Financial Prospect Dim for Toll Road

Research Slash Now Publicized

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-month old directive which the Defense Department made public only yesterday slashes military research and development spending by at least 170 million dollars.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla), protesting, urged President Eisenhower to cancel the Aug. 17 directive "right now, before we cut off some idea in mid-brain that might save the country from destruction.

The order, signed by Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson before his recent retirement, was not made public at the time. It was released yesterday after an account of it appeared in the Washington Post and Times Herald.

The paper said some holders of Air Force contracts for basic research have complained that the harm done to research will be out of proportion to the money saved.

A Defense Department spokesman said yesterday that Wilson's intent was for a careful review by each service of its research test and evaluation programs in the light of the current government economy drive.

Wilson Won't Comment

DETROIT (AP) — Former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson declined comment today on the Pentagon's confirmation that he ordered military and research development spending cut back at least 170 million dollars.

ORDERED 10 PCT. CUT

Congress allotted five billion dollars for research during the current fiscal year, which began July 1. The total included $1,700,000,000 for basic research and $3,300,000,000 for research and development procurement.

The order directed the military services to make cutbacks equal to 10 per cent of each service's portion of the $1,700,000,000. But the department spokesman said the cuts are intended to come out

Vanguard Test May Be Today

Scientists Due to Fire First Stage Engine of U.S. Space Rocket

WASHINGTON (AP) — Technicians may try again today to test-fire the first stage engine of the Vanguard rocket which they hope ultimately will send an American satellite into space.

Such a firing apparently was put off twice last Friday. Official sources at the missile test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., said test activities would be resumed today.

The testing plan is to send aloft the rocket, using only the first-stage engine. The Vanguard rocket, at full power, is planned to have three stages, the last of which would carry the satellite into an orbit about 300 miles above the earth.

The United States plans to fire some small test spheres in December and to try to send up fully instrumented satellites starting in March.

Some American scientists are not optimistic about the value of information from Russia's space vehicle.

One of them said: "Chances are we'll never learn very much about Sputnik. The Russians certainly aren't talking, and there's a limit to what you can learn through visual sighting and radio signals."

In Cincinnati, Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) said, "The strength and the efficiency of our military establishment must not be judged in the light of any single weapons device."

4 Flags for Each Pole

NEW YORK (INS) — Street lighting poles along the route of Queen Elizabeth's "ticker tape" parade up Broadway from the Battery o City Hall are decorated today with four flag standards. There are two U. S. flags, one flag for the city of New York and one British Commonwealth flag decorating each pole.

British Choir to Sing

NEW YORK (INS) — A selection of British and Commonwealth folk songs will be sung tonight by the British Commonwealth Choir at the ball in honor of Queen Elizabeth at the 7th regiment armory.

Pot-O-Gold's $700 Could Buy Many Christmas Gifts

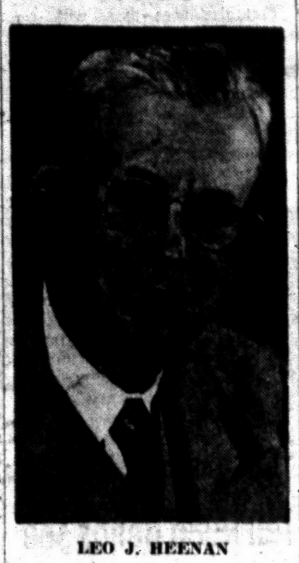

It doesn't take long to fill the pot when $100 is added to it each week. Already Pot-O-Gold is back at the $700 mark. What would be nicer than to start your Christmas shopping early without worrying about the bills?

All you have to do is send us the right answers for the puzzle that appears on page 22 of today's Pontiac Press.

If no winner is found for last week's puzzle, the right numbers for this week's Pot-O-Gold will be worth as much as $725 for subscribers.

Even with a winner for last week it will still be worth $125, so why wait? You can buy quite a few presents with that much money.

LEO J. HEENAN

City Architect Taken by Death

Leo J. Heenan Suffers Fatal Coronary Attack; Funeral Wednesday

Leo J. Heenan, well-known Pontiac architect and designer of many city and county buildings, died of a coronary attack yesterday morning at Pontiac General Hospital. He was 67.

Beside his lengthy architectural achievements, Heenan once was a Pontiac representative on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, served three years as a city assessor until 1935, and was chairman of the Pontiac Historical Commission at the time of his death.

Heenan was born in Jackson on Aug. 1, 1890. Eight years later his family moved to Pontiac where the deceased remained a resident ever since.

In 1916 he opened the offices of L. J. Heenan Architects which he operated with his son George, one of three surviving children. Others are John Heenan Jr., of Oregon, and Mrs. Shirley Hinton of Missouri.

Also surviving are his wife Cora Nelson, his father John E. Heenan, and 11 grandchildren.

PLANS MANY CITY BUILDINGS

Heenan designed the present City Hall, the Public Safety Building, the new west side fire station, the present Pontiac General Hospital and its four million dollar addition, the Adah Shelly Branch Library, and several older fire halls in the city.

County buildings designed by Heenan include the Children's Home, the Infirmary, and the powerhouse and laundry building. He also designed Owen School, several school additions, and was presently working on the new Salvation Army Social

Judge Refuses to Lift Order Against Hoffa

Leader of Teamsters Still Restrained From Taking Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts today refused to lift his order restraining James R. Hoffa from taking over as president of the Teamsters Union.

Letts then went ahead with a hearing on pleas to convert the restraining order into a preliminary injunction against Hoffa and to put the 1½-million-member Teamsters Union under court receivers.

Plaintiffs in the case are a group of rank-and-file New York Teamsters members. They claim the recent Teamsters convention which elected Hoffa to succeed Dave Beck was illegal.

Letts quickly denied four motions argued by Teamsters' Atty. Martin O'Donoghue. The motions would have dismissed the existing restraining order and put the case down for trial on its merits.

O'Donoghue said Letts had acted improperly in granting the restraining order last week after a closed hearing in the court's chambers without notice to the union and without giving union attorneys a chance to be present.

O'Donoghue said this violated one of the canons of the American Bar Assn., limiting issuance of restraining orders without opposing counsel being present only to the most urgent cases dictated by dire necessity.

The plaintiff rank - and - file group has charged that Hoffa—accused of corruption in Senate Rackets Committee hearings—rigged his own election at the recent Teamsters convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate committee contends more than half the convention delegates were illegally chosen.

★ ★ ★

He said one of the delegates who participated in the convention actually was not elected formally by his local union as a delegate until a week after the convention ended. He did not name the delegate.

INJUNCTION EYED

Judge Letts must decide whether to convert his restraining order which bars Hoffa from becoming union president into a preliminary injunction, with the same effect, and whether court masters should be named to supervise the union pending new elections.

Dave Beck, the union's retiring president, also accused of corruption in Senate committee testimony, has announced he is holding up plans to step out in Hoffa's favor pending the outcome of the court challenge.

In an answer to the contentions of the plaintiffs, the union has challenged the right of the court to intervene in the political affairs of a private organization.

The union contends that while there may have been violations of a number of union constitutional provisions over electing and seating the delegates, this was cured by a ruling from Beck waiving these constitutional provisions under the union president's power to interpret the constitution.

4 Dead as Storms Flail New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A mass of wet air from the Gulf of Mexico collided with cool southwestern breezes over New Mexico mountains yesterday, bringing death and destruction to the northern half of the state.

More rains were forecast through today.

Three persons died in head-on collisions on highways in the rain belt. A small boy tumbled to his death in the swollen Pecos River.

U.S. 64 between Santa Fe and Taos was blocked through much of last night by tons of rain-loosened boulders piled on the highway in the Rio Grande gorge. Several motorists plowed into rockslides before highway crews cleared the route.

Floodwaters flowed as much as two feet deep through downtown Estancia, central New Mexico farming community. Two hundred men battled the inundation with sandbags. An earth dam thrown across State Road 41 through the town finally averted the threat to the business section.

White House Goodbye

SPARKLING DEPARTURE — Dressed in a dazzling aquamarine evening gown, Queen Elizabeth pauses to say goodbye to Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower at the White House before leaving for New York last night. The royal guest and her husband, Prince Philip, spent four days with the nation's first couple in Washington.

Crowded Schedule Faces Queen, Philip

New York Greets Elizabeth

NEW YORK (AP) — Britain's Queen Elizabeth arrived by train from Washington today for her first visit to the city linked so closely by name and history to her own land. In store for the royal sightseer was a welcome seldom if ever matched in New York annals.

★ ★ ★

A minute after her arrival she stepped from her train onto a 65-foot-long red carpet at what recently has been an almost deserted freight terminal at Stapleton, Staten Island, across the bay south of Manhattan's monumental spires.

The terminal was once the Army's busiest embarkation port for the American servicemen who joined the Queen's own countrymen only a few years ago in defense of the free world's ideals.

A less attractive spot could hardly have been chosen for the arrival. Worn paint and broken windows were everywhere in evidence.

★ ★ ★

But the past was all but forgotten in the hubbub surrounding the arrival of the Queen and her husband, Prince Philip.

BRILLIANT SUNSHINE

Even the weather came to the aid of the gala day's round of entertainment and honors for the winsome monarch. A brilliant autumn sun flooded the city with a welcome of its own. The still, windless air was so crisp enough to make the day one to be remembered.

★ ★ ★

New York's Gov. Averell Harriman stepped forward to greet the Queen as she set foot onto the red carpet. A host of other dignitaries joined in the welcome.

Scores of police and Secret Service men provided a protective cordon. Army helicopters whirled about.

The Queen moved down a long line of greeters and Prince Philip strode along immediately behind her.

★ ★ ★

The Queen wore a rust-colored velvet coach-style coat trimmed with a white mink collar. Her hat was rust velvet, also. She wore diamond and pearl earrings, a pearl necklace, brown shoes and carried a brown leather bag.

When the formal welcoming greetings were completed, the

GI Girard Declines Reply on 3 Pretrial Statements

MAEBASHI, Japan (AP)—GI William S. Girard today declined to testify on conflicting pretrial statements which he made about the firing range death of a Japanese brass collector.

Judge Yuzo Kawachi, presiding at Girard's manslaughter trial, called the Ottawa, Ill., soldier to the stand and asked him about three statements he gave Japanese prosecutors in February.

Girard said he recalled making the statements but answered "No, sir" when asked if he wanted to say anything about them.

In one statement Girard said he fired a single shot over the heads of Japanese collecting shells on a U.S. firing range here last Jan. 30. Girard said he shot "to chase them away."

But in another statement the soldier said he fired two shots, "one into the air and one over the head of Japanese shell pickers."

Girard admits firing the empty brass casing from his rifle grenade-launcher which killed Mrs. Naka Sakai. But he says it was an accident that occurred while he was carrying out guard duty.

Kawachi sharply questioned Mrs. Sakai's eldest son in today's proceedings. Chikao Sakai, 23, said first that he saw his mother fall on the firing range but later testified he first saw her lying on the ground.

Kawachi showed irritation and chided the young farmer. Mrs. Sakai's 18-year-old daughter, Kayoko, at that point called from the rear of the courtroom and tearfully asked to explain what her brother meant.

"Please sit down and listen, because you will only confuse the issue," Kawachi said.

Not Quite So Cold in Pontiac Tonight

For the Pontiac area, the weatherman says tonight will be partly cloudy, with a low of 40 to 44 degrees.

Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy with a chance of scattered showers. The high will reach 62-66. Tomorrow night the outlook is cloudy and cool with occasional rain. The low will be 41-45.

The lowest recorded temperature in the downtown Pontiac area this morning was 38. At 1 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 62.

Bankers Agree Turnpike Bonds Poor Investment

Finance Leaders Point to Low Market Status of Highway Securities

By PETE LOCHBILER

The financial prospects for a Michigan toll road range from slim to nil.

This was agreed today by both a prominent Pontiac banker and a nationally-known Detroit investment banker, answering this question on which Pontiac's immediate hopes for a new expressway hinge:

Could a north - south turnpike past Pontiac be financed in view of present bond market conditions?

"In my opinion, it is impossible to market any type of toll road bonds," said A. C. Girard, president of the Community National Bank.

Sydnor Gilbreath, president of the First of Michigan company, said, "At this time, it would be difficult if not impossible to sell revenue bonds for a new turnpike."

Both investors pointed out that the bond market generally is down nowadays, with the market for turnpike bonds down farther than the average.

As a result, turnpike bonds represent a poor investment, they said.

HIGGINS LOOKS FOR RISE

George N. Higgins, chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority (MTA), has agreed that market for turnpike bonds is bad, but believed at a meeting with Pontiac representatives last week that the market may go up.

★ ★ ★

At the meeting, with State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie, it was agreed that a toll road, if financially feasible, would be built through Pontiac sooner than a free expressway.

Girard today quoted figures that show bonds for existing turnpikes are selling at prices lower than those for which they were bought.

If the market continues low, Girard said, investors will lose money if they sell their turnpike bonds. If, on the other hand, the bonds are held to maturity, the anticipated margin of profit will be considerably reduced, he said.

The bonds for one turnpike —

Church Elder, Wife Attacked

Both Get Head Injuries in Strange Burglary; Valuables Bypassed

DETROIT (INS) — A First Presbyterian Church elder and his wife today were suffering from head injuries received in a vicious beating at their home.

Elder Robert Murray, 60, of 3264 Vicksburg, of Detroit, was taken from Receiving to Harper Hospital with a possible skull fracture. His wife, Margaret, 63, underwent surgery in Receiving Hospital for a depressed skull fracture.

Detectives of the homicide squad said the couple could not recall what happened after they went to sleep Friday night. Det. Lt. Hiram Phipps said:

"This was no ordinary burglary. The upstairs was ransacked but too many easy-to-carry valuables were left behind to fit the patterns —rings, watches and silverware.

★ ★ ★

"I believe the motive was either sadistic revenge or else someone was looking for a single, specific article he believed to have been in the home, perhaps a valuable document."

Phipps added that Murray was slugged while he was sleeping and Mrs. Murray's body was covered with "many marks" which showed "she put up a terrific battle and literally had to be beaten down."

He said he expects to question the injured woman today. A neighbor reported the Murrays missing.

A-Aides Coming With Macmillan

3 Nuclear Planners to Participate in Parley With President

By HAL COOPER

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced today Prime Minister Macmillan will take three top nuclear policy planners to his conference with President Eisenhower in Washington.

This tends to substantiate reports Macmillan will propose at the meeting a U.S.-British partnership in nuclear and rocket research.

The men leaving with Macmillan tomorrow are Sir Richard Powell, permanent secretary of the Defense Ministry; Sir Edwin Plowden, chairman of Britain's Atomic Energy Authority; and Sir Patrick Dean, a deputy undersecretary at the Foreign Office who is charged with political aspects of Britain's atomic energy program.

Others in Macmillan's party are Sir William Hayter, former British ambassador to Moscow and now a general political director at the Foreign Office; Sir Norman Brook, secretary to the Cabinet; and F. A. Bishop and Philip de Zulueta, both private secretaries.

Macmillan took a final look at his Washington plans at a Cabinet meeting today. He was keeping a close watch on developments in the Middle East—a subject he and President Eisenhower are expected to discuss at length.

Under Macmillan's partnership plan, the two Allies would coordinate their scientific effort through a joint planning directorate with headquarters in Washington.

REALIZES DAD'S WISH—Nine-year-old polio victim Craig Baker, 1734 Bonnieview St., Royal Oak, turns the sod on the site of the proposed $49,000 new headquarters for the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children. Craig is the son of the society's former president Phil Baker who instigated the need for the building and was killed in an auto accident in 1954. Left to right are: L. C. Megee, of Clarkston, society president; Craig; Mrs. Fred H. Rollins Jr., of Birmingham, second vice president and case committee chairman; four-year-old polio victim Deborah Shelton, 566 E. Tennyson Ave., Miss Easter Seal of Pontiac, 1957; and William Bullock, of Royal Oak, first vice president and building committee chairman. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held yesterday on the building site, the west side of Telegraph road across from the county service center.

When is the "Hunter's Moon?" When is the "Beaver Moon?"

The Hunter's moon occurs October 27th in 1957. It follows the Harvest Moon, each year, though it does not linger light-giving and low on the horizon as long as the famous Harvest Moon.

Both the Hunter's Moon and Beaver Moon are full moons. The Beaver Moon this year comes on November 26th, the night before Thanksgiving. These moons always follow the Harvest Moon, which is the full moon nearest the autumnal equinox, and which can therefore vary from month to month — contrary to what many people believe.

Although the Harvest Moon this year came in September, it sometimes comes in early October — thus setting back the dates on which the full Hunter's and Beaver moon arrive to November and December.

Russia Sputters 'Brink of War' Charge Against Dulles

Turkish-Syrian War Scare Eases Off in Face of Strong Western Stand

ANKARA (INS) — The Turkish-Syrian war scare appeared fizzling today in the face of a strong Western stand.

Both Turkish and U.S. officials in the capital agreed the tension was easing off, but Russia was doing her best to keep the kettle steaming by accusing Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of leading the area to the "bring of war."

An aura of confusion was added to the Middle East picture when Syria promptly denied an official Saudi Arabian radio station broadcast that King Saud had offered to mediate the dispute and Syria and Turkey had accepted.

The Oct. 27 elections still held sway in public attention in Turkey with more talk about domestic issues and converting the nation into an industrial "small United States" than the tension with Syria.

(A British newspaperman reported seeing substantial troop concentrations on both sides of the Syrian-Turkish frontier after a tour of the area. Another reporter said the border was quiet but tense.

(Daily Express correspondent Geoffrey Thrusby, in a dispatch from Cyprus, said he saw submachinegun-armed Syrians and Russian-made trucks near the frontier and troops going through toughening up exercises in full battle gear.

(Thrusby said Turkish troops were drawn up in strength about 15 miles inside their own territory. A Turkish division of some 10,000 men was in the area, he reported, adding that heavy reinforcements had been moved in since the crisis began.)

Although the crisis appeared slackening, Turkish and U.S. officials in Ankara were keeping their fingers crossed about the Russians and a possible United Nations flareup over the Syrian charges that Turkey was planning an American-inspired assult against her.

Most agree that Dulles' warning that the U.S. would help Turkey — and that Russia would not be a privileged sanctuary — in an outbreak, plus a firm Turkish stand before the Syrians, made the Damascus regime reconsider in the cold war of charges and countercharges.

★ ★ ★

Research Cutback Now Disclosed

of the $3,300,000,000 procurement fund.

Monroney called the order an example of "meat ax economy," which he said is "10 times as dangerous as have been the reductions, cutbacks and stretchouts in the procurement of weapons already in production."

The Eisenhower administration has been criticized in the past for an alleged lack of interest in basic research—the long-range scientific investigations which frequently do not produce immediately useful results.

Monroney said the U.S. program to launch an earth satellite like the Russian Sputnik has been delayed because scientists running the project "have had to justify every increased cent" before one executive budget officer after another as costs increased.

"It is no wonder," Monroney said, "we let the Russians so excite the world with their satellite that Hungary's horrors were eclipsed by the Soviets' whirling new moon."

Penagon officials have said in the past that basic research funds would not be affected by the current economy push. Wilson told a Sept. 19 news conference that all the basic research money would "be utilized."

Rihm is reported in satisfactory condition with a fractured knee, while his wife is in fair condition with a fractured right arm and wrist, fractured leg, and fractures of both knees.

New York Greets Queen and Philip

Queen was escorted along the red carpet to President Eisenhower's plastic-domed limousine for 1½-mile trip to St. George, Staten Island, to board a ferry for Manhattan.

The Queen will be lucky if she has even time to catch a breath today.

Among other events in her honor are a traditional ticker-tape parade up lower Broadway to City Hall, a visit with Mayor Robert F. Wagner and a tour of City Hall, a luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, trip to the observation roof of the Empire State Building, a visit to the United Nations and a banquet at the Waldorf tonight.

Thousands of Staten Island children, some waving British flags, cheered the monarch as her car motored to the ferry terminal.

The ferry trip across New York's vast harbor—a trip which still costs other travelers only a nickel but which the Queen got free—provided her with one of the most magnificent sights the city has to offer.

Busy harbor craft, tooting greetings of their own, met the Queen's eye. The ferry took her close by the Statue of Liberty. The tall towers of lower Manhattan loomed, their windows glinting in the morning sun.

Covering Royal Routine Task for Reporters With Stamina

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON (INS) — A lady shopper at the West Hyattsville, Md., supermarket, which Elizabeth II visited after Saturday's nearby football game, was surprised to see Prince Philip standing at the Queen's side.

"Hey," the shopper said to Philip, "I thought you were always supposed to stand behind her."

"Yes," Philip said, through his tight little smile. "That's correct. But at the football match today, we got real chummy."

Brittle is the word for Philip's outlook on his curious role in life. On this trip there have been times when, watching him, I thought he might suddenly forsake his air of faint amusement, let out a bellow or an oath, take off his glad rags or brass bound uniform, hurl it to the ground and jump up and down on it.

"Patience . . . patience," he gritted at a covey of photographers at Jamestown, "We'll be back this way."

At the British embassy reception for the Washington diplomatic corps, the line was about to file past the royal couple when Elizabeth, with an inaudible word and gesture, indicated to her husband that she was still wearing her mink stole.

Philip whisked it from her shoulders and tossed it six feet through the air to the nearest chair.

Members of the royal party grew faint when they learned that Philip, upon being asked by a reporter if he now expected closer Anglo-American cooperation on missiles and satellites, snapped (and with good reason):

"That, brother, is up to YOU!"

Covering the Queen's tour, for a wire service reporter, has been something like writing a new lead at each quarter mile of the mile-and-a-quarter Kentucky Derby. The feature writers could get an angle, write it, and ride with it all day. The people in what we call the wire pool have a deadline somewhere in the world every second, so to speak.

You phrase a lead about something the Queen will do Monday at, let's say, Staten Island, and something bigger and newer will happen at the Battery. You write a tickertape parade story, to carry her from the Battery to City Hall, and something that happens between there and the Waldorf takes precedence. And so on through the day.

Strong men have broken covering this royal runaway race. Hulking guys with more muscles in their wrists than Elizabeth has in her entire body, have staggered to their cots with the faints. There isn't a clear eye left, except Elizabeth's. This has been more physically tiring than covering the Little Rock riots.

But, as we always say, it's better than working for a living.

What did the tour prove?

Well, I'd say that without really knowing her any better the American and Canadian people carry a clearer picture of Elizabeth and how well she conducts herself in a life that can be—as she put it—"a dull round."

If there is now a determined effort on the part of the administration to share our missile and satellite secrets with Britain, and get Britain's thinking in return, it won't meet nearly the opposition it might have met if Elizabeth had not graced our scene.

She must have reassured millions that Britain is our firm ally, a good friend who is not afraid to show it at a time when Sputnik has caught us with our ballistics down.

John E. Smith, 35, Alberta, was killed Friday night when his car overturned in Grant Township.

Anthony Beiring, Hancock, drowned in the Portage Canal in Upper Michigan Friday night.

Ira Luft Jr., 30, Hudson, was killed Sunday when the car he was driving was involved in a headon collision east of Hillsdale.

Barbara Reed, 15, Benzonia, suffered fatal injuries Sunday when she lost control of a car, which overturned off a county road.

Mrs. Dorothy Fitzpatrick, 33, Beulah, died Sunday in Mercy Community Hospital at Manistee of auto crash injuries. She was a passenger with motorist John E. Smith, 34, Elberta, who was killed Saturday when the car slid off a Mason County back road and overturned.

Commends Journalism

PARIS (AP) — At his first news conference as 1957 Nobel Prize winner, Albert Camus was asked what part journalism played in his career. He shot back: "Journalism is an excellent school of literature where one can learn to say something quickly and accurately."

Flypaper Getting Rare

ROAMOKE, Va. (AP) — The outlook is quite sticky for collectors of old gummed flypaper hereabouts. A check of hardware stores disclosed nobody has seen any of the gooey stuff for the last 10 years.

The Day in Birmingham

City Commission Slates Public Hearings Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — After an absence of two weeks, public hearings are once more on the city commission agenda. Coming before the body tonight will be the hearing on the requested modification of Yorkshire street, between Eton road and the GTWRR. The request for vacation of the street and as much of the easement as possible was made by Frank C. Newell.

Commissioners also will consider a request for an investigation of the sewer line serving Valley View Lane, south of Maple avenue. Residents charge an unsanitary condition exists from the partial filling of the eight-inch line from sand and silt.

Another request comes from the Library Board for the removal of trees from two sections of the lawn, removal of saplings growing near the building, trimming shrubs and the relocation of the yew hedge planted last May. The board points out that, at present, the shrubs are not uniformly spaced and fail to serve their purpose of halting traffic across the library lawn.

Pembroke School, having broken away from the community Halloween party, is, through its PTA, requesting the use of Pembroke Park for the purpose of serving refreshments at their own party. The entertainment will be in the school building.

Dr. Henrietta Hayden, associate director of the Department of Medical Physics at William Beaumont Hospital, will speak at the Oct. 24 meeting of the Soroptimist Club. Her subject will be "The Application of Radioactive Elements to Medical Problems." The dinner meeting will be held at Devon Gables.

Dr. Ralph L. Lee will address the Oct. 25 meeting at the Community House of the Senior Men's Club, speaking on "Retiring for the Road Ahead."

Dr. Lee, himself retired, has had a wide experience in the field of public relations and engineering. He knows the value of work, the value of retirement, and the place "having something to do" plays in the latter.

A hobbyist of note, Dr. Lee has a pilot's license and is a veteran glider pilot. At the rear of his Lakeside avenue home he carries on another hobby—iron work. He has a complete forge and pattern shop there and is well known for the excellence of his craftsmanship.

Toll Road Bonds See Market Prices Sag

in West Virginia — are selling today at less than half what the original owners paid for them, Girard said.

Gilbreath's firm specializes in underwriting securities such as road bonds and school bonds.

Gilbreath said he would not venture to underwrite toll road bonds at this time, especially for toll roads whose revenues are not guaranteed by the state.

Whether the market for turnpike bonds will improve "depends a variety of conditions impossible to predict," Gilbreath said.

Girard pointed out that the bond market has been down for a year and a half, while the MTA and the state have been arguing whether to have a toll road or not.

★ ★ ★

"The plan should have been abandoned two years ago," said Girard. "Pontiac has had two years of its time wasted already, and now it seems that the state is going to leave us out of its plans for another five years."

Girard believed that the big reason toll roads are down is that their performance has been disappointing.

"The experts seem to have consistently over-estimated the volume of traffic—and the subsequent revenues—that would use the toll roads," he said.

Because of this, he said, and the general change of cost of municipal financing due to scarcity of money, toll road bonds have dropped in price from $15 to $30 for every $100 originally invested, while other municipal bonds have taken a drop of only about $5 to $8.

The most successful turnpike, the New Jersey, currently is selling at $93 for every $100 originally invested, Girard said. He gave these figures for toll roads in eleven other states:

Florida, $81; Illinois, $70; Indiana, $81; Kentucky, $83; Maine, $83; Massachusetts, $85; Ohio, $85; Pennsylvania, $80; Texas, $76; New York, $91 and West Virginia, $44.

Girard hit toll roads generally, saying that they cost too much and can be built only by causing competing, free roads to remain undeveloped.

Mackie announced to the Pontiac group last week that he does not intend to add a Pontiac expressway to his current five-year highway plan.

He said that a north-south free expressway from Detroit through Pontiac to Flint "very probably" will be included in the second five-year plan, beginning in 1962.

The MTA's plans call for a $165 million turnpike, 76 miles long from the Detroit Industrial Expressway to the southeast edge of Flint.

Although plans for the toll road have been completed for several years, bonding companies have refused to market the MTA's bonds.

775 to Serve Queen

NEW YORK (INS) — Five hundred food and wine waiters, 50 captains, 25 bartenders, 100 cooks and assistants and 100 stewards and dishwashers will be on duty today to serve Queen Elizabeth and more than 500 guests at both the luncheon and dinner banquets being given in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria.

ROBERT EVANS

Robert J. Evans, who has been with the Oakland County Drain Commission 32 years, has been named deputy drain commissioner, filling the vacancy caused by the retirement of Stanley J. Filkins this summer.

★ ★ ★

Evans, 60, 2619 Woodbine Dr., Waterford Township, was appointed by Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry. The appointment will be acted on by the Board of Supervisors Oct. 30.

The new deputy drain commissioner first joined the department in 1925. For more than 15 years he was employed in designing county drains.

From 1945, Evans acted as assessing engineer and administrative assistant to the drain commissioner.

Evans is married and has two daughters.

THE BRAIN — The big electronic computer above, built by Michigan State University staff members, has a circuit checked by Dr. Lawrence W. Von Tersch, director of the MSU computer laboratory. The electronic "brain," made up of miles of wire and nearly 3,000 tubes and transistors, can perform 87,000 multiplications a minute and do in minutes complicated mathematical computations that would be a life's work for a man. It will have wide use in university research programs.

Graham Injured by Pet Sheep

Ram Butts Evangelist and Knocks Him Down Rocky Hillside

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP) — A pet ram butted Billy Graham three times yesterday, knocking the evangelist 50 feet down a rocky mountainside and sending him to bed with cuts, bruises and a possible fractured knee.

* * *

An X-ray examination of the knee was planned in Asheville today, but Graham said he would make his scheduled appearance at the Polo Grounds in New York City next Sunday "even if I have to be carried there on a stretcher." He is to leave his home here Wednesday for a series of meetings which will follow up his New York crusade of this summer.

* * *

Graham was in a pasture to feed apples to the three Suffolk sheep he recently purchased as pets for his children when the ram went into action. The first blow started Graham down the hillside. The animal followed and struck him twice more as Graham tumbled down the rocks.

Graham, who had an ax in his hand as he was examining the sheep, used the handle to hold the ram at bay while he crawled through the pasture fence to safety.

He was reported running a slight temperature last night, and the leg was badly swollen. He was treated at his home by his father-in-law, Dr. L. Nelson Bell.

Anchor Drowns Boy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—While fishing with his father, Norman Lyon, 15, threw a heavy anchor from their cabin cruiser. The rope coiled around his leg and catapulted him into 45 feet of water. The rope was not secured to the boat. The body was not recovered.

Blinded Watching Horseplay of Duke

CATTERICK, England (AP)—The husband of 27-year-old Mrs. Edna Machie said today she had been blinded in one eye by a firecracker thrown at an army going-away party in which one of the leading lights was the Duke of Kent.

The duke, a 22-year-old cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, and other young lieutenants at Catterick training camp last week pelted an outbound troop train with rotten apples and bags of flour.

Mackie said his wife was standing a few yards away watching the sport when a firecracker thrown from the train exploded in her face.

He added that an army eye specialist at the camp where Mrs. Mackie is a civilian clerk "has performed an operation but as far as we can tell she lost sight of one eye completely."

A spokesman for Kent's regiment, the Royal Scots Greys, conceded that the Duke took part in the horseplay but said, "He was not involved in this accident."

2 Trains Crash; Over 40 Killed

Turkish Express, Local Collide Near Istanbul; No Foreigners Injured

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — An Athens-bound express and a local train heading toward Istanbul collided in Turkish Thrace last night and railroad officials estimated 40 to 50 Turkish passengers were killed and 150 injured.

While ambulances from Istanbul screamed to the scene, rescue workers probed through the tangled metal for victims. Bodies were crushed in the cars of the local train and sprawled along the rain-damped ground beside the tracks.

A rescue train reached the scene, about 30 miles northwest of Istanbul, and brought most of the severely injured back to the Turkish metropolis.

The express was called the Simplon Balkan—not to be confused with the famed Simplon Orient Express.

No bodies of foreigners were found. Authorities said most of the dead and injured were in the local train, although some Western-bound Turkish students were killed.

Churchgoers in Bogota, Colombia, can go up or down to attend Mass. The Shrine of Monserrate, reached by an aerial ride, is 10,000 feet above sea level. Or they can go to the Cathedral of Salt which is 800 feet under the earth's surface.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: Why do geese fly in V formation?

ANSWER: Sure signs of fall in the United States each year are noisy bands of geese flying South in characteristic V-shaped formations.

Maybe you think geese are stupid, but really they're pretty smart. For instance, by flying in V formation they are doing just what fighter pilots do—avoiding the air disturbances created by each other's passage, while staying close together.

The goose at the head of the V is the leader of that particular group.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Listen at night for the honking of geese in the sky, as autumn comes on. If you are lucky, you may even see them in the daytime, flying or on some river or pond.

★ ★ ★

(For submitting this question, Gary Brian of Redwood City, Calif., won $10. If you have one send it to Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures, in care of this newspaper.)

Searches About for Red 'Moon,' Gets Real Scare

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Antoinette Dettle heard over a television station recently that the Russian-made moon Sputnik would be overhead at 5:15 p.m.

She went into her yard to try to see it. Her three children, 5, 4 and 2, were playing in the yard.

At 5:13 p.m., Mrs. Dettle said, she heard a screaming sound and then the thud of an object landing in the yard, within 10 feet of the children. It tore a hole about 18 inches wide and a foot deep in the ground.

It wasn't Sputnik.

It was a 50-pound metal box of flares that dropped from an Eglin Air Force Base plane. The box was retrieved by an Eglin demolition team.

By then, Mrs. Dettle had forgotten aout Sputnik.

Japanese Socialists War on Discrimination

TOKYO (AP) — The Socialist party wants to do something about Japan's own problem of segregation.

★ ★ ★

No official segregation exists against Japan's three million untouchables, descendants of ancient tribes, but all kinds of official discriminations are practiced.

The Socialists urge creation of a committee in the prime minister's office to provide monetary relief and other benefits.

White Lake Township Makes Dry Run of Disaster

DISASTER AT WHITE LAKE — Above White Lake Civil Defense workers combat fire and havoc and care for the wounded after two "tornadoes" struck the area Sunday in mock disaster. The simulated event was called by CD Director Andrew Plano so that workers might be able to work efficiently should real disaster ever hit the area. In top left picture, auxiliary firemen (from left) Gerald Howard and Towell Green of Milford rescue victim Donna Sloan of Pontiac. In photo two, at right, auxiliary fireman William Webber of Pontiac sprays water on flaming debris. Lower photo shows casualty Iva Law, Pontiac, being given blood and treated by, left to right, Pat Hancock and Sarah Sloan, both of Pontiac. Two first aid stations were established for the occasion near the scenes of the two tornadoes, one at White Lake Presbyterian Church and the other at Dublin Community Center.

Area Hit by 2 Staged Twisters

Simulated Peril Helps Trained Persons Gain More Experience

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP —In preparation for a real emergency, 200 White Lake Township residents formed a rescue team which cared for 22 casualties yesterday when two simulated tornadoes "hit" the area.

★ ★ ★

Emergency headquarters at the township hall in the center of the area, dispatched policemen, firemen medical and welfare workers to the scene by way of radio.

Transportation and supplies were also rushed to the stricken area. Every effort was made to duplicate the effects of a tornado.

The simulated emergency permitted citizens already trained in first aid work to gain further experience.

Among observers were Lewis Garrendt, Oakland County Civilian Defense director; Ransford Baromley, assistant county CD director; and Virginia Warren of the county welfare service.

★ ★ ★

Richard Taschke, a member of the White Lake Township board said he was highly pleased with the fast and efficient work of the rescue team.

Highly gratified at the large turnout were Andrew Plano, township CD director; Joseph Hynds, assistant township director and Eleanor Zetter, administrative deputy for the township CD unit.

12 Chinese Seize Red Patrol Boat, Escape to Ryukyu

NAHA, Okinawa (INS) — Twelve Chinese who seized a Communist patrol boat and fled from Red China Oct. 9th are being held in protection today on a small island 300 miles southwest of Okinawa.

The 12 refugees arrived Saturday at Yonaguni, a Ryukyuan island, waving white flags aboard the 70-ton patrol boat they swiped from the Communists at Shanghai.

The Chinese said one refugee was killed and three injured aboard the vessel when Communist shore patrols opened fire as they raced towards the open sea from Shanghai at midnight on Oct. 9th.

The patrol boat missed Formosa —its original destination—and was at sea for ten days. The refugees said they were out of fuel and adrift in rough seas for most of their voyage.

★ ★ ★

U.S. military officials on Okinawa sent a plane carrying an investigating party to the Southern Ryukyuan island.

Land to Cost $5 Billion

WASHINGTON — An estimated 730,000 parcels of land will have to be acquired for right of way for the 41,000 miles of the new interstate highway system authorized by Congress. This includes right of way for about 75 per cent of the system being built on new locations and for much of the 25 per cent which will be improved on the present sites. The right-of-way purchases are expected to cost about five billion dollars.

Hurt in Car Accident

A Waterford Township man is in poor condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after being injured by a car on U.S. 10 just south of M15 in Independence Township Saturday night, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Claude Baker, 33, of 1066 Lynsue Lane, suffered forehead cuts, a fractured ankle, and dislocated shoulder as a result of the accident, said deputies.

Sitnesses said he ran into the side of a car driven by Donald D. Ish, 23, of 3970 Beedin St., Drayton Plains, Baker was returning to his car from a motel where he had stopped to make a phone call, he told deputies.

Bertie Freeman, Gerald Hamilton Wed

GINGELLVILLE — The Baptist Church here was the scene of the wedding of Bertie Marie Freeman and Gerald Hamilton Saturday afternoon. The rite was solemnized by the Rev. William E. Miles before 250 guests. Baskets of white mums decorated the altar.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Freeman of 4782 Georgia Dr., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamilton of 6205 Hillsborough, Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

The bride wore a floor-length satin gown. The Chantilly lace top featured a sweetheart neckline and long tapered sleeves. The skirt was of three-tier layers of net.

★ ★ ★

A shoulder-length veil was fastened to a Juliet cap trimmed with lilies of the valley, and she carried a crescent arrangement of white carnations, centered with a corsage.

★ ★ ★

Louise Freeman, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Pauline Freeman, another sister, was the bridesmaid.

★ ★ ★

Michael Katchka, of Michigan State University, served as best man. Groomsman was Royce Davis, of Pontiac. Ushers included Clayton Carter and John Freeman, cousins of the bride, and junior ushers were James Freeman, the bride's brother, and Kenneth Freeman, her cousin.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the service.

After a honeymoon in northern Michigan the couple will reside at 113 Lafayette St., Pontiac.

Studies Inconclusive in Rising Traffic Toll

CHICAGO (INS) — A year long study by the National Safety Council has failed to relate conclusively the rising traffic toll and higher horsepower in automobiles.

The results of the study were announced last night by the committee on speed chairman Prof. Donald S. Berry of Northwestern University.

The report said: "While high horsepower does increase the top speed potential of motor vehicles, it is absorbed in part by softer tires and in new power accessories."

It also stated that higher horsepower in autos "provides additional acceleration potential, which can reduce distance required for passing other vehicles, thereby contributing to accident prevention."

The committee report was given on the eve of the National Safety Congress which opens in Chicago today.

Lions Club Plans Halloween Dance at Lake Orion

LAKE ORION — The Lake Orion Lion's Club here is sponsoring a dance in Al Hanoute's showrooms Wednesday, Oct. 30, from 9:30-1 a.m.

In showroom one, will be square dancing to callers Dub Perry from Flint, with Scott Colburn from Detroit featured.

In showroom two a five-piece orchestra from Detroit will play modern music. Tickets are available from Lion's Club members, one ticket admitting a dancer to both areas.

Masquerade costumes are suggested but are not a necessity, according to Donald Burley, general chairman.

Proceeds will be used for the annual Christmas Fund which provides baskets, toys and clothing for needy persons.

Schuman Declines Bid to Form Government

PARIS (AP)—President Rene Coty today asked former Premier Robert Schuman, a Christian Democrat, to form a new government. Schuman declined.

The current political crisis began Sept. 30 when the government of Maurice Bourges - Maunoury collapsed in a National Assembly vote on his bill for partial home rule in rebellious Algeria.

MR. AND MRS. STUART J. HUTCHINS

250 See Candlelight Rite

Susan Tobin Is Bride

Susan Adelle Tobin became the bride of Stuart James Hutchins in a candlelight wedding performed Saturday in First Methodist Church, Farmington. The Rev. Russel W. Sursaw officiated at the double ring rite in the presence of 250 guests.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip G. Tobin of Novi are the parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart P. Hutchins of Rochester.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. For her wedding she chose a floor-length gown of taffeta, fashioned with motifs of net insertion on the Sabrina neckline. Four net inserts accented the bouffant skirt with a chapel-length train.

A lace pillbox with seed pearls and iridescent sequins secured the fingertip hand-rolled veil, and her bridal bouquet was of white roses and white spider chrysanthemums.

Acting as maid of honor was Nancy Hutchins, sister of the bridegroom.

Other attendants were Janet Stephans of Walled Lake; Sally Schrader of New York, former MSU roommate of the bride; Mrs. Joel Bailey of Orchard Lake, and Maxine Perkins of Swartz Creek, also a former roommate. Flower girl was Peggy Hutchins.

Edward Braid of Lake Orion was best man. Guests were seated by Ronald Mecum of Romeo, Erv Dykstra of Holland, both former MSU roommates of the bridegroom; William Dean of Rochester, and Arthur McCracken, cousin of the bridegroom from Mount Pleasant. William Hutchins served as junior usher.

Mrs. Tobin received guests at a reception held at the Westacre Clubhouse.

Before leaving for northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois, the new Mrs. Hutchins changed into a blue sheath with jacket, black accessories and white rose corsage. The couple will reside on John R road, Rochester.

Birmingham Man Gets Promotion in Ford Co.

L. E. Jolls has been appointed manager of the quality control department, Tractor and Implement Division, Ford Motor Company in Troy, according to R. E. Hunt, general manufacturing manager.

He succeeds W. R. Phillips, who has been named production manager of the Des Moines Implement Plant of Ford Motor Company, Des Moine, Iowa. Jolls has been with Ford since 1953 as a supervisor in the Division's quality control department.

With his wife and two daughters, Jolls lives at 29305 Westbrooke Parkway, Birmingham.

Flare Sale Starts Tomorrow

Auburn Heights Youth to Benefit

Lions Club 4-Day Event to Be Followed Oct. 31 by Special Festivity

AUBURN HEIGHTS—The Lions Club here, in its tenth annual Flare Sale, will go forth in the community Tuesday night, bearing flares. Proceeds from the sale will go toward charitable activities of the group and for support of the Pontiac and Avon Township Boys Club.

Volunteers will go from door to door in their four-day effort to sell the flares.

Thursday, Oct. 31 has been designated as special Flare Night. On this night, flares will be lighted by citizens of the area at the sound of the fire siren, which will be approximately at 7 p.m.

The flares are to be placed in front of homes and business places where they will burn with intense light for 15 minutes, outlining the entire community.

Also from the proceeds of the sale will come an evening of fun for area youngsters on Halloween.

Children will parade in costume, with bands and floats also featured. The parade will form at Cherryland and Auburn roads at 7:45 p.m., proceeding to the playground of Auburn Heights School on Squirrel Road. There, costume judging and the awarding of prizes will take place. Free refreshments will be served to all present.

A community dance will be held afterward at the American Legion Hall. Lions officials say everyone is invited, and that there will be no admission charge.

★ ★ ★

General chairman for the event is Art Keller and co-chairmen are Henry Wildenheim and Harold Setter.

FLARE BEARERS — Bearing flares and display cards such as those now posted in area store windows, these Auburn Heights Lions are ready for the Tuesday night flare sale. Proceeds from the four-day sale will go toward charitable endeavors and a big Halloween party for area youngsters. A Community Dance will be held at the American Legion Hall afterwards. Pictured, left to right, are Marvin Bailey, Arthur Keller, Henry Wildenheim and Earl Bowden.

At Lake Orion High School

2,000 Attend Homecoming

LAKE ORION — The Friday Homecoming event of Lake Orion Community High School drew a crowd of 2,000 persons—the largest attendance for any game in six years.

During halftime, Gail Cook, junior elected by the student body for the honor of queen, was crowned by Ruth Watkins, last year's queen.

Also awarded was a trophy to the best club float, won by the Art Club. A huge swing of pompons in fall colors carried the theme, "Get into the Swing — Beat Clawson."

The winning class float, entered by juniors, was a big clock, an enormous bar of soap, and a boy in Clawson uniform being washed with big brushes. Bubbles were being blown by about 10 riders, with the theme, "Cleaning Clawson's Clock."

Board to Discuss Water Rates Tonight

According to Waterford Township officials, the only business of importance at tonight's board meeting will be the discussion and probable action on increased water rates for Huron Gardens subdivision No. 1.

Preliminary plans for six volunteer police reserve officers will be presented by Supervisor Elmer Johnson. The six men have been selected and board approval is necessary before final action is taken.

Representatives of the Jayno Adams subdivision will present a plat for their second subdivision development for the township board's approval.

Rawlings Tour North

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—After traveling to northern Michigan, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Everett Henry Rawlings will make their home at 1264 Orchid St.

★ ★ ★

The bride, who was Blanche Adleen Watts, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Watts of Buick street. The bridegroom's parents are Arnold Rawlings of St. Clair street, Pontiac, and Mrs. Helen Lincoln of Brockton, Mass.

★ ★ ★

Wearing a gown of French Chantilly lace, nylon net and taffeta created by her mother, the bride repeated her vows in a setting of chrysanthemums and potted palms in a candlelight ceremony at Covert Methodist Church. One hundred guests were present.

★ ★ ★

Maid of honor was Melissa Watts, while Gordon Bailey served as best man. Guests were seated by Jerl Coe and Jerl Coe Jr.

A church reception was held immediately after the rite.

Star Rises Late

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Joseph DeCosi got his medal, the Army's Bronze Star, but nobody seems to know why it reached him 13 years after the award was made. He also isn't quite sure just what combat incident brought him the medal. He was fighting in Italy when the award was made on May 13, 1944.

Had Illegal Hobby

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — Police here have advised Raul Moreno to get another hobby. He was arrested after being observed letting the air out of an automobile tire. He explained he liked to stand by and watch the reaction of the car owners.

Harvest Dance Set by Parents

Auburn Heights Group Slates Money-Raising Affair for Oct. 26

AUBURN HEIGHTS — The Parents Club of the Auburn Heights Boys Club Inc. is planning a Harvest Dance, to be held Saturday, Oct. 26, in Avondale Junior High School gymnasium.

Profits from the event will be turned over to the Boys Club Building Fund. Music is to be furnished by Harvey Perry's orchestra.

Modern and mixed dancing to start at 8 p.m., will be the order of the evening and prizes will be awarded for the funniest and most original costumes worn. Refreshments will be available.

Tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from the Parents, Boys Club members, or at the door.

Committees working on dance arrangements are: decorations, Mrs. Marjorie Lee, Mrs. Christine Welch, and Mrs. Delores Bartkowiak; tickets, Mrs. Helen Hart, Betty Cresswell, and Clifford Welch and refreshments, Sam Young, Kenneth Willhite, and Don Burt. Boys' Club members will take charge of clean-up.

At their last meeting, the Parents elected Cliff Welch as vice president because former vice president, Dale Reagan, has moved away from the community.

$700 Awaits Right Solution for Pot-O-Gold

No sense putting it of any longer. You'd better get started right now on this new puzzle which will bring the winner $700. The longer you wait, the more likely someone else is to beat you to the money. See what you can do with the clews below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 30, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Progress Failure of AEC Cited

Atom Conference Asks Group to Give 'More Positive Leadership'

HARRIMAN, N. Y. (AP)—A conference on atoms for power has scored the Atomic Energy Commission for allegedly failing to make sufficient progress in the power field.

In a 3,000-word report, conferees at the 12th American Assembly at Arden Horse demanded yesterday that the AEC assume "more positive leadership."

★ ★ ★

Ending a four-day meeting, they asserted that "there is an urgent need for a thorough review of the United States atomic power program."

The conferees included 65 nuclear scientists, industrialists, government officials, newspaper publishers and educators. Their report warned that a lagging atomic power program could harm the United States' position in the cold war.

★ ★ ★

A review of the country's atomic power program, the report said, "should lead to a clear formulation of the program's objectives in terms of the national power needs of the United States in the long run as well as immediate requirements of the United States foreign policy."

The assembly said private industry cannot carry an atomic power program without federal aid. The law should be amended, the report said, to eliminate restrictions on subsidies.

★ ★ ★

A minority of the conferees voted against large subsidies. The government itself should construct atomic power plants both large and small for demonstration purposes, this group held.

Government and private industry must work together, the report said.

There is no rush for atomic power in the United States, the report said, but long-range needs including the demands of foreign countries require a vigorous research program.

Dog Saves Woman

DALLAS (AP) — Susie, a small black dog of doubtful ancestry, basked in glory after saving the life of her mistress. Susie apparently was the first to discover a fire that swept through an apartment building yesterday. Her mistress Mrs. Kay E. Lucke, said Susie awakened her by barking furiously and tugging at the bedcovers.

Hollywood Headlines

Kovacs-Holliday Team May Be Socko in Film

By DOROTHY MANNERS

(While Louella Parsons is on vacation, her column will be written by Dorothy Manners.)

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Via transatlantic telephone, Ingrid Bergman told Buddy Edlar that she will star in "The Inn of the Eight Happiness" for him—but she is not coming to Hollywood. The 20th film will be shot in its entirety on the Island of Formosa starting in February.

This re-unites Ingrid with the producer of "Anastasia" for which she won the Oscar last season.

★ ★ ★

It also puts considerable distance between her and Roberto Rossellini. With "Kind Sir" yet to be made in London with Cary Grant, and this February date in Formosa, there will be half a world between Ingrid and Rossellini.

Mark Robson directs "The Inn of the Eight Happiness" which has been scripted by Isobel Lennart from Alen Burgess' novel, "The Small Woman."

ERNIE EYES DEAL

So what do you think Ernie Kovacs and Harry Cohn were talking about sunning themselves by the pool at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas? A deal for Ernie to co-star with Judy Holliday in "The Great Sebastians," the Alfred Lunt-Lynn Fontanne stage comedy.

Judy isn't due at Columbia to make another picture until after the first of the year. Meanwhile, Senior Sohn is very impressed with cigar smoking Ernie's performance in his debut, "Operation Mad Ball" and wants him on a multiple movie contract. "The Great Sebastians," a hokus-pokus about magic, would be a great kick-off for Ernie and the very funny Miss Holliday.

LOUELLA REPORTS

"Here's today's memo from your wandering reporter," Louella Parsons reports from New York. "You knew I just couldn't keep my finger out of the pie. Fifth Avenue could be called Queen Elizabeth Lane with flowers blooming, flags flying, shop windows displaying the queen and Prince Philip's pictures everywhere to the tune of wild excitement in the air.

"I've been invited by Mayor Robert Wagner to the welcoming reception at City Hall and to the queen's luncheon at the Waldorf. A new entrance of red tile has been laid down especially in honor of the royal couple. Joe Binns, manager of the Waldorf, and Frank Dell Agnese, manager of the Towers, have been working overtime.

"The elevator that will carry Elizabeth and Philip to their suites has been pointed out to me but it's a state secret—so I won't tell."

JOHNSON'S THROW PARTY

Evie and Van Johnson's party celebrating Ann Todd's first visit to Hollywood wasn't as big as Mike Todd's, but it seemed to move faster (judging from the telecast).

Held in the Johnsons' Beverly Hill home, the hours were from "hors d'oeuvres to dawn" and the guest list read like a who's who of who's left in Hollywood.

The honored guest's good friends, James Masons, were there. Also, the Gary Coopers, Buddy Adlers, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Jose Ferrer and Rosemary Clooney, the Rosanno Brazzis, Doris Day and Marty Melcher and the Sam Goldwyns.

SOME SHORTS

Hollywood in shorts: First friend to receive word from golf champ Gene Littler that he's the proud papa of a baby girl, was Frankie Laine, in Paris. Frankie has won $237,654 backing Gene in three Calcutta Golf Pools in Las Vegas.

Is the Martha Hyer-George Nader romance on ice? At the premiere of "My Man Godfrey" Martha was with Ross Hunter and George with the fascinating Ingrid Goude.

Those cute youngsters with Errol Flynn were his two daughters by his marriage to Nora Haymes.

Plenty of midnight excitement at Mary Hosford's home when a short circuit in the kitchen started a fire that sent the lady and her four children into the street. It turned out it wasn't a bad fire, just a lot of smoke that scared everybody, including "Sonny" Whitney who is in Las Vegas getting a divorce so he can marry Mary.

At last Gisele Mackenzie has found a house, the former King Vidor home atop Summit Drive in Beverly Hills.

That's all today.

British Propose Scientific Pool

Macmillan to Lay Plan Before Cabinet to Share All Nuclear Research

LONDON (AP)—The British government today was reported shaping up a proposal for pooling all U.S.-British scientific resources, including nuclear and rocket research.

Prime Minister Macmillan, who will begin conferences in Washington with President Eisenhower Wednesday, was expected to lay the plan before his Cabinet a meeting today.

Under the reported plan, the two allies would coordinate their scientific effort through a joint planning directorate with headquarters in Washington.

There was speculation that other members of the British Commonwealth and of the North Atlantic Alliance might be invited to join if the United States agreed.

★ ★ ★

For the United States to take part, Congress might have to repeal or revise the McMahon Act, which sharply curtails the sharing of atomic information, even with friendly nations.

Macmillan's Conservative government evidently feels the recent forward strides by the Soviet Union may persuade Congress the act should be changed.

Britain's enthusiasm for a pooling of effort has been evident for some time.

Dali Given Award

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Huntington Hartford Foundation today announced the award of $5,000 to Spanish painter Salvadore Dali for his "long, distinguished and dynamic career as a painter."

Early Lead for Ortiz in Guatemala Election

GUATEMALA (AP) — Government candidate Miguel Ortiz Passarelli led today in early unofficial returns from the Guatemalan presidential election.

But the leading antigovernment contender, Conservative Gen Miguel Idigoras Fuentes, claimed he was ahead and threatened a strike if fraud deprives him of the presidency.

★ ★ ★

The balloting yesterday brought a heavy turnout of voters. Police said there was no violence.

With about a fifth of the votes counted in 62 municipalities, the unofficial tally was Ortiz 43,640, Idigoras 31,558 and Miguel Asturias Quinones 6,404.

The count included the capital city, where Ortiz supporters admitted Idigoras was leading.

★ ★ ★

The election, the first since 1950, was held to name a successor to Carlos Castillo Armas, who in 1954 overthrew the pro-Communist government of Jacobo Arbenz Guzman. Castillo was shot down by one of his own guards last July 26.

Mario Sandoval, secretary general of Ortiz' Democratic Nationalist movement, predicted his man would win a six-year term by 200,000 votes over Idigoras.

Noting Idigoras' charge of fraud, Sandoval said the election had taken place in "the most absolute freedom."

Idigoras' supporters in the National Democratic Reconciliation party charged that thousands of residents of the provinces had been prevented from voting while thousands on government-owned coffee plantations voted several times.

An Old, Constant Tradition

Russians Threatening Turks

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY

Threatening the Turks is an old and constant tradition of Russian diplomacy.

★ ★ ★

The current Kremlin war talk is possibly more dangerous than the previous Russian bids to break through the Turkish fortress into the Mediterranean and the Middle East.

But if Nikita Khrushchev studies the lessons of history he may decide to go slow.

Russian grabs at Turkey have been responsible for some of the most serious setbacks Moscow's imperialism has suffered during the past century.

Joseph Stalin, flushed with victory over Germany in World War II, decided to pressure Turkey into granting the Soviet Union fortresses on the Turkish straits which connect the Mediterranean and Black Seas. The Turks rejected the demands but faced the necessity of keeping fully mobilized, a condition threatening Turkey's economic stability.

At this point President Truman stepped in and promulgated the Truman doctrine of assistance to Greece and Turkey. American help flowed to the Turks in large quantities. The Turks later joined NATO, thus securing American protection against invasion. The Russians were forced to back down.

★ ★ ★

Moscow suffered an even more serious setback during the 1939-41 period of the Nazi-Soviet pact. Captured German documents have revealed that Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov proposed to Hitler a division of spheres of influence between Germany and the Soviet Union. This would have given the straits and Turkey to Russia. Hitler's consent to this Russian demand almost certainly would have set the stage for a Russian invasion of Turkey. Hitler balked, however. And this revelation of Soviet greed apparently played an important part in Hitler's decision to invade Russia in June 1941.

Russia lost its best chance to gain control of the straits and Turkey as a result of the Bolshevik revolution 40 years ago. In World War I Turkey was an ally of Germany. The Western allies, in secret treaties made during that war, agreed to give Russia the straits after victory. But the revolution took Russia out of the war and canceled these agreements.

In the Russian-Turkish war of 1877-78 Russian troops advanced to within a few miles of Constantinople (now Istanbul). Russia seemed to have within its grasp the long-desired control of the straits—but other powers intervened. At the conference of Berlin in June 1878 Russia was forced to give up many of the fruits of military victory. Turkey retained control of the straits.

★ ★ ★

In 1853 Russia began the Crimean war by destroying a Turkish fleet in the Black Sea. England and France sided with Turkey and fought the famous campaign in the Crimea which resulted in capture of Sevastopol and brought Russian defeat.

Turkey in standing up to the Russians has always found support in the West. During the 19th century England prevented Russia from taking the straits. Today Turkey's chief support is the United States.

Yale and Cornell have been basketball foes since 1899.

Title Hopes, Rose Bowl Trip Alive

Michigan's Spirit Revived

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Its spirits revived, Michigan now heads into the thick of Big Ten combat with successive games against Minnesota and Iowa.

The gloom that settled over the Wolverine den following the loss to Michigan State suddenly disappeared Saturday.

There was a bigger cheer in Michigan Stadium when word of the Spartans' upset by Purdue was announced than there was for Michigan's 34-14 triumph over Northwestern.

The roar had one meaning: Michigan will at least tie for the league title and probably go to the Rose Bowl if it can win all its remaining games.

"That's quite a challenge," said Coach Bennie Oosterbaan.

Going unbeaten the rest of the way will leave Michigan with a 7-1 record against conference foes. The Spartans would be eliminated from championship recognition because of their six-game schedule.

Ohio State would tie Michigan for the title by winning every game but the season's finale with the Wolverines. A Michigan triumph over the Buckeyes would place the Wolverines atop the Rose Bowl invitation list.

Ohio and Iowa, who meet Nov. 16, currently are deadlocked in first place with 2-0 records.

Mention of Michigan's bowl possibilities and the championship makes Oosterbaan shudder.

"This whole Big Ten race is a dog - eat - dog affair," he said. "we're only concerned with Minnesota right now."

The Gophers, who were unceremoniously upset by Illinois Saturday, obviously will be sky-high in the televised game with Michigan this weekend at Minneapolis. They always are in these Little Brown Jug clashes. And if Michigan needs a reminder, it only has to hark back to last year when underdog Minnesota squelched its championship aspirations with a 20-7 victory.

Against Northwestern, the Wolverines were brilliant in spots and dismal in others. They gained 246 yards rushing and 123 passing and ran up their highest point total of the season.

Loss of the ball after a 90-yard march in the first period didn't annoy them. They punched out two touchdowns in the second period to take a 14-0 lead at halftime. But they suffered a letdown after intermission.

With Bob McKeiver showing the way, the Wildcats came back on drives of 80 and 54 yards to tie the score.

Oosterbaan admitted Michigan was fooled by Northwestern's second half attack.

"They put one of their ends over on the other side, giving them an unbalanced line," he said. "We hadn't prepared for it."

In the fourth period with a possible upset looming, the Wolverines jelled. With quarterback Jim Van Pelt, who had climbed from a sick bed in the morning, and third string fullback Jim Byers leading the way, Michigan scored three times.

The flu-stricken Van Pelt had been eliminated from Michigan's battle plan. But the course of the game required his presence. He pitched two touchdown passes and scored a third.

Byers didn't score while filling in for the injured John Herrnstein. But his power drives through the Wildcat line were good for 98 yards. On the 80-yard march to the winning touchdown, he plunged for 48 yards through gaping holes opened by the Wolverine line.

Left halfback Jim Pace and substitute left end Dave Bowers were other Michigan heroes. Bowers scored once and played a fine defensive game as Gary Prahst's understudy.

Wolverines on TV

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten Conference office has announced that the Michigan - Minnesota football game at Minneapolis on Oct. 26 will be the next in a series of NCAA-approved Midwest regional telecasts. Game time is 2:30 p.m. (EST).

Almont Wins Share of Top Loop Place

Scoring in the last three periods of its important Southern Thumb league contest with Armada, Saturday, Almont's unbeaten club shut out its hosts, 21-0, to take a share of the league lead with Brown City.

★ ★ ★

Armada never got within Almont's 25-yard stripe, but stopped its foe once on the four in a fine goal-line stand. The winners went right back, however, for the final tally.

★ ★ ★

Gary McAlvey passed to Larry Ostrander on the five for the first TD. Larry then intercepted an Armada pass after the kickoff, went 55 yards, and Frank Hartway made the last TD from the three after a 50-yard drive. Walt Griffin converted all three with perfect boots.

A big audience witnessed the contest.

Detroit Grabs an Early Lead, Makes It Stick

Dea and Ullman Shine as Team Breaks NHL Last-Place Tie, 3-1

DETROIT (AP) — Victory-hungry Red Wings' fans had the edge taken off their appetites last night when Detroit battled to a 3-1 decision over the Toronto Maple Leafs at Olympia Stadium.

The triumph marked the 1st home victory for the Red Wings this season and was the 2nd straight over the Maple Leafs. The game also broke a deadlock between the two teams for the National Hockey League's cellar position.

Red Kelly, Billy Dea and Norm Ullman were the big guns in the Red Wings' attack, each scoring one goal. Barry Cullen scored the lone Toronto marker, the only one of 29 attempts let through by goalie Terry Sawchuk.

The Wings took an early lead midway in the first period and spent the rest of the game holding onto it, allowing the Leafs to dominate play during much of the first two periods.

Kelly caged his goal while Dick Duff was serving time in the penalty box. The other Detroit scores were made in the last period.

Kelly's shot was set up by Gordie Howe who fired a pass from 30 feet out. Kelly flipped a knee-high marker past Leafs' goalie Ed Chadwick.

Dea made it two for Detroit in the final period when he knocked in his own rebound after Bill Dineen had shoveled the puck from behind the cage.

Toronto's lone goal was made when Cullen rammed in his own rebound after Bob Pulford started a scramble in front of the Detroit net.

PURDUE TD — Fullback Bob Jarus (36) of Purdue goes over from the one-yard line to score against Michigan State late in the 2nd period. Several Spartan linemen are shown tackling the Purdue back who leaped over the goal line.

'Spoilmakers' Do It Again-Blast MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — They were calling those Purdue Boilermakers "spoiler makers" up at East Lansing today.

Not many people believed it actually was going to happen until Saturday's final score was posted —Purdue 20, Michigan State 13.

The Spartans had won three games by convincing margins and were the top-rated team in the country. Unrated Purdue had dropped three straight and was further hurt by injuries and by the Asian flu.

Even those who remembered back to 1953, when Purdue snapped a 28-game Spartan win streak didn't think lightning could strike twice. But Purdue once again proved that any team in the Big 10 might beat any other conference team on a given Saturday.

★ ★ ★

"Our kids never tried harder," said Coach Duffy Daugherty. "In fact, they tried too hard. They made mistakes they hadn't made all year, like fumbling and dropping passes."

"But Purdue earned it," Daugherty conceded. "They rushed us hard and hit our passers well and generally out-fought us all along the line."

★ ★ ★

The record crowd of 64,950, the largest ever to see a game at Spartan Stadium, sensed the home team was in for trouble early in the 1st period when Michigan State was unable to score. MSU did penetrate as far as the Purdue one but a fumble stopped the scoring chance.

Walt Kowalczyk lugged a punt back from the MSU 43 to the Purdue 10 and bucked over to score three plays later at the start of the 2nd period.

Kowalczyk crossed the Purdue goal again later in the same quarter but it was called back by a holding penalty. Purdue evened the score before the half when Fred Jarus carried over after a pass interception.

Purdue struck twice to decide the game in the 3rd quarter. Ross Fitchner, a sophomore quarterback starting his first game, hit a 42-yard pass to Tom Franckhauser in a play that carried to the Spartan four.

Fullback Mel Dillard hit in from the one. Later in the 3rd, Kenny Mikes broke 34 yards through left tackle for a touchdown after Purdue recovered one of Michigan State's 10 fumbles.

Jim Ninowski connected to Sammy Williams with a 30-yard end-zone touchdown pass in the 4th quarter but it was too little and too late.

The ball-bobbling stopped two other Spartan 4th-quarter drives that looked promising, one going as far as the Purdue 30 and the other to the 32.

Rallying Titans Defeat Xavier

Two 4th-Quarter TD's Produce Third Victory for Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Whatever it takes to make a football team fight from behind to victory, the University of Detroit Titans mustered enough to beat Xavier (Ohio) University 30-20 here Saturday.

And the Titans needed all the comeback stuff they could find to overtake the Musketeers three times and finish on top.

The victory was nailed down by two fourth - quarter touchdowns, a 14-yard scoring pass from quarterback Lou Faoro to end Dave Dahlkemper and a dazzling 66-yard run to the goal by Billy Russell.

It was the third triumph of the season against one loss for the Titans.

Xavier, before it bowed in defeat for the third time in six outings, was tied with the Titans or leading them at the end of every quarter except the fourth.

Harmon Undergoes Operation on Lung

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Television and radio sports commentator Tom Harmon is reported recovering from an operation for a lung infection.

Harmon has been in St. John Hospital here for more than a week. His physician said that the operation Saturday was successful and that no evidence of malignancy was found.

Doctors said that the one time University of Michigan All-American (1939-40) would be unable to resume broadcasting for at least two weeks.

Market Aiming for New Lows

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market headed toward new lows for the year in active early trading today.

Pivotal issues were down from fractions to around two points. There was a scattering of gainers ranging from fractions to around a point.

★ ★ ★

Steels, rails and chemicals were mostly lower, but the picture was rather mixed among aircraft and missile shares as well as oils and nonferrous metals. Motors showed little change.

Layoffs and production cutbacks were reported in some industries. But retail sales of autos were reported on the upgrade over 1956 for the first time this year.

Lockheed fell two points to 30¼ on an opening block of 2,000 shares following news that the Navy had canceled 21 million dollars in contracts with the firm.

★ ★ ★

But Martin Co. and Douglas Aircraft were ahead major fractions and General Dynamics was steady. Boeing was off a bit.

Chrysler was firm but other motor shares showed little change.

Kennecott, American Cyanamid and Du Pont were down about a point each. International Nickel was a one-point gainer.

Opening blocks included Libby, McNeill & Libby unchanged at 10 on 13,900 shares; General Motors off ⅛ at 38⅛ on 4,500; and Anaconda up ⅛ at 43⅝ on 3,000.

French Women Get Breaks in Industry

PARIS — In general, women workers in France have a shorter work week than men and may not, under any circumstances, work more than 10 hours a day.

They must be given one or more daily rest periods totaling at least one hour and a weekly rest period of at least 24 consecutive hours.

Women may not be employed at night in industry.

Women are not allowed to work underground in mines or quarries, may not clean, grease, inspect, or repair machines in operation, and may not be employed in the more hazardous occupations.

They are entitled to a 14-week maternity leave with full job security.

Among the old time gold rush camps in Alaska, the flourishing cities of Fairbanks and Nome still have limited gold mining operations today.

Auto Makers in America Not Planning Small Cars

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Demand for smaller cars delivering for less than $2,000 interests American auto makers but there is no rush to build competing models in their factories.

This year's auto market will absorb close to 200,000 imported cars, mostly of the short wheelbase, low-priced makes. Next year American car buyers probably will take as many as 400,000 foreign-made cars.

STUDY MODELS

There have been recurring reports that American car makers are "studying" or actually have built experimental models for entry in the smaller, low price car field. These reports probably are true.

The auto makers always have experimental cars under study or test. So far, however, only American Motors with a new 100-inch wheelbase model, has indicated plans to produce one of them for the American market.

The 100-inch wheelbase Rambler, to go into production around Dec. 1, will revive a model and design formerly built by American Motors, before the upsurge in the small car demand.

NOT ON LINE

For the other car makers, however, it appears that until the market absorbs half a million units annually in that model area, they are not likely to put the smaller, economy models on their own assembly lines. Meanwhile, they probably will continue to import smaller, lightweight units from their European factories.

But if American car makers appear somewhat uncertain about the future of the small car in the U.S. market, the foreign auto makers evidently expect demand to grow. More than a score of European makers already have taken space to show their vehicles at the Chicago Automobile Show next January.

They are also pressing their sales efforts. During the first eight months of this year registrations of foreign-made cars numbered 116,013 units, compared with 56,730 in the like 1956 period.

Initial cost and fuel economy undoubtedy are major factors in the growing demand for the smaller, lower-priced cars. Many of the imported cars, like the Volkswagen, Renault, Metropolitan, Isetta, Volvo and others with small and low horsepower engines, give form 30 to 40 miles per gallon.

American auto makers have taken notice of the higher fuel mileage factor by developing devices for improving it in their standard size vehicles. Some have done it with new carburetor and choke alignment. Others have made changes in other engine components to attain increased mileage.

But most American auto makers and car industry analysts generally do not interpret the increased demand for low priced imported cars as indicating a major trend in the car tastes of American motorists. Some of them still say the demand stems largely form the novelty appeal.

Syrian News Eases Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain prices eased on the board of trade today.

Indications that the Syrian crisis may be lessening in intensity resulted in general selling in early dealings in the grain markets.

Wheat declined as much as 1¼ cents a bushel at the outset as some traders again went short after evening up Friday.

There were reports that the United Kingdom purchased a million bushels of wheat out of Gulf ports over the weekend. Poland purchased three cargoes of the bread grain, also at Gulf ports.

Corn declined fractions, but this was considered not too bad in view of the current harvest.

Soybeans were off more than a cent a bushel with the harvest at its height. A lake steamer was reported to have cleared Chicago for Toronto, with 102,900 bushels of beans.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ⅝ to one cent a bushel lower, Dec. $2.18½; corn ⅜ to ½ lower, Dec. $1.20⅞; oats ⅛ to ⅜ lower, Dec. 67½; rye 1¼ to ½ lower, Dec. $1.29; soybeans ¾ to 1¼ lower, Nov. $2.31¼; lard was 7 to 12 cents a hundred pounds lower, Nov. $11.65.

U.S. 7th Fleet Ready for Action

Pacific Ships Prepared for Dash to Middle East if Conflict Starts

ABOARD USS PRINCETON (INS) — Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley declared today his Pacific Seventh Fleet forces are alert for a quick dash to the Middle East in whatever strength is necessary to back up American military objectives there.

The admiral said he has elaborate plans worked out for quick deployment of any part of his 100-vessel fleet which he can put into action immediately.

The Seventh Fleet commander said he actually dispatched a small number of ships to the Indian Ocean last year when Egyptian soil was invaded. He said the plans worked out at that time for movement of his forces still stand, permitting him to flash the order to move at any time.

The admiral said his forces probably would move to the "back door of the Suez Canal" if he received orders to dispatch his ships. He pointed out that any Middle East conflict probably would result in the closing of the vital Suez Canal.

'Service of Washing' Recalled in Scotland

EDINBURGH, Scotland — A curious custom — the Service of Washing — was recalled with the recent death of J. D. Houison-Crauford, laird of Craufurdland, Scotland.

★ ★ ★

Whenever a monarch goes for the first time to Holyroodhouse, Edinburgh, it is the laird's duty to offer a silver bowl of rose water, in which the royal hands are washed. The late laird performed the ceremony for George V, George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

It dates back to James V of Scotland, who used to travel about alone and disguised.

Once he was set upon by a band of gypsies but John Houison, a laborer, drove them off and washed the blood from the royal hands and face.

He was astounded to learn that he had saved the King of Scotland. He was granted land on condition that he and his successors continue the Service of Washing.

Some 100,000 amateur growers grew tobacco in their back gardens in Britian in 1956. As it is tax free a smoker can save $140 to $170 a year this way, it is claimed.

Announce Cost of Opel Rekord

Buick Suggests Prices From $1,800 Up on Cars Built in Germany

Suggested port-of-entry list prices of the 1958 Opel Rekord two-door sedan will range from $1,812.50 at New York to $1,994.64 at San Francisco, it was announced today by Edward T. Ragsdale, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors.

Buick is distributing the German-made Opel under the General Motors foreign car marketing program.

Ragsdale said that virtually all Buick dealers in the United States will handle the Opel and that he expects franchising to be completed through Buick's 30 zones by the end of October.

The suggested list prices of the Rekord cover both coasts. The suggested $1,812.50 figure for New York covers all Opels destined for delivery at any Atlantic or Gulf Coast port, with the $1,994.64 suggested for San Francisco effective for the entire Pacific Coast.

Ragsdale said that a suggested list price of $1,881.36 has been set for Detroit and other Great Lakes ports, but that it is unlikely the German cars will be available in the Middle West before spring.

Standard equipment on the Rekord includes heater and defroster, red line speedometer and odometer, clock, cigarette lighter, non-glare rear view mirror, turn signals, dual sun visors, deluxe steering wheel, ash trays, adjustable front seat and safety glass windows.

The 1958 Opel has a four-cylinder valve-in-head engine with a compression ratio of 7.5-to-1 and a displacement of 90.8 cubic inches. It has a 100 inch wheelbase, an overall length of 174 inches and is 64 inches wide.

Dr. Donald Smith to Attend National Parley on Heart

Dr. Donald S. Smith, Pontiac heart specialist, will be one of 13 official delegates from Michigan attending the American Heart Association's annual meeting and scientific session in Chicago this week.

Dr. Smith, of 135 Wenonah Dr., is a member of the board of trustees of the Michigan Heart Association.

★ ★ ★

The five-day program Friday through Tuesday, will include the latest scientific findings in disease of the heart and blood vessels as well as reports on the year's progress in heart research activities.

The scientific portion of the program will commemorate the 300th anniversary of the death of William Harvey, the English scientist who discovered the circulation of the blood. Eighty-two original scientific papers will be presented.

Says Seaway to Make Ohio 'Greatest State'

CINCINNATI (AP) — The president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Assn. says he thinks the St. Lawrence Seaway will make Ohio "the greatest industrial state in the nation."

Dr. N. R. Danielian told the Commercial Club here Saturday that "it is impossible to think of any other state that will have Ohio's advantages."

He said that one possibility for the Ohio Valley is a boom in coal exports from Kentucky and West Virginia, "dependent, of course, on the international economic picture."

Dr. Danielian said that the central problem of the seaway is setting reasonable tolls.

Royal Pair Send Sympathy to Marge Champion

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dancer Marge Champion has a note from Prince Philip saying that he and Queen Elizabeth enjoyed her dancing even if she had to stop when her shoulder straps broke.

Marge and her husband Gower entertained the royal visitors Friday night at a state dinner given by Secretary Dulles.

★ ★ ★

As Mrs. Champion boarded a plane for Los Angeles she was handed a note written on White House stationery, reading: "The Queen and I enjoyed your dancing very much last night. This is just to express our sympathy for the unfortunate mishap to your dress, Philip." Two green orchids accompanied the note.

Unconscious 10 Days Since Taking Penicillin

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Mrs. Miriam Palmer, 46, remained in critical condition yesterday at University Hospital where she is being treated from the effects of taking a penicillin tablet 10 days ago.

Mrs. Palmer has been unconscious since taking the tablet, prescribed for her son, in Santa Barbara. She arrived here over the weekend after an emergency flight from California.

She is a native of Grass Lake, Mich.

Physicians at Santa Barbara reported her breathing had stopped when she was brought in for treatment. Breathing later was restored but hospital spokesmen said she apparently suffered brain damage.

Arsonist Suspected as Famed Inn Burns

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (INS) — Fire swept the three separate buildings of Famous Hawthorne Inn today and caused to be launched an intensive search for an arsonist.

★ ★ ★

Destruction of the inn, with flames menacing swank Eastern Point Yacht Club and Fairview Hotel nearby, was the eighth major blaze in this fishing port and summer resort within six months.

Loss from the fires mounted over the million dollar mark.

Scene of today's fire was near Eastern Point Hotel which was ruined by a fire of suspicious origin last Friday morning.

Last Wednesday morning the Good Harbor Hotel burned to the ground.

All three hotels are known to visitors throughout the country.

★ ★ ★

An emergency meeting of Gloucester city officials was held Saturday to map plans for tracking down the suspected arsonist.

Lt. Joseph Driscoll of the state fire marshal's staff said:

"I will have to open a Gloucester office if the wave of fires continues."

★ ★ ★

Police Lt. Robert E Cronin said after the Eastern Point Hotel fire: "We definitely suspect arson."

Children's Tics Reveal Tension in Their Lives

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M. D.

Tics are purposeless movements, repeated in exactly the same way but not in any regular rhythm. They are always done unconsciously; the child cannot control the movement.

A tic can be a facial grimace, a writhing of the whole body or a movement with one arm or leg or shoulder. Sometimes a tic shows itself as eye blinking.

★ ★ ★

Tics are a sign of tension in the child's life. Tics are not a normal stage of development.

A DANGER FLAG

However, that doesn't mean that every child who develops a tic is headed for serious trouble. But it does mean that a danger flag has been raised.

★ ★ ★

Ralph seemed all right when he went to school in the morning, but at dinner he constantly jerked his right shoulder.

He spilled his milk, he had trouble cutting his meat. He couldn't help these jerks and he was worried.

★ ★ ★

"What's the matter with me, Mom, my shoulder keeps jerking?" Both Mom and Dad had of course noticed it. Their eyes had met with a "let's talk about this later" glance.

But when Ralph mentioned it himself, Dad said in the most matter of fact tone:

"You have a tic, Ralph, and that means something must have upset you today. Would you like to tell us about it?"

"What's a tic?"

PRETTY NERVOUS

"It's that jerk in your shoulder. It's a movement that goes on without your control. "It's nothing serious in itself but it suggests you're pretty nervous' and jumpy about something."

★ ★ ★

Ralph didn't say anything, but his shoulder was getting worse. He got up from the table, said he was going in the other room. He turned on the television and sat down.

The dining room was in earshot of the living room. Ralph's parents finished their dinner in silence; then Dad sauntered into the living room, picked up the newspaper and sat down, not far from where Ralph was watching TV.

★ ★ ★

As his dad approached, Ralph's shoulder, quiet for a few minutes, began twitching again.

MANY SELF-DOUBTS

Ralph was 10. He was a bright lad and a good student. He worshipped his dad. His dad was everything a man ought to be and Ralph struggled to be the son he felt his dad should have.

★ ★ ★

Ralph had many doubts about himself. He knew he wasn't all his dad thought he was and he'd wake in the night with the terrible fear that his dad had found out how he really was. It was all he could do not to scream out.

Then today there'd been a math test. Ralph couldn't do the third problem and he'd leaned over and copied it from Bill's paper. He hated himself for cheating — this much he knew.

★ ★ ★

What he didn't know was that he hated his father for holding him up to standards he found it so difficult to meet.

DEEP RESENTMENT

Ralph thought he adored his father, and he did with the top of his mind, but underneath was a deep resentment that he couldn't be just himself, that he had to live up to what he thought was his father's image of him.

★ ★ ★

Ralph's dad didn't know this either. Ralph's tic did not disappear with his kindly sympathetic approach. So Ralph's parents realized they needed help in solving their boy's problems.

★ ★ ★

The Child Guidance Clinic unraveled the conflicting feelings. Not only did Ralph's tic then disappear but he became a much more relaxed, happy youngster.

Lucianna Cagnasso (center) of Milan, Italy, finds that learning to type at Kingswood is not too difficult when you have moral support from an American "sister" like Molly Marshall of Birmingham and Dorothy Ingles (right), director of Kingswood admissions.

Finds Kingswood Very Different From School in Milan

Italian Girl Quickly Adopts U. S. Ways

By GRETTA PORTER

"I've gained 15 pounds since discovering American Dairy Queens, hamburgers and malted milks!" wailed 17-year-old Italian exchange student Luciana Cagnasso.

★ ★ ★

As she sat in the gracious Kingswood School Cranbrook office of Dorothy Inglis, director of admissions, chatting with Molly Marshall of Birmingham (Luciana's American "sister") and Miss Inglis, only her slight accent differentiated her from any other American high school student.

But there are other differences between our teenagers and those of the continent.

CLOTHING VARIES

"In Italy we don't have Ivy League button-down blouses or saddle shoes or Bermuda shorts," laughed Luciana.

"And," added Molly, "this is only the fifth day that Luciana has worn lipstick!"

★ ★ ★

Luciana talked with friends in Italy and decided to apply for admission to the States and one of our schools.

Through American Field Service (or AFS) students can come to the States for one year to study.

★ ★ ★

"Many applied but few were chosen for this honor," commented Molly.

"And," said Miss Inglis, "we think it a compliment that Luciana was selected."

DELAYED BY FLU

When it arrived in New York on Aug. 13, Luciana's ship, "A Rosa Sky," was held up in the harbor because of a purported outbreak of Asian flu aboard.

★ ★ ★

"When we entered the port of New York," she recalled, "I couldn't believe I was in the United States. It didn't seem any different. So, I kept repeating to myself, 'We are in America. We are in America!'"

Besides studying English, history, French and math, Luciana (who is classified as a senior at Kingswood) will be a member of the Glee Club and take diving.

★ ★ ★

Despite the year she spends here in studies she will be a year behind when she returns to Italy. The American credits she earns at Kingswood will not transfer, so to speak, to her school in Milan. This, of course, means that she will probably be a year behind in schooling when she gets home unless she can pass some special exams.

SOCIAL PLEASURES

As for the social life that we take for granted, Luciana compares it with that of Italian students by saying, "All kids here, for example, have social life that Italian kids don't know.

★ ★ ★

"School is different. In Italy when you finish school in the morning you run away and forget about it until the next morning. Here, kids have parties and meetings after school.

"You have a different thought of school here," she explained.

Luciana went on to say that teachers in Italy aren't as near the students as they are here. "Here is everything social," she said, "and after school are organized meetings."

★ ★ ★

"Yes," Miss Inglis added, "in other words, Luciana, in Italy students forget about school but here at Kingswood, friends are carried over into social activities."

"Another thing, though," said Molly, "you are only in school from about 8:15 a.m. till noon in Italy and then you have to do work at home. Here we stay at school all day and naturally more activities spring up."

FASCINATING FOOD

As we said before Luciana has found the American food most fascinating to the tune of 15 gained pounds! Her American "sister," with whom she lives, says that she hasn't found anything that Luciana doesn't like.

Molly is trying to put Luciana on a diet but Luciana's raids on the icebox put an end to any systematic calory counting.

Does Luciana ever get homesick? "Well, so far," laughs Miss Inglis, "we've kept her so busy at Kingswood that she has had no time to be homesick."

★ ★ ★

"And besides," Luciana said as she tripped off to do her homework, "my parents and friends write me and that keeps me in touch with Italy."

NORMA JEAN BADER

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bader of Whittemore street announce the engagement of their daughter, Norma Jean, to Michael J. Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wells of Pingree avenue. The bride-elect was graduated from Nazareth College, Division of Nursing, and her fiance attends the University of Detroit.

New Citizens Hold Picnic

Some 100 members and guests of New Citizens League of Pontiac and Janice Antona's citizenship class met Sunday for the 19th annual picnic at the American Legion Home.

An original paper on the United States Constitution was read by Jose Vega, and members of the present citizenship class gave an outline of the Constitution.

Participating in the program were Lucille and Hector Bueno, Antoinette Besdolnyi, Maria Crites, Ingeborg Gutkewitsch, Maria Baessler, Eugene and Nora Chrisholm, June Peterson, Anna Marie Voorheis, Serge and Tatiana Likoff, Paz Vega and Wassily Skriabin.

Among the guests were Mrs. William Todd, Americanism chairman of the DAR; Mrs. Lee Hill; Mrs. Joseph Phillips, district president of American Legion Auxiliary, Chief Pontiac Post; Mayor and Mrs. William Donaldson and Judge H. Russel Holland.

Other guests were County Clerk Lynn D. Allen; Richard Fell, director of adult education for Pontiac High School, and Mrs. Fell; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dondero, U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield and Mrs. Broomfield, and Mrs. Violet Wassel of the VFW.

Plan Fall Program

Plans for fall and winter season were made Wednesday evening when members of Parent Guidance Club met in the Ogemaw road home of Mrs. Robert Dorman.

On Oct. 9, the club will accept new members and entertain guests.

Home Club Meets

Mrs. Joseph Trietsch gave a lesson on family life when 15 members of Inter-Lakes Home Demonstration Club met for an all-day meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. Delos Nicholie on Westlawn street.

University Club Plans Oct. 7 Tea

Membership Fete Will Take Place at Corwin Home

The fourth annual membership tea sponsored by the University of Michigan Alumnae Club of Pontiac will be held Oct. 7 at the home of Mrs. James Corwin in Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

General Chairman Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott has appointed Mrs. Carroll Braid and Mrs. Cecil McCallum cochairmen of refreshments and Mrs. John Windiate, floral chairman.

Assisting Mrs. Corwin with the tea will be Mrs. Norman Roth, Mrs. Earl Currah, Mrs. Clarence Carlson, Mrs. John Ashby, Mrs. Conrad Church, Mrs. Earl McHugh and Mrs. Franklin Crawford.

Others are Dr. Caryl Kulsavage, Mrs. Maxwell Doerr and Mrs. Martin Wager.

All Michigan alumnae are invited to the tea. Anyone wishing to become a member may call Mrs. Vernon Abbott of Illinois avenue for further details.

Marilyn Kender to Speak Vows

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Mrs. John Kender of Wheeling, W. Va., has announced the engagement of her daughter, Marilyn Edwards Kender of Evanston, Ill., to Robert Bushnell Grindley. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Grindley of Sodon Lake drive, Bloomfield Hills.

Marilyn is a graduate of Butler University where she is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi sorority. Bob was graduated from Cranbrook School and Union College, Schenectady, N. Y. He is a member of Chi Psi fraternity. An Oct. 19 wedding in Evanston, Ill., is being planned.

Jaycee Women Meet for Dinner

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary's membership party and cooperative dinner was held in the Hammond Lake road home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cowe. Mrs. John Napley, Mrs. Ray Harris, Mrs. Leonard Buss and Mrs. Ben Hawkins were hostesses for the recent event.

Among the guests at the Thursday meeting were Mrs. Edward Vine, Mrs. W. B. Neal, Mrs. E. W. Watchpocket, Mrs. Charles Gale, Mrs. Robert Costello, Mrs. Gene Doolin, Mrs. Robert Wedow, Mrs. Michael Fiorillo, Mrs. Robert Sonneberg and Mrs. Norman O'Brien.

Soaking in Suds Gets Pans Clean

Of course, it's no fun to wash pots and pans — but it can be much easier than many housewives make it. Follow these simple rules, and see how much time and energy you'll save!

Fill hard-to-clean pots with hot soap or detergent suds and let them soak to loosen food from the inside surfaces. Then, a few strokes with a well-lathered vegetable brush will wash them clean.

To get pots and pans dry quickly—with nary the touch of a towel—let them drain first, then set them to dry on the range top.

Wedding Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Manley Drake of Pine Grove avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen Ann, to Robert Bruce McVean, son of the Duncan McVeans of Pontiac State Hospital Grounds. The marriage, an event of May 25, took place in Defiance, Ohio.

Mariner Scout Carole Hoyt (right) seems to have a slight problem with the skirt that she is cutting out. Obviously not feeling too much sympathy with Carole's plight are (left to right) Roberta Smith, Shirley Proulx and Mrs. Herbert W. Hubert.

Mariner Scouts Will Vist Capital

A dozen Mariner Girl Scouts will be off for National Girl Scout Camp Rockland near Washington, D.C., on Oct. 19.

While there they plan to tour the nation's Capitol and other major public buildings and monuments.

They will live as a unit in dormitories of Manor House on the wooded estate that was willed to Girl Scouts in 1936. The girls will become better acquainted with our American heritage through visits to interesting places in Washington.

CAMP EXPERIENCES

In order to prepare themselves for the trip, members of Mrs. David Eicher's Girl Scout troop planned a progression of camping experiences as a group. These included several overnights, a three-day canoe trip and a series of winter weekends at Camp Sherwood.

★ ★ ★

The girls, meanwhile, were busy earning the $60 it would cost each member to make the trip.

While they are at Camp Rockwood, these girls will be the first troop to plant their state tree on the campgrounds. They are transporting a specimen white pine for the ceremony.

GUESTS OF NAVY

They will be guests of the United States Naval Academy when they tour Annapolis, Md.

★ ★ ★

U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield and his staff have helped arrange special tours for the troop. Because the group will miss Rep. Broomfield in Washington, they honored him with a special ceremony Monday evening at Westacres Clubhouse.

The girls decided to make matching outfits to travel in so they could keep their uniforms fresh for Washington. They will wear drip-dry sailor blouses and navy skirts.

★ ★ ★

With a suitcase apiece and station wagons bulging, Troop 225 will soon leave for Washington, D.C.

Leaders planning to make the trip are Mrs. John Ashby, Mrs. Ivan Doctor and Mrs. Eicher.

★ ★ ★

Lynne Anne Ashby, Barbara Bryant, Jo Anne Welch, Roberta Smith, Barbara Steckling, Jule Vanderpool, Diane Slinker, Judy Slinker, Shirley Proulx, Karen Eicher, Diane Fuller and Carole Hoyt will be making the trip as Troop 225 members.

Mrs. Bradley Scott will speak Nov. 6 about the eight motions used most and methods of amending, and Mrs. Lee Hill will address the club Nov. 20 on resolutions and amending constitutions.

Guest Asks for Another Piece of Pie

Wife Scolds Hubby for His Behavior at Bridge Party

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My wife and I were recently invited to a friend's house for bridge. When we had finished playing the hostess served delicious homemade blueberry pie —which, by the way, is my favorite pie.

"When I finished my serving of pie, I asked the hostess if I might have another piece. My wife reproached me later for this. She said that had the hostess offered me a second piece it would have been quite proper to have it, but that I should not have asked for it.

"I can't see that what I did was wrong and in fact I think it was a sign of praise to the hostess for her delicious pie."

Answer: After telling her how delicious her pie was yopu might have said that if she was not saving what was left for someone, you would really love to have another small piece.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My parents are giving a large dinner party soon to announce my engagement. Will you please tell me how and when the announcement is made, and also by whom?"

Answer: Usually toward the end of dinner when the table is cleared for dessert the father of the bride rises and proposes a toast saying, "I propose we drink to the health of Mary and the young man she has decided to add permanently to our family — John Brown." Or, "To our Mary and her John."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper, when a girl gives a party, for her to tell her best girl friends that each may bring a boy of her choice to the party? In other words, is she wrong if she doesn't send these boys invitations, but just lets them come on her friends' invitation?"

Answer: Although it is done frequently by many, it is certainly not as correct as sending the boys invitations — and, if made a practice, can all too easily lower the standard of what might almost be called your social rating.

Don't Be Lured Into Carelessness

Sack Styles Require Good Figure

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Whether women dress for women or for men has long been a subject conducive to much argument. Many people think that women dress for women. I always have been inclined to disagree. I feel sure that a woman dresses to please her man when she is in love.

However, if women generally adopt the extremes of the current styles I will change my opinion and decide that women dress for women. Some of these darling little sack-like models are much more likely to scare crows than to attract men.

Let me give you a warning about the mode of the moment. In the first place do not be lured into figure carelessness because of the straight up and down appearance of many models and the seemingly disappearing waistline. There will always be a waist just as there will always be an England!

As a matter of fact, in order to wear these garments with grace, the hips must be slim and the bosom lifted and you must also have a waistline in order to give the impression that the dress is floating about you.

I will let you in on a little secret: When you see a model wearing one of the chemise gowns, the figure moves freely under it and therefore gives the appearance of being unrestrained. To the contrary, the figure is probably controlled by a seamless girdle.

ALWAYS WITH US

So we never win! Girdles, brassieres and hip-slimming and bust-developing exercises will always be with us. The Corset and Brassiere Council is ready for you with suitable foundation garments. Four-section and side-reinforced girdles which flatten the hips are now on the market, and brassieres which lift but soften the bustline are available.

* * *

Needless to say I am ready for you with hip-reducing exercises. In fact I will give you some tomorrow!

Here is the other hint about current styles and you: While the costumes which reflect a dramatic change are highlighted, actually this is a season of great variety.

Many of the loveliest dresses from famous designers do have a waistline and many women will wear the sacks with a belt. This is not a utilitarian season but one when women are dressing for the occasion.

Stick to your individuality when buying your clothes, and remember your figure. There is always a middle road. You can go along with the current fashion sufficiently (and some of them are lovely) to look modern and yet wear garments and hats which are flattering.

If you would like to have my tested hip-slimming exercises, send a stamped self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 3. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "You'll Need Exercise to Get in Shape for New Fashions."

Some of these "darling" little sacklike models are much more likely to scare crows than attract men.

Mary Ann Jaskolski Wed in Orchard Lake Church

White fugi, chrysanthemums and gladioli banked the altar of Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake, for the Saturday morning wedding of Mary Ann Jaskolski and Gerald E. Wagoner.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Jaskolski of Orchard Lake are parents of the bride, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Giroux of Lincoln avenue.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of lace over peau de soie with full-length sleeves and a chapel-length train which featured a bustle back.

Her fingertip veil was gathered to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried an arrangement of white fugi chrysanthemums with streamers of ribbon and ivy.

* * *

GOWNED IN PINK

For her duties as flower girl, Peggy Bartone of Harper Woods, cousin of the bride, wore a pale pink full-length velvet gown. The attendants all carried white fugi chrysanthemums.

* * *

John Jaskolski Jr., brother of the bride, acted as best man, while Ronald Wagoner, brother of the bridegroom; Richard Cholak of Detroit and Jerry Crawford seated the guests. Groomsmen were Tom Bomber of Detroit and John Debalski Jr. of Utica. Ringbearer was Joseph Giroux, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of bride's parents.

Mrs. Jaskolski wore gray lace over pink taffeta with black accessories, and Mrs. Giroux wore beige lace with brown accessories.

* * *

Before leaving on a trip to Mackinac Island, the new Mrs. Wagoner changed to a light blue dotted sheath dress with winter white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The couple will live on Pine Grove avenue.

Soup Adds Sauce, Savor to Beef Cut

Mrs. Tobatto Uses Stove Top Cooking for Round Steak

By JANET ODELL

Now that grass fed beef is beginning to come to market, we shall see more sales on such items as round steak. This cut of meat that takes so well to braising and long-time cooking is a good choice for crisp fall meals.

Mrs. Leonard Tobatto, today's cook, has three pre-school children. Anything she wants to do for herself is done during nap time. Her current project is pickling the woodwork.

SKILLET ROUND STEAK
By Mrs. Leonard Tobatto

2 pounds round steak
2 cans condensed mushroom soup
1 can water
Salt and pepper

Pound flour, salt and pepper into round steak. If you don't have a meat pounder, use the edge of a saucer. Brown meat in a little fat in a skillet.

Add condensed soup and water and turn heat down. Simmer at least 45 minutes or until steak is tender. Mrs. Tabatto serves this with mashed potatoes and a vegetable. Serves four.

God will not look you over for your medals, but for your scars.

Can Opener Jeweled to Aid Morale

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — Here are some new gadgets on the housewares market which you could do without but which are inexpensive and probably would make your life happier.

A tomato slicer which looks like a paint brush but has nine steel blades instead of bristles—cuts a whole tomato at once.

A food umbrella—a cheese cloth umbrella without a handle which fits over any size dish to keep away dirt and flies.

Plastic extensions for the top of soft drink or beer cans for easier drinking.

A Maggie board—plastic covered maghets hold messages, recipes, etc. on the board which is easily attached or propped in any room in the house.

Spray and stroke window cleaner—a plastic bottle for window spray attached to what looks like the windshield wiper on your car to wash windows in one operation.

Salt and pepper shakers for the bar-b-que crowd—long handles so you can sprinkle the meat without getting singed.

Can openers—the kind that punch holes—trimmed in mink and jewels —for the luxurious feeling.

Busiest People Are Also Kindest

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There's an old saying to the effect that if you want a thing done well, give it to the busiest person you know.

★ ★ ★

But I'd go even farther and say that the busiest people are not only the most efficient, but also the most kind.

JUST SELF-CENTERED

The person who hasn't time to help others is not usually busy, or very important, or even very good at his work. He's usually just self-centered.

★ ★ ★

But the person who is busy and important and good at his field is usually the first to offer a helping hand to others.

Margaretta Treherne-Thomas, better known to her friends as Gret Thomas, is an example of this.

★ ★ ★

She is the director of the volunteer department in a hospital, a job as absorbing and time-consuming as any I know.

Not only that, but Gret Thomas is largely responsible for the whole new approach toward volunteer departments, one of the biggest changes and improvements in the hospital field.

LIKE AMATEURS

For a long time, hospital volunteers were treated like amateurs.

★ ★ ★

No real effort was made to integrate them into the organization, to screen them for suitable jobs in line with their interests and abilities or to train them.

The director was usually an unpaid volunteer who might, or might not, know anything about people, talents, training, organization or about hospitals.

★ ★ ★

Then Gret Thomas went to work at a large city hospital and a whole new program was set up for volunteers.

One might think she would be too busy for much else, but here is what happened recently.

WILLING TO WORK

A wonderful woman attended our church job clinic one evening. She was not young but charming and really willing to work.

★ ★ ★

It occurred to me that she might, given the training and opportunity, be a good director of volunteers for a hospital. When I asked how she felt about it, her face lighted up.

I told her about Mrs. Thomas, and suggested she get in touch with her. However, I warned her that Mrs. Thomas was a very busy lady and might not have time — and I kept my fingers crossed.

Well, Gret Thomas had time, all right. She put my friend on her own training program, taught her the ropes, then helped her get a well-paying job as director of volunteers at a small hospital.

PROVED AGAIN

Here again was proof that the busier they are, the nicer they are!

★ ★ ★

If you're interested in volunteer work, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send my pamphlet on the subject.

The dress with the pleated skirt is the kind of dress American women love because it goes so many places looking well. Tiny collar will take equally well to jewels or a silk scarf.

$1 Donations Start Drive for Shrine

Home of Suffragist, Susan B. Anthony, Acquired, Restored

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Six women stood in the dooryard of a modest brick dwelling here one day. Each drew a dollar from her purse. They had suddenly decided to buy the place as a shrine to one of the nation's most militant women suffragists, Susan B. Anthony.

The women were members of the Rochester Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. George Howard, president, collected the dollars.

Fourteen months later, Mrs. Howard had enough voluntary contributions to purchase the house, in which Miss Anthony had lived for 40 years.

Now the house has been restored in keeping with the times of Miss Anthony. Furniture, books, pictures and other articles have been reassembled in the old brick house on Madison Avenue.

★ ★ ★

The two-and-a-half-story dwelling was bought by Mrs. Lucy Read Anthony after the death of her husband, Daniel. There she moved in 1866 with her two daughters, Mary and Susan. After the mother's death in 1880, Mary became the owner.

And every year when she paid her taxes, Mary—also a crusader—wrote on her bill, "Paid under protest." She believed women shouldn't be taxed without representation.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, one of Susan's assistants and her successor as president of the National American Women Suffrage Assn., sent to the house her collection of framed photographs of noted women who believed in rights for women.

★ ★ ★

By bequest, there came back the mahogany desk on which Miss Anthony drafted strategic plans for the 19th Amendment—giving woment the right to vote—a privilege not won until 1920, 14 years after Miss Anthony's death.

Precious letters, pictures and other items are kept in a fireproof cabinet bought with a $1,000 grant from the Gannett Foundation. Other civic and patriotic groups have helped refurnish the house.

★ ★ ★

"The house," says Mrs. Howard, "is a unique center which commemorates Miss Anthony. We want to maintain her home as a historic place where people may get inspiration from her example of courage, patience, perseverance and devotion to an ideal."

For slim gals, there's this narrow jumper worn here with classic cotton shirtwaist. This is fashioned in corduroy and priced to be well within bounds of a young budget.

Criticism of Working Wife Reflects Wounded Pride

Husband Won't Explain to Youngsters That Mother's Job Is Essential

By RUTH MILLETT

"Shouldn't the husband of a working wife help his children see that their mother's job is contributing to the family welfare?" asks a woman reader.

She goes on to explain, "I don't work 5½ days a week for the personal luxuries a paycheck will give me. My paycheck goes into a joint banking account, helps pay for the small home we couldn't have bought on my husband's salary, helps keep our three children well fed and adequately clothed, etc. Yet I have never heard my husband say a word to let the children know that my job is essential.

"He is frequently critical of my housekeeping, which I have to let slide sometimes. So the impression the children get from their father is that if their mother would only stay at home and keep up with the scrubbing and ironing, we would all be better off.

"I think that it is awfully unfair to give that impression, even though, as in my case, the wife didn't go back to work until it was a financial necessity. What do you think?"

I think you're right. But your husband isn't being deliberately unfair. His masculine pride simply won't let him admit to the children that he needs your help in earning a living.

He has found himself in a situation he doesn't like but is powerless to change. And his masculine pride won't quite let him face the situation honestly and without pretense. So he pretends in order to save face.

The whole family would be better off if he would stop being driven by a pride he can't afford and tell the children:

"Your mother is working hard to help me earn a living. She can't do that and do all the housework, too. So all of us are going to help her around the house to show we appreciate her."

Nancy Westlake Speaks Vows in St. Vincent Rite

St. Vincent de Paul Church was the setting for the Sept. 21 wedding of Nancy Marie Westlake and Robert Dale Schilke.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Georgina Westlake of Whittemore street is the bride's grandmother, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Schilke of Rochester.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over satin, featuring a fitted bodice with long, tapered sleeves and a bouffant skirt which swept to the back, cascading into a cathedral-length train.

Her fingertip silk veil was secured to a tiara of hand-set seed pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and orchids.

Delicacies of Past Win New Favor

Historic Cookery Is Being Enjoyed in Washington

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—Deviled soft herring roe served on sippets (small triangles of fried bread), a favorite snack of George Washington, may well be the piece de resistance on the hors d'oeuvre tray at local cocktail parties this season.

★ ★ ★

This delicacy is being served as a starter of a dinner of authentic favorite foods of our first president in the newly opened Presidential Room (formerly a popular cocktail lounge known as the "Snake-pit" of one of the capital's famous hotels.

Other typical dinners of presidents, including one featuring Jefferson's baked shad and his favorite asparagus, will follow.

NOTED AUTHORITY

Consultant in the planning of the dinners "reviving the tradition of presidential hospitality" is Helen Bullock, historian of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, and a noted authority on early American cookery. The hotel is a corporate member of the trust.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bullock, a former archivist for historic Williamsburg, authored the "Williamsburg Art of Cookery," recommended menus adapted from basic early recipes to be served in the town's inns.

She also adapted Martha Washington's "Great Cake" from the original 40-egg recipe to be sold at Woodlawn Plantation, the home Washington built for his foster daughter, Nellie Custis.

"We are catering to the revived interest in the American past in seeing that our historic houses, especially, get authentic recipes," Mrs. Bullock explained.

PROVIDE INCOME

"In so doing we are helping houses, through the sale of these items, support themselves more adequately than they can from tourists' admission fees."

★ ★ ★

The dinner highlighting four favorite dishes Washington served guests at Mount Vernon begins with a clear "savoury" tomato soup made from a traditional recipe used by Washington himself.

Next follows roast squab, with oyster celery and herb stuffing, served with a sliver of Smithfield ham, pickled crab apple, roasted potatoes, globe artichoke, and one of the many varieties of peas Washington raised.

★ ★ ★

The artichoke is served separately with a boiled Virginia dressing of egg yolk, mustard, vinegar, butter and seasoning.

Dessert is a molded blanc mange pudding with brandied apricot sauce served with macaroons, maids-of-honor, savoy biscuits.

Poll in England Indicates Bust in the Bosom Boom

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—Britain's first bosom ballot indicated today that the out-sized, over-exposed bust is losing its popularity.

★ ★ ★

The poll was conducted by the mass circulation tabloid Daily Mirror which, week in and week out, devotes almost as much attention to the female chest as does a good uplift bra.

The newspaper had second thoughts about the bosom cult when American actress Jayne when American actress Jayne Mansfield (41-18-35½) flew London last week to advertise her latest film.

AMPLE DIMENSIONS

Devoting its entire front page to Miss Mansfield's ample dimensions, the paper that claims 13 million daily readers asked:

"Has the bust had it? Can you still win friends and influence people with a tape measure? Has inflation gone too far?"

★ ★ ★

The anatomical editorial added quickly: "We don't advocate a bustless world. We're just wondering."

The paper urged its readers to send in their opinions. Today it said it was flooded with replies and published a few of them.

★ ★ ★

Some of the comments:

"For heaven's sake, we've had enough of these busty Berthas and this is not sour grapes. I'm 38-24-36."

"Unnatural, over-rated, nauseating."

"We're just a little bit tired of this sexy bust business. Give me a girl with a personality. I'm not being catty, by the way. My bust measures 40 inches. I wish it didn't."

★ ★ ★

"People who are not interested in a lovely figure are either too old to care or just plain jealous."

"I certainly hope the bust isn't on its way out. I am very plain and my 37½ inches are all I have to keep up my morale."

★ ★ ★

Without revealing the actual numbers of pro and con letters, the Mirror summed up: "The out-sized, over-exposed celebrity bosom has had it as far as most of you are concerned. But you have nothing against an attractive figure displayed with taste—blessed with talent."

The paper published two more pictures of amply endowed females to illustrate its point.

Mrs. Winters Feted

Mrs. Eddie O'Brien and Mrs. Wallace R. Williams were cohostesses for a baby shower honoring Mrs. William Winters. The Williams home on Voorheis road was the setting for the Thursday evening event.

Based on Home Waves

Hair Styles Created

NEW YORK — Four new hair styles based on home permanents have been designed specially for teenagers by a noted Manhattan hairdresser.

The four hairdos have a subtle, restrained look to match the casual elegance of fall fashions. Named the Page Boy, Chanel Cut, Juliet Cap and Pouf, they are planned to complete the picture of pretty softness that's called for this year.

Whatever your style choice, be sure to choose the right home sure to choose the right home permanent wave lotion for your hair and follow all directions carefully. Here are directions for achieving these new creations with the quick perfection of a professional:

PAGE BOY: Trim your hair so it tapers slightly, longer in back than front. For your permanent, curl top two back rows on large rollers; use regular-size curlers for the two lower rows, sides. Turn all curls under.

★ ★ ★

To set, section off a 2-inch square at top, wind two rows of pincurls in alternating directions. Turn side curls toward face; set back in alternating rows. To style, brush all hair back and over one hand to turn it under; push in a slight wave on each side.

★ ★ ★

CHANEL CUT: Hair should be uniformly longish with a wisp of bangs. Part hair on side, use wide permanent rollers for sides and for top back rows, regular curlers for neckline. Do bangs last with regular-size curler.

To set, turn top six pincurls and side curls toward face. Make three alternating rows in back. When dry, separate bangs, then brush hair down hard, flicking brush up just at the ends to make hair kick up in the softest curl.

JULIET CAP: For this short, straight hair style that ends in the hint of a curl, choose a pincurl wave. Be sure hair is long enough to make dimesize curls. Turn three side curls to face; make two alternating back rows. Use midget curlers at neckline. Comb bangs over rolled facial tissue, saturate with lotion.

To set hair, make two rows (alternate directions) of pincurls for bangs. Turn two side rows toward face; set back in two alternating rows. When you take out the pins, comb bangs forward. Swirl side curls softly over ears; brush the back down.

★ ★ ★

POUF: For this refinement of the ponytail, trim hair so it tapers down slightly in back. For a soft curl, use gentle lotion, wide rods. For firmer curl, use regular or super lotion, regular rods. Make four back rows; two at sides. Curls should be three-quarters of an inch wide.

Romeo Students 'Smoked Out'

Classes at High School Close for Cleanup After Fire Early Today

ROMEO — There was no school today for 545 students of Romeo High school because of smoke and soot damage caused by an early morning fire in the boiler room of the school.

Supt. T. C. Filppula canceled the day's classes because desks and chairs in the old section of the high school were covered with soot and he foresaw a full day of cleaning up by custodians.

Head custodian George Hoke said excess oil in the pit in front of the burner caught fire, due to a mechanical failure about 6:45 a.m. today.

The fire was discovered by Custodian Joe Hoke who came on duty at 6:30.

Volunteers of the Romeo Fire Department were summoned and the blaze was brought under control almost immediately.

In Proving Retirement Age

Census Records Help Farmers

Of the 4,783,021 farmers counted in the 1954 Census of Agriculture, 779,282 reported they were 65 years old or more and 951,310 were in the 55 to 64 age range. Thousands of these farm operators, as well as other groups of farm workers and household workers, are becoming eligible for benefits under the expanded Social Security Act coverage which went into effect on 1955.

Many of these older persons, born before the registration of births became general practice, are among the estimated 30,000,000 Americans without birth certificates or other official proof of age—a requirement in qualifying for Social Security benefits.

A transcript of a personal census record for use as proof o. age may be obtained from the U. S. Bureau of the Census for a fee covering the cost of searching the records. A fee of $3 pays for a routine search, handled in order of receipt, of not more than two censuses of one person. This may take from four to six weeks, depending on the backlog of applications. An expedited search may be obtained for a $4 fee.

Persons in need of their census records can obtain an Age Search Application Form by writing to the U. S. Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D. C.

Personal information in the U.S. Census records is confidential and is furnished only upon the signed application of the individual to whom it relates.

About 3½ million transcripts of personal census records have been furnished to applicants as proof of age, citizenship or identity in the 22-year period since the Social Security Act was approved.

The Age Search Section of the Bureau of the Census is self-supporting, its expenses being paid by the fees charged for searching the records.

Century-Old Mill Pond Now Under Renovation

By GLADYS HARRINGTON
Dryden Correspondent

DRYDEN — The old mill pond in Squier Park, one-and-one-half miles south of here, is getting a complete renovation under the supervision of the Lapeer County Road Commission.

The old pond originated in 1847 when its creators, the Maynard brothers, conducted a flour mill here. The pond, fed by many springs, recently was left empty when a heavy rain washed the dam out.

The Lapeer Commissioners are cleaning the pond of all silt and raising the dam eight feet.

The original mill still remains, having been repaired some years ago, and on the main floor of the building is the original mill stone.

In 1915 Major Gen. George O. Squier, Chief Signal Officer of the U. S. Army, purchased the property and made a "Country Club for Country People." A large clubhouse was built to accommodate all kinds of social functions, a caretaker's cottage, a tea house, a sight seeing tower, and a year-round caretaker was engaged.

After the death of Gen. Squier the property was given to Lapeer County to be maintained as a park free to the public.

There has never been any charge made for the use of the club or grounds. Neither has there ever been anything for sale on the grounds.

Following is an excerpt of an interview of Gen. Squier from the Motor News of the Detroit Automobile Club in regard to the sale of articles on the grounds.

Gen. Squier said, "When we laid out this place and decided to make it a free public park, we considered whether or not it would be necessary for visitors to buy supplies or refreshments on the grounds, we came to the conclusion that it was not, for the simple reason that we would automatically become caterers to the public. Aden when you take money from the public there are other things you must take—chiefly a lot of conversation from people who might think because they had spent little money that they had a privilege to assert their 'rights.'

"If you sell the public nothing and give them what you have, there is no cause for complaint. You know I keep an overseer and his job is to see that everything goes along all right and order is maintained."

★ ★ ★

At present, caretaker is Tom Thompson, who has held the job for a number of years.

Rev. John Hardy at St. Anne's

Church Gets First Priest

ORTONVILLE — St. Anne Catholic Church here has had assigned to its parish a first resident priest. The Rev. John Hardy, formerly assistant pastor of St. Mary at Monroe, has been appointed to the Ortonville church.

In addition to many parish duties, Father Hardy has worked a great deal with teenagers, having conducted a series of lectures, "Design for Dating" under the CYO. He has also been active in Knights of Columbus and Boy Scouts.

★ ★ ★

Originally from St. Vincent parish in "Corktown," Detroit, he attended the Hall of the Divine Child and St. Cecelia High School at Monroe before entering Sacred Heart Seminary. Training for priesthood was completed at Mount St. Mary, in Norwood, Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Ordination by Edward Cardinal Mooney was in Blessed Sacrament Cathedral of Detroit. Other parishes served were at Ann Arbor, Mount Clemens, Detroit, Livonia and Wyandotte.

A reception was held Sunday for Father Hardy, at the home of Dr. Edward Gates here.

Sharon K. Sweet, Richard Fortune Wed at Rochester

ROCHESTER—Sharon Kay Sweet and Richard Thomas Fortune were married in a recent candlelight ceremony here in the First Congregational Church. One-hundred and fifty guests witnessed the rite performed by the Rev. E. John Yuells.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sweet of Curzon street and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fortune Sr. of Pine street.

For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white nylon eyelet over white taffeta and a shoulder-length veil. She carried white roses and lillies-of-the-valley on a white Bible.

Mrs. Ralph Kaphengst, cousin of the bride served as matron of honor. Karen Sweet served as her sister's bridesmaid.

Charles Sweet, an uncle of the bride, served as best man, while ushers were William Dean and Dale Sweet.

A reception was held afterward in the church parlors.

Leonard Women's Club Elects; Sets Luncheon

LEONARD — The Women's Club here has named its officers to preside during the fall and winter season. They are: Mrs. Iva Trask, president; Mrs. Mabel Lobzien, vice president; Mrs. Helen Schoenberg, secretary and Mrs. Fern Laser, treasurer.

The group will meet for a 1 p.m. luncheon, Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Mattie Gottschalk on North Rochester road.

HARRIETTE A. FOSS

Mrs. and Mrs. Harold R. Foss of Detroit announce the engagement of their daughter, Harriette Alice, to David Winter Boegehold. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Boegehold of Orchard Lake Village. A graduate of the Detroit Conservatory of Music, the bride-elect is continuing work toward her degree at Wayne State University. The prospective bridegroom has returned to his studies at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. A spring wedding is planned.

Seek Protection of School Children

Citizens Ask Road Safety

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

MILFORD — Residents living on North Milford road along with school, village and township officials, have formed a new organization known as the Milford-Highland Road Safety Improvement Assn.

Long recognized as one of the most treacherous roads in Oakland County, it has no set speed limit posted. Surveys have been made by Michigan State Police but so far no other action has been taken.

The three-mile stretch between Milford and Highland has steep hills and dangerous curves. Several signs have been posted "Slippery When Wet" but residents say that in the summertime it is also "slippery when hot."

★ ★ ★

Facts and figures prove that more than $10,000 in property damage has occurred during the last year. Motorists involved in accidents have torn up fences, lawns and trees and many people have suffered serious injury as a result.

With the opening of the new Milford High School on North Milford road later this fall, many children will have to walk along the stretch, according to Supt. of Huron Valley Schools Harold Hansen.

Purpose of the newly organized group is to establish a speed limit of not more than 40 miles per hour, except in front of the school, which shall then be 25 miles per hour.

★ ★ ★

Action will be taken to remove dangerous hilltops and resurface the road, which has had expensive repair work over a period of years.

The group, under the leadership of Harold McCormick, will meet at 8 tomorrow night at Milford High School to draft plans for presentation to the Oakland County Road Commission.

They will also elect officers, formulate bylaws and plan definite action on the road improvement and safety for their children.

Besides McCormick and Hansen, others backing the project are Principal Erwin Johnson, Milford Mayor Mayor Hoard, Milford and Highland Police Chiefs, Joseph Brophy and James Winters respectively and Louis Oldenburg, Highland Township supervisor.

Wixom to Seat Planning Board

New Commission of 9 to Take Charge of Village Zoning

WIXOM — A newly-formed planning commission will have the legal responsibility, effective Wednesday, for the zoning and development of the Village of Wixom.

The commission was organized under Michigan State Statute No. 205.

Announcement of nine appointments to the commission, with terms varying from one to three years, was made by Joseph T. Stadnik, village president.

Those named were Herbert Abrams, Paul DePodesta and John W. Ericson for three-year terms; John Ryding, Stuart Sauer and Del Bourgeois for two-year terms; Mrs. Johana Ware, Robert Rickard and Robert Wagnatz for one-year terms.

Wagnatz is a member of the village council.

The commission members chose Abrams to serve as chairman.

Stadnik also announced the formation of a zoning board of appeals with Paul Salow serving as chairman. Other members are Don Brooks, John Lambert, Reece Lacy and Gunnar Mettala.

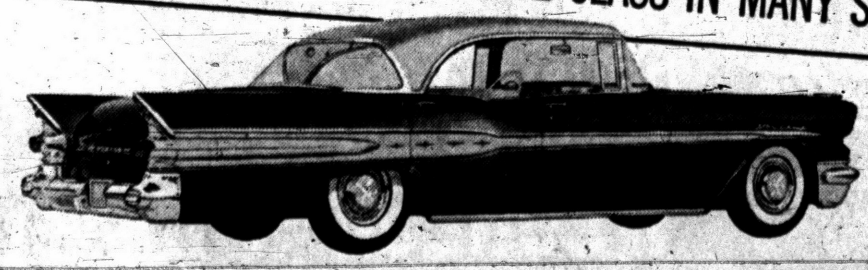

MARK 55 YEARS — Lifetime residents of Lapeer County, Mr. and Mrs. John Lick are celebrating their 55th wedding anniversary today, with a family dinner at their Clifford home. They have a son, John R. Chicago to Build New Computer

Versatile 'Brain' Will Help Push Back Gates of Unknown

CHICAGO (INS) — The University of Chicago has announced it will build a high speed digital computer designed by the physicist who directed construction of Maniac I and Maniac II at the Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratories.

He is Nicholas C. Metropolis whose Maniac I (mathematical analyzer, numerical integrator and computer) completed in 1952 made the complicated calculations involved in the development of the first hydrogen bomb.

★ ★ ★

Maniac II completed this year is considered more versatile than Maniac I because it can store more numbers and instructions in its interior "memory."

The Chicago computer will be an advance on the Maniac and will require two years to build. As a digital computer, it will solve mathematical problems by adding, subtracting, multiplying, or dividing large numbers in "thousandths of a second."

University Chancellor Lawrence A. Kimpton said the new computer will fill an urgent need because "scientific research has reached the frontier where only computers such as this can solve the complex problems being investigated."

Youths Easily Solve Marine Obstacle Course

BICKLEIGH, England (UP) — The Royal Marines, who claim to have the world's toughest obstacle course, admitted today they have had to post guards to keep small boys from going around it.

The training course includes scaling an 80-foot cliff and crossing a river on ropes.

"Some of the boys have gone right through the obstacles without mishap," said Marine spokesman. "But we've got to keep them out—they might get hurt."

N. Y. Minister's Clinic Battles Landlords

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — The Rev. James A. Gusweller is a man who can do almost anything, and who owns almost nothing.

He is an ambassador without portfolio, a missionary without suitcase, a detective with license. He is also, incredibly, a powerful and ambitious man without enemies.

There are more than a dozen kids, some swarthy and some dirty, some licking lollipops and some kicking restlessly at the curb, clumped outside his Church of St. Matthew and St. Timothy on one of New York's grimiest streets when you go to call on him.

"You want to see father?" scream a few of them, as you walk uncertainly to the church door. "She wants to see father . . . this way . . . over here!"

PRIVILEGED GUEST

Several little girls hurl themselves toward the door of the nearby "parsonage" and squabble over the right to ring the bell and be the first to announce to the Episcopalian rector that he has a visitor. You have a distinct feeling that being the first one to tell father Gusweller anything — this is reason enough for living, this particular day.

The object of adulation is a young man in his early 30s, plenty big enough to handle the teenage boys outside, sleepily lounging on the church steps as if they didn't care. "Okay, you kids, try to pipe down for a few minutes will you?" he says, and there is a general piping down.

"Every one of those kids," he says, "has a heartbreaking story. They've been put into the most degrading situation. These houses out here — New York's once-fashionable West Side — they used to hold one family each. Now there are whole families in every room.

"Take that house across the street. Seventy-three families in one five-story house. Another house near hear, there is one toilet for every seven families — and I mean families with plenty of children."

The rector laughed, and pleasantly enough, because he's learned it does no good to bleed for people; it's better to do something about their miseries. "So we have this 'housing clinic' going, and it's helping. Long way to go yet, though."

Gusweller's clinic, which meets once a week, brings the neighborhood's tenants together to discuss, and act upon, their complaints against landlords. "When you get into this business," he says, "you rapidly lose respect for landlords.

"This is largely a Puerto Rican neighborhood, and of course the landloads say, 'How can you expect me to make improvements in these apartments' — apartments, that's a laugh! — 'when these filthy people will only run them down again?'

FAMILIES CHANGE

"I say, how can you expect people to be clean when they're forced by high rents and awful conditions to live five people to a room?"

The minister's forehead shines with perspiration of restraint as he points out that in every one of the hundreds of cases where the clinic has succeeded in forcing the landlord to improve living conditions — "the families have transformed to match their homes."

Mr. Gusweller asked to be transferred here from a peaceful well-to-do parish in New Jersey because "I felt strongly about the integration problem." That was two years ago, and now St. Matthew and St. Timothy, once all-white, is packed daily with all races, all colors.

As for the housing clinic, it's moving along nicely — the people solidly backing the minister, and the minister firmly believing that God helps them who help themselves.

THE BERRYS — By Carl Grubert

Keep Dancer Busy, Pay Regularly – She's Happy

DAMASCUS (INS) — The happiest dancing girls in Damascus are those who work for Vassily Simos, a jug-eared Greek ex-cop with a heart of gold and a strong sense of responsibility.

Simos is manager of a 12-girl troupe of artists currently wowing the Syrians in one of Damascus' hottest nightspots.

The girls range in size, shape and nationality from a well-stacked Cuban dancer called Laline to a tall, statuesque ex-stenotypist from Italy called Dolores.

Dolores says of Simos:

"He's the best boss I've ever worked for. He pays us right on the nail and has never been known to leave a girl in the lurch anywhere in the Middle East."

Hardbitten and earnest-looking Simos says he has a simple formula that keeps his girls happy and out of trouble.

WORKING FORMULA

"I pay them less than other managers but I pay them regularly. Also, I keep them so busy with rehearsals they just don't have the time for anything else.

"Once in a while I give them an afternoon off. The Italian girls like to go to church and the Greek girls want to write to their mothers."

Although the floor show lasts only an hour, the girls have to report to the cabaret at 9 p.m. and stay till 4 a.m.

The cabaret management gives them 50 per cent of a flat charge of $3 for any drink a customer may buy for them.

★ ★ ★

Simos pays for their board and lodging and gives them $7 a night which, together with what they can make on the drinks, works out at an average of $20 a night for each girl.

Simos constantly warns the girls against forming any romantic attachments.

"I've seen too many of them fall by the wayside by getting infatuated with some bum or other, leaving the troupe, and finally ending up in a Persian Gulf harem.

"When a girl's contract expires and I don't renew it, I pack her off home personally and pay her passage right back to where I hired her," he says.

Asked how it felt to be with and travel with pretty girls all the time from Teheran to Cairo and back again in all the Middle East capitals, Simos made a face and said:

"How hungry does a cook feel after being in the kitchen all day?"

Japan Quizzes NCO in Hit-Run Case

ITAZUKE, Japan (UP) — Japanese police today questioned U.S. Air Force Sgt. Winston Eley of Philadelphia, Pa., about a hit-and-run case in which two Japanese pedestrians were killed.

The Air Force turned Eley over to the Japanese yesterday after he was released from the hospital at Itazuke air base.

The police had reported that Eley's 1952 sedan crashed into a motorcycle Saturday night, injuring the two riders. A few miles down the road it struck and killed two Japanese women.

Eley returned to the base Saturday night and was hospitalized with what Air Force doctors called a severe stomach ulcer. The car was found Sunday abandoned several miles from the scene of the deaths.

Teachers at Parley to Try Straits Bridge

CHEBOYGAN (UP) — Some 2,000 teachers attending the Michigan Education Assn. Institute here have been invited to take a drive today on the almost completed Straits of Mackinac Bridge.

They'll only get halfway across, however, as a barricade has been erected at the midway point.

The barricade was thrown up to stop unauthorized crossings before the scheduled opening of the bridge Nov. 1.

British Labor Plans Pensions

Would Raise Benefits, Workers Contributions If They Take Control

BRIGHTON, England (AP)—Britain's Labor party overwhelmingly approved today a pension plan which would pay retiring workers up to half their regular salary at the age of 65.

The party pledged to place the plan in effect by 1960 if it gains control of the government in the next general election.

★ ★ ★

Some 1,500 delegates applauded after Richard Crossman, a member of the party executive committee, declared that the supreme test of the welfare state is the provision it makes for old age.

"Just as unemployment was the greatest social disgrace of the 1930s, poverty in old people is the greatest social disgrace of the 1950s," Crossman said.

Under the present national pension plan all British workers pay a flat six shillings and ninepence—96 cents—a week. Under the new one they would be required to pay on a sliding scale. For most workers it would be 2 per cent of their salaries.

Instead of the present fixed pension of two pounds—$5.60—a week, workers who reach 65 would get a flat three pounds—$8.40—plus a second payment based on average earnings.

The present pension plan is running heavily into debt. By 1960 the annual deficit is expected to reach 406 million dollars. At the same time there are mounting demands from retired workers that pensions be increased to keep pace with inflation.

One aspect of the labor plan is that it would authorize the state to invest insurance premiums in the stocks of private companies.

It is part of a party plan to acquire control of private stock companies without actually placing these companies under government ownership.

★ ★ ★

Conservatives, who have promised that they too will offer a new pension plan before the next general election, have denounced the Labor proposal as "nationalization by stealth."

Beck Sees Rosy Road for Himself in Industry

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bouncy, irrepressible Dave Beck, retiring Teamsters Union president sees a rich and rosy future ahead for him in private business.

But Beck isn't quite ready to abandon the palatial home his union has provided him rent and tax free at Seattle, Wash.

★ ★ ★

For Beck, these are happy and busy days. He is presiding at the first and undoubtedly the last Teamsters convention he will ever attend as the giant truck union president.

Beck is leaving the union's top post after his involvement in scandals developed before the Senate Rackets Committee, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), a group Beck likens to an inquisition.

★ ★ ★

"I took the Fifth Amendment before the McClellan committee and I'd do it again today, tomorrow or 10 years from now," Beck said in one of the many hours-long impromptu meetings he has been holding with reporters between Teamster convention sessions. Relaxed and informal, Beck is at his ease.

The 64-year-old Beck, once a laundry driver before he became head of the nation's largest labor union, has been busy day and night before and during the convention. One of the things that's helped keep him busy is answering telegrams from McClellan.

He complains he still hasn't had time for a plunge in the nearby Atlantic Ocean.

★ ★ ★

"But after I leave the union I'm going to spend full time in business," said Beck. "You know, I've been in business for some time even while with the union. I expect to clear at least $100,000 a year in real estate and other forms of business."

Beck's business ability was challenged here at the Teamsters convention. The union's secretary-treasurer reported that Beck had tied up all the union's money in long-term investments so there wasn't enough ready cash on hand. Moreover, the treasurer said he'd spent the hardest five years of his life under Beck trying to keep track of union money.

Delegates gave a big hand to Beck, who closed a speech by asking union members, "See if you can't find something that I have done that is perhaps just a little bit on the credit side—just a little."

Before other congressional committees, Beck said, he has testified freely because they wanted information for legislation. He said the McClellan committee is interested only in what he called personal matters and especially Teamsters personal matters.

★ ★ ★

"They give you a dressing down and you can't even sue for libel," Beck says of the rackets group.

Loses $15,000 Trying to Save Dog From Fire

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—An elderly Fife Lake man's efforts to save his pet dog from a fire cost him an estimated $15,000, according to a report yesterday by Sheriff Richard Weiler.

Weiler said the rescue attempt was unsuccessful. The dog died in the fire which destroyed the Emil Wegner home Sunday night.

Deputies and firemen probing the ruins found a tin box containing upward of $5,000 in charred bills which will be sent to the Treasury Department for redemption, Weiler said.

Wegner, in his 70s, is a retired sheet metal worker who came to Fife Lake several years ago from Florida and he lived alone in his frame home since the death of his wife about a year ago.

He told the sheriff he had several thousand dollars worth of rings and other jewelry, which belonged to his wife, scattered in various places about the house.

Weiler said Wegner had no telephone and fought the fire alone Sunday night until it was spotted by a Fife Lake fireman. The fire crews arrived too late to save the home.

Broken Main Halts Water for 25 Homes

A broken water main left 25 Sylvan Shores subdivision homes without water for several hours yesterday.

Heavy equipment working in installing a new sewer in the area was blamed for the break of the six-inch main.

This was the eighth time that a water line has been broken during the sewer construction job, according to Waterford Township Clerk James Seeterlin.

Bert Lahr Knew Meaning of Work

Kid Actor to Star Broadway Comedian Is Epic Tale

This is the second of three articles tracing the ups-and-downs in the fabulous career of one of America's finest funny-men — Bert Lahr.

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Writer

Bert Lahr's rise from a kid-actor to star comedian in top Broadway shows and musical comedies is an epic story of the theatre.

The famous comic went through the mill in burlesque and vaudeville before he finally hit big-time.

In his struggling days, he wore flashy $15 suits, rode in railroad coaches, stopped at $4-a-week boarding houses and played dank, off-street theatres for a pittance.

When his big chance on Broadway came 30 years ago he made good with a vengeance. He applied the experience he had gained as a baggy-pants, putty-nosed comic in burlesque and was hailed as one of the greatest clowns of our time.

Over the years he starred in such shows as "Hold Everthying," "The Wizard of Oz," "Hot Cha!," "George White's Scandals," "Burlesque," "Flying High," "Waitin for Gobot," and "Hotel Paradiso." He shared the spotlight with Ethel Merman in "Du Barry Was A Lady," and with Bea Lillie in "The Show Is On."

Talking with the writer, Lahr became a bit nostalgic as he reviewed his life in the theatre beginning 'way back when he was "kicking around doing kid acts." He got one-day bookings at $10 and $12 a day.

NEW START

He thought he was going somewhere when he was booked to appear in a sideshow in Harry Sixes ("Great New England Carnival." But making the out-of-town jump was somewhat of a problem.

"We had to pay our own fare," he related. "We bought some ham and bread and put all our luggage in a trunk. I hit on an idea. I made a wagon out of two axles, four wheels and some wood. We put the trunk in this trailer and pulled it to Grand Central Depot and went to Springfield, Mass.

"The carnival later got stranded in Woonsocket, R.I., when the concessionaire ran away with the money. The carnival folks took up a collection and sent us kids home."

What Lahr termed an "important turning point" in his career came when he was asked to take Jack Pearl's place as Dutch comic in a show called "The Girls and Boys of Avenue B."

★ ★ ★

"I went tourist rate to Seattle to take Pearl's place," said Lahr. "It took me six days to get there. We played along the West Coast for a while. Then the act closed and the producer, Herman Becker, sent me money to come home."

"So I became a burlesque comedian in a show on the Columbia Circuit called 'The Best Show in Town.' Frankie Hunter was the star — I went in as third comedian at $35 a week for the first ten weeks and $40 thereafter.

"The Columbia Circuit shows were conservative entertainment compared with the burlesque of later years," said Lahr. "There was no strip tease. Girls had to wear tights. Bare midriffs were not allowed. Smut was taboo. It was strictly family entertainment.

YOUNGEST STAR

"I was the youngest star comedian in burlesque."

Lahr spent several years in "The Roseland Girls," during which time he met his first wife. She was Mercedes Delphino, a beautiful soubrette in the show, and also Bert's straight woman.

Vaudeville attracted Lahr, now that he was married to Mercedes. He gave it a try when he and his bride got back to New York.

"I liked vaudeville," said Lahr. "I decided that doing fifteen minutes twice or three times a day in vaudeville was much more comforting than doing 14 two-and-a-half hour shows a week in burlesque.

"So I accepted Orpheum Circuit time at $475 a week for our act. Out of this, Mercedes and I had to buy our own costumes, pay railroad fares, booking fees and other expenses.

★ ★ ★

Lahr remarked that when people talk of vaudevillians nowadays, he is rarely mentioned. Yet, he declared, he played the Palace Theatre in New York "perhaps ten times." In one season he headed the bill three times, something of an achievement since playing the Palace was the goal of all vaudevillians.

(Next: On to musical comedy and stardom).

Hollywood Headlines

Dean Martin Lazy? — Not on This Schedule

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Here I am making 2 pictures a year, 6 television productions, 50 records and 12 weeks of night club dates—and I'm the guy who's supposed to be lazy!"

★ ★ ★

The man doing the talking was Dean Martin, who is leading a lively career for a fellow who is reputed to be lethargic. I nabbed him for a report during a brief rest from his labors in "The Young Lions," which he's making with Marlon Brando and Montgomery Clift.

"Yeah, this is the most dramatic thing I've ever done. It might open up a whole new field for me.

★ ★ ★

"I start out playing an out-and-out heel—type-casting, you might say. But later in the picture I reveal my true self and show that I have a heart of gold."

How did he convince 20th Century-Fox he could do the part?

"I didn't," he admitted frankly. "My agents did."

Dean sings only one brief number in the early part of the picture, and "The Young Lions" is openly predicted as affording the chance for him that Frank Sinatra got in "From Here to Eternity."

★ ★ ★

Like his friend Sinatra, Dean is doing the type-breaking role for a reasonable fee. Frank got $7,000 for "From Here to Eternity." Dean said: "Heck I make more on the golf course than I'm getting for this picture."

But, unlike Sinatra, whose career was dragging when he won the Oscar-producing role, Dean is doing mighty well, thank you.

This year he'll play night clubs at top salaries in Las Vegas, Miami, Havana and other cities (but not the East—"Anything the other side of Salt Lake City is the East, and you can have it!").

He does 50 sides for Capitol Records each year. And he'll be active in TV, though not as active as NBC would like.

Potter Predicts Negro Switch

Sees Integration Aiding GOP in Michigan and Elsewhere

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) predicted yesterday the Little Rock, Ark., school integration battle will bring about GOP gains among Negro voters in Michigan and elsewhere.

★ ★ ★

Potter, interrupting a series of Michigan speeches for a three-day stop here, said Republicans and Democrats alike in his state are behind President Eisenhower's dispatch of federal troops to Little Rock.

He also said at a news conference that President Eisenhower's administration has, for the time being at least, laid aside plans to shift supervision of the St. Lawrence Seaway from the Army to the Commerce Department.

The senator had protested such He contended it was inspired by a move in a letter to the President. Eastern railroads, longtime foes of the seaway, and added that the Commerce Department is dominated by railroad interests.

★ ★ ★

Regarding Arkansas, he said "the Negro realizes that this whole situation (at Little Rock) was created by the Democratic Party. I think they're getting tired of their own votes being used to clobber them over the head."

Any sizeable shift of the large Negro voting block in Detroit and other Michigan cities from the Democrats to the GOP column would brighten Potter's chances for re-election next year.

Potter, in the view of some observers, faces an uphill fight. Lt. Gov. Phillip Hart probably will be the Democratic standard bearer.

Boy Seared by Lye Now Able to See

NEW YORK (AP)—A 16-year-old schoolboy whose eyes and face were seared by liquid lye hurled by another pupil in a Brooklyn classroom is out of the hospital.

"I can't see as well as before, but I guess it will improve," the victim, David Ozersky, told newsmen as he left St. Clare's Hospital annex yesterday. Scars showed on his face.

The boy spoke bitterly of the attack at Jefferson High School Sept. 19 for which Maurice Kessler, a 17-year-old Negro classmate, has been arrested.

Ozersky, who is white, said Kessler "could stay away 2,000 years and it would be all right with me."

Kessler is held in lieu of $100,000 bail on assault charges.

Kessler had been arrested on a morals charge on complaint of the Ozersky boy before the lye attack.

Parking Director Says Downtowns Need Congestion

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The director of the Detroit Municipal Parking Authority expressed the belief yesterday that "what our downtowns need is congestion."

★ ★ ★

John D. McGillis said he thought it was a mistake "to hammer constantly on downtown congestion. We have scared a lot of people away."

McGillis came here for a two-day conference on off-street parking, sponsored by the American Municipal Association's Committee on Parking.

McGillis said that downtown areas of big cities should welcome congestion that was organized and controlled. He said Detroit was considering prohibiting vehicle traffic in four blocks of Woodward Avenue, the city's main shopping thoroughfare.

★ ★ ★

"What we need is crowded sidewalks," he said. "There is nothing so discouraging as to see empty sidewalks downtown."

Cables to Link U.S., Europe

Plan to Tie Continents With Submarine Phone Lines in 1959

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. says a 40-million-dollar set of transatlantic telephone cables will be put down in the summer of 1959 directly linking North America with Europe.

★ ★ ★

The cables, one for eastbound voices and the other for westbound, will run 2,400 miles from Clarenville, Nfld., to the French sardine fishing village of Penmarch, in Brittany, AT&T said yesterday.

The success of the Newfoundland-to-Scotland cables, the first transatlantic telephone submarine lines, which opened last year, prompted AT&T to plan the new set, President Frederick R. Kappel said.

★ ★ ★

"In less than a year," he noted, "traffic to Great Britain has gone up 100 per cent and traffic to the Continent 50 per cent."

The new cables will have 36 circuits. Thirteen each will terminate in France and Germany. The other 10 are reserved for other European countries.

The company will pay 64 per cent of the cost. The rest will be shared by France, Germany and a Canadian subsidiary of AT&T.

El Morro and San Cristobal, two massive fortifications at San Juan, Puerto Rico, were the strongest bastions built by the Spanish in the entire West Indies.

After 28 years as pro at Oakland Hills Country Club, Al Watrous figures his friends can now "just call me pro."

The reason for Al's approval of just being called "pro" was the result of the luncheon yesterday at which the state PGA in its annual Fall gathering honored him as the Outstanding Golf Professional of the Year.

This is an honor which annually goes to a pro who has contributed most to the sport in the way of participation, public relations, good will, sacrifice, and many other notable characteristics.

This is the third such award. Other recipients have been Joe Devany and Warren Orlick.

"To me this award has a different meaning than what the word pro indicates. To be so honored by the men of my profession means that I have just arrived as a pro. Now I am the pro's pro."

"Anything I've done here in Michigan, I've done for the interest of the game. I have had many men like Devany, Wally Burkemo, Bob Gadja and others working for me, so now you know my senior status," he added.

At 58 Watrous had one of his most successful seasons in golf, with such honors as National PGA Senior's champion, International champ, plus outstanding rounds in the state and national PGA tournaments.

"Now I've got to get ready to defend the National Senior's title," he said. This will be held in the last days of February in Dunedin, Fla.

BURKEMO GETS AWARD

Another honored guest at the PGA luncheon was Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills.

Wally received the state award as the "Golfer of the Year." This differs from Al's award inasmuch as it is based on actual tournament competition.

Taken into consideration for this award are the best finishes in the top tournaments such as the National Open, National PGA, Michigan Open and Michigan PGA.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Watch for these places as sites for Michigan golf tournaments next year . . . the Michigan Open will be held at Atlas Valley in Flint, the Michigan PGA at Midland and the Pro-Am at Lakepointe.

Officers of the Michigan PGA for next season include Warren Orlick, president; Emil Beck and Alex Sinclair, vice-presidents, and Lou Powers, secretary-treasurer.

The Detroit Pistons are having contract troubles with Bill Kenville. The former St. Bonaventure cager refused to report to Detroit. He wants to be traded to Syracuse near his home.

The public will be able to watch the Pistons work out at the U. of D. fieldhouse commencing Thursday evening from 6:00 to 9:00.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, playing in their 23rd October classic ruled an 8-5 favorite today to defeat the Milwaukee Braves, winners of their first National League championship, in tomorrow's opener of the 54th World Series. A capacity crowd of 67,000 spectators was expected to jam Yankee Stadium to witness a battle of lefthanders.

★ ★ ★

Whitey Ford, winner of four series games in six decisions, has been nominated by manager Casey Stengel to pitch his third straight opener. He will be opposed by Warren Spahn, the only Milwaukee pitcher with series experience. Spahn, divided a pair of decisions in 1948, when the Braves representing Boston, lost to Cleveland in six games.

★ ★ ★

Each team was prepared to open with essentially the same lineup that carried it to the pennant. Stengel raised some doubt about two of his athletes, Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron, but he indicated both would be ready when the Yankees took the field tomorrow at 12 noon (EST).

Skowron, who had been bothered by a sprained back during the past few weeks, worked out yesterday and reported he was swinging freely. His back, he said felt fine except when he tried to run hard.

★ ★ ★

Mantle, plagued by shin splints for more than a month, was an almost certain starter, although he admitted his left leg still bothered him when he tried to exert extra pressure.

If Skowron cannot make it, the first base assignment will go to Elston Howard over either Joe Collins or Harry Simpson. That's because Stengel is anxious to insert as much righthanded power as he can against Spahn's southpaw pitching.

Milwaukee's starting lineup, with six righthanded hitters, is all set for Ford. The only lefthanded starters, besides Spahn, are Eddie Mathews and Wes Covington.

★ ★ ★

The only surprise in the Yankee opening lineup was Stengel's selection of Tony Kubek a rookie, over Enos Slaughter, a veteran of many campaigns in left field. Both bat left but Slaughter has had as much success against southpaws as against righthanded pitching.

Stengel's selection of Jerry Coleman to play second over Bobby Richardson was based strictly on experience. The same was true in his choice of Andy Carey at third over Jerry Lumpe.

★ ★ ★

Ford, who won the opener against Brooklyn in 1955 but lost the first game to Sal Maglie and the Dodgers last year, was Casey's solid selection despite his ordinary season record of 11-5. A lame shoulder kept him out of action for nearly two months in midseason.

There was never any question about Spahn hurling the opener for the Braves. Winner of nine straight in the stretch drive, the 36-year-old Oklahoman was the team's top winner and had the best earned run average. His 21 victories during the season topped all pitchers in both leagues.

The Braves arrived in New York yesterday, confident of knocking off the proud and haughty Yankees. They were scheduled to work out at Yankee Stadium this afternoon, after the Yankees had taken their turn. One thing can be sure. Manager Fred Haney will have his outfielders practice playing carom shots off the tricky barriers in left and right field.

"I know all about Yankee Stadium and its outfield fences," Haney said. "I played there with Detroit and other American League clubs and I managed there with the St. Louis Browns. I don't think the outfield in Yankee Stadium is any tougher than the one in Pittsburgh. My boys didn't do too badly there so why should they have trouble in Yankee Stadium."

Haney said he was glad that the Yankees had been made favorites over his Braves.

"That means we'll get more credit when we win it," the little 57-year old Californian said. "I think we're going to win it. My guys have never been more confident than they are today. They didn't come here to lose."

Despite Bomb Threat

Dodger Bid Delayed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The contract that could bring the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles sits today in a municipal pigeonhole—and threats of a bomb couldn't bring it out.

★ ★ ★

The Los Angeles City Council adjourned one of the most hectic meetings of its career last night, after nine hours of debate on the issue, leaving action on the contract hanging until next Monday.

But Mayor Norris Poulson, looking forward to next week, declares confidently that the contract will be approved at its next reading. While the session was still progressing, Poulson wired Dodgers' President Walter O'Malley:

"At least 10 council members can be counted on without the slightest doubt to give full legal support to the ordinance at council session next Monday.

"On behalf of all the citizens of Los Angeles, I welcome the Brooklyn Dodgers and you personally to this city."

On the council floor, meanwhile, a shouting, fist-pounding debate rolled on unabated even after Council President John S. Gibson Jr. made this announcement:

"The police department says there is a bomb planted in the council chamber, and it is supposed to go off in less than half an hour."

Officers, acting on a tip from an anonymous caller, searched the chamber, but no council members and few spectators left. No bomb was found.

Councilman Patrick D. McGee, an opponent of the transfer deal, offered four amendments which he said would make the contract acceptable to him. All four were turned down by the council.

All the oratory accomplished little. In the first hour of the stormy session, quiet-spoken John C. Holland announced that he would block the unanimous vote needed to pass the transfer ordinance today. That automatically tabled it for a week.

Here is why: Yesterday's action constituted only a first reading of the ordinance. To adopt it on first reading would require a unanimous vote of the 15-member group.

Giants Officially Invited to Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The New York Giants now have been invited officially to come West and settle down by the Golden Gate.

San Francisco's board of supervisors yesterday unanimously approved the invitation.

The document declares San Francisco's intent to sign a 35 year lease with the Giants for a new 45,000-seat stadium and provide temporary quarters in the 20,000-seat Seals Stadium until it is built.

The board's action gives Giants President Horace Stoneham an official offer to submit today to the National League.

Dales Ready to 'Jell'

Ferndale Next for PHS

"When we jell, we're going to make it tough for somebody." That's what Ferndale coach Ted Meister said as he prepares the Railsplitters for the invasion of Wisner Stadium Friday night against Pontiac.

Ferndale with a pair of losses to Berkley (19-6) and Southfield (14-0) has found its biggest troubles in the line where Meister has now, out of desperation, moved some of his reserve position strength.

"We have been very green in the line, so we figured the best alternative would be to play the 11 best players, regardless of where we play them," said Meister.

As a result second string quarterback Bob Pferehirt will be at right tackle post, end Chuck Molenda will be at left tackle and reserve back Dennis Gouine will be at one of the guard spots Friday.

The loss of three tackles in the Southfield game, two by injuries and one by ejection, hurt the Dales, and currently Meister has the fear that the flu which has hit 20 per cent of the school's student body will strike the grid squad.

Two huge tackles, 230 pound Gene Pidgeon and 240 pound Al Thomas are out with a leg injury and the flu, respectively, but may be ready by Friday.

Pontiac's elated grid team, happy over the surprise win over favored Lansing Sexton last week, will be aiming for victory number two. The Chiefs will be in the favorites' role on one of the rare occasions this year.

★ ★ ★

The player who may be slated to see more action as each game goes along will be sophomore quarterback Fred Staley, whose touchdown and scoring pass accounted for both PHS tallies against Sexton.

"As a sophomore he was very cool in there," said coach Jesse MacLeay, "he will help us and should improve by the game."

Game time Friday night is 8:00 p.m.

Jim Clarkson Wins Horseshoe Tourney

Jim Clarkson of Oxford won the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's city horseshoe tournament over the weekend at Oakland Park with a perfect record of nine straight victories.

★ ★ ★

Clarkson competed against the remaining seven top players in the City Horseshoe League. Floyd Bartley, regular season champion, was runner-up.

Clarkson's victims were: John Vitton—25-7, 25-9, 25-9; Herc Renda—25-3, 25-20, 25-14; Floyd Bartley—25-20, 25-9, 25-7.

The tourney concluded city horseshoe play for the 1957 season.

Wolves Win Writers' Votes

Bay City Tops AP Poll

By DAVE DILES
AP Sports Editor

Elmer Engle's Bay City Central Wolves today took over the top spot in the state Class A high school football rankings.

★ ★ ★

Impressive in two overwhelming victories, the Wolves displaced Flint Northern's Vikings who have held the top spot since early in the 1956 season.

★ ★ ★

Northern's defending state champions were hard-put to down stubborn Grosse Pointe Saturday night, 7-0, and were outgained in every department. So the six-man panel of out-state sports editors moved Bay City to the No. 1 spot and placed Flint Northern fourth.

Ann Arbor's red-hot Pioneers defeated Kalamazoo Central and kept their second-place rating in the second weekly Associated Press poll. Midland, looking stronger every game and a 33-0 winner over Saginaw Arthur Hill, moved up a notch to third place.

There were four casualties among the "top 10" teams of a week ago. The No. 7 team, Dearborn Fordson, suffered its first loss in 19 starts and bowed out of the top 10. Dearborn Edsel Ford claimed a 27-13 victory.

Muskegon, eighth-ranked last week, took a 27-25 setback at the hands of once-beaten Flint Central and toppled from the list. Saginaw Arthur Hill was rated sixth before being dumped by Midland. And Benton Harbor, in 10th place last week, suffered a 20-0 loss to Grand Haven.

★ ★ ★

Traverse City moved into the top 10 with a 20-7 victory over Petoskey.

Muskegon Catholic jolted Holland 42-0 and became another new team in the ratings, and Wyandotte had another easy game, beating Lincoln Park 33-7 and moving into eighth place.

★ ★ ★

East Detroit, one of the state's top teams a year ago and riding an 11-game win streak, got halfback Gary Ballman back into action Friday night and thrashed Roseville 39-6. The Shamrocks' prize back scored three times.

Other teams ranked right behind the leaders are Battle Creek, Muskegon, Grand Rapids Union and Grosse Pointe.

★ ★ ★

Here's the way the panel ranked the top 10 teams in Class A:

1. Bay City Central
2. Ann Arbor
3. Midland
4. Flint Northern
5. Muskegon Heights
6. Traverse City
7. Muskegon Catholic
8. Wyandotte
9. East Detroit
10. Lansing Eastern

Haney Predicts Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Milwaukee manager Fred Haney flatly predicted his club would win the World Series.

"We didn't come here to lose it," he said, while surveying the vast Yankee Stadium where the Braves meet the New York Yankees in the first game of the series tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Haney was calmed down after he got into a verbal hassle with a reporter when he arrived last night. The newsman asked him if he thought the Braves would "choke up" in the series.

The diminutive manager saw red and told the newsman he'd be thrown out if he showed up in the Braves' clubhouse during the series.

★ ★ ★

Haney still is touchy over the "choke up" charges that go back to last year when the Braves folded in the last stages of the race and permitted the Brooklyn Dodgers to win it.

"But that's all over now," Haney laughed, "although I still think it was a stupid question."

As for his team, Haney said all the celebration ended with the big parade in Milwaukee yesterday and that there wasn't even any hilarity on the plane coming in to New York.

★ ★ ★

"The boys realize it's strictly business now," he commented. "I have a few problems that I've got to solve and it's no time for fooling around."

For instance, he said, he was undecided about what to do with Joe Adcock.

"I have been thinking of using Adcock only against left-handed pitchers, platooning him with Frank Torre," Haney said. "But if Joe's ailing leg is all right and he looks good in practice, I may leave him in against righthanders, too.

★ ★ ★

Lew Burdette is scheduled to start the second game, but Haney indicated that the big righthander also would be available for relief chores.

★ ★ ★

"I know he can do both," he commented. "If I need him to relieve in the first game, Bob Buhl may start the second. But one thing I want to emphasize — this is not a three-man pitching staff. Any talk that I planned to stick with Warren Spahn, Burdette and Buhl even if the series goes seven games is not true.

★ ★ ★

"We have several other pitchers who helped us win the pennant and they all figure in my plans. Of course, I have to go with my best at the start."

Oakland B Loop Has 3

7 Flawless County Teams

Seven Oakland County high school football teams boast perfect records after the first two weeks of the 1957 season.

★ ★ ★

Three of the unblemished elevens—Clawson, Lake Orion and Troy—represent the Oakland B League.

★ ★ ★

County squads undefeated and untied in two games are: Class A—Hazel Park and Walled Lake; Class B—Clawson, Lake Orion, Troy and Milford; Class C—St. James of Ferndale.

Royal Oak Kimball and Southfield in Class A and Holly in the "B" ranks are other unbeaten county schools, but each one has a tie to mar its slate.

Class A East Detroit, Class B Romeo, and Brighton, Almont, Brown City, Detroit St. Rita and Highland Park St. Benedict in the "C" division are perfect record teams from the area. Lapeer has one victory and one tie.

Tony DeCola's Win Streak Halted at 6

NEW YORK (AP) — Young Tony De Cola's desire to win "real big" has brought an end to his winning streak at six and boosted Jimmy Arther's victory string to 11 today.

De Cola, a fine, 20-year old welterweight comer from Brooklyn, blew a big lead last night in dropping a split decision to Archer, of New York's Bronx, in a telecast 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Prep Game Thursday

A change in schedule will have Clawson playing host to Oak Park in a Thursday night football game starting at 8. The non-league game was moved up a day from Friday due to the Jewish holiday.

Davidson and Althea Pacific Net Champs

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Sweden's Sven Davidson and Althea Gibson of New York did the expected and wrapped up the Pacific Coast Tennis Championships.

★ ★ ★

It was regarded as a warm-up for the Pan-American Tournament getting under way in Mexico City.

Davidson, top-seeded, yesterday wrested the men's singles from Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, 7-5, 0-6, 6-1, 6-4.

★ ★ ★

Miss Gibson, top ranked because of her Wimbledon and National Women's championships, disposed of Louise Brough of Bervely Hills, 6-4, 6-3.

Bald Mountain Ace

Ron T. Shawhan of Livonia carded the 4th hole-in-one of the season at Bald Mountain recently on the 155-yard 11th hole. He used a 7-iron for the shot. Playing with Royal Oak area residents, Fred Brooks, John Schutter and Rudy Sommer, Shawhan finished with a 74.

Iowa Sophomore Leads Big Ten Scoring Parade

CHICAGO (AP) — Geno Sessi, a sophomore halfback for Iowa's defending Big Ten football champions, took an early lead in the conference scoring parade this week.

Sessi scored three touchdowns to grab a three point lead over Blakely, the Minnesota fullback who scored two touchdowns and added three extra points in a 46-7 triumph over Washington.

Sessi's three touchdowns came on the three times he handled the ball in Iowa's 70-14 victory over Utah state.

Sid Williams of Wisconsin was in third place with 13 points. Tied with 12 points each are Blanche Martin of Michigan State and Bill Happel of Iowa.

Two Detroiters Hurt at Start of Duck Season

PORT HURON (AP) — Two Detroit area men were hurt slightly early today in an accident a few hours after the opening of duck hunting season.

John Sheppard, 18, of Detroit, was struck in the left knee and his brother Charles, 26, of suburban Center Line, was hit in the right arm by shotgun pellets reported to have been fired by Clem Bottigieg, 32, of Detroit.

The men were hunting on Harsens Island in the middle channel of the St. Clair River.

Lions Report Record Season Ticket Sales

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions today announced record National Football League season ticket sales of 39,844 for the 1957-58 season.

Briggs Stadium, where the Lions play their home games, has a capacity of 52,854 of which 7,000 seats are general admission bleacher seats and not sold on a season ticket basis. In addition, some 3,000 standing room tickets are available for home games.

Sale of season tickets ended Saturday noon.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

In the next few articles, I'll deal specifically with each step in the approach.

The first motion taking place in the approach comes with the pushaway. After you've taken your starting position on the approach and are ready to bowl, the first thing you do is to push the ball directly towards the pins. Gravity then takes charge and the ball falls naturally and easily into the backswing.

In today's illustration, the bowler has pushed the ball out in front of his body, and the ball is ready to drop down and into the backswing. All this has occurred as the first step is taken with the right foot. Note this first step is a short one. That gets the body into motion easily.

The right arm is fully extended, and the body is bent slightly forward from the waist. The left arm swings out to the side and front to help maintain balance.

Remember, push that ball toward the pins — not up or down or to either side. Get it straight out in front of you, and let gravity take over.

Georgia 11 Shy on Talent

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Georgia comes here to play Michigan Saturday rich in southern tradition, but with little in the way of football talent to upset the Wolverines.

The Bulldogs' captain is aptly named. He is Jefferson Davis, namesake of the Confederate president.

Their coach is Wally Butts, a direct descendant of one of Georgia's first settlers, Capt. Samuel Butts. The captain was killed fighting the Indians with the Georgia militia in 1814 and Butts County in Georgia was named in his honor.

But as a football team, Georgia possesses an undistinguished record. It lost both its 1957 starts.

Texas whipped the Bulldogs 26-7 and Vanderbilt beat them 9-6. They haven't posted a winning season in three years.

"This isn't the best football team in the world," said assistant coach Don Dufek, who has been trailing the Bulldogs for two weeks. "But it's not the worst, either."

Scouting reports on Michigan opponents are usually glowing appraisals. Dufek's comment only gave Georgia moderate praise.

League Ends Season

Luncheon Saturday at the Elks club and a Scotch golf day, Sunday, at the Clarkston Golf club wound up the season for Clarkston club women's league.

Awards Saturday went to Mrs. Robert Peterson of Pontiac for 1st place, to Mrs. Harry Grow of Romeo for 2nd.

Husbands were guests Sunday and Mrs. I. Stanburg and Lloyd Mehaffey were golf winners with 47. Dinner was served after the tourney, in the clubhouse.

Senior Amateur Medal

PARAMUS, N.J. (AP) — Thomas Green Jr., of Seattle, Wash., was medalist yesterday in the qualifying round for the U.S. Golf Assn.'s third annual Senior Amateur championship.

Green shot 37-36—73 over the par 71, 6,597-yard Ridgewood Country Club course.

Old Song Has 2 Meanings at Spartan Football Camp

EAST LANSING (AP) — "California here we come," is being sung with a double meaning in Michigan State's football camp this week.

★ ★ ★

The football squad, the fans and even the coaches still are sky-high after the near-flawless performance in the MSU opener —the 54-0 victory over Indiana.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State plays the University of California at Berkeley Saturday. But many supporters already are seeing through rose-colored glasses to an eventual third Rose Bowl trip.

★ ★ ★

The coaches and more stable supporters are trying to hold down this kind of talk. They know that California, despite two early defeats, will be more of a problem than Indiana.

Michigan and Minnesota still loom as the mountains Michigan State must climb before a third Rose Bowl.

MSU 11 Climbs 2 Places After Routing Indiana

Oklahoma Rated No. 1; Gophers 3rd, Michigan 10th in Voting

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oklahoma never stirred from the practice field last week, but still ruled the roost today as the nation's No. 1 college football team in the second weekly nationwide poll of The Associated Press.

★ ★ ★

However, Michigan State served notice it will be a strong contender, as the Spartans mowed down Indiana in its opener last Saturday 54-0, and moved up from fourth to second place. Oklahoma, idle after walloping Pittsburgh a week earlier, takes on Iowa State Saturday.

★ ★ ★

With a total of 134 votes from sports writers and sportscasters, Oklahoma got 81 firsts, and 1,223 points based on 10 for first, nine for second, etc. Michigan State received 24 first place ballots and 999 points. The Spartans meet California this week.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota, a 46-7 winner over the University of Washington, moved up from sixth to third place with 867 points, as the Big Ten and other schools played their opening games. The Duke Blue Devils, who made it two straight by thumping Virginia 40-0, vaulted from seventh to fourth place, and edged out Texas A&M, which dropped from second to fifth, although winning over Texas Tech, 21-0. Duke's eight first place votes helped provide a 629-628 point edge over the Aggies.

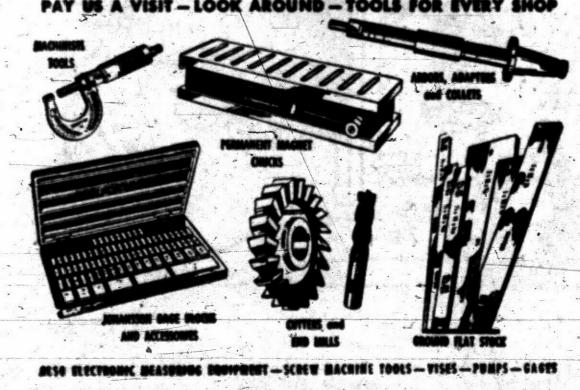

The Top Ten teams with points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis, with first place votes and won-lost records in parentheses:

1.	Oklahoma (81) (1-0)	1,223
2.	Michigan State (24)	999
3.	Minnesota (10) (1-0)	867
4.	Duke (8) (2-0)	629
5.	Texas A&M (2-0)	628
6.	Navy (1) (2-0)	472
7.	Auburn (6) (1-0)	400
8.	Iowa (3) (1-0)	378

Ludwig Fleet to Be World's Largest

Order for 5 Tankers Tops All Records

NEW YORK (AP)—A 59-year-old American shipping man who shuns publicity has placed what is reported to be the largest single private shipbuilding order in maritime history.

With little more than a glorified office memorandum, Daniel K. Ludwig, head of National Bulk Carriers, Inc., New York, ordered five oil tankers of 104,500 deadweight tons each.

Cost of the vessels was not announced. It was estimated, however, at about 25 million dollars a vessel. The first is to be completed late next year.

The world's largest tanker now is the 85,500-ton Universe Leader, another Ludwig ship.

Stavros S. Niarchos and Aristotle S. Onasis, Greek tanker magnates, have ordered ships of 106,500 tons but these will not be completed until later, it was understood.

★ ★ ★

Ludwig's order, confirmed yesterday, gives him an apparent edge in his rivalry with the flamboyant Greeks.

His fleets in existence and under contract when the five new tankers are completed will exceed 2½ million deadweight tons. It is believed this will exceed the fleets of Niarchos and Onasis.

The three men have the largest private fleets in the world.

Ludwig is reputed to have a personal fortune of 500 million dollars.

His new ships will be larger than the Queen Mary and the United States and will be far wider than these.

The tankers will be about 900 feet long with beams of 135 feet.

The order went to the Ludwig company's Kure Shipyard Division in Japan. All the construction work will be done at the former imperial Japanese naval arsenal at Kure.

Teak Used in Pianos

CHICAGO—A Chicago piano manufacturer now is using Asiatic teak, a durable wood employed for years in ships' decks and fittings, in making its pianos. The teakwood piano is said to resist water marks, surface scratching, and high humidity, and to require no polishing.

Waterford Slates Adult Classes on Social Dances

Instruction in the fundamentals of popular social dances will be offered to adults as well as boys and girls living in Waterford Township this year, according to recreation director Thomas Belton.

★ ★ ★

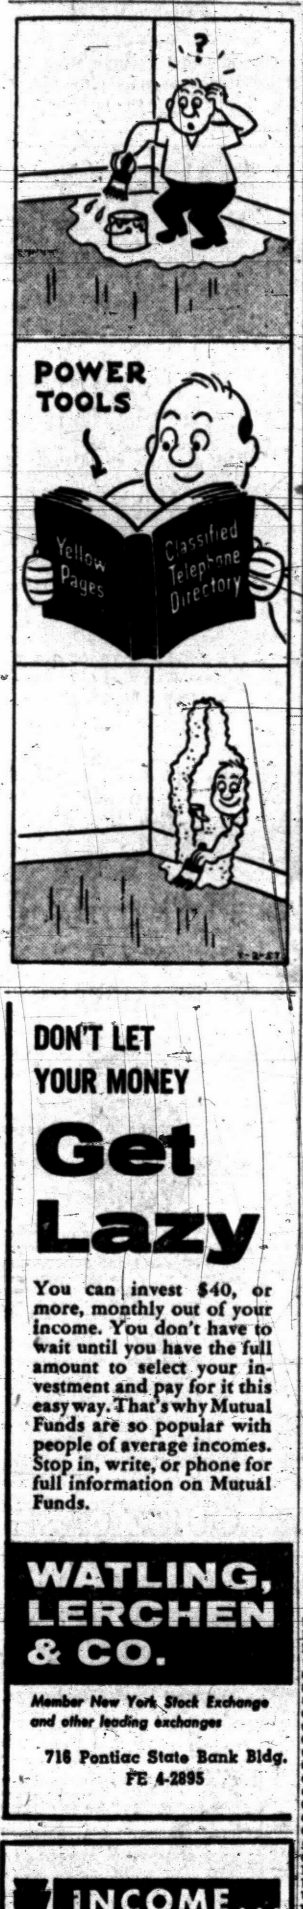

Beginning Monday, one-hour sessions for each age group will be conducted for twelve weeks at the Community Center on Williams Lake road.

★ ★ ★

Approximately 500 residents completed classes during the past three years, Belton said. "Due to the heavy demand for adult classes we have scheduled lessons in the waltz, fox trot and rhumba especially for this group," he added.

★ ★ ★

Schedule for boys and girls in the 6th grades will be on Monday from 7 to 8 p.m. Students in the 9th through 12th grades begin Monday from 8 to 9 p.m. and 7th and 8th graders will have classes on Tuesdays from 7 to 8 p.m.

Stock Market's Pattern Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market embarked on a slow sidewise movement in early trading today.

Pivotal issues showed plus and minus signs of from fractions to around a point. Here and there were some slight improvements over initial prices but the pattern was mixed.

OPENING ACTIVE

The opening was fairly active and prices were irregular. Turnover slackened and later price changes were narrow.

Business and industrial news remained patchy, supplying no particular spur to trading. Meanwhile, Wall Street technicians said that based on the market charts the conditions were about right for a moderate rally but they added that other fundamental factors could modify this.

For today's session, exceptional moves were made by Kennecott and by Johns-Manville, both up well beyond a point. The latter stock was affected by news yesterday that plans for a possible merger with Bestwall Gypsum had been terminated.

Fractional gains were made by Chrysler, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, American Smelting, Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Baltimore & Ohio.

Youngstown Sheet was down about a point. Smaller losses were taken by Ford, Goodyear, Air Reduction, General Electric and Paramount.

★ ★ ★

Opening blocks included Bethlehem Steel unchanged at 41⅜ on 2,500 shares and American Cable & Radio unchanged at 4⅝ on 1,500.

Poultry

DETROIT POULTRY

DETROIT, Oct. 1 (AP)—Prices paid per pound f.o.b. No. 1 quality live poultry up to 10 a.m.:

Heavy type hens, 16-20; light type, 11-13; boilers and fryers, 2½-3½ lbs., whites, 20-21, Gray Crosses, 22; capons-ettes, under 5 lbs., 21; over 5 lbs., 24-29; ducklings, 29-30; young heavy type hen turkeys, 26-28½; tom turkeys, 23-23.

Comment: Market weak on capon-ettes. Unsettled on fryers. Steady on fowl and turkeys. Demand is fair but not up to expectations for the Jewish holiday this weekend. Supplies are fully adequate.

DETROIT EGGS

DETROIT, Oct. 1 (AP)—Eggs, f.o.b. Detroit, cases included, federal-state grades:

Grade A, jumbo, 56-58, weighted average, 56; extra large, 55½-57, wtd. avg. 56; large, 52-54, wtd. avg. 53; medium, 37½-41, wtd. avg. 39½; small, 30-31, wtd. avg. 30½; B, large, 49-50, wtd. avg. 49½; Browns, grade A, jumbo, 54; large, 50-51, wtd. avg. 50; B large 49; checks 27½.

Commercially graded: Whites, large, 47½-49; mediums, 39-41; small 28½; Browns, large, 47; medium, 34½; checks 26.

Comment: Market steady on large, extra large and jumbo sizes, with supplies moderate and closely cleared but undertone nervous and the advancing prices at Chicago and New York. Mediums fully steady and confident as heavy receipts in good demand. Smalls dull and dragging, as increased receipts are accumulating.

Contract Signed for Dam, Levees

Pontiac Lake Project to Reduce Flood Peril at Cost of $48,044

A $48,044 contract for new levees and a dam at Pontiac Lake was signed yesterday by Drain Commission Daniel W. Barry and a Cleveland, Ohio construction firm.

★ ★ ★

The contract gives the Lee Truzile company four months to complete the job, said Barry, who indicated that this should mean the danger of flooding this spring will be eliminated.

★ ★ ★

Funds for the construction were loaned by the county. They will be paid back by a five-year special assessment of the Pontiac Lake district.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Lake was artificially constructed in 1921. Since then, no major repairs to the lake's dam and levies have been made. The weakened condition of the lake's barriers have posed a flood threat to many homes in the Huron River Valley, Barry said.

Grains Moving in Small Range

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains moved within a narrow range on the board of trade today with prices mixed.

There was some commercial demand for wheat in early dealings but liquidation was apparent, too, and this tended to keep prices close to yesterday's closing levels.

★ ★ ★

The bread grain also was influenced by news that overnight Poland bought a cargo of mixed wheat at the Gulf and a cargo of red wheat at a North Atlantic port, with around 750,000 bushels of the total for October delivery.

Liquidation of soybeans also continued, influenced by the expanding harvest and favorable weather and crop news. Corn also continued to reflect weather and crop news.

Near the end of the first hour new style wheat was ¼ to ¾ higher, Dec $2.14⅝, corn was unchanged to ¼ lower, Dec $1.18⅝, oats were unchanged to ¼ lower, Dec 65⅝, rye was ¼ lower to ¼ higher, Dec. $1.25½, soybeans were unchanged to ¼ higher, Nov $2.25⅞, and lard was 18 to 32 cents a hundred pounds higher, Oct $10.70.

12-Town Cost Up $5.5 Million

Delays, Increase in Size Blamed, Drain Commissioner Says

The proposed Twelve-Town storm relief and sanitary sewer drain has jumped about $5.5 million in estimated cost because of delays and an increase in its size.

The rise in cost was confirmed by J. Anton Berts, project coordinator, and Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry.

Total estimated cost is now placed at $44 million, compared with $38 million a year ago. Last spring, the cost was estimated at $39.5 million.

Rise in construction costs since the project was stalled by legal action a year ago was one reason given for the increase.

★ ★ ★

The county is hoping this month to begin trial of a suit brought by two participating communities, Southfield Township and Troy. Both say their apportioned costs are too high.

Bomb Night Club Operated by Negro

COLP, Ill. (AP) — A night club operated by the Negro president of the Colp School Board was bombed last night but authorities expressed belief it did not result from a school integration dispute here.

★ ★ ★

That possibility was under investigation.

The blast occurred at the rear of the New Orleans Room, heavily damaging the establishment operated by William Hatchett, the school board president.

No one was in the room at the time, and five or six patrons in an adjoining bar escaped injury.

★ ★ ★

White children have been boycotting the Colp Grade School since the school board voted to consolidate the two segregated grade schools here at the start of the fall semester. They have enrolled in nearby all-white schools.

Racial Troubles Against U.S.

United States Delegate to Present His Side of Story to U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Hoping to counteract foreign criticism of the Little Rock school segregation troubles, the United States planned to bring the ticklish integration issue before the U.N. assembly today.

George S. Meany, president of the AFL-CIO and a U.S. delegate to the assembly session, is to discuss America's recent progress and troubles in racial relations before the assembly's 82-nation social committee.

The committee is discussing world social conditions.

A U.S. spokesman indicated the integration problem was being put before the U.N. formally at this time to put it into proper perspective before the world. He said the Americans want to show that progress is being made and that some tension was natural when an issue so sensitive as school desegregation was first dealt with.

★ ★ ★

High officials in Washington have been deeply concerned over unfavorable reaction abroad to violense in connection with desegregation of Little Rock's central high school and of some other Southern schools.

★ ★ ★

In the U.N., however, the recent U.S. racial troubles have brought only occasional sniping at the United States by a few delegates from Soviet satellites, and no comment from the Russians themselves.

Oldsmobile Ups Sights for '58

Firm Hopes to Capture Eight Per Cent of Retail Market Next Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Oldsmobile, with major styling and engineering changes in its 1958 model cars, is raising its sights sharply for the coming year.

The changed models were shown at the company's national press preview here today. The sales goal for the next year will be approximately eight per cent of the retail market, compared with something less than seven per cent so far in the 1957 market.

Details of the new Oldsmobile lines are being withheld until public announcement on Oct. 27. It may be said, however, that a major engineering feature will be an entirely new approach to fuel economy and a somewhat different air suspension system than those already disclosed by other makers.

The several lines have undergone styling changes reportedly greater than any heretofore made in new models short of an entirely new product. Appearancewise the new models are distinctly different from their 1957 forerunners. One major styling change is provided by a new body shell that eliminates the rooftop runners that appeared on some models in the 1957 line. This move also restores the single piece rear window on those models.

Auto 'Safety Center' Opens at Motor Mart

An automobile "Safety Center," believed the only one in Pontiac, opened today at Motor Mart, 121-3 E. Montcalm St.

★ ★ ★

According to Fred Gaukler, owner of Motor Mart, the firm which has been in business for 12 years, has doubled its size and added the latest equipment to make it a specialist in auto safety.

Brakes, wheel alignment, exhaust systems and other safety factors will be checked and repaired by factory-trained men, Gaukler said.

Area Firm to Plan Resort in Hawaii

Geer Associates, of Bloomfield Hills, has been engaged to develop a land use program for a new major tourist resort on one of the Hawaiian Islands.

★ ★ ★

Davis S. Greer, head of the firm, is well known in Pontiac for his current work on a downtown development plan for the Downtown Pontiac Assn. and for a study of major thoroughfares now in progress for the city.

★ ★ ★

The new resort, on the centrally located island of Maui, is planned on a 1,500-acre site by Matson Navigation Co., of Hawaii and San Francisco.

It will include a 100-room hotel, adjoining cottages, a housing development, a shopping area and many recreational facilities.

Goer, now in the Hawaiian Islands, was chosen for the land study, according to Matson President Randolph Sevier, because of his national reputation and especially for his work in the development of the Pebble Beach resort area on California's Monterey Peninsula.

5-Year-Old Lad Struck by Car in Pontiac

A five-year-old boy is in Pontiac General Hospital today in satisfactory condition after being hit by a passing car Monday on Joslyn Ave. just south of Montcalm St.

John A. Durmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Durmer, of 835 N. Perry St., was hit by a car driven by Jackie Lee Banycky, 28, of 136 N. Telegraph Rd., according to Pontiac police.

The driver told police she was going south on Joslyn Ave., when the child ran out from in front of a parked car and directly into the path of her car.

Nitroglycerin first was prepared by an Italian chemist. When mixed with an inert material, such as sawdust, nitroglycerin becomes dynamite.

State to Probe Complaint of Unfairness to Indians

LANSING (AP) — Is there discrimination against Indians in Michigan by schools and employers?

The State Fair Employment Practices Commission has had no complaint to this effect from any Indian, but is planning an informal investigation anyway.

A spokesman said a representation that there was discrimination in employment against Indians in the Upper Peninsula was made to the commission last spring, but not followed up.

Now, the man who made the first complaint, has said that Indians have been denied admission to public schools "without a special tuition payment."

The allegations came from R.G. Mulcahey, director of social services at the Coldwater State Home and Training School and executive secretary of the Governor's commission on Indian problems.

They were received with skepticism by Dr. Lewis Beeson, executive secretary of th State Historical Commission.

Beeson said that economic difficulties, rather than policies of discrimination, were at the root of most problems of the state's Indian population, estimated at between 8,000 and 10,000.

"The trouble is that they live

LIVE IN FRINGE AREAS

mostly in fringe areas around towns or along the Lake Michigan shore, and there isn't money enough to send them on to high school after they leave the grades," he said.

Beeson said that Michigan opened her schools to Indians 100 years ago, and in the 1930s accepted control of the Indian school at Mt. Pleasant from the federal government with the written understanding there would be no discrimination.

Upon hearing of Mulcahey's second allegation, the fair employment commission decided to arrange a joint session of its members, those of the Indian Commission, the state school superintendent and Mulcahey "to pin point any difficulties there may be."

* * *

No date has been set yet for the meeting. After he made his complaint last spring, FEPC records show, Mulcahey was invited to attend the agency's next regular meeting but did not appear.

Ex-Area Couple Awarded $1,250

Ann, Charles Hutchins Get Honors for Their Engineering Design

A former Keego Harbor man and his wife have won $1,250 and had a scholarship fund named after them as a result of their top-prize engineering design.

* * *

They are Ann and Charles S. Hutchins of Ann Arbor, a husband-and-wife engineer team at the University of Michigan College of Architecture and Design.

Hutchins is the son of Mrs. Sanborn C. Hutchins, 1806 Cass Lake Front.

The couple received the prize yesterday in Cleveland, Ohio. They were first-place winners in a contest sponsored by the James F. Lincoln Arc Welding Foundation.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins designed plans for the various parts used in a welded two-stage press.

The welding company also announced four $250 scholarships which will be used in the U. of M. Mechanical Engineering Department and the College of Architecture and Design.

Expresses View on Civil Rights

Flint Negro Girl Displays Ike's Reply to Her Letter

FLINT (AP) — A 13-year-old Negro girl, who wrote to President Eisenhower to express her views on civil rights, today displayed his answer in which the President said progress is being made in eliminating imperfections.

The original letter was written Sept. 7 by Carol Anne Beane, a student at Whittier Junior High. Her father is Livingston Bean, a social worker, and her mother is a teacher at Clark school.

* * *

Carol wrote in part:

"Dear President Eisenhower:

"My name is Carol Beane. I live in Flint. I am a Negro. I do not know all the details of the Civil Rights Bill as I am only 13. But I would like to say as stated in the Declaration of Independence that 'All men are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.'

"America has built a great nation with these words and others as its foundation. If we destroy life and liberty for a small thing, such as color, and pursuit of happiness for the same reason, you could well say the America we know today has begun her downfall."

* * *

The answer, signed by the President, read:

"Dear Carol,

"Thank you for your thoughtful letter. America will never tolerate the things you fear, although I admit that we do have many imperfections in our society. But the important thing to remember is that we are making progress towards their correction and that progress, to be lasting, must be steady and sometimes slow. With best wishes.

Sincerely,
Dwight D. Eisenhower"

Bell Talks Contracts

DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and the communication Workers of American open negotiations on a new contract today. The union represents some 19,300 plant, traffic and accounting department employes at Bell installations across Michigan. The old pact expires at midnight Nov. 7.

The king of Sweden is required to be a member of the Lutheran church.

Pharmacy Wins Liquor License

Waterford Clerk Gives Report on Raise in Water Tax Rate

A license to sell packaged liquor was awarded to the Elizabeth Lake Pharmacy at last night's regular Waterford Township Board meeting.

The application had been pending for more than seven years and had been approved by the Michigan State Liquor Control Commission some time ago.

* * *

Other business included the report on the hike in the water tax rate by Clerk James Seeterlin, township clerk. However, no action was taken.

A preliminary plan of 56 lots in the Naimark Estate was approved by board members. The subdivision is located on M59 near Airport road.

Township also agreed to erect eight new 25-mile-per-hour speed signs for Winding Rd. between Cass-Elizabeth and Elizabeth Lake roads.

A check for $46 to pay for the signs has been received by the township board from the Burt School PTA, sponsors of the project.

* * *

Eight bids for insurance coverings all township-owned vehicles were opened and contracts will be awarded at a special township board meeting to be held at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. Township attorney Paul Mandel was authorized to present an analysis and recommendations on the bid.

Bids on fence for the Waterford Village Cemetery were referred to Johnson and Anderson, consulting engineers, for further study. These contracts will also be awarded at the next Wednesday meeting.

Trustee John Coleman was appointed to the board of review to replace Richard Lamberton who resigned recently.

Livonia Rejects Bonds

DETROIT (AP)—Voters in suburban Livonia have rejected a proposed 10-million-dollar bond issue for a storm sewer project. The vote against the project was 2,827-2,500, with an affirmative vote of 60 per cent required for passage. There have been many reports of damage and flooded basements during heavy rains in Livonia.

Almost 14,000 Indians were enrolled in the various divisions of the former civilian conservation corps.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK ALL THOSE whose kindness and sympathy offered comfort during the recent death of my beloved husband. We wish to thank the many friends and neighbors for the lovely floral tributes, also for floral offering from the Laboratory Dept. of Pontiac Motor Div. including Mr. Knudsen and friends from the Lab. Dept. We wish to thank Rev. Savage for his kind words of sympathy, also the pallbearers. Mrs. Blanche Goulding, brothers and sisters.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LAWrence Jon Blodgett, who passed away, Oct. 1, 1948.
Before the throne of God,
Thousands of children stand;
Children whose sins are all forgiven,
A holy, happy band,
Up there among the throng,
Our little Lawrence stands;
Waiting for us to join him,
In that holy, happy land.
Sadly missed by mother, sisters & brothers.

Encourage Red Peoples to Write Letters Abroad

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio said today people living in the Soviet Union will be encouraged to write letters abroad during an "International Letter Week" starting next Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The broadcast said the purpose is "to extend friendly and cultural contacts between the working people of the U.S.S.R. and the population of foreign countries."

★ ★ ★

As part of the campaign the Soviet Ministry of Communications has issued special postage stamps showing a dove with a letter in its beak.

Stars in Shows From Chicago

Heads NBC's Club 60 and Record Program Over CBS

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard Miller, a man in a quiet hurry, has become a two-network emcee.

Miller, who has a deceptively serene and chunky exterior, is the skipper of NBC-TV's Club 60 colorcast over 79 stations each weekday afternoon from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m.

He is also continuing his 15-minute disc jockey show just before noon daily over the CBS station, a chore launched two years ago.

An avid man at the mike, Howard additionally wraps five hours of local radio broadcasting daily around both ends of his coaxial activities.

★ ★ ★

The 40-year-old Miller is the first performer continuously dividing his talents between the major network rivals, and the Club 60 telecast is currently the only major show originating in Chicago.

All his activities emanate from the Windy City, his home town.

COFFEE ADDICT

Keeping himself geared to overflowing schedule, Miller finds he can get by with five hours sleep a night, consumes 30 cups of coffee and five packs of cigarettes daily.

★ ★ ★

The mike bug first bit him in 1940 when he was studying at law school and finding sustenance by playing in radio soap operas. He went to law school unpredictably when an attack of appendicitis thwarted his initial ambition to be a stage actor.

Subsequently Miller quit college, set up his own station in Galesburg, Ill. After a hitch in the Navy during World War II he returned to the executive end of broadcasting but later decided he would be a disc jockey.

Miller has been expanding operations since. Now he has 300 fan clubs around the nation, and an estimated audience of two million in the Chicago area for his early morning show.

★ ★ ★

"I depend a good deal on good music and getting the feeling over to listeners that I've got problems and I know they've got problems, so just let us all relax," he declares.

PREFERS BALLADS

In music, Miller is no jive enthusiast, confesses a liking for "ballads and music with poetry."

★ ★ ★

"That's not to the detriment of rock 'n' roll," says Howard, who hates to disturb anyone else's tastes. "I look for good music, but let's assume rock 'n' roll is less than good."

TWO-NETWORK MAN — Disc jockey Howard Miller emcees NBC-TV's Club 60 and also hosts his own 15-minute daily show on Chicago's CBS outlet. In addition, he devotes five hours a day to local radio broadcasting. Club 60 is telecast in color from 12:30 to 1:30 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Contrary to Rumors, Rex Has No Tantrum

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—A columnist in search of a tantrum—instead of a transom—I visited Rex Harrison and asked if he minds the gossip that he's become "difficult."

★ ★ ★

He disappointed me. He was sweet about it. He didn't throw me out. Not one little throw.

WILSON

"I'm used to it now." His shoulders went up (in his long, shapeless Professor 'Iggins sweater) and so did his eyebrows, but his voice and temperature didn't.

"Rex is a doll," eulogized Paul Gregory, producer of the TV spec, "Crescendo," in which Sweet Old Rex starred. "It was plain heaven," smiled director Bill Colleran.

"Was there a row with Ethel Merman?" I asked.

Rex looked startled. Paul Gregory quickly said that rumors Ethel withdrew because she had no lines, while Rex had many, were untrue.

"Merman was never supposed to have lines. It's not that kind of a show. She left because she felt she'd too often done the songs," Gregory said.

"Are you tired of doing Professor 'Iggins by now?" I asked.

"Off and on," he admitted.

★ ★ ★

Then I presented him with a picture taken in church the night he and his bride were married. I'd heard she wanted it. Looking through his glasses at me, he almost softly said, "That was sweet of you."

I thought so, too, but I hated for him to say so. No tantrum.

Man Succumbs After Arrest

American Mystery Death Brings Protests to Haiti

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Americans were warned to move cautiously in Haiti today after Ambassador Gerald Drew strongly protested the death of a U.S. citizen apparently while under arrest.

★ ★ ★

The death of Shibley Talamas, 30-year-old manager of a textile factory here, brought the United States into the turmoil which followed the presidential election Sept. 22 in the Caribbean Negro republic.

Drew protested yesterday to Col. Louis Roumain, foreign minister of the ruling military junta. The ambassador later cautioned Americans to be careful and abide by the nation's curfew.

Roumain had gone to the U.S. Embassy to present the government's explanation of Talamas' death, which occurred within eight hours after his arrest.

The ambassador said Roumain told him Talamas, son of U.S. citizens of Syrian extraction, was arrested early Sunday afternoon in connection with the shooting of four Haitian soldiers. The soldiers were killed by an armed band Sunday at Kenscoff, a mountain village 14 miles from this capital city.

Drew said Roumain "assured me that Talamas was not mistreated."

★ ★ ★

While being questioned by police Talamas tried to attack an officer and to reach a nearby machine gun, Roumain told Drew. He added that Talamas then was handcuffed and immediately died of a heart attack.

The embassy said three reliable sources reported Talamas was beaten sufficiently to kill him.

One of these sources said Talamas' body bore severe bruises about the legs, chest, shoulders and abdomen and long incisions that might have been made in an autopsy.

★ ★ ★

A Haitian autopsy was said to have confirmed that Talamas died of a heart attack. The location of the body remained a mystery. It was not delivered immediately to relatives.

Talamas, 300-pound son of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Talamas, first was detained in the suburb of Petionville. Released on his promise to report later to police, he surrendered to police at 2 p.m. Sunday in the presence of two U.S. vice consuls. His wife Frances, formerly of Ashtabula, Ohio, gave birth to a child Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Police said they found a pistol and a shotgun in Talamas' business office. Friends said he had had them for years.

Calm generally prevailed in the country. Police continued the search for losing presidential candidate Louis Dejoie, missing since the election. His supporters have threatened violence and charged that the military junta rigged the election for Dr. Francois Duvalier, a landslide winner in unofficial returns.

★ ★ ★

Official election results will be announced next Tuesday. Duvalier is expected to assume the presidency Oct. 14.

Blast May Be Tied to School Integration

COLP, Ill. (AP)—A night club operated by the Negro president of the Colp school board was bombed last night, and police investigated for a possible connection between the bombing and local school integration.

★ ★ ★

Details of the bombing were not immediately available. It was not known whether there were any injuries.

Williamson County sheriff's police, investigating the incident, reported the club, operated by William Hatchett, was rocked by a blast about 10 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Police said the Colp school board late in August voted 4-3, along racial lines, to integrate the small community's two schools. The all-white Standard school was ordered closed and its 80 pupils were supposed to attend the Attucks school, along with its 115 Negro pupils.

★ ★ ★

The three white members of the school board have since resigned, and white parents have boycotted the integrated Attucks-Standard school by sending their children to neighboring communities.

Police said Hatchett declined to give any reason for the club bombing.

Passenger Train Runs Into Another

BAD CANNSTATT, Germany (AP)—A passenger train smashed into a train unloading commuters in the railway station here today, killing 10 persons and injuring between 30 and 40.

The 12-car passenger trai nvirtually demolished the last car of the other train.

The train that roared into the station was carrying 400 to 500 passengers. The train waiting in the station had 600 to 800 commuters aboard its 11 cars.

Reds Could Win Race Into Space

Soviet Scientist Says World Wouldn't Know of Moon for Awhile

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia could win an unofficial race into space with the first man-made moon.

But the world's first knowledge of it might be a Soviet announcement that the moon had already been circling for days or perhaps weeks, a Russian scientist says.

★ ★ ★

By contrast, the United States says it will never fire any rocket that could hang a moon in the sky without prior public announcement of the attempt.

Both nations plan to send small metal spheres into orbits around the world during the International Geophysical Year. IGY is a 64-nation cooperative effort to learn and share peaceful new knowledge of the universe.

Russia was invited and asked to disclose full details of her moon plans at a 12-country IGY conference here on the artificial satellites and rockets to explore the upper air.

Instead, three Soviet delegates spoke mainly in generalities at yesterday's opening session, while U.S. scientists gave full details, most of them disclosed long ago. Russia has been fully informative about all her other IGY activities.

★ ★ ★

An American scientist commented privately: "It seems to me now there's no doubt that they consider this a race for prestige reasons. It's anyone's guess why they are being coy about disclosing progress and plans and hard facts as we have done."

Police Bullets Kill Fleeing Boy

Detroit Lawmen Fire on Youth Speeding in Stolen Truck

DETROIT (INS) — A 15-year-old Detroit boy who had never been in trouble before died yesterday in Receiving Hospital of a police bullet wound to the head.

Police said Virgil G. Miller was shot in the head by one of a dozen bullets fired at him while he sped in a stolen truck.

★ ★ ★

The boy was shot as he tried to climb over parked cars after sideswiping a building, hitting a parked car and finally ramming a police car.

Patrolmen Robert Manzel, 29, and Stanley J. Oram, 31, said they saw Miller speeding toward them in the truck with the lights out.

They blinked their lights at the driver but Miller sped past and the officers gave chase.

Within a few blocks they were joined by another scout car, containing Patrolmen Edward Price, 40, and George Frantz Jr., 24, all of the Hunt Station.

Both Oram and Frantz fired at the boy and one of the bullets struck him in the head. There were six bullet holes in the truck.

Unsigned Letter Lauds Family Aiding Negroes

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A neighbor friendly to Levittown's first Negro family received a $5 bill in the mail with a letter that said "for some paint to help cover somebody's dirty work on your house."

The letter, received yesterday by Lewis Weschler, also said, "Thank you for being a good neighbor . . . I thank our God for people like you." It was not signed.

★ ★ ★

Weschler's house, near that of the William J. Myers Jr. family, Negroes whose arrival in August was greeted with protest crowds, was painted last Tuesday with large red letters K-K-K. On Sept. 5 a cross was burned on the Weschler lawn.

Magsaysay's Family Asks to Split Estate

MANILA (AP)—President Ramon Magsaysay's widow told a Manila court today her husband left a net estate worth $72,845.

The President, killed March 17 in a plane crash, did not leave a will. The petition asked that Magsaysay's widow, two daughters and son be declared his heirs.

Grand Rapids Store Damaged by Fire

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A fire which caused $50,000 damage at a Grand Rapids supermarket yesterday apparently was the result of spontaneous combustion, according to Fire Chief Frank Burns.

He reported the results of investigation of possible incendiary origin in the fire at the (Eberhard) store in the northwest (Bridge and Gold) section of the city.

The blaze started in a small waste paper shed under the store's rear parking ramp roof and destroyed the roof, Burns said.

No one was injured in the fire which was extinguished before it damaged the main store building. Some foodstuffs suffered smoke and water damage, but store officials said the store would resume operation tomorrow.

Arson investigators, meanwhile, sought leads in connection with two oil company fires which flared within hours of each other last Thursday night and early Friday, resulting in losses of more than $300,000. Burns said the fires were the work of an arsonist.

Brazil is the only country in South America in which Portuguese is the native and official language.

When Queen Comes to New York

She'll Be Busy at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) —The U.N. announced Queen Elizabeth will address the General Assembly, meet all 82 delegations, hold a reception for Commonwealth representatives and tour the building during her one-hour visit on Oct. 21.

The official U.N. schedule has the British queen and her husband, Prince Philip, arriving at the tall glass skyscraper on the East River at approximately 3:10 p.m. (EDT).

The royal couple, accompanied by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd and other members of the official party, will be met by U.N. Chief of Protocol Jehan De Noue. He will present them to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and Assembly President Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand.

Munro will then introduce the queen to heads of commonwealth delegations and permanent U.N. representatives.

The U.N. is confident this process will take only 15 minutes and that the queen will deliver her speech to the assembly at 3:25 p.m. (EDT).

The queen will then be presented to commonwealth representatives, U.N. under-secretaries and "senior officials of the equivalent rank of commonwealth countries."

A "brief reception" in the delegates' lounge is then scheduled for five representatives of all the delegations to the assembly and their wives and senior U.N. officials.

At 4:15 the royal couple will be taken on a tour of the building and then depart for a new round of speeches and receptions in New York City.

11 Foreign Shelters Weather Atom Test

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission said that two French and nine West German atomic shelters came through a nuclear detonation last Aug. 31 in "very satisfactory" shape.

The commission added: "The test results were accepted as further proof that construction of adequate shelters would result in the saving of lives in event of a nuclear attack."

The steel and concrete shelters, containing ventilation systems and other components shipped from Europe, were subjected to testing at an undisclosed distance from named "Smoky" was above nomground zero. The weapon, codeinal in yield, meaning that it exceeded the force of 20,000 tons of TNT.

The AEC said it was the first effects test for a foreign government made in Nevada.

"The European structures were subjected to overpressures considerably higher than had been used in any previous shelter test in Nevada," the report said. "All of them stood up under the blast. Most of the damage was superficial."

Battle for Power in San Marino

SAN MARINO (AP) — Rival anti-Communist and Communist governments contended for power today in this tiny hilltop republic, the world's smallest. Italian backing appeared to promise victory to the antis.

The anti-Reds — principally Christian Democrats — formed a government early today. They immediately won official recognition from Italy, which completely surrounds San Marino.

Domenico Morganti, Interior minister of the Red regime which has governed the 14,000-population World War II, ordered the members of the new government arrested.

Says Driver License Has Been Reinstated

Glenn A. Siegwart, of 1991 Lakeland Ave., Sylvan Lake, was included in a recent list of area drivers who had their driver's license suspended for habitual negligence.

The Michigan Secretary of State's Office said today that Siegwart's license had been reinstated.

Just-Issued Dollar Bills Say 'In God We Trust'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Something new has been added to the dollar bills available at most banks today.

On the green side, just above the large word "one," is the motto "In God We Trust." The inscription has long been used on coins, but was added to the paper money under provisions of a 1955 law.

The new bills also carry the signature of Robert B. Anderson, who succeeded George M. Humphrey as secretary of the Treasury July 29.
