ESCAPE BID TOOLS—Confiscated this week in the Oakland County jail were these hacksaw blades and makeshift keys cut from a spoon and piece of heavy metal. The keys were successfully used by prisoners to open a bullpen door and a gate on a dumbwaiter.

Trains Crash in N.Y., Killing 2

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — A Delaware & Hudson passenger train bound for Montreal from New York City and a freight train collided near this upstate resort city early today. Two persons were known dead and about 40 reported injured.

★ ★ ★

Police said many persons were trapped inside three of the eight cars of the Montreal Limited, which left New York City at 11 p.m. last night.

★ ★ ★

A railroad spokesman said the southbound freight train, with more than 100 cars, sideswiped the passenger train near the Saratoga Springs-Ballston Spa line, on tracks adjacent to Route 50.

★ ★ ★

The crash occurred at 4:35 a.m.

AMBULANCES SENT

Many ambulances were sent to the scene, some from as far as Glans Falls, about 20 miles north of here.

A railroad spokesman said the freight train, bound from Whitehall to Oneonta, was pulling onto a siding to let the Montreal Limited go through on a single track when the crash occurred.

There were reported to be more than 50 persons on the passenger train.

City officials called the crash the worst railroad accident in the city's history.

NEAR MAIN ROUTE

It occurred about 300 yards from Route 50, which links Saratoga Springs with Schenectady.

Two passenger cars overturned and two freight cars landed atop them. Six freight cars split open, spewing paper products.

One of the first persons to emerge from one damaged passenger car was Miss Heguette Broteus, 23, of Montreal, who suffered a bruise on one leg. She was returning home from New York City.

★ ★ ★

Miss Broteus said the conductor told her four or five persons had been given the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church on the train.

TORCHES USED

Many of the injured had to wait in the wreckage until the twisted steel could be cut with acetylene torches.

★ ★ ★

Firemen, police, deputy sheriffs and volunteers helped the injured into ambulances.

Jailbreak Is Foiled; 2 Men Are Charged

By JIM LONG

An attempted jailbreak at the Oakland County Jail is under investigation today with two men already charged with aiding and abetting the foiled escape.

"It was a plan that almost worked," said Detective Sgt. Harry Maur, adding that he expects to arrest several others believed to be involved in the plot.

Its near success is evident since several prisoners had gained access to a small space at the bottom of a dumbwaiter shaft and were chipping away brick in a wall leading to a garage and the street.

Maur said that the escape bid apparently began about a month ago when 10 prisoners in a bullpen on the fourth floor of the jail were passed hacksaw blades by a trusty.

★ ★ ★

The hacksaw blades were used to make keys out of a spoon and from a section of a metal bed support.

One key was used to open the bullpen door while the other unlocked the dumb waiter entrance.

Impressions of the locks were made by inserting soft soap in the keyholes, according to Maur.

The makeshift keys were found by deputies Thursday, hidden above a shower stall in the bullpen.

Those accused of aiding in the plan are James E. Dalton, 23, of 180 W. Beverly and Gary L. Cable, 20, of 3257 Royal, Berkley, a former trusty.

Both stood mute at their arraignment yesterday before Waterford Township Justice of Peace Kenneth Hempstead.

Cable was released on $1,000 bond, Dalton was held in lieu of $5,000 bond. Their court examination is Aug. 22.

Dalton allegedly gave the hacksaw blades to Cable during a visit to the jail. Cable then turned them over to the prisoners, Maur said.

Second Cave-In Keeps Boy, 15, Trapped in Well

LENORE, W. Va. (AP) — A second cave-in shortly before 6 a.m. buried 15-year-old Leonard Boyce up to his chest again just as rescue workers had about freed him from a 13-hour entrapment in a well.

After rushing in heavy earth moving equipment, workers dug a deep trench and had Boyce free except for one leg and a foot when the second cave-in occurred.

Sheriff Steve Adkins, among some 40 workers who have toiled through the night to rescue the boy, said, "It looks like another four hours at this point."

Workers had to progress slowly in clearing rocks and dirt from around the youth because of the danger of more falling rock.

A temporary wooden hood was constructed over his head to protect him from rocks.

SENT FOR PHYSICIAN

Authorities also sent for a physician because they said the boy was nearing the point of exhaustion.

He kept pleading from his entrapment 14 feet underground: "Tell them don't stop."

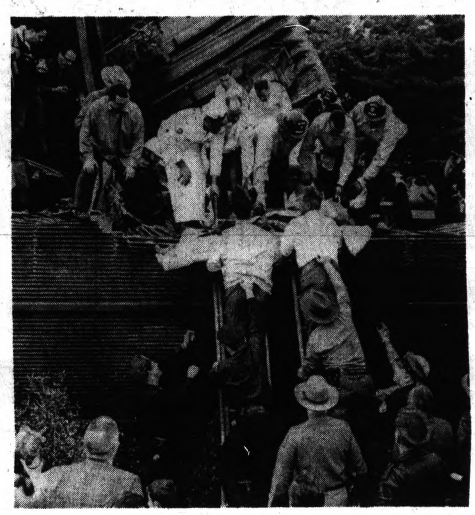

He was trapped while trying to inspect the well for cleaning.

Workers reached Boyce today by digging a trench alongside the well's casing. But more rock began falling on the boy after a small hole was dug through the side of the well for rescuers to reach his head.

Operations then were halted because of fears that the youth would be crushed by stone.

Among the some 150 spectators standing by in the predawn hours were Boyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boyce, and his two sisters about 12 and 13.

PASSENGERS PULLED OUT — Injured passengers are being lifted from the wreckage of the Montreal Limited passenger train after it was sideswiped by a freight train early this morning near Saratoga Springs, N.Y. Officials said two persons were killed and about 40 injured.

Traffic Accidents in Area Claim 3

Traffic accidents in the Pontiac area last night took the lives of three persons, including a 7-year-old girl.

Dead are Philip G. Wonsey, 28, of 5380 W. Utica, Utica; Mrs. Jacqueline Gross, 21, of 185 State; and Barbara Anderson, 20153 Evans Court, Beverly Hills.

Wonsey and Mrs. Gross were injured fatally when their cars crashed head on on Auburn near Martell in Avon Township.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gross was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Orville, 22. He is listed in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

'FAILED TO YIELD'

LaVerne Anderson, 41, driver of the car Barbara was in, collided with a northbound auto on Telegraph after failing to yield right-of-way while going east on 14 Mile Road, Bloomfield Township, police said. Stanley Carter, 66, of Detroit was driving the other car.

Wonsey was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital following the 9:50 p.m. accident. Mrs. Gross died at 3:55 a.m. today.

Sheriff's deputies said that the cars collided with such force that the car Wonsey was driving broke in two.

Wreckage was scattered over such a wide area that the point of impact could not be determined, according to deputies.

'TRAVELING ABOUT 80'

Witnesses told deputies that the Gross car had passed them moments before traveling about 80 miles per hour.

Deputies said that from all indications it appeared that Gross had crossed the center line of the road.

U.S. Bombing in Laos Told

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force planes have been bombing Communist targets in Laos for the past three years, it has been officially disclosed today for the first time.

An Air Force spokesman in Saigon said American fighter-bombers were carrying out the attacks at the "request of the royal Laotian government."

He said the American strikes against the Communists in South Vietnam's neutral neighbor to the west began in May 1964.

It was reported the main target is the Ho Chi Minh Trail that runs from North Vietnam through Laos into South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

The Communist supply route is so elaborate, Laotian sources told UPI correspondent Robert Miller in Vietiane, that it includes a two-lane, all-weather surface and carries five-ton Czech-made trucks loaded with war supplies.

★ ★ ★

U.S. bombings in Laos have long been an "open secret." But until today all questions have drawn an official "no comment" from American Air Force and other military and diplomatic agencies.

Today's Low Ties Record

If August seems cooler than usual, you're right, it is.

A low of 50 at 4 a.m. today tied the record for the day in 1950, the lowest recording on this date since 1872, when the U.S. Weather Bureau started keeping weather data.

The Weather Bureau's day-by-day prediction looks like this in the Pontiac area:

TODAY — Sunny. Becoming warmer in the afternoon. High 74 to 78. Fair and not quite so cool tonight. Low 45 to 52.

Winds variable today and tonight.

★ ★ ★

TOMORROW — Mostly sunny and warmer. High in the 70s.

MONDAY — Fair with a warming trend continuing.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent: Near zero today, tonight and tomorrow.

The mercury had climbed to 73 at 2 p.m.

PEACH QUEEN — Nancy Suzanne Raisanen, who holds the beauty title of Miss East Detroit, won the Miss Romeo Peach Queen crown in competition with 11 girls last night. Blonde-haired Miss Raisanen, 18, will reign over the annual Romeo Peach Festival, Sept. 1-4. She also receives a trip to Washington, D.C., to help publicize the festival's purpose of promoting good relations between agricultural and urban interests. She was fourth runner-up in the recent Miss Michigan Pageant.

City Housing Is Rehabilitated

At least 17 per cent of the city housing has been termed deteriorating or delapidated. No responsible official denies that steps should be taken to not only provide new housing but to keep and rehabilitate existing housing. What is being done?

★ ★ ★

There is a variety of tools that can be used to help rehabilitate unsound housing in both the public and private sector.

One of the governmental tools involves urban renewal, a controversial program ever since its inception in 1949.

Urban renewal is being used now in an attempt to not only provide new economic growth and new housing but to preserve that which is here.

★ ★ ★

Urban renewal can't do the whole job because there isn't that much money available. What urban renewal does in limited areas is provide the opportunity to rehabilitate existing buildings, to clear unsalvageable buildings and to provide anchors around which the rest of the neighborhood can begin to spruce up.

TO STOP BLIGHT

Its purpose more than anything else is to stop blight. The city's first renewal program, called R20, involves 150 acres of land in and near the downtown area.

About 22 acres which have been cleared is slated for commercial development. In the rest of the area efforts have been to rehabilitate delapidated and deteriorating housing.

Within two months $458,992 will have been spent in the project area to preserve homes and buildings to make them suitable living quarters for at least the next 10 years.

★ ★ ★

Since urban renewal attempts mostly to provide the tools, most of the money comes from the private sector, the home owners themselves.

RESIDENTIAL REHABILITATION

The city urban renewal department's status report shows that 255 buildings — all but nine residential — had been classified as needing rehabilitation since the R20 program began.

Of these, 170 have been completed. Another 45 are in the process of being completed.

With 84 per cent of the rehabilitation work now completed, the department will be concentrating on those remaining. These are expected to be rehabilitated by the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

So, with an average outlay of about $1,800 per unit, urban renewal was used to rehabilitate structures which will provide sound, decent and safe living quarters.

ONLY 1 PER CENT

Still the R20 program touched only about one per cent of the city's 24,000 homes. James L. Bates, director of planning and urban renewal, says he is more than satisfied with the results of the program so far.

"The work down there will prolong the life of the neighborhood," he said.

Romney Is Hosting Three GOP Leaders at Mackinac Home

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP) —Leading Republicans gathered at this resort island today to visit with Michigan Gov. George Romney.

Presidential talk obviously was in the air.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Romney flew in Friday night, as did former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

★ ★ ★

"I just invited them up here on a personal basis, purely personal," Romney insisted to newsmen. "I've been entertained by them and I wanted to entertain them here in return."

ATTENDS FUNERAL

The governor interrupted his role as host for a few hours Saturday morning to fly to Detroit to attend the funeral of a National Guardsman who was fatally wounded during the racial violence in the Motor City.

★ ★ ★

The three governors and their wives sat up together chatting until about 11:30 p.m., then went to bed. Rockefeller and Scranton were accompanied to the island by only their wives.

★ ★ ★

When he left for the funeral Romney left instructions that the Rockefellers and Scrantons have two horse-drawn carriages at their disposal so the could tour the island. He said Mrs. Rockefeller particularly was interested in the island's historic points.

★ ★ ★

Rhode Island Gov. John Chafee planned to fly to Michigan today, his office said.

Romney is a leading contender for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, although he has not announced any plans to run.

POSSIBLE CANDIDATE

Rockefeller has been mentioned as a possible candidate, but he insists he is supporting Romney.

★ ★ ★

Donald W. Wyatt, Chafee's executive secretary, said he would be "awfully surprised" if one of the major topics is not the 1968 presidential campaign.

There was no public announcement of the meeting from Romney's office, but an aide said the conference was planned as "an informal meeting in a relaxed setting."

★ ★ ★

The setting is a summer home set aside for Michigan's governors on this island near the straits of Mackinac, which separate Michigan's two peninsulas.

Police, FBI Hunt Suspect in Kidnaping

Police and the FBI in Michigan and Ohio continued their search today for a security gaurd who allegedly posed as a policeman and abducted a Bloomfield Township girl Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Township Police have identified the suspected fugitive as Frank M. Patterson, 32, of Detroit, employed by a private security firm.

A federal warrant already has been obtained charging Patterson with kidnapping Diane C. Brown, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Brown of 1070 Northover, and driving her to Bowling Green, Ohio.

Miss Brown, according to police, was stopped on I-75 as she drove home from Sears at the Oakland Mall in Troy, where she is employed for the summer.

★ ★ ★

According to accounts, he then placed her under arrest and then got in her car and drove south to Royal Oak where he lectured her on the dangers of speeding. The car he abandoned had been taken from the security company, police said.

DROVE TO OHIO

After forcing her to telephone her parents and tell them she was going to be late in getting home, he then drove her to Ohio.

She escaped from him after persuading him to stop at a restaurant about five hours after she was taken captive at 2:30 p.m.

When she began screaming for help, the man fled in her car, a dark blue 1963 convertible. It has not been recovered.

★ ★ ★

No New 'Big 3' Offer Seen Before Aug. 28

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler aren't likely to make the United Auto Workers a new contract offer before Aug. 28 or possibly Aug. 31.

A Chrysler vice president says it is "a fairly reasonable assumption" that no company offer will be made before a planned demonstration by skilled tradesmen Aug. 23, a week from next Wednesday.

There would be only a week left before current three - year agreements run out on Sept. 6 if an offer were delayed to Aug. 31.

Douglas Fraser, UAW Chrysler department director, said Friday "the longer the delay, the greater risk" of strike.

AUTHORITY TO STRIKE

By the 28th UAW negotiators are expected to have membership authority to call a strike if and when they decide one is necessary.

Fraser disclosed Friday that Chrysler local union leaders were told this week to begin balloting on strike authorization as soon as they please and to have the results into UAW headquarters by Aug. 25. He said some locals likely will begin voting next week.

★ ★ ★

Previously, GM and Ford locals had been ordered to vote the week of Aug. 20. Presumably, their results also would be reported by the Friday of that week.

Overwhelming authorization is a foregone conclusion. Any other result would cut the ground from underneath UAW President Walter P. Reuther and his negotiating teams.

★ ★ ★

Strike authorization votes in the past have come mostly after first company offers, with union negotiators quickly claiming the results amounted to "overwhelming repudiation" by the membership.

Meteors Help Solve Riddle

WAHSINGTON (AP) — The currently appearing, fast-stepping Perseid meteors have won credit for giving scientists new help towards solving a celestial riddle bearing on nighttime radio reception.

The annual Perseid shower—a five-or-six-day event peaking tonight—is one of nature's most spectacular free shows.

Dr. Herbert Friedman of the pioneering rocket - astronomer, told a reporter the current Perseid display has yielded new evidence that may help unravel a mystery of the radio signal-reflecting ionosphere.

He said an Aerobee rocket fired from White Sands, N.M., before daybreak Friday gave perhaps the strongest evidence yet that meteor debris may keep the ionosphere perking at night. The rocket was fired when a few Perseids were beginning to appear.

★ ★ ★

Friedman, explaining the sun is the ultimate generating force in creating the ionosphere — a blanket of electrified air — said scientists long have been hard put to explain why the blanket persists at night, after the sun goes down.

Rehabilitation Stopping City's Housing Blight

The most important steps the city can now take is to try and ensure that the buildings outside the urban renewal area do not crumble to the point where more and more blighted areas appear.

★ ★ ★

This is best done through systematic code enforcement. The city presently has four code enforcement programs going.

FEDERAL ROLE

In this area, again, federal help can play a part. The really important tools of the R20 urban renewal program are the grants and loans which home owners in the renewal areas could take advantage of," he said.

"It's unfortunate that we only recently received those," he said. These provisions — passed by Congress in 1965 — allow grants of up to $1,500 for each building and long-term loans at 3 per cent interest to improve shabby buildings.

They are available for buildings only in the renewal area. Bates said he would like to see steps taken that could be used in other areas, those not in urban renewal programs.

In the R20 area only 32 home owners used either a grant or loan. There is still a possibility that more will.

Four persons were approved for the loans and the average loan is about $3,000. Grants — outright gifts which do not have to be repaid — were authorized for 21 persons. These averaged about $1,400. Total outlay: about $40,000.

To receive the loan, an owner, who does not have to live in the house, need only own a structure in the renewal area which needs improvement.

To receive a grant, the home owner, who must be an occupant, need only show that his housing expenses are higher than 25 per cent of his income. Housing expenses include house payments, taxes, insurance, utilities (excluding telephone) and average maintenance.

Only one person of the 21 authorized grants asked for it. "We had to go to the people and offer them the grant, even then they didn't want to take them," Robert Marshbanks of the urban renewal department explained.

CATCH SUSPECTED

He said that the owners often thought "it was too good to be true," that there was a catch someplace and their homes might be taken if it was not paid back.

The only thing they have to sign is a statement attesting that their expenses and income were as listed in the statement.

Library Work to Start Monday

Bloomfield Township — Ground will be broken Monday at 4 p.m. for the township's new public library at an eight-acre site on the southeast corner of Lone Pine and Telegraph roads.

★ ★ ★

Construction work on the project is expected to be completed by mid-August of next year.

The Township Library Board this week awarded contract building to low bidders.

E. E. Powell Co. of Waterford Township, was awarded the general contract for the facility for a bid of $610,157.

Oliver Plumbing and Heating Co. of Orchard Lake received the contract for mechanical work at $179,961. Cates Electrical Co. of Royal Oak will do the electrical work for $135,436.

TOTAL COST

Total cost of the library is expected to run to about $1.4 million of which $1.16 million will be provided by a bond issue approved in May of last year.

The remainder of the expense will be absorbed by a federal grant of $250,000, awarded by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under the Library Services and Construction Act.

Designed by Tarapata - MacMahon Associates, Inc., to blend with the residential neighborhood in which it is located, the new building will consist of four connecting brick pavilions with sloping roofs.

★ ★ ★

It is planned ultimately to hold 150,000 volumes.

BROWSING AREA

The pavilions will provide reference services, children and youth services, an adult browsing area and administrative offices.

An adult reading lounge will be in a lobby-entrance area connecting the four pavilions. A lower level will contain a 200-seat auditorium and a conference room.

Robert H. Rohlf, building coordinator for the Library of Congress, has acted as a consultant in planning the facility.

★ ★ ★

In response to objections from representatives of Lone Pine Estates and Gilbert Lake Estates subdivisions, the library board has made a request to the Township Board that a joint meeting of the two boards be held to discuss the connection of a proposed library access drive to Timberlake Pond.

Mrs. Rose Vainstein, director of the present library, said alternatives to the drive will be sought.

Main access, which is not in disput, will be from Lone Pine Road.

Hopes High as Envoy Heads for N-Pact Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster heads for Geneva today to open a new and promising chapter in the bid for a treaty barring the spread of nuclear weapons.

★ ★ ★

Word the Soviets were ready to present a joint U.S.-Soviet draft treaty at the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference came Friday from Ambassador Foster after he met with President Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Official U.S. sources said if all goes well in the new talks, the nuclear nonproliferation treaty may be ready in late October for submission at the U.N. General Assembly's fall session.

OPEN FOR MODIFICATION

On-and-off negotiations for the pact began in April 1965. The forthcoming U.S.-Soviet proposal will be open at Geneva for modification by other nations at the disarmament conference before a final version is agreed on.

Official U.S. sources said the atomic have-not nations doubtless will want changes from the probable U.S.-Soviet wording.

The proposed treaty combines pledges by the nuclear powers, on the one hand, not to give atomic arms to others; and by the non-nuclear powers, on the other hand, not to acquire such weapons.

Washington and Moscow left blank for the time being the treaty's provision for safeguards against violations. That's mainly because the Soviets want a worldwide system of inspections against any cheating by the have-nots, while Western Europeans prefer to continue with the inspection system installed under their program for peaceful uses of nuclear energy.

From the U.S. standpoint, larger problems remain to be thrashed out and there is considerable uncertainty about what the have-not countries will accept.

The two nuclear superpowers already have parallel policies against handing their atomic arms to third parties. But with France and Red China building their own atomic arsenals, pressure has been growing in have-nations against giving up permanently future national rights to nuclear arms.

Father Dies, 4 Children on Peak Saved

BEND, Ore. (AP) — Rescuers have found the dead father of a family stranded high in the Oregon Cascades this morning.

The Lane County sheriff's office says J. George Schultz of Sacramento, Calif., was found dead when a jet helicopter reached the 8,500-foot level of the mountain today.

The helicopter flew the body and Schultz's four children to Eugene, Ore. One son, Robert G., 11, was injured. The other children, Marie, 10, Paul, 8, and Tommy, 7, were not believed hurt.

Schultz reportedly suffered serious head injuries during a rock slide while climbing the mountain with his four children Friday.

GUIDES RESCUERS

Directing the rescue team was a brother of the injured man, Robert J. Schultz of Corvallis, Ore. He was with the family, but was not hurt in the slide and hiked out to get help, reaching a Forest Service ranger station shortly before dark Friday.

★ ★ ★

The Forest Service sent smoke pumpers out in a plane, but they were unable to locate the area before dark.

★ ★ ★

A Lane County sheriff's deputy said that the brothers were teaching the children how to climb mountains. The children's mother did not go mountain climbing. She was reported with friends near the rescue party's base camp.

Viet Costs Up 35 Pct. in '67

SAIGON (AP) — Soaring food prices have pushed the Vietnamese cost of living up some 35 per cent so far this year and the overheated economy may spin out of control entirely in the months ahead, economic sources indicate.

Because of the impact on the peasants and working class, the economic battle is considered a vital part of the political war in Vietnam.

Not all economists are agreed on how serious the current situation is. However, one who had watched the spiraling economy for many months predicted that an increase in price from 30 to 50 per cent this year could prove disastrous.

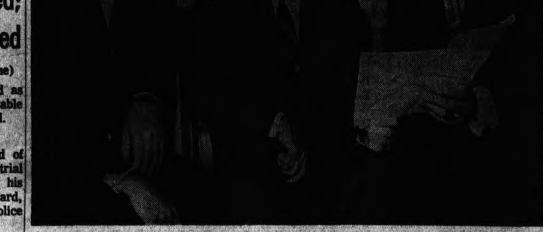

N. Viet Claims Raid on Hanoi

SAIGON (AP) — A broadcast from Hanoi declared U.S. planes attacked that North Vietnamese capital today, following up a raid Friday that the Communists denounced as a "new and extremely serious escalation" of the war.

Radio Hanoi said seven planes were shot down and several pilots were captured. Like its report that three were felled Friday, this remained unconfirmed. American spokesmen in Saigon said they had no comment.

The U.S. Command said details were not yet available on the day's strike missions, but there were indications air activity continued at the stepped-up pace of the past few days.

A spokesman said pilots' reports indicated the weather was about the same as in the good flying conditions Friday, when U.S. Air Force Phantoms and Thunderchiefs bombed the Doumer bridge, a rail and highway artery that just from Hanoi across the Red River. The attacks there were among 150 missions of the day.

Berlin Wall Marks 6th Year Tomorrow

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists started building the Berlin Wall six years ago Sunday—and there is no sign that the barrier will come down.

The anniversary of the wall the Communists started building Aug. 13, 1961, is particularly bitter for many citizens because there have been no general passes for West Berliners to go to East Berlin for 14 months.

The East German regime has refused to negotiate a new pass agreement unless a measure of recognition is included. The West does not recognize East Germany.

West Berlin city authorities hope to break the deadlock in the next few months so there may be passes again by Christmas.

The Communists never have stopped improving the barriers that ring West Berlin since the East Germans first put up the wall to halt a massive flow of refugees.

In the past year, they have accelerated work on a new, higher wall and mesh fences that replace barbed wire. They have laced a border death strip with a moatlike ditch to stop any vehicles from attempting to break through.

In the past week, they again plowed under or removed graves from a cemetery along the midcity wall to improve visibility for their border guards. The guards number 14,500 along West Berlin's 100-mile borders with East Germany.

According to West Berlin police statistics, there have been 63 confirmed deaths along West Berlin's borders in six years, including 47 shot to death by East German guards. Another 70 persons have been wounded.

REFUGEE FIGURES

West German statistics give the number of East German refugees who fled to the west from Aug. 13, 1961, through the end of 1966 as 25,180, despite the wall and mine fields along the East German border.

Western observers say the East German aim is to perfect their barriers so that it will be more and more difficult for would-be refugees to reach, much less cross, the border.

* * *

The East Germans already have succeeded in drastically reducing the number and types of spectacular escapes—such as through tunnels, with armor-plated vehicles and the like—that attracted world attention in the early days of the wall.

* * *

Gone too, or walled up, are the East Berlin border buildings from which refugees leaped to the west or to their deaths.

On last year's anniversary, the Communists hailed their success with the wall and staged a mammoth East Berlin parade to mark its creation. This year, they declared that the wall was necessary to stabilize their manpower and claimed that economic gains since the wall went up have been enormous.

MTU Increases Tuitions

ALBERTA (UPI) — Citing increased enrollment and rising costs, Michigan Technological University yesterday became the latest state-supported educational institution to hike tuitions for the fall term.

Beginning this fall, state residents will pay an additional $30 per quarter while out-of-state students will have to come up with an extra $70 per quarter at the Upper Peninsula school.

Tuition for a normal three-quarter year will now be $390 for state residents and $810 for out-of-state students.

The action was taken at a meeting of the university's board of control meeting at Michigan Tech's Ford Forestry Center, about 40 miles south of the school's main center in Houghton.

Agenda Is Light in Waterford

Business will be at a minimum when the Waterford Township Board meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

In addition to two monthly departmentatl reports, only two items are on the agenda.

To be considered is a recommendation by the Michigan Department of Conservation regarding a resolution on boating problems on Pontiac Lake.

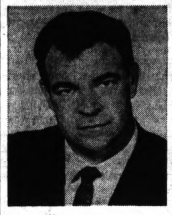

Facts and recommendations have been received from James A. Hadley, administrator of the boat and water safety section of the conservation department.

One of the recommendations would prohibit persons from operating boats within 100 feet from shorelines and islands.

Part of Pontiac Lake is in Waterford Township. The greater part of the lake is in White Lake Township.

Youth Reflects Spirit of Japanese

Most of us are impressed by the spirit, attitude and determination of the people in Japan. A friend of The Press sends a letter from a young man in Japan and we quote in part:

"Dear American Friend:

"How glad I am to be young!

"My parents sacrifice to send me to school, but they stay in the village and raise rice. Today's Tokyo is run by people here long before me. I am too poor to buy expensive cars, clothes and television sets. But tomorrow's city will be mine. After work, while they are sleeping, I study. I have no degree today, but tomorrow I will be a foreman and soon I will be an engineer.

"I am only one of twelve million here in Tokyo — the biggest city in the world.

"London was great but foolish and now its fame rests on the Beatles and miniskirts.

"New York has been exciting but Tokyo was only two million when I was born in 1946 and is now over eleven million. Before I am married our nation will be the third most productive in the world. Each day I say: 'We've passed Italy, we've passed Germany and we're passing England. We will soon pass the U.S.S.R. and even the United States.'

"We work harder. We work longer hours and we ask for less, confident that, if we allow a part of our share to go into new machinery, we can produce more and cheaper goods. Hence, we will have and sell more tomorrow.

"The American thinks only of a bigger share of the pie. We'll take a smaller share of a bigger pie. If I don't get a color television this year and let my share go into new factories, I can have two televisions five years from now. I envy the Americans today, but they will envy me tomorrow.

"You Americans drive to your job in an automobile. I ride a bicycle seven miles. Yet to support your car and TV, you ask enough more money so that your company's production costs much more than mine. We climbed from the bottom because we worked harder and asked for less. With other costs equal and our labor costs one-tenth of yours, we'll outsell you every place in the world — even in the United States.

"We'll be third by the time I marry. We'll be first by the time my son does. Some say I shouldn't tell you this, but I don't worry. You won't listen."

★ ★ ★

Perhaps you, Mr. and Mrs. American reader, have a different idea. But don't write off the Japanese as fanciful dreamers.

They're on the move.

China's Internal Chaos International Safety Valve

For months, reports from Red China watchers have told of the fierce struggle being waged between pro- and anti-Mao factions in that country.

Dispatch has followed dispatch, each one trumpeting that the conflict has reached a "decisive" phase.

China is in a state of virtual civil war, we are told; new war lords have arisen; whole regions have revolted; there are riots and strikes in the cities and clashes between the uncontrollable Red Guards and workers; Mao is about to lose; Mao is about to win.

Meanwhile, in Peking, Mao Tse-tung maintains at least the image of being the leader of a monolithic state. To the outside world, China still speaks officially with one voice.

If events in China have reached a "decisive" stage, that decision is taking a long time coming. It is also to be hoped things remain in a "decisive" stage indefinitely.

So long as China is in internal disarray, so long as Mao and anti-Mao factions balance each other off, so long as those who advocate pure, primitive revolutionary communism are frustrated by what might be called the "evolutionary Communists," then so long will China be unable to make serious mischief outside her own borders.

★ ★ ★

Neither a pugnacious, adventurous China nor one ruled by more pragmatic men, who would possibly seek to heal the rupture with the Soviet Union, promises anything good for the rest of the world.

As Confucius might have said: When wolves fight among themselves, the other animals in the forest enjoy serenity.

De Gaulle Is on a Fraying Tightrope

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

MARLOW

WASHINGTON—For almost a decade French President Charles de Gaulle has been walking a fragile tightrope although with his self-confidence it probably seemed as sturdy as a concrete highway.

It's getting frayed as he gets older. He is 76, yet his presidency has another six years to go. He has done historic service for France but already is talked of as a man who belonged in another century.

The French commentator, Robert Aron, said de Gaulle has a "Napoleonic or Sun King concept and shows, even when he claims to be an innovator, he is often a reactionary."

Former President Harry S. Truman had the same idea four years ago saying de-Gaulle sounds "more like the same old Napoleon brandy with a strong dash of Machiavellian cynicism. He is in any event over a century too late."

★ ★ ★

And a fellow-officer said of him over 30 years ago: "He is like a man taking his statue for a walk."

CANADIAN CLUMSINESS

De Gaulle can be crude and gracious but he never matched the clumsiness he showed last month when he visited Canada as its honored guest for its centennial.

The shock waves from this bit of gall by de Gaulle, who contributed to discontent if not revolt in a country where he was a guest, was felt around the world.

At home he was under criticism not only for the Quebec caper but for his domestic and foreign policies. As the years go by his popularity goes down. The Gaullists have practically no edge in Parliament.

★ ★ ★

Step by step, as he grows older, he removes himself further from his wartime allies, the United States and Britain.

VIET WITHDRAWAL

Most recently he has been calling for American withdrawal from Vietnam although it was de Gaulle who, immediately after World War II, sent French troops into Vietnam to reoccupy it as a colony. And out of that grew the war which has been going on since, even though the French were ousted.

He sided with Moscow and the Arabs against Israel in the June Mideast war. And here are some other things done by this Frenchman who still calls himself a reliable ally:

He banned the British from the European Common Market; refused to agree to a nuclear test ban treaty; advocated the neutralization of Southeast Asia; recognized the sovereignty of the Red Chinese over mainland China; crippled the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by pulling his troops from its command; appealed to West Germany and other European countries to assert their national independence and escape any United States domination.

★ ★ ★

ENDLESS DEBT

Despite his ego, which increasingly looks more eccentric than usual, France owes him an endless debt. He was the symbol of French resistance and revival in World War II. And in 1958, when he returned to power, France was close to civil war. He snatched it out of chaos.

But despite all this he has failed to assure orderly succession or stability for France when his presidency is up. He himself predicted what lies ahead: "After me, a mess."

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

The late Dr. George W. Harley, one of the great missionary pioneers of Methodism, dedicated his life to the country of Liberia. He went there as a Methodist medical missionary in 1926. By the time of his retirement in 1960, he had started a hospital, school, leprosarium, sawmill, nurses' training school, and church—all at Ganta in Liberia's interior.

Besides being a minister and physician, Dr. Harley was skilled as a carpenter, plumber, anthropologist, architect, mechanic, blacksmith, farmer, surveyor, author and cartographer. (His map of roads and trails of Liberia was for many years a standard reference.)

Dr. Harley died in 1966, but his faith marches on. The Western North Carolina Methodist Conference this past June voted to underwrite $100,000 for the George W. Harley Memorial in Liberia. It will include equipment and drug inventory for a chain of five clinics, literacy and evangelism materials, a Cessna airplane called the "Circuit Rider" to facilitate transportation, and a social center at Ganta.

Confident Living:

Use Your Tough Inner Strength

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Do you know the reserves of power you possess? How much resiliency you have? What surprising stamina?

DR. PEALE

Actually you are equipped to meet the toughest situations and come through with flying colors.

When things get really grim some people take a deep look within themselves and find this powerful latent strength, and with it overcome great difficulties.

It is impressive to see the courage and creativity that older people display when adversity comes. Some people supinely expect advancing age to bring loss of ability, deterioration of faculties, ill health and feebleness. Such thinking is destructive.

★ ★ ★

Actually by this negative state of mind they let themselves in for the very woes they mentally visualize. But senior citizens with positive attitudes demonstrate victories over difficulties from which the rest of us can learn a thing or two.

For example, read this letter from an 88-year-old woman: "Last year I had a slight stroke," she writes, "and the doctor ordered me to stay in bed for complete rest. I asked to be taken to a nursing home where a friend was staying. I liked this place and received good care.

"In bed I had plenty of time to think. I could not get up or walk without help. But I knew my reasoning, my mind, was as sharp and keen as ever. I knew, too, that God helps those who help themselves. I realized it was up to me. I took stock of myself."

★ ★ ★

"I prayed for God's help," she continues. "I found I was experiencing a most wonderful peace. After that I never lost my strong belief that God would take care of me, as I had put myself in His loving care.

"I did just what He wanted me to do," she says, "and it has paid big dividends. I am starting on a new life. God told me, 'Pick up your bed and walk.' And with His help I am on my way to recovery. I am now 88 years young! Everyone is truly amazed at my progress. I can get out of bed by myself, dress myself and walk with the help of a walker.

★ ★ ★

"I will be going home soon. I intend to resume china painting — which I have done commercially for years. I am eagerly looking forward to a happier life now that I have felt God's presence."

This woman, so excited about the wonderful thing that happened, asks: "Please tell your readers who may be frustrated, fearful or ill that through prayer comes peace of mind. All you have to do is believe and put yourself in God's hands.

"Empty the mind and heart of all hate and fear — of all the stupid things done in the past. The past is over. Cleanse your mind and heart by earnest prayer. Talk to God. He wants to help you."

★ ★ ★

There are two steps to take when things get really tough. As this strong-minded woman stresses, first, reach for God's help. And be sure to rid yourself of any mental or spiritual condition that could prevent Divine help, specifically resentment, hate, self-pity, disbelief.

Pray out all unhealthy stuff. Then put the whole situation into God's hands.

Second, mobilize your inner toughness against the outer toughness of what you are going through. That is what this 88-year-old woman, lying helpless in bed, began doing when she took stock of herself.

Naturally, there may be moments when all seems too much to endure — and you don't feel at all tough. But that is just when you must go down deeply into yourself and find that inner tough strength that the Creator built into you.

Student's Father Views University Tuition Plan

The recent decision by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees pertaining to tuition fees is another step toward planned socialism and has a demoralizing effect on the student.

★ ★ ★

My daughter attends this university on her own initiative. If my four children desire to attend college, they do so under the condition of paying for same by working summer and Christmas vacations. Not because I can't afford to send them, but I want them to learn the value of the dollar and the proper method to handle it; I feel they will work and strive more for an education knowing it's those hard-earned dollars they are spending; and I want them busy and off the street.

★ ★ ★

My daughter is penalized by my income for she has to work more to earn the increased tuition over the student whose father is in a lower income bracket. She is subsidizing the student who doesn't work or whose parent's income is below $16,700. I pay more tax to the state university and receive less than the fellow who doesn't pay as much tax or any at all.

Does it really pay for a businessman to work long hours, plan and risk his capital for the federal, state and local governments, together with other tax supported institutions?

Reader States Beliefs About Drinking Wine

Regarding the recent article on Guest House, I am also devoted to God and serve Him. I know hundreds more who do, but these people are not alcoholics because they do not partake of fermented drink. The wine spoken of in the Bible is not fermented wine. The Bible says to look not upon the wine when it is red or moveth in the cup, and the drunkard cannot enter the Kingdom of Heaven. God does not have wine drinkers or drinkers of strong drink for servants. There is a lot of difference between being religious and being a Christian.

Question and Answer

Now that Michigan will have a state income tax, could you tell us what other states have it and the percentages they tax?

MRS. H. D.

REPLY

All states have income taxes except Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Maine, Nebraska, Nevada, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Texas, Washington and Wyoming. Percentage rates vary with different incomes in different states, and the list would be too long to publish here. If you're interested in any particular state, we'll be glad to give you that information.

Senate Bans Financing of Red Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, dealing a sharp blow to President Johnson's bid for expanding U.S.-Communist bloc trade, has voted to ban use of Export-Import Bank financing for a Soviet auto plant.

Voice vote adoption of this ban Friday, along with earlier acceptance of another prohibiting Export-Import Bank financing of exports to countries which trade with North Vietnam, represented stiff personal setbacks for the President.

Johnson, in a speech last year, specifically endorsed Export-Import Bank financing for purchase by Italy's Fiat Motor Co. of $50 million in American machine tools to be used in a plant Fiat will build in the Soviet Union.

A long-time Republican foe of Johnson's proposals to increase East-West trade hailed Friday's action as sounding the death knell for such an expansion.

And, added Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, sponsor of the ban: "It is likely to shorten the war in Vietnam."

After adopting Mundt's amendment, the Senate passed by voice vote the bill extending the life of the Export-Import Bank for five years.

* * *

That action sent the measure to the House, where Democratic leaders have predicted it will encounter further difficulties.

Sponsors said it was unlikely the House would begin debating the bill until after the 10-day Labor Day recess.

CEILING INCREASED

In addition to extending the bank's life to June 30, 1973, the bill would increase the ceiling on its loans, guarantees and insurance permitted to be outstanding at any one time from $9 billion to $13.5 billion. It also would boost the bank's authority to issue export credit insurance and guarantees from $2 billion to $3.5 billion.

The Senate Banking Committee also wrote into it two provisions designed to dampen some of the controversy that the legislation had aroused before it ever reached the Senate floor.

* * *

One of these would ban any bank financing of sales of U.S. arms to poor nations. The other would prohibit bank financing of sales of American equipment to Communist nations, either directly or through a third party.

Both these limitations, however, contained an out for the President. He was given power to permit such transactions if he found them in the national interest.

LOST CONTROL

Administration supporters lost control of the bill Thursday with 56-26 adoption of an amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va.

It would ban Export-Import Bank financing of exports to any country which trades with North Vietnam while the war is on.

* * *

Opponents of Mundt's amendment contended it wouldn't block construction of the Soviet auto plant but instead would guarantee that Fiat would purchase machinery for the plant from another nation. Fiat already has said if it couldn't get U.S. tools it would shop in Europe.

Administration forces did succeed in defeating — on a 34-34 tie vote — one additional restriction on presidential authority pushed by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

* * *

It would have required, in the case of a presidential waiver on a deal with Communist nations, that he notify Congress 60 days in advance. It then would have given Congress power to veto such a transaction by a majority vote of either branch.

Circus Opens

MOSCOW (UPI) — An American circus opened an extensive Soviet tour last night before a packed house in Moscow. The circus is appearing under auspices of the Soviet-American cultural exchange program.

S. Viet Reforms Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States should demand improvements in the South Vietnamese army before another American soldier is sent to that country, Rep. Joseph E. Karth, D-Minn., said yesterday.

He recommended this in reference to the call by House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan and others for escalation in bombing, including North Vietnamese harbors.

"Sure, we could cut off supplies by sinking Soviet ships in North Vietnam and flatten every building in North Vietnam," Karth said in a statement. "But I would like to know if Ford and the others really think that would be the end of it.

"What if Soviet submarines then blasted South Vietnam harbors and U.S. ships? I think the odds are high that this would be the beginning of World War III.

* * *

Karth said the U.S. should insist that something be done about "corrupt, incompetent officials who bleed off U.S. aid for their private profit."

Building in City Soars in July

Pontiac's building department issued permits worth an estimated $2,779,872 worth of construction last month, according to a monthly building report.

A huge increase over June's $466,107, the rise is attributed mostly to permits issued for the construction of an estimated $2,525,530 worth of multiple-dwelling units being constructed by Charles L. Langs at 800 Auburn.

The developer is constructing a 250-unit complex which will include a community room, tennis courts and recreational facilities.

There will be 64 one-bedroom units, 161 two-bedroom units and 25 three-bedroom units.

With brick facing on the main floors and siding on the second floors similar to another Langs development on Woodward at the south end of the city, all units will be rental units.

* * *

The building department issued five permits for construction of new housing worth $53,800, one commercial building permit for construction of a cocktail lounge worth an estimated $55,000, 66 permits for an estimated $117,310 worth of alterations or repairs, and 17 permits for construction of garages.

Confront 'Snookie-Poo' With Letter; Let Him Explain This High School Girl

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Recently a "thank you" letter came in the mail for my husband of 39 years. Perhaps I shouldn't have opened it, as it was addressed to him alone, but I'm so used to opening all the mail that comes to the house, I never gave it a second thought.

ABBY

It was from a high school girl graduate, thanking "Dear Snookie-Poo" for the portable TV set!

Now I would say that's a rather expensive gift for a high school girl to get from a man whose wife has never even heard of her, wouldn't you? It was signed with lots of love and a whole string of "X's." And then her name.

Should I ring up the girl's mother and ask her if she knows that her daughter has a 64-year-old admirer by the name of "Snookie-Poo?"

SNOOKIE-POO'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Don't ring up anybody. Confront "Snookie-Poo" with the evidence and ask him to explain his generosity and also his interest in a high school girl. If he doesn't make sense to you, look into the situation with a doctor on one side and a lawyer on the other. He may need the counsel of both.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My problem concerns grandparents. It is a fact that a mother and her daughter are much closer than a mother and her son, but why should the grandchildren suffer?

Must it always be the daughter's children who receive the big surprises, and the pleasure of spending the night and going out to dine with their grandparents? Our children are as well behaved and quiet as the other grandchildren, so that can't be the reason they are slighted.

Adults can take oversights in their stride, but it is difficult to explain these things to children.

My husband and I have never had words over this, but believe me, it's been hard for me to keep silent. Have you a solution for the problem? Unfortunately my own parents are dead.

DEAR MOTHER: Perhaps it's time you had a few words with your husband about it. Don't whine, complain or blame him for the slights committed by his parents. But do point out the unfairness of it, and ask him to speak to his parents about it.

There are many grandparents who lean over backwards to treat all their grandchildren with equal generosity. Too bad you didn't draw that kind.

DEAR ABBY: My wife works just to have something to do. I get home from my job about an hour before she does, so I do the marketing and get the dinner started.

We eat together, but she is always in such a rush to get through and clear the table. I am constantly getting up to retrieve a spoon, or the sugar or cream pitcher. Before I've finished my coffee, she's yelling from the kitchen, "Want another cup," meaning she wants to wash the coffeepot.

The object of all this rushing is so she can stretch out and spend the evening on the living room couch.

Will you break a rule and give me clearance to belt her?

MARRIED 20 YEARS

DEAR MARRIED: First tell her you'd like the pleasure of her company for a leisurely dinner. If she still insists on giving you the rush act, ask Old Speedy to please leave everything on the table, and the coffeepot intact, but don't belt her. She's apt to belt you back.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Even though we've been married more than 40 years, I still am embarrassed by the way Bernie talks. Profanity is his second language. We go out a lot socially, and it is extremely humiliating for me to listen to him. Every other word is a cuss word. Swearing is as natural for Bernie as breathing. He was raised in a good home and has been through college, so you know he's not an uneducated bum.

Our old friends are used to hearing Bernie swear, but when we are with new acquaintances for the first time, they look at me as if to ask, "Is that husband of yours a mental case?" What makes a person swear all the time? How can I cure him? BERNIE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you've been humiliated for 40 years and are only now seeking a solution to your problem, you've wasted a lot of valuable time. The man who peppers his prose with profanity is advertising a limited vocabulary. Bernie may have gone through college, but college never went through him. The cure? After 40 years, your chances for "curing" him are slim.

CONFIDENTIAL to the many readers who wrote to question my accuracy with regard to the following: My medical authorities inform me that my answer was indeed correct. When a Negro and a white marry, their child will be no darker than his darkest parent. The "coal black baby" throwback you describe is possible only if there is Negro ancestory on both sides.

Reschedule Talks on Changing Law

LANSING (AP) — A public hearing on a Senate bill designed to liberalize Michigan's abortion laws has been rescheduled for Aug. 28 in Lansing.

Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said a conflict in scheduling arose making it impossible to hold the hearing Aug. 21, as planned.

* * *

The bill, sponsored by Sen. John McCauley, D-Wyandotte, would allow abortions to be performed by licensed physicians in cases where they would be necessary for preservation of the mother's physical or mental health.

* * *

Abortions would also be permitted in cases where there is a substantial risk that the child would be born with a grave physical or mental defect in the case of a pregnancy caused by rape or incest.

Wisner Home Will Close in September for Season

The doors of Wisner House on Oakland Avenue, will close for another season on Sept. 1.

The Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society, which operates the home, extends an invitation to all those interested in a look at how people lived in "Great-Grandma's Day" to tour the home from 2 to 5 p.m. daily except Saturday through the rest of this month.

GREEK REVIVAL

A fine example of Greek Revival Architecture, Wisner House features extensive artificially-grained woodwork, foot thick brick walls and a 30 ft. long parlor. Wallpaper, carpeting, paintings and other original furnishings remain as they were when the Wisners used the room for official entertaining during former governor Moses Wisner's term of office from 1859 to 1861.

The restored root cellar, with its array of crocks, barrels, bins and jars, and the smokehouse near the kitchen wing, graphically illustrate the changes that have taken place in methods of provisioning and food-keeping, which were in those days individual family responsibilities.

SCHOOLHOUSE

Children will enjoy comparing their schools with the one room schoolhouse used by Drayton Plains children of the late 1800's.

A small admission fee is charged.

* * *

Groups may make arrangements for educational tours throughout the fall and spring months.

Australian Stowaway Makes the Return Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sandra Hilder, a spunky Australian school teacher who once tried to stow away on a U.S. nuclear cruiser, has ended a three month visit in the United States.

* * *

She was spotted hiding last April under an admiral's bed on the U.S.S. Long Beach, which was ready to leave Australia. Later, Australian sailors paid her way by air.

While in the United States, she visited the lad she hoped to see by stowing away, Bud Brewer, stationed with the Guard in Long Beach.

She also made television appearances. Miss Hilder paid her own way home Friday, again by air.

Today Is Day to Grouse About Grouse in Britain

LONDON (AP) — Today's the day to grouse about grouse.

The lagopus scoticus, or grouse, is a small, swift-flying bird, the annual shooting of which on the Scottish and Yorkshire moors becomes legal every Aug. 12.

★ ★ ★

From today onward until the closing of the season in January, grouse-hating foreigners in Britain cringe as do the shot-at birds, but for a different reason.

To the average American, even a well-cooked grouse is hardly a goodie. Served as the British serve them, grouse can be downright repulsive.

★ ★ ★

The 18-carat grouse-lover serves the bird practically raw. As the season lengthens, the grouse are served raw and in a state approaching rottenness.

"High" is the gourmet's word for almost rotten, and from today until after Christmas, foreign guests—any guests—are going to get them that way.

★ ★ ★

So favored is the grouse as a food that the natives call Aug. 12 "the glorious 12th."

Quivering with culinary anticipation, scores of Londoners awaited the arrival of the first dead grouse from the highlands.

One posh hotel—the Savoy—issued a rapturous bulletin describing grouse as "that height of a gourmet's delight," adding that eight or nine brace of "the first birds to fall" would be flown to London.

The hotel said they would be on Sunday's menu.

★ ★ ★

Ugh! But ugher still about a month from now, when they're high.

The grouse is the snob's bird, so two of them are not two grouse, or a pair of grice—but a brace of grouse. And that's the way they're put before you. You have to eat two, not one.

State Details College Draft Deferment Rules

LANSING (AP) — The state Selective Service system has announced detailed instructions for new college deferment requirements, as sent to local draft boards.

Col. Arthur Holmes, state director of Selective Service, said the changes carry out provisions of the Military Selective Service Act which became effective in July.

★ ★ ★

Holmes said although requirements for undergraduate student deferments have been liberalized, those requesting such deferments no longer will be eligible for deferment as fathers.

They will be liable for induction later along with any age group called for induction by the secretary of defense.

MAKING PROGRESS

Local boards have been instructed to defer undergraduate students as long as they are satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college program and are making proportionate progress toward their degree each academic year.

★ ★ ★

They may be deferred until they receive their bachelor's degree, cease to perform satisfactorily or attain the age of 24, whichever is the earliest.

★ ★ ★

The undergraduate must request a deferment in writing and arrange to have his college certify his student status at the start of each school year.

Local boards will no longer use reports of class standing or college test scores as criteria for student deferment.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

New graduate requirements will be stiffer. After Oct. 1 of this year, only graduate students in the health sciences or other critical fields designated by the director of Selective Service may be deferred.

★ ★ ★

Students entering graduate school for the first time by October may be deferred for one year.

Graduate students starting their second or later year of graduate study by October may be deferred for one more year to obtain their master's degree or not to exceed a total of five years, including all previous years of graduate study, to earn their doctorate or professional degree.

Michigan local boards have been instructed to allow college students to request deferments up until October. At that time all student classifications will be reconsidered.

Kickoff Tonight 7:30 at Rochester

Expect Full House for F-Bird-Viking Tilt

A full house in upwards of 4,000 is expected tonight at Rochester High School field where the Pontiac Firebirds under new head coach Tom Tracy face the Ypsilanti Vikings under another ex-Lion Jug Girard in a Midwest Football League exhibition game.

The new Crittenton Hospital on University Drive, which will open its doors next week, will benefit from the game sponsored by the Rochester Rotary Club.

Next Saturday night the F-Birds will play their second and final exhibition game against the Flint Blue Devils at Wisner Stadium.

The game tonight will be a big test for the Firebirds who have a complete change of personnel from the teams of the past two years which have represented the city in the MFL.

Ypsilanti, with ex-All-America Steve Juday at quarterback and with a mammoth line, both offensively and defensively, has been installed as a solid 13-point favorite.

★ ★ ★

The Vikings will be eager to defeat the Firebirds and Tracy who last year coached Ypsilanti from the cellar in 1965 to second place with a 7-3 mark in 1966 behind Pontiac.

Many outstanding names from Michigan collegiate or pro football teams will take part in the contest.

Bill Juday, Steve's brother who also played at Northville, and was later captain of the Vanderbilt team, is a linebacker with Ypsi and along with former Michigan players Bill Hardy, Tom Cecchini and Craig Kirby.

Bogeyless Brion Leads Michigan Open

NO BOGEYS — Stan Brion of Pontiac, assistant golf pro at Tam O'Shanter, had six birdies and 12 pars in his round of 66 in the first round of the Michigan Open yesterday at Spring Meadows Country Club. Another Pontiac golfer, Gene Bone, is one stroke behind a 67.

Tam Assistant One Shot Ahead of Gene Bone

The influence of Tam O'Shanter Country Club prevails after the first round of the Michigan Open Golf Tournament now in session at Spring Meadows Country Club in Linden.

Young Stan Brion, Tam assistant who got his pro touring papers just two years ago, stayed away from any bogeys in firing an outstanding round of 66 yesterday.

Gene Bone, a former assistant under Warren Orlich at Tam O'Shanter, and now the head pro at Baypointe, had an eagle in his five-under par 67. Both are Pontiac residents.

Bone is trying to win the Michigan Open title for an unprecedented third straight time.

Brion, who teed off at 12:30 p.m. in today's second round, had six birdies and 12 pars for the day as he missed only one green in regulation.

ONLY SHORT PUTTS

"I was extremely happy with my drives and irons. Except for the third hole where I had to scramble for a par, my longest distance for a putt was probably 12 feet."

He birdied from two feet on No. 2, from 10 feet on No. 4, from six inches on No. 7, from two feet on No. 10, a chip to two feet on No. 14 and he missed a hole-in one on No. 17.

"My two-iron shot on 17, which is about 198 yards hit the rim and spun away I was told," he said.

Brion had good birdie position on all of the par-three holes.

EAGLE FOR BONE

Bone was also very satisfied with his round, which included an eagle and five birdies.

His approach on No. 11, after a drive and four-iron, went five feet past the cup. He dropped it in for the eagle. Since he started on the back nine, this was his second hole.

After a bogey on No. 14, he chipped up to one foot to birdie 15, the bogeyed 17 and sunk a three-footer to birdie 18.

Then going to the front side, he hit what he called "the key break" of his match. His tee shot went into a deep rough.

He decided on a sand wedge. "The shot hit just in front of the bunker, hit a hard spot and bounced over the bunker just eight feet from the cup. He dropped it for his birdie.

He had to scramble on No. 3 with a six-foot par putt and on No. 4 he dropped a 25-footer to go four-under.

The other birdie came on No. 7 when he chipped up to six feet.

Amateur Frank Groves, 20-year-old U. of Michigan golfer who is summer greens assistant at Pine Lake, led the amateurs with a 32-36—68.

Among other local scores were Jack Corbett of Arrowhead at 71, amateur Pete Jackson of Oakland Hills and Jimmy Picard of Tam O'Shanter at 72, Bill Matson of Shenandoah and Dick Bury of Birmingham at 73.

Pontiac's Lloyd Syron also had a 73 as did Mike Souchak of Oakland Hills.

Ted Kroll was back with a 78, John Barnum 79, Glen Stuart 77 and John Grace at 76.

Tiger Hurler Gets Assist from Own Cheering Section

DETROIT (AP)—Mickey Lolich, who hadn't pitched in 19 days, had his own personal cheering section when he beat Baltimore 5-2 to earn the Detroit Tigers a split in a twi-night doubleheader Friday, snapping his losing streak at 10 games.

Detroit lost the first game 5-1, but Minnesota's 3-2 victory over Chicago helped the Tigers pick up a half-game on the league-leading White Sox.

★ ★ ★

A fan with a bull horn in left field helped cheer Lolich on with cries of "Come back, Mickey, we love you."

"They were some of my good friends from Sam's Bar," said Lolich, who pitched a five-hitter, striking out eight and walking three to put his record at 6-12.

"They were sitting up in left field when I was warming up," he added. "I couldn't hit the broad side of a barn before the game.

"I had a little control trouble early in the game but then my stuff came around and I was okay."

Lolich, who last won May 19 when he beat New York, turned in his third victory over the Orioles this year, all complete games.

He gave up a run in the second, walking two men and allowing a run-scoring single by Larry Haney.

But Detroit, held to one hit by Baltimore starter Pete Richert for 4⅔ innings, caught fire with two out in the fourth. Al Kaline and Willie Horton hit back-to-back doubles. Richert walked the bases loaded and Jim Northrup delivered a two-run single.

TWO MORE RUNS

Eddie Fisher took over and got out of the inning. But Detroit got two runs off Fisher in the seventh on a single by Lolich, a walk to Don Wert, Dick McAuliffe's RBI single and a wild pitch.

In the first game, Brooks Robinson drove in two runs with a double and a sacrifice fly and Tom Phoebus and Stu Miller combined for a five-hitter for the victory.

Dave Wickersham, now 4-4, took the loss, giving up two runs in six innings. He started in place of Johnny Podres, placed on the disabled list with a sore arm earlier in the week.

Olympic Champ Finishes 5th in 400-Meter Swim

CHICAGO (AP) — Don Schollander, at 18 a four-gold medal wimner in the 1964 Olympics, set out today to prove he's not over the hill at 21 as the National AAU Outdoor Swimming and Diving Championships move into their second session.

"I just got tired, I didn't have it the last 50," said defending champion Schollander after fading to a fifth place finish in Friday's 400 meter freestyle race.

★ ★ ★

Steve Charlton of Southern California, winner of the 400-meter gold medal in the recent Pan-American games, swam Schollander into his foaming wake with a 4:09.8 clocking, bettering the existing world record of 4:11.1.

Another already-eclipsed current world record was shattered Friday by 17-year-old Mark Spitz, of Santa Clara, Calif. who looms larger and larger as the Don Schollander of the Olympics in Mexico City.

Spitz retained his 100-meter butterfly title in 56.7, surpassing the current world mark of 57.0 held by Argentina's Luis Nicholao but slower than the 56.3 Spitz already has swum twice this year.

Spitz also holds the pending world mark of 2:06.4 in the 200-meter butterfly which he was to swim today.

Schollander, who set Olympic records in the 400 and 200-meter freestyles at Tokyo in 1964, was to defend today his title in the 200-meter freestyle in which he has a pending world mark of 1:56.0.

Fisher Body Local Set for Annual Golf Play

Fisher Body Local 596 will have its annual Membership Open Medal Golf Tournament beginning 10 a.m. Sunday at Pontiac Country Club.

There will be trophies for the low gross and low net scorers in each of five flights. The entry fee is $2. Returning to defend his tournament over-all championship is Don Davis.

Cardinals' QB Called by Army

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — Now that the Army has decided it wants St. Louis Cardinal quarterback Charlie Johnson the question is, will the Army want to keep him?

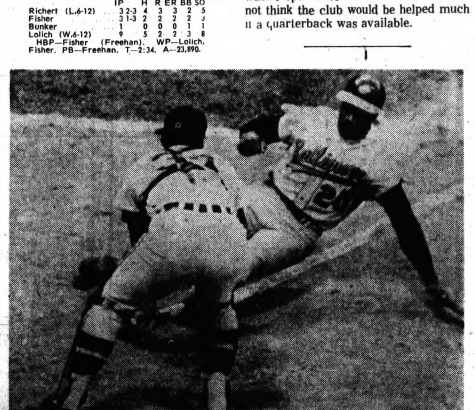

"The thing that surprised me," said Johnson who was called up Friday for two years active duty, "was that I had been rejected so often in the Army physical examinations required annually."

★ ★ ★

Johnson has been deferred twice because of physical problems. He was deferred in 1965 because of a shoulder separation which required surgery. In 1966 he was deferred because of a football injury to his knee. The knee required surgery, and it was after that operation that Johnson took his latest physical.

Charley Winner, coach of the National Football League club, doesn't hold out any hope for Johnson to be rejected when he takes his post-induction physical.

In any case, Winner figures to go with second year quarterback Jim Hart from Southern Illinois University. Hart was a free-agent pickup last year. Winner wasn't optimistic about a trade and did not think the club would be helped much if a quarterback was available.

CAUGHT AT PLATE — Baltimore Oriole Frank Robinson is tagged out at home plate as he attempts to score on a grounder to third base against the Tigers in Detroit last night. Catcher Jim Price waits with the ball after taking a throw from Don Wert. The Orioles won this game 5-1, but the Tigers won the nightcap 5-2.

Mrs. Hume Winner Over Cindy Eyler

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

For Mrs. Gene 'Cindy' Eyler, golf is no longer just a segment of her itinerary of sports. She has moved out of the tournament 'novice' ranks.

Cindy played in her first Women's District Golf Association match tournament this week at Pine Lake Country Club and yesterday she forced veteran Mrs. John Hume to the final hole before losing a 1-up decision.

For Mrs. Hume it was the 6th WDGA crown. For Mrs. Eyler it was the biggest match in her young golf career.

Cindy was active in swimming, tennis and badminton at Stephen's College in Columbia, Mo., and her biggest ambition was to qualify for the U.S. Olympic swimming team.

Her parents convinced her that this ambition meant grueling hours of work and instead when she graduated in 1959 she decided to try her hand at golf.

STARTED AT PINE LAKE

It was at Pine Lake where she first picked up a golf club and she still credits pro Elmer Prieskorn with her fine game.

The biggest upset of the tournament was her 1-up conquest of Women's state champion Joyce Kazmierski and yesterday she nearly put the icing on the cake in her match with Mrs. Hume.

On the 5th hole, Mrs. Eyler tied her match with Mrs. Hume with a 10-foot birdie putt, but on Nos. 6 and 7, Mrs. Hume went 2-up with pars.

Cindy won No. 9 when Mrs. Hume trapped her shot, but on 11 Mrs. Hume chipped to one foot for a birdie to go 2-up again.

Then came Cindy's rally. She won No. 13 with a 10-foot putt, took No. 14 by chipping to within 18 inches and went 1-up on No. 16 with a bogey, as Mrs. Humes drove into the trees.

On No. 17 Mrs. Hume evened the match by blasting to within two feet of the cup.

On No. 18 with both hit their second shots short, Mrs. Hume chipped to 18 inches while Cindy's chip shot short, Mrs. Hume chipped to 18 inches while Cindy's chip shot forced her to two-putt.

Teamsters Nine Gains Title Tilt Berth in Playoff

The 1966 city class A defending baseball champions, Teamsters No. 614, continued their playoff success by eliminating Booth Homes, 11-5, at Jaycee Park yesterday.

The triumph puts Teamsters in the finals against M. G. Collision Sunday at 8 p.m. If Collision wins, the playoffs end. Otherwise another game will be played Monday.

Booth took a 2-0 lead on four hits in the first inning, aided by a two-run single by Neil Roberts.

Teamsters, held hitless for three innings, put together three hits, a walk and were helped by two errors to score three runs in the fourth inning.

John Flesser had a key two-run single.

In the bottom of the fourth, Booth went ahead, 4-3, as Rick Pankey tripled and scored on Charlie Honchell's single.

Teamsters then scored in the next three frames, aided by a total of 13 walks.

Roberts had three hits for Booth, while Gary Fisher and Charlie Johnson each had two for the winners.

Pirates Help Met Hurler Get Early Start on Trip

By The Associated Press

The Pittsburgh Pirates got to Danny Frisella 20 minutes before the California Air National Guard did, but Don Shaw's preinduction celebration saved the day for the New York Mets.

Frisella had to catch a plane at 11:30 Friday night in order to attend a guard meeting near his home in San Mateo. Allowing for a quick change and speedy trip to the airport, the Mets figured he would have to leave the mound at Shea Stadium no later than 10:15.

The Pirates speeded up the timetable a bit, however, and when they got their second run off Frisella at 9:55, Shaw came in to mop up in the 3-2 Mets' victory.

Shaw leaves for six months of active duty with the Army Reserve on Sunday and made what might be his last appearance a good one, keeping the Pirates from scoring and striking out two in the ninth.

In other National League action, St. Louis shaded San Francisco 2-1, Los Angeles blanked Cincinnati 5-0, Atlanta downed Houston 6-5 in 16 innings and Philadelphia edged Chicago 2-1.

Frisella not only pitched well, he also drove in one run and scored another. Dennis Ribant, an ex-Met was the loser. Manny Mota set up one Pittsburgh run and scored the other.

Orlando Cepeda returned to the St. Louis line-up after a twoday suspension for arguing with an umpire and hit a two-run homer for the Cards' victory margin. Nelson Briles, with relief help from Joe Hoerner, was the winning pitcher.

Jim Brewer gave up four hits in the seven innings he pitched and Jim Lefebvre had three hits and scored twice for the Dodgers. Lou Johnson hit a two-run homer, his sixth, in the sixth inning.

★ ★ ★

Joe Torre's 17th homer ended the marathon in Atlanta, the longest game in the stadium's history. Felipe Alou's pinch homer in the 13th gave Atlanta a second chance which Torre cashed in on when he hit one off Barry Latman.

Bill White drove in Johnny Briggs with his third straight hit, a sixth-inning single, leading the Phillies to their ninth victory in 10 games. Jim Bunning won his 13th game, stopping the Cubs on seven hits and striking out nine batters.

WHAT'S THAT UMP? — New York's Joe Pepitone looks up to see what umpire Emmett Ashford has called on the play after colliding with Cleveland catcher Duke Sims in the ninth inning of the first game at Cleveland, last night. The call, of course, was safe and the Yankees won the first game, 5-3.

Baxter Has 134 Total

Akron Golf Leader Gets Tested

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Rex Baxter Jr. has coped admirably with the lengthy fairways of the Firestone Country Club for two days, but the real test was to come today when he was placed in the same threesome with Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

That's Baxter's reward for putting together two subpar rounds in the $100,000 American Golf Classic which winds up Sunday.

Baxter shot a two-under-par 68 Friday after an opening round 66 for a 134 total to take a two-stroke lead over Jack McGowan, the only other player in the tournament with successive subpar rounds over the 7,180-yard layout with a par of 35-35—70.

McGowan shot a 67 Friday for a 136 total while Palmer scrambled to a 67 and a 137 total. Nicklaus, South African Al Henning and Bobby Nichols were bunched at 139 and were the only other players under par after 36 holes.

Baxter, who was heading for a course record before stumbling on a pair of double bogeys, bounced back with a birdie on No. 17 and a par on No. 18 to assert what seemed to be a total collapse.

Football 'Club' Starts at U-D

University of Detroit and Marquette University, two schools who were among many to give up inter-collegiate football, will bring the sport back on a "club" basis.

The U. of D. Student Council headed by Ray Siwiec announced that U. of D. would field a club football team this fall and has a budget of $16,000 to run the team.

Jim Leary, former U. of D. assistant, was picked to be the unpaid coach of the team.

The Titan football club has scheduled three games, one with Fordham, Sept. 22 at U. of D., and a home and home series with Marquette, Oct. 13 at home and Oct. 28 in Milwaukee.

Marquette dropped football after the 1960 season. U. of D. quit after the 1963 season.

Keg Meeting Is Slated

All teams in the Cooley Lanes Senior House Bowling League and any men interested in joining should be represented at the organizational meeting 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Union Lake establishment.

Twins Gain Ground in A.L.

Stanky Answers Chisox Critics

MINNEAPOLIS ST. PAUL everything but the home run. (AP) — Eddie Stanky obviously I'd say we had a pretty good is getting tired of answering game." critics who say his American League leading Chicago White Sox play uninteresting baseball.

"This is the dullest ballclub I've ever seen," Stanky said with a poker face Friday night after Minnesota nipped Chicago 3-2 to move past Boston into second place, 1½ games behind the White Sox.

"Did you see an exciting game?" Stanky asked. "Then why don't you report that? I've commented so much about this ballclub, and not been quoted, that I don't care what you report anymore. You write whatever you want."

Twins manager Cal Ermer, happy to have won the first game of this vital three-game weekend series, answered Stanky's question about excitement.

"Whoever says baseball is not an exciting game is full of malarky," Ermer said. "We had

The Twins won on Tony Oliva's two-out run-scoring single in the seventh inning, breaking a 2-2 tie. Zoilo Versalles' streaked home with the winning run after singling and stealing second as White Sox catcher J. C. Martin dropped the pitch.

Oliva also drove in Minnesota's first run with a single that scored Versalles, who had beat out an infield hit and moved to second on a groundout.

The White Sox grabbed a 2-1 lead in the fifth when they loaded the bases on singles by Ron Hansen and Tom McCraw and an intentional walk to Pete Ward. Rocky Colavito then drilled a pitch from Dean Chance, who won his 15th game, into center field for a two-run single.

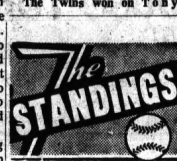

The Twins tied in the sixth when Bob Allison singled, moved to second on a groundout and scored as pinch hitter Russ Nixon singled.

The White Sox lost third baseman Ken Boyer for the remainder of the series when he pulled a hamstring muscle in his left leg while ranging far to his left to try to field Versalles' grounder which went for a single in the first inning.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City trimmed Washington 3-2 in 10 innings, New York swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 5-3 and 4-1 and California shut out Boston 1-0.

Mike Hershberger delivered Kansas City's winning run against Washington with a bases-loaded single in the 10th inning. A single by Danny Cater and walks to Ken Harrelson and Tim Talton had filled the bases against Joe Coleman before Hershberger connected.

The Yankees got complete games from Al Downing, 12-5, and Mel Stottlemyre, 11-10, to sweep the Indians.

Viet Candidates to Resume Trips 'if Crowds Guaranteed'

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's civilian presidential candidates said today they would resume their campaign trips to the provinces, but informants said they would demand guaranteed crowds to hear their speeches.

A communique from eight of the 10 civilian candidates said they would begin a limited government-sponsored tour Tuesday, probably in Bien Hoa Province, northeast of Saigon. But it said continuation of the tour depended on "the good will of the government."

★ ★ ★

After a transportation mix-up on the first day of the government-sponsored tour, seven of the 10 announced they would boycott it until they received assurances from the military government of adequate transportation and security.

The government sent them a peace feeler Friday, assuring them of its good intentions, but a spokesman said the candidates still blamed the government for the mix-up—called the "Dong Ha incident"—and that they would make further demands on security and transportation arrangements.

DEMAND CROWDS

Informants said the candidates would demand that the government provide crowds as large as those which greet Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and premier Nguyen Cao Ky at their public appearances, and that all of their appearances be arranged outdoors, not in auditoriums or halls.

Thieu is the military candidate for President; Ky is his vice presidential running mate. They are expected to win the election.

★ ★ ★

The reported demand for outdoor rallies followed accusations that the government planned to pack auditoriums with civil servants and police so there wouldn't be room for local people. The government has denied this.

Aware that their charges of government sabotage of their campaigns had caused a stir in the U.S. Senate, the civilian candidates apparently were trying to keep the controversy over the "Dong Ha incident" alive.

POLL WATCHERS

In the Senate, mean while, leaders immediately rejected an invitation from Thieu to send congressional poll watchers.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said the guarantee of fair elections was up to the South Vietnamese government, not to Congress, and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said if observers were sent, Congress would be open to charges by the election losers that it rigged the balloting.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was one of the main critics of Vietnam's election preparations, declaring there was "mounting evidence that the forthcoming elections in South Vietnam already may have become fraudulent."

As for observers, he said U.S. diplomatic and military representatives and American newsmen can provide full and fair reports.

MORAL POSITION

"What is needed is an assurance that the present trend will be reversed so that our moral position in Vietnam will not be further eroded," Kennedy said.

Official U.S. sources urged withholding of prejudgment on whether the elections will be fair. One said there was general agreement after the recent provincial and village elections in South Vietnam that preelection criticism had been unfounded.

★ ★ ★

The government had arranged a 22-city tour which was to have begun last Sunday. But flying to the first city, Quang Tri, the planes were forced by adverse winds to land at Dong Ha. The candidates returned 425 miles to Saigon in a huff.

In ordering the commissariat for public administration to draft a letter reassuring the candidates of the government's good intentions, Thieu said, "We regret the incident at Dong Ha, even if it was not our responsibility.

"We have no intention to sabotage the election,"

He said charges by the civilian candidates of government harassment were not true and noted that even some of the Thieu-Ky election posters had been ripped down.

CHECK FIRST

The Business Ethics Board continues to receive inquiries from persons who first subscribe to an unknown encyclopedia and THEN check on it. Many such inquiries are prompted by high pressure tactics of a small percentage of salesmen offering such works. Here are a few general words of advice on the subject:

If you are buying an encyclopedia or reference book:

1. Visit your city library or write to the American Library Association in Chicago, Ill., for information on the quality of the publication.
2. Discuss the purchase with the principal or teacher of the school your child is attending if it is to be a student reference book.
3. Be especially cautious if the salesman indicates you have been selected for a special offer — that you are getting the first book FREE, at discount, or at "half price."
4. Thoroughly read and understand what you are signing before you affix your signature or pay any money.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

North's jump to four hearts was designed to show just what he held. A minimum opening bid with very good hearts. South was interested in seven but was happy to settle for the small slam when his partner showed only one king.

JACOBY

When South saw the dummy he was rather unhappy about his contract. Not that it wasn't a good one but rather that he had the choice between several good lines of play.

He started by winning the spade lead in his own hand. Two rounds of trumps took care of that suit and he played his ace of diamonds.

Then he entered dummy with the ace of spades and finessed a diamond. West was in with the queen.

If West had had a diamond to lead back South would have been set but West had to lead a club away from his king or a spade to give South a chance to ruff in dummy and discard his losing club.

North didn't like South's play. He suggested that it would have been better to play ace-king and another diamond in case the queen failed to drop on the second lead.

West felt that South should have left diamonds alone and played ace and another club.

All three lines of play are reasonable and all three would have worked the way the cards lie. At the risk of getting into a lot of trouble we will state that South did adopt the best line and leave you readers to study the problem if you wish.

What do you do now?

A—Bid three hearts. This does not shut out three no-trump; warns your partner about diamonds and shows the ace of hearts if he is trying for a slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You do bid three hearts and your partner goes to four diamonds. What do you do now?

The Rev. Richard H. Feucht, pastor of Peace Lutheran Church, 5825 Highland, Waterford Township, has accepted the appointment to the office of parish education counselor of the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod's English District. He will assume the new position Sept. 1.

★ ★ ★

The newly created office carries with it the responsibility to develop effective programs of Christian education.

★ ★ ★

The English District consists of some 200 congregations in various metropolitan centers of the United States and Canada and 33 parochial elementary schools.

Pastor Feucht will preach his farewell sermon at the 8 a.m. worship service tomorrow. His future office will be English District Headquarters, 23001 Grand River, Detroit. He will make his home in Farmington.

A graduate of Concordia Theological Seminary in 1960, Pastor Feucht received his master of sacred theology in 1961, and master's degree in Christian education from the Presbyterian School of Christian Education and Union Theological Seminary in 1962.

★ ★ ★

His research was in curriculum design and development.

Pastor Feucht was called by the Mission Board of the Lutheran Church in 1962 to organize and serve a congreagation in Waterford Township. After several months of canvassing for prospective members, the first worship service was held Nov. 11, 1962.

CHURCH FOUNDED

Peace Lutheran was officially organized Feb. 3, 1963 with 35 communicant members. Today the church numbers 502 baptized members and 184 communicant members.

★ ★ ★

The congregation opened worship services and Sunday School in Waterford Township High School. On Feb. 7, 1965 the present first unit church and educational facilities, 5825 Highland, was dedicated.

★ ★ ★

Since 1963 Pastor Feucht has served as Protestant chaplain at Oakland County Children's Village, directing the Christian instruction at Oakland County Children's Center.

★ ★ ★

A member of Detroit Lutheran Commission on Christian education, he has also served as chairman of the Lutheran Circuit Education Committee of Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

A special congregational meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on Aug. 23 to call a new pastor for Peace Church. The Rev. Lawrence Kinne, circuit counselor of the Pontiac area, will appoint a vacancy pastor during the interim.

The series provides a firm foundation on which to build a more adequate life of service.

It is appropriate for adults of every age, many of whom have never had a genuine foundation course in the basic beliefs and attitudes of Methodists.

In preparation for this new curriculum, research was carried out in 36 annual conferences, involving more than 400 local churches, 5,000 adult students, and 300 teachers of adults.

According to the Rev. James McLaurin, associate minister of Central Methodist Church, the study course answers a demand for material that challenges serious study, discussion, leadership.

★ ★ ★

The series will run for two years including eight quarterly courses entitled "Man's Search for a Meaningful Faith," "God With Us," "We Have This Heritage," "Faith in Search of Understanding," "Dimensions of Decision," "In Faith and Love," "The Inner Life" and "The Christian in Today's World."

Redemption Board Plans Adult Studies

The Vietnam conflict will be the first experimental study topic in an educational series to be released in the fall by the board of parish education of the Lutheran Church in America, according to the Rev. Jon L. Joyce, pastor of Redemption Lutheran Church, Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

Entitled "Impact Series," the adult studies are being developed to get people to think and to get involved, not to present a point of view.

The series will make use of records, tape recordings and filmstrips.

★ ★ ★

Future topics will include pornography, birth control, fair housing and civil rights, Pastor Joyce said.

Humility leads to strength and not to weakness. It is the highest form of self-respect to admit mistakes and to make amends for them.—John J. McCloy, American diplomat.

Elegant Simplicity Sets The Decorating Theme In The Spacious Cathedral-Ceilinged Living Room

Broad Window Walls Incorporate Landscape Into Interior

Pontiac Press Photos by Ralf Winter

Tranquil Atmosphere Permeates Sloping Lake Site

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Though the screech of brakes and the roar of Woodward Avenue traffic is but a short distance away, the wooded site of the H. S. McFarlands' home reflects complete tranquility.

The quiet is broken only by the trill of a bird, the chatter of a squirrel or the subdued sounds of a cruising muskrat as he ripples the water of Endicott Lake.

Broad window walls fuse this outdoor serenity with the interior decorating theme, creating a background of elegant simplicity.

Favoring restful colors, Mrs. McFarland has chosen aqua carpeting, off-white antique satin draperies and gold grass cloth wall covering for the living room.

The center beam of solid fir is two and one-half feet deep, 29 feet long and 10 inches thick.

"It came all the way from Oregon on a flat car," said Mrs. McFarland.

"Our builder warned us that after it was installed we could expect to hear it snap or boom as it aged, but it hasn't done it yet."

The wooden planked ceiling repeats the aqua floor tone for emphasis.

Towering Trees Shelter The H. S. McFarlands' One-Story Home

A wallpaper roller converted into a lamp lights the window's chair grouping.

Serving the nearby aqua two-piece sectional is a round unfilled travertine marble coffee table. Heirlooms and mementoes collected by the McFarlands on their world tours are displayed on the bookshelves above the sectional.

In the adjoining birch-paneled family room a deep-piled shag in moss green and aqua complements the honey wall tones.

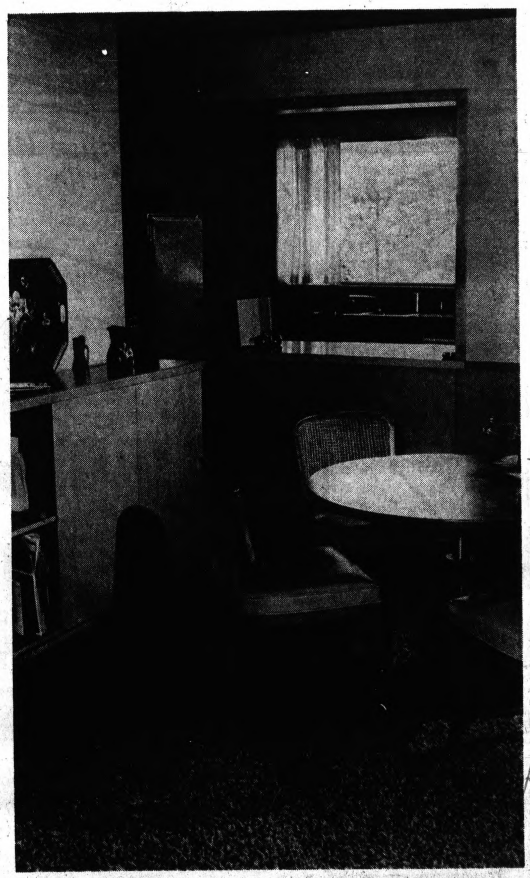

"I've kept the draperies minimal," said Mrs. McFarland, indicating the antiqued satin draped window wall.

"The picture is outside the window and I didn't want to shut it out."

Encircling the room's fruitwood pedestal table are coral seated chairs with cane backs.

Kitchen Pass-Through Proves A Welcome Boon As Step Saver

'Silver Ghost' Hits the Trail

The famous Rolls Royce "silver Ghost"' automobile, built more than 50 years ago, has a body made completely of aluminum, reports The Aluminum Association.

Today, after more than 500,000 miles of traveling, it's still a highly polished showpiece.

Before Beginning Work

Plan Your Remodeling Project

How well you plan a remodeling project with wood paneling is just as important as the quality of your craftsmanship.

The contours and function of the room should have bearing on your choice of pattern and color. Vertical paneling will make a low room seem taller; horizontal paneling creates an impression of breadth in a narrow enclosure.

Cool colors make small rooms look larger; are also desirable where the setting should relax such as study or resting areas. Warm colors lend a sense of intimacy to large rooms; are preferable where the atmosphere should stimulate such as kitchen or family room.

Discretion should be exercised in choice of species. Woods with high resistance to blemish and scarring are desirable in areas subject to rough treatment like family rooms.

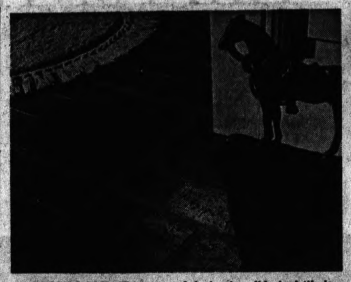

Modern patterns of paneling are well adapted to use by home handymen since they may be applied directly to existing surfaces in less than full floor-to-ceiling height. This saves time and material. There is a slight spacing between panels so that thickness is visible as well as length and width. The result is a pleasing three dimensional effect with striking shadows and highlights.

Plan Terrace for Pleasure

Full enjoyment of a terrace requires as much attention to design and location in the planning stages as your house itself.

Size, shape, surrounding terrain and the amount of sun likely to fall on the area should receive full consideration. Surfacing should be carefully selected.

A popular terrace flooring material like quarry tile, for example, comes in a great variety of colors, shapes and sizes and you can easily choose a type that will complement the architecture of your home.

BRICK LOOK—This unusual design in solid vinyl tile has all the warmth and charm of weathered brick, but can be installed at a fraction of the brick cost by the family do-it-yourselfer. The remarkable realism is due to elaborate surface embossing that re-creates the texture and shape of old building bricks.

Air Conditioning Up in Nation's Homes

Residential air conditioning, once considered a luxury, is continuing to grow in popularity this year with owners of both new and existing homes.

Improved operation, bigger cooling capacities and lower installed costs are contributing to a record demand for both central air conditioning and room units, an industry spokesman explained.

At the same time, climate control continues to be the main selling feature, pointed out William H. Roberts, president of Borg-Warner's York air conditioning division, an industry leader.

" A husband gets used to air conditioning where he works and his wife expects it where she shops," he added. "They want the same comfort when they get home — either in the entire house or apartment or at least in one or more rooms."

* * *

The growing concern over air pollution in suburban as well as metropolitan areas also has heightened the interest in home climate control, he said.

DEMAND CONTINUES

Despite a drop in housing starts and a tight money supply, homeowners' demand for air conditioning units reached a record level last year, Roberts noted. A big factor was the growth of the existing home market, which accounted for about half of the central systems installed in 1966.

"Now that housing starts appear to be moving back up we see no reason why residential air conditioning should not continue its rapid climb," he added.

In 1966, central air conditioning systems were installed in 653,000 homes, three times the number installed in 1960. Depending on housing starts, sales of central systems should top 700,000 units this year for the first time, Roberts said.

* * *

Room air conditioning units are enjoying equal popularity, with manufacturers predicting sales will climb to nearly 3,500,000 units this year, 80 times the number sold in 1947 and a gain of more than 10 per cent over the record 3,100,000 shipped in 1966.

Another measure of the demand is the sum American families are spending for residential cooling: the 1966 outlay totaled more than $1.3 billion and could reach $1.5 billion this year.

The popularity of central systems and room units with homeowners should increase further as air conditioning engineers continue to "build in" more comfort at comparatively lower cost, Roberts said.

* * *

"Residential systems have become progressively quieter, lighter, smaller, easier to install and maintain and less expensive," he added.

"It's possible now to have a central residential system for an average house installed for around $600 in some areas.

While the cost is generally somewhat higher in most places, it still is about half of what it would have been 10 years ago."

* * *

At the same, time families who need "spot cooling" now can invest in a room unit large enought to cool several rooms and still take it with them when they move, a big advantage in view of the fact that one family in five moves every year.

The government has given $22 million to underdeveloped colleges, mostly in the South.

Match Paint With Surface

Summer time is touch - up time — the time to brighten weather-worn surfaces with a fresh face of paint. And, the key to a long lasting coating is matching the right paint with the right surface.

Many improved modern paints, including hard enamels and rubberized coatings, are available today, and one of the most versatile is the family of aluminum paints.

Aluminum paint, widely valued for industrial and architectural applications for years, is also excellent for many home uses.

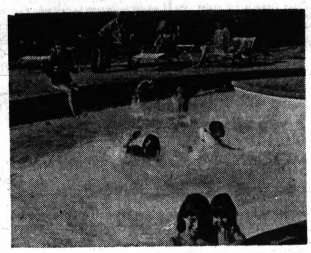

A coating of aluminum paint actually consists of layers of tiny aluminum flakes overlapping one another to provide a continuous metal barrier to moisture, heat and air.

That's why it protects other metals from rusting and helps from warping and rotting.

Matching of aluminum paints to various surfaces is easy to do because aluminum paint is generally sold in three basic types, according to The Aluminum Association.

Largest Building

The largest building in the world in volume is the Vehicle Assembly Building (VAB) at Merritt Island, Florida in which the moon vehicle Saturn V will be put together. VAB contains a total of about 4 million pounds of aluminum ribbed siding and other aluminum building components, according to The Aluminum Association.

Check Your Roofing Above All!

More than 36 million Americans will move this year, and one of their first considerations will be how to sell their old houses.

They'll want the sale to be as quick and painless as possible, and to realize a fair price.

If your home will soon be up for sale, it's a good idea to take an objective look at it with a buyer's eye.

Your fondness for the house may stem from its comfort and familiarity and the simple fact that you have lived there for a number of years.

But, what will a prospective buyer see that will make him choose your house over the many others he will view?

Some older homes are in good enough shape to compete on the market. Others require no more than a fresh paint job.

But a large number require extensive repairs or remodeling. In such cases, the trouble and expense of updating is not only worthwhile, but essential.

It will make the house saleable, and probably bring a better price.

A househunter's first view of your home will be its exterior, and he'll notice the roof at a glance.

If it's attractive distinctive and new-looking, it will go far in increasing the sales potential of the house.

On the other hand, a worn or dull-looking roof, or one with loose and weather-beaten shingles will make your house harder to sell.

GOOD INVESTMENT

If the house needs reroofing, heavyweight asphalt shingles are a good investment. They come in a variety of eye-appealing colors and designs that update and improve the entire exterior appearance of an older home.

Even more important to a prospective homeowner is the assurance of long, trouble-free service such a roof provides.

Manufacturers warrant these shingles for 20 years or longer, and a new roof with this low-maintenance, high durability asset will upgrade the home's saleability.

★ ★ ★

While some of the remodeling projects are sizable, they will help increase the resale value of your home.

★ ★ ★

From that point of view, they are an expense that will pay off in the long run.

No Quick Way to Frame Picture Inexpensively

There are no quick methods or tricky formulas for making picture frames. That's why it costs so much to have someone make them for you.

★ ★ ★

You can mount and frame your own pictures quite inexpensively, however, with careful workmanship, advises the Better Homes and Gardens Handyman's Book. One of the biggest difficulties is cutting the miter joints correctly so corners fit perfectly.

It is a wise practice to make several trial cuts of scrap stock so you'll have the needed experience when you're ready for the actual work.

When you begin work on the molding or picture-framing stock, make all measurements precisely and then double check before you start cutting. If the material has a design on it, plan cuts to make corner designs match.

Long, Low Ranch Has Roomy Interior

SMOOTH RANCH: Attractive ranch has new look without an excessively modern design. Long, low lines have great appeal for majority of ranch purchasers. Sizable front porch, clean and crisp, provides an excellent first impression for guests.

The long, low look is prized by most buyers or ranch houses. Yet many of these purchasers must compromise their preferences because the long-line exterior appearance often goes with more square footage on the inside than they need or can afford.

* * *

The latest House of the Week has the desired lengthy look, but combines it with a budget-geared 1497 square feet of living area. Architect Lester Cohen has made judicious use of space to permit a family of four or five to enjoy comfortable living.

The plan incorporates one of today's cherished design features — room expanses that combine for "open" effects in both the formal and informal portions of the house.

It also takes note, by excellent placement of a rear terrace, of the modern desire for an outdoor area of relaxation accessible from the inside.

* * *

Directly to the right of the center hall is the formal entertaining sphere, a living room and a dining room aligned so that there is a combined length of 27' across the front of the house.

WINDOWS

Each room has attractive windows; an extra-large one in the living room, a decorative diamond-paned one in the dining room.

Although there's a clear front view from these rooms, there's also a measure of privacy, since both windows are sheltered by a wide front porch.

Both rooms have good wall space for the arrangement of furniture. The arch between them, while open enough to permit combining the areas, acts as a divider so that each room retains its feeling of individuality.

* * *

At the rear of the house, but partly visible from the front door via the center hall, is the family room, well located for its role as the focal point of informal activities.

In addition to being reached from the center hall, it is next to the kitchen and has a window wall of sliding glass doors for quickly entry to the backyard or the sheltered terrace.

There is a fireplace inside the family room and a barbecue on the terrace, with both using the same chimney. The plans call for flagstone floors on the terrace and the front porch.

Kitchen appliances are properly placed for step-saving. There is a dinette area with the pleasant addition of a large bay window looking out on the terrace.

UTILITY AREA

The housekeeper gets a big plus in the adjacent utility area, which is 13' 10" and includes a pantry, two storage closets, a laundry-mud room and a lavatory. The stairs to the basement are in the garage end, with a big closet alcove there suitable for terrace furniture and garden gear.

Three bedrooms share the wing to the left of the center hall. The main bathroom is divided to offer a powder room entry. The master bedroom has a private lavatory and a dressing room with a vanitory built-in.

All bedrooms are accessable from a separate hall just off the center hall.

* * *

The over-all dimensions of Design Z-1 are 76' 6" by 38' 2" and include the two-car garage.

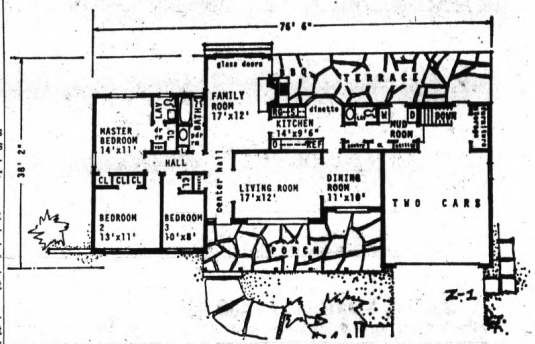

Note, too, that the rear terrace is included within these dimensions, necessitating no extra land for the enjoyment of outdoor living.

* * *

Z-1 STATISTICS

Design Z-1 has a living room, dining room, family room, kitchen-dinette, laundry-mud room, center hall, three bedrooms and 2½ baths, with 1497 square feet of living space. There is a spacious front porch and an equally spacious rear terrace. A fireplace in the family room and a barbecue on the terrace utilize the same chimney. The two-car garage has a front entry. Over-all dimensions are 76' 6" by 38' 2", including the garage.

FLOOR PLANS: Architect has done a fine job of providing good living quarters within 1497 square feet of habitable area by keeping formal area in line along the front of the house and the informal area in line along the rear.

Air Cooler Adds Valve

"An investment, not an expenditure," is a fair way to characterize the cost of a central air conditioning system, according to the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute.

* * *

ARI points out that the full price of a good central cooling system is usually reflected in an increased valuation of the home and this is backed up by a finding of the United States Savings and Loan League.

In a survey of 331 of its members in 43 states, the League found that nearly all members' appraisers give full credit for the cost of central air conditioning when making a home valutaion.

Furthermore, about two-thirds of the savings and loan firms surveyed said they felt that air-conditioned homes are better mortgage risks.

* * *

This means, ARI says, that the money you spend for a central system can usually be recovered when if you sell your home. In addition, a central air-conditioning system makes it easier to sell a home.

A central air-conditioning system becomes an intergral part of your home. If it is properly installed and properly cared for, it will have a useful life of many years.

New Carpet Tiles Are Easy to Install

Now you can buy carpeting in the form of tiles. The new carpet tiles are 12 inch squares of outdoor carpet with a backing of latex foam rubber to make them resilient underfoot for indoor use.

You lay them like ordinary or solid arrangements.

* * *

They can be cut to shape with a scissors, so they are easy for the home handyman to use.

They are mildew proof, dirt resistant, washable and very durable thanks to their outdoor ancestry, which makes carpet kitchens, basements, children's rooms and other informal areas.

SOME FUN — Dr. Reid Garrett, 66, a dentist, can be seen standing on top of his junk house off U.S. 1 near Rockingham, N.C. He calls it his "playhouse" and has been building it for three years. AP Wirephoto

Dr. Garrett Builds Fun House

It has no rhyme or reason.

It just stands there, a junk house jutting out over sandy banks greeting visitors traveling U.S. 1 just north of Rockingham, N.C.

"What is it?" is the question most frequently asked of Dr. Reid Garrett, 66, a dentist who has been building it for three years and calls it his "playhouse."

It stands three stories high. There's a homemade water wheel constructed of drink crates which rotates a barbecue spit.

HANDICRAFT

"I have always liked to do things with my hands. I started out three years ago with two pieces of lumber and here it is," Garrett explained.

At first he wanted to use stone he found in a nearby quarry. Then he began buying or finding junk for the "playhouse."

Boards don't match and windows and doors don't have frames.

Upholster Your Sofa

There are some home projects that are better left undone — by you, that is.

For many years one of these was the upholstering of a sofa. Only a professional could be expected to produce a good result. Today, there is at least an even chance that you can do it yourself.

Before you begin tearing your present sofa apart, you should know:

• That some previous upholstering experience (with a chair, for instance) is helpful and:

• That some sofas aren't worth rehabilitating.

The frame should, of course, be in good condition. So should the springs — and they are the key to whether you should tackle the job yourself.

If they are definitely in need of replacement, which you can determine after removing the padding material, better think twice. A complete novice may find he's in over his head.

* * *

But if you decide to replace the springs, consider purchasing the sagless type, which are somewhat easier to install. An upholstery dealer can advise you in this respect, so be prepared to furnish him with all details about the sofa: measurements, shape, etc.

USE RUBBER

Replacing the padding with rubber cushioning is the part of the job you definitely can tackle, especially if you use a single, large cushion.

What is called pincore foam, four or five inches thick, is recommended. Cut out a pattern of the proper size, adding one extra inch around the outline and having it cut where you purchase the foam rubber.

Cement tacking tape or muslin around the entire edge of the foam and, after allowing an hour or so for drying, tack the muslin securely to the frame.

* * *

Purchase the proper adhesive from the dealer where you bought the foam rubber. It's actually the same kind of rubber fabricationg cement found in many offices.

A thin piece of slab foam is used to cover the arms. This is put in place by cementing muslin to the foam and then tacking the muslin to the arm, using upholstery nails or staples applied with a stapling machine.

The sofa covering should be cut and sewn to size beforehand. If you have removed the old cover with care, it can be used as a pattern for the new used as a pattern for the new one.

* * *

Use upholstery tape, glued in place, to give the entire job a professional look as well as to cover rough spots.

Extend Tile Floor to Ceiling

Extending tile from floor to ceiling on a bathroom floor often would involve little or no more expense than tiling just a wainscot.

The wainscot requires trim pieces which are more expensive than regular tiles and extra labor to install them, which are unnecessary when the full wall is tiled.

A window often goes unnoticed until it sticks.

Fix It

Window Sticking?

Windows are to look through and to control ventilation. When everything works well, the window is seldom noticed.

But now and then it doesn't work well. It sticks or it rattles and makes itself noticed.

A window may stick due to hardened paint or varnish or to swelling.

A paint seal should be broken gently with a chisel, so as not to mar the wood. With the paint carefully scraped away you should sand the spot smooth and then coat it with paraffin or wax.

* * *

Often it is easier to spot where the excess paint is with the window open. Start the window by pounding the sash edges with your fist.

ABSORB BLOW

If sterner measures are required, use a hammer and a block of wood with the block between hammer and sash to absorb the blow.

Try pounding the sash sideways as well, since the sash is narrower than the frame and can be moved slightly from side to side.

Paint may work its way between the sash edge and the inner surface of the groove against which it travels. The only way to remove it is to remove the sash and work on it.

* * *

You will have to remove the molding that is really the front edge of the groove. Work carefully to prevent damage. Sometimes you can get at the paint without removing the sash. Use a razor blade or a thin blade knife to scrape it out.

If this doesn' work, undo the sash cord and pull out the window.

With the paint removed, rub in paraffin on the raw wood to prevent moisture from soaking in.

* * *

Sticking can also be due to swelling. This generally happens in wet weather. Sanding and waxing either the sash or the stop will cure the condition. In extreme cases you may have to plane away some wood.

If the sticking is not too severe, wait until dry weather when the window works easily and then rub in paraffin along the grooves.

Windows that rattle can be tightened by removing the molding that forms the top and renailing it closer to the sash.

* * *

If the top and bottom sash are rattling against each other and air is entering, reset the window lock so that the parts fit more thightly.

Poverty Bid for Rifle Scopes Stopped

HOUSTON (UPI) — A request by a federally financed poverty project for seven telescopic sights for high-powered rifles was held up by an Air Force civil service employe because, he said yesterday, he did not think it "suitable."

The Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) in Washington approved an order for the 22-inch rifle sights from the Harris County Community Action Project.

Daniel Trevino, chief of management for the project and former Navy ordnance officer, said the scopes were to be dismantled and used for optics experiments.

"You can invert them and kids can use them for microscopes," Tevino said. "There are no rifles involved."

★ ★ ★

But the order was stopped when it reached Kelly Air Force Base in San Antonio.

STOPPED ORDER

Lester Washington, The Civil Service emplye, stopped the order because, "I did not think it a suitable item for this type of organization."

★ ★ ★

Howard Dewey, an employe in the contracts division of OEO in Washington, said George Miller, a purchasing agent for the project, gave him to understand the scopes were to be used for optics.

★ ★ ★

The request with Miller's name on it, however, specifically asked for scopes equipped with standard range settings that could be attached to high-powered rifles.

Junior Editors Quiz on EXPO '67

QUESTION: What is the meaning of the symbol used for Expo 67?

ANSWER: These are great days for Canadians, for during 1967 Canada is celebrating her first hundred years as a nation.

On July 1, 1867, four Canadian provinces joined to create the Dominion of Canada, an independent nation within the British Coonwealth of Nations. Later, six other provinces and the Northwest Territories joined the Dominion; our northern neighbors built one of the greatest and most influential nations of the world.

Canada's handsome new Maple Leaf flag symbolizes the spirit of unity joining peoples whose origins were different. The symbol of the Centennial Year (upper right) is a still more stylized maple leaf; count the triangles and you will find 11, representing the 10 provinces and the Northwest Territories.

Expo 67 is an abbreviation for the great exposition, or word's fair, which is on view in Montreal until Oct. 27, with over 70 nations represented.

The symbol of Expo 67, the groups of little figures with raised arms, expresses the theme of the fair, man and his world. Our realistic sketch shows how such a gesture can suggest welcome and good will.

Cause of Arthritis Believed Found

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — A University of Wisconsin biochemist believes he may have found the cause of arthritis.

Professor William G. Hoekstra said yesterday his experiments with chicks indicate the affliction suffered by 12 million Americans may be caused by an imbalance of zinc and other minerals within the body.

Cortisone and aspirin, Hoekstra said, seemed to reduce bone swelling in animals much the same way as in humans. The zinc level in newborn animals affects their ability to survive and develop normally, he added.

Man on Bond on Charge of Battling Police

A Pontiac man was bound over to Circuit Court yesterday by Independence Township Justice William H. Stamp on a charge of resisting a police officer last Sunday in the parking lot of a West Huron tavern.

★ ★ ★

Leo K. Smith Jr., 21, of 297 N. Saginaw is slated to appear before Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer for arraignment at 2 p.m. Aug. 28. Bond was set at $1,000.

Waterford Township Patrolman Richard Dorrance was issuing a traffic ticket to the motorcyclist for reckless driving when the trouble began in the parking lot of the Sandbar, 3270 W. Huron.

★ ★ ★

Several other motorcyclists entered the lot and Smith reportedly shouted for help. A scuffle ensued and Dorrance and another township patrolman, Roger Allen, were injured, later requiring hospital treatment.

★ ★ ★

One of the motorcyclists, Felix E. Murphy Jr., 30, of 795 Kettering, is charged with assault with intent to murder. He is accused of attempting to fire a gun at Allen. The other motorcyclists fled the scene.

★

Murphy's preliminary examination before Stamp will continue Aug. 31. He was released from custody after posting $1,500 bond.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY F LUCILLE Williams who passed away Aug. 12, 1965.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just, to the end of her days;
Sincere and true, in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.
Sadly missed by her husband and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear wife Eva Schroder, who passed away August 12, 1965.
To hear your voice
To see your smile,
To sit and talk a little while
To be together the same old way
Would be my dearest wish today.
Your sad and lonely husband, L. C. Schroder.

IN MEMORY OF GLENN H. WILcox, who passed away 1 year ago August 13,1966.
Setting sun and evening stars,
God took our beloved one afar.
Here we but await,
Until we reach that heavenly gate.
Sadly missed—my beloved husband and sweet devoted father. Your loving wife and children.

Tax Hike Sought

STANTON (AP) — The Central Montcalm School District has asked voters to approve a 3-mill tax increase to provide operating funds for two years. The issue was rejected in three elections this year.

The board said cuts will be made in secretarial services and school bus service if the tax is not approved. The new election is set for Sept. 11.

LONDON (UPI) — Alan Jenkins, a 33-year-old tuba player with the London Symphony Orchestra, has been appointed general manager of the Florida International Music Festival at Daytona Beach, Fla., it was announced yesterday.

Lotte Lenya, 66, Enjoying B'way Hit, Young Hubby

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "I think Edith Piaf was the first one to marry a young husband, and then there was me, and then there was Sybil Burton," Lotte Lenya said.

Sitting in Sardi's the other dinner time, Miss Lenya, now 66 was enjoying her great success in "Cabaret." A new caricature of her had just been completed to be hung among the great at Sardi's. The caricaturist had slightly exaggerated her nose and chin.

WILSON

"I look like Tammy Grimes and Carol Burnett," she commented. "I'm glad I got married before this caricature was finished, or I never would have."

Miss Lenya, the widow of Kurt Weill and editor George Davis, is now married to the painter Russell Detwiler, 26 years her junior. When he was asked about marrying somebody 26 years older, he said:

"I am not marrying a passport. I love her."

* * *

Although Miss Lenya approves of face-lifts for the great professional beauties, she says, "For myself, maybe 10 years from now — but I worked so hard to get these wrinkles, I want to keep them!"

"Face-lifting doesn't make you young. It's your attitude." She drives a red Jaguar and uses false eyelashes and loves miniskirts.

"They're cute but I wouldn't be caught in one of them—I'm too smart!"

And this roused her to a defense of the young. "The Long Look, the so-called New Look of some years ago, was just as shocking," she said. "And what are the kids of today doing that is really so wild? Think of the Romans and their orgies."

"Cabaret" is for Miss Lenya a poignant experience. In 1920, she left Vienna for Berlin — "it was every actor's dream to have a career in Berlin" — and eventually met and fell in love with Kurt Weill though they didn't marry for a few years.

* * *

Forty years later came an opportunity to retell that story she saw unfolding in Germany when she was a young wife.

"At first," she said, "it made me sick to look at the swastika on stage . . ."

And the show was a smash hit, and her performance is acclaimed, and life is very good, and besides there's the young husband.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Rod Steiger, who wears women's clothes in "No Way to Treat a Lady," has as his hairdresser Ernie Adler, who's coiffed many female stars . . . There'll be a "Don Quixote" TV special, with Marcel Marceau, a segment of "Man of La Mancha," and the Balanchine Ballet . . . Carl Reiner's "Enter Laughing" film may become a Screen Gems TV series . . . Eddy Arnold's about to sell his 50,000,000th record . . . Yvonne Tarr, author of "The 10-Minute Gourmet Diet Cookbook," launched an at-home fashion line for "sexy cooks."

Soupy Sales wrote three more sketches for "Hellzapoppin'" and its B'way run . . . El Morocco maestro Lester Lanin'll be on "Batman," as a mad musician from Mars . . . Barbara Hutton, 55 in November, will take over Le Mistral for a birthday party.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: It used to be chivalry that prompted men to give women drivers the right of way. Now it's just plain common sense. — Zach Norman.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The urge to gamble is so universal and its practice so pleasurable that I assume it must be evil." — Heywood Broun.

EARL'S PEARLS: Hefty comic Jackie Vernon says he was asked to play "The Old Couple" . . . "all by myself."

Marty Ingels, who'll star in the silent film comedy "Silent Treatment," says he's practicing for it: "I hang around Jackie Coogan's house, follow Ben Blue to work, and steal pictures of Mary Pickford." . . . That's earl, brother.

Some in House Say Labor Day Recess Is Too Late

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders, influenced by complaints the scheduled 10-day Labor Day recess won't help members with school-age children, have decided to work only on routine measures the week before the holiday.

With the proposal for an annual August vacation stalemated in the House Rules Committee along with the rest of the congressional reorganization bill, leaders of both houses agreed on a 10-day recess starting the Friday before Labor Day.

But most schools open Labor Day week, and younger members complained the recess dates were too late for them to be able to take a vacation with their families.

Leaders, saying the recess dates were worked out with the Senate and therefore can't be changed, have passed the word that members with out-of-town commitments the week before Labor Day can keep them.

With civil rights, Social Security and foreign aid bills coming up the next two weeks, the leadership may welcome a breather by the week of Aug. 28.

ALPEANA (AP) — Eight Ohio National Guardsmen remained hospitalized today, one in serious condition, after a guard truck swerved off a road and crashed into a ditch Friday.

N.Y. Train Crash Kills 2

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP) — A Delaware & Hudson passenger train bound for Montreal from New York City and a freight train collided near this upstate resort city early today. Two persons were known dead and about 40 reported injured.

Police said many persons were trapped inside three of the eight cars of the Montreal Limited, which left New York City at 11 p.m. last night.

A D&H employe said he counted six dead.

A railroad spokesman said the southbound freight train, with more than 100 cars, sideswiped the passenger train near the Saratoga Springs-Ballston Spa line, on tracks adjacent to Route 50.

★ ★ ★

The crash occurred at 4:35 a.m.

AMBULANCES SENT

Many ambulances were sent to the scene, some from as far as Glans Falls, about 20 miles north of here.

A railroad spokesman said the freight train, bound from Whitehall to Oneonta, was pulling onto a siding to let the Montreal Limited go through on a single track when the crash occurred.

There were reported to be more than 50 persons on the passenger train.

City officials called the crash the worst railroad accident in the city's history.

NEAR MAIN ROUTE

It occurred about 300 yards from Route 50, which links Saratoga Springs with Schenectady.

Two passenger cars overturned and two freight cars landed atop them. Six freight cars split open, spewing paper products.

One of the first persons to emerge from one damaged passenger car was Miss Heguette Broteus, 23, of Montreal, who suffered a bruise on one leg. She was returning home from New York City.

★ ★ ★

Miss Broteus said the conductor told her four or five persons had been given the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church on the train.

TORCHES USED

Many of the injured had to wait in the wreckage until the twisted steel could be cut with acetylene torches.

★ ★ ★

Firemen, police, deputy sheriffs and volunteers helped the injured into ambulances.

Jailbreak Is Foiled; 2 Men Are Charged

By JIM LONG

An attempted jailbreak at the Oakland County Jail is under investigation today with two men already charged with aiding and abetting the foiled escape.

"It was a plan that almost worked," said Detective Sgt. Harry Maur, adding that he expects to arrest several others believed to be involved in the plot.

Its near success is evident since several prisoners had gained access to a small space at the bottom of a dumbwaiter shaft and were chipping away brick in a wall leading to a garage and the street.

Maur said that the escape bid apparently began about a month ago when 10 prisoners in a bullpen on the fourth floor of the jail were passed hacksaw blades by a trusty.

★ ★ ★

The hacksaw blades were used to make keys out of a spoon and from a section of a metal bed support.

One key was used to open the bullpen door while the other unlocked the dumb waiter entrance.

Impressions of the locks were made by inserting soft soap in the keyholes, according to Maur.

The makeshift keys were found by deputies Thursday, hidden above a shower stall in the bullpen.

★ ★ ★

Those accused of aiding in the plan are James E. Dalton, 23, of 180 W. Beverly and Gary L. Cable, 20, of 3257 Royal, Berkley, a former trusty.

Both stood mute at their arraignment yesterday before Waterford Township Justice of Peace Kenneth Hempstead.

Cable was released on $1,000 bond, Dalton was held in lieu of $5,000 bond. Their court examination is Aug. 22.

Dalton allegedly gave the hacksaw blades to Cable during a visit to the jail. Cable then turned them over to the prisoners, Maur said.

Wonsey and Mrs. Gross were injured fatally when their cars crashed head on on Auburn near Martell in Avon Township.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gross was a passenger in a car driven by her hubsand, Orville, 22. He is listed in serious condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

DETAILS NOT RELEASED

Details of the accident have not been released by the Bloomfield Township Police Department.

Wonsey was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital following the 9:50 p.m. accident. Mrs. Gross died at 3:55 a.m. today.

Sheriff's deputies said that the cars collided with such force that the car Wonsey was driving broke in two.

Wreckage was scattered over such a wide area that the point of impact could not be determined, according to deputies.

'TRAVELING ABOUT 80'

Witnesses told deputies that the Gross car had passed them moments before traveling about 80 miles per hour.

Deputies said that from all indications it appeared that Gross had crossed the center line of the road.

Second Cave-In Keeps Boy, 15, Trapped in Well

LENORE, W. Va. (AP) — A second cave-in shortly before 6 a.m. buried 15-year-old Leonard Boyce up to his chest again just as rescue workers had about freed him from a 13-hour entrapment in a well.

After rushing in heavy earth moving equipment, workers dug a deep trench and had Boyce free except for one leg and a foot when the second cave-in occurred.

Sheriff Steve Adkins, among some 40 workers who have toiled through the night to rescue the boy, said, "it looks like another four hours at this point."

Workers had to progress slowly in clearing rocks and dirt from around the youth because of the danger of more falling rock.

★ ★ ★

A temporary wooden hood was constructed over his head to protect him from rocks.

SNET FOR PHYSICIAN

Authorities also sent for a physician because they said the boy was nearing the point of exhaustion.

He kept pleading from his entrapment 14 feet underground: "Tell them don't stop."

He was trapped while trying to inspect the well for cleaning.

★ ★ ★

Workers reached Boyce today by digging a trench alongside the well's casing. But more rock began falling on the boy after a small hole was dug through the side of the well for rescuers to reach his head.

★ ★ ★

Operations then were halted because of fears that the youth would be crushed by stone.

Among the some 150 spectators standing by in the predawn hours were Boyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Boyce, and his two sisters about 12 and 13.

U.S. Bombing in Laos Told

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force planes have been bombing Communist targets in Laos for the past three years, it has officially disclosed today for the first time.

An Air Force spokesman in Saigon said American fighter-bombers were carrying out the attacks at the "request of the royal Laotian government."

He said the American strikes against the Communists in South Vietnam's neutral neighbor to the west began in May 1964.

It was reported the main target is the Ho Chi Minh Trail that runs from North Vietnam through Laos into South Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

The Communist supply route is so elaborate, Laotian sources told UPI correspondent Robert Miller in Vietiane, that it includes a two-lane, all-weather surface and carries five-ton Czech-made trucks loaded with war supplies.

★ ★ ★

U.S. bombing in Laos have long been an "open secret." But until today all questions have drawn an official "no comment" from American Air Force and other military and diplomatic agencies.

Today's Low Ties Record

If August seems cooler than usual, you're right, it is.

A low of 50 at 4 a.m. today tied the record for the day in 1950, the lowest recording on this date since 1872, when the U.S. Weather Bureau started keeping weather data.

The Weather Bureau's day-by-day prediction looks like this in the Pontiac area:

TODAY — Sunny. Becoming warmer in the afternoon. High 74 to 78. Fair and not quite so cool tonight. Low 45 to 52.

Winds variable today and tonight.

★ ★ ★

TOMORROW — Mostly sunny and warmer. High in the 70s.

MONDAY — Fair with a warming trend continuing.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent: Near zero today, tonight and tomorrow.

City Housing Is Rehabilitated

At least 17 per cent of the city housing has been termed deteriorating or delapidated. No responsible official denies that steps should be taken to not only provide new housing but to keep and rehabilitate existing housing. What is being done?

★ ★ ★

There is a variety of tools that can be used to help rehabilitate unsound housing in both the public and private sector.

One of the governmental tools involves urban renewal, a controversial program ever since its inception in 1949.

Urban renewal is being used now in an attempt to not only provide new economic growth and new housing but to preserve that which is here.

★ ★ ★

Urban renewal can't do the whole job because there isn't that much money available. What urban renewal does in limited areas to provide the opportunity to rehabilitate existing buildings, to clear unsalvageable buildings and to provide anchors around which the rest of the neighborhood can begin to spruce up.

TO STOP BLIGHT

Its purpose more than anything else is to stop blight. The city's first renewal program, called R20, involves 150 acres of land in and near the downtown area.

About 22 acres which have been cleared is slated for commercial development. In the rest of the area efforts have been to rehabilitate delapidated and deteriorating housing.

Within two months $458,992 will have been spent in the project area to preserve homes and buildings to make them suitable living quarters for at least the next 10 years.

★ ★ ★

Since urban renewal attempts mostly to provide the tools, most of the money comes from the private sector, the home owners themselves.

RESIDENTIAL REHABILITATION

The city urban renewal department's status report shows that 255 buildings — all but nine residential — had been classified as needing rehabilitation since the R20 program began.

Of these 170 have been completed. Another 45 are in the process of being completed.

With 84 per cent of the rehabilitation work now completed, the department will be concentrating on those remaining. These are expected to be rehabilitated by the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

So, with an average outlay of about $1,800 per unit, urban renewal was used to rehabilitate structures which will provide sound, decent and safe living quarters.

ONLY 1 PER CENT

Still the R20 program touched only about one per cent of the city's 24,000 homes. James L. Bates, director of planning and urban renewal, says he is more than satisfied with the results of the program so far.

"The work down there will prolong the life of the neighborhood," he said.

Romney Is Hosting Three GOP Leaders at Mackinac Home

MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP) — Leading Republicans gathered at this resort island today to visit with Michigan Gov. George Romney.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Romney flew in Firday night, as did former Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

★ ★ ★

"I just invited them up here on a personal basis, purely personal," Romney insisted to newsmen. "I've been entertained by them and I wanted to entertain them here in return."

ATTENDS FUNERAL

The governor interupted his role as host for a few hours Saturday morning to fly to Detroit to attend the funeral of a National Guardsman who was fatally wounded during the racial violence in the Motor City.

★ ★ ★

The three governors and their wives sat up together chatting until about 11:30 p.m., then went to bed. Rockefeller and Scranton were accompanied to the island by only their wives.

★ ★ ★

When he left for the funeral Romney left instructions that the Rockefellers and Scrantons have two horse-drawn carriages at their disposal so the could tour the island. He said Mrs. Rockefeller particularly was interested in the island's historic points.

★ ★ ★

Rhode Island Gov. John Chafee planned to fly to Michigan today, his office said.

Romney is a leading contender for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, although he has not announced any plans to run.

POSSIBLE CANDIDATE

Rockefeller has been mentioned as a possible candidate, but he insists he is supporting Romney.

★ ★ ★

Donald W. Wyatt, Chafee's executive secretary, said he would be "awfully surprised" if one of the major topics is not the 1968 presidential campaign.

There was no public announcement of the meeting from Romney's office, but an aide said the conference was planned as "an informal meeting in a relaxed setting."

★ ★ ★

The setting is a summer home set aside for Michigan's governors on this island near the straits of Mackinac, which separate Michigan's two peninsulas.

Police, FBI Hunt Suspect in Kidnaping

Police and the FBI in Michigan and Ohio continued their search today for a security gaurd who allegedly posed as a policeman and abducted a Bloomfield Township girl Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Township Police have identified the suspected fugitive as Frank M. Patterson, 32, of Detroit, employed by a private security firm.

A federal warrant already has been obtained charging Patterson with kidnapping Diane C. Brown, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Brown of 1070 Northover, and driving her to Bowling Green, Ohio.

Miss Brown, according to police, was stopped on I-75 as she drove home from Sears at the Oakland Mall in Troy, where she is employed for the summer.

★ ★ ★

According to accounts, he then placed her under arrest and then got in her car and drove south to Royal Oak where he lectured her on the dangers of speeding. The car he abandoned had been taken from the security company, police said.

DROVE TO OHIO

After forcing her to telephone her parents and tell them she was going to be late in getting home, he then drove her to Ohio.

She escaped from him after persuading him to stop at a restaurant about five hours after she was taken captive at 2:30 p.m.

When she began screaming for help, the man fled in her car, a dark blue 1963 convertible. It has not been recovered.

★ ★ ★

Miss Brown, a student at Adrian College, told police that she was not harmed by Patterson.

No New 'Big 3' Offer Seen Before Aug. 28

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler aren't likely to make the United Auto Workers a new contract offer before Aug. 28 or possibly Aug. 31.

A Chrysler vice president says it is "a fairly reasonable assumption" that no company offer will be made before a planned demonstration by skilled tradesmen Aug. 23, a week from next Wednesday.

There would be only a week left before current three - year agreements run out on Sept. 6 if an offer were delayed to Aug. 31.

Douglas Fraser, UAW Chrysler department director, said Friday "the longer the delay, the greater risk" of strike.

AUTHORITY TO STRIKE

By the 28th UAW negotiators are expected to have membership authority to call a strike if and when they decide one is necessary.

Fraser disclosed Friday that Chrysler local union leaders were told this week to begin balloting on strike authorization as soon as they please and to have the results into UAW headquarters by Aug. 25. He said some locals likely will begin voting next week.

★ ★ ★

Previously, GM and Ford locals had been ordered to vote the week of Aug. 20. Presumably, their results also would be reported by the Friday of that week.

Overwhelming authorization is a foregone conclusion. Any other result would cut the ground from underneath UAW President Walter P. Reuther and his negotiating teams.

★ ★ ★

Strike authorization votes in the past have come mostly after first company offers, with union negotiators quickly claiming the results amounted to "overwhelming repudiation" by the membership.

Meteors Help Solve Riddle

WAHSINGTON (AP) — The currently appearing, fast-stepping Perseid meteors have won credit for giving scientists new help towards solving a celestial riddle bearing on nighttime radio reception.

The annual Perseid shower—a five-or-six-day event peaking tonight—is one of nature's most spectacular free shows.

Dr. Herbert Friedman of the pioneering rocket - astronomer, told a reporter the current Perseid display has yielded new evidence that may help unravel a mystery of the radio signal-reflecting ionosphere.

He said an Aerobee rocket fired from White Sands, N.M., before daybreak Friday gave perhaps the strongest evidence yet that meteor debris may keep the ionosphere perking at night. The rocket was fired when a few Perseids were beginning to appear.

★ ★ ★

Friedman, explaining the sun is the ultimate generating force in creating the ionosphere — a blanket of electrified air — said scientists long have been hard put to explain why the blanket persists at night, after the sun goes down.

Rehabilitation Stopping City's Housing Blight

The most important steps the city can now take is to try and ensure that the buildings outside the urban renewal area do not crumble to the point where more and more blighted areas appear.

★ ★ ★

This is best done through systematic code enforcement. The city presently has four code enforcement programs going.

FEDERAL ROLE

In this area, again, federal help can play a part. The really important tools of the R20 urban renewal program are the grants and loans which home owners in the renewal areas could take advantage of," he said.

"It's unfortunate that we only recently received those," he said. These provisions — passed by Congress in 1965 — allow grants of up to $1,500 for each building and long-term loans at 3 per cent interest to improve shabby buildings.

They are available for buildings only in the renewal area. Bates said he would like to see steps taken that could be used in other areas, those not in urban renewal programs.

In the R20 area only 32 home owners used either a grant or loan. There is still a possibility that more will.

Four persons were approved for the loans and the average loan is about $3,000. Grants — outright gifts which do not have to be repaid — were authorized for 21 persons. These averaged about $1,400. Total outlay: about $40,000.

To receive the loan, an owner, who does not have to live in the house, need only own a structure in the renewal area which needs improvement.

To receive a grant, the home owner, who must be an occupant, need only show that his housing expenses are higher than 25 per cent of his income. Housing expenses include house payments, taxes, insurance, utilities (excluding telephone) and average maintenance.

★ ★ ★

Only one person of the 21 authorized grants asked for it. "We had to go to the people and offer them the grant, even then they didn't want to take them," Robert Marshbanks of the urban renewal department explained.

CATCH SUSPECTED

He said that the owners often thought "it was too good to be true," that there was a catch someplace and their homes might be taken if it was not paid back.

The only thing they have to sign is a statement attesting that their expenses and income were as listed in the statement.

Hopes High as Envoy Heads for N-Pact Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster heads for Geneva today to open a new and promising chapter in the bid for a treaty barring the spread of nuclear weapons.

Word the Soviets were ready to present a joint U.S.-Soviet draft treaty at the 17-nation Geneva disarmament conference came Friday from Ambassador Foster after he met with President Johnson.

★ ★ ★

Official U.S. sources said if all goes well in the new talks, the nuclear nonproliferation treaty may be ready in late October for submission at the U.N. General Assembly's fall session.

OPEN FOR MODIFICATION

On-and-off negotiations for the pact began in April 1965. The forthcoming U.S.-Soviet proposal will be open at Geneva for modification by other nations at the disarmament conference before a final version is agreed on.

Official U.S. sources said the atomic have-not nations doubtless will want changes from the probable U.S.-Soviet wording.

★ ★ ★

The proposed treaty combines pledges by the nuclear powers on the one hand, not to give atomic arms to others; and by the non-nuclear powers, on the other hand, not to acquire such weapons.

Washington and Moscow left blank for the time being the treaty's provision for safeguards against violations. That's mainly because the Soviets want a worldwide system of inspections against any cheating by the have-nots, while Western Europeans prefer to continue with the inspection system installed under their program for peaceful uses of nuclear energy.

From the U.S. standpoint, larger problems remain to be thrashed out and there is considerable uncertainty about what the have-not countries will accept.

The two nuclear superpowers already have parallel policies against handing their atomic arms to third parties. But with France and Red China building their own atomic arsenals, pressure has been growing in have-nations against giving up permanently future national rights to nuclear arms.

Rescue Team Finds Family on Mountain

BEND, Ore. (AP) — A rescue team reached a California family of five high in the Oregon Cascades early today, the Lane County sheriff's office reported.

J. George Schultz of Sacramento, Calif., reportedly suffered serious head injuries during a rock slide while he was climbing with his four children. His son, Robert G., 11, was also injured. The other children, Marie, 10, Paul, 8 and Tommy, 7, were not believed hurt. The family was at the 8,500-foot elevation on the middle peak of the Three Sisters mountain group in Central Oregon when the accident happened.

★ ★ ★

The extent of injuries was not immediately determined.

The Lane County sheriff's office said a Coast Guard jet helicopter took a Eugene doctor to the area at dawn today. Small planes patrolled the area to pinpoint it for the helicopter.

GUIDES RESCUERS

Directing the rescue team was a brother of the injured man, Robert J. Schultz of Corvallis, Ore. He was with the family, but was not hurt in the slide and hiked out to get help, reaching a Forest Service ranger station shortly before dark Friday.

The Forest Service sent smoke pumpers out in a plane, but they were unable to locate the area before dark.

★ ★ ★

A Lane County sheriff's deputy said that the brothers were teaching the children how to climb mountains. The children's mother did not go mountain climbing. She was reported with friends near the rescue party's base camp.

Viet Costs Up 35 Pct. in '67

SAIGON (AP) — Soaring food prices have pushed the Vietnamese cost of living up some 35 per cent so far this year and the overheated economy may spin out of control entirely in the months ahead, economic sources indicate.

Because of the impact on the peasants and working class, the economic battle is considered a vital part of the political war in Vietnam.

Not all economists are agreed on how serious the current situation is. However, one who had watched the spiraling economy for many months predicted that an increase in price from 30 to 50 per cent this year could prove disastrous.

Oliver Plumbing and Heating Co. of Orchard Lake received the contract for mechanical work at $179,981. Cates Electrical Co. of Royal Oak will do the electrical work for $135,436.

TOTAL COST

Total cost of the library is expected to run to about $1.4 million of which $1.16 million will be provided by a bond issue approved in May of last year.

The remainder of the expense will be absorbed by a federal grant of $250,000, awarded by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare under the Library Services and Construction Act.

Designed by Tarapata - MacMahon Associates, Inc., to blend with the residential neighborhood in which it is located, the new building will consist of four connecting brick pavilions with sloping roofs.

★ ★ ★

It is planned ultimately to hold 150,000 volumes.

BROWSING AREA

The pavilions will provide reference services, children and youth services, an adult browsing area and administrative offices.

An adult reading lounge will be in a lobby-entrance area connecting the four pavilions. A lower level will contain a 200-seat auditorium and a conference room.

Robert H. Rohlf, building coordinator for the Library of Congress, has acted as a consultant in planning the facility.

★ ★ ★

In response to objections from representatives of Lone Pine Estates and Gilbert Lake Estates subdivisions, the library board has made a request to the Township Board that a joint meeting of the two boards be held to discuss the connection of a proposed library access drive to Timberlake Pond.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rose Vainstein, director of the present library, said alternatives to the drive will be sought.

Main access, which is not in disput, will be from Lone Pine Road.

Man Is Guilty of Contempt

A 69-year-old Pontiac man was found guilty of contempt of court and sentenced to 90 days in jail yesterday for refusing to answer questions of the Oakland County Grand Jury.

★ ★ ★

Appearing before Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem, Basil W. Burke, 607 Tennyson, was given only to Tuesday, the last day of the grand jury, to purge himself by cooperating with officials.

Burke, a one-time known gambler, refused to be represented by an attorney at the hearing, or to return before one-man grand juror James S. Thorburn.

"One question leads to another," Burke told Ziem, "and all I know happened years ago."

★ ★ ★

Burke was cited for contempt last Friday when he appeared before Thorburn.

In 1951, Burke was sentenced to 1 to 5 years in prison on a gambling conviction stemming from an earlier grand jury.
