawks last winter, was plucked by Phoenix while center George Patterson and forward-center Len Chappell both were selected by Milwaukee.

For certain Detroit had on its seven-man protected list forwards Dave DeBusschere, Happy Hairston and guards Dave Bing, Eddie Miles and Jimmy Walker and the last was a center.

Jim Fox, though inexperienced, had to be protected or he would have been taken for his potential, leaving Strawder among the availables.

Had the Pistons protected Strawder one of the aforementioned names would have gone into the grab bag and no intelligent selector would have overlooked them for the likes of Long, Patterson or Chappell.

AILING BACK

The Detroit front office circulated medical reports of Strawder's ailments as widely as they could, reports that said the former Bradley star could be all done in the NBA.

Surgery on an ailing Strawder back was pronounced successful last week. That injury, along with arthritic knees, forced the Detroit center to miss all or part of several games last season.

The Pistons expressed pleasure over the results of the draft, as well they should. The NBA draft of college players, starting from the second round, begins Wednesday.

Detroit's first choice, Otto Moore of Pan American had his scheduled hernia operation postponed to attend the draft.

NEW YORK (AP) — Players lost by each of the 12 established teams in the National Basketball Association's draft to stock the new Phoenix and Milwaukee clubs:

Baltimore — Roland West, Stan McKenzie, John Egan.
Boston — Wayne Embry, John Jones, Tom Thacker.
Chicago — McCoy McLemore, Craig Spitzer, Dave Schellhase.
Cincinnati — Bob Love, Guy Rodgers, Gary Gray.
Detroit — Paul Long, Len Chappell, George Patterson.
Los Angeles — Gail Goodrich, Dennis Hamilton, John Wetzel.
NEW YORK — Dick Van Arsdale, Emmette Bryant, Neil Johnson.
Philadelphia — Bill Melchionni, Jim Reid, Larry Costello.
San Diego — Dave Barnhill, Jon McGlocklin, Dave Gambee.
Seattle — George Wilson, Bud Olsen, Bob Weiss.
St. Louis — Dick Snyder, Gene Tormohlen, Jay Miller.
San Francisco — Dave Lattin, Fred Hetzel, Bob Warlick.

Newcomer Gets Good Start in Pro-Am Play

Bill Bisdorf, a newcomer to Michigan golf, took the bulk of the prize money in the first weekly Pro-Am Event of the state PGA yesterday at Red Run.

Bisdorf won $271 in prize money as low pro with a 36-34-70 and he teamed with Tommy Cosmos for a best ball tie of 68 with Mac McElmurry and Larry Wilkinson in the pro-pro scoring.

Doug Main of Lochlomond and John Driver of North Hills; and Bill Mattson and Stan Brown of Shenandoah were tied for pro-am honors with 66's.

Mattson took second in prize money wth $199.45.

The Shenandoah pro took a seven on the 372-yard par 4 No. 16 hole at Red Run, but his amateur partner saved the hoel with a par. Mattson had helped with five birdies.

Mike Souchak, Tom Deaton, Tommy Cosmos and Gene Bone all posted 77's on their own ball in the first week's play.

Ice Franchise for Flint

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The International Hockey League's board of governors voted Monday to expand to eight teams for next season by granting a franchise to Flint, Mich., if that city has a new arena ready for the season opening.

Another Bout Lost by Cassius to Avoid Imposed Prison Term

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Former world heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay has lost another round in his legal fight to avoid a prison sentence imposed for refusing induction into the Armed Forces.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here Monday upheld Clay's conviction and five-year prison term, rejecting his claims to be a conscientious objector because of being a Black Muslim minister.

★ ★ ★

Clay, who prefers his Muslim name of Muhammad Ali, was convicted on criminal charges by a Federal Court jury in Houston, Tex., last June 20. The judge gave him the maxium sentence — five years behind bars and a $10,000 fine.

Lawyers for Clay, who is free on $5,000 bond, have promised a fight to the U.S. Supreme Court.

TAGGED OUT — Ken Boswell of the New York Mets is tagged at the plate in the 4th inning of the game against the St. Louis Cardinals by catcher Tim McCarver. Boswell tried to score from third after a short fly ball to Curt Flood in center field. Ed Kranepool (7) watches the play. The Cards won the game, 2-1, in 11 innings.

Detroit College Team District Golf Winner

DEARBORN HEIGHTS (AP) — Detroit College of Business swept team and individual honors Monday in the District 23 NAIA golf tournament at Warren Valley Golf and Country Club.

Detroit College took first in the team standings with 299 in the 18-hole, best four of five scores match. Ferris State College was second with 316 and Eastern Michigan University was third with 320.

Don Brooks of Detroit College beat Ole Ellstrom, also of Detroit College, in a sudden-death playoff to take medalist honors at 73 on the par-71 course.

Spending Cut Now at Issue

Congressional Battle Escalates Over Size

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's income tax hike bill, cold-shouldered since last summer by the House Ways and Means Committee, is basking in the relative warmth of the panel's qualified endorsement.

But the congressional fight has escalated over the size of a proposed spending cut tied to the tax boost.

★ ★ ★

Making its first formal decision on the $10 billion income-tax increase request, the committee voted for the hike Monday provided federal spending is cut at least $4 billion.

The House Appropriations Committee had previously recommended this figure and Johnson has said he would accept it, although reluctantly.

'SURRENDER'

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the ways and means committee called the panel's action "a surrender and a capitulation" in the face of White House urgings. The committee's vote for the tax bill was 17 to 6, with 13 Democrats and 4 Republicans supporting it. Byrnes and other Republicans opposed it.

As for the committee's setting a $4 billion minimum in spending reductions, Byrnes said: "That's their weasel out to accept $4 billion. For all practical purposes, $4 billion is now the ceiling as well as the floor for reductions."

★ ★ ★

Byrnes and other Republicans want a $6 billion cut, and the Senate has voted in favor of the larger amount.

Commission to Air Plan for Parking Mall

Parking for downtown Pontiac will be discussed at tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

Commissioners are scheduled to receive a progress report on plans for establishment of a parking mall on Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence.

Target date for instituting the mall parking is May 20.

In a related matter, the commission will receive another progress report on the removal of parking along Huron between the two loops of Wide Track Drive.

★ ★ ★

Under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, Huron is to become a five-lane roadway with the removal of the parking.

TARGET DATE

A target date of May 27 has been suggested for the ban on parking.

As now planned, the new Saginaw Street mall parking would be in effect when the parking meters are removed from Huron, which might eliminate some potential problems, according to a City Hall spokesman.

In other business tonight, a local Youth Opportunities Committee is slated to be organized. The committee, one of several being appointed across the country in various cities, is to coordinate work and recreation opportunities for young people during the summer.

★ ★ ★

Also tonight, it will be recommended to the commission that two city-owned buildings be scheduled for demolition.

DEMOLITION SLATED

The two buildings proposed for demolition are the former water works building south of the Hayes Jones Community Center, which formerly housed the electrical department, and the old incinerator building, East Boulevard and Featherstone, which formerly housed part of the parks and recreation department.

★ ★ ★

The two city departments have moved into the former Consumers Power Co. building on Wessen, which was recently taken over by the city.

Magazine to Sell Less in Try to Make More

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — The peculiar economics of magazine publishing is illustrated by the Saturday Evening Post's decision to cut its circulation in half in an attempt to make money.

CUNNIFF

This is a desparate move. In the past seven years the Post has been largely responsible for more than $50 million in losses by its parent, the Curtis Publishing Co.

★ ★ ★

To most people, though, it seems strange that the way to profits is sought in a reduction of circulation. But this isn't the first time the Post has gone in that direction.

In 1964, when its finances were equally distressing, the Post cut the number of issues in half, becoming a biweekly after many years as a weekly—more than 200 if you subscribe to the official Post history.

PRICE INCREASES

In another attempt to get itself on more solid financial footing the publication has been raising its price. As recently as 1959 the Post sold for 15 cents. It went to 20 cents that year, 25 in 1964 and 35 in 1966.

Now, with revenues continuing to fall far short of expenses, the most drastic cut of all is being made. Subscriptions will be sliced from 6.4 million to about three or four million. Why?

Primarily because of growing expenses per copy. Production costs have been increasing. Labor and printing expenses were rising steadily recently. And now postal costs have taken a jump.

As a result, some magazines find themselves in a numbers game. As circulation rises so do costs. If ad revenue cannot keep pace with circulation, a point can be reached where the greater the circulation the greater the financial damage.

COLLAPSED AT PEAK

This situation actually occurred a few years ago when Coronet magazine—unrelated directly to the present publication of the same name—collapsed at the height of its circulation, at what appeared to be the peak of its popularity.

At the time, Coronet was selling low-cost subscriptions, hoping thereby to build a strong mass marketing vehicle for advertisers. But the ads didn't come in fast enough.

Other magazines also dropped out of the numbers game. Some folded and others simply gave up their frantic and costly attempts to show bigger subscription tolls than their competitors.

The Post decision, however, is unique in scope. Nobody seems to recall another publication that cut its circulation in half. But isn't this also going to cut the price that advertisers are willing to pay for space?

TO EMPHASIZE 'QUALITY'

Perhaps, but the Post obviously hopes that the cut won't be drastic. Instead of seeking the largest possible market, the Post intends to emphasize "quality," and quality circulation obtains premium ad rates.

Its intention now is to make the publication a more refined marketing tool for advertisers. It has decided to retreat from mass market competition and to aim its efforts at the wealthiest, best educated readers.

★ ★ ★

It is no secret that advertisers have been grumbling that much of the circulation on which magazine ad rates are based was worthless to them, that it was made up of readers who were not potential customers.

The Post has heeded these complaints and now intends to go into target marketing—aiming at specific buying groups and hoping as a result to enlist the support of previously balky advertisers.

You can't say the Post isn't trying. A magazine that resorts to self-surgery has the instinct to live.

Coverage of Riots Wins Pulitzer Prize

NEW YORK (AP) — Three 1968 Pulitzer Prizes for journalistic excellence have been awarded to members of the Knight Newspaper group.

John S. Knight, editorial director of the Knight Newspapers, was honored Monday for distinguished editorial writing. Eugene Gray Payne of Knight's Charlotte, N.C., Observer, was named the outstanding editorial cartoonist of 1967.

★ ★ ★

The staff of Knight's Detroit Free Press was cited for local reporting of the 1967 Detroit riots and their causes.

In the arts, the Pulitzer Prize for fiction went to William Styron's controversial novel, "The Confessions of Nat Turner,"

No award was given for drama.

EXPOSE WINS

The Pulitzer Prize for meritorious public service was won by the Riverside, Calif., Press-Enterprise for its expose of corruption in the courts in connection with the handling of property and estates of an Indian tribe in California.

George F. Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, received the 1968 award for biography for "Memoirs 1925-1950." In 1957 he won in the history category.

The award for a straight news photograph went to Rocco Morabito of the Jacksonville, Fla., Journal. His picture of an unconscious utility lineman being revived by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was captioned, "The Kiss of Life."

Feature news photography was established as a separate category for the first time this year and the prize was won by Toshio Sakai of United Press International. His Vietnam war combat photograph, "Dreams of Better Times" showed a weary American solider asleep in the rain while a buddy kept watch.

The national reporting prize was awarded jointly to Howard James of the Christian Science Monitor for a series of articles on "Crisis in the Courts" and to Nathan "Nick" Kitz of the Des Moines Register.

Kotz was cited for his "reporting of unsanitary conditions in many meat packing plants, which helped insure the passage of Federal Wholesome Meat Act of 1967."

The prize for International Reporting was awarded to Alfred Friendly of the Washington Post for his coverage of the Middle East war in 1967.

J. Anthony Lukas of the New York Times was the prize for local investigative reporting for his account of the life and murder of Linda Fitzpatrick. She was slain with her hippie boyfriend in an East Village tenement boiler room in New York.

LBJ to Sign Home Loan Ceiling Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signs today a bill removing the 6 per cent interest ceiling on Federal Housing Administration-insured and Veterans Administration-guaranteed mortgages.

Congress completed action on the proposal, sought by Johnson, early last week. It has been supported by the home-building industry. Backers claim it isn't possible to get mortgage loans at 6 per cent.

★ ★ ★

There has been speculation the interest rates would be raised to 6½ per cent under the bill's authority.

Under its terms, the FHA and VA ceilings would automatically revert to 6 per cent on Oct. 1, 1969, unless Congress acts to renew the authority.

CONSTRUCTION AID

The bill also increases the maximum home loans guaranteed by the VA from $7,500 to $12,500 and makes available government assistance to home buyers who rely on VA and FHA construction standards but then find defects.

It sets up a commission to study mortgage interest rates and to make recommendations by April 1, 1969, to assure the availability of an adequate supply of mortgage credit at areasonable cost to the consumers.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — Lately I've been buying utility stocks for their high yield: Detroit Edison, Ohio Edison, Philadelphia Electric, and Duquesne Light. I also own Consumers Power, as I work for this company. I'm considering American Tobacco and Youngstown Sheet & Tube. I hope to take early retirement in 11 years. What are your thoughts on the foregoing?—J. R.

A — I think you hold some excellent electric utilities, two of which — Duquesne and Ohio Edison — may be participants in a new Midwestern eight-member holding company recently proposed. If the companies involved reach an agreement and gain the approval of regulatory agencies, it is expected that revenues would top those of other U.S. power systems.

Since your retirement is set for 1979, I believe you should now change your objective from high yield to strong growth. I strongly urge you to begin a program of long-term investment to enhance your capital and protect yourself against inflation.

Your current holdings and proposed purchases show an average price spread of 9½ points during 1967 and 1968 to date. For the same period a similar number of growth stocks recommended in my column, including American Hospital Supply, Plough, Del Monte, EG&G, and Marshall Field showed an average price spread of 39 points. You might make a start by dividing your present reserves between Georgia-Pacific and R. H. Macy, both of which offer a promising outlook for continued growth.

Q — Please identify the 20 or more U.S. Treasury issues acceptable at par for payment of federal estate taxes. — O.H., D.O.

A — Regretfully lack of space prohibits my doing so, but I am glad to name the five currently quoted at the most favorable discount — below 80 at this time of writing. They are: 3s 1995; 3¼s 1978-83 and 1985; 3½s 1990 and 1998. The rest of the list sell higher because they mature sooner and some coupons are higher.
