

"Watch Pontiac..."

Thus did Semon E. Knudsen, Pontiac general manager and GM vice president, keynote division aims yesterday when he told newsmen and company officials that Pontiac expects to build and sell 525,000 in its 1957 model year.

Speaking at a special press preview in Detroit, Knudsen said that all signs point to 1957 as a year of "continued economic prosperity."

Admitting that Pontiac had a "rough time" (in 1956), the GM executive said, "We are counting on our solid dealer organization to sell 525,000 new Pontiac cars next year."

Optimistic about the industry outlook for next year, Knudsen pointed out that "two formidable facts beef up the probability of a six and one-half million car market next year—production cutbacks have toppled inventories and new model speculation will sharpen sales for 1957."

Although details of the new Pontiac models will be withheld until they are introduced to the public early in November, Knudsen said that their "Star Flight" will emphasize the "lower and longer" look.

The engine will be heavier and stronger, Knudsen revealed and added that improvements have also been made in carburetion, starting, power-steering, power brakes, hydramatic and synchromesh transmissions, and in the differential.

The new autos will be presented in three series, according to Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager: the luxurious Star Chief, the middle-priced Super Chief and a lower-priced Chieftain.

Bridge, speaking earlier in the conference, reported that Pontiac registered 17 1/2 per cent of the new cars in the medium-price group during the January-July period.

The economy-packed Chieftain series accounted for 45 per cent of the 1956 output, Bridge said. The division will offer six Chieftain body styles in 1957.

Declining to reveal the horsepower rating of 1957 models, Knudsen said that "the power plant, for all practical purposes, is brand new." The engine displacement, he added, has been enlarged to 347 cubic inches.

The division will begin production of the new models Monday.

Johnny has not yet been told that he will never see again.

City and Railroad Officials to Meet Again on Yard Site

Officials of Grand Trunk Western Railroad and the Pontiac City Commission will meet again Friday night in an attempt to iron out a conflict between the two groups over the proposed $700,000 railroad support yard slated for Pontiac's north end.

Frank N. Gaffney, vice-president and general manager of the railroad, agreed to the 7:30 meeting after City Manager W. K. Willman sent a commission-directed letter "re-emphasizing" the city's position.

Willman this morning declined to say whether he expected a final decision Friday after a four-month debate on the proposal. He added: "This can't go on forever."

In his letter sent last week, Willman explained the City Commission was aware of the need for continued service by the railroad to Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body Divisions.

The railroad asked city permission to construct the 3,000 by 500-foot yard south of Walton boulevard, north of its belt line, and between Stanley and Baldwin.

City officials have been reluctant to approve the request because, they claim, the project would block a plan to extend Stanley avenue north to help lessen congestion of Baldwin avenue.

'Hooking' Dodgers Their Specialty

ONE MORE CATCH—Three of the Yankees' ace pitchers examine fishing gear presented them before yesterday's game and think fondly of heading for the open spaces as the last Series game loomed today. Left to right: Whitey Ford, Don Larsen and Tom Sturdivant, each of whom has already caught one big one—victory over the Dodgers in the first six games. One of all may see action in today's contest.

Kucks or Ford to Face Newk at Ebbets Field

Stengel Hints of Change in Final Lineup; Predicts Clear, Cool Weather

NEW YORK (INS)—The Dodgers hitched their wagon to star righthander Don Newcombe today for a sudden death World Series showdown with the New York Yankees.

Back from the grave on Clem Labine's 10-inning shutout, the first extra-inning series whitewash since Christy Mathewson's 1913 masterpiece, the Bums sent their big 27-game winner out to keep the world championship in Brooklyn.

The Yanks, who beat Newcombe in three world series games and Friday kayaked him for no decision, left the clincher at Ebbets Field squarely up to their sophomore righthander, Johnny Kucks (18-9). Labine's 1-to-0 victory on Jackie Robinson's run-scoring single yesterday caused the odds, which has favored the Yankees, to drop.

But oddsmakers were taking no chances that Casey Stengel wouldn't switch to Whitey Ford for which another clear and cool for white hanother clear and cool football day was promised.

Even with the Dodgers' reputation for murdering lefthanders in Brooklyn and Ford's beating there opening day, the odds had the Yanks favored 11-10 if he got the last-minute nod.

HINT LINEUP CHANGE

With one possible exception, no other lineup changes were anticipated.

Stengel hinted a possible change last night and it might be in left field, where Enos Slaughter, Yankee hero of the first three games, had a bad time with several fly balls, including Robinson's winning hit.

His replacement presumably would be Bill Skowron, a hot hitter over the last month, who Boston's Pinky Higgins said would be the series hero. He also feeds on fast balls, Newcombe's specialty. Skowron would go to first, Joe Collins moving to left field.

Kucks, who hasn't been the effective pitcher for the last two months that he was earlier in the year, has appeared twice in relief in the series. He gave up two runs and three hits in two innings of the opener and yielded a hit to the only batter he faced in the second game.

Stengel said he was gambling with Kucks rather than risk Ford again in "this shooting gallery," adding: "The schedule has me this year. My lefthander is now due at Ebbets Field."

Pending Southfield, Troy Suits

Court Halts Cost Spread on Twelve-Town Drain

The $38,500,000 Twelve-Town Drain was stopped up indefinitely yesterday by a Circuit Court order restraining the Drain Board from setting allocations for the 14 participating municipalities until final court hearings on suits by Southfield Township and Troy.

Judge H. Russel Holland, who issued the court order yesterday, promised the court will seek a quick decision on whether Troy and Southfield must remain in the flood-relief project.

But a Supreme Court test of the Circuit Court decision is likely no matter who wins, and project officials see no hope of flood relief for South Oakland County through the new drain before spring 1958.

Yesterday's ruling canceled a former hearing on cost allocations set for Friday. Officials had hoped to advertise for bids immediately after the hearing.

In their lawsuits, which now must be fought through the courts before action may be taken on the drain project, Troy and Southfield both charged that the drain commission office doesn't keep enough records for an adequate discussion at the Friday hearing.

TROY HITS "CREDITS"

In addition, Troy attacked the $17,100,000 "credits" to participating communities by the drain board for allowing such credits. Anyway, he added, the credits given total three times the cost of the original drains credited.

Troy attorney Jack W. Hutson said the drain code "makes no provision for allowing such credits. Anyhow, he added, the credits given total three times the cost of the original drains credited.

Suez Opponents Talk Privately

Hammarskjold Brings Britain, France, Egypt Together at U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has Britain, France and Egypt talking privately in an effort to settle the 11-week-old Suez Canal dispute.

Hammarskjold arranged to see British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau and Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser today in his 38th-floor office here at U.N. headquarters.

The three foreign ministers met with the secretary general for a 90-minute private conversation last night—their first since they got together since they arrived last week for the U. N. Security Council's current debate on the Suez.

The West demands international control of the canal, which Egyptian President Nasser nationalized July 26. Egypt insists she can run the waterway herself — and has been doing it since then.

The Security Council's secret deliberations were in recess until tomorrow afternoon.

45,671 City Voters Put Names on Roll

A record 45,671 Pontiac voters are registered to cast ballots in the Nov. 6 election.

Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans said this figure may vary by some 200 after final checks of deaths and cancellations are in just prior to the election.

Previous record for registrations was 43,000 in 1952.

The booth in front of the court-house recorded 4,658 registrations from Sept. 4 until Monday's deadline. The clerk's office took in 1,381 new registrations from Aug. 8 through Monday. Labor offices and other centers registered 912 voters.

Pittsburgh Cheers President

Ike Raps 'Irresponsibility'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower accused the Democrats last night of practicing "political irresponsibility at its worst" and said they stand for inflation and a centralized federal government.

For his own administration he claimed "almost four years of clear accomplishments." He received a roaring ovation from a packed house in Pittsburgh's Hunt Armory, which heard in person his address, carried nationwide by radio and television.

That traditionally Democratic city gave him an ear-splitting ovation. Crowds cheered him on the 14-mile drive from the airport to his hotel and again along the route to the 8,000-seat armory, which was filled to overflowing.

Officials estimated a crowd of 5,000 greeted the President on his arrival at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport and an additional 100,000 lined the streets on his route to downtown Pittsburgh. The crowd was one of the biggest of his campaign.

Eisenhower again rapped back at the proposals of his Democratic

Fair and Cool Forecast Tonight—Mercury to Dip

The Pontiac area will be mostly fair and cool tonight with the temperature reaching a low of 33 to 39 degrees, following last night's frost which sent the mercury down to 33.

The frost was the most general of three which have hit the county in recent weeks but not as damaging as two which occurred in September, according to Lyle Abel, county agricultural agent.

The mercury rose to 51 by 1 p. m. today. Tomorrow and Friday will be partly cloudy and somewhat warmer with a high of 60-64. Precipitation will total .20 to .30 inches with showers expected Thursday night and Friday.

Low for the state was recorded at Grand Marais where it dipped to 23.

Hospital to Get $85,892 Grant

U.S. Funds Approved for Out-Patient Clinic at Pontiac General

Pontiac General Hospital has received preliminary approval from the Public Health Service in Washington, D. C., of a $85,892 federal grant to be used for construction and equipping a new out-patient clinic at the city hospital.

William P. Babcock, chairman of the hospital's board of trustees said the hospital was "happy to get the grant," but added "we will need more before we get through."

He said the board of trustees will make more applications for federal assistance.

Under stipulations of the request, approved last month by the State Office of Hospital Survey and Construction, the money must be used toward out-patient facilities.

The announcement came shortly after he had denounced the Eisenhower administration as a big business administration "narrowly representative of a limited interest."

The denunciation came as he told a wildly cheering Seattle audience last night that the United States government should represent "the interests of all the people and of no narrower group."

Beaudette 'Liberalizes' Land Offer

Mayor William W. Donaldson told the City Commission last night O. L. Beaudette had "verbally agreed to liberalize" his offer to the city of his home and property toward conversion of the West Huron block into a civic park-library site.

After Donaldson's announcement, city commissioners instructed City Manager W. K. Willman to negotiate for the purchase of the first parcel of land in the block across from Pontiac High School.

Donaldson said Beaudette agreed to use of the block for "cultural and educational" purposes after conferring with Willman and Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools.

This would allow for construction of a community college, a branch of a state university, or any cultural purposes like a park, art museum or library, Donaldson explained.

Earlier, Mr. and Mrs. Beaudette said their home should be the only building on the park site and to be used as a library.

NOT AUDITORIUM

Willman said the city still plans to construct a civic auditorium on the Civic Center site near the City Hall. He added Beaudette's revision would prohibit construction of the auditorium on the 15-acre plot bounded by West Huron, Franklin boulevard, West Pike, and Williams.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles warned the commission that the city should ask for "a definite written commitment" from Beaudette on the new offer.

Donaldson said final confirmation still hinged on Mrs. Beaudette's confirmation, as both made the original offer.

Willman was authorized to purchase or $36,000 the Automobile Club of Michigan property at the northwest corner of West Pike and Williams.

Donaldson said officials of the firm had delayed plans for this site pending a further decision between the Beaudettes and the city.

Last month, the City Planning Commission moved for "liberalization" of the Beaudette offer termed "a little too restrictive" by Commissioner William F. Kalwitz.

The group had conducted two public hearings on a proposal to rezone 21 lots in the block to Residential 1 use to prevent further commercial development of the land.

Donaldson said the rezoning move was still tabled. He added he doubted that any action would be taken at the plan group's Oct. 17 session.

Pontiac General Appoints Pontiac Deaths New Assistant Director Stanley Gachesa

The appointment of Warren W. Simonds, former associate director of Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, as assistant director at Pontiac General Hospital, has been announced by Lauretta Paul, hospital director.

The appointment was one of the recommendations of the management study made at the local hospital, Miss Paul said. She added the appointment was in line with the expansion planning at Pontiac General.

Simonds, 39, was born and educated in Pasadena, Calif., received a degree from the University of Southern California in 1950 and a masters degree in hospital administration from Washington University in St. Louis in 1952.

After serving as a hospital administrator intern and assistant resident from 1951 to 1953, Simonds was appointed associate director at Barnes Hospital.

AT MORE MEMORIAL

In this position he was in charge of equipping a 75-bed Wohl Memorial Hospital and was associated in construction of an adjacent 40-bed Bernard Free Skin and Cancer Hospital.

Simonds is an Air Force veteran, married, and will make his home at 474 S. Marshall St.

With a leave of absence from Barnes in June 1955, the new appointee was coordinator of equipping the Lima Employees Hospital in Peru.

Simonds primary duties at Pontiac General, as outlined by Miss Paul, will be direct charge of the hospital's laundry, housekeeping, pharmacy, medical records, outpatient clinic, social service, physical medicine, and purchasing.

She said physical medicine and social service will be new departments at the city hospital. She added that the out-patient clinic will also be operated as a separate department for the first time.

Principal topics will concern county governmental problems and the responsibility of planners in seeking solutions, Skrubbs said.

Discussion leaders will include Richard A. Ware, secretary of the Realm Foundation of Ann Arbor; Gerald Warren of the Detroit Board of Commerce and Richard B. Fernbach, first vice chairman of the Detroit Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission.

Coba Criticizes Rival's Actions

GOP Candidate Calls Williams Obstructionist in Owosso Speech

OWOSSO (AP) — Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo says Gov. Williams is a man who "criticizes everything and is doing nothing."

Cobo, the Republican candidate for Williams' post, asserted in a speech before GOP leaders here yesterday that Williams hinders continuously with the State Legislature and the federal government and fails to get anything done.

He also depicted his Democratic rival as "an obstructionist who doesn't know how to get along with people."

Cobo, handshaking and talking his way through southern Michigan, also addressed groups in Ovid, Corunna and Ionia.

Critical of the state's mental health program, he said there are "tremendous open bed spaces, but people aren't using them."

"The personnel in some places equals the patient load," he added.

Cobo also repeated charges that Williams does not know how to finance highway building programs. His own method, he said, would call for issuing revenue bonds for the state highway program, repaying them out of federal funds over a 15-year period.

Hare testified before a State Legislative Committee.

HONOR "Y" DIRECTOR — Retiring executive director of the Oakland County Town & Country YMCA, Sidney N. Geal, left, was honored at a Hotel Waldron banquet last night. Present and past board members presented him with a bronze plaque, of which the scroll above is a copy. A former director and president, Conrad N. Church, right, made the presentation.

Sidney N. Geal Honored for Long YMCA Service

Youngsters at the Oakland County Town & Country YMCA Camp next summer will spot a bronze plaque there as a tribute to the 11-year service retiring executive director Sidney N. Geal.

Present and past members of the county Y's board of directors told Geal of the plaque at a surprise banquet honoring him last night.

They felt, though, that Camp Mahan-go-tah-see at Hale Stands as the best tribute to Geal's service.

The Y runs the camp for boys on a non-profit basis during the summer months.

HAS EXPANDED

Under Geal's guidance, the camp has expanded to where it accommodates 400 boys a summer. Camping facilities, cabins and a large lodge where the plaque will hang—much of the credit for these go to Geal and his enthusiasm for camping.

About 30 directors felt so as they gathered at the Waldron Hotel last night. Geal was presented with a scroll copy of the plaque by a former Y president and director, Conrad N. Church.

Dr. Milton Hathaway, who heads the present board; staff members at the camp, and other Y officials gave talks recognizing Geal's service.

He and Mrs. Geal were given a set of matching luggage.

Geal is retiring to become director of the American Camping Association's standards division.

Dem Trend Showing in Alaska Election

JUNEAU, Alaska (INS) — Conclusive returns were lacking today from yesterday's Alaska election but a Democratic trend was indicated.

Returns from the vast territory's far-flung 771 precincts were slow in reaching Juneau but most Democratic candidates were ahead on the basis of tallies made in 27 precincts.

Main hope for the Republicans was an indication of slight gains in the Southeast District territorial legislature races. This district was largely Democratic in the 1954 election.

Early returns, however, did not include Anchorage, a Democratic stronghold.

On the ballot were candidates for the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives. The winners will have no official standing as far as the United States is concerned but will go to Washington in the hope of pressing a move for statehood for Alaska.

C. of C. Waits Bank Word on Evenings, Saturdays

BIRMINGHAM — A decision on the requested either Friday night or Saturday morning local banking hours is expected within a short time, but meanwhile hours remain the same.

Chamber of Commerce officials and officials of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. which has altered local hours since combination with the two local banks, met Friday night and exchanged arguments for the schedules.

Drop-off of Saturday shopping has been evident and has brought much customer comment in September as result of both banks not having Saturday hours, the Chamber of Commerce members explained.

Bankers want to keep to a 40-hour week, question advisability of having branch hours differ from main offices, and don't want to set a precedent for other branches.

With bank president Raymond Perring then out of town, the bank was represented by Herbert H. Gardner, senior vice president, Charles H. Hewitt, executive vice president, and William F. Hall, personnel.

Arthur F. Blakeslee lead four C. of C. people for the discussion.

First Methodist church members are launching their Seventh Building Crusade to complete their church building, Dr. F. Olen Hunt of the Board of Home Missions is taking the pulpit for three Sundays, that began on the past Sunday, and three complimentary workers dinners are slated.

Tomorrow night's dinner for Groups 1 and 3 is planned by Fred Burnham and Coy Eklund. On Oct. 17, one is planned by Theodore Gauching, and on Oct. 18, Group 4, by Richard Bally. Home visitations will start Oct. 21 and last through the 23rd, but no public solicitation is planned.

Jack Kinsey has taken over direction of "Measure of a Moment," an hour-long drama to be given at First Congregational Church Oct. 19 and 20 at 8:20 each night. It was first presented last June in Omaha with Raymond Massey narrating.

The church's board of trustees meets tonight at 8 p.m. at Jack Blaisdell's, 394 S. Glenhurst Ave.

Tomorrow, a rummage sale and a Men's Fellowship dinner are planned.

Young Adults Co-Ed Club members of the YMCA are attending the "Seven Wonders of the World" program tonight and tomorrow night, with tickets secured from the "Y."

Bank Gets Curb-Cage Right, 1-Way Traffic on 2 Streets

Community National Bank was granted permission by the Pontiac City Commission last night to build two elevated curb teller cages on East Lawrence street, after a 5-2 vote on the request.

Commissioners John E. Carry and Floyd P. Miles voted against the $50,000 proposal.

Carry also voted against a move to add the bank's project by making Lawrence street one-way eastbound from Cass to Perry and Pike one-way westbound from Perry to Cass.

The latter city project, to provide more rapid service for bank customers using the new cages, was approved on a "reasonable trial basis" despite Carry's lone objection.

"HODGE-PODGE TRAFFIC" — "This extension is only going to add to our hodge-podge one-way street system in Pontiac," Carry charged.

He added that the curb service would subtract money from the city's parking revenue.

The bank will construct both cages on the Lawrence street side of the building. They will be raised for use by hydraulic lifts and retracted to basement vault space at closing time.

Bank officials said customers had asked for similar curb service at the main office as exists at branch offices.

They said they had noted success of like ventures in Lubbock, Tex., and in Oklahoma.

Miles expressed fear of setting a precedent for other downtown businesses desiring curb service. He also questioned City Attorney William A. Ewart as to right of city to lease a portion of a sidewalk to private enterprise.

Ewart answered this was legal and was handled by a license revocable under the City Charter in 60 days.

Wants to Set Record Straight

Hitler's Sister Working on Her Memoirs

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany (AP) — Adolf Hitler's sister said today she is writing her memoirs to set some of the record about her family straight.

"And the readers will forgive me if I abstain from depicting my brother at all costs as wicked character, just for the sake of profit," she told a reporter.

"I must complete these memoirs. I owe it to the memory of my parents to tell the truth. So many distorted stories have been written in the postwar years that I have to set some facts straight about my parents, my youth and my brother."

Paula Hitler, whose name was changed to Paula Wolf on Hitler's orders in 1936, was interviewed at her home in this Alpine resort city.

She said she had been using the name Wolf for some time before 1936 because "I never like to show off."

"I am a simple woman and I have always lived simply. I never had more than two rooms and a kitchen," the 60-year-old white-haired woman said.

Adolf Hitler probably will be declared dead officially later this month by a Munich court. Miss Wolf said she hoped she will then be allowed to take possession of a trunkful of Hitler keepsakes, including some water colors he painted, his World War I decorations and a Nazi party badge. These properties are held by the Bavarian state government.

"I find it disgusting that I have to ask the authorities for these personal keepsakes," she said. "But I hope somebody will handle these matters for me."

Since the war she has lived on a small pension in one room of a drab house here. She said she had been given notice to move out but the tenant who needs the room has agreed she may stay until she has found a new apartment.

"It's the first time in my life that I have been given notice," she sighed, glancing around her simply furnished room. There was no picture of her brother on the walls.

Mayor Investigated in Rezoning Dispute

ST. CLAIR SHORES (INS) — A St. Clair Shores Council investigating committee reported last night that Mayor Thomas S. Welsh may have profited on advance knowledge on a rezoning plan.

Welsh attempted to reply to the report, but was cut short and promised the floor at a future public hearing.

The three-member committee was appointed Sept. 4 to look into Welsh's real estate holdings at 13-Mile and Harper, located in a small area which remained commercial when neighboring land was rezoned to residential use.

The group also is studying whether Welsh violated the charter in discussing the zoning change.

LOLA GOT IT—Lola, a Rhesus monkey at the Parke, Davis and Co. biological farms at Rochester puts on her best look of innocence in hopes of winning forgiveness from lab assistant Warren Lang of Royal Oak. She snatched his paycheck from his back pocket yesterday, and ate it while he was giving her fresh drinking water. Lang got a new check, and Lola suffered no ill effects from her expensive diet.

CANINE SHINER — A boxer with a black eye is not unusual — when the boxer is of the canine variety like this one. The dog, owned by George Larrabee of Syracuse, N. Y., came home sporting the shiner after a fight with a neighborhood pooch. What makes it worse is the fact that the black-eyed animal is a female with the questionable name of "Lady."

Group Compiles School Report

House Probers Reveal Facts on Integration in Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixty-four children of high government officials attend public schools here, a report compiled at the request of a House subcommittee showed today.

Hobart M. Corning, superintendent of District of Columbia schools, made the report yesterday to the subcommittee, which recently ended a two-week investigation of the effects of racial integration in local schools.

Subcommittee counsel William Gerber, who has called the local school situation "a mess," and other members of the group had asked Corning to report on how many top federal officials send their children or grandchildren to public schools.

Officials mentioned in this connection were President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon, Cabinet members, Supreme Court justices, White House aides, members of Congress and District of Columbia commissioners.

The Corning report showed some children of members of Congress attend Horace Mann public school—located in a neighborhood where few Negroes live. A subcommittee spokesman has said this school still is in fact all-white despite integration of the district school system.

Watch Repair Method Not Recommended

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Dr. O. W. Rice found a new way to repair his watch.

His 2-year-old watch stopped running and a jeweler told him it would cost about as much to repair it as to buy a new one.

Rice decided against the operation but several days later he accidentally dropped the watch on the concrete pavement.

When he picked it up, it was running and has been keeping good time ever since.

To disprove allegations that the public is served horse, mule or donkey meat, the health department of Springs, South Africa, has ordered the use of a special stamp by abattoirs in the city.

Beauty From New Zealand Quits Contest

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Honey-blond Miss New Zealand said today she has walked out on the Miss World contest because she can't face parading in a bathing suit. And besides, she has hardly a thing to wear.

The reluctant beauty, 20-year-old Jeanette de Montalk, vanished from London two days ago. She was to have competed against girls from a score of nations next Monday for the title of Miss World.

A reporter found her living in a YWCA hostel here, adamant in her decision not to participate.

"I'm finished with it," announced the green-eyed young lady. "I do not want to parade in a bathing costume before hundreds of people."

"Furthermore, I do not own the sort of clothes to compete with some of the girls."

"My wardrobe is only a normal one bought by my family and friends who rallied around at home. Some of the girls have Dior gowns."

Three other persons were reported wounded. Darul Islam is a fanatic sect that wants to establish a Moslem state.

GREATEST WASHDAY NEWS IN 25 YEARS:

Anything powders wash...
Wisk can wash cleaner!

...because it's a liquid!

Only a liquid can dissolve completely...instantly.
Can get clothes so clean, so fast!

Only a liquid can penetrate so deep into each cloth fiber and remove the grease, grime and hidden dirt that laundry powders leave behind

Yet it costs you less to use Wisk!

Because it's a liquid, you only need a little bit...as little as 1/3 cup!

Liquid Wisk is concentrated! One-third (1/3) cup will do a whole load of wash. The pint can goes further than a "large" box of powder. Saves you money, too. But the quart and half-gallon cans save you even more. In fact, the bigger the can, the more money you save.

You haven't washed your cleanest wash, until you've washed with WISK

QUESTIONS

Because WISK is so new and such an improvement on laundry powders, women just naturally want to know more about it. Here are the answers to their questions.

Do I have to use bleach or bluing?

No. WISK is blue. You don't have to add a thing. And it will get your wash whiter than any laundry powder—even the blue ones!

I have a dingy white nylon blouse. Will WISK get it white again?

Pour WISK right on the blouse, concentrated the way it comes out of the can. Squeeze the blouse until you have worked WISK into every part. Use plenty of WISK. Let blouse sit for five minutes to give WISK a chance to work. Then put in machine and wash, or wash by hand in basin for at least three minutes. Blouse will be white as new.

What kind of stains will WISK remove?

For most stains just use WISK the regular way in your washing machine. For really stubborn stains, the kind laundry powders won't budge no matter what you do, follow these simple steps: 1) Wet stain with water. 2) Pour a little WISK on stain. 3) Rub gently. 4) Put in machine with rest of wash.

Is WISK safe for my hands?

Yes. WISK is safer for you, your wash, and your machine. It is safe for delicate fabrics and for any color that is safe in water. It's ideal for "special wash" like baby's diapers and clothing.

Is WISK guaranteed?

Unconditionally! If you don't agree that WISK does the best job of any detergent you've ever used, Lever Brothers will give you your money back.

My washer is a top-loader. How much WISK should I use?

One-third cup of WISK will get your wash cleaner and whiter than a cup and a half (1 1/2 cups) of laundry powder! Liquid WISK costs you less to use because you need only a little bit.

Is WISK meant for washing machines only?

No. WISK is great for dishes, walls, woodwork, removing grease from stoves. When we say: "Anything powders wash, WISK can wash cleaner!"...we mean it!

Impatient Patron Manhandles the Wrong Man

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—The scene was peaceful. A man sat under the white apron in the barber's chair, his head nodding to the monotonous snip-snip of the scissors.

The action and dialogue, according to police, went about like this. Enter impatient customer, identified as Settle Pearson, 32.

Impatient customer: "I want a haircut and shave."

Barber: "I'm sorry. You'll have to wait. I don't have any empty chairs."

The impatient customer grabs the apron by collar and pulls him from the chair.

Impatient customer: "Well, you have an empty chair now."

The apron falls off, revealing a dozing patron, revealing off-duty policeman Leroy G. Cumming Jr., complete with uniform, revolver and handcuffs.

Patron turned policeman: "All right, buddy. What's the big idea?"

There is a scuffle, and the impatient customer runs from the shop, but is apprehended by policeman after a short chase.

Final scene: Impatient customer booked at police station on disorderly conduct charge and, as the curtain falls, is taken to a cell with the aid of three officers.

Sea Lamprey Gets Hot Seat

U.S., Canada Spend Million in Campaign to Kill Vampire

NEW YORK (INS) — The sea lamprey, a hungry vampire that preys on fresh water fish in the Great Lakes, is getting the "hot seat."

Steel pipe has been planted under the water and charged with electricity to get rid of the killer which has destroyed millions of pounds of game and food fish in Lake Ontario, Huron and Michigan.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, says the U. S. and Canada are putting more than a million dollars into the hands of a joint commission to speed up the campaign and head off the ugly vertebrate from reaching the lake trout and whitefish of Lake Superior.

The magazine reports that American and Canadian forces have installed scores of "electric chairs" in tributaries where lampreys go to spawn.

MOKE TRAPS

And with additional money forthcoming, more traps in other lakes will soon be on their way. Authorities are convinced electrocution provides the most effective answer to date.

Game and food fish are frightened away from the "hot seat" by mild shocks of electrodes which are set up at strategic locations.

When the Welland Canal first opened its locks to shipping back in 1829, it inadvertently gave the bluish-gray vampire passage from Lake Ontario to Lake Erie.

Previously, the voracious 18-inch-long lamprey had been pent up in Lake Ontario and its tributaries.

With the barrier broken down, it spread farther and farther, sinking its suction-disk mouth, razor-edge teeth and sharp-rasping tongue into game fish, draining off their blood.

Slowly, the lamprey extended its web of destruction into Lake Huron, and in 12 years virtually wiped out a lake trout catch once weighted at more than 6 million pounds annually.

In Lake Michigan, the trout catch fell from about 4 million in 1946 to virtual extinction today.

Sheriff Stops Show — 'Not Fit for Kids'

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Sheriff C. C. Maxey had an argument about shutting down a film at a drive-in theater recently but he won hands down.

He said the film being shown had girls in "less than I have on my hand." He held up a hand bare except for a gold ring.

"I told the man to stop the film right there—just cut the thing off," Maxey related. "He told me he would have to call Dallas headquarters and get permission. I told him all the permission he needed was that I told him to cut the machine off."

The film was stopped immediately.

"I don't think we've got any censor board here," Maxey said. "But I figure if they can't show something that's all right for kids they just won't show anything."

Rush to Register Brings Up Total

Oak Park City Nearly Tripling 1952 Figure, Breaks Record

In reports of registration from ten village, city and township areas in the county today, all had reached a new high total. Included below are figures from Avon Township, Waterford Township, Farmington City and Township, Independence, Southfield, Troy, Royal Oak, Oak Park and Berkley.

At deadline, Monday night, there was still a waiting line but all who stood in line were registered, she said. Mrs. Covert attributes the large number of registrations was due to the many new subdivisions in this area.

Precinct 1 had 386 new registrations, Precinct 2 had 317, making a total of 1629 who will vote at the Fire hall. Precincts 3, 4, had 397 and 502, respectively. These are the precincts inside the village. Precincts 5 and 6, both on Auburn road, registered 314 and 287, respectively. There are now 18,629 registered voters in Avon Township.

Waterford Township Approximately 4300 new voters have been added to the township's registration lists. This brings the total close to 19,000. Farmington Last minute registrants swamped both city and township offices at Farmington Monday evening in a rush to beat the deadline for registration for the Nov. 6 election.

There were 637 new registrations in the township and 166 in the city. "Most of them in the last three hours," according to Floyd A. Cairns, township clerk and Kathryn Cottler, city clerk. These new registrations bring total eligible electors to approximately 3,000 in the city and 9,000 in the township. Cairns said that 2,336 persons have registered in the township since the August primaries. "I would venture to say," he added, "that some subdivisions in the township such as Kendallwood, Staman Acres and Franklin Knolls are registered almost 100 per cent."

Independence Township Approximately 934 new registrations were counted here yesterday, many of them swamping the township clerk's office Monday night. This brings the total registration for the township to over 3300.

Southfield An estimated registration of 18,000 was given here today by Township Clerk Fannie Adams. Troy Six thousand registered for voting here, 395 of them swamping the city office on Monday. Township figures showed a total of 31 registrants.

Royal Oak A total of 39,725 persons registered here, with 1,182 persons signing up on Monday. Oak Park The figure for the city of Oak Park is 17,568. Of this number, 688 flocked to the offices in the last two days before deadline. In 1952, only 6,133 persons registered, with the new figure nearly tripling the old registry.

Berkley In this city, 12,637 persons signed up, with a total of 352 registering on the last day, Monday. Commerce Choir Elects New Officers

Ask $1 Million for Imlay School

Taxpayers to Vote Oct. 16 on Bond Issue for High School

IMLAY CITY — The taxpayers of the Imlay City Community Schools will have the opportunity to approve a $1,000,000 bond issue to build a new high school, when they go to the polls to vote on Oct. 16.

The Planning Committee held its final meeting last Saturday at the high school. Besides the committee, workers were present who are helping with the campaign. Reports were given by several.

In the discussion, it was pointed out that "this new high school is needed and that there is nothing to indicate that building costs will come down in the near future so it will cost less to build the new school as soon as possible." It was stated that according to figures at this time the estimated levy will be seven mills. However, officials added, it is possible that in 1957, it might be only 5 mills, or more than the present building and site tax.

COOKING SECOND NATURE—St. Johnson, canned goods, pink applesauce for friends. Milford cookery expert in his seventies, readies

Cans, Hands to Milford Friends for Fun Pink Applesauce Production Zooming

By REBA HEINTZELMAN Milford Correspondent MILFORD — "Si" Johnson is again busy making pink applesauce for his friends and neighbors in Milford. Each year, he cans hundreds of jars of the spicy fruit sauce along with apple and peach jelly for the sole purpose of giving it away "just for the fun of it." Only Arkansas Red apples are used, because the brilliant red color just under the outer skin, tints the applesauce naturally. The fruit has a tang all of its own that no their apple can equal, according to Johnson. Born on a farm in Indiana some 70 years ago, Si learned to cook and can when his mother fed a multitude of harvesters that came in for the noon-day meal. He is an expert in baking cakes, pies, and "pineapple chicken" and is often called upon to help local homemakers prepare an extra good dinner for guests. Now retired, Johnson worked for 37 years with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and has a "for life" telephone in his neat four-room apartment. His wife died a year and a half ago, after being bedridden for 13 years. Si did all the cooking, cleaning and other tasks during that time, so it comes as second nature for him to go right on cooking. Everyone in Milford knows Si's adeptness for making pink applesauce. However, one point is important: The recipient must furnish him with his favorite apple for their canning, consequently "Arkansauce Red" are very scarce in this area.

Mrs. Marshall Wheeler is in charge of arrangements and Mrs. David Mansfield will supervise the serving of the meal.

Talks at Pinebrook COMMERCIE TOWNSHIP — The Rev. Perry A. Thomas of the Commerce Methodist Church was guest speaker at a retreat held last weekend at Pinebrook, a youth hostel site located near South Lyon. The retreat was in conjunction with the Methodist Church student movement on campuses throughout the U.S., under auspices of the Wesley Foundation. The Rev. Mr. Thomas titled his addresses as follows: "Boxing the Compass," "Finding the Pole Star," and "Charting the Course."

Milk is transported daily between dairy farms to a pasteurizing plant in Kitzbuhel, Austria, via two 7,000 plastic imbedded pipelines. Bickel Barn Burns; Loss in Thousands OAKWOOD — A barn at 5640 Hummer Lake Rd., on the Willard Bickel farm, burned at an estimated loss of from $10,000 to $20,000. Mrs. Bickel said she noticed the fire in the barn which was filled with grain, hay and straw, about 6 p.m. By the time she called the fire department, she added, "the whole thing seemed to be aflame." Fire departments from Oxford and Brandon Township battled the blaze. The Bickels said the loss was not fully covered by insurance.

Densmores Honemooning in East

LAPEER — Palms, candelabra and white gladioli formed the setting at the First Baptist Church here where Joanne Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Barrett of Lum, and Ray Densmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Densmore of Pontiac, exchanged their vows on Saturday. The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a full length gown of hand clipped lace and nylon tulle over satin. It was fashioned with a picture neckline, long sleeves and a bodice of lace to the hip line flowing into a nylon tulle skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid and lilies of the valley. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Patricia Burgess of Chicago was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Marilyn Davis of Flint and Carol Parker of Pontiac. They wore identical full length gowns of blue crystal satin, fashioned with portrait necklines and full gathered skirts accented with bustle bows. Sticking to Diet Pays—in Dollars

By ANNE HAYWOOD
Being on a strict diet is not fun under any circumstances and most people react to it with a combination of self-pity and rebellion.
But the other day, I received a letter from an ingenious woman who is making pin money as a result of being on a diet.
Here is her letter in part:
"Because so many of your readers are in my age group (early forties) and share my problem—the need to lose weight

"I thought they might like to know how I licked the problem and made some money to boot.
"I just love to make big, mouth-watering cakes and, if I do say so, they are excellent. I have three teenage sons so, you can imagine, my cakes are in great demand.
CAKES MUST GO
"However, because I enjoy the cakes so much myself, it became quite obvious that I could never stick to the diet and continue baking. The cakes would have to go for the duration of the diet!
"It wasn't long before I found I was getting to be an old cross-patch, what with dieting, missing the fun of baking and being nagged by the boys constantly about the lack of cake in the house. So I decided I'd better have a talk with my doctor.
"That wise man gave me a wonderful idea. He made me realize that in addition to protecting my health, this diet would make me look years younger and more attractive. That got me thinking about a whole new wardrobe!"

"Then a light dawned. Why not turn professional with my cake-baking and save the profits for some glamorous new clothes?
READY MARKET
"It is amazing, but after that I wasn't even tempted to eat my cakes. I baked some for the boys and some for the neighbors and then I approached several tea-rooms in our community and found a ready market for my cakes.
Now I'm making a nice weekly income, my boys are happy and I'm getting closer and closer to that size 14 wardrobe!"

There are plenty of other reasons besides a diet that make women want to sell a product from their homes. If you think you might like to start such a project, I'd be glad to send you a copy of my pamphlet, "Marketing a Home Product, if you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this paper."

Mrs. C. P. Taft Preparing to Aid 9th Refugee Family

NEW YORK (INS)—Thousands of displaced persons from all parts of the world have found new lives and new hope in America, and none have been more interested in their welfare than Mrs. Charles P. Taft.
Mrs. Taft, wife of the Cincinnati lawyer and sister-in-law of the late Sen. Robert Taft, has, in the past few years, personally housed eight families of refugees and is now getting her guest rooms ready for the ninth family—a man, his wife and four children.
"This man was a baker in East Germany before he fled the country," Mrs. Taft said. "And I am sure he will have no trouble getting situated in the United States."
"In every instance," she added, "these refugees have become successful citizens and have managed eventually to make their own way."
Mrs. Taft and her family (including seven children) have helped displaced carpenters from Romania, dressmakers from Estonia and welders from East Germany.

ONE BIG FAMILY
And one family, a cabinet-maker and his wife and two children, (from Latvia) have remained in the huge, sprawling 10-bedroom Taft home for the past four-and-a-half years.
"They're like part of the family," Mrs. Taft said.
The gentle, gray-haired woman from Ohio thinks U.S. aid to refugees is one of "the most humane things in the world."
"They are stateless and without roots in any country," she said, "and coming to America gives their children a chance to settle, to grow up and have homes free of fear and want."
Mrs. Taft also believes in interchange of American and foreign children and actually has sent three of her seven children to temporarily live in foreign homes for brief periods.
CITES VALUES
"It gives them an interest and appreciation of people in other countries," she declared, "and is

Over-Decorated Home Is Like 'Mink on Mink'

NEW YORK (INS)—One of the worst evils a woman can commit is to over-decorate her home.
Paul McCobb, whose name has become synonymous with the finest examples of contemporary design, says women are "too interested in novelty."
"When they start out to furnish a room, or an entire home," he declared, "they never know when to quit."
The designer explained that overdecorating is like "piling mink on top of mink." He added: "You should start out with a simple approach and when you finish, the room should not be overwhelming. Overdone rooms have a tendency to steal from a woman's personality. Like a fine gown or a piece of jewelry, the room should remain a part of the background of the person in it."
McCobb said another mistake women make in decorating is to use flowered wallpaper against flowered slipcovers or flowered curtains.
"This creates a bizarre pattern of color and is a big mistake," he emphasized.

WHAT IS YOUR BEAUTY PROBLEM?
Do you have a beauty problem, and who hasn't? Here are a few common to most of us... black heads, they disappear quickly with proper cleansing... and stimulating massage. Cleanse with soap and water, massage vigorously with your favorite night cream. Remove all excess cream with cold water. This treatment is also excellent for flaky dry skin, in fact this simple treatment is a normalizer and will correct most skin blemishes... if it is practiced daily, that's the real trick.
Too thin lips can become fuller and more attractive by extending the line a little, just a little. Too much will create a bizarre look which is anything but attractive. Thin straggly eyebrows can be greatly improved by a little artistry. First ignore the thin areas, tweeze all strays, and shape the heavy section, to your liking, doing most of the tweezing from underneath. When you are finished, take an eyebrow or soft lead pencil and with short, quick strokes, draw eyebrows in the thin places. This is very effective.

WHAT IS YOUR BEAUTY PROBLEM?
Do you have a beauty problem, and who hasn't? Here are a few common to most of us... black heads, they disappear quickly with proper cleansing... and stimulating massage. Cleanse with soap and water, massage vigorously with your favorite night cream. Remove all excess cream with cold water. This treatment is also excellent for flaky dry skin, in fact this simple treatment is a normalizer and will correct most skin blemishes... if it is practiced daily, that's the real trick.
Too thin lips can become fuller and more attractive by extending the line a little, just a little. Too much will create a bizarre look which is anything but attractive. Thin straggly eyebrows can be greatly improved by a little artistry. First ignore the thin areas, tweeze all strays, and shape the heavy section, to your liking, doing most of the tweezing from underneath. When you are finished, take an eyebrow or soft lead pencil and with short, quick strokes, draw eyebrows in the thin places. This is very effective.

Duke Celebrates His 21st Birthday

IVER, England (U)—Nearly 200 members of royalty and high society danced into the small hours today celebrating the 21st birthday of the Duke of Kent.
Among the guests were the duke's cousin, Queen Elizabeth II, her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and Princesses Olga and Elizabeth of Greece.

Awards Given at Hospital

The fifth Awards Meeting was held at Pontiac State Hospital for the teenage patients who participated at the recent 4-H County Fair. The 25 girls and boys won a total of 31 blue ribbons, 7 red ribbons and 4 white ribbons for their exhibits in handicraft, electrical devices, clothing, vegetable and flower gardening.

The ribbons, along with 4-H pins, certificates and premiums, were presented to the youngsters by Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent.
The audience consisted of members of the Birmingham Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association, Birthday Club, Beta Theta Chapter of Lambda Chi Omega sorority, Birmingham Junior League, American Business Women's Association, Beta Theta Chapter of the Hills Men's Club, and Epistol Sigma Alpha's Alpha Alpha Chapter.

In addition, the county 4-H agent, Jack Worthington, individual volunteers and many of the hospital staff members heard Dr. LaCore and Dr. James M. McHugh commend the volunteer groups and individuals for the contributions they have made to the 4-H program at the hospital.
This was a joint meeting of the boys' and girls' clubs and was presided over by officers of each club. This was the first meeting in which the girls at the hospital participated. Their club was recently organized and has accomplished a great deal.
Both clubs, for the first time, entered many projects at the 4-H County Fair and achieved higher quality of work despite the increased amount of work. The conduct of their meeting demonstrated a great deal of skill as the ceremonies progressed under the two club flags. The audience had a chance to see examples of the projects which won the awards.

DOCTOR SPEAKS
Dr. McHugh, director of the Children's Program at the hospital, was introduced as one of the main speakers. He reviewed for the audience at the recent meeting the progress which has been made since the beginning of the 4-H program. The volunteers were credited with much of the success for their contribution of time, talents and financial support.
He thanked John Vanderlind, club leader, and project leaders Mrs. Eleanor McCurry, June May, Mrs. Doris Brown, and Ronald Robbins for their consistent help.
Dr. McHugh introduced and narrated a movie taken of the children working on their projects and of their exhibits at the 4-H County Fair.
Dr. LaCore presented the ribbon assisted by Mrs. Eleanor McCurry, director of occupational therapy at the hospital. One by one, the members came with pride to shake hands with the medical superintendent and receive their awards.
Dr. LaCore cited each volunteer organization and individual. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by members of Beta Theta Chapter of Lambda Chi Omega sorority.
Plans are now under way for the winter program. The clubs will participate in handicraft, electrical and clothing projects in anticipation of the annual 4-H Achievement Day in April 1957.

Surgeon Warns Parents to Be Sure of Baby's Sex

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—A surgeon or girls for boys, because they have characteristics or signs of both sexes, he told the American College of Surgeons. They are often reared as members of the opposite sex, and nothing is done for them, with tragic consequences later for their own happiness.
Careful examinations and tests can determine true or predominant sex. Modern treatments of surgery and hormones can do much to correct the abnormalities early in life, Dr. Schaffner said.
"Too often, such children are neglected. Parents may be allowed to determine the sex, and rear the child according to whether they had wished for a boy or girl."
He urged that parents get medical advice if they have doubts. And he said more doctors should become more aware of what can be done to determine sex and to correct the confusing abnormalities.

A headpiece of pearls and French veiling secured her veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley on a white prayerbook.

PAT MORRIS ASSISTS

Pat Morris served as maid of honor wearing a dress of light blue ballerina-length crystalettes. She carried white carnations.

Bridesmaids Elizabeth Thomas and Diane Williams wore cottillion blue dresses, and Judy Bellows, junior bridesmaid, wore light blue. The streamers on their bouquets matched the shade of blue of their gowns.

James Stone was best man and Donald Stone, and Ronnie Vorhes seated the guests. Jerry Bellows was junior usher.

A reception was held at Knights of Pythias Hall immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Bellows chose a cottillion blue velvet dress with black accessories for Joan's wedding, and Mrs. Smith chose a light blue knit dress with winter white accessories.

A dress of gray wool with black accessories was worn by the new Mrs. Stone for traveling to Northern Michigan. The corsage from her bridal bouquet completed her going-away ensemble.

On their return the newlyweds will reside on Mechanic street.

Refreshments were served, with Mrs. William Gregory and Mrs. Fred Lining as hostesses.

A damp dish cloth under a bowl will keep it from sliding around on a smooth work surface, while ingredients are being mixed together in it.

Companion piece to the popular poppit necklace is the new poppit belt. It works on exactly the same take apart principle.

Belts made a big comeback in the Paris collections. Most often, they were tied at front or back rather than buckled.

"The Hearing Aid You Deserve"

Homemaking Is 'Top Flight' Career

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We often hear women say apologetically, "I am just a housewife." The manner in which they say this indicates that they consider this a rather mundane job calling for little talent or intelligence and providing no excitement in adventurous living.

It is understandable that the constant demands of housework and young children might at times make a woman feel as though she is in a rut. She does the same things over and over again, day after day, year after year.

If being a housewife seems dull to you it is because you allow it to be so, because you are not using all of your enthusiasm in doing a bang-up job. It is because you are not continually learning more about nutrition, child psychology and interior decoration.

GONE STALE?

It is because you yourself have gone stale.

Actually being a housewife combines several different careers and there is an endless amount of information about each one of them in your local library.

The search for more and more information concerning your tasks is one way to add zest to what might otherwise seem a dull existence.

Keeping the long view will also add excitement to daily living.

When you are getting up the laundry and cooking one meal is no career so much fun or so after another, remember that you are taking care of the health and well-being of your family.

If housekeeping is dull, you aren't attacking it with enough enthusiasm.

Although it is very wearing there for that psychologists are now tracing most of the neurosis and frustrations of adult life to things which happened to us when we were very young.

Although I do not mean to underestimate the thrill of being successful in a career outside the home, being a housewife is one of the most satisfying of all careers.

Many women who are "just housewives" would be amazed if they knew how much real drudgery is connected with the career they consider so glamorous. Whether it be success in the theater, in art, in writing or in business, it is always the same.

You homebodies have it all over the career gals in many ways. You have a ready-made and admiring audience right in your own home. You CAN lie down for a few minutes whenever you want to. You are not under constant pressure.

If a woman has a headache and a career she meets her deadline, sees the show through or goes to her office, willy nilly.

So if you sometimes think apologetically about being a housewife, stop and wonder why you feel that way. I myself like the term "homemaker" better.

Tomorrow: "True Charm Achieved by Interest in Others."

MR. and MRS. C. C. FENLON JR.

Rosemary A. Sova Wed to Chester C. Fenlon Jr.

Honeymooning in Northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Chester C. Fenlon Jr., who were married Saturday in a 10 o'clock service at St. Benedict Church.

The bride, the former Rosemary A. Sova, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sova of South Telegraph road, Chester of Lanore street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fenlon of Cheboygan.

A ballerina-length gown of blue crystaletta was worn by Catherine Fisher, maid of honor and carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze roses and chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Elwood Sova and styled gowns in a turquoise shade with bouquets of yellow roses and Helen Welsh wore similarly chrysanthemums. Lois Fenlon and Sherry Sova, flower girls wore yellow crystaletta and carried bouquets of yellow roses and chrysanthemums.

Best man for the ceremony was Jerome Sova and ushers were Jerry Fisher and Elwood Sova of Cheboygan. Roger Fenlon was ringbearer.

For the evening reception held at the Anvets Hall on Oakland avenue, Mrs. Sova wore a blue lace dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Fenlon selected a rose lace dress with navy accessories. Her flowers were also pink roses and chrysanthemums.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to northern Michigan, the bride had changed to an avocado knit dress with beige accessories. Her corsage was the white orchid she carried for the ceremony.

They will make their home on Berkley avenue.

House Guest Brings Rush of Criticism

Husband Away; Is Male Friend's Visit Improper

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "A friend of ours who lives in another state was in our town recently on a business trip. I asked this man if he would like to stay at our house for the three days that he was to be here as I thought he would be much more comfortable at our house than at the hotel. (He has stayed with us before.)

"My husband happened to be called away on business at the time. When my mother-in-law found out that he was staying at our house, she was very much upset over this and said that I was wrong to ask him to the house while my husband was away.

"I have a five-year-old child and it never occurred to me that anyone could think anything improper in his staying here. However, my mother-in-law has made such an issue of this that I simply had to write and ask your opinion on the matter."

Answer: As this is a friend of both yours and your husband's, and he has stayed in your house before, I do not think it is very serious his staying while your husband was away. However, it is better to avoid any situation that causes talk.

Dear Mrs. Post: "What is the rule for folding napkins when staying in the houses of others? Is it always considered proper to leave them unfolded?"

Answer: If you are merely lunching or dining, no matter where, you leave your napkin folded loosely together at either side of your plate. But if you are a house guest in a house in which it is not customary to supply fresh napkins for each meal, you would fold it neatly. If there is a ring at your place, you of course fold and put the napkin in it.

Dear Mrs. Post: "When eating in a public restaurant and the waiter holds the chair for you, should this courtesy be acknowledged with 'thank you,' or is it taken for granted?"

Answer: It is taken for granted.

Blouses in every fabric appear in the Paris collections. They're shown with suits in chiffon, jersey, velvet and satin.

Extremely deep, low armholes and pockets pull the eye down and shorten the silhouette. The short figure is best in higher pockets and armholes.

Decorating Hint

If you combine two printed fabrics in one room, there should be a distinct difference in scale, with one pattern considerably larger than the other. With a large area, like a carpet, which has an elaborate pattern, it's best to use solids or stripes for other fabric.

Wise Mother Admits Own Needs

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
"Three years ago I married a widower with a little boy and a girl of 11," writes a reader. "All I wanted was to make a good home for his children and my own little girl."
"I've failed with my husband's daughter. She treats me like dirt, threatening to run away from home when she doesn't get what she wants. I am so worried about the bad example she gives my own child."

In this situation, they may develop contempt for us, not because their sister feels it but because we permit her to disturb us.
KEY TO PROBLEM
Perhaps the key to this reader's problem is hidden in her sentence.

"All I wanted was to make a good home for the children."
This ambition puts her into a terribly dependent position. It means that if one of her children ever dares so much as hint that the home she's made is less than "good," her whole life is wasted. It means that this mother, to fulfill that ambition to make a "good home," could tolerate no criticism of it as anything but what she wants it to be.

Why can't she say, "I wanted a good home for myself as well as for my husband and children?" This could be the truth that makes her free.

Nobody can be a contented person so long as he believes that wanting anything for himself is sinful. But once we can laugh at this gloomy, self-tormenting belief, new confidence in ourselves and expectations of life flow into us.

ADMIT OWN RIGHTS

Daring to admit we want good for ourselves out of our home, we can tolerate the idea that our stepdaughter wants some good for herself out of it, too.

Indeed, in our grateful release from the gloomy obligation to sacrifice and suffer, we find ourselves reaching out to her to say, "What can I do to make our home seem better and pleasanter to you?"

Psychoanalyst Rollo May has written of the courage that begins out of the pattern of devoting our lives to getting others to admire us.

Such courage will come to this mother as soon as she knows that what troubles her is not her stepchild but her own need of that child's approval.

Expect Silver, Wood in New Accessories

Silver and olive wood trimmings are likely to pop up next season on elegant clothes. New York designer Pauline Trigere visited Israel this summer and came back impressed with the hand-hammered heavy silver ornaments and ebony wood trimmings made by Israeli craftsmen.

The prize-winning designer said she thought silver bracelets and earrings or jewelry made of the highly polished light olive wood could make excellent trims for vivid colored woollens.

Food Too Tempting?

You're going out to a party supper and you're afraid the late dining hour and the fact that someone else is doing the cooking will send you off your careful diet? Give a mild check to your appetite, by sipping a cup of clear soup and nibbling a wheat cracker, just before you put on your final lipstick.

BPW Given First Gavel

Highlighting the Tuesday evening meeting of Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club was the presentation of the first gavel used at club meetings by Mrs. H. H. Thatcher in 1919 when she served as president of the group.

The gavel was given to Mrs. Thatcher as an installation gift by her sister who was traveling in Europe at the time and had it made especially for her.

Mrs. Harry Randall made the presentation to the club on behalf of Mrs. Thatcher.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. George Mobey of Lakeview avenue and the late Mr. Mobey. Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Grover of Maplecrest avenue are parents of the bridegroom.

For the eight o'clock ceremony, the bride chose a gown of Italian bowknot lace and tulle with a bouffant skirt. Her headpiece of appliqued seed pearls on lace secured a finger-length veil.

She carried a bouquet of white roses and wore pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

MAID IN RED

Ruthann Burt, maid of honor, wore a dress of red taffeta accented with red velvet at the neckline. She carried a bouquet of carnations and white chrysanthemums. Judy Burt and Carolyn Proksch, bridesmaids, were gowned identically to the maid of honor and carried identical bouquets.

Larry had his brother, Ronald Grover, as best man. Ushers were Gary Walts and Robert Burt.

Try, Try Again for Right Words to Pot-O-Gold

"If at first you don't succeed . . ." is especially true with Pot-O-Gold entries, because for each week that a winner isn't found, an additional $100 is put into the pot to reimburse you for your trouble. If Puzzle No. 18 doesn't bring in a winning entry, you can be the lucky one to walk away counting $100 into your own pocket. Be sure to read the rules carefully . . . what would be worse than to have a winning answer disqualified because it was late or missent?

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in place of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conform to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.
