Legislature Near Approval of $1.1-Billion State Budget

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature is reported near agreement on a balanced general fund budget of about $1.1 billion for the new fiscal year, about $35 million more than the 1966-67 spending level but some $53 million less than Gov. George Romney asked this year.

The House Appropriations Committee estimates net state general fund revenue for the new year will be $1,106,909,937.

Related Story, Page B-10

Although fiscal 1967-68 is more than a week old, none of the bills authorizing state spending for the year has received legislative approval.

Agreement on a final package was thought unlikely until later this week. Senate sources said most members of the chamber's powerful Appropriations Committee would be away from Lansing until Thursday.

But it was understood that individual House - Senate conference committees had reached agreement on all but one of the 14 major appropriations bills, including a controversial measure pegging the general fund school aid increase at $17.9 million.

SUNDAY SESSION

Lawmakers worked until midnight Saturday trying unsuccessfully to wrap up the billion-dollar spending package, and even considered an unprecedented Sunday session.

A resolution permitting the Sunday meeting passed in the Senate. The House was debating it as midnight passed.

The Senate, learning the House had not passed the measure, adjourned, leaving the House little choice except to adjourn also.

Majority Senate Republicans had wanted to wind up the work over the weekend, expressing concern that pressure for higher state spending would increase if final agreement was delayed until this week.

STALL EXPECTED

Although the Legislature reconvened today, work on the appropriations bills was expected to be stalled by the absence of the Senate committee.

Sens. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, Garland Lane, D-Flint, and committee chairman Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, planned to rest at a Crawford County Lake until Thursday. Sen. Harold Hungerford, R-Lansing, reportedly was to enter a hospital.

Beadle, Lane and Zollar are the Senate's chief spokesmen on appropriation questions.

The House, over the objections of its strongest school-aid advocates, Saturday voted down a Senate proposal to take $11.6 million from restricted highway funds to help meet the $23.7 million State Police budget.

Educationists feared taking the $11.6 million from the general fund would leave just that much less for school aid increases.

Reward Main Hope in Trustee's Murder

West Bloomfield Township police still have little to go on in the investigation of the robbery-slaying of Edward Emmitt DeConick, township trustee killed July 3 in his home by four intruders.

Police said today hope rests with the reward offer which has now risen to over $6,000, of which $1,000 is from The Pontiac Press and $5,000 from the Detroit News.

DeConick was killed and his sister, Kathleen DeConick, 73, beaten and shot by the gang which made off with over $25,000 in cash, securities and jewelry from the farm home at 4847 W. Maple.

Miss DeConick is said to be "improving satisfactorily" at a Pontiac hospital, but is being kept under close police security as the only witness to the crime.

Township officials said today that several private citizens have made reward offers. These are to be tabulated tonight and a decision made on how to handle the offers, officials said.

SEVERAL LEADS

Township police, aided by State Police experts and FBI agents, have followed several leads, none producing suspects in the case.

They have a description of the intruders — three Negro men, one short, stocky, the other two taller and thin, and a woman, light-skinned. All are said to be in their 20s and neatly dressed.

They may have left the area in two cars, one apparently with a poor muffler, police said.

Reuther Says UAW Wants Profit Bonus

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther indicated today his United Auto Workers will demand a bonus based on a guaranteed annual income in new contracts with the automotive industry this year.

Reuther's disclosure came in a news conference just before the first of the 1967 bargaining sessions began, this one at the nation's largest auto maker, General Motors Corp.

Shortly before, Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president for personnel, hinted the corporation is agreeable to a wage increase, but added that "this appears to be a crucial economic year—for GM and for the nation."

Asked if he were going to talk about profit-sharing in this year's negotiations, Reuther told the news conference, "We're going to talk about 'equity sharing.'"

He then explained an attempt would be made to win a basic salary for workers, just like executives, and that "after the year is over and we know exactly what the size of the profit pie is, the worker shall be entitled to a second increment" in pay.

TOP PRIORITY

Reuther has made a guaranteed annual income a top priority in this year's negotiations and says a worker must know at the beginning of a year what his income will be for the next 12 months, any layoffs notwithstanding.

He reiterated today his frequent claim that "the economic facts demonstrate neither GM employes nor consumers have gotten their fair share of the profits from General Motors Corp."

The Detroit News reported, meanwhile, that a poll of UAW members showed they place the guaranteed annual income proposal a poor third in their preferences in this summer's contract talks. Wages ranked first, with retirement program improvements—earlier retirement emphasized—a distant second.

★ ★ ★

Seaton said earlier the auto industry's cost-of-living clause, which increased wages 18 cents hourly during the current three-year pacts, "must be given full recognition in negotiating a new contract."

WAGE ESCALATORS

He said government statistics show that only about three million of the nation's work force of 70 million have cost-of-living wage escalators.

GM workers were described by Seaton as being in the top third income group in the United States with an average wage, "including cost-of-living" allowances," of $4.68 per hour.

"Furthermore," he added, "their straight-time wages are 30 per cent above the average for all manufacturing employes throughout the country."

★ ★ ★

Seaton said, "Our employes have very substantial guarantees of income in cases of short work weeks or layoffs" under present contracts.

Besides a guaranteed annual income, Reuther is carrying to the bargaining table a demand for a substantial wage increase, but has not yet said what size income or what size increase he is demanding.

Avon Woman, Infant Girl Die in 2 Auto Collisions

An Avon Township woman and a 4-month-old Orion Township girl were killed in separate weekend accidents in the area.

Fatally injured yesterday in a collision at Wide Track and Orchard Lake Road was Mrs. Charles E. Lowe, 33, of 2843 Midvale.

She was a passenger in a vehicle driven by her husband which collided with a car driven by Sammie K. Grisso, 19, of 843 Melrose about 11:15 p.m., according to city police.

Officers said the Lowe vehicle, traveling east on Orchard Lake, overturned after the impact, pinning Mrs. Lowe under it.

Charles Lowe is in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital with injuries received in the mishap.

Neither Grisso nor the Lowe's daughter, Tracy, 4, were seriously injured, hospital officials said.

Linda Cowell, daugther of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cowell of 3565 Orion, was killed about 6:45 p.m. Saturday when the car her father was driving collided with another vehicle at Adams and Dutton, Avon Township.

State Police said the Cowell car was headed south on Adams when it collided with a car driven by Gordon Wardell, 34, of 7026 Hatchery, Waterford Township, who was turning left from the northbound lane.

Both Mrs. Cowell and Wardell were admitted at Pontiac General where her condition is listed as satisfactory and his as fair.

Cowell and two other Cowell children reportedly escaped serious injury.

Police said the accident is under investigation.

U.N. Will Send Observers to Suez

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council decided today to send military observers to the cease-fire line along the Suez Canal where Israeli and Egyptian troops have clashed during the past two weekends.

As secretary General U Thant prepared to seek Israeli and Egyptian acceptance of the U.N. observers, informed sources in Amman said King Hussein of Jordan would go to Cairo today to meet with four Arab government chiefs gathered there.

Hussein was expected to urge moderation toward the victorious Israelis, and there was prospect of a clash with President Houari Boumediene of Algeria and Noureddin Atassi of Syria, who have repeatedly demanded continuation of the war against Israel.

President Abdel Rahman Aref of Iraq also was expected to join the summit conference with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

State Tax-Limit Move Now Goes to House

LANSING (AP) — Backers of a move to limit Michigan's recently approved personal income tax to 5 per cent directed their attention to the House today following a second-round victory in the Senate.

Shortly before midnight Saturday, the Senate approved 27-7 a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment limiting any state imposed personal income tax to 5 per cent.

The same resolution was defeated 24-12, two votes short of the necessary two thirds, last May 18, the same day the Senate approved a state income tax, which, greatly modified, now awaits Gov. George Romney's signature.

* * *

If the resolution, sponsored by Sen. Milton Zaagman, R - Grand Rapids, is approved by the House it will be placed on the November, 1968, ballot for approval by the state's voters.

If the people approved, the personal income tax which stands at 2.6 per cent under the new income tax bill could be raised to 5 per cent and no higher.

"We have the governor's blessing on the 5 per cent limitation," Zaagman said.

* * *

He said he had showed the resolution to Romney and added that the governor said he felt there was a precedent for such a limitation in view of ceilings on the sales tax and local income taxes.

* * *

However, Zaagman said he believed passage in the House would be a "touch and go" situation.

DEMS OPPOSED

House Democrats, who have to provide at least 18 votes to pass the resolution, were expected to oppose it, as did several Senate Democrats.

* * *

House Democratic leader William Ryan, D-Detroit, advocates a graduated state income tax and feels a 5 per cent limit would not permit enough graduation.

A resolution to allow a graduated income tax, now forbidden by the constitution, has been approved by both houses and will appear on the 1968 ballot.

The House has not voted this year on Zaagman's resolution. However, in April, the chamber defeated 59-47 another measure containing both the 5 per cent limit and a provision legalizing graduated income levies.

CURB BOOSTS

Zaagman and Senate supporters of the resolution claim it is the only way to curb future boosts in the tax rate.

"The only way we can put some kind of restraint on spending is to say 'look fellows, this is it,'" Zaagman said. "The only way we're going to put some brakes on, is to put on a ceiling that they can't go beyond."

"We have a constitutional limit on the sales tax," argued Sen. James Fleming, R - Jackson, "why not on the income tax."

Opponents of the measure said a 5 per cent limit would tie the Legislature's hands in dealing with future fiscal problems.

SNEAK RESOLUTION

"You're attempting to sneak a resolution through that we in the taxation committee rejected," charged Senate Taxation Committee member John McCauley, D-Wyandotte. "We don't know what the needs of the state will be in five years."

Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, charged that the resolution backers were "attempting to tie our hands in dealing with the problems of the state."

'Pacification Program Lags'

Military Operations in Viet OK---McNamara

SOI RAP RIVER, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today after his second day touring the Vietnamese countryside that he found the multimillion-dollar pacification program "proceeding very slowly" but that large-scale military operations have been going very well for the past four months."

McNamara spent much of today getting briefed on the Mekong Delta region that sprawls south from Saigon and has long been the heartland of the Viet Cong movement.

* * *

He talked briefly to newsmen during a visit to the U.S. combined Army-Navy Mobile Riverine Force that operates in the northern waters of the delta.

"We must be realistic and recognize that the pacification effort is still proceeding very slowly," said the secretary.

"But I am encouraged by the improvement in the organization that has taken place in recent weeks and I hope to see more rapid progress."

He was referring to the recent placement of all civilian American agencies involved in the program under military control. Accompanying McNamara on his swing through the delta were senior men from both the military and civilian sides of the program.

* * *

McNamara said he had "noticed a tremendous change in both ground and air operations" since his last visit in October.

"The large unit operations have been going very well for the past four months," he said. "These large unit operations have relieved enemy main force pressure on the regional and popular forces which are the backbone of the antiguerrilla effort."

Malignancy Confirmed; Lurleen Goes to Surgery

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Cancer specialists have confirmed that a tumor which has stricken Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace is malignant.

They prepared for an exploratory operation today to determine the extent of the malignancy and, if possible, to remove the tumor.

* * *

The 40-year-old governor was scheduled to go into surgery at 8 a.m. CDT for an operation expected to last several hours.

Doctors said they hoped to be able to tell what the operation revealed when a medical bulletin is issued at 3 p.m.

MALIGNANCY CONFIRMED

The malignancy, first detected three weeks ago by doctors in Montgomery, Ala., was confirmed Sunday by specialists at the M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston.

It is Mrs. Wallace's second battle with cancer in 18 months. She underwent surgery in January 1966 for removal of a cancer of the uterus. When she returned to the hospital for a checkup last month, she was found to have cancer again.

* * *

Dr. A. Lee Clark, director and chief surgeon at Anderson Hospital, said in a bulletin Sunday that members of his staff "concur with the Alabama physicians that the governor has a malignant condition" again.

Clark said, "there is a tumor in the lower abdomen."

DIAGNOSTIC TESTS

He added, in response to questions, that "we presume" it is malignant because of the past medical history and the diagnostic tests.

If the surgical examination bears that out, Clark said, it "will be our goal" to remove the tumor at once.

* * *

The bulletin stated also that five days of diagnostic tests disclosed "some involvement" of the colon which "could be due to a tumor pressing on the lower bowel."

Go-Go Dancer Faces Exam

Charged With Plotting to Murder Husband

A topless go-go dancer accused of plotting with four others to kill her husband is in Oakland County Jail today awaiting preliminary examination on a charge of conspiracy to commit murder.

MRS. WRIGHT

Laurie Wright, 18, of Highland Park will face examination Friday.

Farmington Township Justice Byron D. Walters set bond at $50,000 at her arraignment Saturday.

Also in custody in the county jail are alleged coconspirators Daniel M. Duffy, 23; Duffy's wife, Patricia, 20; Patrick R. McNamara, 22; Nicholas F. Gueli, Jr. 41, all of the Detroit area.

* * *

The five were arrested Friday night after Mrs. Wright allegedly hired a State Police officer, posing as a professional gunman, to murder her husband, Leonard, 20.

'DOWN PAYMENT'

Police said Mrs. Wright, who works part-time as a topless dancer at a Detroit bar, was supposed to make a $2,000 down payment for the killing at a Friday night meeting with the undercover officer.

The agent, Detective John Aird, infiltrated the alleged plot when an unidentified tipster said the five wanted the dancer's husband killed, police said.

Aird said Mrs. Wright gave him a pistol at his meeting with her Friday night.

* * *

Police said financial gain was apparently not the motive behind the conspiracy, but that Mrs. Wright did it "because of a romance with one of the other plotters."

The Wrights have a 5-month-old child, now being cared for in a foster home.

First Crusade in Red Nation Elates Billy

ZAGREB, Yugoslavia (AP) — Billy Graham regards his first crusade to a Communist country as a success although only about 2,000 persons turned out for each of his three meetings in Yugoslavia.

"Whenever the Gospel is preached — to one person, or a thousand or a million — that is a success," said the American evangelist before leaving by train Sunday night for Munich and the United States.

"Just the fact that he was able to come, that he was here with us, was a success in itself," said Dr. Jozip Horak, a Baptist leader who was Graham's host.

Arriving Friday in Zagreb, the tall, tanned American preached Saturday night at a Lutheran church and twice on Sunday, in a morning downpour and at dusk, on the soccer field of a Roman Catholic seminary.

Bandits Get About $900 in 3 Weekend Robberies

Armed bandits made off with some $900 in three separate weekend robberies reported to Pontiac police.

A 66-year-old man told officers a man and woman, both with pistols, robbed him of some $800 about 11 a.m. yesterday.

Leslie Middleton of 506 Franklin Road told investigators he took the woman to an Orchard Lake address, where she pulled a gun and took $5, then left.

He said the woman returned with a man who wrestled him to the floor and took his wallet.

* * *

The pair fled in a car, according to Middleton.

2 HITCHHIKERS

A Waterford Township youth told police he was robbed by two hitchhikers he drove into the city from Keego Harbor late Saturday.

Norman G. George, 21, of 1200 Oregon said the pair directed him to the Clinton-Herndon area where they took his wallet containing $90, and his car keys.

He said they fled on foot to a car, then drove off.

* * *

Three men and a woman reportedly robbed and beat a teen-aged hitchhiker about midnight Saturday after driving him a few blocks from where they picked him up.

PULLED KNIFE

Joseph Wagner, 17, of 6494 Manson, Waterford Township, told officers the four drove him to the Montcalm-Lakeside area where one pulled a knife.

He said they beat him, then took his class ring, valued at $27.

Wagner was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Unit to Decide on City Funding

The Citizens Finance Study Committee is expected to arrive at a decision tonight on the best method of raising new tax money for Pontiac's municipal government.

* * *

The 43-member committee met two weeks ago but postponed making any decisions because of the uncertainty of what kind of an income tax package the State Legislature would come up with.

* * *

Since that time, City Manager Joseph A. Warren has determined that the city would gain about $197,000 from the recently passed state income tax bill.

* * *

This is nowhere near enough to meet the needs of municipal government for the next fiscal year, Warren said. Officials said the city will need nearly $1.6 million more in 1968 to operate Pontiac's general budget.

Birmingham Area News

Ambulance Change Is Eyed

BIRMINGHAM — A recommendation to change ambulance services for the city will be considered by the City Commission at tonight's meeting at 8 at city hall.

A low bid of $300 per month for service was offered by the Oakland Directors Service Co., of Royal Oak.

A bid of $1,000 per month for service was offered by Birmingham Ambulance Service which carried on the operation until its contract expired July 1.

The Oakland Directors firm pledges to have at least two ambulances garaged within one mile of the city limits (Chester, one block south of 13½ Mile, Royal Oak).

* * *

The City administration recommends changing services due to lower costs. The Royal Oak firm is "highly recommended by police in Lathrup Village and Southfield," according to the administration report.

WILL ALSO STUDY

The commission will also study paving, curbs and gutters for Lawndale, Hunter to Oakland.

Commissioners will decide if hearings are to be held and an assessment roll prepared.

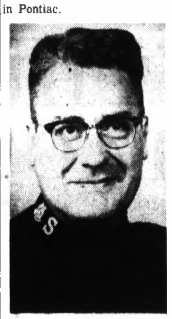
A letter of protest to the paving project has been submitted on behalf of residents of the area.

* * *

The letter complains the paving would increase the traffic hazard. It states, "The paving will be a detriment rather than a benefit to the neighborhood."

Transfer Announced by Salvation Army

The Salvation Army Chicago office announced today that Brig. Ernest Alder has been named manager of the Men's Social Service Center operated by the Salvation Army in Flint. Alder is currently manager of the Men's Social Service Center in Pontiac.



BRIG. ERNEST ALDER

The brigadier's successor has not yet been named.

In his new position, Alder will also direct the army's industrial operations in the cities of Midland, Owosso, Bay City, Saginaw and Port Huron.

Brig. Alder and his wife will be installed in Flint Aug. 30. The Alders served in the corps branch of the army's Flint operation 25 years ago.

* * *

They came to Pontiac 10 years ago to establish a local men's center. Since its founding in 1957 it has developed into one of the foremost army units in the Midwest, according to a Salvation Army spokesman.

15 TRUCKS

A four-truck operation at its inception, the Pontiac Center now operates a fleet of 15 trucks covering all of Oakland County.

* * *

The center is a rehabilitation headquarters for men who help gather salvaged goods which are then reconditioned and sold at a resale shop.

Alder's parents directed the Salvation Army activities in Pontiac in 1914-15 and 1925-28.

8 Republicans Offer Viet Plan

Gradual Bombing Halt Urged to Slow War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight Republican congressmen proposed today a unilateral diplomatic initiative by the United States for a step-by-step deescalation of the Vietnam war.

The group said the United States should halt all bombing in North Vietnam north of the 21st Parallel for 60 days. This area includes Hanoi but not the port city of Haiphong.

If North Vietnam responded with a deescalation mvoe of its own within 60 days, the United States would then halt bombing north of the 20th Parallel for a 60-day period—and so forth through five steps.

* * *

"Assuming that both sides would respond in turn in this deescalatory process, both the U.S. bombing of the North and the North Vietnamese infiltration into the South could come to an end," the Republican congressmen said.

ALTERNATIVE

Otherwise, they added, the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would continue.

The proposal was outlined in a statement prepared for a news conference.

Rep. F. Bradford Morse of Massachusetts, spokesman for the group, said if this plan of small steps were successful, "a spirit of confidence might emerge" between the United States and Hanoi which could lead to peace negotiations, a similar staged deescalation in South Vietnam or both.

Romney OKs Six-County Transit Unit

LANSING (AP) — A bill establishing a metropolitan transportation authority in six southeastern Lower Michigan counties was one of two measures signed into law today by Gov. George Romney.

The transportation bill, which takes immediate effect, also allows creation of similar transportation authorities in other parts of the state by a county or contiguous counties.

* * *

The measure was praised by Romney as "a major step forward toward solving Michigan's urban transportation problems."

"The problem of providing fast, efficient and safe transit for our metropolitan areas has rapidly become a regional problem, cutting across local boundaries," he said.

POWERS

The authorities created under the act will have power to plan, acquire, construct and operate public transportation facilities and to issue revenue bonds for such purposes.

* * *

The Southeastern Michigan Authority, involving Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne counties is limited in its first 18 months to acquiring and coordinating existing bus systems and to coordinating such systems with existing rail commuter facilities.

Detroit Area Growth Is Seen

'5.2 Million Metro Population by 1975'

DETROIT (AP) — 1975, there will be an estimated 5.2 million people living in Metropolitan Detroit.

Also by that time, Kalamazoo may have supplanted Saginaw as Michigan's fifth largest metropolitan area.

Grand Rapids, Flint, and Lansing will hold their positions as second, third and fourth, respectively.

These are predictions made public by the National Planning Association from a study of population trends.

* * *

In comparison with the forecast 5.2 million, the Metropolitan Detroit area had 3.7 million people in 1960, according to the association's figures.

* * *

The study says there will be a leveling off in population growth in 1960-75 compared with the 1950-60 boom.

The study does not specifically describe any of Michigan's metropolitan areas but these are assumed to include suburbs and nearby smaller cities.

The Oakland County Planning Commission has not yet received a copy of the study, according to Peter P. Beltemachi, planning associate.

* * *

By the study's projections, Kalmazoo will grow to 250,000 in 1975 compared with 170,000 in 1960. Saginaw will expand to 248,000 from its 191,000 of 1960.

Grand Rapids will grow to 585,000 in 1975, Flint to 552,000 Lansing to 444,000, Ann Arbor to 237,000 Bay City to 133,000 and Muskegon to 195,000, according to the calculations.

Legislature Nears Okay of $1.1-Billion Budget

The House has approved a 5 per cent boost in the basic school aid formula, now $280.50 per student, which Education Committee Chairman Clifford Smart, R - Walled Lake, estimates would take $14.4 million from the general fund and about $24 million more from special funds.

The Senate has not approved any school aid increase, but Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, House Democratic leader and Appropriations Committee member, said tentative agreement had been reached to pay public school districts $315.5 million this year. The 1966-67 aid figure was $297.6 million.

* *

Ryan said conference committees had reached agreement on all but the social services welfare appropriation bill.

The House-passed version of the measure would appropriate $174 million. The Senate approved only $135.4 million. Ryan said negotiations on the bill were in the area of $167 million.

Conferees reportedly had reached agreement, subject to approval by both houses, on these other major spending items:

General government, $81.46 million.

* * *

Conservation - agriculture — $19.16 million.

Higher education, $246 million.

* * *

Public health, $18 million.

Mental health, $131.2 million.

Corrections, $22.92 million.

Capital outlay and planning, $63.6 million.

Mom's Mail Still Goes to Men at War

By the Associated Press

DETROIT — The wear and tear of age are taking their toll, but Mom DeMarranza's mail has gone to war again.

It goes to recreation sites, staging areas, warships, helicopters, medical wards and hospital tents as it has done for 25 years, three wars, and battlefields from Tarawa to Inchon to Danang.

* * *

In all, the elderly Detroit woman estimates she has written to more than 35,000 GIs, most of them Marines.

It all started with a letter to her son, then 17, somewhere in the Pacific not long after Pearl Harbor.

Mostly her letters are the same, written in a sprawling hand on fine bonded paper. She talks of home.

Some men answer. Most do not. But, over the years, Mom has acquired her mementoes — her living room walls are crowded with pictures, citations, letters. Some are signed by generals.

* * *

Among the letters are some from men aboard the hospital ship USS Sanctuary off the coast of Vietnam.

* * *

The men in the Asian conflict, getting mail from Mom DeMarranza for more than a year, asked the military newspaper, Stars and Stripes, to write a story about her.

Then, at Mom's house one day, the telephone rang.

"This is Lem Shepherd," the voice said.

* * *

"Listen, kid," Mom answered, "if you're Lem Shepherd, I'm Jack Benny."

Thirty minutes later a military limousine pulled up in front of her house and Lt. Gen. Lemuel Shepherd, USMC, went to her door with three stars glittering on each of his shoulders.

* * *

"We got along fine," Mom said later.

At 80, she is going blind. The income has dwindled over the years, and now she and her husband scrimp to save money for stamps and the bonded stationary—manila paper won't do, she says.

While her pace has slowed, she continues her work, three letters a day to the men at war.

4 Adrift on Lake Michigan Rescued by Yachtsman

CHICAGO (AP) — Yachtsman Paul Brown of Grand Rapids, Mich., and his sloop Mitena rescued four Chicago men from a dinghy on Lake Michigan Sunday after the four abandoned their burning cabin cruiser.

Brown, 35, and the Mitena, a veteran of Great Lakes yacht races, came upon the four stranded men about 25 miles northeast of Chicago.

* * *

The men had spent 18 chilly hours adrift in the dinghy.

Restaurateur Harold Seltzer, 50, his son, Steven, 20, and two others had been the subjects of an extensive search by numerous Coast Guard and private vessels.

The other passengers on the craft were Bert L. Miner, 50, a lawyer, and Abe Paulson, 41, a photographer.

Seltzer is the owner of the restaurant, "That Steak Joynt," in Chicago's Old Town.

Seltzer's boat, "Miss Steak Joynt," left South Haven, Mich., Saturday afternoon bound for Chicago. Officials at South Haven said radio contact with the 39-foot cruiser was last made at 3:30 p.m. Saturday. That call reported engine trouble.

Seltzer said the crafts radio then went dead and fire was discovered in the boat's forward bilge compartment.

As the four men crowded into the two-man dinghy, the $40,000 pleasure craft "went up like a Roman candle," Seltzer said.

He said that in their haste, the four neglected to take flares or life jackets into the dinghy.

Clad only in shirts and swimming trunks, the men spent the night drift on the frigid lake.

"We were very lucky that the water was calm, but it was so cold during the night we were unable to sleep," Seltzer said.

He reported sighting at least two planes overhead and said that they were once within swimming distance of a large freighter. However, the crews of the vessels apparently did not notice the small boat.

The beleagured party was taken aboard the Mitena and brought to the Monroe street basin of the Chicago Yacht Club shortly after 4 p.m.

Keego Harbor Reevaluation to Start

A Prowler? It Could Be an Appraiser

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Property values, and subsequently taxes, are due to change for Keego Harbor residents. The city has ordered the first total reappraisal of property in the community's history. This is the first of two articles.)

KEEGO HARBOR — Residents here are cautioned against the need for alarm if they discover someone prowling around their house during the next two months, especially if it's broad daylight.

Chances are he's not a second-story man working afternoons, although he may still be "sizing up" your place. The "suspicious-looking character" is just one of a team of professional appraisers contracted recently by the city to reappraise every piece of property in the city.

Such a job is considered long overdue by city officials

"Although the city is 10 years old, it has never had a complete reappraisal," City Manager Gary L. Dickson points out.

* * *

The City Council first recognized the need two years ago, but the city lacked sufficient funds until now, Dickson explained.

"The purpose of a citywide reappraisal," said W. M. Meier, a former Southfield city assessor whose company is doing the job "is to bring assessments, up to date.

"It is designed to proportion the tax-load so that everyone will be paying his fair share."

At present, city officials are certain that some residents are paying too much taxes while others are paying too little.

* * *

But they don't know how much or how little. The method of determining property values is considerably more accurate than just taking a quick stroll around the yard and lot.

COMPLETE INSPECTION

Besides interviewing the occupant to try and learn the age and original cost of the house, the appraiser will conduct a complete inspection both inside and out.

A man like Meier, with his 20 years of experience in real estate business and assessing, can judge approximate property values at a glance.

But it isn't all left up to individual's judgement.

* * *

To provide a more uniform system of assessing, the Michigan State Tax Commission established tables of standards which guide the appraiser in making his determination.

To understand what is involved in making an appraisal of property, let's follow a case provided by Meier of a typical home in Keego Harbor.

In his first inspection, the appraiser notes the type of neighborhood where the house is located and whether it fits in.

He will then check for certain basic improvements. In this case, the house has sewer, gas and water but is located on an undeveloped road.

* * *

This last fact is taken into account when the appraiser places the house into a specific class to help determine its replacement cost.

Houses are divided into four general categories ranging from class A, the highest quality home, to class D, which is considered substandard because of age or the lack of building improvements.

The size of the lot is then measured. In this case, the lot has a 40-foot frontage and is 150 feet deep.

The frontage is the proper size for a class D house but the lot depth is about 50 feet greater than the average D lot.

* * *

Tax commission tables show that the extra depth will tend to increase the value of the lot approximately 15 per cent.

COMPUTING VALUE

In order to compute the value of the land, the actual frontage is multiplied by that 15 per cent which gives you an equivalent frontage of 46 feet.

This arithmetic is performed because base land values are found by multiplying the rate per front-foot by the equivalent front-footage.

The appraiser now determines from market studies and real estate values, that the rate is $24 per front-foot in this neighborhood.

A base value of $1,104 is found by multipling 46 front feet by $24.

However, this is not the total. Because of a deficiency in the shape of the lot (a corner is cut off) the presence of a low spot, the appraiser judges that the value of the land is decreased by approximately 5 per cent.

The total land evaluation then becomes $1,048.

The next part of the appraisal is to determine the cash value of the house itself. The figure sought here is the replacement cost, or what the cost would be to build an identical structure today.

Stony Creek Picnic Area Opens

New Picnic Site at Stony Creek

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority opened for public use today the new West Branch Picnic Area at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park in Washington Township.

Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the HCMA, said development of the 70-acre picnic area has been financed by a $198,050 federal grant from the Land and Water Conservation Fund, administered by the Michigan Department of Conservation and the U.S. Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

The HCMA, he said, matched the federal grant on a 50-50 basis to meet the project's total cost of $396,100.

Enlargement of the 34-acre Winter Cove Picnic Site was also financed by the grant.

11 From the Area Participating in Nature Course

Eleven area teachers and residents are participating in the ninth annual Nature Intrepretation Workshop Course at the Nature Center at Kensington Metropolitan Park this week.

The course is sponsored by the Department of Biology and Division of Field Services of Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, and the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Participants are taught how to conduct field trips along a nature trail, how to plan a nature trail and how exhibits at the Nature Center are used to increase information about the plant on animal life of the area.

Area participants are Mrs. Mary Ann Burt, a teacher at Baker Elementary School, Milford; Mrs. Virginia W. Howerth of Schoolcraft School, Waterford Township; William S. Corbin, Duck Lake Elementary School, Highland Township; Max W. Wendell, Highland Junior High School, Highland Township.

* * *

Others are Mrs. Patricia A. Cubbage, Duck Lake Elementary School, Mrs. Marie Z. Irle, Northwest Elementary School, Milford; Mrs. Mary L. Rogers, Huron Valley School District; Mrs. Dorothy M. Troesch, Baker Elementary School, Milford; Ruth L. Sinclair, Highmeadow and Eagle Schools, Farmington; and Mrs. Catherine O'Neil, substitute teacher in South Lyon Community Schools.

Board Will Hear Transfer Appeal

The group of parents seeking to have their property transferred from the Huron Valley School District to the Walled Lake Consolidated School District will present their reasons to the Walled Lake Board of Education tonight.

Parents in the southeast corner of the Huron Valley school district want to become part of the Walled Lake district because, they say, they live closer to the Walled Lake schools.

In all, 12 students would be involved, three at Muir Elementary, three at Milford Elementary, five at Baker Elementary and one at Johnson Elementary.

Also involved are three parcels of Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority land and five parcels of the Proud Lake Recreational area, which are valuable assets to the Huron Valley School District.

* * *

Both districts have gone on record as opposing the transfer.

OBJECTIONS

Huron Valley claims it would lose the valuable state-owned land, and Walled Lake said it does not want to be part of a piecemeal transfer.

Another concern expressed by the Huron Valley board was the fragmentation of the school district and the possibility of opening up unlimited requests for such fragmentation by setting a precedent.

In May, the board voted 5-2 to oppose the transfer.

* * *

The Oakland County Intermediate School District last month instructed both boards of education to meet with the parents to attempt to reach an agreeable settlement.

TO HONOR TEACHERS

In other business, the board will honor five retiring elementary teachers: Walled Lake Elementary School Principal Floyd Chowen, Mrs. Grace Churchill of Union Lake, Mrs. Esther Nelson of Glengary Elementary and Mrs. Charlotte Hutton and Mrs. Dora Wood, both of Decker Elementary.

* * *

The board is also expected to set a date on an election for the renewal of 7 mills of operating funds which expire this year.

New Exec at Holden

George C. Weaver, a Cleveland resident, was named this week as a new Detroit district sales manager for the A. F. Holden Co. of Milford. Weaver will coordinate sales of the firm's metallurgical products and industrial heating systems.

Wolverine Lake to Hear Oak Island Bridge Plan

WOLVERINE LAKE — A letter from Elten Products, Inc., of Port Huron will be presented to the Village Council tonight concerning replacement of the Oak Island bridge.

Village Administrator Clifford Cottrell said no action will be taken on the matter tonight as a special meeting has been set for next Monday with island property owners to determine what type of bridge should be installed.

"The bridge needs a tremendous amount of work," said Cottrell, "and we feel it is probably a waste of money to repair it."

He said the last repair job, nine years ago, cost $8,000 and had a life expectancy of 10 years.

* * *

Based on engineering studies, he said, the Port Huron company recommended two tubes with seven-foot vertical and 14-foot horizontal clearances at a cost of $20,000. Materials would be about $10,000, Cottrell said.

MORE PRACTICAL

He said studies show that the two tubes would be more practical than a bridge because costs of a bridge have been estimated at $50,000 to $75,000.

The tubes would allow a 20-foot roadway and a five-foot walk and would allow enough room underneath for good-size boats.

The present one-lane wooden bridge was installed in 1927 and is nearing the danger point, according to Cottrell. He said it is the only access to the island which contains 15 to 20 homes and is limited as to the amount of traffic it will bear.

* * *

The method of payment will be one of the items discussed at next Monday's meeting.

County 4-H Youth Fair Is Scheduled Aug. 1-5

The 1967 Oakland County 4-H Youth Fair will open to the public Aug. 1 and run through Aug. 5.

Saturday is the deadline for fair entries and none will be accepted after that time as exhibit space must be provided. All youth in the county may exhibit if they are between the ages of 10 and 18.

* * *

Livestock entered must be owned and shown by the exhibitor and health papers will be required for animals as they are unloaded. All animals must be fed and watered daily by the exhibitor.

Fair entries must be in place by 6 p.m. August 1, and remain until 6 a.m. Aug. 6.

Weekend Road Mishaps Claim 15 Lives in State; Four Drownings Reported

By The Associated Press

The death of two elderly Flint-area women in a two-car collision raised the weekend death toll on Michigan highways to at least 15.

State police said Ethel M. Coon, 63, of Flint and Sarah Frances Sheldon, 70, of nearby Davison were killed yesterday at the intersection of U.S. 27 and M57 in Gratiot County, 15 miles south of Alma.

The women were headed towards Flint on M57 when they pulled out of the median on U.S. 27 and were struck by a car, police said. It was not known which victim was driving.

At least four persons drowned over the weekend.

* * *

The Associated Press fatality count started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight yesterday.

FATALITIES LISTED

Other victims were:

Susan C. Frinzel, 23, of Detroit, yesterday in a two-car crash in Dearborn Heights.

Joseph E. Gauna, 31, of Kalamazoo, when his car rammed the Ann Arbor Railroad bridge on U.S. 23 in Washtenaw County Saturday night.

Evelyn Muehlhausen, 47, and Juanita Hoggren, 39, both of Muskegon, when a car rammed a freight train at a crossing in Branch Township in Mason County Saturday night.

* * *

Darlinda Cowell, 4 months, of Lake Orion, when the car in which she was riding collided with another car on Adams Road in Avon Township Saturday night.

KENTUCKY YOUTH

John A. Krogdahl, 16, of Castleton, Ky., when the car in which he was riding collided with another car at an intersection in Marquette County Saturday.

Mary Ellen Hearald, 18, of Matherton, when the car in which she was riding ran off the road and struck a utility pole in Ionia County Saturday night.

Clarence Hawkins, 52, of Shepherd, Saturday in a two-car collision at a Gratiot County crossroads. Three other persons were injured in the accident.

David Parington, 31, of Weston, Ont., when his car skidded onto railroad tracks Saturday at a crossing near Erie, south of Monroe, and was struck by a Detroit-Toledo Shoreline freight train.

STRUCK BY CAR

Kelly Jean Ducan, 3, of St. Clair Shores, when struck by a car on a St. Clair Shores street Friday night.

Robert Winston Trosper, 21, of Fennville, whose car ran off the road near his home and struck a telephone pole Friday night.

Marylin Jean Van Rhee, 19, of Hudsonville, whose car ran off an Ottawa County road and went down an embankment Friday night.

Robert Picky Mitchell, 20, of Sturgis was killed when his motorcycle collided with a truck on M66 in St. Joseph County Saturday.

Drowning victims:

Isaiah Strons, 24, of Kalmazoo, in Goguac Lake just south of Battle Creek while bathing yesterday.

Robert William DeLong, 40, of Three Rivers, when his boat, which State Police said was too small for the motor it was carrying, capsized in the St. Joseph River yesterday.

Betty Ann Pisaure, 8, of Madison Heights, Saturday in an abandoned quarry near Grindstone City. Huron County sheriff's deputies say she was fishing from the bank when she apparently slipped and fell in. Deputies recovered the body from 20 feet of water.

David J. Craycraft, 15, of Newberry drowned Saturday night in North Manistique Lake, 15 miles southwest of Newberry, about 30 yards from shore at Luce County Park. He and his 20-year-old sister, Sharon, had been swimming to a raft.

AREA NEWS

Holly District Will Study Alternative

HOLLY — The board of education will study an emergency plan tonight to be put into effect if the July 25 millage request is rejected by voters.

The board meets at 8 p.m. at the district office adjacent to the high school, 805 E. Sherman.

The district sought 10 mills, three of it representing a tax increase, last month, but the issue was defeated.

The 10 mills represents about one-fifth of the total school money. Proposed cutbacks would involve staff cuts and reduction of special services in the district, according to officials.

Also at tonight's meeting, election of school board officers will be held.

Academy Officials Laud Fire Fighters

HOLLY TOWNSHIP — Officials at Adelphian Academy have credited the township fire department with saving their institution from a large property loss in a fire last week.

State Police and township fire investigators still suspect arson in the Wednesday morning blaze.

Four trucks loaded with redwood were destroyed where they were parked adjacent to the academy mill. Damage was estimated at $15,000, most of it recoverable on shipping insurance, according to an academy spokesman.

Damage at the school was limited to charring of a wall and door at the mill.

The institution at 820 Academy Road is a coeducational Seventh-Day Adventist secondary school. The redwood shipment was to be used in various woodworking class projects.

Exec Expects Rezoning Denial

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — John Bernard, director of market research for the Borman Food Co., was quite frank in discussing his company's chances of winning a requested rezoning on a 100-foot parcel of land at Maple and Orchard Lake roads.

* * *

"The vote will definitely be no," he answered, predicting what course the Township Board will likely take when it considers the question at its next regular meeting, July 19.

Bernard expects that the board will follow the recommendation made by both the township's planning commission and the Oakland County Coordinating Committee.

Both bodies have recommended that the petition be denied to rezone the parcel from existing residential to a commercial classification.

* * *

Borman's had hoped to add the parcel, which is just a little over 1½ acres in size, to the 10 acres it already owns for a shopping center at the southeast corner of the intersection.

Original plans, submitted two years ago, called for a group of specialty shops plus a supermarket, bank and restaurant.

New plans then replaced the specialty shops with a large department store with the 100-foot strip intended for a garden center, service drive and additional parking. Another portion was planned for a professional office building.

Many residents objected to this plan, claiming that the removal of the buffer zone would leave the commercial establishments backing up directly to their homes.

Anticipating the board's denial vote, Borman is now engaged in revising its plans a third time.

The plans are expected to be submitted to the planning commission at its first meeting next month, Bernard said.

Apparently, the company will again request a rezoning of the 100-foot strip while reconsidering its use of the property.

"Our new plans will be based on the wishes of the residents and the demends of the township officials," Bernard stated.

Stating the reason for its recommendation, the planning commission last April expressed a desire to have the 100-foot strip remain as a buffer zone.

PUBLIC'S OBJECTIONS

At the public hearing, residents registered their objections to a discount-type department store which, it was rumored, would be constructed.

Borman Food Co. owns Yankee Department Stores, Food Fair, Farmer Jack super markets and Arnold Drugs.

Bernard indicated that new plans call for a neighborhood shopping center. This will probably resemble their original plan of small specialty shops.

* * *

In any event, Bernard insisted that his company is eager "to build the kind of shopping center that West Bloomfield wants."

Junior Editors Quiz on PAUL BUNYAN

QUESTION: Was there a real Paul Bunyan?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Americans have always liked humor and exaggeration. These qualities, along with pride in what they were doing, led American outdoor working people, during the 1800s, to make heroes out of outstanding characters in their own occupations and invent impossible yarns about them.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps there once was a real Paul Bunyan. But if so, he could have had little resemblance to the mythical Paul Bunyan of the tall stories, who was so strong that he logged off all the forests of the Dakotas single-handed.

This made him so hungry he ate enough each day to feed an average-sized city. Paul swung his axes so fast they got white hot. He had a special gang to take the hot axes down to the river to cool them.

This made the river boil. But Paul didn't mind. His cook could go out with a skillet and scoop up fish already cooked.

★ ★ ★

Paul had a huge blue ox called Babe. The 10,000 lakes of Minnesota are Babe's footprints which have filled up, according to the legend. Near Lake Bemidji are huge statues of Paul and Babe (main picture).

Chute Death Is NY Rerun

STORMVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — It was almost the same story: the same place, the same pilot, and a parachute jumper making a first try at the sport.

Again there was death. This time it was William Patterson, 21, who died when his chute failed to open Sunday—four weeks to the day after Diedre H. Symington, niece of Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., was killed on her first jump.

★ ★ ★

David Cheney, 33, piloted Patterson's plane as he had Miss Symington's.

Instructor Nathaniel Sweet said the man fell from an altitude of 2,800 feet when his main chute failed to open. "He did not deploy his reserve," Sweet said.

★ ★ ★

Patterson, a farm employe near Poughkeepsie, N.Y., had received two days of training and Miss Symington three hours before their fatal falls.

Chicago Scout Dies in Cave-In of Disposal Pit

MUSKEGON (UPI) — A Chicago Boy Scout, digging a 12-foot grease pit in soft wet sand, suffocated when the walls of the pit caved in and buried him Saturday at the Owassippi Scout Reservation near here.

★ ★ ★

Jeffrey Rich, 13, was digging the six-foot-wide pit to dispose of garbage accumulated by Troop 607 from Bethany Union Church in the Beverly Hills Section of Chicago. The reservation is operated by the Chicago Boy Scout Council.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said the boys, overzealous because of the easy digging, went deeper than is normal for such a pit.

★ ★ ★

The walls caved in, trapping Rich and two others. John Piper, 12, and Kenneth Westrum, 12. Other Scouts in the pit managed to escape.

Alleged Soviet Strategy in Mideast Backfired

'LBJ Knew Fake Reports Started Crisis'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House refuses to comment on a report President Johnson was aware of how the Soviet Union allegedly ignited the Israeli-Arab war with faked intelligence reports that backfired.

★ ★ ★

The magazine U.S. News & World Report said Sunday in a copyright article:

"The Soviet government, to further its purposes, faked intelligence reports—supplying these reports to the governments of Egypt and Syria—that Israel was massing troops to attack Syria.

"The Soviet purpose, these sources say, was political and somewhat limited. Russia hoped to create a crisis atmosphere that would unite the Arab nations, cause them to stop their squabbling and work together more closely.

GOAL WAS NOT WAR

"The goal was not war against Israel by the Arabs."

The magazine said the move backfired when Egypt ordered a blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba and, with Syria, "either believed the faked intelligence reports—or wanted to believe them.

★ ★ ★

"This whole sequence of events was said to have been known to President Johnson in Washington as it developed. Knowing what had happened, those on the inside say, President Johnson was able to play it cautiously, confident that developments would not bring Russia into full-scale Mideastern war on the side of the Arabs."

The White House "no comment" came after inquiries by reporters covering Johnson while he was in Texas.

'I Hear They're Still Arguing About Who Fired The First Shot!'

It Seems to Me . . .

Increase in Property Taxes Would Supply Needed Money

The State tax matter is settled. We're going to get an income tax.

This makes the second.

Washington has one now.

Hence, if the City of Pontiac attempts to compound the picture by adding a third, people will have the right to arise in understandable wrath.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac needs more money. That's certain.

Otherwise, our schools and important municipal services will suffer badly. No community can afford to take big backward steps by failing to face up to actual realities. In all communities the civic demands for more money are pressing. Probably 99 per cent of the taxpayers will concede that readily.

★ ★ ★

That final 1 per cent simply favors closing up and doing nothing for anybody. America was never built by those people. Progress requires vision, understanding and a willingness to face the facts squarely.

★ ★ ★

I'm told Pontiac has one of the lowest property taxes in Michigan —or points further. It has never kept pace with the growth of the City and civic requirements. Two decades ago we were hamstrung by a small group of determined people who fought every attempt to keep up with the world and this area in particular by real estate taxation.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac PRESS would be very happy if all taxes could be abolished forever. But that can't happen. Therefore, it seems to resolve into a question of which path we follow.

★ ★ ★

Do we want a third income tax?

Isn't an increase in the property tax better?

The Press feels it is.

General Motors and the retail business areas absorb the bulk of this tax. The balance falls upon all individual property owners. That's customary since the days of the Pilgrims.

It built America.

★ ★ ★

Granting that no one wants any tax increases anywhere, The PRESS thinks that the local situation points to a property tax increase, rather than a third income tax.

Creeping Pestilence . . .

Once again I perform an annual task which usually brings a few blasts and some earnest jeers.

But duty calls.

★ ★ ★

We are beginning the season when the "creeping pestilence" becomes the scourge of the road and a menace on the highway. I refer to that fine, Christian old Grandpa who gets out the family jalopy and heads for the busier highways on a Sabbath and carefully sets his speed at an exasperating 32 miles an hour.

★ ★ ★

"Safest driver on the road," says he, patting himself on the back, chest and anywhere he can reach.

But he isn't.

He's really dangerous.

If the fine, old codger confined himself to the side roads where there's little traffic, he would deserve his own encomiums. But he heads for an overcrowded route which has two or three lanes at best and where the top limit is 55 or 60 miles per hour. "Our hero" avoids the throughways where he could be jugged for his 32 m.p.h.

★ ★ ★

Hence, he causes 308 vehicles to jump him before he returns home. Each of these endangers the man who's encircling him, the oncoming driver and old Gramps himself. Always his poky gait builds up an open stretch of road ahead that ranges from 100 yards to a quarter of a mile.

★ ★ ★

"The creeping pestilence" is always with us. He's a necessary part of life, like a flat tiré or an empty gas tank. But please, sir, can't Grandpa take Grandma and the Joneses on some other day of the week and leave Sunday for those who "are going somewhere," and have something to do.

Aw, please, sir.
Think it over.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Word's quietly going around that the boss Democrats back home wish Senator DODD would forget his determination to run again . . . . . Expo 67 continues to amaze everyone with the big attendance. Overheard: "I know that Israeli army is small but I won't believe it will appear Sunday night on the ED SULLIVAN show."

David Lawrence Says:

LBJ in a Fix on Tax Surcharge

WASHINGTON, — How does a president make up his mind what to do when he is up for reelection the very next year and must try to assure favorable conditions in business and employment?

Certainly, on its face, to be advocating a 6 or 8 per cent LAWRENCE surcharge on income taxes looks like an unpopular thing to do, for nobody likes higher taxes.

But Mr. Johnson is finding himself in an age-old dilemma — that while an adminlstration may be hurt politically if taxes are raised, it may be hurt much worse if they aren't.

Confronted with the possibility of a $29-billion deficit when the current fiscal year ends June 30, 1968, the treasury has to collect more revenues.

* * *

If no increase in taxes is ordered, then the prospect is for another wave of inflation. For as government deficits rise, the purchasing power of the dollar tends to go down, and wage rates are forced upwards along with prices.

EXPLANATION

With the Vietnam war costing a bigger sum of money, the administration has a plausible explanation for a tax increase.

The experts who are trying to help the President figure out the best arguments for higher taxes are likely to come to the conclusion that it is safer to impose a relatively small tax rise — such as is involved in the surcharge plan — than it is to let things drift with higher and higher deficits.

The theorists nevertheless have a hard time predicting the future. They observe the moderate sort of recession which some businesses have been encountering in the first six months of this year.

SPENDING INCREASE

Indications are that total spending will show an increase from $732.3 billion in the second period of 1966 to $773 billion in the corresponding period of this year — a gain of $40.7 billion, or 5.6 per cent.

Economists are already estimating that, by the second quarter of 1968, total spending will have gone up to $37.6 billion—a gain of $64.6 billion, or 8.4 per cent, over the same period of 1967.

The impact of such vast sums on the private sector of the economy is hard to measure, but history tells us that, during two world wars, government spending caused an expansion of the economy which had to be restrained by excess-profit taxes and big income-tax rates.

Bob Considine Says:

New Baby Means Booty for MDs, Hospitals, etc.

NEW YORK—Jeffrey Blyth, chief New York correspondent of the London Daily Mail, has discovered the high cost of exploding the population in this town.

CONSIDINE

"The picture of our baby, taken a few hours after he was born, cost seven and six pence," Jeff cabled his paper. "Although it looks something like the 'wanted' posters the FBI puts up in American post offices.

"It was, I have discovered the cheapest thing about having a baby, U.S.A.-style.

"To start with there was $500 (178 pounds) to the obstretician. The one we chose, I discovered, is this year's president of a local chapter of the American Medical Association. 'You're lucky,' friends told us. 'With that title he could have charged you a thousand dollars.'

* * *

"Because my wife is very 'progressive,' she wanted to have the baby the 'natural' way.

"That cost the equivalent of sixteen guineas for seven lessons plus another guinea (about $3) for a gramophone record so she could continue her practicing at home.

STAND-IN DOCTOR

"Came the big night and can you guess? After all that money we had paid the doctor, when we called him up he was 'out of town at an emergency medical conference,' his answering service explained.

"At 10 minutes past one o'clock that morning my wife met for the first time the doctor, our regular doctor's stand-in, who 45 minutes later was to deliver our child.

"The next morning my wife was barely awake when the girl from the hospital gift shop was at her bedside with photos of our newborn child. 'A dollar each, or twelve prints for $9,' she told us. 'Jumbo size enlargments are $3.50, plus tax.'

* * *

"Today the hospital finally rendered its bill—for $483.50.

"There was a refund. $4! The biggest item was $414 for what's listed as 'room and board.' But there is also a charge for 'use of delivery room.' Thirteen pounds eleven shillings and five pence!

CHARGE JUST THE SAME

"Although my wife had no anaesthetics there is a charge all the same of five pounds seven shillings and a penny for 'anaesthesia.' And two others, unexplained except for the cryptic phrase 'laboratory charges.' Probably the aspirin I asked for one night, speculated my wife.

"Today our baby's birth certificate arrived from city hall. With it was enclosed a note from U.S. Treasury Department. It urged: 'Now is the time to build an education fund for your child—start buying him savings bonds.'

"I feel like writing back and asking, 'with what?' "

'Added Tax Deductions Eat Up Economic Gains'

Last night I figured out what the "tax reform" bill means to me as a citizen and a taxpayer. I received a seven per cent pay raise on July 1. By the time 2.6 per cent state income tax, Federal income tax, sales tax, etc. are deducted from my wages I will be fortunate to have received a net gain of one-half per cent. Since when is almost total confiscation of what little economic gains I made in 1967 "tax reform?"

★ ★ ★

We need plugging of tax loopholes. Why not try a balanced budget? The people of this country will soon rue the day they voted for the public tax raisers and confiscators of income we now have in office.

'Emergency Vehicles Need Whoopee Sirens'

As a fire truck driver in Pontiac, I won't budge out the door without the siren going, and even then people don't know you're on the road half the time. If every police car and fire truck had whoopee sirens, maybe it would cut down our accidents.

BOBBY G. CONE
PONTIAC FIRE STATION No. 1

I agree the whoopee siren is quite irritating, but is it so hard to tolerate for someone in dire need? I don't agree with the accusation of indiscriminate use. There is always that driver who will not yield his right-of-way and for him the whoopee siren is necessary. I recently had to utilize the ambulance service and it took several "whoopees" before a driver finally yielded. In the meantime I had to sit and watch the life seep out of my son.

'Display of Flags on Holiday Was Gratifying'

It was gratifying to see "Old Glory" out in front of so many Pontiac homes on July 4. It would be great if every home would have the flag out on every holiday. The day may come when we won't dare show our patriotism and pride in this great country that our forefathers fought for.

Question and Answer

Could some intellectual explain the D.P.D. (dropout program) for students, or is it just another hoax to obtain taxpayers money for so-called education?

WONDERING

REPLY

We don't know what you consider an intellectual, but we assume you are referring to the P. D. P. (Personal Development Program) in Waterford. Dr. Megiveron says initially it was funded by Public Law No. 238, requiring that participants be from 16-20, out of school 90 days, residents of the district and unemployed. There has been some change in funding procedure and application has been made to several agencies and foundations, local, state and federal. As presently administered, the program allows participants to be employed, and consists of job upgrading and 10 evening hours a week of regular classroom study toward a diploma.

French President Charles de Gaulle accused Israel of starting the Middle East war and then went countless miles out of his way in an effort to put the original blame on the United States.

Assuming the role of an expert on global matters, de-Gaulle charged the fighting in the Middle East was in effect caused by what he called U.S. intervention in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Summing it up, the French president said the war in Vietnam created "a psychological and political process which led to the fighting in the Middle East." Does de Gaulle seriously suggest that if there were no war in Vietnam, the Arabs wouldn't have sought to close the Strait of Iran to Israeli shipping or persisted in their long refusal to recognize the lawful existence of Israel?

The French leader declared the world was threatened by spreading conflicts and asserted that peace could be saved only if the United States got out of Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

"The spirit and fact of war are spreading again across the world," de Gaulle said in a formal statement. "One conflict contributes to causing another."

According to this theory, the French, by having engaged in the war in which they were finally defeated in 1954 in what was then a part of French Indo-China could also be blamed for helping to create "the psychological and political process" which de Gaulle says led to the recent hostilities in the Middle East.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle apparently proposes to blame the United States for any and all outbreaks of military action in the future wherever they occur and whatever the specific causes may be.

Verbal Assault

Nashville Banner

Fright words, hate words—venom-dripping slander words — Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin exhausted his whole vocabulary in the Kremlin's round at the U.N. podium. And when he was through, the cause of peace in the Middle East had advanced not an inch.

The verbal assault on truth was a face-saving device calculated to put Russia back in the good graces of her stooge constituency whom she had left high and dry in that war; the jackal at bay, yelping for a share of spoils which courage equal to that of Israel in will keep beyond his reach. winning a war for survival

The Kosygin pose, purporting to be the conscience of the world sitting in judgment —as a tribunal of peace and justice — is a monstrous hypocrisy. The skull and crossbones of Russia's piracy, atop the heap of destroyed and captive nations, could well replace the Hammer and Sickle as her emblem.

Unless the United Nations as an agency of peace-keeping is to dissolve under this blackguard blackmail for total degeneracy, it will rebuff Kosygin & Co., and send them packing home in failure — in even greater dispatch than they arrived.

With regard to their concept of "peaceful coexistence," the best degree of proximity for that is precisely the distance between New York and Moscow.

And '6,889 Happy Clients'

Unusual Pet Shop: Cats Only

NEW YORK (AP) — "Through these portals have passed 6,889 happy clients—and 7 who hate us."

The seven "didn't listen to me and tried to do things their way," said Milan J. Greer, pointing at the numbers on his sign. "They were wrong."

★ ★ ★

The sign hangs in Greer's Fabulous Felines shop in midtown Manhattan, and the numbers change every time he sells another kitten.

Greer, 45, unlike many pet dealers, breeds and sells only pedigree cats. Usually he has about 125 cats on hand in his shop.

REJECTS CUSTOMERS

"I throw out about 25 per cent of my potential customers," Greer says. "Most of them are the kind that come in and gurgle all over the cats. These people are sick. They are looking for a child substitute. This is wrong. If you sold them a cat, it would become neurotic.

"Choosing a cat that is suited to your personality is tremendously important. There are certain types of cat personalities which are best for children, and other types for adults."

★ ★ ★

If the customer is willing to let Greer select his kitten, then later decides his personality and that of the cat clash, he may return the animal for exchange. But if the customer insists on doing his own choosing, like the seven in the sign, then "you're on your own," says Greer.

A mistake in selection could be costly since the cheapest kitten Greer sells costs $75. That's the nominal price for a Persian, but the price varies, depending on the animal's color, and it can range up to $150.

90,000 HOURS

Greer, a native of Canton, Ohio, estimates he has spent 90,000 hours observing cats during the more than 20 years he has been actively interested in them. He quit a career as a radio and television producer 10 years ago to open the cat shop with his wife.

"We started in 1957 with $1,500," he says. "By the end of 1969 we expect to have grossed a total of $1 million on cats."

★ ★ ★

"Berenice here,' Greer said, pointing to a sleeping Seal-Point Siamese, "is the first cat I ever bred. She's 11 years old. She has given me two kindles (it's not litter, it's kindle) a year and still does. I estimate she's given me $19,000 in kittens."

Greer estimates that there currently are 25.5-million cats in the United States and that they outnumber dogs by a million.

"The dog has had his day," says Greer, whose book, "The Fabulous Feline," is subtitled, "Or, Dogs are Passe." "The Cat has been passing the dog in popularity since 1965. People are sick of walking dogs and of the expensive care they have to have.

"A cat is soothing to the eye and to the touch. It is an animated object d'art."

Greer says: "Basically we are a research organization. We do research in cats.

"One of the things we discovered was that cats were dying at a great rate because of house plants. We tell all our buyers to remove plants such as philodendron, rhododendron and all types of ivy from the house because they are toxic to cats. When a cat is teething, it likes to eat green things. And if it can't get grass, it will eat the leaves of these plants.

"YOUR HEALTH"

NECK SPRAINS

Injuries to the cervical spine (neck) can result from any accident where the neck muscles are caught "off guard" and a "whiplash" effect is produced. This is common in automobile collisions.

Fractures are not as frequent as sprains and injuries to the ligaments, tendons and other soft tissues. The injury often causes vertebrae in the neck to become displaced with resultant pressure on spinal nerves.

Pain can be immediate or delayed. It can be accompanied by headaches, dizziness, shoulder and arm pains, and numbness and tingling sensations.

When nerve pressures are present these conditions rarely get better by themselves. In fact they usually tend to get worse, and become chronic.

It is advisable to get chiropractic care for neck injuries as soon as possible, to correct nerve pressure and speed healing of sprained tissues.

Bar Employes Save GIs in Hong Kong Riots

HONG KONG (AP) — Bar employes and the U.S. shore patrol saved visiting American servicemen from injury in savage riots which killed three pro-Communist Chinese rioters and a Hong Kong policeman Sunday night and today.

While mobs rampaged through the streets, burning cars and buses, smashing store fronts and hurling acid, bottles, bricks and rocks at police, bar girls, doormen and managers pulled U.S. servicemen inside to safety and called the shore patrol.

A shore patrol source said it ran "scores of pickup missions without losing a man or any one getting hurt."

* * *

"Good business, that's all," said a Chinese bar manager, adding that if a serviceman "gets beat up or killed by a mob on the street, the whole damn area goes off-limits and we all go bankrupt."

BIG BUSINESS

Between 1,500 and 2,000 U.S. Army, Marine and Air Force men visit Hong Kong, on Red China's southeast border, each week on five-day rest leaves. A large flotilla may bring as many as 10,000 Navy men to the British colony at once. U.S. servicemen spend an estimated $40 million a year in Hong Kong.

* * *

Red China has protested frequently that Britain allows Hong Kong to be used as a U.S. military base for the Vietnam war, a charge denied by the Hong Kong, British and American governments.

The Hong Kong policeman was slashed to death Sunday with sharpened cargo hooks when a police patrol in downtown Hong Kong investigated a crowd of pro-Communist Chinese demonstrators distributing leaflets and blocking traffic. Police opened fire on the crowd, killing two Chinese.

* * *

In a midnight battle through Hong Kong island's crowded Wanchai Chinese district, officers shot and killed a third rioter. Some demonstrators threw acid at the police.

Volleys of tear gas drove back still another mob trying to attack the anti-Communist Chinese newspaper Tin Tin Yat Pao.

Polyester and cotton brown midi all weather coat lined in rabbit stencilled leopard. Coat shaped high to the body and easing away. Dress in beige double knit. A line dress with belt just touching but not holding in the waist. Fall 1967 Kasper collection by John Leslie.

Brown pony on cream. A water repellent coat by Cabaret in wool gabardine worn over a cream jersey dress and high, high leather leggings. Hat by Archie Eason.

A bold houndstooth in a French ribbed velvetine. This two piece is Chester Weinberg's important suit story for 1967.

Typically Tiffeau is this chalk white close to the body dress with muffled neckline and leather lash whipped high around the rib cage.

Seating Space at This Table for Grandfolks

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Please settle an argument. Are grandparents considered immediate family in a wedding party? Most books do not mention the seating of grandparents (in fact, I couldn't find anything on them at all).

It seems that they are ignored. Maybe I am just more conscious of it now that I am a grandmother. — Mrs. Stevens

* * *

Dear Mrs. Stevens: The role of grandparents at weddings has, in truth, been sadly neglected. Let me right that error. The grandpasents are guests, but they are honored guests.

Unless they prefer to sit with some of their own friends, they should be invited to sit at the table for the parents of the bridal couple. They should also be included in the rehearsal dinner, and at the church they should sit in the row immediately behind the parents of the bride and groom.

OWE A LETTER

Dear Mrs. Post: I dearly love one of my sisters-in-law who moved to California. Naturally the only means of communication is by letter. Being human, I have a lot of problems both emotional and medical.

When I don't want to disclose my problems, I don't write. Other times when news is good I write very often. What has me upset is that she insists on letter for letter.

That "you owe me a letter" really rubs me the wrong way. Am I wrong in feeling this way? — Mrs. E. P.

* * *

Dear Mrs. E. P.: I suppose that no one should feel that owing a letter is a good reason for writing it, but many people do. They have a point since most letters in a steady correspondence contain questions or comments which call for an answer.

It would be far better, rather than not to write at all, to write a short letter sticking strictly to the subjects your sister-in-law mentioned, and those bits of news which do not require you to talk about yourself.

This Israeli Official's Wife Begins Own Peace Program

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Moshe Dayan, green-eyed wife of the Israeli defense minister, twirled a pink rose in midtown Manhattan and talked about peace. She already is working on it.

A grandmother, weaver and basket-maker, she moved in behind the tanks in the Middle East last month as sort of a one-woman Peace Corps.

"It was so joyous," she said in a weekend interview here.

MRS. MOSHE DAYAN

"I went to Bethlehem to visit the family of friends."

She came away with some black Dead Sea stone vases, carefully etched, and the promise of more.

* * *

"They do beautiful work, but they never had any government plan there before," she said. "Now they belong to our government. We will work with them. There are dressmakers, olive wood carvers, too."

GAZA STRIP

She went to the Gaza Strip.

"The refugee problem there is very acute. They make rugs and lovely hand-woven fabrics," she said, linking the two.

"Now we will have to get them some wool to work with. They used to get it from Cairo. We have some—not enough, but we will find it."

* * *

She also called in an American expert for advice on how to work with refugees on a large scale.

Mrs. Dayan's concern for refugees and handicrafts is nothing new.

With the wave of immigrants to Israel in 1948, she volunteered to teach agriculture.

But then she noticed the handicrafts in the homes she visited, and set out to encourage and preserve them.

In 1954 she set up Maskit, an arts and crafts firm, with the aid of the Israeli government and the Jewish Agency.

* * *

It now has 700 families, some of them handicapped and many of them refugees and Arabs, producing decorative fabrics, jewelry, ceramics and rugs.

She flew to New York Friday for six days to promote Israeli-made handicrafts, at the suggestion of Jerry Silverman, a Manhattan dress manufacturer.

Mrs. Dayan was driving to Jerusalem to seek funds for training some girls when she heard on the car radio that war had broken out.

"I ran to a petrol station," she said. "I stayed there four hours.

"Every once in awhile, I'd call my sister — she's the wife of the chief of operations — and she'd tell me not to worry, there were no more Egyptian planes. So much happened in that four hours, and there I was in that petrol station.

DAUGHTER

"I was worried about my daughter Yael, 28, a novelist. She was in the front lines in the Sinai. One son was in the antiaircraft artillery, and he was angry because there were almost no enemy planes to shoot at."

* * *

A second son, a farmer, was with the navy which took Sharm-el-Sheikh.

As for her husband: "I can't be worried about him," she said, flashing a smile.

New Miss Universe Faces a Dull Year

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miss Universe 1967, who will be chosen next Saturday night in a contest based on "beauty of body" and personality, must face a year of no dating without a chaperone.

Most of the girls don't seem to realize they won't be alone with men for a year.

"Is it worth it?" commented Miss England, Jennifer Lewis, when she found out Sunday.

"YICK"

"Yick, for a whole year?" said Ivonne Coll, Miss Puerto Rico.

The girls who did know didn't want to talk about it.

Miss Mexico, a short brunette, Valenina Vales Duarto, just shrugged and said "I know."

Miss USA, Sylvia Louise Hitchcock, a Miami girl who was also Miss Alabama, was aware of the rule because she cannot date without a chaperone while she is Miss USA.

"For some of the girls from Latin American countries, it is what they are used to. For me it is different," she said.

This Simple Solution for Ending Wars Works Two Ways, Abby Tells Readers

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a grown man, and I'm not ashamed to admit that I read your column, and enjoy it. I don't always agree with you, but I think you do a lot of good by just letting people tell you their troubles.

ABBY

I wish it were possible for someone to make the human female realize that she is the most powerful force in the world. She is even more powerful than the bomb.

Let's be frank, if women wanted to, they could end the war in 30 days. They could simply lock their bedroom doors, and say, "I will produce no more cannon fodder, and there will be no more 'playing house' until the war ends!"

Isn't that simple?

S. S. (JOPLIN)

Dear S. S.: Too simple. You men could do the same thing.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have noticed that my husband has started to get too friendly with our oldest daughter. She is 13. Does a mother have the right to shoot anyone (including her husband) if he should harm her child, either physically or morally?

My husband's family is very lax, morally. I knew nothing of his family until our marriage. In his youth he was given all the freedom of a tomcat, and like a tomcat, any female is fair game.

TOMCAT'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: No healthy, normal father would entertain such a sick notion as you suggest. Tell your doctor about your suspicions without delay. He will tell you what your next move should be. (P.S. Lay that pistol down, gal.)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We have a son who has just finished his junior year in college and plans to attend graduate school a year from now. He became engaged to a sophomore girl last Easter. She is studying nursing. They want to get married this summer.

We have financed our son's education entirely. Our son and his girl want both sets of parents to finance their schooling and say if they are married it will be cheaper than living apart.

How much are parents supposed to "help" their children, and for how long? Don't you think if a boy is old enough to get married he is old enough to support himself and his wife?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: How much "help" parents give their children, and for how long is a decision that only the parents can make. It has been my observation, however, that when a child wants to marry while going to school, if the parents approve of the choice, they will give till it hurts. But if they don't approve, it "hurts" just short of giving.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE PRETTY DIVORCEE, WHOSE ELDEST OF SEVERAL CHILDREN IS 14: Your daughter has written to ask me what to do when her mother goes out with "different guys" right after supper time and doesn't come home until after noon the next day.

Be advised that I have told her to call the police or sheriff to locate you. Your children are "worried sick" about you, Madame. Please consider them, and remedy this disgraceful situation.

Saturday Evening Vows for Charles A. Coles

A reception in Stevens Hall followed the candlelight rite Saturday which united Diane Jean Adams and Charles Alfred Cole in All Saints Episcopal Church.

The bride was attired in an organza sheath accented with Alencon lace and pearl appliques. Her Watteau train flowed from the Empire waistline.

The fitted bodice and elbow length sleeves were trimmed with matching appliques.

Her veil was a bouffant bubble of illusion held with a circlet of crystals and pearls.

She carried a cascade of white miniature roses and carnations.

Linda Adams, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, with attendants Mrs. William Cole, Mrs. Michael Fedynik, Mrs. Ronald Kunde, Patricia Nordman and Sandra Scales.

* * *

William Cole, the bridegroom's brother, performed best man duties. Robert Dumke, Ronald Kunse, Michael Morey, Joseph Przybycki and Richard Wagner made up the usher corps.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. H. Glenn Grove of Woodlow Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Cole of Lincolnshire Drive.

Following the reception, the couple left on an automobile trip to Florida. They will reside in East Lansing.

MRS CHARLES A. COLE

Diane Jean Adams became the bride Saturday of Charles A. Cole, in rites performed in All Saints Episcopal Church. Their parents are Mrs. H. Glenn Grove of Woodlow Street and the Raymond L. Coles of Lincolnshire Drive.

OU Faculty

String Concert

Three of the Cleveland Orchestra's top - flight artists, who are serving as faculty members at the meadow Brook School of Music this summer, will present a program of chamber music Tuesday at Oakland University.

Scheduled for 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Matilda R. Wilson Hall, the concert will be the first of four the trio will present on successive Tuesdays.

* * *

The trio consists of James Levine, piano; Jerome Rosen, violin; and Lynn Harrell, cello. Although all are still in their 20's, the artists bring impressive backgrounds to Meadow Brook.

LEVIN ON STAFF

Levine is on the Cleveland Orchestra conducting staff, conductor of the University Circle Orchestra and a member of the Cleveland Institute of Music faculty. He is assistant conductor of the student Meadow Brook Orchestra this summer under Robert Shaw.

* * *

First violinist for the Cleveland Orchestra, Rosen is accompanist for the Cleveland Orchestra Chorus. A member of the famed Pablo Casals Festival Orchestra from 1959 to 1962, Rosen also has written several orchestral works, string quartet works for piano and a one-act opera.

Harrell is principal cellist with the Cleveland Orchestra. The award-winning cellist was a semi-finalist in the second Tschaikovsky Competition in Moscow in 1962.

* * *

In addition to their work in Meadow Brook Orchestra and as a piano trio, the three also are coaches in the Meadow Brook Chamber Music Institute.

On the program for Tuesday are Stravinsky's Duo Concertant for Violin and Piano, Four Pieces for Violin and Piano, Op. 7, and Three Pieces for Cello and Piano, Op. 11; Weber's Variations for Piano Solo, Op. 27; Debussy's Sonata for Cello and Piano; and Mendelssohn's Trio in D Minor.

Admission to the concert is $1.

Fun and Exercise

DEAR POLLY — One of my pussycats had been getting fatter and fatter because she refused to set foot on the ground if there was any snow during the winter.

At first I pulled strings for her to chase until I was breathless. Now I have solved the exercise problem by taking a flashlight and running the beam of light up and down the room and around circles.

She chases these with great delight. Cat owners who live in apartments might find this a great help.—LEAH

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. E. F. M. wanted to know how to get rid of the grass growing between the bricks in her sidewalk. I have very successfully sprinkled this unwanted grass with plenty of salt and then poured boiling water over it.

Be careful not to get this on the lawn for it would also kill the grass.—MILDRED

DEAR POLLY — After killing the grass between the bricks or cement in a sidewalk, remove the roots with a pointed can opener. — MRS. M. A.

DEAR READERS—Thanks to the dozens of you who sent in this same salt treatment. Many used table salt and others used coarse "ice cream" salt. It is a good use for the salt left over from winter that had been bought to use for melting snow off of walks and driveways. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — To clean the winter's grime off my windows I bought a small bottle of windshield cleaning solution from a service station. Added to water this make a big jar and is economical.

I use a spray bottle, roll of paper towels and a grocery bag to hold the dirty towels so when I am finished there is no mess to clean up. — MRS. J. B. S.

DEAR POLLY — Those who sew will agree that really nice-looking buttons are quite expensive. I check the local rummage sales and often find dresses with buttons I can use, and buy the dress for far less than such buttons would cost new. — DELORES

Mrs. Grant Wears Lace

Saturday afternoon vows in St. James Episcopal Church, Birmingham, united Janet Louise Hutton and Edward James Grant Jr.

The bride was attired in an ivory silk peau de soie and lace gown in traditional styling. Her veil was secured with a lace petal and pearl coronet.

She carried gardenias and Stephanotis.

* * *

Mrs. David Reinhard, the bride's sister, was matron of honor, with attendants Maria Anderson, Mrs. James McCarthy and Mrs. Wayne McGaughey. Niece Rebecca Reinhard was flower girl.

Harold Kreider performed best man duties. Ushers were Richard Deardorff, Joseph Maltese and Richard Watson.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hutton of Birmingham and the Edward J. Grants of Cicero, Ill.

Following a reception in the Plum Hollow Golf Club, the couple left for a Michigan and Florida honeymoon.

Do as the Romans do—give zest to an attractive outdoor meal with Italian Antipasto Salad. Crisp greens are served with a choice of Mediterranean tidbits and a tangy Herb Cream Dressing made with sour cream. Authentic Italian pasta adds texture to the tossed green salad.

If you've ever longed for the sights and sounds of foreign lands, you'll be enchanted by these new summer salads. They're adapted from popular foreign recipes, using foods typical of those countries but which are available right here in America. Salads like these prove you don't have to travel to enjoy new and interesting foods.

Preparing and serving this Italian Antipasto Salad is a breeze for the busy hostess. Typical Mediterranean foods are available in cans. These can be decoratively arranged on a platter with garden-fresh cherry tomatoes, green onions, sliced eggs and sliced Provolone cheese. Take a tip from Italian chefs, who often serve chilled pasta with a sauce or marinade. Add chilled cooked macaroni to your favorite green salad. Toss the greens with a zippy sour cream salad dressing, spiced with herbs Italians use in their recipes.

This Indian Curried Fruit Salad is so versatile that it can be served as an appetizer, main dish or dessert. This unusual salad takes its inspiration from the traditional curries of India. Indian cooks serve "curds" as a part of their menus to balance their spicy seasonings of foods. So we have selected cottage cheese for the dressing, flavoring it with curry. Again, the salad uses typical fruits from its native land. Guests may spear the fruit on picks or put it on plates, then add dressing and almonds or coconut, or both.

Exotic, Elegant Salads

ITALIAN ANTIPASTO SALAD

HERB CREAM DRESSING:
- 2 egg yolks
- 1/4 cup white wine vinegar with herbs, OR 1 teaspoon crushed basil, oregano or thyme
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon white pepper
- 2 cups dairy sour cream

SALAD BOWL:
- 1 clove garlic
- 1 head escarole
- 1 head romaine
- 1 1/2 cups cooked macaroni

ANTIPASTO:
- 1 can (8 oz.) artichoke hearts
- 1 can (8 oz.) ripe olives
- 1 can (4 oz.) button mushrooms
- 1 can (4 oz.) pimientos
- 1 can (4 oz.) sardines
- 1 can (2 oz.) anchovies
- 1/2 cup oil and vinegar dressing
- Cherry tomatoes
- Green onions
- 2-3 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
- Radishes
- Sliced Provolone cheese
- 1 tablespoon capers

For Dressing, beat together egg yolks, vinegar, salt, mustard and pepper until thick. Carefully fold in sour cream and chill. For Salad, cut garlic and rub bowl. Break escarole and romaine into bowl; toss in macaroni and chill while preparing Antipasto. Drain artichokes, olives, mushrooms, pimientos, sardines and anchovies; place in a bowl, add oil and vinegar dressing and allow to marinate in refrigerator 1-2 hours. When ready to serve, drain off marinade, (can use again) cut artichokes in half and arrange on chilled tray or platter along with mushrooms, sardines, anchovies, tomatoes, onions, eggs, radishes and Provolone cheese. Wrap pimiento around olives and place where color is needed. Sprinkle capers over all. Serve with Herb Cream Dressing and freshly ground black pepper.

INDIAN CURRIED FRUIT SALAD

6-8 servings

- 2 cups cottage cheese
- 1/4 cup finely chopped golden raisins
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- Plums, halved
- Avocado, sliced
- Peaches, quartered
- Watermelon, cut into spears
- Cantaloupe, cut into balls
- Honeydew, cut into balls
- Mango, cubed
- Papaya, sliced
- Strawberries, whole
- Oranges, sectioned
- Apples, sliced
- Pears, sliced
- Lemon juice
- 1 cup chopped, toasted almonds or cashews
- 1 cup toasted coconut

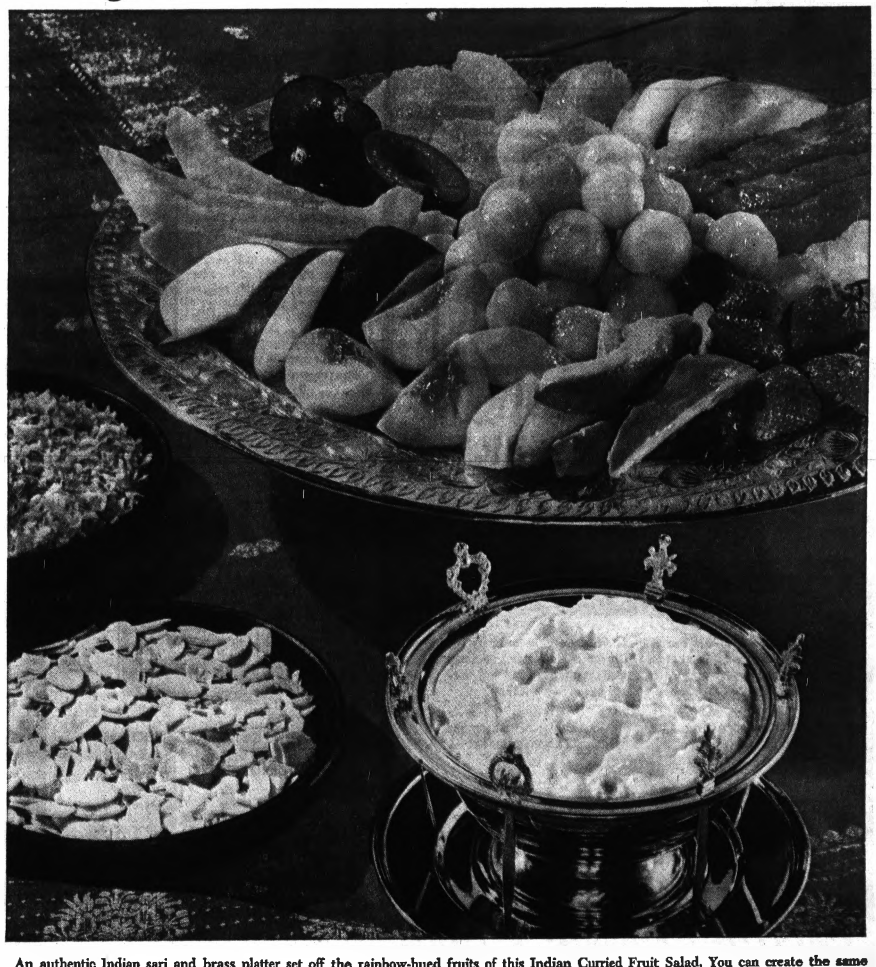
In a blender or mixer beat cottage cheese until smooth and creamy. Fold in raisins and curry powder. Chill several hours or overnight. Prepare any assortment of suggested fruit, amount according to size of servings desired. Sprinkle fruit (except melon, strawberries and oranges) with lemon juice to prevent darkening. Chill until ready to serve; then, arrange fruit on bed of crushed ice. Fruit may be speared with small picks and dipped into curried cottage cheese mixture, then the nuts and coconut; or, served as a salad plate, topped with the cottage cheese, nuts and coconut.

CHUTNEY VARIATION: Add 2 teaspoons lemon juice and 2 tablespoons chopped chutney (with syrup) to the curried cottage cheese mixture.



An authentic Indian sari and brass platter set off the rainbow-hued fruits of this Indian Curried Fruit Salad. You can create the same refreshing buffet-type salad with fresh fruits in season and a touch of imagination. A lightly curried Cottage Cheese Dressing highlights the luscious fruit flavors.

Now Possible To Shrink Painful Hemorrhoids

And Promptly Stop The Itching, Relieve Pain In Most Cases.

New York, N. Y. (Special): A scientific research institute has discovered a medication which has the ability in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from the itching, burning and pain. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated hemorrhoids.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all accomplished without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! In addition to actually shrinking piles and relieving the painful distress — Preparation H lubricates, makes bowel movements less painful and soothes the irritated tissues. It also helps prevent further infection.

Preparation H comes in ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Outcome in Doubt Till the End

State Income Tax Tale Like a Mystery

By JIM NICHOLS

LANSING (AP) — It was a little like watching a mystery thriller. But it was even more exciting, because the audience was directly involved in the plot.

From an artistic standpoint, it was probably too long and too complicated, with too many tiresome delays and futile developments that a good editor would have penciled out.

* * *

But now the play is ended and the dramatic climax can be revealed: Michigan's new 2.6 per cent personal income tax, for better or worse, is going to become law.

As 1967 began and it became apparent that the fiscal reform fight would overshadow all other legislative issues this session, opinion on the outcome was divided. Few people were betting much money either way.

SEEN FIGHTS BEFORE

Veterans had seen such fights before—as long ago as 1959. They recalled that after all the tries, all the negotiating, all the news stories, lobbying and debate, the income tax bills invariably died.

Yes, some said, but just the same . . . this could be the year.

Gov. George Romney set the stage in February, asking lawmakers to pass a tax package pegged to income taxes of 2½ per cent on persons, 5 per cent on corporations and 8 per cent on financial institutions.

The Senate put Romney's package to a vote the next month and defeated it handily. So ended the brief first act, and those who said "this could be the year" were quiet during intermission.

WITHDRAW FROM STAGE

But 16 of the 20 Senate Republicans had voted for the income tax bill. The Democrats, in the past the louder advocates of tax reform, could still deliver the four needed votes. The first group of actors withdrew from the stage for a conference in the wings which the audience could not hear.

Leaving the Senate in relative gloom, the spotlight shifted across the stage to the House, which would be deadlocked at 54 Republicans and 54 Democrats by the climax of act two.

* * *

Republicans huddled in caucuses, then revealed their plans. They would, by themselves, rewrite Romney's program into a form more attractive to themselves.

At the last minute, they changed their package to meet some Democratic objections. But when the votes were counted, Democrats again withheld the needed support. The curtain rang down on a second defeated tax plan. Some said it was curtains for fiscal reform this year.

'AUSTERITY BUDGET'

Romney moved nearer to the center of the stage. He detailed a possible "austerity budget" and told department heads to get ready to make drastic cuts in state services.

The plan was lagging badly. Drama critics were thumbing through their lists of venomous adjectives. The plot needed a spectacular boost.

Late in May, the spotlight swung back to the Senate. The huddled group emerged into the light and suddenly, there it was. A bipartisan tax package passed with votes to spare.

* * *

A startled murmur swept the audience, though not everyone applauded. Adherents of the "this could be the year" school sat up a little straighter.

Meanwhile, back in the House, the plot grew thicker. Democrats did not rush forward to support the Senate plan. Republicans chorused their opposition.

Again the House GOP rewrote the tax package. Party leaders even agreed to a fall referendum, hoping for the support of six Republicans who otherwise refused to go along. They attracted four. The other two held out. The majority was not there.

PREDICTIONS CORRECT

Again the House GOP package went to a vote, but the futile flurry didn't excite the audience. Everyone predicted it would fail, and it did.

But if the action lagged, the tempo of the play was stepping up. There were two weeks left before the fiscal year began. Romney's threatened austerity budget loomed like a menacing shadow over the stage. An eerie pendulum above the players counted off the final hours.

* * *

Then Romney moved quickly into the limelight with a dramatic innovation. He decided to make the last-ditch effort for tax reform, not in the traditional offstage huddle, but right in front of the audience.

The capacity crowd alternately tittered and tensed as bipartisan negotiations wandered between meaningful progress and repetitious shouting matches. The pendulum continued to swing.

On the morning of Wednesday, June 28, Romney warned that that day was the practical deadline for agreement. That afternoon, agreement was reached.

EXCITEMENT

Suddenly the air crackled with excitement as House leaders took the agreement to their caucuses, looking for the needed 56 votes.

* * *

They found them, and more. In the predawn hours of June 29, the tax bill breezed through the chamber, 62-44.

* * *

Each house had passed an income tax package. As though making up for the lagging action earlier in the play, the two chambers resolved their differences in just 48 hours.

* * *

Long it was, and dull much of the time. But it's a drama few Michigan residents will forget.

* * *

They'll be reminded of it each April 15, when their state income tax return is due.

Suez Canal authorities reported recently that toll revenue from ships passing through the canal during the first half of 1966 had increased by the equivalent of $10.5 million over the corresponding period in 1965.

Baltimore Officials Rap NEA Sanctions

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — An official of the Baltimore Teachers Union has called the National Education Association's announced sanctions against the city's public schools "a case of sour grapes," that involved the defeat of the local NEA affiliate in a representation election.

In addition to what he called "an internal reorganization—structurally," Mangum said there would have to be changes in the operation of the agency.

* * *

Charles Laubheim, executive secretary of the Teachers Union, pointed to the defeat of the Public School Teachers Association last month in a vote to determine who would bargain collectively for the city's teachers. He said the sanctions would be ineffective.

* * *

Associate Supt. Thomas Goedeke said meanwhile he couldn't understand why the sanctions were invoked in view of Baltimore's $21-million school budget increase and the raising of starting salaries to $6,000 annually.

A meeting of the administrative staff of the school system was called for today. Goedeke refused to say whether it had been called as a result of the sanctions, declared Saturday.

* * *

The AFL-CIO Teachers Union won the right to bargain collectively for all the city's teachers last month, defeating the Teacher's Association 3,687 to 3,358 in an election granted by city officials after a two-day strike by union teachers.

* * *

James E. Wall, president of the Teachers Association, said that in order to get the sanctions lifted "a plan would have to be developed and implemented immediately for implement of obsolete buildings, reduction of class size and the development of a salary scale to attract and retain qualified teachers."

* * *

Asked if he felt the budget increase was adequate, Wall replied: "Let's just say the improvement in the school budget this year cannot possibly correct the neglect that has occurred over the past 10 years."

SOVIET SWING-WING FIGHTER — The Soviet Union said Saturday it has an operational swing-wing jet fighter like the United States F111. The plane, seen in photos copied from the Soviet newspaper Izvestia, is shown with wings folded close for supersonic flight and extended for slow speeds. Izvestia said the swing-wing plane and another plane of vertical takeoff design will be shown in action at the Soviet air show in Moscow.

Residents Want to Kill a Mockingbird

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Miami Beach residents near Euclid Avenue and 16th Street have been beseiged for the past two weeks by a sky-diving, head-pecking mockingbird.

* * *

The bird spots his victim, swoops down with Spitfire speed and hits from behind.

* * *

Most of the time, he flies down directly from the top of a building. But for sneak sorties, he's been known to roost in a 15-foot palm tree.

* * *

The residents want to get rid of the bird and they insist that they're not just being soreheads but they're worried about what will happen if the bird attacks an elderly person with a weak heart.

* * *

"We want to get that bird out of here before someone collapses on the street," said a bald man in his early 60s. "He hit me twice yesterday."

'Seaway May Have to Close Indefinitely if Lock Not Fixed'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Failure to repair Eisenhower Lock in the U.S. portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway could force an indefinite closing of the entire 2,342-mile Great Lakes-to-the-Atlantic system.

The possibility was reported to Congress by Joseph H. McCann, administrator of the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., the government agency which administers and maintains the American section of the waterway, built in cooperation with Canada.

* * *

McCann's warning that the lock must be repaired—over a five-year period at an estimated total cost of $13 million—was given to a House Appropriations subcommittee. His testimony was made public Sunday by the group.

McCann said abnormal deterioration of the lock's concrete was first noted in 1964. He said repairs, to the extent practicable, were made during the nonnavigation winter seasons last year and the year before.

He said there is no danger to navigation this year because of the condition of the lock, constructed in 1959 at a cost of more than $21 million. It is located near Massena, N.Y.

But the repair work must be started this year, as soon as the seaway is shut down for the winter, McCann said. He estimated the first year's cost at $3.6 million.

Brig. Gen. Harry G. Woodbury Jr. of the Army Engineers, said the problem in the lock is twofold—deterioration of the concrete and structural cracking in the lock chamber walls.

He said the concrete in the lock consists of 75 per cent Portland cement and 25 per cent natural cement.

Until the investigation is completed and the exact cause of the deterioration and failure has been clearly identified, he said, "We can't say whether there is any liability on the part of the contractor or not."

Woodbury said the Justice Department is assisting the engineers in seeking to determine if potential liability exists to the contractor who built the lock.

443 Injured, 134 Missing

Japan Typhoon Kills Over 210

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Billie weakened to a tropical storm by the time it hit southwest Japan over the weekend, but floods and landslides killed at least 210 persons, 134 were missing and 443 injured.

It was feared the death toll would be the largest from a storm since June 1961, when 302 persons were killed in a typhoon.

Thousands of police and soldiers were sent out to clear debris, restore communications and search for victims.

The storm hit northwestern Kyushu and western Honshu islands, flooding more than 200,000 homes, sweeping away roads, bridges and rail beds, paralyzing road and rail traffic and cutting communications throughout the area.

The district around the atom-bombed city of Hiroshima, in western Honshu, was hit hardest. There 99 persons were reported dead, 51 missing and 120 injured.

Rain-weakened cliffs gave way and buried more than 100 persons in Kure, in Hiroshima Prefecture. Seventy-one of them were rescued.

The storm's fringe touched Tokyo before it blew into the Pacific. There was no major damage or casualties in the Japanese capital. With winds up to 45 miles an hour, the storm dumped almost 15 inches of rain around Kure and Sasebo, a port frequented by the U.S. 7th Fleet.

U.S. Steps Up Its Military Space Efforts With Research Pacts

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. — Returning to its moon base from patrol, a U.S. Air Force space ship suddenly is attacked by a craft from an earth nation.

* * *

Skillfully maneuvering at more than 5,000 miles an hour, the American spacemen zip in behind the attacker and open fire with a weapon that converts nuclear energy into a powerful beam. The "death ray" vaporizes the enemy ship.

The United States is not ready to fight such a Buck Rogers—style war in space. But quietly, secretly, this nation is developing a military space capability to counter a strong Soviet program.

Recent technological advances by both nations—and the growing nuclear threat of Red China—have spurred the United States to accelerate its military space effort, in both manned and unmanned programs.

MILITARY DUTIES

After years of indecision, the Air Force last month awarded the first sizable contracts, totaling $855 million, for the Manned Orbiting Laboratory. The goal is to determine what military duties man can perform effectively in space.

The first flight of military astronauts is set for 1970, nearly three years behind the original schedule.

The Defense Department, after years of pressure from critics, appears ready to proceed with some sort of antiballistic missile program.

Much effort is concentrated on developing fantastic weapons and other military equipment.

RECONNAISSANCE SATELLITES

Among them are reconnaissance satellites that will spot a soldier hiding in underbrush or a missile buried underground; satellites to locate submerged submarines; communications satellites that will enable infantrymen in the field to confer on strategy; and far-ranging planes to exchange messages.

* * *

Rockets to knock down enemy satellites; laser and radiation beams to pulverize space or ground targets; rocket-borne nuclear bombs to destroy missile warheads; rockets with great power and versatility, and manned spaceships that will take off and land like conventional airplanes also are envisioned.

* * *

Sources cite five major reasons for the stepped up military space research:

- Knowledge that the Soviet Union is vigorously pushing for a military space captability.
- Titan 2 and Minuteman missiles in underground silos are threatened by a new warhead guidance system 10 times more accurate than any previous system. It would enable an intercontinental-range missile to hurl its nuclear payload to within 600 feet of a target.

* * *

- Polaris missiles deployed at sea are threatened by new satellite reconnaissance devices that may soon be able to locate submarines hundreds of feet beneath the surface.
- S.S. missiles designed to penetrate Soviet defense are threatened by a potential Soviet capability to neutralize them by exploding nuclear bombs in their paths.

* * *

Last month the Soviet civil defense chief, Marshal Vasily I. Chuikov, claimed in Moscow that his country's antiballistic missile defense system could destroy nuclear-armed missiles before they reached Soviet territory. Only three months ago, in February, he had said the Soviet Union was not completely safe from missile attack.

- The world strategic equation has been changed sharply by Red Chinese achievements in nuclear explosives and by steadily decreasing costs which will permit other nations to deploy missile forces.

Defense Department sources say they are aware of these dangers but that security prevents them from reporting what is being done to counter them.

Many critics of the Defense Department and Johnson administration contend the United States is not moving fast enough to take advantage of the technological momentum built up during the ballistic missile and space programs.

* * *

They say the U.S. no longer can rely on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's theory that war can be avoided by "mutual deterrence." The theory is that an enemy will not attack if enough U.S. offensive forces can survive to launch a counterattack sufficient to destroy the enemy.

* * *

One of these critics is retired Air Force Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, who directed development of America's ballistic missile programs and played a key role in the approval of the Manned Orbiting Laboratory program.

SPACE ACTIVITIES

Schriever says "the administration is not pushing technology." He says $400 million to $700 million more should have been spent annually on advanced development in the last four or five years. He opposes the separation of space activities into military and peaceful spheres, contending it "simply serves to emphasize by comparison, the straightforwardness of the Soviet program."

At its annual convention in March, the Air Force Association called for "a sweeping reexamination and reevaluation of national strategy in the light of current and projected technology and its impact on the world balance of power." Association officials noted what they called the "growing vulnerability" of U.S. missiles and expressed concern on how secure they would be in five years.

* * *

They said America was severely handicapped by the limited nuclear test-ban treaty and by the lack of basic knowledge about using nuclear bombs as a shield against ballistic missiles.

The statement noted that the Soviet Union had conducted several high-altitude nuclear tests before signing the treaty, and "there is little question the Soviet Union is far ahead of the United States in this critical area."

MORE SPENDING

Most critics believe the Defense Department should be spending more effort, money and research on developing the soundest possible missile defense system.

Stating the administration position, John S. Foster Jr., director of defense research and engineering, said the United States had not reached a "technological plateau."

"In fiscal year 1968, we are continuing our ballistic missile defense development efforts at the high levels of recent years," Foster said. "We are requesting $440 million for research and development work on the Nike-X system. And there is another related program, Project Defender, for which we have requested another $119 million.

"Our capabilities in this area have been changed dramatically in the last 10 years. How can we be stagnating technologically in ballistic missile defense while we devote more than half a billion dollars to it in one year?"

RESEARCH EXPENDITURES

He said the department's expenditures for research and development had increased about 30 per cent in the last decade and the budget request for fiscal 1968 was $8.1 million for more than 1,500 projects.

* * *

Answering those who say the United States is losing its technological superiority, Foster said: "For many years the Soviet Union apparently has been following our lead in every important strategic system technical development: the intercontinental bomber, the solid fuel missile, the Polaris-type submarine, the hardened and dispersed silo, and many other advances. We see no evidence that our planned strategic capabilities will be endangered by recent Soviet technological actions."

There are only eight gas stations in Moscow (population 6.5 million) and fewer than 2,000 in all of the Soviet Union.

Even in July, Cadillac is the newest car you can buy.

With all of its richness and elegance, superb comfort and truly exceptional driving qualities—the current Cadillac is always, regardless of year or season, the newest car you can buy. This is indisputably true of the 1967 Standard of the World. Cadillac's highly advanced engineering, exemplified both by the front-wheel-drive Fleetwood Eldorado and the eleven other exciting Cadillac models, still remains years ahead of its time. In terms of handling ease and quiet performance, no other car is the equal of the world's most sought-after luxury automobile. There's also Cadillac's tasteful, evolutionary styling . . . a significant reason why Cadillacs of all ages are recognized as Cadillacs regardless of their year of manufacture. And testifying to this almost timeless appeal is Cadillac's remarkably high resale value. Two- and three-year-old Cadillacs—and even some of the earlier models—are in greater demand than many other automobiles that are presently in production. So visit your authorized Cadillac dealer at your very first opportunity. You'll quickly discover that there's nothing newer than a new Cadillac.

House Unit Predicts State Revenue Yield

LANSING (AP) — Payers of Michigan's new income taxes are expected to yield the state $209 million in the new fiscal year — and smokers, drinkers and gamblers are counted on to provide another $112 million.

The House Appropriations Committee estimates general fund revenues for the year which began July 1 will be $1,106,909,937—just enough to balance the anticipated $1.1 billion state general fund budget.

The committee predicts the 2.6 per cent personal state income tax, which takes effect Oct. 1, will yield $170 million in this fiscal year, with $9 million of it being returned to local units of government.

The 5.6 per cent corporate income tax is expected to bring in $46 million and the yield of the 7 per cent levy on financial institutions is pegged at $2 million.

HORSE RACING

State cigarette taxes are expected to produce $58.35 million this year, while levies on beer and wine will bring in a predicted $39.57 million and taxes on horse racing an anticipated $13.87 million.

Other estimated yields were:

Sales tax, $249.69 million; use tax, $82.5 million; business receipts, $142.5 million; intangibles tax, $37.52 million; corporate fees and taxes apart from the income tax, $103 million; inheritance taxes, $19 million; insurance company premium, $37 million; patient and inmate revenue, $21 million.

The federal government's contribution is estimated at only $850,000. However, only a tiny fraction of the federal money which comes to Michigan goes into the state's general fund.

Hunt for Worms Brings Tragedy

MIDDLE RIVER, Md. (AP) — Douglas Alt was using an electric probe to search for fishing worms Sunday, when his son Douglas, 3, ran across the wet lawn of the family's suburban Baltimore home.

The boy grabbed the 24-inch steel probe and was electrocuted immediately, police said, as his father held the wooden handle of the device.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS — After heavy rains flooded the street in front of this Denver business, Howard Ray, the manager, decided the easiest way out was to hitch a ride. The man on the bottom is Marsh Highfield, sales manager for the firm. Many streets and homes were flooded as rain and hail lashed the area Friday.

U.S. to Loan Spain Its 1st Aircraft Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Spanish navy soon will get its first aircraft carrier, a quarter-century-old American veteran of nine major Pacific battles in World War II.

★ ★ ★

The 11,000-ton Cabot, renamed Dedalo by the Spanish, will be loaned to Spain for five years.

U.S. officials appeared perplexed when asked what military need Spain has for a carrier.

★ ★ ★

The attitude appeared to be that Spain may feel friendlier toward the United States as a result, and it can do no harm. The United States uses the Rota naval base on the Spanish coast and several Spanish airfields.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Navy officers said the Cabot will be equipped for antisubmarine warfare, and, they hope, will cooperate with American fleet units in the Mediterranean.

The Cabot is being modernized at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard and is expected to be transferred to Spain in early September.

★ ★ ★

The Pentagon said all costs involved are to be underwritten by the Spanish, including training of the Spanish crew by the U.S. Navy.

The Defense Department said the cost has not yet been determined, but that preparation of the crew and the ship for fleet the Spanish will buy from various sources, the Pentagon said.

The 623-foot Cabot will be equipped with helicopters which Spain already has bought six American helicopters for more than $6.5 million.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

Reno Davis, a prize fighter with writing aspirations had no idea what he was getting into in Paris as tutor and bodyguard of Paul de Villemont, son of the widowed Anne de Villemont. Anne said she feared for Paul's life and Davis learned the boy's previous tutor had died mysteriously. He observed at the de Villemont mansion that Claude and Gabrielle de Gonde and Matilde and Edmond Vosiers, sisters and brothers-in-law of Anne, were under the influence of Dr. Hubert Morlivon, her physician. Attracted to Anne, Davis agreed to help her secretly get Paul to the U.S. although Charles Laschenhaut, an editor-friend of the family, professed interest in publishing Davis' manuscripts. At the Paris Fair with Louis le Buc, a friend, and Paul, Davis was separated from them. At le Buc's apartment he found him dead and Paul missing. With the police at his heels Davis went to the de Villemont family chateau near Dijon where Matilde Vosiers offered to help Davis and Anne find Paul.

CHAPTER 25

ANNE DE VILLEMONT was going to be my partner in the enterprise without knowing it. There was no way around that. She was marked for death as soon as she awarded legal guardianship of Paul to the de Gondes, those gracious representatives of the OEI; and the OEI was highly adaptable. If it couldn't arrange for Anne to share a fatal accident with me, it would very soon arrange for her to have an accident of her own.

And from my own coldly point of view, Anne had a passport which might help me get across the Italian frontier in her company. She would know where to find Paul and could lead me to him.

We desperately needed each other now, that was what it came down to.

It was a touchy business getting hold of the concealed gun, a handy little automatic, fully loaded. I finally managed to do it by settling myself on the couch with an old copy of Le Figaro to mask my activity, and then by working the automatic up between the cushions, inch by inch, until I could bear it away in the folded newspaper. I stored it under the mattress of my bed and left the paper with it. Le Figaro was going to be even more useful than the gun when the time came.

Meanwhile, I wondered about the location of Anne's room.

The lawyers to draw up the documents concerning Paul's guardianship arrived before noon — four of them, as cold-eyed and efficient-looking as a school of sharks — and from the way they were received by Bernard Bourdon and Claude de Gonde, I gathered they were very much part of the OEI themselves. When de Gonde re-entered the chateau after seeing them off I fervently put to him my hopes of paying a little visit to Madame de Villemont. If I could be conducted to her room.

"Well," he said affably, "I suppose farewells are in order, aren't they? But there's no need to rush them. You'll have plenty of time to say good-bye to Madame tomorrow evening."

"Tomorrow evening?" I echoed.

"That's right. You see, my friend, I'm not as heartless as you may think. In a couple of days, an agent will pick you up at Valence to deliver you to your ship. Since Georges is driving Madame de Villemont and young Bernard down to Saint-Trop' tomorrow evening, I've arranged for you to travel with them as far as Valence."

To the place of execution, I thought, but all I said was, "That's kind of you, monsieur."

"And one other thing." De Gonde's voice hardened. "No more baiting of Colonel Hardee. I prefer he doesn't know why you're really here, but don't take advantage of that."

"I understand, monsieur."

When we parted I hadn't gotten the information I wanted about Anne's room, but that warning against taking advantage of Colonel Hardee reminded me of the OEI membership list in his pocket.

I found the colonel in a billiard room practicing shots. He was in shirtsleeves, and his jacket was neatly draped over a chair near the door I entered. I stationed myself beside the chair, wondering if the list were still in the jacket pocket, and when I cautiously reached a hand behind me I felt with jubilance the stiffness of folded papers.

He motioned at the table. "Care to have a game?"

"I'm not too good at it."

"It wouldn't matter if you were. The table's dead and the cues are crooked, but as they say back home, mister, it's the only game in town."

That was at five o'clock, and during the next hours I was never allowed enough time unobserved to spirit those papers out of the jacket.

I finally solved the problem by deliberately making a shot which lifted the ball right off the table and sent it bouncing into a far corner of the room. The colonel looked at me with surprise, then went to retrieve it. By the time he returned, his papers were safely tucked away beneath my shirt.

Then it was eight-twenty.

My room was nearby. I turned to the job at hand quickly and methodically.

From beneath the mattress of the four-poster I extracted the gun and the copy of Le Figaro. The gun I stowed in my hip pocket. Le Figaro I loosely crumpled into two wads of kindling. One I placed on the floor at the edge of the bed where the bedspread hung down over it; the other I piled on the bed itself. When I stood on the bed and dragged down an end of the canopy over it, a cloud of dust descended on me.

I stepped down from the bed, put a match to the crumpled newspaper on it and to the pile on the floor. The paper smoldered and burst into flame. The next instant, as if the canopy had been soaked in gasoline, a tongue of flame raced along it to the top of the four-poster.

I went to the door as smoke thickened around me. I picked up the glass of bourbon I had left on the dresser, threw open the door, and staggered backward into the hallway. The open door provided a draft like a chimney. There was a roar of flame, smoke billowed out into the hall, and the guard raced up and looked at the holocaust with a stunned expression.

He took a step toward the door, then retreated from it. "Fire!" he bellowed at the staircase, and I heard the cry repeated in the distance, heard a woman screaming, and the sound of feet thundering up the staircase.

"We've got to get everyone out of here!" I shouted, and the guard wheeled on me, his face twisted with rage.

"You drunken fool!" he snarled and sent the glass flying from my hand.

"Look, we don't have time for that!" There was no need for me to play drunk any longer; I could be expected to sober up in the face of this disaster. "Where's Madame de Villemont's room?"

"At the other end of the hall. It's in no danger."

I found the room at once because its door was already open a few inches and a frightened Djilana, the maid, was peering out of it.

"Is Madame inside?" I demanded.

"Yes, what is it?" Djilana said fearfully. "Is there danger?"

"Great danger. A fire. You and Madame must go downstairs at once."

"And tell her to bring her passport," I called over his shoulder. "Monsieur de Gonde would'nt want it left lying around."

"Yes, yes, the passport too," Djilana said as she popped out of sight behind the door.

Davis and Anne make a desperate attempt to leave the chateau.

Good Life in Old Estonian Capital

By THOMAS M. BROWN

TALLIN, U.S.S.R. (UPI) — I almost got run over here the other day by a boy on a bicycle carrying a blaring transistor radio.

It wouldn't have surprised me back home in Seattle or in Helsinki where I'm based. But it did in the Soviet Union.

The transistor radio explosion is not the only sign of increasing affluence and an increasingly unideological life to be found in this ancient Estonian capital.

There is also the home-grown equivalent of the hippies — lads with hair far over the collar and clothes that could only have come from the West. I even spotted an occasional modest miniskirt.

* * *

In recent years, Tallin has acquired the reputation of being the swingingest city in the Soviet Union. From what I saw, it may well be.

The Estonians seem to share their Finnish neighbors' respect for the good life and unconcern for living beyond their means. And it is apparent that life here is becoming better all the time.

Jazz is popular. A major jazz festival was held last spring.

At night the city's first-class restaurants are jammed. The innumerable coffee shops, as much a part of Tallin as sidewalk cafes are of Paris, are packed all day.

The Estonians seem considerably better dressed than their fellow Soviet citizens in Moscow. Their clothes are more fashionable by Western standards, are brighter, and in some instances appear better made.

PRICES HIGH

The prices are about as high though. A run-of-the-mill pair of men's or women's shoes cost $38.85.

Tallin also is rapidly becoming one of the most popular tourist stops on the Baltic.

The old Hanseatic port, which dates from at least 1154, was thrown wide open for tourists just two years ago for the first time since it was occupied by the Russians in 1940.

Eastern Turnpikes Expensive

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The author of the following reflections on driving in the East moved earlier this year from Sacramento, Calif., to Alexandria, Va.)

By DEREK SCHOEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like Hollywood or the hippies, freeways are the butt of countless jokes about California.

So humor-connected has become the subject of the Golden state's high - speed, traffic-clogged highways that even one-time Californians tend to forget—at least until they come East—one nice thing about freeways: "They're free.

* * *

Not so the amalgamation of turnpikes, thruways and the like that are the East Coast equivalent.

You can drive at high speeds in the East. You can travel comfortably. But you can't do it for nothing.

UNWARY TRAVELER

Take, for example, the unsuspecting ex-Californian who drives from Washington to Philadelphia on the newest roads available.

He travels Interstate 95 the 40 miles to Baltimore, Md., in less than an hour. So far he is out of pocket only the cost of the gas his car has burned.

But then he begins searching his pockets for change and grappling with his wallet for cash in a pantomime that seems endless.

First, he arrives at a tunnel that takes him beneath Baltimore's harbor. It's a nice, clean tunnel and only a Scrooge would begrudge the 50 cents he has to fork out to use it.

TOLL BOOTHS

Then it's off through northern Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey, where the toll booths seem only slightly less numerous than the trees.

Consider the Maryland section of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Highway. The toll is $1, or about 2 cents a mile.

* * *

And for the unwary, the cost can go up. The driver who has paid his $1 and follows a sign to one off-highway service station finds it costs him two bits to get back on.

Later come the 30-cent toll for the 15-mile Delaware section of the same highway, 50 cents for crossing the Delaware Memorial Bridge at Wilmington and 40 cents for the 30 miles of the New Jersey Turnpike to the Philadelphia turnoff.

MISSED EXITS

The jokes about California freeways usually include a reference to the driver who missed his turnoff and had to travel many extra miles before he could turn around.

There's an East Coast variation to that. Leave the toll roads in Maryland and Delaware before reaching the end and you'll find an unmanned toll booth plus a sign reading, "Exact Change Only."

* * *

Presumably: No change, no exit.

Perhaps the crowning indignity for the ex-Californian comes when he reaches the ancient, rusty Tacony-Palmyra Bridge spanning the Delaware River.

Idling his car to a stop at the inevitable toll booth, he sits ready again to pay harrassing tribute.

NICKEL TOLL

Then, with due solemnity, the tollkeeper demands a whole nickel.

That swells the total toll to $3. And probably sours for all time—as far as the ex-Westerner is concerned—jokes about free California freeways.

Shipbuilders Union OKs Newport News Walkout

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — Union workers at the world's largest shipyard have authorized the first general strike in the 81-year history of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co.

Heeding the pleas of officials of the Peninsula Shipbuilders Association, the union workers authorized a walkout by a 4-1 margin despite a court order directing the workers to stay on the job.

* * *

The vote was taken after the association, which represents 15,000 of the shipyards' 21,000 employes, staged a mass meeting Sunday at a high school football stadium.

Union comanager R. M. Bryant drew repeated applause from the 8,000 rank-and-file members attending, particularly when he said, "I've never been in jail before, but it might be a good idea to go now."

STRIKE INJUNCTION

The reference was to a temporary injunction against a strike issued Saturday at the request of the shipyard management by Circuit Judge Henry Garnett.

The union's bylaws provide that a two-thirds vote of the membership is necessary to call a strike. Sunday's vote, union officials said, was 5,253 for the strike and 1,299 against.

Union members were given handbills urging them to honor picket lines established several days ago by employes of the shipyard's transportation department.

* * *

Transportation department employes staged a walkout last week in protest over the suspension without pay of three department employes who had refused to work overtime.

Mosquitoes Back to Normal . . . Ugh!

DETROIT (AP) — Early spring rains gave Michigan's hordes of mosquitos unusually good breeding grounds this year but hot weather has cut the population to normal, says Donald Juchartz, an agricultural agent for Michigan State University.

But he predicts there will still be more than enough of the bloodthirsty pests around to plague campers, fishermen and boaters well into the fall.

* * *

And even with the hot weather, marshy areas and ponds still have more mosquitos per square foot than usual.

The outdoorsman will take scant comfort in knowing that mosquitoes live off other things besides his blood.

When he's not around, mosquitoes eat plants and animals, especially birds. Male mosquitoes, whose needle - like beaks won't pierce human skin, usually feed on plant juices. Females are the only ones that bite humans, settling for birds and animals when men aren't available.

LIKE DARK SKINS

Researchers have found mosquitoes are attracted most to dark-skinned persons in dark clothes and those who breathe heavily or wear perfume or after shave lotion.

They tend to avoid people in poor health or with cool skin temperature.

What is the best repellent?

Dr. Marston Bates, a mosquito expert from the University of Michigan, recommends anything containing dimethylphthalate, a plastic solvent.

Dr. Bates tested the chemical in the jungles of Columbia for the U. S. and British armed forces in World War II. "Nobody knows how it works," he says, "but you can watch the mosquito approach and hover within inches without ever landing."

Juchartz agrees dimethylphthalate is the best repellent. But the best way of dealing with mosquitos, he says, is with spray insecticides and well-designed programs to eliminate their breeding grounds.

House Studies Projects to Lessen Travel Woes

WASHINGTON (AP) — If freeways confuse you, the train trip from Washington to New York depresses you or the long auto ride down the East Coast to Florida tires you, take heart: the government is working on them.

The prospects:

● A computerized device to tell the motorist the right time and speed to enter a freeway and to signal him when he has reached the exit he wants.

* * *

● Part speed ahead with a 77-mile-an-hour experimental rail service between Washington and New York this autumn and studies in the works aimed at examining a 120-mile-an-hour full-speed service.

● A train to carry you and your car from Washington to Jacksonville, Fla., with food and entertainment available at your seat in your car.

PROJECTS DISCUSSED

The three projects were discussed earlier this year before a House Appropriations subcommittee which made testimony public Sunday.

Lowell K. Bridwell, federal highway administrator, likened the freeway guide service to an air controller telling a pilot when he can move into a landing pattern.

He said the device could cut the high accident rate at freeway entrances and help the 15 per cent of drivers who miss the exit they want.

The device, to be ready for testing this year, would include a receiver set in the motorist's car and a transmitter at each interchange that would gauge traffic flow and memorize destinations.

Robert A. Nelson, director of the Office of High Speed Ground Transportation, said problems of road bed, tunnels, curves and the like will keep the Washington-New York experimental train to a 76-77 mile an hour average speed. But it will approach 120 miles an hour at some points

Nelson estimated it would cost at least $3 billion for right-of-way to build a completely new track from Washington to Boston that would accommodate trains that average 120 miles an hour.

The government isn't ready to commit money to sustain that speed, but it will study the possibilities, said Nelson.

Colleges, Museums Rivals for Art Personnel

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a developing dilemma in the world of the visual arts.

The problem is that there is a great shortage of trained, experienced personnel capable of teaching art history or working in a museum as a curator or director.

* * *

The university art departments need more teachers. The museums need more people educated in art, whom they can train as administrators.

It is ironic that the campus and the museum are being forced into increasing competition for young talent, for there has been, and still is, a coolness and mistrust between the two camps.

In this competition the academicians have several advantages. And looking to the future, the museums will be increasingly dependent upon the mortar board set for the young people they will require.

The personnel shortage has been growing for at least two decades. The reasons are pretty obvious.

* * *

On the cultural circuit there is a saying that, "Hardly a day goes by but what someone opens a new museum somewhere." Every state, and some 350 communities, have started arts councils and arts centers in the last few years. Major colleges and universities have been expanding their art departments.

The director of a major museum in New York says he gets letters every week from colleagues around the country asking whether he knows where to find candidates for staff jobs. Another source says he is familiar with 15 positions open in various cities, without any immediate takers.

One aspect of the problem is that graduate students in art history tend to stay in the ivy-colored halls of learning. Almost 90 per cent of graduating Ph.D.s stay in the teaching profession.

Why do universities have the upper hand?

* * *

Money is the biggest factor. Job security and time for writing and research are others.

The situation is described this way by Lloyd Goodrich, veteran director of the Whitney Museum of American Art here:

"The trouble is that the museums are all local institutions, with no paying body of students, no alumni. Their support has to come from a relatively small part of the art-conscious public, within the community, the city, the county.

"What it comes down to is that museums cannot afford to pay the salaries that universities can, with their state, federal and foundation backing," said Goodrich.

Goodrich succinctly describes another factor:

"The museums can't match the universities in job security. Anyone who teaches for a few years acquires tenure, a permanent job, as well as the backing of his faculty."

In the past, at least, most museum people and most teachers have been less than bosom pals.

A foundation executive remarked on that score, "There are disputes and jealousies." And another said, "University art departments and local museums do not have very good lines of communication."

Bates Lowry, 43, head of the art department at Brown University, is a man about to cross over from the campus to the museum. He recently was chosen to become, next year, director of the Museum of Modern Art here. He makes this observation:

"A unique situation in America in the past 15 years has been the increasing gulf between the museum and the academic world. In my opinion, this is an artificial situation. Both are concerned with bringing to the public a greater enjoyment and understanding of art."

Increasing Segregation in Suburbs Is Intolerable

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.
Executive Director
National Urban League

America's suburbs are becoming increasingly segregated. Chicago's suburbs, for example, have a Negro population of about 3 per cent while the city itself is over one-fourth Negro. The majority of the Washington, D. C., population is Negro, but its suburbs are only about 6 per cent Negro.

YOUNG

This is an intolerable situation. Negroes are forced into overcrowded ghettos because discrimination in housing prevents them from living elsewhere. In addition to the damage done to the quality of American life by such segregation, further damage is done to the economic opportunities open to Negro citizens.

More than half of all new industrial and office construction has been outside the cities, putting jobs out of reach of the urban poor and the unemployed. If this trend continues, Negroes will find themselves in an even greater economic crisis than the present one.

It makes no sense for public housing projects to be built in overcrowded city ghettos when space and land and jobs are plentiful outide the city boundaries.

* * *

The walls the suburbs have built to isolate themselves from the reality of democratic life will have to crumble from pressures from businesses whose newly relocated plants need workers, and from government, which should no longer tolerate housing segregation.

* * *

While there is much debate over the government's role in ending housing discrimination, there was no debate when the government took steps which ensured racial segregation in housing.

RACIST COVENANTS

The Federal Housing Administration at one time encouraged the use of restrictive covenants to keep minority groups out of desirable neighborhoods, and throughout the '30s and 40s, other government agencies sold houses or backed mortgages on a racist basis.

When these policies were combined with the massive road building which, after the war, made the suburbs accessible to most Americans, the result was to freeze racist patterns into suburban life.

Although federal policies have been reversed, the damage has been done, and 80 per cent of all new homes built in America are built in suburbs from which Negroes are often excluded.

What has been done can be undone. Negroes must agressively seek new housing outside the ghetto or become further victimized by overpriced and overcrowded housing.

EQUAL HOUSING

The Urban League's Operation Equality program assists Negroes to move to better housing and gives white citizens the opportunity to desegregate their communities by helping Negroes obtain decent housing on an equal basis.

It is heartening that many people are rallying around the flag of equal housing opportunity. Builder Morris Milgram has been a pioneer in housing integration.

Jim: "John Crawford came out of retirement to win the Eastern Knockout team game with you, Tobias Stone, Alan Messer and Larry Rosler. How did he play after having been a social player for three years?"

JACOBY

Oswald: "He was quite rusty in the first set of boards but by the time the second set came around he was right back in form except that he played the dummy a trifle slower than he used to.

On the other hand his technique was perfect. We picked up 720 points worth 13 International Match points on this hand when the opposing South failed to use this correct technique."

Jim: "It is easy enough to go down with the South hand. Assuming that diamonds are opened and continued, South ruffs the third diamond and plays out the ace and king of trumps. The trumps don't break and, with the heart finesse losing, South is down one."

Oswald: "That's just the way the hand was played against us but Johnny used the winning technique. He ruffed the third diamond, played out the high clubs, cashed his ace of trumps, led a small trump and finessed dummy's jack. Then he drew the last trump and led hearts. When the queen failed to drop he conceded a heart trick."

Jim: "In case some of our readers will just say that Johnny was lucky and that he took the wrong percentage play when he tried a finesse rather than a drop with nine trumps, they should study the hand carefully."

TODAY'S QUESTION

You bid two no-trump. Your partner rebids to three hearts. What do you do now?

Oswald: "In that case, they will see that when Johnny took the trump finesse he didn't really care if the finesse won or lost. As far as his contract was concerned he could lose the finesse but could not lose the contract after both opponents followed to the first trump lead."

Jim: "If East held the queen of trumps he would have been on lead and forced to give John a ruff and discard or lead away from the queen of hearts."

3 Armed Bandits Rob Detroit Bar, Patrons of $800

DETROIT (UPI) — Three bandits, brandishing a butcher knife and pistol, robber a barmaid and customers of $800 late Saturday.

The barmaid, Peggy Calder, 52, told police the trio stole $500 from her cash register and $300 from patrons.

The customers were locked in a stockroom after being robbed, she said.

The bandits met William Grenatle, 68, on this way out and demanded his car. When Grenatle refused, they hit him and fled on foot.

Race Violence Erupts in Three U. S. Cities

By the Associated Press

A wave of destruction—window smashing, looting and rock throwing—grew into major proportions early today in the predominantly Negro north end of Waterloo, Iowa, before police dispersed the crowds.

The gangs broke up in about three hours. They fled as police approached.

* * *

Several persons were injured, including two Negroes and three whites cut by flying glass when rocks struck their cars.

Cause of the outbreak in the northeastern Iowa city of about 75,000 population, including some 6,000 Negroes, was not known, said Police Chief Robert Wright. He noted there had been minor disturbances there the previous two nights.

DISSATISFACTION

Dr. Warren Nash, a Negro physician, said Negro dissatisfaction in Waterloo is caused by "the usual things—housing, employment."

City officials, however, have attempted to avoid a repetition of violence last year by tearing down some slums, establishing neighborhood youth centers and hiring a Negro policeman.

* * *

A new disturbance broke out Sunday in Tampa, Fla., where rioting began last month. A white helmet patrol, formed of about 150 Negro youths, manned the streets of Negro areas where the police had imposed a curfew to stop the racial violence.

A quiet night was reported today by police with no recurrence of the window smashing, looting and fire-bombing that had erupted early Sunday.

'HOODLUMS' BLAMED

Tampa Mayor Nick Nuccio charged that the outbreak was not a racial matter but was caused by "a bunch of young hoodlums trying to go and steal."

Another racial disorder was reported in Kansas City, Mo. More than a dozen arrests were reported by police in one section of Swope Park, a public recreation area on the city's east side.

Minor cuts and bruises were suffered by three persons, including a policeman, and several police vehicles were damaged in a barrage of rocks and bottles.

The incident reportedly began with the arrest of a Negro on a charge of illegal sale of liquor in the park.

Mail volume is increasing at a rate of more than 3 billion pieces a year, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien says.

Role Not Romantic, and Astaire Is Glad

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "Thank heaven," said the ageless Fred Astaire, "I don't have any of those romantic numbers to do. I've done so many of them, and they're terribly hard work." The century's most celebrated dancer was slumped in a chair in his dressing room at Warner Bros. He was awaiting a call to the studio's "jungle" outdoor set, where he was to appear in a brief longshot for "Finian's Rainbow."

THOMAS

Astaire is a sensitive, even touchy man, and the interviewer learns to skirt certain areas. For instance, he is bored by references to his age, which happens to be 67. He is oblivious to the passage of time and couldn't tell you that it had been 11 years since he filmed his last screen musical, "Silk Stockings."

He has done three straight roles, in "On the Beach," "Notorious Landlady," "The Pleasure of His Company."

Nor does Astaire talk about his dance partners, who have included Rita Hayworth, Vera-Ellen, Judy Garland, Leslie Caron, Audrey Hepburn and Cyd Charisse, as well as Ginger Rogers. "Finian's Rainbow" is the first musical in which he does not dance with a glamourous partner.

AVOIDS ASPERSION

"It's such a relief," he sighed, while avoiding any aspersion against his famed partners. "Those romantic dances take so long to rehearse, and it's murder trying to devise new ideas." He has long refused to repeat numbers.

"This role I'm playing (Finian) is a real character, a salty old Irishman. All of the dances come out of the character and the situations; I don't have any real solos as such. And I like it that way."

* * *

Astaire is once again associated with Hermes Pan, with whom he has collaborated on dances since the RKO years with Ginger. As for getting back in form, Astaire remarked that it is still no problem.

"I never work out between jobs; calisthenics are a bore," he commented. "When I know that I am going back to work, I start getting in condition a couple of weeks beforehand. No exercises, just dancing. So far I've never had any problems."

DEMANDS PERFECTION

The hallmark of the Astaire art has always been the search for perfection. First on the stage, then in films and lately in television, he has continued to insist on class, without compromise. That's why you will never see him in a substandard movie or even on a television variety show.

"I would never do a variety hour; there are too many of them," he remarked. "They all have that sameness—dialogue with the guest stars and all that."

He is contemplating another television special for early next year. In recent years he brought forth three much-honored "Evenings with Fred Astaire," and he retains ownership of the films.

"One of the networks wanted to put them on during the summer," he said. "I wouldn't go for it; they're not 'summer reruns.' They'll either be put on during prime time of the regular season or not at all."

Congress Faces Big Workload

Key Issues Unsolved in Preholiday Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress returned from a 10-day recess today facing the prospect of staying in session until well into autumn if it is going to clean up the work laid out for it.

All the problems put aside for the third long congressional holiday of the year were still waiting to be solved and a new and tougher one is likely to be added —a request for a tax increase.

* * *

Despite claims of Democratic leaders that the first six months of the session produced significant achievements, little that was not tied to the Vietnam war was accomplished and the bulk of President Johnson's program is still to be voted on.

Neither the House nor Senate planned to deal with major bills until later in the week.

RIOT CURBS

In the House, a bill aimed at curbing riots is to be taken up Thursday and its overwhelming approval is expected. The Senate should get to a truth-in-lending bill during the week after disposing of bills authorizing funds for the Atomic Energy Commission and appropriating money to run Congress.

The truth-in-lending bill, finally making it to the floor after six years of battling in committee, would require the disclosure of the true annual interest rate and the total interest in dollars on all consumer debt transactions. The House hasn't even held hearings on it.

* * *

Little other major legislation is ready for floor action. The House Ways and Means Committee, which was expected to bring out a Social Security revision bill last month, is talking now of needing two or three more weeks to work on it. The Senate won't begin hearings on it until the House passes it.

Hearings are still under way in the House on the administration's antipoverty program and will probably last all month. The Senate has yet to begin hearings on a House-passed school aid bill.

POSTAL HIKES

Johnson's requests for an $825-million increase in postal rates and a 4½ per cent pay raise for government workers are still in committee and not likely to emerge before the end of July. His bill to beef up local law enforcement agencies should reach the House floor soon.

One pressing problem to be dealt with is a bill to head off a threatened nationwide rail strike.

Car Hits Tree; City Man Hurt

A Pontiac man was injured yesterday when his car struck a tree off Bagley just north of the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks.

Harry J. Smith, 21, of 506 Howland is reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

Police said Smith's care went out of control and left the road about 6:10 p.m.

Lone Ranger's Mother Dies

Mrs. Louis L. (Bertine) O'Brecht, the mother of Brace Beemer, radio's "Lone Ranger," died yesterday in her West Bloomfield Township home after a long illness. She was 89.

Beemer, who died March 1, 1965, played the masked hero for two decades over 200 radio stations across the country. The show ran until 1956.

Service will be 1 p.m. Wednesday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, Birmingham, with cremation at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, Troy.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Edward Gremley of West Bloomfield Township; five grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Meeting Is Set

Oakland Licensed Beverage Association will meet at the Northwood Inn, Detroit, for a business meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The board will meet at 6 p.m., and dinner is at 7 p.m. preceding the meeting. The search for new leadership will be dis-

Visiting Girl, 14, Is Injured Diving in Shallow Water

An Illinois girl visiting a Bloomfield Township family is in critical condition today after hitting her head diving into shallow water in Lower Long Lake yesterday.

Christine Corso, 14, of Pekin, Ill., was visiting relatives at the home of Frank Borgon of 1530 Kirkway, police said.

She was injured yesterday afternoon diving from a raft in less than two feet of water and may have suffered a broken neck, police said.

She was pulled from the water after the dive by William Singley of Troy, police said. She is in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Detroit Man Duels With Friend, Dies

DETROIT (UPI)—A gun duel between two long-time friends resulted in the death of Willie Lyles, police said yesterday.

Lyles, 55, and Nathaniel Anderson, 45, had quarreled in recent weeks over a gun Lyles had which Anderson claimed belonged to him, police said.

The two met in front of Anderson's home late Saturday and Lyles suffered a fatal gunshot wound in the throat.

Woman Is Hurt as Horse Bolts

NEW YORK (AP) — A screaming woman tourist was thrown to the pavement Sunday from one of Central Park's hansom cabs when its horse suddenly bolted and set out for Fifth Avenue.

Josephine Sasso, 41, of Stockton, Calif., was reported in good condition with leg and face cuts and bruises.

Her husband and their three children had alighted from the cab before the horse bolted.

Waterford Youth Is Injured in Crash

A Waterford Township youth is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered at 1:56 a.m. today when the car in which he was riding left Cooley Lake Road and hit two trees.

Hospitalized was James L. Soldwish, 20, of 5531 S. Rainbow.

* * *

The driver of the car, Bruce A. Milkey, 20, of 6990 Andersonville, Waterford Township, told police he swerved to avoid another vehicle just west of McDougal and went off the road.

Milkey was treated at the hospital and released.

LIVING FLAGS, HALF CENTURY APART — Sailor Dennis Haskins, 21, of Buffalo, N.Y., holds a photo of a living flag formed by U.S. Navy recruits in 1917, while on the turf of Chicago's Soldiers' Field 10,000 Navy men form a new living flag. The earlier formation was at Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training Station during World War I.

Peace Corps Test Is Set for Saturday

A Peace Corps placement test will be given in room 1 of the Federal Building at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. Application forms for the test are available from local post offices or from the Peace Corps in Washington, D.C. 20525.

Applications must be presented to the tester before taking the test.

The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a foreign language, not education or achievement.

Cyclist Faces Charges in Area Chase

A 24-year-old Oak Park motorcyclist allegedly led officers from Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake and West Bloomfield Township police departments in a 110-mile-an-hour chase down narrow, twisting Orchard Lake Road yesterday afternoon.

The chase began, according to police, when Eugene Ostrow of 15420 Northgate attempted to flee after Keego Harbor patrolman Arnold Carr stopped him at Cass Lake and Orchard Lake Roads for reckless driving.

* * *

Patrol cars from the other two departments joined the chase. Ostrow was caught when he spilled reportedly trying to avoid a roadblock south of Pontiac Trail.

He suffered minor injuries and bruises.

Ostrow is in Oakland County Jail this morning charged by all three departments with reckless driving and fleeing from an officer.

Arraignment is scheduled today in Keego Harbor before Judge Vern Bradburn.

Moving Firm Offers Aid in Junk Mail Protest

The president of an area moving firm has offered a moving van and driver to help an Avon Township woman who plans to deliver tons of junk mail to congressmen in protest over rising postal rates.

The service will be provided by the Three Ivory Brothers Moving Co., headed by John Ivory, according to Mrs. William Tymkow, who is leading the fight.

Scores of letters from persons supporting her have been received by Mrs. Tymkow, 47955 Dequindre, Avon Township.

Since her campaign received national publicity last month, she has only received two letters objecting to her plan to transport "junk mail" to Washington, D.C.

* * *

The project was initiated by the Avon-Rochester Chapter of the Oakland County Democratic Women's Federation, of which Mrs. Tymkow is vice president.

* * *

Collection centers for the junk mail have been set up throughout the county and in several communities in the state.

Needs More Exposure

Romney Eyes N.H. Competition

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—Being a golfer as well as a presidential hopeful, Michigan Gov. George Romney listened when the state political pros told him it will take persistent practice to learn the New Hampshire course where the nation's first primary is held.

If he decides to make the Republican presidential primary tour next year, Romney promised to give his campaign clubs a workout on New Hampshire's tricky but vital course March 12.

* * *

Romney won't be alone.

He expects definite competition from former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, an acknowledged master of New Hampshire's GOP greens, and a possible challenge by California Gov. Ronald Reagan, backed by the Granite State's substantial conservative forces.

PERSONAL APPROACH

The Michigan governor is aware that it will take a great deal of personal-approach politics to win in New Hampshire—where grass roots success depends heavily on a candidate's ability to shake hands.

There was general agreement that Romney needed more exposure.

* * *

A survey by Romney backers showed their man trailing Nixon in New Hampshire, generally because more party members know Nixon from past elections.

The talks, receptions and news conferences during Romney's four-day visit to the Lake Winnipesaukee region last week were designed to give Romney a chance to met state Republicans and offer his views.

PRODUCTIVE TALKS

Romney indicated that he thought the talks with what he termed a "cross section of New Hampshire Republican leaders" were productive and that he could win on primary day.

The major selling point for Romney was given as "he's a winner" who would stand the best chance of ousting President Johnson. The unspoken but obvious reference was to Nixon's 1960 loss in the presidential race and 1962 defeat in the California gubernatorial contest.

* * *

The more influential state Republicans declined to say publicly whether they would support Romney.

Most begged off by saying it was too early. Others contended they had been burned by early pledges in 1964 and would not go on the record now.

MIXED REACTION

No Republican who had been cool to Romney before the visit came away waving Romney banners. Those who sided with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in 1964 said they found Romney an excellent presidential prospect.

Romney was unable to get Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe out of the picture, despite private conversations with him.

* * *

Volpe is believed to see himself as a New England "favorite son" candidate — although key Romney people privately say that the Massachusetts governor will settle for a vice presidential nomination.

New England's other Republican governor, John H. Chafee of Rhode Island, repeated allegiance to Romney, however.

ROMNEY BACKERS

At Romney's side during the visit were David Goldberg, who engineered Henry Cabot Lodge's jolting political coup in the 1964 primary, and former National Gop Chairman Leonard Hall heads a national Romney for President group.

When Romney's party gathered at the Laconia Airport Saturday, the governor said he had no immediate plans to return to New Hampshire before the first of the year. But his lieutenants planned to move promptly to solidify support among those who were impressed by Romney.

Romney Can't Head Off $35 Million in Medicaid

LANSING (AP) — A $35-million portion of Michigan's medicaid program remains on the lawbooks despite efforts of Gov. George Romney to delay implementation of the costly plan.

It was uncertain whether the Republican - dominated Legislature would approve an appropriation to cover the extra cost, but some House members said the state might have to pay the money anyway.

The House refused Saturday to accept a conference committee report on a bill, passed by both houses of the Legislature, to delay state aid to needy persons for such things as prescription drugs, mental services and artificial limbs.

The House voted 47-34 in favor of the compromise settlement on the bill, but 56 votes were required. Some members were absent from the unusual Saturday session, while others were attending negotiating sessions on other bills.

STATE REMAINS LIABLE

"I'm not too disturbed," said Republican House conferee James Farnsworth of Plainwell. "I think we can try again later."

Meanwhile, Farnsworth said, Michigan remains liable for the extra aid payments, which he estimated at a potential $35 million a year.

Farnsworth and Rep. William Ryan, D - Detroit, House Democratic leader and another conferee on the medicaid bill, said it was possible the courts would order the state to pay the money even though the Legislature had not appropriated it.

Romney tried late last year to delay implementation of the medicaid program, noting it was costing more money than had been approved for it. But State Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled he could not hold back the program without legislative approval.

Federal law does not require full implementation until 1975.

Prices Are Higher

Lively Showing by Stock Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market put on a lively showing early this afternoon. Prices were higher and trading was heavy.

The market rose from the start and widened its gains.

The advance on average was accomplished despite another spate of selling of American Telephone which sagged more than a point. It seemed destined to be the most active issue for the third straight session.

The ticker tape ran about three minutes late on the New York Stock Exchange before it caught abreast of transactions.

On the American Stock Exchange speculative fever ran high and the ticker tape lagged by 21 minutes.

Airlines, steels, tobaccos, drugs, aerospace issues and electronics were generally higher.

Gains outnumbered losers by well over 2 to 1.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.1 at 328.3 with industrials up 2.4, rails up 1.0 and utilities off .8.

On the American Stock Exchange, volume soared amid heavy dealings in low-priced issues. The trend was generously higher. Burma Mines, which sells at less than a dollar a share, was very active but unchanged. Also very active and selling at less than $5 a share were Royal American, off a fraction, Asamera Oil, up a fraction and Hoffman Industries, up a fraction.

Freehan Will Bat Seventh

Minnesota's Chance to Start for American League

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Right-hander Dean Chance will draw the assignment as starting pitcher in a ball park he knows well when the American League seeks to break the National's victory string in Tuesday's All-Star game.

Manager Hank Bauer, whose Baltimore Orioles broke the National League's hold on the World Series in four straight last fall, jumped the gun and named his starting pitcher and batting order Sunday night.

The announcement was scheduled for today at the same time Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers tells of his choices.

He's expected to name Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants to take the mound. The right-hander from the Dominican Republic boasts a 12-7 record and pitched a four-hitter against the Dodgers Saturday.

Chance hurled five seasons with the California Angels including 1966 at the new $24-million Anaheim Stadium, site of this All-Star tussle scheduled to start at 7:15 p.m. (EDT).

After last season, he was traded to Minnesota where he has compiled an 11-7 mark so far. In 1964, the year he won the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the majors, Chance hurled three runless innings in the All-Star game.

* * *

Bauer's announced batting order has Brooks Robinson, Baltimore, 3b; Rod Carew, Minnesota, 2b; Tony Oliva, Minnesota, cf; Harmon Killebrew, Minnesota, 1b; Tony Conigliaro, Boston, rf; Carl Yastrezemski, Boston, lf; Bill Freehan, Detroit, c; Rico Petrocelli, Boston, ss; and Chance.

A pitcher can work no more than three innings.

Injuries to Al Kaline and Frank Robinson have damaged the American attack. Detroit's Kaline, the top vote-getter in the balloting for the starting team, suffered a broken bone in his hand when he hit a bat rack when angered over striking out.

Baltimore's Robinson, the league's most valuable player in 1966 and the World Series star, has been bothered by double vision since colliding with Al Weis of the Chicago White Sox on June 27.

Defensively, each manager faces a similar problem. The voting failed to name a centerfielder on either team. Bauer's solution was naming Oliva who normally plays in right.

Alston has Lou Brock of St. Louis, a leftfielder, plus Hank Aaron of Atlanta and Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh who normally play in right.

San Francisco's Willie Mays has started in center for the Nationals every year since 1957 but was not voted to the starting team this time. Neither was Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees, but both are reserves.

Starters, excepting pitchers, were picked by vote of the players, coaches and managers in each league with players barred from voting for a teammate.

Commissioner William D. Eckert set the unique starting time. This sends the NBC telecast into the prime evening hours in eastern sectors.

In addition to the outfielders, Alston goes with a starting club having Joe Torre, c; Orlando Cepeda, St. Louis, 1b; Bill Mazeroski, Pittsburgh, 2b; Gene Alley, Pittsburgh, ss; and Richie Allen, Philadelphia, 3b.

Even though the National League's power appears more formidable and it holds a 19-17-1 over-all advantage, American League followers recall their teams won in 1937, 1947 and 1957.

SKIPPING HOME—Detroit Tigers' outfielder Jim Northrup skips by Boston Red Sox catcher Mike Ryan and leaves him lying flat with ball in hand as he missed the tag on this third-inning play in the first game of their twinbill in Detroit yesterday. Northrup came in from second on Bill Freehan's single to left. The Sox protested but to no avail. Heading for the plate is Tigers' next batter Mickey Stanley. Bengals came up with four runs in the inning en route to a 10-4 decision.

Split With Red Sox

Tigers Need 50 More Wins

DETROIT (AP) — With the Detroit Tigers at the All-Star break, Manager Mayo Smith said he thinks his club must win 50 more games to capture the American League pennant.

"I still think 95 victories will take it," Smith said Sunday after watching the Tigers split a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox. The Tigers won the first game 10-4 to run their winning streak to seven, but the Red Sox took the nightcap 3-0 and broke a five-game losing streak.

* * *

"I'm not happy with where we are," Smith said. "But we could have been a hell of a lot worse off. We went through a bad streak and we're fortunate to be where we are.

"We've got to play better the second half," he said.

The Tigers stand 45-35 at the break, in second place two games behind Chicago. Minnesota is only half a game behind Detroit.

Dick McAuliffe and pitcher Earl Wilson clubbed homers for the Tigers in the opener and Jim Northrup smacked a two-run single in the decisive third inning.

McAuliffe smacked his homer in the first inning for Detroit. It lifted the All-Star shortstop to the Tiger lead with 16, one ahead of injured Al Kaline.

* * *

Boston got to Wilson for three runs in the third. Two Tiger errors and singles by pitcher Gary Bell and Carl Yastrzemski did the damage.

But the Tigers roared back in the bottom of the third. With one out, Lenny Green singled. Jerry Lumpe grounded out, but Dick McAuliffe and Norm Cash drew walks.

WILD PITCH

Green scored on a wild pitch and Jim Northrup followed with a two-run single. Freehan drove him home with a single.

Detroit got four more in the fourth on Wilson's homer, a double by Green and singles by Lumpe, McAuliffe and Cash.

* * *

The Tigers added one in the seventh on a single by Northrup, an error and Mickey Stanley's single.

Wilson weakened in the eighth and allowed a run off singles by Yastrzemski, George Thomas and Reggie Smith. Mike Marshall relieved Wilson and retired the side.

Wilson, who has whipped Boston four straight times, said, "I've just been lucky against them, I guess. I had a good fast ball and a pretty good slider today.

* * *

"I hit a fast ball for the homer and then I didn't get any more balls to swing at," he added.

The Tigers go against the Senators at Washington Thursday with Joe Sparma and Denny McLain scheduled to pitch.

Former City Golf Champ on Coast Publinx Squad

The winningest player in the history of the Pontiac Medal Play tournament will be representing California when the 42nd U.S. Amatuer Public Links championship opens Wednesday at Jefferson Park Golf Course in Seattle, Wash.

He's Mike Andonian, former Pontiac schoolteacher and six-time winner of the city crown. He now lives in Camarillo, Calif.

Andonian is one of three former Pontiac Medal Play titlists who'll be on hand for the tournament which is being played for the first time as a medal event.

The other ex-city title-holders are Dick Robertson and Ron Rothbarth. Robertson led the field in the recent sectional qualifying round at Burroughs Golf Club.

* * *

A field of 150 will begin play on Wednesday and Thursday with the low 60 scorers moving into the final two rounds on Friday and Saturday.

Defending champion Monty Kaser of Wichita, Kan., turned professional and won't be around for this one.

* * *

Qualifiers for the tournament represent a cross section of America. Their ages range from 14 to 56.

Mike San Filippo, a seven-handicap player from Miami Shores, Fla., is the youngest at 14. Mark R. McCumber of Jacksonville, Fla., is second youngest at 15.

Representing Michigan along with Rothbarth and Robertson will be Ronald Brooks of Ferndale, Allan W. Thompson of Pleasant Rdige, James Law of Harper Woods, Claude Dwight of Detroit, Curtis Walker of Detroit, Timo Kilpelainen of Farmington, Andy Woodard of Detroit and Graham Walker of Rochester.

* * *

A team championship also will be decided in the first 36 holes. There are 29 teams entered, each composed of the three lowest scorers in a sectional qualifying round.

On the Michigan sectional squad are Robertson, Thompson and Law. Andonian joins Ray Swedo and Bill Eaton on the California team.

Petty Wins '300' Despite Bad Tire

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — It was like running on a flat tire," said Richard Petty of one wobbly lap that nearly cost him a record victory in the NASCAR Grand National Northern 300.

* * *

A faulty right front tire installed in a pit stop on the 220th lap brought Petty in for an unscheduled stop Sunday that put second-place finisher Darel Dieringer out in front momentarily.

Petty, of Bandelman, N.C., nosed out Dieringer, of Charlotte, N.C., by less than a lap in record time of 3:08.50 hours.

Petty's 1967 Plymouth and Dieringer's Junior Johnson 1967 Ford Fairlane were the only two cars among 36 starters to finish the 300 laps on the one-mile, paved Trenton Speedway.

Petty's 13th victory this year was worth $5,000 of the total $25,000 purse. The 30-year-old current NASCAR national point leader has won 61 races in his nine-year career.

* * *

His average speed of 95.322 m.p.h. broke the Trenton Speedway NASCAR competition mark of 88 m.p.h. set in 1959 by Tom Pistone in a Thunderbird during a 150-mile race.

The lead changed hands between Petty and Dieringer several times during the race in which they were often so close that their cars bumped.

Lions at Work

Vets in Rookie Camp

The spotlight is on a couple of veterans and a trio of prize college products in the Detroit Lions' rookie camp which opened yesterday at Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills.

* * *

The veterans in the 'rookie' lineup are former Michigan State star Mickey Walker and Chuck Walton, a 255-pound lineman who is checking into camp four years late.

Walker, the East Detroiter who played on three Eastern Division championship teams with the New York Giants, is returning to pro ball after a year as assistant football coach at Kansas State.

The Lions drafted Walton for delivery in 1963, but Walton bypassed the Detroiters and elected to play in the Canadian Football League where he starred with the Montreal Alouettes and the Hamilton Tiger Cats.

* * *

"We are bringing in a flock of players for the early camp," said Lions coach Joe Schmidt.

GEMS, MAYBE

"But we have good reports on them and who knows, we might just come up with a couple of gems."

* * *

While Walker and Walton will merit some attention, most of the eyes are expected to be on college stars Nick Eddy, Mel Farr, and Paul Naumoff.

Farr, the former UCLA flash, scored the West's only touchdown in their 12-9 defeat by the East Saturday night in Atlanta and he racked up 59 yards as the game's top rusher.

Eddy is the speedy halfback-flanker the Lions lured to the Motor City from Notre Dame. Naumoff starred as a linebacker at Alabama.

Farr, Eddy and Naumoff will work out tomorrow in first drill for the rookies and then leave for Chicago Wednesday to start practice for the August 4 classic between the College All-Stars and the NFL defending champions Green Bay Packers.

Hurler Fires No-Hitter to End Losing Streak

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Stan Bahnsen, who had lost his last six games, fired a perfect no-hitter Sunday as the Syracuse Chiefs routed the Buffalo Bisons, 8-0, in the seven-inning second game of an Internatioanl League doubleheader.

* * *

Last year, the 22-year-old right-hander hurled a no-hitter for Toledo against Richmond, also in a seven-inning game.

Bahnsen, 5-9, won his last game against Richmond, June 7.

Bahnsen struck out four.

Firebirds Plan Gridiron Drills

Tom Tracy, new head coach of the Pontiac Firebirds, greeted a squad of 42 at an initial team meeting yesterday in Pontiac.

The Firebirds will open training camp next Sunday afternoon at the Wisner Stadium practice field and Tracy has invited a squad of 55 to begin drills.

* * *

Thereafter, practice sessions will be at 7 p.m. daily at the Wisner practice site.

The Firebirds have two exhibition dates scheduled. The debut of the new Pontiac team will be at Rochester High School, Saturday night, Aug. 12, against the Ypsilanti Vikings.

This game is being sponsored by the Rochester Rotary Club for the Crittenton Hospital Fund. Tickets have gone on sale at numerous business places in Rochester, and at the Firebirds' office, Osmun's and Griff's Grill in downtown Pontiac.

The Firebirds will meet Flint Aug. 19 in an exhibition game at Wisner Stadium.

* * *

The regular season opens Saturday night Aug. 26, at Mt. Clemens and the home opener is Saturday, Sept. 9 against Ypsilanti.

Season tickets for the six regular season home games are also on sale by calling the Firebirds downtown office at FE 2-9253.

Kaat, Boswell Feature Sweep at Chicago

2 Minnesota Moundsmen Make 'Music' With Mace

By The Associated Press

Jim Kaat and Dave Boswell, who started catching up with American League hitters a month ago, are holding their own against the pitchers too.

The Minnesota Twins drubbed Chicago's American League leaders 7-4 and 5-1 Sunday as the winning pitchers Kaat and Boswell stroked two hits apiece and delivered three key runs between them.

Kaat singled to start a two-run rally in the fifth inning of the opener and slammed a two-run homer in the sixth while rolling to his seventh victory in eight decisions since June 10.

* * *

Boswell drilled two singles and drove in the go-ahead run in the fourth inning of the night-cap on the way to his third straight triumph and fifth in the last month.

The doubleheader sweep left the third-place Twins 2½ games behind the White Sox and one-half length back of Detroit going into the All-Star break.

* * *

The Tigers bombed Boston 10-4 for their seventh straight victory before bowing 3-0 to the Red Sox in the second game of a doubleheader. California downed Kansas City 4-2, Washington swept Cleveland 7-5 and 4-2, and Baltimore beat New York 2-1 after losing 3-1 in the completion of Saturday night's suspended game.

SECOND SETBACK

Kaat, who was 1-7 when Cal Ermer replaced Sam Mele as the Twin's manager a month ago, squared his record at 8-8 in the opener at Chicago. The Twins, beaten 2-1 and 1-0 in the first two games of the four-game series, rebounded with a 14-hit attack that pinned 10-game winner Joe Horlen with only his second loss — both to Minnesota.

Kaat struck out eight and yielded eight hits before tiring in the eighth. Ron Kline finished up.

Boswell, who didn't win his first game until May 21 and was 3-3 when the Twins changed pilots, scattered seven hits before giving way to Al Worthington with one out in the ninth. The young right-hander, who reeled off eight straight victories last being sidelined in August with arm trouble, boosted his 1967 record to 7-5.

He and Kaat have clicked for 11 of the Twins' 20 victories since Ermer took over and are 6-0 between them during the summer for a 12-5 mark before club's current string of 10 victories in 12 games.

SIXTH STRAIGHT

Don Mincher belted a two-run homer, giving him 10 RBI in his last five games, as the Angels trimmed the A's for their sixth straight victory.

Run-scoring singles by Bob Rodgers and pinch hitter Bubba Morton completed the California attack. George Brunet gained his seventh victory in 18 decisions, with a ninth inning assist from relief ace Minnie Rojas.

Frank Howard's 23rd and 24th homers and a three-run shot by Ken McMullen powered the Senators to their victory in the opener at Cleveland. Fred Valentine won the nightcap with a two-run clout in the eighth after Bernie Allen and Dick Nen hit solo homers for the Senators.

* * *

Brooks Robinson homered for the Orioles and pinch hitter Vic Roznovshy delivered the winning run with a seventh inning single, enabling southpaw Pete Richert to defeat New York's Mel Stottlemyre.

A two-run single by John Kennedy in the ninth proved the winning margin for the Yankees in the completion of Saturday night's game, which was scoreless in the seventh inning when an 11:59 curfew forced its suspension.

Change Likely at Wimbledon

British Backing Plan to Include Pros

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The most successful Wimbledon tournament of all time is over — and British tennis officials are still intent on their plan to change the formula and bring in the pros.

The tournament was watched by a record total of 301,000 people. Yet next Wednesday the British will make another bid for open tennis at the annual meeting of the International Lawn Tennis Federation in Luxembourg.

This time, the British believe, they have a chance of succeeding.

WON TITLES

Wimbledon ended Saturday with John Newcombe of Australia and Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., winning the singles titles. Mrs. King won for the second straight year by defeating Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain 6-3, 6-4.

The tournament underlined the arguments for keeping Wimbledon as it is.

From the start the form of the players see-sawed on the fast courts and one favored star after another was knocked out. The stream of upset results colored the tournament and captured the public imagination. The crowds poured in as never before in the 90-year history of the event.

Canadian Whips Netter McKinley in Detroit Finale

DETROIT (AP) — Curly haired Mike Belkin, Canada's No. 1 Davis Cup player, took just 40 minutes to whip former Wimbledon champ Chuck McKinley, 6-3, 6-2, Sunday in the Detroit Invitational Tennis Tournament finals.

Belkin's victory, before 2,000 fans at the Detroit Tennis Club, marked the second time he has dropped McKinley in the tournament finals. Two years ago Belkin took three sets to defeat McKinley.

"I couldn't believe it," said Belkin. "He played my game. He wouldn't charge the net. He hung on the baseline. That's my game."

"He couldn't beat me playing back there. He could if he had charged the net."

Belkin gained his finals berth by downing Ron Holmberg of Dallas, Tex., 6-2, 10-8, Saturday. McKinley beat Don Bleckinger of the University of Wisconsin 6-4, 6-8, 6-3.

Takes Grid Position

PORT HURON (AP)—Jim Dickinson, 32, former backfield coach at Port Huron Northern High School, has been named head football coach at Port Huron High School. Dickinson, an Eastern Michigan University alumni, replaces Hal Willard, 35, who has been named director of health and physical education for Port Huron area schools.

West Coast Driver Takes Hydro Cup

VALLEYFIELD, Quebec (AP) — Ron Hill, Garden City, Calif. won the John Ward Trophy, the world cup for class C racing hydros, over the rain-pocked St. Francis Bay Course Sunday at an average speed of 69.984 miles per hour.

A crowd estimated at 50,000 saw Fred Hawenstein, Sunny Vale, Calif. finish second and Richard O'Dea, Paterson, N.J. third.

Bob Hearing, Sheboygan, Wis., won the class A racing hydro category at an average speed of 58.566 m.p.h. Another American, Mike Mammano, Jr., Rochester, N.Y. won the class A stock hydros.

Outboard Driver Overcomes Spill in Posting Win

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — Jim Zimmerman of Inkster must be glad to be back on dry land today.

Before going on to victory in the CU class of the Top 'O Michigan outboard marathon Sunday, Zimmerman's boat struck a log. He was thrown from the craft, but swam back to it, restarted the motor and finished.

Lou White of Saginaw took first in the 36 Class in the 87-mile race. Dave Hoggard of Trenton topped the AU Class boats.

Distance Stars Shine on Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A pair of the world's most celebrated distance runners, Kansas collegian Jim Ryun and Kenya policeman Kipchoge Keino, emerged more formidable than ever today in the wake of the United States-British Commonwealth track and field meet.

Ryun, the lean, powerful holder of the world mile record, added the 1,500-meter mark to his growing record collection, running 3:33.1 Saturday in the opening session of the two-day international competition.

* * *

Keino, possessor of the world 3,000-meter mark and an easy, loping stride, came back Sunday to outduel Australia's great Ron Clarke in the 5,000 meters with a 13:36.8 clocking.

Clarke was timed in 13:40.9. Diminutive Gerry Lindgren, America's lone hope against Keino and Clarke, was bothered by foot blisters and finished a painful third in 13:47.8.

* * *

Ryun, in beating Keino and smashing the metric mile record of 3:35.6 by Herb Elliott of Australia in the 1960 olympics, said: "It was my plan all along to start running well at this time of year. I was surprised that I beat the record by so much and I'm real happy about the time.

TOP PERFORMER

Keino said: "I didn't want to come here because I've trained only three weeks and I didn't feel that I was in shape." But the crowd pleasing African continued his mastery over Clarke and took home honors as the outstanding Commonwealth performer.

* * *

Asked about his loss to Ryun, Keino flashed his wide grin: "Ryun, he's a good guy. I think I made a mistake by taking the lead on the second lap and running it too fast. I killed myself off."

* * *

Then, in a bit of understatement, Kipchoge concluded: "But Ryun, he has a good sprint. He's too fast."

On the whole, the U.S. men's team dominated their Commonwealth counterparts, 254-170, while the visiting women gained a 125-102 victory over the American gals.

* * *

Despite the lack of records, however, crowds of 23,786 and 21,163 in Memorial Coliseum saw a complement of strong performances on consecutive afternoons of warm temperatures and sunny skies.

Mickey Wright Wins Tourney

Nearest Competitor 8 Strokes Behind

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mickey Wright made a shambles of the Lady Carling Open Sunday, winning the 54-hole golf tournament by eight strokes, which added $2,250 to her record ladies' money-winning total.

The 32-year-old Texan toured the 6,400-yard, par 72, Pine Ridge course in 70, her third consecutive subpar round over the municipal layout. It was her highest round of the tourney and gave her a nine-under-par score of 207.

* * *

Carol Mann, of nearby Towson, Md., finished in the runner-up spot with a final round 74 and a 215 total.

Sharon Miller of Battle Creek, Mich., finished third at 217, two strokes behind Miss Mann, after shooting a 73. Tied for fourth at 218 were Betsy Rawls, Murle Lindstrom and Sandra Haynie, all of whom shot 74s Sunday.

Race Tightens in AL; Slow Pitch '9' Upset

The American League race tightened a little and the surprises continued in the International loop as play continued in city softball action last night.

Local No. 594 (9-5) moved within a half game of second place Town & Country (9-5) by downing Bob's Bar (4-10), 10-0, in a game halted after six innings under the 10-run rule.

Ed DeVault checked the barmen on three hits, while his teammates pounded two Bob's pitchers for 13 hits. Dave Simmons, Chet Woodmore, Gene Land and Jim Fink collected two safeties apiece to spark the attack.

In International Slow-Pitch, Arteo (5-3) upset Chalet Inn (6-3), 17-10. Wagon Wheel (7-2) nipped Sport-O-Rama (2-7), 9-8, and the Sportsmen (8-2) took over the lead with an 11-10 nod over Dave Grubb's Kennels in eight innings.

* * *

Bob Walsh picked up four hits in five trips, one a home run, and teammate Ray Ream had a homer in his two safeties to pace the Arteo attack. Mel Golvson rapped a pair of roundtrippers and John Shanks belted one for the losers.

LEADS ATTACK

Gary A. Page drove in six runs with a pair of homers and a double for Wagon Wheel. Gary Newman and Rodger Ackles clouted homers for the losers.

* * *

The Sportsmen scored a run in the top of the eighth to nip Grubb's Kennels after tying the game at 10-all with two runs in the seventh. Harry Hart and Craig Medlan collected home runs for the winners.

Sagging Cubs Drop Seventh Straight, 6-0

By the Associated Press

It was sudden death for just about everybody in the National League except the Chicago Cubs, who are dying slowly.

Leo Durocher's Cubs, who had soared into the National League lead just one week ago, dropped their seventh straight game Sunday losing a three-hitter to Houston's Don Wilson, 6-0.

It completed a terrible week for the Cubs, who clung to second place despite their losing streak. Chicago trails first place St. Louis by 3½ games.

The Cardinals died suddenly Sunday, bowing 4-3 to Philadelphia on Tony Gonzalez' pinch homer in the 10th inning. Willie Mays' 10th inning single drove in San Francisco's only run as the Giants nipped the Dodgers 1-0 on Mike McCormick's five-hitter.

Willie Stargell poled a tremendous leadoff homer in the bottom of the ninth, giving Pittsburgh a 2-1 decision over Cincinnati. Jerry Buchek's two-out pinch homer tied the game for New York and then the Mets pushed over another ninth inning run, nipping Atlanta 5-4.

Wilson's victory was the big right-hander's first since he hurled a no-hitter three weeks ago. The triumph squared his record at 5-5.

THREE HITS

Jackie Brandt drove in three runs with three hits for the Astros and Jim Wynn upped his major league leading runs batted in total to 65 with a two-run single.

Larry Jaster was working on a two-hitter and leading Philadelphia 3-1 in the eighth inning when Mike Shannon booted Billy Cowan's bouncer. Red Schoendienst yanked Jaster and Rich Allen tagged reliever Nelson Briles' first pitch for a 430-foot homer that tied the score.

Gonzalez pinch hit for Cowan, who had homered earlier, opening the 10th, and whacked his game-winning shot.

* * *

Mays' bases-loaded, two-out single in the 10th inning beat the Dodgers and gave Mike McCormick, 11-3, his seventh straight victory.

McCormick, who pitched a five-hitter, outdueled Claude Osteen, 11-8. It was the eighth straight time the Dodgers have been beaten by a left-hander.

Stargell boomed a Jim Maloney pitch over the right field roof in Forbes Field—only the 11th time it has been done since the stands were erected in 1925.

Buchek, batting for Bud Harrelson, who had four straight hits, tied the game for the Mets with his eighth homer and first since June 11. Then New York won it when Tom Reynolds walked, moved to third on Tommy Davis' single and came across after an intentional walk to Ed Kranepool and an unintentional walk to Ron Swoboda.

Pontiac Runner First in State Decathlon

COSTELLO

Roland Garcia of Pontiac Central, third last year, piled a record 4,978 points to capture the top spot, while Jon Costello, also of PCH, took the runner-up spot for the second year in a row.

Another PCH runner, Jerry Hinsperger, occupied the No. 9 position.

Garcia piled up 2,643 points in the first day of competition Friday and held the No. 2 spot behind Ed Watkins of Flint.

But Watkins faded in the Saturday competition and Garcia came on to pick up 2,335 points for the victory.

TOPS RECORD

Garcia's total points broke the record of 4,945 set by Laverne Miller of Flint Southwestern in 1965.

Garcia won only one event during the two-day meet, the discus with a toss of 97-feet-7-inches. He had a couple of seconds and three thirds.

Costello cracked his own 1,500-meter record with a time of 4:15.4, well below the mark of 4:29.4 he set last year, and it was the fastest time ever recorded for any age division in the state decathlon.

The third junior record broken came in the 400-meter run with Ed Watkins turning in a 51.7 second clocking to erase the old mark of 53.2.

* * *

The other record fell in the pole vault as Eugene Lee of Flint Northern sailed 13-feet-2-inches to wipe out the mark of 10-feet-10-¾inches set by Milton Wallace of Flint Northren in 1965.

Dave Merkowitz, a Ypsilanti school teadher, won the senior division title with a total of 5,968 points.

Police Team Keeps Rolling in Class A

The city junior baseball program had a noteworthy two-game slate Saturday—The Pontiac police Officers' Association entry won its seventh straight game and Cranbrook's Ned Heavenrich had the biggest day by any Class D hitter this summer.

P.P.O.A. stayed atop the "D" standings by trimming Waterford's Firefighters, 5-2, as Craig Deaton drove in three runs. Gerry McKeever was the winning hurler.

In the other contest, Cranbrook blasted West Bloomfield, 11-5, to remain two games off the police's pace. Heavenrich crack two doubles and a triple good for four runs batted in and he scored three others.

Roger Cummings held West Bloomfield to three hits and fanned nine.

Clouts Homer in Loss

The Pontiac Agiulas defeated the Pontiac Astros, 15-14, in an exhibition baseball game yesterday. Willie Ratliff clouted three-run home run for the losers.

Cougars Tie at Toronto, 1-1

Banquet Will End Frustrating Season

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Cougars returned to Detroit for a banquet tonight to mark the end of a frustrating soccer season that left them mostly fit to be tied.

The Cougars, represented by the Glentorans of Belfast, Ireland, ended their tour with a 3-3 record for 12 points in the United Soccer Association.

Some 3,000 rain-soaked fans watched them battle Toronto to a 1-1 tie Sunday at Varsity Stadium in Toronto.

The Cougars seemed headed for victory after Jim Weatherup scored at the two-minute mark of the first half. But Jim Scott of Toronto put in a looping shot from 15 yards with less than a minute to play to tie the game.

OTHER GAMES

In other USA action Sunday, Chicago and San Francisco battled to a 0-0 tie.

In Saturday's games, Los Angeles, which faces Cleveland Friday night in Los Angeles for the league championship, tied Dallas 2-2, Houston tied New York 2-2, Boston topped Washington 2-1, and Vancouver downed Cleveland 3-1.

Speedy Youngsters Erase Eight Swimming Records

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP) — The greatest array of young U.S. swimmers ever to compete together broke eight world records and tied one and set two American records in other events in Santa Clara's International Invitational swim meet the past three days.

Three youngsters — Mark Spitz and Claudia Kolb of Santa Clara Swim Club and Debbie Meyer of Sacramento, Calif., each set two world marks.

* * *

Catie Ball of Jacksonville, Fla., set one and tied one. Pam Kruse of Pompano Beach, Fla., set the other.

Spitz, 17, also set a 2:07 flat American mark in the 200-meter butterfly Saturday.

Mike Gurton of Sacramento set another, 8:52.9 for 800 meters en route to victory in 16:47.9 in the 1,500-meter freestyle.

Spitz thus set a record each day two different strokes.

On Friday he recovered the 400 meter freestyle he had lost on Tuesday with 4:08.8. Sunday he swam 100 yards butterfly in 56.3. The old records were 4:09.2 by Alain Mosconi of France and 57 flat by Luis Nicolao of Argentina.

OUT OF ACTION

Nicolao, in training here under Santa Clara Coach George Haines, had entered against Spitz but withdrew because of influenza.

Miss Meyer, a 14-year-old who sews all of her own clothes, set two records in one race Sunday when AAU officials agreed to provide four timers for the finish of each.

Debbie swam 800 meters freestyle in 9:35.8 while winning the 1,500 in 18:11.1 that broke the 9:36.0 set by Sharon Finneram of Santa Clara in 1964 and the 18:12.9 by Patty Caretto, Los Angeles, AC, in 1966.

Miss Ball, 17, swam 200 meters breaststroke Sunday in 2:40.5 to beat the 2:40.8 by Russia's Galina Prozumenshikova. An AAU official said Catie is the first U. S. swimmer ever to hold a world breaststroke mark.

Routine Win at Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)— Frank Beard called in an "uneventful" round, but winning the "500" Festival Open golf tourney with a closing rush had netted him a $20,000 paycheck today and his third on-the-tour triumph of the year.

* * *

Beard, 28, a native of Dallas who now calls Louisville, Ky., home, won the $100,000 event over the long-playing Speedway Course by three strokes Sunday with 6-under-par shooting on the final two days and a 72-hole score of 279. That's nine under regulation figures for the four-day match.

Winner of the Tournament of Champions and at Houston, Beard was never far off the pace. He set the stage for his charge at three-day leader Rod Funseth with a 69 Saturday and equalled that score on the final round in drizzly, humid weather.

Funseth, who hasn't won a major tourney in more than two years, had to settle for a second-place tie with Rives McBee, who also had a closing round of 69 for a 6-under-par 282.

EARNINGS SOAR—Frank Beard flashes that winning smile as his 11-month-old son Dan, held by Mrs. Beard, gets his hands on the new trophy that dad won by taking the top spot in the $100,000 Speedway Open yesterday in Indianapolis. The victory brought Beard $20,000 and pushed his earnings for the season to nearly $85,000.

Berkley 1, 3

Tonight's Schedule
Southfield at Walled Lake, 6 p.m.
Waterford at Farmington, 6 p.m.

Walled Lake and Southfield kept pace Sunday and Waterford stayed within striking distance as the three American Legion baseball District 18 League contending teams posted doubleheader sweeps prior to tonight's key makeup games.

* * *

Walled Lake just about ended Clarkston's title hopes with 10-1 and 5-1 triumphs behind the pitching of Chuck O'Brien and Lanny West.

Southfield stayed right behind the pace-setting Walled Lakers with 15-0 and 7-0 whitewashings of Berkley, setting up a big game tonight when Southfield visits Walled Lake.

Waterford, who improved its chances with a 2-0, 11-inning victory Saturday night at Clarkston — out-played Milford yesterday, 8-1 and 4-2, to take over third place.

Farmington reached the break even level by sweeping Troy, 12-3 and 12-7. Farmington entertains Waterford this evening.

HITTING

John Burgess and Don McDowell each had three hits to back O'Briens 11-strikeout pitching in Walled Lake's opening win yesterday. Greg Fogle had two hits in the nightcap.

Dan Giroux homered in the opener and Dick Miceli in the second game while both Giroux and Steve Goit had three hits during Waterford's sweep.

Mike Harkey pitched the nightcap after producing a key single in Saturday's victory. Dennis Wooster whiffed 17 in that one but Bruce Mihalek was the winner in relief.

* * *

Japanese Racer Wins

BRANDS HATCH, England (UPI) — Japan's Tetsu Ikisawa scored a double victory on the British Motor Raceways Sunday by winning the Formula Three sports car 10-lap course in 9 minutes 10.2 seconds and then taking the Formula Libre event in 9:9.8.

Rochester Golf Team Ousted From Lead

Rochester was one of two teams that lost its hold on the top spot in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association team play yesterday.

The Rochester No. 2 squad fell from first in the White Division by dropping a 16½ to 5½ verdict to Hickory Hollow No. 2.

Idyl Wyld knocked defending champion Braeburn out of the lead in the Gold Division by gaining a 14-8 decision.

In other matches, Salem Hills blanked Lilacs, 22-0, North Brook whipped Green Acres No. 2, 20½ to 1½, Sylvan Glen toppled Romeo, 13½ to 8½ and Wolverine and Hickory Hillow No. 1 battled to an 11-11 tie.

Canada Lions Win Exhibition Contest

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — The British Columbia Lions defeated the Edmonton Eskimos 7-2 in a Canadian Professional Football League exhibition before a crowd of 6,248 Sunday.

The Lions scored on four one-point rouges and a field goal by former Washington State back Ted Gerela. Edmonton's only points came in the fourth period when Neal Beaumont of the Lions retrieved a bad pass from center and then rap into his own end zone for a safety.

Yachting Crews Idled by Fog

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Crew members of the four contenders for the right to represent the United States in the America's Cup races marked time today while Dame Pattie, the Australian challenger, was being readied for her first spin off the Rhode Island coast.

Heavy fog which limited visibility to about 50 feet in some areas near Brenton's Reef Light Tower forced postponement of the start of the second round-robin series in the U.S. observation trials Sunday.

Red Is Victorious in Kayak Singles

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Juergen Bremer of East Germany won the kayak singles for men at the World Canoe and Kayak Championships Sunday on the Devil's Rapids under the Lipno Dam of the Vltava River in South Bohemia.

East Germany also won the canoe singles for men and the canoe doubles patrol race for men.

* * *

Ludmila Polesna of Czechoslovakia, won the kayak singles for women.

Pitcher Holds Batting Mark

ATLANTA — (NEA) — The National League went 91 years before a player hit a pair of grand slam homers in a game.

Then, would you believe, the guy to do it was a pitcher?

That's right. Tony Cloninger of Atlanta powered a pair of round trippers with the bases loaded in San Francisco's windy Candlestick Park on July 3, 1966.

Needless to say, Tony had an easy time winning his game, 17-3, against the Giants.

Mexican Cagers Romp

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican All-Stars defeated the University of Nebraska 89-70 Sunday night in the first of a five-game basketball exhibition series.

THE FAMILY OF JUDITH K. Williams wish to express their appreciation for the kindness and sympathy shown them by friends, relatives, friends, neighbors during their recent loss. A special thanks to Rev. Joseph Biscoe and The Williams Lake Church of the Nazarene, The Coats Funeral Home. May God bless you all.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband William R. Hall, who passed away one year ago today, July 10, 1966.
If broke my heart to lose you,
But you did not go alone,
For a part of me went with you.
The day God called you home.
God gave me strength to bear it,
The courage to take the blow,
But what I'm meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
When evening shadows are falling
And I sit here all alone
To my heart there comes a longing.
If you could just come home.
—Sadly missed by his wife, Bessie and daughter Shirley.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR daughter Gloria Doreen Hawkins who passed away July 10, 1967.
The Lord walks with us daily
And while we are absent one from another,
Mr. and Mrs. Elias W. Chambers.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR mother Lena M. Lampson, who passed away 6 years ago July 10.
We cannot clasp your hand, Mother dear,
Your face cannot see;
But let this little token
Tell that we still remember thee.
—Sadly missed by daughters Leonore Lampson and Sharon Cole, and families.

Lefty Kegler Wins Tourney

Florida Man Takes Honors at Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Butch Gearhart, a slender, left-handed bowler from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., claimed his first pro championship Sunday night by winning the $27,500 Houston-Sertoma Open.

Gearhart, 22, won 14 of his 16 match games Sunday to pass Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., who led the field after the first two days. First prize was $3,000.

* * *

Third money went to Bobby Cooper of Fort Worth, Tex., whose 204-193 victor over Gearhart in the final game of the night session spoiled Gearhart's try for a pro record for most match-game victories in a single tournament.

Wayne Zahn of Atlanta placed fourth after Allen defeated him 257-189 to ease into second place ahead of Cooper, with whom Allen was tied going into the tournament's last game. Curt Schmidt of Fort Wayne, Ind., rounded out the top five.

Final results:
Butch Gearhart, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 9,353 $3,000
Bill Allen, Orlando, Fla., 9,024 $1,500
Bobby Cooper, Fort Worth, Tex., 9,000 $1,200
Wayne Zahn, Atlanta, 8,958 $1,100
Curt Schmidt, Fort Wayne, Ind., 8,871 $1,000
Mike McGrath, St. Cerrito, Calif., 8,777 $1,000

Late Scoring Aerial Saves Steve Spurrier

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Steve Spurrier, darling of thousands of football fans during a fantastic career at Florida, already has found out his college clippings don't mean much anymore.

* * *

The 1966 Heisman Trophy winner, headed for what is expected to be a successful pro career with the San Francisco 49ers, got his first taste of criticism Saturday night in the seventh annual Coaches All-America game.

* * *

Spurrier was the target of a barrage of boos for the first time in his life when he missed seven of his first eight passes for the East and had one of his tosses intercepted.

However, the poised quarterback shrugged off the catcalls and embarrassed his critics by passing the East to a 12-9 victory with a 40-yard touchdown throw with three minutes left.

* * *

"That booing didn't bother me," Spurrier said after the comeback victory before 29,145 paid fans. "They can boo me all they want in Atlanta — as long as they don't boo me back in Gainesville."

* * *

The winning toss by Spurrier went to Michigan State end Gene Washington, who leaped high for the pass and then raced into the end zone Spurrier had tossed 13 yards to Tom Francisco of Virginia Tech on the previous play after Georgia's Lynn Hughes gave the East its winning opportunity by intercepting a pass.

* * *

Spurrier hit on only 3 of 14 passes for 60 yards, his worst showing ever, but still good enough to give the East a 4-3 edge in the all-star rivalry.

* * *

West quarterback Jon Brittenum of Arkansas, headed for the Miami Dolphins, was named the most valuable player after hitting on 21 of 40 tosses for 244 yards, and Spurrier was the first to say "Jon deserved the award, even if his team didn't win."

Jets Sign 2 Rookies

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Jets announced today that signed contracts have been received from rookie defensive linemen Dennis Randall of Oklahoma State and Jeff Richardson of Michigan State.

OPENING THE DOOR — An unidentified East blocker gives quarterback Steve Spurrier a little running room by cutting down West defender John Elliott of Texas in Saturday night's All-America Football Game in Atlanta, Ga. Spurrier was searching for a receiver on the play, couldn't find one and rambled 12 yards on the option.

Today's Schedule
JAYCEE PARK — C.I.O.—594 vs. U.A.W.—653, 8 p.m.

M. G. Collision handed first place to Booth Homes Sunday when its usually reliable defense and pitching crumbled in the heat at Jaycee Park during a five-game Class A schedule.

The showdown for the city men's league lead fizzled as the home builders erupted for seven runs in the first two innings and coasted to a 7-3 triumph behind Dan Fife's four-hitter.

The R. T. Clippers stayed in the tense three-team battle for the top spot by nipping Cranbrook, 1-0, last night. M. G. had posted its seventh shutout win of the season in a 4-0 victory Saturday night over Pass Excavating in a makeup contest.

* * *

Teamsters — 614 improved its playoff berth chances by trouncing winless U.A.W.—653, 11-0, to tie Cranbrook for fourth place. C.I.O.-594 rallied to upend Oakland University, 10-9, and Pass blanked Lake Orion's Cardinals, 4-0, in other Sunday results.

Booth surged a half game in front of M.G. by making the collision crew pay for its mistakes. After having only 13 errors in its 12 previous outings, M.G. committed three in the first two innings.

Coupled with two walks and five hits — including a run-scoring double by Jerry Hill (the loop's leading hitter) and an rbi triple by Neil Roberts, the errors gave Booth a 7-0 lead with five of the runs being unearned.

Fife struck out eight in posting his third win and Booth's fourth in a row. M.G. saw a five-game winning string snapped and left-hander Jack McCloud (the circuit's top winner at 5-1) lost his position as the league's No. 1 pitcher.

MOVES UP

Teammate Walt Miller took that role aided by his third shutout in the Saturday night win. He tossed a two-hitter and now has allowed only two earned runs in 42 innings. The veteran southpaw also has 67 strikeouts to rank tops in the loop.

The Clippers pushed within a half game of the top when Santos Sanchez continued his hot hitting with a sixth-inning single to plate the game's only run.

Sanchez also tossed two-hit ball at Cranbrook to give the winners' their first shutout conquest of the campaign. He whiffed six.

Chet Woodmore rapped in four runs and Gene Luppino crashed a key three-run homer but C.I.O. still needed a tie-breaking single by Ray Heaton in the sixth inning to overcome Oakland's upset bid.

* * *

Mike Dodge and Don Picmann shared a five-inning one-hitter in highlighting the Teamsters' lopsided triumph; while Pass ended a 0-0 duel with Lake Orion by scoring four times in the last inning.

Pat Dailey hurled the shutout for the excavators while Rick Rhoney delivered a big double to key the winning rally.

People in the News

By the Associated Press

Lee Quinn has gone sailing again, as usual with an all-girl crew of six who admit they don't know very much about the sea. They pay for the privilege of going along.

Quinn's Neophyte Too sailed from San Francisco for Honolulu yesterday on a trip that is expected to take about 16 or 17 days.

Quinn, 40, completed a 38,000-mile trip around the world July 2 during which 59 women sailed with him.

The new crew includes Patricia Seedsman, 24, a legal secretary from Melbourne, Australia; Carol Thebert, 20, a hairdresser from Buckley, Wash.; Dina De Lipski, 24, a San Francisco health studio manager; Virginia Pirdavari, 27, of San Francisco; Ann Martin, 27, a former airline stewardess; and a schoolteacher who made the trip with the assurance her name would not be revealed.

Quinn's crew members pay $100-a-month board.

Divorced Cousin Asks Queen's Okay on Marriage

Queen Elizabeth II has a letter in hand from the Earl of Harewood, her 44-year-old cousin, asking royal permission to marry now that his divorce has become final.

It was considered unlikely that the queen would withhold her consent for the earl's remarriage to Patricia Tuckwell, the 38-year-old former model cited in the divorce suit. She is the mother of Lord Harewood's 2-year-old son Mark.

The Royal Marriage Act of 1772 requires that all relatives of the sovereign who might succeed to the throne—the earl is 17th in line—ask for permission to wed.

Should the queen forbid Lord Harewood to marry, the couple could be married in a civil ceremony in Scotland or abroad.

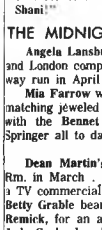
Appearance With Sullivan Wins Shani a Cockney Part

By EARL WILSON

LONDON—There's an orange-haired Cockney girl named Shani Wallis who left London for America to try to get into pictures in Hollywood and New York . . . didn't make it . . . but cut some records and worked supper clubs . . . 'til one night Ed Sullivan used her on his TV show.



WILSON

"Next day," she says, "I had a call from Mike Frankovich of Columbia Pictures who said, 'Hey, when you coming to California? I think I've got something for you in London —playing a Cockney girl.'"

* * *

So now Shani Wallis is luxuriously escorted here as the female star of "Oliver," her first picture, thanks to Smiling Ed.

"There were a lawt of people trying for the part," Shani said. "I even heard Elizabeth Taylor was interested. And that Jean Simmons took singing lessons. It's one of those things that you don't feel is really going to happen. You think, 'Oh, that's miles and miles away.' And suddenly it's happened."

* * *

Shani played the Plaza Persian Room, and worked in Las Vegas and around the country, and appeared in seven stage shows in America—but the only Broadway show she was in was "A Time for Singing" with Tessie O'Shea. That's the one she was in when Smiling Ed waved his magic wand.

You can look for Shani's career to zoom from here on. Just the other day at the studio, Jerry Lewis yelled "Hi, Shani!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. . . .

Angela Lansbury's about set to star in both the Los Angeles and London companies of "Mama" after she closes her Broadway run in April '68 (and then, how about the movie?)

Mia Farrow wore short jeweled pants under a miniskirt plus matching jeweled blouse when Frank Sinatra took her to Arthur with the Bennet Cerfs. Mia asked Frank, Cerf and John Springer all to dance, all declined, so she didn't dance.

* * *

Dean Martin's dtr. Gail will star at the Plaza's Persian Rm. in March . . . Joey Heatherton flew to London to make a TV commercial; it'll earn her as much as a movie role . . . Betty Grable beamed when diners asked her guy, bearded Bob Remick, for an autograph . . . Family night at Trader Vic's: Judy Garland and ex-husband Sid Luft with the kids, plus Liza Minnelli with husband.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "My wife decorated the house in Early American," says Al Gottlieb. "Only the cost is Modern."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Nowadays an optimist is a guy who thinks tomorrow's bad news may be just a little better than today's.—Ray Fine.

EARL'S PEARLS: Jesse Kaplan recalled the line: "If it's true that all the world loves a lover, why are there house detectives?"

Lynn Lichty (of Antwerp, O.) wanted to go along with the "Hire a Veteran Week" idea—but Gen. Eisenhower already had a job . . . That's earl, brother.

Weather Satellites Bring Good Returns

NEW YORK (UPI) — Weather satellites have returned more than a million usable photographs from space since the first Tiros meteorological spacecraft was put into orbit April 1, 1960.

Sixteen weather satellites — of the Tiros, Essa and Nimbus families — have totaled more than 6,000 operational days of televising pictures of the earth's cloud cover, tropical storms, ice floes and other vital weather information, it is reported by W. Walter Watts, RCA group executive vice president.

"This must be considered the most successful unmanned satellite program in the spectacular history of the space age," he says.

102 Escape Plane Crash

CASABLANCA, Morocco (UPI) —A Soviet-built Air Guinea airliner crashed on landing today, but all 102 persons aboard were reported unhurt.

Airport spokesmen said the turbo-prop Iyyushin-18 overshot the runway. Its left wing hit the ground. The big craft stopped about 200 yards from the runway.

The passengers were reported to be mostly French and Belgian teachers going on vacation from Guinea. The plane was bound from Guinea to Prague.

In 10 years, the Federal Aviation Agency predicts, the U.S. airline fleet will reach a total of 3,500 — over 1,000 more than the present total.

Institute to Promote Movies as Art Form

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The stacks of correspondence mounted perilously on the desk of George Stevens Jr., whose office on Pennsylvania Avenue affords a view of both the White House and the Nixon-for-President headquarters.

THOMAS

"As of now, I am the sole employe of the A.F.I.," said the genial Stevens, 35. "But that situation will be rectified soon. At least I plan to have a secretary."

A.F.I. is a brand-new addition to the alphabetic maze of Washington, but it has no position in the government bureaucracy. The initials stand for American Film Institute, a fresh and brave attempt to bring distinction to what has long been taken for granted in this country, the movie.

Even before it was founded, the A.F.I. was subject to sniping from various sources, thus presaging its controversy of the future. Some film critics attacked the proposed board of directors and scorned the Hollywood influence in the institute's founding. Some had unkind words about the inexperience of Stevens, whose film making was most notable in assisting his father in producing such films as "The Diary of Anne Frank" and "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

BARBS DON'T PENETRATE

After five years in government service, such slings and arrows don't bother young Stevens. He was director of the motion picture division of the U.S. Information Agency, where he produced the much acclaimed "John F. Kennedy: Years of Lightning, Day of Drums."

Because the A.F.I. may well be a storm center in the future, Stevens took the post only after assurances that the organization would be without governmental control. Imagine what fun congressmen could have lambasting federally financed underground movies.

* * *

"The A.F.I. is a private, nonprofit corporation," Stevens explained. "It was established by the congressionally established National Endowment for the Arts with a $1.3-million grant, if it could be matched by equal funds. The Ford Foundation provided $1.3 million, and the same amount was contributed by the seven major film companies.

"Now we are seeking another $1.3 million from other foundations, the television industry and others who will have a stake in what the Institute aims to do."

A.F.I. GOALS

And what does the A.F.I. aim to accomplish with its three-year $5.2-million budget? Stevens outlined five major areas for development:

- Archives. "We have created a new medium of expression in this century, and now we are letting important parts of it turn to dust." The A.F.I. intends to spotlight the situation—rare old films disintegrating or exploding in forgotten vaults—and coordinate efforts to restore and preserve such treasures.
- Production. "We plan to sponsor a number of low-cost films — features, documentaries, all kinds. If writers create works of value, they should be published. Likewise, film makers should be given the chance to create worthwhile works, even though they may not seem to fit the commercial-movie pattern. We will work on a concrete plan to finance and distribute films by people with ideas and skill."
- A Center for Advanced Film Studies. "We would like to establish a bridge between scholarship and practice, where the best graduates of motion picture deadments of the universities could work together with the best minds of the film industry. Eventually there may be more than one such center."
- Film Education. "We aim to promote the study of film as a humanity in the secondary schools and in colleges. It has been estimated that the average high school graduate has watched 15,000 hours of television, seen 500 movies and attended 10,800 hours of classrooms. The student should be given the chance to judge and appreciate the best of what he sees on TV and in theaters."
- Publications. "We would like to provide literature for use in the schools—textbooks which could provide history and critical analysis of films. Also, we hope to make archives available for school study. It's not enough for students to read about 'Citizen Kane,' 'Gone With the Wind,' 'The Grapes of Wrath' or '8½'; they should be able to see the films as well."

GROUP FORMING

Stevens, a chunky, deliberate man who talks with quiet intensity, is flying solo with A.F.I., but he is in the process of assembling a crew. Letters from applicants daily flood his office in the temporary headquarters of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

"Many of the letters are from people wanting a free ride," he said, contemplating the stacks of mail. "But others are obviously dedicated to film, and from these will come the strength of A.F.I."

Stevens faces a monumental task. There are film institutes in most of the major film-producing countries: England, Soviet Union, Italy, Sweden, India, Holland, Canada, Czechoslovakia. But never has there been one in the United States.

Although movies were for two source of entertainment and now dominate television programming, Americans have resolutely declined to take the film medium seriously. They have simply refused to go along with the foreign view that film can be an art form. A.F.I. may, or may not, be able to bring a change in such monolithic thinking.

Group Gives NY Children Rides in Jets

NEW YORK (AP) — For 27 minutes the heat and endless scuffle of the slums were far away, and for 158 Brooklyn kids, home became the sky and a jet plane.

"Hey, we're in heaven," one voice said.

"We've passed God," said another.

"Hey, man, get me out of this plane," said a third.

The voices belonged to children riding Sunday as guests aboard a jetliner from John F. Kennedy Airport. Their trip was arranged through the Mayor's Citizens Summer Committee Program which offers activities designed to keep young people too busy with other things to become involved in summer violence.

Overseas National Airways has pledged to take 1,000 city children up for a "once around the neighborhood" ride on their jets before school begins in September.

U.S. Sends Planes, 70 Men to Congo

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has sent three big U.S. military transport planes and about 70 men to the Congo to support the central government's fight against a threat by mercenaries.

President Joseph Mobutu asked for U.S. help. The mercenaries reportedly are committed to former Premier Moise Tshombe.

Johnson's decision was disclosed Sunday by the State Department, which said the planes will provide long-range logistic support for the Congolese government "in meeting the mercenary-led rebellion." The department said the planes will be in a non-combatant status.

Poet Ginsberg Arrested in Italy

SPOLETO, Italy (UPI)—Police today asked a judge to charge bearded American "hippie" poet Allen Ginsberg with reading obscene verse at the Spoleto festival.

Composer Giancarlo Menotti, festival chief, said lawyers will be offered Ginsberg and "no serious consequence is expected." Police filed the complaint after debating three hours with Ginsberg at their headquarters.

Who Wears Pants for This Game?

Rock Island, Que.—At Sunnyside High here, a basketball game was arranged between the all-male staff and the senior girls.

The staff dressed as girls and the girls as boys. Their male classmates took over the cheerleading, dressed in girls' cheerleading costumes.

The girls won by two points and have been challenged to a rematch. But this time the staff gets to decide who wears what.

Legislature Near Approval of $1.1-Billion State Budget

LANSING (AP) — The Legislature is reported near agreement on a balanced general fund budget of about $1.1 billion for the new fiscal year, about $35 million more than the 1966-67 spending level but some $53 million less than Gov. George Romney asked this year.

The House Appropriations Committee estimates net state general fund revenue for the new year will be $1,106,909,937.

Related Story, Page B-10

Although fiscal 1967-68 is more than a week old, none of the bills authorizing state spending for the year has received legislative approval.

Agreement on a final package was thought unlikely until later this week. Senate sources said most members of the chamber's powerful Appropriations Committee would be away from Lansing until Thursday.

But it was understood that individual House - Senate conference committees had reached agreement on all but one of the 14 major appropriations bills, including a controversial measure pegging the general fund school aid increase at $17.9 million.

SUNDAY SESSION

Lawmakers worked until midnight Saturday trying unsuccessfully to wrap up the billion-dollar spending package, and even considered an unprecedented Sunday session.

A resolution permitting the Sunday meeting passed in the Senate. The House was debating it as midnight passed.

The Senate, learning the House had not passed the measure, adjourned, leaving the House little choice except to adjourn also.

Majority Senate Republicans had wanted to wind up the work over the weekend, expressing concern that pressure for higher state spending would increase if final agreement was delayed until this week.

STALL EXPECTED

Although the Legislature reconvened today, work on the appropriations bills was expected to be stalled by the absence of the Senate committee.

Sens. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, Garland Lane, D-Flint, and committee chairman Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair, planned to rest at a Crawford County Lake until Thursday. Sen. Harold Hungerford, R-Lansing, reportedly was to enter a hospital.

Beadle, Lane and Zollar are the Senate's chief spokesmen on appropriation questions.

The House, over the objections of its strongest school-aid advocates, Saturday voted down a Senate proposal to take $11.6 million from restricted highway funds to help meet the $23.7 million State Police budget.

Educationists feared taking the $11.6 million from the general fund would leave just that much less for school aid increases.

UAW, GM Begin New Contract Talks

DETROIT (AP) — Leaders of the nation's largest industrial union today sat down at the bargaining table with officers of the world's largest manufacturing corporation to present "the longest and most ambitious list of demands" ever laid out by the union.

Describing his goals with these superlatives, Walter P. Reuther began negotiations between his 1.4-million member United Auto Workers Union and General Motors Corp.

Both sides admit that the number of precedent-breaking proposals on the union's list of musts could make for bitter bargaining and possibly a tough strike.

Reuther opens contract talks with Ford tomorrow and with Chrylsler Wednesday. the Three-year-contracts between the UAW and the Big Three auto makers expire Sept. 6, just as manufacturers will be getting ready to splash their 1968 models onto the market.

★ ★ ★

Aside from the hefty wage hike the UAW says it wants, there are a number of fundamentals which both sides feel will be hard to reach agreement on.

PRINCIPLE

"Long strikes usually aren't done for money, but for principle," said a top UAW negotiator. "A long strike for a few cents an hour just isn't worth it."

Among the union proposals which could develop into issues of principle are:

- The guaranteed annual income.

Company personnel officers say they're interested in knowing the details of Reuther's plan, but adamantly insist they won't "pay a man to loaf" or agree to any program which encourages absenteeism.

★ ★ ★

- Wage parity between American and Candian workers. The industry says Candians get paid an average of 30 per cent less that their American counterparts because they are about that much less productive.

The union contends the Canadian-American Trade Agreement has allowed the auto companies to integrate their North American operations and sharply cut that productivity gap.

★ ★ ★

- Lines of demarcation. The union contends that jobs should be more clearly defined so that veteran workers won't be shunted around to duties they consider beneath their dignity.

The company says this would curtail the manpower flexibility needed in a business subject to seasonal ups and downs.

★ ★ ★

- Subcontracting. The UAW insists it should have first crack at a job at a plant if it has the men in its ranks to do the work.

The auto firms say that not being free to hire outside contractors as they see fit would infringe on their right to administer their operations.

- Voluntary overtime. No man should have to work more than a 40-hour week if he doesn't want, to , says the UAW.

2 Mishaps Kill Avon Woman and Infant Girl

An Avon Township woman and a 4-month-old Orion Township girl were killed in separate weekend accidents in the area.

Fatally injured yesterday in a collision at Wide Track and Orchard Lake Road was Mrs. Charles E. Lowe, 33, of 2843 Midvale.

She was a passenger in a vehicle driven by her husband which collided with a car driven by Sammie K. Grisso, 19, of 843 Melrose about 11:15 p.m., according to city police.

Officers said the Lowe vehicle, traveling east on Orchard Lake, overturned after the impact, pinning Mrs. Lowe under it.

Charles Lowe is in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital with injuries received in the mishap.

2 UNHURT

Neither Grisso nor the Lowe's daughter, Tracy, 4, were seriously injured, hospital officials said.

Linda Cowell, daugther of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cowell of 3565 Orion, was killed about 6:45 p.m. Saturday when the car her father was driving collided with another vehicle at Adams and Dutton, Avon Township.

State Police said the Cowell car was headed south on Adams when it collided with a car driven by Gordon Wardell, 34, of 7026 Hatchery, Waterford Township, who was turning left from the northbound lane.

Both Mrs. Cowell and Wardell were admitted at Pontiac General where her condition is listed as satisfactory and his as fair.

Cowell and two other Cowell Children reportedly escaped serious injury.

Police said the accident is under investigation.

U.N. Observers Headed for Suez

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council decided today to send military observers to the cease-fire line along the Suez Canal where Israeli and Egyptian troops have clashed during the past two weekends.

★ ★ ★

As secretary General U Thant prepared to seek Israeli and Egyptian acceptance of the U.N. observers, informed sources in Amman and King Hussein of Jordan would go to Cairo today to meet with four Arab government chiefs gathered there.

Hussein was expected to urge moderation toward the victorious Israelis, and there was propsect of a clash with President Houari Boumedienne of Algeria and Noureddin Atassi of Syria, who have repeatedly demanded continuation of the war against Israel.

President Abdel Rahman Aref if Iraq also was expected to join the summit conference with President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

★ ★ ★

An Israeli Army Jeep hit a mine on a road east of the Suez Canal yesterday, killing one soldier and wounding two others, an Israeli military spokesman said. He said other mines were found and there were footprints between the canal and the road.

Police Have Few Clues in Trustee Murder Probe

West Bloomfield Township police still have little to go on in the investigation of the robbery-slaying of Edward Emmitt DeConick, township trustee killed July 3 in his home by a gang of four intruders.

★ ★ ★

Police said today hope rests with the reward offer which has now risen to over $6,000, of which $1,000 is from The Pontiac Press.

DeConick was killed and his sister, Kathleen DeConick, 73, beaten and shot by the gang which made off with over $25,000 in cash, securities and jewelry from the farm home at 4847 W. Maple.

Miss DeConick is said to be "improving satisfactorily" at a Pontiac hospital, but is being kept under close police security as the only witness to the crime.

★ ★ ★

Township officials said today that several private citizens have made reward offers. These are to be tabulated tonight and a decision made on how to handle the offers, officials said.

SEVERAL LEADS

Township police, aided by State Police experts and FBI Agents, have followed several leads, none producing suspects in the case.

They have a description of the intruders — three Negro men, one short, stocky, the other two taller and thin, and a woman, light-skinned. All are said to be in their 20s and neatly dressed.

★ ★ ★

They may have left the area in two cars, one apparently with a poor muffler, police said.

State Tax-Limit Move Now Goes to House

LANSING (AP) — Backers of a move to limit Michigan's recently approved personal income tax to 5 per cent directed their attention to the House today following a second-round victory in the Senate.

Shortly before midnight Saturday, the Senate approved 27-7 a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment limiting any state imposed personal income tax to 5 per cent.

The same resolution was defeated 24-12, two votes short of the necessary two thirds, last May 18, the same day the Senate approved a state income tax, which, greatly modified, now awaits Gov. George Romney's signature.

* * *

If the resolution, sponsored by Sen. Milton Zaagman, R - Grand Rapids, is approved by the House it will be placed on the November, 1968, ballot for approval by the state's voters.

If the people approved, the personal income tax which stands at 2.6 per cent under the new income tax bill could be raised to 5 per cent and no higher.

"We have the governor's blessing on the 5 per cent limitation," Zaagman said.

* * *

He said he had showed the resolution to Romney and added that the governor said he felt there was a precedent for such a limitation in view of ceilings on the sales tax and local income taxes.

* * *

However, Zaagman said he believed passage in the House would be a "touch and go" situation.

DEMS OPPOSED

House Democrats, who have to provide at least 18 votes to pass the resolution, were expected to oppose it, as did several Senate Democrats.

* * *

House Democratic leader William Ryan, D-Detroit, advocates a graduated state income tax and feels a 5 per cent limit would not permit enough graduation.

A resolution to allow a graduated income tax, now forbidden by the constitution, has been approved by both houses and will appear on the 1968 ballot.

The House has not voted this year on Zaagman's resolution. However, in April, the chamber defeated 59-47 another measure containing both the 5 per cent limit and a provision legalizing graduated income levies.

CURB BOOSTS

Zaagman and Senate supporters of the resolution claim it is the only way to curb future boosts in the tax rate.

"The only way we can put some kind of restraint on spending is to say 'look fellows, this is it,'" Zaagman said. "The only way we're going to put some brakes on, is to put on a ceiling that they can't go beyond."

"We have a constitutional limit on the sales tax," argued Sen. James Fleming, R - Jackson, "why not on the income tax."

Opponents of the measure said a 5 per cent limit would tie the Legislature's hands in dealing with future fiscal problems.

SNEAK RESOLUTION

"You're attempting to sneak a resolution through that we in the taxation committee rejected," charged Senate Taxation Committee member John McCauley, D-Wyandotte. "We don't know what the needs of the state will be in five years."

Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, charged that the resolution backers were "attempting to tie our hands in dealing with the problems of the state."

'Pacification Program Lags'

Military Operations in Viet OK---McNamara

SOI RAP RIVER, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said today after his second day touring the Vietnamese countryside that he found the multimillion-dollar pacification program "proceeding very slowly" but that large-scale military operations have been going very well for the past four months."

McNamara spent much of today getting briefed on the Mekong Delta region that sprawls south from Saigon and has long been the heartland of the Viet Cong movement.

* * *

He talked briefly to newsmen during a visit to the U.S. combined Army-Navy Mobile Riverine Force that operates in the northern waters of the delta.

"We must be realistic and recognize that the pacification effort is still proceeding very slowly," said the secretary.

"But I am encouraged by the improvement in the organization that has taken place in recent weeks and I hope to see more rapid progress."

He was referring to the recent placement of all civilian American agencies involved in the program under military control. Accompanying McNamara on his swing through the delta were senior men from both the military and civilian sides of the program.

* * *

McNamara said he had "noticed a tremendous change in both ground and air operations" since his last visit in October.

"The large unit operations have been going very well for the past four months," he said. "These large unit operations have relieved enemy main force pressure on the regional and popular forces which are the backbone of the antiguerrilla effort."

Malignancy Confirmed; Lurleen Goes to Surgery

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Cancer specialists have confirmed that a tumor which has stricken Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace is malignant.

They prepared for an exploratory operation today to determine the extent of the malignancy and, if possible, to remove the tumor.

* * *

The 40-year-old governor was scheduled to go into surgery at 8 a.m. CDT for an operation expected to last several hours.

Doctors said they hoped to be able to tell what the operation revealed when a medical bulletin is issued at 3 p.m.

MALIGNANCY CONFIRMED

The malignancy, first detected three weeks ago by doctors in Montgomery, Ala., was confirmed Sunday by specialists at the M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston.

It is Mrs. Wallace's second battle with cancer in 18 months. She underwent surgery in January 1966 for removal of a cancer of the uterus. When she returned to the hospital for a checkup last month, she was found to have cancer again.

* * *

Dr. A. Lee Clark, director and chief surgeon at Anderson Hospital, said in a bulletin Sunday that members of his staff "concur with the Alabama physicians that the governor has a malignant condition" again.

Clark said, "there is a tumor in the lower abdomen."

DIAGNOSTIC TESTS

He added, in response to questions, that "we presume" it is malignant because of the past medical history and the diagnostic tests.

If the surgical examination bears that out, Clark said, it "will be our goal" to remove the tumor at once.

* * *

The bulletin stated also that five days of diagnostic tests disclosed "some involvement" of the colon which "could be due to a tumor pressing on the lower bowel."

Go-Go Dancer Faces Exam

Charged With Plotting to Murder Husband

A topless go-go dancer accused of plotting with four others to kill her husband is in Oakland County Jail today awaiting preliminary examination on a charge of conspiracy to commit murder.

Laurie Wright, 18, of Highland Park will face examination Friday.

MRS. WRIGHT

Farmington Township Justice Byron D. Walters set bond at $50,000 at her arraignment Saturday.

Also in custody in the county jail are alleged coconspirators Daniel M. Duffy, 23; Duffy's wife, Patricia, 20; Patrick R. McNamara, 22; Nicholas F. Gueli, Jr. 41, all of the Detroit area.

* * *

The five were arrested Friday night after Mrs. Wright allegedly hired a State Police officer, posing as a professional gunman, to murded her husband, Leonard, 20.

'DOWN PAYMENT'

Police said Mrs. Wright, who works part-time as a topless dancer at a Detroit bar, was supposed to make a $2,000 down payment for the killing at a Friday night meeting with the undercover officer.

The agent, Detective John Aird, infiltrated the alleged plot when an unidentified tipster said the five wanted the dancer's husband killed, police said.

Aird said Mrs. Wright gave him a pistol at his meeting with her Friday night.

* * *

Police said financial gain was apparently not the motive behind the conspiracy, but that Mrs. Wright did it "because of a romance with one of the other plotters."

The Wrights have a 5-month-old child, now being cared for in a foster home.

Ambulance Change Is Eyed

BIRMINGHAM — A recommendation to change ambulance services for the city will be considered by the City Commission at tonight's meeting at 8 at city hall.

A low bid of $300 per month for service was offered by the Oakland Directors Service Co., of Royal Oak.

A bid of $1,000 per month for service was offered by Birmingham Ambulance Service which carried on the operation until its contract expired July 1.

The Oakland Directors firm pledges to have at least two ambulances garaged within one mile o fthe city limits (Chester, one block south of 13½ Mile, Royal Oak).

* * *

The City administration recommends changing services due to lower costs. The Royal Oak firm is "highly recommended by police in Lathrup Village and Southfield," according to the administration report.

WILL ALSO STUDY

The commission will also study paving, curbs and gutters for Lawndale, Hunter to Oakland.

Commissioners will decide if hearings are to be held and an assessment roll prepared.

A letter of protest to the paving project has been submitted on behalf of residents of the area.

* * *

The letter complains the paving would increase the traffic hazard. It states, "The paving will be a detriment rather than a benefit to the neighborhood."

Transfer Announced by Salvation Army

The Salvation Army Chicago office announced today that Brig. Ernest Alder has been named manager of the Men's Social Service Center operated by the Salvation Army in Flint. Alder is currently manager of the Men's Social Service Center in Pontiac.

BRIG. ERNEST ALDER

The brigadier's successor has not yet been named.

In his new position, Alder will also direct the army's industrial operations in the cities of Midland, Owosso, Bay City, Saginaw and Port Huron.

Brig. Alder and his wife will be installed in Flint Aug. 30. The Alders served in the corps branch of the army's Flint operation 25 years ago.

* * *

They came to Pontiac 10 years ago to establish a local men's center. Since its founding in 1957 it has developed into one of the foremost army units in the Midwest, according to a Salvation Army spokesman.

15 TRUCKS

A four-truck operation at its inception, the Pontiac Center now operates a fleet of 15 trucks covering all of Oakland County.

The center is a rehabilitation headquarters for men who help gather salvaged goods which are then reconditioned and sold at a resale shop.

* * *

Alder's parents directed the Salvation Army activities in Pontiac in 1914-15 and 1925-28.

8 Republicans Offer Viet Plan

Gradual Bombing Halt Urged to Slow War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight Republican congressmen proposed today a unilateral diplomatic initiative by the United States for a step-by-step deescalation of the Vietnam war.

The group said the United States should halt all bombing in North Vietnam north of the 21st Parallel for 60 days. This area includes Hanoi but not the port city of Haiphong.

If North Vietnam responded with a deescalation mvoe of its own within 60 days, the United States would then halt bombing north of the 20th Parallel for a 60-day period—and so forth through five steps.

* * *

"Assuming that both sides would respond in turn in this deescalatory process, both the U.S. bombing of the North and the North Vietnamese infiltration into the South could come to an end," the Republican congressmen said.

ALTERNATIVE

Otherwise, they added, the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam would continue.

The proposal was outlined in a statement prepared for a news conference.

Rep. F. Bradford Morse of Massachusetts, spokesman for the group, said if this plan of small steps were successful, "a spirit of confidence might emerge" between the United States and Hanoi which could lead to peace negotiations, a similar staged deescalation in South Vietnam or both.

Nigeria Says Army Near Rebel Capital

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Nigerian federal government says its forces have moved 15 miles into the breakaway Eastern Region of Biafra in their drive to capture Enugu, the rebel capital, 40 miles farther south.

Each side continued to claim inflicting heavy casualties on the other as the civil war entered its fifth day in hilly border country.

* * *

The federal announcement said Nigerian forces have surrounded Nsukka, home of the former University of Nigeria where Michigan State University operated a large aid mission. The mission has been evacuated. The town commands the approach to Enugu.

* * *

Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, head of the federal military regime, said the army's aim is to capture Lt. Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu, who proclaimed the new state of Biafra May 30. Ojukwu claimed the federal government had treated the Eastern Region unfairly.

OTHER ADVANCES

The government forces also claimed advances in the Agoja area about 120 miles east of Nsukka.

The federal soldiers started into Biafra Thursday after rebel forces started the shooting, federal authorities said.

Detroit Area Growth Is Seen

'5.2 Million Metro Population by 1975'

DETROIT (AP) — 1975, there will be an estimated 5.2 million people living in Metropolitan Detroit.

Also by that time, Kalamazoo may have supplanted Saginaw as Michigan's fifth largest metropolitan area.

Grand Rapids, Flint, and Lansing will hold their positions as second, third and fourth, respectively.

These are predictions made public by the National Planning Association from a study of population trends.

* * *

In comparison with the forecast 5.2 million, the Metropolitan Detroit area had 3.7 million people in 1960, according to the association's figures.

* * *

The study says there will be a leveling off in population growth in 1960-75 compared with the 1950-60 boom.

The study does not specifically describe any of Michigan's metropolitan areas but these are assumed to include suburbs and nearby smaller cities.

The Oakland County Planning Commission has not yet received a copy of the study, according to Peter P. Belitemachi, planning associate.

* * *

By the study's projections, Kalmazoo will grow to 250,000 in 1975 compared with 170,000 in 1960. Saginaw will expand to 248,000 from its 191,000 of 1960.

Grand Rapids will grow to 585,000 in 1975, Flint to 552,000 Lansing to 444,000, Ann Arbor to 237,000 Bay City to 133,000 and Muskegon to 195,000, according to the calculations.

Bandits Get About $900 in 3 Weekend Robberies

Armed bandits made off with some $900 in three separate weekend robberies reported to Pontiac police.

A 66-year-old man told officers a man and woman, both with pistols, robbed him of some $800 about 11 a.m. yesterday.

Leslie Middleton of 506 Franklin Road told investigators he took the woman to an Orchard Lake address, where she pulled a gun and took $5, then left.

He said the woman returned with a man who wrestled him to the floor and took his wallet.

* * *

The pair fled in a car, according to Middleton.

HITCHHIKERS

A Waterford Township youth told police he was robbed by two hitchhikers he drove into the city from Keego Harbor late Saturday.

Norman G. George, 21, of 1200 Oregon said the pair directed him to the Clinton-Herndon area where they took his wallet containing $90, and his car keys.

He said they fled on foot to a car, then drove off.

* * *

Three men and a woman reportedly robbed and beat a teen-aged hitchhiker about midnight Saturday after driving him a few blocks from where they picked him up.

PULLED KNIFE

Joseph Wagner, 17, of 6404 Manson, Waterford Township, told officers the four drove him to the Montcalm-Lakeside area where one pulled a knife.

He said they beat him, then took his class ring, valued at $27.

Wagner was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released.

Unit to Decide on City Funding

The Citizens Finance Study Committee is expected to arrive at a decision tonight on the best method of raising new tax money for Pontiac's municipal government.

* * *

The 43-member committee met two weeks ago but postponed making any decisions because of the uncertainty of what kind of an income tax package the State Legislature would come up with.

* * *

Since that time, City Manager Joseph A. Warren has determined that the city would gain about $197,000 from the recently passes state income tax bill.

* * *

This is nowhere near enough to meet the needs of municipal government for the next fiscal year, Warren said. Officials said the city will need nearly $1.6 million more in 1968 to operate Pontiac's general budget.

Legislature Nears Okay of $1.1-Billion Budget

The House has approved a 5 per cent boost in the basic school aid formula, now $280.50 per student, which Education Committee Chairman Clifford Smart, R - Walled Lake, estimates would take $14.6 million from the general fund and also utilize $24 million more from special funds.

The Senate has not approved any school aid increase, but Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, House Democratic leader and Appropriations Committee member, said tentative agreement had been reached to pay public school districts $315.5 million this year. The 1966-67 aid figure was $297.6 million.

* * *

Ryan said conference committees had reached agreement on all but the social services welfare appropriation bill.

The House-passed version of the measure would appropriate $174 million. The Senate approved only $135.4 million. Ryan said negotiations on the bill were in the area of $167 million.

Conferees reportedly had reached agreement, subject to approval by both houses, on these other major spending items:

General government, $81.46 million.

* * *

Conservation - agriculture — $19.16 million.

Higher education, $246 million.

* * *

Public health, $18 million.

Mentlal health, $131.2 million.

Corrections, $22.92 million.

Capital outlay and planning, $63.6 million.

In Heavy Trading

Stock Mart Advances Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced in heavy trading early today.

Gains topped losses by better than 2 to 1.

Most changes were fractional. Higher-priced glamour stocks, as usual, made wider moves.

* * *

Polaroid gained 3, Xerox 2¼, Eastern Air Lines 2, Control Data and IBM 1 each.

Steels, airlines and aerospace issues were higher, autos and oils mixed.

The industrial average was up about 2 points.

American Telephone, battered because of an adverse rate decision last week, did not open immediately.

The ticker tape ran three minutes late on the New York Stock Exchange and 12 minutes late on the American Stock Exchange.

Encouraging factors seen by Wall Street analysts included:

Brighter prospects for the steel business; the June rise in employment; and the ability of the Dow Jones rail average to make a new recovery high last week.

On Friday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 1.9 to 327.2.

Prices were higher on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of about a point were made by Molybdenum and LTV Electronics. Up fractionally were Mesabi, Louisiana Land, Genisco, Flying Tiger, Kaiser Industries and many others.

Routine Win at Speedway

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Frank Beard called in an "uneventful" round, but winning, the "500" Festival Open golf tourney with a closing rush had netted him a $20,000 paycheck today and his third on-the-tour triumph of the year.

* * *

Beard, 28, a native of Dallas who now calls Louisville, Ky., home, won the $100,000 event over the long-playing Speedway Course by three strokes Sunday with 6-under-par shooting on the final two days and a 72-hole score of 279. That's nine under regulation figures for the four-day match.

Winner of the Tournament of Champions and at Houston, Beard was never far off the pace. He set the stage for his charge at three-day leader Rod Funseth with a 69 Saturday and equalled that score on the final round in drizzly, humid weather.

Funseth, who hasn't won a major tourney in more than two years, had to settle for a second-place tie with Rives McBee, who also had a closing round of 69 for a 6-under-par 282.

Frank Beard, $20,000	70-71-69-69—279
Rod Funseth, $9,750	67-70-71-74—282
Rives McBee, $9,750	73-69-71-69—282

Tonight's Schedule
Southfield at Walled Lake, 6 p.m.
Waterford at Farmington, 6 p.m.

Walled Lake and Southfield kept pace Sunday and Waterford stayed within striking distance as the three American Legion baseball District 15 League contending teams posted double-header sweeps prior to tonight's key makeup games.

* * *

Walled Lake just about ended Clarkston's title hopes with 10-1 and 5-1 triumphs behind the pitching of Chuck O'Brien and Lanny West.

Southfield stayed right behind the pace-setting Walled Lakers with 15-0 and 7-0 whitewashings of Berkley, setting up a big game tonight when Southfield visits Walled Lake.

Waterford, who improved its chances with a 2-0, 11-inning victory Saturday night at Clarkston — out-played Milford yesterday, 8-1 and 4-2, to take over third place.

Farmington reached the break even level by sweeping Troy, 12-3 and 12-7. Farmington entertains Waterford this evening.

HITTING

John Burgess and Don McDowell each had three hits to back O'Briens 11-strikeout pitching in Walled Lake's opening win yesterday. Greg Fogle had two hits in the nightcap.

Dan Giroux homered in the opener and Dick Miceli in the second game while both Giroux and Steve Goit had three hits during Waterford's sweep.

Mike Harkey pitched the nightcap after producing a key single in Saturday's victory. Dennis Wooster whiffed 17 in that one but Bruce Mihalek was the winner in relief.

* *

Canada Lions Win Exhibition Contest

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — The British Columbia Lions defeated the Edmonton Eskimos 7-2 in a Canadian Professional Football League exhibition before a crowd of 6,248 Sunday.

The Lions scored on four one-point rouges and a field goal by former Washington State back Ted Gerela. Edmonton's only points came in the fourth period when Neal Beaumont of the Lions retrieved a bad pass from center and then ran into his own end zone for a safety.

Yachting Crews Idled by Fog

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Crew members of the four contenders for the right to represent the United States in the America's Cup races marked time today while Dame Pattie, the Australian challenger, was being readied for her first spin off the Rhode Island coast.

Heavy fog which limited visibility to about 50 feet in some areas near Brenton's Reef Light Tower forced postponement of the start of the second round-robin series in the U.S. observation trials Sunday.

Red Is Victorious in Kayak Singles

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Juergen Bremer of East Germany won the kayak singles for men at the World Canoe and Kayak Championships Sunday on the Devil's Rapids under the Lipno Dam of the Vltava River in South Bohemia.

* * *

East Germany also won the canoe singles for men and the canoe doubles patrol race for men.

* * *

Ludmila Polesna of Czechoslovakia, won the kayak singles for women.

Pitcher Holds Batting Mark

ATLANTA — (NEA) — The National League went 91 years before a player hit a pair of grand slam homers in a game.

Then, would you believe, the guy to do it was a pitcher?

That's right. Tony Cloninger of Atlanta powered a pair of round trippers with the bases loaded in San Francisco's windy Candlestick Park on July 3, 1966.

Needless to say, Tony had an easy time winning his game, 17-3, against the Giants.

Mexican Cagers Romp

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The Mexican All-Stars defeated the University of Nebraska 89-70 Sunday night in the first of a five-game basketball exhibition series.

Teen Collects Ace

Ray St. Amour, 13, carded an ace last week at Springdale Municipal Golf Course, turning the trick on the 126-yard, No. 6 hole with a 7-iron. He finished with a 40.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband William E. Hall, who passed away one year ago today, July 10, 1966.
It broke my heart to lose you, but you will not be forgotten.
For a part of me went with you.
The day God called you home, God gave me strength to bear it.
The courage to take the blow. But what He knew no one will ever know.
When evening shadows are falling.
And I sit here all alone
That's my heart there comes a longing.
If we could just come home. —Sadly missed by his wife, Bessie and daughter Shirley.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR daughter Gloria Doreen Hawkins who died July 10, 1967.
The Lord watch between me and thee when we are absent one from another.
Mr. and Mrs. Elias W. Chambers.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR mother Leona M. Lampson, who passed away 4 years ago July 10.
We cannot clasp your hand, Mother dear.
Your face we cannot see;
But the bitter pain of parting
Tell that we still remember thee.
—Sadly missed by her children Leonore Johnston and Sherman Cole, and families.

"Played a tie game.

Tonight's Schedule
JAYCEE PARK — C.I.O.—594 vs. U.A.W.—653, 8 p.m.

M. G. Collision handed first place to Booth Homes Sunday when its usually reliable defense and pitching crumbled in the heat at Jaycee Park during a five-game Class A schedule.

The showdown for the city men's league lead fizzled as the home builders erupted for seven runs in the first two innings and coasted to a 7-3 triumph behind Dan Fife's four-hitter.

The R. T. Clippers stayed in the tense three-team battle for the top spot by nipping Cranbrook, 1-0, last night. M. G. had posted its seventh shutout win of the season in a 4-0 victory Saturday night over Pass Excavating in a makeup contest.

* * *

Teamsters — 614 improved its playoff berth chances by trouncing winless U.A.W.—653, 11-0, to tie Cranbrook for fourth place. C.I.O.-594 rallied to up-end Oakland University, 10-9 and Pass blanked Lake Orion's Cardinals, 4-0, in other Sunday results.

Booth surged a half game in front of M.G. by making the collision crew pay for its mistakes. After having only 13 errors in its 12 previous outings, M.G. committed three in the first two innings.

Coupled with two walks and five hits — including a run-scoring double by Jerry Hill (the loop's leading hitter) and an rbi triple by Neil Roberts, the errors gave Booth a 7-0 lead with five of the runs being unearned.

Fife struck out eight in posting his third win and Booth's fourth in a row. M.G. saw a five-game winning string snapped and left-hander Jack McCloud (the circuit's top winner at 5-1) lost his position as the league's No. 1 pitcher.

MOVES UP

Teammate Walt Miller took that role aided by his third shutout in the Saturday night win. He tossed a two-hitter and now has allowed only two earned runs in 42 innings. The veteran southpaw also has 67 strikeouts to rank tops in the loop.

The Clippers pushed within a half game of the top when Santos Sanchez continued his hot hitting with a sixth-inning single to plate the game's only run.

Sanchez also tossed two-hit ball at Cranbrook to give the winners' their first shutout conquest of the campaign. He whiffed six.

Chet Woodmore rapped in four runs and Gene Luppino crashed a key three-run homer but C.I.O. still needed a tie-breaking single by Ray Heaton in the sixth inning to overcome Oakland's upset bid.

* * *

Mike Dodge and Don Piemann shared a five-inning one-hitter in highlighting the Teamsters' top-seeded triumph; while Pass ended a 0-0 duel with Lake Orion by scoring four times in the last inning.

Pat Dailey hurled the shut-out for the excavators while Rick Rhoney delivered a big double to key the winning rally.

Florida Man Takes Honors at Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Butch Gearhart, a slender, left-handed bowler from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., claimed his first pro championship Sunday night by winning the $27,500 Houston-Sertoma Open.

Gearhart, 22, won 14 of his 16 match games Sunday to pass Bill Allen of Orlando, Fla., who led the field after the first two days. First prize was $3,000.

* * *

Third money went to Bobby Cooper of Fort Worth, Tex., whose 204-193 victor over Gearhart in the final game of the night session spoiled Gearhart's try for a pro record for most match-game victories in a single tournament.

Wayne Zahn of Atlanta placed fourth after Allen defeated him 257-189 to ease into second place ahead of Cooper, with whom Allen was tied going into the tournament's last game. Curt Schmidt of Fort Wayne, Ind., rounded out the top five.

Final results:

Butch Gearhart, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 9,353	$3,000
Bill Allen, Orlando, Fla., 9,014	$1,500
Bobby Cooper, Fort Worth, Tex., 9,000	$1,200

Late Scoring Aerial Saves Steve Spurrier

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Steve Spurrier, darling of thousands of football fans during a fantastic career at Florida, already has found out his college clippings don't mean much anymore.

* * *

The 1966 Heisman Trophy winner, headed for what is expected to be a successful pro career with the San Francisco 49ers, got his first taste of criticism Saturday night in the seventh annual Coaches All-America game.

* * *

Spurrier was the target of a barrage of boos for the first time in his life when he missed seven of his first eight passes for the East and had one of his losses intercepted.

However, the poised quarterback shrugged off the catcalls and embarrassed his critics by passing the East to a 12-9 victory with a 40-yard touchdown throw with three minutes left.

* * *

"That booing didn't bother me," Spurrier said after the comeback victory before 29,145 paid fans. "They can boo me all they want in Atlanta — as long as they don't boo me back in Gainesville."

* * *

The winning toss by Spurrier went to Michigan State end Gene Washington, who leaped high for the pass and then raced into the end zone Spurrier had tossed 13 yards to Tom Francisco of Virginia Tech on the previous play after Georgia's Lynn Hughes gave the East its winning opportunity by intercepting a pass.

* * *

Spurrier hit on only 3 of 14 passes for 60 yards, his worst showing ever, but still good enough to give the East a 4-3 edge in the all-star rivalry.

* * *

West quarterback Jon Britenum of Arkansas, headed for the Miami Dolphins, was named the most valuable player after hitting on 21 of 40 losses for 244 yards, and Spurrier was the first to say "Jon deserved the award, even if his team didn't win."

Jets Sign 2 Rookies

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Jets announced today that signed contracts have been received from rookie defensive linemen Dennis Randall of Oklahoma State and Jeff Richardson of Michigan State.

OPENING THE DOOR — An unidentified East blocker gives quarterback Steve Spurrier a little running room by cutting down West defender John Elliott of Texas in Saturday night's All-America Football Game in Atlanta, Ga. Spurrier was searching for a receiver on the play, couldn't find one and rambled 12 yards on the option.
